Snow Brings Out the Sweepers

CLEAR THE WALKS — The weatherman was piling up added chores for Pontiac housewives this morning. The light snowfall, not enough to bring out dad or the youngsters with shovels, was being swept away with brooms, as Mrs. Charles Harmon Jr., 48 Thorpe St., is doing here.

Highway Deaths Hit 382; State Has 19 Killed

Hope Still Held Out That Holiday Toll Won't Set Record

From Our News Wires

Careless driving and whirling speedometers swelled an awesome Christmas period traffic toll today but safety officials held out hope that auto fatalities might not hit the all-time holiday record.

The deadly traffic tally, which zoomed Christmas Day to a record-breaking pace, was still "substantially ahead" of 620 deaths predicted for the four-day holiday period by the National Safety Council.

However, a NSC spokesman reported Friday night that the soaring toll might not be bound for the all-time high of 706 traffic deaths, set in a similar Christmas period two years ago.

Two more highway fatalities today boosted the Christmas holiday death toll on Michigan highways to 19, ranking the state among the first six in the nation in traffic casualties.

The latest victims were Philip Creel, 23, Detroit, whose car blew a tire, jumped the curb and struck a pole, and Miss Ethel Davis, 26, Caro, who rammed into the rear of a parked car on a highway a few miles from her home.

Three young men riding with her were uninjured. Ironically, the driver of the parked car, Richard Lee Scott, had stopped his car to talk to Miss Davis' brother.

California led the nation with 40 traffic deaths, Texas was second with 35, dead, New York 26, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania 19 each, Illinois 18, North Carolina 17, Massachusetts 14, and

State to Achieve Cut in Highway Deaths

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan will achieve its goal of reducing traffic fatalities by at least 10 per cent in 1958, State police predicted today.

The forecast was made despite the high holiday death toll.

This will be the third straight year the state has accomplished a similar saving of lives.

Projected figures for the entire year are 1,375 fatalities, a saving of 162 lives and a 10.5 per cent reduction from last year.

She Knows Why Handcuffs Not a Good Present

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mrs. Charles Husted has decided that handcuffs as a Christmas present for her 5-year-old weren't such a good idea after all.

First, her husband accidentally manacled himself and struggled more than two hours to get loose.

Then yesterday, her son, Vincent, locked the handcuffs on his right ankle. Police had to be called to free the lad.

"I've hidden the handcuffs so that neither my boy nor my husband can play with them," Mrs. Husted said today.

Boy, 8, Killed by Girl's Car

Driver Says Youngster Darted Into Path of Her Auto

James C. Hanke, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hanke, 4820 Rochester Rd., Troy, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after being struck by a car about 6 p.m. yesterday.

Troy police said the driver of the car, Donna M. Sutherland, 19, of 204 De Villen St., Royal Oak, told them the boy darted into the path of her car on Rochester road near Glaser Street.

The girls said the boy was a few feet behind them when they heard a bump and looked back and "saw Jimmy rolling down the road."

Police said the girls ran to the boy's home, and that his parents called police.

No charges have been made against Miss Sutherland pending further investigation, police said.

Twenty-four was the lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The recording at 2 p.m. was 34.

Charge Couple Led Youth Burglary Ring

DETROIT (AP)—A Highland Park fireman and his wife were accused by police today of directing operations of a ring of juvenile burglars who broke into at least 63 homes, apartments, businesses and automobiles in recent months.

Police Lt. William Stephens of Highland Park said John McFarland, 42, and his wife, Mary, 39, would be charged with possession of stolen property.

Stephens said a number of stolen items were found in the McFarland apartment and that they included two television sets, an outboard motor and clothing.

The lieutenant said the arrests were made on information of three juveniles who admitted 63 breakins and said the McFarlands directed them.

NEW YORK — The Delaware, Lackawana & Western Railroad said it will ask the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission today for permission to drop 42 suburban passenger trains.

Meantime, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. to keep its passenger trains operating while the agency conducts an investigation of the railroad's proposal to abandon them.

Admits Killing Nurse

AP Wirephoto

HELD IN SLAYING — Luis Moya, 22, left, has admitted, police say, that he and Augustine Baldonado, 25, were hired to kill nurse Olga Duncan of Ventura, Calif. Detective Ray Higgins questions Moya.

Indict Mother, Two Men in Murder of Young Bride

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson was discussing Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, who was indicted Friday on a charge of murder, along with the two men she is accused of hiring to kill her daughter-in-law.

Talking to reporters following the return of the indictments, Gustafson said it was a dramatic midnight confession by one of the accused hired killers that led to the county grand jury's swift action.

The jurors deliberated only 15 minutes before indicting Mrs. Duncan, Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, for the murder of Olga Duncan, 30, pregnant wife of Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank.

Moya, a drifter with an eight-year record of arrests, had maintained a sullen silence since the body of the Canadian nurse was found in a hastily dug grave near here last Sunday. But as midnight tolled on Christmas night he called in his jailers.

"I have confessed to God and ask forgiveness," he told them, and gave a statement the district attorney said corroborated in every detail one made earlier by Baldonado.

The two men say Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000, to kill the woman her son had married last June. They carried out the murder plot last Nov. 17, they said, luring the bride into their car and choking and beating her to death.

A fierce jealousy lay behind Mrs. Duncan's plotting, Gustafson said. She did everything she could to prevent her son's marriage and to break it up after the ceremony. Duncan has separated from his bride after two weeks and gone back to live with his mother.

Mrs. Duncan has denied any connection with her daughter-in-law's death. She also has denied being jealous of the pretty nurse.

Mrs. Duncan did not testify. Her son did, however, and it was a shaken, dejected man who walked from the jury room.

Duncan, 30, a bushy-haired man with heavy, dark-rimmed glasses, told reporters he had been asked mostly about his mother and her many marriages, four of them in eight years to men much younger than she. They ended in annulment or divorce.

"I find it fantastic to believe that mother killed my wife," he said. "I never recall her being cruel. She has never been able to hurt anyone or anything. She would have to be insane to have done it."

Sends Troops to Halt Rebels in Las Villas

From Our News Wires

HAVANA—President Fulgencio Batista shook up the central Cuban army command today and ordered 2,000 reinforcements to the "waistband" province of Las Villas to halt a rebel drive to split Cuba in two.

The rebel radio has said the fall of Santa Clara, capital of Las Villas, was a "matter of hours." It also claimed that the port of Caibarien on the north coast of Las Villas had been captured and that the south coast naval base at Cienfuegos was "besieged."

Batista met with his top army, navy and police officials at the presidential palace and later issued a communique announcing a shakeup in the army high command.

The communique said Col. Jose Casillas Lumpuy, a veteran of the anti-Castro fighting in rebel-dominated Oriente Province, had been named to replace Brig. Gen. Alberto Rio Chaviano as zone commander in Las Villas Province.

Col. Cecilio Fernandez Aguero was appointed provincial operations officer and 2,000 troops were ordered to move into the area to halt the rebel drive.

Batista also announced he had recalled to duty Gen. Jose. E. Pedraza, who was army inspector general and chief of police during Batista's presidency from 1940-1944.

While Castro's forces appeared gaining strength on arms smuggled from the United States, there was grumbling in government circles at the attitude taken by Washington.

The United States was accused by many of helping the rebels, in effect, by maintaining an embargo on shipment of weapons to the Batista government.

The insurgents, in a more confident mood now, are able for the first time to occupy populated

Dag Visiting Sudan

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is making an official two-day visit to Sudan.

Tibet Defies Red China; 65,000 Reported Dead

TOKYO (UPI)—Reports filtering out of remote Tibet indicated today the tiny, ancient nation is waging an armed revolt against Chinese Communist rule. They said 65,000 persons had been killed in the months-long fighting.

The reports came from New Delhi, Calcutta, Bhutan, Katmandu, Kalimpong, Darjeeling and smaller hill cities near the Tibetan border.

Commercial travelers and refugees said the largest flareup came in the August-October period when the proud Khamba tribe in the eastern province of Kham revolted.

They said about 50,000 Chinese Reds were killed. Tibetan death estimates ranged from 5,000 to 15,000.

The Communists tacitly admitted they were having trouble in Tibet when they announced that they were delaying imposition of their heavily-criticized people's commune system in that country.

There apparently has not been any large-scale fighting in the past two months, but numerous small scale actions have occurred.

Nationalist Chinese sources on Formosa claimed that the Tibet revolt also has spread to four provinces in northwest China. In some areas, rebels have seized key positions and forced Communists into the mountains, they said.

Adding to the Chinese Communists' woes, most of them brought on by the commune system, were the thousands of refugees fleeing into Burma. Rangoon reports said these refugees refuse to return to China even on the threat of death.

Reports reaching New Delhi said the main road from Tibet was closed in October when the Khambas booby-trapped it with ditches covered with earth and sticks. They also destroyed several trucks by rolling huge boulders down the mountain sides on them.

The reports said that the Tibetans were angered by the increase of Chinese settlers being sent into the nation and the deportation of about 5,000 young Tibetans to Red China for "higher training."

The immediate cause of the fall flareup, however, was the Chinese Communist scheme to divide Tibet into three areas. The central portion would have been under the Dalai Lama and the western section under the Panchen Lama with the capital at Shigatse. The Chinese Communists intended to control the eastern state of Kham themselves.

Travelers in Bhutan said that the underground resistance movement in Tibet already has succeeded in infiltrating areas which the Reds previously considered "safe."

There was a recent fight at Shigatse, headquarters of the Panchen Lama, whom many consider to be a Red Chinese puppet. It was thought this was an attempt on the Lama's life because several of his bodyguards were killed.

It is generally believed that the Dalai Lama is being forced by the Communists to cooperate with them and some circles believe that he himself might be behind the revolt.

The Indian government still has not formally denied reports that the Dalai Lama has sought asylum in India.

Hams Report Balloon Landed in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Aerial searchers tried today to pin down unconfirmed reports from ham radio operators that the British balloon Small World had landed in eastern Venezuela after a transatlantic flight.

The amateur radio operators reported that the balloon and its four passengers had landed near Pedernales, a Venezuelan port on the Atlantic at the northern edge of the wide delta. The town is just 20 miles west of the tip of Trinidad in the British West Indies.

The report gained strength when Minister of Communications Oscar Machado Zuloaga was quoted in Caracas newspapers as saying the balloon had landed in Venezuela.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority said, however, that it had nothing to confirm the report. It was supervising the search by a Communications Ministry DC3. After searching for only an hour or two, the plane was forced by darkness to land at Maturin, 60 miles west of Pedernales.

The Small World cast off from Santa Cruz de Tenerife in the Canary Islands, 65 miles off the coast of Morocco, on Dec. 12. The goal was to drift with the winds to Barbados, some 3,000 miles away in the West Indies Federation.

This was the first attempt of a free balloon to float across the Atlantic.

The purpose was to study weather conditions and wind currents.

Those aboard were pilot A.B. Elloart, 51, a London businessman; his son Timothy, 21, radioman; navigator Colin Mudie, 31, who crossed the Atlantic in 1952 in a 19-foot whaleboat; and Mudie's wife Rosemary, 30, the cook, photographer and co-pilot.

City Doctor Urges Vivisection

'Use the Condemned to Advance Science'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Condemned prisoners, before being put to death, should be allowed to volunteer for painless medical experiment under anesthesia, a Michigan doctor said Saturday.

Dr. Jack Kevorkian, 30, 294 Cherokee Rd., proposed that in the end death could be induced by an overdose of the anesthetic.

A former staff member of the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, Dr. Kevorkian resigned in June to do private research.

And if the man changed his mind after volunteering, he should be permitted to back out a week before the date of his scheduled execution, Kevorkian said. He did not indicate how long the experiments would be carried on.

Kevorkian told a meeting of criminologists that the plan would mean active participation for the law in helping science and humanity.

"For the condemned," Dr. Kevorkian said, "it offers one last privilege—be it warranted or not—to decide how he should die. The purpose of capital punishment will be fulfilled—the man's life will be ended; but his death will be subjectively more tolerable to anticipate and to experience."

Speaking to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, he said scientists, by studying living human bodies, could make

McLean Trucking Co., of Winston-Salem, N. C., largest motor freight common carrier headquartered in the South, has purchased 110 GMC Diesel cab-over-engine highway tractors.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the sale was made by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager for the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

The new units involved in the sale have the GM super economy diesel engine developing 190 horsepower and are rated at 65,000 pounds gross combination weight.

They join 185 similar tractors in the McLean fleet, which have been in use over the past 10 months.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Production schedules at GMC Truck and Coach have been revised upward to meet the heavy demand for the vehicles, Woodhouse said.

Boy Driving Without License; Rolls Car Over

A 14-year-old Milford boy was ticketed for driving an auto without an operator's license and his friend was taken to Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after the auto rolled over in Milford Township.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Ronald A. Kunder of 1748 Handy Dr., was ordered to appear in the Oakland County Juvenile Court within 15 days. The accident occurred on W. Commerce at Hickory Ridge road.

The passenger, James B. Salkeld, 15, of 1736 Shoreline Dr., Milford, was treated for hip and chest abrasions at the hospital and released.

Ronald told deputies he was unable to explain the accident. The car rolled over near a sharp curve and the pavement was wet, deputies said.

Rossellini Seeking Custody of Children

ROME (UPI)—An attorney for Roberto Rossellini asked a court today to give him custody of the three children born of his marriage to Ingrid Bergman.

An Italian custody verdict would not necessarily be of much value to the movie director. The children—8-year-old Robertino and the 6-year-old twins, Isotta and Isabella, are living near Paris with their mother and her new husband, Lars Schmidt.

No Settlement Near, Say Airline Pilots

CHICAGO (UPI) — Spokesmen for 1,500 American Airlines pilots today indicated predictions of an early end to the strike that has grounded the nation's largest fleet of airliners may have been premature.

C. N. Sayen, president of the Air Lines Pilots Association, said that although he spoke by telephone with Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board, about a truce proposal, he had "no idea" where Edwards had got the impression a settlement was in the offing.

Edwards announced yesterday that the results of a conversation between the three-man mediation board in Washington and the ALPA in Chicago made him "hopeful the strike may be resolved within the next few days."

"The only thing discussed was the proposal forwarded earlier by Edwards," Sayen said. "There were some points on that proposal that needed clarification."

Neither Edwards nor Sayen said which of the 12 points in the package proposal were discussed.

American Airlines, which has been strikebound since Dec. 21, accepted Edwards' proposal shortly after it was proffered but the union has held out for further clarification of the terms.

The strike against American, coupled with twin strikes by flight engineers and mechanics at Eastern Airlines, had idled one third of the nation's air carriers at the height of the Christmas holiday travel rush.

Although machinists have accepted a new contract, a spokesman said they will not cross picket lines still maintained by the striking engineers, now in the 34th day.

Should the engineers settle their differences with EAL, the airline has still another problem — the flight attendants union is threatening to strike if an agreement is not reached in its negotiations with the company.

Britain to Allow Pound Exchange

Expect Other European Countries to Follow Suit in Money Conversion

LONDON (UPI)—Britain was reliably reported today to be on the verge of permitting the pound sterling to be converted freely into foreign exchange. Several other European countries hastened to follow suit.

★ ★ ★

The moves coincided with an expected announcement later today that France would devalue the franc and, possibly, replace it with a new "hard" franc with most of the post-war inflationary zeros lopped off.

★ ★ ★

The British Treasury scheduled a news conference at which it was expected to announce that the pound would be freely convertible abroad.

Similar announcements were expected in West Germany and Norway.

In Copenhagen, the Danish government announced today that the Danish kroner will be made freely convertible abroad starting Monday.

Pontiac Woman Is Extradited

Eleanor Joann Wilson Returned to Rochester in Robbery - Beating

A 21-year-old woman arrested in Pontiac Thursday has been charged with first-degree grand larceny in the robbery of a North Syracuse, N. Y., salesman.

Miss Eleanor Joann Wilson, a night club entertainer, was returned to Rochester, N. Y., last night. She waived examination before Justice of the Peace Lamont McNall and was ordered held for the grand jury.

She was picked up Thursday by Detroit police at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wilson, 73 Seminole Ave., on a fugitive warrant.

The salesman, George Fisher, is in critical condition after being beaten in a motel near Rochester. He was robbed of $50 and a gold ring, police said.

Miss Wilson told Detroit authorities she had spent some time with Fisher at the motel but denied any part in the beating or robbery.

The rebels are reported creating local civil governments in anticipation of taking over complete towns.

The government called the rebel claim to Santa Clara "premature," but did not directly contradict the other rebel claims, which indicated an all-out insurgent effort to split the 750-mile island in two with Fidel Castro's rebels occupying the Eastern end and Batista's government holding the west.

Civilians were warned to keep clear of rebel positions as the government proclaimed an all-out drive to wipe out the insurgents.

Army planes are reported already to have bombed the outskirts of Placetas on the main highway east of Santa Clara, where the rebels are tightening a ring around the capital of Las Villas province.

The two-year rebellion faced its bloodiest turn as government forces struck at heavily populated districts which until now have been kept out of the range of gunfire.

The 3rd Military Dist. command in Las Villas said that henceforth army planes and troops would attack rebels wherever they are hiding out. Civilians staying in houses occupied by insurgents were warned they would be regarded as belligerents.

A shortage of weapons and ammunition was hampering the government of President Fulgencia Batista in countering attacks by the rebel forces of Fidel Castro.

With the fighting moving toward the bigger cities, the rebel radio Friday boasted that even Havana would be taken over soon.

Hold Detroit Man in Robbery - Beating

JACKSON (UPI) — Police today held David W. Napier, 35, Detroit, for investigation in the hammer bludgeoning and robbery of a woman clerk in a Jackson dime store.

The victim, Miss Ruth Nichols, 33, was in critical condition at Foote Hospital, Jackson, following a night of surgery, suffering multiple skull fractures from the impact of several hammer blows.

Miss Nichols was alone in the store last night when her attacker entered. He apparently demanded money. She may have resisted, and he beat her over the head with the hammer. Miss Nichols, in the struggle, tore a pocket of the assailant's jacket and a piece of the cloth was found clutched in her hand. The robber took $116 from the cash register and fled.

Was Team's Widest Flanker

College President Arrives

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — The Missouri Valley football team's "Lonesome President" arrived here by bus today and said he couldn't understand why family and friends had thought he was lost.

★ ★ ★

Dr. M. Earle Collins, president of Missouri Valley College, said he caught an earlier than planned train in Missouri and did not tell his family because "they were all asleep" when he decided to leave around midnight.

"I can't understand why they were worried," he said. "I went around the world once. They didn't hear from me for weeks and weeks at a time and they didn't worry about me then."

Collins said he got off the train in Jacksonville because he was tired after the long day coach ride from Missouri and got some sleep in a Jacksonville hotel. He had planned to catch one train this morning, then a later one, and finally took the bus because he was afraid he would be late for the kickoff.

Missouri Valley's football team will play East Texas State in the Tangerine Bowl this afternoon and Collins planned to be in the stands.

But for a time it looked as though he would be the widest flanker in the history of the game.

The annual play is one of the holiday highlights for area school children.

Crespo refused to reveal the name of his sergeant-mechanic who was scheduled to return to Havana by commercial airliner.

The plane carried no bombs but it mounted eight .50-caliber machine guns.

Crespo's lawyer in Miami, Jack King, said a hearing will determine whether his client will be admitted to the United States.

★ ★ ★

The pilot said he had been ordered to bomb Cuban cities in the government's fight against rebel forces and decided to get out. His parents live in Havana, he said.

Cuban sources here said they never had heard of such an order.

There would be important differences between his plan and work on humans conducted by Nazi doctors in World War II, Kevorkian said.

The condemned prisoners would be asked to volunteer for these medical research projects. The experiments would be well thought out and significant so that the life would not be wasted.

Nazi scientists were either outright sadists or fanatical party members—by no means representative of German medical genius, Kevorkian said.

"Experiments are to be aimed at general objectives of great value dealing with unsolved riddles of human health and life, for the good of every human being," he said.

And the subject who volunteers for such medical experiments will be thoroughly anesthesized—"being executed after feeling no more discomfort than a needle prick in the arm," Kevorkian said.

Described as "more brilliant than diamonds," they include the largest cut synthetic rutile, a 52-carat stone, said to outshine the famed Hope diamond, the institute reports.

Products of the Kenya Gems Corporation of Philadelphia, Pa., the display has been loaned to Cranbrook by the Chicago National History Museum. It will remain there through Jan. 22.

At the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, a special 4 p.m. communion service will be held tomorrow for college students and their parents. The Rev. Theodore Wuggazer will speak on "Christmas Tears."

Relief From Winter

Warm Air Invades East

By The Associated Press

A warm air invasion, triggered by mild southerly winds, hugged the eastern third of the nation today while rainfall licked the Southeast and the Northwest.

The warming trend offered more Christmas season relaxation for many parts of the East from the winter cold. The generally fair climes also provided a holiday-season attraction for motorists to hit the road despite the tragic highway death toll.

The Weather Bureau forecast daytime 40-degree temperatures for much of the Northeast, slightly less readings in the Ohio Valley and portions of the Midwest and South, and temperatures upwards of 50 degrees for a vast area of Dixie.

However, forecasters also saw occasional rain moving into the mid-Atlantic states and New York during the evening.

Light to heavy rainfall gave southern Florida an overnight dousing with half inch amounts already reported at Fort Myers, Palm Beach and Tampa. More than six inches of precipitation has drenched Port Everglades, Fla. since Christmas night.

Portions of Georgia and Alabama also got a sprinkling.

To the extreme northwest, spreading rains swirled through Washington, Montana and the central portions of California.

For a six hour period Friday night, the San Francisco area caught more than an inch of rain. Along the northern California coast and parts of Oregon, similar amounts were measured.

There were traces of rainfall in the mid section down through the South. Amounts generally less than a tenth of an inch were reported from Illinois to Louisiana.

A stream of cold air, although not of major proportions, poured into the Central and Southern Plains.

Plane Wrecked on Take - off

60 Escape, 3 Die in Crash

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Three persons from Johannesburg, South Africa, were killed Friday in the crash of a French charter airliner as it tried to take off in a gusty rainstorm.

The other 60 passengers and all seven crew members got out before fire consumed the American-made DC6. Twenty-four were hospitalized with burns. The hospital said all were off the danger list today although one woman still was in serious condition.

A South African travel agency had chartered the four-engine plane from the French Union Aero Maritime de Transport. Most of the passenger were on holiday excursions to Paris and European winter resorts.

The plane had stopped in Salisbury to refuel and was taking off for Brazzabille, French equatorial Africa. Just as its landing gear was coming up, it twisted and plummetted to the runway from 50 feet up, possibly because of a violent gust of wind, witnesses said. Fire broke out immediately.

Dairy Farmers Advised to Improve Forage

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dairy farmers faced with slumping net incomes have been advised to improve forage practices and revise crop rotations.

The advice comes from Roy Hoglund, Michigan State University Farm economist.

He says higher yields of better quality forage more than offset the cost of changing from average to improve forage practices.

Presses on 9 Dailies May Roll Again Monday

Settle New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A tentative settlement has been reached in the costliest newspaper strike in New York City history. A back-to-work move hinges on a membership vote Sunday by striking deliverers.

★ ★ ★

The peace formula to end the strike, now in its 18th day, was announced Friday night by the nation's top federal mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan. He expressed himself as "mighty pleased" by the package settlement granting wage increases and other concessions.

The nine struck dailies may be back on the streets by Monday if terms are accepted by the independent Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union.

Asher Schwartz, union attorney, said union officials are confident the terms will be acceptable to the membership.

Twice before, the union membership turned down tentative settlements proposed by their negotiators.

Newsstands have been bare of papers since Dec. 9, when the 4,500-member union walked out. Normally the nine dailies print 5½ million copies daily and 8½ million on Sunday.

According to official estimates, retail sales dropped by 7 per cent during the pre-Christmas buying rush. The newspaper industry has lost about 25 million dollars in advertising and other revenues. The walkout idled 15,000 nonstriking newspaper employes, who suffered a payless Christmas. Some 5,000 others stayed on the payrolls on a standby basis.

The previous longest strike in the city's newspaper history was in 1953, when photoengravers walked out for 11 days.

The newspapers involved are the Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News, Mirror, Journal-American, Post, World-Telegram and Sun, Long Island Star Journal and Long Island Daily Press.

Most newsstands in the city have shut down. Nearby Newark, N.J., and Westchester County, N.Y., papers have been publishing, but are not sending extra copies into New York. Newsday, a daily at Garden City, N.Y., continues to circulate in Long Island's Nassau and Suffolk counties.

All sides seemed agreed that, since the balloting runs until late Sunday night, there was more likelihood of the first publishing being by Monday afternoon papers rather than by Monday morning papers.

★ ★ ★

Atlas Still Talking After 35 Sessions

The Defense Department said the four and a half ton satellite exchanged four more voice and teletypewriter messages yesterday with Army ground stations. The giant missile was "interrogated and tested successfully" on four successive passes across the United States.

It marked the 35th time since the Atlas was shot aloft by the air force Dec. 18 that the delicate outer space communications "brain" has been interrogated.

The Pentagon reported that thus far since President Eisenhower's Christmas message was broadcast to earth a week ago, the relay equipment has been loaded and unloaded with messages 29 times.

Probe Death of GI Found Near Tracks

Coroner Lee Stevenson said Martin apparently had been on a speeding Milwaukee Railroad train bound for Chicago from Seattle. His duffle bag and cap were found on the train. Martin was en route home for the holidays from Korea.

Stevenson at first had been quoted as saying it was known that the top half of a vestibule door was open.

Stevenson explained today, however, he had said merely that probably was the only chance the man could have left the train.

It Seems to Me . . .

Notre Dame's Actions Toward Brennan Bring Much Criticism

At a time when most universities and colleges are retrenching in their football programs, Notre Dame leaps into the limelight with an unmistakable challenge.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame proposes to win. Make no mistake about that. The "victory-at-all-costs" banner is unfurled and Coach Terry Brennan is tossed into the ash can on Christmas Eve with an utter disregard for human feelings.

It isn't becoming. If Notre Dame still regards a winning football team as an irreplaceable asset, that's her privilege; but it would be more seemly to give the young man a chance to resign with honor and dignity to himself, his family, and a wide circle of friends. The cries of disapproval are drowning out the original proclamation, for the protests have been nationwide. My friend, BOB REYNOLDS, told his radio listeners: "You'll regret this, Notre Shame." LYALL SMITH headlines his denunciation with: "Look, Notre Dame. Tail Wags Your Dog Again."

Terry Brennan's brother, Joseph says: "Notre Dame is throwing out the pious pronouncements and is going to win at all costs." If there exists this burning desire to win, win, win, it would be more becoming for a collegiate institution to mask the hot heat or clothe it in greater respectability. And I don't suggest hypocrisy.

A persistent rumor suggests that a wealthy group of alumni and friends are sponsoring a gigantic drive for endowment funds and one of their primary stipulations is a football team that wins about every game it plays. This would be one of the greatest mistakes in judgment ever exercised by frenzied friends of "education." It would place a definite stigma on a great institution.

★ ★ ★

Collegiate football isn't gaining. Colleges and universities that once claimed the best high school talent are progressively looking the other way if these young men can't "cut it" scholastically. They shrug their shoulders and close their academic doors. The recent collegiate panels at MSUO have made this plain. They aren't discontinuing football and they offer scholarships openly to worthy and deserving boys. But there's no "win at any cost" tag tied to the deal.

★ ★ ★

In five years, TERRY BRENNAN'S Notre Dame teams have won 32 and lost 18. That's a stout enough record for anyone that isn't maniacal on the subject.

But it isn't enough at Notre Dame. They demand more.

If Notre Dame wants to win at any cost, she can do it. That's for sure. She can sail into the open market and corner the scholastic rejects from other institutions.

★ ★ ★

Personally, I refuse to believe that this program reflects the hearts and desires of Notre Dame graduates in general. I don't believe it mirrors the undergraduate opinion; and I'm even certain it doesn't echo the sentiments of all those fine churchmen on the Notre Dame faculty. Somewhere, the wrong boys got too much authority and the megaphone section took over.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame has always played clean, fierce, expert football. Her squads behave and they reflect credit and honor on intercollegiate athletics. You don't see unsavory incidents involving a Notre Dame player or coach. They've been exemplary in their conduct and behavior.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime, we extend the hand of fellowship and sympathy to personable young Terry Brennan who encounters an unhappy deal and who is the victim of a fading element in intercollegiate athletics.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Not many people know it, but one of President EISENHOWER'S best friends in Michigan is "BOB" BIGGERS of Chrysler . . . . . PHYLLIS BATTELLE, our own feminine columnist, is a niece of Mrs. JAMES NANCE of Lone Pine road. She's due here in March and I promise you a photo of the two together. PHYLLIS will have to be at her best to keep abreast of Oakland County's own LAURA (BATTELLE) NANCE in looks, gracious bearing and feminine charm . . . . . The great, vast reaches of Western Canada had more snow through December 20th than they had all of last year.

Corn and wheat crops on this continent will break all records in 1958 in spite of reduced acreage . . . . . At the Jones' reception for Victor Borge, he turned out to be just as entertaining informally as he is professionally . . . . . Bill Downey, vice president of the Detroit Lions, tells me they're really after Michigan's Jim Pace. They had a deal well along when Albert left the Forty Niners and now they start over . . . . . Bum: "Gimme a penny, huh?" Man: "What good'll that do?" Bum: "I wanna see how much weight I lost since yesterday."

"TEDDY" ROOSEVELT once said: "You are the government — you and I." But that was before HOFFA . . . . . Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady: NANCY NICHOLSON . . . . . GISELE MACKENZIE says: "Happiness isn't getting what you want; but in wanting what you get." Another straight "A" for one of my favorite entertainers . . . . . They tell me in Gotham that the professional bookies were taken to the cleaners this fall on the pro football results which "wouldn't behave." . . . . . A guy with a million friends: EARL MAXWELL.

PEOPLE have been brainwashed so long and so thoroughly to do their Christmas shopping early that many of them this season did all or most of it in November.

IT IS no wonder that a large number of people are ailing physically and emotionally. Having to put up with this world and one another is hard on people.

IF WE could see ourselves as others see us, we'd feel certain their vision was exceedingly poor and enormously distorted.

"THE National Safety Council is urging sobriety at office Christmas parties."—Press report. That's an excellent idea. For an employe to tank up and insult the boss is highly unsafe.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

"Ring out the old
Ring in the new Ring out the false
Ring in the true."
—Tennyson

New Year's is a time for taking spiritual inventory, for looking back over the old year and assessing the good and the bad, for looking forward into the future with hope and faith and courage.

The Romans had something like this in mind in their ancient god Janus, who represented the first hour of the day, the first day of the month and the first month of the year, and who was always first in prayer. Janus, from which we derive our word January, was always portrayed looking backward and forward.

New Year's gives us a chance to profit by the past and rekindle our faith in the future.

"So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

Cabinet Silent About Revaluation

France Awaiting Word on Francs

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — An eight-hour cabinet meeting in Premier De Gaulle's office broke up today with only a brief announcement that decisions had been taken on the 1959 budget and on economic and fiscal matters.

★ ★ ★

Frenchmen and foreign bankers thus were kept waiting amid wide speculation that the French franc might be cut in value and then replaced with a new franc.

President Rene Coty was scheduled to preside at another Cabinet meeting this afternoon to ratify the financial decisions. The word might be given out then or in a Sunday night radio and television address by De Gaulle.

It is generally expected that the franc will be devalued — latest speculation says from an official rate of 420 to the dollar to 500 to the dollar. Then a new franc might be issued that would be worth 20 cents each, or 100 times the devalued franc.

This will be done by printing new notes with an exchange on the basis of 10 new francs for 1,000 old ones.

Some reports said Finance Minister Antoine Pinay felt a 10 to 15 per cent cut in value would bring French prices into line with those of the other five nations in the European Common Market, which goes into operation Thursday.

However, he is represented as expecting French prices to edge up even further in the next few months and wants to make advance provision for this. Therefore, a 19 per cent drop from 420 to 500 was expected.

There was also speculation that some kind of convertibility will be arranged. The franc now is generally not convertible to prevent black market purchases followed by conversion at the legal rate. The black market rate was 471 when exchanges closed Christmas Eve. They were kept closed on official order Friday to prevent a further decline in the franc's value on the basis of devaluation rumors.

In Norway, the Oslo exchange suspended all quotations on foreign currencies on order of the Bank of Norway. An exchange spokesman said the suspension obviously was a result of unstable conditions created by uncertainty over the French franc.

The same action was taken in Denmark by the Copenhagen money exchange. A Danish government spokesman said there will be an official announcement if and when the French government acts.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Here's Simple Way to Break Habit

Laura has met her Prince Charming, but she has learned that he has no use for a girl who has her bad habit. So she wants to know how to break her slavery. Scrapbook this case for it gives you the latest medico-psychological advice on getting rid of bad habits. They are 5th columnists, so banish them now!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I have a very serious problem," she began, "for it means I may lose the only man I have ever wanted to marry.

★ ★ ★

"He is a medical student and has no use for girls who smoke. Thus far he does not know I am a cigarette addict.

DR. CRANE

"So I want to quit. But it is difficult for me to do so, since most of the girls in my dormitory smoke.

"In fact, one of the cigarette companies furnishes free cartons of cigarettes to the sorority houses every week, just to help encourage us to learn the habit.

"What is the simplest way to break my slavery to tobacco?"

BREAK BAD HABITS

Bad habits are like fifth columnists. They rise up and may ruin your chances at a crucial moment.

★ ★ ★

Laura may thus lose the only man she has ever cared for. And if so, it will be her cigarette habit which serves as the fifth columnist.

If you are addicted to any bad habit, the best way to become free is to make an open, public revolt.

Utter a vow in the sight and hearing of others that you are quitting liquor or tobacco or overeating or whatever may be your vice.

For this public declaration puts you on the spot. And your pride will then help you maintain that public declaration.

It is almost impossible to taper off with tobacco or liquor, although that is the only safe method for losing excess weight.

HOW TO STOP SMOKING

After you are a tobacco addict, you reach for a cigarette subconsciously as a means of expending pent up nervous energy.

It really isn't the craving for nicotine, for experiments have shown that when confirmed cigarette smokers had 98 per cent of the nicotine secretly removed from their tobacco, they didn't notice the difference.

No, it is primarily a "muscle hunger" that makes you feel a desire to reach for your cigarettes and then wave your arm around in the act of smoking.

So try to substitute some other habitual act so that you can go through much of the same old muscular pattern.

For example, carry candy coated gum in the same pocket or purse where you formerly had your cigarettes.

Then reach for the package, shake out a piece of gum, restore the package to your pocket and chew vigorously.

The act of chewing exercises the muscles of the jaw. They aren't as large as the arm muscles so they don't drain off energy as fast, but you can chew longer, so the net result is about the same.

FINGER GADGETS

To help occupy your nervous fingers, carry a rubber ball in your pocket so you can keep squeezing it as you walk along the street. This muscular action of hand and arm can drain off as much energy as the former habit of smoking.

And if you hostesses will keep some hand gadgets around the house so young people can use their fingers constantly, you will find they do not feel as much need for cigarettes or liquor glasses.

Young people crave hand action to keep their nervous tension down to a complacent level so give them more wholesome substitutes than liquor or cigarettes.

Send for my booklet, "How to Break the Tobacco & Liquor Habits," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

You give yourself a $2 wage increase per week when you quit cigarettes for that's what they cost the average smoker.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his phychological charts and pamphlets.

'Keego Raid Description Was Not Accurate'

The raid conducted in Keego Harbor Dec. 13 was certainly not properly described. When police arrived, the audience was viewing a TV hockey match, and not waiting for an obscene film.

The police found nothing and just arrested someone to save face. Why did they single out those two when there were many others around? And how can anyone be charged with loitering in his own place when nothing improper is going on?

Anyone who walks into an open shop on Sunday does so of his free will. As for the salesclerk who must work, she isn't chained to the counter. What of the taxicab driver, doctor, bus driver, druggist? And even the poor factory worker gets called in occasionally.

The Green Empress

(Copyright 1958) . . . by Elizabeth Cadell

THE STORY: Angus Graham, invalided out of the Navy, is amused at being hired by Sir Claud as a "liaison officer" for the simple job of courier on a superlative luxury bus tour in Europe. He's filling in for his friend Wax Sealing. The passenger list sounds impressive — Lord Lorrimer, father of a Navy friend, with his lovely daughter, Angela Clunes, and his secretary, Lionel Yule, obviously in love with Angela; Mr. Zoller, philanthropist, and his wife; Admiral Peterson and his psychic sister, Mrs. Denby-Warre; the irrepressible young Sir Maurice Tarrant; Stanton Holt, an American, who asks to meet Miss Seton, with the warm, humorous, intelligent eyes. The crossing to France is uneventful. Miss Seton confides to Angus she is half-sister to Rosamund Blake who has just completed a film in Italy and is sailing to South America. She plans to surprise Rosamund by meeting her boat in Lisbon. Ferdy Brewer, the driver, plans to stay close to the Green Empress during the night. In the middle of the night Miss Seton receives a mysterious phone call, with bad news. Ferdy Brewer, the driver, reports there were prowlers in the night, someone tried the garage bolts. Angus and Angela are in love, but Angus feels he should have something to offer her. Yule, complains that Tarrant is a nuisance and believes he is annoying Miss Clunes.

CHAPTER XI

"If he was just on the point of proposing to you," he said, "don't let me interrupt. As a matter of fact, he'd make an excellent husband for you. I could support you until my money ran out — which it's doing with regrettable speed.

★ ★ ★

"By that time, he'd be making some, and he could take over. He'll wear longer than I will. I'm in full possession now, but my father was as bald as a pebble at thirty, and I shall go the same way."

"Don't you ever," asked Angela, "talk anything but rubbish?"

He grinned.

"Seldom, Seldom. But when you've finished having what you think is an intelligent conversation, have you ever stopped to analyze it? You'll find that everybody's talked tripe, but on serious topics.

"You can talk tripe, write tripe and act tripe — just so long as you keep it above the comedy level. I don't know why this is. I haven't had time to work it out, but you can take it as gospel.

"I've just proved it, as a matter of fact. I got tired of the dirty glances Mrs. Denby-Warrehorse kept sending me, and so I went over and talked to her and hinted — oh, so delicately — that my manner concealed an inner tragedy.

'MIGHTN'T BE BAD'

"And now . . . I'm at her table for lunch, at her earnest request. So long."

"If he could ever persuade a girl to marry him," said Angela, looking after him thoughtfully, "he mightn't make a bad husband. What did Lionel go and sit beside you for? It wasn't to look at the map, was it?"

"It was to complain about, Tarrant — and it was also to tell me, in an oblique way, that he had a lien on you."

"Well, he hasn't and he hadn't and that's that," she said. "Be nice to father at lunch."

"All I want to do to your father is tell him about us."

"I'll tell him at dinner tonight."

Say after me, Angela Rosemary, I love you very much indeed."

"Angela Rosemary, if you wait fifteen years, I think I'll be able to keep you in something like comfort, but in the meantime, you'll have to put up with less than the best."

"Other women have done it."

"Not many women have had your gilded upbringing. A man who comes asking for your hand in marriage will be expected to bring something besides his hopes. And here's your father and here's our table. Be seated, Miss Clunes."

Lunch was a pleasant but not today, a leisurely meal. There was a marked change in the atmosphere; a general feeling that the interesting part of the trip was about to begin.

The Loire was before them and soon they would cross it on their way to the beautiful district of the Dordogne.

'THEY SHOULD FLY'

"It's a pity," remarked Maurice, as they all settled themselves in the coach one more, "that you can't put wings on cars and coaches and fly 'em over the dull bits.

"Especially in your country," he told Mr. Holt. "Why don't you bring your scenic splendors closer together?"

"We like to build up a lot of anticipation before you get to them," explained Mr. Holt. "Look." He jerked his head towards the view. "That's the Loire. Ever seen Angers, admiral?"

The admiral, with an effort, roused himself.

"Who?"

"The town of Angers. Interesting place."

"Angers? Angers? Yes, I recollect now," said the admiral. "That's where they make umbrellas."

★ ★ ★

"Well — " began Mr. Holt.

"And roofing slates," proceeded the admiral.

"Who?"

"And there's a Chateau there," persevered Mr. Holt.

"Daresay," grunted the admiral. "Scores hereabouts." He looked at Angus. "How far do we get today?"

"To Beynac, sir."

"Where's that?" demanded the admiral.

"It's about sixty kilometers past Perigeaux."

"And where's that?"

"Perigord region," said Maurice. "Where's that? It's the district in which you eat better than anywhere else in the whole of France."

A PIG TALE

"The home of truffles," came unexpectedly from Mr. Zoller.

"Is it true," asked Miss Seton, "that pigs dig up truffles?"

"It is quite true," said Mr. Zoller. "But the pigs must be pregnant."

Mrs. Denby-Warre grew pale. "Must be . . . " Words failed her.

Having given this information, he closed his eyes, and the passengers relapsed into silence.

Angus closed the door and settled down for a few moments to himself, but he could see in his mirror that Maurice Tarrant had changed his seat and was in earnest conversation with Miss Seton.

She looked interested in what he was saying, and Angus was glad to see that her mind was being kept off her troubles.

There was a brief stop for tea and then the coach went on through country that increased steadily in beauty. The air was soft, and the light remarkably clear.

It was late when they reached Beynac. Ferdy brought the Empress to a stop at the hotel, a converted Chateau high on a slope above the river. It was to be a two-night stop.

The passengers walked up to the the driver and thanked him for his excellent driving.

Ferdy, beaming, handed the luggage over to the hotel servants and then took the coach round to the garage situated on the other side of the courtyard.

REPORTS TO LONDON

Angus reported their arrival to London, checked the list of rooms, distributed the mail and then went upstairs to enjoy the luxury of a bathroom adjoining his room.

Emerging fresh and relaxed, he went downstairs again to inspect the tables in the dining room. The air was so mild that he ordered them carried out on to the wide terrace.

He heard his name, and turned to find Angela coming out of the house. She had changed into a summer dress, and he fingered it and raised an eyebrow.

"Cotton — already?"

"Why not? It's so warm. Have you had the tables put out here?"

"Yes. As you said, it's so warm. Come and sit down."

They sat at a table and a waiter brought them drinks and then they were alone on the dimly-lit terrace.

"I've just been in father's room," she said. "I've been talking to him—about us."

He stared at her for a moment, and then his head went back and he gave way to unrestrained laughter.

"What's funny?" she asked.

He looked at her.

"You. Didn't we arrange that I was to introduce the topic, tactfully, at dinner tonight?"

"Yes. But whenever you leave me for an instant, I get panic."

"Panic?"

"In case you get away again."

"What did you tell him?"

"I didn't have to tell him much. He's got eyes. And he's got a sort of fatalistic feeling about this, just as I have. He's always known about my hopeless passion for you, and he's got used to seeing that photograph of you."

Kefauver's Leg Hurt in Toy Auto

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) tried out a toy electric automobile his 12-year-old son wanted to buy. The result: three days in a hospital and three weeks in a leg cast.

★ ★ ★

Aides said a neighborhood chum of the senator's son David got an electrically powered toy auto for Christmas. David wanted one like it to replace his homemade model powered by a salvaged lawn mower motor.

The senator took the manufactured model for a trial spin, and tried dragging his feet when he couldn't find the brakes to stop it on a downhill run, the aides explained. But his leg was twisted and his foot pulled under the machine's rear wheel.

A trip to Bethesda Naval Hospital disclosed badly sprained ligaments and a dislocated knee cap. A cast was put on the injured leg. Doctors said the senator could leave the hospital Sunday.

The jury Friday asked that Jack Bender, 29, be bound to the grand jury on an involuntary manslaughter charge.

See West Move on Berlin Crisis

Allies' Notes Expected to Resume Suggestion for 4-Power talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West's next move in the controversy over Berlin may be made early next week.

Diplomatic informants said similar but not identical notes from the United States, Britain and France are almost completed and probably will be delivered to Moscow before New Year's Day. A similar note from West Germany is expected to be ready about the same time.

The Western powers are reportedly planning to renew their suggestion of last Sept. 30 for a four-power conference to study the entire problem of Germany. But they will reject, informants said, any Russian effort to limit the discussion to the future of Berlin.

The notes officially will be a reminder that Russia has not yet replied to the Sept. 30 proposal. Their effect will be to answer Premier Khrushchev's Thanksgiving Day demand that West Berlin be cleared of Western troops and turned into a free city, perhaps with some form of U.N. supervision over the air and ground routes established for Western access to Berlin.

Newark Student Corrects Mayor's Bad Grammar

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — "The mayor & members of the council extends to all season's greeting," the sign on a downtown street said.

It annoyed high school student Delancy Gregory, who wrote to Mayor Leo Carlin and said that it was gramatically incorrect to have an "S" after "extend."

"It is a reflection on our entire school system and the manner of teaching English," said Gregory.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

J. L. VOORHEES

What would Janus, Roman God of the new year, think if he took a peep at 1959? If nothing else his eyes would open wide in astonishment.

In spite of a vessel sailing under the ice cap, a rocket going 90,000 miles into space, a valid clue to the cause and cure of cancer, sun-powered batteries and drugs to help man win his race against time, 1959 will surpass all technological, scientific and social progress ever given to mankind, in a like period of time.

M. E. SIPLE

1959 has everything we want; 365 days of time, sunshine and rain, cold and heat, good and bad fortune, family and friends; each day is clean, new, on it we may doodle, or wish, or promise, or prophesy, or complete the work we've started; there is no law, no man, no condition to make you alter one period, dot or letter of your determination to make 1959 the greatest year of your life.

Happy New Year to all of you.

P. S.—Our 1959 resolution: To render greatert assistance to you, our neighbor and our friend during 1959.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by an open crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy centered by white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Ronald M. Slack was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's three sisters, Mrs. Robert O. Backenstose of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. Joseph E. Kleist of Oak Park and Mrs. Grant J. Browning. Kathleen Kleist was junior bridesmaid.

All wore identical dresses of jade green peau d'or with full skirts and draped cummerbund sashes. Their headpieces were white fur tiaras and they carried bouquets of white carnations on white fur muffs.

Joan Wyzgoski Becomes Bride of James P. Kline

Palms and poinsettias decorated St. Vincent de Paul Church this morning for the wedding of Joan Agnes Wyzgoski and James P. Kline.

The Rev. Cronan Kline, the bridegroom's brother, officiated at the Solemn High Mass before 300 guests. He was assisted by the Rev. Robert Wyzgoski, the bride's brother, who acted as deacon, and the Rev. Fabian Weber as subdeacon.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wyzgoski of Middlebelt road and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kline of Dearborn.

The bride wore her sister's gown of brocaded silk. The bodice was accented with seed pearls. The gown featured long sleeves and a long, sweeping train.

Mrs. George Sullivan of Berkely was her sister's matron of honor. Her waltz-length dress was of white peau de soie with a fitted bodice and red chiffon streamers at the back and she wore a red crown.

Attendants were Mrs. James Bendig and Mrs. Lorin G. F. Kline, the bridegroom's sister. Their dresses were similar to the matron of honor's, but with green chiffon streamers and green crowns. All carried red carnations on white fur muffs.

Military Duty Facts Outlined

NEA NEWSFEATURE

It is the law of the land for young men reaching the age of 18 to register for selective service.

What effect will military service have on a young man's higher education, on his nonmilitary career, on his earning power?

Should he serve with the armed services before he starts college, or before he looks for that first job?

These questions recur endlessly, prove that few of us know the facts relating to the miliary service law.

The law says registration at 18—not service — although the 18-year-old may volunteer for two years of service. Under the current law, each man has a 6-year obligation to the military. The inductee or volunteer who has served actively for two years joins the reserves for the balance of this period.

CALLING 22-YEAR-OLDS

Throughout the United States today selective service is not calling the lad of 18. The law states that, working backwards from 26 years, men will be called. Right now the 22½-year-olds are being asked to serve with the following exceptions:

If a young man is in the midst of completing his college education, taking a full-time course at a recognized school, most probably he will be deferred.

Medical students are not being called. It is hoped that upon graduation they will seek commissions. If too few doctors do this, they will be inducted, but probably not until they have completed their internships.

Married men with children or pregnant wives, where military service would cause an extreme family hardship, are not being called.

WAYS TO SERVE

Currently there are several ways that military service can be met. This gives considerable leeway in planning for higher education and earnings needs.

Men can join the Reserve Corps, serving six months on active duty for training with either the Army Reserve or the National Guard, with the remaining 5½ years spent in the Ready Reserve. This entails drilling once a week, 48 times a year, and two weeks on active duty each summer.

The Ready Reserve may be called into action only by the president. This differs from the Standby Reserve, where there is no training, and which can be called out only by an act of Congress.

Students attending land grant colleges who have served for two years in the Reserve Training Corps can get credit for military service by taking the junior and senior ROTC training. Upon graduation they become officers and enter active duty for a two-year period when called by the service concerned.

★ ★ ★

Additionally available is a Marine Corps platoon leader course wherein two summers are spent training with the Marine Corps. Upon graduation the trainee becomes an officer, serving for six years with the reserve, including two or three years on active duty.

Courage Now May Help Boy Later—Abby

Father Wrong to Put Son in Jail?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: As I write this my son is sitting in jail. His own father put him there. He is 17 and NOT a bad boy but some of his friends have been in trouble. He confessed that he was in on a holdup (no one was hurt) last year but he wasn't picked up and nobody told on him. His father told him if he ever broke the law again he would turn him in. His father found a switch-blade knife and some marijuana cigarettes in his pocket when he was asleep so he had the cops come and pick him up. How could a father make a convict out of his own son?"

ABBY

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband had great courage and should be commended. It is far better that the law should take over your son now than for a more serious offense later.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: In answer to that man who bought his wife a cemetery plot for her anniversary gift when she was expecting a sewing machine: I think it was the most heartless thing he could have done."

A SEWING MACHINE SALESMAN

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My husband's folks do not know we are married and I think since the baby is due in March we ought to tell them. We live quite a ways from them (I work and he goes to school) but he writes to thank them for his allowance. I got mad and told my husband if he didn't tell them we were married, I would. I think it's a disgrace to keep it a secret any longer. I am proud of my marriage and am hurt to think he's still hiding it. What would you advise me to do?"

SECRET BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: The longer your husband delays telling his folks, the angrier they will be when he finally breaks the news. It's his place to tell them, not yours, and the sooner the better.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: There is a man who comes to my house on business every so often (he is a meter reader) and in the summer I give him iced tea and in the winter I give him hot coffee. I am a widow and he told me once he lost his wife some years ago. I think he likes me and I know I like him. He has good manners and is nice looking. He acts lonesome, but I don't want him to think I'm running after him. How can I get to know him better?" LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: He's a meter reader—not a mind reader! Ask a few of your friends in for dinner, and include him.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: There is this boy at school named Gary and I like him very much and he liked me. He gave me a note saying he'd like to kiss my ruby ilips and stuff like that. I wrote back to him that we were through because he was too fast for me.

"Then his best friend told me that Gary didn't write that note, somebody else did and Gary was asked to hand it to me. I still like Gary and would like to go back with him, but I don't know how to make up after telling him we were through. Can you help me?" MISTAKEN

DEAR MISTAKEN: Ask Gary's friend to tell Gary that as long as Gary wasn't the one who wanted to "kiss your ruby lips and stuff like that" you'd like to see him again. Good luck!

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am re-marrying my 'ex.' Could we use the same wedding invitations and cross out the date?" J.J.

DEAR J.: Certainly not!

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Hang Towels Low

A neat bathroom with children in the family is a rarity. But some simple tricks keep items like towels and washcloths straight and off the floor.

Snapfasten ordinary towels together and hang them over a low bar for the little children to use. This also encourages handwashing.

Mild Exercise for Older Persons

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many folks in their sixties and seventies write to ask for exercises which are suitable for them. I would not think of prescribing exercises for the elderly person without first asking that he or she have a physical check-up before beginning, and show the exercises to the physician.

The ideal procedure, of course, is to take exercise down the years with you. However, poor circulation is one of the problems of later years. The motions I am describing today are so mild that your doctor probably will agree with them, but get his advice first.

Walking is one of the very best, but here are a few more:

★ ★ ★

2. Stand tall. Lift both hands up in front of you and shake them. Wrists are relaxed and loose.

★ ★ ★

3. Lie on the floor or on the bed. Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. Slide the left foot along the floor or bed back to place. Do the same with the right knee and continue, alternating.

4. Lie on the floor or the bed with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor or bed overhead. Bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Grasp the knees with the hands. Return hands to overhead position as you slide both feet along the floor, straightening the legs. Continue.

5. This one is also taken while lying on your back. Arms rest on the floor at your sides. Drag the legs apart and then together without lifting legs or feet from the floor. Continue.

★ ★ ★

Be Sweet and Act Natural

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to meet my fiance's parents for the first time soon and I would like to know the proper way in which to greet them. Should I kiss his mother, or do I shake hands with his mother and father or do I simply say "how do you do" and nothing more? Also, when leaving do I say "It was a pleasure meeting you?"

Answer: You kiss his mother and shake hands with his father saying with enthusiasm, "Oh, I've wanted so much to meet you." Then, be your own natural sweet self and be guided by what they say to you.

Whatever else you do, don't say, "It was a pleasure meeting you." Say instead, "It has made me so happy meeting you at last!" or "I can hardly wait to know you better" or anything else that comes to your mind that will show them that you are really glad to meet them, and that you hope they will get to love you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married in a month. Two weeks ago my cousin died rather suddenly. She and her husband were on my list of wedding guests. I am about to mail my wedding invitations and I don't know what to do about sending him an invitation. Would it be proper so soon after his wife's death, or might this seem heartless?"

Answer: Send him an invitation and enclose a note with it saying that you merely want to inform him when your wedding day is to be and to let him know that he would be welcome should he feel able to come.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When eating in a cafeteria-type restaurant, should one ask permission of a stranger to sit at her table? It is not possible for each one to have a table alone during the noon rush, but I wondered if this sould be done in courtesy?"

Answer: Before sitting down, it is common courtesy to ask, "Are you saving this place for anyone?"

Give the Scalp Frequent Care

It isn't just the hair that needs cleansing at shampoo time, it's the scalp, too. The skin on top of the head doesn't get the exercise the rest of the skin gets. Nor does it get the health-giving sunlight.

Many Apply Wax to Brass, Copper

For best results, apply wax to metal pieces only after washing away all traces of tarnish with soap or detergent suds.

Sturdy Marriage Is Able to Take Fights

By RUTH MILLETT

James Thurber, who has the delightful knack of being able to make us laugh at ourselves, has come up with an article, "My Own Rules for a Happy Marriage."

It is sure to get appreciative chuckles from both husbands and wives.

★ ★ ★

The rules are as sound as they are funny. But there is one rule for a happy marriage that Mr Thurber neglected to mention: "Never be afraid to have a fight."

A good, fair, marital row now and then with no verbal punches pulled and no bitter pills sugar-coated is the best way in the world for a husband and wife to remain a devoted couple.

A good honest fight clears the air of resentments, gets plain truths out in the open, and lets a man and woman get an honest look at each other and at themselves.

It's the husband and wife who are afraid to do battle occasionally who snipe at each other in public and tell their troubles to anyone willing to listen.

The husbands and wives who aren't above taking little digs at each other in front of their friends and who air their frustrations to any listening ear are the husbands and wives who are too "civilized" to battle out their problems at home as they arise.

You can be pretty sure that the Smiths who aren't afraid to blow their tops will be living together until the end of their days.

★ ★ ★

But you'd better not make any bets on the Browns who are as polite to each other as strangers, and who have never stooped to a really good "Now-you-listen-to-me-for-a-minute," fist-pounding, door banging, family argument.

EVELYN M. DORMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dorman of South Shirley street announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Marie, to Richard Dale Seets of Judson street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Seets of Harrisburg, Ill. No wedding date has been set.

Exercise Can Firm the Arm

The problem of the flabby upper arm is one that plagues many older women. It's a real problem because it makes impossible the wearing of many pretty clothes.

★ ★ ★

Sleeveless daytime dresses are out and so are sleeveless evening clothes. A cap sleeve or stole must cover that upper arm.

★ ★ ★

Actually, a little patience and exercise, either passive or active, will firm up that upper arm in a matter of weeks. The passive exercise can come in the form of electric massage. This can be given in a salon or you can buy a machine and use it at home.

★ ★ ★

Active exercise is simple. Stand a foot away from a wall with both feet together. Place the palms of your hands on the wall, elbows bent. Now push yourself slowly away from the wall. Do this for 20 counts a day and gradually work up to 50.

Cave Man Was Dashing Fellow

★ ★ ★

It is known that the male dressed his hair and curled it, and the female did not. A comb recently extracted from the earth has been scientifically calculated to be approximately 9000 years old. It was carved from the bone of an animal.

Dark Blue Last Hue Preferred by Homemakers

Dark blue has been consistently in last place since 1946 says Faber Birren, color consultant who compiled the chart based on actual records of consumer buying and demand.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Smith of Mark avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Robert E. Jarrard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Jarrard of Third avenue. A July wedding is

Wash 'n' Wears Require Extra Space to Drip

Now that men have adopted wash-'n-wear clothes as enthusiastically as their wives, there is nightly competition for space on the shower rod.

★ ★ ★

Plumbers consider this to be an interesting and practical new trend for an extra bathroom that is strictly "his" — outfitted with plenty of drip room for shirts, shorts, and socks.

Obviously, everybody expects papa to do his own sudsing and rinsing in the not-too-far-off sweet bye and bye!

Shoulder Pads Now in Plastic

Now there are new plastic shoulder pads which retain their shape through all the washings any dress can take.

Little Visitors Enjoy Balloons

At least, get some balloons for the youngsters to play with. They'll keep bouncing them around for hours, but remember to caution them that there is a limit to the supply. This often saves tears when the last balloon bursts.

Colorful Cover for Heat Pad

Electric heating pads are now available with colorful covers to help cheer a suffering patient. These covers are removed for machine washing in soap or detergent suds.

Not only is this hygenic, but psychologists say that clean things contribute greatly to the morale of anyone who isn't feeling up to par.

Superstitious? Check Spaces Between Teeth

Did you know, according to legend, that spaces between your teeth foretells a lucky life? Around the world there's many a myth concerning the position of your teeth, say dentrifice researchers.

★ ★ ★

A Canadian superstition claims you're in store for great riches when a quarter can fit between your teeth. Folk lore of various countries seem to tie up teeth with travel.

★ ★ ★

Throughout Europe, legends promise a stay-at-home life for those whose teeth are set close together, long journeys if they're set far apart. Even in parts of the United States, it is believed: "If your teeth lie one on the other, you will always live with your mother!"

★ ★ ★

Under his administration, faculty salaries have risen to the extent that the college salary scale ranks Adrian near the top among Midwest colleges.

★ ★ ★

A minister in the Pittsburgh Conference of Methodist Churches from 1941-1955, Dr. Dawson was a delegate to President Eisennower's "White House Conference" in 1956. He became president of Adrian College in 1955.

College students participating in the service will be William Hertel, Michael Gallagher, Ann Coombe, Joan Wagley, Robert Baynes, Benn Johnson and Kenneth Jilbert.

Confident Living

Professor in Boston Gave Recipe Long Time Ago

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A while back I happened to be waiting for a train in the South Station at Boston. Strolling around the station during the few minutes I had to wait, I passed the restaurant. Memory carried me back to an old friend — now gone to heaven—by the name of William L. Stidger, preacher and professor, affectionately known to his friends and students as "Bill" Stidger.

PEALE

I recalled one winter evening when I had an oyster stew wth Bill Stidger in that South Station restaurant. Bill was one of the most eager, enthusiastic men I ever knew. He effervesced, he bubbled over. Life always seemed wonderful to him.

And, as we ate our stew that night, I said, "Bill, I've always wondered about you. You seems so completely and thoroughly happy. You are a happy man, aren't you?"

"Sure thing," he boomed, "my life is full of happiness. The world is wonderful and exciting."

Then I began to probe for his secret, for I knew he had one, and finally he said something most significant.

Bill Stidger told me that the secret of his life full of happiness was simply that he had learned to practice the attitude of gratitude.

Bill Stidger went on to tell how to practice the attitude of gratitude. When he woke up in the morning the first thing he did was to give thanks to the Lord that he could wake up . . . that he was alive! "The more you remind yourself that you are alive the more alive you'll be," he said.

Next, he would tell the Lord that he was grateful for a "delicious night's sleep." What a description! . . . "delicious night's sleep." He would give thanks to the Lord for his wife and children.

"And," he added, 'I give thanks for the work I have to do, for my friends and for my opportunities." I never forgot that phrase and I hope you won't either.

★ ★ ★

How can you fill this new year and, indeed, all the rest of your life, with happiness? The Psalmist tells us how: "O give thanks unto the Lord: for he is good: for his mercy endureth forever." Of course, this doesn't mean closing your eyes to the fact that life is filled with hardship and all kinds of difficulties, that there is much suffering in the world, much pain and hard struggle.

But it does mean that we can rise above life's troubles by the power of God within us. In that rising above difficulty you'll find the attitude of gratitude a big help.

So try being grateful for people and things and life and God. If you get up every morning and go to bed every night thanking God for every wonderful blessing he has given you, you can't help being more healthy-minded, stronger spiritually and physically, more positive in your thinking.

And, when you develop these attributes within yourself, you are acquiring the qualities you need to make this new year and your whole life overflow with happiness.

They say that happiness is a habit. That's right, it is. But it results from another habit, and that habit is one I suggest we all begin to cultivate now. It's one that will help you start the New Year off right. Cultivate the habit of gratitude, the attitude of thankfulness.

Think gratitude, speak gratitude and you will help other people to be grateful. As you spread gratitude you will have a New Year full of happiness.

Indiana County Group Conducts Regular Tour of Social Agencies

The adjustment of a pastor newly arrived in a strange city to minister to parishioners he doesn't know is always difficult.

To make things easier, the St. Joseph County (Ind.) Council of Churches recently took a group of newly arrived ministers on a "Come and See Tour" to acquaint them with local social agencies.

★ ★ ★

"In addition to learning about the extensive resources available for service to parishioners in South Bend," Mr. F. Eugene Hess explained, "the ministers made important personal contacts with social work leaders."

A social worker himself, Mr. Hess is chairman of the Council's Social Service Committee which arranged the tour.

★ ★ ★

The ministers spent one morning visiting the County Department of Public Welfare, the Juvenile Court, YMCA and relief agencies, and conferred with executives and staff members on their various types of service.

★ ★ ★

At a noon luncheon they were joined by local representatives of the YMCA, Goodwill Industries, the Salvation Army, American Red Cross, the Adult and Child Guidance Clinic, Family Service and the Council of Community Services.

The "Come and See Tours," initiated in 1956, are modeled on a program developed in Indianapolis by Dr. Grover L. Hartman when he was secretary of the Social Service Department of the Church Federation of Greater Indianapolis. Dr. Hartman now heads the St. Joseph County Council.

Special Groups Plan to Attend World Institute

NEW YORK — Philosophers, architects, and politicians are among the special groups who will attend international conferences at the Ecumenical Institute at Bossey, Switzerland, in 1959.

★ ★ ★

The Ecumenical Institute is an educational center maintained by the World Council of Churches near its Geneva headquarters. One of the main purposes of the Institute is to bring about meeting between people of different race, color, language, and Christian confession.

★ ★ ★

Recruitment is now under way for United States participants in four courses scheduled for summer. Two of the courses are designed for laymen and women, one is for missionaries and pastors, and there is a course for theological students.

Applications should be sent not later than March 15, to Miss Frances Maeda, Administrative Assistant, U.S. Conference for the World Council of Churches, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York 10, N.Y.

Defend Belief Bible Was God-Inspired

CHICAGO (AP) — Evangelical leaders from throughout the United States met yesterday to call for acceptance of the Bible as the inspired word of God, and warn against any other interpretation.

★ ★ ★

Leaders of the group were summoned to Chicago by Dr. Bob Jones, head of the university which bears his name in Greenville, S. C., and Dr. John R. Rice, editor of a Wheaton, Ill., evangelistic weekly newspaper.

Purpose of the meeting, Dr. Jones said, is "to rally old-time Bible-believing Christians to oppose a tendency on the part of some religious leaders toward unscriptural compromise with modernism and neo-orthodoxy."

Those attending the meeting represent religious colleges and universities and the religious press.

Aid Racial Relations

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of Roman Catholic interracial councils is rising rapidly. Such groups, working for equal treatment for Negroes and whites, are now active in 36 communities, including eight in the South. George K. Hunton, New York council executive secretary, predicts there'll be 50 of them by next summer.

Steeple of Sashabaw Presbyterian Restored

Members of the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church of 5331 Maybee Rd., this week restored the steeple to the original house of worship.

Known first as the Church of Orion and Independence in 1830, members voted to join the Presbyterian denomination in 1843.

The present building, erected in 1856, is the only house of worship the church has ever had. Early trustees were Peter Voorheis, J. M. Fair, E. T. Beardslee, John C. Fisher and George Beardslee.

Dedicated in 1956, the church was constructed at a cost of $3,000.

In recent years, the building has been modernized and reconditioned with the original architecture preserved.

A year ago a full-time pastor was called to the Sashabaw Church to take care of the growing congregation. Since then a new manse was built.

When a gift was made this fall for the restoration of the steeple, a committee was appointed to promote the project.

The "old" has been preserved along with the "new." The old cemetery, dating back to 1830, is on the west side of the church and a new elementary school on the east side.

City Pastor Serves At Chicago Meeting

Dr. Tom Malone, chairman of the board, president of Midwestern Baptist Seminary and pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Curch, served on the resolutions committee when a representative group of evangelists and Christian educators met in Chicago this week.

★ ★ ★

The more than 150 evangelists and 1,200 pastors adopted a resolution reaffirming "the fundamental Bible doctrines accepted by all orthodox, Bible-believing, evangelical Christians.' Dr. Bob Jones, veteran evangelist, presided at the session.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the Chicago meeting, according to Dr. Jones, was to rally old-time, Bible-believing Christians to oppose this unscriptural compromise with modernism and neo-orthodoxy.

Thirty-nine college students of Orchard Lake Church will be guests of Senior High Fellowship from 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday in Fellowship Hall on the second floor of the new educational wing.

A history of the Orchard Lake church has been authorized by the Session. The 85th anniversary of the dedication in 1874 will be celebrated next year.

The publication in book form is expected prior to the dedication of the educational wing on Feb. 8.

Priest, Grange Master

Father Francis A. Candon, of St. Patrick's Church in Fairfield, Vt., is believed to be the only Catholic priest who is also Master of a local Grange. "Grange people are people at their finest," Father Candon declared. "There is nothing artificial about them. The Grange is an agricultural organization and I live in an agricultural area." The 42-year-old priest has been a Grange member since boyhood.

Church Adopts Budget

NEW YORK (AP) — Church World Service, relief arm for American Protestant and Orthodox churches, has adopted a $3,925,720 budget for its program of aiding the world's needy peoples in 1959. The figure is a half million dollars larger than in 1958.

Thanked With $10,000 Black Mink

Keely Smith Wows 'Em

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Keely Smith Friday night got one of the most expensive onstage bouquets in recent night club history.

★ ★ ★

She and hubby Louis Prima opened a 10-day engagement at the Moulin Rouge with a record 15,000 advance reservations.

The opening show was packed to its 800 capacity, another 1,200 people lined up on Sunset Boulevard, waiting for the second show.

As the show ended a parade of waiters and captains marched to the stage with huge floral bouquets for Miss Smith.

At the end of the parade came Moulin Rouge owner Frank Sennes with a box. Inside was a black mink wrap which Sennes said set him back $10,000.

"I never did this before," he told a reporter, "but then I never had an act that opened to 15,000 reservations before."

He admitted an ulterior motive. "I want them to stay an extra week and I'll pay double the money."

Prima and his aggregation reportedly draw $10,000 a week.

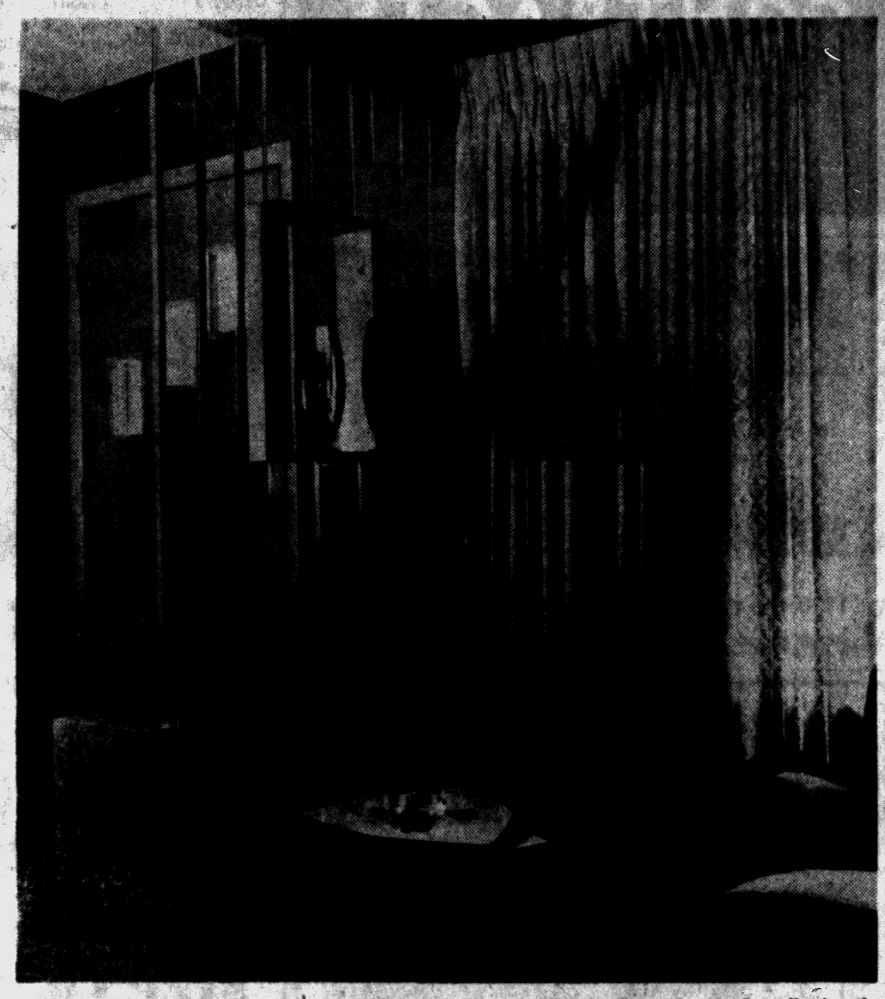
IT'S THEIR ROOM — Five boys are bound to be noisy, sometimes destructive and always active. For that reason the Robert Brennans planned a "wreck" room in their Commerce Road home in Orchard Lake Village. Walls and built-in furniture are knotty pine. The fireplace where wienie roasts are held the year round is red brick. All furniture is covered in Naugahyde. Lamps are pole type and can't be knocked over. The floor is corktone tile. Posing here in their "wreck" room are (left to right) Tim, Robin, Terry, Tod and Marty. The Brennan home was our home of the week on May 31.

background for LIVING

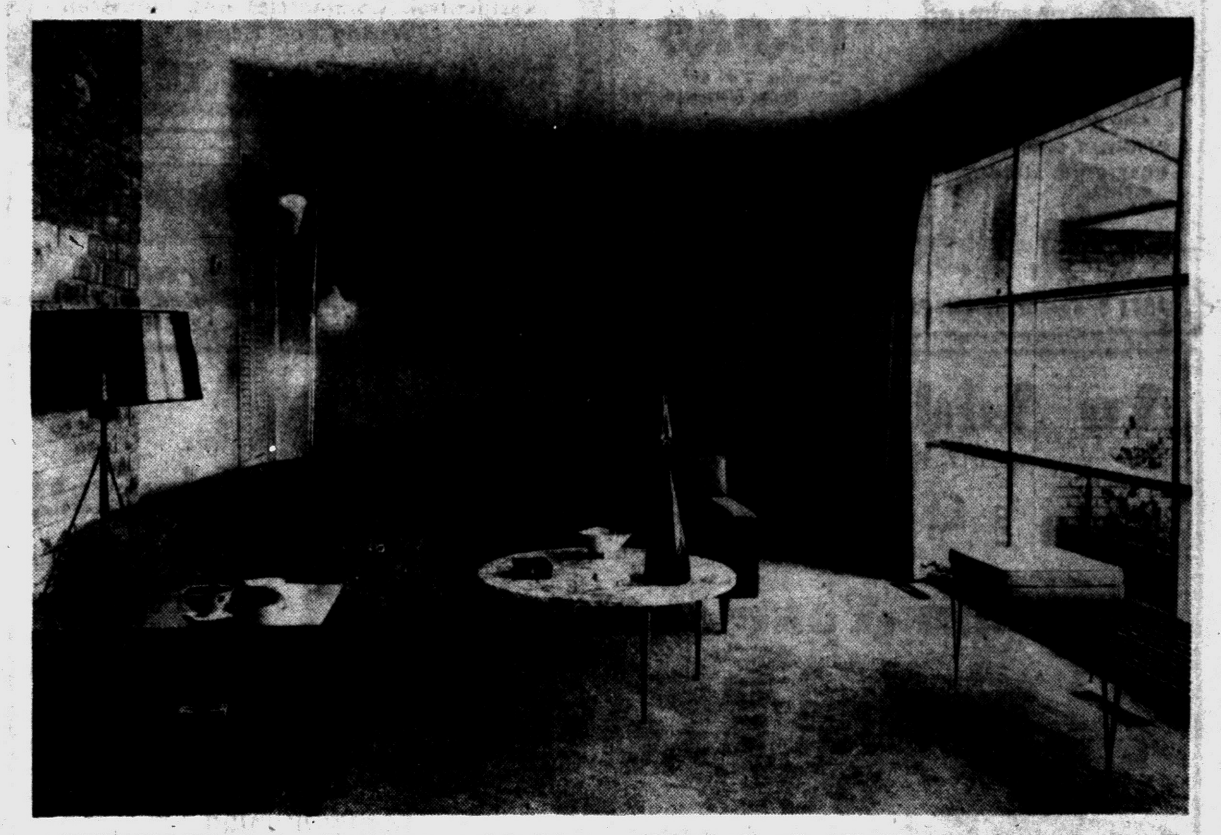


UNUSUAL DIVIDER — George Olson of Elizabeth Lake Estates designed and built this unusual divider in his house between the front vestibule and the living room. The half wall of birch is topped with a planter. Brass poles extend from the planter to the dropped ceiling. Birch louvers swing freely on these poles, allowing the Olsons to open or close all or some of them. In the center a shelf holds an attractive vase. This home was featured in the Home Section on August 23.

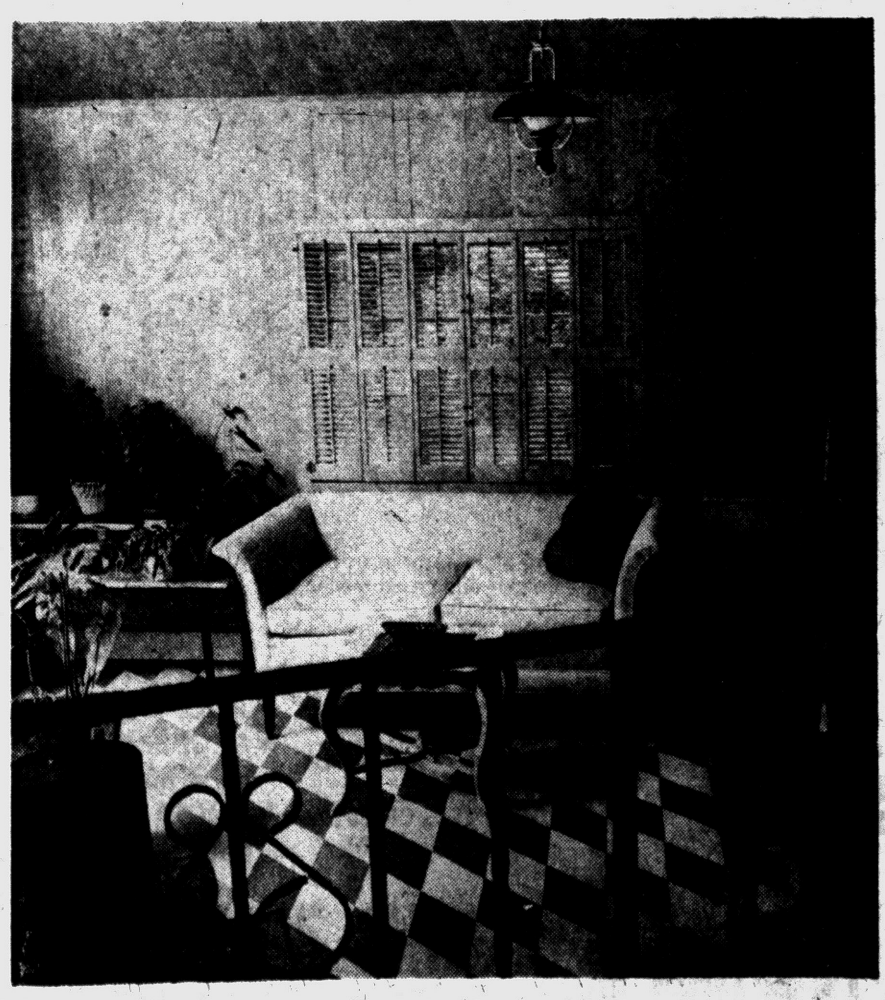
Your Neighbor's House

Highlights of the 1958 Home Section

OLD FASHIONED CHARM — When the Robert Kusses remodeled an old farm house on Washington road in Rochester, they kept the bedrooms much the way they were. Pat who is their second oldest daughter (they have four) occupies this room. Her closet which is set in a corner has walls and door made of tongue and groove lumber, painted white. Sheer white ruffled curtains criss-cross on the windows. The wallpaper is rosy beige with white posies and gold spider webs on it. It was April 12 that this picture appeared in The Press.



CONTEMPORARY ROOM — The living room of the Robert Knight home on Frankel Lane is strictly contemporary. Carpeting, walls and floor length draperies are all beige. The sectional sofa that divides this room into living and dining areas is rust. In front of it is a marble coffee table. Dining room furniture is walnut. The louvered swinging doors at the left open into the kitchen. You saw this house in The Press on March 22.



LANAI ROOM — When the Carl Woods remodeled a summer cottage, they turned a utility room into what they call their lanai or porch room. It has sliding glass doors opening out onto a patio. Walls and the cathedral type ceiling are paneled in American elm. The ceramic tile floor has a harlequin pattern of turquoise, cream and sandalwood. Shutters on the window above the little gray sofa are turquoise. The Cass Lake home of the Woods was pictured on August 2.

FAMILY KITCHEN — Mrs. Edward O. Leece worked closely with the architect to plan this family kitchen in her new home in Groveland Valley Estates. Having five children means that she spends a considerable number of hours in this room. The stainless steel range with its built-in griddle is set into a maple island base. Below the range and around the ventilating hood is storage. At the left is the baking area next to the double oven. A barbecue fireplace is on the kitchen side of the room while a regular fireplace occupies the space next to it in the family room. Just beyond the round maple table is a large sectional sofa that divides the room into two parts. The floor throughout is corktone tile. The wall at the far end is paneled in cherry. The ceiling is acoustical tile. November 1 was the day this home appeared.

Family Approves Living in Experimental House

WASHINGTON — What is it like to live in "a million dollar" experimental house?

"Just fine," reports Mrs. Betty Verdier, the housewife who has given it a family-wear test for 10 months. Mrs. Verdier still marvels at how much storage space she has, how easy it is to keep the house clean and how readily she can put her hands on exactly what she wants in her kitchen cabinets.

Mrs. Verdier, her husband, Quentin, and their three children moved into the one-story redwood house in Kensington, Md., near Washington, last March. The house was built by the National Association of Home Builders and 23 cooperating manufacturers to test new materials and equipment. The first of research houses sponsored by the NAHB, it is part of an over-all project to find ways to build better houses for less money.

The Verdiers bought the house under an agreement permitting manufacturers whose materials are being tested, to make regular inspections. The house is known as "a million dollar" experiment because it is estimated the materials and equipment in it cost at least that much to develop. Eventually it is expected many of the products will be placed in quantity production.

Mrs. Verdier has little concern for the technical construction features of the house. Her husband, a government personnel officer, is the family authority. What interests her, naturally, is whether the innovations make housekeeping easier.

PLASTIC WALLS

Her work is simplified immensely by such things as an experimental plastic coating on the walls. A whisk of a damp cloth is all that is needed to make them clean. With children aged three, six and eight, she appreciates the finish, which she said is almost "child-proof."

Mrs. Verdier enjoys the adjustable shelves, desks and cabinets throughout the three-bedroom house. The desk of Quentin Jr., can be raised as he grows in height. The two girls have the same kind of adjustable desk-dressing table in their bedroom.

The closets along one entire side in each bedroom have louvered floor-to-ceiling doors which are not only decorative but make getting things in and out easy.

Mrs. Verdier is especially enthusiastic over a shallow shelf for canned goods and other supplies which runs the length of her kitchen between more conventional wall cabinets and her "assembly line" working counter.

A decorative plastic is used throughout a good part of the house. A panel of it near the front door gives the effect of an entranceway. The plastic is used also to enclose shelves for dishes over the table that divides the kitchen and family room.

No steps are required to set the table since the dishes are stored directly over it. The dish cabinet currently is hung rather low so that eight-year-old Margaret can put away the cups, saucers, and plates after they have gone through the near-by dishwasher under a kitchen counter.

A refrigerator and freezer recessed in a kitchen wall is another arrangement getting an A-plus from Mrs. Verdier. A dual wall oven, with a separate "drawer" for pies, cakes and cookies, rates high. The curved range fits into a corner to complete an unbroken line of work space.

Mrs. Verdier considers the house ideal for a family with small children and she hopes that soon more families will be getting the benefits of the "pioneer" materials and equipment to which she is giving a trial run.

Problem Differs Only in Timing

In days of olde, when knights were bold, milady had some real cleaning problems.

There was absolutely nothing like a rusty suit of armor to mess up a tidy castle.

★ ★ ★

However, history shows us that most medieval castles were largely made of stone, and so it wasn't too difficult to clean up after Sir Knight even after a hard day jousting with dragons.

★ ★ ★

While today's lady of the castle doesn't have a husband kicking around in an iron suit, she still has the same problems, and without the benefit of stone walls and floors.

★ ★ ★

Today's homemaker licks the problem of her "knights" who now joust with a muddy football field or a weekend in the garden, by providing a cleanup area that can double as a utility room or laundry room in the basement.

Here's a tip for keeping the cleanup room sparkling: If the room has a ceramic tile floor, be sure to install a floor drain for easy cleaning.

The modern homemaker's answer to her knight's tracking up the house actually antedates that of the lady of the castle, since ceramic tile has been known to civilization for some 7,000 years.

Tell of Cleaner for Drainpipes

A new and revolutionary "bacterial" drainpipe cleaner — the first of its kind on the market that has been especially formulated for septic tank and cesspool owners—was announced today by Larry Davis, general manager of the FX-Lab Company of Livingston, N. J.

Marketed under the trade name of Formula FX-5 "Bacterial" Drainpipe Cleaner, this new product consists of protein, sugar-starch and fat-consuming bacteria plus environmental "aids" which pre-condition the drainpipe to provide maximum working conditions for the bacteria.

Formula FX-5 is non-caustic and absolutely safe to handle. It is applied simply by mixing a teaspoonful in a cup of cold water and pouring into the drain. It solves the problem of drainpipe clogging for the septic tank and cesspool owner because the action of the fat-consuming bacteria changes the fats and greases to soluble harmless liquids and does not permit them to revert back to their original form, to cause stoppage in another part of the drainage system.

Although FX-5 "Bacterial" Drainpipe Cleaner was especially formulated to provide an effective cleaner that would not disturb the bacterial action in septic tanks and cesspools, and to avoid damage to the systems themselves, it can also be used safely and effectively in homes connected to city sewage systems.

Because the problem is an ever-continuing one in the kitchen, bathtub and shower, wash basin and washtub drains, the manufacturer recommends that each "trouble spot" be treated monthly to avoid drainpipe clogging.

One Bedroom House Has Appeal for Many Buyers

CHICAGO (UPI) — The demand for new homes is so widespread here that a builder offered one-bedroom homes for sale at $20,000.

They were snapped up as quickly as they were completed, he said.

Irvin A. Blietz, who has developed residential areas along Chicago's fashionable North Shore for more than 30 years, believes his one-bedroom homes are the only housing of their type in the country.

The market is limited but constant, he said, and every community in the country could use such homes.

Blietz's row of flat-roofed, one-bedroom houses are located in suburban Evanston, near public transportation and close to shopping areas. Each dwelling was on a lot 25 feet wid and 118 feet built on a lot 25 feet wide and 118 feet deep. The homes are 19 feet wide and 34 feet long, with a patio in the rear and with a front yard.

The builder believes the homes are ideally suited for their owners — mostly widows and widowers, bachelors, career womn, and elderly couples.

The single bedroom, 12-by-13 feet, has a closet across the width of the room and opens onto a small bathroom. A hallway along the side of the house leads to an L-shaped living room, with a thermopaned sliding window wall opening onto a miniature back yard.

NOT SOLD CHEAPLY

Blietz said the houses are not inexpensive. Most often they are bought by persons who have sold larger, hard-to-maintain homes but who do not want to live in apartments. For persons who can afford a down payment of about $5,000, the monthly payments would amount to approximately $70 to $75.

"Widows have about 80 per cent of the wealth of the country, and they still want to live well after they sell their big homes," he said.

Blietz estimated that a $30,000 home in this area could be duplicated for $18,000 at San Antonio, Tex., and said that even around New York and Cleveland, Ohio — once considered expensive—homes are not so high.

But the workmanship is superior, he said, even in the lowest priced homes, and owners have been forced to sell at a loss.

Store Kindling in Garbage Can

Many home handymen have found that they can keep their workshop neat and accumulate a supply of fireplace kindling wood at the same time by collecting leftover pieces of woode in a galvanized garbage can at the end of the workbench. Th scraps can be brushed into the can quickly and easily after each operation.

In addition to collecting a good supply of wood for the fireplace, this practice eliminates a serious home fire hazard. Sparks from tools or a cigarette can't ignite the wood scraps if they are kept in a covered, fire-proof container.

Even if spontaneous combustion should occur in the scraps and shavings, the fire would be confined to the inside of the covered can and would quickly die for lack of oxygen. The cover, therefore, should be kept on the can at all times.

A small garbage pail is adequate for a seldom-used workshop. If the workshop is used quite often, a standard garbage can may be used. The smaller can is equipped with a carrying handle on the top, while the larger can has handles on the side for carrying purposes. Both have close-fitting covers.

Raised Rack Protects Your Garbage Can

One of the easiest ways for homeowners to protect their garbage cans during the winter is to build a sturdy rack for the cans. The garbage can lids, which sometimes are lost in the snow or blown away may be attached to the rack with light chains.

City sanitation officials, who state that galvanized steel cans are the only approved container for garbage and refuse, note that the lids must be in place at all times for adequate protection against rats and stray animals.

The rack may be made from lumber or pipe, and should be at least 18 inches off the ground to keep the cans away from dogs and rodents. It should be large enough to accommodate at least three standard cans.

Handy racks also simplify collection methods because the garbage cans are in a central location and easy to maneuver. An extra can for ashes or sand can be stored on the rack during the winter.

Play in Table Saw Can Be Dangerous

When a rip fence on a table saw has some play in it, there is more to it than the failure to get an accurate cut. If it moves at all while a piece of wood is being cut, there is always the danger that the wood will get pinched between the fence and the saw blade, with possible injury to you. Do not use the fence again in that condition.

Check the back end of the fence, the part farthest away from you when you are making a cut. See if there isn't a tiny knob up under the metal housing. If there is, a slight turn of this knob may be sufficient adjustment to keep the fence in place.

If this does not work, you have no choice but to take the fence back to where you bought the table saw (1) in hope that it can be fixed or (2) to buy a new one of the same size.

Tile Pleases Mother

Merely mention the word winter and the woman of the house will recall with a shudder the vast quantities of mud and debris tracked into the living room by family members and guests arriving during rainy or snowy weather. A few square feet of ceramic or quarry tile on the floor of the foyer or the entrance to the kitchen will reinforce mother in her winter-long fight against invasions of mud, because these materials are as easy to clean as they are to look at.

Colored Stains Change Floors

Here's news for the homemaker who wants something different in the way of room decoration: now you can have hardwood floors in colors to blend or contrast with your home furnishings.

Because of the continued trend to the exposure of hardwood floors, paint manufacturers have developed new stains which permit the wood to be colored as desired without hiding the natural beauty of the wood grain.

One leading manufacturer has brought out a line of penetrating sealer stains intended specifically for use on hardwood floors. The stains are available in twelve colors, including various shades of blue, green, red and brown. The stains can be mixed, if desired, thus making possible, if desired, limitless range of color effects.

Wood stains of this type are applied only to bare wood. Surfaces previously finished must be stripped by sanding or with a finish remover. When intended for use on open grained wood, such as oak, the stain is mixed with a paste wood filler before use.

After the stain has been brushed on, it is allowed to set for ten to 12 minutes. The excess then is wiped off with a soft cloth. Drying time is about six hours. A coat of clear sealer is applied before the final finish, which may be varnish, shellac or any other commonly used product.

Try Toothpaste

70,000 Crowd Will Witness Sunday's Finale

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts, a professional football team backed by fans with the rah-rah spirit of collegians, are 3½ point favorites to win their first National League title Sunday by defeating the New York Giants at Yankee Stadium.

A crowd of 70,000, including 15,000 Baltimore rooters accompanied by the 80-piece Colts band, will jam Yankee Stadium. Hundreds of thousands of more comfortable fans will watch and hear the television-radio (N.B.C.) broadcasts of the game, beginning at 1:45 p.m., EST.

The game will start at 2:05 p.m. If the score is tied at the end of the regulation game — something that never has happened in an N.F.L. title game— the teams will go into "sudden death" overtime with victory going to the first club to score a touchdown, field goal or safety.

The players get the main cut of the profits from the game and it promises to be a big one. The gross receipts figure to top the record $593,967.50 drawn by the Cleveland Browns and Lions last year at Detroit. The players in the championship game get 63 per cent of the net receipts. Each of the players on the winning team may get almost $5,000 and each loser may receive about $3,000.

If the weatherman is right, it will be Baltimore's well-balanced offensive and defensive power against New York's crack defense in fair weather with the temperature in the high 30's or low 40's.

Coach Weeb Ewbank's Colts, backed by fans who generate higher spirits than mountain moonshiners, clinched the Western Division title two weeks before the end of the season. Striking behind the passing of John Unitas, they led the league in scoring with 381 points.

Sunday the Colts crash into the league's stingiest defense. New York's defensive unit, led by such star linemen as Andy Robustelli, Dick Modzelewski and Rosey Grier, allowed fewer points (183) than any other club.

This defense hauled the low-scoring Giants (they averaged less than 20 points a game) into an Eastern Division tie with the Browns and then shut out the high-scoring Cleveland club in a playoff last Sunday, 10-0. The 280-pound Grier suffered knee and arm injuries in that game and may not play against the Colts.

The Giants, who have won nine divison and four league crowns, edged the Colts at New York, 24-31, midway in the regular campaign. However, Unitas and L. G. Dupre, Baltimore's regular left halfback, did not play in that game because of injuries.

Pat Summerall, whose 49-yard field goal with 127 seconds to go enabled the Giants to defeat the Brwons two weeks ago and force a playoff for Eatsern honors, beat the Colts in that regular season encounter with a 28-yarder with only 2:40 to play.

Unitas, generally considered the best quarterback in the league at present, fires most of his passes to Lenny Moore, Ray Berry and Jim Mutscheller. Unitas has thrown at least one touchdown pass in his last 25 games, an N.F.L. record.

Don Heinrich probably will start at quarterback for the Giants but Charley Conerly, oldest current N.F.L. player at 38, figures to do most of the signal-calling for the home team.

Michigan Hoop Classic Favorite

Motor City Opens Monday

DETROIT (AP) — The classiest field in the seven-year history of the still-growing Motor City basketball tournament starts action Monday night with Michigan a slight favorite.

All four teams in the tournament at the University of Detroit Memorial Building have posted strong winning records in early season play.

Host Detroit, a victor in half the previous six tournaments, is pitted against Army in the opening game. Michigan goes against Princeton in the bottom half of the doubleheader and the victor of that game is expected to win the championship Tuesday night.

Monday's winners meet Tuesday after the two losers battle for consolation honors.

"This is our most attractive field," said Detroit's Coach Bob Calihan. "Michigan is the favorite because it has a veteran team with very fine sophomores."

Michigan's Bill Perigo doesn't appreciate the favorite role for the Wolverine's initial appearance in the tournament.

"This is an outstanding tournament," he said. "Princeton has always been a power in the Ivy League. And no team in the tournament is going to be as well conditioned as Army."

Balanced scoring is Michigan's chief weapon in a bid for the tournament championship. The Wolverines have three men averaging in the 18.8 point a game range, veterans M. C. Burton and George Lee and sophomore John Tidwell.

Princeton, coached by Cappy Cappon, an ex-Michigan player and coach, already has defeated strong Temple. The Tigers are paced by the shooting of Carl Belz and Jim Brangan.

Army, because of recently relaxed West Point height standards has the tallest team in its history. George Hunter, in his first season at Army, has moulded a strong unit around junior Darryle Kouns and sophomore Lee Sager.

Detroit will need its home court advantage to help its championship ambitions. The Titans have swept through minor competition, but have faltered against such major schools as Michigan State and Xavier of Ohio.

AP Wirephoto

FINAL REMINDER — Baltimore coach Weeb Ewbank gave Colts a final reminder the New York Giants' defense will be mighty tough to crack in Sunday's championship game at Yankee Stadium. He spent a lot of time going over plays with Johnny Unitas (center) and George Shaw, his standout quarterbacks.

DeVuono Goals Pace MSU Puck Win at Boston

BOSTON (UPI)—Fred DuVuono scored in the first and third periods Friday night to pace Michigan State to a 7-1 invitational hockey tournament victory over Northeastern University.

★ ★ ★

DeVuono's 35-footer came at 1:35 of the opening frame and State followed with four more in the first two periods.

★ ★ ★

Art Chisholm scored Northeastern's lone tally in the final period, ending Michigan State goalie Joe Selinger's hopes for a shutout. Selinger had 13 saves to Northeastern netminder Frank Carroll's 45.

Other Michigan State goals were by Ed Pollesel, Terry Morony, Andre LaCoste, Bob Hamilton and George MacDonald.

U. S. Davis Cup Captain Mum on Singles Lineup

Looks Like MacKay, Olmedo

BRISBANE (AP)—Barring late and unforeseen developments, it will be Barry MacKay and Peruvian Alex Olmedo in the opening singles matches for the United States Monday in the Davis Cup challenge round.

And the American camp, which has been under some strain because of indecision, braced itself for a possible explosion from Ham Richardson, the country's slighted No. 1 performer.

Richardson, 25-year-old former Rhodes Scholar from New Orleans had indicated he would be chagrined if he were not nominated for singles, but declined today to say what his next move would be until he is given official notice.

Rumors have it that Richardson might withdraw from doubles and with his wife, Anne, return immediately to the United States where he says he has job pressures.

Name MacKay, Olmedo

BRISBANE, Australal — Perry Jones, captain of the U.S. Davis cup team, today announced that Barry MacKay and Alex Olmedo will play the singles matches against Australia in the challenge round Dec. 29-31.

Olmedo and Ham Richardson will play in the doubles, Jones added.

The young aide to Senator Long of Louisiana took the day off yesterday and went to the races after failing to get a definite commitment from Captain Perry Jones whether he would or would not play.

"I tried several times to talk to him but got no satisfaction," Ham said. "I have no idea what his plans are."

Casey Stengel doesn't tell his pitcher in advance," Jones said. "Besides, I want to keep the team keen and ready for no letdown."

Sources close to the captain said he definitely has made up his mind on MacKay and Olmedo because he doubts the ability of Richardson, a diabetic, to maintain topflight tennis over a three-day period.

Richardson is slated to play the doubles with Olmedo.

With few problems, the heavily favored Australians, meanwhile, are tapering off for the three-defense of their trophy.

Wimbledon, U.S. and Australian champion Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson will pay singles—their last in Davis Cup competition—while Anderson and either Neale Fraser or Rod Laver will compete in the doubles.

If Jones follows through with his plan to play MacKay and Olmedo he will be taking a giant gamble and leave himself open for criticism.

Richardson not only is America's No. 1 but has beaten Cooper in their only two meetings and took the measure of Anderson in their clash in the Pacific Southwest tournament last sumer.

Besides, he holds a competitive edge over both MacKay and Olmedo.

Big Hoop Tourney Slate Tonight

By The Associated Press

College football comes up with its first big year-end bowl program today (Saturday), so college basketball answers with this salvo:

1. Six major holiday tournaments.

2. Such important doubleheaders as West Virginia vs. Northwestern and Seattle vs. Chicago Loyola at Chicago, and Butler vs. Indiana and Notre Dame vs. Purdue at Indianapolis.

3. A bundle of major games, including matches for the team with the longest winning streak going, Auburn (against Florence of Alabama), unbeaten Bradley (against Gonzaga), and Georgia Tech-St. Louis, Virginia-Tennessee, Temple-Connecticut, Minnesota-Washington, Louisiana State-Florida State, Princeton-Ohio State and Utah State-Idaho.

The tournament schedule, holding the key interest at the moment, reaches the semifinal stage tonight in the ECAC's Holiday Festival at New York, the All-College tourney at Oklahoma City, and the Southwest Conference tourney at Houston.

The Big Eight Conference tournament at Kansas City has a second pair of first round games, and first round play begins in the Queen City at Buffalo, N.Y., and the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore.

ECAC Holiday Festival (Semifinals) — St. John's (NY) vs. Dayton, Utah vs. St. Joseph's (Pa.). (Cornell-Syracuse and Niagara-Holy Cross in afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

All-college (semifinals) — Bowling Green vs. Duquesne, Xavier of Ohio vs. Oklahoma City. (Wichita-Tulsa and Oregon-San Francisco in afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

Southwest (Semifinals) — Texas A&M vs. Rice, SMU vs. TCU (Baylor-Arkansas, and Texas Tech in afternoon consolations). Finals Monday night.

One tournament final shows up tonight with Tennessee Tech playing host to Evansville for the title of the Evansville Invitational. Tech nipped St. Mary's (Calif.) 67-65 last night and Evansville walloped Washington of St. Louis, 84-53.

All four favorites won in day-night doubleheaders in the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden Friday. Dayton, showing the kind of class that could make it the favored team, bounced back from a nine-point halftime deficit to down Niagara 84-79 as Bobby (Toothpick) Jones and Frank Case combined for 34 points in the second half.

St. John's whipped Holy Cross 77-65, husky Utah overpowered Cornell 80-61 and St. Joseph's, the pre-tourney choice, defeated Syracuse 72-63 in other Festival games.

Duquesne, winner of only two of six previous games, provided the upset of the first round in the All-College tourney, clubbing Tulsa 78-67. Bowling Green edged Wichita 85-81, favored Xavier of Ohio spurted at the end to defeat Oregon 68-57 and Oklahoma City bounced San Francisco 72-64.

Notre Dame and Purdue actually are playing for the "championship" of the Hoosier Classic in the doubleheader also involving Butler and Indiant at Indianapolis. The pairings for both days were set, however, and it doesn't rank as an official tournament. Notre Dame rode Tom Hawkins' 31 points to a 73-67 victory over Indiana last night and Purdue, winning its sixth straight, dropped Butler 78-65.

Time Growing Short for Bowl Foes

By The Associated Press

Louisiana State's national champions turned in a spirited performance yesterday as they resumed work for their Sugar Bowl game with Clemson.

Coach Paul Dietzel put his squad through a two-hour workout, the first since a five-day Christmas vacation. Kickoffs, extra points, field goals and punts were emphasized.

Both fullback J. W. Brodnax and All America halfback Billy Cannon were back at full speed. They had been hobbled with minor injuries when LSU ended pre-Christmas work last Saturday.

Clemson, irked by disparaging remarks about their chances against Louisiana State, flies to Biloxi, Miss., today to train for the encounter on New Year's Day. Forty-nine players are included in the Clemson party of 71 which is making the trip.

Only No. 3 fullback Harold Olson, with an ankle injury, was on the injured list yesterday when Coach Frank Howard put his "hungry Tigers" through a final workout at Clemson.

Hart Winner by Split Decision

Victory Over Dupas Helps Sugar's Status as Title Contender

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Youth and punch beat youth and experience last night as Garnet (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia took a split decision over New Orleans welterweight, Ralph Dupas in a 10-round bout.

The defeat put an end to Dupas' boast that he never had lost to a welterweight, and the victory for Hart bolstered his position as a contender for Don Jordan's crown.

How soon the Philadelphian will get a title shot is problematical, but Harry Markson, International Boxing Club executive director who watched the fight, indicated Hart would have to wait a while at least.

Dupas was not particularly down-hearted by his setback, which was by the narrowest of margins. Asked how he rated Hart among the other welters he has met, he said he rated him right along with Vince Martinez as the toughest he has fought. He beat Martinez.

It was a ding-dong battle from the start in Miami Beach Auditorium, and it was Hart's punching power—he had registered 20 knockouts in 29 previous fights—which was the difference.

Former Bear Coach in Serious Condition

Dawkins Leads North's Power Game

Tonight's Tilt a Tossup

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An air-land football battle looms tonight as North and South college all-stars meet in the Orange Bowl for the benefit of the Shrine crippled children's hospitals.

As in any game when stars are abruptly assembled and sent into action without previously playing together, the outcome of the contest is impossible to forecast. Last year the North, which has won four of the previous 10 games, won in a 23-20 thriller.

The game will be played under pro rules, including posts on the goal line, the privilege of a quarterback to confer with his coach on the sideline during timeouts, and unlimited substitution.

Annual Contest Sunday at Niles

Softball Game in Snow?

NILES, Mich. (UPI)—A softball game will be played here tomorrow . . . if there's enough snow on the ground.

About two dozen outstanding players from the city softball league plan to get together for the "post-season" game in Plym Park and as far as everyone is concerned, the more snow the better.

Bob Johnson came up with the idea of a softball game some time ago and it was greeted with great enthusiasm by many members of the local softball fraternity.

None of the snow on the diamond will be cleared for the game. Bases will be put at the approximate proper locations and a regulation game will be played.

The only special equipment to be used will be a regulation softball that will be painted bright red so that it'll be easier to find in snow drifts and the players probably will wear heavier clothing than they do when playing ball in the summer.

Johnson's idea was greeted with such enthusiasm that it was agreed the game will be postponed if there is not enough snow on the ground.

Point Spread on Iowa Ignored by Elliott

Admits Hawks Deserve Role of Favorites

Evashevski Brands Big Rose Bowl Edge 'Ridiculous'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Pete Elliott of the California Golden Bears agrees that Iowa should be favored to win the Rose Bowl game, but he's not about to admit they'll do it.

As for the 18 or 19 points quoted on the champion Hawkeyes of the Big Ten, Elliott said he is neither concerned nor perturbed at such odds.

"I don't know who figures those things," said the handsome ex-Michigan star yesterday, inferring he doesn't care who they are.

Iowa's record of one loss and one tie during the regular season gives them an edge over the Bears' 7-3 record, in the eyes of the experts.

Elliott, who set up training shop in the Rose Bowl area yesterday, said he is not one to make predictions about the outcome of a game.

But interviewers got a strong impression that Elliott has a lot of confidence in his Pacific Coast Conference champions. Elliott repeatedly has said the Bears always came through when asked after a shaky season's start.

Meanwhile, Iowa was devoting considerable attention to passing, with quarterbacks Randy Duncan and Mitchell Ogiego tossing more than 40 between them. Duncan hit on 14 of 22 in the workout, some to end Curt Merz, who worked out despite a bad knee.

Celtics Take Twin Bill Opener, 107 - 99

Pistons Rout Royals

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons turned in the best period scoring effort in the club's history and defeated the hapless Cincinnati Royals 131-91 in a National Basketball Assn. game last night.

★ ★ ★

Outscoring Cincinnati 43-14 in the third quarter, the Pistons won their 16th victory in 31 starts this year and moved 3½ games ahead of the third place Minneapolis in Western Division competition.

Piston coach Ed Rocha was taken ill at halftime and missed the first 26 minutes of the third quarter. When he got back the Pistons held an 11 point lead and were on their way.

They didn't let up until they had amassed a 46-point lead, 111-65, early in the fourth quarter. Their 43-14 margin in the third period was the second best scoring effort for one quarter in the Pistons' history. And their 40-point margin of victory was 23 points better than anything they had done this year.

George Yardley and Cincinnati's Jack Twyman tied at 28 points each for individual honors. The Pistons' Phil Jordon added 24 and Dick Farley and Chuck Noble hit 18 each for Detroit.

Bob Cousy and Frank Ramsey snuffed out a fourth quarter rally by Minneapolis in the first game and the Celtics rolled to their ninth straight victotry.

Cousy broke up a 92-92 tie with less than four minutes to play with a driving layup and Ramsey followed with a three point play and revived the Celtics.

The victory boosted the Celtics' Eastern Division lead and gave the club a 21-8 season record.

Podoloff Says NBA Loop May Be Expanded Soon

DETROIT (AP) — National Basketball Assn. president Maurice Podoloff says the pro cage circuit may be expanded after its next Board of Governors meeting here Jan. 22.

Podoloff, in Detroit to kick off preparations for the NBA all-star game here Jan. 23, said yesterday five cities have expressed interest in joining the league.

He said he planned to talk to one group from Chicago at the league meeting Jan. 22.

Houston, Baltimore, San Francisco and Los Angeles also have shown interest in joining the NBA, Podoloff said.

"Our Board of Governors meeting here Jan. 22 could be the most momentous in our history. They will have to formulate the plans for expansion," Podoloff said.

As to the All-Star game, matching teams from the NBA's Eastern and Western Divisions, Podoloff said five players on each squad will be picked by newsmen and radio broadcasters regularly assigned to cover pro basketball. The other five players on each squad will be selected by NBA coaches.

Fish Division Moves to Save Trout

Seeks More 'Flies-Only' Streams

By JERRY CHIAPPETTA

ALL OUTDOORS (UPI) — The fish division of the Michigan Conservation Dept., is seeking more flies-only trout waters on an "experimental" basis and will ask the commission next month to approve their recommendation for additional restricted waters.

Michigan has about 15,000 miles of trout streams; some good, some poor. About 62 miles of the better waters are closed to bait fishermen. Fred Westerman, head of the fish division, said he would like to get, "in the long range view, about 200 to 300 miles of flies-only streams."

Why?

Bait fishermen complain that they don't want to be forced to use flies, mainly because most of them don't know how to fish that way. "We're being discriminated against because of a powerful few," they charge. The individual stand may depend on how one likes to fish, and where.

It appears the fish division is moving as diplomatically as it can in its clumsy fishin' boots. Trout fishing is in trouble, Westerman admitted.

It is very costly to stock trout. Michigan's financial problems have hit the Conservation Dept. too. Director Gerald Eddy once said that if revenues don't pick up "we will have to cut down on trout planting. . . ."

But the main trouble in the worms vs. flies controversy is that the bulk of the trout fishermen are bait boys and science is on the side of the fish division in favor of more "flies-only" signs in some of our better streams.

Experiments have proved that bait fishermen returning undersize trout to the water kill a fantastic amount of fish. Fly fishermen, on the other hand—because of their method of fishing—have relatively few undersize reurn fatalities.

"This (asking for more flies-only water) is mainly a public relations experiment," Westerman said. "We have to educate our fishermen to the facts of life. We know bait fishermen are deadly on undersize fish."

The situation was compared to anterless deer shooting as a conservation measure. Many still argue that the "doe seasons" are ruining the Michigan deer herd.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

1. If you find yourself drifting to one side or the other in your approach, try concentrating on keeping each single step in a straight line. Draw a mental line from your starting position to your finishing positions, and concentrate on going directly to the foul line.

3. If rushing your footwork is giving you trouble, compare your footwork to the acceleration of an automobile. It should start out slowly and gradually increase until you release the ball. Don't start out fast. Take a short, firm step. Increase your speed and length with each step. The final two steps are when you shift into high gear and get your top speed without actually racing.

Labrum said the Giants voted $1,800 in gifts including $500 to the widow of Jack Lavelle, late chief scout, and decided on 35 full shares for the players, five for the coaches, and five half shares. Names were not immediately available.

Baltimore voted 41 full shares and divided 1½ shares among five players: Richard Horn, Jack Simpson, Fred Thurston, Gary Kerkorian and Avatus Stone. Gifts totalling $500 were taken off the top.

The players' pool of the title game is 70 per cent of net receipts, including the $200,000 television fee. Of this 70 per cent, 90 per cent goes to the two teams playing for the title, and the remaining 10 per cent is split between the second place teams in each conference. The playoff winner gets 60 per cent of the championship pool, the loser 40 per cent.

It is expected each full share will be about $4,600 for a winner and $3,000 for a loser, both record amounts.

Count on Being Better Off in '59---But How Much?

By L. A. BROPHY
AP General Business Editor

NEW YORK—You can count on being better off in 1959 than in 1958. Economists are not agreed, however, on how much better off.

The recession is over. It was short and not sweet. Recovery started in the spring of 1958 and continued at a steady pace until fall. Then, the economic indexes began to slow up over the rate that had been predicted.

Reading these figures as a fever chart, it might be concluded the patient had a slight relapse. However, the economists say he is in good shape and that full recovery will come by the end of the new year.

To the nearly five million out of jobs, the immediate prospects for a resumption of paychecks is not bright. There probably will not be a measurable cut in unemployment until the middle of the year.

If you are selling things, the prospects are brighter. Consumer buying was maintained during the recession and constituted one of the really comforting aspects of the down turn. Indications are that people will be in more of a buying mood in 1959 than in 1958.

INCOME TO RISE

Personal income is expected to increase and, in point of facts, it rose for seven straight months, beginning in February last year, but declined slightly in October. Labor disputes in some major industries were held responsible for the dip.

The National Assn. of Manufacturers said three out of every four businessmen in a national poll expect their company sales to be higher in 1959.

People fear further inflation, which may have a softening effect on buying. But, government economists are hopeful that the price lines will hold relatively steady for the first half of the year. After that, if the momentum of recovery continues as expected, price increases are expectd.

The University of Michigan, which does a good job of anticipating consumer temper, reports its latest poll showed more families now say their financial situation has improved; they have hopes for higher income and a better year in 1959 all around.

The gross national product, the total of all goods and services, is expected to reach 460 to 470 billion dollars in 1959. It was around 450 billion at the end of 1958. That pretty well tells the story of what's ahead for the new year—good times but not boom times.

DEPENDS ON CARS

How we fare in the coming year is going to depend a great deal on how the 1959 automobiles sell. The industry is hopeful it will dipose of five and a half to six million cars in 1959. If it does, times should generally be good.

This year, for instance, the total sales are expected to be around four and a half million cars. In the great boom year of 1955, sales were nearly eight million.

Recovery from the slump this year demonstrated the ability of the economy to stand up under a sharp blow. Built-in stabilizers worked well. Unemployed received some income generally from federal or state funds. There was no panic, although many people suffered severely.

Extent of the downturn is shown graphically in the index of industrial production. In January 1958 it was 133 of the 1947-49 average. In the same month in 1957, the figure was 146.

The index fell to 126 in April. In May it roes two points to 128, but that compared with 144 in the same month of 1957. It rose two points more in June, and the same in July and August when it stood at 136. The September rise was only one point, to 137.

A really bright spot will be the construction industry in the new Year. The commerce and labor department expects spending on new construction to go to a record of more than 52 billion in 1959, spurred by home and highway building.

Outlays this year will be about 50 billion, a new high mark but reflecting price increases. The nation's builders are expected to set new records in the coming year not only in construction value, but for physical volume of work done.

Adding everything up, you can enter the new year with the firm hope that times will be good and get better.

Baltimore Stadium Shunned by Middies

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy will play none of its home football games in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium next year.

Alarmed by dwindling gate receipts, Naval Academy officials yesterday announced that the only remaing 1959 game scheduled for Baltimore, against Maryland on Nov. 7, will be played instead in the new Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium here.

The Academy previously had moved an Oct. 10 game with Syracuse to the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk. And the Navy-Notre Dame game, a biennial tradition in Baltimore, is not scheduled there again until 1960.

Capt. Slade Cutter, Navy's director of athletics, indicated the Notre Dame game in '60 might be moved also. Philadelphia reportedly has offered its mammoth Municipal Stadium for a rental of $10,000, the same fee charged for the Army-Navy game.

Gypsies Discover There's Money in Hula Hoops

While other Gypsies strummed guitars, Rosita Altavilla, 23, 23, danced with a plastic hoop Friday on a highway near this town in the toe of the Italian boot.

The Gypsies collected the equivaent of $50 from the crowd of 500 that gathered before police made Rosita quit blocking traffic.

Bald Widow Has Reason to Hate Men

Mrs. Georgia Bowman had reason to. A couple of them had just cost her all her hair.

Donald Parker, 48, of Indianapolis, told newsmen he had known Mrs. Bowman in Indiana for about eight years. He said she left about a month ago and he traced her to a Houston apartment where he also found Lucius Wilson, 43.

"I came here to take her back and marry her but I didn't drive 1,100 miles to find this," Parker said. So, he told police and newsmen, he drew his .38 automatic and ordered Wilson to shave first Mrs. Bowman's head, then his own.

"Well, this Wilson is a barber and it seemed appropriate," Parker said.

Capt. Weldon R. Waycott said Parker will be charged with carrying a pistol and threatening to take life.

To Charge Man in Baby's Death

Christmas Eve Sitter Faces Second Degree Murder Count

CADILLAC (AP)—A 20-year-old construction worker faces arraignment today in Municipal Court on a charge of second degree murder in the death of a baby he was minding while the mother was Christmas shopping.

★ ★ ★

Wexford County Prosecutor James C. Herrinton obtained the warrant against David R. Wilson of Cadillac yesterday. Herrinton said Wilson would be arraigned today or Monday.

An autopsy showed the baby, John Lennon, 18-months, died of a brain hemorrhage shortly after admittance to a hospital early Christmas morning.

Herrinton said Wilson told of hitting the child because he was tired of hearing it cry.

When the mother, Mrs. Joan Lennon, 18, returned from shopping Christmas Eve she noticed the child breathing heavily. She and Wilson took it to Mercy Hospital where the infant died shortly after midnight.

New Car Sales Continue to Rise

Dec. 11-20 Period Tops for Time of Month in Spite of Weather

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales for the Dec. 11-20 period where the highest for that time of month in a year, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

The statistical service said new car dealers retailed 161,840 units for a 17,980 daily average that climbed 4.9 per cent over Dec. 1-10. At that time a 17,134 daily rate netted 154,213 sales.

Ward's described the 4.9 per cent rise as surprising, coming as it did in the face of freezing weather and deep snow plus strikes which idled 80,000 UAW workers around the country.

Despite such factors, Ward's said, Dec. 1-20 auto buying is 24.5 per cent above the same period last month, with entire December sales certain to surpass November by nearly 100,000 units.

Ward's said small car sales are highlighting year-end auto retailing with a total of nearly 70,000 sales targeted for 14 per cent of December purchasing.

The one-month total includes 40,000 import units and 30,000 by American Motors Corp. and Studebaker Corp. The latter two companies are chewing off 6.6 per cent of December purchases of domestic-built cars compared with 2.8 per cent at this time last year.

The reporting service said that Dec. 11-20 new car buying a year ago jumped 9.1 per cent over the Dec. 1-10 period, but added that the close out of the hectic Ford-Chevrolet 1957 sales leadership battle at that time prevents an accurate comparison with December marketing this year.

Utility Requests Election Reschedule

Consumers Power Company said today that it will seek approval of the Independence Township Board to reschedule an election on its franchise in the township for Feb. 16.

The postponement is necessary in the face of a recent ruling by the state attorney general. He ruled that no special township election can be held within 60 days of the state primary on Feb. 16, at which nominees for circuit judgeships will be chosen.

In the same ruling the attorney general held that the franchise election could take place the same day as the primary.

Legislator Raps Rackets Group

Says Senate Committee Has Outlived Its Use; Predicts an Extension

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) said today the Senate Rackets Committee has outlived its usefulness but that most people are afraid to say so because it has become "a sort of scared cow."

However, the Michigan Democrat, who quit the committee last April after 16 months as a member, predicted the group's life would be extended in January for another year. He also forecast the Senate would give the committee another half million dollars or so, to be added to the $1,250,000 spent up to now."

"If the people genuinely want the committee to continue, it is all right with me," McNamara said, "but I think they should recognize exactly what they are buying."

"They are buying a sort of extralegal police force, complete with all the dangers to due process of law and individual rights inherent in the congressional investigating committee system," he asserted.

McNamara made his comments in a speech on "crime and the labor movement" which he prepared for delivery to the American Society of Criminology. The society met as part of the 125th annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

All six persons in the car were killed along with a woman passenger in Hines' car.

Registered Tonnage Passing Through Locks Down From 1957

DETROIT (AP) — Registered tonnage passing through the American and Canadian locks at Sault Ste. Marie this year was off 30 per cent from 1957 shipping, the U. S. Army Engineer District said today.

In its annual report, the Army engineer's office said 63,464,172 registered tons passed through the locks this year during a 246-day season from April 15 to Dec. 16, compared to 90,375,078 tons in the 1957 season.

Youth Stabbed Leaving Dance

Police Force Way Past 1,500 Teenagers at Dick Clark Hop

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old boy was stabbed Friday night in a fight with another youth as the pair were leaving Dick Clark's Teenage Record Hop at Sunnybrook Ballroom.

Township and special police made their way through a milling crowd of some 1,500 teen-agers in the parking lot outside the dance hall to reach the victim, Robert Neiffer.

He was taken to Pottstown Memorial Hospital where surgeons performed a two-hour operation to repair the wound in the left side of his abdomen. A hospital spokesman said the Pottstown youth had lost a great quantity of blood but, barring complications, was expected to live. He also suffered a minor facial cut.

Lower Pottsgrove Township Police Chief Harry Chrush said a second youth, Maynard Feno, 20, of Reading, in adjoining Berks County, had signed a statement admitting the stabbing. He was charged with aggravated assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon, pending further invetigation.

Chrush said there had been rumors of trouble between a group of boys from Pottstown and others from Reading.

Chrush said he understood Clark, a nationally known TV personality, already had left the ballroom when the fight broke out shortly before midnight and likely was not aware it had occurred.

Papers, Union Meet Today, Tomorrow

★ ★ ★

Some progress was reported in seven-hour negotiations last night between the Grand Rapids Press and the Grand Rapids Herald and the striking International Typographical Union.

Carl Linder, ITU international representative, reported progress, but declined to say how much. He said a new meeting with the newspapers had been set tentatively for late today.

Neither the Press nor Herald has published since Nov. 25 when printers walked out in support of new contract demands. Seven other members of Booth Newspapers, Inc., which were struck simultaneously, have reached agreement with the ITU and resumed publication.

Industry's 'Man of Year' Resides in Bloomfield Hills

George W. Romney, who as president of American Motors Corp. championed the small car into a profit making operation, was named as industry's "Man of the Year" in a poll of Associated Press news editors throughout the nation.

He lives at 1830 E. Valley, Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

He is president of the large Detroit Stake, and under his leadership, the new Church of Jesus Christ of Later Day Saints was built on Woodward avenue in Bloomfield Hills. The church recently held its first services.

GOLDFINE SECOND

Second to Romney was Bernard Goldfine, the Boston industrialist whose gift-giving friendship with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams raised such a furor that Adams was forced to resign.

The editors' choice in the sports field was Casey Stengel, who piloted his New York Yankees to victory in the World Series after they had fallen behind the Milwaukee Braves, three games to one.

Charles De Gaulle, 67, and out of the limelight nearly five years, was the runaway choice as the year's top newsmaker in the annual Associated Press poll of the nation's news editors.

The towering, taciturn Frenchman came to power as riots echoed in the streets of Paris, rebellious Army officers held sway in Algeria and France teetered helplessly on the brink of civil war.

GEORGE W. ROMNEY

His first move as premier was to suspend the National Assembly and pack the bickering, factious deputies off on an enforced "vacation." This enabled him to rule alone.

NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED

Then he set about the herculean task of completely revising the French political system through a new constitution which would give more power to the president and less to the chaotic Assembly.

The constitution was voted in by an overwhelming margin and the 12-year-old Fourth French Republic passed out of existence to be replaced by the Fifth Republic. New president: Charles de Gaulle.

Second to de Gaulle as a newsmaker, in the opinion of the news editors, was Nelson Rockefeller, a Republican newcomer to politics who leaped high on the list of presidential possibilities by winning the governorship of New York amid a Democratic sweep elsewhere.

Pope John XXIII, spiritual ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, broke evangelist Billy Graham's hold on the title of Man of the Year in Religion. Graham was the winner in the past four years.

Runnerup to the new Pope in the editors' poll was the old one, Pius XII, who died in October after a long reign of nearly 20 years. Graham was third.

ANOTHER HONOR

Boris Pasternak, a Russian who won a Nobel Prize for a book critical of communism and then was forced by the Soviets to turn down the award, was the editors' choice as Man of the Year in Literature.

The book "Dr. Zhivago" was published in the United States for the first time in 1958 and moved quickly to the head of the best seller lists. The controversy put Pasternak far ahead in the poll's literary field.

For the second year in a row, Wernher von Braun, the German-born scientist who is now a leader in American missile and space efforts, was the editors' top man in science.

Van Cliburn, bushy-haired Texas pianist who leaped from obscurity by winning the International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Moscow, was adjudged the year's biggest newsmaker in entertainment.

Cars to Have Oilless Bearings

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Frictionless bearings that require no lubrication apparently are coming in for wider use in automobiles.

Initially the bearings have been tested on automobile front ends. They have been used for knuckle and ball joints, especially in steering mechanisms.

The frictionless bearings are made of strong plastic and cotton strands impregnated with a phenolic plastic. The manufacturer says they can replace many conventional metal-to-metal bearings.

In a recent test the bearings were used in approximately 200,000 miles of simulated travel without lubrication. They showed no signs of appreciable wear or oxidation.

Another innovation may be the relocation of exhaust mufflers. Ward's Automotive Report says one leading car maker is conducting experiments with the exhaust system at the front end.

"Information is the V-8 installations would have mufflers standing upright under each front fender," Ward's says. It adds that silencing resonators would be placed, one on top of the other, on the front grille floor. The short exhaust discharging pipe would be well forward beneath the radiator grille, pointing rearward.

Claimed for the new exhaust system, says Ward's, is a sharp reduction in back pressure, making for more power and possibly less fuel consumption. The agency notes that in some states rear-end exhaust is required by law. It says if the laws remained unchanged rear discharging pipes would have to be connected to the vertically mounted mufflers.

It adds that the rear-discharging systems are presently designed are expensive and inefficient and interfere with good car frame construction practice.

★ ★ ★

Industry engineers generally have not commented on the proposed relocation of the exhaust system. However, it could be associated with proposals to shift major transmission components to the rear axle area. This is designed to eliminate the floor hump.

It does not presently appear likely the so-called trans-axle system or front-end exhaust installation will be introduced before 1961 or 1962. Preliminary work on 1960 models already is well along.

Most industry experts agree however, that car engineers are about ready for a major operation on the hump or tunnel in the car floor. Needed to provide space for the transmission and drive shaft, it has increased in size as the cars have been lowered in height.

30-Voice Choir At Oxford Church to Give Concert

OXFORD — Under director of music, Mrs. Dorothy Jean Valentine, the 30-voice choir of Immanuel Congregational Church will present a Christmas choral concert 11 a.m. Sunday morning.

Included will be four numbers from Handel's Messiah, "Come Ye My People," with Al Weckle as incidental soloist; "The Glory of the Lord," the "Hallelujah Chorus" and a vocal solo by Marilyn Unger, "Come, All Ye That Labor."

Also two numbers from "The Holy Infant," "Glory to God in the Highest," with David Skibowski as incidental soloist; and "As With Gladness."

The minister, the Rev. Anthony A. Nelson, will present a meditation on "Christmas: An Announcement About God."

Questions on Social Security

Benefits Start Right Away

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From R.S. of Hackensack, N.J.: "I will reach 65 in February of next year and will be retired from my job. Will I be eligible for a Social Security check for the month I reach 65 or will I have to wait until the next month?

Unless the amount of your earnings prohibit it, you'll be entitled to a check for the month in which you are 65.

From Mrs. F.M.L. of Columbia, Mo.; "My husband will be collecting Social Securty retirement payments of $116 a month after Jan. 1. I'll be collecting an amount equal to half of his payments. If he should die, how much would my payments be?"

★ ★ ★

From T.B. of Washington, D.C.: "Are Federal Civil Service retirement annuities subject to federal income tax?"

Yes. Your district director of Internal Revenue can tell you how.

From C.N. of Albany, N.Y.: "I had to retire in 1951 because of a serious disability. I never had a Social Security card or worked under Social Security. Can I qualify for Social Security disability payments?"

No. You must have worked a certain length of time under Social Security to collect disability payments. However, you may be able to collect monthly payments from your state under the aid to disabled adults program.

From F.S.A. of Frederick, Md.: "Does a woman who is qualified for Social Security payments have to wait until her husband is 65 to get them?"

If a woman is eligible for payments based on her own work under Social Security, she can begin drawing payments at 62 regardless of her husband's age. But, if she intends to get payments as a wife based on her husband's work under Social Security, she must wait until he has reached 65 and applies for payment.

From Mrs. B.P. of Liberal, Kan.: "I will be 63 years old in March and intend to apply for Social Security benefits based on my own work and not on my husband's. I understand that my payments will be less than if I waited until I reached 65 to collect them. Will my payments increase at 65 or will they remain the same as I will collect at 63?"

Once you start drawing your Social Security payments as a woman worker before you reach 65, the size of the payments will remain the same no matter what age you might reach—unless, of course, you go back to work.

From L.E. of Clearwater, Fla.: "I recently opened a small store and I plan to have one employe working for me. Must I report that person's earnings for Social Security purposes?"

Yes. Even in the case of a single employe, the employment is covered by Social Security.

Parents Claim Boy Mistreated

State Group Probing New Charge Against Coldwater Home

DETROIT (AP) — A legislative investigating committee has been asked to check out complaints of a Detroit area couple that their son was mistreated at the Coldwater State Home and Training School.

Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit) said yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Chester Nowak of St. Clair Shores told him their son, Gerald, 12, came home on Christmas vacation with bruises and what they said were "scars" on his body. The boy was committed Sept. 17.

Lesinski said Rep. Harry T. Phillips (R-Port Huron), head of the committee investigating allegations of brutality and maltreatment of inmates at the home, asked him to look into the Nowak complaint.

Lesinski, a member of the Phillips Committee, said State Police and a private doctor examined the boy in his presence. State Police took pictures of the child and the boy's records were subpoenaed from the Coldwater home.

"I'm satisfied from my viewing that there was no deliberate injury to the boy involved," Lesinski said.

He said the investigation would continue.

The Phillips Committee was formed at the end of the last legislative session after a state representative said that his brother-in-law died of injuries suffered while at the Coldwater home.

The committee is working with a private agency in making its report on the home.

Man Fences Wife In

NORWALK, Conn. (UPI) —Concetta Palumbo won a divorce after complaining that her husband kept her penned up at home for nearly eight years. Her husband is a fence contractor.

Fans' Protests Bring Back Clint Walker

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Warner Bros., admitting it has been deluged with protest fan mail, has ended the suspension of Clint Walker, who created television's "Cheyenne."

Walker was suspended eight months ago in a money dispute. Ty Hardin has been subbing for him on the popular ABC-TV program.

'Years of Crisis' on TV Sunday

10th Annual Program Ready; 'Projection '59' Also Features News

NEW YORK — CBS News Correspondents will be flown to New York from their posts in the various world capitals to take part in "Years of Crisis: 1949-1959," CBS News' tenth annual year-end analysis of world conditions Sunday, Dec. 28, on the CBS television network from 10 to 11 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Correspondents joining Edward R. Murrow for the world-events symposium include: Eric Sevareid, CBS News Chief Washington Correspondent; Charles Collingwood, London; David Schoenbrun, Paris; Winston Burdett, Rome and the Middle East; Ernest Leiser, Bonn, Germany, and Middle Europe; Paul Niven, until recently CBS News Moscow Correspondent; Peter Kalischer, Tokyo and the Far East; and Richard C. Hottelet, currently on special assignment in Latin America.

★ ★ ★

The assembled newsmen will take a professional look at the primary news events of the last ten years with the aim of distinguishing those events of truly lasting significance from those which—considered vitally important when they occurred—have turned out to be of transient significance.

Twelve NBC News correspondents—whose domestic and foreign assignments have covered every key area on the globe—will appear on the NBC-TV Network, Sunday, Dec. 28 to review the significant events of 1958 and project the news trends into the coming year.

The newsmen, six from overseas and five from this country, will gather in New York for the full-hour "Projection '59" (NBC-TV Net work, 5-6 p.m.) The telecast will be part of the "NBC Kaleidoscope" series.

NBC News foreign correspondents who will participate are: Cecil Brown (Tokyo), Edwin Newman (Paris), Joseph C. Harsch (London), John Rich (Berlin), Irving R. Levine (Moscow), and Welles Hangen (Cairo). The cities listed are home bureaus. Each of these newsmen has traveled extensively in his area during 1958.

Domestic correspondents taking part will be Frank McGee, Robert McCormick, David Brinkley, Ray Scherer, Herbert Kaplow and Pauline Frederick. McGee will serve as anchor man.

On Sunday, Dec. 28 from 3 to 5 p.m., CBS-TV will present "The Year Gone By," a special two-hour assessment of America's arts, sciences and humanities during 1958, as seen by some of the country's most astute and articulate observers.

Santa Visits GI Outpost in Copter

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Santa Claus was a bit late but he didn't forget two U.S. soldiers manning a lonely television relay station high on a barren, snow-clad hill south of Seoul.

Pvt. 1.C. Edward Tkachuk, Chelsea, Mass., and Pvt. Telesfor Martinez, of San Francisco, had not expected visitors. Mail and supplies are flown to them twice a month and the next shipment was still a week away.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. 1.C. Ivan R. Pavlovich, Altoona, Pa., lifted from the helicopter a box with Christmas wrappings for each soldier, and a container with a hot Christmas dinner. The gifts had been sent by fellow GIs.

★ ★ ★

The helicopter was flown by Lt. Harry R. Mitchell, Jane Lew, W.Va.

8 Area Men Awarded Water Plant Certificates

Eight Pontiac area residents were among the 89 men working in water treatment plants throughout Michigan who received certificates of achievement from the state health department after passing written examinations, according to Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner.

Included were Mansell M. Corwin of the Oakland County Department of Public Works; Homer W. Case of Bloomfield Township and Leon J. Lasky of the Ford Motor Company in Wixom.

Started Career 11 Years Ago

Famous Puppet Began Life as Lowly Hunk of Lemonwood

NEW YORK — The most durable entertainer on television is a 27-inch long hunk of lemonwood named Howdy Doody.

If someone hadn't thought of hacking him up into a puppet years ago, he'd still be languishing in a California forest, a convenient resting-place for itinerant birds.

As time is mesured in TV-land, Howdy is immortal. He began his career on NBC-TV 11 years ago. (Dec. 27, 1947 to be exact), before color TV, before video tape and even before the coaxiall cable.

The "somebody" who snatched Howdy from timberland obscurity and rendered him into the "Howdy Doody" show is actually many people, but most notably E. Roger Muir and Bob Smith.

Muir was and is still the producer of the Howdy show and Bob is the voice of Howdy, his permanent sidekick, and co-star of the show. Both thought of the idea and worked out Howdy's creation.

The person who actually took Howdy in hand and gave him form was West Coast puppeteer Thelma Dawson. Back in the Dark Ages of television she took what was then a fantastic sum of money for such a project — about $5,000 — and fashioned Howdy.

Her product is a youngish-looking boy, presumably about 8-10 years old, with reddish brown hair, blue eyes, 136 freckles on his face and an apparently uncopiable uniqueness.

Since Howdy was made, several attempts have been made to copy him. Muir wanted a second dummy for protection purposes (in case Howdy was destroyed) and practically everyone except Muir has had a hand in trying to duplicate him, without success.

"Doubleduty" exists for quick shots at long range where the script calls for a sudden situation change Howdy can't manage. "Photoduty," which has no strings, is used for still shots of Howdy in costume or extravagant make-up.

★ ★ ★

Howdy's had several close calls which make the existence of such "doubles" necessary. The worst was on a flight back from Washington once when his head split open in the non-pressurized cabin. Muir's staff patched him together on that occasion and at other times when someon's dropped him, spilled coffee on him or his joints have become rusty and squeaky.

★ ★ ★

To cut down the chances of such mishaps, Howdy resides in a metal cabinet in a concrete room at NBC and emerges only about four hours a week to do his show.

Muir has tried to insure his prize puppet but can't do it. Insurance companies tell him there's no way of arriving at a true value. Literally, Howdy is priceless.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY — Buffalo Bob Smith and his famed puppet pal, Howdy Doody, celebrate the 11th anniversary of the "Howdy Doody" show Saturday, Dec. 27 (NBC-TV at 10 a.m.). The show that day will be program number 2,252 in the series dating back to Dec. 27, 1947 — one of television's most outstanding records.

A broadcast entitled "The Growth of United States Delinquency" gave this description of young America:

"On leaving the movies, the youngster sets out on a melancholy walk through the streets. Cigar-shaped gleaming Cadillacs and Chryslers rush past him. In restaurant windows he sees the faces of well-fed and satisfied people.

"He, too, could have such a car and be sitting in such a restaurant if . . . one word keeps creeping up in his heart and mind — the word money."

Capitalism's "decay is inevitably accompanied by a recession in culture, a fall in moral and so shameful and frightening a phenomenon as children's juvenile delinquency," the broadcast added.

And how are things in the Soviet Union?

"Time was when our country too — then quite a young Soviet republic — was faced with the pressing problem of unattended children due to poverty, postwar collapse and fatherlessness," the broadcast said.

That's all. Moscow radio didn't go any deeper into the problem of present Soviet juvenile delinquency. Occasional Russian newspaper articles criticizing the conduct of young people indicate there is a lot of delinquency there.

Boy, 11, Accidentally Kills Playmate, 7

HOLLAND (AP) — Michael Foster Schut, 7, was shot fatally yesterday by an 11-year-old boy who police said told them "I shot him. He's dead. I didn't know the gun was loaded.

Ottawa County Undersheriff Peter Meeuwsen said Michael was struck in the face by a shotgun charge fired by Jerry Lee Terhaar.

Meeuwsen said Michael and his stepfather, Bruce Terhaar, were hunting north of Holland. The boy told his stepfather he felt cold and went back to the farm house to play with Jerry. The stepfather said he heard a blast minutes later and went to the house where he found the boy shot.

Give Out Radiation Kits

Among the Indians of the Northwest Pacific Coast, "potlatch" was the winter's main social event. The host for this ceremony gained stature in the eyes of his fellows by giving away his possessions. He not only added to his prestige, but made himself potentially richer than before. Self-esteem dictated that each recipient must return to him a greater gift than the one received.

Compare Your Jokes With Wilson Review

NEW YORK — For Christmas and New Year's, I give you the Best Laughs of 1958 — all about Bernard Goldfine, Brigitte Bardot, Ike's golf, Florida's weather, Eddie and Debbie and Liz, Junior Trujillo's gift packages (foreign cars), Maria Callas, and that other singer, Jerry Lee Lewis, to whom England said, "Yankee, Go Home!"

WILSON

We can laugh, now that the recession's over, about Herb Shriner claiming, "There really isn't any unemployment — that's just a rumor circulated by a lot of people out of work."

"And now," several comedians said from night club floors, "a message from our President: 'FORE!'" . . . As Toots Shor peddled his restaurant site, becoming a millionaire, he recalled how fellow tycoon Jackie Gleason once asked for a loan of $2,000. Toots asked what he wanted it for, and Jackie snorted: "Don't get so nosy, or I won't take it!"

Spoofers Allen and De Wood defined the Eddie Fisher Cha Cha Cha: "You take two steps and then change partners." . . . Steve Allen, talking to Bob Hope, said he was going to Europe and Bob said: "Don't miss Paris." Steve said he wouldn't; his wife Jayne Meadows, was going with him. Bob groaned: "You'll miss it."

The risque attracted attention. An American exclaimed to a Frenchman that the best-seller "Lolita," was "about a middle-aged man in love with a 12-year-old." The Frenchman yawned: "A 12-year-old what? And a Broadway producer, moaning over the critics' blast at his flop show, wailed to one critic:

"Couldn't you have at least said it was dirty?"

When shapely Liz Taylor was at Grossinger's on that fateful Labor Day weekend with Eddie Fisher, she got a blister on her heel and a doctor was summoned. "What! Elizabeth Taylor has a blister on her heel!" he exclaimed. "I'll get my stethoscope and be right over!"

★ ★ ★

"Are you married to a 13-year-old girl too?" he was asked.

President Eisenhower was once again the victim in a story alleging that he'd been asked "What are you going to do about the Civil Rights Bill?" Purportedly he answered, "I thought Goldfine had paid it."

EARL'S PEARLS: A psychiatrist consoled a woman who came to him complaining that her husband called her extravagant. "You seem very normal," the psychiatrist said. "That's just what I told my husband," the woman said, "this morning while I was putting on my mink eyelashes."

Nab FBI Wanted Man Posing as a Gardener

It wasn't until police at nearby El Cajon picked up Nelson on a routine petty theft warrant Friday that they learned his true identity: Daniel William O'Connor, 29, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives. He also had been tagged by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as one of their most wanted men.

In an effort to evade capture, O'Connor had gained 58 pounds, dyed his hair red, grown a big sandy moustache and added a tattoo on his arm. He insisted his name was Art Nelson.

But his fingerprints tripped him and he admitted his identity. He said he had lived in the San Diego area for three years, moving often and working at odd jobs to avoid using a Social Security card.

The FBI called O'Connor a chronic bogus check passer. He had been sought for taking stolen property across a state boundary. Using a number of aliases he victimized merchants in Montana, North Dakota and Oregon, agents said.

O'Connor was wanted by Canadian authorities for beating a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer with a pistol, tying him up and throwing him off the road in May 1953.

He will be arraigned Monday before a U.S. commissioner here.
