3 Die in Shooting Spree

GRAND BLANC (AP) — Distraught over the breakup of his marriage, a Flint-area factory worker bought a gun yesterday and went on a shooting spree, killing his wife and father-in-law and taking his own life, police said.

Lester A. Foust, 34, was found dead in the living room of his small frame home in a sparsely populated section of nearby Grand Blanc Township. He had been shot in the head and a 38-caliber revolver was at his feet, police said.

At the other end of the bloodspattered home was the body of his wife, Sonja, 30, who had been shot in the chest and shoulder. Her stepfather, Allen Lee, 60, of Mio, lay dead in a hallway, shot in the head and abdomen.

Police were called to the home by a neighbor, Judith Barnett, after Lee's wife, Leota, 49, stumbled critically wounded from the Foust house to seek aid.

Mrs. Lee was reported in critical condition at a Flint hospital today with a bullet wound in the throat.

Despite the wound, Township Police Chief Herbert Doan said Mrs. Lee was able to tell him, "My son-in-law shot me."

A search of the Foust home turned up traces of blood on the foot of a stairway leading to the basement. Police theorized one of the victims apparently had been chased into the basement and back upstairs.

Doan said a number of shots had been fired inside the home, and one bullet was found in a wall near the basement.

Parked outside was Foust's car with several 38-caliber shells and a bill of sale for the gun on the front seat, police said. Doan said the bill showed the gun had been purchased earlier in the day at a Flint-area gun shop.

The Fousts' son, Ricky, 10, was at school at the time of the shooting.

Doan said that in past months township police had answered several calls at the Foust home concerning "family troubles." Mrs. Foust had told officers her husband had threatened her and she feared she would be killed, Doan said.

The couple apparently separated recently, and the Lees were visiting Mrs. Foust when the shooting occurred.

Fortas Chances for Court Post Suffer Setbacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice suffered setbacks within Congress and without as President Johnson's nomination moved today toward a Tuesday showdown on the Senate floor.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, once an outspoken supporter of confirmation, said yesterday he would not vote to shut off a filibuster against the nomination and said he was now undecided on whether to back Fortas.

Dirksen said he was taking this position because of developments that occurred since his earlier endorsement, but he declined to elaborate.

There "are things that still don't meet the eye," Dirksen said.

'LACKED FACTS'

At the same time, the president of the American Bar Association, which endorsed Fortas, said the ABA's committee on federal judgeships did not have all the facts when it backed the nomination.

"I do recognize that all of the facts were not before the committee," said William Gossett. "Some of the facts brought about by the Senate committee were not present before it voted."

Gossett, however, said any move to take a new look at endorsing Fortas would have to be made by the chairman of the ABA committee, Albert Jenner of Chicago.

Jenner could not be reached immediately.

De Gaulle Threat: Euromart Breakup

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle warned today that the European Common Market would disintegrate if some of its members attempted to gain British admittance without French backing.

The French president told Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger France would regret this but would be able to live without the European Economic Community.

Kiesinger assured de Gaulle that West Germany would not yield to pressure at home and abroad to circumvent France for the purpose of expanding the Euromart.

According to French spokesman Roger Vaurs, de Gaulle responded: "You have mentioned a will to enlarge the community at all cost, even without France. We do not worry about that, because if the community should be without France, there would not be any community at all. And if it was made with others, it would dissolve itself. We would regret it, but France has lived a very long time without the Common Market and can live without it. But we would deeply regret it."

While not yielding to West German wishes for a renewed look at West Europe and defenses, de Gaulle promised that France would stand firmly by the West Germans in the event of the "tragic hypothesis" of Soviet military intervention in their country.

The two leaders, winding up their twice-yearly friendship parley, glossed over the new blow dealt to British Common Market hopes by the French yesterday and uttered a fresh pledge of "preferential cooperation" and "preferential solidarity" between Bonn and Paris.

Sparks Fly on Campaign Trail

From Our News Wires

Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey debated at long distance yesterday on whether to debate face to face.

Humphrey said his Republican rival was trying to market himself as a political Brand X. The Democratic nominee, campaigning in Oregon, accused Nixon of displaying a lack of respect for voters by refusing to agree to a debate.

Nixon, speaking in Florida, said Humphrey was trying to use third-party candidate George C. Wallace to prevent Republican inroads in the South.

Nixon said, "He feels apparently that by having debates that maybe Wallace will win a perimeter of the South that I otherwise might win, and I'm not going to play that game."

Humphrey was confronted by a prearranged walkout by about 400 antiwar demonstrators as he spoke in Portland, Ore. He vowed, "I shall not be intimidated."

Humphrey's new campaign aide, veteran diplomat George W. Ball, touched off a sharp war of words as he labeled Nixon "Tricky Dick" at a farewell news conference at the United Nations where he has served as U.S. ambassador in recent months.

In other developments:

● Wallace, conferring with advisers in Alabama, has his platform nearly finished and says it will be released next week. Wallace will return to the campaign trail Monday.

● Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, who is of Polish descent, got a warm welcome from a Polish-American convention in Cleveland. He called for rejection of "those who parade under the banner of suppression, disguised as law and order."

● Nixon's running mate, Agnew, who

NY Facing Three More Strikes

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a Monday end to the 11-day school strike were dashed today as Albert Shanker, president of the striking United Federation of Teachers, announced "a complete breakdown in negotiations."

Michael J. Maye, head of the Uniformed Firefighters Association, announced last night that members of his union had voted "overwhelmingly" for a "total strike" unless an agreement is reached in current negotiations with the city.

Maye's announcement, which had been expected since balloting began last week, meant that the city may have to face simultaneous strikes or slowdowns next week by firemen, policemen and garbage collectors.

The Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association has approved a strike beginning Tuesday, and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association has threatened to take an unspecified "job action" unless an acceptable contract offer is made.

By School Bill Compromise

Desegregation Effort Hurt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a bill that sources say will restrict enforcement of so-called school desegregation guidelines in the South.

As a result, these sources say, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, charged with enforcing the guidelines, probably will shift most of its energies to northern school districts.

The conference committee took the action Thursday night and has not yet issued its report. But the substance was given out by several sources in the administration and Congress.

The civil rights provision originally proposed by Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., was added as a rider to an appropriations bill. It forbids HEW to use any of its funds to force busing of students, to force closing of any school or to force any youngster to attend a school against the wishes of his parents.

HEW officials say the crucial phrase is the one applying to the wishes of parents. This, they say, would virtually handcuff the department.

They expressed confidence that the court will strike down the provision eventually. But in the meantime — for at least a year — they fear the provision could devastate HEW's increasingly successful program to end most segregated school systems in the South by the fall of 1969.

HEW has been closing in rapidly on such systems in the past year by rejecting freedom-of-choice plans which haven't resulted in full desegregation.

Freedom-of-choice allows parents to choose any school they want their youngsters to attend. Most such approaches have produced only token integration, HEW officials say.

Supervisors Busy Till Terms End

BY ED BLUNDEN

Although the Oakland County Board of Supervisors may be labeled a lame duck group, there's nothing faltering about it as its reign nears an end.

This 87-member board has announced it will continue to run the county and push an ambitious building program right up until its last day, Jan. 1.

Some persons, and even some of the supervisors themselves, have suggested they "go easy" because most of them won't be in office at that time, but the supervisors are having none of that.

Their number will be reduced to 27 in the Nov. 5 election which will reapportion the county into 27 districts. Included on the new board doubtlessly will be some old faces, but it appears most of the faces will be new.

UNKNOWN FACTOR

Whether the majority of the new board will favor the present short and long-range construction plans for county buildings is an unknown factor at this time.

However, the 27 will find themselves already committed to more than $9 million in construction projects for three buildings. This they will be saddled with even if they do not choose to be the "great builders" as were their predecessors.

When they take office the following projects will be well under way:

● A $6.4-million jail, just west of the courthouse.

● A $2-million service building for the public works and other departments at the County Center on the west side of Telegraph near Pontiac Lake Road.

● A $1-million mental health clinic to be built in connection with a $3-million building to be constructed by Oakland Schools for problem juveniles. (Site not yet certain).

PULLING OUT COSTLY

In all probability, contracts will be awarded on all the buildings before January. In any case, the county will have spent enough on preliminary costs to make pulling out almost prohibitive.

Also, various governmental wheels will be in motion and it would be difficult to jam the gears on such short notice.

Though there is speculation in some quarters that a new board would do things differently there is little actual basis for this outlook.

In a district-by-district study of the supervisors' election race following the August primary it was shown 17 members of the present board who chose to run

Yanks Rain Bombs on Reds Near Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers rained almost four million pounds of bombs yesterday and today on enemy positions, mostly in the Cambodian frontier area where the enemy has tried three times in three days to overrun border watching posts.

Ground fighting slackened, but in one engagement in the northern war zone, the enemy shelled the Special Forces camp at Thuong Duc, 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, and attempted to overrun two small militia outposts nearby. Two Vietnamese defenders were reported killed and 11 wounded.

Allied forces around the country also continued to turn up enemy war supplies, including 54 tons of rice, 400 mortar shells and 20 cases of explosives and other equipment.

The B52s struck 11 times, mostly along a line that parallels the Cambodian frontier about 70 miles northwest of Saigon. One raid northwest of Tay Ninh City was within a few thousand yards of the frontier.

MUSTERING AREA?

Almost 400,000 pounds of bombs were rained on suspected enemy mustering areas within a few miles of the mud fort outpost of Thein Ngon where enemy forces lost 130 dead in an almost suicidal attack Friday.

The Thien Ngon assault and attacks on Phuoc Tan and Ka Tum cost the enemy a total of 411 killed.

American troops searching the jungled frontier area found another hidden enemy weapons dump containing some 400 mortar shells and other war material.

Allied intelligence officers said they were puzzled by the pattern of enemy maneuvers in this area. One estimate is that the enemy command does not now have forces in position for a major thrust at its ultimate goal, Saigon, and is harassing border outposts to draw out American and South Vietnamese while maneuvering main force units into striking positions.

STRATEGY FOILING

The increased B52 raids in Tay Ninh Province appeared aimed at foiling such a strategy.

Elsewhere, U.S. troops reported killing 32 enemy troops, while seven Americans were killed and nine wounded in a fight near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp in the central highlands.

Marines of the 5th Regiment came under enemy fire 2,000 yards below the demilitarized zone and six were wounded, but the Leathernecks said they killed 12 of the enemy.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam's education ministry announced it would draft all eligible senior high school and university professors for nine weeks' training beginning Oct. 14 before returning them to serve in local militia groups.

Ray's Lawyer Says He May Quit Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arthur Hanes Sr. said in court yesterday that he may have to withdraw as James Earl Ray's lawyer.

"Serious difficulties have arisen between me and my client on the best way to handle this defense," Ray's chief counsel said without elaboration.

Hanes, former Birmingham, Ala., mayor, was retained by Ray before Ray was extradited from England and held in Memphis in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hanes was in court for a hearing in which a committee of lawyers recommended that he and two newsmen and a private detective be held in contempt of court on grounds they violated an order prohibiting prejudicial news statement in connection with the Ray case.

'PREJUDICE SHOWS'

After the recommendation, Hanes charged that "prejudice is showing like a grandmother's petticoat under a miniskirt."

"I'm going to do everything I can to defend my client against whatever arises, including committees of lawyers. I do not know what their motives are, although I have my ideas," he said.

The hearing was continued until Monday.

Ray, charged with the assassination of King in Memphis on April 4, is scheduled to go on trial Nov. 12. He was captured in England.

COMMITTEE DECISION

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle appointed the committee of lawyers to watch news coverage of the Ray case. The committee recommended that Hanes; Renfro Hays, a private investigator retained by Hanes, and reporters Charles Edmundson of the Commercial Appeal and Roy Hamilton of the Press-Scimitar be cited.

The committee based its recommendation on stories by Edmundson and Hamilton in which Hanes and Hays were quoted. The stories concerned Ray's health and his ability to stand trial.

STUMPING IN OREGON — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flanked by Sen. Wayne Morse (right), D-Ore., and a Secret Service man, waves to a crowd in Portland yesterday. State Heart Recipient Makes Good Recovery

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's first heart transplant patient, Phillip T. Barnum, 49, of Kalamazoo, continues to make "a good recovery" according to his doctors at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

A hospital spokesman listed Barnum's condition as good and said he was able to sit on the edge of his bed and was eating a soft diet.

A TV set was brought into Barnum's room Thursday night so he could watch his favorite program, "Ironside." Barnum said he wanted to see how an operation on Ironside's paralyzed legs came out. In the role, played by Raymond Burr, the operation failed.

2 Teens Knifed After Grid Game

YPSILANTI (AP) — Two teen-age boys were stabbed and seriously injured Friday night at the close of a football game between Ypsilanti Lincoln and Dundee high schools.

Washtenaw County sheriff's men said Frank (Gary) Furrow, 19, and Larry Spears, 16, both of Dundee, were knifed by two youths in the spectator stands after arguing over remarks made about cheerleaders at the game.

Both boys were listed in satisfactory condition today at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. Frank underwent surgery Friday night, but a hospital supervisor said no vital organs were damaged by the knifing. He suffered knife wounds of the left arm and left lower abdomen. Larry was stabbed in his right lower abdomen.

Deputies today sought the assailants, who they said were thought to be youngsters from the Ypsilanti area. It was not known whether the assailants were students at Ypsilanti Lincoln, which lost the football game, 12-6.

ON THE TEAM

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said Ball's resignation — only one day after the Senate had formally confirmed his April appointment to the U.N. — was "a shocking piece of political chicanery."

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., accompanying Nixon on the campaign trail in Florida, told a news conference in Tampa that Ball has become the "new hatchet man" for Humphrey.

GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss accused Ball of suggesting Nixon would escalate the Vietnam fighting and said such a statement was "a comedown from the high levels of diplomacy to willing involvement in gutter politics."

Bliss' blast brought a retort from Democrats. Their public affairs spokesman, Alvin A. Spivak, said Bliss' reply "takes almost as many twists and turns as the Nixon detour from the issues."

In Lansing Gov. George Romney said he will be out of earshot of George C. Wallace Tuesday when the former Alabama governor brings his third-party presidential campaign to the steps of the Capitol.

Romney said he will be in Detroit that day for a national conference on urban problems and has no plans to listen to Wallace or confront him.

A Wallace campaign aide, Sherry Winford of Montgomery, Ala. in Michigan to make arrangements for the visit predicted the former governor would carry the state in the Nov. 5 presidential election.

'CIA Spy Ring' Arrested by Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio reported today Cuba has arrested a "CIA spy ring" of 18 persons, including five women.

"The group agreed to work for the CIA to obtain information about the sugar crop and of the strength of our armed forces," said the broadcast, monitored in Miami.

This information, it added, "would be used by the United States in its plans to frustrate our economical development and for acts of sabotage against our economy."

The broadcast said those arrested, presumably all Cubans, had received instructions from U.S. Central Intelligence Agency by a man who and entered Cuba illegally, Manuel "Pichinche" de los Santos Ramirez.

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors, smallest of the major U.S. auto companies, joined the auto price increase parade yesterday as it posted higher price tags on its 1969 cars which go on sale Tuesday.

AMC's price hike was the smallest of the industry as it figured out at $43 per car, on sticker prices.

Board Is Busy to the End

FAIL TO SURVIVE

In the other districts, dissident types do not seem to prevail. Many of the sharper critics of county policy did not survive the primary.

Lately criticism against the board of supervisors has centered on county roads. The road commission is a separate entity by state law and uses gas and weight taxes to support road programs.

The commission has gotten deeper into financial difficulties over the years and has pleaded for extra funds. An appeal to the voters via a one-mill tax request lost in August. So the road commission turned to the county with its full coffers.

A token $260,000 was granted early this month. This was approximately the money left over from 1967. About the same time, the board announced that it would have $3 million left over at the end of this year. This represents approximately revenues that came mostly from the state income tax which were not calculated at budget time last year.

MADE HASTE

But the supervisors made haste to make sure the $3 million would not be left over and approved spending the $3 million on the two buildings without a negative vote last week.

County officials have pointed out the service building has been a long-standing need. The mental health building is termed a timely project that can be built to coincide with other facilities for troubled juveniles.

As for the jail, the supervisors' Building Authority was empowered to sell a bond issue for it by the board during the summer.

To answer critics of county policy always more evident near election time, Delos Hamlin, supervisor from Farmington and chairman of the board for the last 14 terms, has only to point to the record.

SOUND FINANCIAL FOOTING

His county is on an extremely sound financial footing where others are foundering. A state taxation study has revealed that Oakland operates all its facilities on a lower per-capita cost to taxpayers than any of the larger counties.

"This county is run on a businesslike basis," Hamlin said. Explaining the need for the $3-million services building, Hamlin said, "We have millions of dollars in equipment and we have to have a place to store and maintain it. It's only sound economics, as any businessman will tell you."

Hamlin doubts the new supervisors will see things any differently. "Once they understand what the needs of the county are, they will see that our long-range plans are all necessary to the county's future," he said.

Unfair Trial Claimed

Murder Conviction Upheld

The murder conviction of a Waterford Township teen-ager more than three years ago, has been upheld by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The youth, Alan Ross Pearson, was attempting to overturn the conviction on the grounds that news coverage of the case had denied him a fair trial.

Pearson, then 17 years old, was found guilty of second-degree murder in the June 27, 1965, stabbing of Jeffrey Talbot, 17, of Waterford Township.

Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn sentenced Pearson to a 9- to 20-year prison term in February 1966.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Thomas G. Plunkett said that, in affirming the conviction, the Court of Appeals "upheld the essential fairness of the conduct of the trial court and the prosecutor's office."

Man Risks Life to Save Stranger

NEW YORK (AP) — The father of five children jumped in front of a rush-hour subway train yesterday to rescue a stranger who had collapsed across the rails, police said.

Vincent Santiago, 29, of the Bronx, who weighs 130 pounds, first tried to lift the 200-pound victim onto the subway platform but was unable to do so.

Just before the train arrived Santiago, who works as a messenger, put the man in the space between the rails. Then he pressed himself against the wall under the platform as the train rushed past.

Because the victim moved his right leg, police said, it was severed at the knee. He was identified as William Cleary, 48, of Brooklyn. He was in critical condition at Methodist Hospital.

Santiago was unhurt. He has been recommended for the Civilian Commendation, the police department's highest civilian award.

Parke, Davis Working to Block Flu Epidemic

DETROIT (AP) — Parke, Davis Co. said yesterday it is working on a new flu vaccine to head off an expected flu epidemic this winter in the United States.

Dr. Joseph Sadusk, the drug firm's vice president for medical affairs, said Parke, Davis began a crash program four weeks ago to produce a vaccine against the expected flu bug in Hong Kong.

Dr. Sadusk predicted the vaccine would be ready by Dec. 15. The last epidemic of this type of virus hit this country in 1957.

7 Promotions for City Police

Made Possible by 12 Additions to Force

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger has announced seven departmental promotions, effective immediately, made possible by the recent addition of 12 patrolmen to the force.

One of the promotions — that of Lt. Fred L. Goines to captain

SKROBECK GOINES

— coincides with the creation of a new administrative post which he will fill.

Goines will become the department's operations officer, coordinating all police activities during the hours of 5 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The 54-year-old captain joined the force in 1942 and has served patrol, traffic and vice bureaus.

As Protesters Walk Out

Humphrey: I Won't Be Intimidated

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey stared impassively during an organized walkout at a Portland rally Friday night and vowed afterwards that "I shall not be intimidated."

The Democratic presidential candidate told those who remained—the vast majority of a standing-room-only crowd in an auditorium of 3,700 seats—that even if a young antiwar militancy interrupted one after another of his campaign meetings, he would not be shouted off any platform.

Some 400 young people interrupted the vice president's speech with a chant of, "End the war!" Then from the main floor of the auditorium and from two balconies, they marched out.

During the hubbub, Humphrey stood straight behind the rostrum, his lips pursed and his hands clasped behind his back. He looked neither left nor right. But then, as his partisans drowned out the departing demonstrators with cries of, "We want Humphrey!" the candidate broke into a grin and waved his arms.

THEY'VE GOT HIM

"Ladies and gentlemen, you have Humphrey," he said.

Humphrey, who has repeatedly inveighed against hecklers who would disrupt public speeches—"dissent, not disorder" is his repeated injunction —went on to declare:

"Just keep in mind that we must expect this this year. We have been told it would happen. We have been as informed it would happen as Hitler's 'Mein Kamf' told us what would happen."

The protesters marched from the auditorium to the street in front of the hotel where Humphrey spent the night. They greeted him on his return with more "No more war" cries. Reinforced lines of police kept them across the street from the hotel.

Muskie Fails to Win Ohio Dissidents

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie failed Friday to win the support of district Ohio Democrats, but got a warm welcome from delegates to a Polish-American convention when he warned "the seeds of a new oppression are all around us."

He urged them not to sit out of the November election and to judge Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on his whole political record, not just the last four years.

But afterwards several in the group said Muskie had failed to convince them they should support the Democratic presidential candidate.

"We may have to vote for Humphrey because we can't stand Nixon, but we certainly won't work for him," one said.

Muskie, the son of a Polish immigrant, was given a standing ovation earlier when he addressed some 700 delegates to the 7th annual convention of the Polish-American Congress.

Muskie traveled to Cleveland from Michigan, where he had earlier told a Saginaw audience that Americans should not fear violence and unrest in the nation.

"The American story is filled with struggles of people who have sought to escape unacceptable conditions," the Maine senator said. He urged his listeners to seek a greater understanding of persons who protest because of the "unacceptable conditions in which they are forced to live."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is working to stop George C. Wallace from collecting enough Southern and border state votes to throw the choice of president into the House.

His message to Southern audiences has been that the only choice is between himself and his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey and that Wallace's third-party presidential bid threatens the two-party system.

The Republican presidential nominee said Friday that Humphrey is trying to use Wallace in the South to Humphrey's advantage.

"He feels apparently that by having debates that maybe Wallace will win a perimeter of the South that I otherwise might win, and I'm not going to play that game," Nixon said.

Humphrey has called for a debate including Wallace. Nixon replies that he "will not participate in any three-way debate that will build up a third-party candidate and would in my view run the risk of a constitutional crisis."

If Wallace pulls enough votes to deprive Humphrey and Nixon of an Electoral College majority, the House would choose the president.

The GOP nominee told reporters he thinks he is three or four percentage points ahead of Wallace in the battle for Florida's electoral votes, with Humphrey running third.

In a Friday night statement, Nixon called on those who want to protest against thing as they are to stick to the conventional two-party method and not go off on a tangent by supporting Wallace, a man who he says has no chance of beoming president.

Wallace Near Completion of Platform Draft

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace has nearly completed a draft of his platform, which he says will be released next week.

Wallace has rested at his Montgomery home and conferred with aides on campaign strategy all week. He resumes his stumping Monday in Chicago, and is scheduled for stops in six other states in the North and Midwest next week.

Spiro Backs Greek Junta

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew says the United States should support the military junta that ousted Greece's civilian government last year.

"This particular military government has done a bit to stabilize the Communist threat in Greece," the Maryland governor told a National Press Club luncheon Friday in Washington.

Agnew leaves Maryland today for a four-day campaign swing into the Midwest. He will spend the weekend in Milwaukee, Wis., where he is to address a downtown rally and GOP dinner today.

Remember when you had to take off your watch before you could draw a bead, spear a fish or hook a drive?

Still do? Wear a Rolex.

In a way, Rolex has been making watches for sportsmen since 1926. That was the year we patented the Oyster, the first waterproof wrist watch. Today, it's still the finest a man can own. Certain refinements have been made, of course. For instance, the Explorer can take pressures equivalent to 330 feet underwater. There's a Rolex that measures speed and distance. There's a Rolex that indicates elapsed time underwater. There's a Rolex that's built to stand up to the specific rigors of your sport. Why not let us let you in on the full story soon.

This is the Rolex Explorer. Rugged Oyster Perpetual (waterproof*, self-winding) with officially certified 26 jewel chronometer movement. Black dial, heavy duty luminous markers, stainless steel case, $180. Matching steel bracelet, $15.

Fishermen Show Disrespect for Law

It is a sad day when the State Conservation Department is forced to close a stream to fishing because a small group of fishermen cannot abide by conservation laws.

That's what happened this week when department officials closed Bear Creek in Manistee County to Coho fishermen because of what they called "a mob attack turning the fishing into a hog wallow."

It is precisely because of this type of behavior that we have conservation laws.

Here in Michigan we have seen lakes and rivers which once were virtually teeming with game fish, reduced to barren waters, at least in part, by excessive fishing pressure and greedy disregard for conservation in general.

We have fished with "sportsmen" who have literally shown no regard for the limits placed on a catch by law. Fortunately, these people are in a small minority.

But the point is inescapable. They are ruining a great sport for everyone else. What happened on Bear Creek was revolting to the true sportsman. Tons of litter and fish entrails were strewn along the banks. Fishermen tore out much of the fish cover and trampled the banks.

Fishermen entered the salmon-filled stream clubbing fish and taking them away in buckets. Legitimate sportsmen were crowded out by the meat-hungry mob.

The real losers are those sportsmen who hadn't been able to get away yet for a weekend of Coho fishing. They may still go north, but they'll have to do their angling on waters other than Bear Creek.

We praise the conservation department for its action to close the creek. What else could it do under the circumstances?

We also feel that citizens should not allow this single incident to discredit the entire salmon fishing program in Michigan.

It would be ideal if some way could be devised to ban the guilty parties from Michigan waters for life.

1970 Census Questions May Be Less Personal

There are a number of bills pending in Congress that would limit the questions the Census Bureau may require citizens to answer in 1970.

The originally proposed 1970 census contained nearly 70 questions, many of a personal nature dealing with a family's style of living. For example: "Do you share your shower?"

If pending legislation is adopted, those questions would be strictly voluntary. Only questions involving such basic matters as marital status, sex, number in household, etc., would have to be answered under penalty of law.

Last December, The PRESS editorially urged legislation to cut down on the number and nature of questions which must be answered under penalty of law. We now stand squarely behind bills proposed since then to accomplish this.

However, it is interesting to note how mild the question of whether or not you share your bathroom with an outside party is, compared to some things government has pried into in the past. According to the National Observer, the following are questions asked in the census during the 19th century:

- Is there anyone living here who is insane or idiotic?
- What is the size of his head?
- Is this child illegitimate?
- Has the origin of this child been respectable?

It's a good thing this information is no longer required. Some families have enough arguments as it is without the government getting into the act with such leading questions.

Greek-Americans Seek Agnew Votes

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

An unexpected new factor has been asking for national notice in this quadrennial contest, for the offices of president and vice president: the shift of a bloc of perhaps a million voters from the ranks of the Democrats to the Republican fold and all because of the candidacy of Gov. Spiro Theodore Agnew of Maryland, a Greek-American.

DIRKSEN

Those million-or-so voters are Greek-Americans who are trying right now to bring along with them to the polls to vote for Richard Nixon and Agnew on election day as many as 10 million other Americans of other national origins.

What is the basis for this phenomenon in politics?

From the great Greek orator and statesman Demosthenes to Spiro Agnew is a stretch in time of about 23 centuries, a time during which the great tradition of statecraft that was born in Athens was spread throughout the world.

Mr. Agnew is in the great tradition. He is a classic example of the truth of American opportunity. His presence on the Republican ticket has inspired these million people, with their natural enthusiasm for public service and their pride of heritage, to help prove the great tradition.

It is interesting to note the impact of Greece upon our culture and political life. It crops out in so many ways. In the field of architecture even our high school students are taught the difference between the classic styles of columns such as Doric, Ionic and Corinthian. Venus is still held up as perfection and students of sculpture so readily go back to the days of Phidias, Praxiteles and others. In the field of drama, and particularly tragedy, such names as Sophocles, Euripides and Aristophanes readily come to mind.

In the field of philosophy such names as Socrates, Plato and Aristotle have become household words. In the field of law and statecraft names like Lycurgus and Solon come into our thoughts. That is the culture of Spiro Agnew's ancestral land and it has had a deep impact on American culture through the centuries.

Our Hellenic-American citizens have pushed forward in business, the professions and public service. Their natural propensity for public service is exemplified in George Christopher, who for eight years was mayor of San Francisco, and Dean Lewis, the mayor of Newport, R.I. Gov. Agnew is the first American of Greek ancestry to be chosen to run for high national office, a man who some day may live in the White House.

The Greek-Americans have traditionally been Democrats. They are principally big-city people who generally are opposed to political change. Now they have signified they do indeed want a change, perhaps for practical reasons, such as a yearning for solution of the big-city problems, or a solution to the farm problems which they are not at all close to, and perhaps a push to reach the moon by 1970. But the all-impelling reason is that they want one of their own to preside in high office in the land of their choice.

The manner in which they are promoting Spiro Agnew for the Vice Presidency is interesting and one of the good lessons available in the art of political campaigning.

You can count on your fingers, I am reliably told, the number of Greek-American organizations that have not come out officially for the Nixon - Agnew ticket. This would have been unthought of three months ago when Spiro Agnew was not a candidate. My information has it that 80% of Americans of Greek ancestry are registered Democrats. Of these, more than 90% are estimated as being all out for Nixon and Agnew.

The former Democrats have organized the National Greek-American Grass Roots Committee for Nixon and Agnew and they are organizing chapters everywhere in the country to energize campaign activity and to gather money to pay for it.

This is how the million Hellenes in the United States expect to gather at least 10 million votes for their candidates: every Greek-American restaurant owner, grocer, candy retailer, entertainment tycoon and big-business operator is estimated to come into contact every day with upward of 500 other Americans. If you are one of those 500, then you already know how enthusiastically and effectively the Greek-Americans are campaigning for their candidates. They expect this business-to-customer effort will persuade a minimum of 10 million voters for Nixon and Agnew.

The POWER of FAITH

by WOODI ISHMAEL

The Rev. Daniel E. Marti is minister of the only floating Christian congregation in the U.S. Merchant Marine. Along with his duties as night chef on the S.S. Constitution, he is the spiritual leader of the crew of that great ship. But his ministry is not limited to the seas—it is worldwide.

Inspired to the ministry while recovering from a serious illness in 1956, he was licensed as a preacher after intense study with the Methodist Church.

The S.S. Constitution Christian Church was established in 1957, with the blessing of the executives of the line and the gift of a new pulpit. The Rev. Mr. Marti holds services at sea every Sunday for the crew. The congregation is an active one and has helped build the Universal Christian Church at Cicciano, Italy. Its members have also helped Christian congregations in Italy, Spain and the Middle East with cash donations, Bibles and literature.

A steady contact has been maintained with missionaries going and coming from abroad. The Rev. Mr. Marti has been able to conduct tours of the Holy Land and effectively help shipmates in charitable projects, both at sea and ashore. The most recent project was to acquire a piece of land from the government of Puerto Rico on which to build a chapel for seamen.

Confident Living:

Find the Happiness You Want

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Suppose someone asked you a question put to me the other day. What would be your answer? He asked, "Tell me something. Are you happy?" Well, I'd not had a question like that thrown at me before; in fact, had not considered the matter. What would you say to that question?

DR. PEALE

As for me, sure I am happy. I get a terrific kick out of every day. And that is a fact, too. Oh, of course, I have problems and setbacks. Everything doesn't go the way I want it to every day. And I have my share of unpleasant experiences, but on the whole life is interesting and exciting and full of satisfaction. Yes, I would say unequivocably that I'm happy in an uncheerio, non-back-slapping way.

Excessive professional happyists leave me cold. They are happiness simulators if you ask me. Underneath all their showiness, the joy and serenity are pretty thin. That kind of so-called happiness isn't happiness at all, but rather a pretense form of joy motivated by a desire for the genuine article. Such persons are looking for happiness and pathetically pretending that they have it. And that just doesn't come off.

Well, then, how do you find the happiness that you want? I once heard a man suggest that you can go at this problem experimentally. His idea was to base the secret of happiness upon the things you did that gave the deepest inner joy.

He found, for example, that he enjoyed going out to a charming restaurant for a delicious dinner and a delightful evening with friends. But when he went out of his way to do something generous and kind and unexpected for someone in deep trouble that he "felt so good inside that he could sing for joy."

The reaction to the first experience he defined as pleasure and the reaction to the second as happiness. So to be happy, he concluded, do those things which give you the deepest, most exquisite feelings of joy.

Well, the method has merit in that it points up an old hackneyed truth but one which needs new currency, that it isn't what you do for yourself that really makes you happy, though it may give you justifiable pleasure, but what you do for the poor, the needy, the unfortunate. And it's all the more happiness producing when it's something you could get away without doing but still you do it because something in you tells you that you must.

A man consulted me who complained that he had never been happy since he "became a success. When younger and looking forward to a business career I got a lot of fun out of life. But now I've got it made and the happiness I expected doesn't materialize. How come?"

Offering the trite suggestion that things — cars, TV sets, country clubs — do not necessarily guarantee happiness, though why they should be depreciated I'll never know, I began exploring the things the man was thinking about. Status was one of them. He was advancing steadily but so were others and he felt threatened. He became sensitive about associates, their attitude toward him, what they said and how they said it.

Indeed he lay awake nights endlessly going over slights and rebuffs, asking "Why me, who do they think they are?" and other equally effective sleep disturbers. Naturally he got up from bed disgruntled and hurried downtown to the competitive chip-on-the-shoulder rat race.

I recommended he employ thought therapy. For one thing, I suggested he turn his thoughts, when going to bed, upon the most pleasant thing that had happened during the day and dwell on that. Such procedure would tend to pleasurize his attitudes.

Next that he pray specifically and by name for each of his associates, with special emphasis on "the dirtiest skunks." He was to ask to understand them, to appreciate their qualities, and spiritually to think himself into good relations with them. Then he was to dwell on the real things of life, things like love, health and opportunity.

Revamp your thoughts from the irritating type of agitated going-around-in circles to thoughts of peace and control, and I believe you'll find happiness. He did. And so can anyone.

Expresses Appreciation for Safety Patrols' Work

Hats off to our excellent groups of safety patrol boys and girls in our city. Recently at Central Elementary School a kindergarten girl was found waiting for her family to pick her up after school. After a few minutes one safety patrol boy stayed with her while another went to the office to have the parents contacted and the little girl picked up. These boys did this as a matter of course but they were at least 20 minutes later getting home.

Our appreciation to Mrs. Timney, a teacher from Central Elementary who is in charge of safety patrols, for doing an excellent job instilling responsibility and good fellowship among boys and girls.

'Let Members Choose Candidate to Support'

Why not let the union members choose which candidate they want to support for President of the United States? We do not all agree with the leaders of our union and should be able to make our choice. It could be done by mail with a little money. If this can't be done, we should stick to union business.

Discusses Question of Helmets for Cyclists

To clarify the helmet/motorcycle controversy, the actual question is being hidden by the fact that it is safer to ride a motorcycle with a helmet. The question is: does the government have the right to dictate to the individual the limit of risk he may assume when the risk is his alone? The government has no right to put a limit on the risk the individual may assume if we are to have a constitutional government as in the past—with the power in the hands of the governed, not the governing.

This does not preclude enactment of law which might require that a motorcyclist must provide his passengers with the opportunity to use a helmet, or that a rental agency must provide helmets for each cycle and recommend their use.

The threatened loss of Federal funds is no justification of support of an unconstitutional law. If the law requiring helmets is unconstitutional, which is wrong—to support an unconstitutional law, or lose these funds and stand up for our rights? I have never heard that the price of freedom was cheap.

'Some May Learn Lesson From the Past'

To the people who wail, "so what if a few black people get jobs impossible ten years ago—this has no effect on the desperate needs of the black masses," a few decades ago people were saying, "so what if Henry Ford and a few wealthy sportsmen have horseless carriages—this has no bearing on the transportation needs of the masses."

Several Discuss Candidates for Presidency

In answer to Mr. Hester's evaluation of Wallace as a candidate, showing Alabama's record, a man coming from a poorer state doesn't disqualify him. Some of our best presidents have come from states more poverty-stricken than Alabama. With the interference from northern do-gooders who can't clean up their own ghettos, his record doesn't look as bad as Chicago or Detroit with all their welfare and violence.

What do we have to do to get a president who wants to win the war and bring our boys home honorably; to pull the trigger on the traitorous rioters; stop the abridgement of our freedom to bear arms; pull the string on the Warren Court and stop federal interference in everything from education to welfare. Let Nixon and Humphrey say what they will do on these issues and thinking Americans will listen. Wallace isn't afraid to come out for them.

DONALD R. CRABTREE
5414 LAKE VISTA

Don't be afraid of losing your vote if you vote for Wallace. He may not be elected president, but a vote for him is a vote of protest. The Democrats and Republicans have always told us how to vote but this year we have an alternative. A vote for Wallace is a vote for a change in national policies and the political bosses will have to change their ideas about a lot of things.

I. LEE QUICK
2823 BELAND, KEEGO HARBOR

I attended a "Wallace for President" campaign rally recently and it was quite different from the Democratic or Republican conventions viewed on television. It was opened by Bible reading and prayer, and the main subject was turning America back to God. This man is a Christian and taught a Sunday school class all his life. Let God lead the people to vote for a man who is for turning this Country back to God and all these unruly things that are going on will fall into place.

'School Does Accept Returning Dropouts'

It is not true that Waterford Kettering High School will not take dropouts back in school. Maybe there was a good reason the school wouldn't let a person come back. I dropped out of school when I was a junior, and got married. The next fall I went back as a junior and will graduate next June. Kettering is a fine school and I am proud to be graduating from it.

Question and Answer

On the Tarzan show they had a scene of a river which was supposed to be inhabited by piranha fish. In school we were told they are found only in South America. I've looked in encyclopedia and books on fish and can't find any mention of piranha in Africa. Who goofed?

D. BUTLER

REPLY

Apparently the people with the Tarzan show, although they haven't said so. We received no reply to our letter asking about this discrepancy. However, we checked several sources and found no information that would give Tarzan cause for worry about piranha fish in Africa.

Resistance Soldiers—3

'Newspaper Tiger' Upsets the Military

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — There are a goodly number of military officials who subscribe to the theory that this is the age of the "newspaper tiger."

Take Andrew Stapp, they suggest.

Andy Stapp is a 24-year-old admitted Marxist who has become a national celebrity for the scantiest of reasons — trying to unionize GIs.

Stapp, who was drop-kicked from the Army this year for his efforts, is the leader of something he calls the American Servicemen's Union. He says its purpose is to guarantee soldiers the right of collective bargaining.

SOME PROPOSALS

Some of the proposals:

- An end to all saluting of officers and also an end to calling officers "sir." Stapp wants soldiers to "get off their knees."
- An end to the commission selection of military leaders and the establishment of officer elections. Enlisted men would do the voting.
- Establishment of the right of soldiers to disobey "illegal orders." For example, Stapp feels assignment orders to Vietnam are in this category.

GROWING MEMBERSHIP

Stapp, who has commanded stacks of newsprint publicity for his idea, says with a straight face that he "naturally can't give any specific figures," but he has a large membership list which grows weekly.

"We are," he says, "on our way."

Predictably, the military disagrees. Department of Defense spokesmen insist that Stapp is little more than a nuisance. His name provokes smirks in the halls of the Pentagon and absolutely no serious conversation.

In fact, the only aspect of the Stapp affair that concerns the services is the publicity the young man milked from the national news media.

'AIDED BY PRESS'

Says an Army official:

"The concern is that the press is doing for Stapp what he could not do for himself — that is, gather up widespread interest for his plan.

"Without publicity, Stapp would flounder around for awhile and then quit. But with publicity, he can scrounge on for an undetermined period."

The military uses Andy Stapp as a prime example of the "newspaper tiger" theory. They suggest that anyone or any group with ako oky idea can catch a newsman's ear these days and, presto, gain instant credibility.

An even better illustration of the theory, some officials feel, is just beginning to blossom in newsprint across the country.

'RESISTANCE' MOVEMENT

That is the so-called "Resistance" movement which is known to be organizing (at an unknown pace) within the young enlisted ranks of the four services.

DOD spokesmen label the Resistance as paltry. They catalogue it, largely, as a "bunch of malcontents yapping it up for the newspapers." They say it is mostly localized agitation by long-time preachers of dissent.

The official reaction seems to be very little reaction.

However, the military does admit that even "newpaper tigers" merit investigation. Stapp, for example, has been exhaustively probed. And as for the over-all Resistance, the Pentagon says that military and civilian agencies have scouted it since its activities began late last year.

INFORMATION COMPILED

Investigators report that the antiwar coffeehouses which have appeared near some bases have been inspected, that the influx of antimilitary newspapers are being officially studied, that Resistance-supporting civilian groups have been tabulated as to their activities and their effect.

The DOD has a large, gray folder of information on one aspect of the Resistance alone — a Chicago-based program called Summer of Support.

Authorities are especially interested in SOS because it appears to be the largest, most inventive of the groups under surveillance. It finances all of the coffeehouses and all of the antimilitary newspapers.

In addition, SOS is the only group planning an open Resistance demonstration — a National GI Week celebration scheduled for midfall.

One SOS leader, Rennie Davis, sees the fall demonstration as "Something to show the GIs that we don't blame them for Vietnam. Also, we want to show civilians they can be for GIs and against war at the same time."

Davis guesses that the demonstration will take place late in September. He says many military posts will be visited by SOS delegations.

He adds: "We'll probably hold church services across the nation for soldiers, pass out antiwar leaflets, invite soldiers into private homes for dinner and offer assistance to those complaining of poor treatment."

Finally, he says, "We'll show our support for military deserters."

VIOLENCE FEARED

SOS insists the demonstrations will be nonviolent, but others feel they could easily lead to something else. The military will doubtless balk at inspection delegations and thus confrontations could arise.

Says one colonel at Ft. Jackson, S.C.:

"Our stockades are not open to the public and I doubt we will open them this fall. Furthermore, I don't think we would just sit back and let a large group of antiwar people just roam around the post at will.

"I don't know what our tactics would be, I'm not involved in that end of it. But this is United States government property and we, as soldiers, are sworn to protect it. I'm sure that's just what we'd do."

Many obervers both within and without the military, see the fall demonstrations as "telling" for the Resistance movement as a whole. It might wither from lack of support or bloom if sympathy really develops.

MILITARY COULD LOSE

Either way, though, the military could be the loser.

As one officer explains it:

"It's all up to the newspapers. If the demonstrations do take place, and bickering does develop, some creep will invariably spread catsup on his coat, scream 'Army brutality,' and overnight this whole piddly Resistance thing would become a national crusade."

PLAYS HYMNS — The Rev. Walter J. Teeuwissen Jr., pastor of Community United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains, enjoys spending time at the keyboard of the old-fashioned organ. When serving a pastorate in Iowa he played this organ while visiting in the home of Mrs. Nonnie Taylor who was in her 90s. After her death the family wanted Pastor Teeuwissen to have the organ as he had brought so much pleasure to Mrs. Taylor by playing her favorite hyms. Mrs. Teeuwissen and her husband like singing.

Serve Church 20 Years

Reception Honors Couple

The congregation of Community United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains in Waterford Township will honor the Rev. and Mrs. Walter J. Teeuwissen Jr. with a reception at 7 p.m. Sunday for their 20 years of service to the church and community.

Families and friends are invited to the open house.

Dr. and Mrs. Merle O. Plagge will serve as hosts along with ruling board members of the church and their wives.

During this 20-year pastorate the Bible School enrollment has reached a peak of 1,250 and church membership has more than doubled. The present membership is 731.

The yearly operating budget including current expenses, debt reduction and missions exceeds $90,000.

Physical additions to the building include an educational unit costing $100,000 and a new sanctuary unit with additional classrooms and offices costing near $250,000.

TWO CHURCHES

The congregation was instrumental in founding two United Presbyterian churches in the area, Lakeland and the Church of the Atonement, both in Waterford Township.

Prior to coming to Michigan, the Rev. Mr. Teeuwissen was pastor of the United Presbyterian Church in Indianola, Iowa. During that period he served a term as moderator of the Presbytery of Des Moines and of the Synod of Iowa.

A member of the Board of Directors of Tarkio College, he also was a board member of Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary.

Pastor Teeuwissen was elected to the Board of National Missions United Presbyterian USA by the 1968 General Assembly.

A past moderator of Presbytery of Detroit, he is also a member of the Board of Detroit Industrial Mission and the Metropolitan Council of Churches.

IN BELGIUM

His educational background includes high school and college in Bruges, Belgium where he lived for 10 years.

A graduate of Calvin College, Grand Rapids, he received his theological degree from Westminster Seminary, Philadelphia. He is also a graduate of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and a fact member of the board of directors of the Christian Association for Psychological Studies.

Pastor Teeuwissen was ordained in 1942 by the Presbytery of Des Moines of the United Presbyterian Church of N.A.

The Rev. Mr. Teeuwissen lectures frequently on Church School Administration and at youth conferences.

In addition to articles appearing in a number of religious periodicals, he has prepared Church School material for young people for the Board of Christian Education of his denomination.

For several years he appeared regularly in Christian Family Life writing a column titled "From the Pastor's Notebook."

Mrs. Teeuwissen, the former Verna Smith of Ocean City, N.J. is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute and Westminster Seminary where she studied Hebrew, Greek and Arabic.

A professional member of the National Writers Club, Mrs. Teeuwissen is a past president of PEO Sisterhood, one of the founders of the United Presbyterian Women's Association of Drayton Plains and a member of the Presbyterian organization of Spanish American Outreach.

Mrs. Teeuwissen enjoys writing poetry for various periodicals. For a number of years she contributed a weekly featured home page for the United Presbyterian magazine.

Since 1961 Mrs. Teeuwissen has taught off and on in the Waterford Township Public School System on a substitute basis, chiefly in junior and senior high schools.

DISCUSS MISSIONS—The Rev. Henry D. Jones, missionary associate of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian talks over mission fields in which he has served in foreign lands with the Rev. Walter Ziemba of Orchard Lake Catholic Seminary. He will speak at St. Mary's Catholic College, Orchard Lake Sundby evening in the second of two services concerning the World Council of Churches Assembly in Sweden which he attended in July.

Spanish American Assistant Arrives

Arriving this week to assist Tomas Chavez Jr. for several months in the work of Spanish American Outreach is Baltazar Gonzalez, a native of Matamoros, Mex., and divinity student at the seminary of National Presbyterian Church of Mexico.

An attorney, Gonzalez studied law at the University of Nuevo Leon at Monterrey, Mex.

Through the cooperation of the Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church USA, he was sent by the Mexican church to assist Chavez in his ministry of evangelism and Christian education.

Spanish American Outreach is a United Christian group composed of Spanish Americans of several denominations, and of people from several Latin American countries.

Its purpose is to reach the Spanish speaking who can't understand the English language with the Gospel.

Since there are very few Spanish Americans of Methodist, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Episcopal, Christian and Evangelical background, the movement operates on an ecumenical basis.

Roman Catholics are invited but the main emphasis is to reach those who are unchurched.

Chavez, a Mexican American native of Texas, directs the movement which meets in Detroit with a large membership; and a smaller group which meets at the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church on Sunday evenings.

VISITS MIGRANTS

Chavez also visits migrant camps where he gives out Christian literature, and assists Spanish Americans in other ways. They come to him to serve as an interpreter or for help in obtaining employment or a driver's license.

According to Chavez, volunteers are needed to help as church school teachers on Sunday evenings. Anyone interested in this work may call Pastor Edmond Watkins at the Joslyn Avenue Church.

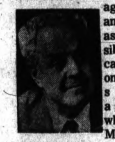
Opening lead—♥ Q

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Sam Slayman of New York, one of our great players, is particularly noted for his courage under fire and for scoring as much as possible on all occasions. His top on today's hand stood up against the whole field in Minneapolis and might well stand against the entire country.



JACOBY

Mrs. Stayman had plenty of courage also. Her double of one diamond was a modern negative double to show strength in the unbid suits. Sam's bid of four spades was based on his feeling that his partner would surely hold four cards in that suit.

He might have run to the reasonably safe five clubs after West's double but Mrs. Stayman redoubled and Sam was ready to gamble things out.

A diamond opening followed by a shift to clubs after cashing two diamonds would have led to a two-trick set but West had heard his partner's four heart call and decided to open the queen of hearts.

Sam won in dummy and discarded one of his diamonds. Then he thought awhile and decided to go after everything that was not nailed down. He cashed the other high heart to get rid of his last losing diamond.

Next came a low spade to his queen. West took his ace and led a diamond which Sam ruffed. Now Sam thought for quite a while. If West had started with four spades and two clubs the winning play would be to go after clubs and make his contract by sheer power.

That play would fail miserably against the actual spade-club holding, and Sam decided against it. Instead he played his king of trumps. When both opponents followed Sam spread his hand and announced that he would lead clubs until West decided to take his high trump.

♠ A Q 8 7 6 ♥ A K 9 5 4 3 ♦ 2 ♣ 4 2

What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump. This will tell your partner that your side holds all the aces. You do not intend to bid seven on your own hook but if partner wants to jump you will be happy to play the hand there.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner opens with a forcing bid of two spades. You, South, hold

Black Panther Jailed; Aide Due to Follow

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The organizer of the Black Panthers was sent to prison Friday, and the Negro militant group's minister of information was ordered back to jail as a parole violator.

Huey Newton, 26, the group's founder, was whisked away in a heavily guarded station wagon after being sentenced to 2 to 15 years on a conviction of voluntary manslaughter in the gunfight death a year ago of Oakland policeman John Frey. Newton's attorney said an appeal would be filed.

Later, in San Francisco, the state Court of Appeal revoked the parole of Eldridge Cleaver, 33, the group's minister of information.

It was not clear when Cleaver's return-to-prison order would be effective. The clerk of the appellate court said Cleaver probably would remain free pending action by the state Supreme Court on any appeal. A Cleaver attorney, Charles Garry, said the parole revocation order would not become effective for 60 days and that an appeal would be filed.

NO STATEMENT

Cleaver could not be reached for comment, and a spokesman at Black Panther headquarters in Berkeley said: "We have no statement now. Tomorrow."

The California Adult Authority had lifted Cleaver's parole in April after he was indicted on a charge of attempted murder after a gunfight between Black Panthers and Oakland police. He faces trial on that charge Dec. 2. One Panther was killed and two white policemen wounded in a two-hour exchange of gunfire.

Cleaver was paroled in 1966 after serving nine years in state prison on conviction for assault to commit rape, assault to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon. While in prison, he completed his high school education and wrote an autobiography, "Soul on Ice," which was published this year and received generally favorable reviews.

Judge Raymond Sherwin of the Solano Superior Court declared in June that the adult authority was politically motivated in revoking Cleaver's parole and ordered him released.

FOCAL POINT OF UPROAR

Since then Cleaver became the focal point of an academic uproar. Officials at the University of California's Berkeley campus school invited him to make 10 lectures to an experimental sociology course on racism. Gov. Ronald Reagan and the state legislature expressed outrage, and the state Board of Regents directed that Cleaver — and any other guest lecturer — be limited to one classroom appearance a semester.

Car-Warranty Cutbacks Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission says the auto industry is making cutbacks in its new car warranties that could pass on $300 million in repair costs to the consumer.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., made public the FTC estimates that the manufacturers would be saving about $40 per car through warranty reductions this fall. Magnuson criticized this sharply, on top of already-announced price increases averaging about $50 per automobile.

Magnuson said the cost to the consumer could go up even more since the repair work a dealer might do at a $40 rate under a manufacturer's warranty could cost up to twice that much when higher markups and labor rates are applied to bills for owners.

Hoping for Russian Troop Withdrawals

Czechs Watch for Moves in Soviet Talks

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovaks today watched for new moves in behind-the-scenes negotiations to get some of the half-million troops occupying this country to leave.

He was received by Czechoslovak leaders, including Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek, and the partial troop withdrawal was believed to have been one of the topics discussed.

The Soviet Union is expected to leave about 100,000 troops permanently and to withdraw the other 400,000 that occupied this country during the night of Aug. 20-21.

The partial withdrawal was reported to have been promised to Premier Oldrich Cernik when he went to Moscow last week to sign an economic agreement.

A Czechoslovak delegation scheduled a trip to Moscow a week ago to discuss the final details, but the talks were canceled at the last moment.

Moscow leaders were reportedly unwilling to receive a delegation headed by Dubcek, who started the Czechoslovak liberalization drive that promoted the Soviet invasion.

Informed sources say it has been agreed that a government delegation instead of a joint party-government delegation will make the trip to Moscow within the next few days. Cernik would lead the mission.

Although the Soviets are reported seeking changes in the Czechoslovak leadership, it appeared they would be faced with having to impose a military government if any of the leading liberal Communists like Dubcek, Cernik and National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky were removed from power.

Dubcek, Cernik and Smrkovsky enjoy a popularity unparalleled in the almost 50-year history of Czechoslovakia, and observers here believe that any change in the top jobs would bring the resistance to the Soviet occupation out into the open and possibly to an armed conflict.

Despite the lightning military occupation, the Soviets have made no political progress in trying to impose a Moscow-oriented government on this country.

U.S. Olympic Dress Sure Winner

Opening day ceremonies on Oct. 12 of the XIX Olympiad in Mexico City will see women members of the US Olympic Team parade in uniforms designed by Judith Schwartz, which feature a long-sleeved princess line white dress made of Burlington Knit Fabrics and executed by Catalina, Inc. The men's parade uniform, designed by Jerrolyn Crooks, features a double-breasted red blazer jacket, slightly shaped, with side vents, executed by Palm Beach in a rugged Burlington Men's Wear blended fabric. Slacks are a trim blue and white pinstripe.

The leisure-time jacket for members of the U.S. Olympic Team features a button-up Skol collar, raglan sleeves and is tailored of Pimasheen Poplin—65 per cent Dacron Polyester and 35 per cent Cotton. The fabric breathes when dry—seals when wet. Both the men's and women's jackets are in eggshell color.

AP Wirephoto

Women's Section

Post-Christmas vows are slated by Mary Lou Seavey and Daniel J. Baker. Parents of the couple are the Merle Seaveys of Wichita, Kan., and the Merritt H. Bakers of West Walton Boulevard. The bride elect is a senior at Milligan College, Tenn., her fiance's alma mater.

OU Plans Class on 'Ghetto Life'

For those concerned about life in the inner-city Negro community, Oakland University's Continuum Center for Women is again offering a ten-week course in "Ghetto Life" which will begin Oct. 3.

Once-a-week sessions will continue each Thursday from 9 to 11 a.m. through Dec. 5.

The course will consist of lectures, films and field trips to inner city areas of Pontiac where individuals will be met and participants will gain fuller understanding of the strengths in the ghetto and the problems created when its residents come in contact with those of different backgrounds. The language of the ghetto will be studied.

Among the speakers to be featured are Albert Shaw, Pontiac Community School director and an adviser to POOBY (Pontiac Organization of Black Youth); Charity Lindsey, Office of Economic Opportunity staff member; Howard Caldwell, principal of McConnell School; Eugenia Benion, community leader, McConnell School, and Mrs. Carole Williams, executive director of the Volunteer Placement Corps in Detroit.

Each speaker will cover various aspects of the course and is equipped to do so from their own background of experience.

Further information may be obtained by calling or visiting the Continuum Center, South Foundation Hall, Oakland University, Rochester.

Time to End This Silly Triangle; Tell Him You've Made a Decision

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and in love with a man who is 28. He knows how much I love him because I've told him so. He says he loves me, too, but he is also going with another girl. (She saw him first.) This other girl knows all about he and I, but she doesn't want to give him up either because she is also in love with him. He says he is trying to make his mind up about which one of us he wants, but he is having a very hard time.

ABBY

Twice in six months I have given him a deadline, but when the time expires, I extend it. I don't seem to be making any headway with him. How do I get him to make up his mind?

"DI"

DEAR "DI:" Tell him that you have made up YOURS — and you don't want him! If he doesn't beg you to reconsider, you haven't lost anything. If he does, tell him, to come up with the ring or to leave you alone. (And YOU leave HIM alone.)

DEAR ABBY: Now I've heard everything! Last summer, a cute little newlywed couple moved into the apartment next to ours. They fought all the time, so nobody was surprised when the wife went home to mamma. It seems she took everything but the kitchen sink. All the dishes, silverware, pots, pans, appliances and just about everything that wasn't nailed down.

Now the people in the building are giving the husband a "shower" to set him up in housekeeping. Isn't that the end?

HEARD EVERYTHING

DEAR HEARD: Probably not. About the time you think you've heard everything, you hear something to top it.

Guest List Is Still Divided Between Them

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend is to be married this fall. The groom-to-be is a member of the state assembly. His family is Italian and his mother wants them to have an old-country style Italian wedding with approximately 1200-1500 guests.

The groom's mother believes that she should be entitled to about half the guest list, inasmuch as the bride's family is not paying for the wedding. When the couple pays, is the percentage of the list allotted to the groom increased? Is there some rule of etiquette which would ease this situation? — Sue

Dear Sue: Weddings with 1200-1500 guests may be fine in old-country Italian style, but in America they are unusual, to say the least. Very little sentiment, and no intimacy, is possible.

My advice is to persuade the bride's future mother-in-law that in this country such an affair would seem ostentatious and in poor taste, and that her list should be cut approximately in half.

No matter who pays for the wedding, the guest list should be evenly divided between the two families. Only when one family makes it clear that they do not wish to use their half, may the other add to their list.

Police Solve Snakenaping

OCEAN CITY, N.J. (AP) — Police hunted a snakenaper for several hours Friday.

Walter McLaughlin, 17, reported about 4:30 p.m. that his pet boa constrictor had been stolen.

He told a jittery patrolman that he found a window of his home open, the 4-foot-long snake gone but nothing else disturbed. McLaughlin said that he suspected a schoolmate who had tried to buy the snake and that he wouldn't press charges if the boa was returned.

McLaughlin's hunch paid off. Police found the schoolmate, persuaded him to return the snake, and all was forgiven.

McLaughlin described his pet as quiet and unassuming.

Murder, Suicide in Redford Twp.

DETROIT (AP) — Denys A. Watton, 38, and his wife, Phyllis, 36, were found dead Friday night on the front lawn of their home in suburban Redford Township, and police said the shotgun slayings apparently were a murder-suicide spawned by a family argument. A 12-gauge shotgun was found near the husband's body, police said. Both had been shot in the upper parts of their bodies. Police said it appeared Watton shot and killed his wife, then took his own life.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Michigan soldiers were among those named by the Defense Department Friday as recent victims of action in Vietnam.

Killed in action were: Spec. 5 Dennis W. Kosebs, husband of Audrey J. Kosebs of Beaverton; Pfc. Blaine E. Cailliban, son of James Cailliban of Detroit; and Pfc. Joseph A. Maiuano, son of Mrs. Jeanette M. Combs of Detroit.

Judge Drops Abortion Case

An abortion charge was dismissed yesterday against a Clawson doctor accused of performing the illegal operation on a coed last December.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer ruled yesterday that there was insufficient evidence to bring the physician, Dr. Charles S. Hawes, to trial. Hawes practices in Ferndale.

The motion to dismiss the case was made by Hawes' attorney, Carlton Roeser of Pontiac.

The prosecutor's office has not yet decided if it will recharge Hawes or appeal Beer's ruling.

Pontiac Man, Teen Charged With Assault

A Pontiac man and his 17-year-old neighbor were arraigned in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday and ordered to stand trial on charges of assault with intent to commit murder.

James Metoyer, 34, of 115 Center and McLain Williams, 114 Center, pleaded innocent and were freed on $1,000 bond each. No trial date was set.

The charges stem from an incident last month when one man and two youths were wounded by shotgun blasts after a family feud developed, according to Pontiac police.

Williams allegedly shot Metoyer's brother, Alphonse, 38, and Metoyer's son, William, 16. Police said Metoyer shot Williams in apparent retaliation.

Frink Challenges Rep. McDonald to Series of Debates

Gary R. Frink, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 19th District, today challenged his opponent in the November election, Rep. Jack McDonald, to a series of debates on major issues.

"We have had a great deal of heat in our campaign so far, but very little light," the 35-year-old attorney from Pontiac said.

He suggested that the debates be held in high schools and colleges in the district "in order to increase even further the concern which our young people have already demonstrated in politics this year."

* * *

"This is one of the major contributions that we candidates can make to American society — to encourage our youth to express themselves within the American system of democracy."

U.S. Okays Grant for Play Equipment

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., today announced that the Department of Interior has authorized a $20,000 grant to Pontiac for purchase of playground and park equipment.

The grant was made under a program whereby the federal government puts in funds to match the amount the city will spend on the new equipment.

* * *

Officials said the $40,000 worth of new equipment will be dispersed to parks and playground sites throughout the city.

News in Brief

Seven protable televisions sets were stolen in a break-in at Copenhaver TV, 596 W. Huron, it was reported yesterday to Pontiac Police.

Waterford to Eye Appropriation for Police Overtime

An appropriation to the Waterford Township Police Department budget will be considered by the township board at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday at Waterford Township High School.

Police Chief William Stokes will submit an estimate of the overtime hours to be worked by his officers the next three months.

The projection was requested by Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson so that the board can determine the amount of the allocation needed.

* * *

To date, the police overtime budget has gone $4,264 over the $10,000 allocated, causing a cutback in overtime with the occasional result that only one or two police officers have been able to cover the township.

THINK ABOUT IT!

MAY WE HELP?

"What can I do to help you" . . . and . . "What's in it for me" . . . are two opposing attitudes. "What's in it for me" is a self centered demand, lacks every altruistic and lofty purpose.

The "What's in it for me" attitude has identified people in the past just as it labels people today. Judas received his infamous thirty pieces of dirty silver by dramatizing the thought in the lowest and crudest form.

Gradually and happily, it does seem at times that a better philosophy is taking hold. More and more we hear incidents, we see examples of "Can I help you" . . . Strangely enough, (or is it so strange?) the "Can I help you" attitude has a wonderful way to remove the fatal flaw of greed. More often than not, the "Can I help you" attitude provides us with an ample answer to "What's in it for me" . . . HUNTOON FUNERAL HOME, 79 Oakland Avenue, Pontiac. ACKNOWLEDGMENT CARDS

Authorities on proper etiquette have long agreed that acknowledgment of floral offerings, donations to a charitable organization, mass cards, etc., should be a hand written note.

J. L. VOORHEES

It has long been accepted that acknowledgment cards will suffice in cases where there are many acknowledgments required.

Where a group of friends or neighbors have joined together in an offering, an individual acknowledgment should be sent to each person named.

Where an offering is sent by a fraternal or social organization one card addressed to an officer and its members will suffice.

Trees Make a Community

It gives names, types, sizes and other instructive data on various kinds of trees.

GROWTH RATE

The booklet also discusses rate of growth, climate and soil conditions, and it recommends varieties for specific needs.

What kinds of trees have given the community its character? What trees are best in this kind of soil in this climate? What trees recall local history and background?

Questions like those are among the topics in the new booklet.

"Trees For Better Neighborhoods" was published by Chevron Chemical Co., San Francisco.

Its theme is: "When you see a neighborhood rich with trees you know the living is good there."

Tubed Fix-It Products Guarantee Repair

Manufacturers of repair materials sold in small tubes are turning them out in such great variety that it is almost impossible to keep track of them.

A recent check of the inventory of a well-stocked hardware store made it evident that no matter what the repair or the nature of the substance, there is a product designed to correct the trouble. Among the items turned up, all in tubes, were:

• Real rubber in semipaste form. Originally developed for industrial use in the repair of worn conveyor belting, rubber hoses in chemical plants and similar factory objects, it is recommended for mending tents, canvas, rubber footwear, plastic swimming pools, raincoats, beach balls, inflatables, toys, garden hoses, loose handles and even leaks in water pipes.

• Steel, also of semipaste consistency. Seals, mends and caulks pipes, radiators, furniture, etc. Has the unusual quality, when hardened, of turning the color of copper, silver, brass or bronze when rubbed with one of those metals.

For example, it is said to turn copper-color when rubbed with a penny.

• A glass caulk that adheres to glass, metal, rubber, masonry and wood. Can be applied to storm and casement windows, flashing, roof vents, electrical insulation, windshields, vehicle headlights and taillights, etc.

• A bathtub caulk that provides a flexible silicone seal that is waterproof when used around showers, bathtubs, sinks and other plumbing fixtures.

• A fabric mender for making repairs to cottens, woolens, felt, canvas, nylon, corduroy, leather, auto upholstery, appliques, etc.

• A marine sealant that adheres to fiber glass, regular glass, metals, wood and plastic, with the quality of being waterproof in either salt or fresh water.

• A plastic adhesive for mending vinyl, acrylic, phenolic and other styrene plastics.

• A waterproof, nonshrinking epoxy glue for use on porcelain and enamel bathtubs, sinks, refrigerators, stoves, lamps, toilet bowls, pot handles, etc. Dries to a white, shiny, porcelain-like finish.

Revolution

Carpets Take to Side Walls

The carpeting industry has come a long way since the days when carpets were used only as wall decorations, and floors were covered with rushes or sand.

Nonetheless, clever interior decorators and even more clever homemakers constantly are discovering new and fascinating uses for this luxury covering, whose cost has been brought within range of the average family by the advent of synthetic fibers.

Decorators at Armstrong Cork Co. have been conducting an informal survey to determine how Americans are putting carpeting to use in ways other than the traditional "install-it-and-walk-on-it." What they've found out and what they've come up with on their own can almost be classified as a carpeting revolution.

Imagine, for instance, carpeting a pool-side couch or lounge chair, on which swimmers can "towel-off." Way out as it may sound, this gives promise of taking hold in some of the poshest communities in "pool country," including Beverly Hills, Palm Springs and Coral Gables. Nor is it entirely uncommon in these homes to see carpeted benches and walls which, in addition to their practical application, serve to soften the "bathhouse" character of the pool area.

WALL HANGINGS

The Renaissance custom of hanging carpets on walls or draping them over tables "because they were too beautiful and costly to walk upon" has been resurrected. Today, in up-to-date dwellings from low-silhouette ranch houses in the Southwest to sophisticated town houses on Sutton Place, carpet again is being hung on the wall.

In the Southwest, one may see carpeting with a primitive motif used as a backdrop for a display of pre-Columbian-Indian artifacts. In Manhattan, a wall-hung carpet with a brilliant sunburst center brightens a dark entrance foyer. Some carpet fanciers note that interchanging carpeted walls is more fun and less mess than repainting every few years.

A growing number of housewives are finding that carpet applied to the shelves of kitchen cabinets goes a long way towards eliminating the clatter of crockery. These women are showing off their best china in breakfronts with carpeted shelves that match the carpet on the dining room floor.

Since Cleopatra in 31 B.C. had herself smuggled into the presence of Mark Anthony in a bale of Persian carpets, innovators have been seeking new uses for this soft underfooting.

It would seem that the search isn't over yet.

Allowed her choice of decoration, Brooke had her dad make and mount a tree on her wall. She affixed shades of green felt leaves and made a pink felt monkey to hang from the branches. The wall decoration emphasizes the jungle print of her colorful bedspread.

Even Temperature Is Featured

A new electric heating system featuring a maintenance-free, solid state, heat storage element to level out extreme highs and lows in the heating cycle has been announced.

The individual self-contained units are completely assembled and ready for use in residential new construction, conversion, remodeling or add-on installations for total or supplemental heating. Units work equally well in commercial applications.

Units are easily installed and heat electrically without ducts, pipes or blowing air. Water or other liquid substances are not used in the units so there is no danger of leakage or freezing, according to the manufacturer.

EVEN HEAT

Comfortable, even heat is accomplished through a newly developed heat storage material surrounding the resistance element in the all aluminum heating core. This assembly retains heat during the unit's OFF period, releasing warmth at a constant level to maintain the select level of comfort.

Compared to other heating systems which rely on heated water to transfer warmth into the room, the units are quieter and offer greater installation flexibility, according to the manufacturer.

Special case design prevents children or pets from coming in contact with the heating element. Placement of the radiating fins and inner reflector directs warm air away from walls and drapes.

A thermal safety cut-out switch extends the full length of the heating element to sense possible over-heating conditions and immediately turns off the unit. Once cooled to a safe level, the unit automatically returns to normal operations.

Only 2½-inches wide, the unit's thin profile maximizes available floor space and permits more freedom of furniture placement.

Wall mounted thermostats may be installed to give individual room or zone control. Special end-mounted thermostat sections complementing the unit's design also are available.

Protect Patio From Grease

Grease splattered from an outdoor barbecue can discolor stones in your patio and make them slippery.

Prevent this trouble by placing a circular or rectangular mat of ¼" hardboard underneath the cooking unit to catch the grease splashes.

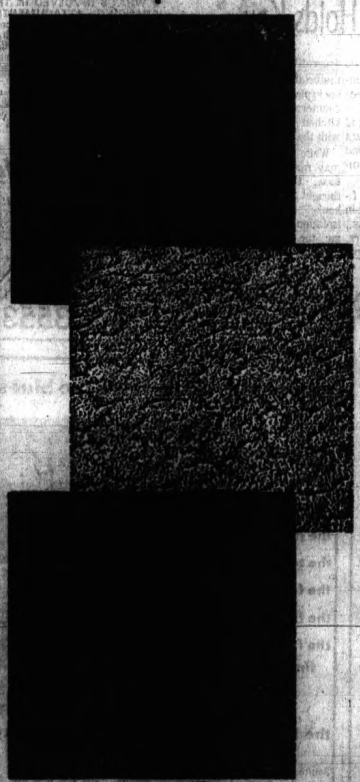
The Importance of the Carpet Fiber



The Carpet Fiber is the basic ingredient which dictates the carpet strength, texture, styling and wearability. There are many fibers with certain advantages and some with disadvantages. Because of the ever changing and new developments in the fiber world, it is almost impossible to be aware of all the new fiber developments.

For this reason it is wise to purchase your carpeting from a dealer who knows all about carpeting fibers. Spencers keep up with the latest developments and the advantages of each new fiber. They will advise you wisely on the fiber best suited for your use.

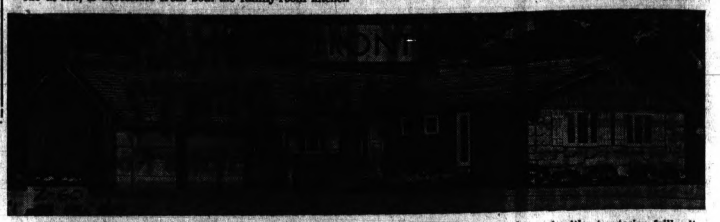
REAR PORCH — Delightful covered porch, with barbecue at left, is accessible from both the family-room kitchen and living room through sliding glass doors.



Simple Construction in L-Shaped Ranch

FRIENDLY AND COZY — The charm of this L-shaped ranch lies, to a large degree, in its lack of pretentiousness. Constructed of two rectangles and without exterior frills, it nevertheless imparts a feeling of warmth and hospitality.

Farmlike in its simplicity, this L-shaped ranch exudes charm and friendliness. But the house has more than pleasant aesthetics. It is functional in layout, simple in construction and economical to build.

The three-bedroom dwelling has a habitable area of 1450 square feet within basic dimensions of 41'8" by 52', with the frontage increased to 61'10" by the two-car garage.

Architect Samuel Paul has placed a covered porch at the rear to add livability during pleasant weather.

The entrance court which leads to the front door is at the angled part of the L. A. central foyer permits easy movement to all the rooms: living room, dining room, kitchen-family room and the bedroom wing. Off the foyer are two large closets which separate it from the dining room.

Approaching the living room, the eye is caught by a corner stone fireplace diagonally opposite, which can also be viewed from the dining room.

The dining room, although a completely separate room entered from the foyer, has one side fully open to the living room, creating a feeling of spaciousness. A window looks out on the covered rear porch.

The large kitchen-family room combination has three exposures. The kitchen portion toward the front of the house commands a view of anyone coming to the front door.

It contains all the latest in equipment, including a wall oven, dishwasher, large refrigerator, wall cabinets and base cabinets.

INFORMAL DINING

Space is provided for informal dining in the kitchen area. The family room section is to the rear. The large covered porch flanks the living room and family room, with easy access from each area.

It features an outdoor barbecue. Off the family room and adjacent to the two-car garage is a stair leading to the basement.

The stair is also convenient directly from the outdoors. The full basement includes a laundry room, heater and ample storage.

At the front of the house, the bedroom wing has three bedrooms, two of which have double exposures. This area is reached by an offset hall which gives privacy to each bedroom.

The master bedroom suite includes a bathroom equipped with a shower stall, vanity and water closet. The main bath has a double basin, large medicine closet, built-in tub and water closet. An abundance of closets and windows is part of the ensemble.

SIMPLE PLAN

The arrangement of two simple rectangles results in economical construction. Stock-sized lumber is used for a minimum of waste.

The roofline is accentuated by extended overhangs over the garage, giving variety and interest. The vertical siding, fascia and eaves have the natural rich color of redwood, counterpointed against stone veneer.

Ceramic Tile Blends Perfectly

Ceramic tile is a very "modern" product in the functional sense. It's easy to clean, durable and lasts a lifetime.

But tile is also a time-honored product that blends perfectly with both old and new styles of design, and will enhance the decor of your home whether it is Old World, Early America, Moorish, French Provincial or Contemporary.

Pros Do Most Remodeling

Of the record $12 billion spent on single-family home improvements last year, 68.1 percent was spent on work done by contractors, and 31.9 percent was spent by do-it-yourselfers, according to a national builders' magazine.

Total expenditures were highest for exterior improvements, with kitchen and bathroom remodeling running second and third.

Convenience Holds Key

American maledom, with its passion for gadgetry and improved materials, has turned the modern kitchen into a paradise of convenience and efficiency that only a few years ago would have been far beyond the Little Woman's wildest imagination.

Self-cleaning ovens, self-defrosting refrigerators, built-in hot plates and ovens, dishwashers, automatic stirrers, towel dispensers, roll-out cabinets, and broad use of decorative but practical materials like ceramic tile on backsplashes, floors and countertops have kept the kitchen technologically apace with the astronaut's capsule.

While the modern kitchen may make cooking a dream of ease, though, it's still often thought of as a "back-of-the-house" place where the cook's isolation is about as complete as the astronaut's in his capsule.

That may have been all right when the cook was a hired outsider, but today's housewife-mother-cook usually finds her isolation a frustrating experience.

New 12 hp Sovereign 3012 — the most powerful, most versatile Simplicity tractor. Features include super-smooth synchro-balanced engine . . . unique-design variable speed control, with single-lever selection of the eight ground speed while attachments operate at peak performance.

Before buying any riding tractor, take its measure with Simplicity

■ SELECTION? With Simplicity in 1968, you pick from five new tractors (5 to 12 hp) and a 4 hp riding mower. You get "job-tailored" tractor choice.

■ NO-SCALP MOWING? If the mower's mounted on the tractor frame, you'll get scalping. By contrast, Simplicity's patented mounting suspends the mower from the front axle. Can't scalp — because the front wheels "telegraph" every change in ground contour.

■ ARE THE ATTACHMENTS MATCHED? Some tractor-makers buy and "adapt" basic attachments. But Simplicity designs and builds its own. When you put a Simplicity attachment on a Simplicity tractor, the combination works in perfect harmony.

■ WHAT'S INVOLVED IN THE CHANGING ATTACHMENTS? Don't take anybody's word for it. Insist on a demonstration. You'll be amazed at the quick-changing difference that results from Simplicity's made-for-each-other tractor-attachment design.

■ START COMPARING! Our yardstick of riding tractor values demonstrates the measurable difference between Simplicity and all other brands.

Window Lowers Boom on Upkeep

Painting and puttying have been eliminated in a new low-maintenance window now being manufactured.

The new window has a rigid vinyl sheathing over a preservative-treated wood core that does not need painting, and will not pit, rust or corrode.

Water Repellent Aids Fir Decks

A "finish" of clear water repellent helps cedar or fir deck boards to weather faster and more uniformly.

Apply it liberally with a sponge mop or brush, using as much repellent as the wood will absorb.

With Proper Planning

A Fence Has Several Uses

A fence can be for privacy, for looks or to establish a property line. It can do one or many things and it can be attractive and useful if you plan it well.

If you plan to put up a fence, check first with your local building department. Local ordinances differ concerning height, types of fencing and location. Generally, your fence should not encroach on adjoining property or on a right-of-way.

Plan a fence that will blend or harmonize with house and property.

A white picket fence, for example, goes with a tailored, well-manicured lawn and garden. With tall shrubbery and trees a rustic fence may be more appropriate. A fence made of material similar to your house would look like an extension of the house wall.

HORIZONTAL

Keep the top of the fence horizontal. This is especially important near the house. If it is some distance from the house, a sloping fence line may be all right. If there is a severe slope near the house, change the line of the fence in a series of steps.

Types of fences are limited by your imagination and your pocketbook. Lumber yards often carry a wide variety of fences made up in eight-foot lengths. If you see something you like, you may be able to save money by purchasing the material and fabricating your own.

Figure carefully though, and allow some value for your time. Prefabrication of fence panels can be relatively inexpensive when mass-produced.

Heavy steel-wire fencing, generally used for protection and privacy rather than looks, is best installed by a fencing company. Special equipment is needed to stretch the fence so that it will be taut.

STRENGTH

The main strength of a fence is provided by its posts. Generally these are of 4x4 stock. Doubled 2x4s can be used but this is not as desirable. Posts this size are good enough for picket fences up to six feet high.

Higher fences or solid fences — which would offer wind resistance — should have 6x6 posts. Use 6x6s for corner posts in any event.

For even a light fence sink posts at least two feet. For a high or solid fence, add another six or 12 inches to the depth.

Fence posts should be treated with a preservative. If you cannot buy treated stock, soak the posts in preservative overnight or longer.

SPRAY

If you can't find a container large enough for soaking, spray or paint the solution on. Have posts dry so they will soak up the preservative. Be careful in handling the posts since most preservatives can irritate the skin.

For digging the post holes buy or rent an auger or post hole digger. The former is twisted into the earth like a drill. The latter looks like two shovels hinged together for lifting out the earth — good in rocky soil.

If your soil is well-drained, keep your holes to the size you need. In clay dig a wider hole and fill with gravel to permit drainage.

If the soil is loose and may not hold, nail a couple of cross-cleats (2x3 scraps about a foot long) at the bottom and pack soil in.

FOR AULD LANG SYNE — Dr. and Mrs. David Loewith of Hosner Road, Addison Township; are delighted with the friendship door started by their home's former owner and builder, Charles D. Pierce. The home was originally a stable with a tack room. Friends who accompanied Mr. Pierce on hunts were invited to sign the door. Their signatures were then burned into the wood for permanence. The Loewiths are continuing the tradition.

Carpet Care Overlooked?

Now that summer cleaning chores are nearly over — if they ever are — it might be a good time to take a second look around to see if anything has been missed.

How about your rugs and carpets? A recent survey conducted by the Johnson Wax consumer service showed that about 87 per cent of all American homes have room sized rugs or wall-to-wall carpeting.

CLEAN RUGS

The survey also showed that about half of these rugs and carpets are cleaned once a year by the do-it-yourself method, another 20 per cent of them are cleaned by professionals, but the remaining 30 per cent of the nation's rugs rarely, if ever, get cleaned.

A new aerosol rug cleaner on the market can clean a 10 by 14 foot rug in less than an hour without using any special equipment.

Stop Water Leaks in Basement Walls

ment wall where water seeps in after a rain? Such cracks are a common problem where settling of a house has taken place in the years following construction.

The moisture these cracks permit to enter the basement contributes to the high humidity of the basement and promotes mildew.

Correcting the situation has been a problem in the past. Repairs made from the inside have proved temporary at best, while repairs from the outside have required extensive excavating alongside the foundation to the point of the crack.

SIMPLE TO USE

Such bothersome leaks can be stopped by just pouring a ready-to-use liquid on the ground outdoors above the leaking area. The product, made by National Gypsum Company, is called "Hydro-Stop" and is available locally.

Hydro-stop is a milky fluid that comes packaged in an easy-to-handle plastic jug. To apply it, you dig a shallow trench about 6 inches deep in the ground next to the basement wall, just above the leaking area. This will concentrate the fluid into the section of the wall where it is needed.

If the ground is dry, it should be well soaked to a depth of 6 to 8 inches with a hose. Except in extreme cases, sufficient moisture is found below this level for proper function of the sealing fluid.

When poured into the prepared trench, Hydro-Stop will seek the natural channels through which water seeps and find its way into the cracks themselves.

TWO APPLICATIONS

Two applicattions of a gallon each, 24 hours apart, are usually required for the majority of basement leaks. However, larger or more extensive cracks may require more applications.

Hydro-Stop may be applied in wet weather — even during a light rain. In cases where the ground adjacent to the basement is covered with a paved driveway or walk or is otherwise not exposed, National Gypsum engineers recommend either of the following procedures:

- Drill a ½-inch vertical hole down through the driveway or walk, about a foot into the ground, alongside the wall, or
- Drill a ½-inch horizontal hole through the wall from inside the basement about 18 inches below the ground or below any outside obstruction in the area.

Then simply pour Hydro-Stop into the hole, using a funnel. In the case of the horizontal drilling from inside the basement, use a piece of pipe through the hole and a rubber hose to angle the liquid from the funnel, as illustrated.

Pieces of aromatic red cedar can be applied to plaster or finished wallboard in remodeling projects.

Feed Lawn in Autumn

This is nature's season for feeding grass. As fall rains wet the soil and temperatures become cooler, grass that has been somewhat dormant in hot, dry weather, begins to establish new root growth.

Horticulturists at The Davey Tree Company Technical Service Center at Kent, Ohio, explain that in the early fall Northern grasses grow much of the root system needed to carry them through the spring flush of growth and the heat of summer the following year. Bluegrass is a "cool weather crop," thriving under cool, moist conditions.

During the fall, healthy grass tends to fill in sparse areas by sending out new shoots from the base of each grass plant, thickening the turf. Annual weeds which grow from seed each year are very active during spring and summer but die out in the fall when cool weather starts.

* * *

The homeowner can get more return on money spent for seed and fertilizer by feeding lawns in the fall when weed competition is reduced and grass naturally grows well. In most areas, the fall feeding season extends from around Labor Day to mid-October.

* * *

Agricultural scientists recommend lawn food high in nitrogen and relatively low in phosphorus and potash. The best results come from a combination of readily available nutrients for early growth and ureaform for the slower release of nitrogen which makes it available over a longer period of time.

Instant Hot Water Saves Money, Time

You probably have hot water in your home, but chances are, you don't always have it when you want it. When you turn on a hot water faucet, for instance, do you have to let it run a while before getting a good, hot flow?

Such long waits for hot water are not only annoying — they're expensive. If you pay the water bill at your house, you literally watch money go down the drain while you wait.

Inconvenient, costly waits for hot water can be eliminated. With a circulating system, hot water is kept in constant motion between the heater and fixtures. This not only provides instant hot water and saves water, but conserves heater fuel, as well.

* * *

Along with installing a circulating system, your home may also need a new water heater. Many homes outgrow their heaters because of increases in family size and additional appliances.

SELECTION

In selecting a new heater, it is especially important to choose one big enough to meet special as well as everyday household requirement. A properly-sized unit (40 gallons is a recommended minimum) will not only give hot water at all times, but will also last longer.

If you have hydronically (hot water) heater homes consider using indirect water heating. With this method, the same boiler that heats the house also furnishes hot water for fixtures and appliances.

Homeowners should contact a reputable plumbing contractor for full information about hot water — when and where you want it and as much as you want.

HELP! — Houses, like people, need protection from the sun. One of the best ways to protect the roof is to use asphalt shingles which have a layer of rock-hard mineral granules that screen out drying ultra-violet rays and insure the roof's durability.

EASY TO CLEAN—To simplify cleaning chores, Mrs. Arthur R. Stiller of Perryville Road, Groveland Township, hangs her converted antique lanterns from a hook. "The bugs were a problem in the summer as they flocked to the light source," said Mrs. Stiller. "Now it is a simple project to unplug the lantern, lift it down and clean the globes."

Mobile Homes Look Like Their Stationary Counterparts

You'll find it more and more difficult to tell the difference by appearance between a mobile home and a stationary home in the future, a financing authority for this booming industry predicts.

"Factories will build units of varying sizes that can be joined with other units to create a greater variety of structural shapes," Henry C. Watkins, president of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corporation, says in an industry survey now being distributed.

The executive says this will permit mobile home owners to "add on" to their home at a later date if they desire, much as the owners of stationary homes may add garages, porches or extra rooms.

Watkins says that lines of demarcation between the mobile and stationary home will become blurred, particularly in the lower-priced field. He adds that three out of every four new homes sold today for under $12,500 are mobile homes and says this percentage will increase as stationary homes become more costly.

ABANDONED

"The low-cost housing field is virtually being abandoned to the mobile home," Watkins says.

The executive says efforts toward further upgrading of mobile homes will be made not only by improving interiors and exteriors, but also by more rigid building and design standards.

"Mobile homes are now viewed as providing permanent rather than temporary housing to people who may never be able to afford the expense of a stationary home," Watkins says.

He predicts that mobile home shipments, which amounted to 240,300 units last year, will total 265,000 units this year. Given continued prosperous conditions, he forecasts that shipments will total 285,000 units this year. Given continued prosperous conditions, he forecasts that shipments will reach 400,000 a year in the early 1970's.

An improved financial position for people 55 years and older, one of the important mobile home buying groups, will be one factor behind the sales upturn.

A more important factor, he adds, will be rapid growth in the younger age group, largest mobile home buying segment. Watkins asserts, "Between now and 1972 the 20-to-24-year-old group will grow at a rate of about 3.5 per cent annually, and it will be the fastest-growing age group."

Window Screens Take on New Look

Window screens aren't just screens any more — they've taken on glamor and basic improvements that make them dentproof, rustproof, easier to see through, and simpler to clean.

To new home buyers or remodelers the most obvious change is the variety of permanent colors—grey, green, aqua, and charcoal—now available in fiberglass screening. The newest color, charcoal, is being used by home owners to add accent that blends with all doors and windows.

The screening is crease-resistant and very flexible. It's ideal for special applications. An apartment house, for example, created a horizontal pyramid effect by installing the screening on the open side of its terraces. Other decorative uses include screening a circular gazebo or a patio area.

One type of screening combines glass-fiber yarn laminated to a sheet of clear vinyl film to form a colorful wind screen. This product is ideal for enclosing a pool area since it lets in daylight but stops wind, dust and pollen.

CUT HEAT

Another new product is a sun screen which has see-through visibility while cutting down on penetration of the sun's heat. The screen's heavy mesh stops the sun's rays before they enter a room and reflects them back outside. This keeps rooms cooler and lowers air conditioning operating costs. It reduces fading of drapes, carpets and furniture and cuts down on glare.

Add Personal Touch to Picture Frames

Rub down the paint when almost dry to achieve an "antique" effect. It'll look like it was retrieved from grandmother's attic, especially if it is the kind that has some molding on it.

You can emphasize the three-dimensional quality of a frame with paint, too. Just touch up the frame with a shadow-maker — like lavender, gray or slate blue.

If you want to antique the lazy man's way, go to your hardware dealer's and buy a commercially prepared antiquing solution.

Swift, Efficient Gas Incinerator Leaves No Odor

First there are two bushels of food waste, papers and trash — and a short time later nothing but a little trayful of ash.

That's the swift and efficient way of an automatic gas home incinerator and it's all accomplished without a trace of smoke or odor.

These new incinerators are no larger than a table-high filing cabinet and can be installed in your kitchen, utility room, breezeway or basement.

The compact appliance forever ends the need to take out most garbage and eliminates one of the major fire hazards in the home — stored papers and trash.

The operating cost of a gas incinerator is far less than what the average family pays in taxes for garbage removal or to a private refuse collector. While gas is the least expensive fuel, rates vary around the country. A survey of 40 utilities showed an average of $2.34 per month spent to operate a gas incinerator.

Virtually everything combustible can be disposed of in a gas incinerator and smoke and odor are prevented by a secondary burning process within the appliance.

Families in municipalities that place heavy limits or bans on outdoor rubbish burning will find the handy gas incinerator ideal, and, from a neighborhood and community viewpoint, you will be doing the service of no longer contributing to the growing air pollution problem.

There are 200 million acres of forestland in twelve Southern Pine growing states.

Mobile Homes Wider, Longer

Mobile homes are getting so big, they're becoming immobile.

A survey magazine notes that over 65 percent of mobile homes being built today are 12 feet wide and 54 to 65 feet long — a moving job more suitable to commercial transports than the average family car.

Paula Grayce's Grandmother Crocheted Lace Coverlet

A Bit of Yesteryear

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

A hint of wood smoke triggers visions of white neckerchiefs, homespun gowns and buckskins as the bright fire in Paula and Ken Williams' keeping room snaps, sputters and sizzles inviting guests to turn their backs on time and tarry awhile.

Seating arrangements in the room are provided by three early 1800 settees. An Amish prayer bench or pine form topped by a tin, dolphin-design, whaler's lantern and a tin candlestick serves the pine settee parallel to the fireplace.

"Only the head of the Amish household," explained Mr. Williams, "was allowed a chair with a back. Everyone else had to sit on the backless forms."

The Flora-Dora china doll who no doubt delighted a little girl of the late 1800s as much as she does the Williams daughter, 11-year-old Paula Grayce, rests in a pegged hickory child's chair near the wooden rocking horse (circa 1825-1830) on the brick hearth.

Other toys of bygone times hold places of honor in the country store adjacent to the keeping room.

A hobby of both Mr. and Mrs. Williams, the country store is the heart of the household and a delight to all. The fresh smell of drying herbs and tallow candles punctuate the atmosphere.

Old fashioned candy jars—chock full of bright red licorice strings, silver wrapped chocolate and caramel whirls—stand like colorful sentinels near the Franklin-type stove and the Calumet clock.

"Years ago," said Mrs. Williams, "store proprietors got a clock as a premium if they bought a barrel of baking powder."

Routine Cuts Work Time

Good housekeepers know that it is easier to keep a house clean if you follow a regular cleaning routine.

One of the best times to reduce all household chores, of course, is when the house is in the planning stage. Good spatial design, adequate storage room, built-in appliances, broad use of low-maintenance surfacing materials, such as ceramic tile, help to make housekeeping easy.

But even the best design won't eliminate basic cleaning chores. Some jobs need to be done everyday; others once a week, once a month or even less frequently. Schedule them sensibly, don't try to do too many "special" jobs in one day.

Learn to do each cleaning job the best way and try to discover the little tricks that make it easiest for you — how to take fewer steps, how to reach, bend and stoop as little as possible. The most comfortable way to do a job right is the best way for you.

TOOLS HANDY

Make sure cleaning supplies and tools for each job are handy to where you are working. Cleaning supplies, for example, can be carried about in a basket or even in a child's wagon where only one floor is involved.

And don't overlook safety precautions in your cleaning routine — or at any other time, for that matter. Floors made slippery by spills, rickety chairs used, instead of stepladders, to used, instead of stepladders, to get things down from high cabinets and cluttered furniture arrangements have caused an uncounted list of household casualties.

Stepping Up Plans for Urban Projects

The Department of Housing and Urban Development is carrying its war on urban problems to the enemy camp.

The department has announced it is abandoning its "sit back and judge" policy on housing and urban projects turned in by various cities and instead will actively seek projects to fund and support.

To get the new operation off the ground, HUD Secretary Robert C. Weaver set up a new office of Urban Technology and Research, headed by a former Defense Department official, Thomas F. Rogers.

So far, HUD's new campaign seems to be moving at a brisk pace.

CHIEF TASK

The principal task facing Rogers and his new office is to set up "a new and comprehensive research and technology development program through which the talents, skills and energies of the scientific community, private enterprise and government be applied to solving broad scale urban problems."

A key item of HUD's new approach is the "in-city" experimental project under which Cambridge, Mass., Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and San Francisco have been picked from a field of 19 cities to plan individualized programs of large-scale housing for low-income dwellers.

OTHER PROBLEMS

The new HUD office also will focus attention on:

- Social and behavioral problems tied to lower income housing.
- Development of the model cities program.
- Making the best use of federal surplus lands.
- Improvement of urban planning programs.
- Establishment of an effective information exchange network between city, government and private industry sources.

The scope of the new HUD program is best demonstrated by two of the areas it has tackled.

One study already funded by HUD and the Defense Department is designed to see if production costs for low-income housing can be reduced by coordinating military and private housing market needs in certain urban areas. HUD's share of the study is $200,000. Defense is picking up the other $50,000.

Home Starts Up in Toronto

Construction is increasing faster in metropolitan Toronto than in any other major city in North America, according to the Canada Builder, a trade publication.

All types of housing starts increased 143 per cent in the first two months of 1968 over the corresponding period of 1967.

Almost three times as many apartment building permits were issued as in the first two months of 1967.

Measuring Trick for the Handymen

Fold a piece of paper in half, then unfold it.

Now lay it on the board so one side of the paper, bisected by the crease will make a diagonal line across the board.

Those two corners of the paper should just touch the edges of the board. The fold crease meets the board at its center.

Tile Can Take It

The blending of indoors and out in modern design by means of sliding glass doors, floor-to-ceiling windows, atriums and patio-extensions of kitchens, living and family rooms has increased the use of flooring materials, such as ceramic tile, that can be installed inside or outside without fear of weather damage.

2 Million Families Have Two Homes

If all the recent news about high mortgage rates, open housing and housing shortages for the poor is getting you down, it may be some comfort to know that nearly 2 million American families have second homes.

According to a recent Commerce Department report, out of the United States today about 1.7 million have second homes.

The Commerce Department survey also turned up nearly 300,000 more families who reported they expect to buy or build second homes within two years.

The survey was conducted by the Census Bureau and the U.S. Forest Service during 1967.

JOINT STUDY

Probably the most interesting part of the joint study was statistics showing that these second homes are usually owned by one family and not rented or shared; that the homes are fairly expensive and have nearly all the conveniences of the family's primary dwelling.

The actual number of second homes was reported as 1,550,000 because only 7 per cent of the 1.7 million households rented or owned in partnership with another family.

Almost all these second homes are owned by the families using them—only 3 per cent or 1.5 million are rented—and nearly two-thirds have been owned by the same families for five years or more.

The typical second home was described by the survey to consist of one story (70 per cent); three to five rooms (65 per cent); and with kitchen or cooking equipment (97 per cent).

MEAN

This house has a median value of $7,800 and 90 per cent of the houses surveyed had electricity while 60 per cent had running water, a toilet and bathtub or shower inside. Nearly one-third of the houses had a permanent heating system.

Even though most of these second homes were used as vacation houses for the family, the survey did rule out trailers and tents and even housing held for income and investment purposes in compiling the report.

The survey showed that two-thirds of the second homes are in the state where the owner lives and three out of five are located less than 100 miles from the owner's regular residence.

While most Americans still use their second home for a vacation spot the survey reported that as many as one third of the families use their other home regularly during the year.

AFFLUENCE

The picture of the family unit which owns a second home is still one of affluence and older age, but not so wealthy and old as was once true.

While 82 per cent of the families survey owned their own homes, the median value of these primary homes was $16,300 as compared to $14,500 for single house families.

And while most of the families interviewed had an average of four or less members, as many as two out of three families had no children younger than 15 years of age.

Precipitafe on Masonry

Efflorescence, the white, salt-like material which is sometimes found on concrete, stucco or mortar, must be removed before painting, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

This may be done by washing with a dilute muriatic acid solution. Efflorescence is caused by moisture which dissolves salts in the interior of alkaline materials and carries them to the surface.

A coat of paint (and perhaps, a fill-coat, too) will help prevent moisture from entering the masonry material and thus will prevent efflorescence and damp walls.

AN OPEN LETTER:

Over the years, thousands and thousands and thousands of dollars have been lost in the home building industry as a result of VANDALISM, THEFT AND MALICIOUS MISCHIEF by vandals, grown-ups and small children to homes under construction. These losses are reflected in higher construction costs to you, Mr. & Mrs. Home Buyer!

As competitive businessmen, we are constantly striving to deliver our product to you at the lowest price possible, but we are fighting a losing battle. Frankly, we need your help. You can help us by instructing your children not to trespass on new homes under construction. They could be seriously injured.

If you see an unauthorized person entering or leaving a home under construction displaying this sign, would you please call the police or the builder? By doing this we can save both money and much unpleasantness.

Yes, we take the pains to be "Old-Fashioned" builders

That's why Kampsen Built Homes consistently re-sell at higher prices

The other day a man who wanted to pay us a compliment called us "Old-Fashioned" builders. "I mean," he said, "you go on building to quality standard." You don't take construction shortcuts . . . or compromise on materials. Well, I'm glad you build the way you do. It means that, if I ever have to sell my Kampsen Built Home, I'm going to get more money for it than for any other comparably priced home I might have bought!" Yes, we're "old-fashioned" that way. We believe that every buyer of a Kampsen Built home is entitled to prompt, thorough service. That's why we only build in areas where we can give service to our homeowners. Urban Survey Hits at Property Taxes

Property taxes rob the poor, hamper urban renewal and block efforts to expand housing construction and repair to meet demands for decent homes.

That's the conclusion drawn by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, now chairman of the National Commission on Urban Problems which recently made public its first study of conditions which slow down attempts to solve urban problems.

The study, according to Douglas, is aimed at stirring up discussion so the commission's final report to the President — due at the end of the year — can include a more detailed discussion of property taxes and possible alternatives.

The study not only reaches the conclusions mentioned above but also carries the additional implication that property taxes may also contribute to an actual loss of tax revenues by central city governments.

● Property taxes across the United States on an average equal a 24 per cent sales tax on housing which is borne 90 per cent of the time by persons who occupy the housing in question. Sales taxes on most other items rarely exceed 5 per cent to 10 per cent.

● The burden of property taxes falls most heavily on the poor, accounting for as much as 4 per cent of income for persons at the poverty level of $3,000 per year compared with 1.5 per cent of income for persons with incomes over $10,000.

● High property taxes in metropolitan areas discourage investment in and improvement of housing, especially when nearby suburban tax levels are significantly lower.

● Higher property taxes in urban centers generally are used to finance the increasing demand for municipal services but also have a tendency to drive industry and business to the suburbs — lowering the city's tax base even further.

This is not to say that Douglas and the commission will advocate doing away with property taxes. To the contrary, the survey also stresses the importance of property taxes, especially to local governments.

"Property taxes provide two-thirds of the revenues to most local governments," Douglas told newsmen at a briefing.

In addition, the survey reports, property taxes have remarkable ability to expand when revenues are needed increasing their yield of money to governments across the country by 30 per cent in the last four years of the study.

Common Sense Can Keep Moving Headaches Down

True, there probably is no easy way to move. But it can be made less trying — less painful — through some good common-sense planning and organization. If you try to do everything in the last 24 or 48 hours, you're just asking for trouble.

To begin with, set your moving date as far in advance as possible. Remember, moving companies have to set up a schedule. They only have so much van equipment and if everyone wants to move on the last day of the month, it just isn't possible to accommodate everyone.

Next, call in a reputable moving company to give you an estimate on the cost and to help you plan your move. Make sure you understand that the estimate you receive is just an estimate. It is not binding on the mover. Charges for local moves generally are based on time and mileage.

Charges for long-distance moves are based on weight, mileage and additional services performed. If you are planning to do all or some of your own packing, start doing it as soon as possible. Do a little at a time. Don't wait until the last week or the day before the move. That's the surest way to turn your move into a nightmare of confusion.

Packing dishes and china is one thing that requires the utmost care, and here's where the professionals can really help you. Nowadays, major movers use corrugated materials instead of the old-fashioned shredded paper and excelsior. This is a safer and cleaner method of packing fragile items.

If you're doing it yourself, make sure you use only strong containers, and don't pack them so heavy that they're difficult to carry.

Always pack heavier items along the bottoms of the carton and use generous amounts of cushioning material. Don't pack breakables and unbreakables in the same carton, but do try to group pairs and sets of articles in one box.

In packing, make sure you remove all jewelry, money and valuable papers from desk and bureau drawers. Don't load heavy objects into these drawers either, or you run the risk of damaging the furniture.

DON'T PACK

Don't pack matches, inflammables or paint thinners. Keep things like soaps, detergents, cleaning compounds, polishes and medicines separate from food items.

Don't pack pots and pans or small appliances in the same carton with breakables. Don't wrap lamp shades or linens in newspaper. The ink might rub off and leave a permanent stain.

Before you move, arrange for the discontinuation of services such as gas, electricity, telephone, heating fuel, water softener, as well as milk deliveries and diaper service.

CLEAN AHEAD

If you are planning to have your carpets cleaned, this is the time to do it and have them delivered to your new home. Notify the principal of your children's school about your move and obtain necessary letters of transfer. Also notify the post office and send change-of-address cards where necessary.

On the day of the move, try to be on hand when the moving van is loaded and unloaded, and keep the children and the pets out of the way while the movers are at work. It's particularly important for you to be present at the new residence so you can direct the placement of major furniture.

Know where you want the furniture placed. Don't be making up your mind when the mover walks in with a sofa on his back.

The secret to achieving an orderly move is to go about the whole business systematically and calmly. Set up a schedule and hold to it. Don't let it overwhelm you at the last minute. The more you plan, and the more you can do in advance, the smoother will be your move.

Plank-Beam Economical

An old nineteenth century system of mill construction has been polished up and streamlined to become one of America's most glamorous forms of contemporary home design.

The system is plank-and-beam which involves a roof structure of horizontal lumber ceiling beams under a canopy of wood roof decking. The system is simple, economic and lends a strength to the roof that facilitates open planning.

Plank-and-beam is an ideal medium for jointly utilizing the high strength and attractive appearance of pre-shrunk Southern Pine lumber.

Lower Vacancy Rates Push Nation's Rent Costs Higher

Absorption of rental units has been greater than expected during the last year, overcoming surplus in some areas, and this rising demand for apartments has resulted in lower vacancy rates and a sharp increase in average rent, William C. Haas, Kansas City, Mo., said today.

Haas, president of the Institute of Real Estate Management, based his comments on the annual real estate market survey of 120 Realtors in all parts of the country by the Department of Research of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. The Institute is a professional affiliate of NAREB.

Haas continued that vacancy rates for all types of multifamily units, as well as for single-family rental structures, have declined over the past year — a trend that was foreseen last year and which is expected to continue.

"I addition to units built for rent, an increasing number of single-family properties, originally owner-occupied, have been transferring to the rental inventory," Haas pointed out.

"Many owners, when moving, require their equity for a second purchase, but many others have greater financial flexibility and frequently are retaining ownership as a rental investment. The mortgage market climate has often prompted their decision, and demand for this type of rental unit that made the decision a practical one."

STATISTICS

Currently, he pointed out, "a vacancy rate of 2 per cent or less for single-family structures is quoted in 93 per cent of the country, compared with 82 per cent a year ago. In garden-type apartments, two-thirds of the areas surveyed report 2 per cent or less vacancies, compared to 55 per cent last spring."

Vacancies are also low in moderate-priced elevator buildings. A rate of 2 per cent or less is prevalent in 60 per cent of the nation, compared with 40 per cent a year earlier.

"A relatively similar level of occupancy is reported for deluxe structures, with 57 per cent listing vacancies of 2 per cent or less, and even for walk-up structures and converted units in older structures, vacancy rates have declined."

Moving on to a discussion of the rental picture, Haas stated that "as vacancy rates have declined, residential rents have continued to move upward.

RENTS UP

"Rents are reported higher for single-family dwellings in 82 per cent of the nation, stable in 16 per cent, and lower in only 2 per cent. One year ago, the NAREB survey disclosed that rents in this category were higher in 61 per cent of the nation, while 34 per cent reported no change, and 5 per cent were lower."

Tenants in garden-type apartments are paying higher rents this year in 69 per cent of the country, while no change was reported for the remainder. Units in deluxe structures are costing more in 62 per cent, unchanged in 36 per cent, and lower in 2 per cent.

"A growing scarcity of units in walk-up buildings was reflected last year in the modest increase in areas showing higher rents over those listing a decline," Haas added. "This trend has spread, and rents are reported higher in 41 per cent of the country contrasted with only 9 per cent in which they are lower. Last year, changes reported were 25 per cent higher and 19 per cent lower.

"Converted units in older structures are in sufficient demand to sustain rising rental rates also. While they are unchanged from 1967 in close to half the country, they are higher in 38 per cent, and lower in only 13 per cent.

Mini-Decks Are Popular

Mini-skirts may be on the way out, hints the fashion world, but home designers say mini-decks are definitely in.

MASTER BEDROOM

Open up one wall with sliding glass doors, build a tiny deck outside, and the bedroom will look three times larger than it used to.

Plus you'll have an outdoor retreat all your own — nice especially when the children have taken over the main patio.

Survey Reveals

Housing Wants Spur Rentals

It is getting almost as hard to rent a place to live as it is to buy one.

This conclusion is drawn from a National Association of Real Estate Boards membership survey across the country which turned up rent increases and fewer vacancies at a surprising rate this year.

The survey was made public recently by William C. Haas, president of NAREB's Institute of Real Estate Management, and presents an accurate, and to some a disturbing picture of increasing demand pressures which home seekers are putting on an industry already overburdened with money, labor and materials problems.

Since rents and apartment sizes vary from city to city, the survey restricted itself to simply determining rent trend for various dwelling types.

HIGHER

Rent were reported higher for single family units in 82 per cent of the nation during 1967 and lower in only two per cent, according to the survey.

This compares with a NAREB survey run in 1966 which showed rents increasing in 61 per cent of the nation, remaining unchanged in 34 per cent and dropping in 5 per cent.

Rental charges in garden-type apartments rose in nearly 70 per cent of the markets in 1967 while the cost of living in an already high-priced luxury apartment went up in 62 per cent of the areas surveyed.

Even older structures which have been converted into apartments cost more to rent during 1967 in 38 per cent of the nation while prices remained the same in 50 per cent of the cases. During 1967, prices in these older apartments dropped in 30 per cent of the nation and increased in only 24 per cent.

NO CONCESSIONS

Concessions to attract tenants — such as free rental periods and moving costs—have been dropped by most realtors and landlords over the past four years, the survey noted.

The demand for housing which drives rents up also drives statistisc on vacancies in apartments and rental houses down, the survey pointed out.

In single family houses, a vacancy rate of 2 per cent or less was reported in 93 per cent of the country compared to an 82 per cent level reported in 1966.

In garden-type and standard apartments the vacancy rate has dropped nearly 11 per cent in the last year in both categories.

WILMINGTON — The furnished display model of the Wilmington, a family traffic-planned three-bedroom ranch built by Cranbrook Homes Inc. is open for viewing in the Thompson-Brown University Hills Commons Community, Old Perch and Avon Roads, just east of Oakland University. Available also in an optional four-bedroom plan, the Wilmington is priced at $41,950 including base price lot with a choice of four distinct front elevations. The contemporary interior by "Interiors by Troy" adds a living dimension to the home's 23-foot living-dining room which may be entered from the 20-foot paneled family room. Models open daily (except Thursdays) and Sunday from noon-8 p.m. and until 6 p.m. Saturday.

Plan Launched for Construction Complaints

A new statewide program for handling complaints on materials and workmanship between home owners and companies licensed by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation was recently announced.

Lester Burton, a builder-attorney of Huntington Woods, a Detroit suburb, made the announcement as chairman of the state agency's Residential Builders and Maintenance and Alterations Contractors Board. Burton has worked with Lenton G. Sculthorp, director of the department in Lansing, for several months in efforts to find a more effective and faster way of handling these complaints through a cooperative approach between the state regulatory body and private industry.

The reasoning behind the new program which is being tried for the first time in Michigan and in the country is threefold, according to Burton and Sculthorp:

- Anyone having a house built or alterations made or new appliances installed would, where there is a complaint, get faster and more positive action outside the necesarrily slower machinery of a governmental agency.

In the Detroit area, the state agency would submit complaints to the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit whose membership includes most of the licensed residential builders in the area. The BAMD has set up machinery in its office in the Commonwealth Building for handling of the complaints submitted by the state agency.

- It is felt that this procedure will give the organized residential building industry greater opportunity for self-regulation.
- If successful, this method of handling complaints will free the State Department of Licensing and Regulation from an enormously time - consuming routine, since the department's staff is not large enough to handle all complaints efficiently and expeditiously.

"The most important thing about this new way of handling complaints," said Burton, whose firm has been in residential building and development for 33 years, "is that the chief beneficiary will be the home owner."

Burton explained the procedure this way: When a complaint is received by Sculthorp's office, it will be forwarded at once to the Michigan Association of Home Builders or to its appropriate local affiliate in Detroit or in other cities outstate.

The MAHB or its affiliate would have a maximum of 30 days in which to resolve the differences between the complainant and the licensee. If it becomes evident that the differences cannot be resolved within the 30-day limit, or a settlement reached within that time, the complaint would revert to the state regulatory agency where it would be processed in normal routine.

Very little time would be lost, according to Burton, through having the industry organization undertake to adjudicate the differences between the home owner and the licensee.

Burton said that several pilot, or test cases, had been processed over the last few months, in each case informally, with markedly successful results in each case. In each instance, the complaint was resolved to the complete satisfaction of all parties concerned, according to Burton.

Burton pointed out that it is common practice throughout the country for the courts to encourage settlements of disputes outside the courtroom in an atmosphere of informality and where there is usually less tension between the disputants.

"Under no circumstances," said Burton, "should anyone interpret the intent of the new program as meaning that the State Department of Licensing and Regulation is relinquishing any of its responsibilities in the handling of complaints.

"Rather, it is felt that all parties concerned will benefit from the arrangement, particularly the home owner, since he can expect faster and more positive action on his complaint."

A spokesman for the BAMD said he was gratified with the philosophy that has prompted a public agency to work in closer co-operation with private industry in the adjudication of differences that often arise between customers and suppliers of goods and services in the home building and home improvement fields.

"We are trying to work as a team with the state regulatory body," Burton concluded.

Keep Your Home in Peak Condition

Follow these steps so that your painting job will be the best possible. First, seal all joints around doors and windows with a caulking compound. Nailheads should be hammered in flush with the wood.

Check for mildewed areas and treat them with a commercial bleaching agent. Exceptionally dirty areas should be cleaned with a detergent and water solution.

Chipped areas need special attention. Sand them down so that you have a smooth surface before re-painting.

Garage Pad Catches Drip

It will absorb oil drippings from your car like a blotter.

Housing Act to Effect a Dramatic Influence

The most dramatic influence on housing in 1969 likely will be the provisions of the 1968 Housing Act, the president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards recently stated.

"Although general news coverage of this act has centered on its provisions to help low-income families attain adequate shelter, there are a number of sections designed to aid middle-income families across the country by easing the stringency in the mortgage market," according to Lyn E. Davis, Dallas.

Davis continued by explaining that the efforts to improve the flow of money into the real estate industry were not designed as a result of intensive lobbying.

"Instead," he said, "they resulted from the realization by Senators and Representatives that the severe tightening in the mortgage market in 1966 affected more than those who wanted to buy or sell a house — it had a dampening effect on the entire economy and created hardships on an extensive spectrum of the economy."

CONCERN

Davis explained further that, with evidence of a renewed withdrawal of deposits from mortgage-oriented thrift institutions appearing in the early part of 1968, national legislators indicated their concern by adopting several provisions in the 1968 housing act which would have the effect of easing a mortgage "crisis."

The primary example, he said, is the provision of the act which expands the activities of savings and loan associations.

Davis termed the provision "extremely important to home sellers and buyers" because savings associations held 43.8 per cent of all home mortgage credit in 1967 — more than three times as much as any other type of lender and more than the combined total of commercial banks, mutual savings banks, and life insurance companies.

Among the provisions of the 1968 act is that which permits savings and loan associations to raise capital by issuing obligations backed by pools of mortgages held in their portfolios. These will be guaranteed by the new Government National Mortgage Association.

In addition, the act permits them to finance mobile homes, which accounted for a growing segment of new single-family housing in 1967.

Under the same liberalization of S&L restrictions, these thrift institutions are permitted to make unsecured loans of up to $5,000 each for the purchase of "household equipment necessary to make today's home 'livable.'"

Davis pointed out that a related provision of the act extends the Federal Housing Administration's authority under the Title I home improvement loan program. This program was amended to increase the maximum insurable loan from $3,500 — too low for any substantial improvements outside low-cost areas — to $5,000. The amendment increased also the maximum maturity for such loans from five to seven years.

"Another amendment to FHA regulations is of interest to a growing number of Americans," Mr. Davis said, "and that is the authorization for the agency to insure mortgages for houses which are not necessarily designed for year-around occupancy. At present, there are nearly two million second-vacation - home owners in the United States, and the number is expected to grow rapidly."

SECOND HOME

Under the new act, FHA may insure mortgages for second or vacation homes of not more than $15,000 or 75 per cent of the appraised value on an acceptable risk basis. FHA is, however, required to suspend the seasonal home insurance program in any area designated by it to be a "tight-money" area.

The NAREB president noted that "not all governmental action designed to stabilize the mortgage market is concentrated in the 1968 Housing Act," and explained that as early as July of this year — well before Congress cleared the housing bill — the Federal Home Loan Bank Board announced it was reducing the percentage of deposits savings and loan associations were required to hold in reserve.

Davis said that by reducing these institutions' reserve requirements from 7 per cent to 6½ per cent, the FHLBB added an estimated $800 million of cash to the funds available for mortgage lending.

One decidedly optimistic note has already been seen in the mortgage market which was not necessarily created by government action, the Realtor observed. "That is the steadily increasing average prices which the Federal National Mortgage Association agrees to pay for commitments to purchase FHA and Veterans Administration mortgages."

PRICES UP

For the past several weeks these prices have risen, indicating that mortgage originators anticipate a leveling off or reduction in interest rates in return for FNMA cash purchase of the government-backed home loan paper.

Know Terms of Mortgage, Then Sign

A mortgage is a large and important financial obligation but there's nothing mysterious about it. Hundreds of people sign mortgages to buy homes everyday.

Obviously you ought to be sure you understand the terms of a mortgage before you sign. Before that, however, a careful review of your family's financial resources ought to be made to determine the size of the loan you can afford.

would justify a $25,000 house. A family's size, standard of living, current debts and other present and future financial responsibilities can drastically change the actual figure.

QUESTIONS

Basic questions: How much of a down payment can you make?

How much can you afford to pay each month? The larger the down payment, the smaller the monthly payment. A longer mortgage reduces monthly payments but increases total interest.

Banks, savings and loans, mortgage and insurance com-

And, of course, make sure the home you're buying is good value. Obtaining a professional opinion of the property is a good idea. Such things as floor plans that provide logical traffic patterns, ample closets and ceramic tile baths are clues to quality design and construction.

Many variables govern the price a family can afford for a home. A rough rule is that the price can be two-and-a-half times one's income. In other words, an income of $10,000 panies offer conventional loans up to 75 or 80 per cent of their appraisal of property value. Interest rates vary from time to time, and place to place, with 6 to 7 per cent the recent range throughout the country.

FHA or VA mortgages are loans made by private institutions and insured by the government. FHA loans can be up to 97 per cent of appraised value; VA to 100 per cent. A limit of 6 per cent on FHA and VA mortgages, and on conventional loans in some areas, is overcome by charging "points," or discounts, on the amount of the mortgage. On FHA and VA loans, "points" must be paid by seller or builder, not borrower.

Apartment Emphasizes Easy Living

The modern, well-designed apartment house should appeal to two groups — owners and tenants.

For tenants, the building should offer comfort and ease of living; for owners, it should insure minimal maintenance.

That's the formula followed by architect Gerald T. Heulitt for an all-electric apartment house in Bayonne, N. J. The seven-story building stresses tenant appeal aand low upkeep.

High-quality features include: all-electric living, a private balcony for each apartment unit, air conditioning, color-coordinated kitchens, tile baths, and on-site parking space.

EASY TO OPERATE

Casement windows and gliding doors were used for their good looks and ease of operation, and because they represent a sizable saving in building maintenance.

The units have a rigid vinyl sheathing over preservative-treated wood cores that does not require painting and will not pit, rust or corrode. The windows also have welded insulating glass.

"This combination — insulating glass and the low thermal conductivity of the vinyl-and-wood sash — helps cut electric heating costs," says Heulitt.

Costs Going Up

Don't Put Off Buying a Home

Good grief!

The United States Savings and Loan League echoed Charlie Brown's sentiments today when it reported that each year you postpone buying that home you want, the next year it's going to cost you more.

In its newly-issued Savings and Loan Fact Book of 1968, the trade organization for the nation's savings and loan business revealed that the average cost of constructing a single-family dwelling in 1967 was $17,400. This, by the way, does not include the cost of land and other nonconstruction items commonly included in the selling price.

"The average construction cost of a single-family home rose $525 or 3.1 per cent in 1967," the Fact Book said. "The annual average increase for the last five years was $615, or 4 per cent. Higher costs in 1967 were the result of increased cost of labor and material, more living space in the new homes and more built-in features."

LAND COSTS UP

And as if this weren't enough, land costs have been soaring also. The average price of a building site in 1967 was $3,766. In 1950 it was $1,035. In 1967 the site amounted to 19.9 per cent of the total value of the house and lot; in 1950 it amounted to 12 per cent.

The publication said that there has been a growing demand for larger homes over the past several years. Of the new homes sold, 63 per cent had 3 bedrooms and 25 per cent had four or more. Only 12 per cent had less than three and these were purchased in the main by newlyweds and "empty-nesters." A good 50 per cent of the houses had two or more bathrooms.

Leading the popularity contest in home-style as it has for a number of years was the single-story ranch home. One-story homes accounted for 71 per cent of all new homes; the two-story trailed way behind at 18 per cent; and split levels dropped to 10 per cent.

Pointing up the fact that Americans think a great deal of their automobiles, two thirds of the homes sold had a garage and one-sixth had a carport. Except in the South, almost four out of five homes had a garage; in the South less than half had garages.

FACTS

"Forty-five per cent of the new homes sold had a full or partial basement; 27 per cent had a crawl space and 28 per cent were built on a slab," the Fact Book reported. "In the cold climates, 86 per cent of the new homes had a full basement. Slabs were commonest in the West and South."

Price per square foot varied in a manner suggesting that climate is an important determinant in construction costs. On a per square foot basis, the median for the nation was $13.95. Prices were highest in the north central and northeastern regions, at $15.35 and $14.95 respectively. They were lowest in the South where the cost was $12.55 per square foot. In the West the cost was $14.65.

"The significance of the spread in regional costs of new homes becomes more evident when the square foot costs are expressed in terms of 2,000 feet of floor space," the Fact Book stated. "In the north central region a home of that size would run up to $30,700. In the South it would amount to $25,100."

Screen Gives Needed Privacy

An outdoor living area can be built right in the front yard by enclosing space with a tall privacy screen of cedar boards or slats or one patterned to match the house siding.

Finish the screen to blend with house, include a planting bed on the screen's outside and passers-by won't even know it's there.

JAPANESE IDEA — When the Reider Thoresons of Deerfoot Drive, West Bloomfield Township, were traveling in Japan, they discovered how many Japanese gardeners trained shrub and tree branches. A rock heavy enough to bend the branch into the desired line is tied by string to the branch. As soon as the branch remains in the new form without the weight of the rock, it's time to remove it.

Budding New Cities Are Master Planned

They are exactly what the name implies — entire new towns being built on open land, and bursting with new ideas on how to live the better life. The new towns try to create an attractive environment for residents, free of smog, traffic congestion and noise.

There are about a dozen major new towns now under construction, scattered all around the country. Valencia and Irvine are in California, near Los Angeles. Litchfield Park is just west of Phoenix, Ariz. and two new towns, Reston, Va. and Columbia, Md., are near Washington, D. C. Houston has a nearby new town called Clear Lake City, and there are other new towns in Ohio, Louisiana, Florida and Hawaii.

LARGE POPULATION

The six leading new towns have a planned combined population of 785,000, and will cover nearly 300 square miles of land.

The new towns are much more than just big housing developments. Designed by professional city planners, they are full scale examples of how the planners say a city ought to be built.

By planning in advance, convenience is built in, and the designers create a total environment aimed to make life simpler and more pleasant.

As an example, in Litchfield Park, every home is within easy walking distance of an elementary school, and the children don't have to cross a main street to reach the school.

The community is spared the expense of school buses, and mothers don't have to drive children to school.

Shopping and recreational areas also are near every home.

In many ways, Litchfield Park is a "typical" new town. It is being built by a subsidiary of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company on a 12,000-acre farm Goodyear owns near Phoenix.

The town was designed by a team of professional city planners, and will eventually have a population of 75,000 to 100,000 when it is finished, around the year 1990.

Arizona State University plans to open a major new branch in Litchfield Park in 1970, with a projected student body of 12,000.

The town will have everything the community will need, including a hospital, stores, recreational facilities, and industrial sites to provide jobs for Litchfield Park residents.

Real Estate Reacts to Recreation Boom

With greater income and more leisure time than ever before, the American family is increasingly interested in recreation — and in recreation-oriented land and homes.

More than 2 million families already own a second or vacation home and by 1970, it is expected some 200,000 to 250,000 such homes — mountain cabins, seashore cottages or lakeside retreats — will be built annually.

In addition, there is a steadily growing market in land bought on speculation by people who hope some day to build a vacation or retirement home or else realize a handsome profit from resale.

And we have seen only the beginning of what promises to be a gigantic growth in recreation develpoment and a major expansion for real estate activity in coming decades, according to Sanford B. Goodkin, Los Angeles-based real estate research and marketing consultant.

INDICATORS

In his June Goodkin Report, he discusses the socio-economic indicators which form the foundation for this anticipated expansion in recreation facilities, recreation lands and recreation-oriented housing.

Population, household formations, gross national product, disposable personal income, consumer expenditures, available leisure time, earlier retirement and greater life expectancy, mobility and travel, and expanding use of recreation facilities, all help to explain the outlook for the market, Goodkin says.

By 1970, concurrent with increasing population and household formations, studies show, there will be 17 million families in the United States with incomes of more than $10,000 a year, thus providing a large base of families with money to spend on recreation and on second homes.

These families will have more leisure time. The average working man today enjoys far more leisure time for recreation than did his father or grandfather.

There are more elderly retired people today than ever before. Longer years of schooling, and the child labor laws have given youth more leisure for recreation.

Compared with her mother or grandmother, today's average housewife has far more time for discretionary use, for recreation.

Goodkin says consumer spending habits have undergone noticeable change in recent years as incomes increased and more money became available for discretionary spending.

There has been a growing attention to family activities and associations, the desire for self-improvement, and an increasing leisure-time and recreation orientation.

Expenditure has increased for such items as housing, household operations and recreation. Spending has decreased for basic food and clothing items and the automobile has lost ground as a status symbol.

SPENDING SOARS

Recreational spending has soared in recent years. More and more people are spending for travel, for sports such as fishing, hunting boating, tennis and golf.

Water sports are a booming industry with 40 million participants and an annual expenditure of $2.5 billion. Snow sports too are booming. Camping tripled in the decade from 1950 to 1960.

Family expenditures for outdoor recreational services and equipment were at least $13 billion in 1960, about $20 billion in 1966, and will top $35 billion in 1975.

Americans are more mobile than people of any other country. The average American now travels 10 times as many miles as in 1900. Little over half of this increase is for business, including commuting to and from work; the rest is for recreation.

Increased mobility has greatly widened the area within which people can enjoy their recreation and, in this sense, has increased the supply of recreational areas.

The recreation industry is growing bigger every year because people have higher incomes and are spending more and traveling farther.

The growth of paid vacations, and increasing vacation time, also stimulate the boom in pleasure travel and all the leisure activities.

So-called "urban sprawl" has fostered the desire of many people to get away from city or suburban areas when they can.

Walled Lake Halts Waterford; Stevenson Edges Northern

Junior Passer Sets off Bomb in Inter-Lakes

By JERE CRAIG

When they ignite the fuse on their football bomb at Walled Lake, the explosion is heard throughout the Inter-Lakes League.

Friday night there were preliminary fireworks for one half as the Vikings and Waterford Township's Skippers tested various ignition systems.

Then Walled Lake's inserted Roy Coomer and the lanky junior was the right spark for a 28-7 eruption that demolished the Skippers' title hopes.

With neither team able to get top performance out of its regular quarterback, adjustments had to be made and coach Leo Folsom found he had the right spare part in the slender Coomer.

Both squads entered the contest unbeaten and the Vikings were riding the crest of a 22-game string of league victories.

The fire-up visitors lit their fireworks first. Taking the opening kickoff they marched 50 yards but were stopped at the Walled Lake three on fourth down.

LOOSE FOOTBALL

But the Vikings mishandled the pigskin on their first scrimmage play and hustling senior end Erick Alsup of WTHS fell on the loose ball in the home team's end zone. Bruce Saffron's boot made it 7-0 with 6:51 to play in the opening quarter.

Walled Lake drove into Skipper territory for first downs at the 27 and the eight-yard-line, but each time the Vikings were halted by the hard-charging defensive line of their rivals.

The Skippers then tried to break free. On a third-and-ten play at his 25, versatile Steve Goit lofted a pass to end Terry Crawford behind the Viking secondary.

PENALTY

A flag went down for an illegal block. Instead of a 14-0 lead, Waterford was set back to the 25. On the next play John Bubnes pounced on a Skipper fumble at the WL 30.

With time running out, Coomer came onto the scene at quarterback. His first pass put the home team in WTHS' territory; then after a short penalty, he spotted wingback Bill Welch along the sideline.

Welch simply outran the defensive halfback, grabbed the pass and the 53-yard play put the Vikings on the scoreboard. Steve Gebala's PAT run made it 7-7 with 14 seconds left.

After the intermission came the explosion. Coomer's passes were the spark and the suddenly improved play of the Walled Lake offensive line was the fuel.

The Vikings took the kickoff and drove to the Waterford 10 only to see Bill Foley recover a fumble. But Bubnes promptly fell on a Skipper bobble at the 18.

INTERCEPTIONS

Any offensive sparks Waterford could muster were doused by the homesters' pass defense. Welch's lunging one-handed grab was the first of three interceptions in the Vikings' end zone.

Walled Lake then marched 80 yards in 9 plays. A 35-yard first down aerial to Gary Ferguson was the key play.

Late in the game after Greg Wendell's second interception returned the ball to the Skippers' 44, and a penalty set the winners back to the 49, Coomer led Pillo perfectly with a long pass for the final score.

The junior quarterback hit 8 of 16 tosses for 204 yards and three touchdowns. John Orosey led the rushing attack with 112 yards in 12 carries.

In the other I-L game, Farmington and Southfield Lathrup dueled to a 0-0 tie. The host Chargers twice stopped Farmington deep in their territory.

Fumbles Hurt as Huskies Fall to Spartans, 6-2

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It was just one of those nights for the Huskies of Pontiac Northern.

The Huskies held the upper hand in every department but the score, and in that one they were on the short end of a 6-2 verdict against a visiting Livonia Stevenson squad.

"No one will remember the game the kids played, just the score," sighed coach Dave Schmidt who has had perhaps more than his share of games like this one.

MISTAKES HURT

The Huskies outhit and outplayed the Spartans (3-0), but in the end it was their own mistakes that forced them to settle with their first defeat (1-1-1) of the season. And it left them 0-1 in Inter-Lake League action.

"The penalties hurt," said Schmidt, "particularly a couple of them. And the fumbles. . . "

SEVEN BOBBLES

He didn't have to say more. The Huskies bobbled the ball seven times, losing it only one time, but the miscues on the other occasions slowed their offensive efforts and the lone fumble they lost led their defeat.

Northern took the kickoff and on its third play, fumbled the ball and the Spartans recovered at the PNH 28.

After that it was Northern's game — defensively and offensively.

"We really didn't block well in the first half," said Schmidt. "We made some changes at halftime."

The halftime talk was noticable. Northern made six penetrations in the second half — to the 27, 31,10, 34, 10, and 1 — while Stevenson failed to get past its own 30 during the same period.

Northern's frustration was spotlighted in the waning moments of the game. Out of timeouts after recovering a fumble on the Spartans 13, Northern sent halfback Hardiman Jones for nine yards to the four. With the seconds ticking away, Jones again got the call and he rammed off right tackle to the two where the Spartan defense hauled him to the ground as the game ended.

SAFETY FOR PNH

The Huskies only points — a safety — came in the second period when sophomore defensive guard Tim Miller hauled Danver down in the endzone.

The Huskies turned in a superb defensive job. After yielding some yardage in the first quarter, Greg Adsit, Mario Castillo, Dave Guy, Ken Shields and Warren Laturneau tightened the line and stopped the Spartans cold.

Sharing in those defensive honors were linebackers Mel Reeves, Leon Conley and Barry Webb along with backs Eddie Williams, Sandy Seay and Rich Chapa.

Chiefs Roll Past Wildcats, 39-13; Midland Romps

Special to The Press

BAY CITY — The Chiefs of Pontiac Central kicked up their heels here last night as they ambushed the Wildcats of Bay City Handy, 39-13, in a Saginaw Valley Conference contest.

The victory gave the Chiefs a 2-1 record in SVC play and kept them just a game behind pacesetting Midland.

OTHER RESULTS

In other league games, Midland downed Flint Central, 20-0, defending champion Bay City Central routed Saginaw Arthur Hill, 35-0, and Flint Southwestern pinned a 20-13 loss on Flint Northern Saginaw is at Saginaw MacArthur in a non-leaguer this evening.

Coach Paul Dellerba indicated earlier in the week he'd like to put some oomph in the Chiefs' attack and apparently he did just that.

QUICK START

Central bolted to a 20-0 first quarter lead, raised it to 26-0 at intermission and coasted through the second half.

Quarterback Rollie Garcia set the pace for the Chiefs. He scored the Chiefs first touchdown on an 11-yard run and picked up their fourth on a 54-yard keeper play.

West Bloomfield Rips Milford in 60-25 Tilt

There were other big scores, too. Northville disposed of Brighton, 48-0, and Bloomfield Hills Andover welcomed Waterford Kettering to the W-O by blanking the Captains, 34-0.

CLARKSTON FALLS

"This even had the officials talking," said Paddy, still in a bit of a shock at the way the Lakers made the scoreboard blink. "You hired us for a football game and then make a track meet out of it," said one of the tired, but smiling officials to Paddy.

The Lakers' point total also started some head scratching as to the school record. "It's the most since I've been here," said Paddy who is in his 13th campaign.

SETS PACE

Leading the touchdown parade for the lakers was league dash champion Terry Conley with four six-pointers. Conley collected the quartet of touchdowns on runs of 63, 48, 2, and 83, the 48-yarder coming after he picked up a Milford fumble.

Fullback Ed McKenna got into the act with two scores on runs of 13 and 47, while Bill Bullock tallied on a 24-yard run, Kim Woodruff on a 42-yard dash and Dave Decoteau 41 yards with an intercepted pass.

TOP PERFORMANCE

Overshadowed by the Laker explosion was the performance of Milford quarterback Bob Clinard. He scored one touchdown on a 24-yard run and passed for two others. He hit Doug Powers with a 10-yard strike in the second period and caught Matt Partridge with a 44-yarder in the third. Larry Vick rambled 30 yards for the other Redskin tally.

The Lakers blew the game open with four touchdowns in the first quarter and they left the field at halftime with a 34-13 lead.

Port Huron Gains Victory in EML

Ron Thrushman scored three times last night in leading Port Huron Northern to a 35-7 win over Roseville in an Eastern Michigan League contest.

In other EML games, East Detroit downed Stevenson, 22-6, and Mount Clemens shaded Port Huron, 13-6. Eric Geister, Dave Srot and Larry Bettencourt scored touchdowns for East Detroit. The games were league openers for all teams.

SIX POINTS — West Bloomfield's Ed McKenna is nearing the end of a 13-yard touchdown run against Milford last night in the first quarter of their game on the West Bloomfield field. McKenna scored again later on a 47-yard run and he and his teammates romped to a 60-25 victory.

The Roley boys — quarterback Scott and halfback Jeff — keep rolling at Bloomfield Hills Andover. Scott scored twice on runs of 4 and 66 yards, while Jeff tallied twice on passes of 10 and 7 yards from Scott. Bob Huessner was on the receiving end of a 62-yard pass from Scott for the other Baron score.

Clarenceville scored early in the first on a 20-yard pass from Dave Brandemihl to Rob Weller and then spent the rest of the evening successfully protecting it.

Andover and West Bloomfield now lead the W-O with 2-0 records, while Northville is 1-1. Milford and Clarenceville are 1-1. Kettering is 0-1, while Brighton and Clarkston are 0-2.

Mott in Grid Standoff

Waterford Mott's young Corsairs responded to the pressure and came through with the big plays in the closing minutes of play to gain a 13-13 tie with Swartz Creek under the lights at WTHS' gridiron last night.

Trailing 13-6 with three minutes to play, Mott faked a fourth down punt at its own 45. Sophomore Bill Ziem found junior Terry Ruffato open with a pass and the Corsair halfback carried the ball to the visitors' eight-yard-line.

* * *

On the first play, Ruffato broke open up the middle to reach paydirt with 2½ minutes remaining. Ziem then hit Bob Zywicki on the conversion to forge the deadlock.

TIGHTENS

Mott's defense tightened after the Dragons tallied touchdowns in each of the first two periods. Bob Olivo was the culprit.

He took a 20-yard scoring aerial from Steve Lord for a 6-0 lead. Olivo broke a 6-6 tie with a three-yard run that, coupled with Brad Thrower's kick, put Swartz Creek ahead, 13-6, at the intermission.

The Corsairs' first six-pointer came on a one-yard rollout run by Jerry McNair in the open-session.

WINLESS

Both teams entered the game winless in two starts. The Corsairs were making their home field debut as a varsity squad.

Swartz Creek made most of its 371 yards on the ground. Helped by the big pass in the closing minutes, Mott held the edge in the airlanes while amassing 348 yards.

Penalties hurt the visitors, also.

Two Sharing First Place in Southern Thumb Loop

The list of unbeatens in the Southern Thumb League dwindled to two last night.

Richmond ran its league mark to 2-0 with a 26-12 win over Armada and New Haven kept pace with a 7-6 decision over Anchor Bay (1-1).

SCORES 3 TD's

Dennis Garner scored three touchdowns and Frank Bacholzky checked in with two to spark the Amont victory.

Garner hauled in scoring passes of 20 and 32 yards from quarterback John Bacholzky — Frank's brother — and raced over on a 27-yard run. Frank B. tallied on runs of six and 10 yards and Roger Hunt picked up the other on a 20-yard pass from John B.

LEADS RICHMOND

Quarterback Scott Scofield scored twice and passed for another score in leading Richmond past Armada.

Armada went in front in the first on a 5-yard run by Mike DePauw, but Richmond scored 19 points in the second frame to take a 19-6 lead at intermission.

Brother Rice Erupts, 60-7

Birmingham Brother Rice unleashed its offense Friday night and entered the win column for the first time with a 60-7 rout of Detroit Salesian at Groves Stadium.

Kevin Keating notched six-pointers on runs of 19 and four yards, and scored on a 45-yard punt return. Steve Jones went 37 yards to tally with a punt, and also went over on a 75-yard pass play with John Maloney.

The Warriors erupted for 34 points in the opening quarter, then added 19 to hold a 53-0 advantage by the half. The 60 points are a Brother Rice scoring record.

Oxford Victim of Lamphere

Madison Team Boosts Record to 3-0

The Rams of Madison Lamphere went on a scoring binge last night as they ran their record to 3-0 with a 39-12 pasting of Oxford.

Jeff Madlusky scored three touchdowns on passes of 58, 56 and 9 yards from quarterback Bill Watson to pace the attack. Art Tancredi tallied on a five-yard run and Kurt Mitter raced three yards for the other tally.

It was the third straight loss for Oxford which was behind 26-0 at halftime. Larry Schultz went over from the one in the third for the Wildcats first score and Dave Darling teamed with Dan Valentine on a 56-yard scoring play in the fourth.

Three-Way Tie in Golf Event

DALTON, Ga. (AP) — Touring pros Dave Marr, Wayne Yates and Hugh Royer all fired four-under-par 67s Friday to tie for the lead in the second annual Dalton Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

Yates, of Atlanta, blistered the front nine in four-under-par 31, picking up birdies on the third, seventh, eighth and ninth holes. He was even par on the back side with one birdie and one bogey.

Falcons Edge Rivals, 14-13; Orion Falters

There were a few bad moments, but over-all, things worked out well for Rochester last night, even a busted play that produced what turned out to be the winning point.

It was a bit scary, but Rochester held on for a 14-13 win over Clawson and with the victory moved into the lead in the Oakland A League.

JUG TILT TIED

Elsewhere in the O-A, Romeo and Utica battled to a 13-13 standoff in their Little Brown Jug showdown, Madison pinned a 38-0 setback on Avondale and Troy turned back Lake Orion, 20-6.

So, Rochester now sits atop the heap with a 2-0 record. Romeo, Madison and Troy share the No. 2 spot with 1-0-1 marks.

Things looked rosy for the Falcons of Rochester as they rolled up a 14-0 lead at halftime, but the visiting Trojans caught fire in the second half and almost pulled it out.

FALCONS FLY

Rod Thiel's four-yard run and Bob Denz kick made it 7-0 for Rochester in the first and Mike Scally's seven-yard pass to Russ Gill make it 13-0 in the second. Tom Myers then ran the vital extra point on a broken play. Myers was back to hold for Denz kick, but the snap was bad, so Myers scooped up the ball and legged it into the end zone for the point.

Bill Weakley's 63-yard dash in the third cut it to 14-6 and it was narrowed to the final point in the fourth when Mike Heist lofted a 26-yard scoring pass to Chuck Currie.

Romeo turned a couple of Utica mistakes into touchdowns for an early 13-0 lead but Utica tallied twice in the fourth to produce a deadlock.

EARLY EDGE

Marvin Craft's one-yard run ended a 37-yard march following a Utica fumble and gave Romeo a 7-0 lead on Ron Tabar's kick, and the Bulldogs went ahead 13-0 in the second on a one-yard run by Fred Lebendig. Linebacker Bruce Harms broke through to block Tabar's PAT kick.

Troy took a 7-0 lead over Orion on a 26-yard pass from Kerry Brown to Brad Faber plus Joe Mitchell's PAT run in the second period. Mitchell's 35-yard run made it 13-0 in the third and Kurt Gillespie wrapped it up with a 61-yard jaunt in the fourth.

Orion countered in the fourth on Bill Baker's one-yard run.

Bob Tremblay tossed four touchdown passes to pace the Madison attack. He connected for a pair to John Havrelko — 45 and 39 — and flipped single tallies to Garry Marrow (59) and Rich Wolrock (23). Doug Meadows raced over on a four-yarder and Jeff Miller tallied on an eight-yard run for the other Madison tallies.

Lahser Falls, 7-0

Ortonville Ties Visitors

Ortonville Brandon's defense repulsed two scoring bids by visiting Whitemore Lake in the third quarter Friday night and settled for a 0-0 tie as both teams remained winless.

The Blackhawks moved to the Whitemore Lake 11-yard-line in the second quarter but were set back by two penalties.

The Trojans, in turn, pushed to the Ortonville one in the third period but failed in four rushes. Steve Krantz's play along the line was a big factor defensively for Brandon. Ron Wagner knocked down five passes in the secondary.

After the Trojans were stopped at the one, they pushed back to the host team's 11 before being stopped.

TOP PRODUCER

Ed Westerby's ball carrying produced most of the Black-Hewks' 127 yards. Freshman Dexter Hubbs set up the one good scoring chance with a long punt return on which he was caught from behind inside the Whitmore Lake 40.

EARLY SCORE

Flint Carman pushed across a second-period touchdown and made it stand up for a 7-0 victory over Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

Chuck Mungell romped across on a four-yard run and the visitors halted the Knights at every turn as their record fell to 1-2.

Lahser rolled up 248 yards on the ground, but three fumbles and 115 yards in penalties helped slow the attack.

Rochester Pads Harrier Record

Rochester's Falcons nipped Oxford yesterday in a nip-and-tuck cross-country match, 27-28, and the win kept Rochester perfect for the season at 5-0.

Oxford's Jim Goodfellow took individual honors with a time of 10:14, but Rochester took second, third, sixth and seventh to pull out the win. Keith Watties led Rochester, followed by teammates Ed Griffis (3), Doug Hauk (6) and Cal McDanile (7).

2 Parochials Still Unbeaten

Pontiac Catholic Has Sunday Game

With some luck of their own making plus some help from another source, the Titans of Pontiac Catholic could be sitting atop the Northwest Catholic League by themselves Sunday evening.

The Titans stay at home this weekend and they'll entertain Detroit St. Rita at 2:30 p.m. in what should be little more than exercise for the Pontiac squad.

If all goes well, the Titans will easily dispose of the St. Rita eleven, and they could move into first place all alone if Royal Oak St. Mary can handle Ferndale St. James.

SHARE LEAD

St. James and the Titans are 2-0, the only unbeatens in the league, and while an easy game is in the offing for the Titans, it won't be so easy for St. James.

* * *

The Irish of ROSM are 0-2 but they put up a lot of resistance before bowing to Pontiac Catholic last week, 19-6, and the Titans are hopeful the Irish will be just disturbed enough to vent their feelings on St. James.

OTHER GAMES

While the Titans have scored 39 points in two games, coach Mel Larsen has not been overly pleased with the offense.

LAKERS SURPRISING

Waterford OLL, which was supposed to roll over and play dead for the rest of the league, isn't living up to its preseason billing.

The Lakers had Pontiac Catholic on the ropes before bowing, 20-14, in their opener, and they came back last week with a solid 25-0 verdict over defending champion OL St. Mary.

OCC Harriers Keep Rolling

The Highlanders, taking the first seven places, rolled up 15 points. Glen Oaks was second with 63 and Macomb Community College was third at 67.

Setting the pace for the Highlanders was Roger Cleaver, followed by John Nadolni, Bryan Schultz, Harold Boone, Julian Gloomis, Ed Bailey and Craig Owen. Cleaver's time was 15:21 and the top seven Highlanders all broke the course record to 17:02.

Stanley May Stay at Shortstop for World Series

Manager Still Undecided; Tigers Drop 3-1 Decision

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Mayo Smith said Friday night it would be a logical move to play Detroit Tigers centerfielder Mickey Stanley at shortstop in the World Series if an extra bat is needed.

But Smith wouldn't say whether he would make the move or not.

"If we were going to go for the extra bat this would be the local move," he said in the Tigers' dressing room after a 3-1 loss to the last-place Washington Senators.

LOOKS IMPRESSIVE

Stanley played short in the loss and looked impressive on several plays. Since Detroit clinched the pennant Sept. 17 Mayo has been experimenting with Stanley at short, which in turn has given Al Kaline a chance to come off the bench and play regularly in rightfield while Jim Northrup moved to center.

Why didn't Smith try this sooner?

"When you're going like that (for the pennant) you don't start making preparations for the World Series," he said.

If Stanley does start the Series at short, Smith said he would not keep him there if Detroit got a lead. "Then I'd move him to the outfield and take Willie (Horton) out of there," he said.

He said the move, if it is made for the Series, would be a temporary thing.

"No sir!" he said to the possibility of turning Stanley into the regular shortstop next season.

VARIOUS PLAYERS

Ray Oyler started this season at the position, but rookie Tom Matchick has played it most of the last half, with utility man Dick Tracewski there on occasion.

Smith started Friday night's game with what has been his regular lineup most of the season, except for Stanley at short.

Mayo is expected to use Denny McLain, Earl Wilson and Mickey Lolich to pitch in the Series. But in an effort to give the other pitchers some work before the big encounter in St. Louis he alternated them against the Senators.

Joe Sparma (10-10) started for Detroit. He allowed one run in his three-inning stint. That came in the second inning when big Frank Howard singled, Ken McMullen singled, Bernie Allen was safe on a fielder's choice moving Howard to third, then catcher Jim French grounded out bringing in the run.

Norm Cash tied it up in the bottom of the inning with a home run into the upper deck in rightfield. It was his 25th of the year.

Things were deadlocked between Washington starter Joe Coleman and reliever John Hiller (9-6) for the next three innings. But in the top of the seventh, Howard greeted new Tiger pitcher Pat Dobson (5-7) with a home run into the lower deck in leftfield, his 44th of the season.

Washington added an insurance run in the inning when McMullen walked, Allen singled McMullen to third, and French hit a sacrifice fly.

Coleman picked up his 12th win against 16 loses. Dobson was the loser for Detroit, his seventh against five wins.

Finals Slated in Senior Golf

Southern Golfers Play for U.S. Title

ATLANTA (AP) — Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., and Ben Goodes of Reidsville, N.C., moved into the finals of the U.S. Golf Association's Senior Amateur Tournament Friday, winning quarter-final and semi-final matches.

Person defeated Desmond Sullivan of West Orange, N.J., 1-up during the morning round, then came back in the afternoon to beat Alan Howard of Davenport, Iowa, with another 1-up score.

Goodes had an easy 6-5 victory over Henry L. Robison of Albuquerque, N.M., in the quarterfinals, and then beat Robert B. Kersky of Del Ray Beach, Fla., 2-up in the semis.

Person's matches were both cliff-hangers, going down to the final hole. He had it a little easier with Sullivan, whose bogie five on the 17th cost him the match, and needed only a halve on the final hole.

76ers Triumph Easily, 142-109 Over Pistons

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The Philadelphia 76ers mixed an aggressive defense and fast break for 51 points in the third period and went on to defeat the Detroit Pistons, 142-109, in a National Basketball Association exhibition game Friday night.

The 76ers trailed 58-56 at halftime. Then veteran guard Hal Greer spearheaded the 12-minute spurt which ended with Philadelphia ahead, 107-78.

Greer, in his 11th NBA season, scored 17 points in the first nine minutes of the quarter by going 7-for-7 from the floor and 3-for-3 from the foul line. He sat out the rest of the period.

For Olympic Games Track

New Shoes Given 'Brush Off'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The so-called brush track shoe got the brushoff today for the impending 19th Olympic Games, first ever to be held on the (Tartan) new plastic surfaced track.

"Everybody knew that the new type shoe could not be used in the Mexico City games, but we have made it official," said Donald Pain, of England, secretary of the International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF).

"We sent a notice to the various athletic delegations in the Olympic Village simply pointing out that no technical rule can be changed during an Olympic year and the rule on track shoes now requires a maximum of eight spikes."

The controversial shoe, worn by the United States' John Carlos and Lee Evans in bettering world 200 and 400 meter records recently, has 68 small brushes, four millimeters long, on the sole.

Pain also said a report that Carlos' remarkable 200 meter time of 19.7 in the U.S. final trials at South Lake Tahoe, Calif., had been officially rejected by the IAAF was erroneous.

"No official claim has been made for Carlos' record, so how could it be rejected?"

Pain said the IAAC will check all stages of practice at the Olympic Village prior to start of the games Oct. 13 to discourage trackmen from even working out with the brush shoe.

This leaves a couple of enterprising German firms stuck with more shoes than old mother Hubbard had kids she didn't know what to do with.

TWO FIRMS

The two firms (Puma and Adidas), owned by rival business brothers, brought several thousand pairs of the controversial shoe designed to send runners flying over the carpet-like tartan track and offered them to any interested athletes.

Pain said there was a slight difference in the shoes hauled to the Olympic center. "One had 68 brushes and the other had 42," he said. "They call them brushes, but they're still spikes."

With the growing numbers of synthetic tracks, especially in North America, Pain admitted the IAAF "will take a long, hard look" at the possibility of approving the brush shoe at its Olympic meeting Oct. 5-6.

The standard track shoe used by sprinters and flat runners has six spikes on the sole only. High jumpers wear the same type of shoes with two spikes on the heels to assist takeoffs.

Another IAAF official, Adrian Paulen, noted that while Evans ran his spectacular 44.0 in the Olympic trial 400 meter wearing the brush shoes, runnerup Larry James was clocked in 44.1—also bettering a pending world mark of 44.5 by Tommie Smith—wearing standard track shoes.

The swing may be to synthetic tracks and brush shoes for faster performances, but Paulen hinted the IAAF may not rush into approval of the new footwear.

Sets Pace With Record 66

FALLBROOK, Calif. (AP) — Judy Kimball of Sutton, Mass., knocked four strokes off the course record with a six-under-par 66 Friday to take the lead in the first round of the eighth annual Mickey Wright Invitational Golf Tournament at Fallbrook Country Club.

Miss Kimball had rounds of 34 and 32 and hit 16 greens in regulation figures on the tight 6,200-yard course. Her total replaced a 70 as the 1964 course mark-credited to a Fallbrook amateur, Martha Wilkinson.

Gates Thanks Donors of Car With Emotion

DETROIT (UPI) — They presented Gates Brown with a brand new car Friday night and the 200-pound Detroit Tigers' super pinch-hitter did what any man would have. He cried.

Brown stepped up to the microphone at home plate, brushed something away from his eyes, and thanked the Detroit Civic organization which presented him with a 1969 Chevrolet.

"Thank you," he spoke in a soft, humble voice. "You could have chosen anybody on the team . . ." His hand moved to his eyes again and the Crestline Ohio native spoke to the crowd: "God bless you all.

* * *

"Really," said Brown after the game. "With all the stars on this team — a 31-game winner, Al Kaline, Willie Horton, Bill Freehan — and they chose me. It's a real compliment."

Twinbill Held Lightweight Champ Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carlos "Teo" Cruz of the Dominican Republic won his first defense of the lightweight title while in the companion championship 15-round bout, Japan's Sho Saijyo wrested a share of the featherweight crown.

The 30-year-old Cruz built up an early lead of 19-year-old challenger Mando Ramos of Long Beach, Calif., to score his unanimous decision in Friday night's outdoor show at the Coliseum.

Then came Saijyo of Tokyo to consistently beat Raul Rojas of nearby San Pedro to the punch and pile up an impressive array of points to take the World Boxing Association's 126-pound title.

"I hit him with everything and the kid surprised me . . . nothing happened," declared Cruz, outfought the final five stanzas by his youthful companion who suffered an cut eye in the third round had had to protect it from then on.

Ramos had hoped to become the first boxer to win a clear cut lightweight title while still in his teens.

"If I'd just gone out at first like I did in the later rounds, I think I could have stopped him," said Ramos who, along with the 23,211 fans, wasn't impressed with the champion's punching power.

Both fighters weighed the exact 135-pound limit.

Denny Needs 8 Strike Outs

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sam McDowell and the surprising Cleveland Indians have finished their 1968 baseball season on a high note, but they'll have to wait another day to find out how high.

The fire-balling McDowell took over the American League lead in strike outs by fanning 11 for 283 as he hurled a four-hitter in Cleveland's 2-0 triumph over Baltimore Friday night in the season finale for both clubs.

The victory also left the Indians, a preseason pick to finish in the second division, only a half game behind Boston in the battle for third place.

However, 31-game winner Denny McLain of Detroit makes a final tune up today for the World Series against Washington, needing eight strike outs to overtake McDowell. And Boston stall has games left against the New York Yankees today and Sunday, needing only one victory to leave the Indians permanently in fourth place.

The Red Sox added a pessimistic note to Cleveland's higher hopes by running over the Yankees 12-2 Friday night as Carl Yastrzemski, Reggie Smith and Mike Andrews slashed homers behind Dick Ellsworth.

In other games Oakland moved into a tie for fifth place with the Yankees by bombing Minnesota 8-4 behind Rick Monday's two homers and one by Dick Green, and the Chicago White Sox beat California 5-1 to tie the Angels for eighth.

Pittsburgh 4-1 in the afternoon.

McDowell, who has twice before led the league in strike outs with 325 in 1965 and 225 in 1966 and fanned 236 last season, had fanned nine and not allowed a hit until rookie Bob Floyd opened the sixth for Baltimore with a double.

HITS HOMER

Yastrzemski had a double and his 23rd homer for Boston, Smith drove in two runs and scored two with a double and his 15th homer and Andrews knocked in three and scored two with a double and his seventh homer.

Monday's homers, giving him eight, were his first in a month and drove in three runs and Green's sixth came with two on.

Joe Horlen, 12-14, who singled in one run, teamed with Wilbur Wood to pitch the White Sox past California. Leon Wagner doubled for two more runs as the Angels lost their sixth straight.

Imlay Among Loop Leaders

Imlay City blanked Harbor Beach, 12-0, Millington shut out Birch Run, 40-0, Brown City edged Deckerville, 23-20, and Yale came from behind to down North Branch, 12-7.

PACES IMLAY

Quarterback Jerry Shull sparked the Imlay City Spartans to their league win and their third over-all.

He tossed a 24-yard pass to Paul Van Doesiaar early in the second period and came back later in the frame to score on a 16-yard run to wrap up the scoring.

Pete Michelz hauled in a 25-yard pass from Dave Sada for Yale's first score and Mickey Falerno tallied on a one-yard run in the fourth. Dave Graham sneaked over from the three for North Branch's only touchdown. Bob Mayberry kicked the point.

Senators Up for Sale Says Club President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators are for sale, the club president says.

So far there have been no firm offers for the last-place American League team, president James H. Lemon said Friday.

But Lemon said the sale is inevitable because of the death of his partner last year.

Controversial former baseball executive Bill Veeck confirmed he made an offer last year and it was rejected. Veeck said he is no longer interested.

Comedian Bob Hope insisted he was in Washington to play golf, not buy a baseball club.

Veeck and Lemon both indicated the asking price for the team was around $10 million.

The Senators plunged from sixth to 10th place in the league this year and suffered a 20 per drop in attendance.

Gibson Gains 13th Shutout

By the Associated Press

Bring on the Tigers. Bob Gibson is ready.

The St. Louis ace, tuning up for the World Series against Detroit, hurled his 13th shutout of the season Friday night and shattered a 53-year-old pitching record while doing it.

Gibson beat Houston 1-0 and lowered his earned run average to 1.12, breaking the National League mark of 1.22 set by Philadelphia's Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1915. It was the 22nd victory of the season—a personal high—for the big right-hander.

Gibson's performance was typical of 1968's pitcher-dominated season and so was Pete Rose's move into the batting lead.

AVERAGE DIPS

Cincinnati's Rose had one hit in seven at bats as the Reds dropped a 15-inning game to San Francisco, 3-2. Rose's average dipped two points to .330 but Pittsburgh's Matty Alou was 0-for-4 as the Pirates bowed to Chicago, 4-1, and dropped three points to .329.

In other National League games, Los Angeles topped Atlanta 5-2 and Philadelphia edged New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

Willie Mays broke up the Giants game with a leadoff homer in the 15th inning against Cincinnati's Ted Abernathy. It was Mays' 23rd of the year and career No. 587.

The loss shoved the Reds into a third place tie with the Cubs, who defeated Pittsburgh. Lee May homered for Cincinnati.

Al Spangler's eighth pinch hit of the season—a two-run double in the seventh inning—helped the Cubs get past Pittsburgh.

An error by Jose Pagan playing third base in place of the absent Maury Wills, started the Cubs' seventh inning rally after Donn Clendenon's 17th homer of the year had snapped a scoreless tie in the top half.

The setback left the Pirates tied for fifth place with Atlanta, two games back of the Cubs and Reds with two games remaining for all four teams.

Tom Haller drove in three runs with a double and triple, leading the Dodgers past the Braves. Haller's triple in the ninth inning broke a 2-2 tie, scoring Jim Fairey and Willie Davis, who had singled.

Lions to Test 'Live' Packers

Five Teams Unbeaten in NFL Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Five teams still are unbeaten in the National Football League — Dallas, Los Angeles, Minnesota, Baltimore and New York — but the fate of Green Bay will attract the most attention on Sunday's eight-game program.

Ever since Vince Lombardi retired as coach and named Phil Bengtson as his successor, fans have been watching to see what effect the change would have on the Packers.

Green Bay won its first game and then bowed to Minnesota last week. Now the Packers (1-1) come up against the revived Detroit Lions (1-1), who ran the Chicago Bears out of the park last Sunday, 42-0.

Bill Swain probably will replace Mike Lucci at linebacker for Detroit against Green Bay. Tackle Charley Bradshaw is a probable starter despite an ankle injury and rookie end Earl McCullouch is expected to play despite a sore knee.

TOPS IN CENTRAL

Minnesota (2-0, all alone on top of the Central Division, is at home to the Bears (0-2). The collapse of the Bears' heralded total offense and their defensive collapse (80 points by Washington and Detroit) puts new coach Jim Dooley on the spot.

Gale Sayers' bruised back has improved but continued quarterback trouble could be fatal. The Vikings who have an improved attack that controlled the ball against the Packers. Bill Brown, the Minnesota fullback, is the leading scorer in the league.

Dallas (2-0) is favored to hand Philadelphia (0-2) its third straight defeat in a game to be played at Franklin Field. The Eagles' Norm Snead is almost ready to play after suffering a broken ankle in the first exhibition. Dallas' attack is perking under Don Meredith and the defense has smeared the passer 10 times.

The New York Giants (2-0) sharing the Capitol Division lead with the Cowboys, open at home against Washington (1-1). It will be Fran Tarkenton's scrambling against Sonny Jurgensen's arm with a kicking sideshow between the brothers Gogolak (Pete for the Giants and Charlie for the Redskins). Running back Randy Minniear is lost to the Giants so rookies Ron Blye and Bobby Duhon will see plenty of action.

MORRALL AGAIN

Baltimore (2-0) visits Pittsburgh (0-2) for the first time since 1950. John Unitas still is not quite ready to go so Earl Morrall again will do the passing. The Steelers have been getting burned by the bomb.

The Los Angeles Rams (2-0), all even with the Colts in the Coastal Division, also stray out of their division to invade Cleveland (1-1). The Rams are coming off a strong game against Pittsburgh in which Roman Gabriel had a big day. The Browns were unable to handle the Cowboys' Doomsday Defense and now must wrestle with the Rams' Fearsome Foursome.

St. Louis (0-2) is switching to Lt. Charley Johnson and bypassing young Jim Hart at quarterback for its venture into Bayou country where the New Orleans Saints (1-1) are dreaming of a division title. Don McCall came into his own for the Saints last week with 127 yards against the Redskins.

Patriots' Ace Runner Out of Denver Tilt

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots suffered a crippling blow Friday when fullback Jim Nance was declared out of Sunday's American Football League game with the Broncos at Denver.

Nance, the AFL's leading ground gainer the last two years, twisted his ankle in a preseason game against the Philadelphia Eagles. He was used only for blocking in the AFL opener at Buffalo and was ineffective against the New York Jets last Sunday.

NEGRO QB

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Rookie Marlin Briscoe could be the first Negro quarterback to see action in the American Football League if — as expected — he gets into the Denver lineup Sunday in a game with the Boston Patriots.

"I realize it will be the first," said Broscoe, a 5-foot-10, 178-poupder from Omaha University. It will be, he said, "just like baseball. I'll have to perform as well."

A former Minnesota star, Sandy Stephens, appeared in preseason games last year with Kansas City but did not see action during the regular season.

Willie Thrower of Michigan State played one regular season game in 1953 in the first appearance by a Negro quarterback in an AFL game. He completed three of eight passes for 27 yards.

2 GAME STREAK

"We will have to have some good bounces and bobbles," said Coach Paul Brown about the scrappy Bengals, who adied the scrappy Bengals who aided big plays to win the two contests.

Brown cautioned that the Chargers are a great team and they move the ball well against all clubs, as the Bengals found out in their first encounter with San Diego that resulted in their only loss — 29-13.

BREAK HABIT

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — If there's one thing the Buffalo Bills want to do Sunday it's to kick the holding habit. But there's another important task —to stop Joe Namath.

The Bills take on Namath and the New York Jets in War Memorial Stadium in their fourth American Football League game of the season. They lost the first three while the Jets won their first two.

Harvey Johnson, the Bills new coach, says Buffalo had five holding penalties in the Boston game, three of four against Oakland and five last Sunday against Cincinnati.

WOUNDED DOLPHINS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Miami Dolphins, sorely wounded by the loss of five regulars, are expected to take their lumps again when they meet the Kansas City Chiefs tonight.

With tight end Doug Moreau, fullback Stan Mitchell, running back Jack Harper, cornerback Dick Westmoreland and safety Bob Petrella all on the sidelines, the Dolphins have been clobbered two straight weeks by the Houston Oilers and the Oakland Raiders.

The Chiefs also have had a heavy toll of injured, leading to suggestions that Saturday's game be called the "bandage bowl."

Meeting Set Regarding '69 Twins' Pilot

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Twins formally announced Friday that a press conference is scheduled at 10:45 a.m., CDT, Monday regarding the American League baseball team's manager for 1969.

Twins President Calvin Griffith is expected to announce a decision whether Cal Ermer, whose one-year contract expires at the end of this season, will be retained for 1969.

Former Twins coach Billy Martin, a Pacific Coast League manager the past season at Denver, has been mentioned as a possible successor to Ermer.

North Stars Defeat Hawks

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — A third-period goal by veteran winger Parker MacDonald eased the Minnesota North Stars to a 2-1 win over the Chicago Black Hawks in a National Hockey League exhibition Friday night.

A first-period marker by Gary Dineen opened scoring for the North Stars. Chicago countered with a goal by Pit Martin, also in the first session.

Netters in Semifinals

Late Golf Star Is Honored on Date of Death

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — The late Babe Didrikson Zaharias was honored Friday as the greatest woman athlete in history.

A Texas historical marker was unveiled on the 12th anniversary of the death of the famous golfer and Olympic champion.

Babe's brilliant career was cut short by cancer in 1956.

Warren to Lawyers: Battle for Justice

"A right without an advocate is as useless as a blueprint without a builder or materials," Warren said.

He said many countries have constitutional provisions similar to those of the United States but that in only a few countries do the provisions find effect in the actual operation of the law.

Portugal's New Leader Has Big Job

LISBON (AP) — Marcello Caetano began his first full day's work as Portugal's new prime minister today with princely problems and what for him is a pauper's salary.

In formal ceremonies Friday, the 62-year-old highly successful corporation lawyer took over the job of Antonio Salazar, who had set the job's salary at the equivalent of $432 a month.

Salazar, whose 40-year authoritarian rule of Portugal was ended by a stroke that brought him near death, lived like a hermit, and his austere furniture dated to 1928.

- A seven-year-old antiguerrilla war in Portugal's African colonies, which costs 40 per cent of the national budget.
- A stagnant economy which brings the average Portuguese less than $700 a year income.
- Increasing pressure to liberalize the authoritarian style of government, although Portugal has remained tranquil under Salazar's rule.

Political observers look for some possible moves toward liberalization, but only after Caetano has gained a firm base of support within the conservative armed forces.

March in Chicago Today Will Protest Police Actions

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of demonstrators are expected to march down Michigan Avenue and assemble in Grant Park today in protest against police action during the Democratic National Convention.

The rally and parade also are aimed at mobilizing support for ending the war in Vietnam and for appealing for amnesty for demonstrators arrested during the convention, the week of Aug. 25. Permits for the rally and parade were issued by the city.

The march will take the demonstrators past the site of a violent convention-week clash between police and demonstrators, during which scores of persons were injured.

Demonstrators and others have accused the police of needlessly clubbing many persons, including newsmen and bystanders. Police have denied this.

Today's rally was organized by the Chicago Peace Council and the Citizens for Free Chicago.

The park district refused to grant rally permits to the patriots because, it said, it could not handle two large groups at the same location on the same day.

Hurt Hemophiliac Boy Finds People Friendly

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — In six weeks, 15-year-old Gary Lemons has made many new friends and found there are a lot of nice people in the world.

Gary, a hemophiliac, broke his leg Aug. 16 when he fell at his home. As of Thursday, it has taken the clotting factor from 864 pints of blood to keep him from bleeding.

FAITH RESTORED

"Sometime you wonder what the world is coming to, but it restores all your faith in the human race," Gary said from his bed at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

The donors have ranged from college students to about 110 residents of the southeast Arkansas town of Hamburg, some of whom were flown to Little Rock on Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's private jet. Many persons responded to a public appeal for donors.

Gary's days are filled. There was a party on his 15th birthday Aug. 30. Nurses on his floor furnished the cake. He has finished reading a book about a Russian royal family that had five generations of hemophilia.

He has never been in class since entering the 10th grade—he broke his leg before school started—but he keeps up with his five subjects with the help of a teacher who visits him daily.

An "A" and "B" student, Gary hopes to earn a doctorate in mathematics.

'HE'S MOTIVATED'

Seventy-five per cent of the Russian work force works a 41-hour week at present. The others work longer.

Police said an investigation showed that Agar was involved in about five other similar breaking and enterings in approximately the last two months.

His fingerprints also matched those taken at the scenes of the previous breaking and enterings which all took place between 2 and 4 p.m., police said.

'Debate Unlikely to Include Nixon'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The president of the Columbia Broadcasting System predicted Friday night that if there is any televised debating between presidential candidates this year it will be between Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

"We are prepared to grant equal time to all three," Dr. Frank Stanton said, "but I do not think (Richard) Nixon will debate with either of the other candidates."

"If the candidates want to dance, we will provide the music," the CBS executive said in an interview.

Disaster in the form of an onrushing Dagwood quickly overtakes Bryan O'Byrne, who plays Mr. Beasley, the Bumsteads' mailman, on "Blondie" Thursday's at 7:30 on CBS. Beasley and Dagwood both wind up in this week's episode beneath a shower of letters.

Hutchins a Natural as TV Dagwood

Here is Dagwood Bumstead, master-bumbler of the half-century, tripping over the threshold of life, and here is Will Hutchins, a chap who knows exactly how it feels.

In "Blondie," the new comedy series Thursdays, 7:30-8:00 p.m. in color on the CBS Television Network, Hutchins is the television counterpart of cartoonist Chic Young's comic strip protagonist.

Doors, it seems, are a particular anathema to Hutchins.

"Peter Robbins (the child actor who plays Hutchins' son on the series) walks up to a door, opens it and walks through," says Hutchins. "When I try to open it, it gets stuck."

After years of short-circuiting blenders and vacuum cleaners, nicking himself on can-openers and breaking glassware, Hutchins' mechanical ineptitude is well-known to his friends.

"It's not hereditary, though," he admits. "My dad was great at fixing things around the house, and my mother was a very accomplished amateur artist."

3 Die in Shooting Spree

GRAND BLANC (AP) — Distraught over the breakup of his marriage, a Flint-area factory worker bought a gun yesterday and went on a shooting spree, killing his wife and father-in-law and taking his own life, police said.

Lester A. Foust, 34, was found dead in the living room of his small frame home in a sparsely populated section of nearby Grand Blanc Township. He had been shot in the head and a .38-caliber revolver was at his feet, police said.

At the other end of the bloodspattered home was the body of his wife, Sonja, 30, who had been shot in the chest and shoulder. Her stepfather, Allen Lee, 68, of Mio, lay dead in a hallway, shot in the head and abdomen.

Police were called to the home by a neighbor, Judith Barnett, after Lee's wife, Leota, 49, stumbled critically wounded from the Fouse house to seek aid.

Mrs. Lee was reported in critical condition at a Flint hospital today with a bullet wound in the throat.

Despite the wound, Township Police Chief Herbert Doan said Mrs. Lee was able to tell him, "My son-in-law shot me."

A search of the Foust home turned up traces of blood on the foot of a stairway leading to the basement. Police theorized one of the victims apparently had been chased into the basement and back upstairs.

Doan said a number of shots had been fired inside the home, and one bullet was found in a wall near the basement.

Parked outside was Foust's car with several 38-caliber shells and a bill of sale for the gun on the front seat, police said. Doan said the bill showed the gun had been purchased earlier in the day at a Flint-area gun shop.

The Fousts' son, Ricky, 10, was at school at the time of the shooting.

Doan said that in past months township police had answered several calls at the Foust home concerning "family troubles." Mrs. Foust had told officers her husband had threatened her and she feared she would be killed, Doan said.

The couple apparently separated recently, and the Lees were visiting Mrs. Foust when the shooting occurred.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice suffered setbacks within Congress and without as President Johnson's nomination moved today toward a Tuesday showdown on the Senate floor.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, once an outspoken supporter of confirmation, said yesterday he would not vote to shut off a filibuster against the nomination and said he was now decided on whether to back Fortas.

Dirksen said he was taking this position because of developments that occurred since his earlier endorsement, but he declined to elaborate.

There "are things that still don't meet the eye," Dirksen said.

'LACKED FACTS'

At the same time, the president of the American Bar Association, which endorsed Fortas, said the ABA's committee on federal judgeships did not have all the facts when it backed the nomination.

"I do recognize that all of the facts were not before the committee," said William Gossett. "Some of the facts brought about by the Senate committee were not present before it voted."

Gossett, however, said any move to take a new look at endorsing Fortas would have to be made by the chairman of the ABA committee, Albert Jenner of Chicago.

Jenner could not be reached immediately.

De Gaulle Dimming W. German Hopes

BONN, German (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle showed no signs today he is prepared to give West German leaders much comfort in their concern over Western defenses and lack of progress toward a united Europe.

De Gaulle winds up two days of summit talks here with Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger after dashing Bonn's hopes over a German plan to smooth the way to eventual British membership in the European Common Market.

In a speech last night at the Bonn federal chancellery, De Gaulle expressed a two-edged approach to dealing with the crisis.

He appeared to counsel the West Germans to exercise restraint rather than to continue to press for a new look at the Western military alliance. "No one else in the world can better deal with this great cause of peace in Europe or work for it with more prospect of success than our two peoples," he said.

But at the same time, the French president seemed to offer support to West Germany's blocked drive to improve relations with Eastern Europe. "Detente is our policy and these events will not stop us from continuing it as long as we can," he declared.

Sparks Fly on Campaign Trail

From Our News Wires

Richard M. Nixon and Humbert H. Humphrey debated at long distance yesterday on whether to debate face to face.

Humphrey said his Republican rival was trying to market himself as a political Brand X. The Democratic nominee, campaigning in Oregon, accused Nixon of displaying a lack of respect for voters by refusing to agree to a debate.

Nixon, speaking in Florida, said Humphrey was trying to use third-party candidate George C. Wallace to prevent Republican inroads in the South.

Nixon said, "He feels apparently that by having debates that maybe Wallace will win a perimeter of the South that I otherwise might win, and I'm not going to play that game."

Humphrey was confronted by a prearranged walkout by about 400 antiwar demonstrators as he spoke in Portland, Ore. He vowed, "I shall not be intimidated."

Humphrey's new campaign aide, veteran diplomat George W. Ball, touched off a sharp war of words as he labeled Nixon "Tricky Dick" at a farewell news conference at the United Nations where he has served as U.S. ambassador in recent months.

In other developments:

● Wallace, conferring with advisers in Alabama, has his platform nearly finished and says it will be released next week. Wallace will return to the campaign trail Monday.

● Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, who is of Polish descent, got a warm welcome from a Polish-American convention in Cleveland. He called for rejection of "those who parade under the banner of suppression, disguised as law and order."

● Nixon's running mate, Agnew, who

NY Facing Three More Strikes

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a Monday end to the 11-day school strike were dashed today as Albert Shanker, president of the striking United Federation of Teachers, announced "a complete breakdown in negotiations."

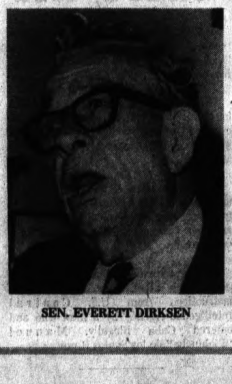
Michael J. Maye, head of the Uniformed Firefighters Association, announced last night that members of his union had voted "overwhelmingly" for a "total strike" unless an agreement is reached in current negotiations with the city.

Maye's announcement, which had been expected since balloting began last week, meant that the city may have to face simultaneous strikes or slowdowns next week by firemen, policemen and garbage collectors.

The Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association has approved a strike beginning Tuesday, and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association has threatened to take an unspecified "job action" unless an acceptable contract offer is made.



SEN. EVERETT DIRKSEN

By School Bill Compromise

Desegregation Effort Hurt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a bill that sources say will restrict enforcement of so-called school desegregation guidelines in the South.

As a result, these sources say, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, charged with enforcing the guidelines, probably will shift most of its energies to northern school districts.

The conference committee took the action Thursday night and has not yet issued its report. But the substance was given out by several sources in the administration and Congress.

The civil rights provision originally proposed by Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., was added as a rider to an appropriations bill. It forbids HEW to use any of its funds to force busing of students, to force closing of any school or to force any youngster to attend a school against the wishes of his parents.

HEW officials say the crucial phrase is the one applying to the wishes of parents. This, they say, would virtually handcuff the department.

They expressed confidence that the court will strike down the provision eventually. But in the meantime — for at least a year — they fear the provision could devastate HEW's increasingly successful program to end most segregated school systems in the South by the fall of 1969.

HEW has been closing in rapidly on such systems in the past year by rejecting freedom-of-choice plans which haven't resulted in full desegregation.

Freedom-of-choice allows parents to choose any school they want their youngsters to attend. Most such approaches have produced only token integration, HEW officials say.

Supervisors Busy Till Terms End

BY ED BLUNDEN

Although the Oakland County Board of Supervisors may be labeled a lame duck group, there's nothing faltering about it as its reign nears an end.

This 87-member board has announced it will continue to run the county and push an ambitious building program right up until their last day, Jan. 1.

Some persons, and even some of the supervisors themselves, have suggested they "go easy" because most of them won't be in office at that time, but the supervisors are having none of that.

Their number will be reduced to 27 in the Nov. 5 election which will reapportion the county into 27 districts. Included on the new board, doubtlessly will be some old faces, but it appears most of the faces will be new.

UNKNOWN FACTOR

Whether the majority of the new board will favor the present short and long-range construction plans for county buildings is an unknown factor at this time.

However, the 27 will find themselves already committed to more than $9 million in construction projects for three buildings. This they will be saddled with even if they do not choose to be the "great builders" as were their predecessors.

When they take office the following projects will be well under way:

● A $6.4-million jail, just west of the courthouse.

● A $2-million service building for the public works and other departments at the County Center on the west side of Telegraph near Pontiac Lake Road.

● A $1-million mental health clinic to be built in connection with a $3-million building to be constructed by Oakland Schools for problem juveniles. (Site not yet certain).

PULLING OUT COSTLY

In all probability, contracts will be awarded on all the buildings before January. In any case, the county will have spent enough on preliminary costs to make pulling out almost prohibitive.

Also, various governmental wheels will be in motion and it would be difficult to jam the gears on such short notice.

Though there is speculation in some quarters that a new board would do things differently there is little actual basis for this outlook.

August primary it was shown 17 members of the present board who chose to run

Yanks Rain Bombs on Reds Near Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers rained almost four million pounds of bombs yesterday and today on enemy positions, mostly in the Cambodian frontier area where the enemy has tried three times in three days to overrun border watching posts.

Ground fighting slackened, but in one engagement in the northern war zone, the enemy shelled the Special Forces camp at Thuong Duc, 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, and attempted to overrun two small militia outposts nearby. Two Vietnamese defenders were reported killed and 11 wounded.

Allied forces around the country also continued to turn up enemy war supplies, including 54 tons of rice, 400 mortar shells and 20 cases of explosives and other equipment.

The B52s struck 11 times, mostly along a line that parallels the Cambodian frontier about 70 miles northwest of Saigon. One raid northwest of Tay Ninh City was within a few thousand yards of the frontier.

MUSTERING AREA?

Almost 400,000 pounds of bombs were rained on suspected enemy mustering areas within a few miles of the mud fort outpost of Thein Ngon where enemy forces lost 130 dead in an almost suicidal attack Friday.

The Thien Ngon assault and attacks on Phuoc Tan and Ka Tum cost the enemy a total of 411 killed.

American troops searching the jungled frontier area found another hidden enemy weapons dump containing some 400 mortar shells and other war material.

Allied intelligence officers said they were puzzled by the pattern of enemy maneuvers in this area. One estimate is that the enemy command does not now have forces in position for a major thrust at its ultimate goal, Saigon, and is harassing border outposts to draw out American and South Vietnamese while maneuvering main force units into striking positions.

STRATEGY FOILING

Elsewhere, U.S. troops reported killing 32 enemy troops, while seven Americans were killed and nine wounded in a fight near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp in the central highlands.

Marines of the 8th Regiment came under enemy fire 2,000 yards below the demilitarized zone and six were wounded, but the Leathernecks said they killed 12 of the enemy.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam's education ministry announced it would draft all eligible senior high school and university professors for nine weeks training beginning Oct. 14 before returning them to serve in local militia groups.

Ray's Lawyer Says He May Quit Case

MEMPYIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arthur Hanes Sr. said in court yesterday that he may have to withdraw as James Earl Ray's lawyer.

"Serious difficulties have arisen between me and my client on the best way to handle this defense," Ray's chief counsel said without elaboration.

Hanes, former Birmingham, Ala., mayor, was retained by Ray before Ray was extradited from England and held in Memphis in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hanes was in court for a hearing in which a committee of lawyers recommended that he and two newsmen and a private detective be held in contempt of court on grounds they violated an order prohibiting prejudicial news statement in connection with the Ray case.

'PREDJUICE SHOWS'

"I'm going to do everything I can to defend my client against whatever arises, including committees of lawyers. I do not know what their motives are, although I have my ideas," he said.

The hearing was continued until Monday.

Ray, charged with the assassination of King in Memphis on April 4, is shceduled to go on trial Nov. 12. He was captured in England.

COMMITTEE DECISION

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle appointed the committee of lawyers to watch news coverage of the Ray case. The committee recommended that Hanes; Renfro Hays, a private investigator retained by Hanes, and reporters Charles Edmundson of the Commercial Appeal and Roy Hamilton of the Press-Scimitar be cited.

The committee based its recommendation on stories by Edmundson and Hamilton in which Hanes and Hays were quoted. The stories concerned Ray's health and his ability to stand trial.

Armistead Clay, attorney for the two reporters, told Battle the hearing pitted the constitutional guarantees of free speech and a free press against the guarantees of a fair trial.

State Heart Recipient Makes Good Recovery

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's first heart transplant patient, Phillip T. Barnum, 49, of Kalamazoo, continues to make "a good recovery" according to his doctors at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

A hospital spokesman listed Barnum's condition as good and said he was able to sit on the edge of his bed and was eating a soft diet.

A TV set was brought into Barnum's room Thursday night so he could watch his favorite program, "Ironside." Barnum said he wanted to see how an operation on Ironside's paralyzed legs came out. In the role, played by Raymond Burr, the operation failed.

2 Teens Knifed After Grid Game

YPSILANTI (AP) — Two teen-age boys were stabbed and seriously injured Friday night at the close of a football game between Ypsilanti Lincoln and Dundee high schools.

Washtenaw County sheriff's men said Frank (Gary) Furrow, 19, and Larry Spears, 16, both of Dundee, were knifed by two youths in the spectator stands after arguing over remarks made about cheerleaders at the game.

Both boys were listed in satisfactory condition today at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. Frank underwent surgery Friday night, but a hospital supervisor said no vital organs were damaged by the knifing. He suffered knife wounds of the left arm and left lower abdomen. Larry was stabbed in his right lower abdomen.

Deputies today sought the assailants, who they said were thought to be youngsters from the Ypsilanti area. It was not known whether the assailants were students at Ypsilanti Lincoln, which lost the football game, 12-6.

ON THE TEAM

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said Ball's resignation — only one day after the Senate had formally confirmed his April appointment to the U.N. — was "a shocking piece of political chicanery."

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., accompanying Nixon on the campaign trail in Florida, told a news conference in Tampa that Ball has become the "new hatchet man" for Humphrey.

GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss accused Ball of suggesting Nixon would escalate the Vietnam fighting and said such a statement was "a comedown from the high levels of diplomacy to willing involvement in gutter politics."

Bliss' blast brought a retort from Democrats. Their public affairs spokesman, Alvin A. Spivak, said Bliss' reply "takes almost as many twists and turns as the Nixon detour from the issues."

In Lansing Gov. George Romney said he will be out of earshot of George C. Wallace Tuesday when the former Alabama governor brings his third-party presidential campaign to the steps of the Capitol.

Romney said he will be in Detroit that day for a national conference on urban problems and has no plans to listen to Wallace or confront him.

A Wallace campaign aide, Sherry Winford of Montgomery, Ala. in Michigan to make arrangements for the visit predicted the former governor would carry the state in the Nov. 5 presidential election.

Board Is Busy to the End

FAIL TO SURVIVE

In the other districts, dissident types do not seem to prevail. Many of the sharper critics of county policy did not survive the primary.

Lately criticism against the board of supervisors has centered on county roads. The road commission is a separate entity by state law and uses gas and weight taxes to support road programs.

The commission has gotten deeper into financial difficulties over the years and has pleaded for extra funds. An appeal to the voters via a one-mill tax request lost in August. So the road commission turned to the county with its full coffers.

A token $260,000 was granted early this month. This was approximately the money left over from 1967. About the same time, the board announced that it would have $3 million left over at the end of this year. This represents approximately revenues that came mostly from the state income tax which were not calculated at budget time last year.

MADE HASTE

But the supervisors made haste to make sure the $3 million would not be left over and approved spending the $3 million on the two buildings without a negative vote last week.

County officials have pointed out the service building has been a long-standing need. The mental health building is termed a timely project that can be built to coincide with other facilities for troubled juveniles.

As for the jail, the supervisors' Building Authority was empowered to sell a bond issue for it by the board during the summer.

To answer critics of county policy always more evident near election time, Delos Hamlin, supervisor from Farmington and chairman of the board for the last 14 terms, has only to point to the record.

SOUND FINANCIAL FOOTING

His county is on an extremely sound financial footing where others are foundering. A state taxation study has revealed that Oakland operates all its facilities on a lower per-capita cost to taxpayers than any of the larger counties.

"This county is run on a businesslike basis," Hamlin said. Explaining the need for the $2-million services building, Hamlin said, "We have millions of dollars in equipment and we have to have a place to store and maintain it. It's only sound economics, as any businessman will tell you."

Hamlin doubts the new supervisors will see things any differently. "Once they understand what the needs of the county are, they will see that our long-range plans are all necessary to the county's future," he said.

'CIA Spy Ring' Arrested by Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio reported today Cuba has arrested a "CIA spy ring" of 18 persons, including five women.

"The group agreed to work for the CIA to obtain information about the sugar crop and of the strength of our armed forces," said the broadcast, monitored in Miami.

This information, it added, "would be used by the United States in its plans to frustrate our economical development and for acts of sabotage against our economy."

The broadcast said those arrested, presumably all Cubans, had received instructions from U.S. Central Intelligence Agency by a man who and entered Cuba illegally, Manuel "Pichinche" de los Santos Ramirez.

AMC Hikes '69 Prices Average of $43 a Car

DEROIT (A) — AMERICAN Motors, smallest of the major U.S. auto companies, joined the auto price increase parade yesterday as it posted higher price tags on its 1969 cars which go on sale Tuesday.

AMC's price hike was the smallest of the industry as it figured out at $43 per car, on sticker prices.

Unfair Trial Claimed

Murder Conviction Upheld

The murder conviction of a Waterford Township teen-ager more than three years ago, has been upheld by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The youth, Alan Ross Pearson, was attempting to overturn the conviction on the grounds that news coverage of the case had denied him a fair trial.

Pearson, then 17 years old, was found guilty of second-degree murder in the June 27, 1965, stabbing of Jeffrey Talbot, 17, of Waterford Township.

Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn sentenced Pearson to a 9- to 20-year prison term in February 1966.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Thomas G. Plunkett said that, in affirming the conviction, the Court of Appeals "upheld the essential fairness of the conduct of the trial court and the prosecutor's office."

Man Risks Life to Save Stranger

NEW YORK (AP) — The father of five children jumped in front of a rush-hour subway train yesterday to rescue a stranger who had collapsed across the rails, police said.

Vincent Santiago, 29, of the Bronx, who weighs 130 pounds, first tried to lift the 200-pound victim onto the subway platform but was unable to do so.

Just before the train arrived Santiago, who works as a messenger, put the man in the space between the rails. Then he pressed himself against the wall under the platform as the train rushed past.

Because the victim moved his right leg, police said, it was severed at the knee. He was identified as William Cleary, 48, of Brooklyn. He was in critical condition at Methodist Hospital.

Santiago was unhurt. He has been recommended for the Civilian Commendation, the police department's highest civilian award.

Police say Cleary collapsed and fell off the 45th Street platform of the BMT Fourth Avenue line about 5:30 p.m.

Sukarno Interrogated

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Former President Sukarno is being held and interrogated here in the toughest move yet made against him since he was officially ousted last March.

President Suharto, the army general who forced him out following the abortive 1965 coup attempt, confirmed reports today that the aging ex-president had been brought in by security men.

West Bloomfield Rips Milford in 60-25 Tilt

There were other big scores, too. Northville disposed of Brighton, 48-0, and Bloomfield Hills Andover welcomed Waterford Kettering to the W-O by blanking the Captains, 34-0.

CLARKSTON FALLS

"This even had the officials talking," said Paddy, still in a bit of a shock at the way the Lakers made the scoreboard blink. "You hired us for a football game and then make a track meet out of it," said one of the tired, but smiling officials to Paddy.

The Lakers' point total also started some head scratching as to the school record. "It's the most since I've been here," said Paddy who is in his 13th campaign.

SETS PACE

Leading the touchdown parade for the lakers was league dash champion Terry Conley with four six-pointers. Conley collected the quartet of touchdowns on runs of 63, 48, 2, and 83, the 48-yarder coming after he picked up a Milford fumble.

Fullback Ed McKenna got into the act with two scores on runs of 13 and 47, while Bill Bullock tallied on a 24-yard run, Kim Woodruff on a 42-yard dash and Dave Decoteau 41 yards with an intercepted pass.

TOP PERFORMANCE

Overshadowed by the Laker explosion was the performance of Milford quarterback Bob Clinard. He scored one touchdown on a 24-yard run and passed for two others. He hit Doug Powers with a 10-yard strike in the second period and caught Matt Partridge with a 44-yarder in the third. Larry Vick rambled 30 yards for the other Redskin tally.

In other EML games, East Detroit downed Utica, 22-6, and Mount Clemens shaded Ulica Stevenson, 13-6. Eric Geister, Dave Srot and Larry Rotkiscourt scored touchdowns for East Detroit. The games were league openers for all teams.

SIX POINTS — West Bloomfield's Ed McKenna is nearing the end of a 13-yard touchdown run against Milford last night in the first quarter of their game on the West Bloomfield field. McKenna scored again later on a 47-yard run and he and his teammates romped to a 60-25 victory.

The Roley boys — quarterback Scott and halfback Jeff — keep rolling at Bloomfield Hills Andover. Scott scored twice on runs of 4 and 66 yards, while Jeff tallied twice on passes of 10 and 7 yards from Scott. Bob Huessner was on the receiving end of a 62-yard pass from Scott for the other Baron score.

Clarenceville scored early in the first on a 20-yard pass from Dave Brandemihl to Rob Weller and then spent the rest of the evening successfully protecting it.

Andover and West Bloomfield now lead the W-O with 2-0 records, while Northville is 1-1. Milford and Clarenceville are 1-1. Kettering is 0-1, while Brighton and Clarkston are 0-2.

Mott in Grid Standoff

Waterford Mott's young Corsairs responded to the pressure and came through with the big plays in the closing minutes of play to gain a 13-13 tie with Swartz Creek under the lights at WTHS' gridiron last night.

Trailing 13-6 with three minutes to play, Mott faked a fourth down punt at its own 45. Sophomore Bill Ziem found junior Terry Ruffato open with a pass and the Corsair halfback carried the ball to the visitors' eight-yard-line.

On the first play, Ruffato broke open up the middle to reach paydirt with 2½ minutes remaining. Ziem then hit Bob Zywicki on the conversion to forge the deadlock.

TIGHTENS

Mott's defense tightened after the Dragons tallied touchdowns in each of the first two periods. Bob Olivo was the culprit.

He took a 20-yard scoring aerial from Steve Lord for a 6-0 lead. Olivo broke a 6-6 tie with a three-yard run that, coupled with Brad Thrower's kick, put Swartz Creek ahead, 13-6, at the intermission.

The Corsairs' first six-pointer came on a one-yard rollout run by Jerry McNair in the opensession.

WINLESS

Both teams entered the game winless in two starts. The Corsairs were making their home field debut as a varsity squad.

Swartz Creek made most of its 371 yards on the ground. Helped by the big pass in the closing minutes, Mott held the edge in the airlanes while amassing 348 yards.

Penalties hurt the visitors, also.

TD BOUND — Jeff Roley (21) of Bloomfield Hills Andover looks downfield after taking a pass from his brother, Scott, during the Andover win over Waterford Kettering yesterday. Jeff scored twice in the 34-0 decision. On the ground is Kettering's Larry Thompson.

Two Sharing First Place in Southern Thumb Loop

The list of unbeatens in the Southern Thumb League dwindled to two last night.

Richmond ran its league mark to 2-0 with a 26-12 win over Armada and New Haven kept pace with a 7-6 decision over Anchor Bay (1-1).

SCORES 2 TD's

Dennis Garner scored three touchdowns and Frank Bacholzky checked in with two to spark the Amont victory.

Garner hauled in scoring passes of 20 and 32 yards from quarterback John Bacholzky — Frank's brother — and raced over on a 27-yard run. Frank B. tallied on runs of six and 10 yards and Roger Hunt picked up the other on a 20-yard pass from John B.

LEADS RICHMOND

Quarterback Scott Scofield scored twice and passed for another score in leading Richmond past Armada.

Armada went in front in the first on a 5-yard run by Mike DePauw, but Richmond scored 19 points in the second frame to take a 19-6 lead at intermission.

Falcons Edge Rivals, 14-13; Orion Falters

There were a few bad moments, but over-all, things worked out well for Rochester last night, even a busted play that produced what turned out to be the winning point.

It was a bit scary, but Rochester held on for a 14-13 win over Clawson and with the victory moved into the lead in the Oakland A League.

JUG TILT TIED

Elsewhere in the O-A, Romeo and Utica battled to a 13-13 standoff in their Little Brown Jug showdown, Madison pinned a 38-0 setback on Avondale and Troy turned back Lake Orion, 20-6.

So, Rochester now sits atop the heap with a 2-0 record. Romeo, Madison and Troy share the No. 2 spot with 1-0-1 marks.

Things looked rosy for the Falcons of Rochester as they rolled up a 14-0 lead at halftime, but the visiting Trojans caught fire in the second half and almost pulled it out.

FALCONS FLY

Rod Thiel's four-yard run and Bob Denz kick made it 7-0 for Rochester in the first and Mike Scally's seven-yard pass to Russ Gill make it 13-0 in the second. Tom Myers then ran the vital extra point on a broken play. Myers was back to hold for Denz kick, but the snap was bad, so Myers scooped up the ball and legged it into the end zone for the point.

Bill Weakley's 63-yard dash in the third cut it to 14-6 and it was narrowed to the final point in the fourth when Mike Heist lofted a 26-yard scoring pass to Chuck Currie.

Romeo turned a couple of Utica mistakes into touchdowns for an early 13-0 lead but Utica tallied twice in the fourth to produce a deadlock.

EARLY EDGE

Marvin Craft's one-yard run ended a 37-yard march following a Utica fumble and gave Romeo a 7-0 lead on Ron Tabar's kick, and the Bulldogs went ahead 13-0 in the second on a one-yard run by Fred Lebendig. Linebacker Bruce Harms broke through to block Tabar's PAT kick.

Troy took a 7-0 lead over Orion on a 26-yard pass from Kerry Brown to Brad Faber plus Joe Mitchell's PAT run in the second period. Mitchell's 35-yard run made it 13-0 in the third and Kurt Gillespie wrapped it up with a 61-yard jaunt in the fourth.

Orion countered in the fourth on Bill Baker's one-yard run.

Bob Tremblay tossed four touchdown passes to pace the Madison attack. He connected for a pair to John Havrelko — 45 and 39 — and flipped single tallies to Garry Marrow (59) and Rich Wolrock (23). Doug Meadows raced over on a four-yarder and Jeff Miller tallied on an eight-yard run for the other Madison tallies.

Jeff Madlbusky scored three touchdowns on passes of 55, 56 and 9 yards from quarterback Bill Watson to pace the attack. Art Tancredi tallied on a five-yard run and Kurt Miller raced three yards for the other tally.

It was the third straight loss for Oxford which was behind 26-0 at halftime. Larry Schultz went over from the one in the third for the Wildcats first score and Dave Darling teamed with Dan Valentine on a 56-yard scoring play in the fourth.

Three-Way Tie in Golf Event

DALTON, Ga. (AP) — Touring pros Dave Marr, Wayne Yates and Hugh Royer all fired four-under-par 67s Friday to tie for the lead in the second annual Dalton Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

Lahser Falls, 7-0

Ortonville Ties Visitors

Ortonville Brandon's defense repulsed two scoring bids by visiting Whitemore Lake in the third quarter Friday night and settled for a 0-0 tie as both teams remained winless.

The Blackhawks moved to the Whitemore Lake 11-yard-line in the second quarter but were set back by two penalties.

The Trojans, in turn, pushed to the Ortonville one in the third period but failed in four rushes. Steve Krantz's play along the line was a big factor defensively for Brandon. Ron Wagner knocked down five passes in the secondary.

After the Trojans were stopped at the one, they pushed back to the host team's 11 before being stopped.

TOP PRODUCER

Ed Westerby's ball carrying produced most of the Black-Hawks' 127 yards. Freshman Dexter Hubbs set up the one good scoring chance with a long punt return on which he was caught from behind inside the Whitmore Lake 40.

EARLY SCORE

Chuck Mungell romped across on a four-yard run and the visitors halted the Knights at every turn as their record fell to 1-2.

Lahser rolled up 248 yards on the ground, but three fumbles and 115 yards in penalties helped slow the attack.

Rochester Pads Harrier Record

Rochester's Falcons nipped Oxford yesterday in a nip-and-tuck cross-country match, 27-28, and the win kept Rochester perfect for the season at 5-0.

Oxford's Jim Goodfellow took individual honors with a time of 10:14, but Rochester took second, third, sixth and seventh to pull out the win. Keith Wattles led Rochester, followed by teammates Ed Griffis (3); Doug Hauk (4) and Cal McDanile (7).

Pontiac Catholic Has Sunday Game

With some luck of their own making plus some help from another source, the Titans of Pontiac Catholic could be sitting atop the Northwest Catholic League by themselves Sunday evening.

The Titans stay at home this weekend and they'll entertain Detroit St. Rita at 2:30 p.m. in what should be little more than exercise for the Pontiac squad.

If all goes well, the Titans will easily dispose of the St. Rita eleven, and they could move into first place all alone if Royal Oak St. Mary can handle Ferndale St. James.

SHARE LEAD

St. James and the Titans are 2-0, the only unbeatens in the league, and while an easy game is in the offing for the Titans, it won't be so easy for St. James.

The Irish of ROSM are 0-2 but they put up a lot of resistance before bowing to Pontiac Catholic last week, 19-6, and the Titans are hopeful the Irish will be just disturbed enough to vent their feelings on St. James.

OTHER GAMES

While the Titans have scored 39 points in two games, coach Mel Larsen has not been overly pleased with the offense.

LAKERS SURPRISING

Waterford OLL, which was supposed to roll over and play dead for the rest of the league, isn't living up to its preseason billing.

The Lakers had Pontiac Catholic on the ropes before bowing, 20-14, in their opener, and they came back last week with a solid 25-0 verdict over defending champion OL St. Mary.

OCC Harriers Keep Rolling

The Highlanders, taking the first seven places, rolled up 15 points. Glen Oaks was second with 43 and Macomb Community College was third at 67.

Setting the pace for the Highlanders was Roger Cleaver, followed by John Nadolni, Bryan Schultz, Harold Boone, Julian Gloomis, Ed Bailey and Craig Owen. Cleaver's time was 15:21 and the top seven Highlanders all broke the course record to 17:02.
