Urges Businessmen Into Politics

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac area businessmen were urged yesterday to turn their sights toward Lansing.

"It is time for business to take an active role in shaping the state's fiscal and legislative policies," said Rex Potter, manager of organizational services for the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

The state chamber, he said, has already conducted legislative workshops in nine Michigan cities and plans to continue them throughout the state during the next legislative session.

For the Pontiac area meeting, the state chamber provided a four-member panel of Lansing experts, who presented a barrage of facts about the state's present financial and legislative position.

Panelists were Stewart Didzun and John L. Denman, legislative agents of the Ford Motor Co.; George Van Couvering, legislative agent for Michigan Railroad Association; and former State Sen. Colin L. Smith, manager of the Michigan Employers Unemployment Compensation Bureau, an independent advisory service in Detroit.

Potter keynoted a legislative workshop presented by the Michigan Chamber of Commerce at Devon Gables Inn for more than 100 members of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Ferndale Board of Commerce.

It is the state chamber's position, Potter said, that the traditional reluctance of businessmen to mingle in politics contributed by default to Michigan's cloudy business climate.

An important pillar of the chamber's program to revitalize Michigan is active participation by businessmen in state affairs, he said.

"Local chambers should be organizing right now to develop a strong, articulate voice of business on all important issues.

"Local chambers should not be afraid to take stands locally and to let the local legislators and the public know about them.

"Businessmen can no longer afford to stay out of issues simply because they are controversial."

WILL LEAD WAY

Potter said the state chamber would lead the way with strong informational and educational programs, designed to keep local chambers abreast of Lansing developments throughout the legislative year.

Selassie Dashes Home as Fighting Breaks Out

LONDON (AP)—A British government spokesman said today fighting has broken out in Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia.

Edward Heath, lord privy seal, told the House of Commons he had received this information from the British ambassador "in the past two hours."

The ambassador threw open the embassy compound in Addis Ababa to any British subjects who wished to take refuge there.

A broadcast from Ethiopia announced that Crown Prince Asfa Wassan has been proclaimed king of that African nation in place of his father, Emperor Haile Selassie.

The broadcast was heard here as the deposed emperor dashed toward home from Brazil, where he had been on a formal state visit while Wednesday's coup took place in Addis Ababa.

Airline sources said the emperor was heading for Roberts Field in Liberia, the full width of the African continent away from Ethiopia. One report had him already in Liberia.

The Ethiopian broadcast announced the appointment of a new prime minister, Ras Imru, former Ethiopian ambassador to India and the Soviet Union.

The British Foreign Office said the British government has been asked informally to recognize the new regime.

Telegraph communications still were severed with Addis Ababa 24 hours after first reports of the coup reached Western capitals.

The Ethiopian radio announced that all air traffic to and from the country had been suspended and said the armed forces would "take necessary measures" to see that this directive was carried out.

In London, Heath told Parliament the British ambassador in Addis Ababa had reported fighting in the Ethiopian capital involved "moderate small arms and mortar firing."

Heath said there was no reason to believe that there was immediate danger to Britons and British Commonwealth subjects, totaling 900.

He concluded: "There is no evidence of interference from outside Ethiopia in the revolt."

The 44-year-old crown prince apparently took advantage of his 68-year-old father's absence to seize power.

Football enthusiasts will have to bundle up for the big game Sunday. The finale between the Detroit Lions and the Chicago Bears may be fought in a snowstorm, the Weather Bureau warned today.

Cold weather through the weekend was predicted.

Snow flurries and temperatures tumbling to a low of 22 are expected tonight.

Friday will be partly cloudy and colder, the high reaching near 29 degrees. Southwesterly morning winds at 12 to 20 miles per hour will shift to northwesterly at 20 to 30 miles tonight, and north to northwest at 15 to 25 miles tomorrow.

Precipitation in flurries tonight, and snow or snow flurries Sunday and Monday will average about three-tenths of an inch.

Twenty-four was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the recording was 35.

Ike in Excellent Health, Say Doctors After Exam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's general health "continues excellent," six doctors said today after completing his yearly head-to-toe physical checkup.

Laos Shells Strike U. S. Embassy

By The Associated Press

The U.S. Embassy and a French hospital have been hit by shellfire in the flaming battle for Vientiane, sending hundreds of French women and children and some Americans fleeing to Thailand.

As anti-Communist forces in Laos were reported driving leftist troops toward the vital airfield outside Vientiane, the heart of the capital was in flames, said reports from Bangkok, Thailand's capital.

An artillery shell struck the U.S. Embassy today and the front of the building broke into flame. The embassy radioed Bangkok that the staff was evacuated, along with that of the neighboring U.S. Information Agency building. Four Americans were slightly injured.

The rain of shells spreading ruin through the heart of the capital struck the big French Matho-sot Hospital Wednesday afternoon, said the French Embassy in Bangkok. The staff fled, leaving hundreds of, wounded and dying from the battle under the care of only two French army doctors.

One of the doctors in a dramatic radio message pleaded for international action to end the "useless bloodletting."

The French community in the former French colony was all but deserted as women and children crossed the nearby Mekong River into Thailand.

The radio message from the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane said much of the downtown section of the city was ablaze as the two factions slugged away in an artillery duel.

The message said the anti-Communist forces, wearing white arm bands, were in the center of the city near the embassy and appeared to have taken over the entire southern section.

Michigan Author Sells TV Rights

Travers is the pen name of John D. Voelker, Michigan Supreme Court justice who resigned earlier this year to devote himself to writing.

A series based on Voelker's memoirs of 14 years in the district attorney's office at Ishpeming, Mich., is expected to go into the network's schedule next season.

Meanwhile, ABC is looking for a man to play the title role. They want somebody who looks like John Wayne. Who doesn't want such an actor?

Awaits Oakland Water Decision

Hesitancy of County Communities to Buy Causing Detroit Trouble

Hesitancy of Oakland County communities — including Pontiac — to buy Detroit water is causing time scheduling difficulties, Gerald J. Remus, superintendent of the Detroit water department, said in Pontiac yesterday.

Remus urged speed in the matter.

One encouraging sign for Remus is the representation of Oakland County on the Detroit Board of Water Commissioners for the first time in history. The county's voting representative after Jan. 15 is Louis H. Schimmel, who indicated that it won't be long before Detroit is the primary supplier of water to this area.

A secondary source has been sought for some time because the sprouting population of Oakland County is soaking up the underground supply.

Remus, who said there's nothing to prevent his city selling water right away to Pontiac and surrounding areas, outlined Detroit's metropolitan water network to members of the Oakland County Planning Commission and some county supervisors and officials.

In answer to a question from Schimmel, Remus made it clear that his department's timetable depends "on how fast Oakland County moves."

Romney to Give Rambler Buyers Savings Bonds

Bonus Will Be Figured on Four-Month Sales; Calls Plan Crusade

NEW YORK (AP)—George Romney, president of American Motors Corp. today said the company will award a bonus to Rambler car buyers based on total Rambler sales in the period ended March 31, 1961.

The bonus will consist of U.S. Savings Bonds, Romney said, and will be based upon sales as compared with the same period a year earlier. The sales period runs from Dec. 1 to March 31.

Romney said the idea was to share economic progress with all consumers, not just with special groups.

He made the statement at a news conference here. In calling the conference Romney said he would outline a plan which "calls for sharing progress" with the neglected consumer.

Romney said the buyer would make his regular deal with his regular Rambler automobile dealer.

He referred to the program as the new Rambler crusade, stating the first crusade was that of the compact car.

Romney said, "To new Rambler owners taking delivery during the period we will automatically send bonds ranging from $25 to $125 maturity value as our cumulative monthly sales rise over a year ago at specific levels ranging from 10 per cent to 30 per cent.

"Payments will be made at the end of each month in which a 10 per cent or more cumulative gain is made.

"If we show the minimum gain, we will pay out bonds costing us $2,750,888 for the period. On the basis of a 50 per cent gain, we would pay $18,698,062."

Romney added, "The time is right for this kind of move by a company able to do it. For too many years, the customer has been heavily ignored in the division of the benefits of industrial progress.

"Government has taken more and more, unions have demanded more and more, corporate profits have declined but have been good.

"But too much bypassing of some consumers has retarded economic growth and employment."

Earlier Romney said expan-

Tragedy Shatters Mother's Delight

A proud Waterford Township mother watched her son perform in a Christmas program last night and moments later saw him killed under the wheels of a car.

In one fleeting moment, Mrs. Raymond B. Houston of 1144 Myrtle St., saw her joy turned to tragedy.

CARL HOUSTON

Moments later he ran into the path of a car on M59 at Lynn Street — before the eyes of his horrified mother and school chums.

He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Carl was one of the Houstons' eight children, ranging in age from 6 months to 9 years.

"He was the cutest little guy you ever saw," said veteran Township Police Sgt. Jack Hart, who investigated the accident.

Carl had been waiting with his mother and about seven classmates on the north side of M59. It was almost 9 o'clock and traffic was heavy, witnesses told police.

Then someone yelled, "It's all clear," police said.

Carl ran for the southwest corner into the path of an eastbound car driven by James L. Shea, 30, of 1005 Boston, St., Waterford Township.

Shea told officers he had no chance to avoid hitting the boy.

Shea was scheduled to make a formal statement at the Oakland County prosecutor's office today.

The grief-stricken mother was unable to make a statement until late last night. The boy's father is a mechanic at the Greyhound Bus Co. garage in Birmingham.

Teachers and pupils at Donelson School started the school day in a hushed atmosphere this morning.

"He was a nice youngster, and always very polite," said Mrs. Iva O'Dell, principal.

Two brothers, Darrell, 9, and Wesley, 6, and a sister, Joyce, 8, were not in school today.

It would have been their turn to taken part in a similar Christmas program for their classes tonight.

The performance will be held as scheduled, but the Houston children won't be coming, teachers said.

Supreme Court to Hear Scholle

AFL-CIO Head Wants State's Senate Setup Invalidated

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan AFL-CIO president August Scholle said today he has carried his fight for legislative redistricting in Michigan to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Scholle appealed a Michigan Supreme Court decision which found 3-3 that it did not have jurisdiction.

The labor leader asked that the State Senate districts be declared invalid in violation of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

He contends that the population make-up of the Senate districts is a violation of the due-process and equal protection clauses of the amendment.

Scholle said the largest Senate district in Michigan has 13 times the population of the smallest. He contended that if the present trend of population shifts continues, by 1970 the largest district will have 25 times the population of the smallest district —all with equal representation.

A 1952 amendment setting up the Senate districts provides for fixed geographical boundaries. Scholle said under the system a district would be entitled to elect a senator even if all the population moved out.

There was no confirmation from Kennedy but other sources here advised reporters to "go heavy on speculation" about Freeman.

President-Elect Doesn't Hint at Posts, Choices

Robert Says 'Nothing' on Reports He'll Be Attorney General

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President-Elect John F. Kennedy said today he would announce another cabinet appointment — "maybe two" — later in the afternoon.

Youthful Robert F. Kennedy, reported close to a decision on whether to take the job of attorney general, met this morning with his brother.

The president-elect put the time for a cabinet announcement tentatively at 5 p.m. (Pontiac time).

Passing this word to newsmen clustered around the ice-covered, sanded steps of his Georgetown home, Kennedy gave no hint as to the posts to be filled or the people to fill them.

The spots still open are secretaries of the Treasury, Agriculture and Labor, attorney general and postmaster general.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-Elect Kennedy said today he had offered the postmaster generalship to Rep. William Dawson, Chicago Negro congressman, but that Dawson declined it.

Kennedy said he was making the announcement because of much speculation that Dawson was going to be named. Kennedy said Dawson told him he felt it would be wiser to remain in the House in view of his 18 years of experience there.

CONFER HOUR, 10 MINUTES

Robert Kennedy and the president-elect conferred for an hour and 10 minutes at the latter's Georgetown home.

Robert was asked as he left whether he was making any decisions.

"Not today," he replied. "What can you tell us?" "Nothing," he said.

There was informed speculation —even among some knowledgable Republicans—that Robert's appointment to the attorney general post might be announced soon by his brother.

For many days 35-year-old Robert has weighed the pros and cons of accepting the job.

He conferred privately Wednesday with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, increasing speculation that he would take the post.

A close associate of Robert insisted that, as of Wednesday night, he had reached no decision.

Earlier, his brother had said he wasn't sure whether there would be additional cabinet members named today, but that certainly he would have some Friday if not today.

But he also reported he was "making some progress," so apparently the outlook shifted quickly.

On another matter, the president-elect expressed hope he will be able to meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan "in the not too distant future."

KING AND HIS BRIDE — Baudouin, king of the Belgians, and his bride, Dona Fabiola de Mora Y Aragon of Spain, are shown arriving at a dinner in their honor Wednesday night on the eve of their wedding. The couple was married today in Brussels before a brilliantly dressed audience of European royalty and Near and Far Eastern titleholders, who looked on approvingly. The wedding was a dream come true for the Belgians, who have been without a queen since the tragic death of Queen Astrid in an auto accident 25 years ago.

Baudouin Is Married in Brussels

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Belgium's King Baudouin today married a shy Spanish aristocrat amid ancient regal splendor in a world shaken by rebellion and restlessness.

This rejoicing nation chanted "Long live the king—Long live the queen" as the monarch, 30, who was regarded as Europe's "most eligible" bachelor, took as his bride tall and dark-eyed Dona Fabiola.

Outside it was a cold slate-gray day, but in the hearts of the Belgians and guests that included five kings, four queens and 46 princes and princesses it was a warm and happy historical occasion.

Fabiola—dressed in a long white satin gown with trailing veil—appeared at first to fight back a few tears of happiness. But she was immediately reassured by quick smiles and a comforting pat on the hand by her king husband.

U.S. Moon Shot Fails 6th Time

Spectacular Blast Puts an End to $40-Million Attempt at Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States failed for the sixth straight time to send a satellite around the moon today when the giant rocket exploded in flight.

The spectacular blast ended a four-shot Atlas-Able carrier rocket program—a $40 million failure. It will be several months before U.S. space scientists have another shot.

American space scientists now must await development of more powerful rockets, expected next summer, for future moon launchings.

The 10-story tall rocket, carrying a 388-pound space craft in its nose, rose smoothly from its launchpad at 4:10 a.m. EST today. The satellite was packed with electronic instruments designed to make the most extensive study ever attempted of the moon's environment.

ROCKET EXPLODES

The huge rocket appeared to be flying a true course for 70 seconds, then it suddenly lurched violently and erupted with a blinding flash that illuminated the Atlantic Ocean and its beaches for several miles.

A massive ball of red-orange fire hung seemingly motionless thousands of feet in the sky for several seconds as tons of fuel were consumed in a boiling inferno. Flaming pieces of the rocket spiraled into the Atlantic several miles offshore.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said an investigation is under way to determine what went wrong.

The rocket's extremely difficult mission was to hurl the spacecraft to the moon 240,000 miles away in 60 hours.

The failure leaves the moon an elusive target for U.S. missilemen, who had propelled five earlier rockets toward the moon without success—and leaves the Soviet Union with a commanding lead in the field of space exploration.

Soviet scientists last year hit the moon with Lunik II and took the first picture of its hidden backside with Lunik III, a wide-swinging earth satellite which passed behind the moon on its first orbit.

FATHER AND SON — A revolutionary government ruled Ethiopia today, apparently ending the autocratic regime of the bearded Emperor Haile Selassie. The new ruler is Selassie's son, Crown Prince Asfa Wassan, who took over while his father was on a state visit to Brazil. The crown prince has banned all flights of aircraft into or out of Addis Ababa, an action that could keep the emperor from returning. (See story on Page 1.)

Certification of Rhode Island's vote today completed the tabulation. The official result there 147,502.

Nixon — 34,121,314 (49.551 per cent)
Others — 505,658 (0.734 per cent)
Total — 68,860,780.

Kennedy had 50.082 per cent of the 68,355,122 two-party vote while Nixon had 49.918 per cent — a record low difference of .164 per cent.

was a monarchy gaining another queen.

For the Belgians it was a dream come true.

They had been without a queen since the tragic death of Queen Astrid in an automobile accident 32 years ago.

For Fabiola, two years older than her husband, it was a personal dream come true.

In her 20s back in her native Spain she wrote a fairy tale about a girl who became a queen. Her heroine was called Queen Myrta.

"And wishing henceforth to please everyone," Fabiola wrote, "she was the most understanding, the best, the most beloved queen of all times."

Fabiola and Baudouin had to go through two long wedding ceremonies. At the first, the civil one in the great throne room of the Brussels Palace, she was visibly nervous.

Once she caught her train on a chair. A quick-witted lackey in knee pants rushed forward and released it just a moment before Fabiola would have sat on it.

Baudouin, in the khaki uniform of a Belgian army officer, smiled at her.

His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said nobody on the announced calling list was a prospective cabinet appointee.

Arthur J. Goldberg, 53, special counsel for the AFL-CIO, is the president-elect's top choice for Labor secretary. Goldberg's appointment was expected to be announced shortly.

One union official said he believed the only hitch that could develop would be an unexpected decision by Goldberg to refuse the post.

Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of State and a Republican, has been mentioned more often than anyone else during the past week as Kennedy's possible choice for Treasury secretary.

But an informed source said several other men have been under consideration recently.

Dillon conferred secretly with Kennedy last week.

When word of their meeting leaked out, Dillon issued a statement through an aide denying that he had been offered a job in the Kennedy administration.

Dillon returns late this afternoon from Paris where he has been participating in diplomatic talks.

As for Robert Kennedy, he has been weighing possible public criticism of an appointment to his brother's cabinet against his conviction that he would do an outstanding job as the nation's chief law enforcement officer.

Robert is the former chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee and the manager of his brother's successful campaign for the presidency.

"It would be a mistake," a close associate of Robert said, "to speculate that any decision has been reached or that he went to the Justice Department to get briefed."

Illinois Certifies 27 Electoral Votes for Sen. Kennedy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — President Elect John F. Kennedy won the postelection battle of the ballots in Illinois Wednesday. His title to its 27 electoral votes was certified unanimously by the Republican-controlled State Electoral Board.

The board ruled there was insufficient evidence to back up Republican charges of wholesale vote fraud in heavily Democratic Cook County, including Chicago.

At one point in the bitter weeks since the Nov. 8 election, Gov. William G. Stratton, lame duck Republican who heads the board, threatened to withhold certification if tangible proof of fraud were presented. He stated Wednesday: "I don't feel this showing has been made today."

Push Down Cold and Snow

Canadian Winds Busy

By The Associated Press

A storm moving out of Northwest Canada spread snow and icy air across north-central sections of the country today.

Wind gusts up to 58 miles per hour fanned the cold air through the Dakotas and Western Minnesota and caused some drifting of snow. The icy cold air dropped temperatures into the teens and 20s in the Rockies and into the 20s and 30s in Midwest areas. The chill was felt southward into Texas. Lower readings were in prospect tonight.

Gale warnings were in effect on Lakes Superior and Michigan.

Snowfall was heaviest in the Dakotas and Western Minnesota. However, no heavy snow warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau. The cold and snow were expected to cover most areas from the Rockies through eastern sections of the Midwest. Rain mixed with snow was forecast from Southern Missouri northeastward through the Ohio Valley into Western New York.

It was cold in the snow-covered regions of the Northeast, where many areas still were digging out from the worst autumn snowstorm in history. Temperatures were near zero and in the teens in sections of New England.

However, southerly winds moderated temperatures in much of the storm-stricken sections. Warmer weather was in prospect for the Eastern seaboard.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Village Eyes Road Program Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — The fate of a $443,000 road improvement program planned for Bloomfield Village in Bloomfield Township may be decided tonight at a public hearing.

The meeting will be in the Bloomfield Village Elementary School at 8:30 p.m.

Its purpose is to have assessment rolls reviewed by the Township Board and hear any individual objections to cost.

Recently, 42 property owners who signed the petition authorizing the township to go ahead with plans on the major project asked that their names be stricken from the record.

NO REASON GIVEN

However, no reason for the action was given, so it was decided by the Township Board to continue proceedings.

Nearly 68 per cent of home owners in the subdivision signed the petition requesting the improvement. There are 787 property owners living in the area.

The proposed township plan would call for paving and repair of 11 miles of streets over a two-year period.

The first public hearing was Nov. 22.

At that time, most residents at the meeting agreed that the improvement was necessary but said they felt assessments should be made on a per lot basis rather than on front-foot cost.

UP TO BOARD

However, the final decision to go ahead with the plan will be up to the discretion of the Township Board, according to Supervisor Arno Hulet.

A Birmingham car salesman will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday on charges of larceny by conversion.

Willard Garoutte of 621 N. Connecticut St., Royal Oak, was bound over to Circuit Court by Municipal Judge Edward Emery. Garoutte was released on a $500 bond.

Fred Kohler of the Strickland Transportation Co. in Detroit brought the charges against Garoutte after trading in a truck on a new convertible.

The deal was made with Crown Chrysler-Plymouth in Detroit, but the firm closed and the transaction was turned over to Garoutte, a salesman at the now defunct Schutz Motors, Inc., in Birmingham.

Kohler charges that Garoutte sold the truck and pocketed a portion of the money in addition to extending the number of payments on the convertible.

She is survived by her husband.

Mrs. John W. Newman

Service for Mrs. John (Susan) W. Newman, 85, of 4526 W. Maple Road, will be 3 p.m. Saturday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery, Pontiac.

Mrs. Newman died today at her home following a brief illness.

She was born in Yorkshire, England, and had lived in the county 55 years.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church in Pontiac and the Royal Neighbors of America.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Charles Gilson of Southfield; a son, Doyle N. of Birmingham; a sister, seven grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

King of Nepal Takes Control

Orders Arrest of All Officials but Gives No Reason for Move

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—King Mahendra of Nepal today personally assumed control of the government, ordering the arrest of Premier B. P. Koirala and other members of his elected government.

The king succeeded to the throne on March 13, 1955. The Koirala Cabinet was formed in May 1959, under a constitution granted by the king in February 1959.

From the middle of the 19th century, Nepal was ruled by the Rana family, which provided the hereditary prime minister of the country.

After World War II a revolutionary movement in 1950 and 1951 restored to the monarchy the powers it had lost 104 years before and broke the hereditary power of the Ranas.

The first general elections in February 1959, resulted in overwhelming victory for the Nepali Congress.

Drunken Driver Goes to Jail—Holiday Policy

A Pontiac man arrested by police early today became the first drunken driver to receive a jail sentence under the Municipal Court policy of automatically sending drunken drivers to jail during the holiday season.

A four-day jail term and a $100 fine was imposed on Daniel Burch, 26, 73 Glenwood Ave. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Cecil McCallum.

If the fine is not paid, he will serve 15 days in jail.

Both Pontiac judges announced earlier this week that drunken drivers would be sent to jail automatically through Jan. 2.

Birgitta, 23, Prince George, Are Engaged

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—The Swedish court today announced the engagement of Princess Birgitta, 23, to Prince George of Hohenzollern.

Brigitta is the second of the four young Swedish princesses, daughters of German-born Princess Sibylla and the late Swedish Prince Gustaf Adolf.

It's McNamara's Band!

RUISLIP, England (UPI) — Members of the U.S. Third Air Force band were reported today to be moaning that with the appointment of Robert McNamara as Defense secretary they'll be known as "McNamara's Band."

Awaits Oakland Water Decision

department auditorium to hear Remus' report was Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman. He didn't participate in the discussion.

Later, however, he said before the city can buy Detroit water it must know whether its auto industry — which consumes better than half of the city's water —is willing to join in with the city in the project or continue to pull from its own wells.

Remus refused on several occasions to be pulled into a discussion on whether the Oakland Department of Public Works should be the dispenser of Detroit water.

He has disagreed in the past over price scales with R. J. Alexander, DPW director.

Detroit's major concentration is on developing the water system in the suburbs, Remus said. He said the plant capacity for pumping in excess of a billion gallons a day was there, but there's no place for the water to go.

Besides the southern Oakland County communities already under 30 - year contracts with Detroit through an authority, Remus said he has or is working on contracts with Farmington, Troy and Utica.

He repeated an estimated price of $1.40 per 1,000 cubic feet of water to Pontiac.

The superintendent said the price is higher than the usual Detroit base rate of 78 cents because extra costs must be figured for the city at about three cents for every mile of transmission to the city limits and three cents for every 100 feet in elevation above Detroit.

Remus said it would take $7.4 million worth of construction to supply Pontiac, and "a big slice of that" has already been undertaken. He said extension of a 54-inch main as far as Dequindre Road (Oakland's eastern boundary) and 17 Mile Road (Wattle Road) won't move too fast because of lack of commitments of potential users in the area.

Kennedy Guards Must Bone Up on Appointees

In fact, the police who stand guard at the entrances to the grounds of the executive mansions are compiling what has been jokingly described as a "rogue's gallery" of Kennedy appointees.

Maj. Ralph Stover, commanding officer of the force, said photos of the cabinet, subcabinet and other top officials of the Kennedy administration are already being collected to avoid injured feelings around Jan. 20.

The pictures will be circulated to key guard posts so the policemen will be able to recognize such dignitaries as incoming Secretary of State Dean Rusk without asking the nation's leading diplomat to produce his White House pass for identification.

Let His Students Know Just Where They Stood

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — The founder of Massachusetts Institute of Technology believed in calling a spade a spade when marking his students.

William Barton Rogers, who founded the school a century ago, established this grade system: G for good, S for satisfactory, P for poor, and N for "next to nothing."

Construction cost of the 203 miles of interstate 94 freeway from Detroit to St. Joseph is estimated at $250 million, more than twice as much as the cost of the Mackinac Bridge.

By the end of this year, Michigan will have nearly 1,100 miles of four-lane divided highway, including more than 500 miles of freeways and nearly 550 miles of other divided highway.

More than 100 million pounds of steel were used in the construction of reinforcing steel and nearly 120 million pounds of structural steel.

"THE LITTLEST ANGEL" — Most of her fellow students look down on 19-year-old Marilyn Kay Bell, 186 Liberty St., but they couldn't measure up to her for a Christmas play role. The 4-foot-11 coed will star in "The Littlest Angel," which will be presented at MSUO for youngsters from the Oakland County Children's Home. She enters the MSUO library with Howard Hinkel, 19, of 215 Perrydale St., Avon Township. Hinkel is 6-foot-3.

British Princess Steals Show in Brussels Visit

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Princess Margaret's arrival here Tuesday to represent her country at Thursday's wedding of King Baudouin and Dona Fabiola formally ended a 20-year-long feud between Britain and Belgium.

But from the moment she emerged smiling from one of Queen Elizabeth's private planes, Princess Margaret clearly stole the show.

She also made past history of the wartime feud that has split the two countries and their courts. King Baudouin and his father, the former King Leopold, never forgave Britain for denouncing Belgium's capitulation to the Nazis as a stab in the back during the dark days of Dunkirk.

1ST VISIT SINCE WAR

Not since World War II has a member of the British royal family visited Belgium to take part in a court celebration. Princess Margaret visited the Brussels World Fair in 1958 and her meetings with King Baudouin and Prince Albert paved the way for the reconciliation.

The Belgian royal family refused to send an emissary to the funeral of the late King George VI in 1953.

Nor was a representative sent to Princess Margaret's own wedding last May.

But Tuesday the king's younger brother Albert and his wife, Princess Paola, welcomed Princess Margaret and her husband at the mist-shrouded airfield.

Extra police were sent to the airfield to control the jostling cheering crowds anxious for a glimpse of the British princess. Her aircraft was preceded by another one bearing wedding gifts.

Who Says They Don't Have Charmed Lives?

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Who says children don't lead a charmed life?

Thirty youngsters escaped injury when their school bus collided with an auto here. They climbed out, and transferred to another bus. The second vehicle skidded and turned over on its side into a ditch. This time two children were hurt — suffering minor cuts and bruises.

Here're Tips on Buying Toys for Tots

Take children, add equal parts of Christmas toys . . . and you have fun!

Shopping for the right playthings to light up youngsters' faces on Christmas morning will be a little easier for "adults in wonderland" with these hints:

Buy for stages, not for ages, taking your cue from the child's interests.

Infants like dangling toys or chewy ones; young children go for those they can push, pull and handle. When youngsters reach reading age, board games and science sets are more in demand.

If possible, choose a basic toy — one that can be used in several different ways. Erector sets, for example, allow a child to build many kinds of toys. The toy also fits a variety of skill levels.

Expect a fair return for your dollar. Consider how long the toy is likely to last and hold the child's interest, and it should be fairly sturdy for its purpose. Try to recall what you know about the manufacturer's reputation.

Give some thought to what the toy can do to improve a youngster's skills. Play, after all, is a child's life, and toys are his teachers.

Off-the-job mishaps kill twice as many Americans as those killed while employed at regular work.

Toledo Honors Union Leader Richard Gosser

TOLEDO (AP) — A crowd of 2,500 persons including management, labor and civic officials turned out Tuesday night to honor Richard T. Gosser, United Auto Workers international vice president.

During the civic rally at the Sports Arena, celebrating Gosser's 60th birthday, Mayor Michael Damas announced that a $40,000 illuminated fountain will be built on the civic center mall as a memorial to the labor leader.

The fountain will be financed by contributions from unions, industry and individuals, the mayor said.

Among the speakers was Jules D. Lippman, general manager of Textileather Division, General Tire & Rubber Co., who cited Gosser as "energetic, intelligent and dedicated to principles."

Gosser was singled out for his work on Toledo's Labor-Management-Citizens Committee, for establishment of the Willys Diagnostic clinic, a summer camp for children and a planned recreation center for retired workers.

Cubs Send Yule Baskets to Two Needy Families

"Guiding Stars" was the theme of the recent Christmas party held by Pontiac Cub Pack 8 of Crofoot School.

The boys sent Christmas baskets to two needy families in the school area, and mailed Christmas cards to four nearby nursing homes. Eight boys received awards.

Has Ruled Land of Solomon for Many Years

Emperor Haile Selassie Is Dedicated to Ethiopia

By United Press International

Mission-educated Haile Selassie I, 69, is a small, quiet, sad-eyed man of regal bearing who has worked for his country since the age of 18.

This has included armed clashes with opposing factions within Ethiopia, an appearance before the League of Nations to ask for help against invading Italian forces before World War II, and the dispatch of Ethiopian troops to fight with United Nations forces in Korea.

Haile Selassie—which in translation means "power of the holy trinity" — was born July 24, 1891, under the name Ras Tafari Makonnen, his father was viceroy to the throne.

At 18 he became governor of a province and during the 1920s traveled throughout Europe seeking friends for his small and relatively unprotected nation.

Meanwhile he consolidated his position at Thome and was appointed regent by the Empress Zaoudi-tu. He became emperor Nov. 2, 1930, shortly after the empress' death.

He gave Ethiopia a constitution providing for Western-style two-house legislature and declaring him "sacred" and his power "indisputable."

He began to encourage foreign capital investment and sent promising Ethiopian students to the United States for study.

APPEALS TO LEAGUE

But his program was interrupted by the Italian invasion of 1935. He went before the League of Nations to declare:

"Apart from the kingdom of the lord, there is not on earth any nation superior to any other. Are the states going to set up the terrible precedent of bowing before force? It is international morality which is at stake."

But the appeal was in vain and the exiled Coptic Christian ruler—whose geneaology reputedly "commences with Menelik I, son of Solomon, born of the queen of Sheba, and which has continued without interruption"—took up residence in London.

He was restored to his throne four years later with the aid of British troops. He then accelerated his program to Westernize Abyssinia which was admitted to the United Nations in 1945.

The emperor, whose titles include "Lion of Judah, King of Kings and Defender of the Christian Faith," has since led a relatively quiet life in his 24-room Addis Ababa palace.

His interests run from music, history and biography to modern, expensive automobiles and movies. He also travels, and currently is in Brazil on a state visit.

His wife is the former Princess Woyzero Manen, they have four children.

Death Takes Newsman

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — George M. Fuqua, 73, vice president of the Owensboro Publishing Co., died Wednesday after a long illness. He was business manager of The Owensboro Messenger and Enquirer and secretary-treasurer of the Owensboro Broadcasting Company.

U.S., Czechs Trade Blasts Over Stamp

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has rejected a Communist Czech charge that an American stamp honoring Czechoslovakian patriot Thomas Masaryk was promoted by "traitorous emigrants."

The department said Wednesday it was "beyond comprehension" why Czechoslovakia had refused to accept mail bearing the Masaryk stamp.

It was one of a number issued in the U.S. "Champions of Liberty" series and honored the first president of the Czech Republic.

Actress Protests Label 'Queen of the Nazis'

LONDON (AP)—German screen star Leni Riefenstahl broke down in tears Tuesday night as she began her campaign to persuade British movie makers she was never a Nazi.

"It is so stupid to call me the Queen of the Nazis," she protested. "I never spoke one word of politics. It's all lies and forgeries.

"They made pictures of Hitler kissing me. They made pictures of me in the arms of a Nazi officer I'd never even met."

Red-haired Leni, at 54, tearfully denied that Hitler once called her the "perfect example of German womanhood." He had only admired her screen talent, she said.

She had not been Hitler's mistress, not even his friend, she added.

Mrs. Riefenstahl wants to remake in Britain her film classic "The Blue Light," which was made in 1936. First she must get permission to work in British studios from the Ministry of Labor and the movie unions.

Grand Valley College Offered Site, Help

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Developments in site offers and administrative aid are keeping up the momentum of plans for the proposed Grand Valley College in West Michigan.

L. William Seidman, chairman of the college's board of control, announced that Michigan State University has agreed to lend the services of Dr. Raymond N. Hatch for several months to help in groundwork for the new institution.

Dr. Hatch is assistant dean of the MSU school of education and will serve on a planning administration group for the new school.

Meanwhile, former Grand Rapids television station owner Leonard A. Versluis offered a 100-acre tract of land near Blythefield Country Club as a site for the proposed school. By letter, Versluis told Seidman he would donate the tract free of charge.

The legislature has provided that a site be obtained, and $1 million in private funds be raised before the college charter takes effect.

U2-Summit Next on UPI List

Kennedy Win '60's Top Story

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's election as the first Roman Catholic president of the United States topped this year's list of 10 biggest stories, announced today by United Press International.

No. 2 of the "ten biggest news stories of 1960" — selected by UPI editors of the United States and Canada — was the downing of the U2 spy plane by Russia and its aftermath in the summit collapse and trial and sentencing of pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Two stories tied for third place: The 15th session of the U.N. General Assembly attended by other heads of state; and the gaining of sovereignty by the Congo, setting off a wave of violence.

The "10 biggest" list follows:

1. Kennedy's election.
2. U2 incident and aftermath; summit collapse and Powers trial.
3. (Tie) 15th session of U.N. General Assembly, and the Congo.
5. Cuba.
6. Japan cancels Ike's visit.
7. Caryl Chessman executed.
8. Negro sit-ins.
9. Hurricane Donna.
10. Pirates win World Series.

In choices after the first 10, the editors, representing hundreds of UPI subscribing newspapers, balloted a tie for 11th — Princess Margaret's wedding and the Chilean earthquake.

The firing of a Polaris missile from a submerged submarine by the United States was 13th; Russian - Chinese disagreement on coexistence policy was 14th, and the capture and holding for trial of Israel of Nazi executioner Adolf Eichmann was 15th.

Marilyn Bell to Play the Role for Children

'Littlest Angel' Has Biggest Part

There's a 19-year-old hazel-eyed blonde at Michigan State University Oakland who is usually looked down upon by her fellow students.

But, when it came to choose a star for "The Littlest Angel," to be presented at MSUO Dec. 19, no one could measure up to her . . . or down to her.

Four-feet-11, 90-pound Marilyn Kay Bell of Pontiac fits ideally into the role of a somewhat impish angel who has a difficult time adjusting to the heavenly routine.

But Miss Bell said her size has caused few real-life problems. She reached her present height in the seventh grade.

PSYCHOLOGY MAJOR

A 1959 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Miss Bell is a sophomore at MSUO, majoring in psychology. She plans a career in guidance and counseling.

Active in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, she is membership recording secretary, a member of the choir and a third grade teacher in the Sunday school.

Last summer she was a nurse's aide at Detroit Memorial Hospital. She has also done some modeling —hair fashions and teen clothes.

Her only previous acting experience is in the role of a witch ("The witch wasn't bad, I was!") in high school.

This time her work will be part of a program at a Christmas party for 35 youngsters from the Oakland County Children's Home.

Sponsored by the Community Service Committee of the Association of Women Students at MSUO, the party will be held in the Oakland Student Center.

GREAT VARIETY

Each child will receive a gift from Santa. Other entertainment will be a recital by the Modern Dance Club, music by the Hi-Fi Club, an all-student German Band and carols by the MSUO choir.

Other Pontiac students active in the project are Judy Noren, Brenda Craddock, Evelyn Laster, Cynthia Moloney and Ava Houk.

Miss Bell tries to spend as much time as possible—whatever is left after rehearshing, studying and church work — playing with her six-year-old brother and two-months-old sister. She also has a 17-year-old brother.

The tiny coed lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bell at 186 Liberty St. Each of them is 5 feet 4.

"We're a small family," Miss Bell said. "But there really are more advantages than disadvantages to being little," she said.

"For example, I can have all kinds of dates — I don't have to worry about whether or not the boy is tall enough for me.

"And at parades, I can always get a front-row position. It's just a matter of walking under the crowd."

Entertainment Banned at Copa for Four Days

NEW YORK (UPI) — The police department has barred all entertainment at the Copacabana night club for four days during Christmas week because six employes were found working without proper identity cards.

Cheryl Crane May Be Released During January

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Cheryl Crane, actress Lana Turner's 17-year-old daughter who stabbed to death her mother's boy friend Johnny Stompanato in 1958, may be released next month from a wayward girls' school.

"We are considering her release," said Kenneth Kirkpatrick, director of county juvenile facilities. "She has done well and is making a good adjustment."

Cheryl was made a ward of the court after the 1958 slaying. She had been allowed to live in the custody of her grandmother until last March when she was placed in El Retiro School for psychiatric therapy.

She twice ran away from the school shortly after her confinement, but was returned both times.

Robert McNamara Shows True Loyalty Accepting Defense Job

ROBERT S. MCNAMARA becomes our new Secretary of Defense. It was a tough decision for the 44-year-old President of Ford Motor Company to make.

Only a month ago he was elevated to the Presidency of one of the great corporations in the world and now he forsakes it voluntarily to serve his country. Really, this is patriotism on a high level. Estimates believe the financial loss to him will ultimately run into several million dollars.

Originally, rumors linked his name with Secretary of the Treasury, but this would hardly have drawn him away from his current position. Secretary of Defense and Secretary of State are generally regarded as the two top positions in the President's family.

McNAMARA

Certainly, McNamara is eminently qualified for the current defense position. No one anywhere oversees the expenditure of 40 billion dollars a year, but McNamara is one of those whose financial empire comes closer than all but a few. He's a top qualified "apprentice."

E. R. BREECH was asked by The Pontiac PRESS whether he would approve of having MCNAMARA leave Ford to take the government post. "BOB asked me this same question," replied the former chairman of the board and the man who is most responsible for placing Ford where it is today. "I told him it fell purely into the realm of personal affairs. This transcends 'business as usual.'"

The Press understands that Henry Ford gave McNamara substantially the same answer. Hence, the young man had to wrestle with his conscience alone in the still of the night and reach the most important decision of his life practically unaided. Perhaps close friends indicated what they thought but the final answer was his — and his alone!

C. E. WILSON faced the same problem and threw personal gain aside to serve the United States. MCNAMARA follows in his footsteps. These huge automotive corporations are siring a stirring race of patriots.

A PRESS editor asked E. R. BREECH this final question: "As a taxpayer and a citizen of the United States, would you be happy to have MCNAMARA Secretary of Defense?"

So, the rest of us who foot the bill and who must "be defended" as citizens, can offer thanks to Robert S. McNamara for tossing personal profit aside to serve his nation.

The Man About Town

Seasonal Notes

From Readers in Regard to the Yuletide Period

Handwriting on the wall: What this column hopes that, after your Christmas buying, will not be in red ink.

Thanks for the kind letter from

of Waterford, congratulating this paper for not using the "almost sacrilegious" shortening of the word "Christmas." And, Mrs. Boyston, special extra thanks should go to our display advertising department, for there are many instances when the shorter word would better fit into the case.

"Santa Claus looked like he'd been blown up," was the conclusion of the four-year-old daughter of

Bonnie Lea,

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heslinger

of Rochester after she'd watched the recent big pre-Christmas doings in our beautiful suburb to the east.

A Santa Claus letter addressed to Man About Town, with a Pontiac postmark, signed asks for such simple things that they'll be forthcoming if Paula will identify herself.

Further appreciation of the courtesy of Pontiac store clerks is phoned by

of Waterford, who says they're generally obliging and kindly as ever, even during their trying hours in the Christmas rush. She adds, "They reflect the true Christmas spirit."

Bedtime stories that do not put the children to sleep, but keep them wide awake, according to

Mrs. Raymond Hanchler

of Drayton Plains, are those by

Lucrece Hudgins Beale,

now running in these columns. "My children hang on every word," she adds.

Today's ice skating bulletin: beware of these rising temperatures. Only on our smaller lakes is the ice safe.

In defiance of the zero weather,

Mrs. Dorothy Stewart

of 2344 Silver Lake Road, reports that her daughter, Penny, found some myrtle plants blooming in the snow in their yard.

"Tell your readers that nothing less than three-inch clear ice is safe for skating," phones of Keego Harbor, who asserts that our biggest body of water, Cass Lake, is a "death trap," as its ice rarely is safe, regardless of the severity of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Seeder of Rochester; 53rd wedding anniversary.

John Applegate

of Ortonville; 90th birthday.

Russia's 'Brass' Treated Differently Than Ours

Overly enthusiastic citizens many times give our government leaders and candidates for these jobs a pretty rough time. Verbal blasts occur frequently and on occasion our top officials may even be pushed about.

Fortunately, our citizens are not out to do physical damage. What a contrast this is when you think of the way Russians treat their "brass."

We are indebted to The Weekly Crusader, Tulsa, Okla., for the following fatal statistics.

"Up to 1954, the Russians had SHOT:

"Nine out of 11 Cabinet Ministers holding office in 1936.

"Five out of seven Presidents of the last central executive committee.

Forty-three out of 53 Secretaries of the Communist Party central office.

"Fifteen out of 27 who wrote the 1936 Constitution.

"Seventy out of 80 of the Soviet War Council.

"Since 1917, three out of every five Marshals of the Soviet Army were executed as spies or traitors.

"And harken to this, all the members of Lenin's first politburo, the inner cabinet, were shot — except one — Joseph Stalin."

World's Oldsters to Bow Out

Youth Rides In With Jack Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John E. Kennedy's administration will be the first wave of the future.

By electing Kennedy, 43, president, this country—alone among the big nations — has made the first clean break with the past.

One by one in the 1960s the giants who dominate the world scene now—all either ancient or aging —will disappear off the stage of history.

By the end of this decade most, probably all, will be out of positions of leadership.

Kennedy alone among the big world leaders is both young and new in the sense that he has no direct link with the past in making, shaking or shaping the world.

The others, like retiring President Eisenhower, are holdovers from the past.

Eisenhower, now 70, is typical of those others. In one way or another—in his case in several ways —he was one of the active forces in molding the world of the pre-1960s.

EISENHOWER

He was allied commander in Europe during the war, commander of NATO in Europe in the early 1950s, and President eight years.

But all of the present world leaders either came to prominence, and retained it, during and after the war or even preceding the war.

Nowhere among the big nations since the war, until now in the case of Kennedy, has a new and young man appeared.

ADENAUER

Take some examples: West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, now 84, emerged after the war and has been the German leader since.

DE GAULLE

French President Charles de Gaulle, now 70, emerged as leader of the Free French during the war, served as president, retired, and now has come back to dominate France again.

KHRUSHCHEV

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, 66, built up stature during the war by his services under Stalin and has been the real Soviet leader since the old dictator died in 1953.

MACMILLAN

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, 66, has a long record of public service but didn't reach the top spot until 1957.

TITO

CHIANG

Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek, 72, was a towering figure in China as long ago as the 1920s and, although the Red Chinese threw him off the mainland, he's still boss on Formosa. Of all the present world leaders, Chiang has the longest record of holding the top job.

NEHRU

India's Prime Minister Nehru, 71, was long a prominent figure in his country, although overshadowed by Ghandi. He became a giant after the war.

FRANCO

In Spain there is Generalissimo Francisco Franco, 68, who took charge in the 1930s and is still boss.

MAO

And finally there is Red China's Mao Tze-tung, 67. He was leader of the Chinese Communists before the war and now that they dominate mainland China he, still is top man.

While it may seem extraordinary that this country should have chosen a man of 43 for its leader, young leaders may be the rule by the end of this decade, not the exception.

With the younger men will come new ideas and new energies which in retrospect may make the turmoil of 1960 look like a collection of stupidities or, by comparison with what lies ahead, a golden age of peace and quiet.

The Country Parson

"Of course parents mold their children — I never heard of the children of English-speaking parents starting out to speak French."

Dr. William Brady Says:

When You're Giving Birth Home's Still the Best Place

"Your article on the star chamber atmosphere prompts me to record my vote (writes a Saskatchewan reader). "I have borne three children in three years, all of them in the hospital.

DR. BRADY

"I have found the nurses and doctors very good to me. My first two deliveries were without complication. The third was easy enough, but hemorrhage followed, and had I been anywhere but at the hospital . . .

"No instruments were used, and I am thankful to the doctors and nurses, for without them my husband would now be trying to take care of three motherless children." (Mrs.— —)

Or so the nurses told you. Anyway, it is good to know that you have found the nurses and doctors in the hospital kind and efficient. Indeed they are in most hospitals. Although I still maintain that home is the safest place to have a baby, I do not mean to imply that the doctors and nurses in most hospitals are not kind and efficient.

A Michigan reader writes:

"Dear Dr. Brady:

"I have just finished reading your article about the inhumen treatment of new mothers in hospitals and want you to know they are not all like that.

"I have had four babies in the hospital here (a community of perhaps 14,000 population). With my first I was given ether in the delivery room, but my husband was with me in the labor room and waiting in my room to greet me and the baby after the birth.

"My last two I had by natural childbirth. My husband was with me the whole time and it was wonderful. My doctor, a G.P., and the hospital nurses were very kind and encouraging. The doctor was always with me well before the time I was taken to the delivery room. Some of my friends tell me they were not sure their doctor was even there when the baby was born.

"I had always wanted to nurse my babies and the doctor was delighted when I nursed my first. He said too many women had to be persuaded to do so. The nurses were also very helpful. They brought the baby to be fed any time he became insistent.

"My only regret is that the hospital has not instituted the rooming-in system, but I feel that this, too, will come."

Sincerely,

Mrs. ———

The Saskatchewan reader doesn't, indicate whether her husband was confined in the monkey cage while she was having her baby.

The Michigan reader seems grateful that the hospital rules and regulations permitted her husband to remain with her until she was taken to the star chamber.

Now I'd like to hear from couples who are fifty-fifty partners in the baby business, couples who demand and receive respect from doctors and hospitals, couples who do not submit to being patronized and pushed around, couples who want to share the miracle hand in hand—without use of chain and padlock.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

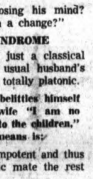
Be Alerted to Signs of Impotency

Opal's husband is typical of millions of men who become medical "worry warts" or try to divert their wife's attention via the red herring of alcoholism. Every marriage is in danger when a man reaches the age of 40, unless his wife is alerted to the secret danger, so send for the sex booklet below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G—452: Opal G., aged 37, has a common problem.

"Dr. Crane," she began tearfully, "my husband says he is of no use to me and our children.



DR. CRANE

"So he threatens to quit his job and just disappear. Or he even flirts with the idea of suicide.

"Although he never drank before, the last few weeks he has also begun to come home staggering drunk.

"All this is so unlike him that I can't understand what is wrong. He used to be active in the church and a Boy Scout leader but he wants to shun those things entirely.

"Can he be losing his mind? What causes such a change?"

IMPOTENCE SYNDROME

This is usually just a classical symptom of the usual husband's fear of becoming totally platonic.

When a man belittles himself by telling his wife "I am no good to you—or to the children," what he really means is:

"I fear I am impotent and thus will be a platonic mate the rest of my life."

The usual wife doesn't see through this ruse, so she immediately worries over her husband's health.

And that is a second purpose of his ruse, for when he can divert her attention by his sudden use of liquor, he at least retains her keen maternal interest, though he secretly dreads he may have lost her sweetheart affection.

The male who approaches 40 may thus sprout any or all of the following typical signs of the climacteric in males (impotence syndrome):

(1) He may grow caustic to the point of chronic sadism, belittling everything his wife does till he reduces her to tears.

If personal affronts to her ego don't produce the weeping, he may even transfer his harshness to the children, thus trying to strike at his wife via the youngsters.

(2) Alcoholism, especially after a previous teetotaler life. The resulting drunken stupor frees him from his own inner torment for a few hours, and meanwhile is a red herring to divert his wife's attention from his real worry—impotence.

(3) Medical "worry wartism." He complains that he isn't feeling well, but diverts his own and his wife's attention to medical ailments as a camouflage for his secret sexual dread.

(4) Recklessness, as in driving, often with the expressed wish that a front tire will blow so will be killed.

He may also begin to gamble recklessly and even threaten suicide since he claims he is of no use to anybody. He may test his wife's feelings by threatening to run away or commit suicide.

(5) Wanton flirtations and sexual misconduct. These occur AFTER he has finally discovered that he can function sexually with a new and often younger paramour.

WIFELY SEDUCTION

Testosterone and other glandular "shots" are not as effective as resolute cooperation by a wife who fights fire with fire.

A platonic mate can usually be restored to normalcy in one night by a wife who takes a more active, aggressive role in her bondoir.

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It can save you wives from broken homes after the age of 40.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long & coni stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Santas Don't Look Like They Should'

These Santas the stores employ for our children to visit are thin gentlemen or young men who can't dress or play the part of Santa. Their dark hair shows, their beards are stringy and their old beat up shoes show under the so-called boots.

Why can't the merchants of Pontiac employ a few Santas in cheery huts, placed at strategic points around town so our children can have the pleasure of visiting something near enough to the Santas they see pictured?

Suggests Post Office Relocate Mail Boxes

The post office department has tried to make it convenient for drivers to mail from the car window. However, with all the one way streets in Pontiac, I wish they could place the boxes on the driver's side so he doesn't have to reach across the front seat, roll down the window, while all the time trying to keep his foot on the brake.

Claims City Unfair in Stairway Ruling

How many rules does the city ordinance have? I was compelled to put an outside stairway from the third floor of my home. My neighbors have three floors in their house and even after having a fire, they are allowed to rent the third floor apartment without having an outside stairway. Why not treat everyone the same? We pay taxes, too.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. We have an eight-year old dog who has always refused to be bathed. What can you suggest? R. Landone, Elmont, N. Y.

A. Animals, particularly those living in close contact with humans, are just as apt to contract fears and complexes as we are. Your dog undoubtedly fears water due to some severe traumatic experience early in his life.

You should take your dog to the veterinarian for his next bath. The veterinarian will tranquilize the dog sufficiently to make him overcome his inhibitions, then bathe him. At the next bathing, the tranquilization will be decreased.

After your dog has been bathed several times like this, with decreasing tranquilization, he may come to realize, like a little boy, that bathing isn't so bad after all.

Corroborate Dr. Kinsey

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Drs. Phyliss and Eberhard Kronhausen, who set up a formula for judging obscene books in their "Pornography and the Law," have published "Sex Histories of American College Males," which corroborates many of the findings of the Kinsey Institute.

Enrollment in Public Schools 37 Million; Cost, $16.4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's public elementary and secondary schools will spend an estimated total of $16,476,135,000 this school year—more than $91 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Reporting this today, the National Education Association said it represents an increase of $1.2 billion, or eight per cent, over last year, and 153 per cent over the $6.5 billion dollars of just 10 years ago.

The total includes almost $13 billion in current expenses, slightly over $3 billion in capital outlay for new buildings etc., and almost half a billion in interest charges.

The NEA also reported current enrollment in the public schools has reached 37,244,284, including 25,265,620 pupils in elementary school and 11,978,664 in secondary school, a one-year over-all increase of 1,206,347.

Elementary school enrollment this year is 3 per cent higher than last year and 33 per cent higher than 10 years ago. Secondary enrollment is up 4.2 per cent over last year and a whopping 76.6 per cent higher than the 1950-51 figure.

STATISTICS '61

The figures were reported by the NEA's research division in a 32-page booklet, "Estimates of School Statistics, 1960-61." Other highlights from the report:

The average daily attendance in the public schools is 33,188,161. For each pupil in average daily attendance the schools will spend $390.

There are 1,408,962 classroom teachers; their average annual salary is $5,125 compared with $4,495 the previous year; one out of every 15 is an "emergency" teacher who lacks full credentials; and during the present school year 126,665 teachers will leave the public schools.

Total revenue receipts of the schools—excluding nearly $3 billion from the sale of bonds—will be $14,778,972,000. Of the total, 56.3 per cent will come from local sources, 40.1 per cent from state sources, and 3.6 per cent from the federal government.

The number of school districts has been cut to a modern low of 37,153, less than half the number in existence 11 years ago.

Sam M. Lambert, director of the NEA's research division, said total expenditures will increase by at least $1 billion per year during the 60s.

COSTS INCREASE

"The American public will spend more on its public schools in the next decade than it has in the past 125 years," Lambert said.

Lambert also said that while the average teacher's salary passed $5,000 this year for the first time, it is still far below what a professional should be paid.

"The average teacher," he said, "is 41 years old, has had 14 years of teaching experience, and has had 4½ years of college preparation. In no other professional field will you find people of this age, with this experience and preparation, making such a low salary."

The $390 expenditure for pupils in average daily attendance is a national average, representing an increase of almost 5 per cent over the 1959-60 figure of $372 and 74 per cent over the $224.23 of 10 years ago.

The figures for the various states show a wide spread, from $585 in New York and Alaska and $512 in New Jersey to $217 in Alabama, $223 in South Carolina and $225.86 in Mississippi. In all, seven states are below the $250 figure, all of them in the South.

Since the 1950-51 school year, the number of emergency teachers has increased from 75,079 to 93,917, the NEA report said. However, during the same period the total number of classroom teachers has increased from 927,617 to 1,408,962. Thus the proportion of emergency teachers has dropped from 1 in 12 to 1 in 15.

The report also points out that in the past 10 years, many states have increased their requirements for full certification. Many of those who would have been fully qualified a few years ago now qualify only for provisional certificates.

California, with 3,420,000 pupils, has the largest public school enrollment in the country, well ahead of New York's 2,835,000. The NEA said the 97.4 of the 5-17 age group in California is enrolled in the public schools.

California also has the highest average salary for classroom teachers—$6,700. The lowest average salary paid in the country is $3,415, in Mississippi. Arkansas pays $3,550, South Dakota $3,675, and South Carolina $3,725.

Last year 12.8 per cent of the nation's teachers earned below $3,500 a year; this year it is 9.6 per cent. Last year 11.9 per cent earned $6,500 or more, this year it is 14.5 per cent.

Ike Deplores 2 Phone Calls

He May Refer to Ones by Kennedys Which He Thinks Won Negro Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—The Times says President Eisenhower expressed the view Tuesday that "a couple of phone calls" had put the Negro vote in the Democratic column in the presidential election.

"This came about, he indicated, despite his eight-year effort to protect Negro voting rights and to promote racial integration in public schools," the Times said in a Washington dispatch.

It said he made the remark without elaboration while conferring with a group of industrial leaders.

The visitors took the remark as a reference to telephone calls made by Sen. John F. Kennedy, then the Democratic presidential nominee and now president-elect, and by Kennedy's brother Robert.

Sen. Kennedy telephoned the wife of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Georgia to express sympathy that the Negro leader had been sent to jail for four months in the aftermath of a sit-in demonstration in Atlanta.

Dr. King had been arrested in the sit-in demonstration about two weeks before the election and Judge Oscar Mitchell of Dekalb County, Ga., revoked the suspension of an earlier traffic violation sentence.

The senator's brother telephoned the judge and asked if there were any constitutional bar to the posting of bail. The demonstration charge was dropped and Dr. King was released on $2,000 bond pending an appeal.

The President's apparent reference to the incident came while he was making the point to the industrialists that glowing endorsements of economic freedom under the free enterprise system were not fully effective unless the message was received and retained by all levels of the body politic.

From there he went on to say how he had begun to make the nation's capital a model for states to follow in desegregating schools and that he had repeatedly asked Congress for civil rights legislation.

The Times said:

"It had been a source of some satisfaction to him, the President noted, that a good part of what he had been advocating in the civil rights sphere had been accomplished. But he added:

"'And then somebody picks up a telephone.'"

Police Move Quickly to Return Stolen Car

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — When Chattanooga police were asked to help find a car stolen in Nashville, they gave quick service. They found the car in front of the police station.

The car and four teen-age occupants had been brought to police headquarters for routine questioning a few minutes before.

New Fire Code May Alter School Modelin

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Michigan's schools may have to go in for extensive renovation and remodeling of buildings in order to meet the state's new fire safety code, a deputy state fire marshal indicates.

A picture of that sort was drawn for the Kalamazoo Board of Education by Sgt. Walter M. Burns, deputy state fire marshal of the Paw Paw state police post. He appeared before the board.

Burns said that if the code is to be rigidly enforced many schools will have to undertake extensive work on their buildings.

Citing the recent Gaylord school fire, Burns said "we really have been sitting on a powder keg in many of the schools in our state."

Was You Effer in Zinzinnati?

Oh, My Oh: Where's Ohio?

BRIGHTON (AP)—A sense of direction is vital for expressway driving, Michigan State police have learned.

A woman driver with Ohio license plates on her car stopped at the Brighton State Police Post and asked where she was.

"You're in Brighton, Mich., M'am," the troopers told her.

"Michigan!" she exclaimed. "I left Marion, Ohio, this morning, headed for Chillicothe. I got on one of those expressways, and here I am."

Chillicothe is about 100 miles south of Marion; Brighton about 150 miles north.

Troopers showed her the way home, then watched as she flicked on her right turn signal, made a left turn onto the highway, and ran a red right at one of Michigan's busiest highway intersections.

They didn't stop her, they said. After all, she was heading in the right direction.

Flint Newspaperman to Take Brighton Post

FLINT (AP) — Gilbert F. Gillett, classified advertising manager of the Flint Journal for 22 years, is leaving Jan. 1 to become editor and publisher of the Brighton Argus of Brighton, weekly newspaper founded in 1880.

Gillett also will be president of Brighton Argus, Inc. His successor on the Journal will be Edward A. Mitchell, classified advertising supervisor.

Within two years, Michigan motorists will be able to drive nonstop from the Ohio line to the Mackinac Bridge, from Detroit to Muskegon and from Detroit to the Indiana line near New Buffalo.

Iron ore is classified into 27 different grades, and often is mixed to produce the right grade.

Adlai to Play Key Role—Rusk

2 Kennedy Appointees Talk Foreign Policy, Goals at U.N.

NEW YORK (AP)—Dean Rusk, the incoming secretary of State, says Adlai E. Stevenson will "play a key role in the formulation of foreign policy" in the administration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy. The meeting was the first between Rusk and Stevenson since the president-elect announced Rusk's selection Monday.

Rusk said Stevenson knows more than any other American, what the U. N. means for the world and for U. S. foreign policy. He pointed out that Stevenson had helped create the international body in San Francisco in 1945.

The new Democratic administration, said Rusk, will want Stevenson's "full counsels in the formulation of foreign policy."

'VERY NICE PHRASE'

When asked if the key role had been a factor in his acceptance of the U. N. post, Stevenson said: "This is the first I've heard of it, and I think it's a very nice phrase."

Stevenson said he and Rusk "have been in agreement many years, and our objective is to preserve, defend and strengthen the United Nations. The United Nations is the best hope for peace and security in the world."

The next secretary of State was asked whether Dean Acheson, secretary of State in the Truman administration, would play a part in formulating foreign policy. He replied that Acheson had a distinguished record and "his judgment is always valuable." Rusk served as an assistant secretary of State under Acheson.

Says We Must Refuel in Orbit

It's the Only Way to Reach and Return From the Moon—Von Braun

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Wernher von Braun told the annual meeting of the Life Insurance Association of America today that in order to land men on the moon and bring them back in the near future a system of refueling in orbit must be devised.

Von Braun, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration flight center, said in a prepared speech that it would require 12 million pounds take-off thrust to send a two-man spaceship to the moon and that the present thrust of the Saturn rocket was less than two million pounds.

He suggested that the spaceship should rendezvous with a spacestation where crews, working under zero-gravity conditions, would transfer fuel and supplies to the manned rocket.

Von Braun said that the C1 version of the Saturn, a three-stage rocket, is expected to be operational by 1964. This should be capable of putting a 6,000-pound payload into orbit and of landing 1,000 to 2,000 pounds "softly" on the moon.

He added that if world population continued to increase at its present rate, in 500 years time there will be "standing room only on this planet." Other planets may provide the solution to this problem, he said.

APPLAUDS ACTION — Mrs. Zelma Watson George, the only U.S. Negro delegate to the United Nations, stood Wednesday and joined in applause at the U.N. General Assembly's action calling for an end of colonialism. The U.S. abstained from voting on the measure, which was passed by a vote of 89 to 0.

Finding More Radiation in Stillborn Baby Bones

LONDON (UPI) — Health Minister Enoch Powell said measurements of strontium 90 in the bones of stillborn infants during 1959 showed some increase.

Strontium 90 is part of the radiation fallout from atomic bombs.

Powell told the House of Commons that leukemia, cancer of the blood, has been on the rise for the past 30 or 40 years but said there was no "clear reason" for connecting the ailment's increase to strontium 90.

Motto to Live By Keeps Columbus Police Hopping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Because of an inscription above the front door of headquarters, police here figure they'll be getting a lot of calls for help.

The calls—which flood the telephone switchboard at headquarters—come from school children.

Many get the homework assignment during the first weeks of school to learn the text of the inscription.

It says: "Dedicated to justice for all in the firm belief that obedience to the law is freedom."

Mrs. John Varley, a sixth grade teacher at Christ the King School, first gave the assignment in 1957.

Police said she told them that she thinks the inscription is a good motto to live by.

Shoppers Mask Faces to Cross Picket Line

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — A man and two women wearing scary Halloween masks entered a Rawlins food store, which had been struck by the local clerks union for several months.

Fearing a holdup attempt, the manager called police. The trio's explanation for their masks: They didn't want to be identified crossing a picket line to do their weekly grocery shopping.

McNamara Severs Ties, Takes Additional Loss

DETROIT (UPI)—The merry-go-round whirl on the Ford Motor Co.'s top executive level apparently has ground to a halt for a while.

Henry Ford II said Wednesday he would assume the duties of company president as well as chairman of the board of the giant auto firm. Ford took over the presidency from Robert S. McNamara, 44, who has accepted the post of Defense secretary in the Kennedy cabinet.

Ford had served as both president and board chairman of the company his grandfather founded from last July 13 when Ernest R. Breech retired as chairman. He gave up the presidency, which he had held since 1945, five weeks ago to McNamara.

And the odds are that a new president will be named soon since Ford has said in the past that the dual role is too big for one man to handle.

An official company statement said Ford will act in both capacities "for at least the next several months."

In order to avoid possible conflict-of-interest charges, McNamara said he disposed Wednesday of 23,215 shares of his Ford stock for $65.17½ a share and gave 1,035 shares to a private foundation he and his wife have established. Later Wednesday he disposed of his 100 shares of Scott Paper Co. stock.

McNamara, whose financial loss in assuming the defense post is estimated at a million dollars, deliberately incurred an additional loss in disposal of the stock. He could have reaped a tax benefit by selling the stock in two blocks, one now and the other early next year.

"I felt the sooner I could get rid of my Ford stock, the better I would feel," McNamara said. McNamara also announced he will not exercise options to buy 30,000 shares of Ford stock.

But he said he had roughly $350,000 in supplemental compensation due him from Ford. He said he saw no conflict of interest in "accepting it when the payment dates occur. However, I believe it is a subject for Congress and the lawyers to decide."

He said he thinks his ties with Ford will be completely severed by Jan. 1, adding that he has no plans for the distant future and intends to remain in the cabinet as "long as the president will accept me."

He submitted his resignation as Ford president Wednesday, effective Jan. 1.

McNamara plans to sell his Ann Arbor home in the near future. He said Wednesday he will buy a house in Washington.

Declares Dividend

The board of directors of Shatterproof Glass Corp., Detroit, has declared a dividend of 24 cents per share, payable on Jan. 26, 1961, to shares of common stock outstanding and of record Jan. 16, 1961.

Study Housing Discrimination

Civil Rights Group in Detroit Hears Witnesses Tell of Segregation

DETROIT (UPI) — The U.S. Civil Rights Commission turned today to housing discrimination in Michigan.

Despite what they termed remarkable progress in integration and elimination of racial bias, a series of witnesses told the commission Wednesday that housing discrimination still exists particularly in Detroit where one out of every four of its 1.67 million citizens is a Negro.

Those same witnesses agreed there also was discrimination in employment, despite a state Fair Employment Practices law, and that segregated housing had resulted in some segregated classrooms.

William R. Luedders, president of the Detroit Real Estate Board, was among witnesses called for the commission's final session of a two-day hearing. So was William T. Patrick Jr., Negro member of Detroit's city council.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams told the commission in answer to a question Wednesday that housing was "the most challenging problem of discrimination and that if it were solved discrimination in other areas would vanish.

Williams, President-Elect John F. Kennedy's choice for assistant secretary of State for African affairs; Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, and several other witnesses suggested the Civil Rights Commission be made a permanent federal organization with jurisdiction over and power to enforce equality in employment, education, housing and public accomodations.

Luedders' organization is battling in Michigan courts a rule under which the State Corporation and Securities Commission proposes to prohibit real estate brokers and salesmen from discriminating among would-be buyers on racial or religious grounds.

The rule was adopted after a state investigation into a now abandoned point system by which brokers in wealthy suburban Grosse Pointe communities graded prospective home buyers on race, religion, swarthiness and the like.

Kennedy Hosts Navy Gridders at His Home

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy, an ardent touch football player, entertained five members of the U.S. Naval Academy football team at his Georgetown home Wednesday night.

The midshipmen, all from Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts, were led by Navy's All-American halfback, Joe Bellino of Winchester.

They gave Kennedy an autographed football marked with the score of the last Army-Navy game: Navy 17, Army 12. The President-Elect autographed a ball they brought along.

The other team members were tackle Sid Driscoll of Waltham, fullback Ronald Bell of Chelmsford, guard Dick Fitzgerald of Haverhill, and tackle Donald Testa of Watertown.

They chatted with Kennedy about football for half an hour. Kennedy plans to attend the Navy-Missouri Orange Bowl game in Miami New Year's Day.

Consider Killers as Guinea Pigs

Ohio Group Studies Pontiac Doctor's Idea for Condemned Men

An Ohio legislative committee had under consideration the proposal of a Pontiac pathologist that condemned killers be given a chance to volunteer for medical experiments before they are put to death.

Dr. Jack Kevorkian, 32, outlined his plan yesterday in Columbus, Ohio, at a hearing on Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's recommendation to abolish the death penalty in Ohio.

Kevorkian said important experiments and perhaps major medical breakthroughs could be accomplished with the help of volunteers, who otherwise would face death in Ohio's electric chair.

"The condemned man would be given a deep anesthesia at the very hour he was to be executed. Then, he would be subjected to experiments lasting from one hour to five days without ever waking up. Death finally would be by an overdose of anesthetic by a layman."

Kevorkian's proposal, which he says is divorced from any personal feelings he has about the propriety of capital punishment, received wide attention when first proposed to the American Association for the Advancement of Science two years ago.

Movie Dillinger Nabbed

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI)—Actor Lawrence Tierney, 41, who played gangster John Dillinger in a movie, was arrested early today on a drunken driving charge, the California highway patrol reported.

Officers M. H. Chance and J. E. Barrett said they stopped the movie tough guy, who currently is on probation for a plain drunk conviction, as he and a woman friend sped along at 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile-an-hour zone in her car.

'More Fun Than Going to School'

Kidnaped Girl Escapes Abductor

SULTAN, Wash. (AP)—A spunky blonde teen-ager told police she was kidnaped at knife-point Wednesday but managed to skip out on her abductor in his car.

Hazel Irene Oelrich, 17, a high school senior, said, "It was much more fun than going to school."

Hazel told police a man came to the door of her home before school, asked if her father were home, and when he learned Oelrich had gone to work, followed her inside saying he wanted to leave a note.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Oelrich, had left a few minutes earlier for the bank where they work. He is manager.

PULLS HUNTING KNIFE

Hazel said once the man was inside, "He pulled out a hunting knife about six inches long and told me to come with him."

They got into an old car, and "He forced me to lie on the floor until we were outside the Sultan town limits," she said.

They drove to the Western Washington town of Monroe, seven miles west of Sultan. The man stopped at a busy intersection where there was a phone booth.

"He made me get out of the car and get in the booth with him, Hazel said in an interview.

"He told me to call dad, and I did. We both talked to dad. I was trying to tell dad that the man said he was not to call the sheriff. The man told dad if he wanted to see me again he must bring $25,000 to the phone booth in the next 20 minutes."

Hazel said the shabbily dressed man with graying hair then told her to get in the car and drive on west to Everett and he would follow in another car.

CAR VANISHES

"He said he would be following me all the way. There was a white car just behind. It followed me at first, and then I didn't see it again."

She turned around, drove back to Monroe, where she telephoned her father she had escaped, then drove to her father's bank.

In the meantime her father had left $25,000 in the phone booth, but it was not picked up.

A used car operator in Everett said he had sold the car Monday to a man in his early 20s. Officers were seeking the owner.

Hazel's adventure lasted about 1½ hours. Back in school after it was all over, a special assembly was called so she could tell fellow pupils all about it.

Cornell Will Send Mutts to Used 'Cur' Dealer

ITACA, N. Y. (UPI) — Stray dogs, long tolerated on the campus of Cornell University, have worn out their welcome.

After a rash of dog fights, bitten students and chewed library books, the university ruled that unlicensed dogs will be picked up and sent to a local animal shelter.

Snow Use Complainin'

How to Roast a Song-Writer

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Next to young love, which can happen in any climate, the favorite topic of poets, song-writers and other ethereal types is—you should pardon the expression—snow.

Countless thousands of verses have been penned extolling this wintry fallout as the greatest thing since manna, and I think I know the reason for this. Poetry and song-writing is indoor work.

A composer can go to the window, cast his soulful eyes upon the snow-locked landscape and then spend the rest of the day by the fire, thinking up words that rhyme with "wonderland."

There are times—this being one of them—when I wish I could grab these snow hymnists by the scurfs of their necks, plank them down in the suburbs and force them to make their way to the city.

I would like to see them spend 45 minutes putting chains on car wheels only to discover, as I did a few hours ago, that the car wouldn't start.

Then, after they had paid the service station for making a house call at the same rate charged by neuro-surgeons, I would like to see them walk four blocks through a foot of snow to fetch a shovel with which to extricate the auto from a roadside drift into which it had skidded.

Then, after they had reached the highway, I would like to see them get out of the car and remove the chains in order to avoid clanking along for 10 miles on pavement that already had been cleared by the snowplow.

MORE MISERY

I also would have them forget to bring their gloves so that they would have to perform this operation stiff-fingered and would be able to gash a thumb while trying to undo the chains.

Moreover, I would make certain the chains were the "simple" strap-on variety which only require 30 minutes longer to take on and off than the regular variety and which fall off by themselves once the auto is in motion.

And, finally, I would have them spend a day in a snowbound bungalow with three young sculptors who have to make 47 trips outside to carve a snowman, who have to be swaddled and unswaddled in heavy boots, pants and jackets before and after each trip, who leave the living-room carpet saturated with the residue, and who run up the fuel bill by leaving the door open.

All of this, I'll warrant, would fall literature and lyrics. But if personal experience didn't do the trick, I could acquaint the poets and song-writers with some impersonal statistics.

For one thing, it costs a city like Washington some $30,000 an inch in maintenance work for every inch of snow that falls. For another, shoveling 15 inches of snow from a sidewalk 50 feet long and five feet wide requires as much energy as lifting 1,950 pounds.

I'd like to see some composer try to set those lines to music.

Sets Hearing Dec. 16 to Review Tax Laws

LANSING (AP)—A public hearing on changes in state rules and regulations affecting sales and use tax statutes has been scheduled for Friday in the state Capitol.

Clarence W. Lock, state revenue commissioner, said these changes affect about 30 of the existing rules. The review of the rules, he said, is aimed at bringing them up to date.

The English pointer was developed from foxhound and greyhound strains as a bird hunter.

Plantation Owner Eyed for Cabinet

CHARLESTON, Mo. (AP) — Albert L. (Abbie) Story, owner of a cotton plantation in Southern Missouri, has been added to the list of persons reportedly under consideration for secretary of agriculture in the Kennedy administration.

"I've been approached on the matter by prominent people both in and out of government," said Story Tuesday. "I've had quite a few calls and I'm still having some.

"If they want to talk to me, I'll be working around the place."

The wealthy 44-year-old farmer said he had not been contacted by President-Elect John F. Kennedy. He declined to say if members of Kennedy's staff had talked to him.

Story is a former president of the American Cotton Producers Association and is a director of the National Cotton Council.

The quest for a substitute for wooden railroad crossties remains unsolved. Some 2,500 patents have been granted in the search for a replacement, but the wooden tie is still predominant.

Grand Rapids Approves Raise for City Employes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—City commissioners have approved 5 per cent pay hikes across the board for municipal employes and larger salary boosts for some supervisory personnel effective Jan. 1.

The commission acted while shelving a recommendation to include salaries of city manager, city treasurer, city clerk and city attorney — all appointive posts — in the city pay schedule. These salaries are fixed each May 1 when appointments are made.

Signs in Pinball Joint Believe in the Truth

BALTIMORE (AP) — Signs just erected in a Howard Street pinball emporium and "recreation room" are honest, anyway:

"Let us spend your idle time.

"You can't take it with you. Let us try.

"Your money spent is our money earned."

Festoon Your Tree With Nuts, Berries

NEW YORK (UPI)—To festoon an old-fashioned Christmas tree, string nuts, cranberries and little apples. Then decorate with additional branches.

Or, for a gay red and white display, like Grandma used to make, string a chain of popcorn, alternating with cranberries.

Connecticut Fire Kills Industrialist and Wife

MIDDLEBURY, Conn. (AP) — A retired industrialist and his wife perished Wednesday in a fire that leveled their $100,000 home.

The victims were Gordon Hurlburt, 62, former president of the Plume & Atwood Co., makers of cosmetics containers; and his wife the former Ethel Chase, a member of the Chase Brass & Copper Co. family. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

'Drop Oil in Bath Water'

Medical Notes Report Findings

By The Associated Press

Some ski facts, defenses against virus diseases, and a question on anemia are among the week's medical notes:

SKI STOP

A skier weighing 150 pounds and traveling at 30 miles an hour develops a momentum of 6,600 foot-pounds per second. If he stops within two feet, the stopping force is 2,250 pounds.

So it's not surprising that about 80 per cent of all skiing injuries involve the ankles, knees, and legs, comments Dr. William B. McCunniff in Missouri Medicine.

DRY SKIN TREATMENT

A daily bath in water containing a little oil reduced annoying dryness of skin in 90 per cent of patients, a physician reports.

Their skin became softer and smoother, and patients reported benefits in such problems as aged skin, burn scars, and skin inflammations. The bath is not a cure, and dryness reappears if the oil is stopped. But Dr. Gustav Weissberg thinks it was more beneficial in relieving skin troubles than ointments, creams and lotions.

VIRUS DISEASE DEFENSES

Researchers have found three types of chemicals which prevent viruses from multiplying without hurting normal cells.

Future studies will show whether these or related substances can be useful in preventing or treating human virus diseases, which include the common cold, 'flu, polio, and smallpox, says Dr. Igor Tamm of the Rockefeller Institute.

The three virus inhibitors are a synthetic chemical nicknamed HBB, a mold product known as helenine, and substances produced by virus action and known as interferons. Each protects cells in test tubes against viral damage and shows some protective activity in experimental virus infections in animals, he adds.

ANEMIA AND VITAMINS

Wrong, very wrong, says Dr. Richard W. Vilter of the University of Cincinnati.

Most Americans get enough vitamins in their daily food, and not more than four per cent of anemia in this country is due to vitamin deficiency, he reports. Some 18 per cent of cases are due to iron deficiency from chronic loss of blood and the rest to causes not connected with the diet.

SLEEP PILL

Anxiety is a common cause of insomnia. Tranquilizers can relieve anxiety.

Reasoning that a combination of a tranquilizer and a barbiturate sleeping pill might make it easier to get to sleep, Dr. Wesley W. Bare of Philadelphia tested such a combination on a group of elderly patients.

The combination permitted using less customary amounts of the barbiturate, he said, and worked better than the sleeping pill alone. And patients reported fewer hangovers the next morning from the sleeping drug.

CAUSE OF STUTTERING?

From the psychoanalytic point of view, stuttering consists of a conflict between the traits of loquaciousness and taciturnity, suggests Dr. Joseph C. Solomon, University of California psychiatrist.

When both the motivation to speak and the motivation to remain silent work together, stuttering results. He compares it to accelerating a car in gear, while keeping the brakes on.

THEUMATIC HEARTS

Damage to the heart from rheumatic heart disease can be prevented if steroids, such as the hormone cortisone, are given very early in the disease.

Heart damage occurred in only two per cent of patients if cortisone or another steroid was given during the first week of rheumatic disease, reports Dr. William Likoff of Hahnemann Medical College.

But about half the patients developed heart damage if cortisone was delayed until the second week, and 90 per cent had heart damage if treatment was not begun until the sixth week, statistics show.

U.S. Signs Treaty With 19 Nations

PARIS (AP)—The United States and 19 Western nations today signed a treaty closely linking their economies within the new Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

It was the first time that the United States had joined an international economic cooperative of such magnitude.

OECD is designed to harmonize the trading policies of the Western world in the face of increasing economic threats from Eastern Communist nations.

Member governments now must ratify the new organization, expected to be operational sometime after Sept. 30, 1961.

Summer Friends Call McNamara Neighborly Man

OLD MISSION (UPI) — Robert S. McNamara, who will be secretary of Defense in the Kennedy administration, was described today as "neighborly, gracious and democratic" by persons who are his neighbors in the summertime.

McNamara, who is giving up his post as president of Ford Motor Co. to take the cabinet appointment, has had a summer home on the shore of the west arm of Grand Traverse Bay the past eight years. Just last summer he carved out a tennis court for the place in a wooded area near the house.

John Daly's Bride-to-Be Arrives in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Virginia Warren, who will marry television personality John Daly a week from today has arrived here to make preparations for the wedding.

The bride-to-be said she and Daly would make their home in New York after the wedding at Glide Memorial Methodist Church here Dec. 22.

To get at milkweed nectar, an insect must become entangled in sticky, heavy masses of pollen. To leave, it must be strong enough to pull free and carry a sizable load of pollen to the stigma of the next flower visited.—

Appoints Van Coevering

LANSING (AP)—State Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock has announced that the appointment of Gerrit N. Van Coevering, formerly director of the intangibles and inheritance tax division, replaces retired department veteran Walter F. Reddy.

Youths to Play Hunt-the-Spy in East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Communist youth groups in East Berlin will hold a big game of "hunt-the-spy" Sunday as part of their semi-military training.

The youths will use portable radio receivers equipped with directional antennae in a hunt for a transmitter sending short wave signals.

The sponsoring organization, the Society for Sport and Technique, is offering 2 geese and 3 ducks as prizes for finding the transmitter.

Sees Landing on Moon

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) —Dr. J. F. Davies, a member of the staff of the Jodrell Bank Radio Observatory, said today he believes man will be able to achieve a controlled landing of instruments on the moon within a year.

Which Means Business Slows Down

Savings Pile Up to Record $307 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Savings are booming if business isn't.

The thrift boom is at least partly responsible for the present slack in many lines of business.

Government statistics show Americans have more than $307 billion—a record—in savings. Recently, the figures indicate, they have been adding to their savings at a faster rate.

These facts were pointed up by two reports from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, a government agency which regulates savings and loan associations.

A third report showed manufacturing firms' sales and profits tumbled during the summer.

The trend toward thrift undoubtedly has contributed to the slump in manufacturing which began early in the summer and is expected to continue for some months.

When consumers save more, they spend less. When they buy less, stores purchase fewer goods from factories.

One of the bank board reports showed that by Sept. 30 Americans had accumulated a record $306,954,000,000 in major forms of savings. Thrift deposits, life insurance, treasury savings bonds.

In addition, millions of families have built up investments in their own homes worth billions of dollars. Many families consider monthly mortgage and life insurance payments their only form of regular savings.

The report showed that in July, August and September the savings total rose by $4.3 billion—an unusually large increase for summer months when people usually are spending heavily on vacations.

According to another bank board report, savings associations received a very heavy inflow of deposits in October. Compared to a year ago, the October net savings total of $637 million showed a jump of 59 per cent. The figures applied only to federally insured associations.

A third report indicated the drop in manufacturing sales and profits, and showed profit margins shrank in September to their lowest level since the worst days of the 1958 recession.

Sales fell by $3.2 billion. Costs fell less. Consequently, profits per sales dollar slipped from 4.6 cents to 4.3, the thinnest profit margin in more than two years.

The savings report gave the following breakdown of people's holdings: $59.5 billion in savings and loan associations, $36 billion in mutual savings banks, $65.5 billion in commercial bank savings accounts, $4.8 billion in credit unions, $42.7 billion in Treasury E and H bonds, nearly $4 billion in postal savings and other treasury savings bonds, $95 billion in life insurance reserves.

Kennedy Appointee List Has 'Egghead' Trend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If his early appointments are any indication, President-Elect John F. Kennedy's administration will be a "brain trust."

Six of the first nine officials appointed by Kennedy can be described as "eggheads."

Adlai E. Stevenson, most frequently described by this term, will be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

He held an honorary degree from Oxford University in England among a long list of honors received from universities and colleges around the world as well as in the United States.

2 RHODES SCHOLARS

The new secretary of state, Dean Rusk, was a Rhodes scholar, as was Theodore Sorenson, who'll be Kennedy's chief counsel in the White House.

Connecticut Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, who will be secretary of health, education and welfare, graduated "cum laude" from the University of Chicago.

There are two members of Phi Beta Kappa, an honorary scholastic fraternity, in Kennedy's official family — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who won the honor at Harvard University, and G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for Africa, who earned his at Princeton University.

Prescriptions for drugs required by its members will be filled at cost by the National Epilepsy League.

Cotton, Rice Farmers Favor Market Quota

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cotton and rice farmers voted overwhelmingly in favor of continuing marketing quotas on their 1961 crops in a nationwide referenda held Tuesday.

The vote favoring continuing quota programs ran well over 75 per cent in all state reporting as farmers once again demonstrated their desire to retain a system of price supports coupled with acreage controls.

Margaret, Antony Get Decorations From Baudouin

Armstrong-Jones was made a grand officer of the Order of Leopold II, not so high-ranking. It was the first foreign award picked up by the ex-professional photographer since he wed into Britain's royal family.

Tobacco Industrialist George Arents Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — George Arents, 85, industrialist and inventor, died Tuesday. He was associated with the American Tobacco Co. from 1896 to 1905; was one of the founders of the American Machine & Foundry Co. and also was a founder of the International Cigar Machinery Co. He and the late Rufus L. Patterson obtained the initial patent for the machine manufacture of cigars.

But No One Gets Excited

Scientist Works as a Ghost

LONDON (UPI) — A scientist donned a white sheet and flitted among the tombstones of a graveyard in an experiment intended to answer the question:

What does an ordinary man do when he sees a ghost?

A. D. Cornell chose St. Peter's Church in Cambridge for his experiment because its cemetery is on a slight mound and is clearly visible from the main road, secondary road and footpaths which border it.

Two research assistants hid nearby prepared to calm anyone who might become hysterical at the sight of the apparition.

But, Cornell reported today, they might just as well have left the smelling salts home. No one got hysterical. In fact hardly anyone paid any attention to him.

He and his aides counted 90 automobiles, 40 cyclists and 12 pedestrians during the time he was cavorting only a few feet from the roads. Only four of the passerbys gave him more than a glance and only one of them, a young man, took the matter further.

He leaned over the cemetery fence and demanded to know what the deuce the alleged ghost thought it was doing.

Cornell then got permission from the manager of a movie house to walk across the stage in front of the screen dressed as a ghost while a film was being shown.

Later the hundreds in the audience were polled on whether they had seen anything unusual.

Nearly half said they had seen nothing at all. The rest said they saw some vague sort of figure. No one took it for a ghost.

Everybody crowded to the windows and there were excited exclamations and giggles but only one guest really thought it was a ghost.

Cornell concluded in the journal of the Society for Psychical Research that people who do not believe in ghosts simply refuse to accept an apparition at its face value.

But another member of the society commented:

"With Algeria, the Congo, Red China and the general world situation the average man may have too much on his plate these days to worry about mere ghosts."

African Shakes Head in Awe at Ice Show

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Some African members of the audience refused to believe it. "You white people are clever with machines," they said. "Those can't be real people."

In the heart of Africa, a full-scale ice show was something which passed all comprehension. Many in the audience never had seen ice before. The performers, gliding around the hall without apparent effort, simply could not be explained in natural terms.

Perhaps it was the mystery which made "Holiday on Ice," sponsored by the U.S. program for cultural exchange, the most sucessful entertainment ever to tour East Africa.

The 50-strong cast with props and tons of ice-making machinery, plays to full houses.

One African saw the show four times, shaking his head and frowning in puzzlement. At last a wave of enlightenment brightened his face. "I see it," he cried. "They can only go around like that when they are wearing steel on their boots. There must be magnets under the floor pulling them along."

"So does the chance to see the country," adds Jean Sakovich, from Shenandoah, Pa., one of the stars. "In Kenya we went on safari through the game country around Mt. Kilimanjaro. Here in Kampala the Kabaka of Buganda is having a demonstration of tribal dancing for us and taking us for a cruise on Lake Victoria."

Says He'll Contend for Johnson's Seat

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Republican John G. Tower, declaring he thinks he "can win without a runoff," Tuesday announced his candidacy for the U. S. Senate.

Tower, 35, former teacher at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, was defeated by Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson for the Senate seat in the Nov. 8 general election. Johnson polled 1,306,625 votes, Tower 926,653.

Tower said at a news conference that he is "the only genuine conservative candidate now in the race." Already announced are three Democratic candidates — former Sen. William A. Blakley of Dallas, State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, and U. S. Rep. James C. Wright Jr. of Fort Worth.

$10-Million Contract Is Reviewed by Union

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI)—Officials of Local 945 of the United Auto Workers Union today were reviewing an offer by the Parsons Corp. to implement a $10-million work contract at the firm's plant here.

The multimillion dollar work order, for the manufacture of rotor blades for a new aircraft, could mean up to 400 new jobs at Parsons for the Traverse City employment market.

John Parsons, president of the corporation, has said, however, that the order will be filled in a plant he has in California if he and the union are unable to come to terms on a labor-management contract for doing the work.

2 Communities Set for Goodfellow Sale

Goodfellow editions of The Pontiac Press will be sold in two area communities, Lake Orion and Highland Township, tomorrow and Saturday to raise funds for food and clothing for less fortunate families at Christmas.

Jim Sheldon, president of the Lions Club and chairman of the paper sale, said proceeds from the annual drive will go toward the purchase of about 50 food baskets for area needy.

A portion of the money will be used to sponsor a Christmas party for area children Dec. 24, he said. The party will be held in Lake Orion Junior High School at 1 p.m. More than 500 youngsters are expected to attend.

Some 35 members of the Lions Club have volunteered to take part in the sale.

Highland Township volunteer firemen will hold their Goodfellow paper sale Saturday. About 20 members of the department will be stationed at all main corners in the township.

According to George Volker, fire department chairman for the campaign, said that a majority of the 800 editions of The Pontiac Press will be sold at two main intersections, Duck Lake Road and M59 and Milford Road and M59.

Last year the Highland group was able to present gifts of food to 26 families as a result of the paper sale.

Following the sale, the men will be treated to a roast beef dinner by their wives at the Highland Township fire hall.

Member Criticizes Confab

State Age Commission Hit

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Commission on aging encountered criticism from one of its own members yesterday on the results of a state conference sponsored by the commission.

"The conference was a good political rally," said Dr. H. B. Zemmer, 311 Clay St., Lapeer, in a statement, "but little constructive was offered except more government interference in private life."

Zemmer, who did not attend the commission meeting, is president emeritus of the Michigan Health Council. His statement was put into the record by John A. Doherty, executive secretary of the council.

Doherty also turned over to the commission a letter outlining Zemmer's feelings regarding future programs and activities of the group. His recommendations were taken under advisement.

In his statement on the state conference, Zemmer said government care of any problem should be a last resort because it is "expensive and usually inadequate."

Citing the mental health field as an example, Zemmer said:

"This has been a government project for at least a hundred years. It is still inadequate with insufficient trained personnel and insufficient housing. If the government really wants to do something in a medical field, let them first clean up the one they have had for a century."

The state conference, held in Lansing last September, recommended liberalized social security benefits and improved medical care for the elderly. Other suggestions ranged from education programs to prepare oldsters for life after 65 to creation of publicly-supported gerontology institutes.

Michigan delegates will carry the proposals to the White House Conference on Aging Jan. 9-12.

One commission member, Dr. Wilma Donahue, a University of Michigan gerontology expert, protested what she termed the "implications" of Zemmer's report. She said the state conference was called to discuss ways to create opportunities and provide services for the aged.

Zemmer suggested that the group's program should be directed at "finding out what can be done to help and encourage these people to help themselves."

He said one way would be to set up work programs to be financed, if necessary, by state or federal funds to assist nonprofit organizations.

He said part of the money earned could go toward the payment of sick and hospital insurance premiums.

WARMUP TIME — These youngsters picked the right spot yesterday to get warmed up after a couple hours of skating and sliding on Rochester's municipal rink in Stone Park. Sitting on the hearth in front of the fire in the Lions' warming shelter (from left) are Mike Smith, 5; Marcia Case, 7; and Bruce Smith, 7. Helping Marcia untie the lace on her skates is Heather Sue Curran, 7. The Rochester Department of Public Works has enlarged the pond about 40 per cent this year and it was crowded with children of all ages yesterday.

Mankin Rhea of 6445 Dixie Highway has lacerations of the face and a possible fracture of the spine.

Rhea told Southfield police that he was on his way home when the car went out of control and landed in a ditch upside down.

Rhea will be moved to Pontiac General Hospital later today.

As a reward for their work, the children will be presented with gifts by Santa Claus and his helpers at the conclusion of the program in the school gymnasium.

Armada Man Wills $1 Apiece to 2 Daughters

Killer Leaves Estate to Lithuanians

Under the terms of Austin's will which was filed yesterday in Macomb County Probate Court, the balance of his estate is to be shared by a niece and nephew in Lithuania.

Although originally bequeathing one-third of his estate to his wife Tessie, 56, Austin cut her out of his will Oct. 7.

Mrs. Austin was beaten to death by her husband last Thursday in their Armada Township home.

Austin went berserk after the killing, smashing up the interior of the farm home with his bare fists and a pick ax.

At the height of his frenzy, he apparently sought out Wendell H. Lichtenfelt, 46, the lawyer who had represented his wife in a divorce action, and shot him four times at close range early Friday evening.

The body of Lichtenfelt, a former chief assistant prosecutor for Macomb County, was found shortly after the shooting in his second-floor office on Main Street.

Romeo State police later broke into the Austin home and found both the farmer and his wife dead. Austin had climaxed the tragedy by shooting himself through the head.

SCHOOLS SECONDARY CHOICE

Austin's will stipulates that his esate should go to the Armada Area School District after two years if the Lithuanian Communist government prevents his relatives from getting the money.

The will also states that the money should be left to the children of his nephew and niece if they are deceased.

However, there were indications that Lichtenfelt's family may file a claim to the estate, which includes Austin's 95-acre farm.

The Macomb County Bar Association appointed a five-man legal committee to be available without fee to Mrs. Lichtenfelt to process any claim she may have against the estate.

Armada residents have established a college fund to help finance the education of Lichtenfelt's children, Barbara, 16; Stephen, 13; Fred, 12; and Mary, 10. Another son, Richard, 17, is in the Air Force.

Carl Plauman, a cashier at the Armada State Bank where the fund is being collected, said some $300 had been donated up to yesterday.

Orion Officials Order Tighter Billboard Ban

ORION TOWNSHIP—The Township Board has ordered stricter enforcement of an ordinance which prohibits unauthorized bill boards along roadways here.

Township Clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephen said many property owners here have been leasing their property to large advertising firms which have been putting up signs and billboards.

Mrs. Stephen said billboards erected in the township may be placed only on the same property as the business which they advertise.

No sign may be over 20 square feet in size. Any exception to the ordinance must be handled through the township's board of appeals.

In other action, the Township Board reappointed David Johnston of 650 S. Lapeer Road and Ray A. Elkins of 1930 Beverly to two-year terms on the five-member electrical board.

The terms of the three other electrical board members do not expire until next December.

The Township Board also decided to readvertise for bids on a new fire truck after rejecting all bids opened recently because of discrepancies in specifications.

Amendment Gives Utica Two Budgets

UTICA—Because of a city charter amendment approved in the Nov. 8 election, Utica will operate under two budgets next year instead of one.

Voters approved a change in dates of the city's fiscal year, which currently runs from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31.

The charter ammendment allows the fiscal year to start on July 1 and end the following June 30.

However, the change is not effective until July 1, 1961, so the city council has approved a six-month budget of $57,532 which will be used to pay expenses from Jan. 1 through June 30.

The other budget approved by the council was set at $136,397. It will pay for expenses from July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962, the city's new fiscal year.

In other action, the council approved pay hikes of 25 cents an hour for radio dispatchers employed by the city. The raise means an increase from $1 to $1.25 per hour for the dispatchers.

Four Choirs Singing Sunday at Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The four choirs of Commerce Methodist church will present their fifth annual festival of song Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The four groups will be under the direction of George Scott.

The program will include "Fanfare For Christmas Day," a solo entitled "A French Carol" sung by Mrs. George Armstrong with accompaniment on the autoharp by Mrs. George Scott, and "Go Tell It on the Mountain" with a solo section by Marvin Horton.

Other soloists are Mrs. Marge Hogan and Linda Shull. The choirs will be combined for the finale, "Glory To God in the Highest."

All the choirs will be accompanied by Mrs. Shirley Ettinger, organist.

Morse PTA to See Yule Carols Film

TROY — A timely film entitled "How We Got Our Christmas Carols" will be shown at the 8 p.m. meeting of the Morse School Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday.

Teachers in the school bought the film out of savings from the sale of flower seeds. They will augment the program by signing some of the carols from the movie.

Refreshments will be served by Miss Williams' fourth grade room mothers.

U.S. Acts to Block Eviction of Negroes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government filed suit Wednesday to block alleged economic reprisals against some 400 Negroes in Fayette County, Tenn., because members of their families registered and voted in the November election.

The suit was filed in Federal District Court in Memphis and announced here by Attorney General William P. Rogers.

The complaint named some 82 defendants, including more than 45 land owners, some two dozen merchants and one bank. It accused them of intimidation, coercion and economic discrimination against Negroes who registered and voted.

The Justice Department said the Negroes involved face eviction Jan. 1 from farms in Fayette County although some of the families have lived on the same land for as long as 25 years.

The government asked for a temporary injunction to halt the evictions and a permanent injunction barring eviction and other economic reprisals.

The suit was the third filed in Tennessee under the 1957 Civil Rights Act. The other two involve eviction notices against some 300 Negroes in Haywood County.

The new complaint was filed by John Doar, first assistant to the chief of the Justice Department's Civil Rights division.

Orders 2 Canadian Firms to Halt Business in State

LANSING (AP) — Lawrence Gubow, state corporation and securities commissioner, today ordered two Canadian securities dealers to stop selling securities in Michigan.

Gubow said neither E.A. Manning, Ltd., nor Goldmack Securities, Corp., Ltd., both of Toronto, is licensed to conduct business in Michigan. Both, he said, are soliciting sales of securities not registered for sale in the state.

Complaints have been received from Detroit and Flint, Gubow said. The securities are for gas and oil and mining stocks, he said.

Ellen Roy Is Murdered

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Ellen Roy, 52, American widow of N. N. Roy, founder of the Radical Humanist Movement, was found slain in her home at Dehra Dun, 150 miles north of New Delhi, it was reported Wednesday. Mrs. Roy was editor of the Radical Humanist Weekly in Calcutta. Her husband at one time worked alongside Stalin and Mao Tze-tung of Red China but later he became anti-Communist.

YET, HE HAS BEEN SEEN — Noted mountain climber Sir Edmund Hilary displays an object which he says natives of Nepal believe is the scalp of an "abominable snowman," the legendary creature reported to inhabit the heights of the Himalaya Mountains. Hilary has just returned with the scalp after persuading the Nepalese to release it. They claim it is 240 years old. At right is Khumjo Chumbi, head of a Nepalese village, sent to guard the scalp, which the tribesmen regard as divine.

126 Dead in 6 Days

French Bottle Up Algerian Rebels

ALGIERS (AP) — Moslems in the turbulent casbah today milled and shouted rebel slogans, but tough French riot forces kept disturbances confined to the ancient Arab quarter.

Early today troops and riot police permitted exit from the casbah, where 80,000 persons live in filth and squalor, but they prohibited entry. About 100 Arabs filtered out through gates made by pulling back barbed wire barriers which ring the quarter.

There were reports of violence inside the casbah during the night, and some shots were heard, but there were no early reports of dead or wounded.

So far the violence which has rocked this capital city during the past six days has claimed 126 lives, most of them Moslem.

There were indications that extremist Moslems were exacting revenge against those sympathetic to French President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-government for this country of nine million Moslems and a million Europeans.

The body of Said Madani, a Moslem politician prominent among those favoring ties with France, was found in a ravine in suburban Maison Carre. Madani's throat had been cut.

French forces were containing the emotion-ridden casbah after a night in which police patrols roamed the narrow, dark alleyways of the Arab city.

Seeking Room to Train Military

NATO May Propose Sending W. German, Other Units to U.S.

PARIS (AP)—The NATO Military Committee Wednesday handed the ministers of the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance the problem of finding room for training the West's armed forces. The NATO council meets Friday.

Informants said the training area problem may be solved by sending West German and other continental soldiers to military camps in the United States to give them room to conduct maneuvers.

Such a solution, the informants suggested, might help halt the drain on American gold and dollar reserves, a major worry for the alliance.

MIGHT KEEP DEPENDENTS

The informants said if Americans were willing to be hosts to foreign troops, U.S. servicemen overseas might be allowed to continue to have their dependents with them.

The order to cut the number of dependents overseas is the most dramatic step taken thus far by the United States to halt the American balance of payments deficit now running at almost $4 billion a year.

Japan to Ease Curb on Red China Trade

TOKYO (AP)—Japan today disclosed plans to ease curbs on trade with Communist China. The move could open the way for the first direct business between Japan and the China mainland in more than 2½ years.

Peiping cut off trade with Japan in anger over an alleged insult to its flag in Nagasaki in May 1958.

Bertrand Russell to Join Sitdown Against Polaris

LONDON (AP)—Bertrand Russell, 88-year-old philosopher, announced that he will join in a sitdown strike against the arrival of U.S. Polaris missiles in Britain.

The sidewalk demonstration is planned in front of the Defense Ministry Feb. 18, about the time a ship is expected to bring the missiles to the Polaris base in Scotland.

Sponsors of the demonstration are the Committee of 100, a group formed to protest the missiles. Russell told a news conference he would be deterred by neither the chilly weather expected nor by the police. When a newsman said he may be arrested, Russell puffed on his pipe and said:

"I'll be there, and I will not pay a fine."

Battle Ebbing in New Orleans

Hecklers Are Quitting; Legislature May Ease Financial Squeeze

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Fiscal matters drew the attention today as activity around the two integrated public schools stood at its lowest ebb since the crisis began a month ago.

Attendance held at eight whites and one Negro at William Frantz School and three Negroes at McDonogh No. 19, but the street hecklers had virtually disappeared.

There were none Wednesday at Frantz and only about a dozen—who watched silently — at McDonogh.

Reports from Baton Rouge that legislators might consider easing the school board's financial squeeze seemed supported by the disclosure that some of the 1,300 employes of the school system had received November pay checks from the state.

School Supt. James F. Redmond said he was "hopeful" this might mean other employes would be paid shortly.

Baton Rouge sources also indicated the state might pay some of the school boards overdue bills.

The Legislature has frozen school board funds and dissuaded New Orleans bankers from honoring the board's checks. The banks must show cause in U. S. Dist. Court Friday why they should not be ordered to honor these checks.

There was no letup, however, in legislative attempts to do away with the Orleans Parish School Board, which has been under steady fire for complying with federal court integration orders.

The Legislature's 30-day special session was due to wind up today. A new 30-day session called by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis starts Saturday.

DURANTE WEDS — Jimmy Durante's bride Margaret Little kisses him on the cheek after their wedding Wednesday at St. Malachy's Church in New York. The 40-year-old bride had been his girl friend for 16 years. This is her first marriage. It was the second marriage for Durante, 67, who has been a widower since 1944.

16 Years of Courting End in Marriage of Durante

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Broadway guy and his gal got spliced Wednesday afternoon, after 16 years of going steady.

James Francis Durante, one of the most lovable clowns who ever lived and beloved by his native New York from Coney Island to Throggs Neck, married former showgirl Margaret Alice Little in St. Malachy's Church in the Broadway theatrical district.

Across the street a sign proclaimed that the play "The Hostage" was running, but that didn't seem to worry Jimmy. He got to the church not only on time, but 35 minutes ahead of time.

Told that about 600 persons had gathered in the downstairs "Catholic actors' chapel," he said said simply:

"I thought there'd be nobody here."

Asked how he felt about getting married, he wobbled his head, flapped his arms, and said: "Hah!"

The new Mrs. Durante is 40. Durante will be 68 next Feb. 10. This was the fourth time in the last 10 years they had announced they would be married. This time it stuck. Asked how come it all happened so suddenly, Durante replied:

"Well, there was a lotta intrigue and a lotta determination on her part — and it just happened, that's all."

Durante was married in the same chapel in 1921 to Maud Jeane Olson. She died in 1943. Although Durante never has admitted it, it has been widely presumed — and published as fact — that she was the Mrs. Calabash of the famous sign-off he used on his television programs: "Goodnight, Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are."

The bride, wearing a beige gown, carried a white flower bouquet. In the audience were two of Durante's old buddies, Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight boxing champion and orchestra leader Vincent Lopez. Dempsey was the first to kiss the bride after the ceremony.

Just before stepping from the anteroom to the altar, Durante was slapping his hands together and urging nobody in particular: "Come on, come on." Although he is a nondrinker, he confided:

"I'm a nervous wretch (sic). I took a couple of sherries. I sure needed 'em."

Ike Concludes Physical Today

Leaves Hospital After Second Segment of Annual Checkup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower was scheduled to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital today following completion of part two of his annual physical checkup just 36 days before he retires from the White House.

The 70-year-old Eisenhower, oldest U.S. Chief Executive, was expected to leave the hospital sometime in the afternoon.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who emphasized that Eisenhower was not ailing and had no symptoms of illness, said any statement on the examination would be issued at his White House office.

Eisenhower entered Walter Reed Tuesday night to complete the final head-to-toe checkup he will undergo as President. He leaves office Jan. 20.

1ST HALF IN SEPTEMBER

He was pronounced in "continued excellent" health following the first half of the tests, Sept. 15-16.

Hagerty said the three-month delay in completing the tests occurred because Eisenhower had been "fairly busy" since mid-September.

Hagerty said the President "feels fine and just wants to get the yearly examination concluded."

Presidential physicians conducted cardiovascular and respiratory tests in September. Army Surgeon General Lt. Gen. Leonard B. Heaton said then that the results were "well within normal limits."

During the current hospital stay Eisenhower underwent gastrointestinal and other tests.

To Report Africans' View on Algeria

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (UPI) — Edward Kennedy, younger brother of President-Elect John F. Kennedy, said Wednesday he would report on African leaders' views on the Algerian crisis when he returns home.

Kennedy said he has discussed Algeria with officials of four former French colonies, the Ivory Coast, Dahomey, Upper Volta and Niger.

"I will give my brother an account of their opinions and my observations, in order that there may be full comprehension of this problem," he said.

Gregory Ratoff's Body Is Cremated Today

SOLOTHURN, Switzerland (UPI) — The body of Hollywood actor-director Gregory Ratoff will be cremated here today in a simple ceremony.

The 63-year-old Russian-born Hollywood veteran died at a Solothurn clinic Wednesday of leukemia — the same disease that caused the death of his partner Kay Kendall in last year's film "Once More With Feeling."

COMES OUT ALIVE — Harry Miller, 44-year-old farmer, is hauled from a 25-foot-deep cistern early Wednesday after being almost hopelessly trapped for 20 hours in freezing weather at Holly Springs, Miss. Crumbling sand frustrated previous rescue efforts and Miller, who had remained conscious and alert through the entire ordeal, had apparently given up hope only one hour earlier along with members of the rescue party. Members of Miller's family remained at the hole throughout the entire rescue operation.

Wife's Salary Too High

Ethiopian Marriages Keep on Dollars, Cents Basis

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) —An Ethiopian woman brought suit against her former husband, saying he was in arrears in her salary.

The woman explained she had signed a contract to live a year with the man, at a salary of $10 a month. The man fell behind in the salary payments, and now the year had elapsed and the woman made her formal claim in court. She won the case.

This is a common occurrence in Ethiopia today. A man can put a woman on the payroll as his wife by entering into what is called a "Damoz" marriage.

Under this system, a couple may legally marry for a length of time specified in the contract they draw up. The minimum is one month and the maximum determined by negotiation.

During the term of the contract, the man must pay the woman a salary. At the end of the contract's term, the marriage automatically is dissolved without any divorce proceedings.

The woman has no further claims against the man, unless he happened to be in arrears in the salary. Children born to such a union are legitimate.

The Damoz system is only one of several kinds of marriages in this country, where polygamy is forbidden but sexual promiscuity common.

Often infants less than a year old are married through negotiations between the parents of the babies. The fathers and mothers sign a contract which legally binds the infants in marriage.

It may be many years before these married children realize they are husband and wife. It is up to the bride's parents to determine when she is mature enough to consummate the marriage. From the time the marriage is contracted till it is consummated, the bridegroom must not see the face of his bride.

Such marriages can be dissolved by divorce at the request of either party. Ethiopia is unique in the Middle East in giving women equal rights with men as regards divorce.

Religious marriages are much more binding. Divorce is almost impossible if a couple have taken joint communion and had their union blessed by the church.

For this reason, religious marriages are rare in Ethiopia. Sometimes an old man and woman, so old they no longer would contemplate divorce anyway, will have their marriage blessed by the church.

Upper class Ethiopians, particularly the family of the emperor, always have religious marriages.

Yoke's on the Yeggs as Plot Fails to Hatch

The yeggs failed to open the safe and settled for other available loot—a $25 check and a box of cookies.

Divorce Sought by Actor Halsey, Wed 10 Months

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor Brett Halsey filed suit Wednesday for divorce from his wife of 10 months, Italian actress Luciana Paoluzzi.

Miss Paoluzzi said she is expecting to give birth early next year to Halsey's child.

All Russia in Reach B52G Bomber Proves

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command (SAC) B52G bomber Wednesday completed a 10,000-mile nonstop flight which broke two existing world records and proved the weapon could "strike any target in Russia if necessary and return home."

The eight-jet bomber which weighed 240 tons on takeoff made the flight in 19¾ hours without refueling. It left Edward Air Force Base, Calif., Tuesday at 7:07 a.m. PST (10:07 a.m. EST).

Pilot Lt. Col. Thomas R. Grissom, 36, Cory, Ind., said the giant plane did not carry weight simulating that of nuclear warheads or air-to-ground hounddog missiles. But he said that additional weight would not have appreciably shortened the flight.

"We proved with this flight," he said, "that this weapon system (the B52G) can take off from any place in the United States to attack a target in Russia and safely return."

Grissom and his seven-man crew flew to Los Angeles from Edwards for a press conference at which they received congratulations from Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas White and SAC boss Thomas D. Power.

FLIGHT ROUTE OUTLINED — Map outlines air route of the Air Force B52G jet bomber which landed Wednesday at its Edwards Air Force Base starting point in California after a 10,000-mile nonstop flight without refueling. The eight-jet Boeing bomber and its seven-man crew was aloft 19 hours, 45 minutes on the historic flight which the Air Force says broke two world long-distance flight records. The plane flew a closed circuit course to El Paso; Andrews AFB in Maryland; Harmon Air Base, Newfoundland; Eielson AFB, Alaska; Phillip, S. D.; and back to Edwards AFB.

It occurred at 12:40 a.m. and had a magnitude of four on the Richter scale.

$25-Million Bond Issue for Detroit Xways OK'd

LANSING (AP)—The State Administrative Board has approved the sale of a $25-million Detroit expressway bond issue to Smith, Barney & Co. of Chicago at an interest rate of 3.6926 per cent.

The only other bid received at the special board meeting Wednesday was from Blyth & Co. of New York, at 3.7258 per cent.

Money raised from the bond sale will finance construction of the Southfield, Chrysler and Fisher freeways and extension of the Lodge Freeway in Detroit.

Part of the money also will be used for preliminary planning of the Detroit-Muskegon Expressway.

Alternator Makes Good Substitute

Batteryless Car Unique but Not Practical

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — On the coldest morning in two years (3 above zero) a car pulled up in front of a suburban Detroit home early this week.

The motor was left running while a passenger got in. The heater was running. The radio was off. The driver threaded his way through rush hour traffic into midtown Detroit, then back to an auto plant.

Throughout the 20-mile trip everything seemed normal. When the passenger alighted, the driver lifted the hood with a "look ma, no hands" grin on his face and said: "Thought you might like to know we didn't have a battery."

There was the battery mounting, naked as a baby. But as far as the operation of the car was concerned it hadn't a nickel's worth of difference.

The ride was one of several variations of a publicity gimmick originally devised by a statistician who casually remarked to a publicity man one day: "You know, that car will run without a battery."

Nobody is planning to build a car that doesn't need a battery. Every conventional car needs one and even the demonstration car would have been in serious trouble had the engine died for any reason. A battery is a must for starting.

What the gimminck was designed to illustrate is that some cars these days have a generating device which produces enough power, even at slow idling speeds, to keep the engine running and to operate various other power-using accessories.

The device is an alternator. It replaces the generator. Most police cars, many taxicabs and all cars built by Chrysler Corp. this model year are so equipped. This particular demonstration was put on by Chrysler's Plymouth Division.

The alternator, which has been around for a long time but which only recently became inexpensive enough to be used on conventional passenger cars, and the generator both generate electricity. The method is different.

CONVERSION PROBLEM

The generator by its very design gives you direct current—the type needed for your car. The alternator produces alternating current which must be converted. Conversion has been a problem—units have been too bulky or too expensive or both.

Chrysler uses silicon, a nonmetallic element which is classed as a semiconductor. This means electricity can get through it in one direction (direct current), but can't get back. Thus alternating current passed through silicon becomes direct current.

A generator must turn quite fast to produce more current than it uses from the storage battery. Thus the generator on your car doesn't contribute electricity until you get the car moving faster than 20 miles an hour.

An alternator provides electricity while the engine is turning much more slowly, so much more so that at idling speeds battery-charging current is being produced.

You need the most electrical power when you start your car. The starter puts a real drain on any battery. But Jack Charipar, chief engineer for Plymouth, demonstrated that once an alternator-equipped car is running you can remove the battery entirely and still operate the headlights, heater, radio, dome and dash lights and the windshield wipers.

In his particular experiment Charipar finally struck out when he tried to add turn signals to the electrical load.

Chrysler claims the alternator is particularly valuable for city driving during the cold northern winters. Much of this driving is at low speeds, 20 miles an hour or less in stop-and-start, rush hour jams; with headlights on; often with radio and windshield wipers running.

"All of these are causing a drain on the battery," Charipar says, "a severe drain, because the generator is not charging. The more often you treat a battery that way the sooner it will quit on you."

State Senate Group Probes

Charges Against Blue Cross Appear to Have Validity

LANSING (AP)—There appears to be some validity to complaints against the Michigan Hospital Service, says the chairman of a Senate committee investigating operations of the Blue Shield-Blue Cross prepaid medical insurance programs.

Sen. Clarence F. Graebner, R-Saginaw, made this comment after his Senate committee held the first in a series of hearings Wednesday. Graebner is committee chairman.

"Perhaps there should be some corrective legislation on standards of hospital participation and nonparticipation in the service and on just how they accept and refuse to admit some doctors to practice under the plan," Graebner said.

Dr. Albert G. Kalin of the State Board of Registration in Chiropody complained that members of his profession are not able to enter a patient in a hospital under the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan unless a doctor of medicine approves.

"They shouldn't have the authority to dictate to us," he said.

"We feel that a hospital patient should be under the jurisdiction of a medical physician," said Bennett J. McCarthy, director of hospital affairs for the Blue Cross.

McCarthy said there was no pressure from doctors of medicine, as contended by Dr. Kalin, to prompt this ruling.

Lewis Barlow, operator of the Barlow General Hospital in Detroit, complained that his hospital was not eligible for the Blue Cross-Blue Shield service.

He said it is a 28-bed private hospital while the service requires at least 50 beds and nonprivate ownership.

Graebner read a letter from a Mrs. Shirley Loury of Tecumseh, who complained against high rates for the service. The writer said the service had raised rates six times in the past seven years, charged her $220 a year for protection and that there was a long delay in payment of the bill last time she was hospitalized.

"Something should be done about this to help the oldsters who have no other form of hospital protection," she wrote.

Representatives of the hospital service promised to investigate the case.

Sen. Garland B. Lane, D-Flint, asked why it was that the Hurley Hospital in Flint had to ask for a $265,000 subsidy from the city although more than half the patients are covered by Blue Cross - Blue Shield.

"One reason might be because they have a tremendous out-patient load," McCarthy suggested.

2 Networks Back Short Campaign for President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two big broadcasting networks today joined in a proposal that presidential campaigns be shortened to about six weeks.

The heads of the National Broadcasting Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System also urged that equal time restrictions on broadcasts of candidates be lifted permanently.

Both statements were made at a hearing of a special house committee investigating campaign expenditures. Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of NBS, testified in person. A letter from CBS President Frank Stanton, expressing his views, was read to the committee.

Michigan will have more than five times as much freeway open to traffic by the end of 1960 as it 3½ years ago—from 101 miles on July 1, 1957, to 537 miles by the end of the year.

Burglars Spend Busy Day

Six burglaries were reported yesterday to Pontiac police and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Burglars entered the offices of J & H Auto Sales, 250 Oakland Ave., by breaking a window, removed the key to a 1934 car from a key board, then drove off with the car which had been parked on the lot outside.

William Jones, 175 Lake St., reported burglars walked off with a small safe containing $100, and a ring and watch of undetermined value.

An Oakland County Sheriff's deputy, Calvin Steele, 264 S. Anderson St., reported to Pontiac police that when he returned to his apartment from work he found the room had been ransacked and $300 stolen.

A television set was reported stolen in a break-in at 3991 Drahner Road, according to sheriff's deputies. The home is owned by A. T. Markwood, of Boynton Beach, Fla.

Nancy Maloney, 2919 Simpson Drive, reported to Pontiac police yesterday that a TV set was stolen from the home.

Plan New Airing of Congo Crisis

Fear Russia May Try to Prolong Debate on Country Till Christmas

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly cleared its decks today for another airing of the Congo crisis amid signs the Russians may try to keep debate going until Christmas.

Weary delegates, striving to wind up the first half of the session before the recess set for Tuesday, faced a weekend of day and night sessions.

The assembly set Friday for the start of the Congo debate in a move that came as a surprise to some delegates. When India and Yugoslavia asked for an urgent assembly meeting on the Congo, it was believed that the issue would be held up until the Political Committee wound up debate on Algeria.

Informed Western sources said the Russians, smarting over Security Council rejection of their demand for release of Patrice Lumumba, jailed deposed Congo premier, were determined to launch a nonstop debate on the explosive issue.

One informant said the Soviet delegates would try to keep the Assembly debate going right up until Christmas Eve and then demand that it be tossed back into the lap of the Security Council.

The Steering Committee has set Dec. 20 as closing date, but the Russians were expected to try to overturn the recommendation when it reaches the assembly floor late today.

The assembly also must break deadlocks over disputed seats on the Security and Economic-Social Councils before the recess, or neither council will be able to operate next year.

The assembly failed after seven ballots last Friday to decide the contest between Portugal and Liberia for a Security Council seat. At the end of the voting Liberia led Portugal 55-38, which was seven votes short of the required two-thirds majority.

The contest for the disputed Economic-Social Council seat went to 10 ballots without a decision. At the end India led with 47 votes, followed by Belgium with 36.

Driver Reports Being Robbed Second Time

For the second time within two months, a truck driver for a Pontiac vending company reported his collections taken when he went inside a bar, Pontiac police said today.

Russell D. Morey, 3642 Baybrook St., told officers yesterday that thieves took approximately $300 from his truck while he was making a stop at Salfis Bar, 484 N. Perry St.

Morey had reported the theft of $887 from his truck at Richard's Tavern, 557 N. Perry St., Oct. 26.

The 32-year-old driver works for Oakland Vending, 456 E. Kennett Road.

Tickets Go Like Hotcakes

Saturday Matinee Tops on Broadway

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Dramatic Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The hottest theater ticket on Broadway suddenly is the Saturday matinee. Any matinee. Any Saturday.

Solid, increasing demand for afternoon tickets is being widely noted this show season among new hits, long-runs and even so-so productions.

"Friday and Saturday nights used to be the big box office scramble," observed one veteran easier, "but now we can still supply those long after the matinees are gone."

One top triumph, "The Sound of Music" is already cleaned out on the favored ducats through next July.

The reason isn't hard to find. The best seats at weekend evening performances of musicals generally around $9; the same chairs in the afternoon are about $5.50. A similar ratio prevails on straight dramas and comedies; evenings about $7.50, matinee, $4.80.

Performers note that a lot more men are on hand at Saturday matinees. The midweek matinee is a different story — audiences continue mostly women, and the clamor for seats goes up and down in line with the general popularity of any production.

A couple of other economic straws in the wind are being noted along the Rialto. Departing from seasonal pattern, the weekly gross at playhouses has been swirling erratically for several weeks.

The take at three musicals, including two new ones, plummeted last week about $8,000 each, and the gross at three others, including two older shows, jumped by almost identical amounts.

Another late symptom is increased popularity at some productions of cheaper seats over down-front pews, a reversal of a growing trend in recent seasons. This has been noted particularly at shows such as "Bye, Bye Birdie" that have considerable appeal for younger, less well-heeled spectators.

Altogether, the box office barometer is showing signs that the public is in a bargain-hunting mood, is selecting more shrewdly and that the theater may be starting to recruit a new generation of fans.

Folks who still have holiday ticket-shopping to do are going to have long waits to see the biggest hits. These include "Becket," "An Evening with Mike Nichols and Elaine May," "Camelot," "The Sound of Music" and "Irma la Douce."

Not very far behind, though tickets to some performances can be had, are another quintet—"Bye, Bye Birdie," "Fiorello!," "Gypsy," "Tenderloin" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Detroit's Idle Toll Again Tops 100,000

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's unemployment went back above the 100,000 mark as of Nov. 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said in its preliminary monthly report.

The report placed Detroit's jobless total at 101,000, a gain of 6,000 since Oct. 15.

For Michigan as a whole unemployment increased by 28,000 to a total of 193,000 as of Nov. 15, the report said.

Detroit's unemployment was placed at 7.3 per cent of the area's labor force. The Detroit figures include the metropolitan area. For the state the percentage was 6.7.

Coal was first mined in the "Black Country" of the English Midlands near Birmingham in the 13th century.

State School Pupils Top 1.6 Million Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Department of Education reports that Michigan 1960 elementary enrollment totals 1,028,537, compared with the 636,203 enrollment in the state's secondary schools.

This year, the average teacher's salary is $5,925, an increase of $225 over the 1959 figure of $5,700.

An increase of almost $20 is reported in the expenditures for each student in average daily attendance. The 1959 figure was $405.10, compared to $424.40 for this year.

Tensions Do Relax for Yule, However

Bethlehem in Midst of Nightmare

By RAJA ELISSA
United Press International

BETHLEHEM, Jordan—

O little town of Bethlehem!
How still we see thee lie . . .

Bethlehem today is a city of 10,000 persons, with another 15,000 refugees barely subsisting in camps on its outskirts.

Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by . . .

Bethlehem's sleep is not dreamless. It shares the nightmare problems of the modern world.

There are those 15,000 refugees; the tense border between Arabs and Jews 11 miles away; the religious schism which spreads the observance of Christmas here over three weeks.

Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The Everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight.

This, at least, is still true. For here, at the spot where Christ was born, the Christians of the world celebrate the birth of the hopes of all the years.

Here, because of the manger of Bethlehem, the explosive tensions of the Middle East are at least partly relaxed—for this one occasion.

Here, Arab and Jew cooperate to help Christians celebrate the greatest event of their religion.

And Christmas in Bethlehem is a great event. It begins Dec. 24, ends Jan. 19, and in between sees the most brilliant ritual of all the Christian faiths of East and West.

EACH IN OWN DAY

Each faith observes Christmas on its own day—a division arising from the choice between the Gregorian and the Julian calendars. But all use the same church, the great Basilica of the Nativity, to celebrate the holiday.

Christmas starts here at noon on Christmas Eve. Then the Roman Catholic patriarch leaves Jerusalem for a police-escorted drive to Bethlehem. The Patriarch is met in the square of the manger by a religious procession, which grows in size as it moves toward the basilica.

At midnight on Christmas Eve, the patriarch celebrates a high pontifical Mass in the Catholic Church of St. Catherine, within the Basilica of the Nativity.

This is the service attended by the consular corps in Jerusalem and by masses of pilgrims who are allowed to come to Bethlehem at Christmastime only.

There are some of the approximately 1,500 Christian Arabs living in Israel for whom the usual regulations are lifted so they can enter Jordan through the Mandelbaum Gate for 48 hours and then return home.

Meanwhile, on Christmas Eve, Protestants hold an evening carol service (with carols in English and Arabic) on the Field of the Shepherds, where "shepherds watched their flocks by night" when the Star of Bethlehem appeared in the east.

IMAGE CARRIED

The Roman Catholic Mass is climaxed at 1:30 a.m. by a procession during which an image of the infant Christ is carried out of St. Catherine's Church to the Grotto of the Nativity, also inside the basilica, which supposedly marks the precise spot where Christ was born. The image is placed in the manager in the grotto, and the Star of the East placed overhead.

Christmas has been celebrated in much the same way here since the reign of Byzantine Emperor Constantine, who ruled from 323 to 336 A.D. Constantine, built the first basilica, a tiny part of which still stand.

Greek Orthodox Christians celebrate Christmas in the same basilica on Jan. 7, and Armenian Christians on Jan. 19.

This year, about 10,000 pilgrims will come to Jordan from all over the world—by plane by way of Cairo or Beirut, by road from Damascus, through the Mandelbaum gate from Israel.

To Top 6 Billion Pieces

Yule Mail Rush Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Post Office Department is up to its red-white-and-blue garters in the biggest Christmas mail rush in history.

It expects to handle between 6 and 7 billion Christmas cards, letters and packages during the month of December.

Postal officials also expect an increase in overseas mailings. During the last two months of 1959, Americans sent about 1.5 billion pounds of letters and more than 25.5 million pounds of parcel post abroad by ship.

An additional 1.25 million pounds of Christmas cards and letters were airlifted overseas along with some 350,000 pounds of parcel post in the final month of 1959.

Handling the Yuletide deluge will require about 250,000 additional postal employes scattered across the nation.

To facilitate Christmas mailing, the department has installed stamp vending machines in many post office lobbies.

Here in the nation's capital, the post office is experimenting with a dollar bill changing machine along with its stamp dispensers. The machine "reads" one and five dollar bills, checks for counterfeit or foreign currency, and returns change.

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow, so the saying goes, keeps the mailman from his appointed rounds and this means modern-day mail carriers will be using everything from airplanes to a dog sled to deliver the Christmas mail.

Uncle Sam has about 10,000 star routes, area's where the mail is delivered by contract carriers. Among them is Chester Noonwook, described by one postal official as "the last of the great dog-sled mailmen."

Noonwook and his team of huskies deliver the mail on remote St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea of Alaska.

More than 100 of these contract mailmen use horses and another 75 use small boats, mostly in the Great Lakes and around Chesapeake Bay.

Around Cody, Wyo., a snow weasel, a small machine with treads instead of wheels, carries the mail to isolated regions during the winter, and the Christmas snows between Nevada City and Graniteville, Calif., frequently force the star carrier to clamp on his skis to deliver the mail.

But with all the modes and methods of mail delivery, the post office still needs the cooperation of the American people. How? "Mail early," says the department.

Sees Test Instruments Landing on Moon in '61

JODRELL BANK, England (AP) —A leading British astronomer predicted today test instruments will be landed on the moon in 1961.

Dr. John G. Davies, assistant director of research at the Jordell Bank Radio Astronomy Station, based his statement on instrument work done by Soviet and American scientists. He recently attended an astronomical conference in Leningrad where he said the problem attracted much attention.

Address Gifts for Readability

Your Yule Packages May End Up in Dead Parcel Bin

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI)— Thousands of Christmas packages are among the 480,000 items that wind up in the Post Office Department's dead parcel bins each year — but they could have reached their destination if the sender had been careful.

Here are seven rules from Wesley E. Scott, handwriting consultant for the Shaeffer Pen Co., which will assure that your gifts reach their destination:

—Address legibly and carefully. Don't be a hasty scrawler or "Fancy Dan" writer whose script is beautiful, but unreadable.

—Be particularly careful in writing numbers and initials. A hastily written 1 can look like a 7; a sloppy Me, can be mistaken for Mo.

—Double check all doubtful addresses before mailing; use postal zone numbers in mailings to all larger cities.

—Put a return address on the upper lefthand corner of every package.

—Address with a permanent writing fluid that won't be obliterated by rain, snow or moisture.

—Send important packages by first class and registered mail, or parcel post and insured. Tie parcel post packages securely; don't seal with tape or other adhesives.

—Mail early. Your packages can't arrive too soon if you mark them "Do not open until Christmas."

Diogenes Would Have Liked This Fellow

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI)— A 76-year-old retired railroad man recently settled a 37-year-old repair bill of 14 cents by sending a $2 money order to cover the money he owed plus compound interest and a $1 bill "to cover unnecessary expense."

"I had no intention of defrauding your company," wrote R. M. Frantz of Big Rapids, Mich., to the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co., enclosing a repair invoice dated July 24, 1922, "but did that which was about as bad — I failed to settle an old bill."

The firm returned the $3 to Frantz and sent him a new pen to replace the one repaired more than 37 years ago.

This Wise Youngster Really Obeys Her Folks

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Anthony J. Celebrezze says he and his wife have always insisted that their eight-year-old daughter Susie never mention that her father is the mayor of Cleveland but that she stand firmly "on her own feet."

So when a new neighbor said to breezze, the mayor's daughter," the child, "Oh, you're Susie Celebrezze," Susie replied: "My Mommie says I'm not."

HOLED UP — Carl Heller, 46, of Philadelphia fought snowdrifts, traffic tie-ups and arctic cold to get to work Tuesday. It was a rough fight, but he finally reached his destination and parked his car — right over a broken water main. Soon afterwards the pavement gave way and Carl's car tumbled into the chasm below. As passers-by watched, the hole filled with water. More than 50 families in the area were ordered to leave their homes when a gas explosion threatened.

Securities Embezzler Gets 2 Years in Jail

BOSTON (AP) — Anton Homsey, 53, stock broker ousted from membership on the New York Stock Exchange after he was accused of pledging $700,000 in customers' securities for his own personal loans, was sentenced in Federal Court Wednesday to two years in jail and ordered to pay a $5,000 fine.

His lawyer protested Judge George C. Sweeney's imposition on the fine, saying Homsey is penniless and in receivership, but the judge said the fine will stand.

He said Homsey will have 60 days in which to seek mitigation.

Homsey, a former resident of Wellesley but now living in Boston was a member of the Boston financial district brokerage house of Du Pont, Homsey & Co.

In an unprecedented move, Nov. 3, the New York Stock Exchange undertook to put up funds for relief of customers who had dealt with the Du Pont, Homsey firm in good faith.

At the same time, the exchange's board of governors approved a new plan to require member organizations to carry insurance protecting customers against possible loss through dishonest acts of personnel.

Forgets One Ticket, Hands Out Another

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Emerging from a restaurant, Cecil Bruton saw a metermaid putting a $1 parking ticket on the windshield of his automobile.

Bruton rushed protesting across the street.

"I had to go in there to get change for the parking meter," he said.

The metermaid agreed to forget the parking ticket — and she handed Bruton a citation for jaywalking. Cost: $3.

British Cars Come All Set for Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—British automobile manufacturers apparently believe that all American motorists are mechanics, too.

A New York firm that sells British cars, reports that they come equipped with 14 different tools, including pliers, open-end wrenches, screw driver, spark plug wrench and setting gauge, jack, lug wrench, hub-cap remover and so on.

Most cars produced in the U.S. come with a jack and lug wrench and that's all.

A MODEL MISSILE TRAIN — These models of a train designed to shuttle the Minuteman missile across the northern half of the nation were shown U.S. rail executives in Seattle, Wash., Tuesday. When the trains are moving, as at left, the huge missiles will lie horizontally inside the cars. When the 6,000-mile-plus missiles are to fire, the train will stop and missiles will rise to a vertical firing position as at right. The first two missiles are shedding their protective covering. More than 100 such trains are planned.

Rail Executives Take a Look

Missiles Plan Train Trips

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A long blue train may pull onto a siding in your town some night, and suddenly your neighborhood becomes a prime target area — until the train pulls out.

In the 10-car train are four or five windowless cars. Each car carries a glistening white missile ready to rocket a nuclear warhead 6,000 miles.

The missile, 58 feet long and 6 feet in diameter at its base, is the Minuteman.

Solid-fueled and storable indefinitely, it can be jostled around on the nation's railroads for months or even years—then launched on a minute's notice.

Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, head of the Air Research and Development Command, conceded at a news conference that spies might with great effort learn where Minuteman trains of the future were parked each night.

"But by the time they can get their information to Moscow," he said, "the trains will have gone on to other points on the nation's thousands of miles of railroads."

William Keller, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, says Minuteman trains —expected to be rolling within 18 months—will have no effect on civilian passenger travel. They will be fitted into existing schedules and at least part of the time will be parked on sidings.

Five of the 10 cars provide living and working quarters for the missilemen, including a control section where two launch officers sit at duplicate panels. The missile cannot be launched unless both men turn their keys. Neither can be forced to act against his will—they are separated by bullet-proof glass.

In 50 seconds the missile rises upright, ready to take off on its 15,000-mile-an-hour flight.

Eventually 150 Minuteman missiles will be on constant alert in trains. Another 450 will be stored in deep silos now being built in the Northwest, and these, too, will be launchable on less than a minute's notice.

SEVENTY-TWO YEARS TOGETHER — Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Alexander are celebrating their 72nd wedding anniversary today. The Alexanders, who live with a son in Fountain City, Ind., have 4 children, 16 grandchildren and 36 great-grandchildren. While Mrs. Alexander, who is 94 has been confined to bed for the last two years, her 91-year-old husband remains active.

See No Major Market Decline

Analysts Take a Look at the Future—and Give Purchase Suggestions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Goodbody & Co. attempts to answer the question of how much the market can advance when the Dow-Jones industrial average is already capitalizing earnings by 18 times.

One factor to consider when viewing price-earnings ratios and low yields is the enormous growth in investment companies, pension funds and other institutions which purchase common stocks, the firm says.

The net purchases of these investors have been reducing the available supply of stock in the market. This does not prevent sharp reactions nor will it prevent major declines, but it does tend to increase price-earnings ratios and reduce yields.

Some speculative stocks which appear to have short term upside trading possibilities, according to Eldon Grimm of Walston & Co., include Bell & Howell, International Tel & Tel, Raytheon, RCA, Northrop, North American Aviation, Outboard Marine, Reynolds Metals, Magnavox, Collins Radio, General Instrument and Pfizer.

Bache & Co. reports that general outdoor advertising looks like a good long-term growth situation. The company has increased earnings in seven of the past eight years and appears to be doing it again in 1960. A full-year net of $2.50 a share is expected, Bache says, up from $2.44.

Stock Trend Service says it is satisfied that the die has been cast for a further extension of the rise from the September and October lows carrying into mid-January. It says that price action warrants the purchase of U.S. Vitamin.

Shields & Co. lists four speculations for a turn-of-the-year rally: American Motors, Ampex, Philco and Schering. "We see these stocks as very-short-term vehicles when you may want to hold for only three or four weeks," Shields says.

Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis suggests that investors avoid Studebaker-Packard even at current levels and advises present holders to sell.

TAKES FATAL PILL — Leonard Norman Hensley Jr., 20, is shown in court Wednesday in San Antonio shortly before he stood up and said, "Judge, I want to take my 5 o'clock pill." Minutes later he died of poisoning. He was being tried to determine if he was sane enough to face rape charges.

Lansing Hotel Strike Expected to Drag On

LANSING (UPI) — A mediator said today there apparently will be no quick end to the strike which has closed Lansing's Hotel Roosevelt.

Roy Q. Snyder, of the State Labor Mediation Board, said there has been "a lot of talk but no agreement." He said management-labor talks have been recessed until some time next week.

The 250-room hotel was closed Saturday to all but 35 permanent guests.

Officials of the Hotel, Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union, AFL-CIO, termed the strike a spontaneous walkout.

Management said it was an unauthorized wildcat strike. Main issue, according to the union, is wages.

The downtown hotel is the headquarters for Gus Scholle, state AFL-CIO president, and Democratic members of the legislature when they are in Lansing.

Nominates Own Slate

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — It was either rugged individualism or voter apathy, but one baloter in Stephenville scratched all candidates for president, vice president and U.S. senator and wrote in: NBC news commentators Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, and Stephenville newspaper publisher Rufus Higgs.

Succumbs at 98 Not Knowing True Identity

DETROIT (UPI) — For the entire 98 years of her life Mrs. Mary Hilling never knew her real identity. Nor does anyone else know.

In 1862, a train was wrecked at Detroit. In one fire-scorched car a baby girl about six months old was found in the arms of her dead mother.

The mother never was identified. The baby grew up with the name Mary White as an adopted child.

When she was 20, she married. Her husband William Hilling, a railroad engineer, died almost 50 years ago.

A granddaughter, Mrs. James Bradley, said Mrs. Hilling was reluctant to discuss her origin though she never seemed greatly concerned.

Mrs. Hilling suffered a broken hip in a fall last June. She died Monday in a nursing home.

Castro Takes Another Tack

Charges Enemies Use Special U.S.-Supplied Explosives

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro, in one of his angriest speeches, charged today that enemies of his revolution were being equipped by the United States with a powerful new "special explosive."

Castro made the charge in a 2½-hour address at a midnight meeting of the Electrical Workers Union that was summoned to oust what he called traitorous leadership.

Amaury Fraginals, booted out as boss of the union in absentia, has been accused of blacking out Havana for four days with a well-placed bomb.

The whereabouts of Fraginals is not known. Diplomatic sources said he was not among 11 known members of the union who took asylum in various embassies Wednesday.

Fraginals was one of the leaders of a march of his union to the Presidential Palace last week to protest what they claimed was an attempt by the Communist-tinged Cuban Confederation of Workers to dictate a union election.

Some members of the union claimed Wednesday night they were not allowed to enter the meeting, which paved the way for a Red-line directorate to take over. They claimed the hall was packed with pro-Castro and Communist followers.

Putting in a personal appearance at the meeting, Castro scathingly denounced the union leaders as counterrevolutionaries. His unexpected appearance underlined the gravity with which the regime viewed the first real open defiance from the labor front.

His face contorted with rage, he appeared to grope for the vilest words he could recall.

Size 42 Would Be More Comfortable

Slivers Fed Among the 'Old'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a middle-aged man gets tired of hearing:

"Now, Jim, take it easy. Remember, none of us is getting any younger."

"Daddy, did you ever play with Abraham Lincoln when you were a boy?"

BOYLE

"Well, if you feel up to it now, let's go back on the court and start the third set."

"I know it looks appetizing, but I warn you it's got 650 calories."

"After looking up your date of birth, we thought you might be particularly interested in the policy providing security in your old age."

Here, hand me that snow shovel. After all, you're the only husband I have—and I don't want to lose you."

"You stand with your feet together, knees stiff, then you twist sideways, bend down and—"

"I laughed at Zen-Buddhism, too, when I first heard about it, but I tell you in the middle years people need something to take the place of—"

"I know you've always worn a size 36 waist before, sir, but if you don't mind me being frank, I think you'll find a size 42 a bit more comfortable."

"Yes, he was one of our first junior executives, but that was 25 years ago."

BUTTON UP

"I'm from Scout Troop 40, sir. May I be of service to you on this icy corner?"

"Have you made out your will?"

"At your age you ought to have more sense than to go out without your muffler and galoshes."

"Wake up, Jim. You're not going to waste another Sunday afternoon napping, are you?"

"Like a little tonic, sir? It's getting a bit thin on top."

"Why shouldn't I go steady? After all, I'm 13 already."

"If I have to listen to Dad tell one more time about how he used to chop a cord of wood before breakfast every morning when he was a kid, I'll go downstairs and jump into the oil burner."

"Pass the pretzels, Gramps, and flake off with that jazz about the free lunch counter in the old days."

GRRRROWL

"I know I can trust you, Mr. Arbuthnot. You're too old—I mean, you're not like the rest of these office wolves."

"Here, take my seat, sir."

"After 40, they say, anything can happen."

"Junior is looking at the sports section, dear. Do you want the obituary page?"

"These are the golden years, eh, Jim? Wouldn't you hate to be young again?"

"It's time for your medicine, dear."

Gives Christmas Safety Hints

Guard Against Fires, Says Chief

Fire Chief James R. White today urged Pontiac residents to exercise fire prevention measures throughout the holiday season.

White urged Pontiac families to choose freshly cut Christmas trees with firmly attached needles.

Trees should be kept outdoors until just before Christmas, White said. When brought into homes, they should be kept in the coolest part of the room, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces. This not only will reduce the possibility of fire, but also will keep trees from drying out.

"It is a good plan to use a tree holder which has a little bucket of water in which the trunk can rest during the holidays," White said. "This container should be full at all times."

White called fireproof Christmas tree decorations the best. He urged the use of decorations made of either glass, metal or a fire-resistant material.

Other fire prevention measures recommended by the fire chief are:

1. Set up electric trains away from the tree. A spark from the train could set the tree on fire.

2. Always use electric lights on the tree—never candles. Sets of lights should be checked before being placed on the tree, and those with frayed wiring should be discarded. When buying new sets, look for the tag or label showing listing by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. A switch some distance from the tree should be provided for turning the tree lights on and off.

3. On Christmas morning fold and put away any gift wrappings you intend to keep. Other gift wrappings should be gathered up and thrown away promptly after presents are opened.

4. Christmas tree lights should be turned off when the family is away from home.

5. Inspect the Christmas tree from time to time to see how dry it is. If needles near the lights have started to turn brown, change the position of the lights.

6. When the needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it.

7. Even if the tree remains fresh, make plans now to dismantle it the day after New Years, and restore the room to its normal setting.

Meat Prices Unchanged Choose Easy-to Cook Kind

Busy with Christmas presents and decorating for the Holidays? Then why not plan meals that allow time out of the kitchen? Choose meat cuts that cook long periods without constant watching suggests the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Pork is receiving store emphasis since this is a time when supplies are rather heavy. If you pick the lean Boston butt roast and take the whole 4 to 6 pound cut, you can expect three servings from each pound. If you buy ham, notice that price depends to a great extent upon how much the ham is processed.

The kinds of cured hams available are:

READY TO EAT HAMS . . . have been tenderized and partially cooked. They require slightly less cooking time than uncooked ham, but should be heated to an internal temperature of at least 130 to 140 degrees to reach their peak of flavor and tenderness.

FULLY COOKED AND CANNED HAMS . . . have been completely cooked and may be served without further heating. If you want to heat them before serving, heat to an internal temperature of 125 to 130 degrees.

Beef chuck roasts take a long time at low temperature to cook to their tender best. Many stores feature all three chuck roasts this week, even though wholesale beef prices are unchanged to slightly higher than a week ago.

Both veal and lamb prices are about the same as a week ago. Retailers report that lamb quality is especially good at this time of year. Roast leg of lamb and veal are about the same price per pound, however lamb shoulder is less expensive than the comparable veal cut. For greater satisfaction at serving time, most shoppers prefer that shoulder be boned before roasting.

It will pay to check prices before shopping for fryers, for there is a difference between stores. Then in every store there are price differences due to size and the preparation of the bird.

Shoppers expect to pay more for chicken cut into frying pieces for someone must be paid for this service. But the price difference between the whole fryer and the one cut into pieces is not as large as the price tag might indicate. Notice that it is the large size fryer which is cut into serving pieces, and the large bird has more meat in proportion to bone than the smaller size.

You will notice little if any change in total supplies at produce counters. Unloads of fresh fruits and vegetables at the larger terminal markets during the past week about equaled those of the previous week. Effects of weather in growing areas will be reflected in supply, quality and price of some vegetables this week.

Frosts in Arizona and southern California delayed lettuce cutting. Frosts in the Long Island area have resulted in less cauliflower and greater variation in quality and head size. California's fall tomato shipping season was virtually ended by low temperatures, but volume from Florida and Mexico is increasing.

Canned peaches, peas and holiday items are getting emphasis in the grocery department as are peas and ice cream in the frozen food counters.

Need extra eggs for holiday cooking, for egg nog or for quick meals high in protein value? You'll find all sizes low in price for the food value received.

Never Freeze Home Stuffed Turkey

Frozen stuffed turkey bought at the store cannot be duplicated at home warns the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Dressing in frozen stuffed turkey from the food market was first sterilized, and the turkey was frozen solid in a flash at 20 to 40 degrees below zero. Homemakers cannot sterilize the dressing and home freezers cannot freeze stuffed turkey fast enough.

To save time the day turkey is roasted, why not mixe the dry dressing ingredients the night before and store them in the refrigerator? Then mix the liuqid into the dry ingredients just before roasting the turkey.

If you buy a frozen stuffed turkey in the store, follow the label directions exactly. Notice that these birds are never thawed before roasting.

It pays to be careful. The smart shopper will abide by rules research has proven safe.

Try adding several tablespoons of molasses plus whole cloves, allspice and a bay leaf when you are cooking a smoked tongue.

Cranberries in Abundance Freeze Well

It's a big relief for food shoppers. . . cranberries are safe and wholesome! This is also good news for producers and handlers of the berries for the crop is a big one, 6 per cent greater than a year ago and 32 per cent larger than average. It is estimated that the cranberry bogs will yield a record 131,550,000 pounds.

November is the big month for cranberries. About 42 per cent of the crop is harvested then although a considerable amount of these will not be consumed until later. About two-fifths of the cranberry crop is marketed fresh while the balance is canned and frozen.

It's easy to choose cranberries that are really fresh. Just look for berries that are dry, bright and shiny in appearance. Color or shape is not so important for the berries may be round or elongated in shape and they vary from a light red to a dark blackish red depending upon variety.

Cranberries are very easy to freeze for they require no special handling. Simply remove any bruised berries then place the sound ones in the freezer boxes or bags just as they are without washing. Fill to within one inch of the top (this allows for expansion when the berries freeze). Freeze at zero degrees or below.

The first Americans, the Indians, served cranberries with deer meat. This is still a possibility, but chances are that most families will serve cranberries with turkey or some other meat this November.

Bread for Pudding Need Not Be Fresh

A homey pudding.

Rowena's Brown Betty

6 slices bread
4 tablespoons butter
4 apples (pared and sliced thin)
½ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon each nutmeg and mace
6 graham crackers (crushed fine)
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar

Cut bread into 1-inch cubes; brown lightly in 3 tablespoons of the butter. In 1-quart buttered baking dish arrange in layers the bread, apples and granulated sugar mixed with nutmeg and mace.

* * *

Mix cracker crumbs with flour, brown sugar and remaining 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle over apple mixture. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until apples are tender—about 40 minutes. Serve warm.

Find and Use Waste Space for Storage

Whether you have a new house or an old one, use the space you've got. Don't let space go to waste. In the kitchen or bathroom add a cabinet under the sink or basin. A built-in hamper is a handy idea under the wash basin. It allows for ventilation.

* * *

Give your living room the full treatment of floor-to-ceiling space for books, hi-fi or television equipment. You can treat one whole wall with a combination of paneling, shelves and cabinets.

Outside the home you can take the clue for added storage in many ways.

Carports, for example, can be designed with built-in storage as an integral part of the planning. Such storage eases the load on where to put bulky, hard-to-manage equipment.

Good Combination

Canned crushed pineapple makes a delicious preserve when combined with dried apricots or fresh pears. Add an orange to the pineapple-apricot mixture and a lemon to the pineapple-pear combination.

Basic Sweet Dough Used

Class Bakes Christmas Breads

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The good smell of baking bread coming out of the home economics kitchen at Northern High School must make the students hungry.

We visited Mrs. Sue Squires' second-year cooking class early this week. Her girls were making Christmas coffee cakes and rolls.

So many women are afraid to work with yeast dough. It is good to know that some of our teenagers are learning how to do it. We hope the lessons carry over into their adult life.

Two of the girls were frosting candy cane rolls. We tell you how to make them in the recipe below. You start with a basic sweet dough recipe and make all sorts of interesting coffee cakes and rolls.

There were two beautiful stollen all baked. These are the coffee cakes that look like a giant Parker House roll. A few of the girls were decorating Christmas tree coffee cakes. These are made with little balls of dough put on the pan in the shape of a Christmas tree. The one you sent home with us, girls, was delicious.

In the oven at the time of our visit was a Christmas wreath coffee cake. For this one you go ahead as if you were making cinnamon rolls. Then you put each little roll on the pan overlapping the one next to it and forming a wreath. A second layer on top gives a three-dimensional look to the creation.

* * *

Here is Mrs. Squires' Basic Sweet Roll Dough:

- ½ cup milk, scalded
- ½ cup sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 4 tablespoons shortening
- ½ cup lukewarm water
- 1 tablespoons sugar
- 2 packages dry yeast
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 6 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Add the half cup of sugar, salt and shortening to the milk. Cool to lukewarm. Measure lukewarm water into a bowl, add other sugar and yeast. Let stand until dissolved. Stir. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in beaten eggs.

Add and stir in 3 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth. Add and stir in rest of flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl and brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover with clean towel. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Form into coffee cakes or rolls.

Candy Cane Rolls

Use one-half of above recipe. Roll dough into long strands about ¼ inch in diameter. Twist two together and shape them like a candy cane.

Let rise until doubled. Canes should be 4 to 4½ inches long after baking. Arrange on lightly greased baking sheet.

Bake in 350-degree oven, about 15 minutes. Cool. Makes about 12 canes. Frost with stripes of red and white confectioners frosting.

Pontiac Press Photo

Cookie Decorations Will Hang on Tree

Make tasty Christmas tree decorations with Holiday Butter Cookies. Cream 1 cup (2 sticks) butter with 1½ cups sugar. Beat in 2 eggs and 2 teaspoons vanilla. Sift 3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt together, and add gradually to creamed mixture.

Chill dough in refrigerator at least 4 hours. Roll dough to ¼ inch thickness and cut with a variety of cooky cutters. Push small pieces of paper straws into the top of each cooky, making a hole. Bake in a pre-heated 400-degree oven 6-8 minutes on cooky sheets. Remove straws after baking. Cook.

Decorate with frosting, decorator's sugar, decorettes, red-hot cinnamon drops, etc. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

New Status Symbol Seen in Two-Home Families

Two-homes for the family will be as much a status symbol in the later '60's as are two-cars today. The trend toward owning a summer home may result in yearly construction of 200,000 such dwellings by the end of the decade.

The second home, usually an economy house, is built with such money and labor saving building materials as drywall and insulating sidings. These products provide maximum value at minimum costs.

Christmas Compote

Fruit compote made with Christmas fruits and topped with red raspberry or strawberry sherbet or ice is a dessert that will be a top favorite with the family during the holidays. Just combine tangerine and grapefruit sections, diced fresh pears and grapes with fresh lemon juice and sugar to taste. Top each serving with a small scoop of red raspberry or strawberry sherbet or ice.

Cheese Jam Biscuits Good as Snacks

During the holidays — and afterward, too — add interest to your menus with these American blue cheese jam biscuits.

Roll biscuit dough to ¼ inch thickness and cut in rounds. Spread half of the rounds with strawberry jam and cover the other half with finely crumbled American blue cheese. Put a cheese and a jam covered biscuit together, sealing edges together. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes.

Neither butter nor other spread will be needed with these biscuits for the sweet jam and sharp, creamy blue cheese are delightful flavor-mates.

Pretty Wreath Dessert

Serve ice cream wheaths for a Merry Christmas dessert. For 4 servings, cut a round pint of vanilla ice cream into four slices. Whip ½ cup whipping cream and sweeten to taste. Tint pale green with a few drops of food coloring. Outline each round with whipped cream forming a wreath. Garnish with two red cherry halves and a few green cherry pieces for leaves.

AFRICAN UNREST SPREADS — The shaded countries of Ethiopia, the Congo and Algeria are the principal trouble spots in Africa during the current crises. Emperor Haile Selassie's 30-year reign over Ethiopia appeared threatened Wednesday amid reports of a revolution in Addis Ababa. The Congo battle for power continued while riots in Algiers and other Algerian cities raised the casualty toll as Moslems demonstrated in favor of the nationalist rebel government in exile.

Ask for Cancellation of Cobo Labor Pact

DETROIT (AP) — The Civic Center Commission met with about 30 trade show managers and exhibitors and then voted to ask Detroit's Common Council to cancel the exclusive labor contract at Cobo Hall.

The shop people told the commission the labor monopoly which they said now was held by Detroit Convention Services, Inc., should be dissolved and each exhibition management allowed to choose its own labor contractor.

Detroit Convention Services pays the City of Detroit 7½ per cent commission on the money it makes supplying labor to hall exhibitors. The firm's contract expires Dec. 31.

The shop people said that the contractors they choose to supply their labor will hire only local union workers.

Truth Will Prevail: Abby

Those Gossips Are So Wrong

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will print this in your column because I am so sick over the whole mess I don't know where to turn for help. I am the mother of a teen-aged daughter.

ABBY

We sent her to a boarding school because she couldn't adjust to our high school. Ever since she left town people have been saying that she's in a home for unwed mothers.

She has always been a fine girl. Why should people ruin her reputation by their terrible lies? Why? Why? Why?

HEART-BROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: We all know that a lie can travel half-way around the world before the truth can get its boots on. But take new comfort from the Old Testament: "The lip of truth shall be established forever: a lying tongue is but for a moment." (Proverbs 12:19).

DEAR ABBY: When my husband said his employes wanted a Christmas party with no wives or husbands, I started to make a few plans of my own.

The next night when my husband came home, I had my kitchen counters piled high with holiday food and drinks.

I explained that on the night of his employes' party I would send our children to my mother's and have a cocktail party for the people I do business with every day.

The grocer, the butcher, the milkman, the mailman, the gas station attendant, the insurance salesman, the bank teller and the car salesman who sold us our car, etc.

The next evening he told me that he had changed his mind and decided to skip the party and give each employe a turkey instead. Needless to say, I skipped my party, too.

There are enough people in this world breaking the laws of God and man without employers setting the stage to encourage such goings-on.

"NOT SO DUMB"

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago I married my employer and acquired a 13-year-old daughter who has been spoiled rotten by her grandmother (his mother) and who, to this day, refers to the child as "poor little motherless darling."

She told the child, in my presence, "Now your Daddy's love will be cut in half—half for you and half for stepmother." I swear to you I heard my heart crack inside of me. I said nothing.

The child resents me (of course) and rebels when I attempt to discipline her. I don't want to complain to my husband, but I can't fight this alone, Abby. Should I just give up and walk out? I love this man, but I can't take it any more.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: Lay your cards on the table. Every one of them—face up. Tell your husband exactly what you are battling and enlist his support. Let him decide whether he wants you—or his mother—to raise his child. (No joint efforts!) A man worth loving is worth fighting for. Stick with it, and good luck.

Why Strive for a Nonexistent Security?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One morning after depositing your 4-year-old with a neighbor, you go shopping. As you're rushing for the homebound bus, your spike heel catches in a pavement grating. Your fall cracks your wrist.

Four days later, plaster-casted, still struggling with pain you come home from the hospital to find a demon in place of the child you left.

Bobby fights bedtime with endless howls for more water and bathroom assistance. He pretends not to hear when you call him for meals.

Despite your handicapping cast, he insists that you give him his bath and flies into rages when grandma seeks to explain why you can't. Having equated your four-day absence with disinterest in his existence, frightened Bobby is reminding you of it as angrily and vigorously as he knows how.

Or, as you tearfully explain to your shocked mother at the end of the week, "I have upset Bobby's sense of security."

"It is impossible," writes child psychoanalyst Dr. Irene M. Josselyn, "to maintain a parent-child relationship that can preserve a child's sense of security intact — " a fog-dispelling sentence that should be prominently typed and posted over the kitchen sinks of every mother in this country.

For our national passion to give children an unbroken "sense of security" is as romantic a one as we can indulge. We cannot control the circumstances that send us away from Bobby to the hospital, to the sickbeds of relatives, into preoccupations with our own problems any more than we can command the weather.

Yet his furious responses to these absences overwhelm us with guilt, no matter how reasonable the absences were.

So unremitting is the child guidance experts' insistence on his right to unfractured "security" that we simply cannot think, "OK. Life has cracked Bobby's sense of security and time will have to repair it precisely as it will repair my broken wrist."

Actually, if we come to think of it, all Americans seem to entertain romantic yearnings for "security." No human beings have ever possessed it because it does not exist. Yet everyone from insurance agents to political candidates keeps promising it to us as though it did.

As a result we've developed the unconscious impression that "insecurity" is something that never happens to nice people. No wonder we wring our hands when life forces us to expose our children to the horrid thing.

(NEA) — Lots of teen-agers are troubled by the fact that either they have nonexistent waistlines or waistlines that can only be described as thick and lumpy. If this description fits you, it's time for you to do something about it.

To a large extent, the spot exercises you do in your teens determine the kind of figure you'll have in your twenties. So start now. Here's the exercise that will carve out a waistline for you, if you do it faithfully for 30 counts every day.

Stand with your feet apart and your arms raised over your head with hands clasped. Now bend as far as you can to the right. Straighten and bend as far as you can to the left. You should feel those muscles pull from the upper arm all the way down into the hip line.

Do this for a count of 15 for each side and be sure to do it every morning. In a matter of weeks, you'll find your waistline slimming down and becoming lithe.

It Reveals Personality

Your Face Is a Window

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are so many different characteristics and factors which add up to a total personality. There is the way you hold yourself and move and walk.

Your voice has a tremendous impact on others. New acquaintances also are influenced by dress and especially by grooming. Then there is your face!

Your face tells a lot about you. Does it look alive? Is it lighted with perception and enthusiasm, or is it dull with boredom or heavy with lack of interest and lack of attention?

How do your facial muscles behave themselves? Do they mar your expression with frowns or pull your facial contour downward with tenseness or discouragement? Do your facial muscles give you away by expressing disapproval or dislike or distrust which you would not put into words?

Do they indicate nervousness, with constant twitchings and grimacing, eyebrow raising and lip pursing?

Your face tells a lot about you. Does it look alive? Is it lighted with perception and enthusiasm, or heavy with lack of interest and lack of attention?

How about your eyes? You can smile or talk or make love with your eyes. Are they expressive or are they listless? This is one of the characteristics practically all folks in show business have expressive eyes.

We sometimes forget that our faces tell so much about us, that they reveal problems and discouragements and bitternesses we never meant to reveal. It also can happen that our faces do not express the emotions we wish them to.

DON'T LOOK LISTLESS

People sometimes fall into the habit of a listless expression. Fatigue or unhappiness or worry inhibit the natural breakthrough of warmth and understanding in facial expression. Aging and unattractive mannerisms may have been adopted unconsciously.

If you wish to check yourself against a list of aging mannerisms, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 67 "Mannerisms Which Denote Age." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Speaking of Christmas Presents

Teeners Think It's More Fun to Receive

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Only a minority of American teen-agers subscribe to that bit of Biblical wisdom, so applicable at Christmas, that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Most say it's just as much fun to receive. And a small group say frankly they would rather get presents than give them.

We uncovered this facet of teen-age character during a survey of 395 young people about their Christmas plans and preferences.

Your guess is as good as mine on how much it differs from adult character.

On the receiving side of the ledger, the thing most teen-agers want most for Christmas is clothing. After that, money and sporting equipment.

On the giving side, the amount most of them will spend for gifts will range from $10 to $50.

Most of them plan to earn or save it, and only about 1 in 4 will use their own creative talents to make gifts.

Most of them will spend the largest amount of money on a gift for mother, while father runs second.

And most like Christmas just the way it is celebrated today.

Teen-age girls apparently are more generous than teen-age boys. Forty-three per cent of the girls say they get more of a kick out of giving than receiving, while only 21 per cent of the boys agree — an over-all total of 32 per cent.

Forty - eight per cent of the youngsters — 44 per cent of the boys and 52 per cent of the girls —say giving and receiving carry equal weight with them. Sixteen per cent — 1 in every 1 boys, but only 1 in every 20 girls — say they would rather get presents than give them.

"Other people say 'it's better to give'," says 14 - year - old Richard Berger of Brooklyn, N.Y., "so I receive."

At the other end of the string is Judith Spencer, 19, of Gettysburg, Pa., who says, "I get a good feeling giving things."

And in the middle, 16-year-old Susan Williams of Hingham, Mass.: "I love to buy presents, but I also love surprises."

BONGO DRUMS!

There is a wide range of things that the youngsters would like to receive for Christmas. "I would like some bongo drums just to goof-off with," says Diana Halverson, 16, of Ogden, Utah, by way of being a case in point.

But 62 per cent — three-fourths of the girls and about half the boys — say they want clothing most of all.

"I am going away to college next year," says Betsey H. Rowe, 17, of Hingham, Mass., in explaining a common reason for preferring clothing.

Teen-age plans for Christmas spending are down this year. Most —29 per cent — say they will spend from $10 to $20 on gifts. Fifteen per cent will spend from $20 to $30, 14 per cent from $30 to $40, and 10 per cent from $40 to $50. Fifteen per cent will spend from $50 to $100, while only 2 per cent will go over $100.

Thirteen per cent of the youngsters would also like money and the same number ask for sporting equipment. Also ranking high are books, musical instruments and games.

NEED $25

In a survey last year, the largest group of gift-givers said they required $25 to $30 for their gifts.

When it comes to financing the shopping venture, 59 per cent say they will earn at least part of their money. Thirty-eight per cent will get it from their parents.

Sixty per cent of the youngsters say they will spend the biggest amount on their mother, while 47 per cent indicate that father will get the most expensive gift. After that it dips sharply: brother 18 per cent, sister 16 per cent, boy or girl friend 11 per cent.

But William Weatherstar, 15, of Ogden, Utah, says he doesn't know. "These things aren't measured by dollars," he says.

Finally, we asked the youngsters if they would celebrate Christmas differently when they grow up. Nine per cent didn't know, but 73 per cent said they like it just as it is. The remaining 18 per cent would make changes.

Larry Peer, 18, of Ogden, Utah, says he would like "more outings before, and more singing during Christmas." And Wayne M. Keith, 19, of Rochester, N. H., says his adult Christmas "will be a closer family gathering."

But Betsey Rowe expresses the majority view, when she says: "I feel that the way our family celebrates this occasion is the way it was intended to be when Christ was born."

Rantapussi is the name of this romper-styled one-piece cotton beach suit from Marimekko Oy of Finland. The print is orange, pink and yellow.

Applesauce in Brownies Keeps Them Moist

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here is a cookie that is less rich than most of the ones we make at this time of year. Applesauce in brownies keeps them moist and adds a tantalizing flavor to the bars.

Today's cook, Mrs. Jay Lucas, says her home and family are her hobbies. She has 4 children. She is active in a church circle and in PTA.

APPLESAUCE BROWNIES
By Mrs. Jay Lucas

½ cup shortening melted, OR ½ cup salad oil
2 squares chocolate
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup applesauce
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped walnuts

Melt shortening and chocolate together or add melted chocolate to salad oil. Blend in sugar, eggs, applesauce and vanilla.

Sift dry ingredients together and stir into first mixture. Pour into greased square pan. Bake 35 minutes at 350 degrees.

Frosting

2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 square chocolate
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Heat water, butter or margarine and chocolate until chocolate is melted. Add sugar and vanilla and beat until of spreading consistency. Spread on cooled brownies.

Tot Fights May Show Affection

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —When Jimmy reaches over and dips his sister's pony tail into the ink, he may be expressing deep affection and respect, a home economics professor at the University of Texas believes.

Phyllis L. Richards, who makes her observations of children at the university's nursery school, says that fighting among children may be signs of growth as well as signs of emotional outlets.

"Arguing between brothers and sisters even may be a sign of respect and deep affection," she said. "A child may regard his brother's opinions so highly that he wants the brother to agree with him, even if he has to knock him down to make him agree."

She said that only when the fighting becomes extreme should parents be concerned.

EXPERIMENTING

"Youngsters, when they bicker, are experimenting with each other's reactions, seeing how much they can get away with," she said.

If the bickering is constant, parents should bring some arbitration into play, she added.

"The more certain a child is that he is loved, the less likely he'll be to vent his hostile feelings on his brothers and sisters," she said.

Said to be Spanish: cooked green lima beans seasoned with nutmeg and parsley along with a good dollop of butter.

Handle With Care

Handle crystal glasses carefully. Home economists suggest that fragile stemware be held be the bottom of the bowl instead of by the stem. They add that glasses should be stored with the rims up.

Carols, Bells Ring for Men's Night

Tuesday Musicale Captures Yuletide Spirit

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

Families and friends of members enjoyed a delightful concert of Christmas carols from many lands sung by the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus, directed by Mrs. George Putnam.

Assisting were 14 girls known as the Mackenzie Belles from Detroit's Mackenzie High School.

Directed by Robert Delany, the group provided a new and unusual experience for most of the audience by playing of hand bells imported from Holland.

FAMILIAR CAROLS

The first group of choral numbers included familiar English carols plus a poignant Asturian melody "There Was No Room for the Christ Child."

A rhythmic Galician carol "Hasten Shepherds" provided an interesting contrast with its percussion accompaniment, tambourines and castanet, played by Mrs. J. S. LaMonte, Mrs. R. E. Gregoux and Mrs. J. S. Maxwell.

Four of the Altred Burt carols were sung in the second group.

These are of special interest to Pontiac audiences since they were the Christmas greetings of the Rev. Bates Burt family, with words by former All Saints Episcopal Church organist Willa Hutson.

Highlighting the closing section was the brilliant modern composition based on folk material by the Spanish composer Joaquin Nin, "And the Angel Woke the Shepherds."

The full meaning of the yuletide season gripped the audience as the program closed with "O Holy Night," beautifully sung by Mrs. Victor Lindquist with choral background.

The superior quality of Mrs. Putnam's direction was again apparent in the choral singing. Balance of tone quality, excellent diction, clean attacks and lovely tonal effects all were displayed.

Solo parts by Mrs. O. L. Smith, Mrs. J. B. Nicolls, Mrs. J. K. Kelvy, Mrs. J. S. LaMonte, Mrs. J. S. Maxwell, Mrs. Fred Stimpert, Mrs. C. W. Buck, Mrs. C. W. Marshbanks and flute obligato by Barbara Atwell added to the pleasure of the audience.

Mrs. Walter Schmitz played excellent piano accompaniments for the chorus.

INFORMAL PERFORMANCE

Informality marked the performance of the bell ringers, directed by Mr. Delaney.

Though handicapped by illness in the ranks, the girls gave a charming demonstration of this unfamiliar form of musical art.

Using 37 bells, they played a variety of fanfares, sequences, French folk tunes and carols. Unison and single voices, harmony and canon were represented.

A real carillon effect was achieved in the performance of Bach's "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" with a running accompaniment forming the background for the choral tune.

Mr. Delaney discussed the difficulties in bell playing and illustrated by asking Tuesday Musicale chorus members to "man" a bell on two Christmas carols as the audience sang.

It clearly is an art which requires concentration, coordination and a perfect rhythmic sense.

The girls played from music printed on large placards placed on a stand before them.

It was a fine program even without the two Santa Clauses who danced onto the stage at intermission and livened the proceedings with some songs and group singing.

The merry gentlemen under the disguises were husbands George Putnam and Victor Lindquist.

Guests and members were welcomed by President Mrs. James Forman and invited to a refreshment hour in the school cafeteria.

ON RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Euler and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nicolls served as a reception committee, and Mrs. R. H. Austin and Mrs. H. T. Rombough presided at the punch bowl.

Assisting Mrs. William Thomas on the social committee were Mrs. John Blamy, Mrs. John Napley and Mrs. R. E. Galbraith.

Pre-Shrink Ribbon

Q — Because some ribbon may shrink up to three inches per yard, it's best to pre-shrink ribbon yardage before using it in any kind of needlework. Wash in soap or detergent suds, rinse, and let it drip-dry before it is stitched to the fabric. Thus, it will not pucker the item it trims when laundered.

Bridegroom Might Need to Be Revived

Put Smelling Salts on Wedding List

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—A word to any bride-to-be worrying whether all will go smoothly on the big day.

It probably won't, but relax. You are not alone.

Mrs. Fama Wilson, who has helped close to 50,000 brides prepare for the walk down the aisle, says it is a rare wedding without some last-minute crisis. But somehow, she added, the hitch always is resolved and the wedding comes off perfectly.

Well, almost always.

There was the time a bridegroom fainted during the ceremoney and one of her bridal consultants hastily passed some spirits of ammonia to the best man. He revived the wilted leading man and the ceremony went on.

"We learned later," said Mrs. Wilson, "that the bridegroom also had braced himself with tranquilizing pills."

"Our consultants carry a small kit to the church hotel, or home," said Mrs. Wilson, who is director of the bridal salon for Jay Thorpe, Inc. "It's filled with needles, thread and buttons — in case there is a last minute repair job to do. Also, smelling salts."

"Brides faint so often that's not news anymore," she added. "But we have never lost one during the ceremony. They keel over at the final fitting for a dress or while posing for their wedding pictures."

In nearly 20 years of assisting brides, Mrs. Wilson has decided that:

MOTHERS IN WAY

—Some mothers could be more helpful with the wedding preparations if they got out of town and left the details to the bride, the caterers and a store's bridal department.

"Often a mother insists on something we can see the bride doesn't want," she said, "and we have to be diplomatic enough to see that the bride gets her way. After all, it is her biggest day . . . not her mother's."

—Brides are less superstitious these days, less likely to observe the "something old, something new . . . " rule, although the store always delivers a blue garter with the wedding gown and trousseau.

* * *

—Weddings are not necessarily getting bigger but the amount the bride spends on her dress is increasing. Right now, the salon is putting the finishing touches on a dress for the daughter of a prominent Puerto Rican. She is in college near New York. "Everytime she comes in for a fitting," said Mrs. Wilson, "she decides on a little more lace. The gown will cost around $1,000 before she's through."

MEG'S INFLUENCE

Mrs. Wilson believes the simplicity of Princess Margaret's wedding dress, with high neckline and sweeping skirt, will influence fall bridal fashions slightly — that necklines, instead of showing shoulders, will be high and demure, and many headpieces will be copies of Meg's.

* * *

One bride was in the store the day after the royal wedding to plan alterations so her dress more closely resembled Margaret's.

"We're adding several more yards of floating panels," said Mrs. Wilson. "She informed us that now her train looked skimpy."

Vibrant Colors and Gray Hair Are Handsome

(NEA)—A good many gray-haired women are timid about wearing either vivid or pastel colors. They stick with the black, brown and gray school of dressing with the result that they appear drab and dull. Yet, when you do see a silver-haired woman in a royal blue or emerald suit, you know what a handsome sight this is.

The clue lies partially in the word "silver." For gray hair often needs the added sparkle that comes from a rinse. Once this is accomplished, strike out boldly in the direction of color. Take into consideration your skin tones, height and weight just as any woman must do. And if you don't really like a color (red, for instance,) don't wear it. But otherwise, give yourself a color break.

Christmas Cloth

To convert any tablecloth into a holiday cloth, spread it with an eye-catching runner made of washable spun rayon and cotton decorated with colorful Christmas bells, poinsettia, and candles. The same pattern comes in place mats and square or round tablecloths, complete with matching napkins.

These accessories, which are color fast, can be laundered as often as needed to provide gala table settings throughout the holidays.

'Call to Hands'

Dirty hands at table were as repugnant to Queen Blanche of France in 1225 as they are to today's modern queen of the household.

During meals, Blanche had a trumpeter sound a "call to hands" — signifying that all diners were required to scrub in basins passed by pages.

'No-Iron' . . . If

Many cottons not labeled "no-iron" actually are "no-iron" — if you use a dryer.

For best results, the trick is to take cottons out of the dryer the instant the machine shuts off. Shake them out, stretch the seams, and more than likely they will look nice enough to wear.

Waterford Jaycees Set Yule Plans

Entertainment will be provided by the Jackie Rae Dancers, with arrival of Santa Claus as the afternoon's climax.

Refreshments will be served.

In charge of the affair are Mrs. Glenn Reynolds, and Frank Pruente. Assisting are Mrs. Floyd Reynolds, Mrs. Larry McNeil and Mrs. Frank Pruente.

Another Jaycee and Jaycette project, the annual shopping tour for underprivileged children, will get under way at 7 p.m. Dec. 22.

Twenty or more children are given $5 to "spend as they please" for gifts for their families. At the conclusion of the shopping tour they are taken to the Community Center where the Jaycettes furnish paper and ribbon, then assist the children with their gift-wrapping.

* * *

Each child is given a gift and refreshments are served, according to Mrs. Arthur Salley, chairman of this affair.

A Willing Mother Always Needed

By RUTH MILLETT

The most ridiculous idea that has ever been dished out to women, says one of my readers, is the theory that once her children are grown they no longer need her.

"Over and over I come across the phrase 'When a woman's children no longer need her.' Well, I've lived more than 70 years—and although I live alone I don't think I've ever gone through a single year when one or the other of my children didn't 'need' me.

"I've taken over when a son-in-law was ill and a daughter had to go to work—nursing the son-in-law and looking after the children until the family was back on its feet.

"I've taken over almost every time a new baby came into the family. I've looked after grandchildren when their parents took trips. I've run my children's houses when the mother of the family was ill.

"So far I've answered every call for help. My children are all self-reliant and successful but there have been times in their adult lives when they needed my help.

"I'm not a rarity, either. Most of my friends my age who have children are often called on to help in an emergency.

"The only ones who aren't ever 'needed' are the ones who don't really want to be pressed into service, or the ones who are more trouble for their children to have around than they are help."

A lot of truth lies in those statements. Writers talk glibly about the "empty nest" period in a woman's life, the time when she is "no longer needed," the period when her "major job in life is complete."

* * *

A mother who can be counted on to take over in an emergency, to give help and strength and comfort when she is called on, will find she is always "needed."

The strength and courage and willing hands of that kind of mother are needed by her children as long as she lives.

Size Up Situation

Avoid turning a surprise clothing gift for your husband into a disappointment because of wrong sizes. Take an accurate tape measurement and file the figures in your billfold. Remember that pants length is measured from the crotch seam to cuff (not from the waist), and sleeve length is measured from the nape of the neck to the wrist, rather than from the shoulder seam or underarm.

Should You Clip?

(NEA) — If your eyebrows are unruly and curly, they need clipping rather than plucking. Use a small, sharp scissors and prop your elbow on a table to keep your hand steady. Remember, you are working close to the eye.

* * *

When you've finished clipping, smooth some cold cream over your brows and give them a good brushing with a tiny eyebrow brush. This may be the only grooming they need.

Couple Can Visit Friends

By EMILY POST

Question: I am 18 years old and have been going with a young man 20, for the past seven months. We have been invited to spend the weekend with mutual friends of ours (married couple) who live in another state.

My parents strenuously object to my going, saying that it is not proper for us to stay in the same house together. Will you please settle this feud? If you say it's all right, I'm sure they will change their minds about letting me go.

Answer: You and the young man may, with complete propriety, be house guests together in the house of a married couple.

Question: My sister-in-law was recently criticized by a relative because she did not "invite" her to her mother's funeral. This relative, along with all the others, had been notified by telephone of the death and asked to see the notice in the paper for the final arrangements.

This relative did not go to the funeral but telephoned immediately afterward and complained, much to my sister-in-law's distress. Is a personal invitation necessary or proper to a funeral?

Answer: Everyone is expected to consider the funeral announcement in the newspaper as an invitation to it, unless the announcement reads, "Funeral private" and neither the time nor place is given. In this case, only those sent this information are expected to be present.

Question: I lost my mother this summer and would like to know if it would be proper for my husband and me to send out Christmas cards this year to our friends?

Answer: This is entirely a matter of your own personal feeling. There is no impropriety in sending Christmas cards to others if you feel able to do so.

Question: When a man takes a woman who is either widowed, or divorced or separated, out for the evening and it is necessary for her to engage a baby sitter and he offers to pay for the sitter, is it at any time proper for her to accept his offer?

Answer: She cannot properly accept his offer.

Have Surgury, Says Doctor

You a Snoring Victim?

TOKYO (UPI)—A note to bachelors:

Don't marry a beautiful woman. Many beautiful women snore, particularly if they have a cute chin.

That's the word from Dr. Takenosuke Ikematsu who has been studying "ibiki" (Japanese for snoring) for many years.

Dr. Ikematsu claims that 41 per cent of all women snore, although few will admit it.

In fact, 70 per cent of his patients are women, mostly those looking forward to marriage and afraid that their nocturnal rumblings will discourage their spouses.

That is the way the doctor got into the "Riki" practice.

Years ago, a mother and daughter came to him in tears begging for help. The daughter had just been married. But she snored.

MOVED OUT

The husband took his punishment for three days and then moved out of the house.

Ikematsu performed a minor operation which corrected the bride's snoring. The husband returned to the fold, and the couple lived happily ever after.

That started the doctor thinking. How many similarly afflicted people could he help?

There was not much reference material on snoring, so the doctor began collecting his own, wandering around the city with a tape recorder and capturing the various snores of the night in waiting rooms and trains.

He even made an around-the-world trip to obtain a more international view on snoring.

SNORE ALIKE

His findings: People over the world snore the same way.

Males snore in "low key." Women snores are of two types — "beast" and "Niagara Falls."

How do you stop snoring?

It's simple, according to Ikematsu.

See a doctor.

But better yet — keep yourself "keyed up," preferably by sewing a toothbrush on to your pajamas.

Take a Tree-Trimming Lesson From an Expert

Pontiac Press Photos

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ringgenberg of Orchard Lake examine one of the hundreds of eggshell ornaments she has made in the past year. His job is to get the tree cut down, maneuver it through the front door, set it up and arrange the lights. Hers is to place the ornaments, a task that takes about three days. She got the tree ready early for a family get-together last weekend.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

How long does it take you to trim your Christmas tree? The children do ours and spend a couple of hours arguing over which ornament goes where. Then the cats come along and knock off most of the ones on the lowest branches.

Mrs. Roy Ringgenberg of Orchard Lake takes three days to put the ornaments on her tree after her husband has set it up and strung the lights.

For 15 years or more the Ringgenbergs have bought their tree from a farmer in Highland and have cut it down themselves. This year the tree is a perfectly symmetrical spruce with a branch spread of at least 8 feet.

Although there has been no actual count, an estimate of the number of ornaments on the tree would be close to 500. One hundred of these have been made by Mrs. Ringgenberg.

Last January, when she returned from a hospital stay, she looked around for something to occupy her time, something she could do sitting down. A niece showed her how to make ornaments from egg shells, a craft she had learned in an Extension group meeting.

Mrs. Ringgenberg is an artist at heart. All the holiday decorations in her home prove that. The egg shell ornaments are perfect little jewels.

First she blew out the contents of the shell. We asked her husband if he were tired of scrambled eggs. Then a coat of clear nail polish was applied to the empty shell. A window was cut in one side.

FINAL TOUCH

Each shell was then decorated with braid, jewels, sequins, pearls, glitter or rhinestones. Lacy gold or silver ribbon made a background inside and a bit of angel hair lent an ethereal air. The final touch came when a tiny figurine was fastened in the center of each shell.

Since she has been doing this for 11 months, many of Mrs. Ringgenberg's friends and relatives have brought her the little figures to use.

One very feminine ornament is pink and white. Pearls and gold and pink braid trim the outside. In the center is a wee pink rose.

Another one has blue braid, rhinestones and single "jewels" on the outside. Inside is the smallest silver ornament you can imagine.

A light-hearted one shows a red feather Santa Claus seated in the shell.

But the ones we thought the loveliest have angels in them. There are angels playing harps and other musical instruments. Angels are singing from a song book. Angels just standing in the shell.

The Ringgenberg tree stands on the porch in the window corner. At the opposite end of this room there is a table tree made of white pine cones. These Mrs. Ringgenberg gilded and placed on a base in tree form.

For lights she uses the little floral lights that have come out in the last year or so. Two carved wooden deer stand guard over this tree.

But the majestic green tree at the other end compels the eye. It is truly a thing of beauty.

For Her Closet

(UPI) — Pretty up your closet with a small laundry bag designed to hold stockings, lingerie, and other small, personal washables —otherwise lost at the bottom of the regular laundry hamper. Styles include a machine-washable drawstring bag made of terrycloth, a quilted taffetized plastic which wipes clean with a sudsy sponge, or a circular bag which is a whirl of tiny ruffles on plastic. All of these come in a choice of colors and have non-tarnish brass-plated hangers.

Soften the Stain

Tar, oil and grease stains always have a way of catching up with the male attire, even if the wearer's most strenuous labors entail involve mowing the lawn. When deposit is heavy, wipe or scrape off as much as possible, then rub in vaseline or lard to soften the stain. Follow with usual washing procedure.

You can add shredded coconut to a regular lemon filling for cake. Nice served with a topping of whipped cream!

Here is a close-up of two of the ornaments Mrs. Ringgenberg makes from eggshells. The one at the top has a harp-playing angel in it. The outside is decorated with beads and braid. The lower one shows a Madonna scene. Braid and individual jewels decorate the outside of this one. Underneath the lower one you may see an ornament holding a violin-playing angel.

Loyal Philathea Holds Program

Fifty members and friends of the Loyal Philathea Class of First Baptist Church met for their annual Christmas party Tuesday in the church.

A skit "Four Roads to Bethlehem," presented by class members, was directed by Mrs. Joseph Minton.

After a gift exchange, Mrs. Doris Cox and her committee served refreshments.

Decorations and entertainment were arranged by Mrs. Pearl Hudson and Ina Slater.

Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Lavery of Pioneer Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Karen Annette to John E. Smith, son of the Elbert Smiths of Marshall Street.

The bride-elect attended Kalamazoo College and her fiance plans to return to Lawrence Institute of Technology. A June wedding date is set.

Fits Slim Spaces

(UPI) — A tall and slim laundry basket of polyethylene fits in slim spaces too small for plumper baskets. The tall, slim one is suitable for sliding under the sink or into a broom closet.

MSUO Unit Will Fete 35 Children

Thirty-five youngsters from the Oakland County Children's Home will be feted at a Christmas party Monday at Michigan State University Oakland.

The Community Service Committee of the Association of Women Students at MSUO is sponsoring the party which will have an entertainment program including a recital by the Modern Dance Club, music by the Hi-Fi Club, an all-student German band and carols by the MSUO choir.

The University's Dramatic Club will present "The Littlest Angel," starring Marilyn Kay Bell of Liberty Street.

Each child will be given a gift by Santa Claus. The gifts were collected as the admission charge to a recent student dance.

Students active in the party project include Joanne Hill, Nancy Carter, Marge Swoboda, Alex Gassel and Ronald Hites, all of Rochester; Judy Noren, Brenda Craddock, Evelyn Lasater, Cynthia Maloney and Ava Houk, all of Pontiac.

Others assisting are Thomas Kenney of Royal Oak, Carol Streeter of Romeo, Julie Becker of Detroit and Neil Smith of Fall River, Mass.

Opens Her Home to Church Guild

Mrs. Robert Green of Turtle Lake was hostess for the December meeting of the Women's Guild of Cross of Christ Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Delayne Pauling opened the Monday meeting with an Advent devotion, "We Light a Candle." Mrs. Howard Preston spoke on the "Christmas Customs of Sweden," and the Rev. Pauling showed slides on "Stories About Our Christmas Traditions."

Members are sponsoring a Christmas candy sale from which proceeds will benefit a guild project.

Hard to Explain . . . Wanting to 'Go Slow'

If you make a long trip by train today when you could take a jet you are considered a bit eccentric.

Your friends will ask how long the train trip takes and then explain patiently as though to a child how fast you could cover the same distance by jet.

"But I'm not in any hurry," you try to explain. "So why should I cross the country in one giant hop, seeing nothing between airports but clouds when I could roll along, hour after hour, watching America go by?

"Besides, on a plane your fellow passengers are just so many individuals in a hurry—interested in only one thing, getting where they are going as fast as possible. To them a good trip is simply a safe take-off and landing and a smooth flight.

"But passengers on a long train trip are different. They aren't just trying to get some place; they're taking a journey. They relax and get acquainted and talk politics and business and make light conversation.

"It's as though each one were thinking, 'I have all this time on my hands when I don't have to do anything at all, so I might as well lean back and enjoy it.' You don't find people in that mood very often these days—and it's a nice experience."

Besides making a trip long instead of short, in point of time, gives a traveler a chance to adjust to the change from what he has left behind to what he faces ahead.

It's wonderful "thinking" time if he wants to think.

All of that is a little hard to explain in this age of speed. It makes you sound as odd as trying to explain to the person who offers you a lift when you are walking that you are walking for fun or trying to explain why you hope the town you live in doesn't get any bigger.

It's bucking progress—wanting to go slower, instead of wanting to go faster. Maybe that's why it is so hard to explain.

Seems Kennedy Has Picked Bunch of Managers

Cool Efficiency Characterizes Cabinet

By JAMES MARLOW

He has been patiently surrounding himself with a bunch of managers.

Each of his five Cabinet appointments appears to be an extremely well-controlled, unassuming, non-flamboyant individual who so far, at least, has carefully avoided the kind of pronouncements which make headlines.

Each, judging from the way he handled himself in the past, appears likely to follow the same quiet pattern. None seems to be the kind who will, naturally or deliberately, seek to dominate the show.

The Eisenhower administration wasn't very old before Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Treasury Secretary George Humphrey were both dominant forces. And President Eisenhower leaned on both tremendously.

NO GRANDSTANDERS

None of Kennedy's top appointments has such national prominence that he is apt to overshadow the president. Nothing in the background of any of them indicates he would want to.

With one exception—Stewart L. Udall of Arizona whom Kennedy chose as his secretary of the Interior—all the top appointees are men actually coming out of managerial jobs of one kind or other.

Two are governors: Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, the new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, who will be secretary of Commerce.

Dean Rusk, whom Kennedy named this week as his secretary of State, had in effect a very special managerial job. He was head of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Kennedy's budget director, David Elliott Bell, comes out of Harvard where he was both teacher of economics and secretary of the Littauer School of Public Administration.

Tuesday Kennedy picked Robert S. McNamara right out of a top management job to be his secretary of Defense. McNamara is president of the Ford Co.

Even the three men he picked for jobs next to the top or close to it had managerial experience as governors: Rep. Chester Bowles, D-Conn., undersecretary of State; Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations; and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, assistant secretary of State for African affairs.

The president-elect, in his search for the key men who will help him run the government, apparently sought the best advice he could get on the best men for the jobs when he didn't have strong opinions of his own.

He knew Udall, Ribicoff, Hodges, Bowles, Stevenson and Williams. But he never had met Rusk or McNamara until this past week. And he hardly knew Bell.

Facts on a Denier

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A denier is a unit of weight, equaling the weight in grams of 9,000 meters of yarn. An indication of its thickness is that a hair from the average human head is about 50 denier. The lowest denier nylon yarn ever produced was six denier.

Pilots to Answer Quesada Today

Charges Plane Safety Indifference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House air safety investigation today summoned spokesmen for private and airline pilots to answer charges of indifference and opposition to plane safety measures.

Elwood R. Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency, told the House Aeronautics subcommittee Wednesday that some airlines and plane crews had shown "disturbing indifference" to safety rules.

He accused the Aircraft Pilots and Owners Association of using "misrepresentation, distoration and invective" in an effort to block safety regulations.

The subcommittee called for answers to the allegations today from J. B. Hartranft Jr., president of the owners and pilots association, which represents about 80,000 private pilots, and from representatives of the Airline Pilots Association.

'SHOCKING INCIDENT'

The lawmakers are conducting a study of the two-year-old FAA. Quesada told the subcommittee he is trying to revoke the license of an airline captain who turned his plane over to an unqualified pilot.

He cited what he termed the "shocking incident" as an example of the "laxness" which his agency's sweeping air safety regulations are designed to wipe out.

Quesada, whose safety measures have come under fire from many airline and private pilots, did not identify the airline or the men involved in the incident.

But he said the regular captain on the flight turned over the plane to another captain during a stop on his route, even though the second pilot was not qualified to fly it.

The aviation agency is trying to revoke the licenses of both men.

The aviation chief said that "comparable instances of laxness and inattention to fundamentals" have turned up in the field of plane maintenance.

As a result, he said inspection procedures have been tightened and changes made in maintenance operations.

Quesada disclosed that the government will require commercial airlines to install voice recorders in the cockpits of all their planes to obtain more detailed evidence on the cause of air crashes.

The recorders would be working all the time the plane was in flight.

WOULDN'T EAVESDROP

But they are built so that only the last several minutes of a conversation would be preserved.

This would get around any charge of unnecessary eavesdropping, Quesada said, but still would give accident investigators an "indelible record of the last few minutes in the cockpits of planes which are involved in total disaster."

The recorder would be enclosed in an indestructable package.

Quesada did not say what the deadline would be for installing the devices.

PCH Has Crucial SVC Test Friday; PNH Opens I-L Title Defense

Flint Central Invades City to Play Chiefs

Unbeaten Indians Have Piled Up 174 Points in Two Games

By BILL CORNWELL

How to stop a potent offensive machine — that's Pontiac Central's No. 1 problem Friday evening when the Chiefs collide with Flint Central in a vitally important Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game at the PCH gymnasium.

Defense, a glaring PCH weakness so far, will be put to the severest possible test by a Flint Central team which has scored 174 points in two games.

Coach Joe Dowdy's raccehorse Indians opened the 1960-61 season with a 98-81 triumph over Lansing Eastern, then tipped off their Saginaw Valley campaign last Friday with a 76-38 massacre of Bay City Central.

The Chiefs lost their Valley opener last Friday at Saginaw, a 59-56 setback at the hands of Arthur Hill, to get off on the wrong foot in the league.

Their loss to the pesky Hillites hurt their chances of retaining the SVC crown and makes it a long, hard, uphill struggle. Another defeat in the circuit could be fatal.

Pontiac has been extremely faulty in two phases of the game to date — defense and passing.

The Chiefs have failed to make necessary defensive maneuvers and adjustments on the court and their ball handling has been sloppy and careless, resulting in many floor violations.

On numerous occasions they have given up the ball without getting off a shot, a thing that can't be done against rugged Valley competition. To make matters worse, their shooting has been very cold.

They shot well in their 71-55 triumph over Edsel Ford, but their eyes went from bad to worse in the 54-42 loss to Grosse Pointe and the loss to Arthur Hill.

The high-scoring Indians have shown excellent balance. Five different players have contributed more than 20 points to their attack and Jim Merriweather, their 6-foot-5 center, has 14 despite missing the Bay City game due to an injured ankle.

Dick Horning, a 6-2 guard, is their leading scorer with 35 points. Forward Cheyer Pitcher-son has tallied 30 points, center Jim Toles 24, guard Jerry Roberson 24, and guard Rick Moore 23.

Van Ryzin has really been working the Chiefs hard in practice this week in an attempt to snap them out of their bad habits and get them back on the winning track.

George Fed, who missed the first two games because of a football injury, is gradually rounding into shape and he showed flashes of his old brilliance at Arthur Hill in his first start by scoring 12 points and grabbing 18 rebounds. He's nowhere near peak form yet, however.

This week's PCH drills have centered around six players — Fed, Dennis Diehm, Andy Roach, Paul Brown, Bradell Prichett and Willie Ratliff, a sharp-shooting ouside gunner who has moved up to the varsity unit from the reserves.

Little Bob Smith and Clarence Douglas have been disappointing in practice and may not see too much action. Pritchett also is on the spot.

Dick McCauley is lost to the Chiefs indefinitely with bursitis of the knee, an aftermath of football, and lanky Otto Kennedy has returned to the junior varsity for more seasoning.

The PCH-Flint Central battle will start about 8 p.m.

Two other Valley games are scheduled tomorrow night as the league race swings into its 2nd week. Flint Northern entertains Arthur Hill and Bay City Central goes to Saginaw High.

Yost, Sisler Top Tigers Picked by New AL Clubs

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers lost little as the American League stocked its two new clubs with a mixture of shop-worn regulars and untried rookies.

Eddie Yost was the regular Tiger third basemen the last two seasons. In 1960, at 33, he slumped to .248 with 14 home runs and only 47 runs batted in. Yost went to the Los Angeles Angels yesterday. Rookie Steve Boros already had been named the Tigers third baseman in 1961.

Pete Burnside was a part-time starting pitcher with an ordinary 7-7 record with the Tigers last season. The left hander was claimed by the new Washington Senators.

Dave Sisler was the Tigers' best relief pitcher. He had a 7-5 record and an excellent .248 earned run average. The Senators took Sisler.

Reserve shortstop Coot Veal also was lost to Washington. Despite a .297 batting average for 27 games, the Tigers were looking beyond Veal for next season.

Yost, Burnside, Sisler and Veal were the best of the lot the Tigers lost. But they didn't count in manager Bob Scheffing's 1961 plans.

"We're a little short on relief pitching now," said Rick Ferrell, Detroit's general manager without title. "But we'll survive and we weren't hurt too badly."

Hank Aguirre and Terry Fox, picked up in the Frank Bolling trade with Milwaukee, will be the mainstays of Scheffling's bullpen—unless another reliever is acquired in a deal.

The Tigers also lost rookie catcher Bob Rodgers and rookie pitchers Aubrey Gatewood and Bob Sprout from their varsity roster. Steve Bilko, who started as the Tigers' regular first baseman last year, was claimed from the Denver farm. All four went to the Angels.

The loss of the rookies could hurt the Tigers in the future.

"Rodgers is the best catcher in our farm system," said Ed Katalinas, the Tigers' chief scout.

Catching is where the Tigers need the most help. But Rodgers, a good receiver, hit Southern Association pitching at only a .246 clip last season. He had been in the Tiger farm system since 1957.

Gatewood had a 9-5 record at Duluth in the Class C Northern League. Sprout had a 13-7 record at Decatur in the Class B Midwest League. But Sprout was one of Detroit's more promising farm hands. One of his victories was a no-hitter and he turned in 22 strikeouts in a game.

Ken Hamlin, the Battle Creek and Western Michigan youth who played shortstop at Kansas City, was taken by the Angels. Duke Maas, an ex-Tiger from Utica, Mich., was claimed by Los Angeles from the New York Yankee mound corps.

Big Bowlerama Stakes for Finalists Sunday

The battle for the big stakes in the 6th annual Pontiac Press Bowlerama takes place on Sunday at Lakewood Lanes with 141 bowlers competing for the handicap and actual prizes.

Nearly $2,600 in prize money and trophies will be shared by all the qualifiers and the top actual bowlers.

The big pot naturally is the guaranteed first prize which now amounts to $325 as the prize fund was broken down to raise the amounts in the top 17 places.

Every qualifier is assured of at least $10, and as low as 13th place gets $20.

Lakewood has been the scene of practice rounds by many entries this week, all warming up for the big finale.

Currently, all averages are being checked. The official list of squads and times will be printed Friday in The Press.

Bowling will start at 10:30 a.m. at Lakewood. The final squad will go at 2:15 p.m. with the last seven handicap finalists and the first squad of actual bowlers.

Bowlers must register before taking the alleys. They must pay for their bowling, but there is no additional entry fee.

Every bowler MUST bowl with his assigned squad. Failure to report for starting time will bring an alternate into the squad.

Each qualifying house has been assigned three alternates. If a bowler fails to appear, then the alternate from the house in which he qualified will move into his position.

All bowlers in the Actual's meet will bowl scratch. Those in the handicap portion of the Bowlerama will be given handicaps according to the averages on their entry blank or the average which has been obtained after checking.

A tie for either the handicap or actual's championship will mean a three-game roll-off. The loser automatically taking the runnerup position. No roll-offs will be held for other positions.

The presentation of awards will be held Tuesday night, December 20th, starting at 6:00 p.m. at the 300 Lounge, on Elizabeth Lake Road.

Hillsdale Quits MIAA Membership

By DON VOGEL

DETROIT — At a press conference held at 10 a.m. today in Detroit's Fort Shelby Hotel, Hillsdale College announced it was breaking relations with the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA).

Thus ended a 72-year-old relationship with the conference, one of the oldest in the country.

Donald Phillips, Hillsdale College president, said that the school of some 700 nondenominational students will operate as an athletic independent for the time being.

Hillsdale quit the MIAA as the result of a two-year suspension handed it by league officials last week because of its participation in the Mineral Bowl Nov. 26.

Last year, league presidents decided that no team in the eight-team circuit should play in any kind of postseason game in any sport. The presidents did not say what kind of penalty might be invoked in case of a violation.

Hillsdale, charter member of the MIAA, argued that the suspension was illegal.

The school has dominated football in the MIAA for many years. It participated in the Holiday Bowl in Florida two years ago. The Dales have suffered only one MIAA football loss in the last seven years, the period of coach Muddy Waters. It won the title outright six of seven years and tied for the other.

The MIAA was organized in March 1888 and the schools included Alma, Adrian, Albion, Calvin, Kalamazoo, Hope and Olivet along with Hillsdale.

Players Select Pietrosante Top Lion Gridder

DETROIT (AP)—Fullback Nick Pietrosante has been elected most valuable player on the Detroit Lions club.

The second year man from Notre Dame, who needs 60 yards to set an all-time season rushing record for the club, was named by his teammates. Defensive halfback Dick (Night Train) Lane was second in the voting and end Jim Gibbons was third.

Coach George Wilson announced results of the balloting after yesterday's practice. The Lions close out the regular season Sunday here against Chicago.

Honolulu Eyed After Purchase of Sacramento

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pacific Coast League bought the 57-year-old Sacramento franchise Wednesday night. The league's directors fly to Honolulu today in hopes of selling it.

Dewey Soriano, president of the league, said the PCL paid $55,000 to the owners of the Sacramento club with most of the money to be used in paying off the Solons' debts.

Armstrong, Turnesa Win Scotch Foursome Event

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Gloria Armstrong of Oakland, Calif., climaxed a brilliant performance with an eight-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a sudden death playoff to give her and her partner, Jim Turnesa of Rye, N.Y., the top purse of $2,000 in a $15,000 scotch foursome tournament.

Hall Posts 3rd Shutout in NHL

By The Associated Press

Glen Hall, Chicago's iron man goal tender, is making a strong bid along with Johny Bower of Toronto to break Jacques Plante's strangle hold on the National Hockey League's Vezina Trophy.

With Plante, winner of the trophy for the last five years, sidelined by injuries, Bower and Plante are running one-two in the race for the league's goal minding honors.

Bower holds a slight edge with 2.59 goals scored against average. But Hall, who has played in 383 successive games, closed Wednesday night as he posted his third shutout of the campaign in the Black Hawks' 4-0 victory over the New York Rangers. Three shutouts is tops for the league this season and lowered Hall's average to 2.96.

REBOUND BATTLE — Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors and Jackie Moreland of the Detroit Pistons engage in a rebound battle in the first period of their game yesterday at the Olympia. Bailey Howell (18) of the Pistons and Ed Conlin (7) of the Warriors are in the background. The Pistons won, 134-126.

Howell Sparks Pistons to Win Over Warriors

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons not only beat the top team and the top scorer in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association, but they set a season record doing it.

Detroit's 134-126 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors last night marked the highest total posted by the Pistons this season. Their previous high was 131.

And by knocking off Philadelphia, which leads the East with a 19-9 record, they sliced the Warriors' hold on first place to a single game over the Boston Celtics.

And by holding mighty Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain to 30 points, the Pistons caused him to fall under his season's per-game average of 37.4.

Bailey Howell, who outscored Chamberlain by burning in 38 points, led the Detroit attack, even though he and his teammates had to overcome a 10-0 deficit at the start.

After Philadelphia's runaway start, Howell, ably assisted by Gene Shue, powered the Pistons ahead and the Detroit club held a slim 32-31 lead at the end of the first period.

The Pistons dropped in 21 of 24 foul shots in the second period to expand their lead to 71-65 at halftime. But the Warriors bounced back in the second half and the lead see-sawed wildly and was tied five times in the early minutes of the final quarter before Howell got two baskets and a pair of charities to put Detroit in front to stay.

Shue scored 28 points for Detroit and Paul Arizin 25 for the Warriors.

Huskies Meet Skipper Quint at Waterford

Walled Lake to Face Berkley as I-L Race Gets Under Way

By DON VOGEL

Pontiac Northern opens defense of its Inter-Lakes League basketball championship Friday night at Waterford.

The Huskies, who have downed two straight non-league foes, will be favored. Waterford has not looked too impressive losing its initial two starts.

Coach Dick Hall's veteran quintet will be after its 11th straight I-L victory. The Huskies have never been beaten in the league play.

PNH joined the league for the first time last season and defeated each of the other five teams twice for a 10-0 mark on the way to gaining the title.

After some first half shooting difficulties, PNH players found the range and blasted Rochester in their opener. Tuesday night the Huskies were hard-pressed by West Bloomfield before pulling out a 10-point triumph.

Steve Thompson, Mike Fedynik and Bruce Norton have been the big scorers for PNH. Thompson, who stands 6-1, is the leading rebounder.

While Pontiac Northern has been beating non-league foes, the other teams in the I-L cannot make the same claim. Waterford, for one, has found outside competition rough.

Coach Jerry Wallace is having trouble finding the right combination of players on his roster. A more balanced attack is also needed.

In the opening loss to Wayne, Bob Newman scored over half the Skippers' points. Then against Fordson on Tuesday, Newman was held to one field goal. Ed Stigers came up with 14 points and Dave Goff hit 11.

If the Skippers can get together on their point-making, they could be tough.

Two other I-L games are scheduled. Farmington is at Southfield and Walled Lake travels to Berkley.

Farmington's lone win has been over outclassed Birmingham Groves. This game should be rated a toss up. Southfield has failed to hit the victory column in two starts.

Walled Lake holds a one point triumph over weak Rochester. But a black mark on the Vikings' record is the upset loss to Cranbrook. Berkley has failed to win its two non-league encounters. But the home team has played better competition.

The combined record of Inter-Lakes teams against outside competition is 4-8. And PNH holds two of those wins.

Royals Find Victory Road

After two defeats, the Lakeside Royals broke into the victory column in Class A City League basketball action with a 65-47 rout of Van Dikes last night at Pontiac Central.

Sam Soles sparked the Royals with 21 points and teammate Jim Gardner added 18. Willie Lindsay and Amos Bailey had 17 apiece for the losers.

Tom Butler tallied 23 points to feature the Commerce Lakers' 53-31 decision over Griff's Grill in Class B activity. Bill York bagged 22 in defeat.

In Class C play, Smith's Fuel drubbed Felice Market, 63-25, and Doolin's Service trounced Booth Builders, 53-31.

McDonald's walloped the All-Stars, 46-28, and Tuck's Trotters trimmed the Knights, 49-34, in Class D games at Lincoln Junior High.

Ex-MSU Star Walker Makes 46 in Defeat

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland survived a last-minute surge by Denver Wednesday night to eke out a 120-119 National Industrial Basketball League victory.

Cleveland had an 11-point margin with 2:50 to go, but at that point Cleveland ace Dan Swartz fouled out, and Denver closed fast.

Sparking the Denver attack was 6-foot-3 Horace Walker, who round up with 46 points, Swartz and Ben Warley led Cleveland with 25 each.

BOWLING Fault Finder

CROSSING OVER

By Bob Kwolek

A bowler may fool himself as I do, too—when he is lucky enough to pick up a couple of strikes on the Brooklyn side by hitting the 1-2.

I'll take strikes any way I can get them. But crossing over usually means that your armswing and follow through technique is fouled up.

On occasion, in an effort to put good stuff on the ball, bowlers will overturn the ball, then thick the hand and arm across the body like a sidearming pitcher. When we commit this error, the ball spins a great deal, but also curves too much to the wrong side.

Leave the 1-2 pocket to left-handed bowlers. Follow through straight up with the arm to at least eye level.

Lift the ball with the fingers to apply hooking action.

Orion Plays Tonight, Big Loop Slate Friday

Lake Orion will be seeking to even its Oakland B record tonight when the Dragons travel to Clawson.

A full slate of games is scheduled Friday night.

Dave Reed and his Lake Orion teammates, pre-season favorites in the Oakland B, are having troubles. The Oak Park upset opening night started things. Then came a win over Madison.

But Fitzgerald handed the Dragons a 1-2 record Tuesday night. Clawson is 1-1 in league play.

Oakland B games Friday night are Troy at Oak Park and Madison at Fitzgerald. Avondale, winner of two straight by a total of four points, is idle until Jan. 6.

Two Suburban Catholic games will be played within five minutes' walk of each other. St. Clement plays St. Michael at Pontiac Northern and St. Frederick hosts St. James in the Madison Junior High Gym. Madison and PNH are connected by hallways. All four teams have 1-1 league records.

The loop's only unbeaten teams, Royal Oak St. Mary and St. Rita, are in action. RO St. Mary entertains winless St. Benedict and Orchard Lake St. Mary seeks its first win on the St. Rita floor.

The big contest in the Wayne-Oakland sends Milford to Holly. Both teams have 2-0 marks in league play. Holly appears to have too much balance and experience for the visitors.

Clarkston, also unbeaten in league play, is a solid favorite at winless Northville. Brighton, the fourth team sporting a 2-0 mark, could run into trouble at West Bloomfield. The Lakers showed definite improvement in the loss to Pontiac Northern.

Bloomfield Hills will be heavily favored to record its first league win at hapless Clarenceville.

In South Central play, Ortonville will be Millington's first league opponent. The game will be at Millington. Oxford will be looking for its first win of the season at home against North Branch. Imlay City is idle.

The win over Capac last week has made Brown City the favorite in the Southern Thumb. Almont will host Brown City. Capac will be trying to rebound on its own floor against Armada. New Haven, tied with Brown City for first place, is at winless Dryden. Anchor Bay travels to Memphis.

Rochester, still looking for its second win, has a Tri-County date at L'Anse Creuse. Romeo is at Roseville in the other league game. Lapeer travels to Owosso.

East Detroit plays at Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball is at Port Huron in the EML. Grosse Pointe plays at Royal Oak Dondero. Cranbrook will be the underdog at South Lyon.

Maumee (Ohio) plays at unbeaten Country Day. St. Patrick plays at Royal Oak Shrine. Pontiac Emmanuel will seek its first win at home against Whitmore Lake. Wayne St. Mary is at Farmington OLS.

Sylvan Retains Lead at Huron

Chicovsky Rolls 663 to Pace Top Classic Team; Shell Hits 649

Sylvan Center retained its slim Huron Bowl Classic lead with a two game win over Oakland Mill Supply while second place Calbi Music Company stayed a notch off the pace with a similar edge from Oakland Coin. George Chicovsky, top average kegler in the Classic, blazed a 213-212-238, 663 to once more lead his team's scoring.

Westside Mobil moved up to third spot with a double win at the expense of Mel Eller Builders. Clark Balch topped the winners with 607, although Bob Lawson's 242 was the high game of the match.

Pasquale's Pizzeria applied the whitewash to Auburn Lanes who dropped to fifth. Joe Myers posted the night's best game, a 256 in 611, but his teammates could not muster enough help to win a game. Paul Karas and Mark Bowers paced the winners with sets of 620 and 607.

Felice Quality Market also swept three games as Joe Bonfiglio fired a 612. Felice won another shutout when they made up a postponed match with Double Cola, the double win boosting them into the first division.

Stroh's Beer took a pair from Montcalm Centre and Collier Lanes used a 602 by Wes Collier to turn the same trick with Double Cola.

Gene Shell strung games of 201-247-201 for a 649 to feature a two game win for Sno-Boi over Pfeiffer's Beer. Teammate Ted Sutton added a 612, and loser Kenny Hill had 605.

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!
CHEVROLET
Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

I-beam type front axle. A stiff-beam design that transmits road shock right through the truck.

Wake Forest Cagers Topple N.C. State

By The Associated Press

There is going to be a pretty rugged scrap for the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball title again this season, but hold on—three months of sweat and tears can be dissipated by a 3-day tournament.

In other words, the guys who finish on top after the regular season, can be just another bunch of Joes when the tournament is ended.

Wake Forest's Demon Deacons, who tied for the conference crown with North Carolina last spring with 12-2 records, edged North Carolina State Wednesday night, 68-67. Previously unbeaten N. C. State, tenth ranked nationally, was favored to win after copping four in a row.

Last season Duke wound up fourth in the conference race, with a 7-7 record. Wake Forest had whipped the Blue Devils twice in the regular season by handsome margins. But the Dukes got hot in the Journey finals, and won from the Deacons, going on to the NCAA tournament scramble. Wake Forest disbanded and waited for this season.

Billy Packer converted 6-for-6 free throws in the last 2½ minutes at Raleigh, N.C., Wednesday night to keep the Deacons in front of a late rallying N.C. State team. He had 8-for-8 from the free throw line, and led the scoring with 22 points, 18 in the last half. Bob DiStefano got 17 for the Wolfpack. The win gave Wake Forest a 3-2 record.

* * *

Duke, ranked No. 8 nationally, invades Clemson tonight. Wake Forest plays at Virginia Friday night, and then moves on to College Park, Md., for an explosive conference clash with Maryland Saturday.

Maryland maintained its unbeaten record by defeating Georgetown, 78-67. Sophomore Bill Staisiulatis connected on 14 of 15 free throws and led the scoring with 22 points. Paul Tagliague had 16 for Georgetown, which made only 15 of 29 foul shots compared to Maryland's 32-44 from the gift lane.

Bradley, the nation's No. 2 team, pulverized touring Nevada 95-59, and ran its season record to 5-0. The Braves, winning their 38th straight home game, held a 54-23 halftime lead, and used 15 players. Chet Walker had 25 points and Tim Robinson 23 for Bradley.

Holy Cross, Dayton, Pennsylvania, DePaul, Colorado, Providence and Chicago Loyola continued on the unbeaten trail.

Rebound control helped give Dayton an 84-69 victory over its old rival, Miami of Ohio. The Flyers grabbed 69 rebounds to 36 for Miami, and led 39-20 at halftime. Jack Foley of Holy Cross scored 25 points as the Crusaders thumped Boston University 83-51, for a fourth straight triumph.

Penn made it five straight by swamping winless Swarthmore 92-41, with John Canzano scoring 16 points for the winners. Chicago Loyola won its fifth in a row, beating off a late Missouri rally for a 86-62 victory. Missouri's Charles Henke tallied 33 points, and Loyola's Jim Mini and Gerry Harkness each hit 20. DePaul's Howie Carl stole a pass in the final 20 seconds and dropped in a 15-foot goal to beat Bowling Green of Ohio 62-60.

Two free throws by Wilky Gilmore, who scored 35 points, gave Colorado's unbeaten Buffs a double overtime 89-87 victory over New Mexico State, and Providence made it five straight by nipping San Francisco 54-47.

Colgate also remained undefeated in five starts, whipping Alfred 96-58. But Maine, and Rochester tumbled from the unbeaten ranks, Rhode Island trimmed Maine 77-72 in a Yankee Conference game, and Cornell whipped Rochester 97-81. Canisius made its record 3-0 by defeating Siena 63-54.

Temple scored its fifth victory in six games by downing Lafayette, 69-50, and Michigan broke away from a 30-28 halftime margin to trounce barnstorming Idaho, 68-57.

In a Philadelphia Palestra doubleheader, Villanova overpowered Fordham 92-34, and LaSalle made its record 4-1 by breaking a 31-3 halftime tie to beat Bucknell 79-69.

The Quantico Marines gained the finals of their Christmas invitational tournament for the seventh time in seven seasons since it was invented by defeating American University 83-73. Quantico meets Belmont Abbey, 73-71 winner over Jacksonville (Fla.) University.

Strack Beats Old School

Michigan Whips Idaho

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Many a basketball coach wonders how he'd fare coaching against himself, and by virtue of Michigan's 68-57 victory over Idaho here last night, Dave Strack knows.

Idaho, with many of its players remaining from the crew that Strack coached there last year — before transferring back to U. of M. — bore a striking resemblance to Strack's current Michigan team. Both have beef up front and play a controlled pattern-type offense, but Michigan had a wide edge in scoring balance.

With flashy John Tidwell showing the way, Michigan built a 30-28 halftime lead to 51-38 and coasted easily to its second victory in six starts.

In the first 12 minutes of the second half, Michigan rolled up 21 points while holding Idaho to a pair of baskets and six free throws.

Don Petroff tallied 14 points and three other U. of M. players added at least eight each. Michigan outshot Idaho 27-18 from the floor but had a bad night at the foul line, dropping only half of its 28 attempts.

The game was the 'Wolverines' last home appearance until Dec. 28 when they meet Brown University here. In the meantime, Michigan will make a two-game western round trip, facing Wichita Dec. 19 and Denver Dec. 21.

Ohio State Leads Way in Biggest Year Ever

College Grid Crowds Top 20 Million

By The Associated Press

With Ohio State leading the way for the sixth time in the last eight years, college football attendance this season passed the 20-million mark for the first time.

The gate was up 788,065, second largest one-year increase in recorded history, the National Collegiate Athletic Association Service Bureau reported today.

It was the seventh straight year of college football attendance gains.

Close conference races plus favorable weather, brought out 20,403,409 spectators for the game played by the 620 senior colleges, a 4.02 per cent boost over 1959. This set records of 7,523 per game and 32,090 per home schedule.

The total attendance was 751,514 higher than the record set in 1949. The old mark of 7,281 per game and 31,199 per home schedule was set in 1959.

For the past five years, the total turnout has increased 3,136,859, of 18 per cent, an average gain of 1,315 per game.

Some major college conferences reported decreases, such as the West Coast's Big Five, the Ivy League and Southwest Conference.

Weather played a big part in the over-all increase, with only 13.6 per cent of games played under favorable conditions this year compared with 41.6 per cent in 1959.

For five home games, Ohio State drew 413,583 fans, an average of 82,717, compared with 495,536 and an average of 82,589 in 1959.

Michigan State was second, drawing 274,367 fans in four games, an average of 68,592 per contest, compared with a five game mark of 282,327, and a 46,465 average in 1959.

The attendance figures for teams averaging 10,000 or more a game included:

1959	Games	Attend.	Avg.
Michigan State	5	282,327	56,465
Michigan	6	456,385	76,064
Detroit	5	81,096	16,219
1960
Michigan State	4	274,367	68,592
Michigan	6	274,622	52,447
Detroit	5	79,273	15,055

Lakers Finally Beat Hawks

By The Associated Press

The leaders in both divisions of the National Basketball Association took their lumps Wednesday night, but the Philadelphia Warriors felt it a little harder than did the St. Louis Hawks.

The Warriors had their Eastern Division lead shaved to one game after a 134-126 loss to Detroit. Boston, in second place, was idle or the consequences could have even been more severe.

St. Louis' lead in the west is still a healthy seven games over Los Angeles, whom they lost to, 124-113, for the first time this season. In the other NBA game, Cincinnati defeated New York 121-114.

St. Louis led for most of the first half but some fine defensive work by the Lakers' Rudy LaRusso and Tom Hawkins, and the ability to cool off, a red-hot Clyde Lovellette early took its toll.

LaRusso and Hawkins helped hold the Hawks' Bob Pettit to only 16 points, six in the second half. Lovellette scored only five after a 14-point first period splurge. Elgin Baylor of LA led all the scorers with 28 and rookie Jerry West had 24.

Arlen Bockhorn had his biggest night in three years with the NBA, scoring 35 points against the Knicks. Thirteen of these sparked a fourth period drive that brought Cincinnati from a 5-point deficit. Bockhorn had 14 of 20 field goals and got scoring help from Jack Twyman, with 27, and Oscar Robertson, who fouled out after scoring 22. Richie Guerin's 26 topped New York.

Plan to Trim 'Wick'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Giants plan to slim down their outfield acreage at Candlestick Park to make the windy stadium a bit easier for long ball hitters.

During 1960, only 77 homers were hit in the park, 46 by the Giants and 31 by visitors.

Chicago Cub Boss Job Still Unsettled

CHICAGO (AP)—Has owner P. K. Wrigley got the Chicago Cubs' managerial selection all gummed up?

The only owner in the majors without lights and a manager, says he doesn't care for the baseball term of "manager."

Meanwhile, there is the question of the status of Elvin Tappe. Tappe, 31, has been in the Cubs' system since 1947 and noted as a defensive catcher without speed or a hitting eye.

He has been mentioned prominently as the next pilot, skipper, field boss or what have you.

Also mentioned, among others, is Billy Jurges, former Cub shortstop and manager of the Boston Red Sox.

PCH Skater at Center for Leamington Team

Mike McCarthy, 18 year old Pontiac Central senior, who warmed the bench for the Junior Red Wings in the Border Cities Hockey League, has found a starting position with the Leamington Flyers.

The Flyers, currently 4-6, are in 9th place in the league. McCarthy starts at center.

There are several area players in the league including Jimmie Peters, one of the top scorers on the Detroit Junior Wings.

McCarthy started playing hockey in the Pontiac Recreation League and last year he was with the Argonauts in the Detroit Recreation League.

The Flyers are coached by Pete McGonegal of Detroit and the majority of the players are from Canada as are most in the seven team league.

The Flyers and the Junior Wings have played twice this year and have two more engagements, January 21st at Leamington and Feb. 6th in Detroit. Most of the Olympia games are played on Monday nights. Majority of the road games are Thursday and Friday nights.

9 Teams Listed

Indoor Soccer Scheduled

DETROIT — Indoor soccer will begin at the State Fair Coliseum on Monday, Dec. 26, officials of the Detroit Soccer League announced today.

Nine teams, including the champion St. Andrew Scots, will take part in the competition. Ten, once-a-week programs will be presented through March.

Other teams to participate include the Carpathia Kickers, the Ukrainians, the White Eagles, Sport Club, Kolping Rockets, Romans, Lazio and Windsor's Shamrocks.

There will be four games each weekend. Each game will be of 45 minutes duration, with seven players on each side.

The games will be played on the cement floor of the Coliseum. Most programs will be on Sunday. Starting times will be arranged so as not to conflict with Red Wings schedules.

The booters will wear tennis shoes for the indoor game rather than the hefty brogans used on grass.

The only concession to safety will be rubber mats around the nets — to protect the goalie.

Parseghian Indicates He's Still a Wildcat

MINNEAPOLIS, St. Paul (AP)—Ara Parseghian, one of the Minnesota Vikings' top half dozen choices for their head coaching job, apparently will stay at Northwestern.

Athletic Director Stu Holcomb said Wednesday Parseghian telephoned him from Cleveland and indicated he is not interested in the Viking job.

Lions' Year May Be Crowded Into One Game

Plenty at Stake in Sunday's NFL Tilt With Bears

Detroit Has a Chance to Win Title or Play in Runnerup Bowl

DETROIT (AP) — An entire season may be bunched into one football game for the Detroit Lions Sunday.

A loss by the Green Bay Packers on Saturday afternoon against the Los Angeles Rams will open the way for a title bid by the down, then up Lions.

Even if Green Bay wins the division title, the Lions will have plenty at stake in Sunday's clash against the already-eliminated Chicago Bears. A second-place finish can mean a spot in the NFL's first runner-up game at Miami on Jan. 7.

A game against the Bears always has plenty of enthusiasm, but this one has all the ingredients of the roughest game of the year. The two teams met in Chicago a few weeks ago and the Bears won 28-7.

An official decision was not rendered on the slam-bang fist fight that broke out between players of both clubs near the end of the game. The Lions claim they won it.

Coach George Wilson never has beaten his old teacher, George Halas. Since Wilson took over as coach of the Lions in 1957, the Detroit club holds only one triumph over the Bears — and that was in 1957 when Paddy Driscoll was handling the Bears.

A standing room crowd is assured.

A new Detroit club record may be set. Fullback Nick Pietrosante needs 60 yards to set an all-time season rushing record. Ace Gutowski set the mark with 827 yards in 1956.

The Bears will be fighting mad, Wilson figures, after taking a 42-0 pasting from the Cleveland Browns last Sunday and dropping out of title contention.

Named to Find Coach

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —A committee of nine men, six of them members of the school's faculty, was named today to recommend a new head football coach and athletic director at the University of Virginia.

Rams Badly Crippled for Game With Packers

Waterfield Is Gloomy Man

"Eight of our players, as of right now, aren't in condition to play Saturday against Green Bay," said Waterfield. "We barely squeaked by the Packers when we met them in Milwaukee, and only then because they made several mistakes. But with some of our vitally necessary players unable to play this week, we really are strapped."

Waterfield said that quarterback Frank Ryan definitely is out with a shoulder separation. End Gene Brito is on crutches with a badly twisted ankle. End Del Shofner has a bad ankle, too.

Lineman Lou Michaels can barely walk because of a leg injury. Linebacker Jack Pardee has a badly bruised and pulled foot muscle and cannot walk, and Waterfield said he sees no chance of him playing.

Fullback Joe Marconi has a deep thigh bruise and is confined to bed. John Baker, who was scheduled to start for Brito, has a shoulder point and a pinched nerve and hasn't been able to practice. Defensive tackle John Kennerson has a hip injury.

These injuries have necessitated these changes, Waterfield says:

Tom Wilson will start at fullback for Marconi. Charley Janerette will start at defensive left end. Bob Long, acquired from Detroit, will take over at Pardee's linebacking spot.

If Wilson cannot play he has some stitches in his left arm, hurt in the game against the San Francisco 49ers Ollie Matson may have to be taken from the defensive backfield and returned to fullback.

"If I sound gloomy, I am," said Waterfield.

If the Packers win here Saturday they will become the Western Conference champions of the National Football League. If they lose a playoff will be necessary to determine which team meets the Philadelphia Eagles for the pro football title.

New Alpine Valley Ski Area to Open Christmas Weekend

Alpine Valley, the 7th and newest ski area in the Pontiac area, is expected to have its slopes and clubhouse ready for public use for the Christmas weekend.

Located on M-59, just 10 miles west of Pontiac, Alpine Valley will feature four slopes, the largest at 1,300 feet.

Maximum capacity of skiers at any given time is set at 2,000.

The large chalet, of Swiss design, has a large cafeteria, open fireplace, ski shop and a rental shop.

Alpine Valley will have a constant Ski Patrol trained for first aid, and for beginners, instructors will be available through the ski school.

Free baby sitting service will be an added service on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The new area will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Saturday, Sunday and holidays throughout the entire ski season. The area has complete lighting.

* * *

Joe Kosik, Pontiac attorney, and Willis Stock of Vassar are the owners and developers of Alpine.

Two T-Bar lifts and six electric tow ropes will be in operation for the official opening Christmas weekend.

Snow machines have been installed and are being tested this week.

Yesterday afternoon, members of The Press received a sneak preview of the new ski area.

"Pizza" is one of the food features of the dining area.

Ski information from the Alpine Valley club can be obtained by calling MU 4-6551.

According to the Michigan Tourist Association, Alpine Valley is the 74th ski area in the state, thereby making Michigan the largest Winter Sports state east of the Rockies.

English Soccer Players United in Strike Move

LONDON (AP) — Professional soccer players of the North of England Wednesday lined up with the South and voted for a strike Jan. 14 unless demands for more pay and better contracts are met.

Players of the Midlands meet in Birmingham Thursday and they are almost certain to back the strike action.

There never has been a strike since league competition was formed in 1888, providing regular soccer games every Saturday.

The Footballers' Professional Association—a union of 2,700 players is behind the strike call. The players want freedom to negotiate their own terms, a percentage of transfer fees and abolition of the maximum weekly wage of $56.

The chiefs of 92 English League clubs offer to increase the maximum to $84 and have made no concessions about players negotiating their own contracts.

SKIER'S TREAT — Joe Kosik, Pontiac attorney and owner of the new Alpine Valley Ski Club, gives skiers Dore Case and Keith King a taste of the pizza which will be a feature of the club's dining room. The Alpine Valley area will open for public use Christmas weekend.

We Want to Know—

Do You Favor Doe Kill?

A big drop in the deer kill during the season just ended has resulted in the Conservation Department's deer management policies being attacked by individual hunters and organizations across the state.

The biggest complaint being lodged is directed at the program's "any deer" provision.

The Pontiac Press would like to know how the hunters feel about the program. Do they favor the taking of does and fawns or are they opposed? And why?

Replies should be addressed to Don Vogel, outdoor writer, The Pontiac Press.

Aussie Raps U.S. Netters

MELBOURNE (AP) — "In my 36 years in tennis I have seen nothing like it," the president of the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia said today concerning the conduct of the United States Davis Cuppers in their interzone match with Italy.

"It is beyond my comprehension how they could have behaved so badly," Norman W. Strange told the Melbourne Herald on his return from Perth where Italy beat the U. S. 3-2 in the best of five series.

"I was disgusted at their conduct. In all my years in tennis, I have never seen anything as bad. I did not see the final day, but the Americans conduct on the two previous days was deplorable."

Strange said he was "sure American officials would have been amazed" had they seen the matches in Perth. He added that he would write to the president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association "giving him the full facts of the American team's behavior."

Earl (Butch) Buchholz and Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, played for the U. S. in the matches.

Fishermen, Skaters in Action

Winter Activities Start at Kensington

Kensington Park near Milford has started operation of some of its winter facilities, according to David Laidlaw, park superintendent.

Ice fishing and ice skating are now permitted on Kent Lake in the part where the ice is from 3½ to 4 inches thick. Several hundred fishermen and skaters visited the part over the past weekend.

Catches were limited to crappies and bluegills.

While ice covers most of the 1,200 acre Kent Lake there is open water along the channels and ice fishermen are warned to stay close to shore.

Other facilities at this 4,500 acre recreational site include the winter sports area which will provide tobogganing and sledding when sufficient snow hits the area. Warming shelters are nearby.

There is a warming shelter at the ice rink area which provides skating nightly until 10:30 p.m.

At Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair, facilities will open officially Saturday when ice skating and ice fishing will be made available.

For the 10th consecutive year the Bait and Tackle shop will open at the 550 acre park.

The park provides recorded music at the 100' x 170' natural ice rink in front of the Food Bar where skating is permitted until 10:00 p.m. daily.

Ice skating will also start this week at the three natural rinks at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville.

For information of the Kensington Park facilities and on ice and snow conditions, winter sports fans can call MU 4-4245.

Battle Creek Cuts Firemen's Work Week

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The Battle Creek City Commission has authorized a cut from 67 to 63 hours in the work week of the 72 members of the city's fire fighting division effective Feb. 1. The city will hire four more firemen.

There will be no reduction in pay. This is in line with similar work week reductions approved earlier this year for other city employes.

The police department and workers in other city departments were placed on a 40-hour week in September and November. The previously had been working a 44-hour week.

Since an island-wide dog vaccination drive in 1958 there have been no human deaths from rabies on Formosa.

Girl, 11, Key Suspect in $101 Cafe Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP)—"I'm not a dirty blonde, and I ain't 14 years old. The guy that said that is a blockhead."

That was what Cincinnati detectives said a girl, 11, told them Wednesday as she—two men, three teen-age girls and a teen-age boy were taken into custody in connection with a $101 holdup of a cafe here Tuesday night.

The girl was identified as Kathy Porter. Officers said she was the youngster who accompanied the two men into the cafe and ordered, "We'll have no killing," after one of the men fired a shotgun blast into the floor and had threatened to kill the bartender, James Land, 66.

The youngster had been identified in a newspaper story as being about 14 and as being a "pretty but dirty blonde girl."

The two men were ordered held for further investigation and the juveniles were sent to the youth center.

Approve Meter Maids Over Woman's Protest

EAU CLARE, Wis. (UPI) —The City Council yesterday overrode the objections of Councilwoman Mrs. Bessie Lee and approved plans to hire meter maids to monitor the city's parking meters.

Mrs. Lee objected on grounds that Eau Claire men are having enough trouble finding jobs without female competition.

The plan passed after Council President W. R. Waters said meter maids would do a better job because "the women don't have to take the guff from drivers that men would."

Greer Garson Brightens Hollywood by Planning More Brisk Movie Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I became an actress because living one life wasn't enough for me. Now I'm living more than one life, and acting is only one of them."

This was how Greer Garson described the current state of her career. It is a career that has been marked by brilliance, but the movie portion of it has been temporarily inactive until this year.

THOMAS

She broke a five-year absence from the screen to portray Eleanor Roosevelt in "Sunrise at Campobello," a role that may well win her a nomination for her second Academy Award. Her first: "Mrs. Miniver," in 1942.

She explained her absence: "When I was at MGM, it was like home to me. I had only my mother then, and the people at the studio were family."

Greer grew unhappy with the quality of films she was given and left the family homestead. She had married Texan Buddy Fogelson, and there were new interests in her busy life. They lived much of the summer on their New Mexico ranch along the Santa Fe trail, spent part of the time in Dallas, where he oversees his business holdings.

"So the acting part of my life didn't take the same importance that it had before," she remarked.

CRINOLINE CASTING

The actress admitted that she also faced a problem in her desire to "get out of crinolines and bustles," in which MGM had catalogued her. She had fallen into it by accident.

"When Mr. (Louis B.) Mayer saw me on the stage in London, I was playing the last of a series of rather dashing females," she said. "But the first role they gave me was as dear Mrs. Chips, and from then on I was stuck."

She admitted having an urge to play a woman with dash and perhaps a bit of devilry, but once again she was inhibited.

"I have been offered parts like that, and I've had to turn them down," she explained. "When you've played a living figure with the dignity of Mrs. Roosevelt, you're obliged not to turn around and play a racy woman the next time."

Somehow I can't picture Mrs. Miniver playing a Tennessee Williams harridan. But it is nice to know that Miss Garson intends to devote more time to her film career, which has had a new spurt of offers from studios since "Campobello."

It's nice not only because she's one of the medium's accomplished performers. She also adds color to a Hollywood that is becoming too charcoal gray. She lives in the grand tradition, sharing with her husband the tastefully lavish stone canyon home she has maintained for years. She sweeps in with a cloud of perfume, always beautifully groomed, her hair a dazzling orange.

'OSCAR FOR DENTIST'

She has been complimented on catching the physical and vocal aspects of Mrs. Roosevelt in her portrayal.

"Some kind of an Oscar should go to my dentist," the actress said. "And Warners was kind enough to gather news reel shots of Mrs. Roosevelt which I studied."

She added that her portrayal apparently passed its own great test. After the movie opened she received a nice note from Mrs. R. herself.

Icy Water Therapy Tried for Burns

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. Alex G. Shulman of Los Angeles burned his hand with grease some years ago. He submerged the injured hand in a tub of cold water and discovered that pain was lessened and healing speeded.

He Won't Cut-Up His King-Sized Piece of Jade

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP) — Claude D. Fike has a 3½ to 4 ton boulder sitting on his front lawn. But it's not like any other boulder — it's Wyoming jade.

Fike said the rock may be the largest single piece of jade ever taken from the earth. He said much of the boulder is probably of gem value, but he's not going to cut it up.

"The way I see it," he said, "the value of this piece is in its size. It would be a shame to cut it up," Fike, a rockhound and retired farmer, ran across the find on Green Mountain near Lander, Wyo.

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: After an adventurous flight from Santa Land on Costenbricker's parasol, Michael and the old man have arrived at their destination — the island where the ship containing the black pearl went down. Eagerly, Michael dons his diving mask, flippers and lung to search for the wreck.

CHAPTER 10

With a thrust of his flippers, Michael dove deep into the sea. Breathing air from the lung on his back he glided down, down, down.

What a strange sensation it was! He felt as if he were weightless, floating through space.

He laughed and turned a lazy somersault and landed with a soft plop in a meadow of crimson grass at the bottom of the sea.

"Grunt, grunt!"

Michael looked down in amazement. A blue stripe fish darted around his legs, grunting furiously. Chasing the grunt fish was an eel-like creature, 10 feet long.

* * *

Before he had time to be afraid, Michael grasped the astonished eel by the head and tail, tied it into a knot and sent it rolling like a hoop across the ocean floor.

Michael tied the astonished eel into a knot.

The grunt fish stared at Michael in awe. It darted away and, a moment later, returned with all its brothers and sisters. With a chorus of happy grunts they surrounded Michael. He had made his first ocean friends.

Other fish came to see the strange Boyfish. A pink squirrel fish skittered around his feet chattering curiously.

A big fat balloon fish swam by and puffed up to twice its size when Michael poked at it with his finger. Schools of tiny orange twirlers danced around him, moving only in circles. A red-eyed squirter raced by propelled by water shooting from its tail.

HE HAD FUN

Frolicking with the others, the Boyfish learned how to lie motionless in the water, how to turn quickly, and how to dive without making a single ripple in the water.

Never had he had so much fun! Then he remembered Costenbricker waiting in the row boat far above him.

"I've played too long," he thought guiltily. "I must find the black pearl."

Surrounded by his new friends, he swam off to hunt for the sunken ship. Everywhere he went there was some new marvel to be seen but not a sign of the wreck. At last he swam back up to the surface.

* * *

"Did you find her?" asked Costenbricker eagerly.

Michael shook his head.

"Take the oars," ordered Costenbricker. "We'll try another spot."

They rowed to another spot but when Michael dove again, it was the same story: there was no wreck to be seen.

That night they beached the boat on an island and slept curled up beneath Costenbricker's spreading parasol. The next morning they set out again to search the sea. Still there was no sign of the sunken ship.

Day after day went by and Michael began to doubt that there ever had been such a ship.

He thought of Santa and the sleeping elves. "What if there really wasn't any wreck and no pearl to be found," he wondered. "How then will Costenbricker ever remember the magic words that will waken the elves in time for Christmas?"

Even the old man began to doubt that the ship was there. At night, under Michael's urging, he tried his best to remember the forgotten words that would break the spell.

* * *

"It's no use," he would always say in the end. "My mind is muddled by a thousand years."

Then one morning he woke and cried, "Boy, I've remembered!"

Michael sprang up. "The words?"

"Not the words! The ship! I remember where she sank. It was at the foot of a great island cliff. She floundered on the rocks beneath it. Find the cliff and we'll find the ship. Into the boat, boy —today we'll find the pearl!"

* *

But as they struggled to fold up the parasol they heard a sudden crackling on the beach. Turning, they saw an awful sight: the rowboat was in flames!

Soviet Farm Boss Ousted in Shake-Up

MOSCOW (UPI) — Alexander Petukhov, Communist Party first secretary of the important farming region of Bryansk, was fired Wednesday in what appeared to be only the first of a series of agricultural administration changes.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said that Petukhov, who had held the office more than six years, was "relieved of his post" for "not coping with his work."

Tass announced that he had been replaced by Mikhael Krakhmalev, formerly first secretary of the party in Belgorod Oblast.

Observers said Petukhov's dismissal was no surprise because it coincided with criticism of alleged agricultural shortcomings in the important "bread basket" farming region by the government newspaper Izvestia.

Contact Source to Get Bagel-Matching Hot Dog

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — When columnist Seymour Rosenberg suggested in the Spartanburg Herald that hot dogs be served on bagels at football games, Mrs. Martha K. Stephens of nearby Woodruff wrote in to query:

Sango Vendor Can Be Sued

Judge Murphey Rules Newberg's Silence Is Grounds for Trial

DETROIT (UPI) — Wayne Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy ruled today the fact the former Chrysler Corp. president, William C. Newberg, concealed his interest in a supplier firm was grounds for trial of a damage suit against the vendor company.

Attorneys for Ben Stone, his wife and Sango Co. argued Chrysler's suit asking unspecified damages be dismissed on grounds that Newberg's concealed partnership in Sango did not constitute fraud.

Murphy said no proof of fraud was necessary.

Newberg was ousted as Chrysler president, a post he held for only two months, last June when it was revealed that he held 50 per cent interest in Sango, which supplied Chrysler with parts.

Newberg has agreed to pay back $450,000 to Chrysler, representing his share of profits from Sango and an earlier company in which he and Stone were partners, and which also was a Chrysler supplier.

Reckless Driver Ends in Cemetery

A reckless driver's attempt to escape from Royal Oak police today was short lived. It ended at a cemetery in Troy.

A Royal Oak scout car started in pursuit of Stephen J. Sheeran, 21, of 4619 Groveland St., Royal Oak, when officers observed him driving recklessly in the city.

It was shortly after 1 a.m. and the lights on Sheeran's car were not turned on.

With the police car close behind him, Sheeran drove north on Tonewanda Street, failed to stop at 14-Mile Road and smashed his car into the heavy iron gates of Clover Hill Cemetery.

Tonewanda Street ends at 14 Mile Road, Troy.

Sheeran was fined $100 for reckless driving today by Royal Oak Municipal Judge Keith J. Leenhouts. Sheeran was not injured.

Wheat Runs Strong, Others Just Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures started off in a firm to strong range today on the board of trade with the December delivery up a cent a bushel briefly and at a high for the season.

Other grains and soybeans were steady to easier during the first several minutes in a relatively slack trade. Losses were limited generally to small fractions.

Demand for old crop wheat, especially the December, was credited to a report that Poland had purchased 1½ million bushels, including a half million of red, for delivery next month. Italy and Spain also were understood to be in the market for a total of about 12 million.

The primary will be held Feb. 20 and the general election April 3.

More than 5,000 offices in Michigan's 1,258 townships will be voted on in the primary, Hare said. Sixty-two of the 742 townships which nominated candidates under the party caucus system in 1959 will switch to the primary election system next year, he said.

"Few people in Michigan's urban centers are aware of the multiplicity of local parties in township areas," Hare said, "In 1959, 140 township clerks were listed as Democratis, 642 as Republicans and 476 as representing other parties."

"The local parties are sometimes warring factions of a major party. Others represent community groups interested in some controversial local issue, such as zoning, liquor sales or even family feuds."

They go under such labels as the Atomic party, the No. 1 party, the Nonpolitical party, the Taxpayers' party and the Union party.

Among elective officers chosen are the township supervisor, the clerk, the treasurer, a trustee, a justice of the peace, a member of the board of review, up to four constables and a commissioner of highways.

His pending appointment to the $10,000-a-year job will be for one year.

MARKET ENJOYS SPOTTY ADVANCE

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, aircrafts and selected issues paced the stock market to a spottly advance in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

A flurry of activity after the noon reading boosted enough key stocks to push the list ahead on balance. There was no pattern to news connected with the rise.

Autos, rubbers, mail orders and oils remained mostly lower. Farm implements, tobaccos and drugs joined in a slightly higher trend.

Gains of fractions to a point or more outweighed losers. News of defense contracts firmed some stocks. The market as a whole, however, was still in a "digestive" phase prior to a hoped-for year-end rally, brokers said.

Raytheon and International Telephone advanced fractionally in belated response to word of some new defense contracts.

Westinghouse Electric spurted about 2 points. The president of the firm was quoted in a published item to the effect that 1960 sales are expected to exceed last year's slightly.

Baltimore & Ohio dipped more than a point now that the news is out that Chesapeake & Ohio has acquired a majority of B&O common stock as basis for a proposed merger. It dropped a fraction.

New York Central, which also has been interested in a B&O merger, was up a fraction.

Detroit Police Called Biased

Negro Lawyer, Athlete Willis Ward Testifies Before Rights Unit

DETROIT (UPI) — Assistant U. S. Atty. Willis F. Ward today assailed the Detroit police department for its treatment of Negroes, both within and without the department.

Ward, a former football and track star at the University of Michigan, testified before the Federal Civil Rights Commission.

He said within the police department only a token number of Negroes are hired and they are tolerated, but not accepted, by white fellow officers.

Ward said outside the department Negroes are treated by police as second-class citizens and the department seemingly works under a program of discrimination of Negroes by brute force.

Ward was an assistant Wayne County prosecutor before joining the U. S. attorney's office.

Police commissioner Herbert W. Hart also testified before the commission today.

Hart said there have been many advancements in the civil rights area in recent years, in his department as well as in the community.

He cited integration of 25 scout car crews as one of the recent advances within the department.

Hart said one important advance outside the department was establishment last May of the prosecutor's civil rights board to investigate rights incidents, including those involving police.

Oklahoma comes from the Choctow words "Okla" meaning people, and "humma" meaning red, hence "Rep People."

Couple Stay Friends — Even Through Divorce

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Marilyn Monroe has taken her first legal step toward divorcing playwright Arthur Miller. She has designated Attorney Aaron L. Frosch, of the law firm of Weissberger & Frosch, to be her general counsel. Miller will be represented by John F. Wharton, of Paul Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison, formerly counsel for both Miller and Miss Monroe. The divorce will be accomplished very simply, since the principals remain friends and still see each other. In fact, Marilyn, in no hurry toward starting the action, took a month in choosing her lawyer. Some Hollywood attorneys were eager to represent the beautiful client but, being a New Yorker now, she paid her compliments to the New York bar.

The Steel Hour Pussyfoots Nicely Around Censorship

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Question: Is it true "The Steel Hour" tackled a controversial subject Wednesday night?

Answer: The CBS-TV hour presented, "Shame the Devil," a play billed as drama. The theme was supposed to deal with a sexy novel's appearance on a small town library shelf and its impact upon the community, with special emphasis on the librarian who ordered the book.

Q: You mean they delved into the subject of censorship? They went into its various applications and effects upon the Democratic process?

A: Well, no. Let's say it wasn't exactly "The Male Animal." They didn't delve. The play, adapted by Anson Finke, kidded and skidded around and studiously avoided reality and forcefulness in favor of soap opera characters and romance.

Q: No passion? No martyrs? No ringing speeches?

A: The only ringing had to do with wedding bells at the finish. When the script called for courage, it did so in timid terms — like when courage doesn't cost anything — and when it called for timidity, it did so in courageous terms.

Q: Just what was it about?

A: It started with the librarian, played by Betsy Palmer, thinking that the library needed a copy of a best-selling novel that dealt with life in 18th Century Boston.

Her fiance, a young doctor, felt that her attitude would antagonize the town's respectable citizens and possibly hurt his career and their relationship.

The civic leaders began pressuring pretty Betsy to take that foul book off the shelf. She then read the book and decided it was, in fact, trash.

She remarked that the author apparently thought our forefathers "spent 90 per cent of their time shinnying over bedposts." Betsy got mad. She refused to help the author, played by Vincent Price — ever the villain — stir up more controversy and . . .

Q: Pardon me. Did you say Betsy Palmer was a librarian?

A: Yes. In the play. And, despite the soggy, insincere script, she did a nice job.

Q: How'd it all come out?

A: The book was taken off the shelves while Betsy was out to lunch. The local paper printed the author's blast against censorship. Betsy and her fiance, played by Conrad Janis, decided they had a bright future together after all.

She was given an autographed copy of "Shame the Devil" and I'd say everyone was happy. Somehow, everything was glossed over nicely.

Q: Thanks. I see I didn't miss much.

DIALING AND FILING: So much action took place in turbulent water on last night's "Wagon Train" that for one horrible moment I feared I had tuned in "The Aquanauts" by mistake . . . Perry Como's long string of classy, slick, satisfying variety hours came to an end last night as the song-and-dance numbers fizzled. The best spots in the hour weren't contributed by the guest stars but by the Ray Charles chorus and the "mother" of young Joey Heatherton, who busted in to chat with Perry. It was very funny.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: A full-hour action-adventure series, "Asphalt Jungle," replaces "The Islanders" on ABC-TV's Sunday night schedule beginning next March.

Dan Dailey is preparing a TV special, "The Song and Dance Man," which salutes vaudeville. Joining Dailey in the cast will be Jack Haley, Pat Rooney Sr. and Larry Kert.

A one-hour visit to "The World of Bob Hope" is scheduled to kick off NBC-TV's new "World of . . ." series next spring . . . Milton Berle travels to Miami Beach in March to keep a night club engagement and takes his NBC-TV show, "Jackpot Bowling," with him.

Steve Allen, Jayne Meadows and Alec Templeton are the last of the "Person to Person" guests. The CBS-TV show calls it quits with the Dec. 22 half-hour.

"Small Town DA," a TV series that is based on a book of reminiscences by Robert Traver, author of "Anatomy of a Murder," has been acquired by ABC-TV for presentation in the 1961-62 season.

Japanese Commercialize Yuletide

TOKYO (AP) — Even Dakko-chan looks like Santa Claus.

That's one sign that Tokyo, too, is getting ready for a big Christmas.

Dakko-chan, the clinging, winking doll that Japan gave to the world, now shows up in the sidewalk stalls wearing a red jacket and hat and sporting a white beard.

Recorded renditions of "Jingle Bells" and Japanese language versions of "Silent Night" fill the air. Arches bearing real looking stained glass images of a mother and child extend over the sidewalks of the Ginza, Tokyo's famed tourist, shopping, restaurant, night club, cabaret area.

On one of the busiest intersections a cardboard choir of blond youngsters rears three stories, the feet planted on giant letters saying "Xmas sale."

One of the big department stores boasts a mammoth sprawling evergreen laden with artificial snow. Smaller trees in the expensive jewelry shops are decked with pearls and other baubles.

Many big stores have window decorations that might give New York's Fifth Avenue a brief run for the money.

That is more than a figure of speech, since the Japanese effort is aimed directly at the commercial aspect of the Christmas holiday. Except for a scattering of Japanese Christians and a few Western residents, Japan does not observe Christmas as a day of religious significance. But it is the time of the traditional yearend bonus for most Japanese workers and alert merchant is bidding for the money.

SHOPPERS EVERYWHERE

This year the escalators, elevators and stairways of the big stores are jammed with shoppers. Counters, cases and racks are overflowing with goods. Wrappings for packages bear holiday greetings and trimmings.

Railway stations in the heart of the city have Christmas trees. The "pachinko" or pinball parlors have added to their garish decorations signs saying "Merry Xmas" in English and Japanese.

Tea and coffee houses have scattered tinsel, wreaths, stars and bells with a lavish hand. Petite girls in the confectionery shop wear Santa type jackets and hats of red and white.

America's highest golf course is the 9,000 foot high links at Cloudcroft, N. M. In winter it is part of a skiing area.

Motorist's 'Speech' Nets Quick Court Conviction

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — A speed conviction was returned in Criminal Court here recently in a drunken driver case.

The jury gave its guilty verdict after witnesses testified that the driver staggered from his car and up to a dead cow, killed when struck by his vehicle, and remarked in slurred tones:

"This man seems to be hurt pretty bad. We better get him to a hospital."

Fighting Starts in Addis Ababa; Haile Flies Back

News Is Scarcce but British Envoy Sends Word of Battling

LONDON (AP)—A British government spokesman said today fighting has broken out in Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia.

Edward Heath, lord privy seal, told the House of Commons he had received this information from the British admassador "in the past two hours."

The ambassador threw open the embassy compound in Addis Ababa to any British subjects who wished to take refuge there.

A broadcast from Ethiopia announced that Crown Prince Asfa Wassan has been proclaimed king of that African nation in place of his father, Emperor Haile Selassie.

The broadcast was heard here as the deposed emperor dashed toward home from Brazil, where he had been on a formal state visit while Wednesday's coup took place in Addis Ababa.

Airline sources said the emperor was heading for Roberts Field in Liberia, the tall width of the African continent away from Ethiopia. One report had him already in Liberia.

The Ethiopian broadcast announced the appointment of a new prime minister, Ras Imiru, former Ethiopian ambassador to India and the Soviet Union.

The British Foreign Office said the British government has been asked informally to recognize the new regime.

Telegraph communications still were severed with Addis Ababa 24 hours after first reports of the coup reached Western capitals.

The Ethiopian radio announced that all air traffic to and from the country had been suspended and said the armed forces would "take necessary measures" to see that this directive was carried out.

In London, Heath told Parliament the British ambassador in Addis Ababa had reported fighting in the Ethiopian capital involved "moderate small arms and mortar firing."

Discuss State Finances

Urges Businessmen Mingle in Politics

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac area businessmen were urged yesterday to turn their sights toward Lansing.

"It is time for business to take an active role in shaping the state's fiscal and legislative policies," said Rex Potter, manager of organizational services for the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

The state chamber, he said, has already conducted legislative workshops in nine Michigan cities and plans to continue them throughout the state during the next legislative session.

For the Pontiac area meeting, the state chamber provided a four-member panel of Lansing experts, who presented a barrage of facts about the state's present financial and legislative position.

Panelists were Stewart Didzun and John L. Denman, legislative agents of the Ford Motor Co.; George Van Couvering, legislative agent for Michigan Railroad Association; and former State Sen. Colin L. Smith, manager of the Michigan Employers Unemployment Compensation Bureau, an independent advisory service in Detroit.

Printed resumes of the panelists' talks were distributed at the end of the two-hour session.

Potter keynoted a legislative workshop presented by the Michigan Chamber of Commerce at Devon Gables Inn for more than 100 members of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Ferndale Board of Commerce.

It is the state chamber's position, Potter said, that the traditional reluctance of businessmen to mingle in politics contributed by default to Michigan's cloudy business climate.

An important pillar of the chamber's program to revitalize Michigan is active participation by businessmen in state affairs, he said.

"Local chambers should be organizing right now to develop a strong, articulate voice of business on all important issues.

"Local chambers should not be afraid to take stands locally and to let the local legislators and the public know about them.

"Businessmen can no longer afford to stay out of issues simply because they are controversial."

WILL LEAD WAY

Potter said the state chamber would lead the way with strong informational and educational programs, designed to keep local chambers abreast of Lansing developments throughout the legislative year.

Ike in Excellent Health, Say Doctors After Exam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower's general health "continues excellent," six doctors said today after completing his yearly head-to-toe physical checkup.

McNamara Severs Ties, Takes Additional Loss

DETROIT (AP)—The merry-go-round whirl on the Ford Motor Co.'s top executive level apparently has ground to a halt for a while.

Henry Ford II said Wednesday he would assume the duties of company president as well as chairman of the board of the giant auto firm. Ford took over the presidency from Robert S. McNamara, 44, who has accepted the post of Defense secretary in the Kennedy cabinet.

Ford had served as both president and board chairman of the company his grandfather founded from last July 13 when Ernest R. Breech retired as chairman. He gave up the presidency, which he had held since 1945, five weeks ago to McNamara.

And the odds are that a new president will be named soon since Ford has said in the past that the dual role is too big for one man to handle.

An official company statement said Ford will act in both capacities "for at least the next several months."

In order to avoid possible conflict-of-interest charges, McNamara said he disposed Wednesday of 23,215 shares of his Ford stock for $65,171½ a share and gave 1,655 shares to a private foundation he and his wife have established. Later Wednesday he disposed of his 100 shares of Scott Paper Co. stock.

Awaits Oakland Water Decision

Hesitancy of County Communities to Buy Causing Detroit Trouble

Hesitancy of Oakland County communities — including Pontiac — to buy Detroit water is causing time scheduling difficulties, General J. Remus, superintendent of the Detroit water department, said in Pontiac yesterday.

Remus urged speed in the matter.

One encouraging sign for Remus is the representation of Oakland County on the Detroit Board of Water Commissioners for the first time in history. The county's voting representative after Jan. 15 is Louis H. Schimmel, who indicated that it won't be long before Detroit is the primary supplier of water to this area.

A secondary source has been sought for some time because the sprouting population of Oakland County is soaking up the underground supply.

Remus, who said there's nothing to prevent his city selling water right away to Pontiac and surrounding areas, outlined Detroit's metropolitan water network to members of the Oakland County Planning Commission and some county supervisors and officials.

In answer to a question from Schimmel, Remus made it clear that his department's timetable depends "on how fast Oakland County moves."

Romney to Give Rambler Buyers Savings Bonds

Bonus Will Be Figured on Four-Month Sales; Calls Plan Crusade

NEW YORK (AP)—George Romney, president of American Motors Corp. today said the company will award a bonus to Rambler car buyers based on total Rambler sales in the period ended March 31, 1961.

The bonus will consist of U.S. Savings Bonds, Romney said, and will be based upon sales as compared with the same period a year earlier. The sales period runs from Dec. 1 to March 31.

Romney said the idea was to share economic progress with all consumers, not just with special groups.

He made the statement at a news conference here. In calling the conference Romney said he would outline a plan which "calls for sharing progress" with the neglected consumer.

Romney said the buyer would make his regular deal with his regular Rambler automobile dealer.

He referred to the program as the new Rambler crusade, stating the first crusade was that of the compact car.

Romney said expansion of American corporations abroad was greater than needed to serve the foreign market.

"This expansion," Romney said, "is intended for penetration of the United States market."

"General Motors and Ford are establishing a world network to permit them to obtain supplies and materials where they can, ignoring national boundaries."

The big auto companies, as well as other American corporations, are being forced into this program "by the sheer cold economics of the situation," Romney said.

"I think this approach to foreign expansion is wrong," Romney said. "I believe it will be termed economic imperialism.

"It is a cold, calculating effort to become exempt from national policies and national boundaries."

Romney said that American production of automobiles had declined from 72 per cent of the world production in 1951 to 48 per cent in 1959.

Romney said present national economic policies were thwarting economic growth.

Pick 'Em Up . . . Free

COHASSET, Mass. (AP)—South Shore residents have been enjoying fine sea food dinners, free of charge, ever since the blizzard early this week. Turbulent seas have strewn the beaches with lobsters and shell fish.

Tragedy Shatters Mother's Delight

A proud Waterford Township mother watched her son perform in a Christmas program last night and moments later saw him killed under the wheels of a car.

In one fleeting moment, Mrs. Raymond B. Houston of 1144 Myrtle St., saw her joy turned to tragedy.

CARL HOUSTON

Moments later he ran into the path of a car on M59 at Lynn Street — before the eyes of his horrified mother and school chums.

He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Carl was one of the Houstons' eight children, ranging in age from 5 months to 9 years.

"He was the cutest little guy you ever saw," said veteran Township Police Sgt. Jack Hart, who investigated the accident.

Carl had been waiting with his mother and about seven classmates on the north side of M59. It was almost 9 o'clock and traffic was heavy, witnesses told police.

'IT'S ALL CLEAR'

Then someone yelled, "It's all clear," police said.

Carl ran for the southwest corner into the path of an eastbound car driven by James L. Shea, 20, of 1003 Boston, St., Waterford Township.

Shea told officers he had no chance to avoid hitting the boy.

Shea was scheduled to make a formal statement at the Oakland County prosecutor's office today.

The grief-stricken mother was unable to make a statement until late last night. The boy's father is a mechanic at the Greyhound Bus Co. garage in Birmingham.

Teachers and pupils at Donelson School started the school day in a hushed atmosphere this morning.

There wasn't much talk about the Christmas program, but it's one they'll never forget.

Supreme Court to Hear Scholle

AFL-CIO Head Wants State's Senate Setup Invalidated

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan AFL-CIO president August Scholle said today he has carried his fight for legislative redistricting in Michigan to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Scholle appealed a Michigan Supreme Court decision which found 5-3 that it did not have jurisdiction.

The labor leader asked that the State Senate districts be declared invalid in violation of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

He contends that the population make-up of the Senate districts is a violation of the due-process and equal protection clauses of the amendment.

Scholle said the largest Senate district in Michigan has 13 times the population of the smallest. He contended that if the present trend of population shifts continues, by 1970 the largest district will have 25 times the population of the smallest district —all with equal representation.

A 1952 amendment setting up the Senate districts provides for fixed geographical boundaries Scholle said under the system a district would be entitled to elect a senator even if all the population moved out.

Michigan Author Sells TV Rights

Travers is the pen name of John D. Voelker, Michigan Supreme Court justice who resigned earlier this year to devote himself to writing.

A series, based on Voelker's memoirs of 14 years in the district attorney's office at Ishpeming, Mich., is expected to go into the network's schedule next season.

Meanwhile, ABC is looking for a man to play the title role. They want somebody who looks like John Wayne. Who doesn't want such an actor?

KING AND HIS BRIDE — Baudouin, king of the Belgians, and his bride, Dona Fabiola de Mora Y Aragon of Spain, are shown arriving at a dinner in their honor Wednesday night on the eve of their wedding. The couple was married today in Brussels before a brilliantly dressed audience of European royalty and Near and Far Eastern titleholders, who looked on approvingly. The wedding was a dream come true for the Belgians, who have been without a queen since the tragic death of Queen Astrid in an auto accident 25 years ago.

Baudouin Is Married in Brussels

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Belgium's King Baudouin today married a shy Spanish aristocrat amid ancient regal splendor in a world shaken by rebellion and restlessness.

This rejoicing nation chanted "Long live the king—Long live the queen" as the monarch, 30, who was regarded as Europe's "most eligible" bachelor, took as his bride tall and dark-eyed Dona Fabiola.

Outside it was a cold slate-gray day, but in the hearts of the Belgians and guests that included five kings, four queens and 46 princes and princesses it was a warm and happy historical occasion.

Fabiola—dressed in a long white satin gown with trailing veil—appeared at first to fight back a few tears of happiness. But she was immediately reassured by quick smiles and a comforting pat on the hand by her king husband.

Chats an Hour With Brother, Says 'Nothing'

Reported Near Decision on Taking Appointment as Attorney General

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Youthful Robert F. Kennedy, reported close to a decision on whether to take the job of attorney general, met today with his brother, President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

Robert Kennedy and the president-elect conferred for an hour and 10 minutes at the latter's Georgetown home.

Robert was asked as he left whether he was making any decisions.

"Not today," he replied. "What can you tell us?" "Nothing," he said.

There was informed speculation —even among some knowledgable Republicans—that Robert's appointment to the attorney general post might be announced soon by his brother.

For many days 35-year-old Robert has weighed the pros and cons of accepting the job.

He conferred privately Wednesday with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, increasing speculation that he would take the post.

A close associate of Robert insisted that, as of Wednesday night, he had reached no decision.

An informed source said there was a good chance the president-elect would announce sometime today three more members of his cabinet—his attorney general, Labor secretary and Treasury secretary.

These appointments would leave unfilled only two of the 10 Kennedy cabinet posts—postmaster general and Agriculture secretary.

The president-elect told newsmen Wednesday night that if he failed to announce some new cabinet selections today, he probably would do so Friday.

FULL DAY OF TALKS

The president-elect scheduled a full day of talks with members of Congress and other callers at his Georgetown home.

His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said nobody on the announced calling list was a prospective cabinet appointee.

U.S. Moon Shot Fails 6th Time

Spectacular Blast Puts an End to $40-Million Attempt at Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States failed for the sixth straight time to send a satellite around the moon today when the giant rocket exploded in flight.

The spectacular blast ended a four-shot Atlas-Able carrier rocket program—a $40 million failure. It will be several months before U.S space scientists have another shot.

American space scientists now must await development of more powerful rockets, expected next summer, for future moon launchings.

The 10-story tall rocket, carrying a 388-pound space craft in its nose, rose smoothly from its searchlight-illuminated pad at 4:10 a.m. EST today. The satellite was packed with electronic instruments designed to make the most extensive study ever attempted of the moon's environment.

ROCKET EXPLODES

The huge rocket appeared to be flying a true course for 70 seconds, then it suddenly lurched violently and erupted with a blinding flash that illuminated the Atlantic Ocean and its beaches for several miles.

A massive ball of red-orange fire hung seemingly motionless thousands of feet in the sky for several seconds as tons of fuel were consumed in a boiling inferno. Flaming pieces of the rocket spiraled into the Atlantic several miles offshore.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said an investigation is under way to determine what went wrong.

The rocket's extremely difficult mission was to hurl the spacecraft to the moon 240,000 miles away in 60 hours.

The failure leaves the moon an elusive target for U.S. missilemen who had propelled five earlier rockets toward the moon without success—and leaves the Soviet Union with a commanding lead in the field of space exploration.

Soviet scientists last year hit the moon with Lunik II and took the first picture of its hidden backside with Lunik III, a wide-swinging earth satellite which passed behind the moon on its first orbit.

Push Down Cold and Snow

Canadian Winds Busy

By The Associated Press

A storm moving out of Northwest Canada spread snow and icy air across north-central sections of the country today.

Wind gusts up to 58 miles per hour fanned the cold air through the Dakotas and Western Minnesota and caused some drifting of snow. The icy cold air dropped temperatures into the teens and 20s in the Rockies and into the 20s and 30s in Midwest areas. The chill was felt southward into Texas. Lower readings were in prospect tonight.

Gale warnings were in effect on Lakes Superior and Michigan.

Snowfall was heaviest in the Dakotas and Western Minnesota. However, no heavy snow warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau. The cold and snow were expected to cover most areas from the Rockies through eastern sections of the Midwest. Rain mixed with snow was forecast from Southern Missouri northeastward through the Ohio Valley into Western New York.

It was cold in the snow-covered regions of the Northeast, where many areas still were digging out from the worst autumn snowstorm in history. Temperatures were near zero and in the teens in sections of New England.

However, southerly winds moderated temperatures in much of the storm-stricken sections. Warmer weather was in prospect for the Eastern seaboard.

Final Vote Tally Gives Jack Edge of Mere 112,494

Certification of Rhode Island's vote today completed the tabulation. The official result there 147,502.

Here is the tabulation based on official results of the states:

Kennedy — 34,233,808 (49.715 per cent)

Nixon — 34,121,314 (49.551 per cent)

Others — 505,658 (0.734 per cent)

Total — 68,860,780.

Kennedy had 50.082 per cent of the 68,355,122 two-party vote while Nixon had 49.918 per cent — a record low difference of .164 per cent.

"I felt the sooner I could get rid of my Ford stock, the better I would feel," McNamara said.

McNamara also anounced he will not exercise options to buy 30,000 shares of Ford stock.

But he said he had roughly $350,000 in supplemental compensation due him from Ford. He said he saw no conflict of interest in "accepting it when the payment dates occur. However, I believe it is a subject for Congress and the lawyers to decide."

He said he thinks his ties with Ford will be completely severed by Jan. 1, adding that he has no plans for the distant future and intends to remain in the cabinet as "long as the president will accept me."

He submitted his resignation as Ford president Wednesday, effective Jan. 1.

McNamara plans to sell his Ann Arbor home in the near future. He said Wednesday he will buy a house in Washington.

counsel for the AFL-CIO, is the president-elect's top choice for Labor secretary. Goldberg's appointment was expected to be announced shortly.

One union official said he believed the only hitch that could develop would be an unexpected decision by Goldberg to refuse the post.

Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of State and a Republican, has been mentioned more often than anyone else during the past week as Kennedy's possible choice for Treasury secretary.

But an informed source said several other men have been under consideration recently.

Dillon conferred secretly with Kennedy last week.

When word of their meeting leaked out, Dillon issued a statement through an aide denying that he had been offered a job in the Kennedy administration.

Dillon returns late this afternoon from Paris where he has been participating in diplomatic talks.

As for Robert Kennedy, he has been weighing possible public criticism of an appointment to his brother's cabinet against his conviction that he would do an outstanding job as the nation's chief law enforcement officer.

Robert is the former chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee and the manager of his brother's successful campaign for the presidency.

"It would be a mistake," a close associate of Robert said, "to speculate that any decision has been reached or that he went to the Justice Department to get briefed."

was a monarchy gaining another queen.

For the Belgians it was a dream come true.

They had been without a queen since the tragic death of Queen Astrid in an automobile accident 25 years ago.

For Fabiola, two years older than her husband, it was a personal dream come true.

In her 20s back in her native Spain she wrote a fairy tale about a girl who became a queen. Her heroine was called Queen Myrta.

"And wishing henceforth to please everyone," Fabiola wrote, "she was the most understanding, the best, the most beloved queen of all times."

Fabiola and Baudouin had to go through two long wedding ceremonies. At the first, the civil one in the great throne room of the Brussels Palace, she was visibly nervous.

Once she caught her train on a chair. A quick-witted lackey in knee pants rushed forward and released it just a moment before Fabiola would have sat on it.

Illinois Certifies 27 Electoral Votes for Sen. Kennedy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — President Elect John F. Kennedy won the postelection battle of the ballots in Illinois Wednesday. His title to its 27 electoral votes was certified unanimously by the Republican-controlled State Electoral Board.

The board ruled there was insufficient evidence to back up Republican charges of wholesale vote fraud in heavily Democratic Cook County, including Chicago.

At one point in the bitter weeks since the Nov. 8 election, Gov. William G. Stratton, lame duck Republican who heads the board, threatened to withhold certification if tangible proof of fraud were presented. He stated Wednesday: "I don't feel this showing has been made today."

With Illinois officially in the Kennedy column, the president-elect appeared assured of 300 electoral votes—31 more than the required majority—when electors in the 50 states cast their ballots next Monday.

Bloomfield Village Eyes Road Program Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — The fate of a $443,000 road improvement program planned for Bloomfield Village in Bloomfield Township may not be decided tonight at a public hearing.

The meeting will be in the Bloomfield Village Elementary School at 8:30 p.m.

Its purpose is to have assessment rolls reviewed by the Township Board and hear any individual objections to cost.

Recently, 42 property owners who signed the petition authorizing the township to go ahead with plans on the major project asked that their names be stricken from the record.

NO REASON GIVEN

However, no reason for the action was given, so it was decided by the Township Board to continue proceedings.

Nearly 68 per cent of home owners in the subdivision signed the petition requesting the improvement. There are 787 property owners living in the area.

The proposed township plan would call for paving and repair of 11 miles of streets over a two-year period.

The first public hearing was Nov. 22.

At that time, most residents at the meeting agreed that the improvement was necessary but said they felt assessments should be made on a per lot basis rather than on front-foot cost.

Wholesale disagreement on the method of financing at tonight's meeting could delay the project.

UP TO BOARD

However, the final decision to go ahead with the plan will be up to the discretion of the Township Board, according to Supervisor Arno Hulet.

A Birmingham car salesman will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday on charges of larceny by conversion.

Willard Garoutte of 621 N. Connecticut St. Royal Oak, was bound over to Circuit Court by Municipal Judge Edward Emery. Garoutte was released on a $500 bond.

Fred Kohler of the Strickland Transportation Co. in Detroit brought the charges against Garoutte after trading in a truck on a new convertible.

The deal was made with Crown Chrysler-Plymouth in Detroit, but the firm closed and the transaction was turned over to Garoutte, a salesman at the now defunct Schutz Motors, Inc., in Birmingham.

Kohler charges that Garoutte sold the truck and pocketed a portion of the money in addition to extending the number of payments on the convertible.

Awaits Oakland Water Decision

department auditorium to hear Remus' report was Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman. He didn't participate in the discussion.

Later, however, he said before the city can buy Detroit water it must know whether its auto industry — which consumes better than half of the city's water — is willing to join in with the city in the project or continue to pull from its own wells.

Remus refused on several occasions to be pulled into a discussion on whether the Oakland Department of Public Works should be the dispenser of Detroit water.

He has disagreed in the past over price scales with R. J. Alexander, DPW director.

Detroit's major concentration is on developing the water system in the suburbs, Remus said. He said the plant capacity for pumping in excess of a billion gallons a day was there, but there's no place for the water to go.

Besides the southern Oakland County communities already under 30 - year contracts with Detroit through an authority, Remus said he has or is working on contracts with Farmington, Troy and Utica.

He repeated an estimated price of $1.40 per 1,000 cubic feet of water to Pontiac.

The superintendent said the price is higher than the usual Detroit base rate of 78 cents because extra costs must be figured for the city at about three cents for every mile of transmission to the city limits and three cents for every 100 feet in elevation above Detroit.

Remus said it would take $7.4 million worth of construction to supply Pontiac, and "a big slice of that" has already been undertaken. He said extension of a 54-inch main as far as Dequindre Road (Oakland's eastern boundary) and 17 Mile Road (Wattles Road) won't move too fast because of lack of commitments of potential users in the area.

Rehearing Sought on 12-Town Drain

Madison Heights will ask the State Supreme Court to rehear its case against an appointment for the 12-town storm relief drain.

The decision to apply for a rehearing, made by the City Council at its last meeting, could delay the start of the $47-million drain for another 60 days, according to H. Eugene Field, city attorney.

The high court ruled Dec. 1 that Madison Heights had no cause for grievance against its $2,848,803 apportionment for the south Oakland County drain, and that an earlier case before the court settled the issues.

County drain officials immediately moved ahead to upgrade engineering plans and set another hearing on revised apportionments.

"We feel that the Supreme Court has not faced up to the issue," Field said. "We feel that its decision is not a proper one." He declined to elaborate.

He said the court will receive his petition for rehearing Monday. It can either grant or deny it.

The case against the drain has been in and out of that court and other for years.

"By our rehearing we'll hope to bring the issues into closer focus for the court," Field said.

The city contended—and it was upheld last year by Circuit Judge William J. Beer—that the county drainage board had not properly fixed its apportionment in relation to how much the city was contributing to the need for the drain.

"We'll just wait and see what the Supreme Court does with it (the petition)," Robert P. Allen, assistant corporation counsel on drain matters, said.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. We have an eight-year-old dog who has always refused to be bathed. What can you suggest? R. Landone, Elmont, N. Y.

A. Animals, particularly those living in close contact with humans, are just as apt to contract fears and complexes as we are. Your dog undoubtedly fears water due to some severe traumatic experience early in his life.

You should take your dog to the veterinarian for his next bath. The veterinarian will tranquilize the dog sufficiently to make him overcome his inhibitions, then bathe him. At the next bathing, the tranquilization will be decreased.

After your dog has been bathed several times like this, with decreasing tranquilization, he may come to realize, like a little boy, that bathing isn't so bad after all.

Corroborate Dr. Kinsey

Enrollment in Public Schools 37 Million; Cost, $16.4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's public elementary and secondary schools will spend an estimated total of $16,476,135,000 this school year—more than $91 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Reporting this today, the National Education Association said it represents an increase of $1.2 billion, or eight per cent, over last year, and 153 per cent over the $6.5 billion dollars of just 10 years ago.

The total includes almost $13 billion in current expenses, slightly over $3 billion in capital outlay for new buildings etc., and almost half a billion in interest charges.

The NEA also reported current enrollment in the public schools has reached 37,244,284, including 25,265,620 pupils in elementary school and 11,978,664 in secondary school, a one-year over-all increase of 1,206,347.

Elementary school enrollment this year is 3 per cent higher than last year and 33 per cent higher than 10 years ago. Secondary enrollment is up 4.2 per cent over last year and a whopping 76.6 per cent higher than the 1950-51 figure.

STATISTICS '61

The figures were reported by the NEA's research division in a 32-page booklet, "Estimates of School Statistics, 1960-61." Other highlights from the report:

The average daily attendance in the public schools is 33,188,161. For each pupil in average daily attendance the schools will spend $390.

There are 1,408,962 classroom teachers; their average annual salary is $5,125 compared with $4,495 the previous year; one out of every 15 is an "emergency" teacher who lacks full credentials; and during the present school year 126,665 teachers will leave the public schools.

Total revenue receipts of the schools—excluding nearly $3 billion from the sale of bonds—will be $14,778,972,000. Of the total, 56.3 per cent will come from local sources, 40.1 per cent from state sources, and 3.6 per cent from the federal government.

The number of school districts has been cut to a modern low of 37,153, less than half the number in existence 11 years ago.

Sam M. Lambert, director of the NEA's research division, said total expenditures will increase by at least $1 billion per year during the 60s.

COSTS INCREASE

"The American public will spend more on its public schools in the next decade than it has in the past 125 years," Lambert said.

Lambert also said that while the average teacher's salary passed $5,000 this year for the first time, it is still far below what a professional should be paid.

"The average teacher," he said, "is 41 years old, has had 14 years of teaching experience, and has had 4½ years of college preparation. In no other professional field will you find people of this age, with this experience and preparation, making such a low salary."

The $390 expenditure for pupils in average daily attendance is a national average, representing an increase of almost 5 per cent over the 1959-60 figure of $372 and 74 per cent over the $224.23 of 10 years ago.

The figures for the various states show a wide spread, from $585 in New York and Alaska and $512 in New Jersey to $217 in Alabama, $223 in South Carolina and 225.86 in Mississippi. In all, seven states are below the $250 figure, all of them in the South.

Since the 1950-51 school year, the number of emergency teachers has increased from 75,079 to 93,917, the NEA report said. However, during the same period the total number of classroom teachers has increased from 927,617 to 1,408,962. Thus the proportion of emergency teachers has dropped from 1 in 12 to 1 in 15.

The report also points out that in the past 10 years, many states have increased their requirements for full certification. Many of those who would have been fully qualified a few years ago now qualify only for provisional certificates.

California, with 3,420,000 pupils, has the largest public school enrollment in the country, well ahead of New York's 2,835,000. The NEA said the 97.4 of the 5-17 age group in California is enrolled in the public schools.

California also has the highest average salary for classroom teachers—$6,700. The lowest average salary paid in the country is $3,415, in Mississippi. Arkansas pays $3,550, South Dakota $3,675, and South Carolina $3,725.

Last year 12.8 per cent of the nation's teachers earned below $3,500 a year; this year it is 9.6 per cent. Last year 11.9 per cent earned $6,500 or more, this year it is 14.5 per cent.

GI Life Insurance to Pay Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — Veterans with GI life insurance soon will receive checks of about $50, their share of a national dividend of more than a quarter of a billion dollars, the Veterans Administration's Detroit office said.

Some 230,556 Michigan veterans will receive a total of $11,795,100, Gene A. Robens, regional director said. Payments will vary from $45 to $63 per $10,000 of insurance to holders of World War I and II policies.

Cornell Will Send Mutts to Used 'Cur' Dealer

ITACA, N. Y. (UPI) — Stray dogs, long tolerated on the campus of Cornell University, have worn out their welcome.

After a rash of dog fights, bitten students and chewed library books, the university ruled that unlicensed dogs will be picked up and sent to a local animal shelter.

Baby With an Eye for Money Turns Farthing Into Fortune

OXFORD (UPI) — Little Paul Cox, all of 18 months old, picked up his scratchy crayon, made eight childish checks and put his hard-pressed parents on easy street.

Paul's checks were on one of the farthing (quarter-penny) coupons entered each week by the thousands of players of the British football pools.

His checks turned out to be eight right picks on the weekend football (soccer) games.

It all added up to a 43,283-pound ($121,192) tax-free jackpot — an all time record for a farthing entry. And it could not have come at a better time.

HAD TORN UP CHECK

In the first place, the tot was decidedly in the doghouse. He had just picked up his father's 21-pound ($59) paycheck and, with childish abandon, tossed it into the fireplace.

In the second place Paul's father Norman, 26, expects to be laid off from his assembly line job at an Oxford automobile factory at Christmas time.

But the baby's lucky checks, entered by his mother Jacqueline, 23, changed a bleak Christmas into one full of promise.

"The 21 pounds the baby threw on the fire was a small fortune to us at the time," his father said. "But now we can buy a new house and get rid of our 5-year-old car. Beyond that I don't know what we'll do."

"I am afraid Paul has an insatiable appetite for money," Cox added. "He hides it, eats it, destroys it like a terrier.

"Now he's made it. The next thing we have to keep out of his way is the check."

Cox said he and his wife have not yet decided what to get their money-making baby for Christmas.

"But the man from the pools said he would bring Paul a big teddy bear as a gift when he comes to Oxford with our check next Thursday," he said.

Cuba's Finance Chief Arrives in E. Germany

BERLIN (UPI)—Cuban Finance Chief Ernesto Guevara and a trade delegation arrived in East Germany Tuesday night for "important economic negotiations," the ADN News Service reported.

Guevara, head of the Cuban National Bank, has visited Moscow and Peiping in recent weeks.

CIGAR ALIGHTER—Archie the parakeet perches on the cigar of owner Pete Farrier in the Bronx, N. Y. Archie's perch will go up in smoke shortly.

Christmas Fans the Hopes of American Cigar Makers

1. Gift sales should push the year's total consumption well above the 6.9 billion smoked last year.

2. And the gift box may convert some recipients into regular cigar purchasers once the box is emptied.

U.S. cigar makers, of course, have the same dream when they think about the population explosion: More proud dads handing out cigars, more cronies subjected to the urge to buy some themselves.

Cigarmen could use some encouragement today. Sales rise slowly year by year. But of late there's been the hulabaloo in the Cuban tobacco market with its effects on the local production and consumption still not fully assessed.

TAX HURTS

And then there's the tax in a number of states that adds to prices and tends to act as a brake on sales.

The Cigar Institute of America says that nevertheless the industry has made a big comeback in the last 10 years, after going into a decline in the 1940s. It thinks new packaging ideas have helped, along with a drive to interest younger men, once all but lost to the industry.

The Cigar Manufacturers Association of America, Inc., reports not only more cigars smoked in each of the last four years, but the gain has been greater than the growth in the number of males 21 and over. So per capita consumption, put at 119 in 1956, is now estimated at 138 in 1960.

In the good old days of 1920 there were 21,556,000 males 21 and over smoking 8 billion cigars, for 369 per capita. Cigarmen would like to see today's 52 million men old enough to vote blowing smoke rings from a lot more than the 7 billion cigars estimated to be sold this year.

PROGRESS

Gains since the 1940s when consumption sank as low as 4.7 billion cigars are hailed by the institute as springing largely from two things:

1. Production and packaging changes. Attractive boxes have helped and so has the idea of multiple-unit packaging. Cigars are now put up in packs of 3, 5 and 10 cigars, so that the consumer can buy as many as his pocket change allows, instead of the single one he used to buy.

2. Stylizing. This has been aimed largely at the men in the 20 to 30 age bracket. Manufacturers have been putting out smaller or slimmer cigars, so that the novice won't feel as if the big cigar is smoking him instead of the other way around.

Long-Range Predictor Begs Off

No Forecast for Inauguration

By FRANK CARKY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Charles Gretley Abbot, 87, long-range weather forecaster for the Smithsonian Institution, is begging off making any forecasts for John F. Kennedy's inauguration day.

He correctly predicted, months in advance, fair weather for the last Roosevelt inaugural in 1945 and the Truman inaugural in 1949. He had a near-miss on the first Staunch Republican Abbott — "I Eisenhower inaugural in 1953, and decided not to try on Eisenhower's second in 1957.

was born in New Hampshire and I'm still a good Republican"—says he hopes the senator from neighboring Massachusetts will have fine weather on January 20.

He explained he's begging off again because he no longer has faith in the weather forecast system he used for the Roosevelt and Truman inaugurals.

Abbot, a tall man with a drooping mustache, formerly was secretary of the Smithsonian. He still is on the staff as a research associate.

The system he formerly used to forecast inaugural weather was restricted to weather in the nation's capital—and called the shot for particular days as much as a year in advance.

The probabilities of fair or foul weather on a particular day were based, he held, on cycles of precipitation occurring within a 27-day period, with the cycles being influenced by variations in solar radiation.

For almost 20 years, he says, his forecasts were pretty close to the mark.

But he said early in the 1950s the forecasts began to go somewhat haywire.

"I don't know the reason," he says, "but since the system depended upon atmospheric conditions associated with solar radiation, it's possible that all those atomic explosions releasing products of combustion into the atmosphere, may have altered the picture."

While he has given up on this particular system, Abbot says he is sticking to his guns on a much more extensive long-range system announced last March.

Under that one, he has ventured predictions through 1967 for 32 American cities, with primary attention to forecasting average expected weather for four-month intervals.

He says so far it seems to be working well—"I've had especially good reports from Oklahoma and Kansas and have done well here in Washington."

AMVETS Leader Asks Funds for Cuban Refugees

"Freedom is on trial in America," Commander Charles Crocker of Pontiac AMVETS Post 113 asserted today in calling on area citizens to demonstrate their faith in democracy through contributions to relieve refugees from Communist-controlled Cuba.

He said his post was acting in support of a national campaign launched by AMVETS National Commander Harold Russell, with White House approval, urging Americans to contribute individually to a "Christmas for Cubans" fund.

An estimated 40,000 Cubans have fled to the United States since Castro overthrew the government two years ago.

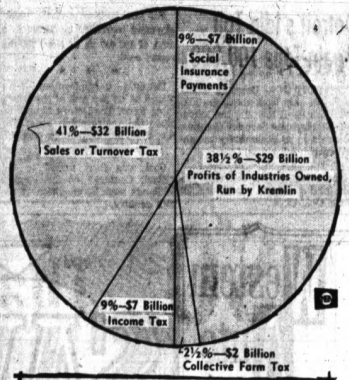
Contributions should be sent to "Christmas for Cubans," care of AMVETS, American Security and Trust Co., Washington 13, D.C., Crocker said.



Tax Sources for 1960 Soviet Budget of 77 Billion Dollars

TAX HOCUS-POCUS — Trick bookkeeping helps fool the Russian people into believing that taxes are being abolished but hard facts prove otherwise. Soviet 1960 revenue will total 77 billion dollars of which only seven billion comes from income taxes. All the rest are "hidden" taxes reflected in consumer prices: Employer-paid social security, sales or "turnover" tax, collective farms levy and profits from government-owned industries.

Will Adopt Two Babies

Africa Cities Like U.S.; Satchmo Loved It All

PARIS (UPI)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, emerging triumphantly from a grueling 20,000-mile musical swing around troubled Africa, told newsmen, "Man, it was just like I expected."

"African cities are not any different from Chicago or New Orleans," the famed Negro trumpet player said. "I loved them all."

In fact, Armstrong said he was pleased with his trip and the people he met that he decided to adopt two African babies from Cameroun.

"I've set my heart on those two kids and I intend to adopt them both," he told newsmen at a party honoring stars of a new movie he is to appear in here.

Armstrong, who just left the bed where he was ordered by doctors upon his arrival last week from Africa, said he would return to Cameroun and adopt the babies just as soon as he is finished with the movie in about four weeks.

The trumpet-player's wife Lucille had some different ideas on the adoption plans.

"I don't agree with my husband's plan to adopt two Cameroun babies," she said. "I want to adopt one child from Cameroun and another from Ghana. You see, we liked Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah so much, and I'm afraid he'll be hurt if we don't adopt a child from his country, too."

The Armstrongs, who have been married 20 years, are childless.

Satchmo said he would return to Africa for another horn-playing stint when he finishes the Paris film.

Churchill Up and Around After Breaking Bone

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, 86, is walking again after breaking a small bone in his back in a fall at his home three weeks ago.

"But he is not quite back to normal yet," a family friend said Wednesday. "He has to rest a little more than he used to."

Educational Hobby Fills History Gaps

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What began as a hobby for Dr. Robert B. Sutton may serve to fill in gaps in the history of education.

Sutton, associate professor of education at Ohio State University, has collected in the past five years more than 2,000 items relating to the history of American education.

Among them are report cards dating back to 1861, an 1827 teacher's contract, an 1848 school newspaper and an 1864 geography reader for Confederate children in Raleigh, N.C.

Good Things Come in Small Packages

BOSTON (UPI)—Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston's famed physician-author of the 19th century, was small in stature.

Once, at a meeting of physicians, he found himself with a group of doctors who towered over him.

"You must have felt very small among those tall men," a friend remarked later.

"Yes," said Holmes. "I felt like a dime among a bushel of pennies."

Tickets Go Like Hotcakes

Saturday Matinee Tops on Broadway

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Dramatic Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The hottest theater ticket on Broadway suddenly is the Saturday matinee. Any matinee. Any Saturday.

Solid, increasing demand for afternoon tickets is being widely noted this show season among new hits, long-runs and even so-so productions.

"Friday and Saturday nights used to be the big box office scramble," observed one veteran cashier, "but now we can still supply those long after the matinees are gone."

One top triumph, "The Sound of Music" is already cleaned out on the favored ducats through next July.

The reason isn't hard to find. The best seats at weekend evening performances of musicals generally around $9; the same chairs in the afternoon are about $5.50. A similar ratio prevails on straight dramas and comedies; evenings about $7.50, matinee, $4.80.

Performers note that a lot more men are on hand at Saturday matinees. The midweek matinee is a different story — audiences continue mostly women, and the clamor for seats goes up and down in line with the general popularity of any production.

A couple of other economic straws in the wind are being noted along the Rialto. Departing from seasonal pattern, the weekly gross at playhouses has been swirling erratically for several weeks.

The take at three musicals, including two new ones, plummeted last week about $8,000 each, and the gross at three others, including two older shows, jumped by almost identical amounts.

Another late symptom is increased popularity at some productions of cheaper seats over down-front pews, a reversal of a growing trend in recent seasons. This has been noted particularly at shows such as "Bye, Bye Birdie" that have considerable appeal for younger, less well-heeled spectators.

Altogether, the box office barometer is showing signs that the public is in a bargain-hunting mood, is selecting more shrewdly and that the theater may be starting to recruit a new generation of fans.

Folks who still have holiday ticket-shopping to do are going to have long waits to see the biggest hits. These include "Becket," "An Evening with Mike Nichols and Elaine May," "Camelot," "The Sound of Music" and "Irma la Douce."

Not very far behind, though tickets to some performances can be had, are another quintet—"Bye, Bye Birdie," "Fiorello!," "Gypsy," "Tenderloin" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Rusk, Stevenson Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dean Rusk, newly appointed secretary of State, met today with Adlai E. Stevenson, U.N. ambassador-designate, to discuss the United States' future role in the United Nations.

One-third of the nation's traffic fatalities occur on open, straight highways.

Detroit's Idle Toll Again Tops 100,000

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit's unemployment went back above the 100,000 mark as of Nov. 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said in its preliminary monthly report.

The report placed Detroit's jobless total at 101,000, a gain of 6,000 since Oct. 15.

For Michigan as a whole unemployment increased by 28,000 to a total of 193,000 as of Nov. 15, the report said.

Detroit's unemployment was placed at 7.3 per cent of the area's labor force. The Detroit figures include the metropolitan area. For the state, the percentage was 6.7.

Goal was forst mined in the "Black Country" of the English Midlands near Birmingham in the 13th century.

State School Pupils Top 1.6 Million Mark

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Education reports that Michigan 1960 elementary enrollment totals 1,028,537, compared with the 636,203 enrollment in the state's secondary schools.

This year, the average teacher's salary is $5,925, an increase of $225 over the 1959 figure of $5,700.

An increase of almost $20 is reported in the expenditures for each student in average daily attendance. The 1959 figure was $405.10, compared to $424.40 for this year.

Class Bakes Christmas Breads

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The good smell of baking bread coming out of the home economics kitchen at Northern High School must make the students hungry.

We visited Mrs. Sue Squires' second-year cooking class early this week. Her girls were making Christmas coffee cakes and rolls.

So many women are afraid to work with yeast dough. It is good to know that some of our teenagers are learning how to do it. We hope the lessons carry over into their adult life.

Two of the girls were frosting candy cane rolls. We tell you how to make them in the recipe below. You start with a basic sweet dough recipe and make all sorts of interesting coffee cakes and rolls.

There were two beautiful stollen all baked. These are the coffee cakes that look like a giant Parker House roll. A few of the girls were decorating Christmas tree coffee cakes. These are made with little balls of dough put on the pan in the shape of a Christmas tree. The one you sent home with us, girls, was delicious.

In the oven at the time of our visit was a Christmas wreath coffee cake. For this one you go ahead as if you were making cinnamon rolls. Then you put each little roll on the pan overlapping the one next to it and forming a wreath. A second layer on top gives a three-dimensional look to the creation.

Here is Mrs. Squires' Basic Sweet Roll Dough:

- ⅔ cup milk, scalded
- ⅓ cup sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- ⅔ cup lukewarm water
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 2 packages dry yeast
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 6 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Add the half cup of sugar, salt and shortening to the milk. Cool to lukewarm. Measure lukewarm water into a bowl, add other sugar and yeast. Let stand until dissolved. Stir. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in beaten eggs.

Add and stir in 3 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth. Add and stir in rest of flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl and brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover with clean towel. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Form into coffee cakes or rolls.

Candy Cane Rolls

Use one-half of above recipe. Roll dough into long strands about ¼ inch in diameter. Twist two together and shape them like a candy cane.

Let rise until doubled. Canes should be 4 to 4½ inches long after baking. Arrange on lightly greased baking sheet.

Bake in 350-degree oven, about 15 minutes. Cool. Makes about 12 canes. Frost with stripes of red and white confectioners frosting.

Cookie Decorations Will Hang on Tree

Make tasty Christmas tree decorations with Holiday Butter Cookies. Cream 1 cup (2 sticks) butter with 1½ cups sugar. Beat in 2 eggs and 2 teaspoons vanilla. Sift 3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt together, and add gradually to creamed mixture.

Chill dough in refrigerator at least 4 hours. Roll dough to ¼ inch thickness and cut with a variety of cooky cutters. Push small pieces of paper straws into the top of each cooky, making a hole. Bake in a pre-heated 400-degree oven 6-8 minutes on cooky sheets. Remove straws after baking. Cook.

Decorate with frosting, decorator's sugar, decorettes, red-hot cinnamon drops, etc. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

New Status Symbol Seen in Two-Home Families

Two-homes for the family will be as much a status symbol in the later '60's as are two-cars today. The trend toward owning a summer home may result in yearly construction of 200,000 such dwellings by the end of the decade.

The second home, usually an economy house, is built with such money and labor saving building materials as drywall and insulating sidings. These products provide maximum value at minimum costs.

Christmas Compote

Fruit compote made with Christmas fruits and topped with red raspberry or strawberry sherbet or ice is a dessert that will be a top favorite with the family during the holidays. Just combine tangerine and grapefruit sections, diced fresh pears and grapes with fresh lemon juice and sugar to taste. Top each serving with a small scoop of red raspberry or strawberry sherbet or ice.

Cheese Jam Biscuits Good as Snacks

During the holidays — and afterward, too — add interest to your menus with these American blue cheese jam biscuits.

Roll biscuit dough to ¼ inch thickness and cut in rounds. Spread half of the rounds with strawberry jam and cover the other half with finely crumbled American blue cheese. Put a cheese and a jam covered biscuit together, sealing edges together. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes.

Neither butter nor other spread will be needed with these biscuits for the sweet jam and sharp, creamy blue cheese are delightful flavor-mates.

Pretty Wreath Dessert

Serve ice cream wheaths for a Merry Christmas dessert. For 4 servings, cut a round pint of vanilla ice cream into four slices. Whip ½ cup whipping cream and sweeten to taste. Tint pale green with a few drops of food coloring. Outline each round with whipped cream forming a wreath. Garnish with two red cherry halves and a few green cherry pieces for leaves.

(NEA) — Lots of teen-agers are troubled by the fact that either they have nonexistent waistlines or waistlines that can only be described as thick and lumpy. If this description fits you, it's time for you to do something about it.

To a large extent, the spot exercises you do in your teens determine the kind of figure you'll have in your twenties. So start now. Here's the exercise that will carve out a waistline for you, if you do it faithfully for 30 counts every day.

Stand with your feet apart and your arms raised over your head with hands clasped. Now bend as far as you can to the right. Straighten and bend as far as you can to the left. You should feel those muscles pull from the upper arm all the way down into the hip line.

Do this for a count of 15 for each side and be sure to do it every morning. In a matter of weeks, you'll find your waistline slimming down and becoming lithe.

It Reveals Personality

Your Face Is a Window

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are so many different characteristics and factors which add up to a total personality. There is the way you hold yourself and move and walk.

Your voice has a tremendous impact on others. New acquaintances also are influenced by dress and especially by grooming. Then there is your face!

Your face tells a lot about you. Does it look alive? Is it lighted with perception and enthusiasm, or is it dull with boredom or heavy with lack of interest and lack of attention?

How do your facial muscles behave themselves? Do they mar your expression with frowns or pull your facial contour downward with tenseness or discouragement? Do your facial muscles give you away by expressing disapproval or dislike or distrust which you would not put into words?

Do they indicate nervousness, with constant twitchings and grimacing, eyebrow raising and lip pursing?

Your face tells a lot about you. Does it look alive? Is it lighted with perception and enthusiasm, or heavy with lack of interest and lack of attention?

How about your eyes? You can smile or talk or make love with your eyes. Are they expressive or are they listless? This is one of the characteristics practically all folks in show business have expressive eyes.

We sometimes forget that our faces tell so much about us, that they reveal problems and discouragements and bitternesses we never meant to reveal. It also can happen that our faces do not express the emotions we wish them to.

DON'T LOOK LISTLESS

People sometimes fall into the habit of a listless expression. Fatigue or unhappiness or worry inhibit the natural breakthrough of warmth and understanding in facial expression. Aging and unattractive mannerisms may have been adopted unconsciously.

If you wish to check yourself against a list of aging mannerisms, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 67 "Mannerisms Which Denote Age." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Turtles Have 'em

Turtle-neck swimsuit? Why not? Turtles have them. At popular request Jantzen is reviving the style of a few years ago. A halter top front with buttons at the neckline gives the turtle look.

Budget Surplus Hopes Dashed

Corporate Profits Hit Two-Year Low; Taxes to Dip $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Corporate profits fell sharply to a two-year low during the summer, substantially reducing the possibility that the government will finish this fiscal year with a budget surplus.

Profits before taxes dropped in July-August-September to a yearly rate of $41.5 billion, the Commerce Department reported Wednesday. This was a steep decline from the $45.7 billion rate in the preceding three months.

When translated into federal tax revenues, the drop probably means a decline in income of $1 billion or more from the estimated $81.5 billion total for the current budget year.

Assuming federal spending holds to the projected $80.4 billion the indicated surplus of $1.06 billion could be virtually wiped out.

Reckless Driver Ends in Cemetery

A reckless driver's attempt to escape from Royal Oak police today was short lived. It ended at a cemetery in Troy.

A Royal Oak scout car started in pursuit of Stephen J. Sheeran, 21, of 4919 Groveland St., Royal Oak, when officers observed him driving recklessly in the city.

It was shortly after 1 a.m. and the lights on Sheeran's car were not turned on.

With the police car close behind him, Sheeran drove north on Tonewanda Street, failed to stop at 14-Mile Road and smashed his car into the heavy iron gates of Clover Hill Cemetery.

Tonewanda Street ends at 14 Mile Road, Troy.

Sheeran was fined $100 for reckless driving today by Royal Oak Municipal Judge Keith J. Leenhouts. Sheeran was not injured.

The firm said the shutdown was necessary to "balance production with field inventories."

Salt Co. Workers Back on Job With Contract

MANISTEE (UP)—Union workers returned to their jobs at Morton Salt and Chemical Co. in Manistee today, for the first time since Aug. 1, with a new labor contract.

Tells Candidates to File Petitions

Hare Advises Hopefuls in Spring Primaries to Get Busy in December

LANSING (UP) — Spring primary election candidates for township and village offices were advised by Secy. of State James M. Hare that they must file their nominating petitions this month.

The statutory deadline for submitting nominating petitions is Jan. 3, but county clerk offices will be closed the first two days of the month, he said.

Hare, the state's chief elections officer, said the same deadline applies for placing new parties on the ballot.

City election deadlines are set by their charters.

The primary will be held Feb. 20 and the general election April 3.

More than 5,000 offices in Michigan's 1,258 townships will be voted on in the primary, Hare said. Sixty-two of the 742 townships which nominated candidates under the party caucus system in 1959 will switch to the primary election system next year, he said.

"Few people in Michigan's urban centers are aware of the multiplicity of local parties in township areas," Hare said. "In 1959, 140 township clerks were listed as Democratis, 642 as Republicans and 476 as representing 'other parties.' "

"The local parties are sometimes warring factions of a major party. Others represent community groups interested in some controversial local issue, such as zoning, liquor sales or even family feuds."

They go under such labels as the Atomic party, the No. 1 party, the Nonpolitical party, the Taxpayers' party and the Union party.

Among elective officers chosen are the township supervisor, the clerk, the treasurer, a trustee, a justice of the peace, a member of the board of review, up to four constables and a commissioner of highways.

Peg Thatcher as Road Chief

Appointment to County Post Is Recommended by Committee

Road Commissioner Hiland M. Thatcher loomed as 1961 chairman of the board of road commissioners after recommendation of his appointment was made yesterday.

The roads and bridges committee of the board of supervisors made the recommendation to the commissioners.

They will meet possibly Jan. 3 and officially name Thatcher, who has been a commissioner only since January.

Thatcher, 69, of 3695 Lakepoint Road, West Bloomfield Township, was named by the supervisors to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Lee O. Brooks.

He was township supervisor for 11 years and vice chairman of the board of supervisors three years.

His pending appointment to the $10,000-a-year job will be for one year.

C&O Claims Control of Baltimore & Ohio

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) —The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway claims victory in its battle with New York Central Railroad for control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway.

The C & O reported that by 5 p.m. Est Thursday it had received more than 53 per cent or more than 1,680,000 shares of the total B & O stock.

Both the Chesapeake & Ohio and the New York Central have been dickering for months, in an effort to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Both railroads hope to merge with the B & O to create what would be the second largest railroad in the nation.

C & O President Walter J. Tuohy said in New York City that large blocks of B & O stock pledged to his railroad in the past few days pushed Chesse's total above the necessary 50 per cent for control.

Nearly six million barrels of cement was used in the construction of the 203-mile Detroit to St. Joseph freeway. A barrel of cement weighs 376 pounds.

Will Dedicate Hoover Library

3 Ex-Presidents May Visit Birthplace Site for Ceremony

DES MOINES (UPI)—Three ex-presidents may visit Iowa next summer to participate in the dedication of the Herbert Hoover birthplace and library at West Branch, Iowa.

W. B. Anderson, president of the Herbert Hoover Birthplace Foundation Society, indicated today that work at the site should be completed by late spring. He hoped to have a dedication ceremony which would include Hoover, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

Anderson said he was not ready to set a date for the ceremony, but noted that Hoover's birthday is Aug. 10.

Anderson also disclosed that the board of directors, which met here today, discussed the possibility of turning the property over to the federal government to operate, much like the Truman Library at Independence, Mo.

He said representatives of the General Services Administration had been at West Branch "to look over the property," but said it was too early to say what decision had been reached.

The library, which is to become a research facility, is located at the site where Hoover was born.

Anderson estimated the cost of the library and restoration of Hoover's birthplace at about $500,000, paid for by donations.

When completed and opened, Anderson said, "we expect 300,000 visitors a year."

The construction of the library is scheduled for completion in February, with the setting up of displays to follow.

Market Suffers Some Losses

NEW YORK (UP)—The stock market took a slight loss in moderate early trading today. Losses of most key stocks were fractional. Among a wider moving issues, Texas Instruments fell more than 3.

The trend was a bit lower among steels, chemicals, oils, farm implements, rubbers and mail order-retail stocks. Aircrafts, nonferrous metals, airlines, rails and utilities were mixed.

Brokers saw the list as still undergoing a process of "digestion" prior to what is hoped will be a traditional yearend rally.

Raytheon was about unchanged and International Telephone was off a fraction, neither stock responding to news of defense contracts.

Chesapeake & Ohio was ahead a fraction and Baltimore & Ohio was down a bit, showing little further reaction to Wednesday's news that C&O now has been tendered enough stock to control B&O. New York Central, which had hoped to merge with B&O, was firm.

Fractional losses were taken by the top four steelmakers. Chrysler which plans further factory closedowns, was off a fraction as was Ford. General Motors was about unchanged.

Small gains were posted for Philco, Southern California Edison, Phelps Dodge, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Southern Railway, American Airlines and Pan American World Airways.

Anti-Red Force Holds Vientiane

Center of City Retaken Second Time by Group Loyal to Nosavan

VIENTIANE (AP) — Anti-Communist forces loyal to Gen. Phoumi Nosavan held the center of this Laotian capital Thursday morning 18 hours after they recaptured it for the second time since the assault on Vientiane began at midday Tuesday.

The mixed forces of paratroopers commanded by Capt. Kong Le and pro-Communist Pathet Lao appeared to be falling back toward the airport at the western edge of the city.

But the attackers were moving cautiously. The area between military headquarters and the airport appeared to be a no man's land.

Phoumi's forces shelled the airport area during the night, but fighting died down until 7:30 a.m. when mortar and scattered small-arms fire started again in the center of the city. Intermittent shelling continued at 10 a. m.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED

Military headquarters was burned out: The premier's palace, post office and telegraph building and the Foreign Ministry also received direct hits.

U. S. Ambassador Winthrop G. Brown and more than 30 men and women of his staff remained at their post in the embassy compound Tuesday and Wednesday.

They took refuge on the ground floor, and no one was injured when two shells and several bullets struck offices on the second floor.
