Ike Tones Down Expectations on Big 4 Talks

Warns Against Excess Optimism for Peace in West Point Speech

WEST POINT (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for "a prudent guard against fatuous expectations that a world, sick with ignorance, mutual fears and hates, can be miraculously cured" at the proposed Big Four conference.

The conference will be "only a beginning in a renewed effort that may last a generation" before enduring peace finally is won, he said in an address prepared for delivery at the U. S. Military Academy commencement exercises.

Speaking less than 24 hours after the United States, Great Britain and France formally proposed to Russia that the Big Four met at Geneva, Switzerland, for four days starting July 18, Eisenhower said of the struggle to iron out differences:

"It is a task that may result in a long series of conferences."

He said that although Western strength inspires confidence, "we likewise have need for wisdow and the caution that wisdom enforces—at the conference table itself, in the halls of government, in every place of business and in every home in in America." He added:

"By caution, I mean: A prudent guard against fatuous expectations that a world, sick with ignorance, mutual fears and hates, can be miraculously cured at a single meeting. I mean a stern determination that we shall not be reckless and witless, relaxing our posture merely because a persistent foe may assume a smiling face and soft voice.

"By wisdom, I mean: A calm awareness that strength at home, strength in allies, strength in moral position, arm us in impregnable fashion to met every wile and strategem that may be used against us."

The President's effort to guard against the building of great expectations that an "at-the-summit' meeting will solve everything was in line with views he has expressed several times.

His remark recalled, however, that Vice President Nixon said in a Chicago speech last week that the Big Four conference "could be the world's last chance to settle differences peacefully and avoid a catastrophic war."

Speaking to 469 graduates at the field house at his alma mater, Eisenhower devoted nearly a quarter of his televised address to the proposal that he meet with Russia's Premier Bulganin, Britain's Prime Minister Eden and France's Premier Faure.

He said the populations of the four countries" constitute only a fraction of mankind," and "free nations do not claim any right to speak for others."

For that reason, he said, the Big Four conference is "only a beginning."

Strike Deadline Pushed Back to Sunday Night

New Offer Rumored in General Motors Bargaining

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union moved today to extend its General Motors contract from midnight tonight to midnight Sunday.

Union sources said a resolution to extend the deadline had been prepared for submission to the union's 300-member General Motors council meeting in Detroit today.

Approval was anticipated.

Such an extension would avert any authorized walkout tonight among GM's 325,000 UAW-member workers.

A similar contract extension was granted in Ford Motor Co. negotiations last week. They culminated yesterday in a new contract agreement including a guaranteed wage plan.

A GM extension would indicate that the UAW had some assurance that GM was at least considering a guaranteed wage plan patterned after the Ford arrangement.

The five-day extension to Sunday would give GM and the UAW more time for working out an agreement

Reports the union was about to grant the contract extension to Sunday were received as the UAW's 300-member General Motors council met in a downtown hotel to review the GM negotiations and decided whether to go ahead with a strike tonight.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he was "not prepared to say" then whether a contract extension was contemplated.

Reports circulated earlier through GM's big Detroit office building that GM had put a new contract proposal on the bargaining table this morning.

Both sides worked until 2:30 o'clock this morning in an effort to hammer out a new contract for 350,000 GM employes at 111 plants in 63 cities.

The question was whether GM would go along with the controversial guaranteed wage plan, even in the modified version negotiated at Ford, or would stand firm and buck the plan opposed by so many American businessmen.

Harlow Curtice, GM president, flew back to Detroit last night from New York to be in close tough with the intensifying GM bargaining.

There were some flareups at General Motors plants.

At St. Louis some 5,000 walked off their jobs at Fisher body and Chevrolet plants, closing them and posting pickets. No reason was given by strikers for the pre-deadline walkout. Local leaders termed it unauthorized.

Expect New Ford Contract to Have Far-Flung Effects

DETROIT (INS)—The Ford contract, which will run for three years, fell short of the UAW's demand for a full year but it was the first break in labor's drive for assured income status for hourly workers.

Ford countered the UAW demands with its own plan and sold the union on it. It provides a company-financed $55,000,000 fund, built up over the next three years at the rate of five cents an hour per worker, to provide an employe with 65 per cent of his take-home pay for the first four weeks following a waiting week and 60 per cent, including state unemployment compensation, for the next 22.

Observers foresaw a possible rush to buy the new 1955 models in advance of an expected price hike in the 1956 lines as a result of the settlement.

The UAW's success in achieving a modified guaranteed annual wage from Ford is expected to have repercussions in future labor negotiations in other industries, such as steel, where contract talks opened today.

The Ford agreement drew a blast from the head of the National Association of Manufacturers, Henry G. Riter III, who told a luncheon audience in Indianapolis he was "much disappointed" over the development.

NAM HITS PACT

Riter, also president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., said industry's giving in to labor's demands for a guaranteed annual wage "even in principle, could have seriously damaging effects on the American economy, perhap leading to a socialistic state and controlled economy."

Reuther estimated the Ford contract represented a gain of 20 cents-an-hour for the company's 140,000 production employes.

Circuit Judge Post Is Sought

Pontiac Attorney Calls for Wide Consideration of Candidates

Pontiac attorney Odin H. Johnson today called for "wide consideration" of possible candidates for the appointment as Oakland County's fourth circuit judge.

The fourth judge was approved by the State Legislature May 31 to be appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams and begin serving Jan. 1, next year.

Two Democratic Pontiac attorneys, Clark J. Adams and William John Beer, were reported to be leading candidates for the appointment, according to unofficial word from Lansing.

Johnson said he feels his record entitles him to consideration and "there are a number of Democratic lawyers of long standing in Oakland County whose qualifications should be studied by both the bar association and County Democratic Committee."

The county committee has slated a meeting for June 13 at which some decision on a recommendation may be made, Johnson stated.

He cited Arthur P. Bogue, of Birmingham, and Franklin Morris, of Ferndale, "as two former Democratic prosecuting attorneys who should be considered."

Indiana Crash Fatal to Waterford Man

A 35-year-old Waterford Township man, William Hatley, was burned to death early today when the truck - trailer in which he was riding overturned and burst into flames two miles north of Garrett, Ind.

Franklin Shaw, 20, of 1500 West Blvd., who was driving, was hospitalized with cuts and bruises, Indiana State Police reported.

Hatley, married and the father of three children, was returning from a watermelon-buying trip for a Waterford Township market with Shaw when a smaller truck belonging to Mills Bros. Circus sideswiped the tractor-trailer, which went into a ditch. The men had left here Friday.

Hatley was trapped in the burning cab, police said.

Employed by Lotan's Dixie & Telegraph Market, 2135 Dixie Hwy., for the last two years, Hatley lived with his wife, Delores, and three children in a trailer next to the market.

House Approves Postal Pay Bill

Measure Going Back to Senate for Okay on Minor Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today overwhelmingly voted an average 8 per cent pay raise for the nation's 500,000 postal workers. The tally was 407-1, with Rep. Cole (R-NY) casting the lone "no" vote.

The pay bill, carrying a cost tag of around 165 million dollars a year, now goes back to the Senate for expected concurrence in two minor clarifying amendments.

Today's House action to all practical effect brings to an end more than a year of feuding between Congress and President Eisenhower over pay increases for the postmen.

The President has twice cracked down on Congress with vetoes—the first time in the last Congress because raises were not accompanied by corresponding increases in postage rates, and last month on the ground the boost was too much and that the bill left inequities in pay grades.

Still at issue are pending increases for more than a million other government workers, and administration requests for upping postal rates on most classes of mail.

Pontiac Post Office Payroll Up $75,000

The annual wage figure for 250 Pontiac post office employes will be boosted about $75,000 annually, as a result of the eight per cent postal raise passed by the house today, according to Leslie H. Dean, Jr., acting postmaster.

Retroactive pay, from March 1, given to 90 letter carriers and 160 other postal workers, will total about $30,000, approximately $120 per person.

Everyone Gets in Act Hailing GAW Contract

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

DETROIT—Ford's chief negotiator, John S. Bugas, said the bargaining for the three-year, guaranteed wage contract with the CIO United Auto Workers was "the roughest and toughest I have ever engaged in. We both won and the public won."

United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther: "You might say there's a Ford in General Motors' future."

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich): "I think the agreement is great. Everyone is to be congratulated. I see no indication that politics on either side entered into it."

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), Senate GOP campaign chairman: "The agreement indicates the confidence of both labor and management in the administration program and in the future of it."

Gov. Williams: "I am particularly happy that the agreement was reached in the traditional way of collective bargaining, without the intrusion of governmental agencies."

Attempt to Prevent Troy's Incorporation Vote Denied

Polls for the Troy Township incorporation election opened at 7 a.m. today after Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland denied an attempt to prevent the voting yesterday.

Vickers Corp. of Detroit, last Friday asked a restraining order to halt the election claiming the area for incorporation does not contain the required number of people.

In court yesterday, Vickers' attorney, Walter O. Koch, said state law requires 500 people per square mile in an area to be incorporated as a home-rule city.

He presented results of a study made by Birmingham surveyor Arthur W. Gillespie stating there are 28.51 miles in the area to be incorporated. A special census taken by the Secretary of State's office shows 13,673 people in the area surveyed, said Koch. An average of 500 per square mile would require 14,255, he asserted.

The attorney also claimed the County Board of Supervisors was remiss in approving the election without first being sure the needed number of people were in the area.

He alleged the original petition filed March 7 was deficient in not definitely outlining boundaries of the proposed city.

Vickers' concern in the incorporation is a $2,000,000 plant planned for what is now the township at Crooks and Fifteen Mile Rds. The company would like the area annexed to Royal Oak. The land will be a valuable tax asset which Troy would like to keep and Royal Oak obtain.

Troy attorney Malcolm Heber yesterday said the Supervisors' action in approving the election is conclusive under state law and the petition can't be attacked once approved. He said there is a question as to whether the special census figures presented by Koch are correct.

"There are still some inhabitants of Troy claiming they were not counted," he declared.

Oakland County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt said the petition was fair on its face and therefore the Supervisors were obligated to approve it and set an election.

Judge Holland indicated he felt there was too little time to resolve the questions of law and fact in dispute and the election should be allowed to proceed.

He denied the injunction, but allowed Vickers' bill of complaint to stand thus apparently leaving the door open for further legal action by the firm following the election if the incorporation is approved.

To Quiz Patients at Vets' Hospital for Jeannie Lead

KALAMAZOO (AP)—State Police planned to question patients of a veterans rehabilitation center at nearby Pine Lake today for a lead in the rape-slaying of 8-year-old Jeannie Singleton.

Troopers hoped one of the patients could furnish them with the identity of a sandy-haired man sought for questioning in the case.

He is alleged to have accosted seven school girls May 23, the day Jeannie vanished while en route home from school.

Her body was found last Wednesday in a pine woods in Allegan County 18 miles north of Kalamazoo, not far from the veterans center.

Manner of Releasing Prisoners Here Leads to 'Irregularities'

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan today called for a county-wide probe of the manner in which prisoners are being released from the Oakland County Jail which "leads to irregularities and inequalities of the worse type."

Request for the investigation was made in a letter to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, the county's chief law enforcement agent.

The letter, which also asks for "a set standard so that every prisoner shall receive equal and fair treatment under the law," commends sheriff Frank W. Irons "for the steps he has taken to correct all abuses along this line. Finnegan said he had consulted Irons on the matter before making the request.

Even Kangaroos Can't Escape Photographers

BALTIMORE (AP)—The first baby kangaroo in the history of the Baltimore Zoo made a brief public debut yesterday and a photographer—laboring above and beyond the call of duty—snapped his picture.

George Cook got his very candid shot from the neighboring cage, which normally houses a species of the genus papio, or baboon.

Cook and Eddie Nolan, Sunpapers photographers, alternated for 18 payroll hours in the baboon cage waiting for the baby—or Joey, as they're called in Australia—to show his face. The baboon had been moved out.

The Baltimore Zoo's Joey is believed to be about 3 months old. The Joey — hairless, blind and only about an inch long at birth—stays fastened inside the mother's pouch until it is about 3 months old.

Then it emerges little by little from the pouch—something like Junior venturing forth from the stag line at his first dance—and begins to nibble at the greenstuff his mom eats.

Day before yesterday, Nolan and Cook decided the time had come.

The ordeal ended after Cook had waited for two hours yesterday. The Joey, looking more like a scared pup than a kangaroo, stuck his head out of Mama's pouch, then once more withdrew from the hurly-burly.

Heat Spell Broken by Showers Monday

Broken by showers which began falling late yesterday afternoon, the heat spell which hovered over Pontiac for three days today gave way to a cool air mass.

The forecast calls for the showers to end tonight, with a low of 56-60 degrees predicted. Tomorrow, it's to be partly cloudy with a high of 74-78. Occasional showers and somewhat cooler is tomorrow night's forecast.

Yesterday's high mercury reading was 87, low 66. A rainfall of two-tenths of an inch was recorded. At 8 a.m. today, the temperature was 65, rising to 70 at 2 p.m.

Henry's Grandsons Shock Tycoons by Agreeing to Limited Form of GAW

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Ford's grandsons are giving their fellow industrialists something like the shock the old man did years ago.

The elder Ford startled management by announcing he would pay his workers $5 per day. He did so, he said, to get and keep top skilled workmen, and to furnish workers with enough money so that he could make customers out of them for his tin lizzies.

Henry II, Benson and William Ford, his grandsons, have accepted the principle that an employer should provide for laid-off workers beyond the limits of state unemployment insurance.

Top management in many industries today is trying to assess the effects—if and how far the idea will spread, and how soon labor will make the same demands on them.

One of the first results of the Ford agreement in principle — even while the strike threat was still in the balance — is seen in the call issued by the National Assn. of Manufacturers. It urges the nation's top business leaders to meet in Chicago next week to discuss the issue of the guaranteed annual wage. NAM says it would be foolish for leaders in other lines than the auto industry just to sit around hoping that "the lightning strikes next door."

The Ford Motor Co.'s proposal isn't quite the same as the guaranteed annual wage. It would be in effect only for half a year and would not provide full pay to laidoff workers, as the union first demanded.

But by agreeing to the principle that some financial aid should go to laid-off workers, the younger Fords have opened the door a crack.

Another effect of the Ford negotiations which some observers see is on the stock market. They say that part of the strength of stock prices last week was due to a growing belief that labor will make larger gains this year than last in the matter of wage scales and various fringe benefits.

Some stock traders look upon even a guaranteed semiannual wage as mildly inflationary. As wages go up, so will prices, they argue. Traditionally, stocks are a hedge against inflation.

One question left unanswered by the Ford auto labor settlement is whether Ford will go ahead with a plan to sell company stock to employes at a bargain price.

Ford had offered to let employes buy its stock at half price as part of a worker income security plan rejected by the CIO United Auto Workers Union.

All Ford stock has been held so far by the Ford family and the Ford Foundation, a philanthropic trust, but the company said Ford stock will be offered for public sale some time in the near future.

Law to Regulate Noxious Weed Growth Is Studied

Adoption of an ordinance regulating noxious weed growth is slated for tonight's City Commission meeting, along with the first reading of a new precinct boundary ordinance and an amendment to the peddler's ordinance.

First introduced last week, the new weed ordinance prohibits growth beyond one foot of "injurious or poisonous" weeds. Under its provisions, the city would destroy such weeds on both public and private property.

The new precinct boundary ordinance would put into effect the changes in Precincts 3, 4 and 34 authorized by city voters in April. Amending the peddler's ordinance would provide controls over ice cream street vendors.

The Commission will hear five reports from the City Plan Commission.

One report approves the exchange of properties between the city and the Detroit Edison Co. in and adjoining Murphy Park.

The others approve shifts to commercial 1 classification for the following lots:

Lots 39 to 47, lots 153 to 156 and part of lots 150 to 152 of assessor's plat 13; lots 6 and lots 1 to 8, O. F. Beier Subdivision; lots 1 and 7 of assessor's plat 147, lots 63 to 65 of assessor's plat 103, and lots 591 to 593 Ferry Farm Addition.

Also on the 21-point agenda is the matter of withholding additional building permits on Cornell street until the subdividers pave new streets.

Engineer's estimates will be presented for the following:

The Commission will also consider a resolution accepting a special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage on Carlisle street from Walton to New York.

Public hearings are slated for special assessment rolls for curb, gutter and drainage on Fourth avenue from Joslyn to Fuller, and on Ypsilanti avenue from Carlisle to Stanley.

Confirmation of special assessment rolls for the following also are set:

Curb, gutter and drainage on Jefferson avenue from Blaine to Summit.
Curb, gutter and drainage on Blaine street from Oakland to Montcalm.
Curb, gutter and drainage on Going street from South boulevard to Prospect.
Curb, gutter and drainage on Willard street from Jessie to Shirley.
Curb, gutter and drainage on Luther street from Howland to Earlmoor.
Curb, gutter and drainage on Beverly avenue from Baldwin to University.
Water main in West Columbia avenue from Baldwin to the west boundary of assessor's plat 147.

Minimum Wage Boost Approved

Senate Labor Group Okays Hiking Floor to One Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor Committee today overwhelmingly approved a bill to raise the 75-cent hourly minimum wage to $1.

More than two million workers would get automatic wage increases if the bill becomes law, it was estimated.

The committee headed by Sen. Hill 1(D-Ala) rejected a motion by Sen. Ives (D-NY) to raise the nation-wide wage floor to $1.25. A second motion by Sen. Allott (R-Colo) to peg it at 90 cents an hour, the figure recommended by President Eisenhower, also was defeated.

The $1 figure was proposed by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), subcommittee chairman, last week.

Hill said Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas hoped to bring the measure to the Senate tomorrow for almost certain passage.

The Allott motion for 90 cents w beaten 11-2. Allott and Sen. H. Alexander Smith (D-NJ) voted "yes."

The Ives motion went down 8-5. Ives and Sens. Murray (D-Mont), Neely (D-WVa), McNamara (D-Mich) and Lehman (D-NY) voted for this $1.25 minimum, recommended by major labor unions.

Lehman offered another plan—raise the minimum to $1.25 and extend coverage to new groups of workers. That lost on a voice vote.

The bill makes no change in the present coverage provisions of the fair labor standards law. But Douglas told a news conference he would hold hearings on that question "at an appropriate time."

In the House, the Labor Committee is holding hearings on the minimum wage and is believed likely to approve a boost to $1.

Senate Pushing on Housing Bill

Huge Proposal Calls for Billions in New Dwelling Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate drove today for a fast showdown on a controversial multibillion-dollar housing bill.

Its main feature would authorize another four billion dollars of FHA mortgage insurance—enough to last a year at the present rate.

Its most disputed section, as approved by the Senate Banking Committee, calls for a vast Democratic-proposed program of public housing. It would authorize construction of 135,000 units of low-rental dwelling space for the needy each year for four years—540,000 units in all.

The Eisenhower administration had asked only for 35,000 units a year for two years, and Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) announced he will wage a fight to cut the bill back to that level.

Capehart predicted the decision will be close, perhaps by less than half a dozen votes, and he said he expects to win. The Senate agreed yesterday to debate limits on the bill likely to bring final action by nightfall. The House has not acted.

Another section calls for the building of 10,000 special-design public housing units for aged residents. There was no advance sign of a fight over that one.

Another huge item would authorize a $1,350,000,000 military housing program, to provide dwelling quarters for married members of the armed forces.

The bill also calls for a 100-million-dollar slum clearance program; an additional 200-million-dollar loan program for college housing projects; 100 millions more for farm housing loans, and authority for FHA insurance on loans for smoke and smog abatement projects.

Man Waives Exam on Exposure Count

A man who police chased into the Oakland County Jail before arresting him last Friday waived examination on an indecent exposure charge in Pontiac Municipal Court yesterday.

Lester L. Wathen, 29, of 1055 Vinewood, is in jail under $5,000 bond set by Judge Cecil McCallum pending a hearing June 13.

Wathen is on probation for a previous assault conviction, requiring him to stay in jail each weekend, said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem. While on route to the jail Friday, the accused made an improper advance to a woman at Saginaw and Huron Sts., Ziem stated.

When she screamed, Wathen fled into a store from which he was chased around the corner into the jail by police, the prosecutor added.

Kavanagh to Study Ford Pact Legality

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh said today he expects to prepare an opinion on the subject of a possible conflict between the Ford-CIO United Auto Workers contract and state unemployment compensation laws.

Kavanagh said he understood that Max Horton, director of the Employment Security Commission, intended to ask for such an opinion.

There has been some speculation that Ford workers could not take advantage of the full benefits guaranteed by the contract under the present state law.

In Detroit, Horton said: "In fairness to both employers and workers who may be involved in this matter I'm not going to pass on any purported conflicts in regard to any contracts until the attorney general has had a chance to examine the contracts."

Driver Is Sentenced

Robert McCallum, 26, of 510 Third Ave., was placed on one-year probation and assessed $100 court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday. He pleaded guilty May 27 to reckless driving last Sept. 14 in Orion Twp.

Plan Meeting Postponed

The regular monthly Oakland County Plan Commission meeting originally scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed until June 15 at 1:30 p.m. in the office building at 1 Lafayette St., according to George N. Skrubb, director.

Meet Your Candidates for Pontiac School Board

Four Pontiac school district citizens have tossed their names into the June 13 school election ring which will give the Pontiac Board of Education two new 4-year members.

Ferd Thiefels' term expires this year and that of Maurice Croteau is also completed.

Each candidate has slated that "civic duty and pride in a fine school system" has prompted their desire to serve the community.

Other board members now serving the Pontiac school district are Glenn Griffin, Mrs. Harry E. King, Louis Schimmel, Dr. Walter L. Godsell and Robert B. Oliver.

DR. LYNN D. ALLEN JR.

A native son of Pontiac, Dr. Lynn D. Allen, Jr. of 934 Argyle, Washington Park subdivision, graduated from Pontiac high school in 1944, attended the University of Detroit, Central Michigan College of Education and Northern Illinois College of Optometry.

He has practiced in Pontiac since 1950.

Dr. Allen is a member of the First Presbyterian Church; board of directors of the Pontiac Jaycees; vice-president of West Pontiac Kiwanis and also vice-president of the Oakland County Optometric Society.

Dr. Allen states:

"I am in complete agreement with the operation of our present school board. They have done a wonderful job in the City of Pontiac. I firmly believe in the pay-as-you-go program which has saved the taxpayers in Pontiac money and has supplied more building than possible under any other plan.

"If elected I will endeavor to keep the pay-as-you-go program and to continue the high quality of instructors and school staff. I am not dominated by any group or clique and I am absolutely free to vote the dictates of my best judgment."

MONROE OSMUN

"Serving as a board of education member from 1946 to 1954, during which time I was president for two years, I feel qualified to serve again.

"My background should be invaluable in helping to solve the many problems inherent in an expanding school system. I also believe in our board's pay-as-you-go program.

"Adequate pay for our instructional and maintenance personnel is also part of my platform and I will support the present board and administration policy for broadening and improving our curriculum.

"I am not supported by any group or clique. My personal feeling in choosing to serve is that this is an honor. It is a job of sacrifice and service without remuneration other than the satisfaction of knowing that at least you have strived to do your part for a better community."

Osmun is married and the father of two children, one attending the Pontiac schools and the other enrolled at the University of Michigan and he is a member of the Episcopal Church.

REV. J. ALLEN PARKER

Pastor of the local Newman A.M.E. Church, Rev. Parker has served in this capacity for the past 12 years and is the father of four school-aged youngsters.

He is 45 years old, a graduate of George State College, the Atlanta University and holds his Doctor of Divinity from Wilberforce University, Ohio.

Before coming to Pontiac in 1943 he was athletic director and physical education instructor at the Jones High School in Orlando, Fla. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias and is a 32nd degree Mason.

Rev. Parker believes that "all groups should have representation on a public board of education. I believe that a fair and equitable understanding of the problems which today confront different groups can be coped with by people who are close to these problems.

"We can all point with pride to the Great American Public school system which was founded upon and has thrived on peoples' differences—but which has known unparalleled strength and unity through education and understanding."

THERON T. STICKLE

For more than 10 years a resident of Pontiac, Theron T. Stickle lives at 615 Lowell Street and works as a construction layout engineer at General Motors Yellow Truck and Coach division of General Motors.

He was educated at Central State College at Mt. Pleasant and has been a classroom teacher for 12 years.

Stickle has served as principal of Leonard, Mich., schools for four years and has held the superintendency post in the Clifford, Mich., schools.

He is the father of a Pontiac high school senior and a 6-grader.

Stickle said he is running for the board post because he was approached by a group of citizens who felt his background would be invaluable in board membership work.

"It is necessary to expand facilities to cope with the future growth of this city. I believe it is my civic duty to run for this position. Every citizen owes this service to his community. I am not much of a public figure, but I am interested in the educational advancement of Pontiac."

Stickle is a member of the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Conviction Is Reversed, New Trial Is Ordered

On a case appealed from Oakland County Circuit Court, the Michigan Supreme Court reversed the conviction of Dr. Archie Bedell, of Detroit, on a bastardy charge yesterday and ordered him given a new trial.

The high court said that the complaining witness, an Oakland County woman, accused the doctor of being the father of her child born Sept. 19, 1951. She had obtained an interlocutory divorce decree from him final May 17, 1951.

The court said a mother should not be permitted, as a matter of public policy, to declare her child illegitimate.

Sentence Is Suspended

After admitting May 27 to use of narcotics, Roxie Shelton, 50, of 407 S. Jessie St., was sentenced to one year in Oakland County Jail by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday. The judge then suspended the sentence to June 11, 1956.

Ford Officials Refuse Comment on Price Hike

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. officials declined comment today on whether their new labor contract would result in a car price increase.

Meanwhile, it was recalled that Ford asked the war-created Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) to permit a 5.7 per cent price boost after signing of the 1950 five-year contract with the CIO United Auto Workers.

At that time the OPS refused but in 1952 allowed Ford a basic wholesale price increase of 4.97 per cent.

The 1950 contract gave Ford workers a 19.4 cents an hour "package" increase compared to the present union-estimated 20 cents.

In 1950 Ford signed its contract on Sept. 3 and asked the price increase Dec. 6. The company said at the time its labor costs had risen 9.8 per cent and materials costs 8.1 per cent over the previous six months.

On Jan. 29, 1952, OPS permitted a 4.97 per cent increase. However, Ford raised its prices on Ford cars only an announced 3 per cent and on Lincoln and Mercury cars 1.8 per cent.

OPS, set up during the war to help stabilize the economy of the nation, no longer exists.

Driver Pays 5-Cent Fine With 'Thank You' Note

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (UP)—Police here were more than a little surprised when the mailman delivered one of their courtesy parking tickets accompanied by the nickel penalty and a "thank you" note.

The woman writer said she read on the ticket how sorry the police were to have to issue it, and thought the message was an excellent way to handle the situation.

Something to Moo Over

Ford Contract Stirs Questions

Problems Ought to Be Ironed Out Before Pact Takes Effect in '56

DETROIT (AP)—Questions of application of the new Ford-CIO United Auto Workers contract under the state unemployment compensation law were being discussed informally today.

An element of contract "legality" was one concern. However, this was not held to be too serious. In fact, Gov. Williams and others said the law probably could be changed to conform with the contract if necessary.

In any event, the problems weren't pressing. The contract doesn't take effect until June 1, 1956. By then, it was felt, the law could be adjusted, or clarified.

Ford has until June 1, 156, to start building up the $55,000,000 fund for financing the supplementary benefits plan.

One question in the discussions of the contract's legal position was whether benefits to a laid-off worker are to be classified as "wages," or whether some other term should be applied.

SOLON'S OPINION

State Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing), an authority on state unemployment pay, said the law prohibits remuneration in addition to unemployment compensation in some instances.

Hittle said the term "wages" was the crux of the matter.

"Whether a man could get insurance pay (unemployment compensation) would depend on whether the company's payments were called 'wages,'" he said.

So far the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) has taken no position.

Max H. Horton, MESC director, said he would hold up comment until he had seen the contract.

Horton said the contract would have to be judged by the state law "as a whole," rather than by any single provision.

IN CASE OF CONFLICT

He said if there is a conflict the attorney general will be asked for a determination of the contract's "legality."

In 1953 a U.S. Labor Department survey showed that virtually all states forbade state compensation to a worker who is receiving wages from his employer.

Sentenced in Breakin

Harold D. Miller, 23, 193 Wolfe St., was placed on three-year probation and assessed $200 court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday.

Miller admitted May 21 to breaking into Richard's Tavern at 557 N. Perry St. May 24.

The Day in Birmingham

Approve Parking Meters for 1 Block on Woodward

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night approved installation of parking meters on both sides of Woodward between Park street and Ravine road.

Merchants in the area — Mary-Hayes Inc., Boutique Furs by Roberts Inc., Wieland's Furnishings, Petrol by Murphy, Walk's Furniture and R. C. Nordstrom Co. — had petitioned for two-hour meters. They claimed in their petition that parkers who work in the downtown business area were parking on the streets and leaving their cars in the same spots all day.

In other action, the City Commission:

Approved construction of sidewalk on the west side of Cummings between 14 Mile road and Bennaville.

Referred to the city Planning Board for recommendation the contract for fiscal 1955-56 of planning consultant Scott Bagby.

Requested that residents on Fairview street submit to the commission a petition requesting a new sewer. Some residents on Fairview had complained that lack of proper drainage left water standing at the west end of the street for as long as four days after a rainfall.

Special traffic signals which can be controlled manually will be erected near the city's two new fire stations, to permit speedy and safe runs by fire trucks.

One light near the Chesterfield station will halt traffic from Pleasant and Fairfax from moving onto Maple and also eastbound traffic on Maple. A signal at Adams will halt traffic while fire trucks from the east side station clear the driveway.

The systems can be turned red from the station houses. Both lights will blink yellow until a run is made.

Judge Hits Manner of Freeing Prisoners

licitation at the bondsman at the expense of the prisoner," reveals that any defendant in jail can be released by a judge or justice merely phoning the jail and authorizing the release—"upon bond to satisfy his appearance in court the following morning."

In his letter, Finnegan explains: "It is my understanding of the law that judge or justice has no authority to order such a release, nor should such a request be honored by the sheriff. As I interpret the law, a magistrate can release a defendant on bond only after he has been arraigned before a magistrate.

"Release by phone or crony should play no part in our county law enforcement system."

The letter adds, ". . . under the present setup, the court is a tool of the bondsmen. It enriches the bondsmen at the expense of the individual.

"I was informed recently over $4,000 worth of bonds were written by bondsmen, usually on a 10 per cent fee basis.

"I am also informed bondsmen suggest to magistrates the amount the bond should be. Sometimes the amount of the fine is less than the amount a defendant pays a bondsman for his release.

The letter continues:

"The courts and law enforcement agencies cannot serve two masters, either they must serve the public or the bondsmen."

Finnegan makes it clear in his letter to Ziem that he doesn't suggest that a weekend prisoner must always remain in jail until Monday morning.

"Certainly not! It suggests that a release should be handled directly by the arresting or local law enforcement agent who in my opinion is the only legal party who can request the sheriff to release a prisoner. For example, in Pontiac, the Pontiac Police Department. This would eliminate the Sunday morning shadow of bondsmen over the jail house."

Finnegan also explains that the majority of the prisoners could be released on personal bonds, without the necessity of making them pay "tribute" to bondsmen. Local residents working in factories are not going to flee the state because of a disorderly charge, he says.

"Bonds in any event should never be more than the usual fine for the offense alleged. Why should a $200 or $300 bond be ordered where the maximum penalty is $100?"

Finnegan suggests in the letter that a fair and uniform policy for release of weekend prisoners should be worked out. He adds that the sheriff should be instructed not to honor orders of release unless ordered by the law enforcement agency.

He further proposes that a monthly chart should be "forwarded to your (Ziem's) office showing all releases of weekend prisoners; the agency authorizing their release and if they were not released on personal bond, who furnished said bond and the amount thereof."

U.S. Demands Reds Pay for B29 Attack

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (UP) — The United States has filed a claim for $1,620,295 against the Soviet Union for the loss of a B29 bomber and its eight-man crew off northern Japan three years ago, the World Court announced today.

The claim charges that the bomber, flying a training trip, was pursued over Japanese territory and then shot down into the sea by two Russian planes.

Moscow is free to accept or reject the court's jurisdiction in the case.

The B29 disappeared Oct. 7, 1952. U.S. Air Force officers said the plane was last seen on a radar screen within Japanese waters.

Six days later the Russians charged that the bomber shot at Soviet fighter planes while over Russian territory, which a U.S. Air Force spokesman in Tokyo denied.

Oklahoma Orders State's Colleges Start Integration

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—The Oklahoma Board of Regents for Higher Education has ordered the integration of white and Negro students at all state-supported colleges.

The historic order, affecting 18 colleges, is effective at the start of the fall term in September. The vote by the board yesterday was 8-1.

The action is in line with the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that public schools should complete integration "as soon as feasible." It also brings to a climax an integration process started six years ago when the high court ordered graduate Negro students admitted to Oklahoma colleges.

Since then enrollment of Negroes in the graduate fields has become common and there has been no adverse reaction.

Third Graders in Italian School Thank Dr. Salk for Discovery of Polio Vaccine

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, June 6 (UP)—Let Congress worry and fret over whether the Salk polio vaccine program has been handled properly.

The third graders in Utin, Italy, know only that a vaccine has been invented, and they are glad.

They tell how pleased they are in a batch of letters, each carefully illustrated, received today by the U.S. Information Agency with the request that they be forwarded to:

"Dottor Jonas Salk
Inventore del vaccino antipoliomielitico
Pittsburg (sec), Stati Uniti d'America."

An expert in languages at the agency translated the letters, including this explanation by the third grade teacher, Dr. Sandro Acuto:

"Please accept the spontaneous expression—if somewhat 'crude'—of a group of children moved by, and grateful for, your discovery. Forgive the 'confiding liberty' they have taken in writing you. . ."

Like most teachers apologizing for their youngsters' literary efforts Dr. Acuto need not have bothered. The eight-year-olds did all right.

Take Rita Chinelli. "If it had not been for you and your scientific friends, who knows how many would be dead by now? she asked.

"If they don't give you the medal the Lord will give you an even bigger medal, and that is Paradise."

Rita then drew a picture of a doctor about to vaccinate a little girl. If the little girl's hair seemed to be standing out as if she were scared, there's a reason. The needle Rita drew for the doctor is big enough to frighten anyone.

Lucco Raffaella hit on something many an adult may have overlooked.

"You had great courage," Lucco assured Dr. Salk, "to inject your own children first with the vaccine."

Oriella Ambrosio explained her drawing, which included an angel dressed in yellow. "Perhaps you don't understand my drawing, which means: An angel goes into the world, also your vaccine will spread and carry savation everywhere."

Some youngsters used decorations, like flowers and fancy borders, to pretty up their letters. But some tried to be scientific—there were two very good drawings of microscopes. Several used religious themes.

* * *

Dr. Salk should like the letter and art work of Renata Mosca.

At first glance it looks like a bearded man in a blue and orange robe with a lion to his right, a stork in the lower left corner and an unidentified bird overhead.

But with Renata's explanation, everything becomes clear.

"The drawing I have made shows God creating the world," she said. "I made this drawing because as God creates the world, you give new life by saving from serious illness."

Uranium Nothing New in Dakota Black Hills

PIERRE, S. D. (UP)—South Dakota has "uranium fever" as more and more strikes are located in the lack Hills, but State Historial Will G. Robinson said it's not new. He found this short item in a newspaper dated July 5, 1884:

"What is believed to be uranium, a very rare and valuable mineral, has been discovered in the Black Hills."

But then, what could they have used uranium for in those days?

EASY REDUCING

Science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

Do you like sweets, candy, cake, butter, gravy potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why . . .

counteracts hunger

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water thereby helping give the feeling of a full, contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes fast

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

Cadillac

What The Doctor Ordered...For Himself!

The doctor had owned his new 1955 Cadillac for just about a month—and he was talking to a friend.

"About the only recreation I get," he said, "is at the wheel of my motor car—driving to and from the hospital, my office, and the homes of patients.

"Other doctors, of course, have the same situation—and some of them kept telling me what a big 'lift' they were getting out of their Cadillacs.

"I decided to see for myself—and they were certainly right. I actually approach the day with a lot more zest—knowing that I am going to be able to spend a couple of hours driving my Cadillac."

The doctor is experiencing, of course, what so many other professional and business men are experiencing—the wonderful lift to the spirits that a Cadillac brings a man.

Try it sometime—and see for yourself.

You'll find there's something about the way you feel as you take the wheel. You know there's a car under you! Solid, substantial, capable and protective. Just to sit there gives you a wonderful feeling of confidence and well-being.

And when you start to move, the thrill is continuous. You almost never hear the great engine, except when it answers a smart touch to the throttle. Steering is little more than the response to your thought. You just ride and relax.

We hear it every day: "I drive my Cadillac for rest and relaxation."

Why not come in today—and make the test yourself. We'll give you the keys and a Cadillac—and the "rest" is up to you!

P. S. It's only fair to warn you: You probably won't find it easy to give up the keys. Some people simply refuse!

Juvenile Judge Handles Cases Gently

Day in Court Leaves Questions Unanswered

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — For two days recently, I sat beside the judge of one of New York City's Children's Courts seeking some kind of personal answer to the spreading disease called juvenile delinquency. It wasn't pleasant. Or conclusive.

Trying to find a pattern in these crimes of youth is beating your head on the oak-paneled walls.

The Hon. Justice Charles Ramsgate, my host, had warned me not to expect much. "You'll not come to any startling conclusions after sitting on the bench for a couple of sessions. But at least you'll see what we're up against," he said.

"When they talk about juvenile crime, some people say, 'Oh, the situation can't be as bad as all that—it's just a few kids acting up and getting in the newspapers.'"

But it is as bad as all that. In New York City crime among kids under 16 has increased, in the early months of '55, about 50 per cent over '54. And '54's rate was 17 per cent higher than '53.

HE WAS ONLY 14

The first boy before the judge was 14. His mother, at his side, was pregnant. He did "willfully and unlawfully demand money" from a 13-year-old student, the detective droned, and "when refused, slashed the other boy on the left forearm with a pocket knife." He had been brought into court before, charged with bullying for money.

Judge Ramsgate asked the boy if all this was true. The boy nodded. But "it was an accident with the knife," he said softly. "I didn't mean to hurt him, just scare him. My mother is sick, sir."

It sounded pitiable. But it had happened before, and some New York youths are artists at the sympathy game. "I think the boy is mentally sick, Mrs. ----," said the judge softly.

She pounced on this statement, as if it were reprieve from the death sentence: "Oh yes, sir, I think so too." The boy watched, warily, for results.

He was remanded to Bellevue Hospital for psychiatric examination.

"That's the easy step in these cases," confided the judge wearily. "When the results of the psychiatric tests are handed us, they usually indicate the youngster needs mental care. Then what to do with them—our institutions for mental defectives need rubber walls."

AND SHE WAS 15

The next case appeared: A 15-year-old Puerto Rican girl, picked up twice for promiscuous behavior. Mental tests, already-taken, indicated her problem is "an adjustment reaction of an adolescent. She regards the demands of this culture as unfair, sees nothing wrong with her behavior. She can be expected to continue to be promiscuous."

Ramsgate shook his head "Here," he said, "is one of the big problems with New York children. Many are new here, from other countries, and they're belligerent to a new form of life. They take the attitude that our rules are wrong, and make their own laws."

If she is going to continue to be promiscuous, the judge told the girl's mother, she must be sent to a trade school for girls. "No!" the mother screamed in Spanish, "I'm going back to Puerto Rico and take her with me."

Ramsgate agreed, put the girl on probation on the condition that, as soon as it could be arranged, the family would return to their own home which they had left only a few months before to enter the U. S. and trouble.

THE LAST WAS 6

"Next, please," said the judge, and in came a boy, 6, who had ripped out the telephone wires in his home, and locked two other children in a bathroom, and threatened a young girl with a butcher knife.

* * *

The mother had no idea what was wrong with her child, except that she had been separated from her husband for three years and he hadn't had paternal guidance.

"Another psychiatric test," murmured the judge. Then he turned:

"I used to be in magistrate's court—got gamblers, drivers who parked too long, squabbling families, belligerent drunks — and their characters were more or less formed, and their excuses and pleas more or less ready.

"The crimes and the penalties were more or less cleancut and, compared it this, it was easy. So easy. You see what I mean?"

I saw what he meant. There is no scheme of things here in Children's Court. Every case is different, and must be handled gently, or the judge himself must feel responsible for a prospective good citizen being destroyed before he really has a chance to live.

20 Saved From Death by Heart Stimulator

BOSTON (UP) — an artificial heart stimulator has brought more than 20 persons "back to life" during a two-year span.

The device, known as the pacemaker, will re-start a heart that has stopped and maintain the regular beat until the heart itself resumes its normal pace.

One woman, Mrs. Colin McKenzie of East Boston, has had her heart re-started nine times.

Old Texas Ordinance

EL PASO, Tex. (UP) — Now it comes out that one of the Southwest's favorite outdoor diversions is illegal, at least in this city.

Ordinance No. 1 after the city's incorporation in 1873—just brought to light—specifies that it is a misdemeanor for any person to wade, paddle, swim, dive or duck in the waters of any irrigation ditch within the city.

RCAF Staff Officer Ousted for Speech

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's air weapons chief has been relieved of his job for what the government considers "highly inappropriate" statements. He said another world war appeared inevitable and the West could "beat the pants off" the Russians.

The remarks were made by Air Vice Marshal J. L. Plant, chief of the Royal Canadian Air Force Technical Services, in a speech last Thursday to a meeting of the Aviation Writers Assn. in Toronto.

Defense Minister Ralph Campney told Parliament yesterday that Plant has been removed from his job and named head of the RCAF Air Materiel Command. The minister said this would remove him from any association with policy matters.

Excessive speed was the principle cause of traffic accidents in 1954.

In Good Company

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Casper J. Haynes tells a favorite of oldtime traveling salesman in Texas. They used to make a point of spending a night at the hotel in the little town of Ganado. Then each would write a letter to his wife, saying he'd "spent the night between Edna and Louise," a couple of other tiny towns.

Ford leads all low-priced cars

In V-8 power

(with a Y-block V-8 that delivers new Trigger-Torque "GO")

Of all the low-priced V-8's, only Ford's Y-block V-8 has an extra-deep engine block to give you smoother, quieter, longer-lasting "GO"! This brilliant V-8, with Trigger-Torque response, obeys your commands instantly ... gives you new confidence in traffic... allows you to pass more safely, too. And Ford's short-stroke design and Automatic Power Pilot spell extra savings every mile.

In years-ahead looks

(with styling inspired by the Thunderbird)

Only Ford brings you the years-ahead beauty of Thunderbird styling ... the "let's go" look of Thunderbird lines. The lower roof line, longer body line and flatter rear deck all say "fine car." And inside, the smartly tailored Luxury Lounge interiors feature freshly beautiful colors and fabrics appearing for the first time in any car.

In smoother going

(with Angle-Poised Ball-Joint Suspension)

No matter where you go, this advanced form of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension smooths your way. The springs have been tilted back to smooth out the bumps from the front as well as the up-and-down bumps. Even the smooth roads seem smoother!

In modern power assists

(with new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic and new SelectAire Conditioner)

You can have your Ford as automatic as you want ... at a price you want to pay. Power can help you shift, steer, stop ... move windows and seat both up and down ... even condition the air you breathe.

In choice of models

(with 16 models including 5 different Station Wagons)

No other car offers you so many models to choose from. And in station wagon choice—whether you prefer 2 doors or 4 ... seats for 6 or 8—Ford has a best-seller beauty to suit your needs.

and in resale value

(with a higher return on your investment)

The final proof of Ford's extra worth is in its resale value. Ford has traditionally returned a higher portion of its original cost at resale than any other car in the low-price field. Why not get the whole Ford worth-more story at your Ford Dealer's. Once you do, we feel sure, you'll never want to settle for less than Ford.

Ford the new best seller... sells more because it's worth more!

Auto Trip to Airport Lengthier Than Flight

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Navy Lt. (j.g.) J. Rodney Grubb phoned his parents from Glenview, Ill., and told them he was flying to Minneapolis and they should meet him.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grubb left home soon after he called. When they arrived at Wold-Chamberlain Field here, their son was waiting for them.

It had taken him less time to fly here from Glenview than it took his parents to motor from their home to the airport.

Iwo Jima Caves Fine as Shelters

Underground Network Dug by Japanese Now Used by Air Force

IWO JIMA (INS)—The bloodied caves under Iwo Jima have today assumed a new nuclear-age function for the U.S. Air Force — as earthenwork shelters against the terror of atomic warfare.

The caves, built by frantic Japanese in the waning days of World War II, turned the six-week campaign to conquer Iwo Jima into one of the bloodiest military campaigns in history.

Five thousand U.S. Marines were killed digging stubborn Japanese defenders from an underground city carved out of the sulphur-ridden innards of the island.

Now the Air Force has begun a program to turn the caves into lifesaving shelters, and form what will perhaps be the most perfect network of atomic protection found anywhere.

Scientists have long declared that thick layers of earth are the best protection against nuclear explosions and their radioactive aftermaths.

In a recent atomic defense exercise, the 300 Air Force men stationed on the island scurried to pre-arranged caves and huddled there until the imaginary danger from nuclear air attack passed.

The test was considered successful and the ready-built shelters may well increase the strategic importance of Iwo Jima—which in the ten years since World War II ended has become only an Air Force way station.

Lt. Col. Arthur Kingham, of Riverside, Calif., in charge of the program, explained that the biggest job thus far is finding caves which are cool enough for humans to huddle in.

Iwo is riddled with live sulphur veins which make parts of the underground cave network uninhabitable even for a short time.

Kingham is conducting a search now for enough caves to accommodate his men, and when he completes his search, he plans to stock these shelters with medical and food supplies.

If an atomic attack comes, Iwo's men could drive two-and-a-half ton trucks into the massive shelters, equipped with portable electric generators which would light the caves. Ventilation holes could be dug where needed.

The largest of the caves can comfortably accommodate 125 men in each enclosure, but most of them are considerably smaller.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Coffee Growing Nations Seek Stabilized Market

With recent history in mind it is not surprising that announcement of a projected international coffee bureau to stabilize the world market should be greeted with some skepticism.

Organizers of the bureau are the 14 Latin American coffee producing countries. Their leaders meeting in New York expect that coffee growing areas of Africa eventually will join the new bureau.

Undoubtedly this plan is the result of the collapse of the coffee market. That in turn is traceable to the rebellion of American and European consumers against exorbitant prices. The situation, as housewives well know, currently is being reflected in declining U. S. retail prices.

Brazil, the world's largest producer, resents being blamed for recent record coffee prices. Yet those in close touch with the situation say there is no escaping the conclusion that that country was attempting to finance its industrialization by pushing prices as high as possible. The result is that Brazil now has on hand a price depressing carryover from the last crop as well as a new record crop on the way.

If the bureau is to succeed, it must make the right choice between selling less coffee at high prices or more at lower prices. Experience in this country has been that it is far better to sell large quantities at a small margin of profit than to restrict output in an effort to keep prices high.

It is difficult to see how the bureau can ignore this principle without bringing down on itself a repetition of the very condition it now seeks to remedy.

If Tragedy Strikes

Some easing of world tensions hasn't eliminated the question of what would have to be done if an H bomb wiped out part of our Congress.

Then, more than at any other time, there would be urgent need for emergency legislation. As far as the Senate is concerned there would be little or no problem.

Our Federal Constitution empowers state governors to fill upper house vacancies by appointments until special elections can be held. All state legislatures in turn have authorized use of this power by their governors.

The situation is far different in the House, however. The Constitution empowers state governors only to order special elections to fill House vacancies. It might take a month or two to arrange elections necessary to fill vacancies caused by a sudden enemy attack.

A few days ago the Senate with only three dissenting votes, moved to submit to the states a remedial Constitutional amendment. This would give governors authority to make temporary appointments to fill vacant House seats whenever more than half the House seats fell vacant.

A similar amendment was approved last year by the Senate with only one dissenting vote, but was ignored by the House. Representatives apparently want to draft any amendment that would affect House vacancies.

One House proposal follows the Senate amendment in principle. But it includes what we believe is a wise additional requirement that each appointed representative be of the same political party as his predecessor and be chosen by that party's state committee.

Use of the provisions in these amendments may never be necessary. However, world conditions being what they are, it certainly would be wise to be prepared for whatever happens.

Victory for Efficiency

Nomination of EWAN CLAGUE for reappointment to the office of Commissioner of Labor Statistics is a victory for efficiency and high professional standards.

The Pennsylvanian had served with distinction in that capacity from 1946 until his term expired last August. At that time the politicians decided this well paid and important job would be useful for patronage. Pennsylvania's Sen. MARTIN let it be known that he would oppose CLAGUE's reappointment.

But, as Business Week points out, a nationwide search for a replacement as competent as Clague proved futile. As a result Sen. Martin wisely withdrew his objection and the President sent the nomination to the Senate.

The work done by the Bureau of Labor Statistics is extremely important. Thousands of employers use its Consumers Price Index for fixing wages. Plant location, marketing and other vital managerial decisions are influenced by BLS manpower and employment figures. It is the only source of reliable data on strikes, wage levels and collective bargaining terms.

Mr. CLAGUE who since his term expired has been acting as special assistant to Labor Secretary MITCHELL, deserves speedy Senate confirmation.

IT IS usually the case that a person who receives an honorary degree from a college lends or gives it something—that is, prestige or money, respectively.

The Man About Town

Changes at Lansing

A Pair That Have a Near Significance to Pontiac

Hollywood: Industrial center for Reno.

Two items out of Lansing have a close Pontiac interest. Word comes that Oakland County's own political observer and former State Senator, has been offered a place on the new Michigan Turnpike Authority, to fill a vacancy, and he expects to take it. He thinks a sensible public relations program can solve the local turnpike question. My Lansing correspondent also sends word that for a half century the railroad lobbyist in the legislature, is retiring at the age of 82. He played a prominent part in the change of location of the Grand Trunk right of way, just south of Pontiac.

George N. Higgins,

Few people have been as intimate with our county's official business during the past 30 years as now retiring as chief deputy county clerk.

Word comes from our special Hawaiian correspondent, that the lava is still flowing from the crater of the volcano through which he took us in February, and which erupted a few days later.

Moke Ahuna,

Pontiac barbers tell me that they're not so crazy about the flat top and duck tail haircuts, but are just going along with fashion's foibles.

In attendance, Boston beat out the other four cities in which the 1955 GM Motorama appeared, according to figures released by of Pontiac Motor Division. The Bean City turned out 594,745 strong in its nine day showing, with a top day of 84,895, both figures larger than those of New York, Miami, Los Angeles or San Francisco.

The tame cock pheasant with the very appropriate neutral name of "Etheljohn," owned by

Meeting the Problem—Head On

David Lawrence Says:

Anthony Eden Stands Out Among Europe's Politicos

EN ROUTE FROM EUROPE—Unforgettable impressions of the men who made the policies in Europe today are carried away by the writer upon completion of a series of private conferences during the last two months—some with statesmen of "the summit" and some with the personalities who sit alongside them in the top councils.

Foremost is an impression of Sir Anthony Eden, prime minister of Great Britain, an earnest, resourceful, likable man, whose sturdiness and firmness—first displayed when he broke with the appeasers in the Chamberlain cabinet of the '30's is coupled with an awareness of present-day intrigues by the Communists.

His long experience in government will prove invaluable now. He maintains a flexibility of approach which is a tradition of British diplomacy. He is far better informed about America's ideals and purposes in the world than most of the people in government circles in Britain.

He is a specialist in foreign affairs, but finds his time taken up considerably nowadays with domestic policy.

EDGAR FAURE

Edgar Faure, premier of France, is a levelheaded, hard-working individual with perhaps the most difficult job in Europe—how to develop a majority from time to time in the French Parliament out of a lot of blocs and factions and split parties.

He makes an impression of sincerity. He has a keen appreciation of American support and calls constantly for a common policy among the Allies, not just in facing the Soviets but in extricating France from the morass of dilemmas growing out of the situations in Indochina, Tunisia, Morocco and central Africa.

He is a good friend of the United States. While he does not always see eye to eye with us—as, for example, on Far Eastern policy—this is due largely to the same lack of understanding of American ideals which is characteristic of so many people in Europe who are influential in forming public opinion.

General Franco, head of the Spanish state, is a quiet, soft-spoken, indefatigable man of deep conviction, who wonders at the tragic lack of information about Spain which prevails in other countries.

SPAIN PROGRESSING

There can be no denying the progress Franco is making in a country where only a few years ago more than a million persons were killed in a civil war and where, if communism had succeeded in that war, there would today be no air bases for American military forces which are so essential to the defense of Europe.

The men around him are able. Talks with the foreign minister and with other leaders reveal the planning of Spain to take her rightful place in the family of nations.

Germany's statesmen, especially the younger men around Chancellor Adenauer, are about as alert a group as the writer found anywhere in Europe. There need be no fear about the course of German policy if fate takes Adenauer from the scene.

My talks with the new foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, and with Minister Franz Josef Strauss and with Chairman Georg Kiesinger of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Bundestag gave me a new light on the tremendous influence for peace in Europe that Germany can be.

OPPOSITION FRIENDLY

Even Erich Ollenhauer, the leader of the Socialist opposition—a kindly man with whom this correspondent spent an evening—is well aware of the importance of maintaining American friendship. Altogether, the German picture has in it many elements of strength for the West.

Speaking of foreign ministers, Americans can have reason to be glad that Harold MacMillan heads up the foreign office in Britain. It is not just because he is half-American and is a close friend of President Eisenhower, but because he can be counted upon to apply himself zealously to the task of removing Anglo-American misunderstandings.

The unsung heroes of diplomacy today, however, are the ambassadors who work tirelessly to explain America to Europe and to smooth out the many embarrassing situations caused by thoughtless partisans back home.

Career men in all our embassies are extremely important and indispensable, but business men of the broad-gauged perspective of ambassadors Aldrich and Dillon, with their background of knowledge of the economic picture, are invaluable today as the representatives of the United States.

Former Governor John Lodge of Connecticut is new at his post as ambassador at Madrid, but he is studying the Spanish language daily and catching on to the Spanish problem very rapidly.

Our ambassador to Germany, James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, is making speeches to the German people in the German language and conveying the American viewpoint effectively.

TALKS WITH BOHLEN

The writer had a long talk with Charles E. Bohlen, American ambassador at Moscow, while he was in Paris recently. Bohlen's ability to read and speak Russian is a tremendous asset. He has perhaps the most perplexing assignment of any of our ambassadors.

Voice of the People

W. S. Downes Says State Proposal No. 3 Insufficient, Favors State Tax Increase

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Michigan's Proposal No. 3 regarding the school issue has now become law. This is not going to solve the various school board's problems of better schools and better education.

This was a measure solely for schools whose bonding condition would not allow them to bond their various districts for a certain amount to build a new school. Under this proposal they can now borrow from the 100 million dollar fund to build the much-needed school, but where are they going to get the extra money to hire the new teachers, buy coal, pay light bills and all the expenses of operating the school?

Is this to to be raised by higher taxes on the small home owner?

When you buy an automobile this is only the initial cost. When you buy a new school building it is only the initial cost, also. Where do we go from here?

As one who has been fighting for better schools and better teachers for 35 years, the only answer is an increase in the sales tax, tagged for school purposes. We talk about our great tourist trade, look at the extra revenue we would get from this source alone. You are paying for it in other states when you travel, so why not Michigan and take the load off the backs of small home owners?

Proposal No. 3 only helps a district whose credit to sell bonds is not good enough to sell them on the open market and the state is going good for them.

THOUGHTS OR TODAY

Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.—Jeremiah 44:27.

* * *

To escape from evil we must be made as far as possible like God; and the resemblance consists in becoming just and holy and wise.—Plato.

Hal Boyle Says:

Geronimo Tribesmen Plan to Operate Dude Ranch

MESCALERO, N.M. (AP)—Tribal kinsmen of Geronimo, leader of the last major Indian uprising in the United States, are considering starting a dude ranch.

Time has calmed the fierce Apaches, once the most dreaded raiders of the Far West. They have decided there is more profit in doing business than riding ponies into battle.

One of their latest money-making ideas is to establish a dude ranch on their mountainous 719 square-mile reservation here, one of the most picturesque areas of New Mexico. It is no wily Redskin plot to lure the white man here and scalp him with resort rates.

"If we do start a dude ranch, we'll operate it on a high level," said Wendell Chino, a distant relative of Geronimo's who is now president of the tribe's business committee.

There is no doubt that if Chino has anything to do with it, it will have to be on a high level.

He is passionately devoted to raising the lot of his people. A short, powerfully built man of 32, Chino was the first member of the Apache tribe to become an ordained minister. He took a leave of absence from his pulpit post in the Reformed Church in America to direct the tribe's economic affairs.

Two decades ago the Apaches lived much as they did in Geronimo's wild heyday. They had only a few hundred cattle. They slept as their roving ancestors had—in brush arbors or "wickups," shelters made by tying young bent fir saplings together and covering the framework with animal skins, cloth and underbrush.

Today most of the Indians live in neat 4-room cottages built by the tribe with funds borrowed from the government. Many have become ranchers or cowboys. The cattle herd has grown to 10,000. The tribe also receives about $150,000 a year from the sale of timber.

"We have come a long way in only 20 years," said Chino proudly.

"But our average cash income is only about $800. We are still in the lower income bracket, in terms of the general American standard of living. Our big problem is unemployment. We have about 150 without jobs."

The Apache people, numbering some 7,500, dwell on four reservations—two in New Mexico, two in Arizona. The Mescalero tribe here feels it is the most progressive.

"The reservation population fell to about 600 or 700 after the flu epidemic in the First World War," said Chino, "but now it is up to 1,200, and increasing at the rate of about 2 per cent a year."

Some 85 per cent of the Mescaleros now speak English, about the same number are Christian. Although Chino wants to preserve some of the dying customs and arts of his people, he feels that only through more education can they acquire the knowledge and civilized skills they need to survive in the future.

"Most of our children now attend school through the 8th grade," he said, "but that is not enough."

Geronimo led the Apaches off the reservaton on the warpath. It is Chinos dream to free the Apaches from grinding poverty by creating new economic enterprises on the vast reservation.

"Where there is insecurity, there is always a tendency for a people to disintegrate," he said, "but the Apaches can take on the culture of the white man and still retain their tribal integrity and their identity as Indians.

"Those who criticize us don't realize the progress we have made. They forget that the Apaches were the last tribe to lay down their war weapons, and that some who were led by Geronimo are still alive."

Case 0-350: Marilyn T., aged 17, is in a very precarious position.

"Dr. Crane, I have been going steady with a senior boy in my class," she began.

"He is a leader and so popular most of the other girls envy me. Besides, our high school isn't very large, so it is quite a distinction to have the most eligible boy.

"But during the last few weeks he has been making demands for liberties that I consider wrong.

"When I protest, he tells me I am old-fashioned. He says all the modern girls do it:

"And he threatens to go out with other girls if I don't give in to him. In fact, he didn't show up for our date last night.

"If he jilts me, I'll almost die from embarrassment. So is it proper to indulge in pre-marital relations?"

SOCIAL PRESSURE

Social pressures can be terrific on well bred modern teenagers.

But morality is not something that arbitrarily pertains to a church or to the Bible.

Young people must realize that they, too, can derive the proper answers to moral questions and do a very creditable job, if they will measure any act by this moral yardstick:

Whatever does the most good for the most people FOR THE LONGEST PERIOD OF TIME is moral.

Please notice that capitalized phrase in the definition, for many thoughtless folks, including the Russian Communists, often have omitted it.

For example, the Russians decided it would be well to destroy or banish the engineers and doctors and factory heads and other members of the so-called white collar group, and take their property.

Then they looted the wealth of the Czar and supposedly distributed the money to all the people.

What happened? They soon found they lacked trained men to run their factories and agricultural planning, etc.

SEEK HELP IN U. S.

So they frantically came over to America about 1930, where they recruited our engineers and other white collar leaders, offering very glowing salaries, to get them into Russia to help re-build her industry.

* * *

And our engineers did a good job or Russia could never have thwarted Hitler in World War II.

So Russia's great mistake was in forgetting that phrase "For the longest period of time."

It may have temporarily given more money to more people when Russian Reds looted the white collar folks, but this was a brief advantage, offset by the discouragement of initiative and the flight of the trained brains from the land.

MARILYN'S MORALITY

Marilyn's supposedly old-fashioned code of morals is actually as up-to-date as tomorrow's sunrise.

Her boy friend's attempt to high pressure her into illicit sexual affairs, is as old-fashioned as Shechem's seduction of Dinah in the Bible or Amnon's rape of Tamar.

Animals, feeble-minded and dull humans, have very crude moral codes for it requires high I.Q. and lengthy home training to erect the level of morality now in vogue.

It took mankind possibly 100,000 years to develop the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule. So note my specific answer to Marilyn tomorrow.

Only 2 Changes Occur in Middle-Aged Women

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A substantial part of the pamphlet on The Menopause, which I will send free upon written signed request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, deals with the fishwife conception of "change of life."

Lest some leads in the Pinkham-Pierce tragi-comedy "The Crisis" prefer to remain unenlightened, I'll say right here that there are only two actual changes in the life of the middle-aged woman (Webster, not I, will define the term), and these are (1) Cessation of menstruation, and (2) Ovulation.

The woman is aware of the first, but not of the second change—that is to say the menopause manifests itself by cessation of menstruation and only. . .

Oh-oh, wait a moment, there's no point in driving a hundred thousand women over to the trick specialists, nostrum mongers, "clinic" racketeers.

So we'll delete only ignorant ones imagine it accounts for whatever shortcomings or ailments they happen to have after forty, and put it this way:

HOT FLASHES

Other than cessation of menstruation the only manifestation an intelligent woman may associate with the menopause is, I regret to say, the discomfort commonly called "hot flashes."

I regret to say so because physicians do not even know whether the hot flashes are due to too much or too little internal secretion from the ovaries—ovarian hormone; or perhaps to a disturbance of the autonomic (automatic) regulation of the circulation from some cause unrelated to sex.

Some physicians' experience leads them to believe an ovarian (corpus luteum) hormone, available (on prescription) as Progesterone, Premarin etc., is the best palliative for "hot flashes."

DIET HELPS SOME

Many women have assured me that supplementing their ordinary diet with extra calcium and vitamin D and using more of the high calcium foods in the everyday diet brings considerable improvement in respect to hot flashes.

This is explained in the Menopause pamphlet and in the booklet The Calcium Shortage for which inclose 25 cents in addition.

Fortunately for mankind, women are credulous creatures. Or should I say doctors are plausible?

How else can we account for the association of high blood pressure, psycho-neurotic disturbances and other ailments too gloomerous to mention in a health column, with the termination, the natural termination of fertility?

NO AFFECT ON APPEAL

Although the menopause marks the termination of fertility, the capacity to conceive and bear children, it has no effect on sex appeal or potency.

The credulity of women accounts for the many fishwife superstitions about the so-called "change," "female weakness," "displacement" and other morbid concepts cultivated and treated by doctors endowed with little conscience.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Father of 2 Drowns in Boating Accident

MONROE (AP)—Four persons, including three young children, were rescued in a Lake Erie boating mishap that claimed the life of the father of two of the children yesterday.

Ralph Pelton, of Bolles Harbor, drowned when an outboard motor boat the group was riding in capsized a half mile off shore, five miles south of Monroe.

His two children, Michael, 5, and Mary Agnes, 4, a neighbor boy, John E. Trout, 6, and Trout boy's father, Edward Trout, 33, were rescued.

Police said they were testing their outboard motor when the back end of the boat tore off.

In flight, the skylark can mount more nearly to the perpendicular than any other bird.

Gives Program Shot in the Arm

U.S. Clears Million Doses of Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has given the sputtering anti-polio inoculation program a shot in the arm with clearance of enough fresh Salk vaccine for about a million more doses.

U.S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced late yesterday the approval for immediate distribution of some one million cubic centimeters of vaccine made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis.

A few hours later, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—which is paying for the mass immunization of first and second-grade children—instructed the Lilly firm to ship cleared supplies by "the quickest possible route" to New Jersey, Maine, Montana, North and South Dakota. Children in these states have yet to receive their first shots in a projected three-shot series.

At the same time, Dr. G. Foard McGinnes, National Foundation consultant who wired the hurry-up shipment orders to Lilly, said in Atlantic City, N. J., the drug firm would be asked today to send vaccine out of the same million-shot supply to eight Southern and Western states where it would be used for second doses. He listed these states as Florida, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arizona and New Mexico.

The government and the foundation are aiming at getting two shots into as many of the first and second-graders as possible before the polio season reaches its late summer peak. A third "booster" shot is planned for seven months later.

In his announcement yesterday, Scheele said the million or so cubic centimeters "met the retesting procedures for vaccine which has already been produced . . ."

This was the first newly made vaccine to be released under stiffer production and testing safety standards recently adopted by scientific advisers to the Public Health Service and subsequently accepted by the six licensed vaccine manufacturers.

Some supplies, already distributed and in large part used, were recleared in mid-May after double checks by health service scientists. Still more were recleared last week after adoption of the tighter requirements.

Dr McGinnes sent telegrams to health commissioners in the five Northern states alerting them to expect vaccine from the Lilly firm late today or tomorrow. He said he assumed the drug company would send some by air.

As soon as more vaccine is cleared, Dr. McGinnes said, other Southern states will be given supplies for second shots.

Meanwhile, the surgeon general and his boss, Secretary of Welfare Hobby, prepared for tonight's report to the nation via television and radio—a report which a Welfare Department spokesman said would "tell the American public what the situation is . . ."

According to a tentative schedule released yesterday, the two officials will speak for 15 minutes, with CBS and Du Mont carrying a live telecast and Mutual and NBC radio a simultaneous live broadcast.

The program was scheduled for 7:15 p.m., EDT.

2 Plead Guilty in Boy's Death

Mom, Daughter Admit Letting Tot Die, Stuffing Body in Sewer

DETROIT (AP)—A mother and her 17-year-old daughter pleaded guilty to a "murder-languishing" charge in Recorder's (criminal) Court yesterday in the death of the woman's 4-year-old son.

Police sought waivers from juvenile authorities so the dead boy's 15-year-old half-sister could be tried as an adult in the case.

Detectives said Mrs. Lila Carter, 34, her daughter by a previous marriage, Mattie Bell, and the younger girl allowed Erick Carter to die at his home May 28 of blood poisoning caused by repeated beatings with rubber hoses, broom sticks and straps.

The charge accuses them of murder by allowing the boy to "languish."

The three stuffed the child's body in a shopping bag, threw it in a sewer and reported the boy kidnaped, police said.

BODY RECOVERED

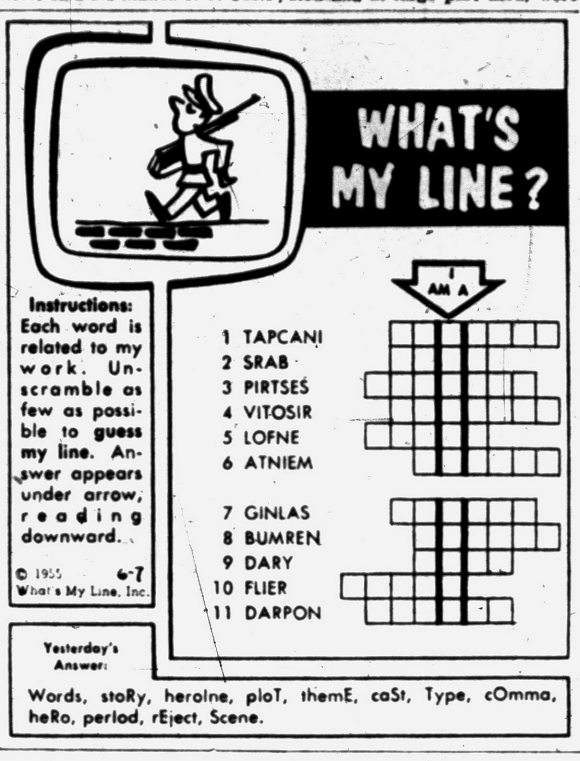

Police said they admitted the hoax under questioning. The body was recovered from the sewer.

Detective Charles Schlacter said all three admitted beating the child intermittently since last January "because he wouldn't mind."

Judge George Murphy ordered Mrs. Carter and the 17-year-old daughter held without bond pending sentencing.

Placed on Probation

Jasper B. Femmer, 32, of 1610 Mohawk, Royal Oak, was placed on 3-year probation and assessed $200 court costs oy Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday. Femmer admitted May 9 to molesting a 7-year-old girl in Oak Park.

Adlai Main Speaker for Democrat Dinner

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, and Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee will be principal speakers tonight at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 Democrats are expected to attend. The funds are being raised for the recent mayoralty campaign. Winner in the election was Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat. Daley served as state director of revenue during Stevenson's term as governor of Illinois, 1948-52.

3 Inmates in Solitary, 1 Hospitalized in Riot

IONIA (AP)—Three Ionia State Reformatory convicts were in solitary confinement today and another convict was in the prison hospital following their short-lived uprising yesterday.

The four overpowered two guards and held two civilian storekeepers hostages before Warden Garrett Heyns talked them into surrendering their weapons.

Guard Justice Wright, 51, was injured seriously when one of the convicts hit him on the head with an iron bar. Guard Ernest Chase, 63, suffered minor injuries in the cell-block scuffle.

The convicts got Wright's keys, left the two guards behind, and made their way to the prison storeroom. There, armed with two knives and a pair of scissors, they grabbed Jerry Cussack and John Hayden.

Warden Heyns confronted the quartet and talked them into releasing Cussack and Hayden.

Enterprising Peeker Routed From Drive-In

LONG BEACH, Calif., (AP)—Drive-in theater proprietor Milt Arthur encountered a man with a shovel trying to dig under his fence. The unidentified shoveler, pressed for an explanation, said he could see the giant screen from his nearby home, but the sound rarely come through. He said he was trying to hook a speaker wire onto one of the theater sound wires.

"Scram," said Arthur.

Okay Passport for Prof. Nathan

Scientist Wins Visa After Court Prods State Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 2½-year effort by Prof. Otto Nathan of New York University to get permission to travel abroad ended successfully yesterday when the State Department, under court prodding, gave him a passport.

Dr. Nathan is executor of the late Albert Einstein's will, and he has said one reason he wants to go abroad now is to attend a scientific meeting in Switzerland next month to discuss publication of some Einstein manuscripts.

In announcing that the passport appeals board had approved a travel permit for Nathan, the State Department said it was adhering to its position that issuance of passports is a function "confined exclusively to the judgment of the secretary of state."

Nathan, a naturalized American, was born in Germany 61 years ago. He has denied ever having been a member of the Communist party in Germany—an allegation by an undisclosed source which the State Department said Nathan had not "adequately rebutted."

Nehru Off to Moscow on East Europe Tour

VIENNA (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru left Prague today for Moscow, the Prague radio announced.

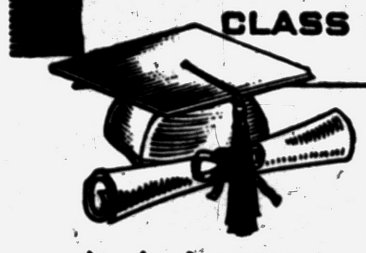

Nehru arrived in the Czechoslovak capital yesterday from Cairo and visited President Antonin Zapotocky and Premier Viliam Siroke.

The Indian leader will stay in Moscow 14 days and then will visit Warsaw, Vienna and Belgrade.

Nab Korean Reds

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean police today announced arrest of four "North Korean Communist guerrillas" and 11 suspected collaborators. Police said they captured the four with burp guns and other arms in a raid May 20 in the mountains of Hongchon County.

Rehearsal Is Underway on Latest Green Drama

Paul Green, America's foremost historical dramatist, and author of "Wilderness Road," will arrive in Berea, Ky., on June 10, and will remain for one month while his latest drama goes into production. Cast and technical staff are on hand, and rehearsals are well underway. Green's mission is one of final polishing, of testing his script in live performance and completed setting. It will open to the public on June 29, and will continue throughout the summer. Information may be secured from Wilderness Road headquarters, Berea College, Berea, Ky.

The first boardwalk in Atlantic City, N. J., was erected in 1870 and was the first boardwalk in the world.

Crazy Contrails Crisscross Sky

High-Flying Airplanes Often Followed by Little Pencil-Shaped Clouds

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (UP)—Contrails are just about the craziest things in the sky.

Contrail is the military abbreviation for a condensation trail, sometimes known as a vapor trail.

That's the little pencil-shaped cloud that trails behind high flying airplanes—under special conditions.

Ground dwellers looking upward may think that the contrails indicate a pilot is trying his hand at sky-writing, but that's far from the case.

Contrails are a peculiar phenomena, frequently in the "now you see it, now you don't" category. Actually, pilots can't cause them to happen.

LOT OF EXPERIENCE

Capt. Stewart M. Gregory, lean, mustached acting chief of flight operations at sprawling Hill Air Force Base between Ogden and Salt Lake City, has had a lot of experience with contrails as the pilot of propellor and jet fighters.

Asked to explain how, when and why the condensation trails occur, Gregory glanced at an Air Force manual on the subject and answered:

"Really, they're just a cloud."

Contrails, he said, are primarily formed by condensation of water vapor in the atmosphere that passes through a piston or jet engine.

* * *

Movement of the plane itself through the vapor laden air also causes some condensation, but not in the noticeable volumne of air that goes through the hard driving engines.

CONTRARY TO BELIEF

Contrary to popular opinion, jets —because of their exhaust heat that retards condensation—are less likely to cause trails than propellor-driven aircraft.

During World War II, contrails were a definite hazard to military pilots because they gave away the position of attacking aircraft to ground observers.

"In Korea, we didn't care," Gregory said. "Our jets wanted the MIGs to know where they were so they'd come out and fight."

World's four longest rivers are Missouri-Mississippi, 4,220 miles; Nile, 4,000; Amazon, 3,900; and the Yangtze, 3,400 miles.

JUST GETTING A DRINK — Friendly "Cleopatra" wouldn't think of harming a gold fish, but you can't sell that to the three huddling in fear at the bottom of the fish bowl. The three-year-old cat has been drinking from the bowl for two years now, but the little fish don't trust her.

Scelba's Party Wins in Sicily

Christian Dems Gain Seven Seats in Island's Regional Assembly

PALERMO, Sicily (UP) — Premier Mario Scelba's pro-Western Christian Democrats today hailed their victory in the Sicilian regional elections as one with far-reaching consequences for all of Italy.

Complete returns from Sunday's elections gave the government party seven new seats in the semi-autonomous island's Regional Assembly and strong gains in popular support.

Scelba called the outcome a "magnificent accomplishment."

Their 37 seats made the Christian Democrats Sicily's biggest party by far, although it did not give them an outright majority of the 90-member chamber. They are expected to govern with the support of the Monarchists, who won nine seats and had been the Christian Democrats' allies in the previous assembly.

The Christian Democrats scored their gains at the expense of the Fascist MSI (Italian Social Movement) and the minor center parties. The Communists and their Socialist allies also increased their popular vote, but their combined representation remained at 30 seats.

Convict Airman of Stealing Items Off Pike's Peak

DENVER (UP) — An airman from Kansas City has been convicted of stealing a plaque and a time capsule from atop Pike's Peak.

The plaque, unveiled last September, commemorates the first flight of an airplane with a turbo-jet supercharger. The time capsule, containing messages to future generations, was to be opened in 2053.

A federal court jury yesterday convicted Edward James Wenski Jr. of swiping the items. Wenski said he pried out the plaque and the capsule beneath it for souvenirs.

Sentence was deferred pending hearing of a new trial motion. The offense carries a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and $10,000 in fines.

Leaves for Manila

TOKYO (UP)—Toshio Urabe, acting chief of the Japanese mission in the Philippines, left Tokyo for Manila by air today. Urabe was in Tokyo about a month, reportedly to consult on the Japan-Philippines reparations discussions.

American Flag Display Slated

Historic Banner Exhibit Planned in New York by American Legion

NEW YORK (INS) — Two hundred flags which figured in American history from the Revolution to the Marine capture of Iwo Jima in World War II will go on display this week in New York.

This largest collection of historic and priceless flags was assembled by the American Legion as part of its nationwide "New Glory for Old Glory" campaign.

The display of the flags, including the "Old Glory" flown during the Revolutionary War battle of Cowpens, South Carolina in 1781, and the flag raised on Iwo will be on exhibit at the Chrysler Salon from June 9th to 17th.

Other flags gathered from around the country will include the one which Lafayette gave to Gen. George Washington, and which forms the basis for the great seal of the U. S. Also on display at the free exhibition will be the first printing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Dry cleaners all over the nation have agreed to clean any American flag free of charge beginning today until June 14th, Flag Day.

As part of its program designed to encourage regular and proper display of the flag, the Legion received the cooperation of the National Archives and Smithsonian Institution, the Peale Museum, the Maryland Historical Society, West Point, Fort McHenry and First Army Headquarters.

All the groups contributed parts of their collections or replicas for the American Legion exhibit.

Seaborn P. Collins, American Legion national commander, has urged the greatest possible display of American flags on homes, schools, churches and public buildings on June 14th.

OFF WITH THE STEEPLE — Workmen needed to remove the bell from the old Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Pittsburgh, so they could install it in a new church being built by the congregation. It was a simple matter after the 59-year-old steeple was lifted by a giant crane — an operation that thrilled scores of sidewalk superintendents.

Rejects Chinese Beans

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has decided to reject an application for import of 50,000 tons of soy beans from Red China because of the unfavorable trade balance with Red China and also the high price — $120.70 per ton delivered to a Red China port. In the past six months of 1954, Japan imported 130,000 tons of soy beans from Red China.

Boy, 7, Burned Saving Sister From Flash Fire

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Arthur Robinson Jr., 7, suffered severe burns yesterday while rescuing his 2-month-old brother from a flash fire that destroyed their trailer home in suburban Chesterfield, Mo.

Hazel Ann, his 9-year-old sister, died in the flames.

The baby escaped injury. Young Arthur suffered first and second-degree burns of the face, arms and legs.

Mrs. Arthur J. Robinson, 37, said she was cooking on a bottle-gas stove when flames swept through the trailer "like lightning." She and the boy rushed outside screaming but Arthur returned quickly and got the baby from the sofa.

"I went in too," Mrs. Robinson said, "but I couldn't get to Hazel because of the flames. She was in the back bedroom and probably wasn't able to get the door open."

Mrs. Robinson was treated for burns and released from a hospital. Only a year ago fire destroyed the family's six - room home at Licking, Mo. No one was at home at that time.

Using strong alkaline soaps or extremely hot water in washing china will fade out gold band and gilt decorations.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance.

The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease.

The tremendous burst of passing power that is always at your command.

The thought-quick response in traffic that makes the car seem part of you.

The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it far and away the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak V-8 performance.

Yes, that's where Pontiac's wonderful performance begins—but there are plenty more wonders to come.

There are the road-leveling ride from Pontiac's long wheelbase and big-car solidity . . . the sensational handling ease . . . the cradling comfort of its luxurious interiors . . . the greatest economy and reliability in all of Pontiac's money-saving history!

All this, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

Woman Fights Kidnaper Off

Battles Man to Draw, Prevents Abduction of Her Child

PORTLAND, Ore (UP)—Mrs. Lillian Weinstein, with the aid of her mother, early yesterday beat off a man who attempted to kidnap one of her children.

The intruder left behind a gun and a note demanding $20,000 ransom.

Jesse Moore, 64, a Portland machinist, reported that his .45-caliber pistol had been stolen Sunday night and he identified it as the one found at the Weinstein home.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Moore was being held for investigation but no charges had been filed. Moore denied any knowledge of the kidnap attempt.

Mrs. Weinstein, an attractive woman in her early 30s, is the daughter of a millionaire Portland manufacturer. She is divorced.

She told police the intruder broke in through a window. She grappled with him and was knocked down several times, once from a blow with the pistol.

He was about to throw a typewriter at her when her mother rushed into the room and shoved him. He dropped the typewriter and jumped back out through the window.

A neighbor, William L. Monahan, aroused by the uproar, fired a shot from his own pistol into the ground outside. That drove the intruder away.

In the room at the time were Mrs. Weinstein's daughter Leslie, 10, and her twin sons Robert and Richard, 6.

"I just knew I had to fight or get killed. I guess I'm lucky to be alive, but I put up a pretty good fight, don't I?" she said.

Spanish Highways Are Under Repair

MADRID (UP)—Spain is "under repairs."

Highways the length and breadth of Spain are being torn up, widened, straightened, smoothed out in a multi-million dollar project sponsored by the Ministry of Public Works with the blessing of defense planning and the tourist trade elements.

Minister of Public Works Count of Vallellano has announced that 350,000,000 pesetas ($9,000,000) will be spent this year alone in improving Spain's roads.

One-third of the money will be in Catalonia and the remainder throughout the nation, whose highways have long worried military strategists.

Their generally poor surfaces were not considered adequate for the needs of highly mobile modern warfare.

Development of smooth roads is expected to help the tourist trade. Many motorists bypass ideal vacation spots because they do not trust many of Spain's secondary roads.

Area Red Cross Aides to Attend Meeting Friday

Mrs. Ruth Spurlock, home service director for Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross will take part in the program for the Group Home Service meeting to be held Friday in Flint.

Oakland County social welfare aides will join aides from other chapters at this meeting.

Mrs. Spurlock will lead the discussion on "anxiety factors affecting servicemen and veterans and their families in day to day living." Other staff members from Oakland County Chapter who will attend are Mrs. Elliott Thorpe of Pontiac and Mrs. Jacolyn Smith of Royal Oak.

Volunteers from the county who will attend are: Mrs. F. C. Ozar, Berkley; Mrs. Joseph E. Kubacka and Mrs. Barrot Mason, Birmingham; Mrs. J. Dale Darling and Mrs. P. J. Richards, Ferndale; The Reverend George Bickley, Home Service Committee, Milford; Mrs. Kenneth T. Rice and Mrs. H. Frank, Oak Park; Mrs. Mark E. Huston, Pleasant Ridge; Harold Brady, Home Service Chairman, Mrs. W. H. Vann and Mrs. Donald Bos.

Old Feed Pours Out From Fire House Roof

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Nostalgia by the bushel poured from the ceiling of fire station 14 when it was reconditioned. About 10 bushels of oats tumbled down when the embossed metal ceiling of the 45-year-old building was ripped off. The grain had sifted down through cracks in the loft floor through the years when the oats were stored there for the fire horses.

Storm Drowns Graham Speech

Thunder Hits Sermon by Evangelist During Paris Crusade

PARIS (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham got some tough competition from the elements last night. A violent thunderstorm nearly drowned out his voice midway through the second meeting of his Paris crusade.

Some of the 6,000 persons gathered in the sprawling Velodrome d'Hiver sports arena for the service hurriedly shifted seats when the rain leaked through the roof at half a dozen points.

The attendance was about 2,500 less than at Sunday's opener in the five-day crusade. But the 37-year-old North Carolina minister said the audience was "much larger than I expected on Monday night."

"I'm glad the rain has come," he told the crowd. "I know you need rain in Paris and I was a farmer once, so I am thankful for the rain."

When he called for decisions for Christ, 356 persons moved forward. Sunday night there were 623.

Two Paris newspapers criticized Graham's platform manner and delivery yesterday but the conservative Le Monde said it would be "unjust and disagreeable" to object to his "American style."

"Billy Graham's technique," Le Monde said, "may shock the sensitivity of European 'intellectuals.' But the fact is that he succeeds. The French Protestants who did not hesitate to bring Billy Graham here, despite certain misgivings, have made no mistake."

Graham's sermons here are translated as he speaks by a French pastor standing beside him.

Expect Lake to Dry Up

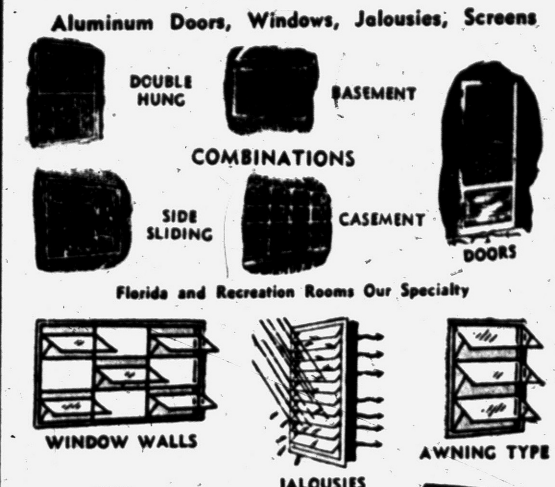

LAWRENCEBURG, Ky. (UP)—The lake on a farm near here probably will be drying up. For years, it was believed an underground spring fed the lake. But recently workmen replacing an old water line discovered the lake's true source: A hole had been drilled in the pipe to assure an ample and free supply of water.

A FRANK STATEMENT ABOUT THE COST OF YOUR AUTO INSURANCE

Everybody likes a bargain. But with so much publicity being given to so-called "bargain rate auto insurance", this company feels you, the general public, and our policyholders, are entitled to know why it offers preferred rates to some motorists—why others pay slightly additional premiums, and why complete protection is the biggest bargain of all for every car owner.

1 ABOUT PREFERRED RATES:

As a motorist you know that some drivers are better risks than others. Just by reading your daily paper, you have probably noted that certain age groups of motorists have more serious accidents than others. Our company, with all the figures at our finger-tips, takes recognition of this difference among drivers and sets its premiums to coincide with the amount of risk involved. (There are several different classifications—but you can easily learn the cost for your car by phoning any of our offices.)

2 ABOUT "BARGAIN RATES":

Since our company is operated solely for the benefit of its policyholders, we charge the lowest rates consistent with what we estimate our claims losses and operating costs may be. Then, earnings are paid back to policyholders—as they have been for 41 years—in the form of cash dividends. Admittedly, our initial costs may be a few dollars more than the cheapest policy. But it takes an accident or a claim to prove whether or not a policy represents a real bargain. So the fact that such a high percentage of our policyholders re-new with this company because they get prompt satisfactory adjustments, merits your consideration over and above slight price differentials.

3 ABOUT COMPLETE PROTECTION:

Auto accidents are expensive these days, and the family that's paying for a home, or raising children, can usually least afford thousands of dollars of losses which may not be covered by their auto insurance. That's why we aim to give you complete protection at a sensible cost, instead of merely a low initial price. For example, less than $2.00 additional, in most cases, provides you with $20,000-$40,000 Public Liability and Property Damage Coverage, instead of the usual "$10,000-$20,000", a far greater margin of protection for your home and savings if you are sued. Each member of your family can receive up to $2,000 hospital and medical expense protection, for all auto accident incurred injuries regardless of who's at fault. Collision insurance may range up to "$300 deductible" for substantial savings on your premium costs.

Additional important features: You get road and touring bureau service without payment of club dues. You may pay for your insurance as you drive—spread your premium costs over five months. You are protected everywhere you drive in the United States and Canada.

Phone today about coverage for your car. We're confident you'll agree that a Michigan Mutual Blue Ribbon Policy is the biggest bargain of all when you know the facts.

Gives Warning to Prospectors

Go Underground When Hunting Uranium, Says Oil Geologist

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Weekend "prospectors" hunting for uranium from the Sierras to New Jersey may be on the wrong track.

Robert A. Stothart, a petroleum geologist who chases radioactive will-o'-the-wisps in search of oil, is convinced that surface deposits of the atom bomb stuff have been pretty well worked over.

"Especially in the Colorado plateau where Charlie Steen made his big stroke," Stothart said. "And even Steen had to go down about 100 feet or so to get to the main vein. At least 95 per cent of our ore potential is underground."

And that means, said Stothart, that Joe Public, who gives up his weekend fishing trip to ramble over hill and dale listening to his Geiger counter for the telltale "click" may have to become a speleologist.

GO UNDERGROUND

That means going underground; more properly, digging around in caves where outcroppings of the deep underground veins of the rock underground veins of "bizz rock" might be found.

Not that some lucky soda clerk with a Geiger or a scintillator can't become another Steen, the once poor geologist who couldn't even afford a Geiger. One fellow recently found some uranium in his own backyard in New Jersey.

"We used to think that this country didn't have too much uranium," said Stothart, but we've found out differently. We're loaded with it and you're apt to find it anywhere."

But Stothart has a word of warning. Everything that "clicks" is not uranium, he said.

"There's always some radioactivity around, especially in large oil fields where there are concentrations of hydrocarbons and gas," he said. "And there are cosmic rays, and any number of radiations that can activate a Geiger."

Besides, he said a Geiger counter can ride right over a load of uranium with never a "beef." With all sorts of rays bombarding it, the counter can be fooled through a foot of rock, 2 feet of water or 3 feet of soil.

"My advice," Stothart said, "is to get underground."

EXODUS FROM EUROPE — While Washington boils in controversy over proposed liberalization of the McCarran-Walter immigration act, to ease relief of refugees, Europeans by the thousands are departing their native shores for greener pastures throughout the world — including the U. S. The 26-nation intergovernmental Committee for European Migration plans to move more than 141,000 Europeans to new homes overseas this year. Map shows distribution of emigrants already moved in the committee's four-year-old history. Australia got the most, followed by the U. S. and Argentina. Inset table shows nationality breakdown of the 1955 program. Of the Italians, about 1,600 will come to the U. S., as will most Germans (21,920) while nearly all the Dutch emigrants will head for Australia.

They Can't Stand Pace

Old Folks' Industry Chief Hopes Business Is Slack

CHICAGO (UP) — The planning executive for a new corporation said today he's not wishing for too much success. His workers can't stand the pace. The corporation is for old folks. It plans to set up small companies manned by persons over 60 with experience in management, design, selling, and other occupations.

"And we don't want any of the companies to be too successful because elderly persons can't stand the strain," said the executive, Joseph Wexman. "That's why many of them retired."

Wexman is chairman of the committee on Senior Achievement Industries, a non-profit corporation organized to provide retired persons with a useful occupation they would enjoy. It was financed partly by the Wieboldt Foundation, and Wexman, a lecturer on business at the University of Chicago, is interested in the problems of the aged.

"We aren't looking for success in the usual sense of the word," Wexman explained. "What we want to do is give retired folks a renewed confidence in society by providing them with a job which will fit their skills and physical energies."

PILOT PROJECTS

The pilot projects, scheduled to get under way in about two months, will be production and sales of ceramic, wood-working and metal products.

The organization hopes to do sub-contract work for big companies.

"We're not looking for efficiency. Most of the several hundred people we've interviewed so far prefer to work only part-time and some will not be on the job regularly," Wexman said.

"You might say we'll try to achieve regularity in production by organizing irregularity."

OLDSTERS AT HELM

Management of the companies wherever possible will be placed with the elderly persons involved.

Senior achievement will provide the rental and equipment for the shops and pay for the elderly workers.

"The pay probably won't be very high, at least not at first," said Wexman, "but pay isn't the major consideration with most of the people we contemplate serving.

"They need to feel they're doing something useful and 'important.'"

However, Dr. David E. Sonquist, executive director of the corporation, said that while the "psychological value of the paycheck can't be underestimated, most retired persons desperately need to supplement their income."

Gas for the Speediest Recovery... the Biggest Savings in WATER HEATING

ONLY GAS HEATS PLENTY OF WATER 3 TIMES FASTER AT LESS COST

- National sales records show an overwhelming preference for automatic gas water-heaters over any other type run by an all-automatic fuel. Gas does a better job... actually replaces hot water 3 times faster.
- An automatic clothes washer (and what modern home doesn't have one, or plan to have one?), definitely needs the speedy recovery of the gas heater.
- More than 75 manufacturers make gas heaters. You can find every type of construction, every sort of tank lining, every product advantage you can think of... in gas.
- Yet automatic gas water-heaters cost less to buy, use and install.

Hold Elections in Five Areas

Troy Voters Cast Ballots Despite Legal Dispute on Incorporation

Registered voters in Troy and Southfield Townships, Bingham Farms, Madison Heights and Commerce Township began visiting the polls today, despite threatening weather and intermittent showers.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday denied the Vickers Corp. restraining order seeking to cancel the Troy vote.

Company officials claimed the area did not meet the 500 person per square mile state requirement. Judge Holland said there was too little time to decide the questions of law and fact in the dispute.

Troy and Southfield voters are deciding on whether they want to incorporate their townships. If the vote is affirmative, a nine-member charter commission on the same ballot will be placed in office.

Madison Heights residents are further along in incorporating. They will be approving or turning down a charter for their new city.

In Bingham Farms, the question is incorporating as a village. The one-square-mile area is in Southfield Township.

Southfield Plan for Summertime Begins July 5

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The township's summer recreation program will begin July 5 for six weeks, director Robert Hall has announced.

Daytime activities will be carried on at Kensington Park, four miles east of Brighton.

The township has been divided into two areas, with Lahser road as the center mark. Children eight years old and older living east of Lahser road will be picked up July 5, and those on the west side on July 6. The two sections will attend alternating days.

School buses will begin the pickups at 9:30 a.m., arriving at the park at 10:30 a.m.

Waterford Concert Scheduled Tonight

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Some 600 sixth graders are scheduled to give their first "Tonette Concert" tonight at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

Francis Mansfield is the director. An instrumental program has been planned by the elementary music teachers, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Tiffany and Bruce Orr, band director.

The junior and senior high school band each will present a few short numbers, and there will be a display of musical instruments in the school cafeteria for prospective band members and their parents.

Former Drayton Man Heads Class at Law College

DRAYTON PLAINS — Former resident Charles Richard Doyle received a degree from the University of Kentucky College of Law recently, and was honored as the top scholar in his class.

Doyle, who received a bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan in 1952 with a certificate in journalism, was editor in chief of the Kentucky Law Journal during the past year.

He graduated from Clarkston High School in 1948, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Doyle, former residents now living in Naples, Fla.

WINNERS RECEIVE TROPHY — Accepting the trophy for outstanding dairy work in Oakland County in 1954 are Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Grayson of Milford. They were selected for the honor by the managers of the Oakland County Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. Making the presentation of the trophy the Pontiac Press donates annually is Press suburban editor Harry Reed. The Graysons were cited for their herd of 20 Holsteins with its record of 13,264 pounds of milk and 469 pounds of butterfat each during the past year.

Level of Living Index Shows Farmer Better Off by One-Third Since 1945

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that farm families are living better than they did in 1954—34 per cent better, to be exact.

The report was based on level-of-living indexes for four key items — percentages of farms with electricity, with telephones, and with automobiles, and the value of products sold from these farms.

The Department said farm levels-of-living have been going up since 1930, the first year for which the indexes are available.

The index increased rapidly during the 1940-1950 period, but has slackened considerably since 1950.

For the country as a whole, the index rose 10 per cent from 1950 through 1954, with much of the increase coming in 1951 and 1952.

The index does not attempt to measure the relative standards of living as between farm and non-farm families. The Department said, however, that "despite substantial increases in the level-of-living of farm-operator families, the purchasing power of farm families on the average in 1954 was still considerably less than that of the non-farm, family."

Vote Edison Service in Metamora Area

METAMORA — Thirty-four affirmative votes were cast yesterday in a special election on allowing the Detroit Edison Co. to supply electricity for public and private use in Metamora Township.

There were no votes opposing the move.

The turnout of the 250 registered voters was meager, even for a special election.

The franchise was approved by the Township Board April 13.

Registration Set for Kindergarten at Williams Lake

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Registration of fall kindergarten pupils of Williams Lake School will be held at the school tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Visiting teacher Freida Huggett, nurse Mrs. Shirley Coe and speech correctionist Mrs. Marjorie Gibson will be on hand for consultation.

Parents have been asked to bring birth certificates showing that the pupils will be five years old by December 1.

Milford School Site Court Case to Open

MILFORD — The jury for condemnation proceedings against land of Major G. J. Largess of Rockville, Md., was selected today and the suit is expected to begin tomorrow before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty.

The tract of land on the North Milford road was chosen to be used for the new Milford high school, after a panel of three citizens appraised the site.

They found the cost should be lower than the price asked, $1,500 to $2,000 per acre.

Residents in the spring election approved a bond issue to finance the $1,250,000 high school, for the 42-acre site. Karl Thrun, Detroit attorney, is representing the Huron Valley School Board.

Mrs. Mehlberg to Head Waterford Church Unit

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Mrs. Henry Mehlberg was elected president of the women's auxiliary of Waterford Community Church at a recent meeting.

Mrs. Ella Shook and Mrs. Fred Bruske were named vice presidents; Mrs. Earl Johnson, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bertha Saylor, treasurer.

Donna Shaw, John Byers Wed in Rochester Rites

ROCHESTER—Donna Jean Shaw became the bride of John S. Byers Saturday in an evening ceremony at the First Congregational Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Shaw of 524 Wilcox St. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Byers of 604 Parkdale St. are the parents of the bridegroom.

A tiara of lace trimmed with pleated nylon held her scalloped, fingertip-length veil of silk illusion.

Her dress had a portrait neckline, with cap lace sleeves, a fitted lace bodice, and a floor-length bouffant skirt.

Mrs. Charles Huddleston, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. June Shaw, Mrs. William Twydell and Mrs. John Raschke were bridesmaids, and Vicki Huddleston was flower girl.

Norman Byers served his brother as best man, and William Twydell, Ronald Pursley and Eugene Byers seated the guests.

The couple will reside in Lake Orion after returning from a two-week trip throguh the western states.

MRS. JOHN S. BYERS

Commencement Exercises Set

Orion, Milford, Dryden, West Bloomfield Seniors to Get Diplomas

Commencement exercises will be held in four Oakland County area high schools tomorrow evening.

Diplomas will be presented to seniors at Milford, Lake Orion, West Bloomfield and Dryden schools.

Milford

Playing of "The Pilgrim" by the high school band, along with the invocation by the Rev. Robert Von Oeyen of the White Lake Presbyterian Church will open the 7:30 p.m. ceremonies at Memorial Field.

"Education for the Good Life," will be the topic of Dr. Clyde M. Campbell. He is the head of the department of educational administration at Michigan State College of Agriculture and Applied Science.

His topic for the 8:15 p.m. ceremony in the school auditorium is "Our Richest Investment."

The Rev. Barney D. Roepcke will pronounce the benediction. Members of the high school glee clubs will sing the new school song.

Dryden

F. K. Killian of Mt. Pleasant College will be the speaker at the evening services tomorrow at the school.

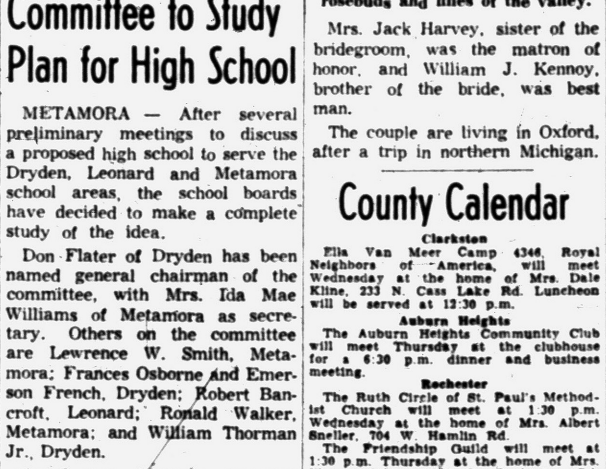

DONALD J. BERGSMA

Former Paper Boy Wins Scholarship

MILFORD—Graduating from the University of Michigan with a degree in architecture, Donald J. Bergsma has been awarded the $1,000 Albert Kahn graduate scholarship. He plans to return to begin work on his masters degree, and will assist in teaching.

A former Pontiac Press carrier, Bergsma received a Regents Alumni scholarship to the University, and held it for five years. The annual renewal is based on high academic standing.

This summer Bergsma plans to tour Europe doing research for his master's degree.

MR. AND MRS. PERRY LEITCH

Jean F. Kennoy Becomes Bride of Perry J. Leitch

MADISON HEIGHTS — Jean Francis Kennoy and Perry John Leitch were united in marriage recently in a double-ring ceremony at the Little Old Fashioned Country Church in Hazel Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kennoy of 26791 Brettonwood. Mrs. Mae Leitch of Oxford and John Leitch of Whittemore are the parents of the bridegroom.

For the ceremony the bride wore a beige linen suit with white accessories. She carried white rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Jack Harvey, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor, and William J. Kennoy, brother of the bride, was best man.

The couple are living in Oxford, after a trip in northern Michigan.

Romeo Planning Mock Disaster

All-Out Civil Defense Village Alert Scheduled for June 15

ROMEO — June 15 is the date set for an all-out village alert by members of the Romeo Civil Defense Board.

A preliminary briefing of volunteers is scheduled for June 13 at the village Fire Hall.

The Romeo alert is being staged to acquaint local citizens with protective measures needed during mock disaster conditions. It is timed to coincide with an all-out civil defense alert in Detroit this month.

The need for volunteer defensemen, including wardens, auxiliary police and firemen, is still acute, according to local Civil Defense Director Maurice Foltz.

FOUR AREAS COVERED

Foltz explained that a practice alert had been carried out on May 18, covering the same four specific areas to be included in the June 15 alert.

The permanent district headquarters of the areas include the Vocational Agriculture Building in the northwest part of the village; Verellen Electric Co. in the northeast corner; the Free Methodist Church in the southeast section; and the Community Schools bus garage in the southwest portion of the village.

Operations will be set up so that dispatches received from the central headquarters at the police station in downtown Romeo are relayed to district wardens.

Messages will be received by a two-way radio unit in a fire engine or police car stationed at each of the four specified district headquarters.

Volunteer police, firemen and auxiliary personnel then will swing into action and travel to other parts of the village to combat mock fires, treat the "injured" and carry out other phases of the planning alert.

Frances Graves, Howard M. Dues Wed at Keego

KEEGO HARBOR — Frances J. Graves and Howard M. Dues exchanged wedding vows recently in the Trinity Methodist Church.

For the evening rites, the bride wore a white satin gown overlaid with lace, and short train. The dress had long sleeves and a square neckline.

Mr and Mrs. William Graves of Keego Harbor are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dues.

Sister of the bride Patricia Graves was the maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Margo, was flower girl.

Brother of the bridegroom Donald Dues was best man, and Ronald Brown and Charles Graves were ushers.

Rail Settlement Plan Submitted

Trades Union Group in Britain Offers First Hope of Strike Break

LONDON (AP) —A compromise peace plan was submitted today to leaders of rival unions involved in Britain's nationwide railroad strike.

The truce proposal, hammered out by the General Council of the powerful Trades Union Congress, appeared to offer the first hope of a break since the costly rail stoppage began 10 days ago.

Stalemates continued in two other walkouts shaking the nation's economy. With the rail strike, they formed Britain's most serious labor crisis since the general strike of 1926.

Marine stewards in Liverpool and Southampton threatened to widen a wildcat strike which has idled six liners, stranding 2,500 America - bound passengers in British ports. The Cunard Lines canceled round-trip voyages of three of the vessels, ruining vacation schedules of thousands of dollar-spending tourists waiting passage to Europe in the United States and Canada.

On the third strike front, leaders of 20,000 stevedores whose 17-day stoppage has piled up cargoes in seven ports said they saw no prospect of an early return to work.

The rail peace plan turned over to officials of three unions this morning would require ground giving by all parties, including Prime Minister Eden.

'Outstanding Man' Dropped by Police

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP) — Texas J. Foster, named one of the nation's 10 outstanding young men by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1952, has been suspended from the Houston police force.

Police Chief Jack Heard said the 29 - year - old policeman was suspended indefinitely for "conduct unbecoming an officer." Foster said he will appeal to the city Civil Service Board.

He was honored by the Junior Chamber for his undercover narcotics investigation among Texas teen-agers.

Heard relieved Foster after a fellow officer was wounded slightly in a shooting at a woman's home. Foster said the shooting was accidental. Heard quoted the officers that they had been drinking and the shooting climaxed horseplay during a social call.

Yale Alumni Club Fined for Raffle

SIMSBURY, Conn. (AP)—A town justice fined a Yale alumni club $50 last night for running a raffle and said its members should have known better than to break the law.

The raffle was held at a scholarship fund-raising outing here last month, and the winner of a new car was retired Connecticut Supreme Court Justice William M. Maltbie—who 17 years ago upheld a state law banning raffles.

Trial Justice Francis J. Gallagher fined the Yale Club of Hartford after its officers pleaded no contest. Gallagher said he wasn't highly in favor of the law but:

"Volunteer fire companies and church groups had to give up using lotteries because of this law. Now we have a well-educated group of men . . . Undoubtedly many of them realized that this was a violation of the law. It's on the books and has to be enforced."

Nothing Like a Man Who Follows Directions

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Where's the hospital?" Michael Toth asked a bystander.

"Just keep walking straight ahead."

Toth did—smack into the Ohio River.

Fished out by police, Toth, 48, was charged with drunkenness and breach of peace.

Road Fishermen 'Catch' More Than the Limit

LAKEWOOD, N. J. (AP) — Police Lt. Thomas H. Woods and Charles Fritzsche, both of Cranford, were fined $20 each for "taking" one more than the legal limit of eight trout in an unusual fishing exploit here May 25.

William L. Jeschke, state fish and game division warden, testified he was stocking the Metedeconk River, which crosses Route 9, with trout when some of the fish jumped out of the truck and onto the highway.

Woods and Fritzsche, who had been fishing the stream, did what anyone else might have done. They transferred their efforts from stream to highway.

However, said Heschke, they "picked up" more than the legal limit.

The next meeting will be held Thursday at the Lake Angelus home of Mrs. Ada Evans.

Turn Your Trouble Into a Payoff

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Emerson says that a shadow is just as much proof of the sun's existence as a sunbeam.

We might add that a personal disadvantage is often just as valuable, vocationally, as a personal advantage.

FROM THE OLD SCHOOL

"I'm from the old school," she told me. "I married young and raised a big family on a farm.

"I never had any education or training to speak of. The only things I know how to do are the simple old-fashioned things.

"After my husband died and my children were all married, I used to sit in my little cottage and try to figure out something to do.

"I was sick and tired of hearing everybody say how sweet and old fashioned I am!

NOT ENOUGH FOR EXTRAS

"While I had enough to live on and owned my little house, I certainly didn't have any money for extras.

"Of course, when my children began to have babies, I wanted to give them presents—nice presents—the kind I couldn't afford.

"One day I had a brainstorm. I got out my old quilting frame and made a perfectly darling crib quilt for my newest granddaughter.

"It had her initials and a scene from a nursery rhyme. Her parents just adored it.

"I continued to make them, as all the grandchildren came along. And everybody said, 'How quaint and old-fashioned'!"

Mrs. T. G. grinned, then paused; you could see she was groping for a word.

"But there's nothing quaint and old-fashioned about — about the—payoff! That's the expression, isn't it?"

I said yes; that was indeed the expression.

"You see," she continued, "my children's friends began asking me to make crib quilts for their children and paid for them very handsomely indeed.

"And now a nice infants' store stocks them and takes orders. I have my hands full.

"I even have a couple of students, women who pay me to teach them quilting!"

Next time you are wondering what you can do, what kind of project to turn your hands to, make a list of the adjectives people use about you.

When anyone says, "The trouble with you is—" maybe that very trouble could be turned into a payoff!

DONALD W. DANCEY

Graduating tonight from Lawrence Institute of Technology with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering will be Donald W. Dancey. He resides with his wife and son on East Cornell avenue, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Dancey of Voorheis road. The commencement exercises will take place at the Detroit Masonic Temple.

LEO MODZINSKI

One of the 159 graduates who received diplomas Monday from Detroit Institute of Technology was Leo Modzinski, son of Mrs. Robert Modzinski of Wall street. He was given the AZO award for having the highest grades among the membership. Commencement exercises were held at Scottish Rite Cathedral of the Masonic Temple.

Booster Class Has Election of Officers

Elected president of the Booster Class of First Methodist Church was Raymond Blevens. Rounding out the slate are Mrs. Peter Jensen, vice president; Mrs. Perry Ruffing, secretary, and Mrs. John Rowley, treasurer.

Hosts for the recent meeting at the church were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ruffing and Mrs. Edna Warden.

A picnic will be held at the Rowley home on June 25.

Press Gives Suggestions for Brides

The Pontiac Press Women's Department has prepared several suggestions for prospective brides in order to assure them of a complete and timely wedding story.

As an aid to prompt, accurate and complete information, wedding forms will be mailed upon request. They are also being sent to those who have announced their engagements in the Pontiac Press.

The wedding blank should be returned at least two days before the wedding as this amount of time is needed for handling such detailed stories.

Those received more than three days after a wedding will not carry details of reception and costumes.

BILLIE JEAN HOBOLTH

To receive a bachelor of science degree from Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Monday is Billie J. Hoboth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoboth of Mae court.

While it is not always possible to provide the picture with the wedding information, brides are asked to note that the picture cannot be used unless it is ready for publication by the third day after the wedding.

Pictures should be black and white glossy prints, as colored or sepia pictures will not reproduce well.

Couple is Wed

Mr. and Mrs Clyde Keiser of Edmund court announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty June, to Victor E. Clevenger of Grand Junction, Colo. The couple was wed May 30 at Aztec, N. M.

Wayside Gleaners Hear Mrs. Stewart

Mrs. Hildah Stewart of Detroit was principal speaker at a recent meeting of the Wayside Gleaners of First Baptist Church. She told of the work of the Detroit Protestant Youth Organization.

Mrs. Harry Newhouse presented the devotional message from the 23rd Psalm.

Mrs. T. N. Slosson sang accompanied by Mrs. H. L. Stout. Mrs. Cora Dennis was hostess for the day.

For Shell-Like Ears

Shell-like ears are a product of care. Since ears are a repository for face powder and hair oils, dip a cotton-tipped swab into warm, soapy water and apply it gently to ear crevices.

Bonnie Mitchell Honored

The third shower has been given for bride-elect Bonnie Mitchell, with Mrs. N. J. Hoffman of Lake Angelus as hostess.

Bonnie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Mitchell of Watkins Lake, will become the bride of James A. Attard on June 18. His parents are the George Attards of Drayton Plains.

Mrs. Hoffman decorated her lace-covered serving table with a bridal doll, on either side of which were lighted tapers.

Guests invited were Mrs. Attard and Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. William Archambeau, Mrs. Dorothy Bradley, Mrs. Mae Archambeau, Mrs. L. L. Schiefler, Mrs. Claude Bragg, Mrs. Kenneth Berdan, Mrs. Dorothy Gritzke and Mrs. Roberta Robertson.

Others were Mrs. Ralph Haney, Mrs. Andy Kulich, Mrs. Albert Barnett, Mrs. Lloyd Mountain, Lynn Ann Green, Mrs. Carl Terry, Mrs. Al Snyder, Mrs. Alvin Green, Mrs. John Boston, Marion Boston and Mrs. Lucille Smith.

Pat Owens, Sandy Brown and Pat Fawcett, three of the four attendants to be in Bonnie's bridal party, also attended the recent personal shower.

Pictured at the annual dinner meeting of the Pontiac Civitan Club at Devon Gables Saturday night are Philip J. Wargelin, past governor of the Great Lakes District, and a local member; Roy M. Abagnale, president of Civitan International, and Ernest Huthwaite, past president of the local club and toastmaster at the affair. The event was attended by 130 members and their wives.

She's Growing Tired of Just Being Engaged

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My boy friend proposed to me about six months ago but didn't make it official by giving me a ring.

"Now the news seems to have worn off and the subject of marriage isn't even mentioned.

"I'm deeply in love with him and I'm sure he loves me.

"I'd like to start making some definite plans, but how am I going to go about bringing up the subject without sounding too eager or overly possessive?"

Answer: You can go nostalgic: Remind him of the night when he proposed to you.

Go into how you felt, how scared you were that you were making the right decision, but how you've lived down that fright by this time, and how sure you are that you'd be happy together. Get really sentimental about it.

That will get him started. He will either admit that he spoke hastily six months ago, or he'll get sentimental, too.

You can go businesslike: Ask really serious questions about his job and his prospects. Get onto the subject of how much money it takes to get married. That would force his hand and prompt him to get a bit definite.

You can get ambitious: Look into a job, or some courses of study, in a distant city and stir up a lot of enthusiasm over going away to work. Ask him his advice. How would he feel if you left town for a while?

If he thinks you really mean it, the idea of separation may make him declare himself.

You can go domestic: Instead of just being a glamorous date whose homework is always kept carefully behind scenes, let him in on your cooking act, your sewing, your marketing, your redecorating.

Let him see the potential solid substance that will make you a good wife. It might turn the tide.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Since we started dating in January our dates have been exactly three weeks apart.

"I told him how much I cared for him on our last date and expected that we'd date more frequently because I spoke up. But, no.

"He expects to be drafted any day, but should that stop us from being serious?

"Though we work together, we live inconveniently far apart. Should that hold him back from dating me a lot and from wanting an understanding with me?

"Naturally I can't ask him his reasons and I can't force him, but isn't there a subtle opening I can give him?"

Answer: How can your young man allow himself to get seriously involved and to make plans for the future when the future looks all vague, uncertain and blurred to him?

The prospect of the draft does that to young men. But a cozy mood can produce his ideas about his future, his ambitions, his hopes.

It will tip you off as to how you fit, if at all, into the picture.

To reside on South Jessie street are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Godfrey. She is the former LaDon L. Schatz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schatz of Milford. He is the son of the Glenn Godfreys of South Jessie street.

MR. and MRS. CLIFFORD GODFREY

Newlyweds Travel North

Honeymooning on Mackinac Island and at Sault Ste. Marie are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Godfrey.

The bride is the former LaDon L. Schatz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schatz, of Milford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Godfrey of South Jessie street.

The Rev. Wesley Wibley performed the Friday ceremony at First Assembly of God.

A ballerina-length gown of nylon lace over taffeta was worn by the bride. Her veil was secured by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on a satin prayerbook.

Maxine Godfrey wore a light blue gown of tulle and lace, fashioned like the bride's, for her duties as maid of honor. She carried pink roses and blue carnations.

DRESSED IN PINK

Debbie Newton, niece of the bride, was flower girl wearing a pale pink embroidered nylon dress. She carried a basket filled with pink larkspur and blue delphinium. Kirk Heathman, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Lloyd Bray served as best man, and seating the guests were Fred Newton and Joe Cadwallader.

A reception was held at Knights of Pythias Hall. Both mothers chose blue lace dresses with white accessories.

A light blue cotton dress with white accessories was worn by the bride for the wedding trip. The couple will reside on South Jessie street.

Man Says Shirts Look No Worse Than do Jackets

By EMILY POST

A man writes: "I read your column every day and agree with 99 per cent of your answers, but I disagree, very definitely, with you when you say that it is perfectly proper for a woman to remove the jacket of her suit while a man must keep his on even in torrid weather.

"You say that a woman's blouse is made to be seen and a man's shirt is not so intended.

"I have often wondered how such a misconception was ever established in the public mind.

"I think that a man's shirt with a neat tie is so much neater than a woman's blouse. I have seen so many women's blouses that were messy, sloppy and altogether too revealing.

"One type particularly offensive is the very sheer blouse that reveals the unsightly straps of undergarments.

"A man never commits such bad taste. A woman is shocked if a man doesn't wear a coat yet that same woman will wear a very revealing blouse. Does it make sense?

"I hope that after reading this letter you will change your mind about the 'coatless man.'"

Answer: When I said that it was proper for a woman to remove her jacket, I was not referring to the scanty "see-through" blouses, and I agree with you that with this type of blouse the jacket should be left on.

But as a rule a woman's blouse is quite lovely and in no way compares to a man's shirt.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man is asked to join two women friends who are already lunching, must he feel obliged to pay their checks? I mean, could he be considered "cheap" if he made no attempt to do this?"

Answer: It is not his obligation to pay their checks and I can't imagine that they would consider him cheap for not doing so.

Richard E. Roberts claimed Thelma L. Collins as his bride Saturday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aldin H. Collins of Maplewood avenue and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Roberts of Keego Harbor.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD E. ROBERTS

Thelma L. Collins Speaks Vows at Orchard Lake

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Roberts. The bride is the former Thelma L. Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aldin H. Collins of Maplewood avenue.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Roberts of Keego Harbor.

Orchard Lake Community Presbyterian Church was the setting for the 7 o'clock ceremony performed Saturday evening by the Rev. Barney Roepcke.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. The molded lace bodice blended into a wing waist and cascaded on either side in ruffled net to a ballerina-length skirt.

The bateau neckline was filled with illusion and featured a tiny Queen Anne lace collar. The long sleeves ended in points at her wrists.

A tiara of sequins and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations and roses, centered with an orchid.

ATTENDED SISTER

Mrs. Donald Benefield of Jackson attended her sister as matron of honor and Mrs. John D. Mofield was another attendant.

The matron of honor wore a mauve gown of crystalette in princess style, designed with accordion-pleated trim and bateau neckline.

Pleating was also blended into the ballerina-length skirt and a bow was fashioned at the waist of the gown. Leaves and flowers formed her headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of tinted carnations.

Mrs. Mofield wore a light green gown of net over taffeta with matching jacket. Her headpiece and bouquet were similar to the matron of honor's.

Donald Roberts of Keego Harbor was best man, and seating the guests was Albert Falkner.

RECEPTION AT HOME

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Collins wore a light blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

A light blue chiffon dress with pink accessories and a rose corsage was worn by Mrs. Roberts.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Collins was wearing a gray suit with white accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will reside in Commerce.

Green Lake Club Will Meet Monday

The Green Lake Women's Club will meet Monday in Green Lake Community House at 12:30 p.m. Following the luncheon those present will be enlightened on the subject of horticultural therapy by Kathryn K. Hopkins.

Members of the club will celebrate its birthday and will also elect officers. Tables will be decorated to represent the different seasons of the year.

Hostesses for the month are Mrs. Martin Karcher, Mrs. Stanley Mayes, Mrs. Ray Ridge and Mrs. Jack Van Coevering.

India batik prints are pretty for summer in brilliant colors: scarlet, spice, aqua, royal.

Buckwheat Gives Bread New Twist

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

An unusual hot bread is always welcome, expecially in summer when it can play a large part in a menu. Served with a big salad, such a bread makes the meal. Mrs. LaVerne B. Gardner of Clarkston calls her bread Corn Jo Joes.

The Gardners are fairly new residents of Clarkston, having moved there from Birmingham less than a year ago. Two preschoolers and a high school age son keep Mrs. Gardner busy. She belongs to a VFW Auxiliary.

Her hobbies include gardening, canning, trying out new recipes, embroidering and crocheting rugs. Last winter she crocheted 7 rugs in two months!

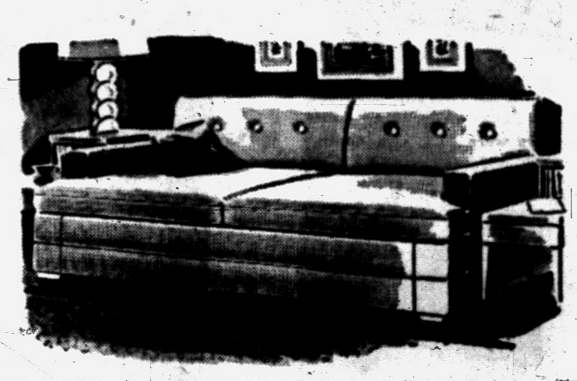

CORN JO JOES

By Mrs. LaVerne B. Gardner

3 eggs
½ cup milk
½ cup buckwheat pancake flour
1 teaspoon melted butter or margarine
1 cup drained whole kernel corn

Beat eggs; add rest of ingredients and mix well. Turn into a greased frying pan or greased baking pan. If cooked on top of the stove, treat like a huge pancake, turning once. If baked in a shallow pan, bake 12-15 minutes in a 375-degree oven; a deeper pan will require 20-25 minutes at the same temperature. Serve with pork sausages or fried eggs.

Will Garbo Be Remembered Because of Some Man?

By JOHN BAINBRIDGE

Back in the days when Garbo's sublime face was adorning movie screens around the globe there were few who doubted that the greatest beauty of her age was destined to take her place in history alongside Helen of Troy, Cleopatra, Salome, Madame Pompadour, Ninon de Lenclos and the other legendary circles.

A few dissidents there were, however. Among them was Clare Boothe, who was herself to give history something to think about as she went on to become the wife of Henry R. Luce, a playwright, actress, congresswoman and ambassador.

In the early thirties, Mrs. Luce was a toiler in the journalistic vineyards, being editor of Vanity Fair, and evidently felt the need to devote her talents to a consideration of one of the most delightfully pressing questions of the day: how the future would reckon with Greta Garbo.

Speculating on the matter in 1932, Mrs. Luce readily acknowledged that Garbo was the one and only beautiful woman produced by the twentieth century who might wind up in the company of Helen, Cleopatra and the other lively charmers.

But as she peered into the future Mrs. Luce saw a hitch.

"The only way a woman can gloriously succeed in impressing herself upon her age—the way of love—Garbo has, until now, failed in," she wrote, and further observed:

"History has never reserved a place for a beautiful woman who did not love, or who was not loved by at least one interesting, powerful or brilliant man. . . . When we speak of Helen, we speak in the next breath of Menelaus, of Paris.

"Pompadour reminds us of Louis Quinze. . . . Cleopatra had her Caesar, and Mark Anthony had Cleopatra.

"Is the most magnetic woman of her generation, the greatest beauty of her era, to be remembered because her name was 'associated with' John Gilbert's?"

During the twenty-three years that have passed since that question was posed, Garbo's name has been "associated with" a number of other men. Whether any of them has the stature of a Caesar only history, perhaps, will reveal.

TWO FRIENDSHIPS LAST

Of the friendships that Garbo has formed during the years of her retirement the two that have lasted longest and therefore perhaps have meant the most to her have been with George Schlee and Baron Rothschild.

The Baron, a worldly man of extensive means, is sixty-one, tall, white-haired and distinguished in appearance. He has impeccable manners, fastidious tastes and, like Garbo, total leisure.

In New York, Garbo and Rothschild take long walks together in Central Park, dine at expensive restaurants, go shopping, visit art exhibitions and otherwise pleasantly while away the hours.

Gaylord Hauser was the unwitting matchmaker in bringing about Garbo's friendship with George Schlee, which is of considerably longer duration than her relationship with Rothschild.

As part of his energetic program to make Garbo look younger and live longer and be happier and healthier, Hauser aroused her interest in clothes and arranged for a friend to accompany her to the salon of Valentina, the famous and expensive couturiere, to select a wardrobe.

Schlee is Valentina's husband and business partner. As a consequence of Garbo's visit, Valentina and Schlee became very good friends with their new customer, and as time passed Garbo and Schlee became very good friends.

The design for living that Garbo, Schlee and Valentina have worked out over the past eight years or so has naturally commanded the admiring interest of their mutual friends.

In the beginning of his friendship with Garbo, they say, Schlee told his wife with Continental aplomb, "I love her, but I'm quite sure she won't want to get married. And you and I have so much in common."

Valentina is said privately to consider the arrangement far short of ideal and, being Russian, to have spoken dramatically of entering a convent.

However, thanks to her not inconsiderable talents as an actress, she manages to appear outwardly unruffled.

Returning from Europe in 1946, Garbo was asked by reporters about her plans for the future. "I have no plans," she said, "not for the movies, not for the stage, not for anything, and I haven't even got a place to live. I'm sort of drifting."

It was an astonishingly frank answer and pathetically honest. For it would be hard to find a phase to describe Garbo's existence since leaving motion pictures more apt than "sort of drifting"—or more pensive.

In recent years Garbo has made her headquarters mostly in New York. "How do you spend your time in New York?" a European friend asked Garbo not long ago.

"Oh," she replied, "sometimes I put on my coat at ten in the morning and go out and follow people. I just go where they're going. I mill around."

Though Garbo's wanderings about New York follow no charted course, she has certain more or less regular ports of call.

On an average of once a week she makes a trip to the Parke-Bernet Galleries, where she leisurely inspects the furniture, silver and objects d'art that are offered for auction each Saturday.

Garbo has never, in the memory of one veteran member of the staff, bought anything. For Garbo, being with people is pleasant, in visiting the galleries is a way of teresting and undemanding circumstances.

BROWSES ON THIRD AVENUE

Garbo is also a not unfamiliar figure on Third Avenue, where she goes to browse in the antique shops.

The shopkeepers have learned that she likes to be let alone as she wanders about by the hour, looking at this, picking up that and occasionally asking the price of something.

Her purchases are extremely infrequent; until recently, about all she ever bought were a few small ceramic, brass or wooden cupids; lately for her new apartment she has bought some eighteen century furniture.

Garbo's days are not always spent in a solitary manner. She may very well lunch at the Colony with George Schlee and the John Gunthers or with Baron Rothschild at Maud Chez Elle, a superb, very expensive restaurant on Second avenue.

Once in a while in the afternoon she may drop in at the Museum of Modern Art to have tea with her bachelor friend Allen Porter. Or she may stop by the apartment of one of her women friends.

She never calls ahead of time (she has always been loath to make an appointment for much more than an hour in advance), and she departs as abruptly as she arrives.

GOES OUT SOCIALLY

With Schlee or Rothschild as her escort Garbo goes out a good deal socially in the evenings, sufficiently often so that a man who met her at three different parties within a period of two weeks was prompted to describe her as "a hermit about town."

At large social affairs, such, for example, as those she attends in the city and country homes of Fleur and Gardner Cowles and Maud and Eustace Seligman, Garbo gives the appearance of being at ease and even of enjoying herself.

With an individual person Garbo can carry on a conversation, especially on an uncomplicated subject like travel, without showing the intense discomfiture that used to plague her, but she participates very little in general conversation among a number of people.

The few remarks she makes are confined as a rule to very brief side comments on the subject under discussion.

These utterances, which often seem to stem from free association of ideas, sometimes make a considerable impression and have an effect perhaps different from what Garbo intended.

She once attended a dinner party at which another guest was Mrs. Harry Ginsberg, wife of a motion picture executive, who came to the party alone because her husband was out of town on business.

During dinner, Albert Einstein was being discussed in some connection. "Speaking of Mr. Einstein," Garbo said in a conversational lull, "where is Mr. Gisberg?"

For some reason, this was taken as a hilarious bon mot. The other guests were convulsed. Garbo laughed a little too.

Her intuition, which is a never ending source of wonder to her friends, is probably her greatest social asset.

SO DAYS PASS

And so the days pass and Garbo drifts and her friends deplore her prodigal squandering of the precious hours on her tiny, unmeaningful pursuits.

"There is not enough time for anyone to fulfill the purpose of one's life," a venerable actress has said. "But Greta does nothing.

"She just throws away her days. She always talks about her last picture as her grave, and that is so foolish."

"Every artist is bound to have successes and failures. One success out of three is a good record. And she had but one failure in her whole life. It is almost criminal. She could have been doing such beautiful things all these years."

The script of Garbo's life would have had a different, though no happier, finale if she had been able to allow herself to be molded into the standardized Hollywood product, sharing her life with the crowd, endorsing soaps and cigarettes, showing herself in public to drum up trade for her pictures and giving interviews to ears that long only to hear serialized love confessions.

Garbo did none of that. She did nothing that was second-rate. She had dignity and nobility, and she had genius.

Like so many great actresses, she may never have possessed a particle of intellectual power, but she had genius before the camera because she was guided by a secret, sublime, infallible instinct to do the right thing in the right way.

LEGEND PASSED ON

The beauty of Garbo, her genius, her mystery, her magic and undefinable charm make up her unconquerable legend. Already it is being passed on to another generation.

A new crop of imaginative, intellectual young men and women has joyously taken up the perpetuation of the most beautiful and exciting figure of her age.

One of the most gifted of the latter-day spinners of the legend is Kenneth Tynan, at twenty-seven the drama critic of the London Observer and enfant terrible of British dramatic criticism.

Though Tynan was in swaddling clothes when Garbo was enchanting audiences in Flesh and the Devil, he recently met her and published a tribute no less rhapsodic than any written a quarter of a century ago.

It begins: "What, when drunk, one sees in other women, one sees in Garbo sober."

The legend of Garbo will live on.

Artificial Rain Still in Experimental Stage

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the lingo of weather forecasting, the outlook as to whether man can tinker with the weather on a practical, economic scale "is still unsettled."

That's the present summary from officials of the government's "Advisory Committee on Weather Control," which for almost a year has been seeking to evaluate commercial projects and laboratory and field experiments in the realm of artificial rainmaking—or "rain increasing" as the committee prefers to call it.

Charles Gardner Jr., executive secretary of the committee, also says:

"We are not pessimistic that there's no chance of definite evidence being established that so-called rainmaking is capable of being applied on a scale of economic importance to the nation in terms of increased hydroelectric production, additional agricultural production, increased grazing land yield, and other industrial and municipal benefits.

"What we are saying at this stage of our investigations is that while we have firm opinions from both responsible operators in the commercial field and from some scientists that economically significant increases in rainfall are possible by artificial means, definite, scientific proof has not yet been established one way or the other."

Gardner says the committee expects to have "reasonable definite and positive answers" for Congress about a year from now.

The committee was set up more than a year ago under instructions from Congress to:

1. Determine whether public and private experiments strengthen possibilities for large-scale weather modification and control.

2. Recommend whether the government itself should experiment with, engage in or regulate weather control activities.

Gardner says the hope for getting answers lies in these activities of the committee:

1. Development of new, faster and more precise methods of tabulating results of rainmaking experiments.

2. Development of radar and other techniques for actually following the atmospheric action of silver iodide, the substance chiefly used in rainmaking efforts.

All such projects of the committee are under the general direction of its chairman, retired Navy Capt. Howard T. Orville, now a consultant to the Bendix Aviation Corp., Baltimore.

The committee, aided by a number of consulting scientists, is made up of officials of six government departments, including Defense, as well as five civilians.

Gardner says that while experiments in rainmaking started almost nine years ago, "we do not have answers to some very basic and seemingly simple questions about the commercial-type operations."

He says that when the advisory committe first tackled its evaluating job almost a year ago, some experimenters felt that increases in rainfall, through artificial cloud-seding, could average between 50 and 100 per cent.

But the committee feels today, he said, that if evidence is really obtained that rainmaking is achievable on a practical scale, the average increase will probably be shown to be "not be higher than 30 per cent."

"But increases of the magnitude of 5 per cent or 10 per cent," he said, "can produce consequences of tremendous significance to the economy of the nation."

"We figure that increases of 20 per cent or more may very easily produce benefit-cost ratios running up to 300 to 1 which is, of course, very far in excess of any benefit-cost ratio which can be anticipated for any ordinary water-resources development or conservation project."

PRESENTS KEY — Jacob Kovinsky, building committee chairman of the new Temple Beth Jacob on Elizabeth Lake Road, is shown presenting the key to the beautiful new structure to Harold Goldberg, president of the Temple. The building is to be dedicated this weekend during 3-day ceremonies Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Temple Beth Jacob Dedication Planned

The dedication this weekend of the magnificent Temple Beth Jacob on Elizabeth Lake Rd. between Thorpe and Mark Streets will see the realization of a dream that has been cherished in the hearts of the Jewish people of Pontiac for more than 30 years.

The new Temple is the culmination of years of planning, hard work and sacrifice. This beautiful House of God is a shining tribute to their efforts and a credit to the city of Pontiac.

The dream goes back to the year 1918 when the original congregation, then only 20 families strong, met in the armory on Water St. under the presidency of the late Sidney Netzorg to hold services conducted by visiting student rabbis.

Services were held every Friday night and in 1923 the congregation purchased the property at 164 Orchard Lake Ave. where dedication services were held in May of the following year.

The first permanent rabbi, Rabbi Elmer Berger, graduate of Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio, occupied the pulpit in 1923, followed by Rabbi Eric Friedland, who served until 1944 when he joined the armed services as a chaplain. An addition was built in 1938 to house a Sunday school room and recreation hall. Dr. Davin Schoenburger replaced Rabbi Friedland while he was in the service.

In 1943, the inadequacy of the facilities was recognized and plans were made for the new temple building.

When Rabbi Friedland left for a larger congregation in Chicago, he was replaced by Rabbi Milton Rosenbaum now of Fort Worth, Tex. Three years later Rabbi Sanford Saperstein, the present rabbi, took the pulpit.

All these years, the dream was gathering momentum and, after the war, a planning committee was set up under the chairmanship of Harold Goldberg. The entire congregation pitched in and worked diligently on the building fund drive and finally, in May of 1952, the cornerstone for the new structure was laid.

The dedication services this week represent a great victory for every member of the congregation which now numbers 166.

On Sunday afternoon, from 2 until 5 o'clock, everyone is invited to attend the open house and tour the new building.

Committee members follow:

Steering committee—Julian Levine, chairman; Dr. Sam Chafets, co-chairman; Rabbi Saperstein, Mrs. Herman Dickstein, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goldberg, Dr. Irving Gordon, Mrs. Julian Levine and Mrs. Irving Steinman.

Polio Victim to Get Medical Degree

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Among those standing up to receive their doctor of medicine degrees at Marquette University tomorrow will be one in a brace.

The diploma will read: Dr. Donna M. Barras. And this young lady, who came from Sault Ste. Marie, plans to devote the rest of her life to pediatric orthopedic surgery—in short, to correcting polio caused deformities such as hers.

Miss Barras was stricken when she was 9 months old, and now at 24 she says: "I would like to help kids who have been afflicted much like myself."

Miss Barras is a native of Calumet, the daughter of Levi Barris, now of Flint, and Mrs. Marion L. Barras, with whom the daughter has made her home in Milwaukee in recent years. The family moved to the Soo when Donna was only 3 months old.

Donna's grades in Loretto High School at Sault Ste. Marie won her a scholarship to the Soo Branch of Michigan Tech. In five of her six terms at Tech, Donna had the highest grades of anyone.

In her third pre-med year at Marquette she made the president's honor roll with a straight A average. In 1951, her first in Marquette's school of Medicine, she had the highest freshman scholastic average.

IN WHO'S WHO

She modestly concedes she has "continued to do well" and she is in the 1954-55 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Donna's collegiate career hasn't been confined to the classroom.

From May through August, 1951, she underwent a series of corrective operations performed by Dr. Walter P. Blunt, president of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

And she has found time for such extra-curricular activities as being secretary of the women's student council and medical sorority representative on the inter-sorority council. She also has been active in the Student American Medical Assn.; Alpha Epsilon Iota, Women's Professional Medical Fraternity; Gamma Phi Epsilon, Women's Honor Society, and Alpha Omega Alpha, medical honor society.

Starting July 1, Dr. Barras will begin a year's internship at Los Angeles County (Calif.) Hospital. After that she plans to take a residency in orthopedic surgery and become a specialist.

Some have expressed wonder whether Donna would be able to take the physical exertion required of a physician-surgeon. Her reply is:

"Well, I can and have. I've never considered my brace a handicap. As a matter of fact it may be a blessing in disguise—because it led me into a fascinating way of life in medicine and has been instrumental in helping me decide my future in orthopedic surgery."

Ex-Power Magnate, Harley Clarke, Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Harley L. Clarke, 73, former president of the 400 million dollar Utilities Power and Light Corp., from which he resigned in 1936, and also once prominent in motion picture and real estate enterprises, died Friday, it was dicslosed yesterday.

The onetime utilities magnate had a spectacular career in finance and his utilities power and light held direct control of 50 subsidiary companies. The firm which he founded before World War I spread into more than 500 cities in the British Isles, four Canadian provinces and the United States.

Marine Stabs Sailor Found With His Wife

HONOLULU (AP)—Police charged a Marine last night with bayoneting a mainland sailor when he found his bride in the sailor's arms.

Detective Lt. C. D. Honan said a charge of assault and battery with a deadly weapon was filed against Marine Pfc. Clyde C. Denmark, 24, of Honolulu. Tripler Army Hospital identified the sailor as James H. Lott, 22. The Navy said he comes from Columbus, Ga.

Melva Denmark, the bride, plays a viola in a downtown bar. She and Denmark were married March 17.

Jap Army Hoards Too

TOKYO (AP)—Now it's the Japanese army that is under attack for being wasteful. The newspaper Nihon Keizai said today the armed has "hoarded" enough winter uniforms to last for 10 years at the present rate of use.

PONTIAC PHYSICIAN HONORED — Bishop John Donovan of Detroit (second from left), congratulates Dr. Edwin Dobski of Pontiac after conferring upon him the Fidelitas Medal, an award presented annually to an outstanding American Catholic of Polish descent for "fidelity in serving God and country through the realization of the religious and cultural ideals of our forefathers." The ceremony took place at St. Mary's College 66th annual commencement exercises held at Orchard Lake Sunday. At left, above, is Msgr. Edward Szumal, president of St. Mary's, while Mrs. Dobski and children, Robert and Deborah, are at right.

Court Order Granted Against Credit Firm

HOUSTON (AP)—A Houston firm, claiming its six telephone lines were tied up all day, obtained a temporary restraining order against a nationwide credit clothing firm.

A petition filed yesterday by Horton & Horton, sheil and sand dealer, alleged representatives of Lane's credit clothiers tied up the six telephone lines while trying to collect a debt from one of the Horton firm's employes.

Horton seeks a permanent injunction to prohibit "harassment" and damages totaling $15,000 for business lost May 31.

Civil War Cannon Gone

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. (UP)—William Smela, a gun collector, reported to police yesterday that someone stole a Civil War cannon from the front lawn of his country home.

Has Walked 43,000 Miles

Dean of Letter Carriers in Pontiac Has Been Delivering Mail for 34 Years

Tired of a desk job? Maybe you would like something a little different, a job that gets you outside.

The outside air seems to agree with Claud Coons, 55, of 91 N. Johnson St. He has been with the Pontiac Post Office since 1921; from point of service, his 34-year hitch makes him the dean of local letter carriers.

Coons has worked four mail routes since 1921, the longest a daily jaunt of 10 miles. From available statistics, Coons has walked about 43,000 miles on the job, since 1921, or almost twice around the globe.

It's safe to say that's a lot of open air for anybody.

The walking is only a supplement to the job. He also handles about 1,200 to 1,500 pieces of mail daily.

CLAUD A. COONS

"The work gives me a chance to meet the public, and get outdoors. Most of the people I deal with are very agreeable," Coons said.

For working conditions, he prefers, cold weather to hot. Coons now works one of the six downtown business routes, making two trips a day.

A resident of Pontiac for 43 years, Coons married his wife, Edith, 30 years ago in Pittsburgh, Pa. He is former president of the Metropolitan Club and local Branch 320 of the National Association of Letter Carriers, and is a member of the Masons.

Coons has two children, a son Jack, and a married daughter, Mrs. Clifford Martin, in addition to four grandchildren.

School Rehires Superintendent

Texas Board Returns Fired Administrator to Old Job

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—The school superintendent whose dismissal by the Board of Education brought on a months-long town feud and caused a teacher strike was back on the job today.

So were most of the teachers who were fired by the board for striking.

John T. Andrews, president of the Irving School Board, announced last night at an open meeting that Dr. John L. Beard had asked to be rehired as superintendent "and we rehired him."

Last Feb. 16 Beard's firing resulted in a walkout of most of the Irving educational system's personnel in its seven schools. The School Board merely announced that Beard had not cooperated. The striking teachers said conditions had "become unbearable."

The new board has voted to pay Beard $2,100 in back salary and his old $9,000-a-year pay.

Egypt Rejects Talks Directly With Israel

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt has rejected a U.N. proposal that her top officials negotiate directly with Israel's to stop the continuing clashes along the Gaza Strip.

An Egyptian spokesman, Col. Salah Gohar, said last night his government prefers to continue negotiations through the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission established by the 1948 armistice.

Israel is boycotting the Israeli-Egyptian commission, on which a U.N. representative has the tie-breaking chairman's vote.

How to Handle Your Money: 2

Split Savings Between Stocks and U. S. Bonds

Following is the second installment of a 10-part interview with Benjamin Graham, security analyst and Columbia University professor, who answers questions on the how's, why's and when's of investing your money.

Q—Would you say there are many men in the $10,000 and $20,000 group who should be buying stocks but who are not?

A—I'd put it this way: There are thousands who should have been buying stocks and who didn't.

Q—But with the market level aside—

A—Market level aside, I would say that $10,000 to $20,000 men would be well advised, as a whole, to have a systematic investment program in common stocks.

Q—How should their investments be divided, roughly?

A—On the whole, they can go higher in the common-stocks spectrum than the persons who don't have earnings independent of capital. They could get into the two-thirds-common-stock area very soundly.

Q—Why?

A—I think mainly because of the fact that they can take the risks involved in changes in the economic situation from year to year with more equanimity than those whose sole financial support is their capital funds.

Q—You mean they are less likely to face a time when they have to sell their stocks whether they want to or not because they find that the price has gone down—is that it?

A—That's the way it's usually expressed, but my experience has been that it's not the other compulsion that governs it so much as the inner compulsion, drive, the inner apprehension

SCARE SELLING

Most people sell stocks at low prices not because they have to but because they are scared.

Q—They won't hold on long enough?

A—They won't see the situation through. Let's take a widow who has all her money in common stocks, or nearly all, and is doing pretty well with it for a while. Then the market has one of its old lashings, it collapses, and she finds her principal value greatly reduced. She is likely to get so panicky that she might sell out at the bottom, or near the bottom, and have a harrowing experience as a result of that.

Q—You were talking about put-

A businessman or a man with a career earning a good deal of money may do the same thing, but he's not as likely to do it, particularly if he has educated himself to know and be familiar with the normal vicissitudes of the stock market.

Q—You were talking about putting two thirds of savings for the long term in common stocks. Which man is that — which man should do that?

A—That would be the $10,000 to $20,000-a-year earner who feels he may go further than that in the future.

Q—As we go on up higher, as we get into $25,000 and $30,000, would you recommend a higher proportion in common stocks?

A—I don't believe so, because when you get beyond that range, you get a different question where it's not so essential to try to get the maximum results out of your investment, but it becomes important to feel that you are protected against any eventuality.

One of the advantages of having a lot of money is that nothing should be able to hurt you. If you have a fair amount of your money in the government-bond area and another fair amount in common stocks, you're in an ideal position.

Jap Company Wins Cable-Stealing Case

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Telecommunications Ministry today won a $25,000 suit against a man who dug up its underwater cables five years ago and sold them.

The defendant claimed he "found the communications cables between the main Japanese islands of Honshu and Hokkaido, and believed they belonged to the then defunct Japanese army.

The court ordered him to give back the money and pay compensation to the ministry.

False Alarm Radar Alerts Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Nationalist air force planes roared out today from Formosan air bases in a widespread, hour-and-a-half alert caused by unidentified radar sightings.

The Pescadores, strategic islands in Formosa Strait, were alerted as were Quemoy, Wuchiu and Matsu.

Military authorities said it had not been determined whether blips on radar screens which caused the alert represented Communist or friendly craft.

FUTURE CAREERS—2

A Nurse

Many little girls like to play nurse, using their dolls as patients. Many girls really become nurses when they grow older. There is a great need for even more of them.

Today's picture shows a smiling nurse treating a little girl in a hospital. Many young women serve in hospitals as staff or private nurses, and some advance to become supervisors or head nurses.

Other nurses serve with public health services, or in schools, in the Army and the Navy, or with large companies and factories. Private doctors often have nurses in their own offices, acting as assistants in caring for patients and keeping accurate health records.

One of the most famous nurses of all time was Florence Nightingale, the daughter of a wealthy English family who became interested in nursing when she was 14 years old. Her crusades and service in the field of nursing lasted throughout her 90-year lifetime, and led to establishing modern hospital nursing standards.

Nursing is a fine career, one that is highly respected but one that is difficult because it calls for constant and unselfish devotion to duty. Color today's picture and add it to your collection of future careers.

Famous Hollywood Hotel Sold, to Be Refurnished

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The Garden of Allah Hotel, one-time home of the late actress Alla Nazimova and a celebrated Hollywood landmark since the roaring 20's, has been sold to millionaire sportsman Cornelius Vanderbilt (Sonny) Whitney and a partner for nearly half-a-million dollars.

The old Spanish-style estate, once the stomping ground of John Barrymore, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Robert Benchley and other colorful characters, will be transformed into a modern streamlined hotel.

Dudley Murphy, co-owner of the property, said the antiquated main building and 25 cottages will be refurbished at a cost of $150,000.

The one-time suburban paradise, located on movietown's famed Sunset Boulevard, was built by Nazimova in the early 20's as a private home, but it became so popular with celebrities of the day that the actress converted it into a hotel in 1926.

MELTING POT

It was considered the "melting pot" of the West and luminaries of stage, screen and the literary world called it home.

Thomas Wolfe, Ernest Hemingway, Dorothy Parker and Louis Bromfield penned some of their most immortal words while lounging beside the pool that Nazimova created in the shape of the Black Sea — a reminder of her native Russia.

It was here that Jack Barrymore courted the raven-haired Elaine Barry and once awakened the tenants at 4 o'clock in the morning shouting a scene from "Romeo and Juliet" to his lady love perched precariously on one of the hotel balconies.

This was the start of the notorious "Ariel and Caliban" romance that had them chasing each other back and forth across the country.

Benchley, of the dry wit and portly figure, tossed many a fabulous party behind these stucco walls and his guest list read like Who's Who.

The "Garden" was built when Sunset Boulevard was only a dirt road, but later it became such a well-traveled thoroughfare that Benchley always took a cab to cross the street.

Then there were the two old-maid sisters who visited the hotel annually and had a quaint habit of undressing in front of the pool to take a dip.

John Barrymore once invited artist John Decker to a party where the guest had such a run-in with John Barleycorn that he wound up in the hospital and eventually was operated on for ulcers.

Decker sent the bill ($2,000) to Barrymore and when the actor asked why, the artist blandly replied:

"Well, I was your guest!"

Barrymore paid the bill without further comment.

Tough Setting Fires

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Owners of several old buildings donated them to let firemen set small fires and experiment with new spray methods of fighting blazes. The firemen had such a tough time getting fires started in one rain-soaked building they put off further attempts until a little sunshine makes the job less difficult.

Marilyn Shows Up Late for Her Preview of "Itch"

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Joe Di Maggio gave Marilyn Monroe a birthday surprise party and with my customary gallantry, I asked Marilyn how old she is.

"Are you 27 or 26?" I asked.

"I'm 28!" she replied candidly.

Marilyn had invited Joe to escort her to the sneak preview of "Seven-Year Itch" at Loew's State, in which she and Tom Ewell are magnificently funny in an outstandingly hillarious picture.

MARILYN

Sharp-eyed photographer Sam Shaw got a picture showing a sign, "Preview Tonight, 8:30" and another one of Marilyn arriving with a clock showing the time: 9:10. For Miss Monroe was approximately 40 minutes late for her first look at undoubtedly her greatest effort so far.

Senate Will Release Probe 'Happenings'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators promised a public airing today of "some unusual happenings" involving government contracts of Chicago hat manufacturer Harry Lev.

Lev, who became wealthy after coming to this country as an immigrant from the Middle East, has been named to the Senate Investigations subcommittee in hearsay fashion as a briber of government employes.

One of them, Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool, has been shifted to the Wright-Patterson Air Base at Dayton, Ohio, and confined to the base after testifying he had falsified federal income tax returns. No charges have been filed against him.

The bribery charges were aimed at Lev by a business rival, New York manufacturer Leon M. Levy, who said he had no direct knowledge that any money changed hands. Lev himself has been called to testify, perhaps this afternoon.

Air Force Reservists to Train at Selfridge

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Maj. Gen. Richard A. Grussendorf, commander of the Tenth Air Force, announced today that 900 Michigan men will be among some 5,000 reservists from eight states who will go on annual training encampment from July 16 through Aug. 28.

Training will be conducted at five bases including Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens, Gen. Grussendorf said.

The 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing, stationed at Selfridge, will train at that base from July 31 through Aug. 14. The 438th Fighter-Bomber Wing from Mitchell Airport, Milwaukee, Wis., will be at Selfridge from July 16 through July 30.

Hollywood Headlines

'Long John Silver' Series All Filmed in Australia

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Robert Newton has tossed Long John Silver's crutch away after playing the crusty old pirate in Australia for a year.

The British actor has returned to his Hollywood home after completing one of the most interesting film projects in recent years. It was a daring venture that could provide him with a hefty annuity.

He told about the deal between rehearsals for his first acting engagement since his return—"The Suspect" on NBC's Video Theater.

"First of all, we made the feature version of 'Long John Silver' in CinemaScope and color," he said. "After we finished that, we made 26 half-hour TV shows, also in color.

"It was really a pioneering project. When we first arrived in Sydney, there was nothing but a large, barnlike building for a studio. We brought all our equipment from Hollywood.

"After we finished the feature, we did one TV show a week for 26 weeks. I think I had only one Sunday off. It was hard work, but it was worth it. The results were spectacular. The air is so clear down there and the scenery, especially the surf, is spectacular. And we shot it for half what it would have cost here."

Part of the financing came from Louis Wolfson. Yes, the same fellow who raised all that fuss at Montgomery Ward. Joseph Kaufman produced and Byron Haskin directed. Both are veteran Hollywood hands. The only other performer from here was comedienne Connie Gilchrist.

"We picked up the rest of our actors in Australia," said Newton, "and they were excellent. The technicians were good too—not experienced but eager to learn."

If Long John catches on with the kids, a la Davy you-know-who, 13 more films will be made here. The series would be exploited as was Davy what's-his-name, with merchandise, songs, books, etc.

On the chance that the character will prove popular, the feature version of "Long John Silver" has been held back from release. It will be shown after the TV series has had some exposure. The film is now playing abroad.

Many Big Timers Miss Open Qualifying Roster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The list of big-name golfers who will be missing from the United States Open championship this year could start a major tournament of their own.

Dutch Harrison...Ralph Guldahl ...Bobby Knowles...Skee Riegel... Bob Toski... Dick Chapman... Jal Herbert... Fred Wampler.

They're all on the outside looking in as a result of yesterday's qualifying round. The U.S. Golf

Assn. cut the list of exempt players severely this year with the thought in mind of giving the run-of-the-mill shotmaker a better chance of qualifying.

Only 17 players were exempt this year which meant that most of the top stars had to take their chances on having a bad day.

Many got through, of course. In fact, Chandler Harper, the 41-year-old shotmaker from Portsmouth, Va., toured the Columbia Country Club course in Chevy Chase, Md., in a sizzling 67-67--134 to lead the 125 qualifiers who tried their luck on 23 courses in the United States and one in Hawaii.

Harper, a former PGA champion who has been on the pro trail for more than two decades, set a 36-hole record for the course.

Others who got under the wire included Wally Ulrich, Frank Stranahan, Wally Burkemo, Billy Maxwell, Art Wall, Dave Douglas, Ted Kroll, Johnny Palmer, Doug Ford, Bo Wininger, Claude Harmon, Jack Burke and Porky Oliver.

The San Francisco section, with a bumper crop of 245 aspirants, won't finish until today. There are 20 spots allotted San Francisco and the players are performing on two courses, the San Francisco Country Club and Lake Merced. The tournament will be held in San Francisco June 16-18, hence the large turnout.

Byron Nelson, 1939 champion and one of the greats in the history of U.S. golf, is trying a comeback and going into the second round, he was No. 14 on the list with a 4-over-par 39-36--75. Lawson Little, 1940 Open chapion, had a par 71; Jim Turnesa, 1952 PGA titlist, carded a 75 and Walker Cupper Harvie Ward had a 73. All should make it.

* * *

Harrison's failure was a peculiar twist of fate, indeed. The veteran pro played the Bellerive Country Club Course in St.Louis where he won the 1953 Western Open. In that tournament, he was the only player who did not have an over-par round.

Yesterday, he could do no better than a 74-76--150, eight over par.

Bobby Cruikshank, a fixture at the Open, qualified for the 27th year at his home club, the Cartiers Country Club in Pittsburgh. He had 140.

The only untoward incident of the day took place on the same course where George Bayer of San Gabriel, Calif., became incensed after driving four balls out of bounds on the 10th hole. The big pro stalked off the fairway on the 15th and left without turning in a card—or taking a shower.

Following Harper in the low-scoring department were Maxwell with a 136, Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, with a 137; Rossburg, Mike Pavella of Washington, Pa., Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth and Bob McKendruck of Portland, Ore., all with 138s.

The 17 exempt players are the last five individuals to win the open — Ed Furgol, Ben Hogan, Julius Boros, Cary Middlecoff and Lew Worsham; last year's low scorers — Gene Littler, Dick Mayer, 1946 Open champion Lloyd Mangrum, Tommy Bolt, Shelley Mayfield, Freddie Haas, Sam Snead, Rudy Horvath and Al Mengert; 1954 Amateur champion Arnold Palmer, now a pro; 1954 PGA champion Chick Harbert and John Battini, home pro at the Olympic Country Club in San Francisco.

Cooper's 140 Sets Pace for Sectional List

Knollwood Pro Puts 2 Rounds of 70 Together to Lead 98 in Field

In his first important test since becoming professional at Knollwood Country Club this spring, Pete Cooper yesterday combined a pair of sub-par rounds at Birmingham and Red Run golf clubs to set the pace for sectional U. S. Open tourney qualifiers. He fired 70-70 — 140 to lead the good field of 98 players that included most of the state's top professional and amateur shotmakers.

Pete's 140 was two strokes under runnerup Charles (Chuck) Kocsis of Red Run, Chuck carded 69-73 — 142, but will not go through with the entry. He notified trial officials that he would be unable to make the trip to San Francisco for the big test, next week. Kocsis is a former Walker Cupper, and has won many state titles.

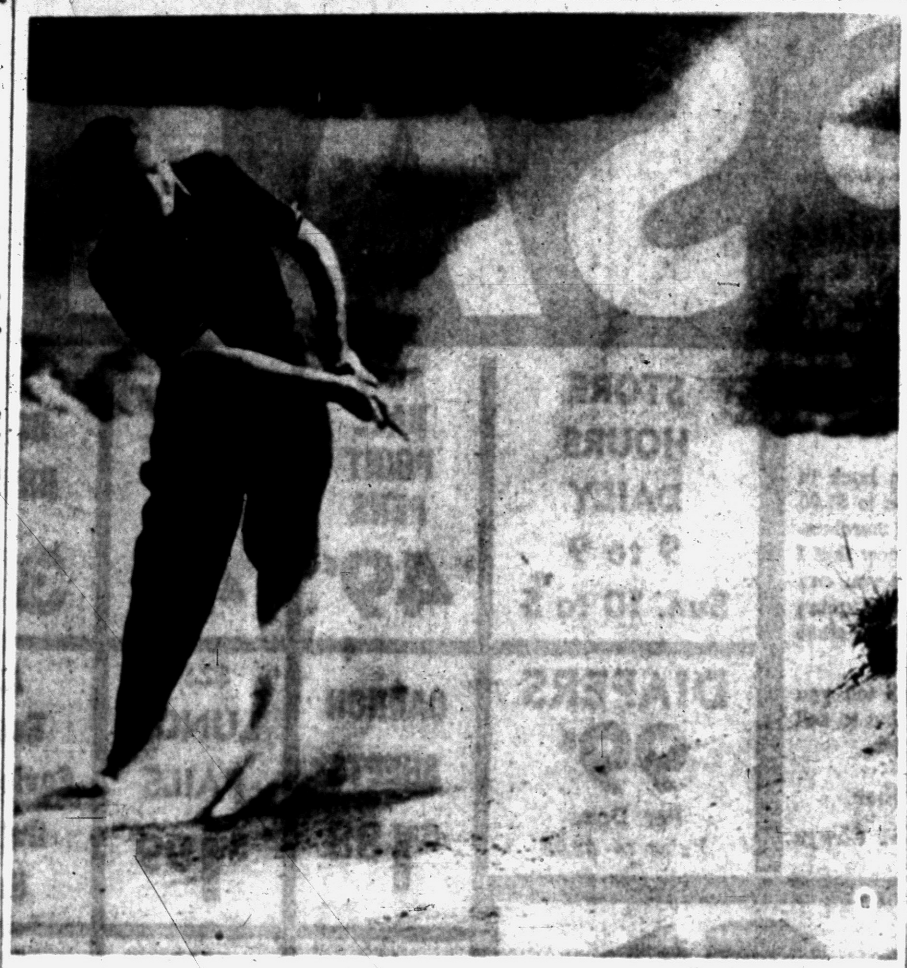

Visiting professional took the next pair of places. Husky Frank Stranahan, now a pro, from Toledo, fired 70-73 — 143, the same total compiled by Gerry Kesselring of Toronto, Ont., (69-74 — 143).

Stranahan was having his usual difficulty — belting 'em long and far, but indulging in a lot of successful scrambling.

Others in the qualifying list were Fred Challen of Birmingham, with 72-72 — 144; Bob Inman and Max Evans of Detroit with 73-72 — 145, and 75-70 — 145; Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills, former PGA king, with 74-72 — 146; Larry Tomasino, Detroit with 70-76 — 146 and Joe Thacker, Detroit, with 76-70 — 146.

The last three places were determined by a 6-way playoff, that left Mike Dietz of Indianwood, and Joe Watrous of Franklin Hills in the top alternate list.

Carl Sielaff, amateur, who also tied at 146, fired an ace on his 2nd round. He later withdrew.

Pontiac Press Photo

TROUBLE — Horton Smith, veteran Detroit pro, was in trouble at Birmingham CC yesterday when the Pontiac Press camera caught the above bit of action. Smith, along with many other top stars, failed to qualify in the U. S. Open tests. Rounds were played at both Birmingham and Red Run layouts. Smith had 74-76—150, well off the qualifying pace.

Spartans Land Three on NCAA All-Star 9

EAST LANSING (UP) — Three Michigan State players were chosen to the NCAA district four all-star baseball team while Michigan and Western Michigan each had one player named to the squad announced Monday by John Kobs, chairman of the selection committee and MSC coach.

Pitcher Dick Idzkowski, 1st baseman Chuck Mathews and outfielder Bob Powell of Michigan State; Michigan 3rd baseman Don Eaddy; and Western Michigan outfielder Bill LaJoie were named to 1st team positions, as Big Ten teams dominated the selections.

LaJoie was the only non-conference player named to the squad.

Merentino's Victory Gets 'Revenge' Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Rafael Merentino, a 26-year-old Argentine with dynamite in his right hand, is going to get a chance to avenge his only American defeat.

The South American had no more than knocked out inexperienced Hardy Smallwood, of Brooklyn, in the second round at St. Nicholas Arena last night than matchmaker Rex Sullivan said Merentino had agreed to a return match with Jackie La bua in the same arena July 11.

Those Lean Years!

GOP Ball Club Confident of Victory Over Dems in Tonight's Annual Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans, who have had seven lean years on the baseball diamond, talked confidently about beating the Democrats tonight in the eighth annual Congressional ball game.

For one thing, they don't have yet to score a victory at Griffith Stadium.

Georgia voters sent Wheeler to the sidelines in last year's elections.

Back to do the pitching for the Republicans is 40-year-old Rep. Glenn Davis of Wisconsin, who was only one out away from ending the Democrats' streak last year.

In the last of the fifth and final inning, with two out and no one on base, the Democrats rallied with a walk, a double and a mighty 350-foot triple by Rep. Gene McCarthy of Minnesota to emerge victorious. Up to that point, the Democrats had been shut out.

The lone Republican run scored off Wheeler was unearned. It came on a walk, an error and a sacrifice fly.

MacDonald, a football player in his Harvard days, observed his 38th birthday yesterday.

The Congressional baseball game is sponsored by the Washington Evening Star. Proceeds go to the newspaper's summer camp fund.

Loss of Appendix Provides Cure for Slump in Batting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eddie Mathews has found a new cure for a batting slump—have your appendix removed.

Since rejoining the Braves following an appendectomy May 18, the 23-year-old third baseman has returned to the slugging form that made him one of the major league's most feared hitters in 1953 and 1954.

Before his operation, Mathews was hitting below .240 and had just six home runs, three of them in one brief spurt.

Since rejoining the Braves May 30 as a pinch hitter, he has clouted five home runs in six games and has driven in 10 runs while raising his average to .260. Last night his first inning two-run home run sent the Braves off in front in a 5-2 win over the Philadelphia Phillies.

At his present clip, Mathews might top his 1954 homer production of 40 and could surpass his 1953 total of 47, high for the majors that year, his second in the big time.

The strapping third baseman's return to the lineup has had an immediate effect on the Braves, who until recently have failed to show their expected form. In the five-game set just concluded with the Phils, the Braves won four. It brought their season average to .500 and put them just a half game behind the third-place New York Giants in the National League pennant race.

Mathews' recovery from the appendectomy has been amazing. He was expected originally to be available for pinch-hitting duty only for four weeks. He was back in less than two and on June 2nd hit a pinch homer against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

He's been in the regular lineup since last week and shows little evidence of the operation. He ambles slowly around the bases after putting one out of the park. But when it counts, he gives everything. Last night he tried to score from second base on Bobby Thomson's deep fly out to center field He was out at home plate, but the play was close.

Unionists Winners of Rain-Cut Game

CIO No. 594 scored a 5-1 victory over the Anderson Jets Monday night at Wisner Stadium in an abbreviated Class A city league baseball game. Contest was halted after 4½ innings because of rain.

Union nine chased four runs across the plate in the 1st inning after the Jets had tallied their lone run in the top half of the same stanza. CIO's crew closed out the scoring with another run in the 3rd.

Jack Hruska handled the pitching chores for CIO, allowing five bingles. He struck out six and walked one. Tony Lothery was the losing moundsman.

Dodgers Roll Along With Little Evidence They Are Ripe for Any Collapse in NL Flag Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's about time the rest of the National League gave up the idea of waiting for the Brooklyn Dodgers to collapse. The Brooklyns can't lose for winnin'.

Take last night. Their right-handed power had been limited to four hits in eight innings by southpaw rookie Luis Arroyo and the St. Louis Cardinals had a 4-3 lead going into the last of the ninth.

When Gil Hodges led off with a walk, Manager Walt Alston couldn't decide whether to have Jackie Robinson lay down a sacrifice bunt and go for a tie or have him swing away and go for broke

Alston flashed the "bunt" sign, but Robbie fouled off the pitch. Alston switched to the "hit" sign then, but the pitch was wide and Jack watched it go by. So Alston changed back to the bunt strategy. But Robinson again fouled it off.

It was hit or nothing then. Alston wasn't bunting on the third strike.

So what does Robbie do? He smacks the next pitch into the left field seats and the Brooklyns win it 5-4. Just like that, they're eight games up on the second-place Chicago Cubs, who were idle like most of the other teams.

The only other National league action was at a Philadelphia. The Milwaukee Braves stayed a half game behind the third-place New York Giants by whipping the Phils 5-2 after Philadelphia had wrapped it up a 4-2 triumph in the three-inning completion of the suspended second game in Sunday's doubleheader.

In the American, the New York Yankees made hay on the slack schedule, bombing Detroit with home runs 7-5 for a 4½ game lead. Rain postponed the only other game, Washington at Kansas City.

Brooklyn's victory figured that way. Only two lefties have beaten the Dodgers this season—and no southpaw has gone the distance against them and won since Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall did it last Sept. 16.

The Brooks battled back from a 4-1 deficit with two in the sixth, one on a leadoff homer by Pee-Wee Reese, Cardinal manager Harry Walker, who used 22 pitchers while winning only one of the first four games in the Brooklyn series, had his doubts then, but decided to go along with Arroyo, who had won six without defeat.

Worthy Queen Takes Hazel Park Feature

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Al Eastin's Worthy Queen won the $2,000 Mad Anthony feature pace in 2:07 4/5 at Hazel Park Harness Raceway last night.

The 2-year-old filly paid $14.40. Golden Blade was second by a neck. Bali Hai was third.

A crowd of 4,573 bet $256,287.

Yankees Bomb Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—If the New York Yankees played their home games in Briggs Stadium, they'd probably never lose the pennant.

There's something about the pleasant surroundings of the Detroit ball park which brings out the best in manager Casey Stengel's Bombers.

Casey will tell you that his athletes would rather take their cuts in Briggs stadium than eat. A bit of an overstatement, but old Case isn't too far wrong.

Just look at what happened yesterday. Yankees crashed five home runs — including a tape-measure job by Mickey Mantle —while overpowering the Tigers, 7-5.

Mantle, leading off in the 9th, slammed a pitch by relief hurler Bob Miller clear over the centerfield screen, just to the right of the 440-foot sign.

Veteran baseball writers in the press box couldn't recall the last time anyone had hit a ball that far to dead centerfield.

Eddie Robinson hit a pair of two-run homers for the Yanks, while Billy Hunter and Gil MacDougald each delivered a solo shot.

It gave the Yankees 68 home runs for the season—most in the league — and stretched their 1st-place margin over idle Cleveland to 4½ games.

Al Kaline hit a homer for the Tigers but it came with none on and could hardly match the five made by the Yanks. However, it stretched the youngster's new hitting streak to 14 games. It was his 9th four-bagger.

Even with all the Yankee slugging, Tigers threatened seriously in the 9th. Jim Delsing's two-run double knocked rookie Johnny Kucks out of the box, bringing in Jim Konstanty from the bull pen.

Konstanty, a palm ball specialist, retired Fred Hatfield and Bob Wilson to lock up young Kucks' 4th straight victory and run his overall record to 5-1.

Billy Hoeft, who pitched the 1st seven innings, suffered his 3rd loss against five wins. He gave up four of the Yankee homers.

Tiger Notes

DETROIT (AP) — More bad news for the Tigers. Ray Boone, it develops, suffered a pulled leg muscle in Sunday's doubleheader against the Orioles and trainer Jack Homel says he'll be out a week or more.

Harvey Kuenn made his 1st start at shortstop for the Tigers in 13 games yesterday. He went hitless in five trips to the plate and made two errors afield.

The four-game series continued today, with Ned Garver slated to oppose Yankee Bob Grim.

Al Kaline now has hit safely in 45 of Detroit's 49 games.

French Planning Welcome for Olympic Heads

Selection of Site for 1960 Games Top Task at Meeting in Paris

PARIS (AP)—French sports authorities are rolling out the red carpet to receive delegates from 40 countries expected to attend the Olympic International Committee meeting Jun 9-19.

The meeting's biggest decision will be the selection of a site for the 1960 games, Armand Massard, chairman of the French committee, told The Associated Press.

Massard, a tall, 70-year-old "independent" member of the Parisian Municipal Council, has headed the French Olympic Committee for 22 years.

He said that five cities have officially requested the games: Detroit, Lausanne (Switzerland), Rome, Brussels and Tokyo.

A quartet of Detroit "Olympics" is expected to attend the meeting. They are: Fred A. Matthaei, Richard E. Cross, Jack Tompkins and Thomas E. Lane.

Since the 1956 Games will be held in Australid, a non-European country, the European's may oppose giving the games to another continent for the second straight time.

The "amateur" definition is expected again to be discussed by the congress.

"Personally," Massard said, "I would consider it an excellent formula to let each international federation decide the qualification of its own members."

Spartans Place Three on Big 10 All-Star 9

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan State placed three players on the All-Big Ten baseball team named yesterday by conference coaches. Michigan 3rd baseman Don Eaddy made the squad for the 4th straight year.

Chuck Matthews, MSC 1st baseman, was the only repeater from 1954.

Leftfielder Bob Powell and pitcher Dick Idzowski were the other two Spartans on the 1st team.

Second baseman George Smith of Michigan State and catcher Gene Snider and pitcher Marv Wisniewski, both of Michigan, were named to the 2nd team.

Shortstop Milbry Benedict of Michigan was included on the 3rd team.

Leggett Seeks Title

DETROIT—Eli Leggett, colorful Detroit lightweight, will bid for Kenny Lane's Michigan title—and all of the extra dividends that go with it—when he meets the Muskegon southpaw at Motor City Arena tonight.

Record Field Opens State Seniors Test

PORT HURON (AP) — A field of 225 entries, one of the largest in history, tee off today in the 25th annual Michigan Seniors Spring golf tournament.

The tourney, a 36-hole medal play affair, is being held at the Black River Country club. John H. O'Brien of Detroit, playing out of Plum Hollow, is defending champion.

There are six classes for golfers 50 to over 75 years of age in the tourney, with finals tomorrow.

Browns Sign 2 Players

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Brown dipped into Texas again today and signed two more players to professional football contracts with the Cleveland Browns.

Signed were Ray (Doc) Verkerk, 250-pound six-foot-three guard and tackle from North Texas State College, and Leo Chafin, 188-pound back from Southwest Texas State.

Jeweler Crew Edges Stadium in 14 Innings

Great Hurling Marks City Softball League Marathon Tilt

One of the longest city league softball games in recent history was recorded Monday night at Northside Park. Shaw's Jewelers and Stadium Inn turned in a well-played 14-inning contest which saw Shaw's push a run across in the top half of the 14th to win, 2-1.

Shaw's Cleil (Mutt) Morse and Stadium's Ed Miller engaged in a great pitching duel. Morse struck out 17 opponents, walked two, and was touched for just three hits. Miller gave up 11 safeties while fanning three and passing five.

Both teams scored a run in the 5th frame to set the stage for the long tilt. Then, after eight innings of goose-eggs, Shaw's utilized a pair of doubles and a walk to tally the winning run. It was Shaw's 6th straight victory and Stadium Inn's 2nd loss in seven starts.

Bicmar's squad came from behind with a brace of runs in the 7th inning to edge Ashland Flying Octane, 5-4, also at Northside.

Ashland crew scored four times in the 1st inning before Hank Dudzinski, Bicmar pitcher, clamped down the lid. Bicmar got back into the game with a three-run 5th inning, then put together a triple and a pair of errors to win in the final stanza. Pitcher Clarence Beers was the victim.

In last night's remaining game, at Beaudette, GMC defeated KC, 5-1. Alan Dennis hurled for the Coachers, scattering five hits while striking out nine and walking one. Tom Fairbrother and Joe Petroff worked on the mound for the Knights crew, Fairbrother taking the loss.

Boys' Loop Managers Meet on Wednesday

A managers' meeting will be held for two boys leagues Wednesday, June 8 at the Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

The Little League, boys 11-14 years will be at 7 p.m. Junior League, boys 15-17 years met at 8 o'clock.

There is still room for neighborhood teams in both leagues. Games will be played late afternoons at the Waterford Township Softball Park in Drayton, and on other fields.

Call the recreation department for more information, OR 3-9152.

Hackett, Spencer Leaving

Waterford, Avon Lose Track, Baseball Coaches

Two suburban Pontiac high schools are losing members of their coaching staffs at the end of the current school year.

Jack Hackett of Waterford and

SPENCER

Don Spencer of Avondale in Auburn Heights are leaving for widely-separated destinations.

Hackett, a member of the Waterford High staff for 7 years, the last 4 of which he has been the Skipper track boss, is moving with his family to California, June 18.

Following his graduation from Bowling Green (O) State University in 1948, he joined the Waterford staff and has coached junior varsity and freshman football and baseball, and freshman basketball, in addition to track and physical education teaching.

In varsity track, his Skippers won one Inter-Lakes Conference championship (1954), took 2nd place twice and 3rd place in this spring's meet. Last winter, his frosh cagers posted a 12-2 record and won the I-L freshman title.

A native of Lincoln Park, Mich., Hackett will go 1st to Pasadena, Calif., from where he will do his job-hunting.

Spencer is resigning at Avondale to accept the position of head football coach at Kearsley High School in Flint. He also will coach reserve baseball and teach.

Spencer has been head baseball coach at the Auburn Heights school for 4 seasons as well as assistant coach in football. He is a physical education graduate of Michigan Normal College and spent 2 years at Dublin Junior High near Pontiac before moving to Avondale.

Spencer and his wife will live in Otisville, where Mrs. Spencer will teach. Kearsley is in the same conference as Flint Mandeville High where Spencer's brother is varsity track coach.

Coachers' State Loop Loss Streak Hits 7

General Motors dropped 2 more Michigan State Baseball League games over the weekend, running the Pontiac representative's losing streak to 7 games. Saginaw administered the twin defeat by convincing 9-0 and 15-3 scores.

Herman Bishop and Dan Keating were the starting and losing pitchers for Pontiac. The GMC team will try to snap the losing skein Sunday on the home diamond with Grand Rapids at Wisner Field for a double header.

Last Year's All-Stars Face Tough Row

CHICAGO (AP)—Balloting for the 1955 All Star baseball game begins Friday and already it looks as if some of last year's stars may have trouble making the team.

The American League won out last July at Cleveland with a three-run rally in the eighth inning for an 11-9 victory giving the junior league a 13-8 edge in the series.

It was a powder-puff single off the bat of Chicago's Nellie Fox which scored the tying and winning runs after the two teams had unloaded a barrage of six home runs.

The voting, to be conducted under the sponsorship of The Chicago Tribune and a record 761 other newspapers and radio stations, ends July 1 for the game to be played at Milwaukee July 12.

What the players have done so far this year and what they do this month will go a long way in determining the starting lineup, decided by the vote of the public.

It's a cinch all of the players who started last year will not be in the starting lineup this year. For example, of last year's American League starters, only Mickey Mantle is batting over .300.

Al Rosen of Cleveland and Ray Boone of Detroit, playing first and third, respectively, have been plagued by injuries and slumps. Rosen was instrumental in last year's triumph in slamming out two home runs.

Outfielder Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox, a beaning victim, is nowhere near his 1954 pace when he started in left field. His Chicago teammate Chico Carrasquel will have trouble regaining shortstop post.

Detroit's Harvey Kuenn, one of the league's leading batters, is certain to poll a lot of shortstop votes.

The sensational start of Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder, is certain to land him on the team if not the starting lineup.

The National League might field a similar lineup in that most of last year's stars are enjoying good starts. Roy Campanella and Duke Snider of Brooklyn will get a good share of votes as will Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati's muscle man.

But it's a fairly good bet that Ray Jablonski, last year's third baseman, will not make the team. He has not even been playing regularly for Cincinnati.

Al Dark, New York shortstop, and Granny Hamner, Philadelphia second baseman, will get stiff competition from Chicago's Ernie Banks and Red Schoendienst of St.Louis.

Stan Musial, last year's right fielder, will have to compete against Kluszewski since the Cardinal star is now playing first base. There could develop one of the poll's tightest races.

It'll be up to New York's Leo Durocher, National League manager, and Al Lopez, American League manager, to determine the starting pitchers.

Sam Snead's Golf Clinic

A feeling of "crisp relaxation" is what you want when you step up to swing. Even your grip on the club must be only gently firm; no effort to squeeze the club. Relaxation and decision are the keynotes. In avoiding tension, I don't mean to suggest looseness either. You have to hit the proper balance between the two. If a player is tense and rigid he is striving for power golf. And there is no such thing!

Golf is a game of rhythm—not slugging. That's why you must be crisply relaxed, more rubber than iron. When you address the ball, your mind should be fully made up as to what you are going to do. That's decision. That should include the arms whipping through crisply and firmly—but not trying for 300 yards. Be content with 200 yards plus, with wood. It's better to be on the fairway for the next shot. Accuracy will always beat distance.

Harris Meets Colter in MC Arena Tonight

Buddy Harris, former football and track star at Pontiac High School, makes the 3rd start of his professional boxing career tonight on the Motor City Arena fight card.

Haris, who won the state Golden Gloves championship in his division, will meet Jessie Colter of Detroit in a 4-rounder. He won his 2 previous pro starts.

Harris is managed and trained by Ray Monett of Pontiac, former heavyweight champion of the Pacific area during his Army career.

Monett also is working with Pontiac heavyweight Danny Hagan, who will make his professional debut at Motor City in the near future. Both boys will train at the Motor City gymnasium.

Police Drop Charge Against Former Titlist

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Keeny Teran, former American flyweight titleholder, has been released by authorities who said they found insufficient grounds for charging him with narcotics violation.

Teran, 21, was booked yesterday after officers reported fresh puncture marks on his arm. Teran claimed they were from shots he had received for anemia recently.

Released later with Teran was Raymond Durozo, 26, with whom he was arrested. "I used to use the junk but I'm laying off now," Teran insisted. He is under suspension by the California Athletic Commission for a poor showing in his last fight. He was knocked out May 18 by Memo Diaz.

Dick & Wes' Downs Gidley Team, 4-3

Dick & Wes' Sporting Goods softball team kept atop the Waterford Recreation League standings with a 4-3 triumph over Gidley Electric at Drayton Plains Monday night.

Winners started on the victory trail with a pair of runs in the 1st inning, then added single runs in the 3rd and 5th. Gidley's rallied with two runs in the 3rd frame, but scored only once more, the 5th, to fall short.

In last night's other scheduled contest, Day's Sanitary forfeited to the Waterford Lions because of its inability to field a squad at game time.

Orioles Drop Kretlow, Moss

CHICAGO (AP)—With the departure yesterday of Lou Kretlow and Les Moss, the Baltimore Orioles have only two players left on the roster who were with the club when the franchise was moved from St. Louis.

Kretlow, a veteran right-handed pitcher who hasn't won a game all season, was sent back to Baltimore to await reassignment. Moss, a catcher, was traded to the Chicago White Sox for pitcher Harry Dorish.

Kaline Regains Batting Lead for Junior Loop

Campanella Makes Use of Sacrifice Fly Rule to Boost NL Figure

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Roy Campanella was only a scant 13 points behind Richie Ashburn, the National League's batting leader, today. But he had the sacrifice fly rule to thank for the closeness of the race.

Campanella, making a strong comeback following a disappointing .207 season in 1954, is batting .342 to Ashburn's .355. Campy, however, has produced five sacrifice flies and if they were counted as times at bat as they were before last seeason, he would be at .333. Ashburn, the Phillies' star centerfielder, has hit no sacrifice flies.

Ashburn lost considerable ground to Campanella last week. Richie dropped 28 points with only six hits in 27 at bats. Campanella climbed nine points with 11 safeties in 28 trips.

Don Mueller dropped one notch to third place. The Giants' outfielder had five hits in 27 at bats for a 25 point loss to .338. Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati is fourth with .335 followed by Bill Virdon of St.Louis with .331

In the American League, Al Kaline of Detroit regained the batting lead from teammate Harvey Kuenn. Kaline moved up five points to .372 while Kuenn fell 13 to .366. Vic Power of Kansas City is third with .335. Then come Mickey Vernon of Washington at .314 and Mickey Mantle of New York and Sherm Lollar of Chicago with .305 apiece.

Duke Snider and Campanella are deadlocked for the National League home run lead with 17 each. Snider is the circuit's runs batted in leader with 56.

Mantle is the American League's home run pace-setter with 14 while Kaline and the Yankees', Yogi Berra share the RBI lead with 39.

Record 'Coverage'

BROOKLYN (AP) — Another record went down the drain at Ebbets Field last night after play was resumed between the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers after rain caused a 17 minute delay.

It was announced that the ground crew had put down the cover in record time of 1 minute, 15 seconds. No time was given on the uptake.

Pontiac Pair Among Top Women's Winners

Arlene Murphy and Maybelle Shaffer of Keego Harbor and Pontiac, placed 3rd in the recently completed state women's bowling tourney at Jackson. The pair fired a 1249 in the handicap doubles division behind Wanda Kozuch-Eileen Crimmins (1st) and Danzella Washington-Gene Deshield (2nd) both of Detroit.

Detroiters took six of the eight championships in the tournament.

Imlay City's Binnie Clark (693) in handicap singles, and (1879) in handicap all-events placed 2nd and 5th respectively.

Buying Pushes Grains Higher

CHICAGO (AP)—A small burst of overnight buying orders served to push most prices higher on the Board of Trade today. The pace was moderately active.

But once the orders were absorbed, trading came virtually to a standstill. Prices generally maintained their advances over previous closing levels.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ to ½ cent higher, July $1.97¼; corn was ⅜ to ⅞ higher, July $1.42; oats were ⅛ to ½ higher, July 66; and rye was ¾ to 1⅛ higher, July $1.07. Soybeans were ¼ to ¾ higher, July $2.42½, and lard was unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher July $12.37.

Doris A. Klauka, Otto Nellenbach Wed Saturday

NORTH BRANCH TOWNSHIP—Doris Ann Klauka and Otto J. Nellenbach pledged their nuptial vows at High Mass Saturday morning at SS. Peter and Paul Church in North Branch.

Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klauka of 2240 Oak Grove Rd. Otto's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Nellenbach of 4300 Slattery Rd.

The bride's floor-length gown was fashioned with a bodice of imported french lace, peter pan collar and fingertip sleeves. The skirt was of nylon net over satin. A pearl-beaded Juliet cap secured her fingertip veil.

Norma Klauka, the bride's sister, appeared as maid of honor and Mary Lou Swoish of Detroit and Mrs. John Krake of North Branch served as bridesmaids.

James Nellenbach, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, assisted by Thomas DeView of Lapeer and P. J. Hamlin. Guests were seated by Jack and Jerry Nellenbach, Otto's cousins.

The ceremonies were followed by breakfast at the American Legion Memorial Building in Lapeer, which also was the scene for the reception in the evening.

The couple will live west of Utica. The bridegroom is employed at the Detroit Arsenal near that city.

Steels, Motors Lead Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and motors were the leaders in a higher stock market in early dealings today.

The market rally came in an atmosphere of industrial peace created by agreement yesterday on a contract between Ford and the United Auto Workers plus the avowed intention on all sides today to come to swift agreement on a General Motors and a steel industry work contract.

Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points in several major divisions, notably the steels, rubber, aircrafts, chemicals, and in several individual issues. Losses usually were small.

The rise came on the heels of the record high marks established by yesterday's moderately higher market. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yesterday gained 60 cents at $167.20, highest level the average ever has attained.

Last April 26 the average hit a peak, and then it went through a consolidating reaction that ended with yesterday's new high.

U. S. Steel started today on a block of 10,000 shares up 1⅜ at 48, and among other blocks were Westinghouse Electric 1,800 up ¼ at 69½, New York Central 1,200 up ⅝ at 42¼, General Motors 2,000 up ⅜ at 99⅛, Motorola 2,300 up 2 at 60¼, Republic Steel 5,000 up ⅜ at 45⅞, Alleghany Corp. 6,000 up ⅛ at 10. Boeing 1,500 up 1⅛ at 64, and U. S. Hoffman 4,500 up 1½ at 32.

Trading was swift at the start with numerous large blocks on the tape, and for a time the fast pace threatened to swamp stock exchange reporting facilities.

Church Meeting Slated

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A joint meeting of the Mission and Sunday School council boards and trustees of the Waterford Community Church will be held at the church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

World's first steel-frame skyscraper was built in Chicago about 1872.

REVERSIBLE SCOOP IS ADAPTABLE — A new Ford rear-mounted, reversible scoop designed to handle a wide variety of farm and industrial operations ranging from moving milk cans to leveling soil at construction sites is now in production, according to the Tractor and Implement Division of the Ford Motor Co., at Birmingham. Fully reversible for digging, scooping, backfilling and transporting material, the new implement has a high carbon steel tapered cutting edge, and is of heavy welded steel construction. The scoop attaches to any Ford tractor.

Steel Workers in Wage Talks

Bargaining Opens in Pittsburgh Today; Union Seeks More Pay

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—President David J. McDonald of the CIO United Steelworkers leads union negotiators today into the opening round of 1955 wage talks with the booming basic steel industry.

U.S. Steel Corp., No. 1 producer in the nation, was the initial bargaining target in a closed session.

Five other big producers stood by waiting to hear the union's demands.

The first round of negotiations is expected to last several days, with the union presenting its proposals to each firm separately and the companies studying them before getting down to bed-rock bargaining.

With the steel industry operating near capacity and enjoying healthy profits, observers consider it a foregone conclusion that the big union will get a wage increase. The question is: How much?

Guesses range from 10 to 25 cents an hour. Steelworkers now average $2.33. The union has not made its demands known.

Bracketed with U.S. Steel in this year's talks are Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Inland. The six employ more than 400,000 of the 600,000 USW members in basic steel.

Under a two-year contract signed last year, current bargaining is limited to present wage rates. The guaranteed annual wage will play no part in these talks.

If no agreement is reached by June 30, the union will be free to strike. Most observers consider this a remote possibility.

The USW negotiating committee yesterday stated "unanimous determination to achieve a substantial wage increase before the wage agreement expires June 30."

Industry officials have made it clear they will offset any wage boost by increasing the cost of steel, now about $125 a ton. This could mean higher prices on many consumer and industrial goods made with steel.

Agreements with the six major producers will be used as the basis for upcoming talks with 90 other smaller basic steel and ore mining firms covered in some 170 contracts.

Brighton Murderers Face Arraignment

BRIGHTON (AP) — Two brothers who admitted the May 19 slaying of a Brighton gas station attendant will be arraigned in Brighton Justice Court Wednesday morning on charges of first degree murder, kidnaping and armed robbery.

Held in the slaying of Lawrence Jackson Jr., 19, are William Joles, 23, and Daniel Joles, 18, of Mesick.

A three-count warrant for their arrest was authorized Monday by Prosecutor W. H. Erwin.

The Joles brothers, police say, admitted slaying Jackson on a lonely country road south of Brighton after robbing the station of about $150.

Conviction on any of the three charges could result in life sentences.

Originally scheduled for Tuesday, the arraignment was set back at the request of the Joles' attorney.

Nash May Deliveries Total 13,163 Units

DETROIT (AP)—Nash Division of American Motors reported today its May deliveries of new cars amounted to 13,163 units, highest single month's volume since May, 1953.

At the same time it also announced production so far this year already has topped the 62,611 cars built in all of 1954.

CHARLES S. CURRIE

Currie Is Re-Elected Local 653 President

For the 6th consecutive time, Charles S. Currie has been elected president of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 (UAW-CIO). Currie previously served four 1-year terms and one 2-year term. He will serve two years.

Others returned to office were Howard Arnold, vice president; Bill Lindsey, recording secretary; Robert Boyer, financial secretary; Cecil Mullinix, trustee, Nap Raymond, trustee, John A. Dugan, trustee, and Howard Smith, shop committee chairman.

Newly elected were Wayne Anable, sergeant-at-arms, and Leona Simmons, guide.

Scholarships, Diplomas Given at North Branch

NORTH BRANCH — Fifty-eight North Branch High School graduates received diplomas at recent commencement exercises held in the school auditorium, and scholarship awards were made to a number of students.

Literary Digest scholarships were presented to Barbara Tatar, class valedictorian, and to Gerald Schlaud and Wanda Toles.

The John Church Memorial music trophy award was given to Virginia Evans. Patricia Cruz and Philip Olekszyk received awards from American Legion Post 457.

Virgil Horton, Dorald Giddings and Ellen Richard were awarded scholarships to the school of their choice. The presentation was made by Gerald Sieiski, Junior High School principal.

A gift of money to the school, made by the graduating class, will be used toward the purchase of a new sound system for the auditorium stage, it was announced.

The commencement address was delivered by Robert Jones, University of Michigan professor of school administration.

Free Asians Stronger, Gen. Taylor Affirms

HONG KONG (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, en route home to become U. S. Army chief of staff, said today that "free forces in Asia . . . are stronger numerically and in equipment than the Communists.

The American general and his wife arrived here from Formosa. Taylor said a review of Chinese Nationalist troops here yesterday convinced him they were in "splendid condition" and that U. S. military aid to Formosa is "being used very well."

Business Notes

John H. Parsons, of Parsons Punch Corp., will be among the business leaders attending a National Assn. of Manufacturers' conference in Chicago June 15 aimed at seeking "a solution to labor's demand for a guaranteed annual wage."

Last year, Parsons toured Italy with an NAM group where he studied the Italian equivalent of the annual wage.

A Bloomfield Township man, Raymond Foulkrod, of 4676 Avondale, has been elected president of the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Foulkrod, who is chief engineer of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., also was relected to a directorship of the society.

Wilson Evades Quiz on Planes

Leaves Clear Field for Upping Output of Military Aircraft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson, leaving the door open to new moves to step up warplane production, says the Pentagon is "taking a very good look at everything we are doing."

Asked at a news conference yesterday whether the Air Force has recommended a speedup in production of any planes other than its most potent heavy bomber, the B52, Wilson replied: "Not yet."

Asked specifically about the F100 Super Sabre Jet fighter, Wilson parried the question by saying he didn't want to generate "too much pressure" about that matter.

As for the "good look" he said the Pentagon is taking at its plans, he said he has ordered a twice-a-year review of all aircraft production schedules.

The Air Force disclosed recently it has ordered a 35 per cent stepup in the production rate of the B52. Wilson appeared as a closed session of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee yesterday to ask for 356 million dollars to carry out this speedup.

Find U.S.-Tagged Bird 50 Miles From Japan

SENDAI, Japan (AP)—To the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington:

You are hereby notified that flabbergasted Japanese fishermen found a metal ring on the leg of a big gull-like bird captured in the Pacific about 50 miles off Japan over the weekend.

The ring bore the inscription "Notify Fish & Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C." Prof. Masakichi Hatanaka of Tohoku University said he never had heard of a bird flying all the way from the United States.

Red Chinese Claim Dust Storm Answer

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio said today Red China is doing something about dust storms but the United States isn't.

Peiping said the government is vigorously pushing reforestation but "in the United States, where the dust storms have been expanding in size every year, the people of the Great Plains are being told that the best hope they can have is that the dry cycle will end as in the 1930s."

Menace on Land, Sea Warned Against Flying

DETROIT (AP)—Termed a "menace on land or sea," Louis Morabito was ordered not to pilot a boat for the next four months. He was convicted of reckless driving on the Detroit River.

Morabito already has had his automobile driver's permit revoked.

"And don't take up flying," Traffic Judge George T. Murphy cautioned Morabito.

Utica Woman and Son Hurt in Auto Mishap

Mrs. Marion L. Barley, 26, of Utica, and her 3-year-old son, Michael, were treated for cuts and bruises at Avon Center Hospital after their car struck a tree late Monday afternoon on Avon road, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Mrs. Barley told deputies she lost control of the car when it struck a bump in the road.

Ferndale Man Sentenced

After admitting May 31 to making improper advances to a 13-year-old girl in Ferndale last May 14, James Crafton, 36, of 1685 Woodward Heights, Ferndale, was placed on 3-year probation and assessed $200 court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yeeterday.

RT. REV. EMRICH

Bishop Speaker for Cranbrook's Commencement

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, will be the commencement speaker at the June 11 exercises of Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, headmaster Harry D. Hoey announced today.

Known widely throughout Michigan and the Episcopal Church as an author and lecturer, Bishop Emrich succeeded to his present post as diocesan head in 1948. Prior to that time he spent 10 years on the faculty of Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass. and two years as suffragan Bishop in Michigan.

In addition to several honorary degrees from colleges and universities, he holds a doctorate of philosophy from the University of Marburg, Germany, where he did graduate work after receiving his theological training at Union Seminary and Episcopal Theological School.

3 Freed Fliers Touch U.S. Soil

Airmen Stop Briefly in California En Route to Omaha Celebration

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (INS)—Three U. S. jet pilots, freed by the Chinese Communists last week, stopped briefly at Travis Air Force Base early today and then left for Omaha, Neb., where they will be given a civic welcome.

Their Air Force Constellation landed at Travis from Honolulu at 3:00 a.m. EDT and departed at 3:55 a.m. for Omaha where it was due at 10:40 a.m. CDT.

The pilots, who were shot down in the Korean war and spent more than two years in Red prisons are: Capt. Harold E. Fischer Jr., of Swea City, Ia.; Lt. Lyle W. Cameron of Lincoln, Neb.; and Lt. Roland Parks of Omaha.

They were accompanied by their parents who were flown go Honolulu for an epic reunion.

At Travis, other relatives and friends greeted the fliers as they got out of the Constellation to stretch their legs, setting foot on U. S. mainland soil for the first time in almost three years.

FISCHER WELCOMED

Capt. Fishcer, a double ace with ten Red planes shot down in the Korean conflict, was met by Gerald Schenck of Sacramento, Calif., a former classmat eat Iowa State College; and by an uncle, A. C. Butterfield of San Bernardino, Calif.

Lieut. Cameron was greeted by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cameron, of El Cajon, Calif., his aunt and uncle; and by another aunt, Mrs. Eugene Schuman of Santee, Calif.

Lieut. Parks was met by Mrs. Mary Adams of Sacramento, wife of a former fraternity brother at Omaha University.

Lt. Col. Edwin L. Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., a fourth pilot freed with the others by the Reds, remained in Honolulu to take treatment for a leg he injured bailing out of his plane in Korea.

SWEEPING TOWARD GOAL — These three girls sought odd jobs and they got one — sweeping out the Parsons, Kans., stockyards. They're members of a mixed vocal group of 33 Parsons Junior College youngsters trying to earn enough money to pay for a trip to Chicago to compete in the Chicagoland Music Festival. Business firms and individuals have already contributed $1,500 for the venture. The sweepers, left to right, are JoKay Anderson, Carole Cowden and Mary Catherine Owens.

Actor to Start Two New Parts

Will Emcee on $64,000 Question; Do NBC Show 'The Soldiers'

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever success the Imogene Coca show may have had otherwise, it has given a boost to the career of Hal March, who has been Imogene's partner in comedy the past few months.

The 35-year-old actor and writer begins tonight as emcee of the $64,000 Question on CBS-TV, and on June 25 starts another new show entitled "The Soldiers" on NBC-TV.

March actually has been around in radio and TV a long time with scores of guest roles and regular parts in such shows as My Friend Irma and Burns and Allen. But he says of his role in the Saturday night Coca show:

"It has been a tremendous shot in the arm. And it has been a wonderful experience working on the show, Miss Coca is one of the great talents of our time."

Miss Coca's new show, her first solo venture after the breakup of the Coca-Sid Caesar-Max Liebman team of Your Show of Shows, floundered rather badly when it started last fall. Then March was brought in as regular partner and foil as her TV husband, and the show has gained steadily in ratings.

* * *

However, March disclaims personal credit for the improvement, saying it was due to the change in format rather than his individual efforts. But he does give credit to the role for making him better known — at least for making people remember his name.

West Invites Russia to Geneva for Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia yesterday received a formal invitation to a top-level Big Four meeting at Geneva, Switzerland, to start July 18. The United States, Britan and France suggested four days of talks.

The Western invitation, delivered in Moscow, came as no surprise. The suggested place and date came out over the weekend.

In the note, made public here, the Western Powers referred to "divergent views" on the proposed meeting place. They recalled that Russia had suggested Vienna while they had wanted the talks to be held in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Proposing Geneva as a compromise site, they spoke of that city's "excellent facilities" and said the Swiss government is in accord with the idea. They asked an early reply so arrangements can be made.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

THIS WILL NEVER GET TOO POPULAR — When a gasoline station attendant goes formal, it's time to take pictures. So here's Julius Edwards, dressed in top hat, white tie and tails as he serves a customer in Elyria, Ohio. For two days he celebrated the sale of four million gallons of gasoline in six and a half years, giving to lucky customers balloons, lollipops and a total of 500 gallons of gas.

U. S. May Prod Russians About Jailed Americans

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

It will not be surprising if the United States asks the Russians, at the approaching Big Four conference, about the Americans who are known to be imprisoned in Soviet slave labor camps.

In recent months, emphasis has been put on American prisoners of war held by the Chinese Communists.

But long before the Korean War even started, it was known that the Soviet Union was holding many Americans prisoner. It is known right now that many still are being held.

The Chinese Reds hold Americans in violation of the Korean armistice. At least the Americans were combatants.

But the American slave laborers in the Soviet Union are not held in violation of any armistice. They are being held, in violation of fundamental human rights, by a presumably friendly nation and a wartime ally.

ALWAYS SUSPICION

There always has been some suspicion that American fliers who made forced landings in Siberia during the war against Japan were kept prisoner by their Russian "allies."

Bomber planes which landed on Russian territory became models for Russian bombers.

After the end of World War II there were intermittent reports that the Russians were holding many American civilians.

In addition to reports of Americans held in slave labor camps, it was known that Russia was refusing permission for some American citizens to leave Russian territory.

The United States made representations to Russia in October and December 1949 about 38 American citizens who were being detained. Russia denied that these 38 were Americans.

SAID 2,000 HELD

The State Department asserted in a statement on March 3, 1950, that approximately 2,000 Americans were being held in the Soviet Union. Most of these were in Lithuania and eastern Poland when the Russians seized those territories.

At that time Russia denied that Americans were being held as slave laborers.

The State Department retorted that letters from American slave laborers had been received by relatives in this country. The letters bore return addresses at labor camps. Some of them described conditions in the camps.

The United States government continued to receive reports of the imprisonment of Americans, some of them soldiers seized on the West-East border line in Germany.

In 1953, Austrian and Dutch war prisoners freed by the Russians started giving details of the imprisonment of Americans. They were able to identify a few of the Americans. These, the Russians released later.

RELEASE DEMANDED

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles announced on November 3, 1953, that he had demanded the release of all Americans imprisoned in Russia.

Americans still trickle back through the Iron Curtain from Russian labor camps.

The Big Four conference gives an opportunity for further inquiry about the rest.

Television Looks In on Cancer Operation

CHICAGO (INS)—A television camera will "look in" on a suspected cancer operation and subsequent examination of the removed tissue sample as part of The March of Medicine program for tonight.

The viewers will be able to watch the operation performed at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., and then the pathologists' examination at the neighboring armed forces institute of pathology.

Surgeons and audience will learn at the same instant whether or not the suspected tumor is a malignant growth.

The program, sponsored by Smith, Kline and French laboratories of Philadelphia and The American Medical Association, will be seen over the NBC network at 8:30 p.m.

Austria Ponders Defense Force

Size, Kind of Army for Nation Debated by Major Parties

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Austrian leaders are divided over how large and what sort of army their country will need when troops of the Big Four pull out this year.

Austria intends to declare its military neutrality as soon as its independence treaty, already signed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia, becomes effective.

To protect it from aggression, should this nation have a large force of nonprofessional militiamen like Switzerland or an elite standing army of maybe 20,000 to 30,000?

The two government coalition parties are split on the matter. They hope for some compromise when the issue comes up in a month or so in the Austrian Parliament.

The minority Socialist party reportedly favors calling up 150,000 to 180,000 men each year for training under a comparatively few professional officers.

The larger People's party, headed by Chancellor Julius Raab, reportedly favors an elite of about 20,000 to 30,000 men, supplemented by a limited number of draftees each year. Neither party has a majority in Parliament.

Both parties are agreed on two things: There should be universal military training, and an army is absolutely necessary. Austria is strategically located at the historic Danube River crossroads of Europe. She needs protection against aggression from any of her six neighbors, three of them Communist.

Chancellor Julius Raab has announced that he probably will ask the Big Four for permission to begin preparatory work on a defense force even before the occupation troops leave.

Raab's People's party reportedly does not want an army much larger than 30,000 at the present time because of the financial burden.

Tells Sheriff About Shooting Michigan Man

MINOT, N. D. (UP) — A man walked into the sheriff's office here and told authorities that he shot a man in the face with a shotgun near Cornell, Mich., Saturday night, Sheriff Cliff Westlake said today.

The man, who identified himself as Bruce Kins, Kokomo, Ind., said he did not know whether the man he shot was killed.

Westlake held Kins pending further investigation.

Kins said he broke into the farm home of Ernie Mattonen and waited for him to return. He said he held Mattonen up and took $47, shooting Mattonen in the face when he grabbed for the shotgun.

Kins said he took Mattonen's car and fled. His mind went blank, he said, until he found himself in St. Cloud, Minn. He drove on to Jamestown, N. D., where he abandoned the car and hitchhiked to Minot.

Kins told the sheriff he is a parolee from an Illinois penitentiary.

Korean War Bonuses Paid to 51,136 in State

LANSING (AP)—The adjutant general's office reported today that Korean War bonuses have been paid to 51,136 veterans.

This totaled $14,861,450.

About 250,000 bonuses are expected to be paid. More than 75,000 applications have already been received.

The office said that the claims are averaging $291 per veteran.

Wind Wins at Last

SPARTA, Ill. (AP)—A windstorm uprooted a tree in front of the Tom Tate home then shifted direction and righted it. Three days later high winds toppled the tree for a second and final time.

Williams Demands Ziegler's Program

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has asked State Highways Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler to outline plans today for starting work on a $35,000,000-a-year highway program.

Williams told the commissioner to be ready with a report on proposed projects at today's Administrative Board meeting.

"We want to know what plans he has for the immediate future," Williams said. "If he is really on the ball he will give us the plans for the entire year."

The governor said Ziegler, with whom he has frequently tangled, can be expected to act quickly in fulfilling the wishes of the Legislature and the people.

Bob Considine Says:

Outdoor Barbecue Sure Bet for Rainmaking

ALLENHURST, N.J. (INS) — Good-looking, youthful Gov. Meyner can send the check to 203 Allen Ave. Just make it out to cash. A million or two will do. It's little enough for the state to pay for my rain-making job.

The Considine system, as opposed to that of other scientists like Langhuir and Schaefer, involves no costly equipment such as a B29 with an udder of dr yice with which to seed maverick clouds.

The system has nothing to do with the incantations of the cloth or the voodoo of the quacks trying to flush a fast buck in an area whose cricks, farms and peonies demand a solid downpour of rain.

My system is simplicity itself. I say, with a hearty ring to the voice, "let's have an outdoor barbecue."

The first barbecue of the season in this fine little borough caused one of the most torrential downpours since the one that floated Noah's traveling zoo.

CHARCOAL DOES IT

There is apparently some subtle ingredient in charcoal which, when rising like incense into hitherto cloudless skies, causes violent changes overhead. Jagged arms of lightning suddenly disembowl the sky. The heavy artillery of heaven's thunder stands hub to hub and renews the war with Lucifer.

And the rains come as they never came for Louis Bromfield. At Allenhurst the water drove down the little chimney of the grill, hissed on the lovely glowing charcoal bed, and sent up coded messages of steak to HQ, overhead.

Two of my friends whose new system of introducing animation to the TV screen at a fraction of the cost (but much more warmth and charm) may revolutionize that phase of the medium, all but drowned. Marc Cramer and Norman Wright, rare types of weekend guest who like to help, stripped to the waist and fed the steaks and chops to the steaming fire.

A courageous little knot of us stood inside the house, having a warming drink. But we were generous enough to look out at them occasionally, half visible in the lashing deluge and swirling steam, and mutter, "Good show! Bully! Hope they don't make things too well done . . ."

NOT SURPRISING

America's millions of outdoor barbecue addicts won't be surpriced by two things that happened at Allenhurst's first such bacchanal of the 1955 season. In the first place, as mentioned, it rained. In the second place, all the red-blooded Americans who had nothing to do with the cooking agreed that it was fine.

All over the place you could hear people say, "Fine." Later it developed that they were ecalling a fellow of that name to make a fourth at canasta. But they would have cried fine with a small "F" even if the product of the grille had been something that would have turned a ravenous vulture queasy.

Cramer and Wright, recovering from smoke poisoning with the aid of pulmotor equipment rushed in by the Allenhurst Fire Department, were comforted by that response.

Their output indeed was bully (and, in the case of the chops, lamby) but in the perennial war between host and guests there are certain rules not unlike the Geneva Convention's resolution on another type of war. One is that no guest kicks the host's children, unless in defense, an dthe other is that all barbecues are to be lauded.

WASTE OF TIME

Aside from the needed rain it produces, the barbecue has always seemed to me a waste of time, money and comfort. I've heard people rave deliriously about the taste of the brittle husk of charcoal on their meat, but I've never heard one of them order a hunk of charcoal to nibble on between meals, o ra dash of charcoal in the martini.

However, the practice will persist, I' msure, and to make sure we don't lose too many people down on the Cadillac and canasta coast of Jersey, I'm herewith saying to the governor that if he's got half the class I think he's got he'll demand that every charcoal dealer throw into the sack a pair of water wings.

In addition to being the hardest of minerals, the diamond is the gem which has the widest range of color or luster.

Maine Men Making Seaweed Fertilizer

CHEBEAGUE ISLAND, Me. (UP)—Seaweed is being harvested here and turned into commercial fertilizer.

Richard A. MacCormack, 32, and Donald D. MacIntosh, 19, gather the weed at low tide. They let it dry and then machine-grind it into an organic fertilizer and soil conditioner.

The two islanders say a chemical analysis of their product, which is nourished entirely by the ocean, shows it is rich in phosphorus, potassium, sodium, calcium and nitrogen, as well as other minerals.

Because it grows under water, they claim seaweed fertilizer is better than hand-grown organic material as it is free of weed seeds, fungi spores and insect eggs.

Try starching men's handkerchiefs on the corners only. You'll find they stay neater when tucked in a jacket pocket.
