Dems Veto 1954 Convention

Act Interpreted as Bid to Keep South Pacified

Stevenson, Truman on Hand as Party Meets in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democratic conference killed today a proposal for a 1954 party convention which had been bitterly opposed by most of its southern members.

Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the House minority leader, announced that a conference committee unanimously had approved a resolution opposing the mid-term convention proposal and advocating continued regional conferences before next year's congressional elections.

The committee action came on a motion of Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La) as party members worked in a series of discussion panels with former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois flitting from meeting to meeting.

Stevenson, the 1952 presidential nominee, quipped at a breakfast of state chairmen that he may not be a good politician but he is an obedient one.

He was demonstrating his obedience by eating breakfast with three different party groups and scheduling appearances at a series of luncheons, he said.

Former President Turman began a day of party conferences after a brisk early morning walk through Chicago's downtown district.

The action disapproving the proposal for a 1954 party convention was interpreted widely as a move by leaders to avoid dissension within the ranks over such issues as states rights and civil right which have brought open breaks in the party in the past.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said he regarded the decision as a "vic-

Three Boys, 14, Rescue Selves at Lake Superior

Storm Rips Up Lake, Grounding Freighter; Dredge Drifts Off

MARQUETTE (AP)—Three weary and wet boy campers waded ashore from Presque Island today after being marooned for two chilly nights during a Lake Superior storm.

Their safe arrival put a happy ending to a fierce weekend storm that periled seamen and led to heroic rescues.

The storm-trapped trio rescued themselves as boats were being readied to remove them from the tiny island.

Huddled in blankets, the 14-year-old boys were taken home—safe from the big blow that trapped nine Great Lakes sailors on a dredge and stranded 32 others on a beached freighter over the weekend.

All the sailors were taken to safety.

The nine on the dredge Howard M. Jr. were taken aboard the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw early Sunday 12 miles off Au Sable Point west of Whitefish Bay.

They had been adrift in cold and stormy weather nearly 24 hours after the dredge broke away from its tug, the George Purvis, off Caribou Island. Six men on the dredge were pulled aboard the tug just before the break.

Late Saturday the Coast Guard rescued 32 crewmen from the 530 foot ore freighter Maryland, beached in shallow water just 50 yards from shore nine miles east of here.

Eleven of the sailors were picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter from Traverse City, and a breeches buoy line shot from shore to the stranded ship carried the others to safety.

They were staying at Marquette awaiting further orders.

The stranded youngsters, Jack Johnson, David Lompre and Harry Kelly, all of Marquette, had waded through hip-deep water to begin a camping trip early Saturday before the storm hit.

After they reached the island just 800 feet from the mainland, a 50-mile-an-hour wind whipped up towering waves.

It was impossible to wade back through the churning water, and the strip was too shallow for a power boat to attempt a rescue.

Canvas-wrapped food parcels were dropped to the stranded youths yesterday from a private plane operated by Paul Miller, Marquette area construction contractor.

Other officers named were Ralph Lorenz of Plymouth, first vice president; Harry E. Paulson, Detroit, second vice president, and David M. Kennedy of Iron Mountain, treasurer.

Paul Kilborn, Detroit retiring president, will become chairman of the executive board.

Car Insurance Rates May Dip

New Plan Would Mean Saving for About Half of State's Drivers

(From AP & UP Dispatches)

LANSING—About half of Michigan's motorists will pay less for insurance on their cars as a result of a new plan for classifying private automobiles, the State Department of Insurance said today.

Insurance Commissioner Joseph Navarre said the plan, which adds four new classifications, will be used by all members of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

Navarre said the new plan will mean reduced rates for motorists in low risk groups and an increase in rates for persons in the high risk group.

Rates for persons in medium risk groups will remain unchanged, he said.

Under the previous system, a private car was classified according to the age of the operator and the use of the car. Under the new plan, classes of use are further subdivided according to the degree of hazard resulting from business use or operation by persons under 25 years.

The bureau said that at least 50 per cent of owners of private cars insured by its companies will save on insurance costs under the new plan.

U. N. Awaiting New Wrangle on Peace Talks

U. S. Opposes Commie China's Insistence on Korean Round-Table

A spokesman for the United States at once emphatically rejected the Peiping proposals, made in a long telegram yesterday from Chinese Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai to U. N. Secretary Gen. Dag Hammarskjold.

With the U.N. General Assembly opening tomorrow, delegates prepared for another oratorical battle over Chou's demands that Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia be invited to the peace conference as "neutrals," and that Red China and North Korea be invited to send representatives to the U.N. Assembly "to discuss the question of enlarging the membership of the political conference."

U. S. Asst. Secretary of State Robert Murphy voiced the American rejection, telling the American Association for the United Nations in a speech in New York that the American plan for a two-sided conference must be carried out. The Assembly approved this plan 43-5 last month.

Murphy said the U. S. government "sees no reason whatever" for new Assembly debate on the conference makeup, or for inviting

To Question O'Brian in Gillespie Slaying

Donald V. O'Brian, 27, of 4 Liberty St., will face further questioning by two Detroit detectives today in connection with the Jan. 2 rape-slaying of JoAnn Gillespie. He has denied connection with this crime to Oakland County Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem.

O'Brian, being held in Oakland County Jail on a first degree murder charge in the death of Mrs. Hallie O. Perkins, 55, will be questioned by Sgt. Glenn Coller and Detective Angus McIntyre.

The 27-year-old gardener is to be examined in Pontiac Municipal Court Tuesday on Mrs. Perkins' death.

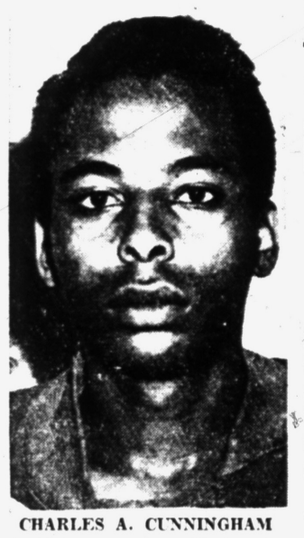

He was captured Wednesday when James Brown, 18, of 37 Vinewood Ave. and Jack Seebald, 48, of 27 Oriole Rd. rushed to the aid of a woman being molested by O'Brian.

Authorities said O'Brian has admitted the fatal attack on Mrs. Perkins and five other sex attacks.

Held in Slaying

CHARLES A. CUNNINGHAM

Held in connection with the slaying of Silas Chaney in the holdup of a bar Aug. 9. Charles A. Cunningham is expected to be formally charged with the crime later today.

Two Local Men Tell Their Part in Chaney Death

Pontiac Officers Holding Couple in Aug. 9 Early Morning Fatality

Police said today two Pontiac men have admitted taking part in an Aug. 9 gunbattle which resulted in the fatal shooting of part-time bartender Silas Chaney, 45, of 105 Center St.

Pontiac Detectives John Williams and John DePauw said they will ask for a murder warrant against Charles A. Cunningham, 22, of 265 Rockwell St. and another warrant against Melvin Hardiman, 21, of 423 Highland Ave.

Chaney was killed when a masked gunman ambushed him and three other persons at 3 a. m. as they left the El Chico Bar, 374 Franklin Rd., after closing hours.

As Chaney; his wife, Anna Mae Chaney; bar owner Mrs. Timotea Eskridge; and another bartender, Harold Mack of 316 Granet, Hazel Park, left the bar, the gunman brandished a gun and said, "This is a holdup."

DePauw and State Police Detective Charles Leaf said Hardiman reported going to Cunningham's house where they obtained a .32 caliber automatic and a .38 revolver.

The officers quoted Cunningham as saying both he and Hardiman later went to the bar and hid behind the building until the four persons came out.

"I was using the .32 automatic and was standing about 15 to 30 feet behind Babe (Hardiman) covering him. Then I heard the shooting."

Ballistics tests showed Chaney was killed with a .32, said DePauw.

Cunningham admitted he fired his .32 twice as Chaney started running toward a waiting car, officers said.

"I saw a man run from around the building when I shot," said Cunningham. "I knew a man had

Says 'Red' GIs Now in Kaesong

PWs Reported Waiting Transfer to Custody of Indians in Neutral Zone

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — An unofficial Communist spokesman said today that some American prisoners who refuse to go home are now in nearby Kaesong awaiting transfer to the custody of Indian troops in the neutral zone.

He reported that others who had said they would remain with the Communists already have been repatriated. He said fellow soldiers induced them to change their minds and as the result they were among the prisoners freed in "operation big switch."

The spokesman was Wilfred Burchett, Australian born correspondent for the Paris Communist newspaper L'Humanite.

Burchett said he could not say how many Americans still refuse repatriation. It has been estimated that the number is between 20 and 30, out of a total of 300 to 400 Allied prisoners still in Red hands who refuse to return home.

Burchett had said earlier today that some of these United Nations prisoners had decided to go home after all.

Later he explained that during the big exchange of prisoners some Americans got as far as nearby Kawsong, the Red repatriation center, and then wavered and decided to stay with the Communists.

Commies Hint Indochina Truce Can Be Reached

TOKYO (AP) — The Communist Peiping Radio hinted broadly today that a negotiated truce is possible in the long and bloody Indochina war.

The demand for peace from people throughout the world "forced the American aggressors to stop the war in Korea," the broadcast declared. "Their power can force the imperialists to abandon their arms in Vietnam."

The Chinese language broadcast heard here declared "the Vietnam people's just struggle to defend peace and win independence will be wholeheartedly supported by all the peace-loving peoples of Asia."

Pedestrian Is Killed on Dixie Highway

Lester Prue, a 55-year-old Hermansville man, was killed Saturday night when he walked into moving traffic at U. S. 10 and Silver Circle Dr., Oakland sheriff's deputies said today.

Mrs. Evelyn L. Parks, 44, of 8049 Haviland St., told deputies she was unable to avoid Prue when he stepped between two moving cars in front of her car.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, who took Mrs. Parks' statement, released her after three witnesses verified her account.

Prue was living at 6990 Andersonville Rd., Clarkston, while helping the Clare Bedding Manufacturing Co., of 4855 White Lake Rd., move its plant to Hermansville.

He is survived by a wife and six grown children in Hermansville.

Slightly Warmer Tuesday

Mercury Dips Down to 39 for New Low on Weekend

Shivering Pontiac donned topcoats today after the mercury which set heat records slightly over a week ago sank to a new all-time low for Sunday and equaled another today.

The thermometer plunged to 39 degrees Sunday morning—two degrees under the all-time low for Sept. 13 recorded in 1902.

The same temperature was recorded this morning, equaling the record low for today—39 degrees recorded in 1873.

But a check with Oakland County Agricultural Extension Service turned up no reports of frost damage to crops anywhere in the vicinity.

And U.S. Weather Bureau predicted that slightly warmer temperatures tonight and Tuesday might help thaw Pontiac residents chilled by the damp, windy weekend.

Low tonight will be between 44 and 48 degrees, the official forecast said, with a high Tuesday of 66 to 70. Light showers are forecast for Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The mercury rose to 75 degrees Saturday before blustery winds dropped it to a low of 53 Satur-

William N. Oatis, Foreign Correspondent, Tells Story of His Arrest

(Editor's Note: Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis, rested and restored to health after two years in a Communist prison cell in Czechoslovakia, has written the story of his ordeal.)

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

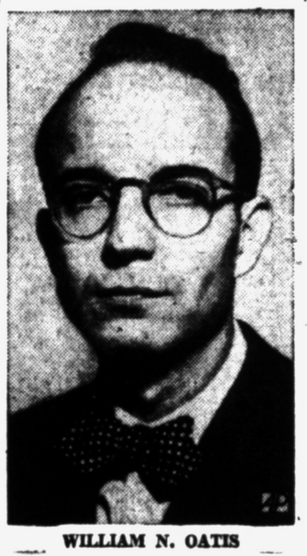

The first sign that I was in trouble came in August of 1950, two months after I went to Prague, Czechoslovakia, as a foreign correspondent.

It happened at the world congress of the International Union of Students, held in a big trade exposition hall on the outskirts of Prague.

The IUS had its secretariat in Prague and included member organizations of college students in 68 countries. The secretariat and most of the member organizations were Communist dominated, but some of the latter, notably in England, Scotland and Denmark, were not.

My newsgathering routine consisted mostly of sitting in the office and writing stories I selected from the official Czechoslovak News Agency and local newspapers and radio, and occasionally going out and getting what I could from diplomats.

The student congress gave me a chance to get something first hand—to cover a story with my own eyes and ears.

WILLIAM N. OATIS

The convention produced no world-shaking news. But I reported how delegates demonstrated for Soviet Prime Minister Stalin, while some Western delegations sat silent, and how an American speaker proclaimed, "In America, we will shout, 'Hands off Korea!'"

I later went down on the convention floor to talk to that speaker and some other delegates seated there. The hall was well staffed with ushers, but none stopped me.

I was in my office the next morning when a man telephoned asking if I knew where he could find Russell Jones, the United Press chief in Prague.

I said I could not, and inquired who was calling. The man said, "This is Jan."

I had heard about him. Jan Stransky had worked for the UP until shortly before I arrived in Prague. Then he had been picked up and sent to a labor camp on the grounds he had planned to leave the country illegally.

A few minutes after he had called, he walked into the office, a slight, boyish fellow with a lively manner, wearing khaki work clothes and brown from the sun. He had a pass to spend Sunday in a town near the camp, and he had taken a chance and come by bus to Prague.

I gathered that he expected to be freed before Christmas and wanted to talk to Jones about getting his job back.

Since Jones could not be found, Stransky wrote a note for me to deliver next time I saw him.

Stransky sat down and typed out something on some paper I gave him—a sheet of yellow foolscap. Without reading it, I put it in my pocket.

When I met Jones at the student congress and gave him the note he grimly tore it up and dropped it, piece by piece, on the floor.

A little later I showed my pass to get into the convention hall. The usher grabbed it and rushed off. After some delay, a young man in glasses appeared. He was trembling with anger. He waved my pass, torn in two, and said it had been canceled.

"You were not behaving as a journalist only and were work-

Hearing on Vacating Alley, Rezoning Lot to Highlight Meeting in Birmingham

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Hearings on vacating an alley and reclassifying a lot west of Woodward between Fourteen Mile and Bird will highlight tonight's City Commission meeting.

Birmingham National Bank has requested the change as it plans to erect a branch there. The Plan Board had previously recommended the changes, rezoning the lot from single family residence to parking district classification.

In a meeting with the Plan Board, residents adjacent to the property had suggested minor revisions in the site plan, and a new one will be presented by the architect tonight.

Another hearing is scheduled on rezoning a lot on the same property from single family residence to business A. Standard Oil Company, which also plans to build there, has offered to exchange a portion of one of its lots for the city-owned lot up for rezoning.

Additional Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills news on page 19.

The city has tentatively agreed to the exchange because it will allow for additional right-of-way on Fourteen Mile when the street is improved.

The third hearing will be on rezoning from business A to single family residence, lots in the Ruby "N" and Taliaferro Estates subdivisions.

City of Royal Oak will submit its resolution asking the county to purchase and install rain gauges throughout Oakland County, and City Manager Donald C. Egbert will recommend the removal of a group of bushes at Bonnie Brier south of Harmon.

tory for the party," however, rather than a victory for its Dixie members.

"The less unnecessary friction we have, the better it will be for the party," he siad.

"A mid-term convention would be sure to produce that friction."

The 1954 convention proposal was made by Paul Butler, Indiana national committeeman, who told the conference committee that he believed such a meeting would focus national attention on the Democrats which otherwise might be denied to them in the course of next year's congressional campaign.

The controversial so-called "loyalty oath" subject cropped up at a meeting of state chairmen, but it was temporarily sidetracked.

L. Marion Gressette, South Carolina state chairman, recommended that the state chairmen go on record in favor of repealing the pledge adopted at last year's national convention.

The pledge required delegates to use every honorable means to get the convention's nominees on state tickets under the Democratic Party heading.

Gressette offered the moton, but withdrew it when State chairman James A. Ronan of Illinois said that he didn't believe the meeting should take any action on it because "this is just an informal gathering."

Ronan was referring to the meeting of state chairmen.

Gressette replied that he felt it would have been a "fine thing if this group would say that there was not going to be that distrust of the South we've had."

"My motion was not intended to bring about a controversy," Gressette added. "I will withdraw it —reluctantly—I was hopeful."

the Red Chinese to the Assembly. But delegates generally felt the question would break into the open soon after the body elects its officers and organizes for what is supposed to be a three-month session.

Qualified quarters said the United States, rather than risk having no peace conference at all, would withdraw its opposition to renewed debate.

Chou's telegram said his government "cannot be satisfied" with the U.N. plan for a two-sided conference and "expresses deep regret at it"

Chou proposed:

1. That the conference be attended by all nations of the two warring sides—the 16 U.N. Allies, Red China, and North and South Korea; and by the five "neutrals."

2. That the conference take the form of a round-table but that decisions must obtain the unanimous agreement of both belligerent sides in Korea.

3. That the conference settle Korea's future and then go on to other Far Eastern questions. The United States has consistently maintained that a Korean settlement must be followed by a general Far East conference with a wider membership.

4. That as soon as the composition of the conference is settled through negotiation, the two belligerent sides in Korea consult and make arrangements for the place and time of the conference.

a gun, so I began firing," he told DePauw and Williams.

After the gunbattle, Cunningham ran across South boulevard and "Hardiman ran across Franklin road toward a drugstore," said police.

According to their formal statements to police, both men said that they later met at Rockwell and Motor streets.

Hardiman told DePauw and Williams that he had been nursing a bullet wound over the left knee, received in the gun fight.

Cunningham said he threw the .32 automatic into the Clinton River near the Bagley street bridge, following the shooting. The .38, he said, was sold to an unidentified man.

Williams said the .38 later was found on two men picked up on an assault charge. DePauw and Williams, assigned to the shooting, said they held the gun, believing then it might be connected with Chaney's death.

DePauw said that two hats found at the scene were identified as belonging to Cunningham and Hardiman.

Cunningham insisted that he "didn't shoot to hit anyone, only to scare them. I didn't know anyone was killed until the next morning."

Witnesses at the time, aroused by the shooting, told poljce they saw a man running with an apparent limp.

Dr. I. C. Prevette, deputy coroner, said, after examining Hardiman Thursday, that the leg wound was inflicted about five weeks ago.

Hardiman, who first denied any part in the shooting last week, was arrested in a poolroom after Williams received an anonymous telephone tip.

DePauw, Leaf and Williams said they obtained Hardiman's confession following eight hours of questioning.

DePauw said that police would drag the Clinton River today for the .32 automatic.

ing through the conference hall," he said.

I thought at once of how I had gone onto the convention floor and questioned the American that had talked about Korea, and of how unhappy he had seemed to see me.

His speech, reported by the official Czechoslovak News Agency and by at least two American agencies, had caused him some trouble back home. And now, I supposed, the young Communists running the congress were punishing me for sending the story.

The congress ended and I turned to other things. In September, Bedrich Runge, a press officer, called me to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Runge was a tall, gray-haired man with vague blue eyes in a beefy face. On my previous visits, he had received me cordially. This time his manner was stiff and cold. And he was not alone. There was a third party on hand — a mousy little mustached man.

Runge failed to offer the usual handshake. Instead, he waved me to a little table. He told me I would not be reaccredited when my permission to work as a correspondent expired Sept. 30.

"This is not a measure directed against The Associated Press," he said. "It is a measure directed against you personally."

"You cannot work in this country unless you respect our laws."

I asked him to be specific.

"You know very well the reason," he said, and I answered, "But I don't know the reason."

I wrote a letter to Runge, requesting permission to stay till a replacement could get in. Finally it was decided I would not be reaccredited but that I could stay and work temporarily as a "private person."

I still did not know why my reaccreditation was being refused, but I had a hunch this had to do with the young Communists that had banished me from the student congress, and with the story about the American who spoke on Korea.

About that time, I had a talk with Vaclav Korinek, general manager of the Czechoslovak News Agency, and asked him if he could tell me what was behind my trouble. And he spoke of the same story.

Maybe that story did have something to do with it—the whole thing is not clear yet. But the story was not the only thing involved.

There was something else. And the people who told me about that were the secret police.

Man Drives Auto Into Detroit River

BIRMINGHAM — Police today were dragging the Detroit River for the body of a man whose car rammed through a riverside iron fence at Civic Center Park last night.

Detroit police said the car was registered in the name of Robert Janisse, 23, of 592 Frank, Birmingham.

Just before ramming his car into the river, witnesses said the man shouted "I'm going to Canada." They said he pushed away a life preserver thrown to him by an onlooker and disappeared about 50 feet from shore.

Janisse's wife, Geneva, said her husband had left with the family car and had threatened to take his life.

First Snow Blankets New Hampshire Peak

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H. (UP) — The mile-high summit of Mount Washington was frosted today with the first snow of the season. The temperature was 24 degrees.

Cannon Mountain also reported a trace of snow. The flurries were confined to New England's high peaks.

day evening. Temperature sank to 39 degrees Sunday, struggling back to a high of 61 degrees later in the day.

Rising from a low of 39 degrees today, the mercury reached 46 at 8 a.m. and stood at 57 degrees at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Showers which soaked the county Thursday, Friday and Saturday seemed to have relieved drought conditions according to Edmond W. Alchin, county agricultural agent.

Alchin said that except for a few fields of late potatoes, crops had been wet down in time to prevent extensive damage. Fields are in good condition for wheat planting he said, and seeding crops are recovering.

Pontiac area escaped serious damage from winds which lashed the area with gusts up to 50 miles per hour Saturday and Saturday night.

Oakland County Road Commission reported men spent "a few hours" Sunday cleaning up fallen branches from highways, but said no roads were reported blocked.

Detroit Edison Co. said four customers lacked service temporarily Sunday when a falling limb downed a primary line and one transformer fuse blew out.

Other parts of Michigan got a preview of wintry weather. Subfreezing temperatures were reported at Cadillac, Pellston and Gladwin in the lower peninsula, while the mercury plunged below 32 degrees at several spots in the Upper Peninsula.

Snow mixed with rain fell at Sault Ste. Marie. Flint and Saginaw were near freezing with lows of 34.

Former Champion Leads

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP) — Lean Charley Coe, the 1949 National Amateur golf champion and one of several favorites in the 53rd amateur championship which started today, got off to a flying start in his first round match when he shot the first nine holes in 33.

That two-under-par nine put Coe five up on another Oklahoma City player, 24-year-old Glen Fowler, at the first turn.

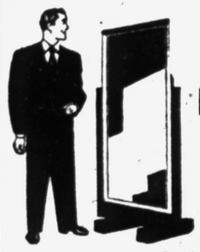

Par for the 6,852-yard Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club course is 35-36—71.

MOVEABLE FRAME PROVIDES FOR EASY ADJUSTMENT OF BED

It is much easier, to whip through the morning chores if the beds slide easily over the floor.

One of today's favorite beds, the headboard bed, may be hard to move because it sits on the floor on six legs attached to the box-spring.

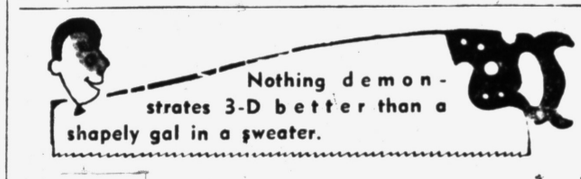

But you can buy a frame to make it movable, a frame that adds not an inch to the bed's length or width.

This frame can be attached to any headboard. It makes the headboard movable as well as the mattress and spring.

It floats the headboard legs slightly above the floor. The weight of the bed is evenly distributed and the frame legs on casters fit underneath where they can't be bumped into.

You can change one headboard for another with ease, and it is even possible to convert a twin bed to a double bed, or a double bed to a twin bed and use the same frame because the frame is adjustable to any bed size from single to double.

Clergy Blasts Commie Probe

July Secret Hearings Draw Fire of Prominent Church Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—A congressional report on alleged Communist activities of some clergymen has drawn new criticism and denials from members of the ministry.

The comments fell upon the House un-American Activities Committee, which last Friday released testimony taken at secret hearings in New York in July.

Witnesses—three of whom said they were former Communists and successful examples of Red infiltration of religion—were quoted as saying the Communists plotted to plant hundreds of followers among the clergy. The three ex-Reds are Manning Johnson, Benjamin Gitlow and Joseph Zack Kornfeder, all of New York.

Among those named in the testimony as involved in such a plot were the Rev. Dr. Harry F. Ward, the Rev. John Haynes Holmes and the late Rabbis Stephen S. Wise and Judah Magnes.

Yesterday in New York too prominent Jewish leaders — Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the American Jewish Congress, and Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations — called "fanstastic" the testimony concerning Rabbis Wise and Magnes.

Rabbis Goldstein and Eisendrath said in a joint statement that Rabbi Wise for half a century was "America's foremost rabbi." They added:

"Men of all faiths and creeds looked to him as one of the nation's most dauntless and effective foes of injustice and corruption where they appeared."

Rabbi Magnes, the statement said, "served with distinction . . . as (a) rabbi."

New York Republican Opposes Sales Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) has served notice that, if President Eisenhower proposes a national sales tax, he is ready to resume his battle with the administration over tax policy.

"A general sales tax will not be approved by the Congress in the coming session," Reed said in a statement Saturday. "I base this prediction on reports coming to me from members of the Ways and Means Committee and other members of the House who are in their home districts."

He added:

"As usual, the American people control the situation."

Treaty Power-Limiting Bill Predicted for '54

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic Senate leader, predicted yesterday that agreement will be reached next year on a controversial proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty powers.

Bricker has contended a constitutional amendment is needed to prevent possible future whittling away of basic American rights through the negotiation of treaties. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have said that in its present form, Bricker's amendment would hamper conduct of foreign affairs.

Saar Food Dealers Hit at French Price Cuts

SAARBRUECKEN, The Saar (AP)—The Association of Saarland Food Dealers protested today against price cuts forced on them by the French government's price reduction campaign.

They complained that they have to bear the price losses themselves while French dealers can charge them against taxes.

Under the close economic ties between France and the Saar, price cuts in France automatically apply in the Saar.

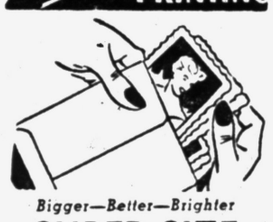

926 Students in Armada

Calls Bonn Housing Too Luxurious

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 17 million dollar U. S. housing project at Bonn, Germany, has been denounced by a House government operations subcommitte as "too lavish and luxurious."

The subcommittee, in its report Saturday after hearings earlier this year, said five officials' homes were erected at $115,000 to $227,000 each and 458 smaller apartments —equipped with ham slicers and champagne glasses—cost $26,000 per unit.

The development was built by the State Department for U. S. workers transferred to Bonn in 1951 when the West German capital was moved there from Frankfurt.

The committee conceded the project avoided further requisitioning of German homes, but said the construction should have been more modest.

Suspect in Lewis Slaying Surrenders

NEW YORK (AP)—Ex-convict William Howell, suspected of driving a getaway car in the murder of labor leader Thomas F. Lewis on Aug. 28, surrendered to police early today.

Howell, 35, of Ridgefield, N.J., was subjected to lengthy questioning at Bronx police headquarters. Hours after his surrender, police gave out no inkling of Howell's story.

He had been sought in many states for questioning since a car seen speeding away from the murder was traced to him. Some investigators expressed fear he had been slain to silence him and to protect those who ordered the unsolved Lewis murder.

Lewis, 35, was shot down in his Bronx apartment house by Edward Ryan, 45, an ex-convict believed to have been hired for the murder. Ryan never had a chance to use the suspected getaway car and was killed in a gun fight with a policeman while fleeing.

The New York Daily News said Howell surrendered on the pleas of his wife, Margaret, 30.

Howell, the News said, denied involvement in the murder and said he fled because of his criminal record, and hid out in New York City!

Cupid Suffers When Beauty Enters Politics

CHICAGO (AP)—Attractive Rosalind "Roz" Wiener, 22-year-old member of the Los Angeles City Council, is finding that political success can be hard on romance.

The first woman on her hometown city council in 36 years, Roz is here from California to participate on a panel discussion at the Democratic nation-wide pep rally.

She will tell how she rang 4,500 doorbells in her campaign in which she beat eight opponents in the primary and won by 3,000 votes in the final.

But the job of being a "city father" calls for a 12-hour day. She said she gets to her office at about 8:30 a.m.

She likes it, but—

"I'm human, a woman, young, and I want to go out."

Roz said because of her work she once went a month without going out on a date, "and I'm not used to that."

377 Repatriates Begin Last Leg of Journey Homeward

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Planes, trains, busses and autos sped happiness across the nation today. Another shipload of repatriated prisoners of war had docked and 377 more soldiers were home.

For most it was a quick trip through the processing lines and then home to the folks. For some it was a slight delay at Letterman General Hospital while their medical histories were checked.

The Marine Phoenix, sixth of the freedom vessels, is a large impersonal thing. But its cargo yesterday was human happiness and heartbreak.

Mrs. Ola Riddle of Richmond, Calif., met the ship. Not in hopes of seeing her husband; he had never been repatriated. But to learn something about him from an Army buddy coming home.

The truth came quickly; brutal in its impact, but merciful in the gentle words of a friend.

"He wandered out of the hut in the middle of winter. He was starving to death. We found him in the snow the next day and we buried him."

Thus did Mrs. Riddle learn that Sgt. Hoyle T. Riddle, 38, was dead.

Cpl. Ralph W. Meier of White Lake, S.D., knew "something was up" when he read letters from his wife and mother shortly before leaving the ship.

But it was a reporter who broke the news: Meier's wife had remarried, thinking him dead.

His wife Ava, only 15 when he married her shortly before entering the Army, had married Herald Kapsch of Mitchell, S.D., last March. That marriage was annulled when she learned Meier was alive and a captive of the Reds.

Rita Gets Death Threat, Is Under Armed Guard

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rita Hayworth's two young daughters are under armed guard at her home today after the film star's attorney said Miss Hayworth received the second of two letters threatening death unless she returns to Prince Aly Khan.

Rita's attorney, Bartley Crum, who confirmed receipt of the two letters, said the armed guard was placed over Yasmin and her half-sister, Rebecca Welles, 8, daughter of Orson Welles, at Miss Hayworth's home here.

Boys' Program Expanded

With a heavy early registration and an expanded program, Pontiac Boys Club is looking ahead to another busy and fruitful year.

Among the innovations announced by Executive Director WILLIAM V. COULACOS is a plan to teach leadership and the fundamentals of government.

The boys will campaign for the offices of mayor and aldermen. Those elected will supervise various club activities. A feature of this plan will be weekly luncheon meetings with the club director to discuss policies and improvements.

Also to be expanded is the club's athletic program with three varsity and 25 intramural basketball teams and 10 touch football teams of six boys each.

That the club house on East Pike Street will be a busy place throughout the coming year was indicated by the early enrollment of 820 members. Prospects are that this total will be increased to 1,100 by Christmas.

Director COULACOS and his aides are to be congratulated on the enlarged program. It will give more boys a chance to learn useful skills, fair play and the basic ideals of good citizenship.

Reds Violating Truce

Suspicion first voiced by Gen. MARK CLARK that the enemy is holding back many U.N. prisoners has been confirmed by the action of the Allied Armistice Commissioner.

Americans will cheer Maj. Gen. BLACKSHEAR'S demand that the enemy immediately release or account for the 3,404 U.N. prisoners listed, including 944 Americans. But it would be a mistake to hope that a mere demand will bring results.

Already Peiping radio has branded the list a complete fabrication and countered with a demand that U.N. return the 27,000 Red POWs released by SYNGMAN RHEE.

No one knows, of course, how accurate the U.N. list is. Undoubtedly quite a few of the prisoners could have died. But the stories of repatriates and the Reds' own radio reports of captures leave no doubt that men are being held in violation of the truce agreement.

One of the mysteries is what the Reds could hope to gain by keeping hostages. Certainly they are badly mistaken if they believe this would help them win U.S. recognition and a seat in the United Nations. Nothing could do more to inflame free world opinion against them.

Russia, which talks so much of peace while doing everything to block it, may be the answer. Isn't it reasonable to suspect the hostage idea may be a Russian maneuver to block any agreement between China and the West and to wreck the Korean peace conference?

More Aid for France

Washington dispatches indicate the strong probability that U.S. military aid to France soon may be increased in the hope of enabling our ally to end the bloody war in Indochina.

At the same time it was revealed that a secret request for such stepped up aid had the approval of the National Security Council and is favored by President EISENHOWER. The request is for several hundred millions in addition to the $400,000,000 already appropriated.

In seeking the additional funds the Laniel government outlined its new plan for combating Communists in Southeastern Asia. These include dispatch of nine more battalions of French troops from Europe to reinforce the 350,000 French and loyal Indochinese troops already under arms there.

Also planned is further expansion of Viet Nam forces so they, Laos and Cambodian troops eventually can take over the defense of Indochina. To increase popular native support the French have pledged complete self government for the three Indochina states.

The National Security Council is the Government's top policy making body. Available to it is the advice of our foremost military experts. Its recommendation that the additional aid be granted means that every aspect of the situation in Southeastern Asia has been reexamined.

It also means that in the Council's opinion the new grant would strengthen our position in the Far East. Moreover it would lighten the financial burden on France resulting from her eight year war against the Communists and thus increase France's ability to bolster European defenses against the Reds.

The Man About Town

That 'Fourth' City

Only One Reader Submitted Correct Answer to Question

Daffynition

Regret: What you'll have if you don't get that football contest entry in on time.

Hartung Francis

of Birmingham was the only one correct in all respects. According to the 1953 World Almanac, London is the fourth city in the world, following New York, Moscow and Chicago. This is according to the 1950 census on the cities themselves, and not including any "Greater" figures. Cities of China and Japan are not considered, as no official figures on them are available. Unofficial estimates would make Shanghai and Tokyo contenders. First four in the United States are New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Los Angeles. First four in Michigan: Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint and Saginaw. First four in Oakland County: Pontiac, Royal Oak, Ferndale and Hazel Park.

The close of the Man About Town football contest is less than five days away. Right NOW is the time to make out your entry. It costs nothing, and every member of the family is eligible. Or don't you want $300 in bonds? Check over that list of games and see that your entry reaches the Pontiac Press office by next Saturday noon.

Physician Notes Sterilization of Feeble Minded and Insane at Expense of State

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature).

During 1952 Michigan protected four of its insane and 72 of its feeble minded persons from transmitting their undesirable heredity to children.

By a foresighted law passed in 1913, such persons can be sterilized at state expense. This humane operation closes the small tubes through which pass the sperms in a man or the eggs of a woman.

No organ is removed from the body and there is no alteration in sexual characteristics or desires. The patient can detect no resulting change except the desired one that children are not produced.

Although some of the potential children might not inherit the insanity or mental deficiency, each would suffer from upbringing by a mentally abnormal parent.

The 76 sterilizations of insane and feeble minded persons which Michigan reported in 1952 are one per 100,000 inhabitants. This exceeds that of 14 other states having sterilization laws.

Reader Urges More Severe Punishments

I wonder if we do not need to go back to some of those old-time laws against crime?

In "Colonial Records of Connecticut 1726-1735, under a heading, "An act in addition to the law entitled an act against theft and burglary," I find:

"Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that if any person shall commit burglary, by breaking up any dwelling house or shop wherein goods, wares and merchandise are kept, or shall rob any person offending, for the first offense shall be branded on the forehead with the letter "B."

Also having one of his ears nailed to a post and cut off and be whipped on the naked body 15 stripes.

"For the second offense, such person shall be branded as aforesaid and have the other of his ears nailed and cut off and be whipped on the naked body 25 stripes. For the third offense, such person shall suffer death, as is provided in said act."

Lawrence Sees Both Wagner, T-H Acts Depriving Individuals of Civil Liberties

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Labor-union bosses have a serious decision ahead of them.

Are they going to try to "make something" out of the resignation of Martin Durkin as secretary of labor? Will the radicals and so-called "liberals" in the Democratic Party try to exploit the episode as their peppery remarks last week indicated?

Or will the labor-union strategists strive in a conciliatory spirit to get some of their amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act through Congress with a minimum of bitter feeling all around?

The decision is important because the labor-union bosses cannot defend persuasively in a major debate today several of the amendments they seek. Such a debate would be educational.

For it would reveal to the American people what so few citizens know—namely, that the greatest loss of individual liberty suffered in the last 20 years in the American republic has resulted from the political influence and authoritarian policies of big unions.

One wonders when there will be a revival of true liberalism in America so that an individual may recover this right to work and his freedom to negotiate employment and wages for himself.

He was deprived of these civil liberties under the Wagner Act and it unfortunately continues to be the case under the Taft-Hartley Act.

When, as is sanctioned by the present law, a citizen is not allowed to retain his job unless he joins a union—even though he may have conscientious objections to such membership—the loss of liberty is far greater than could possibly be involved when a congressional committee asks a witness whether he is a Communist.

Yet in the hue and cry which emanates from certain pulpits, forums, and from meetings like that of the American Political Science Association held here last week where alleged dangers to freedom are stressed, nothing is said about the concrete loss of civil rights to the worker already experienced under existing law or about the civil rights certain to be lost if some of the amendments being demanded by the big labor unions are enacted.

Not all the proposed amendments which Durkin tried to get accepted by the White House are restrictive of individual liberty as there are some of relatively little consequence included that are supposed to benefit employers.

The important restrictions on the rights of individuals which the labor unions want can be stated as follows:

1. Management in certain industries—maritime, construction and amusement—would be deprived of the right to hire whom they pleased.

Employes would be furnished by a union monopoly to which the worker and the public generally would pay tribute. To allow prehiring agreements in certain industries and break down the principle of freedom of hiring is to sanction its breakdown eventually in all industries.

2. Unions would have the right hereafter — whenever compulsory membership for the minority of individuals has been voted by a majority — to expel anybody from membership for items far beyond the mere nonpayment of dues.

This could include by subterfuge any criticism of their own officers at labor-union meetings. Employers would have to discharge such employes at the simple behest of the unions or become involved in legal controversy.

3. Supervisors who in the main have represented management heretofore are to be required to join unions, thus depriving management of any means of having their instructions at the workbench carried out loyally without putting the supervisor at odds with his own union.

Also it would subject him to risk of expulsion form the union and thus in most instances automatically losing him his job.

4. Compulsory unionization as a principle would be made absolute by federal law. This would render invalid hereafter those provisions of state laws or state constitutions which in 11 states now forbid various forms of the "closed shop," sometimes called the "union shop."

This proposal would go further than the Wagner Act ever did in depriving the individual citizen of his right to refrain from joining a union.

These are only a few of the delicate points involved and the more the issue is brought out in the open the better it will be for the workers who have no spokesmen nowadays as against the tyrannies of autocratic control where compulsory unionization has been introduced.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Hysterectomy Shouldn't Affect Feminine Charm

Alice is verging on a nervous breakdown because of her false notions concerning the female womb. So study this Case record and obtain the true facts. Most of the menopausal upsets in women are also due to the same erroneous notion that Alice has.,

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case H-385: Alice G., aged 22, is very much worried.

"Dr. Crane, I am almost a nervous wreck," she began. "For I have gone to the doctor who says I must have my womb removed.

"He says I have a fibroid tumor as big as a grapefruit. But I am terrified.

"I don't know what people will think, for I always believed such tumors occurred only in married women.

"And now how can I ever marry? Oh, it is terrible! I feel that there is nothing to live for.

"Don't you think my doctor may have made a mistake?"

In case you ever are fearful that your physician is in error, you can always consult a second doctor.

But Alice's physician is an expert, so she is hoping against hope that he made a mistake.

As a rule, I avoid strictly medical problems in this column, but when patients like Alice are so wrought up, it is well to state the medical facts.

For knowledge gives you a broader perspective. Then you are not so likely to magnify molehills until they look like mountains. Removal of the female uterus (womb) is thus a common surgical event.

Moreover, it is not limited to married women. Many young girls, as well as spinsters, develop fibroids. These are similar to large warts that look like cartilage. They may even grow as big as a watermelon.

Fibroids usually prevent pregnancy, anyway. If they become so uncomfortable because of their size that they make a woman miserable, then, in such an event, it is well to have the womb removed (hysterectomy).

"But would I ever be able to function as a wife?" Alice fearfully asked.

Yes, the removal of your uterus should have no more significant effect on your ability to be a complete wife, than is the removal of your appendix.

So you women must not get upset and become neurotic. Oh, it is true, you will not be able to bear babies thereafter.

But I have already mentioned that a fibroid usually prevents that possibility even if your womb were not removed.

Besides, you can adopt children and be just as devoted to them as to any flesh-and-blood offspring. Or foster-parent a Sunday school class.

Whether you lose your womb by surgery or it stops its monthly cycle because you have passed the age of about 45, should not upset you women.

You can still function as wives until a ripe old age. The usual menopausal upsets are based on a false notion that the womb is a primary sex organ.

It definitely is not. So get wise to the true medical facts and cheer up. Smile and be jolly wives or sweethearts, for a hysterectomy should not affect your feminine charm.

A husband can't tell in marital relations whether his wife has a womb or not! So you neurotic wives can relax and banish your needless fears.

Send for my bulletin "Menopausal Complexes," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. It offers further advice on this subject.

Everyday Refined Diet of Americans Deficient in 3 Vitamins and Minerals

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

The process of degeneration which we call arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries begins earlier in some persons, later in others according to the quality of the tubing inherited, as 19th century authorities conjectured.

The degeneration is rapid in some persons, slow in others, according to the individual's nutritional condition, as 20th century authorities believe.

The older theory that the condition of the arteries depends chiefly on inheritance, that the iniquity of the fathers is visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation, impressed old time medical authorities, perhaps because it covered their ignorance of pathology so well.

No medical authority today gives that wicked notion credence.

From what I can learn the concensus of physicians today is that arteriosclerosis is not an inherited defect or disease but that it is a process of degeneration (breaking down, wearing out) which depends on the state of nutrition, not just for the past 6 months but from cradle to — no, say to breakfast this morning.

If you are interested in degeneration, in the physical or medical sense, Stedman's medical dictionary will give you a good definition:

A retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which the functioning power is lost and the living substance becomes converted into an inert mass.

Say the muscle cells in the artery wall wear out, as cells normally do in hours, days or weeks of work, they are replaced, not by new muscle cells but by inelastic fibrous or fatty material or the defect is patched with nature's plaster of Paris — calcium deposits.

This degeneration process is not an abrupt or sharp breakdown.

No physician can say, and no instrument or test available today can determine whether an apparently healthy individual aged 40 has attained the peak of his or her growth and development and has already begun to degenerate that is, to die.

But the record of an individual's physical health kept in the files of the doctor who makes his periodic examinations may reveal a gradual decline which tells the doctor what kind of advice to give to postpone the cold gradations.

The everyday refined diet of most Americans is deficient in three vitamins and three minerals, namely, B1 (thiamin), B2 (riboflavin) and D (sunshine vitamin); calcium, phosphorus and iodin.

In my opinion, inadequate daily intake of these essentials of good nutrition accounts for early degeneration and decline of a lot of Americans who don't know how to live.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

PORTENDS OF FUTURE—One minute they are babies, and then all of a sudden they are little girls

That's the way it seems to all parents, and as you leaf back through the pages of history when the Dionne quintuplets were babies, in almost no time at all the five tiny infants you first saw come into the world in 1934 are standing around their fifth birthday cake.

And as you go back through those baby days, you'll find some portents of the future, too.

For instance, you'll see Marie, the deeply religious and quietest of the quints, solemnly trying to capture the attitude of the Blessed Virgin as she stands before the image in the nursery creche. This fall Marie leaves her sisters for the first time, to enter the order of the Sisters of the Holy Sacrament at Quebec.

And you'll see Yvonne standing with brush in hand as if awaiting a nod from the critics for her somewhat swirly painting back in 1937. Now Yvonne is leaving, too, to study art at Notre Dame Congregation in Montreal.

Seek Plebiscite in Free Trieste

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP) — The Western Big Three today studied an Italian plea for a free plebiscite in explosive Trieste and a blunt Yugoslav warning "not to pour oil on the fire."

Neither in Belgrade nor Rome was there much confidence that the latest settlement proposals by the raw-tempered neighbors had brought the seven-year-old quarrel over the strategic frontier territory any nearer a solution. But neither was there serious fear that the heightened dispute would lead to violence.

In a speech here yesterday, Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella called for a plebiscite in the entire Free Trieste territory to determine whether it eventually should be under Italian or Yugoslav control.

At the same time he flatly rejected Yugoslav President Tito's proposal a week ago to internalize the port city of Trieste and give the surrounding rural territory to Yugoslavia.

At present, the northern part of the territory, including the port, is occupied by British and American troops. Italy assists in its joint administration. The southern district—zone B—is occupied by Yugoslav troops.

Tito, speaking yesterday to a crowd of 150,000 in the Adriatic cit of Split, warned the Italians they would "break their heads" against a stone wall of Yugoslav resistance if they attempted to seize Trieste by force.

"All that I am asking from the Western World," said Tito, "is not to pour oil on the fire."

He charged that Italy had designs on his nation's territory, and he voiced a "suspicion" that some Western elements, particularly in Britain, were scheming with the Italians against Yugoslavia.

However, Tito denied rumors, which he charged Italy was spreading for "propaganda purposes," that Yugoslavia is turning back toward Russia and away from its Western supporters.

Flag Firm Opposes Adding More Stars

OAKE, Pa. (UP)—A company that would stand to gain considerably by any change in the design of the American Flag is opposed to adding stars for new states.

Charles L. Campbell, vice president of the Dettra Flag Co., one of the largest flag-makers in the nation, said the problem of stars has now reached the proportion of the problem with stripes back in 1818 when each of the seven new states was clamoring for its stripe.

If the practice of adding stripes for new states had been continued then, he said, we would have an awkwardly designed flag today.

"We think the time has come for Congress to freeze the design of the U.S. Flag in its present form," Campbell said.

"It is all right to say that we could add another star for Hawaii just bye rearranging the field to have seven rows of seven stars each," Campbell said. "But where do we go from there? After all, Alaska is also pushing for statehood, and how do you arrange 50 stars?"

"Furthermore, it's not unreasonable that our other territories, Guam, Puerto Rico, Wake Island and the Virgin Islands, should some day seek statehood, and what happens to the Flag then?"

State Bar Group Calls for End to Color Line

The committee's recommendation will be considered at the bar's convention in Detroit Sept. 24.

New York Primary to See Dem Contest

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP)—A bitter fight between two wings of the Democratic party comes to a head in balloting tomorrow in New York City's mayoral primary.

Some of the scars inflicted in heated exchanges of the past few weeks give signs of remaining unhealed through the Nov. 3 general election.

Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, seeking the party nomination for another term, is backed by so-called conservative forces.

Among them is James A. Farley, the former Democratic national chairman who broke with Presiden Franklin D. Roosevelt on the third term issue.

Opposing Impellitteri for the nomination is Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner Jr., son of the late author of the Wagner Labor Relations Act, who is backed by the so-called New Deal wing.

Wagner is supported by the pro-New Deal Americans for Democratic Action and prominent New and Fair Dealers such as Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, Averell Harriman, former foreign aid chief, and Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

GM Will Recall Men in 3 Months

Expect Gear Operations to Be Rolling Again by Mid-December

DETROIT (UP) — Seven-thousand General Motors workers idled by the fire at the Livonia transmission plant should be back at work by mid-December, a union official predicts.

President Michael Loverich of Local 735, CIO United Auto Workers, said he was informed that near-peak production of automatic transmissions at Willow Run should be reached by that time.

GM leased approximately one-third of the Willow Run plant from Kaiser Motors Corp. to make hydra-matic transmissions after its own plant burned early in August.

Loverich made his prediction at a meeting of the idled workers here Sunday at which time a resolution was passed urging Gov. G. Mennen Williams to put a moratorium on their debts until they are recalled to work.

Williams promised to do "everything possible" under state law. Meanwhile, he said, "I shall personally urge these banks and loan companies to defer, insofar as possible, obligations owned by those made jobless by the fire."

HAVE YOU TRIED WONDER BREAD LATELY?

Made With Even Better Quality Protein Flour To Give You A Better Loaf Of Bread

Surveys Show 1 Out Of 2 Children Fail To Get The Recommended Amounts Of Food-Energy For Normal Weight And Growth Gains.

The Bread That Helps Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways!

An average boy of 10 should gain about 6 pounds in one year.

Which is at the rate of ½ pound per month; or less than 2 ounces each week.

But any time your child fails to gain puts her or him that far behind.

Why Lack of Food-Energy Causes Weight and Growth Loss

Carbohydrate and fat supply food-energy. Protein supplies the "building blocks" of growth.

Now Nature cannot use carbohydrate and fat alone for growth, but it can use protein for energy.

Thus, when your child fails to get enough carbohydrate and fat food-energy, Nature uses the protein for food-energy instead of growth.

The result: Your child's growth is stunted.

Wonder Bread Helps Your Child Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

A well-balanced diet calls for meat, milk, eggs, fruit and both yellow and green-leafed vegetables. And carbohydrate food for energy. Like Wonder Bread.

Because not only does Wonder Bread supply food-energy but protein. Study the chart and see how Wonder Bread helps build bigger and stronger bodies 8 ways.

To encourage your child to eat a well-balanced diet and 8 slices of Wonder Bread each day, show him or her this ad. Because it shows how any boy or girl can grow bigger and stronger 8 ways—which is what they want to excel in their favorite sports.

Measure your child in the doorway. Make a pencil mark now. Then in 3 months and 6 months—watch the mark shoot up!

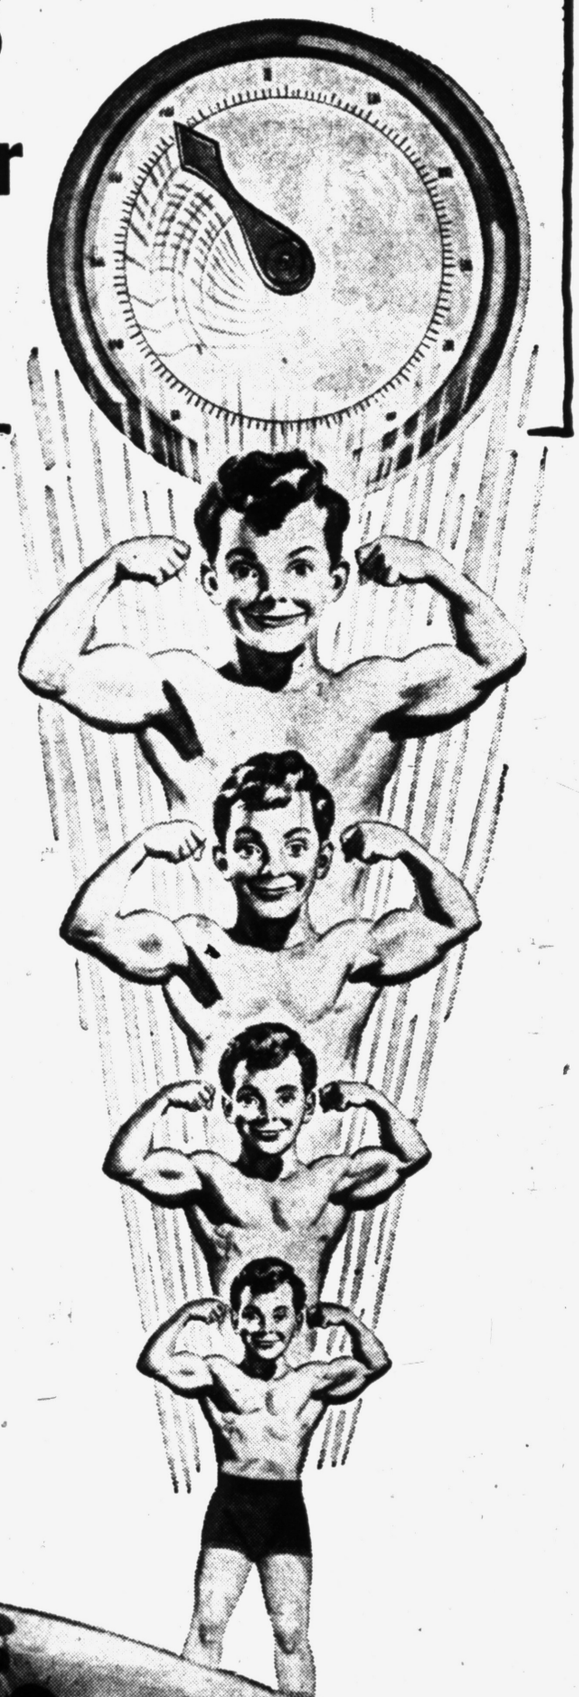

Get Wonder Bread Today

Wonder Bread is a wonderful food. Because it helps build strong bodies 8 ways.

And Wonder Bread has a wonderful flavor. Because it is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it.

Teeming India Finds an Outlet

Andaman Isles in Bay of Bengal to Be Home for 20,000 Persons

WASHINGTON — Teeming India has found an outlet for part of its overflow population—the tropical Andaman Islands, 700 miles south of Calcutta in the Bay of Bengal.

Under a new five-year, $10,000,000 development plan, the Indian government hopes to settle 20,000 persons—some 4,000 agricultural families—on the fertile island chain that once served as a penal colony, the National Geographic Society says.

Hindu refugees from Pakistan's East Bengal Province have first priority.

Already more than 400 families have moved to the new settlement. Transportation, 10 acres of land, housing materials, seeds, and farming implements have been furnished free to each family.

Thousands of acres of forest land have been cleared. Rice, sugar cane, corn, citrus fruits, tea and coffee are being cultivated.

Apportioned to the Union of India in the 1947 partition, the 204 Andaman Islands have an area of 2,508 square miles, slightly larger than the State of Delaware.

The Indian government envisions thriving fisheries, cattle and poultry breeding, and furniture and shipbuilding industries in future years.

The Andamans may also be developed as a vacation resort. Secluded coral bays with spacious sandy beaches front coconut plantations. Beautiful lagoons provide natural harbors for sailing craft. The climate is warm but tempered by constant sea breezes.

About 700 miles north of the equator and less than 300 miles west of the Malay Peninsula, the Andamans are in the heart of the monsoon belt, but, strangely enough, are rarely affected by cyclonic storms.

Port Blair, one of southern Asia's finest harbors, is the Andaman capital. Site of a British settlement in 1789, the port was abandoned seven years later.

In 1858, the Indian government established a penal colony at Blair, but in 1921 shipment of convicts from the mainland was discontinued. The Japanese occupied the islands for 3½ years during World War II.

In past centuries, sailors crossing the Indian Ocean gave the Andaman a wide berth because island aborigines tortured and massacred shipwreck victims. Relics of a south Asia pygmy race, 12 tribes of Andamanese roamed the island chain.

Hunting fish and small game with bow and arrow, they spurned permanent settlements. Once numbering in the thousands, less than 100 aborigines remain in the Andamans today.

Buses Resume Suburban Runs

Drivers Accept 15-Cent Hourly Wage Increase, Return to Work

DETROIT (UP)—Intertown Suburban Lines buses were scheduled to resume their regular runs today between Detroit and down-river communities.

Striking drivers, members of the AFL Streetcar and Bus Operators Union, voted 148-21 Sunday night to accept a new company offer providing 15-cent hourly pay increases.

The drivers left some 40,000 commuters in the suburban areas without bus service when they walked off the job at noon Thursday to support pay demands.

Intertown links Detroit with Wayne, Inkster, Dearborn, Garden City, Romulus, Wyandotte, New Boston, Taylor Township and Eloise.

A. C. Kelly, union president, said the agreement called for an 8-cent hourly increase retroactive to Aug. 1 when the old contract expired, an automatic 4-cent increase when the drivers returned to work and another 3-cent hike on the first payday of next year.

He said the raise upped the base pay of the 169 drivers to $86 for a 48-hour work week.

Umpire's Ruling Causes 2 Riots at Men's Prison

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — It wasn't poor food or rough treatment by guards that sent more than 100 inmates on a riotous binge of destruction last night and today at the Maryland State Reformatory for Males.

"It was an umpire's decision in a ball game," said the flabbergasted Supt. Henry R. Raymond.

Sixty-three young prisoners, still seething over an official's call in an afternoon reformatory league baseball game, erupted into violence at bedtime.

Before being subdued by tear gas, fire hoses and Raymond's stern words, they wrecked furniture, shattered windows and smashed lighting fixtures in two recreation rooms of the western Maryland institution.

Early today a second flareup occurred when a group of 40 prisoners in a basement dormitory tried to barricade doors and started breaking lights.

James W. Curran, assistant superintendent of Maryland prisons, said the men had heard about the first riot and staged one of their own when lights were turned on all over the prison after the first riot was smashed.

Authorities said about 40 guards were aided by 25 state troopers, city police and sheriff's deputies in putting down the first rebellion. They said no force was used to quell the second disturbance.

The riot-provoking decision came in the semi-final playoffs of the reformatory league, causing one team to stalk off the field midway through the game.

Model Plane Record Made by Youth of 15

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (UP)—Fifteen-year-old Sherman Holt of Rt. 3, Fayetteville, is the holder of the new world's endurance record for model airplanes.

Holt flew his plane at the Granite Airport near here yesterday for 8 hours, 31 minutes 50 seconds. The old mark was 1 hour 35 minutes.

Sherman refueled his plane every six to eight minutes using a plastic tube which ran alongside the control wire.

SMARTEST MAN IN TOWN!

the truly economical fuel!

"I'm mighty proud of Bill . . . he is always doing the right thing at the right time and figures out every way in which he can get the most for his money . . . more quality at smaller cost, and more comfort for his family.

Here is how he has the coal situation figured out, and believe me, he has the facts to prove that he is right;

Comparison has proved that we get more heat out of Gee deep-mined coal than any other coal we have burned. Three ton of Gee coal will last as long, or longer, than four ton of cheap, inferior coal . . . so that makes it less expensive to burn. Gee deep-mined coal is cleaner coal, it burns cleaner, has very little ashes to haul out and leaves no soot stringers in our furnace.

Gee, deep-mined coal burns evenly, giving an abundance of heat in the coldest weather, yet holding a low, steady fire on cool days . . . this makes furnace care much easier and the response to furnace controls is what pleases the busy housewife.

"Bill's the smartest man in town . . . he keeps our coal bin filled with Gee deep-mined, better quality coal."

Hal Boyle Says:

A Lasting Peace Is Best War Memorial to Erect

NEW YORK (AP) — The nature of war is changing. In the old days wars often paid for themselves, particularly as far as the victors were concerned. They yielded a handsome profit in terms of looting, land and ransom, as well as in glory.

Today wars are fought on the installment plan. Win or lose, a nation gets its biggest bill after peace comes — not while the guns are flaming. It cost more to clean up the battlefields than it did to redden them.

The expense goes on for generations. Starting certainly by the time of the Civil War, America has found it more costly to pay off its later obligations of a war than it did to foot the bills for the actual fighting.

In the final bookkeeping of any war one of the expense items is the memorials erected to commemorate it. As people think less of war in terms of glory, their attitude toward best how to honor their heroes is changing.

The old idea was to collect as big a sum of money as possible and put up as big a monument as possible, surmounted by a huge symbolic figure or a metal general rigid on a rampant metal horse.

After both the Civil War and World War 1, communities tried to outdo each other in this respect. It was all done in the name of grateful patriotism. A few of these memorials were lovely. But many were sculptural atrocities at the time, and now — although they are the joyful perches of pigeons — many residents regard them wryly as civic eyesores.

But at best they were only something to look at. They had no human use. And are such passive hunks of metal and marble really the best way to remember the sacrifices of the fallen?

Many communities today don't think so. The trend after Wrold War II was toward memorials that spelled an improvement and better ment of a way of life the local boys had died to preserve — a new athletic field, high school, art gallery, library, bridge, or a civil hall plaque bearing the names of the honored dead.

What better tribute can a town pay to the memory of its heroes than to build something to make it a better town?

And what better monument could the American Fifth Army have than the one it erected to commemorate its deadly landing ten years ago on the beaches below Salerno — a nursery and welfare center for Italian children? What finer testimony of what its victory there stands for?

The men who fought there often felt they were in "The Forgotten War." But the Italian people now have fresh cause to remember them gratefully for a long time.

What kind of memorials will be built to keep alive the memory of the scarifices of those who died in the Korean War? It is doubtful whether there will be many erected in this country. But the funds America will pour into Korea for the rebuilding of that shattered land are the truest kind of remembrance — out of hate something better.

But the best war memorial is a lasting peace. And if a real peace could emerge from Korea, the world will enjoy the noblest memorial of its history.

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

McCarthy Committee Opens U. N. Hearings

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) and his Senate investigations subcommitte open hearings here today on "Communists in the United Nations."

McCarthy, before leaving Washington yesterday, said he expects to hear most of the 10 or 15 scheduled witnesses behind closed doors.

He said he also will examine testimony the U. S. government printing office has printed vast amounts of U.N. literature without any legal authority to do so.

Plush Home of Woman Accountant Being Sold to Recover Funds

BALTIMORE (AP)—The lavish furnishings of a meek-looking accountant's plush home were auctioned off today to help restore some of the $350,000 she was convicted of embezzling from a credit union.

It was the second day of bargain-basement atmosphere at the big North Charles St. dwelling formerly occupied by Mrs. Naomi Ringrose, 46.

She is now serving five years for the embezzlement of funds from the Federal Credit Union of Social Security Workers in Baltimore.

Yesterday more than 2,400 curious citizens paid 25 cents a throw to gape about the $70,000 house with its exquisite collection of mirrors, furniture and decorations.

Federal agents obtained title to the home, as well as a beauty parlor Mrs. Ringrose operated on the side, after her arrest last April.

The beauty shop was sold for $3,500. After the furnishings are auctioned, the house will be sold, too.

The house contained one room furnished in a Chinese motif, bright pink walls and delicate, shiny black cabinets and boxes. Another was done along Louis XVI lines, and still another in Victorian taste.

NEW TIME CENTER—The Royal Greenwich Observatory, standard for world maps and chronometers, will move in 1954 to this castle at Hurstmonceux, England, to get away from London's smoke and dirt. Adjustments are to be made to continue Greenwich as world's prime meridian.

Convinced Ike Broke Promise

Meany Believes That Durkin Quit Because of President's Own Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL President George Meany says he is convinced Martin P. Durkin quit as secretary of labor because President Eisenhower personally repudiated an agreement with him.

Durkin, when his resignation was announced last Wednesday, said the Eisenhower administration had broken an agreement with him on 19 proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley Law. He did not accuse Eisenhower personally, but said: "We believed he had agreed to them."

Meany told NBC-TV interviewers yesterday he was certain Durkin would not have quit in any dispute "with a White House clerk."

Meany declined to say whom he would recommend as Durkin's successor, if he were asked. But he said the secretary of labor should be "sympathetic to labor," just as the secretaries of agriculture and commerce are sympathetic to farmers and business, respectively.

Phil Pearl, AFL national information director, was asked during an NBC Radio interview yesterday about a possible successor to Durkin. "I can't think of anyone from labor who would accept the job," he said.

Flemming is a Republican and former president of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Durkin is a Democrat who supported the Democratic presidential slate in last year's election. He returned to his post as president of the AFL Plumbers Union last Thursday.

Most Republicans seemed to think his successor would be a Republican and probably not a union official.

Others mentioned included William McFetridge of Chicago, head of the AFL International Common Laborers Union; Richard J. Gray of Washington, D.C., president of the AFL Building and Construction Trades Union; Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, and Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio.

Noted Holder of Titles Dies in Britain at 83

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Abercorn, 83, holder of numerous titles and governor of Northern Ireland from 1922-45, died yesterday.

A member of the ancient Hamilton family, he held the dukedom of Chatelherault in France, as well as 13 titles in England, Scotland and Ireland. His heir is the marquess of Hamilton.

The world's oil tanker fleet has increased by leaps and bounds, according to the American Merchant Marine Institute. Today's fleet is 83 per cent larger than the 1939 tanker fleet.

Prof Keeps Old Promise to His Mother—by Proxy

TRAVERSE CITY (UP) — The mild-mannered professor is keeping a promise he made to his mother many years ago — by proxy.

The professor, Dr. Earl J. Baker, one-time University of Minnesota instructor, told his mother when he was a boy that she was working too hard and one of his ambitions was to give her a real vacation.

Now he is paying off the promise "by proxy."

For the third straight year, Dr. Baker, who runs a modern, 50-acre summer resort near Traverse City, is going to play host to 25 Michigan mothers, most of them with big families.

Every day will be "Mother's Day" from next Thursday through Sunday. Everything will be "on the house." That includes food, lodgings, swimming, recreation and an entire assortment of programs, generally denied a mother year in and year out.

"If one of the mothers wants to stay in bed all day — or all of them — and have breakfast in bed, that's her business. She can do anything she wants to do," Dr. Baker said.

The 25 mothers this year range from the senior member of the group, Mrs. Mary Mund, 42, of Reed City, who has 14 children, down to several in the "minority" group who have only four or five.

It is the third year that Dr. Baker is serving as host for mothers who otherwise have no chance to leave the drudgery of every day life.

The group is screened through the Chamber of Commerce at Traverse City.

Many of the mothers leave their husbands in charge of their children, which this year will mean 157 children will be without "Mom" for the four-day vacation. Others leave them in the care of relatives and neighbors.

Dr. Baker said today that he feels he is partially paying the promise he couldn't keep to his mother — "By doing the same thing to others" — and declared he will continue the project and make it an annual affair as long "as I am able."

Roof-thatching is still a lively trade in England and Wales, where today there are nearly 900 master thatchers. Properly laid, a thatched roof will last 15 to 25 years.

Teenage Hot-Rodders Smash 14 Cars Head-on

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Teenage hot-rodders had a wild time yesterday crashing cars head-on into each other behind the Somerville Buick Co.

Company officials counted 14 14 cars smashed and estimated damage—ripped off fenders, shattered headlights and twisted bumpers—would total "at least $5,000."

Television Star '39 Years Old'

Actually Born in 1894; Has Been on Air Since About 1930

HOLLYWOOD — Jack Benny was born 39 years ago in Chicago. He is the only 39-year-old man born in 1894. Waukegan, Ill. is his home town, but his mother was brought to a Chicago hospital for the great event.

Practically in swaddling clothes, he began taking violin lessons, and at an early age, he was locally considered a child prodigy on the fiddle. (This is on the level.)

While in school, he continued to play at the Barrison Theater and also doubled in the high school orchestra.

When he was 16, he and one Cora Salisbury, a pianist in the pit of the Barrison Theater teamed up as a vaudeville duo. That was the beginning of Jack Benny's career.

Shortly after the outbreak of World War I, Jack enlisted in the Navy. This was the time when the Great Lakes Revue became its own fund raiser for Naval Relief.

Benny's activity in the war was in grease paint; the Great Lakes Revue became an important milestone in Jack's career.

Originally, Benny adopted the name of Ben K. Benny, but later changed it to Jack Benny while playing the fast talk, song and dance circuit.

He met Mary Livingston, who was to be his wife, in Los Angeles, and in 1927 they were married. There followed a period in Hollywood where Jack made several pictures, none of them sensations.

Regardless of the fact that he was receiving a paycheck every week, Jack asked for his release, got it, and returned to Broadway.

One of the first to try a new medium, Benny caught on fast. Radio was an up and coming thing, a new field to be explored and conquered.

It wasn't long before people were hearing a voice saying, "Hello folks, this is Jack Benny. There will be a slight pause for everyone to say 'who cares'."

He's been on the air constantly ever since.

Judging by the tremendous success of the Waukegan wit in this new venture, we can expect to be seeing a lot of the 39-year-old virtuosso, in the future.

The Bennys have one child, Joan, and they live in Beverly Hills.

Jack still practices on the violin, in fact the fiddle has become the Benny trademark. As someone once said, "He must be very good to be able to play that bad."

WHAT!!!—Although Jack Benny seems to view the gorgeous Marilyn Monroe with disinterest, the "old master" was anything but bored Sunday night when Marilyn made her TV debut on his show. Appearing as a guest star on the Jack Benny show's opening program, Miss Monroe proved herself an apt as well as attractive entertainer.

Strike Threatens Tunis After Political Slaying

TUNIS, Tunisa (AP)—Many shops closed and a merchants' strike threatened today in this uneasy North African capital following the machinegun slaying of a leader of the nationalist neo-Destour movement.

The anti-French politican, 45-year-old Hedi Chaker, was found by police yesterday on a road near his home in Nabeul. He apparently had been shot and dumped from an automobile after being kidnaped.

Radio Scramble Slated in Wednesday AF Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conelrad, short for "control of electro-magnetic radiation," gets its first national test in Wednesday's predawn (1:30 to 4:30 a.m. local time) hours.

Conelrad is a "planned confusion" approach to befuddling enemy bombers which might try to follow radio broadcasting beams to American cities. In Wednesday's test, some 1,250 standard radio stations will shift their frequencies and power while 20 Air Force bombers try their luck at finding large cities with theoretical bomb loads.

In Our Generation?

Target for Tomorrow—Mars, Earth's Brother

(This is the first of a series of articles appearing in the Pontiac Press entitled "Mars—Target for Tomorrow." The series previews a forthcoming book by Dr. Wernher von Braun, head of the Army's guided missiles development project, on plans for space travel within our generation.)

By JOHN GEIGER
International News Service
Science Writer

NEW YORK — It lies red, remote, silent in the evening sky — another world, earth's brother planet, far across a gulf of unspeakable darkness and cold.

This is Mars — man's target for tomorrow.

It lies 50 million miles away, but not beyond reach of man's imagination. And perhaps not beyond reach of man himself.

The sky is no longer the limit. Man has already reached the "aeropause," the twilight border between earth's atmosphere and space. Pilotless rockets have gone beyond, and returned.

Plans for a "space station," an artificial satellite circling the earth, already are on the drawing boards and in military budgets.

That is today's target.

Tomorrow's target, counting "tomorrow" as our generation, or our children's generation, is Mars. And "tomorrow" may be closer than we think.

Scientists — right now — believe we can thrust an expedition to Mars with chemical rocket fuels already in use, with space-ship designs already on the drawing board, with knowledge already accumulated, and they are working on the project.

Blueprint for Trip in 'Mars Project'

This is a blueprint for that journey, drafted in minute detail by Dr. Wernher von Braun, creator of the German V-2, director of the U. S. Army's guided missiles development project, one of the world's foremost rocket engineers.

He plots man's course to Mars in the equation-packed, technical pages of a forthcoming book called—with dramatic simplicity—"The Mars Project."

His blueprint is rough but complete down to the last ounce of fuel required, the design of rocket motors, the number of seconds for acceleration thrusts and interplanetary coasting, the details of navigation for the long journey.

It explodes once and for all the pseudo scientific fiction fantasies and the television serials of interplanetary flight.

This, says von Braun, is the real picture:

A single trip to Mars and back will take nearly three years.

It will be made — if at all — not by one space-ship, not by some "lonesome thermos bottle, escaping earth's gravity and drifting towards Mars," but by a flotilla of 10 space rockets.

It will be accomplished not by "some heroic adventurer and his little band of bold adventurers" but by at least 70 men, specially picked and trained for years.

Jaunt to Take Six Million Tons Fuel

It will take place in three stages. All equipment, fuel and personnel — and all the parts for constructing the 10 interplanetary space-rockets — will be hauled by a fleet of rocket "ferries" to an orbit a thousand miles above earth.

There — circling the earth at 15,000 miles an hour like an artificial moon — the mass of equipment will be sorted out and put together.

In the second stage, the 10 space ships (seven for passengers, three for cargo) will blast off — aimed not for Mars but for the point that Mars will reach 260 days and 50 million miles later.

And in the third stage, the space ships will be "moored" in an orbit around Mars, circling endlessly while special rocket "landing ships" carry men down to the Martian surface.

More than a year later, the rockets will carry the explorers back to their ships — still circling Mars — and, at the precise second determined by astronomical navigation, the long trip back will begin.

The project will require six million tons of fuel, and several billion dollars.

It will need, von Braun says, the "coordinated might of scientists, technicians . . . astronomers, physicians, mathematicians, engineers, physicists, chemists and test pilots."

It will use up tons of rations, water, oxygen, instruments and expeditionary equipment, but yet "the requirements for a large, elaborate expedition to Mars are no greater than those for a minor military operation extending over a limited theater of war."

Fantastic? So was an atomic bomb — 10 years ago. So was a hydrogen bomb — two years ago.

Von Braun and his fellow-scientists are the first to admit that they don't have all the answers. Man wasn't built to leave the earth — and he faces hazards, some known, others only guessed at.

Blood Could Boil in Space Travel

Without protection, his blood will boil in space. There is no air — no atmosphere at all—and so he must take some with him.

The sun's unfiltered heat may consume him; the cold shadows of space may freeze him solid.

Ultraviolet rays may burn him; cosmic rays may blind him, or kill him with radiation sickness. A meteor the size of a pebble could snuff out his life in an instant.

Forces of acceleration greater than gravity's pull will tug powerfully at his body; later, when the force of earthly gravity is equaled by his outward-bound acceleration, he will be weightless, perhaps drifting aimlessly about in the confines of his spherical cabin.

Against these hazards, he can pit brain-power and scientific technique, and science has already worked out partial answers to many of these problems.

Because man has never left the earth, there is one unsolved questionmark, von Braun admits:

"What we do not know is whether any man is capable of remaining bodily distant from this earth for nearly three years and returning in spiritual and bodily health . . ."

Columbus Made It; Can Modern Man?

In other words, the Mars-bound man even when protected from radiation sickness, pressure sickness, heat sickness — may still be homesick.

And with nothing to do but sit and wait and watch the stars for eight months and 20 days, the actual trip-time between planets, he may be bored, too.

But Dr. von Braun cheerfully points out that we know more, now, about the problems of Martian flight than Columbus knew of the Atlantic's perils in 1492.

And Columbus made it.

Crowns Copped by Pennsylvania

Beauty Titles Captured by 20-Year-Old Coed, and by Mother of 2

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Pennsylvania had a corner on the beauty market today, with lovelies from that state the winners of the 1954 Miss and Mrs. America crowns.

As Evelyn Margaret Ay launched a whirlwind tour today, her victory Saturday night over 51 other beauties in the Miss America pageant seemed like a dream.

It was the same for Mrs. Erna Snyder, chosen from among 32 other wedded beauties to wear the Mrs. America crown at Asbury Park last night.

Miss Ay, who prefers to be called "Evvy," has a week of television appearances and wardrobe fitting in New York to go through before taking to the road.

The 20-year-old pageant winner, who hails from the small town of Ephrata, Pa., is a University of Pennsylvania coed. She got the ring a week ago from Carl Sempier of Verona, N. J., 22, an ex-football player now in a navy officer training school at Newport, R. I.

Evvy's surprised she was the victor, because she thinks she's too fat in places. She weighs 132 and stands 5 feet 8 inches high. her bust-waist-hips measurements are 37, 24, and 36 inches.

Besides $40,000 in personal appearance fees, Miss America gets a $5,000 scholarship and other awards worth another $5,000.

There'll be an ironic touch to Mrs. America's appearance today at a fair in Reading in her home state of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Snyder had entered two beauty contests there in the past, but the best she did was to finish as a runner-up.

"I didn't expect to win," she said after being given the crown last night, "I still can't believe it."

The 115-pound, 5 feet 4¾ inches-tall mother of two boys also has a year of personal appearances ahead of her as the Queen of married lovelies.

Mrs. Snyder, 24, has a 34-inch bust, 23-inch waist and 34-inch hips.

Cite 2 for Role in Capture of Confessed Rape-Killer

An 18-year-old college freshman and a neighbor of his from West Pontiac have received an official vote of thanks from Mayor Arthur J. Law and the Pontiac Police Department for their roles in the capture of Donald V. O'Brian, confessed rape-slayer.

They are James F. Brown, of 37 Vinewood Ave., and Jack Seebald, 27 Oriole Rd., who captured O'Brian and held him until police arrived after his attempted attack o nan Oriole Road woman last week.

Attracted by the woman's screams, Brown rushed to the scene and tackled O'Brian as he attempted to flee. Moments later he was joined by Seebald and he pair sat on the attacker until police arrived.

O'Brian later admitted to officers the rape-slaying of Mrs. Hallie O. Perkins, 55, early in August and other sex attacks in Pontiac.

A letter of commendation from Chief Straley read:

"By apprehending this criminal you have saved other innocent persons from his vicious and detestable attacks.

"With cooperation of this type, such worth citizens as yourself render capable assistance to your police in combatting crime.

"It is therefore a pleasure to commend you for your noteworthy and courageous act which has earned you the admiration of all law-abiding citizens."

Brown, a graduate of St. Frederick's High School, plans to enter Michigan State College this month.

Summer's Heat Leaves Effect on Mill Pond

Breezes off Dawson Mill Pond and the adjoining channel are carrying the stench of decaying vegetation this week, with water areas down to about half their normal size.

The deepest part of the pond at the Beaudette Park dam now stands at about six feet which is half its normal depth, according to Joseph W. Gable, Pontiac's acting water superintendent.

As it flows in from Sylvan Lake the stream has been reduced from a channel normally about 10 feet wide to one 4 to 5 feet across moving sluggishly.

With the water's recession complaints about the smell and swamp appearance of the area have increased, according to Gable.

He said that the cause is the high rate of evaporation during this hot summer and the accompanying lack of rainfall.

"Nature is the cause of the water's decline," he said, "for the city has done nothing to lower the level of the Mill Pond."

There is a small leak at the dam, he said, but the leakage is no more than would overflow the dam when the water level is normal.

Our crews will begin to fix the leak in about two weeks, he said.

However, if the water level isn't up, some water must be let into the Clinton River or it will start to dry up and smell throughout the city.

Mayor Provides Table, Then Gets Cards Hint

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Mayor Stanley I. Dale, strolling through a park, was stopped by a spokesman for an elderly group. The oldsters used the park for a summertime clubroom, the man explained, and would the mayor please provide a table for playing cards? The mayor did.

Strolling again a few days later, His Honor was stopped once more. Would he provide some cards? The mayor did.

Deer, or Cow? Strange Animal Baffles Farmers

WEBBER, Kan. (AP) — They've tagged it a "dow" — but Tom Fulton and his son T. H. Fulton, Jewell County farmers don't know for sure whether the new calf is what it looks like, half deer and half calf.

The 80-pound animal found frisking in a pasture, has fawn-like markings and is thin-legged though it otherwise resembles a calf.

While the Fultons report seeing deer on their farm, livestock experts at Kansas State College say they don't believe cows and deer inter-breed.

States' Sunny Dispute

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — The sun's first rays for the Americas in the morning hit Mt. Washington's 6,288-ft crest, state officials maintain. Neighboring Maine believes the sun first strikes Mt. Katahdin but Mt. Washington is taller by several hundred feet.

Investigator Has Unsung Position

Robert C. Miller's Job Includes Variety of Important Duties

By ROBERT F. MAHER

A little know facet of the Oakland County Prosecutor's admnnistrative set-up is the job of chief investigator—held by Robert C. Miller of 963 Berwick Blvd.

Appointed by former Prosecutor Clyde D. Underwood in July, 1951, Miller was reappointed by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem when he was elected to office a year ago.

Miller's job is to investigate any complaints which require checking before a warrant can be issued.

In the case of a businessman's complaint that he has received a bad check, for instance, Miller investigates to determine if the check passer meant to defraud or if he was merely a victim of circumstances.

After his investigation he files a report with the prosecutor, complete with recommendations as to whether or not a warrant should be issued.

His investigations range from complaints of neighborhood disputes to murder. It's his duty to get the background of each case and outline all his information for use by the prosecutor's office in trying a court case.

His work is similar to that of a detective on a police force who checks every particular of a purported crime to establish enough evidence for successful prosecution.

As a bonded deputy sheriff he has the power to make arrests on his own initiative or when requested to do so by other county law enforcement agencies.

On negligent homicide cases Miller often goes to the scene where he reconstructs and diagrams the accident for future reference.

Ballistics tests, both microscopic and actual firing of weapons for matching purposes, are conducted by Miller on many of his assignments.

When the vice squad of the local police department is working on narcotics or gambling cases that will eventually come to trial in circuit court, Miller often works with them and complies statistics that can be used in prosecuting the felons.

Other duties include acting as probation officer for persons under Municipal Court jurisdiction; taking suspects to Lansing or to the Redford State Police Post for lie detector tests; serving legal papers in criminal matters and screening complainants who appear at the prosecutor's office seeking warrants.

Another duty recently taken by Miller is that of handling complaints against dog owners who refused to purchase licenses for their pets.

Complaints are made by Dr. F. R. Bates, Oakland County Animal Welfare Director, against pet owners who refuse to cooperate with his office.

Under state law it is the duty of the prosecutor's office to issue warrants and prosecute persons in this category.

Before joining the prosecutor's staff Miller was a member of the Pontiac Police Department. Theoretically he works a 40-hour week—but Miller points out that he is on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"It's impossible to work a regular schedule," Miller says, "and quite a bit of my work is necessarily done at night—but there's a definite compensation for the irregular hours:

"I like my job."

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Denmark resigned from the United Nations committee on nonselfgoverning territories today, declaring that Greenland — her only colony — is now part of Danish state territory.

In a communication to U.N. Secretary GMENERAL Dag Hammerskjold, the Danish foreign ministry announced that under Denmark's new constitution, native Greenlanders are now enjoying the same rights as other Danish citizens.

Anti-Polio Injections Wait 8,000 Children

ST. CROIX, FALLS, Wis. (AP) — The State Board of Health arranged today for Wisconsin's first mass inoculation of children with gamma globulin, the anti-polio serum, tomorrow and Wednesday in Polk County.

Fifteen doctors, 30 nurses and 250 volunteers will give injections to about 8,000 youngsters between three months and 15 years old. Some 62,000 cubic centimeters of gamma globulin allocated by the Office of Defense Mobilization has been received, and injection equipment was expected to reach this north Wisconsin town today from the National Foundations for Infantile Paralysis.

Polk County has had 26 polio cases this year. The county has a population of around 25,000.

Melons Stolen at Stand

About $100 in produce was destroyed and two dozen watermelons stolen from a fruit stand at Thirteen Mile and Greenfield Rds. early Saturday morning, Oakland County sheriff's deputies said today. Owner Vincent Polallaccia told deputies that fruit crates had been broken open and the contents thrown on the ground.

Rose Says Beminked Ladies of Leisure to Be Pitied, Not Pummeled

By BILLY ROSE

I have an angry letter on my desk from a lady in Macon, Georgia, who signs herself "Average American Housewife."

ROSE

She says the papers these days are devoting too much space to the antics of a small group of women — the idle wives of the very rich — and suggests I would be performing a public service if I were to give these gals a going over in my column.

Well, Mrs. A. A. H., there's nothing I like better than to break my typewriter over a deserving head, but I wonder if the be-minked ladies of leisure you're so riled about aren't more to be pitied than pummeled.

Let's see if I can't make my point by taking an average day in the life of a woman who, because of a "fortunate marriage" has a home with built-in butlers and more spending money than she knows how to spend.

It's 7 a. m. and, as Oscar Hammerstein might put it, there's a bright golden haze on the meadow and a hawk is making lazy circles in the sky.

Does our heroine enjoy this sun-splotched spectacle? Rarely.

As a rule, she doesn't open her baby blues until noon, and by this time both the sun and her hangover are blazing like blow torches.

By 1 o'clock, the average housewife has had her lunch, like as not off the ironing board. This, I'd like to emphasize, is a very practical way to eat because when you drop something you know exactly where it's at — on the floor.

The rich man's wife, on the other hand, must face the many hazards of breakfast in bed, such as trying to swallow lying down, and wrastling with the silk sheets to find a misplaced kipper.

At 2 o'clock, our heroine has to cope with another vexing problem: what to wear?

Here again, the housewife has all the best of it because, as any neurologist will tell you, our nervous systems tend to frazzle when burdened with two many decisions.

The housewife's problem is a simple one — shall she wear the blue gingham with the grease stains, or the green apron with the rip down the middle?

The rich girl's dilemma is a serious one. She has three or four chintz-lined closets to peer into, and from 10 to 100 outfits to choose from.

Under similar conditions of multiple choice, even laboratory mice have been known to go mad—stark, staring mad.

Around 3, after counting the rooms in the house to make sure there are none missing, Mrs. Upper Bracket is ready to face the world.

And what a pretty world it is—bounded on the north by Bergdorf Goodman and on the south by Saks Fifth Avenue.

As our heroine sets out to do her daily shopping, her impulse is a noble one — to share the wealth—but this is more easily said than done.

What in the name of Christian Dior can she buy that she hasn't already got two of?

The hausfrau has no such problem. She goes to the supermarket, prices a sirloin steak, and buys the codfish balls which are compact and easy to carry. No headaches, no complexes, no traumas.

Concerning matters of the heart, I'd like to point out that here, too, life is simpler for the housewife. She has to look good for only one guy — her husband.

The rich man's wife, often as not, must please four or five men and, in what I understand is now a buyers' market, the available men are getting plenty picky.

They, for instance, are apt to shy away from the lady with too much blubber.

The poor man's wife seldom has to watch her weight. By the time she has tidied up the house, fixed three meals, and scrubbed Junior behind the ears, she has burned up enough calories to heat an armory.

Her limousine-riding sister, however, has little opportunity for exercise — outside of tipping doormen and bending her elbow at the fancier hash houses.

Some times, of course, the idle wife of a rich man is downright skinny, but it's generally because she worries so much about her husband — his bad health if his will is not in her favor, and his good health if it is. . . .

To sum up, Mrs. A. A. H., I'm afraid I can't go along with your request that I give these well-lacquered ladies a going over. It would be like beating a dead hummingbird.

Seriously, how can one feel anything but compassion for a set of women, whose biggest problem in life is whether to enamel their lips Revolting Red or Pink-eye Pink?

There's another reason I hesitate to attack the Sisters of the Swizzle Stick.

When I was a wee laddie at my mother's knee, she taught me never to hit a woman with a Martini in her hand.

Back Into the Family

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — Albert Northrup, of Buffalo, once carried a nickel on which he had carved his initials until he finally spent it by mistake. Thirty-five years later, his granddaughter, Esther Kleinfelder, received the same nickel as change.

Stocks on Time:

It's Easy to Be Capitalist on Monthly Payment Plan

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — For a small monthly payment, you may soon be able to buy some American industry.

That grand old custom—easy terms—is about to invade the stock market. As of Oct. 1 or thereabouts, it'll be as easy to buy a share of common stock as it is to buy a home freezer, television set or diamond ring. Easier, in fact, because there'll be no down payment.

The installment plan is the latest in the New York Stock Exchange's bid for more stock buying by people who aren't rich executives. The Exchange, and particularly its president, Keith Funston, wants to get the middle class into the stock buying habit. And they figure that this is one good way. It's all still tentative, of course, but details are being worked out.

Basically, it's the same idea as the World Warr II plan for buying war bonds. You don't sign a contract or anything. You can stop any time. You must pay cash; no credit.

You first decide how much you can pay, rather than how much you want to buy. You might, for example, figure that you can lay out $50 a month for stocks. (Incidentally, $40 or $50 will probably be the minimum.)

You go to a broker or bank, and work out your plan. Suppose you and the broker decide that Amalgamated Horseradish would be a good company to invest in. Every month, then, you buy $50 worth of their shares.

Every month you get as many shares, or fractions thereof, as your $50 will buy at the moment. One month, AmalHorsrdsh may be selling for $60 a share, so your investment will buy only 5-6 of a share that month. Another month, perhaps the stock is selling for $40, so your regular payment buys 1¼ shares.

Or you can split your investment, and put $25 of your monthly $50 into AmalHorsrdsh and the other $25 into Consolidate Mixed Pickles. The first time that your payments account for one full share of stock, you get a certificate, similar to stock certificates ordinary buyers get.

Dividend payments would be distributed on the same fractional basis as your purchases. If you owned 1¼ shares of ConMix-Pick at the time a $1 per share dividend was declared, you'd get a check for $1.25.

In case you think that this plan is identical with that offered by the home appliance stores, be advised there is one big difference. The Stock Exchange offers no free home trial.

Housewives Who Want to Do Home Typing Work Should Try Group Action

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Next to writing stories and articles at home, the average woman, judging from my mail, dreams of getting typing to do at home.

This is partly because in our day and age, almost every woman knows how to type, and partly, of course, because typing seems a logical thing that can be done while the toddlers are in the playpen or the baby is taking a nap.

JUDY ROGERS

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Rogers of Madison avenue are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Judy, to Ronald Jones. He is the son of Mrs. Heramina Jones of Bruce, Wis. No date has been set for the wedding.

Many times I have pointed out that it is very difficult work to obtain and the pay is very, very small.

Straight typing of envelopes or manuscripts is rarely farmed out, and when it is, the fees are very nominal.

Still the letters come in from irate young women who cannot see why they are not able to find this kind of work.

Mrs. L. T. is typical.

"It breaks my heart," she said. "In our 'Help Wanted' pages in our local newspaper, they are screaming for fast typists and for girls who know how to type from a dictaphone.

"Yet here I sit, having that skill to a large degree, but nobody will farm it out to me."

The many, many letters of this kind have brought me to one conclusion. Maybe the young mothers in any given city had better get together and organize a real campaign.

An enterprising young woman could line up a lot of her friends who want this kind of work, could enlist the aid of her local minister perhaps, and start a campaign to talk the employers into letting all correspondence, reports, etc., that are neither top confidential nor top rush be handled by young mothers at home.

One mother who had a car might pick up the material at their offices, deliver it to several of the young women, and return it when finished.

If a good persuasive letter were drafted by whichever one had a skill for writing, it could be mailed to a large list of potential employers.

I agree with Mrs. L. T. that it is nerve-wracking to have your skill clamored for if you can go to an office, but utterly unwanted if you are at home — and perhaps desperately needing money.

Maybe here, as in the field of politics, the women should band together and make their voices heard.

Millicent Tosich Wed in All Saints Rite

Soon to live in Oxford, Ohio, are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Loughran Jr., who were married Saturday afternoon in All Saints Episcopal Church.

The bride, the former Millicent Elisabeth Tosich, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tosich of Joslyn avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Loughran Sr. of Miamisburg, Ohio, are the bridegroom's parents.

For the 4 o'clock ceremony the bride was dressed in white Chantilly lace over satin with a princess-style bodice fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. The floor-length skirt of scalloped lace fell in handkerchief panels over a skirt of nylon tulle.

A cascade of white gardenias and ivy centering a white orchid was carried by the bride, who also carried a handkerchief of Rose Pointe lace made from the lace of her mother's wedding gown.

James Kertis of Cleveland, Ohio, was best man, and ushers were James Weldy Jr. of Birmingham and Clarence Sproull.

A street-length frock of toast-colored lace was worn by the bride's mother as she received guests in the Rose Kneale Room of Stevens Hall. Mrs. Loughran Sr. was dressed in gray dress of lace and crepe. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

For the wedding trip, the new Mrs. Loughran changed to a three-piece suit of black and white tweed with black accessories and the orchid from the ceremony.

Married Saturday afternoon in All Saints Episcopal Church were Millicent E. Tosich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tosich of Joslyn avenue, and William H. Loughran Jr. He is the son of the W. H. Loughrans of Miamisburg, Ohio.

(AP Newsfeatures)

Silver jewelry solved two different money problems for two different New York women.

When Natalie Blatt was stuck with a statistical job, which she felt fenced her in, she turned to jewelry as a means of self expression. Hard work and study followed. Today her output of silver necklaces, earrings, bracelets plus her work as a Christmas card designer support her.

When Mrs. Ella Wolchonok wanted a hobby that would produce pin money, she turned to the study of silver jewelry making at YWCA craft classes.

Her husband, a mathematics professor with a strong artistic bent, designed some unusual modernistic pins for her.

Came the day when Mrs. Wolchonok was able to make lapel pins that are conversation pieces —"Adam and Eve and the Snake," "Jonah in the Whale," a modernistic mask.

Both Miss Blatt and Mrs. Wolchonok will tell you that silver jewelry making is no project for the lazy. It calls for hours of study and bench work.

Assemble these materials: A 4x6 inch square of 18 gauge sterling silver. Two feet of 16 gauge square silver wire. Fifteen inches of 20 gauge round wire.

A tongue depresser from which you cut a strip a quarter of an inch wide, tracing paper, carbon paper, and a sharp-pointed pencil.

Buy a sulphuric acid solution, one volumn acid to 16 volumes water. Do not try to mix your own solution.

Full strength sulphuric acid is dangerous; it burns skin and clothing, and is hazardous to eyes, skin or clothes. When working with it, do not dip anything into it with your fingers. Use brass tongs.

You will need these tools: A jeweler's saw with number one jeweler's blade, a half-round file, asbestos square, a mouth torch, steel wool, emery cloths, a hand drill and fine drill point.

Add to that a jeweler's pin — a wedge of wood about 3½ inches wide, graduating from quarter inch thickness at one end to inch and a half thickness at the other.

The thin end is notched in a vee; the thick end driven into an opening in the edge of a table, leaving it 4½ to 5 inches long, and a firm narrow surface on which to saw silver.

Now you are ready to begin your necklace. On tracing paper draw a scroll 3½ inches long. Draw a similar small scroll pattern about an inch long. Draw the same small scroll with a long swerving tail which will later be bent back to become the clasp.

Lay a piece of carbon paper on the sterling silver square, place the scroll designs on top of it and trace two big scrolls, six small ones and the one with the tail. Lay the silver on the jeweler's pin and with the jeweler's saw cut out the designs. File the edges of the scrolls with a halfround file until they are smooth.

Take the 16 gauge square silver wire and, using the halfround pliers, bend the wire into a scroll shape following a line down the center of the scroll to make a central "vein" for it.

Now you are ready to solder. Lay a silver scroll on the asbestos square and a curved wire on top of it. Cut the sheet of silver solder into very fine pieces.

Dip the paintbrush in flux, pick up little pieces of solder on the tip and lay them at close intervals along one side of the wire.

Take the mouth torch and blow over the entire silver scroll to heat it. When the entire piece is hot, concentrate the power of the blow torch flame on the area along the wire.

The solder will fuse and the wire will be soldered to the scroll

Repeat the process with all the scrolls except the clasp.

Place all the scrolls in the sulphuric acid bath, then wash them in running water. Now they are ready to be linked. Wrap the 20 gauge round wire firmly around the quarter inch strip of tongue depresser; then slide it off. With the saw blade cut across the top of this flat coil until it breaks into links.

Lay the two big scrolls down so they form a lyre shape. Put pencil dots for holes at the right point for joining. With the hand drill and drill point make holes at these points.

At the opposite ends of the large scrolls and each end of the small scrolls drill similar holes. Drill a hole in the end of the clasp opposite the tail.

Place links through these holes and repeat the soldering process until all the scrolls are linked in a necklace. Insert one bigger round link at the end opposite the clasp and solder it. This is to hold the clasp.

Polish the piece with steel wool and fine emery cloths. Then bend back the tail of the clasp, using pliers.

Dieting Wife Is Not Fair to Husband

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "I have repeatedly refused invitations for lunches and dinners, and my husband who loves to go out is rebelling against this. But I am dieting and always have felt that it was insulting to one's hostess to continually refuse dishes.

"Don't you think I am right, Mrs. Post, in not accepting these invitations when I cannot eat everything that is proffered to me?"

Answer: I think your husband is right. In the first place you are unfair to him and in the second, even though you are on a diet you certainly can eat some things, and guests are not required to eat everything proffered.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have disagreed on this matter. He claims that when a woman walks through a subway gate or when entering or leaving a building she never is expected to hold the door for anyone following her—especially if it happens to be a man.

I disagree and think it's only polite for anyone to hold the door at least until the person following can get hold of it.

Answer: Going through a swinging door with someone following immediately behind, you certainly would consider them and not let it slam against them, whether man or woman.

Dear Mrs. Post: A discussion arose in our group about saying "Pleased to meet you," when introduced to someone. I said that according to Emily Post it was wrong and that "How do you do" was correct.

They'd like to know why it is wrong to say you are pleased to meet someone if you really are pleased? In their opinion it is much more friendly than "How do you do." I couldn't answer "why," so will you please answer for me?

Answer: The phrase "pleased to meet you" happens to be a real taboo. How this came about I don't know.

To someone you have heard about, you may very well say, "I am so glad to meet you, Mary has told me so much about you," or "It is wonderful meeting you," or anything similar. To a perfect stranger, you say "How do you do."

The complicated seaming of the new dresses gives you a good figure if Nature didn't. But let silhouette dominate with your perfect figure.

Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate

Mrs. T. I.—The new intricately constructed dresses should go far to give any woman a good figure. With your tiny person, great simplicity is still the best to reveal your perfect proportions and suits your size. You can wear the shorter hemline.

Brush Off Excess

After applying mascara, allow it to dry and then brush away excess. If you are afraid to put bristles close to eye ball, you can use a pipe cleaner.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

If a little bit is nice a whole lot is better does not apply to perfume. A woman of taste uses perfume subtly, so it doesn't announce itself half way across the room or cause those who ride on the same train or bus to start putting up windows.

A bottle of perfume should go a long, long way, it should not drive others away.

A delicious quick bread that will be welcome in lunch boxes is the contribution of Mrs. Ben Korczynsky. If desired, dried apricots may be substituted for half of the prunes in this recipe.

Mrs. Korczynsky is the Pontiac woman who for the past five years has consistently won ribbons for her baked goods at the Michigan State Fair.

24 large prunes
¾ cup boiling water
1¾ cup sifted flour
¾ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Pittsburgh Firemen Like Rebuilt 1914 Wagons

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Some pretty old equipment is being used to fight fires in Pittsburgh these days. Leo Gill, director of automotive equipment found old equipment stored away and decided to rebuild the old fire engines, some purchased in 1914.

Adding engines here, new tires there and topping them off with fancy paint jobs, Gill found he had some first class fire trucks. Pittsburgh is accustomed to paying out $20,000 or more for each new piece of firt equipment.

Fire Chief Stephen Adley, pointing to a reconditioned rig which originally was purchased in 1914 said:

Margaret Truman May Be Planning Political Career

CHICAGO (AP) — Indications are that the political bug is biting Margaret Truman.

The attractive young daughter of former President Harry S. Truman didn't say "yes"—nor did she say "no"—when asked if she might run for office on her own.

Margaret, her mother and dad, are much in the spotlight as Democrats open their two-day nationwide pep rally in the hope of capturing Congress in 1954 and the presidency in 1956.

Told there were rumors she might run for Congress, Margaret smilingly bantered: "That so?" and she moved along shaking hands.

Asked if she was personally interested in politics, she replied: "I'm always interested in politics."

The reporter persisted was she interested in holding political office herself. Margaret replied she had long-range TV and concert contracts.

But, she added, she hoped to take part in next fall's campaign. How? Well, that depends on how she can work in campaigning with her professional contracts.

Friends, Fans Mourn Actor

Lewis Stone Funeral to Be Held Wednesday at Hollywood Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Friends and fans today mourned the tragic passing of Lewis Stone, 73, the dignified veteran of stage and screen who collapsed and died Saturday night while chasing three teen-age prowlers outside his Hollywood home.

Private funeral services will be conducted at the actor's home Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Hazel Stone, widow of the white-haired actor who protrayed "Judge Hardy" in the movies, said her husband was watching television when he heard prowlers outside. He collapsed on a sidewalk while chasing the boys and died of a heart attack without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Stone said lawn furniture had been thrown into their swimming pool and that there had been trouble of this kind before. Police took three boys, one 13 and the others 15, into custody and booked them on suspicion of malicious mischief. Later they were released to custody of their parents pending possible juvenile court action.

Stone had been in show business more than 50 years.

He was born in Worcester, Mass. He served in the Spanish-American War and was a cavalry major and instructor in World War I. His appearance in the Broadway stage play "Sidetracked" led to stardom and other hits in which he appeared included "The Girl of the Golden West" and "The Bird of Paradise."

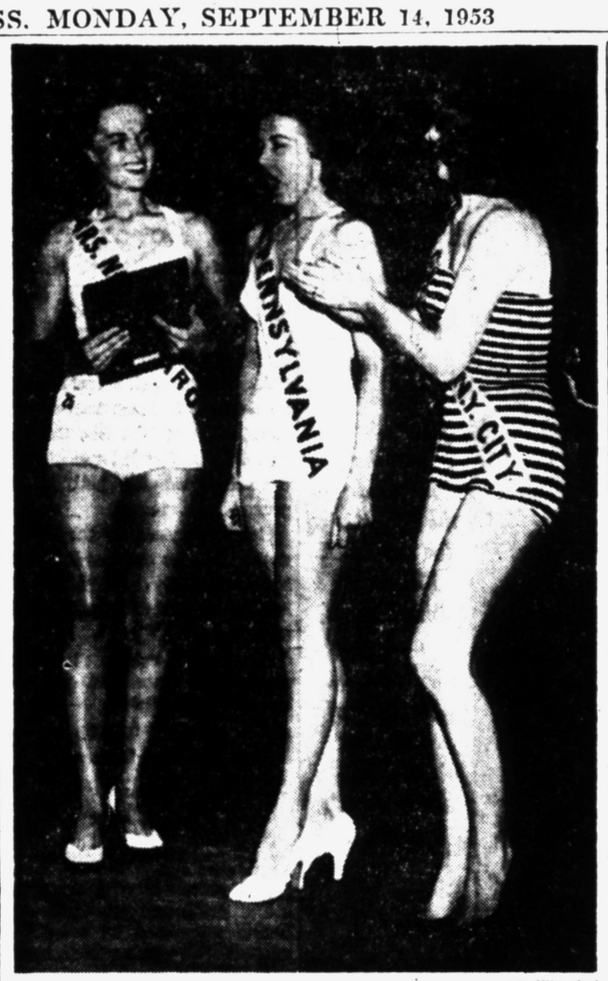

In recent years Stone had curtailed his acting work but just a few weeks ago he completed a picture, "All the Brothers Were Valiant." His first picture, "Honor's Altar," was in 1915. Other early films included "Scaramouche," "Grand Hotel" and "Prisoner of Zenda."

In addition to his widow Stone is survived by two daughters, Barbara and Virginia. He had been married twice before. His first wife was the late Margaret Langham. He and his second wife, Florence Pryor, known as Florence Oakley on the stage, were divorced in 1939.

Impromptu Strip Adds to Shriner's Convention

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A pretty teen-age girl, apparently carried away by frolicking in the streets as 12,000 Shriners gathered here for the central state Shrine convention, turned the downtown area upside down this weekend.

Detectives said the girl got up on a car and, as band-playing Shriners tooted and danced in the streets, proceeded to do an impromptu strip. The girl slipped away and disappeared before police could arrest her.

Ray's Splash Really Only More Tears

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's just about a year ago that Johnny Ray first came to Hollywood to make the biggest splash since the 1938 flood.

Helped by Marion Davies' famous party, the cryin' crooner broke all attendance records before or since at Ciro's. And the figures are not press agent inspired. I was there.

Thus, it is puzzling why Ray by-passed Hollywood on his current trip west. He is quite bitter about it.

"I may play here again but right now I don't care if I never do. I thought I had made friends out here but the same people turned out to be my nastiest detractors. Man, I don't know what I could have done to make enemies out here but I sure got them."

He declined to name names but commented:

"I guess I'm not thick-skinned enough to ignore what is said and printed about me."

Johnny denounced stories which reflected on his moral behavior and hinted that the gossip spread about him helped marriage to Marilyn Morrison to cause the breakup of his after seven months.

"I'm real crazy about Marilyn yet and I'm sorry that our marriage didn't work out. She used to hear all these stories about me from people I thought were my friends. I know she didn't want to believe them but I guess they upset her. They couldn't do otherwise.

"But you got to work at a marriage to make it last in this crazy show business world and I never got a chance to work at it.

Johnny played the Del Mar Hotel here one weekend and then by-passed Hollywood to go to Las Vegas for an engagement. He scored heavily there too, aided, by an audience that felt like crying with him after losing their wads at the crap tables.

"Songs like 'Cry' and 'Little White Cloud That Cried' are still the top show stoppers," he avers.

He said he got the same reaction at the Palladium in London.

"I hope I don't seem immodest in saying so but those British cats dug those crying songs the most."

He admits that as a singer, he is lousy and laughs about his disregard for pitch.

Ex-Wife of Actor Wynn Injured in Car Crash

HOLLIS, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Betty Jane Wynn, divorced wife of movie actor Keenan Wynn, was seriously injured yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding plunged into a ditch near here.

She was en route to New York. Walter Scott Smith of Los Angeles, driver of the car, also was injured.

'Sleeping' Party Guest Stabbed With Ice Pick

Then they discovered he was dead.

Scientists Mull Speeding Spring

Solar Experts Discuss Delaying Winter Also to Aid Crops

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Scientists are planning to explore the possibilities of chemically speeding springtime and delaying winter—as far as crops are concerned.

This was made known Sunday at a conference of some of the world's outstanding experts on solar energy already available to agriculture—and also to tap a virtually wasted bounty of solar radiation as a means of supplying useful heat and power for homes and industry.

The idea of the chemical "crop season extension" would be (1) to hasten the opening of planting season a couple of weeks by spreading chemicals on the snow or frosted ground to promote melting, and (2) chemically treating the ground during growing season so as to absorb enough solar heat to delay Jack Frost's attacks for another couple of weeks at season's end.

But scientists told reporters at a news conference in connection with the meeting that, while the objective is one justifying intensive research, the problem will be to find chemicals that would trap the sun's energy—and release it under controllable conditions.

One scientist said the Russians claim to have achieved good success in speeding springtime in the Soviet by spreading coal dust on the snow to trap rays of the sun.

The conference of solar experts, including about 30 Americans, two Canadians and one scientist each from Australia, Israel, India, Italy and South Africa, ends today.

The need for research into various conceivable uses for solar energy was underlined at the news conference by statements made by Palmer Putnam, Washington, D.C., an engineering consultant to the government. He asserted that if the present "increasing" rate of power demand continues—and under-privileged countries are developed as envisioned by some authorities — the economically recoverable resources of regular fuels, such as coal, will give out in about 70 years. On the same basis, he added, the atomic fuels, uranium and thorium, will last only 175 years.

Hal Boyle Says:

Kindergarten Good Place to Learn All About Women

HOMETOWN, U. S. A. (AP) — It was one of those big times that try little men's souls.

For weeks Junior had bravely bragged to old Mrs. Kindly, the neighbor next door, "Well, I won't be able to come over and play with you and Freckles so much anymore. You know I'm starting in kinnergarden."

And Mrs. Kindly would say, "Oh, dear, we'll miss you so." And Freckles, her cocker spaniel, would look sad, and Junior would trot back home feeling very, very important.

But now it was D-Day, when kindergarten actually opened, and as H-Hour itself approached Junior didn't feel important at all. He felt lonely and lost, and more of his courage oozed away each moment.

"Please, Mami, I don't want to go to school," he pleaded desperately as his mother, Mrs. Frank Granber, helped him into his new suit.

"Why not?"

"What good will it do me?" he asked. "I can't even read or write."

But he rode, a stunned and stricken captive, with her to school. He was silent all the way and he remained silent after meeting his new teacher.

When she returned a few hours later, however, she was met not by a small boy but a little man. Junior clambered confidently into the front seat, then turned and waved at a little red-haired girl running toward another car:

"G'by, Elsie. See ya t'morrow."

"Who is Elsie, lambie?" asked Mrs. Granber.

"She's your what?"

"My sweetheart. Some boy pushed her, so I pushed him, so she said we must be sweethearts, as only sweethearts save each other from mean people. So I said I didn't mind, and she put this ring on my finger and said I was to wear it forever an' ever."

He held up a finger with a cigar band on it.

"And did you meet any other nice little playmates?" asked mother uncomfortably.

Junior threw Freckles a manly pat, submitted to a kiss and gobbled halfway through the sandwich before replying to Mrs. Kindly's query as to how he had done his first day in school.

"Swell," he bragged. "I'm in the chicken tracks row awready. The teacher had us all try to write the first letter of the alphrabet — that's 'A' — and when she saw mine she said, well, well, I guess I'd better put you in the chicken tracks row. Elsie's in the chicken tracks row, too."

"Now isn't that nice, dear," laughed Mrs. Kindly, squeezing him. "Why, in another year you'll both know all 26 letters of the alphabet, and be ready to go to college."

"Twenty-six letters in the alphra-bet!" said Junior, stunned. "And after kinner-garden me and Elsie will have to go to college?"

He became moodily silent and couldn't be coaxed out of it later during dinner. After he had been put to bed, his mother heard sounds from his room and said, "Frank, go see what that child is up to."

Her husband opened the door, and saw Junior stuffing his cowboy suit and toy gun in a small bag. Then Mrs. Granber heard the following conversation through the half-opened door:

"What're you planning to do with the bag, son?"

"Take it to kinner-garden t'morrow, Daddy."

"You don't need a cowboy suit there. Now tell Daddy the truth, son."

"Promise you won't tell mama?"

"Okay, I promise."

"Well, after school t'morrow me and Elsie are gonna run away and get married and go out West and be cowboys."

"Aren't you rushing things a bit, son."

"Well, gee, Daddy, when you and mama were sweethearts you didn't have to go all the way through kinner-garden and learn the whole alphra-bet before you got married, did you?"

"You got a point there, son. Your mother was still having trouble with the last five letters of the alphabet when she married me. But have you asked Elsie about this trip?"

"I don't have to. She says we're sweethearts, and she wants to be a cowboy, too, so——"

"Hmmmmmmm."

"We-e-e-l-ll, I guess I can spare you a buck. Here it is. Now go on to sleep. Your bag is packed, good night, son. I'll turn out the light."

When her husband came out and closed the door behind him, Mrs. Granber demanded, "Have you gone stark crazy?—giving that child, a mere baby, money to elope with?"

"Oh, I think little Elsie will give him a quick brushoff tomorrow," said Frank tolerantly.

"But suppose she doesn't. How can you tell what children will do?"

"Well, even if she decides to go West with Junior I have an idea that you and Elsie's mother will be right on hand to break up the trip—and probably the romance."

"But, Frank——"

"Listen, you let Junior tote that bag to school tomorrow," said her husband. "He'll learn more he needs to know about women in these two days than I did in 25 years. We sent him to kindergarten to get an education, didn't we. Well, let the boy learn."

New Volume Gives Facts on Government

A new book on factual information about the United States government is "Congress and the Constitution" by Col. Carl Miller. Col. Miller is a veteran guide and lecturer at the capitol.

He says he decided to write his book because "so many people know so little about their Congress, its organization and procedure, and I have been amazed by their questions." In "Congress and the Constitution" he has answered these questions briefly and directly, and then given these answers a personal touch by interpolating a story or recital of historic facts just as he does when he is conducting a tour of the capitol.

The three parts of the work deal with the foundation of the government, lawmaking under the Constitution, and administration of the laws and the states. The question and answer plan used in the book makes it easy reading. In addition to general interest to citizens, it has a value as a reference work.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)— For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark.

U. S. Amateur Golf Test Starts Today

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) —Jack Westland, a steel-blue eyed Washingtonian who holds the distinction of being the oldest golfer ever to win the U.S. Amateur championship and the only member of Congress ever to hold the title, doubts he ever will try to win it again after this year.

Westland, 47 when he won the championship at Seattle last year, will defend his title this week over the lengthy Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club course. He figures he had about a 100 to 1 chance of repeating and it might be 199-1 in a field of 200 except "there are a few fellows out there I think I can beat."

Westland, overlooked as a title threat in this tournament where champions are a dime a dozen, is confident that he can get through at least a few rounds, possibly to the quarter finals.

Ken Venturi, the youngest member of the 1953 U.S. Walker Cup team, is one of three or four young players tabbed as possible winners of the tournament.

Also in the top quarter are 1949 champion Charlie Coe, the top amateur of the host course; former British amateur champion Harvie Ward of Atlanta, and Texan Joe Conrad, trying to show the Walker Cup selectors they made a mistake in leaving him off the international team.

Ward and Coe likely will meet in the third round and Westland tabs the winner of that match as a probable finalist. His other choice is Navy airman Gene Littler of San Diego.

Straight shooting may be an important factor in deciding the 53rd national amateur championship. The course is much wider and more open than Seattle, where the 1952 tournament was played, or the Walker Cup site, Kittansett, but there's a lot of deep rough to catch hooked shots and a couple of ponds and a creek to catch stray shots.

Changes Outlook

Leahy Says New Grid Rule Will Slow Game

By FRANK LEAHY
Notre Dame Coach

From now until "Bowl Time" it will be my happy privilege to occupy this space each Monday and Friday to bring you opinions on the national football scene from a college coach's point of view.

Prior to previewing the season in various sections of the country we would like to devote this column to a look at the 1953 collegiate season in view of the major rules changes now in effect.

In many respects these major changes will make football a considerably different game from the spectators point of view, and we would like to discuss it first from this angle.

There can be but little question that the spectators will see a slower brand of football on the college gridiron this fall. Many have expressed a sincere desire that football be returned to its old form even though it would slow down the game.

It is true that football is but a game and perhaps not the place for a high degree of specialization and efficiency, and I certainly don't know whether the change will be to the fans liking.

From the standpoint of the players the one platoon rule places some definite limitations on boys of extremely high calibre. We have never used the two platoon system in its entirety but have certainly favored it as it gave more boys a chance to play for a longer period of time.

Looking at the change through the eyes of a college coach it makes little difference. We can only work so many hours in each week on football — and if those hours must be spent trying to teach a young man twice as much as we did in the past then we will do the best possible.

Tigers Sweep 2-Game Set, Solidify 6th-Place Standing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five solid hits that added up to a twin victory over Washington had the Detroit Tigers more solidly in sixth place in the American League standings today.

They won the opener 10-4 by piling up an early nine-run lead that enabled Ned Garver to coast home with his 11th win of the year.

Second victory came harder, but when the game was over the Tigers were up 6-4 and Steve Gromek had his seventh triumph.

Seventh-place Philadelphia and eighth-place St. Louis split a doubleheader, so the Tigers gained on both. They now lead the Athletics by two and a half games and are six games out in front of the Browns.

Matt Batts' clutch double in the ninth inning of the nightcap drove in three runs to win for Gromek. The score was tied 3-3 when the Tiger catcher came to bat, and the bases were loaded on Jim Delsing's single, Bob Nieman's double and a walk to Pat Mullin. Matt cleared them to give Detroit a three-run lead.

Gromek got into trouble in the Washington half of the ninth when doubles by Pete Runnels and Eddie Yost and a single by Gil Coan netted a run. But Ray Herbert came to Steve's aid to save the game striking out Keith Thomas and getting Jackie Jensen to ground into a force out.

Just before the Tigers staged Vernon had unloaded a two-run homer in the eighth to tie the score.

Three round-trippers, two by Ray Boone and one by Fred Hatfield, highlighted the Tigers' 15-hit attack on Senator rookies Jim Pearce and Dean Stone.

Boone's 22nd homer of the season came right after Hatfield's big blow in the fourth inning, and Ray added No. 23 the next time he came up, in the big Detroit sixth.

Injuries Make Wolverine Grid Picture Grim

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

Ludwig, out since a week ago, was under the close observation of University Hospital physicians until Saturday, when he was forbidden further football after reporting headaches and dizzy spells as the result of a neck injury.

Walker, who suffered a leg injury during the summer, was not recovering in keeping with the hopes of the Michigan coach.

He was in the scrimmage for only a few minutes Saturday.

"He just couldn't run well," reported Oosterbaan.

The Michigan coach said Walker would continue drills, but "would be under a handicap this season—if he plays."

Halfback Tony Branoff was also a Saturday casualty with a pinched neck nerve. However, it was regarded as minor and he was expected to be back in action today.

In the scrimmage, the Michigan varsity stuttered to a 3 to 1 touchdown margin over the opposition composed of second and third stringers.

Oosterbaan could find little good to report on the game-type affair that saw the reserves hold the varsity down with a 7-6 edge for most of the rainy, cold afternoon in Michigan Stadium.

Wife Trouble Driving Nalon Out of Racing

Duke's Spouse Says His Occupation Gave Her Expensive Ulcer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Race driver Duke Nalon, 40, says he is quitting automobile racing because of alimony trouble.

His wife, Cheri, 41, has obtained a separate maintenance decree and is now suing for divorce. She has asked Superior court to boost her support payments from $150 a month to $400.

Mrs. Nalon asserted that worrying over her husband's hazardous occupation gave her an ulcer that has cost her $5,500 in medical bills.

"I've decided to end 20 years of racing because of this trouble," said Nalon yesterday. He is an employe of the aircraft engine division of an automobile company. He and Mrs. Nalon were married in 1945 and separated last year.

Irish 11 Voted 'Most Likely to Succeed'

Newspapermen Expect Notre Dame to Regain Top Ranking

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame will complete its climb back to the top of the national collegiate football rankings this year in the opinion of the 171 sportswriters and broadcasters participating in the Associated Press' annual pre-season poll.

The Irish, who reached the third rung of the standing in the final poll of 1952 after being shut out the two previous seasons, were voted by a wide margin as the team most likely to succeed. They received 84 first place votes and a total of 1,668 on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second.

Michigan State, 1952 champion, dropped back to second with 24 first place votes and a total of 1,305. Georgia Tech, runner-up to the Spartans last year, was placed at the top by the same number of voters and finished a close third with 1,128.

UCLA followed with 12 first and a total of 1,065 for a position two places higher than in the 1952 final poll. Alabama rose from ninth to fifth with 966 points. Then came Oklahoma, fourth last year, with 672; Ohio State with 666, Southern California with 165, Maryland 143 and Duke with 86. Alabama received 18 first place votes, Oklahoma and Ohio State 3 each, Maryland 1 and Duke 2.

Schedule Dates Keep Spartans, Irish Apart

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Scheduling difficulties—and that alone — prevented top teams Notre Dame and Michigan State from staging a showdown football battle this fall.

That's according to MSC athletic director Ralph H. Young.

Notre Dame, after a comeback climb, was named the number one team in the nation by sportswriters and broadcasters in a pre-season poll by the Associated Press. Irish nosed Michigan State, ranking team at the end of the 1952 season, back into second place.

A lot of fans would like to see these two positions decided by touchdowns rather than by ballots. A meeting between the Mid-west rivals would be a sellout in either stadium.

Some folks have said that Michigan State, entering its first official year of Big Ten football, was quite satisfied to bypass the Irish for a season. That's not so, declared Young.

"We tried to arrange a date for this year," said the MSC athletic director, "but we just couldn't find open Saturdays that coincided.

"We had to play six Big Ten games this year and we had other commitments," Young explained.

"Notre Dame had part of its schedule booked too. So we just couldn't get together," he said.

Michigan State and Notre Dame already have firm dates for a home-and home series for the next four years. And there exists an informal "gentlemen's agreement" between the two schools that they will keep on playing each other indefinitely.

The football series between the two top teams in the nation is a long standing one, dating back to 1897. But Michigan State picked up its marbles and went home in 1921 when the Irish steamrollered the Spartans, 48-0.

The series was resumed in 1948 when MSC was getting started on its program of big time football. Notre Dame won the first year, 26-7, and in 1949 by a 34-21 score.

In 1950, Michigan State won 36-33, by the margin of a field goal. In 1951, the Spartans played probably the most brilliant game of their history, scoring on the first play from scrimmage and powering to a 35-0 shutout. Last year, in a game decided by fumbles, it was Michigan State again by a 21-3 margin.

Saginaw Bout to Pack Park

Davey - Andrews Clash Is Expected to Attract 10,000 Fans

SAGINAW (AP)—Even the loser will be a winner tonight when Chuck Davey meets Al Andrews in a 10-round bout in Veteran's Memorial park.

It's hardly a "stellar attraction," as they say, but promoter Hank Steinert expects a crowd of 10,000 to pour $45,000 into the til, making Mssrs. Davey and Andrews a pair of well-paid gentlemen.

The figures are amazing because:

1. Davey and Andrews are not among the top-ranking welterweights, and

2. This city, which is only 1-20th the size of Detroit, is not known as a boxing hotbed.

So why the big mob?

It seems to be a combination of three things: Davey, a fallen idol, is still box office magic in Michigan; a terrific job of promoting, and a ban on TV.

Plant golfing activities wind up Sunday with the annual Babcock tournament at Pontiac Country Club.

Kazoo Still in Race for ABC Championship

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Four teams, including three-time champions Kalamazoo, were still undefeated today as the eastern playoff of the American Baseball Congress tournament went into round three.

Kalamazoo, which won the crown in 1949, 1950 and 1951, slipped past defending champ New York 6-5 in a second-round game that drew 4,000 fans on a chill and dreary Sunday afternoon.

But the round's best performance came in a night game when Battle Creek, Mich., won its second game 12-2 over Baltimore on the one-hit pitching of Carl Angelo.

State Nines Stay in NABF's Competition

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UP) — Michigan's four representatives were still in the running today in the National Amateur Baseball Federation tournament.

While defending champion Detroit and Dearborn were idle Sunday, Royal Oak defeated Louisville 7-2 and Fline rolled over Fort Wayne 10-1 to keep their unbeaten strings intact in the double-elimination tourney.

Albion Is Rated Favorite to Retain MIAA Crown

By The Associated Press

There are three "A" teams in the MIAA football conference — Adrian, Albion and Alma—but one appears to have and A-1 chance of winning the title.

That's power-packed Albion, a big favorite to retain its crown. With the Britons, it's a case of the strong get stronger. Coach Del Anderson had a solid squad when practice started. Now, with the return of halfback Ira Guilford and end Cedric Dempsey, it's stronger than ever.

Detroiter Registers 1st Major Racing Triumph

DETROIT (UP)—Felix Brooks of Detroit won his first major racing event Sunday when he beat out 53 other pilots in the 250-mile stock car race at Michigan State Fair.

Eastern Open Won by Mayer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The wide open aspect of professional golf when such veteran stars as Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and Sam Snead pick their spots was emphasized yesterday with the close of the summer tourney circuit.

Dick Mayer by taking the Eastern Open by a comfortable four strokes became the eighth golfer this year to win for the first time in pro competition.

The $2,400 he won by shooting 279, nine strokes lower than Mount Pleasant's par, was nearly half his earnings all the rest of this year.

Cottrell Cup Test Is Won by Forstrom

Annual Dixie Cottrell Trophy tournament was held Sunday on the Brown road Rifle range of the Pontiac Rifle & Revolver Club.

Competing against some of Oakland County's best shooters, George Forstrom shot 747 to win the aggregate and the trophy. He placed first in the pistol match and the 100-yard event. Second in the 50-yard match.

Robert Waggoner shot 743 to place second in the agregate. He was 1st at 50 yards, at 200 yards, and at 300 yards. He tied for first on the bench rest and 50 meter matches.

Cash Bond finished in 3rd place with an aggreate score of 740.

Fourson Wins Trophy

Don Fourson of Lincoln Park won the trophy at Partington's Pasture drag strip Sunday. August Varady of Birmingham set a new track record for motorcycles at 70.04 miles per hour. Races continue each Sunday from 11 a. m. to 5 p.m.

Practice Injuries Plague Teams on Eve of Season

By BOB HOOBING

NEW YORK (AP)—A broken foot, a shoulder separation and a chronic kidney condition have dimmed the outlook at Tennessee, California and Indiana in the latest outbreak of practice mishaps on the eve of the 1953 football season.

Starting quarterback Sammy Williams suffered the shoulder dislocation the same day at California while Indiana's captain and end, Bob Inserra, was forced to drop the game when it was discovered he had a chronic kidney condition.

Wisconsin's defending Big Ten co-champions have only slight hopes of utilizing quarterback Jim Haluska as the result of a summer broken leg incident. Halfback Paul Schwaiko ran into scholastic difficulties. Hard-luck halfback Harland Carl has developed his plaguing knee trouble again as has co-Capt. Jerry Wuhrman, an end.

At West Point Earl Blaik lost his three best tacklers and two backs on an already thin squad while injured fullback Fred Ataya remains a doubtful starter.

America's Doubles Team Rated Below Aussie Pair

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MONTREAL (AP)—United States Davis Cup forces routed Canada as expected in the American zone final over the weekend but came away with a king-sized problem on their hands.

Canada's Lorne Main and Paul Willey, beaten by the American tandem in Saturday's doubles, both said they felt the U.S. would have to concede the doubles to the Aussies.

Lawrence Baker, chairman of the U.S. Davis Cup selection committe eand captain of the team on the Canadian venture, won't have too glowing a report to give his committee this week.

"Tony and Vic didn't play up to expectations," he said. "Doubles is definitely a problem. Both are strong, individualistic boys. Both want to come in and take the kill. As a result they don't team well together but may be they can work it out."

Trabert, the U.S. champion, and Seixas, the Wimbledon champion, won their singles assignments easily over Henri Rochon and Main, respectively but lacked cohesion in topping Main and Willey, in the doubles.

Writer Pays Tribute to Korean Vet Jerry Coleman; Possible Loss of Carl Furillo May Hurt Dodgers

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Jerry Coleman, a fine ballplayer with the Yankees but an even greater fellow, goes to war twice and each time he comes back the Yankees are on top of the pack.

Between Uncle Sam and the Yankees, Jerry has given everything he has to give. He has given far more for his country, which is only natural. The testimonial given him at the Yankee Stadium recently was the most deserved in baseball history. Jerry's record includes over 110 flying missions in two wars, plus a wife and family, plus no sign of a squawk.

I talked to him in Florida the day before he left for his second mission. "Please don't make my case any different from other servicemen," he said. "Just forget about it." He came back to find the Yankee flag flying high to all four winds.

He arrived in time to start translating the curious vocabulary of Casey Stengel, in frantic search of his fifth consecutive pennant and his fifth consecutive World Series.

There was one difference Jerry found. The Brooklyn Dodgers and Chuck Dressen had usurped the top spot of the game.

They were hailed as the best ball club in National League history, barring their pitching. Also barring the stupidity of Carl Furillo, their leading hitter, who has set out to make Leo Durocher far more popular than he has ever been.

The Dodgers, as a great team, outside of ordinary pitching, have another weakness. They are the most jittery bunch I have seen in action.

Furillo was hit on the hand by a ball waist high that he had backed away from and acted as if he was being beaned. Even the star Campanella falls on his face from balls not even close. The entire team has become jittery, much to Dressen's disgust. The Yankees are not jittery.

The Dodgers have two weaknesses. First—just ordinary pitching. Second—the possible loss of Furillo. After a month's layoff, how will he look? He may be a complete flop in place of a .344 hitter.

Furillo can make a tremendous difference in this next series. Here was probably the most stupid move ever made in baseball, for it was completely without sense or reason.

Lions Trample Redskins

Displaying both power and skill when they were most needed, Lions drove to three second-half touchdowns that put the game away after Washington had managed a 10-10 halftime tie.

The victory avenged the only exhibition defeat suffered by the Lions since Buddy Parker took over as coach. That was in 1951, when the 'Skins squeaked to a 10-7 win over Detroit.

Parker's men, who have tied once in their current exhibition schedule, wind it up Thursday when they go to Philadelphia to play Eagles in the annual Philadelphia Inquirer charities game at Municipal Stadium.

Lion rookies may be in for a good deal of action in that game, because Parker must trim his squad to the league limit Sept. 22 and he's likely to want a last look at the youngsters under game conditions.

But it was the seasoned stars who provided the necessary punch to carry Detroit through in yesterday's rainy battle.

An 80-yard drive, featuring a Bobby Layne to Doak Walker pass and two good runs and a final crackover by Bob Hoernschemeyer gave the Lions their first score, just six minutes after the game began.

Dick Alban intercepted a Layne pass early in the second quarter and the Redskins were off to a tying score. They made it when Hugh Taylor caught a 17-yard toss from Jack Scarbath.

Field goals by Pat Harder for Detroit and Billy Dudley for Washington finished the first-half scoring.

In the second half Lions took over. Early in the third quarter, Detroit's Jim Doran hit Scarbath as the young quarterback stepped back to pass. The ball bounced back toward the Washington goal, and Harley Sewell grabbed it and went into the end zone, rolling the last few yards.

Walker capped a 65-yard drive later in the quarter for the third Lion touchdown, and Jim Martin set up the final Detroit score when he recovered a fumble by Charley Justice. Layne went over five plays later.

Another Scarbath-to-Taylor pass accounted for the 'Skins other score, just before the final Detroit touchdown.

Brooks' Pilot Pleased With Black's Showing

Joe Looks Good for Six Innings; Dressen to Scout Yanks

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers, National League champions, said today he was "very, very pleased" with the way pitcher Joe Black is now coming around after a disappointing slow start this season.

"I thought Black did a fine job yesterday in the first six innings against the Chicago Cubs," he said. "I may use him for a couple of innings today—sort of sharpen him up for the World Series. He's big and can take all the work we can give him."

Black, making his third start of the season, turned in a two-hit, one walk chore in the first six frames.

He yielded a lead-off bunt single to Frankie Baumholtz and pitched a double play ball to Eddie Miksis before Dee Fondy homered. After that, the big righthander retired 15 Cubs in succession before walking Baumholtz with two out in the sixth.

The cubs got to Black's successor, Jim Hughes for two runs and a 3-2 victory in 10 innings.

Dressen said he will be in New York tomorrow to scout the Yankees.

"I hope Cleveland beats them a couple," he said. "They bear down a lot more when there's something at stake, and it is easier to scout a team under those conditions."

Shaughnessy, Ragatz Double Race Winners

Carm Ragatz and Chuck Shaughnessy were double winners in the Pontiac M-59 Speedway hardtop racing program Sunday night.

Ragatz won the first heat and Shaughnessy was a victor in the fourth heat and the 15-lap semi-final. Bill Schultz beat Wayne Bennett and Marvin Main to the wire in the 25-lap feature event.

Main, Cliff McKinney and Eddie Chyz also were heat winners while Chuck Partello took the six-car trophy dash.

Track officials announced that effective this week, Sunday races will be held in the afternoon with qualifying starting at 1:30 p.m. and races at 3 o'clock. Saturday racing will continue at 8:30 p.m.

Wings Open Drills for 1953-54 Season

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Detroit Red Wings, a team with a mission, opened training today for the 1953-54 hockey season.

Their goal: To make up for their miserable showing at the tail-end of last season. If you recall, Wings breezed to their fifth straight National Hockey League title — then flopped in the playoffs, losing to Boston in the first round.

The two big questions to be answered are:

1. Who is going to play center between Ted Linsay and Gordie Howe?
2. Can goalie Terry Sawchuk bounce back after his sub-par performance in the playoffs?

Rangers Win 22nd

Capt. Jack Ivory slammed home eight goals Sunday to pace the Ivory Rangers' polo team to a 16-7 victory over the Salem, O., Club at Ivory Polo Field. Ivory also set up five other Ranger goals with passes. It was the Rangers' 22nd victory in 25 starts.

Yanks Can Clinch Pennant by Beating Tribe Today

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Today is V-Day for Manager Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees.

V stands for five, the record number of consecutive pennants Stengel and his Yankees are certain of winning, a feat never accomplished before by club or manager.

The world champions reduced their "magic number" to two by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 6-3 on amazing Johnny Mize's pinch hit home run with two mates aboard in the eighth inning. The triumph boosted the Yank lead over the Tribe to 12 games.

Two is the combination number of Yankee victories and-or Indian defeats needed to gain New York's fifth straight pennant. As the Yankees and Indians were to clash again this afternoon, a New York victory would eliminate the Tribe from any mathematical possibility of overtaking the Yankees.

The Chicago White Sox officially faded out of the pennant race yesterday losing 7-6 to the Red Sox in Boston.

John Mize was the Yankee hero yesterday. The 40-year-old pinch hitter de luxe strode out of the dugout with runners on first and second, one out in the eighth, the score tied at 3-3 and whacked Mike Garcia's first pitch into the right field stands for a three-run homer. It was his third pinch hit homer of the season, his fifth as a Yankee and the sixth of his long career.

State KC Golf Title to Pontiac

Wasik Paces Council 600 to Team Crown at Lansing

LANSING (AP) — The 74 shot by Bernard Czuk of Kalamazoo won the individual championship of the state Knights of Columbus Golf tournament which ended Sunday.

Greene Asks Limit on Televised Bouts

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A proposal to limit nationally-televised fights to one a week was offered today by National Boxing commissioner Abe J. Greene in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening session of the National Boxing Association convention here.

Charging that "boxing giveth and TV taketh away," Greene said the sport is confronted constantly by growing millions of new boxing fans but a corresponding drop in the number of ticket-buying spectators. Television does not—but should—do much more to make up the financial loss to boxing.

Diplomats Now Must Pay Fee to Fish in Yugoslavia

BLED, Yugoslavia (AP)—It's the diplomats — and not the fish—who are on the hook now in this summer resort center for foreign envoys in Yugoslavia.

Bled's lakes are teeming with trout. In years past, the authorities looked the other way when the diplomats in residence here went fishing without a license. This year, however, they must shell out 500 dinars ($1.66) per person per day for fishing privileges. And there's a covey of wardens to enforce the law.

Exciting New Strip Starts Today

Scorchy Smith Flashes Out of Skies--- and Into Pontiac Press' Comics Page

Flashing out of the skies onto the comic pages of the Pontiac Press, Scorchy Smith brings with him the exciting space adventures of a twentieth century man among the planets, satellites, and asteroids in the great void that makes up our universe.

Scorchy Smith brings stories to you that move quickly, and whisk you away on the wings of the future with dramatic, and imaginative drawings. Scorchy's adventures in space began when he was kidnaped by Lera, commander of a space ship who is forced down to earth when her ship develops mechanical difficulties.

Scorchy, a jet jockey, is attracted to the strange craft, and is captured, and taken aboard just as they are about to leave for their home planet, Astar.

Scorchy's personality, and flying knowledge wins over Lera, and he becomes her space navigator. And so begins one of the strange stories of our time. A man from the planet Earth explores the heavens and the planets with a girl whose uncle is the ruler of the planet Astar.

On their return to Astar they find the traditional enemy of the Astarians from the neighboring planet Limbia, have stolen a ruby talisman from the sacred temple of Ogar. Scorchy Smith recovers the ruby for Astar, but in doing it almost wrecks the temple.

According to their law, Scorchy is banished from Astar, but he is given a chance to redeem himself by leading a relief expedition to a satellite of Astar, Serpentine.

The expedition is ambushed by the Limbians, and Scorchy's forces fight back hard. Under his leadership they score a smashing victory, but before he can rally his forces he finds a number of enemy space ships lost in astral fog circling his field and requesting landing instructions.

Scorchy knows that the merest suspicion now will jeopardize the battle. He rushes to the radio tower and signals the enemy to land . . . right in a quicksand swamp.

One of the enemy space ships clears some of the surrounding fog to reveal Scorchy's ruse. The enemy space ships pull up sharply for they know that the Astarians have captured their landing field.

Old Quarrel Aside, Town Is One Again

BAUDETTE, Minn. (AP)— Forty-six years ago the village of Baudette voted to split into two parts. The part on the east side of the Baudette River became Spooner and the portion on the west side kept the old name.

Now, in the interests of better municipal operation, they have voted to consolidate again and the name Spooner will be dropped.

Doukhobors Refuse Food for 4th Day

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Hunger striking Doukhobors refused food yesterday for the fourth straight day at the suburban Oakalla prison farm. They said they were awaiting a "message from God" telling them to end their fast.

The 71 women and 77 men from the radical Sons of Freedom Branch of the religious sect have spurned all food since they were rounded up in a mass arrest at their interior British Columbia stronghold last Wednesday.

All were charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by parading in the nude before the public school to which they refused to send their children.

The United States, which is owned by United States Lines, carried 70,514 passengers during her first year. This number represents as close to capacity as was practically possible, according to the Institute.

Canadian Plans Drop Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures on the Board of Trade today dipped on liquidation influenced by fear that Canada may lower its wheat export price because of a heavy surplus.

Corn also was lower, particularly in the September contract, because of heavy receipts of 443 cars. Soybeans were off sharply on selling influenced by expectations that the harvest will start on a large scale this week.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ½-1⅛ cents lower than the previous finish, September $1.90½; corn was down ½ to one cent, September $1.54¾, and oats were ⅜-½ lower, September 73⅛. Soybeans were two to three cents lower, September $2.58¼, and lard was 10 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $21.00.

U. S. to Prepare New Death List

Seek to Determine Fate of 7,000 GIs Missing in Korean Action

WASHINGTON (UP) — The official toll of American deaths in the Korean War will rise to more than 30,000 in the months ahead as the defense department writes "dead" across the names of thousands now listed as missing in action.

With the prisoner exchange completed, the services now will try to determine the fate of some 7,000 Americans still missing.

In many cases their fate will never be determined definitely. But military officials sadly admit that for most of the missing the only conclusion can be that they are dead.

Before declaring a missing man to be dead, the services must make a detailed investigation, piecing together all available scraps of information about what happened to him. It will be a time-consuming job.

The Army estimates it will be two years before it has officially determined the fate of all its missing in action. By the time the job is complete the Korean death toll, which now stands at 25,604 is expected to top 30,000.

Unlike World War II, the services will not be able to obtain the conclusive proof of uncovering the man's body buried in enemy territory. Instead, they must rely on reports of fellow soldiers and returning prisoners, with only partial credence given to Communist lists of Americans who died behind their lines.

Unemployment Figures Climb to 1,506 for Week

Unemployment claims for the past week totaled 1,506, according to Luther C. Olson manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission's Pontiac office.

Of the total, 228 were filed during the week as new claims, Olson said, while 1,278 were carried over from previous weeks as continued claims. Last week's figure was an increase of 50 claims over the week ending Sept. 4.

Radar Proves Very Successful Speeders' Trap

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—Use of radar to trap speeders here has been termed highly successful and plans have been made to put radar teams on a 24-hour basis.

The system has been in use since June 7, 1952. Police inspector Albert O. Daniels said two squads presently operating 16 hours a day have made about one third—557—of the speeding arrests in the past six months and of these 99 per cent were convicted.

Police are enthusiastic about radar. They claim it is more accurate than human judgement, has reduced accidents caused by police chasing speeders, has eliminated wear on police cars and has created "speed conciousness" among motorists.

A squad of three patrolmen and a sergeant set up shop on any street where speeders are likely to show themselves. In a plain car, equipped with radar, one officer watches the rear view mirror and a radar dial on the floor for the speed of approaching vehicles.

Another officer records pertinent information as a suspected vehicle passes and relays it by radio to other police ahead who make the arrest.

Diving Horses Highway Show

Bareback Riders Jump Into Ocean With Steeds at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—An accomplished horsewoman who polished up on her swimming and a diving expert who learned to ride a horse are giving exciting performances here daily in the famous high-diving horse show on the ocean end of Steel Pier.

Olive Gelnau, 19, an expert horseback rider since her childhood in Oradell, N. J., and Marion Hackney, 19, swimming and diving star here for the past several years, taught their talents to each other after being selected for the act by Lorena Carver, veteran diving horse trainer.

When the horse hits the water, the girl quickly swims away while the horse ambles up a runway out of the pool. There, the steed poses for a rubdown by Miss Carver.

The act was a feature attraction at Steel Pier from 1878 to 1946, when it was retired temporarily.

Miss Carver, who discovered only three good performers out of 87 horses trained in Texas, revived the act early this summer.

The best performing horse is named Dimah. He makes the 45-foot dive, while the other horses perform from 25 feet. Miss Carver claims it costs $10,000 to train a horse for the 45-foot plunge.

3 Persons Injured in Two-Car Crash

Three persons were treated at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday for injuries received in a two-car collision on Lapeer road south of East Walton boulevard, State Police of the Pontiac Post said today.

A car driven by Wesley C. Sheffield, 43, of 3036 Lapeer Rd. turned in front of one driven by Clifton Tiller, 25, of 1585 N. Oxford Rd., Oxford, according to police. They said Sheffield was turning into a private drive.

Sheffield was treated for chest injuries. Two passengers in Tiller's car were treated for cuts. They were Walter Sandy, 30, of 36 Mile Rd., Romeo, and Norma Mortinson, 18, of 137½ Avalon, Highland Park.

Research with the mold remedy, aureomycin, has resulted in a medicine believed to cure the African cattle plague known as Rhodesian fever. The drug is administered by injection into the animals' veins.

Akihito Visiting Shrines of U. S.

Japan's Crown Prince Takes Philly Tour With Ex-American Tutor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Japan's Crown Prince Akihito, a shy, mannerly heir-apparent to the oldest crown in the world, set out today on a tour of the historic shrine of American independence, guided by the woman who first taught him the meaning of democracy.

The short, slender Prince is spending three days in the birthplace of the United States as part of a world tour designed to show him the makeup of a world which he knew seven years ago only by hearsay. This is the Prince's first trip from his homeland.

Today the Prince visits a housing project of the American Friends' Service Committee in which he has expressed a particular interest. He then will go to the grave of Benjamin Franklin, Old Christ Church and the home of Betsy Ross.

Later the Prince visits Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell and the Declaration Room.

At 19 the eldest son of Emperor Hirohito, Akihito arrived here by plane last night after spending the weekend in Newport News, Va. At the airport to greet him was stately, soft-spoken Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Vining, a widowed author of children's books who took over the Prince's education in 1946 and tutored him for four years.

Rudyard Kipling's statement that "East is East and West is West and ne'er the twain shall meet" seemed out of focus when the plane landed last night.

Mrs. Vining, dressed in dark blue trimmed with aquamarine and a fur neckpiece, strode to the ramp. They clasped hands just as any two friends might who met after a long separation.

They turned to face the photographers. The Prince's face was somber until Mrs. Vining lightly remarked as a photographer called for another handclasp:

Sentenced GI Flees, Likely to Red Zone

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — U. S. Army Headquarters said today that Pvt. Norman M. Lowell Jr., 23, of Somerville, Mass., jumped from a military train and presumably fled into the Russian zone as he was being taken to serve a guardhouse term in West Germany.

The soldier, under a six-month sentence for exploding a smoke bomb in a barracks prank in Berlin, eluded his guards as the train pulled out from a border check point at Helmstedt last Friday night.

Army authorities said Lowell jumped through a window and disappeared into the darkness. He was presumed to have gone into the Soviet occupation zone, where several soldiers facing guardhouse terms have fled in the past.

Plots Revenge From Jail Cell and Succeeds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Willie F. Wiggans, 38, released Saturday morning after serving 11 days in the county prison for pulling a fire alarm, set out to geet retribution a soon as he was released.

The Philadelphian had pleaded that he pulled the alarm to summon help when he was held up by two thugs. Saturday, he started a determined search for the holdup men.

He spotted one of them yesterday and called police who arrested 51-year-old Harry Lindsay. Lindsay admitted the holdup, police said. Later, police arrested Noah Haines at his home, after Lindsay named Haines as his accomplice.

3 Car Stowaways Escape Iron Curtain

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Three young Poles slipped through the Iron Curtain by stowing away in the comfortable seats of Soviet-built autos being exported to Norway in the hold of the Polish freighter Oksywie, police reported today.

The three, whom police did not identify, asked for asylum and were detained while authorities checked their stories.

The refugees told police they sneaked aboard the 768-ton vessel in the Polish port of Gdynia and hid in one of the 41 Moskowich cars destined for Norway.

The Oksywie docked here late Saturday and the young men came ashore early yesterday and reported to police.

Driver Made It Home: Who Moved the Garage?

Officers said he wheeled his car into his driveway, drove into his garage, through the back, hit a picket fence behind the garage, knocked over some garbage cans, knicked the corner of the home behind his, and finally ground to a halt.
