'Sabres Shouldn't Rattle' When Ike, Nikita Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared today in a news conference that he wanted to talk peace with President Eisenhower "without any sabre rattling."

Khrushchev told a news conference lasting an hour and a half that the talks with President Eisenhower were not intended to replace a summit conference but as a prelude to it.

He said his visit would afford an opportunity for talks — not negotiations.

He gave no precise dates for the exchange of visits. He probably will go to the United States in mid-September, he said, and President Eisenhower will come here later in the autumn.

Some 300 correspondents crowded into the high-domed hall in the Kremlin to question the Soviet Premier who began the conference with a brief statement.

"If these two powers establish good relations," he said, "if they cooperate for peace, there will be lasting peace on earth."

He said he saw real opportunities for Soviet-American relations to be based on peace and friendship.

"There are no territorial disputes between our two countries, nor any in soluble contradictions, nor any issues which could prevent the establishment of a climate of confidence and mutual understanding," he declared.

To a question about whether he might show President Eisenhower a rocket base, he replied: "That might give a bad taste to the meeting between us."

Then he went on with references to what it would look like if he went to America with a rocket peeking out of his pocket.

He said he knew the United States was strong and that if he were invited to see America's military installations, "I would not go."

'GO AS PEACEFUL MAN'

"I can go as a peaceful man," he said, adding that when Eisenhower comes here he would be introduced to good Russian food.

"We must talk peace without sabre rattling," he declared.

Khrushchev was in a beaming mood and ribbed West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer every time which permitted it, which was fairly often.

But mainly he talked seriously about hopes that peaceful relations would be established between the "two most powerful nations" and thus bring peace to the whole world.

He said he was not going to stop over in England because modern transportation is so fast these days you get to your destination "without being able to stop over for tea."

He was not going to visit Canada, he said in reply to another question, because he had not been invited.

To a question as to whether the two visits would be a prelude or a substitute for a summit conference, Khrushchev replied the meeting was designed primarily to discuss problems between the two countries.

"It is not designed to discuss matters relating to other countries," he said, but added that what affected the Soviet Union and the United States also affected other powers.

"But it cannot take the place of the summit conference, which will be a useful thing," he said.

Pontiac Auto Pioneer, Alfred Glancy, Dies

The father of the Pontiac car, who as a young college student proclaimed that "the automobile is a rich man's toy and will never be a success," died yesterday.

Alfred R. Glancy, a giant in the automotive world, succumbed to a heart attack at his home in Atlanta, Ga. He was 79.

ALFRED R. GLANCY

Mr. Glancy had lived in Atlanta and Bermuda in semi-retirement since World War II.

He was president of the Pontiac Motor Division when he left General Motors in 1931.

His prediction of doom for cars came in a senior thesis at Lehigh University in 1903. With an eye to the sensational, perhaps, he chose as his subject the automobile, a few of which were to be seen chugging about the streets of South Bethlehem, Pa.

For experimental purposes, he and another student procurred three of the finest cars then being built—a Locomobile, a Cadillac and a one-cylinder Knox.

After voluminous reading, considerable deep reflection and exhaustive testing in the laboratory and on the highway, Mr. Glancy gave to the world the results of those months of study.

A quarter of a century later he was head of one of the largest builders of cars in the world.

And the cars for which Mr. Glancy saw no future as a young man became a common item in America, largely through the farsighted vision of men such as himself.

Mr. Glancy's story began in Miamisville, Ohio, where he was born the son of well-to-do parents. At the age of six his family moved to Washington, D. C. and there, in the shadow of the capitol dome, he attended public schools.

After graduating from high school, he satisfied a boyish urge for travel. He went to Europe . . . but not in state.

A cattle boat was his conveyance and his fare was earned by twisting the tails of longhorn steers destined for the packing houses of Europe.

In Washington was Columbian University, now known as George Washington University. Its law school was fairly well recognized; and without a great deal of serious consideration for the future Mr. Glancy set out to be a lawyer.

He never entered the legal profession, however.

"Perhaps," he said later, "it was too much like going to high school, living and studying at home under the same restraints and restrictions as before.

"One day I met a friend who had a free scholarship to Lehigh University. He wasn't going to use it and it seemed a shame to let that perfectly good scholarship go to waste, particularly since it rep-

Poet Laureate of State Dies

Edgar Guest Leaves Heritage of Plain Verse to Many Readers

DETROIT (UPI)—Poet Edgar A. Guest died early today at his home here.

The 77-year-old poet laureate of Michigan had been ill for several years. His physician said death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Guest, who has been called "the poet of the plain people," had been writing verses for more than 50 years. When he stopped counting in 1930, he estimated he had written more than 30,000 poems.

His most famous book of poetry, "A Heap O' Livin'," sold more than a half million copies and resulted in a Detroit grammar school being named in his honor.

Guest's poems have appeared in the Detroit Free Press for nearly 40 years. Never worldly, they touched on the simple things. His works were syndicated and his daily readers numbered in the millions.

He was born Aug. 20, 1881 in

City's Drains Under Scrutiny After Floods

Engineer Lewis Wrenn Warns Improvements to Be Costly

The city's storm drain system was under scrutiny today as a result of the heavy rain that caused at least 200 flooded basements last week.

City commissioners last night called for cost estimates to make some improvements to the drainage system.

At the same time, they were warned by City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn that costs would be high.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the only real solution to flooding would be an $8,700,000 program to improve the Clinton River and Pontiac Creek — the two rivers into which almost all of Pontiac's storm drains feed.

But he warned that the city would be financially unable to design a system that could handle as much rain as fell last Wednesday — 2½ inches in little more than an hour.

"It is impractical to design a system to handle that much water," he said.

Commissioner William W. Donaldson asked for cost estimates to improve Pontiac Creek between W. Huron and Lawrence streets.

Last week, the river backed up north of Huron, flooding about 25 cars and several basements.

The creek was improved north of the flooded area two years ago.

"Now the water shoots south toward Huron like a shotgun," said Donaldson.

Commissioner John A. Dugan suggested a storm relief line from north of the Pontiac Motor Division plant to the Clinton.

"I realize this would be very costly," he said.

A relief line might relieve flooding at the plant, Dugan believed.

Health, Welfare Money Used, Probers Charge

Point to Deals Made Aiding Dorfman Family, Chicago Underworld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate committee investigating rackets charged today that James R. Hoffa paid "a long-standing debt to the Chicago underworld" with three million dollars of Teamsters Union health and welfare funds.

The committee in a report to the Senate, said that Hoffa, President of the Teamsters Union, personally swung the deals to please the underworld and benefit the family of Paul Dorfman.

It said Dorfman is the man who introduced Hoffa to "Midwest mob society."

In Chicago, members of the Dorfman family were not available for comment.

Meanwhile about 200 local Teamsters Union officials have converged on the capital to buttonhole their congressmen for chats about the union's troubles, Hoffa announced.

Hoffa told a banquet Tuesday night that it had been suggested that the local Teamsters officials —who have been here since Monday—invite congressmen to the banquet or to private dinners. Apparently only one member of Congress showed up at the big banquet, Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore).

The committee said Midwest Teamsters Union members paid dearly for the deals since 1950, in drastic reduction of health-welfare insurance benefits and inflated charges for the insurance.

The committee also filed two

Seek New Bids on Courthouse

Supervisors Wary of Repeat of Dispute in Second Round

New construction bids on a new courthouse will be asked, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors decided today, with several supervisors warning against a repeat performance.

Robert J. Huber, of Troy, and Sydney Frid, of Northville, wanted to know what course the county would take should a large Pontiac builder—once awarded the general construction contract—again come in with other than the low bid.

"I can't answer what the future holds," replied David Levinson, chairman of the board's Special Courthouse Building Committee.

Levinson couldn't be pinned down by Huber, Frid or newsmen whether his committee would hold out again to give the largest of three contracts for the $3,000,000 building to J. A. Fredman, Inc. of Pontiac.

Supervisors listened intently to a quizzing of Levinson by Huber and Frid this morning, and then, rather surprisingly, without a roll call vote, decided to ask prospective general and mechanical contractors to submit new bids by Sept. 9.

Because a Royal Oak man had carried his legal battle against the county to the State Supreme Court for awarding the first contract to Fredman instead of the low bidder, supervisors found themselves suddenly with Fredman and the mechanical contractor, R. L. Spitzley Co., pulling out their original bids.

Both companies said they couldn't afford to wait any longer during the pending court fight.

The victim is Dolores Polander, 8400 Epworth.

Pontiac Auto Sales Rise 109 Per Cent

Retail sales by Pontiac automobile dealers in July totaled 35,518, a 109 per cent increase over July of last year when the figure was 16,977, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and Pontiac Motor Division general manager.

For the first seven months of 1959, Pontiac retail sales of 247,561 show a 78 per cent gain over the same period last year, exceeding the total number of new Pontiacs sold during the entire year of 1958. More than 301,000 new Pontiacs have been retailed since the division's wide track models were introduced last fall.

With retail sales holding at near record levels, Pontiac Motor Division continues its strong leadership in the medium priced field, Knudsen said.

GENEVA (AP) — The East-West foreign ministers conference recessed tonight without an agreement for ending the Berlin crisis but with a decision to meet again at a date and place yet to be decided.

Tearful Poles Wave Goodbye to Nixons

From Our News Wires

WARSAW, Poland — Ten thousand Poles lined the streets of Warsaw today, waving and applauding, some with tears in their eyes as Vice President Richard M. Nixon left by jetliner for Washington.

"We came to Poland as friends," the vice president said in a farewell speech at the Babice Military Airport on the edge of Warsaw. "We are leaving Poland as better friends."

A big crowd is also expected to greet Vice President Richard M. Nixon at Washington National Airport on his return from Russia and Poland about 3 p.m.

President Eisenhower does not plan to go to the airport but has asked that Nixon drive immediately to the White House to report to him.

There will be a big contingent of officials to greet the vice president when he steps from his plane, however. Acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon will lead the reception.

White House aides, members of the House and Senate, Cabinet members and representatives from the diplomatic corps also were expected to be on hand.

He is due at Washington's National Airport at 2:30 p.m. EST after a 10½-hour jet flight, with a refueling stop at Keflavik, Iceland.

Nixon wound up his three days in Poland with another plea for "one world." He exchanged toasts to peace and friendship with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz at a U.S. Embassy reception Tuesday night.

"We have different political and economic systems at this time, but whatever differences we have in the political and economic area should not keep apart two peoples who have so much friendship in their hearts for each other," he said.

"We hear a great deal of talk these days about two worlds. To me the concept of two worlds is basically negative and wrong. What we should all work for is one world in which each people has the choice of the political and economic system which it wants, and what is most important is that, despite what differences we have, we should find areas to cooperate together in peaceful pursuits."

Cyrankiewicz in response pledged that Poland and its Communist allies will do everything possible to avert the danger of another world war. But he loosed a blast at West Germany.

President Will Go on Air to Push Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will make a nationwide broadcast tomorrow night to urge enactment by Congress of effective labor control legislation.

Eisenhower will speak from his office at 6:30 p.m. (EST) over the major radio and TV networks.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the White House had asked for 15 minutes on the networks "to permit the President to talk to the nation on the need of the Congress to enact this year effective labor reform legislation."

Eisenhower presumably will ask for legislation much like that of the Landrum-Griffin bill, which has been offered in the House as a substitute for the bill drafted by the House Labor Committee.

At a news conference last week, the President spoke favorably of the measure sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich).

Union leaders call this bill much tougher than the one reported by the House Labor Committee. The AFL-CIO is strongly opposed to it.

DEMANDS EQUAL TIME

In the House, Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz) told his colleagues he was demanding that the networks give equal time to speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) or someone designated by Rayburn.

He suggested that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), sponsor of a Senate-passed labor bill, be given the time if Rayburn doesn't take it.

Rayburn himself had told a news conference before the House met that he had no plans to seek network time for a reply to the City Will Reveal Plans for Downtown Area

By PETE LOCHBILER

City officials were prepared today to advance a tentative plan for the revitalization of downtown Pontiac.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said leaders of the downtown community would be invited within a few days to view city suggestions for improvements to enhance the retail shopping area.

Among those invited are officers of the Downtown Redevelopment Group, the organization that helped finance the city's study for improvement of downtown traffic.

Rowston said it is hoped that downtown businessmen will agree to push through a redevelopment plan themselves.

Details of what the city has in mind were kept under wraps.

But Rowston conceded, "We are considering the possibility of establishing a shoppers' mall in the downtown area."

A draft of possible improvements has been prepared by Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, and James Bates, the city's new planner.

CITY WILL ASSIST

"We plan to point out to downtown representatives what we think should be done and offer city assistance in preparing a redevelopment plan and carrying it out," said Rowston.

"But it is the city's position that responsibility for redevelopment rests on the shoulders of the downtown businessmen."

Rowston noted that downtown recently has been spruced up by flower boxes and new street lighting.

"But it is time for redevelopment to be carried further," he believed.

Rowston said that the city's ideas would take several years to accomplish and that they would tie in with urban renewal plans and the proposed downtown loop highway.

Through urban renewal, the city hopes to eliminate blighted business areas on S. Saginaw street.

MALLS POSSIBLE

The loop highway, already approved by the State Highway Department, would eliminate most through traffic downtown and make possible the closing of some streets for shoppers' malls.

The city already contemplates locating an extensive system of parking within the loop area.

David S. Geer, the city's planning consultant, has often pointed out the possibilities for a landscaped shopping mall within the loop.

Suggest Wearing Bathing Suits for Next 5 Days

Skies are expected to be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with showers and scattered thundershowers developing during the period.

Temperatures will drop to near 70 tonight and rise to 87 Thursday. Partly cloudy and cooler is Friday's outlook.

Light variable winds today will become southerly at 10 to 16 miles tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts thundershowers throughout the state tonight and tomorrow with temperatures turning cooler late tomorrow night.

About one-half inch of rain will fall as scattered thundershowers tomorrow and again about Sunday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 66. The mercury rose to 88 at 2 p.m.

Troopers Nab Pontiac Man in Beating

A Pontiac man wanted by Grand Rapids Police for investigation of attempted murder was apprehended by Pontiac State Police early this morning.

Herbert O. Wilson, 30, of 607 Granada St., was the object of a statewide search until Troopers Stanley Doubleday and Alfred Biland spotted him in a car at M59 and Porter road at 1:40 a.m.

Grand Rapids Police said Wilson beat his wife's former husband with a table lamp in a hotel room last night.

The victim, identified by police as Jack Levandoski, 35, of Grand Rapids, was in critical condition today at St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids.

Wilson checked into the Manger Hotel in downtown Grand Rapids yesterday, according to Grand Rapids Police Lt. Det. Thomas McGavin.

"As far as we know now, Wilson called Levandoski sometime before 8 p.m. and said he wanted to talk to him," McGavin said this morning.

SAYS HE KILLED HIM

"Levandoski went to Wilson's room and at the present we are attempting to find out what happened in the next two hours. Levandoski has been unable to make a statement."

Wilson went to the home of an unidentified woman about four

President, but that someone else might.

Eisenhower is known to want, among other things, legislation outlawing what is sometimes called blackmail picketing and tightening up laws on secondary boycotts.

He has been represented as regarding both the House committee bill as well as the bill already passed by the Senate as inadequate to correct abuses disclosed by the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark).

Eisenhower's decision to make an appeal to the people on the issue puts him and his prestige in the middle of a hot fight in Congress over legislation.

BREAKFAST SESSION

The President's plans were announced shortly after he had had a White House breakfast session with 22 Republican House members.

This group calls itself the 82nd Club and is composed of Republicans first elected to Congress in 1950.

Rep. Tom Curtis of Missouri said after the session that the GOP legislators had urged Eisenhower to make a TV-radio speech in favor of the Landrum-Griffin bill.

It appeared, however, that this was already in the works before the breakfast gathering.

The menu included bacon and eggs.

Eisenhower posed with groups of the lawmakers on the White House steps. In fine good humor, he commented:

"I can't miss a chance like this to get my picture taken."

IN RULES COMMITTEES

The rival bills are now in the rules committee — the group which charts the House program.

State's Poet Laureate Edgar Guest Dies

Birmingham, England, the son of an accountant. His family moved to Detroit in 1891 and young Eddie got a job in a drugstore.

Guest entered the newspaper field as an office boy in the Free Press business office, and in 1895 moved "upstairs" to the editorial office in the same capacity. He later became a police reporter.

His chance to write poetry came while he was the paper's exchange editor. His job was to clip items out of other papers to be used as fillers. Frequently, Eddie would slip in one of his own poems.

The editors finally caught on, and Guest was assigned to write a weekly column, "Zchaff." Later, he contributed "Blue Monday Chat," which was expanded into a daily column, "Breakfast Table Chat."

Guest's first collection of works were published in 1909 by him and his brother. A second offering was put out with help from fellow Rotarians. The book was an immediate hit.

That success brought him an offer from a Chicago publishing house. Through the years, 14 of his books were published.

For 11 years, from 1931 to 1942, Guest starred on radio with his own program.

In 1936, the governor of Michigan proclaimed Feb. 14 as "Edgar A. Guest" day. Detroit honored him with just plain "Eddie Guest" day. He was always in demand as a speaker and lecturer.

His wife, Nellie, whom he married in 1906 when he was making $28 a week, died Aug. 28, 1945. She was 60.

Guest is survived by a son, Edgar Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Janet Sobel.

resented an opportunity to get away from home like other college students."

On the train trip to Lehigh, Mr. Glancy met a student returning for his sophomore year. "According to him, mechanical engineering was the one and only course for me to take," Mr. Glancy related, "and the gist of his argument seemed to be that the finest fellows in school were studying that particular course.

"I couldn't imagine any better reason for selecting a particular profession so I started to study for a degree in mechanical engineering."

Upon graduating, he went to work as a mining engineer in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. Glancy married his wife, Lenora, in 1906 and took her to Cuba where he worked with a mining company for four years.

He organized his own company, earning enough money to get back to the United States.

Mr. Glancy's early years saw him moving about a great deal, but it never seemed to affect him. "A man can't let his own convenience be a barrier to his progress in business," he said.

He entered a new field, general contracting, after his Cuban venture. In World War I, he helped build the huge Old Hickory Power plant in Tennessee for the Du Pont interests.

Du Pont kept him on after the war to reorganize auto plants in Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota.

By 1925 Mr. Glancy was president of GM's old Oakland Division, forerunner of the Pontiac Motor Division.

It was under Mr. Glancy as general manager that things began to hum at the Oakland plant.

In January 1926, a new car was introduced — bearing the proud name of Pontiac. Production that year hit a then-staggering total of 76,000 units.

In its second year of infancy, Pontiac output hit a staggering total of 127,699 units produced and delivered, nearly twice the 1926 production.

In 1932 the division paid full tribute to the new car created under Mr. Glancy by changing its name to the Pontiac Motor Division.

Mr. Glancy's organizing talents were recognized by the state in the 1930s. After leaving the Pontiac Division, he headed the Michigan Planning Commission and the Michigan Public Trust Commission.

He was placed in charge of ordnance for the Office of Production Management and made a brigadier general before the nation entered World War II.

Mr. Glancy became liaison officer between England and the United States and helped run the lend-lease program.

Then came the "Day of Infamy." With the nation at war, the Army gave Gen. Glancy command of the Tank-Automotive Center in Detroit. Praise was showered on Mr. Glancy for his work in speeding military production by the auto industry.

In recent years Mr. Glancy spent much of his time working for the Joan Glancy Memorial Hospital in Duluth, Ga., near Atlanta.

The hospital was founded by Mrs. Glancy and him in 1947 and named for their daughter who died in childhood.

The retired industrial genius set up the hospital in Duluth (population 628) when he learned about a little boy who died because his sharecropper father couldn't afford a doctor.

Surviving are the widow, Lenora; a son, Alfred R. Glancy Jr. of Grosse Pointe Shores, an investment banker; two daughters, Mrs. Inman Brandon and Mrs. N. Baxter Maddox, both of Atlanta, and a sister, Mrs. Walter Guy of Washington, D. C.

Private funeral service was scheduled for today in Washington. Burial will be in Rock Creek Park Cemetery there.

The family suggested contributions to the Joan Glancy Hospital in place of flowers.

shut down a few hours because of flooding, while more than a dozen homes north of the plants suffered flooded basements when storm drains backed up.

Commissioner Wesley J. Wood asked the Engineering Department to estimate the cost of deepening the Clinton in the vicinity of Belmont, Jessie, Shirley and Tasmania streets on Pontiac's east side.

"Every spring, the river floods and fills basements. Last Wednesday the situation was terrible," said Wood.

Wrenn doubted the practicality of dredging only a small portion of the river.

"The river will just fill up there and keep on flooding, as usual," he said. "The situation won't be changed significantly unless we steepen the grade of the entire river all the way from the city limits."

Willman was asked to bring in a report on the condition of the city's storm drains.

One citizen reported that his basement flooded twice this month for the first time in years.

Carl L. Moss, 202 Rockwell Ave., said he investigated the storm drain in front of his home and found it partially blocked by silt and debris and in bad repair.

Commissioners are scheduled to take up the storm drain problem at their next informal meeting, as yet unscheduled.

"This is a tremendously large problem that deserves our full attention for a long time," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

Seek Second Round of Courthouse Bids

The county had requested Fredman, builder of Pontiac's municipal buildings, to hold out another six months. The company said no.

So during its rare summer session today the Board accepted withdrawal of Fredman's and Spitzley's bids, and voted to readvertise for new ones in these two fields.

"What reason do we have to suppose we won't run into the same thing all over again?" questioned Huber.

Frid, a consistent dissenter in the past, asked Levinson to promise that the low bidder would get the contract in the new batch of bids. Levinson wouldn't budge.

Afterwards he said chances of a repeat performance were "very remote." He said also he expected Fredman to re-submit a bid, but didn't know whether the past low general contractor bidder, A. Z. Shmina & Sons Co. of Detroit, would do likewise.

"If he does he will be treated fairly," Levinson said.

He told fellow supervisors that he should have a report by the Board's Sept. 14 meeting on the new bids. Winning electrical contractor, Schultz Electric Service of Pontiac, has already signed a contract with the county.

At their June 2 meeting supervisors voted 70 to 4 to award contracts to Fredman, Spitzley, and Schultz.

Immediately the Shimina company promised it would go to court to oppose the Board's giving the contract to other than their low-bidding company.

Three Oakland County Circuit Court judges ruled the Board was legally correct in doing so. An appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court followed.

Later, with word that Fredman had agreed to withdraw his first bid, and that the county would readvertise, Frank P. Scruggs Jr., who brought the suit against the Board, decided to drop the appeal.

other reports with the Senate on its 1958 investigations, alleging:

1. That the brothers, Max and Louis Block, who since have resigned as officials of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, "milked the treasuries" of two New York locals. The report said they got $241,000 out of the locals' treasures for other purposes.

2. That the A & P stores' eastern division "participated in an elaborate conspiracy" with Max Block to force 10,000 A & P employes into his union under a 45-hour work week contract instead of the 40-hour week rival unions demanded.

The three reports followed one filed by the committee Tuesday charging that Hoffa will "destroy the decent labor movement" in this country unless someone curbs him.

The reports, filed by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark), break a jam that has delayed an official statement of findings in the committee's far-reaching investigation last year.

The senators still have not agreed on what they learned from a politically tinged 1958 investigation of Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers Union, and there was no indication of when they might agree.

In its blast at Hoffa, the committee said "there does not exist in the record of the committee a more shocking or flagrant story of betrayal of union members and their families."

REPRESENT OVERCHARGES

It said the three million dollars represented commissions and fees paid since 1950 to Allen Dorfman and Rose Dorfman, son and wife of Paul Dorfman, and reported that $1,650,000 of the amount represented overcharges against the union. The Dorfmans served as brokers for huge health-welfare insurance programs of the Central Conference of Teamsters and the Michigan Conference of Teamsters.

Committee Okays Frederick H. Mueller

The committee acted immediately after a two-hour public hearing at which Mueller said he believes in whole-hearted cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of the government.

Mueller's nomination, submitted by President Eisenhower on July 21, now goes to the Senate for confirmation — probably tomorrow or the next day.

SISTER MARY WILLIAM

Leaving Post at St. Joseph

Sister Mary William Being Transferred to Clinton, Iowa

Sister Mary William R.S.M., for the past six years administrator at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, will soon assume new and similar duties at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Clinton, Iowa.

Replacing Sister Mary William at the Pontiac hospital is Sister Mary Xavier R.S.M., formerly administrator at Ann Arbor's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for the past six years.

Effective date of the change in administrators at the 336-bed hospital was Aug. 1, a spokesman said.

"Sister Mary William is being re-assigned as part of a regular rotating plan set up by the Sisters of Mercy," the spokesman said.

Also leaving the Pontiac hospital is Harold E. Brady, for six years assistant administrator, and Sister Mary Ann Francis, supervisor of surgery for the past two years.

Brady, who began at the Pontiac hospital in 1953 along with Sister Mary William, resigned to accept a position as administrator at St. Luke's Hospital in Aberdeen, S.D. Before coming to Pontiac Brady was associated with Detroit's Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Sister Francis left the local hospital to accept the position as supervisor of pediatrics at the Ann Arbor hospital.

Before being named administrator in 1953, Sister Mary William had served in four different capacities at the Pontiac hospital, including that as supervisor of the business office.

She is expected to leave Pontiac for her new Iowa position sometime next week.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Township Players Seek Members

BIRMINGHAM — A membership drive will get underway when the West Bloomfield Township Players meet at 8:30 p.m. Aug. 13 at the West Bloomfield Township Hall on Orchard Lake road near W. Maple road.

Each member will bring a guest in an effort to boost the membership in the Players.

The workshop presentation of the evening will be excerpts from Thornton Wilder's three-act play, "Skin of Our Teeth," under the direction of Don Craig, who has directed professionally in summer stock in Connecticut and civic theater work in Los Angeles.

Included in the workshop cast are Martha Kock, Hugh Stevenson and Merle Pedicini, all of the Birmingham - Bloomfield Township area.

The Senior Men's Club of Birmingham will climax its summer activities Aug. 14 with a picnic at the Pontiac Yacht Club. Members will meet at the Birmingham Community House prior to the picnic.

Shuffleboard playing for the Senior Men will continue each weekday at 2 p.m. at the Community House.

Jeffrey Martin Dunn

Service for Jeffrey Martin Dunn, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dunn, of 18362 Beverly Rd., Beverly Hills, was to be held at 3 p.m. today at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Jeffrey died of meningitis Monday at the Community Hospital, in Cheboygan.

Surviving in addition to his parents are his sister, Pauline; three brothers, Ernest, Michael and James Jr., all at home; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rubly of Passadena, Calif.

Pontiac Man Nabbed in Attempted Slaying miles away and told her, "I just killed a man at the Manger Hotel," detectives revealed. She called police.

When detectives reached the room it was 11 p.m. "The victim opened the door, but I don't know how he was able to do so. If Wilson hadn't told anyone of the incident, we probably would have found Levandoski dead in the room this morning," McGavin said.

Pontiac area authorities were alerted. Doubleday and Biland were sent to the White Lake Township intersection shortly after 1 a.m. to watch all cars traveling toward Pontiac.

After about 30 minutes they saw a car answering the description of Wilson's. When the troopers pulled him over, Wilson offered no resistence, they said. He was unarmed.

The officers booked Wilson at the Oakland County Jail and he was to be turned over to Grand Rapids authorities this afternoon.

William McKinley Green

Service for William McKinley Green, 62, of 5975 Rolton Ct., Waterford Township, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mr. Green, a retired Birmingham police officer, died at Ripley, W. Va., Monday while vacationing with his wife.

He had been a member of the Birmingham police force for 27 years, retiring as a detective lieutenant in 1953. He was Bloomfield Village's sole policeman until his death.

He was a member of the American eLgion Post 431, Waterford, the Metropolitan Club Spirit Nine and Cedar Lodge No. 60 F&AM at Clarkston.

Surviving besides his wife, Aileen, are two daughters, Mrs. Eugene Parmenter of Birmingham and Mrs. William Bevan of Ortonville; three sons, Richard of Pontiac, LeRoy Duncan of Waterford and Larry, at home; a sister, Mrs. Roy Skarritt of Milford and two brothers, John and Clark, both of Pontiac; and 11 grandchildren.

Would Send Hayes Jones' Family to Rome

A drive to send the parents of Pontiac athlete Hayes Jones to the 1960 Olympic games in Rome gathered impetus at the City Commission meeting last night—$26 worth.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston set up a Hayes Jones fund and appointed as trustees the Rev. J. Allen Parker and H. Guy Moats, Pontiac Press sportswriter.

The public can mail contributions of $1 or more to Olympic Fund, in care of the Pontiac Post Office, Rowston said.

Jones is the 21-year-old former Pontiac Central High School track star who has been selected as a member of the U.S. Olympic team.

Idea for the fund came from Sgt. Allen B. Noble, Pontiac police detective who is acquainted with the Jones family.

Noble noted that Jones in the past has usually performed outstandingly when his parents were on hand to cheer him on.

Since Jones' parents are financially unable to make the expensive trip, Noble suggested a public drive to raise funds for the flight to Rome.

"This is a splendid suggestion," said Rowston, reaching into his pocket for the first $1 contribution.

Fellow city officials and several members of the audience followed suit.

Commission Recognizes Unit

Eastman Gets Police Reserve Dispute

By a split vote, the City Commission last night washed its hands of the Police Reserve problem, despite a flareup of new troubles.

With more than three months of negotiation by a team headed by Mayor Philip E. Rowston apparently gone for naught, the reserve question was tossed into the lap of Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

"The fellows still aren't ready to go back to work," reported John Graham, chief of the 70-member Reserve force.

Commissioners met the newest complaints by passing a resolution giving simple recognition to the Reserve's existence and leaving all other details up to Eastman.

One concession allows reservists, working with the Police Department coordinator, to recommend a set of rules and regulations to Eastman.

Another, agreed to earlier by negotiators, would allow continued negotiations on the style of uniforms reservists are to wear.

Uniforms have turned out to be a major stumbling block, Graham said.

WANT DECISION

He reported that the reservists were dissatisfied with a back-to-work settlement under which new style uniforms would be the subject of negotiation until a final decision by Eastman at the end of the year.

"They want a decision now," Graham said. "They won't buy a delay. That's it. Period."

The reservists want a uniform like the new ones regular Pontiac police have been wearing since late last spring.

According to a settlement announced last Tuesday by City Manager Walter K. Willman, reservists would return to work wearing their old uniforms at least until the end of the year.

The old Reserve uniform has a different color shirt and jacket style from the regular uniform.

Agreed to by negotiators representing the city and the Reserve, the settlement resolved all major differences except the question of uniforms, Willman said.

OFF THE JOB

But since last Tuesday, the Reserve membership has met and rejected the uniform provision, Graham said.

Reservists have been deliberately off the job since early spring. Their chief complaint was that they hadn't been used much anyway by Eastman since last December.

Debate on last night's resolution opened with commissioners apparently unaware that the Reservists weren't returning to work.

Graham's announcement resulted in parliamentary confusion.

With Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Robert A. Landry dissenting, the Commission by a 5-2 vote quickly approved the resolution, which gives official recognition to the reservists for the first time.

The vote was pushed through by Rowston on motion of Commissioner John A. Dugan. Then, when Landry and Henry objected, Rowston admitted that he had erroneously called for the vote while the motion was still unseconded.

On Henry's insistence, the resolution was rescinded and another vote taken. It was still 5-2.

Prepared by Willman, the resolution stated, simply, that reservists are "to supplement" regular police in times of emergency and act "as otherwise directed" by the public safety director.

It provided for a committee of reservists to work on the rules and regulations.

Henry and Landry, who've clashed repeatedly with other commissioners on questions concerning the reserves and Eastman, preferred recognizing reservists through the stronger, detailed method of ordinance.

The two commissioners asserted that the Commission, through an ordinance, should continue to keep tabs on the reservists instead of shunting their problems off for a solution in the city's administrative offices.

Dugan took an opposite stand. "I don't want the Commission faced with all kinds of political arguments concerning the Reserve," he said.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles conceded that an ordinance legally spelling out details of the Reserve activity might be necessary some day.

"But let's give this present program a chance to work under resolution," he urged.

"We're fluffing the reserve problem off," Landry charged. "Six months from now, a year from now, five years from now—some day this city is going to walk right back into the whole problem again."

7 Island Drivers Tie Up Horses

Fail to Get Licenses at Mackinac; Must Stand Trial Today

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP) — A new chapter has been launched in the state-local struggle for control of the carriage trade on this resort island where automobiles are banned.

On the complaint of state authorities, seven city-licensed carriage drivers were temporarily enjoined from operating their horse-drawn vehicles on state park territory for commercial purposes.

The Mackinac Island State Park Commission, a state agency, has jurisdiction over all but a small fraction of the island's territory lying within the city of Mackinac Island and Harrisville.

The injunction meant that the drivers would have to discontinue hauling sightseers around the island, an important part of their trade.

W. S. Woodfill, commission chairman and complainant in the case, alleged the drivers either have not applied for licenses to operate in state park territory or have been denied such licenses.

The injunction order was issued by Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon of Petoskey and served by Sheriff Leslie McDonald of Mackinac County on:

Garrett Chapman, O. J. Smith, Bernard Gough, Benton Gough, Jack Welcher, Cliff Therrien and Otto Emmons. Bernard Gough is the city police chief, Welcher city treasurer.

Chapman, Bernard Gough and Burton Gough are due to stand trial in justice court at St. Ignace today on charges of operating without a state license on state territory.

The three were arrested by McDonald last week on complaint of Woodfill.

The injunction would not affect trips between the Grand Hotel, chief island hostelry, and the docks in the city of Mackinac Island, where the seven drivers are licensed.

Detroit Steel Production Down to 23.8 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit area steel production will amount to 23.8 per cent of capacity, equal to about 36,250 tons of steel this week, according to Iron Age Magazine.

The trade paper said the figure compared with last week's actual operating rate of 23.6 per cent of capacity when 36,000 tons of steel were produced.

In the same week of a year ago when all local mills were operating, production was 66 per cent of capacity and output totaled 94,050 tons, the magazine said.

Ivan Asks Price of Cigarettes

Russians Want to Know

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—If the electronic brain that answers questions at the U.S. exhibition is any guide, the Russian people are most interested in how much American cigarettes cost.

The RAMAC computer on display at the exhibit has answers to 4,000 possible queries.

Of the 9,596 questions posed in the first 10 days of the fair, here are the 10 asked most often in order of popularity:

1. Cost of American cigarettes?
2. What is the American dream?
3. What is the direction of American jazz?
4. What is the Liberty Bell?
5. What is American rock 'n' roll?
6. What new ceramic material is used for cooking in America?
7. How many Negroes have been lynched in the United States since 1950? Six according to records compiled by Tuskegee Institute, a Negro college, was the answer.
8. What is the wardrobe of the average American woman in the middle-income group? The answer: One winterweight long coat, one spring weight coat, one raincoat, five house dresses, four afternoon dresses, three suits, three skirts, six blouses, three sweaters, six slips, two petticoats, five nightgowns, eight panties, five brassieres, two corsets or girdles, two robes, six pairs of nylon stockings, two pairs of short type socks, three pairs of dress gloves, one bathing suit, three pairs of play shorts, one pair of slacks and one play suit plus accessories.
9. What is the average income of the American family?
10. How old is Louis Armstrong? He is 59.

Governors Get Note From Ike

President Warns About Loss of State Liberty, Offers Cooperation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has told the nation's governors that "heavy-handed centralization" of government could eventually lead to loss of individual liberty.

The presidential warning was contained in a message to the 51st governors' conference in San Juan, Puerto Rico. It was released by the White House.

"We are dedicated to meeting the governmental needs of this expanding nation within the finely balanced federal framework," the President said.

"We know that heavy-handed centralization, the loss of local responsibility, leads to the loss of local authority and finally of individual freedom."

Eisenhower called on the governors "to guard this centralizing tendancy and to lead the way to ever rising standards of government excellence."

Girl Accuses Minister in State Paternity Suit

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — An 18-year-old girl Tuesday filed a paternity suit in Circuit Court naming a minister as the father of her unborn child.

The defendant was identified as "John Doe," alias "Uncle Dummy."

Police said "Uncle Dummy" is known to his followers as a prophet. The bearded minister has made a number of predictions over the years, including the elections of President Eisenhower and Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

A warrant for his arrest was issued by the prosecutor's office and sheriff's officers said they hope to pick him up in a day of two. Police said they do not know "Uncle Dummy's" correct name.

Hopes Polio Has Reached Its Peak in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A state health department official expressed hope today that Arkansas' polio epidemic may have hit a peak.

Dr. A. M. Washburn, director of the department's communicable disease division, said the epidemic has been concentrated among young children and unvaccinated persons.

So far this year, the department has recorded 101 polio cases, compared to only eight at this time last year. Dr. Washburn said 87 of these have been paralytic—and 62 of the victims had had no polio inoculations. Five persons have died from the disease.

Dr. Washburn said 80 of the 101 victims are children under 10 and only seven are persons older than 20.

Pulaski County (Little Rock) has had the heaviest concentration, with 35 cases—more than a third of the state's total.

The tiny southwestern English port of Portland dates back 3,500 years, to the Phoenician traders.

School Laws Ruled Legal

U.S. Judge Calls Two Arkansas Placement Rules Constitutional

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Axel J. Beck ruled Tuesday that Arkansas' 1956 and 1959 placement laws are constitutional on their face.

He also ordered the Dollarway School District, near Pine Bluff, to admit three Negro children to a formerly all-white school.

Judge Beck held that the Dollarway board used a 1956 Arkansas pupil placement law as a "cover-up to conceal its antiracial and proracial segregation attitude."

The lengthy written decision declared that the record and testimony in the Dollarway case, heard in U.S. District Court at Little Rock June 17, showed the Dollarway board and school officials have maintained what he called a "rigid racial segregation policy in all of its schools."

The Little Rock School Board used a 1959 pupil assignment law to assign six Negroes to two formerly all-white high schools.

Judge Beck held that the 1959 placement law, similar to that of Alabama, is constitutional on its face "since its provisions assure equal rights to all children in any Arkansas school district."

House Gets Busy Today on New Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Judiciary Committee leaders said they expect to finish work today on a civil rights bill.

That prediction came from both Chairman Emanuel Celler (D - NY), and Rep. William M. McCullough (R - Ohio), senior GOP member, despite a last-minute effort to reopen the issue of racial discrimination in government contract employment.

With Congress expected to adjourn within a month, time is running out for passage of a bill to broaden the 1957 Civil Rights Act, especially in fields related to school integration. Even if the committee finishes a bill today for House action, it faces possible Southern delay in the Rules Committee. Civil rights legislation has made slower progress in the Senate.

Some Republican members of the House Judiciary Committee more than a week ago joined Southerners in knocking the government contract provision out of the pending bill. President Eisenhower had proposed establishment of a commission to push enforcement of the provisions in government contracts against job discrimination.

TO RECONSIDER

It was learned, however, that at recent closed committee sessions there has been talk of reconsidering this vote and restoring the commission section.

Chairman Celler confirmed that there may be such an attempt.

"Some of the Republicans are having second thoughts," he said.

Southerners were confident they could have a reconsideration motion ruled out on the parliamentary ground that it comes too late.

The committee has up for discussion sections on aid for integrating school districts and provisions for education of servicemen's families in areas where local officials might close public schools ordered to integrate.

The committee already has approved sections on bombing, mob action against court orders affecting schools, and preservation of election records to aid voting rights enforcement. Also approved is a two-year extension of the life of the present Civil Rights Commission.

West Blames Reds at Geneva

Claims Russia Seeks to Enclose Free Berlin Behind Iron Curtain

GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers blamed Russia in the closing session of the big-four conference today for their failure to reach agreement here on a Berlin settlement. They accused the Soviets of seeking to annex West Berlin to the Communist system.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said that as far as he had been able to determine in almost 10 weeks of negotiation the Soviet Union is "not really interested in improving the situation in Berlin."

"It is interested in getting the Western powers out of Berlin," he said in his final speech of the conference. "Apparently continued competitive coexistence of freedom and communism in Berlin is unrewarding to the Soviet Union . . .

"The Soviet proposals (in the conference) to date have seemed to us to be designed gradually to annex these people (of West Berlin) to the Communist system against their will. This cannot be permitted."

Herter held the door open to another round of talks among the foreign ministers, perhaps late this year. A recess agreement worked out last night with Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko was reported to leave the date open.

Stowaway Staggers From Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—Dock workers opened a hatch on the freighter Cordoba when she arrived Tuesday, four days after leaving Havana.

From the hold came a gaunt and unshaven man, with bulging eyes. He clutched his throat. One man said "He looked like a maniac."

The man was wearing a dirty undershirt, brown dungarees, and socks without shoes. He ran across the deck, down the gangplank, and disappeared into a bar and grill. He drank six glasses of water in rapid succession. Then he staggered into the street and was lost from view.

Seven hours later, while still unloading cargo, the dockers found the naked body of a second stowaway, wedged behind several bales of tobacco.

During the voyage, temperatures in the hold had gone over 115 degrees.

An ambulance surgeon said the man apparently died of thirst. He apparently stripped in an attempt to survive the heat.

Death Notices

MRS. HIRAM A. STARR

Former Pontiac resident Mrs. Hiram A. (Anna M.) Starr of Hadley died of a stroke at her home yesterday after a brief illness. She was 72.

She was a member of the Ladies Aid of the Hadley Federated Church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Jesse D. Withey of Peck, Mrs. Kenneth Nelson of Denver, Colo. and Mrs. John R. Blacker of Pontiac; three sons, George W. of Hadley, Harold A. of Lapeer and Albert W. of Midland; 11 grandchildren, and a sister, Miss Beatrice Featherston of Hadley.

Service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Muir Funeral Home in Lapeer. Mrs. Starr's body will be brought to the Oak Hill Cemetery of Pontiac for burial.

JOHN S. DAVIDSON

CLARKSTON — Service for John S. Davidson, 76, of 6350 Gulick St., will be held in Waynesburg, Ky., Friday, with burial in the Waynesburg Cemetery.

Mr. Davidson died unexpectedly of a heart attack yesterday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. George Pence, in Covina, Calif. He had been there on a vacation for four weeks.

Surviving are two other daughters, Mrs. Arthur Jacobs, with whom he made his home, and Mrs. Jack Wood of Detroit; three sons, a sister, a brother, 19 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Will Launch Seeds Into Space for Study

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (UPI) — Spinach and turnip seeds will be sent into space sometime this week as part of program to determine a diet for future space explorers.

Republic aviation scientists, who made the announcement last night, said the seeds will be sent more than 100,000 feet high in a navy balloon, at which height they will be exposed to lethal doses of radiation.

Later the seeds will be planted in Republic's "lunar garden" and studied during their germination and growth.

Will Finance Expansion

Tax Notes to Pay Hospital Costs

Financing to complete the Pontiac General Hospital expansion program was plotted by the city last night.

Costs to meet extra repairs blocking completion of remodeling of the hospital's east wing will be met through borrowing next year in anticipation of 1961 taxes, according to a resolution adopted by the City Commission.

City Manager Walter K. Willman estimated recently that $350,000 will have to be borrowed through tax anticipation notes to finance repairs that were unbudgeted when construction funds orginally were allotted.

It will be the fourth straight year that money to finance the hospital has been earmarked out of tax monies that otherwise would have gone into the capital improvement program.

Meeting a promise to raise $950,000 to equip the hospital, commissioners last year borrowed $317,000 in anticipation of 1958 taxes and $317,000 in anticipation of 1959 taxes. This year, $316,000 was borrowed in anticipation of 1960 taxes.

The resolution which spelled out the financing plan was drawn up by City Manager Walter K. Willman to formalize details of new financial arrangements agreed on this year by the city and hospital.

Willman said the new pact embodies all the points agreed to formally and informally since hospital finances floundered last summer.

The eight-point pact, renewable every two years, also contains these provisions, all of which have been previously reported, Willman said:

1. The hospital agrees to pay back city funds advanced to meet the extra repair costs, but it won't have to start paying until it has built up approximately one month's cash reserve — $400,000.

2. The city agrees to pay back to the hospital early next year $190,000 which the hospital took from its equipment fund in March to get the repairs started.

3. From now on, the city will pay interest on the 1954 hospital bond issue, $79,000 this year. The hospital has paid the annual interest rate in the past.

4. Beginning this year, the city will stop paying its annual $75,000 to the hospital for the retirement program and to help offset emergency room losses. The hospital will finance its retirement plan itself.

5. A 10-year, interest-free moratorium on the hospital's $100,000 debt to the city was declared and the debt will be gradually wiped out. The debt was set up when the city placed the hospital under a Board of Trustees in 1952.

6. The city agrees to advance the hospital $12,600 a year, payable to the construction program, to wipe out the debt and at the same time offset a $26,000 loss the hospital will take now that it has agreed to drop the annual $75,000 if the city picks up interest on the bonds. Although the bond interest is more than $75,000 this year, it is scheduled to drop to considerably less than that in a few years.

Officials have explained various features of the pact.

It is believed that once the east wing is in operation, added revenues will allow the hospital to make a profit and build reserves for the first time in several years.

While the hospital agrees to pay back all the extra repair costs eventually, it was pointed out that it must be repaid the $190,000 early next year in order to equip the east wing for operation.

After that, the $190,000 will be paid back to the city as part of the total repair bill.

Cancellation of the annual $75,000 budgeted to the hospital was important to hospital officials. They said it was interpreted as a "city subsidy" and caused the hospital to be misrepresented at the time of annual negotiations for employe wages.

Union negotiators, they said, believed the hospital could pay more in wages because it was "subsidized." But contrary to this opinion, they continued, the hospital is self-supporting and must hold down wages to achieve a balanced budget.

Little Rock School Board Advances Opening Date

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board Tuesday night advanced the scheduled opening date for the city's high schools three weeks, then emphatically denied that fear of legislative interference with its integration plan had prompted the move.

The board voted unanimously to open the four high schools, closed for a year against integration, Aug. 12, instead of Sept. 8, when junior high and elementary schools will start their term.

Board President Everett Tucker Jr. said the board is "familiar with rumors that (Gov. Orval E.) Faubus might call the Legislature into session."

"But those rumors had nothing to do with this decision," Tucker said. "The board felt these students, who have been out of the public school system for a year, needed additional time to prepare for resuming their studies."

The new opening date was proposed in a motion by Ted Lamb, one of three board members who openly oppose Faubus school policies. The motion was adopted, without discussion, after Supt. Terrell Powell had assured the board schools could be ready for opening by the new date.

Faubus, who called a special session in 1958 to obtain passage of laws which enabled him to close the schools against integration last fall, was out of the city and unavailable for comment.

But he has been critical of the board's plan to assign six Negroes to two once-white schools and has hinted the Legislature might be called to prevent it. A federal court struck down the 1958 school closing law last June.

Faubus had proposed that the board integrate two schools and leave two for segregationists, but the board was advised Tuesday by its attorney that the governor's proposal was of doubtful legality in the face of federal court integration orders.

Sixty Negroes expressed a desire to attend white schools when the board registered about 2,000 students two weeks ago. The board, invoking a state pupil placement law, assigned all but six to the all - Negro Horace Mann High School under its policy of holding integration to a minimum.

Negro leaders have criticized the board plan because so few Negro students are involved. Segregationists oppose it because they are unwilling to accept any integration.

The pupil assignment law which the board is using was upheld on its face Tuesday by U.S. Dist. Judge Axel J. Beck in a ruling on another integration case.

Beck ordered the Dollarway School Board to admit three Negro students to an all-white school near Pine Bluff, 40 miles southeast of Little Rock. Beck said the placement law, which the Dollarway board had invoked to assign the Negroes to an all-Negro school, was valid on its face but that the board had applied it illegally in the case of the three Negroes.

Jacoby Team Wins in Bridge Finals

CHICAGO (AP)—A dramatic finish climaxed a brilliant 11-day unbeaten string early today to carry the Oswald Jacoby team of New York City to the National Masters team of four championship of the American Contract Bridge League.

Jacoby wiped out a 4-point deficit on the 36th and last hand to squeeze Pat Richard Freeman's team of Washington, D. C., and win by 2 international points in the finals of the summer tournament.

The victory qualiifed Jacoby as U. S. representative in the April 1960 world championships in Rome.

The Jacoby team included Jacoby of Dallas; Ira Rubin of Los Angeles; and Samuel Stayman, William Grieve, Victor Michell and Morton Rubinow, all of New York City.

Pool Hall Doomed by Irate Neighbors

The sure hand of the law seemed destined to crack down on a week-old Pontiac pool hall today.

Turned into the City Commission last night was a petition signed by 17 residents on Wessen street and Hibbard court, complaining about noise, profanity and late hours at Freddy's Pool Hall, 186 Wessen St.

"Mostly teenagers hang out there, sometimes until 1 or 2 a.m.," said one petitioner, Mrs. John L. Crump, 194 Wessen St.

"One teenager drove his car into my fence and knocked it down. Can't the city do something about this situation?"

It turned out the city could.

"The pool hall is not even licensed," reported City Clerk Ada R. Evans. "They've never even applied for one."

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask police to close the pool hall today.

Ex-Grand Rapids Mayor Dies in Nursing Home

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — John D. Karel, 81, mayor of Grand Rapids from 1928 to 1934, died Monday night at a nursing home in suburban Comstock Park.

Karel began his political career in 1908 when he was elected alderman from the old 12th Ward. He later served as councilman, supervisor and was elected to the state Legislature in 1944. His 41-year political career ended after he served two terms in the House of Representatives.

Castro Land Reforms May Erupt Any Time

Our earlier appraisal of revolutionary leader FIDEL CASTRO, that he bears watching, still holds. Currently Cuba is another hotbed that could erupt at any time.

Back in April Castro mentioned the need for agrarian reform. This was necessary, he said, because 700,000 Cubans were unemployed and many families were starving. He said it was absurd for Cuba to buy (import) food that could be produced by Cubans on their own island after land redistribution.

Then he said flatly, "We will not nationalize . . . We will not expropriate . . . We will do it legally." A lot of people breathed easier at that, but CASTRO did not spell out in detail just what would be in his new land laws.

Within three weeks the first seizures were reported. They included 130 Cuban-owned properties. So far no foreign-owned properties have been seized. But the cry went up about CASTRO's agrarian law.

Castro's reply has been that his law would be enforced to the last letter. American-owned sugar properties were not to be exempted from distribution. He further added that the U.S. would not take any action to stop it.

In line with other revolutionists the two drafts that have appeared on the CASTRO land law are long, involved and difficult to translate. No one knows just what this agrarian reform will mean.

The provision that would stop all foreign-owned land and cutting up the pie is not news. In plain English it simply amounts to "land grabbing"—taking from the wealthy and supposedly giving to the poor.

What assurance is there that any of the 425,000 Cubans employed in the sugar industry would get any of the land?

There is a familiar ring about all this to many students of Latin American affairs. This is what happened to Mexico under the revolutionary governments of the 1920's. The Mexicans expropriated all the oil companies and other foreign owned properties and then went bust.

It took the Mexicans 15 years to find out that this Communistic experiment didn't work. But gradually the Mexicans became smart and found that they needed foreign capital, foreign markets and foreign imports, including know-how.

Since CASTRO's ego is so high, we wonder just how far he intends to go. Right at the moment the whole situation could explode and backfire right in his face.

Appeals Court Rules Reds Must Register

The U.S. Court of Appeals has upheld the ruling of the Subversive Activities Control Board in its long battle to force the American Communist party to comply with the Internal Security Act.

Passed by Congress in 1950, the act requires "Communist action" groups to register as agents of a foreign government, open their books and label their literature as propaganda. It also prevented Communists from obtaining passports and from working in defense jobs. For nine years by court appeals the Communists have avoided compliance.

In its decision the Appeals Court held that the U. S. Communist Party "has never differed from the program and policy of the Communist Party abroad and has always adhered to that program and policy even in sharp changes."

The ruling may be appealed to the Supreme Court. But so many lower courts have held that the party is a subversive organization that compliance is just a matter of time.

The heyday is over for Communists in this country. Their newspaper, the "Daily Worker" went out of business for lack of support in January, 1958. Yet there is still a hard core faithful to Moscow and willing to do its bidding. These are the Americans who should be registered as lobbyists for a foreign government and a subversive cause.

"CIVILIZATION is a failure," says a sociologist. Hold on there, fellow! Don't condemn something before it has been fairly and adequately tried.

The Man About Town

Our Biggest Oak

It Seems to Be Located; Any Others in Prospect?

Overlook: What a few Pontiac area residents do with living in the best section on earth.

Oakland County was named for the great number of oak trees in its forests when the white man came. For the past several years this column has been looking for the largest oak tree that has survived. It now appears to have been found.

It is a swamp white oak at the corner of Letts and Rush Roads in Oakland Township, about five miles north and one mile east of Rochester, and stands within the limits of the highway. It measures 213 inches in circumference at a point four and one-half feet above the ground, which is the standard point for measuring trees.

The tree was reported to me by

of Birmingham, vice president of the Michigan Botanical Club, who thinks it may also be the largest oak of that variety in the state.

It is not a well formed oak. Early in its life its top was evidently blown off, and it then grew limbs in a more horizontal than vertical manner, starting only about ten feet above the ground. Some of these branches are more than two feet in diameter.

This makes it rather flat topped, but gives it a wing spread of at least 100 feet. The ground there is rather low, but has possibilities for a roadside park under its branches.

The family of

Grant Chamberlin,

who live within 100 feet of it, say that it has received but little previous notice, and no newspaper or other publicity within their recollection.

"If you see something flying through the air, don't be alarmed," writes

"Independent Voter,"

under a Pontiac postmark, who continues, "It's only the pants off some confirmed Democrat, that he was scared out of as he reads of the hit that Dick and Pat are making in Russia."

The record of a Holstein cow in the herd of

at Park Row Farms in Orion Township of over seven tons of milk in one year surely looks like something that should be posted in the stanchion of every other cow.

It is suggested by City Manager

Walter K. Willman

that when you're telling about Pontiac's many brilliant features that you now stress the fact that our downtown section is the most brilliantly lighted of any city in Michigan.

A phone call from

of Waterford expresses wonder why more people do not raise potatoes of the "Pontiac" variety. Cross breeding several years ago brought out this variety which has become very popular in the Traverse City and other Michigan potato sections, but not in the area in whose honor it was named. According to Mr. Allington, it is a mealy and richly tasting tuber, keeps well and is a good producer.

"Mind if I Sit Here?"

David Lawrence Wonders:

Who Won 'Visit' Poker Game?

WASHINGTON — A fascinating "poker game" has been going on for several weeks now, and the big question is: Who won — Khrushchev or Eisenhower?

LAWRENCE

The reasons behind the invitation by the President to the Soviet premier are by no means clear, and it is not yet possible to say which one was outmaneuvered.

But these facts are known—that the Soviet premier wanted a "summit" conference, and the United States didn't, though Britain was favorable and France was somewhat indifferent.

The plan for a foreign ministers conference to be held at Geneva was devised on the theory that, if any substantial progress were made, this would justify a "summit" conference.

But Nikita Khrushchev is a stubborn man. He didn't want a foreign ministers conference. He sent his foreign minister to Geneva, but with instructions to make no agreements there. Gromyko complied 100 per cent. The idea was to force a "summit" meeting on the pretense that only the heads of government could negotiate agreements.

ANOTHER APPROACH

Then the Western Allies recessed the foreign ministers conference. President Eisenhower decided on another approach. He thought that maybe an "exploratory" consultation might be held between him and the Soviet premier.

If Khrushchev wanted to come to the United States on a visit—it had been said that this was his real reason for pressing for a "summit" conference—then an invitation to him alone to come to America might serve the broad purpose.

At least it would feel out the situation for the United States, and then it could be determined whether any progress sufficient to warrant a "summit" conference had been made.

Corroboration of this analysis is to be derived in part from the President's press conference on Monday of this week, when he was asked:

"The impression has somehow been received, Mr. President, in considering a possible visit by Mr. Khrushchev to the United States, that before you would issue an invitation to him, there would have to be some evidence of 'give,' in the sense of 'give and take' on the part of Mr. Khrushchev, on Western principles. May we take it that there has been some such indication?"

The President replied as follows:

"No, I can't—I don't think you can say that, Mr. Belair. This is what I have said—that the holding of a 'summit' meeting and negotiation, that that would be, to my mind, absolutely impractical and, as the State Department says, unproductive unless we could count on some positive results. But I would say these, so far as our discussions of mutual problems, are exploratory rather than any attempt at negotiation."

Eisenhower revealed that "some time back" he had suggested to the State Department that he believed, "in the effort to melt a little bit of the ice that seems to freeze our relationships with the Soviets, that possibly a visit such as I now have proposed would be useful, and we studied this thing and, in early July, I initiated the correspondence that finally brought about an agreement."

Under the circumstances, it now is apparent just why Foreign Minister Gromyko wouldn't agree to anything at Geneva. As long as a consultation with the President of the United States was being planned, the Soviet government felt that nothing further need be done for the present.

Conversely, it is possible that Eisenhower hoped his gesture might eventually have a beneficial effect. Apparently he still held to that view even in his special conference with the press this very week, when he said:

"The visit itself (between Khrushchev and the President) has no direct connection with any possible later 'summit' meeting. I, of course, would hope that the mere announcement would inspire the foreign ministers to a greater activity, and probably some greater effort at conciliation, so that there might be results before Wednesday, when they temporarily adjourn—at least that would justify the scheduling of such a later meeting, at what time I don't know.

"But in any event, even if they have to reassemble, I would hope they could do that, if they found it reasonable and proper.

"Now I merely want to make clear that this is a personal visit."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Vitamin B and Exercise Only Real Heart Tonic

A Milwaukee reader sends a clipping of my column for Tuesday, April 21, which I titled Exercise Is Good for the Heart but the editor changed to Activity Is Protection Against Thrombosis—perhaps a better title than mine, if readers understand what thrombosis means.

In the article I said that probably some people with the "weak heart" obsession will find eminent, that is well advertised, specialists who will be only too happy, seeing that I am concerned, to tell them or the world that they DO most desperately need their daily dose of digitalis or that for them any kind of physical activity is fraught with grave peril.

The reader interpreted this as a statement of my belief that some people need a daily dose of digitalis, and cited the statement in my C.V.D. book about heart and artery troubles (for a copy send me 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) that I'd take digitalis only if my doctor ordered me to take it or else — I don't know how long I'd be willing to take it, but I'd take it or else fire the doctor and depend on the only real heart tonics, namely, vitamin B complex and graduated exercise.

The reader wants to know what in tarnation "iatrogenic" heart disease means. It seems I used this purely medical term in the article without defining it — an error that suggests I need a good brain tonic. It means doctor-produced.

The "weak heart" or "bad heart" the patient is likely to get if the doctor listens to the heart and just shakes his head or manifests concern without venturing to make a definite diagnosis. Or the heart trouble some patients develop if the doctor hears a "murmur," although the doctor does not commit himself as to the significance — or insignificance — of the murmur.

—Astounding Advice—

I have taken my 4-year-old to the doctor several times for bed-wetting. He suggested only scolding or punishment. . . . (Mrs. F.L.J.)

Ans.—Have no further truck with him. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my free pamphlet on THE BED WETTING HABIT. Anyone who scolds, punishes, humiliates or shames a child for wetting the bed should be locked up.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Advises Public to Uphold States' Rights Bill

It is no help to the people of the world in their struggle to free themselves from the coils of International communism for Averill Harriman and Richard Nixon to soften up the American people in order to invite Khrushchev to visit the United States.

Vice President Nixon even wanted us to give the World Court of which Russia is a member, jurisdiction over U. S. internal affairs. This would allow the intervention of many foreigners into the domestic life of the United States, and thus mark the end of our sovereignty.

It would be a step towards world government about which the Popes have warned. Under it, the father would have no authority over his children, the State over the citizen, or God over human society. If these ideas were ever put into effect, a "reign of terror" would inevitably follow. Man would be stripped of his property and possessions.

Support the States' Rights Bill. The closer government is to the people, the better. The opposite would result in despotism.

Nixon Gets Little Credit for Ike-Nikita Exchange

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's scant political mileage for Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchange of visits unless his part in bringing them about was bigger than President Eisenhower has revealed so far.

He had nothing to do with them, judging from what Eisenhower says.

Some political commentators see in Nixon's Soviet-Polish visits —particularly since he handled himself so well both places—a big boon to his ambitions for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

There's another view: that public recollection of Nixon's overseas journeys will be dim and lost in later events by the time of the 1960 conventions unless he accomplished something sensationally memorable in the Soviet Union.

So far as is known, he didn't.

The only sensational event while he was overseas was the news that Eisenhower and Khrushchev would visit each other. It would have added immensely to Nixon's prestige if his followers could claim he had a key role in arranging it.

There had been wide speculation —before and during Nixon's Soviet trip—that he might try to crown his Moscow visit by bringing about a meeting of the two leaders.

UNDERCUT NIXON

But Eisenhower himself undercut such an idea—although saying Nixon had acted "splendidly"—by publicly stating his role, and minimizing Nixon's, in arranging for the visits.

The President, at the very start of his Monday news conference announcement about the exchange of visits, said he was the one who had initiated the correspondence and agreements on them. He said he had started the ball rolling early in July.

But he disclosed he hadn't mentioned this to Nixon until the day, or day before, the vice president set out for Moscow. That was July 22.

Nixon, at his own news conference in Moscow Sunday, said "on balance, I believe that at some time Mr. Khrushchev should be invited . . .to the United States."

The next day—during the President's announcement Khrushchev would come — Eisenhower was asked by a reporter if the vice president had acted with or without his permission in suggesting in Moscow the Premier should come here.

Eisenhower seemed to brush aside the Nixon suggestion as of no importance. The President referred to it as an "offhand" remark.

He said the only ban he put on Nixon before he left was not to bring up in Moscow the subject of a Khrushchev visit unless the Russians mentioned it. Apparently, they did.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Labor-Management Riff Inevitable

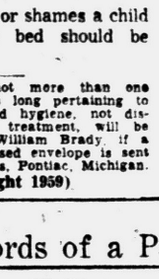

"Psychology's the bunk!" many an irate husband will tell his wife when she lays this column in front of him, but please notice the Harvard data below! And scrapbook this case so you can compare workers vs. employers from the child-parent angle. As children grow up, they cooperate better with parents, and so it is with mature workers. Send for the test below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-409: Don X., aged 35, is the executive mentioned yesterday who cited the petty jealousies among workers at the Gray Steel Mills.

"Dr. Crane, in your wide experience with personnel problems all over the land, what would you suggest as a means of reducing our management problems?

DR. CRANE

"We now use a lot of trade and aptitude tests to pick out competent workers. Then later we find their efficiency cut down by their failure to understand simple psychology.

"What's the answer? Or will there always be feuding?"

JOB PSYCHOLOGY

At Harvard University a few years ago, the Bureau of Vocational Guidance studied the causes for discharge among over 4,000 men.

Only 34.2 per cent were fired for lack of technical skill. But 65.8 per cent lost their jobs for lack of psychological understanding. These cases included insubordination, drunkenness, misconduct, etc.

Dr. A. H. Edgerton reports on another group of 3,607 workers who had been fired, and found that 77 per cent lost their jobs for similar lack of psychology on their part.

Alas, there will probably always be feuding between labor and management, for management symbolizes parents while workers have more of the carefree, irresponsible attitude of children.

For example, time clock punchers, even though of legal voting age, still are often relatively child-like in grasping the problems of business, whereas the employers function like "papa."

In the average home, the kids don't realize the struggle "mom" and "dad" undergo to pay the rent and grocery bills, insurance premiums and buy clothing for the youngsters.

So the kids may grumble at not having an adequate allowance or think their parents are penny-pinchers or slave drivers.

A similar lack of vision often holds true in the case of the average worker, who likewise has no conception as to the multitude of taxes, red tape regulations and "overhead" that management faces.

The typical American worker thus seems to think a merchant just dumps the contents of the cash register into his pockets at night to take home and squander on his own pleasures.

Thus, in a survey reported recently 72 per cent of Americans believed industry's profits totaled MORE than all the combined wages paid by those same industries.

Actually, the wages were six times as much as the profits!

STABLE WORKERS

To pick stable workers, therefore, hire those who have once operated a business of their own, whether a farm or gas station, for they understand the problems of management and cooperate better.

Which of these two workers would normally be more stable, the married man or the single person? The tavern habitue or the Scout Leader? The dance hall addict or the Sunday School teacher?

The man without adequate insurance, or the fellow with proper insurance protection?

The worker who still sponges off his aged parents for free room and board, or the fellow who pays normal prices even to his folks?

Send for my "Tests for Employers & Employes," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

See if you resemble a child or a parent in modern industry.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Little Rock Ends Period of Private School Setup

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The last of the private high schools which operated during Little Rock's integration crisis folded Tuesday.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the Little Rock Private School Corp., said "we are out of money."

The corporation runs the school. Raney High was the largest of the three private schools established to handle some of the white students displaced when Gov. Orval E. Faubus shut Little Rock's four public high schools against court-ordered integration last fall.

The Little Rock School Board intends to open the public high schools with token desegregation Sept. 8.

Twelve hundred students had enrolled for the fall term at Raney, which had an enrollment of 750 in the 1958-59 school year.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who had backed Raney High, said he thought Raney High was forced to close. "You can't operate a school without money," the governor said.

Two church-operated private schools already have gone out of business. No schools were set up for Negroes.

NO CASH FOR RANEY

"Since it appears the Little Rock Public High schools will be open," Dr. Raney said, "and since spontaneous support has failed to materialize, we find no alternative but to release our students so they may register at the public school of their choice because Raney High School will not be able to operate this semester."

Dr. Raney said the corporation had received $297,540 in donations from persons throughout the world last year and "we accomplished our mission and operated a grade A school."

Raney added, "We have undertaken to build a larger school to accommodate the 1,200 registered students and in so doing have completely depleted our funds. We find it impossible to complete this building and operate the school."

He said such continued operation would cost about $435,000.

The school charged no tuition last term but planned to charge $15 a month in the new school year.

Sets Deadline on Registration

600 Entrants Must File Applications by Aug. 25 at Lawrence Tech

Officials at Lawrence Institute of Technology have announced that the college has made room for 600 new students this fall — 300 in day college and 300 in evening college — and that the deadline for applications from new students is Aug. 25.

New students must apply before Aug. 25 to allow time for Lawrence Tech to send for their high school records.

Day classes in engineering and industrial management will begin Wednesday, Sept. 9, with registration scheduled for Sept. 1 through 3. Bachelor of science degrees are offered for each curriculum.

Evening classes in engineering and the Technical Institute will begin Sept. 14 with registration scheduled for Sept. 9 and 11.

Bachelor of science degrees are offered upon completion of the evening college engineering program and associate in engineering degrees in the Technical Institute division.

During the past year, 3,150 students were enrolled at Lawrence Tech.

Following completion of a maintenance building, Lawrence Tech has made available space in its regular units to accommodate the additional students expected to enroll this fall.

Basketball Star Held in Cadillac Auto Theft

CADILLAC (AP)—A 17-year-old Detroit all-city basketball player and his teenage companion were held on car theft charges today.

Recorder's Judge Frank Miltner yesterday ordered Reginald Harding, a student at Detroit Eastern High School, and Clayborn Williams, 18, also of Detroit, held under $500 bond.

Harding and Williams surrendered to State Police early Monday in a wooded area north of Cadillac.

Police said the youths took a car belonging to Dwight Butcher of Cadillac late Monday night. The car had been parked in front of a tavern.

Butcher saw the youths and gave chase in another vehicle. He forced the teenagers off the road and they fled into woods.

Harding and Williams were working in the Cadillac area as berry pickers.

Harding, a sophomore, averaged 20 points a game last season as Eastern won both the Metropolitan League and city titles.

Plan Honors at Interlochen

Composer, Teacher Will Receive Citations at National Music Camp

INTERLOCHEN (UPI) — The National Federation of Music Clubs will honor a composer and a retired educator at a special program at the National Music Camp Sunday.

The NFMC, which represents more than 600,000 women, will present citations to Dr. Howard Hanson of Rochester, N. Y., a well-known composer, and Dr. Alexander Ruthven, former president of the University of Michigan, for their contributions to music and music education.

Hanson, who is director of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, will conduct the National High School Symphony Orchestra in two performances Sunday in one of the season's feature programs at the famed music camp.

Six state federations which have endowed scholarship lodges at the music camp — Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Texas—also will be honored Sunday.

More than 500 women representing the NFMC's executive board, the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs and Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs opened a week-long series of meetings here Monday. Next weekend has been designated as Music Federation Weekend at the camp.

Says Cows Like Foam Mattresses

NEW YORK (AP) — A British dairy farmer turned up here today with a report that cows will give more milk if they sleep on foam rubber mattresses.

Anthony Bramley, 56-year-old retired cavalry major who operates a 120-acre dairy farm at Kidlington, England, said he knows what he is talking about because he has tried it.

Two years ago, he said, he began experimenting with a foam rubber mattress covered with plastic as a substitute for the straw traditionally used in barn stalls.

"For a long time straw has been a problem and I tried to find some labor-saving, hygienic and comfortable alternative," he said.

Bramley said he started bedding a dozen of his milk cows on rubber mattresses and that the results were surprising.

He found, he said, that the mattresses make the cows "happy, contented and comfortable." As a result, they tend to sleep longer and produce more milk, he added.

Bramley then set up a company to manufacture the mattresses at about $36 each. He came here in hopes of selling the patent to an American firm.

Peter L. Buback of Detroit to another four-year term on the State Fair Commission.

Jack Powell of Negaunee to a five-year term on the Social Welfare Commission.

None Reported for 2 Weeks

Diseases Absent in City

No communicable diseases have been reported in Pontiac for the past two weeks, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director. The last time a similar "no disease" report occurred was in 1957.

Such a report is not as rare as it might seem, according to the County Health Department, since during the summer months many people fail to report all cases.

The number of whooping cough cases, which has been running high this year, was reduced to one in the county but the Health Department felt that all of them were not reported.

Following is a list of the communicable diseases reported to the County Health Department last week:

OAKLAND COUNTY

	Past Week	Prev. Week	Year Ago
Chicken pox	1	11	1
Measles	26	1	47
Pneumonia	1	0	0
Scarlet fever	1	3	1
Whooping cough	1	1	1
Mumps	3	2	3

State Setting Up Penal Changes

Senate Asks Complete Overhaul of Old Prison Inequities

LANSING (AP)— Michigan's penal code will be thoroughly scrutinized with the possibility of a complete overhaul under a resolution adopted by the Senate.

The resolution sets up a six-member joint interim legislative committee charged with making recommendations for modernization and to eliminate inequities.

The $2,500 study group will function through Dec. 31, 1960 and report to the 1961 session.

The committee could appoint a citizens advisory council of judges, criminologists and laymen versed in penology.

Gus Harrison, state corrections director, has said the present code has unduly severe penalties, inequities and provides up to a life term for 21 offenses—far too many.

"We still have a statute on our books which makes it a criminal offense to incite Indians to violate a treaty," Harrison said.

In other action yesterday, the Senate adopted resolutions creating interim committees to study public education problems from kindergarten through high school. Civil Service systems in other states, possible licensing and regulation of debt management firms, and pension and retirement plans.

Other resolutions were adopted to create a joint committee on administrative rules and a Senate committee on appropriations to function between legislatures.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), business committee chairman, estimated the several study committees would carry about $28,000 in allocations.

Businessman in Alaska to Have Peach of a Bill

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — A. D. Cudd, a businessman who's in Anchorage, Alaska, developed a craving for some home-grown peaches. So he telephoned Paul Black, a grower, Tuesday and asked him to ship a bushel.

The peaches left by air express a few hours later. Shipping charges amounted to $69.88.

Oust Safety Group Head

RIVER ROUGE (AP) — Herman W. Goldnitz, chairman of the River Rouge Public Safety Commission, was removed from office Tuesday night by the city council. Spokesmen said Goldnitz' ouster followed rulings by Wayne County and city officials that Goldnitz was holding his job in violation of the city charter.

WHAT IS IT? — University of Michigan graduate student Doris Johnson sits in the first jeep truck ever to be seen in Russia during the United States Exhibit in Moscow. Miss Johnson is a guide in the household appliances section at the exhibit. She says that the Russians are critical of the size of our electric refrigerators, but they always ask the price, showing they would like to buy one. Miss Johnson speaks Russian and is from New Jersey. She said crowds swarm around the jeep and want to know all about it.

U.S. Cities Offer Hospitality

Invitations to Mr. K. Mount

NEW YORK (AP)—Invitations are mounting for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to see a cross-section of American cities on his trip to the United States next month.

Philadelphia wants him to take a look at the Liberty Bell and Independence Hall, where the Declaration of Independence was signed.

The corn belt city of Marshalltown, Iowa, has invited him to "visit this community of diversified agriculture and industry in the heartland of America." The city has a population of about 20,000. Visiting Russian delegations frequently have shown interest in Iowa.

A suggestion that Khrushchev visit Kansas for a view of America that could not be obtained in Washington or New York came from Olin K. Petefish, president of the Lawrence, Kan., Chamber of Commerce.

Petefish sent a telegram to President Eisenhower, urging him to show Khrushchev around the Sunflower State. Eisenhower lived as a boy in Abilene, Kan.

The San Antonio, Tex., Press Club invited Khrushchev to be guest speaker at its Gridiron Dinner Oct. 10. The invitation was sent to the Soviet embassy in Washington.

Mayor R. L. Thornton of Dallas said he would give Khrushchev the same "cordial welcome of any other distinguished person" should he visit Dallas.

New York has not extended any invitation, but Mayor Robert F. Wagner has said the city would cooperate officially to the extent requested by the State Department if Khrushchev comes here.

Greenville School Official to Take Professorship

GREENVILLE (UPI)—Arthur L. Christensen, head of Greenville High School's English department for the last six years, has resigned to become an assistant professor in the education department at Western Michigan University, he said today.

At Western, Christensen will supervise student teachers practicing in the 12th grade literature field at University High in Kalamazoo.

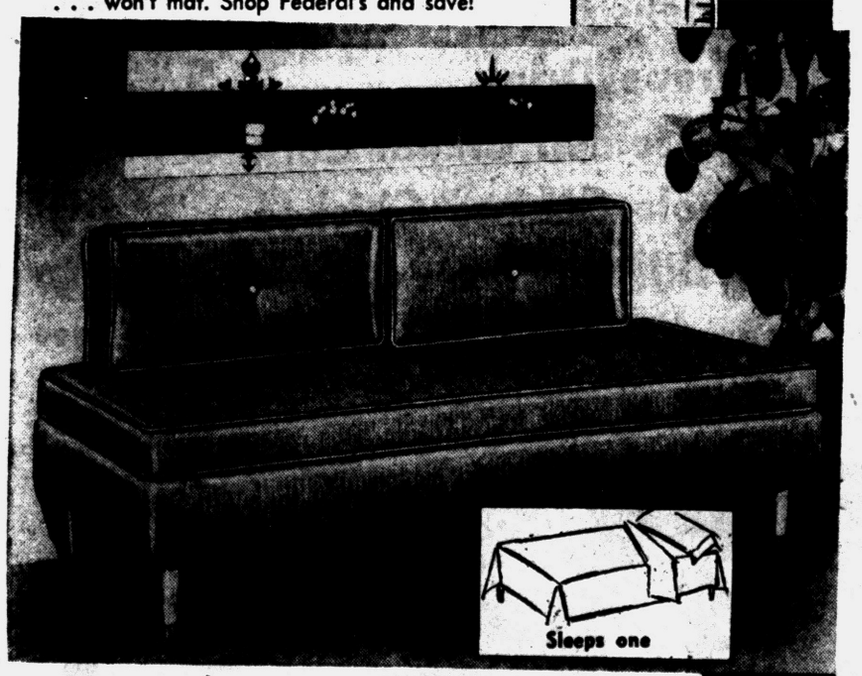

The weight of the human brain increases by about 300 per cent during the first year of life.

UAW Won't Back Wisconsin Candidate

KENOSHA, Wis. (UPI) — The executive board of United Auto Workers Local 72 said Tuesday it will not back any one candidate in the Wisconsin preferential primary next April 5.

The executive board of the 12,000-member local denied reports the union would back Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) for the Democratic presidential nomination in the primary.

A United Press International dispatch reported last week that the union apparently was ready to pull the rug from under Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) in the state primary and throw its weight to Humphrey.

Spanish Port Celebrates Departure of Columbus

PUERTO DE PALOS, Spain (UPI) — This port Tuesday celebrated the 477th anniversary of the departure of Christopher Columbus on his first voyage of discovery.

Crews of Spanish and Portuguese naval vessels joined the celebrations. A special Roman Catholic mass was the same as the one said the morning of Aug. 3, 1492, to Columbus and his crew before they left.

Australia Once Dutch

MELBOURNE — Australia was once know as New Holland. It did not become a part of the British empire by a formal act until about the year of 1770.

Kalamazoo to Celebrate Opening of Mall

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — The Kalamazoo City Commission announced plans yesterday for a four-day celebration in the formal opening of the downtown shopping mall.

The celebration will be held Aug. 19-22.

A parade will kick off the celebration two weeks from tomorrow and a gala street dance will conclude the ceremonies four days later.

Other highlights of the four-day formal opening include a concert by Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra, and a fashion show.

Jiffy Syrup Parfait

Dessert in a jiffy: syrup parfait. Arrange layers of vanilla ice cream, chopped toasted almonds and dark corn syrup in serving glasses. Serve with spice cookies.

Orange Juice Becomes Fluffy Health Beverage

Here's a glamorous nutritious beverage that young and old will like. Let a can of frozen orange concentrate thaw partially in your refrigerator. Beat 2 egg yolks with 1 tablespoon sugar and the orange concentrate. Then beat 2 egg whites with 2 tablespoons sugar until stiff and fold into the egg yolk mixture.

Divide evenly into 6 tall glasses, then fill the glasses with milk. Garnish with grated chocolate and serve with dainty sandwiches and brownies.

Cherry Devils Food

Midwestern favorite: add finely chopped maraschino cherries to chocolate-cake batter. Bake as usual. Some of the cherry syrup may be used in a white frosting for the cake and of course extra cherries will make a pretty garnish.

Waitresses to Go to School in Muskegon

MUSKEGON (UPI) — A school for waitresses will be started in Muskegon soon, it was revealed today.

Officials of Local 411 of the International Waitresses and Bartenders Union, in cooperation with 50 Muskegon area restaurant and tavern owners, will conduct the school.

The school will be designed to correct faulty service and mannerisms of present waitresses and to train new waitresses.

The school is the idea of Mrs. Marie Caswell, secretary of Local 411.

Mrs. Caswell said instructors will show waitresses how to serve a customer and how to improve their personal appearance, manners, attitude toward customers and other problems they face while waiting on table.

Minnesota Cancels Highway Contracts

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—The Minnesota Highway Department Tuesday cancelled 108 million dollars in highway contract letting because of the delay in payment of federal funds.

Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman withdrew all future trunk highway interstate and county-federal aid secondary road contract lettings slated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960.

"This drastic and unprecedented action is necessary so that the work now in progress by the construction industry may be paid as it is completed and so employes of the contractors may be paid," he said.

Story Related to Army Group for the Birds

WASHINGTON (AP) — You've heard all these arguments about the relative merits of various missiles. Now comes another question: Was the Army wrong all along in using pigeons as message carriers?

The annual convention of the Assn. of the U. S. Army heard Col. Robert Partridge of the Continental command explain today problems of keeping technical equipment abreast of Army requirements.

Then Partridge wound up with with this story:

In 1954, the Army mustered out its last message-carrying pigeon after using those birds for a century or more.

Just as this happened, a college professor sent the Army an analysis proving that ducks, not pigeons, would have made better message-carriers. The professor said ducks could fly farther, had a better homing instinct than pigeons.

And furthermore there would have been a logistic advantage, said the professor.

Ducks consume less seed per mile flown than pigeons.

AEC Plans to Build Own Reactor Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced today it is planning to build a small-size pressurized water reactor plant in its own efforts to provide economical nuclear power.

The commission invited proposals from cooperatives and public power organizations to participate in the projects. Offers must be submitted by Nov. 16.

Construction is expected to begin about May next year, with completion scheduled for May 1962.

The proposed plant would generate about 16,500 kilowatts electrical power.

After the plant is in operation for a period not to exceed 10 years, the reactor would be offered for sale by the commission to the plant operator.

Potato Pancakes Good Any Time

At any time of day, breakfast lunch or supper, these potato pancakes are great!

Grandma's Potato Pancakes

3 pounds pared long white potatoes
½ small onion
1½ teaspoons salt
1 egg
½ cup sifted flour
¼ cup cracker meal
Black pepper (to taste)
Fat for frying

Grate potatoes and onion very fine into large bowl; stir in remaining ingredients. Drop tablespoons of mixture into ¼-inch deep hot fat in skillet; brown on both sides. Drain on brown paper or paper toweling and serve warm. Makes about 2 dozen — 6 servings. Note: In electric skillet use 380 degree setting for frying.

Missouri Has Coal

ST. LOUIS—It is estimated that Missouri's coal fields contain an available supply of approximately 84 billion tons.

Hold on to Vitamin C With Proper Care

High storage temperatures and low humidities tend to rob fresh vegetables of their vitamin C content, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. A study by the Agricultural Marketing Service showed that vitamin C loss can be drastically reduced by the use of refrigeration, but cold alone is not enough. High moisture must be maintained also.

Says Most Men Can't Take Pressure

He Controls the Wild Missiles

By BILL WILKS

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The man whose split-second decision may keep a wild missile from smashing down on a populated area says at least half the men he trains for this job never make the grade.

"You have two to six seconds to decide whether to let the missile go or destroy it in flight," said Col. Lucius A. Perry, missile flight safety officer. "There's a lot of pressure and some people just can't take it."

What does it take to make a missile flight safety officer?

"Temperament is the main thing," said the 43-year-old engineer from Gresham, S. C. "And it takes lots of engineering training and experience. A man spends six months to a year training for the job before we give him responsibility for destroying a million-dollar missile, and then he may not make it."

Perry, a sandy-haired man of medium size who looks like a college physics professor, chews cigars while sitting amid several million dollars worth of electronic equipment that is perched on a low hill overlooking missile launch pads five or six mies away.

Surprisingly, he doesn't look at the missiles, although radar antennas are aimed with powerful binoculars. Instead, he alternately sits at a control panel or paces around a room - full of electronic devices checking instrument readings and tapes spewed from computers.

"You can't tell whether a missile is good just by looking at it," he said. "The only reliable information is from the instruments."

The few seconds in which Perry says he can puff a cigar down to a nub go like this:

A missile is launched and starts arcing out over the ocean. It contains instruments which have started radioing information to his center even before firing. Fifty to 60 different coded signals strike the antennas at Perry's installation, shoot through miles of electronic wire and thousands of tubes and appear on various "read out" instruments. At the same time, trackers are giving verbal reports on the missile's progress.

Perry's eyes squint over the information and his brain becomes a living extension of the computers. If it looks as if it's going off course, Perry hits two toggle switches located about two inches apart on the control panel. One switch arms the destructive package in the missile, the other detonates it.

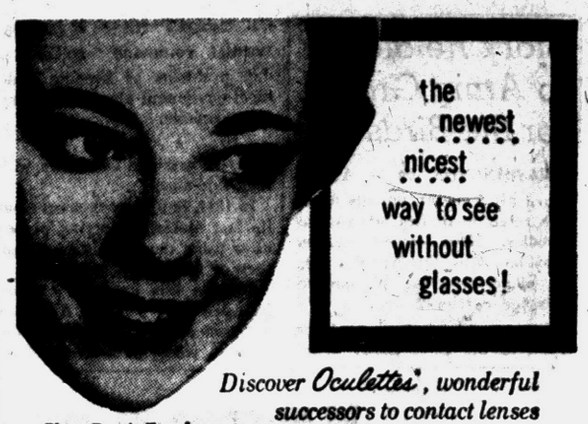

Perry, who goes fishing to relax, says the chances of a missile going wild and falling on a nearby town before it can be destroyed are practically non-existent. In the first place, missiles are fired over the ocean in an imaginary corridor four miles wide. Tracking stations maintain a second-by-second watch from several angles. If the missile starts to veer off course, Perry makes his decision on whether to "bust it" or let it go if it won't fall on a populated area.

Teach Youth of Communism, Cardinal Urges

NEW YORK (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover yesterday hailed a proposal by Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, that students be taught about communism in high schools and colleges.

"If the principle, aims and tactics of this atheistic evil were properly and intelligently taught in our schools," Hoover said, "we would be doing much to combat this evil." But he emphasized that great care should be exercised in selecting the instructors.

Hoover's remarks were released by the Westinghouse Corp. which operates the Boston TV station (WBZ-TV) over which Cushing made his proposal.

Would Hike Pay of High Justices

Bill Asks $5,000 More for State Top Court Judges; Chances Dim

LANSING (UPI) — The House may consider today a bill to give Supreme Court justices a $5,000 pay hike but final approval chances appeared dim in view of the heavy fire met by the proposal.

The present $18,500 salaries would be jumped to $23,500 under the proposal.

Rep. Albert Horrigan (D-Flint) opposed the bill, saying he wouldn't approve pay raises for anybody until the legislative pay was boosted.

Similar sentiment was echoed by several other legislators. The pay hike, if approved, would only affect Justices George Adams and John Voelker who were elected this spring to begin new eight-year terms starting Jan. 1.

The constitution prohibits changes in salary for judges while in office.

31,000 Alcoholics Live in Legally Dry State

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — There are 31,000 alcoholics in Mississippi, the nation's only legally dry state.

The figure was announced by Mrs. Vashti Cain, supervisor of alcoholic studies for the state department of education, at the opening of a summer school of alcohol studies.

Citizens Comparatively Free

Poland Struggles Up Steep Path

WITH NIXON IN POLAND: — The birthrate is rising in Poland. The abortion rate is going up in Hungary. There can be no truer barometer of Poland's successful employment of brinkmanship in its relations with Russia or the poignant suppression of hope in Hungary.

The baby boom is, however, adding new furrows of worry to the balding noggin of Wladyslaw Gomulka, who runs his country as head of its Communist Party. The average Pole is freer than the other inmates behind the Iron Curtain, as joyful demonstrations for Nixon reveal.

But the Pole is having trouble making ends meet, if he is an ordinarily employed person. The average wage is 1,700 zloty per month which figures out to hardly a dollar a day. Hence, he and his wife must find not only regular jobs but secondary positions if they want more than the bare essentials of life.

Prices keep climbing. Beef rose by 26 per cent last June, rose right out of the reach of the average wage earner. The Polish farmer is better off than the urbanite because 85 per cent of the farms have been decollectivized as part of Khrushchev's difficult decision to let Poland try its own road to socialism.

The city worker works at his prime job from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., let us say, takes no time out for lunch, then rushes off to a second job from 4:30 to 10 or 11. Then he has dinner and goes to bed to store up energy for the next day.

The important thing to him is that he is comparatively free. He has only pity or contempt for the peoples of the other satellites who could not drive as tough and as courageous a bargain as did Poland.

In October 1956, after the Poznan riots and after the Polish Communist Party had reinstated the imprisoned Gomulka, he braved Khrushchev and a whole welter of Kremlin brass and told his Russian boss he could not enter the meeting of the Polish Communist Party then going on. Gomulka added that he expected to run Poland as he saw fit, that he was still a Communist, but that he had a better way of reaching Khrushchev's eventual goal and the Polish people were solidly behind him.

Khrushchev ordered the Red Army tanks to pull up before Warsaw. Gomulka told him that if he did not remove the tanks he would go on the radio and tell the Polish people and "then you will be fighting a whole nation."

When Khrushchev backed down and removed the tanks, Gomulka demanded the ouster of Marshal Rokossovsky as head of the Polish armed forces. Since then the Red army has been reduced sharply in Poland.

The brinkmanship paid off, but when the Hungarians tried something of the same nature two months later, Khrushchev slaughtered them.

So Poland goes its way, left pretty much alone by the Kremlin, though Russia dictates its foreign policy and demands occasional Polish blasts at capitalistic imperialism. As for Gomulka, people like the way he risked death but still have reservations about him because, after all, he is a Communist. People laugh about what they call the "Gomulka posture — his hands to the United States, his ears to Moscow, his back to the people."

The Poles consider the Russians to be an Asian people. They think of themselves as Western Europeans, not Eastern Europeans. They take pride in looking their uncertain captor in the eye and embarrassing him whenever occasion arises. The great salute to Nixon is a case in point.

So are many of the local jokes about Poland's tallest building, the Palace of Culture, a carrot colored skyscraper of Russian gothic design presented as a personal gift of Joseph Stalin. They say, for example, "the best place to take pictures of Warsaw is from the observation deck of the Palace of Culture — because you can't see the Palace of Culture from there."

A tough people. Worth helping.

Miriani Says He Would Greet Soviet Premier

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Louis Miriani, who snubbed Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov on a recent Detroit visit, said today he would officially greet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev if he comes to Detroit.

The mayor said he would treat Khrushchev "with dignity, respect and friendliness as the guest of the President of the United States."

At the same time, Miriani said he expected nationalistic refugee groups in Detroit to "comply with the basic concepts of American fairplay" in event Khrushchev visits Detroit.

"President Eisenhower is trying to outlaw war," Miriani said. "This is a noble idea and we should cooperate with him."

Knowland Believes Nikita Visit Mistake

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former Senator William F. Knowland said Tuesday that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is still the "butcher of Budapest" and that the invitation for him to visit the United States is a "victory for Soviet diplomacy."

"Three years does not outlaw murder of an individual or a nation," Knowland said in a statement.

The former Senate Republican leader said the invitation "will have a devastating effect upon the captive people behind the Communist Iron Curtain." The Russians, he said, have angled for such an invitation for several years.

"Communists the world over," Knowland said, "will make massive propaganda use of the red carpet treatment in New York, at the United Nations, in Washington, and on the grand tour throughout the United States."

Shocks Make Heart Beat

Battery Keeps Him Alive

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Hoy Smith, a 77-year-old retired coal miner, is being kept alive by a vest pocket battery. He has a power-driven heart.

Smith suffered a heart attack last June 6 which knocked out his own heart beat system. A surgeon at Presybterian Hospital wired two electrodes into the wall of his heart Tuesday to keep him alive. The June attack destroyed part of the nerves which form a conduction pathway through which the heart muscle gets its normal rhythmic impulses. Smith's heart beat only six or eight times a minute and he went into convulsions.

Two West Virginia doctors saved him by wiring the skin of his chest and back to an electrode. Mild electrical shocks were given at the rate of 60 per minute.

The shocks reached the heart through the wall of the chest and Smith recovered. But when the electrodes were taken off, he went into convulsions again.

To eliminate the unpleasant body shocks, the doctors decided to plant insulated electrodes directly into his heart. Smith was brought here from his home at Fairmont, W. Va., in an ambulance accompanied by a 50-pound Pacemaker, a michine which required a six-volt battery to operate. He was still wired to the machine when he entered the operating room.

Now Smith has a miniature Pacemaker, a transisterized device the size of a pack of cigarettes. It is carried in his shirt pocket and regulates his heart beat with a knob which controls the electrical shocks.

New Governor Picks Nixon

At This Time He Looks Like the Winner, Says Quinn of Hawaii

SAN JUAN (UPI) — Gov. William Quinn of the new State of Hawaii said Tuesday that Vice President Richard M. Nixon at this time looks like the winner of the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

He was unwilling, however, to commit himself yet to either Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Quinn told a news conference at the 51st governors parley that at the moment it would look like Nixon will be the Republican candidate in next year's presidential race.

Asked if Nixon would be nominated with his help, he replied: "I can't say at the moment. I wouldn't think he would need my help."

Quinn credited the strong GOP showing in last month's Hawaiian election to his good, sound Republican administration in the territory and said it also could reflect a national swing back to the Republicans.

Territorial governor by presidential appointment, Quinn was elected first governor of the new state.

He said President Eisenhower is expected to issue the statehood proclamation in mid-August, allowing time for the new members of Congress to be seated before Congress adjourns for this year.

Small Grievance May Aid Advance of Custodians

A "small" grievance over the hiring of two painters from outside its ranks may lead to a better contract for the non-teaching employes of the Waterford Township school system.

A grievance committee of Waterford Non-Teaching Employes Local 1295, AF of L, will meet Thursday night with Superintendent of Schools William Shunck.

Custodians were piqued when the Board of Education hired two additional painters without considering them for the positions.

Starting pay for custodians is $346 a month. A painter gets $399 a month.

Shunck explained that painting is a trade for which custodians may or may not be qualified.

"The trade pays more," said Shunck, "and some of our custodians thought they should have been considered for the painter positions.

"We will try to work out some arrangement, however, so that a person can work into a better position. Present contracts do not have specific arrangements for advancement. If the Board of Education provides for some arrangement to be made for advancement it will become policy."

Shunck will report his findings to the Board after Thursday night's meeting with union representatives.

Claims Astor Found Brother Disgusting

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—Vincent Astor's widow says her husband knew exactly what he was doing when he left his half-brother, John Jacob Astor II, out of his will.

Vincent left his brother out of the will because he considered John Jacob "notorious an an indolent playboy whose escapades were disgusting," the widow asserted in a memorandum filed with the Dutchess County Surrogate's Court Tuesday.

John Jacob contested the will partly on the claim that Vincent, who died in New York Feb. 3 at 67, was senile at the time the will was drawn.

The will left an estate estimated at between 100 and 200 million dollars to the widow and charity.

Swanson Invites Nikita to Attend Our State Fair

DETROIT (AP)—Russia's Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been invited to attend the 1959 Michigan State Fair during his visit to the U.S. next month.

Donald L. Swanson, State Fair general manager, extended the invitation to Khrushchev yesterday. He urged the Russian leader to visit the Fair Sept. 4-13.

Swanson also suggested a visit by Khrushchev would be "a fitting climax to our International Day program on Sept. 13."

Author Is Quarantined

NEW YORK (AP) — Bearded Author Patrick Dennis is in quarantine on Staten Island, but he says he's enjoying himself. He forgot to get vaccinated before going abroad. When he returned Monday from the Soviet Union, the government sent him to the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital on the island for a two-week stay, to see if he comes down with smallpox.

Oil Main Power Source

(This is the second of two dispatches reporting on the past, present and future of the petroleum industry, which is celebrating its first century as a vital force in the nation and the world.)

By CLYDE H. FARNSWORTH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oil enters its second century entrenched as the nation's principal power source.

And despite the growing prominence of nuclear and solar energy, oil is expected to remain at the top for quite a while to come.

These days it's almost easier to say what isn't rather than is affected by "black gold."

It's used in rocket fuels and ointments, food packaging and anesthetics. Petroleum research has produced clothing, household furnishings and utensils. Machines, which depend on oil for all of their lubrication and almost three-fourths of their fuel, now do 99 per cent of the work in this country.

Even with the advent of the atom, oil men see no shortening of oil's reach. They echo the sentiments of Dr. Robert E. Wilson, board chairman of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) when he says:

"I regard atomic energy not as a competitor but as something that will come along in the nick of time to help fossil fuels carry the energy burden."

In its first 100 years, the industry produced 60,300,000,000 barrels of oil. At the current rate of production, that much oil could now be produced in a quarter century.

Actually, however, oil economists expect demand will be such that production easily will double in the next 15 years. One economist, Bernard T. Scott, vice president of the First National City Bank of New York, predicts a doubling of the oil business in the next decade.

Oil has transformed the face of America. Refineries, representing an investment of more than $11 billion, dot the nation. Nearly 200,000 service stations ring up annual sales of $14,500,000,000. More than 200,000 miles of oil and 500,000 miles of gas pipelines criss-cross the country. All this is in addition to the millions of miles of highways that are the direct offshoot of the gasoline era.

Meanwhile, the industry is working on such things as:

—Extraction of synthetic proteins from oil for use as food supplements.

—Expansion of petrochemicals—petroleum-based chemicals which are the cornerstone of modern plastics, and a field which oil men say has barely been tapped.

—Direct conversion of light hydrocarbons into electricity.

—Preparation of oil fogs to protect crops from frost and pests.

—Lubrication of bearings at high temperatures by hydrocarbon vapors, eliminating the necessity for ordinary lubricating oil.

Although it's become increasingly difficult to find oil, the industry says there's enough around to last easily through this century.

Oil men place the odds against discovering oil in commercial quantities today at 44 to 1, against finding a really big field such as West Texas or the Williston Basin at 1,000 to 1.

Yet oil men say promising areas for new discoveries exist in North Africa, the Middle East, South America, Canada, Antarctica, and the Atlantic coastal shelf of the U. S.

In the U. S. now the trend is to go back to old oil fields with new recovery technology and get out some of the oil that's left. In addition, wells are being drilled deeper.

Dr. Edward Teller, nuclear physics professor at the University of California, believes billions of barrels may be added to world oil reserves through controlled underground explosions in shale and tar-sand deposits.

It is estimated that one trillion barrels of oil is locked in the shale deposits and another 300 million in tar sand deposits located in the U. S. and Canada alone.

Urges Courtesy Toward Nikita

Sen. Sparkman Wants Campaign to Insure Khrushchev's Safety

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) proposed Tuesday a campaign for public understanding to insure a safe and courteous U.S. reception for Soviet Premier Nikita Krushchev.

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was among a majority on Capitol Hill who applauded President Eisenhower's decision to exchange visits with the Soviet leader.

There were some, however, who angrily protested, like Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn) who called Eisenhower's invitation "a national disgrace."

The Khrushchev visit, he said, will "discourage millions of neutrals throughout the world and reduce the will of our own people to resist the evil forces of communism."

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) similarly protested what he called "the danger . . . that we may again be taken in by the Russians."

But the general reaction among Congress members — and among state governors meeting in San Juan, Puerto Rico—was that the potential good far outweighs the possible harmful effects.

Sparkman, like a majority of those who commented, voiced the hope that out of the exchange of visits could come understanding that might ease the many tensions that threaten world peace.

"I think one of the real problems is to insure a safe and courteous reception for Khrushchev," Sparkman told a reporter.

"We don't like what he stands for, but we should never give up trying to convince him that this country is united behind the President in any effort he makes to find ways to peace."

Sparkman voiced hope that editorial writers, news commentators and others who help mold public opinion will join in helping prepare a favorable climate for Khrushchev's reception next month.

DRIVER ONLY BRUISED — Truck lies crushed by a four-lococotive, 80-car freight in Cleveland, Ohio. The driver, Willie Woodie, was pinned under the wreckage for 20 minutes. Police and firemen jacked up the truck and removed Woodie to a hospital. There, his injuries were described as a few bruises.

Name Albion Attorney to Circuit Court Post

LANSING (UPI) — Albion Attorney and bank president Alphonso A. Magnotta has been named Calhoun County Circuit Judge replacing the late Harold E. Steinbacher of Battle Creek, Gov. G. Mennen Williams' office announced Tuesday.

Magnotta was one of Williams' chief supporters in his first campaign for governor.

Scotch Food Has Place in Summer Meals

Into each summer some rain must fall . . . and with it the temperature. And these are ideal times to catch up on some of those nutrituous meals your family may be missing by consuming lots of cold summer weather foods. Furthermore, on these days everyone will welcome something warming inside to dispel the sudden chill.

A kitchen's a comfort, not a chore, when the weather's just right. So, it's a perfect time to experiment with the following new dishes that are straight from Scotland and guaranteed to make a sluggish appetite as lively as a highland fling.

Chicken Seaforth

4 tablespoons salt
2 teaspoons pepper
6-pound chicken, disjointed
6 large potatoes, peeled and cut into sixths
4 onions sliced
4 tablespoons butter
1½ cups stock of 1 can of chicken consumme and ¼ cup of water

Combine 2 tablespoons of salt and 1 teaspoon of pepper and rub into the chicken thoroughly. Butter a casserole and arrange a layer of chicken on the bottom, followed by successive layers of potatoes and onions. Dot each layer with a little butter and sprinkle the remaining salt and pepper on the layer of potatoes.

Pour the stock over the contents of the casserole. Cover. Bake in a 325 degree oven for three hours, or until tender. Serve hot, directly from casserole.

Scotch Fish Baller is tasty as a main dish or a tempting tid-bit.

2 fillets of sole
2 cups water
1 pound shrimp, shelled and cleaned
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1¼ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 egg
1½ cups bread crumbs
1 egg yolk beaten
Fat for deep frying

Combine the fillets and water in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and cook over medium heat for 10 minutes. Remove the fillets and set aside to cool. Place the shrimp in the same liquid in which the fish was cooked, and cook for 7 minutes. Drain and set aside to cool for 10 minutes.

Grind the fillets and shrimp three times in a good chopper. Place in a bowl and add the parsley, salt, pepper, thyme, egg and 1 cup of the bread crumbs. Beat the mixture until smooth and light, using an electric mixer if desired. Taste and add a little more seasoning if necessary.

Shape into 1-inch balls. Dip them into the egg yolk and remaining bread crumbs. Heat the fat to 380 degrees. Fry several of the fish balls at a time until they are golden brown, about two minutes. Drain. Serve "bagpiping" hot.

Hamburger Seaforth Style With Skirl is a top-of-the-stove dish that can even be made during a heat wave.

Mince

3 tablespoons butter
2 pounds ground beef
3 tablespoons boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 onions

Melt the butter in a saucepan and add the meat, stirring constantly. Do not allow lumps of meat to form. When meat is brown, add the water, salt, pepper and onions. Cover and cook over a very low heat for 35 minutes, stirring frequently. Serve with skirl.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Smoked Picnic Shoulder.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the picnic section of the carcass and is classified as the same cut of meat as the fresh picnic shoulder with the exception that this cut has been cured and smoked. It contains the fore shank bones, arm bone and head of blade bone.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting in a slow oven (300 degrees) allowing 35 minutes per pound. If using a roast meat thermometer, the internal temperature should reach 170 degrees.

Crisp bacon, hard-cooked eggs, and mayonnaise make a tasty filling for sandwiches.

Skirl

¼ cup butter
2 onions chopped fine
½ cup oatmeal (Scotch oatmeal if possible)
½ cup boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Melt the butter in a saucepan. Add the onions and saute until brown, about ten minutes, stirring frequently. Add the oatmeal, stirring constantly. Add the water, salt and pepper and mix well. Cook over low heat for 20 minutes, or until soft. Serve with Hamburger Seaforth Style.

Scotch Shortbread

½ pound sweet butter
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup sifted cake flour
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Combine the butter and sugar together on a board. Blend together with the hands. Sift the flour and cornstarch together and gradually work it into the previous mixture until well blended. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Butter an 8-inch pan and dust lightly with flour. This dough cannot be rolled, so pat it into the pan with the hands. Prick top with fork in several places.

Bake in a 425 degree oven for 5 minutes; then reduce the heat to 350 degrees and bake 10 more minutes or until lightly browned. Cut into squares immediately and serve to your clan.

Two Kinds of Crumbs

Good Italian cooks save dry pieces of Italian or French bread and grind, then sift. Makes wonderful crumbs of two sorts—coarse and fine.

Make Snacks Contribute to Family Health

Most everyone plans three meals. But do you think and plan the food eaten between meals — in front of television, at the movies or before bed time?

Snacks are sometimes burglars that rob your appetite for the right foods at meal time, reminds the MSU Marketing Agent. Snacks may be the tricksters that keep adding pounds you don't need. Or, snacks may add calories without adding the extra calcium, Vitamin C and other food nutrients that the body needs.

A survey conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1955 showed that 30 per cent of the families checked in 46 cities and towns had diets too low in calcium. Twenty-five per cent of the families checked, had too little Vitamin C. Five to 10 per cent were not getting enough of some other needed vitamins, minerals and protein. How does your family rate? Do you get the best health your food dollars can buy?

The facts of the U. S. D. A. survey tell us that too little milk, fruits and vegetables are responsible for many of the weak links in diets today. So why not get snacks to work for, instead of against your plan of good eating.

Plan snacks as a part of the day's food needs. Choose snacks packed with nutrients you need for good health. Keep away from snacks that offer mostly calories. Keep snack supplies that are quick and easy to prepare such as plenty of milk, canned meats and lots of fresh fruits and vegetables. Make snacks work toward better health for your family.

Many Flavors Help Unsalted Meats

Unsalted meats in the sodium restricted diet need not be flat in taste. There are a large number of possibilities for sharpening the flavor with low sodium spices and vegetables or fruits.

For examples, on vegetable-fruit side, one can use garlic, fresh (not prepared) horseradish, leeks, parsley, onions or onion juice, lemon juice and orange peel. Tomatoes add piquancy of their own and cranberry sauce is a good companion of any meat, fish or poultry dish.

As an example of use of low sodium garnishes, pork is good with onion, garlic or sage accompanied with apple sauce or spiced apples. Chicken borrows extra taste from mushroom, paprika, thyme, sage, parsley, cranberry sauce; and fish is helped by dry mustard, paprika, lemon juice, curry, bay leaf, mushroom.

Paprika Adds Color

White-meated fish fillets and scallops take to a sprinkling of paprika before they go under the broiler. The spice gives the fish and seafood appetizing color.

Pineapple Is New Note in Caesar Salad

As an extra treat for family and guests, why not serve a brand-new salad for Sunday dinner? This new recipe for that exotic and popular Caesar Salad is made with pineapple tidbits added for an intriguing different touch.

Pineapple combines so well with all sorts of salad makings, it is actually as versatile as lettuce in the way it goes with other salad fruits, vegetables, cheese, chicken, turkey or seafood.

Tropical Caesar Salad

2 bunches romaine
1½ cups pineapple tidbits
½ pound bacon
3 slices French bread (1½ cups cubed)
1 clove garlic
Salt and freshly ground pepper
¼ cup olive or salad oil
1 egg
1 large lemon
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Wash, dry and chill romaine. Chill pineapple in can, then drain thoroughly. Fry bacon crisp. Drain. Break into small pieces. Brush bread slices with cut glove garlic. Cut bread into small cubes. Toss till coated in 1 tablespoon bacon drippings. Toast to a golden brown in moderate oven about 10 minutes.

Rub salad bowl with crushed garlic. Break romaine into salad bowl. (You should have about 5 cups.) Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Toss well with olive oil. Break egg into center of greens. Ream out lemon juice onto greens. Toss until greens are coated and well mixed. Add pineapple, bacon, cheese and bread cubes.

Toss lightly — add more salt and pepper if needed. Makes about 6 servings. Serve right away.

Cottage Cheese Spread for Bread, Potatoes

Here's a creamy cottage cheese spread that's a wonderful snack. Work into a pound of cottage cheese enough sweet cream to moisten. Season with salt, pepper, a few caraway seeds, and finely minced chives. If desired, add also a teaspoon of onion juice and the same amount of Worcestershire sauce.

Serve with thinly sliced rye bread, or crackers, and canned soft drinks. Small new potatoes cooked in their jackets are sometimes served with such a cheese spread.

Cafe an Lait

Have you just started to diet? If you are now taking milk in your coffee you'll find the beverage will be at its best if you heat the milk, then pour both coffee and milk (use both hands!) into your cup or mug at the same time. But make sure your coffee is really strong because you'll be using half milk.

HONEY GELATIN MOLD — Add honey to orange gelatin, then mold in diced apples and chopped pecans. You will have a delicious dessert that is both cooling and elegant. Diced grapefruit may be substituted for the apple.

Honey Produces Extra Energy

Are you searching for a refreshing dessert to satisfy the husky appetites of those busy with early summer activities? Do you want to attract the appetites of those who crave variety and seek adventures in eating? Are you eager to catch the eye of those who prefer a dainty dessert? If so, hunt no more! Instead try this refreshing gelatin dessert.

This Honey Gelatin Mold is energy itself. Made with orange-flaored gelatin, crisp apples, crunchy pecans, and sparkling honey, it is tops in taste and appealing in appearance. No one can see it and say, "Thank you. No dessert for me today." No one can taste it and say, "Thanks. No more dessert for me." Instead are compliments and requests for more even from those who often skip desserts entirely. Here is the simple recipe:

Refreshing Honey Gelatin Mold

1 package orange-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
⅓ cup honey
⅔ cup cold water
1 cup unpeeled diced apples
½ cup chopped pecans

Dissolve gelatin in HOT water. Add honey and cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in pecans and apples. Pour into a 1-quart mold. Chill until set. Unmold.

Serve with a topping of whipped cream and honey made by making a nest-shaped mound of the whipped cream on each serving and dribbling one teaspoon of honey in center. Makes 6 servings.

Variation — HONEY GRAPEFRUIT MOLD. Use recipe above but substitute 1⅓ cups diced grapefruit sections (about 1 grapefruit) for the apples. Makes 6 servings.

Coffee Gelatin Dessert Bears Repetition

Our best coffee gelatin dessert bears repetition.

Coffee Cream

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons instant coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream

sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat egg yolks and 1 cup of the milk; stir into gelatin mixture with remaining milk.

Place over boiling water and stir constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly — about 6 minutes. Remove from heat. Add coffee powder and vanilla; beat just until coffee dissolves.

Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Whip cream and fold in. Turn into a 4-cup mold; serve with mixed salted nuts. Makes 8 servings.

Many Foods Need Only Water Added

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You know, you can live longer without food than you can without water. Have you ever noticed, as you shopped for food, how many items can be prepared with just the addition of water?

As we shopped last week in preparation for our camping trip (by the time you read this we should be more than halfway to Glacier Park), we chose many foods in dried or concentrated form. Since we are carrying nonfat dry milk with us, we could even buy things that called for the addition of milk.

There's a small jar of instant coffee and a whole pound of drip grind coffee. For quick coffee breaks we'll use the instant. For meals in camp we prefer coffee made in a pot. Then there's instant tea and cocoa. If we can't get fresh milk, we'll make up some nonfat dry milk to drink.

Frozen fruit juices won't keep but there are a number of concentrated fruit drinks. Some come in cans; others are in a powder form. We could have bought some of the fizzing fruit powders if the boys liked them. The second boy is a nephew, just a few months older than the Ten-Year-Old.

We have a couple of cans of soup in our supplies. If we were hiking with a food pack on our backs or taking a canoe trip, we would buy the dried soups because they weigh less. We could have bought chili or spaghetti sauce mix.

RICE IS EASY

Instant rice needs only boiling water. Instant mashed potatoes can be made with boiling water and dry milk powder. Instant puddings can be made the same way.

We're carrying pancake mix and biscuit mix. You can, of course, make pancakes with water. We intend to add the dry milk and an egg. Muffin mix requires special baking equipment so that was ignored.

Because we don't intend to do much baking, we paid no attention to cake, pie and frosting mixes. Cookie mixes present fewer problems, but this is our vacation too. We'll buy any cookies we eat.

It's a far cry from the days long ago when your food editor was a very young camper. Then we had never heard of such luxury foods as those listed above. Nor had we heard of aluminum foil, plastic bags and transparent wrap.

We always had to build our cooking fire and wait for it to die down to coals; it was made of wood, not charcoal. On this trip we're using a gasoline stove for most of our cooking, supplemented by camp stoves with charcoal or wood for fuel.

Water still is the most important item of camping equipment.

Cardomon Seed New Flavor in Fruit Cup

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fresh or frozen canned fruit can be used for cardamon fruit cup.

Blend ½ cup each of honey and water with ¼ teaspoon ground cardamon in a sauce pan. Bring to a boil, simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add ½ cup of lemon juice or other juice, and chill.

One hour before serving time, pour the sauce over 4 cups of fruit, garnish with fresh mint leaves, and chill. Serves 6.

Make up some old-fashioned boiled dressing and then add lemon juice and chopped sweet mixed pickles to it for a delightful sauce for shrimp or other seafood.

Keep Vegetables Bright

Seasoning guide: It's safe to use one-quarter teaspoon of salt to one cup of boiling water when you are cooking vegetables. Cover the vegetables but lift the top of the saucepan of skillet several times during the cooking of green vegetables because this helps them retain their attractive color.

Slam 'Spot Rezoning' in Addison Township

Public Protests Prompt Board to Delay Action

By LEE WINBORN

ADDISON TOWNSHIP—After a heated discussion on petitions to rezone two parcels of land, the Township Zoning Board last night decided to delay action on both requests until the township building code is published and adopted.

Members of the Board plan to meet Aug. 18 to go over changes they wish to incorporate before final passage is recommended. These will include "buffer zones" or "green belts" to apply to present and future applications for building permits, they said.

The Board's decision to table the requests to rezone the two parcels followed the public hearing which was challenged at the outset as being "illegal" because "inadequate notice" was given

Board Chairman Richard Young allowed the hearing to continue, however, and a number of the 40 persons present spoke out vehemently in protest to what they called "spot rezoning"

The first request under consideration was that of Charles A Pelizzari who wanted 40 acres on Lake George road rezoned from agricultural to industrial classification to pave the way for construction of a small plant.

Pelizzari told the group of his plans to consolidate three Detroit area corporations under one roof on the Addison Township property. The company would be manufacturing metal stripping and hardware for windows for national distribution and later complete windows for distribution throughout south Michigan, he said.

He explained that the building would be of cement block, brick and steel construction and that he planned to leave a "green belt" 100 to 200 feet wide around the outside edges.

A petition was read from Attorney Donald G. Tripp representing his wife and daughter asking that Pelizzari's request be denied. He said that "spot zoning" is not usually favorably regarded because, in too many instances, such practice is employed in order to aid some one owner rather than being enacted for the general welfare, safety, health and well-being of the whole community."

Others in the audience wondered what protection they would have if Pelizzari's plans should fall through and the property had already been rezoned industrial "allowing any industry to come in then."

A number of property owners in that particular area were agreed that a master plan should be drawn up "when it is decided what is best for the whole community."

Other petitions protesting "spot rezoning" were also received by the Zoning Board which promised to take them into consideration before any decision was reached.

Pelizzari said he was vice president of R.O.W. Sales, a national sales organization in Royal Oak, a vice president of another company which would merge and a director of the third. One of the others manufactures awning hardware and another small hardware springs.

He said that particular property was picked because it "had plenty of railroad siding" and he preferred to be located away from the city.

The other request, presented by Richard H. Wingett, sought rezoning of five or six acres of his land near Lakeville road from agricultural to commercial classification to allow him to process used cars for old parts and scrap.

Wingett said he would use an area 350 feet long on each side of the railroad tracks and added he would put up a solid fence, eight to 10 feet high around the entire area.

Again the residents present protested, mainly on the grounds that a "junk yard" would not be an asset to the community.

And again a motion was made to deny this request.

Before going into special session after the hearing, Board Chairman Young reminded the people that the township "was not in a very happy tax situation—that there is no money for roads, schools and adequate police protection."

The property owners retorted that when industry is brought in, services necessarily increase, the tax rate goes up and "it's a vicious circle." They maintained they like things the way they were.

Dems Threaten to Quit Capital

Union Would Meet With Legislators Asking for Corporation Tax

LANSING (AP)—Minority Democrats bore down today for a levy on business profits as the seven-months legislative fight neared a new climax.

The word was out to bolt the capital until next week or later if they didn't substantially get their way by sundown. Support from House Republican leaders stiffened their backs.

In Detroit, the Michigan AFL-CIO has asked executive board members and central body local officers to meet with district legislators this week and ask for support of at least a two per cent corporation profits tax as a basic part of any compromise state tax bill.

Rotund Rep. T. John Lesinski, shrewd 34-year-old Democratic lawyer from Detroit, carried the ball in conference committee bargaining for a final tax settlement. His goal — 18 million dollars in taxes or business.

NO NEED FOR LEVY

Republicans contended there was no need for a levy on business.

House-Senate conferees argued to a draw yesterday in their first huddle on a business tax revision to round out the Republican revenue program keyed to a one per cent use (sales) tax increase.

LANSING (AP) — Legislators will have to go down two flights of stairs to the state capitol basement if they want smokes, lunches or soft drinks during the remainder of their marathon session.

Bill Chase, blind concessionnaire who operates a snack stand at the rear of the House of Representatives, has packed up and gone home to Evart until the next legislative session in January.

Discussions were recessed over night.

After the first conference session, it seemed clear that the GOP Senate proposal for a four cent, 10 million dollar a year tax on telephone bills was out the window.

Earlier, Lesinski surprised the House by saying the tax would net Michigan Bell Telephone Co. a $1,800,000 windfall through an exemption under another part of the sales tax law. He was not contradicted.

Technically, inter-chamber bargaining was on the heart of the GOP Senate tax package, a bill hiking the use tax to four cents and applying the higher levy to motel and hotel rooms, telephone bills and materials sold to contractors on federal projects.

DARING DUO — High-wire artists, The Del Raes are providing aerial thrills at Walled Lake Park this week. Their act, first of its kind at the amusement park, introduces a variety of hair-raising innovations in acrobatic high-jinks. The Del Raes are being featured under the lights nightly through Saturday.

Scooter Bill Also Passes

Driver License Cost Up

LANSING (AP)—If Gov. Williams approves, more than 3½ million Michigan motorists will begin paying 50 cents more for driver licenses under a bill cleared by the Legislature yesterday.

The bill, which also bars 14-year-olds from motor scooter operation, squeezed through when the Senate mustered the bare minimum 18 votes required for approval of a conference committee report.

It apparently had lost out when Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor) arose after the roll call was completed to support it.

The original bill, introduced by Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Dearborn), sought to raise the minimum age for scooter operators from 14 to 16. A compromise fixed the figure at 15.

Mrs. McCollough filed the bill early in the session as a "safety measure.

She was backed by Rep. Farrell Roberts (R-Pontiac) who cited police statistics showing 12 youngsters were killed and about 750 injured last year in motor scooter accidents.

As sent to the Governor, the measure also bans double riding on scooters and prohibits driving them after dark without permission of local police.

The 50-cent fee boost will provide an estimated $500,000 a year for support of driver education programs in high schools. Original licenses will be raised from $3.50 to $4, renewals from $2 to $2.50 and chauffeur's licenses from $2.25 to $2.75.

The Department of Public Instruction will get an additional $30,000 for administering the driver programs.

Typhoon Ellen Acts Like Perfect Lady

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Typhoon Ellen, packing 90 m.p.h. winds, grazed northern Okinawa today and veered out to sea, bypassing densely populated American military bases on the south end of the island.

U.S. Army and Marine officials reported no damage or deaths among servicemen. The typhoon, which had approached Okinawa on a westward tack, cut the island's communications for a time.

Authorities said that the typhoon brought two inches of needed rain to parched farms on the northern end of Okinawa.

Plane Crash Blame Laid to Sharp Turn

Investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board and Federal Aviation Agency said today that a tight turn too close to the ground was to blame for the crash of a light plane in White Lake Township Sunday.

Three persons were killed in the crash of the Piper Tri-Pacer which plunged into a cornfield near the intersection of M59 and Fisk Rd.

After executing a maneuver called the "Lazy 8," investigators said, the plane turned and banked sharply, causing the air cushion to slip from under the wing.

They said the pilot had no time to pull out of the dive.

The pilot has not been identified because the plane was equipped with dual controls.

The crash victims were Earl A. Trebesch, 29, of Warren, his son, Mark, 4 and his cousin Robert Sowders, also of Warren.

Work on Sewage System Going Ahead of Schedule

Work on the Farmington and Evergreen sanitary sewer system —which, when finished, will serve 120 square miles of Oakland County—is progressing ahead of schedule, according to a report issued yesterday by Harold K. Schone, director of the county's Department of Public Works.

Schone said 28 construction crews were hard at work in all the areas to be served by the mammoth sewer project in order to speed up work.

"Work is going on in every section from Eight Mile to 20 Mile road," Schone said.

After waiting patiently for many legal battles to be solved, Schone directed ground breaking ceremonies for the sewers two months ago. At that time he predicted the sewers would be completed in about 10 months.

To be served by the Evergreen sewer will be the cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village, part of Troy, Southfield, the village of Beverly Hills, all of Bloomfield Township and part of Pontiac Township.

The city of Keego Harbor, the major portion of West Bloomfield Township, all of Farmington Township, and a small portion of the city of Southfield will be served by the Farmington sewer.

In some areas, such as Bloomfield Hills and others, crews have just begun staking out the positions where the pipes will be laid, Schone said.

Oakland County is paying for the sewers through the sale of general obligation bonds. Participating communities will reimburse the county by charging users.

'Bloody Battle' Coming in 1960

Wisconsin Sets Stage for Rough Primary on Presidential Hopefuls

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) —Politicking governors appeared to be setting the stage here for a "bloody battle" presidential primary in Wisconsin eight months from tomorrow.

Wisconsin's Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson, a declared neutral between three top-running Democratic hopefuls, said the off-stage political developments at the non-partisan Governors' Conference here had caused him to abandon his attempts to forestall a serious primary contest in his state.

Minnesota's Gov. Orville L. Freeman, co-chairman of the campaign committee for his state's Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, yesterday challenged supporters of Massachusetts' Sen. John F. Kennedy to a Wisconsin primary fight.

Masachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo, a Kennedy backer, said the decision would be up to Kennedy, when and if he announces his candidacy, but he thinks his man would win the round.

He was backed up in Washington by Wisconsin Sen. William Proxmire, who made public a statewide poll which he said gave Kennedy a winning 42.5 per cent of the vote in a field of five potential candidates, as of today.

Proxmire, a Democrat, also polled his Republican constituents and said they favored Vice President Richard M. Nixon by more than four to one over New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, in another potential Wisconsin primary fight.

Nelson said he would still rather have Wisconsin Democrats select a favorite son candidate and avoid a serious contest in the state whose early primary has frequently proved sudden death for presidential hopefuls of both parties. But Nelson said he was becoming resigned to the "bloody battle."

UAW Local Pickets Ring Cross Co. Plant

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Local 155 of the United Auto Workers union today ringed the Cross Co.'s plant with pickets in an attempt to close down the plant.

The union is seeking recognition as bargaining agent for 200 workers at the plant which makes automation equipment.

George Merrilli, UAW regional director, said, "We are prepared for a long fight and are determined to keep the plant down until we get a contract. We are going to keep it down if we have to mobilize the entire AFL-CIO."

Teamsters' Counsel Defends His Fees

DETROIT (AP) — George S. Fitzgerald, Detroit attorney for the Teamsters Union, defended today his acceptance of a legal fee in a land deal involving the Teamsters Union welfare fund.

The action was criticized by the Senate Rackets Committee in a report yesterday.

The committee accused Fitzgerald of "highly unethical conduct" in taking a $35,000 fee from a real estate company in the transaction. It said "it is a cardinal sin for a lawyer to serve two masters" and suggested the State Bar of Michigan investigate.

Fitzgerald was indignant about the report.

Vandals Strike at Three Area Grade Schools

Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported vandalism at three area schools Tuesday.

The hardest hit was Glengary Elementary School, 3070 Woodbury St., Commerce Township. Vandals entered through unlocked windows and went through each of the school's 31 rooms, including offices, 13 classrooms and boiler rooms.

The office was broken into and a set of keys taken for every room in the building, deputies said. Reported missing were a flashlight from a supply room, about $5 from the office, and ice cream from a kitchen freezer.

A total of eight windows were broken, officers said.

Vandals destroyed an estimated $25 worth of playground equipment at Carpenter School, 3580 Joslyn Rd., Orion Township, but didn't enter the school building, deputies also reported

At the Elmwood School, 2571 Auburn Rd., Avon Township, deputies reported a window broken but no sign of entry.

New York Tries Ethics

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Council has approved a new code of ethics for the city's 225,000 employes and officials. The code is "the toughest in the country," according to council majority leader Joseph T. Sharkey, a Brooklyn Democrat. It is designed to hold those covered to a rigid standard of conduct and also is designed to end conflicts of interest. The code provides fines, suspensions or dismissal for violators.

Carmen Rollman Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

ROCHESTER—St. Paul Methodist Church was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Carmen Jean Rollman and Kaye Oliver Swords. The Rev. J. Douglas Parker performed the candlelight ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rollman, of 114 Helen St. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Oliver C. Swords, of 737 Ludlow St., and the late Mr. Swords.

MRS. KAYE O. SWORDS

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon organza with godet inserts of chantilly lace featuring a V-neckline accented with pleated tulle, a bouffant skirt and short sleeves.

A fingertip veil of pure silk illusion was fastened to her crown of seed pearls and lace. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Oberg. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Tomayko and Mrs. Richard Blanchard.

Serving as best man was Donald Oberg, and seating the guests were Richard Blanchard and the bridegroom's brother, Frederick Swords.

Following a reception at Hayride Lodge, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn. Upon their return they will reside at 123 Ferndale St.

One Parent Glad of Progress in Physiology

Many Defend Teacher's Sex Quiz

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A high school teacher who could lose his job because of a controversial sex survey he ran in his class says the questionnaire showed some statistical results.

Of the 60 boys and girls who took the quiz voluntarily, 15 per cent of the boys and 16 per cent of the girls had experienced sexual intercourse.

Fifty-eight per cent of the boys and 34 per cent of the girls had indulged in petting.

Forty-four per cent of the boys and 32 per cent of the girls had intimately fondled members of the opposite sex.

CONDUCTS SURVEY

Cecil Cook, 37, physiology teacher in suburban Van Nuys High School, conducted the survey in two classes of 17-year-old boys and girls last January.

A hearing to determine whether Cook will lose his credentials poses this question:

Does a high school teacher have any right to ask his students about their sex life?

Cook ran the survey, he testified at the hearing Tuesday, at the request of some of the students who had heard of such a survey being given at another school.

CECIL COOK

"I agreed because I thought it was proper," Cook said. "It would enable each student to compare himself with his group and thus see for himself if he were normal."

So far during the hearing eight girls and two boys have testified in support of Cook's teaching practices. Three girls have testified they were shocked and embarrassed by the questionnaire.

Among the parents who came to Cook's defense was writer George Asness, whose daughter Diane, 17, was in one of Cook's classes.

"I was surprised — but not shocked—by the questions in the survey," Asness testified Tuesday.

SHOWS PROGRESS

"But I am glad to find that education has progressed to a point where children can be taught about their own bodies.

"Children have been given a gun by nature. It is up to us to teach them how to use it."

A dozen or more teenagers, mostly girls, show up for each session of the hearing, expected to end today. During recesses some of them crowd around Cook as if he were a football hero—and he looks as if he could have been when he was their age 20 years ago.

GOP Governors Want Highway Compromise

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —Fourteen Republican governors lined up today in support of a proposal that President Eisenhower compromise with the Democratic-dominated Congress to keep the interstate highway program going.

The GOP executives agreed informally at a meeting called by Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois to support a strongly-worded resolution at this 51st Annual Governors' Conference urging Eisenhower and Congress to get together on a method of financing interstate road building.

Almost no Republican governor attending the conference is willing to go along with Eisenhower's proposal to increase the gasoline tax 1½ cents a gallon to finance the costly program, for which the federal government puts up 90 per cent of the money.

In their conference the GOP governors decided to back a juiced-up resolution by their party colleague, Gov. Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island, calling for continuance of the highway program even at the cost of a compromise with the Democrats.

The House Ways and Means Committee has not been able to agree on any formula to provide the necessary funds. Members have fiddled with several proposals, including a billion dollar bond issue. But the avoidance of a gasoline tax increase had had Republican as well as Democratic support.

Officers Crash 2 Police Cars

Patrolmen May Face Probe and Disciplinary Action, Says Eastman

Two brand-new police cars were in the garage for repairs today, and officers who drove them face possible disciplinary action.

The shiny new 1939 Pontiacs were damaged to the tune of almost $500.

They were being driven by Patrolmen Richard Navarre and John Bridgewater when they collided at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday.

The patrolmen told superiors they were chasing a speeder south on Perry street, with Navarre in the lead.

Suddenly, they said, Navarre stopped for a red light at the Howard street intersection. Bridgewater slammed on his brakes but his car plowed into the rear of the other auto.

The speeder continued on his way.

Capt. Oliver H. Lemeaux this morning recommended a five-man board of inquiry investigate the accident and report to Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

Eastman said the board would probably convene Tuesday. If the officers are found at fault, disciplinary action may result.

"This accident and the circumstances surrounding it are sufficiently serious to convene a board of inquiry," Eastman said. "The findings might well result in disciplinary action."

He did not elaborate.

Togetherness Triumphs

ATLANTA (UPI) — Police respected the principle of "togetherness" when they raided a lottery "bank" yesterday. They nabbed Mrs. Margaret (Josie) Hodges, 50, Atlanta's lottery queen, and jailed her for the 41st time. They also picked up her two sons, Paul, 20, and Albert, 19, to keep her company.

Oleo Purchases Rise

CHICAGO—Americans purchased 230 million pounds of oleomargarine in 1931 and at least five times that volume now.

Pontiac City Affairs

Public Supports New Sewers

Contrary to official expectation, the proposed $313,000 combined sanitary and storm sewer in Northwest Pontiac received much public support and no opposition last night.

Officials viewed last night's hearing on intention to construct the drain next year as a test of public reaction to the high special assessment rates involved.

Six property owners appeared at the hearing and they were in favor of the project.

Opposition may develop when assessment rolls are drawn up. A total of $132,701 is scheduled to be raised in assessments, some running as high as $563 for a 60-foot lot deriving benefit from both trunkline and laterals.

The system is designed to serve 190 lots on the northern portions of Meadowlawn, Cherrylawn and Cloverlawn drives, plus portions of Stanley, Ypsilanti and Columbia avenues.

Affected would be homes on the north side of Ypsilanti, from the western boundary of Assessor's Plat 144 to Stanley; both sides of Columbia, AP 144 to Stanley and the north side only from Stanley to Carlisle; both sides of Cloverlawn, Carlisle to Ypsilanti; both sides of Cherrylawn and Meadowlawn, Ypsilanti to about half-way between Carlisle and Fairmount; the west side of Stanley from Strathmore to Ypsilanti and the east side of Stanley, Columbia to three houses south of Yale avenue.

Petitions are being circulated in the southern portion of AP 144 for a similar storm - sanitary sewer installation.

Nor were there any objections raised at a hearing on construction of a water main on Palmer drive north of Mt. Clemens street.

Hearings Aug. 11 were scheduled on assessment rolls for one street project and four sidewalks.

Covered are rolls for grading, graveling, curbs and gutters on Carlisle, Columbia to Ann Arbor; and sidewalks on the east side of Stirling avenue, Baltimore to Mt. Clemens; the west side of Stirling, Madison to Mt. Clemens; the west side of Tasmania, Michigan to Lois; and the south side of E. Pike street, Paddock to Mariva.

Rolls covering a sidewalk project and three street improvements were confirmed. They include a sidewalk on the west side of Drexel avenue, South boulevard to Paddock; grading, graveling, curbs and gutters on Carlisle, Walton to Chicago; blacktopping on Euclid avenue, between High and Jefferson; blacktopping on S. Jessie street, Wilson to Prospect; and blacktopping on Gladstone place, Cooper to Edison.

Commissioners voted to spend an estimated $675 from road maintenance funds to ease the curve at the corner of Ottawa drive and Voorheis road. City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn said the money would be spent on construction to reduce the sharp turning angle.

On recommendation of the Planning Commission, an ordinance was requested to zone five lots on the southeast corner of Mt. Clemens street and Jordon road from residential to commercial. At the same time, City Manager Walter K. Willman was authorized to negotiate for right-of-way there for future widening of Mt. Clemens.

Guests of Rochester Minister

Foreign Churchmen Visit

ROCHESTER — Two overseas guests are staying with the Rev. Walter Gerken, pastor of St. John Luthern Church here, this week.

They are the Rev. Hans Kirsten, president of the Theological Seminary of the Free Lutheran Church in West Germany, and the Rev. H. B. Jackayya, of Nagercoil, India, general secretary of the India Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Both of the visiting ministers came to the United States last month to attend the International Convention of the Lutheran Church at San Francisco.

They are staying on for another month in order to see more of this country.

Rev. Mr. Gerken said tomorrow he will take them on a tour of the area which will include visits at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, the Lutheran Institute for the Deaf in Detroit, the Pontiac Motors Division plants in Pontiac, the city of Rochester and perhaps the Cranbrook cultural center in Bloomfield Hills.

The visiting ministers will leave for Saginaw Thursday before returning to their home countries.

Nominates Judge of Court of Appeals

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Judge Paul C. Weick of Akron, Ohio, to be a judge of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals with headquarters in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Weick has been a U. S. district judge for northern Ohio since 1956. Before that he was in private law practice. He will be 60 on Aug. 25.

Weick was named to succeed Judge Florence E. Allen, who is retiring Oct. 15. Her impending retirement was announced in June.

The 6th Circuit embraces Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan and Tennessee.

As a circuit judge, Weick's salary will go from $22,500 to $25,500 a year.

Fire Ruins Hotel in Mount Clemens

MOUNT CLEMENS (UP) — Fire Tuesday night destroyed the Sweet Hotel, an old Mount Clemens landmark. The hotel was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

Macomb County deputies said five youngsters, ranging in age from 7 to 12, have admitted setting the fire.

Damages to the 75-year-old hotel were estimated at $75,000. The youngsters were released to their parents pending a Juvenile Court hearing Wednesday.

Cuts 'Dear John' Letters

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China's Parliament is trying to see that the country's servicemen keep the girls they leave behind, at least until they get home. A new law approved by the Yuan — parliament — prohibits the wife of a serviceman from seeking a divorce or the girl friend of a bachelor from breaking off an engagement while the soldier is at the front or on other "difficult" duty. When he gets home, the serviceman is on his own.

Who Ever Wrote a Poem to Kneecaps?

Will U.S. Girls Stand for Dior Ruling?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Will American women bow to foreign dictate and expose their kneecaps?

The House of Dior in Paris says they will.

A few years ago U.S. women humbly and gladly wore longer skirts in compliance with the Dior "new look" edict. But the new House of Dior decree for knee-length dresses is bound to be challenged.

BOYLE

Not by the men. By the women. American men, by and large, are always in favor of shorter skirts—so long as their own wives don't wear them. They welcome the prospect of the breeze-swept feminine knee, just so the knee doesn't belong in their household.

Women don't mind following any clothing style, no matter how ridiculous, so long as it is the clothing that looks ridiculous.

A prime example: the brief-lived "sack look." It made a woman look like she was ambling along in a tent. But it was the package that looked ridiculous—not the contents it veiled.

When a fashion makes the woman herself look ridiculous, however, it is bound to run into real trouble. And that is the problem the House of Dior seems to be boldly running up against.

The average feminine kneecap serves a highly functional purpose, but it is not an ornament of nature. Poets have sung the charms of practically all other parts of the feminine anatomy. But who ever wrote an ode to a kneecap?

The knees of a Thoroughbred may be a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and a pleasure to watch in action. Not the knees of the average woman.

Now and then you do hear of a girl with lovely dimpled kneecaps. They are also—let's face it—often on the knobby side. Go to any beach and see for yourself.

When you get right down to it—and pray let's do—only about one in 10 girls has legs she can look at in the mirror herself without a feeling verging from mild depression to total despair.

They bow out too much or they bend in too much. They are too thick or too thin. Why should she expose them willingly in a losing competition with the few girls whose gams are charming?

All she has to do to bolster her in this decision is to glance in the family album and see how mom or grandma looked in the 1920s. That was a real short-skirted era, too—the dresses were above the knees, or seemed to be. And they wore rolled stockings.

IN CASE OF FIRE

Ugh! Women never, before or since, looked so outrageously ridiculous.

Can the House of Dior make them look that way again? We doubt it.

As a lady we have been married to a long time remarked, "Sure I'd wear one of those short skirts out of the house—if the house caught on fire!"

Where Will They Park?

DETROIT — Automobile makers predict there will be at least 85 million motor vehicles on U.S. highways by 1975.

Voice of America Only Source

Poles Learn Nixon's Route

WARSAW (AP) — There was no run-of-the-mill reason why a quarter of a million Poles turned out to cheer Vice President Richard M. Nixon as he arrived in their country Sunday.

Indeed, the huge turnout could be classified a minor miracle. The people knew nothing of Nixon's time of arrival. His route from the airport hadn't been announced.

The Polish newspapers and radio stations hadn't carried a word on the pending visit. Details were given, however, on Voice of America radio broadcasts.

Apparently, someone was listening. Several Poles told newsmen they wanted it known that they had made special efforts to see Nixon on his arrival and during his travels about the Polish capital despite the official news blackout.

Rep. Diggs Criticizes Segregation Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich) said Tuesday it will be "exceedingly difficult to contain the fire that is smouldering within so many American Negroes" unless they make faster progress in attaining equal rights.

Diggs, a Negro, criticized "silence from the White House and slow motion tactics of congressional committees and stubborn resistance and injustice from local segregationists-diehards."

He said in a statement in the Congressional Record "all Americans, regardless of race or creed, have cause to be grateful to such organizations as the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for absorbing the emotional impact of the Negro's reaction to racial prejudice, discrimination and segregation."

Students 'Work' at Their Vacationing

Meeting all kinds of people is part of the fun of working and Ponny Morris probably has a good chance to do just that. She is working as a waitress at Ted's Restaurant this summer. A sophomore at Alma College where she is an English literature major, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Morris of Westacres.

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

Pontiac area students are not ones to disagree with authorities, but somehow their definition of vacation just doesn't seem to agree with that of Mr. Webster.

Offices, stores, restaurants, hospitals and just about every other place of "work" has a 'vacationing" Pontiac area student on its payroll this summer.

An enterprising hard working group, they turn this so-called time of leisure into one of the most active times of the year by taking summer jobs.

From working on construction—good for muscles as well as wallets, to working in hospitals — good for experience as well as the soul, Pontiac teenagers can be found just about anywhere there's work to be done.

The reasons for having summer jobs are varied. Some students want to earn a little extra money, others want a chance to take on real responsibilities.

For others, these summer jobs are an opportunity to get first hand experience with jobs they may make into their life's work — or again they may change their minds completely after serious contact with a preconceived career.

Today's young people are far from a lazy lot —and sitting around the house has neither appeal or acceptability among friends.

And besides, these young people find working is good fun as well as being beneficial.

Surrounded by millions of hot dogs and the great outdoors seemed like a fine way to spend the summer to Arnold Simson, who got himself a job at Dodge Park (4) working in a concession stand. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. Simson of Brooklyn avenue, he is a junior at Wayne State University where he is majoring in economics.

Perhaps She Likes Familiarity . . . Abby

Preserve Dignity of 'Charity Case'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Simply because a person is on relief is no reason for nurses and doctors to call them by their first names. I took a 98-year-old woman to the hospital (she was a county case) and the nurse said, "Okay, Annie, what is your trouble?" I reminded her that the woman was refined, dignified and approaching the hundred mark, but she persisted in calling her "Annie." The doctor did this, too. You'd think they would use better judgment. Lord knows, it's bad enough to be on relief without having one's dignity stripped away by such uncalled for familiarity INDIGNANT

ABBY

DEAR INDIGNANT: Many patients enjoy the friendly sound of their first names when being addressed by nurses and doctors. If your aging friend showed any signs of displeasure (not YOU, SHE) the doctor and nurse would surely have noticed it and ceased. I doubt if they meant to "strip her dignity away."

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a girl makes a mistake when she marries a man knowing he must go overseas the day after the wedding? I did, and now I am beginning to wonder. WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If you are now "wondering"—you probably did.

DEAR ABBY: I won't tell you my real name because I don't want anyone to know where I am. I ran away from home because I couldn't get along with my family. My father never made a decent living for us and I hated him all my life. I had no respect for my mother because she let him push her around. I work steady now but spend it all on clothes. I owe so much I can't face certain people. A friend of mine offered me a job where I won't have to DO anything immoral—just make it appear so. (It is getting "caught" with men whose wives hire people to get evidence for divorce.) Could I get into any trouble taking jobs like this?

NOTHING TO LOSE

DEAR NOTHING: If you know what's good for you you'll not involve yourself in any "jobs" of this nature. Stick to an honest day's pay for an honest day's work. And, live within your income—or the outcome could spell trouble.

DEAR ABBY: I've been going with an attractive intelligent man for three years. He's in his 40s and I'm in my 30s. I am considered equally attractive. My big problem is that he constantly (in my presence) looks over cheap girlie books and magazines with pictures of unclothed women. He has a big collection of this cheap trash. Does a normal man collect this stuff? We get into many arguments over this. He tells me I am childish and jealous. Would a man with this low level of thinking make a good husband?

DOUBTFUL

DEAR DOUBTFUL: Normal MEN do not collect this stuff . . . but normal growing boys enjoy sneaking glances out of curiosity. He has a lot of growing up to do before he can qualify as a good husband.

Pontiac Girl Given Shower

Lydia E. Scott, bride-elect of Robert M. Richards, was honored at a bridal shower July 28 given by Mrs. Russell Bridges, her sister, of Shaw drive. The affair was held at the home of the bride-elect on Oakland avenue.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ramos of Oakland avenue, Miss Scott will exchange vows with Mr. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richards of South Jessie street on Aug. 22. The ceremony will be performed at the Church of God on East Pike street.

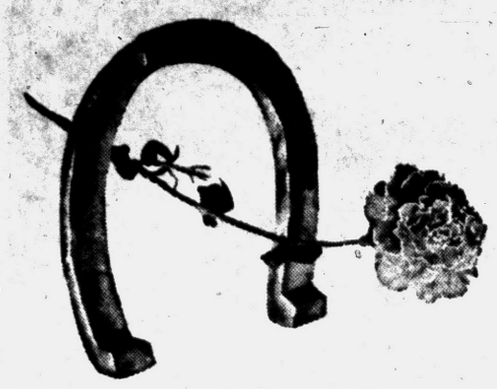

Boy Honored on 9th Birthday

Marvin Dafoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Dafoe of Walton boulevard, was honored on his ninth birthday at a party given Monday evening by his parents.

Guests attending were Danny and David Chamberlain, Michael and Jerry McKee, Gary Featherstone, John Parent and Larry McIntosh.

Others were Elmer Wheeler, William Jackson, Carol Dafoe, Marvin's sister, and Taffy Glygoroff.

The essential oils used for odor and flavor in toothpaste are highly volatile and seep through most materials. Metal collapsible tubes are for that reason the preferred package for such products.

Fall for Classic Clothes

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI) — This fall is the time to shop for "investment" clothes, says Richard J. Cole, a dress manufacturer.

The season will be a heyday for the woman who wants good, classic clothes which will stay in style a long time.

"A fantastic fall," Cole said in an interview. "You can shop for lasting fashions, real investments. These clothes are so understated and elegant that they're forever. There are no tricks, no gimmicks."

The look is expensive without having to be expensive, he added. "You can achieve it for $3 or $3,000."

Cole, a handsome young man whose line is priced from about $40 to $70, gave this advice for "looking" expensive in new styles while sticking to a budget:

—Keep accessories simple. A string of pearls or a simple necklace. If you think the dress needs more jewelry, add a simple pin. Avoid the over-beaded or over-braceleted look.

—Be careful when buying a garment with fur trim. Look at the fabric under the fur. If it wouldn't look right plain, don't buy it.

—If you want a wrap coat, a popular silhouette for fall, be sure it can be worn loose without a belt. A coat which is tucked and fitted will not be usable when the wrap types goes out of style. Avoid the wrap coat entirely if you do not have small shoulders and tiny hips.

—Avoid the long, man-tailored suit jacket unless you're tall or "you look like you're in a hole."

—Buy a long dinner skirt to wear when you entertain. Team it with an evening shirt or blouse.

—Shop carefully for all you buy. Be choosy. Don't fall for a salesgirl's line.

"I think every garment should be guaranteed for compliments," Cole said. "If no compliment, return it.

"Most important is the proper fit. How can I impress that upon women? Every penny spent on alterations is worth it."

Where should hemlines be?

"Just where you start to feel uncomfortable. That's the way clothes should be fitted. If you want comfort, don't bother wearing good clothes," Cole said.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hilding Bihl of Emerson avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Eleanor, to David A. Kives, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kives. A Sept. 5 wedding is planned.

Delicate Berry Cake Is Delicious Served Warm

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Huckleberries are different from blueberries, but nothing says you can't substitute the tame berries in this cake recipe. There are such luscious ones in the stores now.

This recipe comes from Mrs. Paul Stack of Davisburg. Her five children keep her busy, busy, busy. She loves flowers, sewing and fishing. She is an active member of the Altar Society of her church and of St. Anne's Guild in Holly.

HUCKLEBERRY CAKE
By Mrs. Paul Stack

1 cup sugar.
½ cup shortening.
2 eggs.
⅔ cup milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
2 cups sifted flour.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
Pinch of salt.
2 cups huckleberries or blueberries.

Cream sugar and shortening. Add eggs and beat well. Add milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients. Fold in berries.

Put in greased 8x8x2 pan. Sprinkle with topping and bake 35 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Delicious warm or cold.

Topping

⅓ cup sugar.
⅓ cup butter or margarine.
⅓ cup flour.

Work together as for pie crust.

MRS. THOMAS E. WEBER

Married Saturday evening were Shelby Marie Hahn and Thomas E. Weber. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hahn of Meadowlawn street and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Weber of Hudson street.

Shelby Hahn Married in Candlelight Rites

Shelby Marie Hahn selected a ballerina length gown with a Chantilly lace bodice and nylon tulle skirt for her Saturday evening wedding to Thomas E. Weber. The Rev. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran Church officiated at the candlelight ceremony before some 200 guests. The bride was given away by her brother Eugene Hahn.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hahn of Meadowlawn street and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Weber of Hudson street.

The bridal gown featured a mandarin collar and yoke appliqued with sequins and pearls. The long sleeves were hand tapered and the skirt was edged with Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil was held by a headpiece of pearls and sequins.

Mrs. Eugene Hahn, the bride's sister-in-law was matron of honor. Maryadell Johnson and Annette Tiffett were bridesmaids.

They wore identical orchid ballerina length dresses of nylon sheer with round necklines and matching picture hats. The bridesmaids wore darker orchid accessories and carried bouquets of orchid glamelias and the matron of honor carried a bouquet of white glamelias and an orchid.

Kenneth Luce was best man. Ushers were Monty Tipton, Eugene Hahn and William Funni.

A reception was held in the church parlors. For her going away outfit, the new Mrs. Weber wore a two piece aqua linen suit with white accessories and a white rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home on Hudson street.

The bridegroom will attend Michigan State University Oakland in the fall.

Mrs. Hahn wore a blue linen sheath with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Weber was dressed in a beige lace sheath dress with beige accessories. Both had corsages of pink glamelia with rosebuds.

Out of town guests were aunts from Minnesota, Mrs. Albert Benning and Mrs. Melvina Hahn.

Blue Star Moms Feted on Birthday

Mrs. Florence Brown opened her home on Voorheis road for the monthly birthday dinner observed by Blue Star Mothers, Chapter 4.

Those celebrating birthdays at the Friday affair were Mrs. Florence McCrae, Mrs. Betty Leinenger and Mrs. Frank Schmidt.

Eighteen members and three guests, Mrs. S. W. Clement, Mrs. Harry Luxon and Mrs. Harry Morrish, attended the gathering.

Eighteen-year-old Sixten O. B. Netzler, son of Capt. and Mrs. S. B. Netzler of Thorpe street, has returned from Sweden where he spent the past two years as a student. He visited in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, and St. George, Ontario, Canada, on the last leg of his journey.

Pontiac Youth Tells His Story

Sixten Back From Sweden

By MARGARET BROWN

Meet a boy who was sure Ingemar Johansson would win the world's heavyweight boxing title months before most Americans ever heard of the mighty Swede. He's Sixten O. B. Netzler who has just returned from a two-year stay in Sweden, his father's native country.

The 18-year-old son of Capt. and Mrs. S. B. Netzler of Thorpe street, Sixten told us he wanted to learn Swedish primarily for personal satisfaction and decided the only way to master the language was to attend school there. (This was his third trip to that country.) He was a student at Raa near Helsingborg and was graduated in May from Sundsgarden Folk High School. (Folk schools are boarding schools.)

He applied for admission to the school, which he later learned was founded by a bequest from his great uncle, in August 1957, while vacationing in Sweden with his younger brother and his mother. Mrs. Netzler is executive director of the Pontiac YWCA.

NEAR HAMLET'S CASTLE

The Netzlers still own Capt. Netzler's ancestral home which is several hundred years old and has been the subject of innumerable post cards and paintings. Called "Bancagarden," the home is situated at Viken and is near Hamlet's castle at Helsingor (Elsinor), Denmark. Sixten spent free weekends and holidays there, staying with the young caretaker couple.

Like most Americans who have studied abroad, Sixten found the Swedish schools ". . . much more academic" than most of our public schools. "There was much composition work and a lot of studying on your own," he remarked. "Swedish students study American, English, German and French literary classics as well as their own," he added.

Sixten said he noticed differences of disposition among the Scandinavian peoples. The Danes seem to be friendliest; the Swedes, most reserved; and the Norwegians, more quick tempered.

But he noted that the Scandinavians are alike in one respect: "The girls are lovely!" (We know of a young man named Rockefeller who will go along with that observation.)

STEAK EXPENSIVE

Except during winter holidays, Sixten was too busy sightseeing to be lonesome. "When it got to be 30 below, I got awfully homesick, though," he said. One American commodity he often yearned for was a thick succulent steak. "Sweden is not a beef-raising country," he remarked. "Steak is quite expensive there."

Last September the Swedish Rotary Club invited Sixten to tour Southern Sweden with a group of international students doing graduate work in Europe. Accompanying as a student and translator, he was the only teenager in the group, and the older students were amazed at his knowledge of international current events.

Several incidents made a real saga of Sixten's sojourn. Once while driving a Citroen on a slippery road, he unwittingly drove into the moat of an old castle and had to be rescued.

Last summer he signed on as a mess boy on a Swedish freighter, bound for South America, which suffered a collision. "It was pretty frightening when we started taking in water," he recalled. He got no farther than Germany on that excursion.

A seafaring man by heritage . . . his father is an officer with the Bob-Lo S.S. Co. . . . Sixten sailed with the Swedish merchant marine and has Scandinavian sailing papers. He hopes soon to obtain American sailing permits so he can embark for more adventures.

Art and writing are his chief interests, and he'd like to study architecture at the University of Michigan.

Sixten, by the way, is Swedish for "The Unique One."

Children Have to Learn to Take Teasing

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

There had been a big family dinner to honor the homecoming of Bobby's Uncle Fred. As grandma and Bobby's mother were clearing the table, Uncle Fred came into the dining room, put his arm around Bobby's mother and kissed her hard.

Resenting the stranger's familiarity with a person who belonged to him, Bobby ran to his mother and tried to push Uncle Fred away. But instead of releasing her, Uncle Fred hugged her harder and said, "You think she's your mother, don't you? Well, you're wrong, kid. She's my sister."

Nobody objected to this terrifying statement. Grandma was smiling at Bobby's look of consternation. So was his mother. So to avoid their amusement, Bobby ran out of the room. Two nights later, however, a nightmare awoke him from sleep.

The cult of "good sportsmanship" forces us to pretend we don't mind it. Taking teasing with good grace is supposed to be proof of our ability to laugh at ourselves.

But when we laugh with genuine amusement at our own foibles, we laugh because we want to and not because other people require us to. This is honest, releasing laughter. When we laugh at ourselves to prove that we're "good sports," we laugh out of fear, not out of humor.

Children can't play our "good sport" game. When a teaser uses frivolity to disguise his wish to hurt, they know what the teaser is up to. And like Bobby, children ignore the harmless appearance of the teaser's ridicule to respond directly to the hostility behind it. They try to push the teaser away or kick him in the shins.

Though we can't allow Bobby to kick Uncle Fred in the shins, we are most mistaken to laugh at his resentment.

If we want to let people ridicule us out of what we feel, that's our business. Grownups have many devices by which they avoid feelings that might expose them to others' disapproval. But because we want to be regarded as "good sports" is no reason to try to turn Bobby into one.

Not yet anyway. He needs a little more time to learn how to falsify himself and take ridicule with the strained laugh of the "good sport."

Williamson-Codling Rites in Baptist Church

Donna Jean Codling and Wilbur Jack Williamson were married Saturday at First Baptist Church. The Rev. W. E. Hakes officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Codling of West Yale street and Mrs. Ada Williamson of Dick avenue.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with short sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The floor length skirt ending in a chapel train was accented with three rows of lace and a pearl crown held her tulle fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white rose and pink rosebuds.

Joan Humphrey was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Marilyn Atkinson and the bride's sister, Nancy Sue Codling. Catherine Cocking was flower girl.

They were dressed alike in yellow chiffon dresses with matching accessories and the bridesmaids carried fans of yellow and white carnations. The maid of honor carried a fan of yellow roses.

MRS. WILBUR J. WILLIAMSON

Gerald Williamson was best man. He is the bridegroom's brother. Ushers were Allen Williamson, another of the bridegroom's brothers; Richard Atkinson of Detroit, Frederick Baker and Ronald Sears. Ring bearer was Michael Donovan.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

Before leaving for a honeymoon to northern Michigan, the bride changed to a black linen sheath with white accessories and the rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet. They will live on Seminole avenue.

The bridegroom attended Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Codling wore a light blue linen sheath with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Williamson was dressed in a navy blue silk dress with matching accessories.

Marathon Helps

Extra Benefits From Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As the old saying goes, nothing succeeds like success, and nothing is more exciting than to see or hear about the startling improvement women can make in their appearance when they follow a corrective beauty routine, if only for just eight weeks.

If you do not believe that eight weeks is long enough to accomplish much, listen to this letter I received when my Marathon program was nearly over.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: Five years ago I weighed an even 200 pounds, just an accumulation of pounds over the years. I hated being fat but never did anything about it until I saw a dress I wanted very much. But it wasn't made in tent sizes. That did it!

LET IT BACK

"I counted my calories and in 11 months lost 60 pounds. I felt like a new person and looked years younger. The same old story again! I let it creep back, mostly carelessness, although I did keep some tab on my diet. Then I saw your 8-Week Marathon in the newspaper!

"I have two weeks more to go on it but I plan to continue until I am normal weight. I have lost 18 pounds already and am so pleased. My hair and skin have improved so much that they are a pleasure.

"I feel marvelous. With the daily exercises my joints are no longer stiff, not even with arthritis.

There are nice things about a diet and exercise program besides the improvement in figure. Many of the by-products are extremely important. I often have noticed this in my classes. Not only do the pounds drop away and the measurements decrease, but women often overcome constipation, stiff joints, and happiest of all, experience a big pick-up in energy.

If you missed out on my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon, and would like to lose 20 pounds in eight weeks and improve any defects you may have in beauty, you will want my Marathon booklet. If so send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

Tomorrow: "Grab a Chunk of Life—And Use It for Reducing."

After you have finished the Marathon, you'll be as glad to be alive as this young woman. You'll feel marvelous—and you'll look that way, too.

Some Folks Make Big Issues

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our son was married recently and my husband and I gave his bride-to-be, on the eve of their wedding and in the presence of them both, a sizable check for which we never received a thank-you note. My question is, shouldn't the bride have sent us a note of thanks for our present? When I approached her about this, she said she thought we would be 'insulted' to receive such a note from her now that she is a member of the family, and that a thank-you note was not in order.

"I have gone along with her excuse rather than make an issue of it, but I still feel that she should have written us a note of thanks. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: Since your daughter-in-law surely thanked you in person when you handed her the check, a thank-you note was certainly not necessary.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I had five women for dinner at my house and served quite formally. After dinner I noticed that two of my guests folded their napkins in their original creases. According to my knowledge and what I have been doing all my fifty years, I thought just crushing it together loosely and placing it on the table was proper.

"Will you please tell me what is really correct? My friends claim that when it is folded it means that you were satisfied and hope to be invited again."

Answer: I can't imagine where your friends got their idea about the meaning of folding a napkin, and I can assure you that I have never heard of it. You are right in believing that the napkin should be placed unfolded on the table.

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your advice and opinion concerning the wearing of veils by the bridesmaids. The prospective bride wants her wedding party to wear veils instead of hats. I have always been of the opinion that the bride alone wore a veil at her wedding. I have been an attendant at two weddings and witnessed several others and I do not recall any bridesmaid ever wearing a veil.

Answer: Short colored veils to match the bridesmaids dresses would be quite all right if that is what the bride would like. These veils are in no way suggestive of a bridal veil which is long and full and white.

Theresa in Latin means a girl who carries ears of corn during a harvest.

Claudette Shelton Weds Garry Cox; 200 Guests

White gladioli and pompons banked the altar of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Claudette Shelton and Garry Cox. The Rev. T. R. Allebach officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Shelton of Summit street and Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Cox of Euclid avenue.

The bride's floor-length gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace over taffeta with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was bordered with lace and was held by a pearl and sequin tiara. She wore pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white orchid centered on a white Bible.

Donna Tate was maid of honor and Mrs. Charles Payne, the bridegroom's sister, and Claudia Mitchell were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was the bride's sister Sherry.

The maid of honor and junior bridesmaid wore pink taffeta dresses with matching headpieces and they had bouquets of white carnations.

The bridesmaids were dressed in lighter pink with matching headpieces and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Gene Cox was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ronald Shelton, the bride's brother, and Vance Jones and Paul Jones, both of Rochester.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Before leaving for a honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the bride changed to a navy blue linen sheath dress with the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Shelton wore a light blue dress trimmed in white lace, with white accessories and a pink rose corsage. Mrs. Cox was dressed in white with white accessories and a red rose corsage.

Directors to Confer

Directors of the Needlework Guild of America, Galloway Lake Unit, will meet at the home of Mrs. Howard Barnes on Opdyke road at 2:30 p.m. Thursday. The group wll discuss plans for the ingathering in November.

You'll need a 10-ounce jar of jelly to spread over a sponge-cake made in a jelly-roll pan.

For Plane Travel

Know What to Pack

This is the year when everybody is going places. This is the dawn of the era of jet travel, when Suzy Secretary can take a jaunt to Europe on her two weeks with pay and have plenty of time to see the sights.

New fast schedules and economy fares put the whole world within reach of the travel-happy vacationer. But when you go by plane you have to travel light. There's no room for a half dozen trunks, such as Grandma used to take aboard ship when she started out for her Grand Tour.

One bag and an overnight case is about the limit for today's air traveler.

The seasoned traveler goes in for a simple, versatile wardrobe, all planned to be worn with one set of accessories. Extra shoes and handbags can use up a weight allotment. She wears a suit which can be dressed up or down by a change of blouse, scarf and jewelry.

She wears a travel coat which will serve all purposes. In her luggage she packs lightweight wash - and - wear separates, nylon lingerie and stockings, plenty of scarfs, packable hats and jewelry to vary the look of a basic dress. She is not easily discouraged and can be counted on to carry her part of the load.

Test kitchen note: Overbeating popover batter decreases the volume of this good hot bread.

How Does Wife Rate in This Little Test?

By RUTH MILLETT

Is your wife one of your most reliable assets? She undoubtedly is if:

She has the knack of turning a house into a comfortable home and knows how to make you feel like its head.

She is a good mother who loves her children but doesn't expect you to play second fiddle to them.

She is interested in your work and is obviously proud of what you have accomplished and what you aim to accomplish.

She has a good disposition and is easy to live with.

She has the warmth and graciousness and liking for people that have brought you many friends as a couple.

She doesn't regard your outside interests as silly, or a waste of time simply because she does not share them.

She hasn't "let herself go" so that you are as proud of her now as you were the day you married her.

She has a sense of humor that lightens the trials and tribulations of everyday living.

She has interests of her own that keep her busy and happy and make her a more enjoyable companion.

She shares some of your interests and leisure time activities.

She gets along with your family and seems to be genuinely fond of your parents.

She is a good manager, making the money you earn go as far as possible in providing the things that are most important to the family.

TRAVEL TIPS

Enjoy the confidence of arriving at your destination neat, clean and feeling up to any situation.

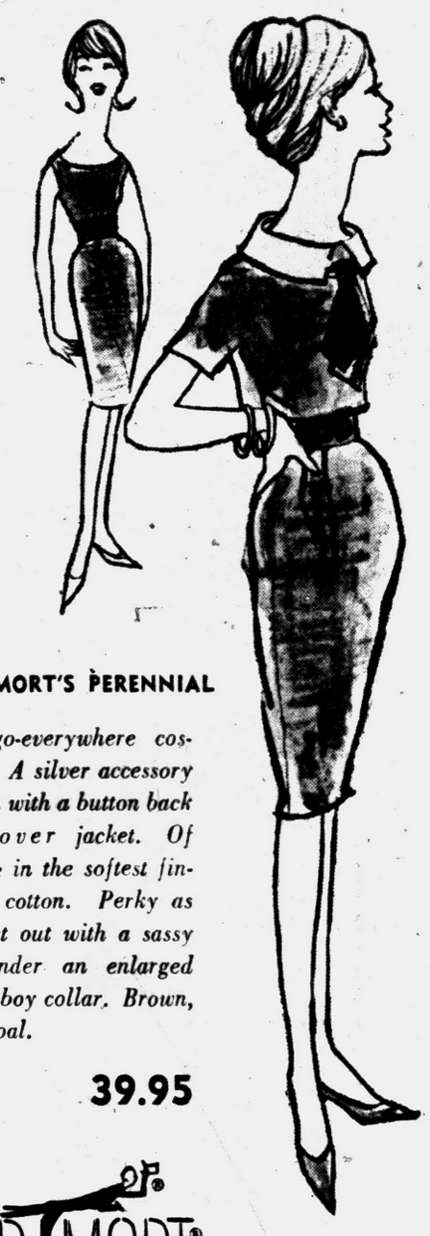

If traveling by car, keep a damp wash cloth in a plastic bag, a bit of skin freshener and a hair brush handy. It only takes a jiffy to do a quick-cleansing job in the car or in an available restroom. Change your shoes and blouse and presto . . . a new you.

By plane or train take advantage of the lounge provided for your convenience. Slip out of your shoes into slippers on a long trip and select your travel ensemble for it's durability. Keep fresh white gloves for a last minute switch and a bandbox look on your arrival.

A fold-up rain bonnet should be part of your standard equipment for any mode of travel.

Check Glamour IQ Before School Starts

What's your glamour I.Q.?

Many a smart coed flunks the test of beauty because she's neglected just one detail. Perhaps it's a straggly hairdo, chipped nail polish or rough, chapped hands.

Whatever the cause, there's a remedy at hand: It's a weekly beauty once-over.

The Princess Grooming Clinic, a service of Remington Electric Shaver Division, reminds coeds that a pedicure and leg care are essential to overall neatness.

Each week go over legs and underarms to remove excess fuzz.

Grooming clinic researchers discovered that the most effective way to use the electric shaver is to hold it flat against the skin. Use a long, sweeping stroke on the leg; a short, overlapping stroke for the underarm area.

Snacking Goes With Study Hour; Here Are Ideas

Concentration seems a lot easier if accompanied by a snack, but a little bit of the wrong kind of nibbling can wreck a figure and a clear complexion. So when snack-time rolls around, hide the high-calorie foods and get out the celery, carrots, apples and bananas.

Another suggestion for study-snacking is a beverage made with crystal-form nonfat dry milk that ern form of nonfat dry milk that dissolves instantly even in ice cold water.

CREOLE SHAKE
(Makes 2 servings)

Combine 1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals, ¾ cup ice water, 1 teaspoon instant coffee powder, 1½ tablespoons dark corn syrup, ½ cup crushed ice.

COCOA SWIZZLE
(Makes 2 servings)

Combine ⅔ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals, 1½ cups water, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon cocoa, ¾ teaspoon vanilla.

Keep Salad Plates Cold

Like to serve salad with your main course? Then provide a separate salad plate or bowl and place it to the left of the luncheon or dinner plate. Cold salad should never be served on plates that have been warmed for a hot main course.

Serve Salmon Loaf Hot or Chilled

NEW YORK (UPI) — A quick, easy and inexpensive summer entree that is good either hot or cold is this salmon-vegetable loaf. Mix 1-pound can salmon, flaked, with 1 can condensed vegetable soup, 2 cups crumbled wheat crackers, 1 onion, chopped, and 1 egg.

Pack into greased 8 x 4 x 2½ inch loaf pan and bake in 350 degree oven 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Canned Meats Sterile

Most canned meats will keep at room temperature as long as they are stored unopened, says the Ohio Extension Service. It reports that canned meats, unless otherwise stated on the labels have been sterilized after sealing for preservation. Some items—hams, for instance—are not completely sterile and must be refrigerated.

Be sure your refrigerator is level to cut the noise.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Tuna Combines Well With Many Foods

Everyone has their own favorite tuna filling for a hearty nutritious sandwich. Here are three different but delicious suggestions using this low-priced protein-packed food.

Tuna, minced celery and thin pickle slices are spread on toast squares and topped with savory cheese souffle centers in these simple-to-make hot supper sandwiches. Cooked asparagus spears, crisp apple wedges and glasses of tomato juice make appetizing accompaniments.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup grated processed Cheddar cheese
Dash pepper
2 eggs, separated
1 6½-ounce can chunk-style tuna, drained
¼ cup minced celery
4 slices bread
4 sweet gherkins, sliced

Melt butter or margarine; add cheese and pepper and cook over low heat until cheese is melted. Beat egg yolks until lemon-colored; gradually add melted cheese, stirring constantly.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold egg whites into cheese mixture. Combine tuna and celery; mix well. Toast bread on one side; arrange gherkin slices on untoasted side of bread.

Spread tuna mixture on gherkin slices and top with cheese-egg sauce. Broil 3-4 inches from heat about 5 minutes, or until cheese is browned and puffy. Makes about 4 sandwiches.

Tuna and Asparagus Sandwich Spread

2 6½-ounce cans chunk-style tuna, drained
1 cup diced asparagus tips
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
¼ cup grated cabbage
¾ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine tuna, asparagus, green pepper and cabbage; mix lightly but thoroughly. Add mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste; mix well. Spread on buttered bread to make sandwiches. Makes about 3 cups filling.

Tuna and Chestnut Filling

1 6½-ounce can chunk-style tuna, drained
½ cup chopped boiled chestnuts
½ cup chopped celery
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
⅓ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste.

Combine all ingredients; mix until well blended. Spread on buttered bread to make sandwiches. Makes about 2 cups filling.

Spread waffles with softened cream cheese instead of butter and top with dark corn syrup.

Quick Yeast Rolls Start With Mix

NEW YORK (UPI)—Looking for a quick and easy way to make yeast rolls? Mix 2½ cups of prepared biscuit mix into a yeast mixture, made by stirring 1 package of active dry yeast into ¾ cups of warm water.

Beat the biscuit mix in vigorously, and turn the dough onto a surface well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth (about 20 times). Shape into rolls, place on a lightly greased baking sheet, cover with a damp cloth and let rise in a warm, draft-free spot, for about 1 hour.

Bake at 400 degrees for 10-15 minutes, depending on the size of rolls. Brush with butter after baking.

Yield: 12-16 rolls.

When making potato salad, boil the eggs and potatoes in the same pan. Leave the skins on the potatoes during cooking.

Little Spoon Makes Melon, Avocado Balls

No need to have a special French gadget to cut melon or avocado balls. Use the ¼ teaspoon from your set of measuring spoons.

The melon balls are attractive in a fruit cup for dessert; the avocado balls are delectable when drenched with French dressing to which chili sauce or catchup has been added and served as a first course on shredded lettuce..

Report Final Polio Clinic to Be Held Tomorrow

The final polio clinic of the summer will be held from 12 to 1:30 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Four Towns Elementary School, 6370 Cooley Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Shots will cost one dollar each, according to Mrs. Robert Bruce, chairman of the Four Towns PTA which is sponsoring the clinic.

All area residents may receive the shots.

GETS THEIR DANDER UP—Tony Curtis becomes critical of movie stars who decide to go Broadway. He claims being a film star is a full-time job; that it builds an audience around the world instead of a few highbrows. He was taking a slam at Tony Perkins and Paul Newman, both of whom thought they were pretty strong words. Perkins intimates: Leave me alone, I'm doing alright.

films. None of his movies has been a runaway success, unlike the string of hits amassed by Curtis.

"But I was reassured by being asked by Josh Logan to do 'Tall Story' and by Alfred Hitchcock to do his next picture," Perkins said. "I just finished doing 'On the Beach' for Stanley Kramer, so that's three in a row with top directors. I guess I'm doing all right."

Perkins is getting plenty of rehearsal for "Tall Story"—on a basketball court. He shows up every morning at the UCLA gym to learn how to simulate a basketball tosser in the college comedy.

This is a repeat of his athletic rigors for "Fear Strikes Out," in which he played baseball star Jimmy Piersall. He not only had to learn how to look like an outfielder: he had to throw and bat right-handed. Tony's a southpaw.

The legs of a mouse deer are about as thick as a pencil.

Where Does All the Money Go, Asks New Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — James Darren, new teenage idol who is now in "The Gene Krupa Story," went into the big money after he hit in "Gidget." "But what I can't understand," he moans, "is that I can't support myself on what I make, yet my father supported a family of four for years on a $60 a week."

Jimmy says he lives conservatively for Hollywood, paying only $85 a month for an apartment.

"But what it costs me to promote my records alone would keep a middle class family in style for a year. Records, I don't care how good they are, don't promote themselves."

His biggest hit record so far has been "Gidget" which sold 400,000 copies but Jimmy says he saw little of the royalties.

Hollywood Headlines:

Curtis Slams at Actors Who Grab Stage Jobs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tony Curtis recently took a slam at actors like Tony Perkins and Paul Newman who desert their film careers to return to the stage.

"Being a movie star is a full-time job," argued Curtis. "These guys are out of their minds to go back there and play before a few thousand people a week. What are they learning — doing the same role for eight or 10 months? They should be doing pictures, which is a technique in itself. They should be building an audience throughout the world, not just the highbrows that go to the theater."

THOMAS

Strong words. I thought they might get a rise out of Tony Perkins, and they did. Perkins' film career soared, then he took many months off to play "Look Homeward, Angel" on Broadway.

"It was the best thing that could have happened to me," he declared. "I learned more doing that play than I have ever learned in the movies."

He added: "I don't know why Tony is so vehement about his opinions. I'm not vehement in saying he should do plays. But I think it's a great thing for an actor."

As for the effect on his career of taking time away from Hollywood, Perkins acknowledged he hadn't been sure of his draw in

Ho-Hum—Lary Beats Yanks 21st Time

Tigers Replace 'Cousins' in 5th on 4-3 Triumph

Chrisley Homer Starts Early Splurge; Mossi Works Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Lary added another chapter to his impressive mastery of the New York Yankees last night with a six-hit 4-3 victory over the sagging world champions.

Lary now has beaten New York five straight times this year and is 21-5 aaginst the Yankees in his career.

The victory was Detroit's 11th in 15 games against Casey Stengel and crew this year and was witnessed by a crowd of 32,972. The defeat dropped New York into sixth place, a percentage point behind the Tigers.

Lary went all the way in gaining his 14th victory this year against seven defeats. He held a 4-1 lead through the first seven innings but allowed the Yankees two runs in the final two frames.

Detroit jumped to a three-run lead in the first. Neil Chrisley hit his sixth home run of the year. Chrisley only has nine hits this season. Al Kaline walked, stole second, and came home on a double by Red Wilson. Wilson scored on a single by Gail Harris.

Mickey Mantle picked up one run for the Yankees in the first with his 21st home run.

Singles by Kaline, Charlie Maxwell and Frank Bolling accounted for Detroit's final run in the third.

Elston Howard made it 4-2 in the eighth with his 13th home run and the Yankees got their final tally in the ninth on a double by Marv Throneberry and two infield outs.

Stengel sent four pitchers against the Tigers in an effort to break Lary's spell. Rookie Eli Grba started and was followed to the mound by ex-Tiger Duke Maas, Gary Blaylock and Bob Turley. Grba took his third loss of the year against one victory.

Manager Jimmie Dykes planned to start the second half of the Tigers' Yankee-killers, Don Mossi (10-4), today. Stengel nominated Bobby Shantz (5-3).

Last night's crowd sent Yankee Stadium attendance over the million mark for the 14th consecutive year. New York now has drawn 1,014,630 fans this year with 29 home dates remaining.

Spahn 3-Hits Giants for Point Lead

Braves Regain 1st Place

By The Associated Press

Warren Spahn has led the Milwaukee Braves back into the National League lead. He hurled a brilliant three-hitter against the San Francisco Giants last night.

The 38-year-old left-hander who has won 261 games, only five short of Eppa Rixey's all-time high for a National League southpaw, allowed only one hit in the first 7 2-3 innings. That was a single by Willie McCovey with two gone in the first. He walked Willie Mays in the fourth but not another Giant reached base until the eighth.

Jim Hegan's two-out single in the eighth broke the spell and the Giants broke the shutout with two walks and Willie Kirkland's double in the last of the ninth.

The 6-1 Milwaukee victory put the Braves on top by .001 over the Giants with Los Angeles, a 4-1 loser to Cincinnati, another half game behind.

It was the first time Fred Haney's defending champions had held first place since July 8, just after the first All-Star game break and shortly before their disastrous seven-game losing slump. Except for one day, July 29, when Los Angeles edged ahead by a half game, the giants had been on top ever since.

Sloppy Giant fielding helped ruin the night for the capacity 22,959 at Seals Stadium, San Francisco was guilty of five errors, two by losing pitcher Mike McCormick at first base.

Milwaukee, enroute to its 11th victory in its last 13 games, picked up unearned runs in the first and third and landed on McCormick for two more in the fifth. Del Crandall's 13th homer with Billy Bruton on base completed the scoring in the eighth.

While the Braves were winning the opener of this important three-gam series, Los Angeles was blowing a chance to take over first place.

Vada Pinson hit a two-run homer and lefty Joe Nuxhall allowed only three hits in beating the Dodgers who led momentarily in the first inning on Wally Moon's home run. Pinson connected for No. 15 over the left field screen during the three-run third. Roy McMillan walked, took third on Nuxhall's double and scored on Johnny Temple's sacrifice fly. Then ame Pinson's blow that hung defeat No. 5 on Stan Williams. Jerry Lynch also homered in the eighth off Roger Craig.

Nuxhall was the first left-hander to start against the Dodgers and beat them in their Coliseum this season.

Pittsburgh's Vern Law subdued S. Louis 7-3 despite home runs by Stan Musial and George Crowe. The Pirates routed loser Bob Gibson in the three-run fifth after scorin three times in the first inning. It was Law's 12th victory and Gibson's first defeat since he was brought up from the Omaha farm club.

Harry Anderson's two-run double provided Robin Roberts with enough runs for Philadelphia's 2-1 margin over Chicago in the only day game. Roberts' 10th victory of the season was the 216th of his brilliant career.

Knights Win 'A' League Wrapup

League champion Knights of Columbus closed down the Class A baseball season on a winning note by handing Shaw's Jewelers a 6-1 setback last night.

Winner Jerry Taylor had a one-hit shutout until Herm Bishop led off the 7th with a home run. Stu Dell and Jim Wagner had two hits apiece off loser Dick Covrea.

The loop playoffs will start Monday with the 2nd place Pirates and No. 3 Jets tangling.

Defending Champion in Semifinal Trial

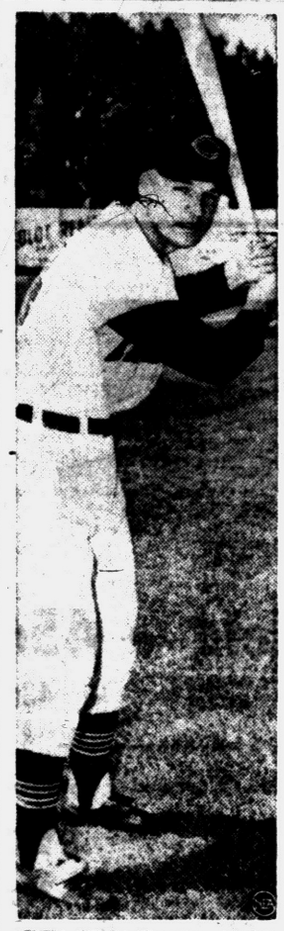

LANSING (AP)—Mrs. Dwight Anneaux of St. Joseph will try to move another step closer to retaining her title today as she faces Carolee Evertse of Grand Rapids in the semi-finals of the Women's Western District golf tournament.

Mrs. Anneaux, defending champion, beat Mrs. Charles Chandler of Gull Lake in the opening round yesterday, 5-3.

Miss Evertse outlasted 16-year-old Patti Shook of Saugatuck in the top match of the day to win in 22 holes in a see-saw battle.

Sharon Miller of Marshall also only 16, had an easy time as she topped Mrs. George Martucci of Jackson, 4-3. Nancy Way of Grand Rapids, stroked her way past Mrs. Edgar Reynolds of Lansing, 2 up.

VIVA TITO! The Cleveland Indians are battling for the American League pennant and one of the big reasons is Tiger discard Tito Francona who yesterday drove in four runs and boosted his season average to .416 In his last 21 games however he is hitting well over .450.

Francona Paces Tribe Win, Hoeft Nips Chisox

By The Associated Press

With Tito Francona on the warpath there is new hope in the camp of the Cleveland Indians who now trail Chicago by only two games in the American League race.

Francona leads both majors with his .416 batting average but he probably won't have enough at bats to be eligible for the league title. He needs about 255 more appearances at the plate and the Indians have only 49 games to play.

Certainly the deal that brought Francona to Cleveland from Detroit in exchange for Larry Doby last March ranks with one of the best Frank Lane ever made.

Doby finally drifted to Chicago again and was shipped down to San Diego in the Pacific League just the other day.

Francona helped send poor stumbling Washington down to its 17th straight defeat last night when he drove in four runs in Cleveland's 8-2 victory. The outfielder sparked a four-run surge in the third with his two-run triple and hit his 12th homer in the seventh after Minnie Minoso walked. In the meantime, Jim Perry was throwing a six-hitter to beat Bill Fischer.

Cookie Lavagetto's Senators, who haven't won since they beat Kansas City in the first half of a July 19 doubleheader, can beat the club record for futility if they blow Wednesday's doubleheader. In fact, the American League and modern Major League record is only 20, shared by three clubs, the most recent being the 1943 Philadelphia A's. A Washington club once lost 18 in a row in 1948.

Baltimore gave Chicago a dose of its own one-run medicine. The Orioles came up with two unearned runs in the eighth for a 3-2 decision over the White Sox, who had won 26 of 31 previous one-run games.

Rookie Ken McBride from Indianapolis left in the eighth with the bases loaded and Chicago winning 2-1 on Johnny Romano's two-run pinch homer. Reliefman Turk Lown walked in the tying run before Gerry Staley took over. The Orioles scored the tie-breaker when Luis Aparicio couldn't get off a throw after fielding Billy Klaus' grounder. Billy Hoeft was the winner and McBride, who had put the winning run on base, was the loser.

Kansas City dropped to fourth place by splitting a twi-nighter at Boston. Pete Runnels drove in three runs in Boston's 4-1 opening victory for Tom Brewer. The A's scored six in the sixth to take the second game 8-6. Eleven men batted in the big inning that ruined Al Schroll and gave Murry Dickson his second victory.

Three Lion Regulars May Miss Encounter Saturday

The Detroit Lions and the Los Angeles Rams prepared for their initial exhibition clash of the pro football season Saturday at Boulder, Colo., with each team nursing injuries to several key veterans.

Three Lion regulars have been injured in workouts Monday and Tuesday. Tackle John Gordy twisted an ankle in Monday's scrimmage and yesterday halfback Gene Gedman and end Jim Doran were sidelined.

Gedman hurt his knee and Doran fell on his right side injuring his shoulder. He was sent to the hospital for X-rays.

Coach George Wilson said he has reached no decision on the rotation of the quarterbacks, but there was indications that Earl Morrall would get the starting assignment against the Rams.

Meanwhile in Redlands, Calif., where the Rams are training, coach Sid Gillman said he would start ex-Rice star Frank Ryan at quarterback and let Bill Wade, the regular signal caller, enter the game possibly in the second half.

Ram players who will not get into the game because of injuries are halfback Jon Arnett, fullback Tom Wilson, safetyman Don Burroughs and end Leon Clarke.

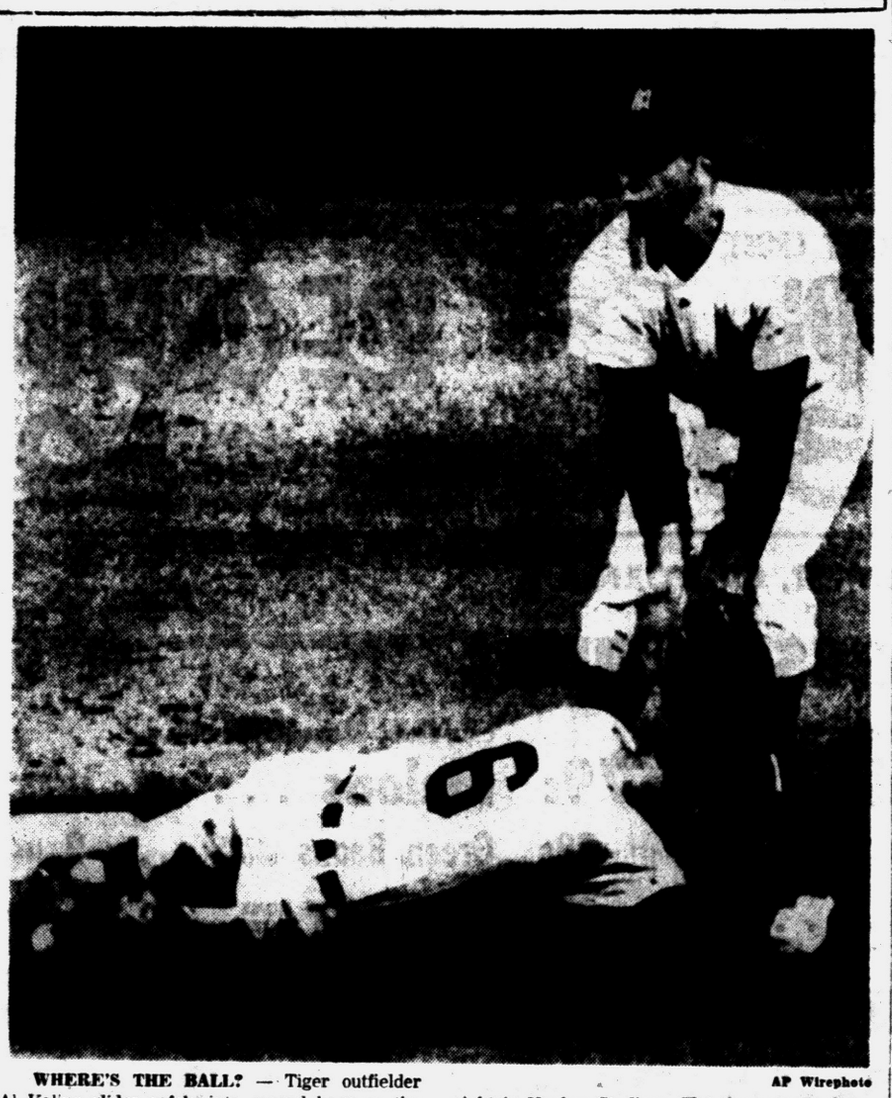

Joe Marconi will start at fullback with Ollie Matson and Clendon Thomas at the halves.

The Lions plan another contact session today and will leave Thursday for Boulder, Colorado.

Wilson was pleased with the workout Tuesday. "The guys are doing a real good job out there," he commented.

WHERE'S THE BALL? — Tiger outfielder Al Kaline slides safely into second base as the ball hits the bag and bounces away from second baseman Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees in the first inning of their game last night in Yankee Stadium. The throw came from catcher Yogi Berra but it never got to Richardson. The Tigers beat the Yanks, 4-3, with Frank Lary again turning the trick.

2 Oakland Hills Golfers in Lead

Two Oakland Hills CC players, Cliff Rugg and Tom Yarnall were among four players tied in the first round of the Michigan Seniors tournament being held at Detroit Golf Club.

Yarnall fired a 36-35 and Rugg had a 35-36 on the South course.

C. J. Farley, six-time champion from Grand Rapids, birdied four of the last five holes to go two-over par 73 on the North course.

Farley, bidding for his 7th title, won the championship six straight times from 1944 through 1949.

All players switch courses in today's final round.

Lane Takes Another Blast at Stengel

All-Star Tilt Feud Continues

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager, Tuesday called Casey Stengel's use of Indian pitcher Cal McLish in the All-Star Game a "damned dirty trick."

On another leg of his running feud with the New York Yankee manager, Lane continued:

"It's also a shame that the American League race has to be subjugated to an exhibition game."

Lane said that he backed Paul Richards, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, 100 per cent. Richards, in Baltimore, said the use of three of his Oriole pitchers in the second All-Star Game in Los Angeles Monday had "messed up" his scheduled rotation of pitchers.

"Why did Stengel use McLish when Cal had just pitched against Baltimore Sunday?" Lane asked. "I thought Stengel was a better baseball man than that. Richards wouldn't do it. Joe Gordon Cleveland manager, wouldn't do it. It's sort of an unwritten law.

"What right did Stengel have in pitching Billy O'Dell, who worked in both games for the Orioles on Sunday? He uses McLish and O'Dell while his own Ryne Duren never left the bull pen. I'll leave it to the public to judge Stengel's motive."

Richards still complained Tuesday the second All-Star Game had "messed up" his scheduled rotation of pitchers.

However, his tone had calmed down after watching three of his hurlers help pitch the American Leaguers to victory.

On Sunday, Richards was considerably more violent when Jerry Walker was named as the third Oriole pitcher on the All-Star squad.

He called the second All-Star Game "a miserable act of malfeasance."

When Walker's selection was announced Sunday, Richards fumed "You would think the pennant race is more important than a second exhibition game."

He claimed he had planned to start Walker against the league-leading Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

"Now, with no warning whatsoever, we are supposed to look for somebody else," Richards beefed.

"Whoever is responsible for letting this All-Star Game be railroaded through should be censored severely."

However, Richards did not blame All-Star Manager Casey Stengel for using all three Baltimore hurlers.

"He had a job to do and was in a heck of a spot. This is something we all have to live with and I'm not complaining."

Finsterwald's Golf Tip:

Swing Comes Naturally

By DOW FINSPERWALD
1958 PGA Champion

Be comfortable and the swing will come naturally.

The swing must be strictly vertical. Start it by turning the left shoulder. Allow the shoulders all the freedom required for ease of movement.

The left shoulder comes around under the chin on the backswing and the right shoulder comes around under the chin in the follow through.

Pause at the top and start the downswing slowly, gaining momentum on the downstroke so that you have maximum clubhead speed at impact.

Do this and everything will work automatically. This promotes timing which is all there is to hitting the ball.

Swing the club back slowly and easily. The body will pivot to the right. The weight will be properly distributed. The left knee will bend slightly. The wrists will cock.

Starting the downswing the same way after the pause, the same thing follows. The wrists will uncock, unleashing their power. The weight will shift forward to the left leg.

The hips will pivot—first to be square with the ball at impact, then to turn away from the flight of the ball in the follow through.

Hernando Dumps Star

Detroiter in Tennis Upset

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Ramanathan Krishman of India was upset by little-known Rudy Hernando, of Detroit, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, Monday as the four seeded foreign players were wiped out of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Tony Pickard of England, Iyo Pimental of Venezuela and Reg Bennett of England also were out of the tournament as U.S. Davis Cup ace Alex Olmedo led a parade of 16 Americans into the third round.

Pickard, second-seeded foreigner behind Krishman, bowed to Roger Werksman, of Los Angeles, 9-7, 6-3. Pimental was defaulted because of his late arrival and fourth-seeded Bennett was ousted by Larry Nagler of North Hollywood, Calif., 6-4, 6-2.

Olmedo, the Peruvian who lives in Los Angeles, out-battled 17-year-old Ramsey Earnhart, Ventura, Calif., 10-8, 7-5, and his two U. S. Davis Cup teammates, Bernard (Tut) Bartzen and Earl Buchholz Jr., advanced easily.

Bartzen of Dallas, second-seeded behind Olmedo among the U. S. entrants, crushed Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., 6-0, 6-0, and fourth-seeded Buchholz, St. Louis, ripped semi-retired Sid Schwartz, New York, 6-2, 6-1.

Dick Savitt, third-seeded slugger from South Orange, N. J., outpowered Al Driscole, North Hollywood, Calif., 6-3, 6-3.

Michigan Netter Bows

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—Barara Benigni and Farel Footman of San Francisco, defeated Sue Hodgman, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Ann Carlier, Drayton, Ohio, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, in a doubles match yesterday in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Tournament.

Waterford Winners Each Score 14 Runs

Both winning clubs in last night's Waterford Recreation softball play scored 14 runs. One was a shutout for Dobski's over Wall's Service. Lakeland Pharmacy just doubled the count (14-7) for its win over Arrows.

Pharmacy clinched its victory in the 3rd with a 4-run rally that wiped out a 7-5 deficit and left the count at 9-7. Lakeside added four more in the 5th and another in the 6th, while blanking the Arrows rest of the way. Arrows got all their runs in the 1st two frames.

Bill Pittman was the winner, Doug Rieck the loser. Ten Arrow errors didn't help. Vern Keebaugh batted in five runs on his double and two singles.

Four runs in the 1st inning were all Dobski's needed, but they got got 10 more before the game was called in the 5th. Seven Wall's errors were responsible for 30 bases, provided most of the winners' runs. Ralph Long was winner, firing a one-hitter. Loser was Dick Stafford. Joe Wiley and Ken Morrow led winners' batting.

Colts, Toronto Match Styles Tonight

By The Associated Press

The pro football whirl, climaxed so brilliantly with Baltimore's overtime National Football League championship victory last December, gets started tonight with an offering of a different nature.

The NFL Chicago Cardinals will play the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Big Four Football Union in an exhibition game featuring the rules of both leagues.

This is not the first time an NFL and Canadian team has matched styles of play, but it will offer good comparisons for the rule makers and football style devotees.

When the Cards have the ball, each team will have 11 men on the field a la American style of play.

The teams will be allowed 12 men when the Argos are on offense. But the big excitement in Toronto is the unlimited blocking rule, for both teams which is directly opposed to the Canadian rule that says a ball carrier is on his own once he hits the secondary.

"Football is blocking and tackling, and any rule that prevents a player from doing it by fair means is a rule which is not in the best interests of the game," Toronto Coach Hamp Pool said.

Card Coach Frank "Pop" Ivy, who was a successful Canadian professional coach before taking over the Cards last season, may have Tom Catlin, veteran center whom the Cards obtained yesterday from the Cleveland Browns. They gave up a draft choice for the former Oklahoma star.

In the Colts camp, veteran linebacker Leo Sanford must undergo surgery for a recurring knee injury. After an operation during off-season Sanford hurt the knee in a scrimmage more than a week ago.

Three rookie candidates were cut Tuesday from the Baltimore Colts pro football squad.

Coach Weeb Ewbank released end Tom Peters of Wisconsin, linebacker Arch Matsos of Michiagn State and halfback Phil Parslow of UCLA.

All-Stars Edge Bears, 7-6

By JOE MOOSHIL

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—The College All-Stars passed their first test against professional competition yesterday but head coach Otto Graham wasn't satisfied with his squad's performance.

"We still have a lot of work ahead of us," said Graham after his All-Stars had defeated the Chicago Bears 7-6 in an exhibition scrimmage at St. Joseph's College.

"This game will do us a lot of good," said Graham, "but we face a tough club in Baltimore. We were pretty sloppy out there."

The All-Stars, who meet the Baltimore Colts in Chicago's Soldier Field Aug. 14, put on a 99-yard touchdown drive in the final quarter to nip the Bears.

Lee Grosscup of Utah directed the march which ended when he flipped 33 yards to Buddy Dial of Rice for the score. Sam Williams of Michigan State converted the decisive point.

The Bears scored in the second quarter when they blocked an All-Star punt and Bill George picked up the ball and ran 24 yards for the score. Another Bear touchdown in the third quarter was nullified when Williams and the Bears' Dick Klein got into a scuffle. Still another battle broke out between Fred Williams of the Bears and Andy Cverko of Northwestern.

"They certainly had a lot of spirit," grinned Graham. "One good thing about this game is the boys realize the pros are just ordinary human beings. Also, we should be more relaxed against the Colts now that the initial nervousness of meeting the pros is gone."

George Halas, owner-coach of the Bears said, "The game will do both teams a lot of good. It'll give the Stars a lot of confidence they need and it gives us an idea of how much work we have ahead of us."

There were no kickoffs in the game and the free-catch signal was mandatory on all punts. The game was played in 15-minute quarters under a hot sun which sent the temperatures up to 90 degrees.

Despite the heat, there were only two time outs proving both squads were in excellent condition.

Cawley 1st and 2nd

GOTEBORG, Sweden — Warren Cawley, of Farmington, Mich. won the hurdles in 14.3 seconds yesterday in an international track meet here.

Cawley also was runner up in the 400-meter hurdles event.

Fans Like Losing Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Does Ftkees' attendance for this season pay to be a winner? You can't prove it by the New York Yankees.

The Yankees became the first American League club to pass the million mark in home attendance for the season when last night's throng of 32,972 pushed the total for 37 home dates to 1,014,360.

That's exactly 269,958 more fans to watch the Yankees stumble this year than the 744,402 they drew in their first 37 home dates last year when they were running away with the pennant. A Yankee spokesman says last year isn't a "true comparison," because bad weather held down last year's early season crowds.

But even so the Yankees are 91,417 ahead of the "normal" year of 1957 when they drew 922,943 fans at this point.

Obliging Ace-Maker

W. F. Barrett of Birmingham, and Mrs. Barret started what was to have been an easy, uneventful round of golf yesterday at Orchard Lake CC. But when they reached No. 7 tee all that was changed.

A foursome at the tee waved the Barretts through, and the obliging Mr. Barrett just banged his tee shot (two-wood club) into the cup on the par-3, 126 yard hole. It was his first ace in a dozen years at the game, and as far as club officials know, was the first on this green. He had 89 for the 18 holes.

Rosburg-Wall Enter Motor City Field

2 Pro Golfers Are Known for Baseball Grip

Both Recent Tourney Winners to Play at Meadowbrook

Bob Rosburg and Art Wall Jr., two fellows who have made the so-called baseball grip pay off in big money, will be two of the competitors in the Motor City Open golf tournament at Meadowbrook Country Club Aug. 13-16.

Rosburg, a former baseball player from Stanford University, just won the PGA crown at Minneapolis for the biggest win of his golfing career.

But the pudgy, bespectacled Rosburg, known as one of golf's finest putters, has a long way to go to catch Wall in 1959 earnings.

So did all the other pros on tour, for that matter. Wall, a Duke University grad, won the Crosby, Azalea, Masters and Flint tournaments. He is on his way to becoming the guy who pulled down more money in a single year than any other golfer, without winning the famed "World" tournament at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter.

That event in itself carried a top prize of $50,000 and without that big payoff, it is doubtful if any golfer could match Wall's official earnings of 1959.

Both Wall and Rosburg are certain to be among the top favorites in the Motor City event, Wall because of his consistency and his big victory in Flint.

Rosburg not only won the PGA title, succeeding Dow Finsterwald, but he is the defending champion in the Motor City event. He beat Ed Furgol in a sudden death playoff the last time the Motor City was staged here.

Another competitor will be long-driving Mike Souchak, who pulled down the Western Open title a few weeks ago. A former Duke football player, Souchak has taken something off his booming drives to concentrate more on accuracy.

"George Bayer convinced me I'd never be the game's longest hitter," said Souchak, "so I've taken about 20 yards off my drives. But I usually keep the ball in play. That's what counts."

Junior Baseballers Keep Battling

Pontiac's junior baseball playoffs move into the crucial stages in all classes tomorrow as the youngsters vie for district tournament berths.

Don Nicholie and Lytell-Colgrove won opposite type Class D affairs yesterday. Four different boys had two hits as Nicholie blasted Pontiac Boys Club 12-1. Lytell tallied three in the 1st and held on for a 5-1 verdict over Lake Orion on a three-hit job by Dave Jones. Chuck Kirken missed getting three safeties when Jeff Brady made an outstanding catch of his belt in the 7th.

Auburn Heights Boys Club scored all its runs early in whipping Our Lady of Refuge, 8-1. Five of its six hits came in a 6-run 2nd. Behind 1-0, Pontiac Boys Club came back to win the other Class E contest 6-3 over Independence Township.

In Class F action, Auburn Heights Boys Club and Northside Kiwanis won out. Dennis Acker struck out 10 and allowed State Farm three hits in a 7-1 victory. He also paced the hitters with a single and double. Dave Tinkis gave up nine bingles but was tough in the clutch for Kiwanis in conquering B & B Sewer Cleaners, 6-3.

It took the East Side Rockets to dispose of Baldwi EVB in a Widget National encounter. They combined 13 hits and eight errors for a 21-0 breeze with Jim Lonsfoote chucking hitless ball. Bill Lampi walloped a grand slam homer.

The games continue through Sunday with Monday an added day if needed to settle the races. District play begins next Tuesday and Wednesday.

In Tonight's Games

Softball Crowns on Line

Three of the four city softball playoff divisions could be decided tonight if the right teams win. Champions in each group will move into district competition later this month.

Tonight's important slate will have Stadium Inn playing Lakeside, Class A, at 7 and Casa Mia vs Pontiac Merchants, Class B at 8:30 at Beaudette Park. Arro vs Harrison's, Class C, and Moose vs Wright's Upholstery, Class D, in a North Side twin bill.

Stadium, Casa Mia and Arro are all after title clinchers.

Lakeside tripped the Elks 3-0 last night behind the six-hit hurling of Walt Travis, who got a big single in the 3-run 4th. Gene Boe pitched well in defeat.

The Merchants trailed 2-0 with none on and only one out left when loser Al Santeli lost control. Five successive walks and a single by Wayne O'Shaughnessy produced a 3-2 win over UAW-CIO. The game had been scoreless until the 6th.

Harrison's Grill fought back from a 5-1 deficit to romp 12-5 featuring a 7-run inning. Roger Voorheis flipped shutout ball after the 3rd. Buttercup downed Huron Bowl 6-1 in the other "C" tilt on a three-hitter by Burley Mondy.

Takes Main Event

Rust Is Winner at M-59

Norm Rust of Novi, driving in relief for Mickey Katlin, took over the main event lead in last night's modified hardtop racing program at the Pontiac Speedway.

He took the lead on the 12th lap and held off the thrusts of Bill Hasselle of Troy by completing the 20-lap event in 6:01.94.

On the 10th lap Don Porter of Flint spun and was struck by Joy Fair of Pontiac. Porter finished third but Fair was out for the rest of the program.

Dash events were won by Fair, Hasselle and Roger Eising, and heat races by Don Irish, Hasselle and Fair.

Joe Doyle of Pontiac, who finished second last week in the main event, had mechanical difficulties last night and placed 14th.

Next program at the M-59 track is Friday night. 500 silver dollars as a door prize. Trials start at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. J. LaBoskey Gets First Win in WDGA Play

A 19th hole playoff between Mrs. John LaBoskey and Margie Watkins gave Mrs. LaBoskey the victory in the Women's District weekly golf tournament yesterday at Country Club of Detroit.

Both players finished with 80, and on the extra hole both went into a trap. Mrs. LaBoskey came out for a bogey-5 to win.

It was her first triumph of the season in the WDGA.

Valdes Fights Liston

CHICAGO (AP)—Nino Valdes, the giant Cuban, will try to reenter the heavyweight picture tonight by upsetting the third-ranked contender, Sonny Liston.

Liston, No. 3 by both the National Boxing Assn., and Ring Magazine, is unbeaten in 17 bouts and has lost only once in 25. He is a solid favorite to dispose of the 34-year-old Valdes in the televised — ABC, 9 p.m. EST—10-rounder in Chicago Stadium.

Pontiac Pacer Runs at Imlay Tonight

IMLAY CITY — Myrt Song, a highly regarded two year old pacer, owned by the Houstima stable of Pontiac, drew the five slot in tonight's opening race at the four night harness race meet at Imlay City. The Dick Ross driven pacer already has one win to its credit this year, a smartly paced 2:15.2 at Croswell.

Eight dashes of harness racing are on tap tonight, as a heavy entry list in the two year old Michigan Colt stake event resulted in a split division.

Seven of the baby pacers go postward in the first division, with Direct Valley, the Les Norman owned pacer from Flint considered to be the top competition for Myrt Song.

Several highly regarded horses drew into the opening card.

Tennis Tourney at Oakland Hills

Annual Invitational Net Meet Draws 30 Doubles Teams This Weekend

The annual Oakland Hills Invitational Doubles Tournament takes place this weekend on the West Maple Road courts with 30 top-flight doubles team entries from Michigan and Ohio participating.

The tournament will get under way at 11:00 a. m. Saturday with the semi-finals and finals slated for Sunday afternoon.

Defending champions of the tournament are Gil Bogley and Len Brose of Detroit, with Don MacKay of Birmingham and Fred Otto as runners-up.

Oakland Hills tennis pro Bruce Noble said entries have come in from Hamtramck, Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Ann Arbor, Lansing, Saginaw, Bay City, Birmingham along with Ohio cities of Lakeville, Toledo and Perrysburg.

Among Birmingham area players entered are Jim Tobin, Pete Stuart, Bob Pease, Dick Gabori, Leon Bramley and Tom Watson.

The tournament is sanctioned by the Western Tennis Association of the USLTA.

Open National Test

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Champions of the future tee off today in the opening round of the U.S. Golf Assn.'s junior championships.

Lions Owe Player to Packers After Russell Quits

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers announced Tuesday that tackle Ken Russell, obtained in a trade with the Detroit Lions, has left camp because "It's too competitive around here."

Coach Vince Lombardi said Russell checked out Sunday without stating his future plans. Lombardi said Detroit now owes the Packers another player or a draft choice, whichever is acceptable to Green Bay at a later date.

The Packers obtained Russell in exchange for Ollie Spencer, also a tackle.

Howie Ferguson arrived in camp after being sent back by the Pittsburgh Steelers. Ferguson, who has a chronic shoulder ailment, couldn't pass the Steeler physical and flunked Green Bay's exam Tuesday. The Packers said Ferguson would have a silver pin removed from his shoulder and again be given a physical.

Waterford No-Hitter

Rick Appel pitched a no-hitter as Bulman's Hardware drubbed Gabriel's Market 13-0 in Waterford junior baseball Tuesday. Fankey's Grill topped Lakeland Optimists 5-3 and Boys Club C blanked Ryeson's Market 6-0 in other games.

BUILDS CHAMP'S BOW — National instinctive archery titlist (record 2799 total) Carl Heinrich (right) won his title at the recent nationals at Bend, Ore., using a 45-pound pull Superchief bow. The bow was made for Carl by Pontiac's Webb Grimes (left), former flier, now in the more prosaic (and safer) business of manufacturing archery equipment. Heinrich is a former Pontiac Archery Club member.

2 More Titles for Ed Brown

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. — Edward Brown, a 14-year-old Birmingham, Mich., youth captured two titles yesterday in the world skeet shooting championship.

Brown scored 100x100 and won the juniors title of the world small gauge championships and posted a 100x100 score for the Class AA small gauge title.

The Birmingham youth placed third in the small gauge open competition by shooting 74x75 in a shoot-off.

Floyd E. Gilmore of Wyandotte, Mich., placed second in the Class A open division of small gauge competition with a 98x100 score.

Other Pontiac and state area scores included:

Dick Hamlin, South Lyon 99x100 for Class C 28-gauge title; Hamlin also won the .410 "C" title Monday with 91x100; Bob Thiefels, 96x100; Jim Ashmore, Ferndale, 90x100; Bill Brown Jr., Birmingham, 98x100; Bud Brown, Birmingham, 98x100; Florence Schmidt, Royal Oak, 89x100; Ken Sedlecky, Baldwin, 99x100; Alms Borsum, Baldwin, 93x100; Floyd Gilmore, Wyandotte, 96x100; Howard Confer, Detroit, 98x100; Chet Crites, Detroit, 97x100; Bill Ellis, Mt. Clemens, 96x100; Al Fruman, Detroit, 83x100; Ed Richereek, Detroit, 82x100 and Ronald Kelley, Detroit, 97x100.

Dog Handling Clinic Proves a Good Move

Pontiac Kennel club members taking part in the recent dog handling clinic, held at Murphy Park, felt the affair was a good move. Mrs. George Lawler, who with her husband, were in attendance, felt a lot of good was accomplished in demonstrating how dogs should be handled in the show ring.

"I think we got some entries for our show (Aug. 16) as one result," she commented. A comfortable-sized attendance was on hand for the demonstration that included all six judging groups. Among breeds represented were poodles, Danes, fox terriers, bassets, schipperkes and Bostons.

PKC members assisting also included Mrs. Ed Kraft, as judge, Mr. and Mrs. Al Seeler, Bob Hawkins, Volney Cotton, Burt Johnston and Helen Seder.

Bear Hunters Must Get Special Stamp

President Carl T. Johnson of the Michigan Bear Hunters Association reminds those hunting bear with dogs on a small game license during the special seasons this fall must have a special $2 bear stamp. Resident small game license costs $3, non-resident $20.

Since the "early fall" bear season, Sept. 1-15, precedes the 1959 small game season in the Upper Peninsula, bear hunters there must attach the stamp to their 1958 license. When the season opens Oct. 1 in the Lower Peninsula as well, they must carry the stamped 1958 license along with their 1959 license.

Area Anglers Win Citations

Many Michigan and Pontiac area anglers entered the recently closed Greater Miami, Fla., fishing tourney, and a considerable number won citations of sorts, with several holding top spots. Many were for fish taken and released.

Here are the area citations:

Heaviest sailfish since 1950 (90½-pounds), Henry Mitzelfeldt, Rochester
Larry Moloney, Pontiac, 23-pound barracuda
Dr. C. McCarthy, Harper Woods, 9-pound, 4-ounce bonefish
Sam Katzman, Huntington Woods, 9-pound, 12-ounce bonefish
George W. Bird, Birmingham, 36-pound dolphin
Spencer Gates, Birmingham, 46-pound grouper
Nat Share, Huntington Woods, 61-pound kingfish
Victor Plumik, Royal Oak, 89-pound white marlin
Dr. C. J. Benson (Flint area), 22-pound permit
L. A. Freese, Birmingham, 71-pound sailfish
Ida J. Mow, 60-pound sailfish
Betty Richman, Pontiac, 57-pound sailfish
Dick Stebbins, 51-pound sailfish

New Pistol Champ Wins Sixth Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Army Sgt. Huelet Benner, 42, of West Point, N.Y., Tuesday became the second man to win the National Pistol Championship six times—and he did it by the margin of a single point.

Benner scored 2,615 out of a possible 2,700. He finished firing a half hour before Marine Capt. William McMillan of Turtle Creek, Pa., who needed 296 out of 300 in his final 30-shot match of the day to earn a tie. McMillan got 295.

Mrs. Irma Tesch, 26-year-old mother from Lawton, Okla., won the women's title with a score of 2,478.

U.S. Bow Champ Will Be Queen at Benefit Shoot

Wyandotte, Michigan's national archery champion Ann Marston will not only be Michigan's beauty queen but queen of the 4th annual Cystic Fibrosis Archery Shoot to be held by the Michigan Archery Assn. at the Western Wayne County Conservation Assn. range, Sunday, Sept. 13.

Co-starring with Miss Marston will be 6½ year old Max Diehr, no mean archer himself despite being a victim of the disease. Three of Max' brothers have died of the disease and archers have rallied to the support of his parents to keep him alive.

Real Wolf Is Mascot

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The Wolfpack will be more than a mere name at North Carolina State athletic contests this fall. Students chipped in and bought a live wolf and will display the mascot at all sports events.

Shotgunners to the Fore

By The Press Outdoors Editor

This is the "time of the shotgunner."

Skeet and trap shooting enthusiasts are in the forefront of outdoors events this week and next. The big Nationals (now the world) skeet tourney is under way at Lynn Haven, Va., with three world titles already marked up by Birmingham's brilliant young shooter, 14-year-old Eddie Brown. Eddie is the new Junior .410 king, will be a top threat for the overall junior crown. His prowess here is well known, as he began his spectacular marksmanship feat right here at OCSC's several national tourneys.

Husky young Eddie, one of three fine young brother skeeters, is the son of auto dealer William Brown Sr. He has been shooting since he was nine, has won several national titles, set a world record in Monday's test with the little .410, is equally good with the 20 and 28 gauges, the 16 and 12s in the bigger guns.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIPS

State shotgun championship this weekend takes place at the Williams fields in Davison (7287 Lapeer rd.), with Pontiac's Paul Pace the defending king. Shooting begins Saturday at 9 a.m. with title prelims at 3 p.m. and resuming Sunday at 8 a.m. It's a 3-way event, contenders being rated on the skeet and trap fields, and on the bird field.

OCSC will be the site for the big annual Chief Pontiac skeet championships weekend of Aug. 15-16, when many of the state's best shots will come here to compete for trophies and cash awards.

PHEASANTS IN THREE AGE GROUPS

Bob Keglovitz is the proud owner of a smart Brittany puppy, that really has a nose for birds. Working the six-months-old dog for the first time, in a field near his home, Bob says the puppy put up three families of ringnecks.

He was astonished to note that one group was composed of an adult bird, but the young were mere chicks, apparently a late summer hatch. Another small flock had half-grown birds, while a third showed nearly matured pheasants.

The summer is getting along toward the "dog days" when fishing usually tapers off — when the big ones slip into cool depths, and turn somewhat coy. But the finny ones are still there. A little more patience and some experimentation will still bring in good ones, like the 5¼-pounder (largemouth bass) taken by Elmer Stockton, 3877 Baldwin.

Stockton landed his prize on Whipple lake, always a good producer. It was 22 inches long. He also took a fat, one-pound yellow perch.

NOMINATE PERCH AS STATE FISH

By the way, there's a very good suggestion in the current issue of the Michigan Conservation magazine (state published). It suggests that the ubiquitous yellow perch could very well be named Michigan's state fish.

The state has its flower, its bird, its state animal, the wolverine, so why not it's state fish. The perch, usually the first fish a youngster catches is still a favorite of many anglers, summer and winter. It's a handsome, tasty, scrappy creature. This observer hereby nominates the yellow perch as Michigan's state fish. Any comments about this idea will be welcomed by this department.

A jitterbug lure that hooked 8-year-old Jerry Ross, required the services of a doctor for its removal, later was the instrument by which Jerry caught his biggest fish, at Green Lake. The youngster, son of James Ross, and grandson of Carl Bischoff, Green Lake, landed a 17-inch, 3-pound smallmouth bass. Jerry is also an accomplished Scotch dancer, winner of many medals.

FISHY DENTURE — California Academy of Sciences' curator of fish life, Dr. I. W. Follett, and Young Kathy Kontiach, of San Rafael, Calif., look at the rows of sharp teeth in the jaw of a 7-foot, 400-pound shark, caught nearby. The shark was the 2nd taken by Kathy's father, Felix, last week. The first one was tangled in fishing nets, had a nylon stocking dangling from a gill slit.

Archers Making Gains in State

Michigan had one non-resident bow hunter for every 2.4 non-resident firearms deer hunters last fall, since 29.3 per cent of all non-resident deer hunters were archers (3,612 bowmen to 8,718 riflemen) according to Vic Beresford.

This amazing popularity of the Wolverine State's bowhunting among non-residents, compared to other hunting, was revealed by a check of Michigan's over 500,000 1958 deer hunting licenses and over 700,000 small game licenses.

Michigan had one resident bow hunter for every 13 resident rifle deer hunters, or 7.2 per cent of the resident deer hunters (35,734 bow hunters to 458,334 rifle hunters).

Compared to small game hunting the difference is even more amazing, since there was only one non-resident small game hunter for every 127 resident small game hunters—only .8 of 1 per cent.

There were 698,125 resident and 5,484 non-resident small game hunters for a total of 703,609.

There were 467,152 firearms deer hunters and 39,346 bow hunters for a total of 506,498 deer hunters.

Splake Experiment Appears OK

New Kind of Trout

TORONTO (AP)—In 1953, a new kind of trout was being caught in Ontario lakes.

Though most fishermen weren't aware of it, they were pulling in "splake," a hybrid produced by crossing lake and speckled trout.

Since then, the splake, a good fighting fish with the speckled trout's forked tail and the lake trout's elongated body, has been officially absent from Ontario lakes—even though some anglers insist they are still catching them.

But splake may soon reappear.

If a long-range program at a Canadian fisheries research station is considered successful, splake may start serving commercial and sports fishermen on a full-time basis around 1963, probably in Lake Huron.

Both the present program and the 1953 experimental planting of the hybrids had in mind the same thing: To discover a trout capable of surviving in deep water but with a spawning period that comes quickly enough to avoid the scourge of sea lampreys which have ravaged the lake trout population in their invasion of the Great Lakes.

As the 1953 experiment seemed to indicate and the present research proves, the splake can do this.

By cautious study and elimination through three generations of splake, the researchers are arriving at a fish with the deep-swimming ability of the lake trout and the early-spawning habits of the speckled.

Third-generation captive splake are going through a gruelling ordeal in the interests of science, enduring two-week periods in cone-shaped tanks at pressures equal to 80 feet so that the shallow swimmers can be weeded out.

As the water is drained from the tanks, the fish with the most life-sustaining gas in their systems float to the surface and are set aside to reproduce.

At present, two more tanks are under construction so that eventually the deep-swimming splake will be produced in quantity, replacing the vanished trout of the Great Lakes.

Rattlers on the Loose

WL Man Kills Big Snake

A Walled Lake man stepped out on his front porch the other day, and was surprised to see a big, fat Michigan rattlesnake lying on the walk.

Workmen on the new addition to the Bloomfield Junior High school at Wing Lake and Quarton roads, discovered a lively three-footer while moving some earth.

These reports are the latest concerning rattlers in this area. They have been about as numerous as usual, this summer.

Wayne Patten, 46689 West Rd., Walled Lake, shot the unwelcome visitor at his place, with a .22 pistol and disposed of it. "This is the first time I've seen a rattler on my place," Patten said. "I've seen many, however, a half mile back," he added. This one, Patten said, was nearly three feet long, had seven rattles. "A six-footer was killed a few years ago by my neighbor, Fred Mandilk, who had it mounted," Patten added.

Jim Sherry of Rochester, working at the junior high school, found the other reptile.

University of Michigan at one time sent collectors into the Walled Lake area to get specimens for study.

FOREFOOT—A timber forward of the keel upon which the stem rests.

You're the Skipper

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Writer

For the man who would like to own a sailboat big enough to provide cruising accommodations for a good-sized family, older standards call for a heavy, expensive craft of around 34 feet in over-all length. Today, new types of design and construction have squeezed the minimum down to about 26 feet.

The trick has been accomplished by the development of light-displacement, shoal draft sloops making use of a reverse sheer to improve headroom and usable space below decks, combined with compact interior layouts making use of every inch.

This means that you can own a cruising auxiliary sleeping four persons and offering an amazing amount of comfort for much less than the cost of a heavy-displacement keel boat of conventional design.

It also means that the new type boat can be hauled on a trailer behind the family car, launched from a ramp, or taken home to the backyard for winter storage and handy spring fitting out.

Recently I had the opportunity of going aboard an Atalanta class sloop designed by Uffa Fox. The amount of room in this 26-footer was astonishing. There were two fine berths forward in the main cabin, a galley and plenty of stowage space just forward of the amidships cockpit and two more bunks convertible to a double bunk in a private after cabin.

Sleeping accommodations could be boosted to six by using an air mattress under each of the fore-and-aft cockpit benches. The cockpit is converted to a deckhouse by erecting a tent with large plastic windows, providing comfortable living while at the mooring or on a trailer.

The head is forward in the main cabin, and a foredeck hatch provides access for handling headsails, making it unnecessary to go on deck at any time.

Twin retractable keels, each weighing 475 pounds, are lowered to give a draft of five feet nine inches, or cranked up with screw jacks to reduce the draft to only 18 inches with the pivoted rudder in horizontal position.

She is steered by a whipstaff which folds forward to give access to the after cabin.

The mainsheet is led to a track-type horse, and this can be elevated and pinned in place to serve as boom gallows and to spread the cockpit tent when not under sail.

A 22 h.p. four-cylinder marine engine provides auxiliary power.

The reverse sheer is a bit startling at first, but it's great fun to sail one of these modern little sloops. They're fast, quick in stays, and have a tendency to plane on a reach.

SLOOP SLEEPS SIX — This skipper finished the interior of his light displacement sloop in his front drive on a trailer. She's an Atalanta, sleeping four to six.

Big Crowd Attends OCSC Sports Affair

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club which was the scene of a big gathering of members, guests and youngsters last weekend, will be the site this weekend of some important sports car races.

Demonstrations were given last Sunday by gunners and archers. There were rides in sports cars over the OCSC paved course, pony rides were enjoyed, and good food was consumed.

Races this weekend will include bicycle racing, a gocart event and the thrilling Australian pursuit for sports cars.

Woman Sails for 17 Months Alone

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Ann Davison has been, literally, the most alone woman in the world.

For 17 months, she sailed a 23-foot sloop from Plymouth, England, to America. Alone. It was like inhabiting a solitary confinement cell equipped with time bombs from your enemies. For 65 days of that historic sail, the log was an horrendous tale.

"I admit, some of the weather was rather stinking," said Miss Davison, whose face and hair are the color of fair-weather sunsets. "But the loneliness didn't bother me. As a sort of compensating factor, my mind began to prefer isolation to the company of people.

"When I finally made it to the West Indies and saw my first boat again, I was resentful, actually. I thought — 'What is he doing in my sea?' "

When she finally dropped anchor near one of the islands, "I was quite happy just to look at it. I didn't want to go to shore. It was two or three days before anybody, coming out to see me, could get me to move. They used the greatest possible come-on for a sailor; they said, 'Don't you want to come ashore and take a shower?'

"Suddenly my mind snapped back from its isolation." She grinned broadly. "I was human again — a people-liker."

Miss Davison's trip took more courage even than she cares to talk about. Three years before she began her treacherous transatlantic bout with nature, she and her husband had started out on just such a venture and, after 19 days at sea, trying to clear the English coast, had been dashed onto the rocks.

THEY WEREN'T CRAZY

They climbed into a tiny raft, which was swept out to sea again.

He was drowned. She "just got washed ashore."

She couldn't avenge her husband. But neither could she forget what happened. So it was a "kind of therapy" when she sailed off alone to prove that the two of them had not been crazy. . .

Since arriving in America, Ann Davison has written a book and articles, and become restless again. So, more than a year ago, when the Evinrude Motors people offered her the use of a 17-foot fiberglas cruiser with two 35 horsepower outboards — to make a 5,000 mile solo trip through the inland waters of the United States, she accepted.

TO DO SEAWAY

"Since I made the original commitment, I've been married," she said, "and it is more of a challenge than ever to travel solo." Her husband, L. B. Billheimer, a former Navy officer and now a Miami sales executive, respected her promise to cruise the U. S. waterways — "But I promise myself I will never be alone again."

She put into New York last week after cruising up the coast, to phone her husband and put in supplies for the rest of the trip, which will take her through the Erie canal, Lake Ontario, down Lake Michigan to Chicago, and thence down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans. Then through the Gulf coast to the Florida Keys and back to Miami. Duration: About five months.

"Since I started this trip, I no longer worry about myself," she said, "Now I worry about the other people — all the new boaters who take reckless chances.

SCARED FOR PEOPLE

"When you get into a waterway that's jammed with overloaded little boats, fishing trawlers, water skiers and kids racing each other in little zippy things — believe me, I'm scared for people. They don't seem to know the rules of the road.

"The best way to describe some of the boating going on now is to say it's like driving on a highway full of sports cars where nobody knows the speed limit, or whether it's proper to drive on the right or the left."

Corn Contracts Remain Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — The September corn contract was the only firm spot in a steady to weak grain futures market during the first several minutes of transactions today on the Board of Trade.

Light corn arrivals and scattered processor demand had a firming effect on the September delivery. Soybeans continued their recently lower trend with setbacks running to major fractions of a cent.

Trade otherwise was light as dealers awaited a report of crop conditions later today by Francis I. DuPont & Co. and C. M. Galvin, statistician for the brokerage firm.

After about an hour wheat was ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel lower, September $1.90⅝; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, September $1.20⅜; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, September new contract 68½; rye unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $1.32; soybeans ¼ lower to ¼ higher, September $2.15⅞.

It's 3-Way Race in Mississippi

Ross Barnett Ahead of Lieutenant Governor All Through Night

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Ross Barnett, who campaigned against "moderates" and Gov. J. P. Coleman's administration, led the ticket in the Mississippi governor's race early today and apparently was headed for a run-off with his arch-opponent, Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, 47.

But it was still a three-way race with Dist. Atty. Charles, 34, a latecomer running a surprisingly close third.

With 819 of the state's 1828 precincts reporting, Barnett had 39,816 votes and Gartin had 36,378.

The unofficial returns, although far from complete, represented every section of the state. Barnett pulled ahead of Gartin about five hours after the polls closed and kept a lead of several thousand votes throughout the night.

'59 Earnings Soar for McLouth Steel

DETROIT (AP) — McLouth Steel Corp. today reported net earnings of $10,657,133 for the first half of this year. The figure was almost five times as great as net earnings for the first half of 1958.

Profits for the January to June period of this year amounted to $5.90 a share compared with 86 cents per share on earnings of $2,316,837 for the first half of 1958.

Net sales for the first six months of this year were $128,888,657 compared with $64,497,129 for the same period of a year ago.

The company said its second quarter earnings were $5,745,105 equal to $3.19 a share. Second quarter earnings of 1958 amounted to $1,862,800 or 84 cents a share.

M. A. Cudlip, president, said the 1959 figures "reflect not only a strong business recovery but also a period of considerable inventory accumulation by customers in anticipation of the industry-wide strike which started July 14."

Waterford Tavern Hit 3rd Time by Burglars

The Irish Tavern, 4703 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, last night was burglarized for the third time in three weeks.

Owner of the tavern Howard Rice told police he found a front window broken when he opened the tavern this morning. The cash register had been pried open and eight dollars in cash taken.

Lt. William Stokes said the place had been burglarized twice previously on July 21, and July 26.

On those occasions vending machines were forced open and emptied of their change.

Stokes said indications are that all three crimes were committed by the same man or men.

Rappy's Clothes Will Become a Family Store

Presently undergoing a major remodeling process, Rappy's National Clothing store, 9 S. Saginaw St., will soon add two new lines of boys' and girls' wear, for ages six years and up.

Manager Charles Congleton said the two new lines will make Rappy's, formerly an adults' apparel store, a family store.

Congleton expected the remodeling, started July 6, to be completed by Aug. 15. In order to provide more space for the children's lines, the clothing store has moved the old office and redesigned display windows, allowing 50 feet more of floor space.

A new store front for both first and second floors will also be added.

Rappy's, in Pontiac for 40 years, is owned by the Gabriel Rapaport family.

Slide Continues, Trade Moderate

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts and electronics continued to slide as the stock market settled lower in moderately active trading early today.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so.

The opening was mixed and the ticker tape was late briefly as usual. Then prices softened as dealers became less active.

Among the blue chips, Du Pont clipped about 4 from its high price.

In the aircraft section, Martin Co. and North American Aviation declined more than a point while small losses were taken by United Aircraft and Douglas. General Dynamics was off around a point.

Patrol Car Radio Picks Up Driver

A Pontiac Township motorist found that a radio was harder to outrun than a patrol car last night.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Billy J. Nolin was stopped on Joslyn road at Lake Angelus road in Pontiac Township, with a flat tire. He said he noticed a car driving south on Joslyn with what he called "an excessively noisy muffler."

Nolin said he motioned the driver, Thomas J. Tippett Jr., 21, of 249 Calgary Rd., to pull over. "Suddenly he saw my flat tire, broke into a broad smile, and took off," the deputy said.

"I radioed to another car in the area."

Deputy Michael Felice stopped Tippett on Joslyn at Collier road. The driver was ticketed for driving with an excessively noisy muffler.

Cross Company Pickets Rough

Arrest 5 in Attempt to Clear Door at Large Fraser Plant

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Macomb County deputy sheriffs arrested five pickets today in an attempt to clear the entrance to the strike-bound Cross Co.'s automation machinery plant in nearby Fraser.

The pickets were taken to the county jail for questioning.

Vernon Riddell, the company's general superintendent, said the pickets milled around a worker's car and kept it from entering the plant.

The plant was shut down yesterday by 100 United Auto Workers pickets in a dispute over Union recognition.

Riddell said the plant resumed partial operation today under a Circuit Court order limiting the number of pickets to 20. The order required the Union to permit employes to enter the plant.

The company obtained the order after Executive Vice President Ralph E. Cross said he was roughed up yesterday on the picket line.

Cross said the pickets threatened to tip over his car. "I asked them if they were trying to threaten me and one said, 'Sure,' and took a poke at me and knocked my hat off," he said.

Cross said a company engineer, Herbert Marstens, was struck in the face by pickets and the door of his car broken off.

Paul Czekis, a machinist, complained to deputy sheriffs that pickets broke his car windows after he attempted to enter the plant. He said three carloads of pickets chased him away.

The company has 260 production and maintenance workers and 200 salaried engineers and office workers.

Pickets this morning attempted to keep production and maintenance workers from entering the plant although the company insisted the court order for peaceful entry applied to all workers.

UAW regional director, George Merrelli, said it was "principally an unfair labor practices strike." He said the company has refused to bargain with the Union since the old contract expired last October.

Merrelli said Local 155 of the UAW was certified as bargaining agent in a National Labor Relations Board election in 1957 and again after another election last November. The company said the results of the November election are being challenged by more than half of the employes in petitions pending before the NLRB and in a suit in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati.

Cross is one of the nation's largest manufacturers of automation equipment.

Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe has set a show cause hearing for Friday on the temporary restraining order issued yesterday.

Keep Vigil Over Caracas After 9 Hours of Rioting

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Armed troops kept vigil today over Venezuela's jittery capital, shaken by nine hours of bloody rioting in which at least four persons were killed and more than 100 wounded.

Police had orders to seize anyone trying to resume the demonstrations that began Tuesday as an unemployment protest and snowballed into the worst riots since President Romulo Betancourt took office six months ago.

The president banned all demonstrations and public meetings for 30 days. He denied that the riots had any political overtones, declaring they had been touched off by adventurers. There have been many recent rumors, however, of brewing plots to overthrow Betancourt, who was elected to succeed the military junta that ousted dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The disturbance began with a rally of workers protesting cancellation of an emrgency public works project to provide jobs for the unemployed. There were protests, too, against government plans to change a slum area into a park.

Goaded by agitators, the mob grew to about 10,000 persons and began roaming in bands through sections of the city, attacking police, shops and government buildings.

Police moved in but were attacked with clubs and stones. They countered with a tear gas barrage, then fired over the heads of the crowd. Eleven truckloads of helmeted troops were rushed in, and armored cars formed a ring around Betancourt's headquarters. Gradually government forces got the upper hand and cleared the streets.

Unofficial estimates of the dead ran as high as seven. But Gov. Francisco Carillo Batalla of Caracas said only four—two policemen and two civilians—had been killed. Thirty - six policemen and many demonstrators were wounded.

Crowd Red Exhibit

NEW YORK (UPI) — New Yorkers got an early start yesterday preparing for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's planned visit next month. Five thousand persons were waiting in line when the Soviet exhibition here opened its doors, the biggest opening-hour crowd since the fair's first day.

4-H'ers Will Exhibit a Year of Hard Work

Following the high standard of their motto, "To Make the Best Better," more than 2,000 Oakland County 4-H Club members will show the results of their talents and a year of hard work next week at the Club Fair.

The annual five-day event begins Tuesday at the County 4-H Fairgrounds, M24 and Walton Boulevard.

Competitions range from freckles and bovines to fancy icing flourishes on a cake.

All entries must be in and set up by 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Categories include beef, beef-showmanship, dairy, dairy showmanship, hogs, sheep, sheep showmanship, goats, horses, poultry, rabbits, gardening, flowers, canning and freezing, foods, general exhibits, money management, electrical, clothing, 4-H girl and boy, health and safety, home improvement, junior leadership and photography.

Tuesday evening's program includes selection of a 4-H King and Queen, freckle contest, 4-H talent show, Bob Burns and his trick horse and a cavalcade of horses show.

JUDGE HOME ECONOMICS

Wednesday's agenda begins at 9 a.m. with the judging of the home economics exhibits, judging of the general exhibits and the vegetable and poultry judging.

A plowing contest will be held at 10 a.m.

The 4-H Club Fair Parade through Pontiac will begin at 1 p.m. Consisting of approximately 30 floats, cars, horse groups and marchers, the parade will begin at Raeburn street on Saginaw street and proceed north to School street.

Back at the Fairgrounds again, a tractor operators' contest will be held at 2:30 p.m. The evening will be highlighted by award presentations, a tractor square dance and a safety demonstration.

Thursday's program includes swine judging, junior dairy showmanship, dairy judging, senior dairy showmanship, award presentations, pig scramble, pie eating contest and a fire safety demonstration.

Sheep showmanship will begin Friday's program, followed by sheep judging, presentation of the Ralph Braid Trophy, junior beef showmanship, beef judging, senior beef showmanship, presentation of awards, talent show and a trail class (horses).

Saturday's agenda starts off with fitting and showing horses, horse judging, horse action classes, exhibits, 4-H Service Club square dance and the open carnival.

Dedicated to community service, the 4-H'ers work to the satisfaction of their pledge: "My head to clearer thinking; My heart to greater loyalty; My hands to larger service; My health to better living . . . for my club, my community and my country."

The Fair, a culmination of their endeavors and efforts each year, will be attended by thousands.

July Building Unusually High in Waterford

A "more than anticipated" $1,207,121 estimated costs for new building construction for July in Waterford Township was announced today by Township Building Inspector Carl A. Walton.

A total of 201 building permits were issued during the month. They include 79 for houses, garages, 57, two commercial projects and miscellaneous additions and remodeling.

"Building usually starts to taper down a little bit in July," said Walton. "This is good for the month, it has held right up there."

The highest evaluation for building construction was recorded during the month of April at $1,216,000.

Dow Chemical Declares Two Per Cent Dividend

MIDLAND (UPI)—The board of directors of Dow Chemical Co., Tuesday declared a 2 per cent stock dividend in addition to a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share of common stock.

Both dividends will be payable to stockholders of record at close of business Sept. 18. The cash dividend will be payable Oct. 15. The stock dividend of one share for each 50 shares of stock held, will be payable Nov. 2.

5 Laos States in Heavy Fire

Officials Hold Own but Expecting Reds to Start Big Battle Soon

SAIGON (UPI) — Landlocked Laos has proclaimed a state of emergency in five Communist-threatened border provinces, it was reported here today.

The provinces are Phong Saly, Sam Neua, Xieng Khouang, Thakek and Savannakhet — all in the area where government troops have been battling guerrillas said to be armed and supplied from Red China and North Viet Nam.

So far, the government forces are holding their own, but officials in Laos believe the Reds will attempt a large-scale offensive as soon as the weather improves.

The Communists are said to be pouring reinforcements and supplies into the Sam Neua area, scene of the heaviest fighting reported so far. In at least one instance, the Reds are believed to have been supplied by parachute drop from a C47 transport of undetermined origin.

City, County Get Checks From Latest Gas Taxes

The city of Pontiac has received a check for $136,622 and Oakland County one for $821,600 as their shares of the second quarter Michigan State Highway Department receipts from gas and weight taxes.

Net totals for the state — after collection costs were deducted — came to $40,687,011 all for the second quarter.

The state retains 47 per cent, counties 35 per cent, and incorporated cities and villages receive 18 per cent of the total.

Second quarter net collections were some 37 million dollars less than those of the first quarter. A spokesman for the department said this was due to a swelling of the first quarter funds from the sale of new license plates.

Net second quarter receipts amounted to an increase of $1,326,093 over the $39,360,918 collected in the second quarter of 1958.

Following is the breakdown of what Oakland and nearby cities and villages have received as their shares of the 1959 second quarter receipts:

Addison $1,286; Almont $1,892; Armada $1,939; Berkley $23,677; Beverly Hills $13,630; Bingham Farms $942; Birmingham $25,405; Bloomfield Hills $4,862; Clarkston $1,079; Clawson $8,901; Dryden $1,311; Farmington $5,022; Fenton $7,466; Ferndale $37,875; Franklin $3,473; Holly $4,581; Huntington Woods $7,997; Imlay City $2,966; Keego Harbor $3,986; Lake Angelus $113; Lake Orion $2,230; Lapeer $10,138; Lathrup Village $4,995.

Leonard $1,166; Madison Heights $27,853; Metamora $1,009; Milford $4,839; Northville $4,653; Oak Park $15,934; Orchard Lake $2,043; Ortonville $1,329; Oxford $3,675; Pleasant Ridge $4,479; Rochester $6,917; Romeo $4,095; Royal Oak $83,540; South Lyon $2,303; Southfield $43,430; Sylvan Lake $2,353; Troy $27,265; Utica $2,015; Walled Lake $4,542; Wixom $3,660; Wolverine Lake $2,403; and Woodcreek Farms $1,239.

News in Brief

Irving Linderman, of 12019 Grandmont, Detroit, reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies Tuesday that someone broke into his auto while it was parked at 503 Lakeville Rd., Addison Township, and stole a movie camera valued at $85.

Thieves broke into a car belonging to Robert Jarois, 12003 Grandmont, Detroit, while it was parked at a fishing site on Lakeville Lake, and stole a $40 transistor radio, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported Tuesday.

Three auto batteries, five used car radiators, and a $39 paint spraying kit were stolen Tuesday by thieves who broke into a shed behind the home of Wallace Trego, 1327 Grandview Rd., Pontiac Township, sheriff's deputies said.

Hurricane Churns Away From Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Hurricane Dot sideswiped Hawaii's southeasternmost island with a harmless, glancing blow today and churned westward to open sea.

Only outer winds brushed the southern tip of the Island of Hawaii itself and the rest of the 300-mile island chain escaped the unusual hurricane. It packed winds of 130 miles an hour near its center.

Steel Exchanges Growing Bitter

NEW YORK (AP) — David J. McDonald, head of the Steelworkers Union, charges the company with attempts to blackmail the government not to intervene in the three-week-old steel strike.

R. Conrad Cooper, top industry negotiator, denies there was a ments came on the eve of today's continued joint contract negotiations with the aid of federal mediators.

The new war of words broke out Tuesday night several hours after Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, had told newsmen he believed both sides were "tackling their problems in a less sterile way" than before.

Finnegan said Tuesday's joint session had ended on a friendly note, despite the fact that neither side had changed its position. He said McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, and Cooper, executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp., were taking an overall look at specific contract problems.

"This is better than general talk," Finnegan commented.

In Washington, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), introduced a resolution in the Senate urging President Eisenhower to interthreat to any one — "especially the government."

Cooper said McDonald's charge "brings more into focus the crying need for a real change in the union's attitudes."

The angry exchange of statevene in the strike which has closed down almost 90 per cent of national steel production.

The role of the government has been a subject of bitter dispute between union and industry spokesmen.

McDonald's blackmail charge developed from statements made last week by Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, and Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel. Both made their statements in announcing that their companies had earned record profits in the first half of 1959.

Blough pledged that U.S. Steel would not raise prices after the strike unless it was obliged to accept a wage settlement "mandated" by the government. Homer made a similar promise two days later.

McDonald immediately interpreted the statements as an ultimatum to the White House to keep out of the strike.

House Group OKs Civil Rights Bil

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House judiciary committee today approved a civil rights bill providing federal criminal penalties in cases of bombings, mob action against school desegregation and destruction of election records.

But in a last minute switch, the committee struck out of the bill all provisions for technical and other aid to school desegregation.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) said this switch was the work of "the same, unholy coalition — Southern Democrats and a large number of Republicans."

It was the third major amputation on the bill accomplished by the coalition.

The bill, which now goes to the house, also would extend for two years the life of the existing civil rights commission.

The measure follows in large part recommendations by President Eisenhower's administration.

May Revise Police Hiring Regulations

The city may revise Police Department personnel regulations to let veteran police officers, like former patrolman Herman M. Walton, join the force.

On City Commissioner Milton R. Henry's request, the City Commission agreed to air the possibility at its next informal meeting, as yet unscheduled.

City Manager Walter K. Willman read a report in which Harold E. Marshall, city personnel director, said that Walton could not be hired because he was too old.

Walton, 44, was a patrolman from 1943-1952 and now is a weighmaster in Chicago. Last week he applied for reinstatement on the police force and his lack of success resulted in the accusation by Henry of "prejudice" in the city's hiring practices.

Denying any prejudice, Marshall reported that the age limit for police applicants, as set up by the City Commission in 1941, was 21 to 28.

Personnel rules allow the age limit to be waived in the case of a former officer who desires reinstatement within one year of leaving the Pontiac force, but not longer, Marshall noted.

Henry argued that the rules would prohibit a veteran police officer from some other city from joining the Pontiac force.

"How many good, experienced men are we losing because of these restrictions?" he demanded.

Sent to White House

$36 Billion Defense Bill Wins Congress Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has passed its biggest money bill of the session: $39,228,239,000 for defense.

It includes, among many other items, funds to plan a second nuclear aircraft carrier and to boost the number of Army reservists and Marines.

The bill, approved by voice vote in the House and by an 85-0 roll call vote in the Senate Tuesday, goes to the White House.

The only spark of controversy about the bill during the day came in the House when Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) criticized the inclusion of 35 million dollars to plan the carrier.

Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, called it an absolute waste of money. He said the carrier would be planned but never built.

The bill provides 100 million dollars to pay for 25,000 more Marines and 30,000 more Army reservists than President Eisenhower had requested. The money can be used for no other purpose if the Defense Department decides against increasing manpower.

Funds in the bill would be allotted this way: 17½ billion for the Air Force, 11 billion for the Navy, a little under 9½ billion for the Army, and a bit more than one billion for interservice functions.

Announce Volkswagen to Be Denationalized

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said yesterday that the huge Volkswagen auto works will be denationalized before the end of the year and its stock offered to the public for the first time since its founding in the 1930s.

PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER — Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California has the attention of both Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Michigan's Gov. Still Above Ike's Requests

Senate Gets 'Rock Bottom' Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new housing bill headed toward the Senate today with Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) contending its $1,050,000,000 cost is a rock bottom figure.

The Housing subcommittee which Sparkman heads wrote the measure in an effort to get omnibus housing legislation this year which President Eisenhower will sign.

If its provisions are accepted, Sparkman said, there should be no need for another major housing bill next year.

The total was well under the $1,375,000,000 in the bill Eisenhower vetoed June 7. But it still contained bigger authorizations than the 810 million asked by the President.

The new bill also contained more public housing, a new program of loans for college classrooms, and direct government loans for housing for the elderly —all items which Eisenhower had asked be eliminated entirely.

Sparkman said he and Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind), senior Republican on the subcommittee, had agreed that the new bill should be approved by the full Banking Committee, the Senate, the House and the President.

Sparkman said he expects it to reach the Senate floor next week after action by the Senate Banking Committee Tuesday.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), told reporters he would offer some amendments in the committee to try to get the measure more in line with the President's recommendations. He did not say what changes he will seek.

Sen. Joseph S.C lark (D-Pa), said the rewritten bill "certainly is a long way from representing the high hopes for decent housing legislation we had in January, but it is considerably better than no bill at all."

He said may persons had considered the vetoed measure only "half a loaf" and that, in such a view, "this substitute housing bill represents the scraps from the table."

The subcommittee wrote the new bill after voting 5-4 not to recommend an attempt to override Eisenhower's veto of the earlier measure.

Steel Strike Claims Innocent Victims

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The effects of the three-week-old steel strike continued to spread today like a contagious illness, claiming thousands more innocent victims in industries allied to steel.

An unofficial tally of layoffs in industries depending on steel indicates that nearly 100,000 workers are idle.

They are furloughed men who have no current arguments with their companies and whose companies have no grievances with them. They became involved in the dispute because their companies depend on steel to operate at full scale.

Their prospects for regular work are remote until the 500,000-man nationwide steel walkout is settled.

The victims include mostly coal and iron miners, railroad workers, truckers, and other transportation men who handle steel. To lesser extents there have been layoffs among dock and lake boatmen and those employed by the steel plants who are not members of the striking United Steelworkers Union.

Shops and retail businesses, buried deep in struck areas and with few customers besides the strikers, have been seriously affected by the abrupt drop in income.

Retailers in the Gary, Ind., steelmaking heartland say the business slump already is severe.

Looking ahead to darker days —unless the strike is resolved— the Missouri State Employment Service says that in less than a month the impact of layoffs is likely to get more serious rapidly. Officials in many other states agree.

State Police Reveal Recent Post Changes

EAST LANSING (AP)— The promotion and transfer of eight State Police officers and the transfer of three others, effective Aug. 16, was announced today.

Promoted and transferred were:

St. Jack M. Nemrava to lieutenant and transferred from command of the Flint Post to Marquette, as an assistant district commander.

Sgt. Clarence A. Beuerle to sergeant IIIA and transferred from command of the Bridgeport Post to command of the Flint Post.

Corp. Carl Harrison to sergeant and transferred from the Bad Axe Post to command of the Houghton Lake Post.

Corp. Forrest J. Jacob to sergeant and transferred from the Rockford Post to command of the Bridgeport Post.

Trooper John R. Graham to corporal and transferred from Ithaca to Wayland.

Trooper Frank P. Lyon to corporal and transferred from Center Line to Bad Axe.

Trooper Edward J. Goss to detective and transferred from Traverse City to Ypsilanti and assigned to the Willow Run Airport.

Trooper Jack M. Minard to detective and transferred from Petoskey to the Flint detective bureau.

Transferred were:

Corp. Joseph M. Lyne from Wayland to Rockford.

Detective Warren C. Cannon, district headquarters, Detroit, to the Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Detective Wallace S. Smythe from Flint to the Detroit detective bureau.

Evangelist Says Ike Should Take Mr. K to Church

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham thinks it may be difficult to impress Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when the Russian leader visits this country.

But Graham offered one suggestion Tuesday. He said President Eisenhower should take Khrushchev to church with him. Graham said the Khrushchev visit will give Americans a chance to show off their religion.

"We must emphasize our moral and spiritual strength," said Graham. He commented that Khrushchev will not be impressed by shows of military strength and the latest gadgets alone.

Of Vice President Nixon's recent visit to Russia, Graham said it "could well be the turning point of the cold war."

2nd Tarzan Confuses So Producer Sues

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two Tarzans are too many, says Sol Lesser Productions.

The company filed a $1,925,000 breach - of - contract suit Tuesday against Loew's Theaters, Inc. It said it had granted MSG, Loew's subsidiary, exclusive distribution rights to two Tarzan pictures starring Gordon Scott but that MSG plans to release a third, with another star, in violation of the agreement.

Americans, Japanese Seek to Save Battleship

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UPI)— American personnel and Japanese employes at the U. S. naval base here have donated $2,778 to help perserve the historic battleship Mikasa, a key ship in the once-mighty Japanese imperial war fleet.

The Mikasa, which lies dismantled in the harbor here, was the flagship of Adm. Heihachiro Togo, who destroyed the Russian fleet during the Russo-Japanese war just after the turn of the century. About $550,000 is needed to rehabilitate the ship.

Invaded Engle Family Home

2 Convicts Captured

ANAMOSA, Iowa (UPI) — A teenaged daughter of writer Paul Engle said today she entertained two escaped convicts with her bug collection and piano playing while they held the family captive at knifepoint for eight hours.

One of the fugitives was captured Tuesday shortly after they fled the Engle summer home at nearby Stone City in the family's station wagon. The other was caught shortly before noon as he tried to buy rolls in a bakery.

The University of Iowa poet and book critic, his wife Mary, and daughters Mary, 18, and Sara, 14, were threatened with knives during the long ordeal and lashed to furniture when the convicts fled.

They were not harmed, however, and their captors loaned Engle and his elder daughter knives to prepare dinner and accepted "a couple of drinks" for the road.

Engle is professor of English and director of creative writing at the University of Iowa. He has published several books of poetry and a novel, "Always the Land."

He also gained prominence as book critic for the Chicago Tribune and New York Times, editor of the O. Henry prize stories series, and magazine writer.

The convicts, Larry Morrison, 21, and Donald Sills, 25, fled Monday from the Anamosa Men's Reformatory.

Oil Plane Ditches in Atlantic; 1 Missing

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—Air Force authorities today pushed an investigation of the ditching of a big tanker plane in the Atlantic 200 miles east of Bermuda. One crewman was missing, and an intensive air-sea search was under way for him.

Seven others were rescued when the six-engined craft plopped into the ocean Tuesday near the Panamanian tanker Imperial St. Lawrence.

The Coast Guard cutter Mendota and the St. Lawrence headed toward a mid-Atlantic rendezvous today when the rescued men would be transferred. Their condition was not known.

The missing crewman was identified as Airman 2.C. Thomas M. Payton of nearby Hampton, Va., a refueling operator.

The unloaded KB50 was en route back to Langley from the Azores via Bermuda on a routine crew transfer, Air Force authorities said. It was attached to the 427th Air Refueling Squadron here.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PVT. 1st Class Robert F. Roberts who passed away August 5, 1955.
The pearly gates were opened,
A Gentle voice said, "Come."
And with farewells unspoken,
He gently entered home.
Sadly missed by mother and brothers, Jack, Garnet, Wesley, William, Eugene, Kyle, and Sister Goldie.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY Husband Thomas Robert (Bob Thomas) who passed away 1 year ago, Aug. 5.
Do not ask me if I miss him,
For there's such a vacant place,
Oft' I think I hear his footsteps
Or I see his smiling face.
For he left me broken hearted
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they so little know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
—Sadly missed by Wife Evelyn.

He's Gonna Live Until He Dies

'Satchmo' Scoffs at Retirement

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill. (UPI)—Louie Armstrong says he's going to keep blowing his horn "until I can't blow no mo'."

The iron man of jazz, who only a few weeks ago was laid up with a bad case of pneumonia in Italy, was sitting in a two-by-four dressing room backstage at the Tenthouse (summer) Theater just outside Chicago.

Satchmo was making his first U. S. appearance with his five-man "concert group" since he returned from a six-month tour of Europe. His beaming face could have matched the glow of his golden horn.

"Listen pops," he told an interviewer, "I didn't have nothing but a little cold over in Europe.

"Pneumonia! Haah! Where I come from, pops, we weren't up on stuff like that. We just called it a cold."

Doc Pugh, Louie's valet, pushed through a throng of well-wishers outside the dressing room and plunked a stack of handkerchiefs in front of Louie. (Pugh said his boss uses 50 every performance.).

Louie tied one around his neck, like a bib, and knotted another over his head. Then he began smearing his lips with salve. His upper lip looks like a boxer's cauliflower ear.

"And there wasn't nothing wrong with my chops or my voice like the doctors said," Louie rasped.

Didn't the doctors suggest that maybe he'd been blowing and singing too hard for too long? Retirement maybe?

"If a musician loves his instrument, he don't put it down until he can't play it any more," Louie said. "You don't do nothing too long until you fold your arms across your chest."

A mother brought her sad-eyed little son to the doorway and told Louie the boy wanted to be a trumpet player.

"Keep blowin', pops," Louie said. He gave the boy an autograph.

"You know, pops," he said to the reporter, "I ain't going to retire like some of them prizefighters do and then try to make a comeback. No musician can get away from his horn and still blow the same.

"That's why I never take a vacation. You got to go out in the sticks someplace where there's snakes and all that stuff that I don't know anything about."

Louie took off the handkerchiefs and blew a few notes on his trumpet.

"I don't have to play for money, either. I made money selling newspapers and playing craps. You don't do everything for money. I may as well blow every night because I love it."

Someone came in and said, "It's time to go, pops."

Louie picked up his horn, stuffed a handkerchief into his pocket and went to join the band. The announcer introduced Louie last, calling him "Satchmo."

"Yeah!" Louie said in that rasping voice. He spread his arms, holding his horn like a baton, and walked out of the shadows to the bandstand.

'Peck's Bad Girl' Goes Out an Unfulfilled Promise

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Peck's Bad Girl buttoned up its season last night after a skimpy run of three months. It went out in a blaze of gloriosky.

It's both bewildering and sad that the CBS-TV situation comedy should have elected to take the course it did. On the planning board, it held some promise: A father who was not a bumblehead, a mother who was neither a conniver nor antiman, a couple of children of only medium loathsomeness.

EWALD

But the series quickly abandoned its ground rules. It wallowed in corncake, milling the standardly limp essays of its genre each week, frittering itself away on fribble.

Father became, if not precisely a bumblehead, a kind of cheerful collaborator in idiocy, mother became semi-aggressive, the children were converted into caricatures, the plots crumbled in a thick dust of homilies.

Last night's finale scraped hardpan for the series. It had something or other to do with a treehouse and bird watchers and building inspectors and dissolved in a predictable puddle of gook and good will.

"It just goes to show you that everything will turn out all right if you have faith. . ." said one of the participants in part at the close. Well, the principal trouble with Peck's Bad Girl is that it lacked faith. Fittingly, everything turned out rather badly.

SHORT SHOTS: Last night's CBS-TV Andy Williams show was a scrumptious job — beautifully mounted, crisply paced, deftly performed. Some of its sequences were stunners: a "Too Darn Hot" number with Williams and company, a "Banana Boat Song" piece with the Baird Marionettes and a fine swinging version of "Anything Goes" by Williams.

The NBC-TV Jack Paar Show, with Peggy Cass and Cliff Arquette on board, turned out one of its better efforts last night . . . The NBC-TV Jimmie Rodgers Show, beamed at teenagers when it opened last March 31, has shifted its character radically since then.

Last night's episode was pitched rather frankly at the middle years set to the extent that four fugitives from the Lawrence Welk Show — The Lennon Sisters — were mustered into service.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Jerry Lewis will star in "The Jazz Singer" an adaptation of the 1927 Al Jolson movie, in the NBC-TV Tuesday night Ford Series of specials . . . Ralph Bellamy is a good bet to star in "Thomas Jefferson," the biographical drama special set for NBC-TV Oct. 18.

Some of the shows on the planning board for NBC-TV's Project 20 series this coming season include "Mark Twain's America," "The Ragtime Era," "Life In the '30s" and "The Carefree Years" — the last will study the years from 1945 to 1950. . . The Emmy Awards Show is ticketed in for May 12 on NBC-TV.

U. of M. Student Shoots Himself in Church

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A University of Michigan student, despondent over the breakup of his six week-old marriage, shot himself fatally yesterday at the foot of the main altar in St. Thomas The Apostle Roman Catholic Church.

A caretaker found the body of Gerrit Albert Veeder, 26, of Geneseo, N.Y.

A note, addressed to Veeder's estranged wife Barbara Gibson of Brighton, said:

"You'll hate me for this, but if you don't love me I can't live without you."

But Group Will Only Look, Not Tell What It Finds About Rigging

NEW YORK (UPI)—A court Tuesday authorized a House subcommittee to inspect transcripts of testimony given during a Grand Jury's investigation of alleged rigging of national television quiz shows.

The ruling by General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer also will enable the subcommittee to see any exhibits or copies of such evidence received by the Grand Jury.

But he ordered that a 12,000 word report by the Grand Jury on its findings be kept sealed "pending determination of the propriety of its acceptance."

The House subcommittee on legislative oversight had applied for permission to study the minutes. The subcommittee, which checks on the work of regulatory agencies, including the Federal Communications Commission, has indicated it does not intend to make the minutes public.

Schweitzer said an affidavit in support of the subcommittee's application "clearly establishes this subcommittee's right to investigate any alleged irregularities in the conduct of TV programs."

There is a clear showing, also, he said, "that the committee seeks the inspection to facilitate the holding of its own hearing and the making of its own independent findings with a view toward the reporting and recommending to the Congress of the United States possible corrective legislation or administrative measures which may be needed in the public interest."

The investigation was conducted by a New York County (Manhattan) Grand Jury after several TV quiz shows went off the air amidst allegations that some big cash winners had received answers to questions in advance.

The Grand Jury asked that its report be made public, but it has been kept sealed pending a legal ruling. The question is whether findings should be made public when there is no allegation of crime and no allegation of misconduct by public officials.

Hart Dubious About Visit of Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some people may be "taken in" by Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his forthcoming U.S. visit, Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) said Tuesday.

He said Khrushchev is "a very slick operator" who may be able to make some Americans forget that "murder and enslavement are still basic characteristics" of the Soviet system.

Hart told his weekly news conference he viewed the visit with mixed emotions, "but I still think more good than harm will come from it."

The visit should "remove some misconceptions Khrushchev may have about Americans, our purposes, our capacities and our intentions," he said.

The large number of Eastern European peoples in Detroit, Hart said, would pose a security problem if the Russian premier visits that city.

"I had an uncle who would have been a security threat if the Prince of Wales had come over here in the 20s," he added with a smile.

Police Capture Two Escapees

Felons Broke Out of Prison, Abducted Guard Friday in New Jersey

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP) — Two dangerous felons who escaped state prison here last Friday were back in confinement today facing additional charges.

Rape-murderer Edward J. Andrews, 25, serving life, and Gennaro D'Amico, 39, under 20 years sentence for attempting to kill a policeman, were captured Tuesday in nearby Scituate. As police approached, they tried to escape by crawling through high grass. Neither was armed.

A third participant in the prison break, Robert Hashberger, 19, was captured Monday, also in Scituate. He was in the prison for mental observation after transfer from an institution for juveniles.

All three will be arraigned Thursday morning on charges of abducting a guard, larceny of his automobile, assault with a dangerous weapon and escape.

The trio broke out of the hospital section of the prison by using cell door keys they fashioned from aluminum strips.

They climbed the 20-foot wall with the aid of a rope they had made with hospital table cloths and abducted a guard outside the wall as he was reporting for duty.

3 Firms Suffer Loses in Saginaw Blaze

SAGINAW (UPI) — A three-alarm fire swept through a one-story frame building here last night, causing heavy damage to three business establishments. One fireman was injured when the roof caved in.

The flames roared through Atherton Electric Co., Kris Body and Equipment Co., and Machine Tool and Design Co.

Over 100 firemen fought the blaze for more than an hour before bringing it under control. Fireman Ed Kushner suffered a leg injury when a section of the roof collapsed under him.

Fire Chief Cyril A. Schultz said cause of the fire had not been determined and that an estimate of damage must await an investigation. The blaze broke out in an area on the west side, where several cases of arson have been reported recently.

Golf Club Members to Settle Tax Score

DETROIT (UPI) — Disgruntled members of suburban Grosse Ile's West Shore Golf and Country Club today prepared to settle accounts with Uncle Sam.

Under a treasury department ruling, club members have been informed they must pay a 20 per cent excise tax on club dues paid since 1952 before Aug. 31 or face penalties from the internal revenue service.

Members pay $140 a year in dues. Some of the back taxes will amount to $200.

Said one disgruntled member, John Gavrila:

"With my golf score, it's a luxury tax."

'I Couldn't Quit Music,' Hammerstein Insists

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A fascinating rumor that Oscar Hammerstein was planning to take a two-year rest from song-writing, meaning Richard Rodgers would have to hunt a new lyricist, is NOT true, we're glad to report . . . repeat NOT true. When Rodgers told Hammerstein I'd phoned to check on the rumor, Hammerstein said to him, "I'd hate not to work, wouldn't you?" Rodgers replied: "I couldn't not work."

WILSON

Kim Novak's become a New Yorker: She arrived to take over an East Side apt. she'll occupy a few months a year. Brought drawing materials: now on an art kick. By coincidence, Producer Dick Quine's here but no marriage is planned now, 'cause he's not divorced yet.

Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher'll settle down in N.Y. late in September . . . Cary Grant flew to El Rancho in Las Vegas to ogle his European honey, Sheilah Moser doing her bare-bosomed bit in the new Joe E. Lewis show (in which Joe E. planned to come out bare-chested but lost his nerve) . . . Shoe tycoon Harry Karl and Harry Cohn's widow, Joan, resumed romancing—and marriage looms again.

Rita Hayworth seems her happiest now with husband, James Hill, the producer. They've discovered they love to play golf together. "I'm just a dumb athlete," Rita told me a couple of nights ago. "I used to be just a dumb actress and now I'm just a dumb athlete. Except when I'm working, then I'm a dumb both."

Send Sam Levinson Letters on Flowers

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you like Sam Levenson?

Personally, I think his good-humored morning show on CBS-TV is the brightest spot on network morning television. It's witty and it's wise.

There in the morning, tucked among the shrill give-aways and depressed soap operas and old reruns, sits Sam holding interesting conversations with interesting people.

But, sad to relate, they've prepared the obituary notice for Sam's morning show. They've dug the grave and will drop the show in it Sept. 25. They can't, of course, bury Sam Levenson—only this particular show.

In its place, unless plans are changed, will go a re-re-rerun of "December Bride."

Well, I'm tired of being a mourner at the funerals of good television program. I know of only one thing to do. Let's give Sam a shower instead of a funeral. If sponsors and networks pay as much attention to viewer mail as they claim to, the show might continue to live.

If you enjoy Sam's program and want it to remain on the air, write him at CBS-TV, 485 Madison Ave., New York 22, and tell him so. I hereby volunteer to help him carry the mail bags to the appropriate authorities.

On a happier note, good television programs don't always die permanently.

It now appears that the forthright, superb "See It Now" series will return to CBS-TV a year hence after Edward R. Murrow returns from his year's sabbatical leave. At least 10 hour-length, reporting in depth "See It Now" shows will be seen in prime evening viewing time during the 1960-61 season.

NBC News has offered Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "equal time" to "reply" to Vice President Richard M. Nixon on NBC-TV. It's awaiting his reply.

American television comics are enjoying a vogue on Canadian TV this summer. Mort Sahl and Jonathan Winters are the most recent to go north of the border.

Peggy Wood and Gloria Vanderbilt will star in "Seed of Guilt" a week from tonight, Aug. 12, on the U.S. Steel Hour over CBS-TV. The theme concerns the destructive effects of a mother's snobbery.

Supreme Court Associate Justice William O. Douglas is being accompanied by an ABC-TV film unit on a mountain-climbing expedition in Washington's Cascade Mountains. The results will be visible on "John Gunther's High Road," which makes its debut on ABC Sept. 7.

Demand Williams Watch Allotments

LANSING (UPI) — Nineteen Michigan senators want Gov. G. Mennen Williams "directed to observe" a provision that he is required to keep money allotments in line with revenues.

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) sponsored a resolution in the Senate yesterday directing the executive office "to observe the provision for restriction on allotments in current and future acts to keep expenditures within available revenues."

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) one of the sponsors of the resolution, said Williams "completely ignored" the provision during the 1958-59 fiscal year.

The resolution was referred to a Senate committee.

Russian Women Touched

Cry at Exhibit Wedding

NEW YORK (UP) — Some Russian women wept at a wedding scene in the American exhibition in Moscow, Mrs. Tobe Davis, fashion consultant and writer, said Tuesday on her return from the exhibit.

"They have only civil weddings there," Mrs. Davis said. But the spectators were baffled by women's golf clothes.

"The Russians didn't understand our sports clothes and wanted to know what the golf clubs were for," Mrs. Davis reported. "They liked the glamor clothes and some of the women had tears in their eyes when they witnessed the wedding scene."

Mrs. Davis, who had visited Russia three years ago, said the Russians had made tremendous advances in fashion but it may take 5 or 10 years for them to catch up with the United States.

Michigan Schools Missing U.S. Funds

LANSING (UP) — The children of the state are being educationally shortchanged by failure of the legislature to let local schools receive federal funds under the National Defense Education Act, the state's school chief said Tuesday.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said Michigan will lose up to four million dollars in federal funds available for education.

Already, he said, 45 states have indicated they will take part in the program to improve science, mathematics and foreign language courses and guidance and testing procedures.

"Michigan is doing a good job, but there is no school district that cannot profit by additional help," Bartlett said.

Dedicates Highway

MONROE (UP)—John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner, will dedicate a six-mile stretch of M50 Friday at the opening of the Monroe County State Fair. The six-mile stretch runs west from Telegraph road to the fair grounds.

Water Problem Solved

DETROIT (UP)—People in suburban Highland Park began complaining Sunday that the city's tap water had a bad taste and smell. Vernon L. Hinebrook, superintendent of water, said the trouble was caused by unusually hot weather and low water levels in Lake St. Clair increasing the growth of algae. He said the problem was solved Tuesday by restoring a proper balance of chemicals in the water.

Less than one per cent of all imported coffee fails to meet testing standards of the federal government.

Open 74-Acre Shopping Center in Atlanta

ATLANTA (UPI)—Lenox Square, a multi-million dollar, 74-acre suburban shopping center which is one of the largest in the world, opened to the public Tuesday in fashionable northside Atlanta.

The center has more than 50 shops, stores, service and specialty establishments, with a total of 800,000 square feet of store space, 50 acres of parking space, a 350-seat community auditorium and eight cafeterias and restaurants.

Officials said the double-level center, with a lower level plaza and an upper mall connected by 10 escalators, a moving sidewalk and steps will accomodate 250,000 shoppers.

The pink brick and concrete buildings and acres of parking are landscaped with trees, plants and shrubs with pools and fountains to create a park-like atmosphere.
