Bloomfield Hills Golfers Lead in Press Tourney

Bloomfield Hills' five-man golf team headed into the final nine holes of the Pontiac Press Invitational Prep golf tournament with an upset victory and a tourney record within reach.

The Barons held a 189-197 lead over Royal Oak Kimball as the 100 participants from 20 high schools started play on the more difficult back nine.

Jim St. Germain of Northville led the individual medal play after nine holes with a two-under par 33.

The 18-hole tourney concludes this afternoon.

Birmingham Seaholm set the team record in 1959 with a 390. Pre-tourney favorite Milford appeared to be out of the running.

The Redskins were in fourth place at the halfway mark with 208, seven strokes behind third place Rochester.

Defending team champion Walled Lake was well down in the list.

Marc Eason of Oak Park, who upset St. Germain to win the medal trophy last year, faltered to a 40 on the front nine.

Al Sedman of Southfield posted the lone eagle of the morning nine-hole round. He chipped in from 40 feet out on the ninth hole.

The eagle gave him a 40.

Seaholm, winner of the tourney five times, is not competing this year.

When the Maples withdrew, Milford moved in to keep the field at 20 teams. Only if one team withdraws is another allowed to enter.

In recording his 67, Panasiuk birdied five holes and did not take a bogey. He had only 29 putts.

Green had four birdies and one bogey.

Five golfers were bunched at 73, including Ted Kroll, Franklin Hills; Roy Beattie, Plum Hollow; Jim Picard, Tarn O'Shanter; Dave Redinger, Lansing; Alden Briggs, Detroit Country Club.

Seek Last of French Kidnapers

PARIS (AP)—With three men in jail, police launched a man-hunt today for the suave, high-living mastermind behind the kidnaping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of a rich warplane builder.

A car the man stole in his getaway was found abandoned in a suburb.

"The chief was charming with me," the 63-year-old Paris socialite said after two gentlemen stumbled on to the gangsters' hideout in an abandoned farmhouse north of Paris and freed her yesterday. "But they are dangerous men. I wasn't afraid but I was ready for anything."

The frail but perky Mrs. Dassault said the gang leader talked with her for many of the hours she was held in the farmhouse. He boasted of his exploits and said he had beautiful apartment in Paris, she added.

Relating her experiences in an interview today with her 73-year-old husband at her side, Mrs. Dassault said:

"He said he had to conduct three or four big operations each year in order to live like he wanted to live."

NO RANSOM

The motive for the kidnaping was ransom, but Dassault, who makes the planes for President Charles de Gaulle's nuclear strike force, said none was paid.

It was Mrs. Dassault's darling that led to her discovery. Two village gendarmes, poking around outside the ramshackle farmhouse shouted: "Is anyone here?"

Mrs. Dassault startled her armed guard by shouting "Yes! Don't leave!"

The guard, identified as Yathieu Costa, 26, a Corsican bartender, meekly surrendered his pistol when the gendarmes came pounding into the farmhouse. He insisted some friends offered him money to guard the farmhouse. Two other suspects were arrested shortly thereafter.

NOT MISTREATED

Although she had, belted a kidnaper in the stomach with her umbrella when she was seized outside her Paris home, Mrs. Dassault said she was not mistreated.

Asked if she had thought of escaping, Mrs. Dassault replied: "If I wasn't freed by Tuesday I would have done anything. I had a box of matches and I thought of setting the house afire to attract attention."

'Fire Dance' Takes Life of Seventh Victim

12 Are Critical, 75 Badly Burned in San Francisco Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The latest victim was identified at Presbyterian Hospital as Tau Letiti Jr. Like the others who died, Letiti was a member of the city's Samoan community.

Seventy-five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

One of the three Samoan fire dancers who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

David Quaine, for five years a night club fire dancer, told newsmen he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked candles he was in his act.

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a lighter and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun, an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up.

Members of the Samoan Catholic Benevolent Society rushed for a front exit.

William Murray, fire chief, said there would have been no disaster if the group hadn't panicked. Fleeing men and women, he said, clawed at one another savagely.

All available emergency vehicles were used to carry the victims to 10 hospitals in the city. Mayor John F. Shelley declared the holocaust a disaster, and, for the first time, the city's disaster corps mobilized private ambulances and medical facilities to ease the burden on public facilities.

He added that the Republican nominee should be a man who "will uphold, earnestly, with dedication and conviction, the principles and traditions of our party."

Eisenhower said foreign affairs requires "calm, painstaking study of all the infinitely complex situations that confront us—whether in Southeast Asia, in Cuba, or wherever danger threatens or opportunity beckons—followed by firm decision and prompt but carefully conceived action."

"Right now the nation's most critical domestic challenge involves man's relation to his government and also to his neighbor — the issue of civil rights. 'The nation has a profound moral obligation to each of its citizens, requiring that we not only improve our behavior but also strengthen our laws in a determined effort to see benefits which no agency of government, national, state or local, has the right to abridge.'

"As the party of Lincoln, we Republicans have a particular obligation to be vigorous in the furtherance of civil rights."

Locked Gates Are Blamed as Fans Crushed

Newspapers Estimate at Least 260 Dead in Sports Disaster

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Locked gates at the end of exit tunnels in Lima's sports stadium were blamed by some witnesses today for the deaths of hundreds of stampeding fans at a riotous soccer game.

Still reeling from the shock of the sport world's worst disaster, officials were unable to estimate the toll of dead 24 hours after death struck. Newspapers estimated from 260 to 315 fatalities, with hundreds more injured.

There were 45,000 persons in the stands when, with Argentina leading 1-0, a goal for Peru was nullified. The referee had called a foul.

Fighting broke out among some irate fans and police as the referee and players were escorted from the field after the game was declared ended with Argentina the winner. Witnesses said disaster came when police fired tear gas into the stands to try to quiet the fans.

The crowds fought furiously to get to the exits. The south gates were open, and thousands got out that way. But those who ran through the tunnels for the northern exit gates found too late that the gates were locked.

DESCRIBED HORROR

Witnesses described the horror that followed: fans racing into the tunnels, piling one on another, screaming, crying for help. Many smothered. Some fell and were trampled to death.

The great press of bodies finally burst open the gates, and the lucky ones fled into the street, gasping for breath. Behind them in the tunnels lay the bodies of the dead and injured.

Then, said witnesses, the madness seemed to ease, and spectators joined police in carrying the dead, dying and injured into the streets.

Many were bitter because police fired tear gas into the stands, where witnesses said most of the fans were concerned only with trying to get away from the rioting and to flee the stadium.

EXPLAINED WHY

A government statement, deploring the tragedy, explained why police opened up with tear gas.

"It was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder," the statement said.

"The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated by a trivial incident."

The incident was this: A fan rushed out on the field at the referee and was collared by police. This touched off an uproar in the stands, and later fans began pouring out on to the playing field.

Newspapers of Lima reflected the shock felt by the nation. Some of the headlines read:

Expresso: "Collective Madness: 315 Dead, Thousands Injured." El Comercio: "The Worst Tragedy in the Annals of Sports: Nullification of Peruvian Goal Causes Disaster at the Stadium." Correo: "Terrible Tragedy in the Stadium. More Than 300 Dead, 2,000 Injured."

RIOTS COMMON

Riots are common at soccer matches around the world, but none with disastrous results. In fact, while the rioting was in progress in Lima, police broke up a riot at a local soccer match in Buenos Aires' Independiente Stadium with tear gas and clubs. Many fans were arrested there.

Officials gave this version of the play in the soccer game between Peru and Argentina that started the riot:

The Peruvian right wing kicked the ball toward the goal defended by Argentina. The ball sailed through several defenders but Argentine halfback Horacio Morales stopped it.

Morales tried to kick the ball into a corner out of bounds. As he did so he was struck intentionally from behind by Peru's left wing, Victor Lobaton.

Enrollment Jump Expected at OU, Foundation Told

Oakland University Foundation held its annual meeting on the campus and listened to a report from Chancellor D. B. Varner of past happenings and probable steps ahead.

A material increase in enrollment is anticipated next fall, and even though 178 have been graduated, the totals in September should run near 1,800.

The chancellor forecast even greater increases in the future. Current officers were re-elected. They are: Harold A. Fitzgerald, president; Don E. Ahrens, vice president; Mrs. William T. Gossett, vice president; Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, vice president; James C. Zeder, vice president; Alfred C. Whitard, treasurer; and Mrs. June Matthews, executive secretary.

AT BIRMINGHAM'S CENTENNIAL — Among those who traveled to Birmingham Saturday to wish the city a happy 100th birthday was Gov. Romney. Michigan's shirt-sleeved chief executive walked in the centennial parade and gave a speech. Seated with him as he waits his turn at the rostrum are Oakland County Circuit Judges Philip A. Pratt (at Romney's left) and James S. Thorburn (at Judge Pratt's left).

WINNING FLOAT — Ernest Seaholm High School took top honors in the Birmingham Centennial parade Saturday with its float depicting the Old Grist Mill. Riding in front of the mill are Seaholm students Charles Falk and Andrea Everett, the school's candidate for queen of the celebration. Barnum Junior High School earned an honorable mention for its creation entitled "Pleasant Hill." Engineers for Seaholm's entry were Craig Johnson and Sue Thalacker.

Kelley Will Ask U.S. Ruling on New Congress Districts

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today he will ask a three-judge U.S. District Court panel to rule on the constitutionality of Michigan's new congressional districting plan as soon as it is signed into law.

In a letter to Gov. George W. Romney, Kelley said the state should "ascertain immediately" whether the plan meets the standards set by the court when it ordered redistricting.

At the same time, the Democratic attorney general said, he is willing to cooperate in asking the Michigan Supreme Court for a ruling on whether the bill postponing the primary from Aug. 4 to Sept. 1 is legal.

Kelley told Romney that, after signing the latter bill into law, he (the governor), under the new constitution, may petition the state high court for "settlement of the grave constitutional questions posed by this legislation."

IMMEDIATE EFFECT

Because the legislature did not give the primary bill immediate effect, it cannot become law until 90 days after legislative adjournment—a date already beyond Aug. 4.

Kelley, offering the olive branch to Romney in their recent war of words over the legislative issues, volunteered his services and full cooperation to the governor in presenting the questions to the courts.

Youths Join to Clean Up City Area

A unique experiment here in interracial cooperation gave sidewalk onlookers in the Bagley-Wessan area something to marvel at Saturday.

Some 35 Negro and white students, working together, helped tone down a major eyesore near what has been termed one of the ugliest intersections in the city.

Using rakes, grass cutters and shovels, they cleaned up a refuse-strewn vacant corner lot, then spliced down donated telephone poles to keep out illegally parked cars.

Originators of the project, described as a work-campus session, were Raleigh Hairston, youth incentive director for Pontiac Area Urban League; Conklin Brann, Jefferson Junior High School principal, and Rev. Joseph Pelham of Trinity Episcopal Church, Farmington.

"The idea was to give youngsters a chance to work together and live together, while gaining experience in human relations," explained Hairston.

IMPRESSED RESIDENTS

Hairston said he was elated at the results, and felt the project made an impression on neighborhood residents, many of whom pitched in to help.

The youngsters, drawn from Pontiac, Farmington and Detroit, took part in an orientation session Friday night at the YWCA.

The girls spent the night at the "Y," and the boys at All Saint's Episcopal Church.

TOOLS PROVIDED

A dump truck and tools were provided by the Pontiac Department of Public Works and directed by department employee Sam Baker.

10,000 Gather in City to Mark Centennial

BIRMINGHAM — A crowd estimated at 10,000 gathered in downtown Birmingham Saturday to help the city celebrate its centennial.

The weather could hardly have been better for the event, all of which were scheduled for outdoors.

Centennial officials reported they were "extremely pleased" with the turnout at the activities which started with a morning carnp carnival and ended with a fashion show in the afternoon.

Sandwiched between a parade through downtown Birmingham and the fashion show in Shain Park were a speech by Gov. Romney and crowning of the centennial queen.

Frances E. A. Thurber, who represented Marian and Brother Rice high schools, was picked queen of the celebration from a field of four candidates.

PINK DRESS

The 17-year-old senior, who has brown hair and eyes, wore a pale pink dress fashionable before the turn of the century.

Frances is the daughter of Mrs. John L. Thurber, 1139 Emmons, and the late Mr. Thurber. She won a $25 gift certificate from the Chamber of Commerce.

Many of the day's activities, such as the carnp carnival, parade and fashion show, are those traditionally held on Youth Day of Michigan Week.

This year, everything was bigger and better.

Parade units included the city's rolling stock, American Legion Post No. 14 color guard and locomotive, Ponies of America, the Michigan State Police, Army Mobility Command, the Redford Highlanders and Southern Oakland Girl Scouts.

Seaholm High School's float entitled "Old Grist Mill" was judged best of the entries.

Hamlin to Talk at Dixie Parley

Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Delos Hamlin will address officials of five counties comprising the metropolitan region of Atlanta, Ga., Wednesday in Atlanta.

Hamlin said these officials want to know how six counties in the Detroit metropolitan region have worked together, through the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, for orderly development of the area.

"Faced with urban growth, they are looking for the best way to handle ensuing problems by studying what has been done here under similar circumstances," he said.

SICC is made up of several supervisors from Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties, who study the problems jointly and make recommendations to their respective county boards for joint action.

Says National President

'Rights Is PTA Issue'

CHICAGO (AP)—The national president of the PTA said today that it is fast running out for "a just solution to the injustices, inequalities and deprivations suffered by some children because of their race or color."

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our great organization cannot stand on the sidelines and refuse to be involved. The PTA cannot be a silent spectator."

Mrs. Jenkins added in an interview that she fully expects a resolution calling for a strong PTA stand on segregation to be offered to the convention for a vote on Wednesday.

She said, however, that the time is not yet ripe for the national congress to merge with the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, which has 300,000 members in 14 states.

WOULD DO HARM

Such a merger, Mrs. Jenkins said, would deprive millions of Negro children in the south of PTA services and thus do more harm than good. She said this view is shared by Mrs. Jerome Z. Morris, Montgomery, Ala., president of the Negro group.

"These people are doing such fine work," Mrs. Jenkins said, "but there are many places in the South where they cannot, because of local laws or feelings, meet with white PTA members."

Mrs. Jenkins said that as the schools in the South are integrated, the PTAs are integrated, just as they are in the rest of the nation. There were formerly 27 states with separate Negro PTA organizations. This number has been cut to 14, and Mrs. Jenkins said in a very short time there will be only 11.

In her prepared keynote address today, Mrs. Jenkins said the objectives of the PTA "commit us to caring for all the children, regardless of their race, color, creed or national origin, and regardless of the social or economic status of their parents."

She also said, "If there is a school that you would not send your own child to, then that school is not good enough for other children."

About 2,500 PTA members from the 50 states are attending the 68th annual convention which ends Wednesday.

Spain Miners Back to Work

OVIEDO, Spain (U)—An estimated 10,500 Asturias coal miners returned to their jobs today as suspension ordered by their employers in a labor conflict expired.

Labor officials said another 12,000 men remained idle, most of them under similar suspensions imposed by the mine owners for alleged infractions of work agreements. Most of these were to resume work on May 27.

The work stoppages began with 3,000 men and spread to a peak of nearly 50,000 as miners and metal workers walked off their jobs in sympathy.

Explorer Scout Roger Rosa Surveys Manito District's 'Show-O-Ree' On Oakland University Campus Saturday

6,000 See Scout Show at OU

Indian war dances, rope-bridge walking and miniature car derbies were just a few of the highlights of Manito District's scouting "Show-O-Ree" on the Oakland University campus Saturday.

Some 1,500 scouts, in their blue, olive and green uniforms, played host to a crowd of 6,000 viewing the displays of skills learned while in the organization.

Twenty cub packs, 28 scout troops and six explorer posts participated in the event, highpoint of a three-day camp-out.

Friday the uniformed youths moved on to the university grounds and set up tents, booths and other attractions.

Included in the displays offered by the boy scouts were projects which explored scouting history, knot-tying demonstrations, semaphore signaling shows and first aid instruction.

CUB ACTIVITIES

The younger cub scouts highlighted their handicrafts, as well as sponsoring cub games, Indian crafts and a "Pinewood Derby." The derby was a race of miniature cars whittled by the cubs.

Explorer scouts also played a significant role in the four-hour show, managing the concession stands, supervising the crowds and assisting with parking.

Jack C. Frost, chairman of the Manito District, said, "We got a break in the weather and went far over anything we had planned."

Saturday's event was the fourth annual sponsored by the Manito District.

One of the best crowd-pleasers was an Indian war dance put on by Troop 106 of Goodison. The scouts' war whoops resounded throughout the campground, drawing those attending.

The Red Cross furnished a first aid trailer on the scene, to witness the authentic ceremony, performed every hour.

ORDER OF ARROW

Following the show, when the scouts gathered around the evening campfire, 50 were called out for the Order of the Arrow, an honor camper's society.

After spending the night on the grounds, the scouts packed up their gear Sunday morning, following church services, and headed back to return to their normal schedule.

The some 300 den mothers, cubmasters, scoutmasters and explorer advisers also departed from the campus.

Co-chairmen of the show were Kenneth R. Jones, Waterford Township, and Sherry N. Mayley, Oxford. Camp chairman was John Tomlins of Avon Township.

Frost said with the crowds attending and the large number of scouts participating, they were fortunate that no serious injuries resulted.

Tornado-Torn Area Jittery Under Alert

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Southeastern Michigan's Chesterfield Township, smashed by a tornado that brought death to 10 persons May 8, spent a tense 2½ hours under a tornado alert Sunday.

The still-scared Anchor Bay area of Lake St. Clair was within a region for which the U.S. weather bureau warned of possible tornadoes between 3 and 9 p.m. However, the weather bureau issued an all-clear report at 5:30 p.m.

Police reported residents jittery after the alert. Scores of people called police for information.

ORDERED TO SHELTER

Approximately 250 persons salvaging property and debris from canals and along the waterfront were ordered to shelter.

Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters of the Detroit area had set aside the weekend to help clear up wreckage from the May 8 tragedy.

About 400 residents had gone les called a state police post, remarking "we sure don't need any more tornadoes around here."

Two Killed in Area Traffic Accidents

A teen-aged driver who crossed a yellow line on a hill and a boy who darted in front of a car were killed in separate area traffic accidents this weekend.

Fred W. Wilcox, 9, was killed when he ran in front of a car near his rural Lapeer County home Sunday afternoon, according to Lapeer County sheriff's deputies.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Wilcox of 385 Norway, Deerfield Township, was hit by a car driven by George McKee, 34, of Decker.

Shelby Township police said 17-year-old Richard Kotschumian of Warren was killed in an accident on Dequindre, a half mile north of 24 Mile Saturday afternoon.

Kotschumian crossed a yellow line on a hill and his car crashed head on into one driven by James Kaufman, 19, of Marine City, according to police.

The two drivers and three passengers in each of their autos were taken to Pontiac hospitals. Kotschumian died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital two hours after the accident.

Three of the victims were treated and released and three are in good condition. Daniel Kozor, 23, of Fair Haven, a passenger in Kaufman's car, is listed as serious at Pontiac General Hospital where he is being treated for internal injuries.

ORTONVILLE — Residents of Brandon Township and the surrounding area need no appointment to donate blood at the Roto-Jay Hall tomorrow.

A blood bank sponsored by the Ortonville Rotary Club will be held from 2 to 5 p. m. and 6 to 9 p. m. at the civic center on the corner of Cedar and Ball.

PET PROJECT — Cub Scouts Phillip Oakes, 8, of 205 First (left), and Jim Huntly, 9, of 117 Clarence, were happy to show results of one of their projects, a young chick, to on-lookers at the Manito District's "Show-O-Ree." Both boys are members of Den 10, Pack 43, Holly. They and fellow cubs also sponsored a display of vegetable growing.

Area Girls' Art Takes Honors

Among Best in State at M-Week Festival

ROCHESTER — Art work by two Rochester High School girls was rated among the best in Michigan at Saturday's Michigan Week Youth Enrichment Festival in Flint.

Dee Durkee, a 12th grader, was placed among the state's top 12 with her entry entitled "The Rising Sun," a tissue-collage. Joining her as recipient of certificate of excellence was Michael Bright, a 12th grader. Her silk-screen print was labeled "Love Birds."

Dee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Almon Durkee, 368 Maryknoll. Michael is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bright, 750 Adams. Both are in Avon Township.

The winners were among 12 picked by a two-man jury from 117 students in 46 cities. They were cited at opening ceremonies of the festival.

Michael is a double winner, having received the award last year too. Both girls are students of Mrs. Blossom Cohoe, art teacher at Rochester High School.

AGILITY COUNTS — Clove hitches, half hitches and other knots have to be tight to support the scouts of Auburn Heights Troop 130 crossing this "Monkey Bridge." Showing their tightrope skills are (from left) Roger Veen, 14, of 90 Guanacacque; Bob Fehlberg, 12, of 1261 Ashover; and Paul Coman, 13, of 6917 Jamestown. Their troop, in addition to building the rope bridge, sponsored a display of knot-tying.

Romeo Rehearses for a Catastrophe

-ROMEO — A terse telephone call to the local police station and some 100 volunteers sprang into action.

The call set off a chain reaction of telephone communications this morning that signaled the start of an all-out drill for a simulated disaster.

It was a rehearsal for such a catastrophe as the tornado which wrecked havoc in the Anchor Bay area just over two weeks ago.

Cooperating with Civil Defense Director Ed Trim in handling the teams of workers were Village Police Chief Charles Mecker and Sgt. Earl Johnson, commander of the Romeo State Police post.

The local fire department, directed by Assistant Chief John Foltz, also played a vital and important role in the test.

Besides members of emergency units, the test involved junior high school students as "casualties" and a group of women whose job it was to identify the "victims."

Operations were directed from the village police desk through a radio communications setup involving members of the CB radio Romeo REACT group.

The "victims" each were tagged with a card bearing a description of their "injuries" and rushed to the Community Hospital. There a corps of doctors, nurses and other medical personnel were on hand to handle each "emergency."

The realistic rehearsal served a dual purpose. It gave local units practice in handling such an all-encompassing "disaster" and helped the hospital fulfill its accreditation requirement of having at least two such drills a year.

Trim's reaction to the test, first in the village in four years, was, "Romeo proved itself capable of handling any emergency on relatively short notice."

A meeting to evaluate the drill is planned for all those who were directly involved at 7:30 p.m. June 2 at the Village Hall.

Desert War Game Has Death List of 8

NEEDLES, Calif. (UPI) — The first week of the massive mock war "Exercise Desert Strike" took a total of eight lives — accidental deaths of soldiers involved in maneuvers.

Latest victims were two fliers who crashed to their deaths in a reconnaissance plane near Ivanpah, Calif., and a soldier who drowned in the Colorado River.

Army 2nd Lt. John R. Leeds of the 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Sgt. Deklin L. Teeter of the 101st Airborne Division, Ft. Campbell, Ky., were killed Saturday when their L19 artillery reconnaissance aircraft crashed in the desert.

An RF101 Voodoo fighter had crashed earlier near Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., and pilot Lt. Ronnie L. Bales, 31, Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., received third-degree burns on his face, arm and leg.

The drowning was the fourth to occur in the Colorado River since the start of the maneuvers a week ago. Pvt. James R. Tarpen Jr., 23, Ft. Carson, Colo., was swept away while swimming late Saturday about four miles north of here.

OFF LIMITS

Officials ordered the river off limits yesterday, except at "municipal or state approved" swimming areas.

Large-scale air and ground attacks were involved in weekend maneuvers concluding the first week of the exercise in which more than 100,000 U.S. troops are participating.

The mythical nations of Nezona and Calonia are battling for control of the Colorado River, waging battle over a huge desert area that covers portions of California, Arizona and Nevada.

Calonian forces followed up simulated nuclear strikes against Nezona with ground assault gains, but a pair of pre-planned simulated nuclear strikes on Nezona failed to achieve appreciable damage.

Nezona forces intercepted radio messages directing the strikes and precautionary measures were taken.

A total of 200 Nezonian prisoners and 50 vehicles were reported captured in the attack.

Boat Sinks in Detroit River

DETROIT (AP) — A 38-foot cabin cruiser sank in the Detroit River Sunday, but its 12 occupants reached safety after the craft settled in five feet of water off Fighting Island.

The cruiser's owner, William W. Aulrey, 35, of Grosse Pointe Park, said the boat apparently went aground on the foundation for a light.

"In less than a minute the boat had settled in about five feet of water," he said. "I told everyone to stay in the boat. They did and we didn't have any trouble."

Other pleasure boats took the 12 persons — four women and eight men — to Coast Guard headquarters.

Just Follow the Rules

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Rules for getting the most milk out of cows with the least effort, listed by the Agricultural Research Department of Pennsylvania State University, are:

Don't excite the cows, set a routine and stick to it, stimulate the udder, follow milking instructions, milk out as quickly as possible, don't milk more cows than you can handle fast and machine strip.

Arrest Cuban on Charges of Disorder

NEW YORK (AP) — Herman Frederick Marks, former chief executioner of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary army, has been arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and making obscene and threatening telephone calls.

Marks was seized Sunday by detectives planted at the apartment of Jean Secon, a free-lance news correspondent held prisoner for a time by Castro in 1959.

Miss Secon said Marks had been making obscene and threatening calls to her for the last few weeks. Police said the disorderly conduct charge stemmed from Marks attempting to force his way into Miss Secon's apartment.

Marks, a native of Milwaukee who is awaiting deportation following a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that he lost his American citizenship by serving in a foreign army, was held in $10,500 bail.

Pontiac General Praised for Top Care of Patients

I feel someone should speak up in behalf of Pontiac General Hospital.

Our daughter was born with a very serious spinal defect and remained in the hospital for seven and one half weeks. We could not have asked for better care. The doctors and nurses were like family to us and did many things not expected of them. We have a great hospital, an even greater staff and we should be proud of this wonderful institution.

Let's stop finding fault with the minor things and give thanks and praise for the fine things that our hospital is doing.

Southern Rhodesian Tells Story of Land

In reference to Mr. John Martino's article, "Africa Race Views: Story of Extremes," appearing in The Press on May 8, I would like to make some corrections and give some facts pertaining to my country, Southern Rhodesia. I enjoyed Mr. Martino's article and how generally The Press has given very factual and true reports.

Mr. Martino states Southern Rhodesia has a "militant white government." This is as ridiculous as stating the United States is a dictatorship. Not on any occasion that I can recall has one been called to settle disputes in racial disturbances, unlike the Alabama incidents where military forces were used. We do not believe in a militant policy, we believe in a law-abiding policy in which a multiracial police force is the controller.

I have experienced more discrimination in the United States than in Southern Rhodesia. Africans are free to enter bars and do so. The sign above the door of a bar, hotel, restaurant or cinema stating, "Rights of admission reserved" prohibits any undesirable character, no matter what color, from entering. It does not exclude Africans automatically. Educated, well-dressed Africans are seen in all public places and their numbers are rapidly increasing. Perhaps our Africans are less civilized than your Negroes, but how can we be at the same level with 70 years' civilization whereas others had many hundreds? How can we be free of "teething problems" which every country has—what about your American Indian troubles? We would like to avoid a repetition.

We are very proud of our short history. In three-quarters of a century we have established: full primary education for 90 per cent of our 4 million inhabitants, and one-quarter of our government's budget is spent on education; we have free medical facilities; we have built the largest man-made dam in the world, Kariba (hydroelectric) supplying cheap electricity; we have created an industrial output of over $434 million a year; and finally our capital, Salisbury, is the world's most modern surprise. We have no slums, no dirt, but wide streets, open parks, flowering avenues of trees.

I appreciate the opportunity to express my opinion as a Southern Rhodesian.

'Teachers, Children Need Their Vacations'

In reply to W. S. Downes' VOP letter about a longer school year, does he want the teachers and the state hospital from exhaustion? I am the mother of two children and am active in school affairs. I feel our children and teachers need fewer school months. When summer comes, our children need the fresh air and sunshine.

People who want a longer school year must be without children or don't want to be bothered. Parents should spend more time with their youngsters—taking them on vacation, weekend outings and to church.

Changing Times

The Pana News-Palladium

Middle age is defined, among other things, as the time when a narrow waist and a broad mind begin to change places.

Fairy-Tale World

The New York Herald Tribune

More than in what Sen. Barry Goldwater said the roots of the Goldwater phenomenon were bared in the Goldwater rally. More than 18,000 fans jammed Madison Square Garden to cheer their Barry, to hoot and boo at references to "liberals" of either party. Even in much of the boozing there was a sort of exuberant circus air.

But what, above all, was in the air was a sense of rebellion caught fire—rebellion against the New Deal and all that followed, rebellion against paternalism, rebellion against the frustrations of a Cold War which never seems won, rebellion against the complexities of a world that sometimes passeth understanding.

As Mr. Goldwater stood, ruddy, virile, in the spotlight, his arms upraised, while balloons cascaded and the band played and the crowd roared, he was, to his audience, the Great Deliverer.

In the words of his own campaign slogan, he offered a choice, not an echo. And therein lies the source of his strength—and also weakness.

For his strength is among the disaffected, the angry, the rebels of the Right eager to cast off the shackles of a government they consider more their enemy than their friend.

His weakness is that most Americans are not in revolt, and they want at least a substantial echo of the present, and it is, too, that his wishful vision is also a wishful one in a world where simple answers don't make complex questions go away. The world of the Goldwater vision would be a pleasant, even an inspiring, world to live in. But it's a fairy tale world, borne on a cloud of hopes and dreams and partisan cheers. Even the rebels who flock so enthusiastically to his banner can't disengage themselves from the tangled reality of the harsh, unfair, dangerous and ugly world in which we really live. And Mr. Goldwater can't either.

Social Security

The San Diego Union

The administration is pressing desperately to push its Social Security medical care for the aged plan through this session. But with all of President Johnson's political persuasiveness, it appears hardly likely Congress is yet ready to buy a proposal that would be a long step toward socialized medicine.

The administration plan would depend upon increasing Social Security taxes. Congress realizes the Social Security program already is having difficulty meeting obligations and that its reserves have been dwindling since 1957. More important is the fact there is no strong grass roots support for the program. Commented Rep. James H. R. Callahan: "Despite the President's public statements, the

It Seems to Me . . .

Newspapers More Important to Country Than Government

Some 177 years ago, THOMAS JEFFERSON wrote the following in a letter to Colonel EDWARD CARRINGTON:

"The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

There you have it.

This is one of the most profound utterances in the distinguished life of a great patriot. Just as this great nation was being founded and the cornerstones fashioned for future guidance, Mr. Jefferson realized that the greatest single break with autocracies and the despots of history was the right to challenge the decisions and actions of the ruling powers.

When these are hidden and clothed in secrecy, the perpetrators have a blank check to do as they please. There can be no effective restraint. In the hands of an autocrat, an individual—or a group of individuals without newspapers—can be silenced by anything up to and including deportation or death. In 1932 when things were the darkest economically that they have been in this century, I said to the late BATES G. BURT: "I'd almost favor a benevolent dictator to help this country turn the corner."

And he promptly replied: "I wouldn't. The most benevolent dictator imaginable would soon be intrigued by his personal powers and in varying lengths of time he would become an autocrat or a despot."

I buy that now.

The Pontiac Press goes to unusual lengths to print every letter that comes to The Voice of the People so they can have their say about ruling powers and public actions. Some newspapers print a third or a quarter of their total but we struggle inordinately to let you all speak out. Frequently you criticize local, state and national governments. Frequently you jump on us. In the last 1,000 communications dating back six months, we have held out only two or three. These were simply inferior or meaningless. Occasionally one falls from the wayside because of indecent language and occasionally they're discarded because the statements are palpable and obvious lies—spawned by gross ignorance or sheer malice.

We do ask more frequently for signed names. Too many people were writing despicable and nasty comments on decent individuals and firms and then hiding in the bushes in sheer cowardice. If you get personal, identify yourself to the public. The accused is just as much entitled to this as you are to the right of criticizing.

Mr. JEFFERSON doesn't need to worry.

This nation has come 177 years with both newspapers and government—and the next 177 look even easier.

Lobbyists . . .

A lobbyist is a gentleman (or gentleman) working full time in Washington to influence Congress.

The biggest lobby of all is the Federated Postal Clerks. It spent $155,000 last year to have its measures viewed with favor by lawmakers.

The AFL-CIO was next. Its total passed $100,000. The order ran:

Federated Postal Clerks	$155,000
AFL-CIO	$100,000
Nat'l Farmers Union	$93,000
American Legion	$90,000
Farm Bureau	$85,000
U. S. Savings-Loan	$76,000
Machinists Union	$71,000
Taxation Committee	$65,000
R. R. Brotherhoods	$63,000
Nuclear Test Ban	$61,000
American Medical Assn.	$57,000
AFL-CIO Maritime	$56,000

The list went no lower than $30,000 and here was the National Association of Letter Carriers. Thus the post office crew is top in lobbying, with the CIO in hot pursuit.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jotting from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A prominent Chicago leader says some of our Memorial Day services should be specially set aside for the nearly one thousand GI heroes who have been killed in the "advisory war" in Viet Nam.

A curious phenomenon lies in the unflattering notices that ERLE STANLEY GARDNER draws on the "PERRY MASON" stories and the equally persistent tries he makes to the bank with his fat checks. I'll bet he wouldn't switch.

Queried about the soft drink with which he is associated, Yogi BERRA says: "It's called 'Yoo Hoo.'" Asked if it were hyphenated, Yogi replied earnestly: "No. No. It's carbonated."

Scouts advise me that Sharon Tossaint deserves mention as one of the area's very attractive young ladies. With Ford and Chrysler entering the 500-mile race at Indianapolis, it's interesting to note that Frederic Donner has ordered GM completely out. . . . Ocean-going steamships report a wave of new business. People are leaning toward the leisurely travel and added comforts. . . . Overheard: "The Brazilian revolt went smoothly because they didn't bank on a U. S. air cover."

Why in the world can't a U.S. bridge team win the world's title? Italy has knocked off the top plum half a dozen times and so have the British. We always "also ran." . . . Too many people pray and ask God to make two and two equal something besides four. . . . Imperial Magazine says women have funny ideas at 20 and at 80; but men are stupid all the time. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—Mrs. JERRIE MOCK and Mrs. JOAN SMITH for their spirited race around the world; the J's—Mrs. Mock and Mrs. SMITH for their ill-tempered chewing match.

It is in error for the Administration to say its war on poverty is non-partisan, as there are far more poor Democrats than poor Republicans.

Speaking of Poverty Programs

David Lawrence Says:

Rights Referendum One Answer

WASHINGTON—Few people will dispute the theory that discrimination by reason of race or religion or color hurts the pride and feelings of the individuals who are the victims of such discrimination.

But the big question today is how to overcome such discrimination without introducing new means of inequality, and just how far the power of law itself should be used to limit freedom of association either in private life or in business.

Congress has before it a civil rights bill—the most far-reaching statute proposed in nearly 100 years.

Probably only a small number of persons throughout the country have had a chance to read it in full, and many of those who have done so possibly have gotten lost in some of its legal phrases and ambiguities.

There have been many suggestions from time to time that legislation of this kind ought to be voted upon by the people directly through a national referendum.

PHRASING OF QUESTIONS

But how might the questions be phrased in such a referendum? Though not covering by any means all the questions that might be submitted, here is a sample of some on which the voters could be asked to answer "yes" or "no."

1. Do you want the federal government to control who shall be customers of hotels, motels, lodging houses, restaurants, cafeterias, lunchrooms, lunch counters, soda fountains, gasoline stations, motion-picture houses, concert houses, sports stadiums and arenas?

2. If you own or operate one of these private businesses, do you want the right to serve or refuse to serve whomever you please?

ONE-COLOR AREA

3. If you have located your restaurant or other public accommodation in a certain neighborhood whose residents happen to be of one color and have built up your business to attract customers from that area, do you want to be required to serve everybody, regardless of race or color?

4. If you are the owner of one of these public accommodations, do you want a federal judge, without a jury, to be able to put you in prison or impose a fine because he says you failed to obey his order not to discriminate?

5. If you own and occupy a lodging house with six rooms to rent, do you want to be subject to punishment for discrimination, while your competitor who has only five rooms to rent is not subject to such penalties?

6. Do you want the federal government to be authorized to cut off funds from a federally assisted project in your state and injure all citizens alike if what the government calls discrimination on racial or religious grounds is proved in a few instances?

7. If you are an employer with 25 or more employees and your business theoretically "affects commerce," do you want the federal government to limit your right to hire or fire your employees and to set their employment conditions?

8. Do you think it is fair to let the employer with less than 25 employees practice discrimination while the employer of more than 25 employees is prohibited from doing so?

9. Do you, as an employer or as an official of a labor union, want agents from a federal commission to be able to cross-examine everybody in your organization to determine whether there has been any discrimination in allocating jobs or in conducting the affairs of a business or a union?

NEW YORK—The peoples right to write:

"Forget it," Joe said. "Hitler died a long time ago."

"One day Joe dropped by the Fountainbleau and everybody in the lobby made a big fuss over him."

KEPT GOING

"He smiled and shook a few hands, but kept going."

Beau Jack used to be managed and catered to by 20 rich men. . . . but he lost his championship. See?

Beatles Leave 'Quiet' Tahiti

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP) — A pair of weary Beatles, who fled Honolulu for Tahiti to get privacy and found it, are headed home for London.

John Lennon and George Harrison, members of the Beatles rock 'n' roll quartet, returned to Papeete Saturday after a yacht cruise to the Moorea, Raiaatea and Bora Bora Islands.
Lennon was accompanied by his wife, Cynthia, and Harrison by Patti Boyd, a London Model.
Lennon told newsmen they spent a week in the Bora Bora
"because the beauty was fantastic and nobody bothered us."
They went water skiing and spearfishing but "didn't go too far with the native raw fish bit."

The pair excited no attention in Papeete. They went unrecognized by Tahitians while dining in a nightclub, but five English sailors got their autographs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The percentage of families who expect to buy new automobiles over the next 12 months shows a sizable increase over a year ago, a Census Bureau survey indicated Sunday.

However, the percentage of families who plan to buy houses was down slightly from 1963.

There was slight rise in those who expect to buy a major household appliance in the coming year.

The quarterly survey, the first taken since the income tax cut took effect, showed that 18.9 percent of the families interviewed intend to purchase a car of some kind within 12 months. In April of 1963, the percentage was 18.2 per cent.

The proportion who plan to buy new automobiles was 8.9 per cent compared to 8.1 a year ago while used-car buying intentions were virtually unchanged from April 1963.

ASSASSINATION REENACTED — FBI agents yesterday reenacted the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., for members of the Warren Commission. Some agents rode in an open car, while another poked a rifle through an open window of the Texas School Book Depository (left) from which the assassin is supposed to have fired the fatal shots. The sequence was repeated many times as cameras recorded the scene from various angles.

Trip to Beach Ends in Tragedy

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — 66, were fatally injured. So were Mrs. Roth, her daughters, Lynn, 9, and Joan, 8, and one of Lynn's friends, Susan Chute, 11, also of Port Chester.

Three of the dead were children dressed in bathing suits as they rode with Lorraine S. Roth, 36, of Port Chester, N.Y.

State police said the trip started in Armonk, N.Y., where Mrs. Roth's husband runs a florist shop. They said the car was about half-way to Sherwood Island when it swerved, jolted across a center divider and smashed into a vehicle driven by Herman Laws, 74, of Stamford.

The Laws' car was struck by a third car, then by a fourth. "It happened too fast," said John J. Cummings Jr., 44, of Devon, Conn., driver of the fourth car. "I couldn't see it coming."

'Kennedy Visit Ill-Conceived'

Indonesia Trip Ripped

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, continuing his attack on the Democratic administration's foreign policy in southeast Asia — said today Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's "peacekeeping" mission to Indonesia early this year was "ill-conceived" and accomplished nothing.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a noon session of the faculty gathering at San Diego State College, Rockefeller said Kennedy "enhanced the prestige of the aggressor" — President Sukarno of Indonesia — in his military action against neighboring Malaysia.

Rockefeller's speech was the last of his final full week of campaigning for a victory in California's Republican presidential primary June 2.

Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rockefeller are the only Republican presidential candidates on the primary ballot, vying for 86 nominating convention votes. Write-ins are illegal so the election is considered a crucial head-to-head test of the vote-getting power of the conservative Arizona senator and the New York governor.

Rockefeller has criticized the foreign policy of President Johnson repeatedly during past weeks of campaigning, but his San Diego State College speech marked the first time he hit so hard at Robert Kennedy, brother of the late president, and at Indonesia's Sukarno.

DOMESTIC CONCERNS
Rockefeller said Sukarno "has claimed the right to interfere in the domestic concerns not only of Malaysia but also of the Philippines."

He said also, "There have been ominous signs that Indonesian pressure against Australian New Guinea is beginning."

Rockefeller said that Kennedy in effect kowtowed to Sukarno in an effort to stop the Indonesian president in his aggressive steps against Malaysia.

In his prepared remarks, Rockefeller said:

SUKARNO NOTE
"Having enhanced the prestige of the aggressor, Indonesia, and having shown American disinterest, the attorney general was rewarded by the following statement from President Sukarno within hours of his having left Jakarta:

"Crush Malaysia! Indonesia may change her tactics, but the goal will remain the same."

"Nevertheless, upon his return, President Johnson said that the attorney general 'carried out his assignment constructively and with real achievement.'"

Rockefeller said that a peace conference arranged by Kennedy between representatives of Indonesia and Malaysia has "collapsed."

The New York governor recommended that the United States "indicate firmly that we will stop all foreign aid to Indonesia unless President Sukarno halts all forms of aggressive action against Malaysia."

Rockefeller was scheduled to fly north to Los Angeles this afternoon to continue his vote-getting campaign.

The governor stumped populous suburban areas of Los Angeles and San Francisco last week before flying home to New York on Friday for a weekend visit.

Francisco Bay area for an evening speech in nearby Oakland.

Polls in California have been showing Goldwater leading until recently, but Rockefeller's upset win in Oregon's May 15 primary boosted his standing in the nation's largest state. Pollster Louis Harris last week gave Rockefeller a slight edge. A UPI poll of the California Legislature showed these professional politicians believe Rockefeller will win.

"I won't gang up with other candidates to swap your votes back and forth," Goldwater promised in a speech prepared for the college audience.

"I think that your California votes are worth more respect than just becoming political trading stamps."

Although Goldwater did not mention Rockefeller by name, he left no doubt that he meant the New York governor.

LODGE SUPPORT
Backers of Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. Ambassador to Viet Nam, have announced their support of Rockefeller in California's Republican presidential primary.

Only Rockefeller and Goldwater are entered in this state's biggest in-the-nation primary a week from tomorrow.

Write-ins are not allowed on the presidential ballot.

After the Redding rally, Goldwater was to fly to the state capital of Sacramento for a noon appearance and then to the San Francisco Bay area for an evening speech in nearby Oakland.

Peking Assails U.S. Proposals on SE Asia

TOKYO (AP) — Communist expand American aggression in China today called U.S. proposals for guarding the South Viet Nam-Cambodia border with United Nations patrols a plot to get out of Indochina.

radio broadcast quoted a Peking People's Daily editorial as saying.

Replying to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's declaration May 21 before the U.N. Security Council, the Chinese said: "China absolutely cannot allow the United Nations to be drawn into the situation in Indochina."

The Red Chinese rejection

was spelled out in an editorial by "Commentator," an otherwise unidentified but high-ranking official.

Stevenson proposed that the Security Council request Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a military force to patrol the frontier which South Vietnamese troops have crossed in recent weeks in pursuit of Communist Viet Cong units. He said this bilateral force should be augmented by, and possibly commanded by, U.N. observers. Alternatively, he suggested formation of an all-U.N. force to which the United States would be willing to contribute.

U.S. advisers contend the Communist Viet Cong openly use Cambodian sanctuary before and after raids on South Viet Nam.

The editorial broadcast by Peking radio said: "These proposals by Stevenson are becoming increasingly blatant. They are designed to draw the United Nations, which is under U.S. control, into territories close to South Viet Nam and Cambodia and thus to draw the U.N. into the contaminated South Vietnamese war."

It said this was the reason President Johnson's administration opposed the proposal of Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk that a Geneva conference be called to guarantee Cambodia's neutrality and "Settle the Indochina question as a whole."

The paper said the American suggestion amounted to an effort to "invoke the blessing of the United Nations for their 'special war' in Indochina. The people of China and the rest of the world will not tolerate this nor will they tolerate U.S. violations of the Geneva agreements and peace in Indochina."

At U.N. headquarters in New York, some diplomats said the U.S. proposal had found favor with at least five of the Security Council's other 10 members — Bolivia, Brazil, Great Britain, Nationalist China and Norway.

Presbyterians to Consider Federal School Aid Issue

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., traditionally insist on separation of church and state, will be asked to consider the sharing of some "secular" public school courses with pupils from parochial schools.

It is a compromise proposed as a means of solidifying enough public support to get Congress to pass federal aid for public schools.

The United Presbyterian assembly's 841 voting commissioners, representing 3.3 million members in 9,100 churches, resumed business sessions today after a Sunday of worship and rest. The assembly continues through Wednesday.

Its standing committee on the church and society asks the commissioners to say the church:

"Supports in principle a program of federal aid to public school systems that would encourage shared-time arrangements to permit students enrolled in private or parochial schools to obtain a portion of their education in public schools."

The assembly of a year ago suggested the shared-time concept should be studied.

TO COMPROMISE
A resulting position paper submitted to the 1964 assembly finds shared time or dual enrollment an acceptable compromise.

"It would permit the people who are unilaterally opposed to any tax aid to parochial schools to rest easy in their consciences while asking them to give up some of their all-out opposition to legislation that has even indirect benefits for the Roman Catholic parochial school system."

"The dedicated Catholic educator would also be giving up something very dear to him — the Catholic understanding of the wholeness and organic unity of the Catholic education — every dimension infused with Catholic doctrine and ethos."

The study found limited experiments in shared time have been in operation in at least 20 states for as long as 40 years.

SPECIAL COURSES

The system lets parochial pupils enroll part-time in public schools for secular courses — science, foreign languages and vocational training for example. "The only recipients of federal funds would be state authorities or local school districts," the position paper said. "Not one penny would go directly into any private or parochial school system."

Cong Saboteurs Blow Up Train; 8 Civilians Die

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong saboteurs mined the Saigon-Hue train early Sunday, killing eight civilian passengers, the Vietnamese Defense Ministry announced today. Eight other passengers were wounded.

In Phu Yen Province, Communist guerrillas attacked a civil guard unit, killing nine, wounding eight and capturing 27 weapons, the Defense Ministry said. A government pursuit force recovered some weapons.

The ministry announced that in the past week, 134 government troops and 149 guerrillas were killed.

Message to World by Baptists

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — North American Baptists ended an unprecedented convocation here with a "message to the world," outlining the beliefs of their members.

The three-day 150th anniversary jubilee, which brought together for the first time representatives of the seven largest Baptist groups in North America, ended Sunday after an address by evangelist Billy Graham, who called for a religious revival to obtain equal rights for all Americans.

The Baptists stood "as an affirmation of our belief" in affirming the message, drafted by key leaders from each body.

Areas covered included salvation, religious liberty and freedom, the importance of the individual, Christian love for all men and belief in the Bible. It also included mild and brief statements on race relations.

The message did not specifically state that Baptists believe in the absolute literal truth and divine inspiration of the Bible. This is a point of controversy among Baptists.

No vote was needed to approve the statement.

"This is in no sense a legislative body," said the presiding officer, Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va. "We are a fellowship of baptized believers in the Lord Jesus Christ."

Graham told the jubilee: "Many people today want social freedom and deserve it. They are marching for it, picketing for it. But they will not get it in this decade or the next unless we have a religious revival and convert the people to Jesus Christ."

About 15,000 heard Graham in Convention Hall, less than half the number which had been expected to attend.

A portable ship-to-shore five pounds, will float and has radiotelephone weighs less than a range of 75 miles.

In Oakland County...

$50 million in smart money on the loose!

No need for a sheriff's posse. We know where the money is. It's in the hands of over 50,000 Oakland County residents who borrowed from their credit unions. Why smart money? Because members' loan costs are lower than so-called "bank rates".

It's smart to always check a credit union loan before borrowing. 99 times in 100, it will save you money! The maximum loan rate is just 1% per month on the unpaid balance. Seldom can personal loans actually be obtained at such low cost from any other source, regardless of "quoted rate". Bank, small loan company, automobile dealer and merchant charge account rates—usually range sharply upward, some to as high as 30% per year.

For most people, the credit union rate is far better than commercial rates on new or used car loans. And there are no investigation or hidden charges, no escalator rate for refinancing.

Low cost credit. Interest refunds (that often save 10-20% more on loan costs). Life insurance matching loans and savings (at no extra cost). Higher dividends on savings. These are just a few advantages, possible because members own and run their credit union—to serve members' needs!

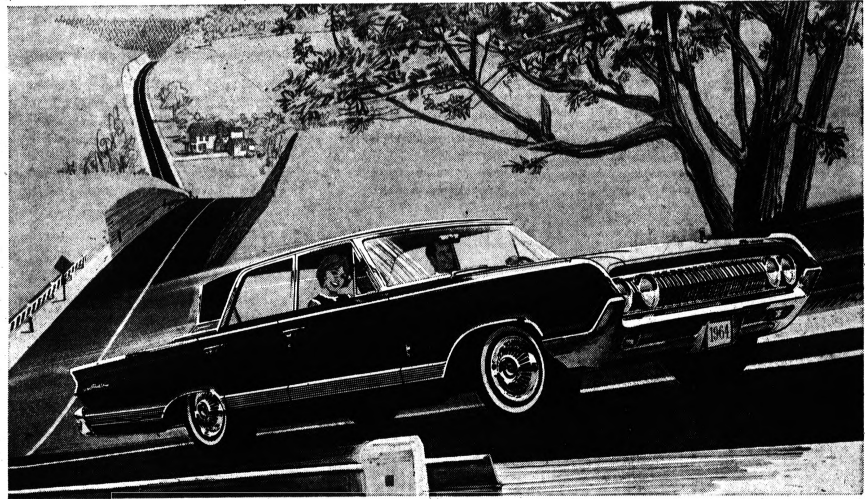

You may be able to qualify for membership in one of Oakland County's 76 credit unions. Check with us now on eligibility. We'll also send you—

Eccentric Politician's Lair

Reservoir to Bury Famed Ozark Town

By WICK TEMPLE
MONTE NE, Ark. (AP)—Coin Harvey's ghost is going to have to learn to swim.

Within a few months, the decaying monument Harvey built in this Ozark Mountain village will be under 15 feet of water from the new Reaver reservoir. And it's probably a happy piece of irony for the old cynic who once ran for president on the Liberty party ticket.

Harvey predicted that his mountain paradise would be covered with water by land upheavals after our civilization perished. Instead, it will be covered with water in a $45.5-million project that will provide hydroelectric power and flood gondolas from Venice to carry passengers across lagoons from the terminal to the hotels.

NOTED LAWYER

Harvey, a noted lawyer in Chicago and Denver, Colo., became famous in the 1880s with books advocating the free coinage of silver. He was a close adviser to William Jennings Bryan when Bryan ran for president in 1896.

After Bryan was defeated and the Democratic party scuttled the gold question as an issue, Harvey gave up U.S. civilization as a bad deal and moved to the remote Ozarks.

He found a beautiful valley, rich from flowing springs, combined a word of Latin origin with an Omaha Indian word to name the town Monte Ne—Mountain Water.

He built elaborate log hotels on the slopes surrounding the valley. He ran a private railroad from nearby Rogers, brought gondolas from Venice to carry passengers across lagoons from the terminal to the hotels.

LIVELY PLACE

In the first years of this century, Monte Ne was a lively place. Well-heeled vacationers came from all over the nation to Harvey's never-never land.

Harvey married his secretary and they lived peacefully above the lagoons. But he couldn't stay out of politics.

The Liberty party renewed the fight for free silver and nominated Harvey as its standard-bearer.

Harvey cut into a hillside an astounding stone amphitheater, and the party held its convention there in 1932, nominating the 80-year-old Harvey for president. He got only 50,000 votes, and his disillusionment was complete.

BUILT PYRAMID

He decided to build a pyramid that would be above the range of the earth movement he predicted would cover the Ozarks. In his plan, the tip of the pyramid would protrude from the rubble with a marker saying "Look below and find the records of a lost civilization."

In the pyramid would be such items as a phonograph, a car, Bible, encyclopedias, histories and a guide book to help the finder decipher the English language.

The pyramid foundation was built, but the structure was never finished. Harvey died in 1936 and was entombed with his long-dead son in concrete beside a lagoon, near the amphitheater.

Army engineers recently moved the tomb to higher ground. It will be on the banks of the reservoir.

DECAVING VILLAGE

Now the village is in decay. One man tried to dynamite the amphitheater, spurred by stories that Harvey hid his pyramid treasures under it. A court order stopped him, ruling that the federal government already had taken possession of the land.

Roundup of World News

Franco Shows Favoritism to Spanish Prince

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco showed marked favor for Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon Sunday, apparently rebuffing the aspiration of Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma to occupy the Spanish throne.

Carlos Hugo, honeymooning in the Canary Islands with Dutch Princess Irene, is a candidate for the throne from the Carlist branch of Spanish monarchists.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — Two battalions of British troops are en route to this strife-torn colony, requested by Gov. Sir Richard Luyt to enforce peace between warring Negro and East Indian factions. The British destroyer Decoy arrived in Georgetown harbor.

Police said the death of a Negro night watchman and an expectant Indian mother over the weekend brought to 24 the number of victims in the racial violence that started four months ago.

ADLAIDE, Australia (AP) — Heavy clouds forced cancellation today of the first rocket launching by the six-nation European Launcher Development Organization at the Woomera rocket range.

The organization plans to fire a British Blue Streak rocket 1, 000 miles as the first step in a program to put a three-stage satellite into orbit from Woomera by 1966.

Members of the organization are Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Australia.

CAIRO (AP) — West German student Franz Huettenmeister, 26, went on trial today on charges of spying for Israel. Conviction could mean the death penalty.

Standing in the dock, Huettenmeister admitted most of the charges against him. He was arrested in Cairo in November.

Huettenmeister previously admitted in a television interview that Israel he met in Cologne, Germany, recruited him as a spy courier.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Sheikh Abdullah, the nationalist Kashmir leader, and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan began discussions of the thorny Kashmir dispute today.

The sheikh arrived in Rawalpindi Sunday on a 16-day visit to Pakistan. He conferred with Indian Prime Minister Nehru in New Delhi last week.

SAIGON, South Viet-Nam (AP) — Five Vietnamese-language newspapers in Saigon were closed by government order over the weekend. The editions of two other newspapers were confiscated.

Twelve Saigon newspapers have been closed or temporarily suspended in the last 10 days as part of a government crackdown against what officials describe as anti-government or irresponsible reporting.

More than 60 Saigon newspapers have been closed or temporarily suspended since the military government took over last Jan. 30.

Sgt. York, 76, Satisfactory After Internal Bleeding

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Medal of Honor winner Sgt. Alvin York was listed in very satisfactory condition today at Veterans Hospital, where he was admitted Friday for internal hemorrhaging.

Doctors stopped the bleeding several hours after the 76-year-old World War I hero was rushed here by ambulance but said he must remain in the hospital several days.

York lives on a mountain farm at Pall Mall, Tenn., about 140 miles northeast of here. He has been bed-ridden about 10 years and has been in and out of hospitals a number of times.

PLACE OF HONOR — Gen. Francisco Franco (center) greets Spanish Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon at a military parade in Madrid yesterday. The prince had second position in the reviewing box, which is thought to indicate Franco's preference for the prince to succeed to the Spanish throne over the bid of Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma, who recently married Dutch Princess Irene.

Open Picnic Season on Memorial Day With a Cookout

Without fanfare and almost by common consent, the picnic season opens on Memorial Day. This coming weekend will find thousands of families enjoying outdoor meals.

The children will clamor for hot dogs and hamburgers. Father will show his prowess at the charcoal grill and may come up with a steak more charred than grilled.

Mother will keep peace, get all the food ready in advance and do the final cleaning up—unfortunately.

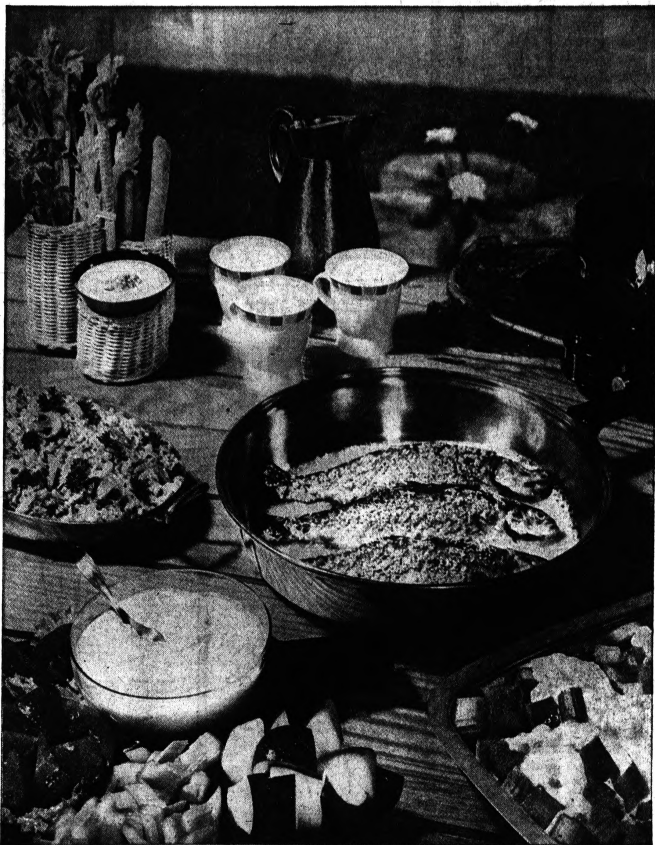

If friends are coming in, perhaps you can plan a cooperative meal. Then all the cooks get some vacation.

It will be worth your while to investigate the picnic supply counter of the nearest variety store. Paper plates get better all the time.

You'll find plastic coated plates that won't soak through, plastic-like cups that keep coffee hot and your hands cool, sturdy paper napkins and even little bowls for dessert.

If you'll get all your supplies organized in one place, you'll be ready for an outdoor meal any time the family wants to have one. And they'll think you're soooo efficient.

CHUCK WAGON COOKOUT—For an appetizer, thread fresh fruit on skewers to surround a bowl of cottage cheese dip. Top heated canned baked beans with shredded Cheddar cheese just before serving for a hearty vegetable. Serve cabbage and beet salad in a hollowed out cabbage. Simmered round steak comes to the picnic table in oblong buttermilk biscuits. Dessert's a scrumptious chocolate potato cake with Rocky Mountain frosting.

FISHERMAN'S TREAT—After a day of fishing, everyone will be ready for a good picnic dinner. Trout or other panfish fry gently in butter after a coating with sesame seed. Serve with rice and apple-vegetable salad. Dessert is baked rhubarb with sour cream. For a creamy French dressing beat 'til smooth 1½ cups cottage cheese with 3 tablespoons French dressing. Let guests take their choice of pieces of celery, apple and tomato.

New Recipes Sure to Tempt Everyone

Food eaten out of doors can be as exciting as any you serve at an indoor party. In fact, the recipes are interchangeable. The fish with sesame seed can be any small fish. Rhubarb bake can be made the year around with fresh or frozen fruit.

You may like the cowboy biscuits so well that you serve them frequently. As for the chocolate cake . . . you've never eaten one quite like it before.

Happy eating.

PAN TROUT SESAME

6-8 trout, approximately 8 ounces each, cleaned
¼ cup (1 stick) butter, melted
¼-½ cup sesame seed, toasted
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Lemon wedges (optional)

Pat trout dry with paper toweling. Place melted butter in shallow pan. Dip trout in butter, then roll in sesame seed, coating both sides; pour remaining butter into skillet. (More butter may be needed for 8 trout.)

Saute trout on each side about 10 minutes, turning only once. Remove trout (to serving platter or dinner plates), add lemon juice to skillet with drippings and heat a few seconds; pour over trout. Serve with lemon wedges, if desired. Makes 6-8 servings.

RHUBARB BAKE

2 pounds rhubarb, cut into 1-inch pieces (approx. 2 qts.)
1½ cups dairy sour cream
12 cups sugar (depending on tartness of rhubarb)
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
In a saucepan place rhubarb with sugar and salt; cover and allow to simmer in own juice, stirring occasionally, until just tender (will cook down to approx. 1 qt.).* In casserole, layer in the following order: 2 cups rhubarb sauce, ¾ cup sour cream and ¼ cup brown sugar; repeat.

Bake 12-15 minutes at 350 degrees. Serve warm or cold. Makes 6-8 servings.
*If rhubarb is exceptionally juicy, thicken slightly with tapioca.

RANCH STEAK

2 pounds top round beef, cut ½-inch thick
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup (1 stick) butter
½ cup catsup
¼ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 clove garlic, mashed

Cut steak into serving pieces. Combine flour, salt and pepper and pound into both sides of steak. In a skillet melt butter; saute steaks quickly on both sides. Stir in catsup, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and garlic; cover and allow to simmer at least 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Ranch Steak may be prepared ahead and kept warm over low heat or in a low oven; or, prepared ahead, refrigerated and then reheated.

COWBOY BISCUITS

¼ cup (½ stick) butter
2 cups flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup (1 stick) butter
1½ cups buttermilk

Place ¼ cup butter in pan and place in oven just long enough to melt. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in ¼ cup butter until mixture is mealy; stir in buttermilk to make a soft dough.

Turn out onto a lightly floured board and pat into a 9x12-inch rectangle; cut 32, giving 6 biscuits each 3 inches wide and 6 inches long. Remove 1 tablespoon melted butter from pan; set aside for tops of biscuits.

Place biscuits in pan, close together and drizzle reserved 1 tablespoon melted butter over them; bake about 20 minutes at 450 degrees. Remove from pan, split and place on baking sheet; toast in oven before topping with Ranch Steak, or other entrees such as stew, chicken fricassee, a la king, creamed tuna, etc. Makes 6 large biscuits.

CHOCOLATE POTATO CAKE

1 cup (2 sticks) butter
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks
1 cup mashed potatoes
1 cup (4-oz.) grated or ground sweet chocolate
1 cup ground unbleached or toasted almonds
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup milk
4 egg whites

In a large mixing bowl cream butter; add sugar gradually, beating until fluffy. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix in mashed potatoes. Add chocolate and almonds. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and cloves; add to creamed ingredients.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; blend about ¼ of the cake batter into egg whites, then fold into remainder of cake batter. Turn into greased 10-inch tube pan and bake 60-70 minutes at 350 degrees.

Cool on cake rack 10 minutes before removing from pan. Cool completely before frosting.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN FROSTING

3 squares (3-oz.) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup (1 small can) evaporated milk
1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1½-2 cups miniature or diced marshmallows

In top of double boiler or in a saucepan over low heat, melt chocolate. Gradually add evaporated milk, egg and sugar and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat and beat until well blended. Cool. Add almond and vanilla extracts. Frost sides of cake, then fold marshmallows into remainder of frosting and pour over top of cake.

Note: Chocolate Potato Cake keeps very well. If stored in a covered container in refrigerator it will keep at least 3 weeks.

6-Foot Baby at 100 Pounds —Surprise!!

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A 100-pound, six-foot baby was born here Sunday.

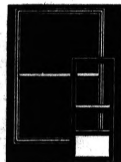

The baby's parents are John and Rosie. John is 8 and stands 17½ feet tall. Rosie is about 14 feet tall and is only 4.

The birth was such a happy surprise to everyone that the baby was named just that — Surprise.

The baby — born at the San Antonio zoo — is a giraffe and, according to zoo director Fred Starck, is the first giraffe born at the zoo that has survived.

Expect K's Visit to Sweden to Be Calm

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
KHRUSHCHEV CALM: Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is expected to receive a calm reception when he visits Sweden June 22-27.

No violent demonstrations are likely and the Swedes, who on the whole sympathize with his peaceful coexistence policy, feel the visit could be useful.

For his part, Khrushchev probably will stress the need for making Scandinavia into a nuclear-free zone and praise Sweden's neutral, no-alliance policy. The visit, however, will be marred by the Wennerstrom spy case.

Col. Stig Wennerstrom, who spied for the Soviets for 15 years, will be sentenced by a Stockholm court June 12 — and the aftereffect is expected to linger on through Khrushchev's trip.

The burly Soviet premier also probably will be asked by his hosts about the fate of sailors on Swedish vessels which disappeared in the Baltic in 1945-48, as well as what happened to Swedish diplomat and humanitarian Raoul Wallenberg, who vanished in Budapest at the end of World War II.

SEOUL FINANCES: As it comes increasingly hopeless for South Korea to settle its differences with Japan this year and get any of its $600 million in property claims and loans, the ROK government is turning to West Germany for loans to pull it out of the economic doldrums.

Vice Premier Chang Key Young has declared publicly that South Korea is turning to the United States and Japan.

Opposition party sources say the German firm of Eisenberg has offered the Seoul regime a commercial loan of $500 million.

WORLD TRADE: The West is going to stand firm on its opposition to creation of a new world trade organization.

The developing countries and the Communists both have demanded establishment of such an organization at the United Nations Trade and Development Conference in Geneva.

Such an agreement obviously will not come about now or in the near future. But private talks are underway which probably will result in a compromise agreement.

This will set up international trade "watchdog" machinery within the United Nations itself.

The West will absolutely refuse, however, to go along with proposals for a world trading body which would have authority to lay down binding regulations for international trade.

BORNEO SUMMIT: There is renewed optimism in Jakarta for a summit conference on the Malaysia dispute among Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines.

There is much less optimism, however, about just how much good even a summit session could accomplish.

Indonesian "confrontation" of Malaysia, including guerrilla activity by "private volunteers," is expected to continue one way or another — summit or not.

Best indications now are that there will be another meeting at the ministerial level to determine whether a summit can probably be held.

ARMS INFUX: Observers predict there will be a major influx of Soviet arms into the Middle East in the wake of Premier Khrushchev's talks with Arab leaders.

Information reaching London suggests that Khrushchev is not giving away the arms, but that the Arab nations will have to pay for them by mortgaging their future crops — such as cotton, in the case of Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Rockets of medium range, as well as planes and tanks, are expected to play an important part in the flow of Russian supplies.

Israel, in turn, is expected to press the West for fresh arms supplies to maintain the arms balance in the area.

Seneca Squaws Now Voters

SALAMANCA, N.Y. (AP) — The right to vote in tribal elections has been accorded to women in the Seneca Indian nation.

The men in the Allegany and Cattaraugus reservations approved a women's suffrage resolution Saturday, 189 to 99. There were 1,039 eligible male voters.

GM Target for Union Negotiation

DETROIT (AP) Delegates studying strategy for United Auto Workers contract negotiations have urged the union to make improved working conditions and earlier retirement its top goals—and General Motors Corp. its No. 1 target.

The recommendations came out of meetings last week of the union's GM, Ford and Chrysler councils in Detroit. The GM council meeting ran four days, ending Saturday, when its 256 delegates called for making GM No. 1 target.

The UAW normally picks one company as a target, and after obtaining a contract there demands that the others meet its terms.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president and director of its GM department, said, however, that selection of a target for 1964 bargaining would depend on developments.

The GM council was first to fix a minimum amount of relief time that will be sought in contracts to replace those expiring Aug. 31 at Big Three automakers. Woodcock said "at least a total of 44 minutes" would be demanded.

Big Three workers now get two 12-minute relief breaks during an eight-hour shift.

All three councils voted to make improved working conditions their top goal, with earlier retirement No. 2.

Boys Near as Plane Crashes; None Hurt

JACKSON (AP) — A small plane crashed into a tree 20 feet away from a group of Boy Scouts Saturday, but only the pilot was hurt.

The plane, piloted by Joseph Eisele, 45, of Jackson, stuck in the tree 60 feet above the ground in a dense woods where some 200 Boy Scouts were holding a camp-out.

Eisele was hospitalized after falling 15 feet to the ground while shimmying down the tree. He was flying from Ann Arbor to Napoleon when his plane went down near Wolf Lake, about eight miles south of here.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

'Odds Good on Moon Flight'

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: MOON FLIGHT: The United States has a better than 50-50 chance of landing a man on the moon by 1970, Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., said today.

In a copyright interview in U.S. News and World Report, Von Braun said: "We cannot be absolutely certain, because any critical setback may, of course, still deny us success in time. But I would say, if you asked me for a personal opinion, that we have a better than 50 per cent chance of being on the moon before the decade is out."

Von Braun, main developer of the Saturn rocket which will carry the first American to the moon, said a moon landing is merely a rallying point, not a primary objective, of the U.S. space program.

SAME ROLE
The moon, he said, plays the same role in the manned spaceflight program that Paris played in Charles Lindbergh's solo airplane flight across the Atlantic Ocean.

BANK INSURANCE: Chairman Wright Patman, of the House Banking Committee, says the American Bankers Association is "deliberately falsifying the facts" in its opposition to an increase from $10,000 to $20,000 in federal insurance on bank deposits.

The Texas Democrat is sponsor of the measure which is scheduled for House action on Wednesday.

He said the association is against small business in opposing the increase and is trying to make it appear that the Johnson administration also opposes the plan.

KISS: President Johnson got a hug and a kiss from a cute, 5-year-old blonde after attending 11 o'clock services Sunday at St. Mark's Episcopal church on Capitol Hill.

After the service, Johnson stopped by the home of Jack Valenti, a presidential aide, who lives next door to the church. When he left the Valenti home, he walked hand in hand with Courtney McPherson, daughter of Harry C. McPherson Jr., a deputy secretary of the Army, who was visiting the Valentis.

When Johnson neared his waiting automobile, he stopped and Courtney hugged and kissed him.

LOSING GROUND: Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, says the United States is losing ground to the Communists in every corner of the world.

Writing for the Reader's Digest, Lausche called Secretary of State Dean Rusk a sincere, devoted diplomat but said the State Department has within its ranks "long-entrenched and frequently misguided men whose views too often account for our unsuccessful policies."

To Seek Funds for Boys' Club

100 Volunteers Set for Waterford Drive

Determined to expand the Boys' Club movement in Oakland County, a team of 100 volunteer workers will begin a door-to-door fund-raising drive tonight in Waterford Township.

Proceeds will go to the recently established Boys' Club.

Heading the drive will be team captains, Sylvester Schmansky, Ron Burrill, Richard Goldworthy and Glen Treadway.

Charles Sitton is executive director of the club.

James W. Hunt, director of Oakland County Juvenile Court and Children's Services, hailed the establishment of the Waterford club as another step in aiding area youths and helping stem juvenile delinquency.

Hunt, a Waterford resident, said the entire community will benefit by having a Boys' Club.

1 Killed, 15 Injured in Egypt Accident

CAIRO (UPI) — One person was killed and 15 others hurt today when a truck taking Egyptian workers to see Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev off overturned near the airport.

Barry: Use N-Arms on Viet Trees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says low-yield atomic weapons could be used to burn jungle foliage and expose Communist supply lines along South Viet Nam's border.

The Arizona senator was asked Sunday on the ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers" how jungle trails which can't be spotted from the air should be handled in the U.S.-supported war.

"There have been several suggestions made. I don't think we would use any of them. But defoliation of the forest by low-yield atomic weapons could well be done. When you remove the foliage, you remove the cover," Goldwater said.

In the interview, Goldwater urged the bombing with conventional weapons of bridges, roads and railroads used to bring supplies from Red China and North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam unless the Communists halted the military shipments.

'LACKS DECISION'

Goldwater, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, said U.S. policy on Viet Nam lacks decision.

The senator also indicated he would favor bombing supply routes inside Red China. "You might have to," he said, or the war will drag on and on.

Mikoyan Sees War 'Scheme'

Says U. S. Kept Reds Out by A-Bomb Use

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, charged today the United States dropped atomic bombs on Japan to prevent the Soviet Union from intervening in World War II, and not out of strategic necessity.

Mikoyan, addressing 15,000 university students, did not mention the Soviet Union breaking its nonaggression pact and attacking Japan two days after Hiroshima was atom-bombed on Aug. 8, 1945.

He charged, and was lustily applauded by the students, that Hiroshima and Nagasaki "were bombed only because the United States wanted to keep the Soviet Union from intervening in the war."

He did not say whether he was referring to Japan's feelers put out to the Soviet Union to intervene with the allies to bring an end to World War II. Russia's attack, following these feelers, has been viewed by the Japanese as an act of treachery.

SUPPORTING COLONIALISM
Mikoyan, accusing the United States and Britain of supporting colonialism, declared:

"The Soviet Union wants peace, but the capitalist nations have continued to support colonialism and use military force to cause provocations and upset the world situation."

Mikoyan said this included "the United States role in South Viet Nam, the stationing of U.S. troops in South Korea, Britain's role in Malaysia and Portugal's role in Angola."

Liberal Party Endorses LBJ

NEW YORK (AP)—The Liberal party has endorsed President Johnson for election in November.

The party, which exists only in New York state, often nominates Democratic candidates—especially for national and state offices. It sometimes runs its own candidates and, at times, endorses Republican nominees.

In close races between the Democrats and Republicans, the Liberal party can be the balance of power. The late John F. Kennedy carried New York state with 3,423,909 Democratic votes and 406,176 Liberal votes for a total of 3,830,085, beating former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's 3,446,419 Republican votes in 1960.

The Liberal party's endorsement of Johnson was announced Saturday night by Alex Rose, vice chairman of the party.

Mikoyan Visits Emperor Hirohito

TOKYO (AP)—First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan of the Soviet Union was received in audience by Emperor Hirohito today. Officials of the Imperial Household said he was the first Russian of cabinet rank to be received by the Emperor since World War II.

Tokyo police stationed 2,400 officers along approaches to the palace after getting a tip that Japanese ultra-rightists might create a disturbance. However there were no incidents.

Mikoyan spent about 40 minutes with the Emperor. Details of their conversation were not disclosed.

The deputy Premier was accompanied by 10 members of the delegation that accompanied him on his official visit to Japan.

Khrushchev Ends Egypt Visit With Promise for Loan

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warning up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

Khrushchev's departure was delayed an hour and a half, but the reason was not announced.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's Luxurious Kubbah Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its second economic plan, which begins next year.

He said the assistance would include a steel plant with an annual capacity of one million tons and a 10,000-acre model farm where Soviet techniques would be used to reclaim the desert. He left it to Nasser to tell the cheering crowd the amount of the aid.

TERMS OF LOAN

Terms of the loan were not disclosed, but it was presumed that they called for repayment over 12 years at 2.5 per cent interest. The previous $500 million in Soviet credits to Egypt was on this basis.

The U.S. State Department warned last fall that further U.S. assistance was imperiled by Nasser's intervention in Yemen's civil war and the Senate lacked a rider onto the foreign aid bill barring aid to countries "engaged in or preparing for aggressive military effort."

In the Khrushchev - Nasser communique, Nasser defended the "legitimate right of the Cuban people to defend their sovereignty" after Khrushchev warned that U.S. reconnaissance flights over the island could have "most fatal consequences for those who undertake such gambles."

Both leaders denounced "attempts to torpedo the Geneva agreements of 1962 with regard to Laos," but they did not say whether they thought the United States or Communist China was responsible for the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Nasser endorsed the Soviet Union's bid to attend the coming meeting of Asian - African states as an Asian power. Red China says the Soviet Union is predominantly a European power and should be barred.

Hoffa's Fraud Trial Enters 2nd Month

CHICAGO (UPI) — The $25 million fraud trial of Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa and seven associates starts its second month today with a soft-spoken Teamster official expected to resume his testimony.

The union official, Frank J. Murtha, was so soft-spoken during his previous appearance on the stand that U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin directed the jury to interpret as an affirmative answer any reply by Murtha that couldn't be heard.

Murtha, the executive secretary of the central states, southwest and southeast conferences of the Teamsters Union pension fund, was the first official of the fund to be called by the prosecution.

Hoffa and the other defendants are charged with fraudulently obtaining $25 million from the pension fund and pocketing more than $1 million of the amount. All have pleaded innocent.

During the first four weeks of the trial, government attorney Charles Z. Smith has attempted to show illegal use of the pension fund by putting recipients of Teamster loans on the witness stand.

LONG QUESTIONING
The examination has been tedious and technical. Dozens of financial terms such as escrow, improved parcels of real estate, guaranty mortgage and collateral have marked the testimony.

Among the evidence introduced by the government have been canceled checks, loan applications, telegrams between Teamster officials and loan recipients and telephone logs.

The defense attorneys — each of the eight defendants is represented by a separate attorney — have been trying to prove that the financial transactions were quite proper.

Austin, who predicted at the outset that the trial might last four or five months, has repeatedly expressed his irritation with the slow pace of the proceedings and has frequently interrupted lawyers and witnesses to get them to answer questions more quickly.

Your Heart Has Nine Lives—VII

Unclear Whether Stress Is Key Factor in Coronary Disease

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the seventh in a series of 12 articles condensed from the new book, "Your Heart Has Nine Lives.")

By ALTON BLAKESLEE & JEREMIAH STAMLER, M.D.
Many men comfort themselves that it is mainly the big man in the big job who is hurried to the grave from a heart attack because of tensions and stresses.

There's also some general impression that the tensions of our modern living are one of the great enemies of our hearts, and that nothing much can be done about it.

We are all too well aware that people drop dead of heart attacks at thrilling baseball games, or during fires, or on other occasions of stress and excitement.

Stress and tension do have powerful effects upon our bodies, and can even raise blood cholesterol temporarily.

But it is still far from clear that tension and stress induce the artery clogging, or are a key influence in setting up for heart attacks.

WAY OF LIFE

And it's debatable whether our way of life today really involves more stress than our ancestors faced.

Poverty, economic depressions, fear of unemployment, anger over social injustices, anxieties about our children, the race between income and debt, personal tragedies, the pressure to make critical decisions—these stresses have been with us for a very long time.

Some challenges—call them stresses and tensions if you will—are good for us if we're not to live dull, vegetable lives, empty of change and progress and richness of experience.

The question is whether too much stress somehow is doing some of us in.

HARD TO ASSESS

All this is very difficult to assess.

If psychological stress in general is a key factor in coronary heart disease, then we must assume that similar stress either doesn't exist, or else it operates differently, in countries where the incidence of heart disease is very low.

Is a particular kind of stress involved in bringing on atherosclerotic disease?

Or is stress, or certain types of stress, significant only when linked with other elements such as diet, smoking, high blood pressure?

HARMFUL STRESSES

What kinds of stresses (if any) are really harmful? Fear and anxiety, anger and frustration, uncertainty and boredom and restlessness, rapid change, time pressure, working too hard, fatigue, not getting enough sleep?

Clues to clarify the role of stresses and tensions are coming from research.

Everyone knows our hearts beat faster and blood pressure rises and our hands may get clammy when we become scared or angry, or anxious, or even when we ask for a raise.

REACT TO STRESS

We react to stress with more adrenalin and chemical changes in our blood to make us more alert, to prepare for fight or flight.

But invariably we don't find it either permissible or possible to run away or throw a punch.

This may be hard on our arteries and heart, unless we can find ways of handling stress.

In the person with angina pectoris from narrowed arteries, physical exertion can bring pain when the heart is forced to work harder, and suffers from lack of oxygen.

SIMILAR EFFECTS

Emotional excitement or anger brings similar effects in such a person, putting a heavier load on the heart, and can even result in a heart attack.

But fear or anger simply cannot reach out suddenly to clamp off a healthy heart artery.

A long series of reactions to stress, combined with other factors, might have some effect.

Some researchers hold that high blood pressure is a response of a vulnerable person to unfavorable life experiences and stresses.

STRESSFUL SITUATIONS

Stressful situations can also kick up blood cholesterol levels.

Blood cholesterol has been found to rise sometimes when a person has an exciting dream.

But whether people have persistent high cholesterol because of chronic nervous tension and stress is still not known.

It's certainly not unreasonable to suspect that the kick-ups in cholesterol and blood pressure from stresses could help promote atherosclerosis, especially in people on high-fat, high-cholesterol, high-calorie diets.

PERSONALITIES

Our personalities, and ways we react to stress, could well be involved.

Two men on the same job, even a meal on one being unhappy and frustrated, the other quite contented.

Even if the two men react the same way to their jobs, their stresses at home from family or health problems can vary greatly.

Humans also vary in how much they either suppress emotions, or let off steam, how much they find outlets for tensions through hobbies or exercise.

EXERCISE NOT ALONE

In any case, heart attacks are assuredly not primarily a disease of executives now.

In a three-year study of duPont Company employees, initial heart attacks after age 45 were found to have occurred more frequently among lower-salaried male employees than those in higher brackets.

The higher the position, the more satisfaction men and women may derive from the demands of their jobs, while employees in lower income levels may feel more frustration, or even resentment.

LITTLE INFORMATION

There is little solid information that psychological and cultural stresses by themselves produce enough of a large and lasting change in blood cholesterol or other mechanisms to hurry the development of the artery-clogging disease.

But stress could be a factor, acting in concert with other influences.

What is your defense?

Here are some tips from heart specialists:

Dr. Irvine Page of Cleveland: A formula for hygiene of good living "consists among other things of good weight control, regular exercise, disciplined life, participation in those things you can influence and avoidance of those you cannot, and living with a purpose and without fear as though you would live forever."

WORK HARD

Dr. E. Grey Dimond, La Jolla. "I work and drive as hard as I am capable, and fully believe that I would have found, or made, life just as stressful had I lived in ancient Egypt, in Greece, or in Rome."

"I do not personally feel 'stressed' and do not believe modern living, or my version of it, has changed my survival time one day."

Students Demonstrate in 4 South Korean Cities

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — About 6,500 students demonstrated in four South Korean cities today, demanding immediate economic reforms, the elimination of corruption and the immediate release of students arrested in earlier demonstrations.

Students from universities in Seoul, Pusan, Chunchon and Taegu staged rallies despite police efforts to nip the demonstrations in the bud.

By 3 p. m., about 100 students had been arrested in Seoul and 80 in Chunchon, 50 miles northeast of Seoul.

The students demanded the release of 37 students and citizens still under arrest because of anti-government and anti-Japanese demonstrations a week ago.

Student leaders said they would give the government until the end of the week to comply with their demands and warned they would "arise" if the demands are not met.

Presidential Press Secretary Park Sang Kil said anti-government agitation by students and opposition politicians could produce a "grave situation" in South Korea.

Park denied reports that the government was thinking of declaring martial law, but Premier Chung Il Kwon told newsmen "There is a limit to the government's patience."

Originally students from 32 Seoul universities and colleges planned to demonstrate, but many changed their mind when 17 student leaders were arrested early today. These students were released shortly after noon.

Only nine universities in the four cities were involved in the demonstrations.

In Seoul, the largest concentration of demonstrators was about 1,500 at Korea University.

About 100 students at National University started to move their demonstration off the campus, but police waded in and arrested 51 of them.

About 2,000 students at Tonga University in Pusan held a rally, but created no disturbances.

In Chunchon, Teachers' College students rallied and then demonstrated. They clashed with the police four times and at least 80 were arrested, but none injured.

The students claim that South Korea is in danger of a kind of financial colonialism under Japan, her old colonial master.

A computer that can perform 100,000 calculations per second will, when fully miniaturized, weigh only fifteen pounds. It will be able to guide space craft or operate fire control and bomb release on a fighterbomber.

3 Nations to Meet in Malaysian Crisis

TOKYO AP) — The foreign ministers of Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines will meet here about June 5 to discuss the Malaysia crisis, diplomatic sources said today.

If the initial meetings are successful, the heads of the three governments involved in the dispute will join their foreign ministers in a summit conference in Tokyo about three days later, the sources added.

Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman has insisted on a token withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo before he sits down with Presidents Sukarno of Indonesia and Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines.

The diplomatic sources said Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman, a mediator in the dispute, would report to the foreign ministers on whether there had been a withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas.

At a mountain resort in the Philippines, Macapagal expressed delight that the way had apparently been cleared for another attempt to solve the nine-month-old dispute at the summit level.

KEPT HOPE
"I have been working for this since September last year, and I never lost hope that it could be held," Macapagal said. "It seems that my optimism was not without basis."

Although the Philippines lays claim to the Malaysian Borneo state of Sabah (former British North Borneo), Macapagal wants to settle the issue by peaceful means.

Sukarno regards the British-backed federation as neo-colonial an challenge to Indonesian interests.

The Philippines recently established consular relations with Malaysia, but Indonesia is continuing its diplomatic and economic boycott.

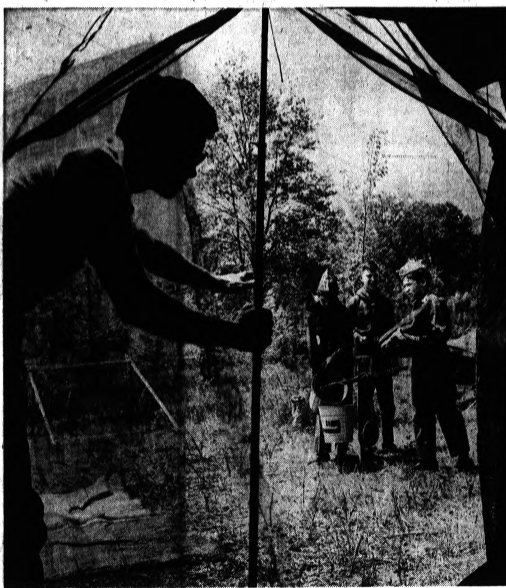

ONE OBJECTIVE

Macapagal said one objective of the Tokyo meeting would be full-fledged diplomatic recognition of Malaysia by both Indonesia and the Philippines.

In Bangkok, a Thai cease-fire team of about 30 officials was ready to depart for Borneo today to supervise the withdrawal of the guerrillas. The team's departure awaited formal approval by the Thai government.

Taylor Attends 3-Day Confab

NY Program Presents Government Officials

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. left for New York this weekend to represent Pontiac at the three-day U. S. Conference of Mayors which opened there today.

The delegates will hear top government dignitaries scheduled to address the annual conference.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz was slated to speak to the delegation at today's opening session.

Also scheduled to address the group was Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was to take part in a community relations workshop.

Although about 600 delegates registered in advance for the conference, which ends Wednesday, officials said attendance should top 1,000 to make it the largest in the 31-year history of the conference.

URBAN RENEWAL

The mayors will take up urban renewal problems, inter-group community conflict, municipal machinery and intergovernmental relations.

Mayor Herman W. Goldner of St. Petersburg, Fla., told a workshop yesterday that the racial problem is one not peculiar to southern cities but affects all municipalities in the country.

Goldner is chairman of the conference's community relations committee.

Vice Mayor Sam Massell Jr. of Atlanta warned the officials that "The work in the field of equal rights won't be completed until every man has his equal rights."

Junior Editors Quiz on GOVERNMENT

QUESTION: What is the job of the secretary of the treasury?

ANSWER: This government official is one of the most important men in Washington.

He advises the President on the financial affairs of the nation and is the head of the Treasury Department, which is housed in the Grecian-type building shown at the top of our picture.

Another very important person in the Treasury Department is the Treasurer of the United States, whose office receives all money paid in to the government, takes care of it and pays government expenses. This office also issues and redeems paper money.

Under the secretary of the treasury are various assistant and under secretaries who handle other jobs of the Treasury Department.

An assistant secretary is in charge of the U. S. Secret Service, which guards currency, fights counterfeiters and guards the President and his family.

An assistant secretary also heads the Bureau of Customs, the Bureau of Narcotics and the important U. S. Coast Guard. Other Secretaries handle the Office of International Finance, Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Bureau of the Mint.

Started in 1789 with only five employees, the Treasury Department now employs more than 80,000.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look closely at any paper bill and you will see it is signed both by the Secretary of the Treasury (right side) and the Treasurer of the United States (left side). Several women have served in this last office and made splendid records.

A few yards of braid transform plain white sheets and pillow cases into special decorative notes for your bedroom. Edging is used for the set at the left. On the right, flat braid has been applied to bedding, curtains, and even the lamp shade. All braids and fringes shown are either cotton or rayon and are washable.

Kin Irked by Formal Thank You

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My nephew was married recently and I sent his bride a very lovely wedding present.

I received a thank-you note from the bride in this morning's mail which began, "Dear Mrs. Smith."

To say I was shocked at this salutation putting it mildly, I don't know the bride too well, having met her only twice, but even so, to begin a letter to her husband's aunt as "Dear Mrs. Smith," was, in my opinion, unthinkable.

I would be interested in having your opinion on this.

A: I agree that she should have begun her letter, "Dear Aunt Jane."

Q: When writing a note on an informal, does one begin on the first (or outside) page or on the inside page?

I mean, of course, when there is no name engraved across the face of the card.

Also, when there is a name on the face of the card where does one begin—above or below the inside fold?

A: When writing on a plain informal with no name engraved, or printed, across the center, you begin your note on the outside page.

When there is a name, you begin your message, if short, on the inside page below the fold. When writing a longer note, it is more usual to begin at the top of the page above the fold and continue on down.

$200 in Flowers Not Hay

See Lawyer About Loss

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I love flowers. For many years my tulips have taken prizes.

Last year some new neighbors moved to the north of us. They keep chickens. But their chickens are not cooped up or fenced in to keep them on their own property so every morning those chickens head right for my bulbs.

So far I have had about $200 worth of fine imported bulbs scratched up.

I don't want to fence in my property because it will ruin the looks of it; neither do I want to start a feud with my neighbors. Have you any suggestions?

LOVES FLOWERS

DEAR ABBY: I assume you have already complained to your neighbors.

If you have, and were ignored, ask your lawyer to write them a letter pointing out their legal responsibilities.

If that doesn't work, you may have to sue. Two hundred dollars worth of bulbs is not chicken feed.

DEAR ABBY: When a child must go to the hospital for a tonsillectomy operation and the mother is unable to go, isn't it all right for the father to be there instead?

A friend of mine, right out of the blue, asked me how I could have stayed away from my child at a time like that.

She said nothing in the world could have kept HER away if it had been her child. She hurt me terribly when she said that.

Abbey, I have small children at home and no one to leave them with, and things beyond my control made it impossible for me to go to the hospital that day.

Did I do wrong?

HURT

DEAR HURT: No. Your friend was just blabbing and unkind of the hurt she was causing—at least if she is a GOOD friend.

DEAR ABBY: I have read a lot of letters about teen-agers, but I need some information on 5th graders.

Many of the little boys and girls in my daughter's class have exchanged rings. My daughter's class have exchanged rings. My daughter came home with one a boy had given her and now she thinks maybe she should give him one.

On Saturdays a bunch of little girls go to the movies and pair off with a bunch of little boys who have also come in a group.

Do you see anything wrong with this? My daughter is not boy crazy, but she says, "Everybody else does."

Should I tell her to give the boy's ring back and that she can't sit in a movie with him?

BETWIXT AND BETWEEN

DEAR BETWIXT: In my opinion, your daughter is too young to exchange rings with a boy.

And only when she is old enough to accept a movie date with a boy should she sit with him.

A good answer to "Everybody else does" is, "No they don't. YOU are somebody, and YOU don't."

Polly's Pointers

Keep Silver Shining

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Put a little liquid silver polish into a small bowl of water. Drop a piece of clean flannel into the bowl to "steep" for a few hours.

Remove cloth and hang up to dry without rinsing. You will then have a handy silver polishing cloth to use for those in-between polishing jobs.

To keep soil from slipping through the hole in the bottom of a flower pot, I stretch a little piece of cloth over the hole inside before putting in the soil.

It holds the dirt in and still allows the water to come through for good drainage.

To polish copper articles, take crumpled sheets of newspaper and thoroughly rub the metal. You will get rid of stains and bring out the natural luster of the copper.—FRAN.

DEAR POLLY — Cut a circle of cardboard to fit the top of a vase so a single stalk of flowers will stand upright.

Cut a hole in the center, slip the stem through this and the flower will remain in place with no danger of tipping over.

This is especially good for gladioli.—MRS. W. G.

DEAR POLLY — Mothers of young dancers and baton twirlers can buy swimsuits for half price or less at the end of the season.

Trim them with sequins, fringe or bugle beads for beautiful costumes at a low price and little work.

Write on each a clue to tell what garment it is for.

On wash day there is no more guesswork or hunting for mislaid directions.—MRS. E. G.

DEAR POLLY — I have just finished ironing a number of women's blouses and men's shirts that have French cuffs.

After finishing, I insert one large safety pin in each sleeve to take place of a cuff link.

I then repress the edge of each cuff to make a good finish until the garment is worn with regular links.—MRS. A. W.

Candlelight Ceremony for Couple

Sandra Katherine Cummins became Mrs. Ronald Scott Mitchell in a candlelight ceremony Saturday at the Kirk in the Hills.

Their parents are Mrs. Blanche Cummins of Commerce Lake, Mantion M. Cummins, Bloomfield Hills, and the Howard Mitchells of Livonia.

Small handmade silk roses and Alencon lace motifs highlighted the bridal gown of white silk organza over peau de soie, designed with chapel train.

A silk Dior rose caught the bouffant triple-tiered veil and bluish veil of French illusion. The bride carried white roses and orchids.

ATTENDS SISTER

Mrs. Paul J. Schalm of Dallas, Pa. attended her sister as honor matron with bridesmaids Rhele Diver, Ann Arbor, Nancy Lovejoy, Union Lake and Virginia Yager, Farmington.

With best man, Ronald Bogoyevac, of Livonia, were ushers Richard Mitchell, Cincinnati; Robert Mitchell, Livonia, and Wilbert Smith of Detroit.

Both attended Olivet College and the bridegroom will complete his studies at University of Michigan. They will live in Detroit.

Must Teach
Cleanliness

No matter how many laws are passed, one benefit that can't be legislated is cleanliness.

Communities have found that anti-litter laws will not keep their streets clean. School authorities know that penalties will not keep their playgrounds and washrooms clean.

So the sooner it is recognized that education is the only answer, the better. Education in cleanliness — and its relationship to both health and beauty — should begin at home, including plenty of practice with soap and detergent suds!

Civic pride is the by-product of self-respect that comes from acquiring clean personal habits in clean surroundings.

A brand new version of super-sheer nylon tricot, with the soft "hand" of georgette crepe has been developed from a special nylon yarn. A patent on the process has been applied for, so consumers can look forward to loading still another "delicate" fabric into their washers and dryers.

Bride's Father Assists at Ceremony

A candlelight ceremony Saturday in the Free Methodist Church, Oxford, marked the marriage of Dyanna Lee Hester to Gary Wilbur Laidlaw of Salmer Street.

The bride, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Hester of Province Town Street, chose a gown of tiered white Chantilly lace over taffeta, with white sweep.

Pearl loops over lace petals fashioned a headpiece which cradled the bride's bouffant veil of illusion. Her bouquet of white carnations surrounded a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

With Mrs. David Voyer, her sister's honor matron, were Kathy Lauinger, bridesmaid, and Nadine Zumbunner, junior attendant.

Patti Zumbunner and David Daley were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

Robert Roberts of Utica was best man for the bridegroom, son of the Wilbur Laidlaws of Dryden. Dale Laidlaw and Gary Gilbert of Metamora served as groomsmen. William Davies and Philip Williams ushered.

A reception in the Methodist

Church, Oxford, followed the ceremony performed by Rev. Harlow Hoyt, with the bride's father assisting.

LIVE IN PONTIAC

The couple will live in Pontiac after a brief northern honeymoon. He is a graduate of Oakland University.

U.S. Finds Walls Have Ears Behind the Iron Curtain

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sleuths overseas have discovered that fireplaces can have ears.

One such fireplace was in the office at the residence of the American ambassador in Prague. Late last year State Department security men found a tiny radio hidden in the framework.

The midjet transmitter, which could beam conversations in the room to eavesdroppers outside the ambassador's home, was described today as the most sophisticated device yet uncovered in a continuing check on attempts to spy against U.S. envoys abroad.

Over the past 15 years some 170 hidden electronic snipers have been ferreted out of the offices and homes of American officials in foreign lands, mostly behind the Iron Curtain.

STILL GOES ON

The bugging is still going on and so are searches by specially trained State Department security men. Their biggest find announced last week, was 40 microphones in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

The Soviet microphones were relatively crude as spy devices go. But they defied U.S. detection for 12 years because they were so deeply embedded in the walls of the embassy and because they sent their signals by wire, not radio.

The State Department has a 95-man security squad operating abroad, headed by a former FBI and Central Intelligence Agency officer, G. Marvin Gentile.

Some of the overseas investigators are engineering graduates who specialize in electronic counter-espionage. Others do personnel security work, such as checking the backgrounds of federal job applicants who have lived overseas.

HORROR CHAMBER

In Washington, the State Department has a locked "chamber of horrors" room for display of captured gadgets. The security men are briefed on the latest advances in eavesdropping technology.

Armed with modern detecting equipment, the overseas investigators travel out of Frankfurt, Beirut and Tokyo headquarters to "sweep" official quarters in the more than 100 countries where the U.S. government has buildings. If Congress votes the money, they will set up another headquarters in Africa.

Even with the stepped-up program, the security men cannot be 100 per cent sure they have uncovered all the spy devices. It is a standard rule for U.S. diplomats, especially in Communist countries, to assume unfriendly ears are trying to listen in.

Just turning on a water faucet or blowing a hi-fi set is not enough to offset a secret listening device. Skilled monitors can still pick out the conversation.

SPECIAL ROOMS

The best safeguard devised so far is "secure," or bug-proof, rooms specially constructed in embassies. Talk is possible in these rooms-within-rooms without fear of eavesdropping.

The embassies are regarded as easier to keep free of bugging than diplomats' homes. That's because embassies have

Nixon's Credentials Looming Greater

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

The credentials qualifying Richard M. Nixon for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination are, in the order of their importance, about like this:

- Both conservative and soft-boiled Republicans could support Nixon whereas some soft-boiled leaders already are threatening to bolt if Sen. Barry Goldwater is nominated. Some conservatives might bolt a ticket headed by Henry Cabot Lodge or Nelson Rockefeller.

- The 34,108,546 votes Nixon polled in 1960 against the most attractive Democratic politico of his generation.

- Nixon's experience in national and international affairs. Many Americans probably have forgotten how close was the 1960 election. John F. Kennedy had a popular vote advantage of two-tenths of 1 per cent, a bulge of only 118,550 votes out of 68.8 million cast.

- Kennedy was a minority winner. His share of the popular vote was 49.7 per cent to Nixon's 50.3.

on's 49.5 per cent. The remaining fraction went to splinter candidates.

STOP GOLDWATER

Nixon's credentials for the nomination are becoming steadily more important. Gov. Rockefeller has improved his pre-convention position and joined with Lodge forces in a California stop-Goldwater operation. If Rockefeller and Lodge stop Goldwater it is quite likely they will get Nixon as a nominee.

Goldwater will remain a powerful figure in the Republican national convention even though he may miss the presidential nomination.

The senator is likely to retain a hard core of minority convention strength sufficient to enable him to influence the party platform and the presidential nomination. A merely casual reading of Goldwater's remarks about other candidates and non-candidates will demonstrate that he could go along with the nomination of Nixon if he could not win for himself.

It is reasonable to believe that Goldwater would support Nixon as an alternative to Rockefeller, Lodge or any other currently discussed. If the convention should reject Goldwater and then reject his compromise candidate, the hotly partisan Goldwater conservatives might be expected to bolt the resultant soft-boiled ticket.

POLITICAL TRADER

Republican liberals will want to placate Goldwater if they can prevent his presidential nomination. If he is any good at all as a political trader, the senator should come out of the July convention with something substantial.

That could be a more conservative party platform or the presidential nominee of his choice or both.

The possibility of a conservative bolt from the presidential candidacy of Rockefeller or Lodge was substantially increased by Sen. Jacob K. Javits' announcement that he would not support a Goldwater presidential ticket. Goldwater's smartly conceived response to that was a call for party unity and a pledge to support the 1964 party nominee.

Javits is a Brooklyn, N.Y., politician and a champion Republican vote-getter in New York state, but to party conservatives he is a maverick.

The conservative Americans for Constitutional Action rated Javits' voting record in the first session of the 88th Congress as only 13 per cent satisfactory. By comparison, Goldwater scored 100 per cent.

Malaysia Premier to Visit LBJ

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman will visit the United States and hold talks with President Johnson sometime in July, a government source said today.

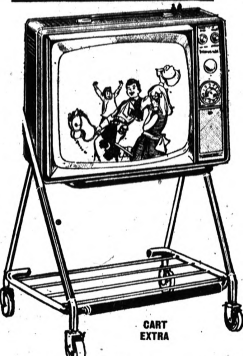

The source said Rahman would fly to the United States following the British Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference in London.

Rahman is expected to present Malaysia's side of its dispute with Indonesia in hopes of winning stronger U.S. backing for this nine-month-old nation.

Malaysia considers U.S. support vital for what it believes will be a long-term struggle against Indonesian hostility that is too fundamental to be solved at a proposed second summit conference.

Law Prof Dies in Arizona

Helped Shape Policy for Big Ten Athletics

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Prof. Ralph W. Aigler, prominent in both the fields of law and athletics while at the University of Michigan, died Sunday. He was 79.

Aigler had been a member of the University of Arizona College of Law faculty since 1955. He died at a Tucson hospital.

At Michigan, Aigler was faculty representative to the Big Ten Athletic Conference from 1917 to 1966. During the nearly 40 years he was instrumental in shaping Big Ten athletic policy. He was chairman of the conference faculty representative several times. He was a member of the Michigan law faculty.

A native of Bellevue, Ohio, Aigler received a law degree from Michigan in 1907. He joined a Chicago law firm upon graduation and became an instructor at Michigan the following year.

Surviving are the widow, Eileen; a daughter, Mrs. Alan S. Foust of Bethlehem, Pa., and four grandchildren.

Council Predicts Holiday Traffic Toll Near 500

CHICAGO (UPI) — Nearly 500 Americans might be killed on the nation's streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend, the National Safety Council said today.

The council estimated that between 410 and 490 persons would die in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. local time Thursday and midnight Sunday. In a comparable nonholiday period, there would be about 360 traffic casualties.

The council estimated that between 19,000 and 23,000 persons would suffer injuries in traffic accidents during the period.

More than 83 million motor vehicles will travel about 8.5 billion miles during the holiday weekend, the council said.

'Orbital Laboratory Five Years Away'

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — A manned orbital research laboratory (MORL) capable of accommodating six astronauts and remaining in orbit for more than a year could be operational within five years, according to a four-month study by Douglas Aircraft Corp.

The MORL, which would be launched by a Saturn IB Rocket, would be used to test man's psycho-psychological tolerance and proficiency during long periods at zero-gravity — or could supply artificial gravity if it is found that man cannot endure weightlessness.

Find Unidentified Body

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Authorities sought the identity of a man whose body was found today near a railroad crossing in Cascade Township, about 10 miles southeast of here. Cause of death was not immediately known.

Softball Streaks End in Township Action

Two streaks came to an end as Waterford Township Class C softball teams made up previous postponements Sunday night on the Drayton Plains diamond.

Lakeland Pharmacy ended Haskins Chevrolet's three-game winning string with a 10-1 victory, and the Pink Poodle team snapped its losing ways with an 8-7 triumph over Huron Bowl.

Lakeland's conquest tied it with Haskins for first place in the Class C circuit while the Poodle squad tied Dixie Bar for fourth place. Huron has yet to win.

Wayne Janks led the Lakeland victory by fanning five and walking only two in a seventh effort. John Strong's, three hits led the attack.

Dick McIntosh's single drove in Bob Erickson to cap a four-run seventh inning rally and defeat Huron. It was his third hit, matching George Paulson's three for the losers.

In unreported Friday night action, Lakeland topped Huron, 9-0, behind Dennis McConkey; and Haskins whipped Dixie Bar 9-4.

WIBC Titles Are Decided

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A trim brunette secretary from neighboring St. Paul claimed two championships Sunday night as the 4th Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament ended after its 45-day run.

Jean Havish, 28, gave Minnesota its first two WIBC crowns. She topped the division one singles with a 690, good for $500, and paced the all events with 1,860, paying another $300. The all event total was an all-time record and the 690 in singles was the sixth highest ever.

Battle Creek Rules State Track

By The Associated Press
Battle Creek, with two champions, rates a claim to being Michigan's high school track and field center.

The Cereal City's Central High and St. Phillip High dashed off with the Class A and Class C State High School Championships in Saturday's record-smashing exhibitions.

Equally imposing were Willow Run in dethroning River Rouge for the Class B title and Covert in racing to the Class D championship.

More than a dozen records were broken in the various classes of competition and others were disallowed because of favoring winds.

Bolce Bowman of River Rouge ran the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds, equalling a 19-year-old mark, and also won the 220 and ran on a record-breaking half mile relay team in his team's losing cause against Willow Run at East Lansing.

Willow Run was led to its 38-35 edging of River Rouge by Lamar Miller Jr., son of Willow Run's coach, Miller won the 180-yard low hurdles, in which he set a record of 19.5, took the broad jump and placed third in the high hurdles.

MATCHED RECORD
Bowman's 9.9 in the 100 matched the record set by Robert Swain of East Grand Rapids in 1945.

Arnie Williams' victories in the 100 and 220 dashes helped carry Battle Creek Central to a bare two points over Flint Central 28-26, Lansing Everett had 21 for third place.

The Class A record-breaking was performed by Ann Arbor's Ken Dyer in the high jump and Saginaw Arthur Hill's Wayne

Lambert in the pole vault. Dyer leaped 6 feet 7 1/2 inches, breaking last year's 6'5 mark of Al Washington of Flint. Northern, Lambert vaulted 13 feet 11 1/2 inches, bettering the 13-6 of William Lee of Flint Central in 1963.

THE STYLE CORNER OF PONTIAC

Dickinson's

By Bud Shelton

Here's one 1 ball you didn't know... Baseballs used in big league games have not always been white... In the late 1920s, an experiment was tried with yellow baseballs in a game between Pittsburgh and Brooklyn... It was thought spectators might be able to follow the ball better if it were colored yellow... But, the idea never caught on... It would seem strange today seeing a game with yellow baseballs, wouldn't it?

How about this... The New York Yankees have not finished in the second division in the lifetime of most current major league ball players... Last time the Yanks wound up in the second division was 1925... And, that was 39 years ago!

I bet you didn't know... that the place to get the right deal on a new Pontiac or Buick for a real good used car is at Shelton's See us soon!

Souchak Scores in Memphis Open

MEMPHIS (AP)—When Mike Souchak enters a golf tournament he figures to win if he attacks the par 5 holes and does well.

The former Duke football player fired a 69 Sunday and slipped past three other golfers for a one-stroke victory in the $50,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament with a 10-under-par 270 total.

Souchak pointed to his four rounds over the Colonial Country Club course and his performances on the par 5 holes, 13, 16 and 18. He birdied each of those four times except No. 16 the first round.

"I think that's what it takes to win—attack the par 5s, do well and take home first place money."

Souchak clinched his victory, and $7,500, with a birdie putt on the final hole from four feet after an exploding sand shot hit only three inches from the pin and rolled past.

SECOND PLACE
Billy Casper and Tommy Jacobs came in second with 271. Six golfers—Bob Rosburg, Art Wall Jr., Mason Rudolph, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer—were tied for fourth with 272.

Litter, Casper and Jacobs were tied with Souchak with nine under par. Each had birdies on the par 5 No. 16 and pairs on the short 17th hole. Little bogied 18 after having fairway trouble and Jacobs and Casper barely missed long birdie putts.

Goldom's perennial tournament favorites, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, were far back in the pack. Nicklaus fired a second straight 68 and had a 274. Palmer had a final round 69 for 276.

Souchak's winnings jumped to $22,463 with the victory and put him sixth on the money list. Jacobs and Casper got $3,650 each. The six tied for fourth won $2,216 each.

The 5-foot-11, 200-pound Souchak pointed to his iron for his confidence off the tee on par 4 holes.

14 'Lonely Ones' Race

LONDON (AP)—The lonely ones—14 singlehanded sailors in the Trans-Atlantic yacht race—headed out into the open ocean today with French Navy Lieutenant Eric Tabarly apparently in the lead.

Many experienced offshore men believe that the strain of Atlantic rollers on the two cats and single trimaran will prove disastrous.

Tabarly, according to radio messages monitored in London, rounded Land's End in his 44-foot ketch Pen Duick III a few miles ahead of 63-year-old Francis Chichester's Gipsy Moth III.

Chichester, map publisher and navigator, is the race favorite. He won the only previous similar race in 1960.

Light easterly breezes interspersed with periods of flat calm and fog gave the competitors an uneasy first night at sea.

This sort of racing demands steady breezes so that the self-steering gear can take over and

Sudden Fame for College Prof

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
LONG BEACH, Calif. — A year ago, Korean-born Richard E. Kim found himself in a tight situation.

Having lived for several years on scholarships and fellowships at American colleges, he found himself in need of a job to support his wife and two children. He tried for teaching posts at 20 colleges and universities; despite his credentials—three separate M.A. degrees—all turned down.

Kim had written a novel as part of his master's thesis at the University of Iowa, a story of life in the Korean War. A half-dozen publishers had rejected it, some with form letters of regret.

Then Kim's luck changed. George Braziller agreed to publish his novel, "The Martyred." And Long Beach State College came through with a job teaching English.

The book leaped into the best-seller list on the strength of sensational reviews: "Deserved to be included in the small group of 20th century novels which may be called great," Robert Kirsch, Los Angeles Times. "A major achievement," Pearl Buck. "In the great tradition of Job, Dostoevsky and Albert Camus," New York Times.

SUDDEN FAME

In his office between classes, Kim spoke quietly of his sudden fame.

"I'm not so sure I like all this," he said worriedly. "I find myself doing a lot of things I shouldn't be doing, like making speeches and appearing on television. I should be writing instead."

Kim, 32, is slightly built, with a handsome face that seems inexpressive until he allows a burst of nervous laughter. He was a freshman at Seoul National University when the Korean War started in 1950 and was forced into army training when Communists captured the capital. He escaped to become a ROK lieutenant and an aide to the commander of the U.S. 7th Division.

He went to Middlebury College in Vermont to study history and political philosophy and later switched to writing when he was able to think in English without translating. He became an American citizen a week ago.

WAS DISCOURAGED

Admittedly he was discouraged by the turndowns of "The Martyred." Braziller published the novel without major change. "And at that point I wouldn't have made any changes, anyway," the author said. "I was too fed up."

Was he surprised by the critical reaction?

"Yes, I didn't expect anything like this," he replied. "I knew that I was a foreigner, and I didn't think a book about Korea would appeal to the American reader. Besides, there was no young woman in the book."

12 COUNTRIES

Kim is being read all over the world. "The Martyred" has been published in 12 countries, including Korea, where he hears that it has been well received. There is talk of stage and screen versions, and Kim hopes to take part in writing the scripts. Meanwhile, he is working on a new novel about any army coup in Korea — wherever he can find time between making appearances and correcting freshman compositions.

NAACP Gets Large Grant

$500,000 Donated to Aid Legal Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said yesterday it had received $500,000 for its legal defense fund from an anonymous donor who predicted that passage of a civil rights bill will "generate massive resistance to its enforcement."

NAACP counsel Jack Greenberg quoted the donor as saying that such resistance would give rise "to continued demonstrations and to a great volume of litigation."

He said the group was increasing its annual defense fund from less than $1 million to $1.5 million for the next two years and to $2 million for 1966.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, associate NAACP counsel, said she expects "thousands of arrests" in the South during the coming summer.

Greenberg, director-counsel of the fund, outlined new legal moves for the summer by the NAACP. Among them: a New York staff members of the fund will work in Memphis, Tenn., and Jackson, Miss., to augment the bloc of attorneys already there.

Staff lawyers will conduct legal seminars in late June at Western College for women in Oxford, Ohio, for an anticipated 2,000 students expected to participate in the "Freedom Summer" program in Mississippi.

A civil rights law institute will be held May 30 to June 1 in Atlanta for attorneys from Alabama, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia and Missouri.

Next Wednesday and Thursday a convocation on equal justice under law will be held here to mark the 25th anniversary of the fund.

Among the speakers scheduled are Dr. Ralph Bunche, James H. Meredith, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Roy Wilkins and James Farmer.

Clerics to Exchange North-South Pulpits

HAMPTON, N.H. (AP) — Methodist ministers from New Hampshire will exchange pulpits with Negro ministers from the South within a month.

Bishop James K. Matthews of Boston told the New Hampshire Methodist Conference Sunday the exchanges will include salary, homes and all other phases of the ministers' work. He did not name the ministers or the communities involved.

English Job Market a 'Blooming' Situation

LONDON (AP) — Unemployment in Britain is at its lowest rate in 2½ years.

The Ministry of Labor said today there were 369,121 unemployed in May, a drop of 42,477 from the April figure. In May last year the figure was 554,000 or 2.4 per cent. This month's percentage is 1.6.

Unanimity Ends There

Agree on Profit Uptrend

AP Business News Analysis
NEW YORK—Profits will be up next year, according to a survey of corporate accountants. The survey, based on responses to a questionnaire sent out last week, shows that 60 percent of the accountants expect profits to rise in 1965. The survey also shows that 60 percent of the accountants expect sales to rise in 1965. The survey is based on responses to a questionnaire sent out last week. The survey also shows that 60 percent of the accountants expect sales to rise in 1965.

But translate today's profits into yesterday's dollars, and the figures are still higher. Corporate accountants prefer comparing profits to sales—the margin is still under 6 percent, although rising from the low to which it sank in the late 1950s. Other accountants think a true picture is given by expressing profits in ratio to the company's assets or net worth.

Trading Moderate

Growth News Hikes Chrysler

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler was strong in a slightly heavier stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate in the over-all market.

Chrysler started more than 2 points following news of the latest in its series of expansion projects. Buying was heavy in the stock. It changed hands on some sizable blocks including one of 17,000 and 10,000 shares.

Stocks with mineral finds

The stocks with mineral finds, which have highlighted the market in recent weeks, continued to cool off. Occidental Petroleum was down more than 3 points. Texas Gulf Sulphur changed to a thin gain.

Gains by scattered blue chips

Big Three motors all were ahead. A higher tone prevailed among airlines, chemicals, cigarettes, drugs, farm implements and coppers. Ralls, utilities, office equipments and electronics were lower.

The Associated Press average of 80 stocks at noon was up 3 at 307.1 with industrials up 1.2, rails off 3 and utilities off 4.

Rights Debate in 12th Week

4th GOP Confab Set on Proposed Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to speed the passage of the bill. The bill is still in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee. The bill is still in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee. The bill is still in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Republicans seem scheduled for their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today. Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

HOPE TO SUBSTITUTE

Dirksen and assistant Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the bill.

This substitute, they said, could be discussed this week and much of next week before an attempt is made to bring the bill to a vote.

The approval of two-thirds of the senators present and voting is required to shut off the Southern oratory that has prevented action on the bitterly disputed legislation.

INVOKE CLOTURE

Senate leaders have indicated they might try to invoke cloture by the second week in June.

An Associated Press poll of all

100 senators, however, revealed that the votes needed for cloture in early June are not yet available.

It would take 67 votes to close the debate if the full membership were on hand. Only 55 senators said they were willing to go on record now for cloture in early June. There were 27 opposed to cloture then. The 17 others were either non-committal or unwilling to say whether they would vote for cloture by early June.

Millwright Ratification Is a Major Break in Strike

came last night with ratification of a new contract by striking millwrights. Settlements by millwrights of the 800-member Local 1102, leaves only electricians, sheet metal workers and tile and marble men among key tradesmen still out of Detroit area building projects.

at a new factory addition and shipping facilities work that would be seriously affected.

Karas explained that concrete for the building's north floor could be poured, but work can not proceed beyond that point without electricians. He added that construction of the Meadow Brook music shell on campus has not yet been seriously affected.

A spokesman for St. Joseph's Hospital today reported that work on the new addition was 90 per cent done, but that non-strikers of other trades were doing what work they could.

Pontiac City Engineer Joseph Neippling said the Hayes Jones

Community Center, at Walnut and Wexsen, was almost operational but could not be opened without final electrical work.

The center includes an outdoor swimming pool and rest room, a new building, along with recreation facilities in the reconstructed old water plant.

Widest effect of the work blockage is being felt in school districts throughout Oakland County.

Work on Pontiac public schools' new office building and warehouse reportedly will not be able to proceed beyond the next three weeks.

General contract work is almost complete on the new Baldwin Junior High School, but electrical installations there and at Mark Twain Elementary are behind schedule.

First phase of Waterford Township's $6.25-million school building program is expected to be completed by construction slowdowns at two new elementary buildings and additions at Cray Junior High and Waterford Township High School.

Ted Wicka, school construction superintendent, said five of their elementary additions should be ready for the fall opening, however.

four-year contract, twice as long as before, with a 25-cent-an-hour pay increase to $4.20.

On Oct. 1 another 20 cents will be added, with similar increases the next three years.

George Horn, millwright union business agent, said the pact also includes fringe benefits. He said pay increase to $4.20.

With a very strong record of growth and less potential dis-inflation, the millwrights are in a strong position to demand a higher wage rate.

Q. "I am interested in grain and soybeans. I have been told that the following are good and have a future: California Liquid Gas; Chattanooga Gas; Commonwealth Gas; National Gas & Oil; Southwest Gas Producing; and Volunteer Natural Gas. What is your opinion?" V.M.

A. Presumably you want my opinion of these as growth utilities.

This leaves me in a rather difficult spot.

Only two of the stocks you mention are classed as public utilities, and the rest are gas and oil producers or steel producers—rather than which operations are rated as a public utility.

The two franchised utilities are Chattanooga Gas and Volunteer National Gas, both pretty good companies operating in rather restricted areas of Tennessee.

I can find no evidence of marked growth in either and suggest you aim a little higher.

I advise you to buy American

mail questions but will answer all questions possible in his column. Write General Features Corp., 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Grain Mart Ranges Steady to Weak

CHICAGO (AP)—The market for grain futures ranged from steady to weak today during the first several minutes of activity on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans lost a cent or more a bushel but setbacks in other commodities were limited to major fractions in rather quiet and somewhat more mixed transactions.

Brokers said there appeared to have been a little pressure as a consequence of the major grain producing area. The moisture also was understood to have improved considerably prospects for corn.

TRADE SLOW

After about an hour trade was almost at a standstill with wheat 1/4 cent a bushel higher to 1/4 lower, July old grade $1.49; corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July 82 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July 82 1/2; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July 82 1/2.

Staebler Hits Romney on Insurance

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, charged today that Gov. George W. Romney has put a "cloak of silence" over proposed Blue Cross rate changes. Staebler said in a statement the proposed rate changes by the pre-paid hospitalization program would double costs for elderly people.

He asserted that the Romney administration is keeping details secret until after the November election. He made the charges in a statement to a senior citizens rally sponsored by the United Auto Workers' Retired Workers Council and the Detroit Metropolitan Council of Senior Citizens.

Calling for a public hearing on Blue Cross rate proposals, Staebler said Romney has tried to "avoid any leadership involvement in the health insurance field." He charged the governor has "not raised a finger to insure that the public be kept informed."

Navy Plans Submarines of Future

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The director of the Polaris program said today the submarine missile may be an effective weapon until the 1980s and the Navy is studying advanced underwater missile concepts as possible successors.

Rear Adm. J. J. Galantin said systems "being considered" for advanced submarines made of titanium or glass which could hug the ocean bottom; missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels, and deployment of large missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

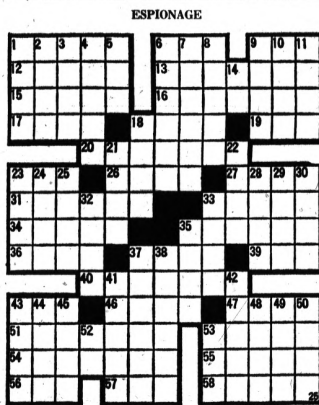

He outlined the proposals in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Aviation and Space Writers' Association. Galantin said about 100 persons will meet in Monterey, Calif., this year to pull together the advanced submarine development work and to establish directions in which it should now proceed.

Galantin said the Navy is requesting $5 million for preliminary study in 1965 of an advanced Polaris missile, the B3. The 16 Polaris submarines on station carry either the 1,380-mile-range A1 model or the 1,755-mile A2. Submarines to be deployed in the summer will pack the A3, with a reach of 3,875 miles.

Not All the Teen-Agers Dig Rock 'n' Roll Beat

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Ninety Kentucky teen-agers in this area dedicate as much time to playing classical music as many of their peers do listening to rock 'n' roll. The Central Kentucky Youth Symphony is now in its 16th year.

The group made an appearance in Carnegie Hall in 1968 and played for President and Mrs. Kennedy at the White House in 1963.

ROBERT NICOLAUS

Man Admits Killing Three

Children's Bodies Left in Trunk of Auto

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (A.) — Robert Henry Nicolaus, 31, admitted shooting his three children to death because he thought they would be better off in heaven, sheriff's deputies reported.

"I felt I had a duty," Sheriff's Sgt. John Crow quoted Nicolaus after the Sacramento man's arrest Sunday.

The state division of highways analyst was booked into Sacramento County jail for investigation of murder.

Deputies said Nicolaus told them he shot Roberta, 7, Donald, 5, and Heidi, 2, in the trunk of his car where "they were looking for a key he told them he had lost."

The bodies were found in the car, parked in North Sacramento.

FORMER MARRIAGE

The two older children were by a former marriage. The youngest was by his present wife.

After the shooting, about 1 p.m. Saturday, the sheriff said, Nicolaus invited his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morehouse of Sacramento to go with him and Mrs. Nicolaus to Lake Tahoe. They went there in the Morehouse car.

Morehouse said Nicolaus told them that he had killed the children with a 38-caliber revolver. Morehouse then called ambulance Sunday morning for Nicolaus who, he said, appeared to be in shock.

At the hospital, Nicolaus told officers where to find the children's bodies.

Apollo Model to Go in Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The launch crew today begins the long countdown for the first attempt to orbit an unmanned model of the Apollo moonship.

A Saturn 1 rocket, which in combination with the spacecraft towers more than 19 stories high is scheduled to thunder into the sky at 9 a.m. (EST) Tuesday.

The Saturn 1, which last January orbited a 37,700-pound satellite, heaviest ever sent aloft will be seeking its sixth test success in as many firings.

The satellite to be orbited weighs 37,300 pounds. It is expected to orbit the earth about a week before burning up from atmospheric friction.

Chicago Negroes Opposing TV Rerun of Amos 'n' Andy

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
CHICAGO (AP) — Amos 'n' Andy are coming home and Chicago's civil rights factions are in an uproar about it.

A newly opened ultra-high frequency television station announced today it has purchased rerun privileges to the famed comedy show. The shows—7 of them—will be televised two times a week beginning June 4.

"If they do," warned Edward C. Berry, a civil rights leader, "the (show) station owners are going to catch hell and the sponsors of the show will not sell to the Negro market."

"It's awfully late in the day for anybody to be engaged in anything as primitive as reviving the show," angrily continued Berry, a Negro who is executive director of the Chicago Urban League.

HARM NEGROES

"The show depicts the negro as a foot-shuffling handkerchief-wielding," he said. "It will do the Negroes and the nation a great disservice."

"I don't see how anybody who has one modicum of intelligence can even think about putting on this show."

SAD SITUATION

A spokesman for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, which cosponsored Chicago's two all-day school boycotts, also voiced a strong protest.

"Bringing back a show which portrays the Negro as a lazy, soft-shoeed jokester is an insult to a large number of people," said Joan Kehoe, a member of SNCC's executive board.

WASHED AWAY

The "Amos 'n' Andy" identity of the Negro had finally been washed away, she said. "Negroes don't want their children to see that identity."

John Weigel, president of WCUTV-TV, said, "I'm going to run the show, despite the protest."

"I don't think a demonstration will deter us," he said. "When you try to expunge American folklore, I think it's a bad situation. 'Amos 'n' Andy' is a fantastically good program in predominantly Negro areas like Atlanta and Birmingham."

"Some of these Negro leaders are gun happy. They want to shoot anything that comes along. Trying to keep the program off the air is comparable to the book-burning in Nazi Germany."

Boss of World's Fair Is High on His Midgets

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Robert Moses, who's banned cotton candy and roasts' ears from World's Fair concessions, is reported also to be against midgets. . . . though this may just be small talk.

"Mr. Moses just loves midgets and his position is 'Welcome, midgets,'" insist his spokesmen. . . . Nevertheless, some concessionaires say they've been warned, "No midgets."

I suggest that Mr. Moses get a midget show in there to prove his friendliness. Otherwise, there's likely to be a demonstration by a Little People's organization "MIDGE," with 500 midgets eating cotton candies and 500 roasts' ears. Could be serious!

LBJ is to be given a tremendous birthday party (Aug. 27, when he turns 56) by Perle Mesa, who'll start it the night before in conjunction with the Dem convention at Atlantic City. Perle's taken a house nearby.

A rumor crackled around a party that Perle gave for Helen Hayes and the cast of "The White House" at the Agency that Bobby Kennedy, "was walking up and down, looking is seriously, but didn't have an invitation. 'When I heard it, I said, 'Tell him to come in.' said Perle, but Bobby didn't, it, indeed, it was Bobby out there."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Folies Bergere showgirls were panties at the first preview show, and some girls complained: dancer Marilyn Conrad said, "I prefer not to use them." I'm always afraid they'll fall off. . . . Louis Armstrong said at the Metropole he'll get an honorary doctor's degree from Parsons College: "And that's the only kind of doctor I want to foot with." . . . Jayne Mansfield arrived from Rome, two days late for rehearsals of "Bus Stop" at Yonkers Playhouse, while the producers steamed; she'll get 40¢ a week.

Authoress Carson McCullers is in Harkness Pavilion with pneumonia and a broken hip. Carol ("Hello, Dolly!") Channing was offered a hefty $7,500 to do a one-nighter at the Concord Hotel. . . . Benny Goodman, visiting Ella Fitzgerald at Basin Street East, borrowed Roy Eldridge's trumpet and tootled it a bit. . . . Barbara Streisand's birthday gifts from husband Elliott Gould: A rabbit, a canary, a goldfish.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Sid Allen suspects one reason American women are often overweight: "Maybe there are calories in the glue on trading stamps."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "My advice to the women's clubs of America is to raise more hell and fewer dahlias."

EARL'S PEARLS: A fellow noted that his wife is studying French cuisine: "They'll make two languages she can't cook in."

Hank Grant heard of a guy who bought a tow-truck, and made a fortune as a bouncer at drive-in movies. That's earl, brother.

Prep Teams Tee Off
in Press Tournament

Jim St. Germain of Northville fired a two-under par 35 this morning to take the nine-hole lead in the annual Pontiac Press Invitational Prep golf tournament at Pontiac Country Club.

Golf, high school, amateur and pro style took over the area sports scene today at Pontiac Country Club and Pine Lake Country Club.

In the 13th annual Pontiac Press Invitational Prep golf tournament at PCC, 20 teams with 100 high school golfers started teeing off at 9:30 a.m.

In USGA Open qualifying at Pine Lake, 100 golfers, including 30 amateurs and 76 pros, started off the first tee at 6:30 a.m. in quest of 18 berths for the National Open at Congressional Country Club in Washington, D.C. June 18-20.

The 18 local qualifiers will take part in sectional qualifying to be held at Franklin Hills June 9th.

In the Press prep meet, there was no clear-cut favorite for the title won by Walled Lake in 1963. Walled Lake is again a strong challenger, but other teams from Kettering, West Bloomfield, Northville, Rochester, Bloomfield, Hills and Milford are all given a strong chance to dethrone the Vikings.

MEDAL HONORS

A battle for medal honors is also expected with at least six 70-shooters, headed by Northville's Jim St. Germain, after the crown.

St. Germain gave indication of what to expect from him today by winning medal honors in the state high school tournament Saturday.

Hundreds Die in Peru

12 Are Critical,
75 Badly Burned in San Francisco Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The latest victim was identified at Presbyter Hospital as Tau Letiti Jr. Like the others who died, Letiti was a member of the city's Samoan community.

Seventy-five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

One of the three Samoan fire dancers, who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

David Quaine, for five years a night club fire dancer, told newsmen he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked sword he whirled in his act.

GASOLINE IGNITED

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a lighter and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun, an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up.

William Murray, fire chief, said there would have been no disaster if the group hadn't panicked. Fleeing men and women, he said, clung at one another savagely.

All available emergency vehicles were used to carry the victims to 10 hospitals in the city. Mayor John F. Shelley declared the holocaust a disaster, and, for the first time, the city's disaster corps mobilized private ambulances and medical facilities to ease the burden on public facilities.

Temperatures to Start Climb

Somebody finally got the idea! The last days of May will be more springlike.

After 24 days of temperatures ranging from 40 to 90, plus a tornado, the weatherman is coming around.

Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above the normal high of 73 and low of 53. It will continue to be rather warm with only minor day-to-day temperature changes.

Precipitation will total one-half to three-quarters inch in showers and thundershowers occurring mainly during the last half of the week. There was half an inch of rain yesterday afternoon.

The low before 8 this morning was 53, but by 1 p.m. the sun had awakened, and the temperature rose to 75.

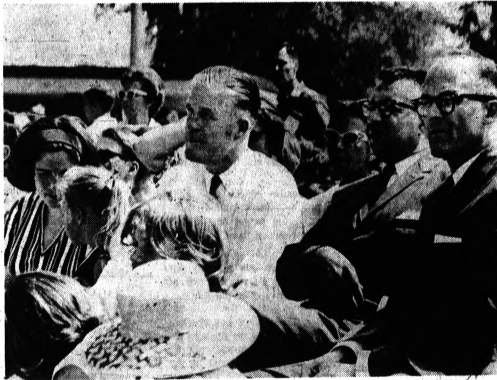

Road Deaths Hit 743

AT BIRMINGHAM'S CENTENNIAL — Among those who traveled to Birmingham Saturday to wish the city a happy 100th birthday was Gov. Romney, Michigan's shirt-sleeved chief executive walked in the centennial parade and gave a speech. Seated with him as he waits his turn at the rostrum are Oakland County Circuit Judges Philip A. Ike: Give Me a Candidate Who's Firm, Not Impulsive

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a copyright statement in today's New York Herald Tribune, said the Republican presidential nominee must be a man of firmness — but not impulsiveness — in foreign affairs, and show a willingness to meet "new needs" of the people.

Related Story, Page D-5

Eisenhower also stressed the "furtherance of civil rights" and "loyal support for the United Nations" in the maintenance of peace.

The former president declined again to indicate a preference among announced or unannounced candidates for the GOP nomination, saying it is "not my proper role" to name names, and "I do not intend to attempt this."

He added that the Republican nominee should be a man who "will uphold, earnestly, with dedication and conviction, the principles and traditions of our party."

Eisenhower said foreign affairs requires "calm, painstaking study of all the infinitely complex situations that confront us—whether in Southeast Asia, in Cuba, or wherever danger threatens or opportunity beckons—followed by firm decision and prompt but carefully conceived action."

"In today's nuclear-age diplomacy, there is no time for indecision, but neither is there room for impulsiveness."

MORAL OBLIGATION

"The nation has a profound moral obligation to each of its citizens, requiring that we not only improve our behavior but also strengthen our laws in a determined effort to see benefits which no agency of government, national, state or local, has the right to abridge."

"As the party of Lincoln, we Republicans have a particular obligation to be vigorous in the furtherance of civil rights. In this critical area, I have been especially proud of the dramatic leadership given by Republicans in Congress these past two years. With equal emphasis I say the same of our Republican governors."

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early action.

GOAL SCORES

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final goal, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower tiers.

Florida Race to Test Barry

But Political Interest Highest in California

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's strength among Florida Republicans will be tested tomorrow in a primary election.

Other events this week include tomorrow's runoff primary in North Carolina and Saturday's primary in North Carolina and a Republican convention in Mississippi, also Saturday.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon appear to be the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairmen. There is strong support for Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the party's national chairman, to deliver the keynote address.

The Florida GOP primary is to decide whether a slate of delegates pledged to Goldwater will cast the state's 34 convention votes.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

Barry Goldwater 50%

William W. Scranton 40%

Henry Cabot Lodge 4%

Nelson W. Rockefeller 4%

Margaret Chase Smith 1%

Richard M. Nixon 1%

Counted; Most Were Suffocated, Crushed

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A stampede of 45,000 spectators in a Lima sports stadium after police fired tear gas at rioting soccer fans left hundreds dead today in possibly the worst sports disaster in history.

Authorities still were unable to come up with an official count of victims. At Sunday's tragedy, Lima's La Prensa said 260 bodies were counted. The newspaper Expresso said 315 were killed. Hundreds were injured.

Many blamed the tear gas for the frantic rush to the exits, and a government statement, taking note of this, declared:

"It was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder. The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated in a trivial incident."

This was a reference to the fact that the riot erupted after a fan jumped from the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in the soccer game between Argentina and Peru. The teams were meeting for the right to play in the Tokyo Olympics.

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early action.

GOAL SCORES

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final goal, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvians continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower tiers.

In Virginia County

Schools Must Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward County, Va., today to reopen its public schools on a desegregated basis by next September.

County education officials closed the schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered admission of Negroes.

The Prince Edward racial controversy has been fought in state and federal courts since May, 1951. It was one of the original school desegregation cases decided by the Supreme Court on May 17, 1954.

Justice Hugo L. Black delivered the court's main opinion today.

Justices Tom C. Clark and John M. Harlan noted they agreed with the reasoning in Black's opinion, but disagreed with the holding that federal courts are empowered to order reopening of the county schools.

ENTER DECKEE

"Black said the case would go back to U.S. District Court in Virginia "with directions to enter a decree which will guarantee that these petitioners (Negro students) will get the kind of education that is given in the state's public schools."

Black added that, "If it becomes necessary to add new parties" to the lengthy litigation to accomplish the purpose ordered today, the federal court in Virginia "is free to do so."

The federal district court in Virginia, Black said, has power to order the public schools opened if such an order is "required to assure these petitioners (Negro students) that their constitutional rights will no longer be denied them."

"The time for mere 'deliberate speed' has run out, and that phrase can no longer justify denying these Prince Edward County school children their constitutional rights (to an education equal to that afforded by the public schools in other parts of Virginia)," Black stated.

MAINTAIN OVER PAIRS Rights Debate in 12th Week

Biracial Plan Brings Cleanup

Youths Join Efforts in Bagley-Wessen Area

A unique experiment here in interracial cooperation gave sidewalk onlookers in the Bagley-Wessen area something to marvel at Saturday.

Some 35 Negro and white students, working together, helped tone down a major eyesore near what has been termed one of the ugliest intersections in the city.

Using rakes, grass cutters and shovels, they cleaned up a refuse-strewn vacant corner lot, then spiked down donated telephone poles to keep out illegally parked cars.

Originators of the project, described as a work-camp session, were Raleigh Harrison, youth incentive director for Pontiac Area Urban League; Conklin Bray, Jefferson Junior High School principal, and Rev. Joseph Pelham of Trinity Episcopal Church, Farmington.

"The idea was to give youngsters a chance to work together and live together, while gaining experience in human relations," explained Harrison.

IMPRESSED RESIDENTS
Harrison said he was elated at the results, and felt the project made an impression on neighborhood residents, many of whom pitched in to help.

The youngsters, drawn from Pontiac, Farmington and Detroit, took part in an orientation session Friday night at the YWCA.

The girls spent the night at the "Y," and the boys at All Saints Episcopal Church.

TOOLS PROVIDED

Hundreds Die in Peru Riot

priced seats and raced across the grass toward the referee.

CORNERED FAN
Police cornered the fan and dragged him off. Other spectators poured onto the field.

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

Termination of the game only excited the fans more. "They threw seat cushions and bottles and anything else they could lay their hands on," said a witness.

"When it looked like things were getting out of hand, police began shooting tear gas into the surging crowd."

PANIC STARTS
"Some tear gas grenades were fired into the crowd still in the stands and the panic was on."

"Because of the fear gas some spectators fainted. Others, trying to get out of the way, trampled them."

Nothing could stop the mobs dashing in frenzy for the exit gates, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

DYING SCREAMS
There were screams for help by the injured and the cries of the dying. By the time the gates were raised it was too late.

Traffic around the stadium in the center of the city was jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hooligans looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

These 17, mostly from the Midwest and from Rocky Mountain states, held the key to the final outcome.

This will be a short work week for Congress with both House and Senate expected to quit on Thursday for a three-day Memorial Day weekend.

House leaders scheduled a vote for today on a measure which would authorize an additional $1.4 billion in federal aid for the construction and modernization of medical and hospital facilities.

The House will consider Tuesday a bill to appropriate $1.6 billion for construction at military bases in the United States and overseas.

Enrollment Jump Expected at OU, Foundation Told

Oakland University Foundation held its annual meeting at the campus and listened to a report from Chancellor D. B. Varner of past happenings and probable steps ahead.

A material increase in enrollment is anticipated next fall, and, even though 178 have just been graduated, the totals in September should run near 1,800.

The chancellor forecast even greater increases in the future. "Current officers were re-elected. They are: Harold A. Fitzgerald, president; Don E. Ahrens, vice president; Mrs. William T. Gossett, vice president; Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, vice president; Mrs. C. Zeder, vice president; Alfred C. Girard, treasurer; Dena F. Walther, secretary; and Mrs. June Matthews, executive secretary."

10,000 Gather in City to Mark Centennial

BIRMINGHAM — A crowd estimated at 10,000 gathered in downtown Birmingham Saturday to help the city celebrate its centennial.

The weather could hardly have been better for the events, all of which were scheduled for outdoors.

Centennial officials reported they were "extremely pleased" with the turnout at the activities which started with a morning car carnival and ended with a fashion show in the afternoon.

Sandwiched between a parade through downtown Birmingham and the fashion show in Shain Park were a speech by Gov. Romney and crowning of the centennial queen.

Frances E. A. Thurber, who represented Marian High School was picked queen of the celebration from a field of four candidates.

PINK DRESS
The 17-year-old senior, who has brown hair and eyes, wore a pale pink dress fashionable before the turn of the century.

Frances is the daughter of Mrs. John L. Thurber, 1139 Emmons, and the late Mr. Thurber. She won a $25 gift certificate from the Chamber of Commerce.

Many of the day's activities, such as the car carnival, parade and fashion show, are those traditionally held on Youth Day of Michigan Week.

This year, everything was bigger and better. Parade units included the city's rolling stock, American Legion Post No. 14 color guard and locomotive, Ponies of America, the Michigan State Police, Army Mobility Command, the Redford Highlanders and Southern Oakland Girl Scouts.

Seaholm High School's float, entitled "Old Grist Mill" was judged best of the entries.

SICC is made up of several supervisors from Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties, who study the problems jointly and make recommendations to their respective county boards for united action.

Polly's Pointers

Keep Silver Shining

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — Put a little liquid silver polish into a small bowl of water. Drop a piece of clean flannel into the bowl to "steep" for a few hours.
Remove cloth and hang up to dry without rinsing. You will then have a handy silver polishing cloth to use for those in-between polishing jobs.
To keep sell from slipping through the hole in the bottom of a flower pot, I stretch a little piece of cloth over the hole inside before putting in the soil.
It holds the dirt in and still allows the water to come through for good drainage.

To polish copper articles, take crumpled sheets of newspaper and thoroughly rub the metal. You will get rid of stains and bring out the natural luster of the copper.—FRAN.

DEAR POLLY — Cut a circle of cardboard to fit the top of a vase so a single stalk of flowers will stand upright.
Cut a hole in the center, slip the stem through this and the flower will remain in place with no danger of tipping over.
This is especially good for gladioli.—MRS. W. G.

DEAR POLLY — Mothers of young dancers and baton twirlers can buy swimsuits for half price or less at the end of the season.
Trim them with sequins, fringes or bugle beads for beautiful costumes at a low price and little work.
When a garment is bought that has special washing instructions, hang the instructions on a hook by the washing machine.
Write on each a clue to tell what garment it is for.
On wash day there is no more guesswork or hunting for mislaid directions.—MRS. E. G.

DEAR POLLY — I have just finished ironing a number of women's blouses and men's shirts that have French cuffs.
After finishing, I insert one large safety pin in each sleeve to take place of a cuff link.
I then repress the edge of each cuff to make a good finish until the garment is worn with regular links.—MRS. A. W.

Their parents are Mrs. Blanche Cummins of Commerce Lake, Mantion M. Cummins, Bloomfield Hills, and the Howard Mitchells of Livonia.

A silk Dior rose caught the bouffant triple-tiered veil of French illusion. The bride carried white roses and orchids.

ATTENDES SISTER
Mrs. Paul J. Schalm of Dallas, Pa. attended her sister as honor matron with bridesmaids Rhile Diver, Ann Archer, Nancy Lovejoy, Union Lake and Virginia Yager, Farmington.

A dinner-reception in Baja's of Dearborn followed

Mrs. R. S. MITCHELL

Must Teach Cleanliness

No matter how many laws are passed, one benefit that can't be legislated is cleanliness.

Communities have found that anti-litter laws will not keep their streets clean.

School authorities know that penalties will not keep their playgrounds and washrooms clean.

So the sooner it is recognized that education is the only answer, the better.

Education in cleanliness — and its relationship to both health and beauty — should begin at home, including plenty of practice with soap and detergent suds!

Civic pride is the by-product of self-respect that comes from acquiring clean personal habits in clean surroundings.

Bride's Father Assists at Ceremony

A candlelight ceremony Saturday in the Free Methodist Church, Oxford, marked the marriage of Dyanne Lee Hester to Gary Wilbur Laidlaw of Salmer Street.

The bride, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Hester of Province Town Street, chose a gown of tiered white Chantilly lace over taffeta, with chapel sweep.

Pearl loops over lace petals fashioned a headpiece which cradled the bride's bouffant veil of illusion. Her bouquet of white carnations surrounded a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

With Mrs. David Voyer, her sister's honor matron, were Kathy Lauring, bridesmaid, and Nadine Zumburner, junior attendant.

Patti Zumburner and David Daley were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

Robert Roberts of Utica was best man for the bridegroom, son of the Wilbur Laidlaws of Dryden. Dale Laidlaw and Gary Gilbert of Metamora served as groomsmen. William Davies and Philip Williams ushered.

A reception in the Methodist

LIVE IN PONTIAC

The couple will live in Pontiac after a brief northern honeymoon. He is a graduate of Oakland University.

20 Teams Seek Title in 13th Annual Meet at Pontiac CC

Michigan's top high school golfer was among one of the early foursmen to leave the tee this morning in The Pontiac Press Invitational at Pontiac Country Club.

Jim St. Germain of Northville fired a 35-36-71 Saturday at Midland to capture medalist honors in the state high school golf tournament.

The 13th annual Press Invitational opened at 9 a. m. at the par-74 PCC and St. Germain was off the tee at 9:12 a. m.

Northville is one of 20 teams and 100 players bidding for honors in the tournament. The Mustangs took fifth place in the state Class B competition at Midland Saturday.

Other contenders on hand for the tournament were defending champion Walled Lake, along with Milford, Bloomfield Hills, West Bloomfield and Rochester.

Birmingham Seaholm, five-time champion of The Press tourney, and 4th place winner in the state meet Saturday, was not entered today.

The Maples withdrew from The Press tourney for the first time and Midland moved into the 20-team field. The tournament is held to 20 teams and only if a team withdraws will another be added.

Among the top individual golfers vying for medal honors at Pontiac Country Club are Mike Kemmerer of Kettering, John Choate of Milford, Mike Brennan of Shrine and Gary West of West Bloomfield.

Niles won the state Class A high school golf championship Saturday at Midland with a 315.

Jim St. Germain of Northville took medalist honors for the day with a 71 as the Mustangs finished fifth in Class B.

Kalamazoo University High, the defending champion, was a forced to share the Class B crown with Whitehall, while Flint St. John Vignay repeated as Class C-D king.

Iron Mountain led the way in the all-one-class Upper Peninsula match which attracted 18 teams to Menominee's Riverside Country Club course.

Roger Bonahome of Detroit Austin was the Class A medalist with a 37-37-76.

Sault Ste. Marie junior Bill Smith topped the U.P. field with a 39-37-76.

Fireball Roberts Critically Burned

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Veteran Jim Paschal finally struck it rich Sunday, winning a wreck-marred World 600-mile stock car race which left Glenn (Fireball) Roberts hospitalized with critical burns.

Roberts, biggest career money winner in NASCAR history, remained in critical condition early today. He had third-degree burns over most of his body.

Paschal, 38 and a 17-year racing veteran, breezed his first major victory and $24,555 after the other contenders were eliminated by wrecks or mechanical difficulties.

His triumph in a 1964 Plymouth outh gave car-owner Lee Petty a 1-2 sweep in the race. Petty's son, Richard, finished second, four laps back, after blowing a tire and burning ignition wires. Richard, winner of this year's Daytona 500, earned $11,460.

Roberts, of Daytona Beach, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., and Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., were involved in the worst of several wrecks that sidelined other top names such as Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach.

Johnson admitted triggering the fiery crash by hooking Jarrett coming off the second turn of the seventh lap over the 1½-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway.

Johnson's Ford spun clear in the middle of the backstretch but Jarrett's Ford hit the retaining wall. Roberts, also in a Ford, rammed the wall and overturned, trying to avoid Jarrett. Both their cars burst into flames.

Jarrett jumped from his car to help Fireball Roberts, who was halfway out of his, and crying, "Oh my God, Ned, I'm on fire. Please help me."

Jarrett suffered minor burns. The largest crowd ever to see a sports event in North Carolina, 58,000, watched Paschal take the lead on the 275th lap and "just play it by ear."

CHICKEN RANCH

"That money is going to start me a chicken ranch," said Paschal, of High Point, N.C., who has successfully teamed with the Pettys much of the past three years, but had never won an event over 250 miles in length.

Misfortune befell Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., who was seeking his seventh major victory in a row this season. He led 63 laps but was forced to make 11 pit stops and wound up fourth behind Mercury-driving Rex White of Spartanburg, S.C.

A member of Lorenzen's pit left the cap off his gas tank while he was leading, costing an extra trip to the pits. Then he hit debris on the track, blew a tire and was forced out 10 minutes for repairs.

From that point, Paschal had clear sailing most of the way. Petty's second place finish pushed him ahead of Panch in the grand national point standings. Petty, who trailed by more than 200 points, now leads by more than 200.

The two teams split with the Yankees winning the second game 8-5, after an opening 3-0 blanking by LA.

Few 'Speedy Rides' as 'Indy' Trials End

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If Scott Jiminy Clark dominates the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile auto race Saturday as he did the 10-mile time trials, he will start lapping the field about 15 minutes after the start.

While Clark was winning the Daytona Grand Prix Sunday in a campaign to repeat as world road racing champion, the fourth and final session of qualifications was run off at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 2½-mile oval. It mostly was an exercise in futility.

There were four positions open in the 33-car Memorial Day field and after 21 drivers presented themselves at the starting line, the four best performances ranged from 152.2 miles an hour by Art Malone of Tampa, Fla., in the third Studebaker-Novis to make the field, to 148.7 by Bill Cheesbourg of Tucson, Ariz., in a conventional front-engine offenhauser.

OPENING HOUR

The 158.8 record set by Clark in a rear-engine Lotus-Ford, in the opening hour of the trials May 16, was never approached in the subsequent sessions.

Except for outstanding performances by former winners Parnelli Jones and A. J. Foyt and by young Jerry Unser in a four-wheel drive Ferguson-Novis, the new rear-engine cars stole the show in the qualifications.

The front row in the line-up: Clark, Bobby Marshallman and two-time winner Roger Ward—averaged 157.7 miles an hour. All drove cars with the new Ford racing engine mounted over the rear wheels.

The 15th or last row, all conventional front-engine offenhausers of the type that have won 19 straight 500s, averaged 149.5.

U.S. Cavalry Unit
at Red Borders

HEIDELBERG, Germany — (UPI) — The U.S. Army announced today it is withdrawing the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment from its bases along the Iron Curtain and sending it back to the United States.

A spokesman at army European headquarters here said the return of the highly mobile unit is the result of the withdrawal of the extra U.S. forces sent to Germany during the Berlin crisis of 1961.

The normal strength of an armored cavalry regiment is about 2,800 men.

The 11th Armored Cavalry has been stationed along West Germany's borders with Communist Czechoslovakia and East Germany. There is no indication what unit would take over its patrolling duties.

Since the start of the cold war, American armored units have worked with West German Border Police along the Communist frontiers.
