

State Senate:
Ban Red Talks

Dominicans Seek to Halt Violence

LANSING (UPI) — The State Senate squeaked through a resolution by a one-vote margin today urging a ban to keep Dr. Herbert Aptheker, a Communist party member, from speaking at two state universities.

Nearly an hour of heated debate today ended with a 15 to 14 vote urging "state-supported colleges and universities to deny their institutions as a forum for Communist speakers."

Aptheker spoke before a crowd of about 750 at the University of Michigan Thursday night.

He was scheduled to speak at Wayne State University this afternoon and at Michigan State University tonight.

State universities and colleges have a policy of permitting controversial speakers to talk on their campuses providing there is "ample time for questions and discussions."

Aptheker recently defied the U.S. State Department's "travel ban" to visit North Viet Nam with two other men, including a University of Michigan graduate.

Aptheker, described as a Communist historian, is director of the American Institute of Marxist Studies and author of a two-volume history of the Negro people. He is considered one of the leading theoreticians of the U.S. Communist party.

"It seems ironic that our state-supported colleges and universities should permit their institutions to be used as a forum for the spread of communism and the allowance of speakers to publicly speak on behalf of communism," Dzendzel said in his resolution.

FIRM STAND

Dzendzel asked the Senate to "urge and request the various boards of trustees and governors of our state-supported colleges and universities take a firm stand on the issue of allowing such state-supported colleges and universities to be used as a forum for the expounding of ideologies at which we are at the present moment embattled with."

The resolution was signed by Dzendzel and Democratic Sens. Garland Lane of Flint, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, John T. Bowman of Roseville, and Bernard F. O'Brien of Detroit.

Copies of the resolution were to be sent to the governing boards of each state-supported college and university.

INCUBATION PERIOD

Slagle had been in training here about 4½ weeks. The incubation period of the disease is 10 to 12 days.

One of the other ill men was sent to a hospital Tuesday. Slagle went to the hospital Wednesday and the others became ill yesterday.

The sick men came from two separate basic training squadrons. Those squadrons were ordered isolated from others at the base.

Other precautions include the avoidance of all mass indoor formations and restriction of all basic trainees to the base. All flights have been isolated from each other.

BASES ALERTED

Bases to which recent Lackland personnel have been reassigned have been alerted. Special attention is being given to persons in sick bay.

The disease is spread by coughing and sneezing.

Civilian workers who live off the base are continuing in normal operations.

There have been 15 cases at Ft. Knox, Ky., since the first of the year. The Public Information Office said one trainee died and that all but five of those still hospitalized were progressing satisfactorily.

A Lackland spokesman said 5,000 graduates of basic training had been sent to advanced training at other bases in the last 10 days.

The Ft. Ord, Calif., Army basic training center reported that no case has occurred among basic trainees since a suspension of recruit training was lifted on April 1965.

2,000 Are Sheltered After Greek Quake

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — About 2,000 persons made homeless by a quake in central Greece have been given temporary shelter while rebuilding of their homes goes on.

The government has sent food, clothing and medical supplies and has extended long-term credit to rebuild homes.

County's Dems to Honor Senator at OU March 12

The ninth annual dinner honoring U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart will be held March 12 at Oakland University, the Oakland County Democratic Committee announced today.

Among the state's top Democrats invited to the 7:30 p.m. event are Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams, National Committee Chairman Neil Staeber, and 19th District Congressman Billie S. Farnum.

Tickets can be obtained from the dinner chairman, Larry Perlick, 1411 Northfield, Oak Park, and a County Democratic Headquarters, 17 Water. Tickets are $10 a couple.

The dinner will be in the Sports and Recreation Building.

U.S. Road Toll in 1965 Put at Record 49,000

1.8 Million Disabled; Economic Loss Total Listed as $8.5 Billion

CHICAGO (AP) — A record toll of 49,000 traffic deaths in the United States last year was reported today by the National Safety Council.

The council said 1.8 million persons suffered disabling injuries in 1965 motor vehicle accidents.

The economic loss was calculated at $8.5 billion, $5.5 billion of this in wage losses, medical expenses and overhead insurance costs.

The one bright thread in the dark pattern was the council's assertion that the rate of deaths per 100 million travel miles declined for the first time since 1961—from 5.7 in 1964 to 5.6 last year.

This compared with a 1945 rate of 11.3.

Countdown statistics computed a 5 percent rise in the total number of vehicle-miles last year, 880 billion.

Flint Youth Dies in Crash in Holly Twp.

A single-car crash on the I-75 expressway in Holly Township this morning claimed the life of an 18-year-old Flint youth.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital was Roy C. Terry, who lost control of his northbound car after passing a midwinter scene in the Pontiac area as shown in the photos above and at the right.

County snow removal equipment was left high, but not dry, in the balmy drizzle at the Road Commission service center on Pontiac Lake Road.

Oakland University's Winter Carnival cochairman, Harriet Slepicka of Traverse City, had quite a time convincing Don Fielder of Detroit that he would have to trade his skis for other equipment if he were going to join in the fun.

LITTLE SNOW

She made it clear that plans would need changing since all the snow on OU's campus was piled on her two mittens.

The skiing event will be replaced by a tug of mud at the under-construction lake site in front of the twin towers dormitory at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Mossler III; Trial Is Recessed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Candace Mossler's trial in the slaying of her husband was recessed for the weekend today, after she became ill during the night and was unable to appear in court.

Dr. Edward W. St. Mary, under questioning by Judge George Schulz, testified he treated Mrs. Mossler for migraine headaches and nausea, a combination that has affected her twice before during her trial with Melvin Lane Powers on charges of murdering multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

Dr. St. Mary also testified that Mrs. Mossler complained of severe chest pains, "which she also has had before."

Belgium's Monarch Accepts Resignation

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — King Baudouin today accepted the resignation of the Catholic-Socialist coalition government of Premier Pierre Harmel.

The king and Queen Fabiola returned from a three-day state visit to Denmark and shortly afterward the monarch received Harmel. The Catholic premier handed over his resignation for the second time within a week, and this time Baudouin accepted it.

Both Kennan and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, expressed fears this week's U.S.-South Vietnamese declaration in Honolulu may have raised an added obstacle to a negotiated peace.

"It seems to me we have further committed ourselves to a point where any sort of a negotiated settlement, short of outright victory, could be called a betrayal of a commitment," Fulbright said.

FORMER ENVOY

Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, added: "It gives me a very, very uneasy feeling to read the joint declaration to which we have subscribed . . .

"It does seem to me that if we want to develop the utmost prospect of a peaceful solution, we should have maintained the independence of our position."

Both men indicated they feel the South Vietnamese leaders are more interested in military victory than in economic, social and humane positions stressed by U.S. officials.

Earlier, Kennan said that adopting a strong defensive position while letting the war simmer might convince the Communists "they cannot dislodge us. If they cannot dislodge us, they will have to talk to us, because they want us out."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a Washington news conference Thursday that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

New Minister Is Named for Armed Forces

Strike to Force Out Army High Command Said Gaining Ground

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Hector Garcia Godoy named a new armed forces minister today in an attempt to solve a grave crisis and rioting that has left nine persons dead in two days.

Col. Enrique Perez y Perez, 42, was named to the ministry with the approval of the armed forces. He replaces Commodore Francisco Rivera Camero, who has been named military attache in Washington.

The change was announced at the National Palace as a general strike to force out the Dominican army high command appeared gaining ground in the capital.

Former President Juan Bosch threw his weight behind the general strike.

There were signs that the strike, called Wednesday night by labor leaders of the Dominican Revolutionary party was spreading after a slow start.

OFFICES CLOSED

Some business houses in the central part of the city were closed, as were many government offices and international airlines.

Jean Santoni Vivoni, administrator of the state-controlled sugar corporation, reported all 11 mills were closed.

Victim's Father Has Diphtheria

Doctors Check to See if He Infected Son

DETROIT (AP) — The father of a Detroit boy who died of diphtheria has been found infected with the disease, and Health Department officials sought today to find out whether Boylston, 38, infected his son.

Tests had been conducted on Hill since his son, Lonnie, 4, died of virulent diphtheria Jan. 31.

They showed negative until yesterday, when Dr. Paul Salchow, Health Department epidemiologist, found the presence of the germs in a test culture.

Salchow said it will take another day or two to determine whether Hill has a virulent case.

Six cases of nonvirulent diphtheria have been discovered in the general near West side neighborhood in tests following the boy's death.

But Salchow said those with the nonvirulent form of disease could not have infected Lonnie Hill or anyone else with diphtheria germs that could kill.

Except for the handful of non-virulent cases, tests on more than 500 persons have proved negative.

Hill works at the Chrysler Corp. engine plant in nearby Trenton.

Salchow said the incubation period would be "close to completed" in the case of Hill's fellow workers. Hill has not been to work since Jan. 28.

U.S. Pressures Hanoi on Peace Move

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The United States is seeking to put diplomatic pressure on North Viet Nam to modify its demand that the Communist National Liberation Front — NLF — must represent South Viet Nam in any peace negotiations.

President Johnson has sent word to interested foreign governments that the demand made by North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh is wholly unacceptable and has created an obstacle to efforts to arrange a peace conference.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, envoy to the United Nations, said after a two-hour meeting with Johnson yesterday that U.S. policy is flexible on the issue of an NLF role in negotiations.

The NLF is the political arm of the Communist guerrilla forces.

"We will bargain on that at the conference table," Goldberg told reporters.

He emphasized that the demand which Ho made public Jan. 28 is unacceptable to the United States, and he made clear it would have to be modified if the issue is to be resolved.

Johnson briefed Goldberg on his meeting in Hawaii earlier this week with the leaders of South Viet Nam, then sent him back to U.N. headquarters in New York to renew his efforts with Secretary General U Thant and members of the Security Council as well as representatives of other countries to find some way to bring the Vietnamese war to a close.

While Goldberg was meeting with Johnson, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee heard from George F. Kennan, former State Department Soviet affairs expert, its inquiry into U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Both Kennan and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, expressed fears this week's U.S.-South Vietnamese declaration in Honolulu may have raised an added obstacle to a negotiated peace.

"It seems to me we have further committed ourselves to a point where any sort of a negotiated settlement, short of outright victory, could be called a betrayal of a commitment," Fulbright said.

Conflicting Viet Strategy Floods LBJ

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) — Pity the poor President.

He gets advice by the ton — solutions none. This is Lyndon B. Johnson's dilemma in Viet Nam.

Earnest experts urge on course of action. Other earnest experts urge the opposite — sometimes simultaneously. Even U.S. allies disagree over what the President should do.

Bomb the port city of Haiphong and other military-industrial targets in North Viet Nam, says Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam.

WILSON'S STATEMENT

Britain couldn't support any Haiphong bombing, said Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London.

Hold "enclaves" while seeking peace through the United Nations or a Geneva conference, suggested Lt. Gen. James Gavin, former chief planning officer for the Army.

That would allow the Viet Cong to roam the countryside, said Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the President's military adviser. He added: The impulse to withdraw into enclaves "has much in common with the yearning for safety behind defenses at our coastlines and in equally illusory."

Such strategy would make the Viet Cong a present of most of South Viet Nam, said Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

POLITICAL ARMS

Not recognizing the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, as a major party to any negotiations may be a stumbling block to peace efforts, says Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

But Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said that the front would have no difficulty making its voice heard at peace talks.

W. Averell Harriman, President Johnson's roving ambassador, said the NLF and Viet Cong "are the agents of North Viet nam. They do not represent the people of the south."

CHINA INTERVENTION

"We must face and accept the risk" of Chinese intervention, said Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Preparedness Committee.

This would be a poor time and place to fight the Chinese, Gen. Gavin said.

"We are there to help the South Vietnamese. We should not make this an American war," said Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

"Negotiate," cry most critics of the President. "Move as quickly as possible to some form of negotiated settlement," said Arthur Schlesinger Jr., historian and former White House adviser.

POSITIONS OF STRENGTH

But there must be no parity with the Communists except from positions of strength, Premier Ky insists.

Anyway, Secretary Rusk says the peace offensive hasn't uncovered any readiness by Hanoi to talk.

"The people are determined to carry their resistance war to the end and to inflict total defeat on the U.S. Imperialist aggressor," Hanoi snorted in a recent broadcast.

"The President," his press secretary, Bill D. Moyers, has said, "does welcome counsel — diverse counsel — and the views of people who feel impelled by conscience to speak out."

Of diverse counsel on Viet Nam, the President is getting a Texas-sized platter full.

U.S. Ammo Hike Likely in Viet War

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. troops in the war in Viet Nam are firing their rifles and machine guns at a rate of better than 1 billion bullets a year and the figure is expected to go still higher.

The rate of ammunition now being used amounts to more than 4,000 rounds for each of the 230,000 troops the Communists are estimated to have in South Viet Nam.

It does not include the grenades, mortar and artillery shells, rockets and bombs that are being rained on the enemy. Nor does it include any of the ammunition used by South Vietnamese troops, which outnumber the American forces.

U.S. officials, who based the 1 billion figure on the estimated ammunition consumption for this month, indicated the rate is expected to rise steadily during the year.

They said U.S. commanders in the field will get whatever additional forces they need.

OVERCROWDED FACILITIES

Overcrowded South Vietnamese port facilities will be increased 75 per cent by intensive construction designed to swell the flow of ammunition and supplies during the first half of 1966.

The officials added they are trying to substitute money for men wherever possible.

They believe ample use of ammunition and equipment such as helicopters is a way of reducing American casualties and saving American lives.

Their statements were regarded as a partial answer to congressional assertions that the per capita and per kill cost of the Vietnamese war is rising far above previous conflicts.

The United States now has 1,000 helicopters in Viet Nam, more than the total in the armed forces five years ago. They are believed a major factor in reducing the fatality rate among wounded to less than half that of Korea.

For Expanded Police, Fire Departments

W. Bloomfield Millage Vote Set

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A 2-mill tax increase for expansion of the township police and fire departments will be on a special ballot here April 4.

The Township Board last night set the date for the election and decided to seek the amount recommended last week by a citizens study committee.

Approval of the proposition would allow the board to levy up to 2 mills for fire and police during the next five years.

The board would not necessarily levy the entire amount, Township Supervisor John C. Reardon noted.

The proposed program would allow the township to operate its police department on a 24-hour basis for the first time, Reardon said.

"The people are seeking — in fact, demanding — these services," he said. "There are no two ways about it, they require money."

News of the Area

Labeling the request "conservative," Reardon noted the recommended minimum number of law enforcement officers is 1.4 per 1,000 residents.

"This plan calls for less than one per 1,000," he said. "But it will provide far and away better service than we have now."

The township now depends on State Police and sheriff's department coverage for about five hours a day.

"We vary the hours — if we didn't do that we would be wide open," Reardon said.

He commented that the most significant factor in officials' immediate concern is the new communications system, which will facilitate 24-hour operation of the police department and coordinate calls of both departments.

The Township Board recently spent $9,000 for the new system.

"Without manpower, this set-up is useless," Reardon said. "In order to make it effective, we have to man it 24 hours a day."

The proposed program would add nine men to the police department, doubling its contingent, and eight full-time men to the fire department, which now has four.

Also included are provisions for new equipment and salary increases for personnel in the two departments.

Drue took exception to this comment in stressing the activities program of the high school.

"We have an excellent intramural program for both boys and girls," he said, "which no other school offers. We also have excellent outdoor facilities which are used when the weather permits."

Finally the report suggested that some thought should be given to the inclusion in an agricultural program in the curriculum.

Cooper said it would be a valuable and rewarding part of the general high school curriculum.

WOLVERINE LAKE — The lengthy and complicated history of lake rehabilitation attempts here will be condensed into a report to be distributed to property owners.

The report also will include a financial statement of the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association, Inc., which has used citizen contributions in its nearly three-year battle to have Wolverine Lake improved.

"It will be an accounting of the money collected, the expenses and how the money has been used," Village Councilwoman Clara Miller said.

Mrs. Miller, who also is a member of the association, said the three or four-page report will be distributed "within the next few weeks."

Some 2,800 copies are to be published. They will be delivered in the village on a door-to-door basis and mailed to property owners who live outside the village.

FORMED IN 1963

The lake rehabilitation association was formed in 1963 after Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry said dredging of the lake would be unfeasible on the basis of a "confiscatory" cost estimate of $995,000.

Residents had sought the dredging project to increase the depth of water in the lake, then averaging 3.8 feet.

Engineers at Hubbell, Roth and Clark Inc. of Birmingham had prepared the original study, which included the cost estimate and a prediction that hydraulic dredging would empty the lake a quarter of the way through the project.

Organizing themselves into the association, a group of residents collected enough funds to pay for an engineering report prepared by John R. Snell of Lansing, who said the cost of the project would be about $530,000.

NEW EQUIPMENT

Snell had done the engineering for the dredging on Long Lake in Commerce Township, which reportedly was the first of its kind and made use of a new type of equipment.

Barry maintained his original stand, saying the project was feasible from an engineering standpoint but casting serious doubts on the possibility of financing it.

Other methods of improving the lake were considered, the most popular being the control of the lake level through the Oakland County Drain Office.

A three-man board of determination was appointed to rule on the issue.

STARTED HEARINGS

The panel started its hearings in September 1965 and was shortly faced with a lawsuit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by Paul G. Valentino, Pontiac attorney representing the lake rehabilitation association.

The association objected to board consideration of the matter before a special assessment district had been established. It also is seeking a court definition of the scope of the board's hearings.

The meetings have been halted until a ruling is made in the case, now awaiting trial before Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Milford Principal Raps School Report

MILFORD — James G. Drue, principal of Milford High School, has taken exception to the second of a series of reports resulting from a study of Huron Valley Schools curriculum and facilities.

The study is being conducted by a citizens committee assisted by consultants from the University of Michigan.

The second in a series of five reports was presented to the committee Tuesday night by Dr. Daniel Cooper of the U-M Bureau of School Services.

Drue objected to a dropout study conducted by Les Howe, Huron Valley Schools counselor and attendance officer, who reported a dropout rate of 25 per cent.

The principal claims the dropout rate is only five or six per cent.

CLASS STUDIED

This study covered the freshman class which started high school in 1960 and graduated in 1964.

"These statistics are not realistic," said Drue, "because the study included the ninth grade which we do not even include in the high school."

"The study also counted a certain percentage of the students as dropouts who moved out of the area."

Cooper, who has studied the high school's curriculum and visited the classrooms, gave the committee the news that, although there are certain areas which need improvement, the school generally made an excellent impression.

SUMMING UP

He summed up the high school program as "quality education at a modest level."

The purposes of the report were to understand the total high school program so that long-range building plans can be made, and secondly, to point out changes that should be made to improve the educational program so that the building plans can include these new improvements.

Cooper's study concerned itself mostly with the limitations placed on the effectiveness of the teaching program by the building itself.

There is still a problem of overcrowding caused by the ever-increasing numbers of students entering the high school, he said.

Drue minimized the problem by stating, "There are only 31 pupils in each classroom on the average. Though this is no ideal, it is far from ridiculous."

Also cited in the study was the needed expansion of certain programs. It was noted that the art, homemaking, math, music, and science departments have adequate space and equipment but the programs in art and music should be expanded.

The commercial department needs more space for office and the shop needs to be expanded, he said.

Mrs. Sadler said enthusiastically that the project never wanes, according to their teachers, Mrs. T. D. Sadler and Mrs. Beryl Waun.

The adoption was Mrs. Sadler's brainchild 10 years ago and the project has been passed from fourth grade to fourth grade since then.

The two teachers laugh at the misconceptions surrounding beginning of the project. The orphan was coming here to live and they all wanted to take her home with them."

LEE KI JA

asm for the adoption spreads into the lower grades. The younger children look forward to fourth grade so they can take care of the orphan, Lee Ki Ja.

Through the Christian Children's Fund, Inc. of Richmond, Va., the children send letters and cards. At Christmas and on her birthday, they send gifts.

They raise the necessary money through weekly popcorn sales. To help keep the overhead expenses down, the mothers pop the popcorn.

GENEROUSITY

"The children are generous with their gifts to Lee. This year for Christmas, they sent her a radio which puzzled one little girl.

"If she can't speak English," she asked Mrs. Sadler, "what will she do with a radio from our country?"

Lincoln Is Probably the Most Affectionately Remembered Great Leader

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Of all the great captains of earth the one most affectionately remembered probably is he who was born in a Kentucky log cabin 157 years ago Saturday.

Success came late and death came early to Abraham Lincoln.

But today he holds a unique niche in the heart of mankind.

There is no explaining his genius. As did those other great captains of pen and sword, William Shakespeare and Joan of Arc, he sprang seemingly from nowhere to immortal fame.

STANDS ALONE

"Lincoln was not a type," said Robert G. Ingersoll. "He stands alone — no agcestors, no fellows, no successors."

Almost from birth Lincoln appeared likely to wind up as also-ran in life's race.

He was poor and had little formal schooling. He failed in business as a storekeeper. He was unlucky in both love and politics, it seemed.

His youthful sweetheart, Ann Rutledge, died. The first woman he proposed to, Mary Owens, turned him down and explained later:

"Mr. Lincoln was deficient in those little links which make up the path of a woman's happiness."

STORMY MARRIAGE

His subsequent marriage to Mary Todd proved a stormy one.

He lost more elections than he won. Anticipating defeat in his first race for a seat in the Illinois Legislature in 1832 — and he did lose — Lincoln wrote:

"If the good people in their wisdom shall see fit to keep me in the background, I have been too familiar with disappointment to be much chagrined."

When his business failed, leaving him debt-ridden, he became a village postmaster. Had he succumbed to his tendency to melancholy and self-doubt, young Abe might well have disappeared into the mists of history, just another obscure frontier failure.

But he persisted. He turned to the study of law and grammar.

Slowly his star rose. In 1856 he remarked jokingly during a losing race for senator against Stephen Douglas:

"Nobody ever expected me to be president. In my poor, lean, lank face nobody has ever seen that any cabbages were sprouting."

HE WAS WRONG

But he was wrong there. Four years later he had become president. And less than five years later, only 56, he was killed by an assassin. But in that brief period he had become the indispensable human fulcrum that kept the American nation from teeter-tottering into ruin.

One of those rare men unraptured by vast power, Lincoln has been more written about than any other head of state.

With the possible exception of Napoleon. But something of the personal mystery remains.

He has been called many things. "Upcommon commoner," "our pastoral captain," "the perfect flower of chance," "martyr to the cause of man," "the gentlest memory of the world," "a homely hero," "a blend of mirth and tears," "a peasant-prince," "a master-most about his present status is piece of God," "the captain with the mighty heart."

"A man to mankind they read about in their history books, he is the one most loved by children."

They feel that they are struggling alone in a world of foolish grown-ups, and they sense that he was, too.

Local Jaycees Rate a Community Salute

Permeated with youthful enthusiasm and pride of accomplishment, few events could offer comparable stimulation to those attending than the annual Bosses' Night of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening.

It was the 44th such function since the local Jaycee Chapter was formed in 1924 and provided a fitting setting for the recognition given yearly to two members of the chapter for outstanding performance and the community Boss of the Year.

Richard M. Fitzgerald and William J. Dean Jr. were presented respectively with Key Man and Distinguished Service awards while Charles F. Brown, Consumers Power Co. district manager, was acclaimed Boss of the Year.

Others honored were five area firms who received Merit Awards for "outstanding jobs" done during the past year, along with Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and fellow commissioners to whom went certificates "in appreciation for outstanding service to the community."

The Junior Chamber with a membership of 90 has won a meritorious place in the civic life of the community. Its objectives and achievements are many. Included among them was the campaign leading to a revision of the City Charter that provided more equitable election of City Commissioners; the annual staging of the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant; and the year-to-year sponsorship of the Detroit Lions pre-season football exhibition.

Born in St. Louis in 1920, the scope of the Junior Chamber of Commerce (age bracket 21-35) ideal quickly became national and today embraces 4,400 chapters with 200,000 members. The organization went international in 1944 and is now established in 78 countries with 7,500 chapters.

We congratulate the Pontiac Area Jaycees on the fine caliber of its membership and the progressive outlook reflected. This is one of the most energetic and enthusiastic organizations in the area and its past record is one of sheer accomplishment and achievement.

Sophie Tucker Billy Rose

Two stalwarts of show business passed on their rewards within a day of each other.

SOPHIE TUCKER packed them in for 62 years during her burlesque, vaudeville and night club career before taking her last curtain call while filling an engagement at New York's Latin Quarter. She was 78.

Billy Rose, impresario extraordinary of the amusement world whose lightning mind made him a prodigious fortune as a financier, heard his final number at 66. He had come to his winter home in Jamaica to recuperate after surgery.

SOPHIE, womankind's answer to AL Jolson, was long known as the "last of the red-hot mamas" as she belted out blues, jazz or swing numbers. "Some of These Days" was her theme song. A three-time loser at matrimony, the 192-pound performer with heart to match was revered for her innumerable philanthropies and involvement in humanitarian causes.

Rose was a latter-day personification of the HORATIO ALGER ideal as he lifted himself by his bootstraps within a frame of amazing versatility marked by genius as extravaganzas entrepreneur, theatrical producer, newspaper columnist, song writer and stock market manipulator. BILLY took the same virtuosity to the altar, having been married five times.

At a time when the American entertainment scene seems fixed on a plateau of personality conformity, flamboyant and lusty figures such as Sophie Tucker and Billy Rose can ill be spared. They will be deeply mourned by a multitude of personal friends and ardent adherents.

Urges Soothing Syrup for Red China Gripes

Red China, says U.N. Secretary General U THANT, is like a sick person who behaves in an arrogant and hysterical manner because he is obsessed with fear and suspicion.

Because China is treated like an outlaw, its reaction has been something like a nervous breakdown in a human being.

Thant's prescription: Tender, loving care, beginning with acceptance into the United Nations to encourage the Chinese to look on themselves as part of the world community.

Evidently the secretary general doesn't have enough problems in his job already.

LBJ Firming Up Labor Pay Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is showing impatient signs of a tougher policy toward some labor unions under its wage-price guidelines program. The administration used the guideline policy in pressuring big business to roll back some price increases last year. Now labor and wages are getting increasing attention as inflation pressures mount.

The government so far has moved beyond the scenes, for most part, in efforts to arrest what it considers excessive wage demands by some labor unions. But an open showdown soon seems likely.

The result could be anything from a few minor bumps and bruises to a major rupture between the Johnson administration and organized labor.

President George Meany of the 13-million member AFL-CIO already has warned that labor will accept no federal controls on wages unless they are equally applied to prices and profits. The giant labor federation will take up the whole question at its meetings starting in Miami Beach next Monday.

ABORTIVE ATTEMPT
The government already has made one abortive attempt to persuade construction unions to agree to a compulsory plan of wage settlements.

The reply was a stinging "no." But one high labor official said "I think they'll be leaning on us from now on." If President Johnson really wants to get tough — and so far he hasn't — he can wield the same nightstick against many unions that pressured the rollback of steel, copper and aluminum price increases last year.

This is the gigantic power of the more than $50 billion a year the government pours out for federal construction contracts, defense purchasing and other spending in the private economy.

SAME THREAT TACTIC
If the threat of switching contracts from firms that refused to lower prices worked, why wouldn't the threat of switching to non-union labor?

There is plenty of nonunion labor or at least non-AFL-CIO workers around to use as a threat to switch many federal contracts.

The initial AFL-CIO counterattack will be against Johnson's Council of Economic Advisors rather than on the President himself. "These academicians don't ever face the problems that other people do," said one high federation spokesman angrily.

With many inflationary signs already evident, the coming year will severely test whether Johnson can put enough iron in his voluntary guidelines to avoid outright wage-price controls which nobody really wants.

But he will have a tough job persuading labor.

'I Can't Hear A Thing. I've Got Something In My Ear!'

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Viet Goals Are Unselfish

WASHINGTON — It looks like a long, grueling war ahead in Viet Nam.

All the talk about "escalation" or unlimited bombing or mobilizing a vast army of Americans to fight the war has been superseded by a planned determination to build up steadily the economic and military strength of South Viet Nam, even if it takes years and years to do the job.

The chances are that no big battles will be fought and that no spectacular military measures will be taken, but that the United States will continue to exercise an increasing pressure that will eventually drive out the Communist guerrillas.

If on any occasion in the meantime the North Vietnamese government wishes to lay peace, the United States will be ready.

But there will have to be some evidence from the enemy that there is a genuine desire to end the war.

President Johnson's trip to Hawaii was intended to strengthen the morale of the Vietnamese government and at the same time proclaim to the world America's intention to carry on the fight for the ideals that have been set forth again and again in the past.

PURPOSE DEFINED
The declaration of Honolulu is significant, not because any new principles are enunciated but because the purposes of the United States are defined in even more resolute terms than before.

It is interesting to compare what President Johnson affirmed at Honolulu with what he said in a speech on Aug. 12, 1964, just after Congress had authorized him to use the armed forces in Viet Nam.

"For 10 years through the Eisenhower administration, the Kennedy administration, and this administration, we have had one consistent aim — observance of the 1954 agreements, which guaranteed the independence of South Viet Nam."

"That independence has been

Harrovingly, at the tensest period of the eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation with Khrushchev, a U2 pilot made a wrong turn on a routine flight and cruised over Soviet territory.

That alone could have pulled the trigger.

Speaking of Cuba, Herbert L. Matthews, writing for the Times, asserts Khrushchev told JFK that Fidel Castro was not a genuine Communist.

the consistent target of aggression and terror. For 10 years our response to these attacks has followed a consistent pattern. First, that the South Vietnamese have the basic responsibility for the defense of their own freedom.

"Second, we would engage our strength and our resources to whatever extent needed to help others repel aggression."

"Some say we should withdraw from South Viet Nam... but the United States cannot and must not and will not turn aside and allow the freedom of a brave people to be handed over to Communist tyranny."

Although some Americans may think there is a magic way to bring the Viet Nam war to an early end, they will find that while the policy decided upon now does not call for hasty or impulsive action, it means a steady pressure designed to convince the North Vietnamese government that its aggression in South Viet Nam has to be abandoned.

UNSELFISH EXPRESSION
The war in Viet Nam has turned out to be one of the most unselfish and generous expressions of a nation's purpose which has been witnessed in this century.

Ultimately, the American crusade to secure self-determination for the people of Viet Nam will be recognized as a manifestation of a great principle and ideal.

It took a long while for the Marshall Plan to be appreciated in the decade after World War II was ended, and it will probably take an equally long time before the disinterested and unselfish service rendered to the people of Viet Nam by the United States is truly understood by the world.

Bus Driver Gives Views on Behavior of Students

In regard to letters concerning fights at Crary Junior High, a good percentage of the Crary students are nice children but the remaining percentage blacken the reputation of every school, not only Crary. They make it difficult to keep a complete staff of bus drivers.

Does their appearance—frizzled hair, heavy make-up, short skirts, Beate haircuts, and the ever-present cigarette—revert back to their home atmosphere?

The bus driver is not allowed to lay a hand on any student but becomes the helpless victim of verbal or physical abuse. When students are reprimanded in the form of a violation ticket, the driver becomes the sounding board for some parent. I invite anyone interested to visit the bus garage on M-59 the last day of school and see what some of these students can do to a $6,000 piece of equipment that taxpayers pay for.

Anyone who was 65 years of age or older on January 1 has until March 31 to sign up for the new Medicare Program enacted by Congress. Those over 65 who are not on social security must apply for both the hospital coverage (available at no charge) and the medical coverage (optional for $3.00 per month).

Eligible persons who do not apply by March 31 will not have another chance to do so until the last three months of 1967. Anyone reaching 65 after January 1, 1966, will be able to apply for medical coverage during the three-month period before, or the three-month period after his 65th birthday.

"How do you spell Vietnam?" The Senate GOP Policy Committee tried to find out and got these answers: The White House uses three versions, "Viet Nam," "Vietnam" and "Viet Nam"; the State Department also uses all three but favors the hyphen; Saigon's embassy in Washington lists itself in the phone book with the hyphen but says it prefers the two-word style.

The senators decided to go along with "Viet Nam."

The Russians on this occasion may give a little more information. Innocent, Says Senator Driver

Drunkenness Charge

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Basil Brown, D - Highland Park, pleaded innocent to drunken driving charges in Lansing Municipal Court Thursday.

Judge Earl McDonald set a tentative trial date for Feb. 23 in Ingham County Circuit Court.

He released Brown on his personal recognizance after the senator's attorney, Richard Aboud, asked $100 bond be waived.

McDonald said he would do so "with reluctance — because the average John Doe who comes in here has to post bond, and he isn't going to like this."

INTERFERENCE

"But I don't believe one branch of government should interfere with another and I would hate to interfere with the operation of the Legislature," the judge added.

Okey Peterson, Lansing police lieutenant, said Brown ran off the road in south Lansing Wednesday night. He declined to take a test for alcohol after the accident, Peterson said. Brown was jailed from 11:30 p.m. to 8:05 a.m.

Brown has a record of 21 traffic violations dating back to 1952, but has only five points on his record now, stemming from arrests in Lansing and East Lansing.

Bill Proposed on Statewide School Taxes

LANSING (AP) — A state senator proposed Thursday that property taxes for school support be levied at a statewide level of 23 mills.

Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Deerborn, showed figures which would increase per-pupil financial support by more than 50 per cent.

Robinson would repeal local operating millage for school operations. More than 97 per cent of the state's school districts now levy less than the 23-mill rate he proposes. The average levy is in the 14-15 mill range.

Robinson said that under his plan, in 1967-68 each pupil would be supported by $740. The present statewide average is $442.

INCREASE RATE

Per-pupil support would increase to $768 by 1970-71, Robinson said.

He declared his proposals "will mean for the first time real equal educational opportunities for all children and allow school boards to plan from year to year with emphasis on education—not a constant crisis year after year worrying about where the dollars are coming from."

Under a bill package to be introduced by Robinson, part of the $740 per pupil support would come from a $300 million general fund appropriation in addition to the property tax and existing sales tax allocations.

Boston Reviewers Crown King's Show a Top Hit

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Comedian Alan King was sweating out in New York the Boston reviews of a show he helped produce. "The Lion In Winter," starring Robert Preston and Rosemary Harris—and when the first were raves, he got expensive and discussed the new $35,000 Rolls-Royce he gets next month.

WILSON

"I've got $175,000 in this show, and I have 175,000 nartners—at $1 each," he said.

King said the suspense of waiting for the reviews "is worse than having a baby—and I'll never produce a play again without being there."

Robert Merrill came in with his wife and Sally Ann Howes (recently divorced from Richard Adler) who'd gone to hear him in "Masked Ball" at the Met. A wag told Merrill, "I went to the opera once to hear Wagner — Honus Wagner."

Julie London opened quite spectacularly at the Americana Royal Box—and when she took sips of scotch from Lisa Kirk's glass, someone said, "Joe E. Lewis Rides Again."

Probably Julie was upset by a misunderstanding about sound. I know that no orchestra ever yaffis to drown out a soft-voiced singer whom it's being paid to make look good and sound good, but why does it happen so often? Can't we have a campaign to educate orchestras to "Let us hear the singer—not your brass section drowning her out?"

Julie's so wonderful everybody wanted to hear all of her, and of clever Tom Williams. Julie brought two of her children with her, and up on the 4th floor of the Americana, one of them could be heard, at midnight, squalling a protest about all the noise in Mommy's room next door.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jason Robards described a town in which he once appeared: "The only things moving on Main St. after 10 p.m. were the hands of the clock."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "I think sermons would be better if they were preached less often." — Archbishop of Canterbury.

LBJ's Signature Is Awaited on GI Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A permanent GI benefits bill with an estimated eventual price tag of $500 million a year was on President Johnson's desk today after receiving final congressional approval.

Although the bill carries a higher price tag than the administration had proposed, the President was expected to sign it. It would take effect June 1.

The measure accents education and home-buying aid for all military personnel with more than six months of active duty since Jan. 31, 1955, the date benefits ceased under the Korean GI benefits measure.

Passed last year by the Senate and early this week by the House in different forms, the compromise bill scooted through the Senate Thursday by vote of 99 to 0 and was whisked to the President without a dissent after a voice vote in the House.

COMBAT AREAS

The administration had suggested that benefits be limited to men who serve in combat areas, instead of covering all personnel regardless of where they put in their military time.

The estimated cost of the administration bill was $150 million a year.

The cost of the program is expected to level off at around $500 million annually after five years. Its first-year cost was estimated at $335 million.

Most of the money would be for educational benefits on the basis of one month of schooling for each month of service, up to 36 months or four normal years of college study. Beneficiaries could select their own school, within limits, and would not have to be high school graduates.

Educational benefits would be paid directly to the veteran at the rate of $100 monthly for full-time schooling for a single person and $150 for those with two or more dependents. Smaller allotments would be paid to students who attend school less than full-time, but nothing would be allowed for less than half-time students.

8 YEARS

The schooling could be spread over a period of eight years. Veterans who have financed their own schooling since their discharge would not be reimbursed.

However, they would be eligible for private home loans up to $7,500 underwritten by the government, or direct home loans up to $17,500 if private financing was not available.

None of the benefits would go to persons who volunteered for six months of training and then entered the reserves to meet their military obligations.

St. Joseph Hospital to Update Maternity Unit

A newborn baby is one of the most helpless of creatures. It is unable to exercise control over its muscles, and its eyes do not focus on objects. Unless medical science comes to its aid, it is often difficult for it to make its entry into the world.

Such aid is provided in the obstetrical department of our modern hospitals, where almost all babies are born in the United States. Fifty years ago few women went voluntarily to a hospital when they were going to have a baby.

The reason mothers feel differently about this today is, of course, that hospital service has improved greatly.

During 1964 a total of 2,510 babies were born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, including 26 sets of twins.

BIRTH WEIGHTS

Their weights at birth ranged from 14 pounds, 15 ounces, in the case of a strapping boy, to only one pound, 12 ounces in that of a prematurely-delivered infant born on March 16 of last year.

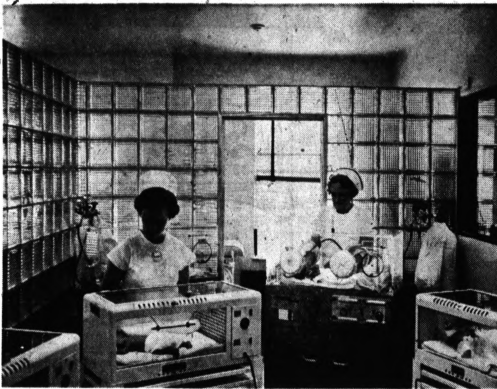

With good medical and nursing care this tiny specimen of humanity pulled through, and on June 1 he was discharged in satisfactory condition, weighing five pounds, two ounces.

There are many reasons why women today prefer to have their babies in hospitals.

Risk of infection, formerly a leading cause of maternal mortality, was greatly reduced in the 1890s by the introduction of the sulfa, drugs. Antibiotics, which came into use in the 1940s, brought about a further reduction in death rates.

BLOOD, PLASMA

Ready availability of blood and plasma for transfusion has

ATTEND INFANTS—Mrs. Joseph Scilla (left) and Mrs. Fred Smith, registered nurses, attend three new born infants in a nursery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. More than 2,500 babies were born at the hospital last year. More modern maternity and nursery facilities are planned as part of the hospital's expansion and modernization program.

cut down the incidence of shock from hemorrhage, once a commonly feared hazard in childbirth.

Requirement of Law a Bit Hard to Take

NORTH PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Members of the Rhode Island Association of City and Town Clerks have urged repeal of a law which requires them to remove the tongues of foxes brought to them by hunters seeking a $3 state bounty.

One of the clerks said he had seen 200-pound men who hesitated to perform the necessary operation.

prenatal care has reduced the risk of toxemia and other complications of pregnancy.

Improved methods of anesthesia make it possible to combine relief of pain with a high degree of safety.

Doctors today have a better understanding of the effects of various diseases on pregnancy and vice-versa. With proper medical supervision, many ailments and conditions once regarded as serious hazards can be controlled with virtual assurance of safe delivery.

Finally, the modern hospital brings together in one place all the skilled personnel and equipment necessary for maximum safety of mother and baby.

Only in a hospital is it possible to achieve the close cooperation between obstetrician, anesthesiologist, pediatrician, laboratory and nursing staffs which insures for both mother and child the full benefits of present-day medical science.

Although maternity patients at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital receive excellent care, the maternity department has some shortcomings which will be remedied when the hospital's current expansion and modernization program is completed.

Many of the existing rooms, for example, are too small. There is a lack of toilet and shower facilities, no place in the department from which ambulatory patients or visitors can telephone, and no intercom system between patients' rooms and nurses' stations.

NURSERIES INADEQUATE

The nurseries are inadequate both in size and design. Various units are located in different buildings, creating difficult transportation and traffic problems.

The new department will be modern in every respect and fully integrated.

It will have 10 labor and four delivery rooms, as well as six new nurseries, including one for prematurely-born infants and induction.

another for isolation of babies suspected of having communicable ailments.

Last but not least, the entire department will be air-conditioned so mothers will find their rooms more comfortable than has been the case in the past.

Deferment Is Back for Student at U-M

ANN ARBOR (AP)—George Steinitz, a University of Michigan senior, says his local in Valley Stream, N.Y., draft board has restored his student deferment.

Steinitz was one of 39 students who took part Oct. 15 in a sit-in at the Ann Arbor Selective Service Board office. All were arrested for trespassing when they refused to leave at closing time.

Fourteen of the men students involved lost their 2S or student deferments and were classified new draftees, including one for IA, or eligible for immediate induction.

'Adoption Ups
Mental Illness in Children'

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — Adopted children evidently struggle with special family conditions that make them more prone than others to psychiatric illness.

This was the case, at least, in a three-year study of children and adults at the Jewish Hospital of St. Louis, Mo. Both in-patients (hospital confinement) and out-patients were included in the study.

Emotional ills fell primarily in the area of antisocial behavior such as stealing, lying and open aggression.

Dr. Nathan M. Simon and Audrey G. Senturia found a higher incidence of these personality disorders among adopted children than among others referred for treatment.

Sometimes this could be explained by hostility between the adopting parents. One parent blamed the other for the lack of children and animosity lapped over onto the new child.

OTHER CASES
In other cases, the adopted child might have upset a precarious balance in the marriage. He would then become either a competitor or a weapon in the interpersonal conflicts of the two adults.

Besides these possible handicaps, adopted children face a major identity problem in having two sets of parents.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANCIENT GREECE

QUESTION: Why was ancient Greece so important?

ANSWER: Ancient peoples called Aegeans once lived on the peninsula of Greece. Beginning about 3,000 B.C., waves of settlers from the north moved in and eventually wiped out the Aegeans.

These incoming people became the Greeks. Since Greece has many mountains which enclose valleys, the people of the different valleys developed city-states which were independent of each other.

Each state made its own adjustment to the difficult problem of living in a country where the soil was poor and in small amount.

Sparta, in the south, worked out an austerity program and held the slaves who did the work under tight control. Athens had developed as a shipping and trading center. A brilliant Athenian, Solon, revised the social structure and laws of this city-state in 594 B.C., establishing the right of citizens to share in government and so beginning the first democratic experiment in man's history.

In 496 B.C., the powerful Persian nation attacked the Greek city-states, who united under the challenge and drove the invaders out in 480 B.C.

Athens developed an amazing civilization based on a combination of health and culture.

Athletics competed in the Olympic Games; great thinkers laid the foundation of science; literature, art, philosophy, reached heights which still inspire us after 2,000 years.

FOR YOU TO DO: To realize the value of Greek influence in our times, think of the wonderful rendezvous in space between the Gemini 6 and 7 capsules. The Greeks did not invent these capsules for us, but they gave us the foundation of scientific thinking which made such a remarkable achievement possible.

Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher.
Convertible also available.

POTENT THE CHEVROLET WAY

It also features a floor-mounted shift, fully synchronized 3-speed transmission and a choice of rear axle ratios.

Stiffer coil springs and shock absorbers come as standard equipment on the SS 396.

This is about a very special Chevelle. A Chevelle that wears a bulging hood, a black grille and red stripe nylon tires on wide-base wheels.

Start it up and you've tuned in on 396 cubic inches of Turbo-Jet V8.

Get it moving and suddenly you're a driver again, with things to do. With gears to shift. A clutch to work. Self-adjusting brakes to slow you down. Even a set of gauges to read, if you specify them.

Now take a curve and discover a smooth-riding car that isn't a mouse in the corners. This Chevelle utterly delights in crooked roads.

This, you see, is a Chevelle SS 396. A Chevelle, most assuredly. But what a Chevelle!

The force that drives is Chevrolet's 396-cu-in Turbo-Jet V8, which generates 325 hp in standard form; 360 hp on your order.

Eight features now standard for your added safety: Seat belts front and rear • Padded instrument panel • Padded sun visors • Outside mirror (use it always before passing) • Shatter-resistant inside mirror • Two-speed electric wipers for better visibility in a downpour • Windshield washers • Backup lights. All kinds of cars all in one place...

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: An air car:
NEEDED: An old long-playing record, a thread spool, a candle, a large rubber balloon, and a smooth surface.

DO THIS: Whittle one end of the spool down so the balloon can be slipped over it. Attach the other end of the spool to the center of the record with candle wax. The holes should match each other.

Inflate the balloon, slip its mouth over the spool, place the record on the smooth surface, release the balloon, and the record will glide with very little friction over the surface.

HERE'S WHY: When the record rests on the surface it tends to remain there because of the friction created when the surfaces move against each other. The air stream from the balloon puts a thin layer of air between the surfaces, eliminating most of the friction.

NEXT WEEK: Pendulums.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is on sale in book stores, or may be ordered from Bob Brown, the author, care of this newspaper.

WTHS Club to Give Dance

By JEAN PRIESTLEY
Waterford Township High School Foreign Exchange Club is finishing preparations for its annual Valentine dance tomorrow from 8 to 11 p.m.

Diana Voydanoff, senior and general chairman, says that the WTHS gym will be heart-studded for the disc dance.

In order to keep the proceeds to aid students who would like to go abroad this summer, expenses will be kept to a minimum with refreshments and records donated.

Chairmen include: Carolyn Rudloff, decorations; Sue Dyet, refreshments; Jan Rowston, publicity; and Mike Maxfield, tickets.

Senior Carol Petar and two other area girls were honored by the Pontiac Elks at a dinner last night for winning the Elks' Leadership Scholarship Competition.

WINS 2ND PRIZE

Carol won the $50 second prize. She submitted a notebook with memories of her high school activities, and recommendations from her clergyman, an adult friend and her parents.

Unified Studies students in Flun Reed's class will earn money toward a trip to Washington, D. C., this spring by sponsoring a car wash at Gilmore's Custom Sunoco Service tomorrow and next Saturday.

A similar trip was taken two years ago by Ann Commire's class. The groups are made up primarily of juniors.

Four WTHS band members have been selected as members of the Lansing Conservatory All-Stars Band.

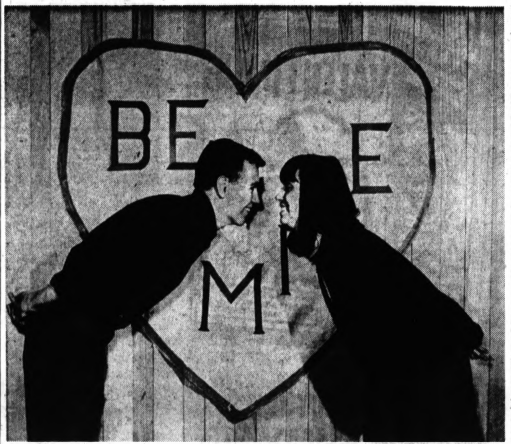

JOIN 24 DELEGATES

Terry Coatta, Jim Herrington, Nancy Hunt and Mike Reeds will spend the weekend with 24 delegates from central Michigan schools.

In addition to the clinics and rehearsals two parties are tentatively planned.

The concert will be played Feb. 20. Guest directors are Dr. Norman Dietz of Central Michigan University and Dr. Ronald Gregory from Indiana University.

BE MINE—Howard Owen of 5220 Lynscoe coaxes Carolyn Rudloff of 3615 Brookdale, both of Waterford Township, to be his valentine for Waterford Township High School's annual Valentine dance. Sponsored by the Foreign Exchange Club, the dance will be held tomorrow from 8 to 11 p.m. Proceeds are earmarked for a student aid fund to give financial help to WTHS students who wish to go abroad.

Junior Prom at Rochester

Theme Will Center on 'Lollipops, Roses'

By KATHY MORGAN
'Lollipops and Roses' will set the theme for the junior prom at Rochester High School tomorrow night from 8 to 11:30.

The atmosphere begins at the outer door with a red and white suited doorman.

The motif continues on the dance floor with huge artificial lollipops lining the walls, rosebushes centering each table.

A painted "lollipop tree" hangs with suckers bearing each couple's names. Colored spotlights surround the dancers and focus on the "We Who Are" instrumental group.

Refreshments include cake and punch.

RIDING CLUB

Saddle and Spurs, a riding club organized at Rochester High School, is sponsored by Mrs. Carol Laidig, French teacher.

The club rides at Hillen Dale Ranch. Newly elected officers are Dick Becker, president, and Paul Verkerke, secretary.

At a recent meeting, the Ski Club elected officers. Ron Bueche is president; Mike Koch, vice-president; Betsy Swan, secretary; and Karen Cooper, treasurer.

The senior class plans a paper drive Saturday. Class members will pick up papers to raise money.

GOOD EVENING—Robert Bellairs of 49 Cloverport, in his red and white doorman's uniform, welcomes Sherrie Rowold of 312 Glendale, Rochester, and her escort, Van Johnson of 6055 N. Rochester, to Rochester High School's junior prom, "Lollipops and Roses." Robert and Van live in Avon Township. The "We Who Are" instrumental group will provide the music.

Seniors Vote at Walled Lake

Select 1966 Colors, Flower, Song, Motto

By RON MOORHEAD

Traditionally at Walled Lake High School, the senior class votes for its class colors, flower, song, and motto.

This year's senior class chose red as its colors, olive green and light blue. The class flower is the white rose.

The colors and flower will be used at class functions such as swing-out, baccalaureate, commencement, the senior party, and the senior prom.

The class of '66 chose "Somewhere" from "West Side Story" as its song.

"The road to success is long; let us walk it," is the motto of the 1966 graduates.

Tuesday, Walled Lake's annual Mid-Winter Concert will take place in the school gym. Tickets will be on sale through Tuesday night.

Walled Lake's basketball team hits the road for two games this week.

CHS Club Opens Hearts to Children

By CATHY RICHARDSON
Twenty children from a local children's home will celebrate Valentine's Day tomorrow afternoon in the Clarkston High School gymnasium.

They will be the guests of Clarkston's Y-Teens and their sponsor, Mrs. Patricia Czarniecki, English instructor.

The Y-Teens have planned a wide variety of games and activities for the children.

Refreshments in a Valentine's Day motif are also planned.

Committee heads for this year's Valentine Show have been announced.

Senior Kristyn Dougherty will be the show's student director and Linda Heath, her assistant. Named to other chairmanships were Karen Caldwell, publicity; Kathy Eudis, scenery committee; Joanne Kirs, make-up; Linda Nolen, tickets and programs; Neil Stalker, snack manager; and Charles Pearson and Paul Taylor, lighting.

The proceeds from the Student Government - sponsored program will go to the Student Aid Fund.

It helps needy students through colleges and trade schools.

Tryouts for this year's show, featuring a "joyland" theme, will be held in March.

The show will be presented in late March, under the direction of Harry McGrath and David Skillman, Student Government sponsors.

The She-Wolves and their sponsor, Mrs. Dennis Colwell, traveled to Pontiac Northern High School this afternoon to play basketball.

Avondale Area PTA to Sponsor Program

By MARGARET WEAVER
The Avondale Area PTA Council will sponsor a Founders' Day program next Thursday in honor of the two women who founded the PTA.

In 1897 Mrs. Alice McLean Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst founded the PTA organization, which became known as the National Congress of Mothers and later as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dr. D. L. McKinney, director of the Wayne County Veterans Home, will be the guest speaker. He spoke at the 1965 Founders' Day program.

Recognition to teachers for their role in the program will also be made. The program will be held in

Valentine Queen to Be Crowned

Big PNH Dance Near

By ALICE TURNER

Students at Pontiac Northern are awaiting the Valentine Dance to be held in the auxiliary gym tomorrow night from 8:30 to 11.

The main highlight of the dance will be the crowning of the Valentine Queen. Each in-class club at PNH, nominates a queen candidate.

Penny votes were collected throughout the week in jars by club members.

The girl receiving the most votes will be queen.

Candidates were: Judy Hunsaker, Pep Club; Sue Hartung, cheerleaders; Karen Janhke, Student Council; Marilyn Cook, Catalinas; Barbara Nelson, Variety Club; Lucia Rains, a capella choir; and Mary DeClute, International Club.

Many students at PNH have entered the Salute to Youth contest. All students between the ages of 14 and 18 are eligible to enter.

Deadline for all applications is Feb. 18.

Entered from Northern are Carl Hiller, Debbie Killen, Gary Couter, Sharon Lehman, Alice Krueger, Nancy Sumpter, Steve Yedlin, Kathy Wethy, Audrey McShan, Gary Shorland, Boyd Cryer, Allan Benson and Barb Nelson.

Others are David Orvis, Carol Harris, Dale Auger, Bruce Contro, Don McGeen, Carol Persinger, Judy Radecki, Steve Renda, Diane Vallad, Leatha Lee, Douglas Weiler and Ralph Bartles.

The Northern Madrigals and soloist Lilian Ristich received a No. 1 rating, highest possible in the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival.

The Girls' Ensemble, Male Ensemble, Norsemen and soloists Janet Bendes, Sheila Heath, Cheryl Heldberg, Tom Ellis, Ray Jones, Gary Manley, Monica Peterson, Carol Scarborough and Nancy Sumpter earned a No. 2 rating.

Soloist Phyllis Daniels received a 3 rating.

Student Council President Boyd Cryer will attend the Governors' Planning Conference today at Oakland University.

Groves Students Aid Teen Center Project

By CANDY SPRIGGEL
All of the hard work of teenagers and adults in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area is showing results as the Teen Center schedules its opening for April 23.

The remodeled Teen Center, formerly the Raven Gallery, is located on Brownell off Maple, Birmingham.

It is now over the $25,000 goal making it eligible for the promised $15,000 gift.

Teen-agers from Groves and other schools have raised money in house to house campaigns, sock hops, a car wash and donations from local businesses.

In addition to the marches which made $1,740, St. Dunstan's Playhouse will sponsor a Teen Center night earmarking all proceeds to the Teen Center.

Groves students also will support a March concert featuring the Kingsmen at Seaholm High School.

Feb. 21, a school membership drive will be started in the schools. A student's membership will be in effect until September.

After September, the memberships are renewable for one year. Membership is open to all students in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

The membership cards will have a picture of the student on the card and memberships are not transferable.

TO BE OPEN DAILY
The Teen Center will be open every day after school; and on Friday evenings it will feature live entertainment for dancing.

The facilities include a snack bar, a ping-pong and billiard room and a dance area.

One of the problems still confronting the governing board, however, is a suitable name.

Groves students are urged to submit suggestions to the Junior Board at its biweekly meetings at the Community House.

Or they may give them to Carol Pais, chairman of the opening night committee; Betsy Bates, vice president of the Junior Board; or Jacque Passino, Junior Board member.

RECOGNITION AWARD

Because of his work on the Teen Center and other services to Groves, Jacque Passino was recognized by the weekly Student Council Recognition Award.

Besides attending two Junior Board meetings a week, Jacque is chairman of the indoor and outdoor decorating committee, the group responsible for remodeling the building.

Other Groves students helping on the Teen Center are Roxanne Tossaint, Leslie Perkins, Carol Bouman, Beverly Bishop, Gayle Champagne, Doris Kennedy, Barb Mangrum, Sue Vigi, and Rick M. Reynolds.

Senior Event in Spotlight at Our Lady

By CECILIA PARKER

During the past week, crepe paper, posters and heartbills have been passed in and out of halls of Our Lady of the Lakes High School.

Tonight, in the school gym, the seniors will present "Forget-Me-Not," their last class dance before the prom.

Featured from 8-11:30 will be Dave Prince from WXYZ radio and the "Mark V."

The casual dance is open to the public.

With the semester exams well in the past, second-quarter report cards have now been received.

Eligible for the honor roll were Susan Livingston, Ann Long, Carl Matzick, Elvie Mauro, John Shaughnessy, Joana Slatin and Sandy Smith, seniors; and Catherine Chad and Ellen Palawski, juniors.

Other students were Kevin Felikan, Karen Keene, Dennis LaBarge, Anna Mae McAlister, Dennis McCulloch, Joan Comes, Rosemary Day, Paul Hoffman and Diane Reed, sophomores.

Completing the list were Christine Gignras, Timothy Hagan, Lawrence Raupp, Patricia Seeterlin and Kevin Shaughnessy, freshmen.

Tryouts for the senior play, "Ask Any Girl," are now under way and casting will be completed by the end of next week.

Space Age Booms Dixie Area

PICAYUNE, Miss. (AP) — 1817. Scores of graves were eight miles east of Picayune, Inn, Apollo Inn, and Satellite Rich in virgin pine forests, the moved by the government. will hold the rockets for the crucial ground firings that must precede the actual launches from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Other towns that disappeared were Logtown, Santa Rose, Westonia and Napoleon. Some of the 850 families relocated took their homes with them. The playing an important role in the economic life of the area. It change," Mitchell said. "It went from an agricultural environment to a city environment."

The space agency purchased 13,000 acres for the testing facility, including the entire community of Gainesville. It took Saturn V first stage — the world's largest rocket — is a con- sidered will travel by barge on the intracoastal waterway to the Pearl, then up the river to a man-made canal that curves 7 1/2 miles into the test facility.

HUGE BOOSTERS
The huge Saturn boosters are so powerful that engineers feared the great rumbling vibrations from the engines would damage homes, shatter windows and possibly cause physical injury to people several miles from the site.

MOON LANDING
Since the first moon landing in America's Apollo Project is scheduled for 1970, some residents of the Picayune area wonder if their space age boom is other proposed sites in the United States because of the Pearl River and the proximity to the Michoud plant in New Orleans.

So a $200-million establishment was carved from the woods and fields. In the process, centuries-old communities were wiped off the map.

First to go was Gainesville. With it went the town's ancient graveyard, which existed before Mississippi became a state in 1792. Crime in the U.S.—3

Compensation for Victims Gaining Favor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a three-part series on crime in the United States.)

By HARRY FERGUSON
UPI National Reporter

WASHINGTON — At 10:30 p.m., a young woman steps off a bus and starts walking the two blocks to her home.

Halfway there, she is seized by two men, dragged into an alley and raped.

Obviously, her government has failed to protect her. Should it then do something to compensate her for her ordeal? Specifically, should it pay her some money?

There is a growing feeling in this country and around the world that the answer is yes.

Great Britain and New Zealand have passed laws providing compensation for the victims of crimes. California is the first state to adopt such legislation in this country.

Nobody claims any one of those three plans is perfect, and opponents of them can raise some pertinent questions.

Insurance men claim compensation laws put the government into competition with them.

They point out that anybody can buy protection from insurance agencies for almost every calamity, and if the government is going to pay the victims of crimes, it logically should go all the way and compensate persons involved in highway accidents or anybody struck by lightning.

And a British critic of his nation's compensation law asks: "Will ladies of easy virtue claim a assault when in fact it was consent?"

FRAUD ELEMENT

What he was getting at is the possibility that such laws would be an invitation to fraud on a gigantic scale. Criminals would beat up each other and then claim compensation.

The newest development is that Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., has introduced a bill that brings the federal government into the picture.

He proposes to set up a federal violent crimes compensation commission, consisting of three members appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

It would have the power to investigate the cases of crime victims and grant compensation not in excess of $25,000.

CERTAIN AREAS

It would apply only to areas where the federal government had complete jurisdiction, including the District of Columbia, but Yarborough's hope is that the federal example will convince more states to pass compensation laws.

So far, Britain has paid out about $750,000 on such cases: to a 15-year-old girl who lost an eye when struck by a pellet from an air gun, $7,100; to a filling station owner beaten by robbers, $1,250; to a man blinded in one eye by a neighbor in a fist fight, $5,600.

The California law is less liberal than the British one. The victim must be able to prove a genuine need for compensation, and his total family income (for a family of four) has to drop below $239 a month.

The seeming indifference of persons who witness crimes of violence toward giving any assistance has brought forward another proposal called "The Good Samaritan Law."

AID VICTIMS

This would compensate persons who suffer injury or financial loss by going to the assistance of crime victims.

The strongest argument for it developed not long ago in New York when the case of Enrique Negron, a Puerto Rican grocer, came to light.

Eight months ago, Negron went to the aid of a white policeman who was being attacked by Negroes and, in the course of the fight, was stabbed in the back.

He was hailed as a hero, presented with a gold watch and received $1,000 from the Police Benevolent Association.

His neighbors turned against him, calling him "cop lover" and "nigger hater" and began boycotting his store. Negron was forced out of business.

WIDE INTEREST

The wide interest in a book called "How to Protect Yourself on the Street and in Your Home" is symptomatic of the fear of criminals that is sweeping the United States.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover contributed a chapter to it, telling teen-agers how to stay out of trouble. It is primarily addressed to teen-age girls:

"If any stranger makes improper advances, tell your parents immediately. If you know of any pornographic pictures or literature being passed around, notify your parents quickly. Know your date; don't go out on a blind date unless another couple is along and even then be cautious.

"Stay out of 'lovers' lanes.' Don't wander away from the crowd at picnics and outings; stay within calling distance. Don't ask for trouble, dress sensibly; provocative clothing may attract the attention of potential sex criminals.

"Be civil to strangers who ask directions, but never go part way with them. Be very careful about accepting work from a stranger; always make sure that the person is a reputable businessman. Don't go about the house half-dressed; it's an invitation to peeping toms. Never, never hitchhike. And never pick up a hitchhiker."

DICKSON, Tenn. (AP) — The Dickson County Medical Association has agreed to provide free nonhospital medical services to the dependents of any former patients who are called to serve in the Viet Nam war.

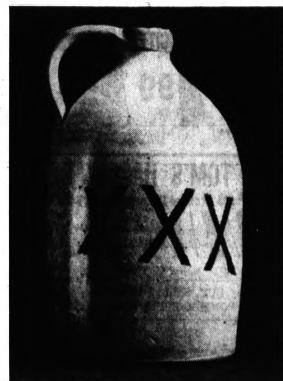

In a resolution, the association said the action is taken "to express our appreciation for the great effort and sacrifice being made by our fellow Tennesseans."

Some people come to Soft Whiskey the hard way.

Some people will go to any length to find the whiskey they want. And their search sometimes takes them to many a strange brew. Of course, others are luckier. They try Soft Whiskey first. And once they do, they never have to try anything else. You don't settle for Soft Whiskey. You drink it only because you like it.

That's because Soft Whiskey does anything any other whiskey can do, only it does it softer. (It's 86 proof.) So it goes down smoother and stays that way all the way down.

We came to Soft Whiskey the hard way (after thousands of experiments). And we make it the hard way, by doing some distilling in small batches instead of large ones. Anything else we could tell you is top secret. Once you find we're the only Soft Whiskey, you'll know why. Even if you did come to it the hard way.

As the inspector in the mystery production "An Inspector Calls," Michael Nesbitt of Birmingham questions Mrs. John Coppin, Echo Road, who portrays an ambitious social climbing wife. St. Dunstan's Guild is producing the melodrama which will be presented at four performances, starting Feb. 18.

Schippers Will Conduct for Opera in May

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
Francis Robinson, assistant general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, came to Detroit Thursday to tell members of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's women's committee about the Met's performances here in May.

He particularly stressed the May 24 presentation of "Pique Dame" which will be conducted by Thomas Schippers.

Mr. Robinson also gave some highlights of the opera's new home in Lincoln Center, where the Metropolitan will occupy in September.

Our Michigan conductor, Mr. Schippers, will conduct the world premiere of the new Samuel Barber opera, "Antony and Cleopatra" with Leontyne Price in the principal role.

HEAD TABLE
Among those at the speakers' table were Mrs. Lynn Townsend, general chairman of the committee; Wilber Mack, president; Mrs. Theodore Yntema; Mrs. Sixten Ehrling; Dr. David DiChiera and Mrs. Sam B. Williams, scholarship chairman of the Grinnell Foundation opera scholarship competition.

Oakland County Artists Take Awards at Show

First place winners have been announced for the Fourth Annual Oakland County Art Show at the Pontiac Mall.

Judges were Guy Palazzola, University of Michigan; G. Alden Smith, Wayne State University; and Edward Hissong of Franklin Village.

Ann Carnahan of Orchard Lake took first place honors in the drawing division. Tops in graphics was James Ewer.

Other winners and their categories were: Irene Stretten of Union Lake, mixed media; Irene Foukes, Orchard Lake, water color; and Ray Weeder of Drayton Plains, oil; Irene Stretten also placed first in sculpture.

Concluding the first place winners list was Jean Belknap, pastel category.

Best of Show recognition went to Irene Foukes. Outstanding for

Pi Omicron Has Dinner

A progressive dinner was held Thursday evening for members of Iota Eta chapter, Pi Omicron National sorority.

Mrs. Hugo Harnack was hostess to the group in her Lexington Avenue home.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Harold Bigelow and Mrs. Lewis Egerer.

Elna Haines announced that the YWCA and the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults would receive contributions.

Not Proper To Locate In Hotel

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My fiancé is in the service and is stationed several hundred miles from here. As he will not be able to get home for some time, I was thinking of going to visit him some weekend.

My mother doesn't think it is right for me to go and is afraid it will cause gossip. Will you please tell me if there would be any impropriety in my going to visit him?

A: If you or your fiancé have friends in the town in which he is stationed with whom you could stay, it would be quite all right for you to go.

But to go and stay in a hotel unchaperoned would, I'm sorry to say, not be proper.

HIS WIFE

Q: Will you please tell me how a husband correctly refers to his wife when speaking of her to others?

A: When speaking to intimate masculine friends and to every woman whom they both know socially, he calls her Edith whether they call her by first name or not.

When speaking to a man not an intimate friend and to a woman who is a stranger, he speaks of her as "my wife."

In most business situations, if he has occasion to speak of her at all, he would say, "Mrs. Jones thinks, or says, thus or so."

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

St. Dunstan's Slates Drama Next Week

"An Inspector Calls" a mystery melodrama by J. B. Priestley, will be presented by St. Dunstan's Guild.

Theater dates are Feb. 18-19 and Feb. 25-26. Curtain time is 9 p.m.

Mr. Birling the pompous father in the play, will be portrayed by Richard Guilford. His wife will be played by Sidni Coppin (Mrs. John).

Others in the cast include Ruth Scriber, Stephen Saunders, Robert Woodruff Jr., Joan Page and Michael Nesbitt.

Mrs. Charles Himelhoch is the director, assisted by Mrs. James O. Beavers. Coproducers are Mrs. Laurence Finn and Mrs. Stephen F. Booth.

MONDAY

After the 6 p.m. dinner Mrs. Richard Thomas, principal of Conant School, Risemfield Hills, and Mrs. Donald Gallentine and Mrs. John Clouse, Eastover School, will present the program "Through Art to Creativity."

Alice Kingsley, teacher in the gifted program at Booth School, will report on "Learning Through Creative Dramatics" for the international honorary organization for women educators.

Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Marguerite Bean and Mrs. Lydia Lear, Clareneville.

WNFG Branch to Hear Dr. Bardach

Slides and a short film will illustrate a talk on "Troubled Waters" by Dr. John E. Bardach before Birmingham branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Monday, in Birmingham Community House.

He is a professor in the School of Natural Resources and the Department of Zoology at the University of Michigan. His book "Downstream: A Natural History of the River" has been recently released by Harper and Row.

Hospitality chairman, Mrs. Dwight E. Webber will be assisted by Mrs. P. Russell Olin, Mrs. Francis Morjon and Mrs. Herbert Carr.

On Mrs. Amos Gregory's social committee are Mrs. Paul

June vows are planned by Linda Alice McClelland, daughter of the Harold McClellands of Walled Lake, and George Taylor Johnston III, son of the George T. Johnstons II of Cheyenne, Wyo. She attends Michigan State University where he is working on his doctorate.

Builder's Price Is High

It's 'Extras' That Cost

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a young widow with two children. Recently I had a home built and became very intimate with my builder while my home was under construction. He has what he claims is a "sick" wife, and says if I wait awhile he will leave her for me.

After eight months of waiting, she still looks healthy as I am. Do you think he is leading me on? How much longer should I wait?

DEAR WAITING: The builder worked a bit of romance into your house plan, but it wasn't meant to endure. The house is finished and so is the affair. You shouldn't need a set of blueprints to know that the builder didn't go with the house.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 23 and an only child. She was raised to appreciate the finer things in life and never had to suffer any hardships. Last June, after graduating from a university, she married a young art professor. They moved to Tampa, where he took a position as a commercial artist. Last month they moved to Miami, where he is doing free lance work.

Our daughter has written that now she is pregnant and they are living in a MOBILE HOME! I am so worried about her. Do you think, in her condition, they should be living in a TRAILER like a couple of gypsies? I want to write and tell her she should come home until her husband can provide a proper home for her, but my husband says it would be meddling. I would like your opinion.

UPSET MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I think you have a smart husband. Don't assume that living in a "mobile home" is necessarily a hardship. Some modern mobile homes make a Park Avenue

February meeting of Omega Mu Sigma Sorority was at the home of Mrs. Russell Gustavson. Lola Strom was cohostess. Highlighting the evening was a pledge ceremony for new members, Mrs. Mable Miller, Mrs. Marjorie Safford and Mrs. Alvin Wines Jr.

Mrs. Carl Coster was appointed chairman for the annual May breakfast at Pine Lake Country Club.

The Birmingham Branch hopes to give support toward a horticultural therapist student's scholarship, next summer, at Pontiac State Hospital. Each student will receive college credit for this training.

This year, the branch paid the tuition for an Olivet college student.

GARDEN AWARD

In May, during Michigan Week, certificates of award will be given by the branch for the most attractive Birmingham gardens. A committee of judges will work with Mrs. F. Gordon Davis, chairman for this project.

The 52nd annual meeting of WNFGA will be May 16-19 in the Pontchartrain Hotel, Detroit. Mrs. H. Earl Hanson of Lathrup Village is general chairman.

National officers in the Birmingham branch who will be helping Mrs. Hanson are Mrs. George Cutler, Mrs. William McCallum, Mrs. Marvin Katke, Mrs. F. G. Garrison, Mrs. Miles, and Mrs. Davis.

DIRT GARDENERS

On Monday, the Dirt Gardeners will hear a talk on "Scented Flowers in Our Garden" by Mrs. James Hunter in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Donald Goldsmith, horticulture chairman.

penthouse look like Tobacco

Leave your daughter alone. Mother, and keep yourself busy.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I ran into a friend of mine and I told her how beautiful I thought her daughter's wedding had been. She said, "Thank you, but we sure didn't come out very well on it."

Not knowing what she meant by that remark, I asked her. She then replied, "We put a lot more into her wedding than she got back in gifts."

What do you think of a person like that?

SPEECHLESS
DEAR SPEECHLESS: Not much.

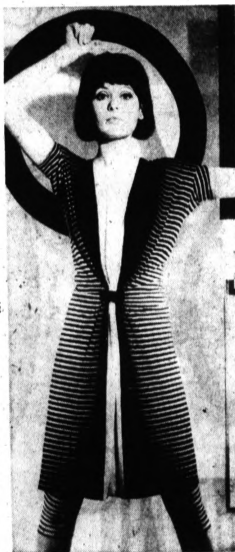

DEAR ABBY: What's the matter with women? They go to the trouble of putting their hair up in those big curlers, then they snarl it all up and spray it with glue. They take an hour painting their faces, and all for what?

Sorority Sets Dinner Date

Members of Xi Beta Beta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, completed plans for the annual progressive dinner on Feb. 26, at Tuesday's meeting in the YWCA.

In line with this year's programs on hobbies, Mrs. Leonard A. Couturier gave a demonstration on cake decorating. Next month's lesson will be on furniture refinishing.

Mrs. Kovacs Talks at Bethany Church

Mrs. Helen Kovacs of Oakland University spoke of the women of Russia and her native land before the Women's Society of the Bethany Baptist Church on Thursday.

Deviations were given by the Dorcas Society. A Chinese chop suey luncheon was served by the Lydia group.

TOBY DAVID

Will Appear for Concert

Toby David, TV personality, will be featured in the second family concert presented by the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

Concert times are 3 and 4:30 p. m. Feb. 20 in Pontiac Northern High School. Kleinsinger's "Tubby the Tuba" will be narrated by Mr. David.

The balance of the program will include "American Salute" by Gould, "Stardust" and "Our Waltz" by Carmichael, "Sleigh Ride" by LeRoy Anderson and "Hoodwinked" by Aaron Copeland. Unoccupied seats, 10 minutes before concert time, will be made available to the public.

Early, Proper Pre-Natal Care Vital

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — A writer on health topics says that pregnancy is less complicated, premature deliveries less likely, if the mother has proper pre-natal care.

But unfortunately, she adds, many parents-to-be, especially those who cannot afford a private doctor's fee, still do not seek the help that is available.

COMPLICATIONS

"Prematurity, toxemia, and other complications — mostly preventable with care — are common among women who have had no prenatal care," says the writer, Ruth Carson.

She adds that after a survey of five hospitals in different sections of the country, the U. S. Children's Bureau reported a rate of prematurity as high as 70 per cent among these women. The average is about 7 per cent. The first three months are vital, says Miss Carson. See your doctor as soon as possible — or if the physician is more than you can afford, look to the clinics available.

County medical societies, the local health department, the community hospital — any one can refer the mother-to-be to a clinic.

"The very women most in need of general health advice and medical care are . . . the ones least apt to get them," says Miss Carson. "This is a great source of alarm to doctors, nurses and administrators."

She traces the tests the examining physician will give the woman, including one to determine — at each visit — whether there is any kidney or bladder infection, toxemia, or even diabetes. Known in time, she says, all these conditions "can be treated and trouble prevented."

Miss Carson offers advice on diet — "The old saying that the expectant mother is now eating for two is true, but it does not mean she should double her intake . . . she must provide a steady supply of the right materials for the daily building of his (the baby's) body tissues." Each day, mother and baby need plenty of protein, calcium, iron, and all the vitamins — found in the four basic food groups of milk and milk products, meats and lentils, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals.

Of weight, she says, "Extra . . . will . . . put an extra strain on her heart and circulatory system, which are already doing a double job . . . a gain of about 20 pounds is considered desirable unless a woman is underweight or overweight to start with."

Of medication — "The rule now is to cut out all self-medication . . . even heavy dosage of aspirin has been known to cause internal bleeding; this could affect the baby." Let the doctor decide what medication, if any.

How to Stay Sane While Still Budgeting

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Anybody with pencil and paper can keep a record of what he earns and what he spends. And if he's eight years old and gets a 75-cent allowance every week, he can tell at a glance just where he stands when he looks at the figures in the budget book. But if you're taking the family for a car trip, you won't balk at reading the road map. It tells you where you want to go and how to get there. And that's what a budget can do, if you map it out.

University Plans Job Conference

ANN ARBOR—"New Patterns of Employment," a March 29 conference at The University of Michigan, will be directed toward women wishing to return to college for training in areas where jobs will fit into the framework of home responsibilities.

The meeting, at the Rackham Building, is being sponsored by the University's Center for Continuing Education of Women and the Extension Service.

The keynote speaker will be Dr. Eva Mueller, a professor of economics and program director for the U-M Institute for Social Research. Her address, "Women in the Labor Market," will deal with national trends in employment opportunities for the mature woman.

Arthur L. Tackman, director of the personnel division of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, will discuss part-time programs for professionally-trained women.

Dr. William Haber, dean of the U-M College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, will give the luncheon address, and Charles M. Rehms of the University's Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations will offer comments on the speeches by Drs. Mueller and Tackman.

During the afternoon session panels will explore job opportunities in Ann Arbor and at the University.

Registration forms and further information on the conference may be obtained after February 15 from the Extension Service at 412 Maynard Street, Ann Arbor.

taking it from home, should the cost of these lunches be included as part of the family's food bill for that month?

ANSWER: His lunches should be figured under his "Personal Allowance." Under this heading, also put the cost of his haircuts, cigarettes, newspapers bought at newsstands, coffee breaks, and the occasional invitation to "Come have a drink with me." (In some jobs, this is an item, so don't be squeamish about it.)

● If the family dines out, should the cost of the meal be considered an expenditure for amusement—rather than for food?

ANSWER: Put the dining out under "Recreation."

White Is Right

Fashion is thinking white for spring footwear. White's a cool mixer with warmer shades. Watch for it also combined with black in zebra stripes and checkerboards.

No frills typified the Shaker homes in the early colonies. But even the most dour Shaker would approve this room which mates our own modern with authentic Shaker heirlooms. He would particularly like Beren's "Grand Stripe" rug, custom-tufted of sturdy wool pile yarns in stripes of cocoa, slate grey, black and white. May be ordered locally.

Colors, Shapes, Texture Make Buying Rug a Joy

There's a refreshing new look in carpets this year. First of all, there's color. No longer do you choose the safe neutral color for your rug. You pick the dominant color for your room and find carpeting or an area rug to further that plan. Pastels are in the limelight.

Manmade fibers, new methods of dyeing and the work of expert designers all combine to help the homemaker achieve the effect she desires.

NEW TEXTURES

Textures are different too. Deep shaggy piles are an excellent foil for sleek modern furniture. Tufted wool rugs add warmth as well as beauty to a room. For sheer elegance, there are carpets with a velvety appearance.

While there are no hard and fast rules to follow in selecting texture, it is good to let it decide the style of the room; luxurious plush textures or texture designs such as scrolls or curves suggest traditional styling.

Shaggy textures are more informal. They also help disguise signs of use between cleanings.

Remember, when you're buying carpeting, that the carpet of greatest density wears best.

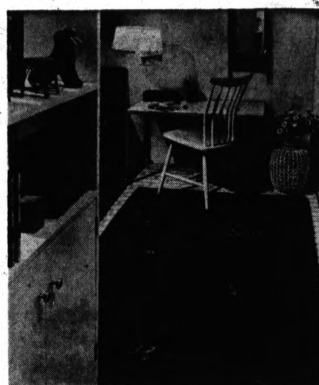

Shapes are different too. Several manufacturers are offering custom-made area rugs in whatever size, color and shape a customer wants. Many other rugs come in oval, oblong or circular shapes. And area rugs come in a wide variety of sizes.

PATTERNS

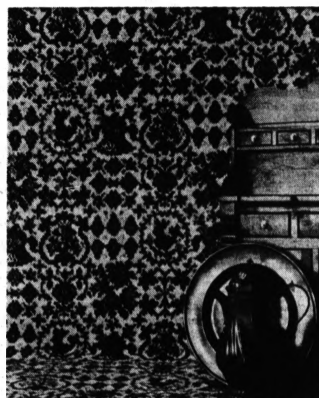

Patterned carpets are new. These are available at reasonable prices because of a new "Colorset" process. Any type pattern can be screen printed on all types of pile.

In the past, patterned carpets have been woven on a loom and have taken more than an hour to weave each 6x9 piece. The new process is versatile, swift and efficient.

It's an interesting time to be carpet hunting.

Called Moonscape, the rug was designed for Cabin Crafts and inspired by the famous photograph of the moon's surface taken from the Ranger 8 satellite. The lunar craters and ridges appear as softly swirling lines in the rug styled in various shades of blue. Made with Acrilan acrylic fiber, the rug is practical as well as handsome; comes in three sizes. Available locally.

The warmth and nostalgia of Americana is pleasantly patterned in Mohawk's "Plymouth Sampler" carpet. The all-over pattern effect and rich, enlivening shadings of golds, browns and greens on off-white will happily enhance dining rooms, dens, bedrooms, etc. Made for today's convenience, its all-acrylic pile performs with carefree practicality. Available locally.

This elegantly conceived rug is called "Knossos," taking its name from the ruined city which was the capital of ancient Crete. Lees weaves "Knossos" on a machine-driven loom, using continuous filament nylon yarn. The fringe is hand-knotted wool, however, and the colors are perfect Mediterranean accents. Available locally.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

What about the girl you used to know who always sat by the wall at dances while you whirled gaily around the floor? You felt sorry for her. What a shock to meet her years later and find that she has become a stunning fascinating woman who is almost pretty.

She is really more than pretty. She has nerve and she knows about makeup, hair styling and clothes. Her figure is near-perfect.

Perhaps she accepted her plainness as a challenge while you allowed time and procrastination and flattery to make you overly self-confident. ANY woman can be good-looking if she is willing to work for it and practically every woman can become more attractive.

It hurts your vanity to admit that the plodder may leave us far behind. Yet many people in extremely important positions got there, not because of unusual brilliance, but because they worked harder and more consistently than others.

Are you "plodders" who are following my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short) getting along? By now it should not seem like plodding to follow my daily beauty routine because you are beginning to see some of the lovely results. Stay in there, plodding!

BIP PLAN
For the next three weeks I will give one day a week to those of you who are not following this plan.

Here is another sample menu. These have been calculated to allow you to lose as much as 20 pounds in eight weeks. You did not have that much weight to lose and have already lost all you wish to, continue beauty line rises. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Be faithful in the use of a good body lotion to soften the skin as it must shrink to smaller proportions.

SAMPLE MENUS
BREAKFAST
¼ cup frozen blueberries
1 teaspoon sugar
8 oz. skim milk
1 slice whole wheat toast with teaspoon butter
Coffee or tea, plain

LUNCHEON
Fruit salad made of ½ apple and ½ cup grapefruit sections, with low calorie French dressing
2 tablespoons cottage cheese, not creamed
1 hard roll with teaspoon butter
Tea or coffee with one teaspoon sugar

DINNER
1 cup tomato bouillon
Beef vegetable stew—½ pound lean meat with celery, carrots and onions
¼ cup mustard greens or other greens, with vinegar
1 bran muffin with teaspoon butter
8 oz. skim milk
1 medium sized orange

Total calories for the day 1100
If you would like to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in just eight short weeks or find how much you can improve your appearance in that time you will want to join my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan which has been appearing in this newspaper.

If so, send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling, requesting my BIP Kit, with your printed name and address. The kit has a booklet which gives you complete directions, a weight chart and a unique weight chart on which you can plot your progress and watch your weight line drop as your beauty line rises. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Polly's Pointers

Use Nail Polish

DEAR POLLY—I, too, had the same disappointing problems as Ethel. My plastic geraniums faded. I bought a can of spray paint that is sold for cloth, paper, metal, plastic and so on. Before spraying the geraniums, I protected them by taking a cardboard from a shirt that I did at the laundry. I slit it from one side to the middle and then made a small circle that would go around a flower stem. This makes a shield for the leaves and stems when each flower is being sprayed.

I did this out-of-doors and put the plant in a large empty carton so that the spray paint would not get on anything else. While the plastic does get a bit brittle the flowers can be used for at least another season.—MRS. K.

DEAR POLLY—I solved the faded plastic geranium problem by first washing the flowers with warm sudsy water. I let them dry thoroughly and then used nail polish to paint the petals. Use the polish brush and give the flowers two coats for a beautiful shine, which looks almost better than new.

The sun has not faded them. I hope this helps Ethel as the many helpful hints certainly lighten my chores even though I have been keeping house for 45 years.—MRS. A.J.M.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWER LOVERS—A friend of mine says she thinks out old nail polish for this purpose and does not completely cover each petal but likes the effect

A delight to see as well as hear, this lovely new Early American Howard "403" brings an accent of warmth and loveliness to any room. A pleasure to play because it's Baldwin-built quality throughout. Cherry Finish.

Dash is the Nigerian's way of politely asking for a bribe—whether he be politician or pauper. But over the years, dashing snowballed into a countrywide abuse of power practiced by politician and businessmen alike.

Bedeviled by political rivalry, tribalism and religious ferment, many Nigerian politicians and businessmen bribed their way into immense political and financial power.

DASH COMMONPLACE

Dashing is commonplace in all walks of Nigerian life. The elevator boy, chauffeur, shopkeeper or clerk expects the soft touch before he opens a door or sells a book.

To clinch a business deal, dash is required from the lowest secretary to the top man. It will facilitate a speedier business appointment.

And the top man is not embarrassed when he asks for a sizable bribe if you intend doing business with him. Unless his palm is crossed with cash, competitors will step in ahead. They'll get in anyway if their dash is larger.

Among Nigeria's former political hierarchy, dashing was practiced on an immense scale, running into millions of dollars. Import and export licenses, hard to obtain in Nigeria, were often granted according to the size of the bribe offered. Building permits and speedy delivery of essential goods came only with dash to the right man.

Most Nigerians see little wrong in accepting dash. Anything is obtainable if the dash is large enough—a seat on a fully booked plane, preferential treatment in private hospitals, a new house or the best room in a fully booked hotel.

For workers seeking employment in office or local business, a dash to the boss or foreman is often essential to ensure employment. Many employees pay as you earn basis.

In the bustling African market of Lagos, where thousands of Nigerians trade from ramshackled stalls, a good site can cost a country's age-old system of dashing.

In Kano, a 1,000-year-old walled city in the desertlike northern region, a fat dash can purchase the right to a local water tap. Fortunes have been made selling water to inhabitants, charged according to their status.

Dash and its accompanying corruption resulted in the death of hundreds during the recent western region elections, which ended in widespread political rioting. Election boxes were switched and opposition leaders bribed to induce their followers to vote for the ruling party.

In the first flush of military government, most Nigerians applauded the army take-over. Many expressed hope that the country's wealth would be more evenly distributed.

Maj. Gen. Johnson Aguiyi-Ironi, head of the new military regime, hopes to stamp out the

Dick Radatz Hopes to Regain '64 Form

BOSTON (AP) — Can relief pitcher Dick Radatz come back this year and become once again the scourge of American League batters? The Boston Red Sox ace believes he can and he says battling coach Ted Williams thinks so, too.

Radatz was picked as the Relief Pitcher of the Year in 1962 and 1964, and won Sophomore of the Year honors in between, as he blazed his fast ball past opposing batters for a 40-21 win-loss record with a second division team.

However, he ran into problems a year ago and tailed off to a 9-11 record, leading to reports The Monster was no more.

Without question, Radatz wasn't as effective as in past years — the 235-pound Detroit native is the first to admit it — but everyone had his own idea why.

Some said he had arm trouble and others blamed a change in his motion. Some felt Radatz was trying to be cute, rather than powerful, and others said his arm had gone dead, resulting in a straight pitch with nothing on it.

ARM TROUBLE

Except for the arm trouble, Radatz admits all of these things had a bearing on his 1965 performance when he was confirmed with a curve ball and batted in now feels "I'll never be able to develop."

Williams, the former Red Sox star recently elected to the Hall of Fame, talked to Radatz while he was in town and confirmed the 6-foot-5 pitcher's belief that he should develop a good slider. "I did well at the end of the season when I went back to depending on my fast ball," he said. "When I experimented earlier in the year and started to lose games, that got to me."

Rookies Help San Francisco

NBA Warriors Gain in Division Race

BOSTON (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors have gained valuable ground in their struggle to move ahead of Baltimore in the battle for second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Thanks to strong finishes by rookie Rick Barry and Paul Neumann, the Warriors were able to move one full game ahead of the Bulls Thursday night. And they did it by beating the defending champion Boston Celtics 128-117 in the only NBA game played.

Boston gets a chance to gain revenge tonight when it plays host to the Warriors in the second game of an NBA double-header at Boston Garden. Detroit plays New York in the opener.

The Celtics, who have beenailing badly of late, stayed in contention most of the way, leading 61-59 at the half and trailing only 91-90 at the end of the third quarter.

Cage Heroics Mount

By The Associated Press

The college basketball season is providing a good backlog for movie or TV scripts. There have been more closing second heroics than in many seasons.

Last Saturday, for instance, Dennis Kioke of Washington State, sank two free throws in the last five seconds to beat UCLA, Rick Whelan of Oregon State got a last second basket to beat Stanford, Corky Bell of Chicago Loyola did the same thing to defeat Marquette, John Howard's jump shot with three seconds to go enabled Cincinnati to down Louisville and Dick Nemeika of Brigham Young scored in the last 11 seconds to down Utah.

would have tied the score at 76-76. Marin's two free throws then put the Blue Devils, No. 1 in the country until this week, out of danger.

Texas Western went on a 10-1 spree with the score tied at 71-71 in the overtime, for its home court victory over Arizona. Bobby Joe Hill, whose final second basket beat Colorado State U. last Friday, led the Miners with 18 points. Ted Pickett topped the Wildcats with 19.

Bob Cole, a 6-foot-7 soph. led St. Louis over Tulsa on the Hurricane's home court. He sat out part of the first half, but led the Billikens in the second 20 minutes and 17 points and nine rebounds. Tulsa's Julian Hammond scored 24 points.

PCH Wrestlers Win Walled Lake 'Style'

That rarity in wrestling — a western by posting a 54-0 dec. shutout — turned up again last night.

Pontiac Central recorded the mat gem against Flint Southwestern by posting a 54-0 dec. shutout, and the score was a little more unusual in that the PCH junior varsity trimmed the Flint squad by the same score.

The victory ran PCH's record in the Saginaw Valley Conference to 5-0 and gave the team an over-all mark of 8-1-1.

The Chiefs recorded seven wins in the varsity match and they received a little help for forfeits in two matches.

Walled Lake's Vikings, who have picked up two shutouts this season, almost had another last night as they posted a 49-3 triumph over Highland Park.

SET RECORD

The victory pushed Walled Lake's season mark to 11-0—a school record for victories—and it was the team's 10th win in a row, a streak that began last season.

The Vikings' John Helmer added to his personal string of victories by pinning his opponent at 4:15 for his 20th win in a row.

In other matches, Pontiac Northern defeated East Detroit, 29-0, and Kettering planned a 23-19 setback on township rival Waterford.

The victory was the second in two days for PNH, which defeated Flint Northwestern Wednesday, 25-15.

Kettering (5-4) won the last three matches to break up a close duel with Waterford, and the victory gave the winners a lead of 35-50 in the battle for the All Sports Trophy.

Gunfire Sweeps Havana Sky

HAVANA (UPI) — Anti-aircraft batteries here opened fire last night for the first time in more than two years, and searchlights swept the sky for several minutes.

Unofficial sources said an unidentified plane had been detected over the city. There were no reports of an air attack, however, nor was there any indication that a plane had been hit.

The explosion of heavy anti-aircraft shells could be heard during the brief barrage. Streams of red tracers fired by lighter guns could be seen crisscrossing the sky.

Cuban refugees, sometimes aided by American fliers-of-fortune, staged ineffective air attacks on Havana several times during the years after Premier Fidel Castro came to power.

The last such attack occurred more than two years ago, when several homemade bombs were dropped on the oil refineries across the bay from Havana. No notable damage was reported.

GETS HIGHEST HONOR — Edward N. Cole (left) 1371 Kirkway, Bloomfield Hills, is presented the Silver Antelope Award, the highest a region can bestow upon a volunteer Scouter. The Rev. Frans Victorson presents the award. Looking on is astronaut Col.

John H. Glenn, featured speaker at the recent Detroit Area Boy Scout Council meeting, where Cole, an executive vice president of General Motors Corp., was presented the award for meritorious service to Scouting.

To Head World Church Group

GENEVA 10 — The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. was elected head of the World Council of Churches today.

The council's 100-member central committee elected the 59-year-old American its secretary-general to succeed Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft of the Netherlands.

Dr. Visser't Hooft has led the organization, one of the most influential in Christendom, since its creation 18 years ago. He is retiring.

The World Council of Churches is a group of 214 Protestant, Anglican, Orthodox and Old Catholic churches in more than 80 countries.

A leading figure in American church life, Dr. Blake has campaigned vigorously for church unity. He was the prime mover behind the recent merger of the two sections of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Georgia's Bond to Appeal

Court Backs Barring of Solon

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Representative Julian Bond will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court a decision upholding the Georgia House of Representatives' refusal to seat him because of statements he made to "at war with the national policy."

In a two-to-one decision, a federal court ruled Thursday that the House action was legal and rational on the basis of Bond's voicing sympathy with men unwilling to respond to a military draft.

Bond, 26, a Negro and a Democrat, was barred from the House last Jan. 10 because of his statements labeling U.S. participation in Viet Nam as aggression and urging men to seek alternatives to military service.

Bond said at a news conference the decision will be appealed. "The court," said Bond, "was either unwilling or unable to hold that the court could not substitute its judgment for that of the legislative body.

Bell and Morgan ruled that Bond's right of free speech is limited by his election to public office. The judges based their decision principally on Bond's endorsement of a statement by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee of which he is publicity director.

"The SNCC statement is at war with the national policy of this country," the majority said. "It is a call to action based on race."

This is true, Bell and Morgan said, because the statement aligns SNCC with colored peoples of other nations, refers to the black people's struggle for liberation and says Vietnamese are murdered because of U.S. policy which calls on Negro servicemen to stifle the "liberation of Viet Nam."

30 Scots Dead of Flu

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)—At least 30 persons died last week from influenza in Scotland, official figures showed yesterday. The deaths were reported from 17 principal towns with a population of more than 30,000, a registrar general report said.

Mossler Murder Trial

'Powers Flaunted Love Affair'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A point where Circuit Judge George Schulz warned spectators, including winter tourists from all over the nation: "I don't want to clear the courtroom." But we're not putting on a show here for anybody.

The latest sensation in the bizarre trial of Powers and Mrs. Mossler for the murder of her multimillionaire husband was provided by a witness who said Powers had boasted that he had made Mrs. Mossler pregnant.

Outside of court, Mrs. Mossler said she had been unable to conceive since an operation some years ago.

The trial resumes today. It recessed early Thursday when the state temporarily ran out of witnesses, because of limited cross-examination by the defense.

BIRTHDAY NEAR

Mrs. Mossler, small and attractive, simply but expensively dressed, who says she will be 40 next week, is on trial for her life with Powers, 29, a darkly handsome 6-foot-3.

The state accuses her of planning the bludgeoning and stabbing of her husband, Jacques, for the twin motives of illicit love and money. The defense maintains that Mossler, head of a $33-million banking and loan empire, made innumerable enemies, any one of whom could have plunged a knife into him 39 times on June 30, 1964, in his Key Biscayne apartment.

Mrs. Mossler was away at the time, and Powers is depicted by the state as the actual killer.

SPICY TRIAL

The spicy trial testimony has sent the always-crowded courtroom into occasional spasms of mirth. Thursday it reached the green frock, gasped so loudly it could be heard throughout the courtroom.

William Dawes was Paul Revere's companion on his famous midnight ride.

STAR WITNESS

Star state witness Thursday was Gene L. Owens, a slender dark-haired man with a dry voice. He said he once worked for Mossler and in March 1964, became manager of Powers' trailer sales firm in Houston, Tex.

In his personal talks with Powers about Mrs. Mossler, Owens said: "He told me she was pregnant and pregnant by him and about two months pregnant. This was in March 1964. I asked him about his condition, and he said he was happy and that Mrs. Mossler wanted to have the baby."

Red Losses Top 2,000 in 2 Weeks for Highest Toll of War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — U.S. forces today reported another 184 Communists killed by American planes and troops, pushing claimed Communist losses in men beyond 2,000 in the past two weeks. An American spokesman said these were the highest Red casualty figures of the war.

United States resumed the air war on the north 12 days ago. The plane was shot down 15 miles north of the 17th Parallel Thursday by heavy flak, an Air Force spokesman said. No parachute was seen by other pilots and the Navy avian was presumed killed.

The Viet Cong shot and killed an American civilian engineer operating a tractor in a jungle clearing at a rock quarry 20 miles northeast of Saigon. His partner escaped when two guerrillas leaped out of spider holes and opened fire.

BODY RECOVERED

A U.S. 1st Infantry Division patrol later recovered the body. The engineer was not immediately identified. He was employed by the big American R.M.K. construction combine.

The shooting occurred near the spot where the Viet Cong kidnaped two Americans, one Vietnamese and one Canadian relief funds to repair damage bridges.

employed by the firm in December, on the American side in the past week, with the number of U.S. servicemen killed in Viet Nam by 103 in the seven days ending Jan. 1, 1961, officially listed at 2,005. According to Defense Department figures, casualties also rose sharply.

released in Washington Thursday, the roll of dead increased to 9,658, compared with 391 in the previous week. Missing in action totaled 161, an increase of 12.

BIG OFFENSIVE

Many of the casualties on both sides came during Operations Masher and White Wing, which brought U.S. 1st Cavalrymen and Marines together with other allied troops in a big offensive in the Communist-dominated coastal rice lands 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

The two-week campaign culminated in the retaking of the lush An Lao Valley, which has been held by the Viet Cong for 301 days and has provided them with considerable food.

MSU Is Given Grant for Antipoverty Center

MARQUETTE (AP) — Rep. Raymond Cleverger, D-Mich., said Thursday that the Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a $2,725,000 grant to the Northern Michigan University for preparation and operation of a job corps center for women. The grant covers 17 months starting in late June or early July, but Cleverger says the contract can be extended annually for four years.

Storm Relief Funds Sent by U. S. to Samoa

Applications Are Welcomed From Any Boy Over 12 Years Old

How your son spends his free time can mean a lot to his future success. Does he fritter it away or is he doing something worthwhile?

Few spare-time activities can compare with the training and learning opportunities a boy receives from managing a newspaper delivery business.

As a newspaperboy he meets and deals with people in all walks of life. He acquires responsibility and self-assurance. Greatest of all, he learns the value of money and the fundamentals of good business management. Isn't this a sound start on the way to future accomplishment?

Griffin's Senate Race Bid Snarls Opposition Strategy

By DICK BARNES

Associated Press Writer
LANSING—U.S. Rep. Robert Griffin's entry into the Republican Senate nomination fight apparently has strengthened his chances and complicated the strategy of State Sen. Guy VanderJagt.

Griffin of Traverse City said Thursday he is renouncing his 9th District House seat to fight for the Senate nomination, even if he must go to a primary against someone preferred by GOP leaders.

His bold move did not alter the strategy of VanderJagt or Michigan State University Prof. Leroy Augenstein.

But it could materially affect what happens Feb. 19 at a meeting of Republican leaders designed to choose a preferred party candidate from among the three.

HOUSE SEAT

VanderJagt, from Cadillac, said earlier he would not enter a primary fight against Griffin but would, if Griffin were the preferred choice, run for Griffin's House seat.

Gov. George Romney has said that to win party endorsement, a candidate must be the first choice of 75 per cent of the nearly 300 GOP leaders expected for the meeting. Few observers expect a first ballot to decide the issue.

If Griffin and VanderJagt are neck-and-neck on the first ballot or if Griffin leads, the possibility is seen that VanderJagt, the younger and less known of the two, might withdraw in the name of party unity and go for the House seat.

Two weeks ago, he was not entertaining thoughts of the Senate and acknowledges he would have been most pleased to run for the House. Republicans are given a much better chance of winning in the 9th District than in the Senate race.

PARTY LEADERS

If VanderJagt leads substantially in the balloting, he no doubt will bank on party leaders to prevail on Griffin to forego a primary fight. What would happen if Griffin refused is debatable.

Meanwhile, what of Augenstein?

The biophysics professor never has run for office and is seen as the longshot in the field of three. Yet he claims increasing strength and did beat more than a dozen others in reaching the Feb. 19 ballot.

If Augenstein won endorsement, almost certainly Griffin would oppose him in the primary and VanderJagt would run for Congress.

PURSUE FIGHT

If Augenstein loses, sources close to him indicate he will pursue his fight in the primary whether against Griffin, VanderJagt or both.

At a Grand Rapids news conference Thursday night, Augenstein said there was only a very small chance he would withdraw from candidacy for the nomination.

Augenstein said earlier he delayed announcement of his candidacy at Romney's request.

"I promised to hold off until after the 19th," he said. "I think there is a chance someone like myself can win. Anyone who has a program appealing to independent voters can win."

CAN BE "EATEN"

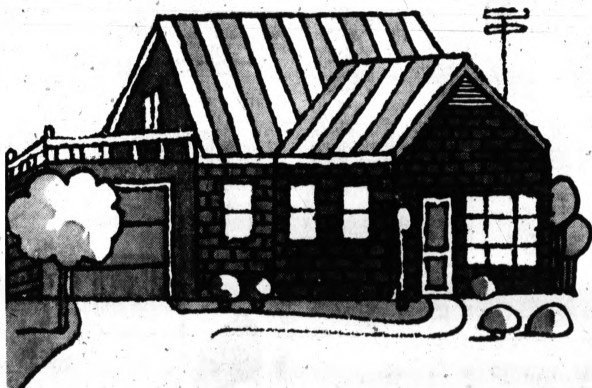

Augenstein said he thought Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh the strongest Democratic candidate. He added that even no further than accepting a preferred candidate designation.

Griffin's entry surprised some. One candidate, Edward Meany of Grand Haven, declared for Griffin's congressional seat hours after Griffin's announcement Thursday. Meany's race

Until Feb. 19, the three Sen-
1964 GOP Senate primary and ate hopefuls are expected to wage spirited campaigns for support from the district and county party officials who will support Meany's quick vote. But what happens after that first ballot is anyone's guess.

New Army Targets Shoot Back at GIs

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Pop-up targets that shoot back are providing a new test for the infantryman's speed, dexterity, accuracy and skill.

The army said the silhouette-type targets are connected to a pellet gun which fires with great accuracy at soldiers who fail to hit the targets within two seconds from the time they pop up.

If the target is hit, the pellet gun is deactivated until the next silhouette appears.

Paper Products Mill Destroyed by Fire

MONROE (AP) — The Ace Paper Products Co. in Frenchtown Township five miles north of here burned down Thursday.

Firemen say sparks from a welding torch flew into a vat of paraffin, setting off the blaze.

Loss was estimated at more than $500,000.

By JACOBY & SON

One of my regular correspondents writes: "The game was duplicate. I opened the queen of diamonds against the four-spade contract. South won with the ace, but a diamond ruffed a third diamond to set up the last two diamonds in dummy. Then she went into a huddle and laid down the ace of spades. There went my singleton king. After that brilliant play, South drew the rest of my partner's trumps and led a club toward dummy's king. The best I could do was to take the ace and lead a heart to my partner to hold declarer to five-odd.

The result did not seem too bad to me at the time but when the scores came out I saw she had made five spade tricks. It seems that all other spade declarers had led a heart at trick two. Invariably the declarer's spade queen lost to West's singleton king. Did my opponent play extra well or was she extra lucky?"

We just don't know. There are certain hands that present alternate lines of play that are so nearly equal that it is up to declarer to play them as he sees them.

Off-hand, the line of play that produced 11 tricks does not appear to have been too good. South needed to break the diamonds 3-2; pick that singleton king of spades and find the ace of clubs in the West hand for his play to work, but if you study the hand carefully, the South players who led the heart at trick two would have had to find the king of spades doubleton in the East hand so that they would be able to pick it up after one finesse.

They had obviously planned to ruff their third heart if the finesse worked.

Nevertheless, we think our friend was unlucky because there was a third line of play which was for South to lead the heart at trick two and then to refuse the spade finesse. This also would have produced five-odd.

Oklahoma Has Been Jarred to Grass Roots by Disclosure of Scandal in High Places

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma has been jarred to the grass roots by the disclosure of bribery, corruption and moral laxity extending to the highest level of the state judiciary.

The startled voters learned that for a quarter of a century some decisions in the State Supreme Court were bought and sold like a crop of cotton.

A grand jury reported that thousands of dollars were poured into the pockets of some state legislators by special interests seeking special privilege.

Several respected leaders of public life landed in hot water — or jail — on charges ranging from income tax evasion to perjury.

STATE OF SHOCK

In some of the more populous states, with free-wheeling big city political machines, an occasional scandal is taken for granted. But in largely rural Oklahoma, what came to light in the past 12 months induced a virtual state of shock among its 2.3 million residents.

Some reassurance came from B. Andrew Potter, the U.S. district attorney who led the investigation of misbehavior among some Supreme Court judges. He said in Oklahoma the rasicals got caught and elsewhere they often didn't.

"Human nature is human nature," philosophized Potter. "We have had dishonest men and honest men clear back to biblical times and we'll have the same types to the end of this earth."

State Atty. Gen. Charles Nes-

"I don't think there's any reason for us to hang our heads, should we be condemned for bringing the facts to light or scuttled. He pointed out that the legislators receive only $15 a day for the first 75 working days of each biennial session and $3 a day the rest of the time.

"The biggest share of the blame goes to the giver," Nesbitt said. "It was by his actions that it came to be an accepted idea in the community."

The affair which created Oklahoma's major furor of 1966 was an investigation of the State Supreme Court.

Before the dust settled, Supreme Court Justice Napoleon Bonaparte Johnson, a state and national American Indian leader, was impeached by the legislature for taking $10,000 in bribes.

SIMILAR COUNT

Justice Earl Welch resigned a few hours before a legislative committee recommended his impeachment on a similar count.

Central figure in the investigation was retired Justice N. S. Corn, 81. Fresh from a nine-month jail sentence for income tax irregularities, the ex-jurist told the State Senate he started had financial dealings with the judges. Sentenced to five years in prison and a $3,000 fine, he all figured in one $150,000 payoff.

Tissue Repair Clue is Hinted

May Be Linked to Mysterious Proteins

By Science Service

LOS ANGELES — How the body responds to damage and initiates the repair process may result from a study of mysterious proteins that regularly turn up following a tissue injury.

Drs. Henry E. Weimer and David C. Benjamin of the University of California at Los Angeles Medical School described such a protein recently discovered in rats. Other proteins which appear to have similar roles have been found in man, monkey, rabbit, dog and chicken.

The UCLA scientists found that the protein was not present in normal rat blood serum but always appeared following tissue injury.

They also found that the protein was synthesized in the liver and that this synthesis was regulated by the adrenal gland. No matter how remote the area of injury was from the liver, the production of the protein was initiated by the liver.

The fact that the liver starts producing the protein in response to tissue injury suggests some substance released by a dead or damaged cell may signal the liver for help.

This makes it appear that the protein is involved in tissue repair and proliferation. However, there is no evidence to date that directly links it with tissue repair.

Bright Boy Should Use Free Time for Extra Interests

By LIESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
University of Southern California
Dear Dr. Nason: Our 8-year-old son has been bright in school since the first grade. He has always received high grades in major subjects.

Our problem is that he is the first one finished with his work in school, and starts talking, distracting the other children and the teacher.

I think he is bored. His teacher says he is fortunate to have a good mind.

He loves to read and goes for advanced books for a child of his age. He takes books to school to read when his work is finished. Sometimes he reads, but often he talks. I think his excess energy must be properly channeled.

Please enlighten me on this situation.

Mrs. Y. C. Fort Lee, N. J.
Working off excess energy will not slow down your son's rate of doing his work. Children who are faster than their classmates must necessarily wait for the others from time to time.

Besides the extra reading your son is already doing to keep himself occupied, he could take on tasks like learning the multiplication tables through the 12's, then through the 14's then the 16's, and so on.

Or he might find pleasure and constructive activity in writing stories.

These are but examples of interests he could develop to use his free school time profitably.

Dear Dr. Nason: I feel that the quality of the written material produced in this country would be greatly improved if people were required to stick with manuscript writing.

As it takes longer to write manuscript, the person is given time to rethink some of his thoughts and to clarify them before committing them to the page.

The insistence that people write in cursive has, in my opinion, led to the demise of writing in our society and to the rise of the use of the telephone for almost all communications.

I believe that the educational level of the country would be improved if cursive writing were not taught in our schools.

I would very much like to hear from you on this.

L. E. Philadelphia, Pa.
To do manuscript writing, the writer must in effect draw each letter. This process actually interferes with his thinking.

I find that many high school and college students who have stuck to manuscript writing, as you suggest, are not carrying on their scholastic work effectively. In every instance, those who switched to cursive writing, and have practiced enough to become skillful, have improved their grades.

Current Books
AN ACRE OF GRASS, by J. M. Stewart. Norton. $4.50.
In the midst of the current fashion for novels filled with obscene shrieks from the sewer, it is a pleasure to find that someone still is composing deftly narrated stories about self-respecting, well-bred people.
The story is about a young British writer, Gabriel Purefoy, and his wife Amy. It begins at the end of Gabriel's life.
Gradually there emerges a realistic picture of Gabriel, and the fact that he left behind a final manuscript which might hurt Amy.
Stewart practices a vanishing art—the creation of a real story about civilized people, written in a civilized fashion.
THE FIREDRAGON, by Cecilia Holland. Atheneum. $5.
By whatever measure you may use, this is an unusual story.
It is about an 11th Century professional warrior, Laeghairs (Lear) of the Long Road, a renegade Irish knight who rides his brown charger into many a storm of lances and crossbolts for pay.
Laeghairs is a bred-in-the-bone fighter, called in those mythical days a "berserker knight."
In modern mythology, we would see him as a light-lipped ringer for the fictional Old West, or perhaps one of those debonair RAF pilots, so few in number, who saved Britain in a terrible crisis.
She tells it in a clipped, staccato prose that resembles the

Sophie Tucker Service Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Leading show business personalities turn out today to say goodbye to singer Sophie Tucker, who died Wednesday night after a career that began at the turn of the century.

Ms. Tucker, 78, succumbed to a chronic lung ailment and kidney failure at her Park Avenue apartment.

She was known as the "Last of the Red Hot Mamas."

George Jessel delivers the eulogy at the funeral service at 1 p.m. at the Riverside Funeral Chapel. A second service will be held Sunday in Hartford and burial will be in Emanuel Cemetery, Wethersfield, Conn.

Another show business luminary, Billy Rose, 66, died Thursday in Montego Bay, Jamaica, where he had gone to recuperate from cardiovascular surgery.

The body was to be flown to New York today for service at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Billy Rose Theater.

From TV to Foreign Films

Cowpoke Is International Star

HOLLYWOOD — Clint Eastwood obviously wasn't concerned about his image. He ordered hot tea.

The sight of a television cowpoke ordering tea instead of red-eye on the rocks would ordinarily be enough to make a horse opera fan head for the hills. But

THOMAS Clint Eastwood is no longer a TV cowpoke. "Rawhide" having suffered a mid-season demise after eight years on the range.

He is now an international film star.

Eastwood, 35, is a fortunate fellow. The Hollywoods are full of saddle weary stars of defunct TV westerns who don't even get calls to appear at the Waco rodeo any more. Eastwood is signed to star in a European-made western at a salary of $250,000 plus 10 per cent of the Western Hemisphere profits.

NO DREAM

It's no press agent's dream. Eastwood, from Oakland, Calif., related his happy escalation.

"Two years ago, I got an offer to do a Western for an Italian company in Spain during my vacation from 'Rawhide,'" he said. "I figured it would be a lark — a way to get a change of scenery. I was paid $15,000 for 11 weeks' work and the whole picture cost $225,000."

"The director, Sergio Leone, injected enough satire to interest the intelligent movie goer, but not enough to scare off Western fans. I figured the picture would either hit or miss — nothing in between."

It hit. Eastwood said that the film, titled "For a Fistful of Dollars," drew more money in Italy than any western in history, and that includes "Shane" and "High Noon." It also did smash business in Spain and Germany.

BACK TO EUROPE

Eastwood went back to Europe during his last hiatus to film a sequel, "For a Few Dollars More," at a salary of $50,000. He has heard that the film is outdrawing "Thunderball" in Italy. The result has been his inflated salary for the next film by Leone, tentatively titled "Magnificent Vagabonds."

Before that one, he will co-star with Silvana Mangano in an calators.

New York City provides plenty of opportunity for those who want to get up in the world. It has 38,950 elevators and 708 escalators.

British Star Quits Hospital

LONDON (UPI) — British movie star Jack Hawkins was released from a hospital yesterday following an operation for throat cancer.

The burly, 55-year-old Hawkins, who starred in such films as "Bridge on the River Kwai," "Guns at Batasi," and "Lawrence of Arabia," underwent the operation Jan. 22.

He smiled and hugged his wife, Doreen, as he left London's University College Hospital.

Hawkins was not able to speak much, but his wife said he was, responding "very well" to daily speech therapy and a hospital spokesman reported Hawkins' training as an actor would probably help him recover his voice.

Three other film stars were reported ill today.

Richard Burton was sidelined with a cold and unable to attend a rehearsal of "Dr. Faustus," scheduled to open Monday at the Playhouse in Oxford.

IZ TAYLOR

He and his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, who also had a cold, remained in their hotel in nearby Woodstock. Miss Taylor has a minor role in the play.

In London to star in "Lee Oswald — Assassin," American actor Tony Bill collapsed at rehearsals with influenza. His

Republican Is Glad to Forward Letter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A letter carrying the free mailing frank of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, a Democrat, arrived recently at the office of Gov. James A. Rhodes, a Republican.

But the letter was not addressed to Rhodes, but to "Honorable Michael V. DiSalle, Statehouse, Columbus, Ohio."

Rhodes' office said the letter would be forwarded to DiSalle, former Democratic governor defeated by Rhodes in 1962.

The number of U.S. families in the under-$3,000 income group in 1964 declined by about $450,000 from the previous year.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Harold E. Stassen is ready to have another go at politics. Stassen, 57, said in Philadelphia, he will be a candidate for the Pennsylvania Republican gubernatorial nomination. He lost out in the running in 1958.

He said he would make peace in Viet Nam his campaign issue.

"President Johnson made a terrible mistake when he turned the Vietnamese war into an American war," he said.

Gov. William W. Scranton and other GOP leaders are backing Raymond Shafer, the incumbent lieutenant governor.

Stassen served three terms as governor of Minnesota in the late 1930s and early 1940s. He made a strong bid for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, but lost to Thomas E. Dewey, who lost the race to President Harry S. Truman.

Since then he has suffered other political setbacks, but he says defeat only toughens his fiber.

Irate Marine to Get Free Vacation

Marine Pfc. Daniel Rombey has a free vacation awaiting him when he gets back from Viet Nam.

The Oceanside, Calif., Chamber of Commerce wants to make amends for a can of dog food received by the Michigan Marine with this note: "Eat well, animal." It had been mailed from Oceanside.

The package was sent to "a Marine in Viet Nam" and ended up in Rombey's hands. He wrote to his mother in Jackson, Mich., expressing his anger that the sender had not given a name or return address.

The story was published in Michigan newspapers and clippings were sent to the Oceanside Blade-Tribune. The Oceanside newspaper took them to the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Rombey said her son wrote that he is in Viet Nam to do a job and will stay until it is over.

When it is over, Rombey and his parents have an invitation to spend a vacation in Oceanside.

Price Fixing

Charge Drug

Senator Says Firms

Conspired on Pills

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Sen. Russell B. Long has charged that five major American drug manufacturers have engaged in a "reprehensible and shameful" international conspiracy to fix the prices of so-called wonder drugs.

"Since 1954," the Louisiana Democrat said in a 90-minute Senate speech Thursday, "these conspirators have been victimizing all of us. It is high time that we stop them."

Long, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said that under this agreement drugs developed in part through government facilities which cost 1.6 cents to make "until recently sold to the American public at 51 cents a pill and now sell for about 30 cents a pill."

"Although children, the elderly and the poor have been and are still unable to afford such drugs, and although the existence of at least one aspect of this conspiracy has been known to federal agencies since at least 1958, the cartel continues to operate in all its vigor," Long said.

He said that documentary evidence he made available to the Senate showed conclusively that this cartel "is operating not only in the United States but also in Canada and Latin and South America."

He said this was because the companies feared any price deviations abroad "would spread to the United States market."

Long, who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and the Small Business Monopoly subcommittee, listed the five firms which he said were part of the conspiracy:

Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc.; American Cyanamid Co.; and Lederle Laboratories Division; Bristol-Myers Co.; the Olin Matheson Chemical Corp.; and Squibb Division; and the Upjohn Co.

St. Sgt. Schneider of the Washneton County Sheriff's Department said a fight between a white and a Negro student at Willow Run School in adjoining Ypsilanti Township Tuesday touched off the hard feelings.

He said the department was tipped that there would be a fight Thursday and more than 20 men patrolled the area around the school, stopping all cars containing students. "We confiscated billy clubs, lead pipes, hatchets, chains and knives," he said.

The 35-year-old white student, said to be a juvenile, was released to his parents, pending later appearance in juvenile court.

The No. 3 auto maker earned $233.4 million, or $5.44 a share. This compared with $213,703.02 or $5.50 a share in 1964.

Sales rose from $4,287,346.13 to $5,298,934.80.

Chrysler was the last of the Big Three auto makers to report results for 1965. General Motors and Ford Motor Co. earlier reported record sales and earnings.

Good Driver Fails

Not at Home on the Road

LONDON (UPI) — A British businessman who has clocked some 500,000 accident-free miles in several European countries has failed his 17th attempt to win a driver's license in his native land.

Arthur Ries, 65, holds an international driving permit which authorizes him to drive freely in many European countries without taking an examination, but so far has failed British driving tests.

"It's ridiculous," Ries said after an examiner yesterday took less than five minutes to fail him again on several counts. "I'm a perfectly good driver. They don't want me to pass."

Ries said he has undergone hypnotic treatment, carried good luck charms and spent about $8,000 in efforts to pass the examinations.

"I've been trying for years," he said, "but I don't intend to give up. Either they will wear me out or I will wear them out."

County Snowplows Sidelined By Heat Wave

More Sun and Rain Due in Area

February's thaw delighted some, displeased others as Michigan's weather wise decided to enjoy winter's respite.

More winter is on the way but the weatherman chooses to favor the Pontiac area with a weekend of higher than normal temperatures punctuated by sunshine and showers.

The 'heat wave' (it hit 56 degrees Wednesday; 48 yesterday) produced some incongruous midwinter scenes in the Pontiac area as shown in the photos above and at the right.

Waterford Township teenagers, Cathy Van Haltsma (left) of 2661 Marietta and Jackie Saincome of 2344 Jones, took time out for a double scoop as they strolled in the springlike temperatures.

Oakland University's Winter Carnival cochairman, Harriet Slepicka of Traverse City, had quite a time convincing Don Fielder of Detroit that he would have to trade his skis for sisal if he were going to join in the fun.

LITTLE SNOW

She made it clear that plans would need changing since all the snow on OU's campus was piled on her two mittens.

The skiing events will be replaced by a tug of mud at the under-construction lake-site in front of the twin towers dormitory at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Other events at the three-day fun fest were not disturbed by the sudden arrival of spring. Tomorrow will be mostly sunny with little temperature change. Highs will be between 36 and 42.

TONIGHT'S LOW

Tonight's low will range from 24 to 30. West to northwest winds will vary from 10 to 18 miles.

Showers are predicted Sunday with continuing mild temperatures.

The lowest temperature in the downtown Pontiac area prior to 8 a.m. was 32. By 1 p.m. it had climbed to 37.

Diphtheria Is Found in Victim's Father

DETROIT (AP) — The father of a Detroit boy who died of diphtheria has been found infected with the disease, and Health Department officials sought today to find out whether Bozy Hill, 38, infected his son.

Tests had been conducted on Hill since his son, Lonnie, 4, died of virulent diphtheria Jan. 31.

They showed negative until yesterday, when Dr. Paul Salschow, Health Department epidemiologist, found the presence of the germs in a test culture. Salschow said it will take another day or two to determine whether Hill has a virulent case. Six cases of nonvirulent diphtheria have been discovered in the general near West side neighborhood in tests following the boy's death.

But Salschow said those with the nonvirulent form of disease could not have infected Lonnie Hill or anyone else with diphtheria germs that could kill.

Except for the handful of non-virulent cases, tests on more than 500 persons have proved negative. Hill works at the Chrysler Corp. engine plant in nearby Trenton.

Salschow said the incubation period would be "close to completed" in the case of Hill's fellow workers. Hill has not been to work since Jan. 28.

Mrs. Mossler III; Trial Is Recessed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candace Mossler's trial in the slaying of her husband was recessed for the weekend today, after she became ill during the night and was unable to appear in court.

Dr. Edward W. St. Mary, under questioning by Judge George Schulz, testified he treated Mrs. Mossler for migraine headaches and nausea, a combination that has affected her twice before during her trial with Melvin Lane Powers on charges of murdering Jacques Mossler.

Dr. St. Mary also testified that Mrs. Mossler complained of severe chest pains, "which she also has had before."

'65 Road Toll Highest Ever

CHICAGO (AP) — A record toll of 49,000 traffic deaths in the United States last year was reported today by the National Safety Council.

The council said 1.8 million persons suffered disabling injuries in 1965 motor vehicle accidents.

The economic loss was calculated at $8.5 billion, $5.5 billion of this in wage losses, medical expenses and overhead insurance costs.

Senate Argues WSU Speaker

Vote to Bar Marxist Ends in Deadlock

LANSING (AP)—Senators argued for more than an hour Thursday as to whether a historian should be allowed to speak at Wayne State University.

They reached no agreement, deadlocking 16-16 on a procedural vote which appeared to generally reflect Senate sentiment.

At issue was the scheduled appearance today at Wayne of Herbert Aptheker, director of the American Institute of Marxist Studies. He plans to discuss his recent trip to North Vietnam.

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, touched off the argument when he said, "I can't see why we allow such people to speak when we're at war."

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Drendzel, D-Detroit, declared the Senate should ask Wayne President William Keast not to permit the talk.

EXPLAINS POSITION

"It makes our boys wonder why we're fighting," Drendzel declared. "It's a matter of whether you've got guts enough to stand up and fight. Let's not sell the boys over there short."

He said if students didn't like such action, "let them go somewhere else and get in a private college or university."

Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, argued that Viet Nam policy and freedom of speech were being mistakenly linked.

Levin said he basically supports U.S. policy in Viet Nam and disagrees with Aptheker "but it doesn't necessarily follow that he doesn't have the right to express his views."

SAME POLICY

He said Wayne's policy of permitting authorized student organizations to bring speakers of their choosing to campus is followed at most schools.

Sen. Stanley Novak, D-Detroit, said, "if we're going to permit our students to be indoctrinated and advised and have a brain-washing job there's something wrong with all of us."

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Detroit, said shutting out unpopular ideas could lead to the question, "what's the difference between us and the Viet Cong?"

Senators favoring Drendzel's message-to-Keast plan asked for time to draft a letter but their recess motion produced the 16-16 deadlock.

DEBATE DIES

Li. Gov. William Milliken, the presiding officer, voted against the recess and the debate died. In the House, Rep. Frederic Marshall, R-Allen, criticized Aptheker's appearance and pointed to a 1962 legislative resolution.

The resolution, he said, affirmed academic freedom, but called it "a perversion of this right when it is used by Communists whose avowed purpose is the destruction of our way of life and form of government."

This compared with a 1945 rate of 11.2.

Council statisticians computed a 5 per cent rise in the total number of vehicle-miles last year, 880 billion.

Nevertheless, the total of deaths last year was 3 per cent greater than the former record of 47,700 in 1964.

DEADLY RECORD

Another deadly record was reflected in the December toll last year when 4,940 persons were killed — 10 per cent more than the 4,490 of December 1964.

In terms of deaths per 10,000 registered motor vehicles, the 1965 total of accident deaths was up — from 2.7 in 1964 to 3.2.

The death record and the rates per 10,000 registered vehicles were based directly upon experience records supplied to the council by state and municipal governments.

The vehicle travel rate, a spokesman said, was computed with cooperation of the Federal Bureau of Roads, largely upon actual domestic use of motor fuels and calculations involving miles per gallon achievement of various types of vehicles and their numbers in state and federal vehicle records.

Sweeping Winds Delay Hunt for Nuclear Device

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP) — High winds sweeping the southern Mediterranean coast of Spain today delayed the start of a submarine search for the missing U.S. nuclear bomb.

It had been expected to start at dawn. The 22-foot Alvin and the 50-foot Albatross arrived yesterday to join U.S. Navy Task Force 65, which so far has located nearly 70 pieces of wreckage on the sea floor about 1,000 feet down.

2 More Dominicans Die

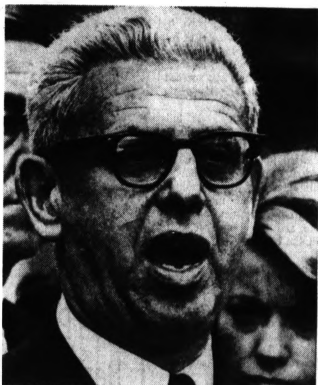

Latin Riots Continue

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Mob violence continued in the Dominican capital for the second day Thursday and two more persons were killed.

A mob stabbed and clubbed a police sergeant to death, then killed a 19-year-old youth was killed by a policeman in a gun fight.

Police reinforcements turned back another mob, armed with clubs and rocks, as it marched on a police station.

Young gangs reportedly attacked police in three cities in the interior. A spokesman for the Interior Department said that Brazilian troops hurled a grenade into a crowd after a rock hit their Jeep.

EMPHATIC ORDER — Arthur Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, talks to reporters yesterday after a White House conference with President Johnson. Goldberg said he was going back to the United Nations under renewed and emphatic orders to seek peace in Viet Nam at the earliest possible time.

Political Approach Used by Humphrey on Viet Tour

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The children laughed, clapped and sang but one little girl hung back bashfully. The important man from America knelt beside her, put her tiny hands in his and brought her into the songfest.

"One, two, three. One, two, three," chanted Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, slapping his hands in the circle of 20 Vietnamese toddlers.

For a few minutes today Humphrey's visit to this war-scarred land had the happy look of an American-style political campaign.

The vice president, though flushed by the tropical heat, enjoyed himself enormously in his visit with the kindergarten class in a village five miles south of Saigon.

The visit to the newly pacified village of New Prosperity was Humphrey's first stop on a four-hour tour of economic and social projects of the type with which the Saigon government hopes to recapture the hearts of the people.

From the village, a helicopter carried Humphrey to Saigon slum districts where he inspected a new community for refugees being built by a U.S.-Vietnamese student group. "Here we see the principle of self-help really at work," said Humphrey, who arrived yesterday to dramatize President Johnson's hopes for economic and social progress in this battleground with the Communists.

Garcia-Godoy visited the rebel army camp in the eastern suburbs yesterday amid reports he was negotiating with the rebels to accept an armed forces proposal that only the armed forces minister be replaced in the high command.

Garcia-Godoy's original order Jan. 6 would replace two of the three chiefs of staff as well as the armed forces minister.

During his visit yesterday, the president was accompanied by Col. Enrique Perez y Perez, named by authoritative sources as the most likely next armed forces minister.

Rebel CAMP

The new violence began Wednesday, when two policemen, three students and two bystanders were killed after police fired bullets and tear gas during a Communist-led student demonstration.

The violence stems from the continued refusal of rightist armed forces leaders to obey a presidential order sending the three top leaders of the armed forces to diplomatic posts abroad.

Top military leaders of the April revolution have already left the country in obedience to the order by Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy.

Role of Cong Key Obstacle to Negotiations

American Policy Said Flexible on Issue of Red Liberation Front

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The United States is seeking to put diplomatic pressure on North Viet Nam to modify its demand that the Communist National Liberation Front—NLF—must represent South Viet Nam in any peace negotiations.

President Johnson has sent word to interested foreign governments that the demand made by North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh is wholly unacceptable and has created an obstacle to efforts to arrange a peace conference.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, envoy to the United Nations, said after a two-hour meeting with Johnson yesterday that U.S. policy is flexible on the issue of an NLF role in negotiations.

The NLF is the political arm of the Communist guerrilla forces.

HO DEMAND

But he emphasized that the demand which Ho made public Jan. 28 is unacceptable to the United States, and he made clear it would have to be modified if the issue is to be resolved.

Johnson briefed Goldberg on his meeting in Hawaii earlier this week with the leaders of South Viet Nam, then sent him back to U.N. headquarters in New York to renew his efforts with Secretary General U Thant.

PHILIP A. HART

County's Dems to Honor Senator at OU March 12

The ninth annual dinner honoring U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart will be held March 12 at Oakland University, the Oakland County Democratic Committee announced today.

Among the state's top Democrats invited to the 7:30 p.m. event are Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams, National Committeeman Neil Staebler, and 19th District Congressman Billie S. Farnum.

Tickets can be obtained from the dinner chairman, Larry Perneck, 15111 Northfield, Oak Park, and at County Democratic Headquarters, 17 Water. Tickets are $10 a couple.

The dinner will be in the Sports and Recreation Building.

Romney Budget Is Killed, Fund Bill OK'd in House

LANSING (AP) — The House killed Gov. George Romney's $944.9 million budget Thursday — one bill at a time.

It followed up by passing a $4.4 million supplemental appropriations bill to take care of fiscal needs in the current fiscal year.

The Senate later concurred in House amendments. If Romney does not sign the measure by Feb. 15, the state will have to take new bids on certain building projects.

The budget-killing was to meet a technical requirement of the State Constitution, which says the budget must be disposed of before any other spending bills may be acted upon. The Senate took the same action Monday.

REPEAT MOVE

Romney's reaction when first told of the planned legislative action—a repeat of a move by the Democratic majority last year—was “no hum.” House Republicans, however, fought to block the move. They succeeded only in slowing down the process.

Each of Romney's 13 bills was brought up for consideration. Thirteen times, Minority Leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, tried to have a bill referred to committee. Each time the motion was voted down on a near-party line vote, and the House voted to kill the budget.

CURTIS L. WEBB

District 7 Candidacy Announced

An insurance salesman and father of six children, Curtis L. Webb, filed petitions yesterday for the District 7 nomination in the March 7 primary.

Webb, 32, of 294 Judson was an unsuccessful commission candidate in 1964.

Employed by the Washington National Insurance Co., he has been a Pontiac resident since 1952.

Webb currently is father vice president and finance chairman of the McConnell School Parent-Teacher Association. He also serves on the school's advisory council.

He is an active member of Liberty Missionary Baptist Church and a former member of the board.

REAL ESTATE

Webb, employed 12 years at GMC Truck & Coach Division, formerly was real estate salesman for Saunders & Wyatt Realty. He also was a licensed cosmetologist and owned a local beauty salon.

A native of Louisiana, he is a high school graduate with two years of trade school experience. He is a Korean War veteran.

“I desire to serve as a sincere and devoted person in a completely cooperative atmosphere,” said Webb.

He said the desires and needs of the people in District 7 were immense.

The supplemental appropriation bill includes $100,000 to complete plans for and start construction of a Michigan State University administration building, $300,000 for an Eastern Michigan University classroom building, $100,000 for a science building at Ferris State College and $300,000 for an academic complex at Grand Valley.

Other appropriations in the bill include:

- $500,000 to start construction on a library addition at MSU.
- $500,000 to complete plans and start construction on an engineering building at Oakland University.
- $500,000 to start construction on a chemistry and biological sciences building at Michigan Tech.
- $300,000 to complete plans and start construction on a learning resources center at Northern Michigan University.
- $500,000 for land acquisition, completion of plans and start of construction on a physical science building at Western Michigan University.
- A non-appropriation section raising the maximum cost of the University of Michigan dental building from $16.9 million to $17.2 million, reflect a grant from the Kellogg Foundation.

Drama Pioneer Is Dead at 81

Mrs. Treasa Merrill Founded Will-O-Way

The founder of the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater, Mrs. Treasa Merrill, died Wednesday after a long illness. She was 81.

Funeral service will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Christ Church Cranbrook. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery by the Manley Bailey Funeral Home of Birmingham.

Born in Ontario, Mrs. Merrill, of 785 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township, was a pioneer in Detroit area drama. Associated with Detroit's Bonstelle Players, she took many leading roles at Will-O-Way Playhouse.

She wrote a correspondence course in speech and was a drama and speech instructor nearly all her life.

The widow of Dr. William O. Merrill was a past president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

GIRLS' TOWN

She founded Michigan Girls' Town at Belleville and, in 1952, was honored by the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs when the mortgage on that institution was burned.

Mrs. Merrill was a Birmingham member of the Birmingham Musical and Women's Club, the Detroit New Century Club, Mummies and a Theater Arts club.

She was also a member of the Greater Detroit Motion Picture Council, Salvation Army Auxiliary and the Mineralogical Society.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Edward S. Sikorski of Oxford, Mrs. Carl H. Rice of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Kenneth E. Turner Jr. of Bloomfield Hills; one son, William W. of Holly; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to Michigan Girls' Town, Inc., in care of Mrs. Ralph Main, 1819 Fairview, Birmingham.

Long Illness Claims Retired Builder, 90

Bert T. Feneley, 90, of 27 Charlotte, a retired builder, died this morning after a long illness. His body is at the Voorhes-Siple Funeral Home.

The Feneleys were early settlers in the Lone Pine and Middle Belt area in West Bloomfield Township. Feneley was a member of Central Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Blanche; a son, Homer E., of Waterford Township; seven grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

Also surviving is a brother, Wright of Pontiac.

Doubt Mott Suicide After U.S. Autopsy

NEW YORK (UPI) — An autopsy by American experts on the body of Newcomb Mott “casts serious doubt” on the Soviet explanation that Mott killed himself, a lawyer for the Mott family said yesterday.

Mott, 27, died last month while he was on a train en route to a Soviet prison.

He had been convicted of illegally entering the country from Norway. The Russians said Mott slashed his throat.

The body was returned to the United States and a group of distinguished pathologists from Massachusetts and Rhode Island concluded an autopsy report a few days ago.

Francis W. H. Adams, a former New York City police commissioner who is acting as attorney for the Mott family, said “the pathologists concluded that while the wounds were the type compatible with self-infliction, they also were consistent with infliction by other persons.”

“They (the pathologists) were greatly hampered by the failure of the Soviet government to provide any authentic information with respect to the scene of the death, an opportunity to examine the clothing and instrument, or other information concerning the events surrounding the death.”

SERIOUS DOUBT

Adams said the relationship between the pathological findings and the temperament and background of the Sheffield, Mass., man “casts serious doubt on the claim of the Soviet officials that Mr. Mott's death was suicide.”

Adams also said the Soviet “suppression of evidence,” his clothes and the razor, “suggests a desire to prevent full investigation of the death.”

Russia should be called on to produce the weapon, the security guards who were in charge of Mott, the clothing and the doctors and prison officials responsible for Mott, Adams said.

He was released on $500 bond.

U.S. Pressures Hanoi on Peace Move

and members of the Security Council as well as representatives of other countries to find some way to bring the Vietnamese war to a close.

While Johnson was meeting with Goldberger, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee heard from George F. Kennan, former State Department Soviet affairs expert, in his inquiry into U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Both Kennan and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, expressed fear this week's U.S.-South Vietnam peace declaration in Honolulu may have raised an added obstacle to a negotiated peace.

“It seems to me we have further committed ourselves to a point where any sort of a negotiated settlement, short of outright victory, could be a betrayal of a commitment,” Fulbright said.

Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union and Yugoslav affairs expert, “it gives me a very, very uneasy feeling to read the joint declaration to which we have subscribed . . .

“It does seem to me that if we want to develop the utmost prospect of a peaceful solution, we should have maintained the independence of our position.”

Both men indicated they feel the South Vietnamese leader are more interested in military victory than in economic, social and humane positions stressed by U.S. officials.

Earlier, Kennan said that adopting a strong defensive position while letting the war simmer might convince the Communists “they cannot dialogue us. If they cannot dialogue us, they will have to talk to us, because they want us out.”

NIXON STATEMENT

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a Washington news conference Thursday that criticism of Johnson's Vietnam policies encourages the Communists.

He said Republicans should not join what he called “the Communist party” of the Democratic party.

Safety Devices for Intersection

Work Starts in Spring at Maple-Telegraph

Four improvements will be installed this spring at the Maple-Telegraph intersection in Bloomfield Township, according to Harold E. Cooper, director of the State Highway Department's traffic division.

Previous improvements at the intersection were credited with reducing accidents by one-third in 1965, Cooper said.

The program planned for this spring resulted from analysis of the 1965 accidents and consultations with local officials.

Joseph E. Hobra, electrical devices engineer for the highway department, said statistics indicate traffic volume at the intersection will continue to rise throughout 1966.

Projects scheduled for this spring include:

- Special left-turn signal phases for Telegraph traffic to reduce head-on accidents caused by turns.
- Lane control signs on Maple to be erected by the Oakland County Road Commission.
- Additional green signal time allocated to Maple traffic to ease the morning back-up.
- Advance electrical warning signs on Telegraph to advise motorists of a potential stop ahead.

Cooper noted the department currently is investigating the possibility of major construction in the future to accommodate anticipated traffic increases.

Model Railroaders Plan Open House Next Week

BIRMINGHAM—Local model railroad enthusiasts will get the chance to display their talents when the South Oakland Model Railroad Club sponsors four open houses during National Model Railroad Week, Feb. 12-20.

The amateur railroaders will display their layout, largest in the Detroit metropolitan area, tonight and next Friday evening, from 8-11, and tomorrow and next Saturday from 1-4 p.m. at the club, Grand Trunk Western Station, Eton and Maple Roads.

The club, founded in 1954, has an active membership of 30 adults and seven teenagers who meet twice weekly to discuss club business and work at their hobby.

The layout contains over 1,200 feet of track, complete with scale buildings and realistic scenery, much of it hand-built by the members. Nearly three miles of wire runs through the layout.

When fully completed, the layout will accurately represent the Grand Trunk Western line running between Detroit and Grand Rapids.

CLUB PROPERTY

The layout, which covers almost 60 per cent of the floor space of the large room, is permanently installed and is the property of the club. Most of the locomotives and the rolling stock belong to individual members.

The club has layout far more complicated and extensive than an individual could easily build or maintain.

The number of model railroads has nearly doubled in the past seven years.

Their demands for authentic replicas has led to the creation of many small businesses which make both parts and models.

Hospital Unit Bids Opened

Awards for construction of the 80-bed children's unit at Pontiac State Hospital were opened yesterday but awarding of contracts hinges on amendatory legislative action.

Low bids totaled $2,162,000 with previous legislation set a limit of $2 million for the project.

New legislation is expected to raise the limitation, according to hospital officials. This will probably take some 60 days.

A total of five general contractors bid on the main segment of the project with bids ranging from $1,035,000 to $1,299,640.

Bids on the mechanical work were received from 13 firms with the range from $536,659 to $699,400.

SIX COMPANIES

Seeking the electrical contract were six companies and four firms bid on the equipment contract. Respective low-high ranges were $265,000 to $332,000 and $23,884 to $25,365.

Other expenses for the project not reflected in the bidding are a $38,667 contingency fund, architect fees and site work fees.

Refund Reminder: Available in Bonds

Alfred C. Girard, Oakland County savings bond chairman, today reminded taxpayers that the Treasury Department once again will offer the opportunity to take income tax refunds in United States savings bonds.

The savings bonds option, introduced in 1965, is in addition to the two standard options of taking tax refunds in cash or applying them to next year's tax.

“When you check the savings bond line on your 1965 tax (return),” said Girard, “you automatically assure yourself of two advantages: You provide yourself with an easy method of holding on to your tax refund dollars and a sure way of making it grow one-third larger at maturity.”

“When your mark is made, the rest is automatic. For example, if you're entitled to a refund of $42, you'll get a series E bond with a $50 face value (cost $37.50, plus a check for $4.50).”

N. VIET POSITION

For many months the North Vietnamese position had been that the National Liberation Front would have to be included in negotiations.

On Jan. 28, Ho made public a letter dated Jan. 24 which he had sent to Communist countries on President Johnson's peace offensive which had been under way for a month while bombing of North Vietnam was suspended.

In that letter Ho rejected Johnson's peace overtures as false and hardened his stand on the NLF representation question, saying that the front would have to be recognized as “the sole representative” of the people of South Vietnam.

Goldberg said the South Vietnamese government, which the United States supports, is “recognized by some 70 governments as a government while the Viet Cong is not recognized to be a government by anyone, including our adversaries.”

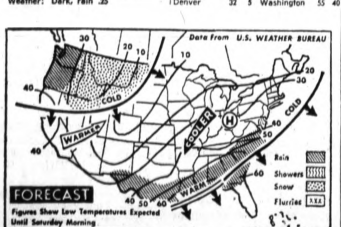

He recalled President Johnson had said that this was not an insurmountable problem “if Hanoi really wants peace.”

The envoy said he had found a large degree of consensus at

Local Jaycees Rate a Community Salute

Permeated with youthful enthusiasm and pride of accomplishment, few events could offer comparable stimulation to those attending than the annual Bosses' Night of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening.

It was the 44th such function since the local Jaycee Chapter was formed in 1924 and provided a fitting setting for the recognition given yearly to two members of the chapter for outstanding performance and the community Boss of the Year.

Richard M. Fitzgerald and William J. Dean Jr. were presented respectively with Key Man and Distinguished Service awards while Charles F. Brown, Consumers Power Co. district manager, was acclaimed Boss of the Year.

Others honored were five area firms who received Merit Awards for "outstanding jobs" done during the past year, along with Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and fellow commissioners to whom went certificates "in appreciation for outstanding service to the community."

The Junior Chamber with a membership of 90 has won a meritorious place in the civic life of the community. Its objectives and achievements are many. Included among them was the campaign leading to a revision of the City Charter that provided more equitable election of City Commissioners; the annual staging of the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant; and the year-to-year sponsorship of the Detroit Lions pre-season football exhibition.

Born in St. Louis in 1920, the scope of the Junior Chamber of Commerce (age bracket 21-35) ideal quickly became national and today embraces 4,400 chapters with 200,000 members. The organization went international in 1944 and is now established in 78 countries with 7,500 chapters.

We congratulate the Pontiac Area Jaycees on the fine caliber of its membership and the progressive outlook reflected. This is one of the most energetic and enthusiastic organizations in the area and its past record is one of sheer accomplishment and achievement.

Sophie Tucker Billy Rose

Two stalwarts of show business passed by their rewards within a day of each other.

SOPHIE TUCKER packed them in for 62 years during her burlesque, vaudeville and night club career before taking her last curtain call while filling an engagement at New York's Latin Quarter. She was 78.

Billy Rose, impresario extraordinary of the amusement world whose lightning mind made him a prodigious fortune as a financier, heard his finale number at 66. He had gone to his winter home in Jamaica to recuperate after surgery.

SOPHIE, womankind's answer to AL Jolson, was long known as the "lady of the red-hot mamas" as she belted out blues, jazz or swing numbers. "Some of These Days" was her theme song. A three-time loser at matrimony, the 192-pound performer with heart to match was revered for her innumerable philanthropies and involvement in humanitarian causes.

Rose was a latter-day personification of the HORATIO ALGER ideal as he lifted himself by his bootstraps within a frame of amazing versatility marked by genius as extravagant entrepreneur, theatrical producer, newspaper columnist, song writer and stock market manipulator. BILLY took the same virtuosity to the altar, having been married five times.

At a time when the American entertainment scene seems fixed on a plateau of personality conformity, flamboyant and lusty figures such as Sophie Tucker and Billy Rose can ill be spared. They will be deeply mourned by a multitude of personal friends and ardent adherents.

Urges Soothing Syrup for Red China Gripes

Red China, says U.N. Secretary General U. THANT, is like a sick person who behaves in an arrogant and hysterical manner because he is obsessed with fear and suspicion.

Because China is treated like an outlaw, its reaction has been something like a nervous breakdown in a human being.

Thant's prescription: Tender, loving care, beginning with acceptance into the United Nations to encourage the Chinese to look on themselves as part of the world community.

Evidently the secretary general doesn't have enough problems in his job already.

LBJ Firming Up Labor Pay Policy

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is shaping impatient signs of a tougher policy toward some labor unions under its wage-price guidelines program.

The administration used the guideline policy in pressuring big business to roll back some price increases last year. Now labor and wages are getting increasing attention as inflation pressures mount.

The government so far has moved behind the scenes, for most part, in efforts to arrest what it considers excessive wage demands by some labor unions. But an open showdown soon seems likely.

The result could be anything from a few minor bumps and bruises to a major rupture between the Johnson administration and organized labor.

President George Meany of the 13-million member AFL-CIO already has warned that labor will accept no federal controls on wages unless they are equally applied to prices and profits. The giant labor federation will take up the whole question at its meetings starting in Miami Beach next Monday.

ABORTIVE ATTEMPT
The government already has made one abortive attempt to persuade construction unions to agree to a compulsory plan of wage settlements.

The reply was a stinging "no." But one high labor official said "I think they'll be leaning on us from now on." If President Johnson really wants to get tough — and so far he hasn't — he can wield the same nightstick against many unions that pressured the rollback of steel, copper and aluminum price increases last year.

This is the gigantic power of the more than $50 billion a year the government pours out for federal construction contracts, defense purchasing and other spending in the private economy.

SAME THREAT TACTIC
If the threat of switching contracts from firms that refused to lower prices worked, why wouldn't the threat of switching to non-union labor?

There is plenty of nonunion labor or at least non-AFL-CIO workers around to use as a threat to switch many federal contracts. The initial AFL-CIO counterattack will be against Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers rather than on the President himself. "These academicians don't ever face the problems that other people do," said one high federation spokesman angrily.

With many inflationary signs already evident, the coming year will severely test whether Johnson can put enough iron in his voluntary guidelines to avoid outright wage-price controls which nobody really wants.

But he will have a tough job persuading labor.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Viet Goals Are Unselfish

WASHINGTON — It looks like a long, grueling war ahead in Viet Nam.

All the talk about "escalation" or unlimited bombing or mobilizing a vast army of Americans to fight the war has been superseded by a planned determination to build up steadily the economic and military strength of South Viet Nam, even if it takes years and years to do the job.

The chances are that no big battles will be fought and that no spectacular military measures will be taken, but that the United States will continue to exercise an increasing pressure that will eventually drive out the Communist guerrillas.

If on any occasion in the meantime the North Vietnamese government wishes to talk peace, the United States will be ready.

But there will have to be some evidence from the enemy that there is a genuine desire to end the war.

President Johnson's trip to Hawaii was intended to strengthen the morale of the Vietnamese government and at the same time proclaim to the world America's intention to carry on the fight for the ideals that have been set forth again and again in the past.

PURPOSE DEFINED
The declaration of Honolulu is significant, not because any new principles are enunciated but because the purposes of the United States are defined in even more resolute terms than before.

It is interesting to compare what President Johnson affirmed at Honolulu with what he said in a speech on Aug. 12, 1964, just after Congress had authorized him to use the armed forces in Viet Nam.

"For 10 years through the Eisenhower administration, the Kennedy administration, and this administration, we have had one consistent aim — observance of the 1954 agreements which guaranteed the independence of South Viet Nam."

"That independence has been the consistent target of aggression and terror. For 10 years our response to these attacks has followed a consistent pattern. First, that the South Vietnamese have the basic responsibility for the defense of their own freedom.

"Second, we would engage our strength and our resources to whatever extent needed to help others repel aggression."

"Some say we should withdraw from South Viet Nam... but the United States cannot and must not and will not turn aside and allow the freedom of a brave people to be handed over to Communist tyranny."

Although some Americans may think there is a magic way to bring the Viet Nam war to an early end, they will find that, while the policy decided upon now does not call for hasty or impulsive action, it means a steady pressure designed to convince the North Vietnamese government that its aggression in South Viet Nam has to be abandoned.

UNSELFISH EXPRESSION

The war in Viet Nam has turned out to be one of the most unselfish and generous expressions of a nation's purpose which has been witnessed in this century.

Ultimately, the American crusade to secure self-determination for the people of Viet Nam will be recognized as a manifestation of a great principle and ideal.

It took a long while for the Marshall Plan to be appreciated in the decade after World War II was ended, and it will probably take an equally long time before the disinterested and unselfish service rendered to the people of Viet Nam by the United States is truly understood by the world.

Luna 9 Pictures Proof Nobody Lives on Moon

NEW YORK — The Russians proved one big thing with Luna 9: There aren't any people on the moon. If there were, they'd all have been standing in front of that TV camera waving.

You're living on a lie. If you don't think so, read Elie Abel's "CONSIDINE: The Missile Crisis" (Lippincott), the first full account of the Russian-built and manned Cuban bases.

SAC was prepared to bomb the sites on Tuesday morning, October 30, 1962.

At midnight on the 29th, President Kennedy said to his associates, "Now it can go either way."

Earlier, at the U.N. a Russian press officer said to an American friend, "This could well be our last conversation. New York will be blown up tomorrow by Soviet nuclear weapons."

CONSIDERABLE VICTORY
In Washington, Secretary Rusk said to Undersecretary George Ball, "We have won a considerable victory. You and I are still alive."

Harrovingly, at the tensest period of the eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation with Khrushchev, a U2 pilot made a wrong turn on a routine flight and cruised over Soviet territory.

That alone could have pulled the trigger.

Voice of the People:

Bus Driver Gives Views on Behavior of Students

In regard to letters concerning fights at Crary Junior High, a good percentage of the Crary students are nice children but the remaining percentage blacken the reputation of every school, not only Crary. They make it difficult to keep a complete staff of bus drivers.

Does their appearance—frizzled hair, heavy make-up, short skirts, Beate haircuts, and the ever-present cigarette — revert back to their home atmosphere?

The bus driver is not allowed to lay a hand on any student but becomes the helpless victim of verbal or physical abuse. When students are reprimanded in the form of a violation ticket, the driver becomes the sounding board for some parent. I invite anyone interested to visit the bus garage on M-59 the last day of school and see what some of these students can do to a $6,000 piece of equipment that taxpayers pay for.

'Elderly Must Apply for Medicare Program'

Anyone who was 65 years of age or older on January 1 has until March 31 to sign up for the new Medicare Program enacted by Congress. Those over 65 who are not on social security must apply for both the hospital coverage (available at no charge) and the medical coverage (optional for $3.00 per month).

Eligible persons who do not apply by March 31 will not have another chance to do so until the last three months of 1967. Anyone reaching 65 after January 1, 1966, will be able to apply for medical coverage during the three-month period before, or the three-month period after his 65th birthday.

Agrees With Company Decision on Applicant

To answer A. M. E., I think Michigan Bell did her husband a great service in turning him down as an installer and offering him a janitor job. Would she like to see her 50-some-year-old husband climbing poles at all hours, climbing around in attics, or crawling in crawl spaces under homes or in steam tunnels pulling cables? I suggest she check the duties of an installer before criticizing our great company.

'Dollar Sign Is Not Important to Family'

To answer Mrs. Francis Steward, money cannot heal the scar left by the pain of losing one we love. I would give anything my family could beg, borrow or steal to have Kimmy back. The dollar sign is not important to my family but how do we get answers if we don't sue? How would you feel if the only thing you know about how your child died was to read it in the paper? When she died, they said "her heart stopped." I am not out for revenge, I just want answers. No one can say what they would do in the same situation.

Spelling Lesson

Newsweek

How do you spell Vietnam? The Senate GOP Policy Committee tried to find out and got these answers: the White House uses three versions, "Viet Nam," "Vietnam" and "Viet Nam"; the State Department also uses all three but favors the hyphen; Saigon's embassy in Washington lists itself in the phone book with the hyphen but says it prefers the two-word style.

The senators decided to go along with "Viet Nam." (Newsweek—like Webster's Geographical Dictionary—prefers the one-word spelling.)

Russia's Soft Landing
The Birmingham (Great Britain) Post

THE BIRMINGHAM POST (Great Britain) speaks in praise of the soft landing on the moon. The paper says Russia's success stands out as a wonder. The POST notes that the Americans are occupied with their own soft landing program, and hopes they will equal Russia's achievement in the not too distant future. One very good reason that the natural curiosity is much more likely to be satisfied by the Americans.

The paper continues: "Experience has shown that the Russians are secretive about the results of their space explorations, and the world has to wait for America. The Russians on this occasion may give a little more information. What is obvious, however, is that if the moon's crust will sustain the weight of Luna 9, it will also bear the weight of a human being. The landing of a man has come appreciably nearer — and it may well be a Russian."

The other brother was a high school dropout, a delinquent who beat up his mother and his mother. He now is working on a grass-cutting Neighborhood Youth Corps project. His salary: $200 a month.

Then of course there is Bethlehem Steel. It broke the "voluntary" wage-price guidelines and had the federal book thrown at it.

The Transport Workers Union, meanwhile, defied a supposed compulsory court order. Its reward: a pay hike well in excess of those self-same guidelines.

Alice undoubtedly could see the logic behind such a topsy-turvy wonderland. The average citizen may find it a bit harder to understand.

Present World Premiere of Barber Opera in May

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
Francis Robinson, assistant general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, came to Detroit Thursday to tell members of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's women's committee about the Met's performances here in May.

He particularly stressed the May 24 presentation of "Pique Dame" which will be conducted by Thomas Schippers.

Mr. Robinson also gave some highlights of the opera's new home in Lincoln Center, which the Metropolitan will occupy in September.

HEAD TABLE

Among those at the speakers' table were Mrs. Lynn Townsend, general chairman of the committee; Wilbur Mack, president; Mrs. Theodore Yntema; Mrs. Sixten Ehrling; Dr. David DiChiera and Mrs. Sam B. Williams, scholarship chairman of the Grinnell Foundation opera scholarship competition.

Mid-July vows are planned by Suzanne M. Schmidt, daughter of the Carus B. Schmidts of Pine Ridge Road, and Gary Donald Garretson, son of the Donald J. Garretsons of Eureka Springs, Ark. She is an alumna of Northern Michigan University.

Not Proper To Locate In Hotel

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My fiancé is in the service and is stationed several hundred miles from here. As he will not be able to get home for some time, I was thinking of going to visit him some weekend.

My mother doesn't think it is right for me to go and is afraid it will cause gossip. Will you please tell me if there would be any impropriety in my going to visit him?

A: If you or your fiancé have friends in the town in which he is stationed with whom you could stay, it would be quite all right for you to go.

But to go and stay in a hotel unchaperoned would, I'm sorry to say, not be proper.

HIS WIFE

Q: Will you please tell me how a husband correctly refers to his wife when speaking of her to others?

A: When speaking to intimate masculine friends and to every woman whom they both know socially, he calls her Edith whether they call her by first name or not.

When speaking to a man not an intimate friend and to a woman who is a stranger, he speaks of her as "my wife."

In most business situations, if he has occasion to speak of her at all, he would say, "Mrs. Jones thinks, or says, thus or so."

Builder's Price Is High

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a young widow with two children. Recently I had a home built and became very intimate with my builder while my home was under construction. He has what he claims is a "sick" wife, and says if I wait awhile he will leave her for me.

After eight months of waiting, she still looks healthy as I am. Do you think he is leading me on? How much longer should I wait?

DEAR WAITING: You builder worked a bit of romance into your house plan, but it was meant to endure. The house is finished and so is the affair.

You shouldn't need a set of blueprints to know that the builder didn't go with the house.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 23 and an only child. She was raised to appreciate the finer things in life and never had to suffer any hardships. Last June, after graduating from a university, she married a young art professor. They moved to Tampa, where he took a position as a commercial artist. Last month they moved to Miami, where he is doing free lance work.

Our daughter has written that now she is pregnant and they are living in a MOBILE HOME! I am so worried about her. Do you think, in her condition, they should be living in a TRAILER like a couple of gypsies? I want to write and tell her she should come home until her husband can provide a proper home for her, but my husband says it would be meddling. I would like your opinion.

UPSET MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I think you have a smart husband. Don't assume that living in a "mobile home" is necessarily a hardship. Some modern mobile homes make a Park Avenue

Omega Mu Sigma Has Pledge Rites

February meeting of Omega Mu Sigma Sorority was at the home of Mrs. Russell Gustafson. Lola Strom was cobhostess. Highlighting the evening was a pledge ceremony for three new members Mrs. Mable Miller, Mrs. Marjorie Safford and Mrs. Alvin Wines Jr.

Mrs. Carl Coster was appointed chairman for the annual May breakfast at Pine Lake Country Club.

Pentecost, Mrs. John D. Katke and Mrs. Ford C. Leet.

The Birmingham branch hopes to give support toward a horticultural therapist student's scholarship, next summer, at Pontiac State Hospital. Each student will receive college credit for this training.

This year, the branch paid the tuition for an Olivet college student.

GARDEN AWARD

In May, during Michigan Week, certificates of award will be given by the branch for the most attractive Birmingham gardens. A committee of judges will work with Mrs. F. Gordon Davis, chairman for this project.

The 32nd annual meeting of WNFGA will be May 16-19 in the Pontchartrain Hotel, Detroit. Mrs. H. Earl Hanson of Lathrup Village is general chairman. National officers in the Birmingham branch who will be helping Mrs. Hanson are Mrs. George Cutter, Mrs. William McCallum, Mrs. Marvin Katke, Mrs. F. G. Garrison, Mrs. Miles, and Mrs. Davis.

DIRT GARDENERS

On Monday, the Dirt Gardeners will hear a talk on "Scented Flowers in Our Garden" by Mrs. James Hunter in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Deane Goldsmith, horticulture chairman.

penthouse look like Tobacco Road.

Leave your daughter alone, Mother, and keep yourself busy.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I ran into a friend of mine and I told her how beautiful I thought her daughter's wedding had been. She said, "Thank you, but we sure didn't come out very well on it."

Not knowing what she meant by that remark, I asked her. She then replied, "We put a lot more into her wedding than she got back in gifts."

What do you think of a person like that?

SPEECHLESS: Not much.
DEAR SPEECHLESS: Not much.
DEAR ABBY: What's the matter with women? They go into the trouble of putting their hair up in those big curlers, then they snarl it all up and spray it with glue.

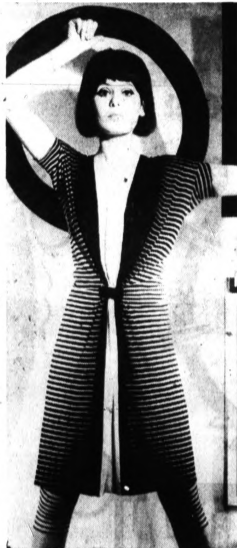

They take an hour painting their faces, and all for what?

Sorority Sets Dinner Date

Members of Xi Beta Beta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, completed plans for the annual progressive dinner on Feb. 28, at Tuesday's meeting in the YWCA.

In line with this year's programs on hobbies, Mrs. Leonard A. Couturier gave a demonstration on cake decorating. Next month's lesson will be on furniture refinishing.

Italy's prime fashion exponent of the art of Op. Germana Marucelli of Milan, again dazzles the eye with a design by famed artist Getulio Alviani for this black and white draped dress in silk jersey. Worn with special Op-stockings also from Marucelli.

"Moonclouds" is the title of this unusual dress and boxy jacket by Castillo Knitwear. White abstract cloud-shapes are applied on midnight black knitted cotton. Black and white jewelry especially created for the model by Coppola and Toppo of Milan.
