'Storm of Fire' Sweeping Summer Homes

Fighters Dig In to Ring Blaze in California

Flames Roar Through 8,500 Acres of Forest, Plush Resort Area

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Smoke-blackened firefighters battled today to ring a "fire storm" that has destroyed at least 20 homes and burned more than 8,500 acres of brush and timber near the Lake Arrowhead resort.

The "fire storm" — so called because it can generate its own intense winds — swept through the Crest Park summer home tract, about five miles east of the lake in the San Bernardino Mountains.

A U. S. Forestry Service spokesman said the area is still "too hot" to inspect closely but at least 20 homes were destroyed.

About 1,500 firefighters manned 18 bulldozers, 60 water tank trucks and fire hoses in an effort to hold back the flames from the Cedar Glen area, near the northern tip of the lake.

Seven crop dusting biplanes and a war surplus Navy torpedo bomber planned to continue dropping water and chemicals on the flames that have fused mountain peaks into a massive mile-high torch.

Nearly 1,000 residents of a nine-mile area were advised to evacuate after the blaze jumped State Highway 18 last night and burned into the Sky Forest pinewoods, more than a mile high in the San Bernardino Mountains.

The area toward the lake is studded with resort-lodges, homes and weekend cabins. None were immediately threatened but Elmer Osterman, fire prevention coordinator for the State Division of Forestry, said:

"A wind change could send the flames anywhere."

Osterman said the fire 50 m.p.h. winds the "fire storm" itself created have quieted down.

Gov. Knight has been requested to declare the fire a disaster area, Osterman said. This would permit the U. S. Forestry Service to request civil defense aid from throughout the state and nation.

Already fire-fighting equipment from several nearby cities and counties has joined with the fire fighters, including Indian crews from New Mexico and Arizona.

State Highways 18 and 30 leading down to San Bernardino were closed and many evacuees were reported leaving by the back route—into the Mojave Desert.

Doctors Say Famed Athlete Loses Ground Each Week

GALVESTON, Tex. (INS)—Doctors of Mrs. Babe Didrickson Zaharias held almost no hope today for the famed woman athlete in her battle against cancer.

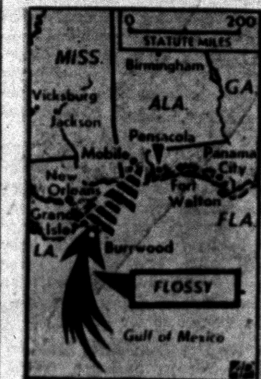

In what they termed the "first realistic statement" on her condition, physicians treating Mrs. Zaharias at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston said:

"Babe has continued to lose ground each week both as to weight and as to strength. Although vital functions have been maintained surprisingly well, that condition cannot continue much longer. In view of the widespread dissemination of the malignant growth.

"The general situation is one of such weakness that a critical change might be induced at any time by even a minor complication."

The doctors explained that they had decided to make the statement because Mrs. Zaharias "has lost interest in newspapers."

Woman Killed Flagging for Aid

Mrs. Emma Whittington Hit While Seeking Push for Stalled Car

A Pontiac woman was killed just outside the city limits early Sunday morning when she reportedly ran in front of a car while seeking a push for the stalled vehicle she had been riding in.

Mrs. Emma L. Whittington, 30, of 154 Perkins St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital following the accident at Opdyke and Mt. Clemens streets.

She was struck by a car driven by Donald Arnold, 28, of 3644 Auburn Ave. Arnold was released after questioning by deputies of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

During the questioning, Arnold told county officers he was driving about 50 miles an hour on Opdyke and did not see Mrs. Whittington until she was "on his front fender."

The woman was a passenger in a car driven by Austin Crisman, of 3439 Alco Dr., Waterford Township, prior to the accident. Crisman said Mrs. Whittington had left his vehicle to try to get a push for them when she was hit.

Britain, France

Ask U.N. to Act in Suez Dispute

Pull Surprise Request; U.S. Expected to Stall Any Major Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council will meet Wednesday afternoon to take up the Suez Canal dispute at the request of Britain and France.

A full airing of the bitter wrangle with Egypt is expected to develop after the arrival of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other high officials by the end of the week.

Diplomatic quarters said French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Secretary of State Dulles were expected to take part in the council discussion.

Britain and France put their surprise demand before the 11-nation council in a letter to its president, Emilio Nunez Portuondo of Cuba. They did not say what action they would seek.

A British spokesman in London indicated the two nations would ask the 103-mile waterway be put under international control. Egyptian President Nasser already has rejected that proposal, and Western diplomats feared Russia would veto any council action opposed by Egypt.

Dulles indicated the United States would seek to delay the major debate. The American secretary in a television appearance endorsed the British-French appeal to the U.N., but said he thought "substantive discussion" before the council should wait until formation of the Suez Canal Users' Assn. agreed on at the 18-nation London conference last week.

The association is scheduled to be set up at another London conference beginning Oct. 1. It is supposed to work up a proposal to the U. N. for international control of the canal and to approach Egypt directly for a role for the user nations in the operation of the waterway.

Egyptian sources in Cairo said their government welcomed reference of the canal dispute to the U. N., feeling that the issue "should have been taken to the United Nations in the first place."

2 Known Dead, Fear 40 Others Victims of Storm

Wind Intensity Mounts After Raking Small Tip of Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Hurricane Flossy picked up power early today as it skipped over a small portion of southeastern Louisiana and stormed through the Gulf of Mexico toward the Alabama-Florida coastline.

The U.S. Weather Bureau here said in an advisory at 7 a.m. that winds around the center reached 100 m.p.h. after raking across a tiny tip of Louisiana at 80 m.p.h.

Flossy, the sixth tropical storm of the season, was expected to move in on the Mobile-Pensacola area early this afternoon, accompanied by eight-foot tides.

The full fury of the tides may miss Mobile Bay, the advisory said, should the center pass south of the city as appeared likely.

The storm, originally pointed toward New Orleans, veered to the east in its northward march and removed the danger of floods to the city from Lake Pontchartrain.

Torrential rains were expected along the coasts of Mississippi, Alabama and Florida as the storm moved toward the mainland at 10 to 12 miles per hour.

The center at 7 a.m. was 100 miles southwest of the Mobile-Pensacola area.

Hurricane warnings went up from Grand Isle, La., to Fort Walton, Fla., while storm warnings were displayed from Morgan City, La., to St. Mark's, Fla., and small craft warnings from Lake Charles, La., to Tampa, Fla.

Two apparent deaths lay in the wake of the storm and the fate of another 40 was in doubt. The 40 were trapped on offshore oil rigs and disabled craft in the Gulf of Mexico.

The two men assumed drowned were on the motor vessel Craport below the mouth of the Mississippi River. One of the men reportedly fell overboard and the other leaped into the churning waters of the Gulf to aid him.

Several thousand fled the low-lying areas near the gulf. The coastal area at Grand Isle, La., was the first to feel the fury (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Nicaragua Sees Mass Arrests

200 Being Questioned Following Attempted Assassination

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Wholesale arrests of opponents of the government have followed the attempt to assassinate President Anastasio Somoza.

About 200 persons, including two newspaper editors and a former president, were being questioned in a police search for possible accomplices of the assassin.

The Nicaragua strongman's son Luis, 24, took a firm hold on the country while Somoza underwent treatment at a U. S. hospital in the Panama Canal Zone for four gunshot wounds.

Somoza was reported in satisfactory condition after four separate operations performed by a surgical team sent by President Eisenhower. A medical bulletin said it was uncertain whether the Central American President would regain use of his right leg, paralyzed by a bullet in his spinal column.

The assassin, Rigoberto Lopez Perez, 27, was slain by Somoza's guards immediately after emptying a revolver at the 60-year-old President just before midnight Friday at a reception in Leon, 45 miles from the capital.

There was no indication the Somoza dynasty had been shaken by the attempt to kill its founder. Managua was as quiet last night as any Central American capital.

A state of siege imposed Saturday meant that people who ordinarily sit on their porches in the warm night air had to be indoors by 9:30 p.m. Luis Somoza told reporters that in effect Nicaragua was under martial law.

Axes Destroying Pleasure Ship

Wreckers Pulling Apart
D&C's City of Detroit III for Scrap

DETROIT (U)—The wrecker's ax is echoing through one more of the Detroit & Cleveland passenger steamers, picking it apart for junk.

This time it is the City of Detroit III, a 44-year-old side-wheeler, sister ship of the already scrapped City of Cleveland III. The Eastern States, smallest of the defunct company's fleet, is expected to be wrecked soon by burning off the superstructure. The Greater Detroit, largest side-wheel steamer in the world, may be sold for use again. The D & C line was dissolved two years ago.

Before wrecking crews moved in on the City of Detroit, more than 2,000 souvenir hunters picked the 44-year-old ship over from how to stern, buying everything from pitchers to tableware.

Another crew headed by Frank Schmidt, owner of a private Cleveland museum, carefully pried away the valuable carved oak paneling, paintings and huge stained glass windows in the ornate Great Lakes cruise ship.

Edward J. Zebrowski, president of the Union Wrecking Co., said "We'll save any metal in the superstructure, but everything else will be trucked outside Detroit and burned in a dump."

His firm has contracted to cut the boat down to bare steel by Oct. 20 for a price of $25,000.

It will then be put to the torch, and its 5,000 tons of iron will be sold for scrap at about $50 a ton.

The only other boat in the fleet, the Western States, is a floating motel at Tawas City.

Pity Poor Kukin! Even Winners Lose in Russia

MOSCOW, U.S.—It's possible to become a millionaire in the Soviet Union—but it's probably not legal.

The news and photo magazine Ogonyok says Moscow millionaires since 1947 have had their eye on an unidentified "farm expert" who haunted the people's market buying up Russian savings bonds from people in distress. Its account continues:

Finally, the millionaires caught up with Alexander Evgraphovich Kukin. His speculations in bonds at cut rate prices had made him the owner of a 280,000 ruble ($70,000) country home, similar homes for his son and daughter, and two large automobiles.

In the country home, bonds worth millions of rubles were unearthed. Kukin had been "cheating the state" because "for honest people these bonds are a form of savings and aid for the state; to swindler Kukin they became a means of parasitic existence."

Kukin and the members of his family have been arrested. But the magazine rebuked associates in the district where he worked five years as an agronomist for not inquiring into the means by which Kukin acquired a fine country home and two automobiles.

REGAL ROLE — Swedish actress Ingrid Bergman, garbed for the title role in "Anastasia," dances with Ivan Desny, playing part of Prince Paul, while making the film in London, Eng.

By bus and train, a tourist may now travel the 4,500 miles between Paris and Baghdad on a ticket that costs $135. Ten countries are crossed.

U.N. Studies Jordan Violence

New Outbreak Kills Three in Archaeology Party

JERUSALEM (U)—U. N. officials today investigated new border violence in which Jordan gunfire killed three Israelis in an archaeological party and wounded 18 others. Jordan blamed the incident on one of her soldiers "suddenly taken by madness" and voiced regret.

The senior Jordan delegate to the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission said the soldier seized a Bren gun and opened up on a group near Ramat Rahel settlement, just across the border, yesterday. He said the man was taken to a hospital for mental examination.

Israel, in a protest to the U. N. truce commission, gave a different version. A military spokesman said both machine-gun and rifle fire raked the excursion party without warning.

The spokesman explained the party of 700 persons from an archaeological congress in Jerusalem was inspecting ancient sites in Jerusalem's southern limits.

Israeli sources said the shots came after the party had been standing in full view of a Jordan military post for at least half an hour. One witness said that before the firing began he saw four Jordan soldiers standing on a ridge near the Jordan-Israeli line.

The shots were fired while Dr. Yohanan Aharoni, an archaeologist from Hebrew University, was addressing a group assembled at the water tower in Ramat Rahel, a witness said.

Are Husbands Using Wives' Hair Sprays?

NEW YORK — Are husbands secretly using their wives' aerosol hair spray to keep their hair in place? Cosmetics manufacturers suspect so. This is the only way they can explain the astonishing growth of this 5-year-old product.

In 1932 only 4,000,000 cans of this type of hair spray were sold. A year later the total was 15,000,000, and in 1935 some 35,000,000 cans were bought. Expected 1936 sales? A staggering 100,000,000.

Mother 'Frantic' Over Son's Life

Parents Disagree on Eye Operation Which May Save Boy

ATLANTA (U)—The mother of 5-year-old Johnny Pair says she is "growing frantic" over the failure of her divorced husband to decide whether to permit an operation that may save the life of her sturdy little boy.

If the operation is performed it means blindness for Johnny. If it isn't, cancer probably will bring death. Johnny's left eye was removed two years ago and then the malignancy spread to the right eye.

Mrs. Bessie Pair, a 32-year-old trimmer for a hat company, reiterated last night that an operation must be performed, and the sooner the better.

She pointed out that on Sept. 12 doctors said that a few days delay in reaching a decision about an operation wouldn't matter. But that was 10 days ago, she said, "and now I'm growing frantic."

Her divorced husband Arnold Pair, a 33-year-old machine operator, opposed the operation at first on the grounds he wanted Johnny to retain his sight as long as possible.

Later he said he would announce a decision after the morning service at the East Atlanta Baptist Church yesterday. He did not appear at the church. Later he said he still had not reached a decision.

When He Calls...He Has News!

He is placing a telephone call to a citizen in his community—to pass along some news of a very special nature.

He is calling to tell of the wonderful opportunity that exists today to become the proud and happy owner of a new Cadillac car.

What exactly will he have to say?

Well, first of all he will tell of the unusually generous trade-in allowance that he can give at this particular season.

Then he will reveal some wonderful and surprising information about how quickly delivery can be obtained on a new Cadillac.

And then, time permitting, he will recite some of the other practical aspects of Cadillac ownership.

He will talk about the car's relatively modest initial cost... about its amazing dependability and endurance... about its remarkable economy of operation and freedom from repairs... and about its marvelous resale value.

And we feel almost certain that, with so much logic on his side, he will have little difficulty explaining why this is the "time of times" to make the move to Cadillac.

Within a short time, this gentleman—or one of his colleagues—might be calling you. And when he does, we hope you'll remember that he has news!

We think you will enjoy talking with him—for he is a fine person, long accustomed to serving the leading citizens of his community.

And we think you'll be grateful that you took the time to hear what he has to say.

True Test of Selfless Mother-Love

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Lying in wait for you is your son's wedding day. From your church pew you'll watch him as he moves to join the other woman at the altar. Your heart will contract with pain. In her bridegroom you'll see your baby — the child you've nursed, cherished, educated, worked for. For years it's been your life to fill every need he brought you.

Now the sound of his voice pledging himself in marriage will be more than you can bear. You'll want to cry out, "Oh, come back, come back to me!" For you'll know that going forward for him means looking to the other woman to fill his needs.

And you don't want him to discover that she can do it. This fear of a child's appreciation of other people is what upsets us on his first day of school as well as on his wedding day.

DON'T ROMANTICIZE
It's a harmless fear so long as we don't romanticize it. But if around the first day of school, we think of our possessive fear as love, it becomes harmful. We ask the child to trust it.

Trusting it, he begins at once to imagine he's as threatened by his new experience as we secretly want him to think he is. And in effect he'll cry: "I don't want to go forward, but stay a baby with you."

However if we refuse to dignify our possessiveness with the name of love, the child at once senses it. As we obviously don't trust it ourselves, he doesn't have much respect for it either.

He begins to be able to think: "Maybe this new experience, teacher and group of other children will prove interesting instead of threatening to me." And gradually he accepts the idea that the new people he's going to meet can fill needs of his we can't possibly fill.

DIFFERENT
To mothers approaching a child's first day of school, let me commend these words of psychoanalyst Erich Fromm: "Unlike other loves, motherly love begins with oneness and leads to separateness."

"It must help the child to grow away from her. It is easy for any mother to love her child before this process of separation has begun; but to love the child and at the same time to let it go — and to WANT to let it go — is the task in which most mothers possessive fear. Unless we will struggle to overcome our fear of releasing the child to new experience, we are held enslaved to him to our own destruction as well as his.

We Found a Rhubarb Conserve!

By JANET ODELL

Recently, when we mentioned in an article that we had liked Rhubarb Conserve as Grandma made it, we received a whole batch of Rhubarb Conserve recipes from Mrs. Anthony Kalvin of Lake Orion.

She says that beginning in September the young tender shoots of rhubarb are just as good to use as they are in the spring. If you don't have a rhubarb plant, use the frozen variety. Or just tuck this away for use next spring.

Mrs. Kalvin is a great gardener, with flowers as her specialty. She also cares for dogs, has two German Shepherds of her own.

RHUBARB CONSERVE

By Mrs. Anthony G. Kalvin

2 pounds rhubarb
2 pounds sugar
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
Pulp and juice of 4 oranges
Little piece of ginger root (optional)
1 cup chopped blanched almonds
Mix all ingredients except almonds. Simmer slowly until thickened. Add almonds. Pour into hot glasses and seal. The ginger root gives this conserve a decidedly different and pleasing flavor.

As part of their recruitment drive, board members of the Volunteer Bureau are speaking before social and service organizations in Pontiac, Birmingham and Waterford. Mrs. William Shunck of Longworth road (left), is of the Central Volunteer Bureau, showing Mrs. Dewey Allen of Liberty street, member of the Better Home and Garden Club, the speaker's calendar for the month. To date, approximately 45 organizations are co-operating in the recruitment drive. Mrs. Shunck spoke at the Better Home and Garden Club meeting held at Mrs. John Coe Cove home on North Hammond Lake road.

Decline Noted in Feed Grain

CHICAGO (U. S. P.)—Feed grain declined on the Board of Trade today following news the Agriculture Department had offered to cancel soil bank contracts for farmers who wanted to have them canceled.

Other cereals also were mostly lower at the start, but wheat quickly reversed its trend. This was particularly true of the distant wheat futures, influenced by the fact dry weather was continuing in the Southwest.

Soybean receipts expanded to 284 cars. Beans were under mild hedging pressure, but did not lose much ground.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 higher, December $2.30 1/2; corn 1/4 lower, December $1.36 1/2; oats 1/4 lower, December 74; rye unchanged to 1/4 higher, November $2.32 1/2, and late five cents lower, to two cents higher, October $1.15 1/2.
