Auto Output Resumed

Auto production swing into high gear today as Pontiac Motor Division and 22 other GM assembly plants across the country resumed operation after a shutdown for model change-over.

Pontiac's assembly lines have been shut down for 30 days.

General Motors is the last major automaker to begin production on 1964 model cars.

Industry sources estimated that other auto firms turned out more than 75,000 new 1964 cars in August, a gain of about 32,000 over the 1962 start - up on '63 models.

Chrysler Corp., first of the auto makers to start its 1964 production lines, turned out 17,250 vehicles last week.

Studebaker, in its third week of '64 assembly, boosted factory output to near its normal yield in the '63 model period.

Ford Motor Co., whose preparations for 1964 production were hampered by a labor dispute at its Chicago Heights, Ill. stamping plant last month, expected to get into high gear this week.

Ward's Reports, an automotive trade publication, said its surveys indicated the industry would turn out 2,135,000 units in the October - December quarter.

This would be almost 4 per cent ahead of the previous record for a fourth quarter — 2,059,304 —set last year.

Ward's said that with production of 1964 models off to a booming start, the industry probably would make a bid for its first 800,000-month production in history.

One thing that surprised some observers was the way that auto companies are hurrying their production schedules along.

Traditionally, scheduling of production in the early weeks of a new car run tends towards the conservative side as auto makers await public reaction to the new vehicles.

The first of the 1964 models will not be on public display for another three weeks, but production schedules indicate auto makers expect no slackening in the heavy buying demand which marked the 1963 model run just ended.

Romney Calls Fiscal Session

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today issued his official call to the legislature for a special session beginning Sept. 11 to deal with three subjects — legislative reapportionment, fiscal reform and implementation of the new constitution.

★ ★ ★

Romney, back in his office for the first time since returning from a 10-day vacation in Europe, announced he will present these subjects to lawmakers in a series of special messages.

Proposed new laws to implement the new constitution he said, will not be taken up until the legislature has finished with reapportionment and "substantially completed fiscal and tax reform.

The fiscal program, Romney said will be submitted as specific proposals in bill form.

The special call was being mailed out today to the state's 144 legislators.

The text of the call said the legislature will be called into session Sept. 11 "for the purpose of considering certain subjects to be submitted by special messages."

National Figure Rises to 546; State Traffic Claims 29 Lives

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths during the long weekend soared to a record high for any Labor Day holiday period.

The court reached 546, including belated reports, for the holiday weekend that began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ended at midnight yesterday.

The previous high was 501, set during the Labor Day observation last year.

The count at midnight local time yesterday, the end of the 78-hour holiday period, showed 543 traffic deaths, topping the previous record set during the Labor Day weekend last year.

Belated reports were expected to boost the final total.

The slaughter on the highways during the holiday was marked by several multiple-fatal accidents, including six in Michigan.

The worst accident occurred yesterday when 10 persons lost their lives in a head-on crash near Liberty in southeast Texas.

Twenty-nine persons died in Michigan highway traffic, and state police said it was the worst such period for motoring casualties in at least eight years.

The death toll compared with 26 fatalities during the 1962 holiday, which had been the most tragic in an eight-year record kept by the state police.

Two cars collided last night, resulting in death for four occupants of one vehicle and the driver of the other. The mishap seriously injured the two other occupants of the car.

Police said the crash occurred north of Richmond on M19 in

'Just Too Full'

Monk Denied Refuge by U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young Buddhist monk sought refuge in the U.S. Embassy today but was told he could not be admitted.

The monk apparently sought to join three other Buddhists, including a top organizer of the Buddhist antigovernment movement, who were granted asylum in the embassy Saturday.

An embassy official explained to the monk, "We're just too full."

The young monk apparently was not pursued by the police, and one of the conditions of political asylum is that the refugee must be "hotly pursued."

★ ★ ★

The latest refugee thanked Marine guards and officials anyway, made the traditional lotus flower salute, and walked away.

Yesterday, the military governor of Saigon, Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh, told a press conference he intended to demand the return of the three monks in refuge at the embassy. But the State Department in Washington said it planned to continue giving them asylum.

New friction developed in U.S.-South Vietnamese relations because the three monks were given asylum and a government-sponsored paper accused the U.S. Central Intelligency Agency of plotting to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

Complicating the situation, it was learned from reliable sources, was the fact that one of the three monks in refuge at the embassy was a Vietnamese secret police agent for nine years.

RESIGNED POST

The monk, Le Mau Chi, resigned from the police force in 1962 and took a job as a clerk with the U.S. aid mission here.

Records show he was discharged from the U.S. aid mission last December and became a monk in April — one month before the Buddhist-government friction flared into violence.

U.S. authorities are questioning all three monks. The monks are living in an air-conditioned conference room in the embassy chancery.

JFK Watches Viet Reaction

U. S. Stand Stiffens on Buddhist Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy watched today for Vietnamese reaction to his warning that continued repression of Buddhists by the government of Ngo Dinh Diem could mean loss of its U.S.-supported war against communism.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy returned to Washington today after a five-day Labor Day vacation at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The President stiffened the open U.S. position on the Viet Nam situation yesterday in a television interview in which he called on the regime of President Diem to stop its actions against the Buddhists.

The United States will continue its military assistance, Kennedy said. But he added:

"I don't think that the war can be won unless the (Vietnamese) people support the effort, and in my opinion, in the last two months, the government has gotten out of touch with the people."

REPLIES TO QUESTIONS

Kennedy, in reply to questioning by CBS newscaster Walter Cronkite, made these other points:

★ ★ ★

- He may lose more southern states in 1964 than he did in 1960 because of the administration's civil rights proposals. It is "too early to tell" but he isn't sure that he is "the most popular political figure today in the south."
- The nation's unemployment rate can be reduced from its 5.5 per cent level and recession can be staved off if Congress approves his $11-billion tax cut program and other economic measures.
- It "would be a great mistake" for the Senate to tack a formal reservation onto the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Jaycee Campaign Tonight on City Charter Petitions

A three-hour door-to-door campaign will be conducted tonight by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Charter Amendment Committee.

An estimated 30 volunteers will go door-to-door in two areas of the city 6-9 p.m. seeking signatures on charter amendment petitions.

The areas are Pioneer Highlands subdivision in district 2 and a section northeast of the Pontiac Motor Division plant off Joslyn.

The Jaycees said they have a total of 3,400 signatures for charter amendment. About 700 petitions are still circulating, including those passed out to the Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

Saturday is the deadline for turning in completed petitions.

A Jaycee spokesman urged anyone with finished petitions to turn them in to charter amendment headquarters, 510 Community National Bank Building, or to call FE 8-6010 and the petitions will be picked up.

Although still short of their 7,500 to 8,000 goal, the Jaycees felt they might be close with the high number of petitions circulating.

The petitions, which would change the election procedures for city commissioners, must be filed by next Monday with the city clerk if a special election is to be held before the primary next March.

The petitions request a special election on the proposed charter amendment.

The proposed amendment would retain the nomination of commissioners by district, but allow voters throughout the city to vote for seven candidates, one from each district during the municipal elections.

Presently, electors can vote for only one candidate from their own district.

Only persons who are registered voters in Pontiac can sign and circulate petitions.

Governor Firm as Doors Stay Closed 2nd Day

Charges of Invasion Hurled at Southern Leader in Tuskegee

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace withdrew all but 25 state troopers from here today after again refusing to allow the newly integrated Tuskegee Public School to open.

The governor had doubled the number of state police to 215 today after the Macon County School Board announced opposition yesterday to Wallace's executive order postponing the start of classes one week.

The school had planned to start classes on an integrated basis yesterday.

Without warning, most of the troopers entered their cars shortly before 11 p.m. (Pontiac time) and drove northward toward Birmingham where school integration is scheduled to occur tomorrow.

The remaining troopers kept guard over the Tuskegee school.

"Tuskegee resents this invasion by armed, helmeted state troopers," said Allan Parker, bank president and civic and church leader.

He said that he believed 90 per cent of the residents of the county support the school board.

'MOVE TO OPEN SCHOOLS'

Parker said that, "Various local movements are under way at this time to get our schools open, including going into court. We also are seeking an audience with the governor at the earliest possible time."

An unimpeachable source who declined to be identified said that several white students had transferred to nearby Union

Military Leaders Expect Russia to Cheat on Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor has told senators the Joint Chiefs of Staff assumed, in supporting the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, that the Russians "would attempt clandestine testing of some sort."

This was disclosed today when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public heavily censored testimony taken behind closed doors from Taylor, chairman of the joint chiefs, and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff.

★ ★ ★

Taylor testified he thought the temptation to cheat would be in atmospheric tests of small tactical weapons or other small tests that would be difficult to detect and from which information could be gained to apply to antimissile missiles.

"But it is in this field that you feel we are very well prepared ourselves, is it not?" asked Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman.

"Well," Taylor replied, "it is in this field where I don't think the gains that might come from this kind of testing would have any great bearing upon our relative position."

Big Battles Ahead

Congress Still Lags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress lumbers into the ninth month of its session today and most of the big battles still lie ahead.

Usually by Labor Day, Congress is breezing down the home stretch. This year it has a thicket of legislation to clear away.

* * *

Many members fear they'll still be around after the leaves fall and the snow flies and the Christmas decorations go up.

On the long, probably bumpy road ahead are such controversial issues as a tax cut, foreign aid spending, the limited nuclear test-ban treaty—and the civil rights program which promises to trigger a Southern filibuster in the Senate.

The House planned no business this week, continuing until Monday a sort of informal Labor Day recess.

To clear the deck for expected debate next week on the nuclear treaty, the Senate was scheduled to take up President Kennedy's request to broaden the 1962 Manpower Training Act which established a program of vocational schooling to teach skills to unemployed persons or retrain them for new jobs.

* * *

The administration considers the program important in its effort to combat unemployment in general and to train Negroes for better jobs.

When the manpower act was passed it provided for federal funds to pay the full cost in the first two years. However, there was to be 50-50 state matching in the third year, starting July 1964.

So far, however, only four states have passed legislation to carry out the matching funds requirement—Connecticut, Kansas, Montana and Tennessee. Legislators of 25 states which have not acted do not even meet in 1964.

ADDS $161 MILLION

The bill before the Senate would not only provide for the federal government to pay the entire cost of the third year but would authorize an additional $161 million in U.S. funds to cover the states' share.

* * *

Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and John G. Tower, R-Tex., have announced they are opposed to the bill.

They said the "overwhelming lack of response" from the states makes it clear there is little real interest in the program.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped for final action on the measure Wednesday or Thursday.

Stierer Issue Postpones Planning Board Session

Due to scheduling of the fourth session of a hearing into charges against suspended City Manager Robert A. Stierer tomorrow at 7 p. m., the City Planning Commission meeting has been postponed until 8 p. m. next Wednesday, Sept. 11.

The planning commission regularly meets on the first Wednesday of the month at 8 p. m. in the City Commission meeting chamber at City Hall.

Escape Foiled at Dixie Prison

Disorders Are Quelled by Tear Gas, Troopers

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Screaming, rampaging prisoners assaulted guards with metal posts wrenched from beds today before tear gas was used to quell a riot at Georgia State Prison.

* * *

The disorder broke out as an aftermath to a blast from a tower guard's shotgun which halted an attempt to escape by three convicts shortly after midnight. They were armed with homemade knives.

Fred Hallford, state prison director, described the disturbance as a "complete insurrection." The tear gas supplied by state troopers halted the uprising after a tense two hours of turmoil.

Hallford reported that several guards were cut and bruised in the melee, and that one guard suffered a heart attack at the height of the outbreak.

Forty state troopers were rushed to the prison when the trouble began and 30 more were called in later as added precaution.

"It's lucky we had the troopers on hand," observed Hallford after a semblance of order was restored. "Otherwise it might have been ghastly."

Hallford said practically every bed in the prison was wrecked. Mattresses were ripped open, nearly all the windows broken out and plumbing and other fixtures badly damaged.

The prison director said two prisoners and a guard were hospitalized as a result of the attempted break which occurred about 12:30 a.m.

Hallford estimated that 2,000 of the prison's population of 3,071 were involved in a screaming outburst of fury.

Several guards, he reported, were assaulted with metal posts wrenched from prison beds. None, however, was seriously hurt, he said.

Tear gas was poured into the prison dormitories to subdue the rebellious inmates.

Hallford said the main disturbance began among Negro prisoners about 7 a.m. as they were marching from the mess hall back to the dormitories. It quickly spread to the white convicts.

"The guards kept their heads," Hallford said, "and managed to get the inmates back into the dormitories.

Colombians to View Progress in County

The second phase of an exchange of visits' experiment in local level foreign relations will begin Sept. 25 when six Colombians from Cali visit Pontiac and Oakland County to study progress made in solving community development problems.

* * *

The two-week visit of the Cali officials follows a similar trip by an Oakland County delegation last May.

Oakland County and Cali face identical problems, namely, a population explosion. The Michigan group, acting on a proposal by U. S. Rep. William Broomfield, R-Oakland County, wanted to see if Oakland County's experience could be of use in Cali, a South American city of 800,000 people.

The delegation visiting Michigan includes Gustavo Balcazar Monzon, governor of the Department (state) of Valle of which Cali is the capital; City Council President Cesar Tulio Delgado; Hernando Borrero; Jose Castro Borrero; Bernardo Garces; and Pedro Pablo Caicedo.

The exchange of visits developed after Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, expressed interest to the United States Agency for International Development (AID) in forming an affiliation between his area and a growing Latin American city.

Cali notified AID of its interest and extended an invitation.

The Oakland County delegation was made up of Durwood B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University; Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; George Catlin, director of industrial development for the Detroit Edison Co.; and George Skrubb, county planning director.

In addition, Mark T. Jaroszewicz, an architect with the Tarapata, McMahan Associates, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills, accompanied the group. Jaroszewicz, 4204 Butternut Hill, Bloomfield Township, paid his own way.

* * *

Expenses of the others were underwritten by the State Department. The group spent two weeks in Colombia.

Cali, founded in 1536, is Colombia's second largest city. Its population quadrupled from 1940 to 1963 to an estimated 700,000. With the exception of Sao Paulo in Brazil, it is the fastest growing city in Latin America.

It is located in the Cauca River Valley, one of the richest agricultural areas of the world.

CELEBRATION—A group of Tuskegee, Ala. highschoolers wave a Confeedrate flag and sing Dixie as they whoop it up on a porch across the street from their high school, which had been scheduled to open on an integrated basis today. Gov. George Wallace ordered a one-week postponement. School officials promptly broke up the celebration.

School Kept Closed

Springs High School to avoid integration.

This morning, the blue-helmeted state troopers supported by mounted sheriff's deputies kept students and teachers out of the Tuskegee school.

Students in the consolidated elementary-high school were turned back as they approached the red-brick building for the second straight day even though the Macon County Board of Education said that as far as it was concerned the school was open.

Col. Al Lingo, commanding the troopers, said that only Principal E. W. Wadsworth would be admitted to the building.

Even teachers were turned away because, Lingo said, "school is closed and they have no business in there."

* * *

Wallace issued Monday an executive order directing the school board to postpone the start of fall classes in the school because of what he called the threat of violence.

ONLY ONE AFFECTED

The Tuskegee school, up to now, was the only one in Macon County ordered integrated at this time and the only one affected by Wallace's order.

* * *

A Methodist minister, the Rev. E. G. Sellers, approached Lingo this morning to raise a technical point, but got nowhere with it.

Wallace's order referred to the "Tuskegee High School," the name by which the school was formerly known. The minister asked if students in the elementary grades also were prohibited from attending class. Lingo said they were.

* * *

The name of the school was changed to the Tuskegee Public School when it was consolidated into all 12 grades.

A parent, Mrs. P. M. Wadsworth, walked up to the ring of state troopers with a group of students and asked if they could enter. She got no reply, but the troopers allowed no one even to cross the street.

Mrs. Wadsworth asked the students, "Do you all want to go to school?" When they replied, "Yes, mam," Mrs. Wadsworth appealed to the troopers, "Please tell Gov. Wallace our children want to go to school."

USED PREVIOUSLY

The mounted sheriff's deputies came here from Dallas County under the command of Sheriff Jim Clark. The trained horsemen have been used previously to keep order during racial demonstrations in other cities.

* * *

There was no indication of federal intervention.

A Justice Department spokesman said Monday that "the dispute is between Gov. Wallace and the local school officials."

Wallace tried unsuccessfully last spring to prevent enrollment of two Negroes for summer classes at the University of Alabama. The governor stood in the doorway of the registration building until federalized National Guardsmen were moved onto the campus.

* * *

Forced by the federal troops, Wallace yielded and the Negroes were enrolled. It was the second time the university had been desegregated. The first in 1956, lasted only three days before a mob drove a Negro coed from the campus.

Wallace intervened Monday two hours before 13 Negroes were to enter the white public school. It would have been the first desegregation in Alabama schools below college level and it would have left Mississippi as the only state with a completely segregated public school system.

UF Sets Tour on Services

The Pontiac Area United Fund has scheduled a "Come-See Tour" to introduce area residents and groups to the services its agencies perform.

The tour will take place at the YMCA from 10:30 a.m. to noon tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. It will be under the direction of Theron N. Slosson, general secretary of the Pontiac YMCA.

Featured speakers will be William Countryman and Vincent Syracuse, representatives of Leader Dogs for the Blind of Rochester, and James Gallette, a spokesman for Michigan Cancer Foundation.

In addition to the speeches, exhibits illustrating the work of the Michigan Heart Association, Michigan Cancer Foundation, Sister Kenny Polio Foundation and the Oakland County chapter of the American Red Cross will be displayed.

Moderator for the program will be Wendell G. Asplin, assistant director of the Pontiac Area UF.

Groups attending will include city and county employes and employes of Consumers Power Co., Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Federal's and Sears department stores. The public is also invited.

Transportation for the employe groups to and from the YMCA is being furnished by the Pontiac Transit Corp. Drivers are being furnished by Bus Drivers Local 1303.

tions by the Communist Viet Cong.

Despite a wave of rumors, Saigon streets showed no unusual activity.

The government announced it planned to reopen high schools in Saigon and the suburbs tomorrow. It also said it had released all of the 254 students in Hue temporarily detained for security reasons.

The English-language Times of Viet Nam charged Monday that the CIA was financing a plot to overthrow Diem and exile two powerful advisers, his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu and Mrs. Nhu. The U.S. Embassy called the story nonsense.

Washington believes the Nhus are responsible for Saigon's harsh crackdown on Buddhist opposition and has urged their removal while continuing to support Diem's war against Communist guerrillas.

Atlantis Society Pleads for 100-Year-Old Home

BIRMINGHAM—The preservation of a 100-year-old home on the site of a proposed municipal parking lot is being sought by a Birmingham cultural organization.

The Atlantis Society, in a letter to the City Commission, said the building at 288 Townsend "is an excellent and classic example of the pre-Civil War Michigan farmhouse."

The 160-family, non-profit group proposes to lease the building from the city and operate it for the city as the Atlantis House, an office for community organizations.

* * *

The house, formerly owned by architect Eero Saarinen, is located directly across from the Community House and at the southwest corner of the parking lot to be built south of Shain Park.

"Its location would make a good buffer for the residential character of the neighborhood and would lessen the impact of the view of a sea of cars," the organization said.

'GREAT NEED'

The society said it believes there is a great need on the part of organizations serving the area to be able to rent at a nominal cost an office located in the center of the city.

It said several organizations already have expressed interest in the proposal.

The rents received would be used to pay the utilities and maintain the structure. Surplus revenue would go in the city's general fund.

A two-year trial period is requested by the society, after which time the operation could be continued by the organization, transferred to a city agency or possibly to the administration of the Community House.

The commission will consider the proposal at its meeting tonight, postponed one day because of Labor Day.

Students who will attend the new Berkshire Junior High School are scheduled to get another bonus this week.

Opening of the school has been postponed from Thursday to Monday. Classes will begin at 8:30 a.m.

The extra day and a half will give workmen time to put the finishing touches on the building and teachers a chance to arrange their rooms.

John J. Redmond

Requiem Mass for John J. Redmond, 71, of 42 E. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills, will be 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church. Burial will follow in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield.

Mr. Redmond died yesterday after a long illness.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

A retired postmaster of the Bloomfield Hills post office, Mr. Redmond was also a plumbing and heating contractor. He was senior member of his church's usher club.

Mine Rescuers Seeking Body

Engineer Predicts 120 Days of Drilling

SHEPPTON, Pa. (UPI) — Rescuers turned today to the grim task of recovering the body of Louis Bova from the mine shaft where he was trapped with two other men Aug. 13.

Hope of rescuing Bova alive ended early yesterday when officials decided their probes would yield little else than the body of the miner.

* * *

Bova's companions were brought to the surface alive in a dramatic early morning rescue operation Aug. 27 from a chamber adjoining one in which Bova was believed trapped.

Engineer Albert J. Grebloski of Philadelphia, assistant mine and tunnel inspector for the Reading Railroad, was to descend into the mine shaft today to see if either of two proposed plans for recovering the body is feasible.

Grebloski, who has 28 years mining experience, said each of the plans would take a minimum of 120 days. He conferred last night with mining officials on the plans.

* * *

One method called for drilling a tunnel through the original mine slope into the chamber where Bova's body is believed located.

The other called for a three-inch hole to be drilled into a coal vein believed to run directly beneath the chamber.

Officials said they would continue test soundings into 12 holes already drilled in the mine area to listen for signs of life.

Mrs. Svea Landson's 7-year-old son Darrel died in a Mount Clemens hospital this morning after suffering severe head injuries. Her husband Floyd, 48, was reported in serious condition.

A passenger in Middleton's car, Janet Chandler, 19, of Memphis, also was injured seriously.

'CROSSES CENTER LINE'

Dry Cleaning Magazine Can Help You Out of Spot

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Among the publications that count me as a satisfied reader is Clothing Care News, official journal of the National Institute of Drycleaning.

The circumstances under which I became a subscriber to Clothing Care News have long since been forgotten. Most likely at some point I decided that I needed to broaden my literary intake.

At any rate, Clothing Care news now is ingrained in my reading habits and it has added immeasurably to my reputation as a conversationalist.

* * *

At the risk of sounding pompous, I believe it is safe to say that I am better informed about drycleaning than any man in my neighborhood.

One of the things I learned from Clothing Care News is that garments have life expectancy rates. The life expectancy of your wife's negligee, for example, is the same as that of your child's snow suit.

DOESN'T APPLY

This does not apply, of course, if your child sleeps in his snow suit or if your wife skis in her negligee.

Do you know what a "goffering iron" is? I didn't either until I became a subscriber to Clothing Care News.

Now I know that a goffering iron is used to press lace ruffles on men's shirts and cuffs. Information of that sort is essential to the development of a well-rounded personality.

Recently, C. C. N. carried an item about a lady in Florida who purchased a pair of slacks. Attached to them was a notice that said "to maintain perfect shape put in cold oven and bake for eight minutes at 250 degrees."

The lady had never baked a pair of slacks before, so she asked her drycleaner about it. He, in turn, sent the query to the National Institute of Drycleaning.

The institute had never heard of baking slacks either, but it recommended that they be drycleaned before being placed in the oven.

To that I would add some advice of my own. Also be sure to take them off first.

* * *

Another problem recently discussed in Clothing Care News was what to do about spots that are too small to warrant sending to the cleaners. Here is the recommended procedure:

* * *

Saturate the spot with cleaning fluid. Wait three minutes and then soak it in lukewarm water. Next go over the spot with soap and water. And finally scrub it with a solution of oatmeal and lemon jucie.

Allow to dry and you will find that the spot has become large enough to warrant sending to the cleaners.

Mines Explode, Injure Family Fleeing to West

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — A young East German couple and their infant child were injured by an exploding mine on their flight to the West near here but managed to reach West German territory, police reported today.

Police said the man's right foot was blown off by the mine, but his wife, herself injured along with the child by mine fragments, helped him to cross the border.

Officials said six other young East Germans, aged between 18 and 21, also flew yesterday to West Germany in this region without incident.

* * *

In another stretch of the mine-infested Iron Curtain border, two East German border guards had stepped on a Communist mine two weeks ago and were taken to a West German hospital by people who had watched the accident from the West side.

The two guards returned to East Germany last week.

Highlights Peach Festival

Thousands View Romeo Parade

PICTURES AND STORY
By LEE OLSON

ROMEO — The few occasional raindrops that fell yesterday afternoon failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the tens of thousands on hand to view Romeo's gala floral parade.

Spectators were lined up 10 deep the entire length of the mile-long parade route to witness the event that highlighted the 31st annual Peach Festival celebration.

Featured were gaily bedecked floats, horses and riders, beauty queens by the score and high school bands coming from as far away as Pinconning.

Also included among the more than 70 entries were a couple of the top prize-winning floats from the children's parade which was staged earlier in the day as the other top attraction on the Labor Day program.

Winner of the $40 first prize award in the afternoon parade was an authentic replica of a Mississippi showboat entered by St. Mary Church in Wayne.

Second place honors went to the Fraser Lions Club float that featured a huge orange and black butterfly.

The Romeo Merchants entry took third with the Trinity Lutheran Church float from Utica capturing fourth place.

The Shelby Township Lions Club won the fifth cash prize in the float division.

Continuing in their winning ways were the high-stepping

AREA NEWS

Richmond Flashettes, judged best of the marching groups. They have won numerous awards throughout the year in area parades and competition for excellence in precision drilling.

Second place in this category went to Busy Beaver Pathfinder Club, sponsored by the Ferndale Seventh Day Adventist Church.

"Indians" danced around a smoking "bonfire" on the Mount Clemens Lions Club float to win first prize in the novelty group division.

Second place prize money was awarded to the Center Line Metropolitan Club clown car entry.

Judges were James S. Lanhan of Lathrup Village, Mrs. C. K. Auvil of Washington and Philip A. Berthiaume of Romeo.

The earlier children's parade that attracted about the same number of entries as the afternoon event had a "A Child's World" as its theme.

Nursery rhymes and fairy tales were "brought to life" as costumed children passed in review before a panel of out-of-town judges in the heart of the business district.

Following the precedent they themselves have set were the Ora Smith and Herbert Miller families whose float depicting a scene from "Hansel and Gretel" was judged best in the large float division.

They also won the top prize last year.

First place winner in the small float category was awarded to Capri Fillmore and Ellen and Theresa Martin for their "To Market, to Market" entry.

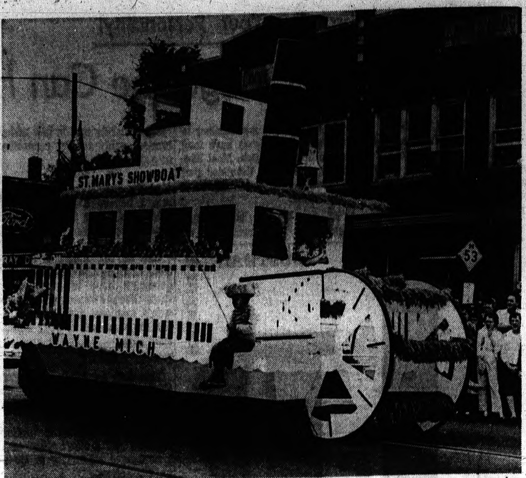
Max Weidner and Clifford Jarrett were dressed in suits of "armor" as they portrayed Knights of the Round Table to win the top prize for walking groups.

Cited for his ingenuity in characterizing President John F. Kennedy carrying a yard stick and leading a lamb under the banner of "Follow the Ruler" was Richard Falker, first prize winner in the single entry division.

Most authentic clown was Berry Brown who rode a donkey in the parade. Funniest were Kathy, Robin and April Caruss and smallest, Tommy Battani.

Judging this parade were Mrs. H. Paul Swayze of Metamora, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hart of Anchorville and Howard Maynard of New Baltimore.

The three-day festival concluded last night with a spectacular fireworks display at the Lions Community Field.



BEST FLOAT—This authentic replica of a Mississippi showboat was picked as the top prize-winning float in yesterday afternoon's Peach Festival Floral parade in Romeo. It was the entry of St. Mary Church in Wayne and was noteworthy for its stern paddle wheel and the costuming of its "passengers."

TOP CHILDREN'S ENTRY — Copied from a drawing illustrating the story of "Hansel and Gretel" was this colorful float that was judged best in the children's parade yesterday morning in Romeo. Built and painted by the Ora Smith and Herbert Miller families, it featured the witch's house made of "candy and lollipops" with a "marshmallow" roof, "rock candy" windows and a "peppermint stick" chimney.

THIRD PLACE WINNER — Twins Marilyn and Carolyn Sieger were enthroned in duplicate carousels on the Romeo Merchants Association float that won third place honors in yesterday's floral parade. Other local lovelies were seated beneath the bridge that connected two merry-go-rounds.

Washington Warns of Milk Cow Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department today warned of a continued substantial decline in the number of milk cows during the coming fall and winter months.

Milk production from the reduced number of milk cows likely will drop to less than 125.3 billion pounds in 1963, compared with 125.9 billion pounds in 1962, the department said in a review of the nation's dairy industry.

The department said that at midyear the number of milk cows was reported at 16.6 million head, down 2.8 per cent from the 17.1 million head of last June.

This is the largest percentage decrease since June 1959. In June of 1960, 1961 and 1962 the number of milk cows was between 1 and 2 per cent lower than the previous June.

The department said milk production declined seven-tenths of 1 per cent in June, and one-half of 1 per cent in July from a year earlier.

The monthly decline from the year-earlier level since Jan. 1 averaged eight-tenths of 1 per cent.

RISING COSTS

The department said the decline in the number of milk cows stemmed from slowly rising costs, while prices farmers received for milk in the maunfacturing areas remained about constant, except for a decline in the northwest.

Another reason for cow reduction is the strong market for cull cows. Poor pastures and hay crops also have caused the number of cows to be reduced sharply in some areas.

The lower milk production already has caused a change in government purchases of dairy products. The department said lower production and increased commercial demand had caused government purchases to drop about 25 per cent during the first seven months of 1963.

* * *

Butter purchases were down about 18 per cent and cheese purchases about 60 per cent. Purchases of nonfat dry milk were down 20 per cent.

The department said that because of low acquisitions, government holdings of cheese and nonfat dry milk at the end of July were substantially below last year's levels.

Half Days Eyed for Utica Schools

UTICA—Half-day classes for some grades and personnel cutbacks are two solutions being considered by the school board to cope with an expected financial crisis.

School Supt. Fred Atkinson said no formal decision has yet been made, but that the board would issue a statement within two weeks.

* * *

Atkinson said some emergency measures must be taken as a result of voter rejection of two special election proposals last week.

A request for a $3-million bond issue to finance a new high school and a 3.5 operating mill tax increase were turned down. Similar requests were voted down in the June 10 election.

The bond issue failure will be felt in the fall of 1965 in the upper grades, said Atkinson. "We will have some 2,000 students in a high school rated for 1,250.

HALF-DAY CLASSES

"There will have to be half-day classes or some solution."

* * *

Equally serious will be expected overcrowding in elementary schools in the fall of 1964 when 900 students over the 7,000 capacity, attend.

The election defeat cast a pall over plans to ask voters for more funds for the lower grades, Atkinson explained.

He predicted the first cutbacks will be in replacing present equipment or starting new programs. "We hope we won't have to lay anyone off," he concluded.

Cuban Visitor Expected Back

NEW BOSTON (UPI) — A 23-year-old Michigan coed who mystified her parents and incurred the wrath of the State Department with an illegal visit to Communist Cuba was expected home today.

* * *

Metro Sopiak, father of Patricia Ann Sopiak, said his daughter telephoned him early Saturday morning from New York City and said she would arrive home today.

The girl, a University of Michigan senior, spent seven weeks in Cuba at the expense of the Castro government. Sopiak said his daughter was only interested in Cuban sightseeing.

Today's Public Hearing Decides Beeliner Fate

The fate of Beeliner rail passenger runs through Oakland County depend on the outcome of a public hearing opening today.

The Michigan Public Service Commission was scheduled to convene this morning to hear New York Central Railroad's arguments for ending the service.

The railroad claims operating the self-propelled car between Detroit and Bay City, in competition with private autos and buses, will cause an annual loss of at least $49,000.

* * *

Local opposition to the claim, if any, is expected to be voiced Friday when the hearing will be continued at 10 a. m. in Room 1322, at the City-County Building in Detroit.

Lack of interest already has prompted two communities along the Beeliner route to take no action.

Officials in Rochester and Avon Township say they have heard no public opposition to ending the service.

* * *

The Beeliner also serves Utica, Lake Orion, Oxford and Lapeer. There are only two runs daily, one the morning and one in the afternoon.

A freight train derailment early yesterday in Sterling Township halted holiday passenger service while track repairs were made.

* * *

New York Central reports Beeliner runs resumed this morning.

Youth, 17, Satisfactory With Wound

ROMEO — A 17-year-old boy stabbed in a scuffle with another youth early Sunday is reported in satisfactory condition today at Community Hospital near Almont.

Myron Monroe, 311 Clinton, is recovering from three stab wounds in the chest and arm.

Being held in Macomb County jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon is Alex Morris, Jr., 17, of Detroit. He was unable to post $1,000 bond.

* * *

Police say the two, who apparently did not know each other, began quarreling in the street near Monroe's home.

Monroe reportedly shoved Morris, who then attacked him with a knife. Police say the incident is still under investigation.

114th Michigan State Fair Ends a Financial Success

DETROIT (UPI) — The 114th Michigan State Fair ended here yesterday with the sweet money-jingling sound of success.

Fair officials announced this year's 10-day event not only attracted a record number of spectators, but it also brought in more money than during the 1962 record year.

When the fair closed last night, 1,087,303 persons had passed through its gates to see the attractions and to have a chance to gawk down the midway.

* * *

Walter Goodman, fair general manager, said this year's attendance broke the old record set last year by slightly over 84,000.

The fair also set a record in the income department with a net profit this year in excess of $150,000, according to Goodman. He said the previous high net income of $119,000 was also set last year.

Goodman said he believed the overwhelming success of the 1963 fair was due to a combination of factors rather than to one single thing.

* * *

"We had a diversified program for all age groups and interests," he said. "In addition, our free big-name entertainment, fairly good weather and the earlier fair time went a long way to helping this fair set new records."

Fair officials said they could hardly remember another fair which had such good weather. The weather during the fair was near perfect as the mercury hovered in the 80's during most of the days and dropped to the 70's at night.

The threat of rain dampened the opening night's show and kept the crowd down but rain never fell. It was 10 days later on the closing day of the fair, Labor Day, when rain finally came.

* * *

"But even yesterday," a fair spokesman said, "more than 100,000 persons came." Labor Day attendance totaled 104,316 compared with 115,270 during Labor Day last year.

Eldon C. Rosegart, Drayton Plains, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority, praised Goodman's part in this year's fair.

"Twice the State Fair has broken records under Goodman's guidance," he said.

* * *

"Now we expect to use his energies in the development of the multimillion-dollar building complex to be constructed at the fairgrounds," Rosegart said.

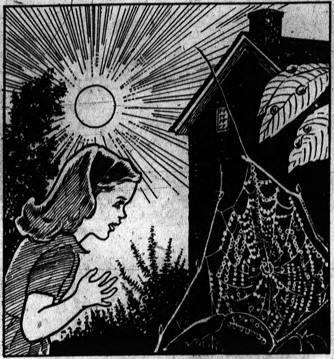
Junior Editors Quiz on WATER VAPOR



QUESTION: How is dew formed and what does "dew point" mean?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: There is always some water in the air in the form of invisible water vapor. This is what "humidity" means. If it's very humid, there is much water vapor. As more and more water is taken up, the air approaches its "dew point," or point where it can hold no more.

The higher the temperature, the more water air will hold before it reaches its dew point. If the temperature is 86 degrees, air can hold only 30.4 grams of water vapor per cubic meter, so when it has this amount it is "saturated," or has a "relative humidity" of 100 per cent.

If the temperature is lower, the air will reach its dew point with less water vapor.

After air has reached its dew point, the extra moisture will condense or become visible as drops of water if it comes into contact with something cool.

At night, objects like leaves and spider webs cool down quickly and the air next to them also cools down. When this air reaches its dew point the extra moisture condenses in sparkling drops which we see in the morning sunlight as dew.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Try coloring this picture. You could make the sky pale lemon yellow and the sun a strong yellow, the girl's hair could be red. (Also, watch for dew effects in the early morning.)

Tax Levy Still 'Low' Even With Adjustment

Due to a State Tax Commission decision lowering the assessment of the City's largest industrial entity, a slight increase affecting all local taxpayers will be spread on the tax roll.

Property owners understandably are not overjoyed by a hike in their share of government and school costs, but even with the increase, Pontiac's tax rate is ninth lowest (Detroit excluded) among the State's 10 leading cities. Moreover, its assessment yardstick is sound and realistic.

★ ★ ★

This is not the case in many situations where taxing authorities have deviated from conservative procedure by applying an appealingly low assessment schedule but a correlatively high tax rate; or an excessively high assessment approach tied to a beguilingly low tax rate.

The levy on the taxpayer, however, is the same in either case, since it is incumbent to realize a given amount of tax revenue regardless of the formula used.

But though its tax policies are equitable and stable, there is an inherent related weakness in the City's fiscal structure.

★ ★ ★

This is the six-month lag between the beginning of the calendar operating year and tax receipts due six months later.

In the past, a reserve to defray expenses during the interim was maintained, but has been depleted. Currently, to cover disbursements during the first half of the year, the City is obligated to borrow money or petition prepayment of taxes from large taxpayers.

Either expedient is unbusinesslike and unworthy of a financially sound municipality such as Pontiac. The remedy is to convert city operations to a fiscal-year basis (on which so many government units operate) beginning at mid-year coincidentally with inflow of tax money.

We urge that the necessary corrective action be initiated without delay.

Teen-Agers Terrorize Woodward Avenue

Like it or not, Woodward Avenue, between Pontiac and Eight-Mile Road, has become a drag strip for teen-age hot rodders. This condition is especially bad during the hours of 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. This is not just hearsay or idle gossip. It is an established fact.

★ ★ ★

There is strong sentiment that some immediate steps should be taken before the problem is completely out of control.

"Dragging" and "hot-rodding" is a game with a good many young boys and girls. If they were playing this dangerous sport on some isolated strip, that would be one thing. But to subject all the motorists from nearby communities to this type of harassment indicates the problem is getting out of hand.

The facts speak for themselves: Each year two out of every five teenagers are involved in traffic mishaps. The high involvement of young drivers is reflected in the fact that liability and collision insurance premiums run from two to three times more for unmarried males under 25 than for their parents.

★ ★ ★

Incidents of two cars pinning a car between them and dragging, or just plain toying with an innocent driver, are too numerous to report. Many times a day the average driver on Woodward is half frightened out of his wits by some young drivers just "Woodwarding" as they refer to it.

Often, motorists minding their own business are practically run off the road by these hot-rodders, just for kicks.

★ ★ ★

The public shouldn't be forced to tolerate these lawbreakers. The law-abiding citizen has a right to expect the laws to be enforced.

Casualties and death are bound to come if these serious traffic violations are not stopped.

After driving Woodward Avenue twice a day for the last six or seven years, this writer feels that a complete breakdown from a safety standpoint now exists.

We are not chastising all the teenage drivers. The majority of the young drivers are outstanding and a credit to their age group.

★ ★ ★

It is the few that persist in utter nonsense and public indifference who are responsible for these activities.

The prospect is bleak and will get worse unless law enforcement officials start an immediate crackdown in the interest of public safety.

JFK Aims Blast at Diem's Brother

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's public crackdown on the U.S.-supported government of South Viet Nam is aimed primarily at forcing the removal from power of the brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

If President Diem is unwilling or unable to remove quickly his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, U.S. officials indicated today the Kennedy Administration will feel compelled to consider other measures.

These measures, it is understood, will include a review of the U.S. aid program with possible cutbacks to follow.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy told a nationwide CBS television audience in an interview from Hyannis Port, Mass., Monday night that the war against Communist forces in Viet Nam could not be won unless the Diem government makes "a greater effort" to win popular support.

He said that changes in policy "and perhaps in personnel" are needed to produce victory in the struggle in which Viet Nam and the United States are partners.

The President, however, carefully refrained from advocating any specific plan of action for the Vietnamese.

CLEANING HOUSE

As one official put it: "The Vietnamese will have to clean house themselves; we can't do it for them."

If Kennedy's warning is taken by dissatisfied elements in Saigon as a bid for revolt against the Diem government it would be no great surprise here.

However, officials said, the problem would be much simpler if Diem would handle the situation himself.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy's outspoken criticism was coupled with an assertion that it would be "a great mistake" to halt military assistance to Viet Nam.

U.S. aid to the small Southeast Asian country is running at the rate of $500 million a year. The total during the past decade is near $3 billion.

While Kennedy ruled out an end to military assistance, officials said there are various actions short of a U.S. decision to abandon South Viet Nam which could be taken and which if the situation gets worse will have to be considered.

AWAIT REACTION

For the moment the Administration policy makers anxiously awaited Saigon's reaction to Kennedy's blast. The President's words were aimed primarily at South Vietnamese leaders, including not only President Diem but also his brother Nhu and the generals who compose the military high command.

David Lawrence Says:

Tax Offender Deserves Sympathy

WASHINGTON — A human problem that concerns the future of one man can sometimes be challenging as well as baffling.

LAWRENCE

To rescue a man—trapped in a coal mine, for instance, hundreds of feet below ground—heroic feats of daring have been tried and have been successful. But how shall a man be saved from himself and the ailments that have dragged him down to disrepute?

The nation has just read that James M. Landis, a respected lawyer, a former government official of prominence and an able public servant, failed to pay his income taxes for the years 1956 through 1960, and now has been sentenced to a prison term for his offense.

★ ★ ★

He was earning large sums—enough to pay what was due the government. He pleaded guilty to willful failure to pay and, when the Internal Revenue Service served him with its demand for payment, he complied.

He gave in court the explanation that he had been too busy with his work to file his returns.

Yet this man was chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission in the 1930s by appointment of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and later became chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board under President Truman.

He served under President Kennedy for a few months in 1961 as special adviser on problems of the regulatory agencies of the federal government.

He had been dean of the Harvard Law School from 1937 to 1946 and had become a member of a prominent New York City law firm.

What, then, is the real explanation for this strange behavior? The public is left to guess or infer what it wishes from a reading of the remarks made in the courtroom by Judge Sylvester J. Ryan of the U.S. District Court as he sentenced Mr. Landis to serve three concurrent terms of 30 days each in prison and to undergo a year of probation. Judge Ryan said in part:

"It is not a pleasant task . . . you still have fruitful years before you. You still can perform some service for the government. I think you and I understand each other . . .

'DIFFICULT TO CONTROL'

"You and I are old men and we have human weaknesses. I have the psychiatric report in front of me. I know the habit you formed is difficult to control.

"It entrapped many, many brilliant men like you. Here I'm giving you a sermon. You could give me a sermon, I'm sure.

"Maybe you can take your place back in life where you belong. I hope God will give you the strength and character to overcome your affliction."

But what was the "habit" to which the judge referred? Newsmen later wrote that they had learned that it was not narcotics or drugs. At one point, Judge Ryan in his comments in court had said "The probation report also shows that he (the defendant) is receiving for some period of time psychiatric treatment. He has been emotionally involved as far back as 1945."

The causes of lapses of memory or emotional disturbances are not easily ascertained. Sometimes psychiatric treatment has been of little avail.

There have been cases of irregular behavior, too, in which no particular habits have been involved, yet individuals have deliberately committed acts of dishonesty in violation of the law.

This correspondent had a casual acquaintance many years ago with Mr. Landis in "new deal" days and has often differed with his views on public questions. But James M. Landis is deserving not only of the compassion which the judge exhibited but the sympathetic help of those who do know him so that he may be aided in fulfilling the hopeful prophecy of Judge Ryan when he said to the prisoner at the bar: "You still have fruitful years before you."

Ex-Viet Envoy Is 'Called' to Speak on Nation's Crisis

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Dr. Tran Van Chuong, who resigned as Vietnamese ambassador in bitter protest against his government's alleged persecution of Buddhists, said yesterday that he feels called to "a new duty."

RUTH MONTGOMERY

"I will stay in America for a time, to lecture and write about what is happening in Viet Nam," he told this correspondent. "It is my duty to my country, in order to help the American people understand the true situation there, I will be able to speak much more freely when I leave the embassy."

Dr. Chuong's daughter is Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu, the tart-tongued "first lady" of Viet Nam who has been spearheading the anti-Buddhist demonstrations.

Her influential husband and his bachelor brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, are Roman Catholics, as is Mme. Nhu, who forsook the Buddhist religion when she married.

★ ★ ★

Because of this close family tie, the deepening crisis which is splitting Viet Nam and hindering its U. S.-financed war effort against the Communist Viet Cong has proved a deeply emotional, as well as an overwhelming diplomatic problem for Ambassador Chuong.

When Mme. Nhu horrified the world by referring to the fiery protest suicides of several Buddhists as "a monk barbecue show," her father was the only Viet Nam official who publicly rebuked her.

The heartbreak is apparent whenever the gentle little lawyer-diplomat speaks of his beautiful, but flamboyant daughter.

★ ★ ★

Ten days after his stormy resignation, the ambassador and his wife are still residing at the Vietnamese embassy here, where they expect to remain for at least another week.

"We are packing," the popular envoy said. With an expressive gesture of his tiny, child-like hands he added:

"But there is so much to do yet in my office! I've been so busy since my resignation that I have scarcely had time for lunch or dinner. The first day, I could not even digest a glass of milk. The moral tension has been very great, as well as the heavy work load."

The departure of Dr. Chuong will create a double vacancy for President Diem to fill, since the brilliant Madame Chuong was Viet Nam's permanent observer at the United Nations until she simultaneously resigned.

So did the entire staff at the embassy here.

'Writer Marlow Confused About Facts on Antigone'

Mr. James Marlow, Associated Press news analyst, had a most interesting article on the background of civil rights. However, he seems to have been the victim of a typographical error or else he is a little fuzzy on fact. From antiquity, Mr. Marlow reminds us, millions of people have in fact, literature, fiction, mythology and religion asserted themselves against what they consider to be unjust treatment. As an example of nonviolent resistance he cites Sophocles' play "Antigone."

★ ★ ★

He says: "It was civil disobedience, but nonviolent when Sophocles' Antigone defied King Creon's order not to bury her mother. He walled her in to die for that."

College freshmen will recall that it was Antigone's determination to bury her slain (and disgraced) brother Polyneikes and thereby be "guilty of holiest crime" that brought down the wrath of Creon.

★ ★ ★

We can thrill again to these words of Antigone as she defies her king: ". . . I did (not) deem thy edicts strong enough, that thou, a mortal man, should'st overpass the unwritten laws of God that know not change. They are not of today nor yesterday, but live forever, nor can man assign when first they sprang to being."

'Why Weren't Veterans Allowed to March?'

The veterans of World War I were fired upon when they marched on Washington in the '30s. Why did we fire upon the veterans who had a "legitimate" claim, and yet permit a group to march on Washington unmolested—even protected and sheltered?

Are we such cowards as to face the real issues? The politicians don't care about you or the Negro race. They only want to pacify this group.

'Can't County Do Something About Dogs?'

Dogs lead a carefree and happy life. A dog can ruin another's property and bark day and night and nothing can be done. A human is made to pay damages or jailed for disturbing the peace.

When I call the dog warden, I'm told nothing can be done, yet they're very fast in collecting money for dog licenses. Let's get some ordinances for loose dogs in our county and receive service for the money paid for dog licenses.

Love My Own Dog

'Law Won't Change Person's Upbringing'

I have heard a number of speakers use the phrase "second-class citizens." They have demanded that Congress pass laws to make Negroes first-class citizens.

I have employed many Negroes and some of them were definitely first-class citizens. They kept their property neat and clean, cultivated flowers and gardens and made good neighbors.

One thing is basic: No laws can make a first-class citizen out of a second-class individual, either white or Negro. Any man, and only that man, can make of himself a first-class citizen.

Babble-rousing speakers, marches or laws will not solve any racial or social problems.

'Must Reduce Spending to Avoid Deficits'

Federal spending must be drastically reduced, especially foreign aid, so as to avoid deficits at home and abroad. This will restore confidence in the dollar; it will arrest the flight of gold; it will prevent further dollar decay.

We must maintain striking forces and defense measures, overwhelmingly superior to those of the Communists. Meantime, the American people must make their will known. Wire your views to Congress and the President; nominate and elect conservative members to Congress; and nominate and elect a conservative president in 1964.

Next Pressure—Job Opportunities

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Renewed pressure for passage of fair employment practices legislation under its new name of "Equal Employment Opportunities" is expected to be a first result of the March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom.

EDSON

The change in name is considered advisable to remove the curse against the wartime FEPC, killed by Congress in 1946.

A bill to set up an "Equal Employment Opportunities Commission" — EEOC — has been introduced in the House by Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif.

It has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee, with some Republican support, and referred to the House Rules Committee.

★ ★ ★

No one is optimistic that EEOC will ever get out of the rules committee. But Rep. Roosevelt also has presented his bill to a House Judiciary subcommittee as an amendment to the omnibus civil rights legislation which is intended to carry out President Kennedy's program.

This legislation is expected to come before the full Judiciary Committee the day after Labor Day. And the Roosevelt amendment is given a good chance for inclusion.

The amendment would cover all employers with more than 25 employes and engaged in interstate commerce.

This is what the Freedom March leaders want. That became apparent when A. Philip Randolph, originator of the march idea, declared in Washington that "Negroes are not yet fully free to obtain the jobs they desire."

★ ★ ★

Pointing out that Negro unemployment rates are two and a half times the national average, the long-time head of the Sleeping Car Porters union put equal job rights as the first objective of the march — ahead of better education, housing, voting rights and equal access to public accommodations.

★ ★ ★

Randolph told a National Press Club audience a little known story of how he got the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt to set up the original FEPC in 1941.

At that time Randolph was organizing another march on Washington. President Roosevelt summoned him to the White House and asked him to call off the march. Randolph refused.

"What do you want me to do?" the President asked him.

Randolph replied that he wanted an order that would enable Negro workers to get jobs in defense plants, inasmuch as Negroes were going into the Army to fight.

★ ★ ★

Randolph says the President replied that he would call up the heads of government departments and tell them to make sure that Negroes would be hired in war plants.

"We want more," Randolph answered. "We want an executive order from you to give us equal job rights."

"I can't do that," Randolph says the President replied. "If I do that for you, I'll have to do as much for every other group that wants something."

"Phil," said the President, "I want you to call off this march." Randolph shook his head.

"There was a full-dress cabinet meeting in session, with Secretary of War Stimson and all the others," Randolph recalls. "The President asked me to go in there and meet with them to see what could be done."

New York's Mayor Fiorello La Guardia was there in his capacity as director of the Office of Facts and Figures. "Let's not waste any time," he told Randolph. "Let's get a committee of five and work it out."

★ ★ ★

Randolph stated his terms. "You're not going to get this march called off unless an executive order is issued and signed by the President giving Negroes equal job rights."

And it was done.

Paying tribute now to President Kennedy for the civil rights message the President has sent to Congress, Randolph declares that, "In addition to his proposals, there must be these other measures enacted into law and implemented."

Economic Projections

Future Looks Bright

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

ECONOMY: More jobs and more income for most American families 10 years hence are part of the generally bright future forecast for the U.S. economy in a National Planning Association study.

Average family income will rise $2,200 from the 1962 figure to $9,300 and the unemployment rate will drop from 5.6 to 4 per cent despite 15 million more workers by 1973, the association's center for economic projections said in a Labor Day forecast.

The major dark spot in the generally optimistic report is for the unskilled worker.

"Unemployment is expected to remain relatively high among nonwhites and, with respect to occupations, among laborers, operatives, and service workers," the study reported.

There will be a 12.5 million increase in white collar jobs, but only 2.5 million for blue collar workers it said.

ANCIENT MARINERS: The Smithsonian Institution reports that Orientals may have crossed the Pacific to South America as long ago as 5,000 years.

"Prehistoric voyages across the Pacific Ocean from southern Japan to the coast of Ecuador—possibly as early as 3000 B.C.—now are postulated on the basis of substantial archeological evidence," the Smithsonian announced Monday.

EXPORTS: President Kennedy will speak at a White House conference to encourage businessmen to expand U. S. exports, it was announced Monday by Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

The conference will be held Sept. 17-18.

Kennedy, in his message to Congress on the balance of payments July 18, said the purpose of the conference is to emphasize to businessmen "that vigorous action to increase their exports would serve their own private interests as well as the national interest."

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said today that President Kennedy is attempting to improve the U. S. balance of payments with only short-term measures that are no more effective than "building sand castles to protect our shores."

"The inbalance of international payments is getting worse —not better—and it threatens to continue along a course unfavorable to us," Javits said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate.

Javits said reform of the world's monetary system is essential, and proposed an international conference to consider long-range solutions.

Work Starts on Buildings at Jackson

JACKSON (AP) — Construction is under way at Southern Michigan Prison on two buildings to be used in a medical research program conducted by two pharmaceutical houses and aided by convict volunteers.

* * *

The Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo is paying for one of the buildings, expected to cost in the vicinity of $250,000 and contain equipment valued at from $30,000 to $40,000.

Parke, Davis & Co. of Detroit will pay for erecting the second building, expected to cost approximately $225,000, including equipment.

Title to both buildings will be held by the state, which agreed to the condition that the use of prisoners in drug research programs will be restricted to Upjohn and Parke, Davis.

* * *

Gus Harrison, director of the Corrections Department, said safeguards similar to those which exist in inmate drug programs now conducted by the two firms will be continued.

Both projects required corrections commission approval.

Harrison said a committee representing the state's medical schools will be selected to screen all drug studies in which inmates participate and the corrections department will have the right to approve or disapprove proposed studies.

* * *

"We want to protect inmates as much as possible and yet help in the discovery of new drugs and further development of old ones," Harrison said.

"Inmates enjoy participating in the programs for their contributions to mankind as much as the money they receive for doing it."

Upjohn said its research will revolve around antibiotics, hormones, and drugs to relieve mental disease, high blood pressure, ulcers and diabetes.

The construction firm of Bantabrooks, Inc., of Lansing is general contractor for both research buildings.

UFL Season Gets Started

Indianapolis Wins Over Grand Rapids

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Indianapolis began its 1963 United Football League season the best way possible last night by beating Grand Rapids, 10-6.

The crowd of 7,100 was treated to a slug-it-out game with all the scoring coming in the second quarter. Indianapolis end Ron Miller began it with a 40-yard field goal with more than 13 minutes left in the period.

* * *

Grand Rapids came back on the next series on the strength of three ground plays, two of which covered 72 yards, Bob Riccuci scoring on an end sweep.

The winning tally for Indianapolis came on a one - yard plunge by fullback Vic Jones and an extra point by Miller.

Woman's Jail Term Set on Banker's Hours

BURLINGTON, Iowa (UPI) — Mrs. Minnie Jones, 34, begins a four-day jail term today but she'll have banker's hours behind bars.

Municipal Court Judge Jesse Thomas decided Mrs. Jones should serve her sentence from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily so that she can go home each night and take care of her six children.

Mrs. Jones pleaded guilty Saturday to petty larceny in a shoplifting incident at a store.

SURPRISE WEDDING — Charlayne Hunter, 21, first Negro girl to attend and graduate from the University of Georgia, and Walter Stovall, 25, white, Douglas, Ga., journalism student. revealed they have been wed since spring.

1st Negro Coed at Georgia Reveals Marriage to White

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlayne Hunter, first Negro girl to attend the University of Georgia, has disclosed she secretly married a white student at the university and they are expecting a child in December.

Her husband, Walter Stovall, 25, of Douglas, Ga., said his father George, a chicken feed manufacturer, greeted news of the marriage with the comment, "This is the end of the world."

* * *

The couple announced their marriage Monday after Stovall's arrival here. He worked this summer as a reporter for the Atlanta Journal.

Mrs. Stovall, 21, said they were married last spring. She graduated in June.

RITES IN NORTH

Stovall declined to give the exact time and place of the wedding but said it was in the North and they spent their honeymoon "on the turnpike."

He said his parents maintain contact with him but refuse to talk about his wife.

The couple kept the marriage secret because Stovall had to spend the summer in Atlanta and, according to his wife, they did not want to add difficulties for him.

* * *

"Now I can wear my wedding ring all the time," Stovall said.

The two met in a campus coffee shop last fall, Stovall said, when he walked in and "there was only one seat—across from Charlayne."

They were seen together—on campus and in his car—"but you really couldn't call it dating," he said, "because there is nothing much to do in Athens (site of the university)."

Mrs. Stovall said they drove to Atlanta to visit integrated theaters and restaurants.

ACCEPTED ROMANCE

She said her friends accepted the romance. Stovall said his "weren't exactly comradely about it."

Her family had no objections to the marriage, she said, but she did not tell them about it until after graduation. "They were worried enough about all the rules of the university," she said.

Her mother works in a real estate office in Atlanta. Her father, Lt. Col. C. S. H. Hunter Jr. of Tampa, Fla., is a retired Protestant Army chaplain.

* * *

Mrs. Stovall is an editorial assistant at the New Yorker magazine. Her husband has another year of college. He said he might continue his education here and work part-time.

They live in a one-room Greenwich Village apartment but expect to move into a four-room apartment in Brooklyn later this month.

The former Miss Hunter entered the University of Georgia in 1961, transferring in her freshman year from Wayne State University in Detroit.

She was one of the first two Negroes to attend the Georgia insitution. The other was Hamilton Earl Holmes, a high school classmate of hers.

Johnson Starts Goodwill Tour With Sweden

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew into gray and cloudy Sweden today on a 15,000-mile goodwill trip to Scandinavia. He called it "a mission of old friendship and new confidence."

Bringing the good wishes of more than a million Americans of Swedish descent and the personal greetings of President Kennedy, Johnson arrived in a 707 jetliner at Arlanda Airport, 25 miles outside Stockholm.

Premier Tage Erlander and members of his cabinet greeted the vice president.

Erlander said he was sure Johnson's visit would strengthen the already close ties between Sweden and the United States.

Israel Reveals Story of Nazi Posed as Jew

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli police have revealed the story of an accused Nazi secret police officer who spent five years in Israel posing as a Jewish doctor to escape prosecution for war crimes.

Police here identified the man yesterday as Herman Schmidt and said he currently is in the hands of West German police for the alleged crimes committed during World War II.

The Israeli police said they had investigated at German request the man known as Dr. Alexander Furt, who practiced medicine in the southern coastal town of Ashkelon near the Gaza Strip from 1949 to 1954.

The man turned out to be Schmidt, police said. They said he had adopted the identity of Dr. Furt, a Jew who died in the Nazi extermination camp at Treblinka, Poland, during the war.

* * *

Israeli sources said they believed Schmidt was a senior officer of the Gestapo (Nazi secret police) at the death camp.

As "Dr. Furt," he carried on the masquerade successfully for five years and then left, supposedly for Argentina, in 1954, police said. It was not known how he had come to the attention of West German authorities.

Men's Hair Piece Firm Seeks Balding Models

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Archie Edmondson, a representative for a men's hair piece firm in Chicago, ran a salesmen wanted ad in a Kansas City newspaper yesterday for men bald or balding.

He reported he got "15 or 20 applicants" for the job. Edmondson said his company seeks bald salesmen so they can model the product.

Delaware Achieves Perfect Safety Score

* * *

Authorities attributed the perfect traffic record to the combined efforts of state police and the Delaware Safety Council in programs of public information and strict law enforcement.

India's Menon Speaks Again

By MICHAEL T. MALLOY

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — V. K. Krishna Menon, whose sharp tongue once claimed a worldwide audience, came out of enforced obscurity recently to defend his now-tarnished record before Parliament.

* * *

He was applauded mildly by his own ruling Congress party, but he was booed by the non-Communist opposition.

The oratory which formerly swayed debates on international issues in the United Nations now made little impact in his own national legislature.

The speech was Menon's first major address before Parliament in nine months — since he was sacked as defense minister for failing to prepare India against Communist Chinese aggression.

NOW SMALL VOICE

During those nine months, the veteran 66-year-old politician and diplomat has shrunk from the strong righthand of Prime Minister Jawaharlail Nehru to a small voice on the left in Nehru's Congress party.

The acid phrases which reverberated across the world for years from the United Nations rostrum now are heard mostly at neighborhood political meetings. The ambition which not long ago aimed at succeeding Nehru as prime minister now is reduced to fighting local precinct elections.

The steep and rapid decline has been a humbling experience for the former international figure who, aloof and proud, snapped at his critics and newsmen and defied American and other Western leaders.

* * *

Since his decline, Menon has tried to win friends in hopes of organizing the Congress party's left-wing into a potent political force.

The immediate reason for Menon's downfall was his inadequacy as leader of India's military machine, a position he held for five years.

INDIA VULNERABLE

He left his country so vulnerable to attack that Red Chinese troops were able to penetrate far into Indian-claimed territory last fall, creating one of India's gravest crises. The Chinese offensive showed India's armed forces to be ill-equipped and poorly-trained.

Despite a friendship of nearly three decades, Nehru found it necessary to fire Menon last November because of mounting criticism.

Menon fell even more swiftly than he rose. Where he formerly commanded attention in the highest circles, his main platform now is his seat in Parliament. He has represented a north Bombay constituency for the last six years.

* * *

He has attended less than half of the lower house's sessions in the past nine months, but he keeps busy button-holing potential supporters in the parliamentary lounges.

* * *

Outside Parliament, his biggest success has been election to a local party committee in New Delhi, a very minor post within the Congress party machinery.

NEW TACTICS

Aside from politics, Menon has turned to law and journalism to keep himself and his policies before the public eye. He has pleaded cases before India's supreme court, and he is understood to be behind a new weekly publication patterned after Britain's New Statesman.

Menon still has the potential for a political comeback in his continued personal friendship with Nehru and the admiration he retains from Indian fellow travelers.

Occasionally a newspaper in his constituency will demand "We want Menon back.' '

But political observers believe it is unlikely that the old firebrand will return to the fore.

* * *

His chances of building a power base within the Congress party machinery are small, since most party members long ago cooled toward the radical socialism for which Menon stands.

Almost three times as many deaths from automobile accidents occur between seven and eight in the evening as occur between the hours of seven and eight in the morning.

Mink drama from Paris is this exciting design—an adaptation of a coalman's hood in Jasmine, Emba pure white mink. The designer is Chombert, one of France's leading furriers.

Fur Adds to Fall Fashion

This season, mink, the favorite of designers and women the world-over, is more than ever the chosen fur to add touches of glamour to fall and winter ready-to-wear fashions.

American-bred mink in the 12 beautiful natural mutations leads the way in trimming new styles, from daytime wear to evening fashions.

Typical of mink-trimmed fashions for day wear is a casually elegant coat by designer Jean Louis. As easy as a bathrobe, the wrap-around coat is in a sand-colored cashmere. Deep dolman sleeves spring from the waist line which is cinched with a sash of the soft fabric.

Heaping luxury upon luxury, Mr. Louis has accented the coat with a collar and cuffs of American-bred natural brown mink, and topped the ensemble with a matching mink pillbox.

* * *

American-bred pure white mink is favored by designer David Kidd of Arthur Jablow to add a glistening touch to a beautiful town suit. Fashioned of a nubby black wool, the suit is styled along straight, slim lines, emphasized by a collar and off-center jacket closing of the snowy fur. A black velvet bow closes the jacket.

A costume by Herbert Sondheim is of a random-ribbed black Anglo wool and features a semifitted hip-bone length jacket over a slim skirt with an attached blouse of black satin.

Added to this elegant look is a tippet of white mink on a black satin band which ties in a pussy-cat bow at the neckline.

FUR FOR HATS

Millinery designers, too, favor the fur this season, and show mink hats in all shapes and in all of the lovely natural colors. Hats vary from tiny skullcaps, to oversized slouch hats, and include bonnets of the fur trimmed in matching chiffon or berets with silk scarves.

* * *

For romantic evenings, top designers have combined the richness of velvets, satins or brocades with soft mink to create a completely luxurious feeling. The fur is used at necklines, to edge or line jackets or flounce at hemlines — in fact, almost anywhere to add the glamour that only mink can give.

American-bred Emba mink has long been favored by the Parisian haute couture for its fur fashions, and many new techniques in handling of the silky fur have originated with Parisian designers.

The late Christian Dior was especially fond of mink, and the tradition has been carried on at the House of Dior by designer Marc Bohan.

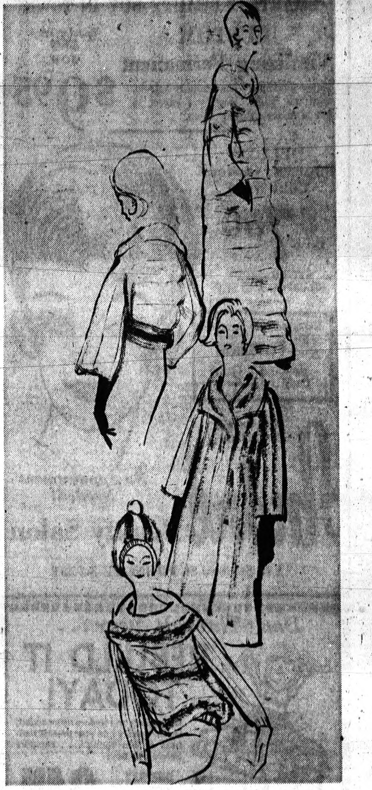
Mink fashions from Dior have always carried a young and exciting feeling, and this season is not an exception. The hit of the show was a floor-length coat of Cerulean, Emba natural blue mink, with wide pelts worked horizontally.

* * *

At Guy - Laroche, viewers applauded a jacket of Jasmine, Emba pure white mink worked in the round and belted at the waist with ranch mink.

At the House of Lanvin, Jasmine mink was used for a full-length coat that appeared to have no seams; and Morning Light, Emba natural blue-beige mink, was fashioned into three-quarters coat with a large shawl collar.

An elegant theater or cocktail ensemble by Christian Dior—New York features a cardigan jacket edged and faced with American-bred natural brown mink. The jacket and easy-fit dress are of pistachio green silk and wool alpaca.



Couture furs from Europe—Mink reigns in Paris couture collections, and here are sketches from leading designers. Top to bottom, from Dior is this exciting floor-length coat of Cerulean, Emba natural blue mink; the short jacket in Jasmine, Emba pure white mink, is belted with dark ranch mink by Guy Laroche; and a three-quarters coat with shawl collar is in Morning Light, Emba blue-beige mink, from Lanvin. From London, Maxwell Croft has created an after-ski ensemble of stripes by alternating Jasmine white mink and Autumn Haze, Emba natural brown mink, for both the sweater and matching cap.

May Girl Wear Gifts After Split?

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Is it proper for a young woman to wear jewelry she received from a man to whom she was once engaged after she becomes engaged to another man?

I received several pieces of jewelry from my former fiance. When the engagement was broken, I returned the engagement ring to him, which he accepted, but he told me to keep the other jewelry he gave me for my birthday, at Christmas, etc.

They are very lovely pieces and I wear them quite a lot. Someone told me that it is belittling to my present fiance to wear the jewelry of another man and that I should discard it.

May I please have your opinion on this?

A: If your fiance has shown displeasure at your wearing this jewelry, you should discard it in deference to his feelings. Otherwise, there is certainly no reason why you may not continue to wear it.

* * *

Q: When signing greeting cards to my daughter's teen friends, I always write, Mrs. Jones," as this is what they call me. I have been told this is incorrect and I should sign Sara Jones.

I know that when writing to my contemporaries I should not sign my name with title, but I think Sara Jones is much too familiar when writing to these young people and might even encourage them to call me by my first name. May I have your opinion, please?

* * *

A: Even to your daughter's teen friends, your correct signature is Sara Jones. If you wish, you may add Mrs. John Jones in parenthesis underneath your signature.

Girl Answers Phone Calls From Mysterious Stranger

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the past month I have been getting telephone calls from a man who has a very nice speaking voice.

ABBY

He asks for me by name, although I am not listed in the phone book. He won't tell me what his name is, or how he got my number. He calls in the evening about four times a week.

To be honest with you, I sort of enjoy these calls, but now it has gone beyond that. He wants to meet me somewhere.

I am 20, have a fairly good job and live at home. My mother thinks he is someone I "met" at work. Do you think it would be all right to meet him in person?

CURIOUS

* * *

DEAR CURIOUS: NO! And if you are wise you'll discontinue the conversations until he tells you who he is and how he got your name and number.

If he refuses, ask the telephone company to monitor your line. Maybe he's harmless, and maybe he isn't. Why take chances?

P. S. Change your number!

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from "a buddy's buddy" who cried along with the guy who didn't want to live any more because he got a "Dear John" letter from his girl back home.

Well, I feel sorry for all the commanding officers who have to play wet nurse to a lot of slobbering cry babies who want to blow their brains out because some two-timing little tramp gave them the brush.

A real man would go out and celebrate getting rid of her. If "a buddy's buddy" is typical of our men in uniform today we should recall some of the old soldiers from World War II.

CAREER MAN

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what to do to gain weight besides getting pregnant? My husband nags at me all the time because I'm so thin.

I've seen a doctor and he said I am in perfect health, and I weigh what I should for my height. I only want to put on some weight to get some peace and quiet.

SKINNY

* * *

DEAR SKINNY: If your doctor says you weigh what you should for your height, don't try to pile on any excess weight to please your husband. Get him a book on diet and health and tell him to beef up his mind.

DEAR ABBY: If "gives a darn" will buy her husband's socks a half-size larger, her hole problem will be solved. Sincerely,

KNOWS DARNED WELL

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

* * *

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's new booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Sue Dorman Marries George E. Budwit

Venise lace accented a gown of white nylon organdy for Sue Ann Dorman who became Mrs. George Edward Budwit, Saturday in St. Michael Church. Rev. John Haynes performed the morning ceremony.

The dropped bodice extended into a full skirt and chapel train. A beehive crown held her silk illusion veil. She carried white Shasta chrysanthemums, yellow roses and ivy.

Parents of the couple are the Robert E. Dormans, South Hammond Lake Drive and the Benjamin E. Budwits of East Longfellow Avenue.

WEAR TAFFETA

Wearing willow green tissue taffeta were Mrs. Ronald Sabourin, matron of honor, with bridesmaids Hillis Mairy Scribner and Karen Antolich, both of Rochester; Carol Ann White, Mrs. Robert Dorman Jr., and Katherine Steinbaugh.

Their colonial bouquets were white Shasta chrysanthemums and ivy.

The convention was ADPi's 112th and was held in Hot Springs, Ark., last June.

The report will be given by Mrs. H. W. Gilbert of Royal Oak, State membership chairman, who represented her alumnae group at the convention.

The first meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Lindsey, 32627 Bingham Lane, with Mrs. Fred Wuellner and Mrs. Richard Houghton serving as cohostesses.

Reception Follows

Cope-Black Rites Held

A reception in Kingsley Inn followed the recent marriage of Hester Lee Black to David D. Cope. Dr. Harold DeWindt officiated at Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian.

Daughter of the William Blacks of West Highland Drive, the bride appeared in petal pink silk organza with floating panel of rose silk organza highlighting the bell skirt. A petal cap topped her short veil of illusion.

White chrysanthemums, pink sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley comprised her colonial bouquet.

Victoria Wilder of Haddonfield, N.J., her cousin's maid of honor and only attendant, appeared in pale-blue taffeta with sash of delphinium blue. Her nosegay was blue and white carnations.

The bridegroom, son of the Douglas D. Copes of Lorain, Ohio, had John Matotek of Lorain for best man. Dennis Cope and William Black Jr. served as ushers.

The bride attended Albion College and was graduated from the University of Houston. She is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority. The couple will reside in Cleveland where he is enrolled at Fenn College.

Human Time Bombs Tick Away Nation

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Her home is a slum cellar; her bed a mattress she shares with a 77-year-old grandmother. She is 14.

The afternoon her friend brought her to see me, she had been out of school for 10 days. I didn't ask her how she had been spending her time because I could feel the tension in her.

Instead, I said, "It will be rough on you going back to school."

She said, "Can I have a cigarette?" As she lit it, she added, without intonation, "I don't read good."

Two days later this human time bomb blew up. She broke into an apartment, stole and was arrested.

Said her friend, "She can't think no more. She shakes all the time. Her place stinks. They don't put out the garbage. She'll be sent up, won't she?"

* * *

"Slum schools are stopping-off places for bewildered, confused children from poverty-stricken, broken and crowded homes," writes Cleveland teacher Ralph E. Loewe in a recent issue of the Saturday Review.

He describes his experience with students whose emotional illness have devoured the energies required for concentration and learning.

I do not quote him to support my experience with the truant child who could not think any more. I quote him because he proposes a solution to the national problem of homes where turbulence and apathy are destroying children's power to think. His proposal is "free, pre-elementary schools for children in underprivileged areas to help them achieve the readiness for education provided in normal middle-class homes."

If you who are reading this live in a "normal middle-class home," the chances are good that you don't know what Lowe is talking about. I believe that to the average middle-class American who reads my description of the truant child, she is as unreal as Cinderella.

And so I have to accept the probability that this reader lacks any experience that would enable him to appreciate the intelligence of the Loewe proposal.

* * *

To appreciate it you have to see the trembling fingers of the sick, truant, chainsmoking child. You have to see her slum cellar, the filthy mattress behind the stove. You have to smell the accumulated garbage and control your shudder at the walls crawling with roaches.

Only then can you hear the time bomb ticking away the minutes for this nation.

Skin Cancer Warned to Sunbathers

CHICAGO (UPI)—Suntanners take warning.

The American Medical Association reports that "several converging lines of evidence" indicate that ultraviolet rays in sunlight are an important factor in producing certain types of skin cancer.

The AMA said studies show that:

About 90 per cent of skin cancer is found on exposed areas, principally the face; skin cancer is rare in Negroes, who are protected by pigmentation; in the United States, there is more cancer in southern states where there is more sunshine; and skin cancer can be produced in mice 100 per cent of the time by using ultraviolet light.

* * *

However, a single overexposure to sun cannot cause cancer, said AMA, although it may cause scarring or pigmentary changes.

It takes long years of being outdoors to produce any danger from sunlight.

Guard Table Linens

Candlelight is romantic, but the drips of candle wax that fall onto your table linens are not. Expert professional care will cure this, but why not prevent the drips by putting the candles in the refrigerator for several hours before lighting them.

Currently 92 per cent of all U.S. farm trucks are classified as light vehicles, rated at 1½ ton capacity or less. Eight per cent rate over 1½ tons.

MRS. JOHN T. VADEN

Ceremony Joins Pair in Wedlock

The Pontiac Riverside Seventh-Day Adventist Church was the setting for the Sunday marriage of Deloris Faye Wilson to John Thomas Vaden.

Elder Donald Copsey of the Jacksen Seventh-Day Adventist Church was assisted by Elder John Erhard of Allen Park during the midafternoon candlelight ceremony.

A sequined lace bodice highlighted a gown of white satin, with chapel train for the daughter of the Paul E. Wilsons of Palmer Street. She donned a fingertip illusion veil and carried white carnations and Satphanotis.

Attending their sister were Verlaine Wilson, maid of honor, and Glenna Wilson, who was bridesmaid, along with Marilyn Patchin and Mrs. Kurt Alexander of Detroit.

Henry Vaden was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the J. T. Vadens of Allen Park. Norman Wilson, Keith Hannah, Cygnet, Ohio, and William Glennie of Clarkston were groomsmen.

Seating some 300 guests who also attended the church reception, were Alan Stevenson, Wyandotte; Kurt Alexander, Gayle Wilson, Berrien Springs, and David Wilson.

They will reside in Lincoln Park after a wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

How to Test Fabric Color

How do you tell if material is colorfast? Here's an easy at-home test. Just sew a piece of white cotton cloth to a piece of the fabric you're testing. Place this swatch in a full glass of cold water and let stand overnight.

The fabric is colorfast if the water is not colored and the white cloth is not stained. Fabrics which are vat dyed never run.

Cocktail Brilliance

New cocktail clothes feature brilliant, luminous colors — such as cinnamon, emerald and gold. Also gold warp prints, and gold, purple, turquoise and beige brocade dresses are chic for evening wear.

American Hurry Habit Affects Foreign Visitor

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—The American habit of hurry is a contagious one, a visitor from behind the Iron Curtain finds.

Susie Kormoczky, Hungary's number one tennis player, observed that "I think I'm getting a little American. I find myself rushing."

"You know," she said, "your mentality in America is so different from ours in Europe. You're so busy being busy you can't stop being busy. I am sure you are happy to be that way. But I would have trouble if I lived in America. I am not that fast."

* * *

Miss Kormoczky, on her second tennis-playing visit to the United States, is one of 76 players from all the continents outside North America invited to compete in the amateur U. S. National Tennis Championships under way at Forest Hills, N. Y., stadium. The matches, with 300 entries from 35 countries, will continue through Saturday.

Hungary and Czechoslovakia are the only Iron Curtain countries represented this year, the second year in which the privately-financed "people to people" project sports committee has invited foreign players to come to the matches as its guests.

BACKS EXCHANGES

Miss Kormoczky, who has been playing tennis for 30 of her 39 years, spoke strongly in favor of such exchanges of peoples.

"Whether in sports, or in other ways of life," she said, "the exchange of ideas . . . getting to know other peoples . . . this is good."

Asked where she was when the bloody anti-Soviet revolt occurred in Hungary seven years ago, she answered only, "in Budapest."

She was reluctant to discuss politics or the living standard of her people today except to say that "life is very nice now. The people are living comfortably."

* * *

The tennis star, a slim brunette with hazel eyes and a height of only 5 feet, has been the top-ranked woman player of her country "for ages," she said.

She played in tournaments in St. Petersburg and Miami, Fla., in 1961, and through the years has played in tournaments at Wimbledon, Cote d'Azur on the Mediterranean coast, in Rome, Hamburg, Prague, Paris, and Moscow, as well as in her native Budapest.

WORRIED BY COURTS

She expressed worry of her showing at Forest Hills because, like many of the foreign guests, she will be playing on grass courts to which she is not accustomed.

She is used to daily workouts on the clay courts not far from her house in the Hungarian capital.

* * *

In private life, Miss Kormoczky is the daughter of an architect and the wife of Goro Sandor, a professor of medicine at the university in Budapest. The couple has one child, a 14-year-old girl who rapidly is developing into a competitive player, her mother said.

The tennis star speaks fluent English—she learned the language, not in school, but through associates of her husband and from travelers to the city, she said. Her regular job is with an export company in Budapest.

* * *

Miss Kormoczky said she had been playing tennis steadily ever since she was 9, except for a time out last year for surgery.

"I developed tennis elbow," she said. "Now you'd think that after 30 years of play, I'd be ready to settle back and not compete.

"But tennis is a passion. You can't call it a disease, because a disease you can cure."

An Outline for Letters

'How Can I Get a Job?'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE P-495: Norman P., 24, is just out of military service.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am looking for a good job.

"But I don't know how to find it. I have applied at a couple of factories, but thus far I haven't landed anything.

DR. CRANE

"In today's newspaper, I saw an advertisement that sounds very much like what I want.

"But the ad doesn't give the name of the firm. It simply lists a P. O. Box number.

"So I must write a letter, yet I don't know what to say. Would you please outline what a fellow should put into such a letter?"

LETTER PSYCHOLOGY

On page 759 of my college textbook Psychology Applied you can read more fully on this matter, so look it up in your local library if you wish.

But please remember that a letter is not intended primarily to win you the job but is just to gain an interview!

Too many young people wander around in tiresome detail and fill several pages with secondary material that should be reserved for answering specific questions after they gain the interview.

★ ★ ★

If you can learn the actual name of the personnel director or the prospective employer, then address your salutation to him.

In cases like Norman's, however, where you have only a P. O. Box number, start your letter with a "Dear Sir."

Then state in your short opening paragraph that you are looking for a position that offers a future for a person of your qualifications, so you are listing the following data on yourself:

Now indent your letter deeply and in capital letters list these four major headings:

(1) EXPERIENCE. Under this, briefly outline two or three of your major jobs. Put the most important one first, and you generally don't need to list the actual date of such employment.

Instead, say, "Assistant Office Manager, Hopkins Syndicate, two years."

(2) TECHNICAL TRAINING. Here you include educational background, as high school graduate, diploma from business college, or two years at electronics school, etc., preferably naming the college.

(3) PERSONAL DATA. List your height and weight, state of health, single or married, plus the amount of life insurance you carry, for insurance suggests a man with foresight and executive judgment.

If you have already served your required time in the military, state the fact.

If you are middle-aged, then skip your age and wait till you get the personal interview to answer such questions.

(4) REFERENCES. List three or four who have "handles" on their names, such as judge, or president of a bank, or professor or reverend.

For those "handles" will indirectly endorse you even before your references are contacted.

Then sign off briefly. And have your letter typed!

For further advice, send for my booklet on "Vocational Guidance," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

The development of a baby's vision is a gradual thing just as all phases of physical and mental development. At birth, he can distinguish only light and dark and his eyes work independently. But along about 3 months of age eye muscles are sufficiently developed to focus both eyes at the same time. By this time, too, vision sharpens and he begins to distinguish shapes, responds happily to familiar faces and bright-colored objects.

•

Sight-seeing strategy. Eye muscles need exercise to develop. You can encourage baby to exercise his eyes by providing things that will help him on his sight-seeing excursions. A gently swaying mobile... bright-colored or glint 'n' glitter. A gay toy or two attached to his crib . . . a balloon tied to playpen bars. And, if you place the crib where he can follow your comings and goings, he'll get plenty of happy eyefuls.

•

Eye-appeal for a baby meal. We all know that babies react favorably to pleasing flavors but little appetites respond to pleasing colors, too. Gerber Strained Egg Yolks have the sunniest color that ever lighted up a baby's eye. Add to this a dreamy, creamy texture and a delicious fresh-egg flavor and you've a delicacy fit for a little prince or princess. High in vitamin A, rich in iron and a good source of protein, Gerber Egg Yolks offer excellent nutritional benefits.

•

Juicy story with nutritional overtones. Gerber Strained Fruit Juices offer sipping pleasure beyond measure and all the vitamin C your baby needs. (One can of any Gerber Juice will provide over 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for infants.) Nine delightful varieties—all delicate in flavor and carefully pasteurized for baby's protection. Has your baby tried the two newest Gerber offerings: Mixed Fruit Juice and Prune-Orange? Cheddar Cheese Adds Color to Fruit Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When our reader said she had a recipe for pineapple-cheese salad, we were a little dubious; we've had umpteen recipes for that, we thought.

But Mrs. Paul Vancil fooled us. She has a recipe for a really different salad. She says it is nice to take to cooperative parties.

Mrs. Vancil considers homemaking her hobby. She likes to sew. Church work takes a little of her time. Both her daughters are married and there is one grandchild.

PINEAPPLE-CHEESE SALAD
By Mrs. Paul Vancil

1 can pineapple tidbits, drained
1 cup cheddar cheese, cubed
1 cup miniature marshmallows
Mix together in a bowl.
⅓ cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg, slightly beaten

Mix dry ingredients and add egg and pineapple syrup. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Pour over pineapple, cheese and marshmallows and mix thoroughly. If desired, garnish with maraschino cherries. Serves 4-6.

Patio Tables New in Steel

Sparkling white outdoor furniture, made of see-through steel mesh, will add a decorative touch to porch or patio — and has the added advantage of being resistant to all kinds of weather.

However, these chairs and tables — with slender, curved arms and legs — must be kept clean to look their best. So wash them often with soap or detergent suds, using a stiff brush to get at dirt lodged in the mesh. Then rinse with the garden hose.

School Set Raves for This Luncheon

For a high flavor but low calorie lunch for the school set, try this combination: tuna and celery sandwich with sliced cucumbers and lettuce on rye bread (tuna salad to be made with low calorie dressing), a couple of olives, 1 fresh fruit, 1 thin slice pound cake and skim milk (to be purchased at school lunch room or packed in thermos).

Tigers' Lary, 5-4 Loser to NY's Ford, Makes Confession

Likes to Beat Yankees More Than Others

Aguirre Gains Split, Pitches 2-1 Triumph Before 43,926 Fans

DETROIT (AP) — After all these years of reigning as master of the Yankees and being matter of fact about it, Frank Lary has a confession.

Yes, he would rather beat the Yankees than any other team.

And so would Hank Aguirre. Aguirre did it and Lary didn't yesterday as the Tigers divided a double-header with New York before 43,926, largest crowd of the year in Tiger Stadium.

* * *

Whitey Ford became the American League's first 20-game winner in outdueling Lary in the opener for a 5-4 Yankee victory. Aguirre followed by picking up his 14th victory in a 2-1 decision over the runaway league leaders.

Through the years as he dominated the Yankees as few pitchers ever have Lary always parried questions about his novel ability to beat the perennial pennant winners. He always said all teams are treated equally — but his pitching told a different story.

Now this is the new Lary, battling back from the minors after a season and a half of shoulder trouble. This was his first appearance of his comeback against the Yankees and he wanted to win badly.

"Yes, to tell the truth, I was a little more anxious when I got to the park than before my other games," said the veteran right-hander.

"I'd like to have shown those guys we — all of us — can beat them. They run around beating everybody and it would have been good for us to win.

"As it is, they didn't exactly knock me around."

The bitter loss sliced Lary's career mastery over the Yankees to 28-12, a .700 percentage.

Lary hasn't beaten the Yakees since April 13 last year when he hurt himself in the frigid opener. He hadn't faced them since last September.

But he'll get another chance Saturday at New York.

EIGHTH FOR HANK

Aguirre, a newcomer among the Yankee killers, recorded his eighth victory over New York, the sixth since he replaced Lary in the starting rotation early last season.

The split dropped the Tigers from fifth to sixth, one percentage point behind Boston.

Joe Pepitone delivered the blow that killed Lary. He smacked a three-run homer with two-out in the fifth, snapping a 2-2 tie.

Mantle Returns, Ford Wins

Yanks Have Series Tune-up

By The Associated Press

It was only Labor Day, but it had all the looks of a World Series Yankees.

Whitey Ford went seven innings plus in posting his 20th victory and Mickey Mantle was back in the starting line-up.

It happened in Detroit Monday as the Yankees held onto their American League cushion of an even dozen games with a double-header split against the Tigers.

* * *

Ford became a 20-game winner for the second time in his 12-season career in the opener, taken by the Yanks 5-4. Mantle was a starter for the first time since June 5 in the second game, a 2-1 squeaker won by the Tigers behind left-hander Hank Aguirre's neat pitching.

J.C. Martin's two-run double in the last of the ninth inning gave Chicago's second-place White Sox an 8-7 decision over Los Angeles and a doubleheader split against the Angels. Los Angeles ripped out 15 hits in capturing the opener 7-5.

Minnesota put on another power show and climbed to within one-half game of the White Sox by knocking off Kansas City twice, 6-2 and 3-1. Boston dropped Baltimore in a pair, 4-3 as Bill Monbouquette won his 19th and 3-0 on the five-hit pitching of rookie Bob Heffner; Cleveland and Washington blasted 12 homers in a split, the Indians romping in the opener 15-3 and the Senators squeezing by in the second game 8-7.

Mantle, out of action completely for two months with a broken foot and resultant knee trouble, had been confined to pinch hitting before his start in center field in Monday's second game. Mantle's loss hadn't been felt by the Yanks—except perhaps at the gate—but they'd feel a lot safer with the switch-hitting slugger in prime shape for the Series.

Mantle rapped two singles against Aguirre, who stifled several threats in turning in an eight-hitter. The Tigers overcame a 1-0 deficit with their two runs in the third inning against Stan Williams on Bill Bruton's double, Dick McAuliffe's bunt single, a sacrifice fly by Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito's single.

Joe Pepitone's three-run homer against Frank Lary in the fifth inning of the opener broke a 2-2 tie and powered Ford to his 20th victory.

STREAK SNAPPED

The Angels stopped Gary Peters' winning string at 11 games by holding off the White Sox in the opener and appeared headed for a sweep when they came from four runs back and took a 7-6 lead into the ninth inning of the second game. But Martin pulled it out for Chicago with his two-run double, following a double by Ron Hansen and a walk to Jim Cunningham.

Knuckleballing reliever Hoyt Wilhelm was the White Sox winner, for the third time in as many days.

Ed Bressoud's two-run triple in the seventh inning and Dick Radatz' relief pitching helped Monbouquette to his 19th victory. Bob Tillman and Dick Stuart singled in the Red Sox runs against Baltimore in the second game, in support of Heffner.

* * *

The Twins' slugging triplets—Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jim Hall—each blasted a two-run homer in the double victory over the Athletics. Killebrew hit his 34th and Allison his 31st in the opening game, won by Bill Pleis with 5 2-3 innings of two-hit relief. Hall smacked his 28th homer in the second game, while Lee Stange pitched a five-hitter for Minnesota.

Homers by Larry Brown, Max Alvis, John Romano and Joe Adcock drove across 10 Indian runs in their rout of the Senators, then Don Zimmer, Ed Brinkman, Jim King and pitcher Ed Hobaugh homered in Washington's narrow victory. Alvis and Joe Azcue also connected for Cleveland in the second game, while pitcher Don Rudolph and Don Lock had Washington homers in the opener.

Jack Kralick went the distance for Cleveland in the first game but the Tribe used seven pitchers in the second.

Wins Southern 500 in Ford

'Fireball' Enjoys Safest Labor Day

DARLINGTON, S. C. (UPI) — Fireball Roberts' idea of a safe Labor Day is to race a powerful car before 70,000 people at speeds up to 134 miles per hour and run into the wall only once.

That's what he did Monday and it won him the 14th annual Southern 500 Stock Car racing title plus $22,325.

The Fords finished in the first four spots. Marvin Panch of Charlotte, N. C., was second, 17 seconds behind Roberts; Freddy Lorenzen, Elmhurst, Ill., was third, a lap behind, and Nelson Stacy, Daytona Beach, Fla., was fourth.

It was one of the safest big stock car races ever run. For the first time in a Southern 500 there was no display of the caution flag. Only once did a tire pop.

Roberts, a 32-year-old veteran racer from Daytona Beach, Fla., smacked his purple Ford into the retaining wall in front of the main grandstand coming out of a curve.

"I wasn't paying attention," he said. "I was watching my instruments."

SLIGHT SCUFF

But the damage was only a slight fender scuffing and Roberts was able to conclude, after riding his mobile oven for four hours, "This was the safest Labor Day I ever spent."

Fireball had spent 13 Labor Days here. He won the 500 — regarded as the Kentucky Derby of stock car racing—only once before, in 1958.

It was by the far the fastest 500 ever run here. Ideal track conditions, the absence of a caution flag and Roberts' finally tuned Ford — "I could get a 134-mile per hour lap whenever I wanted it"—combined to produce an average winning speed of 129.784 mph.

Mercurys showed well, with Darel Dieringer, Rex White and Joe Weatherly riding them to fifth, sixth and seventh place finishes respectively.

Bobby Johns in a Pontiac and Buck Baker in a Chevy gave General Motors, which no longer supports racing, its only top ten finishes. Johns was ninth and Baker tenth.

FLYING GIANT — Hugh McElhenny of the New York Giants hurdles Dan Gurrie (58) of the Green Bay Packers in the 1st quarter of their game last night in Green Bay before a sellout crowd. Packers' Willie Davis (87) pursues the flying Giant. The Packers defeated the Giants, 24-17.

Whip Giants Again

Amen . . . . Packers

By The Associated Press

The Green Bay Packers are still the Green Bay Packers, which means masters of the New York Giants and the rest of the National Football League.

Where that puts the College All-Stars is problematical, but it puts the Packers squarely atop the scramble as the 14 NFL teams move closer to their season openers some 12 days from now.

The Packers, rolling to their fourth victory since that ignominious 20-17 loss to the Collegians on a hot night in Chicago a month ago, smacked the Giants 24-17 before a roaring, sellout crowd of 42,327 at Green Bay Monday night.

It was the champs' seventh straight victory over the Giants, the team they whipped in the NFL title game the last two years, and their 23rd pre-season game without a loss against NFL opposition.

A grind-it-out second half did the job for Green Bay this time after the Giants, capitalizing on two pass interceptions, had taken a 17-14 lead in the first two periods.

* * *

Jim Taylor, who scored the only Green Bay touchdown in last December's 16-7 title game, banged over from the two for the go-ahead points in the third period. Jerry Kramer sealed it with a 25-yard field goal late in the quarter.

LONG RUN

Taylor also scored from the one in the first half, which was marked by two electrifying long-distance strikes. The first was a 100-yard kickoff return by the Packers' Herb Adderley. The second, a touchdown by Dick Lynch of the Giants, after the second period had expired, that completed a 91-yard return of a pass interception.

Erich Barnes, the New York defender whose interception had set up the Giants' first touchdown, deflected Bart Starr's pass on the last play of the half. Jim Patton grabbed it at the New York 9, scrambled up to his own 33, where he lateralled to Lynch. Lynch went the rest of the way to the end zone.

* * *

The loss was the third in four exhibitions for the Giants, Eastern Division champions four of the last five years.

The Green Bay-New York game, which boosted NFL pre-season attendance over 914,000 with six dates remaining next weekend, climaxed an 11-day pro football program over the Labor Day weekend.

Cubs Sweep Doubleheader

Willie Woozy as Giants Fall Twice

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays is woozy, and the Giants are dead.

Both collapsed during a Labor Day doubleheader at San Francisco, Mays from exhaustion and the Giants from an overdose of Ron Santo's slugging and the pitching of Dick Ellsworth and Glen Hobbie.

Ellsworth became the first Chicago Cub pitcher since 1945 to post 20 victories by winning the opener 7-5 before Hobbie put the finishing touches on the doubleheader sweep and the Giants' pennant chances with a two-hit, 6-0 second-game victory.

Santo, meanwhile, went 4-for-8 with seven runs batted in for the twinbill, hitting a grand slam homer and solo shot in the nightcap as the defending champion Giants fell 9½ games behind National League leading Los Angeles.

The Dodgers remained six games in front of second-place St. Louis, whipping Houston 7-3, as Sandy Koufax won his 21st, and 7-1. The Cardinals kept pace by downing Pittsburgh 6-1 and 6-2.

Milwaukee closed to within one-half game of the Giants despite a 9-4 loss to Philadelphia and Cincinnati gained a doubleheader split with New York, winning the nightcap 1-0 as Jim Maloney won his 20th with a three-hitter after the Mets took the opener 5-3.

SENT HOME

Mays, the Giants' $100,000-a-year center fielder, suffered a dizzy spell and dropped to one knee after fouling off a pitch in the fourth inning of the opener. He was examined by Dr. E.C. Sailer and sent home to rest.

Dr. Sailer said Mays, hitting .301 with 32 homers and 88 runs batted in, should be back in action today. "He just told me he was tired and felt weak," said Dr. Sailer." He had no blurry vision or anything like that. I advised him to get some rest and prescribed a sedative."

A year ago this month, Mays collapsed at Cincinnati as the Giants battled for the NL pennant. He was out for three days. At the end of the season, Mays underwent extensive hospital tests which showed that nothing was wrong with his health.

Ellsworth, a 20-game loser last year, brought his record to 20-7 in the opener with Lindy McDaniel's relief help. The Cubs snapped a tie in the fifth with three runs—two on a fly by Billy Williams that fell in for a double when shortstop Jose Pagan and left fielder Cap Peterson collided. In the nightcap, Hobbie, 6-9, allowed only a third inning single by Felipe Alou and a triple by Willie McCovey in the ninth.

NEAR RECORD

Koufax, 21-5, struck out 13 for a 259 total, moving to within 10 strikeouts of his own season record for a lef-thander. The Dodgers put it away with a four-run fourth in which Tommy Davis and Frank Howard contributed doubles and Willie Davis smacked a triple. Johnny Podres, 12-10, and Ron Perranoski held the Colts to five hits in the second game while John Roseboro hit a two-run homer.

The Cards won both ends of a doubleheader for the first time this season behind the strong pitching of Bob Gibson, 15-8, and Ron Taylor, 9-6. Gibson checked the Pirates on seven hits and hit a homer while Ken Boyer and George Altman homered behind Taylor.

★ ★ ★

Bobby Wine's two-run homer broke a tie in the fourth inning and Tony Taylor wrapped up the scoring for the Phillies and Cal McLish, 13-9, with a two-run shot in the ninth. Hank Aaron hit his 36th homer for the Braves.

Duke Carmel rapped a single, double and triple while Al Jackson pitched a six-hitter for the Mets victory. Maloney, 20-6, struck out 13 in the nightcap and got the only run he needed when Pete Rose slammed the first pitch of the game by Jay Hook for a homer.

Dupas Ends Training

MILAN (AP) — Ralph Dupas, world junior middleweight boxing champion, ended his training Monday night for Friday's title defense against Italian Sandro Mazzinghi.

Former Prep Teammates Share Mound Spotlight

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was a strange quirk of fate that Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds and Dick Ellsworth of the Chicago Cubs should "arrive" as 20-game winners on the same day.

Neither had been a National League winner of stature until this year. But Ellsworth defeated the crumbling Giants, 7-5, at San Francisco in the Labor Day diamond festivities for a 20-7 mark and 3,000 miles away in New York the fireballing Maloney beat the Mets, 1-0, for a 20-6 record.

★ ★ ★

All of which was a double dose of success for two former high school teammates from Fesno, Calif., who reached the majors in a rather strange manner.

It started for them in 1958 when Cub scouts went to inspect Maloney, a high school shortstop, but instead of inking him grabbed off Ellsworth.

They should, in the light of developments, probably have taken them both but you can't say they made a mistake in latching onto Ellsworth.

Because his victory over the Giants yesterday made him the Cubs first 20-game winner in 18 years.

Meanwhile, Maloney, ignored by the Cubs, drew the attention of the Reds and they suggested that he switch from shortstop to pitching. It was a rewarding move, because he reeled off 19 straight no-hit innings at Fresno State College in 1959.

Ellsworth, a six foot, four inch southpaw, was 1-7 at Fort Worth in 1958, 10-14 at Fort Worth in 1959, 2-0 at Houston in 1960 before being taken up to the Cubs where he finished 7-13.

In the last two seasons, he was 10-11 and 9-20, respectively. This season he finally got an assist from the long-inept Cubs, however, and the payoff has been dazzling.

Maloney had the benefit of playing with what had to be considered a more solid club and yet, in a way, his arrival at the top has been even more sensational.

Gary's Gallery Cheers Win

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — The sign read: "Gary's Gallery." Carrying it were six teen-age boys garbed in black—just like Gary Player.

There was no "Arnie's Army" or any similar rooting faction for Jack Nicklaus.

The $50,000 Holiday Golf Classic strictly was made up of cheers for Player during the 36-hole exhibition at the par 35-35—70 Glen Flora Country Club.

He won by two strokes in the two-day extravaganza which drew a total of about 6,000 golfing bugs.

NEW PRESTIGE

The victory brought Player renewed prestige of a sort, and $20,000. He won with a 67-69—136. Nicklaus, the PGA and Masters champion, received $16,000 for shooting 68-70—138. Palmer, the leading money-winner, settled for last with 67-74—141 and $14,000.

★ ★ ★

Highlights of the final round included:

Palmer calling a penalty stroke on himself for back-handing a putt and taking a double bogey 5 on the 11th to blow out of it.

Nicklaus going ahead by one strike after 27 holes, then missing in succession 6, 9 and 5 foot putts starting with the 11th to yield.

Player, the only steady one in the high wind, wrapping it up with two birdie wedge shots — one to within inches of the hole on No. 13 and another within one yard on the 538-yard No. 15.

London Offers Self as Sparring Partner

LONDON, (UPI) — There was Brian London, standing in front of the table where heavyweight champion Sonny Liston was sitting, holding out his hand to shake with the champion. Liston reached out and—

Picked up a glass of water.

★ ★ ★

It happened during a reception given here for Liston yesterday by fight promoter Harry Levene. London, who once lost to Floyd Patterson in a title fight, showed up unexpectedly at the affair to offer his services to Liston "as a sparring partner."

Liston just stared at London. Still staring, he ignored the outstretched hand and picked up the water glass.

Then, still without saying a word, he looked closely at a ring on London's finger. The champion still said nothing when London took off the ring for a closer examination.

Later Liston explained, "I did not shake hands with the guy because I was busy." The crowd roared with laughter.

★ ★ ★

Liston is scheduled to open an exhibition tour of Britain at the Empire Pool here on Sept. 10 with further stops at Birmingham, Leicster, Newcastle, Glasgow, and Belfast.

Sonny said he would accept London's offer to be a sparring partner but Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, interrupted and said, "We need opponents."

Last Pontiac 9 Ousted in Softball Semifinal

Pontiac's Town & Country tried mixing softball and the hours of a nite owl, and lost yesterday on the final day of the state Class C recreation softball tournament.

The city's last hope for a state championship was ousted by Battle Creek, 5-4, in the semifinal round of play.

Earlier on the holiday weekend, Arro Realty and Elks 810 had bowed in their efforts to bring back the state Class A and D titles.

Town & Country defeated Freeland, 6-1, in its first start Saturday, then fought until early Sunday morning before losing a 5-2 verdict to Cheboygan — the eventual state "C" champion.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's entry came right back Sunday for a 13-4 romp that eliminated Grand Rapids. T&C next met host Coldwater and that game lasted until approximately 2 a.m. Monday before the hometown squad was ousted, 6-5, in nine innings.

QUICK RETURN

Coming right back yesterday morning, however, Town & Country ran out of time in the last inning. It fell behind 5-0 early in the contest, and then fought back to a 5-4 deficit.

But with the tying run on third and the winning run on second base in the bottom of the seventh, the locals could not produce the key blow that would have put them into the finals.

Cheboygan then took Battle Creek, 1-0, and wrapped up the title.

Cal Atwood's pitching was a dominant factor in the success experienced by Town & Country at Coldwater. He tossed a five-hitter against Freeland, limited Grand Rapids to seven hits and slammed a home run, and went all the way against Coldwater to gain that extra-inning victory.

Jerry Wedge carried a big bat for the Pontiac team. He had two hits against Freeland, slammed a single, double and grand slam homer for six runs batted in off Grand Rapids' hurling, and drove in two runs with a double and triple in a losing cause against Battle Creek.

Elks 810 also was a victim in the semifinals, losing 3-1 to Allen Park. Allen Park also topped the city entry in its first Class D start, 3-0, before the Elkmen ran off three straight wins to reach the semifinals.

Allen Park, in turn, was eliminated by Brekenridge in the championship finals, 4-3.

Arro won its first start in "A", 1-0, then lost by the same score before being eliminated, 6-1, by Benton Harbor when the locals' defense fell apart.

★ ★ ★

The Class A crown is worn by Midland which retained its title with a 2-0 victory over Sault St. Marie. Midland had only toppled Arro by a 1-0 count.

Other state recreation softball championships were won by Dearborn, 2-0, over Allen Park in Class AA, and Benton Harbor, 4-2, over Port Huron in "B."

AP Photofax

BOTH WAYS — Kansas City scout Mercer Canton (left) gave the Athletics ambidextrous hope for the future by signing 18 year old James Haley of Canton, Georgia. The 185 pounder pitches with either hand, having won 10 games in the East Cobb League this year, 8 righthanded and two lefthanded. He struck out 18 batters last Saturday with the right hand and struck out six three days prior to that lefthanded in relief.

Exhibition Finale Saturday Night

Limping Lions Back to Work Again

The Detroit Lions went back to work today.

After enjoying a three-day Labor Day weekend holiday, coach George Wilson started working the club hard in an attempt to get the Lions in top-top shape for the start of the National Football league season on Sept. 14 at Los Angeles.

Detroit will play its final exhibition game Saturday in New Orleans against Dallas.

Detroit has only a 2-2 exhibition record this season and put on a drab showing Friday night while suffering a 22-7 setback at the hands of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The most encouraging report is on flanker back Terry Barr, whose knee survived the pounding of his first exhibition game.

Barr limped from the field in the third quarter of the Steeler exhibition game but that was after being kicked in the helmet and he didn't suffer any after effects of that injury.

Barr missed practically the rest of the season after he injured his knee in the fifth game last year and he re-injured it in practice but now it seems sound again.

The Lions were worried about the flanker back position since Pat Studstill, who replaced Barr last season, is sidelined with a knee injury for the entire season.

Milt Plum, who hasn't played since the opening exhibition game, is expected to see a lot of action this week as he prepares to move back nito the lineup. Plum has been sidelined with a knee injury he got in the opening exhibition against Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

The Lions haven't been too satisfied with the work of Earl Morrall at quarterback during Plum's absence and hope that plum can go against Dallas this weekend.

Larry Ferguson, Carl Brettschneider and Bobby Watkins, who have all been sidelined with a variety of ailments, also are expected to resume action.

Wants National Titles First

McKinley Has Pro Ideas

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Chuck McKinley is interested in taking a fling at pro tennis, but there are a few jobs he wants to complete before he starts talking turkey.

"I want to win the national championship and I want to help bring the Davis Cup back from Australia," the Wimbledon king said today. "I hope I can do both this year.

★ ★ ★

"Then I may be a big enough attraction that they would make me an attractive offer. I'd be foolish to say I wouldn't listen. But I promise you, I wouldn't come cheap."

McKinley, whose bid for the national men's crown hung by a slender thread Saturday when he tore a muscle in his back, scored a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, second round victory over Jiri Javorsky of Czechoslovakia.

"This back trouble may be a blessing in disguise," the 22-year-old Trinity University student from San Antonio, Tex. said. "This should help my ground strokes. I find myself concentrating more on every shot."

PACE SLOWED

Unable to jump around, bashing and banging away in the style that has become his personal trademark, McKinley has been forced to play well within himself. He has been serving at three-quarter pace and indulging in none of his murderous smashes and killing volleys.

He wore a corset in his second round match but took no pain-killing drugs.

"I felt okay," he said afterward. "Maybe it's largely in my head —I'm afraid to stretch for fear of pulling something."

McKinley, who met South African Lex Wood today, plans to skip the fall semester at Trinity in order to concentrate on tennis and the Davis Cup.

★ ★ ★

McKinley will not be on the squad which faces Venezuela in the American Zone final at Denver Sept. 13-15. He has made a previous tournament commitment and he's not figured to be needed, anyhow. But he'll be the spearhead the rest of the way. The Americans — after Venezuela — play England at Bournemouth Sept. 26-28 and then, if successful, go to India and on to Australia.

captain, said the team for the captain, said the team for then-Venezuela match would be named today. It probably will be made up of Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.; Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill., Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., and Arthur Ashe, the first Negro member from Richmond, Va.

★ ★ ★

Scott, the polished stylist out of Yale University and the Virginia Law School, was the most impressive of those playing second round matches Monday. He won over his old teammate, Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Riessen had to go five sets in beating Ronnie Fisher of Houston 1-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2. Ashe started shakily but rallied for a 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Norman Perry of Los Angeles. Rafael Osuna, the fourth-seeded star from Mexico, also had his anxious moments in beating Jim Beste of Baton Rouge, La., 6-2, 6-4, 13-11.

ENOUGH LIGHT

None of them drew the cheers that came for 40-year-old Vic Seixas, veteran of half a dozen Davis Cup campaigns. Finishing in semidarkness that challenged his contact lenses, the old war horse from Philadelphia clipped Jim McManus of Berkeley Calif. 7-5, 7-9, 8-6, 6-4.

Margaret Smith of Australia, striving to add the U.S. national to her Wimbledon crown, advanced easily over Janie Albert of Pebble Beach, Calif., 6-2, 6-1. Darlene Hard of Los Angeles, seeded No. 2 behind Miss Smith, ousted Monique Salfacti of France 6-1, 7-5.

PAR OR BETTER

By JULIUS BOROS

U.S. OPEN CHAMPION

MAKE A MENTAL PICTURE OF SHOT

Using the driver, play the ball off the left heel.

Be sure the arms are in a comfortable and natural position.

The club actually must resemble and be considered as an extension of the arms.

Make certain the feet are properly placed, with equal weight distribution, and the toes pointed slightly outward to aid balance.

GRIP

Check the grip before assuming the stance.

Look down the fairway and make a mental picture of the shot. You have gripped the club but have not soled it behind the ball.

After taking only a few practice swings, you will discover your stroke with this long club is more of a sweeping motion than was your hit-down-and-through arc with the iron.

Due to the added loft of the medium iron, you actually were developing a down-and-through motion even though concentrating on merely hitting the ball solidly, with the clubhead doing the work.

Also due to the added length, the driver drags along the ground on your backswing a little longer than it did with shorter-shafted medium irons.

★ ★ ★

Swing the driver as fast as you can and still maintain timing and rhythm. Speed adds distance to your shot, but don't sacrifice harmony in your pattern just to develop a fast swing.

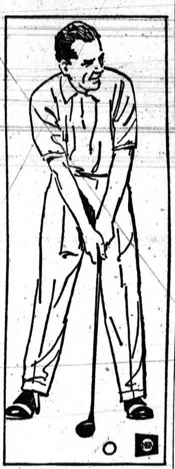
Pivot with a natural rhythm. Remember that this regulates the speed of the swing.

It is just as fatal to underswing as to overswing.

Not only will you keep the driver low to the ground longer than you did the medium iron, but you will also take it back farther due to the added length.

DRIVER

The driver should be practically parallel to the ground at the top of your backswing, whereas your medium iron was in more of an upright position.



SURVEY—After checking the grip before assuming stance, Julius Boros looks down the fairway and makes mental picture of the shot. He has not soled club behind ball.

★ ★ ★

WISCONSIN — Halfback Pete Hambrick of Hinsdale, Ill., was the only candidate missing as 65 Badger hopefuls worked out in a light rain. Hambrick, a sophomore, was sidelined with a throat infection.

MINNESOTA — Coach Murray Warmath, who has only 12 lettermen for the greenest squad in 10 years as Gopher head coach, grumbled about the rain as his squad started two-a-day drills. "For a young squad like ours," he said, "This was the worst kind of a start."

OHIO STATE — The Buckeges were at full strength with 70 candidates as coach Woody Hayes ran them through a rugged dummy scrimmage. Hayes said he was pleased with the first day workout.

★ ★ ★

INDIANA — Indiana's football squad reviewed new offensive patterns introduced at last spring's practice, then went through conditioning drills that emphasized development of wind and leg muscles. Coach Phil Dickens said he planned no contact work until Wednesday.

M LOSES GUARD

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

IOWA — Bob LeZotte, a senior, was reported lost for the season as Iowa opened fall football drills with 78 Hawkeyes on hand. LeZotte, second - team left halfback from Royal Oak, Mich., suffered a head injury a week ago in a touch football game.

Illness Doesn't Come From 'Discomforts'

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

From the general customs of young people today, and from the pictures in magazines in late winter and early spring, it would seem that the insurance companies, public health agencies, and cold cure concerns are dragging their feet.

The young man who goes hatless and the young woman who goes — just who, I wonder, takes the old hokum seriously? Who, that is, besides the insurance companies, the public health agencies, and the cold cure concerns?

* * *

When this column was young, it used to be a red letter day when a grateful parent wrote to thank me for teaching that "exposure" to everyday cold, sudden change, dampness, draft, insufficient clothing, wet feet, chilly environment, or whatever unpleasant condition a morbid imagination can suggest may give more or less discomfort but never causes any illness or indisposition other than frostbite.

For a considerable time there I carried on like a small boy whistling his way past the graveyard late at night. I misjudged the I.Q. of readers. I failed to consider (1) that more or less of the stuff I wrote about "exposure" was not printed at all, and (2) that for one reason or another many regular readers did not get some of the lessons that were printed.

Today I'm quite confident about it. The average young person wears or leaves off what he pleases in any circumstance. Only —well, say, superficially educated mothers, grandmothers, and maiden aunts concern themselves about it. And their trick specialists.

IDIOT?

Aside from customs and social amenities, all that matters is the individual's convenience and comfort in any circumstance. If your youngster is not feebleminded, he (or she) knows whether he is comfortable.

I am happy to know that this common sense view is gaining in popularity despite the quaint croaking of the insurance companies, the public health agencies and the cold cure concerns. Nowadays I worry only when the day's mail doesn't bring any letters from grateful parents.

* * *

Here's good chuckle from last winter's advice by the insurance company:

"Eat well-balanced meals to help keep resistance built up."

A "well-balanced" meal, you understand, knucklehead, is nourishing but easily digestible. The balanced part is vague, but never mind about that. Just concentrate on building or maintaining your "resistance," whatever it may be.

I say whatever because neither the insurance company's medical or health authority can tell us what "resistance" is. No medical or health authority dares to put in writing a definition of "resistance."

Let no sophomoron try to twist this into denial of immunity. When the old fogies prate about "building resistance" or about "lowered resistance," we may be sure they don't mean immunity to diphtheria, typhoid fever, or smallpox.

* * *

If you want immunity you simply go to your physician and tell him you want it. He'll give you the specific protection you need. Price, a dollar up.

If you want a good laugh, go to your physician and tell him you'd like, say, $29.75 worth of resistance against everything.

People who babble about "resistance" should put up or shut up, don't you think?

Says Broken Homes Can Destroy Society

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham told 66,502 persons in Memorial Coliseum Sunday that broken homes constitute this country's greatest social problem.

They could even lead to the destruction of our civilization, he said, since the family is the basic unit of society.

Graham's Southern California crusade began Aug. 15 and ends next Sunday.

The Yukon, 2,300 miles long, is the largest river in Alaska and is the fifth largest in all North America.

Indonesia Aids Borneo Rebels

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's top military commander said yesterday he considers his country has helped train "more than 6,000 anti-British, anti-Malaysia rebels in the Northern Borneo territories.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, defense minister and armed forces chief, insisted that Indonesian support for the rebels does not signify territorial ambitions regarding Sarawak, North Borneo and Brunei in the northern part of the Island of Borneo.

Indonesia owns the southern part.

* * *

Nasution's attitude has raised the possibility of prolonged guerrilla warfare in the Borneo regions should Malaysia be formed with Indonesia still opposing it.

The Malaysia plan calls for the merger of Sarawak and North Borneo with Malaya and Singapore in a federation that will have British defense links.

At the insistence of Indonesia and the Philippines, a U.N. survey of Sarawak and North Borneo is being made to determine whether the people there fully back Malaysia, as Malay and the British insist they do.

* * *

Indonesia has said it will accept Malaysia if this popular support is proved to its satisfaction.

In such a case, Nasution said Indonesia would be "legally bound to halt its assistance to the underground movement."

U. S., Pakistan Work for Ties

Chinese Trade Strains Relations With West

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — With a message of friendship for Pakistan, Undersecretary of State George Ball arrived today for talks dealing with strained U.S.-Pakistani relations.

* * *

As Ball scheduled a meeting with President Mohammed Ayub Khan, Pakistani officials met with a Chinese Communist delegation to complete a barter trade agreement.

One reason President Kennedy sent Ball to Pakistan was Pakistan's swing toward closer relations with Red China. Ayub Khan was angered by the big arms aid the United States granted India — his old enemy — after Red China attacked on the Indian frontier last fall.

Commerce ministry officials told newsmen the barter trade agreement with Communist China is to be signed in Rawalpindi within the next few days.

READY TO SIGN

Liu Sau, Communist Chinese commercial counsellor, told the newsmen: "A major part of the discussions already has been completed in Rawalpindi and the agreement should be signed any day."

The barter pact will exchange Pakistani raw jute for Chinese coal and cement.

On arrival, Ball said in a written statement: "Our two countries are in cooperation . . . the government and people of the United States have a deep interest in the independence and vitality of Pakistan."

Ball will have three days of talks with Ayub Khan, foreign minister Z. A. Bhutto and Pakistani military leaders.

Informed sources said Ball will sound out Pakistan on how far it intends to proceed with friendship for Peking. The two signed an air transport agreement last week.

Pakistan is a member of two anti-Communist alliances CENTO and SEATO.

Earthquake Strikes 56 India Villages

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Reports reaching New Delhi said an earthquake struck 56 villages in a 50-square-mile area of the Kashmir Valley Monday, killing about 100 persons and injuring another 500.

Seventy-three bodies were found in the debris Monday night and the search continued, reports said.

* * *

Hardest hit was Gumbarg, 15 miles southwest of Srinagar, the capital of Kashmir. The quake destroyed all homes and killed more than 25 persons in the village.

Most inhabitants of the stricken area were working in the fields when the quake hit.

Refrigerator cars are used in winter months to transport commodities that might be damaged by freezing.

Ex-Iran Chief Expires at 67

GENEVA (AP) — Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, former premier of Iran, died in Geneva last night. He was 67.

★ ★ ★

Zahedi led military forces that swept Premier Mohammed Mossadegh from power in 1953 after Mossadegh had seized foreign oil properties and brought Iran to the edge of financial chaos.

★ ★ ★

Zahedi took over the premiership and pressed a relentless campaign against Communists and other dissidents in Iran until 1955, when he resigned the premiership because of poor health.

Deficit Noted in U.S. Funds From Tourism

ROME (AP) — U. S. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges told the U.N. conference on tourism yesterday that the United States had a $1.4-billion deficit in world tourist spending last year.

He invited more foreigners to visit the United States, but he pledged that there would be no restrictions on tourist travel by Americans abroad.

Hodges told the 119-nation conference that tourism is "the largest single item in international trade, amounting to about $7.5 billion annually."

"In 1962, U. S. residents spent $2.5 billion — about 9 per cent more than in 1961 — in foreign countries or paid to their trans-ocean carriers.

"Balanced against these expenditures were our receipts from foreign visitors of slightly over $1 billion.

"That means we had a deficit of about 1.4 billion in our travel accounts in 1962.

He said the number of U. S. residents traveling abroad last year reached 1,767,000 — a 12 per cent increase over 1961. Europe and the Mediterranean area were the destination of 931,000 of these, he said.

K Heads Home After Tito Talks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Soviet Premier Khrushchev left for home today after a two-week vacation that appeared to have sealed his reconciliation with President Tito.

Khrushchev and Tito had a warm leave taking at Belgrade's airport.

★ ★ ★

In brief statements, they agreed their two weeks of talks had cleared the way for closer Soviet-Yugoslav ties.

Tito emphasized his view that Soviet and Yugoslav Communists should not harp on political differences.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev said his talks with Tito had resulted in complete understanding but said further Soviet-Yugoslav talks would be desirable.

★ ★ ★

Crowds lined Belgrade's streets to cheer Khrushchev and Tito as their motorcade drove to the airport.

The Communist Chinese again snubbed Khrushchev by sending only a minor embassy official to the departure ceremony.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Here is a hand for which I am indebted to Marshall Miles. The moral seems to be: If you must overbid, play well.

JACOBY

East's six-heart bid was designed to upset North-South's orderly flow of bidding and it succeeded admirably. North went hog wild and jumped to seven spades.

When it got back to East he decided to double. This double told his partner not to lead a heart, but West opened the king of hearts anyway.

Declarer won with the ace and was duly thankful for small favors. Still he had work to do. He needed to set up three clubs in dummy for diamond discards. If clubs were to break 3-3 or if the king of clubs would drop singleton or doubleton he could set the suit easily.

Suppose an opponent held four clubs to the king? He could still make the hand if he could guess where the king of clubs was.

South decided it was a sure thing. West knew that his partner was asking for a club or diamond lead but had opened a heart. West had to have a reason and this appeared to be that he held both minor suit kings and was afraid to open the wrong one.

Therefore South took a first round club finesse against West. It was well that he did. Otherwise the grand slam would not have been made.

Bandits Strike 2 Gas Stations

Two Pontiac gas stations were held up yesterday morning by armed bandits wearing masks.

John Phillips, 22, an attendant at the Clark Oil Station, 420 S. Saginaw, told police he was robbed by two men who approached him on foot while he was sweeping the driveway.

About $31 was taken in the 4:35 a.m. robbery, according to police.

At 5:20 a.m., William Smith, 19, an attendant at Tulsa Gas, 701 S. Saginaw, said a man with a pistol surprised him as he was sitting in the station.

The man, wearing a woman's stocking over his head, ordered Smith to the men's room and told him to lay on the floor. The bandit escaped with $35.

The population of the United States multiplied rapidly after the Civil War, a gain of almost threefold between the years 1865 and 1910.

2 Detroiters Hurt in Area Boat Collision

A two-boat collision on White Lake in Highland Township Sunday injured a Detroit couple.

Treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital were Joseph Wargiela and his wife Anna. Both suffered leg injuries.

The driver of the other craft, John E. Suder, 54, of Livonia, was ticketed by the sheriff's water patrol for having no registration on his person.

Suder told police he had turned his head to check a water skier he was towing and did not see the other boat in time.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

WHAT IS AN ORTHOPEDIC SURGEON?

He is a physician who specializes in the diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation of the musculo skeletal system. This includes the bones, joints, ligaments, muscles, nerves and related structures of the human body.

Your family physician knows that an orthopedic surgeon takes a post-graduate course of at least 4 years after becoming an M.D. to gain added knowledge. If he suggests consulting one, follow his advice.

Airport Plans on Tap Tonight

Commission Approval Sought for Project

The Pontiac Municipal Airport master plan, which has been two years in the making, will be up for official approval at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

Major portions of the plan call for extension of the existing 5,300-foot east-west runway to 6,200 feet and construction of a 5,000-foot north-south runway.

Purpose of the plan is to show the existing airport facility with future expansion and recommended development.

* * *

A total $9,088,800 development program proposed, pending state and federal approval. If accepted it would be completed in stages with the total cost being split three ways: $3,905,150 from local funds, $631,250 state funds and $4,552,400 from federal funds.

1963 BUDGET

Another major item on tonight's agenda is the public hearing and adoption of an amendment to the 1963 budget appropriation ordinance.

The amendment will specify the amount to be raised from city taxes this year and the 1963 tax rate. It is expected the rate will be about $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed property value.

Commissioners have indicated the total tax levy will be about $4,477,000, the same as was considered in June. Major changes, however, are expected in individual department allocations due to a deficit last year and the need for a surplus after Jan. 1.

* * *

In other business, commissioners are slated to hear a report from City Clerk Olga Barkeley recommending that voting precincts 3 and 38 be combined as one.

The precincts are in District 1. According to the clerk, there are too few registered voters in Precinct 38 to make it practical to staff it with election personnel as a separate district.

Also up for tentative approval will be two requests for dance permits in connection with class C liquor licensed establishments at 78 Baldwin and 568 Sanford.

The agenda is also crowded by hearings on proposed public improvement projects and several planning commission recommendations for rezoning properties.

McDowell was traveling west on Auburn at about 50 miles per hour when the accodent occurred at 4:15 p.m. near Walsh, according to deputies.

Low-Priced Stocks Active

Ticker Tape Lags in Mart Surge

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market launched its post-Labor-Day career with a vigorous advance.

Volume in the morning was more than 2½ million shares as the ticker tape lagged.

Buying spread throughout blue chips and more volatile issues. Trading fancy was attracted to a variety of lower-priced stocks which were bought actively.

* * *

Wall Street reflected optimism based on some optimistic business reports. These included a report by the National Association of Purchasing Agents that new orders in August continued at high levels and the government report that factory orders rose in July after two months of decline.

The boost in the Federal minimum wage was said to have inflationary implications, normally a market stimulus.

GAINING ISSUES

Steels, motors, utilities, airlines, and chemicals were among the gainers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 to 280.4 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities up .5.

* * *

Chrysler, up more than a point, again was outstanding among the major automakers. American Motors and Studebaker, the lowest priced issues in this category, were heavily traded fractional gainers. General Motors rose nearly a point. Ford dropped a fraction.

* * *

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of around 2 points Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were unchanged to slightly lower.

Rights Leader Goes on Trial

CORE Head Arrested for Disturbing Peace

PLAQUEMINE, La. (AP) — Trials for James Farmer and 15 other Negroes opened today in this racially troubled Mississippi River town in Southern Louisiana.

Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and the others were charged with five counts of disturbing the peace as a result of Negro demonstrations Aug. 19.

Meanwhile, in Charleston, S. C., a bomb scare at Rivers High School, one of four Charleston public schools integrated today, caused officials to evacuate the building shortly after 11 a. m.

Firemen and policemen who rushed to the school found no bomb.

Principal Frank M. Hart, who had sounded the alarm after a nurse at the school received an anonymous telephone call that a bomb had been planted in the school, described the incident as "just routine — we had several such scares last year when there was no integration."

Twenty minutes after the evacuation, the approximately 450 students, including three Negroes, returned to their classrooms.

Active Demand Ups Wheat Future Price

CHICAGO (AP) — An active demand boosted wheat futures prices rather substantially today in early transactions on the board of trade but other grains and soybeans were steady to firm.

Wheat posted gains ranging to nearly two cents a bushel during the first several minutes. Brokers said the support appeared to be largely short covering and perhaps some speculative establishment of long positions.

They noted some commercial demand, too, which they said is normal early in the month at this time of year they said flour mills often buy at this time.

Tenders of corn on September contracts still were expected to be light or absent but delivery again led the advance in that pit.

Wage Boosts Look Good for Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Several million workers are getting pay increases. This could mean pressure for higher prices.

It could mean faster economic growth through more spending money circulating quickly. It could mean greater cost-trimming efforts such as turning to machines to replace man or woman labor.

But whatever the future may bring, one thing's for sure. Today's a happy one for a lot of workers.

* * *

Some 2.6 million low-paid workers are due for a wage boost today because the legal minimum wage goes up to $1.25 an hour from $1.15. Even more persons perhaps expect to benefit indirectly because their differential tends to rise as the lowest paid job does.

And at least a million others, in many pay brackets, will get more because the cost of living has just hit another record high.

UNION CONTRACTS

Others are due for wage hikes automatically under existing union contracts. Some big unions are now negotiating new pacts, the remaining slice of this year's quota affecting five million or more workers. Congress has boosted many of the government's civil and military pay brackets.

Today's minimum wage hike law also could affect about four million workers in the retail and service trades by giving them overtime pay above a 44-hour week. And it makes some salaried administrative, executive and professional employes eligible for the first time for overtime pay.

* * *

A hike in minimum wages usually spurs demands of other employes for higher pay for their above-minimum jobs. Thus the executive council of the Textile Workers Union of America has called for a general wage increase in that industry, especially in the South, where the federal law will be most felt.

The increased costs may build more pressure for price hikes, especially where affected company managements already have been complaining of low profit margins — the relation of earnings to sales.

CHANCE GETS BETTER

If the industry has idle capacity and keen competition, the pressure may lack force. But as business activity picks up the chances of price rises get better. And the increase in purchasing power as pay checks swell helps retailers, and thus producers.

* * *

Offsetting this, as some see it, will be the drag of higher production and retailing costs on plans to expand plants or hire more hands. And the new overtime pay rules may make some employers think twice.

The rise in pay scales has slowed in recent months, but the granting of fringe benefits has kept production costs on the upswing.

More than a million workers in the auto, farm machinery, aerospace and construction equipment industries are getting a pay hike of from one cent to three cents an hour under contracts tied to the cost of living index. This rose in July to a new high of 107.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

Employes of some companies are getting an additional boost as provided in long-term labor contracts. Where these annual increases are provided for blue-collar workers, more companies are providing like boosts for white collar employes.

All of this post-Labor Day good cheer for hourly and salaried workers is one reason that government and business economists feel so sure that the total of personal incomes will rise the rest of this year.

And as this spending money increases, so does the chance of better times ahead.

Successful Investing

(Q) "I am 58, a widow, with an eye condition which makes me unable to work. I would appreciate your comments on these stocks: General Motors; California Electric Power; Automatic Canteen; Lofts Candy; American Bakeries; Pepsi-Cola United."

L. M.

(A) You seem doubly unfortunate; in your widowhood and in your infirmity, which keeps you from working. I offer my profound sympathy and any help that I can give.

Of your list I would hold only General Motors, California Electric and Pepsi-Cola United. American Bakeries has been in a severe earnings downtrend. The annual dividend rate was recently cut to $1 a share and was barely covered in the first 28 weeks of 1963. Automatic Canteen's earnings dropped sharply last year and I consider the shares too speculative for you.

The same stricture, in my opinion, applies to Loft Candy. I believe you should weed out your speculative shares and buy Eaton Mfg. and Atchison Rwy., both yielding 5 per cent.

* * *

(Q) "We have $500. We won't need this money now but in case of sickness would need it right away. My husband is interested in a real estate stock paying 7½ per cent. They say we can get our principal back any time we need it. What do you think we should do?"

L. K.

(A) I believe that you should put your money in a savings institution. Stocks are not a medium in which cash reserves should be kept. The only thing certain about stocks is that they fluctuate and if you hold shares which must be sold in a depressed market, you could lose a substantial amount of your capital.

The dividend your real estate stock offers is very much above the going rate. I do not doubt the issuer's good faith, but simply question the practicality of corporate promises to buy back bonds at issue price.

Keep your money in a savings institution where interest is accumulative and the principal is intact when you need it.

Savings Plan Proposed

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A new savings incentive plan under which higher interest rates would be paid on accounts of more than $1,000 was proposed yesterday by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the board, said the proposal would give federal savings flexibility in rates paid on savings accounts.

Some savings and loan associations reduced their interest rates last spring while others did not.

In announcing a proposed regulation which would permit federal savings and loan associations to pay an extra ¼ or ½ per cent on longer term accounts of more than $1,000, McMurray said:

"It is hoped that this may assist associations in avoiding the lending pressure which would flow from across - the - board rate increases."

* * *

McMurray proposed that the associations be permitted to pay an extra ¼ per cent on accounts over $1,000 which have been in the association for at least one year, and up to an extra ½ per cent over the basic rate on funds which have remained at least two years.

He invited comments, particularly on the size of the minimum account and on the suggested rates of extra interest.

McMurray announced also that member savings and loan associations passed a milestone of $100 billion in assets at the end of August. He said this projection was made when fiscal year end reports on June 30 showed their assets had reached $98.6 billion as of that date.

NEW YORK — American industry will invest $3.6 billion in plants, equipment and property outside the United States this year, and 8 per cent rise, says McGray - Hill Publishing Co.

The firm's annual survey runs counter to speculation that such investment was on the wane. The survey said that most firms said they are not cutting back, at least not within the next two years.

The survey said that the major source of funds for these investment funds is expected to be foreign retained earnings and depreciation allowances.

It said there has been a marked trend for companies to lean more on foreign earnings and less upon domestic treasuries for these investments.

The survey said that the companies responding said they expect sales from their foreign subsidiaries to rise to about $38 billion in 1965. Their exports from the United States, however, are expected to rise only 3 per cent.

Musician's Attorney Dies at Tennis Club

NEW YORK (UPI) — Edward A. Niles, 68, attorney and expert of music copyrights, collapsed and died yesterday at the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills, where he was serving as a linesman in the National Amateur Tennis Championships.

Niles, who belonged to the club 37 years and officiated frequently in championship events, had played tennis earlier in the day.

He was refereeing a match between Robert Bedard of Canada and Thomas Koch of Brazil when he collapsed.

He collaborated with the late W. C. Handy on the book "Treasury of the Blues."

* * *

A pianist himself, Niles was widely known as an authority on American popular music and had an extensive collection of it dating back to the 18th Century.

They're Red Robins

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI)—Soviet schoolmistress Maria Rolik told the British Association meeting here yesterday that many Russian children learn English by playing Robin Hood games, complete with "outlaw camps" and old-style Sherwood Forest costumes.

DEATH DEMANDED — These two Americans, James B. Wagner (left) of Union Beach, N.J., and John J. Hand (right) of Southfield, Mich., and their Spanish woman companion, Maria Del Pilar Alfaro Velasco, will be put to death by garrote if the Spanish prosecutor's demands are met. They and another American are being held in connection with the meat cleaver killing of a Barcelona furniture dealer last year.

Institutions' Income Also Up

Enrollments Increase College Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Steadily mounting enrollments have increased the expenditures — and the income — of the nation's colleges and universities by more than 25 per cent, the U.S. Office of Education says.

The agency's figures, in a report released yesterday, were based on a sampling of 393 of the 2,044 public and private classes and universities over the two-year period ended June 30, 1962.

Based on a sampling of 393 of the 2,044 public and private colleges and universities over the two-year period ended June 30, 1962.

The study showed, among other things, that state governments were the largest single source of income in 1961-62. They provided 23 per cent of college revenues, with student tuition and fees ranking second and federal grants third.

The rise in college finances was attributed largely to a 15 per cent boost in the number of college students during the two years. The nation's total collegiate enrollment rose by 500,000 to 3.9 million students.

26 PER CENT JUMP

The agency said current collegiate expenses jumped 26 per cent, from $5.6 billion to $7 billion. Current income rose in almost exact proportion—from $5.8 billion to $47.3 billion, or about 27 per cent.

Expenditures for instruction and departmental research, traditionally the largest cost item in higher education, reached $2.2 billion for 1961-62, compared with about $1.8 billion two years earlier.

Another $1.3 billion was spent in organized research, a 30 per cent rise over the $1 billion in 1959-60.

Privately controlled institutions continued to account for about 44 per cent of the over-all expenditures, the same percentage as in 1959-60.

The agency said contributions from state governments in 1961-62 provided $1.7 billion, the largest single source of current fund income. This was an increase of 21.4 per cent over 1959-60.

Revenues from student tuition and fees increased 31.2 per cent to $1.5 billion, providing more than one-fifth of all current fund income in 1961-62.

The federal government, third largest source, increased its revenue 33.4 per cent to $1.4 billion, or 19 per cent of the total.

Other sources of income included private gifts and grants, $473 million, 6.4 per cent; and income from local governments, $189 million, 2.6 per cent. Both increased by nearly one-fourth during the two years.

Taylor, Burton to Stay in England a While

LONDON (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor's secretary said today Miss Taylor and actor Richard Burton probably will stay in England another week or two before going to Mexico.

In Mexico, Burton will play a leading role in the film version of Tennessee Williams' play "The Night of the Iguana." Miss Taylor has no part in the film but is expected to accompany Burton, her constant companion.

Pest Bothers Actress — Husband Defends 'Scenes'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Carroll Baker phoned Beverly Hills police to report that a man was hammering at her door, claiming to be a TV repairman, asking to be let in "to fix your TV set"—at 10 o'clock at night.

"I hope," said her husband, producer Jack Garfein, here in New York, "that it isn't due to the nude scenes Carroll has been doing lately. I have approved of the scenes she did in 'The Carpetbaggers' although I haven't seen them yet.

WILSON

The TV repairman who claimed to be working a night shift is just one trouble Carroll's encountered since her nude posing cast her in the Sex Symbol role succeeding Marilyn Monroe.

She'd noticed a man following her at a Beverly Hills store in the afternoon. Police found an abandoned, unlicensed, unregistered car near the Garfeins' house. Carroll is moving to a new address; she's there with her two children.

"Carroll's got censor trouble everywhere," her husband reported.

School Strike Is Discussed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Officials of the United Federation of Teachers (UFT) and the city board of education met last night in efforts to avert a strike against the public schools when they open next Monday.

The UFT, which represents the city's 40,000 public school teachers, had threatened to call a walkout when the fall term begins unless its contract demands are met.

As the negotiations continued Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert Wagner commented on the situation yesterday while viewing the huge Labor Day parade up Fifth Avenue.

* * *

Both condemned a strike by the teachers. Wagner called it "certainly illegal and certainly improper as far as the youngsters are concerned."

Such a walkout, Rockefeller said, "can only have the effect of undermining the teachers' authority with the young people in their charge."

Wagner added a note of optimism when he said: "I know both sides are now in serious negotiations and have been for the past few days."

On Sunday, UFT President Charles Cogen said in a television interview that there was a possibility of a contract settlement before the Sept. 9 strike deadline. School officials, he said, were "starting to talk money."

Couple Decides to Get Married in Peace Corps

HONOLULU (AP) — In 1959 Robert R. Carter and Rosemary O'Connor got to know each other as students at Massachusetts State College. They remained friends but drifted apart.

Last year each volunteered for the Peace Corps. This year each was assigned to Hilo, Hawaii, for training. Each selected the same courses and each picked the Philippines as the place he wanted to be sent.

* * *

Last week each said each wanted to be married to the other. So Monday, after a hectic week of clearing red tape, they got married in Honolulu.

Carter, 25, is from Salem, Mass. The new Mrs. Carter, 21, is from Boston.

After a honeymoon they'll go on to Manila.

Both Legs Lost

Crash Victim Walks

WATERLOO, N.Y. (AP)—Slowly, surely and gracefully, Debbie Marcuccilli is walking on artificial limbs, six months after losing her legs in a school bus accident.

The 8-year-old returns to school Wednesday and is looking forward to seeing her friends.

* * *

Debbie and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orazio Marcuccilli, met with newsmen and photographers Monday at the family's home in this central New York village. It was Debbie's first public exposure since shortly after the accident last February.

TWO CANES

Wearing a light blue, frilly dress, a white jacket and a bright smile, she walked forward and backward without hesitation, aided by two small canes.

Debbie was injured in a collision between her school bus and a tractor-trailer. She underwent four major operations and lost her entire right leg and her left leg below the knee.

* * *

She received the artificial limbs early last month as a gift from a Rochester, (N.Y.) company.

She was taught how to use the limbs at the rehabilitation clinic at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester.

Debbie will enter the third grade. She said she might have to look for "a school boyfriend" among her classmates to help her carry her books.

Her No. 1 fella, she said, is still Dr. David L. Koch, who attended Debbie after the accident.

Gold Bullion Stolen From British Plane

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Thieves slit open a mail bag on a London-to-Frankfurt British European Airways (BEA) plane and stole $12,500 in gold bullion, Frankfurt police announced today.

* * *

The theft was carried out last Thursday, police said. The shipper of the gold and its intended destination were not disclosed.

West German postal employes who received the mail bag after it was unloaded noticed the slash in its side immediately, police said. The nine 2.2-pound gold bars it was supposed to hold were missing, police said.

It was the second gold theft on a BEA London-Frankfurt flight in less than a year. Last November, police reported the theft of one of nine sacks of gold shipped by a London bank to a Frankfurt bank aboard a BEA passenger airliner.

The theft, 100 gold bricks weighing 100 grams each and worth a total of $12,500 has not been solved.

The Hawaiian islands contain about 650,000 persons.

Husband, Wife Win Annual Bridge Walk

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — A husband and wife team took top honors in the annual walk across the 4½ mile Mackinac bridge yesterday.

Ron Laird, a University of Chicago draftsman, won the men's event in 32 minutes 58.3 seconds. That broke the old mark he set in winning last year—34 minutes 8 seconds.

Cathy Buss of Frazer won the girls' 16-and-under race, defeating Lee Duverney of Petoskey by one second.

Bridge authorities estimated 4,000 walkers took part in the general stroll across the bridge, in addition to the racing events. As usual, the walkers did not have to pay for their hike on this one day of the year on which pedestrians are allowed on the big bridge.

Senator Slams Test Ban Pact

'Will Not Guarantee Lower Defense Costs'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nuclear test-ban treaty is no guarantee the arms race will be slowed, Sen. Jack Miller said today, and warned that the pact would not insure a reduction in national defense costs.

★ ★ ★

The Iowa Republican said "the arms race could actually be stepped up" as a result of the treaty because underground testing probably would be increased.

"While the cost of atmospheric testing will be eliminated, the more expensive costs of underground testing will probably increase," Miller said in his weekly newsletter.

Miller said it was "false to assume" that failure to ratify the test-ban agreement would lead automatically to an "unlimited arms race extending without relief into the future."

The Iowa Republican said he still had not decided whether to vote for ratification.

"I will not make up my mind how to vote until all the evidence is in and I have carefully weighed it," Miller said.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the treaty 16-1 last week without reservations. Senate debate is scheduled to begin next Monday.

★ ★ ★

Miller's colleague, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, voted to send the treaty to the Senate after he lost on a motion to delay action until the committee had sought the private correspondence between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev leading up to the Moscow signing.

Hickenlooper is expected to vote for ratification.

Miller said that regardless of whether or not the pact is ratified, "We could and should continue to strive for a better, more comprehensive treaty with adequate inspection and control provisions."

Auto Output in High

Auto production goes into high gear today as Pontiac Motor Division and 22 other GM assembly plants across the country resume operation after a shutdown for model change-over.

Pontiac's assembly lines have been shut down for 30 days.

General Motors is the last major automaker to begin production on 1964 model cars.

Industry sources estimated that other auto firms turned out more than 75,000 new 1964 cars in August, a gain of about 32,000 over the 1962 start-up on '63 models.

Chrysler Corp., first of the auto makers to start its 1964 production lines, turned out 17,250 vehicles last week.

Studebaker, in its third week of '64 assembly, boosted factory output to near its normal yield in the '63 model period.

Ford Motor Co., whose preparations for 1964 production were hampered by a labor dispute at its Chicago Heights, Ill. stamping plant last month, expected to get into high gear this week.

Ward's Reports, an automotive trade publication, said its surveys indicated the industry would turn out 2,135,000 units in the October - December quarter.

This would be almost 4 per cent ahead of the previous record for a fourth quarter — 2,059,304 —set last year.

Ward's said that with production of 1964 models off to a

U. S. Road Toll Hits Record Over Holiday

National Figure Rises to 545; State Traffic Claims 28 Lives

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths during the long weekend soared to a record high for any Labor Day holiday period.

The court reached 545, including belated reports, for the holiday weekend that began at 6 p.m. (Pontiac time) Friday and ended at midnight yesterday.

The previous high was 501, set during the Labor Day observation last year.

The count at midnight local time Monday, the end of the 78-hour holiday period, showed 543 traffic deaths, topping the previous record set during the Labor Day weekend last year.

Belated reports were expected to boost the final total.

The slaughter on the highways during the holiday was marked by several multiple-fatal accidents, including six in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The worst accident occurred yesterday when 10 persons lost their lives in a head-on crash near Liberty in southeast Texas.

Twenty-eight persons died in Michigan highway traffic, and state police said it was the worst such period for motoring casualties in at least eight years.

The death toll compared with 26 fatalities during the 1962 holiday, which had been the most tragic in an eight-year record kept by the state police.

Two cars collided last night, killing three occupants of one vehicle and the driver of the other. The mishap seriously injured the three other occupants of the cars.

Police said the crash occurred north of Richmond on M19 in Macomb County, about 30 miles northeast of Detroit.

Killed in one car were Russell A. Ladson, 56; his wife, Livina, 50, both of Detroit, and Ladson's sister-in-law, Mrs. Svea Ladson, 45, of Roseville. Also killed was the driver of the other car, Leonard A. Middleton, 24, of Memphis.

Reported in critical condition with severe head injuries at a Mount Clemens hospital was Mrs. Svea Ladson's 7-year-old son, Darrell. Her husband, Floyd, 48, was reported in serious condition.

A passenger in Middleton's car, Janet Chandler, 19, of Memphis, also was injured seriously.

'CROSSES CENTER LINE'

Middleton's northbound car, state police said, crossed the center line and hit the auto driven by Russell Ladson.

The national Labor Day holiday traffic total marked the third record toll for this year's

'Just Too Full'

Monk Denied Refuge by U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young Buddhist monk sought refuge in the U.S. Embassy today but was told he could not be admitted.

The monk apparently sought to join three other Buddhists, including a top organizer of the Buddhist antigovernment movement, who were granted asylum in the embassy Saturday.

An embassy official explained to the monk, "We're just too full."

The young monk apparently was not pursued by the police, and one of the conditions of political asylum is that the refugee must be "hotly pursued."

★ ★ ★

The latest refugee thanked Marine guards and officials anyway, made the traditional lotus flower salute, and walked away.

Yesterday, the military governor of Saigon, Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh, told a press conference he intended to demand the return of the three monks in refuge at the embassy. But the State Department in Washington said it planned to continue giving them asylum.

New friction developed in U.S.-South Vietnamese relations because the three monks were given asylum and a government-sponsored paper accused the U.S. Central Intelligency Agency of plotting to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

★ ★ ★

Complicating the situation, it was learned from reliable sources, was the fact that one of the three monks in refuge at the embassy was a Vietnamese secret police agent for nine years.

RESIGNED POST

The monk, Le Mau Chi, resigned from the police force in 1962 and took a job as a clerk with the U.S. aid mission here.

Records show he was discharged from the U.S. aid mission last December and became a monk in April — one month before the Buddhist-government friction flared into violence.

U.S. authorities are questioning all three monks. The monks are living in an air-conditioned conference room in the embassy chancery.

JFK Watches Viet Reaction

U. S. Stand Stiffens on Buddhist Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy watched today for Vietnamese reaction to his warning that continued repression of Buddhists by the government of Ngo Dinh Diem could mean loss of its U.S.-supported war against communism.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy returned to Washington today after a five-day Labor Day vacation at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The President stiffened the open U.S. position on the Viet Nam situation yesterday in a television interview in which he called on the regime of President Diem to stop its actions against the Buddhists.

The United States will continue its military assistance, Kennedy said. But he added:

"I don't think that the war can be won unless the (Vietnamese) people support the effort, and in my opinion, in the last two months, the government has gotten out of touch with the people."

REPLIES TO QUESTIONS

Kennedy, in reply to questioning by CBS newscaster Walter Cronkite, made these other points:

● He may lose more southern states in 1964 than he did in 1960 because of the administration's civil rights proposals. It is "too early to tell" but he isn't sure that he is "the most popular political figure today in the south."

● The nation's unemployment rate can be reduced from its 5.5 per cent level and recession can be staved off if Congress approves his $11-billion tax cut program and other economic measures.

● It "would be a great mistake" for the Senate to tack a formal reservation onto the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

★ ★ ★

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's proposal for an assertion reserving America's right to use nuclear weapons in time of war already has been carried out in U.S. government statements. But "it would be better to defeat the treaty" than force renegotiation of it after almost 100 countries have signed it.

Dixie Governor Risks Possible U.S. Retaliation

Alabama State Police, Sheriff's Deputies Guard Institution

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace, risking federal retaliation, kept the Tuskegee Public School closed by force today despite the local school board's decision to obey a federal court desegregation order.

Blue-helmeted state troopers, redoubled in number and supported for the first time by mounted sheriff's deputies, kept students and teachers out of the school to enforce the governor's orders to postpone the start of the fall term until next Monday.

Students in the consolidated elementary-high school were turned back as they approached the red-brick building for the second straight day even though the Macon County Board of Education said that as far as it was concerned the school was open.

Col. Al Lingo, commanding the troopers, said that only Principal E. W. Wadsworth would be admitted to the building.

Even teachers were turned away because, Lingo said, "school is closed and they have no business in there."

★ ★ ★

Wallace issued Monday an executive order directing the school board to postpone the start of fall classes in the school because of what he called the threat of violence.

ONLY ONE AFFECTED

The Tuskegee school, up to now, was the only one in Macon County ordered integrated at this time and the only one affected by Wallace's order.

A Methodist minister, the Rev. E. G. Sellers, approached Lingo this morning to raise a technical point, but got nowhere with it.

Wallace's order referred to the "Tuskegee High School," the name by which the school was formerly known. The minister asked if students in the elementary grades also were prohibited from attending class. Lingo said they were.

★ ★ ★

The name of the school was changed to the Tuskegee Public

Fall Weather Will Linger for a While

Pontiac's preview of autumn weather will continue through Thursday at least, says the weatherman. Temperatures will average about 4 degrees below the normal high of 77 and low of 59 this week.

Cooler weather is forecast for tomorrow — the expected high 72. Temperatures will turn warmer Thursday and Friday.

A low of 55 is predicted for this evening.

Skies will be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, and fair Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Winds today are northwesterly. Diminishing tonight, they will become southwesterly at eight to 15 miles per hour Wednesday.

Sixty-six was the lowest mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. 79 was recorded.

Jaycee Campaign Tonight on City Charter Petitions

A three-hour door-to-door campaign will be conducted tonight by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Charter Amendment Committee.

An estimated 30 volunteers will go door-to-door in two areas of the city 6-9 p.m. seeking signatures on charter amendment petitions.

The areas are Pioneer Highlands subdivision in district 2 and a section northeast of the Pontiac Motor Division plant off Joslyn.

The Jaycees said they have a total of 3,400 signatures for charter amendment. About 700 petitions are still circulating, including those passed out to the Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

Saturday is the deadline for turning in completed petitions.

A Jaycee spokesman urged anyone with finished petitions to turn them in to charter amendment headquarters, 510 Community National Bank Building, or to call FE 8-6010 and the petitions will be picked up.

★ ★ ★

Although still short of their 7,500 to 8,000 goal, the Jaycees felt they might be close with the high number of petitions circulating.

The petitions, which would change the election procedures for city commissioners, must be filed by next Monday with the city clerk if a special election is to be held before the primary next March.

The petitions request a special election on the proposed charter amendment.

The proposed amendment would retain the nomination of commissioners by district, but allow voters throughout the city to vote for seven candidates, one from each district.

Presently, electors can vote for only one candidate from their own district.

Only persons who are registered voters in Pontiac can sign and circulate petitions.

Leipzig Prof Defects From East Germany

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Prof. Hans Mayer, 56, East German national prize winner and one of the most prominent Soviet bloc intellectuals, has defected to West Germany.

★ ★ ★

Here on a lecture tour, Mayer announced Monday night he will not return to Leipzig University where he has taught literature for 15 years and gained an international reputation.

In 1955, he won the East German government's national prize for his works on classical and modern literature. Since the East German Communist regime tightened its reins, he had fallen into official disgrace but his defection is expected to have a bombshell effect among intellectuals in the Soviet bloc.

British Investigation Moves to Brighton

LONDON (UPI) — The search for Britain's train robbery gang turned today to the seaside resort of Brighton, where 14 mailbags were found under a rubbish heap.

Police scientists studied the bags and several pairs of gloves for clues that would help track down the gang that took a record $7.3 million from the Glasgow-London mail train near Cheddington Aug. 8.

The bags and gloves were found yesterday during a check of a rubbish heap just outside Brighton and close to both the sea and the London-Brighton rail line. Brighton is on the English Channel 50 miles south of London and 90 miles south of Cheddington.

The spot was within a few hundred yards of the place where $25,200 was taken from a mail train three years ago.

Kennedy Trip Cut Short by Dixie Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flew back today from his Cape Cod holiday ahead of the previously indicated schedule. An apparent factor in the speed-up was the new Alabama crisis over the school desegregation segment of civil rights policies which Kennedy concedes have been politically costly.

★ ★ ★

The presidential jet plane landed at Andrews Air Force Base, Md. after a flight from Otis AFB, Mass.

Earlier, the White House had indicated the Labor Day weekend at Hyannis Port, Mass., might extend until tomorrow. Kennedy flew to the summer White House last Thursday.

Kennedy said in a nationwide filmed television interview last night he lost some Southern states in 1960 and may lose more in the 1964 presidential election. He suggested that his position also may have cost him support in the North.

Big Battles Ahead

Congress Still Lags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress lumbers into the ninth month of its session today and most of the big battles still lie ahead.

Usually by Labor Day, Congress is breezing down the home stretch. This year it has a thicket of legislation to clear away.

* * *

Many members fear they'll still be around after the leaves fall and the snow flies and the Christmas decorations go up.

On the long, probably bumpy road ahead are such controversial issues as a tax cut, foreign aid spending, the limited nuclear test-ban treaty—and the civil rights program which promises to trigger a Southern filibuster in the Senate.

The House planned no business this week, continuing until Monday a sort of informal Labor Day recess.

To clear the deck for expected debate next week on the nuclear treaty, the Senate was scheduled to take up President Kennedy's request to broaden the 1962 Manpower Training Act which established a program of vocational schooling to teach skills to unemployed persons or retrain them for new jobs.

* * *

The administration considers the program important in its effort to combat unemployment in general and to train Negroes for better jobs.

When the manpower act was passed it provided for federal funds to pay the full cost in the first two years. However, there was to be 50-50 state matching in the third year, starting July 1964.

So far, however, only four states have passed legislation to carry out the matching funds requirement—Connecticut, Kansas, Montana and Tennessee. Legislators of 25 states which have not acted do not even meet in 1964.

ADDS $161 MILLION

The bill before the Senate would not only provide for the federal government to pay the entire cost of the third year but would authorize an additional $161 million in U.S. funds to cover the states' share.

* * *

Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and John G. Tower, R-Tex., have announced they are opposed to the bill.

They said the "overwhelming lack of response" from the states makes it clear there is little real interest in the program.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped for final action on the measure Wednesday or Thursday.

Stierer Issue Postpones Planning Board Session

Due to scheduling of the fourth session of a hearing into charges against suspended City Manager Robert A. Stierer tomorrow at 7 p. m., the City Planning Commission meeting has been postponed until 8 p. m. next Wednesday, Sept. 11.

The planning commission regularly meets on the first Wednesday of the month at 8 p. m. in the City Commission meeting chamber at City Hall.

Colombians to View Progress in County

The second phase of an exchange of visits' experiment in local level foreign relations will begin Sept. 25 when six Colombians from Cali visit Pontiac and Oakland County to study progress made in solving community development problems.

* * *

The two-week visit of the Cali officials follows a similar trip by an Oakland County delegation last May.

Oakland County and Cali face identical problems, namely, a population explosion. The Michigan group, acting on a proposal by U. S. Rep. William Broomfield, R-Oakland County, wanted to see if Oakland County's experience could be of use in Cali, a South American city of 800,000 people.

The delegation visiting Michigan includes Gustavo Balcazar Monzon, governor of the Department (state) of Valle of which Cali is the capital; City Council President Cesar Tulio Delgado; Hernando Borrero; Jose Castro Borrero; Bernardo Garces; and Pedro Pablo Caicedo.

The exchange of visits developed after Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, expressed interest to the United States Agency for International Development (AID) in forming an affiliation between his area and a growing Latin American city.

Cali notified AID of its interest and extended an invitation.

The Oakland County delegation was made up of Durwood B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University; Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; George Catlin, director of industrial development for the Detroit Edison Co.; and George Skrubb, county planning director.

In addition, Mark T. Jaroszewicz, an architect with the Tarapata, McMahan Associates, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills, accompanied the group. Jaroszewicz, 4204 Butternut Hill, Bloomfield Township, paid his own way.

* * *

Expenses of the others were underwritten by the State Department. The group spent two weeks in Colombia.

Cali, founded in 1536, is Colombia's second largest city. Its population quadrupled from 1940 to 1963 to an estimated 700,000. With the exception of Sao Paulo in Brazil, it is the fastest growing city in Latin America.

It is located in the Cauca River Valley, one of the richest agricultural areas of the world.

Escape Foiled at Dixie Prison

'Insurrection' Ended by Tear Gas, Troopers

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An escape attempt of three prisoners armed with homemade knives left the Big Reidsville State Prison in turmoil today.

* * *

A blast from a tower guard's shotgun halted the would-be prison break, but State Prison director Fred Hallford said a major disturbance followed.

"It's a full insurrection," said Hallford from Atlanta, where he hurriedly arranged for outside help to restore order.

Forty state troopers were ordered to the prison.

The prison director said two prisoners and a guard were hospitalized as a result of the attempted break which occurred about 12:30 a.m.

Hallford estimated that 2,000 of the prison's population of 3,071 were involved in a screaming outburst of fury.

Several guards, he reported, were assaulted with metal posts wrenched from prison beds. None, however, was seriously hurt, he said.

Tear gas was poured into the prison dormitories to subdue the rebellious inmates.

Hallford said the main disturbance began among Negro prisoners about 7 a.m. as they were marching from the mess hall back to the dormitories. It quickly spread to the white convicts.

"The guards kept their heads," Hallford said, "and managed to get the inmates back into the dormitories.

"The disorder grew into a deafening din and there was nothing else to do but use the tear gas."

Mine Rescuers Seeking Body

Engineer Predicts 120 Days of Drilling

SHEPPTON, Pa. (UPI) — Rescuers turned today to the grim task of recovering the body of Louis Bova from the mine shaft where he was trapped with two other men Aug. 13.

Hope of rescuing Bova alive ended early yesterday when officials decided their probes would yield little else than the body of the miner.

Bova's companions were brought to the surface alive in a dramatic early morning rescue operation Aug. 27 from a chamber adjoining one in which Bova was believed trapped.

Engineer Albert J. Grebloski of Philadelphia, assistant mine and tunnel inspector for the Reading Railroad, was to descend intio the mine shaft today to see if either of two proposed plans for recovering the body is feasible.

Grebloski, who has 28 years mining experience, said each of the plans would take a minimum of 120 days. He conferred last night with mining officials on the plans.

One method called for drilling a tunnel through the original mine slope into the chamber where Bova's body is believed located.

The other called for a three-inch hole to be drilled into a coal viein believed to run directly beneath the chamber.

Officials said they would continue test soundings into 12 holes already drilled in the mine area to listen for signs of life.

Meanwhile, State Mines Secretary Dr. H. Beecher Charmbury said a complete investigation would be conducted into the operation of the mine.

CELEBRATION—A group of Tuskegee, Ala. highschoolers wave a Confederate flag and sing Dixie as they whoop it up on a porch across the street from their high school, which had been scheduled to open on an integrated basis today. Gov. George Wallace ordered a one-week postponement. School officials promptly broke up the celebration.

School Kept Closed

School when it was consolidated into all 12 grades.

A parent, Mrs. P. M. Wadsworth, walked up to the ring of state troopers with a group of students and asked if they could enter. She got no reply, but the troopers allowed no one even to cross the street.

Mrs. Wadsworth asked the students, "Do you all want to go to school?" When they replied, "Yes, mam," Mrs. Wadsworth appealed to the troopers, "Please tell Gov. Wallace our children want to go to school."

USED PREVIOUSLY

The mounted sheriff's deputies came here from Dallas County under the command of Sheriff Jim Clark. The trained horsemen have been used previously to keep order during racial demonstrations in other cities.

There was no indication of federal intervention.

A Justice Department spokesman said Monday that "the dispute is between Gov. Wallace and the local school officials."

Wallace tried unsuccessfully last spring to prevent enrollment of two Negroes for summer classes at the University of Alabama. The governor stood in the doorway of the registration building until federalized National Guardsmen were moved onto the campus.

Forced by the federal troops, Wallace yielded and the Negroes were enrolled. It was the second time the university had been desegregated. The first in 1956, lasted only three days before a mob drove a Negro coed from the campus.

Wallace intervened Monday two hours before 13 Negroes were to enter the white public school. It would have been the first desegregation in Alabama schools below college level and it would have left Mississippi as the only state with a completely segregated public school system.

The Alabama chief executive, an ardent segregationist, invoked his police powers in an executive order in which he said there was reasonable cause to fear "breaches of the peace by force and violence...which cannot be speedily suppressed or effectively prevented by law enforcement agencies."

The governor sent 108 armed and riot-trained patrolmen to circle the school and enforce a strongly worded executive order which postponed the opening of school for one week.

However, the Macon County School Board, under federal court order to integrate its schools this year, defied Wallace's order and said in a statement, "The members of the board determined their primary duty is to operate the schools of Macon County. Therefore, all schools of Macon County are open as originally scheduled by the board."

* * *

The possibility of federal intervention was strengthened by the presence of John Doar, deputy director of the Justice Department's civil rights division. Doar conferred for several hours with members of the board but declined to say what the Justice Department planned.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy cut short a holiday to return to work when he received word of Wallace's executive order.

ing. Three bus company employes were injured, one seriously.

In the confusion and political turmoil, officials felt there were possibilities of terrorist bombings against American installations by the Communist Viet Cong.

Despite a wave of rumors, Saigon streets showed no unusual activity.

The government announced it planned to reopen high schools in Saigon and the suburbs tomorrow. It also said it had released all of the 254 students in Hue temporarily detained for security reasons.

The English-language Times of Viet Nam charged Monday that the CIA was financing a plot to overthrow Diem and exile two powerful advisers, his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu and Mrs. Nhu. The U.S. Embassy called the story nonsense.

Washington believes the Nhus are responsible for Saigon's harsh crackdown on Buddhist opposition and has urged their removal while continuing to support Diem's war against Communist guerrillas.

The Buddhists accuse the government of religious persecution but Diem, a Roman Catholic, denies it.

Atlantis Society Pleads for 100-Year-Old Home

BIRMINGHAM—The preservation of a 100-year-old home on the site of a proposed municipal parking lot is being sought by a Birmingham cultural organization.

The Atlantis Society, in a letter to the City Commission, said the building at 288 Townsend "is an excellent and classic example of the pre-Civil War Michigan farmhouse."

The 160-family, non-profit group proposes to lease the building from the city and operate it for the city as the Atlantis House, an office for community organizations.

* * *

The house, formerly owned by architect Eero Saarinen, is located directly across from the Community House and at the southwest corner of the parking lot to be built south of Shain Park.

"Its location would make a good buffer for the residential character of the neighborhood and would lessen the impact of the view of a sea of cars," the organization said.

'GREAT NEED'

The society said it believes there is a great need on the part of organizations serving the area to be able to rent at a nominal cost an office located in the center of the city.

It said several organizations already have expressed interest in the proposal.

The rents received would be used to pay the utilities and maintain the structure. Surplus revenue would go in the city's general fund.

A two-year trial period is requested by the society, after which time the operation could be continued by the organization, transferred to a city agency or possibly to the administration of the Community House.

The commission will consider the proposal at its meeting tonight, postponed one day because of Labor Day.

Students who will attend the new Berkshire Junior High School are scheduled to get another bonus this week.

Opening of the school has been postponed from Thursday to Monday. Classes will begin at 8:30 a.m.

The extra day and a half will give workmen time to put the finishing touches on the building and teachers a chance to arrange their rooms.

John J. Redmond

Requiem Mass for John J. Redmond, 71, of 42 E. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills, will be 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church. Burial will follow in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield.

Mr. Redmond died yesterday after a long illness.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

A retired postmaster of the Bloomfield Hills post office, Mr. Redmond was also a plumbing and heating contractor. He was senior member of his church's usher club.

Surviving are a step-daughter, Mrs. Rosiland Miller of Cassopolis; and three brothers.

The 159 persons killed on Memorial Day was the highest for a one-day Decoration Day holiday.

During the four-day Independence Day holiday, 557 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, a record for a four-day Fourth of July weekend.

During the three holiday periods, covering nearly nine days, the traffic deaths totaled about 1,250, an average of nearly 140 a day. During the first seven months this year, the National Safety Council said, there were 22,930 traffic fatalities, an average of about 110 a day.

The total was 5 per cent higher than in the first seven months in 1962.

The council, before the count of the Labor Day traffic death started at 6 p.m. last Friday, estimated a toll of between 430 and 520.

One thing that surprised some observers was the way that auto companies are hurrying their production schedules along.

Traditionally, scheduling of production in the early weeks of a new car run tends towards the conservative side as auto makers await public reaction to the new vehicles.

The first of the 1964 models will not be on public display for another three weeks, but production schedules indicate auto makers expect no slackening in the heavy buying demand which marked the 1963 model run just ended.

Bandits Strike 2 Gas Stations

Two Pontiac gas stations were held up yesterday morning by armed bandits wearing masks.

John Phillips, 22, an attendant at the Clark Oil Station, 420 S. Saginaw, told police he was robbed by two men who approached him on foot while he was sweeping the driveway.

About $31 was taken in the 4:35 a.m. robbery, according to police.

At 5:20 a.m., William Smith, 19, an attendant at Tulsa Gas, 701 S. Saginaw, said a man with a pistol surprised him as he was sitting in the station.

The man, wearing a woman's stocking over his head, ordered Smith to the men's room and told him to lay on the floor. The bandit escaped with $35.

The population of the United States multiplied rapidly after the Civil War, a gain of almost threefold between the years 1865 and 1910.

2 Detroiters Hurt in Area Boat Collision

A two-boat collision on White Lake in Highland Township Sunday injured a Detroit couple.

Suder told police he had turned his head to check a water skier he was towing and did not see the other boat in time.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) – For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain – without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all – this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) – the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Airport Plans on Tap Tonight

Commission Approval Sought for Project

The Pontiac Municipal Airport master plan, which has been two years in the making, will be up for official approval at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

Major portions of the plan call for extension of the existing 5,300-foot east-west runway to 6,200 feet and construction of a 5,000-foot north-south runway.

Purpose of the plan is to show the existing airport facility with future expansion and recommended development.

* * *

A total $9,088,800 development program proposed, pending state and federal approval. If accepted it would be completed in stages with the total cost being split three ways: $3,905,150 from local funds, $631,250 state funds and $4,552,400 from federal funds.

1963 BUDGET

Another major item on tonight's agenda is the public hearing and adoption of an amendment to the 1963 budget appropriation ordinance.

The amendment will specify the amount to be raised from city taxes this year and the 1963 tax rate. It is expected the rate will be about $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed property value.

Commissioners have indicated the total tax levy will be about $4,477,000, the same as was considered in June. Major changes, however, are expected in individual department allocations due to a deficit last year and the need for a surplus after Jan. 1.

* * *

In other business, commissioners are slated to hear a report from City Clerk Olga Barkeley recommending that voting precincts 3 and 38 be combined as one.

The precincts are in District 1. According to the clerk, there are too few registered voters in Precinct 38 to make it practical to staff it with election personnel as a separate district.

Also up for tentative approval will be two requests for dance permits in connection with class C liquor licensed establishments at 78 Baldwin and 568 Sanford.

The agenda is also crowded by hearings on proposed public improvement projects and several planning commission recommendations for rezoning properties.

Motorcycle Flips; Pair Seriously Hurt

A Detroit couple was seriously injured yesterday when their motorcycle went out of control on Auburn in Avon Township.

In Pontiac General Hospital in satisfactory condition are Toy McDowell Jr., 34, suffering a skull fracture, and his wife Hazel, 28, with a concussion and possible internal injuries.

Sheriff's deputies were unable to talk to McDowell because of his injuries but witnesses stated his motorcycle flipped when it hit the shoulder of the road.

McDowell was traveling west on Auburn at about 50 miles per hour when the accodent occurred at 4:15 p.m. near Walsh, according to deputies.

Red Cross Blood Bank to Locate in Pontiac

An American Red Cross mobile blood bank unit will be at the Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Market Rallies Amid Optimism

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market started on its post-Labor-Day career early today with a vigorous rally. Trading was heavy.

In an exceptionally large block for such a high-priced stock, Xerox (ex dividend) rose ½ to 284 on 6,000 shares.

Control Data gained 2½ at 90½ on 2,000 shares.

Steels advanced as an upturn in steel orders was reported. Most gains of the major steelmakers were fractional. About the same size were shown by the top automakers. Rails moved higher on balance.

Friday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .7 to 279.6, another historic high.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Padding "A" rose more than a point. Among fractional gainers were Draper, Kirby Petroleum, Reliance Insurance, Syntex and Pyle National.

CORE Chief Set for Arrest

More FBI Agents Due in Louisiana

From Our News Wires

PLAQUEMINE, La. (UPI) — James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), said he intended to submit to arrest today on charges of disturbing the peace and inciting violence.

The office of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, meanwhile, announced in Washington that more FBI agents would be sent to this Mississippi riverfront town.

Further word from Washington was awaited on a outright request for federal intervention.

* * *

Farmer, who left Plaquemine during a wild civil rights demonstration Sunday night and went to New Orleans to confer with attorneys, was scheduled to go on trial today. Fifteen other CORE officials and local civil rights leaders were to be tried with him.

Meanwhile, in Charleston, S.C. eleven Negro children sat down with white children in four public schools today, marking South Carolina's first school integration below the college level.

There were no incidents as the Negro students arrived for their first day of classes.

Only an occasional remark was heard as the 11 neatly-dressed Negro children, some accompanied by their parents, strolled into the four previously all-white schools in this historic port city, where the first shots of the Civil Ware were fired a century ago.

Active Demand Ups Wheat Future Price

CHICAGO (AP) — An active demand boosted wheat futures prices rather substantially today in early transactions on the board of trade but other grains and soybeans were steady to firm.

Wheat posted gains ranging to nearly two cents a bushel during the first several minutes. Brokers said the support appeared to be largely short covering and perhaps some speculative establishment of long positions.

They noted some commercial demand, too, which they said is normal early in the month at this time of year they said flour mills often buy at this time.

Tenders of corn on September contracts still were expected to be light or absent but delivery again led the advance in that pit.

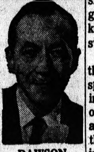
Wage Boosts Look Good for Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Several million workers are getting pay increases. This could mean pressure for higher prices.



DAWSON

It could mean faster economic growth through more spending money circulating quickly. It could mean greater cost-trimming efforts such as turning to machines to replace man or woman labor.

But whatever the future may bring, one thing's for sure. Today's a happy one for a lot of workers.

* * *

Some 2.6 million low-paid workers are due for a wage boost today because the legal minimum wage goes up to $1.25 an hour from $1.15. Even more persons perhaps expect to benefit indirectly because their differential tends to rise as the lowest paid job does.

And at least a million others, in many pay brackets, will get more because the cost of living has just hit another record high.

UNION CONTRACTS

Others are due for wage hikes automatically under existing union contracts. Some big unions are now negotiating new pacts, the remaining slice of this year's quota affecting five million or more workers. Congress has boosted many of the government's civil and military pay brackets.

Today's minimum wage hike law also could affect about four million workers in the retail and service trades by giving them overtime pay above a 44-hour week. And it makes some salaried administrative, executive and professional employes eligible for the first time for overtime pay.

* * *

A hike in minimum wages usually spurs demands of other employes for higher pay for their above-minimum jobs. Thus the executive council of the Textile Workers Union of America has called for a general wage increase in that industry, especially in the South, where the federal law will be most felt.

The increased costs may build more pressure for price hikes, especially where affected company managements already have been complaining of low profit margins — the relation of earnings to sales.

CHANCE GETS BETTER

If the industry has idle capacity and keen competition, the pressure may lack force. But as business activity picks up the chances of price rises get better. And the increase in purchasing power as pay checks swell helps retailers, and thus producers.

* * *

Offsetting this, as some see it, will be the drag of higher production and retailing costs on plans to expand plants or hire more hands. And the new overtime pay rules may make some employers think twice.

The rise in pay scales has slowed in recent months, but the granting of fringe benefits has kept production costs on the upswing.

More than a million workers in the auto, farm machinery, aerospace and construction equipment industries are getting a pay hike of from one cent to three cents an hour under contracts tied to the cost of living index. This rose in July to a new high of 107.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

Employes of some companies are getting an additional boost as provided in long-term labor contracts. Where these annual increases are provided for blue-collar workers, more companies are providing like boosts for white collar employes.

All of this post-Labor Day good cheer for hourly and salaried workers is one reason that government and business economists feel so sure that the total of personal incomes will rise the rest of this year.

And as this spending money increases, so does the chance of better times ahead.

Savings Plan Proposed

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A new savings incentive plan under which higher interest rates would be paid on accounts of more than $1,000 was proposed yesterday by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the board, said the proposal would give federal savings flexibility in rates paid on savings accounts.

Some savings and loan associations reduced their interest rates last spring while others did not.

In announcing a proposed regulation which would permit federal savings and loan associations to pay an extra ¼ or ½ per cent on longer term accounts of more than $1,000, McMurray said:

"It is hoped that this may assist associations in avoiding the lending pressure which would flow from across - the - board rate increases."

* * *

McMurray proposed that the associations be permitted to pay an extra ¼ per cent on accounts over $1,000 which have been in the association for at least one year, and up to an extra ½ per cent over the basic rate on funds which have remained at least two years.

He invited comments, particularly on the size of the minimum account and on the suggested rates of extra interest.

McMurray announced also that member savings and loan associations passed a milestone of $100 billion in assets at the end of August. He said this projection was made when fiscal year end reports on June 30 showed their assets had reached $98.6 billion as of that date.

NEW YORK — American industry will invest $3.6 billion in plants, equipment and property outside the United States this year, and 8 per cent rise, says McGray - Hill Publishing Co.

The firm's annual survey runs counter to speculation that such investment was on the wane. The survey said that most firms said they are not cutting back, at least not within the next two years.

The survey said that the major source of funds for these investment funds is expected to be foreign retained earnings and depreciation allowances.

It said there has been a marked trend for companies to lean more on foreign earnings and less upon domestic treasuries for these investments.

The survey said that the companies responding said they expect sales from their foreign subsidiaries to rise to about $38 billion in 1965. Their exports from the United States, however, are expected to rise only 3 per cent.

NEW YORK — The Commercial Solvents Corp. has purchased the industrial explosives business of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., including plants in Illinois, Washington and Pennsylvania, it was announced yesterday.

The announcement was made jointly by the two firms, and did not disclose the purchase price of the cash transaction.

Commercial Solvents will operate the business as a division known as the U.S. Powder Co.

Olin Mathieson, according to President N. Harvey Collission, will be permitted by the sale to concentrate on development of other products in which the company has a stronger position.

Business Notes

Dr. Robert E. O'Connor of 901 Pine Thistle, Bloomfield Township, was named yesterday as medical director of the Parke, Davis & Co. international division.

Parke, Davis said O'Connor will be responsible for the Africa-Pacific zone of the drug firm's world-wide enterprises.

A member of the American Public Health Association, Medical Writers Association and the American Medical Association, he was in a private pediatrics practice prior to his present assignment.

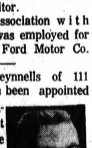
Jerome S. Wilford, 91 N. Main, Clarkston, has been appointed vice president and editorial director of Production Magazine, a monthly trade publication issued by Bramson Publishing Co., Birmingham.

WILFORD

Wilford joined the staff of Production in 1942 as sales representative. Since that time, he has served successfully as associate editor, business manager and editor.

Prior to his association with Production, he was employed for eight years by Ford Motor Co.

Robert V. Reynnells of 111 N. Johnson has been appointed sales representative and budget manager of the Smith Oil Co., 590 S. Paddock, it was announced today by H. H. Smith, president of the firm.



REYNNELLS

Reynnells is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and Wayne State University.

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am 58, a widow, with an eye condition which makes me unable to work. I would appreciate your comments on these stocks: General Motors; California Electric Power; Automatic Canteen; Lofts Candy; American Bakeries; Pepsi-Cola United."

L. M.

(A) You seem doubly unfortunate; in your widowhood and in your infirmity, which keeps you from working. I offer my profound sympathy and any help that I can give.

Of your list I would hold only General Motors, California Electric and Pepsi-Cola United. American Bakeries has been in a severe earnings downtrend. The annual dividend rate was recently cut to $1 a share and was barely covered in the first 28 weeks of 1963. Automatic Canteen's earnings dropped sharply last year and I consider the shares too speculative for you.

The same stricture, in my opinion, applies to Loft Candy. I believe you should weed out your speculative shares and buy Eaton Mfg. and Atchison Rwy., both yielding 5 per cent.

* * *

(Q) "We have $500. We won't need this money now but in case of sickness would need it right away. My husband is interested in a real estate stock paying 7½ per cent. They say we can get our principal back any time we need it. What do you think we should do?"

L. K.

(A) I believe that you should put your money in a savings institution. Stocks are not a medium in which cash reserves should be kept. The only thing certain about stocks is that they fluctuate and if you hold shares which must be sold in a depressed market, you could lose a substantial amount of your capital.

The dividend your real estate stock offers is very much above the going rate. I do not doubt the issuer's good faith, but simply question the practicality of corporate promises to buy back bonds at issue price.

Keep your money in a savings institution where interest is accumulative and the principal is intact when you need it.
