

Being Practical Against Fallout Can Save Lives

(Editor's Note: A Nobel prize winner, who is America's best known authority on fallout and radiation has written for this newspaper 15 vital articles on what you can do if nuclear war strikes. Here is the first.)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

For $30, I built a fallout shelter in my back yard. It gives my family 100 times more chance of surviving nuclear fallout than if I had done nothing.

This poor man's shelter is just one example of many practical things you can do—and especially KNOW ABOUT—for survival insurance if all efforts to keep peace fail.

The key to survival is understanding the hazards, the effects of nuclear weapons, so you can make intelligent decisions and take intelligent action.

The smart man has 100 times more chance than the man who doesn't know what to expect or to do.

Ignorance can kill, just as it kills the little child who runs in front of an automobile. You can save your life easily. You can easily lose it.

Do you know, for example, that:

Even if a bomb exploded nearby, you would have an hour or longer to take or prepare shelter before the fallout arrived?

Forty-eight hours after radioactive fallout comes down, it is only 1 per cent as "hot" or dangerous as when it fell.

Fallout is one of the biggest potential killers in nuclear weapons.

THOUSANDS OF TONS

By this fallout, I don't mean the relatively small amount coming from high air bursts of nuclear tests. I mean the thousands of tons of radioactive dirt and materials vaporized and made radioactive by a great burst near or on the ground.

This fallout behaves like ordinary dust, except it is "hot." There are ways to clean up, brush or wash away this radioactive dust.

You could build a $30,000 shelter, and yet allow fallout to get in unless you knew what you were doing.

Fallout will not mean the end of life on earth, even if hundreds of bombs were exploded.

All these are facts. They and other facts answer "Yes" to the many questions people are asking, which all add up to this:

"Is there really anything we can do?"

MANY COULD SURVIVE

I cannot tell you there is a simple, cheap way to protect yourself if you are in the very center of a target when it receives a direct hit.

But millions of us will not be there.

And many thousands near the center of destruction could survive, with knowledge and protection.

First, let us assume you are caught in the most defenseless position—out in the open, with no warning an attack is coming.

The first sign is a tremendous light, thousands of times brighter than the sun or a flash of lightning. There's no mistaking what it is.

If you sense it, don't look at it. It could blind you.

Throw yourself instantly to the ground, and preferably behind some protection, such as a building, the curb of a street, a culvert, even a tree, anything to put protection between you and that flash. Lie as flat as you can.

INSTANT RADIATION

With the light, the first effect is prompt or instant radiation from the nuclear burst. It is X rays and neutrons flying out in straight lines in all directions from the burst. This is not fallout. The X rays and gamma rays travel about 1,000 yards at most, then disappear.

With this radiation, at the same speed, comes heat. The heat from a 20-megaton bomb might cause second-degree burns at a distance of up to 25 miles, unless you were protected.

A hole in the ground could save you from much or all harm from the radiation and heat. Thousands of Japanese in Hiroshima or Nagasaki would have survived had they known this in time.

Then traveling at the speed of sound, comes the blast effect, made all the worse because it picks up all kinds of objects and hurls them about like missiles.

Hiding, making yourself small, increases chances of survival. The chances improve the farther you happen to be from the bomb center.

'Plan N-Tests in Pacific'

Soviet Russia Fires Charge at U.S.

Delegate at U.N. Trying to Anger Japanese Ally

Tsarapkin Refuses Any Ban Treaty Separate From Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Russia charged today that the United States plans to resume atmospheric nuclear tests in the Pacific because it fears it has lost its atomic leadership to the Soviet Union.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said Russia would not accept a nuclear test ban treaty separate from a general disarmament agreement. He said such a pact would further Western "aggressive intentions."

Tsarapkin scarcely concealed an effort to drive a wedge between the United States and Japan, telling the general assembly's main political committee U.S. tests were being prepared thousands of miles away from the American mainland, in the Pacific, "next to the territory of their Japanese ally."

He quoted Secretary of State Dean Rusk as saying Japan had "agreed, to a certain extent, to the resumption of U.S. atmospheric tests."

"After that," Tsarapkin said, "you can see what price these statements of the Japanese leaders have, because they are opposed in principle to all nuclear tests."

"Everybody knows now that the United States spoke out in favor of suspension of nuclear tests not because it was filled with a lot of humanity. Their humanitarian feelings are well known."

"The whole world recalls the atomic bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki and knows of CENTO (Central Treaty Organization) plans to bomb the territory of its own allies to create nuclear zones of death."

Earlier in Moscow the Soviets have issued a veiled warning that further nuclear testing by the United States and its allies may compel the Soviet Union to prolong its program of tests, still numerically behind the West.

The warning was coupled with another call for a general and complete disarmament treaty, long proposed by Premier Khrushchev, and a reiteration that the Soviet Union is ready to ditch all its nuclear weapons if other nations do the same.

Knudsen to Move?

President's rumors in business circles suggest that S. E. Knudsen will shortly become General Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division with Edward N. Cole, current Chevy boss, going to the General Motors Building. There has been no official confirmation.

NEWPORT, R. I. — Prime Minister Nehru of India flew here today to open a series of talks with President Kennedy on world problems and on the divergent views of the United States and India toward nuclear testing.

Nehru landed at Quonset Point Naval Air Station at 11:46 a.m. after a flight from New York on a presidential plane.

President Kennedy was on hand to greet him, along with John Kenneth Galbraith, U.S. ambassador to India, Nehru and President Kennedy shook hands warmly.

A Marine guard stood at attention and a Navy band played "Hail to the Chief" and the national anthems of the two countries.

Within a few minutes, Nehru and the President went by automobile to the nearby pier to board the presidential yacht Honey Fly for the 10-mile trip across Narragansett Bay to Hamner-Smith Farm for lunch.

A crowd of several hundred gave Nehru a round of applause.

President Kennedy and Nehru were to lunch together privately, according to White House press secretary Pierre Salinger. Ambassador Galbraith was to join Mrs. Kennedy, and Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and others for lunch at Hamner-Smith Farm, the Newport estate of Mrs. Kennedy's family.

Pontiac Millwork to Stay in Business

The owner of the fire-damaged Pontiac Millwork Co. announced today that he would not give up his business and that there would be jobs for at least some of his 60 employees.

However, Willie S. Downes feared a bleak future for some of the men who helped him operate the nationally known firm at 2005 Pontiac Road, destroyed Saturday by a half-million-dollar fire of undetermined origin.

There is no other comparable mill in the area. The closest mill works are in Flint, Bay City and Detroit.

"I had about eight or ten elderly and handicapped workers," Downes said. "They are very good workers, the very best. But they may have trouble finding jobs."

Downes intends to find a building in the Pontiac area in which to establish machinery and complete more than $700,000 worth in outstanding orders.

Tanker Sinks, Crew of 60 Lost

TUNIS (AP) — The 7,129-ton Scottish tanker Clan Keith exploded and sank in the storm-tossed Mediterranean off the north Tunisian coast early today, and only eight of her 68 European officers and Palestinian crewmen were known to have survived.

"We have little hope for the others," said the Tunis radio coordinating center. It said eight men were plucked alive from the heavy seas and that one rescue vessel radioed it hoisted aboard two bodies.

Several ships in the area reported finding debris from the Clan Keith, including a damaged lifeboat.

Five rescue vessels of the French naval base at Bizerte criss-crossed the choppy waters north of the island of Galle where the explosion occurred. British warships sailed from Malta to join the search for possible additional survivors.

The ship's owners reported the survivors included the Clan Keith skipper, Capt. Pitts Jackson.

The Tunis radio center said five crewmen were picked up by the British freighter Durham Trader and two others by another ship.

"We are definitely not going out of business," he said. "We are staying in business."

However, Downes said, he will have to meet this week with members of his family who are stockholders in the firm. Downes is principal stockholder.

"We will have to take some time to decide exactly what we should do," he said. "We must decide whether to stay where we were located, or lease or buy a plant in the neighborhood."

Downes was unable to estimate at this time how many men would find jobs if the firm established itself in a local temporary building.

'WILL KEEP SOME'

"We will keep as many as possible," he said. "Some of our supervisory personnel — 10 to 15 men — may have to put on coveralls, but I'm sure they'd be willing to do."

In addition another eight to ten men may find temporary work at a Frankfort millwork operated by one of Downes' sons-in-law. The firm is Allied Fabrics Inc. and Downes intends to use its facilities to begin completion of a $300,000 order of plastic doors "until we can get on our feet again here."

He said the men would be needed because production of the doors was "a specially skilled operation."

About 400 to 500 of the doors were destroyed Saturday inside the millwork, along with a truck on which they were loaded.

Las Vegas Starting Point for U.S. Crime Probe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The U.S. Justice Department has picked Las Vegas as the launching site for a new drive against national crime syndicates.

The chairman of the State Gaming Control Board, Ed Olsen of Reno, immediately promised to support the drive. But he said the Washington announcement of the investigation sounded "just a little bit sensational."

"Just a big headline story," said one casino operator when he heard the news.

Justice Department officials in Washington announced Sunday that the U.S. Justice Department has ordered a systematic investigation to determine: (1) the extent to which syndicated crime leaders are using Las Vegas as a meeting place; (2) whether a race track wire service is being run here for bookmakers throughout the country; (3) the backgrounds of some gambling casino operators.

Olsen said the attorney general has been interested in Nevada for some time "and we've been working in close cooperation with Mr. Kennedy."

"The state is just as interested in uprooting racketeers as we are here—as he is," Olsen said.

Olsen said his agency's more than 50 of them—"Keep track of the national underworld figures that come to Las Vegas."

"If meetings of any significance (involving—crime leaders) oc-

Growth Waits Muskegon Vote

BY CHARLES H. WOODRUFF, Staff Writer, Muskegon Chronicle (Special to The Press)

MUSKEGON — A decades-old "growth dream" of civic leaders here will be tested Tuesday in a special election on consolidation of the sister cities of Muskegon and Muskegon Heights into one major municipality.

Leaders feel a favorable vote will clear the first big hurdle on the road to a hoped-for ultimate consolidation of this area's four contiguous cities and three urban townships into a single municipality with a population of about 140,000.

Unification of Muskegon and Muskegon Heights is seen as the necessary first step in a program expected to "snowball" via consolidation of other routes to place this metropolitan center among the state's five largest cities.

Officials feel a "one city" status for this port and industrial community would have economic advantages stemming from elimination of overlapping city and township governments of duplicated public services and through coordinated governmental effort.

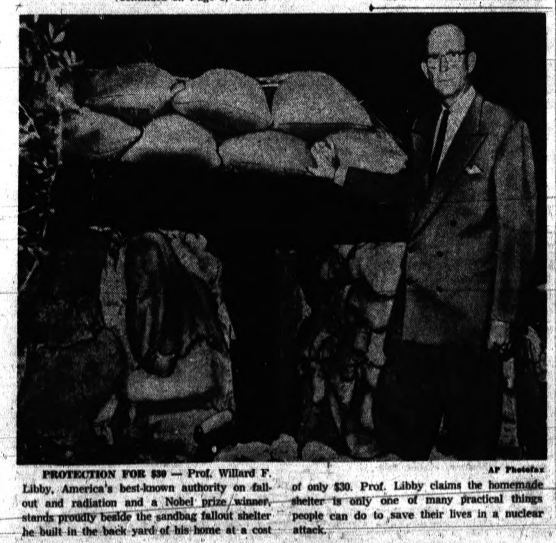

Consolidation studies by a large voluntary civic community group, assisted by professional consultants, and by citizen study organizations in both Muskegon and Muskegon Heights, all concluded that the "economic future of Greater Muskegon rests in governmental consolidation."

The city studies recommended that the Heights-Muskegon consolidation be placed on the ballot for the initial test. The Tuesday vote is seen as a trial balloon to assess chances for ultimate overall unification.

An earlier move to merge the city and township governments under the existing consolidation studies was dropped as was the case in a similar development in the Flint area, when a state attorney general's ruling held consolidation could be effected only through majority votes in each of the units involved.

Language of the statutes had been interpreted, however, to mean that a majority vote in the entire area to be consolidated would be controlling.

12 W. Germans Defeat 200 Vopos at Border

BERLIN (UPI)—A dozen West German police today beat back about 200 Communist police supported by armored personnel carriers and water cannon in a border battle with tear gas grenades, West Berlin police reported.

Although outnumbered more than 15 to 1, Western police managed to pull down a wire fence which the Communists had put up on West Berlin territory.

The Communists threw 30 tear gas grenades with explosive charges. The West Berliners retaliated with 50.

The incident occurred along a 200-foot stretch of the Wilhelmstrasse railway yard at the French sector border with East Germany.

A second tear gas battle broke out between East and West Berlin police at another section of the border. The East Germans did not use their guns but they did open fire at two other border points and captured two refugees at gunpoint.

The Wilhelmstrasse battle started when six West Berlin workmen protected by 12 West Berlin policemen began removing a wire fence which the Communists had built by the Communists 3 feet inside Western territory to stop refugees from fleeing to the West.

IGNORER DEMANDS
Sixty eastern border policemen arrived and demanded the work be stopped. The West Berliners ignored them. Another 140 Communist police arrived in armored personnel carriers.

The Communist police wore steel helmets and carried submachine guns. Two armored water cannon drove up to the eastern side of the border.

West Berlin police said the tear gas battle lasted an hour and a half and when it was over they continued to pull down the fence without further interference. They said about three-fourths of the Communist grenades failed to go off.

The dismantling of the fence did not leave a hole in the border. The Communists had a barbed wire barrier behind it on this side.

Police said 14 eastern zone residents escaped to the West in 24 hours up to 7 a.m. today but the Communists caught 27 others trying to flee.

RUINED BY FIRE — Reduced to charcoal, twisted machinery and brick chimneys, Pontiac Millwork Co. buildings still smoldered today after a spectacular, half-million-dollar fire. Pontiac, 27, fire department trucks squirted water on burning stacks of lumber and plywood until yesterday afternoon, keeping down danger from sparks to nearby residences. The Oakland County Sheriff's department has placed "No Parking" signs on both sides of Pontiac Road near the millworks, after traffic piled up again Sunday.

Civil Defense Director Jarrendt Refuses to Quit Post

Oakland County Civil Defense Director Lewis C. Jarrendt today denied that he has any intentions of resigning his post at present.

He branded words to the contrary as "rumor" initiated by Charles E. Cardon, chairman of the county Board of Supervisors Civil Defense Committee, thus firing the latest shot in a long-standing feud between them.

MADE ACCUSATIONS
On previous occasions Cardon has accused Jarrendt of ineptness in achieving civil defense goals in the county.

Cardon's committee voted unanimously Friday to recommend Jarrendt's new assistant, John A. Madole, to replace Jarrendt as civil defense director.

The committee's recommendation will be weighed by the board of supervisors when it meets tomorrow, at which time it is slated to consider reconfirmation of Jarrendt.

Jarrendt has been county civil defense director since the post was created in 1951.

Cardon has sought to have Jarrendt removed from office in the past, claiming that he has had to perform many of the duties of the directorship for him.

"I have no plans of retiring," said Jarrendt. "It is almost necessary that I stay on."

He referred to Madole, who was hired as his assistant in September, as not having been "long enough to get his feet on the ground."

PLANNING PROGRAM
"Also, we are in the midst of a planning program which makes any change in its direction at this time unfeasible," said Jarrendt.

The program, he explained, entails an inventory of civil defense personnel and equipment available to the county in the event of disaster, the facilities for mass feeding of civilians; and the working out beforehand of auxiliary transportation to augment that of the county DFW and road commissions.

Madole admitted that he was given the understanding that he would be endorsed at this time for the directorship when he was hired by the committee.

"This understanding was not a major factor in my accepting the post of assistant, however," he said.

"I consider civil defense of vital importance and am willing to serve no matter in what capacity," he said.

City of Sylvan Lake voters will go to the polls tomorrow to pick two of four candidates for seats on the city council.

Two seats are being vacated in three-year terms of two councilmen end.

The candidates are: John M. Dawson, a tool-and-die maker, of 2655 Fernside Ave.

John M. Hanson, a financial manager, of 2449 Gueland St.

Harold K. James, a wholesale horticulturist, of 1360 Benvenue Ave.

G. Richard Jarvis, accounting supervisor for GMC Truck and Coach, of 2239 Pontiac Drive, incumbent.

Jarvis is seeking re-election after three years on the council. The other term which ended this year was that of Mayor Howard E. Wideman, who decided not to run again after 17 years' intermittent service on the council.

Of the four candidates, Hanson and James issued a joint platform and both Dawson and Jarvis are supporting each other's bid.

However each one stated he is independent on some issues.

Individually the candidates named three major issues with which the council would have to concern itself in the near future:

- 1 - Proposed annexation of the Oakland County Boat Club located in Sylvan Lake.
- 2 - Aerial spraying against mosquitoes.
- 3 - A council attitude toward the Oakland County Boat Club located in Sylvan Lake.

ARE MEMBERS
Both Hanson and James are members of the Boat Club. Neither Dawson nor Jarvis is a member.

A decision whether present use of part of the club's property as a parking lot violates city zoning ordinance is expected to be made in October next year.

Jarvis commented on the matter: "I am opposed to giving the boat club any privilege which is not entitled to. They broke our

Supreme Court Faces Toughie

Must Rule on Lawyer Who Advised Client to Disobey Court Order

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Is it legal for a lawyer to advise his client to disobey a court order? The Supreme Court granted today a hearing to a young Toledo lawyer, Merritt W. Green, who did just that.

Today's ruling meant the court will hear arguments in the case some time before the end of the current term and will follow with a written opinion.

Green drove 10 days in prison and a $50 fine for advising his client to disobey a court order stemming from the picketing of the Toledo Marine Terminal by the International Longshoremen's Association in late May 1960.

Judge John M. McCabe of the Lucas County Court of Common Pleas had issued a restraining order against the picketing. Green advised the union to ignore the order, which he said was outside McCabe's jurisdiction.

His position was that the labor controversy was one solely for the National Labor Relations Board. He said the union the only way the order could be tested was to disobey it and file appeals from the ensuing contempt judgment.

In his own case he contended this advice was within his rights and duties as an attorney.

The finding against Green was upheld by the County Court of Appeals and the Ohio Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court's action was one of several decisions handed down in a brief business session. The nine justices have been in recess for two weeks writing opinions.

In other actions, the court: —Refused to examine a Pennsylvania State Court ruling which invalidated Pennsylvania's 1959 movie censorship law. The Supreme Court last July 26 found the censorship law ran counter to both state and federal constitutions.

—Agreed to review the conviction of a Georgia sheriff who was cited for contempt of court during a 1960 primary political campaign in Bibb County, Ga. Sheriff James I. Wood was convicted on three counts of contempt stemming from three news releases he gave out during the campaign. The releases criticized Bibb County Superior Court Judge Oscar L. Long for a charge made by the judge to a grand jury.

Two People Hurt in 3-Car Crash at Shop Center

Two persons were injured in a three-car collision Saturday evening on Franklin Road near the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Reported in fair condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital is Mrs. Justine Adams, 41, 531 Highland Ave., Pontiac. Susan Willis, 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Peggy F. Willis, 414 Second St., Pontiac, is in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Arthur L. Polley, 35, 135 W. Kenneth Road, told Pontiac police he had just pulled out of a driveway at the shopping center when his car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Ulrich L. Freeman, 41, 586 Arthur St.

Mrs. Willis said Freeman's car crashed into her vehicle after it struck Polley's auto. The mishap occurred at 5:40 p.m. Saturday just south of Fildew Avenue.

Freeman, Polley and Mrs. Willis were released after treatment at the hospital.

Storm Inga Lazing Along

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Inga, the season's eighth tropical storm, plowed slowly through the Gulf of Mexico today with little indication she would become a hurricane. The disturbance posed no immediate threat to any land area.

City employees, commissioners and friends in the community are invited to attend the Thursday affair.

Willman will begin terminal leave Nov. 18. He will be master of ceremonies at the city's annual awards banquet for employees and retirees on Dec. 4 at Pontiac Elks Temple.

A dinner honoring Willman will be attended by commissioners and department heads Dec. 11 at the City Club.

He retires officially Dec. 31.

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Four of Adolph Eichmann's former deputies may be brought to trial in West Germany on the basis of evidence collected by Israeli police. It was reported here today.

The four men are Hermann Krumey, Franz Novak, Otto Hunsche, and Werner Lebn. Krumey and Novak are in jail. The other two are free.

The Day in Birmingham

Four Churches Planning Protestant Youth Project

BIRMINGHAM — Encouraged by recent proposals for Protestant church union, four of Birmingham's churches are laying plans for the formation of a United Youth Program.

Rev. David Vandusen of St. James Episcopal Church, who initiated the idea, said that "this program will be the start of a new concept in church youth work in Birmingham."

"It is one where the major Protestant churches pool their efforts and resources to reach out to meet the needs of the teenagers in the community," he said.

The program is planned under the direction of the clergy of the four cooperating churches: Rev. Mr. Vandusen; Rev. Jack Angerman of the First Presbyterian Church; Rev. Mead M. Bailey of the Congregational Church; and Rev. Robert Falk of the First Methodist Church.

The first meeting of the combined church youths will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

The program will center around the Blake-Pike Proposal, which sets forth the idea of Protestant church union in this country similar to that already in effect in the United Church of India and to include the Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian and United Church of Christ denominations.

More than 200 young people are expected to attend the initial session.

After hearing an opening statement on the proposal by Mr. Vandusen, the participants will adjourn to small discussion groups to formulate questions on the youth union.

At the conclusion of the discussions, the clergy of the four participating churches will deal with the questions raised by the small groups.

All the implications in the recent past have pointed to Russian doubt of the effectiveness and reliability of the satellite armies.

Altogether they represent a force of about 800,000 or 1 million men. They are equipped with modern weapons mostly of Soviet design, although Czechoslovakia and Poland produce many of their own weapons.

Following Russia's example the satellites have ordered a postponement of the release of conscripts who have completed their two years military service.

Reds Tighten Up Satellite Forces

LONDON (UPI)—Diplomatic dispatches reported today that Russia has ordered a tighter integration of satellite forces with the Red Army under Soviet command.

The move signifies a major reorganization of the Warsaw Pact forces, as part of the stepped up Russian military build-up.

The Warsaw Pact nations include Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, East Germany, and Under the command of Soviet Marshal Andrei Antonovich Grechnev.

Two main tasks were reported to have been set for the projected immediate reorganization of the Red bloc's military setup.

Satellite forces are to be streamlined to conform more closely to Red Army patterns and their coordination with the Red Army is to be revised, with a further tightening of Russian control and command.

Survive this, and you have probably an hour before fallout arrives.

Why? Because it consists of the nuclear ashes or coals from the burst, and sucked-up material. And it shoots up to 20 to 25 miles high, and has all that distance to fall back to earth.

NATIONAL WEATHER — It will be cooler tonight at the Atlantic Coast states while warmer weather is expected west of the Mississippi. The Gulf Coast states will have rain from tropical storm Inga.

Can Be Proud of Our Gifts

Rabbi Israel Goodman of Congregation B'nai Israel supports the Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign as follows:

To Pontiac, the United Fund means that we, as citizens of our community, can be proud that we are redeeming our responsibilities to our needy.

By giving, we, in truth, receive. We receive the satisfaction of knowing that we care and are sensitive to the needs of others.

Therefore, it is for everyone to give, not until it hurts, but rather until it does good.

Two People Hurt in 3-Car Crash at Shop Center

Two persons were injured in a three-car collision Saturday evening on Franklin Road near the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Reported in fair condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital is Mrs. Justine Adams, 41, 531 Highland Ave., Pontiac. Susan Willis, 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Peggy F. Willis, 414 Second St., Pontiac, is in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Arthur L. Polley, 35, 135 W. Kenneth Road, told Pontiac police he had just pulled out of a driveway at the shopping center when his car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Ulrich L. Freeman, 41, 586 Arthur St.

Mrs. Willis said Freeman's car crashed into her vehicle after it struck Polley's auto. The mishap occurred at 5:40 p.m. Saturday just south of Fildew Avenue.

Freeman, Polley and Mrs. Willis were released after treatment at the hospital.

Storm Inga Lazing Along

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Inga, the season's eighth tropical storm, plowed slowly through the Gulf of Mexico today with little indication she would become a hurricane. The disturbance posed no immediate threat to any land area.

City employees, commissioners and friends in the community are invited to attend the Thursday affair.

Willman will begin terminal leave Nov. 18. He will be master of ceremonies at the city's annual awards banquet for employees and retirees on Dec. 4 at Pontiac Elks Temple.

A dinner honoring Willman will be attended by commissioners and department heads Dec. 11 at the City Club.

He retires officially Dec. 31.

Eichmann Deputies Face Threat of Trial

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Four of Adolph Eichmann's former deputies may be brought to trial in West Germany on the basis of evidence collected by Israeli police. It was reported here today.

The four men are Hermann Krumey, Franz Novak, Otto Hunsche, and Werner Lebn. Krumey and Novak are in jail. The other two are free.

Get Together at Caterpillar

UAW, Company Reach Tentative Agreement on 3-Year Contract

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Negotiators for Caterpillar Tractor Co. and the United Auto Workers reached tentative agreement Sunday night on a three-year contract covering 13,000 workers in three Peoria area plants.

The union workers vote today on acceptance of the proposed contract. A settlement in Peoria usually sets the pattern for 4,000 other UAW members at Caterpillar plants in Decatur and Aurora, Ill., Davenport, Iowa, and York, Pa.

A UAW spokesman said union-management talks will resume in Decatur probably early this week.

UAW and Caterpillar negotiators declined to make public details of the tentative agreement pending results of the ratification vote.

UAW members struck Oct. 30 at seven Caterpillar installations. Wages, fringe benefits and a company-proposed consolidation of a number of job classifications were issues during the talks between the UAW and the large farm implement manufacturer.

UAW workers averaged $2.60 an hour under the old Caterpillar contract, which expired Oct. 1.

Recent three-year contracts signed by the UAW with International Harvester Co. and John Deere Co., two other large farm implement manufacturers, called for annual wage increases of 2½ per cent or 6 cents an hour, whichever was greater.

Market Comes to the Customer in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The supermarket goes to the customers in 200 of Mexico City's poorest neighborhoods.

The 50 bright red trucks of CEIMSA sell about 150 tons of food each day during their 326 scheduled one hour and seven minute stops.

Housewives walk into the air-conditioned trailer and help themselves to packages of staple food stuffs, all priced at one peso, or eight cents.

The project is an outgrowth of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos' program to help both farmers and consumers by guaranteeing markets and reasonable prices for basic foods.

Prices are about half those charged in neighborhood grocery stores.

2 Airmen Keep Pilots Happy by Building Squeak

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Most Air Force maintenance men are trying to get rid of squeaks, but Sgt. Charles E. Cloney and Airman Thomas Salisli invented one to keep George Air Force Base pilots happy.

The base has a Link trainer in which pilots go through all the motions and most of the experiences of flying without ever leaving the ground. Used to keep fliers proficient in use of instruments, the trainer simulates airplane motion, engine noise and other flight sensations. But pilots complained that "landings" in the trainer lacked realism because there was no squeak as tires supposedly made initial friction contact with the runway.

Cloney and Salisli fixed that by constructing an electronic gadget that's connected to the trainer's electrical system to give a realistic squeak at the appropriate moment.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special)—One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night. No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection. In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's treatment was continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration. The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in element or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

12 Persons Die in Traffic

Accidents End 13 Lives in Michigan

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents claimed at least 12 lives in Michigan during the first weekend of November. In addition, one person died in a miscellaneous mishap.

The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

TRAFFIC:
Ozdie Duke Briggs, 26, of Flint, was killed early Sunday when struck by a car on the Dixie Highway in Birch Run Township of Saginaw County.

Mary Falcone, 74, of Royal Oak, died Sunday from injuries suffered Friday night when a car struck her in Royal Oak.

Paul M. Curtis, 35, of Algonac, was killed Sunday when his car hit a bridge on M29 near Anchor Bay Drive in St. Clair County.

Bennett M. Paul, 74, of Cedar in Leelanau County, was struck and killed by a car on a road in Grand Township, Clare County, Saturday night.

Patrick Wels, 14, of Livonia, died Saturday when struck by a car on a street near his home.

Michael Meronik, 74, of Southfield, was killed Saturday when his car overturned on an Ingham County road near Mason.

Claude Workman, 80, of Detroit, was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car while walking across State Fair Road in Detroit.

Victoria Bednarski, 9, of Detroit, was hit by a car and killed Sunday night when she attempted to cross a Detroit street.

Charles Madonia, 70, of Detroit, was killed Sunday evening when his car ran off a road and hit a bridge abutment in Brownstown Township, Wayne County.

Sabra Emerson, 11, of Jackson, was killed Saturday when struck by a car.

Mrs. Patricia Larsen, 58, of West Branch, died in a two-car collision Saturday on M76 near Standish in Arenac County.

Glenford W. Roberts, 23, of Jedd, died Friday night after a car in which he was riding hit a bridge near Peck.

MISCELLANEOUS:
Matthew J. Prener, 75, of Detroit died after being dragged 75 feet under his own car Saturday when the automatic transmission engaged as he stood in front of the car. The engine had been running.

Fighting in Laos Dampens Hopes

Renewal of Hostilities Diminishes Chance of Peace for Asian Nation

GENEVA (UPI) — Renewed fighting in Laos dampened hopes here today that the 14-nation conference on Laos can find some way to bring peace to the little Southeast Asian kingdom.

So far the fighting does not appear to be widespread. But the fact that it has started again following the monsoon season tends to confirm previous fears of Western diplomats.

The chief delegate of the Laos neutralists faction, Quinlan Pholsena, was gloomy when he flew in Sunday to represent Prince Souvanna Phouma, the man who is trying to form a coalition government.

Pholsena charged that the present pro-Western government Prince Boun Oum "has absolutely no interest in seeing a peaceful settlement of this question."

He said he saw little chance of progress here in view of the fighting. He charged the Boun Oum regime with "deliberately engineering" the recent shelling of the village of Xieng Khouang and that attacks by the Boun Oum forces had increased all over the country.

In Saigon, Viet Nam, a visiting official of Boun Oum's government, secretary of state and foreign affairs Prince Sompasana, told newsmen he did not think the Geneva conference could solve anything either.

Veteran Newsmen Dies

died Sunday after an illness of several months. Cashman, who had been in newspaper work 53 years, was first employed by his father, the late John G. Cashman, who founded the Evening-Post in 1883.

So, We Were Promised News Conferences...

In the eyes of most politicians, recalling election promises is a nasty habit of newspapers and a few cantankerous voters.

Remember the promise by Sen. JOHN F. KENNEDY that he would meet regularly with the press, if elected?

No one would say that his 10 months in office have been so quiet there was nothing to take up in news conferences. Looking back, it seems busier than most we can remember.

Yet, President KENNEDY has met the Washington press corps only 17 times in 10 months, less often than every two weeks.

The presidential press conference is an American press phenomenon. Foreign dignitaries and officials shudder at the thought of meeting the press in a rough and tumble, no questions barred news conference. Meeting weekly would unnerve them completely.

But Americans have come to expect their leader to be accessible to the press, and be ready to answer the questions of the Nation.

Washington newsmen who used to struggle with Ike's involved sentences don't have that problem with the precise answers of KENNEDY, WHEN he appears to answer problems.

The newsmen of this world capital are also sore that a few special favorites are still getting the plums, the inside "leaks" which put them far ahead of the pack.

All in all, the KENNEDY rating as far as meeting his obligations to the press and its readers is dismal.

Pontiac Millwork Fire Unfortunate Mishap

Witnessing a lifetime's work being destroyed by fire was the unfortunate experience of WILLIS S. DOWNES Saturday as he stood helpless while his Pontiac Millwork Company burned to the ground.

A tragedy such as this is two-fold. Sixty some employees are automatically forced out of work and the company is temporarily forced to a standstill.

Since starting his company some 25 years ago, BILL DOWNES has had a strong civil interest in our community. First he created jobs, and secondly, he has been a watchdog of school financing.

The Press, along with other area residents, offers its deepest sympathy to Mr. Downes and his employees.

Welfare Benefactors Work in Mt. Clemens

Indications of how far-reaching the Newburgh welfare case is come from nearby Mt. Clemens where the Macomb County Welfare Department has ordered dole clients to "work or else."

They are processing 400 of its 635 employable male welfare recipients for work on County projects. It seems sound and reasonable that they contribute partially for their support.

If a male client refuses the work he will not be eligible for relief. The plan as it is set up would pay the workers $1.50 an hour in vouchers which would be applied against their welfare payments.

The County will benefit by receiving work not otherwise done by regular County workers. Nature of the work will be clean-up, such as cutting brush, etc.

There is nothing particularly new about this program other than the fact that it has not been universally used in recent years.

A few years ago a program somewhat along this line was instituted in Oakland County. Primarily our County setup operates during the summer months and a hundred or so welfare recipients participate.

It would seem to us that such a program has merit for both the taxpayer and the client. The welfare workers would be maintaining self-respect and dignity, plus good work habits until they returned to full employment. The taxpayer in turn would be receiving some work for his money.

The Man About Town

A Narrow Escape

Local Man's 45-Year Study Made Him Flirt With Death

Weather: Another way in which our area beats the world — in variance.

According to an extended letter from him,

Robert M. Fisher of Union Lake has been gathering, studying and eating mushrooms for 45 years. But he recently was poisoned by something he mistook for a mushroom.

For the benefit of others, he gives his experience: "I lost any claim to being an expert three weeks ago, when I ate the wrong growth. But I want to save a life in case somebody else does the same thing. "Within a half hour after eating them I felt very warm and drowsy, a rather pleasant feeling, with no pain. I had heard these were the symptoms of such poisoning, and my son rushed me to Pontiac General Hospital, with only minutes to spare.

"Blacked out, and they pumped my stomach and used every other life saving plan, but they called in my family, as the doctors thought I hadn't very long to live. But, thanks to those doctors, I survived.

"Your column's advice to buy either canned or fresh mushrooms at a store is the safest plan."

When Ohio State defeated Iowa, 29-13, Saturday, 27 were eliminated in our football contest, being the surviving entries who favored Iowa. The 24 who favored Ohio now carry over to next Saturday's contest game, on which they vote: Georgia Tech, 15; Tennessee, 9.

Prediction of the Old Farmer's Almanac for the Pontiac area this week:

"You'll be knowing it's snowing."

This grandmotherly marathon bobs up about every so often. Now a Mrs. Effie Arbuckle of Kokomo, Ind., climbs into the Associated Press wire photo class because she has 50 great-grandchildren. Cannot some of these children discount Kokomo's latest attempt at the headlines.

Word comes to me that Little League, 12 year old

Gary Gullen of Royal Oak, was designated by his class to get an interview with Al Kaline.

Detroit Tiger star, and that he has not had a reply to his letter. Since we presume Al is a regular reader of this column, this item should remind him to answer Gary.

Oakland County will be represented at the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago, Nov. 24 to Dec. 3, as Stuart Hutchins of Rochester will be showing some of his prize Holsteins there.

—But the Deluge Is Supposed to Come AFTER Me

David Lawrence Says:

Let's Toughen Up Our Propaganda

WASHINGTON — So preoccupied has the nation become with the threats of a "hot war" that many important moves which could help to win the "cold war" are being neglected. And yet it is by reaching the hearts and minds of peoples everywhere, including the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, that a "hot war" can be prevented.

The Russians have been getting away too long with the misuse of words that they have often bandied about in Soviet radio broadcasts and in the speeches of their leaders — "capitalism."

"We must reeducate our public, our government, our own private lives to making 'people's capitalism' not only a system of sound economics, but also an inspiration that goes beyond mere material considerations."

Mr. Bristol puts his finger on a weakness in Washington. There has for years been thinlily in propaganda broadcasts. The Russians can use almost any argument they wish, whether or not it is palatable to America, but the American broadcasts have been timid, and, indeed, instructions were issued a few years ago to keep the "Voice of America" from expressing any opinions of its own.

The attitude of the diplomats in the State Department is always inclined toward self-protecting strong expressions, and the tendency is to use the polite phrases of diplomacy.

This has been changed somewhat recently, but not enough for the "Voice of America" to do the job that has to be done with world opinion in the "cold war."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

They head their tongue like a bow; falsehood and not truth has grown strong in the land; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they do not know me, says the Lord. — Jeremiah 9:3.

Evil is a far more cunning and preserving propagandist than good, for it has no inward strength, and is driven to seek countenance and sympathy. — James Russell Lowell.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Your Heart Develops From Tube Into Pump

When you're told you have a heart murmur, you're almost sure to register some alarm. Yet most heart murmurs are of little importance.

In the course of its development, the heart changes from a straight length of vascular tubing to a four-chambered pump. Twisting like a pretzel, it somehow manages this change without breaking its connections at either end.

While the necessary twisting and turnings are taking place, changes are also going on within the developing pump. A thin partition is erected to divide the pump into right and left compartments. Then each compartment is divided into an upper and a lower chamber.

Now what you have are right and left upper chambers and right and left lower chambers.

The upper chambers are called auricles because each has a side pocket that looks like a puppy's ear (auricle). The lower chambers are called ventricles because each has a thick muscular wall that surrounds a small cavity that looks like a lady's purse (ventricle).

Each upper chamber is separated from each lower chamber by a set of valves (atrio-ventricular valves). The left atrio-ventricular valve is called the mitral because it has two leaves like a bishop's mitre cap. The right is called the tricuspid because it has three leaves (cusps). And the purpose of mitral and tricuspid valves is to prevent backflow during the pumping action of the ventricles.

PREVENTS BACKFLOW Then, in addition to the atrio-ventricular valves, there are another set of valves whose purpose is to prevent backflow into the ventricles after they've pumped the blood out of their purse-like chambers.

These valves are named for the great arteries into which the blood is pumped. The pulmonary artery prevents backflow into the right ventricle whose job it is to drive blood into the lungs. And the aortic valve prevents backflow into the left ventricle whose assignment is to drive blood into all the other organs of the body except, of course, the lungs.

'Union's Financial Records Thoroughly Investigated'

A letter signed by "A Showgoer" suggests that some honest, fearless reporter should investigate the handling of the Strike Fund of the UAW Local 653.

The UAW International Union volunteered its entire records to the McClellan Senate Labor Committee, and this committee made a thorough investigation of all the financial records of the UAW International Union including strike assistance records.

Mr. Carmine Bellino, Chief Investigator for the McClellan Senate Labor Committee testified that the UAW method of handling finances under Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazzy is one of the best they had seen that they had investigated, and Emil Mazzy insists that complete audits of all local union funds be read at the membership meetings of the local unions.

Perhaps the person who wrote this letter has not been fulfilling his obligation by attending his Local Union Membership Meetings where reports on all finances are made and are open for discussion and approval by the membership.

'Cut Foreign Aid; Build Shelters'

As a taxpayer, I deeply resent the billions being spent for the space race and all the underdeveloped countries while not one cent is being spent for fallout shelters for us. The average family, especially those with children can't afford to build one.

If there is an all-out war, there won't be any taxpayers left.

Says Crane Unfair in Use of Word

Dr. Crane is another who uses the word "hill billy" and doesn't know the meaning.

Some people think the word "hill billy" means a person from the South. The old dictionary will plainly tell you that a hill billy is a backwoodsman or wood chopper and can be found any place that has woods and hills.

People should stop and think before they speak. All Southerners resent the word hill billy when referring to them. Let's quit playing like ignoramuses and try to get along.

'Few Could Survive Nuclear Bombing'

You printed a letter from Martha Omeo and I, too, believe that due to the heavy fallout the chance of survival would be slim. It almost seems that all counts are against anyone living through a nuclear bombing. Fallout shelters would come in handy as long as the people stayed inside or underground. Anyone who went out shouldn't be allowed to return since his clothing and very person would be contaminated.

A bomb shelter would perhaps keep a family alive a while longer than those outside, but for what purpose, since most of the surrounding area would be devastated and unlivable after a direct bombing?

What kind of a world would present itself to the released "prisoners of the fallout shelter?"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Papers Need More Than 'News'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE CASE K-43: Stuart List, aged 50, is the dynamic publisher of the Chicago American.

Recently he took me to lunch to discuss newspaper psychology. "Some editors of the old school," he began, "are still unwilling to concede the vital importance of newspaper features as circulation builders."

"They think 'news' is still the primary virtue of a newspaper."

"And so it was until a few years ago. But with the advent of radio and TV news every hour, the general public can now gain access to the latest information from these sources."

"Besides, if there are competing papers in the same city, the 'news' is almost equally available on the front page of the rival newspaper."

"So why do readers prefer one paper to another in the same area?"

U.N. Group to Get Busy on Congo Civil Fighting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin planned more talks with other U.N. delegates today before calling a Security Council meeting to discuss the threat of civil war in the Congo.

Zorin is president of the council this month. One source said the 11-nation group might meet Tuesday.

day or Wednesday, but another source said he favored delaying it until next week to enable the U.N. secretariat to gather more information.

Ethiopia, Nigeria and Sudan sent Zorin a letter Friday night asking that he convene the council to consider the situation "caused by the lawless acts of mercenaries" in the Congo's secessionist Katanga Province.

The three African nations did not say what action they wanted the council to take.

At its last Council meeting Feb. 21, the council (1) urged that measures be taken for the immediate withdrawal of all mercenaries from the Congo and (2) called for U.N. measures to prevent civil war, by force if necessary.

FIGHT TO STALEMATE
The U.N. force seized strong points in Katanga Sept. 13 in an attempt to oust the mercenaries, but Katanga troops fought it to a stalemate. Last week the central government announced its troops had penetrated 35 miles into Katanga in a police action to end the secession. But on Saturday it admitted the Katangans had driven its soldiers back. Katanga's makeshift air force of less than 20 planes, manned by about 20 hired foreign fliers, was a major factor.

Despite the council's instructions to prevent civil war, the U.N. office in the Congolese capital of Leopoldville last July made known that the U.N. force would not act to stop the coalition central government from winning back Katanga.

Last Thursday it went even further. In a report to U.N. headquarters, the office-in-charge, Sture Linner of Sweden, said he had warned the Katangans the U.N. force would shoot down their military planes if they kept on bombing central government troops in Kasai Province, staging area for the Katanga invasion.

Presidents Mobutu Tshombe of Katanga left Geneva Sunday night for the Congo after a week of medical examination. He said his troops are prepared to defend their province against the invaders and do not need white mercenaries.

"We are strong enough without them," Tshombe declared.

A Katanga army chief of staff Joseph Yav said his force's only casualties in the border fighting were three slightly injured. But Associated Press correspondent Colin Frost, after a flight in a Katanga plane to the frontier region, reported: "Even on its so far limited scale, the border war has been fought with a ferocity commonplace in the Congo."

Frost reported a U.N. estimate of 200 whites in the air force is not accurate, that there are about 20 Belgian, South African, Rhodesian, French and Canadian pilots, a handful of professional ground crewmen and a volunteer force of Belgian farmers living in Katanga who help with the servicing.

"I haven't been paid in four months so you could hardly call me a mercenary," one of the pilots told Frost.

Detroit Tells All to Goldberg

Bakewell to Close Up Leland Plant Because of Labor Troubles

TOKYO (AP)—A 72-year-old Detroit businessman told Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg Sunday that labor unions in the United States are destroying the incentive of small business.

At a news conference after the close of a three-day conference on Japan-U.S. economic affairs, Goldberg was confronted by Sid Bakewell, president of the Leland Detroit Manufacturing Co.

The labor secretary said Bakewell's charges weren't true. "Labor unions in the United States are one of the principal supporters of small business. They have supported legislation to help 'small businessmen,'" Goldberg said.

Bakewell later told newsmen he intends to close his $250,000 plant which manufactures special machinery, tools, jigs and meat processing machinery, "due to labor conditions."

His firm employs between 60 and 100 persons and he faces new labor contract talks when he returns to Detroit.

"I cannot take it," he said. "I hope I didn't embarrass you."

Bakewell told Goldberg after the conference.

"Not at all. I was glad to have a chance to talk to you," Goldberg replied.

Scribe 'Guns' With Mountbatten

BY HARRY FERGUSON

United Press International
LONDON—The postman delivered to my door a communication bearing the crest of Lord Mountbatten of Burma and the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense" (evil to him who evil thinks). His lordship advised me that I had been on a shooting expedition with him at Broadlands, and that he was sending along a box score of the game we bagged.

The street number on the communication was correct, but it was addressed to "R. Ferguson, Esq." Accordingly, I handed it back to the postman and thought I was through with the matter. Not so. Two days later Lord Mountbatten's communication again was at my front door.

Here was a pretty kettle of fish indeed. The shoot apparently had lasted several days and ended on Oct. 28. Reviewing my activities, it seemed to me I had an iron-clad alibi to prove I had not been shooting at Broadlands during the indicated period.

Miss Grace Duncan, who presides at the United Press International switchboard, was prepared to swear I had been in and out of the office every day and that on one occasion I had handed her five shillings to strengthen the capital structure of a joint enterprise in which we pit our money and cunning against the operators of the British football pools.

On the other hand, a duly appointed representative of Her Majesty's government twice had notified me officially that toward the end of October I had spent several days shooting with Lord Mountbatten.

One does not lightly defy the edicts of the British government. Scotland Yard, the Tower of London, the Old Bailey and all that sort of thing, you know. So I took the coward's course and knuckled under.

If Her Majesty's government was going to insist that I had been at Broadlands in October, so be it. To the critics of my craven conduct I have this to say: "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

The thing that impressed me most at Broadlands during the time I was supposed to be there was that I was not a hunter, but a "gun."

This was the first time I had been a gun since my sixth birthday when my father presented me with a repeating BB air rifle and suggested that I get out from underfoot and stalk some sparrows along Troost Avenue, Kansas City, Mo.

Other guns at Broadlands included Major T. Baring, Sir Thomas Sopwith, Lady Sopwith, Commander G. M. Bradley and, of course, Lord Mountbatten.

At Broadlands you hunt along a "beat" and our beat was "the ridge." Weather: "Fine." All the time, I guess, but definitely on Oct. 28. The card said so.

We were a potent group of guns. Let Lord Mountbatten's box score speak for itself:

This Day	Total
Game Killed (Oct. 28)	Date
Pheasants 123	386
Partridges 2	24
Snipe 0	1
Wildfowl 0	51
Pigeons 2	10
Hares 4	11
Various 1	1

Let it be confessed at once that this gun did not do so well on the pheasants, partridges, snipe, wildfowl, pigeons and hares. All credit for them must redound to Lord Mountbatten, Sir Thomas and Lady Sopwith, Major Baring and Comdr. Bradley.

But toward evening of Oct. 28 this gun was walking on air. The ridge, tired and discouraged, the gun that this gun was carrying, was dragging along on the turf.

Suddenly there was a small noise in a thicket. Creeping up and carefully parting the branches, this gun saw a variety of game. The various stayed boldly at me for a moment. Then there was a whirr of wings and a flashing form against the coral pink of the Broadlands sunset. Like a true sportsman and a veteran gun, shot the various on the rise.

Says Cuba Will Wipe Out Unemployment by 1962

HAVANA (AP) — Economic chief Ernesto Guevara says unemployment will be wiped out in Cuba by the end of 1962.

Fidel Castro's pro-Communist industries minister told a meeting of directors of state factories and farms there will be no pay increases for workers next year except for special cases. He said this would be necessary to create new jobs and to reduce production costs.

Honduras Fights Typhoid Threat

Relief Agencies Helping in Wake of Hurricane; Epidemic Feared

BELIZE, Honduras (UPI) — The government and international relief agencies today stepped up their campaign against a possible typhoid epidemic in the shambles left by Hurricane Hattie.

Sunday authorities ordered mass exonerations to combat the menace. Workers continued to pull bodies of victims from debris-strewn mudflats, adding to the known death toll already above 200.

U. S. Navy doctors and nurses working alongside British relief crews and those of private agencies here inoculated an estimated 12,000 persons in two days. Five thousand additional shots were administered to residents of Stann Creek.

Hattie swept in on the capital city last Tuesday, taking lives, splintering houses and disrupting food and water supplies with 150 m.p.h.-or-better winds.

Capt. James Armstrong of Plant City, Fla., skipper of the USS Audacious, said substantial stores of the aircraft carrier's relief cargo of 458,000 pounds of food remained to be allotted to Hattie's victims.

More than 200 British troops deployed along the coastline, helping Hondurans and passing out supplies coming from the Caribbean area. The Anietam arrived last Friday.

U.S. Minute Man Plans West Coast 10-Day Meeting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The leader of a group known as Minute Men, intended for civil defense in event of a Communist invasion or takeover, plans a 10-day series of meetings with followers on the West Coast.

AT GRASS ROOTS

Robert B. DePugh said the "Minute Man" organization's only purpose is to promote civil defense at the grass roots and to train civilians in event of war or insurrection.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown last week called the Minute Men guerrilla bands and estimated they have 2,500 members in California.

Britain Has Hands Full With Race Problem

BY BOB CONSIDINE

LONDON—Britain slowly ruled more peoples of more colors than any nation of recent history, and with more efficiency than any other colonial power. Now, with the empire largely liquidated, she finds herself beset by the first racial problem she has had to meet face to face. She's got a kind of industrial "Little Rock" on her hands.

It has developed into ugly white vs. black riots in Birmingham, Liverpool and London, whose traditional white work pools have been breached in very recent times by Negroes from the West Indies, and by Indians, Pakistanis and other shrouded faces from the Commonwealth.

They have as much legal right to come to England in search of work and a better life as Puerto Ricans have a right to go to New York. But they are meeting an even more hostile reception than the emigrants from San Juan.

Yielding to a considerable domestic pressure, as all politicians must, or feel they must, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's party has introduced a government bill to bar Commonwealth immigrants who have no guaranteed jobs in Britain and who have no special skills. The bill is raising a furor here, ranging in the press all the way from shouts of "bravo" to sneers of "colour bar."

There are even echoes of the ancient troubles with Ireland. One paper critical of the bill suggests it is some kind of papal plot to favor the Irish—who are now coming to Britain in far greater numbers than they are emigrating to America.

FIGHTING ERUPTS

Last Thursday night in London, fighting broke out during a meeting of the Movement for Colonial Freedom at St. Pancras Town Hall, a group in favor of the legislation. The agitators, followers of Sir Oswald Mosley's Union movement and the League of Empire Loyalists, broke up a speech with chants of "Keep Britain White!"

There followed a wild melee, laced with popping firecrackers and a broken head or two.

In America it would have been covered by television and been the subject of many a view-with-alarm tract. Here it rated five short paragraphs in the bustling little "Daily Mirror" and nothing in "The Times."

Residents of the U.S. South and our border states may be surprised to learn that their British Allies are in a tizzy of sorts about this matter even though there are now scarcely more than 50,000 colored persons in these isles that have a population of fifty million.

A diplomat on leave from the British Embassy in Washington explained it this way today: "The empire once sent us only its students and special people. We welcomed them, naturally. The respective governments seldom thought of giving permission for anyone lesser to leave."

ONE-WAY STREET

Now the Commonwealth nations are lowering the bars. "Anyone who can raise the passage fare may come here, without the vestige of a job in sight; paradoxically, the Englishman could not readily go to that fellow's country nearly as easily or legally. It's a one-way street, and we're up the end of it.

"We have an unemployment in the U.S., and actually there is now a need for people who can dig holes and clean things. The first wave of our colored peoples is already appearing and tightening belts at thirty quid (84¢) a week. But then there is the spectre of India's millions descending upon this little place."

We don't have room for many more people. If there's a great recession and unemployed white men see hard-working and worthy colored men at work, look out! In short, we must put through immigration legislation that limits and selects. After all, you American chaps, do it with us foreign

Railroad Strike Is Called Off

Brotherhood to Wait on One-Day Walkout
Against 4 Companies

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A threatened one-day strike against four railroads has been called off, at least temporarily, by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The Brotherhood had planned the walkout to call attention to the decreasing number of jobs on the railroads — the New York Central, Boston and Maine, New Haven and Long Island.

William P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood, said: "No drastic action will be taken by our brotherhood to embarrass the period of time there appears to be a willingness to discuss the problems in the true light of consequences."

Kennedy made the announcement Saturday. He attended a dinner and conferred with representatives of Brotherhood members on the four railroads.

He said that "barring a more effective solution" of the commuter-transportation problems of the railroads, he recommended adoption of the so-called Philadelphia plan of integration and cooperation among rail and rapid transit lines.

Railroads have opposed the plan. The union president said the brotherhood would be willing to participate in such a program and be offered to assist in drafting it.

Labor Opposition Vowed to Right-to-Work Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An AFL-CIO spokesman said Sunday organized labor would keep battling for federal prohibition of state "right-to-work" laws even though such a ban probably will not be approved by Congress next year.

Thomas E. Harris, associate general counsel of the AFL-CIO, said state laws barring agreements which require workers to join a union to hold their jobs were "anti-union" and unrealistic in 20th century America.

Dr. John K. Cobb Gets Harvard Appointment

Dr. John Kolbe Cobb of 4415 Motorway Drive, Pontiac, has received an appointment as assistant in radiology at the Harvard Medical School.

Dr. Cobb is associated with the Massachusetts General Hospital, affiliated with the school. He received his A.B. in 1952 from the University of Michigan and his M.D. from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1955.

Persons injured in accidents in the United States last year totaled 46.4 million.

Doubt Queen's Safety in Ghana

British Official Leaves for Accra to Determine Advisability of Visit

LONDON (UPI) — Common wealth Secretary Duncan Sandys headed for Accra today to find out if Ghana is safe for Queen Elizabeth to visit. Elizabeth and Prince Philip are due to leave here Thursday.

Opponents of Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah set off two bombs in the capital city over the weekend, leading to anxiety about the queen's safety.

Sandys has told parliament the government is prepared to advise cancelling the royal visit, if it is thought Elizabeth will be in serious danger.

Nkrumah is anxious for Elizabeth to make the trip in order to bolster his prestige. For the same reason, sources said, Nkrumah's opponents would like to see it cancelled.

Sandys conferred with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan before taking off Sunday night. It was Sandys who went to Accra last month to make arrangements for the scheduled 11-day tour.

The bomb, damaged a life-sized statue of Nkrumah and the ceremonial independence arch, facing the stand where Elizabeth is to review a parade in her honor.

U.S. and German Ships Collide in Heavy Fog

BREMEN, Germany (UPI)—The American freighter American Merchant and the German coastal vessel Martha Frieseke collided Sunday night in heavy fog in the Weser River near here, harbor police reported.

They said seven men were injured in the collision, two seriously. The 423-ton German ship sank but its 11-man crew was picked up by a tug.

Camp Kett Plans Fill Session for Unit

Forty area branches of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association completed plans for the Camp Kett project Friday in the Kirkway Drive home of Mrs. Edward S. Wellock. Pouring (at left) is Mrs. F. Gordon Davis, Birmingham, Michigan division president; Mrs. G. J. Engelhard of Sodon Court, Bloomfield Heights club; Mrs. Dalton Ettinger, Orange Grove Street, Waterford Branch; Mrs. Merle Yockey, Lake Angelus Branch; Mrs. Harold I. Tanner, Bloomfield Hills, Cranbrook Branch.

Final plans for the Camp Kett project, almost halfway to its pledged goal of $3,800, were discussed Friday at a meeting of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mrs. Edward S. Wellock opened her Kirkway Drive home to presidents and representatives of the Division.

Chairmen of the affair were Mrs. Eugene S. Wellock and Mrs. F. Gordon Davis. Mrs. William Singleton and Mrs. John Tebben prepared the floral arrangements throughout the Wellock home.

Pouring were Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Carl Larson. Heather and roses in an 18th century bronze and crystal candelabra flanked by candelabra centered the table covered with point de Venice cloth.

Donations to the Camp Kett project being made through branch presidents will be used for furnishing a room at the youth leadership training camp built by the 4-H Foundation on a small lake near Cadillac.

Miss Flaherty also attended the University of Detroit and made her debut at the Gotham Ball in November 1956.

Use Simple Accessories

By GAIL DUGAS
NEW YORK (NEA) — There are countless women who are terrified by them. Those who love plaids are well aware that a really handsome plaid fashion is dependent on excellent fabric and deft handling. Given these attributes, a plaid coat, suit or dress can be a smashing success.

IN THE KNOW
The women who wear plaid knowingly always keep their accessories simple. Plaid, in itself, is sufficiently eye-arresting. The accessories should provide a quiet background.

The women who are wary of plaid are those who have had bad luck with it, often in their own planning. For plaid can rarely be considered the backbone of a wardrobe. It's the fashion that "breathes" a glowing spark into a wardrobe that's already built.

Accessorized with glowing, buttery smooth call bag and pumps, neat, leather gloves and a simple hat—plaid is a thing of joy. It is also a fashion that endures from one season to the next. The life of a good plaid fashion can be counted to be several years. And, these days, that's a sort of bonus in itself.

Area Personal Items of Interest

Reminder About Date Is 'Nice'

By the Emily Post Institute
Q: Two weeks ago while at a bridge party at a friend's house I met an acquaintance whom I hadn't seen for a long time and I invited her to dinner at my house for the following week. I said nothing further and took it for granted that she would come.

Salt Your Wash

To prevent the dyes in colored clothes from "bleeding" especially when you use strong detergents, add two or three teaspoons of salt to the wash and rinse cycles of the machine.

Women Preparing Annual Ingathering

By MARY ANGLIMIER
Hundreds of women and girls are scurrying about town purchasing two new articles of warm winter clothing, "one to wash" and "one to wear" to contribute to the annual ingathering of the Pontiac Chapter of Needlework Guild of America, Inc.

A gift of two new articles of clothing or household linen will make anyone a member of one of America's oldest national welfare organizations.

Mashed Pears in Cake Is Idea Worth Trying

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Harold Thornthwaite has had so many pears this year that she almost ran out of ideas on using them. We helped her out with a few suggestions. In return, she gave us a pear cake recipe. You may use fresh or canned pears.

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup milk
1 cup mashed pears
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup nuts, chopped (optional)

Sift dry ingredients together. Cream shortening with sugar until fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add flavorings. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk and mashed pears. Add nuts, if used. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake 30-40 minutes at 350 degrees. This cake needs no frosting.

Church Unit Told of Welfare Work

A representative of the Lutheran Social Service of Child Welfare spoke to the Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church Women this week.

Mrs. Gabrielle Oldshaus spoke of the agency's many services, emphasizing child adoption. As a Christmas project the group plans to give layettes to the LSSCW.

After noting candidates for the Nov. 27 election meeting, members heard devotions by Mrs. Marshall Gooley.

Next time you iron lingerie or hankies try sprinkling them with good quality witch hazel instead of water. Notice the distinctive "fresh" odor.

N-Shelter Talk Is Grownups' Business

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

He came home the other day to inquire anxiously into his parents' plans to build an atomic bomb shelter.

Anyone who failed to build one, a playmate's father had said, was "apathetic" toward the possibility of atomic attack; and went on to talk roughly of the courage of our colonial forebears who did not evade the obligation to build stockades against Indian attack.

Elastic Stockings Help

Varicose Veins Are a Pain

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Varicose veins are a pain in the leg to many women. Not only are they unsightly, but they can cause much discomfort.

So many young women have varicose veins today, I have not heard a medical guess as to why this is. My own guess is that one factor may be the large families young people are having today.

While many women have several children without developing varicose veins, pregnancy is often a contributing factor. As a matter of fact, some obstetricians advise the use of elastic stockings from the second month on as we saw them after the arrival of the baby.

There are many causes of varicose or enlarged veins. Long hours of standing or being on the feet, wearing apparel which constricts the veins and prepacks all places a strain on these blood vessels. Inheritance also plays a part. Some folks are just born with stronger tubes.

Sometimes injections are used and in severe cases the veins may be removed by surgery.

Varicosity can cause the legs to ache and feel heavy. It can cause the ankles and even the lower legs to swell. Sometimes leg cramps are due to varicosity. Varicose veins are aggravated by weak feet, or poorly fitted, uncomfortable footwear.

It is important to treat these liabilities in the early stages. Elastic stockings which often are recommended, can be worn under regular stockings, and today elastic hosiery is so light weight that it can sub for regular nylon.

If you wish to avoid varicose veins, do not wear restricting clothing, especially round, elastic garters. Do not sit for long periods with your knees crossed. When sitting for some time get up and walk about the room periodically. Take rest periods with your legs elevated higher than your hips. Take special precautions during pregnancy. If you must be on your feet a great deal, take great care that you wear shoes which give you the proper support.

An attractive face with spindly legs, is like a nice house with a faulty foundation. If you want to do something about your legs, send for the free leaflet, "Take Steps Toward Lovely Legs." Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

One Personality Awoke During Teen-age Years

By BOB GUNNIF
Gilbert Youth Researcher
(AP) — A certified symptom of teen-ageritis is that rejected feeling, that heavy burden of being unloved. Yet Neil Schuka credits his own unloved early years with bringing out a new personality, the one that has made him an authenticated teen-age deity.

As a frustrated, introverted Brooklyn lad, Neil's sole outlet was his piano. With nothing else to distract him, his brooding romance with the piano became an everyday affair and Neil became proficient enough to eventually win a scholarship to the prestigious Juilliard School of Music. But of course, that wasn't enough.

"At school I was definitely not in contention for any popularity awards," says Neil. "I was shy, and that was bad enough. But I didn't seem to be able to do anything else. I accomplished. Athletics were not my strong suit."

They didn't laugh when Neil sat down at the piano. They just ignored him.

COMPOSED EASY

"I wasn't exactly in despair," says Neil, "but it struck me that I might have more friends if I wrote some songs. Writing songs came easy."

And of course, that's what changed Neil's life. He hasn't abandoned serious music, but he now is a dedicated song writer, composer of such imperishable songs as "I Go Ape." He played jazz piano in the school assembly hall, the kids started gathering around and he eventually was getting invited to parties, provided he'd play the piano.

Now Neil tours the world, writes songs by the dozen, is mobbed everywhere and is no longer concerned about popularity.

"The problem now is finding time for myself," says Neil.

"I need the time to think and of course to compose. As I get older, I find that my ambitions have changed. Now I'd like nothing better than to write the songs for a Broadway show. But I don't want to abandon my essential audience. Teen-agers were the people who discovered me, and I hope my audience will grow up with me."

Listen to Talk on Old Glass

Members of Rho chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, met Thursday evening in the Cleveland Room of Mrs. Ross Tenny. Mrs. Theodore Faulstich was cohostess.

Mrs. Arthur W. Selden spoke on "Old Glass" giving the history of glass-making. She brought part of her own collection to show the various kinds of glass from different periods.

Hostess for the Christmas party will be Mrs. Byrdland of West Brooklyn Avenue.

Mrs. L. Joseph Davis and Mrs. Curtis Cheek were guests of the group.

Projects for Fall Are Discussed

Members of Mizpah Temple, No. 7, Pythian Sisters, discussed fall projects presided by Mrs. Gene Allen, ways and means chairman, Thursday evening in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

Mrs. Alex Moore, grand chief of Pythian Sisters of the Grand Jurisdiction of Michigan, will pay her official visit to the temple on Nov. 16.

Cancer sewing supervised by Mrs. Adelbert Ayres, preceded a social hour with Mrs. Henry Tipolt and Mrs. Fred Wheeler, hostesses. Guests were Mrs. Leslie Young, Mrs. William Barrette and Mrs. Eleanor Osborn.

Gals, Look Your Age and Like It

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Could it possibly be that the fashion and beauty industries have decided to let women grow old gracefully instead of continuing to let them into believing that if they fight the battle of the bulge, keep up a constant skirmish against wrinkles and dye to keep the silver threads from appearing among gold, they can be forever young?

A few signs in the wind indicate maybe that is happening. The New Look right now isn't anything called "the little boy look" or "the flapper look" but, of all things, "the ladylike look." That in itself is a boon to woman-kind, for a woman can achieve the ladylike look at any age and without trying desperately to look younger than she is.

Then, too, the people who manufacture hair dyes and have been trying for years to make every woman with gray hair ashamed of it are doing an about-face.

MAKE IT SILVER
Now, instead of trying to convince every gray-haired woman in the land that she owes it to herself to make up her mind whether she wants to be a blonde, brunette, or redhead, they are telling her how to make her gray hair "shine like silver."

If American women who no longer are young are smart they will latch onto these props and make the most of them. It is a whole lot easier for a woman of 50 to achieve a ladylike look than to try desperately to look like a girl.

It is bound to be easier to make gray hair shine like silver than to keep it dyed. And it would probably be a lot more flattering to most middle-aged women, too.

After all, there's nothing shameful about a woman's looking her age. We've just been sold on the idea that there is.

With the fashion and beauty industries at last giving us a bit of a break maybe we can dare to give up the pitiful struggle for eternal youth.

With all the striving, few women have ever been able to fool anyone into actually believing they are younger than they are.

Heiress Judy Firestone

Just a Girl Who Loves Horses

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Some heiresses have had husbands. Others devote their lives to high society. Judy Firestone rides horses.

While the socialites cluster in grandstand boxes at the current National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, the granddaughter of Harvey Firestone is out in the ring showing horses or competing in riding and jumping events. And she has won quite a few championships at shows around the country this year.

Judy will probably inherit a million or so of the rubber manufacturing family's fortune, but the fact hasn't given her airs. At 22, she's friendly, direct and down to earth.

"Someday I hope to be married, and that would be nice," she says. "But I really don't have an urge to set the world on fire in any way."

DEAR SOLDIER'S GIRL: Do as he says, and go with others while he is gone. If there is faithfulness in your heart, it will remain there until he returns. Better test it. You are only 15 and too young to wear a reserved sign.

Hear Hobby Talk

Members of Epsilon Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, were Thursday guests at Mrs. Clinton Bonnie Coan was cohostess.

Mrs. Anna Pearl Richardson of a Brown City hobby shop, presented a demonstration of seasonal hobbies.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party with gifts for the Oakland County Children's Home and a Christmas card show for Pontiac State Hospital patients at the home of Mrs. Alton Rowley, Ortonville.

Shift in Shirts

Subtle pastels such as clay grey, sundust gold, foam green, haze blue, champagne and topaz are moving into the shirt wardrobe of the nation's well-dressed business man. The rebirth of dress shirt colors is part of a trend toward British styling in men's wear.

Judy Firestone, 22, daughter of Raymond C. Firestone, president of the family's tire and rubber company, poses with one of her horses Princess Jack, a six-year-old mare, at New York's Madison Square Garden where she participated in the National Horse Show. Her father was a top rated polo player in the late 1920s and early 1930s.

But Judy is not precisely unpretentious. Among other hobbies, she has a 4-year-old mare-Princess Jack and the young chestnut gelding named Eyewitness, the two she brought from home on the horse show circuit this year, was a bit expensive riding.

"I've been riding since I was 6," she says. "Daddy used to play polo and the family has always had horses."

WAS TOPS IN POLO
Daddy-Raymond C. Firestone, president of the family's tire and rubber company—was a top rated polo player during the late 20s and early 30s. Since he and Judy are quite close her father for horses comes naturally, friends say. At Laurel Farm, their home in Bath, Ohio, the two maintain a large stable.

"Horses are not really intelligent animals," she says with an indulgent laugh. "If they weren't they wouldn't put up with being ridden in the first place. Of course, some are a lot smarter than others."

A slim, 5-foot-1½ size 5, Judy is the fine-boned type to whom riding clothes lend an extra elegance. The gamut cut of her reddish-blond hair tops her off sleekly.

"I like clothes and fashion, but I don't go in for high style," she says. "I'm not that brave. I'll put up my skirt hems, but darned if I'll ever come with a trapeze and that sort of thing."

She loves to read almost anything. As for the arts, although sister Christy, 25, paints, "I can't draw a straight line with a ruler."

A Child Shall Lead 'Em

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In your column a woman wrote that she would like to know who God is. God is a spirit. Just as beautiful and wonderful as He can be. God made all things out of nothing. God is everywhere. God had beginning. He always was and He always will be. I am in the second grade. I am 7 years old and my name is MARY MARGARET GOFF DEAR MARY MARGARET: Your letter is a treasure and I hope you don't mind my printing it. I want my readers to see for themselves that in these troubled times there are children who still are being raised properly.

DEAR ABBY: I've been going to this doctor for several weeks and I like him more every time I see him. I could easily love him, and I have reason to believe that his interest in me is more than professional.

How can I find out if it is only his wonderful bedside manner or if he cares for me? I don't want to do anything bold or unethical. He is unmarried and so am I.

He would make a dream husband. Also tell me how I can get rid of his nurse. She sticks to him like glue.

COULD CARE DEAR COULD: Unless the doctor asks to see you socially, be assured that his interest in you is strictly professional. Don't tempt to "get rid of" his nurse. Her presence is necessary.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I have gone steady for a year. I am 15 and he is 18. He has enlisted in the Army and is due to be called soon. He said that when he gets into the Army he wants us to break up. He feels it would be unfair to me to be tied down to a fellow who isn't around.

He wants me to go with others and have fun. He says I am too young to promise to "wait for him." I am sure he is the one for me and I want to wait for him.

I know I couldn't enjoy the company of another boy. What should I do?

SOLDIER'S GIRL DEAR SOLDIER'S GIRL: Do as he says, and go with others while he is gone. If there is faithfulness in your heart, it will remain there until he returns. Better test it. You are only 15 and too young to wear a reserved sign.

As a public service to all our readers who are interested in advertising (which we suspect includes most of you) The Pontiac Press offers the following words which were brought to our attention by The Michigan Press Association. While the wisdom involved may be more directly aimed at those who influence advertising copy it has some worthwhile thoughts for others as well.

1. Thou shalt not close thy mind to the fresh, the different, the unexpected.
2. Thou shalt not follow when thou can lead.
3. Thou shalt not advertise to thyself.
4. Thou shalt honor thy public's intelligence.
5. Thou shalt not belittle thy competitor.
6. Thou shalt not alter the truth.
7. Thou shalt not rob thy words of their warmth.
8. Thou shalt not deprive the pictures of their magic.
9. Thou shalt not worship sacred cows.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy competitor's advertising.

Eagles Edge Bears, but Lose Defensive Captain

Victory Could Prove Costly

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles won the battle, but suffered a casualty that could make a big difference in the final results of the National Football League war.

Tom Brookshier, the Eagles' defensive captain, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg in the fourth quarter of Philadelphia's 16-14 verdict over Chicago Sunday.

The 1960 all-pro defensive back, generally regarded as one of the league's finest pass defenders, will be out for the season.

"It's a costly blow to us," Philadelphia coach Nick Skorich said. "One of our rookies will have to grow up in a hurry."

By Texas, ranked first in overall offense, and with a defense that is as stingy as its offense, the Longhorns should replace Michigan State as the No. 1 team in the next Associated Press poll after the Spartans and second-ranked Mississippi got bitten by the jinx bug, and beaten by a couple of superior football teams last Saturday. The Spartans (5-1) lost their fourth straight game to Minnesota in Minneapolis, 13-0, while Mississippi (6-1) failed to get by Louisiana State for the big marbles for the third consecutive year, and had its 21-game undefeated string broken, 10-7.

He named Glen Amerson and Cross as replacements for the veteran from Colorado this week, when the Eagles, leading the East, played the first of two vitally important matches with pressing New York.

The Giants staged one game back of the Eagles, winning their sixth against two losses, in a 53-0 rout of winless Washington.

Green Bay, the Western leader at 6-2, was victimized by Johnny Unitas and the Baltimore Colts, 41-17, but retained its one-game lead over Chicago.

In other games, San Francisco and Detroit remained locked for third in the West, playing a 20-20 tie, Pittsburgh upset Cleveland 17-13, St. Louis used pass interceptions to beat Dallas 31-17 and Los Angeles took Minnesota, also 31-17.

The seven games attracted 553,000 fans for an all-time, one-day total.

The Bears, looking for a chance to move into a tie with the Packers, missed two field goals inside the 20 in the fourth quarter in their two-point loss to the Eagles.

Unitas, showing his old-time form, passed for four touchdowns as the Colts did just that—beat Green Bay. They played on even terms until Lenny Moore got off on a 38-yard touchdown run with a flat pass just before the half.

That gave the Colts a 21-14 lead, and they took it from there. Clarence Peak bulled over on a 36-yard pass from Rudy Bukich in the last three minutes.

Billy Stacy ran back two pass interceptions for second-period touchdowns that made the difference in St. Louis' game with Dallas, while Los Angeles used a pair of last quarter touchdowns to break out of a 17-17 tie with Minnesota.

Y. A. Title, Del Sholner and Pat Summerall were the standouts in news.

San Francisco's 20-20 tie with the Detroit Lions and the San Francisco 49ers try for field goals instead of touchdowns in the final minutes of their game yesterday?

Both 49er coach Red Hickey and Lion coach George Wilson were agreed on the strategy which resulted in the 20-20 tie. It was based primarily on the losses suffered by the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears.

The scores of Green Bay's game with Baltimore (46-31) and Chicago at Philadelphia (16-14) were announced just as the game here got under way.

The three results left Green Bay leading the National Football League's Western Division at 6-2, Chicago in second at 5-4 and the Lions and Bears tied at 4-3-1.

With one minute and five seconds left, the 49ers tied the game 17-17 on a 19-yard field goal. As it was, both the Lions and Bears had time for field goals after that, San Francisco's finale coming with just four seconds left.

Davis' 11-yard boot with four seconds remaining clinched the tie. With 1:05 left he kicked a 34-yarder to even the score at 17-17. Then Detroit's Jim Martin put the Lions ahead again 20-17 on a 34-yard kick before Davis' dramatic equalizer.

For awhile it looked like the Lions would vault back into the thick of the Western Division race. They held a 17-0 halftime lead.

Earlier in the day Green Bay Western leader, lost to Baltimore 42-21, giving the Packers a 6-2 season record. A Lion victory would have made them 5-3, just one game out of first.

Detroit's short-lived 17-0 lead came on two touchdowns runs by quarterback Jim Mironski and a 19-yard field goal by Martin, all in the second quarter.

Mironski, running like a halfback, scampered 40 and 13 yards.

When the game ended, the former Michigan State star had personally accounted for 343 yards in the three events, including 280 yards and ran three times—twice for touchdowns—for a total of 33 yards.

The 49ers came to life in the third period when Abe Woodson sprinted 90 yards for a touchdown after fielding a punt. Halfback Jim Johnson sparked San Francisco to their second score by intercepting Mironski's pass.

Mironski punted at the Lion 13. Bill Killebrew cracked over from the two plays later.

That made it 17-14 in favor of Detroit and provided the setting for the field goal onslaught.

San Francisco Goes for 20-20 Deadlock Instead of Win

'60 AFL Title Foes Eye Playoff Again

By The Associated Press

The resurgence of Houston under Wally Lemm, and led by the inimitable George Blanda, brings speculation that the American Football League playoff in December will match the same clubs that battled for the first title last year.

then, have won nine straight and the Western Division championship. They are due to see it up Sunday when they play Denver.

Houston, which won the 1960 title, is pushing upward in the Eastern Division and is only one game behind leading Boston. The Oilers, paced by Blanda, who is averaging better than 30 yards a game, and kicking field goals from most any distance, meet Boston at Houston Sunday and can take over the lead by topping the Patriots.

It was after Houston had beat Boston 31-31 that the Oilers began their drive. They've won three straight since then, including a 55-14 rout of Denver Sunday. Boston, too, has taken three straight, clinaxed by a 28-21 decision over Dallas last Friday night.

San Diego, which galloped over New York 43-13 Sunday to knock the Titans down to third place in the Eastern Division standings.

will be taking on Denver, which looks like a fairly soft touch.

San Diego, however, cannot count too strongly on going through the regular season undefeated. While the Chargers get Denver and Dallas in their next two games, they then run into Houston and wind up against Boston.

The week's work starts Saturday night when Oakland plays at New York. Sunday has Buffalo at Dallas in addition to the San Diego at Denver and Boston at Houston battles.

Oakland won its first league game in six weeks Sunday when the Raiders whipped Buffalo 31-22. Oakland still stayed in the Western Division cellar. Buffalo holds down last place in the Eastern Division.

Eaglets and St. Michael Tie, 6-6

Orchard Lake Dominates Play Led by Smela

St. Fred 55-19 Loser,
Lakes Tech Lancers;
St. Clement Nips Rita

By CHUCK ARAIR

A questionable decision on an extra point attempt and a great goal line stand by St. Michael combined with costly penalties against each team produced a 6-6 tie at Wisner Stadium Sunday.

Underdog Orchard Lake St. Mary outplayed the home team most of the way but missed what appeared to be a sure touchdown in the closing minutes.

St. Fred suffered a 55-19 loss at St. James. St. Clement clinched a share of the Suburban Catholic crown by taking St. Rita 19-13 and Royal Oak St. Mary whipped St. Benedict 32-13 at Wisner Stadium Sunday.

Saturday, Our Lady of the Lakes walloped Emmanuel 33-6, Bay City Handy and Flint Central battled to a 13-13 tie in a big Saginaw Valley contest and Cranbrook edged Western Reserve 14-12 in the Inter-State Conference.

The questionable move by the Shamrock came after they rallied to get even with 8:05 left in the game when they tried a run on the PAT attempt since center Dana Musky has ranked with the top area placekickers this fall. Jerry Martin, who had scored from 22, was stopped trying to gain the lead.

St. Mary later drove to a 1st down at the Mike's one but was still right there after four rushing tries. St. Michael took over with 1:30 left but could only get to the 8 before losing possession with just 4 seconds remaining.

Eaglet Jerry Mijal missed a field goal from that point. A final Shamrock play was a 35-yard Martin-to-Gary Hints pass moved the ball to the OL 45 when play ended.

A roughing the kicker violation helped set up the Big Blue TD. St. Mike went on to complete a 14-yard drive featuring a 40-yard pass to Charlie Chas and Martin's ground gaining.

The only penalty of the game against the Pontiac eleven really hurt. It was for offside and nullified a fumble recovery which had halted the Red and white drive that eventually was stopped at the 1 but used up most of the 4th quarter.

The opening half was all Orchard Lake with Walt Smela's gaining with little trouble against below par Mike line. Two threats failed in the 1st quarter.

A short punt finally helped set up by Martin to Chas and Mijal. Smela dashed 31 yards to get but Mijal was piled up in the extra point try.

CHASE IS ON — St. Michael fullback Dick Ghastin is chased across the field by a host of Orchard Lake defenders in yesterday's 6-6 stand-off at Wisner Stadium. Tony Halat (70) and Ron Kowalski (67) are two of the Eaglets. Shamrock runways had trouble all afternoon with little blocking help.

SMELA ON MOVE — Walt Smela, a star all the way, has trouble finding running room on this play Sunday against St. Michael. Dick Drake (61) is the Shamrock trying to get around a blocker. Smela gained 162 of Orchard Lake's 164 yards rushing and made a touchdown.

Ferrier Claims 1st Place Money in Almaden Open

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Big Jim Ferrier's final-round 72 Sunday gave him a 72-hole total of 279 and victory in the $10,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament.

The 1947 PGA champ's score, good for top prize money of $1,200, was nine strokes under par and a tournament record. The previous mark was 281, set by Ken Venturi in 1959 and tied last year by Charley Siffert and Bill Egan.

Bob Roelz, another former PGA champ, took second-place money of $1,000 as he too carded a final-round of 72 for a 280 total.

Burton Sparks Victory For Grand Rapids Pros

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Leon Burton scored on runs of 70 and 73 yards last night to pace the Grand Rapids Shamrocks to a 20-0 United Football League victory over the Akron Pros.

Burton's sports came in the first quarter. In the third period, Frank Lehan gathered in a 15-yard Ron Newhouse pass for another Shamrock score.

The triumph assured Grand Rapids of a tie for the league's Western Division title.

6 Local Resorts Ready

3 Ski Days Draw 7,000

The 6th annual Great Lakes Ski Convention held at Cobo Hall over the weekend drew 7,000 spectators to the three day activities.

Guest speaker at the convention luncheon was Willy Schaeffler, Denver University ski coach, who was director of ski events in the 1960 Olympics at Squaw Valley.

Six Pontiac area ski resorts were represented at the convention. Dryden, which currently is in operation with its plastic covered slope, hopes to use the area right until the first snowfall. Mt. Holly has a $150,000 program of improvements near completion. Changes have also been made at Grampian Mt., Alpine Valley and Mt. Christie. Mt. Summit near Treston, had a best year weather-wise last year, but will be ready for operation early in December. Granview does not plan to operate its snow making machine and skiing will be available only by natural snowfall. Another area starting operation is Mt. Brighton located at Bauer and Chasla Roads just northwest of Brighton.

Kelly Still Haunts Wings

MAKING YARDAGE — Detroit fullback Vic Balthus goes for 11 yards in the 1st quarter of Saturday's Army-Detroit game at West Point, N.Y. An unidentified Army player grabs him around the legs and hauls him down. No. 23 is Army's Tom Culver. The Titans lost to Army, 34-7.

Northern Shows Ability to Score Touchdowns, 61-6

By The Associated Press

If there were ever any doubts about Northern Michigan's ability to score touchdowns, they were dispelled Saturday.

Northern's 61-6 thrashing of Michigan Tech was the worst defeat the Wildcats ever passed along to their Upper Michigan small college rivals. The 61 points marked a new single-game high for Northern.

Contributors to the annihilation included Wildcat fullback Mike Strebel, who scored three touchdowns, and quarterback Frank Novak, who passed for four.

Elsewhere on the small school scene, Albion moved closer to the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) crown by stopping Alma 21-0. Albion is the last hurdle in the undefeated Britons' title bid. The two teams clash Saturday.

Adrian topped Hope 29-14 behind the three touchdown performance of Bryce Fable.

The MIAA's other two teams did well against Ohio opponents. Olvett came from behind to edge Ohio Northern 6-3, and Kalamazoo easily defeated Hiram 28-7.

Western Michigan moved into a tie with Bowling Green (Ohio) for the Mid-American Conference lead by banging Kent State (Ohio) 14-0. Allen Gibbs scored all of the Bronco's points.

In a mid upset, Central Michigan capitalized on Hillsdale mistakes and handed the Dales their third loss of the season 13-10. After Hillsdale took a 10-0 first half lead, the Chippewas intercepted two John Lucadani passes and ran them back for touchdowns.

Eastern Michigan held to Southern Illinois 20-14 in an IIAA game. George Beaudette hurled two fourth quarter passes for Eastern.

Ferris rolled over Lakeland (Wisc.) 34-7, and trailing late in the end of the third quarter 7-6. Three pass interceptions were turned into touchdowns by the Bulldogs.

Hapsless Wayne State continued its losing ways, falling to Western Reserve 28-6 in a President's Athletic Conference tussle. The Tartans now are 1-4 for the season.

Hawks Triumph to End Skein

BOSTON (AP)—Eric Nesterenko, the 10-year National Hockey League veteran, and Stan Mikita pulled Chicago's Stanley Cup champions out of an eight game winless streak Sunday night by spearheading a 4-3 victory over Boston. Each contributed a goal and an assist.

Nesterenko, 28 last week, scored the goal which put the battered Black Hawks in front to stay 2-1 in the opening period. Later he assisted Reg Fleming.

Mikita-assisted Ken Wharram less than two minutes from the end on what proved to be the winner after he had tied the score early in the game.

Crippled by injuries, Chicago had managed only one victory, also at Bruins expense, in 11 previous encounters.

Bob Beckett scored first for Boston and rookie Ted Gray narrowed the gap only 57 seconds from the end of the game with Jerry Toppazzini registering in between.

Scores Winning Goal for Leafs in 3-2 Comeback

Claims He Doesn't Play 'Extra Hard' Against Former Teammates

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings are paying for their gift of Red Kelly to the Toronto Maple Leafs on the installment plan.

Wings made another painful payment last night when Kelly scored the winning goal in Toronto's 3-2 comeback victory.

"I know I've scored a lot of game-winners against Detroit since I left them," said Kelly. "But I can't say how many for sure."

"I don't try extra special hard against them. Any game we win counts the same, two points."

Kelly has haunted the Wings ever since he was traded to Toronto two seasons ago after nearly 13 years of stardom in a red shirt. All Detroit received in return was Marc Reame, an obscure defenseman who played seldom for the Wings.

The deal had the loudest backfire of any that general manager Jack Adams ever made in his 35 years in Detroit. Thought to be washed up, Toronto switched Kelly from defense to center and he was a revitalized hockey player.

His goal that beat the Wings last night came after Gordie Howe and Eddie Litzenberger had put Detroit ahead 2-0.

Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk was bidding for his second straight shutout until Bobby Baum grabbed a rebound and came in on a solo, rink-length dash at 11:42 of the second period. The goal was Baum's first of the season, making it his first national in last year's 78-game National Hockey League campaign.

The Leafs drew even at 2-2 on Frank Mahovlich's goal at 3:37, and Kelly put in the clincher less than five minutes later.

"I could see it coming," said coach Sid Abel, who has been critical of Detroit's defense all season. "Nobody came in to cover Kelly. They just let him stand there right in front of Sawchuk and did nothing about it."

The defeat dropped the Wings back into a fourth-place tie with the Chicago Black Hawks. The Hawks beat the Boston Bruins 4-3 on Kenney Wharram's goal in the last two minutes.

Toronto, meanwhile, used its two points to go into a second-place tie with New York, a point behind Montreal. Both the Rangers and Canadiens were idle last night.

EVERYBODY'S BOWLING

By ANDY VARIAPA
Member Bowling Hall of Fame

The trigger to perfect timing in your delivery is the pushaway. It is the simultaneous movement of the ball and the foot on the first step that starts you moving forward, naturally, easily.

The pushaway is particularly important to senior bowlers because it is the easy, graceful gesture that sets the pace for the whole swing—and removes from it any semblance of heavy effort and muscular strain.

Forward arm motion should not send ball farther from body than first step.

The big thing to remember in the pushaway is that the forward arm motion should not send the ball any farther from the body than the length of the first step. Also, oldsters should bear in mind that the pushaway can be done with a minimum of muscular effort.

Practice the pushaway. While it may not look important, it's vital to your timing.

3 Oakland Communities to Cast Ballots Tomorrow

Voters in three Oakland County communities go to the polls tomorrow to elect officials. In one village, two charter amendments and a proposal will be decided.

CAROLINE V. SMITH
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of 2342 Hammarla Road, Orion Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Caroline V. to Paul L. Moorey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Moorey of 164 Raymond Drive, Pontiac Township. No wedding date has been set.

2 Area People Killed in Traffic

Michael Meroniuk Dies as Car Goes Into Ditch; Auto Hits Mrs. Falcone

Two 74-year-old Oakland County residents were killed over the weekend in separate traffic accidents.

Dead are Michael Meroniuk, 53025 Cottage St., Southfield, and Mrs. Mary Falcone, 5133 Merrill St., Royal Oak.

Meroniuk was alone in his car early Saturday when it went into a ditch, hit a culvert and overturned, plunging him in the wreckage.

The accident happened on a county road, about two miles east of Mason in Ingham County. Meroniuk was dead when police arrived.

Mrs. Falcone was struck Friday night as she was crossing Woodward Avenue near Woodbine Drive. Driver of the car which hit her was Norman D. Zuellig, 30, of 285 Walpole St., Clawson.

Zuellig told police Mrs. Falcone was in the second lane of traffic and started running for the curb. He said he could not stop in time to avoid her.

She was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, where she died yesterday morning. Zuellig was not held.

Mrs. Falcone's body is at the William Vasu Funeral Home, Royal Oak.

Asked to Intervene at State Institution

LANSING (UPI) — A state employee union asked Gov. John B. Swainson to intervene today to improve working conditions at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

A demonstration picket line was to be established today at the institution to protest the union grievances against the hospital administration, said Charles J. Wilderspin, international representative of the American Federation of State and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO).

In a telegram to Swainson Wilderspin and Robert C. Grosvenor, chairman of the Michigan State Employees Union in Lansing, said union representatives and reporters were barred from grievance hearings, racial discrimination was practiced at the hospital, administration refused to allow distribution of union publications and delayed action on grievances.

The union officials asked Swainson to intervene by bringing the State Labor Mediation Board in to settle the union-hospital disputes.

For her wedding the bride chose an embezzled brocade princess style gown with a chapel train, fashioned with long tapered sleeves. Rhinestones and daisy appliques accented the scalloped neckline.

Her four-tiered veil was trimmed with a daisy motif and was secured by a pearl and rhinestone tiara. She carried a white orchid entwined with stephanotis and a rosary on top of a prayer book.

Earlene Fritschka of Southfield, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Claire Swiacki of Warren, Sandy Borewska of Detroit and Imbrenone and Gerry Hackler, both of Waterford.

Royal Oak and the villages of Quakertown and Orchard Lake.

In Royal Oak, Mayor William Hayward is being challenged by Howard M. Dryden, who is making his third bid for the top office. Hayward is seeking his second term.

The three incumbent city commissioners are being opposed by nine candidates.

Incumbent commissioners seeking the four-year terms are Lloyd D. Crosby, Grant J. Maudlin and John B. Ogden.

The other candidates are Hugh J. Cummings, Elbert O. Norrimer, Ted Nick, Robert F. Palmate, Harry S. Radcliff, Wallace J. Reynolds, Clarence Rigby, Malcolm J. Sewell and Leonard A. Wilson Jr.

QUAKERTOWN ELECTION
Quakertown voters will cast their ballots in village president, clerk, treasurer, assessor and two councilmen and will decide two charter amendments and a proposal.

The unopposed candidate for village president is Ronald Evans. Also unopposed is incumbent Village Clerk Isabel Hayes.

Incumbent Treasurer William Cogdell is being challenged for the office by Luigi Martini and incumbent Assessor Joseph Martin is opposed by Homer Hunter and Clifton Strasser.

Candidates for the two council posts are incumbent Richard Habicht, Donald Houck, Walter Mitchell and John Nyland.

The first charter amendment would change the fiscal year of the village from Jan. 1 to July 1 and the other would clarify the village's role in setting up special assessment districts for street improvements.

The proposal would increase residential lot size requirements to 33,000 square feet.

There will be no contest in Orchard Lake where the two incumbents, Charles Neuman and John C. Hall, are seeking to retain their posts on the village council.

During the afternoon, the church women will sell aprons, baked goods, candy and Christmas gifts. The Friendly Guild will offer a pancake supper from 5 to 7 p.m. The public is welcome.

Proceeds will go into the Woman's Fellowship operating funds. Mrs. Ralph Davidson is chairman of the bazaar.

Adrian Farm Boy Dies in Cornpicker Accident

ADRIAN (UPI) — Three-year-old Jimmy Hild of rural Adrian died Sunday night at Bixby Hospital of internal injuries suffered when he fell from a cornpicker.

The boy was riding on a wagon drawn by a tractor and apparently fell into the path of the cornpicker. He died about two hours after the accident.

Now Residing There Pryjomski-Cleal Vows Exchanged in Waterford

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Residing in Waterford Township following their recent exchange of marriage vows at Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church there are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pryjomski.

Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Raymond Klauke of St. Francis of Assisi Church in Ann Arbor.

The bride is the former Sharon Cleal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Cleal of 3204 Chambrone Road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pryjomski of 3235 Blair Drive, White Lake Township.

Awaiting U.S. Tax Trial

Mrs. Averill Dies at 62
ALMONT — Convicted embezzler Mrs. Mary M. Averill, who was awaiting trial as an income tax evader and as a defendant in a civil suit brought about by her death, is dead at the age of 62.

Wife of a retired Detroit police detective sergeant, Mrs. Averill died Sunday at her home, 6330 Bordman Road.

She was convicted in February of embezzling $56,513 in 1955 and 1956 from the Detroit architectural firm of Giffels and Rossetti (formerly Giffels and Vallet for which she worked).

The Almont woman was sentenced to four months in the Detroit House of Corrections and placed on five-year probation. She also was assessed $250 court costs.

Earlier, Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Elvin L. Davenport said he would not sentence Mrs. Averill "to her death in prison." She had been treated several times in Receiving Hospital for high blood pressure during the two-month trial and had been under constant medical care since 1957.

ACCUSED BY U.S.
In April, she was accused in a federal warrant of filing a false income tax return for 1954.

In the warrant she was charged with listing her income at $17,675 that year and that she paid $4,049 tax. The income should have been $70,608 with $3,390 to be paid, the government said.

She could have been sentenced to a maximum of 15 years in prison if convicted on this count.

Just last month, the architectural firm filed suit in Circuit Court to collect $56,757 it claimed Mrs. Averill "appropriated."

All of the Averills' property is tied up in liens totaling $1,095,133, filed by the federal government against the couple.

Upon hearing her sentence last February, Mrs. Averill said, "I didn't take a nickel. Some day the truth will come out." Her attorneys had said that others were involved in the firm's losses.

Her body is at the Verheyden Funeral Home in Grosse Pointe.

Tolbert's arrangements have won prizes at the International Flower Show in New York City and appeared in the Good Housekeeping Magazine 1952 flower arrangement issue.

His first award was won as a 4-1 entry in the National Farm and Garden Club some 35 years ago. Recently he has exhibited at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Tickets for the lecture and demonstration can be purchased in advance from Mrs. Donald Scipione, 5819 Cyrenus Lane, Washington.

Two Rochester stores, Doris Hayes Shop and Pickley Home Furnishings, will have displays of Tolbert's works beginning today until the 16th.

Youth Suffers Severe Beating; Three Boys Held

ROYAL OAK — An 18-year-old South Lyon youth is in serious condition at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after being beaten by three other teen-agers early Saturday morning.

Daniel Dixon of 432 W. Liberty St. is suffering from severe head and face lacerations.

Being held by police on charges of felonious assault are Henry Walton, 17, Kevin Martin, 17, and Dennis Kennedy, 19, all of Detroit.

Royal Oak police said the fight was started by the three youths when they arrived at the home of Walton's girlfriend and found Dixon parked in front of her home.

According to police the three youths pulled Dixon from the car and started to beat him after Walton told him he had "exclusive rights to the girl's time."

The fight took place in front of 3812 Kenneth St.

man Trost of Troy, vice president. Standing are Mrs. Robert A. Sanford, secretary, (left); and Mrs. Otis Case, treasurer. Both are from Lake Orion.

Four other Lincoln classes will make trips at later dates in February, a group of fifth and sixth-grade Canadian students will visit the Lincoln schools.

CD Office Sets Statewide Test of Home Buzzer
WASHINGTON — A statewide test of a home buzzer alarm system designed to alert families in case of nuclear attack is planned in Michigan probably early next year.

No date for the test has been announced, but a U. S. Civil Defense spokesman said funds were appropriated for it by the last session of congress.

The system sends the alarm impulse through normal electrical circuits to buzzer devices, which each family would buy and plug into an electrical connection in the home. The buzzer is about the size of two packages of cigarettes and should cost about $3 to $5, the spokesman said.

A citywide test in Charlotte last year was a complete success, the spokesman said, adding that if the statewide test is successful the next step may be to obtain congressional financing for setting up the system on a nationwide basis.

Imlay City to Decide Flint Man Held on More School Tax in Pair's Death

IMLAY CITY — A proposal to increase millage to provide additional operating funds for Imlay City schools will be decided at the polls Wednesday by voters in the district.

The measure asks for an increase of three mills in the school tax levy for a period of three years.

If approved, the added millage would go into effect on the 1962 tax rolls. Schools Supt. Alvin P. Norlin said.

He explained that the present school budget is insufficient to cover maintenance expenses of the new high school.

Retiree Told Police He Shot Man, Teen Girl in His Apartment

FLINT (UPI) — A 67-year-old retired factory worker, who said he "didn't like women," was held today in city jail for the slayings of a young man and a teen-age girl.

Flint authorities held William Stafford for investigation of murder in the deaths of William Eugene Howard, 22, and Barbara Mansour, 15, both of Flint.

Stafford told police that he shot the pair as they embraced in his apartment following a three-sided argument. The only explanation he had was, "I don't like women."

The double slaying apparently concluded an all-night drinking bout which started after Stafford and Howard met at a neighborhood bar.

RETURNED TO FLAT
Stafford said he and his younger companion met the Mansour girl in another local tavern and then returned to Stafford's flat.

He told the authorities he got his rifle, a .308 Enfield, and shot the pair near the doorway. He said he only fired once and the blood spattered both of them.

The death of the young couple was discovered yesterday morning when a neighbor of Stafford's went to his apartment to borrow his car. The neighbor, whose identity was withheld, told police he found Stafford sleeping in bed and the young man and woman lying on the floor.

Stafford also told police he had been married for 42 years but now was separated from his wife. He has two sons.

Police Detective to Talk at Waterford Meeting

Holmes will explain the program of police operation in the school system, whereby safety patrol boys and girls are being educated in patrol work by the police department.

Asked to Intervene at State Institution
LANSING (UPI) — A state employee union asked Gov. John B. Swainson to intervene today to improve working conditions at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

A demonstration picket line was to be established today at the institution to protest the union grievances against the hospital administration, said Charles J. Wilderspin, international representative of the American Federation of State and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO).

In a telegram to Swainson Wilderspin and Robert C. Grosvenor, chairman of the Michigan State Employees Union in Lansing, said union representatives and reporters were barred from grievance hearings, racial discrimination was practiced at the hospital, administration refused to allow distribution of union publications and delayed action on grievances.

The union officials asked Swainson to intervene by bringing the State Labor Mediation Board in to settle the union-hospital disputes.

Textbook Row Divides Town

Wisconsin Principal Is Suspended in Uproar Over McGuffey Readers

TWIN LAKES, Wis. (AP)—The ancient McGuffey Reader has split this resort community in an emotional clash. One side claims it is only a local political fight while the other contends it's a struggle to enforce a conservative point of view.

Both sides agree the issues will be proved to a decision. Neither is sure just what will happen next. On one side are four members of the Lakewood Elementary School Board. On the other side is the Twin Lakes Taxpayers Alliance.

FIRST VICTIM
The first real victim of the conflict is school Principal Raymond J. Oestreich, 41, who was suspended indefinitely with pay Saturday for what the board said was "incompatibility." Oestreich, principal since 1954, said the issues go deeper than the choice of books for the school's 228 pupils.

John J. Collins, a member of the board, said, "It's a clash between the old guard and the new element in this community." Twin Lakes, about 35 miles south of Milwaukee, has grown from about 600 residents to more than 1,500 since World War II.

"What they are doing is similar to what I have read of the John Birch Society," said Harry A. Lovely, a complainant in a court action to oust the four members of the five-man board.

A recent entrant into the clash is the self-described educational and patriotic organization, Independence Hall of Chicago, which has promised to underwrite any financial loss suffered by the school and the four board members.

Truth on Tests Pierces Curtain

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The truth is great and shall prevail.

A massive radio effort to tell the Russian people about the world's revolution at their government's nuclear testing apparently broke through intensive Soviet jamming Sunday.

The Voice of America (VOA), which sent the special Sunday punch on the airwaves, said preliminary reports indicated the Communists were unable to block most of the 90 frequencies used in the unparalleled broadcast.

So far, the only news the Soviet citizens have received from their government about its nuclear tests was Premier Nikita Khrushchev's recent remark at the Communist party congress that Russia had exploded a bomb of more than 30 megatons.

They had not been told of the increase in radioactivity, of appeals from other countries for an end to the testing, of scientists' fear for the future of mankind.

Using the theme, "Have You Been Told," the Voice abandoned its regular programming and began eight hours of almost continuous broadcasting about the Soviet nuclear tests at 6 p.m. Moscow time (11 a.m. in Pontiac) Sunday.

It used as many as 52 transmitters generating some 4,331,000 watts to get the word to the Russian people in eight languages—English, Russian, Ukrainian, Georgian, Armenian, Lithuanian, Estonian and Latvian.

IST. UNJAMMED
The first English broadcast went unjammed. The second, in Russian, was jammed after 90 seconds. But VOA officials said the jamming was effective against only some frequencies.

There were no estimates on how many Russians might have been able to hear the broadcasts. VOA officials hoped, however, that those who did hear them would spread the word to their fellow Russians.

The VOA had been advertising the special programs in spot announcements for a week. The announcements gave full data on the time and broadcast frequencies.

While the advance notice would permit the Soviet government to step up its jamming, U.S. Information Agency Director Edward R. Murrow decided that alerting prospective listeners outweighed this disadvantage because jamming is never completely effective.

The special programs stressed to the Russian people the Soviet "duplication" in frustrating test-ban negotiations and then "polluting" the atmosphere by protracted and monstrous nuclear blasting.

About 40,000 American men under age 65 are accidentally killed each year.

Lock-Stepping Through School Is No Good

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

Our children have been marching through school in lock-step formation long enough. Back in the Little Red Schoolhouse days, children either passed or they didn't. If the seats got too tight for them, it was regarded as an extra incentive for learning.

The bright little guy skipped right ahead without too much fuss, learn DR. NASON said, wherever there was to learn, even if he had to sit on a pile of books in one of the "big kids' seats."

It wasn't perfect, by any means, and a great many critics didn't like it.

They said it was demeaning to those who couldn't keep up. It was, they said, a social adjustment problem. It did.

Worst of all, they said it was squeezing children into an artificial pattern. That may have been true, too.

So they set up a new artificial pattern. Now everybody moves ahead, on a "ready or not, here I come" basis. Everybody remains with his own age group—even the bright little guy. The seat now fits—only the curriculum is too tight.

This pattern completely disregards the principle that children should be taught at the rate they can learn, not according to a rigid schedule. The pattern has been established for enough years now so that it has dug itself a nice, comfortable groove.

All children start school at the same age and follow identical patterns of work each year.

COMPLAINTS FADE

Occasionally one hears a bit of public indignation that seventh graders still can't read or that exceptionally bright second graders are losing interest in school. The complaints aren't loud enough to cause too much of a stir. They quickly fade from view.

The fact of the matter is that the present situation has become administratively comfortable. School operation has become a big business and our present system is tailor-made to the production-line approach.

Children must move according to schedule; have their 13th birthdays in Junior high, their 16th in high school. Otherwise there would be a bottleneck. The slow learners would pile up in the lower grades. Bright students in knee pants and short skirts would create social problems in the high schools.

In our present situation, the school administrator can settle all the problems and difficulties of lack, schedules and room assignments by simple arithmetic without even looking at the students. Sometimes this can lead to expensive education.

In one school, in a major city, a group of superior students were given both fourth and fifth grades in one year—with excellent results. The next year, the same group (about 20) were required to repeat the fifth grade, in company with some average and below-average students, just because there were not enough of them to fill a room. Administrative bungling? What—over it, it cost the school district a year's education for 20 students—just about $5,000.

There may be an isolated example—or it may not. It isn't the sort of thing that schools are anxious to publicize.

There simply isn't any doubt that the present "lock-step" idea slows the progress of a great many children, just as it forces too much "remedial" work into the higher grades, where it seldom can be accomplished.

At the same time, nobody who remembers both situations has a much interest in returning to the old "stay-there-until-you've-learned-it" method of doing things, either.

There's the problem. But what is the solution?

There certainly must be one that will work better.

There are better answers. But we'll never get them without public demand. The administrators have their systems working smoothly and they're satisfied if you are. The teachers can't change the system against the wishes of their employers.

If you have a question for Dr. Nason, write him in care of The Pontiac Press. While he cannot undertake individual correspondence, he will discuss questions of general interest in his column.

New AF System 'Homes' Fighters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite its growing arsenal of antiaircraft and antimissile missiles, the Air Force still is trying to bolster the combat effectiveness of its old standbys—jet fighters.

The Air Force systems Command at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., Sunday night announced perfection of an electronic communications system that can issue attack orders instantaneously to hundreds of manned fighters.

Officials said the device, called Time Division Data Link (TDDL), makes interception of a target by jets as automatic as it was with pilotless missiles. Projected personnel have nicknamed it "Tiddle."

The process employs a ground-based electronic computer to calculate commands for an aerial battle and instruct the pilots to perform "interceptions." The signals also can be fed directly to automatic pilots aboard the planes.

might be able to continue the attack if the machine failed.

When an aerial target is detected, "Tiddle" receives command instructions from a computer in coded form. The computer simultaneously directs distribution of the commands to transmitter sites scattered throughout the country, from which the instructions are beamed to the aircraft.

"The code is reconverted by the aircraft TDDL equipment and is displayed on the pilot's instrument panel, giving the information needed to accomplish the intercept," Wilkes said in a statement.

He said the system was proven in tests using the latest models of Air Force interceptors: F101B "Voodoo," F102A "Delta Dagger," F105 "Thunderchief," and F106A "Delta Dart."

The tests involved aircraft operated from L. G. Hanscom Field, Mass., and Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

HAS BIG ADVANTAGES

Maj. Hollie A. Wilkes of the electronic systems division said "Tiddle"-operated planes have these advantages over missiles:

—The manned aircraft can be recalled from a mission.

—They allow for positive human identification of a target.

—They allow for use of human judgment.

Wilkes pointed out, that keeping final authority to a pilot was particularly important in case of a malfunction. He said a pilot

Waterford Twp. Man, Seymour Karp, Heads Memorial Group

DETROIT (AP)—A Waterford Township man is president of a society hopeful of taking the "commercialism" out of funerals.

"The view of most of us is that the display of the body is not civilized," Seymour Karp, of 6129 Highland Road, said Saturday.

He is president of the Great-group of laymen of five Detroit area churches seeking also to lower the cost of funeral services.

Karp, president of a local aircraft parts distributing firm, called conventional funeral services "extraneous" and "archaic," and added "you take all the dignity out of death when you make a commercial show of it."

The society's current membership is about 100. A membership drive is being planned for next January, Karp said.

$100-TO-$300 BRACKET
The society has compiled cost figures for various funeral services. These figures are made available to members when they select what type of service they want. Most services are in the $100-$300 bracket.

Karp said a recent survey made by the United Auto Workers Union showed the average funeral expense for a worker in Detroit to be $1,320.

Sunday, a spokesman for the Michigan Funeral Directors Association said that joining a burial society may actually increase funeral costs.

J. D. Jorgensen, executive secretary of the association, said all 750 association members offer low cost funerals and that payment of dues to a burial society is unnecessary.

"Funeral directors have always had services ranging from $100 to $300," Jorgensen remarked.

He pointed out that national average price for a funeral was about $708. But 22 per cent of all funerals are below $500, Jorgensen said.

Coast Guard Tracks Barge Lose on Huron

OSCODA UP — The Coast Guard today continued tracking a drifting pontoon barge which has been free in Lake Huron since last Friday.

Coast Guard spokesmen said the barge was one of 22 units being towed by a Toledo dredging firm. The barge carried pipe for channel dredging operations of the Price Brothers Co. of Toledo.

Spokesmen said the barge was not an immediate hazard to navigation. Lake freighters were asked to report the position of the barge.

Troops Patrol in Buenos Aires

Await Three-Day Strike Called for Midnight by Labor Federation

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—More than 20,000 troops and police began patrolling this capital today in the face of a three-day general strike called for midnight by the powerful Central Labor Federation.

Troops took up positions at such strategic points as telephone exchanges, radio stations, power plants and government buildings. Helicopters hovered low over the city.

The government stepped up efforts to head off the general strike called in support of striking railway workers.

It issued a "requisition" order by which all railway workers could be forced by police to report to their jobs.

President Arturo Frondizi described the situation as chaotic in a radio-TV address to the nation Sunday night.

About 350 persons have been jailed since railway men walked off the job eight days ago in protest of government plans to return some auxiliary services of the nationalized railroads back to private enterprise. The move would affect about 75,000 workers.

Audit Reveals 'Irregularities'

Find Apparent $1,601 Theft From Kalamazoo County in State Check

LANSING (UPI)—An audit of Kalamazoo County records today disclosed the second group of irregularities in county accounts in a month, Auditor General Billie S. Farnum said.

Farnum said the routine annual audit of the Kalamazoo County records showed the apparent theft of $1,601 from the county dog shelter, $203 in undeposited justice court fines collected by former Justice Dorothy Shoemaker of Schoolcraft Township, and several other improper practices.

Last month, former Auditor General Otis M. Smith reported irregularities in the practices in Genesee County.

Farnum also made recommendations that Kalamazoo County change its practices in respect to unauthorized travel expense advances to officials.

"All exceptions and recommendations in the report have been directed to the attention of the various responsible officials involved with a request that action be taken to clear the exceptions and report to me on the action taken," Farnum said.

19 U.S. Officials to Attend Conference

LANSING UP — Nineteen high-ranking federal officials will join Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg at the White House conference in Detroit Nov. 14-15, Gov. Swainson said today.

Johnson, who long has avoided Michigan in his political swings around the nation, will lead the government delegation that will participate in the conference.

The vice president met strong opposition from former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in his bid for the Democratic nomination last year and by-passed Michigan during the election campaign.

Mayoral Hopefuls

New Yorkers on Last Stump

NEW YORK (UPI)—Six candidates make their final appeal to the voters today, capping a mayoral campaign marked by a bitter split in the city's powerful Democratic party and the strong-Republican contender in years.

The principal adversaries are Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who seeks a third term, and his Republican opponent, State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

The other four candidates are not expected to present a serious challenge in Tuesday's election, but their presence on the ballot could conceivably affect the ultimate result.

For this reason political experts will be watching closely to see how they fare at the polls.

HOPEFULS LISTED

The minority hopefuls are Lawrence E. Gerson, Citizens party; Vito R. Battista, United Taxpayers party; Richard Garza, Socialist Workers party, and Eric Haas, Socialist Labor party.

Wagner is favored to win in this Democratic stronghold which even failed to support such powerful Republican vote-getters as former President Eisenhower, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob Javits. The last Republican elected mayor was John P. Mitchell in 1914.

But unlike other mayoral elections, this year's race has not been regarded as a cut and dried shoe-in.

Wagner's difficulties with his own party and a vigorous campaign by Lefkowitz have added drama to the battle.

The contest took on national dimensions as top leaders from both parties, including two former presidents and the incumbent chief executive publicly endorsed the candidates.

Former President Truman pledged his support to Wagner here shortly after the August primary. Former President Eisenhower has spoken out in favor of Lefkowitz on two occasions. Last month he came to New York to endorse Lefkowitz at a Republican dinner rally.

Last week President Kennedy, taking up the campaign cudgel for the first time since last year's national election, flew in and issued a statement endorsing Wagner.

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—The New Jersey gubernatorial campaign ended today with Democratic Richard J. Hughes mourning the death of his father and Republican James P. Mitchell curtailing last-day appearances out of deference to his opponent.

Hughes' father, Richard P. Hughes, died Sunday. The Democratic candidate cancelled all further campaign appearances, including a five-hour and 15-minute television scheduled for tonight.

Hughes drew Kennedy and former President Truman. Former President Eisenhower and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller campaigned for Mitchell.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., will pitch hit for Hughes. James P. Mitchell, former U.S. secretary of labor in the Eisenhower administration, out of deference to Hughes, called off a scheduled tour of five counties, but planned to make four television spots.

Tuesday's election has drawn nationwide interest as a barometer of President Kennedy's first year in office. Top names from each party have campaigned in the state on behalf of both candidates.

UAW Chrysler Body to Seek Contract OK

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union's Chrysler Council is expected to recommend at a meeting today that the company's 60,000 UAW members ratify the new three-year contract signed last Friday.

The 150-member council is also expected to consider what to do about three Chrysler plants which still haven't reached local settlements.

THE HOME YOU'D ALWAYS DREAMED OF A NEW RESPONSIBILITY MAKES YOU STOP AND THINK...

Could my wife pay off the mortgage if anything happened to me?

Would we "get by" in an emergency?

Have I provided for my family in case they're left alone?

Have we made sure our youngsters will be able to go to college?

Will my wife and I be independent in our later years?

How 5 unique advantages of life insurance help answer these questions... bringing peace of mind at the stroke of a pen

1 BY SAFEGUARDING THE HOME.

With life insurance, a man can safeguard the home his family loves by owning a policy which takes care of any unpaid mortgage.

2 BY PROVIDING A GUARANTEED FUND FOR EMERGENCIES.

You know, in advance, exactly how much money will be available in your life insurance at any given time. Secure in this knowledge, you are better prepared to face emergencies.

3 BY GUARANTEEING FAMILY PROTECTION.

With life insurance, a family is protected right from the start. For life insurance guarantees, at the stroke of a pen, an amount of money far greater than most couples could save in many years.

4 BY GUARANTEEING FUNDS FOR COLLEGE.

By figuring in advance the cost of sending their children to college, parents can make sure—through their life insurance—that college expenses can be met.

5 BY PROVIDING A STEADY RETIREMENT INCOME.

A husband and wife can get more pleasure from their later years when they plan their life insurance to provide a steady income guaranteed to last for both their lifetimes.

The wise family head estimates his family's future needs, then plans his life insurance accordingly. Since family circumstances change, many couples review their program with their life insurance agent regularly. In this way, they get the most from their life insurance.

Being Practical Against Fallout Can Save Lives

(Editor's Note: A Nobel prize winner who is America's best known authority on fallout and radiation has written for this newspaper 15 vital articles on what you can do if nuclear war strikes. Here is the first.)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

For $30, I built a fallout shelter in my back yard. It gives my family 100 times more chance of surviving nuclear fallout than if I had done nothing.

This poor man's shelter is just one example of many practical things you can do—and especially KNOW ABOUT—for survival insurance if all efforts to keep peace fail.

The key to survival is understanding the hazards, the effects of nuclear weapons, so you can make intelligent decisions and take intelligent action.

The smart man has 100 times more chance than the man who doesn't know what to expect or to do.

Ignorance can kill, just as it kills the little child who runs in front of an automobile. You can save your life easily. You can easily lose it.

Do you know, for example, that:

Even if a bomb exploded nearby, you would have an hour or longer to take or prepare shelter before the fallout arrived?

Forty-eight hours after radioactive fallout comes down, it is only 1 per cent as "hot" or dangerous as when it fell. Fallout is one of the biggest potential killers in nuclear weapons?

THOUSANDS OF TONS

By this fallout, I don't mean the relatively small amount coming from high air bursts of nuclear tests. I mean the thousands of tons of radioactive dirt and materials vaporized and made radioactive by a great burst near or on the ground.

This fallout behaves like ordinary dust, except it is "hot." There are ways to clean up, brush or wash away this radioactive dust.

You could build a $30,000 shelter, and yet allow fallout to get in unless you know what you were doing.

Fallout will not mean the end of life on earth, even if hundreds of bombs were exploded.

All these are facts. They and other facts answer "Yes" to the many questions people are asking, which all add up to this:

"Is there really anything we can do?"

MANY COULD SURVIVE

I cannot tell you there is a simple, cheap way to protect yourself if you are in the very center of a target when it receives a direct hit.

But millions of us will not be there.

And many thousands near the center of destruction could survive, with knowledge and protection.

First, let us assume you are caught in the most defenseless position—out in the open, with no warning an attack is coming.

The first sign is a tremendous light, thousands of times brighter than the sun or a flash of lightning. There's no mistaking that it is.

If you sense it, don't look at it. It could blind you.

Throw yourself instantly to the ground, and preferably behind some protection, such as a building, the curb of a street, a culvert, even a tree, anything to put protection between you and that flash. Lie as flat as you can.

INSTANT RADIATION

With the light, the first effect is prompt or instant radiation from the nuclear burst. It is X-rays and neutrons flying out in straight lines in all directions from the burst. This is NOT fallout. The X-rays and gamma rays travel about 1,000 yards at most, then disappear.

With this radiation, at the same speed, comes heat. The heat from a 20-megaton bomb might cause second-degree burns at a distance of up to 25 miles, unless you were protected.

A hole in the ground could save you from much or all (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

PROTECTION FOR $30 — Prof. Willard F. Libby, America's best-known authority on fallout and radiation and a Nobel prize winner, stands proudly beside the sandbag fallout shelter he built in the back yard of his home at a cost of only $30. Prof. Libby claims the homemade shelter is only one of many practical things people can do to save their lives in a nuclear attack.

Warning to U.S. Follows JFK's Announcement

Toss News Agency Hits Possible Atmospheric Blast Resumption

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets have issued a veiled warning that further nuclear testing by the United States and its allies may compel the Soviet Union to prolong its program of tests, still numerically behind the West.

President Kennedy's announcement last Thursday that the United States is getting ready for possible resumption of atmospheric tests was the target of a statement issued Sunday by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

"The statement by the United States president does not meet half way the desires of those who are sincerely pressing for an end to the nuclear arms race," Tass said. "To the underground tests of nuclear weapons which are already being staged in the United States, nuclear tests in the atmosphere are to be added as soon as the U.S. government regards this as necessary."

"In the case of continuation of nuclear tests by the United States of America and its allies, all the more in the case of resumption of American nuclear tests in the atmosphere, the other side will watch these military preparations, primarily the steps in improving nuclear weapons, because it cannot permit the occurrence of such a situation in which the interests of its security would not be reliably ensured."

"This other side again will have to take the appropriate conclusions for itself with regard to nuclear weapons tests. It goes without saying that full responsibility for the continuation of the nuclear arms race and for the holding of nuclear tests will be borne then by the United States government."

DISARMAMENT BID

The warning was coupled with another call for a general and complete disarmament treaty, long proposed by Premier Khrushchev, and a reiteration that the Soviet Union is ready to ditch all its nuclear weapons if other nations do the same. The statement said such a treaty should provide for "mutual international control." It did not elaborate. The Soviet Union in the past has rejected proposals to establish what the Western allies consider would be an end conclusion of a disarmament treaty.

4 Eichmann Deputies Face Threat of Trial

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Four of Adolf Eichmann's former deputies may be brought to trial in West Germany on the basis of evidence collected by Israeli police, it was reported here today. The four men are Hermann Krumey, Franz Novak, Otto Hunsche, and Werner Lemke. Krumey and Novak are in jail. The other two are free.

Indian Speaks His Piece

HE'S AGAINST N-TESTING — India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru talks out against resumption of nuclear testing by the great powers when he appeared on a program in New York Sunday. He suggested there are other ways the United States can defend its security, but he did not define them.

Crime Drive Launching Site

U.S. to Probe Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The U.S. Justice Department has picked Las Vegas as the launching site for a new drive against national crime syndicates.

The chairman of the State Gaming Control Board, Ed Olsen of Reno, immediately promised to support the drive. But he said the Washington announcement of the investigation sounded "just a little bit sensational."

"Just a little headline story," said one casino operator when he heard the news.

Justice Department officials in Washington announced Sunday Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has ordered a systematic investigation to determine: (1) The extent to which syndicated crime leaders are using Las Vegas as a meeting place; (2) whether a race track wire service is being run here for bookmakers throughout the country; (3) the backgrounds of some gambling casino operators.

'CLOSE COOPERATION'

Olsen said the attorney general has been interested in Nevada for some time "and we've been working in close cooperation with Mr. Kennedy."

"The state is just as interested in uprooting racketeering as we are here—as he is," Olsen said.

Olsen said his agency—more than 50 of them—"keep track of national underworld figures that come to Las Vegas."

"If meetings of any significance (involving crime leaders) occurred in Nevada, we'd likely know about them."

Olsen said investigations of applicants for gambling licenses "have been as complete and thorough as investigations for security clearance on the national level."

Manager Benny Gelfest of the Riviera Hotel, which operates a large casino, said he wouldn't

Kennedy and Nehru to Talk Over N-Tests

NEWPORT, R.I. — President Kennedy undertakes another venture in personal diplomacy today in a search for a better understanding with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Nehru, who arrived in New York Sunday to begin a 10-day visit in the United States, was due at nearby Quonset Point Naval Air Station at 11:50 a.m. (Pontiac time), where he was to be greeted by the President.

Their discussions of worldwide problems are expected to put heavy emphasis on nuclear tests.

Nehru has called the latest series of Soviet nuclear tests "an evil thing."

Kennedy last week set in motion preparations for U.S. tests in the atmosphere.

He said this country will conduct explosions in the air if an evaluation of the Soviet Union's shots indicates that U.S. tests are necessary for the security of this country and the free world.

REDTS AT FAULT
Nehru said Russia was the first nation to break the three-year nuclear test moratorium and therefore was "largely responsible" for the renewed nuclear arms race.

The Indian leader said he would not "presume" to tell the United States not to resume nuclear testing.

"I'm dead against any nuclear testing, whatever happens," Nehru added, however, "I consider the whole test business and hydrogen bombs evil things."

Nehru is expected to press Kennedy for a moratorium on nuclear testing, "whatever happens."

He reiterated his position that the important thing is to stop all tests now without waiting for a treaty "with inspection and controls and all that."

The American and Indian positions also are diametrically opposed on the question of admission of Red China to the United Nations.

The Indian position, as expounded by Nehru, is that disarmament is one of the major world problems and "you can't deal with it without China."

Button up your overcoat "cause it'll be mostly fair and colder to night, with a low of 30 degrees, according to the weatherman."

Tuesday's outlook calls for mostly fair and warmer temperatures, the high expected to reach 50.

Temperatures will average 3 to 5 degrees above the normal high of 40 to 45 and the normal 24 to 31 low during the next five days. Warmer temperatures are forecast for Wednesday, and again Friday, but Thursday will be cooler.

Winds are westerly 8 to 15 miles through Tuesday.

The lowest temperature reading this morning was 21 degrees at 8 a.m. By 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 41.

Fallout Shelters to Get New Look in Windows

COBENING, N.Y. (AP) — Radiation-tight windows that would provide a glimpse of the outside from a family fallout shelter have been developed by Corning Glass Works.

The glass panes, four inches square and up to 36 inches thick, are designed to ease the mental strain of confinement. The company said a 21-inch-thick window with frame and casing is priced at "less than $100."

Language of the statutes had been interpreted here to mean that a majority vote in the entire area to be consolidated would be controlling.

The upcoming Heights-Muskegon ballot will not of itself consolidate the cities. A favorable initial vote would see naming of five charter commissioners in a second election in each community. The commissioners would draw up a charter to govern the consolidated cities, and the charter would be presented for approval or rejection in a third balloting.

The Tuesday election is second time around for the merger proposal. A vote was held in each city on Nov. 5, 1959, under the same statutory provisions. The proposal carried in Muskegon, but failed in the Heights by a margin of 322

Persistent rumors in business circles suggest that S. E. Knudsen will shortly become General Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division with Edward N. Cole, current Chevy boss, going to the General Motors Building. There has been no official confirmation.

Report Quake in Russia

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI) — The Uppsala seismograph registered a sharp shock in the Soviet nuclear testing area today, but scientists said they believed it was an "extremely strong earthquake."

It was registered at 7:42 a.m. (1:42 a.m. Pontiac time).

A dinner honoring Willman will be attended by commissioners and department heads Dec. 11 at the City Club.

He retires officially Dec. 31.

Officials feel a "one city" status for this port and industrial community would have economic advantages stemming from elimination of overlapping city and township governments of duplicated public services, and through coordinated governmental effort.

Leaders feel a favorable vote will clear the first big hurdle on the way to a hoped-for ultimate consolidation of this area's four contiguous cities and three urban townships into a single municipality.

Consolidation studies by a large volunteer community group, assisted by professional consultants, and by often study organizations in both Muskegon and Muskegon Heights, all concluded that the "economic future of Greater Muskegon rests in governmental consolidation."

The city studies recommended that the Heights-Muskegon consolidation be placed on the ballot for the initial test. The Tuesday vote is seen as a trial balloon to assess chances for ultimate overall unification.

12 W. Germans Defeat 200 Vopos at Border

BERLIN (UPI)—A dozen West Berlin police today beat back about 200 Communist police supported by armored personnel carriers and water cannon in a border battle with tear gas grenades, West Berlin police reported.

Although outnumbered more than 16 to 1, Western policemen used gas to pull down a wire fence which the Communists had put up on West Berlin territory.

The Communists threw 30 tear gas grenades with explosive charges. The West Berliners retaliated with 60.

The incident occurred along a 200-yard stretch of the Wilhelmshuh railway yard at the French sector border with East Germany.

A second tear gas battle between East and West Berlin police occurred at another section of the border. The East Germans did not use their guns but they did open fire at two other border points and captured two refugees at gunpoint.

The Wilhelmshuh battle started when six West Berlin policemen protected by 12 West Berlin policemen began removing a wire fence. The Western police said had been built by the Communists 3 feet inside Western territory to stop refugees from fleeing to the West.

IGNORE DEMANDS
Sixty eastern border policemen arrived and demanded the work be stopped. The West Berliners ignored them. Another 140 Communist police arrived in armored personnel carriers.

The Communist police wore steel helmets and carried submachine guns.

Two armored water cannon drove up to the eastern side of the border.

West Berlin police said the tear gas battle lasted an hour and a half and when it was over they continued to pull down the fence without further interference.

They said about three-fourths of the Communist grenades failed to go off.

The dismantling of the fence did not leave a hole in the border. The Communists had a barbed wire barrier behind it on their side.

Police said 14 eastern zone residents escaped to the West in 24 hours up to 7 a.m. today but the Communists caught 27 others trying to flee.

For the third straight day, Communist police used their guns to cut off escape. It was not known if they hit any of the refugees.

Man Reports Holdup Following Card Game

A 24-year-old Pontiac man told police he was robbed of $50 at gunpoint by three men he had been playing cards with early yesterday morning.

John Powell, of 81 Eastmore St., said they had been playing cards at the home of Joyce Rhodes, 31, 408 Bagley St.

Powell said the men left Miss Rhodes' residence after the card game was ended and returned later armed with a shotgun and a pistol. They forced him to hand over his money, according to Powell.

He said he could not identify the men.

Plane Carrying Five Lost Near Santa Fe

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI)—A mounted state police searched for a twin-engine private airplane with five persons aboard which disappeared in a snowstorm Sunday night.

The plane, which carried a family of four, approached the Santa Fe Airport on a flight from Midland, Tex., Sunday night, and then turned away toward the mountains.

A control tower operator said it appeared to have crashed.

Its pilot was James L. Slover of Houston, Tex. He was flying Wilson Ray Bond, 25, Bond's wife, Suzanne, 21, and the couple's two children, Laura, 2½, and Tracy Lynn (age unavailable), of Elgin, Ill. The plane was owned by a plumber, had been working on the Holiday Motel here since August as an employee of the Texas Plumbing Co.

Pick MSU Man to Head College

Dr. Paul A. Miller Is Named President of West Virginia U.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Paul A. Miller, provost of Michigan State University, was named president of West Virginia University Sunday by the school's board of governors.

Forrest H. Kirkpatrick, president of the board, announced the appointment.

Miller, 44, and a graduate of WVU, will assume the presidency early in January, succeeding Dr. Clyde L. Colson, Colson, dean of the college of law, has headed the university on an acting basis since last January when Dr. Elsie A. Stahr Jr. left to become secretary of the Army.

Stahr resigned from the $30,000-a-year post in June.

Miller, a native of East Liverpool, Ohio, received his master's degree from MSU in 1947 and six years later earned a doctorate from the same institution in sociology and anthropology.

He joined the Michigan State faculty as an assistant professor, became a full professor in 1953, was named deputy director of the cooperative extension service in 1954 and became director a year later.

CHIEF OFFICER
In 1955, Miller was named MSU vice president, and in June 1959, he was appointed provost—the chief academic officer of the institution.

The WVU board said Miller was the unanimous choice of the board of governors and we are delighted that he has accepted. He is a highly respected scholar with high level administrative experience and he has a sincere and dedicated interest in this state and in West Virginia University.

Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president, said "We regret very much his leaving, but if he wants to go back to his alma mater, there is nothing we can do."

Hannah said no successor for Miller would be discussed until the Nov. 17 meeting of the MSU Board of Trustees and "perhaps not then."

The term "some pumpkins" is designated a person or thing of consequence apparently arose in New York City about a century ago when the public's fancy was taken by "monster pumpkins" displayed at the Crystal Palace.

"This understanding was not a major factor in my accepting the post of assistant, however," he said.

"I consider civil defense of vital importance and am willing to serve no matter in what capacity," he said.

Madole admitted that he was given the understanding that he would be endorsed at this time for the directorship, but then he was hired by the committee.

"I am neither for nor against the club, but I think the people living around that area should be given consideration."

Mayor Wideman supported the candidacy of Hanson and James, saying: "I am definitely backing them for the council seats."

G. Richard Jarvis, accounting supervisor for GMC Truck and Coach, of 2239 Pontiac Drive, incumbent.

Jarvis is seeking re-election after three years on the council. The other term which ended this year was that of Mayor Howard E. Wideman, who decided not to run again after 17 years' intermittent service on the council.

Of the four candidates, Hanson and James issued a joint platform and both Dawson and Jarvis are supporting each other's bid.

However each one stated he is independent on some issues.

Individually the candidates named three major issues with which the council would have to concern itself in the near future:

1 — Proposed annexation of Sylvan Manor.
2 — Aerial spraying against mosquitoes.

3 — A council attitude toward the Oakland County Red Club located in Sylvan Lake.

Both Hanson and James are members of the Boat Club. Neither Dawson nor Jarvis is a member.

A decision whether to present use of part of the club's property as a parking lot violator's city zoning ordinance is expected to be made in circuit court this year.

Jarvis commented on the matter.

"I am opposed to giving the boat club any privilege which is not entitled to. They broke our zoning ordinance to the extent that they parked trailers on their property and refused to stop."

Two persons were injured in a three-car collision Saturday evening on Franklin Road near the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The Day in Birmingham

Four Churches Planning Protestant Youth Project

BIRMINGHAM — Encouraged by recent proposals for Protestant church union, four of Birmingham's churches are laying plans for the formation of a United Youth Program.

Rev. David VanDusen of St. James Episcopal Church, who initiated the idea, said that "this program will be the start of a new concept in church youth work in Birmingham."

"It is one where the major Protestant churches pool their efforts and resources to reach out to meet the needs of the teen-agers in the community," he said.

The program is planned under the direction of the clergy of the four cooperating churches: Rev. Mr. VanDusen; Rev. Jack Angerman of the First Presbyterian Church; Rev. Mead M. Bailey of the Congregational Church; and Rev. Robert Falk of the First Methodist Church.

The first meeting of the combined church youths will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

The program will center around the Blake-Pike Proposal, which sets forth the idea of Protestant church union in this country similar to that already in effect in the United Church of India and to include the Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian and United Church of Christ denominations.

More than 200 young people are expected to attend the initial session.

After hearing an opening statement on the proposal by Mr. VanDusen, the participants will adjourn to small discussion groups to formulate questions on the youth union.

At the conclusion of the discussions, the clergy of the four participating churches will deal with the questions raised by the small groups.

harm from the radiation and heat. Thousands of Japanese in Hiroshima or Nagasaki would have survived had they known this in time.

Then traveling at the speed of sound, comes the blast effect, many of the worst because it picks up all kinds of objects and hurls them about like missiles.

Hiding, making yourself small, increases chances of survival. The chances improve the farther you happen to be from the bomb center.

Survive this, and you have probably an hour before fallout arrives.

Why? Because it consists of the nuclear ashes or coats from the burst, and sucked-up material. And it shoots up to 20 to 25 miles high, and has all that distance to fall back to earth.

Sylvan Lake City Voters to Fill Council Positions

City of Sylvan Lake voters will go to the polls tomorrow to pick two of four candidates for seats on the city council.

Two seats are being vacated as three-year terms of two councilmen end.

The candidates are: John M. Dawson, a tool-and-die maker, of 2055 Fernside Ave.

John M. Hanson, a financial counselor, of 2140 Garland St.

Harold K. James, a wholesale horticulturist, of 1560 Benvenue Ave.

Downes was unable to estimate at this time how many men would find jobs if the firm established itself in a local temporary building.

"WILL KEEP SOME"
"We will keep as many as possible," he said. "Some of our supervisory personnel — 10 to 15 men — may have to put on coveralls, but I'm sure they'd be willing to do it."

In addition another eight to ten men may find temporary work at a Frankfort millworks operated by one of Downes' sons-in-law. The firm is Allied Fabricators, Inc., and Downes intends to use its facilities to begin completion of a $300,000 order of plastic doors "until we can get on our feet again here."

He said the men would be needed because production of the doors was "a specially skilled operation."

He said the plastic-face doors were one of Pontiac Millwork Co.'s specialties, under the label Boncor Doors.

About 400 to 500 of the doors were destroyed Saturday inside the millwork, along with a truck on which they were loaded.

There are about 500,000 mill teachers in the U.S. on a full or part-time basis, most of them teaching the piano.

Next Congress Looks Tough to Mansfield

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield expects the next congressional session to be even tougher than the last one.

During the first half of the 87th Congress, very little of the New Frontier's legislative program was enacted into law. With a congressional election just around the corner, the prospects are even less bright for such liberal measures as federal aid to education and medical care for the aged in 1962. Mansfield intends, however, to give them the old school try.

Sometime next month JFK is expected to summon Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Mansfield, Majority Whip Robert Humphrey, acting speaker John McCormack and fellow House Leader Carl Albert to the White House for a skull session on plans and strategies.

The wise counsel of critically alling Sun Rayburn will be sorely missed, both at the White House conference and in the legislative year ahead.

McCormack and Kennedy, although top Democratic leaders from the same state of Massachusetts, cordially dislike each other, and are unlikely to work well in close harness. JFK owed to Rayburn much of the legislation that was saved in the House, but tasted bitter defeat on some of his projects after McCormack assumed the helm.

Mansfield, a modest man who leads by gentle persuasion rather than bold strategies, has made no attempt to consult Kennedy on his legislative proposals for the second session, or to present his own views.

HAS ENOUGH PROBLEMS?

"The President has enough problems, without having me infringe on his time," the Montana senator explained. "If he should want to talk to me, I am here and available, but I don't expect to be called before late December."

After the legislative meeting, which will undoubtedly influence the shape of the union package on domestic issues, the President is expected to invite congressional leaders of both parties to a conference on proposed measures affecting the international and defense picture.

Mansfield, in looking toward the battle ahead, said modestly: "In the first session we were pretty lucky, because all we did was build on the foundation Lyndon Johnson laid. We brought up legislation previously passed by Congress, and vetoed by a Republican president — measures like area redevelopment, minimum wage and housing.

"We didn't pass much new frontier legislation last year, but now we are on our own, and will be judged accordingly. I'm hopeful that tax reform legislation will be considered, along with medical care for the aged, and an extension of reciprocal trade."

The majority leader is frankly doubtful that federal aid to education will get anywhere near session, because of the House squabble that finally resulted in a straight two-year extension of aid to impacted areas and the national defense education act.

MUST BE VIGOROUS

Much will depend on how vigorously the President pushes the more controversial measures in his state of the union address. At this writing, he has given no indication of whether he expects to press for new civil rights legislation.

Should he decide to do so, the Senate is almost certain to be plunged into a filibuster that could delay adjournment, because a battle over a slight change in the rules regarding filibusters kept Congress in session until almost October this year.

With a third of the Senate and all of the House up for re-election, it is bitterly resented unless next fall, any such attempt to pro- the issue is world, crisis, not civil long the session will almost cer-

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in the family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? Whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does it itch? Does your scalp feel greasy? Does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 6001, Houston 6, Texas.

Would-Be Assassins Killed in Philippines

MANILA (AP)—Two supporters of a Nationalista congressional candidate in Iloilo were shot down Sunday while trying to kill the Liberal party candidate, bringing the death toll in the Philippine election campaign to 15. Thirty-three persons have been wounded with the election still eight days away.

The presidential race was narrowed to two contenders over the weekend with the withdrawal of Sen. Rogelio de la Rosa. He threw his support to Vice President Diosdado Macapagal, the Liberal candidate opposing resident Carlos P. Barcia of the ruling Nationalists.

Teachers Told to Lower Boom on Gum Chewing BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Teachers in Birmingham schools have been urged to crack down on gum chewing.

The current bulletin of the Birmingham Education Association says: "Those who say chewing gum relieves tension might as well say biting fingernails relieves tension, or murdering people relieves the murderous inclination, or beating one's wife makes for a peaceful husband."

Besides, says the bulletin, the gum chewers stick up the bottom of their desks.

12 Persons Die in Traffic

Accidents End 13 Lives in Michigan

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents claimed at least 12 lives in Michigan during the first weekend of November. In addition, one person died in a miscellaneous mishap. The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

TRAFFIC:
Ozzie Duke Briggs, 26, of Flint, was killed early Sunday when struck by a car on the Dixie Highway in Birch Run Township of Saginaw County.

Mary Falcone, 74, of Royal Oak, died Sunday from injuries suffered Friday night when a car struck her in Royal Oak.

Paul M. Curtis, 25, of Algonac, was killed Sunday when his car hit a bridge on M29 near Anchor Bay Drive in St. Clair County.

Bennett M. Paul, 74, of Cedar in Leelanau County, was struck and killed by a car on a road in Grand Township, Clare County, Saturday night.

Patrick Wels, 14, of Livonia, died Saturday when struck by a car on a street near his home.

Michael Meronik, 42, of Southfield, was killed Saturday when his car overturned on an Ingham County road near Mason.

Claude Workman, 90, of Detroit, was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car while walking across State Fair Road in Detroit.

Victoria Bodnarski, 9, of Detroit, was hit by a car and killed Sunday night when she attempted to cross a Detroit street.

Charles Madmala, 70, of Detroit, was killed Sunday evening when his car ran off a road and hit a bridge abutment in Brownstown Township, Wayne County.

Sabra Emerson, 11, of Jackson, was killed Saturday when struck by a car.

Mrs. Patricia Larsen, 58, of West Branch, died in a two-car collision Saturday on M16 near Standish in Arenac County.

Glenford W. Roberts, 23, of Jedd, died Friday night after a car in which he was riding hit a bridge near Peck.

MISCELLANEOUS:
Matthias J. Prenter, 75, of Detroit died after being dragged 75 feet under his own car Saturday when the automatic transmission engaged as he stood in front of the car. The engine had been running.

Fighting in Laos Dampens Hopes

Renewal of Hostilities Diminishes Chance of Peace for Asian Nation

GENEVA (UPI) — Renewed fighting in Laos dampened hopes here today that the 14-nation conference on Laos can find some way to bring peace to the little Southeast Asian kingdom.

So far the fighting does not appear to be widespread. But the fact that it has started again following the monsoon season tends to confirm previous fears of Western diplomats.

The chief delegate of the Laos neutralist faction, Quinlan Pholsena, was gloomy when he flew in Sunday to represent Prince Souvanna Phouma, the man who is trying to form a coalition government.

Pholsena charged that the present pro-Western government Prince Boun Oum "has absolutely no interest in seeing a peaceful settlement of this question."

He said he saw little chance of progress here in view of the fighting. He charged the Boun Oum regime with "deliberately engineering" the recent shelling of the village of Xiong Khouang and that attacks by the Boun Oum forces had increased all over the country.

In Saigon, Viet Nam, a visiting official of Boun Oum's government, secretary of state and foreign affairs Prince Sopaeksana, told newsmen he did not think the Geneva conference could solve anything either.

Veteran Newsmen Dies

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP) — Louis P. Cashman Sr., 74, editor and publisher of the Vicksburg Evening Post and president of the Delta Broadcasting Co. (WQBC), 1883, died Sunday after an illness of several months. Cashman, who had been in newspaper work 53 years, was first employed by his father, the late John G. Cashman, who founded the Evening Post in 1883.

Steamship Official Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Elliot L. Liman, 60, of New York, N.Y., passenger traffic manager for the Holland-American Steamship Line of New York, died Saturday of a heart attack.

Camp Kett Plans Fill Evening for Unit

Forty area branches of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association completed plans for the Camp Kett project Friday in the Kirkway Drive home of Mrs. Edward S. Wellock. Pouring (nt left) is Mrs. F. Gordon Davis, Birmingham, Michigan division president;

Mrs. G. J. Engelhart of Sodon Court, Bloomfield Heights Club; Mrs. Dalton Ettinger, Orange Grove Street, Waterford Branch; Mrs. Merle Yuckey, Lake Angelus Branch; Mrs. Harold L. Tanner, Bloomfield Hills, Cranbrook Branch.

Final plans for the Camp Kett project, almost halfway to its pledged goal of $3,800, were discussed Friday evening at a meeting of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mrs. Edward S. Wellock opened her Kirkway Drive home to presidents and representatives of the Division.

Chairmen of the affair were Mrs. Eugene S. Wellock and Mrs. F. Gordon Davis. Mrs. William Singleton and Mrs. John Tebben prepared the floral arrangements throughout the Wellock home.

Pouring were Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Carl Larson. Heather and roses in an 18th century bonze and crystal cergne flanked by candelabra centered the table covered with point de Venice cloth.

Donations to the Camp Kett project being made through branch presidents will be used for furnishing a room at the youth leadership training camp built by the 4-H Foundation on a small lake near Cadillac.

With Plaid Ensembles

Use Simple Accessories

By GAIL DUGAN

NEW YORK (NEA) — There are countless women who do on plaids and many others who are terrified by them.

Those who love plaids are well aware that a really handsome plaid fashion is dependent on excellent fabric and deft handling. Given these attributes, a plaid coat, suit or dress can be a smashing success.

IN THE KNOW

The women who wear plaid knowingly always keep their accessories simple. Plaid, in itself, is sufficiently eye-catching. The accessories should provide a quiet background.

Accessorized with glowing, battery smooth call bag and pumps, neat, leather gloves and a simple hat, plaid is a thing of joy. It is also a fashion that endures from one season to the next. The life of a good plaid fashion can be counted to be several years. And, these days, that's a sort of bonus in itself.

Area Personal Items of Interest

Returned from a six-week tour of Europe are Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Gale of Elizabeth Lake Road. Three-day stopovers in London, Rome and Paris were included in their visits to 11 countries.

They sailed from New York on the S.S. Statendam and returned on the S.S. Flandre.

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Hundreds of women and girls are scurrying about town purchasing two new articles of warm winter clothing, "one to wash" and "one to wear" to contribute to the annual Ingathering of the Pontiac Chapter of Needlework Guild of America, Inc.

A gift of two new articles of clothing or household linen will make anyone a member of one of America's oldest national welfare organizations.

A gift of two dollars or more may be turned in instead of the garments, and guild members will do the purchasing in the giver's name.

TO GREET DONORS

Mrs. Charles Rogers will welcome directors, members and friends as they arrive with garments from 9 to 11 a.m. Thursday at First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. William Isgrig will be assisted by Mrs. Hurl Morris and Mrs. Robert Isgrig at the receiving table checking reports of section presidents.

Mrs. Henry Gaudier, Mrs. Clara Gaudier and Mrs. Ben Jerome Jr. will purchase garments for special causes.

TO PROVIDE PASTRIES

The Queen Mary Section will provide British pastries for the morning coffee at 10 a.m. These women, all of British descent, bake Scotch scones, currant cakes, Welsh tea cakes and other goodies made from recipes brought here from Great Britain.

Mrs. John Harper will be chairman of the coffee with Mrs. Charles Clarke and Mrs. David Bickelstaff assisting.

The September-October Group of First Presbyterian Church will provide tea and coffee.

In charge of table arrangements is Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald.

SET INGATHERING

The Grace Branch of Needlework Guild, Auburn Heights Chapter will hold its annual Ingathering at the home of Mrs. Ernest Howell, Churchill Road Monday.

Mrs. Lester Snell serves as president and Mrs. Howell, secretary. Directors of the Auburn Heights Guild, include Mrs. William Brooks, Mrs. Cecil Denison, Mrs. George Granger, Mrs. Carl Jones, Mrs. Ernest Kaul, Mrs. Maurice Landry, Mrs. W. A. Lewis and Mrs. Walter Melberg.

Others are Mrs. Edward Miller, Mrs. L. R. Naugh, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. O. L. Ralph, Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Snell.

Directors, members and friends are invited, Mrs. Snell said.

This branch of Needlework guild was named for its organizers, Mrs. H. H. Thatcher, now honorary president, and the late Mrs. Harry Y. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Allan H. Monroe of Cherokee Road, a director of Alma College and Mrs. Burton Mitchell of Inverness Street attended the dedication of a historical marker, during Founders' Day program in Dunning Chapel.

Circuit Court Commissioner Maurice F. Cole of Perndale addressed the convocation on "A Challenge to Be Met" and Stephen S. Nisbet, chairman of the college board of trustees was a platform guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Chapellaine (Marilyn Biallas) of Montclair Street and the Paul Chapellaines of Chamberlain Street. Great-grandparents are the William J. Mansfields of Gage Street and Mrs. Rose Biallas of Canon City, Colo.

The George Jacobs of Birmingham are attending a two-day convocation this week at Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass.

The Arthur Rosners of Pine Ridge Road announce the birth of a daughter, Heidi Maxine, Oct. 25 in Pontiac General Hospital.

Insurance executives and their wives, returned from a recent convention in Dayton are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Guest Jr., Mrs. Eleanor Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. William J. DeGrace, all of Birmingham, the R. G. Ransdors, Bloomfield Township, and the John W. Dresslers, Bloomfield Hills.

The Lawrence C. Murphys of Dover Road are parents of a son, Lawrence John, born Oct. 28 in Pontiac General Hospital.

The baby's grandparents are the John Maxfields of Hillsdale and Mrs. Lawrence Murphy of Pontiac.

Mrs. Robert Stireman, dietitian at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and E. Grace Clark, Pontiac State Hospital dietitian, attended the 44th annual meeting of the American Dietetic Association in St. Louis, Mo., last week.

The junior Cecil J. Reenes of Commonwealth Avenue with their daughter Patricia and her grandfather Cecil J. Reene, visited Mrs. Reene's parents, the Warren Ericksons in Ishpeming last weekend.

They were also house-guests of the Charles Rintalas of Negaunee whose daughter Mary Ellen became Mrs. George Barry on Saturday. Patricia was maid of honor at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robbins of North Sanford Street, have had as their house-guests this week the Gary Stephensons of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Stephenson is Mrs. Robbins' niece.

The Henry O. Sternbergs of Porter Street were recent visitors at the Bellingrath Gardens, Mobile, Ala., famous for its camellia and azalea collections.

Q: Two weeks ago while at a bridge party at a friend's house I met an acquaintance whom I hadn't seen for a long time and I invited her to dinner at my house for the following week. I said nothing further and took it for granted that she would come.

However, she never turned up and I haven't heard from her since. A friend of mine tells me that I should have sent her a "reminder card" a day or so before the dinner.

Will you please tell me what a reminder card is and when it is used? Also, was I at fault for not confirming the invitation?

A: If the day and hour of your dinner had been definitely set, your friend should have come with no further word from you.

Because people do sometimes forget engagements they make when they are away from home and cannot write them down immediately, many hostesses follow such an invitation by sending a reminder card, which may be a visiting card with "To remind you you are dining with me on Wednesday, the 10th at 7 o'clock." Others telephone the day before (or morning of) the dinner.

Q: I have a moderately designed sterling pattern and a rather heavy silver plate, also moderately designed, both flowered — the sterling a rose and the plate has lilies.

Would it be permissible to use the bouillon and iced tea silver plated spoons with the sterling silver? Also, is it proper to use the soup cup with handles instead of the rimmed soup plate for a formal dinner?

A: You may properly use the plated spoons with your sterling silver, but soup cups will not be proper at a truly formal dinner.

Q: Will you please tell me if it is proper for an engaged couple to send Christmas cards together, or is this not done until after they are married? A: Sending a card together to anyone who is an intimate friend of both of them, would be quite proper.

Q: Will you please tell me if it is considered good table manners to dip a piece of bread into the yolk of a fried egg and then to eat the bread in the fingers?

A: To dip a piece of bread into the egg and eat it with the fingers is not correct. But to drop a piece or two of bread into the soft part of the egg and then eat it with a fork would be quite all right.

Q: Who pays for the bridesmaids' flowers? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Wedding Expenses" answers this question as well as many others in connection with the expenses of the wedding.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service and youth groups of St. Paul Methodist Church have completed weeks of planning and are awaiting anxiously their annual bazaar and turkey dinner Tuesday. Preparing to stock the hand-

Church Bazaar Set Tomorrow

Plans are completed for a bazaar and turkey dinner from 12:30 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at St. Paul Methodist Church on East Square Lake Road.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service and church youth groups are sponsoring the annual event. Dinner will be served "family style," beginning at 5:30. "Tea time" will be from 12:30 to 2:30. Bazaar booths will offer home-baked goods, candles, hand-made aprons, pillow cases, toys and decorations. A white elephant will bear the title "Treasure Chest."

A "Jack and Jill" room, supervised by Mrs. Eldon Parrott and the Methodist Youth Fellowship, will entertain children from three to 12 for a nominal fee during the evening hours. Games, a fish pond and movies will be available. Another room will be opened for Christmas card photographs. Mrs. Dewey Millions is kitchen committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. George Atkinson and Mrs. John Lyon. Dining room chairmen are Mrs. Charles Robinson and Mrs. Harold Reynolds. Mrs. H. M. Nelson is in charge of the bazaar.

Mrs. Charles Butler, society president, announces that music will be furnished by church organists during the dinner hours. Selections will be played by Mrs. Adrian Thompson, Mrs. Kenneth Healy and Donald Beltz.

Wisconsin Principal Is Suspended in Uproar Over McGuffey Readers

TWIN LAKES, Wis. (AP)—The ancient McGuffey Reader has split this resort community in an emotional clash. One side claims it is only a local political fight while the other contends it's a move to enforce a conservative point of view.

Both sides agree the issues will be pressed to a decision. Neither is sure just what will happen next. On one side are four members of the Lakewood Elementary School Board. On the other side is the Twin Lakes Taxpayers Alliance.

The first real victim of the conflict is school Principal Raymond J. Oestreich, 41, who was suspended indefinitely with pay Saturday for what the board said was "incompatibility." Oestreich, principal since 1954, said the issues go deeper than the choice of books for the school's 226 pupils.

John J. Collins, a member of the board, said, "It's a clash between the old guard and the new element in this community." Twin Lakes, about 25 miles south of Milwaukee, has grown from about 600 residents to more than 1,500 since World War II.

"What they are doing is similar to what I have read of the John Birch Society," said Harry A. Lovey, a complainant in a court action to oust the four members of the five-man board.

A recent entrant into the clash is the self-described educational and patriotic organization, Independence Hall of Chicago, which has promised to underwrite any financial loss suffered by the school and the four board members.

Truth on Tests Pierces Curtain

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The truth is great and shall prevail. A massive radio effort to tell the Russian people about the world's revolution at their government's nuclear testing apparently broke through intensive Soviet jamming Sunday.

The Voice of America (VOA), which sent the special Sunday punch on the airwaves, said preliminary reports indicated the Communists were unable to block most of the 50 frequencies used in the unparalleled broadcasts.

So far, the only news the Soviet citizens have received from their government about its nuclear tests was Premier Nikita Khrushchev's recent remark at the Communist party congress that Russia had exploded a bomb of more than 50 megatons.

They had not been told of the activity in the rest of the world, of the increase in radioactivity, of appeals from other countries for an end to the testing, of scientists' fear for the future of mankind.

Using the theme "Have You Been Told," the Voice abandoned its regular programming and began eight hours of almost continuous broadcasting about the Soviet nuclear tests at 6 p.m. Moscow time (11 a.m. in Pontiac) Sunday.

It used as many as 52 transmitters

generating some 4,331,000 watts to get the word to the Russian people in eight languages—English, Russian, Ukrainian, Georgian, Armenian, Lithuanian, Estonian and Latvian.

IST. UNANNOUNCED

The first English broadcast went unannounced. The second, in Russian, was jammed after 90 seconds. But VOA officials said the jamming was effective against only some frequencies.

There were no estimates on how many Russians might have been able to hear the broadcasts. VOA officials hoped, however, that those who did hear them would spread the word to their fellow Russians.

The VOA had been advertising the special programs in spot announcements for a week. The announcements gave full data on the time and broadcast frequencies.

While the advance notice would permit the Soviet government to step up its jamming, U.S. Information Agency Director Edward

R. Murrow decided that alerting prospective listeners outweighed this disadvantage because jamming is never completely effective. The special programs stressed to the Russian people the Soviet "duplication" in frustrating test-ban negotiations and then "polluting the atmosphere by protracted and monstrous nuclear blasting."

About 40,000 American men under age 65 are accidentally killed each year.

Britishers in U.S. for Conferences

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Mountbatten and Peter Thorneycroft arrived by air Sunday night from London to attend separate conferences in this country.

Mountbatten, Britain's first lord of the Admiralty, will attend a meeting of the Military Committee of the Central Treaty Organization.

Thorneycroft, British minister of aviation, will take part in technological discussions with Najeeb Halaby, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Diana Dors Recovers From Tragic Party

LONDON (UPI)—Shaped like a popped into an umbrella stand containing the evening's supply.

The British traditionally use fireworks and bonfires to celebrate the capture of Guy Fawkes, who tried to blow up Parliament 365 years ago.

The actress dived through a closed kitchen window to escape flames started by the fireworks. "I have never seen such panic," Miss Dors said. "People were going crazy. It was terrifying."

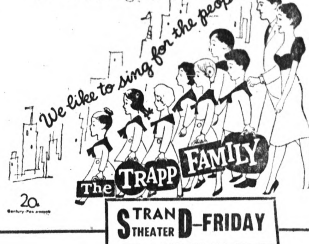

"There was a stampede. I backed away into the kitchen and dived through a window."

"I found myself standing on a lawn, my dress ripped to shreds and blood all down my right leg. I was driven to a hospital and they put seven stitches in."

Five other persons were injured last night when some police said.

Each Income Return to Get Once-Over by 1966

New Computer to Spot Tax Cheaters

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon today dedicated a modern electronic computer center, which by 1966 will give the once-over to the tax return of every American.

Dillon built the center in prepared remarks as a "grand stand" toward collecting all taxes owed Uncle Sam. He said the center would make life "far more difficult for the foolish few who are tempted to cheat or to evade."

This sum might come to $3 billion or more.

The National Computer Center, as the one-story, flat-roofed new $14.9-million building here is called, is the first center which will code information from a new automatic data processing system the revenue then magnetic tapes.

The tapes will be sent to the national computer center where they will be run through the electronic computer.

The actual returns will not go to Martinsburg. Nine regional service centers will code information from the returns on punch cards and then magnetic tapes.

The tapes will be sent to the national computer center where they will be run through the electronic computer.

TWO MAIN REASONS

—To make it physically possible to keep up with rapid growth in paper work Internal Revenue handles. The number of returns received by the service is expected to climb from this year's 85 million to 110 million in 1970 and 125 million in 1980.

—To crack down on tax cheaters, mainly those who under-report their income, claim refunds they are not entitled to and take excessive deductions.

Tougher enforcement will be accomplished by electronic means and also through the firing of agents from routine manual paperwork.

"The new technique will not demoralize our tax administration," Dillon said. "It will not be man against machine — the individual taxpayer versus a giant, impersonal monster that thrives only on numbers."

MEANS MORE HELP

Earlier, he said, IRS employees will have more time to give personal assistance to taxpayers who seek it.

The new system also will permit earlier mailing of refund checks and improve chances that a check will get to a taxpayer who has moved.

The center is scheduled to start checking business tax returns from seven Southern states in January. A year later it will also review individual returns from those states and business returns from the Middle Atlantic states.

By 1966, Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin predicted, returns of every

Margaret, Son Are Doing Well, Doctors Report

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret and her infant son spent a good day Sunday and the princess read some of 1,000 congratulatory messages that poured into Clarence House here.

The three doctors who attended the royal birth visited Margaret Sunday night and said she and the new Viscount Linley were progressing well.

Official sources said no further progress reports were anticipated for the time being, although the doctors will continue to pay routine visits.
