Nation Writhes Under Icy Whip of Giant Storm

Freezing Rain Slashes Path Ahead of Heavy Snow, Bitter Winds

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A giant storm lashed the nation with snow, freezing rain, bitter cold and even thundershowers in the South as it crept across the mid-continent today.

The storm area stretched from northern New Mexico to Cape Cod on the coast of New England and from the southern Great Lakes into the Mississippi Valley.

As it moved slowly northeastward it dealt its harshest blows to the Midwest—Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Illinois.

Twelve deaths have been attributed to the storm. All of the victims were killed in traffic accidents on ice or snow covered roads. Three were killed in New Mexico, Montana, Pennsylvania and Iowa each reported two deaths, and Oklahoma, Kansas and Illinois had one each.

In a special summary the Weather Bureau said snow, cold and high winds kicked up blizzard conditions in Nebraska, Iowa and the flatlands of central Kansas. Immediately ahead of the snow, there was a narrow band of freezing rain. In the South, thundershowers accompanied spring temperatures.

There was even a tornado yesterday afternoon in Mississippi. The funnel touched the ground near Vicksburg, but apparently did no damage.

The heaviest snowfall this morning was in eastern Kansas and northern Missouri. Kansas City lay in the center of the area. At midnight, with four inches on the ground, the snow began again, and the Weather Bureau said it would reach eight inches.

Parts of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Iowa still were getting snow. The northern three-quarters of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Mikoyan Plane Forced to Land

Makes Emergency Stop at Newfoundland After Engine Catches Fire

From Our News Wires
ARGENTIA, Nfld. — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan resumes today a homeward flight that was interrupted last night when the airliner flying him home made an emergency landing at this top-secret U.S. Naval air base.

The Soviet official was side-tracked when one engine of the airliner caught fire and another had to be "feathered" (shut off and the propeller blades adjusted for least wind resistance).

Mikoyan — apparently unshaken by the mishap which set nerves jangling in more than one world capital — was to board another plane today to resume his flight to Copenhagen.

He ended his 16-day visit to the United States Tuesday and started home with a party of five, including his son Sergio.

A Scandinavian Airline spokesman in New York expressed doubt sabotage lay behind the mishap while the four-engine DC7 was high over the Atlantic. There were 35 passengers and 14 crew members aboard.

The spokesman said the plane had been under close guard after it arrived at Idlewild and that New York police had inspected it thoroughly.

The four-engined plane was only three hours out of New York on its scheduled non-stop flight to Copenhagen, Denmark, when the pilot radioed a distress signal.

The pilot, Capt. W. E. Hastings, said the plane's Number One engine was on fire and the Number Four engine had been feathered because of a defective supercharger. The fire in the Number One engine was put out by automatic fire extinguisher equipment.

Objector Loses One-Man Battle Over Sales Tax

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—It was Harold Harrison's opinion that the combined city-state sales tax of four cents was too much.

Officers said Harrison put up an argument at a local restaurant, but finally paid his bill, which included the tax.

Then he walked out and slammed the door behind him—with such force that a glass panel was shattered.

Judge Herndon H. Wilson yesterday fined Harrison $15 and ordered him to pay for the panel.

Record Budget Adopted for City

Outlays of $5,919,250 OK'd by Commission Last Night

A record budget of $5,919,250 for 1959 was adopted last night by the City Commission.

Following a public hearing at which no objections were raised, commissioners accepted City Manager Walter K. Willman's budgetary recommendations with no changes and adopted the annual appropriations ordinance as an emergency measure.

The emergency label was used to get the budget out of the way before the Jan. 31 deadline, Willman explained.

Features of this year's budget are:

1. It is designed to maintain the 1958 tax rate of 13.27 mills for each $1,000 evaluation for the second straight year.

2. It is about $235,000 higher than last year's.

3. Of the $962,500 earmarked for capital improvements, $520,000 is already committed to completing Pontiac General Hospital.

About $600,000 in departmental requests was pared from the budget before its submission to the Commission, Willman said.

In answer to a question from the audience, the city manager stressed the budget was based on need, not on the city's maximum ability to tax.

"The city could gain $1 million more a year by levying taxes on state equalized values," he pointed out. "But we are sticking with the lower, city-assessed valuations."

The prediction that the tax rate can be kept at 13.27 mills is based on the assumption that city assessed values will go up $5,000,000 this year, he said.

From taxes, the city expects to net $3,649,250. Income from such other sources as state highway funds and city-collected fees was estimated at $1,870,000.

To balance the budget, Willman said, $400,000 will have to be allocated from the city's unappropriated surplus.

Crusty Weather Glazes Pontiac Area

DAY FOR BUSY HANDS — After Mother Nature treated the Pontiac area to its second sleet storm in 21 days, it was a day for busy hands. Following three or four inches of snow came a solid glaze which coated windshields, trees, and anyone foolish enough to be out in it. Out came the shovels, scrapers and bags of salt, and Michigan winter received a few more oaths.

Legal Snag Looms

Plan for Vet Fund Falts

LANSING (UPI)—Attorney General Paul L. Adams said today he will give "top priority" to untangling a legal snarl that looms over one phase of a plan to use the Veterans Trust Fund to ease the state's cash crisis.

From Our News Wires

LANSING—A legal snarl loomed today over one phase of a plan to use the Veterans Trust Fund to ease the state cash crisis.

At the same time, it was learned Gov. G. Mennen Williams probably will make some revisions in the plan before giving it to the Legislature in final bill form.

These developments also came as veterans organizations urged lawmakers not to tamper with the fund which was established to assist veterans.

House GOP Floor Leader Allison Green (R-Kingston) raised the possibility of a legal hitch when he asked Attorney General Paul L. Adams to rule whether securities to the veterans fund could be used to meet obligations created by borrowing from the public school employees retirement fund.

Green did not challenge the part of Williams' plan that would use the veterans fund to meet state obligations to the universities.

NO SPONSORS

Bills to carry out Williams' plan to mortgage the vets fund were reviewed by Democratic lawmakers yesterday but none appeared willing to sponsor them in the form in which they were first drafted.

One change would make it so that the state "will" rather than "shall" restore the fund within 10 years. Some lawmakers want to make it 5 instead of 10 years.

"There has to be some public relations done on this bill," Rep. Elmer E. Erlansden (D-Escanaba) said last night. "There isn't a man on the floor who would have signed this bill earlier today."

Meanwhile, leaders of the state's eight congressionally chartered veterans organizations urged lawmakers to leave the fund as it is.

In an open letter to members of the House and Senate, the commanders said that to tamper with the fund "would be both morally and economically deplorable."

The veterans group, chaired by Nicholas R. Fris, commander of the Marine Corps League, said they considered diversion of the fund the same as liquidation and "are unalterably opposed to any tampering, changes or attempted diversion of the trust fund or portions thereof."

MSUO Receives 70 Applications Before 1st Day

Although Michigan State University Oakland has announced February 1st as the official date for receiving student applications, 70 prospective students have already written in, and all of them enclosed the ten dollar application fee.

"We are very pleased at this tremendous advance interest," said D. B. Varner, today. "A breakdown shows 50 per cent are in the top quarter of their high school classes and 90 per cent are in the top half. This is an unusually high percentage of good students."

Of the whole, 10 have applied for Business Administration, 18 for engineering, 18 for Liberal Arts and 24 for Teacher Education. Estimates of the total size of the freshman class next September place the figure at 600.

Ice Will Coat Highways After More Rain, Snow

As Pontiac and Oakland County residents struggled through a 3-4 inch snowfall and freezing rain this morning, the U.S. Weather Bureau and State Police warned that the worst is yet to come.

Troopers at Pontiac and Redford posts and Oakland County sheriff's deputies said driving conditions were very hazardous today, and would become worse by tomorrow.

In Pontiac, all schools opened on schedule this morning and school buses were running. Most schools in the northern section of the county were closed due to ice and snow, however.

Waterford Township schools were closed. Final exams

Here's What Weather Did for the Kids!

The following Oakland County area schools were closed today due to bad weather:

Huron Valley, Waterford Township, Utica Community, Romeo, Armada, Rochester, Holly, Orionville, Addison, Lapeer, Walled Lake, St. Paul Lutheran in Livonia, Im-lay City, Our Lady of Victory in Northville, Capac.

Dryden Community, Avondale, Lake Orion, Metamora, North Branch, St. Hugo of the Hills, Our Lady of Refuge, West Bloomfield, and Clarkston.

Examinations, originally scheduled for Walled Lake High School students today, have been tentatively rescheduled for tomorrow.

School buses in operation this morning were for the most part limited to picking up youngsters on the main roads only.

Challenge Legal Standing of Graduated Income Tax

"The legal status of a graduated income tax in Michigan will be challenged and probably proved unconstitutional," declares Louis H. Schimmel, Executive Director of the Municipal Advisory Council and one of the leading tax authorities in the country.

"This means a delay of about two years with the chances favoring an adverse court decision."

"It is proposed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee that a graduated income tax be adopted by the Legislature. The revenue from this tax is estimated at $220,000,000," said Schimmel.

"Fifteen years ago the Tax Study Committee appointed by Governor Kelly was advised by the Dean of the University of Michigan Law School and by other authorities that a graduated income tax could not be legally adopted by the State Legislature unless the Constitution of the State was amended."

"The recommendation of the Citizens' Advisory Committee that the Legislature enact a graduated income tax seems to be an invitation to test the constitutionality of the tax in the courts. A law suit means delay."

"If the present Michigan Supreme Court sustains the opinion of the legal counsel for the Kelly Tax Study Committee, then it would appear that a graduated income tax would be declared unconstitutional. In that event it would take two years before the Constitution could be amended and the graduated income tax legally adopted," he continued.

"It is also proposed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee that certain personal property be removed from the tax roll. It is estimated that the loss in revenue due to such removal would amount to $120,000,000."

"In many cities and school districts, a substantial part of the taxable valuation is represented by personal property. The revenue derived from local taxes levied on personal property is used in part to finance the operating costs of local government, and in part, to pay principal and interest on bonds issued to build schools and municipal improvements.

"Whether or not the Legislature can reduce local taxable valuation by removing certain properties that were represented as taxable assets when bonds were sold, is a question that will have to be decided by the courts."

"There are some school districts where the removal of personal property would seriously affect the ability of the district to comply with the terms of its bond contract."

"Any litigation relating to taxes would seriously restrict the marketability of Michigan municipal bonds, particularly those issued to finance school buildings. It is improbable that any capital improvement financing could be undertaken by Michigan municipalities while this question was being decided by the courts."

"It has been proposed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee majority report that their recommendations be adopted as a package. If the legality of the two principal parts of the package must be decided by the courts it may mean considerable delay before we knew whether or not the principal parts of the tax package are legal."

"Can we afford the risk that part of the tax package would be declared unconstitutional? If the answers are 'no' then the Legislature may have to face up to the financial solutions that are available in the flat rate gross income tax or the sales tax. Either of these can produce large sums of money."

"The minority report as submitted by E. C. Hayhoe is much sounder and more practical."

scheduled today will be given tomorrow at the junior and senior high schools, Supt. William Shunck said. The Pontiac area was in for more snow tonight and a sharp drop in temperature, the Weather Bureau said. Today's high was predicted at 35 with rain this morning and afternoon changing first to freezing rain and sleet and then to snow tonight.

Snowfall tonight and tomorrow should range from 3 to 5 inches before diminishing to flurries. Tonight's low will be about 22 with a high of 24 predicted for Thursday.

Winds will be east to south 15-20 m.p.h. today, shifting to west and northwesterly 20-30 m.p.h. tonight.

The Weather Bureau described the combination of freezing rain and snow as the worst weather of the winter. Traffic was paralyzed, stranding thousands of trucks and cars throughout the state.

Pontiac state troopers reported most highways in the area were slushy but not yet ice-covered, except for side roads. Sheriff's deputies expected the worst will come tonight when temperatures begin to drop and the slush turns to ice.

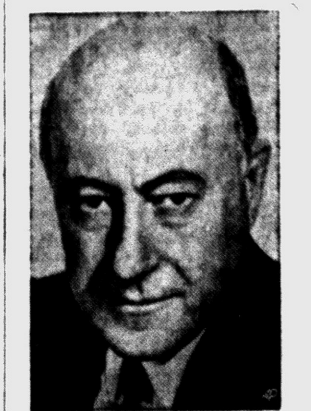

Troopers at the Redford Post reported traffic moving very slowly on U.S. 16 and said that many side roads in southern and western Oakland County were impassable.

The rain is washing away the salt being put on major highways, State Police said. Sheriff Frank W. Irons warned all drivers to stay home unless it is absolutely necessary to go out.

"We expect even the main highways to be ice-covered by tomorrow morning."

500,000 Rally in Havana to Back War Trials

Stores, Plants Close for Day

Mass to Show Support of Executions; Defy U.S. 'Meddling'

HAVANA (UPI)—An estimated 500,000 supporters of Fidel Castro began massing here today to demonstrate their support for the execution of Cuban "war criminals" and to defy U.S. "meddling" in this country's affairs.

Business and government offices, schools, factories and stores closed for the day, which was also proclaimed a day of national mourning for physicians said to have been killed by supporters of ousted ex-President Fulgencio Batista because they tended wounded revolutionaries.

David Salvador, new president of the CTC Labor Federation, ordered its members—except news-men and transportation or communications workers—to stop work from 6 a.m. to midnight.

A few hours before the scheduled start of the mass meeting, Agriculture Minister Humberto Soriano announced that the trials of 500 to 600 army men held prisoner here will begin Thursday or Friday in the Sports Palace, a stadium with a capacity of 15,000 spectators.

Soriano, who drafted Cuba's new penal code while he was serving in the hills with Castro's guerrillas, said he himself will prosecute the first three defendants.

They are to be Lt. Col. Ricardo I. Gait, Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Capt. Pedro Morejon Valdes, who between them are accused of torturing or killing more than 200 revolutionaries while Batista was in power.

Newspapers here say Sosa alone has admitted 108 killings and declared that he "would do it again in the same circumstances."

Reports from Oriente Province, where Castro launched his revolution, say farmers there had a saying about Sosa: "Que pasa cuando Sosa pasa? (What happens when Sosa passes?)—Cruelty and slaughter."

Maj. Miguel Duque de Estrada, rebel leader for Havana Province, said the start of the trials here was delayed to give the authorities time to interrogate 600 farmers from the Oriente Hills who will testify.

The farmers began arriving Monday, bringing with them harrowing stories of the atrocities committed by Batista's men.

One of the most shocking stories was told by Hilda Riba, who said her husband was a courier for the rebels. One day, she said, an army patrol dragged him out of their house, cut off his hands and feet, poured oil over him and burned him to death before her eyes.

Others told of cold-blooded killings by regular troops or ex-Sen. Polanco Masferrer's "private army," whose victims often were farmers whose only offense was that they lived in the battle zone.

Soriano, in ordering today's token work stoppage, called on CTC members to "support the measures of revolutionary justice and the punishment of assassins and criminals against foreign meddling, in defense of our national sovereignty and in favor of the extradition of war criminals."

Alyea Denies Jasinski Killing

Accused Testifies He Had Not Part in Vicious Southfield Murder

"I did not kill Tiny," Alyea said. With these words, accused murderer Raymond L. Alyea, a combat Marine Corps veteran, took the witness stand yesterday in his own defense. The trial is being held in Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer's courtroom.

"Tiny" is Anthony Jasinski, 31, whose brutally-beaten and stabbed body was found Aug. 1 on the floor of the Hightitz Nurseries, Inc., 2251 Northwest Hwy., Southfield, where he was a caretaker.

"Men will tell you how I even looked out after Tiny," said the 35-year-old Alyea, a self-employed gardener who did some work for the nursery.

Assistant Prosecutor William F. Long contended that he closed his case yesterday that Alyea, who once served a prison term for armed robbery—beat and stabbed Jasinski to death with a jack handle, hedge clippers and scissors after Alyea stole money from a pay check he had just cashed for him.

Judge Beer yesterday denied a motion from Alyea's court-appointed attorney, William R. Beasley, that the first-degree charge should be dismissed as Long had failed to prove the murder was committed in perpetration of a robbery.

Alyea, twice married and the father of three children, was scheduled to return to the stand today to continue telling his story of what happened the night of July 31 when police say Jasinski was slain.

Beasley, in his opening statement, said he would attempt to show that Alyea became frightened, fearing he might go back to prison as a parole violator, when he stumbled upon Jasinski's body. "He was harmless," said the bushy-haired Alyea when Beasley asked how Jasinski was thought of by his fellow workers.

"I had no grudge against him. We would joke about his weight making him always the goat. But it was the same old joke."

Candidates must be county residents who are single and at least 18 years of age. They must be interested in winter sports, but not professionally active in them, Buzz said.

The queen will win a ski ensemble, trophy and a trip to Grayling to represent Pontiac in the Grayling Winter Sports Queen contest. Entry blanks are available at the Parks & Recreation office in the City Hall.

Judging and crowning of the queen will cap the carnival events Sunday, Feb. 1.

Saturday at 1:30 p.m. there will be races for boys and girls in age brackets from 7 to 14 years old. Special events are scheduled for children 15 years old or more.

Champion teams in the Parks & Recreation league will vie in the exhibition hockey game at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

At 3 p.m. the beauty contest preliminaries will be held, if necessary, Buzz said.

At 7 p.m. Saturday there will be prizes for the winners of free style figure skating competition open to boys and girls of all ages.

At 7 p.m. Sunday the Pontiac Skating Club will put on an ice show and at 8 p.m. the queen will be crowned.

Earlier Sunday there will be finals in the racing and figure skating contests. The queen will be selected at 4:30 p.m.

Reds Set Control of Berlin Traffic

East Germany Readies Plan to Take Over Access to City

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's Communist government said today it is preparing to take over control of Allied military traffic into isolated West Berlin.

The warning was issued in a speech to the East German Parliament by Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht.

Ulbricht did not say when his regime would get control over Allied military traffic. The Soviet Union in notes on Nov. 27 to the Allied powers said this would happen in six months, presumably at the end of May.

Ulbricht also asserted that the Soviet proposal to make West Berlin a demilitarized "free" city has one aim: complete liquidation of the Allied occupation regime.

Ulbricht denied he has any blacked intentions, provided the Allies negotiate with his government on access to Berlin. The Allies have refused so far to have any dealings with the East German regime, saying that the Soviet Union as one of the victors of World War II is still responsible for its zone of Germany, and the Communist East German government is not a valid, representative government.

MIKOYAN FORCED DOWN — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan waved for the photographers as he entered a Scandinavian airliner at Idlewild Airport yesterday. A few hours later the plane developed engine trouble but landed safely at Argentinia, Newfoundland. The plane was en route to Copenhagen, where Mikoyan and his party of five were to change planes for the trip to Moscow. Besides the Russians, there were 26 other passengers.

Alaskans Pray for Governor

Egan's Condition Grave Following Emergency Operation Tuesday

SEATTLE (AP)—Alaskans offered a prayer today for their first elected governor, fighting a desperate battle for survival after an emergency operation for a serious intestinal ailment.

William A. Egan, 44, remained in critical condition although Dr. Leland Spalding, resident surgeon at Virginia Mason Hospital, said the governor, a Democrat, was resting comfortably. Mrs. Egan and the couple's son, Dennis, 11, were at the bedside.

The former storekeeper from Valdez underwent emergency surgery Tuesday morning. He was flown here from Juneau, Alaska's capital, only a few hours earlier.

Dr. Joe W. Baker, who headed the team of surgeons, said afterwards Egan had a "desperate chance to get well." His chances, Dr. Baker added, were "little less than 50 per cent."

The slightly built, unassuming governor took the oath of office Jan. 3, only a few minutes after President Eisenhower declared the huge northland the union's 49th state.

Four hours later Egan was hospitalized for a gall bladder ailment. He underwent an operation in Juneau Jan. 6.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Hugh J. Wade, 56, also a Democrat, has taken over the affairs of state. He became acting governor when Egan left the capital. Alaska's ultra-modern state constitution, drawn up by a 1955 constitutional convention headed by Egan, gives the state only two elective offices, governor and secretary of state.

Police said Harmon Windl, 67, was found dead in his bed at 1 a.m. His wife told authorities he complained of shortness of breath after shoveling snow last night.

Two planes were believed in distress last night and early this morning.

Residents around Hudsonville in Ottawa County reported a low-flying plane circling the area. But it flew away after a few minutes and was not heard from after that.

In Lansing, State Police used an emergency generator truck to set up searchlights around Lake Lansing to try to help a pilot who circled that area for several hours in a light plane.

The small craft flew away about 1 a.m. and police called off the search about 2:30 a.m. Authorities said they did not know whether the plane landed at a nearby airport.

State Police said "anywhere from 200 to 1,000 trucks" were stuck on main highways, many of them unable to get up icy hills.

Authorities reported U.S. 23 north of U.S. 16 at Brighton was impassable, as was U.S. 12 between Jackson and Ypsilanti. Especially bad conditions were reported on M-60 near Jackson and U.S. 127 south of Jackson. Trucks were also reported stalled on U.S. 112.

The Day in Birmingham State Approves Bonds for School Construction

BIRMINGHAM — A $2,100,000 major general obligation bond for school construction in Birmingham was approved at Lansing yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Dr. Richard Featherstone, assistant superintendent, said the monies will be used mainly for the new junior-senior high school already under construction at Evergreen and 13 Mile roads.

Some will be spent to correct drainage problems at the Birmingham High School and on plans for the new Westchester Elementary School.

At a special meeting of the board of education last night, Mrs. Dean G. Beier, of 1509 Dorchester Rd., was appointed to the school board. The wife of the former mayor who is now city attorney, will replace Mrs. Donald Parry who has moved from Birmingham.

The Southeastern Horticultural Therapy Council will sponsor a work shop from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow at the Community House. Mrs. Alice Burlingame said the session will be to train volunteers to work with the mentally and physically handicapped in the area.

Demonstrations of possible programs for hospitals will be shown. The University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor will report its findings in the field.

Dr. J. F. Ensforth, Birmingham psychiatrist, will speak briefly on "Understanding People."

A Pontiac woman, Mrs. Alta Fournier, 62, of 227 S. Edith St., suffered internal injuries when she was struck by a car as she walked across Telegraph road near the Miracle Mile Shopping Center this morning.

Bloomfield Township police said the woman was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. She had a fractured pelvis and possible skull fracture and was in critical condition.

Driver of the car, Jon O. Karau, 40, of 2515 Silverside St., Waterford Township, told police he was unable to stop on the slippery road.

Birmingham Chapter of Soroptimist will hold a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting at Devon Gables tomorrow.

Tony Spina, chief photographer for a Detroit newspaper and holder of 98 awards in the field of photography will show pictures taken on one of his major assignments.

Birmingham Democratic Club named Mrs. John H. McVay, chairman for two years when it met last night in the Community House. Other officers elected are John Foley, vice chairman; Mrs. John R. App, secretary and Don McGee, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Howard F. Carr, corresponding secretary; William Merrill, program; Mrs. Blythe Jones, election board; Mrs. Herbert Fisher, membership; Nick Thimmesch, publicity and Mrs. Gordon Sweeney, registration.

Junior and senior boards of the Birmingham Teen Club will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at the Birmingham Community House.

Discussion of future plans with emphasis on the need for a building will be held.

Giant Storm Slashes Path Across Nation

Illinois had six or more inches on the ground—with more expected. The Weather Bureau forecast continued heavy snow today from northeastern Kansas through Iowa and into the Great Lakes region.

Generally, snow depths ranged from 5 to 8 inches, with a high of 12 inches at Douglas, Wyo. Temperatures in the southern part of the snow area were in the teens, but reached 5 to 10 below zero from the upper Mississippi Valley westward through the northern plains.

Freezing rain and drizzle, mixed with occasional sleet, fell from eastern Oklahoma northeastward through central Missouri and Illinois, along the border of southern Michigan and into central New York state.

Snow was reported as far east as Pennsylvania and southern New England.

Spring-like weather prevailed south of the freezing belt of precipitation with temperatures generally in the 60s and 70s. Showers and thundershowers were reported from northeastern Texas through the lower Mississippi Valley into southern sections of the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

mighty epic, "The Ten Commandments," which stands as one of his greatest pictures.

DeMille turned out more than 70 pictures, starting in 1913 with "The Squaw Man," the first movie ever made in Hollywood.

The young actor-turned director, filmed it for the Jesse Lasky Feature Play Co., which he, Lasky and Samuel Goldwyn formed in 1912, with Dustin Farnum, a Broadway star, in the lead.

"The Squaw Man," cost $15,500, a far cry from the multimillion-dollar productions DeMille was eventually to make.

DeMille pictures on the grand scale were "Reap the Wild Wind," "Samson and Delilah," and "The Greatest Show on Earth."

The second "Ten Commandments," made in 1956, was the biggest of all, however. It cost nearly 12 million dollars, used thousands in its cast, and ranks as one of the greatest box office attractions of motion picture history.

DeMille was born Aug. 12, 1881, in Ashfield, Mass. His father was a teacher who studied for the ministry at one time. It was from his father's habit of reading the Bible aloud each night that DeMille absorbed his feeling for the epic qualities of religion that marked his movie-making career.

Williams Noncommittal on Unlimited Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams doesn't say yes and he doesn't say no on jobless pay benefits of unlimited duration.

Moreover, if the AFL-CIO is seeking his support for legislation to do away with the existing basic maximum of 26 weeks benefits, he hasn't heard about it, the Governor told a news conference yesterday.

Several Republican lawmakers dismissed the objective laid down last week by the AFL-CIO executive board as pie-in-the-sky talk. Republicans have an iron grip on the Senate and nominal control in the House.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, a Democrat and union official, said yesterday that he or some other lawmaker will submit a bill at the current session for unlimited compensation.

Kowalski, as House Democratic leader, is the governor's floor spokesman on administration policy matters.

Williams said: "I haven't studied any such provision."

When questions persisted and Williams said he didn't know whether labor might have submitted its plan to one of his aides, Paul Weber, his press secretary, broke in.

"We have nothing in this office representing an approach from labor," Weber said.

The governor said he could not answer off hand as to the practicality of the proposal.

Rep. George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), former House speaker and labor committee chairman, called it "utterly ridiculous."

Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, Republican floor leader, said "unrealistic."

They said that with the unemployment compensation fund to bogging, it would mean higher payroll taxes on industry, deterioration of the state's business climate and loss of jobs.

Kowalski argued that with unemployment at about 325,000, it would be cheaper in the long run to have unlimited jobless pay than to put those out of work and with exhausted benefits on welfare rolls.

Michigan employment security officials who administer the jobless pay program, said removing duration restrictions would "cost a lot of money" but how much was not known.

Last year, even with emergency legislation for up to an extra 13 weeks unemployment compensation for the long term jobless—making a total maximum duration of 39 weeks, over 10,000 persons exhausted benefits.

Hal Boyle Says:

Shortage of Men Worries Farm Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—"Help wanted—American agriculture." America may be desperately short of missile engineers, but the nation's No. 1 industry—agriculture—also is facing a manpower shortage, perhaps the worst in its history. It has farm leaders frankly worried.

They fear that the industry is losing the cream of the younger generation to the glamor of the jet age, the nuclear age, the electronic age, the space age. They have coined a new term—"the agri-dynamics age"—to emphasize that agriculture has romance, adventure, and glamor, too.

"There are twice as many new career opportunities in agriculture each year as there are young people to fill them," said Hugh Dermody, assistant general manager of the agricultural division of Chas Pfizer & Co., a pharmaceutical firm.

Dermody is helping coordinate a nationwide program among educators, farm groups, and implement manufacturers to interest American youth in the dramatic future of agriculture. It is more than a drive to "keep 'em down on the farm" or lure city boys with strong backs out to a little fresh air and exercise amid the blooming clover.

"Agriculture today is more than a dirt farm of 60 acres, five cows and 30 pigs—with 100 chickens in the back yard," said Dermody. "It is a big business in every way. It is larger than steel or automobiles or transportation. Of 65 million Americans who work for a living, about 26 million—or nearly 40 per cent—work in some branch of agriculture."

"The scientific farmer is the one who survives today. He has an investment of $15,000 per worker, as compared to an investment of about $6,500 for industry generally."

"It isn't simply a matter of getting more hired hands. We need to attract more young scientists into the agricultural field. We need more marketing researchers, farm journalists, machinery designers and engineers."

The last generation has seen a real revolution in American agriculture, a revolution so quiet many city people are still unaware of its achievements. New techniques have speeded the growth of both meat and of vegetable crops.

Pointing out that farm output had increased greatly despite a 50 per cent decrease in farm population during the last two decades, Dermody said: "The fewer the farms, the larger they grow, the more scientific they have to become."

"These scientific advances have held down food costs. Food prices in the last 12 years have advanced less than 20 per cent, while other prices have advanced about 45 per cent," he said.

Dermody, like a number of U.S. farm leaders, feels that perhaps the major battle between the free and Communist ideologies will be decided by the world's breadbasket nations.

"Our responsibility in the world, in terms of food, is going to become more and more important," he said.

The Russians will be competing with us over whose tractor, whose antibiotic, whose fertilizer, whose scientists and technicians will be sent abroad to other lands.

"It will be a warfare of science for the support of the presently underprivileged countries. And, unless our agriculture can tap the talent of our best youth, we will lose that war."

Tito Arrives in Ceylon on Last Stop of Tour

COLOMBO (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived in Ceylon today on the last stop of his tour of so-called neutral Asian countries.

Tito was to meet Premier Solomon Bandaranaike later for talks on the international situation. They were expected to reaffirm their abstention from alignment with both the Communist and Western power blocks.

U. S. Wants World to Know

Berlin's Mayor Assured of Red Carpet Welcome

NEW YORK (AP)—American business leaders are organizing a hero's welcome for West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. The aim is to offset the propaganda impact of Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's spectacular tour of the United States.

The State Department, too, is likely to go out of its way to make significant gestures to Brandt.

Brandt, symbol of an encircled city's defiance of Soviet communism, is expected to arrive in the United States by air Feb. 7. Receptions are calculated to demonish any notion that U.S. business might be willing to sell out Berlin for the sake of trading with the Communists.

The intention appears to be to disabuse both the Soviets and Western Europeans of any idea that courtesies extended to Mikoyan represented lack of support for a firm American policy, about Berlin.

Talk from Mikoyan of the possibility of a new approach to East-West differences has made the West Berliners and many in Western Europe nervous.

Brandt is expected, after a brief stop in New York, to go directly to Washington. Brandt, apart from a round of press and television interviews, is expected to speak before the Pan American Union, the War College and the National Press Club.

He will return to New York Feb. 10 for a visit to the United Nations. He will be the guest of Mayor Robert F. Wagner at a reception the same day and in the evening is expected to address the Council on Foreign Relations. He also will address 2,000 business and community leaders at a luncheon Feb. 11.

From New York, Brandt will go to Springfield, Ill., to make a Lincoln Day address Feb. 12. From there he goes to Los Angeles, arriving Feb. 13. He leaves Feb. 15 for home by way of Japan, Indonesia and India.

Williams, Big 3 Confer on Taxes

GM, Ford, Chrysler Talk With Governor on Levy Structure

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams, his mind about made up on taxes, was scheduled to confer on taxes today with representatives of the automotive big three.

Williams said officials of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler would meet in his office to present industry's view on what would be an equitable revision of the tax structure.

The Governor also was scheduled to confer with officials of the Michigan Municipal League on their tax views.

Williams told newsmen yesterday he is "nearing a decision" on what his tax program will be.

The Governor's tax message was expected to be presented early next month. His annual budget message was nearing completion and probably will be placed before the legislature this week.

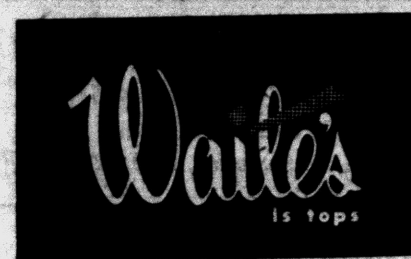

More tax talks were scheduled tomorrow in Detroit with Mayor Louis Miriani and banker Joseph M. Dodge, former U.S. director of the budget.

Dust Sets Off White Sands' Air Raid Alert

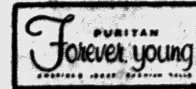

RANGE, N.M. (AP)—Electrically charged dust particles from a howling sandstorm set off the air raid alert system here Tuesday.

The dust, kicked up by winds which hit 65 m.p.h. in gusts, lodged in the alert system's relays, became electrically charged, and set off the system.

It took ten minutes to clean out the relays to shut off the sirens.

Electrical Ruling to Be Rescinded

Walled Lake Council Orders Changes Made by City Attorney

WALLED LAKE — At their regular meeting last night the council voted to instruct the city attorney to prepare an amendment to rescind certain electrical and heating ordinance amendments that made it illegal for unlicensed persons to do their own work in these fields.

A resolution to proceed with preliminary plans toward paving certain streets during 1959 was passed. These streets include Market, Common, Northport, Nicolet, O'Flaherty, Agnes, W. Walled Lake drive and Beverly boulevard.

The council also approved the state's plan for widening the Pontiac trail, W. Maple road intersection and installing a traffic light there.

William Hoyt and Mable Shaw were re-appointed to the election board.

Police Chief Al Decker recommended parallel parking on Walled Lake Drive, from Pontiac Trail to Farley Street. The council instructed City Manager George Shaw to notify business men in that area of the recommendation and ascertain their reaction.

To date $123,000 in school and city taxes has been received. This represents 65 per cent of the total levy for 1958.

A hearing before Mayor Pro Tem R. J. Alexander was granted after Roberts protested the dismissal by Safety Director Glenford S. Leonard.

Gravel Pit Owners Dispute Ruling

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — Gravel pit owners and operators voiced their disapproval of several directives in the newly adopted zoning ordinance at a meeting in the township hall at Romeo last night.

The group opposed primarily a recent resolution adopted by the township board that requires each of them to pay a $100 license fee. They also objected to the section of the ordinance governing the hours they would be allowed to conduct their business.

This section states they will be allowed to operate on Sundays or holidays or between the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Another point under fire will not permit machinery or equipment for additional processing unless specifically applied for and permitted by the zoning board.

Township zoning administrator, Ralph Sheldon called the meeting of gravel pit owners to explain the mining ordinance and to seek their cooperation in its enforcement.

Some 20 owners and operators attended the session. The majority of the group was concerned with the legality of charging the $100 license fee. They asked if it didn't conflict with state law.

Spokesmen also wondered why gravel pits were singled out to pay the fee — why not other business, why not the farmers, they asked?

Township attorney Percy G. Horler asked if they wanted a ruling on the question from the state attorney general.

Stick to Marathon to Reap Rewards

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I want to give a little help today to those women who have joined by 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon.

Some of you now have finished, or almost finished, the first two weeks of this program. A few of you may not have yet received your Marathon booklet. We have gotten such a terrifically heavy mail that even with an extra secretarial staff working overtime, those of you who did not write in immediately may have had a little wait.

I am sorry about this but let Marathon start for you when you receive your booklet. Then stick to the directions in this booklet and those I have given you and will give you in this column for eight weeks. The idea is to see how much you can improve your appearance in that length of time.

One day a week for the next six weeks I will try to reinforce your determination and will bring you additional information and help. Today I want to impress upon you anew the fact that there is no value in adopting an improvement or slimming routine unless you are going to be faithful in adhering to it.

If you just cut down a little on your daily calorie intake or count calories for two days and then backslide for two or three—if you do your exercises for one day or massage your scalp one night and then procrastinate for a while, you cannot expect results. You will experience the penalties of a self-improvement program without any of its benefits. It seems useless to muddle along like this.

Let Marathon start for you when you receive your booklet.

figure more symmetrical, in overcoming or minimizing any defect in good looks which you may have. Eight weeks is a very short time! Stick to the routine and you will be happily rewarded.

NEED A CRUTCH?

If you are not the strong-willed type who can sit at the table and watch the rest of your family slather butter on hot biscuits, or if it hurts to inhale the aroma of exotic sauces or gravy, perhaps you need a crutch.

For instance, maybe it would be wiser and easier if you eat alone and stay away from the dinner table at night. You will miss the companionship of your family at this time but it won't be for long. Or, if you insist on sitting with them, eat your evening meal beforehand so that you will not be so hungry when you observe them stacking the calories in.

You might save an apple or a glass of milk to have while sitting with them at the table. Such little aids are sometimes the difference between success or failure, especially during the first two weeks of a weight-reducing campaign.

If you did not join Marathon and would like to do so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Working Table Measures, Top

Connie Simmons Is Wed in Evening Ceremony

A floor-length pure silk gown; was worn by Connie Ann Simmons for her marriage to Parvin E. Conwell Saturday evening at Christian Missionary Alliance Church. The Rev. James Randall of Stringham United Methodist Church officiated at the ceremony in the presence of 350 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simmons of Lorraine court. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Parvin A. Conwell of Drayton Plains.

A Venetian neckline, embroidered with lace and pearls accented the bride's gown. She wore a small pearl crown and carried a white orchid on a Bible.

Maid of honor, Donna Simmons of Mishawaka, Ind. and bridesmaids, Carolyn Simmons, Lois Brown, and Ann Matteson were gowned alike in green taffeta ballerina-length dresses and carried yellow rose buds highlighted by white daisies.

Dennis Simonson attended as best man. Ushers were Harry VanMatre, Robert Davis of Garrettsville, Ind., and John Simmons of Cedar Springs.

Mrs. Simmons wore a dress of pale pink lace with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding.

MRS. PARVIN E. CONWELL

Mrs. Conwell was gowned in light blue soft wool with blue accessories.

Carol Weaver of Elkhart, Ind. was organist and soloist was Jack French of Flint.

A reception was held at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building following the ceremony. A family reception was held later at the bride's home.

Before leaving on a trip to Geneva, N. Y. where they will reside, the new Mrs. Conwell changed to a red cashmere suit with black accessories.

Daring Fabrics, Colors Enhance Year's Designs

Designers have gone overboard for the fresh excitement generated by vivid or off-beat colors further enlivened by an unlimited scope of surface treatments this season.

The artfully contrived, elegantly relaxed look gets striking emphasis through the texture and color. The simpler the silhouette, the more eye-catching the fabric.

Bold, warm colors, or the unexpected intermingling of several in novelty weaves and tweeds, offer new expressions for all daytime clothes.

Equally bold, or more subtly accented surfaces, inspire a completely different-from last year's approach to texture.

If it's your 35th wedding anniversary, the gift for your wife is something coral. Rubies match up nicely with coral.

Leslie-Pugh Nuptials Said in St. Benedict Ceremony

St. Benedict Church was the scene of the Saturday morning wedding of Freda Joyce Pugh and Robert E. Leslie.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Ray of LaSalle street and Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Leslie of Strathmore, Pa.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of marquisette lace and nylon tulle over taffeta, with sequins accenting the bodice. A crown of lace covered with sequins held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, white roses and lily.

Mrs. Maxine Van Riper was matron of honor. She wore an egg-shell satin dress with velvet bolero jacket, rust colored velvet sash and matching headpiece. Her cascade bouquet was of chrysanthemums, in shades of brown and rust.

Kenneth E. Leslie of Royal Oak was his brother's best man.

A reception was held at Knights of Pythias Hall Saturday evening.

Before leaving for a northern honeymoon, the bride changed to a blue gabardine suit with matching accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live on Strathmore street.

HOW DO YOU SOUND?

Take into consideration both the tone of your voice and what you have to say.

If you have the habit of prattling, slow down, enunciate clearly. If on the other hand, you find your conversational voice sounds dull, regardless of how exciting your news may be, put your enthusiasm into your voice. In either case, read aloud often in front of a mirror. Try speaking expressively. Accent your action words and watch for telltale rising inflections at sentence endings that make you sound uncertain. Next week we'll help with conversation builders.

Rocket to Wait Before Deciding to Skate Again

MONTREAL (P)—Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, his left leg in a cast and his phenomenal ice hockey career nearing conclusion, said today "I will not decide whether to continue in the game until I'm able to skate again."

The 37-year-old star of the Montreal Canadiens suffered a fractured left ankle in Sunday night's game in Chicago. He will not be permitted to skate again for four weeks.

This was the latest in a series of recent injuries for Richard, who has scored 606 goals in regular season and Stanley Cup competition—the highest lifetime total in the National Hockey League.

Police Quintet Rallies to Win

Bill Newman Collects 21 for Patrolmen in City League Play

Pontiac Police finished with 18 points in the 4th quarter after trailing most of the way, to defeat the Holy Merchants, 50-45, in city league class C action last night.

Another Class C game saw Oliver Buck with Jack Johnson's 16 beat Town and Country, 42-38, despite a 21-point performance by Roger Reynolds.

In "D" games, Lakeside Royals, led by Cliff McCoy's 19 points, whipped Boys' Club 42-28 with Gene Gidcomb getting 17 for the losers.

Charles Kimbrell with 16 led Coca Cola to a 32-29 decision over Southern.

The Police quint was behind 24-23 at halftime and 37-32 after three quarters. Bill Newman got 21 and John Bridgewater 13 points, while Roger Voorhees, Bob Pence and Amos Bradsher hit 15, 13 and 12 respectively for the Holy team.

Jeff Boucher made a valiant attempt to take up the slack by hitting 20 but the Maples dropped their 3rd Eastern Michigan contest in four starts. It was Ferndale's 4th straight in the loop. Tony Palmer meshed 28 and Ron Chapman, in his last start, added 15.

Hazel Park's entire squad couldn't find the range in a 66-28 wallop at Port Huron in the other EML tilt.

Kennedy of Ontario snapped Cranbrook's four-game victory string and got even for an earlier loss by winning 60-53. Jim Williams scored 16, Roger Rothenberger 14 and John Hayden 12 for the Cranes, who led 20-9 at the 1st quarter and were still ahead by one at halftime.

Three Brighton cagers, sparked by Don Appleton's 24, combined for 48 points as the Bulldogs stopped the Lions. Dave Wren hit 19 in defeat.

South Central foes Orionville and North Branch played outside the loop. The Blackhawks nipped MI. Morris 51-49 to even their record at 4-4. Mike Ribner got 17 and Don Nellenback 15 but North Branch still lost at Red Ave. 61-54.

Rochester Downs Troy to Stay Unbeaten

Gallup 'Cold' as Birmingham Bows, 63-56

Cranbrook Defeated, South Lyon's Perfect Record Smashed

Rochester showed it had more guns than Troy could cope with in posting a 42-35 triumph in a battle for prestige between two of the area's outstanding Class B hoop teams last night at Rochester.

It was the 7th straight triumph for the Falcons. Troy also has won seven times while bowing twice.

Birmingham and Cranbrook were both losers and Brighton gained sweet revenge and knocked South Lyon from the unbeaten ranks at the same time with a 64-54 win in some of the other top Tuesday games.

Rochester held the edge all the way and "sat on the ball" in the last quarter to preserve its lead. Bruce Ennis and Gene Lothery paced a balanced attack with 12 and 10, respectively. Rod Harris was the only steady Troy scorer with 13.

The outcome will likely bring about a change in the state ratings since Troy had been listed as 9th and the Falcons 11th.

An "ice cold" Merv Gallup, entering the contest as Oakland County's top point-getter with a 26 average, could tally only 11 in the Birmingham setback.

Apparently nervous playing against his former mates, Gallup had to come up with nine in the last half to reach double figures.

Jeff Boucher made a valiant attempt to take up the slack by hitting 20 but the Maples dropped their 3rd Eastern Michigan contest in four starts. It was Ferndale's 4th straight in the loop. Tony Palmer meshed 28 and Ron Chapman, in his last start, added 15.

Knotted Title Looms for SCL

St. Mary's Bows to Ravens

By H. GUY MOATS

Now there are three! Where yesterday there was but a single unbeaten club at the top spot of the Suburban Catholic basketball circuit, today there are three on top, each with one defeat.

With the one-point 32-31, last minute victory for the St. Benedict club over previously unbeaten Orchard Lake St. Mary there are no clean slates remaining.

With the league's season nearing its end, it now looks like there's going to be a triple tie for the title, following the same pattern that was set for last fall's SCL football championship. St. Benedict, St. Frederick and St. Michael were co-titlists. Now, Eaglets, Rams and Ravens are knotted, each with 6-1 records.

Last night's battle in the Ravens' gymnasium, was a wildly applauded affair from start to finish. The noise from the stands was terrific, and the tenseness of the fans was matched by the players.

Eaglets started the scoring, but trailed at the first period, 8-6. They were still behind at halftime 19-14. Only time the Orchard Lakers were in front was late in the finale when Don Duszynski connected to break a 29-28 count. Mark Storen regained the tie for Ravens with three minutes left.

After Storen's free toss, husky Art Massucci dumped in an under-the-basket shot with a minute and a half left. Art's bucket proved the decisive factor, for the Ravens went into an effective stall.

Three times during that hectic final minute Eaglets had their chances, but missed shots like the long one by Glen Hass (who had a very cold night) that went in spun around inside the ring and popped out while the big St. Mary crowd moaned.

Chet Wlodkowski, game's leading scorer, with 14, missed one easy

Korea Drops Chinese to Use Phonetic Script

KOREA—The Republic of Korea has directed that all government documents must be written in Korean phonetic script instead of in Chinese characters.

Korea simplified its writing into phonetic script in 1943, but Japanese characters were used during the Japanese occupation. After World War II the American Military Government returned primary school instruction to phonetics.

Grave of Early Pioneer Set Off by Iron Fence

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP) — A weather-worn iron fence sets off an 8-foot square plot between an oat and corn field on the Walter Amstutz farm south of here.

Although names and circumstances have been lost in time, it is believed to be the grave of a pioneer child who died during the trek west in the early 1800s. The Amstutz family has preserved the grave on the chance relatives of the child may someday seek it.

Mayor Has Red Face Over Memory Lapse

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Mayor Benjamin Hawes noticed his month's check from the City of Owensboro was missing from his billfold.

He put out a stop-payment order on it and the city issued him another check for the same amount. A few days later original check cleared the bank. It was endorsed in Hawes' handwriting. The red-faced mayor said he forgot all about cashing it. He promptly wrote the city a check to cover the second one.
