

McCarthy Suggests Mansfield as Replacement for Rusk

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says Secretary of State Dean Rusk should be fired and says one acceptable replacement would be Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.
The Democratic presidential candidate also said yesterday that Director J. Edgar Hoover controls the FBI as a "king of fear" and should be retired.
Turning to Republican Presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, McCarthy said it was the "old Nixon" who accused Democrats of dishonesty by promising massive and immediate programs to aid the poor.

"About the time you would like to think that Mr. Nixon has come around to speaking rather straight, you know, and using the language as he should," the Minnesota Democrat said, "he then goes back to words like 'dishonest.'"
Nixon Saturday had called promises of massive anti-poverty spending a "dishonest and cruel delusion."
STILL NOT CONVINCED
Despite a leading national poll which shows Nixon running ahead of all comers for the presidency, some top Republicans are still not convinced he's a winner and are urging local party leaders to "stay loose" for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon was in Montana today; a weekend Gallup Poll showed him beating all three of the possible Democratic nominees.
The poll showed him leading both Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy by 3 percentage points and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, still unannounced, by 9 points.
Despite this, Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and William E. Miller, both former national chairmen, have started a swing through the Midwest drumming up support for Rockefeller.

Vice President Humphrey is quoted by Newsweek magazine, meanwhile, as saying Nixon will be harder to beat this year than in 1960 but that "if I get the nomination, I'll beat him."
Humphrey is expected to announce Saturday that he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination.
Texas Gov. John B. Connally, mentioned as a potential Humphrey running mate, had high praise on NBC's "Meet the Press" for Humphrey but said he hasn't decided whom to support for the presidential nomination.
McCarthy flew to St. Paul, Minn., after taping the television interview in Washington and said he expects to have more than 25 per cent of the delegates at the Democratic National Convention.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS
In other political developments:
Backers claim Democratic county conventions in Iowa over the weekend gave Kennedy control of a majority of state convention delegates who will select Iowa's delegates to the national nominating convention.
Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., says Kennedy is the only Democratic presidential candidate Nixon might be able to beat — but says he thinks Rockefeller could defeat any of them.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., says he could accept the GOP vice presidential nomination if it were offered. He said the decision whether to accept would "depend on conditions" and on whom the Republicans nominate for president.
The Maine Democratic State Committee yesterday unanimously endorsed Sen. Edmund S. Muskie as a favorite-son candidate to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

'War Role to Level Off'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today South Vietnam's increased fighting effectiveness will permit leveling off of U.S. efforts in the war and "in due time" permit gradual troop reduction.
Clifford said his assessment was based on results of a comprehensive review of American policies and programs in Vietnam, ordered by the President after the setbacks of the Communists' Tet offensive.
"The results were clear and the results were encouraging," Clifford declared. "They disclosed that Hanoi could not bend South Vietnam to its will by military force."

"We concluded that Americans will not need always to do more and more, but rather that the increased effectiveness of the South Vietnamese government and its fighting forces will now permit us to level off our effort—and in due time to begin the gradual process of reduction."
Clifford offered no timetable on possible American troops withdrawals but top military officials including Gen. William

C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, have raised the possibility this could begin in 1969.
UNDER WAY
Reports from Saigon indicate plans already are under way to place more South Vietnamese troops along the demilitarized zone.
Clifford's speech echoed the theme he raised at his first Pentagon news conference April 11—that the administration goal is gradually to turn over the bulk DEMOCRATIC DIALOGUE — U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart (left) and George Goggans, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic committee, chat prior to a dinner in Hart's honor Saturday at Oakland University. Significantly, the men are standing in front of a painting entitled "That Political Fertility Act." Some 600 guests paid tribute to Hart for his 11 years as a Michigan senator.

BAGS BOND — Mrs. Keith Kennedy of Oxford receives The Press Baseball Contest winner's award of a $500 U.S. savings bond from staffer Howard Heldenbrand. Her prediction of .543, among the seven who picked the Twins' Bob Allison to top American League batters when the contest ended Saturday, was closest to his average of .519.

American Courier Survives Plane Crash; Gems Missing

From Our News Wires
WINDHOEK, South-West Africa — "My God, how could I have been so lucky?" American diplomatic courier Thomas Taylor asked rescuers who found him beside the wreckage of a plane crash that killed 116 persons.
Taylor, 36, of Tahlequah, Okla., and five other persons survived when a South African Airway Boeing 707 off into the arid Southwest African yeld soon after taking off from Windhoek Airport Saturday night. The 116 other persons aboard the big aircraft died when it broke into four parts and burned.

The U.S. Embassy in Pretoria, South Africa, confirmed today that the American diplomatic pouch Taylor took aboard in Johannesburg was recovered intact Sunday.
Authorities still were searching for a $700,000 shipment of diamonds missing in the wreckage.
The big jet had just taken off from Windhoek when it wobbled and plummeted out of sight.

Woman Wins Bond in Baseball Contest

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
Lightning struck the Oxford home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kennedy — but the flash packed a bond instead of a bolt. The bond represented the $500 award to the winner of The Press Annual Baseball contest, which was won by Mrs. Kennedy with an assist by her husband.

The 32-year-old mother of seven won by picking Bob Allison, Minnesota Twins outfielder, to lead the American League in batting at the close of the contest Saturday.

Because only seven contestants had picked Allison to set the pace, there was considerable disparity between his actual average of .519 and the winner's prediction of .543.
But since the next closest trailed Allison's average by 42 points, Mrs. Kennedy qualified as our Peerless Seersess, Baseball Division, for 1968.
UNUSUAL
To find a winner backed by so few entrants is unusual. In past years, the entries have bunched up on the likely and actual batting leaders—such as Tony Oliva, Frank Robinson and Al Kaline—with the result that the winner's average is blanketed like London in a fog.
Mrs. Kennedy modestly disclaims any occult powers in picking her contest entry.
But our Clairvoyant of Clout is firmly committed on one aspect of her winnings — what she'll do with them. And that is to buy a canoe.
Since the Kennedys purposefully moved out of Detroit four years ago to experience more fully Oakland County's recreational advantages, it pretty well reflects their ability to paddle their own canoe.

Elders Are Defended at OU 600 Hear Hart Praise Johnson

Oakland University graduates were forewarned Saturday that they might find the older generation has done better than the younger generation has been willing to admit.
OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner told this to the graduates in what he termed a "tradition-abandoning" address.
"Let me urge you — as new graduates — to avoid the temptation to go wading off into this exciting world through a sea of self-pity," Varner commented.
"You are inheriting not a sorry and decadent state of affairs, but an exciting and 'challenging' opportunity to find permanent solutions to problems which have perplexed mankind forever."
The chancellor said he would make "no apologies" for his generation which the graduating generation has had an "obsession" to criticize. He said he hoped the new generation can do just as well.

"TRADEMARKS OF TIMES"
"You say that we have permitted pockets of poverty to exist in an affluent society," he noted. "The charge is unfortunately true and it should not be so."
"Yet when I sat in your chair — those 28 years ago—there was no concern with 'pockets of poverty.' The entire landscape was one of poverty . . . bankruptcy, hunger, unemployment, hopelessness — those were the trademarks of the times."
Varner admitted his generation leaves a "depressing international scene" but that his generation was left with a bleak picture — a totalitarian regime had taken firm control of Germany, small nations were being overrun, Jews massacred, France was tottering and England threatened.

"You say that we hand you a nation so torn with racial strife that he may literally explode in your face," he noted. "Alas, the charge is true."
"FOUND COURAGE"
"Permit me to point out that it was the generation which has preceded yours which found the courage to identify the problem, to label it as a problem, to focus public attention on a topic which had been ignored for almost 100 years."
The chancellor welcomed the student to the ranks of the adult world where President Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential race will be recorded by historians as "magnificent in motive and magnificent in results," U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart told Oakland County Democrats Saturday.

The praise for Johnson came at a dinner honoring Hart, a former Oakland County resident, for his 11 years of service in Washington.
Hart told the 600 guests that he had no doubt that the intentions of Johnson were good.
The dinner was held in the Vandenberg Hall at Oakland University.
Hart criticized those who now question the President's motives and still term him a "two-bit political politician or a paranoid politician."
NO QUARREL RAISED
"There is and should be no quarrel about those who have raised responsible questions about Vietnam," added Hart.
"I have had my doubts but there reaches a point that it loses its effectiveness."
Hart said that it was never rational to believe that Johnson enjoyed the position of overshadowing the Vietnam war.
Highlights of the dinner were recorded speeches taped by presidential candidates Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., and Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

PACKED GRADUATION — More than 2,400 people attended Oakland University's annual graduation Saturday. Degrees were given to 232 bachelor of arts and science and six master of arts graduates. A film on the late Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson's Meadow Brook Hall home was shown in place of a commencement address.

3 North Koreans, American Killed in Battle

SEOUL (AP) — Three North Koreans and one American were killed yesterday in the second major clash in eight days in the U.S. sector of the Korean front. Each side accused the other of starting the battle in which three Americans were wounded.

The U.N. Command demanded an investigation by a joint team of observers, as provided by the 1953 Korean armistice.

The Communist side ignored a request for an observers' meeting today, a U.N. spokesman said.

The spokesman said a group of at least eight North Korean soldiers opened fire on a U.N. patrol in the 2nd U.S. Infantry Division area of the demilitarized zone.

The patrol returned the fire and intermittent shooting went on for two hours, the spokesman said.

Three of the Communist soldiers who had crossed the military demarcation line were killed, but their bodies were apparently dragged back because they could not be found today, he added.

A North Korean broadcast said the American force was made up of "over 50 fully armed bandits" who slipped across the demilitarized zone and attacked a Communist guard post near Daiduksan.

The broadcast said "several armed bandits" were killed in the "fierce fire." It made no mention of North Korean casualties.

On Easter Sunday south of the Panmunjom armistice conference area, Communist ambush killed two American and two South Korean soldiers and wounded two other Americans.

Another American was wounded Saturday while on patrol duty in the buffer zone, the U.N. Command said. Later Saturday, a U.N. observation team investigating the shooting was fired on.

Five Americans have been killed and 18 wounded since Jan. 21, when a North Korean commando group invaded Seoul in an attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park.

Birmingham

'Truth Forum' on Area Race Relations Set

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Congregational Church of Birmingham, United Church of Christ, will sponsor a "truth forum" on area race relations tomorrow night at 8.

To be held at the church, 1000 N. Cranbrook, the problem will consist of a panel discussion on race problems by six Negro high school youngsters and a representative group of older Negro youths.

The forum is being conducted in cooperation with the Pontiac Area Office of Economic Opportunity.

Edward T. Revis, local OEO director, will moderate the program, which will include a general discussion period.

The forum, originally scheduled for April 9, was postponed following the death of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The public may attend.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A franchise election for the Detroit Edison Co. will take place today in this township.

The election, similar to others which have taken place in Oakland County in recent months, will be on the question of granting the utility company a nonexclusive irrevocable 30-year franchise to do business in the township.

Customers of other power companies, an Edison spokesman emphasized, will not be affected by the results of the election.

The company can continue to do business at the sufferance of the Township Board if the franchise is rejected by voters, but its franchise in that case would not be irrevocable, the spokesman said.

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing is slated on possible changes in parking requirements for businesses at the City Commission meeting at 8 tonight.

The City Planning Board has been studying parking provisions for commercial areas for a year, and according to a report by Chairman Linn Smith, has determined that there is a "considerable need for additional spaces" in the city.

"At the last planning board meeting," Smith added, "there was a discussion involving the advantages of using gross floor area in the determination of parking standards."

Presently, parking requirements are determined on the basis of use, floor space, excluding such areas as public corridors, mechanical equipment rooms and so on, he said.

After discussion, Smith continued, the board decided to recommend that a parking requirement based on gross floor space "would be appropriate for the city."

DIFFERENT USES

The board also recommended a more detailed breakdown of requirements, based on different commercial uses.

The present code provides for one parking space for every 400 square feet of floor area.

"This requirement is too general because it applies to virtually all retail establishments regardless of the intensity of commercial activity," Smith commented.

The board's proposed amendments to the city code would provide for one parking space per 200 square feet of floor area for banks, finance offices, professional offices other than medical, and a number of retail stores.

FOR OFFICES

For medical and dental offices and clinics, the requirement would be one space for each 150 square feet of floor area, while for retail furniture and appliance stores, it would be one space for each 1,000 square feet (plus one for each two employees in material processing).

Motor vehicle sales and service establishments would be required to provide one space for each 300 square feet of salesroom floor space, plus one space per each service stall.

Prepared food services for indoor or outdoor consumption would have one space per 150 square feet requirement; for outdoor consumption only, the requirement would be one space per 50 square feet.

Telephone Strikers Defy 'Work' Orders

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The AFL-CIO Communications Workers defied back-to-work court orders today in two states in the fifth day of the nationwide telephone strike, and said the injunctions blocked chances for an early settlement.

"All hopes for a quick solution have faded," said CWA President Joseph A. Beirne, who denounced the court orders obtained by Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Alabama and Kentucky as "preposterous" and "antithetical."

Beirne said the injunctions indicated the Bell Telephone System, and its parent American Telephone and Telegraph Co., want "to go on fighting" the strike of nearly 200,000 union members in some 40 states, instead of settling the wage dispute at the bargaining table.

AT&T President Ben Gilmer repeated meanwhile that telephone service in most areas was being maintained without undue trouble despite the first nationwide strike in 21 years.

"Management people who are filling in at the switchboard are gaining experience, and customer cooperation has been most gratifying," Gilmer said.

Pickets at Bell Office Limited

Circuit Court Judge William J. Beir issued a temporary restraining order today, limiting the number of pickets at the Southfield office of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Beir's order set the number of pickets at 10 persons per entrance and banned picketing on telephone company property.

The restrictions were requested by Michigan Bell against Local 4016, Communications Workers of America.

The Southfield office had been the site of mass picketing almost since the beginning of the telephone strike last week.

Beir set a show-case hearing on the temporary injunction at 9 a.m. Friday.

Miss Freeman, an economics major, also received university academic honors of magna cum laude. Gibson, who captained the varsity swimming team, was an engineering student.

Briton, Aussie Win 2 Key Tony Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — An Australian actress and a British actor took two of Broadway's top three Tony awards for drama last night, but the musical honors were almost all American.

Zoe Caldwell, who won a Tony in 1966 as the best supporting actress, was named best dramatic actress of the 1967-68 season for her role in "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie."

Tom Stoppard won the drama writing trophy for "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead."

The best actor award went to Martin Balsam for his role in "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running." "Hallelujah Baby!" which closed three months ago, was named the best musical play.

Its star, Leslie Uggams, shared the award for best actress in a musical with Patricia Routledge of Britain. Miss Routledge was honored for her role in "Darling of the Day," which also is no longer playing.

Robert Gould was named best actor in a musical for his role in "The Happy Time."

Director's honors went to Mike Nichols for the dramatic play, "Plaza Suite," and Gower Champion for the musical "Happy Time."

Champion also was named best choreographer.

SECOND TRIUMPH

The award to Nichols marked the director's second triumph in recent weeks.

Mexican Consulate, Agency in NY Bombed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bombs exploded early today at the Mexican consulate and the Spanish National Tourist Agency in midtown Manhattan, police reported.

Police said there were no injuries and only minor damage.

The Mexican consulate was hit first in the apparently related bombings, police said.

A bomb was placed in a grillwork covering the main door. The blast blew out the glass door and caused minor damage to the facade.

The second explosion, at the Spanish tourist office, blew out a display window.

Fire Hits Sub Facility

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — A $500,000 fire at the U.S. Navy submarine base yesterday put the Navy's escape-training tank out of commission for at least a year. Authorities were investigating to determine the cause of the blaze.

The fire caused extensive damage to connecting catwalks, a diving locker and an elevator which took trains to the top of the 138-foot metal tank.

Humphrey called Hart "Mr. Conscience" for bringing truth in packaging, and "Mr. Civil Rights" for his fight for voting rights and, most recently, his leadership to get open housing.

But all the accolades can't be summed up in one media describing Sen. Hart as Mr. Integrity," said Humphrey.

Sen. Kennedy expressed hope for the Democratic party, because the "Republican party is one of stagnation and drift. It has failed to produce one new face."

State Senator and chairman of the State Democratic Committee, Sander M. Levin, echoed Kennedy's sentiments when he said the "Republicans have the same old tired issues and candidates."

'HARD LOOK PROMISED'

"We will take a hard look at the candidates first and then make a decision," said Levin.

Levin warned, however, that Democrats face a hard battle in Michigan because 70 per cent of the state's 1.5 million unregistered voters are Democrats.

"We will be the debating party, but that is not enough," said Levin. "We have to get the voters registered."

The second-place picture was titled "Foggy Morning Fishermen" and the third-place photo was titled "Sheep Grazing in a Junk Yard."

Noble accepted his two plaques Saturday night at the annual banquet at Central Michigan University.

Big Newark Fire Is Probed

NEWARK (AP) — Fire Director John Caulfield has ordered an around-the-clock investigation of a fire that roared through a five-block area in the city's heavily Negro Central Ward this weekend, destroying 34 houses and leaving some 500 persons homeless.

Caulfield said the blaze was "the worst in the history of Newark" and was "definitely suspicious."

Fire Chief Joseph M. Redden, said the fire "was definitely set."

story chimneys with nothing in them," Redden said after surveying the damage.

The five blocks are in the area where 26 persons died during five days of racial outbreaks last summer and where numerous fire-bombing incidents occurred in the days following the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Redden said he doubted that anyone in the Central Ward was involved in setting the weekend blaze.

He said many neighborhood residents helped firemen carry boxes, and some even brought their own ladders into the street to help firemen trapped on blazing roofs escape the flames.

Nine persons — including four firemen and one policeman — suffered minor injuries.

About 800 other persons had been left homeless by fires during the past two weeks in which a number of small businesses as well as the homes were destroyed or damaged.

S. Viet Troops Fear Big Saigon Attack

SAIGON (AP) — All South Vietnamese army units in Saigon and the surrounding 11 provinces were put on a 100 per cent alert today because of intelligence reports indicating an impending big attack on the capital, Vietnamese sources reported.

American officials did not appear to give much credence to the reports. An American military spokesman said U.S. troops were on the same alert they have been since the Vietcong's Lunar New Year offensive in February.

"We're just normal," the Vietnamese spokesman said. "Vietnamese troops had been on a 50 per cent alert since the February offensive, with half of them allowed overnight passes. Now all troops are restricted to their bases."

SCALE OF ATTACK

The intelligence reports said the Communist attacks would be on the scale of those during the February offensive, when thousands of Vietcong and North Vietnamese troops infiltrated into Saigon and attacked all over the city.

Officials reported Sunday that a North Vietnamese colonel had surrendered and turned over plans for another assault on Saigon by 10,000 enemy troops.

The colonel, the highest-ranking defector to fall into allied hands, said the assault had been planned for today but some unknown circumstance had resulted in a delay.

Allied forces reported killing at least 135 enemy soldiers Sunday in six clashes within 40 miles of Saigon. Most were in areas where allied forces have been carrying on the biggest offensive of the war, Operation Complete Victory, to root out enemy forces in the 3rd Corps Area.

HIT PANHANDLE

In the air war against North Vietnam, American fighter bombers returned in force to the skies over the southern panhandle Sunday, flying 151 missions.

The deepest penetration was by Navy fliers from the carrier Bon Homme Richard. They hit four trucks along a highway 22 miles north northwest of coastal Vinh. The target was 168 miles north of the demilitarized zone and two miles south of the 19th parallel, the northern limit for the bombing set by President Johnson.

The resurgence of U.S. air power was facilitated by a break in the monsoon weather, which on Saturday limited the number of air missions to 94.

Hanoi Says U.S. Reneged on Offer to Talk Anywhere

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam charged Sunday that the United States, "instead of going anywhere," has set two and then four conditions for the preliminary talks to arrange a Vietnam peace conference.

Hanoi's Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan indicated the North Vietnamese still are holding out for the two sites which the United States rejects — Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland. The Hanoi government has rejected 10 sites proposed by the United States.

Nhan Dan again accused

President Johnson of going back on his assertion that U.S. envoys would go anywhere at any time in efforts to end the war.

"In a word, the U.S. government has, within a few weeks, completely changed its attitude," the paper said.

"In a word, the U.S. government has changed its attitude."

Johnson asked Thursday for assurances that the conference site would be accessible to other governments involved in the war, that it have adequate and presumably secure communications, that it be open for news coverage and that it be a place where neither side would have a psychological or propaganda advantage.

The United States had opposed Phnom Penh for negotiations because it has no diplomatic relations with Cambodia and objected that Warsaw, a Communist capital, could not be considered neutral.

Nhan Dan said Secretary of State Dean Rusk's proposal of 10 other sites was an effort to "make people believe in U.S. 'good will.'"

"Contrary to the idea of a neutralist country," Nhan Dan said, "many of the countries mentioned by Dean Rusk, such as Japan and Malaysia, far from being neutralist, are the ones where the ruling circles are serving as satellites to the United States, or even joining the United States in the aggression in Vietnam."

NOT REPRESENTED

The paper said many of the countries have diplomatic representatives from the United States but not from North Vietnam.

AFSCME Local Elects Officers

Members of Local 100, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, have elected Willis Seay of 49 Garner as the local's president.

The union includes some 700 city and Pontiac General employees.

Other officers elected are:

Louis Seay of 273 Nebraska, city vice president; William Bell of 357 Branch, hospital vice president; Wanda Barnett of 631 E. Mansfield, Financial Secretary; Margaret Reist, 67 W. Columbia, recording secretary; and Robert Reynolds of 555 Nebraska, sergeant-at-arms.

Also elected: Kenneth Walker, 841 Nash, guide; James Dembo, 44 Pleasantview, Jean Banks, 24 Michigan, and Jessie Ward, 345 Whittemore, trustees; and Jimmie Keel, 611 Nevada and John Stewart of 24 S. Roselawn, board members at large.

Mock Convention Picks McCarthy

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Student delegates to the mock Democratic convention at Kalamazoo College over the weekend took two ballots to come up with their preferred candidate for the presidential sweepstakes this year — Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

McCarthy captured 209 votes on the second ballot to edge all other nominees by a wide margin. Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace garnered 54 votes, one more than Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. Vice President Hubert Humphrey received 45 delegate votes.

Vicksburg Area Fires Are Probed

VICKSBURG (AP) — Police in the Vicksburg area are investigating two fires. An unused grain elevator near Vicksburg was destroyed by fire Saturday. No estimate of damage was available.

Meanwhile, the state fire marshal has been called in to investigate Saturday's early morning blaze at a one-room schoolhouse, about a mile east of Vicksburg. Police said they believe it was the work of an arsonist.

SPRING MORNING—Exhibiting a delicate tracery of their own, soon to be hidden by the green of summer, nearby trees frame the massive Gothic tower of Christ Church Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills on a Sunday morning. Some already bear nearly a full coat of foliage, leaving little doubt that spring has arrived.

Lake Orion to Decide Tonight on Deputizing of Its Policemen

LAKE ORION — The question of deputizing police officers to permit them to serve outside the village under the county Mutual Aid Police Service Pact will be decided by councilmen at 7:30 tonight.

The pact provides for mutual help between local police agencies, Oakland County and Pontiac. It provides for a mobile tactical unit for use in event of disaster.

An opinion from Lake Orion Attorney Robert Parenti recommends that the officers involved in the reciprocal pact be deputized by the Oakland County Sheriff.

This would avoid the possibility of liability arising against the officer and village for exercising police power outside the territorial jurisdiction, Parenti says.

Village Manager John F. Reineck said he has been informed the men would be deputized by Sheriff Frank Irons, and that bonding for the new deputies will cost $228 a year.

Also on the agenda tonight is a proposed village budget on which public hearing will be held May 13.

The Lake Orion School Aquatics Club wants to donate about $300 to the village in hopes the sum will be matched for improvements in the village park. The request will be received tonight.

Steps Following School-Millage Loss to Be Aired

HOLLY — The board of education will hold a special meeting tonight at 8 to discuss possible alternatives following the district's recent millage defeat.

Aside from the question of whether to have another special election for operating millage, the board is scheduled to discuss curtailments in the 1968-69 budget to fit its projected income.

Residents dealt the board its fourth setback at the polls in five attempts April 10, rejecting a proposed 3-mill one-year increase for operating expenses.

The election was the fourth for operating millage in less than a year. Previously, requests for 10 mills were defeated twice. On a third ballot, the 10 mills were split into a 7-mill renewal and 3-mill increase, and voters approved renewal only.

Supt. of Schools Russell Haddon called the April 10 defeat a "great disappointment" and added that the results would "definitely affect the education of the children."

Earlier, the superintendent had stated that the additional millage would only be enough to "hold the line." He explained, "There's nothing new in this year's budget except five new teachers — for increased enrollment."

Issuance of Bonds OK'd by State for Sewage System

The issuance of bonds to finance the 13 Mile Road arm of the Farmington sewage disposal system has been approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Proceeds of the $1.81 million in bonds will cover part of the cost of the arm.

About $275,000 has already been put up by the local school district, government and developers in order to get construction started earlier.

The bonds will be issued in anticipation of payments to Oakland County by Farmington and West Bloomfield townships.

The project is heading for completion in eight months, said the director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works R. J. Alexander. Work is now about a quarter of the way done, Alexander reported.

The arm will serve residents in an area bounded by 15 Mile and 15 Mile, Middle Belt and Haggerty.

The arm will hook into the Farmington interceptor which then connects to the Detroit sewer system.

Report on Schools Urges New Ways of Funding, Teaching, Communicating

Present trends and future forecasts affirm that Oakland County schools require new methods of funding, new styles in teaching and new means of communicating with people.

This was the gist of a summary report to the Oakland County school business officials recently by Irving J. Rubin, director of TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study).

Rubin said TALUS forecasts indicate the school-age population of Oakland County will nearly double by 2,000 — from 254,000 in 1965 to 472,000.

The steadily increasing number of pupils will require constant increases in funding for building of educational facilities and providing manpower for instruction, Rubin said.

TALUS projections show, he said, that in the next 35 years the work force of southeastern Michigan will not only expand from 1.6 million to 3.2 million, but will change in essential characteristics.

"During the next 35 years, the number of blue-collar workers will increase from 650,000 to 1,150,000.

"But the number of white-collar workers in the region will triple from 750,000 to 2 million.

"The demand on education is clear. White-collar workers will require more specialized training and this will require new styles in teaching to equip them to compete in the computerized world of tomorrow," Rubin said.

Already evident in the defeat of property tax increase proposals is not only relatively poor school districts, but in such well-to-do areas as Bloomfield Hills and Grosse Pointe is a need for new methods of financing, he said.

'EVER-TIGHTENING BIND'

"Schools in Oakland County as everywhere are in an ever-tightening bind," he said. "Costs are increasing but public support is diminishing for funding at the local level under the existing tax structure."

The lack of funding is aggravated by the disparity between the ability of different school districts to finance school programs, Rubin said.

He cited statistics showing this disparity within Oakland County, called them typical of the disparity existing in other counties in the region.

In Lake Orion, he said, the annual cost per pupil is $393.91 compared with $793.53 in the Oak Park School District.

MILLAGE VARIANCE

And the operating and debt retirement millage levied in Oakland County's school districts varies from $22.35 in Pontiac to $39.60 in Lamphre School District.

He called the disparity "all the more regrettable" because those school districts in which financial ability is least adequate are the districts in which the need for improved quality in education is the greatest.

"The refusal of voters to support adequate educational programs further indicates a communications gap between educators and the public," Rubin said.

"Apathy towards schools, expressed in the refusal to support the needed taxes, indicates further an uncertainty among people that their children are getting their money's worth in education."

Better understanding in future years will be required and this can be accomplished when educators recognize the needs and innovate to meet them, Rubin said.

WALLED LAKE — How will residents here pay for the city water system?

They can find out at a public hearing on the water ordinance tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Wallied Lake Junior High School cafeteria, 615 N. Pontiac Trail.

Several weeks ago, the ordinance had its first reading before the City Council.

Final adoption is possible after a second reading. This is expected at a meeting after tomorrow night's hearing.

A single-family dwelling, according to the proposed ordinance, will pay $6 per month for 5,000 gallons and 33 cents for each 1,000 gallons after that.

The $6 includes a $2 consumption charge and a $4 debt service charge for 30 years.

Product of Pontiac Twp. Firm Honored

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Amphicat, a product of Mobility Unlimited, Inc., 44 S. Squirrel, has been selected as the Product of the Year in Oakland County for 1968.

Amphicat, a versatile amphibious vehicle, will be entered in the regional contest in Detroit. The winner will then be entered in the state contest, to be judged just prior to Michigan Week, May 18-25.

Announcement of the award came from Robert A. Bogan Jr., Oakland County Michigan Week chairman, and Robert L. Kilpatrick, Oakland County awards chairman.

The judging committee was composed of James Balmer of Armstrong-Balmer Industrial Designers, 1025 E. Maple, Birmingham; John C. Carlisle of Oakland Community College; George Squibb of Automotive Conversion, 2566 Industrial Row, Troy; Kilpatrick; and Bogan.

Runner-up honors were awarded to Dynapak, a product of Stereodyne, Inc., 2810 Elliott, Troy.

HONORABLE MENTION

Honorable mention went to Infra Corp., 5454 Dixie, Waterford; Music by Dee, Inc., Orchard Lake; Numatics, Inc., Highland Township; The Op-Yop, Royal Oak; Tempel Tailoring, Birmingham; and Theft-Proof Key Holder, Royal Oak.

The winning product and runner-up will be on exhibit from April 22-26 at the main office of Detroit Bank and Trust in Detroit.

They will be judged April 26 along with winners from Wayne and Macomb counties.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL — Construction of the second high school in the Wallied Lake District shows progress on a gym, cafeteria, swimming pool and auditorium. More rooms will be added before the $5.3-million building, at the northeast corner of Beck and Pontiac Trail, Commerce Township, opens for 1,700 students by fall, 1969. Named Wallied Lake Western High, the school will stress vocational education.

Orchard Lake Trio to Probe Nuisances

ORCHARD LAKE — Complaints from residents on Orchard Lake about scattered beer cans and broken glass have prompted investigation by a special committee.

Appointed to the committee by the City Council are residents Joseph D. Garrett as chairman, Norman Crane and John Atkinson.

They were instructed to look into the nuisances complained about and suggest steps for their elimination.

Lake-front residents can initiate local laws for the lake by petitioning the Water and Boating Safety Section of the State Conservation Department, informed Lt. Donald Kratt of the water safety division of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

He advised that a petition bearing signatures of 51 per cent of the lake-front residents would most influence the state to hold a hearing and study the need for local lake ordinances.

BAN RECOMMENDED

The state may then recommend an ordinance which the City Council can either accept or reject, said Kratt.

The sheriff's department already has recommended prohibition of alcoholic beverages on the lake.

The enactment of an ordinance must go through the state because the lake has a state access site, explained Kratt.

In other recent action, the City Council has approved joining the North Oakland County Reciprocal Police Aid Agreement.

The agreement includes 18 communities which will aid each other in time of civil disorder or natural disaster. The pact also includes a tactical mobile unit of several officers from each department now undergoing training.

Women Will Hear Detroit Group Exec

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The New Detroit Committee's executive director, William T. Patrick Jr., speaks tomorrow before the West Bloomfield League of Women Voters.

The talk, "How Can the Suburbs Tune in on New Detroit?" will follow a noon luncheon at Morey's Golf and Country Club, 2280 Union Lake, Commerce Township.

Guests may contact Mrs. Ross R. Calloway, 6270 Commerce.

PTA at Proper School Schedules Annual Fair

ORION TOWNSHIP — Proper School PTA will conduct its annual school fair from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the school, 4005 Baldwin.

The fair will feature a luncheon, cakewalk, spook room, country store and game and sales booths.

Mrs. Rodgers Dubbles and Mrs. John Shedlosky are co-chairmen.

Generate Odd Wave Patterns

Heavy Smokers' Brains Tested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Heavy smokers generate odd brain wave patterns, Or maybe it's the other way round: persons with funny brain wave patterns tend to become heavy smokers.

At any rate, a Veterans Administration psychiatrist, Dr. Barbara B. Brown, has discovered that the brain waves of people who smoke a lot "differ dramatically" from those of people who don't smoke at all.

Dr. Brown carried out her research on this subject at the Sepulveda VA Hospital in Los Angeles. She classified as heavy smokers those who burn up two to five packs a day.

As recorded by an electroencephalogram (EEG), so-called alpha waves are the predominant electrical signals of the brain.

According to a VA report, these signals showed up strongly in most nonsmokers "while in 84 per cent of the heavy smokers, no alpha waves whatsoever were recorded."

NEW PATTERN

The heavy smokers, the VA said, "showed a new brain wave pattern . . . that is nearly twice the frequency of the normal wave pattern."

Dr. Brown said that rapid, jerky patterns similar to those manifested in the EEGs of heavy smokers "are commonly associated with varying degrees of apprehension or anxiety, or perhaps with high awareness, vigilance or alertness."

So, the VA report said, perhaps such seemingly abnormal brain wave patterns actually "are normal for certain high-keyed persons who find smoking or some equivalent activity a necessity of normal living."

If that is the case, it was suggested, "Heavy smokers' peculiar high-frequency may become dependent on a brain wave pattern as dis-closed by the EEG tests was a quizzing effect of the smoking bit of a surprise—so new, the VA said, that it is "as yet unnamed."

It Seems to Me . . .

Views Nixon Well Filling
Romney Withdrawal Void

As one of the staunchest supporters Governor GEORGE ROMNEY had in his valiant quest for the presidential nomination, I have been quizzed several times since his withdrawal as to a current choice.

I give it unhesitatingly.

It's RICHARD M. NIXON.

This very capable and very astute political power is deeply versed in the intricacies surrounding the White House and the administration of our complex government.

He knows firsthand.

He knows their experience.

Further, you can safely name him as the best versed of the entire field in international and world affairs. His global savvy is unchallenged and unequalled by any of the other contestants on either ticket. RICHARD NIXON is a very personable individual and possesses engaging qualifications that are easily discernible in direct, first-hand discussions. He has spent a great part of his active and productive lifetime in public service and learning the ways of all governmental intricacies. No candidate on either ticket has this background.

Richard M. Nixon is a friendly individual and this happy characteristic becomes evident immediately upon casual acquaintance or a closeup inspection. He may not appeal to the far-out hippies as quickly or as completely as one of his opponents — thank heaven. Mr. Nixon is an earnest American who can represent the United States with distinction and honor anywhere in the world. Further, he has been doing this for some time already and we're the national gainers. Mr. Nixon has a fine family of true-blooded and high type U.S. citizens of their respective ages.

With this country in the turmoil and utter confusion of the moment, we need an experienced, hardheaded and reliable individual at the helm as we never have before. We must put the reins of the greatest government in the world in experienced hands that can see far down the road and yet draw on the experiences of the past.

I hail RICHARD M. NIXON.
He's the All-Star.

Golf Officials . . .

Of all the stupid officials presiding over any sport, Golfdom's bosses rank at the bottom of the barrel. The current issue of a golf magazine deplores the heartless rule about signing a wrong card, which is probably the dumbest sports ruling extant.

And just to drive the brainless brethren into an inescapable corner. Robert de Vicenzo, affable Argentine pro, lost a tie for the Masters' title by this same goofy rule and officiating.

His playing partner added a stroke to the total which he innocently signed. So-o-o-o, he was penalized out of a tie for the top prize.

Haven't the ruling powers enough common sense to correct this? Or will they continue to stagger along the same blind alleys with their snoots in the dung. The least the Masters can do is pay the innocent victim enough to equal the winner's share.

Vandalism Epidemic . . .

People generally are puzzled at the continuing vandalism in New York City schools. An epidemic there resulted in stern measures which seek to place the full costs against the parents of all apprehended pupils. The destruction in 1967 actually touched $5 million. Why the younger generation in the "Nation's biggest city" should turn wantonly destructive is a puzzle to school authorities. Probably the number of apprehended culprits is insufficient to drive the lesson home.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

I hear life in Sweden for U.S. draft dodgers is becoming a pretty unhappy affair. They say the same is true in Canada. These cowards won't get much sympathy from the average citizen in the U.S. . . . Asked what reading matter she would prefer if she were marooned on a desert island, the gal replied: "A tattooed sailor." . . . Overheard: "Anyone want to bet the name of the next President won't end with a 'y' or an 'n'?" . . . KENNEDY's inner circle is becoming uneasy and disturbed over recent polls which show McCARTHY's star arising lustily.

Scouts advise me that Barbara Sue Early deserves mention as one of the attractive young ladies in the area. . . . Clairvol was certainly magnanimous in that international Miss Teen pageant to interrupt their commercials frequently so viewers could see the beautiful girls. . . . Steve Allen opens a new 90 minute show early in June that promises to be a period of hearty laughter. Steve can make good on an assignment like this.

Rumors at the University of Texas insist that President LBJ will teach a special history course there after he retires from Washington. . . . They're now taking three to six pound chow salmon steadily from the extreme southern end of Lake Michigan. Also, lake trout are running there in greater numbers than ever before. . . . Steelhead and rainbow trout are starting heavy runs in various parts of the upper section of Michigan's lower peninsula. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—PAMELA MARTIN; the J's—PGA golf officials.

"You're An Imperialist, A Warmonger And A Bum-But Get It Up!!"

David Lawrence Says:

'New Nixon' Is in Evidence

WASHINGTON — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's talk before the American Society of Newspaper Editors here caused quite a lot of comment. He spoke extemporaneously and answered questions posed by a panel of the editors.

His replies were clear and forthright, and in almost every instance they were followed by bursts of applause.

Nixon's impromptu remarks on a variety of issues caused some of the editors — who had not seen him in action since the 1960 campaign — to ask what he thought about the off-beat remark in political circles that there is a "new Nixon."

LAWRENCE

He conceded with a smile that he is eight years older and "perhaps has acquired some more wisdom."

Incidentally, the former vice president said he is in favor of a debate between presidential nominees. It is apparent that he has learned some lessons about this form of political campaigning which makes him eager to participate again in such a unique method of discussing the issues.

Perhaps the most significant observation that Nixon made was in connection with the Vietnam war.

"SERIOUS MISTAKE"

He said it is a serious mistake for politicians in either party to make derogatory statements about President Johnson's negotiations with North Vietnam.

He declared that this is a time of great delicacy and that he would not make any criticisms or discuss the negotiations until they are concluded.

He argued that the President is adopting the right course in trying to get true talks going.

Another interesting reply came from the former vice president when he was asked if he favors recognition of Red China.

"GRADUAL CHANGE"

He said he doesn't advocate any such action now and doesn't think that the United States should alter its course with respect to the aggressive acts which are being committed in Southeast Asia. But he believes that, as the free countries of Asia are strengthened by the aid given to them by the United States, the Chinese on the mainland will gradually change their course and be in favor of a peaceful policy toward their neighbors and the world in general.

Nixon probably drew the biggest applause when he declared that "There cannot be order in a free society without progress, and there cannot be progress without order" in American cities.

If all the candidates for public office subjected themselves to the kind of interrogation which the newspaper editors employed in quizzing Nixon, the American people would enjoy the discussion.

Bob Considine Says:

What Fantastic Revenge
if Humphrey Beats RFK

NEW YORK—What an incredible revenge may be in the making if Vice President Hubert Humphrey defeats Sen. Robert Kennedy for the Democratic nomination for president.

Eight years ago Bobby Kennedy ran a rough, tough campaign against Humphrey in behalf of John F. Kennedy in West Virginia primary.

Sen. Humphrey was the early favorite in that race. West Virginia was sparsely settled by Catholics and was therefore considered anti-Catholic.

JFK's brother organized things exceptionally well. For example in the in-state television debate Bobby saw to it that his older brother had an assortment of props on hand, including packaged surplus food stuffs which were being distributed to West Virginia's poverty stricken.

Sen. Humphrey went on bare-handed and the contest was a much better presentation.

HURT BY FDR JR.

On the night before the voting, Bobby arranged to buy prime time on television for the showing of the somewhat romanticized Hollywood film that dealt with JFK's hero deeds as a PT boat commander in the war against Japan, while Sen. Humphrey was speaking to a handful of drug-store corner loafers.

But the toughest stab made at Humphrey was an insinuation by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who had been brought in to the state by Bobby, that Humphrey had found ways and means of ducking service in WW II.

JFK won in West Virginia and he was on his way to the White House. But there were smoldering resentments over what had taken place there.

James Rowe, an old hand in the Democratic party, and once upon a time a great worker for President Roosevelt, handled Sen. Humphrey's West Virginia cam-

STOPPED SPEAKING

Rowe stopped speaking to FDR Jr., finally joining him one day in Washington, after Kennedy was in the White House and said, in effect, "Aw, come on, Jim. Let bygones be bygones. After all, Hubert has forgiven me. Why can't you?"

Old Jim stared at him and said "Hubert isn't Irish, and walked away."

After what happened at the Augusta Masters Golf Tournament, I don't see how we can avoid war with Argentina. We never looked sillier.

Indianapolis Star

The story of deep cutting in the United States bureaucracy staff in Brazil is remarkable because it is so unusual. Both foreign and domestic interests of the United States would be much better served if it were a common story.

Ambassador John Willis Tuthill, a career diplomat, took over the embassy in Rio de Janeiro a year ago, and decided there were too many people in the embassy, the consulates and other operations. He reported this conclusion to Washington, and asked and received authority to cut drastically.

He set up a pruning program called "Operation Topsy," from the fact that the huge bureaucracy was not planned but just grew as officials responded to Brazilian requests for this or that kind of aid or advice.

The cutting operation will run through the next fiscal year, and by its end is expected to yield a reduction of 28 per cent in the number of employees.

There must be countless other United States bureaucracies in foreign

Voice of the People:

'We Need More Concern for Individual Problems'

I am disappointed with do-gooders of today, but not very surprised to have my face washed with my past record every time I apply for a better job. It has been my experience that those who talk the loudest about social ills are the ones who do the least about them. Employers don't have time to listen to a man's problems, parents don't have time, the school and church don't have time. Nobody has time until an ex-convict kicks in a grocery store, and then everybody has time to call him a bum.

He is all that and more. He needs correction and to be segregated from society until correction has been accomplished. Correction might be accomplished by showing concern by listening to each individual problem, offering counsel, advice and teaching. We need less lip service and more action from those who govern and call themselves leaders.

'Government Lacks Courage to Declare War'

This government conducting a "no-win war," aiding and abetting our real enemies — the Communist conspiracy — by grants and credits that actually help kill our boys in Vietnam, after letting 20,000 of our boys get killed, has not the honesty and courage to declare war and put this nation on a wartime footing. That's the reason LBJ is so unpopular in this country and could not win an election if he chose to run.

'Township's Problems Should Be Discussed'

I believe two sides of an issue should be heard. Waterford Township should tell the people its problems and then listen to the people's suggestions. Citizens and the Township should give and take in the suggestions to improve the Township. Why can't we just have paved main roads and no paving of side roads? What is the reason we have to have sewers, water from the Township, etc.?

We should schedule public meetings on the problems of this community. They should cover every problem we have now and may have in the future. Why can't we have forums three or four times a month to discuss the problems?

countries which are just like that. We wonder if there are any exceptions

The readiness of an official to reduce his empire — especially on his own initiative — is a rarity indeed. Would there were more like Tuthill. But human nature is what it is, and most officials are eager to enlarge rather than shrink their domains. That's why government keeps getting bigger and bigger.

For a remedy effective through the government, the initiative probably will come only from Congress. The action to set it in motion will need to be a really sharp tightening of the purse strings.

While we're waiting for that, we salute Ambassador Tuthill. May his tribe increase!

campaigning for high office is becoming a permanent thing.

In an election year party organization and individual generosity or interest provide the funds needed for the formal campaign. Before and after that, much of campaigning is underwritten in one form or another by the officeholder's public and private resources — his official stationery allowance and his pocketbook, for examples.

There is nothing wrong with millionaires, born or made, but there would be something wrong with a legislative body that was predominantly that rich.

It would be drawn from so restricted a reservoir that many talented potential public servants would never be called on; and its own outlook could be bounded by its narrow background.

Rich Man's Game

Baltimore Morning Sun

A survey by the Associated Press finds that at least 20 per cent and maybe 30 per cent of the members of the United States Senate are millionaires. This suggests that politics is becoming a rich man's game. This is because

How much paint coverage do you really need?

Formulating paint is a pretty funny business. You can increase the coverage power all you like. Even make it cover black with white in one coat. But you have to sacrifice washability to do it. When you increase the washability, you lower coverage. It's as simple as that. A nation-wide survey of homeowners shows us that most of you want both. Washability and coverage. So we formulated our own new Amcraft latex flat wall paint to give you both, in generous proportions. It won't cover black with white in one coat. But how many black walls do you have in your home? It will give you one-coat coverage over most colors. We call Amcraft the balanced paint. It's 6.99 a gallon.

And we don't think you can buy better. Unless you're determined to cover black with white in one coat, and don't care a whit about washability. In that case, we'll sell you a different paint.

Now get the coverage you need, plus washability, with Hudson's own new Amcraft paint

There's a new Amcraft paint at Hudson's for every painting need, indoors and out. We think you'll like them all. Hudson's, Pontiac 2nd, Downtown, Northland, Eastland, or Westland.

June Canada Vote Seems Likely

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau meets with his Cabinet for the second time in three days today, adding fuel to speculation he would call for national elections in June in an effort to win a majority mandate. Trudeau's Liberal party commands only 130 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons, leaving his minority government at the mercy of the four opposition parties. With Trudeau's proven vote-getting ability and the party's popularity on the rise since his election as Liberal leader, his advisers see an early vote as the best chance to beat Conservative leader Robert Stanfield at the polls.

Riot Sparks Still in Cities —Cavanagh

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said in New York Sunday the sparks to ignite a riot are still in the major cities, and all they need "is an incident or a series of incidents."

Speaking on the WNBC television program "In Our Time," Cavanagh said, "I don't think riots are inevitable in any American city, but the sparks are still there and all they need is an incident or a series of incidents."

He said not much has been done since the riots to change the conditions that breed them. "I think the biggest thing that could be accomplished is a restoration of sanity."

"Since the riots," he said, "attitudes are more polarized. Extremism — both Black and white — has increased."

CAN'T DO IT ALONE

He called for "provision of far more adequate low-income housing and meaningful job opportunities" and educational opportunities.

He said he didn't think the city or public sector could do it alone. "I think the wide area that government has failed to do something but is starting now is to identify the areas that the private sector can help in," he said.

Concerning what private industry has already done, Cavanagh noted that Ford Motor Co., immediately following the Detroit riot last summer, opened up 6,000 unskilled jobs for impoverished residents of inner city areas.

Cavanagh said the firm reported the project was successful and new workers were staying with their jobs.

He said some corporations had "figuratively and literally adopted a slum high school," and guaranteed job opportunities to all graduates of that high school.

141 Million Eggs

LANSING (AP) — Michigan commercial and farm poultry flocks produced 141 million eggs during March, matching the production for the same month last year. The State Crop Reporting Service said egg production for the first three months of the year was 415 million eggs, topping the 398 million during the same period a year ago.

election regulations, tended to lend credibility to talk of a national election.

FAVORABLE TIME

Trudeau does not have to call an election until 1970, but veteran parliamentary observers feel that now would be a favorable time.

The last-minute speedup of Trudeau's take-over from Pearson and the formation of an "unworkable" Cabinet only cranked up the speculation to a fever pitch.

There were three new men in the Cabinet after Trudeau took over but they were not assigned specific governmental duties. Instead, the prime minister piled four vacant portfolios on 11,000 down from a year earlier and 15,000 below the total for last Jan. 1.

Those who caution Trudeau against an election point out that he has not proved himself in the House of Commons and has only three years of political experience to draw on. Before entering politics in 1965, Trudeau was a law professor who openly supported the socialistic New Democratic party and wrote articles critical of the Liberal party.

LANSING (AP) — Michigan cattle feeders had 172,000 head of cattle and calves on feed as of April 1. The State Crop Reporting Service said this was 11,000 down from a year earlier and 15,000 below the total for last Jan. 1.

Canada Vote Seems Likely

in June in an effort to win a majority mandate.

Trudeau's Liberal party commands only 130 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons, leaving his minority government at the mercy of the four opposition parties.

With Trudeau's proven vote-getting ability and the party's popularity on the rise since his election as Liberal leader, his advisers see an early vote as the best chance to beat Conservative leader Robert Stanfield at the polls.

The possibility of a June election intensified over the weekend when Trudeau, a flashy bachelor millionaire who was a political nonentity three years ago, was sworn in as Canada's 15th head of government Saturday — two days ahead of schedule.

This move plus the profusion of Cabinet meetings and the fact that tomorrow would be the last day an election could be called for June 17 because of election regulations, tended to lend credibility to talk of a national election.

FAVORABLE TIME

Trudeau does not have to call an election until 1970, but veteran parliamentary observers feel that now would be a favorable time.

The last-minute speedup of Trudeau's take-over from Pearson and the formation of an "unworkable" Cabinet only cranked up the speculation to a fever pitch.

There were three new men in the Cabinet after Trudeau took over but they were not assigned specific governmental duties. Instead, the prime minister piled four vacant portfolios on to workhorse ministers of the old Pearson Cabinet.

Those who caution Trudeau against an election point out that he has not proved himself in the House of Commons and has only three years of political experience to draw on.

Before entering politics in 1965, Trudeau was a law professor who openly supported the socialistic New Democratic party and wrote articles critical of the Liberal party.

Riot Sparks Still in Cities —Cavanagh

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said in New York Sunday the sparks to ignite a riot are still in the major cities, and all they need "is an incident or a series of incidents."

Speaking on the WNBC television program "In Our Time," Cavanagh said, "I don't think riots are inevitable in any American city, but the sparks are still there and all they need is an incident or a series of incidents."

He said not much has been done since the riots to change the conditions that breed them. "I think the biggest thing that could be accomplished is a restoration of sanity."

"Since the riots," he said, "attitudes are more polarized. Extremism — both Black and white — has increased."

CAN'T DO IT ALONE
He called for "provision of far more adequate low-income housing and meaningful job opportunities . . . and educational opportunities."

He said he didn't think the city or public sector could do it alone. "I think the wide area that government has failed to do something but is starting now is to identify the areas that the private sector can help in," he said.

Concerning what private industry has already done, Cavanagh noted that Ford Motor Co., immediately following the Detroit riot last summer, opened up 6,000 unskilled jobs for impoverished residents of inner city areas.

Cavanagh said the firm reversed the project was successful and new workers were staying with their jobs.

He said some corporations had "figuratively and literally adopted a slum high school," and guaranteed job opportunities to all graduates of that high school.

141 Million Eggs

LANSING (AP) — Michigan commercial and farm poultry flocks produced 141 million eggs during March, matching the production for the same month last year. The State Crop Reporting Service said egg production for the first three months of the year was 415 million eggs, topping the 398 million during the same period a year ago.

Tories Fire Right-Winger for 'Racist Speech'

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative party was badly split today following a clash between two of its leaders over the racial question.

Edward Heath, the leader of the opposition party, fired out spoken right-winger Enoch Powell from the party's shadow Cabinet, calling a speech by

Powell Saturday "racist in tone and liable to exacerbate racial tensions."

Political writers considered Powell's speech a challenge to the more moderate Heath's leadership, forcing the party chief to take strong action or abdicate to the Tory right wing.

The Times said Heath acted "to demonstrate beyond doubt that he dissociates himself and the Tory party from racism."

Powell was the member of the shadow Cabinet for defense and would have taken command of that ministry if the Conservatives ousted the Labor government. Reginald Maudling, the deputy party leader, took over Powell's defense duties while Sir Alec Douglas-Home assumed Powell's brief for commonwealth affairs.

'A TRAGEDY'

Other right-wing Tories denounced Powell's firing. One, John Jennings, called it "a tragedy."

Powell's speech and the party split also gave the Laborites valuable ammunition for the House of Commons debate Tuesday on the Labor government's controversial race-relations bill.

The bill seeks to outlaw racial discrimination in housing, jobs and other fields.

Boy, Mauled by Sharks, Is Listed as Poor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A boy mauled by sharks in the Atlantic Ocean near Palm Beach Shores was in poor condition today at a local hospital.

Steven Samples, 10, of Lake Park was attacked by a pack of sharks while playing on a rubber raft Saturday. He was rescued by a quick-thinking Canadian banker and two young surfers.

The youth is being treated for bites on his legs, back and arms. He was in surgery for three hours Saturday while doctors removed shark teeth from his back.

Douglas Fletcher, a Toronto banker, said he heard the boy scream "shark" and saw a fin and blood spreading around the raft. The boy fell into the water and the blood apparently attracted other sharks.

Fletcher swam to the rescue. He said the boy was in about four feet of water when he reached him.

"I put my hand over the cut on his arm that was spurting blood and held on," Fletcher said. "Two lads with surfboards helped get the boy on a board."

The two surfers, Paul Mulack, 21, and Douglas Brewster, 19, both of Bayshore, N.Y., pounded their boards to scare the sharks away.

Fletcher said the boy told him, "It felt like there were millions of them."

Army Medic in Viet Battles Chinese Herb Doctors

CAI LAY, Vietnam (AP) — band and she was afraid of them. It's a mixed-up mess." Sgt. Marvin Powell never thought he would be sent into battle against Chinese herb doctors.
The hard-working Army medic from Spring Lake, N.C., is enjoying the job and making some progress.
Powell plays country doctor in five isolated villages of Vietnam's lush Mekong Delta. He sees the bright side of almost everything—except the herb doctors.

The practitioners of ancient oriental medicine have traditionally dispensed care, at a price, among the delta's poor farmers. They look with suspicion on Powell as a threat to their livelihood.

AFRAID
"The Chinese herb doctors tell the Vietnamese that the Americans won't always be here," Powell says. "The Vietnamese are afraid the herb doctors won't treat them when we go."

"One old woman came in here with a little boy who was badly scalded. She brought him in once and didn't come back. "I found out they had threatened to stop treating her husband and she was afraid of them. It's a mixed-up mess."

Despite such professional opposition, Powell has his hands full. Daily just after dawn he and two fledgling American medics set out from the dusty, sandbag and mortar-crate fortress that is the delta home of the 2nd Battalion, 30th Infantry, 1st Brigade, 9th Infantry Division. Behind the jeep is a small trailer loaded with pills, ointments, bandages and candy bars.

TARGET OF SNIPERS
Sometimes they get sniped at on the road. Powell never announces his arrival in advance, although each of the five villages knows he will be there every week.

"The Vietnamese tell us that the Vietcong won't hurt us but don't place much stock in that," Powell says, gesturing at speckles of sunlight coming through fragment holes in the sheet-metal roof of the Cai Lay dispensary.
In a normal day Powell treats some 200 people—skin diseases, stomachaches, infections, cuts, burns and whatnot. When he spots a serious case, mostly tuberculosis, he sends his patient off to the battalion surgeon or the provincial hospital. Only rarely does he serve civilians wounded by either side.

He has a devoted following of hundreds of kids. It started because Powell would give a small GI chocolate bar to each child brought in for treatment. Kids know a soft old boy deftly probing the bulge of his pocket of his fatigue jacket.

When in Doubt Offer One

Tipping, Matter of Personal Choice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My family enjoys dining at a friendly little Italian restaurant which is owned and operated by a man and his wife. He does the cooking and she is out in front, hosting and waiting on tables.

ABBY

Do we tip her? My husband says we should. I say we shouldn't as she might be insulted. No etiquette book covers this. In beauty shops and barber shops, if you try to tip the owner-operators, they're insulted. Does this hold true in restaurants?

RUTH

DEAR RUTH: "Tipping is always optional. But in the case of an 'owner-operator,' when in doubt, offer a tip. (P.S.: If an Italian is 'insulted,' he'll let you know it.)"

DEAR ABBY: The daughter of a friend of mine was planning a large June wedding. However, those plans were quickly changed when the bride-to-be discovered she was pregnant.

So now the family is sending out "announcements" that the girl was married in March, so the big wedding is off. Under these circumstances, is a wedding gift in order?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If your wedding gift means, "This is in repayment for your wedding invitation," then, of course, no gift is in order. But if it means, "Accept this gift along with our best wishes for your future happiness," then a gift is in order.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl and I hope you won't laugh when I tell you what my problem is. I have a mustache. The kids are always teasing me about it. Boys keep telling me I need a "shave." Some girls have even told me in a nice way that I would be pretty if I got rid of my mustache.

I'm afraid if I shave it off it will grow back, heavier and thicker, like a man's beard. I have heard there are other ways to remove unwanted hair, but I'm afraid to try any of them because I've heard it could leave scars. Can you help me?

MUSTACHE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: You are very wise to consider so carefully the results before attempting to remove unwanted hair from your face. Ask your mother to take you to a skin doctor and let him recommend the method that is best for you.

DEAR ABBY: The man who told "THE OFFICE GANG" that he has been married for 31 years, and in all that time he has never had a fight with his wife, that she has never nagged him, questioned him or contradicted him, or ever raised her voice to him, well—he could have been my husband, only we've been married 25 years.

We've never had a fight or raised our voices to each other, and let me tell you, we have about the dulllest marriage possible.

BORED STIFF

DEAR ABBY: It was with a great deal of interest that I read the letter in your column from the teen-aged girl who be-moaned the age-old tradition that gives the male the privilege of asking the girl for a date instead of vice versa.

As a high school teacher for the last 19 years I have had an opportunity to observe the situation from close range. I

She spent seven weeks in Israel, studying and working at Kibbutz Dalia and traveled in adjoining countries.

Mrs. Herman Dickstein is general chairman of the breakfast. Members of her committee include Mrs. Renwick, cochairman; Mrs. Howard Brooks, Barbara Wilson and Mrs. T. W. Jackson. Zonta Club of Pontiac, organized in 1927, is a women's service organization.

Pair Resents Mother, Child on this Trip

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: How do you let someone, whom you like quite well, know that you would rather not take her along on a trip without hurting her feelings when she invites herself?

My husband and I have never gone abroad and as my son-in-law is stationed overseas for two years, we are planning to visit him and his wife this summer. When we mentioned that, my son-in-law's mother immediately said, "Oh, wonderful, then Janie and I can go along. I know John will let us go if we have someone to go with."

Janie is eight years old and very spoiled, and I am sure there will be times when we may want to go to a museum or art gallery, and she will not want to go. Or perhaps we may want to go out on the town at night, for dinner and the theater, or dancing. How many places can one take an eight year old girl? How do we tell her that we would rather go alone?—Mrs. J.M.

Dear Mrs. Post: Your daughter's mother-in-law has no right to impose herself and her daughter on you. Every couple is entitled to plan their own vacation, with friends or without, as they see fit. An eight-year-old, well-behaved or not, cannot help but cramp your style.

Tell her, quite honestly, that you consider this first trip to Europe a "second honeymoon."

Dear Mrs. Post: A bridal shower invitation I just received has hand-written at the bottom "Wishing Well." What kind of shower would this be? Is a special gift needed? I would appreciate your help. —Rose.

Rose: I can't help you but maybe some of my readers can. I have never heard of a "Wishing Well" shower, and it may possibly be a local custom. If any of your readers know what it is please help Rose by writing to me.

I am always anxious to expand and pass on my knowledge of different types of entertainment.

Ivory peau de soie with appliques of Alencon lace fashioned the bride's hand-beaded sheath and full Watteau train.

Fryna John was her sister's maid of honor, along with bridesmaids, Jennifer John, Marcia Warren, Francis Quillian, and Mrs. Peter A. Reid.

The bridegroom's brother, Lance, of Line Forms Early for Rummage Sale

Shoppers start to line up at 6 a.m. on the mornings of the semi-annual rummage sale of Christ Church Cranbrook. Someone usually serves hot coffee as the line lengthens before the 9 a.m. opening. From then until 2 p.m., there is no let-up in the stream of buyers.

Thursday is the magic day this spring, according to cochairmen, Mrs. Kent Barclay and Mrs. E. Franklin Hitch. Mrs. Daniel Webb is assisting them.

Mrs. Hitch and Mrs. Ralph Wagener wrote the script and did the commentary for the fashion show for churchwomen last week. Franklin Hitch wrote the parodies sung by the Rummage Glee club.

The "French Room," as always, will be stocked with designer dresses, hats, coats and furs. There is a mink coat on the racks.

Mrs. James Pedder of Bloomfield Hills was hostess at a treasure tea on Thursday to stock the china and fine arts departments.

Proceeds from the sale are used for the churchwomen's philanthropic projects.

Soap Can Kill Borer Moths

A longtime and still effective way to chase away borer moths — which can injure and kill a young dogwood tree in just one year — is to tie a bar of laundry soap to the tree crotch. This advice comes from Lee Campbell of the Ohio Agricultural Research Center.

Remember that dogwood borer moths emerge in late May and are most abundant about the end of June.

Actor Crashes Wrong Party for Four Days

WESTPORT, Conn. (UPI)—Actor Paul Newman has been campaigning to win the Democratic presidential nomination for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, but for almost a week he was a registered Republican.

Newman went to the town clerk's office in suburb of New York City last Monday to register as a resident voter.

As a clerk was filling out his registration form, she heard the actor say the word "Republican" in conversation with another clerk.

Believing he was answering her inquiry as to party affiliation, she put his name down in the GOP column. Newman signed the form without reading it and departed.

A surprised Newman read in a newspaper that he was registered as a Republican and returned to the clerk's office Friday to straighten things out.

Marine Chief at Khe Sanh Never Lost Confidence

KHE SANH, South Vietnam (UPI) — Marine Col. David Lownds stood in a shoulder-deep trench and talked of his confidence in his eight-month command of the besieged leatherneck camp.

"There was never a doubt in my mind that the North Vietnamese could not take this place," he said in his last interview at Khe Sanh.

"I don't believe, even way down in me, I ever believed that he could take this place—not with what he had. The only question was, how many casualties would he take."

A short, trim man who in any other costume would be considered dapper, Lownds wore a neat mustache, freshly waxed, with the ends twisted straight out from his mouth. It fixed a wide grin on everything he said.

He spoke softly, giving only a whispered emphasis to the stronger sentences.

RECREATION CENTER

The command he discussed might just as well have been a recreation center in Hawaii.

"I came here on Aug. 8, and up until 5 a.m. on Jan. 21 things were pretty quiet," Lownds said.

From Aug. 10 until he was relieved on April 11, he left the base only twice—once for an overnight trip in October and for five hours one day a couple weeks ago.

He spoke only as a purely military man obeying his commands. Doubts? He never had any. Mistakes? He never made any.

"HELL NO"

"I never heard anybody say they thought the NVA could take us. They might attack on the perimeter, but they would never spend an entire day on the perimeter," he said.

"Hell no," he said, he did not ask to be relieved of his command. "It's been a lot of hard work—certainly a lot more tension than in most jobs. But one of life's satisfactions is in the command billet. It is a big thing and you can't afford to let it slip by because this is one of the pleasures in life."

He said he was "more than pleased to have been commander of the regiment" and he would not talk of mistakes or doubts or fears.

Some of the press talked about the agony of Khe Sanh, but I never did see any agony here.

NO INDICATION

"There was never once an indication that morale was not good among the men," he said. "This is a credit to the enlisted men and the officers. The overpowering thing in my command here was the spirit of the enlisted men."

"I'm sure if anybody had any doubts, I doubt if they would have expressed them to me—me being the commander."

Were there trying moments? "Well, there were certainly not all the things I would like to have seen, but being Marines, we made the best of what we had."

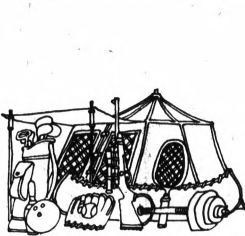

Standing in the midst of the base which at best could only be compared to a sprawling garbage dump, Lownds spoke as a truly military man:

"As commander, I was told to stay here. Frankly, I didn't anticipate any relief. If it had been six months from now, I would not have been overly concerned."

Descriptions Confuse Search for King Suspect

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A ranking Memphis police officer acknowledges there are "a whole lot of discrepancies" in official descriptions of the man sought as the sniper slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Asst. Chief Bill Price referred to statements that James Earl Ray, 40, an escaped Missouri convict, and Eric Starvo Galt, first sought for King's April 4 son showed Galt was really Ray.

CAUSED CONFUSION

The naming of Ray in the case caused confusion, primarily because earlier official statements indicate that Galt and Ray were in different places at the same time.

When Galt was charged as a conspirator in King's death by rifle bullet, the FBI said the man had taken dancing lessons in New Orleans in 1964-65. The FBI said later the earlier description should have said Galt reportedly took dancing lessons rather than stating it flatly.

During that time, Ray was in the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City, serving a 20-year sentence for a 1959 supermarket robbery.

The age of the man also was in conflict.

CONFLICT OVER AGES

* Witnesses who saw a man in a Memphis rooming house from where the fatal bullet was fired estimated his age as in the late 20s. The FBI, in issuing its warrant for Galt, said he had given his birthdate July 20, 1931. That would make him 36. The FBI said Friday Ray is 40.

The personalities of the two men are sometimes at odds. A prison pal described Ray as virtually a nondrinker. The FBI describes Galt as a fancier of beer and vodka.

There were other differences: Galt: neat appearance. Ray: careless appearance. Galt: Southern accent. Ray: born in Alton, Ill. No Southern accent.

Sleep-In Vow Eases Rules on Coed Visits

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Princeton University trustees yesterday yielded to a student threat of a mass dormitory "sleep-in" with girlfriends and relaxed the rule governing nighttime visits by coeds.

The change allows girls to remain in the rooms of the all-male school's 3,200 undergraduates until 10 p.m. on weekdays and until 2 a.m. on weekends.

Previously, girls had been barred from dormitory rooms after 7 p.m. on weekdays and after midnight on weekends. These hours had been in effect with only minor variations since girls were first permitted to visit Princeton men in their rooms in the early 1950s.

The trustees had agreed to consider revisions in the rule following an editorial in the student newspaper, "The Daily Princetonian." The editorial, signed by two-thirds of the undergraduates, promised a mass violation of the rule with girls spending a night in dormitory rooms.

The editorial called for the abolition of the rule limiting visiting hours on the grounds that it was an infringement on individual moral integrity and an obstacle to a normal social life on an all-male campus.

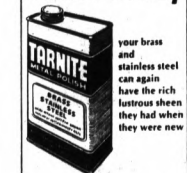

4 Adrift Saved After 14 Hours

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two teenage sisters and their dates were rescued Sunday after spending 14 hours drifting on Lake Michigan in a motorboat without anchor, paddles or engine to come back.

Mary Ann Jeselski, 17, of Chicago and her sister, Claire, 15, were rescued by the Coast Guard with Chester Ochwat, 18, and Victor Curry, 19, both of Chicago, after the foursome had decided to try out Victor's new boat instead of going to the movies.

The girls told their father that the engine went dead, and a second attempt to start it snapped off the starter cord. Victor then grabbed the paddle for the return back to shore. But it too snapped in half.

OREGON

"Go West" has been good advice for more than a century and, today, this concise expression still is good counsel, especially for the traveler looking for the vacation variety in the Pacific Northwest's Oregon.

Oregon is unforgettable, uncrowded beauty ranging from the driftwood-lined beaches of the Pacific shore to the year-round snowfields high atop the Cascade Mountains.

Oregon is dynamic, exciting action: Hooking a fighting Chinook salmon or rainbow trout, watching a cowboy atop a bronc at one of the state's many rodeos, water skiing in a mountain lake, hitting a mighty tee shot at one of more than 100 lush green golf courses.

Oregon is a place that must be experienced. No photo can do justice to the deep blue panorama of Crater Lake. No words can duplicate the thrill of boating through the rapids of the McKenzie or the Rogue. No ear can imagine the gentle murmur of the surf at a resort or camp site near the sea.

This is a state of excitement, a state of contrast. When the first settlers blazed the route of the Oregon Trail to reach the treasured green valleys of western Oregon, they fought their way across plains and desert to the mighty Columbia River and followed its rugged course westward to their new homes.

Today's driver on the Oregon Trail finds a multi-lane freeway whisking him along the same river route in a matter of hours. The powerful Columbia, whose rapids and falls were barriers to the pioneers, has been tamed by Bonneville, The Dalles, John Day and McNary Dams—its quiet surface now home to giant tugs and barges, to sailboats and motorboats and to tiny fishing skiffs.

Today, when visitors reach the verdant Willamette Valley where the pioneers settled, they find more than a million "settlers" in modern cities surrounded by rich agricultural lands that produce a vast variety of berries, fruits, vegetables and other crops.

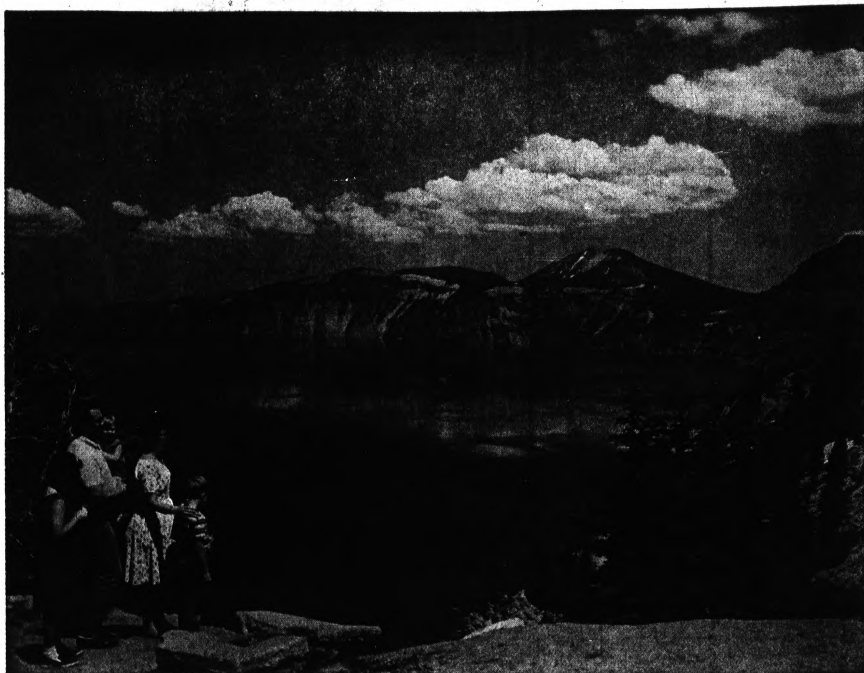

Although visitors are attracted to Portland's magnificent parks, to Salem's modern marble state capitol, and to the state universities at Corvallis and Eugene, the outdoors beckons.

Only an hour away, Oregon's variegated coastline is a magnet to thousands of visitors daily. Here are sheer headlands and broad sandy beaches, giant sand dunes and fresh water lakes, huge bays filled with shipping and tiny harbors hosting scores of fishing craft; driftwood and seashells; resort communities and more than 50 state parks; and viewpoints from which to watch sea lions, cormorants and the graceful seagulls.

Eastward and southward are the Cascade, Willowa, Blue and Siskiyou Mountain ranges. Vacationers flock to the clear blue lakes, whitewater streams, millions of acres of evergreen fir and pine forests; sky-piercing peaks with year-round snow fields, towering waterfalls and sun-washed meadows; to Crater Lake, the marble halls of the Oregon Caves, the valleys of the Rogue and the Umpqua.

Throughout the state are excellent resorts, motels and hotels, ranging from rustic to deluxe, from fishing camps and dude ranches to golfing resorts and luxury hotels. And giving access to all these things is a system of fine modern highways.

Yes, "Go West" is as good a bit of advice today as it was a century ago.

KIDS UP TO AGE 60 ENJOY THIS GIANT NORTHWEST PARK

Oregon is a 97,000 square mile park.

Millions of campers, fishermen, swimmers, beachcombers and others gain this impression when they visit this Pacific Northwest vacation state each year.

There are parks for every taste. Campers vie for favored spots in state parks and Forest Service camp sites along the 400-mile coastline, besides mountain lakes and under 200-foot high firs and pines.

Photographers revel in the opportunities provided by 620-foot Multnomah Falls and dozens of other magnificent falls in the Columbia River Gorge, at Silver Falls State Park and many other areas. Sight-seers delight in scenes of Bonneville Dam, sheer gorges of the Crooked, Deschutes, Owyhee and other rushing rivers, snow-capped mountains.

Boaters and water skiers rush to Willowa, Elk, Cultus, Detroit and Klamath Lakes for their favorite sports. Fishermen have a choice of lakes, white water streams, salt water bays and open ocean.

Crater Lake National Park is Oregon's most noted park — its unbelievably blue lake set like a gem in the volcanic caldera of Mt. Mazama. Also a part of the National Park System are Oregon Caves National Monument — "the marble halls of Oregon" — and Ft. Clatsop National Memorial, where a museum and reconstructed fort tell of the Lewis and Clark Expedition and its winter headquarters of 1805-06.

Children up to age 60 enjoy nearby Ft. Stevens State Park, where it is just a short walk from swimming and boating in Coffenburg Lake to the wreck of the Peter Iredale, a sailing vessel cast on the beach by a Pacific storm more than 60 years ago. Or Honeyman Memorial Park, where giant ocean-side sand dunes drop abruptly into clear blue lakes.

There are parks enough for everyone — more than 200 state parks and waysides, 300 county parks and 500 National Forest campgrounds, uncounted local parks and others maintained for public use.

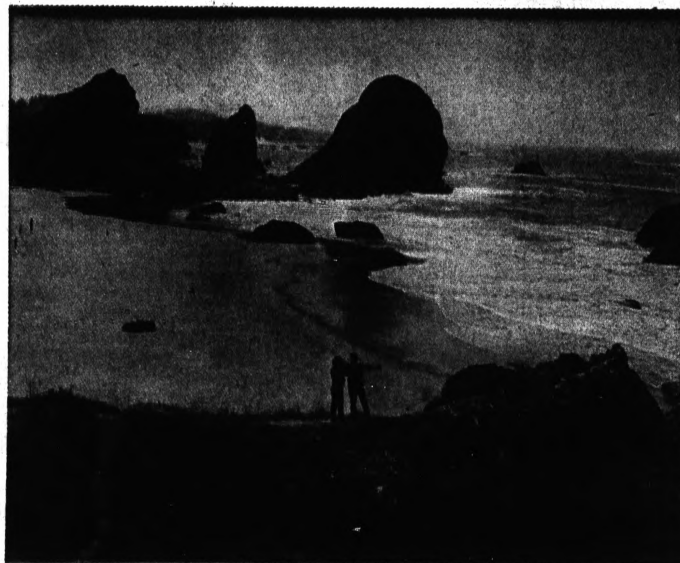

For information, write Travel Information Division, 988 State Highway Building, Salem, Oregon 97310.

PRETTY INDIAN maidens will be part of the scenery at their Teepee Village at the annual Pendleton Round-up and Happy Canyon Days, September 11-14 at Pendleton, Oregon.

MULTNOMAH FALLS is one of Oregon's most spectacular sights as it plunges 620 feet into the Columbia River Gorge alongside the I-80N freeway east of Portland.

MASSIVE SEA STACKS reach skyward from the surf and sand at Harri's Beach State Park on the southern Oregon coast. Broad beaches, hiking trails, camp sites and picnic areas make this one of Oregon's most popular vacation spots.

SHORTCAKE & INDIANS

Eventful is the word for Oregon this year.

Roses, strawberries, cowboys and Indians are themes for some of the 225 festivals, fairs, rodeos and other events.

Flowers are the theme of many festivals. The 10-day Portland Rose Festival features stage shows, a marine day, ski tournament and three parades. Azaleas are honored at Brookings, rhododendrons at Florence and Lake Oswego is home to the Arts and Flowers Festival.

Lebanon's Strawberry Festival features the world's largest strawberry shortcake — six tons of it. Lumberjacks compete in the World Championship Timber Carnival at Albany and Shakespearean devotees gather for the Oregon Shakespearean Festival at Ashland. Indians gather for the Pendleton Round-Up and Happy Canyon Pageant and at the Indian Festival of Arts at La Grande.

IOC Board Recommends Ouster of South Africa

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) — World pressure brought upon the International Olympic Committee virtually eliminated South Africa today from appearing in the 1968 games at Mexico City next October.

The nine-man executive board of the IOC voted Sunday to recommend the exclusion and it was certain the 36 votes necessary to legalize the proposal would be collected with ease.

More than 40 countries, including Russia, have gone on record as saying they would boycott the games if South Africa were present.

The executive's decision was unanimous, despite the dismay expressed by IOC President Avery Brundage of Chicago, who had campaigned for South Africa's inclusion and arrived in Lausanne from a visit to Johannesburg last week.

Two South Africans, swimmer Karan Muir and sprinter Paul Nash, will suffer most from Sunday's decision. On current world form, they were thought to have excellent chances to win medals.

SHOCKED BY DECISION

In Johannesburg, Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Games Association, expressed shock at the executives' decision but said he still thought his country's chances in a re-vote were "good, but obviously not as good as last time. We still will find in the outcome that we have lots of friends."

South Africa's loss could be America's gain. World record sprinter Tommy Smith now may reconsider his decision not to participate. He was one of several Negro athletes who had announced they would boycott the games in protest of South Africa's inclusion.

The happiest man in Lausanne was Jean-Claude Ganga, secretary general of the Supreme Council for African Sport. He had made a determined bid to have

South Africa excluded and he shook delegates' hands and expressed his thanks on behalf of "all Africa."

The IOC trouble started shortly after the February 15 decision was reached at Grenoble to readmit South Africa to the games following her suspension in 1963. The Afro-Asian nations threatened to boycott Mexico City.

Mexico was disturbed, since the games promised to be the smallest on record after the host nation had invested millions of dollars in building new stadiums and other necessary equipment. Brundage was persuaded to call an emergency session of the board.

On the executive council, the Mexicans received firm support from Russia's Constantin Andrianov and Italy's Giorgio de Stefani.

MESSAGE SENT

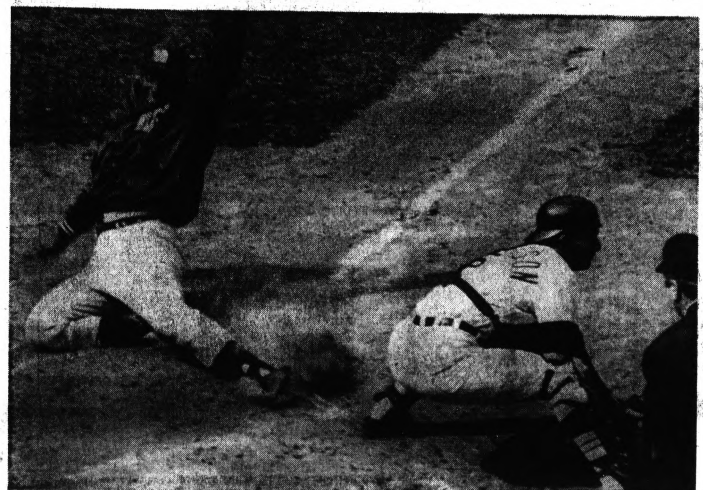

The following cable, signed by Brundage, was sent to the 71 voting members of the IOC, who only a few weeks ago had agreed to South Africa's participation.

"In view of all the information on the international climate received by the executive board at this meeting, it is unanimously of the opinion that it would be most unwise for a South African team to participate in the games of the XIX Olympiad — therefore the executive board strongly recommends that you endorse this unanimous proposal to withdraw its invitation to these games."

All the replies were expected to reach Lausanne within 10 days, when South Africa officially would be out of the games.

South Africa, which had given assurances she would send a mixed team to Mexico aboard the same aircraft and in the same uniform, now must wait until 1970 to show whether she will ever be allowed back into the movement.

North Stars Singing 'Blues'

ST. LOUIS UP — The way the St. Louis Blues feel, if they're down by one man, that might just give them the edge.

It worked that way in the Blues Sunday as they beat the Minnesota North Stars 5-3 in the first game of the National Hockey League West Division playoff finals. The Blues went ahead with a three-goal outburst within about three minutes in the second period.

Bill McCreary scored the key goal in the flurry while the Blues were short-handed. Terry Crisp assisted on the goal. It was the second time in the playoffs the two had combined on a short-handed goal.

The Blues were down 3-1 when the three-goal flurry started. Frank St. Margelle and Dicke Moore scored power-play goals to put the Blues ahead. Minnesota was two men short on St. Margelle's goal.

Then McCreary and Crisp teamed for the decisive goal. Wayne Connelly followed with his second goal of the game to bring the North Stars within a point.

Wingers Dave Balon and Billy Collins of the North Stars were doubtful starters tonight after being injured Sunday. Balon suffered a bruised wrist and Collins sustained a slash near the elbow.

The next two games of the East Division finals between the Montreal Canadiens and the Black Hawks will be held in Chicago Tuesday and Thursday.

BENCH TALK

If the Chicago players' play had been as hot as Billy Reay's temper, the Stanley Cup playoff picture might look a lot brighter for the Black Hawks.

Reay, Chicago's coach, assessed two bench penalties and the second led directly to a Montreal goal in the Canadiens 4-1 victory Saturday night.

The Canadiens, the East Division winners in the regular National Hockey League season, now lead the best-of-7 series 2-0, with the next two games in Chicago Tuesday and Thursday.

The winner of this series will meet the winner of the final West Division playoff set between Minnesota and St. Louis.

John Ashley "was a poor hockey player and a horrible referee," Reay shouted after the game.

Reay had his first run-in with Ashley midway through the second period, with Montreal leading 2-1 on goals by Jean Beliveau.

Jacques Laperriere and Chicago's Doug Mohns went at each other, and the Canadiens' John Ferguson rushed in. Ferguson charged that Ferguson threw two punches at Mohns.

Laperriere was penalized four minutes and Mohns two, but Ferguson was not sent off the ice, bringing Reay's wrath down upon Ashley. The referee tagged Reay with a bench penalty.

SHORT-HANDED

This put the Black Hawks one man short, and, although Chicago's Gilles Maréchal got two minutes a short while later, they still were only one man short when Jacques Lemaire made Montreal's lead 3-1.

League rules state that when a team already has two men in the penalty box and another is penalized, the third man can be replaced on the ice by another player.

Reay, who from time to time screamed "home!" at Ashley indicating he thought the official was calling the game in favor of Montreal, got his second bench penalty late in the second period. Beliveau scored his third goal on a power play 40 seconds later.

January Beats Foes, Flu in Taking Fat Golf Purse

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Don January, a lean Texan who went hungry for two days because of an attack of stomach flu, is at least in good financial condition today.

Despite the flu and lack of solid food, January, the 1967 national PGA titlist, came through with a final round 69 and beat another veteran, Julius Boros, by one stroke Sunday in the 72-hole, $150,000 Tournament of Champions.

First place in this lucrative golf tournament was good for $30,000. That was the 38-year-old January's biggest winning purse in 13 years as a pro.

January was stricken here with his stomach trouble early Saturday morning. At the time, he and Dan Sikes shared the halfway lead in the tournament.

Saturday was a bad day for the Texan — he didn't eat a thing — but he managed to shoot a 69, two under par, for the Stardust Country Club course. Par is 36-35-71.

EIGHT UNDER

Sunday morning he had a little hot cereal and then went out and shot another 69, giving him a total of 276, eight-under-par.

"I was kind of weak but I felt all right," January said.

Tigers Hike Win Streak to 9

Chisox Errors Help Bengals Take Twinbill

Special to The Press

CHICAGO — The witless Chicago White Sox keep making mistakes and they are in the cellar of the American League pennant race.

The Detroit Tigers, winners of nine straight, by capitalizing on opposition errors and getting good pitching, find themselves in first place, 1½ games ahead of the Minnesota Twins, after a three game sweep of the Chisox.

Dick McAuliffe's 10th inning single drove in the tie breaking runs in the 4-1 victory Saturday after rookie pitcher Jon Warden allowed the White Sox the tying run in the bottom of the ninth by forcing home a batter to make it 1-1.

Sunday, Earl Wilson and Danny McLain went the distance, and helped by a pair of errors by Pete Ward, the Tigers won 4-1 and 4-2.

Ward bobbed a pair of ground balls, one in each game, to open the door for a pair of game-breaking Detroit rallies.

STARTS RALLY

Bill Freehan's single with two outs in the second inning got the Tigers rolling in the first game. Loner Joe Hawley then hit Jim Northrup with a pitch and Ward bobbed Ray Oyler's grounder, filling the bases. Wilson singled home two runs and two more scored on Dick McAuliffe's triple.

In the fourth inning of the second game, Norm Cash walked and Freehan beat out a bunt. Oyler singled off Ward's glove, loading the bases, and McLain's single scored Cash.

A single by McAuliffe, a walk, Ward's error on a potential double play tap by Willie Horton and a single by Cash accounted for two more runs in the fifth.

A throwing error by shortstop Luis Aparicio in the seventh helped the Tigers tally their final run.

"You have to admire that man Ward," said Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky, whose White Sox now have lost nine straight. "He got a going over and stayed right in there like a professional."

Ward helped Detroit win two games last week when he misjudged a fly ball for a two-run double in one game and then allowed the winning run on a base hit off his glove in the 10th inning of the second game.

Old Celts Kick Up Heels in Whipping LA's Lakers

BOSTON UP — Pro basketball's collection of old folks, better known as the Boston Celtics, may be fired in the waning days of a long season, but they're acting like a bunch of sprightly kids.

With a starting lineup averaging more than 32 years old, and two top reserves averaging nearly 30, the Celtics rallied from a 13-point second half deficit for a 107-101 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Sunday.

"We discussed our defense at halftime," Boston players-coach Bill Russell said after leading the Celtics to a 1-0 advantage in the best-of-7 series for the National Basketball Association championship.

"It wasn't a very friendly conversation," Russell added with a smile. "I spoke to myself about it, too. I played loosey in the first half."

Russell, a 32-year NBA veteran at the age of 34, was the only player on either side to play all 48 minutes. He scored 12 of his 19 points and grabbed 16 of his 25 rebounds in the second half.

The Celtics, seeking to regain the championship they surrendered last season, figured to be fired after winning up a rugged seven-game series with the 76ers Friday night. The Lakers were healthy and rested after completing a four-game sweep against San Francisco April 13.

The Celtics jumped out to a 20-6 lead, but suddenly went cold. The Lakers closed to within 23-28 at the end of the first period and then stormed to a 61-48 halftime advantage.

Homer Paces 9th-Inning Uprising

5-2 Victory Keeps Birds Singing

Hitting Slump Broken Against Yankees

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Oliva broke an eight-day hitting slump by powering a two-run homer Sunday which carried the Minnesota Twins to a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Oliva's 380-foot homer into right field bleachers scored Rod Carew, who had just stroked his third single with one out in the fifth inning, and broke a 2-2 tie.

Oliva's sacrifice fly in the seventh drove in another Minnesota run after Carew beat an infield single for his fourth hit.

Oliva's homer pinned the defeat on Fred Talbot, who struck out eight and belted a fifth-inning homer which tied the game 2-2. Talbot retired for a pinch hitter in the seventh and the Twins added a run off Jim Bouton in the bottom of the inning.

SECOND WIN Dave Boswell pitched his second victory without a loss although he took a tumble at the plate in scoring the Twins' seventh-inning run and couldn't finish.

At Worthington protected Boswell's victory, pitching out of a jam in the eighth.

Cardinals Romp Cubs, 9-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Orlando Cepeda socked a two-run homer, Tom McCaver drove in three runs and Julian Javier had three hits leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-2 romp over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

Nelson Briles went the distance for the victory—his third this season and 13th straight in a carry over streak that includes nine last season and one during the World Series.

Ken Holtzman, who won nine straight games for the Cubs last year, was the victim of the Cardinals' attack and tagged with the loss.

Cepeda homered in the first after Javier doubled. A walk and singles by McCaver and Mike Shannon produced the run that snapped a 2-2 tie in the fourth inning.

In the fifth, Lou Brock doubled and scored on Javier's hit. Then Curt Flood was hit by a pitch and two runs scored when Adolfo Phillips fumbled McCaver's single.

Javier also touched off a three-run rally in the seventh with a single. Cepeda also singled. Then Roger Maris singled one run home and McCaver doubled, driving in two more.

Bucs, McBean Halt San Francisco, 10-0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell hit home runs and Al McBean added a five-hitter for his third straight victory as the Pittsburgh Pirates flogged the San Francisco Giants 10-0 Sunday.

McBean, a converted relief pitcher, struck out three and walked two on the way to his second triumph over the Giants this season. He beat them 2-1 with a three-hitter eight days ago at San Francisco.

The shutout ended the right-hander's earned run average to 1.67.

Clemente laced a line drive to center field in the midst of a seven-run fourth-inning outburst and circled the bases for an inside the park homer when Ty Cline's head and rolled to the wall. Stargell followed with another homer, giving the Pirates a 9-0 lead.

Clemente had barely missed an inside the park homer in the third when he tripped, but was thrown out at the plate.

Don Clendenen tripled in the second inning, triggering a three-run Pittsburgh rally.

NEW YORK (AP) — Reliever Phil Regan earned victories in both games as the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a Sunday double-header from the New York Mets 7-6 and 3-2.

Zoilo Versalles drove in three runs with a double and triple as the Dodgers scored six times in the last two innings to erase a 5-1 New York lead and take the opener.

Then the Dodgers built an early 3-1 edge and Regan came off the bullpen to protect it in the nightcap. He worked 4 1/3 innings before John Billingham came on to finish up.

Los Angeles' nicked Met starter Les Rohr for a run in the first inning of the second game on three walks and an infield single by Ron Fairly.

To his credit, the Chicago third sacker belted a pair of homers in the twinning, driving in all three White Sox runs. He hit a solo shot off Wilson in the first game and belted a two-run homer off McLain in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

The Tigers have the day off today, but move on to Cleveland Tuesday for a two-game series with the Indians.

"This club worked hard all spring and now realizes that the early games are just as important as the September games," said Smith. "All I can hope is that we stay healthy."

But even though the Tigers hadn't lost a game since opening day, the clubhouse was relatively subdued.

"This is not a spontaneous group, which is good," said Detroit Manager Mayo Smith. "You get up and down too much."

"They've got a job to do and they do it. It's a better club than last year because we've had a year to get together. The experience of being in contention last year has helped us immensely."

On Saturday both teams scored in the ninth, the White Sox tying the game drove in Mickey Stanley. Stanley had opened the inning with a single and moved to third on a sacrifice and Willie Horton's infield hit.

But Chicago came back to tie it in the bottom half when Tony Davis opened with a single and Alomar came in to run. Pete Ward bounced to Norm Cash but pitcher Fred Lahey dropped Cash's throw.

Country Day took seven events Saturday in winning its own fourth annual Invitational Track Meet.

The Country Day squad rolled up 63 points to finish well ahead of runner-up Lake Forest Academy (40). Hawken School (26) placed third, and Allendale (20) fourth.

Country Day picked up two firsts in the field events and five in the running division. Tom Barkulis flipped the shot 47-feet-1-inch to lead the way in that department and K. C. McWilliams took the long jump with a leap of 26-feet-9-inches.

John Maxted took the two-mile in 11:07. Jerry Dowling won the 440 in 52.5 and John Means set the pace in the high hurdles with a 16.7 clocking.

Means later joined McWilliams, Dany Ditzian and Tom Shriner to win the 800 relay in 1:34.5. The other winner in the mile relay was with Dowling, Jack Williamson, Jeff Wilson and Peter Risdon posting a time of 3:35.8.

Cranes Sweep Country Day 9

Dirk Dieters singled home the winning run in the seventh inning of the first game and Jim Goldsmith fashioned a one-hitter in the second contest as Cranbrook took a double header from Detroit Country Day Saturday.

The Cranes prevailed in the opener, 4-3, and in the nightcap, 2-0, to run their record to 4-3.

Rod Fonda started the seventh inning of the first game with a single, moved to second on an error and raced home on Dieters' safety.

Goldsmith went the distance in the second contest and his teammates backed the sharp pitching with single runs in the third and sixth innings.

First Game
Cranbrook 100-100-3 4-3
Detroit 100-100-1 0-4
Dwight Edwards and Bohmy Howard Jones and Maier.

Second Game
Cranbrook 100-100-0-1 2-0
Detroit 100-100-2 0-1
Maier, S-W. Williams, Kalline, Berry.

All-Stater Is Batting Star for Romeo Nine

Clyde Cushingberry, Romeo's All-State basketball player, rapped out five hits Saturday as the Bulldogs divided a double header with Marysville.

Cushingberry went 3-for-4 in the opener and chased home one run as Romeo posted an 8-3 victory, and he collected two hits in the nightcap which went to Marysville, 7-3. Mike Semp and Brad Czajka also picked up two hits each in the second game.

DOUBLED UP—Detroit shortstop Ray Oyler leaps high to avoid Chicago's Duane Josephson after the White Sox catcher was forced at second base in the first game of a twinning in Chicago yesterday. Oyler fielded a grounder off the bat of Russ Snyder in the fifth inning, stepped on second to get Josephson and then tossed to first baseman Norm Cash to complete a double play. The Tigers won this one, 4-1, and the nightcap, 4-2.

Despite Walkout by Negro Group

Big Church Merger Is Near

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Final steps were being taken today for America's biggest church merger amid tensions underscored by a walkout of some Negro Methodists from a vast, solemn service of holy communion.

They staged the action to dramatize their charge that racism remains in plans for the new denomination—the United Methodist Church.

To be formally inaugurated Tuesday, it will join the 10.3-million-member Methodist Church and the 746,099-member Evangelical United Brethren Church into a single body.

"In sorrow we perceive a United Methodist Church still divided by the infamy of segregation and discrimination," said a statement by the protesting group, Black Methodists for Church Renewal.

HUSHED INTERLUDE

Their walkout occurred in a hushed interlude of a mass celebration of the Lord's Supper Sunday night in the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

About 40 Negroes, joined by more than a score of sympathetic whites, quietly filed out as the bread and cup were being distributed to a throng of about 10,000 church delegates and visitors.

The Rev. Cecil Williams of San Francisco, spokesman for the demonstrators, said they refrained from taking communion to symbolize "the brokenness in the fellowship."

Their statement said they found no indication that the "united church" tends to take immediate steps to deal with racism in its structural life, or to assure Negroes adequate representation on official boards.

SEPARATE JURISDICTION

They criticized particularly the plan to continue temporarily in the united church some aspects of a separate Negro Methodist jurisdiction, with 1972 a target date for eliminating it.

Some of it already has been incorporated into white counterparts, but elements of it remain. The church has more than 350,000 Negro members.

Commenting on the Negro walkout, the Rev. Dr. James Stockes, a white Greensboro, N.C., clergyman, said there admittedly "still is racism in the church."

"But from a perspective of history, the church has been moving extremely fast to eliminate factors of race in the church organization," he said. "We have to keep working at it."

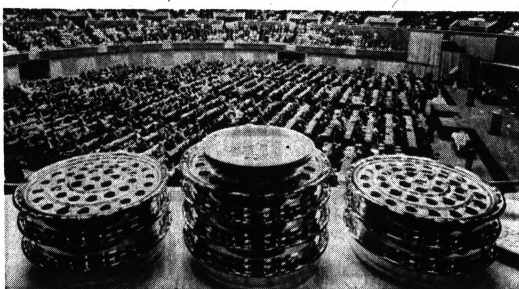

VOICED CONCERN

The protesting group voiced concern that the newly merged church will fail to act strongly enough to ease the "urban crisis."

However proposals are reported in the office here for the new church to set up a crisis fund of $20 million, mainly for aiding projects in the slums — larger than any such outlay yet by a church.

Carrying placards, the protesting group first stood at the auditorium entrances in a "silent vigil" of prayer as the worshippers from across the country assembled.

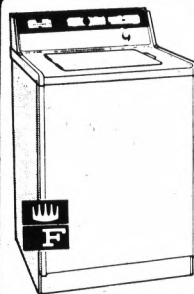

A number of Negroes, among voting delegates, did not join in the later walkout.

MASS COMMUNION — Several thousand persons celebrating the uniting of the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church took part in the service of holy communion at the Dallas Memorial Auditorium in Dallas last night. Sacraments (in foreground) were on altars throughout the auditorium. The conference opened yesterday.

Big. This year even bigger. Some Chevrolet Tri-Levels are longer. Some wider. Some with more cargo room. Size up Impala. Nothing in its field comes as big. For instance, in many others you wouldn't dare try laying a 4 x 8-foot mirror flat in the main cargo level. (Especially if you're superstitious.) In Impala, no problem. The hidden storage compartment on the lower level also takes more of your gear than any of them. The roof rack you order should take care of the rest. For your comfort, there's extra hip and shoulder room.

PINCHED NERVES

By
Dr. H. H.
Alexander

If you are nervous, irritable, suffer with frequent headaches, dizziness, experience pain in your neck, shoulders, arms, back or legs or often feel a tightness and pain in your chest and in between your shoulder blades — the chances are you have pinched and irritated nerves.

Often falls, sprains and faulty posture cause misalignments of the spine, which results in pressure on nerve roots. Any pinching of these nerves as they leave the spine can cause trouble in the organs and limbs served by them.

Chiropractic has specialized in the analysis of spinal disorders and misalignments of vertebrae that cause pinching and irritation of nerves. Consult your chiropractor for a check-up where nerve pain is suspected. Treatment is directed towards lasting correction by removal of the spinal misalignments.

Williams Needs Thick Skin as Philippine Envoy

By PATRICK J. KILLEN
MANILA (UP) — G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams will need all his celebrated charm and informality if the Senate, as expected, approves his nomination as U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

He should bring with him a skin thick enough to withstand editorial abuse, light clothes for the southeast Asian heat and some reasonable influence with the White House to satisfy the Philippine government.

The new ambassador should also disabuse himself — if necessary — of such erroneous notions as "The Philippines is the United States' best friend in Asia" or that Filipinos are particularly grateful for their 1946 independence.

In fact, the former Michigan governor will find U.S. actions and motives more often questioned and criticized in the Philippines' free-swinging newspapers and magazines than anywhere else in non-Communist countries of Asia.

'DAMAGING TO PROGRESS'
Former Ambassador William McCormick Blair, who left Ma-

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS

limited to the Manila region where students had demonstrated before his embassy against the Vietnam war, and the continuance of U.S. military bases in the Philippines. Others feel anti-Americanism can not help but spread when voiced by the Philippines' national newspapers and magazines centered in Manila.

Williams will find the Philippines a vast archipelago of 7,000 islands and 33 million people. In president Ferdinand E. Marcos, 50, he will find a slender dynamic executive who has made progress despite massive problems of poverty and politics.

The United States gained control of the Philippines in 1898 from Spain after the Spanish-American War. It took the U.S. four years to put down a local uprising which strong Filipino nationalists increasingly regard as their revolution.

HAD PROBLEMS

Blair believes there is a vast reservoir of good will for the United States, particularly in the hinterland where the U.S. established schools and a public health program. It also provided the islands with English as their most common language.

But the former ambassador had his problems. The present speaker of the House of Representatives Jose B. Laurel Jr.

demanded Blair's ouster after a public quarrel when Blair suggested Laurel was fudging with the truth. Blair's first and only press conference with Filipino reporters — a background session — ended in disaster when he was quoted as saying Filipinos once threw a bomb at a school on an American military base. The charge later proved in error.

Williams' task will be to keep official relations cordial at a time when more and more Filipino politicians are using Uncle Sam as a whipping boy.

He also will take over when the Philippines' continued participation in the Vietnam war is uncertain and during a period when U.S. and Filipino officials are doing some serious thinking and bargaining on their future economic relations.

Ford for Tax Hike,
Europe Troop Cut

LOS ANGELES (AP)—House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, R-Mich., says that "in this current crisis" a temporary increase in federal taxes is in order and that America should withdraw troops from Europe to stem the gold drain.

Ford made the suggestions Saturday in a speech at the University of California at Los Angeles.

"I think you've got to weigh the military problem vis-a-vis the drain on our gold and the balance of payments. I believe that such a study might show that we could, in this current crisis, make some reduction in our military forces in Western Europe," he said.

Arctic Adventurers
Head for Civilization

WARD HUNT ISLAND, N.W.T. (UPI) — Four explorers who spent 43 days riding snowmobiles over the frozen Arctic Ocean in the first verified overland trip to the North Pole today winged their way back toward civilization.

The four, plus the nine others in their amateur expedition, planned to make three shuttles from their base camp here to Resolute Bay, 200 miles to the south.

They hoped to catch a commercial flight back to Montreal Thursday, the only day each week there is air service to Resolute Bay.

The leader of the expedition, Ralph Plaisted, 40, a St. Paul, Minn., insurance agent, said, "There's one thing we want to do now: go home for a while. We're ready for a rest."

After spending about 24 hours at the top of the world, the four explorers flew back to Ward Hunt Island Saturday as soon as the Air Force had verified their position at 90 degrees north latitude.

SPOTTED THE PARTY

An Air Force reconnaissance plane spotted the party and their snowmobiles at 10:45 a.m. EST Saturday. The group then loaded their supplies aboard their twin-engine support plane and covered the 474 miles back to the base camp in about two hours.

The trip to the pole, begun March 7, traversed 825 miles in a zigzag course as the party maneuvered around spots of open water and "pressure walls" of ice, sometimes reaching four stories in height.

Adm. Robert Peary made the first overland, but unverified, journey to the pole in 1909 on dog sleds.

The 18-horsepower snowmobiles, equipped with flotation collars, radios and heaters, gave the modern party an advantage over Peary: they could leap across three-to-five-foot gaps of water.

Arms Agency
Research May Be Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of growing government research activity hope to impose a $7-million ceiling on external research by the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency over the next two years.

A foreign relations committee amendment up for Senate vote today also would cut the agency's authorization to $17 million, $3 million below the House-approved figure.

The Senate planned to clear amendments and vote before the end of the day on a bill to extend the disarmament agency's life two more years.

The administration asked $33 million for three years, with no restriction on research expected to total some $17.2 million.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.—calling the proposed research ceiling "incredibly shortsighted"—had amendments to accept the administration request or, that failing, the House figure.

In approving the bill, the foreign relations committee said a sampling of representative research studies by the agency "raised sufficient doubts that all of them are either necessary or particularly useful."

UAW Strike
Idles 1,000

ESCANABA (AP) — About 1,000 workers at two Harnischfanger plants were idled today by a United Auto Workers strike which was called Saturday after company and union representatives failed to reach agreement on a new three-year contract.

The company is Escanaba's largest employer. One plant builds truck-mounted cranes, the other welding machines.

The union is demanding an hourly rate of $3.04 across the board while the company has offered a base rate of $2.65 an hour, with incentive pay for over-quota production which it says could raise pay to $3.31 hourly.

'True' or 'False' Question Posed by NY Sideburns Set

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The Sideburns Set is now competing with the Jet Set . . . and at cafe openings, such as Edie Adams had at the Americana Royal Box, we heard people speculating about which men were wearing true sides and which were wearing falsies.

Edie's husband Marty Mills was there in a legitimate beard and honest though short sideburns, and since she's expecting in August, it wasn't surprising that she said:

"I didn't intend to do an impersonation of Ethel Kennedy but I'm already doing it."

Edie also spoke of the McCarthy doll: "You wind it up and Bobby Kennedy starts running."

How many men, you wondered, paid $75 for phony sideburns at a barbershop?

"You'd be surprised at how many bankers and lawyers don't want to look like bankers and lawyers at night, and paste on the falsies," said Larry Mathews, the beauty merchant. "They go swinging around town, practically in disguise."

Some men wanted "a combination"—sideburns, goatee and mustache—for $100. Roger DeAnfrasio, a barber on E. 58th St., said the sideburns excited a lot of men to wear fake mustaches.

"With the Nehru jackets, you've got to have sideburns," one expert told me.

However, once when I interviewed Nehru in New Delhi, he didn't have sideburns.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Happy Birthday to Barbara Streisand, whose 26th is coming up. Edie Adams celebrated one, too . . . Harry Belafonte'll play a Negro named Levine in a movie with Edward G. Robinson here in the fall . . . George Olsen, Jack Benny's orchestra leader many years ago, now a Jersey restaurateur, bought a new tux for Jack's Waldorf show . . . Duo: Jim Aubrey's dir. "Skye" and Gig Young . . . Wonder how MGM'll film Arthur Weiss' "O'Kelly's Eclipse"?

Gayle Hunnicutt & David Hemmings, who got mysteriously married in Europe, then decided they weren't married after all, resumed their romance in San Francisco. Hemmings flew from London for a 3-day reunion with Gayle who started filming "Wylie" opposite Michael Sarrazin . . . Richard Zanuck sent caviar & champagne to producer Ernest Lehman after the first day of the "Hello, Dolly!" shooting . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Never in the history of fashion has so little material been raised so high to reveal so much that needs to be covered so badly—P. D. Hitchens.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: The painter Renard, asked how he achieved such natural flesh tones on his nudes, answered, "I simply keep painting until I feel like pinching. Then I know I'm right."

EARL'S PEARLS: Some women call it pin money because they have to needle their husbands to get it.

Jack Benny, at the Waldorf, mentions his insurance company: "I won't tell you how much I'm insured for—but when I go, they go!"—That's earl, brother.

Mental Illness, Tied to Brain 'Chemistry'

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Lin Pauling, the Nobel Prize-winning chemist, suggests that many mental disorders may stem from a chemical imbalance in the brain.

Pauling, of the University of California at San Diego, said therapy to restore the balance—an approach he calls orthomolecular psychiatry—may be "the best method of treatment for many patients."

Writing in the current issue of Science, the weekly journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Pauling suggested that mental disease is precipitated by neurological reactions to chemical imbalances including vitamin deficiencies or overproduction of natural body substances.

'CEREBRAL SCURVY'

"There is the possibility that some human beings have sort of cerebral scurvy, without any of the other manifestations, or a sort of cerebral pellagra, or cerebral pernicious anemia," he said.

He said the mental disorder may occur long before the imbalance is severe enough to result in physical symptoms because the "functioning of the brain and nervous system is

Bourbon Makes You 'Riskier' — Psychologists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is a widely held belief that a drunk will take chances he'd shy away from if sober.

A team of New York psychologists confirmed this supposition Saturday and reported a further finding: How much risk a drunk person will take depends in part on the kind of bottled courage he has been swigging.

A person stiff on bourbon, for example, will tend to be "riskier" than the same person tight on vodka. This is because bourbon "has 100 times the congenener content of vodka."

The report on drinking and risk taking was presented at a meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association by Allan I. Teger, Edward S. Katkin and Dean G. Pruitt, department of psychology, State University of New York at Buffalo.

Congeners are the substances, such as fusel oils, which give whiskies their distinctive color and taste.

According to the Buffalo psychologists, it has been discovered recently that congeners — as well as alcohol — affect performance and judgment, vodka being primarily colorless grain alcohol, has few congeners.

The psychologists experimented on 36 graduate students, all over 21, at the Buffalo school. All volunteered and all got $20 apiece for their part in the project. They were given four shots each, enough to make them "mildly drunk."

Then they were asked on the basis of a 12-item "choice dilemma questionnaire" to give advice to "a hypothetical person who is faced with a difficult decision." Sample dilemma: "The captain of a football team must choose between a risky play that would mean either a win or a loss, and a safe that would mean a tie."

Results of the experiment, the psychologists said, showed that the subjects "were riskier when they were drunk than when they were sober." And those subjects "given bourbon showed significantly more risk than those given vodka."

'DELETERIOUS EFFECTS'

Katkin and another psychologist, W. N. Hayes, had previously concluded that congeners in alcoholic drinks "may have deleterious effects" in situations involving judgment.

Blondin, a French acrobat, crossed the gorge just below Niagara Falls on a tightrope.

Birmingham Police Seek 2 or 3 Phony Detectives

Two or three con men posing police give their intended victims a "lot of impressive double widows out of their savings talk." The women, he said, are being sought by Birmingham police.

One 65-year-old woman was duped out of $1,450 last week, while attempts have been made to obtain money from two others, according to Detective L. Merle Holmquist.

In each case, the women have been contacted by phone and asked if they would be willing to help catch an embezzler employed in the bank where they have their funds.

By withdrawing all or a portion of their savings, they are told the shortage will show up in an audit. The savings are to be turned over to the "police" for safekeeping while the investigation is underway.

Holmquist said that in the first two attempts, the women became suspicious of the caller and contacted the Birmingham police.

Holmquist said the phony

Town Is Evacuated as Tank Car Burns

KELLEY, Iowa (UPI) — A freight train derailment ruptured an ammonia tank car and ignited a diesel fuel tanker yesterday, forcing the evacuation of most of the 240 residents of this town.

One end of the ammonia tank blew out, damaging siding on nearby houses and scorching grass for some 300 feet. Two persons were injured, but not seriously.

Most of the town was evacuated after two of the 18 cars left on the tracks were discovered to be ammonia tankers which had sprung minor leaks. They were removed to be emptied.

Residents returned to their homes within hours after the fires, caused by the Chicago and North Western freight derailment, were brought under control.

Magazine Look Glossy

But Problems Mar the Picture

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK — At the crest of a six-year boom in circulation and advertising revenue, the magazine industry today exudes the casual, confident bearing of those well-groomed people who populate the nation's business advertisements.

Pile billion copies a year are now being distributed and 85 per cent of the nation's families, it is estimated, claim, read at least one magazine. In education, incomes are on an upward course throughout most of American society, meaning more money for magazines. And people today also have more leisure time, more of which the magazine people hope to occupy.

But, just as those cool people in the mazes have problems, so do the publishers. The hard statistics, which the industry relies on so heavily, now mar the shiny image of absolute good health.

The entire industry is wrestling with rising postal rates. Some publishers have circulating problems and others, such as Curtis Publishing, have financial woes. And revenue, though high, is a bit disappointing.

In the first three months of this year income from advertising totaled $253,898,600, more than $10.6 million below the figure for a year earlier. The number of ad pages dropped to 18,866 from 20,382 in the first quarter of 1967.

Publishers Blame Unions for Rash of Paper Strikes

NEW YORK (AP) — A committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, released last night, claimed an unusually large number of newspaper strikes in 1967 were the result of "obdurate, uncompromising union postures."

The ANPA's annual meeting began today and runs through Thursday.

The report said there were 35 strikes against 32 newspapers in 25 states last year, the greatest amount of strike activity in the 1960s.

Photographer for Flint Paper Again Cited

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — For the fourth time in five years, William "Barry" Edmonds of the Flint Journal has been named News Photographer of the Year by the Michigan Press Photographers Association.

A Flint television cameraman, Sol Isaac of WJRT-TV, was honored as 1968 Television Cameraman of the Year.

Edmonds also received first-place awards in the portrait and social significance categories of the still photography contest.

Isaac won first, second, and third-place awards in the television feature category, and third-place in the spot news category.

At Denau of WJTV-TV, Detroit, won first-place in the television spot news category.

First-place still photography winners included:

- Feature, Corwin J. Wherrett, Battle Creek Enquirer - News, picture story, Henry Zeman, Grand Rapids Press; spot news, West Stafford, Ulica Daily Sentinel; sports, Lohar Konietzko.
- Spot news, Corwin J. Wherrett, Battle Creek Enquirer; picture story, Bob Harrington, Michigan Conservation Department; color feature, B. G. Bell, free lance, Windsor, Ont.; color sports, Bob Harrington; Chicago X (all photos not fitting in other classes), Lohar Konietzko.

Ford of Canada, UAW Reach Accord

TORONTO (AP) — The United Auto Workers today present details of a new contract with Ford Motor Co. of Canada to more than 11,000 workers who have been on strike.

The union membership is expected to vote on ratifying the new contract Tuesday.

The moral is never to judge a magazine by its cover. Problems? Everyone has them, including this image-conscious industry with the glossy aura of success.

Romney Silent on Draft Move

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Gov. George Romney did nothing to stop the latest move to draft him as a favorite son GOP presidential candidate. The draft movement got under way Saturday at the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans convention at Grand Rapids.

Romney, a speaker at the convention said, "I want to see the Michigan delegation remain uncommitted to any announced candidate until all candidates take public positions on major issues."

Although not discouraging the draft, Romney told a news conference there was no change in his status as "a withdrawn candidate" for the Republican presidential nomination.

At a separate news conference, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said he believed Romney would accept the GOP vice presidential nomination if asked.

L. Gov. William Milliken told delegates Friday night there was a strong move among Republicans across Michigan to draft the governor as a favorite son.

Republican State Central Committee member Jerry Roe of Lansing, a delegate to the convention, said that a "feeling" among the delegates "is overwhelming."

News in Brief

At a separate news conference, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said he believed Romney would accept the GOP vice presidential nomination if asked.

L. Gov. William Milliken told delegates Friday night there was a strong move among Republicans across Michigan to draft the governor as a favorite son.

Court Upholds Picketing Curb

Rights Workers Lose Fight in Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today a 1964 Mississippi law that makes it illegal to block access to public buildings by picketing or demonstrating.

The court also rejected claims by civil rights workers that the law was unfairly enforced simply as a means of ending a demonstration in favor of Negro voter registration.

U.S. Editors Pick Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vincent Jones, editorial director and vice president of the National Newspaper Editors' Association, was elected president Friday of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Jones was chosen by the society's board of directors at the close of the three-day ASNE convention in Rochester, N.Y.

Michael J. Ogden, executive editor of the Providence, R.I. Journal and Bulletin.

Stock Markets Down Sharply

Du Pont lost 1 1/2, IBM, Schenley and Honeywell about 2 each, Xerox nearly 3.

Rail Merger Jumps Profits

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The newly merged Penn Central Railroad had a consolidated earnings of $138,368,000 in the first quarter of 1968, a 16.6 per cent increase over the same period last year.

The increase in earnings of the two roads during the first quarter of 1967 was $11,841,000.

A Look at Television

Tony Awards Outshine Oscar

BY RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Broadway's Tony Awards were presented on NBC-TV last night, and the production was vastly superior in drama, showmanship, wit and taste to Hollywood's recent Oscar telecast.

The hosts were ideal — Peter Ustinov, with his sophisticated sense of the ridiculous, and Angela Lansbury, a grand lady who also stole the Oscar show with a musical number. And they received top-drawer assistance from Jack Benny.

Furthermore, the production numbers from "Golden Rainbow," "The Happy Time," "Hello, Dolly!," "How Now, Dow Jones" and "Hallelujah, Baby!" were much more substantial in theatrical effect than the Oscar entertainment.

One could not help notice the differing tones of the two shows as established by their settings — the Tony awards coming from the Shubert Theater, and the Oscars from a civic auditorium in Santa Monica, Calif.

Broadway, however, revealed itself last night — again — as being just as taken up with sentiment and commerce in its awards as is Hollywood. It was hardly camouflaged that we were dealing more precisely with the limited demands of Broadway as opposed to the fuller spectrum of the significant CLASS TELLS ceremony somehow makes them seem less.

On the other hand, Broadway's impact was enhanced by the style of NBC-TV's Tony Awards. Money may talk, but class tells.

There were so many superior talents on camera at the Tony Awards that it sometimes seemed the show was more important to presenting other presenters than in anything else. But the quality of the star power dominated. Consider the list:

Tony Randall, Audrey Hepburn, Sandy Dennis, Carol Channing, Anne Jackson, Wallach, Maurice Chevalier, Gregory Peck, Marlene Dietrich, Shirley Booth, Art Carney, Groucho Marx, Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Anne Bancroft, Pearl Bailey, Leslie Uggams, Alan King — any many more.

It was not a night for the starlet-fan magazine idols.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

In offering special recognition to Miss Dietrich, Miss Hepburn and Chevalier, the Broadway presentation injected a touching and showmanlike note of theatrical drama.

And there were several entertainment highlights as well: There was Miss Bailey doing a number from the all-Negro version of "Hello, Dolly!" and getting a rousing reception. There were Miss Uggams, Lillian Hayman and Robert Hooks in a strong number from "Hallelujah, Baby!" And there were Groucho and David Wayne scoring in a song from "The Happy Time."

Groucho was also in rare form as a presenter.

The Tony Awards ran a little over an hour and three-quarters, whereas the Oscars ran on and on, finally expiring after two-and-a-half hours.

Last year was the first on television for the Tony presentations, and they left much to be desired as a show. This year, however, Tony producer Alexander Cohen indicated he was a fast student.

Also last night: ABC-TV presented an hour variety show called "Romp," a sort of teeny-bopper version of "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In." The girls looked as though they had just been produced by a computer. They boys looked like eight-year-olds. And the host — direct from "Peyton Place" — was Ryan O'Neal, one of the giant mini-talents of our time.

Why Did Open Housing Suddenly Come of Age?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "There is one thing stronger than all the armies in the world; and that is an idea whose time has come," Victor Hugo once said.

On April 10, with many of the cities of the United States and even its Capitol building occupied by the country's own troops, an idea's time had arrived.

Congress passed, and President Johnson soon signed into law, a bill saying that by 1970, about 80 per cent of the nation's homes and apartments must be sold or rented to all qualified comers alike, without racial discrimination.

Just what is this idea, how will it work, and why did its time suddenly come after years of failure and to the astonishment of experts who only a few months ago considered its chances this year hopeless?

The law declares: "It is the policy of the United States to provide, within constitutional limitations, for fair housing throughout the United States."

FALLS SHORT

The law itself falls short of this goal. When it takes full force in 1970, it will cover about 80 per cent of the nation's housing units.

Upon enactment, the law banned discrimination — because of race, religion or nationality — only in federally owned housing and in federally financed apartments already covered by an executive order issued by President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

The real effect will come in 1969, when the law extends to other apartment housing and real estate developments, and in 1970 when it covers private homes sold through brokers. In 1969, the law also forbids discrimination in making home loans.

When the law takes full effect, there will be these main exemptions:

- An owner selling or renting his own home without a realtor's help or the use of discriminatory advertising.
- An owner renting up to three rooms or apartments in a dwelling where he lives.
- A private club or nonprofit group operating lodging for its own use.

MAY BE REJECTED

In all cases, however, an applicant still may be rejected for reasons other than race, religion or nationality — reasons such as poor credit, children, pets, age, drinking violations under earlier landlords, or any other standard applied to all alike.

The law places primary enforcement in the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which is currently working out the establishment of a special office as the law requires.

A person who felt he had been discriminated against would first make a complaint to HUD, which would look into it and, if the complaint appeared valid, would try to resolve it through conciliation.

If a state or local agency also had jurisdiction, it would be given a chance to work out the problem first.

CIVIL SUIT

If conciliation failed, the complaint could be taken to court through a civil suit.

Upon a finding of illegal discrimination, the court would have the power to order a remedy and to award the victim actual damages plus up to $1,000 in punitive damages. There are not any criminal penalties.

In an additional enforcement provision the Justice Department could bring suit to halt a "pattern" of resistance to the law.

The law also directs HUD to begin an educational program, including conferences with interested groups (probably ranging from real estate dealers and developers to fair-housing associations) "to work out programs of voluntary compliance."

'APPROPRIATE'

To those who believe in the idea, the law will do this:

It will say to the Negro who can make something of himself: You may live in a residence appropriate to your accomplishments.

It will say to the developer, broker or home owner who does not want to discriminate — and there are many on record: Your competitors will no longer be able to put you at a disadvantage.

Leaders from President Johnson on down say the law must be coupled with new low-cost housing, education and jobs.

If these are provided, the open-housing law may become the bridge to help the races get acquainted with each other again, reverse the trend of racial isolation that has produced the ghettos, and cut into the vicious circle of racial alienation, ignorance, joblessness and despair.

A Junior Editors Quiz About EGGS

QUESTIONS: Why are eggs so popular for breakfast?

ANSWER: Among the most important substances in foods are the compounds called proteins. These have the special job of building cell tissue and replacing broken-down cells. Besides this, they give us heat and energy, all very valuable in a meal which begins the day. Meat provides much protein, but proteins are also found in eggs, milk, cereals and some other foods.

You could get your breakfast protein from meat — but this is a bit of a job to cook; most people leave meat dishes until later in the day. So many of us turn to eggs, milk and cereals.

Eggs give proteins of high value, are quick to prepare and can be served in different ways — all good reasons for using them.

Can you cook an egg properly? If not, ask your mother to show you how to prepare them in the four most popular ways: boiled, fried, scrambled and poached.

Our picture shows another idea. You cut a hole in a piece of bread which you lay in a greased pan. Drop in a raw egg, and fry on both sides. It looks different and tastes different.

McCarthy Suggests Mansfield as Replacement for Rusk

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says Secretary of State Dean Rusk should be fired and says one acceptable replacement would be Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

The Democratic presidential candidate also said yesterday that Director J. Edgar Hoover controls the FBI as a "kind of fief" and should be retired.

Turning to Republican Presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, McCarthy said it was the "old Nixon" who accused Democrats of dishonesty by promising massive and immediate programs to aid the poor.

"About the time you would like to think that Mr. Nixon has come around to speaking rather straight, you know, and using the language as he should," the Minnesota Democrat said, "he then goes back to words like 'dishonest'."

Nixon Saturday had called promises of massive anti-poverty spending a "dishonest and cruel delusion."

STILL NOT CONVINCED

Despite a leading national poll which shows Nixon running ahead of all comers for the presidency, some top Republicans are still not convinced he's a winner and are urging local party leaders to "stay loose" for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Nixon was in Montana today; a weekend Gallup Poll showed him beating all three of the possible Democratic nominees.

The poll showed him leading both Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy by 3 percentage points and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, still unannounced, by 9 points.

Despite this, Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and William E. Miller, both former national chairmen, have started a swing through the Midwest drumming up support for Rockefeller.

Vice President Humphrey is quoted by Newsweek magazine, meanwhile, as saying Nixon will be harder to beat this year than in 1960 but that "if I get the nomination, I'll beat him."

Humphrey is expected to announce Saturday that he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

Texas Gov. John B. Connally, mentioned as a potential Humphrey running mate, had high praise on NBC's "Meet the Press" for Humphrey but said he hasn't decided whom to support for the presidential nomination.

McCarthy flew to St. Paul, Minn., after taping the television interview in Washington and said he expects to have more than 25 per cent of the delegates at the Democratic National Convention.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

In other political developments: Backers claim Democratic county conventions in Iowa over the weekend gave Kennedy control of a majority of state convention delegates who will select Iowa's delegates to the national nominating convention.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., says Kennedy is the only Democratic presidential candidate Nixon might be able to beat — but says he thinks Rockefeller could defeat any of them.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., says he could accept the GOP vice presidential nomination if it were offered. He said the decision whether to accept would "depend on conditions" and on whom the Republicans nominate for president.

The Maine Democratic State Committee yesterday unanimously endorsed Sen. Edmund S. Muskie as a favorite-son candidate to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

U.S. Aide Survives Crash; Gems Lost

From Our News Wires
WINDHOEK, South-West Africa — "My God, how could I have been so lucky?" American diplomatic courier Thomas Taylor asked rescuers who found him beside the wreckage of a plane crash that killed 122 persons.

Taylor, 36, of Tahlequah, Okla., and five other persons survived when a South African Airways Boeing 707 smash into the arid Southwest African veld soon after taking off from Windhoek Airport Saturday night. The 116 other persons aboard the big aircraft died when it broke into four parts and burned.

The airline identified three other American passengers: Dr. E. Fussenegger, connected with the Austrian textile industry, who was killed; M.R.P. Roche and Benjamin Thomas Jr., 57, director of European operations for Southeastern Engineers Inc. of West Point, Ga.

In London a British travel agency asked that the Boeing 707 be grounded until a thorough investigation is made.

The U.S. Embassy in Pretoria, South Africa, confirmed today that the American diplomatic pouch Taylor took aboard in Johannesburg was recovered intact Sunday.

STILL SEARCHING

Authorities still were searching for a $700,000 shipment of diamonds missing in the wreckage.

The big jet had just taken off from Windhoek when it wobbled and plummeted out of sight.

Watchers at the airport heard a crash and saw flames spurt into the sky.

Rescue teams had difficulty crossing the rough, roadless terrain to the site, about six miles from the airport. The plane had broken into four large pieces.

Police cordoned off a wide area for the search for the diamond shipment, reported bound from Johannesburg to London, and for Japanese diplomatic pouches also reported aboard the plane.

The crash of the Boeing 707, delivered from the United States less than a month ago, was among the most costly in lives in aviation history.

Briton, Aussie Win 2 of 3 Tony Drama Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — An Australian actress and a British author took two of Broadway's top three Tony awards for drama last night, but the musical honors were almost all American.

Zoe Caldwell, who won a Tony in 1966 as the best supporting actress, was named best dramatic actress of the 1967-68 season for her role in "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie."

Tom Stoppard won the drama writing trophy for "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead."

The best actor award went to Martin

Balsam for his role in "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running."

"Hallelujah Baby!" which closed three months ago, was named the best musical play.

Pickets at Bell Office Limited

Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer issued a temporary restraining order today, limiting the number of pickets at the Southfield office of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Beer's order set the number of pickets at 10 persons per entrance and banned picketing on telephone company property.

The restrictions were requested by Michigan Bell against Local 4016, Communications Workers of America.

The Southfield office had been the site of mass picketing almost since the beginning of the telephone strike last week.

Beer set a show-case hearing on the temporary injunction at 9 a.m. Friday. His order applies only to the Southfield facility.

600 Meet to Honor Hart, Hear Him Praise Johnson

BY JIM LONG
President Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential race will be recorded by historians as "a magnificent act in motive and magnificent in results," U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart told Oakland County Democrats Saturday.

The praise for Johnson came at a dinner honoring Hart, a former Oakland County resident, for his 11 years of service in Washington.

Hart told the 600 guests that he had no doubt that the intentions of Johnson were good.

The dinner was held in the Vandenberg Hall at Oakland University.

Hart criticized those who now question the President's motives and still term him a "two-bit provincial politician or a paranoid politician."

NO QUARREL RAISED

"There is and should be no quarrel about those who have raised responsible questions about Vietnam," added Hart.

"I have had my doubts but there reaches a point that it loses its effectiveness."

Hart said that it was never rational to believe that Johnson enjoyed the position of overshadowing the Vietnam war.

OU Chancellor Defends Older Generation

Oakland University graduates were forewarned Saturday that they might find the older generation has done better than the younger generation has been willing to admit.

OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner told this to the graduates in what he termed a "tradition-abandoning" address.

"Let me urge you — as new graduates — to avoid the temptation to go wading off into this exciting world through a sea of self-pity," Varner commented.

"You are inheriting not a sorry and decadent state of affairs, but an exciting and challenging opportunity to find permanent solutions to problems which have perplexed mankind forever."

The chancellor said he would make "no apologies" for his generation which the graduating generation has had an "obsession" to criticize. He said he hoped the new generation can do just as good.

TRADEMARKS OF TIMES

"You say that we have permitted pockets of poverty to exist in an affluent society," he noted. "The charge is unfortunately true and it should not be so."

"Yet when I sat in your chair — those (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

Cloudy but Warm Weather Forecast

Though bikini weather isn't on the waterman's agenda for the next five days, he is predicting temperatures will average from three to five degrees above the normal highs of 58 to 64 degrees.

The balmy temperatures will be punctuated by April showers.

Increasing cloudiness will chase away this morning's sunshine. Light and variable winds will swing to the east-southeast by tonight, and tomorrow's skies will continue to be overcast.

Temperatures will remain about the same.

A cloud cover and slightly cooler temperatures are predicted for Wednesday.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 20, tonight 30 and tomorrow 50. The low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 45. By 1 p.m., the mercury reached 67.

BAGS BOND — Mrs. Keith Kennedy of Oxford receives The Press Baseball Contest winner's award of a $500 U.S. savings bond from staffer Howard Heldenbrand. Her prediction of .543, among the seven who picked the Twins' Bob Allison to top American League batters when the contest ended Saturday, was closest to his average of .519.

Press Baseball Contest

Woman Wins $500 Bond

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
Lightning struck the Oxford home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kennedy — but the flash packed a bond instead of a bolt. The bond represented the $500 award to the winner of The Press Annual Baseball contest, which was won by Mrs. Kennedy with an assist by her husband.

The 32-year-old mother of seven won by picking Bob Allison, Minnesota Twins outfielder, to lead the American League in batting at the close of the contest Saturday.

Because only seven contestants had picked Allison to set the pace, there was considerable disparity between his actual average of .519 and the winner's prediction of .543.

But since the next closest trailed Allison's average by 42 points, Mrs. Kennedy qualified as our Peerless Seeress, Baseball Division, for 1968.

UNUSUAL

To find a winner backed by so few entrants is unusual. In past years, the entries have bunched up on the likely and actual batting leaders—such as Tony Oliva, Frank Robinson and Al Kaline—with the result that the winner's average is blanketed like London in a fog.

Mrs. Kennedy modestly disclaims any occult powers in picking her contest entry.

But our Clairvoyant of Clout is firmly committed on one aspect of her winnings — what she'll do with them. And that is to buy a canoe.

Since the Kennedys purposefully moved out of Detroit four years ago to experience more fully Oakland County's recreational advantages, it pretty well reflects their ability to paddle their own canoe.

DEMOCRATIC DIALOGUE — U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart (left) and George Googasian, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic committee, chat prior to a dinner in Hart's honor Saturday at Oakland University. Significantly, the men are standing in front of a painting entitled "That Political Personality Act." Some 600 guests paid tribute to Hart for his 11 years as a Michigan Senator.

3 North Koreans, American Killed in Battle

SEOUL (AP) — Three North Koreans and one American were killed yesterday in the second major clash in eight days in the U.S. sector of the Korean front. Each side accused the other of starting the battle in which three Americans were wounded.

The U.N. Command demanded an investigation by a joint team of observers, as provided by the 1953 Korean armistice.

The Communist side ignored a request for an observers' meeting today, a U.N. spokesman said.

The spokesman said a group of at least eight North Korean soldiers opened fire on a U.N. patrol in the 2nd U.N. Infantry Division area of the demilitarized zone.

The patrol returned the fire and intermittent shooting went on for two hours, the spokesman said.

Three of the Communist soldiers who had crossed the military demarcation line were killed, but their bodies were apparently dragged back because they could not be found today, he added.

A North Korean broadcast said the American force was made up of "over 50 fully armed bandits" who slipped across the demilitarized zone and attacked a Communist guard post near Daidoksan.

The broadcast said "several armed bandits" were killed in the "fierce fire." It made no mention of North Korean casualties.

On Easter Sunday south of the Panmunjom armistice conference area, Communist ambush killed two American and two South Korean soldiers and wounded two other Americans.

Another American was wounded Saturday while on patrol duty in the buffer zone, the U.N. Command said. Later Saturday, a U.N. observation team investigating the shooting was fired on.

Six Americans have been killed and 18 wounded since Jan. 21, when a North Korean commando group invaded Seoul in an attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park.

Birmingham

'Truth Forum' on Area Race Relations Set

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Congregational Church of Birmingham, United Church of Christ, will sponsor a "truth forum" on area race relations tomorrow night at 8.

To be held at the church, 1000 N. Cranbrook, the program will consist of a panel discussion on race problems by six Negro high school youngsters, and a representative group of older Negro youth.

The forum is being conducted in cooperation with the Pontiac area Office of Economic Opportunity.

Edward T. Revis, local OEO director, will moderate the program, which will include a general discussion period.

The forum, originally scheduled for April 9, was postponed following the death of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The public may attend.

Telephone Strikers Defy 'Work' Orders

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The AFL-CIO Communications Workers defied back-to-work court orders today in two states in the fifth day of the nationwide telephone strike, and said the injunctions blocked chances for an early settlement.

"All hopes for a quick solution have faded," said CWA President Joseph A. Beirne, who denounced the court orders obtained by Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Alabama and Kentucky as "preposterous" and "antithetical."

Beirne said the injunctions indicated the Bell Telephone System, and its parent American Telephone and Telegraph Co., want "to go on fighting" the strike of nearly 200,000 union members in some 40 states, instead of settling the wage dispute at the bargaining table.

AT&T President Ben Gilmer reported meanwhile that telephone service in most areas was being maintained without undue trouble despite the first nationwide strike in 21 years.

"Management people who are filling in at the switchboard are gaining experience, and customer cooperation has been most gratifying," Gilmer said.

Some customers, however, found it strange to dial for an operator and hear a man's voice reply instead of the usual female "voice with a smile."

In addition to the union's angry reaction to the court injunctions, company reports of cables being cut and phone booths damaged, and union charges that company supervisors were driving trucks into pickets, further heated tempers in the strike.

Beirne called his 13-man union executive board into session yesterday to consider Gilmer's offer to explore a union proposal. But the meeting ended after eight hours "without any prospect for an immediate settlement," Beirne said.

No formal company-union talks are scheduled, he said.

In Lansing, Mich., telephone service for 1,000 residents of Michigan's capital city was restored today after vandals had cut seven telephone cables.

The cables, providing service to a North Lansing residential area, were cut sometime between late Friday night and early Saturday morning, Michigan Bell said.

Old Generation Defended at OU

25 years ago—there was no concern with 'pockets of poverty.' The entire landscape was one of poverty... Bankruptcy, hunger, unemployment, hopelessness — those were the trademarks of the times."

Varner admitted his generation leaves a "depressing international scene" but that his generation was left with a bleak picture — a totalitarian regime had taken firm control of Germany, small nations were being overrun, Jews massacred, France was tottering and England threatened.

"You say that we hand you a nation so torn with racial strife that he may literally explode in your face," he noted. "Alas, the charge is true."

'FOUND COURAGE'

"Permit me to point out that it was the generation which has preceded yours which found the courage to identify the problem, to label it as a problem, to focus public attention on a topic which had been ignored for almost 100 years."

Hart Praises Johnson at OU Testimonial

Humphrey called Hart "Mr. Consumer" for bringing truth in packaging, and "Mr. Civil Rights" for his fight for voting rights and, most recently, his leadership to get open housing.

But all the accolades can "be summed up in one medal describing Sen. Hart as Mr. Integrity," said Humphrey.

Sen. Kennedy expressed hope for the Democratic party, because the "Republican party is one of stagnation and drift. Its has failed to produce one new face."

State Senator and chairman of the State Democratic Committee, Sander M. Levin, echoed Kennedy's sentiments when he said the "Republicans have the same old tired issues and candidates."

'HARD LOOK PROMISED'

"We will take a hard look at the candidates first and then make a decision," said Levin.

Levin warned, however, that Democrats face a hard battle in Michigan because 70 per cent of the state's 1.5 million unregistered voters are Democrats.

"We will be the debating party, but that is not enough," said Levin. "We have to get the voters registered."

3 Powers Okay Space Rescues, Return of Gear

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, the United States and Great Britain today signed the agreement to rescue astronauts and return space equipment or parts that fall outside the country of origin.

The agreement was signed by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, U.S. Minister Emory C. Swank and British Charge d'Affaires Peter Dalton. The brief ceremony that ended with a champagne toast.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson was reported ill and British Ambassador Geoffrey Harrison is in London. Later, in London, Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovsky signed the British copy of the agreement.

Other countries that signed in Moscow today in a second ceremony were Austria, Australia, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Iceland, Italy, Hungary, Laos, East Germany, Norway, Romania, Ghana, Sierra Leone, Poland, Finland, Somali, Nepal and Mongolia.

The fire caused extensive damage to connecting catwalks, a diving locker and an elevator which took trainees to the top of the 138-foot metal tank.

The awards, named after the university's late benefactors, are presented annually with $100 cash prizes to graduates who have made outstanding contributions through scholarship, leadership and responsibility in the solution of social problems.

Mexican Consulate, Agency in NY Bombed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bombs exploded early today at the Mexican consulate and the Spanish National Tourist Agency in midtown Manhattan, police reported.

Police said there were no injuries and only minor damage.

The Mexican consulate was hit first in the apparently related bombings, police said.

A bomb was placed in a grillwork covering the main door. The blast blew out the glass door and caused minor damage to the facade.

The second explosion, at the Spanish tourist office, blew out a display window.

Big Newark Fire Is Probed

NEWARK (AP) — Fire Director John Caulfield has ordered an around-the-clock investigation of a fire that roared through a five-block area in the city's heavily Negro-Central Ward this weekend, destroying 34 houses and leaving some 500 persons homeless.

Caulfield said the blaze was "the worst in the history of Newark" and was "definitely suspicious."

Fire Chief Joseph M. Redden, said the fire "was definitely set."

"We have nothing but a lot of three-story chimneys with nothing in them," Redden said after surveying the damage.

The five blocks are in the area where 26 persons died during five days of racial outbreaks last summer and where numerous fire-bombing incidents occurred in the days following the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Redden said he doubted that anyone in the Central Ward was involved in setting the weekend blaze.

He said many neighborhood residents helped firemen carry hoses, and some even brought their own ladders into the street to help firemen trapped on blazing roofs escape the flames.

Nine persons — including four firemen and one policeman — suffered minor injuries.

About 800 other persons had been left homeless by fires during the past two weeks in which a number of small businesses as well as the homes were destroyed or damaged.

It Seems to Me . . .

Romney Withdrawal Void

As one of the staunchest supporters of Governor GEORGE ROMNEY had in his valiant quest for the presidential nomination, I have been quizzed several times since his withdrawal as to a current choice.

I give it unhesitatingly.

It's RICHARD M. NIXON.

This very capable and very astute political power is deeply versed in the intricacies surrounding the White House and the administration of our complex government.

He knows firsthand.

He knows from experience.

Further, you can safely name him as the best versed of the entire field in international and world affairs. His global savvy is unchallenged and unequaled by any of the other contestants on either ticket. RICHARD NIXON is a very personable individual and possesses engaging qualifications that are easily discernible in direct, first-hand discussions. He has spent a great part of his active and productive lifetime in public service and learning the ways of all governmental intricacies. No candidate on either ticket has this background.

Golf Officials . . .

Of all the stupid officials presiding over any sport, Golfdom's bosses rank at the bottom of the barrel. The current issue of a golf magazine deplores the heartless rule about signing a wrong card, which is probably the dumbest sports ruling extant.

And just to drive the brainless brethren into an inescapable corner, Robert de Vincenzo, affable Argentine pro, lost a tie for the Masters' title by this same goofy rule and officiating.

Vandalism Epidemic . . .

People generally are puzzled at the continuing vandalism in New York City schools. An epidemic there resulted in stern measures which seek to place the full costs against the parents of all apprehended pupils. The destruction in 1967 actually

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

KENNEDY's inner circle is becoming uneasy and disturbed over recent polls which show MCCARTHY's star arising lustily.

Scouts advise me that Barbara Sue Early deserves mention as one of the attractive young ladies in the area. . . . Clairfox was certainly magnanimous in that inter-

Richard M. Nixon is a friendly individual and this happy characteristic becomes evident immediately upon casual acquaintance or a closeup inspection. He may not appeal to the far-out hippies as quickly or as completely as one of his opponents — thank heaven. Mr. Nixon is an earnest American who can represent the United States with distinction and honor anywhere in the world. Further, he has been doing this for some time already and we're the national gainer. Mr. Nixon has a fine family of true-blooded and high type U.S. citizens of their respective ages.

With this country in the turmoil and utter confusion of the moment, we need an experienced, hardheaded and reliable individual at the helm as we have before. We must put the reins of the greatest government in the world in experienced hands that can see far down the road and yet draw on the experiences of the past.

I hail RICHARD M. NIXON.

He's the All-Star.

His playing partner added a stroke to his total which he innocently signed. So-o-o-o, he was penalized out of a tie for the top prize.

Haven't the ruling powers enough common sense to correct this? Or will they continue to stagger along the same blind alleys with their snoots in the dung. The least the Masters can do is pay the innocent victim enough to equal the winner's share.

"You're An Imperialist, A Warmonger And A Bum—But Get It Up!"

David Lawrence Says:

'New Nixon' Is in Evidence

WASHINGTON — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's talk before the American Society of Newspaper Editors here caused quite a lot of comment. He spoke extemporaneously and answered questions posed by a panel of the editors.

His replies were clear and forthright, and in almost every instance they were followed by applause.

Nixon's impromptu remarks on a variety of issues caused some of the editors — who had not seen him in action since the 1960 campaign — to ask what he thought about the oft-heard remark in political circles that there is a "new Nixon."

LAWRENCE

He conceded with a smile that he is eight years older and "perhaps has acquired some more wisdom."

Incidentally, the former vice president said he is in favor of a debate between presidential nominees. It is apparent that he has learned some lessons about this form of political campaigning which makes him eager to participate again in such a unique method of discussing the issues.

Bob Considine Says:

What Fantastic Revenge if Humphrey Beats RFK

NEW YORK—What an incredible revenge may be in the making if Vice President Hubert Humphrey defeats Sen. Robert Kennedy for the Democratic nomination for president.

Eight years ago Bobby Kennedy ran a rough, tough campaign against Humphrey in behalf of John F. Kennedy in the West Virginia primary.

Sen. Humphrey was the early favorite in that race. West Virginia was sparsely settled by Catholics and was therefore considered anti-Catholic.

CONSIDINE

After what happened at the Augusta Masters Golf Tournament, I don't see how we can avoid war with Argentina. We never looked sillier.

Rowe stopped speaking to FDR Jr., finally Junior approached him one day in Washington after Kennedy was in the White House and said, in effect, "Aw, come on, Jim. Let bygones be bygones. After all, Hubert has forgiven me. Why can't you?"

Old Jim stared at him and said "Hubert isn't Irish," and walked away.

Perhaps the most significant observation that Nixon made was in connection with the Vietnam war.

—SERIOUS MISTAKE—

He said it is a serious mistake for politicians in either party to make derogatory statements about President Johnson's negotiations with North Vietnam.

He declared that this is a time of great delicacy and that he would not make any criticisms or discuss the negotiations until they are concluded.

He argued that the President is adopting the right course in trying to get truce talks going.

Another interesting reply came from the former vice president when he was asked if he favors recognition of Red China.

—GRADUAL CHANGE—

He said he doesn't advocate any such action now and doesn't think that the United States should alter its course with respect to the aggressive acts which are being committed in Southeast Asia. But he believes that, as the free countries of Asia are strengthened by the aid given to them by the United States, the Chinese on the mainland will gradually change their course and be in favor of a peaceful policy toward their neighbors and the world in general.

Nixon probably drew the biggest applause when he declared that "There cannot be order in a free society without progress, and there cannot be progress without order" in American cities.

If all the candidates for public office subjected themselves to the kind of interrogation which the newspaper editors employed in quizzing Nixon, the American people would enjoy the discussion.

On the night before the voting, Bobby arranged to buy prime time on television for the showing of the somewhat romanticized Hollywood film that dealt with JFK's hero deeds as a PT boat commander in the war against Japan, while Sen. Humphrey was speaking to a handful of drug-store corner loafers.

But the toughest stab made at Humphrey was an insinuation by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who had been brought in by the state by Bobby, that Humphrey had found ways and means of ducking service in WW II.

JFK won in West Virginia and he was on his way to the White House. But there were smoldering resentments over what had taken place there.

James Rowe, an old hand in the Democratic party and once upon a time a great worker for President Roosevelt, handled Sen. Humphrey's West Virginia campaign.

Voice of the People:

'We Need More Concern for Individual Problems'

I am disappointed with do-gooders of today, but I am very surprised to have my face washed with my past record every time I apply for a better job. It has been my experience that those who talk the loudest about social ills are the ones who do the least about them. Employers don't have time to listen to a man's problems, parents don't have time, the school and church don't have time. Nobody has time until an ex-convict kicks in a grocery store, and then everybody has time to call him a bum.

He is all that and more. He needs correction and to be segregated from society until correction has been accomplished. Correction might be accomplished by showing concern by listening to each individual problem, offering counsel, advice and teaching. We need less lip service and more action from those who govern and call themselves leaders.

'Government Lacks Courage to Declare War'

This government conducting a "no-win war," aiding and abetting our real enemies — the Communist conspiracy — by grants and credits that actually help kill our boys in Vietnam, after letting 20,000 of our boys get killed, has not the honesty and courage to declare war and put this nation on a wartime footing. That's the reason LBJ is so unpopular in this country and could not win an election if he chose to run.

'Township's Problems Should Be Discussed'

I believe two sides of an issue should be heard. Watford Township should tell the people its problems and then listen to the people's suggestions. Citizens and the Township should give and take in the suggestions to improve the Township. Why can't we just have paved main roads and no paving of side roads? What is the reason we have to have sewers, water from the Township, etc.?

We should schedule public meetings on the problems of this community. They should cover every problem we have now and may have in the future. Why can't we have forums three or four times a month to discuss the problems?

Deep Cuts
Indianapolis Star

The story of deep cutting in the United States bureaucracy staff in Brazil is remarkable because it is so unusual. Both foreign and domestic interests of the United States would be much better served if it were a common story.

Ambassador John Willis Tuthill, a career diplomat, took over the Embassy in Rio de Janeiro a year ago, and decided there were too many people in the embassy, the consulates and other operations. He reported this decision to Washington, and asked and received authority to cut drastically.

He set up a pruning program called "Operation Topsey," from the fact that the huge bureaucracy was not planned but just grew as officials responded to Brazilian requests for this or that kind of aid or advice.

The cutting operation will run thru the next fiscal year, and by its end is expected to yield a reduction of 38 per cent in the number of employees.

There must be countless other United States bureaucracies in foreign countries which are just like that. We wonder if there are any exceptions.

The readiness of an official to reduce his empire — especially on his own initiative — is a rarity indeed. Would there were more like Tuthill. But human nature is what it is, and most officials are eager to enlarge rather than shrink their domains. That's why government keeps getting bigger and bigger.

For a remedy effective through the government, the initiative probably will come only from Congress. The action to set it in motion will need to be a really sharp tightening of the purse strings.

While we're waiting for that, we salute Ambassador Tuthill. May his tribe increase!

There is nothing wrong with millionaires, horns or made, but there would be something wrong with a legislative body that was predominantly that rich.

It would be drawn from so restricted a reservoir that many talented potential public servants would never be called on; and its own outlook could be bounded by its narrow background.

Rich Man's Game

A survey by the Associated Press finds that at least 20 per cent and maybe 30 per cent of the members of the United States Senate are millionaires. This suggests that politics is becoming a rich man's game. This is because

Army Medic in Viet Battles Chinese Herb Doctors

CAI LAY, Vietnam (AP) —band and she was afraid of them. It's a mixed-up mess." Sgt. Marvin Powell never thought he would be sent into battle against Chinese herb doctors.

The hard-working Army medic from Spring Lake, N.C., is enjoying the job and making some progress.

Powell plays country doctor in five isolated villages of Vietnam's lush Mekong Delta. He sees the bright side of almost everything—except the herb doctors.

The practitioners of ancient oriental medicine have traditionally dispensed care, at a price, among the delta's poor farmers. They look with suspicion on Powell as a threat to their livelihood.

AFRAID

"The Chinese herb doctors tell the Vietnamese that the Americans won't always be here," Powell says. "The Vietnamese are afraid the herb doctors won't treat them when we go."

"One old woman came in here with a little boy who was badly scalded. She brought him in once and didn't come back."

"I found out they had threatened to stop treating her husband and whatnot. When he spots a serious case, mostly tuberculosis, he sends his patient off to the battalion surgeon or the provincial hospital. Only rarely does he serve civilians wounded by either side."

He has a devoted following of hundreds of kids. It started because Powell would give a small GI chocolate bar to each child brought in for treatment. Kids know a soft old boy deftly probing the bulging pocket of his fatigue jacket.

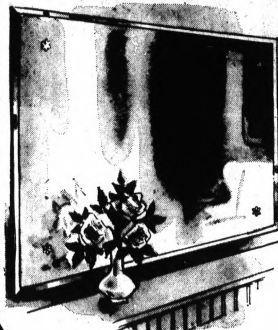

He has three of his own—and the word spread. "War or no war, everybody loves kids," Powell said with a smile as he swatted a 9-year-old boy deftly probing the bulging pocket of his fatigue jacket.

MRS. P. C. THOMSON

Bridal Couple Feted at Club After Nuptials

Italian American Club honored newlyweds, the Paul Charles Thomsons (nee Carolyn Marie Morris) who spoke vows earlier that evening in St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Carrying a bouquet of Phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and baby's breath, the bride wore an A-line organza ensemble with an Empire bodice of Alencon lace. Her chapel train was accented with matching lace appliques.

A velvet bow with lace flowers secured her elbow length illusion veil.

The bride's sister, Constance, was maid of honor with Sheila, Celeste and Karen Thomson as bridesmaids.

Craig Thomson performed best man honors for his brother. Their parents are the Charles Thomsons of Linden Street. Ushers were Kenneth Erwin, Ronald Blakeman, Larry Ragsdale and Gus Morris.

Following the reception, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to the Smokey Mountains.

Safe Holding $2,400 Stolen

A safe containing about $2,400 was stolen from a Pontiac service station early today, city police were told.

Officers, answering a suspicious circumstances complaint about 1:15 a.m. at the Clark Station at 946 Oakland, contacted the station manager when they found a window pried open at the rear of the building.

The manager told investigators that the safe had been stored in the office and had apparently been hauled through the window.

He said the burglary had taken place between the time he closed — 12:15 — and the time of the complaint.

Police said at least two persons were probably involved in the burglary because of the weight of the safe.

Man Reports Gunmen Took Car, Money

A 23-year-old Pontiac man was forced at gunpoint early today to drive two men to a Pontiac-Township intersection where they left him, taking the car he was driving and some $76 in cash, it was reported to Pontiac police and Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Samuel Burrell, of 42 Victory told officers he was driving out of a restaurant parking lot at 450 N. Perry when the assailants jumped into his car.

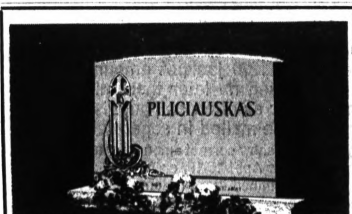

He said one of the men brandished a pistol and ordered him to drive to Rosetta and Churchill, where they robbed him and made off in the car.

Burrell called sheriff's deputies from a nearby home. City police also were dispatched to the scene.

The car belongs to a friend, Burrell said.

Officers said they are seeking two men described as white and in their 20s — one about 5-11 and 180 pounds, the other about 5-9 and 165 pounds.

The car is a white 1966 Pontiac convertible, according to police.

Descriptions Confuse Search for King Suspect

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A assassination in Memphis, are ranking Memphis police officer acknowledges there are "a whole lot of discrepancies" in official descriptions of the man sought as the sniper slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Asst. Chief Bill Price referred to statements that James Earl Ray, 40, an escaped Missouri convict, and Eric Starvo Galt, first sought for King's April 4 ison showed Galt was really Ray.

CAUSED CONFUSION

The naming of Ray in the case caused confusion, primarily because earlier official statements indicate that Galt and Ray were in different places at the same time.

When Galt was charged as a conspirator in King's death by rifle bullet, the FBI said the man had taken dancing lessons in New Orleans in 1964-65. The FBI said later the earlier description should have said Galt reportedly took dancing lessons rather than stating it flatly.

During that time, Ray was in the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City, serving a 20-year sentence for a 1959 supermarket robbery.

The age of the man also was in conflict.

CONFLICT OVER AGES

Witnesses who saw a man in a Memphis rooming house from where the fatal bullet was fired estimated his age as in the late 20s. The FBI, in issuing its warrant for Galt, said he had given his birthdate July 20, 1931. That would make him 36. The FBI said Friday Ray is 40.

The personalities of the two men are sometimes at odds. A prison pal described Ray as virtually a nondrinker. The FBI describes Galt as a fancier of beer and vodka.

There were other differences: Galt: neat appearance. Ray: careless appearance.

Galt: Southern accent. Ray: born in Alton, Ill. No Southern accent.

Sleep-In Vow Eases Rules on Coed Visits

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Princeton University trustees yesterday yielded to a student threat of a mass dormitory "sleep-in" with girlfriends and relaxed the rule governing nighttime visits by coeds.

The change allows girls to remain in the rooms of the all-male school's 3,200 undergraduates until 10 p.m. on weekdays and until 2 a.m. on weekends.

Previously, girls had been barred from dormitory rooms after 7 p.m. on weekdays and after midnight on weekends. These hours had been in effect with only minor variations since girls were first permitted to visit Princeton men in their rooms in the early 1950s.

The trustees had agreed to consider revisions in the rule following an editorial in the student newspaper, "The Daily Princetonian." The editorial, signed by two-thirds of the undergraduates, promised a mass violation of the rule with girls spending a night in dormitory rooms.

The editorial called for the abolition of the rule limiting visiting hours on the grounds that it was an infringement on individual moral integrity and an obstacle to a normal social life on an all-male campus.

4 Adrift Saved After 14 Hours

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two teenage sisters and their dates were rescued Sunday after spending 14 hours drifting on Lake Michigan in a motorboat without anchor, paddles or engine to come back.

Mary Ann Jeselski, 17, of Chicago and her sister, Claire, 15, were rescued by the Coast Guard with Chester Ochwat, 18, and Victor Curry, 19, both of Chicago, after the foursome had decided to try out Victor's new boat instead of going to the movies.

The girls told their father that the engine went dead, and a second attempt to start it snapped off the starter cord. Victor then grabbed the paddle for the return back to shore. But it too snapped in half.
