'60 Pontiac Daring, Bold; Restyled for New Challenge

Pontiac Motor Division—not willing to rest on its laurels after one of its best years in history—today let newsmen take a peek at its completely restyled "fresh point of view" 1960 automobile.

Announcing the bold, new automobile at a preview in Detroit, Semon E. Knudsen, division general manager and General Motors Corp. vice president, said, "It took courage to implement a belief that Americans are insatiable for newness and change."

SEMON E. KNUDSEN

The 1960 Pontiac car was unveiled at an afternoon showing at the Masonic Temple as the division was closing out a year which has seen it capture first place in the medium price field and second place in General Motors.

Believing that 1960 will be even better, and will cap off a steady climb in engineering genius "build-up" which began in 1957, Knudsen said when the motoring public sees its 1960 models — "their feeling about Pontiac's competitive superiority will become conviction."

Details of the new car won't be released to the public until showrooms have it in a month or so.

Text of Knudsen's address follows:

From the conversations I've had with many of you—there are two stories I know you want. First—the story of the '60—and second—an explanation for our sales increase of 1959.

The best way to give you both is to link them—sketch them in perspective — and describe the whole in terms of its parts.

As you know—we have finished our 1959 model production run. You can begin to chart the kind of year 1959 is turning out to be. We've produced 383,320 automobiles—to occupy 1st place in the medium price field and 2nd place in General Motors.

Pontiac dealers in July sold 35,518 automobiles—a 10 per cent increase over the July figure of a year ago. Our own 10-month model year sales figures show 316,320 cars sold up to Aug. 1st—a gain of 70 per cent over a similar period for '58.

80 MILLION EXPERTS

Since there are 80 million drivers in the United States—there are 80 million experts on cars and just about the same number of authorities on the industry who can tell you why Pontiac sold.

Even though you are the only true experts in the business — chances are that just about everyone in this room has a slightly different explanation for our sales of 1959.

At Pontiac we concluded that with the general rise in economic well-being — the American family would be giving more and more thought to the problem of surrounding itself with symbols that would adequately reinforce the status image they wished to project.

Sales strategies were designed to harness people's natural urge to upgrade themselves. And—as a new status car—our 1959 hit hardest and most effectively in the middle priced field.

Our increase in Pontiac sales was possible because a few of

U.S. Approves Terminal Plans for City Airport

May Begin Construction Next Month as Federal Agency Gives OK

Final plans for the proposed $390,000 terminal building project at Pontiac Municipal Airport have been approved by the federal government.

Construction may get under way as early as next month and be completed by late summer next year, said Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

The Federal Aviation Administration yesterday gave the go-ahead signal to the Michigan Department of Aeronautics to seek construction bids for opening in Lansing Sept. 10.

Before the federally aided project can get under way, the federal agency and City Commission must approve contracts.

The project is to be financed one-half by the federal government, one-quarter by the state and one-quarter by the city.

2 YEARS' PREPARATION

The final drawings were prepared by William C. Zimmerman Associates of Pontiac. Their approval culminates almost two years of preparation for a terminal building and tower that will make it feasible for regularly scheduled commercial airlines to use the airport.

Costs break down into an estimated $300,000 for the building and $90,000 for outside improvements, such as an entrance road from Highland road (M59); a service drive between the terminal and commercial hangars and a 150-car parking lot.

The federal government also plans to spend $110,000 for equipment in the three-story tower, which the Federal Aviation Agency will operate.

Site for the terminal will be just south of the main, east-west runway, about half way between Airport and Williams Lake roads and 900 feet north of Highland road.

Glass, brick and aluminum will be the main materials on the outside of the building, said William

Kalamazoo Leads Nation

Downtown Mall Opens

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Known internationally as a typical U.S. town, Kalamazoo is leading a return of the village green to the American scene.

This city of about 80,000 was the subject of U.S. Information Agency and State Department displays in Great Britain two years ago and in Berlin last fall.

Today, it is drawing national attention with the first permanent shoppers mall ever to spring up in an established downtown district.

Except for traffic on Michigan Avenue (U.S. 12) and an east-west thoroughfare dividing the mall, cars are routed around the mall area by one-way streets.

JOLTED INTO ACTION

Motorists have been traveling the new route since June when mall work started.

New suburban shops and a 1955 decrease of more than one million dollars in reassessed valuation in the central business district jolted Kalamazoo leaders into action.

The nonprofit Downtown Planning Committee, Inc., was formed in 1956. It retained a Fort Worth, Tex., firm to draw up a long-range plan which was finished in March 1958.

The Downtown Kalamazoo Assn. grew from the committee and pressed for immediate action on the plan.

Enabling ordinances were passed and the City Commission this year approved use of general fund tax revenues to share costs of the mall with special assessments against fronting properties.

Mayor Glenn Allen says building permits for store remodeling and for a new $600,000 store one block south of the mall have returned the city's $30,000 share.

MAY BE EXTENDED

The mall may be extended another block south to include the new store frontage.

Eyes Collection of Aid Money All Over Nation

To Dedicate Labor Day Celebration to Support, Sympathy for Idle

From Our News Wires

UNITY HOUSE, Pa. — The AFL - CIO Executive Council today considered a plan to seek cash contributions from nearly every member in the United States to aid 500,000 striking steelworkers.

The 29-man council was expected to approve unprecedented support for the five-week-old walkout to dramatize labor's charges that all unions are endangered if the steel industry successfully resists wage demands.

The AFL-CIO resolved today to dedicate its 1959 Labor Day celebration Sept. 7 to sympathy and support for the 500,000 steel strikers.

Under one proposal being studied at the big council's summer session, each of the 12,500,000 workers in federation affiliates would be asked to give a penny a day to back the strike.

If they all contributed, it would amount to almost four million dollars a month.

Besides resolving to dedicate Labor Day as "Support the Steelworkers Day," the AFL-CIO Council also invited leaders of all AFL-CIO unions to a meeting in San Francisco Sept. 18 to rally support behind the steel strikers.

The rally will be held in connection with the AFL-CIO convention opening in San Francisco Sept. 17.

The International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) yesterday donated $100,000 to support the steel walkout. In doing so, IUE President James B. Carey said it was a strike "against all union-busting employers in all industry who are seeking to wreck the hard-won gains of the workers. We feel the entire labor movement is under attack."

Meantime, a Sept 1. strike was threatened in the meat packing plants across the nation.

EXPECT APPEAL TO IKE

Union officials accused management of following the pattern set up by major steel producers in proposing a wage-freeze for 200,000 workers represented by two AFL-CIO unions.

The AFL - CIO high command was expected to ask President Eisenhower to call industry leaders and heads of the United Steelworkers Union to the White House in an effort to settle the seventh postwar steel strike. He has rejected similar demands in the past.

Labor leaders here believe the steelworkers are victims of a planned shutdown by steelmakers over what they call a "phony" inflation issue. Other employers may follow this example, they fear.

The companies have refused union demands for a substantial wage increase and have demanded changes in work rules. Negotiations now being conducted in New York by second-string bargaining teams have bogged down. No settlement is in sight.

Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan met privately today in New York with the two top negotiators in the steel strike in another effort to bring about an early settlement of the 37-day-old walkout.

He conferred with David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, and R. Conrad Cooper, representing the steel industry, in his suite at the Commodore Hotel.

CONTINUE 'SPADE WORK'

In the meantime, subcommittees representing labor, management and the mediators continued their "spade work" of straightening out ambiguous language in a proposed new contract at a joint session in the Roosevelt Hotel.

Finnegan did not seem overly optimistic as he prepared to talk with McDonald and Cooper, whom he had conferred with separately yesterday without making any apparent headway.

In fact, he told newsmen that neither side had changed basic positions in the wage dispute and that the situation is as "gloomy" as ever.

Walk Across Auburn Kills Avon Lad and Critically Hurts Brother

A Rochester area boy was killed and his little brother critically injured when struck by a car yesterday evening in Auburn Heights.

Larry D. Howard, 10, died of head injuries and a broken neck while being rushed by ambulance to Pontiac General Hospital.

Also suffering head injuries, his brother Allen, 7, was unconscious most of the night but showed signs of response this morning. The hospital reported his condition as serious.

Larry and Allen were in Auburn Heights yesterday visiting grandparents, their parents said. Late in the afternoon they were given money and allowed to walk to a nearby dairy bar on the north side of Auburn for ice cream cones.

A witness to the accident, Mrs. Clifford Russ, 3405 Squirrel Rd., Auburn Heights, said the boys apparently thought traffic was halted when they ran into the street.

AF Plans Big Play to Retrieve Capsule

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—From out of the vast Pacific heavens, a small capsule dangling from a parachute was expected to drop slowly toward the ocean today.

And waiting in Hawaii was a team of fliers with a seemingly impossible assignment — to go out and try to catch it before it hit the water.

The capsule went aloft Wednesday, fixed in the nose of the Discoverer VI satellite, which is flashing around the earth once every 95 minutes in an egg-shaped, north-south orbit.

This afternoon, 26 hours after the launching, the capsule was to be kicked loose from the 19-foot satellite.

And, for the second time in less than a week, a squadron of Air Force C119 Flying Boxcars was set to take off from Hawaii and try to execute an almost incredible catch. Each plane was equipped with a recovery net—a trapeze-like affair.

The project is aimed at solving the re-entry problem—how to get a man in space and, once he's there, get him back.

Although the odds against success seem overwhelming, the Air Force hoped to have more than the highly remote chance of sighting the capsule during its descent. The capsule was equipped with a radio which was supposed to send signals, to give the recovery team an idea of its whereabouts.

Such a recovery was planned following the successful launching

Elephant Stampede Kills, Maims

KANDY, Ceylon (AP)—A maddened temple elephant charged a crowd of 200,000 at a religious festival Wednesday night. Twenty persons were reported killed in the crush and thousands injured.

Several persons were reported missing. It was feared some had fallen or jumped into Kandy Lake nearby.

The elephant was one of more than 100 participating with dancers and drummers in an annual Buddhist pageant called Perahera.

The animal became infuriated when it stepped on burning coals which had dropped from a flaming torch. It wheeled about and charged, and the crowd ran screaming in panic, seeking shelter in nearby buildings, atop walls and in trees.

Two mahouts clung to the elephant's tail and trunk. They finally stopped it and chained it to a lamppost. But the noise of the surging crowd set the beast off again and it broke loose, smashing shop fronts and trampling obstacles in its path.

Police finally shot and killed the animal on the street.

The Perahera pageant centered on the Temple of the Holy Tooth, one of Buddhism's most sacred spots. The temple houses a tooth supposed to have come from the jaw of Buddha, who founded the religion 25 centuries ago.

The temple is in one of Kandy's business sectors, surrounded by shops and near the popular Queen's Hotel.

A similar incident occurred during a Buddhist procession five days ago near Colombo and 100 persons were injured.

Unionist Promises Revenge at Polls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James B. Carey, electrical workers president, has sent letters advising 229 House members who voted for the administration - backed labor reform bill that "we shall do all in our power" to beat them in the next election.

Carey signed the letter, which accused lawmakers of taking part in a "vindictive assault on the labor movement" by backing the so-called Landrum-Griffin Bill.

Rep. James C. Auchincloss (R-NJ) made public copies of the letter. He called it "bitter and ill-tempered" and replied in a letter to Carey: "Please do not insult me by threats."

Stalemate Over Taxes Looks Likely to Go On Into September

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's weary tax fight seemed likely today to drag on into September as Democrats bent to mounting Republican pressure but refused to crack.

The legislative halls once again were empty, this time until Friday, Aug. 28 except for businessmen who answer a GOP call to the capitol next Monday and Tuesday.

Business leaders were invited to air their views then in a new strategy tack announced by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland).

Geerlings moved late yesterday after Republican Senate tax bargainers beat Democrats into a seven million dollar retreat on their demand for added taxes on business.

The Democratic back-up represented a yielding to the Republican argument, drummed home in late weeks, that a booming economy would send receipts from existing taxes soaring, thus cutting new revenue needs.

The Democratic "compromise" offer of an 11 million dollar settlement was rejected on "principle" grounds by Geerlings and Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo).

House-Senate conferees vainly have sought agreement on a business tax component to go with the 120 million dollar use (sales) tax increase Democrats conditionally accepted in a previous retreat July 24.

The price set by Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit), chief House bargainer, was 18 million dollars until yesterday when he came in with a deflated proposal backed by the Democratic caucus.

Following the GOP turndown, Lesinski said "we're one and one half million dollars apart in dollars but miles apart in principle."

Geerlings said Lesinski's business Activities Tax (BAT) revision plan smacked too much of a profits tax with its liberal tax credit provisions for money-losing concerns.

To make up for nine million dollars he proposed in tax relief and leave an 11 million dollar net gain, Lesinski called basically for jumping the existing BAT rate from 6! to 8¾ mills for a gross new revenue yield of $22,500,000.

In essence, Geerlings and Morris clung to a stand for a maximum one mill ($10,000,000) gross revenue gain from the BAT—with few and minor side adjustments and preferably none. However, Geerlings said in one combination he might go 1½ mills.

Of next week's hearings, Geerlings said:

"I believe that if business has to pay any additional tax, they should give us information as to the best way to levy it and what type business tax will be most equitable."

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit), another tax negotiator, scoffed.

Former Pilot Has Answer
Saucers? No, Vapor Trails

A technical writer for General Motors Truck and Coach Division says he has the solution to the mystery of two unidentified "flying saucer" objects sighted by many Pontiac area residents Tuesday night.

"For those people who saw it, it was both a beautiful and weird spectacle," reports Frank Jozwik, 6151 Adamson Rd., Drayton Plains. "But there really is no mystery.

"The phenomenon was an illusion caused by the vapor trail of two jet planes."

A former licensed pilot, Jozwik offers this explanation:

"After viewing the two supposedly stationary objects through eight-power binoculars, I could clearly see two bellowing vapor trails that appeared to the naked eye as two round discs, golden in color.

"The reason that they appeared round in shape and motionless, of which they actually were not, was that the jets were traveling from west to east, directly toward the viewers at an altitude of about 50,000 feet, and an approximate speed of 450 miles per hour.

"At the time of the first sighting they were probably as far away as Fowlerville, some 50 miles from here. When they were over Howell, one of the jets maneuvered into a combination barrel roll and dive creating a spiraling vapor trail that was exceedingly beautiful.

"Both jets were of the swept wing Sabre type.

"It is a rare coincidence coming straight on and at that altitute that the planes were directly in the center of their own vapor trails and couldn't be distinguished.

"The golden color was caused by the sun rays coming through the moisture of the vapor trail which acts as a filter."

It's as simple as that!

Discoverer VI is expected to remain in orbit at least a month. It comes within 138 miles of earth at its closest approach and goes as far out as 537 miles.

Discoverer VI—78 feet long including its first stage—shot skyward from this West Coast missile base shortly after noon Wednesday. The first stage, which fell away after a few minutes, was a Thor medium-range missile using a potent new kerosene fuel. The second stage was a 1,700-pound vehicle produced by Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Lockheed and an Air Force official said after the launching:

"The successful orbiting of two Discoverer satellites in less than a week marks a tremendous forward step in the scientific study of space vehicles and their applications."

The Discoverer had no animals in its capsule. But the capsule is the type expected to carry monkeys aloft later in the tests.

State to Stress Safety in Road Construction

LANSING (AP) — Michigan contractors will be required to submit construction safety proposals along with their bids for contracts as of Sept. 16, the State Highway Department announced today.

The new rule will require bidders on road jobs to keep a detailed list of accidents during construction, submit in advance in writing details of safety plans, and name a safety supervisor.

Meeting these requirements will be part of the pre-qualification of a contractor as a bidder.

Department estimates said the campaign is expected to save millions of dollars over a period of a few years. Statistics indicate accidents cost $31,000 per one million dollars worth of road construction, engineers said.

Eastern U.S. Still Swelters, West Gets Break

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather appeared stuck in its familiar pattern of the past couple of weeks today. It was fairly pleasant in western sections, hot and humid in most of the eastern half of the country.

Cool air spread from the far northwest across northern states into parts of the Dakotas. It was expected to move across the Dakotas and into western parts of Nebraska, bringing welcome relief to areas hit by temperatures of above 100 degrees the past two days. Readings in the cool belt were a mixture of 50s and 60s.

But east of the cool air, it was warm and humid in most sections.

A sample of reaction from mall retailers yesterday glowed with enthusiasm.

William Hegerfeld, manager of a Montgomery-Ward store, said, "Shopper traffic compared with that just prior to Christmas. It should be fantastic for the next six months with promotions we are lining up. I am very optimistic over the mall's future."

Jeweler Carl Rech reported "an unusual amount of shopper traffic . . . some people from as far as 50 miles away." He said he was "a little against the idea at first because of the parking problem, but that's taken care of now."

Deam Meyers, manager of Gilmore's Toy Store, found it "the busiest day, other than the traditionally busy day before Thanksgiving, in my 27 years at the store."

"I don't know what it would have been without the sale," he added. "But I'm sure we would have been extremely busy."

DKA President Raymond Dykema said, "The turnout exceeded our expectations, especially for a working day." Mayor Allen called it the best downtown weekday crowd in 45 years.

Architectural contracts for a new senior high school—presented by the George D. Mason Co.—along with drawings for two new elementary schools—will be discussed. Contracts may be awarded, said Supt. of Schools William Shunck.

Bids on a large addition to the Schoolcraft school also will be received.

A request to receive acceptance of a commercial driver education program will be presented by Peter Zimmer for the board's consideration.

The building committee is expected to present reports on the purchase of a lot adjoining the Thomas Cooley Elementary School, along with the possibility of acquiring property west of the Board of Education office for expansion of the present building.

Shunck will also present the opening of schools schedules, contracts for new teachers, and plans for the in-service training program.

According to the final plans, the tower will sit atop a one-story main floor, containing facilities for the public and the airport management.

With 7,355 square feet of space, the main floor is to have a lobby, ticket counter, baggage room, offices and a small restaurant, which will be leased by the city on a concession basis.

Hoskins explained that the federal government, which has overseen the building project, has allowed for only minimum facilities, which could be expanded easily later on, however, through local, state or federal funds.

The tower will contain 3,165 square feet of floor space, with the fourth, or top, floor functioning as the center for air traffic control.

BIRMINGHAM — Cheaper by the dozen was the theme of a shoplifter who struck two Birmingham drugstores yesterday.

The shoplifter took a display case containing a dozen watches from the Wilson Drug Co. store at 101 N. Woodward Ave., then took identical display case from Shain's Rexall drugstore at 105 W. Maple St.

In each instance the watches stolen were valued at a total of $120, according to Birmingham Police Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist.

A cave-in of a drain excavation yesterday seriously injured a Detroit laborer at 1205 Lakeside St. near Quarton Lake.

Chester Dicicco, 50, was taken to William Beaumont Hospital with a fractured pelvic bone. He also suffered injuries to his left shoulder, hip and back.

A huge chunk of clay weighing over 500 pounds struck Dicicco when it fell from the side of the 25-foot deep ditch in which he was working.

Partially buried, he was extricated by fellow workers and rushed to the hospital where his condition was listed as serious.

During a lull in regularly scheduled activities, the Birmingham Senior Men's Club will meet at the Community House at 10 a.m. Aug. 28.

They will then be guests at the home of Mrs. Fred C. Gould, 5760 Monterey Ct., Bloomfield Township. Cars will be available for those without transportation.

The next regular meeting of the club, which will usher in the fall season, is set for 10 a.m. Sept. 4 at the Community House, according to T. A. Henshaw, club secretary. Meanwhile shuffleboard play continues daily at 2 p.m. on the Community House courts.

Mrs. Herbert W. Masters of 888 Ann St., Birmingham, has been re-elected president of the Franklin Cemetery Auxiliary.

Other 1959-60 officers are Mrs. Harold Grogg of 2291 Rosewood Dr., Pontiac, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth S. Green of 984 Pierce St., Birmingham, secretary; and Mrs. Russell Pickering of 714 Franklin Rd., Bloomfield Township, re-elected treasurer.

J. Benjamin Bennett of 2078 Manchester St., Birmingham, has been appointed public relations director for LaRue, Cleveland, Inc. of Detroit.

According to company president R. F. LaRue, Bennett will be in charge of the firm's PR activities for General Electric's metallurgical products department, Farm Crest Bakeries, Inc., and Detroit Mold Engineering.

Bennett has been with Grant Advertising Agency of Detroit as assistant director of the Dodge News Bureau and public relations account executive for Cushman Motors, Lincoln, Neb., and Airtemp Division of Chrysler Corp. at Dayton, Ohio.

Charles S. Cartwright of 1836 Banbury Dr., Birmingham, has been named industrial relations manager of Ford Motor Co.'s Mount Clemens paint and chemical products plant.

Appointment was announced by R. C. Armour, manager of the hardware and accessories division plant.

Cartwright succeeds E. O. Weber who has been transferred to the division industrial relations department.

Lapeer Lawyer, 90 Years Young, Plans Marriage

LAPEER — Herbert W. Smith, 90-year-old Lapeer practicing attorney, applied for a marriage license yesterday to wed Mrs. Mary Letourneau, 68, of Goodrich.

Lapeer County Clerk Lyle F. Stewart said Smith is the oldest man in the history of the county to be issued a marriage license.

Smith, a graduate of the Detroit College of Law, was admitted to the bar here in 1893. He was county prosecutor from 1908 to 1916.

The prospective bridegroom's first wife, Cora, died about 20 years ago.

He has a son, Kenneth, also a Lapeer attorney, and a daughter, Mrs. Luther Green, wife of a Rochester attorney and justice of the peace.

Baghdad Pact Name Changed

Anti-Communist Tieup in Middle East Is Now Central Treaty

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) The headquarters of the Baghdad Pact confirmed today that the Middle East anti-Communist alliance has changed its name to the Central Treaty Organization.

There was no indication how the alliance will now be known colloquially, but it probably won't be the obvious CETO. That would sound just like the working name of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The Baghdad alliance was originally made up of Britain, Iran, Iraq, Pakistan and Turkey. It took its name from the Iraqi capital, in which it was organized in 1955 and where it had its headquarters originally.

The "Baghdad" tag became a misnomer after the Iraqi revolution last year when the headquarters moved to Ankara and Iraq withdrew from the alliance.

The change of name was reported Tuesday in Tehran. Wednesday a British Foreign Office spokesman said the report was premature. Today Ankara headquarters made the change of name official.

Confirm Reappointment to Labor Relations Board

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed President Eisenhower's reappointment of Boyd Leedom to a five-year term on the national larbor relations board.

Also approved, without dissent, was the President's nomination of Horace W. Harper to another five year term on the railroad retirement board.

Leedom is from South Dakota. Harper is a Texan.

Real Casualties as Guards Face Stinging Attack

CAMP GRAYLING (UPI) — The 46th Infantry Division of the Michigan National Guard has encountered one real enemy in its three-day combat problem—the bee.

The 107th Medical Battalion of Detroit and the 46th Medical Detachment of Lansing were supposed to treat fictitious casualties from "Exercise Mackinaw."

But they've been called upon to treat several hundred guardsmen for bee stings. Thousands of bees have taken up residence in the artillery range 12 miles northeast of here.

The tactical exercise started at noon Monday and will end at noon today.

In the exercise, a fictitious aggressor landed near Alpena with its mission to cut off supply lines to the Mackinac Bridge. Guard units were ordered to defend Camp Grayling and disrupt the enemy advance until more troops can be sent in by the Fifth Army for a counteroffensive.

National Science Medal Gets House Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing a national Medal of Science.

It would be given to outstanding scientists by the president on recommendation of the National Academy of Sciences.

House Committee OKs Sale of Ships to Chiang

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Merchant Marine Committee Wednesday approved legislation authorizing the sale of four American cargo vessels to Nationalist China at $778,000 each.

The bill authorizes the Commerce Department to sell the vessels to the Formosa government subject to the approval of the State Department and the Defense Departament.

The four ships are to be used only for trade between Taiwan and ports in the Far East and ports east of the Suez Canal, and can be taken over by the United States in the event the President should declare a national war emergency.

The vessels, of the Empire class, are: Anvil, Battleax, Cutlass and Spearhead.

Between five and six million U. S. flags are usually produced each year, according to the National Geographic Magazine, although the figure is running about 20 per cent higher in 1959.

Rules Brothers Must Return to Russia

CHICAGO (UPI) —A judge ruled Wednesday that four little brothers must be restored to their parents in Russia, a land the boys have never seen and whose language they do not speak.

Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski's ruling made it almost inevitable that the four Kozmin brothers, who look, act and think like typical American boys, would grow to manhood behind the Iron Curtain.

Kluczynski set Oct. 1 as deadline for delivering the children to their father and mother, George and Nadeja Kozmin, who came to this country as displaced persons and then chose to return to their homeland.

The ruling ended a two-year diplomatic tug-of-war for custody of Richard, 12, George, 11, Paul, 10, and Peter, 3. The boys have lived in a church home for children and in foster homes since their parents left Chicago for Moscow in June 1957.

"Richard, George and Paul have expressed a feeling of wanting to belong to someone," Kluczynski said. "They know they have natural parents."

Senators' Aides Due for New Official Titles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Office aides of all senators soon may acquire new official titles, perhaps more impressive than the present limited list of "administrative assistant, clerk, or assistant clerk."

It's all part of the Senate decision to make public the payrolls of all senators along with names of their office staffs sometime before next Nov. 30.

Tucked away in a supplemental money bill which both the House and Senate passed Wednesday were some puzzling paragraphs providing, among other things:

"A senator may establish such titles for positions in his office as he may desire to designate, by written notification to the disbursing office of the Senate."

Ahead of this were numerous provisos that each senator could have one employe "at a basic rate of not more than $8,880 per annum." In actual cash that means $16,300 a year, because of various increases authorized over the years but not written into the basic law.

Similarly each senator may have a second worker at $15,731.47, a third at $15,044.83 while all others must be under $10,221.62.

Sen. John Stennis (D-Mass) said "this is no change in pay but it permits each senator to use titles or job descriptions that are more accurate and easily understood."

When payrolls become public, Stennis said, "some folks back home might not understand why a highly competent lawyer or senator's aide was listed as a clerk or assistant clerk."

First all-steel railway baggage car was introduced in 1904.

Pennsylvania Passes 4 Per Cent Use Tax

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania will join Washington as the second state in the nation to have a sales tax as high as 4 per cent.

The State Senate passed the measure Wednesday night 26-22. The Pennsylvania House had approved the bill earlier.

An administration source said that Gov. David L. Lawrence will sign the bill as soon as it reaches him.

Nitroglycerine has an explosive force about 13 times greater than that contained in commercial gunpowder.

Tall Cotton Tale From Dallas to Grow More

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It'll be more like gathering fruit when Bill Hancock picks his cotton crop in the edge of downtown Dallas.

Hancock, owner of a chemical firm, planted a single stalk indoors and applied a hormone growth stimulant as an experiment. The stalk shot up and he had to transplant it into a tiny strip of soil back of his business place.

His one-stalk crop now is 10 feet tall and Hancock expects it to grow another couple of feet. He has counted 100 bolls on the single plant.

Williams College to Aid 20 Foreign Students

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UPI) —Twenty students from the underdeveloped countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America will be admitted each year beginning in 1960 to a graduate training program in economics at Williams College.

The program will be instituted with a $423,000 grant from the Ford Foundation. It will offer a Master of Arts degree.

Suffers Beauteous Concussion

Duke of Bedford 'Injured'

LONDON (AP) — The whereabouts of the publicity-seeking Duke of Bedford and a beautiful blonde companion were a mystery today, and French police said they could find no trace of an automobile accident in which the duke was reported seriously injured.

A telegram Wednesday to Woburn Abbey, the duke's 300-year-old home, said the 42-year-old peer suffered a severe concussion in an auto accident in southern France.

The telegram came from Talloires, 70 miles east of Lyon. French police said they searched from there to the Swiss border and found no accident involving the British nobleman and no further trace of him.

At Woburn Abbey, the duke's staff did not appear particularly alarmed. His secretary, Maj. Edgar C. Hargreaves, said he had not informed the duchess, who he said was in Majorca, off the Spanish Mediterranean coast, with the couple's children.

Hargreaves said the telegram was sent by a woman member of the duke's party but wouldn't identify her. Another member of the staff said "as far as we know, the only woman with him is Nicole Milnair."

Miss Milnair is a blonde beauty who is a successful French television producer.

On Coon Rapids Visit

Where Will Nikita Sleep?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev's plan to visit the 2,500-acre Iowa farm of Roswell Garst next month has created a housing problem. The State Department has to decide where to lodge the party accompanying Khrushchev.

The difficulty is that Garst's town, Coon Rapids, Iowa, has no hotel and only one motel. The population is about 1,700.

Present thinking is that the entire party may spend the night in Des Moines, Iowa, making a one-day trip to the farm without need for overnight accommodations.

Garst has entertained every Soviet farm delegate that has visited the United States under the government's exchange program.

What's the big attraction?

Probably the foremost reason is the modern farm operation Garst has. Not only has he pioneered in strains of hybrid seed corn, but he also is an expert on unusual types of mixed feed and an adapter in farm methods.

Additionally, the 60-year-old Garst is familiar with branches of Soviet and satellite agriculture.

He has traveled through corn fields in the Black Sea and Georgia areas, has toured the Danube Valley, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

Just last March, Garst was a guest of Khrushchev and Mrs. Khrushchev.

'Leftovers' Help Soil

ST. HELENS, Ore. (UPI)—Materials left over from Pope and Talbot, Inc., lumber mill here are being made into fertilizer at a new pilot plant.

The firm is packaging 60 per cent ground bark and 40 per cent peat moss mixed with ammonium sulphate and iron sulphate.

Rebel Trims 'Schmalz' Off U. S. Car

PARIS (UPI)—American industrial designer Raymond Loewy has given in to a long-standing urge.

He has bought himself a big, brand-new American car and is stripping off the fins and chromium to make it look more like a car than a juke box.

Loewy took the automobile with him when he and his family left the United States for their annual vacation in Paris and on the Riviera and he is having a wonderful time with it.

"I've taken off 250 pounds of chromium," he reported happily. "I've cut off the fins. I'm taking off all the spinach and schmalz by shortening the body a bit."

French-born Loewy, a pioneer in industrial design in America, has long waged a rearguard action against what he calls the "moving three-tone jukeboxes" in the U. S. automobile field.

Buzzing Bugs Drivers

MAGNOLIA, Ala. (UPI)—Motorists driving through this south Alabama section frequently stop and check under the hood when they hear a strange buzzing sound. But the residents of the area are quick to explain—it's just the latest crop of locusts hatching.

Never Too Early for Laundry Lessons

It's not too early to give a schoolgirl daughter some lessons in laundering.

How well a girl is taught to care for her clothing and personal possessions determines two "importants" in her life—her school days' grooming reputation and her future homemaking success.

Start now with tips for handling her own clothing—lingerie, blouses and sweaters, dresses—and then advance to her bedroom linens, curtains and spreads.

The basic lesson in modern laundering, advise specialists at research laboratories, is that no one product really gets clothes clean, whether a washing machine or the bathroom basin is used.

Removing soil requires a combination of detergent and fabric-safe bleach. For special tasks, other products such as starch, water softener or special stain removers may be necessary.

The second basic rule in laundering is to follow the manufacturer's instructions with regard to use of the laundering product and appliance. Train your daughter from the beginning to read hang tags and instructions carefully. For the sake of economy, teach her to measure with a measuring cup and spoon.

Report State Hatcheries Production Low in July

LANSING (UPI) — Commercial hatcheries produced about 750,000 chicks during July, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

This was 33 per cent below the number hatched in July last year but only 7 per cent below the five-year average of 808,000.

Mexico and the U. S. are divided by an international frontier that is about 1,833 miles in length.

UAW Secret Hearing Prompts Skepticism

Since Aug. 4, and until yesterday the usually outspoken Senate Labor Rackets Committee has been behind closed doors taking testimony on charges of misconduct against officials of WALTER REUTHER'S United Auto Workers.

Monday in a Senate speech, Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said the Rackets Committee should knock the secrecy wraps off its closed door investigation of the United Auto Workers. The committee has agreed to do this.

Just why this cloak of secrecy existed we do not know. It leaves much to be desired when findings are withheld from the public. Skepticism of both the committee and the union is the result of such action.

Committee Republicans, led by Sen. BARRY GOLDWATER of Arizona, make no bones about their desire to pin something on REUTHER. So far, the crusading union leader has been an elusive target. To date the committee has failed to put REUTHER in a bad light.

The feud between REUTHER and GOLDWATER is an ancient one. GOLDWATER has termed REUTHER "a more dangerous menace than the Sputniks or anything Russia might do." REUTHER responded by calling GOLDWATER "a moral coward."

It might be noted that Goldwater won re-election in 1958 by "running against Reuther." Similarly, Goldwater Republicanism is a favorite target for Reuther's flamboyant oratorical skills.

REUTHER is not universally loved by some of his fellow labor leaders, but most of them feel Republican attacks on the U.A.W. are anti-labor and not just anti-corruption.

For the same reason, some of the committee Democrats, though not themselves strongly pro-labor, would just as soon move on to something else.

It's beginning to look like the investigation is turning into a farce and will be pretty much a Mexican standoff.

New Trouble Brews for Cypriote Leaders

Trouble again is brewing on Cyprus despite an agreement between Britain, Greece and Turkey to end the revolt and make the island independent.

Gen. GEORGE GRIVAS who led the Greek Cypriote underground in fighting for union with Greece and who approved the settlement, has split with the Greek government and with Archbishop MARKARIOS, political and religious leader of the Greek Cypriotes. The General denounces the agreement and threatens to renew the struggle. He has formed a new Greek Front and started a campaign for union with Greece. Large quantities of arms are being smuggled into Cyprus.

From Athens, GRIVAS charges that the London agreements were reached without his approval and that the Greek Cypriotes have been betrayed. He is attacking MARKARIOS, the Greek government of Premier KARAMANLIS, the peace agreement and plans for the new republic. The attack was unexpected in view of the fact that last March he gave wholehearted approval to the London proposals.

Athens newspapers point out that GRIVAS' memoirs are about to be published and perhaps need publicity. Others think that GRIVAS' might have political aspirations. Last March he was honored with the highest military rank that can be held by any except the king.

In replying to Grivas, Archbishop Markarios accused him of undermining the unity of the Cypriot people and endangering hopes of peace and independence. The Archbishop is in Cyprus working with leaders of the Turkish minority toward early creation of an independent state. Let us hope that Gen. Grivas doesn't upset the hard won peace.

Its 25th Show

And Oxford Garden Club Has Cause to Celebrate

Football: Formerly an autumn sport that now knows no season.

Today's Oakland County first goes to a beautiful Pontiac suburb, Oxford. Its Garden Club stages its 25th annual Flower Show on Saturday and Sunday. I know of no similar organization that has done as well.

Congratulations to the Show Chairman, and others, past and present, who have made this the biggest get-together event in the village.

Mrs. Maurice Miller,

A happy selection of the theme for this year's show is which rings a joyous reminiscent bell to thousands of ears.

Pontiac tomato vines also are going skyward, as of 17 Claremont Place, has one that is seven feet tall.

I like the sentiments expressed in a letter, written in a feminine hand, and signed,

"Fighting the Avoirdupois," which says: "The fresh green corn is so delicious this year that I'm ashamed to look my scales in the face."

If you're a good sport you must agree with that other good sport,

Blair Filkinson,

who writes me: "Why don't you give the knockers a swift kick in the pants? No other baseball team gives its patrons so much for their money as the Detroit Tigers, whether they win or lose, and whether they're leading or tailing the league."

"I thought I had gone batty the other night when I saw a bird flying around our rooms," phones of Lake Orion, who later found that she really had gone that way. It was a bat, one of those winged nocturnal mammals. They usually enter via the fireplace — which this one did, and went out the same way, after scattering soot all over the Peabody home. This is the first that I've heard of a bat intrusion in a long time. Are they getting scarce?

A peach grown on a young tree by

of Rochester weighs eight ounces and measures nine inches 'round. It is of the Hale Haven variety.

A pair of squirrels near the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Comins

of Waterford, while storing a few nuts, also have gone nutty. They're hoarding green apples under the garage floor.

Castor bean leaves 20 inches in diameter are reported by

of Drayton Plains, some plants being six feet tall.

Verbal Orchids to—

Mrs. Caroline Schwab
of 152 Edison St.; 90th birthday.

of Rochester; 86th birthday.

of Davisburg; 81st birthday.

Don't Let Them Throw You, Niki!

David Lawrence Says:

Nikita Visit Asia Attack Coverup

WASHINGTON—Evidence is accumulating that Nikita Khrushchev was double-crossing President Eisenhower all the time that the chief executive was discussing with him, through diplomatic channels, the possibility of inviting the Soviet Premier to visit the United States as a means of relieving international tensions.

LAWRENCE

For the critical situation that has arisen in Laos is the direct result of the Soviet government's decision during the last few weeks to intensify the "cold war" in the southeast Asian peninsula.

Also the Chinese Communists, who act only after collaboration between Peiping and Moscow, have begun an invasion of Ladak —one of the states which is an integral part of the territory of India. It is on the border of Tibet.

This is an odd way to try to "relieve tensions." In fact, there is every indication that, so far as the Moscow government is concerned, there has been a stepping up of the tempo of the "cold war" in Asia.

Thus, the Red Chinese are making hostile moves in the direction of Nepal—an independent republic —which lies on the border between India and Tibet.

Latest maps from Peiping not only show Nepal as a part of Red China but they include within Communist jurisdiction the northern state of Ladak in India itself.

This brazen aggression has attracted the attention of free governments throughout the world but not that of the free peoples, so many of whom are busily engaged now in discussions of how Nikita Khrushchev should be entertained on his visit to the United States.

REDS DENY

The Soviet government, of course, has been sending out propaganda denying its maneuvers in Laos and other areas. Indeed, the Moscow foreign office makes the amazing claim now that the United States has violated the neutrality of Laos by setting up military bases there.

Yet officials of the Soviet Union are well aware that the United States has no bases or any organized military missions in that country.

The fighting in the little Buddhist kingdom of Laos has been carried on by an estimated 2,000 Red guerrillas who are attacking government troops at outpost points. The invading forces come across the border from Communist North Viet Nam and are regularly supplied from there and from Red China.

Significantly the Moscow official organ, "Izvestia," has served notice that hostilities "are apt to grow into protracted bloodletting and they may spread beyond Laos, engulfing a whole line of southeast Asia countries."

All this started happening just after Nikita Khrushchev conducted personal conversations recently with Ho Chi Minh, the Communist premier of North Viet Nam.

WANT AREAS BACK

Both the Loation provinces which now have been invaded from North Viet Nam were held by the Communist forces before the 1954 truce conference at Geneva, which this writer covered at the time. It was not until three years later that the Communists actually turned over the control of the disputed provinces. Now it looks as if the Reds want to take them back.

Many people may have forgotten the 1954 conference that ended the bloody war in Indochina, in which the French made such big sacrifices to defend their protectorate. They finally agreed to release their former colonies from any jurisdiction by the French government.

But solemn agreements were entered into then by the Communists, which now have been broken. The resumption of the war in Indochina is on a par with the repeated violations of the Korean armistice by the Communists.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Who Introduces Habits? Not Children Themselves

How do wild boys get that way? What makes some children who do not actually become bandits or their feminine counterparts develop into "holy terrors" in youth?

A correspondent submits a picture of the process of training such a child:

DR. BRADY

Dear Dr. Brady:

"Some time ago I noticed the answer to my question but did not need it then.

My little boy will be 2 years old in February and still uses a pacifier . . .

(Note here, parents, that the little boy uses the pacifier in the active mode; mother is of course passive.)

"I've tried several times to break him, but I am living with my husband's mother and she won't stand to hear him cry.

"Whenever I tried to break him she gave him the pacifier.

"If your suggestion will cure him I'll be grateful, because it's very embarrassing at his age.

"He has always been a fussy eater. I never could give him vegetables, soups, cereals or any other foods except so-and-so's vitamin D milk. That was all he wanted, it seems.

"Do you suppose his poor appetite accounts for his sleeplessness? If he naps for 15 minutes you may as well throw a party before he falls asleep again. If he retires at 9 o'clock then between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning he is raring to go places and do things. Two years of broken sleep have worn me out . . ."

How come the baby has the pacifier habit? Who first introduced the pacifier? How come any baby has the physic habit? Who gives the first dose of physic, and why? The one habit is just as sensible as the other.

The parent or other guardian who inflicts on the young baby a pacifier or who permits the baby to acquire the habit of sucking thumb or chewing clothing or indulging in any sort of odd or whimsical habit or action in order to get to sleep, is making a neurotic of the child. Whoever introduces an infant to the physic habit is likewise making a neurotic of the child. The pacifier is as necessary and as defendable as is the physic.

For a baby a month old or less, simply dilute the fresh milk with boiled water, one-third milk, two-thirds water, and add a tablespoon of sugar to the quart of food. One sugar is as good as another, either milk sugar (lactose), dextrimaltose, cane sugar, corn sugar (glucose) or syrup.

For a baby between 1 and 3 months old mix the milk and water in about equal quantities, and add the same amount of sugar.

For a baby 3 to 6 months old, use two-thirds milk and one-third boiled water and the same amount of sugar. Baby over 6 months old may take milk undiluted, and the undiluted milk does not require any added sugar, especially if cereal water or gruel is given.

At 4 months begin feeding baby banana.

For babies over 3 months of age barley water or oatmeal water may be used in place of plain boiled water to dilute the milk.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Someone Should Return to School'

I was much amused to read in Bob Thomas' column about Lance Reventlow's future bride an unintentional absurdity. After giving her good educational background and making much of her intellect and brilliance, she was quoted as saying modestly, "Lance is much brighter than me." Surely the lady should go back to grammar school —or should Bob Thomas?

K. Y. Boegehold

Orchard Lake

'Do Others Dislike This as Much as I?'

I wonder if there are others who just get the baby into the bath and have to run to answer a telephone call like this:

"Hello, Mrs. So and So. I have good news for you.

"We have a portable radio to give you absolutely free if you'll let one of our representatives demonstrate our siding." Then another may say, "Hello. Do you need awnings, eavestroughs etc." Then yesterday I was surprised at a call from a Pontiac business offering to give away some magazines if I'd subscribe for others.

I've explained I don't care for their products, but I keep getting the same calls over and over until it's disgusting. One wouldn't think that business is so bad a company has to practice such as this. I'd like to know if others feel the same.

Mrs. So and So

Ike Contrary to Precedent of Lame Duck President

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States is going through a political experiment with a so-called lame duck president which shows strong signs of turning out differently from what had been widely expected.

Heretofore presidents near the end of their second terms—with the exception of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who broke the third-term tradition—were considered to have reached the end of the road, with consequently reduced effectiveness in maneuvering with Congress.

A president like Calvin Coolidge, who did not choose to run for a second election after serving part of two terms because of Warren G. Harding's death in office, suffered losses in both political and administrative power.

The same thing was expected to happen to Eisenhower because of the new amendment prohibiting third terms, making his retirement something fixed long in advance. Democratic control of Congress was expected to contribute to an ineffective last year or two.

Instead, deprived of his chief of staff position by the death of John Foster Dulles and political elimination of Sherman Adams, two upon whom he chiefly relied, Eisenhower has begun running with the ball himself.

He has very definitely taken the initiative in foreign affairs.

He once was accused by his own party leaders of asking for domestic legislation and then forgetting about it, leaving to them the thankless task of pursuing what frequently were unhappy issues.

Now he personally pursues, with leaders of the Democratic opposition frequently helping him.

The White House seems to have lost a large part of the corporate entity with which it was endowed for Eisenhower's first six years. Nowadays it's not what the White House says, but what the President says. He has even gone so far as to brief the press on his attitude on a wide range of subjects in order that policies may be recognized as those of the president instead of just being products of an administration.

Only recently he has again proved his power of the veto.

Prior to the recent demonstration of Eisenhower individuality and effectiveness, there had been considerable conjecture that the anti-third term amendment would be repealed to avoid a period of impotency in the presidency.

Now this talk, or at least some of it, is beginning to give way to the consideration that perhaps a president, with no place to go except into history, will acquire new independence and display powerful leadership in a final effort to make that place what he wants it to be.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Externalize Grandpa's Worries

Extrovert Grandpa: Externalize his worries and he will not be so concerned with his "innards." And don't teach your children, even unwittingly, to be so idolatrous they worship a modern doctor more than God Almighty. Beware lest you show more concern about reserving a hospital room than your "mansion" in heaven.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-422: Olin Oeschger asked me to come to St. Louis earlier this year to address a big Methodist Convention.

DR. CRANE

It included all those interested in Methodist hospitals, children's homes and homes for the aged.

Such institutions indicate the dynamic extrovertive Gospel of the Christian Church.

"Faith without works," said James, "is dead."

So hospitals and homes of the orphaned or aged, simply serve as the effective "works" that prove our faith and brotherly kindness.

But sometimes people get so concerned with "works" that they forget the original "faith" that launched such constructive enterprises.

For example, millions of Americans are now so idolatrous that they have placed the modern doctor in the place of God Almighty and have substituted a desire for a hospital bed in place of a family pew at church.

Hospital insurance companies are also verging on bankruptcy because folks who have "hospitalitis" and thus wish to run to a neighboring hospital for everything from a sinus headache to a simple blood count or urinalysis.

That is a double danger, for it imposes an unfair burden on our wonderful hospitals as well as insurance firms, and also tends to make idolatrous neurotics out of what should be God-fearing, self-reliant Americans.

As a partial remedy for this mad rush toward hospitals, insurance companies are considering a $50 deductible clause.

Thus, the patient stands the first $50 before the insurance firm must start paying.

"But, Dr. Crane," some folks protest, "doesn't that injure many people who need hospital insurance?"

Well, does it injure those same needy families (who also have automobile insurance) when they must likewise pay the first $50 on repair of their damaged car?

If a wife is pregnant or a person needs real surgery for an acute appendix, he should expect to pay $50 toward the heavy costs.

Actually, he would gain almost the $50 back again in reduced hospital insurance premiums.

For an estimated 20,000,000 patients rush to doctors every week, and 50 per cent are without any diagnosable physical ailment! That means 10,000,000 pure neurotics or "worry warts."

So you wives who are having babies or you patients who must rush Junior to a hospital for urgent surgery, are thus paying via your hospital insurance premiums for these 10,000,000 neurotics who falsely imagine they are sick.

So get hep to "horse sense" and sound economics. With a $50 deductible clause, you will not be stuck with the bills for all those 10,000,000 worry warts.

In homes for the aged, or in dealing with your own elderly relatives, try to extrovert their worries.

Don't expect to banish worry. Just turn their thinking outward

so they quit fretting about their "innards."

Externalized worries are good for their health, so get them concerned with gardens or making quilts, or politics or prize contests, jigsaw puzzles or crossword puzzles, and they'll actually be healthier.

See tomorrow's follow-up about foster children.

Keego Sets Oct. 14 Election on Urban Renewal Program

KEEGO HARBOR — Voters here will go to the polls in a special election Oct. 14 to decide whether Keego Harbor will enter into an urban renewal program.

The date has been set by the City Council pursuant to strong support both for and against the proposed plan voiced by residents and area businessmen at recent public hearings. The Council decided at a special meeting July 29 to hold the election with the date to be announced later.

Petitions both for and against urban renewal were presented to the Council at the meeting.

If the majority of voters favor Keego Harbor's entering into an urban renewal program, the next step will be for the city to request a master plan be prepared by professional city planning consultants. It is estimated that this would cost about $14,000.

A master plan, once approved by the city, would then be submitted with a request for urban renewal to the proper federal government agency.

Upon the agency's approval, the city would be eligible for federal support of urban renewal equal to two-thirds of the total expenditure. This means that for every dollar the city puts toward improving Keego Harbor, the federal government would add $2.

Strong advocates for the urban renewal program, the Keego Harbor Businessmen's Assn. has announced that it would raise a major share of the cost of a master plan on a loan basis, with the idea that if urban renewal does not go through it will bear the loss of its investment.

The association has expressed the hope that urban renewal can be made to dovetail with Keego Harbor's forthcoming installation of $500,000 worth of sewage improvements. If this can be accomplished the sum would be used as the city's portion of immediate urban renewal costs, with the federal government giving $1,000,000 as its two-thirds share upon approval of the U.S. authorities.

It is not known exactly when the city must commit itself on launching the sewage construction. That depends on when the county is ready for the laterals which will tie in with the main sewage system.

Just what urban renewal would entail as far as renovating and reconstructing areas of the city will not be known until after a master plan has been approved.

The City Council has assured residents that their wishes will be heard before the city would agree to any part of the plan which would affect them.

Signs Illegal, but Spur Probe

County Road Division Checks Novi Demands for Lower Speeds

NOVI — Traffic signs posted by residents along 10-Mile road here, while ruled illegal, have prompted the Oakland County Road Commission to order a traffic survey.

Residents in Willowbrook Subdivision, along 10-Mile road between Haggerty and Novi roads, have demanded a reduction in speed limit from the present 65 miles per hour.

Their action was prompted by the injury of two children in the fast-moving traffic last year. It went unheeded until residents took it upon themselves to erect "slow" signs on the 10-Mile road stretch.

Chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission Robert O. Felt, said the signs were illegal and would be removed.

But he has ordered Highway Engineer Robert Osgood to make the survey.

The reason pleas went unheeded, said Felt, is that Novi Village officials had not supplied his commission with data on the accidents.

"I've requested the Novi people twice to send us all data pertaining to accidents on county roads, but it has not been forthcoming," he said.

The survey has since been requested by Village Manager Fred E. Olson.

School Opening Facts Given for Rochester

ROCHESTER — New students who will be attending Rochester junior and senior high schools this year are urged to register early, according to Supt. of Schools Donald C. Baldwin.

Children in the elementary grades may be registered at the various elementary schools beginning next Wednesday morning, he said.

Baldwin added that early registrations would be of mutual benefit to both the students and the schools.

In order to shorten waiting time, the following schedule has been set up for the purchase of textbooks at the junior and senior high schools:

Aug. 31 & Sept. 1 — 7th and 10th Grades.

Sept. 2 and 3 — 8th and 11th Grades.

Sept. 4 and 8 — 9th and 12th Grades.

Bookstores will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Elementary students will have a full day of school on Tuesday, Sept. 8. Seventh grade students will also have a full day of orientation beginning at 8 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 8. Classes for students in the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades will begin Wednesday, Sept. 9 at 7:55 a.m.

Buses will operate on approximately the same schedules as last year and children should expect to be picked up at the same stops, Baldwin said.

Arrest in Fatal Car Crash Hinges on New Testimony

ROYAL OAK — The promised testimony of a seventh witness to a three-car collision that claimed the life of a man here Friday may led to the arrest of a Madison Heights man on charges of negligent homicide, Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Donald A. Brown said today.

Nicholas Stofal, 79, of 1803 W. Farnum Rd., died of injuries received when his car was rammed from behind by a vehicle driven by John F. Bulloch, 21, of 30445 Townley Rd., Madison Heights. The crash occurred on Woodward avenue near Warick street.

The impact caused the gas tank of Stofal's car to explode, enveloping the vehicle in flames which spread to two other cars. Stofal died of his burns two hours later in William Beaumont Hospital here.

Witnesses said Bulloch was traveling at a high rate of speed when he hit Stofal's car.

One of the witnesses, a 16-year-old youth, told Royal Oak police he has received two anonymous telephone calls since the fatal accident, warning him to "keep your mouth shut."

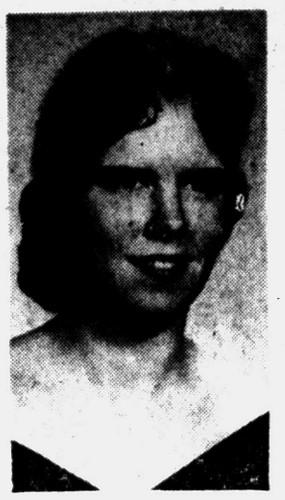

Police would not identify the youth for fear his life might be further endangered.

The seventh witness, also unidentified, was revealed by police here yesterday.

They said the witness' father called to say that his son, who is presently in Northern Michigan, was driving his car alongside Bulloch's vehicle when the accident occurred and that he would make a statement upon his return Friday.

Bulloch is to appear before Justice Ralph E. Finley of Berkley Saturday to answer charges of reckless driving June 30.

Avon Woman Happy at Reunion

Sees Father After 20-Year Void

AVON TOWNSHIP — Twenty lonesome years without seeing her father ended for Mrs. Earl Fultz yesterday when she met him for the second time in her life that she can remember.

Tears marked the short-lived reunion. The two people sat up through the night talking at her home at 2415 Eastern St.

"We had a lot to talk about after a good cry together," said Mrs. Fultz.

She told how she had lost track of her father after seeing him for the first time that she could remember 20 years ago in Middletown, Ohio, where he was living.

Her parents had separated when she was only nine-months old. Mrs. Fultz was raised thereafter by her grandmother in Mount Sterling, Ky. Her mother, Mrs. Armina Adamson of West Union, Ohio, kept in touch with her daughter. But the father, Daniel Stevens faded out of their lives completely.

Twenty years ago, Mrs. Fultz contacted him in Middletown, Ohio, through friends. They were happily reunited for the first time. But, after that her letters went awry. "Then I had no idea where my father might be," she said.

LOCATES FATHER

One day last week, on a sudden hunch, Mrs. Fultz telephoned Middletown information and the operator was able to locate the father who is now 60 years old.

Friends drove him up to visit with his long-lost daughter. But they were able only to stay overnight. Father and daughter vowed it would never again be so long before they would get together again.

"It's been a lonely life," said Mrs. Fultz, "And I only wish people who are planning to divorce would think more about their children and what it means to them."

"I've had eight children, trying to fill that void of parents' love," she added sorrowfully. "But my father assures me we'll remain closer now."

State Group to Police Legislators' Spending

LANSING (AP) — A watchdog committee has been set up in the house to police member spending on such items as long distance phone calls and postage stamps.

But the committee was approved yesterday over irate objections of some members.

Some legislators were red-faced earlier this year when a complete tabulation of phone bills for the first three months of the session was released to the press.

A few were in the $300-$400 bracket and more than a dozen topped the $100-$200 mark.

"Us fellows from the upper peninsula have to spend more for phone calls than some of the other members," protested Rep. Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield).

"Then, when it gets in the papers, the first thing you know they clobber you with it when you get back home."

The six-member committee will study the ground rules for expenses of phone calls, telegrams, stationery and postage set up by other states and in congress.

Itemized expenses will be submitted to the committee. Those running up big bills could be called in for questioning and forced to pay for items not justified as official business.

"We have called some members in who got out of line and nothing was done about it," said Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), House Republican leader. "We've had long distance calls just recently that ran to $15 and $18. I think we should crack down on this stuff in the name of economy."

"This could be a very dangerous political weapon," objected Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron). "What I want to know, who is going to check on the expenses of the committee?"

Racial Spotlight on Pine Bluff

Federal Court Orders 3 Negroes Admitted to Schools There

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — With school integration here peaceful for the past week, attention has shifted to another school district's desegregation woes — and, in relation, to Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The Dollarway School District at Pine Bluff, 42 miles southeast of Little Rock, has been ordered by a federal court to admit three Negroes to the all-white Dollarway school. Petitions have been circulated in the district, carrying a dramatic plea that Faubus use state force to stop integration.

Faubus said Wednesday he is not ready to announce what he will do about Dollarway, but that he intends to find out through state police what is developing in the district.

The segregationist Dollarway Citizens Council has scheduled a protest rally for Friday night.

Four Negroes continued classes at two former white Little Rock high schools, Hall and Central, without incident Wednesday.

The Dollarway school is set to open Sept. 8. Herschel Friday Jr. attorney for the Dollarway School Board, said he would recommend that the opening be postponed if a stay of the integration order has not been granted by then. The order is being appealed.

Stunt Car Crashes Into Crowd, Hurts 9

SANDUSKY (AP) — A speeding stunt car lunged widly out of control last night and smashed through a fence into a crowd watching the "Tournament of Thrills" at the annual Sanilac County 4-H Club Fair.

Nine persons were hurt, two young brothers seriously.

Thomas Mc Clellan, 11, of Sandusky, suffered a badly mangled leg. His brother Raymond, 5, was treated for head lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

While a crowd of about 2,500 watched in horror, a car driven by Max Sexlar, 24, of Xenia, Ohio, burst through a wooden fence and into a cluster of spectators grouped around some parked cars.

Sexlar had been participating in a "criss-cross" stunt in which cars pass back and forth in front of each other at high speed. Sheriff's deputies said the rear of Sexlar's vehicle was struck in the rear by another car driven by Azel Fondable, 30, of Tampa, Fla.

Catholic Sodalities Hold World Confab

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — More than 5,000 Roman Catholics from a dozen nations today open the second World Congress of the Sodalities of Our Lady. The first was held in 1954 in Rome.

During the four-day religious convention, delegates will prepare directives for guiding the Sodality organizations and their two to three million members throughout the world.

A sodality is a local organization of Catholics, mostly laymen, pledged to a deeper spiritual life and active participation in the church. There are about 18,000 sodalities in the United States with about 1½ million members.

Keeping Up With the Rockefellers

Rasmussen Bankroll Strained

SOGNE, Norway (UPI)—Kristian Rasmussen, who never had any trouble keeping up with the Hansens, found his bankroll badly strained today by trying to keep up with his daughter's prospective in-laws, the Rockefellers.

The retired smalltime storekeeper is footing the entire bill for the marriage Saturday of his beautiful daughter Anne Marie to Steven Rockefeller, and friends and neighbors fear his determination to make the affair "foersteklasses" (first class) may tax his resources.

The church fees and the champagne reception and dinner to follow with the meal served on porcelaine generally reserved for royalty, probably will run over 10,000 kroner (about $1,400).

This probably is less than a day's income for Gov. Nelson Reckefeller, father of the bridegroom, but it is a big bite into capital for a man whose entire family earnings now are in the seasonal exports of lobster.

But Mrs. Bjoerg Faerseth-Nodeland, who runs the restaurant, the "Klubben," where the reception will be held, has been told to provide the best menus and wines she can and hang the expenses. By coincidence, considering Gov. Rockefeller's presumed political ambitions, the "Klubben" is known locally as "The White House."

Tourists were offering up to $150 today for guaranteed admission to the Lutheran church where 21-year-old Anne Marie and 23-year-old Steve will make their vows. But the Rockefeller and Rasmussen families have agreed on a plan to thwart uninvited guests.

There are no admission cards. All guests have been invited personally. Controllers at the door will know everyone of the 180 invited guests and relatives by sight No one else will get in.

This has caused a bit of grumbling in this easy-going country where churches are rarely closed unless they are filled to capacity. The church holds 700 persons and while respecting the couple's wishes for a quiet ceremony, townsfolk feel it is a pity so many seats should go unused.

The family argument that these are just two young people in love is not taken seriously. Norwegians consider the wedding of the blonde buxom beauty and the multi-millionaire's son as the most exciting marriage since King Olav's nuptials 30 years ago.

Mrs. Mary Rockefeller, mother of the bridegroom, is sightseeing and picnicking with her son and the former kitchen maid.

Both families are finding the getting-to-know-you process very pleasant. One of the things they are discussing is the honeymoon site. It appears that the young couple are so fatigued from the hectic events of the past few weeks that they want a place where they can rest.

But Steven indicated that the wedding publicity has wrecked the couple's plans for a honeymoon.

In an interview with a reporter from the Oslo newspaper "Arbeiderbladet" Steven said, "We had plans. We knew exactly where we would go for our honeymoon. But all plans have been thrown overboard.

"I expected that the marriage would attract some attention, but I never dreamed of anything like this."

'60 Pontiac Is Bold, New

the makes had begun to lose some of their effectiveness as symbols, blurred and shrunk—and Detroit's products had begun seeming less significantly different than they were at one time.

A revolution in Pontiac selling had taken place. The magic triad of our marketing concept became —performance—image—and style. This revolution—still in its early stages—was designed to bring vast changes in the way families spend their automotive dollars to upgrade themselves.

In 1960—indications are that the public again will buy our modern look — our successful look—our look of something different. As it examines our '60—the public's feeling about Pontiac's competitive superiority will become conviction.

The public—that wonderful mass of sometimes whimsical purchasing power—will see a car in 1960 that has striking eye appeal—with a "V" designed front end that hints of a classic design. We will again have that big bonus of distinction and maximum identification on the road.

The car's styling theme is simplicity—with side treatment—trim as well as rear design worked out within its boundaries. Chrome is sparingly used.

Here's what we think happened: The buildup began in 1957—when we improved performance drastically to attract younger buyers.

Our team built a car whose performance was clearly superior to its predecessors—an automobile designed to appeal to the youth in all of us. A massive dose of engineering vitality had been injected into the car.

In 1958 a redesigned automobile was built around performance that again was strengthened and improved. Style — that elusive intangible — was added and began to catch public fancy.

The look of luxury — an overwhelming need in our price class — became an attainable goal.

CAUTIOUS MARKET

The car was introduced into a cautious and recession-minded market — and as the year wore on — dealers began to feel its potential. Buyers appreciated its style-quality and performance.

Pride of ownership began to assert itself — began to confirm Pontiac's growing popularity. The image was beginning to solidify.

The '59 went into a market that was by now more favorably disposed toward the image of performance — style — and youthfulness Pontiac had been creating.

The recession was beginning to fade. Business began its improvement. People allowed themselves to be coaxed into showrooms.

The image we were building with our car — its advertising and promotion — was hardening — meeting the public face to face in the showroom. Pontiac was being reestablished as a symbol of status.

Had the 1959 Pontiac been introduced in 1957 or 1958 it probably would have done no better than either of the cars introduced these two years.

Early in 1957 we faced the fact that to succeed we had to sell a personal symbol — as well as a piece of practical merchandise.

Our car would become more than ever — a symbol of personal attributes — goals — social patterns — and strivings.

The car will come to the market with a very strong and important feature from the '59—"Wide Track Wheels." This feature will give our line the continuity it needs to inherit the aura of success surrounding the '59.

The Wide-Track story will be as potent in 1960 as it was in 1959. It again will be the Pontiac plus—which even though other cars may offer—will have been offered by Pontiac first.

Under the hood our economy engine will be continued. The public—which equipped 26 per cent of its purchases from us with it last year—likes the engine and it will again be a no-cost option. Substantial improvement in the engine-axle combination will result in a still further increase in economy.

Many freshly engineered accessories and optional items will add comfort and pleasure to the car. Among them are improved heating and air-conditioning systems.

An improved rear suspension system — using larger rubber bushings and redesigned shock absorbers—result in a softer ride without affecting handling.

Engine improvements include improvements in carburetion for smoother operation as well as increased fuel economy on the standard engine.

Considerable improvement in insulation across the entire line—with additional emphasis on the Bonneville models for quieter operation.

LOWERED ENGINE

We've lowered the engine in the chassis — which when combined with a new smaller hydramatic transmission—results in reducing the tunnel in the front compartment by two inches in width and one inch in height. By reducing the size of the steering wheel and relocating the steering column—additional room has been gained between the seat and wheel—providing added comfort for the driver.

Gentlemen — I've saved my biggest news 'til last because it marks another significant shift in Pontiac's marketing tactics. Our car has been completely restyled. It is an all-new automobile on the outside. As you know—this is heresy to the disciples of the traditional and comforting stick-with-a-winner faith.

Our 1959 was an outstanding car and it took courage to implement a belief that Americans are insatiable for newness and change. To you I might add that this courage was bolstered by the knowledge that this year—competing makes would be in better shape than they were in '59—and would have been a threat had we complacently gone to the showroom with a face-lift. Prosperity and a surprisingly vital car - buying public might have proved a strain to a tired car with declining influence.

Instead—with our 1960—our dealers are face to face with a vigorous and improved new model which promises a superior strength and ability to carry the fight to the wire next summer.

Our car then—this year—is new and different—sleek and trim. Its freshness — developed within the framework of evolution—hints at a classic ancestor. Its stylishness—both inside and out — sharpens the image of Pontiac as a car for young and modern people.

Another piece of news is the fact that we are expanding our line with the Ventura—a new series directly above our lowest priced group—the Catalina. According to preliminary estimates—the Ventura will help widen the Pontiac market to around 425,000 units.

The over-all market for 1960 looks less puzzling today than it did six months ago. The economy will be on the upswing and employment stands at a high level.

The auto boom that got under way less than a year ago—according to our economists—may make total sales for 1960 hit 6,900,000 cars. This expectation is based on customer demand that—right now—shows no sign of weakening.

To progress we must grow! To grow we must have volume!

We believe that with our new car and our new line—and regardless of our competition's combined weight—Pontiac will continue to grow by expanding sales volume in 1960.

RIGHT HERE — Says Rep. Frank Thompson (D-NJ) as he points out the spot where he was squirted with sulphiric acid by a man in a truck as he was stopped for a traffic light. Thompson discounts reports that the attack was union inspired. He said he may have angered the two men in the truck by cutting in front of them in traffic.

Boston Store Culprit Adds Insult to Injury

BOSTON (UPI) — While ascending the escalator in a Boston department store, an elderly woman dropped a quarter which rolled down into the machinery and after a crunching roar, stopped it.

It took all day and all night to repair the damage. Next morning the little old lady showed up demanding that her quarter be returned to her.

Technique Revolutionary

Puts Plastic Teeth Into Empty Sockets

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Development of revolutionary techniques by which plastic teeth can be implanted in sockets of extracted faulty teeth or in surgically-created sockets was announced Wednesday by a young Providence dental surgeon.

Products of two years of special research sponsored by Rhode Island Hospital here, the techniques may open broad new vistas in the field of prosthetic dentistry by their creator, Dr. Milton Hodosh, D.M.D., research project director.

The 33-year-old assistant dental surgeon at the hospital's outpatient department reported that since Nov. 11, 1958, he has made 22 successful plastic tooth implants in humans, two of them in surgically-created sockets.

The artificial implants are handfashioned to blend in size and color with the patient's other teeth, are strong and will not deteriorate, Dr. Hodosh said.

Announcement of his accomplishments came on the heels of reports last Saturday by navy medical researchers of development of a "tooth glue" used successfully in impanting original or artificial teeth in dogs after extractions.

The glue, composed of material that makes up human bone, serves to hold the implanted tooth firmly until natural bone ultimately grows around the tooth and grasps it permanently, the researchers reported.

Terming his work well ahead of the Navy research, Dr. Hodosh called the implant experiments with dogs "nothing new" and described the "tooth glue" as nothing more than a "form of splint."

Secured by specially-designed braided wire splints, his implants in humans are firm.

And X-Rays taken six to eight weeks after insertions indicate that a bone-like substance formed in holes and depressions cut into the plastic implants prior to their insertions, Dr. Hodosh said.

He concedes that it will take animal studies to determine the exact nature of the bone-like substance and decide whether an actual mechanical union between bone and plastic tooth results. He hopes to launch such research shortly, but lack of funds is hampering the project.

Washtenaw Probes 'Chatterly' Novel

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prosecutor William F. Ager said Wednesday he will read the controversial English novel, "Lady Chatterly's Lover" to determine if sale of the book in Washtenaw County is in violation of Michigan law.

"We of course will be guided in this investigation by recent U. S. Supreme Court rulings on freedom of the press," Ager said. "The question is whether this novel comes under the definition of the Michigan statute."

The 1958 statute Ager referred to points out that the test for obscenity in a book must be determined by the effect the piece of literature would have on an "average" person rather than the effect it would have on the "young, immature or highly prudish."

The book, written by D. H. Lawrence, an English novelist, deals with a love affair between a married woman and a gamekeeper on her husband's estate.

Ferela Judge Frederick V. Bryan ruled in New York last month that the book was not obscene and declared it was entitled to "the protections guaranteed to freedoms of speech and the press by the First Amendment."

Author Blasts U.S. Policy

Graham Greene Claims Nikita Gets Into U.S. Easier Than Himself

LONDON (UPI) — Novelist Graham Greene complained today that Nikita Khrushchev will have an easier time getting into the United States than he does.

"For any member of the Soviet government a welcome is assured in America — perhaps a welcome of curiosity as we might welcome a visitor from Mars," he wrote in a letter to the Daily Telegraph.

"But for anyone who like myself was for four weeks at the age of 19 a probationary member of the Communist party . . . there are always long delays for the issue of a visa . . . There is always the possibility of deportation — as happened to me a few years ago in Puerto Rico. Although I was traveling with the knowledge of the American authorities."

Greene appealed to Khrushchev to intercede on his behalf against "the absurdities of the McCarran Act."

He blamed "slow-moving obstinate bureaucracy" for his trouble and not the State Department.

"My obsessive nightmare is that the junior civil servant should come to control the world," he added. "Compared with that the hydrogen bomb is a minor danger."

Senator Claims Soldiers Need Newer Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) says the United States needs new rifles for its soldiers.

"There have been startling recent improvements in army combat equipment, but most U.S. soldiers and Marines still have rifles whose design is 23 years old," Clark said in a newsletter to constituents.

Kalamazoo Industrialist to Be Paroled in October

MILAN (UPI) — Former Kalamazoo businessman Alexander Pinto, 44, sentenced to federal prison for income tax evasion last year, will be paroled in October, Milan prison officials said today.

Warden Nova Stucker of the federal prison here said the Federal Parole Board has granted Pinto's application for parole and that he will be released from prison Oct. 6 or Oct. 7.

Pinto, founder and former president of the American Tool Co. of Kalamazoo, was sentenced to four years in prison March 3, 1958, when he pleaded guilty to failing to pay $424,156 in income taxes from 1950 to 1953 inclusive.

Pinto, who was described by U. S. District Attorney Wendell A. Miles as a self-taught engineering genius, paid back $636,119 of a total deficiency of $1,505,127 before he was sentenced. Interest and damages more than tripled his tax deficiency.

OAS Ministers Turn Moral Force on Invaders

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Most of the foreign ministers of the Americas hope one o ftheir major actions at their conference here will shame troublemakers in the Caribbean into behaving themselves.

The majority of the 21 ministers made it plain before they ended their Caribbean peace conference here Tuesday that they don't like what's going on in that sea of trouble south of the United States.

They left banking heavily on public opinion to bring moral pressure on people who disturb the peace in the Caribbean and elsewhere—at least until more permanent measures to be arranged at the regular Inter-American con-Febuary.

The Satiago conference did not single out any culprits or slap any specific wrists, even though the fight continued at the conference table between representatives of the two major Caribbean antagonists, Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba and Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, dictator of the dominican Republic.

Even before the conference the ministers said they did not plan to umpire the invasions ranging back and forth in the Caribbean. They said they wanted to create a psychological climate that would keep would-be invaders at home or at home-in-exile.

The most immediate step taken was to direct the Inter-American Peace Committee of the Organization of American States to keep watch over the trouble spots, study ways to prevent attempts from abroad to overthrow legal governments and report to the Quito conference next winter.

The committee can make investigations at the call of a victimized country or on its own initiative. But for an on-the-spot check, the committee will have to get the consent of the country it wants to investigate.

Tropical Disease Hits 5 in Canada for 1st Time

FARNHAM, Que. (UPI) — Loaloa, a potentially crippling tropical disease alien to North America, has hit at least five persons here and doctors feared today that the outbreak would spread.

Doctors were at a loss to explain the rare outbreak of the disease, which, to their knowledge, had never previously been reported in Canada.

Dr. Luc Fortin, who diagnosed the cases, said first symptoms of the disease are much like grippe. The second stage results in a general weakness followed by swelling of the legs and feet.

Insects were suspected of having brought in the disease.

By MAX E. SIMON

Members of the charter class had their first contact yesterday with the nation's newest university, Michigan State University Oakland.

And the 229 students who will become freshmen when school opens Sept. 21 were told the university would strive to make "eggheads" of them.

The students spent the day on the MSUO campus in an orientation day program. The rest of the class will participate in a similar program Monday.

Five-hundred students are expected in the first class which registers for classes, Sept. 18.

In a welcoming address, Chancellor D. B. Varner told the students that they and the faculty "will be establishing bench marks which will be observed for centuries far into the future."

Varner called MSUO "a significant force."

"It has," the chancellor declared, "a chance to build a university structure from the ground up, free of the restrictions that confine existing ones.

"And few institutions," he added, "are quite as enduring as universities. Political systems and governments may come and go, but universities go on for ages."

Varner called the student assembly "the first tangible evidence of three years of planning and work on an ideal."

He explained: "Some of America's top scholars, the presidents of some of its greatest universities and some of its most distinguished citizens worked together on this ideal.

"The question given them was: 'Given a clean slate, how would you build the best possible university?'

Their answer, Varner said, was a university of the very highest quality, dedicated to the liberal arts ideal.

"This institution will start young men and women on a lifelong road of enlarging their mental and moral capacities, rather than training them for jobs," the chancellor said.

He said MSUO would be an independent institution, "free to go its own way in search of a better way to do higher education's job."

Calling the faculty the "heart and soul of the university," the chancellor said MSUO set about to acquire a young faculty of the highest ability, vigor and enthusiasm.

"For them," he said, "the traditions of the past have no pertinence unless they can contribute to our ideal. This will be the youngest faculty in the country, perhaps in the world.

"It will be the faculty with the highest percentage of earned doctoral degrees of any university in America, and it will be the faculty with the greatest amount of enthusiasm of any in the land."

The student body, Varner said, was "a hand-picked one." Every one, he declared, was selected on the basis of his ability to do college work. "Not a single one was picked for family influence, for political pull or financial advantage.

"We welcome you, as this kind of charter class, aboard for the launching of a new kind of ship in the field of higher education. And in welcoming you, we alert you to the fact that we are going to expect a lot of you."

The new institution, Varner said, "will be a place to work and study, and today we begin a partnership which we know will be fruitful."

Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, dean of the faculty, told the students it was the passionate desire of the university to make "eggheads of each and every one of you."

Hoopes said an "egghead" was "an intellectual in the good old sense of the word."

"Eggheads," said Hoopes, "inquire into fundamentals. They ask questions that need asking."

The dean said that graduates of MSUO should be critics of society, not merely adjusting to it.

"Challenge the legitimacy of the culture in which you have been brought up," Hoopes told the students. "Not until you have done so will you be fit for leadership in our society."

The university, Hoopes said, should be "a place of controversy."

Hoopes told the students that "this may be a new institution, with new concepts of education, but all are vehicles of things old and honored."

He recommended the study of ancient literature, history and philosophy.

"MSUO will not try to sell you a fuzzy idea of cultural appreciation," the dean explained. "But such study readmits you to bygone modes of thought and feeling. You learn what your ancesters felt like and see the world through their eyes."

Neither tradition nor modernity should be slighted, he said.

Hoopes told the students they were entering "a fraternity of learning, a community of scholars devoted to the discovery of truth," and that this involved critical examination, and discarding of many of the notions and prejudices acquired from their parents and environment.

College, he declared, is only the start of a lifelong process through which individuals fit themselves to play their most effective roles in the society of mankind. A college education, he said, is the start of the evolving of a philosophy of life, rather than preparation for earning a living.

Dr. Hoopes also told them that trying to make a choice of a major field of study or specialty in the freshman and sophomore years was a "phony concern, and a thing of essential unimportance."

'MAKE CONTACT'

"Instead," he told them, "look around; breathe deeply, and make contact with the excitement of learning."

Most of the morning the students took placement tests, to help Dr. Robert Hopkins, university director of guidance and counseling, and other officials advise them.

In the afternoon, the students toured the campus and received an explanation of registration procedure from Herbert Stoutenberg, registrar and director of admissions.

Roy J. Alexander, director of student affairs, talked to the students about extra-curricular activities and urged them to be thinking about starting a campus newspaper and other publications when classes begin next month.

The entire student body will assemble for the first time, Friday afternoon, Sept. 18, for the university's opening convocation, it was announced.

FIRST TO ENROLL — Herbert Stoutenberg, MSUO registrar, chats with Students No. 1 and 2 to apply for admission to the university. The first to seek admission was Lynne Anderson, 35 Oneida Rd., the second, Jim Sutherland of Romeo.

ARRIVING AT MSUO — Members of the Michigan State University Oakland charter class arrive on the campus for an all-day orientation program. Before activities began, students checked in at a registration desk and received name cards. This was the first time that the students saw the nation's newest university.

APTITUDE TESTS — Students spent most of the morning at MSUO taking aptitude tests. Busy answering questions are Peter Grund of 3231 Bendelow St., Avon Township, and Eva Jo Zumwalt, 820 E. Auburn Rd., Avon Township.

Laborers Union Members Picket Own Headquarters

DETROIT (AP)—Some 100 Laborers Union members say they will continue to picket their union hall until agreement is reached over hiring practices they contend are encouraged by Local 334 President Andrew S. McFarlane.

McFarlane, former president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor, set up a temporary office under a nearby tree when the picketing began Wednesday. "I don't cross picket lines," he explained.

Adam White, 41, one of the picket leaders, said new members are being signed up by the union at a $75 initiation fee while old-Union members must pay $5 monthly dues even though unemployed.

Local 334 has about 3,500 members.

White and other picket leaders contended that McFarlane encouraged contractors to hire non-union men who will have to join the local. In this way, the union gets the initiation fee plus additional dues, they said.

McFarlane denied the accusation. He said contractors are free to hire anybody as long as the new workers join the union.

Time Goes Fast at 100

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Mary A. McGraw celebrated her 98th birthday anniversary last year. This year she is 100. A family friend, the Rt. Rev. Joseph M. O'Connor, checked her birth certificate and found she was born Aug. 17, 1859, not in 1860, as she had believed.

Fraternities Out at MSUO

Students will have a free hand in running student activities at Michigan State University Oakland, but national social fraternities have been ruled out.

The disclosure that social Greek letter societies will not be permitted at the new university was made by Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, dean of the faculty.

"The idea of 'fraternity' implies inclusion and equality," Hoopes told members of the charter freshman class yesterday at an orientation day assembly.

"Yet, it seems, fraternities in America are based on the idea of exclusion. National charters of most of these groups contain racial and religious discriminatory clauses."

The decision to outlaw fraternities was made long ago in a "tacit agreement" among MSUO administrators, said D. B. Varner, chancellor of the university.

"Fraternities, like high-pressure football, have outlived their usefulness," Varner declared.

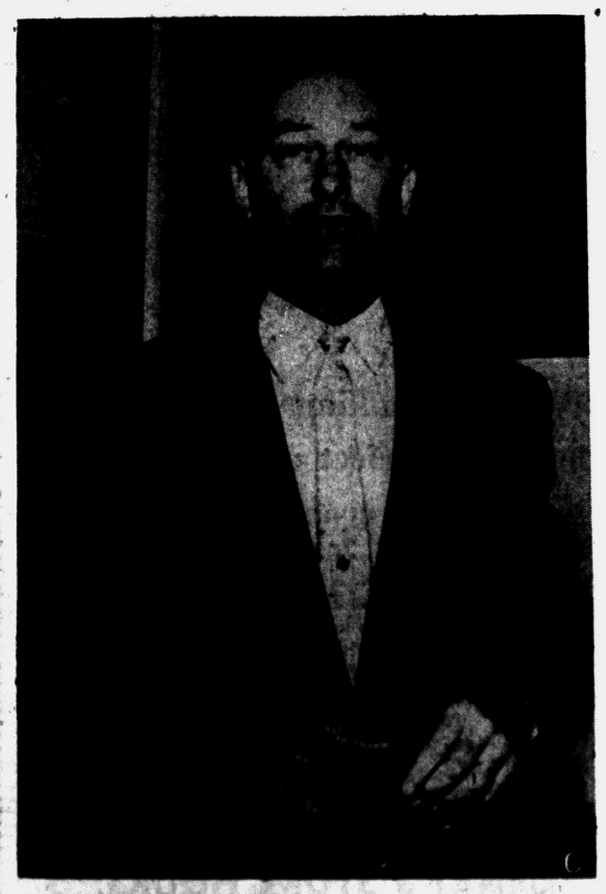

Roy J. Alexander, director of student affairs, promised students that democracy would be practiced in the student activities program.

"You will have every opportunity to make decisions on programs affecting you," he said.

"The responsibility for the consequences of these decisions will also be yours," he added.

Alexander urged the students to start thinking about what clubs they wanted, student publications, student government, and the selection of school colors.

"These are decisions that you must make soon," he said.

THE CHANCELLOR SPEAKS — D. B. Varner, chancellor of MSUO, addresses a student assembly for the first time. Varner told the students they "will be establishing bench marks which will be observed for centuries far into the future."

Nikita Sends Note Warning De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev has warned President Charles de Gaulle that his friendship with West Germany and his determination to build a nuclear bomb is leading France down a dangerous path.

The warning was delivered Sunday by Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov who drove 130 miles from Paris to De Gaulle's country home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises. Informed sources disclosed contents of the note today.

Vinogradov's unusual interruption of De Gaulle's vacation had touched off speculation in Paris that Khrushchev might be arranging talks with De Gaulle.

Despite the sharp warning, Khrushchev's weekend communication assured De Gaulle of his respect for him as a man who fought the Nazis and signed the Franco-Soviet friendship treaty of 1944.

Chief Justice Warren Visits East Berlin Store

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren toured Communist East Berlin Wednesday and visited the city's biggest state-run department store.

Accompanied by his wife, Warren strode through the ground floor of the store, pausing only to look at neckties and stockings.

No East Berliners recognized them.

They rode through East Berlin in an unmarked station wagon belonging to the U.S. mission in West Berlin, and were accompanied by a guide from the mission.

Two Coffee Breaks Becoming the Thing

NEW YORK (UPI)—There has been an increasing trend towards two coffee breaks a day, according to the Pan American Coffee Bureau. The number of persons having coffee both morning and afternoon has increased by more than 50 per cent since 1956. And there is an equally strong trend toward serving coffee at the desk or bench rather than allowing the employe to go out for it.

WATERFORD'S FIRST BANK — Community National Bank, is celebrating the opening of its tenth branch office this week, at the new building in Waterford at the corner of Dixie Highway and Andersonville road. The site formerly housed one of Michigan's first general stores, which now stands in Ford's Greenfield Village at Dearborn.

Community National Establishes Branch

Bank Opens Doors in Waterford

With the opening of Community National Bank's tenth branch in Waterford this week, residents have witnessed the passing of an era.

One of Michigan's first general stores originally occupied the new branch bank site, and at the present time that store is standing in Greenfield Village, purchased and moved there by Henry Ford years ago.

Community Bank officials chose the present site on Dixie Highway at Andersonville road.

Although there was a 50-year-old two story brick building on the present new bank site, Community National officials decided to locate there because of the need for banking service, according to branch manager Robert L. Shueller.

The brick building was dismantled with the exception of three side walls. From this beginning, there is now a completely modern 25 by 80 foot banking quarters, with six teller's cages and one drive-in window on the west side of the building.

Inside, pastel green and beige walls and white drapes give an air of cool efficiency. The light green tiled floor blends with all of the light birch woodwork, and huge floor to ceiling windows allow plenty of natural light into the modern open room.

Since early November the branch bank has been in operation in a building formerly occupied by the Waterford Post Office.

Manager Shueller has been with the Community National Bank main office for the past 12 years. He was graduated from the Madison, Wis., School of Banking, is a widower and lives with his one child in Rochester.

Ten prizes are being given to the persons with a lucky key of a treasure chest in the lobby of the new Waterford bank, and already area residents are streaming in and out of the brand new bank in Waterford.

Public Fishing Sites Open Private Lakes

LANSING (UPI) — Once a public fishing site is established on a lake that was previously private, the lake becomes public, Attorney General Paul L. Adams ruled yesterday.

Answering several questions regarding private and public lakes asked by conservation director Gerald Eddy, Adams said general fishing laws would govern fishing on any lake as long as the public is permitted access by one or more of the owners of property on the lake.

Adams said a 500-acre lake, entirely enclosed in private lands of one owner and not connected with any other public waters, would be considered public if the owner permitted public access to the lake across his property.

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going—and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TREND magazine puts this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests—all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 5.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR† Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A.‡ Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

Aussie Statistician Tells Animal Totals

CANBERRA (AP)— Australia has 149,319,000 sheep, 16,900,000 cattle, 1,421,000 pigs, and 695,000 horses.

The figures were released by the Commonwealth Statistician. They mean there are about 17 head of livestock in the country for every human being.

There are a few more pigs this year than last, but the totals for sheep, cattle, and horses are down slightly. The number of horses is the lowest since 1875, and only about one-quarter of the 1919 figure.

He Gives Collection on Roosevelt Away

BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — A collection of 600 books and 300 magazines — all dealing with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his period — have been presented to the Beloit College libraries. Many of the books are first editions and others are out of print and unobtainable.

The presentation was made by Dr. Joseph C. Rheingold of Boston, who collected the items as a hobby. He formerly lived at nearby Rockford, Ill.

Loses Battle, Demands Payment From Winner

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)— Atty. Serafino Ginnetti was counsel for the New Haven Annex in its fight to remain a separate taxing district of the city, but the legislature adopted a bill allowing the city to absorb the Annex.

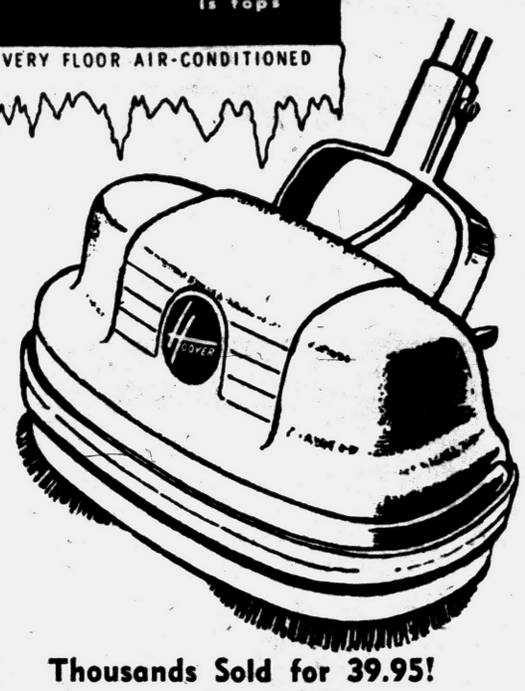

Ginnetti set a bill for $3,000 to the New Haven Board of Finance, his fee for representing the Annex in the losing fight. He claimed that because the city absorbed all the obligations of the Annex, that included his bill, too.

New Director, Actors, Actresses Taking Over

Youth Is French Answer to Brigitte Bardot

PARIS (NEA) — After you've introduced Brigitte Bardot what do you use for an encore?

For the French film industry, the answer to that question is youth.

There are young directors such as Francois Truffaut, Louis Malle and Claude Chabrol — all under 35 — competing now with such international names as Jean Renoir, Rene Clair and Claude Autant-Lara.

There are actors such as Jacques Charrier and Alain Delon fluttering female hearts that once were thrilled by Jean Marais and Jean-Pierre Aumont.

And there is a bevy of under-25 actresses such as Juliette Mayniel, Pascale Petit and Mylene Demongeot striving to take the title of queen of the industry from the tousled head of Brigitte.

This tidal wave of youth, with its young ideas and innovations, is sweeping the old guard out of pictures. The old-timers may win a few more battles, for men like Clair and Renoir are geniuses, but the youngsters think their elders have lost the war of the "flicks."

Underlining this revolution is the fact that the official French entry in the Cannes Film Festival this year was the product of 28-year-old Truffaut. It was his first film.

The new era was foretold by Roger Vadim three years ago when he starred Brigitte, then his wife, in the sensationally successful "And God Created Women." Made for only a quarter of a million dollars, it earned millions and was like a blood transfusion to the then anemic industry.

Then, 25-year-old Malle found a backer for his audacious and controversial "Elevator to the Scaffold." Last spring, at 28, Chabrol could walk down the Champs Elysees and see two of his films, "Beau Serge," and "Les Cousins," playing at first run houses on the Paris "Broadway."

The post-Bardot actresses, although they have achieved almost overnight success, have remained simple and largely unaffected by their fame. Far from carbon copies of "the sex kitten" — they consider her a bit old hat — they stand to give her greater competition because their sex appeal is less obvious and their acting talent more obvious.

Green-eyed Mlle. Mayniel is called by some "Greta Garbo's little French cousin." Pascale Petit, who once washed hair in an exclusive beauty salon, is already ranked second to B. B. in box office appeal after only four movies.

Annette Vadim, who succeeded Brigitte as young Roger's wife, is getting a similar buildup from him — but with less accent on nudity.

Charrier, who is now married to Brigitte, Delon, Jean-Claude Brialy and Laurent Terzieff are much like the girls in that they shun the limelight, the fancy restaurants and night clubs that were "musts" for their predecessors. Instead, they haunt the cafes of the Left Bank, mingling with their contemporaries.

Although this "new school" of film-making is far from perfect, the French movie backers seem more willing to gamble on combination of young director, promising performers and small budget than to risk millions on the combination of big money director, big money star and big budget.

Lady Mayor Overstepping Her Rights

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (UPI)— City Attorney William J. Balgooyen Jr. yesterday told Mayor Yvette Courtright her duties are to "oversee and inspect" and not to "direct or command."

Mrs. Courtright roused the ire of city council members two weeks ago by giving orders to heads of city departments.

The council passed a resolution rebuking Mayor Courtright for allegedly overstepping her authority. She asked for a ruling by Balgooyen.

The mayor's position is to oversee and inspect operations of city departments, keep the city council informed and make recommendations, the city attorney said.

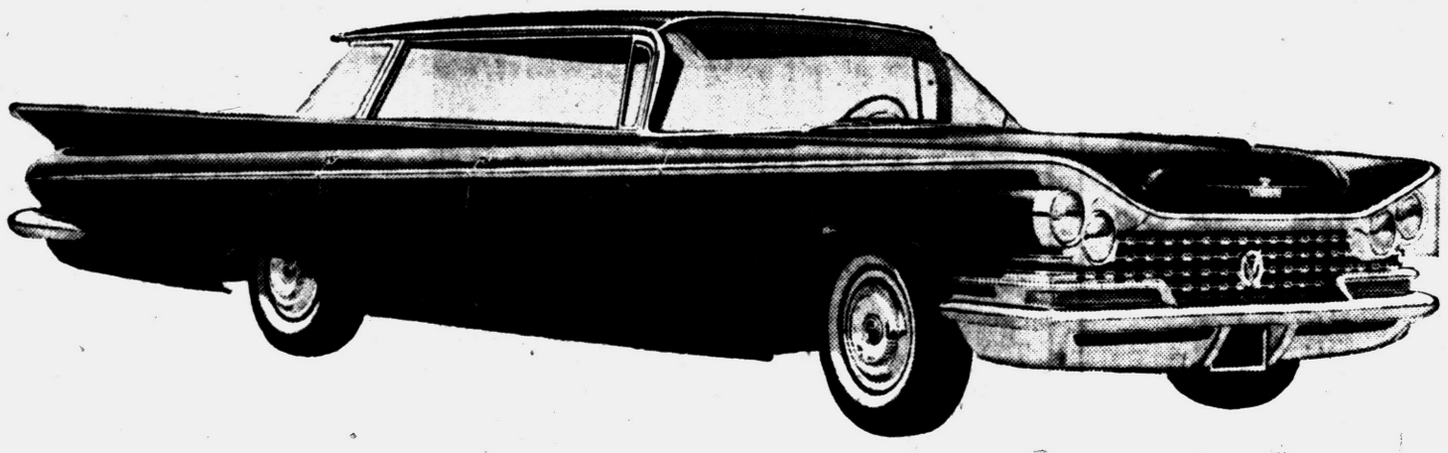

Balgooyen said the city charter provides that ultimate authority is vested in the city council.

The first good road of national importance in the United States was the 62-mile-long turnpike which the Philadelphia and Lancaster Turnpike Co. received Pennsylvania's permission to build in 1792.

Which 'Wifely' Remarks Do You Hear?

NEW YORK (AP) — Wifely remarks that husbands get tired of hearing—and overhearing:

"Joe, I gave you the best years of my life, and I ask you—what did it get me?"

"Your pay envelope was 40 cents short. Are you keeping another woman?"

BOYLE

"When I think of all the men I could have married."

"If you expect me to go on spoiling you like your mother did, you've got another think coming."

"Yes, my lord and master, what is it you want now?"

"If your mother was such a good cook, tell me just one thing—why did they have to take your father's stomach out?"

"I don't care if she is your boss's wife. I don't have to bow and scrape before anybody."

"Why is it we practically never go out any more? Are you ashamed of me—or what?"

"It won't take me a minute. I'm all ready except for putting on a dab of lipstick."

"Well, if Joe's going to have one for the road, you might as well pour me too one—I mean, one, too."

"Oh, don't tell that old joke, dear. I've heard it a thousand times."

"Joe, you never heard a word I say."

"If there is such a thing as another life, I'm going to come back a man. Men think they're the kings of the earth."

"Joe used to go fishing with his pals, but now I go with him. I always say, a family that plays together stays together."

"It isn't that I really mind your playing poker, but don't you ever win?"

"Well, if you want my advice."

"You can't mean that's the one you were crazy about in college, Joe. She looks like the moths had been at her."

"Joe, are you listening to me?"

"You can play Boy Scout in the backyard if you want to, but the rest of us are going to eat in the house like civilized people."

"Every husband in the neighborhood carries more life insurance than you. Some men care about their family's welfare."

"Sure I used to be jealous over Joe—when he had hair."

"A man from the sheriff's office called. He said it was something about the furniture loan."

"Joe, we used to have so much to say to each other. Why is it we never talk anymore?"

Court Damages Not Too Likely

Adams Is Pessimistic About Oil Spewed on State Shores

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said today it "doesn't look too good" for recovery in court of damages resulting from bunker oil spewed on Michigan's shoreline from New Buffalo to Pentwater.

"I don't believe at this time that we have any practical legal remedy," Adams said. However, he did not categorically rule out the possibility of legal action.

Together with other state agencies, his office has been surveying effects of a barge accident near Gary, Ind. last November.

The barge, owned by Brooks Liquid Transport Co. of Berwyn, Ill., was grounded in a storm and broke open. A huge volume of the heavy oil escaped into lake waters.

This spring, and even lately after rough weather, the oil has washed ashore, contaminating beaches and plaguing swimmers, particularly around New Buffalo, Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, South Haven and Saugatuck.

Private riparian property owners, municipalities and the state all have been put to expense clearing the goop from the sand and adjacent waters.

A spokesman for the state parks division, which encountered heavy trouble at Warren Dunes state park, said he was informed the oil probably will continue to appear after storms for another two or three years.

"Apparently, quantities of the stuff have collected on the bottom off shore, and when the water are roiled, in she comes," he said.

Alexander von Humboldt, a German who lived from 1769 to 1859, was an anthropologist, astronomer, botanist, geographer, geologist, geophysicist, meteorologist, oceanographer, physiologist and zoologist, making a distinguished contribution to science in each field.

May Replace Iron in Small Engines

Aluminum in Cars Gaining

BY BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Little by little more aluminum is finding its way into American automobiles. The next few years probably will bring a rapid increase.

Preliminary estimates show that the 1960 model cars will average about 58 pounds of aluminum per car, a small fraction of their total weight, but a significant jump from the 12-pound average of 12 years ago.

So far, auto industry engineers, trained on steel and iron, have resorted to aluminum mostly for little things—a small casting, a bit of bright trim.

But things are due to change. The new model year, for example, will bring the first modern use of an aluminum engine in Chevrolet's new small Corvair. Still other aluminum power plants are fully tested and will be showing up soon.

General Motors has several aluminum V-8 engines and a small version of these is expected to appear in a new GM smaller car to be marketed about 1961 model year by Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac.

Chrysler and Ford are well advanced, too, with aluminum engine plans. One report says that Chrysler has a new six-cylinder engine for its Plymouth, Valiant and Dart that will be built first in iron and later in aluminum.

Lighter weight is the immediate attraction. Reynolds Aluminum, for example, figures that a six-cylinder engine block of aluminum could weigh some 130 pounds less than the identical block in iron.

The weight factor has become increasingly important as the industry turns from longer, heavier cars to the new small concept.

The aluminum industry, with Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser in the forefront, has spent thousands of dollars to persuade the automakers that aluminum now is competitive in price with iron.

They feel that too often the auto industry has looked at the base price of the raw metal and automatically decided in favor of iron. But, say the aluminum people, the true test is in the finished parts.

One example cited is an oil pump housing. As cast in iron it weighs six pounds and because of subsequent processing the casting represents only 15 per cent of the cost of the part. As cast in aluminum it weighs 11 ounces and the casting represents 85 per cent of the final cost because less processing is necessary.

The major automakers all have taken recent steps to assure themselves of increased aluminum supplies. Chrysler is expanding its aluminum operations in nearby Windsor, Ont., and in Indiana. Ford has a molten metal arrangement with Reynolds at Sheffield, Ala. GM has similar deals at Massena, N. Y., and Jones Mills, Ark.

In the molten metal setup the aluminum plant and auto company plant are set up side by side and the molten aluminum is transported directly to the auto company.

It is in such an arrangement that Chevrolet is making its aluminum engines for the Corvair at Massena.

So far Chrysler has been the greatest user of aluminum with more than 100 pounds per car in the luxury Imperial line. All three of the new American small cars—Corvair, Valiant and Falcon — are expected to make extensive use of the metal.

Heart Specialist Dr. W D. Stroud Dies at Age 68

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. William D. Stroud, 68, an internationally known heart specialist, died Wednesday in suburban Bryn Mawr Hospital after a long illness.

He was chairman of the Department of Cardiology in the University of Pennsylvania's graduate school of medicine, and a former president of the American Heart Assn.

Dr. Stroud had startled many of his conservative colleagues when he prescribed alcoholic drinks for heart patients addicted to tobacco.

"Tobacco," he had said, "has a bad effect on heart disease. If a heart patient is sensitive to nicotine, the best antidote is alcohol which dilates the arteries, offsetting the constricting effect of nicotine on the coronary blood vessels."

In medical journals and in public addresses, the doctor had maintained that too much sedentary living and constant doubts and fears made invalids of many heart patients who were actually well enough to work and earn their own living.

Burying Adm. Halsey in Solemn Rite Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation today buries one of its great naval heroes, Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey.

Final military tribute was prepared for the pugnacious "Bull" Halsey, whose 3rd Fleet outfoxed the Japanese Admiralty and sank the best of its fighting ships in World War II.

His body lay, with honor guard, in Washington National Cathedral. It was brought here Wednesday from Fishers Island, N.Y., where he died Sunday. The retired admiral was 76.

Gathering for the Cathedral services and the burial in Arlington National Cemetery this afternoon were the chief civilian and military leaders of the Defense Department, government officials, many personal friends and some of those who served with Halsey in the great days of the mighty Pacific campaigns.

At the cemetery gate, the casket would be transferred to a horse drawn caisson. Troops from each of the military services awaited to march the final way with Halsey, with a Navy band measuring the slow pace and a cannon shot counting off each minute on the way to the gravesite.

There, on a hillside, the admiral would join in death his father and mother. Navy Capt. William F. Halsey Sr. and Mrs. Halsey are buried beside the place chosen for their famous son.

Skelton Cheers Girl Suffering From Leukemia

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Red Skelton, the television comic, has been telephoning a hospital here this week to chat with a 10-year-old girl suffering from leukemia, the blood disease which claimed the life of Skelton's 9-year-old son, Richard.

Somebody notified Skelton that Mardella Kleer, of nearby Deary, enjoyed his television programs. The comic ordered a special set for Mardella's room because none was available at the hospital.

The girl celebrated her tenth birthday Sunday and Skelton, who is off for the summer, promised a "special" show for her in the future.

Doctors said Mardella, who entered the hospital two weeks ago when her condition worsened, has never been happier.

Tax Relief Bill to Aid Business

House Group Approves Measure to Help U.S. Fight Red Trade Drive

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The tax-writing House Ways & Means Committee Wednesday approved a tax-relief bill designed to help American businessmen combat Russia's trade offensive throughout the world.

The bill would permit U.S. firms to defer payment of income taxes on foreign earnings until the funds were sent back to this country. It was aimed at encouraging the firms to re-invest their foreign earnings in foreign countries.

To qualify for the benefit, the firms would be required to conduct their overseas business through a "foreign business corporation," which would be incorporated domestically.

The treasury endorsed the idea of tax deferral, but insisted that the special benefit be limited to earnings in underdeveloped areas, such as the Middle East, Asia and Africa.

The committee rejected these proposed geographical limitations. It took the position that underdeveloped areas—in which there is relatively little investment now—would receive some capital from tax-deferred earnings left over in such industrialized areas as Europe and Canada.

Although it exceeded the recommendtions of the treasury, the terms of the bill fell far short of the program proposed originally by its sponsor, Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.), with the backing of business groups.

The committee rejected a provision which would have reduced the 52 per cent tax on corporation earnings to 38 per cent on all foreign earnings. The 14-point differential already applies to earnings in the western hemisphere.

The committee also agreed to restrict the use of the proposed tax deferral benefits to earnings derived through a business established overseas.

The original bill would have granted the tax relief to firms which were simply in the export business. This prompted the treasury to complain that the over-all revenue loss would range from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000.

No estimate was immediately available for the anticipated revenue loss from the revamped bill.

Arkansas Claims First Shot of War

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission claims that the first shot of the Civil War was fired, not at Fort Sumter, S. C., but at Pine Bluff, Ark.

In April, 1861, the commission says, the Jefferson Guards halted several Federal boats at Pine Pluff as they were steaming up the Arkansas River with guns, ammunition and supplies for garrisons at Little Rock, Fort Smith and Fort Gibson, Okla.

Regular Arkansas troops acting under the orders of Governor Rector fired at the boats and their cargoes were seized for the Confederate Army, according to this account.

Negro May Win Memphis Vote

Hottest Race in Years Could Put Attorney in Public Works Post

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The hottest municipal campaign in years drew toward a close with segregationists fearful a strong bloc vote will elect a Negro to office for the first time in the city's history.

Russell B. Sugarmon Jr., a Harvard-educated Negro attorney, is given an almost even chance of winning the crowded race for public works commissioner.

Sugarmon, 27, is running in today's election. He could win by polling a strong Negro bloc vote while his opponents divide the white vote.

There are 187,541 registered voters, of whom 57,109 are Negroes. A record 100,000 vote is forecast.

Four more Negro candidates are running for other city offices but only Sugarmon is given a strong chance to slip in.

There were five white candidates originally in the public works race. But one, city engineer Will Fowler, was persuaded to withdraw to lessen the vote split and the possibility of Sugarmon's election. Appeals for still others to drop out went unheeded.

Negroes have run for office here before but none ever came close to winning, or even expected to.

However, from the start of the present campaign, Negro leaders pressed their efforts with all-out seriousness and solidarity. They appealed for the white vote as well as the Negro.

Gifts Alter Standing of Amateur Team

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Businessmen in the Milwaukee suburb of Whitefish Bay were so pleased with the success of the local high school basketball team that they bought 16 wallets, one for each of the players and one for the coach.

But when the coach, John R. Plimpton, appeared at the school's athletic awards convocation, he discovered that such gifts are forbidden to amateurs by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association.

As a result, only Plimpton received his award. Eight of the players got theirs after they graduated but the other seven will have to wait till next year—when they get out of high school too.

Civil Rights Group to Disband in Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — There will be no minority report in the usual sense when the bipartisan commission on civil rights makes public its recommendations Sept. 8 or 9.

Staff members who reported this today said, however, there will be some individual statements by commission members taking exceptions to various recommendations.

The present commission includes five of the six members who attended the first meeting Jan. 3, 1958 and who have participated in its activities throughout.

Under law it is to make its report by Sept. 9 and then go out of business within 60 days. Congress is now considering civil rights proposals which among other things would extend the life of the commission for about two more years.

The commission will meet here Sept. 8 for final action on the report on its nearly two years of work.

Among the five members who have served since January 1958 is chairman John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

Kent County Board Accepts Airport Plans

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Kent County Board of Supervisors ended years of planning Wednesday with an overwhelming vote to accept a master plan of airport development in Cascade Township.

The $6,900,000 airport is expected to be ready for use in January 1960. It will be financed by present and anticipated local, state and federal funds, two million dollars from sale of the old airport and a $2,400,000 revenue bond issue underwritten by the county.

Alarm Boxes Passe, London Fire Chief Says

DETROIT (AP) — Fire alarm boxes, those familiar red containers carrying the label "pull handle to break glass," are virtually useless relics of bygone days.

That's what Fred W. Delve says. Treat his words with respect, for as chief officer of the London Fire Brigade he commands one of the largest fire fighting forces in the world.

Delve is in Windsor this week for the annual convention of the Canadian Fire Chiefs Assn. He was in Detroit yesterday to watch a demonstration put on by the city fire department's training school.

"Ask your friends — or ask yourself — where the alarm box nearest your home is located," Delve said in backing his thesis.

"If you know where that is, ask yourself where the next nearest is located, in case the first is out of order."

Delve said London stopped using alarm boxes 10 years ago. "No one knows where the fire alarm box is but everyone knows where to find the telephone," he explained.

The English fire chief heads a force of 40,000 firemen and 12,000 firewomen.

He'll See America Last

MIAMI (UPI) — Capt. Roy E. Keeler, senior pilot of Pan American World Airlines with 30½ years, 27,000 flying hours and 6,000,000 air miles behind him, retired July 31 at the age of 60. His retirement plan? Travel. "Practically all my travel has been from U.S. gateways outward," he said. "Now I want to see the United States."

Ex-U.N. Official to View the Rockefeller Wedding

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Trygve Lie, former secretary general of the United Nations, will attend Saturday's wedding of Steven Rockefeller and Anne Marie Rasmussen in Sogne.

Lie said he had been invited by Anne Marie's parents and that he was delighted to accept because of his long friendship with Steven's father, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Lie was U.N. secretary general when the Rockefeller family donated the land for the U.N. headquarters building in New York. He is now a provincial governor and a so-called economic ambassador for Norway.

Motor clubs in the United States date back to about 1900.

Mother Says No

Does Portland Mason Do Things Attributed to Her?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Does Portland Mason really do all those things attributed to her?

The celebrated daughter of James and Pamela Mason has been a controversial figure since babyhood. Only recently she was reported flouncing around a movie premiere in a vampish dress with a 30-year-old "date."

THOMAS

Portland is a pudgy 10.

I decided to pin down some of the Portie legends with her mother, the outspoken author-actress Pamela.

Of the most recent report, she said: "It's easy to explain. Portland likes to go to premieres—James says they're for children, anyway. He wouldn't go to one if he were paid, and I hate them, too.

"Portland has to have someone to drive her there. I don't like her to go with women, because they're so helpless about finding the car and all that. So a friend of the family took her.

"As for the dress, it is one that I got in an exchange with Zsa Zsa. Portland has had her eye on it for years; she loved the tassles on the skirt. Recently she was giving a demonstration of the Charleston at an Arthur Murray party, so I cut it down for her."

She scotched some other Portland legends.

That she owns a mink coat: "I had a mink coat made over, and there was a piece of the pocket left. Portie used to take it to bed with her. That was her mink coat."

That she has been psychoanalyzed: "I've never knowingly met a psychiatrist."

But Portland does go to night clubs—"if theres something she wants to see."

Mrs. Mason added, "Portland is a normal 10-year-old. She does do modern dancing, which some people think is odd. But she behaves the same as anyone else her age. She's a 10:30-to-bed girl, and if she watches television too long, I pull the plug.

"I've tried to figure how the whole thing started. I concluded it was because we taught her to swim at 6 months. It was a safety measure; we had a pool and I was terrified of the water.

"Portie swam for a year and a half, then for two years she wouldn't even wash her hair. She was terrified of the water."

The girl has appeared on the stage with her parents for three summers and will open soon with them in "Murder in the Red Barn" in Hollywood. She has been acting since 4.

Mrs. Mason said: "I think it's good for children to grow up and accept responsibility. In renaissance times, in India today, a 14-year-old is a grown-up.

"The trouble with children today is that they aren't allowed to grow up until they're 18 or 21. And some of them never do."

Actress Martha Raye's $20,000 Marriage Flops

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedienne Martha Ray plans to divorce the ex-policeman for whose love she paid $20,000 to settle an alienation of affections suit, it was announced Wednesday.

Announcement of the collapse of her sixth marriage was made by Miss Raye's manager, Nick Condos, who also was her fourth husband.

Condos said the comedienne telephoned him from Miami Beach and said she and former Westport Conn., policeman Bob O'Shea, had parted after less than a year of marriage.

She hired him as a bodyguard. Then his wife sought a divorce and sued Miss Raye for $50,000 for alienation of affections. Miss Raye paid a $20,000 out-of-court settlement.

700 European Students Arrive for School in U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 700 European high school students arrived Wednesday aboard the liner Waterman to spend 11 months attending schools in this country and living with American families.

The teenagers were brought here by the American Field Service. Since the program began in 1947, the AFS has arranged for 6,701 students from 46 countries to visit the United States.

Ike Plans TV Bid to Relax Wheat Curb

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower has decided to make a radio-TV appeal in advance of the next session of Congress for legislation to reduce the cost of the wheat price support program.

Word that the President will carry his campaign for wheat legislation to the people came after Eisenhower conferred here with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who sat in on a news conference held by Benson, said Eisenhower definitely will make a radio-TV speech well ahead of the next session, which starts in January.

Benson pictured Eisenhower as deeply concerned over mounting costs and wheat surpluses under the present program.

Unless Congress enacts needed legislation, Benson told newsmen, the wheat situation will grow into what he called a fiasco exceeding that created by potato and egg price support programs in 1950.

See Lauren Bacall With Bull Ring Idol

BIARRITZ, France (AP) — Lauren Bacall and Luis Miguel Dominguin, Spanish bull ring idol, were seen together frequently here last weekend. Their intimates insist the two are merely friends.

At a bull fight at Bayonne on Saturday, Dominguin dedicated one of the bulls to Miss Bacall, widow of Humphrey Bogart.

Dominguin is married to Lucia Bose, Italian movie actress. She did not accompany her husband to Bayonne.

Andrei Gromyko Prepares Book on Diplomacy

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is preparing a diplomatic handbook for publication at the end of this year. It is the first of a three-volume set.

The announcement did not identify the author as foreign minister, referring to him instead as A. A. Gromyko, a doctor of economics and correspondent member of the Academy of Sciences.

British Scientists Plan to Beam Wave to Venus

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) —Final preparations were being made today by scientists at Britain's giant Jodrell Bank radio telescope who hope to send a radio impulse 50,000,000 miles through space to the planet Venus.

The attempt will be made next month when Venus will be closer to earth than at anytime up to January, 1961.

About 5,000 unpaid volunteers furnish important data each day for the United States weather bureau.

Australia was first settled by the Dutch and called New Holland. The British did not take over until 150 years later, in 1768.

Tranquilizers Aid Ranchers

They Take Fight Out of Broncos, Making Them Easier to Catch

MIDWEST, Wyo. (UPI) —Wild horses roaming the range near here are learning, without their knowledge, how to relax. They're taking tranquilizers.

No longer is a long chase necessary to capture the stallions on the Joe Parson ranch. No longer are they frightened and exhausted when roped.

The man responsible for this innovation is W. H. Haste, 44, a Casper, Wyo., ranchhand and an employe of the Mark J. Davis Oil Co. in Teapot Dome.

He thought of the idea after reading an article on the capture of a sea lion with the aid of tranquilizers.

"I talked it over with a minister and received his approval to try it on horses," Haste said. "It doesn't harm the animals in any way and even helps in breaking them."

His method of administering the capsule is to get within "30 or 40 yards" of the horses and use a gas gun and dart to "shoot" the animal in the shoulder or rump. Later, he injects the horse with penicillin to lessen the danger of infection.

"The tranquilizer takes effect in about three to five minutes and slows the horse down enough so that its capture is relatively simple."

Haste, a native of Nebraska, has worked as a ranchhand all his life. His favorite hunting ground is the Joe Parson ranch near this small Wyoming community.

He said he can capture three or four animals a day with his new method and also has an easier time breaking the horses.

"The horse comes out of it about an hour and a half later to find himself roped and ready for the first phase of being tamed. He isn't as scared as he would be with a long chase and takes to breaking sooner."

The Casper ranchhand buys his tranquilizer capsules for $7 each from the Palmer Chemical Co. of Atlanta, Ga. The company also makes the gas gun which Haste uses.

Haste admits he had little success capturing wild horses before he started using his new method and that was one of the main reasons he decided to try tranquilizers.

Home on State Line Has Its Problems

BRISTOL, Va. (AP)— The Gordon Hardin family finds life in a new home a complex interstate affair. They had to register their contract for the home astride the state line in both Virginia and Tennessee.

The mail man locates them when addressed in either state — and so does the tax collector. The home is subject to property taxes in both states. They license one car in Virginia and the other in Tennessee. But Tennessee has no dog tax outside incorporated towns. Virginia does, so Fido is a Tennessean.

French Soviet Expert Doubts NATO Will Survive Visit

(What is the mood of Europe as President Eisenhower prepares for his swing through Allied capitals beginning Aug. 26? NEA's roving diplomatic correspondent Leon Dennen has just toured Europe from the Baltic to the Adriatic. This is the first of two dispatches reporting what he found in talks with statesmen, politicians, intellectuals and men in the street.)

By LEON DENNEN

PARIS (NEA)—You have traveled across Europe from West Germany and East Germany to Yugoslavia. You have talked about the visit of Nikita Khrushchev to the United States with statesmen, politicians, intellectuals and men on the street.

You have found that everywhere the official attitude was one of rejoicing that leaders of the "two most powerful nations of the earth" would meet face to face to discuss problems that grip the world in tension.

But you have found beneath the surface that people were talking about "another Yalta," another "Munich," another "Hitler-Stalin pact," with the U. S. placed in the position Nazi Germany was before the last war.

And now you sat closeted with one of France's top statesmen, a man who understands Soviet policy as few European leaders do, a staunch pro-American and supporter of the North Atlantic alliance; a man who was willing to talk frankly to a friend of 30 years' standing. It came as a shock to hear him say calmly:

"I doubt whether NATO will survive Khrushchev's visit to the United States by many months.

"Whether the State Department realizes it or not, Eisenhower's talks with Khrushchev represent an important shift in American policy.

"It might even be the beginning of the free world's capitulation."

These extreme views came from a man who is not an extremist but a student and a scholar in government.

To be sure, they differ from some other views in his own country and elsewhere in Europe. There is a large body of opinion in Europe which has complete faith in President Eisenhower and his pledge not to let NATO down.

The commentator Raymond Aron expands this a little in the Paris newspaper Le Figaro by saying:

"All considerations of morality apart, one must attribute to the American leaders an unlimited naivete to believe them unaware of European concerns over the possibility of a two-power settlement and the risks concerned for Atlantic solidarity."

Leftists, who for years have tagged the U. S. "war-monger" and "fortress of imperialism," suddenly have emerged the strongest supporters of what they like to call the "New Eisenhower-Nixon policy on Russia."

The majority of those I interviewed on my tour seemed to feel that the Eisenhower-Khrushchev encounter boded ill for NATO.

Feelings were expressed along these lines:

That Khrushchev got what he wanted without giving anything in return.

That the "Big Two" have now replaced the "Big Four" even though the President is coming to call at Bonn, London and Paris before Khrushchev visits the United States in mid-September.

Here are the words of a West German leader who recently talked with Khrushchev in Moscow:

"Why has he been invited? He hasn't called off the threat to West Berlin. He has made no concessions at the foreign ministers meeting in Geneva. Is he likely to be softer in Washington than he is in Moscow?"

And here is the view of a veteran Yugoslav student of communism:

"He (Khrushchev) aims to dispose once and for all of the remnants of the second World War."

He spelled out these "remnants" as:

"Certainly not West Berlin alone or separate peace treaties with West and East Germany, but also the status quo in East Europe, the imprisonment by the Kremlin of East Europe from the Baltic to the Black Sea."

It would appear that President Eisenhower's principal task as he packs his luggage for the swing around friendly capitals would be to marshal convincing evidence of his recent press conference statement that no two-power deal will be made to undermine Western solidarity. His path, as I have just taken in part, seems covered with question marks.

(Next: The climate for Ike's visit, capital by capital.)

IKE AND ADENAUER: Smiles in May, but tough questions in August.

Forecasting Arab Ban on Turkish Tobacco

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Reliable sources say an Arab ban would be imposed soon on Turkish tobacco and cigarettes.

An Arab conference held recently in Lebanon, decided to recommend that all Arab states ban imports of all kinds of Turkish tobacco and cigarettes because of "the establishment of joint Turco-Israeli cigarette factories."

Boots, Flippers in Old Corral

Seabiscuit Would Be Right at Home on This Ocean Range

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Early morning motorists in San Diego reported seeing a strange sight in the sea between Imperial Beach and Coronado recently.

Some said "it looked like the 'boy on a dolphin.' " Others were convinced it was a mirage. Some swore off liquor and others avoided the area altogether.

But to still others, the sight they had seen appeared to be a frogman on a horse, which was ridiculous, of course, except that they had indeed seen a frogman on a horse.

The frogman was Joseph F. Staley of Bonita, Calif., a six-foot sailor assigned to the Navy's Underwater Demolition Unit One at Coronado.

The horse he was riding was a thoroughbred from the 4-D Ranch at Imperial Beach, which hires Staley as a jockey in his free time to help work out its stock.

Most of Staley's mounts have suffered leg injuries. A quarter-mile swim gives them the exercise they need without requiring them to walk on their injured legs.

The 4-D Ranch claims that this method cuts the recovery time to about one month from the usual three. The ranch crew says about half of the horses getting the water treatment have romped home in the money their first time back at the races.

But why does Staley have to wear his frogman's outfit when he goes riding? Often, he says from experience, a horse rebels against his baptism at sea and the underwater gear comes in handy.

As for the motorists in San Diego, they can now catch the early-morning workouts without going to the track.

Prince Philip to Meet Eisenhower at Aberdeen

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace disclosed today that Prince Philip will meet President Eisenhower when the President arrives by plane at Aberdeen on Aug. 28.

They will drive to Balmoral in time for lunch with Queen Elizabeth II.

Hart Backs McNamara on Stormy Postal Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) said Tuesday he is content to leave a growing controversy over Senate confirmation of Michigan postmasters in the hands of Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich).

McNamara has announced he probably will not approve any more presidential postmaster nominations this year because of criticism of delays in the process by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

"I intend to concur with whatever action the senior senator (McNamara) takes," Hart told his/weekly news conference. "I'm satisfied that Pat doesn't decline to confirm them just because they're Republicans."

McNamara said recently he had okayed 26 out of 56 nominations crossing his desk this year, and had intended to approve them prior to the adjournment of Congress."

The nominations expire if the Senate fails to act on them before adjournment.

The Senate Post Office Committee does not act on the nominations without clearance from the senators of the states involved.

Rep. August E. Johansen (R-Mich) issued a statement calling McNamara's action a roadblock that amounts to an "on strike notice against the constitution and applicable federal statutes."

"Naturally," Johansen said, "I will regret it if Sen. McNamara takes out his venom against the postmaster general on honest, reputable, conscientious and qualified citizens—including numerous war veterans and numerous classified civil service employes—who have been duly cleared by the U.S. Civil Service Commission and the Post Office Department and duly nominated by the President of the United States."

Why Are License Plates Maroon and Yellow?

LANSING (AP) — If you worry about obscure facts, here's one: Why are the half-year license plates for trucks and trailers in Michigan painted maroon and yellow?

The secretary of state's office explained the maroon was left over from the 1957 plates and the yellow from the 1959 issue. The color combination was used as an economy measure to save the prison industries from buying new paint.

Since May 15, when the half year plates went on sale, 22,857 have been issued for an income of $1,872,854, the office reported.

Old 'Heaps' Make Fishing Better on Texas Reef

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas has completed another artificial Gulf fishing reef.

The Game and Fish Commission uses revenue derived from its unique universal fishing license which embraces salt-water angling.

The new layout is adjacent to a natural reef lying six miles off Freeport in 60 feet of water. It is constructed of 600 old automobile bodies locked together with steel cable. Another 600-car reef was previously completed off Port Aransas.

Fishing improved immediately in the vicinity of reef.

Marker Commemorates Michigan Oil Industry

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — A Michigan historical commission marker was dedicated here Tuesday commemorating growth of Michigan's oil industry.

The marker, to be erected along new U.S. 127 near Mount Pleasant, the state's oil capital, notes that opening of the Mount Pleasant oil fields in 1928 helped make Michigan one of the leading oil producers in the eastern United States.

Taking part in the ceremonies at the Isabella County centennial fair were state officials and representatives of the Michigan Petroleum Industries and the Oil and Gas Assn. of Michigan.

Firemen Delayed; Fire Burns Out

ROSENHAYN, N. J. (AP)—Fire broke out in the home of Mrs. Willie Schultz. She telephoned firemen and waited . . . and waited . . . and waited.

The blaze in an overheated kerosene stove soon burned itself out.

Then the firemen arrived.

Red-faced, they explained that two blocks from the Schultz' home they had to cool their heels at a railroad crossing while a train shuttled by.

Canned Lasagna Stuffs Onions

Whether it is a picnic by a murmuring brook, a barbecue at the beach or just a meal served on a table out in the backyard under the apple trees, there is something truly enchanting about dining outdoors. The food, no matter how simple, tastes superb.

And, in keeping with this casual summer living, it follows that all menus should be easy to prepare and serve. That's where handy, ready to heat-and-eat foods come in. For instance, the latest Italian-style favorite, canned lasagna, makes an appetizing main dish. This delicious combination of broad egg noodles and ground beef in a cheese tomato sauce can be served "as is". Or it can be used in a number of tasty variations.

If you have not tried stuffed onions before, this recipe featuring lasagna, will introduce you to a delightful and different dish. Serve it for your next outdoor supper with a vegetable salad, watermelon for dessert with coffee.

Stuffed Onions

Allow 1 large onion per serving. Peel and slice off top. Boil about 30 minutes or until tender. Scoop out center to make a shell from ¼ to ½-inch thick. Stuff with lasagna and sprinkle top with bread crumbs. Place in shallow baking dish containing small amount of water. Bake in pre-heated oven at 425 degrees for about 15 minutes.

Mix Mashed Banana Into Uncooked Frosting

To give a bought cake a homemade touch, frost it with easy-to-make Creamy Vanilla Banana Frosting: Mix ¼ cup softened butter or margarine until fluffy. Add 1 mashed banana, 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice and ½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Beat until fluffy.

Gradually beat in 2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk, and ¼ teaspoon almond extract. Spread on tops of 2 round 8-inch bought layer cakes.

Store Frozen Sausage

It's safe to store frozen sausage and ground meat for about a month in a home freezer.

SUNNY FRUIT SALAD TOPPER — Sour cream scores again as a fruit salad dressing. It's folded into a fruit juice and egg mixture.

Little Things Do Make Meal Exciting Eating

It's the little things that mean a lot. And America's homemakers are fast learning that it's a "little thing" that does a lot to make a meal an exciting eating experience.

A dish that once was "good" becomes "terrific" with the use of fresh cultured sour cream! The gals are learning to use it in dressings and dips, on vegetable salads, cole slaw, meat and potatoes. Now during summer heat, they're eager for something new to serve with fruit.

And dairy cultured sour cream is sure to score again.

Here's a recipe for Sunny Fruit Salad Topper which is easy to prepare, exciting to eat, and certain to prove that everything's "best" if made with sour cream.

Sunny Fruit Salad Topper

½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup orange juice
⅓ cup lemon juice
1 cup pineapple juice
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup fresh cultured sour cream

Combine dry ingredients and juices in saucepan. Stir constantly over medium heat till thickened. Mix a little hot mixture into eggs, then stir into remaining hot mixture. Cook about 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Refrigerate. Then fold in sour cream. Makes 2 cups dressing.

Michigan Fruits, Legumes Now in Plentiful Supply

It's "peaches and cream" time in Michigan. The peach harvest is well underway with large supplies expected until about mid-September.

Plentiful supplies of homegrown produce, large supplies of pork, more family-size turkeys than at this time a year ago and ample beef supplies provide food shoppers with wide variety at economical costs.

PRODUCE

You may find some of Michigan's best peaches being marketed as Extra No. 1 grade. Extra No 1 is Michigan's top grade for peaches. These peaches have extra color, full ripeness and top flavor. To be graded Extra No. 1, peaches will have to be riper than usual when picked. This means extra careful handling during picking, grading, packing, shipping and retailing.

You may find more Michigan cantaloupe in your markets. The netting may be heavier than that you've grown accustomed to on California cantaloupe. The background color of Michigan melons may sometimes be quite green and the melon may still be ripe.

Look for cantaloupe that have no trace of stem at the blossom end. When picked ripe, the stem falls off and the end will be slighten sunken, smooth and well calloused. A good cantaloupe has a sweet musk-like aroma. Softness at the blossom end is not a sign of ripeness. This may be caused by customer handling.

There's a generous supply of summer squash. Yellow summer squash is used most often. Straight neck or crook neck, it makes no difference which you use. The most tender squash is lemon yellow or light yellow. Dark yellow squash is more mature and tough.

Zucchini and Cocozelle squash make a pleasant change. Zucchini is cylinder shaped, fairly straight and dark green. Cocozelle is shaped like Zucchini, is green with light green stripes.

Summer squash keep their sweet flavor when steamed, but lose it when boiled in large quantities of water. Steam in small amounts of water or tomato juice with the lid on for about 10 to 15 minutes. Minced onion, grated cheese or crisp bacon bits add interesting flavor variety.

Michigan's celery crop is in full swing and priced to fit into your crispy vegetable list.

MEAT VALUES

Hog slaughter is picking up as more of the pigs born last spring move to market. The increased pork supplies without a great increase in customer demand, has resulted in very reasonable pork prices all summer.

Poultry meat production is up about 20 per cent from a year ago. Prices for small turkeys have not increased since last Thanksgiving. There is a trend to produce and market small turkeys. The small turkey is excellent for frying, broiling and barbecuing, as well as roasting.

Barbecued turkey may be a whole bird on the spit of your rotisserie or cook halves or quarters in or out of foil on the grill.

Supplies of better quality beef continue larger than a year ago. Retail prices continue about as they have been with many customers wanting the more tender steaks and hamburger for easy grilling. If you are choosing steak to broil, look for U.S. Prime or Choice or a packer's grade of equal tenderness. If you cannot find the grade on beef, ask the manager of the meat department about the quality he sells.

More spring lambs reach market in August. This explains slight declines you may find in price.

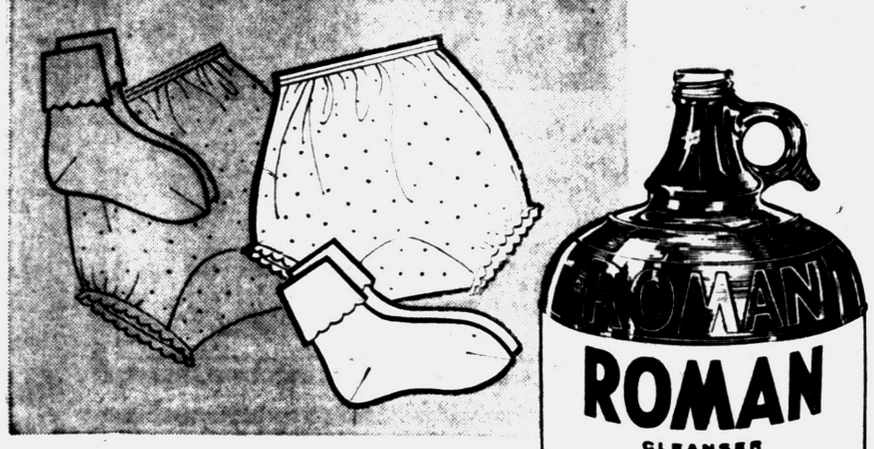

EGGS

Supplies of small size eggs continue to increase. If you check prices, you'll find that three small eggs will give the same volume and cost less than two large eggs of the same grade.

Save Livers for Later

Save the livers from broiler-fryers and put them in your freezer. When you're ready to use them, thaw and cook in a little butter. Mash fine and combine with the yolks of hard-cooked eggs, plus seasonings, for deviled eggs.

Good Meals Include Vegetables

SUMMER'S BOUNTY—Fresh vegetables are at their best when they come directly from the garden or farmers' market. A Tabasco seasoned butter or cheese sauce is good on most vegetables. Pictured on the platter are broiled tomato to halves, green beans and mushrooms.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

No painter ever produced a more lavish picture than the one you see when you stroll through the farmers' market at this time of year. What color in a tube compares with the scarlet of a ripe tomato? The beets are a deeper red, but one that is warm and homey.

Notice how the green and yellow summer squash complement one another. Green or wax beans, all the salad greens, flagrant orange carrots; it's a medley of color.

Be kind to your vegetables. Don't overcook them. Use a pressure cooker or boil them quickly in the least amount of water you can. Don't throw away the juice. Serve the vegetables at once, seasoned lightly.

Sometimes you will want a special sauce to serve with vegetables. How about these two, both of which use Tabasco.

Tabasco Chili Butter Sauce

¼ cup butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons chili sauce

Melt butter in small saucepan, add onion and cook over low heat until onion is tender but not brown. Add remaining ingredients, mix well. Heat. Serve over hot cooked spinach, asparagus or beans. Yield: Six servings.

Shortcut Cheese Sauce

½ pound processed American cheese, shredded
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon Tabasco

Melt cheese with milk in top of double boiler. Add Tabasco. Serve over cooked cauliflower, potatoes or onions. Yield: Six servings.

When tomatoes are in season, you can afford to stuff them for salads or for a main dish. This crabmeat one is excellent for Friday fare. Basil is the herb most often used with tomatoes. You'll like what it does in this recipe.

Baked Tomato Crabmeat Cups

4 medium-to-large tomatoes
1 6½ ounce can crabmeat
¼ cup minced onion
¼ cup minced celery
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon basil
½ cup melted butter or margarine
Dash of salt and pepper

Scoop out centers of 4 tomatoes, saving the tomato pulp. Remove membrane from crabmeat, keeping large chunks whole. Set 4 pieces aside. Mix the tomato pulp with crabmeat, onion, celery, lemon juice, basil, melted butter and seasoning.

Fill the tomatoes with the crabmeat mixture, top with crabmeat chunk. Place tomatoes in shallow baking dish and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 20 minutes. Serves four.

Have you ever had a spaghetti sauce made with squash? We'll admit this is new to us. But it sounds interesting. Needless to say, it is of Italian origin. If you can't get zucchini, the yellow summer squash will do nicely.

Spaghetti with Zucchini Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup finely diced onions
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
1 pound zucchini squash, sliced
2 cups diced fresh tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; add onions and saute 2 minutes. Add green pepper, squash, tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and undrained mushrooms. Cover and cook over low heat about 40 minutes.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Serve hot zucchini sauce over spaghetti. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, if desired. Makes 4-6 servings.

Big Pear Crop Makes Debut

What did the luxury-loving Romans and the stern, cold Pilgrims that landed at Plymouth Rock have in common? Give up? They were both fond of pears.

Pears were served at the famous banquets of the Roman upper classes and history also tells us that pear seeds were on an early list of items the Pilgrims of our country ordered from the Old World.

One thing we would wager though, is that neither the Romans nor the Pilgrims had pears that could begin to equal the big, juicy, firm beauties that you will find in such plentiful supply right now. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, pear production in California, Washington and Oregon, which produce nearly ninety per cent of the U.S. crop, will be 19 per cent larger than last year's and about 13 per cent above average.

Bartlett pears are the variety you are most likely to find in stores at the present time. If you're looking for a pear to eat alone, with some flavorful cheese, or blended with other fruits in salads or desserts you'll want ripe ones that are slightly soft to the touch. However, under-ripe pears are fine for cooking.

As a suggestion, fill under ripe, peeled and cored pear halves with a mixture of butter, brown sugar, curry powder and salt. Bake in a moderate oven and serve hot. You'll find them wonderful as a meat accompaniment. Or take fully ripened pear halves and fill with a combination of whipped cream, nutmeats, sugar and vanilla for a truly luscious dessert.

Hits Aid Cuts as Dangerous

Ike's Committee Urges $2 Million Minimum on Military Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue-ribbon presidential committee today hit at pending arms aid cuts as involving "a serious security danger for the United States and for the free world."

It called on Americans to devote less time to leisure, and more time to work to counter what it called a rising challenge to the free world from international Communism.

These findings and recommendations highlighted a final report issued by a special committee headed by William H. Draper Jr., investment banker who formerly served as an assistant secretary of the Army and in other high posts.

President Eisenhower, who named the 10-man committee of eminent citizens to study the disputed U. S. foreign aid program, sent its final report to Congress with words of praise for their work.

Eisenhower indicated administration steps were under way to carry out recommendations of the Draper group and he backed their warning about what the President called "the dangerously low level of appropriations' authorized for arms aid this fiscal year.

Eisenhower asked Congress for $1,600,000,000 for arms aid to America's Allies this year but Congress has set a maximum ceiling of $1,400,000,000. The Draper committee called for a minimum of two billion dollars.

"We believe that the much lower amount which is likely to be appropriated for fiscal year 1960 involves a serious security danger for the Nnited States and for the free world," it said.

And in discussing Soviet rates of economic growth and their emphasis on military-supporting industries in comparison with the United States, the Draper committee said:

"These trends in the Communist world cannot be ignored. . .

"All this represents a strong challenge to the free world and particularly to the United States. . . .

"It requires a positive individual and national dedication, greater emphasis on hard constructive work and thought, less rather than more emphasis on leisure, more rather than less application to our tasks."

Name Standard in Price Fixing

FTC Says Producer Controlled Cost of Gas at Pumps Since 1955

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Standard Oil Co. of Indiana has been charged by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) with illegally fixing the retail price of gasoline through agreements with dealers of its leased service stations in eight Midwestern states.

The FTC complaint, to which the company was given 30 days to file an answer, said Standard of Indiant controlled the price of gasoline at the pumps.

This was accomplished, the FTC complaint said, through its "suggested competitive retail price plan" covering sales to both its dealers and the public.

Under a plan put into effect in December 1955, the complaint made public last night said, the company and certain dealers have been able to fix and maintain gasoline prices in marketing areas.

The commission said Standard of Indiana was guilty of "unfair methods of competition forbidden by the FTC act." It said the practices it cited tended to create a monopoly and to restrain or eliminate competition.

According to the FTC, Standard has over 10,000 dealers to whom it has leased or sub-leased gas stations in its primary marketing area covering 15 Midwest and mountain states.

"Many of these operators are independent businessmen or would be such in the absence of the power and control exercised over them by Standard of Indiana," the commission charged.

The FTC also accused Standard of dominating its dealers by provisions in their leases and supply contracts and by constant inspection and surveillance of their business operations.

According to the FTC, the price plan was not put into operation in the Michigan marketing area.

Batista on Way to New Exile in Madeira Islands

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP), — Fulgencio Batista was on his way today to a new home in exile in Portugal's Madeira Islands, where the climate is mild, the wine sweet and the tensions of his native Caribbean thousands of miles away.

Immigration officials said the ex - dictator of Cuba took off in a special plane for Portugal Wednesday night, within 24 hours after Washington squelched any hopes he had of gaining admittance to the United States.

Batista has been an exile in the Dominican Republic since fleeing Cuba last New Year's Day to escape the revolutionary forces of Fidel Castro.

Castro heard the news of Batista's flight to Portuguese territory while attending a weekly session of his cabinet in Havana. The usually voluble premier brushed aside reporters on emerging from the meeting.

There were 17 members of the Batista party, which flew first to Lisbon on the way to Madeira. The island group is about 400 miles west of Morocco, in the eastern Atlantic. Sources in Ciudad Trujillo said Portugal had granted the Cuba political asylum.

In Havana, Cuban government quarters said reports indicated one of those left behind was former Gen. Eleuterio Pedraza, who was described as the mastermind of the recent abortive attempt to overthrow Castro. Rumors circulated in Havana that Pedraza had been imprisoned by the Dominican strongman, Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, because of the failure of the anti-Castro conspiracy a week ago.

A Dominican rebel radio heard in Cuba said Batista's position in the Dominican Republic had become delicate because he refused a demand from Trujillo for 10 million dollars to offset costs of the invasion that flopped. The rebel radio, quoting undercover agents in Ciudad Trujillo, said Batista had contributed $200,000 to the conspiracy but refused to give any more.

U.N. Pressured to Watch Laos

Hammarskjold Thought Near Agreement on Sending Observer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) The United Nations came under increasing pressure today to send an observer to embattled Laos and it appeared Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would agree.

Laotian Defense Minister Ngon Sananikone, who arrived here earlier this week, was scheduled to meet with Hammarskjold today to ask for some kind of U.N. help.

Laos, officially neutral but politically pro-Western, has been battling an uprising by Communist Pathet Lao troops in the north aided by troops from Communist North Viet Nam.

The United States and Britain were reported urging a quick U.N. check on the situation to spotlight and report on the Red guerrilla activities.

The Communists have kept up a propaganda barrage about the fighting, insisting it is inspired by the United States. U.S. officials have labeled the charge "absurd."

Kalamazoo Malls Sell Toledo Official on Idea

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—City Manager Russell W. Rink, after visiting the new permanent shopping malls in Kalamazoo yesterday, said today he is ready to recommend that Toledo's four trial malls be made permanent parts of the downtown landscape.

"I'm sold more than ever on the malls here after seeing the Kalamazoo operation," Rink said.

He estimated it would cost between $200,000 and $300,000 to make permanent the malls here.

An expenditure at that level, he said, would permit a development with such features as pools, background music, new sidewalks and plenty of trees and marquees.

In addition, there probably should be some sort of municipal parking development in conjunction with the malls, Rink said.

All this and more has been envisioned by a group of architects who drew up plans for a revitalized downtown section here. The four malls being given a 45-day trial are part of the architects' proposals.

So far, the trial malls appear to be going over well with the public and with downtown merchants, who judge the success of the test by the ring of their cash registers.

Rink suggested permanent malls might be financed as they are in Kalamazoo, with the city paying half the cost and adjoining property owners being assessed for the other half.

Both Sides Hail Steel Report

Labor Secretary Urges Industry, USW Step Up Talks to Settle Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking steelworkers and the steel industry both claimed today that a new government report bolsters their positions.

Maintaining its hands off policy in the 37-day-old steel strike, the government Wednesday released figures showing that steel profits, prices and wages have been going up for years.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell made public the 4,000-word background report on the steel dispute. He said neither side has been doing any intensive bargaining and urged greater efforts until a settlement is reached.

But Mitchell declined to make any recommendations on where there should be some backing down in the deadlocked negotiations—and which side should do the retreating.

"There are no conclusions drawn (from the report)," he said. "The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor."

However, he made it clear that the public has an interest in the dispute which each week is costing 300 million dollars worth of production and 70 million dollars in wages.

Mitchell told several hundred newsmen at a news conference that the effect of the strike so far has not been serious from a national standpoint.

But a national emergency might result if the strike is not settled by the latter part of September or early October, he said in reply to a question.

Management and union spokesmen lost no time in commenting on Mitchell's report.

Panchen Turns Against Reds

Massacre of Buddhist Monks Shocks Him; Under House Arrest

CALCUTTA, India (UPI) — Savage Chinese Communist efforts to wipe out Buddhism in Tibet shocked the Panchen Lama into turning against his Red masters, reports reaching Calcutta said today.

The reports said the Panchen, Communist-sponsored rival to the self-exiled Dalai Lama, was crystallized into action by the massacre of Buddhist monks, and the pillaging of sacred Buddhist possessions.

Reporters earlier this week said the Communists were holding the Panchen Lama under house arrest in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa and that his father had been accused of treason.

Reports today said the Panchen's advisers, particularly his father, had warned him that if Buddhism was strangled in Tibet the Panchen would be held responsible.

"The walls of Potala Palace that could not hold the Dalai Lama—whose spiritual seniority even the Panchen dared not discount—held out for him big questions about his own future," one source reported.

Reports reaching Calcutta said the Panchen's about face had rekindled the spirit of rebellion against the Chinese Communists and revived hope of Indian aid against Peiping.

State House Shuffles School Battle Roster

LANSING (UPI) — The House has altered its lineup for another conference showdown with the Senate on school aid.

The two houses failed to agree yesterday on a school aid formula for the fiscal year which started June 30 and named new conference committees.

Sens. Frank Beadle (R-Port Huron), Arthur Dehmel (R-Unionville) and Basil Brown (D-Detroit) were reappointed by the Senate.

Rep. Raymond Wurzel (R-Port Huron) was renamed by the House but Reps. Charles Boyer (R-Manistee) and George Montgomery (D-Detroit) replaced Reps. Allison Green (R-Kingston) and Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba).

The house insisted on hiking the $190 per-pupil level to $210.

The Senate insisted on $200. The deductible millage factors also were in dispute.

Copper Strike Hits Another

Picket Lines Go Up at Phelps Dodge in Western States

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Another major copper producer was struck today as picket lines went up at Phelps Dodge Corp. properties in Arizona, Texas and California.

The new walkout by the International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers (Ind.) halted operations at Douglas, Bisbee and Morenci in Arizona; El Paso, Tex.; and Los Angeles.

Mine-Mill represents about 3,650 Phelps Dodge workers. Another 1,500 employes probably will be idled by the shutdown.

The copper strikes started Aug. 10 when Mine-Mill and the United Steelworkers walked off their jobs at Kennecott Corp. plants. Kennecott employes about 1,500 persons.

Another 2,300 Mine-Mill members struck Aug. 11 at the San Manuel Copper Corp., San Manuel, Ariz., and the Magma Copper Corp., Superior, Ariz.

Anaconda Co. was hit by a walkout of 5,600 miners and smeltermen at plants in five Montana and Utah cities Wednesday.

The Mine-Mill today also set wheels in motion for a strike against 13 American Smelting & Refining Co. plants. The union gave the company 48 hours strike notice.

Three-year contracts for Mine-Mill members expired June 30. The USW contracts ran out July 31. Work continued on a day-to-day extension of contracts until negotiations broke down.

The unions asked for a general wage increase of 15 cents an hour plus fringe benefits.

5 Dailies Join in Ad Organization

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five metropolitan newspapers today announced the organization of Million Market Newspapers Inc. (MMN), a jointly owned national advertising sales organization.

Details of the operation will be announced to advertisers and agencies "in the mid-fall season."

The combined net paid circulation of the five newspapers is 2,090,956 daily and 2,490,481 Sundays. Advertising lineage in 1958 was 206,294,000 lines.

Headquarters for the organization will be New York with offices in Chicago and Detroit.

Hubbard Orders Burglar Alarm for Police Station

DEARBORN (UPI) — Mayor Orville Hubbard yesterday ordered a burglar alarm hooked to two pictures of the proposed new Municipal Court building after thieves stole two similar pictures last month.

Hubbard ordered a duplicate set of the artist's sketches hung in the lobby of the police station and put a 24-hour guard on them.

The mayor posted a $500 reward for return of the original pictures, believed to have been stolen by someone opposing construction of the new court building.

Plans call for the facilities to be built atop a one-story fire station in back of the old city hall.

"If property isn't safe in the police station, where is it safe in Dearborn," Hubbard said.

Car Output Trickles to Year's Low Mark

DETROIT (UPI)—Car output in the United States will hit a low for the year this week at an estimated 33,100 cars with only Ford Motor Co. still producing 1959 models, Automotive News said today.

Studebaker, Imperial and Chevrolet's Corvair plant at Willow Run were the only plants turning out 1960 models.

The week's output compares with 72,597 cars turned out last week and 26,118 units which rolled off the assembly lines during the same week a year ago.

Truck output will rise from 1,059 last week to 15,800 this week, Automotive News said. In the same week a year ago, the industry turned out 8,760 trucks.

The return of Ford Motor Co. to production in Canada will raise Canadian production to an estimated 2,635 vehicles this week, compared with 427 last week.

The upsurge will be brief, however, as Ford joins General Motors, Chrysler and Studebaker in changeovers next week, leaving International as the only Canadian producer in operation.

VIENTAINE, Laos (AP)—Communist rebel units are moving through six provinces of north and south Laos down to the border of South Viet Nam, the government said today.

Government forces braced for what they feared would be an all-out offensive.

Now that preparations have endedn, the enemy probably will unleash a major offensive," the communique said.

Blind to Lead Blind

Tampa Flood Costs May Pass $1 Million

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Damage in flooded portions of north Tampa may pass the million dollar mark, Hillsborough County Sheriff Ed Blackburn said today

Water remained high in some parts of the area and Blackburn said the figure "would seem to be conservative."

Roy Haynes, a county commissioner, said the water had receded some "but not too much because of the rain we had yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon."

Frank Edmondson, Red Cross disaster committeeman, said the water had gone down as much as an inch since midnight in one area and as much as three inches in other areas.

National Guard troops patrolling the areas have been reduced from 100 men to 70.

Rules County Budgets Can't Exceed Revenues

LANSING (AP) — Counties lack legal authority to adopt a so-called "deficit budget," one providing for expenditures in excess of anticipated revenues, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams held today.

He replied to an inquiry from E. Boomie Mikrut, director of the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Adams said a county budget must be revised if necessary after approval of a maximum tax rate by the county tax allocation board.

Russians Crowd Exhibit to See Satellite Model

MOSCOW (AP)—Thousands of Russians rushed today to see a model of the U. S. paddlewheel satellite displayed at the American national exhibit here.

American officials sent the satellite model to help meet a complaint of Russian fair goers that not enough exhibits show American technical achievements.

"This is more of what we expected to see," a fair visitor said. "Your satellites are not so large as ours, but we know you have marvelous techniques and we want to study them."

The paddlewheel satellite, Explorer IV, was put into orbit July 26.

Many Americans here think the fair has been successful in projecting a picture of ordinary American life. But they say it is like holding a state fair with only average cattle and corn, and leaving the prize winners at home.

BOSTON (UPI)—Though his left eye has been removed and he has only 9 per cent vision in his right eye, Bob Mattison earns a living tying fishing flies. He works in the kitchen of his home and is able to tie about 40 flies per day, doing the job almost entirely by touch.

CAN KEEP CATS — See the 14 cats in this picture? They all belong to the smiling French actress, Janine Grandel. A lot of cats for one person, you say? Well you haven't heard anything yet. In all, the petite actress has 120 felines of various sizes, shapes and colors. Neighbors recently complained, but Los Angeles officials ruled the cats were adequately housed, so they all will live happily ever after.

Last Civil War Vet Sinks, Then Rallies

HOUTON, Tex. (AP)—The last survivor of the Civil War armies sank into delirium for a time Wednesday, then rallied slightly.

The condition of Walter W. Williams, 116-year-old Confederate veteran, remained critical.

Williams has been near death since his strength was sapped by a recent bout with pneumonia.

The old soldier, blind and almost deaf, was visited Wednesday by Bobby Vaughn, 15, a Norris, Tenn., youth who said he had always yearned to meet and talk with a Rebel cavalryman.

Williams was unable to speak to young Vaughn, so the boy shook Williams' hand and chatted for three hours with Willie Mae Bowles, the veteran's daughter.

Wage Increase Hopes Low for Wayne Workers

DETROIT (UPI) — Hoped for wage increases for Wayne County employes seemed all but dead today after the board of auditors killed a plan calling for average boosts of 13 cents an hour.

Budget Director Louis G. Basso said the county just doesn't have funds for wage increases.

The county has already received permission from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to borrow three million dollars to meet operating costs.

English Court Says 'No'

Can You Stand in Street?

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's National Council of Civil Liberties called out its heavy legal artillery today in defense of a man convicted of standing on a sidewalk.

The stander, Louis Goldberg, 53, was hauled before a magistrate Tuesday and told that "curiously enough" a person has the right to walk up and down but not stand still.

Goldberg was given two weeks to decide whether to pay a $5.60 fine or spend 14 days in jail.

"When the 14 days are up, they can come and take me away," he declared.

Yesterday the Council of Civil Liberties announced it would look into the case.

"We are concerned with the statement made by the magistrate that people haven't the right to stand in the street," said Council chairman Malcolm Purdie. "The matter will be decided in a higher court, or the home secretary will have to make some sort of statement."

Let Girls Decide Dispute . . . Abby

Neighbor Didn't Invite Writer's Child to Party

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine gave her 9-year-old daughter a birthday party in her back yard and didn't invite my little girl. They are the same age and play together every day.

ABBY

When I saw all the other playmates dressed up in their party dresses, laughing and having the best time, I couldn't believe my eyes. My little girl felt so bad she cried. I was all choked up myself but pretended I didn't care.

Should I let my daughter go over there and play with that neighbor girl? I used to like my neighbor, but now I have no use for her. Would you?

VERY HURT

DEAR VERY: It is almost impossible to keep youngsters from playing with the neighbor children, so don't attempt it. It's difficult to know whether the mother didn't want your daughter at the party or if her child had a temporary "mad" on at the time. If the girls want to play together, I'd say let them, and forget the unhappy incident.

DEAR ABBY: In your column you advised a Baptist girl to consult a Roman Catholic priest about a possible interfaith marriage. Why didn't you ask her to consult her own pastor?

If a Catholic boy had written, would you have advised him to consult a Protestant minister?

The advice you gave was not impartial. I confess that I am disappointed in this attitude of yours.

Sincerely yours,
C. M. D. (S. F. Theological Seminary)

DEAR C. M. D.: The Baptist girl was seeking information about the Catholic Church, not interfaith marriage. So I sent her to a Priest for that information. Had a Catholic boy sought information about the Protestant church, I would have advised him to consult an authority in that field—a Protestant minister.

DEAR ABBY: I noticed in your column that a woman had a terrible time with a husband who cursed and used vulgar language. Let me tell you how I cured mine of this habit.

Every time he cussed or said something vulgar I charged him 25 cents. Each time there was a violation I totaled it verbally.

When he reached $25.00 I went out and bought something for myself and charged it to him. It worked!

MRS. A. C. C.

DEAR ABBY: My buddy always used to say he didn't have the nerve to ask a girl for a date so I'd let him come along with me and my girl. The three of us would have a real good time. At Christmas I gave my girl a set of rings (the wedding band to be used when I get out of service next year) and she liked them a lot. I thought I was in paradise!

Now she and my buddy came to me and asked if it would be all right if my buddy took over my girl and the payments on the rings. She says it's him she wants, not me. And he says the reason he never went out with any other girl was because he loved my girl all along. Should I leave them in peace or should I kick up the kind of fuss they deserve?

DOUBLE-CROSSED

DEAR DOUBLE: The damage is done. Let your buddy have the girl and take over the payments on the rings (and be sure he repays you the amount you've paid on the rings so far.) Next time you think you are in "paradise"—watch out for the snakes.

Moms' Membership Card in Club? Twins

By PAT EVANS

It's "twininteresting" to note the progress the Twins' Mothers' Club in the Pontiac-Lake Orion-Oxford area has made since its founding in April by Mrs. Maurine Green and Mrs. Edna Armstrong.

Both Lake Orion residents, the two mothers of twins first discussed the club's possibilities "over a cup of coffee" last spring

By exchanging ideas, the group could accomplish its purpose of helping one another with problems created by the presence of two newborn babies in the house at the same time.

Thus, the club held its first official meeting in May with five members present. Now in its fourth month, the club has more than doubled its membership.

STARTED IN NEW YORK

Included in the original membership were Mrs. Shirley Reschke of Opdyke road and Mrs. Maria Walters and Mrs. Jean Acheson, both of Oxford. This group marks the third in Michigan: the other two being in Bay City and Midland.

Originating in Westchester, N. Y., the TMC was first organized in the spring of 1957 by mothers of twins who felt that meeting other parents of twins could be mutually helpful.

The group in this area was started after an article, covering a twin's mothers' club's activities in New York, appeared in a Sunday Pictorial magazine.

Mrs. Green, originally of Pontiac, corresponds with the head of the original club in New York, Mrs. Glick, and hopes that through the exchange of ideas more helpful and economical plans may be formulated.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Pamphlets, and the club's "Bulletwin" have helped the mothers but the present members are seeking the practical experience and advice of mothers of older twins.

New members may attend any of the meetings which are scheduled every six weeks. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Green.

Mrs. Theodore Stickney of Chippewa road and Mrs. James E. Dearing of Oakdale drive, Drayton Plains, identical twin sisters, will speak on the "Developmental Aspects of Multiple Births" at the Sept. 3 meeting.

Mrs. Acheson will be hostess to the group at her Hosner road home in Oxford.

Mrs. James E. Dearing, left, of Drayton Plains, and Mrs. Theodore Stickney of Chippewa road, identical twins, will speak on the "Developmental Aspects of Multiple Births" at the Sept. 3 meeting of the Twins' Mothers Club. Mrs. Stickney, a child psychologist, completed her graduate work at the University of Detroit.

Posing with their twin sons are, left to right, Mrs. Robert Green with Kenneth and Kevin of Lake Orion and Mrs. Rolland Armstrong with Kirk and Kent, also of Lake Orion. Mrs. Green's sons are three years old, the oldest set in the new Twins' Mothers Club. Mrs. Armstrong's pair are age two. With support from other mothers in the community, the two mothers founded the club in April of this year.

It's the Thing, Survey Reveals

Teeners Go Steady Because Friends Do

By EUGENE GILBERT

The going steady habit seems to be steadily growing in teenage society.

Despite warnings from teachers and churchmen of the dangers involved in such immature relationships, 33 per cent of the youngsters we interviewed in a nationwide survey said they were going steady.

This compares with 20 per cent going steady in 1957 and 16 per cent in our 1956 survey.

As practiced by teenagers "going steady" falls a good deal short of courtship but involves considerably more than just frequent companionship.

"It's like being engaged only it really isn't," explained a 15-year-old Clarksville, Tenn., girl. Ambiguous as that answer seems, it just about sums up teenage attitudes on the subject.

The survey revealed some interesting loyalty patterns in teenage steady relationships.

For instance, the majority of boys and girls going steady at the moment have had one or more previous "steadies" in their young lifetimes. The girls were more fickle than the boys: 40 per cent said they had three different steadies, 24 per cent had "four or five" and 3 per cent had six.

Among the boys, 44 per cent had had two steadies but after that the percentages fell off rapidly. Only 26 per cent had three, 2 per cent had four or five and 1 per cent had six.

Girls also started going steady at a younger age than boys. Among the girls, 13 per cent said they went with their first steady at 12 or under, compared with 4 per cent for the boys.

How long did the first steady relationship last?

Again, the girls tended to unload a steady faster than the boys. A month or less was the average lifetime of the first steady relationship for 36 per cent of the girls, while 40 per cent put the figure at two to five months. The rest answered six months or longer or that the relationship was still going.

Most of the yougsters who broke off with their previous steadies did so for their own reasons rather than from parental pressure or advice from outsiders.

"I just got sick of having him around," answered a 16-year-old Portland, Ore., girl.

"After a while she started giving me a pain in the neck so I ditched her," said a 15-year-old Carlsbad, N.M., Lothario.

Boredom with the whole idea of going steady rather than any dislike for the partner involved accounted for break-ups with 6 per cent of the boys and 10 per cent of the girls interviewed.

A surprisingly large majority — 82 per cent of the boys and 76 per cent of the girls — said they went steady because most of their friends did, rather than doing so because they wanted to of their own accord.

"Most of my friends go steady. I think it's ridiculous but what can I do?" said a 17-year-old Dayton, Ohio, lad.

"If you go out with a girl twice, she expects you to be her steady so the rest of the gang will know she has one. Dames are like that," said a 16-year-old Elizabeth, N.J., man of the world.

Security as far as dates are concerned, conformity with group standards, prestige of having a steady and hard economic facts seem to be the main reasons why teenages go steady.

"It's a fad," admitted a 15-year-old Jacksonville, Fla., girl "but it does have its advantages. At least you know you'll have a date."

"It gnves you a small taste of what marriage will be like," contributed a St. Paul, Mnnn., youth. His age? 13.

"It's cheaper than just dating around," admitted a 16-year-old Kansas City, Mo., boy. "When you get to know a person pretty well they don't expect you to go broke every time you see them."

Those who opposed the practice did so generally on grounds that going steady limited opportunities for meeting others, endangered morals, interfered with school work, led to fights and, worse, led to more serious attachments at an age when neither party was mature enough for such a step.

About 30 per cent of the 1,125,000 new homes built in 1958 were financed by the nation's savings and loan associations.

Some Easy Ways to Get Rid of Guests

By RUTH MILETT

If you never want to see those guests again, it's easy. Just—

Let your small children crawl over them, interrupt the adult conversation, fight with each other and in any way they can, make adult conversation impossible.

Get out the movies you've taken of the children and insist on showing them just one more reel every time they murmur that they really should be going as they promised the baby sitter they would be home by such and such a time.

Invite them for dinner at 7 p.m. and don't serve the food before 9 or 10.

If your children are old enough not to be around, spend the evening talking about them.

If your guests are building a house, sending a child to camp for the first time or have an in-law coming to live with them, tell them all the pitfalls—every sad thing bearing on the situation that you know from your own experience or from the experience of your friends.

Even though they say they rarely watch TV, make them watch your favorite comedian—and then keep the set on for the rest of the evening.

Put them to work, on the theory that it will make them feel at home—and even if it doesn't it will at least lighten the chores of the host and hostess.

A woman guest helping to carry out the dishes may get a greasy spot on her best dress, or a man may burn himself on the charcoal grill because you forgot to explain that the folding legs sometimes fold unexpectedly. But never mind, you've made 'em one of the family, haven't you?

Since these are sure-fire ways of making certain that guests don't hurry back, it's a wonder people employ them and then wonder why "we never see the Browns or the Smiths any more."

His Family Should See Gown, Too

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am being married at home. My fiance's family and most of his relatives live several hundred miles from here and it will be impossible for them to come to the wedding. We intend to visit his family on our wedding trip and while there, his mother is going to give a reception in our honor, inviting all of his relatives and friends who couldn't come to the wedding. My fiance would like very much for me to take my wedding dress and veil along with me and wear it at this reception so that his family can see me in my bridal clothes. Would this be proper?

Answer: It is entirely proper to wear your wedding dress, and if they would like you to put your wedding veil on for a short time so they can see how you looked, there is certainly no serious offense in your doing so under the circumstances you speak of.

Dear Mrs. Post: About six months ago I broke my engagement and due to neglect, did not return the presents at that time. I would like to know, since so much time has elapsed, whether I should return the presents now and, if so, what explanation, if any, should I make for the delay?

Answer: The presents should be returned with a note of explanation similar to the following: "To my chagrin I have just discovered that several of my presents had been put away and not returned at the time of the breaking of my engagement. Hope you will forgive this delay. Affectionately."

Dear Mrs. Post: While still eating from a plate, and the fork is temporarily laid down, should it be placed on the plate or left resting against the side of the plate with the handle on the table?

Answer: Always on the plate. Never with any handle resting on the table.

How Much Will It Cost to Send Junior to College?

By FAY HENLE
NEA Feature Writer

What is it going to cost to send your youngster to college? More important, what plans have you made to finance higher education?

The American Bankers Association, surveying 56 representative colleges, has determined that the fixed cost, tuition, special fees, room and board, range from a minimum $700 a year in state-supported institutions to $2,100 in private colleges.

Add transportation, books and supplies, clothing, laundry, recreation and incidentals and you've a pretty costly proposition on your hands — an average yearly cost of at least $1.300 or $5,200 for the full four years.

For a family with two children in the $15,000-a-year income bracket, using the standard deduction, this means about 11 per cent of its after-tax income goes toward keeping a student in a private college.

As you get down toward the average income family, the situation becomes more serious. A full 28 per cent of a $5,000-a-year income after taxes is needed.

Fortunately, both bankers and share this problem with parents. They are aware that with college expenses so high — and still rising — freuently college costs can no longer be handled, as in the past, out of current income on a pay-as-you-go basis.

OF TOP IMPORTANCE

It is also true that a college education is of top importance in today's job market.

Since scholarships, part-time jobs, short-term loans and such are proving inadequate, new plans are constantly being devised to supplemet the usual financial sources.

One method attracting widespread interest involves a time-payment plan to help families pay for college education in much the same way that they pay for a house or automobile.

The largest of these — Higher Education Loan Plan called HELP — was started two years ago in Massachusetts. Under this plan students who have completed their first college year in good standing may borrow $500 a year for three years or a total of $1,500. Six months after graduation the note is renewed for an additional three years scheduled for 36 monthly installments.

Columbia University's Graduate School of Business offers a loan aid plan under which a student in need of financial aid receives 60 per cent of the amount of the loan from a bank and 40 per cent as a outright grant from an alumni fund. The bank, which requires no financial statement from the student, provides a loan to each student selected by the school.

Check the colleges that interest you for plans similar to the ones outlined above. They are rapidly coming into existence all over the nation.

Both Tot, Physician Hate Shot

It goes without saying that youngsters don't like shots. And believe it or not, doctors don't like to give shots to children. Doctors don't like to hurt youngsters. They give shots only because they know the child will benefit from the medicine poked into him this way.

Lilly had to have a shot. She closed her eyes, stuck out her arm. The doctor worked quickly and talked hard and fast; after a bit Lilly said:

"Please hurry doctor and get it over."

"Why, child," said the doctor, "You had that shot long ago."

"I did?" said the child in amazement. "I didn't feel it at all."

This happens often.

Nevertheless children dread shots.

When a child knows he is going to get a shot he is apprehensive until it is over, then he can relax and enjoy the rest of the visit to the doctor's office. If a child has to wait a little while before his turn to see the doctor, it's often a good idea for the doctor to bring the child into a side room, give him the shot quickly, let him go back and play until his turn to be examined comes up.

Much as children dislike shots it's necessary to be honest with them about it.

Mrs. Traymore promised Ted that the doctor wouldn't give him a shot today. Ted came happily into the examining room. Mrs. Traymore knew the child was due for a shot, in fact she had made the appointment for that very purpose. She simply lied to her child because it was the easiest thing to do at the moment.

It's impossible for a doctor to build up confidence in a child when the basis of trust is destroyed by direct lies. Not only was Ted full of resentment against the doctor but also against his mother.

Get Rid of It

If you don't use it, give it away, say home management specialists at Michigan State University. This applies to clothes, dishes, toys, magazines and kitchen gadgets. Unused items take valuable storage space and contribute only to clutter in your home.

Sea moss from Maine is a vital ingredient in such products as chocolate milk, tooth paste, cosmetics, shoe polish, cough medicine and beer.

Must Score in Fashion, Grooming

Lady Bowling Champ Offers Tips

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Women bowlers must score in fashion and grooming as well as form, says the first lady of the sport.

Sylvia Wene, of Philadelphia, who holds 150 trophies and awards, believes personal appearance is vital to a woman's success on the bowling lanes.

"Women are more self-conscious than men. They get discouraged more easily if they don't do well. And they seem to do better if they know they look and feel right," she said in an interview.

To help them, Miss Wene wrote a book, "The Woman's Bowling Guide," (McKay) which will be published Aug. 12.

The book includes chapters on the latest bowling fashions, what make-up to wear and how to apply it so it will last, home reducing and limbering up exercises, the author's own bowling secrets, and tips on scoring and delivery.

The first publication of its type, the book is dedicated to women bowlers "in honor of the four important pins in their lives: bobby, rolling, diaper — and now, bowling pin."

Miss Wene estimated there are 22-million regular bowlers in the United States and a total of 32-million persons who bowl actively or frequently. About 15-million bowlers are women, of all ages.

"If you can walk, you can bowl," the champion said. "I've taught women in their 80's. And I've heard of women bowling in their 90's."

A tiny (four-feet, 11-inches) dimpled brunette, Miss Wene became interested in the sport 14 years ago when she was 17 years old. Her brother took her and her sister to an alley, but he made Miss Wene keep score because she was "too small." She came back the next day to try it herself, but didn't do well.

"I decided I was going to roll 100," she said. "It took me quite a while, and by that time, I had decided I wouldn't quit until I had rolled 200"

She practiced her delivery in the kitchen and the family's grocery store, Nine years after she started, she won her first award.

She became the first woman to bowl a perfect 300 game in east coast play. She held a 206 national record for three straight seasons and won the world record of 11 700 series in one year and the national individual match game championship of 1955. That same year, she became the "Woman Bowler of the Year."

Her most recent victory was the Women's International Bowling Congress Doubles Championship in Buffalo, N.Y., last May.

Although she never had been more than 50 miles away from home when she began bowling, Miss Wene now travels about 100,000 miles a year, giving exhibitions and holding free clinics. She makes about 100 appearances a year, and teaches persons in wheel chairs, the blind and children.

Exhibitions average 300 spectators, and clinics 400 to 500 persons — more than half of them women.

"In my spare time? I'm out there every chance I get," she laughed.

Fishermen received about $500,000 for Maine lobsters in 1880 and almost $9,000,000 last year.

Beauty Is Thing We Cultivate

Beauty, unless it's the absolutely smashing, stunning kind that lights about once in a century, is usually acquired. The plain girl and the much-photographed beauty quite often have the same material with which to work.

The difference is that the plain girl just hasn't done anything about her looks. Her hair is drab and she's left it that way. The beauty uses a color shampoo. The plain girl has never bothered to learn anything about clothes. The beauty has learned everything she can about fabric and color and line. It's part of her secret.

The plain girl has dry skin and wouldn't think of creaming at night. Soap and water were enough for her grandmother and they're enough for her, too. The beauty has dry skin and she uses a moisturizing cream.

The plain girl confines her make-up to a dab of lipstick, wrong shade. The beauty uses foundation, powder, a light touch of rouge, lipstick, eye make-up. The plain girl is not an optimist and she doesn't much enjoy life. The beauty enjoys every minute and finds her days filled with fun and people.

This two piece dress with a Spanish look features a short fitted jacket and comes in gray taupe or black. May be purchased locally.

Signature Is Half-Free

Handwriting Reveals All

NEW YORK (AP)—"Your signature often shows what you want people to think of you," says handwriting expert Helen Yun, "but your handwriting reveals what you really are."

Miss Yun, a Korea-born psychology major from Vanderbilt University, has been making her living with a life-long interest—graphology—after finding jobs scarce for an Oriental in America and life humiliating in Korea for an American-educated woman.

"You will often find that a businessman, who makes small capital letters in the body of his writing will make big ones with flourishes when he writes his signature," said Miss Yun. "He's a shy, insecure man putting on a bold front."

SLANT TELLS CHARACTER

Miss Yun insists that much can be read of one's character from the slant of one's writing; that breaks in the middle of words show strong intuition.

Although it is impossible to tell definitely either the sex or age of a writer, says Miss Yun, it is often possible to determine the state of health and mental attitude of a writer.

The small Korean woman — her father was a baron and her grandfather Minister of War and the Treasury before the Japanese took over in 1905 — was sent to a girl's school in Kentucky for her primary education by her Christian father. Conditions in Korea were so turbulent she stayed on to attend college where she made Phi Beta Kappa. After that she returned to Korea, briefly.

UNHAPPY IN KOREA

"I tried to go back," she said, "but I found women considered so inferior, and their clothes so drab that it made me ashamed to be a woman. I decided to return to America and be a part of the white man's world."

When she came back, however, it was the mid-depression and the only job she could find was that as an entertainer in a New York night spot — reading hand writing. She has been doing it ever since—currently in one of the lounges of the Manger Vanderbilt hotel in New York.

"Graphology," she says seriously, "dates far back into European history — French priests were among those who studied it in the 17th Century. But now it is recognized as probably the best and most precise and accurate short cut to knowing something about a person. It is even being used by psychologists, medical clinics and some detective bureaus."

Miss Yun became interested as a boarding school girl when she ran across a book on the subject. For years it was a hobby—"I was always trying to analyze people by looking at unopened envelopes that came to friends and getting them to check my deductions." Now it is her business.

"I'm an entertainer," she says, "and I love it. It's a nice way to get to know lots of people."

At College

Don't Neglect Complexion

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most members of the feminine sex become interested in their appearance at a very early age — about the age of two or three! This tendency grows until the teens when the way she looks may be quite crucial in a young girl's life. At this stage she is very self-conscious about the slightest defect and longs to look like her favorite movie star.

So by the time she is ready to go to college we have no need to warn her to look her best. Yet in the rush and excitement, in the midst of the fun and work, she may become careless about her grooming and her fundamental beauty care.

It is unusually important for the freshman at college to look her very best. There is no need fooling ourselves — we are judged at first by our appearance. This is the window dressing. No matter how many wonderful qualities you may have, others must have a chance to know you in order to learn about them, and if the outside view of you is not pleasant, this may never happen.

You will have to find time or just take time this fall for the routines which keep your skin and hair lovely and give your nails that well cared for look. Many young women who were most faithful in skin care during the early teens, because they were battling blackheads, become careless when they go away to college.

DON'T BE MISLED

They may consider themselves past this skin threat. Do not be misled by wishful thinking. You are still in that age group which is somewhat more susceptible to blackheads and pimples than you will be a few years from now, so keep up those soap and water cleansings, several times a day.

Unless your skin is extremely oily, twice a day may be enough now. The normal or dry skin may require some lubrication in cold, windy weather as well as its regular cleansing.

And remember that you need a good hand lotion at any age!

Matching outfits are tops with teachers this year. Mrs. James Saunders of South Francis street models this dyed to match pleated skirt with twin sweaters. Featured at Eaton's, the ensembles by Ban-Lon comes in a variety of new autumn shades.

A man has reached middle age when he turns off the lights for reasons of economy rather than romance.

EXETER, N.H. (UPI) — Emery N. Eaton, 26, was returned here yesterday to face charges in connection with the theft of $19,000 from a state liquor store.

Eaton and Robert England, 25, of Jackson, Mich., both students at the University of Michigan, were returned here from New York. Charges were lodged against England.

Eaton was arrested in Amsterdam several days after the Aug. 3 theft from the store where he was employed. The store was managed by his father, Emery Sr. who was subsequently suspended.

Attempt to Block Grain Shipping

Coast Interests Object to Transshipping From Seaway Ports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lawmakers from Gulf and Atlantic ports joined forces today to try to block expansion in American grain exports through the newly-opened St. Lawrence Seaway.

Lined up against them were congressmen from Great Lakes ports eager to boost still further their new-found business of exporting corns, oats and barley.

The sectional fight over the nation's multi-million dollar grain export business developed as the House called up for floor action a bill granting the administration's request for a one-year extension in the farm surplus disposal program.

This program, under which farm surpluses are sold abroad for foreign currency, now accounts for close to half the American grain shipped abroad.

House members from Gulf and Atlantic coast ports were backing a proposed amendment to require that all grain exported under the program be shipped from U.S. ports.

This would not interfere with shipment of grain from Great Lakes ports through the St. Lawrence Seaway as long as the entire voyage was made in the same vessel.

But it would upset plans for great Lakes vessels to carry grain to Montreal for reloading in bigger ocean-going vessels. Such transshipments for all practical purposes now are barred by an Agriculture Department requirement that all grain exported under the program be inspected by its officials at the final loading point.

But the Agriculture Department recently decided to assign grain inspectors to Montreal, starting Sept. 2, thereby clearing the way for such trans-shipments.

This move — which presumably would help boost still higher shipments of grain through the St. Lawrence Seaway — produced protests from Atlantic and Gulf coast ports.

Proposes Trip by Wagon Train Through Europe

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Tex Serpa, who helped guide Oregon's centennial wagon train across the country, proposed that a similar train should make a trek through Europe.

Serpa, an Ashland, Ore., rancher, was wagonmaster for the recent 2,020-mile trek from Independence, Mo., to Independence, Ore.

"The trip would win America an awful lot of friends abroad and would show a side of America that most Europeans never dreamed exists," he said.

Reject Plan to Clear Arab Refugee Camps

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A U.N. plan to clear the million Palestine Arab refugees out of their camps and put them to work has been rejected unanimously by a conference of Arab experts.

The conference, representing all Arab League states except Tunisia, repeated the Arab demand that the refugees be repatriated to the homes in Israel from which they fled during the 1948 Arab-Israeli war. They remain one of the prime sources of tension in the Middle East.

Replace Heart of New Haven

Slum Surgeons Fight City's Decay

By MIKE POSNER

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Slum surgeons are removing the decayed heart of this city and replacing it with a new one equipped to fight its most serious affliction — suburbanitis.

This Ivy League home of Yale University was growing moss before it embarked on a 130-million-dollar redevelopment program that has won national acclaim.

Thousands lived in dilapidated frame homes, with dirty streets for playgrounds, in slums where sanitation was just a word.

Businesses were moving to the suburbs in large numbers. Traffic crawled on ancient, choked streets through the downtown business section.

New Haven received its name in 1640 but it was far from new in 1953. That was the year Richard Charles Lee, a dynamic young Democrat, was elected mayor and got the city ready for its huge shot in the arm.

Lee had a reason — besides political — for wanting to rid the city of its slums. It was a personal one. He was born in the slum area.

The redevelopment boom started with the Oak Street section where Lee had photographs taken of its 10,000 rats that parents feared would soon outnumber the children who lived in squalor.

The 13-block area was cleared. On the 42 acres has been built an 11-million-dollar headquarters building for the Southern New England Telephone Company. Medium price apartment buildings valued at some 34 million dollars are being constructed and two commercial developments are going up that will give the section a new look.

Where there once was bumper-to-bumper traffic, there will be a smooth flow on a new highway artery that will handle local traffic for the business district and through traffic for the Connecticut Turnpike nearby.

But the Oak Street project is just one small step in the overall New Haven plan worked out by Lee, the city's Redevelopment Agency and The Citizens Action Committee.

Next in sight is the huge Church Street project, involving the gargantuan task of leveling some 325 buildings over 96 acres of land in the center of the city.

The project includes ultra-modern business buildings, an 18-story hotel, New Haven's first in nearly 50 years, an office building and a retail shopping center, a bank and restaurants. There will be plenty of parking space.

Other plans in store for the city include renewing the Wooster Square area, 235 acres of businesses and houses, and developing the New Haven wharf area and harbor.

Lee, who has twice been re-elected to office believes New Haven will be clear of slums in 10 years—and become the first large city to accomplish the feat.

The Procter and Gamble soap company was established in Cincinnati in 1837 by William Procter and James Gamble.

Suspend Term of Father Guilty of Abandoning 8

ATLANTA (AP) — The father of eight giveaway children drew a probated 18-month sentence Wednesday for abandonment. The future of the youngsters, all under the age of 11, remained uncertain.

Carl Daniel Quisenberry, 31 and unemployed, pleaded guilty to leaving his family in a dependent condition and was sentenced by Judge Charles A. Wofford.

The judge in giving Quisenberry a 12-month sentence on the public works and six months in jail, declared "there is no crime more intolerable or despicable than abandonment of helpless children." He probated the sentence and ordered the former truck driver to get a job.

Prior to sentencing, Quisenberry and his 28-year-old wife, Opal, told of their financial troubles which led to his seeking a job in Toledo, Ohio, and her giving away the children to relatives and friends after money and food ran out.

The couple, apart since July 24, held a tearful reunion outside the courtroom. As they walked arm in arm down the corridor, Mrs. Quisenberry fell to the floor in a faint. She was revived after about five minutes.

Still uncertain is the future of the children—two months to 10 years old. Five of them are with relatives, three with friends.

The Quisenberrys say they want them back and will fight for them if necessary. Mrs. Quisenberry's mother, Mrs. Oveta Turman, a widow, has filed a petition with juvenile court for custody of the children.

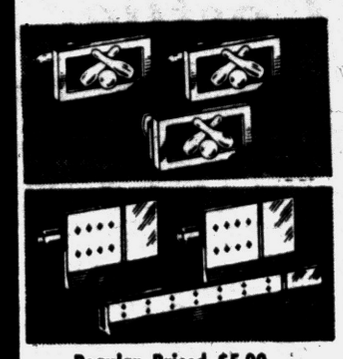

"I'd rather go to my grave than see them separated," Mrs. Turman said.

Quisenberry left his family to seek employment in Ohio. He returned on learning of his wife's troubles.

Mrs. Quisenberry had been charged with child neglect but the charge was dropped by the prosecutor for lack of evidence.

Tighter Money on Horizon

Predict Costlier Loans in the U.S.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Still costlier loans and still tighter money are predicted today.

Interest rates already are starting another climb. There are more complaints from home builders of trouble in finding someone to lend them money against a mortgage.

Part of this is due to the policy of the nation's money managers. They've wanted credit to be tight to stave off a speculative boom that culd spur fresh inflation—an old-fashioned word which President Eisenhower's Cabinet committee on price stability for economic growth now refers to as "rises in the general price level."

But bankers here insist that most of the reason for tighter money isn't Washington policy itself. It's the law of supply and demand. People are slowing down on their rate of savings. At the same time they—either as individuals or as managers of business or as officials of federal, state or local governments—have been stepping up their demand for loans.

When the demand for money grows faster than the supply—fed by savings normally, or by the printing presses abnormally—interest rates go up.

It's this squeeze in which the secretary of the Treasury finds himself. He has to borrow money because the government is spending more just now than it is taking in from the taxpayers; billions of dollars worth of outstanding securities are coming due and can be repaid only by borrowing more money (known as refunding the debt); and holders of savings bonds are redeeming them in greater volume than others are buying new ones.

The secretary is having trouble selling bonds because investors can get a higher return from several other kinds of investments. That's why the Treasury wanted Congress to let it pay higher yields on savings bonds.

The Treasury can compete with other borrowers in the short-term money market because there is no legal limit on the interest it pays—and that charge is now the highest in years.

But the law forbids the treasury to pay more than 4¼ per cent interest on any bond running for five years or longer. The House Ways and Means Committee has just pigeonholed President Eisenhower's request to let the Treasury pay more. And the secretary says he can't find any one who'll lend him money at the present rate.

Bankers here say that with the Treasury now confined to doing all it's borrowing at short term, the market will get all the tighter and tend to force interest rates higher.

Some cite the recent increased flow of investment money to Canada where rates have risen higher than in the United States. They say Europeans have been shunning U.S. securities to buy Canadian. At the same time, Canadians have been borrowing here because of the high rates at home.

Since all this means that U.S. dollars must be exchanged for Canadian currency, the demand has sent the Canadian dollar soaring. You must now pony up another American nickle or more to buy a Canadian dollar.

And borrowing at home continues to get a bit costlier, too.

Hot Corn on the Cob Served at Montana Rodeo

Pontiac Press Home Editor

JACKSON, Wyo.—Today's story is being written in the office of the Jackson Hole Guide, a weekly newspaper of 2,000 circulation in this little Wyoming town. We have had a beautiful drive south from the northern part of Grand Teton National Park. The Grand Teton mountains are even more beautiful than the ones in Glacier National Park.

Last Sunday we attended a rodeo up in Montana. The women of the town had charge of the food concession. Our two boys were as interested in food as they were in the bronco busting and calf roping.

In addition to the usual hot dogs and hamburgers, the women served buttered corn on the cob. Each steaming hot ear was wrapped in waxed paper before it was given to the buyer. It was a popular item.

In a grocery store at West Glacier I found a product new to me, one I wish were available in Pontiac. It is powdered buttermilk. I like to use buttermilk in cooking as many of you readers have heard before. Having it always available in powdered form will be nice. In liquid form it doesn't have too long a shelf life, even when refrigerated.

One of the camp main dishes we have had that appealed most to the boys and was quickest to get is one any of you could use on a night when you are in a hurry. I bought a pound of ground meat and a large can of tomatoes.

After browning the meat, seasoning it and adding dried onion flakes, I put in the tomatoes and let the mixture simmer a few minutes. Then I added 1⅓ cups of instant rice. In five minutes the dish was ready to serve.

The gasoline stove is no longer a hazard to be faced every time I cook. Just once this week we've used a charcoal fire. That was back in Glacier Park last Sunday when we had biscuits for breakfast.

I tried the ready mix that came complete with two foil pans for baking on an open grill. The biscuits puffed up nicely and browned evenly. They were a welcome change from toast.

This morning we had hot tomato juice as soon as we could get water heated. I don't know how cold it was when we got up in our rather primitive camp site on the shore of Jackson Lake. But I do know that hot juice tasted wonderful. I used the concentrated juice that needs three cans of water added to it.

Most of the supplies I had when we left Pontiac are gone and we are down to day-by-day buying. We are ready to head our car east now and to travel homeward through Wyoming and the Black Hills. Next Thursday's byline will be written in the office.

"It's a drink I made up as I went along. I hope you're able to tell me what you think of it."

Poll Indicates Favor of Higher Use Tax

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit Times poll on the state tax issue showed Wednesday that nearly 70 per cent of persons taking part in the survey favor a higher use (sales) tax over a personal income tax.

Results of the poll, in which thousands of Detroit area and outstate residents participated, were completed today. It showed:

69.9 per cent for in increase in the use (sales) tax.

27.6 per cent for a personal income tax.

The remaining 2.5 per cent either cast improperly marked ballots, the Times said, or proposed another form of taxation.

Determined to Keep His Marriage Sacred

Steven Rockefeller in Full Control

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SOGNE, Norway—As I write I have just parted company with a truly remarkable man by the name of Steven Rockefeller.

Last seen he was careening around a curve in a dirt road on a motor scooter at close to 30 miles an hour, intermittently waving and holding onto an aging gentleman riding caboose. The aging gentleman would be 63-year-old Kristian Rasmussen, papa of the remarkable Rockefeller's future bride.

Just before he took off on his motor scooter with his paternal parcel, I talked with Steven in the churchyard of "the new church" of Sogne, where he was standing brooding. It is in this "new" church, built about the time Abraham Lincoln was president that he is to be married Saturday.

But he was not brooding about the marriage. He was worried about the graves in the churchyard, could not bear the thought that an errant guest might tread on a memory.

"These old Norwegian churches, they're wonderful," he said softly. "They're so little and delightful."

Steven held his hand up as though he were holding a ball. "You'd like to be able to pick them up like this and take them home with you."

Before the churchyard incident I saw the sensitive Mr. R. several times with Anne Marie Rasmussen, holding hands. No, it was not just holding hands, it was locking them. But this was purely one expression of his tenderness.

The best recommendation for love in the whole world, it seems at the moment, is the way in which this man looks at this girl. The look is not possessive, nor sympathetic, nor passionate, nor fatherly, but it has a little of all these emotions in it.

And at the same time it is entirely in good taste—if that can be said about a loving look—and fit for public consumption. It is a look that Anne Marie, however deeply she feels about Steven, cannot return with perfection.

Perhaps it is because she is two years younger and many years less knowledgeable, but I think it's more likely that no human can be stronger and wiser and more devoted than a really gentle man.

But I have rambled. The reason I consider Steven Rockefeller "remarkable" is not purely because he is sensitive to the dead, the aging and romance; he is remarkable for the complete control he has maintained over the crowds of reporters, cameramen and plain curious people who have swarmed through Sogne since the day nearly three weeks ago when the great "cinderella" story was announced.

Because of this tall, thin, bespectacled Princeton graduate, aged 23, there has been no disorder in the ranks at each so-called "press conference."

He has taken control with husky voice and confident manner. He has announced exectly what he wanted to be revealed about his feeling for Anne Marie and his plans for their marriage. And no more.

Because of his forthrightness, even the most hardened reporters have refrained from asking questions that might be considered rude, from pushing, complaining at the dearth of news.

The arm Steven Rockefeller keeps around the shoulder of his fiancee is not only physical support, it is a wall between her and the public, and nobody attempts to break down that wall. Somehow he has succeeded without words in making everyone a champion and of the girl he loves.

Remembering other fiascos of famous weddings, it is an amazing feat, and Steven single-handedly has accomplished it, not with the Rockefeller money or the Rockefeller name but with a mature and honest determination to keep his marriage sacred.

Some hard-hitting newsman or woman afraid of losing his job may yet cast a shadow on the wedding of Rockefeller and Rasmussen but I doubt it. The rest of us might tar and feather him.

HEAVE HO! — Steven Rockefeller mans the oars as he and his bride-to-be, Anne Marie Rasmussen, take time out from the hectic preparations for their wedding Saturday and go rowing on a small fjord near Sogne, Norway, where they will be married. The young Rockefeller seems to have the situation well in hand. He has also been praised for the way he has handled press relations concerning the marriage.

Specialist Earns Keep by Spending Millions

MELBORNE, Australia (AP)—Clem Beauchamp is a round, ruddy, good humored man in his 50's.

His job is to spend other peoples' money by the millions.

One hundred million, or maybe two hundred million — he doesn't know the total for sure — has gone through his hands in 30 years

Clem's base is Hollywood and his title is production manger of motion pictures. That makes him the business head of a producing unit.

At least 75 times during his career he has packed his bags, fresh account books and a trunk full of blank checks and taken off with movie companies for far places.

HANDLES THE DETAILS

He rents studios, or barns that will do, buys trucks and cars, sees that sets are built, hires lesser actors and extras and laborers, arranges for hotels, makes deals with caterers for the noon feeding — and tries to spend his employers' money with prudence.

But eequally important, he has to keep actors happy. If actors get temperamental — over poor food, or a lack of liquor or not-so-good-as-home beds — they don't work well and that causes delays. And costs go up.

If Clem goes over his budget by too many hundreds of thousands, he could catch heck from the bankers who put up the money.

NO MONKEY BUSINESS

Clem today wouldn't be one of Hollywood's half dozen most-sought production men if he tolerated expensive monkey business, especially by expensive actors.

How does he overcome temperament?

"If they get difficult—and, boy, some of them can — you take them aside and have a nice littlee talk. You lay it on the line. They usually always respond.

Now you take Gary Cooper; there's a man who never gave any one a bit of trouble. I vote him the world's most cooperative actor.

"Now the most cooperative actress I've ever seen is Olivia de Havilland. She's great."

Clem was in Australia happily spending 2½ million dollars for the Stanley Kramer company filming "On the Beach," Nevil Shute's story of the end of the world.

Why come all this way (and if you think Melbourne isn't an outrageous distance from Hollywood, fly it sometime) to make a movie?

Movie artisans, with their know-how, are supposed to be able to duplicate any locale on the back lot.

"Not any more," says Clem. "Because moviegoers demand, and get, more authenticity these days. We came here to film the actual locales of the story and to save money."

Save money?

"That's right. 'On the Beach' cost 2½ million here, but it would have cost 3¼ million in Hollywood. I'll tell you why in a paragraph:

"The scale for extras in Hollywood is $23 a day. Here $7. We use 2,500. A Hollywood studio carpenter gets $180 a week. Here $45. The minimum for an experience lighting cameraman at home is $550, but the scale here is $175."

Dodge Heiress Sued for Customs Penalties

DETROIT (AP)—The government took action Wednesday to recover $16,600 in customs penalties against Gregg Sherwood Dodge, the former showgirl now married to Horace E. Dodge Jr. of the automotive family.

Frank Abelman of the U.S. Customs Department said the penalty is on jewelry Mrs. Dodge failed to declare when she returned from a trip to London two years ago. Government agents seized the jewels last Dec. 29. They are valued at another $16,600.

Ableman asked the U.S. Attorney's office here to file a libel order in federal court.

A libel is an action to forfeit or recover inanimate objects. If the court grants it the government would become owner of the jewels by forfeit.

Senate Delays Action on Auto Dealers Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee decided Wednesday to take no action at this session of Congress on legislation designed to preserve territorial security for automobile dealers.

Separate bills had been introduced by Sens. Andrew F. Schoeppel (R-Kan) and A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okla).

Born June 33, 1999, in Gomorrah

Arrested for NOT Swindling?

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A tired and hungry salesman named Hans-Jochem Kehrl checks into a different hotel in Germany night after night.

And every time, there it is, the same paper form that infuriates thousands of visitors to Germany.

Sometimes it is yellow, sometimes pink, sometimes white, but the police registration form always asks the same questions:

What's your name, where do you live, date and place of birth, what's your occupation, your passport number, where issued, when issued, who issued it, name of your wife, her maiden name, number of children with you (if any).

"Useless, bureaucratic nonsense," thought Kehrl 11 years ago. So he began a campaign to see if it mattered what you put down on the form.

"Regularly, I listed myself as rat-catcher, bear-trainer — whatever my fancy told me. I listed birth dates that never have appeared in any calendar," he related today.

"I was born mostly in the Himalayas, or in Sodom or in Gomorrah.

"My identification number I listed as 1234567 or my automobile license.

"Sometimes I would put the right information and add the comment: An idiotic procedure. Then, in case anyone saw my comment and thought I was discourteous I wrote alongside that I was sorry.

"But nobody ever noticed. Only the hotel porters sometimes laughed. Eleven years I did it.

"My patience was exhausted, I consulted the criminal code and I began to list myself as burglar, forger and embezzler. Finally, I listed myself as a swindler and gave my correct name and address."

That was in Frankfurt a few days ago. An excited hotel porter called police. Police called Kehrl's hometown of Kassel. A highly respectable publishing house salesman, was the reply.

The police ran Kehrl in.

The police record said:

"Hans Jochem Kehrl, a hotel guest from Kassel, was charged with violation of Article 25, Paragraph 2 of the ordinance concerning registration. He listed himself as a swindler, although he did not carry on this trade."

He must expect to have to pay a fine, he was advised.

Yelland Probe Unpleasant

'Loved . . . Respected Man' Shorted State of $15,800

LANSING (AP)—"He was a greatly loved and respected man in his community . . . all speak of the good he did . . ."

The comment of eulogy was made by the state official assigned to check shortages in the accounts, as a public administrator, of the late Harlan Yelland of Escanaba, long time state and public official.

T. Carl Holbrook, head of the Revenue and Collection Division of the attorney general's office, admitted the assignment was an unpleasant one.

"Yelland was borrowing from Peter to pay Paul," Holbrook said. "I'm sure he intended to balance the accounts. But death caught him before he could settle them."

Holbrook said a check showed a shortage of $15,876.41 in 17 state accounts handled by Yelland in his capacity as Delta County public administrator.

Holbrook said the money apparently was used for routine living expenses and for Yelland's last illness. Yelland's only known extravagance, he said, was a new car almost every year.

He estimated the state will recover about 50 per cent of the amount, some from bonding companies and the remainder when Yelland's estate is settled.

He estimated the estate of about $15,000 but said others also probably would file claims against it.

A shortage of about $20,000 was discovered in other private accounts handled by Yelland in his capacity as public administrator, he said.

Yelland, an attorney, was former Escanaba mayor and a member of the city council there. He was chairman of the State Board of Alcoholism at the time of his death and made a successful fight earlier this year to prevent the agency from being swallowed up as a branch of the State Health Department.

He died this spring of cancer. The shortages were discovered after his death.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

If they gave degrees for swimming, John Moreau, aquatic director at the YMCA would probably be graduated Magna Cum Laude in Aquatics.

Moreau just about grew up in the Pontiac YMCA and today he handles all the pool activities which include 11 different phases and programs of swimming and diving.

"I'd like to see a municipal pool built in Pontiac," said Moreau, "we really need it."

Right now Moreau points out that limits have to be put on the various swim classes and programs.

"We are not afraid of competition at the Y, because even the school pools are crowded," he said.

"This is big water area, we should make swimmers out of everyone and then many of these water tragedies would not happen," he added.

Moreau doesn't buy the view that the lakes around Pontiac erase the need for a city pool. "When we accept this we are asking for trouble, because the lake is not the place to learn to swim," he said.

"People can learn to swim and learn all the safety methods in a pool. They can swim year around in a pool. They can swim at night and in bad weather in a pool. They can swim in cleaner water. They can enjoy family swimming, and a pool is much safer."

These are Moreau's arguments. And you must admit, they are a pretty good list.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Since the recent series of sports activities which we enjoyed doing, we have received numerous letters, many approving or commenting on the articles and many more suggesting other sports or activities for continuing the series.

Some of the suggestions from writers included —falconry, auto racing, fencing, lion taming, parachute jumping, weightlifting, wrestling, skeet and shooting among may others.

One writer would like us to to take a knockout punch from Ingemar or Archie Moore or some top boxer and let them know how it feels.

One of my friends, I'm sure, suggested the parachute jump, without the parachute.

A football fan suggested we carry the ball right through the middle of the Detroit Lions' line and let him know just how hard the pros really hit.

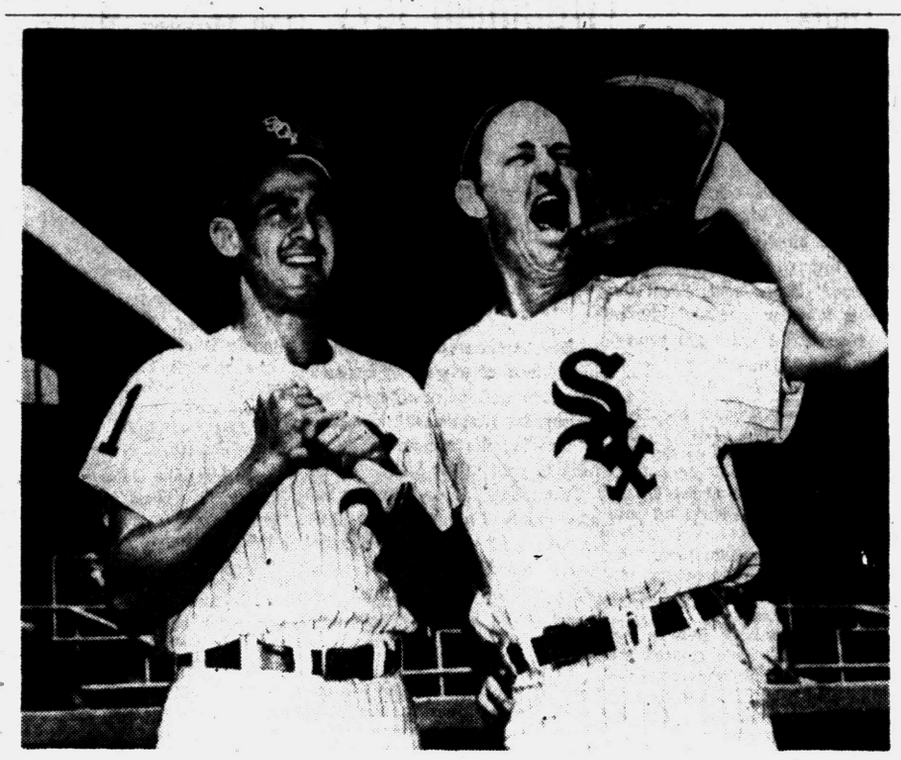

One writer commented that the best of the series would be to explain "how to cross Telegraph and W. Huron on foot," and what it feels like if the trip is successful.

Thank you for all the comments and suggestions, but one was a memo from our insurance men. (He was suggesting new premium rates.)

Besides, word has come to this desk that a personal objection was made at the Pontiac City Commission meeting this week about The Press sports editor devoting too much time to write about such things as Judo, water skiing, skin diving and polo. We certainly appreciate the concern.

It Was a Long Night for Frank Lary and Tigers

Tiger Notes:

Dykes Blasts Turley for Fiddling Around

DETROIT (AP)—Manager Jimmie Dykes gave New York Yankee pitcher Bob Turley a verbal going-over last night after the Yankees defeated Dykes' Tigers 10-5.

Turley was dressed and gone by the time Dykes was giving it to him, however.

The Tiger manager was highly critical of Turley's slow motion tactics in the early innings. Turley fiddled around on the mound, stared in at his catcher, started some more, finally got in pitching position, and after what must have been more than a minute between each pitch, delivered the ball. Generally it was out of the strike zone.

"That's terrible," Dykes cried. "It's bad for baseball and bad for the spectator. He went through all the motions. He'd better get straightened around. There's no excuse for that."

And whatever happened to that rule the umpires were supposed to enforce? The one that specifies that a pitcher must deliver a pitch within 20 seconds after the ball is put in play? Actually, the rule applies only when there are no runners on the bases—and Turley usually had some on there.

Eddie Yost reached base five times last night, three times by walks and twice with singles. Three times he was the leadoff batter. But Yost was the goat for throwing away a double play grounder that opened the way for four Yankee runs.

Want a good trade rumor for the off-season? Pitcher Jim Bunning of the Tigers for Norm Siebern of the Yankees. The New York club is unhappy with Siebern's fielding and the right field fence at Briggs Stadium would be an inviting target for the young outfielder.

Harvey Kuenn has an 18-game hitting streak going, and has passed his 1958 runs-batted-in total. He got his 55th in the first inning.

The Tigers, now well over the million mark in home attendance, are thankful for the Yankees. The nine playing dates at Briggs Stadium between the two clubs have drawn 327,907 fans.

After two failures last night, Detroit pinch hitters now are batting .175 on 24 hits in 137 at-bats.

Little Bobby Richardson is crowding out such stars as Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra in hitting against Detroit. He's the club's leading hitter against the Tigers, having collected 17 hits in 49 trips for a .347 average. He had three hits last night.

Berra has hit 64 of his 301 Major League home runs against the Tigers, making Detroit pitchers his favorite target. Of the 64 home runs, 32 have been hit at Briggs Stadium.

Yankees Break Hex in Taking 10-5 Decision

Three World Series Hurlers Used by N.Y. as Reliefers

DETROIT (AP)—Three world series starting pitchers used as reliefers, a pinch hitter who was out of the game before he saw a pitch and five walks issued in an inning that took 40 minutes to complete—it was that kind of baseball game.

The Detroit Tigers lost it last night, blowing a 5-0 lead and losing 10-5 to the New York Yankees before 33,517 fans.

Only those with extraodinary patience, or stubborn curiosity, stayed to see the finish. It took three hours and 27 minutes to complete the fracas and the first inning was a tipoff that it would be a long evening.

Frank Lary lost to the Yankees for only the sixth time in 27 lifetime decisions. Though the veteran righthander was hit hard, he might have avoided part of his trouble had it not been for a damaging error by third baseman Eddie Yost.

Lary, with five straight wins over the Yanks, got off to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning. The New York starter, Eli Grba, provided the Tigers with one single and three walks before manager Casey Stengel made his first change. Bob Turley, Stengel's biggest pitching disappointment this season, promptly issued two more walks, forcing in a pair of runners.

Turley lolled through the second inning, taking what seemed like centuries between pitches while the fans hooted and jeered for him to speed things up.

A New York visitor in the press box explained that this was Yankee strategy: to let Lary get old sitting on the bench.

That, or something, seemed to work. But not until Gail Harris crashed his ninth home run with a mate aboard for a 5-0 lead in the third inning.

Lary, seeking his 16th victory, had pitched hitless ball to that time. But Tony Kubek led off the fourth with a line single to right. Mickey Mantle hit a single to the same spot.

Yogi Berra bounced one to Yost, who had a choice of tagging Kubek coming right at him, or throwing to second to start a double play that way. Yost did neither. He threw the ball wildly into right field. Kubek scored. The other runners wound up on second and third.

Hector Lopez brought one of them home with a fly to right. Marv Throneberry hit a tremendous home run into the third deck in right field and suddenly it was 5-4.

Having seen enough of one of his 1958 World Series pitchers, Turley, the Yankee manager summoned another, Don Larsen. He retired one batter in the fourth, then walked two batters in succession.

Now Stengel called on a third series starter, Whitey Ford, to appear in relief for the second night in a row and only the fourth time this season. Ford got Harris on a double play, and hurled two-hit, shutout ball the rest of the way.

The Yankees, solidfying their hold on third place, wrapped up the game in the fifth. Cletis Boyer singled. Berra and Elston Howard doubled. Lary departed.

Reliefer Tom Morgan walked a batter and gave up singles to Thronberry and Bobby Richardson. Now it was 8-5, New York. Lopez banged a two-run home run in the ninth off Ray Narleski for some insurance.

Dave, Moore Eyes Bout With Brown

Featherweight Ruler Defeats Bassey in 11th

Champion Is Awarded Knockout When Rival Fails to Answer Bell

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A title fight with lightweight champion Joe Brown may be in the works for world featherweight champion Davey Moore, who last night stopped Hogan (Kid) Bassey in 11 rounds.

Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, said the Brown fight was fine with him "providing the money is right."

Moore, who convincingly bombed out Bassey, said he isn't trying to invade other divisions. But he added:

Frankly, I'd like to meet (world bantamweight champion Jose) Becerra for my featherweight championship. But, I'm in this business for the money and I'll fight anybody if the price is right."

Matchmaker Goerge Parnassus, who masterminded the Moore-Bassey title fight last night, said a Moore - Brown battle for the lightweight title would be a natural.

"It took Moore seven times on the scale to make the 126-pound limit for Bassey," Parnassus said. "He could easily come in at '32 or '33." Moore finally weighed in at 126, a pound more than Bassey.

Moore, of Springield, Ohio, stopped Bassey so convincingly at the Olympic Auditorium that the little battler from Nigeri was asked to retire by his manager, George Biddles.

Bassey, who appeared at a press party with dark glasses hiding a swollen right eye and a bandage over a badly bruised right hand, said:

"This is not a decision I can make in a moment. I must think it over."

Sharp-shooting Moore, who took the title from Bassey last March, counter-punched Bassey into a tottering derelict at the end of the 10th round.

Bassey sprawled on his stool and refused to come out for the 11th round.

When Referee Frankie Van asked if he was all right, Bassey peered up with a partly-closed right eye and said:

"No, I don't wish to go out."

A second shouted "go, go" and tried to put the mouthpiece into Bassey's mouth. But the battered Nigerian merely shook his head.

By this time the bell had sounded for round 11. Moore had rushed across the ring and was jigging happily in front of the anxious knot before Bassey's corner when Referee Van reeled and raised Moore's arm in victory.

Moore, who had stopped Bassey last March on eye cuts said later that he was confident of beating him in the rematch.

"If he had come out for round 11, I would have knocked him out," Moore said, matter - of-factly.

A crowd of 7,450 paid a gross gate of $47,100.40 to watch the scrap, which was televised nationally over the ABC network.

TV receipts totaled $40,000. Each fighter got 30 per cent of all revenue.

Lew Wins 17th; L.A. Blows Lead

Burdette Beats Giants, 5-2

By The Associated Press

Lew Burdette's done his share. Now can Warren Spahn return Milwaukee's two aces to normalcy?

It was Burdette and Spahn, winning back-to-back, who put the Braves in command through the first half of the season. But they haven't been able to win in tandem in more than two weeks and Milwaukee has skidded from first to third in the National League race.

Burdette, the lean right-hander, got half of the comeback job done last night, winning his 17th, tops in the majors, with a six-hitter that beat San Francisco 5-2 and pushed the Braves within three games of the first-place Giants.

Now Spahn, working with a day's rest after a losing three-inning relief job as Milwaukee dropped two of three to Los Angeles, is to come back as a starter in the finish of the two-game series tonight. The lefty ace needs a victory to match Burdette's 17-12 record. More important, the Braves need it to escape slipping four games behind again.

Burdette's fourth victory of the season over the Giants—his 15th in 17 decisions against them in the last five years — also closed the Braves within a game of second-place Los Angeles. The Dodgers were held two games back of the Giants when Cincinnati exploded a seven-run eighth inning for a 9-4 victory.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-2 after the Cards had won the completion of a July 12 suspended game 8-6 in 10 innings. Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in the opener of a twi-night pair, then played a 7-7 tie stopped after 12 innings by curfew.

A fifth-inning home run by Del Crandall, his 15th, cracked a 1-1 tie for the Braves and Burdette's single then brought home the clincher in a two-run seventh. Jack Sanford (12-10), who had won five in a row since losing to Burdette on July 12, was the loser. Reliever Gordon Jones gave up the Braves' other run, Joe Adcock's 18th homer.

Burdette walked two, struck out four and was tagged for both runs on homers by Orlando Cepeda, his 24th and 25th. Burdette silenced the Giants' Willies — Mays, Kirkland and McCovey — on two singles, both by rookie McCovey, while handing the Giants their fifth defeat in seven games.

The Dodgers blew a 3-0 lead built with Chuck Essegian's first homer, a two-run shot in the second. The Reds scored two in the fourth, then beat Sandy Koufax (6-4) when a two-run pinch single by Jerry Lynch put them ahead in the eighth.

Orlando Pena held the Dodgers hitless for 5 2-3 innings of relief, then was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. That left the victory for Jim Brosnan (7-5), who needed bases-loaded relief from Brooks Lawrence in the ninth.

Four singles gave the Cards two runs in the 10th inning of the suspended game against Bob Porterfield (0-2). Lindy McDaniel (13-11) won it, after an unearned run had tied it in the ninth. The Pirates won the regularly scheduled game on Smoky Burgess' RBI single in a two-run sixth after the Cards had taken a 2-0 lead against Vern Law (14-7). Rookie Bob Gibson (1-2) lost it.

Earl Averill's home run cracked a 6-6 tie for the Cubs in the 12th, but the Phils deadlocked it again on Harry Hanebrink's triple before the curfew sounded. The Phils won the opener on a three-hitter by Gene Conley (12-7) and a three-run sixth, triggered by a bases-loaded passed ball, against Glen Hobbie (12-10).

Little Football League to Meet in Walled Lake

The Walled Lake Beavers are the entry in the All-American Little Football League.

All boys interested in the team and parents are requested to attend the meeting.

Movies of last season's games, this year's schedule, information on eligibility and rules will be discussed.

Further information can be obtained by calling George Woodward at EM 3-2536.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: In trouble—too often!

DIAGNOSIS: Playing too dangerously.

TREATMENT: It's an essential element of good golf that you keep your chance-taking to a minimum. That is, you should risk landing in bad trouble—traps, trees, deep rough, out-of-bounds, and the like—only when the situation forces you to do so.

To see what I mean, think of a short par-four hole, 320 yards or thereabouts. Say the left side of the fairway is lined with trees, such as you see in today's illustration, and the right side of the fairway is bordered by a fairly deep rough.

Obviously, the thing to do is stay in the fairway, if you possibly can. But since trees generally present more of a problem than ordinary rough, you should see to it that, if you do miss the fairway, you will miss on the RIGHT.

This is a simple example. It is also an over-simplification of the problem. But the idea is that you should always try to MAKE YOUR ERRORS WHERE THEY WILL HURT YOU THE LEAST.

Hank Sauer Calls It Quits

Playing Days Are Over for One More Slugger

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The playing days of another of baseball's great sluggers are over. Big Hank Sauer has hung up his glove without fanfare.

The 40-year-old outfielder retired yesterday to make room for youth on the San Francisco Giants' roster. However, he immediately was given a coaching job to help the young kids on the team.

"It's a tough thing to admit you're through, but the time has to come," Sauer said. "And the time is now for me. My reflexes are gone and I can't get around a pitch like I should."

Sauer looked around the clubhouse after the Giants had dropped a 5-2 decision to the Milwaukee Braves and pointed to such stars as Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland and Jackie Brandt.

"This is the game for them," he said. "There isn't room for fellows like me. That's the reason I have to step out.

"Baseball has been good to me. And the Giants have treated me wonderfully. I don't know what the future holds, but I want to stay with this organization. I'll do whatever the club wants."

Sauer, whose 6-4, 200-pound build belies his age, was relegated to a pinch-hitting role by the Giants this season. Even then he didn't see much action because of the team's fine collection of young sluggers.

Hank managed only one hit in 15 times at bat. But that was a home run, No. 288 of his National League career.

Sauer can look back on many bright moments during his long career. He was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1952 when he hit 37 homers and drove in 121 runs for the Chicago Cubs, and was voted to the All-Star team twice.

Sparmate Slams Gene Fullmer

Utah Mauler Battles Basilio in Title Bout Aug. 28

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sparring partner belted Gene Fullmer Wednesday.

The West Jordan, Utah, mauler, took a stinging left hook to the chin from Billy Murray, a Stockton, Calif., middleweight resembling Carmen Basilio in height and weight.

Fullmer and Basilio, from Chittenango, N. Y. fight Aug. 28 for the NBA 160-pound title.

Murray landed his left in the second of three rounds. In the third, Gene lit into Murray and asked to go another one but Manager Marv Jenson told him to wait until Friday, the next sparring day.

Fullmer earlier went two rounds with Virgin Williams of Toledo, Ohio. "I never expected to find a 160-pounder so strong," Williams said.

Basilio went three rounds with Leo Owens, a sparring partner who came out with him from New York. He concentrated on punching to the body, close work with short hooks.

Co-manager John DeJohn said Basilio would step up the daily workouts as soon as he can find more sparring partners.

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Jockey Johnny Longden was suspended for five days Wednesday for careless riding.

The Del Mar Turf Club stewards said he handled Swing Time too negligently after leaving the gate in the second race Tuesday.

Trautman Says Lower Leagues Being Ignored

Circuit Chiefs Planning to Sue Proposed 3rd Major for $8 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, today charged the newly organized Continental League with completely ignoring the minors in its efforts to gain major league status.

Trautman's accusation came after chiefs of top individual minor circuits said they would demand heavy damages totaling around eight million dollars from the proposed circuit for invasion of their territories.

"I keep reading about a number of our cities being considered for inclusion in this new league," said Trautman, "but never once have we been approached by these people. I think it would be a sort of courteous thing if we were considered. There have been numerous conferences but we've never been invited to attend any of them."

Trautman made it plain he was not opposed to minor league cities advancing to major league status.

"We've never resisted any of our cities that desired to become major," he said. "But we've got a structure that must be preserved. I'm sure a man like Branch Rickey, president of the Continental League is aware of this as well as I am, and he knows that any league affected must be consulted.

"After all, these are human beings and peoples' livelihoods they are dealing with. You don't just pick up baseball clubs as you would a bunch of bananas.

"Our leagues cannot be destroyed by a mere wave of the hand without being adequately compensated and getting other cities as replacements. We've got to find cities and towns, realign, get the players and we can't do it by waving a wand.

"We want to help this new league and we can but at the same time we don't want them to destroy us. All we want to do is survive."

Ed Doherty, president of the American Assn., said yesterday, he already has demanded a million dollars indemnity for each of the cities taken by the Continental League.

The AA may lose six of its 10 franchises. Houston, Denver and the twin-cities of Minneapolis-St. Paul are among the five founders of the new league. The Dallas-Fort Worth area also is being eyed by the new organization.

"I am getting tired of all this invasion of our territory year after year," said Doherty. "If they want our cities they will have to pay. I've got to protect the people who have investments in my league. I don't think anybody has the right to demand territory without paying for the privilege of using it. And I know we won't take this laying down."

150 Horses, Riders in Charity Event

Show at Romeo Sunday

One hundred and fifty horses and riders are expected to compete for trophies, prize money and ribbons in the Romeo Rotary Club's Charity Horse Show on Sunday at the Romeo Golf and Athletic Club, according to William P. Dorn, general chairman. The golf club is located on Thirty-Two Mile road, one mile east of Van Dyke (M-53). The Show will start at 1 p.m., with a grand entry, led by the Romeo High School band and the Macomb County Sheriff's Posse.

"The Romeo Rotary Club is staging this show," said Dorn "for the beenfit of the Macomb County Crippled Children Society, the Community Hospital, Boy Scouts, Romeo Youth Center, the Interlochen Music Fund, and other charitable causes financially supported by the Romeo Rotary Club.

"There will be 17 adult and junior classes," Dorn said, "with contests open to English and western horses, including speed and action events."

In addition to trophies and prizes for the various classes, a trophy will be awarded to the champion high point horse and rider for the day.

Dr. Charles H. Conally, owner of Vala Rama Farm, and internationally known horseman, will give an exhibition on gaited horses.

Melvindale Part of New Semipro Football League

DETROIT (AP) — Formation of a new semipro football league was announced today by Dale Hedden of the suburban Melvindale Redskins.

Hedden, commissioner of the new American Football Conference, said besides Melvindale members will include teams from Toledo, Dayton and Newark, Ohio, and Duquesne, Pa.

The Franklin, N.J., Miners will enter the league in 1960, Hedden said.

The new commissioner says he hopes the conference will be a future minor league for the National Football League.

DOUBLE — Rocky Marciano contends that he weighs no more than 220 pounds these days, but the former heavyweight champ looks more like two of them.

Denies June Fight With Johannson

Marciano Leaves Comeback Door Open

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Retired heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano didn't close the door on a possible return to the ring, but he stoutly denied published reports he would fight current titleholder Ingemar Johannson next June.

Argosy Magazine hit the newsstands Wednesday with a story that Marciano, who retired in 1956, would fight Johannson next June.

"This is news to me," Marciano said in a news conference. "I never made any such statement to anybody.

"But listen, I'm not saying I couldn't come back, or wouldn't come back. It looks like these offers are getting better and better and under the right circumstances, you might find me in there."

The "right circumstances," the Rock explained, don't necessarily revolve around money. He indicated a family situation has a lot to do with it.

"My wife Barbara has been very happy with my decision to stick to retirement," he continued. "But you can't tell how the situation might change.

"Like any businessman, I'm not closing my mind to a good offer, and I don't necessarily mean the best money offer," he said. "It's just that right now—and I mean right now — I haven't any plans whatsoever of returning to the ring.

"I've done pretty good financially," he said as he draped his muscular leg across an easy chair in a swanky suite at a downtown hotel. "These past six months have been the best financially since I retired.

"I've got a couple of good things going for me. I'm trying to learn the real estate business—you know, you can do pretty good in real estate in Miami these days and I'm trying to learn all I can."

He said he also has invested in a Miami bowling alley.

"Boy, you can't imagine how much interest there is in bowling these days. Even 6-year-old kids are bowling."

Marciano was in New Orleans to address a national police meeting on juvenile delinquency.

Reporters bombarded the once impregnable but now placid Rock with questions about his toughest opponents, what he thought about boxing today, and how long it would take him to get back in shape if he decided to return.

"I weigh about 218 right now. I guess I went up to 230 without even trying, but a lot of golf took some of it off.

"I'd want about a year to get ready if I decided to come back with maybe one or two tuneup bouts. I'd want to be really ready."

That "retired undefeated champion" tag has a lot to do with any decision to return.

"Yeh, that means a lot. You see, I got a lot of things to think about before I could decide to make any comeback. But with that Johannson—boy, it would be a heck of a fight."

Hot Bass on a Flyrod

When Walter Nabozny 9815 Mandon Lake Rd., hooked into a lively largemouth bass, yesterday, on Carroll Lake, he had a hot time with the 3-pound 9-ounce scrapper before winning. The fish was 19-inches long.

Nabozny was using a 4-ounce flyrod, with a small bass bug, fishing near a dropoff. The "hot" bronzeback took several excursions into the air trying to throw the barbs.

JUST ENOUGH STRETCH — Baltimore Oriole runner Bob Boyd squirms to avoid the tag of White Sox third baseman Bubba Phillips but to no avail. He was put out trying to get to third base on a grounder by Gus Triandos in the first inning. The Orioles defeated the White Sox, 3-1, at Comiskey Park.

Knights, Pirates All Even; Play Today for City Title

The City League Class A baseball championship is on the line today when the Knights of Columbus and the Pirates collide in the deciding game of their best-of-three series at Wisner Field. Starting time is 5:30 p. m.

K. of C. evened the final playoff series at one victory apiece yesterday with a 4-1 conquest of the Pirates on the Wisner diamond.

Also at stake today as the two teams go into battle all square will be a berth in the state baseball tournament at Battle Creek over the Labor Day weekend.

Strong pitching by Jerry Taylor with two innings of relief help from Terry Hoy plus some timely hitting enabled the Knights to rebound from Tuesday's loss and stay in the running for the honors they won so handily during the regular season race.

The Knights collected 10 hits off John York, who hurled the distance for the Buccaneers, with Terry Thomas and John Burkhart each getting a pair. Taylor, who worked on the mound until the 6th inning, and Hoy limited the Bucs to three blows.

K. of C. and the Pirates traded runs in the 3rd inning, then the Knights grabbed the lead with a single run in the 4th stanza. They tallied two insurance runs in the 6th after two men were out. Hal Trott, Ernie Zubalik and Taylor each got credit for one rbi.

The Pirates' only run and the Knights' first tally were both unearned. The Bucs had scoring opporutnities from the 4th through the 7th innings, but failed to take advantage of any of them.

York struck out nine batters and walked three in defeat. Taylor fanned five and walked one while Hoy whiffed one and walked one in his relief stint. Taylor was the winner.

Second Pee-Wee Football Clinic Friday at 3:30

The 2nd of a series of Pee-Wee football clinics sponsored by the West Side Boys Club will be held Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at Whitfield School on Orchard Lake Avenue.

Similar sessions are slated for each Tuesday and Friday until Sept. 1 in preparation for another grid season.

The clinics and berths on league teams are open to any boy in Oakland County who will be at least nine years of age but not 13 before Nov. 30, weighs from 55 to 110 pounds and is in the 4th, 5th or 6th grades.

Applications for taking part in league play may be obtained at any clinic.

Trapshooters Ready for Grand American

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — The 60th Grand American Trapshoot—the sports event that gives the country its biggest bang — opens Friday for a nine-day stand.

The first three days are just tuneups for some 40 national championships to be decided next week when 2,500 or more marksmen will fire a million and a half 12-gauge shotgun shells.

Biggest scrap on the agenda is billed for Friday, Aug. 28, when hundreds of U.S. sharpshooters will attempt to bring back to this country the Grand American Handicap title.

4 More Local Softballers Eliminated From District

Local softball teams are falling like flies in their search for district softball honors. Four more Pontiac and Waterford clubs fell by the wayside last night in tournament action at three sites.

Stadium Inn was eliminated from the Class A competition last night at Beaudette Park as Mt. Clemens won a 4-3 decision in a 12-inning marathon to take the district crown.

Stadium wasted a 3-1 lead in losing to Mt. Clemens. The losers tallied all of their runs in the 1st inning when starting pitcher Fred Konchis belted a homer with two teammates aboard.

Casa Mia of the City League and Nonne's Restaurant of the Waterford loop bowed out of the Class B field at Southfield and Buttercup Drive-In was ousted in Class D at Howell.

One local softball squad, Lakeland Pharmacy of the Waterford circuit, became the first one to enter the victory column and that was because the Pharmacists were playing Buttercup and somebody from this area had to break through in that contest.

Lakeland nosed out Buttercup, 3-2, in eight innings. Casa Mia absorbed both of its losses in the double elimination tourney from Southfield and both came via the shutout route. Yesterday Casa Mia was blanked, 1-0, on only one hit. Nonne's was eliminated by Royal Oak.

Harrison's Grill also finished on the short end of the score yesterday in its debut in the Class C district playoffs at Memorial Field in Mt. Clemens. The Grill team tumbled into the loser's bracket after being whitewashed by Southfield, 2-0.

Spencer Floor Covering makes its first appearance tonight in the "C" event at 6:30 while Harrison's fights for life at 9:30. Lakeland meets Highland Park this evening at Howell at 9 p.m.

Jake Mazur suffered his 2nd one-run defeat in succession as the Mt. Clemens team disposed of Stadium. A single, sacrifice and double in the top of the 12th inning was the clincher for Mt. Clemens.

Mazur took the loss in relief of Fred Konchis.

Hawks Sign Top Stars

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan, the one-two scoring punch of the St. Louis Hawks, signed contracts yesterday for the 1959-60 National Basketball Association season. Pettit, who set an NBA scoring record of 2,105 points last season, was believed to have signed for $27,500. Hagan reportedly gets $17,500.

Doug Ford Is Favored in Rubber City Open

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Golfdom's top tourists hit the 34th stop on their million-dollar countrywide jaunt Thursday with a wide open fight in prospect in the sixth annual $22,000 Rubber City Open.

Nineteen of the top 25 money winners are in the field which includes four National Open, seven PGA and four Masters champions.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa. the year's big money man with $48,499, is the defending title holder, and he could slip over the $50,000 mark for the year by picking up the $2,800 top prize.

Fiery Tommy Bolt and Arnold Palmer, also former winners, will be trying again.

However, 37-year-old Doug Ford is tagged as the favorite. The Crystal River, Fla. pro has been in the money in his last 28 tournaments and in 107 of the last 110, reaching back to 1956. He has finished in all places from one to 11 this year and was second in last week's Motor City event when Mike Souchak ran away from the field. Souchak is one of this week's absentees here.

The tournament is scheduled over Firestone Country Club's par-71 course of 6,635 yards where next year's PGA will be staged. The field plays 18 holes of medal play through four consecutive days, winding up Sunday.

Dick Knight of San Diego, Calif. fired Wednesday's best practice round, a 30-37-67. The 29-year-old Californian injured his back Tuesday lifting a backyard sandbox and wasn't certain he could play, but he ripped six strokes off par for the front nine.

The Rubber City event attracted 132 entries, of whom 19 are amateurs. The amateur field is headed by 20-year-old Bob Shave of Cleveland, Ohio Open champion.

Mrs. Martell Sets Brae Burn Record in WMGA Victory

Mrs. R. G. Martell renewed her winning ways yesterday in the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament at Brae Burn.

Mrs. Martell fired a 75, a new women's record for the Brae Burn course, to win her 8th WMGA tourney of the year. Three birdies and 11 pars dotted her 39-36 scorecard and she needed only 27 putts on the round.

Her victory margin was five strokes, one of the largest of the season. Taking 2nd place was Mrs. Joseph Koss with 44-36—80, followed by Mrs. W. H. Falco at 45-37—82.

3 Defaults Mark Public Net Play

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three defaults marked the day's play in the National Public Parks Tennis Championships Wednesday.

Joe Russell Jr., of Cleveland, second seeded, won when Julian Cohn of Cincinnati defaulted from exhaustion in the fourth round. Set scored had gone to 0-6, 6-4, 3-6. George MacCall of Los Angeles won by default when Ralph Dudgeon of Louisville was forced to drop out from exhaustion in another fourth rounder. Set scores were 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Marsh Miller of Los Angeles was the third player to advance to the quarter-finals in the Frick Park tournament when Gerald Dubie of Detroit, could not play on a badly sprained ankle.

Former Champs Grab Spotlight

Talbert Winner, Malloy Nearly Pulls an Upset in National Doubles

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — A pair of players who won the National Doubles tennis title 17 years ago have had a few moments of attention in the 1959 edition of the championships.

Gardnar Mulloy and Billy Talbert, now 45 and 41 respectively, won the title in 1942.

Gardnar almost pulled off an upset of major proportions yesterday against a high-ranking Australian duo, while Talbert engineered a decision over a top English team.

Mulloy and Jack Frost forced Bob Mark and Rod Laver, a couple of Australian Davis Cup players, back to the wall before age caught up with Mulloy.

The Australians, second-seeded among the foreign entrants finally won it 12-10, 3-6, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

Talbert teamed with Ens. John Lesch to oust England's Tony Pickard and Bob Wilson, third-ranked among the foreign teams, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5.

All other top teams, including America's Barry MacKay and Mike Franks, and Alex Olmedo and Earl Buchholz and Australia's Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson, won without difficulty.

Claims Erdelatz to Coach in '60 at Coast School

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Erdelatz, former Navy coach, is reported to be signed to coach a major West Coast university football team in 1960, the Los Angeles Times said Wednesday.

Sports writer Jeanne Hoffman said Erdelatz, who guided Navy to 50 victories and two bowl victories in nine years, is reportedly being paid to sit out the 1959 season.

Erdelatz' name was prominently mentioned as a successor to Hampton Pool, head coach of the Los Angeles Rams, before Sid Gillman was signed as Pool's successor.

Survives Shakes to Take Match

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — One of California's finest amateur golfers today made the admission from which nearly all athletes recoil in horror:

"I just choked up" said Fred Brown of Los Angeles. "There's no other way to explain it. I guess I got the shakes. Nothing like that ever happened to me."

Brown was still alive as a contender today in the second round of the Trans-Mississippi Tournament despite an outlandish blowup that saw him lose his lead after winning the first six holes of a scheduled 18-hole match.

The player who nearly spun the golfing miracle was Frank James, a 20-year-old Iowan. He tied it on the 18th hole, but bowed out on the 21st when Brown tapped in an 8-foot putt for a birdie while the college student from Grinnell, Iowa, missed a 3-footer.

Defending champion Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, and his Walker Cup teammate, Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md., easily won their opening-round matches.

A's Buy Two Players, Sell Boone and Ward

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics last night bought third baseman Ray Jablonski from the St. Louis Cardinals and infielder-outfielder Joe Morgan from Louisville of the American Assn.

To make room for the pair, the A's sold infielder Ray Boone to Milwaukee and infielder Preston Ward to Louisville, a Milwaukee farm club. Sale prices were not disclosed.

To make room for Boone, veteran catcher Del Rice went on the retired list. Technically, he could be picked up by another club on waivers but it is not likely. Rice will be kept by the team as a coach.

Nothing Like a Few Punches for 'Spirit' in a Pro Camp

Lion Gridders Call for Action During Drills

Battle for Jobs Keen as Detroit Prepares for Cleveland

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson hasn't issued any edicts to the effect that his players must act like gentlemen when they bump each other around the training camp at Cranbrook.

So, the Lions aren't acting like gentlemen, they are acting like pro football players.

"That's what we like, a little spirit," yelled quarterback Jerry Reichow after offensive end Tom Rychlec and defensive back Jimmy David went after each other with fists following a pass play yesterday.

Just the day before Hopalong Cassady was the intended receiver of a pass when rookie defensive back George Gillar smeared him to the ground as he moved in to break up the aerial.

"I wouldn't take that from him, Hoppy," yelled coach Wilson as the little Lion halfback got up off the ground.

A play later, Cassady returned the shoulder block he got from Gillar as the other Lions were hooting and hollering for more action.

This is what they call "spirit" in pro football workouts and it has been happening in most of the trainnig camps in competition for positions.

The pro coaches close their eyes to these rough tactics except if it gets so out of hand that a few noses might be flattened.

The trimming of the roster has been slower this year with the Lions. Wilson does not want to cut anyone too soon and wants all of the rookies to get a taste of exhibition action.

The first big cut is expected after Saturday night's game with Cleveland in Akron.

It is expected that rookie tackle Ron Luciano who suffered a shoulder separation in the All-Star game may be placed on the injured reserve list.

Other injured players who will not see action Saturday are Terry Barr, Jim Doran, Jim Wagstaff and Gene Gedman.

The bright spot of the first two exhibition games and during the training camp drills ha sbeen the training and pass receiving of Danny Lewis, former Wisconsin speedster who is in his second season with the Lions.

The kickoff in Akron is set for 8:30 Saturday night.

NO. 50 A LION TOO — Tomorrow President Eisenhower will formally proclaim Hawaii as the 50th state with ceremonies at the White House. By coincidence, the Detroit Lions' lone representative from Hawaii Charley Ane wears the number 50 on his jersey. Miss Gordean Lee of Honolulu helped Ane celebrate by putting a Hawaiian Lei around his neck during her recent visit to the Cranbrook training camp.

Plays With Rams After Six Years

Dream Comes True for Ollie Matson

By United Press International

Big Ollie Matson, the lad who "always wanted to play for the Rams," sees a six-year dream come true Friday night when Los Angeles hosts the Washington Redskins in a National Football League exhibition game.

A powerhouse with the Chicago Cardinals after his graduation from San Francisco University in 1952, Matson was bitterly disappointed when the Rams failed to choose him for a bonus pick. But his "dream came true" when he was traded to Los Angeles for nine players earlier this year.

Matson, returning to home pastures, makes up one-fourth of Los Angeles' power-conscious starting backfield for the Redskin tilt. Coach Sid Gilman's other members of the quartet are Billy Wade, Jon Arnett and Tom Wilson.

In the Washington training camp, coach Mike Nixon must decide soon whether to start Eddie Lebaron or Ralph Guglielmi at quarterback. The entire Redskin squad, with the exception of defensive back Burt Zagers, is in good shape for the contest. Zagers was injured in last Sunday's game with San Francisco and will miss this one.

The Chicago Bears will have six new starters for Saturday's game with the Philadelphia Eagles at Lynn, Mass. Coach George Halas plans to start Gerald De Lucca, a native of Peabody, Mass., at tackle, Bob Jewett at right half, Bill McColl at right end, John Damore at center, Merrill Douglas at fullback and Zeke Bratkowski at quarterback.

The other five players, starters against Green Bay last week, are halfback Johnny Morris, tackle Herman Lee, end Harlon Hill and guards Stan Jones and Abe Gibron.

The Pittsburgh Steelers went through a rough defensive workout Wednesday.

The Steelers plan another long workout again Thursday and a brief session Friday before leaving by plane for Austin, Tex., where they will play the Chicago Cardinals Saturday night in an exhibition.

"We're all in pretty good shape for the game right now," said Coach Buddy Parker. "There are a few minor bumps and bruises, naturally, but everybody should be ready for Saturday night.

"We haven't slowed up in our workouts since the game with the Cleveland Browns, although we are down to one a day now. They really went at it today, and that defense looked pretty rugged in there."

The Chicago Cardinals' football squad will include 16 Texans—either graduates of Texas colleges or natives of the state—for their Saturday game with the Pittsburgh Steelers in Austin, Tex.

Six Texans are in the starting lineup: Quarterback King Hill, Rice; fullback Mal Hammack, Roscoe, Tex.; halfback John Crow, Texas A & M; center Don Gillis, Rice; guard Ken Gray, Howard Payne, and end John Tracey, Texas A & M.

Deadline for Rochester Net Tournament Saturday

Robert Ott, senior men's champion, and Virginia Williams women's champion are among six who fill defend their crowns in the various divisions.

Entry blanks will be accepted until Saturday noon at Pixley's or Whims on Main Street in Rochester.

Co-sponsors of the tournament are the Avon Youth Service and the Kiwanis.

Title holders who have entered the tournament are Dave Dillman and Allison Weeber in the intermediate division (14-16), Laurie Laun, girls' juniors (11-13); Ricky Watson, boys' midget (10 and under).

Trophies will be awarded in each of eight divisions this year. Those living within six miles of village limits are eligible to enter.

Wallace Midseason Speedway Favorite

Johnny Wallace, long time local favorite of hardtop drivers and winner of the season championship at the old Motor City Speedway, is favored in the mid-season championship race at the Metropolitan Speedway in Mt. Clemens, tonight.

Wallace is the current leader in points at the speedway and he thereby earns the pole position for the 40 lap (20 mile event.

Other local entries are Don Irish, Don Coppersmith, Jack Harvey and Joe Doyle.

Time trials start at 7:30 with the main program set for 8:30 p.m.

To Establish Fellowships

Blaik Will Help Gridders

NEW YORK (AP)—Col. Earl H. (Red) Blaik, retired Army football coach, announced today that his proceeds from the twice weekly football features he will write for The Associated Press this fall will be used to set up eight $500 fellowships.

These will go to football players who wish to pursue graduate studies, one from each NCAA district. The award of the fellowships will be made by the National Football Foundation.

According to the rules laid down by the executive committee of the foundation, candidates for the fellowships must be seniors, must be leaders in academics as well as football, must have exerted a fine influence on their campus, and must have been staunch in their devotion to the welfare of amateur sports.

"This is an exceedingly fine gesture by Col. Blaik for which the Foundation is deeply appreciative," said Chet LaRoche, president of National Football Foundation.

"This is another indication of Red's tremendous interest in college football."

The eight Blaik fellowship winners will be formally presented with their award at the Foundation's second annual awards dinner in New York Dec. 1.

The Foundation's awards committee, headed by Vincent Draddy, will administer the Blaik fellowships, aided by the awards committees of each of the eight college districts, who will nominate the candidate from their district.

Col. Blaik's articles, which are being distributed by AP Newsfeatures, will start the first week in September.

U.S. Cage Team May Be Best in Pan-Am Games

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United States basketball team which will compete in the Pan American games may be the best hardwood squad ever put together, center George Bon Salle said today.

The team, selected last April in tryouts involving college, amateur and armed service champions, will play its first competitive games tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday in a three-game series against the Cleveland Sweeneys at Toledo, Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio.

Bon Salle, a former Illinois star who played a year with a team in Milan, Italy before he became the National Industrial Basketball League's "rookie of the year" last season with the championship Denver-Chicago truckers, has been the starting center on the Pan American squad since its first workout.

Fred Schaus, the head coach from University of West Virginia, has used Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson and Kansas State's Bob Boozer at the forward spots and Kentucky's Billy Evans and West Virginia's Jerry West at guards with him.

Diamond Dust

By CHUCK ABAIR

Regardless of what happens the rest of the way, Pontiac is assured at least one diamond champion for this summer.

Lytell-Colegrove made that certain this week with its impressive showing at Jackson in taking Class D baseball honors. City teams will shoot at the A and B titles over the Labor Day weekend.

Local softballers have started their campaigns in the various classes in hopes of going all the way against a rugged field.

Likeable Jim Hoke deserves a lot of credit for the way his Lytell squad battled through the various playoffs on the way to the state crown.

He handles youngsters well and they like to play for him. One of his routines is leading the boys in prayer before and after each game.

A mixture of Pontiac Central, Waterford and Avondale players or former players handled the key roles. They included Bob Rabaja, Dave Jones, Jim Hoke Jr., John Studt, Dick Smith and Darryl Thorpe. There was also Chuck Kirken, formerly of Waterford and now at Central Michigan and others.

Jones, the son of Jim of the Parks & Recreation Dept., used his good curve to baffle Grand Rapids in the semifinal. Fastballer Kirken won the final. Both tired in the late innings at the end of a rough playoff grind.

EXTRA INNINGS—Two of the top teams in the Lake Orion Small Fry League are coached by women . . . A good reason why First Baptist was never beaten in the Pontiac Church Softball loop was Floyd Hicks. He won 20 games . . . George Forrest hit .444 for the Birmingham Jr. Legion.

The Rochester Interchurch Athletic League will hold All-Star night Friday . . . Family vacations took some players away from city teams during the crucial playoffs. A few others missed Sunday games because of church rules . . . Jim Springborn, a 20-year-old 3rd baseman for Marine City in the Blue Water League, has been signed by the San Francisco Giants.

Raiders Host Sarnia Saturday

Game at U. of D. Home Opener for Detroiters in Rugby Union

The Detroit Raiders open their home season in the Ontario Rugby Union taking on the Sarnia Golden Bears Saturday at 8:15 p.m. at the University of Detroit field.

Sarnia started defense of its crown last week with a one-point victory while the Raiders were being trounced.

Quarterback Frank Finney, the former Royal Oak and Brown University star, was one of the few bright lights for Detroit in defeat. He completed 10 of 28 passes for 108 yards. Ex-Michigan State end Jim Hinesly made six of the receptions. Andy Kincannon will start at the other end.

The Raiders have been experimenting in the linebacking department with Dick Cerilla and Walt Wilson out for the season with severe injuries.

Mt. Pleasant 9 Loses

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — The only two undefeated teams left in the Colt League World Series collide tonight — La Mesa, Calif., and Pittsburgh.

Ontario, Calif., beat North Charleston, S.C., last night, 6-0, and Pensacola, Fla., downed Mt. Pleasant, Mich., 21-5.

LSU has beaten Tennessee but once in 12 football meetings. One game ended in a tie.

Indians Junk Slump to Gain on Chicago

By The Associated Press

A right reluctant bunch of pennant contenders, these Cleveland Indians. They lose four in a row, blowing leads in three of them, and almost make it five — getting the cushion they needed on a bases-loaded walk.

Cleveland junked the slump with a 5-4 decision over last-place Washington last night, moving within 3½ games of Chicago in the American League race after the White Sox had been spilled 3-1 by Baltimore in an afternoon game.

The Injuns did some blowing in this one, too, after building a 4-1 lead on homers by Woody Held and Jim Baxes—his third in three days—and making it 5-1 when reliever Camilo Pascual gave up a fourth-inning triple to Vic Power and then walked three in a row.

New York came from five runs back and beat Detroit 10-5. Kansas City beat Boston 6-3.

Rookie Larry Locke saved it for the Indians and Cal McLish (15-6), coming on with none out in the eighth after the Nats had scored three runs on Bob Allison's 28th homer and Harmon Killebrew's 37th. That gave Killebrew a share of the major league lead again, with the Chicago Cubs' Ernie Banks, and moved Allison within three of matching Ted Williams' AL record for rookies.

Held's 22nd home run broke a 1-1 tie for the Indians in the second inning against loser Bill Fischer (8-9), who also gave up Baxes' two-run poke, his 14th, in the third inning.

Baltimore beat the White Sox and Bob Shaw (12-4), who had won six straight, on Bob Boyd's two-run single with two out in the first. Billy O'Dell (7-10) was the winner, blanking the Sox on three hits until the eighth, when Sherm Lollar smacked his 18th home run.

Bud Daley (15-7) beat the Red Sox with a four-hitter, giving up Dick Gernert's 10th home run and Jackie Jensen's 25th. The A's won it on Daley's RBI single and Bill Tuttle's sacrifice fly in a two-run seventh against Frank Sullivan (7-8).

Grain Trade at Slow Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market started off again today within a narrow price range as transactions continued at a slow pace and in small volume on the Board of Trade.

For the past week or so the feeling has been that the market had been overbought on the possibility of strengthening prices which did not take place. Until there has been a little more evening up of commitments, prices are expected to hold almost stationary.

Shelby Firemen Are Reinstated

Civil Service Unit Rules 5 Laid Off Be Returned, 4 Pay Cuts Restored

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Shelby Township Civil Service Commission has ruled in favor of reinstating five firemen laid off by the Township Board and the other four who received cuts in salary.

In the case of the five men who were laid off on May 1, the commission ordered that they be returned to duty at the same salary they were receiving when the suspension occurred.

The four men who received pay cuts will have their former wages restored and be reimbursed for lost salary dating back to the effective date of the reduction May 1, the commission ordered.

The firemen had presented their cases at a public hearing of the commission in July after making an appeal to that body two months before.

The Township Board has the final say on the matter. A spokesman for the group said in May that if the Board fails to follow the commission's recommendations, the nine firemen will take their cases to Circuit Court.

The suspensions and pay reductions were believed necessary by the Board because of present strained financial conditions. Members said it was impossible to maintain the department at full strength under its current year's budget of $59,995.

Treat Lake Orion Man After Car Strikes Tree

Herman L. Holt, 17, of 825 Greenshield Rd., Lake Orion, was treated for minor face cuts at Pontiac General Hospital last night after his car struck a tree on Brewster road, a half mile north of Dutton road, in Oakland Township.

Holt told sheriff's deputies that the steering mechanism failed on his 1952 car.

Steel Leading Stock Surge

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels paced a sharp upturn in stock market prices early this afternoon. Trading ran at a vigorous clip.

Pivotal shares ran ahead fractions to three points or so. Only coppers, facing further strikes, failed to join in the broad advance.

The market inched ahead through the morning. A buying surge then erupted about noon to send prices sharply higher.

The steel rally followed a statement by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell that an early settlement of the industry strike is possible.

Twenty Pickets Walk at Cross

Court Order Limits Number After Hearing Testimony of Violence

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — Striking workers, their number limited to 20 by circuit court order, today held an uneasy truce at the Cross Manufacturing Co. plant in nearby Fraser.

Macomb Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe yesterday reinstated a temporary injunction after witnesses testified to union threats and violence against nonstrikers.

Most of the office force and 21 production workers left the plant last night with only token demonstrations.

Pickets maintained two revolving circles with a 10-foot path for entering and leaving the plant in accordance with Noe's order. Several strikers stretched a large Nazi swastika flag across 14-Mile road near the plant and hurled insults at nonstrikers.

The U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, Ohio, has ordered the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) to show cause why a new election for union officers should not be held.

An election last November picked UAW-CIO Local 155 as bargaining agent at the plant.

In his statement reinstating control over pickets at the automation machinery plant Noe said strikers had "broken faith" with an agreement to refrain from mass picketing and violence.

"The agreement was violated 24 hours after it was made," Noe said after hearing 16 witnesses tell of vandalism and threats against them.

News in Brief

Thieves broke in to the Judah Lake Baptist Church, at Silverbell and Orion roads, Orion Township, ransacked a basement office and stole a $40 table model radio, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported Tuesday.

Three to five cases of beer were stolen last night from the Holbrook Market, 2366 Auburn Rd., Avon Township. A young boy apparently crawled through an air vent into the store, the Sheriff's Department said.

About $50 was stolen last night from the office of the Lyon Gear Machine Co. on Orion road in Goodison. The Sheriff's Department said thieves entered through a side window.

Fisherman 'Catches' Rumblings of Quake

LOYALTON, Calif. (UPI)—Sam Chance has quite a fish story to tell these days—and a scale to prove it.

Sam was fishing from a bridge one day when it began to shake and rattle.

But he hadn't caught the biggest fish in northern California, as he at first suspected. The shake and rattle were caused by an earthquake — which registered on the Richter scale.

MEET THE CORVAIR — Persons who have been to Willow Run Airport recently may have noticed a busy industrial establishment sitting out front. What's all the activity? The answer is this lot full of General Motors' entry in the compact car field, the Corvair. These are four-door sedans which rolled off the lines at the new Chevrolet plant. Corvair's public showing is scheduled in October.

Seek to Locate Pontiac Family

Bloomfield Pair Survive Quake

Their house only about 15 miles from the shock center, former Bloomfield Township residents Mr. and Mrs. Marc Patten, miraculously escaped injury in the West Yellowstone earthquake.

Reached by telephone by The Pontiac Press, Patten said he felt severe tremors all Tuesday, but said his ranch at Gallatin-Gateway, Mont., was not damaged nor were he and his wife injured.

"We haven't been allowed near the Hebgen Dam, but I did see the fault area near the lake," he said. "One side of the fault is approximately 26 feet higher than the other.

"My wife and I were carrying food and water to our friends near the lake when we got a good look at the damages," he continued. "Most of the houses, even those heavily constructed, were totally demolished. The roads are impassable."

PHONES OUT

Patten did not see the devastating landslide, just outside Yellowstone Park, which may be hiding the bodies of several vacationers. He said the people in the area don't know the full extent of the earthquake due to telephone line failures.

"I'm all for flying over the dam today," Patten said, "but I don't know whether they will let private planes in the area."

Area telephone service, knocked out for about 48 hours, was restored about 11:30 last night. The last tremor occured about a half-hour later, Patten told The Press.

Meanwhile, attempts to locate a Pontiac family believed vacationing in the earthquake area have been unsuccessful.

Red Cross officials at Bozeman, Mont., said they have no record of the whereabouts of the Dennis Bryant family of 181 Seminole Ave. They left two weeks ago for a month's camping trip in Yellowstone Park.

An official at the emergency station said, "Our list is very incomplete, the only check was for the 160 people evacuated from the Hebgen Lake area. We only have positive records of the known injured and dead."

Most of the persons injured in the large scale quake were taken to Bozeman.

The search for Bryant; his wife, Elaine; their son, Ronald, 6, and their daughter, Cynthia, 8, was begun Tuesday afternoon after a frantic, long-distance telephone call from Mrs. Bryant's mother in London, England, alerted his employer, J. C. Austerberry's Sons, Detroit.

Mrs. Bryant's mother first learned of the Montana-Wyoming quake when she saw scenes of the evacuation on London television Tuesday morning.

C. R. Austerberry of 1571 Long Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township, said his company has made emergency broadcasts through local Yellowstone radio stations and has contacted the Yellowstone Park rangers. No one has any information on the Bryants.

Downtown Office Gets Bomb Threat

Firemen searched the office of a Pontiac attorney early this afternoon after his wife reported receiving a bomb threat.

Mrs. Harriet Middleton, who works as a receptionist for her husband Leslie, 57, told Pontiac police detectives a woman phoned the office at 64½ W. Huron St., saying: "A bomb is going to go off."

Mrs. Middleton said the woman then hung up.

Three firetrucks rushed to the building. No bomb was found.

Police dismissed the call as the work of a prankster.

RAYGC Appoints Group to Seek Funds

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Area Youth Guidance Committee, meeting in regular session last night, appointed a committee to appeal to the local Community Chest for funds to cover operational expenses and organized a Speakers' Bureau.

Heading the committee making the fund appeal is the Rev. Edgar A. Lucas, chairman of the executive case work committee. Serving with him are Arthur Cox, treasurer of the parent organization, Robert Kussee, Dore Case and Thomas Pfeiffer, executive case work committee secretary.

Members of the Speaker's Bureau include Dr. Lowell Eklund, director of continuing education at Michigan State University Oakland, Arvid Jouppi, Dr. Robert Hopkins, Eugene Rounds, chairman of the General Citizens committee, Keith D. King and Pfeiffer.

These men will be available to tell the history of the Youth Guidance Committee, work of its members and other facts pertinent to any organization in the area, Rounds said.

In other action, the organization enlarged its case work committee by two members. They are John Howie, retired Detroit police officer, and Dr. Hopkins of MSUO, who received his doctorate in professional guidance counseling.

More members will be added at the organization's next meeting in September, the chairman said.

The third Wednesday of every month was set as the RAYGC's regular meeting date.

The committee's program designed to handle youth problems before they become matters for juvenile court concern, encompasses the Rochester Community School District which covers 60 square miles.

After last night's business session, the some 30 people present were given a guided tour of the academic building at MSUO where the meeting was held by Dr. Eklund.

Would Reserve Site for FDR Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP)—A resolution to reserve a 27-acre site for a memorial to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt has been approved by the Senate Rules Committee. The House already has passed it.

The memorial is to be located near the Tidal Basin, southeast of the Lincoln Memorial. Money for building it would be raised by private subscription.

Will Arrest Motherwell for Murder, Regardless

DOWNEVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — Authorities said today they will issue a warrant for the arrest of Larry Lord Motherwell on murder charges despite the fact they consider it "pretty hopeless" to determine the cause of a Washington, D.C., widow's death.

The statement followed an investigation of the site where the bones of Mrs. Pearl Putney, 72, were found Sunday by a woman looking for pine cones.

In Sacramento, criminologist Roger Greene said he will conduct further tests to determine the cause of Mrs. Putney's death. However, Greene was skeptical because of the poor condition of the bones, which were identified from dental charts.

Renew Perilous Search in Montana for More Victims of Killer Earthquake

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—A big force of searchers moves back into the still-shaking earthquake area of southwestern Montana today to renew a perilous hunt for more victims.

Landslides are raining rocks and dirt down the mountain slopes.

The ground parties will search above and below Hebgen Dam, focal point of the hardest hit area in Monday night's shocks.

Searching crews are made up of men from the Civil Defense organization, sheriff's office, U.S. Forest Service and volunteers.

They said they would not attempt to dig into the 50-million-ton landslide below Hebgen Dam until the comparatively slight tremors subside.

Bodies of eight quake victims have been recovered from the devastated mountains and canyons. Reports from survivors indicate the toll may rise to 12. They told of seeing a car with a man and a woman and a crippled boy buried by an avalanche.

A woman reported by Sheriff Donald Skerritt to be missing and presumed drowned was found alive Wednesday night. Grace Miller, about 60, whose lakeside home was washed away in a wave of water propelled by a landslide, had walked 15 miles to a ranch.

Coroner Charles E. Raper says he believes the body of Mrs. Thomas Stowe of Big Sandy, Utah, is in the Madison River. He reported the family car and her belongings have been found in the stream. Her husband was killed.

Officials have said they believe more bodies may be found by digging into the landslides and probing Hebgen Lake and the Madison River.

Skin divers are planning to go into the lake when the muddy water clears. They will check a report that two persons drowned in a car submerged in dirt and water.

All of the known survivors—about 300—have been moved out of the quake area. Some roads, buckled and twisted by the quake, have been made passable by the use of bulldozers.

Many highways in the western part of Yellowstone National Park were blocked by landslides and the damage there was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

But the park was allowing tourists to come in over the roads remaining open.

As the last of the survivors came out they brought more harrowing tales of the quake's violence and horrifying effects.

Grover C. Mault, 71, of Temple City, Calif., told how his trailer was hurled into the Madison River by the shock. He and his wife climbed on top of the trailer and then grasped tree limbs.

"We clung to the tree, our bodies in the water almost up to our necks," he said. "My wife went under three or four times. The last time she was gasping for breath but I managed to pull her out. She wanted me to let her go. But I told her if she went, I'd go, too.

"While we clung there I could see the mountains sliding and falling every few minutes. I thought the world had come to an end.

"In the morning they came for us in a boat. If they'd been another 10 minutes I couldn't have held on."

2 Visits to Ike Scheduled for K

Soviet Premier to Spend 3 or 4 Days in Capital, Double Back After Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev may stop in Washington twice during his visit to the United States, giving him extra opportunity for private talks with President Eisenhower.

The Soviet Premier is slated to arrive in Washington Sept. 15 for the start of a 12-day tour of the country. When he returns from his coast-to-coast travels, Eisenhower may take him to secluded Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains for a final chat.

This would afford Eisenhower a chance to speak to Khrushchev personally after the Soviet leader sees the United States first-hand. A major aim in inviting Khrushchev here has been to disp l what have been called his misconceptions about the freedom and strength of America.

An original estimate that Khrushchev would spend two to three days in Washington has now been lengthened to three or four days. The two men's talks on East-West issues would pick up in pace only after initial ceremonial functions due a visiting government head are out of the way.

Exact details on where Khrushchev will go and when are still being worked out in U.S.-Soviet negotiations. But due to Soviet restrictions, he will get only a limited and hurried view of the country.

The Soviets have set the time limit of 12 days on Khrushchev's visit. They have turned down U.S. sightseeing suggestions while sticking to their own, and the basic decision is up to them.

Utica Curtiss-Wright to Get AF Contracts

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Utica Division of Curtiss-Wright Corp. has received "letters of intent" from the U.S. Air Force awarding the company new contracts for the overhaul of jet engines.

The announcement was made today by C. D. Harris, general manager of the Utica facility.

One of the contracts is for continuation of the uninterrupted program for overhaul of J47 engines which was initiated at the local plant in 1956.

The other contract introduces an entirely new program, Harris said, involving overhaul of J73 engines, making this the third gas turbine engine model which the Air Force has negotiated for overhaul at the Utica Division.

Issues Similar to Steel Dispute

200,000 Meat Processors Poised to Take Strike Vote

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—A walkout of nearly 200,000 workers in the giant meat processing industry next month was threatened today on issues similar to those involved in the continuing steel strike.

Union officials said the industry's two major unions, the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and the Packinghouse Workers, have met much the same management wage freeze and other proposals for stockyard workers as were experienced in the steel dispute.

AFL-CIO leaders, meeting in summer session here, expressed concern that the steel strike is a symptom of what they consider a growing management refusal to give workers a share in expanding industry profits.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, voting a $100,000 donation to the steel strikers, said big business generally has decided to "wreck the hard-won gains of workers" and reverse the system of sharing profits with labor.

The two meat industry unions, after nearly a month of bargaining, have met an almost solid front of packer proposals to freeze present wage rates, averaging about $2.50 an hour.

In a further similarity to the steel bargaining picture, the packing unions say they also face company proposals to give employers a freer hand in achieving manpower and other economies.

Like the steel strikers, the meat processing workers seek wage boosts of about 15 cents per hour.

Both packing unions are taking strike votes. The workers in many plants were said to have already authorized a strike Sept. 1 when current three-year contracts expire. However, both unions said they hoped bargaining developments in the near future would avert any shutdown.

Racists Have Another Angle

Alabama Lawmakers May Take Tuskegee Support to Court

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Race-minded Alabama lawmakers have renewed their outlay to Tuskegee Institute, but it may become a legal springboard to publicly financed private white schools.

The $767,000 two - year grant, roughly 10 per cent of Tuskegee's budget, also poses as a veiled dagger which could strike at the financial heart of the famed-Negro college.

Amid corridor-talk of the new segregation scheme, it was clear more than idle generosity prompted the legislature Wednesday to earmark $383,000 for Tuskegee next year and $384,000 the following year.

Legislators privately planning the legal test, aimed at a ruling on whether public funds can be used for private segregated schools, figure they have nothing to lose and all to gain.

Giving the U. S. Supreme Court such a major segregation riddle, the strategists say, would result either in economy or—better still—a possible new way to keep Negro children out of white schools.

Key to the court test is a promised suit challenging the Tuskegee appropriation as an illegal use of public funds on a private segregated school. Only Negroes attend privately endowed Tuskegee Institute.

State money has been allocated annually to the college under a 1945 law providing aid for students who want specialized courses unavailable in tax-supported institutions.

Resistance Sparks Highway Feuding

LANSING (AP)—An unusual flurry of resistance to offers of state highway land buyers has sparked renewed feuding between Democrat John C. Mackie and Sen. John H. Stahlin, Belding Republican.

The two sparred yesterday in a prelude to Stahlin's impending legislative investigation of Mackie's far flung road agency.

Mackie said he wasn't going to let the inquiry lead to "blackjacking" of the department by property owners into paying higher prices than original purchase offers based on independent appraisals.

Stahlin said he knew nothing about any attempted blackjacking, accused Mackie's staff of dictatorial methods and called Mackie's statement "a release from an emotionally upset drumbeater."

Ex-GI Sues U.S. for Pay in Rank Row

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A former soldier sued Uncle Sam Wednesday for the difference between his $85.80 monthly salary as a private and the $222.30 pay of a lieutenant.

Nick A. Kanakis, 26, asks the salary difference of $3,276, plus interest, quarters and allowances.

Kanakis, a pharmaceutical firm representative, was a physical therapist at Methodist Hospital here when inducted Feb. 25, 1957. He also was a reserve second lieutenant in the Army Medical Specialists Corps.

He said he was turned down three times in efforts to enter the Army as an officer. The Army told him there were no vacancies for physical therapists, he said.

He was a private until seven months before he was discharged as specialist 4th class last Jan. 19.

Kanakis' attorney, Gordon J. Kroll, says federal regulations exempt medical, dental and allied specialists holding reserve commissions from induction except in their commission grades.

4 U. of M. Glee Club Members Tour Russia

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Four members of the University of Michigan men's glee club are taking a two-week conducted tour of Russian cities.

The four — Thomas Gething of Jackson; David Ruhala of Flint; Bruce Wilson of Wilmette, Ill., and Gordon Elicker of Cleveland—decided to take the tour after the glee club finished its tour of eight European countries.

They applied for visas at Stockholm and obtained them within 24 hours.

Stepin Fetchit Makes Not-So-Lazy Return

By STAN KOVEN

CHICAGO (AP)—Stepin Fetchit shambled and shuffled through an era when mumbling in dialect thick as cornpone and sporting a floppy, disreputable gray felt hat were staples of comedy.

They aren't anymore, says Stepin etchit, who at 66 is out of retirement and launching a new career as a television and night club entertainer.

"The character as I did it is out," he says with no regrets. "This is a new world, do you savvy? The Negro has advanced way past that stage.

"I'll still leave part of the old routine in, see, just for the benefit of those who remember it. But mainly I want to be a white collar comedian. Nowadays, you've got to be abe to come out looking like a Negro doctor and get laughs."

The man who made a fortune playing types based on a man with a whopping aversion to work has already won critical acclaim with his new format.

"If you saw me on the Jack Paar show, you know what I mean when I talk about my new act. I did the old routine when I made my exit, but I got just as many laughs before that on straight comedy."

Stepin Fetchit, born Lincoln Theodore Andrew Perry in Key West, Fla., got his start in minstrel show in Montgomery, Ala., more than 50 years ago, teaming with Ed Lee in an act billed as "The Two Dancing Fools from Dixie, Step and Fetchit."

"I guess I got the lazy idea from my partner," he recalls. "He was so lazy he used to call a cab to get across the street. Pretty soon it got so bad he wasn't showing up for performances."

Silent pictures were at their Zenith when he got a part in MGM's "In Old Kentucky."

Movies followed movies in rapid succession, "all the top ones — nothing but deluxe." How many movies? "I counted them by money. I made two million dollars worth."

Then, in the early '40s, the bubble burst. He sank a wad into a planned film biography of Satchell Paige, the great Negro baseball star. Step was to play Satch, but he went bankrupt instead.

This time around, the billing is different: "Stepin Fetchit, the former lazybones of the screen."

Kill Bill to Cut Veteran Exemptions

LANSING (AP)—A bill to cut the number of persons receiving the veterans homestead exemption was killed in the House yesterday by a 36-26 vote.

The measure would have changed the basis for exemption from the local assessed valuation to the state assessment—in many cases a higher figure.

Rep. James N. Folks (R-Horton) said the bill was needed for the sake of fairness and uniformity in determining eligibility for exemption.

The State Supreme Court, he said, has ruled that the state equalized valuation is the legal yardstick in tax matters in Michigan.

Objectors argued that degree of disability should be figured into any fair bill.

A veteran receiving only 10 per cent disability, they said, might be eligible while one with more than 50 per cent disability might be knocked off the list.

Present law provides that veterans receiving compensation for disability, widows of veterans who have not remarried and veterans of conflicts prior to World War I may receive tax forgiveness of $2,000 on homesteads assessed at up to $7,500.

Cassopolis Police Chief Named Cass Sheriff

CASSOPOLIS (AP)—Robert D. Dool, 36, police chief of Cassopolis Valley, yesterday was named new sheriff of Cass County.

Dool, a former undersheriff, succeeds Kenneth McLeod, 36, who resigned this week. McLeod recently was the subject of a probe by the state's attorney general's office.

Senate Approves Bill Hiking Passport Validity

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill increasing from two to three years the period for which a new passport is valid has been passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

Carlo Ponti Leaves Home a Free Man

ROME (AP) — Movie producer Carlo Ponti left Rome Wednesday a free man despite widespread speculation that his 11-day stay with his wife, Sophia Loren, would land him in jail on a bigamy charge.

The two aren't legally married in Italy because Italian law doesn't recognize the Mexican divorce from his first wife.

It was the couple's first stay together in their native country since Ponti divorced his first wife by proxy in Mexico and married the sultry beauty he discovered in the slums of Naples.

Miss Loren did not go to the airport with her husband. She is making a movie in Italy with Clark Gable.

Dearborn Pastor Killed in Two-Car Accident

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Adam Koprowski, pastor of Sweetest Heart of Mary Roman Catholic Church in Detroit, was injured fatally yesterday in a two-car accident in suburban Dearborn.

Police said witnesses reported Father Koprowski, 59, went through a stoplight at Miller and Michigan, hitting another car driven by Theodore Markowski, 42, of Wayne.

Markowski and his wife, Mildred, 40, escaped injury. The priest was alone.

Officers said Father Koprowski might have suffered a seizure. He had been pastor of the church since 1949.

Arquette Gets Zsa Zsa to Confess Her Hobby

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Zsa Zsa Gabor had us in just terrible suspense when we learned she was going to be telling her hobby on a revived "Hobby Lobby" TV show which Cliff Arquette was pilot-filming and m.c.'ing.

WILSON

We dashed down to the Little Theater Studio just in time to hear her confess that her hobby is . . . fencing.

"Any chance of you and Porfirio Rubirosa hitching if he divorces his young French wife?" we asked. Zsa Zsa zsa-zsaed: "He's vunderful but I'm so busy." I told her a woman reader'd written to me that if the world's women could choose whom they'd prefer to look like, they'd select her. "I vish it were true, dolling," she zzighed.

MADISON AV. POEM: "Between the dark and the daylight/when our genius is beginning to sour/comes a pause in the day's occupation/that is known as the cocktail hour." (Go ahead and finish it, men.

Phil Silvers is said that his friend, Nat Hiken's big TV series, "The Laughmakers," starring Robert Dhery of "La Plume De Ma Tante" and Monique Van Vooren, is postponed due to Dhery's inability to get permission to do TV in the U.S.

"But I'm relieved too that now I'm going to have Nat all to myself for our own first show, called "The Ballad of Louis the Louse,'" Phil said.

ZSA ZSA

Sponsors wanted to find out what the first show was about. Producer Hiken's loath to explain plots. But Silvers took him to dinner with the sponsors. "I started telling the story and purposely loused it up," he said. "Then Nat quickly corrected me. He was soon telling the story. My rule is 'Be tolerant with sponsors.'"

Jack Durant, the indestructible comedian at the Latin Quarter, is amused by recent marathon swims—because in 1939 a London press agent persuaded him to announce he would be the first actor to swim the English Channel.

"Or the first actor to die trying to swim the English Channel," he says.

As the time drew near, Durant wanted to get out of it. He asked his wife, then in America, to wire him forbidding him to try. She tetegraphed him: "The children and I are pulling for you!" The war, stopping the Channel foolishness, saved him.

Benny Fields was a happy man when he died, I'll bet—he was still a big star. I saw him in the Ed Sullivan show at Las Vegas a month ago with Blossom Seeley. I was fearful for these old-timers when they came out on stage before a young crowd. But their old mastery came through. The crowd warmed up, then was captivated, then roared applause. Each show, every night, they were a smash. What else could a minstrel man ask, the last month of his life? (It was also nice of Ed Sullivan to give him the chance.)

EARL'S PEARLS: H. C. Diefenbach claims it's a serious mistake for a girl of 25 to marry a man of 55 for his money. He should be at least 85 . . . That's earl, brother.

In keeping with recent exchanges between East and West, the ABC-TV culture vineyard known as Music for a Summer Night offered a toast to good will last night with "The Music of Russia."

Some of the rewarding moments in the hour were Earl Wild's playing of the piano concerto No. 2 by Rachmaninoff; tenor Bill Lewis and mezzo-soprano Maria Martell singing the love duet from "Boris Gudonov" and the Pas de Deux from "Black Swan," danced by Nina Novak and George Zoritch of the Ballet Russe de Monte Cario.

However, most of the program added up to dull television. This has been a common failing for this program all summer.

While the intentions are pure and noble, a small budget, cramped studio space, an apparent lack of cameras and other resources have led to some tacky-looking presentations.

Often, I found I could enjoy the show's music just by listening and not watching. That's not good TV. Good radio, yes.

With the exception of Wild's piano spot, when the camera went snooping around the orchestra to show the heads and hands that were producing the music, the camera work last night was pathetically timid.

Anyhow, the series is over. If you're looking for classical music on a summer night from now on, don't turn on the TV tube.

Get out the records. Or find a sympathetic disk jockey.

On ABC-TV next Wednesday, you'll find The Great Gildersleeve and The Court of Last Resort, two of man's nonmusical masterworks.

SHORT SHORTS! A lucky Price is Right winner on NBC-TV won a cow, goat, sheep and six chickens last night. The happy fellow is Kenneth Campbell from Buffalo, N.Y.

The Dave King Show on NBC-TV broke out of its rut with some entertaining segments last night. I'm not including the tedious skit about bargain-counter shopping.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Jackie Gleason starts the cameras rolling next December for his new CBS-TV series. Jack O'Hara Associates. Filming takes place at Gleason's combination home and studio at Peekskill, N.Y. He'll portray an uninhibited public relations man.

Alas Babylon, the Pat Frank novel that was originally set as the opening show in the 1959-60 Playhouse 90 series, will be seen at a later date. The Oct. 1 premiere will be David Davidson's "Target for Three," about the rise and fall of a South American dictator.
