Four Boston Firms Accused

U.S. Auditor Tells of Payola

'Paid $40,472 to DJs Over 2-Year Period'

GAO Man Says He Also Found Unusual Entries in Company Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government auditor testified today that four Boston area record distributors paid $40,472 to disc jockeys and broadcast station librarians from 1957 through 1959.

Of this total, Donald R. Keelan said, one distributing firm, Music Supplier, Inc., alone spent $27,121 among the record spinners.

Keelan, a General Accounting Office auditor, said the other companies and amounts they paid were: DuMont Record Distributing Corp., Boston, $8,380; Records, Inc., Boston, $2,850; and Mutual Distributors, Inc., Roxbury, Mass., $2,121.

Keelan, now on special duty with the House legislative oversight subcommittee during the payola inquiry, also testified that he found irregularities in the bookkeeping of Music Suppliers, Inc.

He said Music Suppliers violated normal accounting procedures by listing loans to company officers among accounts payable. This heading, he said, ordinarily is used only for trade debts to a firm.

Keelan read off a list of some 20 disc jockeys who received payments of up to $6,025 from Music Suppliers, Inc., between January 1957 and November 1959.

Keelan testified that examination of the books indicated funds passed back and forth between Music Suppliers, Inc., and Sam Clark, a former head of the company who now is president of AM-Par Record Corp. AM-Par is a wholly owned subsidiary of American Broadcasting Co.-Paramount Theaters, Inc. of New York.

Keelan said that in the new post Clark was supposed to have severed his connections with the record distributing business.

Keelan said Music Suppliers, Inc., had made four loans to Verve, a California record company.

Under questioning by subcommittee counsel Robert Lishman, Keelan said he learned of four loans to Norman Granz, head of the California record company. But he said he learned only that one was for $31,600 and another for $24,600.

Urban Renewal Project Given Federal Okay

But City Must Prepare More Details by June 8 to Get Final Approval

The federal government has given tentative approval to final plans for an urban renewal project in Pontiac costing nearly $6,400,000 in gross expenditures.

At the same time, a federal official said the city would have to detail plans it has for downtown redevelopment before final approval of federal participation amounting to $2,562,519 or two-thirds of the estimated net cost of the project.

But this probably won't hold up final approval of the project early this summer, said a regional official of the Urban Renewal Administration.

An official for the Housing and Home Finance Agency said the city now has the green light to hold public hearings on the renewal plan.

The $2,562,519 reserved for the program is $466,481 less than the city asked last fall, but about $800,000 more than originally proposed two years ago.

John P. McCollum, Chicago regional administrator of the HHFA notified City Manager Walter K. Willman by letter yesterday that urban renewal officials had upped federal participation in the project.

DEADLINE JUNE 8

He said that a June 8 deadline had been set, in accordance with urban renewal procedures, for the city to report on its hearings and submit new data concerning downtown plans.

The city won't get any federal money until after that date. It is asking, first, for loans with which to begin property acquisition under an overall grant covering two-thirds of the net cost.

It's estimated that resale of acquired properties will put the net cost at $3,652,912, of which the city has to put up one-third.

Last fall, the city has asked for federal participation in a project with a gross cost of $6,728,982 and a net cost of $4,272,560.

Pat Nixon Stays Late at Tea

Lady in Red So Kind

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The lady in red—doing her bit to help move her husband into the White House—outdid the old axiom, "never underestimate the power of a woman." You can't overlook their perseverance either.

About 200 Republican women stayed past the hour when they're usually home preparing dinner for hubby in order to have their promised how-do-you-do with Patricia Ryan Nixon, wife of the vice president.

Mrs. Nixon, wearing an eye-catching red suit fit for any Easter fashion parade, insisted that the last of some 4,000 patient women not be disappointed.

She consulted with her husband's aide, Robert Haldenman, who in turn phoned the vice president's staff in Detroit, and then relaxed a tight schedule and stayed for 45 minutes to accommodate those who were still waiting to see her.

FEET ARE WEARY

One, Mrs. I. L. Gilbert of 890 Redding Rd., Birmingham, waited for three hours in one line or another and finally became the last in the official reception line to extend her hand to the still-smiling but foot-weary Mrs. Nixon.

After first meeting the 300 women who staged the afternoon reception and tea in Royal Oak's Kimball High School, Mrs. Nixon, with the exception of two "coffee breaks" and an auditorium appearance, stood in line greeting guests from 3:06 to 5:40.

With a radiant smile, the nation's "second lady" went out of her way to greet the future voters of the state. One woman, unable to get a babysitter, carried her child in her arms.

Mrs. Nixon laughed when a contingent of "Young Republicans" from Michigan State University assured her they were going to "beat out" the "Young Democrats" at the school.

Her graciousness and sympathy was evident when she learned at 5, when she was supposed to be heading back to Detroit to join

Youth Accuses Pair of Crippling Him

From the wheelchair he may need the rest of his life, Frankie Dale Newton has pointed an accusing finger at the pair he said robbed him and made him a partial cripple.

Newton, 20, of Lake Orion, today was wheeled into Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland's courtroom to tell his story. The prosecution hopes it will send the two and their 17-year-old companion to prison.

A Circuit Court jury of 13 women and one man listened solemnly as Newton told his story.

The attendant strained the upper part of his body to turn around and accuse Victor L. Hood, 26-year-old Pontiac ex-convict on parole for armed robbery, and Theodore A. Mendoza, 17, of Lake Orion, of robbing him of $52 Nov. 30 as he was about to close the Highland Township gas station where he had worked for only two weeks.

From his waist down, Newton was motionless, stilled by a .32 caliber bullet he said Hood pumped into his back after forcing him into the station's washroom.

The bullet is lodged near his spine.

A third accused, Carroll L. Lay, 17, also of Lake Orion, stayed in the 1949 Ford holdup car while Hood and Mendoza staged the evening robbery after "casing" the station one hour earlier, Newton testified.

"But I recognized him from the station," he added.

Mendoza, who has no juvenile or police record, this morning pleaded guilty to armed robbery as the trial opened. Judge

Ike Will Seek Hike in Postage

Wants to Offset Deficit; Some Dems Take Dim View of 5-Cent Letters

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Republican congressional leaders today the administration will seek a one-cent increase in postal rates on all first-class mail.

This would raise the cost of mailing an ordinary letter from 4 cents to 5 cents.

The budget Eisenhower sent to Congress last month for the fiscal year starting July 1 said an increase in postal rates would be asked but did not go into detail as to increases to be proposed on various kinds of mail.

Eisenhower and Postmaster General Arthur S. Summerfield set forth the details today at the President's weekly meeting with GOP congressional leaders from Congress. The leaders said legislation to carry out the program probably will be introduced next week.

How far it may get is question-

Jack Paar Agrees to Come Back

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC announced today that Jack Paar has agreed to return to his television show on March 7 after a three-week vacation.

★ ★ ★

"Bob Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., and I met in Florida today with Jack Paar. On behalf of his large and loyal audience we asked Jack to return to the Jack Paar Show.

"Jack agreed to come back to the show on Monday, March 7, after a three-week vacation. Bob Sarnoff and I are delighted."

★ ★ ★

NBC later announced that Paar would return on his former basis of appearances, four shows a week. In the past the fifth night's show has consisted of repeats of portions of previous programs.

Both Kintner and Sarnoff are expected back in New York tomorrow from a meeting of network affiliates at Boca Raton. Paar stopped off in Florida while on his way to a vacation at an undisclosed spot.

Paar previously had declined to meet with the executives, saying they were such persuasive men that they would induce him to rescind his decision to quit the television program.

★ ★ ★

His show went on the air last night without Paar but with quips from author Alexander King which brought a few gasps from the audience.

Sellout Audiences Hear Nonpolitical Nixon Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Nixon was back in Washington today after a grueling visit here yesterday in which he made three nonpolitical speeches and found time to greet some 3,000 Republican party workers in 12 hours.

His three speeches, delivered at closed meetings for which all tickets were sold out weeks in advance, covered virtually every phase of the Eisenhower administration's domestic and foreign policies. More than 6,500 heard him.

At all three meetings and a morning news conference, Nixon parried questions about his feelings on who the Democrats would nominate to run against him for the presidency. He said smiling that he has not got the Republican nomination yet and that he would let the Democrats make their own choice.

Nixon, asked by a newsman if he foresaw a mud-slinging election campaign, promised that he would not indulge in such tactics and he expressed doubt Democrats would do so. He also said religion would not be an issue in the campaign.

He described Michigan as a pivotal state in the November election, a state which could go either way and he promised he would devote special attention to it to try to insure that it would be in the Republican column.

Nixon's whirlwind visit to Detroit left Michigan Republicans with new hope today they would stage a comeback election battle for some long-sought major offices.

"A great shot in the arm," said GOP Chairman Lawrence Lindemer of Nixon's one-day speech-making tour of Detroit. "It was a big, big boost."

"Michigan Republicans started a comeback in 1958 and they have gained ground since then, so I expect the state will go Republi-

$4 Billion to Build Hope for Free Peoples

Ike Asks Big Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $4,175,000,000 in new foreign aid funds to safeguard the free world against the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

The mutual security program is essential to world progress in freedom, he said in a special message to Congress.

The sum, nearly a billion dollars more than Congress voted last year, would be split up in this way: Two billion dollars for weapons aid to Allies and $2,175,000,000 for economic and technical assistance.

In appealing to the legislators to avoid drastic cuts in the program, Eisenhower mentioned his 11-nation December goodwill tour to Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men everywhere look to us, not with envy or malice but with hope and confidence that we will in the future, as in the past, be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and in freedom," he said.

The amount of the request was set forth in Eisenhower's budget message last month. He regularly has followed this up with a special message to emphasize the request.

His annual plea for a multi-billion-dollar foreign aid package comes earlier than usual. By advancing the date of his request, the administration hopes to win congressional approval of both authorization and appropriation before congressmen get too far bogged down in election-year politicking.

★ ★ ★

Despite Eisenhower's strong endorsement, foreign aid appears headed for rough treatment, especially in the House. Some key members of the House Appropriations Committee have served notice they are weary of approving foreign aid funds for 14 straight years.

More than half—$2,175,000,000—would be earmarked for economic and technical assistance projects in about 40 countries. Of this, 700 million dollars would go for low-interest development loans.

2 More Enter Race for City Commission

As the deadline drew near, two more candidates entered the City Commission race, bringing the number of contenders to 21.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said that potential candidates could file nominating petitions until 5 p.m. today.

Latest to file were two newcomers to politics, Theodore F. Figa in District 4 and William H. Taylor Jr. in District 3.

Taylor, 44, of 247 Ottawa Dr., is opposing incumbent William W. Donaldson, former Pontiac mayor who so far is the only other District 3 candidate.

Assistant advertising director for the Pontiac Motor Division, Taylor has lived in Pontiac most of his life. He has worked for the General Motors Corp. 24 years, with Pontiac Motor the last 15.

Figa, 32, of 34 W. Kennett Rd., is the fifth candidate to file in District 4. Among the five is incumbent Floyd P. Miles.

Figa is part-owner and operator of a family grocery store at 239 Fisher St. He also has a financial interest in a tavern at 88 Bagley St.

BUNGLING CHARGED

He charged that the present City Commission has "bungled" the Police Department situation, bringing "ridicule and havoc" upon Pontiac. But Figa emphasized that he is not taking sides in the internal quarrels that have plagued the department.

Figa said his campaign will be concerned mainly with public improvements and their financing. He complained that some areas in District 4 have been "shortchanged" on improvements such as sewers and roads.

"I realize the injustices that have befallen the district," he said. "My platform will be for more understanding of the economic conditions of the majority of the people before the undertaking of public improvements with special assessments and increase proposals."

Mrs. Nixon Charms Ladies at Reception

'I WON'T LEAVE'

She moved onto the auditorium stage to assure them "I'm not going to leave until all of you go through the line."

She thanked them, in her only speech during the Nixons' one-day stay in Detroit, for their "wonderful, warm-hearted welcome."

Recalling the four years she taught high school, the vivacious native Californian got an extra thrill when Mrs. Betty Ellis' "Government in Action" class presented her with a hand-sewn shield.

It contained 50 white elephants and 13 alternating red and white stripes, resembling the flag.

Although this was an afternoon for the ladies, some men penetrated their ranks to get a look at the lady they'd heard so much about.

"It takes a lot of nerve to come to a tea," said William F. Kalwitz of Pontiac, "but I did want to meet the charming lady."

Extensive safeguards, even to the point of having the state police fire marshal be on hand in case of any bomb scares, were taken throughout Mrs. Nixon's 3 hour and 15 minute stay in Royal Oak.

A Secret Service man surveyed the lineup of women as they neared Mrs. Nixon, who was flanked always by the wife of one or another Republican state official.

When Mrs. Nixon's police driven automobile drove up to the side of the school promptly at 2:30, Royal Oak Mayor William Hayward and Mrs. Hayward were on hand to greet Mrs. Nixon.

"Well, here I am," she said stepping out into the cold.

Most of the women who greeted Mrs. Nixon couldn't remember seconds later what — if anything — they had said to her.

"I couldn't tell you," said Mrs. Arthur G. Elliott Jr., wife of the county chairman.

One teen-ager said to her equally young friend "Isn't she darling?" as they scurried through the line.

But John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the Republican Committee of Oakland County, looked at the unexpected large turnout a different way.

"If we could put all these people to work we'd be in business," he said.

Russians Reject Ike's Ban Offer

But Reds Put Up New Plan Limiting Number of Nuclear Checks

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today flatly rejected President Eisenhower's proposal for a partial ban on nuclear weapons tests, but offered new concessions for a ban on all tests.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapki said that Eisenhower's Feb. 11 proposal is totally unacceptable to the Soviet Union and cannot be the basis for any agreement.

Instead, Tsarapkin offered to allow mobile inspection teams to investigate the site of almost any recorded earth tremor to seek evidence of an illegal nuclear test.

But he insisted that the total number of inspections in any year must be limited by an arbitrary quota.

South Mops Up After Crippling Snowstorm

By The Associated Press

Wet weather, with snow and rain, spread across the lower Mississippi Valley and lower Ohio Valley today as cleanup operations continued in snow-stricken areas in the East and South.

A snowstorm which swept across sections of the southern plains spread into Arkansas and hit areas in southern Illinois, parts of Kentucky and Tennessee. The storm, which left a covering of nine inches on parts of Oklahoma, was expected to dump from two to four inches in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Southeast Kentucky was hard hit by the weekend snowstorm which raked wide areas in the South and East. Mountain areas were blanketed with heavy snow and most schools in eastern Kentucky remained closed.

Prosecutor Fires Questions Fast

Carole Weeps on Stand

The 23-year-old ex-model was being cross-examined about the night Finch's wife was shot to death. Carole testified she and the doctor tried to talk to his wife about a divorce. Mrs. Finch refused, said Carole.

"What happened next?"

"The next thing that happened, she had a gun."

★ ★ ★

"How long after she said she didn't want to talk to you was it before you saw this gun?"

Tears came to Carole's eyes.

"Just in time for her to turn around, take the gun out of the car and turn around," she replied.

Then Miss Tregoff cried.

Interrupted Carole: "I'm okay."

The state has charged she and Dr. Finch plotted to kill the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, so they could marry without losing part of the doctor's wealth in a divorce court.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Robert A. Neeb Jr. asked Miss Tregoff: "Did you, on or about July 18, 1959, kill Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch?"

Neeb asked her only eleven questions, quizzing her about the main part of the state's case against her: that she and the doctor tried to hire an underworld character to kill Mrs. Finch, and, when this failed, they went from Las Vegas, Nev., where she was staying, to the Finch home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, to kill the woman.

Carole denied all the state's allegations.

Then, for more than an hour Carole faced Crail's cross-examination. He fired his questions so fast defense attorneys complained the witness wasn't being given a chance to complete some answers.

Urban Renewal Project Given Federal Approval

how the federal cut would affect the project.

Two big cuts were in the amount of federal participation in two projects which the city plans as part of its share in the project.

The government lowered its participation in the proposed $2,900,000 tunnel for Clinton River flood control and the $967,000 multi-story parking building planned near the southwest corner of the Civic Center.

The city had requested $620,000 in federal help on the tunnel, but this was cut to $437,900. Help on the parking building was cut from $435,375 to $290,250.

The city hopes to get at least partial credit for the funds it puts into both projects.

In approving the plan as Pontiac submitted it, the federal government had only minor changes in connection with blight control slated for the residential district south of city hall and east of the business district.

The government deleted only 14 of the nearly 400 residential properties which the city proposed to acquire, either to control blight or to make way for such improvements as street widening and new parks. The properties deleted were scattered throughout the residential part of the urban renewal area.

Nor did the government have any objections to inclusion in the project of two blighted areas on the east side of Saginaw street where substandard housing exists in the downtown area.

These areas are between Pike and Patterson streets and Dawson and Wessen.

It was 15 months ago that the federal government limited its redevelopment of downtown to these two areas because they were the ones with housing.

The city, though, has continued to plan for urban renewal throughout the downtown area south of Pike street and east of Cass avenue.

Now the federal government has asked for more information concerning these plans. It has asked for:

1. An outline of redevelopment plans south of Pike street, a redevelopment timetable for the area, and a "firm commitment" for its redevelopment.

2. An agreement between the city and state on construction of the proposed perimeter road and the widening of Auburn avenue in the urban renewal area.

3. A study to show the need for transient housing in the downtown area.

4. A study to justify the inclusion of parking areas for the civic center and the southern business district.

for for urban renewal in McCollum's office, said that these new requirements probably would not jeopardize ultimate approval of the project.

While the city was asked to show that a firm financial commitment had been made for the redevelopment of areas south of Pike street, this requirement won't be rigid, he said.

"We will be willing to consider the city's plans in general terms," he said.

"We mainly want assurances that the city on its own will take steps to prevent future blight and deterioration."

Stierer said that a general plan, at least, would be ready for the federal government in June, but doubted that the city could get financial commitments by then.

He believed that "some sort of agreement" could be reached with the State Highway Department that would satisfy the government.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has given the perimeter road his blessing, but has held up scheduling construction and alloting state funds for it.

He said he would schedule it in a five-year plan for highway construction from 1962-1967, but has not as yet finished the plan.

Stierer believed that the city would be in position to submit the other required data by deadline.

Eisenhower to Seek Higher Postage Rate

able. Some important Democrats have taken a dim view toward the idea of lifting the cost of mailing a letter to 5 cents.

The administration goal is to raise 544 million dollars in additional revenue to help offset a postal deficit of about 600 million dollars a year.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican chief, said the bill will call for postal rate rises on first-, second- and third-class mail, and for some miscellaneous increases.

In the first-class category, the rate on letters would go from 4 cents to 5, and on postcards from 3 cents to 4.

The airmail rate would go up one cent to 8 cents for letters, and to 6 cents for postcards.

Without going into detail regarding the contemplated second-class rate increases, Dirksen said the rise there would make available an additional 46 million dollars. The third-class increase would produce about 85 million.

Still another one million dollars would be realized, Dirksen said, from miscellaneous increases.

The Costs of Victory Can Get Rather High

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Through action in the state legislature, New Haven recently won the right to annex an outlying section called the 32nd Ward.

Even more recently the city was presented a $3,000 bill — legal fees for ward residents' unsuccessful battle against annexation. The city agreed to pay the bill.

Mazey Holds to Stand Con-Con Is GOP 'Hoax'

An attorney for the state AFL-CIO braved a barrage of anti-Democratic questions last night in Birmingham and stood up to his contention that the push for a constitutional convention was a Republican "hoax."

William Mazey, Detroit attorney whose brother Emil is secretary treasurer of the UAW, received most of the questions following his debate on the con-con issue with Donald A. Brown, 1958 GOP lieutenant governor candidate.

Brown, who recently resigned as an assistant prosecutor to return to his private law practice, said "never has the need and public demand been so great" for calling a convention.

Mazey on the other hand said the state doesn't need a convention because he didn't "see any faults" in the present 1908 Constitution.

The pro-and-con debate became somewhat heated when Brown backed the Republican Senate saying it was doing a "good job" for the state.

This prompted Edward J. Vanderlaan, Democratic candidate for Congress, who also braved the GOP stronghold of about 50 Oakland County Young Republicans, to question Brown on why, then, did schools lack money.

"Are you making a speech or running against Congressman Broomfield (William S., congressional incumbent)?" Brown shot back.

Mazey insisted that Republicans were "hoodwinking" citizens by wanting a convention called to raise the sales tax and highway diversion tax funds.

Organ Recital at Pontiac State This Evening

Patients of the Pontiac State Hospital will hear an organ recital at 7:15 tonight in the chapel auditorium on the hospital grounds.

The organ was donated to the hospital by Mrs. Jean Green of 645 Arlington St., Birmingham, as a Christmas present. "The cost of the organ is estimated at $2,500, but the value in patient pleasure and appreciation is immeasurable," said Ted Panaretos, community relations director at the hospital.

Miss Dorothy Roe, director of the recreational therapy department, said a mixed chorus of patients will sing under the direction of music therapist Mrs. Ruth Vancil.

Six musicians from the area will perform the organ recital.

Rep. Clare Hoffman to Be Candidate at 84

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) said today he will be a candidate for reelection in November.

The 84-year-old Allegan Republican said in a letter to constituents:

"I know of no reason why I should buy a buy a pipe, tobacco, a rocking chair, sit on a porch, and rust out."

Hoffman, dean of the Michigan Republican congressional delegation, came to Congress in 1935. He now is serving his 13th two-year term.

Charter Action Slated Tonight

Commissioners Expected to Decide if Issue Will Be on April Ballot

City commissioners are scheduled to act tonight on two proposed charter amendments for the April 18 ballot. Both would affect the Police Department.

★ ★ ★

One would eliminate the Department of Public Safety and place the police and fire departments directly under the city manager.

The other would modernize the Police Trial Board and, at the same time, remove the police chief from its jurisdiction.

If adopted, this latter provision would give City Manager Walter K. Willman the power to fire Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, if he chooses to, without a hearing like the one last year before the Civil Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

The second provision would also re-establish the trial board setup in case the existing board is declared illegal as a result of litigation that is before Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce recommended both changes "to establish clear cut administrative authority." The Pontiac Police Officers Assn. has supported the changes, as has George D. Eastman, retiring public safety director.

Commission to Hold Zoning Hearing

A public hearing is scheduled tonight on a bid by Webb Fuel Co., 351 S. Paddock St., for a zoning change permitting the company to store fuel oil on its grounds.

★ ★ ★

The hearing will be before the City Commission, which meets tonight at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

The company wants its zoning changed from commercial to manufacturing.

It has offered to create a 120 foot buffer strip for the convenience of householders to the south.

★ ★ ★

The Planning Commission has already approved the zoning change and the buffer plan.

can in 1960 if we all work hard at it together," Nixon said.

He paid special tribute to Paul Bagwell, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1958 and termed him one of the new, young, vigorous leaders of the party.

Nixon said, however, that he would not support Bagwell or any other Republican candidate in the party's primary election in August. He said choosing of candidates should be done by the state's Republicans without outside interference.

ITINERARY

Nixon started his day with a news conference and followed with speeches at meetings sponsored by the alumnae of seven eastern colleges, the Economic Club of Detroit and Wayne State University. His wife, Pat, was with him most of the day, but struck out on her own in the afternoon for a reception by 4,000 Oakland County Republican women in Royal Oak.

The vice president's noontime audience at the Economic Club included Henry Ford II; L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler; and C. H. Goad and C. E Skinner, vice presidents of General Motors.

The evening audience included Leonard H. Woodcock, vice president of the United Auto Workers and chairman of the board of governors of Wayne State University, site of the meeting. Many other Wayne officials attended.

Nixon, answering a Wayne student's questions about the effects of the recent steel strike settlement, pointed to Woodcock on the dias near him and said, "There is a man who knows the ins and outs of collective bargaining much better than I do."

★ ★ ★

The favorite question asked Nixon at the various meetings dealt with United States relations with Russia and whether there was any hope of easing the Cold War.

★ ★ ★

Nixon replied that the United States can win what Soviet Premier Khrushchev called a horse race between communism and democracy if "we stay on our horse and don't try to get on his."

Michigan Tech Claims Nation's Biggest Icicle

HOUGHTON (AP)—The Michigan College of Mining and Technology today laid claim to the biggest icicle in the United States. It is 60 feet long.

Tufts College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology started the icicle-building craze a week or so ago with icicles 30 and 55 feet long.

News stories of the Eastern icicles gave the 850 residents of Michigan Tech's Wadsworth Hall an idea for Winter Carnival Week which ended Sunday. Other icicle builders had slowly poured on water to build them.

But many of Wadsworth Hall's residents are studying engineering or geology. So they rigged up a hose that drip-dropped just the right amount of water, depending on the temperature, atop their dormitory.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Transmission Mains Approved by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Residents in the northern section of the city can expect water relief by late summer with the approval last night by the City Commission of construction of additional transmission mains into the area.

An earlier deadline had been hoped for by the city engineer's office, but the project was delayed when Commissioners requested additional information after the plan was originally submitted in early January.

The $256,000 project will be constructed with money already available in the city water fund; City Manager L. R. Gare told the Commission.

The project includes construction of two transmission mains, one on the west side of the city, the other on the east.

★ ★ ★

It is expected that the more critical area in the northwest will get relief first. The water system will follow the route, Southfield to Northlawn to Pleasant.

On the east, the main will be placed along Eton to Hazel to Columbia.

Both mains will connect with the water main along 14 Mile road belonging to the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority and continue north to Maple avenue.

The City Commission last approved condemnation proceedings, if necessary, for the proposed construction of a parking area at the rear of the Reid Building.

The action gave the city attorney power to conduct the necessary proceedings if the city is unable to negotiate for the property involved.

"It is hoped that the bulk of the property needed for off-street parking can be acquired by negotiation, but it is entirely possible that the city may have to resort to condemnation for some of the property," City Manager Gare said.

The parking lot, in the vicinity of North Woodward avenue and Park street, would provide spaces for approximately 155 cars.

The Beverly-Bingham-Franklin Republican Women's Club, member of the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs, adopted its constitution at a recent meeting with Mrs. Philip B. Detwiler of Riverwood drive, Franklin.

The Birmingham Newcomers will hear Mrs. R. H. Schoonover review "The Watch That Ends the Night;" by Hugh MacLennan, at a luncheon Thursday at the Community House.

Mrs. Schoonover of Huntington Woods has served as educational director and book reviewer for Pi Omicron and has reviewed books for the Federated Women's Club for a number of years.

Magic and a snake exhibit will be featured at the annual fair sponsored by the Pierce Elementary School PTA to be held Friday from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Merris the Magician will present three one-hour shows beginning at 5, 6:30 and 8 p.m. Paul Allen Sr. will give a demonstration and narration on reptiles using live snakes.

Profits from the fair are used each year in purchasing library books, record players, projectors, gym equipment and files for the faculty.

Fiery Object Over Alaska a Puzzle

Was it a jet plane? If so, whose? Was it an unidentified flying object?

The flame-belching object was reported by several persons from Nome to St. Michael about 150 miles away. They said it appeared from the direction of Siberia and hurtled southeasterly.

The reports were conflicting, said Major Roy E. Haines, public information officer at Elmendorf Air Force Base.

"Some had it low and slow. Some had it high and fast," he said.

A spokesman for the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs said the agency had no report on the object.

Holland will sentence him March 21.

Hood and Lay, who was expelled from school for fighting, also are charged with armed robbery.

With his wheelchair sitting six feet from the jury box, Newton told how Hood ordered him to stand against the wall while Mendoza riffled $40 from the cash register.

"I told him he got the money, now go," Newton said.

"Then he shot me," he added as he dropped his head looking away from the jurors.

With Prosecutor George F. Taylor posing as Newton, Newton pointed to a spot on Taylor's back where he said Hood shot him.

Hood, sentenced to 3 to 15 years for a Pontiac "toy gun robbery," looked the other way when Sheriff's Det. Harry Maur wheeled Newton into the partially-filled courtroom. Following her husband was Judy Newton, 17, expecting her first child this summer.

Mendoza and Lay took only occasional glances at Newton as he chair passed them. Newton smiled lightly. He didn't look at the three accused.

Spectators squirmed and the courtroom fell quiet for seconds as Newton continued his testimony on how he confronted the trio while he was being prepared for an operation at Pontiac General Hospital.

"They (the police) brought the man that shot me into the room. Then the others. First there was Carroll Lay, then Teddy Mendoza, and Hood was the last. They came in one at a time.

"Lay and Mendoza didn't say anything.

"Then I asked Hood why he did it?" Newton said.

"Tell him boy I didn't do it," Newton said Hood asked him.

Then Det. Leo Hazen turned to Hood and asked him "How would you like to be in his position?" Newton said.

"I'd rather be there than face what I'm facing now," Newton said Hood answered the detective.

"Then they left the room."

Hood's attorney, Jack Hannah, appointed by the court, objected to Taylor's line of questioning whether Newton has been able to walk since the shooting. Hannah said this was aimed at "creating sympathy" with the jurors.

The trial was scheduled to continue with Newton continuing his story at 1:30 this afternoon.

3 Years Probation for Bad-Check Mom

Mrs. Betty Lou Zograph, who admitted passing bad checks so her children could have "one decent Christmas" was placed on probation for three years yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

The 26-year-old mother of five, a resident of Center Line, was arrested last Dec. 21 in a motel room crowded with her children and $500 worth of toys and clothes. She admitted cashing 23 checks totaling about $700.

Mrs. Zograph, who is separated from her husband, said she is expecting another child in May.

Teacher Given Outside Duties Over Sex Survey

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The teacher who took a sex survey among his students has been given duties outside the classroom.

★ ★ ★

Cecil M. Cook, who had his Van Nuys High School students fill out a questionnaire pertaining to their sex life, was cleared last week by the State Board of Education of any implication of immoral conduct. His informal leave from the school system started last June.

★ ★ ★

School Supt. Ellis A. Jarvis said Cook's duties will be outside the classroom for the present. While on leave he has been a drug salesman.

Labor Steps Up Antibias Fight

Meany Claims Nixon Government Group Is Too Soft on Firms

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Organized labor today stepped up a drive to promote racial equality among workers.

AFL-CIO leaders broadened a campaign to drop union membership color restrictions after accusing a government anti-discrimination committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon with being too soft on employers.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is chairman of President Eisenhower's Government Contracts Committee assigned to enforce standard clauses in all government contracts banning job discrimination because of race, color, creed or national origin.

'LITTLE ACTION'

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said the committee has cracked down hard on labor unions for "Jim Crow" restrictions. But he said the Nixon-led committee took little action to get employers to comply with their contract commitments for equal hiring, promotion and pay practices regardless of race.

★ ★ ★

Meany said he wasn't trying to excuse the moral shortcoming of discrimination within unions and said the 14-million-member AFL-CIO is working hard to curb it. But he said employers have a legal obligation to the government.

Meany's comments had political overtones because many AFL-CIO leaders say Nixon has won support among the federation's 1½ million Negroes by strong public pronouncements against racial bias.

Draker to Lead Metropolitans 2nd Straight Year

Metropolitan Club No. 62 of Waterford has installed Everett Draker of 676 Crescent Lake Rd. as president for the second consecutive year.

Other newly installed officers for 1960 are Ray Allen and Richard Lawson, vice presidents; Gregory Miller, recording secretary; Kenneth Squires, financial secretary; and Edward Smith, treasurer.

Also installed were Bernard Torr, assistant treasurer; Lewis Goff, James Donaldson and Lloyd Gidley, auditors; and Gerard Webber and Douglas Shlutow, trustees.

The ceremony at the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford was attended by more than 110 members and guests.

ICE-FISHING COMFORT — Dotting the frigid wastes near Boulder Junction, Wis., are four-man huts made of paperboard, a new idea for ice-fishing comfort. Made by one of America's large paper corporations, the strange-shaped huts can be left up all winter and then tucked away flat for another season. They are modeled after the portable shelters developed for the Army's use in the arctic.

Rival of Rhee in Korea Dies

President Is Assured of Re-Election to His Fourth Term

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Tough old Syngman Rhee has been assured of re-election to his fourth term as president of South Korea by the death of his chief opponent.

Without a change in election laws, the opposition Democratic party cannot nominate a replacement for Chough Pyong-ok, 65, who died suddenly Monday in Washington, where he had been recuperating from abdominal surgery. The election is March 15.

One major newspaper, Donga Ilbo, said in an editorial that Rhee's Liberal party, which has a majority in the National Assembly, should give the Democrats a chance to name another candidate. But Supreme Court Justice Kim Too-il, chairman of the Central Election Committee, said it is impossible for the Democrats to put up a substitute.

Chough's death focused new attention on the vice presidential race. John M. Chang, 60, the incumbent and Chough's running mate, is expected to win re-election. Although a member of the opposition Democrats, he would succeed Rhee if the 84-year-old president died in office.

★ ★ ★

In South Korea, the president and vice president are elected separately. In an effort to sway the vote Rhee last Saturday said he would not accept office if the voters again named a member of his opposition to the vice presidency.

Detroit Firm Among 6 Studying A-Fuel Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has disclosed that six private companies are studying the feasibility of building a plant to process atomic reactor fuels. At present only the government processes these spent fuels, such as uranium, to retrieve reusable portions.

The six firms are Commonwealth Edison Co., Consolidated Edison Co., Detroit Edison Co., Northern States Power Co., Yankee Atomic Electric Co. and the Davison Division of W. R. Grace Co.

Pilot, Woman Die as Plane Hits Home

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet crashed into a house Monday killing both the pilot and the wife of a Hungarian freedom fighter. The woman, standing at her kitchen sink, was decapitated.

★ ★ ★

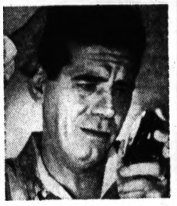

Lt. Gordon N. Blake, 36, had radioed seconds before the crash that the engine of his A4D was vibrating as he approached Moffett Naval Air Station on a training flight.

★ ★ ★

It plunged into a subdivision five miles from the field and just blocks from his own home, crashing in flames into the house of Margaret Halmi, 44.

Still Chasing Phantom Sub

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine navy insisted today it is still chasing a submarine in the Golfo Neuvo.

A skeptical public came up with a multitude of theories in the absence of a capture and there was growing belief the sub had escaped.

Speculation varied widely as to the identity of the phantom visitor pursued in the 40-by-20-mile gulf on the south Argentine coast for 18 days.

One paper said not one but three subs were in the area. The navy itself said at one point there were two.

STILL TRYING

The navy still insisted there was a strange submarine in the gulf 650 miles southwest of Buenos Aires and claimed its ships and planes were continuing the campaign to bring the intruder to the surface.

A team of U.S. Navy specialists has been flown to Argentina to help hunt down the elusive submarine.

The 13-member team will act only as advisers on the use of American antisubmarine equipment such as deep charges, sound buoys, flares and electronic detection devices.

Twice before in the last 21 months the Argentine navy has announced that subs were detected in its waters only to state later that they got away.

Two days ago the Navy Ministry promised the phantom sub would be captured or sunk "within a matter of hours." Monday defense minister Justo Villar admitted it was possible the intruder had slipped out of the gulf despite a navy blackade patrol across the 10-mile-wide mouth.

A feeling began to spread that there may never have been a submarine there in the first place.

Coors Vanishing Remains Mystery

GOLDEN, Colo. (UPI) — A week ago today Adolph Coors III disappeared on the way to his office.

The FBI said it was still active in the case, indicating they believe Coors was kidnaped. Jefferson County Sheriff Art Wermuth concurred. He said he felt Coor's disappearance was the work of crooks seeking ransom.

★ ★

But Wermuth said he knew of no ransom demands. The FBI had "no comment."

There has been no word from the family since Mrs. Mary Coors, wife of the missing executive, asked that law officers be removed from around the home.

Ten sculptured heads, one-and-a-half feet high, are on the facade of the new Cornell University library. Eight of the heads are unidentified and some people say they are former Cornell professors. Others contend the stone masons sculptured their own heads as a practical joke.

XXXII

"Madam Janeway's borrowed money from my bank," he said. "When folks owe me money, I calc'late to git it back," he said viciously. "Bein' her lawyer, ye know haow much Madam's borrowed off of me."

I neither admitted nor denied.

"It's $100,000," he said. "Equal to the capital of my bank."

"You were pretty eager to lend it," I said. "You fawned on her like a hungry puppy. You've got your security."

"Yeah. That I got, and Dan'l Drew's name on her notes. But it's made me dangerous short of cash. And she don't make no payments on account. Money's terrible hard to git jest to carry on business. And if anything was to happen — if fur some reason she didn't pay up, I'd be bankrupt."

"But," I said, "you've got your security."

LIKE A WEASEL

He looked at me like a weasel blinking out of its burrow. "I got an envelope," he said, "all wound round with tape 'n' sealed tight with sealin' wax. And listed outside is the stocks and bonds that's inside. And Dan'l Drew's name's there. I wake up in the night 'n' ask myself is: What if they hain't there? What if she's skuldugery?"

"Why don't you open the package and see?"

"I dassen't make no enemy of Dan'l Drew or his woman."

"Then what," I asked, "do you propose?"

"I kind of contrived to come see you," he said in a sort of whimper. "To see if I couldn't git you to make her pay me back maybe at least 25 or 50 thousand. That would keep me agoin'." He turned his head slowly. "Oh, not fur nothin'. I calc'late to pay ye well."

* * *

"Mr. Willis," I said, "I want no truck with you whatever."

He glared at me like a cornered rat.

"Then mebby," he said, "you in' her'll regret it to the last days of your lives. I'm capable of makin' mischief, I be, and willin' to do so."

* * *

I strode past him and jerked the door open. A man stood there in the hallway, and his position indicated that his ear had been pressed against the panel of my door. He straightened with a jerk and presented the gaunt face and hollowed eyes of Oscar, Madam Janeway's butler. He stood aside for Jethro Willis to pass and then turned and looked after him until he disappeared down the stairway.

"What," I demanded, "are you doing here?"

"A message from Madam Janeway," he said. "A matter she forgot this morning."

He held out to me a sealed, perfumed envelope.

"Were you also," I asked, "required to apply your ear to my door?"

"There was no need," he said. "Your voices were loud."

With that, he turned on his heel and walked away.

The message was of no importance. It merely informed me of incidental details of the carting of George Hull's crate of machinery from the city of Chicago eastward and of the breaking down of the wagon that carried it.

COULDN'T EAT

Perhaps my obligation as Madam's attorney was to acquaint her with what had passed between Jethro Willis and me. But I was sure it was information she would have from Oscar.

I had slight appetite for supper. I could not even bring myself to cross our yards to Lossie's house and share my fears with her. I thought I would be unable to sleep, but I did drop off fitfully, to awaken at an unpleasantly early hour.

I waited for breakfast time, and then walked reluctantly to my office. I unlocked and opened my door, and then stopped dead still just over the threshold. The shock had almost a physical impact. For the massive door of my safe stood open, exposing its empty interior!

During the night, an intruder —no doubt it was Oscar—had invaded my office and opened the safe with the intention either to deposit more cash in it or to remove the sum approaching a million dollars that had been secreted there. And discovered that it had vanished.

* * *

I heard heavy feet pounding the floor of the hallway and my door was kicked open violently. Oscar stood there, bending forward from the waist and flexing his strong fingers. "Where is it?" he demanded and took a step toward me.

* * *

Oscar stood midway between my desk and the door. At his right was the safe with its open door and bare interior. His arms were extraordinarily long and the hands that hung from bony wrists were larger than a man's hands should be, with fingers tense and bent like talcons. It was clear to me that he had trepassed upon my office the night before.

"Where," I countered, "is what?"

"Don't dilly-dally," he said. "The safe is open and its contents gone. Nobody could have rifled it but you."

"Rifled it of what?" I asked, wasting time and postponing the moment of action. "How did I open the door? Madam Janeway never gave me the combination."

"Don't hoggle-boggle with me," Oscar said harshly. "Where is that money? Tell me before I choke it out of you!"

* * *

I had to put on a bold front; mainly; I suppose to hold fast to my self-respect. I sneered at him. "Haven't you done enough throttling?" I asked. "Your score is two. It would be dangerous to make it three."

His wide slash of a mouth became a lipless line, but he did not take another step toward me.

Step Up Fight on 'Sky Sewage,' Urges Heustis

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis Monday called for better application of know-how in keeping what he called "sewage in the skies"—smoke, dust and smog—from "blanketing our communities."

Speaking at a meeting of industrial ventilation engineers, Heustis said air pollution makes chest and lung diseases worse, damages homes and sometimes takes paint off cars.

A bill now pending in the legislature would authorize the health department to expand the air pollution fight.

"Unless we work together now on this problem," said Heustis, ". . . More Michigan people are going to become smoke eaters and smog breathers."

5-Year Sentence Given to Spears

Airliner Crash Suspect Slapped With Heaviest Term for Car Theft

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Robert Vernon Spears, the heavily insured Dallas naturopath found alive two months after his reported death in the crash of an airliner, Monday was sentenced to the maximum of five years in federal prison for interstate auto theft.

* * *

Spears, 65, was picked up in Phoenix Jan. 20 by FBI agents and questioned for several days in connection with the mysterious crash of a National airliner Nov. 16 in the Gulf of Mexico.

U. S. District Judge Dave Ling handed Spears the maximum sentence on the federal charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle. Spears also faces trial in Los Angeles on abortion charges.

CONTINUE CRASH PROBE

The government's chief concern with Spears is whether he caused the crash of the airliner in which 42 persons were killed.

The FBI today said the investigation into the crash would continue. But agent-in-charge Ed Boyle would not disclose whether Spears would face further questioning.

He had been listed as one of the passengers killed in the airliner crash.

Taylor has been missing since the crash, but none of the bodies recovered from the gulf has been identified as his.

DuPont Profit Rises to $8.92 Per Share

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The DuPont Co. Monday reported 1959 profit climbed to the equivalent of $8.92 a share from $7.25 a share in 1958.

Last year's earnings were the second highest in DuPont history. In 1955, the company's net income equaled $9.26 a share including $2.75 from General Motors Corp. dividends.

* * *

The 1959 profit included $2.54 a share from GM dividends. In 1958, the company earned $4.71 from operations and $2.54 from GM dividends.

* * *

OAS Turns Spotlight on Trujillo Dictatorship

When the Council of the Organization of American States met to consider the Dominican Republic's dictatorship, it could do nothing more than condemn the tyranny of that administration in suppressing human rights.

While the republic's president since 1957 has been HECTOR TRUJILLO, former Pres. RAFAEL TRUJILLO's brother, the latter has continued to run the country. Some 2,000 leading citizens were imprisoned recently "for plotting against the government" and a new wave of fear is sweeping this small nation of 2.8 million.

★ ★ ★

Venezuelan Ambassador FALCONBRICENO presented the case against the TRUJILLOS. He accused the Dominican government of "patent and flagrant violations of human rights" and quoted from the extraordinary pastoral letter issued by six Catholic Bishops which deplored this outrage of "the rights of all men to freedom of conscience, of the press and of assembly." Intervention by the church is the climax of years of government tyranny.

★ ★ ★

Our State Department can do little and nonintervention in internal affairs is one of the principles of OAS also. But the fact that the Trujillo administration is being discussed and condemned and that clerical protests have preceded the fall of other Latin-American dictators, should cause some worry in the Trujillo camp.

The discussion makes clear the growing concern of most nations of this hemisphere for the fate of the people of the Dominican Republic. We should make our indignation a matter of public record and uphold the cause of democracy.

Don't Count on Sleeping in Your Little Sports Car

If you are planning a cat nap in a small foreign car, think again. At least, that's the advice from a recent experience in Alburg, Vt.

★ ★ ★

It seems that State Trooper Dana Goodnow found a Canadian visitor napping in a sleeping bag beside his small foreign car in a snowstorm. He got this story:

★ ★ ★

The driver explained that the car was just too small to curl up in inside and sleep, so he decided to camp outdoors. Sleeping bag or no, the true sports car fan will still put up with this tiny inconvenience.

Connally Reservation Hampers World Court

For years there has been an International Court of Justice under the United Nations, but due to the Connally reservation the United States has been unable to take full advantage of its services.

This reservation was added to the 1946 Senate resolution accepting the World Court of Justice for the United States. It gives the U. S. the veto right over any action brought against us in that court. In other words we decide for ourselves whether or not a case is "within the domestic jurisdiction of the United States."

Following our lead other countries made like reservations. This gave the Communists an excuse to accuse us of not sincerely supporting international judicial processes. The reservation also has hampered our efforts to establish rule of law among nations.

Both last year and this year in his State of the Union messages President Eisenhower asked for repeal of the Connally amendment. Sec. of State HERTER and Atty. Gen. ROGERS have urged support of Sen. HUMPHREY'S repeal resolution. A committee of the American Bar Association has said that the reservation is unnecessary because a World Court statute provides that the court will not consider domestic issues.

The President pledged that if the Senate repealed the Connally amendment, he would urge similar acceptance of World Court jurisdiction by every other member of the U.N. In any case the Senate should end the inconsistency as a matter of common sense.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S optimism continues to reach new heights. The other day he said he wasn't disturbed about the relative strength of the U.S. and Russia with respect to missiles, and now he predicts the Govwith a surplus of $4.2 billion!

You should feel flattered if someone imitates you. Nobody ever counterfeits a penny.

Industries included the Oakland, General Motors Truck, Cartercar, Hess Spring and Axle, Pontiac Brush and Pontiac Paint plants.

The top city boosters were a commercial association, and the new cars and trucks were given rigid test outs in the sand ruts on Waterford Hill.

"Our Cars Are Great, but the Road's Getting Worse"

David Lawrence Says:

How Will South Vote in the Fall?

WASHINGTON—The big political news of the coming months of 1960 is not just the struggle between the various aspirants for the Democratic nomination for the presidency but what the South may be preparing to do at the polls next November.

LAWRENCE

The South has it in its power to take 128 electoral votes away from the Democratic Party and to refrain also from giving them to the Republican nominee. This means that, unless one nominee or the other got 269 of the remaining 409 votes, the House of Representatives would have to select the next president.

What will the South do? A hint has just come from Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and one of the most outstanding men in Congress.

He said something very significant on this issue a few days ago in addressing the Georgia Legislature, but somehow it wasn't noted in the press generally. He declared:

"I confess I do not know how much longer the South must serve as the doormat for the ambitious leaders of both national parties.

"Certainly there is no comfort for us in the ranks of the Republican Party. The heir apparent to the GOP crown already has taken his stand with the NAACP. He is, in fact, one of their most prominent honorary members.

"Our own party has virtually deserted us. The proud democracy of Jefferson and Jackson has become the captive of a left-wing element that is barely Democratic even in name, but which is trying to recast the party in its image.

ASKS LOYALTY

"Many of this gang of phony liberals and party wreckers have publicly advocated driving the South from the house of our fathers.

"The South is entitled to better treatment from the party that it has nurtured, supported and revered for almost as long as it has the Constitution. We are entitled to the measure of respect and influence within the party that our years of loyalty have earned.

"No section of the country can rival the South's long record of Democratic loyalty. But party loyalty is a two-way street. Those who kick the South in the teeth at every opportunity must not expect us to keep turning the other cheek forever.

"The South has no intention of abandoning its loyalty to the Democratic principles that it has ever held. But it owes no loyalty to self-styled Democrats who flout and despise the true Democratic faith.

"The patron saints of the democracy—giants like Jefferson, Madison and Jackson—built the party upon the solid rock of the Constitution.

"That is where the South stands today. Others may seek to subvert that fundamental premise of the Democratic Party, but the South will keep the faith.

"We have taken our stand on the Constitution of the United States. And there we propose to remain."

The first test will come in the next two or three weeks. Upon Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, will fall the burden of getting some kind of "civil rights" bill through the Senate.

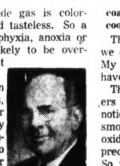

To win support of Northern Democrats at the nominating convention, he has to get a bill passed now that will make him appear at least as satisfactory on this issue as Sen. Kennedy or Sen. Symington or Adlai Stevenson.

If, on the other hand, the Texas senator steers a compromise bill through that satisfies the South, he will, of course, retain the support of his fellow Southerners.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Many Suffer in the Dark From Carbon Monoxide

Carbon monoxide gas is colorless, odorless and tasteless. So a victim of C-O asphyxia, anoxia or "poisoning" is likely to be overcome without warning.

DR. BRADY

Thus a person wholies, sits, stands, plays or works, quietly breathing air containing only two parts of C-O per thousand becomes powerless and unconscious in an hour or two; if the air contains as much as three parts of C-O per thousand, death will occur unless rescue is prompt.

C-O is not a poison in the ordinary sense of the word. It damages or kills by depriving the cells and tissues of their oxygen. The gas has a greater affinity for hemoglobin (the oxygen-carrying coloring matter in the red blood corpuscles) so that oxygen is crowded out.

This is called anoxemia (lack of oxygen in the blood) or anoxia (lack of oxygen in the body cells and tissues).

All degrees of anoxia occur in persons exposed to atmosphere containing carbon monoxide. In most instances of mild chronic C-O anoxia, the manifestations are ascribed to anything and everything except carbon monoxide. This is particularly true of the C-O anoxia of garage workers, cigarette smokers and housewives or others house-bound through the winter.

The most common manifestations or symptoms of chronic carbon-monoxide anoxia or "poisoning" are loss of appetite, nausea, weight loss, apathy, fatigability, headache, dizziness, insomnia, palpitation, impaired memory, excessive sweating, unusual sleepiness in the afternoon, ataxic gait (slight staggering) and general weakness.

Now, for goodness sake, if you happen to have one or more of these manifestations or symptoms, don't tell me. Tell your doctor. I don't know what remedy, if any, will relieve or cure C-O anoxia except unpolluted air—say two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day.

AIRING PEPPY

A reader says she has a habit of opening the doors and bedroom windows in the winter months when heat and smoke seem to befoul the air, letting the stale air sweep out and cold, fresh air sweep in. Five minutes of this in the early evening makes everybody feel peppy for housework and homework without getting that dull feeling.

I say it is a fine idea. It will tend to stave off mild chronic C-O anoxia from slight pollution of the household atmosphere by C-O generated by incomplete combustion of oil, gas, wood, coal, whatever fuel is used for cooking and heating.

The reader adds: "One thing we don't get in our family is cri. My husband and teen-age son haven't had cri in years."

The allusion to cigarette smokers is not just one of my peculiar notions. Every puff of cigarette smoke contains some carbon monoxide—this has been determined by precise chemical measurements. So there can be no question but that a habitual cigarette smoker has C-O anoxia.

Readers Discuss Fight in Senate

I read in the paper two Michigan Senators almost got in a fight in Lansing and I wish they had and I wish the Democrat had knocked the Republican flat and I will bet this is what would have happened if some buttinsky hadn't run up.

Jake

Is it any wonder we don't get anything done in our Michigan legislature when its members are of such low caliber they must be separated to avoid a fist fight?

Perhaps we should get a house mother for them and she could have said, "Now you sit on one side of the room and you sit on the other and I don't want to hear another word from either of you until I tell you you may get up." Or maybe they could stand in separate corners facing the wall or perhaps write "I will be a good boy" several hundred times.

Let's Grow Up

'Thankful Senators Listen to Voters'

Senators McNamara and Hart didn't o.k. the postmaster because they realized it would be a mistake. McNamara said he took into consideration feelings of employes, capability of the person and if it were good for the mail service. We all know The Press was for Bob Miller, but thank God we have men in Washington that will listen to the people that helped send them there. Two votes for Pat and Phil.

'Editorial Was One-Sided Story'

Your postmaster editorial was another one-sided story which you are so famous for. You say our Democrat Senators placed themselves and party ahead of all things. Didn't Eisenhower and Summerfield do this also when they named a Republican?

★ ★ ★

You want Democrats to approve a Republican but I've never seen where you ask a Republican to approve a Democrat. You're always telling the people what we should do and who we should vote for.

This is America, not Russia. We know who we want and what we want. Reuther has done more in the past 30 years to help people of this nation than anyone I can name and you criticize him if he deserves it or not. This is 1960, not the old days when they hired you in the morning and fired you that night at 30 cents an hour, so you should forget the old days and get the chip off your shoulder.

Farmers Defend Milk Price Hike

Concerning the price farmers get for their milk, the price remains the same as before through February and March. On April 1, farmers take a cut of 18 cents a hundred to the first of August. Only then will the farmer receive a raise. Therefore, any price rise for a quart of milk before August 1 cannot be blamed on the farmer.

One Who Does the Milking

Do you realize, Mr. Milked Again that of the 24 or 25 cents you pay for milk only about ten cents goes to the milk producer, or as he's better known, the farmer?

★ ★ ★

This is very small return for 14 or 16 hours a day of hard labor, 365 days a year, and from $0,000 to $60,000 investment, not counting real estate value. Did you holler when your union got a pay raise for you and the farmer had to pay more for his every day necessities? Michigan Milk Producers Association is a union, just like the one you probably belong to.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Be a Slave to Your House

Howard has a million "twins" right here in America. They are almost idolatrous, for they worship their house and lawn even more than God Almighty. They fail to realize that a home is just like a desk occupied in seventh grade, from which they'll soon be promoted. So take a lesson from the kindly loafers described herein. You clergy might sermonize on this theme.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case D-480: Howard H., aged 39, has a wife and two teen-age children.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

"Why, from the moment he gets home till bedtime, he is painting or washing windows, or in summer he mows the lawn and trims the hedge and plants shrubs, etc.

"He never gives me or the children an hour of his time from one month to another.

★ ★ ★

"Johnny begs him to come to PTA on Father's Night and visit his home room, but Howard is too tired after puttering around the house.

"He hasn't taken any of us to a movie or on an outing in five years.

"I suppose it may be better to have such a hobby than to get drunk all the time, but is it wise for a person to become a slave to a house and lawn?"

LAUNDRESS IN HEAVEN

Perhaps you recall the story about the faithful laundress who picked up the soiled clothes of her customers in a child's express wagon and then delivered them, spotlessly clean, a day or so later.

She was an excellent wash woman and very faithful in attendance at church.

After her death, St. Peter escorted her down the golden streets of Heaven to her new home.

She looked admiringly at new cottages and lovely bungalows with attractive patios, but St. Peter kept walking right past these. Finally, he stopped in front of a palatial estate with a beautiful big home.

"No, indeed," replied St. Peter. "This is your new home. You earned it on earth by your kindly deeds and unselfishness.

"Some of the folks down there who lived in the largest mansions will get mighty small cabins up here.

MANSIONS ON HIGH

★ ★ ★

But don't become a slave to any piece of land or building thereon, for this earth is just a classroom in God's Cosmic School System.

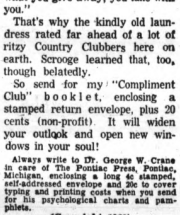

You will soon be promoted. So don't become so enamoured of your temporary "desk" down here that you forget the entire purpose of life on Earth.

Wouldn't it seem absurd for a boy in 7th grade to try to decorate his desk and gold-plate the inkwell and spend every spare moment polishing the seat, when he is going to be promoted in a few months?

Well, that is no more absurd than millions of people who lavish every available dollar and all their spare time on a house which they'll leave behind shortly when they are "promoted."

"What you have, you leave at death," runs an old adage, "but what you give away, you take with you."

That's why the kindly old laundress rated far ahead of a lot of ritzy Country Clubbers here on earth. Scrooge learned that, too, though belatedly.

Romney Raps School Tears

Says Teachers' $$$ Not as Sad as Many Seem to Think

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—Industrialist George Romney told a convention of educators Monday that America's school teachers aren't as bad off financially as they seem to think.

Moreover, he said, they must themselves bear part of the blame for any loss of prestige they have suffered.

★ ★ ★

"While much attention has been devoted with much justified sympathy, to teachers as the 'underdog profession,' the fundamental status of teachers is better than they themselves believe it is . . . .

"When teachers engage in public debate about whether they should or should not be in school a few minutes before class begins, and remain a few minutes after it ends, they hardly give the impression they are as dedicated as many of us remember our teachers used to be."

Romney, referring to the reluctance of school teachers to accept any form of merit pay schedules, said:

"The concept that a group can increase its professional stature by accepting wage patterns based on time-in-grade rather than contribution, also does not ring with an air of consistency in the public mind, which associates this type of concept with an entirely different type of economic function in our society.

"The impression also has been created in some quarters that in their legitimate fight for higher salary standards some teachers are seeking greater reward for less endeavor, and in a sense, lower teaching productivity."

He said teacher pay is now comparable with that in industry except for the veteran educator.

Death Struggle Near Climax

Will Chessman Win?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Will Caryl Whittier Chessman, self-taught legal magician, escape the California gas chamber Friday for the eighth time in nearly 12 years?

Several million persons, mostly foreigners, have signed petitions urging mercy. But experienced public-opinion guessers say the majority of Californians want him to die.

Chessman's case is still in the courts on late-hour pleas. These efforts could win him another delay, although practically nobody thinks he has a chance of having his two death sentence convictions overruled by the judges.

If he is to be given clemency — and he declines to ask it — his life would have to be spared by agreement of the California Supreme Court and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown refused clemency last October, noting Chessman's "failure to show contrition." The governor said the convict showed "steadfast arrogance and contempt for society and its laws."

But world public opinion is mounting on Chessman's side. He has become a symbol in the international debate over capital punishment which has stirred passions in several nations.

Chessman, 38, began a career of crime at 16. He has spent nearly two-thirds of his life behind bars.

In 1948, during seven weeks of freedom, he was arrested and later convicted as Los Angeles "red light bandit" who terrorized couples on lovers' lanes. The "red light bandit" was so named because he equipped his automobile with flashing red lights used on police cars.

★ ★ ★

He was given death penalties in a jury trial for two instances of holding up couples, robbing them and then forcing the young women to perform sexual indignities while a pistol was held at their heads.

Of another victim, aged 17, an attorney recently told the court:

"She cried and pleaded with him, asking, 'Why do you do this to me, I have done nothing to you.' She proceeded to cry for five or 10 minutes. However, appellant Chessman was in no way fazed by the crying . . .

"Under threats of her life and at the point of a gun (he) required her to . . . The act was by force and compulsion of the gun and threats."

This victim now is confined to a mental institution. It is claimed that the incident was a major factor in her illness.

Altogether, Chessman was convicted on 17 counts of kidnaping, attempted rape, sex perversion, robbery and theft.

He was given two death sentences, two sentences of life without possibility of parole, eight sentences of five years to life to be served consecutively, and other sentences with a maximum total of 85 years.

★ ★ ★

Chessman was taken to death row on July 3, 1948. A scrappy near-genius, the self-styled psychopath taught himself law and wrote volumes of legal petitions, studded with legal lore and literary allusions.

★ ★ ★

Improved Polaris Under Navy Study

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy disclosed Monday it is working on an improved Polaris ballistic missile with a 2,500 mile range instead of the present 1,200 miles.

★ ★ ★

Adm. John T. Hayward, chief of Navy research and development, told the House Space Committee that study projects now under way would give the submarine-launched polaris a range "up to 2,500 miles."

★ ★ ★

Hayward said the Navy plans to have two nuclear-powered submarines for launching the missile in operation by the end of 1960. These will carry the shorter-range Polaris, he said.

Mrs. Nixon Is Greeted by 4,000 at GOP Reception in Royal Oak

Pontiac Press Photos

Some 5,000 invitations were mailed for the reception honoring Mrs. Richard M. Nixon in Royal Oak Monday. From the length of the receiving line, it appears that all the invited Oakland County Republican women eagerly accepted. The "second lady" of Washington is shown greeting the hundreds of arrivals at the affair, sponsored by the Republican Women's Club of Royal Oak and the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs.

A group of Republican women of Oakland County is weary but jubilant over yesterday's large turnout in Royal Oak for Mrs. Richard Nixon.

Planners of the afternoon tea and reception at the Clarence Kimball High School said they expected about 1,500. Closer to 4,000 showed up to shake hands with Mrs. Nixon, whom they hope will be the nation's First Lady next year.

The event was staged by the Republican Women's Club of Royal Oak and the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Cochairmen were Mrs. John H. Austin and Mrs. William H. Chapman, both of Royal Oak.

The afternoon reception was the kickoff of a drive to form new women's GOP clubs for the council, created last December to help build the county a permanent women's organization.

At present there are nine member clubs.

JOINS RECEIVING LINE

To show her appreciation for the more than 300 women who helped with the affair, the attractive Mrs. Nixon stood beside Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Austin to receive the different committee members.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nixon chose a raspberry red suit buttoned to a high neck with a box pleated skirt, black shoes, a fresh spring Easter bonnet sprinkled with lily - of - the - valley and poppy flower creations.

She also wore a single strand of pearls with pearl earrings.

The hat was a Christmas present from Mrs. Arthur E. Summerfield, wife of the postmaster general. It bore a Flint label.

FOND MEMORIES

Receiving the guests in the school cafeteria, which resembled the start of a flower exhibition, Mrs. Nixon made a perfect focal point in front of a backdrop of azalea plants brightened by two large floodlights.

One of those who greeted today's "second lady" of Washington was Mrs. Florence J. Allen of Waterford Township. Mrs. Allen said Mrs. Nixon recalled the courthouse in Pontiac when she told of meeting the Nixons on the last presidential election swing through Oakland County.

Mrs. Bernt A. Moe of Royal Oak was equally excited. Mrs. Moe showed the "second lady" a photograph of her son, an interpreter with the U.S. Embassy in London, being greeted by Mrs. Nixon. The greeting occurred during the Nixons' visit there in 1958.

Mrs. William H. Chapman of Royal Oak was a cochairman for the Nixon reception Monday. Here she serves refreshments to Mrs. Nixon who is admiring the tray of goodies, bedecked with tiny American flags.

Among the many smiling faces in the receiving line at Monday's reception for Mrs. Nixon was that of Mrs. H. Russel Holland of East Iroquois road. The affair was open to the public.

Bi-Skirt New Clothes Idea

(UPI) — Newest idea for the "American way of life" — the bi-skirt. It's half skirt, half trouser. A side-button wrap-around skirt forms a trouser leg on one side only.

★ ★ ★

The skirt conceals the trouser effect (unless the wearer takes a deep stride) and is cut to cover the knees when the wearer sits. The originator plans to use the idea in cocktail and evening versions as well as day wear.

Will Direct Detroit Play

Melvin L. Whittle of Royal Oak will direct the first Detroit presentation of "August and the Fire-King," a children's play by Virginia W. Hurdle. The story deals with the adventures of a Tyrolean peasant boy and his amazing porcelain stove.

★ ★ ★

Tryouts, open to all children and adults, will be held Wednesday through Friday from 7 to 9 p.m., at the Young People's Studio Theatre, an association of the Bloomfield Arts Assn., in Birmingham. Additional tryouts for younger actors are scheduled at Showcase, Inc., Birmingham for Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Deal Bridge Hands

The Pontiac Bonneville Duplicate Bridge Club met Saturday evening at the Hotel Waldron with seven tables in play.

★ ★ ★

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. A. K. MacKean, Ernest Guy and Dr. Charles Patrick, Mrs. Charles Patrick and Mr. Carl Bolten, Dr. and Mrs. Z. F. Endress, Mrs. Ernest Guy and Richard McCarius.

Waiting to greet Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Ralph Slaten, left, and Mrs. Euel Vines, both of Birmingham, were offered some refreshments by Mrs. C. N. Ray of Oxford. The two were still a long way from greeting the honored guest, as the line wound its way up and down the long corridors of Royal Oak's Clarence Kimball High School.

Talk It Out Firmly, Frankly

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: How can I get a friend of mine to let me pay my share of the bill when we have lunch or dinner together? When the waiter brings the bill she usually makes a grab for it and pays it. We are both in the same circumstances and there is no reason why she should always pay the check. In fact, it embarrasses me to have her do so, but what can I do about it without making a scene? I hate squabbling over a check.

Answer: Tell her frankly the next time you lunch together, that her overgenerous paying of every check embarrasses you and almost takes away the pleasure you have in being with her, and to please let you pay your check in turn.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my sister and I went to visit a friend. Later in the evening she served light refreshments consisting of coffee and cake. My cup was filled almost to the brim and when I poured cream into it, it overflowed into the saucer. I lifted the cup from the saucer and poured the spilled coffee back into the cup. My sister criticized me later for having done this and said it was bad manners. Was it bad manners, and if so what should I have done instead?

Answer: You should not have poured cream into so full a cup, but having done so, you should have lifted the cup and saucer together when drinking the coffee so that drops from the wet cup would have fallen on the saucer and not on you or the tablecloth.

Dear Mrs. Post: When inviting a husband and wife and their 17-year-old son to a wedding, is it necessary to mail a separate invitation to the son, or may his name be included on the invitation sent to his parents?

Answer: If he were several years younger, his name could quite properly be written beneath the names of his parents on the inner envelope, but at 17, correctly he should receive a separate invitation.

1,000 Voices to Join in School Songfest

Over 1,000 eighth graders from Pontiac's five junior high schools will join in a massed chorus at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the gymnasium of Pontiac Central High School. Final rehearsals will be Wednesday noon.

The first group of massed numbers will include "Holy, Holy, Holy," Dykes; "The Lord Is My Shepherd," Kocher; "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," Spiritual, and "Shalom Chaverim," a Hebrew folk song.

Directors will be Leonard Griffin, Julius Middledorf and David Stimac.

Later in the program Frances Sekles will conduct the massed chorus of girls in "Green Cathedral," Hahn. Jerry Libby will direct "Cherry Blooms," a Chinese folk song, and the spiritual "It's Me, O Lord" will have William Coffing as director.

★ ★ ★

The final group of songs will include "To Music," Schubert; "Do Re Mi," from "Sound of Music," and "America Our Heritage" by Hawley Ades.

The massed boys' chorus will sing a medley including "Margie," "I'll See You in Apple Blossom Time" and "Dinah." Carol Sluka will introduce a special dance sequence for these numbers.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Dana Whitmer Due at Wisner

Finance, second phase subject of the Studying Michigan Schools project, will be discussed by Dr. Dana P. At the Junior Auxiliary meeting at the Post home Wednesday evening, Mrs. Vernor Macom will supervise cookie making. Plans will be completed for a mother-daughter tea in May.

An outstanding citizen will be presented with a medal at the annual Americanism dinner in March.

Dear Abby Says: Are You Kidding?

You Can Bet She's Not Interested

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't believe in beating around the bush so I wrote to a girl (she is a senior at college) and asked her, in a very business-like manner, to marry me. I stated what I had to offer her in the way of security. I also put in writing what I expected her, as my wife, to do. For instance:

(1) Make my breakfast every morning. (2) No hired help until we have a baby. (3) I expect no less than four children. (4) I will handle all the money. It has been almost three weeks since I sent that letter (registered). Should I write to her again or give her more time?

BUSINESSLIKE

DEAR BUSINESSLIKE: Are you kidding? Perhaps the girl is so overwhelmed with the prospects of marrying you that she is paralyzed by indecision. If you assume that she is not interested, you've got a pretty good bet.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What kind of a husband tells his wife that she should line herself up dates with other men when he is out of town? CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: One with a guilty conscience.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: If people invite you to their home for dinner and you decline their invitation, do you owe them an invitation?

I say no and my husband says yes. IN COGNITO

DEAR IN: It all depends upon your reason for declining. If you do not care to socialize with the people, continue to decline their invitations until they quit inviting you. If you are unable to accept, but would like to be invited again, return the invitation as soon as possible.

THE NETHERLANDS STRING QUARTET

At Cranbrook Reception

To Honor String Quartet

A reception at Cranbrook House following the concert will honor members of the Netherlands String Quartet. The group, which is making its second American tour, will be heard in a program of Mozart, Ravel and Mendelssohn chamber works at the Cranbrook Music Guild concert Feb. 23.

Nap de Klijn and Jaap Schroeder read violin, Paul Godwin, viola, and Carel Boomkamp, cello, in the group hailed by New York critics as "elegant" and "distinguished."

Chairman of hospitality is Mrs. Leroy Kiefer assisted by Mrs. John E. Graham and Mrs. Leroy Dahlberg. Hosts for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Wilson, Mr. and David H. Goodfellow and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCaul. Assisting at the coffee table will be Mrs. John Sanders, Mrs. Roger Marquis, Mrs. Roger Kyes and Mrs. Leonard Lewis.

Pick Nominating Head for PTA

Mrs. Stanley Goff was elected nominating chairman of Bagley School PTA Thursday evening. Serving on her committee will be Mrs. John Fournier, Mrs. Helen Torry and John Perdue.

Students who participated in a skit "Mock PTA Meeting" directed by Mrs. Harriett Brooks were Diane McCall, Veta Smith, James Overton, Jacqueline Banks, Dorcathia Horace, Dock Campbell and Gregory Frazier.

Mrs. Orrin Cargle will chairman the Scholarship Tea tentatively set for April 24.

Church Program Features Book, 'Virus Hunters'

Mrs. Nellie Williams participated in a program featuring the book, "Virus Hunters," at the Friday meeting of the Saybrook group of the First Congregational Church. Her son, Greer Williams, a writer for the Saturday Evening Post, is author of the book. It is a current Medical Book of the month. Mrs. William Miller interviewed Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Leslie Cross of Lexington street opened her home for the meeting. Assisting her on the luncheon committee were Mrs. Jack Moore and Mrs. Forest Bouck. Mrs. Karl Hart of Lansing was a guest.

Mrs. Fred Conner was also a guest and gave the devotional program.

Extensionists Are Told How to Plan Gardens

Mrs. William Miller, chairman, assisted the hostess in serving luncheon.

After highlights on planning flower gardens, presented by Mrs. R. J. DeGraff, Mrs. Wayne Cook and Mrs. J. H. Trietsch, the lesson on selection of curtains and draperies was given by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. DeGraff.

The group will meet with Mrs. Lester Carlson of Graydon street in March.

Pick Chairmen

At a meeting of the Daughters of Isabella at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Mrs. Daniel Scott was named general chairman of the card party in St. Michael Hall Feb. 22. Mrs. Louis Koprince is ticket chairman.

Women of Church Gather

Twenty members of Mary Martha group of First Presbyterian Church were Thursday luncheon guests of Mrs. Steve J. White Jr., of Bowlane street, Waterford Township. Cohostesses were Mrs. George Mize and Mrs. Pierce Boutin. Mrs. James Sutton gave the missionary study and Mrs. William Hilderly, the Bible study.

Husbands are invited to a cooperative dinner with the Harry Woods on Feb. 27.

Friday events included luncheon for the April-May group, with Mrs. Duane LeMaux of Shore View drive. Mrs. David Lyons assisted. Mrs. E. V. Overstreet gave the Bible study "Structure of the Psalter." Mrs. Kenneth Carman gave the study book "Town and Country." Guests were Mrs. Hugh Hales and Mrs. Winifred Vought.

"Conversations on Town and County," was related by Mrs. Robert Heitsch at the June Group's meeting with Mrs. Mallory F. Coleman on Menominee road. Mrs. Walter Galbraith, Mrs. H. C. Murphey and Mrs. E. M. Orr assisted the hostess. Mrs. Galen Hershey introduced the book, "She Had a Magic." Mrs. Asa Drury of Mt. Vernon road, Birmingham, will hostess the March meeting.

Extensionists Have a Fashion Show

The highlight of the Suburban Heights Extension Club card party Thursday evening was the fashion show by a local woman's apparel shop.

Mrs. Henry Ricksgers commentated on styles modeled by Mrs. Donald Hewlett, Mrs. David S. Smith, Mrs. Richard J. Stern, Mrs. John W. Spragg, Mrs. Ralph J. Krynicki, Mrs. Ben T. Lowell and Mrs. William F. Dickson.

SHARON K. HALVORSON

Summer nuptials are planned by Sharon Kay Halvorson and Larry Arthur Bowen, son of the Arthur M. Bowens of Athens street, Drayton Plains. The bride-elect is the daughter of the Gerhard Joseph Halvorsons of Elizabeth Lake road.

Child's Feelings Are Discussed

Graham Andrews, diagnostician for the Pontiac Schools' Department of Special Services, spoke at the McConnell P.T.A. meeting Thursday. His topic was the emotional needs of children through the elementary school ages.

Cub Scouts of Pack 20—Dennis Roe, Gary White, Geoffrey Owens, Richard Bowden, Billy Irwin and Gary Struble—led the salute to the flag.

Mrs. Howard White and Mrs. Otis C. Hutchinson presided at the coffee service.

Count Your Calories, Don't Eat 'Em

Look Taboo Foods in Eye

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thousands of women who joined my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon now are well on their way to success. Some of them already have written me about their great improvement.

Several have said that they eat their evening meals before their families do. Then they sit at the table with their families to visit with them as they eat but do not eat anything themselves at that time.

If you are a bit weak in the will power department and are having trouble, I suppose this is a good crutch to use for a while. With your hunger pangs somewhat assuaged, it probably is easier to look at the items others eat which you cannot.

However, this attiitude has its pitfalls because unless you have made up your mind absolutely that you are going to stick to your calorie counting, you are sure to fail. In regular social life you constantly will have tempting items offered you, often with the added pressure of being urged to partake by a hostess, and what will you do then?

ELIMINATE CRUTCH

Every dieter finds tricks which help her and if this one aids you then I suppose it is all right. I do suggest, though, that you throw this crutch away soon and learn to look those forbidden foods straight in the eye, with a shrug of your shoulders and a glance in the mirror!

This is about the time when many reducers become discouraged. Perhaps you sailed along nicely for a while, losing steadily and satisfactorily, but now seem to be at a standstill. You continue counting your calories but do not lose any pounds.

Do not be dismayed! This is a normal part of reducing on a long pull. Stick to the diet and you soon will find that the scales give you happy news again.

STILL TIME

There is still time to get in shape for those spring clothes! If you would like to lose 20 pounds in 8 weeks or improve your appearance as much as possible in that time, you still can join my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon. If you would like to do so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Shrine Sets Meeting

The annual meeting for the Pontiac White Shrine will follow a cooperative dinner at 6:30 p.m., March 9 in the Roosevelt Temple.

★

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Smith will be guests at Royal Oak, Feb. 22 and at Mary Ada Shrine, East Detroit, Feb. 25, with Mrs. Wayne Reaves and Arthur Ward. Mrs. Frank Payne and Wayne Scott will attend the Feb. 27 meeting in Mt. Clemens.

★

Mrs. Walter Drake and Mrs. John Woodman served refreshments at the February meeting. Life membership was granted to Sojourner Perry Aspinwall.

Bethany Society Hears Mrs. McNeil

Mrs. Jesse Jai McNeil, state president of United Church Women, addressed the Women's Society of Bethany Baptist Church at Thursday's luncheon served by Esther Circle.

Judith Manns, soloist, was accompanied by Frances Sekles.

WONDERFUL WORLD OF COLOR

Dollar for dollar, we've always thought the Century 35 was one of the best 35mm camera buys you could make. Since the introduction of new Kodak High Speed Ektachrome Film, our feelings about the Century 35 are now even stronger. Let me explain why.

The Century 35 is a trim, smartly-styled camera equipped with a good fast f/3.5 lens. Now when you load this camera with High Speed Ektachrome Film you have picture-taking potential that would have cost you as much as $100 more only a few months ago.

With this camera and film you can now take color slides indoors — without flashbulbs! Strong daylight coming through a window provides ample light to shoot by.

Outdoors you can stop action in color — sharp and clear. Take interesting family pictures in the shade to eliminate that squinting-into-the sun look from your models' faces.

Loaded with any kind of film, the Century 35 Camera gives you the convenience of zone focusing, shutter speeds to a fast 1/250, and the accuracy of exposure value settings. You also enjoy the trouble-saving features of automatic double-exposure prevention, automatic film stop, and automatic exposure counting.

For an inexpensive introduction into the wonderful world of 35mm color slides see the Century 35 at our counter — soon.

Three Holly Incumbents Defeated in Heavy Vote

$300,000 Sewer Issue Loses at Romeo 394-152

A heavy turnout of voters in yesterday's major primary elections in the area defeated three incumbents at Holly and temporarily blocked a $300,000 sewer bond issue at Romeo.

Victory in Holly's primary amounts to election for sticker candidate Aram Krikorian, who defeated the incumbent Village President Paul O. Cohee, 318 to 150. Cohee has held the post for four one-year terms and served on the Village Council a total of six years.

Treasurer Harry J. Summers was the second incumbent to lose. His sole opponent, Mrs. Hula H. Anderson won 331 to 166. Summers has served for two one-year terms.

Third incumbent to lose was Trustee Lloyd R. Oakes who garnered only 126 votes. Winning the three trustee posts were incumbent John Van Deusen, with 376 votes, Allen C. Kerton, 357, and Leo C. Oberheim, 343.

The third incumbent Trustee Court Hall did not seek re-election.

Village Clerk George J. Patterson and Assessor J. Lee Montgomery were unopposed in the primary. Patterson received 420 votes and Montgomery 395.

"Because candidates are all members of the one local party, yesterday's primary is decisive and the election in March just a formality," according to Clerk Patterson. However losers can appear on the spring ballot as sticker candidates.

ROMEO REJECTS BONDS

Voters at Romeo refused to give the Village Council authority to borrow $300,000 through general obligation bonds for additions and improvements to the town's sewage treatment plant.

In spite of orders by the State Health Department that the sewer work must be done, voters turned the issue down by a decisive 394 to 152.

"Now we will have to face the judge in circuit court at Mount Clemens, and he certainly will back up the state," said Village Clerk Sidney J. White today.

Accompanying the sewage bond issue to defeat were its supporters, Village President Joseph C. Rymill and Council members David E. Pettibone and Fred C. Hebert.

Wayne N. Black defeated Rymill 392 to 333. Winning candidates for the three two-year Council posts were Jack McFadden, 382 votes, Tony Galan, 486, and incumbent Donald Payne, 309 votes.

Unopposed in the primary, Assessor Elgin Anger Sr., Treasurer Mrs. Elaine M. Hosner and Clerk Sidney J. White garnered 590, 620 and 604 votes respectively.

Two unopposed candidates for library director posts, H. Dale Palmer and Mrs. Helen Stone, were also elected.

DROP 2 AT MILFORD

Candidates for two three-year terms on the Milford Village Council were boiled down to four in yesterday's voting.

Both incumbents, Herschel L. Krebs and Ralph W. Wiese will appear on the March 14 ballot, along with Edward A. Nealer and Clarence Johnson.

Eliminated were Frank Fox and Tilden E. Sievers.

LAKE ORION DECISIVE

As a result of Lake Orion's one-party primary, only the names of incumbent Trustee Hugh Galloway, Thomas A. Arthur and Dr. Richard A. McNeil will appear on the spring ballot for three trustee posts.

Galloway received 105 votes, Arthur, 92, and McNeil, 124. Eliminated were Mrs. Clarence Braid, 80 votes, and E. Russel Gilmore with 59 votes.

All unopposed at this time were Village President William Shoup, 149 votes; Clerk Mary Parkinson, 168; Treasurer Geraldine Campbell, 153; and Assessor Geraldine Storey, 154 votes.

WIN TROY PRIMARY

John C. Czarnowski received 644, and Robert J. Bargert, 628 votes. Eliminated were Thomas Stamps, 146, and Thomas D. Bennett, 173.

The general election will be held April 4.

Nixon Places His Name in Wisconsin Primary

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will enter the Wisconsin presidential preference primary April 5, Harvey V. Higley of Marinette announced today.

Farmington Considering Office Area

FARMINGTON—Creation of an office district extending more than a half-mile along Grand River avenue is being considered by the City Council here.

★ ★ ★

Recommending the plan for approval, the Planning Board at last night's Council meeting submitted a proposed amendment to the city charter that would set up strict controls in the area.

The property under consideration includes both sides of Grand River avenue from Farmington to Gill roads.

The area presently is zoned residential. However, there have been several recent requests from property owners in the area seeking "spot rezoning" that would allow commercial establishments.

City officials have not been too happy about the rezoning request and, in order to protect long-established residents in the stretch along Grand River avenue, they have been seeking a control.

According to City Clerk Trena M. Quinn, the district would be completely rezoned residential and office and would act as a "buffer" to safeguard the old homes in the area.

"The proposed amendment places stringent restrictions on office construction and would not hurt the homes already there," she said.

"There would be no hodge-podge of businesses."

She said the Planning Board only made its recommendation following a long study of the area.

The change would call for any new construction to be set back from the street, and regulations would prevent converting residences into office buildings, or building on additions or fronts.

"Ideal buildings sought for the area would be clinics, real estate offices, attorney offices, and secretarial services," Mrs. Quinn said. "All would be regulated in height."

Southfield City Council to Discuss Expressways

SOUTHFIELD—A special meeting of the City Council here will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall to discuss expressways in South Oakland County.

Officials of the affected communities in the area will be invited as well as members of the State Highway Department, City Administrator Robert J. McNutt said today.

CELEBRATE 50 YEARS — Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson of 1214 N. Main St., Rochester, were feted Sunday on their golden wedding anniversary with a dinner attended by family and friends. Long active in Rochester politics, Dr. Wilson has served two terms as village president and has also been a member of the Council, a justice of the peace and a member of the Township Board of Review. Mrs. Wilson is a DAR member, past matron of the Order of Eastern Star and an active volunteer at the Oakland County Infirmary and Pontiac General Hospital. They have three sons, a daughter and eight grandchildren.

Think You Have a Hair Problem?

All Dolled Up at the Beauty Shop

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Because of a new, scientific discovery that closely resembles real hair, many area beauty shops are now turning out a different kind of "beautiful doll."

Soft, silky "hair" on the latest dolls for little girls is apt to become a stringy mass of wool-like texture after a few washings by fastidious young "mothers," explained Milford beauty operators Charlotte Vradenburg and Ann Goodrum.

For a live doll—young or old—it takes only a couple of hours to have the very latest hair style set and ready to go, for about a dollar and a half.

However, when a toy doll is brought in with its hair sticking straight out in all directions, it takes about three days to wash, dry and set—even longer if the hair needs a permanent wave or has to be dyed. The cost? $5 and up.

First the hair is washed, next an oil treatment is followed by a cream rinse. The doll is then hung upside down to drip-dry and this is the main reason that it takes so long to "do" a doll, Mrs. Vradenburg said.

After a thorough brushing, gooey hair-set is applied (just like mama's) then the pin curls are snapped in and much later comes the comb-out for styling.

Whatever the style, girls are swarming to beauty shops at a much earlier age than before—toting their "babies." And many times they have a much bigger beauty problem than their own mothers do.

Hart Fights Branding State a Criminal Haven

WASHINGTON (UP) — A charge by Senate Rackets Committee Republicans that Michigan provided a haven for "criminal" employes of the United Auto Workers Union headed today for a vigorous Senate fight.

Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) called this a slander against his state. He moved to invoke Senate rules in an effort to block any such official declaration.

The allegation is contained in a separate report written by Republican members of the Rackets Committee accusing Robert F. Kennedy, the committee's Democratic former chief counsel, of refusing to investigate what they called "the clear pattern of crime and violence" in UAW strikes.

Kennedy retorted in a statement that the accusation was false and ridiculous. He counter charged that his accusers were "blinded by an across-the-board hatred of organized labor which fails to differentiate between corrupt and honest union officials." He said the committee did its job impartially and its record needs no apology.

The committee's Republican and Democratic members are writing rival reports on what was shown in its investigations of the union and various of its officials. The Democrats said they would keep their version secret until it is filed with the Senate.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) called a news conference yesterday, however, and released the text of the proposed Republican version, which he said still is subject to minor revision before it is filed with the Senate.

As he made it public, it alleged investigation of the UAW's strikes against the Kohler plumbing fixtures plant in Wisconsin and the Perfect Circle Corp. in Indiana and showed the union follows a pattern of violence and criminal conduct in labor disputes.

There was no immediate comment from Walter Reuther, who heads the UAW. Hart took issue with a section of the report charging "establishment through political subordination of a 'privileged sanctuary' in the State of Michigan for the protection of criminals against extradition and punishment."

"There are at least two instances in the testimony . . . which demonstrated that the political influence of Walter Reuther and the UAW in the State of Michigan is so dominant that criminals who had invaded the territory of adjacent states and then returned to Michigan found a haven from which they could not be extradited for trial and punishment," the report went on.

"Reasonable people must conclude that the legal and political processes of the State of Michigan no longer are controlled by its citizens but rather are being used as instruments for the personal prestige and power of the UAW and is president."

It mentioned only one case—refusal for four years by Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams to extradite a UAW employee named John Gunaca for trial in Wisconsin for assault in the Kohler strike. It said Gunaca finally was returned to Wisconsin in 1958, convicted and

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Negro singer Lena Horne took offense at remarks about her race last night in a restaurant and hurled a hurricane lamp, dishes and ashtrays at a man sitting at a nearby table.

"This is America, you cannot insult people like that," shouted Miss Horne as she stood up from her table at the Luau and let loose with the barrage.

Dislike Two-Term Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A poll of political science professors shows they voted 53 to 8 in favor of repealing the constitutional amendment limiting the President's tenure to two terms. The Senate subcommittee on constitutional amendments has approved a measure for repeal of the 22nd Amendment.

Wixom Holding Primary; Lathrup Votes on Sewers

Residents of Lathrup Village will decide a storm sewer bond issue at the polls today, and Wixom is conducting its primary election.

City Council members at Lathrup Village are seeking voter approval of borrowing $790,000 through general bonds to improve the community's storm sewer system.

Plans call for a series of catch basins, tied in with existing drain ditches, to deposit into the Rouge River, additions to the present system and connection with the Evergreen Interceptor.

If the measure is approved at the polls today, the average homeowner will be taxed an additional $42 a year for the next 30 years, according to City Clerk Frank C. Derby.

Lathrup Village has 1,900 registered voters.

TEN VIE AT WIXOM

Ten candidates are vying for four council posts in Wixom's primary election today.

Three of the Council openings are for four-year terms. The other is for two years.

Candidates for these posts are Gerald Abrams and Gunnar Mettala, both incumbents; Fred Beamish, Orlando Smith, Oscar Simmons, Albert Sereno and William Allred.

Running for the two-year term are Elino Piilo, Howard Cole and Robert Hughes. Two will be named for the spring ballot.

One of the three-year terms and the one-year term were created by resignations.

Donald Brooks and Stanley Balon, both named to fill the unexpired council terms until April, will seek election as mayor in April.

Tainted Meat to Be Sought

Government Not Sure of Cancer Danger, but Prods Its Inspectors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government meat inspectors have been told to bear down on enforcement of a regulation aimed at keeping residues of a cancer-inducing hormone out of meat.

The order was issued by Agriculture Department officials in charge of the Federal Meat Inspection Service in a memorandum to all inspectors.

It came after the department and the Food and Drug Administration had received several complaints about violations of a rule governing the slaughter of livestock raised on feeds containing stilbestrol.

Officials of both agencies said they have not investigated the complaints and do not know whether the rule actually has been violated. The source of the complaints was not identified.

Stars Set Smorgasbord

Ex-Lapeer Head Named to Top Ionia Position

The former superintendent of the Lapeer State Home and Training School, Dr. R. E. Cooper, has been appointed medical superintendent of Ionia State Hospital, State Mental Health Director Charles Wagg announced yesterday.

Dr. Cooper will replace Dr. P. C. Robertson when he retires from the Ionia post March 7.

Cooper, 51, is currently superintendent of the Wichita Falls State Hospital in Texas. He was superintendent at Lapeer in 1943-47, and is a former member of the Ionia hospital staff.

He will supervise the care of 1,500 patients and head of a staff of 360 in his new post. It pays a top salary of $22,000 a year.

Goals Group Minimizes Communism

Call Domestic Issues Paramount

NEW YORK (UPI)—The greatest issues facing the nation today may lie right here at home, rather than in the Kremlin.

When prominent Americans were asked what they regarded as the biggest problems of the day, only one gave communism as the answer.

The others were deeply concerned about the individual and his place in society, strengthening the democratic process, aiding foreign nations and dealing with economic problems at home.

Those who stated their views were among the 11 men called to meet here today to begin deliberations that may affect the nation for generations to come. They have been asked by President Eisenhower to identify the great issues of the generation and recommend national policies for dealing with them over the next decade or so.

The 11 entered the work of the National Goals Commission with a wide variety of notions of what the great issues may be.

In response to queries by United Press International, some of the commission members outlined the personal views they brought with them to the deliberations.

'2 GREAT ISSUES'

Dr. Henry Wriston, former president of Brown University and now president of the American Assembly at Columbia University, is chairman of the commission. He believes that there are two great issues dominant in America today.

"One," he said, "is the place of the individual in this complex world and his development. We have been dealing with great forces and organizations and social problems. The individual is more or less a forgotten man.

"The second, is how to improve and strengthen the democratic process. A great many people are defensive about democracy. They assume that totalitarianism is more efficient, that decisions are made faster in a totalitarian country. This is not so. Their bureaucracy has all the tensions that ours does. The big difference is that all of our tensions and difficulties are exposed."

Wriston said he believes everything this nation has stems from those two points. To have growth, he said, there must be people.

"The two goals are tied together. The democratic process doesn't work any better than the intelligence of the so-called common man. They are the two outstanding goals—development of the individual to the best advantage and strengthening of the democratic process."

Commission Vice Chairman Frank Pace, former secretary of the Army and now chairman of the board of General Dynamics Corp., said he had one dominant thought on the great issues question.

"Our greatest problem as I see it," he said, "is to so organize our society that our descendants will have the same or greater opportunities and freedoms as we have had in this remarkable era. A sense of responsibility is essential to the growth and survival of our nation."

Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, was reached in Rio de Janeiro. He said there are so many important issues confronting this generation that he could not pinpoint any single one as the most important.

Kerr said that to him, these are the greater issues of the times:

—"Accelerated growth of the national economy of the United States and the best use of the products of that greater growth."

—"The wise distribution of power in a society of many large scale organizations, with adequate checks and balances and responsiveness to the people served in better economic and political life."

—"The encouragement of individual diversity in all the many realms of activity where the demands of efficient production do not require conformity of conduct."

—The realization of a physical environment — cities and rural areas, recreation and cultural facilities — most conducive to man's fullest individual development, now that man can largely create and control his physical environment rather than just having to accept it."

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, representing labor on the commission, said he regarded communism as the greatest issue of the generation.

"International communism not only threatens our American way of life but imperils human freedom everywhere," he said. "Our answer must be to remain strong, determined and vigilant."

Colgate Darden, former governor of Virginia and former president of the University of Virginia, said he had not decided yet on the great issue of the time.

"We're going to find that in economic and social areas there are many perplexing problems, I should think," Darden said.

Gen Alfred Gruenther, former NATO commander, now president of the American Red Cross, said he regarded the mission of the commission as extremely important and extremely difficult.

"In large measure," he said, "anything it comes up with probably will have already been stated by someone."

But, acting under presidential authority, he said, the commission will "give a new sense of urgency to principles already well recognized."

Other commission members who declined to discuss the great issues were Learned Hand, retired justice of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New York; Erwin Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor and president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and Crawford Greenewalt, president of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc.

James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University and former ambassador to the West German Republic, was unavailable. Dr. James Killian, chairman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and former White House adviser, was on a world tour.

Blood Bank of Red Cross Saving Lives Every Day

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

A needle was inserted into the man's arm and he was given a chance to live today.

It happens every day in Oakland County where the Red Cross furnishes eight hospitals with an average of 1,000 pints of blood each month.

The availability of blood has been called one of the greatest surgical advances in the past 50 years.

It is used for emergencies and the everyday demand for the life-giving fluid in modern medical and surgical practice.

When it is needed in an emergency, it is used in vast quantities. It is not uncommon, one hospital official said, for an emergency patient to require 16 pints and up.

650,000 POTENTIAL USERS

The way the Red Cross looks at it, there are some 650,000 people in Oakland County and each one is a potential user.

★ ★ ★

"Having blood available to those who need it, without cost to them, is the whole reason for our program," says Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, executive director of the Oakland County chapter.

★ ★ ★

She says all you have to do is ask when you need it. There is no red tape. No strings are attached. There are no special qualifications and no fee is asked. You won't be asked for money or repayment of the blood.

There is, however, a moral obligation.

Says Mrs. Bennett, "The most we will say is 'try and replace the number of pints you received when you can. Ask your relatives or friends to help put back what you used. That is how we can give it to you.

"We only say this once. We will not send letters or ask for a pledge when we answer a request for blood. We feel it is a moral obligation."

NO ONE TURNED DOWN

Mrs. Bennett says the Oakland County Red Cross Chapter never has turned down a request from an individual for blood. She adds that 90 per cent of the blood requirements of the eight county hospitals on the program are met by the Red Cross.

Not only is there no charge for Red Cross blood, according to Mrs. Bennett, but every pint collected represents a cost of more than $5.50 to the county chapter. This is the cost of collecting, processing, accounting and distributing.

★ ★ ★

The basis of the donor program is the blood bank. Donors belonging to a blood bank group, possibly where they work, may draw blood from the "account" that is built up by the group. They simply have to notify the group chairman of their need.

The Oakland County Red Cross Chapter keeps an accounting of the group blood banks, regularly informing the group of the status of its account.

The Red Cross will tell the group chairman how many pints are on hand in his account and if the account has been overdrawn and requires additional donors to bring it to balance.

Red Cross blood bank accounts include churches, clubs, fraternal and service organizations, industrial and labor groups, veterans' agencies and even entire communities.

Individuals may also participate in the program through a "self account." Under a self account, the person donates for his own future needs.

"Technically speaking," says Mrs. Bennett, "only individuals with credit through a group or self account should receive Red Cross blood. But, we have made it a policy to give blood to anyone who asks, asking in return only that he try to replace the blood by recruiting his own donors.

"We recognize first and foremost that the Red Cross is an humanitarian agency.

Mrs. Bennett says that in such cases where the recipient has not had an account, more than 90 per cent of the blood has been replaced.

It is evident that those who receive blood free from the Red Cross feel the "moral obligation" and gratefully make repayment.

Mrs. Bennett urges, however, that people donate and stock an account before the need should arise.

Of 122 bloodmobile visits in Oakland County last year, 36 were in Pontiac. Twenty-four of those in Pontiac were open to the public and announced beforehand. The remainder were closed blood banks for group accounts.

SHOWS HOW IT'S DONE — The value of a pint of blood is known and appreciated well by Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital. Obenauf was the first donor at the Red Cross Bloodmobile held at the hospital Friday. Checking his progress is registered nurse Mrs. Franklin Morgan of Grosse Pointe Woods.

MEATY SITUATION — Beef production in the United States has just about doubled in the past 30 years, reports the Department of Agriculture. Surprisingly, only half this increase is due to greater numbers of cattle. The other half is the result of greater productivity — more meat per head. That means Americans now eat more beef even though herd increases have only kept pace with population growth. As chart, left, shows, a growing percentage of slaughter cattle are beeves, rather than lighter dairy cattle. They're also raised faster than before. Chart, right, reveals that dressed weight of cattle has been raised an average of 80 pounds.

DRIVER — Edgar J. Forio of Atlanta has been appointed national chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1960 fund drive. Forio is senior vice president of Coca-Cola Co.

New Squadrons to Form Larger Group

Area Youths Swell Pontiac CAP Ranks

The Civil Air Patrol in the Pontiac area has reorganized due to increasing interest in aviation among the youth of Oakland County.

Until this year, the major CAP unit has been the Pontiac Squadron.

Therefore, several area squadrons have been formed and drawn together this year into what will be known as the Pontiac Civil Air Patrol Group.

Capt. Robert Turner, former commander of the Pontiac Squadron, has been named group commander.

The CAP is a nonprofit organization devoted to the advancement of aviation with adult and cadet programs designed to assist young men and women in finding answers to their aviation questions and develop qualities of leadership.

With parental consent cadets may also be flown on orientation flights.

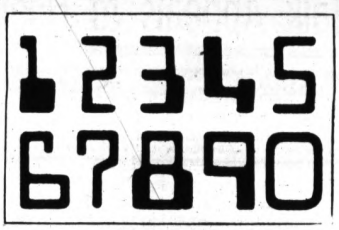

Outstanding cadets may be chosen to participate in such yearly events as visiting foreign countries on the international cadet exchange program or living on an Air Force base during cadet summer encampment.

The CAP does not compete with private businesses in the aviation field.

"We are now interested more than ever in swelling our membership," says Capt. Turner. "Our program is not only interesting and informative, but lots of fun for the aviation-minded person."

Complete information can be obtained by contacting Capt. Turner or any squadron commander.

ROBOTS' ARITHMETIC—Arabic numerals take on new shapes for use in electronic bookkeeping. Leaned here, fattened there, both humans and machines can scan them when, imprinted with magnetic ink, they form a "common machine language" giving data necessary for routing checks. Widespread use of the new look in figures is forecast for the future.

Union VP 'May' Vote for Nixon

DETROIT (UPI)—A United Auto Workers vice president who will be a delegate to the National Democratic Convention said today he might vote for Vice President Richard M. Nixon for President "under certain conditions."

★ ★ ★

Leonard Woodcock, who heads the UAW's giant General Motors department, was one of several Democrats at the speaker's table last night when Nixon completed a series of three speeches in the Motor City. Woodcock attended the speech as head of the Wayne State University board of governors.

"I have a great deal of respect for some of Nixon's talents," Woodcock said after listening to the vice resident speak and answer questions at a dinner of the WSU businessmen's advisory committee and Alpha Kappa Psi, a national business fraternity.

"I would support him for President if certain of the men now being mentioned as possible Democratic candidates get the nomination," he said.

★ ★ ★

When pressed to name the Democrats whom he thought would be less preferable than Nixon, however, Woodcock began to hedge.

"I don't want to name any names," he said. "I wouldn't say they are among the seven leading candidates.

★ ★ ★

"But if the nomination were to go to someone who is less liberal than the posture Nixon currently is putting forth, I would support Nixon, and my Union might too."

Alarmed Wife Jailed

LIMA, Ohio (UPI) — When his wife refused to leave a tavern, Sescoe Howard went outside and pulled the handle on what he thought was the police alarm box.

Tow aerial ladder trucks, three pumpers and the fire chief's car showed up. His wife, Hazel, 43, was jailed on an intoxication charge.

Chessman Asks Another Chance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's fight for life shifted today to Washington, D.C., and the U.S. Supreme Court.

With Chessman scheduled to die in the San Quentin gas chamber at 10 a.m. Friday, Sacramento attorney Rosalie Asher was in the nation's capital seeking a Supreme Court justice to ask for a writ of review and permission to file an original writ of habeas corpus. Both would carry requests for a stay of execution, said Chessman's other attorney, George T. Davis. The high court is in recess until March 1.

★ ★ ★

Davis is remaining here to handle a clemency appeal to Gov. Edmund G. Brown if Chessman is turned down in his 15th approach to the Supreme Court.

The 38-year-old convict - author, convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of robbery and kidnap charges involving forcing two women into unnatural sex acts, has had seven stays of execution in his 11½ year-old battle waged from death row.

He lost another appeal Monday when a three-man panel of the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals refused him a stay of execution and upheld its chief justice's earlier ruling refusing him a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

If Chessman wins no stay from the U.S. Supreme Court his only remaining recourse would appear to be Gov. Brown. Chessman himself refuses to appeal for clemency, maintaining he is innocent, but attorney Davis is expected to seek a commutation to life imprisonment anyway.

In cases like Chessman's, where previous felonious convictions are involved, the governor's clemency is conditioned upon concurrence by the State Supreme Court. Brown has refused clemency once before, but has said his mind is still open.

Miss
And PCH Students

Dear Miss:

Don't know that everyone will agree with you that stories and pictures of the PCH basketball team have been lacking. Just about every member of the team has had his picture on the sports page during the season.

Dear Sir:

Is it true that Pontiac Central will again have to go to Livonia to play in the basketball tournament? If so, can you tell us why in heaven's name they send us down to that band box? I was one who stood out in the cold and never got in the last time.

Unhappy PCH Follower

Dear Unhappy:

Welcome to the club for the unhappy tournament followers. Pontiac Central along with Northern, Waterford, Walled Lake, Southfield, Rochester, and Farmington from this county will join Redford, U-D High, Catholic Central and Livonia in that band box farce. Why do they send our teams down there? Politics — my friend — politics.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

If there is anyone who had doubts about Hayes Jones' chances of making the U.S. Olympic team this year, they should have been dispelled after the past weekend.

Hayes took a double on Friday and a double the next night in the hurdles and dash with a pair of record times.

The "Jones to Rome" is still open and could use a few more bucks. Only address needed on the envelope is "Jones to Rome" Olympic Fund, c/o Pontiac Post Office.

Pontiac Central Quintet Faces Dondero Tonight

PCH FOE — John Meadows of Royal Oak Dondero, Oakland County's leading prep basketball scorer, will be the big man for Pontiac Central to stop tonight when the two teams clash in a non-conference game at the PCH gym.

SPORTS

John Meadows and Oak Mates Visit PCH Gym

By BILL CORNWELL

Tipoff time is 8 o'clock with the junior varsity preliminary beginning at 6:30.

The PCH-Dondero contest looks like an excellent test for the Chiefs as they prepare for Friday night's Saginaw Valley showdown with Flint Northern, also on the Pontiac court.

Big John Meadows, currently Oakland County's top high school point-maker with an impressive 24.3 average, is the ringleader of the Royal Oak invaders.

Meadows, twice honored at end on The Pontiac Press All-County football team and virtually a cinch to land a spot on The Press All-Oakland cage squad for the 2nd consecutive year, is Dondero's "big man" in every respect.

The 6-foot-5 senior center has scored 292 points in 12 games. His best scoring performance was a 40-point night against Wyandotte and his poorest was a dozen against Monroe.

Meadows does more than score points. The rangy jumping-jack is Dondero's No. 1 rebounder and presently he's averaging 25 grabs off the backboards per game.

He's a talented shooter from outside as well as underneath the bucket and will offer a giant challenge to Pontiac Central's backboard tandem of forward George Fed (6-3) and center Bill Pritchett (6-4).

Dondero also has received good scoring support from Howard Bryant, 6-foot-3 senior forward. Bryant, who has been below double figures only once, boasts 189 points in 12 starts for a 15.8 average.

In the Acorns' latest success, an 81-66 victory over Wyandotte last Friday, Bryant actually outscored Meadows, 28 to 25.

Ev Queen, now in his 2nd year as head basketball coach at Dondero, has a capable playmaker in Steve Richey, 5-8 senior guard. Richey is the younger brother of Dave, a Press All-County cager in 1956 and now playing basketball for Forddy Anderson at Michigan State.

The Acorns hold 3rd place in the Border Cities League with a 5-3 record and their over-all mark is 9-3. Losers have come at the hands of league-leading Highland Park, runnerup Grosse Pointe and Wyandotte.

They are riding a four-game winning streak with the last set-back inflicted by the Pointe.

The Chiefs own a three-game victory string in an over-all 10-2 record and rank as Michigan's 5th best Class A quintet in this week's Associated Press prep poll.

In non-conference games tonight involving Valley schools, Bay City Central entertains Flint Southwestern and Saginaw Arthur Hill goes to Midland.

PNH vs. Berkley

Pontiac Northern takes to the road to meet a rugged Berkley team in Inter-Lakes wrestling action today. Northville will host Redford Union.

Wednesday, Southfield visits Cranbrook for an afternoon skirmish and Waterford closes its home season against Wayne.

Archie Penalized for Not Defending Within Six Months

Moore Loses Title to NBA

Moore, at his home in San Diego, Calif., was so upset on hearing of the NBA action Monday that he went to bed and, on the advice of his doctor, took sedatives.

He snapped back bitterly at the announcement by NBA President Anthony Maceroni's announcement the title is being vacated because Moore failed to defend it within the prescribed six months.

"It took an undertaker (Maceroni's occupation) to take the title away from me," he said. "That's something a challenger was never able to do."

★ ★ ★

It is for the same reason-inactivity-that the NBA is keeping close track of welterweight champion Jordan. He was warned he must sign for a title defense against one of the top four challengers by Feb. 15-yesterday-or his title would be taken away.

★ ★ ★

Maceroni said Monday night he has not heard, officially, of any Jordan defense, but the Los Angeles fighter could have signed and the NBA not yet have been notified.

Jordan also must get clearance from the California commission or his title will be vacated, Maceroni said.

The NBA head said Jordan has been under suspension by the California commission "since October for failure to appear before that commission for a physical examination. He has been ordered to get cleared by the California commission by Friday —or else."

On the light heavy crown, worn by Moore since Dec. 17, 1952, Maceronia said details on a successor will be worked out in a meeting in New York March 5. Any plans definitely will include Harold Johnson, the No. 1 challenger, Maceroni said.

Moore and his manager, Jack Kearns, were "given ample warning and sufficient time," to arrange for a defense, Maceroni said.

"It is evident that Moore's plans are for a third chance at the heavyweight title, rather than a defense of his 175-pound crown," he added.

The NBA Executive Council passed a resolution Dec. 12 that Moore must defend against Johnson not later than Feb. 12 or the title would be declared vacant. Moore and Kearns showed no inclination to honor the order, Maceroni said.

Moore, whose age is variously listed as 46 and 43 in record books, is still considered the champion in California and New York, which do not belong to the NBA. Massachusetts, another non-NBA state, is scheduled to take action on Moore's status Friday.

★ ★ ★

Old Archie won the crown in 1952 by outpointing Joey Maxim in a 15-round bout at St. Louis. He knocked out Yvon Durelle in his last title fight in three rounds Aug. 12, 1959. None of his defenses has been within six months of each other.

"It was the leading challenger for five years before I won the title," Moore said. "But the NBA never did anything about that. I couldn't get a championship fight."

BID GETS STRONGER — Pontiac's Hayes Jones keeps strengthening his bid to make the U. S. Olympic track and field team this fall in Rome. Jones scored a pair of victories a week ago in the K of C meet with world records in the hurdles and dash. He won twice last Friday night and again on Saturday in both events to make it evident he is a sure choice to make the U. S. team. Here he breaks the tape ahead of Paul Winder of Morgan State and Jonas Spiegel (left) of Maryland in the New York AC meet in Madison Square Garden.

'M' Five Nears Defeat Record

Loses 86-69 at Indiana for 9th in Conference; School High Is 10

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Michigan is only one game away today from matching its all-time record of 10 straight Big Ten basketball losses.

The Wolverines have yet to win in nine Big Ten starts this season. Should they lose Saturday to Minnesota they'll be on par with the lowly record set by the 1917-18 team.

The latest in a series of defeats came last night with an 86-69 pounding from Indiana. The victory was the sixth in a row for the Hoosiers.

Indiana led Michigan by as much as 24 points in the second half after gaining a 46-28 edge at intermission.

Calihan, Cassidy Heard by 500 at St. Benedict's

Coach Bob Calihan of the tourney-bound University of Detroit Titans and Detroit Lion star Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy both stressed the necessity of scholastic attainment to go along with athletic ability last night as guest speakers at the 5th Annual St. Benedict's sport banquet.

A capacity crowd of over 500 men and boys heard the two area sports figures explain that high school grads can no longer advance to higher levels of college and pro sports simply on the merits of their athletic prowess. Calihan cited ex-Pontiac Central star Harrison Munson as an example. Munson is now a fresh loop ace at U. of D. with a high scholastic record.

Other speakers were Oliver Spencer of the Lions and bowling great Joe Joseph. Detroit TV-radio announcer Bob Reynolds was master of ceremonies. Profits from the fete go towards the parish school's athletic program.

Disputes, Injuries at Squaw Valley

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Controversy flared on two fronts and the injury list spiraled to 14 today with the winter Olympic Games fast approaching their Thursday opening.

Most seriously hurt was Italian downhill ski racer Battista Pordon. In a fall into Squaw Creek, he suffered a broken leg, broken arm, broken collarbone, lacerations of the head and contusions of the left kidney that caused internal bleeding.

The 20-year-old Pordon underwent surgery and doctors said recovery would take several months.

One of the disputes — two pronged—centered on hockey, the other on selection of the German Alpine downhill skiing team.

In Colorado Springs, Colo., Rudolph Eklowe, Swedish delegate to the International Ice Hockey Federation, declared hockey would not be played if organizers don't accept an 11-day schedule. At present a 10-day schedule with no hockey on opening day is planned.

Walter Brown of Boston, an IHF director, said they would meet with organizers today, adding, "that many games in 10 days takes too much out of your players."

★ ★ ★

While the controversy boiled, Czechoslovakian Coach Eduard Farda charged hockey playing conditions were "atrocious." He claimed ice in both the indoor and the outdoor rink was bad.

There were hints that if conditions didn't improve, the Czechs might withdraw from the nine team field.

Kerbert Kunze of West Germany nominated Eberhard Riedel of East Germany and three West Germans.

Others on the West German Alpine team claimed that their Fritz Wagnerberger, who was left off, had a better record than Riedel, 22, who was named along with Willi Bogner, Ludwig Leitner, and Hans Peter Lanig.

On the athletic front, the men tested their mile-a-minute downhill course yesterday with Luis Molne of Spain suffering a broken leg in a spill. Minutes after the test, Pordon crashed. Both men were hospitalized in Reno, Nev.

Pig-tailed Traudl Hecher, the darling of the Austrian team, banged into a tree on the women's downhill course. Her skis were broken but she wasn't hurt.

Bob Mathias Forgets 1960 Olympic Hopes--Raps AAU

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Former decathlon champion Bob Mathias has just about given up hope of making a comeback with the U. S. team in the Summer Olympics at Rome.

But the two-time Olympic gold medal winner figures he got a raw deal from the Amateur Athletic Union, and he says he would like to see the rules changed so other athletes won't get in the "professional" pickle.

Mathias, now a television actor, told The Associated Press that he thinks the AAU is operating with a set of antiquated rules and needs new blood.

Mathias said the AAU evidently refused to let him try out for the U.S. Olympic team because he used his reputation as a track star to make a movie called "The Bob Mathias Story" in 1954.

"An amateur can appear in movies," Mathias said, "but his name can't be used to advertise a picture—can't be played up on billboards and things like that. My name, of course, was in the title of the picture we did.

"Personally, I don't think there should be any restrictions on track and field men except that they shouldn't be allowed to run for money, or lend their names to some types of commercial endorsements."

Mathias' argument seemed to be that making money is, in itself, not a sinister pasttime for amateur athletes, even if their athletic fame provides a vehicle for employment.

★ ★ ★

"If a guy's a winner, and gets a chance to make a movie, I think that's his good fortune," Mathias said. "What do they expect me to do—not make money? I have to make a living like everybody else."

Mathias also filed a complaint on behalf of athletes who lose their amateur standing by less commercial means.

"Not many guys make it in the movies," he said, "but a lot of track and field men are losing their amateur status just because they become coaches after they get out of school. If a physical education major makes money running a gas station, he's still an amateur. But if he becomes a coach—the thing he has trained to do—he's a pro.

"In Europe, you can be a coach and still be an amateur. In the future, I think we're going to cut down our chances of winning the Olympics with rules like this."

Mathias, 29, said he has been working out regularly and in the past couple of years has done better in the shot put, the discus and the high jump than he did when he won the decathlon in the 1948 and 1952 Olympics.

68 in Playoff Wins for Fleck

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jack Fleck, who for five years was called professional golf's forgotten flash-in-the-pan, was back in the winner's circle today after a victory in an 18-hole playoff for top money in the $22,500 Phoenix Open.

Fleck, of Los Angeles, came from behind twice yesterday to beat big Bill Collins, Crystal River, Fla., by three strokes.

Fleck covered the 6,585-yard Phoenix Country Club course in a three-under par 68. Collins, another of the unsung members of the touring golf circus, could do no better than even par.

Ice Skating Called OK on Fish Hatchery Rink

The Waterford Twp. public ice skating rink at the Drayton Plains Fish Hatchery is open for business and skating is good, according to Tom Belton, director of the Waterford Twp. Recreation Department.

The public ice arena is under the co-sponsorship of the Waterford Kiwanis Club and the Waterford recreation department. Lights are furnished for night skating, Belton said.

Sawchuk May Not Be Ready for Montreal

DETROIT (AP)—Goaltender Terry Sawchuk remained hospitalized in nearby Ann Arbor today with little hope of joining the Detroit Red Wings for Thursday's game in Montreal.

Three consultants, trying to learn the cause of pain in Sawchuk's legs, said yesterday they won't have a report until tomorrow night. Unless he is released Thursday, the 30-year-old goalie will be out of play at least until Saturday, when the Red Wings return home to meet Boston.

Dennis Riggin, a rookie from Edmonton, has played the last six games in Sawchuk's place.

Chiefs 5th in AP Poll

Pontiac Central, which clashes with Royal Oak Dondero tonight at the PCH gymnasium in a non-conference basketball game, rose one notch this week in The Associated Press Class A high school cage ratings.

Rated 6th for the past two weeks, the Chiefs moved up to 5th place in this week's poll. The Chiefs are defending Saginaw Valley champs and can win the title again by beating Flint Northern at PCH Friday.

THIS ONE'S MINE — So says Michigan's John Tidwell (43) as he steals a rebound from Indiana's Frank Radovich (33). Walt Bellamy of the Hoosiers seems to be giving Radovich a lift while Terry Miller (31) and Lovell Faris of Michigan watch the play. Indiana defeated the Wolverines, 86-69.

No More 'Washed-Up' Talk Appeals to Hoeft

DETROIT (AP)—It's refreshing to Billy Hoeft not to hear talk that he is all washed up.

"Now maybe I can concentrate just on being a pitcher, and not have to worry about rumors that I've lost my fast ball," said the big left hander who'll be pitching for the Baltimore Orioles this season.

Perhaps the worst thing that ever happened to playful Billy was landing a major league job with the Detroit Tigers before he reached his 20th birthday.

In most of the seven-plus seasons Hoeft spent in a Detroit uniform, the main discussion was how great Hoeft was going to be. Billy never quite lived up to the advance billing. His best season was 16-7 in 1955 when he had a 2.99 earned run average. Hoeft was 20-14 with a 4.06 mark the following season.

His wins didn't equal his losses after that. The Tigers finally parted with him in a deal with Boston last May. The trade route eventually got him into Baltimore under the expert guidance of Paul Richards.

The Baltimore manager has worked near-miracles with dozens of castoffs. His chief claim to fame is the way he can get the extra mileage out of pitchers with arms that are supposed to be dead-tired, or just dead.

Hoeft recalled the first day he appeared in an Oriole uniform.

"Richards called me into his office and asked me if my arm was all right," Hoeft said, "and I told him it was. He took my word for it.

"Then he said 'let me see you wind up and go through your motion.' I did and he told me that would be all."

Next day, Richards changed Hoeft's whole delivery. He made Hoeft stop dropping his arm way behind his back and shortened his windup.

"I was bringing my arm way around and back and then whipping the ball," said Hoeft. "Richards said I wasn't getting enough body into the delivery. I noticed a difference right away. And one day when I pitched in relief in Detroit, my old roommate, Harvey Kuenn, called me after the game and complimented me on the change."

Despite a 2-5 record last season, Hoeft has been told that he is being counted on for a regular job with the Orioles. The Orioles have dealt off lefty Billy O'Dell and ace reliever Billy Loes.

"That's a shot in the arm for me," said Hoeft, "just knowing that Richards is counting on me. I'm convinced I'm ready for a comeback."

OSU Scoring Power Buries Illinois

Ohio State Cagers Are on Way to Unbeaten Season, League Title

By The Associated Press

Triggered by a deadeye trio of sophomores, Ohio State's Buckeyes are powering their way toward what could be the first unbeaten season in Big Ten college basketball in 17 years.

The hunch is there could be a national championship at the end of the drive.

Fourth-rated nationally, Ohio State fired to its 10th straight Big Ten victory, its 11th straight success and an over-all 18-2 record Monday night with a 109-81 rout of formidable Illinois (13-5). It was the first time an Ohio State team had managed to beat the Illini at Illinois since 1945 and again it was the three sophomores — 6-8 Jerry Lucas, 6-5 John Havlicek, and 6-2 Mel Nowell — who carried the brunt of the attack.

Lucas scored 31 points, Havlicek 29 and Nowell 17, accounting for 77 of the total that helped the Bucks retain their pace as the top scoring major college team.

With a 10-0 record to 6-3 for runner-up Indians, Ohio State has all but wrapped up its first conference championship since 1950 and the subsequent berth in the post-season NCAA tournament.

St. John's of New York, expected to be added to the National Invitation Tournament field today, ran its winning streak to nine for 15-5 record by pasting CCNY 93-67.

St. Bonaventure was officially added to the NIT field Monday.

Rochester, Avon Play Home Finals

By CHUCK ABAIR

Two local prep basketball teams close down their home seasons tonight and both will need good performances to do so successfully.

Rochester will be host to high-scoring Milford as Avondale takes on Roseville in two of the key games on an interesting hoop card.

Walled Lake was at Cranbrook this afternoon, Birmingham Seaholm invades Berkley, Lake Orion and Oxford collide and Utica is at Romeo in some of the others — all of a non-league nature.

There will be action on two loop fronts, Ferndale should pad its Eastern Michigan lead by romping at Hazel Park while East Detroit is expected to come out of its slump against Royal Oak Kimball.

It will be a full schedule in the Southern Thumb where Armada is thinking in terms of a championship these days. The 1st place contingent entertains tough Memphis while Almont visits Dryden, Brown City vs. New Haven and Anchor Bay is at Capac.

Rochester, trying to salvage something from a dismal year, has won three of its last four led by a pair of Bills — Mason and Deneen. Milford will provide a stern test. The Redskins are riding along on a six-game victory streak.

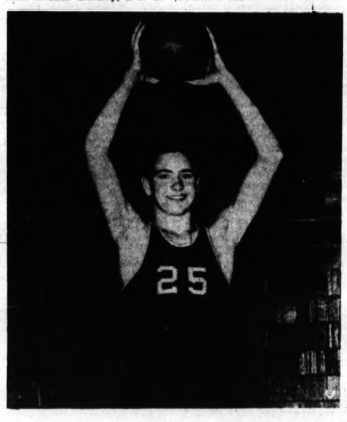

At Avon, the Yellowjackets have been up-and-down but have currently won three straight paced by veterans Darryl Thorpe, Dick Smith and Herb Harris. Roseville will bring an impressive 9-2 record to the Auburn Heights' gym.

★ ★

Walled Lake was favored to repeat an earlier triumph over Cranbrook although the Cranes have ended a long drought by winning two in a row. Seaholm can use a break from the EML war and should have too much scoring punch for Berkley.

Past records go out the window when old foes like Orion and Oxford meet. The Wildcats romped 64-41 in an earlier battle of the neighbors but it likely will be much closer this time.

Utica and Romeo is another old rivalry. That one also should be much more interesting than an earlier tilt. Utica piled up an 85-68 win last December. The Chieftains have continued to score well but the Bulldogs are improved considerably with a 6-3 record since. Rounding out tonight's attractive list of games will be Clawson host to Warren Lincoln, Lamphere at Grosse Pointe University School, strong South Lyon at home against Fowlerville and Clintondale vs. L'Anse Creuse.

IMPROVED MAPLE — Henry "Hap" Dunne, 6-6 Birmingham Seaholm center, has shown steady improvement in recent games as the Maples attempt to stay in the Eastern Michigan League race. He had his season high of 24 last time out giving him 49 in three games. Dunne and his mates play at Berkley in a non-loop affair tonight.

Final Shots Win Two YMCA Hoop Games

Two last-second baskets decided YMCA intramural contests last night.

The Eagles stayed unbeaten by nipping Engineering 41-40 in overtime on Bob Hancock's big goal. His swisher had forced the extra period. Gerald Spangler scored at the final buzzer to give the Lancers a 48-46 verdict over GM Tech. He totaled 21. The Falcons breezed past the Crazy Eights, 53-37.

Tigers Ink 3 Rookies

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have signed three players from their rookie school in Lakeland, Fla.

They are southpaw pitcher Fred Ryan of Defiance, Ohio; catcher Dick Hazard of Providence, R.I., and first baseman-outfielder Jerry Sabatini of Kenilworth, N.J.

Pledges Force 4-Way Playoff in League

A four-team playoff for three positions in the Class D City League post-season basketball tournament was scheduled to begin tonight at Lincoln Junior High.

The Pledges forced the playoff by drubbing Eastside Shopping, 68-31, in a Class D game last night at Lincoln. The victory deadlocked the Pledges, Elks, Jets and Lee's Sales for 2nd place with 9-5 records.

Tonight's opening playoff game matches the Pledges and Elks at 7 p.m., followed by an 8:30 contest between Lee's and the Jets. The three survivors of the playoff will join Welden's regular season "D" champion, in the double-elimination tourney.

County Ace Faces Big Week

Meadows Retains Lead

Oakland County scoring leader John Meadows will be put to a pair of stern tests this week as Royal Oak Dondero plays here at Pontiac Central tonight and visits Highland Park Friday.

The rebound specialist added 47 in two games last week to increase his average to 24.3. Graduated Sonny Green of Emmanuel is second at 23.4. Ron Morlan, who hit 29 Saturday, follows at 22.3 with Troy's Bud Acton 4th with 21.5. The latter only scored two points last time out due to foul trouble.

Earl Richardson of Ortonville at 19.2, Tom Reed, Lake Orion and Jack Wren, South Lyon, 18.2, Denis Alix of Keego at 18.1 and many others are still battling for the top positions.

Wren and Southfield star Ed Schlaff have gained rapidly in recent weeks. Schlaff tallied 42 for the high this season in the county to vault from 19th to 9th this week. Gary Boss had a 36-point night but fell short of the top 20.

Meadows' teammate Howie Bryant joined the select group for the 1st time with 28 Friday making Dondero and Ortonville the only schools with two players on the list. The Blackhawks had three but Jim Hutchings dropped out. Oxford had two but Doug Stott has fallen off. Merv Gallup of Birmingham Seaholm is back.

Eaglets Hit Record Total

Orchard Lake St. Mary cagers went on a scoring spree last night at Ann Arbor St. Thomas and piled up two point records.

The winning score of 87-36 was an all-time mark for the Eaglets, whose last previous high count was 84-51 against St. Frederick in the 1954-55 season. Victory gives OLSM a 11-2 record.

Don Duszynski hit 30 for game honors, tops for this season at Orchard Lake. Don counted 8 in the opener, 10 in the 2nd period, to go with Glenn Hass' first frame 11 to give Eaglets a 45-16 halftime score.

Duszynski now has a season total of 217 points.

Rev. John Rakoczy used about every available player, eight figuring in the scoring, led by Duszynski, Hass with 26 and Stan Krogulecki with 14. Clare Stapish had 14 for St. Thomas.

Orchard Lake collected 8 points before St. Thomas got in the scoring column. They boosted the edge to 21-2 and 25-6 going into the 2nd period.

Rights Measure Hitchhikes Ride

GOP Senator Fails but Lyndon Johnson Pulls Parliamentary Trick

WASHINGTON (AP) — With both parties jockeying for political advantage, Republicans sought today to force President Eisenhower's civil rights program out of the Democratic-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee.

This move, captained by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), was clearly marked for failure. But it promised to call at least fleeting attention to GOP support for the passage of legislation to protect the rights of minorities.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Johnson got unanimous approval to bring up a harmless looking bill to authorize the Stella, Mo. country school to use quarters in Ft. Crowder rent free.

Then he announced this unrelated measure would become the vehicle for civil rights amendments — a procedure necessary to raise the civil rights issue because the Judiciary Committee has not acted on a bill.

★ ★ ★

Advance speculation had centered on another House-passed bill as the vehicle. The surprise switch deprived Southern opponents of a chance to filibuster any motion to bring up a bill. Then the battle was on.

Bill Would Kill Cuban Sugar Allotment Rise

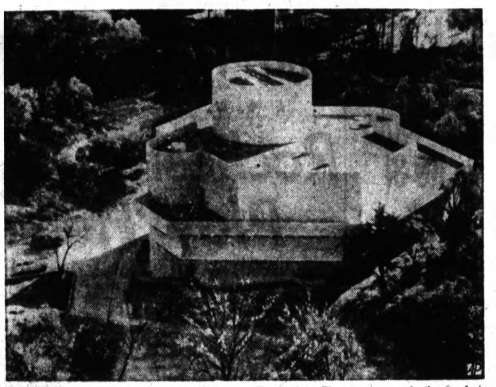

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a Senate bill introduced Monday Cuba would lose its share of the annual increase in the sugar allotment.

At present, the increase is figured at 190,000 tons a year, and Cuba is allocated 40 per cent of this. Her allocation would be taken away under the bill, which was introduced by Sens. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash).

14-Year-Old 'Nazi Boss' to Get Mental Tests

DETROIT (UP) — A juvenile judge has ordered prolonged psychiatric treatment for a 14-year-old self-styled Nazi boss who painted swastikas on his school.

Judge Nathan J. Kaufman also suggested psychiatric help for the boy's father, a high school English teacher. The judge said clinical reports showed the teen-ager to be "a very sick boy."

At Van Rie Trial in Boston Today

Lynn's Shipmate to Talk

BOSTON (AP) — Juanita Spector, who accompanied pretty Lynn Kauffman on the 44-day voyage that ended in her death, is expected to testify today at the trial of Dutch radio operator Willem van Rie, accused of the heiress' shipboard murder.

The direction Mrs. Spector's testimony probably will take was indicated Monday by that of her daughter, Stephanie, 12.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Spector is the wife of Prof. Stanley Spector of St. Louis, who had employed Lynn as a research assistant in Oriental studies. Mrs. Spector, Stephanie and the couple's two young sons, Lee and John, joined the Utrecht 44 days earlier at Singapore, accompanied by Pat Lee, a Chinese boy the Spectors planned to adopt.

The professor flew home in advance.

Stephanie said she and the other youngsters often played with the accused wireless man during the long voyage home. She said that on the fatal night she heard the 31-year-old Van Rie run up a flight of stairs from the passenger deck to the navigation deck.

Her identification of "Sparks," as she called him, was based on sight of a pair of legs going up the flight of stairs.

LYNN KAUFFMEN

Stephanie also testified she and Pat Lee, the Chinese boy, went along when Van Rie went to his dinner and he was "very quiet. He didn't say much. Pat asked him something. He said he hated himself and called himself stupid."

★ ★ ★

An earlier witness said an apple was found in Lynn's stateroom.

The first former shipmate to appear as a prosecution witness, Andreas P. van Oosten, testified that after Van Rie was interrogated by police in New York he asked Van Oosten to define manslaughter and murder.

★ ★ ★

Van Oosten, who served as purser, told of discussing with Van Rie a New York Journal American article reporting Van Rie and Lynn had engaged in a shipboard romance. Van Oosten said he asked if the story was true and Van Rie denied it.

Negroes Are Snowballed in Lunch Seat Fracas

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—The first outbreak of violence has been reported as the demonstrations against lunch counter segregation spread in the South.

Two weeks after the first demonstrations protesting segregated eating facilities began at nearby Greensboro, a short fist fight broke out here Monday between whites and Negroes in a milling crowd of 75 in front of a F. W. Woolworth Co. store. Police quickly subdued the participants.

NEGROS TAUNTED

Earlier, at a suburban shopping center, white boys taunted and threw snowballs at Negroes who sought to occupy seats at the lunch counter of another Woolworth store.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Elton Cox, an official of the High Point chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, told newsmen Negroes would not face such embarrassment again without fighting back.

Sitdown demonstrations were reported in the Portsmouth-Newport News, Va., area Monday. Lunch counters in several North Carolina cities remained closed after demonstrations last week.

In Charlotte, the Rev. Sidney Freeman of the North Carolina chapter of the Unitarian Fellowship of Social Justice said, he hoped the store managers could resolve the problem in a "way that will insure equal treatment to all our citizens."

Mayor James S. Smith of Charlotte said he had been unsuccessful trying to get Negro protesters and merchants together to talk over that city's lunch counter situation.

Senate Given Bill on Sales Tax Vote

LANSING (UP)—A move to throw out the constitutional ceiling on the sales tax was set for a Senate test today.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) came up with the proposal last night as Republicans pushed for Senate approval of a statewide November vote on raising the ceiling from three to four cents.

Minority Democrats quickly joined forces with Hutchinson, who conceded his idea had scant chance of winning the two-third vote needed for approval.

"It's absolutely nonsensical that the constitution should limit the Legislature in its taxing power the way it does," said the Fennville Republican, "It's a political matter, not a constitutional matter, whether taxes should be raised or lowered."

McQueen Says TV Stars Can Succeed in Movies

By BOB THOMAS

So far it has never happened.

Yet here comes McQueen, the bounty hunter of "Wanted Dead or Alive." He recently stole acting honors from Frank Sinatra in "Never So Few." Now he's going to Mexico to costar with Yul Brynner in "The Magnificent Seven." Then Sinatra himself intends to direct Steven in "The Execution of Private Slovik."

THOMAS

"I think it's ridiculous to say that somebody from TV can't make it in pictures," said the outspoken McQueen. "The movies have been at a standstill for the past two years. They've got to start moving or else.

★

"The only way they can do it is to inject some new talent into the business. The logical place to find new talent is in TV—not just actors, but directors and writers, too. There is better stuff being done in TV than movies these days, anyway."

TALKS WITH CANDOR

The best way of getting to know McQueen is to let him talk. He talks with a refreshing candor.

"Yes, I'm having a ball. I'm doing the things I like to do and I'm not mad at anybody. I guess I'm averaging around $150,000 a year. That's a comfort. Especially after the life I've had.

"I was poor in New York when I started out as an actor, I mean really poor. Starving. I used to latch onto some beautiful girl and offer to give her a guided tour of Greenwich Village. She'd usually buy me lunch, and I'd really load on.

"I came off the farm—Slater, Mo. Not a poor farm, sort of middle class. I hated the farm life and didn't get along with small-town people. I guess they were just as glad to see me go as I was to get out of there. I was always getting into scrapes.

"I've raced cars up to 175 m.p.h., dented fenders on haystacks by rounding corners at 140 m.p.h. But I'm giving up racing. I love it, but I've got certain responsibilities now; I've got a career to think of, a wife and baby.

★ ★ ★

"I like doing the TV series, though I don't have enough time to get enough quality. Still, I try to keep my character believable; I think it's ridiculous for a Western hero to go in a bar and knock out three guys at once. One of the nicest fan letters I've gotten came from 30 firemen in Butte, Mont. They said they liked the character because it proved there was a little chick in all of us."

GM Gives $375,000 to Saginaw Hospital

SAGINAW (UPI) — Saginaw General Hospital's campaign for funds for an addition to its building was $375,000 richer today thanks to General Motors.

GM presented the gift, largest so far in the drive, to the hospital yesterday in the name of its three divisions in the Saginaw area — the Central Foundry Division, Chevrolet Motors Division, and the Saginaw Steering Gear Division.

Farmer Pleads Guilty to Mistreating Animals

DETROIT (UP) — Orvel Hamilton, 34, convicted of cruelty to animals in justice court Jan. 7, pleaded guilty to the same charge in Circuit Court yesterday. He had taken the case to the higher court on appeal.

A veterinarian said six dead horses and a dozen dead dogs had been starved on Hamilton's farm in nearby Sumpter Township.

Income Tax Primer . . . Chapter 8

Will You List Your Deductions?

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
NEA Service

(Eighth of 12 Chapters)

Every taxpayer, regardless of the amount of his income, must choose one of the two following amounts to subtract from income before computing his tax:

1. The total of his expenditures in 1959 for deductible items like contributions, taxes, interest, medical expenses, and casualty losses; or,

2. The so-called standard deduction which amounts to about 10 per cent of your income under $10,000.

The idea is to choose whichever of the above amounts gives you the larger deduction. Most taxpayers find that the standard deduction is larger, but before you can wisely decide which amount to deduct, you have to know what itemized deductions you can claim.

This and the next article of the Primer describe the deductible items.

CONTRIBUTIONS

You can claim as a deduction contributions to recognized, non-profit religious, charitable, educational and scientific organizations; to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, and to governmental organizations for exclusively public purposes.

You cannot deduct dues paid to social organizations even though they have charitable or welfare subsidiaries to which gifts are deductible.

You cannot deduct gifts to individuals no matter how needy they may be.

If a contribution is made in property, the value of the property (not its cost to you) is the measure of the contribution for purpose of the deduction.

For example, if you donate stock now worth $500 but which only cost you $100, your charitable deduction is $500. Furthermore, you are not taxed on its increase in value, which you would be if you sold the stock.

The value of services rendered to charitable organizations is not deductible as a contribution. A blood donation is considered to be services rendered.

Out-of-pocket reimbursed expenses, such as for transportation, travel, uniforms, telephone, equipment, etc., incurred in rendering such services are deductible as contributions.

Any contribution claimed must have been actually paid in cash or property in 1959. A pledge to pay money in some future year is not deductible in 1959.

All interest paid on loans can be itemized on page 2 of Form 1040 or Form 1040W except interest paid on loans incurred to buy wholly tax-exempt securities or single premium life insurance or annuity contracts. The taxpayer deducting the interest must be legally obligated to pay the interest.

Those of you who are purchasing a home by monthly payments are undoubtedly paying a considerable amount of interest each month. In many instances, the interest payments will be so large that they alone will exceed your standard deduction.

Interest charges on installment purchases can be deducted, even though not separately stated, as long as there is at least a carrying charge separately stated.

In such case the carrying charges will be considered to include not more than a 6 per cent interest charge based on the average unpaid balance under the contract during the year, but not in excess of the carrying charge attributable to that year.

TAXES PAID

Many of the taxes you paid in 1959 can be deducted on page 2 of Form 1040 or Form 1040W, if you choose to itemize deductions. To be deductible, the tax must be imposed on you and paid by you.

This means that you cannot deduct taxes you pay on your mother's or other person's property.

State income taxes, property taxes, and local gasoline and retail sales taxes are examples of deductible taxes.

Most taxpayers do not have receipts or do not keep a record of small payments for deductions like gasoline tax. A reasonable estimate is permitted.

GASOLINE TAX?

The gasoline tax can be estimated by dividing the total number of miles driven in 1959 by the average number of miles your car goes on a gallon of gas.

Then multiply this by the state and local tax per gallon. Do not include the Federal gasoline tax. It is not deductible.

The following plan will give you a reasonable estimate of the sales tax. There is generally no sales tax on rent, insurance or savings:

First, add up what you spent or set aside in 1959 for items on which there is no sales tax, and subtract that amount from your total income.

To the remainder, add anything you bought out of savings or by borrowing that would be subject to sales tax. Multiply the sum of these by your sales tax rate. If you live in a locality where food is subject to sales tax, add what you spent on food to the amount subject to tax before multiplying by the sales tax rate.

The Michigan sales tax is 3 per cent. The short period following Aug. 1 for the extra one per cent was judged illegal. That one per cent tax is redeemable from the Michigan Tax Dept. The state gasoline tax is six cents a gallon.

'Ike Can Put SAC on Airborne Alert'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force command said Monday the defense appropriations bill will permit President Eisenhower to put the Strategic Air Command (SAC) on full airborne alert in an emergency.

★ ★ ★

Sec. Dudley S. Sharp and Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff, told a Senate appropriations subcommittee the bill includes a provision under which the President could spend any money necessary and ask Congress to make up the deficiency.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Thomas S. Power, who heads up SAC, was turned down by the joint chiefs of command when he requested 600 million for the new fiscal year in order to put a substantial part of the SAC bomber force on continuous airborne alert.

U.S. Approves Saginaw Slum Clearance Plan

SAGINAW (UPI)—Federal approval of a slum clearance project for a 124-acre section in the northeast section of Saginaw has been disclosed by Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich.)

The Eighth District congressman said the urban renewal administration approved plans for the project. It will be carried out by the city with a capital grant of $1,299,009 and federal loan funds.

The URA recently classified 261 homes in the area as substandard. The project will involve some 244 families. They will be transferred to other housing facilities.

Heavy Selling Knocks Cent Off Soybeans

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy general selling knocked soybean futures down a cent or more a bushel in spots today within the first few minutes of dealings on the board of trade.

The grains also were generally weak but losses were mostly in small fractions.

New Detroit Shrine Ouster

Recorded Is Suspended, Past Potentate Told to Explain News Story

DETROIT (AP)—The newly elected recorder of Detroit's Moslem Temple of the Shrine was suspended from his post today. He was the third top officer of the organization to be ousted in recent months.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, Walter W. Fuller, fraternal editor of the Detroit News and past potentate of the 17,000-member Moslem Temple, was ordered to show cause why he should not be suspended from the Shrine for writing a story about the ruckus within a closed meeting of the order that accompanied the previous suspensions.

All the suspensions and Fuller's show cause order were issued by Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln, Neb., imperial potentate (top national officer) of the Shrine.

The newest suspension was that of Recorder Chester E. Cox, 67, of suburban Dearborn. He was elected Jan. 11 to the $7,500-a-year job in a stormy meeting reported by Fuller and at which the other two suspensions were announced.

Herbert E. Payne Jr. was suspended as illustrious potentate (Moslem's top officer) and J. Murray Brown as chief rabban (second officer and normal successor to the potentate).

★ ★ ★

As reported by Fuller last month, charges against Payne were that he mishandled a Moslem Temple business meeting and "permitted unauthorized persons to sign contracts for the annual Shrine Circus."

Brown was accused of posing in an advertising picture with a product he sells as a manufacturer's agent and with his Shriner's fez on a table beside him.

Pontiac Ventura Gets 2 More Trim Colors

As a result of the heavy public demand for its new Ventura hardtop series, Pontiac has added two new inside trim colors to broaden the range of Ventura interior-exterior combinations,

Now available in the luxurious jewel tone morrokide seat, door panel, and headline coverings are three-tone blue and three-tone green color choices.

The new colors augment three interior trim combinations introduced with the Ventura at its public unveiling last October. These include the harmonizing shades of silver, gray, and ivory; mahogany, gold, and beige; and burgundy, red and ivory.

Prices Soften on Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices slid downward moderately early this afternoon with pressure on automotive issues.

Losses of fractions to about a point were taken by most key stocks.

American Motors, down more than 2, was a continuing downtrend.

The market was lower at the start and cut its losses toward the end of the first hour. But there was no follow through to the rallying trend and prices softened again.

Most steels, nonferrous metals, rails, oils, airlines and electrical equipments also declined.

A new stiffening in short term borrowing costs for the U.S. Treasury reversed a trend toward slackening rates. Ther eduction in auto output continued as a depressing factor.

American Motors was under pressure due to recommendations by advisory services that investors switch from this stock into Ford. Another item was that President George Romney had sold 10,000 shares of the company's stock in January.

Ford traded about unchanged. American Motors when-issued dropped about a point as did Studebaker-Packard. General Motors and Chrysler lost fractions.

Glen Alden was a trading favorite, rising more than a point. NAFI Corp. was easy, cutting an early loss.

American Home Products recouped about 3 points of the 7¾ loss it took yesterday. Minnesota Mining was off more than a point despite yesterday's stock split news.

Losses of around a point were taken by such stocks as Anaconda, Phelps Dodge (ex dividend), Brunswick-Balke and Union Carbide. Oils and airlines took small losses. Aircrafts were unchanged to a bit higher. Some drugs made small gains.

To Probe Motor of Fallen Plane

Pilots and Mechanics to Look for Cause of Clarkston Crash

North Central Airlines pilots and mechanics will begin a probe tomorrow into the engine of a light plane which crashed near Clarkston Sunday killing a North Central pilot and his three passengers.

George Green, air safety investigator for the Civil Aeronautics Board, returned to his home office in Chicago last night after a daylong investigation at the scene of the crash in Independence Township.

Green is scheduled to return later this week to complete his investigation.

Killed in the crash were the pilot, Kenneth D. Conner, 26, and his brother-in-law, Joseph R. Daly, 25, both of Columbiaville, and the pilot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Conner, both of Lapeer.

★ ★ ★

Green was aided in his investigation by men from the Federal Aviation Agency office at Wayne-Major Airport and from the Michigan Department of Aeronautics in Lansing.

Yesterday, the engine was removed by investigators and has been turned over to Conner's friends and fellow workers who volunteered to disassemble the engine.

Conner had been working for North Central Airlines for four years and was an airline captain for the past two years.

The plane took off from Columbiaville at about 6 a.m. and crash back yard of Clark J. Morgan of 7785 Allen Rd.

★ ★ ★

Investigators called off a police vigil at the scene late last night. They said their job would be difficult since there were no known witnesses to the crash.

None of the area residents heard the crash, including the Morgan family whose house is little more than 100 yards from the point of impact.

Call Him Slim; Dick Nixon Lost 15 Pounds in '59

DETROIT (AP)—Detroiters saw a slenderized Vice President Nixon yesterday. He was 15 pounds lighter than during his last appearance in Michigan nearly 17 months ago.

His wife, Pat, told newsmen he lost about 15 pounds early in 1959 after "he picked up a bug of some sort" during an African tour. His health is fine, Mrs. Nixon said. It's just that he never regained those 15 pounds.

She said he now weighs about 170 pounds. When he spoke at a Republican fund-raising dinner at Flint in October 1958, he weighed 185, she said.

Two Area Residents on New Commission

Governor Williams today named a 12-member commission, which includes two area residents, to study problems of small business and recommend ways of simplifying contacts with state government.

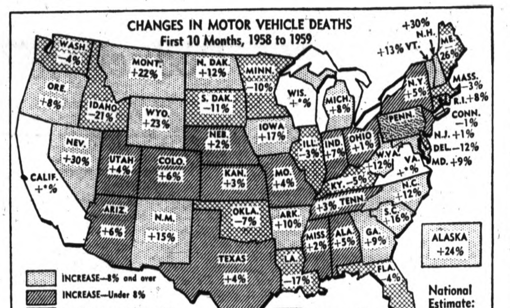

Local appointees are Melvin E. Bleich, Romeo publisher, and Cash B. Hawley of Birmingham. Hawley is general manager of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn.

'The commission's report will include proposals for streamlining paper work and reports by small business to state agencies, the governor said.

AT&T Report in Braille

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. will give blind shareholders its annual report in Braille and "talking books" for the first time.

THE HIGHWAY BATTLEFIELD — According to latest tabulations from the National Safety Council, 1959 gives promise of being a slightly worse year for traffic deaths than 1958. Deaths were up 2 per cent through October. The death rate, however, was down 2 per cent from the same period in 1958 because traffic mileage (some 580 billion miles) was up 4 per cent. As of October, 30,560 Americans had died in traffic. Disabling injuries had laid up over one million persons.

Waterford Board OKs Two New Subdivisions

The Waterford Township Board last night approved plans for two real estate developments, involving approximately 140 new homes to be built in the township.

Pontiac contractor John F. Walser and realtor Louis Borst said they will begin a new 44-home development on Elizabeth Lake road near Cass Lake road.

The homes will be in the $20,000 and up bracket with single, bilevel and tri-level houses being featured. All of the lots are bordering Otter Lake and will be included in what is to be the Beverly Island Subdivision.

★ ★ ★

After considerable discussion concerning an Oakland County Road Commission-approved bridge in the Holiday Farms Subdivision 4, the Township Board approved a plat of 89 lots, for developer A. L. Karabelnick.

Ranging in the $14,000 to $15,000 bracket, the new subdivision is located on M59 between Airport and Crescent Lake roads, and is a continuation of a 280-home development project.

Although township engineers Johnson & Anderson had been scheduled to present recommendations on two street blacktopping projects the board was informed that the reports were not complete on the bids which had been opened last week.

★ ★ ★

The project involves approximately 2 blocks of pavement on Meigs street and two on LaSalle. Eight bids from four companies had been submitted, with the Ann Arbor Construction company the low bidder for both streets.

A Waterford Township businessman, Frank Soda of 2701 Elizabeth Lake road, was present to protest the issuance of what he felt were too many package store liquor licenses by the township board.

Soda said that if the board turned down a request, the state liquor control commssion would go along with the board's decision. He added that there are too many liquor stores in the Elizabeth Lake road area, and that more were "mushrooming all over the place." The board has approved five liquor licenses within the last few months.

★ ★ ★

Board members said that the Liquor Control Comission investigates every application and that board action is merely a formality. They said that it would not be right to discriminate in allowing one individual a liquor license and not another.

★ ★ ★

Supervisor Elmer Johnson added, "Our policy is to let the application for a liquor license be tabled for one week." Soda said that it took him ten years to have his liquor license approved and he just wanted to protect his investment.

Incumbents Winning in Three Area Votes

EAST DETROIT (UPI)—Voters here nominated incumbents Edward J. Bonior and Donald G. Tarnowski for council along with George S. Stone Sr. and Oliver D. Schroeder.

ST. CLAIR SHORES (UPI)—A light primary vote here yesterday found incumbents receiving the biggest share of the balloting. Frank McPharlin, seeking his second term, paced six nominees for three council seats.

Gems, Furs Said Stolen From Wife of GM Executive

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Abigail Skinner, wife of a General Motors vice president, reported to police last night that someone stole more than $18,500 worth of jewels and furs from her hotel room while she and her husband attended a banquet for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Police said the Skinners were at the Masonic Temple where Nixon was speaking when the thief burglarized their Park Shelton hotel suite.

Sherrod E. Skinner, 63, has supervision over all the General Motors activities in Pontiac. He said the thief took a box of jewels and two mink stoles from their suite.

The 1959 state legislature defeated a proposal that would have made the colors of Indiana's license plates match those of the high school which won the state basketball championship each year.

Farmington Twp. Firm Ordered to Halt Stock Sale

A Farmington Township firm and three Canadian broker-dealers have been charged at Lansing with violating the state Blue Sky Law, and are under order to stop selling stock in Michigan.

State Corporation and Securities Commissioner Lawrence Gubow issued the orders yesterday.

He said Flot Met Process, Inc., 25000 Hagerty Rd., has not qualified its stock for sale in Michigan, but allegedly has sold shares to some 35 persons in Pontiac, Detroit, Grnnd Rapids and Houghton Lake areas.

The Farmington Township firm claims to own a patent to chrome plate aluminum, said Gubow.

Accused of illegally selling securities were Gotham Securities, Ltd., Alexander Wat & Co., Ltd., and King Financial Corp., Ltd., all of Toronto.

SET FOR BIG JUMP — Arab girl parachutists are packed closely in this plane over the desert near Cairo, Egypt, where they recently made their first jump. Static cords, to open the chutes as they leave the plane, are attached to a cable overhead. The girls' jump came after an intensive training course in the United Arab Republic.

England Is Boosting Yearly Defense Bill

LONDON (UPI)—Britain today announced a $324,800,000 boost in her defense spending which brings her annual defense bill to a record $3,729,924,000, nearly a third of her entire budget.

The increase was announced in a government white paper which said Britain also was increasing its conventional weapons instead of relying exclusively on the massive Western nuclear deterrent.

The white paper said the government's broad defense policy has undergone no major changes but it emphasized that nuclear power is "only one component of the deterrent."

"Our task must still be to contribute in the most efficient and effective way possible with our Allies to the maintenance of world peace," the white paper said.

Is Rep. Griffin Reconsidering?

Reliable Source Says He 'Caught the Fever' After Bentley Toss

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Robert P. Griffin, who two weeks ago virtually had decided against running for the U.S. Senate, is giving the idea serious new thought, it was reliably reported today.

One highly placed Republican said the two-term congressman from Traverse City "really caught the fever" after Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso threw his hat in the ring last Thursday.

Griffin said only that he expected to have a decision about the end of the month.

Bentley indirectly acknowledged word had come to him that the 34-year-old co-author of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform act was bending under a new wave of persuasion to get into the race.

* * *

Both congressmen repeatedly have expressed reluctance to oppose one another for the right to take on Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic incumbent. Neither has said flatly that he would do so, however.

Liberal Republicans greeted Bentley's declaration without enthusiasm.

Close observers noted yesterday that Vice President Nixon sidestepped a question about his reaction to Bentley's candidacy — citing grounds that a contest might develop in the Aug. 2 primary — while offering lavish praise of Paul D. Bagwell, COP titular head but as yet unannounced candidate for governor in 1960.

Countersuits Are Filed Over TV Actor's Injuries

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A head injury actor Roger Smith says he received in a fall at his home last June has resulted in suits for and against the TV sleuth.

Smith, who costars as one of the private investigators in "77 Sunset Strip," sued Dr. Frederick Amerongen and two other physicians for $250,000 Monday. He charged they negligently diagnosed major injuries as minor.

In another action, Dr. Amerongen sued Smith; Smith's wife, actress Victoria Shaw, Look magazine and others for $1,950,000. The physician alleged that a Look article about the injury defamed him and invaded his privacy.

Sinatra Does Good Job With His Ladies' Show

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Sinatra, who owes a great debt to the ladies of the land, delivered a small "Thank You" last night.

Instead of the usual Sinatra acolytes — Dean Martin and Peter Lawford — Sinatra was host to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Lena Horne, opera singer Mary Costa, dancer Juliet Prowse (his answer to Brigitte Bardot), and comedienne Barbara Heller. The theme, "Here's to the Ladies," was elegantly sustained by the tasteful songs.

One sequence by Sinatra and Miss Horne came up as blurred-edge portraits that fit the mood of the songs they sang: "Lonely Town" and "But Beautiful."

A minimum of up-tempo tunes were heard. The swingin'est was a flashy cha-cha number by Miss Prowse. The show's only lapse came at that point, when Miss Prowse's dance was abruptly cut in favor of a taped commercial.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Sinatra participated in a stilted exchange of compliments and then Mrs. R. — who never looked lovelier — recited some special words to the song, "High Hopes."

The song, written by Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen, executive producers of the show, is the Sinatra number with which all concerned have high hopes of winning an Academy Award this year. Mrs. Roosevelt helped launch their campaign.

Sinatra was in his usual vocal form — good, that is — although he seemed worried and detached during some of the dialogues. I couldn't help thinking that perhaps he was wondering about how the Las Vegas crowd would react to his artistic, distinctive and attractive production.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: After five seasons with CBS-TV, the Alfred Hitchcock suspense series moves to NBC-TV starting next fall . . . CBS-TV's fall plans indicate the Robert Young series, Father Knows Best, is going out of production . . . and ABC-TV's 1960-61 schedule would replace the Charley Weaver show with Leave It to Beaver.

Jack Benny's displeasure with CBS-TV's "canned laughter candor" has abated. He now reports that his negotiations with ABC-TV are off and he expects to remain on CBS-TV.

Meanwhile, NBC-TV's Bob Hope, whose 10-year contract expires in June, is sounding out the rival networks for contract offers . . . The Feb. 4 "actual" on CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theater dealt with the "ghost bomber" discovered in the Libyan desert.

Tomorrow, the show will add a brief follow-up report on that story . . . Comedian John Wayne of the Wayne and Shuster team suffered a slight injury to his cheek Monday when a prop TV camera exploded during a sketch rehearsal for a summer-time Ed Sullivan show.

Physicians and Queen Await Baby

It has been a week since the doctors visited the 33-year-old Queen at Buckingham Palace.

"The Queen is extremely well and leading a normal but quiet life," a palace spokesman reported Monday night.

Her physicians — Lord Evans, Sir John Weir, John H. Peel and Vernon Hall — have been on a standby alert since Monday.

A crowd of several hundred patiently waited all day outside the palace gates. They cheered a wine merchant's truck as it delivered 19 magnums of champagne which Prince Philip will distribute among the palace staff to celebrate the new arrival.

50 Witnesses Due in Hoffa Investigation

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Government attorneys expect to call about 50 witnesses before a federal grand jury looking into the Florida real estate dealings of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa has been accused by Teamster monitors of misusing approximately $600,000 of the Detroit local by depositing the money without interest in Florida, Ohio and New York banks.

Grand Rapids Mayor Sweeps Primary Race

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mayor Stanley J. Davis fell only 1,335 votes shy of outright re-election last night in the Grand Rapids primary and faces an April 4 runoff with Second Ward Commissioner Robert H. Blandford.

Davis drew 13,166 votes to 11,234 for Blandford as the two won nominations and eliminated businessman Thomas Stafford, the third mayoralty candidate who drew 4,603 votes in the nonpartisan primary election.

Roman J. Snow, 40-year-old former assistant U. S. attorney and current first ward commissioner, won outright election as Grand Rapids' first associate police judge.

It maintained that since only 22 of 49 dealers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties belong to the association these activities would not "impose any restraint in this highly competitive market."

Judge Freeman said sentencing would be scheduled later.

Khrushchev Lands in Burma

Greeted Warmly by Top Officials; Afghanistan, Indonesia Next

Top government officials headed by President U Win Maung and Premier Ne Win greeted the stocky Soviet leader as he descended from the giant Ilyushin turboprop airliner that brought him from India.

Maung welcomed Khrushchev "not as a stranger but as a friend who has come again for the purpose of strengthening the existing ties of friendship which you helped to forge during your first visit (in 1956)."

* * *

The Premier's departure from Calcutta ended a five-day Indian visit that many observers felt did not measure up to expectations.

A columnist for one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, Amrita Bazar Patrika, noted the public turnout for Khrushchev was far less than the wildly cheering crowds which greeted President Eisenhower last December.

* * *

The major Khrushchev theme the last two days of his visit was that Western economic aid is designed to hold India in "imperialist, economic slavery."

Khrushchev said he was optimistic that India and Red China can settle their bitter dispute over about 50,000 square miles of border territory. Prime Minister Nehru has invited Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to New Delhi to discuss the dispute.

3 Oakland Ford Dealers 'Admit' Price Fixing

Three Oakland County Ford dealers yesterday were among 22 Detroit area dealers who in effect pleaded guilty to car price fixing through the Metropolitan Ford Dealers Assn.

The dealers and the association were charged with two counts of conspiracy. They were accused of conspiring to set uniform price lists for new cars substantially higher than the manufacturer's suggested retail price, and to establish a minimum gross profit of not less than $225 on each new Ford.

The local dealers indicted were Cy Owens, Inc., of Pontiac; Bud Truba Ford, Inc., of Berkley; and Harold Turner, Inc., of Birmingham.

The firms and the association changed their plea of innocent in U.S. District Court, Detroit, to that of nolo contendere ("I do not wish to contest.")

Fines on each count could be as high as $50,000 or a total of $2,300,000 for all of the defendants, said John Neville, attorney for the Justice Department's Antitrust Division.

Federal Judge Ralph Freeman stressed that the dealers were in effect pleading guilty to the charges.

And the attorney for the dealers, Philip Van Zile, said, "So that there will be no misunderstanding, the defendants are, in effect, pleading guilty to the indictment."

Adams Won't Join Road Suit

Tells Area Taxpayers Authority Rests With County, Bondholders

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams refused today to join a move by a group of Oakland County taxpayers to force completion of a planned extension of Northwestern Highway.

He notified the group's attorney Harry D. Wise Jr. of Pontiac, they were "not proper parties to complain of any failure to complete the project." That authority, he said, rests with the county, the bondholders and the state.

The taxpayer group last month asked the attorney general to start legal proceedings to compel performance of a contract between the county and the Highway Department.

The contract covered sale of a 25 million dollar bond issue in April 1957.

Adams said a study of the situation disclosed no breach of contract. A letter from the State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, he said, indicates that contracts for completion of the project from Eight Mile road, Detroit's northern border, to 14-Mile road, will be awarded late this year.

All money from bond proceeds have been restricted to the project, he added.

Adams also cited an earlier attorney general's opinion holding that minor changes in the project plans do not constitute a violation of the law or the contract.

What Can a Father Tell His Son About Cheats?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Everybody duck. I'm going to sermonize. Everything is Cheatsville now in this year of (how ironic to add) Our Lord. Corruption is fashionable. In some areas, "It's chic to cheat."

WILSON

Naturally, I don't mean you're guilty, and certainly I'm not—but Mercy me! All those other people . . .

How can a father lecture to his son today about honesty?

The boy knows all about disc-jockey payola and he's aware that top movie stars and writers have taken up foreign residence to avoid U.S. income taxes. They have herds of help. They don't lift a finger to get some chore performed. They have a servant lift it for them. It's chic.

Maybe the boy aspires to a business career. He quickly learns of payola deals, from an automobile up, not just in Tin Pan Alley, but in industry where the plucking is plentiful.

* * *

"It's square not to cheat," a woman was just lecturing to me, "not to cut corners."

How can anybody hop from a cab asking the driver to wait, then disappear into an apartment building, swindling the driver of $2? It happens many, many times a day. The blind newsdealer gets cheated, too, and the waiter gets "stiffed"—but not the headwaiter. Him you overtip. So you get a better table than you deserve.

(Not you . . . sorry . . . these other people.)

"What was so bad about the disc jockey payola and the quiz-show scandals?" chic people have asked me. "Nobody was hurt."

* * *

I claim somebody was hurt: millions of kids my boy's age who thought Charles Van Doren and their favorite disc jockeys were—to use that old-fashioned word—honest.

The common garden variety of cheating—a famous Boradway husband, out with his leading lady, cheating on his wife—is shrugged off nowadays, because in some layers of society it seems terribly unchic for husbands not to cheat. The things I don't write about that every night, would fill libraries, not to mention the divorce courts!

Have there ever been so many headlines about crookedness? I'm telling you again, it's chic. However, I just can't believe Sing Sing, or Atlanta Penitentiary, or Lewisburg, or Alcatraz, will ever really become fashionable.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Paul Anka, Tenafly, N.J.'s 18-yr-old, nine-gold-record singer, is now introducing his kid brother, Andy, Jr., 10, and nine little friends, on wax. The Eddie Fisher-Debbie Reynolds California decree is final Feb. 19 . . . Douglas Fairbanks will narrate his father's silent films on TV. . . . Drummer Buddy Rich, a recent heart attack victim, will work in London in March —against doctors' advice.

* * *

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A disc jockey received a threatening letter—it said, 'If you do not spin this record, we will send you some money!" (via Leonard Richland). . . . That's earl, brother.

Say France Planning Tactical-Size A-Blast

PARIS (UPI) — Informed sources say France is planning to follow up its first atomic test by exploding a tactical-size nuclear weapon within two months.

The reports of planned further nuclear testing came amid a growing outcry from African and other nations over the French Sahara atomic explosion last Saturday.

The Morrocan government highlighted the protest by ordering the recall of its ambassador to France.

In a parallel move, Morocco renounced the Franco-Morocean diplomatic accord of May 28, 1956, which had been signed at the time the former French protectorate won its independence. Under the accord, France and Morocco agreed to pursue a concerted foreign policy.

The Palais de la Defense in Paris is the world's largest exhibition hall. It would cover about 14 blocks of a metropolitan American city.

Williams Picks Press Adviser

Murray, Now Speech Writer, Will Replace Weber in $13,000 Job

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today named John Murray, his top speech writer, to replace Paul W. Weber as his press secretary.

Weber resigned last week after 11 years as the Governor's press aide. He will move March 15 into a newly created administrative post in the Civil Service Commission.

Murray, 42, became a special assistant and speech writer for the governor two years ago, shifting from an assignment as director of public relations for the Democratic State Central Committee. From 1950 to 1952 he was Director of Public Affairs for the Michigan Office of Civil Defense.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Murray was graduated from Ohio State University in 1941 and worked on the Columbus Dispatch before coming to Michigan as a reporter for the Detroit Free Press. The press secretary's job pays $13,000 a year.

Nikita Promised: Now Lithuanians Will Join Family

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has granted exit visas to Mrs. Barbara Armonas, 50, and her son Jonas, 20, of Lithuania, so they can be reunited with the rest of their family in the United States, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

The visas were granted as the result of personal intervention by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev who was approached by Mrs. Armonas' 24-year-old daughter, Donna, in the United States.

Donna, who lives in Wickliff, Ohio, with her father, John, told Khrushchev in Pittsburgh that she had been separated from her mother and brother 19 years ago when she and her father fled Lithuania during the war.

Previous efforts of her mother and brother to get Soviet permission to go to the United States had failed.

U.S. Starts Test of Oral Vaccine Against Polio

Dr. Harold Cox, who developed the cherry-flavored potion to supplant inoculations, praised the program's public opening in the Greater Miami area.

"Although one million people have taken the vaccine already," he said, "saving the life of one American will make more of an impression than saving the lives of a million Russians. That is why we think the Dade County program is so important." A similar type vaccine is being used in the Soviet Union.

Claims Hicks Wanted Parvin Lassiter Slain

DETROIT (AP)—One of three men on trial for first degree murder was quoted yesterday as saying he wanted to "do away" with Parvin Lassiter, a Royal Oak car dealer slain last April 6.

Mrs. Beverly Dawhirst, a registered nurse, testified in circuit court that Roy C. (Buck) Hicks made the statement to her and several other people in 1958. She said Hicks complained that Lassiter, of 19060 Beverly, Beverly Hills, owed him money.

Personal likes and dislikes of store managers can affect the sale of certain types of meat, reports the National Assn. of Retail Grocers. "Some retailers will not handle lamb or pork," the report says, "simply because they do not like it themselves."

Ike Makes Special Foreign Aid Plea

Pontiac Press Photo

'NO SUGAR PLEASE' — An attractive and smiling "second lady" of the nation, Mrs. Patricia Nixon receives her coffee from Mrs. George A. Dondero, wife of the former Oakland County congressman, at yesterday's tea and reception in Royal Oak. Her first cup contained cream but no sugar, her second was without either.

Urban Renewal Project Given Federal Okay

But City Must Prepare More Details by June 8 to Get Final Approval

The federal government has given tentative approval to final plans for an urban renewal project in Pontiac costing nearly $6,400,000 in gross expenditures.

At the same time, a federal official said the city would have to detail plans it has for downtown redevelopment before final approval of federal participation amounting to $2,562,519 or two-thirds of the estimated net cost of the project.

An official for the Housing and Home Finance Agency said the city now has the green light to hold public hearings on the renewal plan.

The $2,652,519 reserved for the program is $466,481 less than the city asked last fall, but about $800,000 more than originally proposed two years ago.

John P. McCollum, Chicago regional administrator of the HHFA, notified City Manager Walter K. Willman by letter yesterday that urban renewal officials had upped federal participation in the project.

DEADLINE JUNE 8

He said that a June 8 deadline had been set, in accordance with urban renewal procedures, for the city to report on its hearings and submit new data concerning downtown plans.

The city won't get any federal money until after that date. It is asking, first, for loans with which to begin property acquisition under an overall grant covering two-thirds of the net cost.

It's estimated that resale of acquired properties will put the net cost at $3,652,912, of which the city has to put up one-third.

Last fall, the city has asked for federal participation in a project with a gross cost of $6,728,982 and a net cost of $4,272,560.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator, began a series of conferences today with Willman, the city planning staff and the city's planning consultants to estimate how the federal cut would affect the project.

Shooting Victim in Court on Cot

Youth Pleads: 'I'm Guilty'

A 17-year-old youth today pleaded guilty to armed robbery in the brutal shooting of a 20-year-old youth, who now may be paralyzed for life.

Theodore A. Mendoza of Lake Orion changed his plea this morning shortly before the trial got under way.

Juvenile Court authorities had waived jurisdiction over the youth because of what they termed a "sadistic" attack on the bandit's victim, Frankie Dale Newton.

Newton was scheduled to be the first prosecution witness. He will give his description of being held up Nov. 30 while working as an attendant in a Highland Township gas station.

Under treatment at a Detroit rehabilitation center, Newton was brought to the Oakland County Courthouse this morning in a rescue unit by Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

He lay on a cot in the courthouse law library as the jury was being selected next door in Judge H. Russel Holland's courtroom.

The jury panel consists of 12 women and one man. Two persons will be dismissed before the jury starts deliberations on a verdict.

Mendoza a friend of Newton prior to the shooting, had stood mute to the robbery charges along with Carroll I. Lay, 17, of Lake Orion, and Victor L. Hood, 26, an ex-convict.

Says $4 Billion Asked in Budget Is Safeguard

Request Nearly Third Higher Than Last Year; House Resistance Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $4,175,000,000 in new foreign aid funds to safeguard the free world against the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

The mutual security program is essential to world progress in freedom, he said in a special message to Congress.

The sum, nearly a billion dollars more than Congress voted last year, would be split up in this way: Two billion dollars for weapons aid to Allies and $2,175,000,000 for economic and technical assistance.

In appealing to the legislators to avoid drastic cuts in the program, Eisenhower mentioned his 11-nation December goodwill tour to Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men everywhere look to us, not with envy or malice but with hope and confidence that we will in the future, as in the past, be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and in freedom," he said.

The amount of the request was set forth in Eisenhower's budget message last month. He regularly has followed this up with a special message to emphasize the request.

EARLY PLEA

His annual plea for a multi-billion-dollar foreign aid package comes earlier than usual. By advancing the date of his request, the administration hopes to win congressional approval of both authorization and appropriation before congressmen get too far bogged down in election-year politicking.

Despite Eisenhower's strong endorsement, foreign aid appears headed for rough treatment, especially in the House. Some key members of the House Appropriations Committee have served notice they are weary of approving foreign aid funds for 14 straight years.

More than half—$2,175,000,000—would be earmarked for economic and technical assistance projects in about 40 countries. Of this, 700 million dollars would go for low-interest development loans.

Two billion more would go for a continuation of weapons aid to allied nations. This represents a 400-million-dollar boost over last year's request for such funds—a move recommended by a White House foreign aid panel, mainly for Atlantic Pact countries. Congress cut 200 million from last year's military aid request.

Pat Nixon Stays Late at Tea

Lady in Red So Kind

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The lady in red—doing her bit to help move her husband into the White House—outdid the old axiom, "never underestimate the power of a woman." You can't overlook their perseverance either.

About 200 Republican women stayed past the hour when they're usually home preparing dinner for hubby in order to have their promised how-do-you-do with Patricia Ryan Nixon, wife of the vice president.

Mrs. Nixon, wearing an eye-catching red suit fit for any Easter fashion parade, insisted that the last of some 4,000 patient women not be disappointed.

She consulted with her husband's aide, Robert Haldenman, who in turn phoned the vice president's staff in Detroit, and then relaxed a tight schedule and stayed for 45 minutes to accommodate those who were still waiting to see her.

FEET ARE WEARY

One, Mrs. I. L. Gilbert of 890 Redding Rd., Birmingham, waited for three hours in one line or another and finally became the last in the official reception line to extend her hand to the still-smiling but foot-weary Mrs. Nixon.

After first meeting the 300 women who staged the afternoon reception and tea in Royal Oak's Kimball High School, Mrs. Nixon, with the exception of two "coffee breaks" and an auditorium appearance, stood in line greeting guests from 3:06 to 5:40.

With a radiant smile, the nation's "second lady" went out of her way to greet the future voters of the state. One woman, unable to get a babysitter, carried her child in her arms.

Mrs. Nixon laughed when a contingent of "Young Republicans" from Michigan State University

Sellout Audiences Hear Nonpolitical Nixon Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Nixon was back in Washington today after a grueling visit here yesterday in which he made three nonpolitical speeches and found time to greet some 3,000 Republican party workers in 12 hours.

His three speeches, delivered at closed meetings for which all tickets were sold out weeks in advance, covered virtually every phase of the Eisenhower administration's domestic and foreign policies. More than 6,500 heard him.

At all three meetings and a morning news conference, Nixon parried questions about his feelings on who the Democrats would nominate to run against him for the presidency. He said smiling that he has not got the Republican nomination yet and that he would let the Democrats make their own choice.

Nixon, asked by a newsman if he foresaw a mud-slinging election campaign, promised that he would not indulge in such tactics and he expressed doubt Democrats would do so. He also said religion would not be an issue in the campaign.

He described Michigan as a pivotal state in the November election, a state which could go either way and he promised he would devote special attention to it to try to insure that it would be in the Republican column.

Nixon's whirlwind visit to Detroit left Michigan Republicans with new hope today they would stage a comeback election battle for some long-sought major offices.

"A great shot in the arm," said GOP Chairman Lawrence Lindemer of Nixon's one-day speech-making tour of Detroit. "It was a big, big boost."

"Michigan Republicans started a comeback in 1958 and they have gained ground since then, so I expect the state will go Republi-

Hart Fights Branding State a Criminal Haven

WASHINGTON (AP) — A charge by Senate Rackets Committee Republicans that Michigan provided a haven for "criminal" employes of the United Auto Workers Union headed today for a vigorous Senate fight.

Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) called this a slander against his state. He moved to invoke Senate rules in an effort to block any such official declaration.

The allegation is contained in a separate report written by Republican members of the Rackets Committee accusing Robert F. Kennedy, the committee's Democratic former chief counsel, of refusing to investigate what they called "the clear pattern of crime and violence" in UAW strikes.

Kennedy retorted in a statement that the accusation was false and ridiculous. He counter charged that his accusers were "blinded by an across-the-board hatred of organized labor which fails to differentiate between corrupt and honest union officials." He said the committee did its job impartially and its record needs no apology.

The committee's Republican and Democratic members are writing rival reports on what was shown in its investigations of the union and various of its officials. The Democrats said they would keep their version secret until it is filed with the Senate.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) called a news conference yesterday, however, and released the text of the proposed Republican version, which he said still is subject to minor revision before it is filed with the Senate.

As he made it public, it alleged investigation of the UAW's strikes against the Kohler plumbing fixtures plant in Wisconsin and the Perfect Circle Corp. in Indiana and showed the union follows a pattern of violence and criminal conduct in labor disputes.

There was no immediate comment from Walter Reuther, who heads the UAW. Hart took issue with a section of the report charging "establishment through political subordination of a 'privileged sanctuary' in the State of Michigan for the protection of criminals against extradition and punishment."

"There are at least two instances in the testimony . . . which demonstrated that the political influence of Walter Reuther and the UAW in the State of Michigan is so dominant that criminals who had invaded the territory of adjacent states and then returned to Michigan found a haven from which they could not be extradited for trial and punishment," the report went on.

"Reasonable people must conclude that the legal and political processes of the State of Michigan no longer are controlled by its citizens but rather are being used as instruments for the personal prestige and power of the UAW and is president."

Stab at Spring to Hit 40, Then Be Frozen Out

Temperatures were expected to reach a high of 38 today and 40 Wednesday, but tomorrow night will find the mercury dropping with a chance of snow flurries by evening.

Tonight's low will be near 30 degrees.

Southwesterly morning winds at 14 miles an hour will continue from the southwest at 12 - 18 miles today and diminish somewhat tonight shifting to northerly late Wednesday.

Charter Action Slated Tonight

Commissioners Expected to Decide if Issue Will Be on April Ballot

City commissioners are scheduled to act tonight on two proposed charter amendments for the April 18 ballot. Both would affect the Police Department.

★ ★ ★

One would eliminate the Department of Public Safety and place the police and fire departments directly under the city manager.

The other would modernize the Police Trial Board and, at the same time, remove the police chief from its jurisdiction.

If adopted, this latter provision would give City Manager Walter K. Willman the power to fire Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, if he chooses to, without a hearing like the one last year before the Civil Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

The second provision would also re-establish the trial board setup in case the existing board is declared illegal as a result of litigation that is before Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce recommended both changes "to establish clear cut administrative authority." The Pontiac Police Officers Assn. has supported the changes, as has George D. Eastman, retiring public safety director.

Gems, Furs Said Stolen From Wife of GM Executive

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Abigail Skinner, wife of a General Motors vice president, reported to police last night that someone stole more than $18,500 worth of jewels and furs from her hotel room while she and her husband attended a banquet for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Police said the Skinners were at the Masonic Temple where Nixon was speaking when the thief burglarized their Park Shelton hotel suite.

Sherrod E. Skinner, 63, has supervision over all the General Motors activities in Pontiac. He said the thief took a box of jewels and two mink stoles from their suite.

2 More Enter Race for City Commission

As the deadline drew near, two more candidates entered the City Commission race, bringing the number of contenders to 21.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said that potential candidates could file nominating petitions until 5 p.m. today.

Latest to file were two newcomers to politics, Theodore F. Figa in District 4 and William H. Taylor Jr. in District 3.

Taylor, 44, of 247 Ottawa Dr., is opposing incumbent William W. Donaldson, former Pontiac mayor who so far is the only other District 3 candidate.

Assistant advertising director for the Pontiac Motor Division, Taylor has lived in Pontiac most of his life. He has worked for the General Motors Corp. 24 years, with Pontiac Motor the last 15.

Figa, 32, of 34 W. Kennett Rd., is the fifth candidate to file in District 4. Among the five is incumbent Floyd P. Miles.

★ ★ ★

Figa is part-owner and operator of a family grocery store at 239 Fisher St. He also has a financial interest in a tavern at 88 Bagley St.

BUNGLING CHARGED

He charged that the present City Commission has "bungled" the Police Department situation, bringing "ridicule and havoc" upon Pontiac. But Figa emphasized that he is not taking sides in the internal quarrels that have plagued the department.

Figa said his campaign will be concerned mainly with public improvements and their financing. He complained that some areas in District 4 have been "shortchanged" on improvements such as sewers and roads.

"I realize the injustices that have befallen the district," he said. "My platform will be for more understanding of the economic conditions of the majority of the people before the undertaking of public improvements with special assessments and tax increase proposals."

Mrs. Nixon Charms Ladies at Reception

Her graciousness and sympathy was evident when she learned at 5, when she was supposed to be heading back to Detroit to join the vice president, that there was still an auditorium packed with women waiting to meet her.

'I WON'T LEAVE'

She moved onto the auditorium stage to assure them "I'm not going to leave until all of you go through the line."

She thanked them, in her only speech during the Nixons' one-day stay in Detroit, for their "wonderful, warm-hearted welcome."

Recalling the four years she taught high school, the vivacious native Californian got an extra thrill when Mrs. Betty Ellis' "Government in Action" class presented her with a hand-sewn shield.

It contained 50 white elephants and 13 alternating red and white stripes, resembling the flag.

Although this was an afternoon for the ladies, some men penetrated their ranks to get a look at the lady they'd heard so much about.

"It takes a lot of nerve to come to a tea," said William F. Kalwitz of Pontiac, "but I did want to meet the charming lady."

Extensive safeguards, even to the point of having the state police fire marshal be on hand in case of any bomb scares, were taken throughout Mrs. Nixon's 3 hour and 15 minute stay in Royal Oak.

A Secret Service man surveyed the lineup of women as they neared Mrs. Nixon, who was flanked always by the wife of one or another Republican state official.

When Mrs. Nixon's police driven automobile drove up to the side of the school promptly at 2:30 Royal Oak Mayor William Hayward and Mrs. Hayward were on hand to greet Mrs. Nixon.

"Well, here I am," she said stepping out into the cold.

★ ★ ★

Most of the women who greeted Mrs. Nixon couldn't remember seconds later what — if anything — they had said to her.

"I couldn't tell you," said Mrs. Arthur G. Elliott Jr., wife of the county chairman.

One teen-ager said to her equally young friend "Isn't she darling?" as they scurried through the line.

But John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the Republican Committee of Oakland County, looked at the unexpected large turnout a different way.

"If we could put all these people to work we'd be in business," he said.

Prosecutor Fires Questions Fast

Carole Weeps on Stand

The 23-year-old ex-model was being cross-examined about the night Finch's wife was shot to death, Carole testified she and the doctor tried to talk to his wife about a divorce. Mrs. Finch refused, said Carole.

★ ★ ★

"What happened next?"

"The next thing that happened, she had a gun."

★ ★ ★

"How long after she said she didn't want to talk to you was it before you saw this gun?"

Tears came to Carole's eyes.

"Just in time for her to turn around, take the gun out of the car and turn around," she replied.

Then Miss Tregoff cried.

The state has charged she and Dr. Finch plotted to kill the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, so they could marry without losing part of the doctor's wealth in a divorce court.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Robert A. Neeb Jr. asked Miss Tregoff: "Did you, on or about July 18, 1959, kill Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch?"

Neeb asked her only eleven questions, quizzing her about the main part of the state's case against her: that she and the doctor tried to hire an underworld character to kill Mrs. Finch, and, when this failed, they went from Las Vegas, Nev., where she was staying, to the Finch home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, to kill the woman.

★ ★ ★

Carole denied all the state's allegations.

Then, for more than an hour Carole faced Crail's cross-examination. He fired his questions so fast defense attorneys complained the witness wasn't being given a chance to complete some answers.

Waterford Board OKs Two New Subdivisions

The Waterford Township Board last night approved plans for two real estate developments, involving approximately 140 new homes to be built in the township.

Pontiac contractor John F. Walser and realtor Louis Borst said they will begin a new 44-home development on Elizabeth Lake road near Cass Lake road.

The homes will be in the $20,000 and up bracket with single, bi-level and tri-level houses being featured. All of the lots are bordering Otter Lake and will be included in what is to be the Beverly Island Subdivision.

After considerable discussion concerning an Oakland County Road Commission-approved bridge in the Holiday Farms Subdivision 4, the Township Board approved a plat of 89 lots, for developer A. L. Karabelnick.

Ranging in the $14,000 to $15,000 bracket, the new subdivision is located on M59 between Airport and Crescent Lake roads, and is a continuation of a 280-home development project.

Although township engineers Johnson & Anderson had been scheduled to present recommendations on two street blacktopping projects the board was informed that the reports were not complete on the bids which had been opened last week.

The project involves approximately 2 blocks of pavement on Meigs street and two on LaSalle. Eight bids from four companies had been submitted, with the Ann Arbor Construction company the low bidder for both streets.

A Waterford Township businessman, Frank Soda of 2701 Elizabeth Lake road, was present to protest the issuance of what he felt were too many package store liquor licenses by the township board.

Soda said that if the board turned down a request, the state liquor control commission would go along with the board's decision. He added that there are too many liquor stores in the Elizabeth Lake road area, and that more were "mushrooming all over the place." The board has approved five liquor licenses within the last few months.

★ ★ ★

Board members said that the Liquor Control Comission investigates every application and that board action is merely a formality. They said that it would not be right to discriminate in allowing one individual a liquor license and not another.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson added, "Our policy is to let the application for a liquor license be tabled for one week." Soda said that it took him ten years to have his liquor license approved and he just wanted to protect his investment.

Changes His Plea; Says He's Guilty

George F. Taylor said Mendoza has gone on record as being willing to testify against the other two defendants.

Newton has already pointed out Hood, a convicted robber, as the man who pumped a .32 caliber bullet into his back after Hood forced him to kneel in the station washroom.

★ ★ ★ ★

Lay, attired in a gray flannel suit and wearing a tie, sat nervously beside his attorney while the jury was being selected. Hood wore an open collar sport shirt and appeared composed.

Mendoza's bond was continued at $5,000 by Judge Holland. Sentencing will be imposed later, the judge said.

Mendoza pleaded guilty to shooting a hen pheasant out of season Monday before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

He had been arrested earlier by conservation officers who signed the complaint against him.

Stanaback sentenced him to pay a $50 fine plus $10 costs or serve 30 days in the Oakland County Jail. He paid the fine and costs.

An attorney for the state AFL-CIO braved a barrage of anti-Democratic questions last night in Birmingham and stood up to his contention that the push for a constitutional convention was a Republican "hoax."

William Mazey, Detroit attorney whose brother Emil is secretary treasurer of the UAW, received most of the questions following his debate on the con-con issue with Donald A. Brown, 1958 GOP lieutenant governor candidate.

Brown, who recently resigned as an assistant prosecutor to return to his private law practice, said "never has the need and public demand been so great" for calling a convention.

Mazey on the other hand said the state doesn't need a convention because he didn't "see any faults" in the present 1908 Constitution.

The pro-and-con debate became somewhat heated when Brown backed the Republican Senate saying it was doing a "good job" for the state.

This prompted Edward J. Vandertaan, Democratic candidate for Congress, who also braved the GOP stronghold of about 50 Oakland County Young Republicans, to question Brown on why, then, did schools lack money.

Mazey insisted that Republicans were "hoodwinking" citizens by wanting a convention called to raise the sales tax and highway diversion tax funds.

Pontiac Central Debaters Qualify for Quarter-Finals

The Pontiac Central High School debate team has qualified for state quarter-finals competition scheduled for the end of this month. The school earned a district victory over the weekend at Pinconning.

Also participating were teams from Saginaw, Bay City, Alpena, Mount Pleasant, St. Louis and Pinconning.

State Senator Wants to Modernize Flag

LANSING (AP) — Can you describe Michigan's state flag?

Could you recognize it in a group of flags?

If you answer "no" both times, Sen. Harold M. Ryan thinks you're in the majority of Michigan citizens. He wants to change the flag to make it easily recognizable.

The Detroit Democrat authored a bill to embiazon a white silhouette of Michigan's contour across the blue field of the present flag. The state coat of arms — deer, elk, motto and all—would remain set against the white background.

Bicycle riders would have become subject to California's drunk driving laws under a proposal submitted to the state legislature in 1959. It didn't pass.

Call Him Slim; Dick Nixon Lost 15 Pounds in '59

DETROIT (AP)—Detroiters saw a slenderized Vice President Nixon yesterday. He was 15 pounds lighter than during his last appearance in Michigan nearly 17 months ago.

His wife, Pat, told newsmen, he lost about 15 pounds early in 1959 after "he picked up a bug of some sort" during an African tour. His health is fine, Mrs. Nixon said. It's just that he never regained those 15 pounds.

She said he now weighs about 170 pounds. When he spoke at a Republican fund-raising dinner at Flint in October 1958, he weighed 185, she said.

Raps Air 'Propaganda'

Adams Won't Join Road Suit

Tells Area Taxpayers Authority Rests With County, Bondholders

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams refused today to join a move by a group of Oakland County taxpayers to force completion of a planned extension of Northwestern Highway.

He notified the group's attorney, Harry D. Wise Jr. of Pontiac, they were "not proper parties to complain of any failure to complete the project." That authority, he said, rests with the county, the bondholders and the state.

The taxpayer group last month asked the attorney general to start legal proceedings to compel performance of a contract between the county and the Highway Department.

The contract covered sale of a 25 million dollar bond issue in April 1957.

Adams said a study of the situation disclosed no breach of contract. A letter from the State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, he said, indicates that contracts for completion of the project from Eight Mile road, Detroit's northern border, to 14-Mile road, will be awarded late this year.

★ ★ ★

All money from bond proceeds have been restricted to the project, he added.

Adams also cited an earlier attorney general's opinion holding that minor changes in the project plans do not constitute a violation of the law or the contract.

Commission to Hold Zoning Hearing

A public hearing is scheduled tonight on a bid by Webb Fuel Co., 351 S. Paddock St., for a zoning change permitting the company to store fuel oil on its grounds.

The hearing will be before the City Commission, which meets tonight at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

The company wants its zoning changed from commercial to manufacturing.

It has offered to create a 120 foot buffer strip for the convenience of householders to the south.

The Planning Commission has already approved the zoning change and the buffer plan.

can in 1960 if we all work hard at it together," Nixon said.

He paid special tribute to Paul Bagwell, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1958 and termed him one of the new, young, vigorous leaders of the party.

Nixon said, however, that he would not support Bagwell or any other Republican candidate in the party's primary election in August. He said choosing of candidates should be done by the state's Republicans without outside interference.

ITINERARY

Nixon started his day with a news conference and followed with speeches at meetings sponsored by the alumnae of seven eastern colleges, the Economic Club of Detroit and Wayne State University. His wife, Pat, was with him most of the day, but struck out on her own in the afternoon for a reception by 4,000 Oakland County Republican women in Royal Oak.

The vice president's noontime audience at the Economic Club included Henry Ford II; L. L. auto company executives. These included eery Ford II; L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler; and C. H. Goad and C. E Skinner, vice presidents of General Motors.

The evening audience included Leonard H. Woodcock, vice president of the United Auto Workers and chairman of the board of governors of Wayne State University, site of the meeting. Many other Wayne officials attended.

Nixon, answering a Wayne student's questions about the effects of the recent steel strike settlement, pointed to Woodcock on the dias near him and said, "There is a man who knows the ins and outs of collective bargaining much better than I do."

★ ★ ★

The favorite question asked Nixon at the various meetings dealt with United States relations with Russia and whether there was any hope of easing the Cold War.

★ ★ ★

Nixon replied that the United States can win what Soviet Premier Khrushchev called a horse race between communism and democracy if "we stay on our horse and don't try to get on his."

Organ Recital at Pontiac State This Evening

Patients of the Pontiac State Hospital will hear an organ recital at 7:15 tonight in the chapel auditorium on the hospital grounds.

The organ was donated to the hospital by Mrs. Jean Green of 645 Arlington St., Birmingham, as a Christmas present. "The cost of the organ is estimated at $2,500, but the value in patient pleasure and appreciation is immeasurable," said Ted Panaretos, community relations director at the hospital.

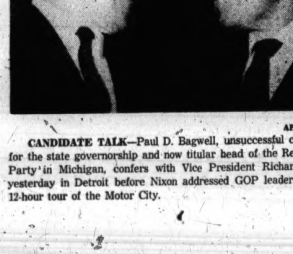

★ ★ ★

Miss Dorothy Roe, director of the recreational therapy department, said a mixed chorus of patients will sing under the direction of music therapist Mrs. Ruth Vancil.

Six musicians from the area will perform the organ recital.

Gets Oklahoma Backing

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma Republicans laid 22 votes on the line behind Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the party's convention Monday. A resolution binding the state's 22 delegates was passed unanimously.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Transmission Mains Approved by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Residents in the northern section of the city can expect water relief by late summer with the approval last night by the City Commission of construction of additional transmission mains into the area.

★ ★ ★

An earlier deadline had been hoped for by the city engineer's office, but the project was delayed when commissioners requested additional information after the plan was originally submitted in early January.

The $256,000 project will be constructed with money already available in the city water fund, City Manager L. R. Gare told the Commission.

The project includes construction of two transmission mains, one on the west side of the city, the other on the east.

★ ★ ★

It is expected that the more critical area in the northwest will get relief first. The water system will follow the route, Southfield to Northlawn to Pleasant.

On the east, the main will be placed along Eton to Hazel to Columbia.

★ ★ ★

Both mains will connect with the water main along 14 Mile road belonging to the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority and continue north to Maple avenue.

The City Commission last approved condemnation proceedings, if necessary, for the proposed construction of a parking area at the rear of the Reid Building.

The action gave the city attorney power to conduct the necessary proceedings if the city is unable to negotiate for the property involved.

"It hoped that the bulk of the property needed for off-street parking can be acquired by negotiation, but it is entirely possible that the city may have to resort to condemnation for some of the property," City Manager Gare said.

The parking lot, in the vicinity of North Woodward avenue and Park street, would provide spaces for approximately 155 cars.

The Beverly-Bingham-Franklin Republican Women's Club, member of the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs, adopted its constitution at a recent meeting with Mrs. Philip B. Detwiler of Riverwood drive, Franklin.

The Birmingham Newcomers will hear Mrs. R. H. Schoonover review "The Watch That Ends the Night," by Hugh MacLennan, at a luncheon Thursday at the Community House.

Mrs. Schoonover of Huntington Woods has served as educational director and book reviewer for Pi Omicron and has reviewed books for the Federated Women's Club for a number of years.

★ ★ ★

Magic and a snake exhibit will be featured at the annual fair sponsored by the Pierce Elementary School PTA to be held Friday from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Merris the Magician will present three one-hour shows beginning at 5, 6:30 and 8 p.m. Paul Allen Sr. will give a demonstration and narration on reptiles using live snakes.

★ ★ ★

Fiery Object Over Alaska a Puzzle

Was it a jet plane? If so, whose? Was it an unidentified flying object?

★ ★ ★

The flame-belching object was reported by several persons from Nome to St. Michael about 150 miles away. They said it appeared from the direction of Siberia and hurtled southeasterly.

★ ★ ★

The reports were conflicting, said Major Roy E. Haines, public information officer at Elmendorf Air Force Base.

"Some had it low and slow. Some had it high and fast," he said.

A spokesman for the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs said the agency had no report on the object.

★ ★ ★

"If it were an 'unknown,' we certainly would have a report on it."

Claims Hicks Wanted Parvin Lassiter Slain

DETROIT (AP)—One of three men on trial for first degree murder was quoted yesterday as saying he wanted to "do away" with Parvin Lassiter, a Royal Oak car dealer slain last April 6.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Beverly Dawhirst, a registered nurse, testified in circuit court that Roy C. (Buck) Hicks made the statement to her and several other people in 1958. She said Hicks complained that Lassiter, of 19060 Beverly, Beverly Hills, owed him money.

Michigan Tech Claims Nation's Biggest Icicle

HOUGHTON (AP)—The Michigan College of Mining and Technology today laid claim to the biggest icicle in the United States. It is 60 feet long.

Tufts College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology started the icicle-building craze a week or so ago with icicles 30 and 55 feet long.

News stories of the Eastern icicles gave the 850 residents of Michigan Tech's Wadsworth Hall an idea for Winter Carnival Week which ended Sunday. Other icicle builders had slowly poured on water to build them.

But many of Wadsworth Hall's residents are studying engineering or geology. So they rigged up a hose that drip-dropped just the right amount of water, depending on the temperature, atop their dormitory.

Physicians and Queen Await Baby

★ ★ ★

It has been a week since the doctors visited the 33-year-old Queen at Buckingham Palace.

Since then she has taken a daily walk with her dogs through the wintry palace gardens, signed state papers and dealt with personal mail.

★ ★ ★

"The Queen is extremely well and leading a normal but quiet life," a palace spokesman reported Monday night.

★ ★ ★

Her physicians — Lord Evans, Sir John Weir, John H. Peel and Vernon Hall — have been on a standby alert since Monday.

A crowd of several hundred patiently waited all day outside the palace gates. They cheered a wine merchant's truck as it delivered 19 magnums of champagne which Prince Philip will distribute among the palace staff to celebrate the new arrival.

Dislike Two-Term Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A poll of political science professors shows they voted 53 to 8 in favor of repealing the constitutional amendment limiting the President's tenure to two terms. The Senate subcommittee on constitutional amendments has approved a measure for repeal of the 22nd Amendment.

3 Years Probation for Bad-Check Mom

Mrs. Betty Lou Zograph, who admitted passing bad checks so her children could have "one decent Christmas" was placed on probation for three years yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

The 26-year-old mother of five, a resident of Center Line, was arrested last Dec. 21 in a motel room crowded with her children and $500 worth of toys and clothes. She admitted cashing 23 checks totaling about $700.

Mrs. Zograph, who is separated from her husband, said she is expecting another child in May.

Children's Association to Meet in Waterford

The Association for Handicapped Children, Inc., of Oakland County will meet 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Waterford Township Community Building.

A special program on speech instruction will be presented by the office of Dr. Gerald Freeman of the Oakland County Board of Education.

South Mops Up After Crippling Snowstorm

By The Associated Press

Wet weather, with snow and rain, spread across the lower Mississippi Valley and lower Ohio Valley today as cleanup operations continued in snow-stricken areas in the East and South.

A snowstorm which swept across sections of the southern plains spread into Arkansas and hit areas in southern Illinois, parts of Kentucky and Tennessee. The storm, which left a covering of nine inches on parts of Oklahoma, was expected to dump from two to four inches in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Southeast Kentucky was hard hit by the weekend snowstorm which raked wide areas in the South and East. Mountain areas were blanketed with heavy snow and most schools in eastern Kentucky remained closed.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

XXXII

"Madam Janeway's borrowed money from my bank," he said. "When folks owe me money, I calc'late to git it back," he said viciously, y'Bein' her lawyer, ye know haow much Madam's borrowed off of me."

I neither admitted nor denied.

"It's $100,000," he said. "Equal to the capital of my bank."

"You were pretty eager to lend it," I said. "You fawned on her like a hungry puppy. You've got your security."

"Yeah. That I got, and Dan'l Drew's name on her notes. But it's made me dangerous short of cash. And she don't make no payments on account. Money's terrible hard to git jest to carry on business. And if anything was to happen — if fur some reason she didn't pay up, I'd be bankrupt."

"But," I said, "you've got your security."

LIKE A WEASEL

He looked at me like a weasel blinking out of its burrow. "I got an envelope," he said, "all wound round with tape 'n' sealed tight with sealin' wax. And listed outside is the stocks and bonds that's inside. And Dan'l Drew's name's there. I wake up in the night 'n' ask myself is: What if they hain't there? What if the's skulduggery?"

"Why don't you open the package and see?"

"I dassen't make no enemy of Dan'l Drew or his woman."

"Then what," I asked, "do you propose?"

"I kind of contrived to come see you," he said in a sort of whimper. "To see if I couldn't git you to make her pay me back maybe at least 25 or 50 thousand. That would keep me agoin'." He turned his head slowly. "Oh, not fur nothin'. I calc'late to pay ye well."

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Willis," I said, "I want no truck with you whatever."

He glared at me like a cornered rat.

"Then mebby," he said, "you 'n' her'll regret it to the last days of your lives. I'm capable of makin' mischief, I be, and willin' to do so."

★ ★ ★

I strode past him and jerked the door open. A man stood there in the hallway, and his position indicated that his ear had been pressed against the panel of my door. He straightened with a jerk and presented the gaunt face and hollowed eyes of Oscar, Madam Janeway's butler. He stood aside for Jethro Willis to pass and then turned and looked after him until he disappeared down the stairway.

"What," I demanded, "are you doing here?"

"A message from Madam Janeway," he said. "A matter she forgot this morning."

He held out to me a sealed, perfumed envelope.

"Were you also," I asked, "required to apply your ear to my door?"

"There was no need," he said. "Your voices were loud."

With that, he turned on his heel and walked away.

The message was of no importance. It merely informed me of incidental details of the carting of George Hull's crate of machinery from the city of Chicago eastward and of the breaking down of the wagon that carried it.

COULDN'T EAT

Perhaps my obligation as Madam's attorney was to acquaint her with what had passed between Jethro Willis and me. But I was sure it was information she would have from Oscar.

I had slight appetite for supper. I could not even bring myself to cross our yards to Lossie's house and share my fears with her. I thought I would be unable to sleep, but I did drop off fitfully, to awaken at an unpleasantly early hour.

I waited for breakfast time, and then walked reluctantly to my office. I unlocked and opened my door, and then stopped dead still just over the threshold. The shock had almost a physical impact. For the massive door of my safe stood open, exposing its empty interior!

During the night, an intruder —no doubt it was Oscar—had invaded my office and opened the safe with the intention either to deposit more cash in it or to remove the sum approaching a million dollars that had been secreted there. And discovered that it had vanished.

I heard heavy feet pounding the floor of the hallway and my door was kicked open violently. Oscar stood there, bending forward from the waist and flexing his strong fingers. "Where is it?" he demanded and took a step toward me.

★ ★ ★

Oscar stood midway between my desk and the door. At his right was the safe with its open door and bare interior. His arms were extraordinarily long and the hands that hung from bony wrists were larger than a man's hands should be, with fingers tense and bent like talcons. It was clear to me that he had trepassed upon my office the night before.

"Where," I countered, "is what?"

"Don't dilly-dally," he said. "The safe is open and its contents gone. Nobody could have rifled it but you."

"Rifled it of what?" I asked, wasting time and postponing the moment of action. "How did I open the door? Madam Janeway never gave me the combination."

"Don't hoggle-boggle with me," Oscar said harshly. "Where is that money? Tell me before I choke it out of you!"

I had to put on a bold front; mainly, I suppose to hold fast to my self-respect. I sneered at him. "Haven't you done enough throttling?" I asked. "Your score is two. It would be dangerous to make it three."

His wide slash of a mouth became a lipless line, but he did not take another step toward me.

Step Up Fight on 'Sky Sewage,' Urges Heustis

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis Monday called for better application of know-how in keeping what he called "sewage in the skies"—smoke, dust and smog—from "blanketing our communities."

Speaking at a meeting of industrial ventilation engineers, Heustis said air pollution makes chest and lung diseases worse, damages homes and sometimes takes paint off cars.

A bill now pending in the legislature would authorize the health department to expand the air pollution fight.

5-Year Sentence Given to Spears

Airliner Crash Suspect Slapped With Heaviest Term for Car Theft

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Robert Vernon Spears, the heavily insured Dallas naturopath found alive two months after his reported death in the crash of an airliner, Monday was sentenced to the maximum of five years in federal prison for interstate auto theft.

Spears, 65, was picked up in Phoenix Jan. 20 by FBI agents and questioned for several days in connection with the mysterious crash of a National airliner Nov. 16 in the Gulf of Mexico.

U. S. District Judge Dave Ling handed Spears the maximum sentence on the federal charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle. Spears also faces trial in Los Angeles on abortion charges.

CONTINUE CRASH PROBE

The government's chief concern with Spears is whether he caused the crash of the airliner in which 42 persons were killed.

The FBI today said the investigation into the crash would continue. But agent-in-charge Ed Boyle would not disclose whether Spears would face further questioning.

He had been listed as one of the passengers killed in the airliner crash.

DuPont Profit Rises to $8.92 Per Share

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The DuPont Co. Monday reported 1959 profit climbed to the equivalent of $8.92 a share from $7.25 a share in 1958.

Last year's earnings were the second highest in DuPont history. In 1953, the company's net income equaled $9.26 a share including $2.75 from General Motors Corp. dividends.

The 1959 profit included $2.54 a share from GM dividends. In 1958, the company earned $4.71 from operations and $2.54 from GM dividends.

★ ★ ★

Three Holly Incumbents Defeated in Heavy Vote

A heavy turnout of voters in yesterday's major primary elections in the area defeated three incumbents at Holly and temporarily blocked a $300,000 sewer bond issue at Romeo.

Victory in Holly's primary amounts to election for sticker candidate Aram Krikorian, who defeated the incumbent Village President Paul O. Cohee, 318 to 150. Cohee has held the post for four one-year terms and served on the Village Council a total of six years.

Treasurer Harry J. Summers was the second incumbent to lose. His sole opponent, Mrs. Hula H. Anderson won 331 to 166. Summers has served for two one-year terms.

Third incumbent to lose was Trustee Lloyd R. Oakes who garnered only 126 votes. Winning the three trustee posts were incumbent John Van Deusen, with 376 votes, Allen C. Kerton, 357, and Leo C. Oberheim, 343.

The third incumbent Trustee Court Hall did not seek re-election.

Village Clerk George J. Patterson and Assessor J. Lee Montgomery were unopposed in the primary. Patterson received 420 votes and Montgomery 395.

"Because candidates are all members of the one local party, yesterday's primary is decisive and the election in March just a formality," according to Clerk Patterson. However losers can appear on the spring ballot as sticker candidates.

ROMEO REJECTS BONDS

Voters at Romeo refused to give the Village Council authority to borrow $300,000 through general obligation bonds for additions and improvements to the town's sewage treatment plant.

In spite of orders by the State Health Department that the sewer work must be done, voters turned the issue down by a decisive 394 to 152.

"Now we will have to face the judge in circuit court at Mount Clemens, and he certainly will back up the state," said Village Clerk Sidney J. White today.

Accompanying the sewage bond issue to defeat were its supporters, Village President Joseph C. Rymill and Council members David E. Pettibone and Fred C. Hebert.

Wayne N. Black defeated Rymill 392 to 338. Winning candidates for the three two-year Council posts were Jack McFadden, 382 votes, Tony Galan, 486, and incumbent Donald Payne, 309 votes.

Unopposed in the primary, Assessor Elgin Anger Sr., Treasurer Mrs. Elaine M. Hosner and Clerk Sidney J. White garnered 590, 620, and 604 votes respectively.

Two unopposed candidates for library director posts, H. Dale Palmer and Mrs. Helen Stone, were also elected.

DROP 2 AT MILFORD

Candidates for two three-year terms on the Milford Village Council were boiled down to four in yesterday's voting.

Both incumbents, Herschel L. Krebs and Ralph W. Wiese will appear on the March 14 ballot, along with Edward A. Nealer and Clarence Johnson.

Eliminated were Frank Fox and Tilden E. Sievers.

LAKE ORION DECISIVE

As a result of Lake Orion's one-party primary, only the names of incumbent Trustee Hugh Galloway, Thomas A. Arthur and Dr. Richard A. MCNeil will appear on the spring ballot for three trustee posts.

Galloway received 105 votes, Arthur, 92, and McNeil, 124. Eliminated were Mrs. Clarence Braid, 80 votes, and E. Russel Gilmore with 89 votes.

All unopposed at this time were Village President William Shoup, 149 votes; Clerk Mary Parkinson, 168; Treasurer Geraldine Campbell, 153; and Assessor Geraldine Storey, 154 votes.

WIN TROY PRIMARY

John C. Czarpowski received 644, and Robert J. Bargert, 628 votes. Eliminated were Thomas Stamps, 146, and Thomas D. Bennett, 173.

The general election will be held April 4.

Vote Today in Wixom and Lathrup

City Council members at Lathrup Village are seeking voter approval of borrowing $790,000 through general bonds to improve the community's storm sewer system.

Plans call for a series of catch basins, tied in with existing drain ditches, to deposit into the Rouge River, additions to the present system and connection with the Evergreen Interceptor.

If the measure is approved at the polls today, the average homeowner will be taxed an additional $42 a year for the next 30 years, according to City Clerk Frank C. Derby.

Lathrup Village has 1,900 registered voters.

TEN VIE AT WIXOM

Ten candidates are vying for four council posts in Wixom's primary election today.

Three of the Council openings are for four-year terms. The other is for two years.

Candidates for these posts are Gerald Abrams and Gunnat Mettala, both incumbents; Fred Beamish, Orlando Smith, Oscar Simmons, Albert Sereno and William Allred.

Running for the two-year term are Elino Piilo, Howard Cole and Robert Hughes. Two will be named for the spring ballot.

* * *

One of the three-year terms and the one-year term were created by resignations.

Donald Brooks and Stanley Balon, both named to fill the unexpired council terms till April, will seek election as mayor in April.

Southfield City Council to Discuss Expressways

SOUTHFIELD—A special meeting of the City Council here will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall to discuss expressways in South Oakland County.

Officials of the affected communities in the area will be invited as well as members of the State Highway Department, City Administrator Robert J. McNutt said today.

CELEBRATE 50 YEARS — Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson of 1214 N. Main St., Rochester, were feted Sunday on their golden wedding anniversary with a dinner attended by family and friends. Long active in Rochester politics, Dr. Wilson has served two terms as village president and has also been a member of the Council, a justice of the peace and a member of the Township Board of Review. Mrs. Wilson is a DAR member, past matron of the Order of Eastern Star and an active volunteer at the Oakland County Infirmary and Pontiac General Hospital. They have three sons, a daughter and eight grandchildren.

Nixon Places His Name in Wisconsin Primary

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will enter the Wisconsin presidential preference primary April 5, Harvey V. Higley of Marinette announced today.

Nixon wrote a letter to Higley, chairman of the Wisconsin Committee for Nixon for President. The vice president visited the state a week ago.

Think You Have a Hair Problem?

All Dolled Up at the Beauty Shop

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Because of a new, scientific discovery that closely resembles real hair, many area beauty shops are now turning out a different kind of "beautiful doll."

Soft, silky "hair" on the latest dolls for little girls is apt to become a stringy mass of wool-like texture after a few washings by fastidious young "mothers," explained Milford beauty operators Charlotte Vradenburg and Ann Goodrum.

For a live doll—young or old—it takes only a couple of hours to have the very latest hair style set and ready to go, for about a dollar and a half.

However, when a toy doll is brought in with its hair sticking straight out in all directions, it takes about three days to wash, dry and set—even longer if the hair needs a permanent wave or has to be dyed. The cost? $5 and up.

First the hair is washed, next an oil treatment is followed by a cream rinse. The doll is then hung upside down to drip-dry and this is the main reason that it takes so long to "do" a doll, Mrs. Vradenburg said.

After a thorough brushing, gooey hair-set is applied (just like mama's) then the pin curls are snapped in and much later comes the comb-out for styling.

* * *

Whatever the style, girls are swarming to beauty shops at a much earlier age than before—toting their "babies." And many times they have a much bigger beauty problem than their own mothers do.

Seaway to Bring In Plant Pests

LANSING (UPI)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, as well as bringing economic advantages, may bring trouble for Michigan farmers, officials of the Department of Agriculture cautioned today.

The best way to be sure the trouble is kept at the lowest possible point, is to beef up protective groups with more manpower.

"The St. Lawrence Seaway creates a completely new and complex source for introduction of new plant pests and diseases," Gov. G. Mennen Williams said in budget recommendations for the 1960-61 fiscal year.

"We don't have the buffer area against foreign diseases we used to have," said Dale Ball, deputy director of the agriculture department.

Ball said plant and animal diseases, most of which are brought from foreign countries, have a better avenue for introduction into Michigan with the Seaway.

Similar troubles can come from airplanes, the number of which coming directly from foreign lands to Michigan is increasing.

Ball said the Michigan Agriculture Department was seeking more federal protection.

* * *

He said recently a load of onions from Turkey and headed for Muskegon, was found to be diseased and could have brought trouble for onion areas in that part of the state.

The governor recommended an increase of $24,600 for work of the department's plant industry division, a total of $39,500 for fighting the gypsy moth and more than $71,000 for Dutch elm and oak wilt programs.

These diseases have been in Michigan for sometime and were not brought by the Seaway.

The governor cited three outbreaks of Japanese beetle infestation in Southern Michigan last year. In one area where about 18,000 acres was treated, the state paid about $20,000 of the total $100,000 cost of the treatment program.

Williams said the fight against Dutch elm disease was aided by local units of government to the tune of about six million dollars a year and that "generally the program has been very successful."

"Evidence clearly indicates that where good control programs exist it has definitely been possible to reduce the degree of infestation and at an economical cost," he said.

* * *

However, Williams warned that the disease "is spreading faster than control programs can be made effective" but said there wasn't enough money in the state's general fund to expand Michigan's program.

"The outlook for eradication (of the gypsy moth) in the near future is good," the governor said.

There were three outbreaks of the moth in Central Michigan last year and in 1958.

Williams said spring spraying costs about $15,000 and that to eliminate the moth, the area is which it is discovered must be treated.

All in all, signs are good in Michigan's fight against such diseases but tight budgets and the new, undetermined threat of the Seaway in this area is keeping authorities on the alert.

Tainted Meat to Be Sought

Government Not Sure of Cancer Danger, but Prods Its Inspectors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government meat inspectors have been told to bear down on enforcement of a regulation aimed at keeping residues of a cancer-inducing hormone out of meat.

* * *

The order was issued by Agriculture Department officials in charge of the Federal Meat Inspection Service in a memorandum to all inspectors.

It came after the department and the Food and Drug Administration had received several complaints about violations of a rule governing the slaughter of livestock raised on feeds containing stilbestrol.

* * *

Officials of both agencies said they have not investigated the complaints and do not know whether the rule actually has been violated. The source of the complaints was not identified.

* * *

The Food and Drug Administration has barred the sale of capon-ette chickens treated with stilbestrol.

Lena Horne Flies Off the Handle at Race Remarks

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Negro singer Lena Horne took offense at remarks about her race last night in a restaurant and hurled a hurricane lamp, dishes and ashtrays at a man sitting at a nearby table.

"This is America, you cannot insult people like that," shouted Miss Horne as she stood up from her table at the Luau and let loose with the barrage.

Eye Office Area in Farmington

City Council Considers Strict Controls Over Grand River Stretch

FARMINGTON—Creation of an office district extending more than a half-mile along Grand River avenue is being considered by the City Council here.

* * *

Recommending the plan for approval, the Planning Board at last night's Council meeting submitted a proposed amendment to the city charter that would set up strict controls in the area.

The property under consideration includes both sides of Grand River avenue from Farmington to Gill roads.

The area presently is zoned residential. However, there have been several recent requests from property owners in the area seeking "spot rezoning" that would allow commercial establishments.

* * *

City officials have not been too happy about the rezoning request and, in order to protect long-established residents in the stretch along Grand River avenue, they have been seeking a control.

According to City Clerk Trena M. Quinn, the district would be completely resoned residential and office and would act as a "buffer" to safeguard the old homes in the area.

"The proposed amendment places stringent restrictions on office construction and would not hurt the homes already there," she said.

"There would be no hodge-podge of businesses."

She said the Planning Board only made its recommendation following a long study of the area.

* * *

The change would call for any new construction to be set back from the street, and regulations would prevent converting residences into office buildings, or building on additions or fronts.

"Ideal buildings sought for the area would be clinics, real estate offices, attorney offices, and secretarial services," Mrs. Quinn said. "All would be regulated in height."

Ex-Lapeer Head Named to Top Ionia Position

The former superintendent of the Lapeer State Home and Training School, Dr. R. E. Cooper, has been appointed medical superintendent of Ionia State Hospital, State Mental Health Director Charles Wagg announced yesterday.

Dr. Cooper will replace Dr. P. C. Robertson when he retired from the Ionia post March 7.

Cooper, 51, is currently superintendent of the Wichita Falls State Hospital in Texas. He was superintendent at Lapeer in 1945-47, and is a former member of the Ionia hospital staff.

He will supervise the care of 1,500 patients and head of a staff of 360 in his new post. It pays a top salary of $22,000 a year.

Williams Picks Press Adviser

Murray, Now Speech Writer, Will Replace Weber in $13,000 Job

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today named John Murray, his top speech writer, to replace Paul W. Weber as his press secretary.

Weber resigned last week after 11 years as the Governor's press aide. He will move March 15 into a newly created administrative post in the Civil Service Commission.

Murray, 42, became a special assistant and speech writer for the governor two years ago, shifting from an assignment as director of public relations for the Democratic State Central Committee. From 1950 to 1952 he was Director of Public Affairs for the Michigan Office of Civil Defense.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Murray was graduated from Ohio State University in 1941 and worked on the Columbus Dispatch before coming to Michigan as a reporter for the Detroit Free Press. The press secretary's job pays $13,000 a year.

Nikita Promised: Now Lithuanians Will Join Family

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has granted exit visas to Mrs. Barbara Armonas, 50, and her son Jonas, 20, of Lithuania, so they can be reunited with the rest of their family in the United States, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

The visas were granted as the result of personal intervention by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev who was approached by Mrs. Armonas' 24-year-old daughter, Donna, in the United States.

Donna, who lives in Wickliff, Ohio, with her father, John, told Khrushchev in Pittsburgh that she had been separated from her mother and brother 19 years ago when she and her father fled Lithuania during the war.

Previous efforts of her mother and brother to get Soviet permission to go to the United States had failed.

EAST DETROIT (UPI)—Voters here nominated incumbents Edward J. Bonior and Donald G. Tarnowski for council along with George S. Stone Sr. and Oliver D. Schroeder.

ST. CLAIR SHORES (UPI)—A light primary vote here yesterday found incumbents receiving the biggest share of the balloting. Frank McPharlin, seeking his second term, paced six nominees for three council seats.

Tells of Payola for Disc Pushing

Boston Man Claims He Paid $100 Weekly for 'Gold Platter'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House payola probers today called record distributors, a government auditor and a musically inclined deputy sheriff for questioning about radio-TV disc jockey programs.

As hearings resumed Monday, the testimony about payments led Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the investigating House subcommittee to appeal for federal action to "protect the American people from this rotten stuff." He called it "commercial bribery" to get records on the air.

Cecil Steen, a Boston distributor, testified he paid $100 a week to have a disc featured as the "Gold Platter" on Boston radio station WMEX. Steen also said he had handed out more than $2,000 to disc jockeys in the last few years.

Two WMEX record spinners said they had been the beneficiaries of payments from record suppliers. Arnie (Woo Woo) Ginsburg acknowledged receiving $4,400 in less than three years while spinning tunes on WMEX and WBOS in Boston. Mel Miller another deejay who also serves as program director for WMEX, said he accepted gifts totaling $425.

Each insisted he was not swayed by the gratuities in picking out records for the shows.

On tap for questioning today were Harry Carter, president and treasurer of Music Suppliers, Inc., and other officials of the distributing firm, as well as auditor Donald R. Keelan and Deputy Sheriff Ray Lewis of Manchester, N.H.

Farmington Twp. Firm Ordered to Halt Stock Sale

A Farmington Township firm and three Canadian broker-dealers have been charged at Lansing with violating the state Blue Sky Law, and are under order to stop selling stock in Michigan.

State Corporation and Securities Commissioner Lawrence Gubow issued the orders yesterday.

He said Flot Met Process, Inc., 25000 Hagerty Rd., has not qualified its stock for sale in Michigan, but allegedly has sold shares to some 35 persons in Pontiac, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Houghton Lake areas.

The Farmington Township firm claims to own a patent to chrome plate aluminum, said Gubow.

Pontiac Ventura Gets 2 More Trim Colors

As a result of the heavy public demand for its new Ventura hardtop series, Pontiac has added two new inside trim colors to broaden the range of Ventura interior-exterior combinations.

Now available in the luxurious jewel tone morrokide seat, door panel, and headline coverings are three-tone blue and three-tone green color choices.

The new colors augment three interior trim combinations introduced with the Ventura at its public unveiling last October. These include the harmonizing shades of silver, gray, and ivory; mahogany, gold, and beige; and burgundy, red and ivory.

U.S. Starts Test of Oral Vaccine Against Polio

Dr. Harold Cox, who developed the cherry-flavored potion to supplant inoculations, praised the program's public opening in the Greater Miami area.

"Although one million people have taken the vaccine already," he said, "saving the life of one American will make more of an impression than saving the lives of a million Russians. That is why we think the Dade County program is so important." A similar type vaccine is being used in the Soviet Union.

Motor Stocks Active Losers

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors were active losers as the stock market headed lower in early trading which was moderate overall today.

Losses of fractions to about a point were taken by most key stocks.

An assortment of tobaccos, aircrafts, drugs and selected issues bucked the decline, making small gains.

American Motors, in a continued slide, dropped well over two points. The when-issued stock based on this firm's forthcoming stock split was down more than a point.

Small gains were posted for Liggett & Myers, United Aircraft, General Dynamics, Merck and Pfizer.

Opening blocks included: General Motors, off ¼ at 45¾ on 6,000 shares; Glen Alden up ⅞ at 20½ on 4,700; Libby, McNeill & Libby up ⅛ at 10 on 3,000; and American Telephone unchanged at 84 on 2,500.

THE HIGHWAY BATTLEFIELD — According to latest tabulations from the National Safety Council, 1959 gives promise of being a slightly worse year for traffic deaths than 1958. Deaths were up 2 per cent through October. The death rate, however, was down 2 per cent from the same period in 1958 because traffic mileage (some 580 billion miles) was up 4 per cent. As of October, 30,560 Americans had died in traffic. Disabling injuries had laid up over one million persons.

Mother Forgives Runaway Pair

Heiress and Hubby to Stay Wed

Seven months of running ended for the pregnant, 17-year-old bride when New York attorney Phillip Staffin told a justice of the peace that the mother wishes to drop all charges against the young couple.

The mother, Mrs. Mildred Orr Kadjar, had sworn out warrants charging her daughter with larceny of $3,400 and Ronnie's husband, Albert Brady, with abduction. Mrs. Kadjar was "frantic" to find them, the attorney said.

"The mother now understands that there was no abduction — that running away was pretty much her (the girl's) idea and not his," Staffin told the court.

"They are together, and should stay together," he continued. "They're doing a good job (of marriage) and should be given a chance to work things out for themselves."

Peace Justice Malvin Englander continued Mrs. Brady's release under $500 bond. He sent Brady, a husky 26-year-old ex-sailor, back to the police jail infirmary for treatment of a reaction to penicillin shots given to him for influenza.

IF HE HAS JOB . . .

Englander said he would be willing to release Brady in the custody of the youth's employer as soon as Staffin could assure him the charges were withdrawn. That could come before resumption of the hearing, scheduled for Friday.

Brady's employer, Al Thal, manager of a supermarket, said he was willing to put the youth back to work as soon as he is available.

Virtually all the stones in the lovers' path seemed kicked aside. They sat close at the hearing, hands clasped, and Brady heard his young wife say that his presence is "necessary" to her in the less than three months remaining before their baby is due.

The girl, once a chum of another troubled New York heiress, runaway Gamble Benedict, was composed and poised. She paid no attention to reporters crowded in Englander's small private chamber, or to television cameras buzzing at her ear.

Despite an overnight revelation of her husband's troubled past, she appeared still deeply in love with him.

The revelations included comment from a hitherto-unrevealed first wife of Brady's, Mrs. Anna Jewell Euresti of Houston, Tex., who said Brady deserted her in 1958. She added that she did not divorce him until last fall, some time after Brady's marriage to Ronnie.

★ ★ ★

She said also Brady was married before her to a "wealthy woman from New Orleans," but Brady denied that.

Brady himself supplied information the FBI once arrested him for keeping a rental car for more than eight months, and the U.S. Navy discharged him after terming him an accessory in a car theft ring in Boston.

Detroit Ford Dealers Face Possible $100,000 Fines

DETROIT (AP)—Twenty-two Detroit area Ford dealers face possible fines of $100,000 each for conspiring to fix the price of new cars.

The dealers, and their organization, the Metropolitan Ford Dealers Assn., withdrew an earlier plea of innocent yesterday and pleaded nolo contendre (no contest).

The group was charged with two counts of conspiracy. On one count they are charged with conspiring to establish uniform price lists for new cars substantially higher than the manufacturers suggested price. On the other they are charged with conspiring to establish a minimum gross profit of no less than $225 on each new Ford.

Attorney John Neville of the Justice Department's antitrust division said the fine on each count could be as high as $50,000 for each defendant.

The dealers' attorney, Philip Van Zile, said the defendants have been told that a plea of nolo contendre is treated the same as a plea of guilty. He added: "So there will be no misunderstanding the defendants are, in effect, pleading guilty to the indictment."

U. S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman said he would accept the plea but ordered Van Zile to bring the dealer representatives before him at the end of the week so he could explain they were pleading guilty. He said he would impose sentences later.

Neville protested Freeman's action in accepting the plea, but admitted it would take the government three weeks to present its case and about two months for all testimony to be heard.

"This is the most aggravated form of price fixing under the law," he said.

The association and dealers were indicted last May 15 by a federal grand jury following a Justice Department investigation.

England Is Boosting Yearly Defense Bill

LONDON (UPI)—Britain today announced a $324,800,000 boost in her defense spending which brings her annual defense bill to a record $3,729,924,000, nearly a third of her entire budget.

The increase was announced in a government white paper which said Britain also was increasing its conventional weapons instead of relying exclusively on the massive Western nuclear deterrent.

The white paper said the government's broad defense policy has undergone no major changes but it emphasized that nuclear power is "only one component of the deterrent."

"Our task must still be to contribute in the most efficient and effective way possible with our Allies to the maintenance of world peace," the white paper said.

Show Goes On ... Without Paar

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jack Paar television show went on the air Monday night — without Paar but with some quips by author Alexander King that brought a few gasps from the audience.

Paar and his wife, Miriam, left their Bronxville, N.Y., home Monday for a vacation. The comedian had said he was going to South America or Mexico. His agent would say only that Paar was headed toward "a warm climate."

★ ★ ★

The comedian walked off his show Thursday night. He protested the censorship of a joke by the National Broadcasting Co. from his taped show of the previous night.

Paar said then he would not return to the show, but he has cooled off a little since and said he hopes he doesn't have to return to the show. He remains under contract to NBC.

★ ★ ★

The network said the joke — about a water closet — was in bad taste. It has apologized to Paar for not informing him in advance that it was deleting the joke from the program.

★ ★ ★

King, who appeared often with Paar on the program, talked at length about censorship. NBC allowed the entire program on the air as taped, including King's comments.

The author said he would not appear on the show again without Paar.

Reliable Source Says He 'Caught the Fever' After Bentley Toss

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Robert P. Griffin, who two weeks ago virtually had decided against running for the U.S. Senate, is giving the idea serious new thought, it was reliably reported today.

One highly placed Republican said the two-term congressman from Traverse City "really caught the fever" after Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso threw his hat in the ring last Thursday.

Griffin said only that he expected to have a decision about the end of the month.

Bentley indirectly acknowledged word had come to him that the 34-year-old co-author of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform act was bending under a new wave of persuasion to get into the race.

★ ★ ★

Both congressmen repeatedly have expressed reluctance to oppose one another for the right to take on Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic incumbent. Neither has said flatly that he would do so, however.

Close observers noted yesterday that Vice President Nixon sidestepped a question about his reaction to Bentley's candidacy — citing grounds that a contest might develop in the Aug. 2 primary — while offering lavish praise of Paul D. Bagwell, GOP titular head but an as yet unannounced candidate for governor in 1960.

Countersuits Are Filed Over TV Actor's Injuries

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A head injury actor Roger Smith says he received in a fall at his home last June has resulted in suits for and against the TV sleuth.

Smith, who costars as one of the private investigators in "77 Sunset Strip," sued Dr. Frederick Amerongen and two other physicians for $260,000 Monday. He charged they negligently diagnosed major injuries as minor.

In another action, Dr. Amerongen sued Smith; Smith's wife, actress Victoria Shaw, Look magazine and others for $1,950,000. The physician alleged that a Look article about the injury defamed him and invaded his privacy.

Sinatra Does Good Job With His Ladies' Show

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Sinatra, who owes a great debt to the ladies of the land, delivered a small "Thank You" last night.

★ ★ ★

Instead of the usual Sinatra acolytes — Dean Martin and Peter Lawford — Sinatra was host to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Lena Horne, opera singer Mary Costa, dancer Juliet Prowse (his answer to Brigitte Bardot), and comedienne Barbara Heller. The theme, "Here's to the Ladies," was elegantly sustained by the tasteful songs.

One sequence by Sinatra and Miss Horne came up as blurred-edge portraits that fit the mood of the songs they sang: "Lonely Town" and "But Beautiful."

A minimum of up-tempo tunes were heard. The swingin'est was a flashy cha-cha number by Miss Prowse. The show's only lapse came at that point, when Miss Prowse's dance was abruptly cut in favor of a taped commercial.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Sinatra participated in a stilted exchange of compliments and then Mrs. R. — who never looked lovelier — recited some special words to the song, "High Hopes."

The song, written by Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen, executive producers of the show, is the Sinatra number with which all concerned have high hopes of winning an Academy Award this year. Mrs. Roosevelt helped launch their campaign.

Sinatra was in his usual vocal form — good, that is — although he seemed worried and detached during some of the dialogues. I couldn't help thinking that perhaps he was wondering about how the Las Vegas crowd would react to his artistic, distinctive and attractive production.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: After five seasons with CBS-TV, the Alfred Hitchcock suspense series moves to NBC-TV starting next fall . . . CBS-TV's fall plans indicate the Robert Young series, Father Knows Best, is going out of production . . . and ABC-TV's 1960-61 schedule would replace the Charley Weaver show with Leave It to Beaver.

Jack Benny's displeasure with CBS-TV's "canned laughter candor" has abated. He now reports that his negotiations with ABC-TV are off and he expects to remain on CBS-TV.

Meanwhile, NBC-TV's Bob Hope, whose 10-year contract expires in June, is sounding out the rival networks for contract offers . . . The Feb. 4 "actual" on CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theater dealt with the "ghost bomber" discovered in the Libyan desert.

Tomorrow, the show will add a brief follow-up report on that story . . . Comedian John Wayne of the Wayne and Shuster team suffered a slight injury to his cheek Monday when a prop TV camera exploded during a sketch rehearsal for a summer-time Ed Sullivan show.

The Palais de la Defense in Paris is the world's largest exhibition hall. It would cover about 14 blocks of a metropolitan American city.

TV PAIR WED — Jack Barry, TV producer, and Patte Preble, 29, casting director, were married in Las Vegas on St. Valentine's Day at The Little Church of the West. They met two years ago when Miss Preble applied for a job with Barry. The couple will honeymoon in Hawaii. AP Wirephoto

Khrushchev Lands in Burma

Greeted Warmly by Top Officials; Afghanistan, Indonesia Next

Top government officials headed by President U Win Maung and Premier Ne Win greeted the stocky Soviet leader as he descended from the giant Ilyushin turboprop airliner that brought him from India.

Maung welcomed Khrushchev "not as a stranger but as a friend who has come again for the purpose of strengthening the existing ties of friendship which you helped to forge during your first visit (in 1956)."

★ ★ ★

The Premier's departure from Calcutta ended a five-day Indian visit that many observers felt did not measure up to expectations.

A columnist for one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, Amrita Bazar Patrika, noted the public turnout for Khrushchev was far less than the wildly cheering crowds which greeted President Eisenhower last December.

★ ★ ★

The major Khrushchev theme the last two days of his visit was that Western economic aid is designed to hold India in "imperialist, economic slavery."

Khrushchev said he was optimistic that India and Red China can settle their bitter dispute over about 50,000 square miles of border territory. Prime Minister Nehru has invited Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to New Delhi to discuss the dispute.

Grand Rapids Mayor Sweeps Primary Race

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mayor Stanley J. Davis fell only 1,335 votes shy of outright re-election last night in the Grand Rapids primary and faces an April 4 runoff with Second Ward Commissioner Robert H. Blandford.

Davis drew 13,168 votes to 11,234 for Blandford as the two won nominations and eliminated businessman Thomas Stafford, the third mayoralty candidate who drew 4,603 votes in the nonpartisan primary election.

Roman J. Snow, 40-year-old former assistant U. S. attorney and current first ward commissioner, won outright election as Grand Rapids' first associate police judge.

What Can a Father Tell His Son About Cheats?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Everybody duck. I'm going to sermonize.

Everything is Cheatsville now in this year of (how ironic to add) Our Lord. Corruption is fashionable. In some areas, "It's chic to cheat."

Naturally, I don't mean you're guilty, and certainly I'm not—but Mercy me! All those other people ....

How can a father lecture to his son today about honesty?

The boy knows all about disc-jockey payola and he's aware that top movie stars and writers have taken up foreign residence to avoid U.S. income taxes. They have herds of help. They don't lift a finger to get some chore performed. They have a servant lift it for them. It's chic.

WILSON

Maybe the boy aspires to a business career. He quickly learns of payola deals, from an automobile up, not just in Tin Pan Alley, but in industry where the plucking is plentiful.

★ ★ ★

"It's square not to cheat," a woman was just lecturing to me, "not to cut corners."

How can anybody hop from a cab asking the driver to wait, then disappear into an apartment building, swindling the driver of $2? It happens many, many times a day. The blind newsdealer gets cheated, too, and the waiter gets "stiffed"—but not the headwaiter. Him you overtip. So you get a better table than you deserve.

(Not you . . . sorry . . . these other people.)

"What was so bad about the disc jockey payola and the quiz-show scandals?" chic people have asked me. "Nobody was hurt."

I claim somebody was hurt: millions of kids my boy's age who thought Charles Van Doren and their favorite disc jockeys were—to use that old-fashioned word—honest.

The common garden variety of cheating—a famous Boradway husband, out with his leading lady, cheating on his wife—is shrugged off nowadays, because in some layers of society it seems terribly unchic for husbands not to cheat. The things I don't write about that every night, would fill libraries, not to mention the divorce courts!

Have there ever been so many headlines about crookedness? I'm telling you again, it's chic. However, I just can't believe Sing Sing, or Atlanta Penitentiary, or Lewisburg, or Alcatraz, will ever really become fashionable.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Paul Anka, Tenafly, N.J.'s 18-yr-old, nine-gold-record singer, is now introducing his kid brother, Andy, Jr., 10, and nine little friends, on wax. The Eddie Fisher-Debbie Reynolds California decree is final Feb. 19 . . . Douglas Fairbanks will narrate his father's silent films on TV. . . . Drummer Buddy Rich, a recent heart attack victim, will work in London in March —against doctors' advice.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A disc jockey received a threatening letter—it said, 'If you do not spin this record, we will send you some money!" (via Leonard Richland). . . . That's earl, brother.

New Bills Flooding Legislative Hopper

LANSING (AP)—A flat registration fee for passenger vehicles, terminal leave pay for teachers and a strengthening of the requirements for private detectives would result from the latest bills filed in the Legislature.

Bills continued to flood the Legislative hopper with approach of Wednesday's deadline for the filing of all but tax and appropriation measures. However, only about 500 bills have been filed compared with nearly 1,000 in the last so-called short session in 1958.

The registration fee for passenger vehicles would be a flat $13 instead of 35 cents per hundred pounds under a measure by Rep. Lester J. Allen (R-Ithaca).

Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Dearborn) would permit school boards to award teachers severance pay at the time of their retirement. The terminal leave pay would not exceed one year's compensation and serve as a reward to teachers completing at least 30 years of service.

12 Satellites Girdle Globe at Last Count

WASHINGTON (AP)— The mystery satellite newly discovered in a polar orbit brings to an even dozen the number of man-made objects whirling about the earth, a new tabulation disclosed yesterday.

* * *

The "satellite situation report," first of its kind, identified 10 of the artificial satellites as being of U. S. origin. One, Sputnik III, is Russian. The identity of the newest has not yet been determined.

* * *

The report, prepared by the newly established national space surveillance control center at Laurence G. Hanscom Field, Bedford, Mass., also identified 12 satellites that have quit their orbits and fallen back to earth.

The control center, operated by the Air Force's Research and Development Command, plans to compile and distribute its satellite situation report twice a month.

Detroit Press Club Elects McCormick Chief

DETROIT (AP) — Ken McCormick of the Detroit Free Press has been elected president of the Detroit Press Club, succeeding Ray Girardin of the Detroit Times.

The board of governors of the club last night elected these other officers: Tom Kleene of the Detroit Times, vice president; Stoddard White, Detroit News, secretary; and Stanley Brams of Labor Trends, treasurer.

Shipbuilding Subsidy Increase Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Commerce opposes any increase in the subsidies paid by the government to build ships.

At present the government pays up to 50 per cent of the cost of building a new cargo or passenger ship. A bill before the Senate would eliminate the 50 per cent limitation.

* * *

In testimony Monday Undersecretary John J. Allen Jr. said the Commerce Department opposed the bill.

Ft. Benning, Ga., where the U. S. Army Infantry School is located, is named for Confederate Army Officer, Brig. Gen. Henry L. Benning.

Oil Millionaire Proposes More Votes for Wealthy

* * *

The book by Hunt, reputedly one of the 10 richest men in the world, centers around a mythical country that provides bonus votes for the highest taxpayers. It contains a mythical constitution which Hunt said was for the benefit of small nations that have none.

* * *

Asked if the book is his personal proposal for the United States, Hunt replied that the biggest taxpayer has the greatest stake in government because he is paying for a larger part of it.

Hunt who will be 71 Wednesday said that under his mythical constitution he would have one bonus vote for being over 66 and "three or four for my taxpayer status."

He said the book was ghost written in part.

State Bill Would Boost Employer Contributions

LANSING (AP) — An employer's contribution to the workmen's compensation second injury fund would be boosted from $1,500 to $7,500 under a bill introduced by Rep. David S. Holmes (D-Detroit).

* * *

Benefits from the second injury fund are paid to those who suffer a permanently disabling injury while working under the handicap of an earlier permanent disability.

* * *

"The fund will be completely depleted in seven months if the current rate of income and expenditures continues," Holmes said.

Depletion, he added, would mean 105 employes would lose the benefits to which they are entitled.

Personal likes and dislikes of store managers can affect the sale of certain types of meat, reports the National Assn. of Retail Grocers. "Some retailers will not handle lamb or pork," the report says, "simply because they do not like it themselves."
