Prepare for Birmingham Service

LEAD PRAYER PROGRAM — Among seven ministers' wives leading the World Day of Prayer Service at 10 a. m. tomorrow at Birmingham's First Methodist Church are (left to right) Mrs. Glen Harris of First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Reginald Becker of Embury Methodist Church and Mrs. Mac Taylor of the proposed new Northminster Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Charles Breitmeyer is shown pointing out each woman's part in the program.

Open Testimony in Murder Trial

Fenton Farmer's Wife Says Clifford Dye Shot at Her Husband

A lawyer charged with attempted murder was accused of "firing the gun right at my husband" yesterday by the wife of a Fenton tenant farmer wounded by a gunshot last Aug. 26.

Mrs. Lois Clark, 27, testified in the Oakland County Circuit Court trial of former Fenton village attorney Clifford Dye charged in the non-fatal shooting of her husband, William, 27.

She was the first witness called by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor to testify before an 11-woman, 3-man jury (two jurors will be dismissed at trial's end leaving 12, the legal number, to reach a decision).

The Clarks moved onto a farm owned by Dye's sister, Viola, of Louisville, Ky., on May 8, 1953, the woman said. The couple and Dye, who lived on an adjoining farm, were to split profits from the farm, primarily from milk sold. Her husband also agreed to feed cattle on Dye's farm for a share in the herd, she stated.

At first, the monthly milk checks were endorsed by both Dye and Clark, she said, but later the accused said "he was having trouble with his wife" and "we sent the checks to his sister to endorse in his place."

Dye once "asked me to sign his sister's name to a check, but I refused," she testified.

In May, 1954, the accused refused to sign checks or have his sister endorse them and the Clarks had no money for farm expenses. (Continued on Page 53, Col. 5)

Seek Expulsion of Three MMPA 'Rebellion' Leaders

A recommendation that three officials of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. be expelled from the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. has been made by the MMPA's Detroit Sales Committee. All are also members of the latter group.

The three include Arthur J. Heslip, Oakland County representative; Leo Kuhlman, Macomb representative; and William J. Wilson, Ingham County representative. Heslip is treasurer of the rebelling group.

The feud between the MMPA and the newly-organized Fair Share group flared during the monthly sales committee meeting Tuesday when Albert Gail, Washtenaw County representative, accused the trio of formally affiliating with the opposing faction and "undermining the interests of the association by half-truths, twisted facts" and distortions in speeches before meetings of MMPA members.

The Fair Share organization made up largely of MMPA members, recently announced an alliance with the Teamsters Union (AFL-CIO) to by-pass the association in seeking higher Detroit-area milk prices for dairy farmers through negotiations with creameries.

In adopting the resolution by a 27-7 vote, the sales committee recommended that the board of directors "give serious consideration to cancelling the membership contracts" of the three. Heslip said yesterday: "Gail accuses us of trying to serve two masters (MMPA and FSBC). We have only one master, the dairy farmer we're trying to represent." The Oakland representative also charged that other members of the committee objected that he, Kuhlman and Wilson were "leaking" information contained in committee files. "The information, we believe, belongs to all MMPA members," he said. Heslip added that, contrary to charges, the trio had not attempted to "undermine" the MMPA. He stated that association by-laws provide for a hearing before the board of directors prior to action on expulsion.

Churches Unite on Friday for World Day of Prayer

A prayer written years ago by a Sioux Indian Chief, Yellow Lark, will be spoken by millions of Americans when they observe annual World Day of Prayer Friday. In communities across the land and in towns and villages of 134 countries around the globe, people of all ages will join in services.

They will bow their heads and recite in their own tongues the prayer of the late Sioux chief, chosen by these young Indian-Americans at the Cook School for the observance that will girdle the Christian world.

Sponsored by the United Church Women, World Day of Prayer will be observed in Pontiac in Bethany Baptist Church.

Registrations will be taken at 10 a.m. with the morning program beginning at 10:30. Mrs. J. A. Rammes and Mrs. J. C. Covert, co-chairmen, will be assisted by Mrs. Walter Willson and Mrs. Homer Harbage.

In charge of the prayer and meditation hour will be Mrs. L. R. Miner of Macedonia Baptist Church, Mrs. Carl Nelson of St. John's Lutheran Church, Mrs. Elwood Bigler of First Congregational and Mrs. James Hampton of All Saints Episcopal Church.

During the luncheon hour, starting at noon, the film "White Earth Rolls Onward into Light" will be shown.

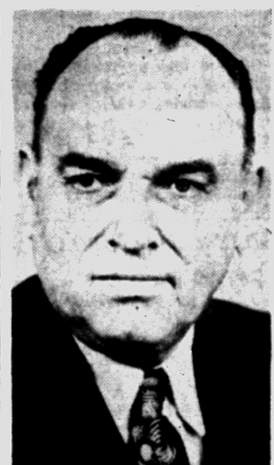

Under the direction of Mrs. Neil Gray, the Yonah Group of the First Presbyterian Church will present a playlet showing where the offering is sent.

The afternoon will close with a service of Holy Communion.

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman today was named campaign manager for the Pontiac Area United Fund drive next fall, according to William B. Hartman, UF president. Willman will head an organization covering Pontiac, Waterford and Pontiac Townships.

It's Great to Live in Michigan! Chosen

EAST LANSING (U)—"It's great to live in Michigan!"

That is the slogan for the third annual Michigan Week observance May 20-26.

The slogan was adopted yesterday at a meeting of the Michigan Week executive board at Michigan State University.

Gov. Williams was named honorary chairman of the Michigan Week celebration and Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart and Speaker of the House Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) were named honorary co-chairmen.

The day-by-day schedule for Michigan Week activities was announced by General Chairman Russell A. Swaney of Detroit as follows:

Sunday, Spiritual Foundation Day; Monday, Mayor Exchange Day; Tuesday, Hospitality Day; Wednesday, Our Livelihood Day; Thursday, Education Day; Friday, Our Heritage Day; Saturday, New Frontiers Day.

Outlaws Modern Look

NANTUCKET, Mass. (U)—The island of Nantucket, 30 miles out in the Atlantic, wants no shiny chrome or glass store fronts among its weathered buildings. The townspeople have appointed two five-man commissions to police building and renovations with an eye toward preserving Nantucket's early 19th century charms.

Suicide Feared for Detroit Pair

Guards Keep Watch; Discover $2,000 Sewn Into Hamilton's Coat

DETROIT (INS)—Jail attendants today were warned to keep a close guard against possible suicide attempts by Mrs. Victoria Hermiz (Haisha) 25, and Maurice Hamilton, 20, charged with the murder of Mrs. Hermiz's husband, Aziz, 33.

Guards were under orders to check the highly emotional pair every 10 to 15 minutes.

Hamilton and Mrs. Hermiz both pleaded innocent when arraigned on first degree murder warrants yesterday but other dramatic developments marked the day in Detroit's crime of passion.

Hamilton, the student son of a wealthy Baghdad merchant, and Mrs. Hermiz, mother of two small children had admitted plotting unsuccessfully to hire a paid killer to murder Hermiz, a grocer who emigrated to Detroit from Iraq.

EACH ACCUSED OTHER

However, each claimed the other committed the actual murder when the hiring attempt failed.

Yesterday, Hamilton told police that he had plunged a knife in Hermiz after the victim's wife pleaded she was unable to finish the act after using the knife twice on her husband as he lay asleep in bed.

The pair was transferred to the Wayne County Jail from Detroit police headquarters after the arraignment and attendants, making a routine search of Hamilton, found $2,000 sewn into the shoulder pads of his jacket.

Mrs. Hermiz screamed "You thief! Liar, liar, liar!" when she was told of the discovery, but Hamilton insisted the money was his own and not the sum the pair had raised to finance the murder.

Police said the slaying ended a long affair between Mrs. Hermiz and Hamilton and some sources said the crime had been hatched in Baghdad before Mrs. Hermiz came to the U.S. to join her husband.

Michigan Roads May Get Boost in Federal Aid

Ziegler Says Pending Bill May Up Total to $225 Million Yearly

A federal aid bill now under study could bring the total available for freeway construction in Michigan up to $225,000,000 a year, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler told the Pontiac Lions Club yesterday.

Michigan will have an annual construction budget of $150,000,000 for the next five years, said Ziegler.

State gasoline and weight taxes, current federal aid funds and bond money raised under state statutes go to make up the total, he explained.

"But federal aid boosts Congress is expected to make may increase the total to $225,000,000 a year," he declared.

Ziegler referred specifically to the Fallon bill, now being studied by a committee. It would have the federal government pay 90 per cent of construction costs on interstate highways.

The same bill is seen by the Michigan Turnpike Authority as paying 90 per cent of construction costs of 511 miles of toll roads proposed for Michigan. The bill has a clause making toll roads eligible for aid.

Last year's gas tax increase, plus the possible federal aid bill, promise Michigan a stepped-up road program, said Ziegler.

"It will take a couple of years before we will see any great change in Michigan's highways," he stated, "but then the improvement should be rapid."

It will take contractors 12 to 18 months to prepare to handle a greatly increased amount of work, he stated. "I never said I was against toll roads in Michigan, providing they are soundly financed and don't interfere with the freeway system," the highway commissioner asserted.

"At least 85 per cent of traffic can not be served by toll roads," he added.

"The turnpike authority consulted with New York bankers and got a negative shake of the head, indicating its plan is not sound," he continued.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (INS)—President Eisenhower today proclaimed March as National Red Cross Month and urged Americans to contribute generously to the Red Cross fund drive.

Many Lakes Now Unsafe

Sheriff Warns of Thin Ice

Deaths by drowning of three Detroit area children caused Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons to warn parents of the dangers of thin ice. "To venture out on the lakes is to invite tragedy," Irons stated today.

"Ice is now only one-inch thick on many of the county's 400 lakes," he said, "and warm weather ahead is bound to melt it further." He advised parents to restrict children's ice skating to community skating rinks until the dangerous thaw is over.

Arizona Senator Speaks Tonight

More Than 600 to Attend Annual Lincoln Banquet

Some 625 persons are expected to attend the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club's 66th annual banquet tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Elks' Temple, according to Robert C. Miller, co-chairman of ticket sales.

All invited guests will be on hand except Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's wife, who will be unable to accompany him, said Robert A. Sutton, club president.

Senator Goldwater (R-Ariz.) will be principal speaker. The 47-year-old lawmaker is chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee.

He is a member of Senate committees on banking and currency, labor and public welfare and interior and insular affairs. A fighter pilot in World War II, Goldwater is a family man with four children.

The senator will be introduced by Congressman George A. Dondero, of Royal Oak, who is also expected to give a short talk. Dondero returned to Oakland County this week after conducting House committee hearings on the proposed federal road aid bill.

Other honored guests will include Congressman Alvin C. Bentley of Owosso. Bentley now appears to be the strongest potential contender for the Republican nomination for governor, after Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo dismissed himself as a candidate this week.

Also slated to attend are State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor, former Auditor General John Martin, and Republican county officials.

Bruce J. Annett, of Pontiac, will be toastmaster.

Subpoena the Mouse in Beer as Witness?

KITTANNING, Pa. (INS)—A pink elephant is a small matter during some New Year's Eve parties, but a mouse looked big enough to Earl Dwyer, of Edmon, to rate a law suit.

Dwyer sued in Armstrong County Court yesterday for $5,000 damages because he said he found a mouse in his bottle of beer on New Year's Eve. The suit was filed against the Pittsburgh Brewing Co. and James Carnabuci, of Avonmore.

Dwyer claimed that Carnabuci sold him a case of beer which contained the bottle which allegedly contained the mouse.

Roosevelt for Stevenson

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) indicated today he will support the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Education Board OK's Bond Issue

Would Raise $3 Million to Finance Construction for 15 Months

Pontiac Board of Education last night approved floating a $3-million bond issue to finance its building program for the next 15 months.

Revenues from a special building tax already approved by voters will retire the bonds, explained Board Treasurer Vernon Schiller.

"This action allows us to pull money forward and construct schools now, while they are needed, rather than waiting for enough money to accumulate," said Board President Louis H. Schimmel.

The board's bond-payment record has been excellent in the past and "we'll probably get the lowest interest rate in the state," Schimmel added.

Part of the money can probably be reinvested at enough profit to cover interest on the bonds, he explained.

The board has definite plans for new buildings and equipment costing $2,440,689.

Projects the bonds will finance include eight multi-purpose rooms with gym and cafeteria facilities; an elementary school with eight classrooms, two kindergartens and a multi-purpose room; additions to existing schools including 12 classrooms, a library and office area, and eight play areas, plus additional cafeteria equipment.

Tonight, Tomorrow Cloudy, Then Snow

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau, it will be cloudy tonight and tomorrow followed by snow. There will be little change in the temperature.

The low tonight will be near 25. The high tomorrow will range from 28 to 32 degrees.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 16 degrees. The thermometer registered 29 at 1 p.m.

Chill Paralyzes Much of World; 568 Lose Lives

8 Inches of Rain Pour Down on New Orleans in Seven Hours

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Raging floods and a new cold wave struck much of Europe and parts of the Middle East today, piling misery on misery in a 17-day freeze-up which already has cost 568 lives.

Torrential rains and melting snows brought Turkey new disasters of the worst winter on record. The known dead there totaled 72.

Ice jams and a brief thaw sent the Rhine and scores of rivers rampaging over their banks in central Europe.

And in New Orleans, almost 8 inches of rain fell in seven hours, beginning yesterday at 2:45 p.m., with 2.85 inches falling in the first hour. The Weather Bureau said no relief was in sight, and forecast showers for the next two days. Special crews were working today to clear sewers and prevent waters from rising higher in flooded parts of the city.

Yugoslavia estimated its flood damage from the Strumica River alone at a million dollars.

The Netherlands reported the coldest night since 1942, with temperatures down to 13 below zero.

SPAIN FREEZES

Even sunny Spain froze up again after warmer weather yesterday.

Behind the cold wave lurked the specter of famine. Crop losses already ran into millions of dollars. Known deaths attributed to the weather were:

France 124, Turkey 72, Italy 67, Yugoslavia 67, Britain 47, Denmark 31, Greece 30, Germany 26, Austria 19, Holland 16, Portugal 15, Spain 15, Switzerland 12, Belgium 7, Sweden 6, Berlin and East Germany 5, Poland 4, Norway 3 and Libya 2.

Scores more were feared lost in villages still snowbound across the Continent. And nine men were aboard the 350-ton Norwegian ship Sagvaag, missing since Sunday off Norway's icebound, south coast.

Relief organizations rushed food and clothing to more than 250 persons left homeless by floods in Turkish Thrace. The raging waters swept away bridges and railroad lines. Thousands of acres of rich farmlands were inundated.

ITALY SHIVERS

Central and southern Italy with scores of villages still snowbound, shivered in temperatures down to 5 below zero. Fuel shortages and rising food prices were reported across the country.

Some German cities reported their coldest night of the freeze-up. Bonn had 8 below zero and Nuernberg 13 below. Floods from the Whisper River isolated the town of Lorch.

Communist East Germany reported snowballing troubles in transport and industry. Some plants went on to night work to ease the daytime burden on power resources. Fog covered Berlin, with a temperature just over zero.

Lenten Guideposts—Message of Faith

'Suddenly I Realized Prayers Are Muscles'

By "BARE" DIDRIKSON
ZAHARIAS
World Famous Golfer

A little dazed, my husband and I left the doctor's office and walked through the streets of Beaumont, Texas. George kept saying: "Cancer? That's impossible."

It seemed impossible to me. I had never been ill a day in my life.

I had just won the 1953 Babe Zaharias Open in Beaumont and was packed for an early start for Phoenix for the next tournament.

I had been feeling unusually tired and decided on the medical examination. Now

I found myself headed, not for a golf tournament, but to the hospital.

Soon newspapers everywhere announced I had cancer. Thousands of cancer patients and thousands of others who were afraid of the disease wrote, wired and telephoned in the few days before my operation. Everybody promised prayers.

This was something new for me. All my life, I had looked upon prayer as something very personal between God and me but it never occurred to me that thousands of people, separated far from each other, could effectively join in a barrage of prayers for the sake of one person—for me.

PRAYERS ARE MUSCLES
Suddenly I looked upon prayers as muscles, and I realized that the strongest people in the world must be those who pray for each other. There was strength in this sharing, and I realized I had to give to others as well as accept.

After the operation, the doctor came to me. "All right, Babe," he said, "I want to see you up and out of here real soon, and before the season's over I want to read on the sports pages that you've won another tournament."

The doctor had performed a colostomy—surgery that meant vital changes in my entire way of life. People I had known with colostomies were virtual invalids. For a fleeting moment, I was terrified—until I remembered that I hadn't gone into this thing alone.

CANCER KILLS SPIRIT

Letters came from people with cancer, people who seemed more concerned about my recovery than their own. One man wrote:

"You must return to your game, Babe. Knowing you're back at golf will be a victory for us, too. Cancer kills more than a human body; it kills the human spirit because we feel we who have it are incurable. Your physical recovery, Babe, will be a spiritual steadiness for rest of us. That's why our prayers are always with you."

Suddenly I realized golf was more than a sport. Because what it would symbolize to thousands of cancer patients—a victory through spiritual strength—my game would become, in a way, a symbol of faith. Knowing God answered prayers, I wanted to return to golf to demonstrate this—and also to show others that they, too, could resume their normal lives.

SCORED A FIRST

Four months after my operation, I entered Chicago's Tam O'Shanter Tournament. Among the best players of golf, I was aware of competition. Tenseness tired me quickly. I began missing easy shots. We were on the fifth green when an important putt stopped (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

MAKE OVER PAGES Jail Breakers Captured in Michigan Forest

Fugitives Yield Without Fight

Three Surrender Near Barton City Area After Fleeing Mio Cell

STANDISH — Fanning out through the dense woods of the Huron national forest, State Police and sheriff's deputies last night captured three armed convicts who had escaped eight hours earlier from the Oscoda County Jail at Mio.

State Police said the fugitives gave up without a fight in an isolated area near Barton City, about 30 miles east of Mio in a sparsely populated area of northeast lower Michigan. They had abandoned a stolen car and fled on foot into the woods.

Held at Arnac County Jail here were Clayton Vost, 23 of Bay City; Andrew Petrowski, 21 of Auburn and William Rogers, 20 of Flint. They broke out of the two-cell jail in Mio by overpowering a deputy and arming themselves with the sheriff's guns.

The men had been brought to the jail to stand trial for burglaries committed after they escaped last August from the Cassidy Lake trusty camp near Chelsea.

Mrs. George Marsh, wife of the Oscoda County sheriff, said the trio, confined in a single cell, escaped after persuading Deputy Sheriff Alfred May to open the cell door so they could phone an attorney.

OVERPOWER JAILER

All three leaped on May and one struck him on the head and took his revolver, she said. Sheriff Marsh, recovering from an operation, was resting in his living quarters upstairs.

Mrs. Marsh said one of the men "made a grab for me" when she ran into the cell room to learn what was happening. She said she snatched up her grandchildren, Larry Ohm, 1 and his 3-year-old sister, Laurie, and dashed upstairs.

After raiding the sheriff's armory and taking a 30-30 rifle and some other guns, the convicts sped off in a car belonging to the sheriff's daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Ohm. They fled into the frigid weather in their shirt-sleeves, without coats.

An Oscoda County deputy spotted the car six hours after near Barton City and gave chase. He summoned help when the men abandoned the car and ran into the woods. All three were rounded up within two hours without a shot being fired.

Rogers was serving a nine-month to 15-year sentence for burglary in Charlevoix County in Bay City. Yost was sentenced from May 1934 to May 20 to 18 months to two years for forgery. Petrowski originally was sentenced from Midland County in December, 1934 to six months to five years for entering without breaking.

He drew an additional 1 1/2 to 4 1/2 year sentence for the escape from the Cassidy Lake camp.

After their first escape, Petrowski and Rogers were seized last Sept. 6 near Grand Rapids and Yost was captured a short time later in Whiting, Ind. All three were armed.

DAV Head Praises Growth of Chapter

Pontiac Chapter 101, Disabled American Veterans, was commended today by the DAV national commander for increased membership last year.

Maj. Gen. Melvin J. Maas (Rd.), who also is chairman of the President's committee on employment of the physically handicapped, cited the chapter's fine work in bringing together disabled veterans. As of Feb. 1, the chapter had a total of 120 members.

City Bar Holdup Case Is Solved

Second Bandit Admits Role as Red-Hooded Stickup Artist

With a second man's confession, the robbery of a city bar Jan. 19 by two armed, red-hooded bandits is solved, Pontiac detective Ray E. Meggitt said today.

After five days of questioning, he said, John D. Fortson, 23, of Auburn Heights, last night confessed taking part in the $890 stick-up of Tom's Bar, 928 Mt. Clemens St. Jan. 19.

Fortson was charged with armed robbery and is expected to be arraigned today, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziemi, said.

Fortson confessed being the partner of his brother-in-law, Gerald K. Davis, 28, of Rochester, who Friday had admitted the robbery.

Both men confessed a similar holdup earlier Jan. 18 of a tavern near Port Huron for $121, Meggitt said.

Red cloth hoods were recovered near both robberies.

Suspicion centered on Fortson after questioning two weeks ago, when he was arrested for parole violation.

Meggitt said Fortson had been sent to Jackson State Prison after conviction in Port Huron of breaking and entering.

During Fortson's weekend in jail, Davis staged a one-man armed robbery of an Orion Township bar. He was caught last week by Oakland County detectives Don Francis and Jack Davis and after confession was charged with the crime.

Fortson also confessed he and Davis broke into two businesses at Updyke and Pontiac Rds. last month, Meggitt said.

He said the pair gained food from a meat market and loose change from vending machines in a restaurant.

Meggitt said during the two armed robberies Fortson admittedly carried a pistol constructed from a .22 caliber rifle, and Davis carried a .20 gauge shotgun belonging to Fortson. Both guns were recovered in Davis' home, Meggitt said.

Fortson also confessed he and Davis broke into two businesses at Updyke and Pontiac Rds. last month, Meggitt said.

He said the pair gained food from a meat market and loose change from vending machines in a restaurant.

Meggitt said during the two armed robberies Fortson admittedly carried a pistol constructed from a .22 caliber rifle, and Davis carried a .20 gauge shotgun belonging to Fortson. Both guns were recovered in Davis' home, Meggitt said.

Arrest 2 Men in Troy Holdup

Hunting Violation Leads to Capture, Confession by Royal Oak Pair

Two Royal Oak men were arrested yesterday in a Troy armed robbery because one of them had a police record for shooting chickens.

Apprehended at a Royal Oak tool shop, the pair readily confessed the $287 holdup Saturday of Neval's Grocery Store, 35 E. Big Beaver Rd., Oakland County detective Roy Hartwick said.

Facing arraignment today on charges of armed robbery are Ernest J. Johnson, 316 E. Hudson, and Richard Carr, 213 Midland, both 24.

Hartwick said Johnson was traced by information that he had been ticketed by Troy Township police last hunting season.

A customer in another township store which the pair visited Saturday told Hartwick that Johnson had been caught shooting his chickens.

Hartwick said the pair may have visited the store to rob it, but decided not to because the store was crowded. The manager noticed the two men because they acted "suspicious," Hartwick said.

Both men said they needed the money because they were out of work, Hartwick said. He said they spent the loot during a spree in Alpena, where Carr has relatives.

A .12 gauge shotgun carried by Carr in the robbery was confiscated, Hartwick said.

DIES IN FENTON CRASH
FENTON — John Reis, 41, of this Genesee County community, was killed last night in a two-car collision at the Fenton intersection of U.S. 23 and Thompson road.

With about 61,000 cars and trucks in operation, safety-glass replacement in 1936 is estimated at 38,000,000 square feet.

The Day in Birmingham

Community House Fund Drive to Start Monday

BIRMINGHAM — Ready for the annual drive for Community House funds, this year with a goal of $50,000 are some 850 volunteers, including 150 leaders who met yesterday noon for luncheon, and 15 businessmen, who met last night.

Home and business solicitation will begin Monday and last through March 4.

Of the luncheon crowd, Mrs. Harry N. Gruber, head of home solicitation, called the number of volunteers record-breaking. The 105 captains will each have a number of women aiding them—one woman reported yesterday she has lined up 76 workers for her extensive area.

Mrs. George A. Weinhold, drive director, talked, as did Harold Hagan, lone male at the noon luncheon. Hagan is president of the governing board of the Community House, center of social and civic activities in Birmingham.

Hagan presented scrolls inscribed by the sisters of Holy Name School to winners of the poster contest conducted through local schools.

Hagan talked also to the businessmen, who met last night for briefing on why other local businessmen should support the "House."

GIVE EXPENDITURES

He enumerated such expenditures from last year's budget as cost of the kitchen's complete remodeling and a new ceiling, and spoke of future projects. Complete covering in insurance has been achieved for the first time during the past two months, he explained.

The businessmen are marshaled by William Torrence and Edward Kurth.

Attending with the drive's opening Monday are the "Captain's Coffees" in individual homes, where Mrs. Anthony J. Daley of the House Board, Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr., city commissioner, and Mrs. Donovan Gray, are helping instruct workers in asking for gifts to Community House.

Last year's drive came within a few hundred dollars of its $50,000 goal. Letters preliminary to personal contacts have been sent into 14,005 homes in the Bloomfield, North Adams, Franklin, Beverly and the lakes areas, with a pamphlet authored by Norman Stanton.

When he returns from Haiti, details will be furthered for Kingsley Center, to be built to

Turnpike Vote Block Charged by Higgins

ANN ARBOR — Chairman George Higgins of the Michigan Turnpike Authority says Glenn Richards, Detroit Expressway coordinator, is "afraid" to put the state's proposed turnpike program to a vote.

Higgins yesterday accused Richards of trying to tell "the rest of Michigan how to build its roads" and termed his attitude "not only impudent but alarming." He added:

"I wonder if Richards prefers the type of toll Michigan has now on bloody Telegraph Road (U.S. 24) or a toll gate and a safe North-South turnpike parallel to Telegraph."

"Apparently he believes that motorists gladly pay a toll in 12 other states... but won't in Michigan."

Hint Margaret Eyes Catholicism

Duke of Norfolk Says 'Sheer Nonsense' to Rumors on Princess

LONDON (U)—A new rumor is going around about Princess Margaret—that she may soon be converted to Roman Catholicism.

Neither Buckingham Palace nor other official sources had any comment so far on the reports published in some continental and London newspapers that such a religious change is contemplated by the 25-year-old princess whose sister Queen Elizabeth II is the "defender of the faith" of the Protestant Church of England.

But the Duke of Norfolk, Britain's leading Roman Catholic layman, denounced as "sheer nonsense" rumors that his audience last week with Pope Pius XII was to discuss the conversion of a "noted English personality" to the church.

Vatican circles said they knew nothing about any plans for Princess Margaret to become a Catholic. They also said there was no basis for reports that the duke had discussed the question with the Pope.

There were published reports in 1933 that Princess Margaret had embarked on a new and fuller religious life after the death of her father King George VI. One report that she was considering entering a religious order—presumably an Anglican group—was denied by Buckingham Palace.

Margaret's religious outlook was generally considered to have played an important role in her decision last fall not to marry RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, who divorced his wife.

The Church of England opposes the remarriage of divorced persons, even the "innocent" party, if the former mate is still living.

The New York Daily News, in a copyright story from London today, reported that the princess may soon announce she is entering the Catholic Church. It said the Duke of Norfolk discussed Margaret's "spiritual problem" personally with the Pope and reportedly contacted the princess as soon as he returned from Rome.

The news said Margaret's decision is the culmination of soul-searching consideration over the past several years. It is not a result of the unhappy ending of her romance with Group Capt. Peter Townsend. In fact, there are indications the princess is purposely delaying any announcement so the move will not be connected in the public mind with the Townsend incident.

Police Refuse Offer

LANSING (U)—The Lansing Police Department has turned down an offer by the secretary of state's department to take over its licensing bureau. The city department said the bureau has broken even or made money during the past few years, makes a good contact with the public and is a good place to assign injured or disabled officers.

Japanese Brides of GIs Getting Americanized

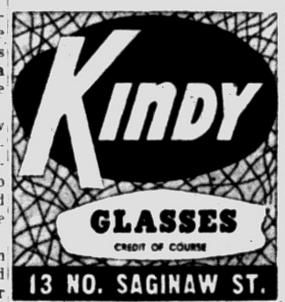

TOKYO (INS)—Japanese brides of American servicemen in Tokyo have gone back to the classroom to learn how to be homemakers "American style."

The school, the "Tokyo Bride's School," is sponsored by the American Red Cross in cooperation with the U. S. Army.

In a bumper crop just graduated from the unique school, 150 Oriental wives learned the intricacies of making beds, cooking western style, cleaning house and the hundreds of details which befall the American wife.

During the five week course the brides studied geography, as well as the nature of the country that will soon be "home" for them.

Teachers in the bride's school are American wives of servicemen serving in the Tokyo area.

Urge Ban on TV of Drinking Ads

Witnesses Ask Senate Group to Prohibit All Glamorized Matter

WASHINGTON (INS)—Some 35 witnesses, urged Congress today to ban radio and television commercials which they said glamorize the drinking of beer and wine.

They appeared before the Senate Committee in support of legislation to ban liquor advertising on the air and in publications which cross state lines.

J. Renwick Patterson, executive secretary of the National Reform Assn. with offices at Pittsburgh, said the spot commercials are giving children the wrong slant.

Mrs. Glenn G. Hays, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, said the situation is one parents cannot control because "sandwiched in" between good TV programs are beer commercials which children enjoy.

Leslie B. Logan, of Denver, executive director of the inter church temperance movement of Colorado, protested that a beer firm sponsored a TV show on which Mrs. Catherine Marshall, widow of a senate chaplain, appeared.

Logan termed this a "sneak attack" because, he said, Mrs. Marshall did not know in advance that a beer firm would be a sponsor of the program.

Hebrew Scholar Deciphering Old Ugaritic Tongue

SEATTLE, Wash. (U)—A Seattle diamond merchant spends his spare time trying to reassemble an ancient language which he says might be called the "grandmother of Hebrew." Arthur Lagawier already knows 17 languages. He holds a doctorate in philosophy and a rabbinical degree.

When his family was forced by the Nazis to leave Antwerp, Belgium, he managed to save his collection of 6,000 books. He has been teaching Hebrew literature at the University of Washington and spending much of his time in scholarly study. One of his hobbies is delving into the mysteries of Ugaritic, a language he says was in use probably 2,000 years before Christ.

"It is the language from which was developed Phoenician, forerunner of Hebrew," he says.

Tablets bearing the strange writings of the ancient kingdom of Ugarit, in northern Syria, were unearthed in 1928. Lagawier received photostats of them three years ago. From the inscriptions, he is trying to develop a Ugaritic grammar.

The retail price of salt today is about 7½ cents a pound, the same as consumers paid in 1812.

IN IKE'S VACATIONLAND — Here's one of the cottages on Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey's plantation near Thomasville, Ga., where President Eisenhower is enjoying a week's vacation.

The President is expected to reach a more definite stand on whether he will be a candidate for re-election during his week in the south.

Dutch Freeze Cream, Then Make It Butter

AMSTERDAM — Finding that some of their customers in other countries objected to eating cold storage butter, some Dutch butter makers tried freezing cream and making butter from it instead.

The 12 dairies that have made the experiment say that it's a new answer to an old problem shared by all dairy-surplus countries—the problem of butter storage.

They say butter churned from frozen cream not only tastes like fresh butter, but has a higher vitamin-A content than fresh butter and is easier to spread.

Careless People Partly to Blame

Forgers Fatten on Federal Checks

By KENNETH O. GILMORE

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Forgers and counterfeiters of U. S. government checks have never had it so good.

Today these swindlers are doing a land office business duping cashiers, businessmen and store keepers across the country. They've found that cashing a phony or stolen government check is like taking candy from a baby.

Each year Uncle Sam issues more than 250 million checks, yet numerous gullible persons believe that anything with the words "U. S. Government" or cage, for example, who received formal notice from the government that she would no longer receive her allotment checks for $137.10. This was printed on a cardboard form perforated like a government check.

Believing the notice to be a check, she took it to the owner of a tavern. He had her endorse it and then forked over the cash.

LOU AMES CASE

One of the most interesting counterfeit cases handled by the Secret Service recently came to a dramatic head in Denver, Col. It illustrates the swift operation of serving a life sentence mostly for forgery.

When another Lou J. Ames check was laid down in Minnesota, warning circulars were sent out to super markets in the entire western area where it was thought he was heading. They described the check and the suspect.

Less than a week later Raymond walked into a super market in Denver and tried to cash a check. The manager recognized it and refused to cash it. Then he had a clerk spot the crook's license number.

It was put out over a police bulletin and immediately a Denver police car spotted Raymond's auto. But the criminal was prepared. Knowing he was being chased, he turned on a red light and a siren he had installed and took off.

The two cars screamed through the city at 90 miles per hour. But the criminal failed to make a right turn and hit a traffic island.

He jumped out and ran across the street to a vacant lot and hid behind a chicken coop. When the pursuing cop fired two shots in the air, he surrendered.

This is a dramatic but not an unusual case. Every year the Secret Service investigates cases where crooks have actually succeeded in passing photostatic copies of federal checks.

They also find people accept old age pension checks from kids who have stolen them.

"A government check is as good as gold—provided it is endorsed by the person who is entitled to it," emphasizes Chief Baughman. "But one with a forged endorsement is as worthless as any forged personal check, and the person who cashes it is the loser."

Cabinet Ratifies Algerian Policy

Mollet's Proposal Now Authorized to Go Before National Assembly

PARIS (AP)—The French Cabinet endorsed Premier Guy Mollet's policies for Algeria today and authorized him to bring his proposals before the National Assembly this afternoon.

The Socialist Premier's plan was expected to hinge on his controversial proposal to set up a one-house Algerian legislature of both Moslems and French colonists as soon as possible. Mollet hopes this will produce Algerian leadership with which France can negotiate for an end to the 15 months of fighting between Moslem nationalists and French troops.

To quiet Algeria's French colonists who opposed such a proposal last week with riots and demonstrations, Mollet was reported planning to offer guarantees—as yet unspecified—against their being swamped. Algerian Moslems outnumber the French 8 to 1; at present each has its own legislative house with the French chamber dominant.

Presentation of Mollet's proposals was expected to furnish a respite from the filibustering and brawling in the Assembly by followers of anti-tax leader Pierre Poujade. They have brought the chamber to a virtual standstill for the past two weeks battling attempts to unseat 12 Poujadist deputies whose elections have been challenged.

The matter broke into open violence yesterday when Poujadist and leftist deputies disrupted an Assembly session with a slugging match for possession of the speaker's rostrum. The session was finally suspended after six deputies had suffered bloody noses and cracked heads.

Mollet prepared to address the Assembly against a backdrop of French violence in both Algeria and Tunisia. French sources said 88 persons had been killed in the 24 hours ending last night.

Two Cabinet Ministers Replaced by Franco

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco today replaced two Cabinet ministers in an attempt to quiet unrest in the Falangist party and halt university student demonstrations against his government.

Decrees dismissing the secretary general of the Falange and the education minister and appointing substitutes were published in today's official bulletin.

Careening Auto Kills Pedestrian, Hurts Mother

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit man was killed and his mother injured last night when a car went out of control, swerved over a curb and struck them as they walked along a Detroit street.

Killed was Carlton Watson, 43. Police said he was carried 74 feet on the bumper of the car, driven by Jesse Woodard, 27, also of Detroit.

Watson's mother, Mrs. Sally Watson, 73, of Detroit, was taken to a hospital. Police quoted Woodard as saying his brakes failed as he turned to avoid another vehicle.

Greek Premier Faces Challenge

New Democratic Union Will Enter Parliament Elections in Force

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A new Greek political force representing all shades of opinion from extreme left to right will challenge Premier Constantine Karamanlis' National Radical Union in parliamentary elections Sunday.

The new alliance—an astounding development on the local political scene—calls itself the Democratic Union. The "Democrats" include the Communist-controlled United Democratic Left Wing (EDA). The Premier's "Radicals" are pro-Western defenders of Greece's membership in NATO and are generally moderate in policy.

The Radical Union accuses its opposition of playing Moscow's game, risking landing Greece behind the Iron Curtain. The Democratic Union counters by charging the government with not vigorously supporting the British island colony of Cyprus in its fight to unite with Greece.

REDS OUTLAWED

The Communist party has been outlawed since 1947. In addition to the Red-front EDA, the Democratic Union includes Constantine Tsaldaris' Populists, George Papandreou's Liberals, Sophocles Venizelos' Liberal Democratic Union, the late Gen. Nicholas Plastiras' National Progressive Union of the Center (EPEK), the Agrarian party and George Kartalis' Democratic party.

Prior to formation of the Democratic Union, most political observers believed the Radical Union would win a majority of the 300 Parliament seats at stake. Now the outcome is in doubt. Karamanlis' followers are hoping for a last-minute split in the opposition.

Catholics Will Battle Segregation Moves

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A hot legislative fight loomed today between the Roman Catholic Church and segregation leaders seeking a law that would halt church plans for integration in Catholic schools.

Four state representatives asked last night for measures to prevent mixing races in private schools. Catholic Church officials have said integration in their schools may come by September.

The four legislators were from the New Orleans area, where more than half the schoolchildren attend Catholic schools.

The request came shortly after a special three-judge federal court threw out state laws aimed at retaining segregation under the state's police powers.

It takes an average 34 man hours to produce 100 bushels of U.S. corn compared with 127 man hours in 1930.

Solons Foresee Nixon in Race

Sample Opinion Shows if Ike Will Campaign, Dick Will Be Chosen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cross-section sampling of Senate Republicans and Democrats showed today most of them think that if President Eisenhower runs again Vice President Nixon will be on the GOP ticket.

Eisenhower has indicated he will give his second-term decision around March 1. If he says then he is available, there is little doubt the vice presidential nominee named at the August convention will be the man he wants.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he believes Eisenhower will want Nixon to run with him despite what Smith termed "some opposition" within the party.

"I think most of the Republican opposition to Nixon is directed at him as a possible presidential candidate, if the President doesn't run again, rather than as a vice presidential nominee," Smith said.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said he thinks there is little likelihood of any move by Eisenhower to shelve Nixon.

SAME AS '52 TICKET

Sen. Bush (R-Conn.) said in view of Eisenhower's complimentary remarks about Nixon he thinks the ticket will be the same as in 1952. Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) agreed.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said he doesn't think Eisenhower is going to run again. But if he does, the Alabama senator predicted Nixon will be his running mate.

A novel suggestion for the 1956 GOP ticket came from Sen. Long (D-La.), who reiterated his contention of a year ago that Eisenhower will not run again.

He predicted in an interview with the New Orleans States that Chief Justice Earl Warren will be the presidential nominee and that Eisenhower will run for the vice presidency so that the GOP can "get the greatest possible use out of the Eisenhower name."

46 Steps Required to Produce Angel

rate processes are needed to make rate process are needed to make the tinsel angel of Nuernberg, for years a symbol of Christmas in Germany.

The gold-leaf ornament is said to date back 300 years to a Nuernberg doll maker who lost his only child just before Christmas. In his grief he modeled an angel to which he gave the child's features and clothes of gold leaf.

Placed at the top of the Christmas tree, the angel is a chubby-faced, rosy-cheeked, and blond-haired figure with a scarf of glittering gold thread and a pleated dress with a multicolored apron.

Expectant Mom Chokes Mother

Accidentally Shoots Her in Hassle, Then Twists 'Tourniquet' on Neck

ANTIOCH, Ill. (INS)—A young expectant mother has admitted that she killed her mother-in-law during a dispute over money in the older woman's home at Lake Catherine, two miles west of Antioch.

Mrs. Maxine Jarolimiek, 33, of Island Lake, three miles west of Wauconda, said she accidentally shot her husband's mother in the head and then twisted a scarf around her neck "as a tourniquet" in an effort to stop the flow of blood.

The victim, Mrs. Irene Jarolimiek, 55, was found strangled in the front porch of her home Tuesday.

The daughter-in-law was booked on a murder charge at Waukegan. She told her story after Sheriff Stanley Christian of Lake County and his deputies found a babushka, blue jeans and shoes with spots that appeared to be blood in her home.

Maxine's husband, Jerome Jr., 33, is in Great Lakes Naval Hospital where he is being treated for a nerve ailment. She is expecting a baby next month.

Still Seek Courthouse

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Berrien County supervisors plan to get a third proposal before the public in the August primaries for funds to build a new courthouse. Proposals to build a new structure, replacing the 60-year-old St. Joseph building, twice have been defeated by voters in recent years.

Professor Will Speak

ANN ARBOR (AP)—John W. Carr, assistant professor of mathematics at the University of Michigan, will speak at the national conference of the American Management Assn. in New York Feb. 27. The conference deals with "Electronics at Work."

Most Classes Opening

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan begins this week most of the 350 classes it will offer this semester in 40 off-campus centers and communities through the state. Although some of the classes in real estate began in January, a number of eight-week courses will not begin until mid-semester.

Psychiatrist Says Sex Education Belongs in Home

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS) — A leading psychiatrist believes that sex education in the public schools is of doubtful value in preventing sexual deviation.

Dr. Karl Bowman, medical director of the Langley Porter clinic in San Francisco, says that teachers could easily communicate their own embarrassment in giving sex courses.

Dr. Bowman testified before the Oregon legislature's interim committee for the prevention of sex crimes. He said:

"A middle-aged spinster is not the best person to give sex instruction to a mixed group of children."

The best method of teaching sex, according to Dr. Bowman, is for openly—and without volunteering parents to answer frankly and unsought information—all queries on the subject from their children.

Work Makes Dream Come True

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Youth is a period of high hearts and big dreams. Sometimes we have to give up some of the big dreams as we go along. But we don't have to give them up for good; often, it is just a postponement.

I thought of that the other day when I had a quick sandwich and coffee in a nice sandwich shop in a big Midwestern city.

The couple who seemed to own the place were in their late 50s or early 60s, nice-looking people and very good-natured.

They seemed to know most of the customers by first names. Furthermore, there was the air of jollity in their shop which is rare in a big city.

During a lull between customers, I had a chance to talk to them and heard a really interesting story.

OWN THE SHOP

"Ma" and "Pa," as everybody called them, did indeed own the shop and it was their pride and joy.

"We've dreamed of having a place like this ever since we were married, nearly 30 years ago," Ma told me. "But we never could swing it, what with the depression and a family to raise. "Pa had to stay in his job, which was a good one, in a big insurance company. That's the building, over there," she said as she pointed across the avenue.

"I stayed home raising the family and pinching the pennies. We decided to save as much as we could, so that some day the sandwich shop would come to life. It was tough and go many times, but we always did manage to put a little away." Pa chipped in, "Ma was really terrific at the budget department. It was all her doing, really, I used to get discouraged and figure we'd never be able to put enough away on my salary, what with our expenses and all, but she did it."

RETIRED EARLY

"Then," Ma went on, "when Pa had a chance to retire at 60, we really did go into a huddle. You see, he could have worked until 65. "But with the children married and on their own, we decided to take our chances and open the shop. It meant risking some of our hard-earned capital, but it worked. Knock wood."

Looking around, I could see that they didn't have to knock wood. Business was terrific.

In the next lull that came up, Pa came over and said, "Best part is, I'm right in the swing of things."

"I missed the office when I first retired, so we decided to open our shop right here in the neighborhood, so that I could still see the old gang. A good sandwich shop has been needed here, too, although it took a long time to find just the right location."

"And at the right rent, too," Ma added.

I could see that she still had charge of the budget department. Most of all, I saw that dreams can come true, even if sometimes it takes a little longer than we'd like! (Copyright 1956)

Married Saturday at St. Michael Church were Gayle Ann Brown and Gerald S. Reynolds. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo I. Brown of Lenox avenue, and he is the son of Mrs. R. S. Reynolds of LaSalle avenue.

MR. and MRS. GERALD REYNOLDS

Gayle A. Brown Wears White Over Blue for Rite

Bouquets of white carnations and snapdragons decorated the altar of St. Michael Church for the Saturday wedding of Gayle Ann Brown and Gerald S. Reynolds.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo I. Brown of Lenox avenue, and he is the son of Mrs. R. S. Reynolds of LaSalle avenue.

A ballerina-length gown of white embroidered tulle over ice blue Jaffeta was chosen by the bride. Her fingertip veil was of blue nylon tulle and she carried a bouquet of blue gardenias and stephanotis.

Catherine Fisher and Mrs. Richard Deschaine were her bridesmaids. They wore ballerina-length gowns of blue crystallette with white sashes accenting the dropped waistlines.

Kathleen Brown, sister of the bride, and Tamara Fink, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. The attendants carried heart-shaped bouquets of shattered carnations and white roses.

Best man was John Ohanesian, Mark L. Beltz, Richard D. Brown, brother of the bride, and Harry W. and Harold G. Reynolds, twin brothers of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

A dress of charcoal green with brown accessories was worn by Mrs. Brown when she greeted the guests at the reception held at St. Michael Hall.

Mrs. Reynolds wore a periwinkle blue taffeta dress with black accessories. They both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

When the couple left on a motor trip through Canada, the new Mrs. Reynolds was wearing a black and white linen dress with matching accessories and the corsage of gardenias from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside in Clarkston on their return.

Every woman can look pretty in her own balliwick, whether it is the country club or church social that inspires her to look chic.

She doesn't need a large glamor budget. If she can't afford the beautician she can build her own charm. Do-it-yourself books are available that give expert advice on haircutting, pincurling, styling.

Permanent wave directions are given on kits. Books on makeup and skin care show her how to go about that important portion of her looks.

GLAMOR

What is the glamor picture for 1956?

Top hairdressers do not even agree on hair style, which gives the average woman great leeway. Long and short styles are popular.

Oriental styles are too new not to be sensational in a small community, but hairdressers predict that time will have hair styles going East, good news for the woman who still wears long hair or wants to wear it long.

Enchanting styles may be accomplished by twisting the bun in unusual fashion and fastening it with Oriental combs.

USE CHIGNON

The woman bored with short hair might use a chignon to get the same effect.

Older women might remember that no matter what hair style they choose, it should go up. As the face ages it sags, and all good beauticians prefer the up-do for older women.

Eyeshadow will be more in the limelight this year for those who like it. Emphasis goes to the corner of the eyes with mascara helping to slant the eyes upward.

Mouths remain the way the Lord made them, except if one wants an Oriental lip style, and then the center of the upper lip is filled in with little dip.

Skin is supposed to be "porcelain" or "Dresden" with every woman looking cameo-beautiful.

Perfume is no longer only for the well-heeled. Expensive brands now are available in dram size. One new perfume atomizer designed in France offers a special perfume for purse carrying with a leak-proof atomizer to guarantee that every drop may be used.

Wherever you look women are both well-dressed and well-dressed. The thing you want to avoid is a tight fit across that area, outside help, a little patience at this season so many panel devices the vanity table can achieve very flattering figures.

Bulkless front detail will conceal the tummy but avoid the flat-pulled-front fit. Sarong draped front panel is good.

A sheath with side panels or softly wrapped front panel section will conceal that tummy more charmingly. It is good bulge. The thing you want to avoid is a tight fit across that area, outside help, a little patience at this season so many panel devices the vanity table can achieve very flattering figures.

MR. and MRS. MUNRO C. LAWTON

Beverly Waldbillig Weds in Ceremony at All Saints

In a double-ring ceremony performed Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church by the Rev. C. George Widdfield, Beverly J. Waldbillig became the bride of Munro C. Lawton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bunce of Navajo drive and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement H. Lawton of Caseville.

As the bride approached the altar she was wearing a waltz-length gown of white Rose Pointe lace and nylon tulle over ice-blue satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice. A port stand-up collar and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented with sunburst effect of lace on tulle over layers of nylon net.

Her fingertip veil was secured by a smart half-hat of iridescent sequins and pearls on lace. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and carnations.

Sandra Kay Bunce, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of sky blue crystallette in a waltz-length with which she wore a tiny pearl-edged hat of matching material. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

Charlotte McManus and Bonnie English were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns and matching hats of tulip pink crystallette were fashioned identically to those of the maid of honor. Blue carnations and white chrysanthemums were used in their colonial bouquets.

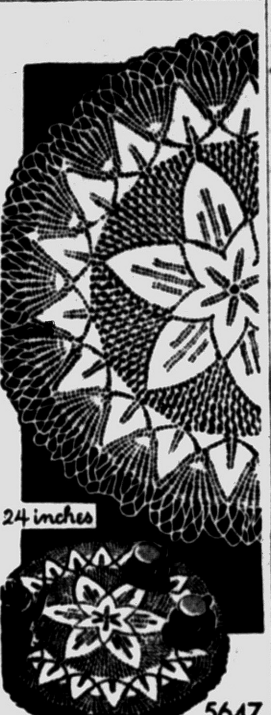

Ronald McCormick served as best man. Seating the guests were C. William Perkins and Richard Pattison, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A pink and blue color scheme was carried out in the floral arrangements and the appointments of the bride's table at the reception held immediately following the ceremony in the Rose Knole Room of Stevens Hall.

When Mrs. Bunce received her guests she was wearing a navy blue silk shantung dress with white trim and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Lawton chose a dressmaker suit of navy blue faille with white accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also a white orchid.

Following a honeymoon trip in Florida the newlyweds will make their home in Caseville.

Marjie Courtney to Become Bride

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Courtney of Harper street announced the engagement of their daughter, Marjie, to Richard R. McVicker of Royal Oak at a party held in their home Sunday. The occasion also marked the 36th wedding anniversary of the Courtneys.

Mr. McVicker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McVicker of Royal Oak. The couple has announced Sept. 1 as the date of the wedding.

Those present included the McVickers, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McVicker and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Eastman, all of Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. John G. McVicker of Hazel Park; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Courtney of Drayton Plains and F. A. Courtney of Vallejo, Calif.

arrival at the City Club Wednesday evening. The third Wednesday of each month is observed as Ladies Night at the club, with cocktails preceding the buffet dinner.

Business before pleasure for those who know Robert Oliver. Caught by the photographer catching a quick snack rather than waiting for the dinner planned for "Ladies' Night" at the City Club, Mr. Oliver tells Mrs. Oliver of the school board meeting he must attend. Also a member of the board of directors of the City Club, he helped plan the Ladies' Night affairs, which are held the third Wednesday evening of each month.

A strolling accordion player delighted members and guests at Pontiac City Club Wednesday evening. Relaxing and enjoying music before dinner were (left to right) Donald King and Mrs. King, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold King.

Members and guests who attended the Ladies' Night activities at the City Club Wednesday evening found it an excellent opportunity to relax, enjoy the music of the strolling accordion player and just chat, before the buffet

Every Day Is Holiday in Florida

Miami Vacationers Enjoy Festivities of All Sorts

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI—Every day is a holiday here in sunny Florida, with some kind of show, opening or sporting event going on all the time. Distinguished visitors from near and far constantly stream into the Miami area to join in the fun.

Huge benefit dinner dances marked the pre-Lenten days. Tuesday the Jewel Ball was held at the Eden Roc Hotel to benefit the Heart Association, and on Monday evening about 600 guests attended the St. Francis Hospital benefit party at the Surf Club.

The Miami's Junior League recently drew 650 members and guests to the Fontainebleau Hotel for its annual "Gala in the Sun," a dinner-dance highlighted by a fashion show.

In the meantime people are traveling here and there. The Benjamin Jeromes left their Fort Lauderdale apartment the other day for a trip to Hawaii. They're not expected back until the last of March.

The Russell Eames arrived Wednesday from Michigan for an extended stay in Hollywood.

TO TOUR FLORIDA

Later on this month, the Edwin Whipples will be touring Florida. They'll spend part of their time in Clearwater where her mother lives.

GM Motorama drew big crowds right up to the very last day. Among those inspecting the cars of tomorrow were the Elmer Wall-schlagers and the Roy Maurers.

The Maurers drove down from Vero Beach to spend a few days with the Wallschlagers in Fort Lauderdale, and the four-some headed for Miami to take in the Motorama, the Antique Show—and the opening of the new Jordan Marsh store.

The new store is quite an attraction, even to blasé Miami-ans—it's probably the only department store with a cocktail lounge and with its own boat docks. Instead of "let's hop in the car and go shopping," boat owners can now say "let's hop in the boat and go shopping."

Later this month, the Wallschlagers will travel northward to pick up the Maurers and then head across the state to Englewood to visit Marvin and Marge Sholar of Pontiac for a week.

Sorority Hears Talk on Jewels

A talk on diamonds was given by Stanton Deyo to members of the Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi when they met at the Hotel Waldron Tuesday evening. A question and answer period followed Mr. Deyo's discussion.

A report on the City Council meeting was given by Mrs. Park Buchner and Phi Chapter was selected to prepare the program for the Founders' Day Banquet April 25.

The group planned a progressive dinner for Feb. 28. Members preparing different courses for the affair include Mrs. E. L. Sturdy, Mrs. H. G. Richardson, Mrs. Donald Rosie Jr. and Mrs. Thomas Ogden.

Mrs. William Killian, Mrs. James Burlingame, Mrs. Mable Roat, Mrs. Cecil Elshalz, Mrs. Carol Ball and Mrs. Buchner are others.

Mrs. Roat and Mrs. Buchner were selected to represent Phi Chapter at the March 15 meeting of the Greater Pontiac Advisory Council.

Initiation Held by Trabajamas on Wednesday

A candlelight ceremony with the reading of the constitution was held at the formal initiation of pledges into Trabajamas at the home of Joan Richards on Le-Baron avenue Wednesday evening.

The initiation was the first occasion for presiding of the newly elected officers.

Jeanette Cockle is president; Joan Richards, vice president; Margaret Selvala, secretary; Dolores Lutskiw, treasurer, and Linda Burt, corresponding secretary.

Helen Prizant will handle club publicity. Maria Cosma is historian, Myra Goens, chaplain, and Barbara Kenny and Muriel Upton, sergeants-at-arms.

The girls who recited the club pledge and were accepted into membership were Mary Chastain, Virginia Flowers, Sherry Norman, Joy Notch, Mary Lou Tibbets, Terri Fortino, Ann Hamilton, Sophia Skinner, Ellen Wagner and Gail Seidrick.

JEANETTE COCKLE

Virginia Flowers, Sherry Norman, Joy Notch, Mary Lou Tibbets, Terri Fortino, Ann Hamilton, Sophia Skinner, Ellen Wagner and Gail Seidrick.

Mrs. Forrest E. Brown served as leader. Mrs. Harold R. Sching-eck and Mrs. Ernest Taylor were welcomed as guests, and Mrs. L. E. Lacy had charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Joseph Panter, parliamentarian emeritus, conducted the question box.

Pictures Viewed by Plymouth Group

The Plymouth Group of the First Congregational Church met Wednesday evening in the home of Ethel Lynn Peterson on East Huron street. Evelyn Russell assisted the hostess.

Mrs. George Gaches presided at the meeting, following which Mrs. Janet Dow showed pictures of Scotland.

Guests present included Mrs. Howard Hatfield, Mrs. Dan Kinney, Mrs. Louella Muirhead, Mrs. Lawrence Rutledge and Phyllis Pope.

Coming Events

Pontiac Women's Club will meet Monday at 2 p.m. at the YWCA.

Hospital Work Discussed

A new hospital program was the topic of discussion Wednesday evening when Bemis-Olsen Amvets Auxiliary met at the post home on Oakland avenue. Attention was focused on the Saginaw Veterans Hospital.

Mrs. Robert Adsit, president, announced that students from Lincoln Junior High School have been chosen as the post's participants in the

Saybrook Group Meets at Kutz Home

Saybrook Group of the First Congregational Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Karl Kutz on Liberty street. Assisting her as hostesses were Mrs. Wayne deBeauclair and Mrs. Carl Weber. Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. Kutz' mother, was a guest.

Mrs. Howard McIntyre gave the devotion. The program was in charge of Mrs. Arthur Selden who described life in Pontiac in its early days.

The group voted to give a donation to the fund for purchasing new dishes for the church dining room.

Americanism contest sponsored by the Department of Michigan Amvets Auxiliary.

Theme of the contest is "Consider the Blessings of Freedom." Prizes will be awarded winners by the auxiliary, with first place winner taking part in statewide competition.

Members of the post joined the auxiliary in a buffet supper following the meeting.

Mrs. Mable Tedder and Mrs. Robert Jenkins were guests of the group.

Lynn Allen Talks to Amvets Auxiliary

Lynn D. Allen, county clerk, was guest speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of Jimmy Dey Post Amvets Auxiliary held at the YWCA. Mr. Allen discussed county government and Americanism.

Announcement was made of the Amvets' annual Midwinter Ball being held at Glen Oaks Country Club on Feb. 25. The Charter Dinner to be given in May and a telephone card party planned for March were also discussed.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Stewart Houghton and Mrs. Arthur Torrey.

JANE ANN KOHR

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franz Kohr of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ann, to Lt. James Hanlen Kinzer Jr. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kinzer of Demopolis, Ala. Jane graduated from the University of Michigan and he is a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy.

Conducts Meeting

Chapter CL, PEO sisterhood, met recently at the home of Mrs. Mar-tin Wager of the Dixie highway view.

Among the passengers aboard the SS Lurline en route to Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jerome of Dow Ridge road. They sailed from San Francisco Feb. 10.

Nixon Blasted by Touring Adlai

Dem Candidate Raps Administration Policies in Idaho Speech

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson takes his campaign for the presidency into Utah today after a one-night Idaho stand in which he blasted Vice President Nixon as an "all-purpose politician" in the service of the Republican Party.

Stevenson, who seeks the Democratic presidential nomination, told a Boise audience that Republicans have failed to grasp the significance of a changing way of life in the 20th century.

The Eisenhower administration looks upon farmers, workers and consumers as "customers and wards of a remote, benevolent authority—not participants," he said.

CHARGES FAILURES

Saving his hardest punches for Nixon, with whom he tangled frequently in the 1952 campaign, Stevenson accused the Republican administration of failures in farm and fiscal policies over the past three years and predicted they would lose in November.

The candidate was dined in the Basque style at a $3-a-plate Lenten dinner served by Basques—originally sheep herders who came to this country from Spain in the last century and have formed a large colony in Boise.

Later he had a private meeting with Idaho's Democratic leaders and party members.

Stevenson told some 700 in Boise's South Junior High School gym that Nixon is an "all-purpose politician" who uses "socialism" as an "all-purpose word to vilify New Deal Democratic programs and applaud the same things when they have a Republican label."

"What a wonderful all-purpose word this 'socialize' is in the hands of this all-purpose politician who can proclaim an old Democratic program as good when it wears a new Republican label and denounce it as socialism at the same time," he said.

Perle Mesta Rumored as Ambassador to Italy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I got a simple little letter the other day—no news, no gossip, no Big Names—from Emil Paukovec, a reader in Russell, Pa., which made the Glamour Beat seem dull.

"A very touching sight greeted me the other morning," he wrote, "as I looked out my window and saw two small boys, one about 6, the other about 8, tugging at the frozen body of their pet mongrel dog which apparently had been killed by a car. They would tug and drag a while, then stop and lift its lifeless head and pet it and speak to it. I had an uncontrollable lump in my throat as I hurriedly turned away."

A certain Hollywood producer, says Tony Pettito, told his secretary, "My trouble is, I don't have time to do half the things I do!"... When Thunderbird owners loftily ask the Embers doorman, Chris, whether he can drive their car, he says, "Oh, sure—I can drive a Ford."

Perle Mesta for Ambassador to Italy? "Twas whispered as a possibility at Earl Blackwell's black-tie party for Perle at Eden Roc. Howard Lindsay, co-author of "Call Me Madam," which lampooned Perle, paid her a tribute. He said she graciously entertained him in Luxembourg, then asked what the script (already finished) was about. "I thought of Irving Berlin and Russel Crouse, my associates, and my bank balance," he added, "and didn't tell her." He added, "She is quite a gal!"

Tennessee Williams tells of visiting Tallulah Bankhead in Miami (before she brought "Streetcar" to NY) and how she urged him not to leave. The phone rang—she took it in another room—he overheard her saying, "Tennessee's here. I've been trying to get him to leave for hours but he won't go!"

Perry Como wanted to go to confession. To save time, he asked his music publisher Mickey Glass (who worships in synagogues) to hold a place in line for him. Glass did but demanded, "What'm I gonna do if the father gets to me and you're not here yet?"

Diana Barrymore's leaving the sanatorium this week. Claims she's licked alcoholism already... Russ Brown, the "manager" in "Damn Yankees," has whipped pneumonia. Conrad Hilton'll turn over the Wash'n Mayflower and NY Roosevelt to Bostonian A. M. Sonnabend.

Ava Gardner's adopted Spain's late dining habits; even sleeps most of the day. Actress Ramsey Ames (of "Alexander the Great") tells of phoning Ava one evening to invite her to a flamenco party at 11. "I'll get up and have my coffee," said Ava, "and come over."

Comedians Henny Youngman and Buddy Hackett reunited at the Copa (where Hackett's in the bright new show with Vic Damone). Hackett, married to a mambo teacher, said, "I went to take a lesson—and I'm getting it." Youngman told Hackett he'd been hit by a Volkswagen. "I had to go to a doctor and have it removed."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Herb Shriner hopes his hour variety show next season'll be on Friday just ahead of Ed Murrow. "Good spot to get a rating," he figures... Due to a mixup about Rhonda Fleming's singing on the Perry Como show, she's to be brought back again with a big hurrah. When a friend said he hadn't heard her sing Saturday night, Rhonda said, "Good!"

Ike's former Army cook, Marty Snyder—just back from Washington—claims that if the medics give the President a 50-50 chance of complete recovery he'll run again... George Raft's readying a cafe act with six girls... A famed actress who's taking a drunk cure gives cocktail parties at the sanatorium... Cleo Moore's getting sedate; no more busy publicity photos... Joan Crawford's niece, Joan Crawford Lowe, teamed with Joe Howard Jr., son of the songwriter, in a night club act.

Lena Horne and Lennie Hayden will buy a home on the French Riviera; a N.Y. town house is too expensive... Donald O'Connor met his fiancée, Gloria Nobel, when she came to babysit for the O'Connors... Elsa Maxwell may be the next celebrity to sue a scandal mag.

Doris Lilly may fly to Las Vegas to visit Frank Parker, an old pal... Pat Marshall's stage door Johnny at "Mr. Wonderful" is gag writer Larry Gelbart... Morty Gunty tells of the lush who was bedridden recovering from a bad case of Scotch.

EARL'S PEARLS... "The first lesson in the art of self-defense is to keep your glasses on."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "At some parties, once the ice is broken, the dishes and furniture are the next to go."—Mort Lawrence.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Music arranger Morty Stevens told a pest, "Why don't you phone me some time—so I can hang up on you!"

Bob Olin met a guy who definitely believes in reincarnation. In fact, in his life insurance policy he names himself as beneficiary. That's earl, brother.

Fish Bringing Top Buys for 1st Lenten Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fish gets top billing this week in food stores and supermarkets across the nation.

Seafood for Lenten menus is as plentiful as ever, there are plenty of varieties to choose from and prices are moderate to low. In general, halibut is the top favorite in West Coast stores while Flounder, swordfish and cod head the popularity parade in eastern markets. That's the way consumer preferences run, according to market specialists.

Beefsteaks will find bargains this week-end. Sirloin steaks are down 4 to 6 cents a pound in some cities. One chain is featuring boneless leg of veal this week at the lowest price since last September.

Food analysts say beef prices are off a shade at wholesale this week (about 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent a pound) but not enough to affect the retail price.

Outstanding buys in produce are rather scarce. Many of the more popular fruit and vegetable items are not in season. There are still a few excellent bargains, however. Onions, white potatoes and salad greens are listed as outstanding buys this week by the Department of Agriculture, while turnips, pascal celery, sweet potatoes and cabbage are rated in the "good buy" category.

Good buys in fruits are confined pretty much to apples, oranges, tangerines and grapefruits.

Coffee prices are still heading higher. The more popular brands of vacuum-packed coffee have climbed as much as 5 cents a pound since the start of February and several major supermarket chains are hiking prices of their private label coffees 2 to 4 cents a pound this week.

There's still an awful lot of coffee in Brazil, but shortages have developed in some of the fancier types.

House Probers Call 3 to Stand

Inquiry of Un-American Groups in Government Continues in D. C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities called in three more witnesses today in its search for Communist infiltration of the government in past years.

The committee listed those subpoenaed as Sylvia Oloff Steinberg, New York City; Marcel Kistin, Weymouth, Mass.; and Henry Rhine, New Albany, Ind.

In testimony before the committee earlier this week, James E. Gorham, New York, had named among others he said he had known as members of Communist cells in the government in the 1930s a Sylvia Soloff, a Marcel Kistin and a Henry Rhine. He said he had lost track of them.

Gorham has been the only one among the first six witnesses in the current phase of the hearings to talk freely.

The others have invoked the fifth amendment's guarantees against possible self-incrimination in refusing to answer questions about Communist affiliation while they were in government service.

Two witnesses yesterday—Morris Levine, Chicago, and Irving Richer, Detroit—said they are not now Communists, but both declined to say whether they had been a day earlier or any time in the past.

A third witness, Bertha Blair, 59, New York City, refused to say whether she now is a Communist or ever has been. She said she worked for the government from 1929 to 1949 but refused to name the agencies.

Chairman, Mr. Charles McNinch, declined to answer on the grounds of possible self-incrimination. "Miss Blair kept repeating,"

Girl Clerk Outbluffs Growling Robber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A red-haired bank teller outbluffed a would-be bank robber in a mid-town branch of the Bank of America yesterday.

The robber walked up to the cage where Marilyn Dinubilo was working and demanded: "I want fives, tens and twenties."

Miss Dinubilo decided the pistol he laid on the counter wasn't real. She slammed her cash drawer shut, jumped away from the counter and exclaimed: "I'm sorry. I haven't any money."

The robber hesitated, then put the gun in his pocket and hurried from the bank.

Hollywood Headlines:

New Star Shirley Jones Prefers East to Filmworld

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now it's Cinderella girl Shirley Jones who says she has no yen to live in California.

If this trend keeps up, the Chamber of Commerce could end up with an inferiority complex.

BACK TO NEW YORK

Shirley, who looks as packed with vitamins as a glass of orange juice (maybe that'll keep the C. of C. happy), was here on a whirlwind trip to pick up an award or two. But she planned to hustle right back to New York.

I intercepted her in her hotel suite and asked her about this affair to the Sunshine State. The beautiful blonde batted her eyelashes and replied innocently, "Oh, I'm growing to like California more each time I visit here. But I wouldn't want to live here. I like New York much better."

To add to the blow, she remarked that movies were never her prime ambition.

"I always wanted to be a stage star," she explained. "I never gave much thought to movies."

MOVIES FIRST

Paradoxically, she became a movie star first. When she left her home town of Smithton, Pa., to assault the big city, she auditioned for Rodgers and Hammerstein. They were so entranced with the young doll that they signed her to Mrs. Homer Peterson is chairman of the event with Mrs. Edward Sundwell and Mrs. Harry Miller, co-chairmen.

Each home room will sponsor a booth and dinner will be served cafeteria-style, beginning at 4:30.

Listed as some of the attractions are a talent show, dog act, tumbling act, movies, a toy shop, game rooms, a country store, white elephant, fancy work, pony rides and snack bar.

A nursery will be provided for youngsters.

Brandon Township

The regular PTA meeting for Brandon Township Schools will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the gymnasium.

Specific questions on the proposed bond issue and new school buildings will be brought before the group. John W. Thomas, school attorney, and Bruce Smith, architect, will be present to discuss the bonds, taxes and building plans.

Wixom

Philip A. Hart, Lt. Governor of Michigan, will speak at the PTA meeting here at 8 p.m. next Thursday, Feb. 23. The talk was previously announced erroneously as slated for tonight.

Lt. Gov. Hart's speech will deal with the hospitalization program for mentally retarded children in the state. Township road conditions will also be discussed, with E. E. Schaffer, chairman of the Commerce Township Road Committee, present.

2 Radio Operators Ask Zoning Change

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—Ben Faberman and John Lione, who will be owners and full time operators of the proposed local radio station, appeared before the Township Board to ask permission to change zoning of all but one acre strip along Lahser Road.

Plans call for three 235-foot-high towers with 15 foot square bases, these to be in a straight line and will provide 10 to 15 square miles of reception with the best reception within a seven mile radius.

The station is aimed at supplying local news. Approval of a site by the FCC is granted on a basis of local need and availability of open space in the airwaves. The request was transferred to the Planning Commission.

190 to Attend Banquet for Fathers, Daughters

ROCHESTER—One hundred and ninety dads and daughters are expected to attend the banquet at St. Paul's Methodist Church this evening at 6:30.

A patriotic theme to celebrate George Washington's birthday has been arranged for the banquet tables.

Members from the Episcopal, Methodist, and Congregational Churches will meet first for an informal refreshment period. At 8 the film on the life of Paul "Years of Apprenticeship" will be shown.

Following the film the Rev. E. John Yuels will lead the Bible Study on the writings of Paul. Each of the cooperating churches have copies of the Bible Study Text which are available free.

The Bible Study Book is James T. Carlyon's "Getting Acquainted with the New Testament."

VELD E. BLUE

Lathrup to Get Post Office

Name Veld E. Blue as Acting Postmaster; to Look for Quarters

LATHRUP—After months of investigation, the Federal government has decided to locate a post office at the city of Lathrup Village in Oakland County. Representative George A. Dondero declared today.

He also stated that Veld E. Blue, a resident of Lathrup Village for a number of years, will be named as acting postmaster. Blue has been the director of personnel for the Chrysler Corporation for 10 years.

The new post office at Lathrup will provide improved mail service and give some relief to the overburdened post office in Birmingham, which is now serving Lathrup Village. It is expected that postal service in Lathrup Village will begin as soon as quarters can be obtained.

No rapid development in Southfield Township and other nearby districts may necessitate the establishment of more postal facilities.

Herman F. Luhrs of 27315 Rainbow Circle, Lathrup Village, is chairman of a civic committee which promoted the application for the new post office.

By JULIE V. HUTCHINS

KEEGO HARBOR—The fortieth anniversary of the Keego-Cass Women's Club is being celebrated this month with meetings in an enlarged, completely renovated and modernized club house.

The remodeled club house has a large assembly room, powder room, modern kitchen and utility room and a new heating system. The walls of the assembly room are paneled and a tile floor has been laid throughout the building.

The job was done under the supervision of the building committee, appointed by Mrs. J. W. Walter, president. The committee consisted of Mrs. Royal Pazik, Mrs. Frederick Laffrey, Mrs. Louise Cline and Mrs. Julius Kindel. The work was done by a local contractor.

In February, 1916, a group of twelve ladies of the Keego Harbor, Cass Lake area organized a club, which they called the Ladies Aid Society. Their chief purpose was to do welfare work in the community.

Their first president was Mrs. George Lillycrop and at the present time the club lists twenty-three Past Presidents.

BUY CASS LAKE SITE

At the time of their organization and for many years after, needlecraft was the chief club activity. The women held two bazaars every year and the proceeds were used for welfare work. Bake sales, card parties and dances were also held and by 1926 they had enough money to purchase a piece of property on Cass Lake Rd.

In 1927 they became affiliated with the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs. In 1928, the name of the organization was changed to Keego Cass Women's Club and it was at this time that they became affiliated with the Pontiac City Federation of Women's Clubs.

In the meantime, the personnel of the club had completely changed. Of the twelve charter members, only one, Mrs. Allie M. Webb remained. Mrs. Webb was an active member until the time of her death in 1953.

LONG SERVICE

Other active members who have seen long service with the club are: Mrs. William McCracken 37 years, Mrs. Frederick Laffrey, 33 years, Mrs. Royal Pazik, 28 years, Mrs. Lena Watkins, 26 years, and Mrs. John Bechill, 25 years.

During this time, the custom of sending flowers and baskets of fruit to the sick people in the community continued. At Thanksgiving and Christmas they gave baskets to needy families.

For many years the slogan of the club had been "Build a Club House" and in 1931 construction of a club house on the Cass Lake Road property was accomplished.

In 1934 the club undertook a project to make their club of service to the community and this became the sponsors of a public library in their building. The library was opened in June 1934 with several hundred books on its shelves. It met with an immediate response from the residents and continued in operation until 1939 when the demand for new books could no longer be supplied.

START LIBRARY

A library committee circulated petitions throughout West Bloomfield Township asking for a vote to establish a township library. The vote was favorable and the West Bloomfield Township Library was organized but the club continued to house a branch of the new library until 1947 when it moved to a more convenient location.

In 1941 the debt on the first club house was paid and the mortgage burned with appropriate ceremonies.

The officers for the present year are as follows: Mrs. Walter, president; Mrs. Lucien Allison, vice president; Mrs. Wright Madill, recording secretary; Mrs. Randal Wilson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Stickley, treasurer; Mrs. Julius Kindel, auditor and Mrs. Frederick Laffrey, parliamentarian.

CLUBHOUSE NOW READY — The Keego Cass Women's enlarged and modernized clubhouse on Cass Lake Rd. is being examined by (left to right) Mrs. Elise Mason, Mrs. John Bechill, club members, and Mrs. J. W. Walter, president. The Dutch doors lead to a modern yellow kitchen with flowered curtains.

TROY—The Troy Dad's Auxiliary meets at 7:30 p.m. tonight, at the high school. Women will reveal their secret pals and draw for new ones.

A "Traveling Basket" will be started and refreshments will be served.

Board Plans Special Meeting

Members to Cover 5 Points of Discussion in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — A special open meeting of the Township Board has been scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 23, at 8 p.m. at the Township Hall. The agenda of the evening will include the following points of discussion:

1. Plan covering Section 24 between 10 and 11 Mile Roads, between Greenfield and Southfield Roads.
2. School site requirements as outlined by Geer Associates.
3. Plat revision and subdivision planning and design as recommended by the Planning Commission.
4. Acceptance of the zoning map, which at this time is nothing more than the old map with new street names and subdivisions brought up-to-date.

When the Planning Commission is ready to plan the new zoning map showing new zoning it will call meetings of each section of the township at which time those interested may discuss the proposed changes prior to actual action on the changes taking place.

5. Consideration of a report on conditions for loaning services of the planning consultant.

Petition to Annex Area to Royal Oak

MADISON HEIGHTS — Lipton Spoon Shacket Homeowner's Assn., has filed petition to annex a two-mile-square area of Madison Heights to Royal Oak.

The area, which is from 12 Mile to 14 Mile west from Stevenson to Campbell, has an estimated valuation of $1,200,000.

Mayor Lloyd H. Ferguson said this morning there is little chance for the annexation because the rest of the city would probably outvote the 400 voters in the two square mile section.

The petition, bearing over 700 signatures of Royal Oak and Madison Heights residents, has been sent to the Board of Supervisors. Boundaries Committee to determine legality.

New Hudson Coach Firm Marks 25th Anniversary

NEW HUDSON — The Vagabond Coach Manufacturing Co. here recently celebrated its 25th year as a manufacturer of mobile-homes. The occasion was climaxed with the unveiling of Vagabond's latest "first," a "Traveler Trailer," self-contained traveling unit with built-in septic tank, water storage, gas, lights, and easy-hauling device.

Chief Briefs Commerce Staff for Fire Action

COMMERCE — Fire Chief Ray Price and his assistant Clarence Kuttikuhn have been instructing members of the Commerce Township fire department on what to do and what to expect in the event of fire at the Guided Missile range.

An installation of the United States Army, the range is located on Wise Road between Carroll Lake and Union Lake Roads in Commerce Township.

Both Price and Kuttikuhn toured the range recently noting carefully the best procedure to follow in case of a fire.

The Unfinished Task Slated at Brooklands

BROOKLANDS—Scheduled for showing Sunday at Gethsemane Lutheran Church in Brooklands is the new feature-length movie, "The Unfinished Task," latest film production of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The movie is part of the Synod's "Venture of Faith" effort, an emphasis upon the Christian Church's primary purpose to evangelize the world.

Gethsemane's pastor, the Rev. Norman Kuck, says there will be two showings Sunday morning at the church, beginning at 8:30 and 10:45 during the regular worship hours. Bible Class for the day will be cancelled.

It is planned that separate showing will be made at a later date to the Sunday School. All showings are open to the public.

St. Paul Church Votes for Site

Decide Unanimously for Property on Romeo Street

ROCHESTER—Nearly 150 members of St. Paul's Methodist Church voted 128 to 15 for the purchase of an eight acre site known as the James Keith property on Romeo Street for a new church.

The land has been under option at a price of $30,000 since the first week in February.

It was presented to the Official Board of the church by co-chairmen of the Building Committee, Jacob C. Judson and H. B. Little. The district superintendent, Arthur Smith, presided at the Tuesday meeting.

Pastor of St. Paul, the Rev. Kenneth Burgess, stated that the building committee was authorized to go ahead with building plans including an architect.

AND IT CAME FROM A PULLET — An egg that dwarfs its normal-size sister is compared by Mrs. Bernal Pacer of Clarkston and the chicken that "did the damage." The look of "Did I do that?" on the young hen's face testifies that the monster weighs six ounces, which is mighty hefty for any egg. Mrs. Pacer says she's raised chickens for 26 years and the seven-inch-round egg is the largest she's ever seen. Clucks the proud creator, "In our chicken language, it's the mostest."

Swaps Enter Race? No One Knows

ARCADIA, Calif. (U) — The on-again, off-again return to racing of Swaps tomorrow remained in the speculative stage today. Trainer Meshach Tenney was expected to drop Swaps' name in the entry box this morning for the $15,000 feature at Santa Anita tomorrow, a mile and one-sixteenth over-night styled the Los Angeles County Handicap.

Presumably it will be Swaps' last chance for a formal race before the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap Feb. 25.

Fourteen other horses, among them such outstanding handicap threats as Bobby Brocato and Traffic Judge, are also expected to be in tomorrow's field.

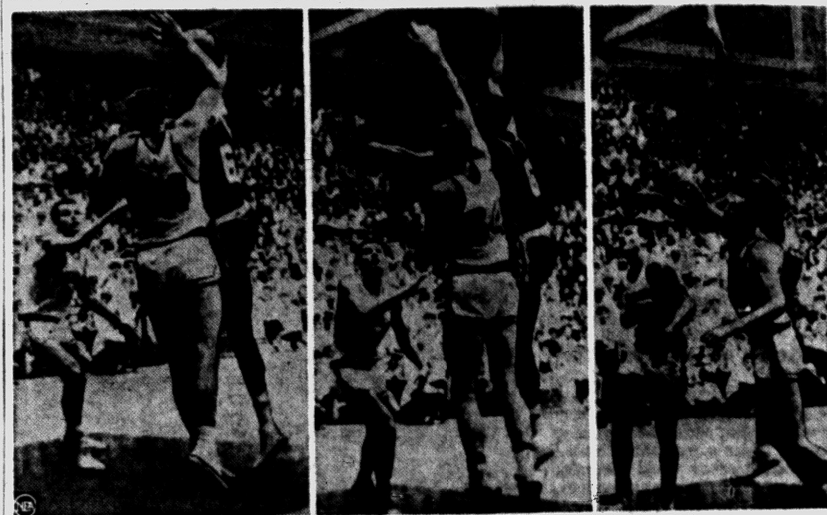

Eastern States Prep Tournament Suspended

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (U) — The Eastern States High School Basketball Tournament has been suspended because of opposition from the State Education Department.

Francis McGinley, chairman of the sponsoring committee, said yesterday the department was opposed to participation of New York teams in such tournaments. Normally about half of the eight teams entered in the tournament, usually held in late March, have been New York schools.

Don Newcombe of the Dodgers walked only 38 batters in the 1955 season.

SVC Place Battle Tightens

WHAT GOES UP never seems to come down when Bill Russell of San Francisco bounces around. At left, Russell starts wheeling for a pivot shot as California defender goes up with him. Center, Russell still is climbing as his opponent starts to come down. And at right, he's all alone, head and shoulders over the rest, as he follows through.

Pancho Keeps Winning

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (U) — Pancho Gonzales scored his 29th victory over Tony Trabert here last night 6-2, 6-4 as the two aces continued their showdown on Jack Kramer's world championship tennis tour.

Signs Contract

Bullpen Okay for Gromek

DETROIT (U) — Steve Gromek, 36-year-old righthander, has signed his 1956 contract with the Detroit Tigers and says he's willing to be a relief pitcher.

Gromek posted a 13-10 record last year but wilted in the summer months. Near the end of the season he turned in two brilliant relief performances and Manager Bucky Harris says he may send the veteran to the bullpen early this season. "Anything's okay by me," said Gromek, "it doesn't take me long to get ready; either to start or relieve."

CHICAGO (U) — Loyola avenged an early season licking, leading form start to finish, to whip Western Michigan 68-62 last night in a non-conference basketball contest.

Big 10 Cagers Hold '55 Rate for Personals

Study Shows Average Per Game About 38.6 Fouls

CHICAGO (U) — Big 10 basketball officials still have as much breath to toot their whistles this season as they did last year.

A study of personal fouls by the conference shows that so far this year the average number called is 38.6 per game. In 1955 the average was 38.65.

The study also shows there is little distinction in tooting against visiting teams and home clubs. The number of fouls on home teams is 38.6 compared to 38.6 for the visitors. Home teams have won 22 games and visitors 17.

Furman Cager in NCAA Point Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
When Illinois shut off Ohio State's Robin Freeman with only 12 points last weekend, it was the first time in six years any national individual scoring leader had been shown such disdain in major college basketball.

What's more, the unfrocking was perpetrated before a national television audience as Paul Judson and Bill Ridley of the Illini collaborated in knocking Freeman out of the scoring lead.

Freeman looked like a good bet to become the first national scoring king to emerge from the Western Conference. But his 33.9 points a game average was shaved to 32.2 in today's listing by the NCAA Service Bureau while Furman's Darrell Floyd moved back to the top at 33.8.

Victory Friday Over Bay City 'Must' for PHS

Central, Northern Fives Collide in Spotlit Engagement

Saginaw Valley's hottest basketball title race in many years Friday gets down to the critical stage Friday night when all contenders will be in action.

Chief attention, outside the local interest, is focused upon the Flint Central and Northern encounter on the big IMA court in Flint.

This will be the second big meeting of the two top clubs, Central having edged the Vikings, 59-58, on Jan. 6. Indians are again favored to retain their lead, which they now share with their home-town rivals. The other Valley tilt Friday is Arthur Hill at Saginaw.

Chiefs will be at Bay City Central, and Friday's tilt is rated a "must" for Coach Art Van Ryzin's outfit. Pontiac must win over the Wolfpack (PHS dumped the upstarters 76-50 in the last game), if it is to retain any chance of staying in the race. Wolves beat Saginaw Tuesday night, 83-78, and off this effort promise to give Chiefs a red hot scrap.

Pontiac runs into another small gymnasium on the Bay City trip, but has never been bothered very much on that floor, like the trouble experienced at Highland Park this week.

Wolf starters will be Carl Proffer (6-1) and John Kraft (6 foot) at forwards; Harold (5-11) center; Jim Chasney and Chuck Crumpton at guards. Bay City alternates were named as follows: Don Kanicki Wayne Gwisdele and Jerry Ebright.

Van Ryzin wasn't certain of one guard spot, but his other "regulars", Willie Dewalt, Rod Treals, Hudson Ray and Larry Peet, were set to go.

Varsity game starts at 8:15, Jayvees at 6:30 p.m.

West Virginia trainer, A. C. (Whitey) Gwynne coached the Mountaineers' only unbeaten wrestling team in 1936 when WU won all seven meets.

From In Birmingham The Its Moms, Dads Who Take Bows

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When it comes to building an athletic program for youngsters, the Moms and Dads of Birmingham, some 350 strong can take their bows.

The well co-ordinated Little League Baseball program and rapidly growing Little Football League, made possible strictly through the efforts of the citizens themselves, have taken a mammoth task off the shoulders of Birmingham's recreation department as well as the school board.

This task, according to a survey of age groups in the school district, is providing seasonal recreation for a majority of the 2,000 boys in the pre-junior high school age levels 9 through 12.

Baseball for the Little Leaguers started in Michigan with one of its first leagues in Birmingham five years ago. Since then it has developed in that city from one league to three, the American, National and Federal. The latter organized last year.

PEAK REACHED IN 1955 WITH 700 BOYS

The peak of its short existence was reached last year when more than 700 boys participated in 12 "major league" teams, 18 "minor league" and six T-boy leagues.

All at a cost to the city of a mere $800 for keeping up the diamonds.

Including managers, coaches, umpires, score keepers and others who just wanted to help out, this enormous program existed because of 250 parents.

Last year a similar program was undertaken in football, entirely separate of the baseball organization with another 100 citizens giving time and effort.

More than 247 boys turned out for the Little Football League which had two teams, a varsity and junior varsity competing in the Jack Lowther Football League of Michigan.

Only 84 uniforms, completely outfitted were available, leaving 160 boys just hoping till next year. Well, that year has arrived and an additional 80 boys will get the opportunity to play for one of three Little Football League teams.

THE MOMS KNOW HOW TO GET THE MONEY

How was the money raised to get equipment and uniforms for a total of nearly 1,000 boys?

Both organizations can easily show a breakdown. The Moms of Little League Baseball youngsters go out and raise $3,500 each year. When the third league started last year the finances went down to an almost bankrupt $39.00. But the Moms put on their walking shoes and the sum now shows $3,040.

"It's amazing the help you get from all of the parents," said Boyd Simmons, president of the Birmingham League.

Football started through private contributions of $3,800. Total receipts after the first year showed $8,631.92. Parents donated $1,116, business gave $2,048, tag day produced $442, advertising netted $400 and sale of game programs accounted for $39.71.

Total expenses showed $4,626.03, leaving another $4,000 available to expand the 1956 program.

Mel Lindquist, president, and Dick Sauerbrun, general manager, of the Little Football League, give the primary reason for the success, "community co-operation."

ODDS AND ENDS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Speaking of the Little Football League, Southfield is planning an entry next season with the co-operation of the Optimist Club which also carries sponsorship of a baseball team. Why all the disgust at the Red Wings? After all seven straight NHL titles may be a lifetime goal for any team to beat, including the Canadians. Note for Wing boss Jack Adams who said, "Real Chevrefils isn't Detroit's type hockey player." He sure is Boston's type!

U-M Out to Dominate Big 10 Distance Marks

ANN ARBOR (U) — A sweat-soaked secret from Finland has put new power into University of Michigan distance runners. They already dominate the best relay performances in the Big Ten.

Before the year is out, they may dominate conference distance records too.

The secret is a "speed and pace program" which Michigan Coach Don Canham says is a way to increase "strength and speed" through some very hard work. But that's all he'll say about it.

Finnish National coach Armas Valste passed the training plan on to Canham. Everyone got a look at what it can do at last week-end's Michigan State relays.

Michigan's spring medley relay team and the mile relay team steamed to new meet and field-house records that will also be listed as the best performances of the Big Ten athletes as undergraduates.

Since Michigan men have already turned in the best performances in the distance medley relay, the two-mile relay and the 800-yard relay, they now have every regular best performance in relays that the conference lists. The only exception is the seldom run four-mile relay.

Individually, three Michigan men are prime examples of the Finnish training plan. The most developed of these is Ron Wallingford, a stubby Canadian two-miler.

29th Yankee Signs

NEW YORK (U) — Shortstop Billy Hunter, fully recovered from a leg injury, became the 29th New York Yankee today to sign his 1956 baseball contract. Terms were not disclosed.

Pro Grid 'Brass' Seeks to End Raids

PHILADELPHIA (U) — Ralph Cooper, chairman of the Canadian Football Council, went home last night to ask his colleagues for absolute authority to negotiate a working agreement with the National Football League.

Cooper met here yesterday in a novel open forum—the press sat in on actual discussions—with Bert Bell, commissioner of the NFL. The two agreed in principle on a program to end the years of bickering between the two professional football leagues.

Bell said he had absolute authority to negotiate a pact for the NFL and advised Cooper to go home and get the same designation. "If you do," said Bell, "we can settle our problems in five hours."

The two executives agreed that the No. 1 problem was to stop the raiding of each other's playing talent. Under a program discussed here the leagues would recognize each other's contracts and options.

Bell and Cooper worked out a plan whereby the NFL and the Canadian leagues would hold similar player drafts, use standard contracts, and begin the signing of new draftees at the same time. An impartial arbitrator would settle any disputes the league heads were unable to reconcile.

The one thing neither can do, nor admittedly desires to do, is to restrain open competition for players who are free agents—players not under contract or option to either league. Any agreement in this field would run afoul in the United States of the Sherman anti-trust law.

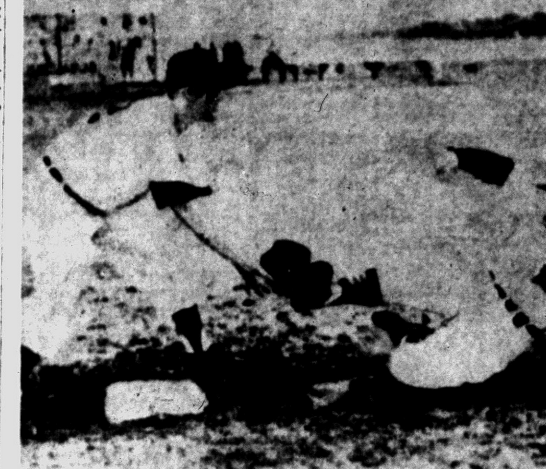

As a result, while many mutual problems, including the all-important no raiding pact, would be ironed out amicably, the war of dollars would continue almost unabated. The highest bidder still would be the one to get the star college players.

There seems to be one stumbling block in the way of a final agreement. Both Bell and Cooper told the press yesterday that some adjustments would have to be made on players each league claims the other obtained by raiding. The Canadians say the NFL has 13 such players and the NFL charges the Canadians with holding 45.

Cooper said he would present the plan at a meeting of Canadian football league executives in Toronto March 1. He said that at that time he hoped to get the permission of his group to finalize the program formulated here.

"We are in accord with Bell's thinking and a number of his suggestions follow our own ideas. I think and hope we can reach a sound and workable agreement," he said.

CAUGHT IN A SQUEEZE — Rookie Steve Deneter slides into bag after being tagged by Reno Bertola, right, as they ran through a rundown play for benefit of photographers at opening session of Detroit Tigers instructional school. On the bag is Larry Orsborne, whose father was once a pitcher for the Chicago Cubs. The Tigers welcomed more than 50 rookie hopefuls at Lakeland yesterday.

Tigers Greet 50 to First Rookie Camp

Former Prospects Get
Early Attention From
Bucky Harris

LAKELAND, Fla. (U) — More than 50 hopeful young players turned out yesterday for the opening of the Detroit Tigers' first rookie school.

Manager Bucky Harris limited activities mostly to running and throwing with a little pepper drill.

Among top prospects who hope to gain a berth with Detroit are J. W. Porter, a catcher and outfielder; infielders Steve Demeter and Reno Bertola and outfielders Tom Sarna and Hollis Powell.

Porter was outstanding in spring training last year but failed to live up to expectations.

Bertola is a bonus baby who showed promise last season. Demeter hit .285 at Buffalo last year and is a fine fielder.

Sarna is a power hitter who had a .305 average with Augusta in 1955. Powell is a big question mark. He made a good start last spring, then hurt his back at Augusta.

Boyd Gets Decision

CHICAGO (U) — In a brawl that had the aspects of just about everything—wrestling, football and bull fighting—long-reaching Bobby Boyd won a split 10-round decision over rugged Eduardo Lause last night.

Boyd, staggered several times by the Argentine's vicious left hooks, piled up his edge with a harpooning left jab and head work.

In fact, Charlie Johnston, manager of the 28-year-old Lause, in-ferrered after the national televised scrap in Chicago Stadium that Boyd used his head so well he butted open an angry gash between Eduardo's eyes in the third round. "An 8-ounce glove couldn't have opened a cut in a place like that," said Johnston, who also conceded that it could have been accidental.

"It was a butt. And the jarring effect from it held my boy back enough for two rounds to affect the outcome."

Lause, third-ranking middleweight who had been undefeated in 32 starts and scored 49 knockouts in 61 victories, was a bleeding, harassed fighter thereafter. But he scraped in Chicago Stadium that Boyd used his head so well he butted open an angry gash between

Boyd, eighth-ranked contender, earned his ninth straight triumph and now has a 38-6-2 record in a claim for a shot at the middle-weight crown.

Each weighed 160 pounds. Judge Spike McAdams scored for Boyd 95-88 under Illinois' 10-point maximum per round. Judge John Bray v. d for Boyd 94-91. Referee Frank Sikora favored Lause 94-93. The Associated Press card had Boyd in front 96-95.

In the fourth round, Lause connected with a good right. It looked as if Boyd caught it off balance. He went down and the referee started counting after Bobby had bounced to his feet. It went as a knockdown, although Boyd later insisted it was a slip.

The bleeding Lause was staggered in the seventh from a steaming right and Boyd, wrestler-fashion, threw him to the floor. In the ninth Lause again was rocked and like making a tackle in football, clung to Boyd's midsection and pushed him across the ring. It looked as if both would fly out of the ropes.

Aside from these antics, Boyd proved himself a classy, seasoned campaigner and one of the best middleweights around.

Cranbrook Easily Beats Patterson

Cranbrook won its 3rd straight game, by more than 20 points each time, in whipping Patterson Collegiate of Windsor yesterday, 76-30.

After taking a wide 23-4 lead in the first quarter the Cranes scored at will with reserves playing a large portion of the game.

John Kirk led the scoring with 19 points, followed by Jerry Dabson and Owen Felt with 13 each. Cranbrook now stands 6-5 for the season.

Cranbrook 23 10 22 12-74
Patterson 4 12 7 1-30

Lamar Asserts TV Worst Evil Facing Boxing

Boston Official Also Hits Managers' Guild;
Would Tax Telecasts

BOSTON (U) — Massachusetts Boxing Commissioner Henry Lamar says the televising of fights is "an evil which can destroy the sport."

The two greatest evils to boxing have been the managers' guild and TV promotion," Lamar told a state legislative committee on taxation yesterday. "Of these, TV promotion is the worst."

The commissioner appeared before the committee to urge a 5 per cent tax on television receipts for bouts in Massachusetts and on closed-circuit fights telecast into the state.

Lamar said the managers' guild "has been put in its proper place and is no longer a threat to the sport." He added enforcement of a 5 per cent tax on closed circuit showings of fights would help put TV promotion in its proper place.

Illinois Will Aim for McCoy

Big Ten Leader Which Cooled Freeman Hopes to Stop Spartan Star

EAST LANSING, Mich. (U) — Illinois will have another chance to show how to cool off a hot shooter in a televised Big 10 basketball game with Michigan State here Saturday.

The Illinois, undefeated in eight conference games, pulled a stunner just last Saturday before the television eye.

Ohio State was humiliated 111-64 and Robin Freeman, the top conference scorer, was held to just 12 points—lowest in his college career.

Michigan State forward Julius McCoy with 236 points is second in Big 10 scoring behind Freeman's 280. McCoy has averaged 29.5 points a game to 31.1 for Freeman.

MSU Coach Fordy Anderson has declared McCoy is a more versatile player with a greater variety of shots than Freeman.

Illinois guards Paul Judson and Bill Ridley are expected to be assigned to McCoy—the only potent Spartan scoring threat this season.

MSU, with a 44 conference record, now has dropped to fifth place and can only hope to be a spoiler. In an earlier meeting with Illinois, State at one time had a 16-point lead but blew it to lose 73-65.

Wes Santee Determined to Prove Clean Status

NEW YORK (U) — Kansas miller Wes Santee apparently means business in his efforts to clean up his amateur status and compete in this year's Olympic Games in Melbourne.

Santee's attorney yesterday issued a warning that he would file a suit for damages "if any libelous statement of any nature whatever" is made at a hearing of a National AAU Investigating Committee Sunday.

In a letter to Dan Ferris, secretary treasurer of the AAU, Charles P. Grimes, representing Santee, demanded "that the AAU revoke any existing suspension of Santee and make public announcement to that effect."

Santee, a lieutenant in the Marine Corps, was suspended by the Missouri Valley AAU last Oct. 11 on charges that he took "excessive expenses" for three California track meets in May. The suspension was lifted Nov. 20 on grounds of insufficient evidence.

The AAU, however, set up an investigating committee to again look into the case, and Santee withdrew from indoor track meets in the East.

The special committee makes its report Sunday morning to the AAU Executive Committee, which will rule on Santee's future status.

Grimes said Santee probably will be in the city but he is not expected to appear before the AAU body.

Defending champion is Jim Seltzer, coach of Flint Northern's high school golf squad.

Basilio-Saxton to Meet
CHICAGO (U) — Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio and Johnny Saxton are to sign formal contracts today for their 15-round title bout in Chicago Stadium March 14.

The fight originally was scheduled for last night but was postponed when Basilio became ill.

Win 9-7 Wings Red-Faced in Beating U-M Skaters

ANN ARBOR (U) — The Detroit Red Wings almost had the reddest faces in professional hockey last night.

According to tradition, the Wings should have beaten the University of Michigan's defending NCAA champs 10-3 in a howling exhibition of horse-play hockey like they did last year.

But too much horse play and a blazing college spirit narrowed the Red Wing margin to 9-7.

Michigan's little Dicky Dunigan turned the hat trick. Goalie Lorne Howes, spectacular at times, stopped the hardest shots he has ever seen from the sticks of Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Dutch Reibel.

Despite the nine that got by, Howes had 45 saves.

To help make up for Michigan's smaller size, smaller club and inexperience, the Red Wings used two 17-year-olds, a 16-year-old and a 35-year-old trainer, Lefty Wilson.

Wilson goal-tended the final period.

One of the youngsters, Carl Wetzel, 17, handled the Red Wing net in the second and regular goalie Glenn Hall worked the first. All together they made 31 saves, with Wetzel getting the least—seven.

Lindsay and Howe each got two goals for the Wings, while Gerry Carpinka got two for Michigan. Two of the Red Wing goals came with Michigan one man short and one of them just as a Michigan player left the penalty box.

Other scorers for the Wings included Bob Goldham, Red Kelly, Murray Costello, Alex Delvecchio and Lorne Ferguson.

Other Michigan scorers were Bernie Hanna, Tom Rendall.

Spring Drills Call Two From Pontiac Area

Two youngsters from the Pontiac area will be on their way to the southland, Feb. 27, to take part in professional baseball spring training. They're making the trip together.

They are Waterford's Steve Kebler, former Skipper hurler who is the property of the Baltimore Orioles, and Dick Golds-worthy, ex-PHS player, who returns to the Phoenix team of the Arizona-Mexico Class C loop.

Dick hit .317 for 290 at bats in 1955.

Kebler is a right hander, 6-3 and 200 pounds. He signed last September, and has been assigned to the Thomasville, Ga. training camp. He will go to Paris, Texas, in the Sooner State Loop.

It's Hot Stove
League Time and—
You're the Manager

(Ninth of a Series)

Bob Turley of the New York Yankees was the wild man among American League pitchers last season and Detroit's Al Kaline was the circuit's leading batter.

Here's a situation in which they were the key men. Yankee manager Casey Stengel called it right. Would you have?

(R) stands for a righthanded batter or pitcher and (L) for a lefthanded batter or pitcher.

The Yankees and Tigers are tied 2-2 in the top of the 10th inning at New York. Turley (R) is pitching and he retires the first two batters on grounders. However, Bill Tuttle doubles to right. Kaline (R) is the next batter with Earl Torgeson (L) on deck.

Would you:
a. Let Turley pitch to Kaline?
b. Walk Kaline and let Turley pitch to Torgeson?
c. Walk Kaline and bring in a lefthander to pitch to Torgeson?

(L) stands for a lefthanded batter or pitcher. In the last of the 10th, 3-2 (Aug. 19, 1955) Turley pitched to Kaline and Torgeson. Turley remained in the game and retired Torgeson. Turley pitched to Kaline and Torgeson. Turley pitched to Kaline and Torgeson.

Result: B — Kaline was hit by a pitch. Torgeson was hit by a pitch. Turley pitched to Kaline and Torgeson. Turley pitched to Kaline and Torgeson.

Kavanagh Issues Opinion on Meters

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held today that the Legislature has the power to require cities to get voter approval before installing parking meters.

Kavanagh issued the opinion in answer to a question from Rep. Manning Hathaway (D-Detroit), a bitter opponent of parking meters.

Hathaway last year proposed amending the constitution to require voter approval of the meters. The proposal was defeated in the House.

A second attempt this year for such a constitutional amendment was also defeated in the House.

Since then, Hathaway has introduced a bill which would accomplish the same thing as the proposed constitutional amendment.

Kavanagh said the Legislature could impose such a requirement by passing a law and that a constitutional amendment is not necessary.

At the same time, the attorney general held that cities have the right to install parking meters under their police powers.

Most cities which have parking meters have installed them by action of their city councils without holding referenda on the issue.

Pontiac Promotes 2 to Inspection Posts

Two recent promotions in the Inspection Department have been announced by William H. Vann, chief inspector at Pontiac Motor Division.

Orin J. Brown, who has been general foreman of inspection since 1947, was promoted to superintendent of inspection over axle, foundry, motor plant and heat treat. His former duties have been assumed by Fred B. Bluth.

Starting to work for Pontiac in the Accounting Department in 1929, Brown joined inspection in 1934.

Promoted to superintendent of inspection over plating, car assembly and sheet metal was Charles L. Stevens, who has been with the department since coming to work for the company in 1934.

Prior to his promotion he was general foreman of inspection over Plants 2 and 8. Stevens has been succeeded by Mahlon S. Kath.

300 Vernon Employees End One-Day Walkout

DETROIT (AP)—Some 300 employees of the James Vernon Ginger Ale Co. were to return to work today after a one-day walkout.

Officials of local 237, retail, wholesale and department store employees accused the company of trying to transfer loaders' assistant to other jobs. They said the dispute would be submitted to arbitration.
