Incumbents Lead in Primary Vote

8 Win Positions on April Ballot in Four Districts

Cooley, Rowston, Gates, Miles Head Candidates in Contests

Three incumbents received the highest number of votes in their respective districts in yesterday's primary balloting, while the race in the fourth district between the first and second nominee was decided by a scant one-vote margin.

All the results will remain unofficial until they are canvassed by the City Commission Thursday night.

In the race for a place on the April 2 general election ballot in District 7, former commissioner Benjamin M. Gates edged out Gilbert W. Long, 41, of 139 Prospect St., by an unofficial count of 353 to 352.

Both men will be placed on the April ballot (pending the canvass) at which time one will be elected to represent his district.

Nominated yesterday in District 1 was incumbent Dr. Roy V. Cooley and Samuel J. Whithers. Cooley, 36, of 441 Bartlett St., received 768 votes to Whithers' 432.

Incumbent Philip E. Rowston, youngest member of the present City Commission in length of service, gathered 812 votes in District 2 to runner-up Frank O'Brien, 53, of 30 N. Telegraph Rd. O'Brien, a barber in Pontiac, received 408 votes.

MILES, BOLTON WIN

Totaling an unofficial 769 votes in District 4, incumbent Floyd P. Miles won a place on the April ballot along with Norman R. Bolton, 45, of 100 W. Hopkins St.

Other unofficial results in District 1 were: David Simmons, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Area Police Sought Bank Holdup Auto

Pontiac post State Police cars watched beside M24 and the Dixie Highway yesterday afternoon for a stolen green car used in the $7,300 holdup yesterday of a Flint bank.

The car, later recovered in Flint, now is being examined for fingerprints in the hope it may provide a clue to the identity of the three bandits.

Two armed gunmen, one of them with his face partly hidden beneath a pulled-down stocking cap, entered the Beacher Heights branch of the Genesee County Savings Bank shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday.

They herded two women tellers, alone in the bank, into a rear room, scooped up money from the cash drawers and fled in the car in which their accomplice reportedly was waiting.

Buick to Acquire Fruehauf Drayton Plains Property

Buick Division of General Motors will buy the unused quarter-million-square-foot Fruehauf Trailer Co. plant in Drayton Plains, public relations officer Waldo E. McNaught said today.

Negotiations over legal boundaries now are in process, McNaught said, and a down payment on the plant has been made.

It will be used as a parts warehouse, McNaught added. The plant and 90 acres of ground on Williams Lake Road near the Dixie Highway originally was built for Pontiac Motor Coach Co., which used it briefly before selling it to Fruehauf nearly a year ago. Fruehauf has made no use of the plant.

The one-story building, on a spur track of Grand Trunk Western Railroad, includes both office and factory space.

Pay Boost Gets Voter Approval by 556 Margin

24 Precincts Oppose Charter Amendment Increasing Income

By a margin of 556 votes, Pontiac voters yesterday approved a City Charter amendment granting a pay boost to the members of the City Commission.

The unofficial tally with all the city's 44 precincts reporting, showed that 5,172 favored the proposed amendment while 4,616 did not.

As in the case of the parking issue and the nomination of the candidates, these results are not official until canvassed by the City Commission Thursday night.

The balloting on the amendment was a close contest as each precinct reported in last night. With just five precincts remaining out at 11 p.m., the amendment was leading by a meager margin of nine votes, 4,225 to 4,214.

Then the overwhelming returns from four precincts in District 1 and precinct 40 in District 2 added the necessary weight to carry the amendment.

24 PRECINCTS AGAINST

The results on this, the second issue on yesterday's ballot, showed that 24 of the 44 precincts registered a majority vote against the amendment while in the remaining 20, sufficient votes were cast to carry it by the 556 vote margin.

The amendment was proposed by the Citizens Compensation Study Committee composed of three former Pontiac mayors and two past commissioners.

The amendment will boost the pay of the commissioners from $5 for every official meeting to $25 and not to exceed $1,300 in any one year.

Voters also hiked the pay of the mayor to $2,000 a year based on 12 equal installments for each calendar month. He formerly received the same pay as the commissioners.

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Bundestag today overwhelmingly approved in a semifinal vote the building of a powerful West German armed force in the Atlantic Alliance.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's supporters in the lower House snatched under the antirearmament Socialists on the second reading of the "Soldier's Law."

This is the basic military law that will permit Adenauer's government to create an armed force of 500,000 men to help defend free Europe.

Earlier, the House shouted approval of 14 constitutional amendments clamping civilian controls on the armed forces to prevent a revival of militarism.

Buick Head Will Direct GM Dealer Organization

The election of Ivan L. Wiles as an executive vice president of General Motors in charge of dealer relations was announced by Harlow H. Curtice, president of GM.

Curtice today announced appointment of Edward T. Ragsdale as general manager of its Buick Division, succeeding Wiles.

Ragsdale has been a member of the Buick organization since 1923 and general manufacturing manager of the division since 1949.

Wiles has been general manager of Buick, a vice president of GM and a member of its administration committee since November of 1948. He has been a GM director since June, 1954.

He began his GM career with Oakland Motor Company here in 1928 and became assistant controller of Oakland in 1931, a year prior to his transfer to Buick in a similar capacity.

Curtice said Wiles will begin his new duties immediately in the Detroit headquarters of General Motors.

"This is a new office created to give General Motors' 18,500 passenger car and truck dealers a direct line of communication to the top management of General Motors," he said. "Mr. Wiles will operate independently from the vice president in charge of the distribution staff and from the sales and distribution activities of the General Motors' passenger car and truck divisions."

Six Candidates Without Contest for Nomination

In three of the city's seven commission districts, two candidates in each had no opposition for nomination to the commission and so did not participate in Monday's election.

The six candidates nominated without primary contest are: District III: William W. Donaldson (incumbent) and Earl J. Smith.

District V: John A. Dugan (incumbent) and Pat Stoglin.

District VI: John E. Carry (incumbent) and J. H. Patrick Glynn.

Fear Glacier May Form

St. Clair Choked in Ice

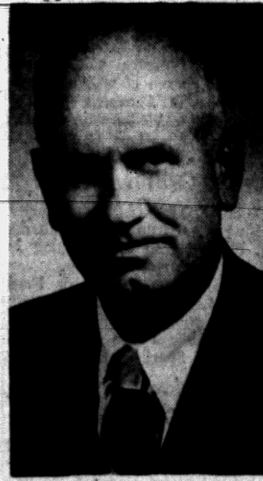

PORT HURON (AP)—Huge chunks of ice, broken off a gigantic Lake Huron ice jam, swept down the St. Clair River today.

Home owners, State Police and Coast Guardsmen watched anxiously in fear a wind shift would send the floes piling one upon another until they widened into a glacier that would grind shore installations like matchwood.

Considerable damage already has been done to riverside structures farther up-stream—the worst in five years, residents said.

Great piles of ice, four or five feet in height, line parts of the American shore from Port Huron to the St. Clair Flats.

The major threat of damage will have passed by late afternoon when most of the larger ice floes will have passed Harsen's Island and moved into the channels of the St. Clair Flats.

U.S., Britain, France Worried Over Glubb, New Shooting

WASHINGTON (INS)—Diplomats of the U.S., Britain and France meet this afternoon on the Middle East crisis and may ask the United Nations to make a new approach to the Arab nations and Israel.

Representatives of the three countries—members of the 1950 tripartite declaration on the Middle East—confer at 4 p.m. as tensions continued to mount in that trouble-ridden area.

The U.S. will be represented by Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs William Rountree.

The conference was called by the U.S. after it expressed concern yesterday to both the governments of Syria and Israel over the new shooting incident on the Sea of Galilee.

Three Israeli policemen in a patrol boat were killed in firing by Syrian border forces.

One major objective of today's conference was to be an appraisal of Jordan's sudden dismissal last week of Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb from his post as commander of the Arab Legion.

Glubb, who organized the Legion, has been the spearhead of Britain's influence in Jordan, an Arab neighbor of Israel, for the past 25 years.

His dismissal by 20-year-old King Hussein last Thursday was regarded as a major blow to Britain's influence in the Middle East.

The conferees also were expected to discuss a proposal by France to sell 12 jet fighters to Israel.

In London the British cabinet meets for the second straight day today to seek some formula to salvage the nation's position in the Middle East.

Rainy Weather to Follow Fog Into City Area

The weatherman predicted rain tonight and tomorrow to follow the fog which covered the Oakland County area today, slowing work-bound traffic to minimum speeds.

Tonight's low will range from 32 to 36 degrees. The high tomorrow will be from 35 to 38.

A thunderstorm last night dropped less than one-half-inch of rain on the area and for a brief period hail fell in the surrounding sections.

A mile square area around Telegraph and Eureka Roads, in Taylor Township, was without lights for an hour during the storm and the radio tower of the Ypsilanti State Police Post was struck by lightning, putting the radio out of operation for several hours.

During an eleven-hour period beginning at 11 p.m. last night, the temperature remained at 36 degrees. The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 36. The thermometer registered 40 at 1 p.m.

7,398 Give OK to Bond Issue; 2,548 Vote No

624 Additional Spaces in 4 Downtown Sites Will Be Constructed

By nearly a 3 to 1 ratio, Pontiac voters yesterday overwhelmingly approved more municipal parking for the city.

In what officials termed one of the best primary turnouts in recent years, unofficial tabulations of returns from all 44 precincts showed 7,398 favored the city's $600,000 municipal parking program. Some 2,548 voted against the issuance of the bonds.

The bonds will finance four new municipal parking lots in the city, containing 624 more 5-cent-an-hour stalls. This will bolster the city's present capacity of 413.

In all 44 precincts, the parking lot issue carried majority of votes cast.

The final returns will not become official until the votes are canvassed on Thursday night by the City Commission.

NEARLY 16,000 VOTE

Encouraged by mild temperatures throughout most of the day and not discouraged by a late evening downpour, close to 10,000 voters cast ballots yesterday in the three-issue election.

By districts, the unofficial winning margin of 4,850 votes was divided thus: District 1, 1,630 for, 570 against; District 2, 1,330 for, 355 against; District 3, 908 for, 281 against; District 4, 1,081 for, 347 against.

Other results by districts were: District 5, 1,282 for, 366 against; District 6, 832 for, 351 against, and District 7, 862 for while 378 voted against the issue.

Full Day in Detroit Slated for Gronchi

DETROIT (AP)—Refreshed by a full, uninterrupted night's rest, President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy today was scheduled to view two wonders of this automobile capital of the world and to join in a series of civic functions arranged in his honor.

Morning visits were slated to Chrysler Corp.'s near-automatic Plymouth Engine Plant and to the General Motors Corp.'s Technical Center, where cars of years hence already are on the drawing boards.

A reception by the Detroit Board of Commerce, a booster of freer world trade, at the exclusive Detroit Athletic Club was scheduled at noon. This was to be followed by a reception in the offices of Mayor Albert E. Cobo, and a meeting with Detroit labor union leaders, many of them of Italian extraction.

President Gronchi arrived last night by plane but the downpour failed to dampen the enthusiastic reception.

U. S. Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce joined the group here today.

Court Says Segregation Outlaw Bill Applies to Colleges, Universities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court says its 1954 decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools applies to tax-supported colleges and universities.

Without a dissent, the court affirmed yesterday a declaration by a special three-judge U. S. District Court in Greensboro, N. C., that "the reasoning on which the 1954 decision was based as applicable to schools for higher education as to schools on the lower level."

North Carolina had made provision for Negroes to attend tax-supported colleges other than the University of North Carolina.

The special court ordered three Negroes admitted to that university. They were admitted last fall, but the university appealed to the Supreme Court to reverse the special court's decision.

The university asked the Supreme Court also to throw out its own 1954 decision on public schools, contending the court had exceeded its authority. Counsel for the three Negroes asked that the special court decision be upheld.

The Supreme Court's action was announced in a list of prepared orders, most of them dealing with routine cases. It said merely that "the motion to affirm (the special court's ruling) is granted and the judgment is affirmed."

School Thieves Rip Door From Vault

Avondale High School authorities still are trying to determine how much money is missing from the vault room of the school, broken into last night.

Thieves apparently entered the school through a door sometime after a board of education meeting which ended at midnight. Officials said the door of the vault room was ripped off its hinges.

The thieves' loot probably will not exceed $1,000. Principal Roscoe Crowell said this morning.

Eight Win Positions on April 2 Ballot

295; John B. Woodward, 192; and Andrew A. McCaskill, 116 votes.

The only other candidate running in District 2 was William G. Spence, 50, of 1034 Canterbury Dr., who totaled 322 votes in the primary balloting.

TOLES, BILES TRAIL.

In District 4, Basil W. Toles, 42, of 794 Orlando Ave. placed third with 104 votes to Louis H. Biles' 72. The close race in District 7 showed Robert Landry, 42, of 47 Center St. collecting third highest number of votes cast with 341 while the fourth candidate, Victor L. Smothers, 37, of 154 Perkins St. received 136 votes.

Present Commissioner Harry W. Lutz left the race wide open in his district when he declined another bid for reelection last month.

Gates represented District 7 from 1946 to 1950 and in May, 1951, was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the late Commissioner Neil J. Elliott.

SERVED THIRD TERM

He served his third term after being elected in 1952 but was defeated by present Commissioner Lutz in the 1954 balloting. Gates, 63, lives at 389 Whittemore St.

Long is a native of Pontiac and was educated at Pontiac High School. He was employed for 15 years by Fisher Body and the Yellow Truck & Coach Co., and is a former real estate and insurance salesman.

Gates gained but three of the district's six precincts in the voting. They were precincts 25, 29, and 33. Long carried precincts 27 and 28.

COOLEY SEEKS THIRD

In District 1, Cooley, a practicing Pontiac doctor, is seeking his third term while his competitor, Whittier, an electrical contractor is bidding for the District 1 seat for the first time.

District 2 incumbent, Rowston, a partner in the law firm of Beer, Rowston, and Currah, was appointed to the commission July 5, 1955 to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Harcourt S. Patterson.

The commissioner is 34 years old and lives at 24 Utica Rd.

The second highest vote gainer in this district, O'Brien, is a barber of 32 years experience in Pontiac and is bidding for a political seat for the first time.

Commissioner Miles, District 4 incumbent, has been a resident of Pontiac since 1912. His competitor in the April election, Bolton, has lived in Pontiac and his district since 1929. He is employed in the maintenance department of Fisher Body Division.

Claimed to be the oldest public building in the U.S. is the Palace of Governors located in Santa Fe. It is more than 340 years old, according to New Mexico historians.

EDWARD T. RAGSDALE
Appointment of Edward T. Ragsdale as general manager of Buick Division of General Motors has been announced by President Harlow H. Curtis. He succeeds Ival L. Wiles, named as executive president of GM in charge of dealer relations.

APPROVED BY VOTERS — By nearly a 3-1 margin of ballots yesterday, voters approved a $600,000 revenue bond issue to finance the four parking lots shown here. The additional lots will add 624 spaces to the city parking facilities. Next step is approval of the bond issue by the Municipal Finance Commission.

Chiefs in Puerto Rico

Looking at U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military high command is taking another "new look" at the forces, weapons and strategy required in the next three years to keep pace with missile-atomic age science and the changing face of world communism.

The Eisenhower administration's new reappraisal of the nation's defenses started Saturday, when the Joint Chiefs of Staff slipped out of Washington unannounced and flew to Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico.

Disclosure of the strategy session came last night when the Pentagon said in reply to reporters' inquiries that the meeting will continue through this week at the isolated air base. It added that the military chiefs meeting there will be able to "devote their full time without interruption" to defense business.

Taking part are the chairman, Adm. Arthur W. Radford; Army Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor; Navy Adm. Arleigh Burke; Air Force Gen. Nathan E. Twining; and Marine Gen. Randolph M. Pate.

The military chiefs are under orders from Secretary of Defense Wilson to make a "complete and careful evaluation of the size, nature and composition of forces likely to be required for the nation's security during the next three years."

Hicks Will Seek Sheriff Nomination

George D. Hicks, 50, of 16 N. Johnson Ave., today announced he will run in the August primary for the Democratic nomination as candidate for Oakland County sheriff in the November election.

Hicks ran for sheriff in 1952 and '54. A Pontiac policeman for 22 years, he also worked as a plant protection officer and is now employed by a local trucking firm.

Married, with three children, he is president of the Pontiac City Democratic Club.

Funeral Home, Rochester at 3 p.m. Wednesday. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Jenner died Sunday at her home 1350 Pontiac Rd. She was a former resident at 366 Oakland Ave.

She was the wife of the late G. L. Jenner, former superintendent of the Pontiac School System. Mr. Jenner had also been superintendent at Bay City.

Surviving are a brother, a sister, several nieces and nephews.

Dulles, in Pakistan, Calls for Unity From SEATO

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles called on the eight nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to develop a unified front against Communist aggression in Asia.

At the opening session of the annual three-day meeting of SEATO's Council of Foreign Ministers, Dulles also urged the development of "wholesome societies immune from Communist infection."

Dulles and the foreign ministers of the other seven SEATO members — Britain, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, France and Pakistan — all spoke these aspects of the alliance he pushed along with the organization's chief aim of deterring open, armed Communist aggression.

He said it is important both the aspects of the alliance be pushed along with the organization's chief aim of deterring open, armed Communist aggression.

Anderson told the township board last night he won't run for a third term as supervisor.

The first district incumbent, Rep. Fred G. Beardsley (R-Oakland), will seek another term.

Petitions will be circulated this week to make Anderson eligible to run for the nomination in the August primary, he said. (The first district includes most of Oakland's north half.)

Anderson has been Waterford supervisor for five years. He spent 20 years in supervision at Consumers Power Co. and was an Independence Township School Board member for 7 years.

Find Missing Man in Vegas

DETROIT AREA RESIDENT Blames Memory Loss in Disappearance

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A Michigan television shop owner turned yesterday in Las Vegas after being missing from his home since last Wednesday.

He is Perry Jenkins, 29, of Inkster, a Detroit suburb. He was reported missing when he failed to pick up his wife, Phyllis, 23, who was visiting relatives in Durand, Mich.

He was reported to have had $1,400 with him when he disappeared.

Jenkins' sister, Mrs. David Tenner of Muskegon Heights, said she received a call from Las Vegas yesterday. She said the voice sounded like that of her brother.

"I don't remember what happened," he said. "I saw a doctor here about my loss of memory and he told me to go home and see my own doctor."

Jenkins' car was found Saturday in a parking lot in Detroit. Mrs. Jenkins said her husband suffered a skull fracture in an automobile accident two years ago and that his doctor told her he might occasionally lose his memory.

Franklin PTA to Hear Talk on Child Problems

Franklin Schools' Parent-Teacher Association will hear Dr. R. J. McHugh of Pontiac State Hospital, talk on grade school age children's behavior patterns at the meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday.

After his talk, discussion groups will be lead in behavior problems, and later a panel of experts will answer pertinent questions.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Approves Parking Lot No. 4 Plans

BIRMINGHAM—Plans for Parking Lot No. 4 at Frost and Brownell and its estimated cost of $106,675 were approved by City Commissioners last night.

Their resolution pointed to almost unanimous realization of a need for parking south of Maple and east of Woodward. That necessity will come up for residential opinion at the hearing slated for March 19.

Provision of 66 car spaces, of a site and plan like those in Parking Lot No. 1, was made in the engineering department's layout.

Site costs would be $70,000; development of the lot, $19,425; meters, $3,432; the alley separating the lots from those fronting on Woodward, $7,650; and miscellaneous, $6,168.

It may be possible for the lot to be constructed during the current building season, since it does not present problems as do the other proposed lots.

Parking Lot No. 4 would use four property lots at the northwest corner of Frost and Brownell and would be narrower at its southern end. Its assessment district would include East Maple, and South Woodward on both sides of the streets, according to the city engineers map which was presented last night.

Parking on Maple Avenue will not be abandoned until congestion builds up more and until other parking can be made available, commissioners decided.

The Ferndale Park right-of-way and paving hearings were again continued, this time for two weeks.

Fire Chief Park H. Smith reports that city wells pumped 49 million gallons of water last month, at an operating cost of $824.84.

About fires last month, Chief Smith says there was only $180 loss, with nary a drop of water pumped by city fire fighting equipment. But there were 231 inspection man-hours expended, and 257 drill hours. Six first alarm runs were called, and two calls about suspected gas.

Five members of the YMCA branch here are attending the Saturday state convention of "Y's" in Lansing. Official delegates will be Executive Secretary Ed Kirbert and Tom Ward of the Committee of Management. Delegates at large will be Marion Cammon, Young Adult Club program chairman; Elaine Jones, corresponding secretary of the management committee; and Dave Curry, membership committee chairman.

The Y's Co-Ed club is planning a St. Patrick's day party for March 14, with dancing, singing, and games on the agenda.

Localities will be attending the Detroit Presbyterian meeting tomorrow at Ward Memorial Church in Detroit. The Indian American is topic for one of the sessions.

North Suburban Chi Omega Alumnae will hear Clayton Call, of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Beane, talk on investments at their meeting tomorrow at Mrs. Harry Siegel's Butternut Hill home.

Women's auxiliary of St. James Episcopal Church will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. for dedication of officers, luncheon, and the rector's talk on church history.

Irwin Earl, retired lumber dealer and 32nd degree Mason, died at his home, 878 Henrietta, yesterday after a long illness. He was 78, and had lived in this area for 20 years.

Mr. Earl was a member of the Moslem Shrine and the Michigan Sovereign Consistory.

He leaves his widow, Grace, and a son, Joseph D. Service will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

World Affairs Classes Slated

Dr. Preston Slosson to Direct Night Course at Bloomfield Hills

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Dr. Preston Slosson, outstanding authority on international affairs, will give a series of lectures at Bloomfield Hills High School starting April 9 and running on consecutive Mondays through May 29.

Announcement of the series came from the Bloomfield Hills board of education this week as registrations for series attendance began. A fee of $8 is being asked, and classes open at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Slosson, currently at the University of Michigan, will talk for the first quarter hour on highlights of current trends and implications of up-to-the-minute events, then for the rest of the time study broader aspects of the world situations and their impact on the present and future.

The adult education program in the school system has 228 enrollees at present, according to Eugene L. Johnson, superintendent of schools. There are 14 classes, on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Anderson to Seek Representative Post

Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination to run for state representative in Oakland County's first legislative district.

Anderson told the township board last night he won't run for a third term as supervisor.

The first district incumbent, Rep. Fred G. Beardsley (R-Oakland), will seek another term.

Petitions will be circulated this week to make Anderson eligible to run for the nomination in the August primary, he said. (The first district includes most of Oakland's north half.)

Anderson has been Waterford supervisor for five years. He spent 20 years in supervision at Consumers Power Co. and was an Independence Township School Board member for 7 years.

Contractor Reports House Vandalism

DETROIT contractor J. Clarence Patton told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies yesterday vandals had visited three construction sites in Bloomfield Township, doing damage estimated at more than $350.

Two houses on Broadway Boulevard suffered broken windows and window sash, destroyed insulation, plugged drains, water damage and damage to installed wiring, he said.

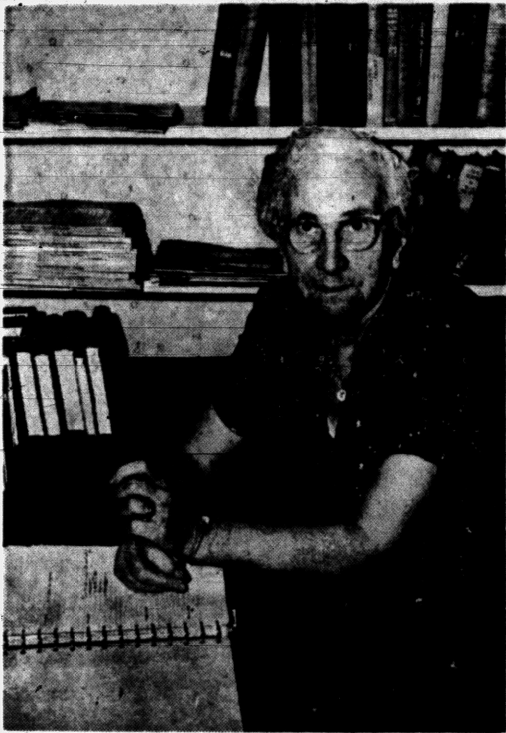

A third house on Amberly Road also had windows and insulation damaged. A heavy machine parked in front of the house had sand poured into its fuel tank, he said.

Library at Ortonville Marks 30 Years

By MARTHA LEWIS
Ortonville Correspondent
ORTONVILLE—The need for a library was so keenly felt here in the year 1906 that a group of women banded together and appointed a Library Board.
Since they had no funds for the proposed enterprise, they gave shows, pancake suppers and held tag days. People of the area were canvassed for donations of money

DONATES 7,800 HOURS — There are no 'QUIET' signs in the library over which Mrs. Clare Wolfe presides at Ortonville.

Oak Park Council Rescinds Resolution

OAK PARK (INS) — The Oak Park City Council last night rescinded a controversial resolution sponsoring a fund drive for rebuilding a burnt-out church in the community and adopted a new resolution in its place.
The council apologized for the misunderstanding created by its original resolution, which had been attacked as a violation of the traditional principals regarding the separation of church and state.
The first resolution urged the community to contribute to rebuilding of Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church, destroyed by fire, Feb. 17.
The new resolution preserves the sentiment of the first except that it puts the council in the position of authorizing the fund drive rather than sponsoring it.

Waterford Okays Mann Road Bridge

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—At a meeting of the Waterford Township Board last night, the Oakland County Road Commission was authorized to rebuild a bridge on Mann road west of Clintonville road, cost to be shared by Independence and Waterford Townships.

Clerk Louis Barry was granted permission to attend a water conference in Mt. Clemens March 22, and building inspector Emil Grischo was authorized to attend an Institute for building inspectors at University of Michigan, April 19 and 20.

Other business at the board meeting included a resolution passed to set up inspection fees to be paid by builders previous to plat approval.

Rochester OES to Meet

ROCHESTER—Rochester Chapter 163, OES, will hold its regular business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Edna O'Brien has been invited to represent the Rochester chapter at the Berkley OES Friendship Meeting, March 15.

Drayton Ladies to Meet

DRAYTON PLAINS—The Ladies Aid of the United Presbyterian Church will meet for an all-day session Wednesday, beginning at 10 a.m. A sewing project has been scheduled. Each person attending is asked to bring a sack lunch. Dessert and coffee will be furnished.

and books with which to stack the bare library shelves.
At first, each person on the board took his turn at serving as librarian. It was in 1928 that Mrs. Burton Brosius was appointed first librarian for the Ortonville Public Library.
In 1933, the building now in use was given the Board by C. B. Crossman, and since that date, has been located on the Brandon Town Hall site.

For some time now, an appropriation has been received from the township for books, and as the library has met the necessary requirements, a small amount of money is advanced each year by the state.
Present officers are: President, Mrs. Lester H. Troyer; vice president, Mrs. Kenneth Laing and secretary and treasurer, Mrs. LaVerne Boutell.

These, with the following persons, make up the board of directors: B. L. Hamilton, Mrs. Clare Wolfe, Mrs. Ruth Kennedy, Frances Leece, Mrs. William Sutton, Mrs. Harold Schmidt, Mrs. Howard Stewart and Mrs. C. B. Crossman.
APPOINTED IN 1944
Mrs. Clare (Leah) Wolfe was appointed librarian in 1944 and has been serving since that time. The library is open on Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8 p.m.; on Saturdays, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m.

This adds up to about 7,800 hours of donated time from Mrs. Wolfe. Each year she receives a "gift" from the board, which they say "cannot be dignified by being called a wage."

There are no "Quiet" signs in this library. Everyone who stops by for reading material expects to chat awhile with Mrs. Wolfe.

Besides her library work, this public servant has also been superintendent of the Junior Department of the Methodist Sunday School for the past 33 years.

A member of the Ortonville Women's Club, Mrs. Wolfe lives with her husband at 586 Mill St. They have one son, the Rev. Millard Wolfe of Phoenix, Ariz., and two grandsons.

At present there are approximately 3,000 books in the Ortonville library. These include at least 350 which have been bought in the last three months.
The combined business and social meeting will feature special entertainment, and is open to prospective members of the club, Mrs. John Batts, secretary, said.
The players are still drawing plaudits for their first performance, held in the VFW Hall, Pontiac, Saturday.
Audience appreciation of the show was indicated by the number of curtain calls and volume of applause given the players.
The program consisted of a suspense-packed curtain raiser, "Retribution," and two light features, "The Silent Judge" and "Sleeping Dogs."

The fellowship meetings are open to the public, and dinner reservations may be made with Mrs. Lyle Speas, MY 2-4941.

Waterford Pair Escape Death

Gordon, Harry Booker Saved as Boat Explodes in Gulf of Mexico

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Two Waterford Township brothers, vacationing with their families in St. Petersburg, Florida, narrowly escaped death Saturday.

Gordon Booker of 160 N. Avery street, Elizabeth Lake Estates, and Harry Booker, 2025 Warrington, Williams Lake, were deep sea fishing in the Gulf of Mexico with four companions when their boat, the "Uncle Linn" exploded.

According to the captain of the boat, rough seas caused a fuel tank to become unseated, gasoline splashed against the hot exhaust tube and fire broke out. The "Uncle Linn" then exploded and sank.

The passengers and the two crew members were picked up by another fishing boat after having spent 45 minutes in the water.

Word of the near-tragedy was received here by the sister of the two men, Mrs. Norman Hill, 2920 Lansdowne Rd., Williams Lake.

Clawson Voters OK 5 Changes

Pass Charter Revisions as 792 Cast Ballots at Election Yesterday

CLAWSON—Five changes in the city charter for Clawson were approved by voters at an election here yesterday.

A total of 792 votes were cast. The city has 4,252 registered voters. Each of the five proposals received between 400 and 435 favorable votes, and "no" votes ran between 320 and 341.

The five charter changes approved were as follows:

1. Allow the "full faith and credit" of the city to be pledged in support of special assessment bonds, instead of only the "faith and credit" of the special assessment district itself.
2. Eliminate a charter provision that limits the amount which can be assessed against a piece of property to 25 per cent of the property's assessed valuation.
3. Clarify wording which now allows the city to require a public improvement, providing four of the fire councilmen vote for it.
4. Clarify wording which permits the city to pay out of its own pocket the costs for improvements adjoining cemeteries and other property which may be tax-free under state law.
5. Eliminate a present charter provision which is unnecessary and confusing. It merely says that those who want to fight a special assessment in the courts must file a notice with the city. Legally, no notice is necessary.

Lillian and Opal Kent Become Brides in Double Rite

The Rev. William Varian of Zion Nazarene Church performed a double wedding ceremony for Lillian May Kent to Kenneth P. Pantone and Opal Marie Kent to Leo John Holmes.

The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Kent of Ferry avenue. Kenneth is the son of Lowell E. Poling of Bay street. Leo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Holmes of Elm street.

The ceremony was performed before an altar banked with candelabra, palms, pink and white carnations and white gladioli.

Opal chose a gown with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace over satin and long sleeves. Her bouffant skirt of nylon net over satin featured lace inserts in an apron effect. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured by an orange blossom crown.

Viola Cork of Keego Harbor was her maid of honor. She wore a lace and net gown of light green. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations. Berjui Margosian and Mary Kent were her attendants in gowns of pink.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM
Earl Cosby was best man. Ushers were Robert Kent and Marvin Morse of Commerce.

A gown of cream satin and marquisette was worn by Lillian. The skirt of marquisette was accented by a floral bustle.

A crown of daisies secured her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible with white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Her maid of honor, Judy Clause, wore a pink gown of lace and nylon tulle and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Sandra Pinter of Drayton Plains and Nancy Misener wore orchid and peacock blue gowns, respectively.

Jeannie Poling served as flower girl for both brides. She wore a frock of yellow nylon and a white hat trimmed with yellow flowers.

OTHER ATTENDANTS
Frank Macadaeg was Kenneth's best man, and his ushers were Don Hefer, Ronald L. Robertson and Richard C. Poling.

The reception was held in the Roosevelt Temple immediately following the ceremony.

For their honeymoon in Canada the new Mrs. Holmes changed to a navy blue suit with pink accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will reside on Elwood avenue.

The new Mrs. Pantone changed to a light blue suit for their honeymoon trip through Canada, Ohio and Indiana. The Pantones will make their home on Whittemore street on their return.

It's Bad Mistake to Play 'Possum

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Threatened, the lion charges; the deer runs; the hedgehog rolls himself into a spiky ball. But the 'possum, sensing threat, feigns death.

Children of chronically critical parents often turn to the 'possum's tactics for their survival. Helen C. was such a child.

Her birth had been resented as an outrageous interference in a cherished personal plan of her mother. When her brother was born, this parent still saw opposition in nearly everything Helen asked—and as Buddy grew, resisted any request that she control his aggressiveness toward his sister.

At first, Helen tried to control it herself by hitting Buddy. But as this effort was promptly punished by her mother as "unkind," she had to discontinue it.

Like thousands of children before her, she had to make the 'possum's choice. To elude disapproval and punishment, she learned to feign nice "good" feelings toward people who angered her just as the 'possum eludes death by pretending to be dead.

BAD CHOICE
As always, it was a bad choice. For unlike the animal who reclaims his real identity as a living 'possum the moment danger is past, Helen could not reclaim hers as an often angry person. She lived with her hunter as no 'possum lives with his. Years of feigning nice "good" feelings finally convinced her that she really feels them. She doesn't. And her delusion that she does is her serious problem.

The other night, for instance, it nearly ended her relationship with the man she wants to marry. At his failure to telephone, she experienced her usual, suspicious anger at him.

Imagining that it represented passionate concern for his welfare, she went to his hotel to check on him. He didn't like it.

Now she's in an awful state of bewildered self-pity, absolutely unable to understand how he could resent an exhibition of feeling she is sure was only nice and "good."

PERFECT ONE

Chronic criticism of children always suggests that we can only be satisfied with a perfect one—and that his human failings are an intolerable affront to us. It's demand for the 'possum solution and asks for an inoffensiveness available only when we are dead.

Always, this demand upon the child represents our merciless demands upon ourselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baysinger were married Saturday evening in Fenton. The bride is the former Lucy Stiff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stiff of Fenton, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hawksworth of Parkhurst street.

MR. and MRS. D. L. BAYSINGER

Bride's Twin Sister Acts as Honor Matron at Rite

Presbyterian Church of Fenton was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Lucy Ann Stiff and Donald Lee Baysinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stiff of Fenton are parents of the bride. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hawksworth of Parkhurst street.

The Rev. Hartley H. Stockham of Fenton performed the candle-light ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

The embroidered silk bridal gown was accented by a hand-embroidered jacket with long sleeves which extended to points at the wrists.

Her bouquet was of pink carnations and white roses.

The twin sister of the bride, Mrs. Rose Marie Gilligan of Dearborn, was matron of honor. Her street-length dress of turquoise silk featured a scoop neckline. Her flowers were of pink and white carnations.

OTHER ATTENDANTS
Bridal attendants Mrs. Lillian Buckingham of Fenton and Mrs. William Buck wore gowns identical to the matron of honor's in a pink shade. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations. Serving as best man was Walter McCullough. He was assisted by Buck.

Mrs. Stiff chose a gray silk print dress with avocado green accessories for the wedding reception held at the Pontiac Ma-ta Temple.

Mrs. Hawksworth chose a navy blue suit with navy and white accessories. Their flowers were pink and white carnations. For their honeymoon trip through the East, the bride changed to a charcoal gray suit with red and white accessories. The newlyweds will reside on Parkhurst street on their return.

Is someone in your family allergic to eggs? If so, you'll like this recipe for a No-Egg Pumpkin Pie. The filling may be served as a pudding without the crust, if desired.

Mrs. Merle Berry is today's cook. With an allergic son, she has had to collect recipes using only ingredients he can eat. She also has a married daughter and three grandchildren.

When she decided to enter the business world, she learned to drive a car. Her work keeps her busy so that she has time only for membership in the Altar Society of her church and the Daughters of Isabella.

NO-EGG PUMPKIN PIE

By Mrs. Merle Berry
1 package butterscotch pudding
1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin
1/2 teaspoon ginger
Dash cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk

Add dry ingredients to milk and mix thoroughly. Place over low heat. Stir constantly until very thick. Remove from stove and add pumpkin. Pour into baked pie shell or serve as a pudding.

Dinner-Dance Set

Reservations for their annual Shamrock Dinner-Dance are being taken from members of Oakland Hills Country Club. The March 17 affair will feature dinner with strolling musicians from 8 to 9 p.m. and dancing from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Coming Events

Parliamentary Study Club will meet Wednesday at 2 p.m. at 18 1/2 E. Lawrence St.

Berean Class of First Baptist Church will meet at the church Wednesday at 10 a.m. with a cooperative luncheon at noon.

Iraq Calderon, Daughters of Mokanna will gather Wednesday at 8 p.m. for regular meeting and practice at VFW Hall on South Saginaw Street.

Capotelets and large collars add top width. Uncluttered bodice, refined in line and quiet in color, plays down the busty look.

Forget the sheath. The alternate fashion type, the gored skirt balances the topheavy figure. The open neckline minimizes the bust. High mounted sleeve, medium to narrow in width, reduces the contrast between bust and hips.

By ANNE HEYWOOD
More and more, we are beginning to realize that some emotional problems have a vocational solution.

I was reminded of this recently, when I heard a happy ending to a story that started out as though no happy ending was possible.

The young woman's name was Frances. Some time ago, she had come to talk to me about her mother-in-law.

"She's just impossible," Frances told me in tears. "She never will leave our house and yet she doesn't do anything to help."

"She just sits in her room, with the door ajar, and eavesdrops on everything we do. She interferes with the children, drives me to distraction and gets on my husband's nerves."

Professor Talks to Hills Branch of Garden Club

"The Field of Opportunity in Forestry" was the topic chosen by Professor Kenneth P. Davies when he spoke to members of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mr. Davies is chairman of the Department of Forestry in the School of Natural Resources, University of Michigan. He was introduced by Mrs. Robert VanderKloot, program chairman.

The Monday meeting was held in the Cranbrook road home of Mrs. Luther Leader. The Leader home was decorated in a St. Patrick's Day motif for the occasion. Mrs. Charles B. Marsh, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. Howard Stegall and Mrs. Louis J. Columbus Jr. poured.

Pastel coats are pretty on teenagers. But in the winter, cleaning bills run high if the coat is to look fresh.

"We've tried everything, but nothing works. We would far rather she lived in a place of her own—she has ample income—but she says we're her life. She doesn't read or have friends or anything."

"We have tried to explain to her that she's ruining her life and ours and that the doctor says it will ruin her health. But she simply won't listen."

"She just sits there and sews, with a sad look on her face and with the door ajar so that we have no privacy."

When I learned that the mother-in-law was quite a skilled seamstress, I suggested that Frances try to persuade her to use her skill for the benefit of some community organization.

And here's the happy ending to the story.

Frances asked her to sew some aprons for the church fair and the old lady made some beautiful ones.

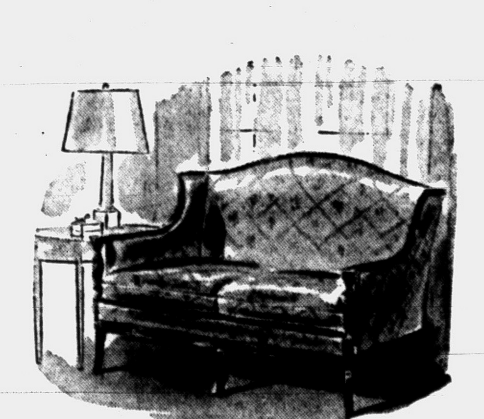

On the day they were to be taken to the booth at the church, Frances pretended to be sick.

So the old lady, because her handiwork was involved, broke her habit of staying in and actually took the aprons to the fair herself. She stayed quite a long time, too.

Couple Travels East Following Rite

Spending their honeymoon in orchid corsage for the honey- Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside in Detroit.

New York and Concord are Mr. and Mrs. Morton Silverman.

The couple was married Saturday evening in Ados Shalom Synagogue of Detroit. The former Ilene Gerson, the bride, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gerson of Detroit, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silverman of Douglas street.

Rabbi Harry Siegal performed the rite.

For her wedding Ilene chose a gown of silk organza, and she carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Ralph Merkovitz, the bridegroom's sister, performed the duties of matron of honor wearing a gown of beige lace over taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

Other attendants were Mrs. David Stalberg, Mrs. Leonard Portney, Mrs. David Robbins and Sheila Buchalter, all of Detroit.

GOWNED ALIKE

They wore identical gowns of rose-colored taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of red roses.

Walter Singer of Detroit was best man, and seating the guests were Gerald Robbins, Daniel Robbins, Larry Greenberg, Joel Gerson and Ralph Merkovitz.

Ringbearer was Michael Robbins, the bride's nephew.

For the rite the bride's mother wore a dress of pink lace over pink taffeta with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Silverman chose a dress of green lace over taffeta and an orchid corsage for her son's wedding.

Following a reception and dinner at the synagogue, the bride changed to a beige wool suit with black patent accessories and the

Silk for Spring to Be Fashion for Female Attire

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Lustrous silks sparkle in resort collections this year, foretelling the appearance of more silks for spring.

Variety is nearly endless. Thin, crisp silks, soft silks, silk tweeds, wide-ribbed ottomans, pure silk faille for both suits and coats. Silk broadcloth and silk taffeta that's light weight and comes both printed and plain. Silk chiffon and silk organdie, thin and crisp.

These silks are cut into shirtwaist dresses, suits, coats, after-five and evening dresses, blouses and simple sheaths. They are used for coat and jacket linings and shirts.

Ann Davis Speaks Vows in Romanian Church Rite

Ann Davis became the bride of Paul Miller Saturday morning in St. George Romanian Church.

The altar was banked with white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations for the double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Theodore Skalla.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Niagara avenue are parents of the bride, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller of West Chicago avenue.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of nylon tulle appliqued with French lace. Her bodice featured short sleeves of lace and tulle and the illusion neckline was trimmed with appliques. A pleated tulle apron effect topped an underskirt of tulle which extended into a chapel-length train.

Her crown headpiece was trimmed with sequins and pearls and secured her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias centered by a white orchid.

MAID OF HONOR

Eleanor Davis wore a gown of aqua and white flocked nylon for her duties as maid of honor. The bridal attendants were gowned in flocked nylon dresses in shades of Nile green and orchid.

The other attendants were Margie Stringer, Mrs. Robert McCallum, Mary Jane Savo, Joyce Miller, Violet Baba, Sandra Richman, Janet Zatik and Lolly Arama. Mrs. Ted Nimigean, godmother of the bride, wore a dusty rose lace dress.

Anna Marie Danis of Oak Park wore a pink nylon frock with matching accessories for her duties as flower girl.

Art Hart served as best man.

She Loves Teacher—but He's Family Man

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm a person of deep emotions, and I'm in love with one of my teachers. I can't stand another minute of his not knowing it.

"I feel that this is true love and sometimes I feel that he senses my deep emotion for him. There's only one thing blocking my love for him—he's married and has two children.

"I can't go to my teachers and confide in them because it would be so embarrassing to have anyone know I love him.

"My parents don't understand—they think this is a schoolgirl crush—which it definitely is not. I'm 14—do you think I'm too young to know if I'm really in love? "I feel that I can't live without him and I want to tell him so. Please advise me."

Answer: It's highly possible that you're feeling for your teacher all of the emotions associated with love. Respect, admiration, physical attraction, spiritual congeniality. But none of these are based on real companionship.

You've been sitting in his class watching him, listening to him, working hard for his approval. But you know nothing about him in private life—except that he has one.

And his private life is, you claim, the one stumbling block to your love. The fact that he already has a family is, you think, the only thing that could possibly keep you from having him for yourself.

Were he single, he would be just as far out of reach. For one thing, there's your age. You feel quite capable of grownup emotions, and you daydream blissfully about marriage.

But you really aren't ready for grownup responsibilities, mature decisions and a steady, settled pattern of life. Six years from now it will be time enough to start taking yourself and your emotions seriously.

Next, there's your relationship.

He's one of a kind—your teacher. And you've made up your mind to idolize him. But you are one of his many students.

He's aware of the way you look, the tone of your voice, the quality of your work, your good humor, poise and manners. But he doesn't take you personally.

You feel already that you couldn't tell any of your teachers how you feel about him. It would be embarrassing.

It would be more embarrassing and highly indiscreet to tell him! What can he do but feel sorry? He's not going to blot out his wife and children for your sake. He's not going to be any nicer to you for knowing.

In fact, it would bother him to death. To the point that he might have you transferred to a different class to save you both embarrassment.

Feel for him deeply if you must. But realize that all this churning is over a man you cannot have. And keep it to yourself. (Copyright, 1956)

Stella Backalukas Weds in St. George Ceremony

Candelabra and baskets of white gladioli, carnations and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of St. George Greek Orthodox Church Sunday when Stella Backalukas became the bride of Elmer Goodson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Backalukas of North Ardmore avenue. The bridegroom, of North Saginaw street, is the son of the S. C. Goodsons of Louisiana.

The 4 o'clock ceremony was read by the Rev. Achilles Siagris in the presence of 200 guests.

A jeweled tiara secured the bride's fingertip veil of illusion. Her gown of satin, lace and net was accented by a small Queen Anne collar. The underskirt of tulle had panels of satin and lace.

The bridal bouquet was of roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Serving as matron of honor was

Mrs. Gus Backalukas, sister-in-law of the bride. Other attendants were Mrs. Nicholas Backalukas, sister-in-law of the bride; Bessie Giannakos, Ann Savvas and Madeline Rawlis.

They were gowned in blue silk shantung with net trains and carried bouquets of pink carnations. The matron of honor carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Taking the duties of best lady was Frances Sekles.

Nicholas Backalukas was best man, and groomsmen were Frank Foteneas, John Tenjeras, Steve Annas and Gus Backalukas.

Following a reception in the VFW Hall in Keego Harbor, the bride changed to a gray suit with green accessories for the honeymoon-trip South. She also wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet. On their return the newlyweds will reside on North Ardmore avenue.

Housework is easier . . .
... because of advertising

Housework isn't easy! Clothes must be washed, meals must be prepared and children can still make a two-minute shambles of a spic and span home. But think of the drudgery in Grandma's day: no refrigerators, washers or driers; no modern soaps and cleansers; and no miracle fabrics that never need ironing. Housework still isn't easy—but it's easier. And advertising helps make the difference.

Here, in this town, newspaper advertising brings you the news of new products, makes you want them and tells you where you can buy them. Local sales all over the country encourage manufacturers to make newer and better products to save you even more time and labor. It's a never-ending improvement, in which you always win! By helping to sell, newspaper advertising benefits you.
