Rational Minded Agnostic Learns Meaning of Faith

By ROSALIND RUSSELL

Lanky, graying, Hans Christian Adamson was visiting us in Hollywood when we noticed the first strange turn in our old battle. We were at dinner, back in 1942. It was a long table, I sat at the head of it; Hans Adamson was at my right; and my husband Freddie Brisson, sat at my left. We were all chatting, when suddenly Hans reached into his pocket and fished among his coins.

Now, Hans and my husband were close friends in spite of 20 years difference in their ages. They were Air Force officers.

Hans was an agnostic. Not anti-religious; he was interested in religion, but there were things he could not accept with his rational mind.

"I try to understand your churches and your little medals and things," he used to say, "but I cannot. So I cannot believe." That's why it struck us as so peculiar when Hans fished among his change that night and brought out a medal.

"Freddie," Hans said, "I stopped at the PX and got you one of those new flying medals, St. Joseph of Cupertino. You're going to do a lot of flying, and I want you to have this."

Single Boss for Missiles Being Pushed by Gardner

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trevor Gardner says Congress should give to a single official full control of missiles development and of the funds appropriated for it.

The suggestion, made by the former Air Force chief of research in a TV interview last night, went further than Secretary of Defense Wilson's announced plan to name a coordinator for the program. Wilson said nothing about giving the official direct control of the funds.

To keep pace with "the Russian threat as we know it," Gardner said, more money should be provided not only for missiles but also for bombers and fighters. Funds proposed for next year, he said, can guarantee this country no better than "the second best air force in the world."

Production of long-range B32 bombers should be tripled, to at least 45 a month, he said.

He said missiles will not replace manned aircraft in the foreseeable future. But he contended the intercontinental ballistic missile toward which the Air Force is working represents such an important step that this country must be the first to achieve it.

Calling the present organization for missiles development "confused and inadequate," he said its coordination under a single, powerful official will become more and more necessary as the various programs advance. The Army and Navy, in addition to the Air Force, are working on missiles development.

Gardner quit early this month as research and development because of what he called "an honest difference of opinion" with higher officials.

Airliner Crash Near Cairo Kills 50 of 64 Aboard

Crippled French Plane Bursts Into Flames After Forced Desert Landing

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A big French airliner bound from Saigon to Paris crashed in Egyptian sands today and from 43 to 50 persons were reported killed. The wreckage burned.

Capt. Charles Billet, the plane's commander, was among 12 survivors brought into Cairo by plane, truck and jeep. He was seriously injured. The Egyptian army and American pilots took part in the rescue work.

The Paris office of the airline said 64 persons were aboard the plane, which went down 15 miles southeast of Cairo about 5 a.m. after two of its engines failed, and 50 were killed.

The big DC6 Cloudmaster was arriving en route to Paris from Saigon and Karachi with 55 passengers and a crew of 9. It was operated by the privately owned Transport Aeriens Intercontinentaux.

An airport official said surviving crewmen reported two of the plane's engines stopped. They said the captain tried a forced landing in the desert but the plane burst into flames when it touched down. Crew members escaped through the emergency exit in front of the plane.

No passenger list was immediately available nor were the nationalities of the passengers established. Officials of the airline said the plane copy of the passenger list burned and the only other lists were in Saigon or Karachi.

Sources in Paris said the wreckage was spotted by William Judd, who was flying his own plane. The American pilot, who is employed by Trans World Airlines, flew his single-engine aircraft nonstop from New York to Paris on Jan. 30.

Another American, Arthur Hoffman of the National Petroleum Co., aided in the rescue operations in his single-engine plane.

Cold Weather Seen, but No More Snow

The U. S. Weather Bureau said Pontiac and vicinity residents can expect the mercury to drop to a low tonight of from 14 to 18 degrees. No snow is predicted for the area.

The forecast is for partly cloudy weather with little change in temperature with tomorrow's predicted high to range from 32 to 36. Winds eight to 12 miles per hour from the northwest are predicted.

Some snow flurries are forecast for north portion of lower Michigan with the temperature expected to plunge to near zero readings in this section.

The lowest temperature recorded in Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 16. The thermometer registered 28 at 1 p.m.

Soars Past 1954's Total by More Than $35 Million

Earnings of Pontiac area General Motors employees soared to a record $187,929,356 in 1955, an increase of more than $35 million over 1954, cooperation officials said today.

The local figures were released at the same time that President Harlow H. Currier revealed that U. S. employees in car, truck, body and assembly divisions averaged a new weekly high of $104.77 during the year, compared with $95.34 in 1954.

Worldwide, the company's 624,011 salaried and hourly employees earned a total of $3,127,145,514, to set an all-time record, Currier and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan said in a statement preliminary to their annual report.

GM's average employment in Pontiac area plants was 32,605, compared to 30,420 the preceding year. State figures revealed that an average 230,101 employees received a total of $1,334,604,524 in 1955.

Total payroll for local salaried and hourly employees was $152,711,440 in 1954.

Average hourly earnings, the report said, reached a record high of $2.41 an hour in the U. S., compared with $1.88 an hour for all manufacturing.

Famine Stalks Frozen Europe

Deaths Climb to 676 in Worst Winter in Living Memory

(From Our Wire Services) LONDON—Dwindling food stocks brought fresh misery and the threat of famine to ice-en-shrouded Europe today. Vegetable prices rocketed as spring crops rotted under a three-week pall of snow.

The known death toll rose to 676 in the worst winter in living memory.

The British Automobile Association said today the new blizzards have covered 77 counties—an area of 60,000 square miles—with snow and ice, making conditions the worst "in living memory."

The association said that snow-bound roads and main highways are in a state of paralysis; the nature of which has not been seen in the British Isles since the appearance of the automobile.

The Seine River was frozen from bank to bank 25 miles south of Paris. The Thames was iced solid outside the grey stone walls of Windsor Castle, where Queen Elizabeth II was weekending after her three-week tour of tropical Nigeria.

In Rome, potato prices doubled to nine cents a pound. Olive oil hit an all-time high of 90 cents a quart.

Temperatures plummeted to 4 degrees in West Germany and newspapers warned of increasing food and coal shortages. More schools were closed down for lack of heating.

Nearly half the 270-mile stretch of the Weser River iced solid. The Rhine froze over for 18 miles between Oberwesel and Bingen.

French Agricultural Minister Andre Dullin reported that 3½ million olive trees had been killed off by ice in southern France. The entire wheat crop of eastern France has been destroyed.

Street cars in the Austrian capital of Vienna were put out of service by raging blizzards. Giant ice flows drifted slowly on the Danube. Several Italian trains were reported snowbound. Wolf packs continued to drive villagers indoors in the northern mountains.

Rats starved in Switzerland as warehouses changed into sealed ice houses. Farm families in the western districts locked themselves in one room overnight to avoid being nibbled by the starving rats.

4 Detroiters Die in Auto Mishap

Car Rams Abutment After Bouncing Off 2nd Vehicle in Indiana

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—A car carrying four Detroit residents whipped out of control, hit a bridge support, sideswiped another car and smashed into a culvert abutment yesterday, killing its four occupants.

Delaware County Coroner Eugene Eissman listed the dead: Adolph S. Pylowany, 53, carrying papers indicating he was a Polish National; Pylowany's wife, about 52; Jennie Ostrowski, 55, the driver; and Steven Walz, 65.

Eissman said excessive speed evidently caused the accident on a hill and curve of Ind. 3, 8½ miles south of Muncie.

Edmund P. Bauer, 46, of Louisville, Ky., driver of the second car, escaped injury. The Ostrowski car, he said, bounced off the road after it sideswiped his vehicle, and traveled 43 feet in the air before it hit the culvert abutment.

Four Nice Hubcaps Stolen by Poetic Thief

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—John Zeltn of Nampa, Idaho, discovered the hubcaps were missing from his car and found this note, apparently left by the thief:

"Roses are red,
Violets are blue.
Oldsmobiles are nice
And I like your hubcaps, too."

Senate Moves to Prevent Mixups in Lobbying Probe

WASHINGTON (INS)—Senate leaders moved today to avert a jurisdictional fight over an all-out investigation of lobbying as three rival inquiries were underway or planned.

The select four-man committee under Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) which investigated the $2,500 gas lobby campaign contribution rejected by Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) scheduled a morning session to wrap up its probe.

A grand jury investigation of the Case incident ordered by the Justice Department continued for its second week.

At the same time, the Senate Elections subcommittee headed by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) met to work out plans for a wide-scale probe which the Tennessee senator said might continue beyond next November's elections.

And Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) called an afternoon news conference to outline a "full investigation of all phases and types of lobbying activities and pressures" by his government reorganization subcommittee.

Despite the apparent inter-committee battle over who is to investigate lobbying and campaign contributions, a top Democratic source said the question would be resolved by one of two methods.

He predicted the probe would be assigned to a combined subcommittee or to a new select committee, with membership drawn from the chairmen and ranking Republicans on the groups concerned—elections, government operations and judiciary.

One source pointed out reasons why the Senate will be highly selective in naming a committee to look into the red-hot election-year issue. He said:

1. A thorough inquiry into both lobbying and campaign contributions would involve every one of the 96 members of the Senate.

2. If an inquiry develops the need for new legislation, such proposals would have to originate in the committee having jurisdiction over the subject involved. Therefore, either a combined committee or one with key representation from such groups should conduct the probe.

Approximately 98 per cent of the eligible GM employees were participating in the liberalized group insurance plan at the end of 1955. This represented a record number of participating employees because of the high employment level. Benefits paid to them or their beneficiaries total $38 million for the year.

The General Motors savings-stock purchase program for salaried employees in the U. S. became effective October 1, 1955. In the last three months of the year the Trustee under the program had received employee savings aggregating $10,764,868, one-half for investment in government obligations and the remaining half, together with corporation contributions and dividends.

Polio Vaccine Again Available

Second Injections Ready for Children Vaccinated After Oct. 1, 1955

Second injections of Salk Polio vaccine are available for children who received first injections after Oct. 1 of last year in Pontiac and Oakland County Health Department clinics.

Private physicians have vaccine on hand for all children to whom they administered first injections.

All injections in the Pontiac area will be given at the Pontiac City Hall, 35 S. Park St., from 1 to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow, and from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Friday. The clinic will continue to operate Tuesday and Friday of next week.

No clinics have been scheduled after March 2 to administer second round inoculations, Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, said. Parents are urged to bring their children in as soon as possible, so that the immunization may be completed before next summer's polio season.

A limited supply of Salk vaccine was received last weekend from Lansing. A widespread scarcity of the vaccine has interrupted the anti-polio program in health clinics throughout the country.

All children who received first injections prior to Sept. 1, 1955, should begin a new series when vaccine is available to assure more complete immunity, Dr. Monroe said.

Some Cannibal Must Be Hidden in Family Tree

POITIERS, France (INS)—Joseph Lecor must be wondering today whether a cannibal sneaked in somewhere in the family tree.

During a family quarrel a few years ago, one of his brothers bit off the tip of his nose.

On another occasion, the same brother bit off a section of his lip.

Agence France Presse reports that yesterday his brother-in-law got into the act, biting off one of Lecor's fingers and leaving it on the floor of a cafe.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has established load limits to be imposed on all passenger planes contracting to carry military personnel, effective March 1.

Seamen Carry War Insurance of $5,000 Each

Ike Lifts the Embargo Imposed After Protests From Israel, Congress

NEW YORK (AP) The freighter James Monroe sailed for the explosive Middle East today with a controversial cargo of 18 tanks for Saudi Arabia.

An employer spokesman said the ship's crew carried war risk insurance of $5,000 each.

President Eisenhower embargoed the shipment for two days last week after protests from Israel and members of Congress. But he lifted the ban Saturday night.

Saudi Arabia, site of a big U. S. Air Force base and extensive oil fields operated by U. S. companies, ordered and paid for the 25-ton tanks last year.

The ship had been scheduled to sail last night. But a delay developed when the crew of about 30 suddenly demanded a war zone bonus.

R. H. Bennett, port captain for the Hellenic Lines, said the dispute was settled by giving the seamen war risk insurance policies.

ISRAELI ATTITUDE In a petition asking for a bonus, the crew said in effect that the Israeli attitude of protest against the shipment constituted a risk to all personnel aboard the 7,176-ton vessel.

Earlier yesterday, Zionist youth organizations demonstrated at the ship's Brooklyn pier. They sang Israeli songs and shouted, "Stop helping the Reds."

President Eisenhower's decision to ship 18 tanks to Saudi Arabia after all left the State Department still confronting two touchy questions today.

The department must decide this week:

1. What to tell Israel? Ambassador Abba Eban served notice he would plead with increased insistence for approval of Israel's Nov. 16 request for 50 million dollars worth of U. S. arms. He likely will seek an appointment with Secretary of State Dulles, expected back Wednesday from a two-week Bahamas vacation.

2. What to tell Congress? Chairman George (D-Ga.) said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee wants an explanation of the tanks-for-Arabia deal from Dulles as soon as possible.

Israel set February sometime ago as "crash month" in its campaign for arms and a security guaranty from the United States. A U.S.-British-French committee, aware of the March 1 deadline, is meeting again this week to search for a joint course of action to prevent Middle East war.

Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser referred obliquely to the deadline last night. In a speech at Cairo as half a dozen Soviet-built jet fighters roared overhead, Nasser said Egypt should brace for Officers said no other cars were in the vicinity and the highway was dry. They said the Irelan car must have been traveling at high speed.

A possible Israeli assault in the spring.

Ambassador Eban, in a CBS television interview, said Israel is "very much worried" with everything they have "lying in the shadow of an aerial preponderance possessed by the Egyptian dictator, 12 minutes flying time away."

Eban said a Middle East arms race is already on, with Russia, the United States and Britain all supplying weapons to the Arab states. "The question," he said, "is whether it shall be a one-sided arms race leading us to disaster, or an arms race in which Israel is able to reduce the disparity."

Three months later, Hans phoned late one night to say that he was going on a secret mission across the Pacific. He kept saying he felt nervous. He had never talked that way before. There is not a bit of cowardice in him, yet he kept saying the trip had a fatality about it. And I at last saw that he had really called to seek help.

"Hans, do you have that medal that you tried to give Freddie some time ago?"

Hans was silent. "Yes," he finally admitted, "I've got it in my pocket with my change."

"Well, now, mind you I don't think anything is going to happen. But if it does, if something should go wrong, you take that medal out and put it in your hand and hold on to it."

After he hung up I wished I had explained more to Hans about the Catholic use of medals, how we

Insurance Firm to Erect Building

Ground Is Broken Today at Future Bloomfield Site of Planned Structure

Ground was broken today for the new $1,000,000 Management Headquarters of the Gleaner Life Insurance Society at Woodward and Big Beaver Road, Bloomfield Township.

Gleaner dignitaries who presided at the ceremony were R. G. Ransford, president; William Hayward, secretary of the society, who is also a member of the Royal Oak City Commission and a former mayor; and Richard E. Henne, agency director and actuary.

Officials of Bloomfield Township, Birmingham, Pontiac and Royal Oak were on hand to participate in the progressive event for Oakland county.

The fireproof structure of reinforced concrete and brick will contain 39,000 square feet of space, including cafeteria facilities and featuring individually-controlled air conditioning and heating units.

Parking accommodations are available for 132 automobiles. There will be 14,000 square feet of rental space available to a selected clientele, officials say.

The new location, Ransford said, "being farther out from Detroit will permit greater service and efficiency since many members are in farm groups."

O'Dell and Luckenbach, of Birmingham are the architects of the building and the Pontiac firm of J. A. Fredman has been retained as the contractors.

The building is scheduled to be completed in December of 1956.

Graham Goes on Sightseeing Tour of Tokyo

TOKYO (INS)—Evangelist Billy Graham, in Japan on a week-long missionary tour, became just another tourist today as he went sightseeing in Tokyo.

Graham has preached sermons in Tokyo and Yokohama and made an address over the Far East network radio station since his arrival in Japan Saturday night from Taipei, Formosa.

The renowned 37-year-old evangelist will spend two days in Korea after finishing his Japanese tour. He will then return to the United States, ending his 10-week "Crusade for Christ" in Asia.

Hospital Delegation to Ask Federal Aid

The four will confer with Jordan Popkin, director of a hospital survey and construction department, and present the hospital's future program to him in attempt to enlist financial aid from the Hill-Burton federal program.

According to Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, the $3,000,000 bond issue will not cover the entire cost of the expansion based on the architect's estimates.

Going to Lansing will be Miss Paul, William P. Babcock, chairman of the board of trustees, Willis M. Brewer, property chairman of the board, and Dr. Harold A. Furlong, chief of staff.

Probe Plane Crash That Killed 40 Men

OAKLAND, Calif. (U-P)—Investigators still are trying to figure out what caused the crash of the military transport plane southeast of here Friday that killed all 40 Marines aboard.

At El Toro Marine Air Station near Santa Ana in southern California, Marine officers are trying to find why the tragedy was compounded by release of an erroneous casualty list based on the passenger manifest of a plane load of Marines which landed safely at nearby Alameda Naval Air Station.

Some parents of men on the wrong list, many notified by the Department of Defense in Washington that their sons had perished, had telephone calls from their sons that it was a mistake. A corrected death list, "rockbound and final," was released early yesterday from Camp Pendleton near Oceanside.

Mother Held in Death Plot Against Daughter-in-Law

DETROIT (U-P)—Police say a mother of a slain Detroit policeman has admitted conspiring with two skid row habitués to "beat up" a daughter-in-law acquitted in the fatal shooting of the officer.

But they said Mrs. Agnes Astasauskas, 58, denied yesterday she offered the pair money to kill the widow in a vendetta.

Mrs. Astasauskas, along with her daughter and son-in-law, Bertha and John Levon of suburban Roseville, is held for investigation to commit murder. No formal charge has been placed against any of the three.

Held as police witnesses are Donald Russell, 43, and Thomas Bunch, 50.

Russell said Mrs. Astasauskas offered them $2,500 to kill Mrs. Marian Austin, 34. He said he gave away the plot because he feared Bunch would go through with it. Assistant Prosecutor Alvin Davenport said Levon, 43, and his wife, Bertha, 38, told him a fake conspiracy had been concocted with Russell to make Mrs. Astasauskas believe her son's death would be avenged. Davenport said Russell confirmed the Levons' story.

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

Tomorrow the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for taxpayers to express their opinions about the $3,500,000 building program proposed by the Board of Education.

If the bond issue is approved, $2,000,000 will be used to build a second junior high school, the site for which is located next to the Montith School on the corner of Crescent Lake and Hatchery roads. $150,000 will go for six sites—four of these will be for elementary buildings, one for another high school and the other for a third junior high school.

$1,250,000 is budgeted for the four elementary buildings and $100,000 will build an addition on the present Jayno Adams School.

If the proposal is approved the school taxes for school construction will continue for several years at the same rate at which taxpayers were billed in December 1935, according to Board of Education officials. The high school item will go off the tax bill soon.

The voting places for the election are: Precinct 1—Drayton Plains School, 3000 Sashabaw Rd.; Precinct 2—Donelson School, 1200 W. It is estimated that the tax levy would raise $10,334 for the year.

Funds for the construction of the joint city-township library, as well as the proposed site, are available through the Clinton W. Wilber and Bruce Carlisle estates. Funds raised through the proposed tax levy would be used for operation and maintenance only.

Township officials are predicting a light vote because of the limited number of inquiries as well as a light registration. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Township precincts are No. 1, at Town Hall; No. 2, the Fire Hall on Wheeler Street; No. 3, Middlebelt School; No. 4, Bond School. Voting machines will be used in all four precincts.

Turn Down Proposed Bill for Motor Boats

LANSING—Michigan water safety experts have turned thumbs down on a Senate-approved bill allowing townships to set motorboat speed limits on inland lakes.

The opposition was voiced at a Water Safety Clinic sponsored by the State Waterways Commission and attended by boat livery operators, boat manufacturers, law oficers and coast guard officers.

Many of the boatmen said the bill would create a hodge-podge of speed limits and regulations that would be hard to enforce and confuse vacationists.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Harry F. Little (R-East Lansing), has passed the Senate and is now in the House Marine Affairs Committee.

It would require boat owners to paint their names and address in large lettering on the bows of their boats.

It would also allow townships, cities and villages to set motorboat speed limits on lakes within their boundaries and set limits on the horsepower of motors.

The boatmen said they favored identification of boats but that it would be done with numbers instead of requiring owners to display their names and addresses.

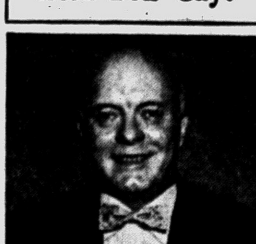

The House Marine Affairs Committee is now considering a second bill setting up a state-wide motorboat registration system.

Franco's Power Remains Intact

His Recent Squelching of Students' Rebellion Shows He's the Boss

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco is still the boss in Spain.

His fast action in crushing student demonstrations and moving to restore order in the falange party show it.

These steps are believed to have set back a trend toward the liberalization of his regime.

The generalissimo's three-month suspension of two basic rights of the Spanish Bill of Rights more than anything else underlined just how drastic and far-reaching his action is expected to be.

Now any Spaniard can be sent into forced residence anywhere in the country. Any Spaniard can be arrested and held incommunicado with no charges against him for as long as the suspension of civil rights exists.

Meanwhile, Jose Luis Arrese, new Falange chieftain and a throwback to the pro-Nazi days of World War II, was reported to have begun a sweeping purge of the only party permitted in Spain. He replaced Raimundo Fernandez Cuesta as minister-secretary general Thursday.

Hernandez was returned to Laredo and charged with unlawfully permitting a prisoner charged with a capital offense to escape from custody.

He will be brought before the grand jury today.

Hollywood Headlines:

Jeanne Leaves in April to Make Film in Europe

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Talked to Jeanne Crain just as she and Paul Brinkman were leaving for a Lenten retreat. She told me that she goes to Europe the last week in April to star in "Checkpoint" for Betty Box, the same producer who made "That Certain Feeling" with Bob Hope and Katharine Hepburn.

"I was so carried away by the story and the chance to go to the Italian Alps where I've never been."

"I've just finished 'The Fastest Gun Alive' at MGM, and Glenn Ford is one of the finest actors with whom I've ever played," said Jeanne.

The more I hear about Cyd Charisse, the greater the gal I think she is. She'll cover 6,000 miles in four days in order to be at the premiere of "Meet Me in Las Vegas" Tuesday night.

She flew from Miami after attending Tony Martin's opening at the Fountainbleu. She left her children there and came straight to Hollywood to have her gown for the premiere fitted by Helen Rose.

After flying to Las Vegas for the premiere and getting the applause that she's sure to have because she is so good in the picture, she'll plane back to Florida to rejoin Tony and their two boys.

ROMANCE FADES

The interest of vivacious Linda Christian in Edmund Purdom has really faded. She gave a dinner in honor of the famous comedian Cantinflas a few nights ago at which Purdom was conspicuous by his absence.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Juan de Berstegui, very wealthy Hollywood guests who have homes in Venice, Paris, Biarritz and Mexico.

The De Bersteguis were entertained at dinner at Romanoff's by Richard Gully. They were fascinated by Linda, who speaks French, Spanish, Italian, English and three or four other languages.

The Suzan Ball Memorial Fund at the City of Hope is gaining in momentum. Fifty fan clubs have banded together to arrange a big teenage dance, turning over the proceeds to this most worthy cause.

The committee is composed of young stars who knew and loved the courageous Suzan, who was treated at the City of Hope and fought so valiantly against dread cancer.

On the committee are Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher, Piper Laurie, June Allyson and Dick Powell, Jeff Chandler, Rock Hudson, Hugh O'Brian and others who are working in conjunction with Suzan's husband, Dick Long.

Actress Tita Purdom Will File for Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Blonde actress Tita Purdom, estranged wife of actor Edmund Purdom, says she will file for divorce this week.

The announcement, made through her attorney, Albert Pearlson, followed settlement of a year-long alimony and support wrangle.

His attorney, Richard B. Coyle said she will receive $750 alimony and $300 support for their two children each month. She agreed to change her separate maintenance suit to a divorce action, Coyle said.
