Three Tornadoes Smash Wichita Falls, Texas

No More Gloom in Waiting Room

Pontiac Press Photos

Bright Change Found in New Hospital Lobby

The first-floor lobby, opened this week in the new addition, is about 70 feet long and 60 feet wide. From acoustical ceiling to tiled floor (an off-shade of blue), it's a welcome change from the former hallway waiting room in the original building.

Hospital visitors will find the information and the switchboard across the lobby from the entranceway. The admissions office is just behind information.

Ray Goff Freed in '55 Killing

Behind the 36-year-old motorcycle racer and factory worker were memories of a 1955 shooting in which his ex-girl friend died, two years in Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane, and the past three months in the county jail.

"I'm awfully sorry for what happened," said Goff, "and am glad the way it all turned out."

He said he would return to Flint and seek a factory job. "I might even go back to racing," he said.

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty granted Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem an order which dropped the first-degree murder charge against Goff and admitted him to freedom.

He had been charged with killing Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, back in August of 1955 after the woman had spurned his love.

Four psychiatrists ruled him insane following the shooting. He was sent to Ionia where he remained until last December. The murder charge awaited him upon his release.

Upon Judge Doty's suggestion, Ziem asked for the order on the grounds that another trial would be at "a needless and fruitless expense to this county."

A jury last month was dismissed by the judge when they could not return a verdict after three days of deliberation.

Antirecession Highway Bill Passes House

Expect Senate to OK $1.8 Billion Measure Sometime Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a compromise $1,800,000,000 antirecession highway construction bill.

The Senate seemed likely to approve the measure promptly and send it to the White House before Congress starts a 10-day Easter recess later today.

House passage was by roll call vote.

Previously the House defeated 222-109 an attempt to send the bill back to a Senate-House conference committee for further consideration

Major difference between the original Senate and House versions was inclusion by the Senate of a provision intended to curb erection of billboards along interstate highways. This provision was retained in the compromise.

House rejection of the compromise would have precluded further action on the measure until April 14, when the congressional Easter recess starting later today ends.

Car Hits Pole on Orion Road

Rochester Youth, 16, Killed; Driver Held

A Rochester youth, who faced possible loss of his driver's license next week, wrecked his car last night, killing one of five passengers.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. is holding Frederick W. Swords, 17, of 737 Ludlow St., for investigation of negligent homicide.

Swords failed to negotiate a curve on Orion road, in Oakland Township at 11:10 p.m., and hit a utility pole.

His car struck the pole and turned over, crushing Gary Bridge, 16, of 138 Glendale St., Rochester, who was thrown clear of the wreck. Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bridge, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The secretary of state's office had already sent Swords a warning letter about his driving record last year and had scheduled a hearing on April 11 to decide whether to revoke his license to drive.

Swords' traffic record for last year included four convictions for speeding and one for reckless driving.

Another passenger, Charles Crissman, 15, of 1126 N. Main St., Rochester, suffered a broken left leg and multiple bruises.

Swords, son of Helen C. Swords, was treated for a bruised knee and turned over to Sheriff's officers. He made a statement last night to Assistant Prosecutor James Roberts in which he said little except he had missed the curve.

He did not reveal his speed.

Deputy George Ennis, who answered the accident call, said the boys in the car told him they had heard a friend boast he had taken the same curve at 80 miles an hour. Ennis said he measured 350 feet of skid marks.

Other Rochester boys in the car were: Eric W. Semble, 15, of 520 Ludlow, cut right hand; Robert E. Ott, 15, of 248 W. Tienken Rd., minor shoulder injury; and Harold Braun, 16, of 2781 Rochester Rd., back sprain.

Coastal New England and California Battling Flood Waters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three portions of the nation are reeling today under the impact of tornadoes, storms and floods.

In Wichita Falls, Tex., three tornado funnels whirled a deadly pattern yesterday. One man was killed, two were missing and hospitals listed 13 injured.

The twisters demolished or damaged 175 homes and business houses.

Coastal New England counted its damage losses in the millions and kept a wary eye on the Atlantic which was expected to flood beachfronts and pound over sea walls again today.

In a special bulletin, the Weather Bureau said tides would run from one to three feet above normal from Portland, Maine, to Nantucket, Mass. and that rough seas and pounding surf would continue.

California was declared a disaster area by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight as fresh storms hammered the coast, blizzards pounded the Sierra Nevada area and flood dangers appeared increasing.

An estimated 5,000 persons have been evacuated from their homes by the floodwaters. Earth and snow slides added further damage and stranded two trains.

WARNING IGNORED

In Texas last night, sirens wailed a warning that was largely ignored. Hundreds braved torrential rain and hail in the streets to watch the tornadoes. Many waited until the funnels were almost upon them before diving for shelter.

One funnel struck from the northwest, counter to the path generally taken by tornadoes, and narrowly missed the downtown area. A second hit a residential area west of the city and the third struck suburban Deandale, eight miles to the east.

At the same time, twisters dipped around north Texas and set off alarms at a number of towns. There was some damage, but no injuries. Much of Texas

Presses State for Welfare Aid

Rep. Anderson Seeks Return to 50-50 Split With Counties on Cost

A last-ditch stand was to be made today in Lansing by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R.-Waterford Township) to have the state return to its previous 50-50 split with counties on welfare costs.

But Anderson said chances of shifting from the present 70-30 per cent (counties now carry the heavier load) agreement were "very, very faint."

Blockage to such a change has been thrown up by the "hold the line" financial policy of the House Ways and Means Committee, he said.

"It would cost the state $9,000,000 in the next fiscal year if the 50-50 split was returned," Anderson said, explaining the opposition's thinking.

He said he would try again today to tack on an amendment to an appropriation bill to bring about the new agreement. "If we don't make it this time," he said, "the move will be dead for this session."

If so, it would come as a serious jolt to Oakland County officials who had hoped to ease their dwindling money situation by having the state up its share of soaring welfare costs here and elsewhere.

Easter Bunny: Take Note! Buy Now, Buy Cheaper

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Easter Bunny can be thrifty this year — if he stocks up quick.

The Agriculture Department reports that he'll be able to take advantage of plentiful supplies of white eggs available now. Prices have been dropping considerably but may climb locally with bigger demand this week.

A department poultry expert advised housewives (who may be helping the rabbit with his shopping) to buy the size of eggs their families like best. He said large sizes are most economical now, but small ones are better suited to children's appetites.

City Churches to Mark Christ's Hours on Cross

Christians around the world will gather in churches tomorrow for the traditional Good Friday religious rites commemorating the death of Christ on the Cross.

Many churches will hold Communion services tonight, Maundy Thursday, in remembrance of the first Lord's Supper, instituted by Jesus the night before His crucifixion.

The Annual Good Friday Services under the auspices of the Pontiac Pastors' Association will be held from noon to 3 p.m. in Central Methodist Church.

The Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. John Lutheran Church will preside for the first hour, with the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church reading the Scripture.

Presenting the first words of Christ will be the Rev. D. D. McColl, president of the association.

MANY TO SPEAK

Other pastors giving meditations on "The Seven Last Words" will be Dr. Joseph I. Chapman of Bethany Baptist Church, Rev. Paul T. Hart of First Methodist, Rev. J. Allen Parker of Newman AME Church, Rev. Wayne E. Welton of the Parkdale Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Edmond Watkins of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian and the Rev. Calvin E. Rice of Central Methodist Church.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will preside during the second hour, and Dr. Milton H. Bank, of Central Methodist, the third hour.

The three organists will be Lyndon Salathiel, Charles A Wilson and Mrs. W. Henry Sink.

Maundy Thursday Communion and reception of members is scheduled for 7:30 tonight in First Congregational Church. The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton will preach.

The Women's Fellowship of First Congregational will hold the annual Good Friday Breakfast at 9:30 a.m. The Youth Group will present the play, "Dust of the Road" at 7:30 p.m.

PLAN JOINT SERVICE

First Christian and Bethany Baptist churches will observe a joint service from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. Friday at First Christian Church with Dr. Joseph I. Chapman preaching and the Rev. D.D. McColl, the host.

The color film, "I Beheld His Glory," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church auditorium. This is the story of the last days of Jesus.

"He Died That We Might Live" will be the topic of the meditation at 7:30 p.m. Friday by the Rev. Carl W. Nelson in St. John Lutheran Church.

The Rev. C. George Widdifield, rector, will speak during the Tre Ore service at All Saints Episcopal Church Friday. A special children's service for grades 1 to 6 will be held in Stevens Hall auditorium from 2 to 3 p.m.

On Easter Eve, a service of Holy Baptism will be held at 5 p.m.

Maundy Thursday Communion Service will be at 7:30 to-

Sir Winnie Flies Back to London; Looks Pale, Thin

He waved aside assistance after being helped from the car but he walked slowly, with a cane in one hand and a cigar in the other. He looked pale and his face lacked its old fullness.

About 300 persons saw him off. Churchill was accompanied by his wife, Lady Churchill; his personal secretary, Anthony Montague Browne; and his Scotland Yard bodyguard, Sgt. Edmond Murray.

WASHINGTON (INS) —President Eisenhower may name an administration "watchdog" to direct U.S. policy moves aimed at taking the sting out of Russia's Cold War propaganda offensive.

Rain May Follow Warmth and Clouds

A little warmer and partly cloudy is the prediction for Pontiac tonight and tomorrow. Tonight's low will be near 35.

Scattered showers are possible Friday and again Monday, with little rainfall. Tomorrow's high will be around 56-60.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature recording before 8 a.m. was 35 degrees. The mercury rose to 56 at 2 p.m.

Batista Tells Workers to Kill to Stay on Jobs

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — President Fulgencio Batista's government today authorized workers to kill if necessary to stay on their jobs when rebel leader Fidel Castro issues his long threatened call for a general strike.

The order—one of three of the harshest decrees in the history of the Cuban republic—was issued by Batista and his Cabinet after an all-night meeting.

A second decree barred any judge from issuing a ruling against a government official or agency or against any government or legal opposition leader. Judges who failed to obey would be immediately dismissed.

The third order said any employer who ordered work stoppage of any kind could be jailed up to six months.

But the government may be faced with a more immediate problem today. Rumors spread througout Havana yesterday that the government would use its emergency powers to freeze all bank deposits.

A panicky run on the banks that could cause a financial crisis was considered likely although Batista vigorously proclaimed last night that private bank funds are "untouchable."

All government ministers were authorized to issue licenses to bear arms to Cuba's 160,000 public employes and all other workers. The decree absolved workers of criminal responsibility for any steps they thought necessary — including killing — to prevent being forced into joining a strike.

The government also decreed that anyone joining a general strike would lose his job permanently. When this penalty was first applied in 1935 it quickly broke a general strike.

Despite solid support of labor union leaders for Batista, rebel leader Fidel Castro claims that workers are secretly organized to follow him. He has threatened that if his rebellion succeeds, he will try for treason any officials who keep working after his strike call is issued.

Two columns of Castro's rebels were reported moving toward Santiago, attacking communications as they advanced.

Carrying Christ's Burden Brought Rich Reward

Cyrenian's Life Changed When He Took Up Cross

(The third in a four-part series on minor characters in the Easter drama, this is story of Simon, who without plan or warning suddenly found himself intimately involved in Jesus' final hours).

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religious Writer

Like many another tourist, Simon saw the martial procession coming down the hill from the Fortress Antonia. Curious, he stopped to watch it. He could make out three prisoners, each carrying a heavy wooden beam.

It seemed queer—a hanging in the holiday week. Simon shrugged, worked the betel nut in his jaw, and spat.

He was a giant of a man, dark of skin, with a proud, erect stance. His massive hands were callused, and he had the sun-crinkled eyes of a farmer. But his turban and mantle were of finest woven wool.

He came from Cyrene, in Libya's fertile, coastal hills where he and his sons, Rufus and Alexander, raised great fields of cotton. Marketing business may have brought him on his trip to Jerusalem.

From up the street, the formation approached slowly, led by a Roman herald bearing the decree of execution.

Neither of the other two men, both burly, vicious-looking ruffians, showed any signs of a flogging. Only the one appeared gravely hurt and weakened. Red stains soaked the back of His robe.

DETERMINATION UNDIMMED

Yet, with all the marks of abuse and injury, there was about Him a formidable strength. He was broken, crushed, but somehow, still relentlessly determined in His walk to doom. Simon felt a surge of admiration.

SIMON OF CYRENE

Then, just as the prisoners came abreast of Simon, the Nazarene stumbled on a jutting cobblestone and pitched forward on the pavement. The board slammed against His back.

A soldier cursed. Another one, muttering, slid the board free, and the centurion came running up to get the prisoner back on His feet. Once up, the officer surveyed Him dubiously and shook his head.

SIMON CHOSEN

Then his irritated gaze swept the crowd. Simon stood out, a natural physical specimen for a heavy load. The centurion jabbed a finger at him—"You!"

Simon eyed the soldier warily. He didn't like jumping to Roman commands. Then he glanced at the battered prisoner, and that puzzling attraction, another sort of command, rang in him.

He wiped his lips and strolled over beside the crossbeam. With a quick, easy dip of powerful arms, he swung it to his shoulder. Then he turned and for the first time his eyes met those of Jesus.

It was only an instant, but to Simon it held an eternity of affection received. Those eyes, despite all the man's mistreatment, swam with a strangely rich animation, with a deep knowledge and immense love.

At a barked order, the procession resumed, and Simon stepped along beside the prisoner, hardly aware of the weight on his shoulder. It seemed light as straw, and he couldn't shake off a baffling sensation. He had an urge to thank this condemned man Jesus, for the chance to carry the beam.

It just didn't make sense, this feeling he had of being especially good and worthy, because he walked with this man to Calvary.

Jesus walked more steadily now, and Simon heard Him sigh with relief. It was about six furlongs (three fourths of a mile) out to

'Man Will Know Ecstasy Inundated in God's Love'

(Editor's Note: This is the final article in a series on Heaven, written by local residents and compiled by Mary Anglemier, Pontiac Press church editor.)

By REV. MICHAEL J. O'REILLY

"I believe in the resurrection of the body and in life everlasting."

In this short sentence we find the almost universal conviction of man. True, many had different concepts of it, but all agreed generally on one thing—man is indestructible.

The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Michael's Church for 24 years, is also known as a pianist and a composer of both religious and non-religious music. In September 1957, he was honored by the Altar, Holy Name and Ushers' Societies for his 35 years in the priesthood.

Man himself was led to this conviction when he considered who and what he is. The holy men of the Old Testament expressed it, as God's revelation to the Jewish people.

In His teachings, Jesus Christ, the son of God, makes it very clear that death is not the end of everything. He warns us, time and time again, that life hereafter will be one of everlasting happiness for the just and everlasting misery for the evildoer.

I am asked to express what I may expect in eternal happiness. My answer is simple:

In Heaven I know I shall be infinitely happy in the possession of God. No one will be able to remove this happiness from me. This possession of God will be made perfect by the bond of perfection—charity.

GREATEST IS CHARITY

St. Paul tells me: "Now there abides Faith, Hope and Charity, these three; but the greatest of these is Charity." (I Cor III:13)

Faith, I believe, will give place to possession; Hope will be fulfilled; but Charity endureth forever. Participant in the great love He has for me in my creation, in my redemption I shall be inundated in a love that is indescribable. In Heaven, I know, there will be no fear.

In Heaven there will be no sickness, no hardships, no trouble, no minorities, no hate, no injustice, no sin.

In Heaven I shall be known as I am known; joined together with those whom I have known on earth and with countless millions, who have by their devotion to God on earth, are now with me in Heaven.

Love, eternal love, will bind us together for eternity. Heaven is the possession of Almighty God forever and forever. I'm home.

In Heaven, I shall look back and consider the effort I had to make on earth very little, in comparison with the happiness I now enjoy.

In Heaven I shall know more fully the meaning of the Apostle St. Paul when he wrote, "Eye hath not seen nor ears heard, neither has it entered the heart of man what things God hath prepared for them that love Him." (1 Cor. 11:9)

Rome Feels Quake

Carrying Cross Changed His Life

No record tells what conversation passed between Simon and Jesus on that somber walk together, but it is possible that they spoke, that Jesus explained his lone, wonderful, terrible mission to the world.

"I am the good shepherd . . . I lay down my life for the sheep." A farmer would understand such language. ". . . I lay down My life, that I may take it again . . . He who believes in Me, though he die, yet shall he live again."

They reached the hill.

The prisoners were stripped, and laid on their backs while their outstretched arms were nailed to the crossbeams. These were then hoisted to the stakes, the beams lashed in place, and the victims' feet nailed to the stakes.

Simon could help Jesus no more. The hours of torture began—the crawling, creeping, muscle-cramping, lung constricting horror of crucifixion—the slow death of pain—one of the cruelest forms of execution ever devised.

Loud were the taunts. Bitter the mockery. And Jesus implored "Father, forgive them . . ." The soldiers gambled, and the crowd gawked. "My God, my God . . ." The sky turned black and the earth shook. "It is finished!"

Slowly Simon turned and walked away. The big African would never be the same again. His strong arms had taken him into the embrace of stronger arms still.

In the years afterward, Simon from Cyrene labored with Jesus' apostles, as did his two sons. He had discovered, suddenly and without plan, that life's greatest compensation came when he took up a cross and followed Jesus.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Do you know why the first big drops of a thundershower are usually so widely scattered? Have you ever noticed this at the beginning of a thundershower?

The first drops of a thundershower, falling from the summer cumulonimbus, must fall through a very strong updraft, which is always present in the leading edge of the thunderstorm. Most of the drops are caught up in this updraft and carried far aloft.

The bigger, heavier raindrops fall through the rising wind currents, but only the largest are heavy enough to maintain their downward fall, against the wind. Therefore, standing on the ground, or on pavement, you will notice that the first big drops are widely scattered and probably the largest raindrops which will fall during the thunderstorm.

Many of the others are carried upward to the freezing level and frozen into hail. Only occasionally does this hail survive in frozen form until it strikes the ground.

The Day in Birmingham

3 to Vie for City Posts in Election Here Monday

BIRMINGHAM — Voters in Birmingham Monday will elect two of three candidates to City Commission posts.

Seeking commission seats are incumbent Harry Denyes Jr., John J. O'Gorman Jr., a former commissioner, and William Merrill, a member of the City Planning Board.

All stress the need for long-range city planning in their pre-election statements.

Denyes, who is seeking his second 3-year term, cited the more than 250 acres of park area the city owns as evidence of foresightedness of past officials.

And, he adds: "We have, by most standards, a clean, safe and well run city. It is a healthy place in which to live and raise a family."

But there is always room for improvement, he said.

"We must at all times maintain consistent policies of building code and zoning enforcement. We must strive to keep our streets safe and up-to-date."

O'Gorman was elected to the commission in 1949 but was forced to retire temporarily because of illness. He served 20 months.

Birmingham should be in a position to assume leadership in regional planning, O'Gorman said.

There are too many agencies preparing plans, he said, adding expense through duplication of efforts. Only through close cooperation can this be avoided, he said.

Merrill is the third city Planning Board member to seek election to the commission. The other two have been successful.

Birmingham needs a "blueprint for the future and a guide for day-to-day living," he said.

"The plan should be flexible and subject to periodic review, and revision when required by new developments," Merrill said.

"Such a plan would help the city to solve the dilemma of providing its present services, and additional services which may be necessary in the future, without increasing tax rates."

With the annual Community House Roll Call completed, Mrs. Robert F. Watt, chairman, announced a total of $38,500 received, $11,500 below the goal set. She said some contributions are still coming in and urged those who had not yet contributed to mail checks to the Community House.

"There is one that is most interesting," she said, "A gift received from a Birmingham couple now in Germany. They told us that no matter where they were they could not forget the Heart of Birmingham."

Members of the Senior Men's Club will not meet tomorrow due to Good Friday observances in the city. The Tuesday - Friday schedule will be resumed next week.

J. Rowland Quinn

J. Rowland Quinn, 67, who died last night at his home, 963 Knox St., Birmingham, will be buried Saturday at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Detroit, following a blessing at Holy Name Church at 9:30 a.m.

Requiem Mass will be sung at 9 p.m. Monday at the church, and the Rosary will be recited at 8:30 tomorrow evening at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

A retired civil engineer, Mr. Quinn was a graduate of Michigan State University. He was a member of the Oakland County Engineering Society and the Holy Name Society.

Surviving are his wife, Lenore; a daughter, Mrs. Stuart A. Fraser III of Grosse Pointe; and two sons, Dr. James R. Quinn of Bloomfield Hills and Hugh C. of Detroit.

Tornadoes, Storms Smash Three Areas

Bill Hunter, Wichita Falls Record-News reporter, said of the downtown funnel: "It looked like a curtain had been lowered to just below the horizon.

"Then the funnel poked through the clouds. It was dark . . . dusky colored . . . charcoal black," he said.

A storm described as a tornado struck the southwestern Oklahoma community of Elgin, causing widespread damage. One man was bruised by the heavy hail.

FARM DAMAGED

Wiley Taylor, 55, a dairy farmer, was killed when his Deandale home collapsed around him.

The family of George Ogle of Wichita Falls said he had been missing since shortly before the tornado struck. Police identified the other missing man as J. J. Jay.

CHURNS ATLANTIC

The northeast storm yesterday churned the Atlantic into a fury.

Tides and crashing surf flooded coastal communities in Massachusetts and Maine, marooned hundreds of persons, undermined scores of cottages and business establishments, washed out roads and spewed debris, sand and boulders onto highways.

There was rain in southern New England and wet snow, up to 12 inches deep, in Maine.

The storm is the 18th to hit New England since December, and considered by many the worst spring storm in some 21 years.

In California, four persons died — two by drowning and two others in accidents attributed to the storm.

The Southern Pacific Railroad's streamlined City of San Francisco with 97 persons aboard was stranded in a snowshed near Donner Summit in the Sierra 165 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Two avalanches of snow buried a 22-car mail train on the track ahead, stalling the crack westbound passenger train which followed. All 25 on the mail train got out but two trainmen were injured.

The "City," en route from Chicago to San Francisco, was hung up just three miles from where it was stalled in snow for days in 1952.

Some 200 persons were stranded in the mountain chain that runs along the state's western boundary — 150 of them at Donner Summit Lodge. Many of them were skiers.

Rotary snowplows battled to keep open one lane of the only remaining east - west highway link across the Sierra, U.S. 40. State highway employes said that if they failed, it would take days to reopen the road.

Fencing Jungle in South Africa Poses Problem

PRETORIA, S.A. — How to fence in South Africa's huge Kruger National Park where wild animals live in their natural state, is a problem yet unsolved, according to Rocco Knobel, director of national parks.

Some have urged an electrified fence. "To make such a fence effective," he said in Pretoria, "the electric voltage would have to be so high that it would be a danger to both animals and humans.

We're trying to find a suitable type of fence. For an elephant-proof fence we would have to use steel cables. Then, small animals have to be considered, so the wires must be fairly close together. And we can never build a fence high enough to keep kubu inside, if they want to get out."

He scoffed at the idea of having helicopters hovering around to spot poachers. "It's impossible," he said.

Dr. J. E. Froelich, one of the top scientists responsible for the baby moon Explorer, spends most of his spare time playing gin rummy.

Plants Move; Not Propaganda

Slowly Mr. John Q. Public is coming to the realization that something is definitely wrong with Michigan's economic climate.

This is understandable even after the repeated warnings. Until this fact reaches home or affects John Q.'s pocketbook, he is not conscious of what is happening.

Governor WILLIAMS' repeated cry of "political smear" is gradually beginning to raise a question in the minds of the man on the street. With today's unemployment, some are questioning Michigan's economic climate.

It would certainly seem that it was open for discussion since the trend of industry is to move out, rather than establish new business in Michigan.

A recent case which has set a small community of 400 people back on its heels is Hamburg, a small town north of Ann Arbor. Their principal industry, the Brown-McLaren Manufacturing Company, closed its machine products plant March 31. The plant employed 125 people, nearly one-third of the wage earners in Hamburg.

Townspeople expressed the view that it was like rolling up the sidewalk and closing the town. Morris Bond, president, had this to say: "Higher taxes, increasing unemployment compensation costs under the present administration are squeezing us out."

Chrysler and GE have both let it be known that they were not happy with Michigan taxes. Daisy Air Rifle Company of Plymouth has already expressed its views by announcing to leave the state.

Gradually the cold facts are beginning to register with Mr. Public. He is raising the question that maybe this "unhealthy economic climate" needs some study. We agree.

CAA Must Act Now to Prevent Air Crashes

Air regulations for both civilian and military aircraft are of utmost importance and should be enforced by severe punishment. Too many innocent lives are at stake just to treat the violators with a stern word of warning.

This point became quite clear over the weekend in both Detroit and New York. The New York incident involved a commercial transport with 60 passengers which was forced to dive steeply to avoid hitting a twin engine plane.

An area over northwest Detroit received some hazardous buzzing from an Air Force pilot apparently devoid of any good judgment. In both cases probably the offenders did not realize the seriousness of the case at hand.

Unless proper and drastic action is taken to guard against this type of carelessness, many innocent lives will be lost unnecessarily.

This newspaper feels that the pilots responsible in the above mentioned cases should be immediately grounded and a full investigation carried out by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

With the newer and faster commercial jet transport service just months away, it becomes increasingly important that airplanes, whether military or civilian, follow strict flight patterns.

Colleges Are Found Meeting a Challenge

American colleges and universities are not being pressured by certain special interest groups, reports the New York Times. These findings come from a special report by more than 150 alumni magazines throughout the country.

"American Education 1958" is the report that points out today's colleges and universities are rapidly moving ahead to meet the challenge. The report shows that new construction for higher education will reach $1,078,000,000 and professorial salaries are reaching new highs.

The report also discovered the old caricature of the absent-minded professor is fast becoming a thing of the past. His role in fostering a trained, intelligent graduate has acquired appropriate dignity.

The Man About Town

Our First Fences

But Few Examples of the Original Methods Remain

England: A nation whose least worry is its debts to USA, and greatest is who's to marry Maggie.

A relic of pioneer days, within sight of thousands of people every day in the Pontiac area, is noticed by very few of them. It is the old fashioned rail fence on the west side of the Dixie Highway as it goes over Waterford Hill. Being on a curve, most drivers are not watching for fences in such a situation.

It is not one of the first used staggered rail fences, but is held in place by posts. A few rods of the staggered type, recently erected for publicity purposes, are beside the same highway, but that over Waterford Hill was built for the original use of fencing, and brings back recollections to old-timers.

The staggered rail was the first fence used by our pioneers. Trees from our primeval forest were felled, and cut into logs of 12 to 16 feet in length. Then by the use of sledges, mallets and wedges these were split into rails by sheer man muscular effort.

The rail splitter generally was the neighborhood strong man. My first recollection of such a man in the Pontiac area was who had muscle and sinew that was marvelous, and an endurance that kept with him into his old age. He would pound out 100 rails per day, at a charge of about one cent each. He was tall and spare, and even looked like whom every school child has learned was a rail splitter.

Line fence disputes were a major trouble among our forefathers. The law specified that a rail fence must be "horse high and hog tight." When the lower rails rotted away by their contact with the ground, and the fence no longer was horse high, new rails were placed on the top. It was a never ending process.

There were so many disputes that the township office of "fence viewer" was an important one. It was he who settled the arguments which often had developed into neighborhood feuds, and led to fisticuffs and assault and battery. Oakland County records show that one such dispute led to murder.

Oakland County Probate Judge
Arthur E. Moore

feels that the teen-age clubs throughout the county are doing a magnificent job in keeping our juvenile delinquency rate below that of other areas.

"Tell Me When You See a Soft Spot, Old Friend"

David Lawrence Says:

Officials Playing Into Reds' Hands

WASHINGTON — A "cold war" is going on, and the enemy is the Soviet Union. Isn't it just as much treason to "give aid and comfort" to the enemy in a "cold war" as it is in a "hot war"?

LAWRENCE

Who, therefore, is giving the Communists aid and comfort today by portraying the government of the United States as weak, confused, inept and unable to command the support of the American people?

BLOW DEALT

The answer to that question is not revealed in Moscow, but a dispatch from there by the United Press tells of the belief held by the Soviet government that the government of the United States has been dealt a severe blow by the latest proposal to suspend nuclear tests. Here is the dispatch:

"Pravda told its readers today that the Soviet decision to ban atomic tests had favorably impressed the average American and thrown official Washington into confusion.

"Summing up Western reaction to Foreign Minister Gromyko's statement Monday on the cessation of tests, the Communist Party organ said it is already obvious that it 'made a tremendous impression on ordinary Americans who now know how to evaluate the facts and draw conclusions from them.'

SHARPEN CONFUSION

"The paper said that 'hasty statements which State Department representatives are currently making only sharpen the confusion and embarrassment now prevalent in official circles in the American capital.' "

In many quarters, even before the American government's point of view could be comprehensively presented by the President and the secretary of state, some news dispatches told of how certain members of Congress were already saying the Soviets had achieved a great propaganda victory and criticizing the administration for not having long ago made a similar proposal.

There seemed to be a sort of rejoicing in certain quarters that the Soviet foreign minister had made the spectacular move which might embarrass the United States.

In fact, some politicians promptly rose to belabor the administration for not having done the same thing much earlier, and there were pointed references to proposals along somewhat similar lines made by the Democratic leaders in the last presidential campaign. This was welcome news to Moscow.

DEFEND GOVERNMENT

Is it more important to gain a partisan political advantage in America than it is to defend the government of the United States in one of the most dangerous periods of the propaganda battle that's going ton today?

The theory that it's all right to take the Soviet side of the argument in a "cold war" may seem to some politicians expedient, but the American people do not feel happy to see anybody taking the Communist side of the argument when it is so transparently phony.

The secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, in his Tuesday press conference, eloquently told why the United States cannot and will not play the tricky, deceitful kind of propaganda game that the Communists do. He said:

"We operate, as is visible right here, in terms of a free and independent and highly intelligent press. If I came before you with something that was a phony, you would recognize it in a minute and tear it apart publicly.

"We operate in terms of an opposition political party, which is alert and prepared to expose, here at home and for reporting abroad, anything which does not seem to be thoroughly sound.

"We operate in terms of an American public opinion which is highly intelligent and properly critical of its government—when I say 'critical' I don't mean necessarily antagonistic, but which holds government up to high standards.

"And we operate with allies who have to be consulted—they are not just dummies that we can lay down the law to, like the Soviet satellites are."

The President carried the argument a step further.

"I don't think we are being negative when you are firm but are standing on what you believe to be the truth, the facts, and the welfare of the free world, including specifically the welfare of the United States."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Want to Sleep Like Baby? – Just be Kind to Others

"I wish you could tell me how I can go to sleep and stay asleep when I go to bed. I have a hard time getting to sleep and then I wake up around 3 a.m. and can't get back to sleep. (L.F.W.)"

DR. BRADY

Some errors of hygiene which may disturb sleep are: taking tea or coffee or smoking within three hours of bedtime; getting into bed with cold feet; committing a sin in the course of the day or failing for unworthy reason to be just or give moral encouragement to a human being who is subject to discrimination because of creed, color or national origin.

A good conscience enables one to "sleep like a baby." Instead of reviewing unworthy schemes that you failed to put over, dwell on the comfort, relief, assurance or happiness your kindness has brought to this or that person or family today.

If your feet are cold, toast them and wear thick wool socks in bed.

Do the BB exercise when you get into bed. For instructions, send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the booklet Belly Breathing.

ACTION NEEDED

White - collar workers, flabby ones who ride when they might better walk, and unenlightened Americans who just sit on their ischial tuberosities watching professionals play, when they should be playing the game or at least doing something themselves, are most likely to suffer from insomnia.

Being poorly advised by the trick specialists, they take bromides, barbiturates, tranquilizers, hypnotics, narcotics, liquor or what have you, with uniformly unsatisfactory results.

What they need is a good daily ration of honest work, muscular labor or play, exercise, the equivalent of two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day, or maybe a brisk four or five mile walk every day.

Elderly persons need seven hours of sleep; young adults and 18-year-old youths, eight hours; children 12 to 14 years old, nine hours; younger children, 10 or 11 hours; babies up to four, 12 hours.

Sleep in whatever posture you prefer but use plenty of light covers for warmth and keep your bedroom window open for fresh air and safety, perhaps screened with unbleached muslin.

Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet How to Sleep Well.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Urges Parents Not to Buy Baby Animals for Easter

Most of the fluffy, dyed chicks, ducklings and bunnies placed in children's Easter baskets never survive the mishandling they receive. Fortunately, sale of baby animals as novelties and playthings is on the decline, and Detroit is one of the cities which have laws prohibiting it.

The Detroit law says it's unlawful to sell, offer for sale, barter or give away baby chicks, ducklings, rabbits or other fowls or pets, whether or not dyed, colored or artificially treated.

As parents, don't patronize people who ignore this law or buy such animals in localities that don't have the law. Let's remember Easter is a Holy Day which should be observed with kindness and mercy toward all forms of life.

'Let's Loosen Tight Money'

About a year ago our so-called brains in Washington shed crocodile tears about our dangerous boom prosperity. Interest rates were increased to avoid a bust. It worked then, but now why can't they loosen the Republican tight-money policy and get wheels turning again? People are in need, businesses are going bankrupt. Somebody do something.

'It's God's Garden; We're to Tend It'

I enjoyed Clean Yard Crusader. This earth is God's garden and we are put here to tend it. We maim our brothers (God's children), steal and destroy his property. We litter His highways, parks, city streets, etc. Wouldn't it be better if we worked for Him instead of against Him?

'Rush Tax Returns to Needy People'

'Mark Underpass to Save Lives'

'Why Not Remake the Whole Thing?'

May I suggest to the City Hall big domes that we quit observing Labor Day in Pontiac and celebrate Grasshopper Festival which is the third of October.

Labor Day is too near the Fourth of July and the Fourth of July is pretty close to Memorial Day.

Why doesn't the City Commission change fall, winter, spring and summer, too? They could give us two summers and no fall. Are any of those commissioners running for office again?

'He's Glad to See Judges Get Tough'

It was with a great deal of satisfaction that I read where Judge Paul E. Krause sentenced two members of the "teenage gang" to Jackson Prison.

It is certainly high time that judges hearing these cases take drastic steps. The real offenders, the parents, should have been punished also. It's a sad state of affairs when a teacher is beaten with a baseball bat when he tried to protect his small pupils from a gang of toughs on a school playground.

Parents and judges alike are going to have to recognize their responsibilities to society and be guided accordingly.

'Salary Scale Is Teachers' Fault'

Someone criticized the public for not paying experienced teachers more. That's the fault of teachers and school systems themselves. Until they quit hollering for increased minimums, they'll never get higher maximums.

The old argument is that it takes high starting pay to attract teachers.

Primarily, high minimums attract people in teaching for a short hitch, but those who plan to stick with it will forego high starting pay for more attractive maximums. We want those who'll stay, and if school systems are as interested in keeping them as they pretend to be, it's time they pay more of the money to good old-timers and less to pretty young things who'll quit after a few years anyway.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Thoughtfulness a Sign of Maturity

Teen-agers aspire to be grown up. But they often act like kindergarteners, for THOUGHTFULNESS is the true mark of mature adults. When we are thoughtless, that suggests juvenility and lack of experience. Take the "Thoughtfulness Test" below and then send for the longer booklet. It weeds out the real men (or women) from the kids.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X - 370: Mrs. Crane and I were driving downtown one Sunday where I was to teach my Bible Class at the Chicago Temple.

In Jackson Park, we saw an approaching car loaded with some teenagers. One of them tossed out an empty beer can.

DR. CRANE

The beer can sailed into the open window and struck the driver of the car ahead of me, who then swerved and almost had a wreck.

The thoughtless teenager didn't intentionally injure this driver. In fact, he didn't know he almost caused a wreck, for he was out of range by the time the beer can struck.

"He was very thoughtless," you may wisely decide.

And that is true, but people past 16 years of age should NOT be so thoughtless. For at 16, our brain and nervous system reach their adult capacity.

And it is a sign of true adulthood to be THOUGHTFUL.

It is typical of kindergarten kids to be THOUGHTLESS.

That's one reason why many state highways now have large signs posted along the berms warning drivers of a $100 fine for littering the roadway with beer cans or paper and other unsightly rubbish.

TEST YOUR FAMILY

As a little test right in your own family, try to weed out the thoughtless vs. the thoughtful by the following questions:

When you take a stick of chewing gum out of its paper wrapper, do you toss the paper on the street or put it in your pocket till you can get home to a waste-basket?

If you are given an advertising circular as you enter a ball park or downtown building, do you throw it on the sidewalk after you have scanned its contents?

When you are through with your chewing gum, do you spit it on the sidewalk or swallow it?

When you want to smoke at a restaurant, do you ignore the feelings of others and light up without asking if they object to your belched, second-hand smoke mixed with their soup or dessert?

And when you are through with a cigaret, do you let its stale, acrid smoke continue to pollute the air, or do you grind it out when you put it in the ash tray?

BATHROOM ETIQUETTE

When you splatter toothpaste over the bathroom mirror as you brush your teeth, do you wipe off the mirror or ignore the messy spots?

When you take a bath or shower, do you leave a ring around the tub or scum on the bottom thereof?

If you use a wash cloth, do you leave it hanging over the edge of the basin or neatly fold it and hang it on its accustomed rack?

When you change a razor blade, do you leave the old blade on the basin or dispose of it so nobody can be injured thereby?

And do you leave your used razor, uncleaned and wet after shaving?

Do you follow the Pullman car technique and clean the wash basin after you have used it, or leave it dirty and covered with loose hairs for the next person?

Do you burden your mother (or wife) unnecessarily by using too many towels or by employing them for a rug in the bathroom, thereby working grime into them so they are hard to wash?

Do you leave the newspaper on the floor after you have finished it? Or do you neatly reassemble it in proper order for the next reader?

Do you let your trousers or dresses get wrinkled by dropping them on a chair or even the floor at bedtime, instead of suspending them on hangers?

For further items, send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It contains a more complete test like the above, and is also great fun for party entertainment.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

15 Lose Driver's Licenses Within Pontiac Area

Fifteen residents in the Pontiac area had their driver's licenses revoked or suspended recently, according to the Michigan Secretary of State's office.

Those who had their licenses revoked because of habitual negligence and failure to appear for re-examination include: Betty Lou Harris, 207 Oliver St.; Emmitt L. Kneisley, 91 Fairgrove Ave., and Ronald J. Savage, 477 Irwin Ave., all of Pontiac, and Richard J. Armitage of Birmingham.

Five drivers were ordered to furnish financial responsibility for drunk driving. They were: Crit Carl May, 525 Whittemore St.; Dorsey A. Cochran and Frank Conrad, both of Drayton Plains; James L. Dunning of Holly and Henry H. Zeder Jr. of Orchard Lake.

Those with unsatisfied judgments who were ordered to furnish financial responsibility include: Lorenzo Farrar, 196 S. Saginaw St.; Johnny Lee Hamm, 207 W. South Blvd.; George L. Kitson, 53½ Union St., all of Pontiac; Eugene Hayes of Birmingham, William J. Jeffries of Rochester and Edward E. Wilson of Bloomfield Hills.

Sophie Tucker Credits Success to Loving

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — This is the era of psychoanalysis in show business. Every big-name entertainer is being depicted as either shy, sensitive, alcoholic or neurotic, with a skeleton in the dressing room. The comedians are allegedly manic-depressive at home, and the singers . . . but it's all too sordid.

Exclude, from this group, Sophie Tucker.

Miss Tucker is nothing like anybody else being interviewed today. She is abnormally normal and forthright. She is not excessively modest. Matter of fact, if the meek are to inherit the earth they'll have to fight it out with Sophie.

"I'm the last of the great entertainers left who made friends and kept them," she says. "I will go on and on and on in show business, and do you know why? Because the people love me. They love me. And I love people."

She is 70, and looks much the same as she did at 50, which is to say pink and round and healthy. "Health?" she bellows. "My health's wonderful. I don't indulge. I don't carouse. I drank with the boys in my time, and I gambled just like a man.

"I tasted everything. The cup went right to the brim. And when the time came to stop, I stopped. And I haven't had time to get old, dear. Too busy making people happy."

Miss Tucker doesn't feel sympathy for the neurotic newcomers to the world of show business she has dominated for 55 years.

"They're spoiled. Spoiled with this fast buck they're making. A singer puts out one record, and they say he's great. Next year you never hear of him again, and no wonder he's crazy. These youngsters today don't know what it is to go around and make friends like I do.

"Look at this." The mama of the red hots lugged a volume the size of the New York telephone book out of her desk. "Seven thousand names and addresses of my friends. Every time I'm going to their city, I write 'em and say come around and see me. They come and see me, and I go around and see them.

"These kids today," she snorts, "don't take time to get around and love their audiences. The result is that I'm booked ahead for the next four years—nobody in show business is booked as far ahead as I am—and they don't know what next year is bringin'."

Air Force Launches Bomarc Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force today test-launched a Bomarc guided missile—its most potent ground-to-air defense weapon and the nearest thing it has to an anti-missile missile.

It rose in a cloud of blown sand and smoke from the far end of the cape that juts eastward into the Atlantic.

Adviser to Seven Presidents

Baruch Is Seldom Wrong

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

The Senate Finance Committee has been given a chance to get some advice from a man whose advice was sought and heeded by seven presidents of the United States — from Wilson to Eisenhower.

The man, of course, is 87-year-old Bernard Mannes Baruch, the "elder statesman" who never ran for public office, the stock market millionaire who started out as a three-dollar-a-week brokerage clerk.

"Barney" Baruch, hard of hearing but mentally alert, told the Senate committee Tuesday Congress should consider raising rather than lowering taxes in order to help fight the recession.

There is "no cause for panic," said the white-haired witness, "if we use experience and common sense" in dealing with the economic downturn.

The fact that "experience and common sense" might dictate an unpopular move has never caused Baruch any hesitation. Do it anyway, he has insisted, and the people will come to realize you're right — and thank you for it.

The people long ago came to realize that Bernard Baruch was as frequently "right" as any human being could be. A picture of him sitting on a park bench has become a symbol of wisdom and selfless public interest.

Baruch was born on Aug. 19, 1870, in Camden, S.C., the son of Dr. Simon and Belle Wolfe Baruch. Eleven years later, the family moved to New York, where Baruch graduated from City College in 1889. The college's business school was recently renamed in his honor.

After college, he went to work on Wall Street. He plunged into the realm of high finance and mystic speculation and, by the age of 30, was a millionaire.

But his wealth taught Baruch that none of it was worth a cent if it wasn't spent wisely. He began giving it away to charity, medical research and education.

He went to Washington as a member of the Advisory Commission of of the Council of National Defense in World War I and became one of President Wilson's chief advisors — Wilson called Baruch "Doctor Facts."

And that was the beginning of his amazing contribution to the government and the people of the United States. His latest contribution probably won't be his last.

The United States continued to head the list of countries that bought from and sold to Turkey during 1957.

Mumps and Measles Decreasing in Area

There was a sharp decrease in the number of measles and mumps cases reported in the county and city last week, compared to the previous week, although a slight chicken pox increase still remained, according to Dr. John D. Conroe, health director.

Scarlet fever cases are fewer than a year ago. Last week eight cases were reported in the county and none in the city compared to 36 and 15 respectively the same time last year.

The following is a breakdown of the communicable diseases reported to the city and county health departments.

OAKLAND COUNTY

	Past Week	Prev. Week	Year Ago
Chicken pox	42	41	157
Measles	104	160	22
Scarlet fever	8	17	36

Atom Age Began in 1896

PARIS—The Atomic Age began in the laboratory of the Paris Museum of Natural History in 1896 when Henri Becquerel discovered the radioactivity of uranium salts. Two years later Pierre and Marie Curie discovered polloninum and radium.

Bob Considine Says:

Union Elections Stir Outrageous Demands

NEW YORK (INS)—Old Detroit hand, who knows his way around the newspaper and the union shops supplies me with a footnote to a recent series on the auto industry and the chief cause of some portion of its current migraine — Walter Reuther.

"In accounting for what makes Reuther run," he writes, "importance should be given to his short term of office. As I have heard him say quite often, you can't be a labor statesman when you have to stand for re-election every two years. Instead, you have to spend all your time running to stay where you are.

"Reuther said the term should be at least four years or even six. He might have added—but didn't in so many words — that to be returned to office a union officer must have victories even if he has to start a war to get one.

"The same situation applies at the local level. At Kaiser, where I became friendly with officers of the local, they used to explain that their outrageous demands were the most moderate they could offer and still retain office. The alternative was to see the more radical 'outs' elected with an even more outlandish platform.

"Yet these friendly realists 'bargained' the company out of any chance it might have had for survival by demanding and getting concessions which would have busted GM.

Perhaps if they'd have four-year terms they could have afforded to be constructive for the first two years. Likewise Reuther. But if he became reasonable just once under the present setup we'd get Mazey."

Emil Mazey, Canadian-born secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers, is considered by many to be much less conservative than Reuther who, in turn, has been called a radical.

Marie Aubuchon, the St. Louis editor who prays daily for the conversion of Khrushchev, gives us an interim report:

"I am not too worried about my friend Nikita. You see, I have learned that he was once a shepherd boy. Ever since Bethlehem, I believe God has a love for shepherds. They were the first to hear an angel's invitation to visit Christ.

So I think that even an ex-shepherd will find that he can't escape the love of God. The hill of power where Khrushchev stands must be just as cold and lonely as that hill in Bethlehem and an angel's song could be just as welcome, and the smile of the Child just as warm."

Man Must First Master Application of Hydrogen Fusion

Earth's Oceans Offer Cheap, Inexhaustible Power

By EVERETT S. ALLEN
New Bedford Standard-Times
Written for the AP
(third in series)

Once this particular application of hydrogen fusion is mastered—and some authorities predict it within 15 years—the oceans could provide enough cheap electricity to supply the world for a billion years.

Even the rivers and lakes of inland nations could be transformed into power producers by harnessed hydrogen fusion—thus spreading the benefits to every country on the globe.

To Americans caught in the cold war, however, the most important aspect of the international race for cheap power is that the United States presently is not leading the field.

There is considerable evidence to indicate that diplomatic courtesy rather than scientific justice brought about the joint U.S.-British announcement on hydrogen fusion. Non-government authorities in both countries have indicated the British scored a clear first in the controlled release of the H-bomb type of energy for eventual peaceful application.

It may be that other nations also are ahead of America in this field. Both the French and the Soviets are known to be working on it.

The process involves the fusing of four nuclei of hydrogen into one nucleus of helium.

A very high temperature is required, and some type of special "container" is needed to hold the gas after it has been raised to the temperature called for.

It has been estimated that temperatures of 370 million degrees centigrade would be required to establish a hydrogen "fire" that would be self-sustaining and give off more energy than was required to keep it going. This is more than 20 times the temperature of the sun's interior.

American experiments reportedly have reached temperatures as high as six million degrees. Sir John Cockcroft, Nobel Prize-winning director of the British atomic research establishment, has said Britain's efforts soon would surpass the sun's core temperature which he estimated at 15 million degrees.

The main problem, of course, is to find a suitable "container" for these tremendous temperatures. But it seems only a matter of time vast energy from the seas will power humanity's workshops.

Tomorrow: Food from the sea.

2 Newspapermen Win Polk Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—Two newspapermen who won Pulitzer Prizes in years past received 1957 George Polk Memorial Awards yesterday.

Relman (Pat) Morin of The Associated Press won the national reporting award for his eyewitness account of the Central High School integration riot at Little Rock, Ark., last Sept. 23.

The Polk awards are given by Long Island University in memory of the CBS correspondent killed in Greece 10 years ago.

Convicts Girl's Foster Parents

Prisoners in Minnesota Sent Her $15 a Month as 'Men's Club'

ATHENS (INS) — They broke the news gently to Anastasia Kollia, an eight-year-old Greek war orphan, that the foster-parents who had sent her money, food and clothes during the past year were the inmates of the Minnesota State Reformatory for Men.

They did it themselves in their monthly letter to the barefoot blonde little girl who lives in Mandra, a village outside Athens, with her widowed mother, three sisters and a brother.

They began by telling her about the myth of Achilles and how his mother had dipped him in the river Styx to make him invulnerable—all except the heel she held him by.

Then they explained that even these days strong men have their weak and vulnerable points—" . . . and that is why we are in prison here, in the United States," they wrote.

For a whole year Anastasia had believed the $15 she received monthly in food, clothes and cash, through the Foster Parents Plan for War Children, Inc., came from a men's club in St. Cloud, Minn.

$46.00 GODSEND

The $46.00 they sent her last Christmas was a Godsend to Anastasia and her mother who had never seen so much money in their lives.

Neither of them realized that this bonanza, like the $15 per month, had been painstakingly raised among the 900 inmates of the St. Cloud reformatory from the little they are allowed to earn for cigarettes and candy.

Anastasia's mother was the first to hear of their true identity.

An illiterate, she was unable to read the Greek translation the Athens office of the Foster Parents Plan had made of the letter from St. Cloud.

But a neighbor helped and, after the first gasp of stupefacation, she crossed herself devoutly and said:

"May the good Lord take pity on them and see to their early release. They must be good men or they would not think of others in their own misfortune."

Anastasia herself wrote her foster parents:

". . . at the beginning I could not well understand what you were telling me . . . then I started crying."

The little girl's letter then relates a story. Not a myth but the tragedy that overtook the Kollia family when her father, a war veteran who had been taken prisoner in World War II by the Italians and spent five years on a Sardinian rock pile, suffered a nervous collapse.

"In March 1955," she wrote, "I remember he took all our family . . . to a place where he was going to cut wood. That same night . . . he committed suicide and my mother found him in the morning, hanging from a pine tree.

". . . I remember all these things but I did not want to write you about them and make you unhappy, just the same way as you did not want to tell me you were in prison."

Anastasia ends on a note of hope with:

"The good Lord who had pity on me and sent me so many fathers to take care of me will have pity on you too, and you will soon go back to your families.

"I shall pray to Him every night."

Appoint 1st Female German Minister

BONN, Germany — West Germany has its first State Secretary in 46-year-old Frau Dr. Gabriele Wulker, a widow with three children. She is the Federal Republic's Minister for Family and Youth Affairs, in Bonn.

Frau Dr. Wulker is said to be well fitted by experience for the highest office that a woman has ever attained in the Republic She has studied sociology and been prominent in welfare work; she has published surveys on problems arising in connection with refugees and on family and population problems and has edited a magazine called Foreign Social Problems. Her husband was killed in 1943 during the war.

Ann Arbor Man Gives Low Bid on Road Work

A low bid of $64,732 from Max R. Frisinger of Ann Arbor has been submitted for the widening and resurfacing three-tenths of a mile of M15 near the intersection of M15 and U. S. 10, the State Highway Dept. has announced.

The bid was among other bids on 14 state trunkline construction jobs totaling $3,622,489.

Sen. Porter Displays Anger

Defends Education Budget

"I did not intend to speak . . ." he had begun. Then, clutching the microphone with both hands, the silver-haired little veteran of 22 years of legislative wars could say no more.

As main architect of the Republican austerity budget, Porter, a Blissfield farmer whose schooling ended with eighth grade, had risen to justify the GOP spending plan for higher education.

The strain and tension that gripped him spread through the Senate chamber. Senators twisted in their seats. The babble in the crowded gallery died into deep quiet.

Still no words. But finally they came — at first in a trickle as though he were short of breath.

PROUD OF SCHOOLS

"I am proud as any man in this state of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University," Porter said.

But he lit into Americans in general and schoolmen in particular who perhaps have "failed greatly" in providing for education.

"What disturbs me is not the dollars — it's the next generation of kids," he said.

Porter said the people "should wake up" and demand teaching of basics in grade and high school and stop expecting teachers to serve as baby-siters and foster parents.

And it's time to stop teaching "useless" courses at the college level, he said. He added he could think of 100 that gave no help toward earning a livelihood.

Porter, who has caught the brunt of criticism for Republican budgetmaking, told newsmen later he was "mad."

Old Faithful, Yellowstone's most famous geyser, spouts at almost regular intervals that occur approximately 60 minutes apart.

LET'S CUT PRICES — Elder statesman Bernard Baruch, speaking before the Senate Finance Committee, warned that a tax cut would be "folly." Baruch urged that prices be cut to cure the recession.

Indian Chief Enlightens Announcer on Feathers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Chief Evergreen and his Indian dancers had completed a routine on television when the announcer asked:

"Tell me, chief, are those Indian feathers in your bonnet?"

Indian Greeting Cards to Use Native Designs

CALCUTTA, India — Ever since the import into India of Christmas and other greeting cards was stopped, a few years ago, Indian manufacturers have been trying to fill the gap. Discriminating buyers now can find a widde variety, Calcutta reports.

The latest products, although not up to the standard of imported cards, are of fairly good quality. Recently, there has been a definite shift in their designs. Most now have a local bias. Among the sources are the art galleries and many cards bear reproductions of good artistic works.

Norway's King Olav V Plans No Coronation

OSLO —Norway's King Olav V, who succeeded his father, King Haakon VII, to the throne on the latter's death in September, has decided he will have no coronation.

Next summer he plans to make an official tour by automobile to Trondheim and there June 22 in Nidaros Cathedral during high Mass he will receive a solemn benediction. That is the date on which Haakon and the late Queen Maud were crowned in that church in 1906.

ARE YOU A UNITARIAN WITHOUT KNOWING IT?

Do you believe the Bible to be an inspiring human document, rather than the literal "word" of God.
Do you believe that there is no such thing as original sin, but that man is able to develop his character and his ethics?
Do you believe Jesus to have been a great religious teacher, rather than a god?
Do you believe that "religious truth" to be acceptable must be in harmony with the truth in every field, science included?
Do you believe in the brotherhood of man, and wish to join with others as they try to break down racial barriers?
If so, you are professing Unitarian beliefs.

To hear more about this, you are invited to attend a meeting at Community Hall, Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association, 761 W. Huron, at 8:00 P.M. Friday, April 4, or phone MAyfair 6-1114.

Scout-O-Rama to Be Giant Production at Walled Lake

Expecting Big Crowd at Show

Clinton Valley Council Scouts, Adult Leaders Planning Affair

By STAN BOK
Press Correspondent

WALLED LAKE — Twenty-four hundred Boy Scouts and 700 adult leaders, all active members of the Ottawa District, Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, are pouring their talents and energies into a giant production known as the Scout-O-Rama.

The event is expected to attract thousands of spectators to Walled Lake Senior High School on two successive days, April 26 and 27. The show will be continuous from 2 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, April 26, and from 2 to 6 p.m. the following day.

The 8th annual Scout-O-Rama, this year's production is expected to top all previous events from a standpoint of entertainment quality and educational value, according to Earl L. Gruber, general chairman.

A nine-act stage show featuring an all-Scout, hand-picked cast, will highlight the event.

The efforts of 1,600 Cubs, 700 Scouts and 100 Explorers will be represented in the finished product. All are members of Scout units in West Bloomfield Township, Keego Harbor, Novi Township, Walled Lake, Wolverine Village, Commerce, Milford, Farmington, Highland, South Lyon and White Lake Township.

Nearly every phase of Scouting will be covered by exhibits which will be set up in the school. Plans call for the erection of 45 booths.

Chairman Gruber, of Westacres in West Bloomfield Township, will be assisted by Fred Thompson of Walled Lake.

Other members of the Scout-O-Rama committee include Robert Newton of Orchard Lake, finance; Albert Krusac of Walled Lake, public relations; Lionel Easty of Commerce, physical arrangements and exhibits; Kenneth McBroom of Walled Lake, tickets and admission; John Samuelson of Four Towns, public service committee.

PROMOTING ELECTION SPIRIT—Wolverine Lake Village officials are hoping that this "dressed up" bulletin board in the Village Hall will inspire voters to turn out at the polls in the village election Monday. Checking the display to see that everything is in proper perspective is deputy clerk Mrs. Margaret Hart. The board includes an election notice, instruction ballots, a map of the village, explanation of absent voters law, a large sketch illustrating "The American Spirit" and several other items of civic interest. It is kept up to date by Village clerk John Finlayson and Mrs. Hart. Pontiac Press Photos

Says Careless Smoker Caused Fire in Home

Firmen said a fire started by a careless smoker in a living room chair caused $1,000 damages at the home of Ralph Lester, 449 N. Saginaw St. yesterday.

As Candidates for Proposed Southfield City Council

3 Seek to Get Names on Ballots

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three Southfield men have taken legal action in Circuit Court in an attempt to get their names on April 21 ballots as candidates for the proposed Southfield city council.

The men, Harry J. Lippman, of 23510 Samoset Trl., Paul L. McElwain, of 23570 Samoset Trl., and Charles A. Nagler, of 16369 Melrose St., charge in a suit filed Wednesday that their nominating petitions were illegally disqualified by the township's charter commission.

They seek a writ of mandamus to have their names put on the ballot. Numerous defendants named in the suit have been ordered to show cause April 7 before Judge George B. Hartrick why this writ should not be granted.

The defendants are the township of Southfield, the proposed city of Southfield, Fannie Adams, township clerk and assistant secretary of the charter commission, Thomas M. Costello, secretary of the commission and chairman in charge of elections, and eight charter commissioners.

Southfield residents will vote April 21 on members for a city council.

Lippman, McElwain and Nagler charge the commission with "many irregularities" in checking signatures on their petitions. They claim they had sufficient number of valid names to qualify for a place on the ballot.

Costello notified the three, the suit says, on March 31 that they had insufficient siguatures to qualify. This rejection was "improper and unlawful," the suit says.

Under the state law requiring signatures of one or not more than four per cent of resistered voters on nominating petitions, theirs contained more than enough valid names, the suit contends.

Break-In Reported at Bingley's Station

Bingley's Service Station, 1211 N. Perry St., was burglarized and an undetermined amount of change taken from a cigarette machine, it was reported to Pontiac Police yesterday.

The thieves gained entrance by breaking a pane of glass from the garage door. The cash register, which was unlocked, was also looted of change.

JOYCE SHIRLEY O'NEIL

Mrs. Violet O'Neil of Cheeseman street, Drayton Plains, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Joyce Shirley, to J. Clayde Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Christensen of Garland, Utah. The prospective bridegroom is a junior at the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, Ann Arbor. A September wedding is planned.

Boy, 6, Starts Fire in 3 Rooms of Vacant Home

Fast detective work by Assistant Fire Marshall Allen Tunny uncovered a youngster who set fire to a vacant home at 536 Orchard Lake Rd., yesterday. He proved to be a six-year-old boy.

According to Tunny, the boy broke into the large home, owned by Cy Owen, at 4 p.m. by breaking a window. He and his four-year-old sister went upstairs where the boy set fires in three rooms before fleeing.

The Pontiac Fire Dept. fought the blaze for half an hour. Damage was estimated at $300.

Tunny said the arson followed a growing pattern of such activities and cited the recent apprehension of a nine - year- - old who set fire to Longfellow School twice.

"Nationally, 60 per cent of all intentionally set fires are the work of juveniles with an increasing number under the age of 10," he stated.

400 Petitioning for Tax Relief

Residents of Bloomfield Plan Lansing Caravan to Protest Assessments

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Bloomfield Township Taxpayers Committee, formed at a recent mass protest meeting, Monday will present petitions carrying more than 400 signatures to Louis M. Nims, chairman f othe Board of Appeals, State Tax Commission, at Lansing, according to Mrs. Margaret Begovich, spokesman for the committee. The petitions ask for property tax relief.

The committee is making arrangements to line up a caravan of cars loaded with taxpayers to make the trip to the capital. Taxpayers will meet at Bloomfield Township Hall from 7 to 7:30 a.m. Moncay to form a caravan, Mrs. Begovich said.

Bloomfield taxpayers plan to meet a group of taxpayers from White Lake Township in the press room of the state Capitol to make a joint personal appeal Monday for property tax relief.

The two groups say they will explain their attitudes to Nims concerning recent assessment hikes in their townships.

White Lake Township taxpayers also will present petitions to Nims containing about 200 names. The petitions are a formal protest against increased property assessments and higher property taxes, they said.

A Bloomfield Township committee spokesman said efforts will be made to arrange a discussion with Gov. Williams.

Man Seriously Hurt in Auto Accident

ROYAL OAK—Walter R. Stairs, 37, of 126 W. Parent St., Royal Oak, is in serious condition today in the William Beaumont Hospital after his car was struck by another about 6:30 this morning at the intersection of 11 Mile road and Washington boulevard in Royal Oak.

The early morning sun blinded him and he was unable to see that the traffic signal had turned red, Charles Murphy, 32, of 1861 West Blvd., Berkley, told Royal Oak Police.

Murphy was driving east on 11 Mile, police said, and rammed into Stairs' auto which was headed north on Washington.

After making a statement, he was not held.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fifield, 3190 Rochester Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Warner of 2247 Lake Pleasant Rd., Attica, are the bridegroom's parents.

Best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Warner, brother and sister - in - law of the bridegroom.

As Lent Approaches Climax

Good Friday Rites Slated

With Lent approaching its climax, churches throughout the Oakland County area are preparing for solemn Good Friday services and triumphant Easter observances.

Catholic churches have scheduled traditional Tre Ore rites and Holy Saturday and Easter Masses.

Protestant denominations added special devotions and, in many churches, sunrise and other extra services.

Commerce Township

A communion service will be held at 8 p.m. today at Commerce Methodist Church.

Twenty-eight members of a special Easter class will become official church members at tonight's service. The Wesleyan choir will sing the Communion service.

Good Friday services, based on meditations of the seven last words of Christ, will be held from 1 to 2:30 p.m. The Chancel Choir will sing the service which is drawn from the Methodist Book of Worship.

Six church members will join the Rev. Perry A. Thomas in the presentation of the seven last words of Christ. They are Ervin Bartel, Mrs. Floyd Perria, Mrs. Roy Leighton, William Krug, Mrs. George Lawton and Nancy Gottschall.

Avon Township

A 7 a.m. sunrise service, followed by a breakfast, will be held at Stone Baptist Church Sunday, in addition to regular services.

Troy

Five Protestant churches will hold an interdenominational Good Friday service, the first of its kind in the city.

Big Beaver Methodist Church will be the scene of the joint service, scheduled from 1 to 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Ministers taking part will be from Troy Assembly of God, Troy Methodist, First Presbyterian, John R. Evangelistic Center, and the host church.

Choirs from the various congregations will provide music, and a nursery for young children will be available.

All residents of the Troy area are invited to attend.

Passover Services to Begin Tomorrow

Jews the world over will celebrate the Passover, the great Festival of Freedom, beginning at sundown Friday. The observance lasts for a week among liberal Jews and eight days among the traditionalists.

Commemorating the emancipation of the ancient Israelites under the leadership of Moses from Egyptian slavery, Passover is centered more around the home than the synagogue.

A principal religious rite is the ceremonial meal, or Seder, served on the first night of Passover. Jewish families will start with a prayer when they sit around the table.

There will be symbolic foods, and the telling of the Haggadah—the story of the deliverance of the Jews by Moses to the promised land.

At Congregation B'nai Israel, 142 Oneida Rd., Rabbi Israel Goodman announces worship services will be Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday, a service is also scheduled for 7:30 a.m. and a junior congregation for 10 a.m.

FAMILY SERVICE

A special family service will be held at 9 a.m. Sunday.

On April 10, 11 and 12, services are set for 7 p.m., with the junior congregation meeting at 10 a.m.

On April 11 and 12, morning worship will be at 7:30. A memorial service at 8:15 a.m. will be held on April 12.

Rabbi Nathan Hershfield announces a brief vesper service at 6:15 Friday in Temple Beth Jacob.

A family Passover service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

On April 11, the concluding service will be held at 10:30 a.m., with the memorial service recited. The Religious School will observe Passover vacation during the festival.

Special prayers of thanks will be offered for the 10th anniversary of the state of Israel and prayers also will be offered for peace in the Middle East.

City Teamsters Plan Convention

To Name Slate April 13 for Later Vote Ending Hoffa's Trusteeship

A convention to nominate officers of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 has been scheduled for noon April 13 at the local hall, 1410 Telegraph Rd.

The election of officers will take place approximately four weeks later, said Robert Holmes, vice president of the union's Detroit area council, which is conducting the election.

The election was ordered last month by James R. Hoffa, international president, to end his 4½-year tursteeship over the local.

When the new seven - member slate of officers takes over, the local's charter and autonomy will be returned.

Under provisions of the international's constitution, the nominating session will be "wide open," with candidates being nominated from the floor and not by a nominating committee, Holmes said.

All of the local's dues-paying membership will be allowed to vote, he said.

The local's acting president, Leaun Harrelson, has begun a campaign for re-election. He was appointed by Hoffa when the local's charter was suspended in October 1953, following an extortion scandal involving two local officers and area contractors.

He Pleads Innocent to Eight Murders

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—A New York - born woodcutter, 31-year-old Peter Manuel, today pleaded innocent to murdering three teenage girls, three women, a man and a boy.

Accused of a wholesale killing wave in the Glasgow area stretching back over two years, he was ordered tried later this month.

Manuel was born in New York City of Scottish parents but was returned to Scotland when still a child. He was arrested in January at the home he shared with his parents in a Glasgow suburb.

Shampoo Ad on TV Ordered to Go Easy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) today adopted a consent order barring Helen Curtis Industries Inc., Chicago, from representing in its advertising that "Enden" shampoo cures dandruff.

The company agreed to an order forbidding it to claim that Enden will have any lasting effect on dandruff.

The order closed a case begun last July 26 when FTC accused the company of "false and misleading" advertising. The commission cited a television commercial showing a man smiling after shampooing and combing his hair while an announcer said, "There's a new proven way to end your dandruff problems once and for all."

Just an April Fool's Joke

TEHRAN (INS) — The editor of a Tehran newspaper which two days ago reported the birth of sextuplets to an Iranian shepherd woman admitted today that the story was an April Fool's hoax.

Balloon Flight Veteran Dead

Edward J. Hill Leader in Lighter - Than - Air Aviation

Edward J. Hill, a pioneer of lighter-than-air aviation and a veteran of 75 balloon flights, died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Mr. Hill, 65, was a resident of 1827 5 Kirkshire, Birmingham.

He built the balloon in which Prof. Jean Picarrd and his wife made their pioneering flight into the stratosphere from Detroit in 1934. Hill also served as technical adviser for the ascent.

General manager of Metalclad Airship Corp. at the time, he had made 75 balloon flights himself, starting in 1925.

In 1927 he and Arthur Schlosser won the Gordon Bennett international trophy in a race from Detroit to Baxley, Ga.

President of the Procon Pump and Engineering Co., Oak Park, in recent years, Mr. Hill is survived by his wife, Helen; a son, Dr. Edward J. Hill Jr. and a daughter, Mrs. Doris Ansteth.

Mr. Hill will be buried Saturday in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley, following a blessing at noon in St. Bede Church, Southfield Township.

Requiem Mass will be sung at 11 a.m. Monday at St. Bede Church and the Rosary will be recited today and tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the William Vasu Funeral Home, Royal Oakl.

Laundry Thief Takes Washtub, Clothespins, Too

Mrs. William Burch, of 73 Putnam St., was angry enough when a thief made off with her Monday wash from the line in the backyard.

But it wasn't enough that the thief took the clothing, including six pairs of her baby's overalls, he used her metal washtub to haul the lot away.

Along with the tub went 100 clothespins useful to hang the clothing up for final drying.

Youth Admits 20 Burglaries

Implicates 4 Others; Awaits Trial on Charge of Breaking, Entering

Pontiac Post State Police have solved 20 burglaries in Pontiac and northern Oakland County with the confession of a youth who is awaiting trial for breaking and entering.

Earl Fowler, 21, of 740 Cortright St., Pontiac, admitted the 20 burglaries, state troopers said, and implicated four other youths including one 16-year-old.

Fowler was arrested for burglary in January and was bound over to circuit court. He told the troopers he broke into groceries mainly to get beer and cigarttes for parties.

He operated in Waterford, Auburn Heights, and West Bloomfield and Independence Townships along with Pontiac.

Waterford police have arrested an 18-year-old and are seeking two others implicated by Fowler in the burglary of Shore Market, 2425 Voorheis Rd.

Gavin Takes Job in Private Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, storm center of a Pentagon controversy over guided missiles and satellite research, took a civilian job in private industry today.

Three days after his retirement, the Army's former research and development chief announced his election as vice president and a director of Arthur D. Little, Inc., Cambridge, Mass., research and management advisory firm.

Gavin, 51, had been the Army's youngest officer of three-star rank. Before announcing his decision to retire, he had blasted the Army's missile development program, saying it had been hampered by Pentagon policy and inadequate funds.

Detroit's Auto Buy Days Shows Results Already

DETROIT (INS)—James Mason, secretary of the Detroit Automobile Dealers Assn., said today the "Auto Buy Days" campaign should push April retail deliveries of new cars in the Motor City March.

Mason based his forecast on Detroit-area dealers. He said the drive, which began last Saturday and runs through April 10, also is moving used cars at a faster pace.

'Drinking Brought Shame Upon Me'

Youth Involved in Liquor Theft Writes of His Error in Letter

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "Getting this letter is one of the most wonderful things that has ever happened to me." This was the comment of Bloomfield Hills Police Capt. Walter Sluiter, after receiving a letter from one of the youths arrested by his department for the theft of liquor from a home.

"We pick these youngsters up when they get in trouble, and too often they become lost in the grinding that is the 'due process of law.'

Sluiter said he had conferred with County Prosecutor Fred Ziem concerning publication of the communication.

"Ziem feels as I do — that writing the letter was a thoughtful thing for a 17-year-old boy to do. We also feel it will make some other young man stop and think before he lets himself in for the same kind of trouble.

"If this is true, the boy will certainly have made a tremendous contribution to society" Sluiter said.

This is what the youth wrote: "This will be a story with a moral. Although I have never considered myself as a moralist, happenings of late have made me do some deep thinking on subjects to which I had never given much thought previously.

"I have always considered myself a normal, if a little wild, teenagers. I had always been ready to try anything, at least once, with no qualms of conscience about my acts. But of late, certain circumstances have made me consider myself and my contemporaries in a completely different light; In other words. I've learned to think about more than the superficial aspects of my acts.

"For about two years, any party that I'd attended, though not being "wild brawls", had involved drinking. True, I've been involved in incidents concerning drinking, as have my friends. But I never realized the significance of the drinking laws, nor the affects of drinking. So I blithely went my way, drinking, having what I felt was a good time, even though being severely reprimanded by the police and fellow students.

"But recently, the folly of my ways, which could never be pointed out to me, was brought sharply into focus for me and a friend, who were sentenced to serve 72 hours in the Oakland County Jail.

"To clarify more what I'm going to say, I feel that I should explain the circumstances which led up to my imprisonment.

"With a group of five other fellows of my own age group, looking for something to do, we decided to get some liquor for a party that we'd planned for the next Friday night. Then without a twinge of conscience or thought of the consequences of our act, we broke into a home and obtained about twenty bottles of assorted liquors.

"Well, we had our party, and I might add that a good time was had by all, and still no conscience bothered me. But soon we were apprehended, which was to be expected, and then a distorted sense of loyalties kept us from telling anything, thinking that the other fellows would also deny any knowledge of the crime.

"But things did not work out as we had planned (for which I now thank God), and we were put in jail on suspicion of breaking and entering.

"The brief jail term was one of the lessons that I know I will retain for the rest of my life. One thing that became very clear in our comparatively short stay (though to us it seemed like years) was that most of the people we encountered were locked up, either directly or indirectly because of drinking, and so deep an impression did this make upon me that even the thought of drinking now disturbs me.

"As I write this, many thoughts are passing through my mind, of the severe consequences that have occurred. My parents and relatives are not angry, only heartsick at my failure, which is much harder to bear than any amount of yelling on their part. They feel that they have failed me, which is untrue, but I cannot convince them of this.

"I had never felt that I or any of my friends were juvenile delinquents, and felt that adolescents such as these existed only in the newspapers. But now I find myself put in this category for an act I had committed, without any thought of 'getting even with a hostile world,' or other factors that are supposed to be causes of delinquency.

"The names of all of us who were involved were put in the paper, bringing the eyes of the community not only on us, but our parents and friends as well. I feel that this disgrace can be lived down only by setting an example to our classmates by not drinking, and by not condoning drinking or trouble-making of any kind.

"As I wait resignedly for our trial to come up, I know that whatever penalties are meted out to us are deserved, and on my part at least, no hard feelings will be held.

"If I could help some other teenager avoid the mistakes which I have made, by turning over a new leaf, and setting him an example to follow, I'll then feel that the lesson taught me by my crime was beneficial, not only to me, but to the society in which I live."

Call Former Commissioner

List Woman Democrat as Final Witness in Current FCC Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators, told yesterday that the White House has had only routine contacts with the FCC, today called a woman Democrat who formerly served on the Federal Communications Commission.

Mrs. Frieda Hennock Simon, an FCC member from 1948-1955, was listed as the final witness in a House subcommittee's current probe of alleged efforts to influence the commission. More hearings on the FCC and other federal regulatory agencies are expected later.

For nearly two months, the subcommittee has been looking into allegations of improper pressures and charges that FCC commissioners have accepted favors from the broadcasting industry. The commissioners have denied any wrongdoing.

Testifying yesterday, Former FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughey of Columbus, Ohio, was asked if there had been "a great deal of contact" between White House officials and himself, other than routine referral of letters.

"That has been about it — other than security matters," said McConnaughey, a Republican lawyer who served on the FCC from 1954 until last year.

He said Secretary of Commerce Weeks had nothing to do with the award of a license for Boston's TV Channel 5. Told of reports that Weeks had intervened in the case, McConnaughey said he knew nothing of any such intervention by the secretary, who hails from Massachusetts.

Sunspots More Common Today, Scientist Says

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — One of the greatest periods of sunspot activity since Galileo made his observations in 1612 is in progress, Dr. Walter Orr Roberts, director of the High Altitude Observatory at the University of Colorado, said Wednesday.

The flares began their appearance last Friday, he said. The observatory on Sacramento Peak in New Mexico is reporting around 20 solar flares a day, he said.

He said the solar activity was nearly as great as or might be greater than the intense activity in September 1957. Solar flares decreased from that time, and then began another rise, he added.

There are many groups of flares and many individual flares in each group, Dr. Roberts said. At least 11 or 12 groups are visible with appropriate telescopes.

This contrasted, he noted, with 1953 when not a single flare was visible for eight or 10 months.

Strangely, he said, there has been little effect on earth from the flares so far. Customarily they are associated with radio interference.

Data obtained from the studies, as part of the International Geophysical Year program, will be tabulated at solar data centers in Boulder, Moscow and at another station in Europe. The three centers will exchange their data.

Urges Stronger Publicity

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Hollington K. Tong, Nationalist China's ambassador to the United States, today urged his government to intensify its publicity work in the United States. Tong said Americans generally lack understanding of the Chinese situation and some favor more U.S. contact with the Chinese Communists.

Huck Finn-Type Voyage No 'Fun' for Three Youths

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Huckleberry Finn has faded a little farther into the past.

Floating down a river was just good, clean fun in the day of Mark Twain's hero. But in Municipal Court yesterday three teenegers learned that, legally, it's "loitering and trespassing."

Their lesson will cost them $75 each, payable within a year.

The Los Angeles River, unlike Huck Finn's, is paved, sides and bottom. Except during heavy storms it carries a trickle that will just about float a dead leaf.

Swollen with runoff Tuesday, the channel became a raging sluiceway temporarily, endowed with some of the glamor of Twain's Mississippi — an adventurous challenge to George Hamlin, 19; Peter Van Duinwyk, 18; and Don Pullen, 19, all of suburban Reseda. They set sail on a rubber life raft, "just for fun."

It wasn't so funny when they lost their paddles.

Observers onshore reported their plight to police and fire departments. A helicopter used the windstream of its rotors to blow them to the bank. Police pulled them out, wet and disenchanted.

Any remaining appeal the escapade may have had vanished when Judge Parks Stillwell told them: "The fines you must pay won't come close to the amount spent in the rescue."

"I guess they wanted to re-enact a little of the Huckleberry Finn days," said the judge. "It's too bad they're in the wrong area — and the wrong era. They were about 50 years too late."

City Eagles Re-Elect Dwire as President

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, Pontiac Aerie 1230, re-elected Donald Dwire as their president at the group's 1958 election held Tuesday night at the Eagle Hall, 289 W. Montcalm St.

Dwire, who lives at 6363 Maceday Dr., Waterford Township, will hold the office for the second consecutive year beginning June 1. He has been a member of the local aerie since 1943.

Also elected to offices were: Rosaire Terroux, vice president; William Larson, treasurer; and trustees William Hollenbeck, Jess Wright, and Verlin Hayward.

Oil Seed Looms as New Cash Crop

HELENA, Mont. — Safflower, an exotic oil seed which was put to many uses by the ancients in the Middle and Far East and which has been given recurrent trials in the Northwest for the past 30 years, has bobbed up again as a prospective cash crop for the northern Great Plains.

This time it may succeed because a new use has been found in human nutrition for oil derived from the seed. It has more linoleic acid than any other edible oil. This is a fatty acid which recent medical research indicates may be beneficial in reducing cholesterol levels in the blood.

Japanese Send Statue

KOBE, Japan (AP)—A bronze, life-size bust of Helen Keller left today aboard the liner Havana Maru for the United States. The Osaka Lighthouse organization will present the bust to the famous deaf, dumb and blind American woman on her 78th birthday June 27 on behalf of the deaf, dumb and blind of Japan.

Junior Editors Quiz on KITE FLYING

QUESTION: Where did kite flying start?

ANSWER: History books say the kite was invented 300 to 400 years before the birth of Christ in the Greek city of Tarentum by a man named Archytas. But the Chinese, who are great kite fliers, claim one of their generals, Han Sin, invented the kite in 206 B.C. for use in war.

The kite gets its name from birds called kites. These birds can spread their wings and sail down the wind without seeming to moye a feather.

The usual form for kites is triangular or diamond shaped. But they can be almost any shape. In China, the ninth day of the ninth month is set aside as Kite's Day. On that day the people fly thousands of kites of all different shapes—dragons, fishes, birds and butterflies.

The kite has been very useful. In 1749, Alexander Wilson and Thomas Mehielle of Glasgow, Scotland, fastened thermometers to kites. They sent them into the air to measure the temperature of the clouds. Benjamin Franklin brought electricity out of the sky with a kite, a string and a key in 1752. In the early 1900s' the Weather Bureau used them to help make forecasts.

FOR YOU TO DO: Our two Japanese boys have gotten the strings crossed on their kites. Cut out this picture and paste it on cardboard. Then color it as bright and varied as you like. Try making a kite like those in the picture, but be as original as you can.

Council: 'We'd All Win Anyway'

Farming Village Goes 3 Years Without Vote

HARRIETTA, Mich. (AP) — This farming village of 200 hasn't had an election in three years. Village Clerk George Lipar says "The Council felt they'd get elected anyway, so why waste the money?"

Under state law a village election should be held annually the first Monday in March.

"What's the use? The same old bunch is always re-elected," said Councilman Louis Lipar, 70-year-old dairy farmer and father of the village clerk. "If anyone wanted an election they could sure get one—if we had the money."

Disuse of the village's franchise came to the attention of state election officials when a resident complained. Wexford County Prosecutor James Herring said he would seek a court order for a special election.

The elder Lipar said the last time a village election was held was in 1955.

"Nobody wanted the election then, but we hadn't had one in three years and we just held one," he explained. "Didn't get much response—only 20 persons cast ballots."

Harrietta has 55 eligible voters.

Lipar said all the village officials have been in office 20 years or more and the feeling is that everybody here is happy with the way things are run.

"Besides," he said, "it costs $200 to hold an election. That is more than our $158 general fund budget."

The only two paid officials are the clerk and treasurer. Each gets $75 a year.

Petition Forces Issue of Canal Sovereignty

PANAMA (AP)—A petition asking for rights to explore for oil and minerals in the Panama Canal Zone has put Panama's government on the spot.

The petition, filed last Saturday at the Department of Mines by a member of the opposition Liberal party, apparently will force the Panamanian government to take some sort of stand on the touchy issue of sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

The Canal Zone treatie between the United States and Panama say nothing about the subsoil rights in the 10-mile-wide strip across the narrow isthmus of Panama. Panama maintains that U.S. rights are restricted to those necessary for construction, operation, maintenance, defense and sanitation of the canal.

A spokesman for the Liberals said that denial of the petition would mean Panama was abandoning this policy, while favorable action would certainly produce a diplomatic conflict with the United States.

Pontiac Adults Can Still Get Free X Rays

Pontiac adults have until April 11 to get their annual free chest X-ray recommended by health officials.

The chest X-ray mobile unit which was stationed on Huron street near Saginaw street for several weeks is now located at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, according to A. R. Musson, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuburculosis Association.

The unit will be open from noon to 8 p.m. today, April 8 and 10. Tomorrow, April 9 and 11, the unit will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The annual program is sponsored by the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project, the state and county health departments and the Oakland County TB association.

Progress Reported on Site for Airport

LANSING (AP) — Some real progress is being made for the first time toward finding a Detroit northeast airport site, the State Aeronautics Commission was told.

James D. Ramsey, department director, said the formation of a committee by supervisors from Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties "shows they want to get something done."

At present, Ramsey said, the committee is working to get state law changed to allow Detroit to form an airport authority with powers to tax which would allow the building of the northeast airport for Detroit.

The commission approved the allocation of $4,250 to three airports for construction projects.

Sturgis was granted $2,250, Adrian $500 and Three Rivers $1,500. All three projects are in the state-federal aid program and items not included by federal the money will be used to cover grants.

Space Agency Plan Welcomed

AEC Role in Proposed Civil - Controlled Unit Pondered by Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators generally welcomed today President Eisenhower's plan for a new civilian-controlled space agency, but some wondered what part the Atomic Energy Commission might play.

The possibility that nuclear propulsion might eventually replace chemically fueled engines as the motive power in space had led to some suggestions that space projects be assigned to the AEC.

Eisenhower made no direct mention of the AEC in proposing to Congress the establishment of a new National Aeronautics and Space Agency to develop "an imaginative and well-conceived space program."

"That is the explosive angle," said Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a member of the newly created Special Senate Committee on Space and Astronautics.

Eisenhower said details of his program will be sent to Congress later.

Eisenhower picked the existing National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics as the foundation for the proposed aeronautics and space agency.

He proposed a civilian director, backed by a board of scientists, technicians and experts, to operate the new unit.

At least one board member would be from the Defense Department, and existing space and satellite programs under military direction would continue until the new agency was ready to take over.

Congressman Tells Funny Story Every Day

Seeks to Laugh Slump Away

WASHINGTON (INS)—Republican Rep. Bruce Alger, a big Texan, believes a story a day will laugh the recession away.

Alger, 40, former Princeton University football center and World War II B-29 pilot with 23 combat missions over Japan, declared he will offer the House a humorous analogy every day in an attempt to "halt the prophets of doom from talking us into a depression."

One of his latest:

"I am reminded of the two powerful and healthy mules which were laboring heavily to pull a wagon over a dusty country road. The fellow on the wagon was yelling imprecations and lustily swatting the mules' hindquarters.

"Finally, the driver pulled up his sweating team to a stop beside a man sitting on a fence and asked: 'Pardner, how long is this durn hill anyway?'

"The bystander eyed him reflectively for a moment, spat, and replied: 'Fellow you ain't on no hill—your hind wheels is off.'

'The missing wheels for recession recovery, Alger said, comprise "the good old U.S.A. system of free enterprise."

"The stories of free enterprise are legion, and the analogies are equally illuminating:

"The hotel owner, worried over recession because he turns away only 200 a week instead of 300 as last year.

"The rooster who thought his crowing made the sun shine (akin to Congressmen with pet schemes to spend us to wealth).

"The monkey, who, to balance the cheese of the scales for each cat alternately nibbled each cheese until all was gone (like trying to redistribute tax moneys).

"Or when people hear a siren, they think there's a fire before they see the smoke (people hear, believing or not the politicians dire alarms).

"Further, as the late showman Mike Todd said: 'Being broke is one thing, that's being out of money, and I've been broke often. Being poor is something else, that's a state of mind'."

35 Cubans End Hunger Strike

Jailed Rebel Helpers Eat After U.S. Stops Arms for Batista

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-five Cuban rebel sympathizers have ended a seven-day hunger strike called to protest American arms shipments to President Batista in Cuba.

U. S. Marshal James McCarty said the men ended their strike last night after they were informed that the United States had halted a shipment of rifles to the Cuban government and four of their leaders were returned to Brownsville from Corpus Christi and Edinburg.

The State Department said Monday it had stopped a shipment of 1,950 Garand rifles to Cuba. A department spokesman in Washington said it would be a mistake to call the action an embargo on all arms shipments.

Last night the rebel sympathizers took their first food since their arrest by the Coast Guard last Thursday. The men, armed and uniformed, were arrested when their converted fishing boat was rammed off the coast from about $20,000 worth of arms and ammunition were taken.

Detroit Police Patrol Schools

2 Teachers Attacked and 3 Youths Stabbed in 2 Days of Violence

DETROIT (AP)—Police continued their crackdown on school ground loiterers today after four acts of violence in two days. Two teachers were attacked and three youths stabbed in the outbreaks.

Three youths were held for questioning after Richard Christian, 31, a white teacher at Washington Trade School, was pelted with rocks and roughed up by four young Negroes on the school's playground.

The day before, Mrs. Ethel Tincher, 45, a teacher at Denby High School, was beaten by two youths she found loitering in the halls during class hours. She is white and identified her assailants as white. She said she did not think they were Denby students.

Andrew Jones, 15, was stabbed twice in the back and Robert King, 17, was slashed on the side of the head in a fight with another youth, Eric Roby, 15, in the basement of McMichael Junior High School near downtown Detroit. All are Negroes and students at the school.

Police reported Shelby Hereford, 14, was stabbed in the side and injured seriously. He said he and another boy were playing with knives on the playground at Jacoby School. He identified his companion as Robert Garton, 14. Both are Negroes.

Clarence Sailor, William Chisholm and Thomas Hill, all 18, were arrested for investigation of felonious assault a few hours after Christian reported that four Negro youths attacked him. He said he had sought to question them when they walked into a baseball game he was refereeing. Th three youths are not students at the school.

Soviet Culture Drive Sputters in Tunisia

TUNIS (AP) — The Soviet Union launched its first culture drive in Tunisia today, but hardly got out of low gear.

A troupe of Soviet singers, dancers, acrobats, accordion players and jugglers opened a week's run at the Municipal Theatre. It was the first time a Moscow group had played in Tunis.

The house was little more than half filled and only the acrobats got more than lukewarm applause. No top Tunisian official was present.

"Orpheus and Eurydice," Gluck's opera, is the oldest opera in the world. It was first performed in Vienna, 1762. It is still performed in most operatic repertoires.

Rubber Shipments Up

AKRON — An estimated 19 per cent of the nation's synthetic-rubber production was shipped aboard in 1957 compared with only 5 per cent during 1954. Exports for the first 10 months of 1957 ran 30 per cent ahead of the 1956 period.

The world's earliest known coins were lumps of silver stamped with marks of Lydian kings in the 7th Century B.C.

Ham and Turkey Best Buys of Easter Week

Ham or turkey will be equally popular in the parade of Easter dinners. Because supplies are larger, prices are lower than last week on fresh asparagus, radishes, green onions and lettuce. Eggs for Easter may vary more than ten cents a dozen for the same size and grade with premium prices going to all white eggs.

MEAT FOR EASTER—The family can dine in style with one of the many kinds of ham in the market. Prices vary according to the cut and amount of processing.

You may buy a whole ham, butt or shank half, butt or shank portion (with center slices removed), or center slices.

You may buy smoked ham that has part or all of the skin removed, part or all of the bones removed. It may require cooking or be fully cooked. Further cooking of hams (even fully cooked ones) to 160 degrees will give a ham with finer texture and richer favor.

You may buy a canned ham weighing from 1½ to over 10 pounds. All smoked ham and most canned ham requires refrigeration. If you have any reason to doubt that the ham has been refrigerated from the time it left the packer to the time it reached your refrigerator, by all means cook it before serving.

Keep frozen turkey in the original wrapper and store it in the refrigerator. Let it thaw on the refrigerator shelf. The small bird, under 12 pounds, will thaw in 1 to 2 days. A twelve to twenty pound turkey will thaw in 2 or 3 days. A 20 to 24 pounder will take three to four days.

If you need to thaw turkey faster than it does in the refrigerator, place it, in the original wrap, under running cold water. Allow 2 to 4 hours for thawing.

Fresh broccoli is in fairly good supply. A pound of fresh broccoli or a 10-ounce frozen package will serve three. Compare cost before deciding which you want.

Michigan McIntosh apples, bananas and pineapple are present fresh fruit leaders. A pound of either will serve three peope.

EGGS IN THE BASKET—White shelled eggs will most likely wear the biggest price tags, will work best with pastel vegetable dyes. The brown shelled eggs may be dyed the dark tones or decorated with tempera.

Your cookbook will yield many ideas for using extra hard cooked eggs. Try varying deviled eggs with deviled ham, finely minced meat or fish or chopped parsley.

Creamed eggs served on toast, over rice or potatoes, or served as a sauce for fish dishes are other ways of using extra hard cooked eggs. Scalloped eggs and their many variations also make good main dishes.

War Vets Have $400 Due for Funeral

By RAY HENRY

Most war veterans are entitled to about $400 cash from the government toward their funeral and burial expenses. And, most are also eligible to be buried — without charge — in a national cemetery.

The cash is a combination of a burial allowance from the Veterans Administration (VA) and a lump sum death payment from Social Security. The VA allowance is usually $150 and the Social Security lump sum is usually $255.

There's only one requirement a war veteran must meet to be eligible for the VA allowance: His discharge from service must have been given under other than dishonorable conditions. .

Since the allowance may only be paid after a veteran's death, it must be applied for by the person who paid the burial expenses or the funeral director. The application must be filed with the VA within two years after burial.

Although the VA allowance is usually $150, it can be less if payments from other government agencies, the deceased veteran's employer or a burial association cover most or all the burial and funeral expenses, including transportation.

For example: Suppose a veteran's burial costs are $1,000 and $900 is covered by the veteran's employer and the Social Security lump sum. The VA allowance can total only the $100 between the actual cost and the other payments.

Burial expenses usually run considerably higher than the total of the payments from sources other than the VA. So, such payments rarely interfere with a veteran's entitlement to the full $150 VA allowance.

For a veteran to be entitled to the Social Security lump sum death payment, he must have:

1. Worked under Social Security for at least 18 of the last 36 months before his death, or

2. Been fully insured by Social Security at the time of his death, or

3. Been receiving Social Security retirement or disability payments when he died.

The payment can only be paid (a) to the surviving wife who has been living with or receiving support from the deceased veteran, or (b) anyone else who paid the funeral expense if there is no surviving wife.

Although the Social Security lump sum payment will usually be $255 for war veterans, it can range between $90 and $255 with the exact amount depending on a complicated formula in the Social Security law.

The main factor in the formula is usually the deceased veteran's average monthly wage in jobs covered by Social Security between Jan. 1, 1951, and the time of his death or retirement. This average wage need only be about $230 a month or more for a veteran to be entitled to the $255.

In general, the right to free burial in a national cemetery is open to all veterans whose last discharge was honorable. There are 82 national cemeteries in 31 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico to which the survivors of an eligible veteran may apply for the veteran's burial..

The burial plot, the interment and the gravestone are furnished as part of the burial in a national cemetery.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service. Lawmakers Turn Spotlights on Charlatans

Find Quacks Thrive in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Two state senate committees have revealed that quackery is big and dangerous business in Los Angeles.

The committees turned their spotlights on charlatans in the fields of medicine, education and religion with an eye to tightening the laws against them.

CAUSE DEATHS

One witness, Milton P. Duffy, chief of drug inspections in California, testified that countless deaths are caused each year by get-well-quick cancer quacks.

He said convictions obtained thus far included cases where cancer "treatment" called for drinking turnip juice and using ozone machines, salves, boots and electric blankets.

Dr. John W. Cline, chairman of the cancer commission of the California Medical Association, described a "root brew" cure advocated by an apprehended modern witch doctor.

PATIENT BELIEVES

"This root," said Cline, "had to be picked with the left hand at the rise of the moon on Friday the 13th—and the patient who told me about it completely believed in it."

California is a fertile field for cancer quacks, Cline testified, because the disease strikes mainly people over 40, and there are many elderly citizens in the state. He added:

"Californians are seemingly more susceptible to cancer quacks than, for example, a hard-headed Yankee from New England."

In the field of religion, a 30-year-old housewife charged that, acting as an undercover agent, she became a "mail order" minister in less than two weeks by sending $30.20 to the Universal Church of the Master.

Mrs. Juanita Purviance told the senators, that, without being investigated, she received a certificate making her an ordained minister with full powers to perform baptisms and marriages.

Answering the charge, the president of the so-called church organization, B. J. Fitzgerald, conceded there was an $18.50 deposit for certificates or ordination.

But, said Fitzgerald, a retired railroad worker, all applicants are investigated, and his organization operates under a state charter issued in 1918 in Los Angeles.

One of the more picturesque witnesses who testified before the committee was "Doctor" Orville Lee Grabeel, a wrestler who tries to hypnotize ring opponents.

Grabeel, who never was graduated from high school, told the senators he received a doctor of philosophy degree from Sierra State College in 1947 after a nine-month course which enabled him to specialize in curing bad habits such as "smoking and fingernail biting."

Grabeel was arrested last August for practicing hypnosis without a state license after a deputy sheriff posed as a patient—allegedly for $30—and failed to be hypnotized.

Perhaps the most confused witness was Kupeni Su'apa'ia, a native of American Samoa, who said he paid $1,000 to a Honolulu doctor for a doctor of philosophy degree from "Golden State University."

"When they sent it to me," he testified, "they included a degree of bachelor of science which I didn't expect."

Jayne Mansfield's Ex Seeks Custody of Child

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jayne Mansfield's ex-husband doesn't want the actress to take their daughter to England while she makes a movie.

Paul J. Mansfield asked court permission for temporary custody of Jane Marie, 7, when the actress leaves for Europe April 26. Mansfield, who lives in Chattanooga, Tenn., with his second wife, also asked that he be permitted to have the child for six weeks each summer.

The actress, now married to actor Mickey Hargitay, previously had asked permission to take the child out of the country.

A hearing was set for April 16.

Good Driver Can Be Menace, Too

Worry, Attitude, Pills Often Distract Person Behind Wheel

CHICAGO (INS)—The American Medical Association today warned that even good drivers can sometimes be a menace to society.

According to the AMA, some of the less known things that make a good driver dangerous are:

Emotional upsets. Unless a person can keep his mind on the wheel and not on his worries, he shouldn't take the wheel.

Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong. Some are aggressive and intolerant when they get into a car. They need to be mature.

Medicines, Antihistamines, cold tablets, sedatives, tranquilizers and some other drugs may dull reflexes or impair coordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous.

Certain nerve and heart disorders. Some may cause convulsions and others may result in occasional loss of consciousness.

Diabetes. Insulin reactions may cause difficulties, but diabetic patients who follow doctors' advice can be safe drivers.

Old age. After 65, reflexes and coordination tend to be a little slower, people tire more easily, resistance to glare is lessened and the ability to see at night declines. Older drivers should schedule their trips at non-rush hours.

Bandit Queen in India Asks for Amnesty

NEW DELHI, India—A notorious bandit queen has written to Prime Minister Nehru from Agra, North India, asking help to return to a normal, civilized life. She is a 26-year-old former dancing girl known as Putli, "The Doll," wanted for a dozen killings.

For six years this short, thin, one-armed woman (her left arm was amputated after a gun battle with police) terrorized villages over an 8,000-square-mile area in north-central India.

Putli, as an attractive girl of 20, caught the eye of the local bandit chieftan, bearded, turbaned ruffian Sultan Gujar. He took her away to live with him and she is reported to be the mother of two children by him.

After he was shot and killed by another bandit, she fell heir to the gang of a dozen outlaws on the run.

New Guineans Shocked Over 'Head Tax'

CANBERRA, Australia — A shocked silence greeted the announcement, at the recent opening of New Guinea's third postwar Legislative Council, that "one of the new taxes to be introduced" is a personal tax of about $5.00 on all males over the age of 18 years.

European and indigenious. The speaker was Council President Donald Cleland and the shaking of heads and mumbling indicated that a lot of members were not in sympathy.

New Guinea now is one of the few places without any income tax and many residents thought this proposal was a step to "get even" with them for that.

Next day the people learned that some "luxury" taxes also are proposed by the Administration in Canberra, Australia. These would be 5 per cent to 10 per cent on cars, cameras, jewlery, clothing, cigarettes, beverages and gasoline.

Government in Jordan Seizing Oil Supplies

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan's government decided today to seize control of petroleum supplies in Jordan to keep fuel supplies from being at the mercy of the hostile United Arab Republic.

Economy Minister Khoulousi Kheiri was authorized to seize all fuel depots and to take direct control of fuel importation and distribution.

Eggs to Grow on Trees

DALLAS (AP) — A horseback Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday at a farm on the Dallas outskirts. Mrs. W. Roy Hastings, owner of the farm, said children will find eggs in trees and other high places.

She Has $$ to Prove Theory:

Women Make Better Investors

NEW YORK (NEA)—This lady says it's all right for men to earn money; but really, it's a lot safer to let the women invest it.

This lady is Mrs. Evelyn Gray Sharp. She's the nation's only woman owner-operator of hotels; a steady real estate and stock market investor; a consultant to several large foundations; and the mother of two grown children.

"Money and making money," she said, "are much larger in men's minds than in women's. And that's the way it should be, if men are going to be breadwinners.

"But once the money is available for an investment—say in real estate—you ought to see how the men behave. They shout and pout and scream and lose control and perspire."

But not Mrs. Sharp, who took a few moments out of a recent spring morning to blow $16,000,000

MRS. EVELYN GRAY SHARP

on the purchase of three luxury hotels: the Gotham in New York City, the Saranac Inn in New York State, and the Beverly Wilshire in California.

Today, Mrs. Sharp lives the demanding life of a financial wizard — half the year in New York and half in California.

Each morning she begins the day by calling her mother who dislikes being awakened so early. Then she calls her married daughter who also dislikes being awakened so early.

She plans her day's activities and clothes. She reads the papers and business magazines. She goes through her mail, answers the marriage proposals first and then the business letters. Both lunch and dinner hours are used for business meetings.

"By 8:30 in the evening," she said, "I'm tired so I go to bed."

She has hardly any time for social or amusement activities, and none for shopping. Stores send a selection of clothes and a fitter to her apartment in her Gotham Hotel.

Her own personal finances and budget?

"Good heavens," she said. "I don't know anything about handling that. I leave it all to my secretary. She knows more about finances than I'll ever know."

LESS EMOTIONAL

"You see," she said, "I've trained myself to have self-control. And as a woman, I don't get terribly emotional about money."

You could see without any trouble at all. Every word she says and every slight movement of her hands and eyes seem to be backed up by years of knowing exactly what she wants.

"But," she said, "you ought to see by brethren in the real estate business." And she smiled the slight smile of fond—and victorious—remembrance.

The men, she said, begin by setting a firm date for closing a deal. Once that date arrives, they begin a two-day and two-night wild dispute through the smallest details.

"Men get too intense," Mrs. Sharp said. "They try too hard for this one deal, losing sight of the overall picture.

"I, however, always insist on being treated like a lady in these negotiations." She laughed out loud. "It's wonderful to begin a deal when you know you're under control."

Now close to 50, Mrs. Sharp can look back on a road that has led almost directly to where she stands now. Both her father and her husband were in the real estate and hotel business.

On her husband's death she was left to decide whether she would live on an income, or become a business woman.

EASY CHOICE

"It was really no choice at all," she said. "I converted much of my husband's holdings into cash and began from the beginning."

Police in Chicago Seek Extortionist

CHICAGO (AP)—Police hunted today for an extortionist who they said had demanded $5,000 from a Roosevelt University faculty member, who is a grandson of a New York multimillionaire. The writer threatened harm to his daughters if the money was not paid.

Police disclosed that Frank Untermyer, 42, an assistant professor of political science, his wife and three children have been under police protection since Untermyer received the extortion threat Monday.

Untermyer is the son of Irwin Untermyer, retired New York Supreme Court justice and grandson of Samuel Untermyer, New York corporation lawyer and multimillionaire who died in 1940.

Two elaborate police traps were set Monday and Tuesday nights to seize the writer of the extortion note. But police said the extortionist failed to appear at the designated time to meet Untermyer.

Police said the note was discovered Monday by Untermyer in the faculty mail drop box at the university.

Sherk, of 100 W. Colgate St.

The lone draftee from outside Pontiac was Kenneth E. Sturdevant, of 1397 Hira St., Waterford Township.

Three of the 13 area draftees reporting to Board No. 67 were Pontiac men: Clarence D. Ridgely, of 1058 Boston St.; Allan W. Ritchie, of 4641 Forest St.; and Franklin D. Johnson, of 229½ S. Pike St.

Among the others were: Charles M. Smith III, of Northville; Sammy L. Seay, Richard N. Lakin, Donald Sirekis, and Anthony B. Wilson, all of Birmingham; and William T. Yeoman Jr., of Milford.

Hal Boyle Says:

Ol' Swimming Hole Has Come to Town

NEW YORK (AP)—The ol' swimming hole has come to town!

Many a barefoot lad of yesterday, who trudged miles through dusty roads to paddle in a creek, now has a son who can dive into the family's private pool from his back porch.

For the swimming pool industry today is in the midst of an amazing boom, a boom comparable—but on a smaller scale—to the rapid postwar growth of television and air-conditioning.

Typical of the rising young businessmen in this rapidly expanding field is Jerry Rudolph, 27, of Springfield, N. J., an ex-Army private and law student.

COST SURPRISES

Three years ago during a vacation he learned that one of his father-in - law's neighbors had spent $9,000 on a backyard swimming pool.

"Why, I could build one for a third of that," he told his father-in-law.

"If you can, you and I are in business," replied the father-in-law.

Rudolph went to the public library and read everything he could find on swimming pools. He decided that if he made a swimming pool of molded glass wool he could produce it cheaply enough to appeal to a mass market.

He quit law school and 10 days later formed a corporation on $30,000 of borrowed capital.

"At that time there were only 20,000 privately owned swimming pools in the country, and 90 per cent of them were in California," he said.

OVER 2,000 POOLS

There were only 250 pool builders in the nation. Today there are more than 2,000. They expect to install some 75,000 pools in 1958.

"Within another decade one out of every 10 families in America will have its own pool," predicted Rudolph, who feels sure the industry will hit the billion-dollar-a-year level by 1960.

He grossed $300,000 in 1956, $400,000 in 1957. He has his own plant in Paterson, N. J., and is hopeful of hitting the million-dollar mark this season. He has 700 advance orders—with deposits—for the 1958 season, exacty 70 times the number he had at this time a year ago.

Record Number of Babies Born at Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — A record number of babies were born in Detroit last year, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, health commissioner announced.

Dr. Molner said 40 per cent of the 61,985 babies were born to mothers who lived outside the city. This compares with only 26 per cent in 1950.

The birth rate to Detroit residents was 23.7 per 1,000 population. The infant death rate, 26.8 per 1,000 live births, was the highest in five years.

The health commissioner stated that the first 27 days are the most hazardous for babies. Of the 1,660 infants who died before their first birthday, 1,330 died within the first 27 days.

Sand 'Freezes' Snow

GLEN HAVEN—Winter's snow can be found, even in July's heat, by digging 4 feet deep in western Michigan's huge Sleeping Bear Dune, so great are the insulating properties of the sand. The snow becomes covered by the perpetual drifting of the sands, caused by Lake Michigan winds.

Bismarck Dog Finds Way to Beat the Heat

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — A Bismarck dog found a way to beat the heat — until police made him cut it out.

Officers received a complaint that an Irish setter was jumping into the lily pool at the Baptist old people's home and making a nuisance of himself.

The University of Michigan has available five scholarships annually for descendants of American Indians.

No Amnesty for Peron

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President-elect Arturo Frondizi told his party last night he will exclude ex-dictator Juan Peron and top leaders of that regime from the amnesty he will propose to the new Congress after taking office May 1.

New Method Builds Muscle

Doctor Chains Himself to Floor, Then Tries to Lift It Daily

STORRS, Conn. (INS) — A 39-year-old physical fitness expert at the University of Connecticut is experimenting with a new method of "powerizing" the human body through a series of six-second daily practice sessions.

Dr. Hollis Fait, head of the university's physical fitness lab, is conducting a set of experiments designed to push muscles to a peak of efficiency in a minimum amount of time.

Conducting experiments on himself and a student, Dr. Fait recorded an increase in the lifting power of his legs from 800 pounds to near 1,400 in the space of a half dozen six second "isometric contractions."

Dr. Fait explained the muscles were strengthened through isometric contraction brought about when muscles are strained at peak capacity against an immovable object for short periods of time. In this case he tried to lift the lab floor by means of a cable bolted to it.

Following the experiments Dr. Fait and the student, who also showed considerable improvement, measured the power increases on specially designed lab instruments.

The powerfully built instructor admits the strapping on of the experimental rig "probably runs the duration of the muscle building process considerably over six seconds"—the actual time when the muscles are strained.

Earlier this year, along with conducting experiments on an average group of students, Dr. Fait also worked on the U-Conn basketball team to give them more bounce to the ounce.

He arranged for the hoopsters to saddle up to 400 pound weights on their shoulders and perform a series of three-quarter knee bends. He said the athletes had such powerful legs as the result of many years of playing, that the extra weights were required to "overload" their muscles.

U.A.R. to Use Jetliners

Mailman Wins $9,000 Settlement for Poodle Bites

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A mailman who says he has been bitten by 18 dogs in 17 years received a $9,000 out-of-court settlement yesterday for bites inflicted by a French poodle.

Charles E. Serven, 43, charged in State Supreme Court here that he was bitten four times by a poodle owned by Mrs. Simone Sampson of New York City, who is on Serven's route.

Serven, who lives in Great Neck, said he also suffered back injuries while fighting off the dog Sept. 24, 1956. He asked $100,000 damages.

Serven now makes his rounds with a battery-powered stick, known as a dog-training cane. The batteries activate a vibrator at the tip, which causes dogs to keep their distance.

Citizen Captures Hit-Run Motorist

DETROIT (INS)—Elmer J. Prebee, 48, of Detroit was held by police today as a fatal hit-run driver, after a 68-year-old retired salesman captured him and forced him to wait for police.

Robert Simmons told police he chased Prebee after he saw the fatal accident. He added, "I ran after the car because I was mad. It was a dirty shame the way he hit that woman and kept going."

* * *

Police said Prebee, an unemployed brewery worker, was incoherent and recalled nothing of the accident. He was reported drunk at the time.

Hollywood Headlines

Broncho Bill, 78, Polishes New Academy Award

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—His neighbors in the Silver Lake district of Los Angeles have been dropping into the home of G. M. Anderson to see if it's true.

It's true, all right. They have only to look on the mantle of Mr. Anderson's cluttered little living room to see the shiny golden Oscar.

Though his neighbors know him as a wise-cracking, slightly eccentric oldster who lives alone in a red frame bungalow, film historians recognize him as Broncho Billy Anderson, leading player in the first story film, "The Great Train Robbery." Because he pioneered the film industry and created the movie Western, the Motion Picture Academy gave him an honorary award last week.

I dropped by to see how he survived the experience.

"I feel 30 years younger," he said. "No more mothballs for me."

Billy, 78, admitted that he was nervous over facing the 2,500 guests at the Pantages Theater. The Oscar show ran overtime, so the honorary awards were given after the telecast.

"Fess Parker helped me a lot," he said. "He kept talking to me in whispers, 'Don't be nervous; you can make it.' That fellow Hugh O'Brian helped too. They're both very nice fellows."

The two modern gunslingers helped Bette Davis make the award to Broncho Billy. It was a heart-warming moment and proved that movie people can remember the builders who created the business.

He reflected on his career: "I suppose I did help build the movie business. But if it hadn't been me, it would have been someone else. Shucks, there was no stopping the motion picture; it had to grow no matter what anyone did to it."

Among persons over 65 years old, Britain has one million more women than men.

Construction of Superways Interlacing All States Seen Gaining Momentum

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The federal interstate highway building program appears to be picking up steam after 18 months in preparatory doldums — but there may be other foot-dragging problems ahead.

Estimates as of when the 41,000-mile network of superhighways will be completed are being revised upward.

And the building program is going to cost more than was figured in 1956 when Congress set it up.

Original plans called for completion in 1972. Best guess now is 1975 with some estimates running as high as 1980. A slow start and rising construction costs are being blamed.

Commerce Secretary Weeks told Congress reecntly he expects a 10 billion dollar leap in estimated cost of the program. The original estimate, $27,645,000,000 The new figuure, $37,622,000,000.

Weeks said the revision is necessary because of a 12 per cent hike in construction costs in the past two years and increased estimates of future highway traffic volume.

No tax increase to meet the increased costs has been proposed by Weeks. This can wait a few years, he said, until cost estimates, based on experience, become more accurate.

(The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost and the states the rest. The federal share is financed on a pay-as-you-build basis from taxes on such items as gasoline and tires.)

Despite the pessimistic financial report, Weeks said the highway program is now on schedule and "The progress being made is most gratifying." He noted that 1,225 miles of the interstate system is completed and another 2,092 miles is under construction.

SENATOR DISAGREES

Senator Albert Gore (D-Tenn), chairman of the Public Roads Subcommittee, disagrees with Weeks, appraisal. Gore says the program is lagging because "some states are well advanced and others quite tardy."

Bertram D. Tallamy, federal director agrees with Weeks that there is no lag in the over-all program, but he also agrees with Gore that some states are tardy.

Tallamy listed the following states as slowpokes on the basis of money obligated out of federal road funds available for the fiscal year 1957 ended last June 30:

West Virginia, 21 per cent of fiscal 1957 money; Delaware, 38 per cent; Indiana, 50 per cent; Idaho, 61 per cent; South Dakota, 78 per cent; Maine, 81 per cent; Montana, 91 per cent, and South Carolina, 94 per cent.

The highway director said other states have moved ahead to the point where they have obligated money to be available for fiscal year 1959 starting next July 1. They include:

Ohio, 97 per cent of fiscal 1959 money; Maryland, 63 per cent; California, 61 per cent; New York, 34 per cent; Illinois, 27 per cent; New Mexico, 22 per cent; Wyoming, 9 per cent, and Missouri, 5 per cent.

The rest of the states are working on fiscal 1958 funds.

Tallamy reported the states running behind "have assured us they have plans for advancing their work this year and catching up with the national average." There is added incentive in that any state loses any federal funds which it does not obligate within two years after they are allotted.

Tallamy explained that, when the interstate highway system project began a year and a half ago, few of the states were prepared to utilize the vast federal funds that were available.

NO SURPRISE

In view of this, it is not surprising that the states made uneven progress in the first 18 months. Some, like New York, Californina, Texas, Ohio and Maryland, had plans prepared for years ahead and were ready to start work as soon as they received federal approval. Others had to start from scratch and are just beginning to pick up momentum. Texas already has completed 220 miles of interstate road; some states have completed none.

Explaining why only some 1,200 completed in 18 months despite an expenditure of 2½ billion dollars, Tallamy says nearly half the money was spent for preliminary engineering and right-of-way acquisition, and most of the remainder was obligated to contracts being advertised for bids.

Tallamy predicts that by the end of 1959, 3,000 miles of new superhighways will be ready for traffic; two years after that an additional 5,000 miles will be finished, and from 1961 on, a minimum of 3,000 miles of shiny new freeways will be opened up annually.

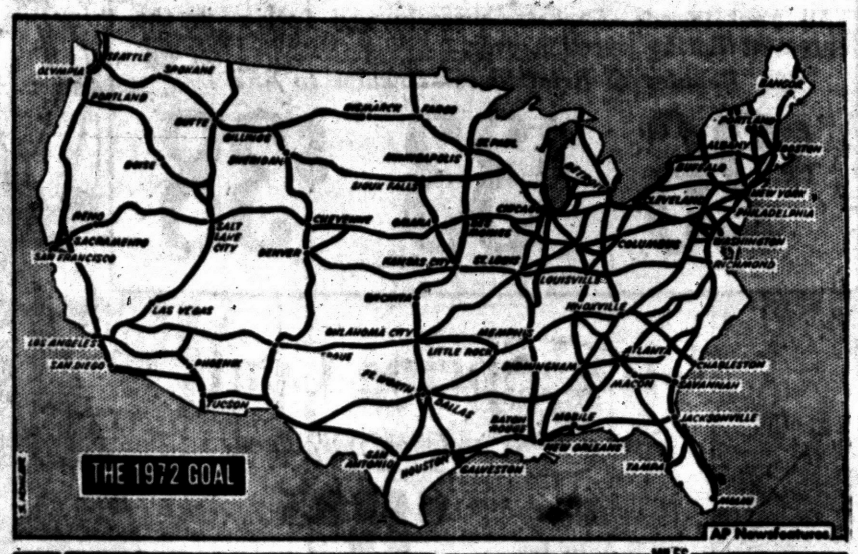

He figures the entire project—41,000 miles of toll-free superroads—will be completed before 1975, the year an estimated 65 million automobiles are expected to be rolling on U. S. highways.

Many miles of existing highways will be improved and incorporated into the interstate system. A spokesman for the Bureau of Public Roads said this does not mean the present highway numbers will be changed.

The interstate routes will have new "interstate" numbers on a distinctive sign, but the old designation also will appear wherever the interstate route is a modernized version of an established road. This will result in many cases of dual marking but he noted that hundreds of segments of highway in the country now have more than one number where two or more highways run together for a stretch.

Many of the cables that span the oceans are less than an inch thick.

10th Anniversary of Marshall Plan

'Momentous Step' for Peace Inked by Truman to Provide Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President of the United States scratched his name on the bottom of the document. He looked solemnly at the congressional leaders and Cabinet advisers around him and said:

With these words 10 years ago today, Harry Truman launched the famous Marshall Plan.

His signature set in motion perhaps the most massive aid program the world has ever known.

Its immediate aim was to save Western Europe, still wracked by the wounds of war, from chaos and communism. It got its name from Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of state, who had outlined the plan in an address at Harvard University June 5, 1947.

Immediately foreign aid experts rushed the first shipments to Europe. They cut enough corners to move the first shipment—wheat for drought-stricken Austria—to East Coast ports within six days.

Even before Paul Hoffman was named Marshall Plan chief April 6, emergency food and raw materials shipments had been arranged for Italy, where Communists were making a big bid for an election victory April 18. The Communists were beaten overwhelmingly.

At that time the flow of food, machinery, raw materials and fuel was figured to cost 16 billion dollars in four years. This estimate proved far too optimistic. By June 30 of this year economic and military aid provided overseas countries will total $48,993,600,000.

Since the Korean War in 1950, military aid has represented the biggest share of this assistance. If it hadn't been for this surprise Communist attack on Korea, most officials believe the task of helping Western Europe could have ended on schedule in 1952.

President Eisenhower joined former President Truman last month in crediting the Marshall Plan with achieving its goal. Eisenhower, appealing for Congress to continue foreign aid for an 11th consecutive year, summed it up this way:

"Mutual aid has repeatedly played a major part in keeping free world countries from losing their freedom. It has thwarted the Communist hope of encircling and isolating us."

Woman Gubernatorial Candidate Raps 'Sack'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Vivienne L. Suarez, 38-year-old Columbus mother of five who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor, appeared on radio station KYW's Big Campaign program last night and answered telephone questions from listeners.

27 From County Enlist in Navy; 4 Others Re-Enlist

The U.S. Navy Recruiting Substation in Pontiac has announced that a total of 27 Oakland County men enlisted during the month of March and another four area men re-enlisted in the Navy.

Of the 27 enlistees, five were from Pontiac. They were: Carl H. Buckner Jr., of 22 Gerdon St.; Edwin R. Erickson, of 2712 Auburn Ave.; Wayne S. Fisher, of 774 Scottwood St.; Mervin E. Hickman, of 72 N. Francis St.; and Eric W. Mar, of 3425 Whitfield St.

Other enlistees from the county were: Cermeth D. Childers, Edward A. Corby Jr., Ronald L. Eason, William G. Graybill, and Lawrence H. Patterson, all of Rochester; John P. Foraker, of Waterford; and Jerry M. Lewis and Bennie Manni Jr., both of Drayton Plains.

Also among the group were: Ralph E. Mohr and Richard T. Reasor, of Walled Lake; Robert N. Perkins, of Davisburg; Douglas J. Roberts, of Farmington; Raymond C. Seavoy Jr., of Keego Harbor; William B. Ashwell and Ray J. Vejack, both of Royal Oak; and Stephen A. Field, of Pleasant Ridge.

Rounding out the county enlistees were: Wesley A. Borgne Jr. and Frederick L. Collins, both of Madison Heights; David R. Forbes and William M. Tippen, both of Ferndale; Ronald A. Perry, of Birmingham; and Richard W. Wuolukka, of Berkley.

Re-enlisting for four-year periods were: Kenneth H. Shonk, of Waterford Township; Richard F. Cook Jr., of Davisburg; and two Pontiac men, James D. Zutaut, of 1668 Alma St.; and Gerald C. Duggan, of 28 Moreland St.

Since establishment of the U.S. Weather Bureau station in Atlantic City, N.J., in 1874, temperatures have ranged from a record 104 on Aug. 7, 1918, to an all-time low of 9 below zero on Feb. 9, 1934.

Winter Pears Ideal to Spice, and Broil

Broiled Pears

4 ripe but firm pears
Honey
Cinnamon

Pare pears and cut each in half lengthwise. Remove seeds by scooping them out with a half-teaspoon measuring spoon; cut out stem structure with small sharp knife. Fill pear cavities with honey, spreading a little over top surface. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon.

Place on aluminum foil (or shallow baking pan) about 4 inches from broiler heat until fruit is hot through and top is flecked with brown—about 10 minutes. Serve at once.

Number of Sandwiches Decided by Mathematics

A dilly to divide—how many loaves make how many party sandwiches for a crowd? It depends somewhat upon your guests and their appetites, but those who have made scores of sandwiches say this:

First, divide the number of invited guests by 6. The answer is the number of loaves of regular sliced bakers' bread needed. If sandwich loaves are to be used, multiply the guest list by 3, then divide by 32.

Give Gala Easter Brunch

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here in Oakland county we may not attempt the elaborate menu served by professional chefs nor the casual outdoor affair of the west. But an Easter brunch can be a happy affair. With a little thought and some advance preparation, Mrs. Homemaker can handle it and go to church first.

Your menu will follow the general pattern of fruit, one or more hot egg or meat dishes, rolls or other hot breads and a beverage. Plan to serve buffet style and press a guest into service to help see that plates and the coffee pot are kept filled. If there are a number of children, serve them at their own buffet table.

You might serve a tall pitcher of icy cold fruit juice as a starter. An alternate could be baked hothouse rhubarb.

If your guests are coming for a regular breakfast, straight from sunrise Easter services, you might take a leaf from the book of Polish Easter customs. In this centuries-old traditional feast one of the dishes on the buffet table is a tureen full of spicy sausage soup.

This may not appeal to you or your guests; but a cup of steaming hot chicken or tomato soup will. Or combine two or more of your favorite canned soups and serve them to your guests as soon as they arrive. Then go on with the more conventional breakfast foods. With Easter coming so early this year the day could easily be cold.

Broiled Bacon With Molasses

2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ pound bacon

Combine unsulphured molasses and mustard. Place bacon slices on broiler rack 3 inches below heat. Brush each slice with small amount molasses mixture. Broil, turning and brushing frequently, until bacon is cooked. Yield: 3 servings.

There's no limit to the menu you can conjure up. If your specialty is sweet rolls, prepare them on Saturday and heat them in a bun warmer or in aluminum foil in the oven the next day.

A huge bowl of hard-cooked eggs — colored ones, if you like — may center the table. Have a rich cream sauce ready and toasted rolls. Let each guest slice as many eggs as he likes on the rolls, then cover with the hot cream sauce.

Waffle batter can be put together in two steps. Before you go to church get the dry ingredients mixed in a bowl. It will take only a minute to add the rest of the ingredients while the iron is heating. For a change try Poppy Seed Waffles:

Poppy Seed Waffles

2 cups biscuit mix
1 tablespoon poppy seed
1 egg
1¾ cups milk
2 tablespoons salad oil

Combine biscuit mix and poppy seeds. Beat egg; add milk and oil. Add to flour mixture and stir lightly. Bake on waffle iron.

These Lemon Cream Scones can be made in the same manner. They need only a few minutes in a hot oven.

Sift together 3 cups sifted enriched flour, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Cut or rub in one-third cup shortening and the grated rind of 1 lemon.

Combine ¼ cup lemon juice, ¾ to 1 cup buttermilk and 1 egg yolk, reserving egg white for topping. Add to flour mixture. Toss on floured board and knead lightly ½ minute. Roll ¼ inch thick.

Cut with sharp knife into diamond-shaped pieces. Brush with egg white and sprinkle lightly with sugar. Bake on greased baking sheet in hot oven (425 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen 2x3-inch scones.

Early Man Had Apples

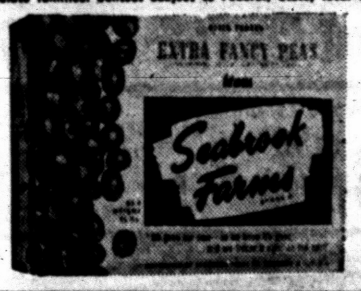

Although the apple is one of the oldest fruits known to man, evidence of it having been found in Switzerland among the relics of preshistoric lake dwellers once there, more than one-third of the world's apples are grown today in the United States. The State of Washington leads in apple production with an average of 32,000 cars of apples each year.

When separating eggs, remove last bits of broken yolks which may fall into whites with paper toweling or a piece of egg shell.

Let us foot Uncle Sam's bill! That's the amazing first prize in Seabrook Farms great new contest. Just complete the line—"Why I would like Seabrook Farms to pay my (or my husband's) 1957 Federal Income Tax," in 25 words or less. Mail your entry, with the front panel from 5 packages of Seabrook Farms Vegetables to: Seabrook Farms Income Tax Contest, Seabrook, New Jersey. Everybody wins! All contestants get 30 cents in coupons, good toward the purchase of Seabrook Farms products. You'll love that fresh-from-the-farm flavor that Seabrook freezes into every package.

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE CONTEST RULES: 1. Submit as many entries as you wish, but each entry must be accompanied by the wrappers from 5 packages of Seabrook Farms Vegetables or Fruits. 2. Entries will be judged by Seabrook Farms Company on the basis of originality and aptness of thought. Decisions of judges will be final. Reimbursement limited to $5000. 3. Give Easter Food Special Touch

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Is your Easter menu all planned or do you have room for new ideas? We thought it might be interesting to give you several suggestions for special Easter food instead of concentrating on any one subject.

For instance, what will you serve with your baked ham? Why not a spiced pineapple fruit sauce served from a fresh pineapple shell? Both sauce and the novel server will delight your guests.

To make the fresh pineapple bowl, cut top off ¾ to 1 inch below leaves. Set top aside. To hollow out fruit, cut around outside edge of fruit with a sharp bread knife. Leave a wall ½-inch thick so shell will hold its shape. Be careful not to cut into the sides or bottom of the pineapple shell.

Spiced Pineapple Fruit Sauce

Combine ¾ cup syrup from canned apricots with ¼ cup water. Heat. Mix 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 tablespoons sugar, and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon with a small amount of the apricot mixture. Slowly add to hot liquid.

Stir constantly until thickened. Add 1 cup cubed fresh pineapple, 1-3 cup drained canned apricot quarters, ¼ cup nuts, and ¼ cup raisins. Pour hot sauce into pineapple shell.

Instead of the usual candied sweet potatoes, fix a casserole of mashed sweets seasoned with some concentrated orange juice and topped with shredded rice biscuits. Prepare on Saturday and merely reheat at dinner time Sunday.

Easter Parade Casserole

- ⅓ cup margarine or butter, melted
- ¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits
- 4 medium sweet potatoes (2 cups mashed)
- 1 tablespoon orange juice concentrate
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon white pepper

Heat oven to slow to moderate (325-350 degrees). Butter casserole. Heat half of butter and brown sugar in skillet. Add shredded rice biscuits. Stir over low heat to coat thoroughly. Set aside.

Cook and mash sweet potatoes. Add remaining butter, brown sugar, orange juice, and seasonings. Mix thoroughly. Place in baking dish.

Crush cereal slightly. Sprinkle on potatoes. Bake one hour, or until browned. Yield: 8 servings.

And when the festive day is over there still will be hard cooked eggs to eat. This supper dish recipe will present the eggs in a different form.

Dairy Crisp Supper Dish

- 6 hard-cooked eggs
- 10½ ounce can cream of mushroom soup
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- ¾ cup shredded cheese food or aged cheese
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 2 cups toasted bread cubes
- ½ cup butter

Heat mushroom soup and milk together in a saucepan. Add paprika, cheese, and green pepper. Toss bread cubes in melted butter. Add to the mixture in the saucepan. Pour hot mixture into a buttered 1-quart casserole. Cut eggs in half lengthwise. Arrange halves on top of soup and cheese mixture. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Serves 6.

Have Fun With Eggs by Using Imagination

You can perk up your enthusiasm for eggs by just a little imagination. For example: Next time you scramble eggs add a little deviled ham and a half cup of chopped mushrooms. Cook in a double boiler, and serve on hot buttered toast.

For just plain fun, when you want a party salad to look extra attractive, hard cook some eggs and remove the shells; use diluted vegetable dye and a little shaping with the fingers to convert the eggs to red apples, yellow pears and other fruits.

Pink Berry Ice Tops Meringues for Spring

Meringue Shells with Strawberry Ice

- 1 package (about 4 ounces) meringue mix
- 1 package (1 pound) frozen strawberries
- Water
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice

Use one of the envelopes in meringue mix (there are 2 envelopes in a package) to make 8 meringue shells according to package directions.

Thaw strawberries and force through sieve; add enough water to make 2 cups; stir in sugar. Sprinkle gelatin over 1 tablespoon water in a small container; place in a small skillet of simmering water and stir until dissolved. Stir vigorously into strawberry mixture; stir in lemon juice.

Turn into refrigerator tray. Freeze (at coldest setting) until mushy; empty into a bowl and beat; turn back into refrigerator tray and freeze rapidly until firm. Serve in meringue shells. Makes 8 servings.

Wise Care of Ham Means Safe Food

How do you store the ham you buy? All mild-cured hams should be refrigerated and used within a week, reminds the Consumer Marketing Information Agent. Read the labels on canned hams, for most canned hams must be stored in the refrigerator.

After the Sunday dinner, store left over ham in the refrigerator and use it within two or three days. It is best not to freeze cured ham. For best flavor, do not store frozen ham longer than 60 days.

After canned ham is opened, use it just as you would other smoked ham. If canned ham is not opened, you may keep it in the refrigerator for as long as 6 months.

Safety first is the rule to follow when storing ham.

Skinless and boneless sardines make a fine company first course when they are served with deviled eggs, celery hearts, pimiento and small crisp inner leaves of romaine. Pass the olive oil and wine vinegar.

You should know this about baking

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Prepared Cereal Used in White Cake Recipe

ORANGE "POP" CAKE is a glowing example of a dream come true for today's busy homemaker. The cake is made with a white mix, an added touch of orange-flavored beverage, beautifully complemented with a simple broiled sugar, butter and cereal frosting.

Orange "Pop" Cake

1 full size package white cake mix
1 12-ounce bottle orange-flavored beverage
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
3 tablespoons orange flavored beverage
1 cup corn flakes

Prepare cake following directions on the package, but substituting measured orange-flavored beverage for liquid. Pour into greased 13x9-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 30 minutes.

Blend butter and sugar; stir in orange-flavored beverage. Add corn flakes; mix well. Remove cake from oven. Spread with frosting mixture. Broil until golden brown and bubbly, about 5 minutes. Cool. Cut into squares. Yield: 12 servings.

Stuffing in Apples Gives Special Touch

If you are having fresh pork in some form other than shoulder, or are having ham for Easter dinner, use stuffed apples as a garnish to provide that special touch.

Stuffed Apples

Core and wipe 6 large baking apples and remove a strip of peel from the stem end of each. Heat ¼ cup of water and melt 2 tablespoons of butter in it. Add 1 cup of prepared stuffing and mix with fork, tossing crumbs until thoroughly moistened.

Fill the apple cavities. Place stuffed apples in a skillet and pour 1 cup of sweetened cranberry juice over them.

Cover the skillet and simmer the apples over low heat until tender—about 8 to 10 minutes. Sprinkle the peeled surface of the apples with a little granulated sugar, glaze them quickly under the broiler and serve as a garnish with your pork or ham.

If you want to cook leafy spinach in the water that clings to the leaves, you'll have to cover the saucepan. But lift the cover a few times during the cooking to help keep the vegetable a bright green.

Subtle Spicing Makes Ham Fritters Different

Our grandmothers liked to cook ham "because you can do so much with it." Sometimes we try to remember what it was they "did."

One thing they did was grind up what was left over of the roast and fashion the meat into delicious creations like ham fritters. Another thing they did was season it in some mysterious way — at the original roasting and in the leftover stage — that made ham a really fittin' dish for company.

The recipe for fritters below is a good one to clip and file. It's old, from grandmother's time to be exact, and has the flavor of a farm kitchen. Probably because it uses a 135-year-old flavoring and seasoning agent that adds a spicy subtle character. Aromatic bitters does things in ham cookery.

Aromatic Ham Fritters

2 cups ground cooked ham
½ cup crushed pineapple, drained
2-3 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-3 cup milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoon Angostura aromatic bitters
Fat for deep frying

In mixing bowl, sift flour with baking powder. Add milk, eggs, Angostura aromatic bitters and mix until smooth. Fold in ham and well-drained pineapple. Drop by teaspoonsful into deep hot fat (350 degrees F.) and fry until golden brown.

Pork Shoulder Delicious Filled With Apple Stuffing

Stuffing your Easter-dinner pork shoulder will make a good meal a feast, Margaret Rudkin of Pepperidge Farm reminds housewives who are planning their menus for that joyous day.

It used to be that stuffing poultry, meat, or fish was associated with elaborate meals, Mrs. Rudkin points out, but today, with prepared stuffing available, you can have that extra touch without the extra work.

If you are planning to stuff your pork shoulder, be sure to have your butcher remove hock, skin, and bones; have one side sewed to make a pocket.

Before stuffing, sprinkle inside and out with salt and pepper. After stuffing, sew or skewer the edges together, place the roast fat side up on a rack in an open pan. Roast in a slow oven (325 F) about 30 minutes per pound or until done.

Apple Stuffing

Pare, quarter, and core 8 large tart apples. Place them in a saucepan, add ½ cup cold water, cover and cook until the apples are tender, but not broken. Cool. Add 2 cups preparing stuffing, 1½ tablespoons of sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, and 1 egg. Toss . b

Fruit Coconut Parfait Frozen in Advance

A hostess at ease is she who makes Strawberry-Coconut-Crumb Parfait hours in advance of the party. She folds into 1 cup of heavy cream, whipped, ½ cup strawberry preserves, 1½ cups coarsely broken coconut cookies, 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract, ¼ teaspoon almond extract and 1 stiffly beaten egg white.

Spread mixture in refrigerator tray and freeze. To serve: Spoon mixture into chilled parfait or sherbet glasses and top each serving with preserves.

Early Settlers Preferred Rice

Sopa De Carne Seca Y Arroz means dried meat and rice soup. This is a soup the early Spanish settlers in California prepared. It uses the readily available native foods of the American Indian, plus other ingredients to satisfy the palate of the Spanish Colonist. The Spanish Colonist used rice in preference to potatoes.

Spanish Settler Soup

2 tablespoons cooking fat
1 cup chopped onions
½ cup uncooked white rice
½ a large green pepper, cut in thin 2 inch strips
1 lb. can tomatoes, broken up
4 ounces (¼ lb.) dried beef, more if desired
About ½ teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups water

Melt the cooking fat in a 2-quart saucepan. Add the onions and rice. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the rice and onions begin to brown. Add the green pepper, tomatoes, dried beef, about ¼ teaspoon of the chili powder, salt and water. Bring to a boil. Turn the heat down.

Cover and simmer about 30 minutes or until the rice is tender. Add more water if a thinner mixture is desired. Taste. Add more chili powder. Serve in soup bowls or individual earthenware casseroles. Hot hard rolls with garlic butter and a crisp lettuce salad are tasty with this soup. This recipe makes 6 servings.

Must Describe Food Honestly on Labels

When is "barbecued" meat not barbecued? When it's baked or roasted in barbecued sauce, says Mary Hixon, county home demonstration agent.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials recently noticed the confused usage of the term "barbecued." After investigation, the department ruled that Federally inspected meats cannot be labeled "barbecued" unless they have been cooked in real home barbecue fashion — by direct heat of a hardwood fire or its coals.

Since 1906, the Federal meat inspection service has been assuring the consumer that all meat and meat products in interstate commerce are honestly labeled, wholesome products.

Look at the label when you buy meat. Labels on Federally inspected meats carry the round inspection seal. The label must be a clear-cut honest description of the product. And, if the product contains more than two ingredients, they must be listed in order of predominance.

Many meat products have minimum standards — chili con carne must contain at least 40 per cent meat, hash — 35 per cent and lamb or beef stew — 25 per cent.

You can buy Federally inspected meat and meat products with confidence, and be sure the U. S. D. A. inspection program protects your food dollar as well as your family's health.

Fold Candy Into Cream for Easy Icebox Cake

Elegant to serve, easy to make, these Chocolate-Peppermint Cream Fingers. Split ladyfingers in half, arrange on bottom and sides of an oiled (1-quart) loaf pan.

Over the fingers, pour a cream filling, made by folding pieces of milk chocolate and crushed peppermint candy into whipped cream, flavored with vanilla. More halves of ladyfingers can be placed over top of filling. Refrigerate several hours. Turn chilled loaf onto a pretty platter when ready to serve.

To the pan gravy of braised veal chops add cream (sweet or sour) and diced cucumbers; spoon over chops.

Tugs and freighters are anchored in a busy harbor as Patrick O'Grady (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. O'Grady of Fernbarry street, plays with boats and blocks at Pontiac Area Day Nursery. Apparently on an imaginative safari into darkest Africa is Jim Misener (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Misener of Wall street, who has chosen rubber jungle animal toys. The attentive little mother behind the engrossed youngsters is Linda Howard, daughter of Mrs. Shirley J. Howard of Oregon drive.

Pontiac Press Photos

Here's one chance to get good and gooey, and mommie won't say a word! Children at Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School are always ready and in their places when fingerpainting time approaches. Their teachers say the school has little or no personality conflicts because this activity affords most of the tots an excellent outlet for getting rid of any aggressions. Working assiduously are (left to right) Norman Plotkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Plotkin of Bloomfield Township; Mark Loos, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Loos of Chippewa road; Lori Lapides, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lapides of Birmingham, and Debbie Peters, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters of Aquarina street.

Nursery School Youngsters Learn to Live With Others

By MARGARET BROWN

Take an assorted number of children, combine thoroughly several days each week, add a stimulating activity program, plus a large dose of genuine affection and patience, and one has all the makings of a nursery school.

In Pontiac, many mothers and fathers are voicing praise for the manifold benefits nursery school training provides their children in the often trying process of socialization.

FIRST NURSERY VISIT

The Pontiac Area Day Nursery was the first child care institution The Pontiac Press visited in attempting to learn more about nursery activities of this area.

Operating on a 6:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. schedule, nursery director Leola Jacques and her three coworkers, Mrs. J. D. Herrington, Mary Zegelien and Mrs. Glenn Beasley, spend a full day meeting the children's many needs and providing indoor and outdoor activities which help to lay foundations for a wide interest in the child's later years.

Each day at 11:45 a.m. the children, who range in age from 2 to 6, gather at their diminutive tables and chairs for dinner. An occasional newcomer may at first dawdle or refuse to eat, but with time adjusts and dines heartily with his companions.

Miss Jacques handles all the meal planning and food purchasing, a job that taxes to the utmost one's adeptness at varying a daily menu. To insure parents that their children are receiving nourishing, well-balanced meals, the menu is posted each day for inspection.

COMMUNITY AGENCY

The nursery, organized in 1929, permits enrollment of 25 children. Nursery day care is supported by the Community Chest of the Pontiac Area United Fund and parents' fees. Working mothers and fathers are well able to meet the charge for child care, as the nursery program designates no flat rate per week. The monthly income of the home as a whole determines the parents' fees.

The window sills and shelves of the comfortable home on Raeburn street abound with various kinds of plants and greenery which the children seem to appreciate and are learning to identify.

Unlike the Pontiac Area Day Nursery with its all-day program, are the two Pontiac nursery schools with membership in the Cooperative Nursery School program, Temple Beth Jacob and All Saints Nursery Schools. Two of the more than 60 cooperatively run nursery schools in the Greater Detroit Area Council, they are state approved and licensed with a trained teaching staff.

Children from 3 years to kindergarten age are enrolled in these schools—two mornings a week from 9 to 11 o'clock for 3-year-olds and three mornings for 4-year-olds.

WORK TOGETHER

Parents and teachers work together in this plan, with mothers taking a designated number of mornings assisting in the planning and evaluation of daily programs. Temple Beth Jacob's non-sectarian school is in its third year of operation, while the nursery at All Saints has been in existence since 1953.

Nursery schoolers are never forced to engage in any one activity. Peg boards, dough kneading, fingerpainting, record playing and block building are just a few of the activities offered the children.

During most of the morning they have free rein in play, except for special "learning experience" sessions. For one such lesson the teacher may employ a picture clipped from a magazine, possibly a family scene, from which the children select names for the individuals and compose a simple story.

The teachers also related that when a child is engrossed with watercolors at an easel, the nursery workers never ask the child what he is painting. Instead, they ask him to tell them about the picture.

NURSERY WORKERS

Mrs. Melvin Eller is the director and founder of Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School. Mrs. Herman Stenbuck is the teacher in charge. Enrollment chairman is Mrs. William Wittan.

At All Saints, Mrs. John Vanderlind is directing teacher, assisted by Mrs. George Carhart, Mrs. Jack Mapley and Mrs. William Rogers, parent chairman.

Approximately 51 children from ages 2½ through 5 are cared for at Pontiac's YWCA each Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Organized in 1951, the Y's nursery is composed entirely of children of YWCA members who are enrolled in courses offered by the association.

Mrs. Hazel Beutler is supervisor of the nursery, assisted by Mrs. Leslie Pickup and Mrs. Leo Vaillaincourt. In order to make the child feel more at home, the Y has formed a "nursery family," designating Mother (Mrs. Pickup) and Grandmother (Mrs. Beutler) figures.

PART OF GROUP

Learning to be part of a group is one of the most valuable responses these children cultivate. They learn group play, songs and nursery rhymes, and play with the toys provided by the Y. If the weather is pleasant, their teachers treat them to an outdoor trek. For mid-day nourishment the youngsters sit down to a nutritious lunch prepared by their mothers, with milk purchased through the YWCA.

The teachers disclosed that the children enjoy their nursery experience so thoroughly that often when a mother returns early to call for her offspring, the child refuses to leave. When the 5-year-olds depart for grade school, the teachers are amused and pleased at frequent visits from the "kindergarten alumni" who return to survey their old stamping grounds.

In each of these nurseries the children's leader has had training in the field of education and has taught in public schools. For most of the children their first interracial contacts are made through the nursery.

This contact, plus the experience of learning to express himself and acquiring acceptable social behavior essential for happy group living, provides a fine stepping stone for that first day mother leaves her child in the care of the kindergarten teacher at elementary school.

It was lunchtime when The Pontiac Press photographer snapped these youngsters who are enrolled in the YWCA's nursery school. Enjoying a tasty snack prepared by their mothers are Joyce Tyrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tyrell of Osage circle, and Terry Hackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hackett of Hammond Lake drive.

Off on a rollicking cruise in the rocking boat at All Saints Nursery School are E. J. Miller, son of the Ernest Millers of Monterey boulevard, and Pamela Lunde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lunde of Gulfside drive. The unique toy, a favorite of the children, was made by the father of one of the nursery schoolers.

Dear Abby....

'Sax' Appeal Needs No Buildup

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who plays sax in the high school band. A visiting band is coming here for a music contest and we have been asked to put the band up.

ABBY

I wrote their bandmaster and asked if I could have one of the boys stay at my house as we have the room. I described myself and sent a picture. Do you see anything wrong with that?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: You were a little too forward. A gal who has "sax" appeal doesn't have to toot her own horn.

DEAR ABBY: My brother just lost his wife (cancer). He is still young (46) and has one married daughter. His wife's body wasn't even cold when all my friends started calling me to get my brother matched up with another woman.

I've had calls from people who suggest divorcees, widows and old maids I'm sure my brother wouldn't care to be seen with.

He was a good husband, had plenty of money and is very good looking, but he's still mourning so how do I answer these nervy people?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Tell them that IF and WHEN your brother is in the market for another wife, you'll gladly offer suggestions IF he asks you.

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office where there are 14 girls. One woman who has the same first initial as mine started looking for a hanky she said she lost in the office. She practically cried about losing it and said it cost her a $1.50 and had her (also my) initial on it.

She made such a fuss about asking everyone 15 times if they saw it that I finally got sick of it and went out and bought her one. It was cheap at $1.50 to shut her up.

Now one of the girls said that proved I took it and replaced it to cover my guilty conscience. How low can people get? NOT GUILTY

DEAR NOT: If YOU know you didn't take it, forget it. Your accuser has a very twisted mind.

DEAR ABBY: I am a newlywed. My husband is stationed in Germany. He wrote and asked me to send him all his civilian clothes. I sent them to him and he hasn't written to me since.

What do you suppose has happened to him? He said he had a week's furlough coming and he wanted to go to a winter resort there.

I hesitate to write his CO and hate to write to his chaplain for fear of embarrassing him. It ha sbeen over three months. Please tell me what to do?

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Have your local American Red Cross find out where he is and how he is.

Dreads Dinner for Boss

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband invited his employer and his wife to dinner and the very thought of entertaining them in our very simple apartment scares me to death. My husband's employer lives in a big house and he and his wife entertain very lavishly and serve delicious food.

"I do my own cooking and prepare the simplest of food. I have suggested to my husband that we take them out to dinner in one of the better restaurants, but he thinks it would be improper since we do have a place of our own to which we can ask them. Will you please help me?"

Answer: I agree with your husband that this special type of man and wife would enjoy dining in your own home and nothing would really disappoint them more than to be told at the last moment that you were going to eat in a restaurant.

My advice to you is set your table attractively and serve only those special dishes that you can cook best, even though these be very simple. And whatever you do, don't attempt something that you have never made before.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My father died recently after a long illness. The members of our church were very kind to us during our bereavement. I was wondering if it would be proper to put a notice in our church bulletin acknowledging the kindnesses of these friends, or must a personal note be written to each and every one of them."

Answer: The notice you speak of would be proper but you should also thank these friends verbally the next time you see them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When visiting in the house of a friend and the house is so chilly as to be uncomfortable, would it be improper to ask the hostess for a sweater?"

Answer: Certainly not! Even if your hostess likes her house less heated than you do, she surely does not want you to be uncomfortable.

Dinner-Dance Is Scheduled by Square Set

Minimize Defects, Emphasize Assets

Buy Clothes That Suit Your Type

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some women lose interest in the way they look at 30 while others feel the challenge of self-improvement at 50.

Most women wish to be as lovely as possible. When a woman is defeated in this wish, it is usually by herself and not her life. In the case of fashion the chic woman of today has learned to consider her own individual type.

Fashion dictates trends but every season there are many styles which are within fashion's OK and the smart woman chooses the one which is flattering to her. It is even possible to do this in the case of the extreme models being promoted currently.

The woman with a small budget would do well to stick to simplicity, good lines and conservativeness in her larger items such as suits, coats and dresses. Extremes are expensive for those without a 'bulging pocketbook because they do not last long. You can go haywire with hats and bags and other accessories without too much damage.

CHECK YOURSELF

Before ever going into a store a woman should take stock of her physical self. For instance, if you are on the plump side do not wear wide belts or belts of a contrasting color or belts which are ornate. Actually, belts of any kind are unbecoming. Only a narrow one of the same material and color as your dress is suitable at all.

If you have a large bust, lift it with a suitable bra and then wear plain, smooth fronts, never full, blousy effects.

If you have a small bust, never wear the kimono - sleeve dresses or blouses. They can make even a fairly large bust seem to disappear. Do wear fullness over the bustline. Smooth fronts should be worn only by women with high busts.

If you are on the overweight side, avoid all horizontal lines. Also avoid skirts cut on the bias. See to it that your skirt fullness or flare begins just below the hips and above the knee.

If you have upper arms which are too fat or flabby, always buy garments with short sleeves. Attractive ones are available in everything from play clothes to evening gowns.

DULL MATERIALS

Presbyterial Has Meeting

Five hundred and fifty women were guests of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday when the Detroit Presbyterial Society, representing 86 churches in this area, met with the association at the church.

Sarah Wylie, missionary to Thailand, addressed the morning session. In the afternoon Edith Brookmiller of Chicago, representing the National Board of Christian Education, spoke to the gathering.

The group was told of 14 graduate scholarships which are being established by the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., to help meet the need for 2,000 more ministers by 1970.

Delegates to the Presbyterian Women Organizations' Quadrennial at Purdue University will be Mrs. Leslie Ellis and Mrs. Harry Pattison.

Mrs. William Hilderley was social chairman, assisted by Mrs. Neil Gray. Hostesses were Mrs. Asa Drury, Mrs. Hugh Little, Mrs. H. R. Fraser, Mrs. E. G. Clark and Mrs. H. E. McCulloch.

'Would Cut Down on Juvenile Delinquency'

Teens Approve Community Behavior Code

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

This may come as a shock to many a harried parent: Teenagers are not opposed to rules.

But they want a hand in making them. And they want them to apply to their friends as well as themselves.

We asked about 500 young people what they think of codes of behavior drawn up in some communities for the teenage crowd.

"I think a teenage code is a wonderful thing and would cut down on juvenile delinquency," said Ray Brown of Jacksonville, Fla.

"I think it would be a lot better for all the kids," said a 16-year-old Denver girl. "Also, it would give the parents less chance to worry."

WISH TO CONFORM

The theory behind these codes of behavior is simple. Most teenagers wish to conform — in fact, fear embarrassment if they do not conform.

If the rest of the crowd stays out until midnight on weekends, he has to be home by 11.

The code gives Johnny a concept of good behavior to show his parents. It gives him bargaining power and may ease the bickering with mom and dad.

Of the youngsters interviewed, 68 per cent felt a code they helped write would be a wonderful idea. More girls—71 per cent — than boys — 65 per cent — were for it.

Generally, the youngsters said parents are too strict and have old-fashioned ideas of fun when it comes to drawing up the rules.

STRONG NEGATIVES

Among the teenagers who opposed the idea, however, there were quite strong negatives.

"In most cases, there would be no teenagers following the code because no teenager likes to be led by the nose," said Pat Burner of Syracuse, N.Y.

"No," said a teenage girl in upstate New York. "A teenager is an individual striving for independence and recognition."

And a 15-year-old St. Louis boy said he was very much against codes "because you get to depend on them and never learn to decide for yourself."

"There is little doubt that teenagers have very definite ideas on what the rules should be.

Ehould parents chaperon at parties? No, say 94 per cent of our teenagers, including 91 per cent of the girls.

At what age should a boy be allowed to begin dating? Fifty-three per cent said 15, 29 per cent 14, 15 per cent 13 and only 2 per cent at 12.

How about the girls? One year younger than the boys was the concensus. Thirty-six per cent said 14, 32 per cent 15, 26 per cent 13 and 4 per cent 12.

Three out of four of the boys — 75 per cent — said they felt the younger they begin dating the more likely they are to run into trouble. Nearly 68 per cent of the girls felt the same way.

"When you are too young, you don't realize what you are doing," said a girl from Fairlawn, N.J. "You get the wrong ideas about dating," a girl from the Midwest said.

TOO MUCH, TOO FAST

"The teenage boy learns too much, too fast," said a 17-year-old lad from Kansas City, Mo.

On the opposite side of the question, a 17-year-old girl from Denver said, "If one starts dating late, he may not know much and fall in love easily."

Between these two extremes of thought was a goodly number of youngsters who felt age doesn't really matter.

"It really all depends on the person," said 16-year-old Carolyn Messina of Flushing, N.Y. "Some girls may have difficulty dating at an early age while others may go along just fine."

Louise Sherman of Tuckahoe, N.Y., said: "If a person has a high standard of morals he would not get into trouble, no matter what age."

UPBRINGING COUNTS

This thought was shared by Don Lawrence, one thousand miles away in Chicago. "A person will act according to the type of upbringing he has had, regardless of his age and when he started dating," Don said.

As far as parties go, most of the young people favor small ones. The vote for small parties was 84 per cent with a whopping 90 per cent of the girls favoring them.

I'd be interested in learning what you readers — teenagers and parents—feel should go into a teenage code. Write me, if you like, in care of this newspaper.

QUESTIONS ASKED

In some areas a group of parents and children or parents and teachers form a committee and make up a Parent-Teenage Code.

The group plans definite hours for parties and dances and advises on how to behave and dress for both boys and girls at social functions. Would you like to have a teenage code that you would help to write or follow?

What age do you think boys should start to date?

What age do you think girls should start to date?

Do you believe that the younger a person starts dating the more likely he or she is to get into difficult situations and become promiscuous?

When going on a party, what type of home party do you prefer — one that parents and adults chaperon and help plan, or one that is run by teenagers themselves?

Dipping sides on a Garbo beauty are good but make it a soft fabric and leave the fedora crowns to "young" beauties.

Light, airy fabrics for the supple look, or stiffened fedora crowns in wool to match your suit, both are really becoming on the right face, and certainly to tall women.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Organized baseball is taking its knocks these days and right from its own front porch.

What hurts most is the fact that much of the criticism directed at the Major Leagues is true.

Bob Feller, one of the greats of the game, puts into words of a nationally syndicated article that his profession was losing ground to other sports and needed a big face lifting.

Another national publication this week carries a story slugged "The Big Leagues are Killing Baseball." The article blames "greedy" owners and officials in the Majors for killing the game.

In essence, most of the attacks on Organized Baseball have evolved around many factors such as television policies, the death of 36 percent of the minor leagues in the last five years and the failure of the Majors to curb their disappearances; of the trend and necessity of shifting franchises and the evils of sweeping clean high schools of talent in the most significant nurturing stage in the life of that youngster.

Realistic baseball men are worried.

CAN LAU TAKE IT?

The Tigers start moving North next week and under Jack Tighe's plan a total of 28 players would make the trip, among which will be three catchers.

Jim Hegan appears assured of his transportation, but that leaves two other seats to be filled and three players available.

At the start of training it seemed certain that Charlie Lau would be the one left behind and he still might be, but now it seems that Detroit is a little leery about discarding Lau.

The husky catcher who hails from Romulus has been hitting the ball at a better clip than either Tim Thompson or Red Wilson although none has been exceptional.

Some feel that Wilson would be involved in some near trade and others figure that Thompson won't make it. One has to go, many would like to see Lau on the opening day roster.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Official starting day for Detroit Lions' football training camp at Cranbrook is July 25th in preparation for the All-Star grid game. Wednesday July 23rd, press, radio, TV men, players and coaches will play in a golf tournament at Meadowbrook.

KATT FOR KING — The St. Louis Cardinals got back catcher Ray Katt from the San Francisco Giants yesterday by trading outfielder Jim King. Katt was part of the Alvin Dark-Red Schoendienst trade in the 1956 season.

Turn Down Offer to Change Dates

Rich Flint Open Golf Tourney Holding Fast Despite Tam Openings

FLINT (AP) — Sponsors of the $52,000 Flint Open Golf Tournament said today they have turned down a chance to take over dates vacated by George May's Chicago golf extravaganzas.

Earlier this week May announced he was cancelling his All-American and World tournaments in a dispute with the Professional Golfers' Assn. His dates covered the last two weeks of July.

The Buick Division of General Motors is sponsoring the Flint tournament, which will run June 19-22 over the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club.

Ed Titus, chairman of the tournament, said he preferred his original dates which fall one week after the National Open tournament at Tulsa. He said the PGA had offered the new dates.

"With May out we now have the richest tournament on the circuit," Titus said, "and I'm sure we'll have almost every name player."

Ken Venturi 'Man to Beat' in Masters

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Winter Tour's Hottest Golfer Looking Sharp

Snead Gets Co-Favorite Role as Classic Opens Today at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS) — Young Ken Venturi, the hottest golfer on the winter circuit, and three-time winner Sam Snead blast off as co-favorites today in the opening round of the Masters Tournament at Augusta.

The two men, who began their golfing careers nearly a score of years apart, were rated by oddsmakers as tops in the international field of some 90 players.

The weatherman predicted that perfect 70 - degree temperatures would settle over the terrain by late afternoon.

Venturi was paired in the opening round with the 1956 winner, Jackie Burke, as the four-day, 72-hole pressure tour got under way. Snead was in a twosome with Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the 1955 champ.

Snead heads the list of former winners on hand for the annual classic over the exacting 6,850-yard Augusta National Golf Course.

Snead won in 1949, '52 and '54 but another triple winner is Jimmy Demaret ('40, '47, '50) while Ben Hogan ('51, '53) and Byron Nelson ('37, '42) won twice each. Defending champ Doug Ford also is present.

The foreign list, larger than usual, is headed by two Japanese stars, Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono, and includes four Australians and players from South Africa, Belgium and France. However, no foreign player has won the Masters since its inception in 1934.

Venturi, a 27-year-old San Franciscan, was remarkably consistent on the winter tours. And his four practice rounds of 69-68-70-67 were the lowest recorded in the pre-tournament tune-ups this week.

That total equals the 274 made by Hogan in 1953 which set an all-time low in the Masters competition.

Venturi is making his third appearance in the Masters and has yet to win his first title.

The slender, good-looking youngster led for the first three rounds of the 1956 tourney when he was an amateur. His final round 80 ruined a chance to make golf history as Burke squeezed in one stroke ahead of Venturi with a 289.

The 44-year-old Snead can establish a Masters' record by winning. A victory would make the Slammer the first man to have four chevrons sewn on the green coat awarded each year to the victor.

No one has ever won the Masters two years in a row, but Ford thinks he will be the first player to do it. Ford says his putter is getting hot again, just as it did before last year's Masters.

Cary Does Not Like Favorite's Role

.....And Middlecoff Agrees

By CARY MIDDLECOFF
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

AUGUSTA NATIONAL GOLF CLUB, April 3 — As post time for the 1958 Masters Tournament gets unnervingly near, the wish of any sensible contestant would be to spend the next four days hitting the ball like Ken Venturi has been doing and putting like the two Japanese entries do.

My information is that Venturi is playing super golf. Also, I am informed that he has been installed as the tournament favorite. I am impressed with the reports of the way the young man is hitting the ball, but the fact of his being made the favorite leaves me cold.

A year ago this week my golfing colleagues and the press bestowed that dubious distinction on me. "Dubious" is indeed the word. Thirty-six holes later I was out of the tournament through failure to survive the cut.

But this is a different year. The putts that seemed to fight to stay out of the hole a year ago could start dropping and change the whole picture. At least it costs nothing to hope so.

My own choices of likely winners is about the same as the rest. You would have to pick Venturi and Billy Casper on the basis of their fine winter performances. And you must give Sam Snead and Ben Hogan a call on the basis of their performances over the years.

The fairways here at the President's favorite golf course are lush and soft, affording very little roll on the tee shots. In fact, the course is playing longer than at any other time in the 12 years I have been privileged to play here.

Such conditions tend to favor the long hitters, and all of the choices aforesaid can, as the saying goes, move the ball.

As to the Japanese and their putting, the reports are that they (Pete Nakamura and Koichi Ono) confidently expect to sweep in everything up to 20 feet, and frequently do. I have not seen them, being too busy trying to master the technique of holing a few myself, but I would have reserved judgment on them anyway.

I want to see how they operate when the Masters people shave the greens down to their usual tournament glassiness. It makes a difference.

EASTER LUCK — Jimmy Demaret pulls a live rabbit out of his golf bag before starting practice for the Masters Tournament in Augusta yesterday. Demaret, three-time Masters champ, won his last tourney here in 1950 on an Easter weekend and he brought the rabbit for hopes of a repeat performance.

Lew Parry New Maples' Coach

Jayvee Coach Picked for Basketball Post at Birmingham

The basketball and baseball coaching jobs at Birmingham High School were filled this week with the appointment of Lew Parry as head cage coach replacing John Petrakis who resigned after seven years at the helm.

Sam Tassio was in turn named head baseball coach filling the job now held by Parry. Tassio was baseball coach at Troy before coming to Birmingham two years ago as football assistant.

Another move was to relieve Parry of the junior varsity basketball post by naming Tom Carson, current tennis coach to the position.

Devore to Coach Irish Freshmen

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's two-year search for a freshman football coach has ended in the appointment of veteran Hugh Devore.

Devore, head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League the last two seasons, was named for the job yesterday by Irish Coach Terry Brennan.

Tonight in 5th Playoff Game

Rangers, Bruins Tangle

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Rangers, forced out of their hometown by a circus, play "host" to the Boston Bruins at the Boston Garden tonight in the fifth game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal series.

Unable to play in Madison Square Garden in New York, the Rangers will have to supply the pucks and Boston Coach Milt Schmidt will have to name his starting lineup first before the teams attempt to break their series deadlock.

New York squared matters at 2-2 with a 5-2 victory Tuesday night. The sixth game is scheduled for Boston Saturday.

Schmidt changed his mind and decided to give his top line of center Bronco Horvath and wingers Vic Stasiuk and Johnny Bucyk another chance—at least for the start of the game.

"If they don't snap out of it and play like they can, I'll break up the line early," the Boston coach said. "They kept us going during the regular season, but haven't done anything in the playoffs."

All-Star Quintet Beats Trotters

DETROIT (AP) — The magic of the Harlem Globetrotters went sour at the hands of the College All-Stars in an exhibition basketball game here last night. The All-Stars, led by Temple's Guy Rodgers, defeated the Globetrotters 75-66.

Rodgers scored 22 points. Vern Hatton of Kentucky scored 18 points for the All-Stars.

Rothbarth, Card Star as Classic Keglers Stay Hot

Despite the absence of two scheduled teams, a total of 50 games of 200 or better and 11 series over 600 were rolled this week in the West Side Classic bowling league.

Earl Card had the top singles of the night with 264 but Les Rothbarth and Bud Marohn were the outstanding overall performers. Both had 248 games while Rothbarth had the edge for series 694 to 683.

The 300 Lounge led the teams with the best single 1055 and the top series 3069.

Sid Abel Gets New Contract

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, fresh out of a humiliating Stanley Cup semifinal playoff, have signed Sid Abel as coach for the 1958-59 National Hockey League season.

Abel, a former Red Wing star who took over the club in midseason, was signed yesterday. The signing took place less than 24 hours after the Wings dropped their fourth straight playoff game to the Montreal Canadiens and bowed out of the postseason series.

Harbert's Drive Second

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., lashed out a 282-yard drive and won second place in the Masters golf tournament driving contest yesterday. George Bayer of San Gabriel, Calif., won the competition with a drive of 282 yards, 10 inches.

Congressmen Demand Title Fight

WASHINGTON (INS) — Two western congressmen demanded today that "unemployed" heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson give a title shot to the winner of the April 9 Eddie Machen — Zora Folley fight — or else!

Reps. Clair Engle (D) Calif., and Stewart T. Udall (D) of Arizona, said the "or else" would be:

". . .we will prepare legislation to set up bona fide national standards and a national supervisory commission which will result in real national championships — not regulated titles controlled by a few New York manipulators."

Their interest is obvious since Machen is from Redding, Calif., and Engle is running for the U.S. Senate from California and Udall is up for re-election in Arizona. Folley's home town is Chandler, Ariz.

They accused Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, of using "eastern city slicker tactics" by refusing to let the champ meet either Machen or Folley, and added:

"If big eastern promoters continue putting the freeze on small town western fighters, we believe Congress should act to prevent such monopolistic conduct. If the last western country - boy champion had been given the runaround Patterson and his handlers have been giving logical contenders today, Jack Dempsey might still be stranded in Mannassa, Colorado!"

Machen, the No. 1 challenger, according to National Boxing Association standards, is undefeated in 23 fights and Folley has only two losses and one draw in 42 bouts.

The congressmen warned:

"We are prepared to slug it out in Congress if Patterson and his manager do any more shadow boxing after the San Francisco fight. The winner should get a title shot sometime this summer. If it ends in a draw, we'll be satisfied if Patterson fights either Machen or Folley."

While beginning the count-down on "eastern city clicker" D'Amato, the lawmakers threw a challenge to Patterson by saying "Patterson is a great fighter but he must prove he is a great champion by meeting the top contenders."

Patterson was offered $150,000 Tuesday to defend his title against one of two other fighters — Nino Valdes or Wayne Bethea. Denver promotor Jo Dupler madee the offer to D'Amato.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

WARREN SPAHN

By BEN OLAN

Warren Spahn has won 20 games eight times during his career. This equals a major league record for lefthanders set by Lefty Grove. In 1957, Spahn won 21 games for Milwaukee and then split two decisions with the Yanks in the World Series.

Spahn played a most important role in the following situation. He came in from the bullpen to put down a budding rally, but not before Manager Fred Haney had to wrestle with several strategical possibilities. How would you have played it?

The St. Louis Cards and Braves are tied 3-3 in the top of the ninth at Milwaukee. Don McMahon (R) is pitching for the Braves. There is one out for St. Louis when pitcher Larry Jackson singles. Ken Boyer's grounder is fumbled by shorshop Felix Mantilla, putting runners on first and second. Both runners advance a base each on a passed ball. The count on Wally Moon (L) goes to one ball and no strikes and at this point Spahn (L) relieves McMahon. Del Ennis (R) is then sent up to pinch-hit for Moon, Stan Musial (L) is on deck with Joe Cunningham (L) to follow.

Would you:

a. Have Spahn walk Ennis intentionally to get to Musial?

b. Bring the infield in and pitch to Ennis?

c. Play the infield back and pitch to Ennis?

(Other data: Ennis is hitting .275 for the season (102-for-371); Musial has one hit in four tries in the game and is batting .333 for the year.)

Result: A — Spahn walks Ennis intentionally. Then he gets Musial to hit into a double play to terminate the side. The Braves score in the 11th and win 5-4 (Aug. 17).

Skowron's Bat Is Booming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It seems Bill Skowron always starts to worry whenever he's pushed into the cleanup spot in the New York Yankees' batting order during the regular season. So Manager Casey Stengel decided he'd put him there in the spring exhibitions and let him get his worryin' over early.

If Skowron still is worrying, this kind of worry could put the guys who make the tranquilizers out of business.

The Moose—not Mickey Mantle—leads the American League champs with a .415 spring batting average, seven home runs, three of 'm grand-slammers, and 20 RBI.

The husky, 27-year-old first baseman who thus far has eluded the injury jinx that always seems to strike when he's going good, rapped two homers for the second day in a row, one his second bases-loaded shot in two days, and drove in five runs yesterday as the Yanks beat Washington 7-5.

Skowron, explaining "I feel good and loose" and hoping all that worrying is behind him, helped push Yankee starter Johnny Kucks into a 6-0 lead with his slam off Camilo Pascual in the second inning. The young right-hander blew most of it, however, and the score was 6-5 after a four-run fifth when Neil Chrisley drove in three with a double.

The Moose then hiked his RBI total to 13 for two days with a solo homer in the ninth off Bud Byerly.

Tony Kubek was the only other man in the lineup to get an extra-base hit (a double) for the Yankees, playing without Yogi Berra (mending a split hand) and Mantle, who missed his first game of the spring because of a dental appointment.

The best pitching of the day came at Sarasota, Fla., where Boston and Pittsburgh each managed just three hits as the Red Sox made off with a 2-0 victory. Both runs scored in the eighth on a pair of wild pitches by rookie southpaw Joe Gibbon. Don Buddin's first inning single was the only base hit in seven off Ron Kline and Bob Smith. Ike DeLock and Leo Kiely combined for the shutout for Boston.

In the other games, Philadelphia caught up late on Harry Anderson's eighth-inning homer, matched a Dodger run in the 12th and finally won 4-3 in 14 innings on a bases-loaded single by Willie Jones.

Shortstop Andre Rodgers turned a drive down the right field line into a two-run, inside-the-park homer in the ninth that gave San Francisco a 9-8 victory over Baltimore. And the Chicago Cubs whipped Cleveland 8-2, scoring three in the first two innings off Mike Garcia, and socking away four in the ninth off Hal Woodeschick on Bob Speake's homer and Lee Walls' bases-loaded double.

Get Speake From Cubs

Giants Trade Thomson

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — The San Francisco Giants today traded veteran right handed hitting outfielder Bobby Thomson to the Chicago Cubs for left handed hitting Bob Speake and cash.

Thomson had rejoined the club in mid 1957 after he had been traded to Milwaukee prior to the 1954 season.

Striving to obtain more left handed hitting, the Giants get a 27-year-old outfielder who hit .232 for the Cubs last season including 16 home runs, 5 triples and 14 doubles. He hit .300 for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League during 1956.

Thomson had a .240 average last season as he divided his time between Milwaukee and the Giants. The 34-year-old outfielder hit .309 for the Giants in 1949 and .293 in 1951 for his best years. He has hit .325 in the spring training games this year.

The amount of cash involved in the deal was not disclosed.

'M' Wrestler Wins in AAU Mat Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Dennis Fitzgerald of the University of Michigan decisioned Mark Bunge of the San Francisco Olympic Club in the opening round of the National AAU Wrestling Championships last night.

Two other Michigan wrestlers lost their matches. Edwin Carr of Pendleton decisioned Ambrose Wilbanks of Michigan and Gerald Williams of Oregon State decisioned Duane Wohlfert of Michigan State.

Pair of Linemen Sign Lions' 1958 Contracts

DETROIT (UP)—The Detroit Lions today announced the signing of two linemen to 1958 football contracts.

Veteran tackle Darris McCord, a 6-foot-4, 245-pounder, agreed to terms for his fourth season with the world champions.

The other player to sign is tackle Dick Marazza, a 6-foot-4, 230-pounder from Clemson. Marazza, 23, was with the Lions last summer but decided to complete work on his college degree.

Redlegs Peddle Palys to Tigers After Victory

Detroit Again Outhits Opponent but Defeat Is 15th in Exhibition

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — An optimist would say the Detroit Tigers are getting the losses out of their system before the regular season opens.

A pessimist would mumble that they're just the same old Tigers who stumbled to an 8-15 exhibition season mark last year and now stand 6-15 in this spring's Grapefruit League play.

The latest loss, which helped bury the Tigers deeper in the cellar of the spring training standings, was a 3-2 decision at the hands of the Cincinnati Redlegs yesterday.

Jim Bunning's gopher ball habit opened the way for all the Redlegs' runs. Gus Bell socked a homer in the first inning with the bases empty and Smoky Burgess hit one with one man aboard in the second. Bunning served up 33 home run pitches last year.

If there is a bright side to it, Bunning allowed only five hits and became the first Tiger pitcher of the 1958 spring training season to go the route.

Two of the hits off Bunning were work of outfielder Stan Palys, who became Tiger property shortly after the game. The Tigers bought Palys for a reported $20,000. Playing with Nashville last season, Palys led hitters in the Class AA Southern Assn. with a .359 average. He drove in 112 runs and hit 24 home runs. He bats and throws right-handed.

The Tigers took the odd way around in getting their runs. The first came when Billy Martin doubled and stole home later on Brooks Lawrence's long windup. Later Reno Bertoia singled and rode all the way home on a double by Bunning.

The Tigers outhit the opposition, which is nothing unusual, but they left eight men on base in the first six innings, six of them at second base or beyond. Harvey Kuenn and Bertoia led the Tigers' eight-hit attack, each with two singles.

The Tigers moved to their home field at Lakeland today for a game with the Philadelphia Phillies. Manager Jack Tighe said he planned to start veteran lefthander Mickey McDermott.

Friday the Tigers will hold a morning workout, Tighe said, and then close their exhibition season with games against the Boston Red Sox Saturday and Sunday.

RUSSELL INJURED — Bill Russell, star center of the Boston Celtics, is helped from the floor after he injured his leg in the play-off series against the St. Louis Hawks yesterday. The Hawks won 111-108 to take a 2-1 edge in the series.

Russell Hurt as Celts Lose Again to St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Boston's chances in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoffs well may rest on how quickly Bill Russell can recover from an ankle injury.

The 6-10 Russell injured his ankle last night in the third game of the series between Boston's Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks. St. Louis won the game 111-108.

Russell was removed from the game and taken to Jewish Hospital. X-rays showed his ankle was badly sprained.

Dr. Stan London said, "We'll start working on it first thing in the morning."

He said Russell "might be ready for Saturday and probably will be in the game" April 9 at Boston.

Russell hurt the ankle when he came down on it hard in the third quarter.

Last night's game, which put the Hawks ahead 2-1 in the best of seven series, was as tough a battle as the first one. The first game was won by St. Louis 104-102. Last Sunday the Celtics won 136-112.

Hawk star Cliff Hagan is still high scorer of the series even though he was held to 18 points last night. He totaled 70 in the first two games.

Hawk owner Ben Kerner, who is not known for his calmness when the pressure is tight, stormed at Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, and the officals near the end of the game.

Kerner said Hannum demanded that the officials, Mendy Rudolph and Arnie Heft, quit showing preferance for Celtic Coach Red Auerbach.

Kerner said Hannum demanded that he be permitted to stamp on the floor as he claimed Auerbach has done several times during the series.

Spectators Join Wrestling Show

Brawl Erupts Near End of Hady-Crusher Match at City Armory

The disturbance involving numerous spectators erupted near the end of the feature match between Jim Hady and the Masked Crusher. Each wrestler had one fall when they tumbled out of the ring, carrying referee Al Thomas with them.

Fans entered the act, trying to help Hady hold off the Crusher as the two grapplers waged a fist fight on the floor. The match was declared "no contest" by the state wrestling commission.

In yesterday's other bouts, Dynamite Johnny Gates defeated Louie Papineau in two straight falls with back-breaker holds and Dino Bravo was the winner over Danny Lerrazzo on a disqualification.

A six-man free-for-all will feature the next mat program, scheduled Friday, April 18, at the Armory.

Grid Thoughts Stir at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty will have his toughies playing musical chairs for positions when football practice opens at Michigan State Monday.

Daugherty has been forced to make this spring workout a season of change because of the loss of 19 seasoned seniors.

There are 24 lettermen returning from the group that won eight and lost one last season but only 13 of them played as much as 100 minutes last fall.

Daugherty, back from a long winter tour on the banquet- coaching clinic circuit, has a lot of positions to fill.

There are three lettermen left at tackle. The only center with any seasoning is Wilks, with 66 minutes last fall.

The squad is deep in guards with seven lettermen returning but this position is going to be robbed to help bolster the weak spots.

Panitch, at quarterback, is a senior this year with three years of valuable understudy experience. Larry Bielat will be the second man.

Other changes contemplated include Greg Montgomery from quarterback to end, Don Wright from guard to center, Rich Peterson from tackle to center, Paul Rochester from guard to tackle, Cliff Larose from guard to tackle and Larry Cundiff from tackle to center.

Workouts will be held five days weekly for the four weeks with Fridays and Saturdays the days off. The varsity - old timers game May 3 will wind up the spring exercises.

Grand Rapids Five Rolls 2,975

State Team Leads ABC

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A crew of young and comparatively unknown bowlers from Grand Rapids, Mich., were sitting on top of the Open Team division of the American Bowling Congress championships today with a 2,975 series.

The Ben Duthler's team, whose average age is 26, chalked up plump games of 973, 1,089 and 913 last night to oust the Phillips Equipment squad, Harrisburg, Pa. from the lead it had held since March 30 on the strength of a 2,945 performance.

A 36-year-old Methodist minister came up with the most imposing performance in the minor events yesterday. The Rev. Ivan Greenfield, Madison, N.Y., posted a 635-574-637—1,846 to take second place in the all-events standings.

Dave Larson's 1,823 earned the Kenosha, Wis., bowler sixth place in the same category and was the only other change in the minor events during the 72-day tournament's fifth day.

Local Team Bowls 2,802 in ABC Meet

The Pontiac Motor Mongrels, captained by Lloyd Hottman, bowled a team total of 2,802 in the ABC tournament Monday night at Syracuse, N. Y. Clair Kelley, and George Bishop are other members of the team. The Mongrels game average was 890. Top team score in the tourney thus far is

Colavito Target of Chisox in Trade Talk With Tribe

TAMPA, Fla. (INS) — The Chicago White Sox were reported negotiating today for a "giant" trade with the Cleveland Indians, with Rocco Colavito of Cleveland as their chief target.

Vice president Chuck Comiskey of the Sox announced in Tampa shortly before the team broke spring training camp that he has been in telephone communication with general manager Frank Lane of Cleveland.

Steve O'Neill, who has been scouting the Sox for Cleveland, told Comiskey that Lane would like to make a deal.

"Lane confirmed the report" Comiskey said.

The White Sox official said he was interested in getting a "good righthanded hitting outfielder." Lane, who secured Minnie Minoso of the Sox last December, indicated that he might be willing to trade Colavito.

Since first baseman Vic Wertz of Cleveland is out for three months with a broken right leg, it was apparent that Lane was seeking a first baseman. This would indicate that the Sox might include first baseman Walt Dropo in such a trade.

Lane reportedly will offer the Sox rookie Carroll Hardy, former University of Colorado football tailback and a good hitting outfielder in the minors.

Meanwhile, Comiskey announced he has been in touch with general manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox. Comiskey said he is interested in securing outfielder Gene Stephens.

Ex-Champion Smith Barred From Ring

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—Battered former lightweight champion Wallace "Bud" Smith was pulled out of the ring by the National Boxing Assn. yesterday. It was the 29th birthday of the Cincinnati fighter who said, "I can't believe I was ever champion."

The suspension came less than 24 hours after Smith was hammered into submission by little-known Gomero Grennan of Bimini in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-rounder at Miami Beach Tuesday night.

It was the 11th straight licking for Smith who was knocked out in six of the bouts.

Smith won the title in 1955 from Jim Carter.

Althea Keeps on Winning

The tall New Yorker, who has been holding herself graciously in check to avoid embarrassing weaker opponents, yesterday eliminated Mildred Thornton of Boston 6-3, 6-0.

Miss Felix advanced to the fourth round by defeating Owen McHaney, Rollin College, 6-4, 6-4.

In men's singles, Mervyn Rose of Australia meets Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., who yesterday upset Mike Green of Miami Beach 6-1, 6-1. Green is 12th ranked nationally while Frost is unranked.

County Red Cross Inaugurates Program

Men Sought to Act as 'Patient's Friend'

Oakland County's American Red Cross chapter is preparing to inaugurate another Michigan first according to Mrs. Mildred Bennett, executive director.

Phone applications are now being accepted for men as well as women who wish to become "the patient's friend," more commonly known as the Gray Lady program.

The chapter is offering two courses this spring — one for men, the first of its kind in Michigan, and one for women.

Applications will be accepted until April 15. Registration for the courses will be held April 23 at 1:30 p.m. at the chapter house, 113 Franklin Blvd.

The men will be trained to work at the Oakland County Medical Facility and the women at Pontiac State Hospital.

The course includes 12 classroom hours, consisting of an orientation to the Red Cross, medical ethics, the psychology of the sick, orientation to hospitals and doctors, patient, nurse and volunteer relationships. Twenty supervised floor hours in the hospital complete the course. Volunteers are expected to work 150 hours per year in their assigned hospital.

The Community Services Committee of the Oakland County CIO Council, under the chairmanship of Arthur Heaton, is assisting in the recruitment and organization of the male class.

The jobs of the volunteers will include services to patients such as assisting in feeding them, arranging flowers, distributing mail, playing cards and various other games to amuse them; answering letters, and becoming personal shoppers.

Man Learns Not to Give Anyone Time of Day

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Never ask Willie Jackson the time of day.

Tight-Rope Artist Falls Off Wire as Circus Opens

NEW YORK (AP)—A tight-rope walker performing without a safety net spun off a slanting wire and plunged 18 feet to the floor of Madison Square Garden last night at the opening of the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The performer, Harold Alzana, 39, suffered a broken wrist, a broken ankle and a mild concussion. He was taken to St. Clare's Hospital, where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

The circus opened its 88th season with a five-day preliminary run in Charlotte, N.C., before coming to the Garden for a six-week stay.

Outlandish clowns frolicked merrily. Dressed chimpanzees monkeyed around in the center ring looking too human for comfort as they rode bicycles, danced, beat drums and hammed it up.

Hospital Releases TV Heart Patient

DETROIT (INS)—Carl Miltenberger, 65, of Battle Creek, the "star" of an operation televised in Michigan two weeks ago, walked out of Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital yesterday—something he could not do when he entered.

The patient praised doctors and nurses at the hospital for making his stay "really wonderful."

Miltenberger said he plans to rest a month and then return to his job as a railroad machinist.

He will return to the hospital in a month for a checkup, although a complete physical examination yesterday showed him to be in excellent condition.

Soybeans Firm, Grains Unsure

CHICAGO — Soybean futures prices were firm, but the grains were steady to weak today in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

The scattered buying of soybeans followed word that the Department of Agriculture had authorized Italy to purchase about 8½ million dollars worth of U. S. soybean or cottonseed oil between April 9 and July 31, but there were no indications of how much of each Italy may take.

Dealings were light in all pits. Traders said that since the Board of Trade will be closed tomorrow, Good Friday, there was some hesitancy about making sizeable commitments for the long weekend.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ to ⅞ cent a bushel lower, May $2.18⅜; corn ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, May $1.19¾; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 66½; rye ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.31; soybeans ⅜ to 1 cent higher May $2.27¼; lard 12 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.87.

Ford Reduces Prices on Fairlane Models

DETROIT (AP) — Reductions of $15 and $16 have been made by Ford Division on its Fairline V-8 sedans and Fairlane 500 V-8 sedans and hardtop models.

At the same time it has advanced the price of its Cruise-O-Matic transmission by $10.80 and made the 292 cubic inch engine standard on station wagons and Fairlane 500 models. The 332 cubic inch engine had been standard on these models.

The price readjustments are understood to have been made to align Ford more with comparable Chevrolet models.

Eisenhowers at Farm

8 Arrests Solve 24 Theft Cases

Youths Plead Guilty to Car Stripping, Larceny of Gasoline

State Police today said they have cleared up at least 24 cases of auto stripping and larceny of gasoline with the arrest of eight youths.

Pontiac Post Troopers Gerald Tafel and Wilbur Rykert are seeking five others implicated in the thefts and believe still more cases will be cleared up.

Robert Monany, 21, of 5191 Clintonville Rd., Clarkston, and his brother Gary, 19; James Smith, 19, of 5280 Westview Rd. Clarkston; Dale Woods, 18, of 5091 Eastview Rd. Clarkston; Charles Edson, 19, of 3524 Walson Rd., Lake Orion, and Jerry McKee, 17, of 198 W. Walton Blvd., Pontiac.

All received 60-day sentences in the county jail.

A warrant charging larceny from an auto has been issued for Thariel Wicker, 26, of 2085 S. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, and four others are being sought for simple larceny.

The troopers said most of the crimes occurred in the Clarkston, Waterford Township and Lake Orion areas.

5,000 Brewery Workers Strike 5 Detroit Firms

DETROIT (AP) — About 5,000 brewery workers are on strike against Detroit's five breweries today. They walked out yesterday in contract renewal disputes with Strohs, Goebel, Pfeiffer, National and E&B.

The brewery workers are members of Brewery Worker's Union Local 3 and 38 and Bottlers Local 181.

Firm Passes Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — Fruehauf Trailer Co. directors have passed a common stock dividend for the third quarter in a row, but declared a $1 quarterly dividend on 4 per cent preferred stock payable June 2 to stockholders of record May 16.

Trade Moderate —Losses Slight

Fractional declines were the rule for most leading issues. A number were unchanged or slightly ahead.

The opening was active as prices moved lower in a continuation of yesterday's market break, the worst since Jan. 10.

Analysts noted that the market averages had pierced the "support level" represented by the interim lows of mid-March and that the technical outlook is for prices to find another support in the area of the 1958 low.

Lorillard, yesterday's most active stock and up 1¼, continued to gain, adding a fraction. United Aircraft, Youngstown Sheet, Goodyear and Southern Pacific also were ahead slightly.

Oscoda Base Awards Construction Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—Construction contracts for work at Wurtsmith Air Force Base near Oscoda were awarded to firms at Saginaw and Lowell by the Army Corps of Engineers today.

A $52,470 electrical contract involving modification of electrical facilities went to Hugh Laundra Electric, Inc., of Saginaw.

CARRIES HIS SUPPER — Fidel Castro, leader of the Cuban revolutionists, carries his supper as he marches through a small town in western Oriente province. The chicken was given to the 31-year-old bearded revolutionist by a farmer, who is a supporter of the 26th of July (rebel) movement. Castro, who is banking heavily on his 2,000-man force and a general civilian strike against the government, predicted that the Batista regime would fall by mid-April.

UAW Rejects AMC Proposal

Hits Company Plan for 2-Year Freeze on Pay and Fringe Benefits

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers has rejected American Motors' suggested two-year freeze on wages and fringe benefits for the firm's automotive workers.

The union said it "deplored the fact that American Motors seeks to put the whole or major cause of its competitive disadvantage on the shoulders of its workers."

The company told the UAW earlier it will seek new contracts to eliminate further cost-of-living allowances and the built-in annual pay raise of 6 cents an hour based on increased productivity.

The union will open contract talks with AMC April 15. The present three-year pact, covering 10,000 union members, expires June 15.

Edward L. Cushman, AMC vice president for industrial relations, told a news conference his firm has "higher wages, more costly benefits and plant practices" than its Big Three competitors, General Motors, Chrysler and Ford.

He said a wage freeze would permit the other three firms to catch up with AMC in labor costs.

Negotiations will be resumed at Ford April 11 and at Chrysler April 15. Talks at General Motors are in recess until Tuesday.

Fishnet Snarls Truck Fighting Boat Fire

GALILEE, R.I. (AP)—Fire fighters were called to put out a blaze aboard a fishing boat tied up at a pier and had more trouble with a fish net than they had with the fire.

A big net became entangled in the wheels of a fire truck. For two hours the firemen tugged and hauled to no avail. Finally, they jacked up the truck, removed the wheels and unsnarled the net.

The fire was not serious.

Old Sock Getting Heavy

Savings Deposits Zooming

Compared with the $5,484,606 increase during the same quarter of 1957 it would appear that the thrift of Michigan citizenry has increased a startling 400 per cent."

Wilson said savings in the state's 319 banks now total close to two billion dollars. Current figures for national banks are not yet available, he said, but are estimated at more than one billion three hundred million dollars.

Together with saving funds of more than one billion dollars in savings and loan associations and 250 million in credit unions, total savings add up to more than four and one-half billion dollars, Wilson said.

"While some people may lack confidence as to the future outlook," he said, "such views certainly are not held by the many millions who deposit in banks and savings institutions if this increased pace of savings is to be considered as a current economic trend."

Will Reaffirm Faith in Easter Bunny Sunday Afternoon

Kids to Hunt Eggs at City Parks

About 3,000 youngsters age 11 or younger are expected to demonstrate Easter Sunday that faith in the Easter bunny is not dead.

With the assistance of three civic groups, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has planned another city-wide Easter egg hunt that will begin 2 p.m. Sunday at four city parks.

Officials are getting 3,600 hard-boiled eggs ready for hiding and have 200 special awards on hand to present to the lucky boys and girls who find specially marked eggs.

In addition, every child who participates in the hunt will receive a small gift, said David R. Ewalt, parks and recreation director.

Assisting this year are the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Northside Kiwanis Club and the Community Organizations of Pontiac.

Jaycees are helping out at Murphy and Jaycee Parks, Kiwanis members at Oakland Park and the community group at Beaudette Park.

Murphy Park is at East boulevard and Elm street, Jaycee at Joslyn road and Walton boulevard, Oakland at Montcalm and Glenwood avenues and Beaudette is off Orchard Lake avenue east of Telegraph road.

The parks selected are located in different sections of the city so the parents can take their children to the park that is nearest their home, Ewalt said.

Not So Indigent

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A $1,000 bill, wrapped in a small roll of cloth, was found in the room of May L. Sheeks, 86, who died at the Jackson County Home for the Aged Tuesday night. Miss Sheeks entered the home March 19, 1957, as an indigent person. The money was turned over to the woman's guardian.

Congress Gets Pentagon Plan

Ike Says His Proposal Would Give McElroy Greater Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today sent Congress a six-point Pentagon reorganization plan. He said it would give the secretary of defense authority for truly unified military operations.

In a 7,000-word special message Eisenhower said: "We must remove all doubts as to the full authority of the secretary of defense."

Eisenhower said that separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever.

He proposed that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be continued, but said that in the future they should serve as a staff assisting the secretary of defense in his exercise of direction over unified commands.

"Strategic and tactical planning must be completely unified, combat forces organized into unified commands, each equipped with the most efficient weapons system that science can develop, singly led and prepared to fight as one, regardless of service," the message said.

Even before the message reached Congress, there had been doubts voiced by some influential legislators as to whether the secretary of defense should have greatly increased power.

Eisenhower's program would strip the civilian heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force of direct authority over military operations. In effect, they would be left as merely executive agents.

Eisenhower also proposed—despite opposition in Congress—that in the future all appropriations for the three services be earmarked for handling by the secretary of defense, instead of being channeled by Congress to the three services.

Chrysler Executive Declares Optimism

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A Chrysler official declared today the potential of the nation's economy "is very real" and called for an aggressive effort to stimulate sales and employment.

"There are many conditions today," Newberg said, "which are right for making possible a recovery in automobiles sales in the weeks and months ahead.

"The potential in the market is very real — and it's our job to make sure we realize these potentials."

Waterford Hit by 3 Break-Ins

Thieves Enter Home, Restaurant and Station Within 24 Hours

Three break-ins, involving a home, a restaurant and a service station, were reported in Waterford Township during the past 24 hours. Police said there was an attempt made to enter another service station.

The home, at 5119 Farm Rd., was entered between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. yesterday by thieves who apparently reached through the milk chute and unlocked the side door.

Mrs. Donald Ryden of that address said a box of inexpensive jewelry and other minor items were missing.

Cigarettes and small change were taken from the White Swan Restaurant, 4370 Highland Rd., and Dean's Service, 4396 Highland, police said. Both establishments were entered last night by breaking rear door windows. Ten dollars was taken from the till at the restaurant.

Police reported an attempt to enter the J. & E. Service Station, 440 Tecumseh St., by a rear window last night. Nothing was reported missing, however.

Police Stay in Dark on Light Post Theft

Sherman, 28, was seized by detectives yesterday on a charge of stealing the nine city street lighting poles which were found in his truck.

Sherman told the detectives he worked for the city picking up the old poles but they said he couldn't produce identification and was jailed.

The detectives said they couldn't figure out how Sherman got the poles on the truck. They are 12 feet long, made of cast iron, and weigh 200 pounds each.

Four city workers with a crane moved the poles from Sherman's truck. Asked how he loaded them alone, Sherman just flexed his muscles and grinned.

Williams Criticized for Debt Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Williams' inability to tell a House committee the amount of Michigan's debt has been criticized by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich).

"Inasmuch as the interest on the state debt must amount to a tidy sum," Hoffman said in a House speech yesterday, "it would seem that before offering a panacea the governor should at least know something about fixed charges which the Legislature must meet by taxation."

Williams, a Democrat, was asked by Rep. Curtis (R-Mo) how much the state owes. The question was posed while the governor testified before the House Ways and Means Committee in a hearing on unemployment compensation Monday.

"I could not answer you that directly, sir," Williams replied. "I do not know."

Hoffman said the debt amounts to 519 million dollars.

Ice Cutters Work to Clear Big Jam on Lake Huron

Officers aboard the Coast Guard cutter Acacia said the River is two to four feet below its natural level because of what appears to be two fields of slush up to eight feet thick in the lake.

One field, about 20 miles long, extends north from the river mouth to Lexington on the Michigan shore of the lake and the other, extending south from Port Sanilac, is about 12 miles long.

The Acacia is assisted by the cutter Tupelo in the clearing operations. The Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw was expected to arrive today to join in the project.

The Coast Guard said the main bottlenecks are at Stag Island, near Marysville, and at nearby Harsens Island. Both lie in the river.

The only vessels that passed through yesterday were the downbound tanker Polaris assisted by the tugboat Gaynor, headed for Lake Erie from Lake Huron.

Former Ecorse Mayor Becomes Sick at Trial

DETROIT (INS) — Former Ecorse Mayor William Voisine became ill yesterday at his graft conspiracy trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Voisine, who suffers from diabetes and a heart condition, became ill in the afternoon and Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy immediately called a recess until today.

Twelve other persons are on trial with the former mayor.

Black Bears in Daze

BOSTON—In hot weather black bears like to lie in damp places and occasionally are semidorment for a few days.

HAPPY HECKLER — On a recent visit to New York City, comedian Groucho Marx took great pleasure in shooting his barbed witticisms at stuffy citizens and crusty institutions of the big town. Groucho's comedy quiz show, "You Bet Your Life," is presented by NBC-TV Thursdays at 8 p.m.

Now TV's Censoring Even Record Covers

By EARL WILSON

When Steve Allen plugged Marie McDonald's "The Body Sings" album, somebody took the precaution of painting out some of Marie's cleavage (isn't that a new low!—no pun intended). Mike Todd Jr., a real nice young man, is expected to take immediate steps to settle the complaint of Joan Blondell who said Mike Sr. (her ex) owed her $80,000. He'll probably settle other claims, too, to protect his father's name.

WILSON

ERIN

Susan Strasberg was lunching on one of the expensive dishes at the Forum, and, upon finishing, inquired, "Can I take the rest of this home to my dog?"

"Do you have a dog?" asked the headwaiter.

"No," she admitted, "but I've got a brother."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Breezy Comic Hits Stuffiness

Marx Raps Sponsors of TV Shows for Being Overly Timid

By CHARLES MERCER

Once he had ensconced himself in the rather fabulous apartment of his friend, comedian Ernie Kovacs (who has a refrigerator in one of his bathrooms, etc., etc.), Groucho went about cheerfully insulting all forms of pretentiousness and gaily assaulting some of the crustier institutions.

Numerous New Yorkers, suffering lately from advanced stages of stuffiness, loved it.

When waiters bowed and fanned him into a posh restaurant, he remarked to the headwaiter: "This is the only restaurant in the world where it takes eight waiters to find a table for you."

AND WHO PAYS?

Ordering chopped beef, he told the headwaiter: "I can remember when a hamburger cost 10 cents. Now it costs four dollars. Why can't they keep prices down to a decent inflationary level?"

Turning to a so-called television critic, he asked: "Why are there television critics? They're the only critics the world has ever known who criticize things the world will never see again."

It was refreshing to hear Groucho, a sponsored entertainer, say that television sponsors are overly timid and generally exert a repressive force on creative talent.

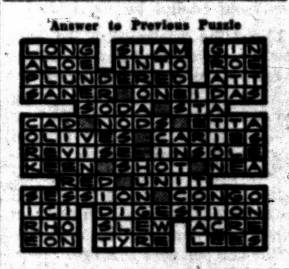

EXCESS TIMIDITY

"If Will Rogers were alive today he wouldn't dare make fun of Congress and be the critical wit he was 'way back when. They'd run him out of the country."

Waste Pine Stumps Bring Many Millions

There's $600,000,000 a year in them thar stumps.

The lowly pine stump left behind as waste by loggers has been parlayed by Mississippi into a multi-million dollar industry that reached into mines, mills and milady's boudoir.

The emergence of pine oil as a major industry in Mississippi is part of the new industrial look in the state. Last year, new industry investment in Mississippi totalled a record $115 million as the drive to attract investment capital hit its stride.

Under the guidance of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, more and more industries are coming to the state, existing industries are expanding. Pine oil producers and users are part of this new prosperity which has resulted in Mississippi pacing the nation in industrial employment, advancing 18.9 per cent in the past decade as compared with the national 12.9 per cent average.

Producing one of industry's most valuable and versatile compounds, pine stumps yield not only pine oil but resins, turpentine and dipentene, all of which have wide industrial application.

PRODUCE PINE OIL

Until 1909, the possibilities of recovering pine oil from stumps was completely unexploited. The vast acres of stumps left behind by loggers were wasteland. Although they were known to be potentially rich in wood by-products, no workable method had been devised to recover them.

In 1909, an enterprising Mississippian, Homer T. Yaryan, built the world's first commercially successful plant in Gulfport, Miss. Today, the nation's largest pine oil producer, Hercules Powder Company in Hattiesburg, Miss., processes some 2,400 tons of pine stump wood daily.

Until 1950, pine oil's principal use was as a flotation agent in mining operations. It also had limited use as a preservative and as a perfume base. Then it got into the nation's broom closets in the role of disinfectant, deodorant and detergent and pine oil took a quick upswing into big business status. Today more than 50 per cent of the annual 9,500,000-gallon production is channeled into household cleaning products.

Pine oil, a clear fragrant fluid in its original form, is added to soaps, detergents and polishes to speed their cleaning, wetting and polishing action.

Textile processors, dyers, laundries and related industries use pine oil as a wetting agent. It is also used in the manufacture of inks, paints and varnishes; in the formulation of cutting oils, degreasing compounds and adhesives; in leather tanning; as a component in various types of polishes, soaps and sweeping compounds; as a major ingredient in cattle sprays and insecticides; as a drug store medicament; as a preservative, and as a perfume base.
