Early Viet Peace Negotiations Seem Doubtful

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The possibility of early negotiations to end the Vietnamese war appears to be fading rapidly as President Johnson's public peace offensive draws to a close without any favorable response from North Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman — the first of Johnson's peace emissaries to fly abroad and the last to come home — returned last night with Secretary of State Dean Rusk from the Far East.

Their arrival set the stage for top level conferences on U.S. military and diplomatic strategy in the next phase of this struggle. These may be held next week.

The central questions before President Johnson are whether to start bombing North Viet Nam targets again and whether to escalate the war in other respects.

Rusk and Harriman told newsmen upon their arrival at Andrews Air Force Base that nations around the world now understand the U.S. aim is to bring the war to a peaceful conclusion.

"I have the impression that the situation is much clearer to nations right around the world and the issues are there for all to see," Rusk said.

"Everyone now generally understands that the obstacle to peace in Southeast Asia is not the United States."

Harriman said governments in each capital "volunteered to do what they could in their own way with Moscow, Hanoi and Peking to achieve a peaceful solution.

"The decision is now up to Hanoi," he said, "and I think it is fair to say that people of the world understand that the American people have the hope of bringing this to a peaceful conclusion."

If Johnson has any new public peace moves in mind, he has given no sign of them so far. Officials say, however, that secret diplomatic efforts are continuing and will go on in the future.

That intention was indicated by Johnson in a message to Congress yesterday asking for a supplemental appropriation of $12.76 billion to help finance the war in Viet Nam.

"We are currently engaged in a major effort to open a road to a peaceful settlement," he said. "But until there is a response — and until the aggression ends —

U.S. May Draft Some Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has indicated some college students may face induction if draft calls continue to run above 30,000 monthly.

"I think 30,000 as a diet is too great for us, that's 360,000 a year," Hershey said, apparently meaning that if calls exceed that figure college students who fail to meet specified requirements may be drafted.

Monthly draft calls lately have been running around 40,000.

As for the requirements, Hershey said "the odds are strong" there will be a return to a system of testing and consideration of class standing, as was used during the Korean War, in granting deferments to college students.

The draft director met during the day with eastern and midwestern state draft directors.

He said a decision will have to be made within the next 10 days — by Feb. 1 — in order for any testing to begin before the end of the current academic year. The results would apply then for the 1966-67 college year.

MAY BE GUIDES

Local draft boards could use the results as guides in deciding on student deferments. But Hershey emphasized that the local boards are not required to follow the test results.

Asked if students who failed to meet the required passing grade on the test or to maintain the stipulated standing in the upper portion of their class would be drafted, Hershey said he could not estimate when they might be ordered inducted.

February Call 125 for County

Lower Than January, but Over 1965 Rate

Oakland County draft boards will induct 125 men in February, State Selective Service Headquarters announced today. This compares to 222 this month.

★ ★ ★

Statewide, the February draft call is down 500 from February with 2,800 men scheduled for induction next month compared to 3,300 in January.

Despite the drop in February calls, induction levels are running about 10 times the totals of a year ago, according to State Selective Service Director Col. Arthur Holmes.

Holmes said the recent Pentagon announcement of increased Army and Marine Corps strength indicates draft calls will continue at a high level.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's three draft boards will provide 62 of the county's February inductees and the Farmington board will induct 33.

MEN EARMARKED

The Pontiac boards slated 71 men for January induction and 48 were earmarked for induction this month by the Farmington board.

★ ★ ★

The remaining three of the county's seven draft boards are in the Royal Oak area. Their induction schedule calls for a total of 103 in January and 30 in February.

Mercury Due Little Change

Skies will continue overcast with little change in temperature through tomorrow.

The weatherman said temperatures will range from 12 to 20 tonight. Highs predicted for tomorrow are 22 to 30. Colder, with snow flurries probable, is the outlook for Saturday.

Seventeen was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 2 p.m., the mercury had moved up to 26.

Johnson Lauds S. Viet Pledges

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — President Johnson applauded today reform pledges by the prime minister of South Viet Nam. He also promised anew American aid for birth control on a global scale.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, joining former President Harry S. Truman to announce establishment of a Truman Center for Advancement of Peace, voiced the first formal reaction of the U.S. government to a Saturday statement in Saigon by Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky pledging new reform efforts.

★ ★ ★

The President said free peoples everywhere should reaffirm their defense of freedom and make progress in the building of the free society.

★ ★ ★

In discussing birth control, without mentioning that phrase, Johnson promised that "we will increase our efforts in the great field of human population."

WILL RIDE FOR A FALL — Parachute instructor Nicholas J. Piantanida, 33, of Brick Town, N.J., will jump from a balloon at 120,000 feet on Feb. 1. He will fall free for more than 100,000 feet before using his parachute. The balloon will rise from Sioux Falls, S.D., and Piantanida will jump at Estherville, Iowa.

N-Arms on Crashed B52; 1 Bomb Missing in Spain

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI) — The U. S. Air Force said today the B52 Strategic Air Command bomber which crashed Monday after colliding with a tanker plane was carrying nuclear arms. At least one nuclear bomb has not been found and a widespread search is under way.

The Spanish public was not informed, apparently for fear of creating panic. The Air Force statement said there was no danger to public health or safety as result of the accident.

Several hundred U. S. airmen equipped with geiger counters and other radiation detection devices have been searching the Spanish Badlands around this village 95 miles east of Granada on the southeast coast of Spain. It was not known whether the bomb fell in Spain or in the Mediterranean.

Unofficial reports at the scene of the crash said the plane was carrying several nuclear bombs and that all but one have been recovered. There was no official word of the number of weapons aboard the plane which was being refueled on a training mission when the collision came.

★ ★ ★

Government censorship prevented publication of the news in Spain. Observers said it was feared the incident might trigger anti-American demonstrations in Spain which could possibly endanger the U. S.-Spanish treaty permitting three U. S. air bases and one naval base in Spain.

RELATIONS AT BEST

At the present time relations between Spain and the United States are at their best.

Small Clashes Occur During Viet Armistice

Fighting Is Scattered During Festivities of Oriental New Year

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Separate ceasefires proclaimed by the Communists and the allies came to Viet Nam today amid the jubilation and solemnity of the lunar new year holiday. But scattered fighting erupted after the hours set by each side for the start of the brief peace.

A flurry of Viet Cong attacks came about midnight, when the four-day truce announced by the Communists was supposed to begin. But a South Vietnamese military spokesman said his government had decided the Viet Cong truce did not begin until 1 a.m.

The first incident after the commencement of the 78-hour allied truce at noon occurred seven miles west of Tuy Hoa, along the central coast, when a Viet Cong company fired on men of the U. S. 101st Airborne Brigade at 1:50 p.m.

The paratroopers returned the shots, killing one Viet Cong but incurring no injuries to themselves, a military spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

In the morning hours up to the allied truce, U. S. jets and Guam-based B52s pounded Viet Cong positions in Tay Ninh Province, 68 miles northwest of Saigon, adjoining the Cambodian frontier.

★ ★ ★

While Vietnamese of all political persuasion joined the national celebration, it was a tense holiday for Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's seven-month-old government.

★ ★ ★

It was reported to have arrested a number of junior army officers for allegedly plotting its overthrow and to be keeping two generals under surveillance.

Precautions Taken to Check TB Spread

DETROIT (AP) — Health authorities took precautions today to prevent the spread of a tuberculosis epidemic uncovered at a Garden City nursery.

With 14 children, aged 3 to 6, under treatment, officials urged families who had been in contact with the youngsters to take TB tests.

Meanwhile, a demand for a legislative investigation and the setting up of new safeguards was heard at Lansing.

Former Mayor James Tierney of Garden City, home of Hansel & Gretel Day Nursery where the epidemic was found, called for legislative steps.

Tierney, a Democratic representative, proposed creation of a special health committee to serve as a watchdog on nurseries and "other establishments serving the public."

He proposed in a House resolution that a five-member group

be set up to function from now until the end of the year.

The 14 infected children all attended the Garden City nursery.

Thirteen are patients at Maybury Sanatorium. The 14th is an outpatient.

A woman teacher at the nursery, once treated for tuberculosis, was identified as the source of the epidemic. She is hospitalized.

Rep. Tierney expressed "shock and alarm" in making his proposal.

YEARLY CHECKUP

In the Senate, Edward Robinson, Democratic member from Dearborn, said the nursery incident emphasized need for a "yearly checkup" for TB by all persons.

Robinson urged establishment of one lung disease hospital in Michigan.

He said that Michigan's medical strength is dissipated by having the present seven county TB sanatoriums.

'Vows to Save' Killing Suspect

MIAMI (UPI) — Blonde Candace Mossler said today she had received letters from someone signed "Ted" who said he knew who killed her millionaire husband and promised to step forward and "save me" if a jury convicts her of the murder.

The widow of slain Jacques Mossler, 69, talked about the letters and "crackpot" mail during a recess in the fourth day of the Circuit Court trial of her and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, for the July 30, 1964 killing.

Candace, with her Houston attorney, Clyde Woody, sitting beside her, said she had received four or five letters during a four-month period starting about a year ago.

She said the letters were signed only "Ted" and came from Miami and Hollywood, Fla.

"He said he knew who committed the murder. He said he had talked to the man (murderer) at a bar.

"He said that if I was convicted, he would come forward and save me," said Candace.

'LBJ Economy Plan Doomed'

Romney Is Critical of Johnson Policies

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan criticized the Johnson Administration's economic policies yesterday and said that in the fight against inflation, they "are inconsistent, expedient and deceptive . . . and doomed to failure."

★ ★ ★

In a speech at a Republican fund raising dinner, Romney said America's most obvious success is economic.

But, he added, few Americans understand the nation's fundamental and unique economic principles.

He listed four of these as competition, voluntary cooperation, incentive and progress-sharing.

★ ★ ★

"These four . . . are the basic principles which are the strength of the American economy," he said.

"And these are the principles which the national administration consistently ignores, in the name of a spurious 'national interest' which is really only a cloak for short-run political expediency."

4-Year Term Request Goes to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson urged Congress today to approve a constitutional amendment to provide a four-year term for members of the House "in the interest of progressive and sound modern government."

★ ★ ★

He also urged approval of another constitutional amendment to wipe out the present Electoral College system of casting vote for president and vice president.

Instead of voting for electors, ballots would be cast directly for president and vice president.

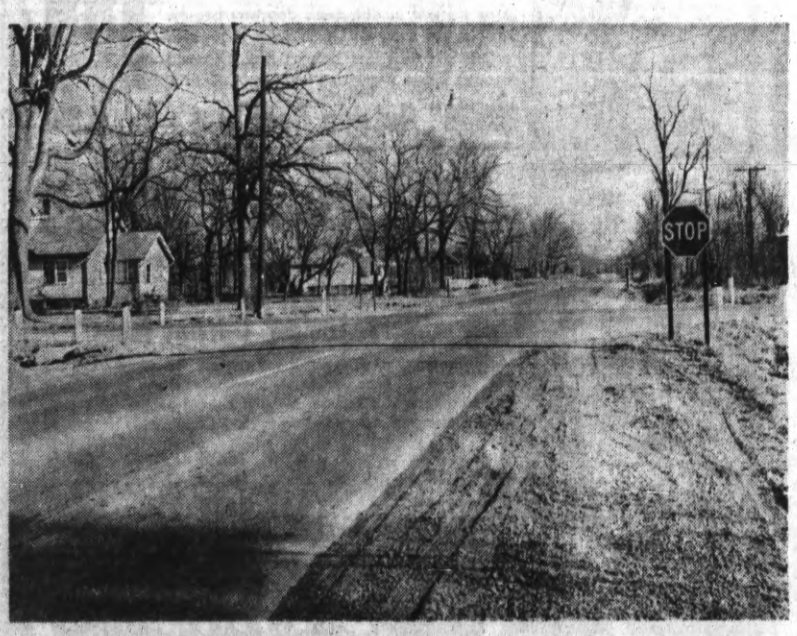

Each state, however, would retain an electoral vote based on one vote for each member of the House and Senate from the state.

★ ★ ★

Johnson dipped into history in arguing that there was "little magic in the number two, even in the year of its adoption."

★ ★ ★

He said he is convinced there is even less magic today, and that the question of tenure should be re-examined in the light of our needs in the 20th century.

STRIKES TWICE—The stop sign (above) and a warning sign erected after the Jan. 3 deaths of two sisters failed to prevent an accident at the intersection of Carroll Lake and Wise roads yesterday. The driver of a car eastbound on Wise in Commerce Township failed to heed either sign, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

New Warning Sign Fails to Prevent Crash

A warning sign — newly installed at a Commerce Township intersection where two sisters were killed Jan. 3 — failed to prevent a similar collision yesterday in which both drivers escaped uninjured.

Involved in the accident at Wise and Carroll Lake Road were Mrs. D. F. Hofmeister, 40, of 5553 Leafwood, Commerce Township, and Charles L. Crandall, 57, of 186 Foxbury, Commerce Township.

The Hofmeister woman told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she failed to see either the warning sign, installed at the request of residents near the intersection, or the stop sign, as she traveled eastbound on Wise Road.

Crandall, northbound on Carroll Lake, said he was unable to avoid hitting Mrs. Hofmeister's car.

Radar Speed Trap Nets Strange Catch

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — A new radar device set up in a speed zone quickly caught three persons.

The first was Mayor Pat Dunne. He paid a $17.50 fine and with the comment that "the only way to avoid fines is not to speed."

The second person nabbed Wednesday was a policewoman.

The third was a disc jockey. He went directly to his radio station and broadcast the location of the speed zone to other drivers.

'Massive Firepower' Planned for Viet Use if Fighting Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress today of plans for "massive application of firepower" in Viet Nam. He also disclosed that budgeting is based on an assumption that fighting will continue through June 1967.

Backing up President Johnson's request for an extra installment of $12.7 billion for the Viet Nam operations this year, McNamara told a joint hearing by the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees still more money may be needed.

And he advised the senators: "We must be prepared to deploy even more forces if the Communists choose to expand their operations in Viet Nam."

The discussion of firepower came in explanation of a request for an extra $2.1 billion for ammunition to bring the requests in that area to $4.1 billion for the current fiscal year.

REDUCE CASUALTIES

"Our operational plans call for a massive application of firepower to enhance the effectiveness of our forces and reduce casualties," McNamara said in the censored statement made public outside the closed hearing.

Discussing the need for additional fighting forces, McNamara told the senators:

"We have assumed, for budgeting purposes, that combat operations will continue through the end of June 1967."

The biggest single increase in unit strength would be creation of a new Marine division, the fourth. Of the three present Marine divisions, about one and two-thirds are now in Viet Nam.

USE OF MONEY

McNamara gave a point by point explanation of how the money would be used and why it is needed. Much of the details had been explained earlier. In addition to outright military expenditures, the total includes $415 million for economic aid in Southeast Asia.

McNamara noted the United States has deployed about 190,000 military personnel to South Viet Nam, not including the members of the 7th Fleet operating off the embattled country's coast.

"And," said McNamara in the censored version of his testimony made public, "we must be prepared to deploy even more forces if the Communists choose to expand their operations in South Viet Nam."

McNamara said the additional funds he was asking would add 45,599 men to the Army's strength, 8,025 to the Navy, 54,994 to the Marines and 4,225 to the Air force.

The services' manpower strength thus would rise by the fiscal yearend to:

Army, 1,233,693; Navy, 727,873; Marines, 278,184, and Air Force, 853,359.

Pentagon sources emphasized that the approximately 113,000 total increase in manpower had nothing to do with sending of forces to Viet Nam but represented only increases for total forces of the Defense Department.

Russia Plans Record Flight?

3 Take Month-Long Simulated Space Trip

MOSCOW (AP)—The government newspaper Izvestia Wednesday night described a simulated three-man space flight that lasted nearly a month.

The article gave no indication of whether the training was preparation for an actual flight of long duration.

★ ★ ★

The United States has pulled ahead of the Soviet Union in the longest manned space flight with Gemini 7, which was up for 13 days. The best Soviet effort, by Valery Bykovsky in June of 1963, lasted a little less than five days.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union has not launched a manned spaceship now since last March 18, when Alexei Leonov made the first walk in space. The long gap in the program has aroused much speculation here about what this country will try next to keep up — or surpass — the United States in the space race.

TEST PILOT

A test pilot, doctor and journalist took part in the "flight" carried out near Moscow at Star City, where the Soviet cosmonauts train. The journalist, A. Khorobrykh, wrote the Izvestia article.

★ ★ ★

He said the training included a deliberate break in communications with the control station during which the crew carried out a great variety of maneuvers.

★ ★ ★

The article described the three "cosmonauts" as lying down throughout the test. Khorobrykh said they used special training equipment to counter the desire to stand up.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the 15th day the control station ordered the men to take a "hygienic bath." They used towels scented like birch twigs and hay — reminiscent of a Russian steam bath. Their plastic toilet articles kits also contained razors and changes of underwear.

★ ★ ★

The journalist reported that after the experiment there were no noticeable changes in the organism of the trainees.

Break Ground for Addition

Ground was broken yesterday for a $500,000 addition that will double the present size of the Professional Building, 909 Woodward.

★ ★ ★

The property is owned by the Physicians Real Estate Development Corp. comprised of staff physicians at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital which is located directly across Woodward from the medical building.

General contractor for the 23,340-square-foot addition is the Schurerr Construction Co. Denyes & Associates is the architectural firm for the building.

The addition will provide for 18 more professional offices and present parking facilities will be nearly doubled.

★ ★ ★

Presently the building contains 17 professional offices, a branch office of Community National Bank and a pharmacy.

Completion is scheduled for October.

Pontiac Youth Stands Mute in Motel Holdup

★ ★ ★

Preliminary examination of Roland D. Lewis, 461 Going, was scheduled for Jan. 27 by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

★ ★ ★

The armed robbery charge stems from a 4 a.m. holdup in which an empty wallet allegedly was stolen from Harry Filler of Gateway, Ohio, a traveling salesman staying at the motel, 1801 S. Telegraph.

Lewis is being held in Oakland County Jail on a $2,500 bond.

WOUNDED BY CONG — Relatives help a 15-year-old Vietnamese boy into a cart at Tam Ky after he was wounded in the leg during a Cong massacre attack on a refugee camp yesterday. At least 33 were killed and 54 wounded in the raid on the camp about 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

Peace Hopes Fade

we must do all that is necessary to support our allies and our own fighting forces in Viet Nam."

★ ★ ★

State Department officials said many channels to North Viet Nam are still open and will remain so regardless of developments in the war. But a spokesman told a news conference the North Vietnamese "have shown no interest" in Johnson's peace campaign.

★ ★ ★

Such hope as remains that the North Vietnamese may still agree to negotiate is based on speculation among officials here that they would need time to change their position if, in fact, they had any intention of doing so.

From Saigon came press reports that top officials in the U.S. Embassy and military command there favored an increased war effort against the Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese forces fighting in the South as well as against North Viet Nam.

Their view was described as being that such a strategy offers the only logical hope of getting the Communists to a conference table.

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was described in these dispatches as favoring resumption of air strikes against North Viet Nam targets next week following the end of the current Vietnamese New Year holiday and whatever lull it produces in the fighting.

One reason next week is considered a crucial week for U.S. policy making: If the Communist leadership is interested in trying to reduce the level of the war, as President Johnson suggested a week ago, their intentions would show up most clearly in what they do after the holiday ends.

The general expectation is that as in the past they will return to the fight with renewed violence. Should they demonstrate instead a desire to ease off the fighting it would be considered here as an encouraging response to Johnson's proposal for scaling down the conflict even without negotiations.

Harriman was sent abroad by the President on Dec. 28. He left Washington secretly and his mission was only discovered when he arrived at his first stop, Warsaw, Poland.

★ ★ ★

With that disclosure Johnson's highly publicized peace offensive began to unfold. Harriman visited other capitals in Eastern Europe and in the Middle East and Asia.

OTHER ENVOYS

Other envoys dispatched by the President called on leaders in other parts of the world. The President reported that they had visited 40 countries in all.

★ ★ ★

Harriman, 74, linked up with Rusk in Southeast Asia as Rusk was returning by way of Thailand and South Viet Nam from the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, which he attended with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

★ ★ ★

In New Delhi, Humphrey and Rusk conferred with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Chinese New Year Gallops in Tonight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A Chinese proverb says "A cat in a strange garret, a bird with a broken wing, a fish out of water, are not more restless and unhappy than a Chinese who cannot go home at new year time." For many of America's 240,000 Chinese, Chinatowns in New York and San Francisco become home base for bringing in the Chinese new year with a bang.)

AP Photofax

READY FOR HOOPLA — Starting midnight tonight in San Francisco's Chinatown, 10 days of exploding, exotic hoopla will greet the Chinese New Year — the year of the Horse. During this period, Miss Chinatown U.S.A. will be crowned. Girls of Chinese descent from all over the U.S. try for this crown. Here two of the contestants help check out a lion, one of 20 that will appear in the annual parade.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Snake wriggles out and the Horse gallops in at midnight tonight, prompting the two largest Chinese communities in the United States to begin several days of noisy and colorful celebrations.

The Year of the Snake is ending. Beginning is the Year of the Horse — 4664 according to the Chines lunar calendar — that will prompt crazy-colored papier-mache and silk dragons and lions into the streets here and in San Francisco.

Along with Chinese throughout the world, many of the San Francisco Bay area's 55,000 Chinese-Americans and the 33,000 in the New York area will crowd into Chinatown. They will be joined by thousands of non-Chinese, attracted by the special sights and sounds.

Center of attraction in New York will be the seven tse-tse, or happy Buddha lions, which will dance to the accompaniment of loud cymbals, gongs and drumbeats. The noise is to frighten off evil spirits.

The dancing lions, with one man in the head and another supporting the body, will accept money from local merchants through their gaping jaws. The money is turned over to charity.

In San Francisco, some 60 men will support the many sections of the long golden dragon as it undulates through downtown San Francisco and Chinatown.

Also in the parade will be Miss Chinatown U.S.A., who will be chosen in a Chinatown Chamber of Commerce beauty pageant Friday and crowned Jan. 27.

★ ★ ★

The parade, on Jan. 29, caps the San Francisco celebration.

In New York, Chinese operas and plays and several parties will help greet the new year at the Chinese Community Center on Mott Street.

Store fronts in both cities will be plastered with bright red posters carrying poems and sayings asking for wealth, happiness and good fortune in the coming year.

In a few, more traditional, homes, a door will be sealed with red paper, reminiscent of the Chinese custom of sealing off the main entrance of the house, another attempt to provide good luck.

The red color of the paper is supposedly derived from an ancient Chinese new year practice of smearing lamb's blood on the door to ward off evil.

The Chinese new year is basically a family holiday, a time for visiting and exchanging gifts. A favorite gift for youngsters is money wrapped in red paper. Since the majority of America's Chinese came from Kwantung — Canton — Provence, their customs reflect those of that area.

The first meal of the year in a Cantonese home must be meatless, usually a dish called sik tzai. It is served with nen gao, a bland, white cake made of wheat flour, sugar and oil.

Despite ordinances in both cities, the Chinatowns will be filled with the acrid smoke and loud reports of thousands of firecrackers. Police in both cities step in only in cases of flagrant abuses.

Chinese tradition has it that the explosions terrify bad spirits, summon peace, welcome the gods and good spirits of the new year, and attract prosperity and riches.

HOUSECLEANING

Other customs include a week-long housecleaning prior to the new year, and the purchase of new clothes for the family.

The new year always falls on the first day of the first new moon after the sun enters Aquarius. This means it cannot fall earlier than Jan. 21 nor later than Feb. 19 in the Western calendar.

Over the din of exploding firecrackers the most popular new year greetings will be the Cantonese "gung he fat choy," — best wishes, may you prosper, or the Mandarin "gung he shin nien" best wishes for the new year.

Urban Negro Problem Cited

Northern Cities Must Help, Urges Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said today that there will be "disaster" unless plans for improvement of Northern cities take fully into account "the plight of the urban Negro."

He said that while change cannot be made overnight, "clearly the present pace is unsatisfactory" and will lead, he said, to riots like those in the Watts section of Los Angeles last year.

Kennedy made suggestions to end what he called "huge central city ghettos" in a talk prepared for a meeting of the entertainment division of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies.

He plans to make two more speeches in the next two days before other groups on the problems faced by Northern urban Negroes.

CITED FIGURES

He cited figures he said proved that Negroes are segregated under slum conditions, earn less than whites, get a poorer education, and that "we are not making much progress" in correcting the injustices.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said "the deeper part, the really dangerous part is in the gulf which separates the Negro from the white power structure that governs him, and in the failure of the establishment to afford him full participation in shaping the governmental services he receives."

U.S. Dominican Officials in Turnover

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top U. S. Embassy officials stationed in Santo Domingo during last spring's crisis have been transferred quietly out of the Dominican Republic, it was learned today.

Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr., head of the embassy team that unanimously urged the controversial U.S. intervention in the Dominican rebellion, is to be reassigned soon, sources said.

President Johnson's decision to send in American troops on the advice of the embassy staff aroused widespread resentment in Latin America. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called it a "grievous mistake."

Pulled out of the Dominican Republic since the upheaval last April were the embassy's deputy chief of mission, chief of the political section, the U. S. Information Service director, the head of the Dominican aid program and the economic counselor.

Administration sources said the embassy staff turnover was in no sense related to criticism of its performance during the April crisis.

Officials said the President had the highest praise for the envoys at the time and still has high regard for Bennett.

The shake-up was attributed to normal rotation and promotions, personal and family reasons and a desire to strengthen what has become a critical post as normal vacancies occur.

Also, sources said, there was a need to install some new faces not associated in Dominican minds with the rebellion.

Frequently after such a crisis, officials said, a diplomat starting fresh is in a better position to deal with the local government and rival local groups than one who was intimately involved in the crisis.

After 22 months on the job, Bennett is to be reassigned to another post which will, if anything, carry increased prestige, according to authoritative sources.

Canada to Boost Aid to Universities

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada will substantially increase its aid to universities in the 1966-67 academic year, the government says. The promise was made in the Throne speech, written by Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's government and delivered this week by Georges Vanier, the governor-general.

No figure was mentioned but a report filed in October urged federal grants totaling at least $330 million the next fiscal year and rising to more than $500 million by 1970. The level now is about $80 million.

Safety Steps Urgent at Dangerous Corner

Attempts to reduce the traffic toll at the corner of Maple Road and Telegraph are continuing, as well they should.

One of the high-accident corners in Oakland County, it has many injury and fatal traffic accidents on its record.

Despite left turn lanes on Telegraph which take the turning cars out of the direct traffic flow, the carnage continues.

Now warning devices are to be installed some distance from the corner, and more signs about left turn lanes.

The volume of traffic at this point calls for drastic action, we believe. Banning of left turns at the intersection, with appropriate turn-off routes, would eliminate much of the hazard.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the ultimate, an overpass, will be necessary to change the bloody history of this corner.

Hair Stylist Clips Women of Top Asset

Emulating fools who rush in where angels fear to tread, we're about to entangle ourselves in the latest women's hair-style fad as created by VIDAL SASSOON, the controversial London coiffeur, whose new mode virtually docks women's locks.

Lacking the eminent one's hirsute history, our reflections are admittedly off the top of the head, as Park Avenue advertising jargon has it.

It seems to us, however, that at issue is the basic proposition of whether women dress for other women, or for men. Or, to garble a comparable perplexity, which comes first, the hen or the men?

Since we have yet to hear women wax ecstatic over the appearance of other women, it can only be concluded that efforts to stimulate mutual admiration is an occupational futility realized instinctively by all women, and hence a prodigious waste of time and effort.

The only logical conclusion, then, is that women dress for men, and presumably have their hair cut for men.

Ergo, for women to let this presumptious male Delilah shear them of their most effective male enticement, their crowning glory, would be about as silly as a movie star's scorning publicity.

But, to hear this hare-brained tonsorialist tell it, his scanty hair-do aids and abets sexiness. Well, probably the long and short of it is every man to his taste, but as we see it, the sex-pull of a woman who shorts herself in the hair department won't pass her for passes—and we'd think twice before trimming tresses at cost of caresses.

Once 'Amateur' Mayor Now a Political Pro

There is a new political look in New Jersey these days. It is created by THOMAS J. WHELAN, 43-year-old mayor of Jersey City — and he looks good to the taxpayers.

What they see is a public official who since 1963 has eliminated 1,777 excess municipal jobs at an annual saving of $10.5 million (more than one-fourth the city payroll) and effected a tax reduction of $2.84 per thousand of assessed valuation.

Whelan's do-it-yourself political career began five years ago when he took a company-sponsored course in politics. Suiting action to the word, he ran for the Jersey City city commission and was elected.

When a short time later it was found that the incumbent mayor was ineligible for office, WHELAN'S fellow councilmen elected him to fill the unexpired term — mainly because they thought he could be easily dumped at the regular election.

But, as so often happens, smart guys outsmart themselves, and the councilmen saw their novice turn nemesis when last May Jersey City voters elected WHELAN to a full four-year term. He beat out six opponents with a 55 per cent ballot majority.

Now being plugged as a candidate to run against New Jersey's popular Republican U. S. Senator, CLIFFORD CASE, who comes up for reelection this year, Democrat WHELAN'S campaign would be keyed to an indisputable phenomenon of the times; "The ills of our cities are the greatest internal problem America has today. The city has to be saved. If we fail, God doesn't know what will happen."

★ ★ ★

LBJ Is Planning Big Travel Year

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — This looks like a big year for presidential travel — to all parts of the country and, perhaps, to points overseas.

President Johnson set a record in the 1964 campaign year for travel by a chief executive.

But his wanderings slumped sharply in 1965 because of his Oct. 8 surgery and because, earlier, he felt compelled to stick close to Washington at a time when Congress faced a heavy work load and he was confronted by hard choices on Viet Nam.

Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic crisis also put an end to presidential hopes of visiting Europe, Latin America and — had things worked out better—the Soviet Union.

Johnson didn't even get to attend the London funeral of Sir Winston Churchill, though he badly wanted to go. An "executive flu" bug put him in bed for nearly a week.

But this is a new year — and another important election year. Johnson and his White House aides again are beginning to canvass travel possibilities for the months ahead.

NEEDS TO VISIT VOTERS

The President feels that, especially after his surgery, he needs to visit the voters in widely scattered parts of the country.

Presumably an influencing factor is his own popularity rating as measured by public opinion polls.

The year-end polls showed he had slumped a bit in popular estimation, though his approval rating still topped 60 per cent. Johnson attributed this to his enforced inactivity after surgery.

In considering future travel, however, Johnson is not concerned solely with his personal popularity. There are several compelling reasons to undertake a new meet-the-voters effort:

- Congress will be dealing with a new basketful of Johnson programs, some of which the President would like to promote at the grass roots.
- Money must be raised for Democratic campaigns this fall, and Johnson is the party's biggest drawing card at $100-a-plate dinners.
- The President knows that with rare exceptions the party in power loses ground in off-year congressional elections. He doesn't want that to happen in November if personal campaigning might help tip the balance.

HOPED TO FINISH STRONG

Last year Johnson hoped to finish strong in the travel department.

When he got word in September that gallbladder surgery was needed, he and his staff were deeply involved in planning autumn appearances in all parts of the country — as far west as Hawaii. All these plans had to be scrapped.

David Lawrence Says:

Senator Hits Budget 'Juggling'

WASHINGTON — Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware—who has uncovered many irregularities in government—is a man of rare courage in politics.

He now has undertaken in a speech to the Senate to prove that the administration has resorted to sleight-of-hand tactics in the figures given to the public about the budget. LAWRENCE

The Delaware senator calls attention to the fact that President Johnson in his "State of the Union" message asked for legislation to provide "truth in packaging" and "truth in lending." Mr. Williams says that what is even more necessary is "truth in government."

The American people perhaps do not understand as yet that the federal government is collecting this year from corporations much of what it would normally have collected next year, and that, under an accelerated program, the government for at least three years will be collecting more than 100 per cent of the taxes actually owed for a given calendar year by corporations.

★ ★ ★

The senator says that the withholding-tax acceleration for individuals would bring in $400 million in the next fiscal year. He adds:

"Stated otherwise, this is the same as borrowing on next week's salary to pay this week's grocery bills—and that is exactly what it is : . .

PROGRAM NEEDED

"I say that a program of truth in government is needed. The American taxpayers have a right to know whether the labels being put on the government's financial package are accurate, true descriptions, because based on the Treasury Department's own figures, the estimated deficit for fiscal 1967 is not $1.8 billion, but $9.2 billion . . .

"In the President's message a further acceleration of the corporate tax payments was recommended.

"If Congress accedes to the President's request the government will collect in fiscal 1967 an additional $3.2 billion in taxes from the corporations. This is not counting increased taxes to be received from the reinstated telephone and automobile taxes. I am speaking now only of the accelerated corporation taxes under the President's request.

★ ★ ★

"It would move forward $1 billion extra of the corporate taxes into fiscal 1966 and into fiscal 1967, another $3.2 billion."

SILVER CONTENT

The Delaware senator also points out that the government, by taking away a certain amount of the content of silver in coinage, will be able to credit itself with receipt of $2.5 billion in the next fiscal year over and above what it would have received if the silver had not been commandeered by the government.

This extra money, he says, is of course a nonrecurring revenue, but is being included as though it were additional or continuing revenue.

Sen. Williams also reveals that the Commodity Credit Corporation, which handles agricultural commodities, owes the United States government more than $12 billion, but has assets much less and shows a deficit of $5.9 billion.

★ ★ ★

He argues that this actual loss "has not been faced by the administration in its budgetary requests," and that "a truth-in-government policy would correct this misleading information."

FINANCIAL STATUS

Summing up the present financial status of the federal government, Williams declares:

"The deficits of the past five years alone have exceeded the total cost of all government expenditures during the five years between 1914 and 1919, a period which included the total cost of World War I."

Sen. Williams insists, moreover, that trust-fund receipts "are in no way to be confused with the administrative budget," and that to quote such figures as an indication of a balanced budget "is misleading and does not represent truth in government."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Aiken of Vermont, one of the "liberal" Republicans, commented later that Sen. Williams' speech would probably have been more effective as the Republican "State of the Union" message than what was given over television Monday as the party's response to the President's televised broadcast.

★ ★ ★

Strangely enough, what was said by Sen. Williams in his speech to the Senate got very little attention in the press and wasn't the subject of any extensive broadcasts on the air anywhere.

Bob Considine Says:

Johnson Adds His Touch to the Descriptions of War

NEW YORK — Generations of thoughtful men have put their minds to the task of describing war.

President Johnson, who saw some of it up close, said in his State of the Union address, "War is trying to kill a man you don't know well enough to hate."

Could live, a phrase like that. Lesser ones have. CONSIDINE

John Masefield, in a broadcast to America just before Pearl Harbor, said, "No clear or beautiful thought is possible in any country in Europe because of the curse of war, a more fatal disease than cholera, typhoid fever and the rest put together."

Elizabeth I remarked, "Monarchs ought to put to death the authors and instigators of war."

★ ★ ★

Shakespeare was for all-out action, " . . .when the blast of war blows in our ears, then imitate the action of the tiger: stiffen the sinews, summon up the blood."

NOT AS CLEAR

William Tecumseh Sherman's "War is hell," is not as clear historically as it is semantically.

It was not until 1914 that a letter to a Washington newspaper claimed that in 1879, in a speech to the graduating class of Michigan Military Academy, the general said, "I am tired and sick of war. Its glory is all moonshine. It is only those who have neither fired a shot nor heard the shrieks and groans of the wounded who cry aloud for blood, more vengeance, more desolation. War is hell."

Robert W. Service, who drove an ambulance in World War I after all those years in the Yukon, penned, "When we, the Workers, all demand/"What we'll end that stupid crime/that devil's madness — War."

★ ★ ★

FDR said more than "I hate wah." He said, "War is a contagion."

'NO GOOD WARS'

"There never was a good war or a bad peace," Ben Franklin confided to Josiah Quincy in a letter posted Sept. 11, 1773.

And Charles Jefferys, who turned in his quill in 1865, had the perfect plan for instant peace: "Were only kings themselves to fight/There'd be an end to war."

★ ★ ★

Sherman was right, all along.

Reader Discusses Pay of Michigan Lawmakers

Our founding fathers deemed it reasonable that we pay our elected servants a limited wage in order to minimize the possibility that the "public parasite" would clamor for public office for the attractive salary. Therefore, to some extent, only those who have been reasonably successful in private life would be accorded the honor of handling the people's money. This is no longer true, especially in Michigan where we now pay our lawmakers more than any other state (with the possible exception of California). But statesmen such as Representative Waldron who oppose the proposed increase, along with the people of Michigan, will eventually be stampeded by the union.

In our Charleston, (S.C.) Evening Post, Basil W. Hall wrote regarding your editorial about "The Man of the Year." I commend you for this editorial. It was very forthright and proclaimed information much needed. We need more who have the stamina and courage to speak out. The survival of America depends on citizenship and people, which you so adequately described. I again commend you and offer my thanks and hope and pray that you will keep up this good work and others will do likewise, so America will awaken to the existence of our enemies, both within as well as from other areas before it is too late.

Urges Sportsmen's Interest in Hunting Laws

I feel that we need a department of conservation, but they do make mistakes. Killing all our deer to keep them from starving does not make sense. I propose that every sportsman write his Representative in Lansing and request a return to the one-buck law and/or join a group of sportsmen interested in outlawing doe killing. Don't wait until it's too late and our deer have gone the way of the buffalo and carrier pigeons.

Many Disagree With Letter on Gang Fights

In reply to "Irate Citizen," assuming that your accusation of the "brutal beatings" at Isaac Crary Junior High are true, it would pertain to about 12 to 20 of the students. What about the other 1,200?

★ ★ ★

To mention a few projects Crary is sponsoring, the student body contributed over $400 to the family of one of our students who recently faced a terrible tragedy. Twice a week ninth graders go to the Oakland County Medical Facility to work voluntarily with the invalid senior citizens. Recently the students staged a "Bermuda Day" and the money was given to CARE to send packages to Viet Nam.

We are just a few of the many students who wouldn't trade Crary for any other school.

We would like to reply to the letter which dealt with the so-called "gang fights" at Crary Junior High. "Irate Citizen," are you sure these were Crary students? Are you sure this was a "gang fight" or a scrap between two students with other students looking on? Do you believe Crary is the only school with these fights? We feel that all schools have fights and that you should investigate before placing the blame on one school. There is a danger in this letter of implicating an entire student body because of the actions of one or two persons.

I thought the letter from "An Irate Citizen," alleging brutal gangs at Crary Junior High School, an unfortunate one. I extend an open invitation to any citizen of Waterford Township to visit our school to investigate for himself.

★ ★ ★

Certainly our school does have some young people who have problems, but nothing of the nature alleged by the letter in The Press. We could not and would not tolerate this kind of behavior.

★ ★ ★

It is my firm belief that the student body at Crary Junior High is as fine a group of young people as exists anywhere in America today.

'Johnson No Comparison With Quarterback'

That letter in the Voice of the People comparing Johnson with the quarterback on a football team was pointless. Those elected Congressmen were put there by the American people to speak their respective minds. The coach doesn't start the guards, tackles and ends to tell the quarterback what to do. That letter shows no conception of how our government was formed and how it is supposed to operate. If our Constitution merely planned to have rubber stamps in Congress to "yes, yes" the President, we would elect one to a state instead of several hundred.

"Thank you very much. I am sure you represent the feelings of a good majority of the people. In more than twenty years of service I have enough reasons to believe in my people and always count on them for support. We shall not fail this country we have come to help."

Battles for Road Spill Into Cambodia

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The road from Qui Nhon on South Viet Nam's South China Sea coast moves west through a mountain pass and jungled sand and scrub to Pleiku in the central highlands and then onward a handful of miles to Cambodia.

NEWSOM

This is Highway 19. It is strategic to the whole of northern South Viet Nam, and its possession has been hotly contested by the Communist Viet Cong.

Lying between Pleiku and the Cambodian border is the American Special Forces camp at Duc Co.

Last July and August, the Communists laid siege to the camp which finally was relieved by a South Vietnamese armored column supported by elements of the U.S. 173rd airborne brigade. There was a reason for the determination of both sides.

* * *

Secret American detection devices had established that the 315th Division of the regular Communist North Vietnamese Army had established headquarters inside Cambodia close to the border, and Duc Co blocked its communication lines.

Since then, on either side of the strategic highway, Americans have fought some of their fiercest engagements against Communists who killed and then slipped back to their Cambodian sactuary.

Despite heated Cambodian denials, American and South Vietnaese commanders long have known of other Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia.

Some provide rest and regrouping points for infiltrators coming down the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

* * *

Another lies close to the plain of reeds which begins just below Saigon, cuts northwestward almost to the Cambodian border and provides access to the Mekong Delta.

TO PURSUE CONG

These were the considerations which finally led American commanders to let it be known they would pursue Viet Cong across the border and into Cambodia if necessary.

The angry reaction of Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, that with Peking's help he would repel any invaders and counterattack into South Viet Nam, was the expected one.

It also had its incongruities.

Cambodia is a placid land of temples hidden in great rain forests, of saffron-robed Buddhist monks and blue skies. Beautiful Phnom Penh, it capital, is unscarred by war and its 30,000-man army is more used to building roads and irrigation projects than combat.

* * *

Sihanouk's reaction then was less a militaristic one than one of fear that the spreading war finally would come to his own bright land that he had tried so hard to protect.

ONE OF FIRST

Sihanouk knows full well that as a prince, symbol of imperialism, he would be one of the first to go in event of a Red Chinese take-over.

It was this same knowledge that led the United States to continue to speak softly even after Sihanouk broke American-Cambodian relations last May.

* * *

It was the diplomatic view that with a change in the fortunes of war, Sihanouk also would change. But, with American casualties mounting and in the increasing belief there could be sanctuary neither for the enemy or his supplies, the military view took over.

Pontiac Schools Are TB Protected

By MARGARET BROWN

Pontiac area parents of nursery school and day care center youngsters have been assured of the extreme unlikelihood of a repeat tragedy such as the tuberculosis outbreak at a Garden City nursery school.

★ ★ ★

According to Mrs. Helen Park, senior nursery school and day care consultant for the Michigan State Department of Social Welfare, Detroit, stringent Michigan Department of Health standards must be met before the agency's issuance of a state license which must be renewed annually.

Mrs. Park said, "All staff members of state licensed nursery schools and child care centers must have annual physical examination reports signed by a reputable physician, in addition to a yearly chest X ray — except in instances where the doctor does not recommend X ray (as with a pregnant woman).

"Before a child can enter the school he must have a physician's signed medical report for our files."

Mrs. Herman Stenbuck, head teacher at Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School, one of the county's numerous cooperative nursery schools, reiterated the physical examination and yearly chest X-ray requirement.

She added that at Temple Beth Jacob a health chairman is appointed to ". . .keep after staffers, assistants and helping mothers until they report for X rays."

OBSERVE RULES

At the YWCA nursery school Mrs. Reba Netzler, executive director, reported, "We observe all rules of the State Department of Social Welfare, as well as our local inspectors'. We are constantly striving to satisfy city, county and state officials.

"Our new building is very sunny and has approved drinking fountain and lavatory facilities. We do our best to keep the children safe, well and happy."

Mrs. Hazel Beutler, assistant supervisor at the Y nursery, with 15 year's experience in child care said, "We always have abided by the yearly chest X ray. I've been very particular about this and insistent that all our staffers do likewise."

★ ★ ★

Initial approval for nursery or day care center licenses is granted only after state health department requirements as to fire inspection and health are met, in regard to the physical condition of staff and children and state of the building.

The latter check includes testing of water, lavatory and — if food is to be served — kitchen and cooking facilities.

The state health department also requires that annual physical examination records be kept on file with each county's branch of the MDSW for inspection, whenever necessary.

★ ★ ★

Child care centers cannot be operated without a license. "It's contrary to Michigan law," added Mrs. Park. "We are fortunate to be one of the very few states with such excellent cooperation between child care centers and the state's social welfare department," she said.

Volunteer workers among adults, as well as children at St. Joseph Mercy, Pontiac General and Pontiac Osteopathic hospitals all are checked carefully to insure compliance with yearly chest X ray and physical examination regulations.

Dr. William F. Fidler, Oakland County Sanatorium medical director, said also that all public school teachers and personnel must be X-rayed once a year.

Home Vows Are Spoken by Silkwoods

A recent ceremony and reception in the home of the Cecil F. Denisons of South Squirrel Road, Pontiac Township, marked the marriage of their daughter Jeanne Marie, to James Roger Silkwood.

Parents of the bridegroom are the Zolas E. Silkwoods, also of South Squirrel Road.

The bride chose a sheath dress of winter white wool, with white accessories. Miniature pink roses centered her bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Lorraine Stover was maid of honor at the afternoon family rite performed by Rev. William F. Palmer, pastor of the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

James C. Denison, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Arthur McKinnis is chairman for the annual Beta Theta Phi banquet, Feb. 8, in the Waldron Hotel. Apha chapter will host the affair.

Women's

India's Choice of Mrs. Gandhi Is Praised

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Among those American women who think their sex equal to any challenge, Indira Gandhi's election as India's prime minister was greeted today with cries of delight and sisterly pride.

Some gave a nod of approval to the men in India for showing what the women considered good judgment, and a ladylike sneer at American males for not following suit.

★ ★ ★

"Women of the world should rejoice," exclaimed Alice Paul, first chairman of the National Woman's Party in 1913 and still an active champion of women's rights.

"It couldn't possibly be more exciting to have a great country — the second most populous in the world — take such a step."

LOGICAL

Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, New York University anthropologist, who knows Mrs. Gandhi and admits to a personal feeling about the election, said: "It's to be expected in India.

"Although Indian women received the right to participate in public life later than women in the United States, more do participate and set their dreams toward positions of prominence in the political field than do American women.

"The whole attitude of Indian men shows they respect talent and skill. And Mrs. Gandhi knows perhaps more about India than anyone else."

Another acquaintance is Dorothy Height, president of the National Council of Negro Women, who worked with Mrs. Gandhi in 1952 at a school of social work in New Delhi.

"I think Mrs. Gandhi is a particularly able woman and it's a real tribute to the nation that it recognized her ability.

"I feel that she also should be an inspiration to women everywhere because she has worked as a volunteer as well as a public servant."

In Washington, the selection of Mrs. Gandhi was warmly endorsed by women in Congress.

INFLATING

"It makes me feel an inch taller," said Rep. Patsy Mink, D-Hawaii, who doesn't quite reach five feet and is the smallest member of the House.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, dean of congresswomen, said, "Every woman everywhere can be very proud."

★ ★ ★

Novelist Fannie Hurst viewed it as "about the most important thing, sociologically, that has happened in a long time. It should make us rush a little in this country. They (India) have about 50 women in their Parliament, you know.

"American women are a little bit languid, with all their go-go-go. This is particularly deplorable because they are so capable, potentially."

★ ★ ★

Zippiest comment came from writer Helen Gurley Brown of "Sex and the Single Girl" fame:

"It's fabulous, it's right, it's terrific.

"It happened where men apparently have more sense in recognizing what women can do. It points up the fact that American men are some of the most secretly, slyly, reactionary men — as far as women's rights go — in the world.

"It's too good to be true. She's naturally qualified, and I'm sure we'll have one hell of an administration with her."

She'll Marry Local Man

The James H. Goulds of Essex, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail Hamilton, to Howard Werth Schuneman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard A. Schuneman of Inwoods Circle.

Miss Gould is a graduate of Boston Bouve College and Tufts University.

Her fiance, an alumnus of the University of Michigan Engineering School, is a graduate student in business administration at the university. His fraternity is Delta Tau Delta.

An August wedding is planned.

Correction! If you saw the recipe for Coolrise bread in Wednesday's paper and want to try it, make this correction: the amount of liquid called for should be one-half cup of water and one and three-quarters cup milk.

Mrs. Lavern L. Stern, right, and Mrs. Lynn A. Martin, both of East Walton Boulevard, display some of the finger puppets made for hospitalized children by the Avon extension study group. The women have made four dozen of these gay puppets for youngsters to play with in the hospital, then to take home with them.

Safety Film Is Watched by Auxiliary

A film presentation on the hazards and prevention of accidental poisoning was given before members of the Waterford Jaycee Auxiliary Tuesday.

The event took place in the Strathdon Way home of Mrs. Ralph Radford with cohostesses Mrs. Whitney Carnahan and Mrs. Robert Wright.

Guests included Mrs. Richard Copeland, Mrs. William Merritt and Mrs. William Webber.

A committee of Jaycettes headed by Mrs. John Gray gave their assistance to the Waterford Jaycees during the recent search for the area's outstanding young man.

DISTRICT MEET

It was announced that Mrs. Ted McCullough will hostess a meeting for the presidents of local auxiliaries in her district.

Cohostesses will be Mrs. Richard Schwab, Mrs. James Curd and Mrs. Michael Patterson.

Mrs. Charles Wood was named chairman, along with committee members Mrs. Timothy Patterson, Mrs. John Gray and Mrs. Carnahan for the "Speak Up for Waterford" contest.

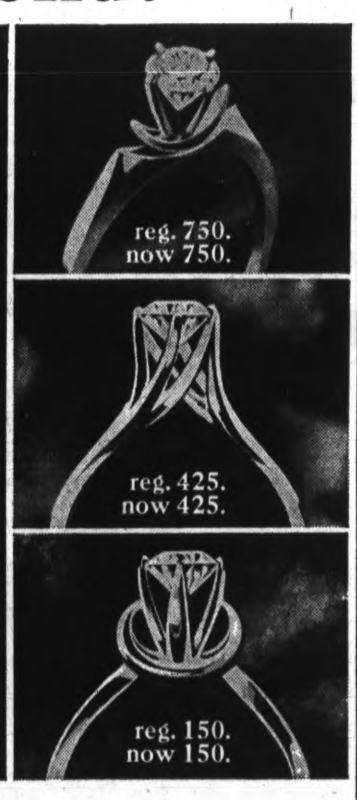

EVENING OUT

Hostesses for the Jaycee bus trip to the February hockey game will be Mrs. Michael Halfpenny, Mrs. David Zuehlke and Mrs. Richard Shipman.

The group's annual dinner is slated for Feb. 21 at the Canopy Restaurant on Orchard Lake Road, Bloomfield Township.

who ever heard of a clearance sale on a diamond!

no one at Rose!

Why not? BECAUSE WHEN YOU BUY A DIAMOND YOU'RE MAKING AN INVESTMENT. It is a deposit on the future. An asset of perpetual value. Certainly you expect it to at least retain the value of that investment. Not decrease! Otherwise, there should no more be two prices for a diamond than you'd expect to find dollar bills marked down to half price! In fact, your diamond should be just as secure in value as the product of the U.S. Mint! At Rose Jewelers, your diamond investment is an obligation of trust to us. As such, your financial transaction in a diamond from us is based on the stone's true market value. That is, your investment is the actual appraised valuation of the diamond you select. There is no margin for cutting prices now—OR AT A CLEARANCE SALE LATER. Nor would you want there to be. As a further protection of your investment, the diamond buyer at Rose Jewelers is covered in total by an individual diamond guarantee . . . your purchase price returned in full without question within 30 days if you are not completely satisfied . . . a lifetime 100% trade-in allowance toward any larger future diamond purchase. This is why we will never have a clearance sale on diamonds at Rose Jewelers.

Husband's Chivalry Killing; Wife Better Lock Him Away

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very handsome (and weak) man who does not hold up very well when faced with temptation.

ABBY

He maintains that when a lady makes a pass at a gentleman, he should not insult her by turning her down, and has no choice other than to olige her.

I say he is out of his head, that a true gentleman would find a courteous way to decline. I would like your opinion.

S. CAROLINA

DEAR S. CAROLINA: Your husband should first get his terms straight. If a woman makes a pass at a man, she's no "lady." And if the man obliges her, he's no "gentleman."

However, irrespective of the misnomers, if your husband is practicing what he preaches, you'd better lock him up before his chivalry kills him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a foreign student and a guest in your country attending one of your universities. A charming female student invited me to escort her to a formal dancing party sponsored by the university.

★ ★ ★

I do not have an automobile but she has one and willingly provided the transportation. When we reached the ballroom she complained that the music WAS "crummy" and she suggested we go sit in her automobile and listen to other music on the radio.

The entire evening was spent in this manner. We did not dance one dance, nor did we exchange one word with another person.

★ ★ ★

Can you please tell me why it was necessary for me to rent a tuxedo to sit in the automobile all evening?

PUZZLED

★ ★ ★

DEAR PUZZLED: It wasn't. The charming female probably found you so fascinating that she didn't want to share you with anyone.

Install Unit Officers

Mrs. Alma Cowley was installed as president of the Pontiac Blue Star Mothers, chapter 4, Tuesday evening in the YMCA club rooms.

Conducting the ceremony were Mrs. Irene Kruger of Milford, second vice president of the Department and Mrs. Wilbur Fitzthomas of Rochester.

Other officers are Mrs. Frank Schmidt, first vice president; Mrs. Kirk Gilbert, second vice president; Mrs. Estell Hancock, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Dennis, financial secretary; Mrs. James Dando, recording secretary, and Mrs. Otto McCrae, chaplain.

Twelve members of the Rochester chapter were present.

A June 18 wedding date has been set by Betty Irene Miller, daughter of the George W. Millers of Buckhorn Road, Orion Township, and Herbert L. Grant, son of the Herbert W. Grants of Fourth Avenue. The bride-elect attends Pontiac Business Institute.

Careful Contrast

When choosing accessories to wear with a dark costume, select bright contrast, but don't overdo it. Only two of your accessories should be in a vivid shade, such as shoes and bag. Keep everything else dark or you'll achieve a blotchy appearance.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

From here on you will have to carry on by yourself, although I will devote one column a week for the next six weeks to further encourage you on your way. I want to leave these few thoughts with you today.

If you started and stopped the program, start again. Sometimes it takes a few running jumps to win the prize. Keep in your thoughts the goal, the COMPLETELY possible goal you are shooting for, a lovelier you in just eight weeks.

If it is necessary for you to eat your meals alone for a few weeks in order to succeed, do so. Actually the menus I have brought you can be used for your family, with a few additions.

They can have larger servings and they can have a rich dessert. They can use more butter or margarine, can have cream instead of skim milk on their cereal, and drink whole milk instead of skim milk.

They can have gravy and cheese sauces which YOU need like a hole in the head.

Don't measure every day. In fact, once a week is too soon. Two weeks is better. Weigh yourself every day. You may not lose for several days, and then drop two or three pounds. I have found that it is extremely exciting and leads to new efforts if you plot your weight gain or loss every day on a chart, if you have quite a lot of weight to lose.

Remember now, you're on your own until next Monday, the next column devoted to the Beauty Improvement Plan.

SAMPLE MENUS

BREAKFAST

8 ounces tomato juice
One poached egg on toast — ½ teaspoon butter
Coffee, with one teaspoon sugar

LUNCHEON

Seafood salad — ten medium size shrimp — ½ cup crabmeat — a reducing dressing
One hard roll
Teaspoon butter
8 ounces skim milk

DINNER

3 medium slices of Canadian bacon — baked
8 asparagus stalks
Salad of shredded lettuce with lemon dressing — lemon or tomato juice with chopped parsley, onion and a dash of paprika
One roll with teaspoon butter
One-half cup applesauce sweetened with artificial sweetener
Total calories for the day—1098

If you wish to have the complete Beauty Improvement Plan in booklet form which will help you lose to to 20 pounds in eight weeks, send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling with your printed name and address to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

The kit includes a unique wall chart on which you can plot your daily progress and watch your weight line decline as your beauty line climbs. Also included are exercises, beauty hints, and a calorie chart.

Hands Tell

NEW YORK (UPI) — Not the doctor's handwriting, but the patient's — after he takes medicine, is what concerns Capt. David J. Purtell, of the Chicago police crime laboratory.

"Medicine at Work," a publication for doctors, reports that Purtell and other document examiners have noticed peculiar changes in handwriting among patients taking medication. They've found patients suffering from depression have a tendency to write smaller than they normally do. With the use of stimulants, as depression lifts, the writing becomes larger.

Tot's Forte Is Language

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)— Children may have an inborn capacity to acquire language, a University of Michigan psychologist reported at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science here.

Assistant Prof. David McNeill said this theory attempts to explain the fact that children learn language with great speed. In his research, McNeill obtained data indicating that "children have certain expectations that allow them to organize and interpret speech heard from their parents."

Chinese New Year Is Time for Pork Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Some recipes can be used at just one time of year. We hate to admit it, but many months ago, Mrs. Arthur Carithers shared her recipe for Sweet and Sour Pork with us.

She uses it to celebrate the Chinese New Year which starts Friday.

Mrs. Carithers who combines a job with homemaking thinks this an ideal time of the year for entertaining. She likes the decorating ideas that the Oriental holiday presents.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK
By Mrs. Arthur Carithers

1 pound pork shoulder cut in ¾ inch cubes.
Batter: 1 egg
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons water
Sauce:
1 cup pineapple cubes
1 green pepper, cut into ¾ inch squares
½ cup vinegar
¼ cup brown sugar
¾ cup water
1 tablespoon molasses (optional)
Thickening:
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup water
Heat enough oil for deep frying in a suitable pan.

Mix batter, dip pork cubes into mixture and drop into boiling oil. Remove when brown and drain on paper towel.

Mix sauce ingredients in saucepan and bring slowly to a boil, stirring constantly. Mix cornstarch and water and pour into sauce. When thick and smooth, add meat and mix well.

When very hot, turn into shallow bowl and serve at once. Or keep in warm oven, says Mrs. Carithers, and serve "When you get good and ready." Makes 4-5 servings.

Is This Security Worth Mediocrity?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Would you please tell me if I'd be wise in leaving a job where I MAKE $9,000 a year to take a new job for the same money with another company?

MARY FEELEY

I've been working for this company for ten years, but somehow of late 'm not satisfied with the situation — and I don't think the company is satisfied with me though they haven't said so.

Please advise me.

M.M., Birmingham, Ala.

Dear M.M.:

A change of jobs involving the same salary isn't going to upset your budget at the moment. But I agree you need to take a look at the future. Most big companies (and the one you mentioned in your letter is among them) spend a lot of good hard cash on their personnel advisory staffs.

From what you say, you're ripe for a heart-to-heart talk with either your immediate superior or the personnel manager. It's to everybody's advantage to reassure you in your present job, or suggest that fields might prove greener somewhere else.

Seniority pays off in money, admit. But it doesn't do much in the way of personal satisfaction. Working merely for money is a gyp, and if you don't admit it to yourself now you'll find it out too late.

Have your talk, and walk out of that office with your mind made up one way or another.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mary Feeley:

Please don't think I am just a silly teen-ager when I say that I want to rent an apartment as soon as I graduate from high school.

I am a senior in a good business course, and can type and take shorthand and am working part time now to help with my expenses. I am even able to save approximately $5 a week, and I give my mother some.

I am the oldest of three girls and my father is dead. My mother works and financially we get along quite well.

I have to live in a fairly safe neighborhood so I will not be afraid to stay alone. How much money will I have to make and how much rent will I have to pay to make this work?

N.G., Cleveland

Dear N.G.:

Getting your first full-time job and your first apartment on your own are big steps to try to take in one jump. Take a good look before you leap.

Let's say your salary will range from $65 to $85 a week. After taxes, take-home pay could be $53.30 to $69.70.

My guess is that unless you find a roommate to share expenses, the going will be rough, especially in the kind of neighborhood you want. I'll give you a reasonable budget for a single woman living on approximately $70 a week take-home pay, approximating $300 a month, which you can use as a guide.

Juggle it around, according to your own specific income, and see how you think you can manage:

Housing, $75; household operating costs, $20; food at home, $40; clothing and upkeep, $25; savings, $25; personal allowance, $43; medical, $12; recreation and vacation, $25; newspapers, books, magazines, $5; miscellaneous (church gifts, contributions, etc.) $30. Total, $300.

Mary Jean Fox Is Wed to Donald M. Gillis

St. Michael Catholic Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Mary Jean Fox to Donald Michael Gillis of Kenilworth Street.

MRS. D. M. GILLIS

A reception in the Eagles Lodge, Waterford, followed the morning nuptials, solemnized by Rev. Charles Rooney.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Fox of Stirling Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Gillis of Bay City.

With her floor-length gown styled with bodice of Rochelle lace, the bride wore an illusion veil and pearl tiara.

Her bouquet of white carnations and red Sweetheart roses was arranged in a cascade.

Patricia Soucy was honor maid and Mrs. Stuart S. Bower of Fort Wayne, Ind., her sister's bridesmaid.

★ ★ ★

Attending their brother were Michael J. Gillis, best man, and John R. Gillis, who ushered with Randy Theaker. All are of Bay City.

The couple will live in Pontiac.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fitch of Foster Street will honor their parents at an open house Sunday in honor of the pair's 50th wedding anniversary. The 3 to 5 p.m. celebration will be held in the Fitch home. Their three sons and two daughters are William, Charles and Robert and Mrs. Earl Hodge and Mrs. Bernard Brasseur. There are 26 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Prayer Is Often A Unifying Force

GIs Ask God to Take Sides

By TOM TIEDE

BIEN HOA, Viet Nam — (NEA) — Before battle, the devout, the skeptical and the merely frightened turn to prayer—each in his own faith, each in his own way.

They ask for courage and protection. They ask for life itself.

They ask that God intercede in the war . . . that He fight alongside them, that He give strength to one group of combatants but not to the other. They ask that God take sides—their side.

But will He? Whose side is God on in this weary war?

★ ★ ★

Captain Jim Hutchins thinks ours. Definitely and without doubt, ours.

Hutchins is a combat chaplain here, once wounded, many times under fire.

He is a pious man who believes both armies in this fight are children of Christ. But he feels the enemy's children have fallen from grace.

"Because the enemy is largely atheistic."

GOAL IS PEACE

"Aren't some of us, too?"

"Yes, but our goal is a Christian one—peace."

"But if God wants peace, why doesn't He just stop the war?"

"Perhaps," the chaplain said, "one day He will."

★ ★ ★

Jim Hutchins, a 31-year-old Protestant from Kokomo, Ind., consults a heavily thumbed Bible for his opinions.

IT'S ALL THERE

Does God condone war? Does He favor one nation over another? Will prayer help?

He believes it's all there, in the Scriptures. Even the part about God taking sides.

"I believe God answers prayers," he says. "And since we are a Christian people and the Communists are not, it's logical to assume. He will answer our prayers more often because we pray more often.

★ ★ ★

"So you can extend this if you have faith and believe He sides with our nation more, if only because we are daily showing our reliance on Him while the nonbelieving enemy is not.

NUMEROUS INSTANCES

"As far as God helping individual soldiers, there are numerous instances in the Old Testament where He commanded followers into war with the promise that He would protect them. David was one. God told him to go forth into battle' and that 'no evil will befall thee.'

"And since the Old Testament is really just specific examples of God's teachings, we can safely apply it to modern situations. That is, we can believe that God will watch over those who sincerely accept Him and ask His help."

But," the chaplain was interrupted, "Many Christian soldiers die."

★ ★ ★

"That's true."

Can you give a reason?"

"Only that it's God's will."

PERHAPS NOT

"Then prayer may not sway God in combat?"

"Perhaps not. A soldier's prayer is not for God's benefit—to convince Him. It is for the soldier's benefit, to give him something to lean on and to strengthen and comfort his faith."

Jim Hutchins paused, then closed his Book. His point had been made: He who rises from prayer a better man, his prayer is answered.

Thus, the GI here may die or he may live.

★ ★ ★

But he does neither alone.

Not with God on his side, anyway.

State Road-Building Costs Up in 1965

DETROIT (AP) — Road-building costs in Michigan jumped 20 per cent in 1965, State Highway Director Howard Hill declared yesterday.

He called again for an increase in state gas and vehicle weight taxes which he said would enable the department to keep pace with mounting costs.

★ ★ ★

Hill cited these examples of increases in a speech to the Michigan Road Builders' Association:

—Deep sewers, up 67 per cent from 1964 to 1965.

EXCAVATION

—Earth excavation, up 62 per cent from 30 cents per cubic yard to 42 cents.

— Right-of-way clearance, from $175 an acre to $300.

— Reinforcing steel, up from 12 cents per pound to 18 cents.

He said over-all, the most substantial increases were in areas requiring a substantial amount of labor.

DELAY BIDS

Hill said rising costs led to a department decision Monday to postpone until September the bid-taking on 12 projects estimated to cost $9.5 million.

He said a proposed one-cent increase in the gas tax and hike in the weight tax would bring the department an additional $32.5 million, up 27 per cent over present revenue from those sources.

★ ★ ★

Without the boost, he said, the state would have to defer some work for a year or more to wait for more federal funds.

Ex-Truman Aide Dies

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP) — Charles W. Jackson, 77, a member of President Harry S. Truman's White House staff from 1945 to 1948 and former New York City advertising executive, died Wednesday after a long illness.

Lawn grass often is damaged by birds, moles and skunks searching for grubs.

For Insured Motorists

Seek Discard of $1 Auto Fee

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature is being asked to throw out the $1 fee which insured motorists had to pay this year into the state's new Accident Claims Fund.

Also before the House are measures to ban throwaway beer bottles and to require immunization against measles for all Michigan school children.

★ ★ ★

In a bill filed for introduction today, Rep. Bobby Crim, D-Davison, proposed eliminating the $1 fee which insured motorists must pay into the fund, designed to protect innocent victims of uninsured drivers from undue financial loss.

He said because of changes made in the fall meeting of the Legislature, the $1 fee is not needed to keep the fund solvent.

RAISED LEVY

The changes raised the levy against uninsured drivers from $25 to $35, increased the property damage deductible factor from $50 to $200 and disallowed claims for hit-run property damage accidents.

Crim said he originally voted for the $1 charge "reluctantly... because of fears generally expressed that it was necessary to assure the success of the fund."

The fee, he added, "inflicts a double penalty on many drivers who already are paying from $3 to $7 a year" for uninsured motorist coverage.

Rep. Robert Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion, returned the throwaway beer bottle to the Legislature Wednesday with a bill to prohibit distribution of such bottles in Michigan.

BILL INTRODUCED

Rep. Joseph Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, introduced a bill Wednesday to require measles immunization for all children enrolling for the first time in any public, private or parochial school in the state.

Measles, Snyder said, have reached epidemic proportions in some areas.

"More than 500 cases have been reported in Isabella County, where it has been necessary to use the emergency resources of the United Fund to finance clinics staffed by volunteer physicians, nurses, and members of the clergy," he added.

Snyder said his bill would require an appropriation to permit local health departments to provide immunization facilities for persons unable to afford private care.

The state already demands immunization of school children against such diseases as smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and poliomyelitis.

Scottish Food Has a Certain Charm

Hearty Cinnamon Oat Cakes . . . Tuned to a Man's Appetite

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

January 25, 1759 was the birthdate of Robert Burns, the Scottish poet. Although we probably would not be happy eating his sort of diet—he was not a successful farmer—we can take this opportunity to talk about some Scottish recipes.

Remember the story of Robert Bruce and the spider? Seems to me he was waiting for his hostess to cook him some oat cakes as he watched the spider spin its web.

Traditional Scottish oat cakes are baked; but we're suggesting you make some oat cakes that are like pancakes and serve them for breakfast.

CINNAMON OAT CAKES

½ cup all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon sugar
3 cups uncooked oatmeal
2 cups buttermilk
2 eggs, beaten

Combine flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and sugar; mix with oatmeal. Blend in buttermilk and beaten eggs. Drop by spoonfuls on hot, lightly-greased griddle. Cook several minutes, until golden brown; turn with spatula.

Serve with cottage cheese and blueberry preserves. Yield: 12-16 pancakes.

Cock-A-Leekie Soup is a hearty dish from the northern part of the British Isles. If you can't find leeks, use the tops of green onions.

COCK-A-LEEKIE SOUP

1 small stewing chicken
6 leeks or green onions
2 tablespoons rice (optional)
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
2½ quarts stock or water
Few sprigs of thyme and parsley
Salt and pepper

Cut chicken into pieces. Wash leeks or onions and chop finely. Heat butter or margarine in skillet and add chicken pieces lightly seasoned with salt and pepper.

Brown gently on all sides. Add leeks or onions and fry another three minutes. Add stock and herbs, bring to boil, skim if necessary. Simmer two hours or until chicken is tender. If rice is used, add after first hour.

Remove chicken, take out any bones and chop meat. Return to soup. Remove herbs. Add more seasoning, if necessary.

★ ★ ★

This soup is better if made 24 hours beforehand, refrigerated overnight and reheated just before serving. Makes six to eight servings.

Then there is always that delicious cookie, Scotch Shortbread. Don't limit your making of this to holiday time.

SHORTBREAD

1 cup butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ cup confectioner's sugar
2 cups sifted flour

Knead butter, vanilla and sugar together and add flour gradually. Pat into cakes ½-inch thick, place on ungreased cookie sheet.

Prick each cake with a fork as for pie shells. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Break apart to serve.

Vegetable Combination May Be New

No one need worry when buying or eating commerical mushrooms. These are grown in solitary segregated splendor, under scientifically controlled conditions. They are gathered by experts at the point of maturity, regardless of size.

When buying mushrooms consider freshness, color and shape. Size of the cap is no indication of tenderness since caps varying in size from one to three inches may be of equal maturity and tenderness.

Dark spots on a mushroom do not necessarily indicate spoilage, but are most likely to indicate bruising. When, however, dark spots are accompanied by an opening of the veil around the base of the cap, the mushroom must be considered old.

In any case, do store mushrooms in the refrigerator as soon as purchased.

Maverlous Mushrooms With Sprouts

1 pint fresh Brussels sprouts
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ lb. sliced fresh mushrooms
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
⅓ cup sour cream
¼ cup slivered toasted almonds

Wash the Brussels sprouts; trim off outer leaves and cut a small cross in the bottom of each. Cook, uncovered, in 1-inch boiling water, for 3 minutes. Cover, reduce heat and simmer until tender, about 7 minutes. Drain and keep hot.

In the meantime, in a skillet, melt the butter or margarine. Add mushrooms; cook over low heat, tossing gently until tender. Add cooked sprouts, along with remaining ingredients. Toss gently until all ingredients are combined and mixture is heated throughout. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 servings.

Chocolate Oatmeat

Chocolate oatmeal is a cinch to make. Just melt a 1-ounce square of unsweetened chocolate in 4 cups of boiling salted water before stirring in 2 cups of oats. Cook as label directs. Just before serving, stir in a few miniature marshmallows. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Duo of Vegetables

Serve this quick-to-fix vegetable dish, Savory Lima Beans and Tomatoes. Combine drained canned green lima beans and canned stewed tomatoes. Season to taste with savory and a little butter or margarine. Heat and serve.

FLUFFY APPLESAUCE PUDDING — Blend applesauce into whipped topping mix to make a refreshing pudding for midwinter enjoyment. Scent it lightly with cinnamon and nutmeg; spoon it into a bowl lined with ladyfingers—it resembles a trifle.

Honey Eggnog Bound to Please in Morning

If breakfast is a problem at your house, try serving the youngsters a frosty and nutritious honey-eggnog with hot rolls or graham crackers.

For each serving, whip an egg 'til frothy; beat in ¼ cup honey, 2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa and 1 cup milk. Or substitute a teaspoon of vanilla for the cocoa.

Made With Topping Mix

Try Applesauce Pudding

Among the foods for a barn raising in the Pennsylvania Dutch country many years ago were 115 lemon pies, 500 fat cakes (doughnuts), 15 large cakes, 3 gallons applesauce, 3 gallons rice pudding, 3 gallons cornstarch pudding, 16 chickens, 50 pounds roast beef, 300 light rolls, 16 loaves of bread—enough food for 175 men.

Convenience foods, such as whipped topping mix and canned applesauce would have helped that hostess considerably. She could have combined them in a Fluffy Applesauce Pudding for those barn raisers, who were not only most fond of pudding but of applesauce.

Good cooks of Lancaster County used to make applesauce by the huge kettleful, cooking it with cider, allspice, and brown sugar over open fires outdoors until it was thick and dark.

Fluffy Applesauce Pudding

4 to 7 ladyfingers, split
¼ cup (about) sherry or orange juice
1 envelope whipped topping mix
½ cup cold milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 jar (1 lb.) plain applesauce

Brush ladyfingers with sherry. Then line a 1-quart bowl or mold with the ladyfingers.

Combine whipped topping mix, milk, and vanilla in a deep bowl with a narrow bottom. Whip at high speed of electric mixer or vigorously with sturdy hand beater until topping will form peaks. Continue beating until topping is smooth and fluffy — about 2 minutes longer.

Blend in spices and applesauce. Then spoon mixture into bowl. Chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Polka Dot Hash With Stuffed Olives

The tang of olives lends an unusual flavor to canned corned beef hash. Blend about ⅓ cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives with one can corned beef hash.

Shape hash into patties and saute in butter until browned on both sides. Serve as is or topped with a poached egg.

HEAVENLY ORANGE TOPPING — In a double boiler beat one egg; stir in three tablespoons lemon juice and three tablespoons granulated sugar. Cook over hot water, stirring about five minutes or until thickened. Cool. Fold in one-half cup heavy cream, whipped, 1 can (11 oz.) Mandarin oranges, drained, one cup miniature marshmallows and one cup sliced bananas. Refrigerate overnight. Fold in one-half cup slivered toasted almonds. Spoon over slices of angel food, chiffon or sponge cake. Makes about 10 servings.

Tang of Lemon in Tuna Souffle

There are very few dishes higher or mightier than the souffle . . . and here's just the one to star. Tuna-Lemon Hi Hat has personality plus.

Fresh California lemon juice and the zesty peel complement popular canned tuna in this impressive, quick-to-make dish. A perfect flavor partner, fresh lemons belong on the table anytime fish is served.

Tuna-Lemon Hi Hat

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash pepper
2 cups milk
4 eggs, separated
3 6½ or 7-ounce cans tuna, drained, flaked
1 teaspoon lemon peel
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
Paprika

Melt butter in saucepan; add flour, salt, nutmeg and pepper, blending well. Remove from heat; slowly stir in milk. Return to heat and cook until thickened, stirring continually 4 to 5 minutes; remove from heat.

Beat egg yolks well; stir a little hot sauce into the beaten yolks. Stir egg yolk mixture back into the saucepan; cook over low heat for 30 seconds. Add drained, flaked tuna to sauce; stir in grated lemon peel and lemon juice slowly, blending well.

Beat egg whites until stiff; fold lightly into the tuna mixture. Pour into an ungreased 2-quart souffle dish or casserole. Sprinkle with paprika.

To keep "top hat" high, cut a strip of foil or brown paper 28-inches long and 2-inches wide; wrap around top of casserole and pin snugly. Bake at 325 degrees, 1 hour. Serve at once. Makes 6-8 servings.

TUNA LEMON HI HAT — It's a handsome tuna souffle. Lemon juice and lemon peel complement the flavor of the fish. Three cans of tuna will serve six to eight people.

Chicken Dish Enjoyed by Seafarers

Men love hearty chicken dishes. Classic Country Captain was first introduced in the South by sea captains who had eaten this curry-flavored favorite in the Orient. Now it is a national classic and perfection for dinner on a winter evening.

Country Captain

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons curry powder
½ teaspoon leaf thyme
1 can (1 pound) seasoned stewed tomatoes
¼ cup currants or raisins
Hot cooked rice
Toasted blanched almonds
Chutney

Sprinkle chicken pieces on both sides with salt and pepper. Heat butter in large skillet; add chicken and brown on all sides. Remove chicken from skillet and add onion, green pepper, garlic, curry powder and thyme. Cook until onion is tender but not brown. Add stewed tomatoes currants and chicken.

Cook, covered, 20 to 30 minutes, until chicken is tender. Serve over rice with almonds and chutney. Yield: 4 servings.

Start With Soup

Add barbecue-type seasonings to condensed tomato soup and heat; add chunks of frankfurters (whole or cut in chunks) and reheat. Serve, if you like, on halved toasted buttered frankfurter rolls.

Roll Strips of Yeast Dough in Peanut-Sugar Mixture

If happiness is a peanut butter sandwich, surely homemade peanut-coated buns would be ecstasy! And they're easy to make—just a simple refrigerator sweet dough shaped into figure eights and dipped in a mixture of chopped peanuts and sugar. There's no kneading, and only one rising time to watch.

Peanut Sugar Crisps

3½ cups unsifted flour
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup (1 stick) margarine
½ cup warm water
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
¼ cup evaporated milk
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped salted peanuts
½ cup sugar

Combine flour, ¼ cup sugar and salt in large mixing bowl. Cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse meal. Measure warm water into small warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved.

Add evaporated milk, dissolved yeast, eggs and vanilla to flour mixture. Stir until just blended. Cover tightly with wax paper or aluminum foil; refrigerate 2 hours or overnight.

Combine salted peanuts and remaining ½ cup sugar. Turn dough out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough into 18 equal pieces. Roll each piece in peanut-sugar mixture.

Form into a rope about 11-inches long. Shape into figure eights. Place on greased baking sheets. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 10 minutes or until done. Makes 1½ dozen.

Allergy Sufferers Offered Recipes

Homemakers having difficulties planning meals for allergic children or adults in their families should be interested in a new cooking booklet designed to simplify such problems.

"Miss Fluffy's Tasty Rice Recipes — for those with Allergies" is the name of the four-page leaflet and it contains 28 recipes and serving ideas. Recipes for everything from appetizers to desserts are included for those on wheat-free, wheat-milk-egg-free, egg and milk-free, and egg-free diets.

Recipes to please youngsters, teen-agers, their parents and grandparents, too, are included.

Single copies of the recipe leaflet are available free of charge. Simply write "allergy recipes" on a post card, add your name and address and send it to Rice Council, 3917 Richmond Avenue, Houston 27, Texas.

LEADS MANY LIVES — Polly Bergen, the husky-voiced, blue-eyed singer who says she was a show business has-been at the age of 8, is now 35, one of the top all-round performers and active in many other fields. She operates several businesses, is a carpet designer and works for several civic and humanitarian projects.

A Has-Been at 8, Polly's Busy as a One-Armed Juggler at 35

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Polly Bergen leads many lives.

A self-admitted "has been" at the age of 8, at 35 she is one of the top all-round performers in show business, and is active in so many other fields she keeps as busy as a one-armed juggler.

BOYLE

"To me, life means exhaling," the husky-voiced, blue-eyed singer said between shows here.

★ ★ ★

"It seems to me I've spent most of my life taking a deep breath before trying to do something I've never done before. When I exhale afterward, I can take off my shoes and relax. Everything then is all right. Nobody threw a tomato at me."

OTHER ACTIVITY

In addition to her nightclub chores, Polly at present also:

1. Operates three dress shops in Tennessee.

2. Runs her own music publishing firm.

★ ★ ★

3. Handles her own oil field and real estate investments.

4. Designs carpets for her brother-in-law, a rug manufacturer.

CIVIC PROJECT

5. Works for several civic and humanitarian projects.

6. Has started a mail order firm to market a cosmetic skin product for men called "Polly Bergen's Whipped Pink Oil of the Turtle."

★ ★ ★

"The first thing, of course," said Polly gravely, "is to catch the turtle. The whole business depends on him."

What makes Polly run so hard? Perhaps because she was constantly on the move as a child—always starting over in a new place. As the daughter of a construction engineer, she lived in 27 states and attended 45 grammar and high schools.

A SURE WINNER

"At the age of 3 and 4, I was always a dead-cinch $2 prize winner in amateur contests," she said. "But at 8, I had become a has-been.

"Then at 14, I got my own radio show at $6 a week. I got $15 for my first television appearance — and a case of tomato soup.

"I also worked for $19 a week as a drugstore clerk, $20 a week as a carhop, $22 a week as a short order cook. I used to spend hours arguing people out of ordering pancakes. I could not turn them."

Polly held other jobs briefly as a cocktail waitress, a fur coat model, an usher, and a door-to-door salve peddler.

SOLD 3 CASES

"I sold three cases of the salve to my father," she said. "We had that salve for years in the basement.

"I did all this while going to school. I was very independent. I really enjoyed it."

★ ★ ★

Polly then became a band singer, quickly rose to stardom on the supper club circuit—Las Vegas was glad to pay her $7,500 a week — and in films, the theater, television and the recording field.

"Once when I had two television shows going, I must have earned between $500,000 and a million dollars a year," she remarked musingly.

LIKES CHILI

What kind of a gal is Miss Bergen? She says:

"I like chili. My children, when they first wake up in the morning. My husband, except when he's handing me pills. Playing cards either for a lot of money or no money at all. Snow and very cold weather. Taking my shoes off.

"I dislike people who say their families are the most important thing in the world to them but spend 12 months of the year working in show business. Being late. Being sick. Drunk women. Drunk men. People who make jokes at the expense of others. Corsages. Flabby handshakes. Having my stomach rumble in public. Being with large groups of people. Having to smile too long at one time.

"I have no goals except to be myself and do what I can do. I've finally decided that's the only real success. The most destructive force in my life was the advice I got in childhood: 'If you can't do it well, don't do it at all.'

PERFECTIONIST

"It makes you try to be a perfectionist when there is no such thing as perfection.

"You spend all your life getting 4 A's and one B—and hating yourself for getting that B."

Grant for Tech Branch

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Sault Ste. Marie branch of Michigan Tech has received a $117,000 federal grant for a 50-week program to train 25 practical nurses.

Cambodia's Allegiance to China Is Predictable

By LEON DENNEN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, is an unpredictable man who loves the international spotlight.

But there is nothing unpredictable or ambiguous about the prince's allegiance to Red China.

A French diplomat who knows Sihanouk intimately considers him a "somewhat more sophisticated oriental Fidel Castro."

The prince is "obviously convinced that China's version of militant communism is the wave of the future in Asia," the diplomat revealed. "He hopes to carve out a place for himself in Mao Tse-tung's future Communist empire."

★ ★ ★

No wonder the anti-Chinese Russians and their Eastern European satellites gave Prince Sihanouk the cold shoulder when he recently toured Europe.

PEKING BELLWETHER

It is therefore more than a coincidence that Sihanouk, who often serves as Peking's bellwether in Southeast Asia, charged that neighboring Thailand invaded Cambodia's territory just when Peking stepped up subversive activities in Thailand.

Thanat Khoman, the Thai foreign minister, ridiculed the charges as "baseless." Neither Thailand nor American troops ever invaded or intend to invade Cambodia, he said.

A similar denial was made by the U. S. State Department.

★ ★ ★

Yet Prince Sihanouk persists in feeding the western press reports that the United States and Thailand plan aggressive action against Cambodia.

WHAT ARE AIMS?

What does he hope to achieve with his charges?

It is old Marxist-Leninist strategy to blame a potential victim for the crime the Communists themselves intend to commit. Or as Mao Tse-tung would say, "The wisest prophets make sure of events first."

There is no longer much doubt that Thailand, the little kingdom of golden Buddhist temples, will soon become Peking's "second front" in Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

Mao Tse-tung desperately needs a face-saving "little war" to divert attention from his fiasco in Viet Nam.

NO BETTER TARGET

What better target is there than little Thailand, with its wealth of rice, tin, rubber and teak?

It is the most loyal ally the United States has in Southeast Asia. It has been for many years an island of peace surrounded by a sea of turmoils.

UNDER RED CONTROL

Thailand's northern tip is a mere 100 miles from Red China's mainland.

★ ★ ★

It is only separated by short stretches of sea from South Viet Nam and Indonesia.

Parts of its long border with Laos are under the control of the Communist Pathet Leo guerrillas.

Yet until now the Communists — pro Russian or pro-Chinese — have had little success in Thailand.

It was the only nation in all Southeast Asia on whose territory there were no armed Communists waging guerrilla war.

Except for the bloodless coup in 1958 by the late Marshal Sarit Thanarat, Thailand's politics have lacked high drama. The Thais like it that way.

DANCER SIGNAL

But Prince Norodom Sihanouk's charges, persistent though baseless, are a clear danger signal that China is planning to attack Thailand.

"We shall have a guerrilla war going on in Thailand before the year is out," said Chen Yi, Red China's foreign minister. He obviously means to keep his word.

Already a clandestine radio station which calls itself the "Voice of Free Thailand" is broadcasting daily anti-American and pro-Chinese propaganda.

★ ★ ★

It has even assured an audience for itself by distributing cheap transistor radios in many villages of Thailand, particularly in the northeast.

★ ★ ★

And how long will it be before assorted professors and leftist intellectuals start clamoring for justice for the "Thailand Independence Movement" which, like the Viet Cong, is merely a creature of Red China?

Foundation Grant Among MSU Gifts

EAST LANSING (AP)—Gifts and grants totaling $2.12 million were accepted yesterday by the Michigan State University trustees.

★ ★ ★

The largest was a grant of $567,400 from the National Science Foundation. It will be used for the support of the cyclotron laboratory. The foundation has granted more than $3 million to MSU during the past five years for research in nuclear physics and explorations of the construction of the atom.

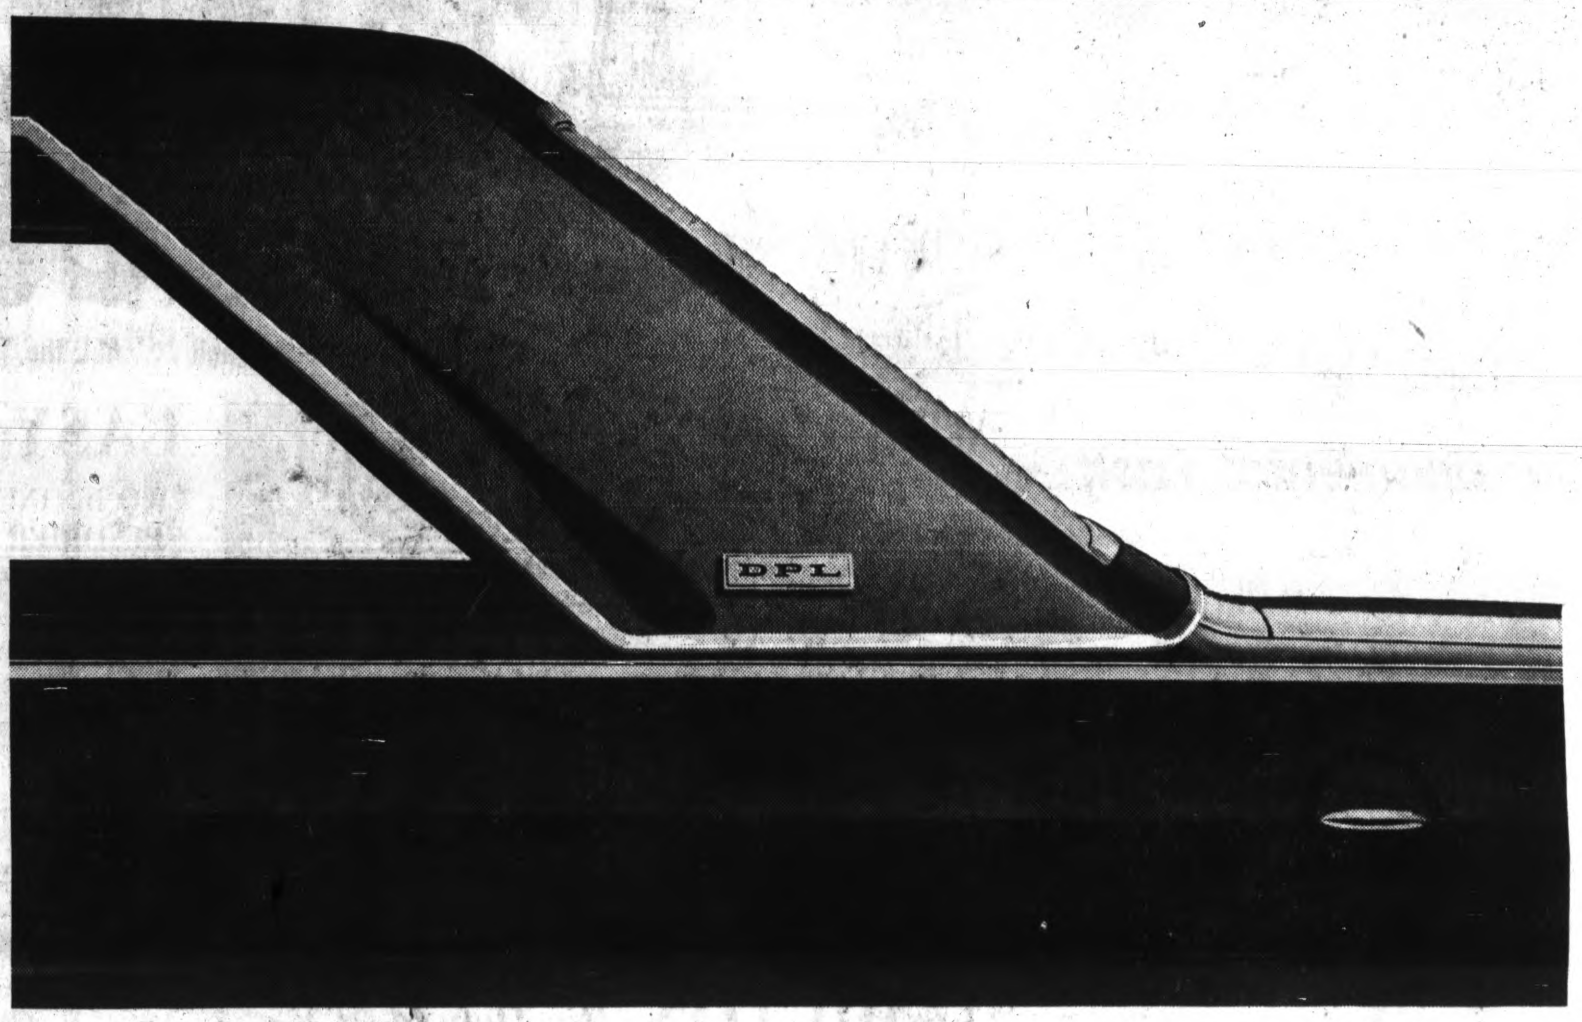

★ ★ ★

Separate grants of $181,489 and $118,215 from the U. S. Office of Education will be used by MSU for research in vocational technical education and for further training for secondary education teachers.

Michigan Man Killed, 4 Hurt in Texas Crash

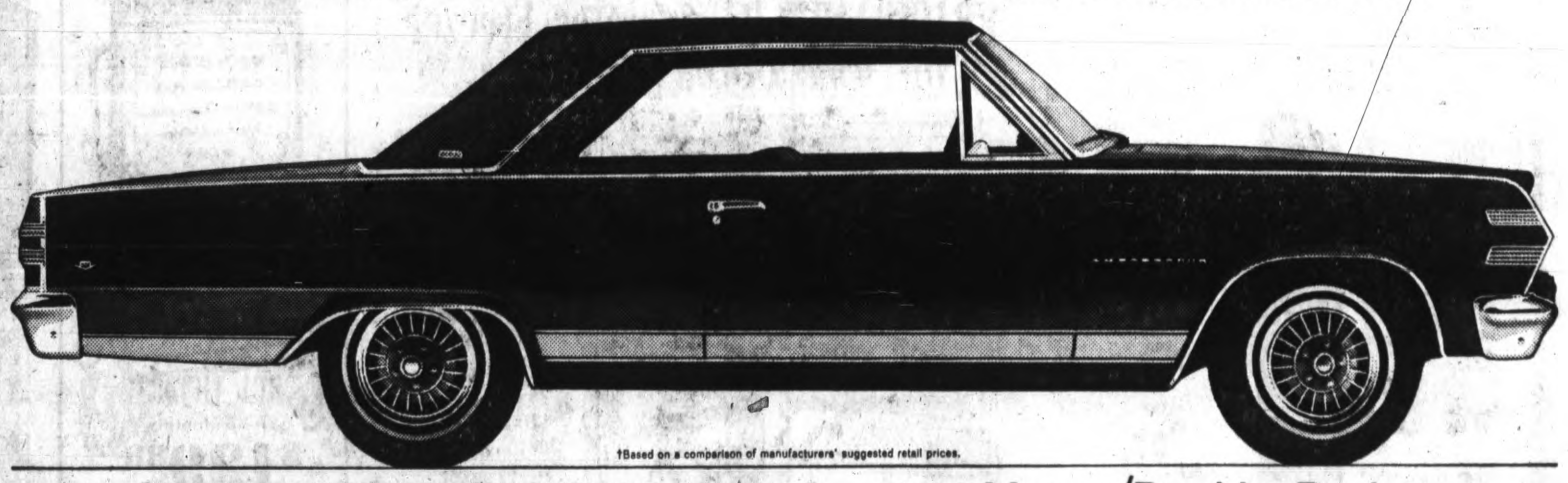

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A three-car collision in a snowstorm yesterday killed a Michigan resident and injured four persons from Michigan, Illinois and Texas.

Killed was George W. Kantau, 64, of Highland Park Mich., driver of one of the cars. His sister, 60, and her husband, 62. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hadley of Adrian, Mich., were critically injured.

2nd Union Raises Spectre of Rail Strike Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second union raised the spectre today of a major railroad strike crisis — this one developing next week with the possibility of eventually halting most of the nation's trains.

"They've mistreated our people to such an extent. . . that anything could happen," said Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

★ ★ ★

Chief railroad negotiator J. E. Wolfe said his attorneys would be ready to draw up court injunction papers if the trainmen threaten a strike.

Court action could delay any strike for months.

ON UNION'S TERMS

Luna's comment came the day after H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen warned that a new national railroad strike crisis loomed unless the railroads bargain on the union's terms.

Both disputes involve the federal arbitration ruling under which the jobs of 17,500 firemen and nearly an equal number of trainmen were eliminated.

★ ★ ★

Both unions demand that most of the jobs be restored.

In the case of the trainmen, the special two-year federal arbitration law expires Jan. 25 and in the case of the firemen, March 31.

Gilbert specifically said, and Luna implied, that they believe the unions will be legally free to strike on those dates.

Wolfe disagreed.

"In my opinion, supported by all the lawyers with whom I have talked, the (arbitration) award continues until something takes its place," he said.

Government officials, in whose lap the dispute will eventually land, said federal lawyers weren't sure whether the railroads or the unions were right.

A strike by the trainmen would involve some 85 railroads in the West and the Southeast. Luna said satisfactory agreements had been reached with some 35 eastern railroads.

A strike by the firemen would involve about 170 railroads.

★ ★ ★

Railroad spokesmen contend they have the right to continue eliminating jobs — at least 7,000 more firemen and many thousand of brakemen — even after the arbitration ruling expires.

Luna's union represents the brakemen.

★ ★ ★

Gilbert and Luna argue that at expiration of the special federal arbitration law — the first in U.S. peacetime history — the situation reverts to past contracts or practices unless there is a new agreement in the meantime.

The union chiefs said this means they have the right to demand that all the eliminated jobs be restored.

HELD IN ROBBERY — Mrs. Judie A. Morris, 20, of Kalamazoo is being held by Portage police in connection with the armed robbery of a gasoline station and kidnaping of the attendant. George Hoffman, 18, was forced to ride in the bandit's car for several minutes yesterday. Police recovered $64 said to have been taken from the gas station.

Memorial for FDR Monumental Task

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Commission decided this week to make a fresh start toward choosing a suitable design for a monument to the late president.

WEST

Although this appears to be an act of sheer desperation, I nonetheless commend the commission for its courage.

The commission already has learned how difficult it is to select a design that will please everybody. Or, I should say, a design that will please anybody.

The original proposal, an abstract arrangement of eight concrete slabs, drew almost unanimous reproof, ranging in intensity from slight nausea to hysterical laughter.

★ ★ ★

It took the commission several years to screw up the nerve for another running of the gamut, but it has finally taken the plunge.

SEEK NEW DESIGNS

A group of prominent architects will be asked to submit new design ideas. The commission hopes to reach a decision within the next few months. Lots of luck!

I fear, however, that the timing was bad. All signs indicate that 1966 will be a year of crisis for monuments in the U. S. capital. Monuments will be hard pressed just to hold their own.

To attempt to implant a new monument during a period of memorial upheaval is asking for trouble.

★ ★ ★

It was only a week or so ago that the Titanic Memorial went down. This statue, erected in memory of the husbands and wives and little children who lost their lives when that great ship went down in 1912, was uprooted to make room for a freeway.

HUNT NEW SPACE

Officials say they will try to find a new space for it, but the prognosis isn't favorable. It currently is homeless and likely to remain so.

The relentless march of the freeway builders also is expected soon to overrun the statue of John Ericcson, inventor of the screw propeller.

Previously, they had swamped the statues of Williams Jennings Bryan and Dr. Benjamin Rush, the Revolutionary War surgeon general. Who knows where they will strike next?

★ ★ ★

It is clear that the government eventually will have to set up some sort of adoption agency, or maybe a statuary orphanage, to cope with the problem of displaced memorials.

★ ★ ★

I have no idea what form the projected FDR memorial will take, but I do have a recommendation. The commission would be wise to put it on wheels.

University to Set Up Marine Research Unit

BOSTON (AP) — Northeastern University says it plans to establish a marine science research institute at a seaside site at Nahant. The university said a 20-acre tract, formerly used as a Nike missile site but abandoned by the Army five years ago, will soon be offered to the university by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Draft Board Members Differ in Approach to Job

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Few of Uncle Sam's activities strike home more directly than Selective Service. Who is making it work on the grass-roots level? Here is a report on the plain citizens who have to make the day-to-day decisions.)

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK (AP) — All over America little groups of citizens, many of them elderly, decide today which young men will be drafted into uniform — perhaps to serve in Viet Nam.

Some young men go willingly, others only after exhausting every appeal.

In February alone, the elder citizens will sift 29,400 young men out of the nation's population for induction.

Members of the 4,000 local draft boards receive no pay — and much abuse. Often they spend wearying hours at their task. Many of their decisions are agonizing. Some have qualms about the whole system.

D. A. Ghrist, 69, a banker, has been on Board 84 in Kansas City, Kan., since the original draft on Oct. 16, 1940.

"When they asked me to serve, I thought it would be my patriotic duty," said Ghrist. "I still feel the same way. Some people conscientiously oppose the very idea of what we are doing, but it's a duty that must be fulfilled."

Another member of Board 84, who has served since early in World War II, is Otto Ziegelmeyer, 76, a retired lawyer. Drafting men who wind up in Viet Nam makes him uneasy.

"World War II concerned us all because we were in it," he said. "But you don't call this a war. Some board members, including myself, know that this has to be done, but don't heartily approve of it."

DIFFERENCE?

"I don't see much difference," Ghrist interjected. "We have a duty to perform. We have to take care of the needs of the military."

"The job has to be done," Ziegelmeyer replied, "but a man is entitled to his opinion."

Gray-haired, motherly Wilma Crane has been clerk of Board 84 since its inception more than 25 years ago.

"We have very little trouble with our boys," she said. "It's the mothers who give us the most trouble. These women write in saying they condemn us for sending their boys to be shot at.

★ ★ ★

"I inducted my own son in 1956. And then I got a Mother's Day card that really broke me up. The sender said she hoped if I ever had a son he would be killed in the Army."

The national Selective Service System has an over-all roster of about 48,000.

National headquarters has a staff of 205, mostly based in Washington. About 6,000 persons are paid clerical employes on local draft boards and the rest are unpaid members of draft boards, members of appeals boards or advisers.

Local boards vary in size from three to five members, depending on the area's population density. Members are appointed by the President on the recommendation of state governors.

95 APPEAL BOARDS

There are 95 appeal boards, one for each federal judicial district.

Appeal board decisions are usually final. But decisions decided by a split vote may be taken to the national Selective Service Appeal Board in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Malcolm F. Miller is head of Selective Service for Southern California.

"Board members are in a tough spot," he said. "They have quotas to fill, but they also have to protect the registrant and keep the community operating as close to normal as possible.

"They donate their time, supposedly about three hours a day, two days a month. In recent months, however, I've seen many boards sit down at 3 p.m. and not get up until midnight or later.

"Despite this, they stay on and on for years. Of 280 board members in Southern California, 36 have served for more than 20 years. I think it boils down to this: if you like people, you like Selective Service work."

Lloyd W. Waller, retired principal of Miracosta High School in Manhattan Beach, Calif., recently left his area draft board after serving as a member from the start of World War II. He said he had concluded that the present draft should be discarded in favor of a universal military service.

"For instance, I can think of a dozen or so boys who were drafted because they had certain skills the military wanted," he said. "I never thought it was quite right to take those boys because they had skills and let the bums down the street stay home.

SERVE 6 MONTHS

"I think every high school graduate or 18-year-old should be taken in for six months and given tests and put through the physical fitness program.

"At the end of six months the services would know more about the boy and what he could do and whether they wanted him. And I think at the end of that time you'd find more boys willing to stay on in the service for a couple of years."

In Florida, as in most states, draft boards are taking a closer look at youths with student deferments. Florida has 46,323 in his category.

"We don't like to take students, but it is our job to meet he needs of the military," said draft board official. "There may be some beneficial side effects, however.

"Many students may be enrolled just to kill time or to avoid the draft. If students know they have to hit the books hard to stay in school, the results will be positive for education."

Florida has a special problem — the large Cuban refugee population.

★ ★ ★

Refugees qualify for the draft after six months as resident aliens. Some young refugees are hard to catch because they have no interest in exposure to any fighting that does not involve a blow at Fidel Castro.

"If it were to be a war against Cuba or directly against Castro's interests anywhere, they would volunteer en masse," remarked a draft official.

A wide variety of reasons why they should not be drafted are offered by reluctant dragons in all parts of the country. Some reasons are strange and wonderful.

"Dear Sir," read a letter to one board. "I am not going to the military service for nobody, so just let me alone. So, don't send me no more forms. The service is for somebody who has nothing else to do. I've got things to do." He's in the Army now.

Another letter, in its entirety, went like this:

"Dear Draft Board. This is to say I am now married to Shirley and have a baby."

A youth who wanted a student deferment deposed as follows:

"Dear Sirs I am writing to let you know I have enroll in college. I was suppose come by your office, but it slip my remember. So I am sorry. Now I will close, hoping to leave college with Dr. degree."

A Western draft official said suspicious hardship claims are checked out.

"If the parents claim a 19-year-old boy is their sole support and we go out and find a 1966 car in the garage and a color television in the living room — well, that's one more story we don't buy," he said.

YOUTHS UNDERAGE

Adelaide Smith, a draft clerk in Los Angeles, said some youths who are under age register for reasons of their own.

"We get a lot of 15-and 16-year olds who look much older," she said. "They come in and say they are 18 and we register them. With a draft card they usually can get a full-time job without showing a birth certificate.

"Later, when we classify them as available for service, hey bring in a birth certificate to prove they are still underage."

One of the odder cases involved a Southern youth who deliberately flunked the mental examination but repented. He reregistered under an alias to make amends, was called up — and honestly flunked the physical.

STUCK NECK OUT — This male ostrich at Franklin Park Zoo in Boston stuck his neck out where he shouldn't have and ended up with an eight-inch gash that required 20 stitches. Instead of hiding his head in the sand, he stuck it through a wire fence. When he tried to haul his head back, an end of the wire caught and ripped his neck.

CHARLES

Style Weekly took one look at the sports attire of Prince Philip and his son, Prince Charles, and decided they needed "headwear."

The British trade paper of the men's wear business liked the looks of the royal father and son except for the absence of hats.

"How much smarter both would have looked had some form of headwear been worn," the magazine said.

"A tweed hat or one of the newer shapes of caps would have been just right on the heads of both the royal father and son."

How about a couple of crowns?

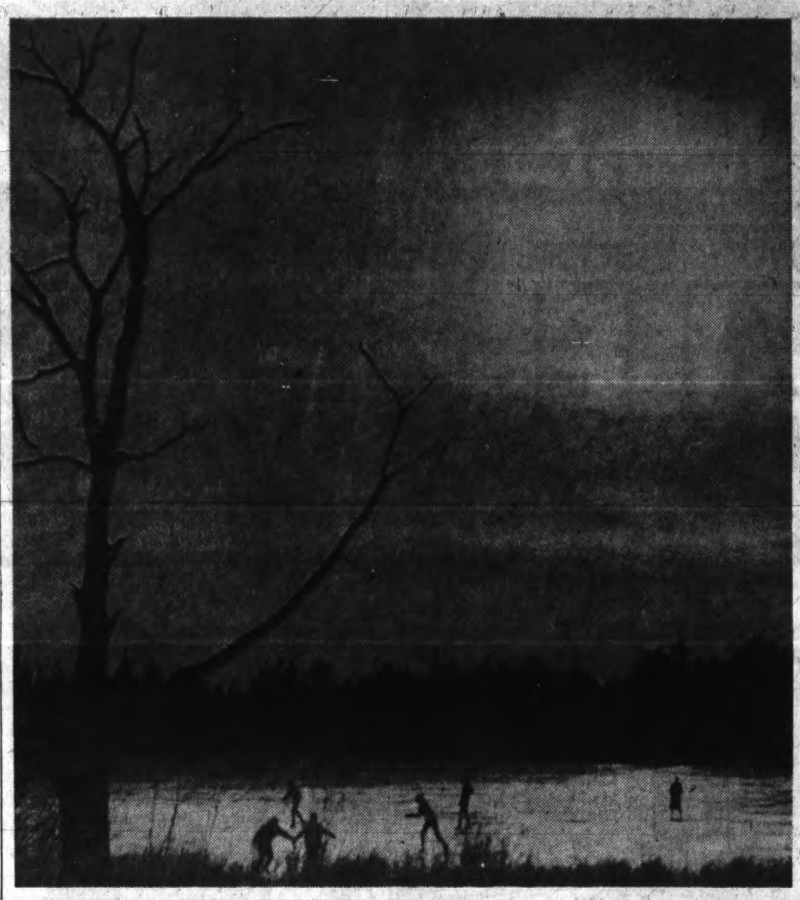

Governess Writes of JFK's Death

Caroline Kennedy learned of her father's death from her governess the same day the late president was assassinated.

"Caroline sobbed on my shoulder, and I comforted her," writes Maud Shaw in her forthcoming book "Memoirs of Maud Shaw, Former White House Governess."

In an excerpt reprinted in the February Ladies' Home Journal, Miss Shaw related what happened the first time Mrs. Kennedy saw her children after the President's death.

"She hugged her children, tears running down her cheeks," Miss Shaw said. "I managed to say that I would do anything for her that I could. And she replied that it would be a great help if I could keep the children happy."

Hunt 3 in Scandal

French Watch Border

PARIS (UPI) — French authorities today tightened controls over frontier crossings to prevent anyone involved in the burgeoning Ben Parka scandal from leaving the country, informed sources reported.

The action was aimed at snaring three minor underworld figures allegedly involved in the affair and stopping persons from leaving France whose absence might impede the government inquiry into the kidnaping and probable assassination of Moroccan opposition leader Mehdi Ben Barka.

The kidnaping of the exile leader from a Paris street last October has created a new crisis in France's relations with Arab nations.

Many observers feared the national scandal could tarnish the image of President Charles de Gaulle and cloud the political future of some of his cabinet ministers and closest advisers.

★ ★ ★

The de Gaulle government admitted yesterday that French secret agents were involved in the Ben Barka kidnaping and hinted at a connection with Moroccan officials.

De Gaulle told his cabinet yesterday that "justice must be done" and he made it clear that no one should be spared in sorting out the complex case.

He ordered the dismissal of the head of secret service agency, Gen. Paul Jacquier, whose No. 2 man, Marcel Le Roy, already has been suspended in the affair.

De Gaulle also placed the agency under the direct control of Armed Forces Minister Pierre Messmer. It previously reported to Premier Georges Pompidou, but had been semiautonomous.

★ ★ ★

A complete shakeup of the police department was announced, although no details were given.

TWO JAILED

Two Paris police officers already were behind bars for complicity in the kidnaping.

De Gaulle's move came as public pressure for a government cleanup of the three-month-old case and the death Monday night of key witness build. Police called Figon's Georges Figon continued to build. Police called Figon's death a suicide.

French sources siad the Ben Barka affair was started by Moroccan government officials who wanted to get rid of a dangerous rival.

The government of King Hassan II has repeatedly denied French claims, but the affair has severely strained relations between the two countries.

TORTURED TO DEATH

According to a report by Figon, Ben Barka was tortured to death by Moroccan Interior Minister Gen. Mohammed Oufkir at a Paris suburban villa.

★ ★

Figon said the general feared that Ben Barka was about to be pardoned by King Hassan and allowed to return to Morocco to lead the opposition party.

However, Figon, an ex-convict, was reported by police to have shot himself to death as they were about to enter his Paris apartment to arrest and question him.

Hodges Is Nominated

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Former Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges has been nominated for president of Rotary International, the organization has announced. The current president is Dr. C. P. Teenstra of Hilversum, the Netherlands.

Merry Old Dingle, Great Irish Oasis

By EDDY GILMORE

DINGLE, Ireland (AP) — High, but far from dry, on the westernmost tip of Ireland, Dingle is one of the world's great oases for the drinking man.

With a population of less than 1,000 men, women and children, Dingle has 48 licensed bars.

* * *

It even has bars in butcher shops and groceries.

"And why not?" asked dark-eyed Margaret O'Grady. "Suppose you're in the butcher's. You're waiting for your order. Now, what's more natural than stepping over to the other side of the shop and buying a drink?"

SOME STRETCH

Down by the waterfront, there is one little stretch of downtown Dingle where there are nine full-fledged bars, huddling together like old friends supporting one another, with nothing to separate them but walls.

Jimmy Flahive's bar is down at the far end, out where the wild Atlantic winds pound in to Dingle Bay.

Why does one small town have so many bars?

"Ah," Jimmy Flahive said, "You're looking at Dingle with prejudice, with a one-sided point of view. Be objective, sir. Look at it logically and say to yourself, 'It's London, and New York and Paris what's wrong. They don't have enough bars. Dingle's got the proportion right.' "

JOINS DISCUSSION

A short, broad-shouldered man, with a face as brown as a whisky bottle, joined the discussion, reasoning:

"Look at it this way, sir. With a population just under 1,000, and the number of bars just under 50, we have a drinking place for every 20 souls—men, women and children. But as many of the women don't, and as none of the children do, we figure we've got one bar for every eight full-grown drinking men."

* * *

Up the road from James Flahive's bar, another foreigner was drinking in Nora Kennedy's bar. He was from Cahirciveen, 18 miles across Dingle Bay, and for that reason a foreigner in Dingle.

Dingle lays claim to being the most westerly town in Europe, to being closer to the United States than any other town in Europe.

DISAGREEMENT

"That's not so," said the man from across Dingle Bay. "Cahirciveen's closer to America than Dingle."

A tall man with a rain-soaked overcoat and a blue-red nose, looked up from his stout at the far end of the bar and said: "You talk like a fool. All but an idiot would know that Dingle is more west than Cahirciveen. Look at the bloody map."

* * *

As tempers flared, I intervened, offering to go to a shop that advertised "Tourist Information" to settle the question.

The shop also sold dry goods and, as the door opened, a bell clanged somewhere well back in the unlighted interior. Finally a woman appeared.

RIGHT PLACE

"Is this the tourist office?"

"It is."

"You have some information on Dingle?"

"We closed on Oct. 15."

* * *

"But you're open."

"The shop's open, but the tourist office is closed," she said.

"Have you any pamphlets about Dingle?"

DROP A LINE

"They collected them and took them away," she replied, "but if you want to know anything, just write me a letter."

She disappeared into the gloom of the shop.

Outside an Atlantic storm raged—as no doubt the argument still did — down in one of Dingle's 48 licensed bars.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A Michigan man who left his wife and four children nine years ago and later married an Ohio woman was sentenced to three years probation Tuesday.

Maurice Mallion, 37, also was ordered to make restitution of up to $20,162.86 to the Bureau of Social Aid for child support money spent on his first wife, Elaine, and to the Washtenaw County Department of Social Welfare.

Mallion, who pleaded guilty to desertion and nonsupport charges Dec. 28, also was fined $110 and was ordered to pay $185 court costs.

Mallion had married Norma Jean Roberts of Cincinnati, Ohio, and was living in Mount Healthy, Ohio, as Robert R. R. White, when he was arrested last December for a traffic violation.

Married Student Pairs Get Reduced Tuition

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP)—Two may not be able to live as cheaply as one, but two can learn almost as cheaply as one at the Hofstra-Adelphi University Liberal Arts Center here.

Married couples who enroll in noncredit courses will each pay a reduced tuition of $15 a course instead of the regular fee of $20.

Pontiac Central Eyes Lead in SVC

Chiefs to Play Handy Five; Saginaw Idle

PCH Facing League's Top Point Producer in Bill Abbey

SPORTS

Pontiac Central can take over sole possession of first place in the Saginaw Valley Conference Friday by defeating winless Bay City Handy.

The Chiefs are tied with Saginaw. Both have 5-0 league marks. Saginaw has a nonleague basketball engagement with Flint Northwestern Friday night.

★ ★ ★

PCH and Saginaw, both 7-0 overall and ranked second and third, respectively, in this week's state Class A polls, collide head-on Tuesday at Saginaw.

Handy may be in last place, but the Wildcats will bring the top scorer in the Saginaw Valley to Pontiac. He is forward Bill Abbey who has been averaging 22 points a game.

"Abbey is one of the finest players in the Valley," said PCH coach Fred Zittel. "They have another very good player in Mel Mellor, a guard, who can hurt any opponent."

Mellor is averaging better than 14 points a game.

Zittel has been concentrating on Handy in practices this week, hoping to offset a normal tendency of the PCH players to look past a last place team to the Saginaw contest.

OTHER GAMES

Other SVC games Friday will be Flint Northern at Flint Southwestern, Midland at Flint Central, and Bay City Central at Arthur Hill.

PCH's defensive ability has impressed opponents over the years and this season is no exception. The offense has been very good, too, averaging 74.9 points a game.

Defensively, the Chiefs have held seven foes to 53.9 points a game. Midland scored 54 for the top Valley effort so far against PCH. Waterford (59) and Pontiac Northern (57) bettered the average, but both were decisively defeated.

"The boys have been playing very good defense," said Zittel, "but we know they can be better and we are constantly working on this phase of the game."

The coach is not expected to after his starting lineup of Jessie Evans, Willie Craft, Larry Platt, Eddie Pruitt and Jim McClendon. Ross Ludwick, who did not start the last contest against Flint Northern but starred as a reserve is a possible starter.

Sharp-shooting Prentice Hill is the No. 1 guard replacement.

Foss Clamps Down in Halting Grid Deal

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) —Commissioner Joe Foss, in voiding the disputed trade involving San Diego's Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison, took the fourth and final step in a get tough policy that figures to give the American Football League a more sophisticated image.

★ ★ ★

Using his sweeping power, Foss completed a series of moves Wednesday that firmly established his iron rule and likely put an end to the controversial statements that have been made to the press by various AFL personnel in recent weeks.

As a matter of fact, when the phone rang in press headquarters following Foss' latest announcement, an official taking the call jokingly answered:

NO COMMENT

"AFL press headquarters. No comment."

★ ★ ★

But Foss' image changing decisions also undoubtedly will clamp down on other outspoken owners such as New York's Sonny Werblin, who had been quoted recently on the subject of franchise shifting.

Foss, in announcing the decision to void the trade, after personally investigating the various allegations, said he "concluded that statements of owner K. S. Adams published prior to the trade constitute tampering with players Ladd and Faison under the provisions of our constitution.

OTHER BUSINESS

While the Ladd-Faison controversy overshadowed the other things accomplished at the AFL annual meeting, these five major items of business were concluded:

★ ★ ★

1. The new Miami Dolphins selected 32 veteran players in the expansion draft and wound up with 20 players, plus a veteran quarterback in Dick Wood, who had been starters at least part of the 1965 season.

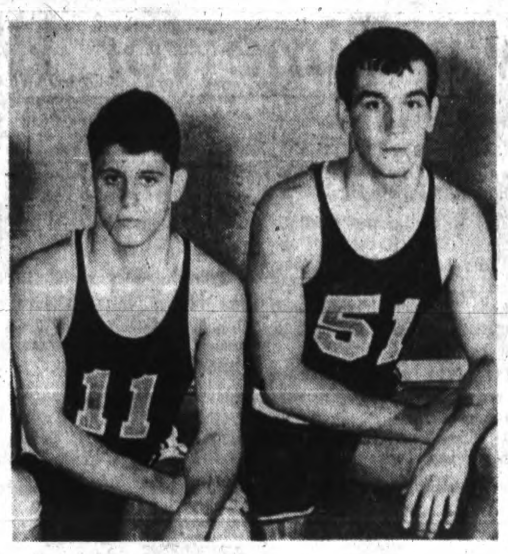

★ ★ ★

2. The league voted to expand by two additional teams for the 1967 season with Portland, Ore., Los Angeles and Anaheim, Calif., Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and New Orleans, La., listed as franchise candidates.

3. The league established a central scouting system to be operated by the league office.

4. The league approved the raising of the goal uprights 10 feet in an attempt to make it easier to judge field goals and conversions.

5. The league approved the use of a sixth official for its games.

DETERMINATION — Walled Lake's Vikings haven't had an enjoyable basketball season to date, but they are determined to spoil Waterford's visit tomorrow night. Juniors Gus Maragos (11) and Tom Carl (51) have been seeing more playing action as coach Ken Butler attempts to snap a losing string. John Huebler (13) has been the Vikings steadiest performer.

Elect Williams to Hall of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, baseball's only .400 hitter in the last 24 years, and one of the most feared sluggers ever was named today to the Hall of Fame.

The former Boston Fed Sox outfielder, who will be 48 Aug. 30, was elected to the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., in his first year of eligibility. He was the only choice.

His election by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, including many with whom he had feuded during a tempestuous, colorful career, was announced by Hy Hurwitz, association secretary-treasurer, at a news conference in Fenway Park.

Williams, tieless with a white sports shirt, dark plaid jacket and black slacks and loafers, was present. He looked well-tanned but slightly paunchy. He showed little emotion.

STATEMENT

Williams said:

"I can't begin to tell you how pleased I am to have been elected to the Hall of Fame. I've always known how lucky I've been to be connected with the Boston Red Sox and with Tom Yawkey (Red Sox owner).

"I've also always known how lucky I've been to have played in a rabid baseball town like Boston. As I look over the list of these other fellows who were not elected, I am sorry they won't be with me at Cooperstown in July."

Williams was elected by a record vote. He received 282 votes out of a possible 302 for a 93.3 per cent. Seventy-five per cent, or 226 votes were required for election.

★ ★ ★

Charles (Red) Ruffing, former New York Yankee pitching great, was second with 208 votes, just 18 short of election.

Williams is the 103rd voted into the Hall of Fame. Of these, 40 have been elected by the writers, the other 63 by the veterans' committee. He will be formally inducted into the Hall at Cooperstown, July 25.

19 SEASONS

Despite two hitches of duty as a Marine Corps flyer in World War II and the Korean War, Williams played 19 seasons for the Red Sox. He belted 521 homers, ranking behind only Babe Ruth (714) and Jimmy Fox (534), and compiled a lifetime batting mark of .344, placing him tied for ninth among baseball's all-time great hitters.

He hit .406 in 1941.

A tall, gangling youth, Williams was purchased by the Red Sox in 1937 for $25,000 and five players after a season and a half with San Diego, his hometown, in the Pacific Coast League.

★ ★ ★

The 6-foot-3½ left-handed slugger immediately was called The Kid, a nickname which followed him until he retired at the portly age of 42 after the 1960 season, in which he hit .316 with 29 homers.

U-D Squad Downs Villanova, 101-94

From Our Wire Services

Led by senior guard Lou Hyatt, the University of Detroit rolled to a 101-94 victory over Villanova last night at U of D Fieldhouse.

★ ★ ★

Hyatt hit on 13 of 19 shots from the floor and wound up with 33 points to spark the Titan attack.

The slender Hyatt also starred on defense as he limited the losers' ace Bill Melchionni to 24 points.

The losers held a 51-45 lead at halftime, but the Titans stormed back after intermission, tying the game at 53-53 at the two-minute mark before pulling away.

Northern Facing I-L Title Obstacle

AP Photofax

HEADING FOR FALL — Cincinnati University's John Howard (20) seems heading for fall over shoulders of Bradley's Alex McNutt (41), although players at left are oblivious to Howard's dilemma. More interested in the basketball's whereabouts are Eddie Jackson (45), Cincinnati's Ron Krick and Bradley's Joe Allen. The Bearcats upset visiting seventh-ranked Bradley, 85-69.

Huskies Meet Farmington '5'

Walled Lake Quintet to Entertain WTHS

Pontiac Northern's title-scenting Huskies will face a major obstacle Friday night in their quest for a sixth Inter-Lakes League cage title in seven seasons.

Their visit to Farmington will pair them with the one I-L quintet that has found any repeated success against Northern's usually quick shooting attack.

Since PNH joined the league in 1959-60, only Farmington's cagers have defeated the Huskies more than twice — winning four of the 12 contests between the two. The Falcons' home court has bothered Northern.

★ ★ ★

Southfield (from the former I-L lineup) was the only other team to defeat the Huskies twice in league play. Waterford's Skippers did the trick twice during PNH's first season but that was before it joined the circuit.

Waterford will visit Walled Lake in Friday's other I-L tilt. Both the Skippers and their host this week have been beaten this season by Northern.

More than just tradition will be working against the Huskies this week. Farmington is the only league squad with an overall winning mark this campaign. It is 5-4 and has won two straight at home after losing its opener there.

EYING TIE

The Falcons (1-1 in the loop) can tie for first place by upsetting the visiting PNH squad, which is 2-0 and 3-4 over-all.

PNH coach Dick Hall, also, has to find a replacement for 6-4 all-league candidate Larry Frye who was dismissed from the Huskies' team following a post-game incident after last week's win over Waterford.

Farmington has a returning all-league player in 5-11 Mike Wilson, a tricky guard who is averaging almost 20 points per game. He is aided capably by 6-3 center Mike Ames and 6-0 forward Greg Dorow.

Walled Lake, burdened by eight straight losses after winning its opener hopes the home court will give it an advantage over Waterford whose title hopes were jarred by PNH last week.

The Skippers are favored but must bounce back. They had good balance behind sharp-shooting Rick Ziem in a league-opening triumph over Farmington.

However, Walled Lake's Vikins expect John Huebler to offset Ziem's scoring and could end their famine if the other starters can contain Ziem's teammates. Improved shooting is another factor the Vikings need to pull the upset.

Hoosier Rolls 300 Game

Detroiter Strampe in Keg Lead

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bob Strampe jumped to a 71-point lead with a five-game total of 1215 in Wednesday's opening preliminary round of the $100,000 National All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The slender Detroiter, who won the All-Star crown in 1964 in Dallas, averaged 243 for his first of three five-game qualifying blocks with games of 212, 237, 249, 260 and 257.

But the spotlight did not belong to Strampe alone.

PERFECT GAME

Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., put together 12 consecutive strikes for a perfect 300 game. It was Johnson's fourth sanctioned 300 game and the 17th in the 25-year history of the tournament.

A 25-year-old professional, Johnson switched to an outside angle and fired the perfect score in his fifth game. He had trouble in the first four with scores of 174, 176, 205 and 178, for a 1033 total and 82nd place the field of 432.

LEFTY SECOND

Holding down second place with a five-game total of 1144 was Bill Allen, a left-hander from Orlando, Fla. Allen rolled games of 214, 227, 234, 268 and 201.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Dick Weber of St. Louis, who won the All-Star title in 1962, 1963 and 1965, had an opening round of 1037. The highest money-winner in the All-Star shot 186, 191, 224, 225 and 221 to rank in 76th place.

In 10 previous All-Star tournaments Weber collected $60,545.

The preliminaries continue through Friday, at which time the field will be trimmed to 216 bowlers. The nationally televised finals will be held Jan. 30 with the winner receiving $15,000.

On Saturday 216 of the top women bowlers begin competition. The winner receives $5,000.

Detroit Pistons Fall to 76ers

BOSTON (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and Dave Gambee sparked a second period explosion that lifted the Philadelphia 76ers to a 110-93 victory over the Detroit Pistons Wednesday night in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Chamberlain, who led all scorers with 33 points, hit for 12 of them in the second quarter as the 76ers broke a 20-20 deadlock and roared to a 50-34 halftime lead. Gambee tallied all nine of his points in the second period surge.

In the second game the league-leading Boston Celtics, piloted by sometime-coach Bill Russell, recorded their sixth straight victory over the Baltimore Bullets, 129-89.

★ ★ ★

Seven Boston players, led by Willie Naulls with 20 points and Larry Siegfried with 19, hit in double figures. Baltimore, runnerup to Los Angeles in the NBA's Western Division, was topped by Johnny Green with 21.

Pros After Bing's Rich Golf Purse

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —A bulky field of 137 pros, each with an amateur partner, opened fire today in the silver anniversary edition of Bing Crosby's golf tournament, an event started for fun which now will reward the low scorers with $104,500.

Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner of 1965 with $140,752.14 in official money, makes his 1966 debut here. His final practice rounds were disappointing as he shot only a 74 over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course on Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

He toured the layout with Arnold Palmer and lost to him by four in the warm-up over the course with a par 71.

ENDS SLUMP

Palmer snapped out of his slump to win the Los Angeles Open two weeks ago and could also snap the slump which has left the Crosby one of the major titles to elude him.

Still, if there can be a favorite here, it should be Billy Casper, holder of the tournament record for 72 holes with a 277 in 1958 and also winner in 1963 with a 285.

★ ★ ★

Casper is fresh off a victory last Sunday in the San Diego Open when he shot a closing seven-under-par 64 in cold, windy weather, reminiscent of many days in past Crosby tournaments.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Gene Washington, an All-America football end and a Big Ten champion hurdler, and Daswell Campbell, a leading sprinter, will be cocaptains of Michigan State's track squad this year.

Rangers' Sub Goalie Routed by Leafs, 6-2

By the Associated Press

First Toronto's Frank Mahovlich fell on New York goal tender Cesare Maniago and then the roof caved in on the Rangers.

After a second period collision knocked Maniago out of the only National Hockey League game played Wednesday night, the Maple Leafs strafed substitute goalie Don Simmons for four third-period goals in a 6-2 romp over the Rangers.

The Leafs were leading 2-1 with 8:27 gone in the second period when Mahovlich, racing after a loose puck 10 feet in front of the New York net, banged into Maniago, who had come out to clear the rubber.

It was hard enough to send Maniago to a Toronto hospital for Xrays of his shoulder and ribs. Simmons played scoreless hockey for the rest of the second period but Toronto broke it open with a trio of goals inside of 3½ minutes midway through the third period.

GOALIE ABSOLVED

Ranger Manager-coach Emile Francis absolved Simmons from blame for Toronto's third period barrage. "He didn't have much chance on the goals," Francis said. "The Leafs just played better than us."

Toronto scorers were Eddie Shack, Ron Ellis, Dave Keon, Pete Stemkowski, Bob Pulford and Mahovlich. Earl Ingarfield and rookie Ray Cullen hit for New York with Cullen's goal his first in the NHL.

Showdown Time for West Bloomfield

Road games Friday and Saturday could make or break West Bloomfield's bid for the Wayne-Oakland League basketball championship.

The Lakers take on improving Bloomfield Hills Friday and then travel to Northville Saturday. West Bloomfield and Northville are tied for first place with 5-1 records.

* * *

Northville has a Friday engagement at Holly.

Clarkston can remain in the title picture by downing Brighton at home Friday and winning the next night at Milford. Milford goes to Clarenceville Friday.

This is the second meeting between West Bloomfield and the Barons. The Lakers won, 51-40, at West Bloomfield. The Barons, however, have dunked Northville and Brighton in their last two games.

Holly gave Northville a scare before losing 54-50 in the first game of the season at Northville. The Broncos are a hot-and-cold team.

Northville and West Bloomfield are favored Friday. The Mustangs are given a slight edge, mainly because of the home court advantage, in Saturday's showdown.

Northville relies on its tall front line of Jerry Imsland (6-2), Mark Cushing (6-4) and Steve Evans (6-4) to control rebounds and the game.

West Bloomfield has a pair of good rebounders in Tim Moller and Bill Burt. Moller is one of the more under-rated players in the county, but not in the W-O.

* * *

Greg Hepinstall and Marty Foxman make West Bloomfield's control-ball offense work. Northville and the Lakers meet again on Feb. 25.

FIRST TIME

Clarkston ripped Brighton, 70-59, in an earlier game. The Wolves will be playing Milford for the first time. Two victories by Clarkston coupled with two losses by one of the co-leaders would pull the Wolves into second place; and possibly first if both lose once.

* * *

Although Bloomfield Hills plays only Friday, the Barons can jump into the title picture by ambushing West Bloomfield and then having the Lakers dump Northville.

* * *

Bloomfield Hills, the defending champion, was all but counted out of the race after losing four of its first six league games before evening its record at 4-4.

Waterford 5s Sharing Lead in Rec Action

Frushour and Struble, Spencer Floor Atop American League

Frushour and Struble Realty and Spencer Floor Covering remain tied for the American League lead in the Waterford Township Men's Recreation basketball program after last night.

The two unbeaten pace-setters joined Lakeland Pharmacy in posting lopsided victories. The realtors (3-0) trimmed Drayton Drug, 69-47, behind Jim Chamberlain's 22 points.

Mike Miley of the drug store team (1-2) hit 25.

Spencer and Lakeland each had big second halves. The floormen punched in 51 points to ice a 75-40 win over winless Powell Trucking. John Keller scored 23 for Spencer and Mike Applegate 20 for Powell's.

Lakeland trailed, 38-35, at intermission against Local 594 (0-3). The pharmacists then dumped in 56 points in the final half for a 91-67 verdict.

Tom Nickman and Stu Thorell were a one-two punch for the winners with 28 and 24, respectively. Gary Heaton's 18 was one of five double-figure totals for the unionmen.

The Class C league will play a triple-header tonight at Crary JHS.

VERSATILE — Texas A&M's 6-6, 240-pound basketball forward is Randy Matson, the same fellow who last spring tossed a shot put 70 feet, 7 inches for the world's record. Now he's averaging 11 rebounds and 9 points per game for the Aggies. He'll resume his track training in March for the outdoor season.

Finn, Britisher Drive to Victory in Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Timo Makinen of Finland and Paul Easter of Britain in a British Mini Cooper emerged today as the apparent winners of the 35th Monte Carlo auto rally.

Rauno Aaltonen and Tony Ambrose, another Finnish-British driving team, in a Bmc Mini, were in second place in the unofficial standings.

* * *

The two cars led 40 arrivals this morning in the final rally test, a 380-mile run through the mountains near this Riviera resort.

40 SURVIVE

The 40 cars survived out of 60 which started Wednesday night. The 60 were the best placed following an 892-mile mountain run Tuesday.

Officials were making mechanical checks of the top finishers to determine if there had been any rule violations before formally announcing the winners.

Almont Goes to Dryden

Top-Rated Quintets Face League Foes

Birmingham Groves, Capac and Dryden — three of the areas highly rated high school quintets are slated for league action Friday night and at least one could have problems.

Dryden, the Associated Press' ninth-rated class D squad in the weekly poll, has a home date with arch-rival Almont and both have Southern Thumb title aspirations

Almont, though just breaking even over-all at 4-4, is tied for third place in the league race with a 4-2 log. A win over the Cardinals (7-1 and 5-1) would tie them for second.

Capac, the unbeaten league leader (7-1 over-all), will visit Memphis and isn't expected to encounter much difficulty. The Chiefs are the sixth-rated class C team.

Other Southern Thumb circuit games Friday will include Armada at Anchor Bay and Brown City at New Haven.

Meanwhile, Groves will risk the best record in Oakland County, 8-0, against weak Wayne John Glenn at Birmingham.

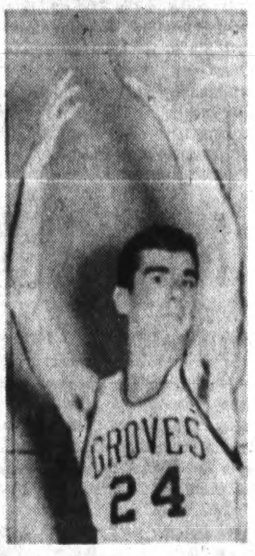

The state's ninth-ranked class A should continue the Northwest Suburban AA cage streak that has seen it win 13 of its last 15 league starts over three seasons.

Detroit Thurston will be host to Livonia Franklin in a showdown for the runner-up spot. Defending co-champion North Farmington will visit Oak Park with fourth place at stake.

★ ★ ★

Groves' Falcons are a well balanced ball club, still making some mistakes from inexperience, but they have averaged better than 71 points per game while holding the opposition to a 51 ppg average.

Pontiac Press Photos

REGULARS—Angie Fiorini (top) had been the sparkplug guard in Birmingham Groves' drive to an 8-0 record. Rick Whiteman has been a consistent performer at one of the forward spots. Groves leads the Northwest Suburban race.

Opens Saturday

Show Draws 600 Boats

While 600 boats will be in the spotlight at the Greater Michigan Boat Show which opens Saturday at Detroit's Artillery Armory, many other features are expected to interest boaters.

Show hours will be noon to 11 p. m. weekends and 3 to 11 p. m. during the week. The show will run for nine days.

★ ★ ★

Among the sidelight items is a new compound for making emergency repairs while the boat is in the water. This patching material is smeared over cracks, holes or breaks in the hull, even underwater.

Another company will demonstrate do-it-yourself docks that go together without nuts and bolts.

Boating togs will include navigator coats, boating parkas, sou'westers, crew shirts, deck shirts, yachting shirts, jamaicas, deck pants and swim trunks.

Motors will be almost as prevalent as boats.

One has a rear engine jet drive featuring no clutch, gears or propeller. Steering is done by turning a nozzle.

Kokanee and Coho salmon, fish being introduced to Michigan waters, are included in a Conservation Department exhibit titled, Great Lakes Fisheries—Problems or Opportunities?

Camping gear and snowmobiles will be featured in a special section.

Bears Capture Comeback Award

By the Associated Press

The Chicago Bears, who rallied from three straight losses at the season's start to win nine of their next 10 games in the hotly competitive National Football League, made the outstanding comeback in sports in 1965.

Seventy-six of the 299 sports writers and sportscasters participating in The Associated Press comeback of the year poll listed the Bears as their No. 1 choice.

On a basis of three points for a first place vote, two for second and one for third, the Bears collected 420 points. Vernon Law, Pittsburgh's right-handed pitcher, was second with 73 first place votes and 348 points.

DODGERS THIRD

The Los Angeles Dodgers, baseball's World Series winners, were third with 336 points, followed by Frank Howard, Washington's slugging outfielder, 135 points.

★ ★ ★

The Bears, led by Gayle Sayers, their brilliant rookie halfback, and quarterback Rudy Bukich, finished third in the NFL's Western Conference with a 9-5 record last season. They lost to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Green Bay in their first three games, then won nine of their next 10 before bowing to the Minnesota Vikings in their season finale.

TOOK TITLE

In 1963, the Bears captured the Western Conference crown with an 11-1 record and defeated the New York Giants 14-10 in the championship playoff. The following year, though, they dropped to sixth place, winning only five and losing nine games.

★ ★ ★

Law, 35 years old, had a 17-9 won-lost mark and the third best earned run average, 2.16, in the National League last year. He had been troubled by an ailing pitching arm for several seasons after helping Pittsburgh win the pennant in 1960 by recording 20 victories.

The Dodgers, who finished in a sixth-place tie in 1964, rallied for 13 straight victories in a late-season drive that enabled them to win the '65 NL flag.

★ ★ ★

The tall, husky Howard, obtained from the Dodgers in a six-player deal, batted .289 with 21 homers for Washington. His average for Los Angeles in 1964 was .226.

Gurney Sets Track Mark at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Dan Gurney, one of the nation's best racing drivers, also is a man who keeps his word.

As the man expected to set the pace in next Sunday's $75,000 Riverside-motor trend 500-mile race, he predicted recently that top speeds would be faster this year than ever.

★ ★ ★

He was right, and he's the driver doing it.

In trials Wednesday, the Costa Mesa, Calif., speed star chopped down the record he set for the 2.7-mile course Tuesday, making the distance at 105.5 miles an hour.

NEW MARK

His record Tuesday was 104.2, which beat his record from last year of 103.95 m.p.h.

In other action Wednesday there were two minor smashups.

★ ★ ★

National champion Ned Jarrett of Camden, N.C., hit a wall on the sharp ninth turn, but his 1966 Ford wasn't damaged enough to keep him out of the running Sunday.

Also a victim of the ninth turn wall was Bobby Isaac of Catawba, S.C. He was also expected to continue racing.

Local Golf Pros Attend PGA School

Three local professionals are among a class of 280 attending a PGA business school this week in Clearwater, Fla.

The three are Carl F. Rose, owner of Carl's Golfland, South Telegraph; Jimmy Picard, assistant pro at Tam O'Shanter Country Club in Orchard Lake; and Rod Thompson of Stonycroft Hills Club in Bloomfield Hills.

The school is under the direction of Emil Beck, a PGA professional at Jack Pine Valley Golf and Ski Club in Blaine, Mich.

Subjects included in the course are teaching techniques, public relations, general aspects of operating a club, public speaking, press relations, shop display and organizing tournaments.

Eastern Michigan Triumphs, Shares Lead in League

YPSILANTI (AP) — Eastern Michigan trimmed Wayne State 80-75 for its sixth straight victory in the Presidents' Athletic Conference basketball race Wednesday night. Eastern and Bethany now are tied for the PAC lead at 6-0 each.

EMU took a 49-37 halftime lead, sufficient to win over the combined 44 points by Wayne State's Paul Widdoes and Tom Carlson. Widdoes got 24 and Carlson 20. Rod Marlatt led Eastern with 19.

EMU is now 10-1 for the season. Wayne is 1-4 and the PAC and 1-6 over-all.

New York Squad Pulls Cage Upset

By the Associated Press

The St. John's University Redmen of New York appear certain to be invited to defend their NIT championship in college basketball when tournament time arrives in March.

The Redmen, improving with each start, whipped the third-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia 82-72 Wednesday night. They now have won four in a row for an over-all 10-3 mark.

Lou Carnesecca, in his first year as head coach at St. John's, was a happy man in the dressing room. "We played our best game of the season," he beamed.

SUB SPARKS

Carnesecca, who succeeded the retired Joe Lapchick, praised little 5-foot-10 Al Swartz, who came off the bench and sparked the Redmen to a second half rally with a superb exhibition of floor generalship. "He was fantastic," Carnesecca said.

★ ★ ★

Bradley, seventh-ranked in The Associated Press poll, also was a casualty in Wednesday night's action. Playing on the road, the Braves absorbed an 85-69 thumping from the Cincinnati Bearcats.

In other games, Louisville whacked Dayton 94-77, Detroit defeated Villanova 101-94 and Los Angeles Loyola handed Notre Dame its 10th straight defeat 96-86.

A SELLOUT

A sellout 6,128 at Alumni Hall on the St. John's campus saw the Redmen, behind 34-32 at halftime, pull away in the second half to win decisively.

"They just beat us in all departments," said Jack Ramsay, coach of St. Joseph's.

★ ★ ★

A three-point play by Bob McIntyre on a pass from Swartz, broke a 39-39 tie and put the Redmen ahead for good. Sonny Dove finished high scorer for the Redmen with 28 points while McIntyre got 25. Cliff Anderson's 24 topped the Hawks.

★ ★ ★

It was St. John's 13th straight victory on their home court and St. Joseph's third defeat of the season, all suffered on the road. The Hawks have won 12.

MOVES AHEAD

A 13-point burst after Mike Rolf's tipin had put them ahead at 19-18 sewed up Cincinnati's romp over Bradley. Don Rolfes' 21 points and John Howard's 20 paced the Bearcats as they kept on the heels of first place Tulsa in the Missouri Valley Conference.

A hometown turnout of 11,264 cheered as Louisville whacked Dayton behind 24 points by Fred Holden and 23 by Joe Leidtke. Don May, Dayton soph, pitched in 33 points for a losing cause.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame took a 10-1 lead over Loyola, but couldn't hold it at South Bend. Ahead 53-52, Loyola broke the game open with an 11-point spree, including three straight baskets by Bob Burns. Rick Adelman paced the winners with 27 points while Burns finished with 26.

TIGHTEN HOLD

The Redskins of Miami of Ohio tightened their hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference by whipping Western Michigan 88-70 at Oxford, Ohio. In other home court triumphs Harvard defeated Dartmouth 74-70 in an Ivy League tussle and Georgia Tech whipped Georgia 89-56.

In City Action

Squad Suffers 1st Loss

Roy White's Unbeatables handed the Amigo's Club its first loss of the season, 62-59, last night in the city recreation men's basketball program.

Other games had the All-Stars trimming Stanfill's Sinclair, 81-70; Coulacos Insurance drubbing the International League All Stars, 64-27; and Autobahn Motors nudging POH, 58-53.

White's Unbeatables were down by six after three quarters, 46-40, but ourscored the Amigo's Club, 22-13 in the final period. The winners' balanced attack featured Cliff Benson (17 points), Booker Hurner (16), Harrison Munson (15) and Roy Couser (10).

Larry Douglas hit 16 for the losers who made only one foul shot but hit 29 field goals. goals.

Carl Arnold scored 21 points, Willie Ratliff 18 and Larnell Draper 15 to lead the All-Stars' win. Jim Hutchings tallied 25 for Sinclair's which fell behind, 20-10, at the start.

Coulacos remained atop the I-L with its easy win. Bill Hayward's 20 points paced the winners. Mickey Forsyth had 18 for Autobahn Motors which built its lead in the first half, and staved off a brief third-quarter rally by winless POH topped by Mike O'Farrell's 17.

North Dakota '5' Climbs in Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The North Dakota Sioux, with an Indian sign on teams visiting their Grand Forks gymnasium, have climbed to within four points of leading Southern Illinois in The Associated Press small-college basketball poll.

The Sioux play Parsons of Iowa tonight, seeking their 22nd consecutive home court triumph. They scored victories at home over South Dakota and Morningside last week, lifting their record to 14-2.

★ ★ ★

Southern Illinois drew three first place votes and 92 points while North Dakota, which was fourth a week ago, advanced to second with four first place votes and 88 points in the latest vote by 15 regional experts.

The poll was based on games through last Saturday.

NOW THIRD

Evansville moved up to third. The Aces, fifth last week, whipped St. Joseph's of Indiana 103-90 for a 9-4 mark. Grambling slipped two notches to fourth after losing to Arkansas AM&N, 107-103 in overtime. The Tigers also beat Jackson State and Wiley and have a 14-2 record.

★ ★ ★

Once beaten Youngstown recorded its 10th victory, defeating Southwest Missouri 83-70 and moved from sixth to fifth place. Akron, which lost its first game of the season, 73-70 to Buffalo, dropped three notches to sixth.

Cheyney State, unbeaten in 15 games, climbed in among the ranking teams tying Northern Michigan for the No. 8 spot. Central State of Ohio held seventh place while Arkansas State, unranked a week ago, is 10th.

Mt. St. Mary's and Valparaiso dropped out of the first 10.

1. Southern Illinois (3)	8-3	92
2. North Dakota (4)	14-2	88

Negro Quintet Leading Cage Poll in Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An undefeated all-Negro team, Nashville Pearl, took over first place today in the Associated Press Tennessee high school basketball poll.

Negro schools were admitted to full membership in the Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association for the first time last fall, making them eligible for tournaments leading to the TSSAA state championship.

2 Golfers Share Qualifying Lead in Women's Play

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Former U.S. Amateur champion Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Canadian teen-ager Sandra Post of Toronto paced the qualifying round for the Doherty Challenge Cup Wednesday with three under women's par 73s.

Defending champion Marlene Streit of Toronto and Judy Rand of Aurora, Ohio, trailed the two by a stroke.

Former champion Phyllis Tish Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Paulette Lee of Coral Gables, Fla., both had 77s.

Awkward Situation for Red Sox' Ted

NEW YORK (UPI) — This shapes up as one of the happiest days in Ted Williams' life and at the same time, one of the roughest.

He's faced with what can only be described as an awkward situation and there is no possible way out.

Williams will be elected to baseball's Hall of Fame today. There is little doubt of that. Nor is there any doubt the election will please him tremendously and he will express that pleasure publicly.

Those who did the voting in this election all are members of a group known as the Baseball Writers' Association of America and that's where the rub comes in.

★ ★ ★

Williams doesn't like writers and never has. That's really an understatement although it should be explained he hedged from time to time and said he didn't mean "all" writers. Only 99 out of 100.

RARELY MINCED WORDS

Since the 47-year-old former Boston Red Sox slugger always says exactly what he thinks, but always, there is little reason to feel he will reverse his field when he is officially notified of his election to the Hall of Fame.

★ ★ ★

His acceptance speech should be a lulu.

There is no advance knowledge here of what that speech will be, but based upon some 20 years of personal experience with the man, it may go something like this:

"I feel proud and grateful to be named to the Hall of Fame and to be considered in the same company as those who already are in it. I would like to thank the writers for according me this honor . . . but what I've always said about them still goes."

WON'T CHANGE

That would be the Ted Williams everyone knows and you can bet he won't change merely because he was voted baseball's greatest distinction by the very men whose opinions he often said didn't count.

★ ★ ★

Many, many articles and stories were written about the man, yet not one of them ever offered the complete picture of him. It was really impossible to know all about him unless you met him and even then it wasn't always possible.

AIDING OTHERS

Williams has a habit of doing things for others and then going to extraordinary lengths to see to it they never know who their benefactor was.

★ ★ ★

He was, is and probably always will be, a soft touch for other ball players and underprivileged kids. He paces little value on material things.

There was the time while he still was playing with Boston, for example, when a Red Sox pitcher, who never made it big, casually admired a wristwatch owned by Williams.

"Here, you take it," he said, handing the watch to the pitcher. "I don't need it."

Orioles' Aparicio Ends Retirement

Luis Aparicio has ended his voluntary retirement, but Ruben Amaro still awaits the end of his forced vacation.

Aparicio, Baltimore's veteran shortstop, returned his signed 1966 contract Wednesday about three months after he announced his retirement.

MOVES IN TRADE

At the same time, Amaro, traded to the New York Yankees from Philadelphia in November, explained why he is spending a winter without baseball.

After returning to his home in Venezuela last October, the 31-year-old Aparicio said he was quitting, adding: "I'm going to devote my time to teaching young players." He also said he wanted to set up a sporting goods business and look after the education of his four children.

★ ★ ★

But at the time Orioles' coach Billy Hunter said, "He'll be back. It's kinda tough to turn down the contract he's getting."

Apparently Aparicio found it "kinda tough."

His 1966 contract calls for an estimated $32,000, a cut of about $2,000. But Aparicio said in a letter enclosed with the signed contract:

★ ★ ★

"Let me express my gratitude and thanks for the consideration given me. I want to take this opportunity to mention that at the present time my physical conditions are exceptionally good."

★ ★ ★

The shortstop's short-lived retirement came after he batted only .225 and failed to win the American League base-stealing crown for the first time in 10 years.

But while Aparicio has been improving his batting eye in the Venezuelan winter league, Amaro has been unable to help his in the Mexican league.

★ ★ ★

Amaro wanted to play with the Obiegon team of Sonora because he felt he hadn't played enough with the Phillies last year. The 30-year-old shortstop even was willing to accept a low salary.

★ ★ ★

But salary is what placed him on vacation.

Mexican rules dictate that a major league player must be paid at the same rate as in the United States.

★ ★ ★

"That did it," Amaro explained. "My team couldn't possibly pay me by league rules. The team's entire budget for the season was 72,000 pesos, or approximately $6,000. So I didn't play winter ball in my own country."

★ ★ ★

Among other players signing contracts Wednesday were catcher Elston Howard of the New York Yankees, third baseman Pete Ward of the Chicago White Sox and pitcher Roy Face of Pittsburgh.

College Fives Scoring Better

Individuals Suffering in Point Production

NEW YORK (AP) — The individuals aren't doing as well but college basketball teams are scoring better than ever.

That was the puzzle presented by official statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

LEAD WAY

The figures show only two players — Purdue's Dave Schellhase and Syracuse's Dave Bing — averaging more than 30 points per game. Schellhase, who finished fourth last season, leads with 32.6 and Bing is averaging 30.1. This is the first week in three years that so few players are over the 30-point plateau.

★ ★ ★

But team statistics present a different picture. Three clubs are averaging better than 97 points per game with Loyola of Chicago tops at 100.6 and Brigham Young (97.7) and Syracuse (97.1) duelling for the runner-up spot. Among full season figures, only Miami, Fla. with 98.4 last season, averaged more than the trio at the top right now.

TOP REBOUNDERS

The individual leaders include Schellhase, Oklahoma City's Jim Ware, averaging better than 21 rebounds per game, Tulsa's Julian Hammond, tops in field goal percentage with .659 and Bob Lloyd of Rutgers, the top free throw shooter on .928 accuracy.

	G	FG	FT	Pts.	Avg.
1. Schellhase, Purdue	13	156	112	424	32.6

Stengel in Line for Honor From Baseball Writers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Casey Stengel will receive the Walter Judge Award for meritorious service to baseball at the Feb. 13 banquet of the San Francisco chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

The chapter said Wednesday that the now retired 75-year-old Stengel would come here from Southern California to receive the award, named for a late San Francisco baseball writer.

★ ★ ★

Stengel was in baseball as player and manager from 1910 to his retirement last year as manager of the New York Mets. He is most noted for winning 10 American League pennants in 12 years with the New York Yankees.

2 Tigers Starring in Playoff Series

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Felix Torres of the California Angels hit a two-run homer and John Boozer of the Philadelphia Phils struck out nine in leading Ponce to a 3-2 victory over Caguas Wednesday night. The game was the first in their best-of-7 semifinal playoff series in the Puerto Rican winter baseball league.

Mickey Stanley of the Detroit Tigers homered in the eighth inning as Mayaguez edged Arecibo 2-1 and took a 2-0 lead in its semifinal series. Fritz Fisher went the distance for the winners, scattering three hits.

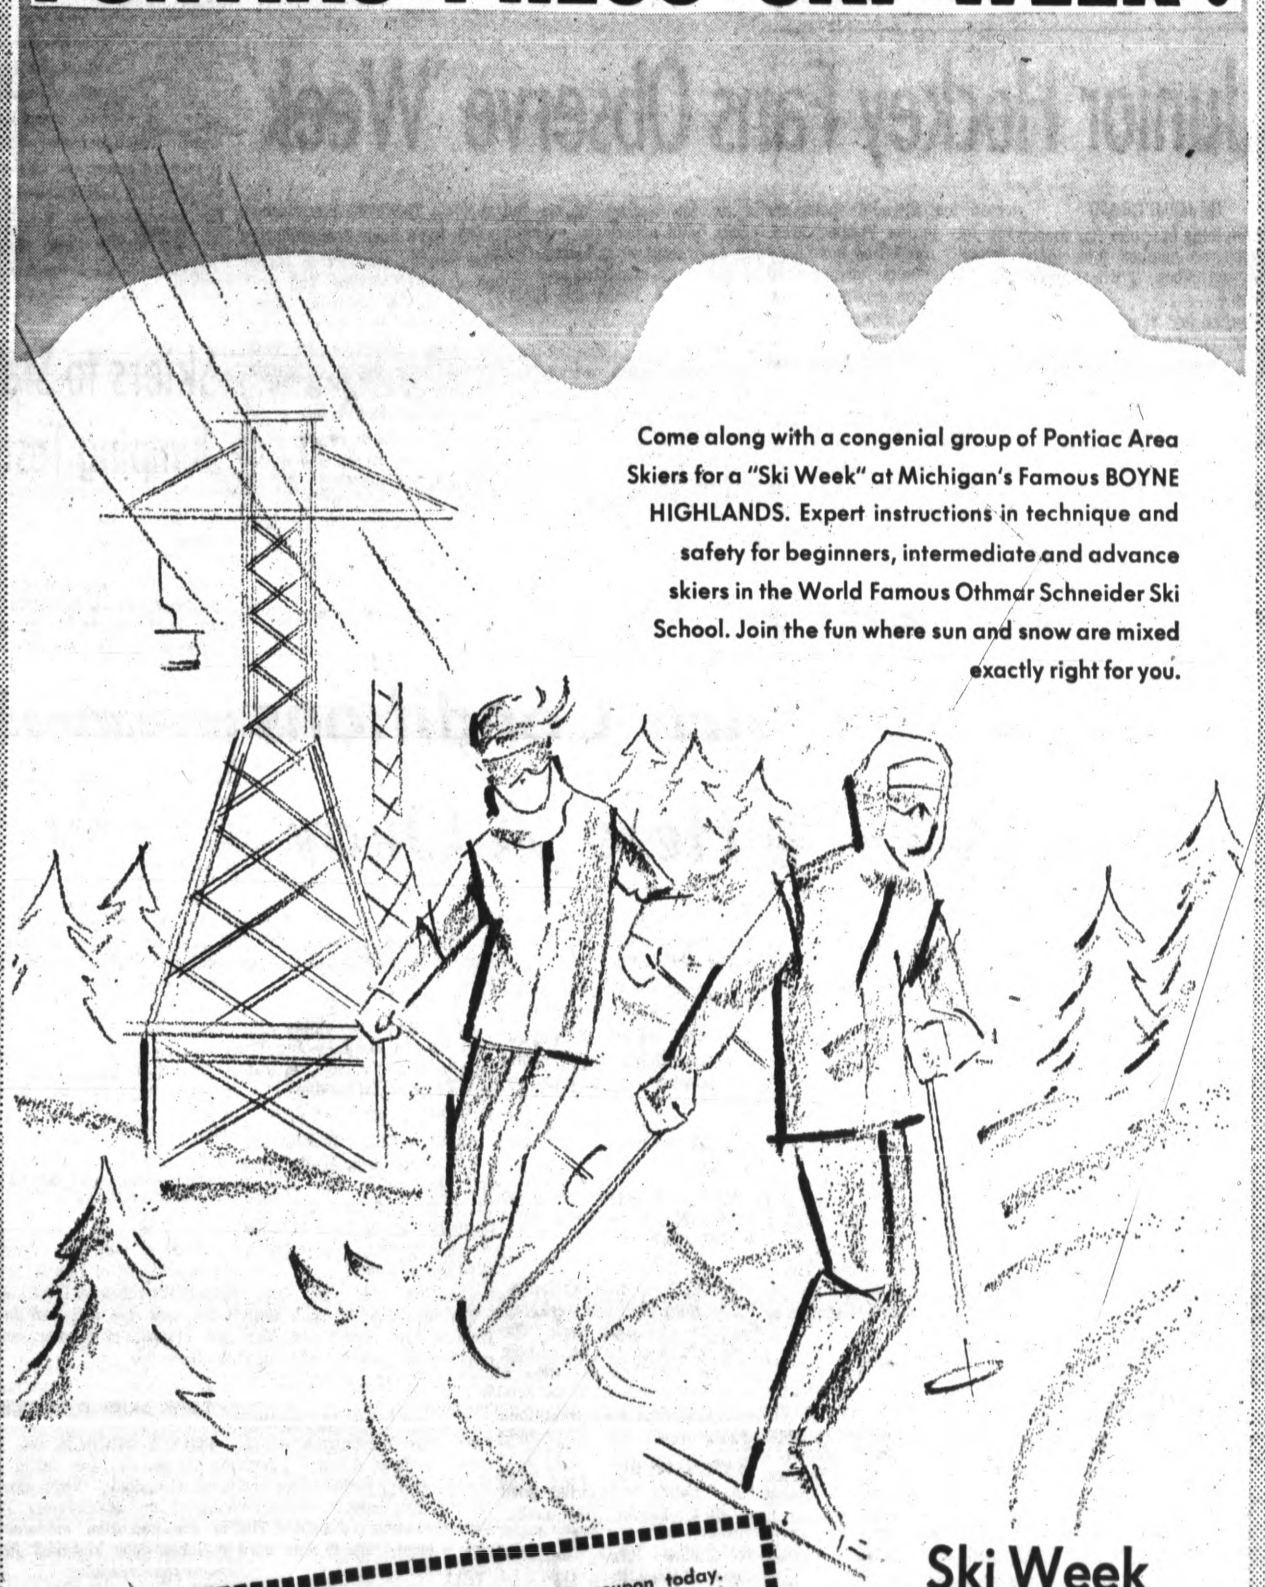

Keego Group Sponsors Boys' Basketball Loop

All West Bloomfield school area boys 9-13 years old are invited to participate in a Saturday morning basketball program at Roosevelt School.

Supervisor Fred Milliron will run the program from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. beginning Saturday for the next eight weekends. The Keego Harbor Youth Guidance Committee is sponsoring the program.

Members of the town Loafers' Club will assist Milliron. The boys will be insured while participating. The players are required to provide their own tennis shoes, playing clothes and transportation.

Although Limited Locally

Junior Hockey Fans Observe 'Week'

By JERE CRAIG

If anything in winter has more enthusiastic outdoor fans than snow and skiing, it would have to be ice.

Whether just skating or playing hockey, the pleasure of gliding a booted, slender blade across ice attracts thousands each day in the Pontiac area.

Actually, organized hockey has practically disappeared from the sports scene in town; but that doesn't lessen the need for observance locally of National Youth Hockey Week next week.

★ ★ ★

For two groups this has special meaning. The Waterford Rangers and the Lakeland AA Hawks have a team apiece in the Southeast Michigan Junior Hockey Association and compete indoors.

FEW TEAMS

They, however, are about it when discussing Pontiac's organized hockey for youngsters. Birmingham's program is about the best in the county with three levels of competition for young boys.

The American Hockey Association includes 9 states and has almost 66,000 boys playing organized hockey. One estimate says there are 700,000 adults and youngsters playing some form of ice hockey whether or not supervised.

Most of them aren't to their 13th birthday, yet. In Michigan, there are around 8,700 players on 600 teams.

Still, Pontiac's plight is similar to many areas — no dependable facility. At one time, the Northside Community Club rink was in steady use (as weather permitted) but its chief customers lately have been vandals intent on tearing it down.

Still, the current prolonged cold spell has renewed interest and club members Russ Themm, George Rouse, Merle Brown and Ken Strine are attempting to restore Northside to use.

ENCOURAGEMENT

Cooperation and encouragement have been offered by the Benson and Church Lumber firms and St. Michael's parish.

Waterford Township's Recreation Department has a meeting planned, appropriately enough, for 7:30 p.m. Monday at its Community Activities Building office to organize a junior hockey program.

★ ★ ★

The department has had much interest shown by township boys in an ice hockey league but needs adult supervision—including a director — to initiate the program. All interested men are requested to attend the meeting.

SCHOOLS

Pontiac's public school system began a boys' hockey program last winter with encouraging support from the students; but lack of ice prevented much participation.

★ ★ ★

The program hasn't resumed this winter, unfortunately ending the formal training of the students. However, many school yards have been flooded during the freezing weather to permit unsupervised skating. The interest in hockey continues. Homemade goals have been erected, in some instances an overturned park bench or similar improvisation has been utilized by the puck shooters.

National Youth Hockey Week won't go unnoticed in Pontiac; but it's full meaning can't be appreciated until full-time ice hockey programs can be maintained at a central outdoor or preferably indoor facility.

Kettering Ski Squad Posts Mt. Holly Win

Waterford Kettering warmed up for its expected contender's role in the annual Interscholastic Ski Meet Saturday at Mount Holly with a win last night.

The Kettering boys team defeated Rochester's boys by five seconds cumulative time in the slalom races with Berkley and Lakeview disqualified.

Berkley's girls team topped Lakeview with Rochester and Kettering disqualified for not having enough skiers complete their two runs.

Kettering's Bob Trepp and Pam Hicks were the individual winners. Glen Petega and Bob Burton were second and third for Rochester; while Kettering's Mike Borer and Penny Young each had a fourth.

The West Bloomfield girls team is another expected contender in Saturday's meet which has the Bloomfield Hills' boys and Walled Lake girls as defending champions.

Hills also is a definite threat since it has some of the top individual skiers entered this year, though lacking the depth of previous seasons.

Six Skiers to Vie for U. S. in Italy

DENVER (AP) — Four men and two women will represent the United States in ski events at the Winter University Games in Italy Feb. 5-15.

It was announced Tuesday that the State Department is encouraging American athletes to compete in the games and will help pay their epxenses.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Ski Association said the four men skiers will be David Engen of the University of Utah, Peter Ruschp of Colorado University, Don Brooks of Denver University and Loris Werner of Western Colorado State College.

Jean Saubert of Utah is one of two girls on the U.S. team. The other will be announced later.

★ ★ ★

All compete in alpine events, downhill, slalom and giant slalom. The team will be coached by Willie Schaeffler, University of Denver ski coach.

Dayton Wins, Loses

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton walloped Toledo 9-1 Wednesday in the International Hockey League but lost the services of its top scorer, Guy Trottier, for at least two weeks.

Ice Conditions Here A-Okay

Old man Winter's grip on the state has met with approval of winter sports enthusiasts.

Ice skating is reported excellent throughout the state.

Locally, the city of Pontiac has several ice skating rinks in operation, one of them at Murphy Park on S. East Boulevard where sledding and tobogganing facilities are also available.

Some 1,200 persons were on hand Sunday to use the facilities at Murphy Park.

★ ★ ★

The park is open weekdays, 4 p.m. until dark and weekends from 10 a.m. until dark. The park is lighted for after dark use and city officials said it would remain open in the evening depending upon conditions and the crowd.

SKATING GOOD

Ice skating is reported good at the following city rinks: Washington Junior High, Eastern Junior High, LeBaron school, Rotary Park, Oriole Field, Crofoot School, Herrington Hills, Weaver School.

★ ★ ★

Ice rinks at Emerson School and Kennedy Junior High are listed as 'good'.

Waterford Township has several rinks in operation, one of which is the Drayton Plains ball park area, lighted for after dark use.

At Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, the ice is reported four to six inches thick on Kent and Wildwing lakes, with 25 to 30 shanties on the lakes.

★ ★ ★

Ice skating is available daily from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. The rink is located on Kent in front of the boat rental building.

FISHING GOOD

At Metropolitan Beach along Lake St. Clair near Mount Clemens, the ice is four to five inches thick on the canals, boat basin and along Lake St. Clair where fisherman report fair to good perch catches.

★ ★ ★

The ice rink is open daily from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Sunday, with night skating Friday and Saturday until 10 p.m.

At Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Washington — six miles north of Utica — there are two to five inches of ice and the rink has separate areas for general skating and hockey. The rink is open from 10 a.m. until dusk daily.

Ski Conditions Tops at All Local Resorts

By the Associated Press

Ski conditions range from good to excellent in Michigan this week, according to the state's various tourist associations.

In the Pontiac area, very good-to-excellent conditions are reported everywhere with all facilities in operation.

However, the natural snowfall hasn't been sufficient to make extensive use of the Teeple Hill area at Highland State Recreation area except for tobogans.

Here are the latest conditions submitted by the associations:

Skiers to Start Jumping Tests

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A ski jumping tournament at Blackhawk Ski Club Saturday and Sunday will be the first of three top events to pick the American team in the world ski jumping championships in Oslo, Norway, Feb. 17-27.

Fifty-six of the nation's best jumpers are scheduled to compete on Blackhawk's 55-meter hill at nearby Middleton. On Jan. 29-30 the jumpers will compete in Duluth and on Feb. 5-6 will wind up action at Westby, Wis.

TOP MEN

The Blackhawk meet will feature well known competitors from throughout the country, including 10 national squad members picked early last fall.

They are national champion David Hicks, Adrian Watt and Dave Lundmark, all of Duluth, Minn.; Bill Bakke and Dave Norby of Madison; John Balfanz and Jay Martin of Minneapolis; John Carello of Ishpeming, Mich.; Jon Elliott of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Bob Wedin of Kingsford, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Others of note are Olympian Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn., Randy Garretson of Denver, Colo., and Ron and Don Jacobson, Madison twins representing the host club.

Yank Skier a Surprise

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (AP)—An American skier upset favored Canadians Wednesday to capture the 30-kilometer event as the Canadian crosscountry championships resumed in 20-below-zero weather.

Contest Fails, Owners Turn to Dictionary

Middleville area ski enthusiasts couldn't satisfy the Robert Sullivans' quest to name their ski resort, but the dictionary did.

The Sullivans held a contest five years ago when they opened their resort to find a distinctive name. None of the suggestions submitted was suitable.

Mrs. Sullivan then scanned the dictionary and found the word "eskar" that means an ancient ridge built up by glacial deposits.

So they named their resort Eskar and presented the $25 savings bond to charity.

Resort Lays Snow for 12th Winter

When did artificial snowmaking come to Michigan?

It was 12 years ago that three day's rain washed the state's northern resorts bare in mid-February.

The skiers then lost their enthusiasm and stayed home despite the best conditions of the season in March.

Frustrated by their failure to lure the skiers back after the rainy spell, Boyne Mountain officials decided to invest in snowmaking equipment the following season to provide a carryover of enthusiasm when mid-winter warm weather might otherwise ruin the remainder of the season.

Since that introduction 11 years ago, snowmaking machinery has become standard at a majority of the state ski areas. In some instances, the season now runs from Thanksgiving to Easter.

Side Slipping

By BOB JACOBSON
Written for NEA

The side slip is an important way of checking your speed on steep slopes. It also helps in turns. That's why the technique should be learned early.

★ ★ ★

You start from a traverse position, skis together, facing across the hill. The upper part of your body, and therefore most of your weight, is over the lower ski. The uphill shoulder is slightly advanced, forcing you to face downhill.

★ ★ ★

Then roll your knees and ankles away from the hill. This permits the skis to flatten against the slope and they'll start sliding downward, or slipping.

★ ★ ★

To check the side slip, roll the knees and ankles back into the hill.

It's a good exercise for beginners to slip and check alternately for a feeling of control on an incline.

(NEXT: Snowplow turn.)

Debate Slowed Over Big Mac

Await Report on U. S. Aid Bid by Legislators

LANSING (AP) — Mackinac Bridge refinancing faced the Senate today but apparently no decision will come until at least next week.

One Republican senator, jumping the gun on debate of the complex issue, said the state ought to defer refinancing and concentrate instead on raising motorists' taxes to pay for statewide highway needs.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, indicated the rest of debate would wait until a group of legislators who visited Washington this week submits its report on how it was turned down in its attempt to get federal aid for the span.

After the federal shrug, the Senate Highways Committee reported out for full Senate consideration a House-approved measure refinancing the bridge at a maximum average interest rate of 3¼ per cent.

OVER-ALL STUDY

Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, declared Wednesday that greater benefits would come from over-all study of the highway situation. He said financing the bridge under present conditions "would be almost impossible."

Nichols urged passage of four bills which he said would raise an estimated $70 million to $74 million a year with a one-cent boost in gasoline and diesel fuels and increases of 25 per cent in auto license fees and 10 per cent in truck license fees.

Howard Hill, state highway director, urged similar tax increases in a speech to the Michigan Road Builders' Association in Detroit. He said road-building costs in Michigan jumped 20 per cent in 1965.

The bills also would revise the formula used to distribute tax dollars among municipal, county and state governmental units.

CRITICAL NEEDS

"Adoption of these provisions would meet our most critical needs," Nichols said. "Remember, that of 110,000 miles of roads and streets in Michigan, only one per cent — approximately 1,100 miles — is part of the interstate system."

Soldiers Advance On Mock Viet Village At Ft. Benning

GIs Learn Grim War Game at Ft. Benning

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Slanting rays of the early morning sun touched the thatched roofs of the village, encircled by a moat and a wall of sharpened sticks.

Villagers in the coned hats of Vietnamese padded about the enclosure. Smoke from a cooking fire trailed upward in the frosty air.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly a villager sprinted from the woods nearby.

"We are being surrounded!" he yelled, pointing to the edge of the woods. "The Americans are coming!"

SOLDIERS APPEAR

A group of soldiers appeared, stopped near the moat. An interpreter cupped his hands and yelled in Vietnamese.

"We are here to free you from guerrilla oppression," he said. "Remain where you are. You will not be harmed."

★ ★ ★

The village chief squatted on a log bridge across the moat. Suddenly the runner who had alerted the village broke for the woods. Two soldiers, camouflaged with sage, rose from the grass and shot the runner.

Incongruously, a voice came over a loudspeaker, cool, matter of fact. "You will notice," the voice said, "that they stay away from the gate — that's where they put the booby traps."

GRIM GAME

It was a grim game. A practice session for American infantrymen training for real combat in the jungles of Viet Nam. The voice on the loudspeaker belonged to Capt. Joe Zimmers of Harrisburg, Pa., a two-year veteran of "advising" South Vietnamese soldiers.

Several hundred new second lieutenants watched from bleachers on the hill overlooking the primitive village. Zimmers built two villages on the Ft. Benning reservation as part of the training designed by the Platoon Tactics Committee of the infantry training center.

★ ★ ★

What the green Army officers saw enacted at the village could save their lives. Here they learn the grim facts of guerrilla warfare from men who have served in that strange war.

The drama continues. Soldiers warily search the innocent-looking village. A soldier wielding a long stick pokes the wall of a hut. He yells. There is a tunnel opening.

CRAWLS OUT

Out crawls a guerrilla.

The soldier inspects a water barrel. He gently fixes a homemade grappling hook to the barrel, moves away and lies down, then pulls.

★ ★ ★

Blam! The booby-trapped barrel explodes.

The soldier pokes a pig pen. Again the loudspeaker voice comments. "Sometimes they will hide weapons — even themselves — in the pig pen."

FLAGPOLE NEXT

The flagpole is next. A soldier tugs at the lanyard. It is stuck. He dives for cover suddenly. "Grenade!"

Another explosion and the base of the flag pole is demolished.

★ ★ ★

Villages are tough as seen from the hilltop bleachers. But the worst problem for the U.S. soldiers is portrayed in another kind of Benning drama.

It is the ambush.

HALF-TRACK

A half-track clanks along a road and hits a land mine. The machine gunner rakes the sage with fire. Guerrilla small arms fire pops. The machine gunner slumps. Soldiers tumble from the half-track.

More trucks, more soldiers arrive. The ambushers are flushed.

★ ★ ★

"Nothing new about ambush," Zimmers said through his loudspeaker. But it is a very special problem in Viet Nam where American convoys have been waylaid many times at heavy loss of life and equipment.

Zimmers lectures on what can be done: retaliatory fire as fierce and quick as possible. Armor plate under the truck bed. Chicken wire over the open windows to keep grenades out.

TRAINING GROUND

In another scene at Ft. Benning's realistic training ground, Lt. Don Modica of Cleveland, Ohio, gets his feet wet leading a column of other new lieutenants through the brush.

Modica halted the column at the edge of a swamp. Bits of ice sparkled in the water. "All right," Modica said, "you scouts see if you can find a way around this stuff."

★ ★ ★

An instructor shook his head. "There isn't any way around it."

"All right. Let's go," Modica told his men. Holding their rifles above their heads, they sloshed through the icy water. The instructor spoke again. "Don't let them bunch up. They'll get killed that way."

JOIN 2 PLATOONS

The platoon made it through the swamp and joined two other platoons in taking a village.

After the exercises in guerrilla warfare, the instructors talked over the operation. Maj. Francis J. Bray of Iron Mountain, Mich., who has served in the Mekong delta, said U.S. soldiers had to live like the Vietnamese — eating rice, eels, maybe snakes. Once Bray said, he ate roast dog.

★ ★ ★

The major was talking with an old farmer in the delta.

"Look," the farmer said, "I don't really care which side wins the war. But I wish one side or the other would win. I am paying taxes to both sides."

However, the major said he felt that the majority of the people favored the government over the Viet Cong.

The grim games go on at Ft. Benning. The soldiers train hard. If they learn their lessons well enough, maybe they will survive in the real war.

One out of every six new single-family dwellings will be mobile this year.

Polls Hearten Cavanagh on Senate Bid

LANSING (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh said Wednesday he was encouraged by public opinion polls concerning his U.S. Senate chances.

He told newsmen that, "whether or not George Romney is a candidate would not stop me."

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh let it be known recently he was interested in the Senate seat now held by Patrick McNamara, a Democrat whom many observers expect to retire this year.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams has indicated he would run for McNamara's seat if the senator does not run again.

NO DETAILS

Cavanagh did not go into details of his surveys except to say they do not cover the entire state, but did go beyond the immediate area.

He acknowledged that many voters are undecided. He also said he was a great believer in polls.

★ ★ ★

The mayor, who began a second four-year term only two weeks ago, said he would not make his Senate decision until McNamara made his.

Democratic legislators expressing an opinion have leaned toward Williams in event of a primary showdown matching him against Cavanagh. State AFL-CIO President August Scholle also favors Williams.

NO GOVERNORSHIP

Cavanagh said again he was not interested in running against Romney for governor. Asked who would be a good Democratic candidate for governor, he smiled:

"There are a number available—Mennen Williams, for one."

★ ★ ★

Romney is expected to run for a third term but has not ruled out the possibility of seeking the Senate seat.

Deadline for entering the Aug. 2 primary is June 14.

It took the committee appointed by the Continental Congress in 1782 six years to decide on the design of the Great Seal of the United States.

Group Greets Foreign Visitors

Frisco Welcome Mat Is Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The first welcoming smiles for 5,000 foreign students and leaders who arrive annually in San Francisco are from unpaid volunteer greeters with keen vision and maps.

The vision helps spot newcomers such as the Russian student who wrote: "You will recognize me when I arrive. I am a card-carrying YMCA member."

★ ★ ★

The maps help guide persons such as the Ceylonese scholars who said, "After San Francisco, we go to Los Angeles by taxi." The distance is more than 400 miles.

The visitors, arriving by plane or ship from 79 lands, may be taken into tow by any of 700 Bay Area volunteers working with the International Hospitality Center of San Francisco.

PERSONAL GUIDES

The volunteer greeters include housewives, attorneys and secretaries. Typically they invite the visitors into their homes and act as personal tour guides around San Francisco.

The greeters first say official hellos to all foreign students entering the United States through San Francisco. The largest group each year is bound for the University of California's Berkeley campus.

"We've made some very fine and wonderful friendships," said attorney Paul Bayse of the San Francisco suburb of Burlingame as he and his wife greeted 15 arriving student nurses from the Philippines.

This time Mrs. Bayse barely had time to say "We want to welcome you to the United States and hope your stay is pleasant" before the nursing candidates dashed for a jet bound for Philadelphia.

'NICE THINGS'

"We came to the United States because of its quality of nursing training," said Miss Ofeua Vasquez of Bacofod City, Philippines, who wanted to see "the nice things in America — like Disneyland."

Besides the main task of welcoming foreign students, the volunteers often welcome officially sponsored foreign leaders and specialists, at the request of agencies such as the State Department and Chamber of Commerce.

These foreign visitors typically include teachers, engineers and physicians. They exclude ordinary tourists. Their favorite tours are of the Bay Area's many universities, medical centers and science projects.

"The State Department feels — and I agree with them — that this is a goodwill gesture outside of official government that can be properly made by the community," says Mrs. Allyn Smith, Hospitality Center executive director.

INDEPENDENT OPERATION

The center operates independently but in cooperation with other port welcoming agencies at Seattle, Los Angeles, New York City, Boston and Miami. Its $32,000 annual budget is community-sponsored.

"I think the visitors do as much for us as we do for them, especially in the exchange of ideas," Mrs. Smith says.

★ ★ ★

As for the visitors, most seem to go home happy, says Miss Jennie Hartman, in charge of the center's student service.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLAMES

QUESTION: Why do the flames of candles and matches go straight up?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When the candle and the match burn, particles in them are being united with the oxygen in the air in a process called oxidation or combustion.

The light of the match or candle is one result. Another is heat. We all know how flames burn us when we get too close.

This heat of the flame means that the air above it becomes heated. Hot air is lighter than cold air and tends to rise. It also expands, as suggested by the arrows in lower sketch (A).

A partial vacuum, or partly empty space, is created; and the light warm air moves up to occupy it, as in (B). Flames, being light, join in this upward movement.

Being very hot, they are themselves creating the draft or circulation of air which is taking place. Thus, they rise up along with the hot air.

You can check the movement of heated air upward by observing steam rising out of a kettle.

This upward movement of warm air makes the winds, as currents of cold air sink and blow in to replace it.

The sun's rays, pouring down and warming up the earth, are what starts the upward air movement.

FOR YOU TO DO: Stand on a chair in a room which is being warmed by a radiator and hold your hand up toward the ceiling. It will feel warmer there than below. This will prove that the warmed air was carried upward.

REENLISTMENT BONUS — Sgt. Donald G. Fouse, 27, a high frequency radio operator with the 7th Army in Darmstadt, Germany, holds a bag containing $2,397.80, part of his $8,361 reenlistment bonus. Fouse, who signed up for six more years, said he planned to use some of the money to help buy a home in Columbus, Ohio. The big bonus was paid under a new Army program started Jan. 1 to encourage reenlistment of men with special skills.

Storm Stills British Pirate Radio Ship

LONDON (AP) — A North Sea storm drove Britain's pioneer radio pirate ship on to British territory today. But the government said it wouldn't seize Radio Caroline unless she started broadcasting.

Rescue teams brought five disc jockeys and two technicians ashore by breeches buoy through heavy seas. The Dutch skipper and his crew stayed aboard.

At dawn they could have walked ashore. The receding tide left Caroline listing on the beach at Frinton, an East Coast resort.

Caroline, based on a converted sailing ship, was the first of the radio pirates to take to the seas to beat the British ban on commercial radio. Anchored outside territorial waters and broadcasting pop records between the commercials, her operators claim that in two years she has attracted daily audiences of up to 30 million in Britain and Western Europe.

The Pirate started dragging her anchors Wednesday night soon after she went off the air for the night. The Coast Guard noticed she was in danger and for three hours tried in vain to call her on the emergency radio net. People ashore tried to signal by flashing auto headlights.

Caroline went aground within 50 yards of Frinton's cliffs. The Coast Guard rescue squad was waiting to fire a rocket carrying the breeches buoy line.

★ ★ ★

Graham Webb, one of the first disc jockeys ashore, reported: "We felt the ship bumping about, but it has been so rough lately that no one took any notice.

"The sea was very rough and the winds very high, but we went on watching television. It wasn't until the wrestling was on that we realized we were in trouble."

NO BROADCASTING

Once she was inside the three-mile limit, Caroline was within the reach of British law. But the Post Office, which controls broadcasting, said: "Provided they don't broadcast no action will be taken."

A Lot of Sassafras

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Standing on the lawn of Dr. O. W. Rash's home is the largest known sassafras tree in the world. The 250-year-old giant, whose claim has been substantiated by the American Forestry Association, measures 18 feet in circumference and is 90 feet tall.

New Film Is Labor of Love for Actress Nancy Kwan

HONG KONG (AP) —Nancy Kwan, who captivated audiences in the American films "World of Suzie Wong" and "Flower Drum Song," has come home to a labor of love.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of a Chinese father and an English mother is starring in the ultra-low budget "Lodestone," being filmed in color on an outlying Hong Kong island by the Government Information Serivice.

★ ★ ★

The 40-minute picture, far removed from the usual tourist promotion film, presents a dramatic story instead of a series of scenic views.

"Lodestone" has an over-all budget of $35,000.

OTHER COSTS

Out of that must come costs of color film and processing, payments to owners and salaries of crews for a score of Chinese junks featured in the film, and the price of one junk which will be wrecked in a key storm-at-sea sequence.

"That," explained a spokesman, "leaves no money for a star-sized salary to an international film star of Miss Kwan's calibre.

"But that made no difference to Miss Kwan, 26. She came home to Hong Kong, from Austria where she now lives with hotel man husband, Peter Pock, and their son, to lend her talents for a film which will show Hong Kong to the rest of the world in a new light."

★ ★ ★

Miss Kwan plays the wife of a Chinese fisherman in a story set a thousand years ago on the group of islands which eventuallily became Hong Kong. The script, written by Brian Salt, head of the information service's film department, weaves together two old Hong Kong area legends.

INVENTED COMPASS

One has it that Chinese fishermen invented the compass in this area. From that comes the film's title.

★ ★ ★

The other tells of a wife who, with her baby strapped to her back, climbed a Hong Kong hill to wait for her fisherman husband lost in a storm at sea. The Chinese gods, taking pity on her, used a lightning bolt to turn her to stone so she would not grow old alone.

A rock pillar, roughly in the shape of a woman with a baby on her back, stands in Hong Kong's Shatin area—between the city and the Chinese border —and some Chinese claim it is the waiting mother and her baby.

Coupled with the scene of her husband's junk being wrecked at sea will be another of the lightning flash turning Miss Kwan to stone.

The film is expected to be completed next month and probably will have its premiere here in midyear. After that prints will be distributed for showing around the world.

Salt, writer, producer and director, hopes for a side value —a vehicle showing commercial film producers of America and Europe what the outlying islands and rural areas of Hong Kong can supply in the way of natural beauty and exotic backgrounds for full-length films. Feature films have used Hong Kong city as a locale, but none has gone out into the country-side or used any of the small outlying islands.

100 on Hand to Register Protests

Avon Rezoning Decision Postponed

By JANICE KLOUSER

AVON TOWNSHIP — After hearing numerous objections last night to the proposed rezoning of land between Hamlin and Avon roads, the Township Zoning Board put off a decision until its next meeting Feb. 16.

More than 100 residents were on hand to register protests to the request of R & C Robertson, Inc. to rezone 46.6 acres west of Livernois from general farm to light industrial.

A petition signed by 278 residents objecting to the rezoning was also presented to the zoning board.

Most of the objections focused on the devaluation of property if light industry were allowed and increased traffic which would "change a peaceful, safe neighborhood into a nightmare."

One resident said that not only would his property depreciate but, in all likelihood, he would be assessed for water and sewer lines and for probable paving of Hamlin which would become a secondary access to the area.

NO ASSESSMENTS

A spokesman for the developers, however, said there would be no assessments and that the company has offered to pay 25 per cent of the paving costs. He said there would be two accesses to the property, both on Livernois.

Another resident pointed out that increased truck traffic would create a danger to children, many of whom attend the Hamlin Elementary School on Hamlin Road.

Several residents also pointed out that light industry would change the quiet, country atmosphere which brought them to the township in the first place.

★ ★ ★

Roy Gline, an attorney representing the Hamlin-Livernois Homeowners Association, claimed such a change would constitute spot zoning and said he felt sure that the group would be prepared to take legal action, if necessary, to prevent it.

★ ★ ★

In rebuttal, the spokesman for the developers said that only the highest type industry would be allowed into the proposed industrial park.

He said that in the past few months, two industries along the lines of the new Holley Computer Co. in Rochester had expressed an interest.

Gline pointed out that light industry included such operations as trucking terminals, storage for building materials and poultry slaughtering, all of which could legally locate in the industrial park.

The developers assured him they would not sell ground to such industries. They said they would stand to lose money if such plants came in.

MASTER PLAN

The section in question is part of an area designated as an "industrial corridor" in the township's proposed master plan.

After studying the request and objections, the zoning board will recommend approval or disapproval to the township board, which will make the final determination.

Council Okays Two Proposals

Charter Propositions to Be on April Ballot

WALLED LAKE — Two charter amendment proposals which will appear on the April 4 city ballot have been approved by the City Council.

The two propositions now will be sent to Gov. Romney for his approval before being certified for the election.

One amendment would increase the length of terms for the mayor and city councilmen and the other would remove the limit on the number of meetings for which they can be paid.

If the first amendment is adopted by the electorate, the mayor and councilmen will be elected for four rather than the present two years.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, city elections would be held every two years instead of annually.

3-YEAR TERMS

To facilitate the changeover, councilmen elected in 1967 would hold three-year terms.

Beginning in 1968, the mayor and councilmen would have four-year terms, with three councilmen elected every two years.

The other proposed amendment would delete from the charter the present provision that councilmen and the mayor can be paid for only five meetings a quarter.

It would allow them to be paid for all regular and special council meetings.

HONORED QUEEN— Chris Hogg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hogg of 2580 Red Arrow, Commerce Township, will be installed Saturday as Honored Queen of Commerce Bethel No. 23, International Order of Job's Daughters. The public is invited to the 8 p.m. ceremony at the Commerce Masonic Temple, 4835 Broadway.

Also a Lot of Work

Rebuilding a House Is Woman's 'Fun'

TROY—What woman would ask for a sander for Christmas and be "absolutely thrilled" when she received it?

One such is Mrs. J. Hugh Stone of 2552 South Blvd., who has undertaken complete renovation of what was a "completely uninhabitable" house in Avon Township.

The project was born when Mrs. Stone heard of a family who needed a place to live. She began scouting the area and came upon an old empty house which looked from the outside as though it had promise.

The owner said it was in no condition to rent and offered to sell the house and its 2½-acre lot for $6,000.

★ ★ ★

"I figured the property alone was worth that much, she said, "so I decided to buy it and fix it up."

WAS UNINHABITABLE

"One look and I knew it was completely uninhabitable," she said.

"It was unbelievable. Doors were falling off or missing, floors and walls were rotting away and it was indescribably filthy, but I had bought it and I had to do something with it."

So with the help of a builder friend, Elmer H. Zellers of Rochester she set to work.

★ ★ ★

Together they knocked out walls and rebuilt and covered them with paneling. They scraped off wallpaper and painted walls, tore up old flooring and put in new linoleum, knocked out tumbledown stairways and replaced them.

NEW EQUIPMENT

They drywalled the entire house, had it completely rewired and new plumbing put in, refinished the floors, installed new kitchen cabinets, replaced part of the windows and rebuilt the bathroom.

"You can't imagine what we hauled out of here," said Mrs. Stone. "For a solid week we kept a bonfire going with old furniture, clothes, mattresses, sewing machines and a hundred other things."

She figures by the time they finish the inside, replace the front porch and put on aluminum siding, she will have spent about $9,000 renovating the place.

★ ★ ★

She also had to fill in a swamp next to the house with 54 loads of dirt.

FIRST ATTEMPT

"I've never done anything like this before," she said, "but it's been quite an experience."

She said she used to come back to the house at night to catch up on some work but strange noises, such as wallpaper falling off the walls, would scare her and she would "bolt out of here like a scared rabbit."

She recalls another frightening experience when, a few days after she bought the house, she went in to find a man sleeping upstairs.

"He looked like an old bum and I was scared to death," she said. "He turned out to be a relative of the family who had lived here, but it took me a long time to convince him that the house was mine and he had to get out."

GRATEFUL NEIGHBORS

Mrs. Stone said the neighbors have all thanked her for fixing up the place because it was "an eyesore."

"The township ought to have some kind of an ordinance, covering these places," she said.

"There was nothing to prevent someone from buying this and renting it out as it was, and it simply was not fit to live in."

★ ★ ★

She has been working on the house since October and hopes to finish it next month.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime she is continuing her search for a home for the family which started her on her venture in the first place.

County Group Plans Banquet

Noted Photographer Will Present Slides

The annual meeting and banquet of the Oakland County Soil Conservation District will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. Benedict's Church, corner of Highland (M59) and Voorheis, Waterford Township.

Highlight of the evening will be a color slide presentation by Robert Brouwer, well - known travel photographer.

Brouwer will present "Springtime Captures Holland," a travelogue commissioned by the Dutch tourist authority.

A Grand Rapids electrical contractor, Brouwer has developed what started as a hobby into what amounts to a full-time occupation.

He has several series of slides, taken in various parts of the world, which he presents with a unique system of three screens and four projectors.

3-DIMENSIONAL

He synchronizes stereophonic music and narration with the slides, which appear almost three-dimensional to the viewer.

The business portion of the meeting will include election of a district director to fill the expiring term of Harold Mitchell of Holly Township.

Candidates for the office chosen by a nominating committee are Mitchell and Eldridge Bryan of Highland Township.

Reservations for the dinner may be made at the SCS office, Room 9 of the Federal Building, 35 E. Huron, Pontiac, or at the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 155 N. Saginaw.

2 Industries to Build in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Two new industries are coming to town and are being heralded by a $220,000 building spurt.

Building permits have been issued for factories for DeDoes Industries and Michigan Building Components Inc., according to City Clerk Eileen Van Horn.

The $140,000 Dedoes plant is being built on the southeast corner of Ladd and Maple, where the firm owns 100 acres. The 120-by-120-foot building will be partially in Commerce Township.

Now located in Berkley, the firm manufactures paint blending equipment, for use in the automobile industry.

Michigan Building Components Inc. will move its operation from Birmingham to the $80,000 structure now going up on a 6.5-acre site on the east side of Decker.

Specializing in wood roof trusses, the corporation employs about 70 persons. Its building here will be 80 by 250 feet.

Honorary Society Chapter Okayed for Area Districts

A new chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, international honorary society for women educators, recently was chartered for the Farmington and Clarenceville school districts.

★ ★ ★

President of the new Beta Eta chapter is Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of Detroit, an assistant elementary school principal in the Clarenceville School System.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. James M. Ellis of Farmington and Mrs. Albert Kitzman of Clarenceville will serve as vice presidents, Mrs. Noah Blosser of Farmington and Mrs. Marjory Sage of Clarenceville as secretaries and Evelyn Cohen of Clarenceville as treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Sponsors of the new unit are members of the Alpha Omicron chapter in Birmingham.

Decker PTA to Hear Opinions of Parents

WALLED LAKE—Parents of Decker Elementary School pupils will air their views Monday night at a "town meeting" planned by the Decker PTA.

A panel of parents will present their opinions on what they expect from the school. The audience then will participate in a general group discussion.

Christmas Present Is Put To Good Use

Two Zoning Board Members Seeking Pontiac Twp. Posts

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Two township residents are putting their bids in early as candidates for two township offices which expire this year.

★ ★ ★

Roy Wahl, 3136 Margaret, has announced he will seek the position of township supervisor, an office now held by Leonard Terry.

Wahl, a Democrat, is presently on the zoning board and the board of appeals.

Former Trustee Donald Schell of 2321 Collier will reportedly seek one of the two expiring four-year trustee positions. A Democrat, he is also on the zoning board.

★ ★ ★

The two expiring terms are those of John C. Richardson and Walter G. Smith.

OTHER OFFICES

Other offices to be filled in an election are those of treasurer, clerk, justice of the peace and four constables.

None of the incumbents has as yet announced their candidacy, according to Clerk Greta V. Block.

★ ★ ★

A deadline to file for the positions will not be set until a date for the primary election is determined.

Parent-Teacher Guild to Hold 2nd Meeting

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The newly formed Parent-Teacher Guild of Sacred Heart parish will hold its second general meeting tonight.

Speaker for the 8:15 program in the school hall will be Sister Mary de Lourdes, archdiocesan supervisor of mathematics, who will demonstrate the theory and fundamentals of modern math.

To Discuss New Site for Area Hospital

MILFORD — Discussion of a new site for the proposed Huron Valley Community Hospital will highlight the hospital association's annual meeting tonight.

Dr. Norman Kreiger, chairman of the association's board of directors, will tell of the board's decision to locate the hospital in the Union Lake area rather than on the site already owned in Milford.

Board members in October said they would seek a new site that is larger, more accessible and closer to the area's projected population center than the 15-acre parcel fronting Mont Eagle and Atlantic in the village.

A new choice has not yet been announced.

★ ★ ★

The annual public meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the little theater of Milford High School.

SEEK $4 MILLION

The four-year-old organization is seeking $4 million to construct a hospital to serve Milford, Rose, Highland, White Lake, Commerce, Novi and Lyon townships in Oakland County and Brighton, Green Oak and Hartland in Livingston.

★ ★ ★

Besides a progress report, election of directors also is on the agenda for tonight's meeting.

Farmers' Week Talks Slated by Nationally Known Stockmen

EAST LANSING — Some of Michigan's finest swine, beef and sheep breeding stock—and several of the nation's leading stockmen will draw the spotlight as part of the livestock program during the 1966 Farmers' Week opening Jan. 31.

"Prosper with Livestock," the Animal Husbandry Department theme this year, goes hand-in-hand with the look to the future being taken by all university departments participating in Farmers' Week.

Daily livestock demonstrations—beef on Tuesday, swine on Wednesday and sheep on Thursday—will teach skills of livestock management in the Livestock Pavilion.

The annual livestock breed association meetings will be held on Tuesday. Cattle, sheep and swine associations will be meeting throughout the day. In an afternoon general session, the impact of artificial insemination on the livestock industry will be discussed.

★ ★ ★

One of the advantages of attending Farmers' Week will be most evident in that visitors will be able to hear and speak to several nationally known commercial stockmen.

Illustrated talks covering their own operations will be given by cattle feeder William Farr of Greeley, Colo., swine feeder Roy B. Keppy of Davenport, Iowa and sheep producer Howard Harper of Ligonier, Ind.

Farr operates one of the largest cattle feeding establishments in the West. His Colorado feedlot finishes over 20,000 head of cattle for market. His detailed record keeping system will be of special interest to Michigan cattle feeders.

Keppy operates a 320-acre swine farm in eastern Iowa. He is recognized as one of the most successful commercial swine raisers in Iowa.

★ ★ ★

He keeps 200 brood sows and markets about 1,600 hogs per year. Because of their excellent quality, most of his crossbred gilts are sold to other commercial producers as breeding stock rather than for slaughter.

Harper, a top Indiana sheep producer, has 300 western ewes that provide market lambs both in the spring and fall.

LULU'S IN TOWN — It started as a promotion stunt for the opening of a new Hollywood apartment house, with Lulu the elephant to arrive carrying a pretty girl and her luggage. But a moment later, Lulu is charging down a residential street (left), her handlers trying to cope with her. After wandering about for a few minutes, Lulu returned to the apartment (right) to take part in the ceremonies.

Warns of Fee Splitting by Physicians

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The anxious patient goes to his doctor with stomach pains, and X rays show that his gallbladder should come out. The doctor recommends that a certain surgeon perform the operation. Can the patient be certain the choice was a good one?

Not if the doctor is involved in fee splitting, says the American College of Surgeons. The doctor could have a secret arrangement with a second-rate surgeon to refer surgery patients to him in return for a percentage of the surgeon's bill.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John Paul North, director of the college, which has 26,000 members, says fee splitting is less prevalent today than formerly but still is practiced on the sly in certain communities.

"How widespread is the practice no one knows," he said in an interview. "It started many years ago in some areas and still is practiced covertly in some places."

PRACTICE DENOUNCED

The college has repeatedly denounced fee splitting.

Any members of the college found guilty of the practice face reprimand, suspension or termination of fellowship in the college.

As a result of general opposition from organized medicine, open fee splitting has virtually disappeared. But the covert forms are not easy to detect.

★ ★ ★

The patient doesn't become suspicious because his over-all medical bill in some cases might be no higher than expected. In some fee splitting arrangements, the surgeon reduces his normal bill to enable the referring doctor to increase his. Some fee splitters use an alternating fee arrangement under which the referring doctor submits the only bill in one case and the surgeon submits the only bill in the next case.

"These can be detected by an audit of the surgeon's books; and because fee splitting is a violation of our by-laws, the college has the right to inspect the books," Dr. North said.

The college contends that in addition to providing inferior care for patients, fee splitting works special hardship on qualified young surgeons seeking to build up a practice on the basis of skills alone.

Dr. North said patients can protect themselves from fee splitting by insisting on separate billings from the surgeon and referring doctor.

"Some insurance companies will only honor a combined bill," he said. "In that case, the surgeon should itemize what he pays his assistant and the referring doctor who took the case. We don't like that, but some insurance companies insist on it."

★ ★ ★

The college holds that the referring doctor is entitled to special remuneration if he participates as a member of the operating team, but in such cases should bill the patient directly.

If a patient uncovers evidence of fee splitting, Dr. North said, he can report it to the grievance committee of his county medical society.

★ ★ ★

"If the surgeon is a fellow of the college we will investigate any such charge," he said. "But we have no control over surgeons who are not members."

Given $250 Check

He's Still a Hero—to Police

NEW YORK (AP) — "This is a night I will never forget," said Enrique Negron, 56, a Puerto Rican. "I shall always remember this night as one that shows people care."

Negron had just been presented a $250 check by policemen and proclaimed a hero for the second time in eight months.

Last May he aided a white policeman under attack by a mob of Negroes. But his friends took a dim view of the act. They boycotted his grocery store and forced him out of business, he said.

When his plight became known, Negron was honored again with job offers and a dinner last night by the Police Reserve Association.

★ ★ ★

"I thank God, and so do all the policemen in the country, for a person like the man in this room — Enrique Negron," said the association's president.

Preminger a Loser Over Film Editing

NEW YORK (AP) — Producer Otto Preminger can't keep his film "Anatomy of a Murder" from going under the knife of television's surgeons.

A State Supreme Court justice ruled Wednesday that the right of a producer to final cutting and editing is limited to the original or theatrical production and not to television showings.

Preminger had sought a permanent injunction to keep the film intact during television showings.

Missile Fall Causes Jitters

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Navy says there was never any danger when a surface-to-air nuclear missile fell "several feet" while being handled above the deck of the USS Luce.

"I feel as safe around one of these, if dropped, as around a five-inch bullet," said the commanding officer of the Luce, Capt. Dixon Lademen.

Nevertheless, plenty of people were jittery.

★ ★ ★

The news of "a nuclear incident" was broadcast just as demolition crews, under police escort, rushed to remove the missile Wednesday. Switchboards were flooded. Sections of the Mayport Naval Air Station were sealed off.

"We took routine safety precautions because when you don't know what the danger is, you always go to extremes," said the base commander, Capt. J. S. Swope.

The device was so constructed that an explosion would have been impossible, Swope said. There was a dent near the forward portion.

But the Luce, a guided missile frigate berthed near other ships at the mouth of the St. Johns River in northeast Florida, quickly moved to another dock.

Plenty Peppy Pachyderm Has a 'Lulu' of a Time

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Oh, it was a corker of an idea, all right.

Al Levenson thought he'd announce the opening of his new apartment house by having an elephant stroll into the lobby, toting a pretty girl and a brace of suitcases.

Get it?

★ ★ ★

And to underscore the point, Levenson dreamed up some promotional lines — subtle, understated lines like: "The only reason women will leave their homes in the jungle is to live at my apartment building."

Or, "no small pets allowed, but you may bring your elephants."

Heh, heh.

YOUNG PACHYDERM

So Levenson brought a 3-year-old pachyderm, Lulu, and her owner, Scott Larkin, to the apartments Wednesday and the men began loading Lulu with: suitcases, frying pans, a bag of golf clubs and circus aerialist Kathy Lindsay.

Lulu endured this through the frying pans and then, with a sniff, a twist and a saucy little kick, off she went down the street, trumpeting her indignation and playing hob with the neighbors' nasturtiums and aspidistras halfway down the block.

★ ★ ★

Levenson and Miss Lindsay lured Lulu with carrots back to the grand opening, and after the carrots, Lulu rummaged through Levenson's planter boxes for salad.

Cracked one bemused neighbor, jarred from sleep by the uproar: "When I saw that elephant out there, I vowed then and there never to take another drink."

A part of Marie Byrd Land in Antarctica, now covered by glacial ice, once consisted of groups of volcanic islands lying a few hundreds of miles offshore from the main continent.

Senate OK of $9.5 Million Clears Way for a Latin-U.S. Cultural Center in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Backers have been dreaming for almost 50 years of a permanent Latin-American trade and cultural center.

After Senate approval Wednesday of U.S. participation in Interama, they feel they are close to making the dream a reality.

Opponents insist the Senate's decision to put $9.5 million into a U.S. exhibit is a pork barrel nightmare.

"If you give this money to Miami now, how are you going to turn down the other communities which will come to Congress?" Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, asked before the Senate voted 56-18 in favor.

"It will be a debt on every taxpayer in this country," he said in previous debate.

But Gov. Haydon Burns of Florida said the money will be returned many times in business, social and economic contacts with Latin-American countries.

"Certainly, it will accrue additional benefits to Florida," Burns said, "but I think its benefits will be national in scope."

Right now, much of the land that Interama — short for Inter-American Center Authority — would occupy is a mangrove swamp north of Miami on Biscayne Bay. Of the 1,700 acres in the tract, 680 have been cleared and filled.

VALUABLE LAND

Dr. Irving E. Muskat, Interama chairman and its chief promoter, says that the land is already worth twice the $21-million bond issue to be floated if the United States agrees to finance a pavilion.

The Senate bill goes back to the House, which authorized $15-million last year and is expected to approve the Senate's lower figure. President Johnson indicated last year he supported the project.

★ ★ ★

Final federal approval would also release a $22-million loan okayed by the Community Facilities Administration, to be paid back from gate receipts.

Muskat says other exhibitors are waiting for federal participation before they commit themselves.

Interama has been described as a Disneyland, world's fair, industrial exposition, trade mart and amusement park. Muskat says it would be all these and more.

"It will be a permanent showcase of industry, culture, government, sports and festivals of all nations in the Western Hemisphere," says Muskat.

Each pavilion constructed by a Latin-American country would show, an Interama spokesman said, "the history, background, achievements and aspirations of its country." An industrial exposition area would show what each industry has contributed to the American way of life, the spokesman said.

A theater and art center and sports arena are also planned.

A 1,000-foot "Tower of Freedom" would be the focal point of the exposition, he said.

75 MILLION

A survey indicated that 75 million people would visit Interama in the first five years, Muskat says.

"The concept has been kicking around for 45 years or more," says Muskat, a retired college professor who was asked to push the project by Gov. LeRoy Collins in 1958. The Senate passage was a milestone, he said.

OU's 165 Adult Noncredit Courses Starting Feb. 14

Beginning the week of Feb. 14, Oakland University will offer 165 adult noncredit courses through its Division of Continuing Education.

Courses on 10 modern plays; music of the Baroque Era; an introduction to computer programming called computer software concepts; and a survey of technical ceramics are among the many new offerings available.

The program has been expanded as a result of the 31.9 per cent enrollment growth in continuing education classes last term. Registered students totaled 2,125 as contrasted to 1,618 in the fall of 1964.

A catalog describing all 165 courses can be obtained by contacting the continuing education division at OU.

★ ★ ★

Registrations are being accepted in all courses now. Registration deadline is Feb. 11.

Following is a list of the courses including their instructors, meeting days, hours, date of first class session and cost:

Mankind in Space. Lecture series featuring astronaut Edward White; Dr. Robert Jastrow; Breene M. Kerr; and Dr. Abe Silverstein. April Mondays and Tuesdays, $6.

Amateur Ornithology. Study of birds of Southeastern Michigan with field trips to study spring migration and nesting. Daniel S. McGee, D.D.S., Mondays, starts Feb. 14, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 10 weeks, $30.

Recent Advancements in Biology. Covers new ideas in biology and serves as introduction for those who have not studied college biology or have not had it in recent years. John M. Hackett, M.S., Tuesdays, starts Feb. 15, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 10 weeks $25.

Basic Electronic Engineering II. Transistor and vacuum tube circuits, the transmission and recording of sound, amplifiers, industrial application, and fundamental circuits of digital computer. Leonard Chisholm, B.S.E.E., Tuesdays, starts Feb. 15, 7-10 p.m., 15 weeks, $50.

Semiconductors: Circuits. Emphasis on practical circuits using transistors and semiconductor devices. C. E. Getchell, Ph.D., Tuesdays, starts Feb. 15, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 15 weeks, $45.

Semiconductor Devices: Theory and Applications. Offers understanding of physical principles and their applications to semiconductor devices; structure of solids, etc. Sarkis Barkhoudarian, M.S., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 7-8:30 p.m., 10 weeks, $35.

Introduction to Plastics. Basic plastic technology through lectures on material, design, processing and applications. Curriculum devised in cooperation with Detroit Section of the Society of Plastic Engineers. Ronald D. Beck, B.S., Tuesdays, starts Feb. 15, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $35.

Introduction to College Physics II. Basic laws and principles of heat, light, magnetism and electricity and some of the elementary phenomena of atomic structure. Kenneth A. Meade, M.S., D.Sc., Thursdays, starts Feb. 17, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 15 weeks, $40.

Basic Metallurgy I. Principles and the basic characteristics of metals and alloys presented to give a comprehensive view of physical metallurgy. Subrata Ghosh, Ph.D., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 7:00-8:30 p.m., 15 weeks, $45.

Basic Metallurgy II. Structure, binding characteristics and behavior of atoms under various practical metallurgical applications. Subrata Ghosh, Ph.D., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 8:30-10:00 p.m., 15 weeks, $45.

Fundamentals of the Heat Treatment of Ferrous Alloys (Metallurgy III). Principles and processes of the basic heat treatments as applicable to steels and other important ferrous alloys. Frederick A. Hagen, M.S., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 10 weeks, $35.

Introduction to Statics. Beginning course in mechanics to build up student's understanding of principles and their application to static problems met in engineering practice. John Stencel, M.S., Mondays, starts Feb. 14, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $40.

Introduction to Strength of Material and Stress Analysis. Emphasis on solving problems of engineering significance often encountered in design practice. John Stencel, M.S., Thursdays, starts Feb. 17, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $40.

Introduction to Dynamics. Study of the relationships of position, time, velocity, acceleration, displacement, and the effect of applied forces and inertial properties upon the motion of bodies. Richard D. Grauer, B.S., LL.B., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $40.

Gas Turbines. Principles and practice of gas turbine power for automotive, aircraft, and stationary uses. David W. Dawson, M.S., Thursdays, starts Feb. 17, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 15 weeks, $45.

Advanced Hydraulics. Major emphasis on hydraulic circuitry including circuits used in clamping or pressing, traverse and feed applications, reciprocating machinery, tension controls and hydrostatic transmissions. George Altland, Wednesdays, stats Feb. 16, 7-10 p.m., 12 weeks, $40.

MATHEMATICS

Introduction to College Algebra! For the student who desires to continue into a college level mathematics course or for those who need a modern refresher. Howard R. Minke, M.A., Thursdays, starts Feb. 17, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $30.

Trigonometry. For those who have not studied trigonometry in high school or college or need a refresher course. Milton Budyk, M.S., Mondays, starts Feb. 14, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $30.

Mathematics Refresher II (Calculus). Reviews graphing of equations, differential and integral calculus. Hubert W. Stephens, M.A., Mondays, starts Feb. 14, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 15 weeks, $40.

Applied Statistics. Introductory course in applied mathematical statistics. George Gomolski, M.S., Mondays, starts Feb. 14, 7:30-9:30 p.m., 15 weeks, $45.

Applied Mathematics for Engineers and Scientists. Prepares the student to attack the physical mathematics problems encountered in theoretical work. Sarkis Barkhoudarian, M.S., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 8:30-10 p.m., 10 weeks, $35.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Psychiatry — Its Uses and Limitations. A series of informal lectures on theoretical and practical aspects of psychiatry in modern life. Emanuel Tanay, M.D., Wednesdays, starts Feb. 16, 7:00-8:30 p.m., 12 weeks, $40.

Police Clerk Admits Killing

Watched Colleagues Try to Solve Crime

DETROIT (UPI) — A meek police clerk admitted yesterday he killed his wife, married a beautiful Polish divorcee and quietly came to his job every day while his police colleagues tried to solve the baffling crime.

Walter A. Konczewski, 37, was charged with murder.

He told police he shot his wife, Virginia, 40, four times last Sept. 4 and left her body alongside a lonely land about 35 miles west of here near Hell, Mich.

She was unidentified until Tuesday when police received an anonymous tip linking Konczewski with the slaying.

★ ★ ★

He was called in for questioning and finally admitted the killing after first claiming his wife had vanished last August, police said.

NIGHT CLERK

Konczewski, a bald, bespectacled night shift microfilming clerk, then took a vacation from his civilian police job, went to Poland and married Barbara Legin, a shapely blonde he met through a lonely hearts correspondence club.

His colleagues were not aware of the secret marriage, Robert A. Lothian, deputy police commissioner in charge of civilian employes said, and were shocked to hear of the slaying.

Konczewski returned to work following the marriage last October but was not in a position where he could keep track of the investigation, Lothian said.

★ ★ ★

His Polish bride was unaware of his other marriage, Lothian said, and is still in Poland. She had planned to come here shortly.

VERY ATTRACTIVE

"Apparently she went through with the marriage merely to get out of Poland and get over here," Lothian said. "She was a very, very attractive young woman.

"Konczewski was somewhat introverted. He was very definitely meek—certainly not of the caliber to be a salesman, or a killer.

"He sort of remained in the background. He was a very unassuming person. On the job, we considered him a run of the mill clerk."

★ ★ ★

Konczewski told police he killed his wife in an argument that erupted while they were on a target-shooting outing.

★ ★ ★

He told police he shot her in a fit of sudden anger. Officers said Konczewski proposed to Miss Legin two months before the slaying.

Accelerated War on Pollution Is Urged by Dem

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharply accelerated war on water pollution was called for Wednesday in a bill introduced by Rep. Richard McCarthy, D-N. Y.

The measure would raise the federal authorization for waste treatment plants from $150-million to $900 million a year.

★ ★ ★

The bill also would provide that states which finance 50 per cent of the cost of such plants can claim half this amount from the federal government.

★ ★ ★

"At the present $150 million a year level, we just aren't going to get this job done in time," McCarthy told the House. "Time is a vital factor, for the galloping forces of decay are fast killing lakes like Lake Erie. If we don't act promptly on many of our lakes, it may be too late. They will be dead."

Man Breaks Window to Earn Stay in Jail

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — Police say Richard M. Reynolds, 60, was looking without much success for a cosy jail cell to spend the cold January nights. "Sorry," he was told, "but only criminals are allowed in here."

★ ★ ★

So, police say, Reynolds heaved a chunk of ice through a window of police headquarters. Then they gave him a cell — for 90 days.

Long Wait Pays Off for Harold Holt, New Prime Minister of Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Harold E. Holt, Australia's new prime minister, must have wondered many times if he would ever make it. But his mentor, Sir Robert Menzies, finally retired today.

HOLT

Menzies, 71, resigned because of his age, and members of his Liberal party in Parliament elected Holt party leader and head of the government, posts which Menzies had held for the past 16 years.

★ ★ ★

"The affairs of the world at large and of Australia in a period of rapid developments are increasing in weight and complexity," Menzies said. "They demand the services of men and women full of vigor and flexibility of mind, feeling at their best and able to do their best."

★ ★ ★

Government sources said Menzies also intends to resign his parliamentary seat for the Kooyong District of Victoria State.

DEPUTY LEADER

The succession of Holt, 57, was a foregone conclusion. He had been deputy Liberal leader since 1956, federal treasurer since 1958 and Menzies' close confidant and adviser since Holt was first elected to Parliament in 1935.

Like Menzies, Holt graduated in law from Melbourne University. He retains an interest in a Sydney law firm but does not practice.

He was first elected to Parliament at the age of 27 and served in Menzies' first Cabinet, 1939-41. The prime minister recalled him from the army after three Cabinet ministers were killed in a plane crash.

Holt became a minister again when Menzies was reelected in 1949 and has headed the labor and national service, immigration and treasury portfolios.

SECOND DECADE

As the Menzies era moved well into its second decade, it began to look as if he would never retire. But while Holt waited, such potential rivals as Sir Percy Spender and Sir Garfield Barwick moved from the political arena to the judiciary.

★ ★ ★

Holt never appeared to become impatient and probably never was, so intense was his admiration and loyalty for Menzies. He also had the comfortable knowledge that the prime minister regarded him as his heir apparent.

★ ★ ★

As prime minister, Holt will head a coalition of the Liberal and Country parties. He told a news conference following a meeting with Country party leader John McEwen that the two could see no problems in continuing the good relations between the two parties.

No threat is expected from the opposition Labor party, at least until the general election late this year. The Labor party is sorely troubled by internal strife.

★ ★ ★

Holt is expected to continue Menzies' policies of close ties with Britain and the United States, including Australia's commitment in Viet Nam where its troops are fighting alongside U.S. forces.

Holt had prematurely gray hair which in recent years turned white. His good looks and well tailored clothes earned him the label "matinee idol of Parliament." His father was a theater manager, an aunt was on the British stage, and after Holt's mother died his father married Lola Thring, an Australian theater and radio personality.

The monorail at the New York World's Fair, 1964-65,, carried 4,160,000 passengers 3,320,000 passenger miles with only one disabling rider injury.

SHRIMPERS RETURN — Three crew members of a shrimp fishing boat held in Cuba for two days after their craft hit a reef and sank in Cuban waters were back in Miami yesterday. The men said they were treated well. They are (from left) David Rogers, Capt. Harold Bothwell and Kinzer Moore.

Detained Fishermen

'Had a Good Time in Cuba'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A captain who spent two days in Cuba after his shrimp vessel ran aground and sank says he and his crew "never had it so good."

"They put us up in hotels and we didn't have to buy anything," Harold Bothwell, the skipper of the 73-foot Charles Singleton, said after arriving here Wednesday with eight other shrimp fishermen who were detained.

★ ★ ★

A Cuban Coast Guard hellcopter picked him and two crewmen up after the boat slammed into a reef in Cuban waters Sunday, and they stayed at "a fancy hotel" in Pinar del Rio, Bothwell said.

The Charles Singleton and two sister vessels, were en route to Nicaragua from Tampa.

★ ★ ★

The crewmen of the sister boats were carried to Cuba, but none was detained forcibly, Bothwell said.

License Plate Find Proves a Real Help

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A man here, who wishes to remain unidentified, found a car license plate near Browning Lake. He phoned Mrs. Lavern Boyer, clerk in the police identification bureau, to report his find. After a few minutes checking, she told him, "Look on your car and see if your plate is there."

The man did and it wasn't. He had found his own license tag.

State Lacks Governor's Home Despite Appeals

LANSING (AP) — In 1879, when Michigan's State Capitol Building was dedicated, ex-Gov. Austin Blair asked in his dedication speech for an official governor's residence.

★ ★ ★

Blair, who served as the state's chief officer from 1861 to 1864, had reason to complain.

He lived in a Lansing hotel, and he commuted to Jackson when he wanted to see his wife at the Blair family home.

Eighty-seven years later, the problem still isn't solved, and Gov. George Romney is still waiting.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, he rents a pink split-level home that has little room for official entertaining.

PAYS OWN RENT

Romney pays the rent out of his $30,000 annual salary despite the stipulation of the 1963 Michigan Constitution that "an executive residence suitably furnished shall be provided at the seat of government for the use of the governor.

"He shall receive an allowance for its maintenance as provided by law."

As of a month ago, no site has been selected, no plans have been drawn up, and the matter has been referred to an intrim committee.

★ ★ ★

During Senate hearings on the matter, in December 1964, Romney gave only general suggestions as to what he would like to see in the way of a gubernatorial mansion.

★ ★ ★

"I don't expect to occupy it anyway," he said then.

TOO SMALL

Before 1950, the Michigan Legislature did have a governor's residence built, but the governor of that era refused to live in it because it was too small. It was never occupied by a governor.

Things almost jelled in 1947 when then-Gov. Kim Sigler persuaded the Legislature to approve plans for a modern $140,000 mansion drawn up by architect Alden B. Dow of Midland.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan State University art department liked the contemporary design, which included low buildings connected by several enclosed patios and breezeways.

★ ★ ★

"Too long have we in Michigan paid lip service to the energy and originality of past ages in the architecture of our official buildings," the department wrote.

"We have grown sick of this pallid imitation of imitations that has haunted our public building program."

There were voices of protest:

"Your contemplated residence looks more like a cattle barn and sheds than . . . a governor's residence," wrote one irate citizen after he saw plans of the proposed building in a newspaper.

★ ★ ★

Others wrote that the money to be spent on the mansion would do more good in the form of pensions for war veterans and asylums for the insane.

Plans were abandoned when the legislature appropriated only $75,000 for the mansion.

Sigler, after sifting a large number of offers to sell him a house, decided to live in a Lansing hotel for the rest of his term.

In doing so he followed the traditions of Blair and of Gov. John T. Rich (1893-1896) who boarded at the Hotel Downey on Washington Avenue.

★ ★ ★

In 1948, the City of Lansing offered to rent to the state the vacant Baines mansion at $1 a year.

REPAIR COSTS

The state turned it down because of prohibitive repair costs.

The big Victorian house had been vacant 15 years. Vandals had damaged the interior, and there were no electrical outlets and no plumbing.

Blair, long after he had left the governorship, still felt strongly on the matter.

"The governor should live at the capital of the state," he said in his Capitol dedication speech.

"Every citizen should know that he can be found here; that these magnificent rooms prepared for him will always be occupied.

★ ★ ★

"He needs a home here, and ought to have a mansion which is at least as respectable as the mansions of most private citizens.

★ ★ ★

"He should be able to bring his family here and live during his term; which he can conduct himself like a civil magistrate in a civilized way as people do in other parts of the country," he said.

GI Loses Lawsuit on Service in Viet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal court refused Wednesday to prevent the Army from shipping a soldier to Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Pvt. Robert Luftig, requesting a temporary injunction, had contended that ordering him "to engage in a war and armed conflict in that country is illegal because such war and armed conflict are violative of laws and treaties of the United States and the U.S. Constitution."

★ ★ ★

Judge Lloyd H. Burke ruled that a restraining order "would be an obvious intrusion into the essential function of the Army."

Johnson Invites New Leader of India to Washington

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Johnson today invited India's new prime minister, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, to visit him in Washington, an informed source reported.

U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles delivered Johnson's invitation during a 25-minute meeting with Mrs. Gandhi in her office, the source said.

★ ★ ★

Bowles declined to discuss the President's letter, which was handed to Mrs. Gandhi less than 24 hours after her election to succeed the late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Shastri, who died Jan. 11, had been scheduled to visit the United States Feb. 1 to discuss American economic aid to India and the whole of U.S.-Indian relations. Mrs. Gandhi indicated Wednesday she is willing to visit the United States, saying the matter was up to President Johnson.

NO DATE GIVEN

There was no indication that Johnson had suggested a time for the visit. Mrs. Gandhi had said only that it must come after she is sworn in as prime minister, now scheduled for Monday.

However, she is likely to be immediately preoccupied with problems at home. India's opposition parties indicated today that she will come under heavy attack soon.

★ ★ ★

Despite her Congress party's overwhelming majority in Parliament, a serious political attack would greatly complicate her task of seeking solutions for India's immense economic and foreign policy problems.

Of all the opposition groups, only the pro-Moscow Communists published the customary congratulations on Mrs. Gandhi's election Wednesday.

OPENLY BITTER

Other political factions were openly bitter that the governing Congress party had given the nod to Jwaharlal Nehru's 48-year-old daughter.

★ ★ ★

Socialist leader Ram Manohar Lohia declared: "We will have a pretty face for a time and she will be burdened with the weight of her father's and Mr. Shastri's misdeeds. To that we can safely add the burden of her own misdeeds."

★ ★ ★

M. R. Masani, leader of the right-wing Swantantra party said Congress party leaders had shown "ghastly and complete contempt" for the democratic process by running roughshod over Mrs. Gandhi's opposition within her own party.

Backed by party king makers, Mrs. Gandhi defeated rightist Morarji Desai 350-169 when Congress party members of Parliament elected a new majority leader. She was automatically asked to form a new government and will be sworn in as prime minister on Monday.

CLOSELY WATCHED

The conservative Praja Socialist party warned Mrs. Gandhi it will be watching her selection of cabinet ministers because "much will depend on the colleagues she chooses."

Some opposition leaders said Mrs. Gandhi will be controlled by the politicians who put her in office. V. R. Pandit, Bombay leader of the Hindu rightist Jan Sangh party said she would make a "glamourous but weak and vulnerable prime minister."

★ ★ ★

Much of the opposition's fire was directed at Shastri's last foreign policy move — and Mrs. Gandhi's promise to defend that move.

This is the Tashkent declaration Shastri signed Jan. 10, the day before he died, with President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan. They pledged to seek a peaceful solution to the differences which have taken their two countries to war twice since 1947.

PACT RAPPED

Right-wing Hindu groups especially attacked the agreement, calling it a danger to India's security and an infringement upon its honor.

★ ★ ★

In her first news conference after he election, she said she would continue the policies of nonalignment and socialism her father established for India.

"Mr. Shastri was continuing the basic policies of my father and the accepted policies of the Congress party," she said. "I cannot naturally deviate from the policies which have been passed by our party.

"We should try to create what my father called a climate of peace. We should encourage the spirit of Tashkent and see that we have peace at home and also abroad, if possible."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gandhi said she favors President Johnson's Viet Nam peace offensive since she supports any move for peace anywhere.

Student Song of Viet Cong

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — Larry Sullivan, 22, of Seminole, Tex., waxed poetic at the final examinations starting today at Midwestern University:

If I fail this course, it will disappoint mom.
She will be getting letters from South Viet Nam.
I know that to you it is just a trifle,
But mom doesn't like me to carry a rifle.
I know where I'll be if my answers come wrong:
I'll be taking my class notes from the Viet Cong.

Board to Eye Site Purchase

The Waterford Township Board of Education tonight will consider acquisition of 4¼ acres of property adjacent to Stringham Elementary School, 4350 Elizabeth Lake.

★ ★ ★

The land is designed for recreational use, according to school officials.

Subsequently, the school system will be eligible for 50 per cent federal assistance under terms of the open space land grant act, providing the purchase is approved.

In other business, Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe is scheduled to complete his two-part curriculum report entitled "Developing a Significant School System."

★ ★ ★

Discussion will continue on the proposed development of one or more high school athletic fields.

LUXURIOUS LIVING AT SPECIAL SAVINGS

This is highly styled, sophisticated furniture that tastefully retains the charm of French authenticity, yet is scaled for today's homes. Note the decorative molded wood ornament applied to the top drawers and accented with authentically designed hardware. Flowing simulated rout lines on the face of each drawer give a graceful look which contributes to the design theme. Quality construction with a mar, scratch, stain resistant, plasticized finish. Double center guided drawers guaranteed not to stick. Hand rubbed tops.

South opened with 1♣. For rest of bidding and opening lead, see article.

By JACOBY & SON

One West player in the trials made a super-light takeout double with the West hand.

JACOBY

Such doubles are decidedly not recommended and this one really exploded in West's face when Percy Sheardown and Bruce Elliot of Toronto reached three no-trump.

Three no-trump is not a very good contract. As a matter of fact, a heart opening and spade shift would set the hand three tricks but West's double had elicited a spade response from East and West opened his fourth best spade.

South let this ride to his queen. Then he knocked out the ace of clubs and proceeded to make his contract with four clubs, three diamonds and two spades.

At four tables North closed the bidding with a limit jump raise to three clubs. One South player made four clubs when West opened a spade. The others just made their contract.

★ ★ ★

The other four North players responded one no-trump. Three of them played there and went down one trick when East made his normal opening lead of the deuce of spades.

The top East-West score came when West reopened with two clubs after North's one no-trump was passed to him. He was playing this as a delayed, light takeout double so East bid two spades.

North competed to three clubs, whereupon East continued to threespades. This was decidedly a doubtful contract but the trumps lay right for East and he was able to make the necessary nine tricks by dint of careful play.

♥♣ CARD Sense ♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

What do you do?

A—Bid six hearts. Once you bid Blackwood and find that your side has enough aces for six, you must go to six.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five diamonds to show one ace, your partner bids five hearts to show two aces. What do you do now?

Rift Is Denied by Senate's 2 Top Dems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's top two Democrats — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and his assistant, Russell B. Long — have denied published reports of a rift.

Long took the floor Wednesday to denounce what he called press speculation and pledge his support to Mansfield.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield in turn said there have been such stories "ever since the Long-Mansfield team came into being" and added: "There has never been anything under the table between Sen. Long and myself, and there never will be."

Neither senator singled out any story, but a Wednesday column by Rowland Evans and Robert Novak said Long tried to challenge a Mansfield appointive power.

★ ★ ★

The columnists attributed their report to a Mansfield aide.

An all-time high of 5.4 million students are enrolled this year in U.S. colleges and universities.

Dirksen Raps High Court on School Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen has assailed the Supreme Court for its decisions regarding school prayers.

He told the Washington chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalistic society, yesterday: "I can see no evil in children who want to sing that God is great and to thank him for their blessings.

"Isn't it strange that in this country as prayer goes down, crime goes up? This high and august court puts thumbs down on prayer."

Dirksen apparently referred to a Supreme Court action of last month in his reference to children who want to sing that God is great.

★ ★ ★

The parents of 21 New York City kindergarten children had asked the court to consider a ban by the school principal against the saying of traditional prayers. The high court declined to hear the case.

★ ★ ★

Earlier, a three-judge U.S. Circuit Court had ruled that school authorities "acted well within their power."

007's Girl Is Stolen; Suspect 'Light-Fingers'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Goldfinger painted them and Spectre agents preyed on them, but few have beaten secret agent James Bond out of his girls. Somebody did yesterday.

A classified advertisement offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of whoever stole a picture of one of Bond's slightly clad girls from the marquee of a local theater.

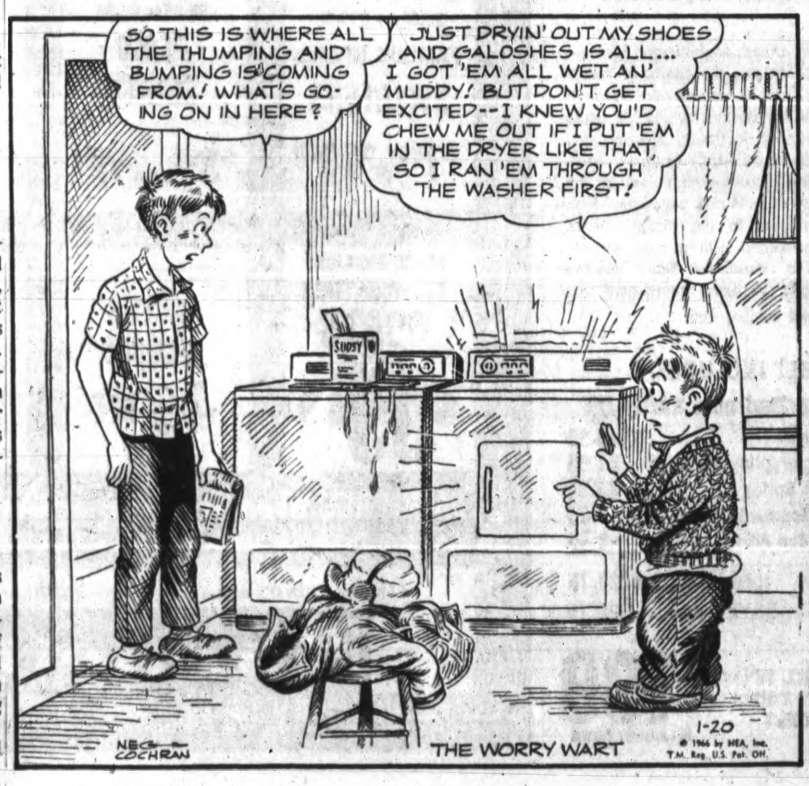

Streets Are 'Loaded'

BERLIN (AP) — Money is lying around on West Berlin streets — and people keep turning it in. That is the report of the police who say their lost and found department has on hand a number of wallets containing between 200 and 300 marks — $50 to $75 — valuable rings and a gold bracelet.

Trading Fairly Active

Most Stocks Drift Indecisively

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks drifted indecisively today in fairly active trading.

Fractional changes even among some more active stocks were the rule. Most of the list moved listlessly.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler was active and up about a point in a narrowly mixed automotive group.

Rails were fractionally lower. A second union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, raised the spectre of a major rail strike crisis.

GAINS FRACTION

Actively traded Roan Selection Trust gained a fraction after a delayed opening. The copper-mining concern signed an agreement with mine workers in Zambia.

Carborundum advanced more than 2 points after directors proposed a 2-for-1 split of the company's stock.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off .1 at 368.4, with industrials up .1, rails off .3 and utilities up .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up 1.12 at noon, at 992.26.

PROPOSED SPLIT

Atlantic Coast Line advanced almost 2 points after directors proposed a 3-for-1 split.

Boeing shot up more than 5 points to lead an otherwise irregular aircraft group.

★ ★ ★

Electronics were mixed. Raytheon, expected to report higher 1965 earnings and defense business, was up a point or so. Zenith was off about 2. RCA was fractionally lower.

Prices were higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex ran up about 6 points. Barnes Engineering and Duval Corp. gained a point or so. National Video rose more than a point after boosting its dividend. Williams Brothers fell more than a point.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Treasury and corporate bonds were mostly unchanged.

Judgeship Bid Is Announced

Robert J. Turner, Ferndale city attorney and a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, has announced he will be a candidate for circuit judge in the fall election.

Turner, 41, has served as legal counsel for the city since 1962 and has been a supervisor for three years.

★ ★ ★

He was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for state representative in 1960.

A graduate of Wayne State University Law School, Turner is a partner in the Ferndale law firm of Turner, Meade and Wilson.

Soviet Fleet Fishing in California Gulf

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet fishing fleet has entered the Gulf of California for the first time and is fishing experimentally for anchovies, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

Soviet fishermen and scientists "will also fish experimentally in tropical waters for mackerel, sardines and other fish and will prepare recommendations for large-scale fishing at that area," Tass said.

Ex-King Out of Hospital

CANNES, France (AP) — Retired King Leopold III of Belgium today left the hospital where he had been confined since Jan. 11 for treatment of injuries received in an automobile accident.

Had 40-Year Career

Phony Doctor: I'm a Genius

DENVER (UPI) — A victim of his latest ruse calls "Dr." Arthur Osborne Phillips one of the most remarkable medical phonies of all time."

And from his jail cell, "Dr." Phillips replies: "I'm a genius. I had to be a genius to do all that I did with no formal medical education."

"All" he did was hoodwink the federal government and authorities in 10 states during a 40-year-career as a phony doctor.

★ ★ ★

The 70-year-old man's latest caper was working on delicate research into the surgical use of the laser light at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver. His associates there said he "did competent work."

Phillips showed up in Colorado recently, convinced officials at the medical center he was a doctor and went to work. He made the mistake, though of going to a convention in California at which someone recognized him.

ARREST MADE

After some inquiry, authorities in Colorado were notified and the good "doctor" was arrested 10 days ago at his home in Wheat Ridge on a charge of violating parole from a Kansas prison.

But now Kansas doesn't want him. W. C. Henry, chairman of the Kansas State Parole Board, said Phillips had completed his parole. The "want" apparently was a mistake.

Colorado authorities don't plan to prosecute for the medical center escapade, and State Parole Director Edward W. Grout said Phillips could go free as soon as written notification came from Kansas that he was not wanted. That could be today or tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

According to prison records, Phillips' career began when he worked as an orderly during World War I for a Dr. James Herman Phillips of Doro, Ala.

TOOK OVER NAME

The real Phillips died in 1920 and the phony Phillips, according to the records, took over his name, medical shingle and license.

Then began a long career that was interrupted by jail terms in California, Kansas, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Idaho, Arizona, Illinois, Washington and Colorado.

While working as a "surgeon" with the Civilian Conservation Corps in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho in the 1940s, Phillips performed 32 successful appendectomies.

★ ★ ★

His worst "stretch" came about because of dirty fingernails. In 1951, Phillips was involved in a trial of an automobile accident damage suit. An insurance agent noticed that he had dirty fingernails and proved that he was not a doctor.

LONG SENTENCE

Phillips was sentenced to 15-20 years, not for medical law violations, but for perjury.

In 1942, the American Medical Journal described his career as "one of the most amazing stories of medical imposture that has ever appeared in the pages of this publication."

His training career consisted of his work as an army orderly, a position as a drugstore clerk and a few courses in chemistry from correspondence schools.

★ ★ ★

An official at the Denver medical center, who understandably wanted to remain anonymous, described him as "one of the most remarkable medical phonies of all time."

Despite that dubious plaudet and his desire to go back into laser research, "Dr." Phillips said he probably will bring his career to an end.

"I guess I'll just do nothing," he said.

Alleged Theft Brings Arrest of Two Youths

A 17-year-old youth and his young companion were arrested yesterday by Pontiac and Waterford Township police for the alleged theft of nearly $3,000 in cash and checks from a service station.

★ ★ ★

Held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of larceny from a building is Lawrence C. Tiernan of 508 Harper.

A 15-year-old youth apprehended with Tiernan was released to the custody of his parents.

The two, both students at Pontiac Northern High School, were picked up by Waterford Township police just after noon yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac police said the pair admitted taking a steel cash box yesterday morning from Bingley's Sunoco Service at 1153 N. Perry.

In the box was $2,940 in cash and personal checks, according to the owner of the station.

Shots Crackle in Latin Capital

Dominican Gunfire Is Mystery; One Killed

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Gunfire crackled through the streets of downtown Santo Domingo in a series of unexplained shootings Tuesday and Wednesday nights, killing at least one person and wounding five.

★ ★ ★

Archbishop Emanuel Clarizio, the Vatican's chief diplomat here, narrowly escaped injury in one incident. No Americans were injured in the gunfighting.

Luis Quezada, an official of the Education Ministry, was shot and killed last night as he slept in his home in Santo Domingo's "rebel zone." A baby girl in the room was slightly wounded.

Quezada's neighbors said they heard a motorcycle roaring away from his home moments after the shooting, apparently carrying the killer on a getaway dash.

★ ★ ★

Ex-President Juan Bosch's 29-year-old artist son, Leon was found lying on a downtown street Tuesday night with bullets in his abdomen and one arm.

RECOVERING

He was reported in "critical but improving" condition last night after emergency surgery in a hospital here.

Informed sources said it was not yet certain how, why or even when young Bosch was shot.

A few hours before he was found, there was a gun battle at the home of one of Juan Bosch's bodyguards. Two Dominican Air Force officers and the bodyguard's wife were wounded.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the ex-president said there was no connection between young Bosch's wounds and the battle at the bodyguard's home.

ON THE SCENE

Clarizio, who is the papal nuncio in the Dominican Republic, went to the bodyguard's home after the shooting, apparently to inquire into the incident.

High Court to Hear County Judges' Suit

The Michigan Supreme Court next month will hear oral arguments in a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of a state law that extended the terms of two Oakland County circuit judges.

★ ★ ★

The high court this week informed Judges Philip Pratt and James S. Thorburn that it has accepted their application to bypass the Michigan Court of Appeals in the matter.

In December, Macomb County Circuit Judge George Deneweth ruled that the legislation, adopted in October, was valid.

The state statute extended the terms of Pratt and Thorburn, along with three other judges, two in Wayne and one in Washtenaw counties, until 1970.

Shortly after Deneweth's decision, Pratt and Thorburn appealed to the Michigan Court of Appeals and then filed an application to bypass it.

NEEED QUICK DECISION

They feel that the matter has to be decided quickly because of a requirement that incumbent judges file an affidavit of intent to seek reelection by April 1, if they are seeking reelection in 1966.

Pratt and Thorburn had originally intended to run for reelection this year along with the county's four other incumbent circuit judges.

Pratt said yesterday that the Supreme Court has not yet scheduled a date for the oral arguments, but that he expected it would be during the week of Feb. 7.

Two Charged in Attempted City Break-In

Two Pontiac men have been charged with attempted breaking and entering after their apprehension early yesterday outside Eagles Lodge No. 1230 at 289 Montclam.

★ ★ ★

William Cook, 23, and William Hearn, 26, both of 142 Dresden, demanded examination this morning at their arraignment in Municipal Court.

They were ordered to appear for examination Jan. 26 and are held at the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

The two were arrested by Pontiac police following discovery of a jimmied door at the rear of the lodge.

★ ★ ★

Hearn was stopped as he left the rear of the building. Lying nearby patrolman found a black pry bar, a loaded 38-caliber automatic pistol and a pair of rubber gloves.

PICKED UP

Cook, seen in the vicinity of the lodge earlier, was picked up after Hearn admitted having been with him.

★ ★ ★

In Cook's car, police discovered a number of burglary tools.

Driver Is Charged in Woman's Death

An Avon Township man, whose car allegedly ran a stop sign in the death of a 45-year-old Pontiac woman Dec. 5, has been charged with negligent homicide.

Lloyd J. Barger, 45, of 2876 Walsh was arrested yesterday by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and is being held at the county jail pending arraignment.

The victim, Mary C. Sanchez of 426 Midway, was a passenger in Barger's car when the vehicle collided with two others at the intersection of Ortonville and Oak Hill roads, Independence Township.

Three other persons injured in the accident recovered.

City Panel to Discuss Public Housing Law

A panel discussion of Pontiac's city ordinance prohibiting public housing will be conducted Sunday by the Pontiac Democratic Club at a 2 p.m. meeting in the union hall of Local 596, 821 Baldwin.

Panelists will include George Googasian, county Democratic chairman, and Robert Jackson, chairman of Oakland County's 19th Congressional District.

Dogs to Go Greyhound

CHINO, Calif. (UPI) — The will of Ernest Uhl, a bachelor who died last October, was filed for probate yesterday and specified that his dogs, Buck Shot and Queenie, were to receive $5,000 worth of Greyhound Co. stock.

Circuit Court to Get Manslaughter Case

A 25-year-old Pontiac man was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday for arraignment Jan. 26 on a charge of manslaughter.

Eugene F. Douglas of 24 Bloomfield is accused of the fatal stabbing Jan. 12 of a 20-year-old youth in a tavern fight.

★ ★ ★

The victim, Jesse Anderson of 168 Crestwood, died about an hour after receiving knife wounds about the head, neck and shoulders in what witnesses described as a "scuffle."

Douglas was released after posting $200 bond.

'Love' Spells Trouble, Puts Finger on Man

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Police officer Joe Smith figured that anyone with "L-O-V-E" tattooed on his knuckles must be wanted for something, so he made a quick check on a stranger in a coffee shop.

★ ★ ★

Death of Area Man Is Ruled a Suicide

The gunshot death of Wayne Webster, 25, of 1299 Penarth, Commerce Township, has been termed a suicide by Oakland County Sheriff's detectives.

Webster's body was found lying on top a 30-30 rifle in his basement yesterday after a neighbor told deputies he had not seen Webster since Jan. 2.

At County Meeting

Doctors Hear Proponent of Hypnosis

Daydreaming and effective prayer are two forms of hypnosis.

Area doctors were told this last night at the regular meeting of the Oakland County Medical Society at the Kingsley Inn.

Dr. William J. Bryan, executive director of the American Institute of Hypnosis, said that science had not yet settled on a definition of hypnosis, but "we know a lot about it."

The west coast physician described hypnosis as the ability to concentrate one's mind to a great extent.

★ ★ ★

He declared the study of hypnosis was the study of human motivation.

RULE BEHAVIOR

Bryan said it was not the suggestion but the power behind the suggestion that dictated human behavior.

According to the OCMS speaker, the human mind is not a mass, but an organ of energy in the brain. He offered that distinction between the brain and the mind.

As an organ of energy, the mind can be divided into smaller units of "mind power."

★ ★ ★

He said a suggestion, as it runs through the mind, may receive a certain number of units of so-called mind power.

CERTAIN MANNER

Thus, when a particular suggestion receives a great number of units of mind power, the individual behaves in a certain manner.

In hypnosis, according to Bryan, all the units of mind power are focused on a single suggestion.

For example, he said an individual may drive somewhere while concentrating on a specific knotty problem.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly, he arrives at his destination and realizes he can't remember driving the last ten blocks. He has amnesia for the ten blocks.

A PHENOMENA

Bryan said this was the phenomena of hypnosis.

Three things happen in hypnosis: increased concentration, increased relaxation and increased susceptibility to suggestion.

The visiting speaker, who is to conduct a three-day postgraduate course on hypnosis in Detroit, claimed emotion concentrates the mind.

★ ★ ★

"You don't think; you react." This, he claimed, is shown when people react in a crisis situation.

BACK DOCTRINE

The doctor noted that Michigan law recognizes the doctrine of the irrestible impulse.

He said there were 25,000 operations a year done under hypnosis.

Offering further illustration of how hypnosis and the mind works, he said that in employing sypnosis for anesthetic purposes, there were no units of mind power left to absorb pain.

★ ★ ★

He told the OCMS, and the women's auxiliary, of a four-hour operation conducted with hypnosis on a man in his 70's by "putting him on a beach."

KNOW HYPNOSIS

If for no other reason, physicians should know hypnosis in order to make use of some of its methods, he said.

These he listed as the power of the positive suggestion and use of indirect suggestions rather than direct suggestions.

"Words," he reminded the assembled doctors, "cause emotion in people. They cause organs to react."

Effective communication, according to Bryan, is the art of medicine.

Area Firm Sued on Wage Issue

An injunction suit against Birmingham Printing and Office Equipment Co., 369 E. Maple, has been filed in U.S. District Court, Detroit.

The action was taken under the Fair Labor Standards Act by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz through Solicitor of Labor Charles Donahue.

The complaint alleges that the corporation failed to pay many employes the required time and one-half overtime pay for hours worked over 40 per work-week since March 1, 1964.

The suit also contends that there was failure to maintain adequate and accurate records of hours worked and wages paid employes, and violations of the interstate commerce shipment provisions of the law.

★ ★ ★

A judgment is being sought to permanently enjoin and restrain the corporation from future violations, including the restraint of any withholding of payment of overtime compensation found by the court to be due employes.

Legal action followed an investigation of the corporation by the Detroit East office of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, under the supervision of Arthur H. Buchman.

Says Aid Boost May Be Needed to Help Elderly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-poverty Director Sargent Shriver says increased government aid may be the best answer to the problems of many of the elderly poor.

Shriver told the Senate Special Committee on the Aging yesterday that his Office of Economic Opportunity is aiming specific programs at the oldsters, but that these have a marginal effect at best.

★ ★ ★

Shriver said it is difficult to find job opportunities for the majority of the elderly poor because they lack the education and skills and aren't able to take the necessary training.

Shriver said it is only through "direct support that the majority of the aged will be able to live in decency and dignity."

FALSIFIED — Melody Patterson, 16, won a leading role in television's "F Troop" series because she falsified her age. She knew producers avoided hiring under-18 performers because the law requires them to spend three hours a day in school. So she added two years to her age when she applied for the job. Her secret came out when a rival told on her, but she kept the job.

Actress Lied Age, Won 'F Troop' Role

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Women have been falsifying their ages for eons, but how many have won movie contracts by doing so?

THOMAS

Melody Patterson is one girl who has learned that a little bit of lying goes a long way toward success in the studios. Not that she makes a habit of it.

"I was tired of being told I was too young for every part I tried out for," she declared. "I was 15½ when I had an interview for a role in the television series 'Hank.' They told me to come back when I was 18."

It's not that Hollywood is against youth. Far from it. The problem concerns economics. California law dictates that under-18 performers must attend three hours of school daily while working in films. Because television schedules must proceed at a breakneck pace, producers avoid this interruption of the workday by hiring juveniles only when necessary.

★ ★ ★

"When I was interviewed for a role in 'F Troop,' I said I was 18," Melody continued. "And you know what? I got the job."

The ruse was not difficult to pull off. Melody is a big girl who could easily masquerade in the upper teens. She is also a beauty, with a sunny, outgoing personality. She won the feminine lead in the Warner Bros. series over actresses as aged as 25.

Melody said she forged her birth certificate to carry out the deception. She even had her contract approved in court as an 18-year-old, "but I was shaking in my boots and praying that I wouldn't be discovered." She wasn't.

Melody might have carried off her plot except for the duplicity of a jealous rival. Her real age was known by an actress who failed to get the "F Troop" role. She blabbed to the authorities.

Now a sober 16, Melody might be expected to be contrite about what she has done. She isn't in the least.

"I'd do it again," she admitted. "I asked the producers if they would have hired me if they had known I had to go to school. They said, 'Of course not.'"

School is Melody's penance, and she cracks the books every morning in the Warner's schoolhouse. She hopes to follow the footsteps of a previous student there—Natalie Wood.

Melody springs from a lively background. Her father was a professional gambler —"but he quit when I was 6 because he didn't want me to have to tell my friends what he did as I was growing up." He is now a machinist in a missiles plant.

Her mother was a movie dancer and doubled for Joan Crawford in several films. "Once a male dancer fell on mother's toe and broke it; Miss Crawford took her to the hospital," Melody reported. She is full of such spritely information.

GRIM AFTERMATH — Photographs taken by firemen at the scene of a fire are studied afterwards for clues to possible causes and ways to improve fire-fighting methods and to help save lives in future fires. This is the grim aftermath of a death-dealing fire from the files of the Newark, N.J., Fire Department.

Camera Angles

Fire Lessons on Film

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Fire can be either a blessing or a scourge of mankind depending on whether it is under — or out of —control.

When it is a destroyer, it takes a tremendous toll of lives and property.

The men who fight fires, therefore, risk their health and their lives to minimize loss to our communities and to protect or save the homes, belongings and lives of the public.

Photography is becoming an increasingly important tool in this continuing civic fight against destructive fire.

★ ★ ★

With the help of still and motion pictures taken when fires are in progress, fire departments can study and improve their firefighting techniques, pinpoint the causes or possibility of arson, search out fire violations and train new firemen recurits.

MORE MEMBERS

Photography's importance is evidenced by a growing membership in the International Fire Photographers Association, all trained in photography.

With about 250 municipal fire departments in the country interested in fire photography, the lead for a coordinated firemen's organization was started in Chicago, sparkplugged by Battalion Chief George Schuller.

The Chicago Fire Department has a full-time Photography Division under his leadership with three officers and eight men, a well-equipped darkroom and two mobile units in fire-engine-red station wagons.

★ ★ ★

The association's drive to train firemen in proper photographic procedures has led to branches in Newark, N. J., Houston, Tex., Memphis, Tenn., Phoenix, Ariz., Los Angeles, Calif., Hagerstown, Md., and Hamilton, Ontario, to name a few.

KEY OBJECTIVES

The IFPA program, outlined to me by Capt. Robert B. Meeker of the Newark Fire Department Photo Division, has these objectives:

1. Photography of fires . . . for study and evaluation to improve present methods.

2. To detect arson . . .by recording area of origin, possible cause and means of spreading and to provide court evidence of arson-associated crimes like murder, burglary or fraud.

★ ★

3. Deaths at fires . . . some can be prevented in future by study and evaluation of pictures of bodies which show where and how they died.

LAW VIOLATIONS

4. Violations . . . of fire laws may be uncovered and evidence provided for better fire law enforcement.

5. Training . . . and education of recruits and trainees is easier with visual material.

6. Public relations . . . to inform the public, provide photos for the press and to present a factual image of firemen at their posts.

7. Records . . . identification equipment is a natural function of photography.

HAVE EQUIPMENT

Equipment is usually provided in fire department photo divisions. However, some firemen use their own personal equipment because they are familiar with its use.

There is no one universal best in fire photography.

Most photo divisions have a 4x5 Speed Graphic but they also have 35mm cameras, 2¼x2x single or twin-lens reflexes and 22x-2¾ view cameras as well as 16mm movie cameras.

★ ★ ★

Flash or strobe units are vital for shooting night fires.

ADVANTAGE

A knowledge of photography equipment, of processing and of making acceptable black-and-white enlargements is a great advantage to those firemen seeking assignment to the photo divisions.

But in all cases, the men are considered firefighters first and photographers second.

Either way, the aim is to defeat the commonenemy —fire — and to protect the community.

And photography's roll towards this objective is proceeding with the speed of a three-alarm fire.

'Curb Births or Become Cannibals'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee was warned yesterday that unless drastic birth control steps are taken, the time may come when "men will have to kill and eat one another."

Four noted scientists agreed that delay could lead to consequences "disastrous for mankind and society."

★ ★ ★

They testified at the reopening of hearings by the Government Operations subcommittee, whose chairman, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, said that in the seven months since hearings started last June, the world's population has increased 35 million.

Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, one of the four Nobel laureates, quoted Sir Howard Florey, discoverer of penicillin, as having said if the present population explosion continues there will be only one square yard available on the earth's surface for each human being in 600 years.

REACHED SOONER

"If the acceleration of increase goes on," Szent-Gyorgyi testified, "this stage will be reached much sooner, and men will have to kill and eat one another."

The witnesses, led by Dr. E. L. Tatum, lined up in support of legislation by Gruening to authorize the government to coordinate and distribute birth control information here and abroad to those who ask it.

★ ★ ★

Tatum, 1958 Nobel Prize-winner for medicine and physiology, associated with the Rockefeller Institute, and Szent-Gyorgyi, 1937 prize-winner in medicine, now working at the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., were backed by Dr. Rickenson W. Richards Jr. of Columbia University, 1956 winner in medicine and physiology, and Dr. Polykarp Kusch, also of the Columbia faculty and a 1955 winner in physics.

A Bottle for Friend Proves Key to Jail

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI) — Roy Anguyano told the jailer his friend, being held in Monterey County Jail, needed the contents of the hair oil bottle he was carrying.

That's when the jailer became suspicious. He looked inside, and found marijuana. Anguyano, 27, was booked for possession.

Hope for Quick Viet Peace Is Fading

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The possibility of early negotiations to end the Vietnamese war appears to be fading rapidly as President Johnson's public peace offensive draws to a close without any favorable response from North Viet Nam.

Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman — the first of Johnson's peace emissaries to fly abroad and the last to come home — returned last night with Secretary of State Dean Rusk from the Far East.

Their arrival set the stage for top level conferences on U.S. military and diplomatic strategy in the next phase of this struggle. These may be held next week.

The central questions before President Johnson are whether to start bombing North Viet Nam targets again and whether to escalate the war in other respects.

Rusk and Harriman told newsmen upon their arrival at Andrews Air Force Base that nations around the world now understand the U.S. aim is to bring the war to a peaceful conclusion.

MUCH CLEARER

"I have the impression that the situation is much clearer to nations right around the world and the issues are there for all to see," Rusk said.

"Everyone now generally understands that the obstacle to peace in Southeast Asia is not the United States."

Harriman said governments in each capital "volunteered to do what they could in their own way with Moscow, Hanoi and Peking to achieve a peaceful solution.

"The decision is now up to Hanoi," he said, "and I think it is fair to say that people of the world understand that the American people have the hope of bringing this to a peaceful conclusion."

MOVE UNKNOWN

If Johnson has any new public peace moves in mind, he has given no sign of them so far. Officials say, however, that secret diplomatic efforts are continuing and will go on in the future.

That intention was indicated by Johnson in a message to Congress yesterday asking for a supplemental appropriation of $12.76 billion to help finance the war in Viet Nam.

"We are currently engaged in a major effort to open a road to a peaceful settlement," he said. "But until there is a response — and until the aggression ends — we must do all that is necessary to support our allies and our own fighting forces in Viet Nam."

★ ★ ★

State Department officials said many channels to North Viet Nam are still open and will remain so regardless of developments in the war. But a spokesman told a news conference the North Vietnamese

B52 in Crash Said Carrying N-Weapon

MADRID (UPI) — The U. S. Air Force confirmed today that the B52 bomber which crashed Monday after colliding with a tanker plane was carrying at least one unarmed nuclear weapon.

"The SAC bomber which was engaged in a refueling operation off the coast of Spain and suffered an accident with a KC135 (tanker) was carrying unarmed nuclear armament," a 16th Air Force announcement said.

"Radiological surveys have established that there is no danger to public health or safety as a result of this accident."

The official announcement ended more than three days of U. S. silence on whether the B52 was carrying nuclear weapons when it fell Monday after colliding with the tanker.

★ ★ ★

Unofficial reports said the plane was carrying several nuclear devices and that all but one had been recovered. American airmen equipped with Geiger counters have been carrying out a top-secret search near the village of Palomares on the southeastern Spanish coast.

DIPLOMATS CONCERNED

An informed source said U.S. diplomats were concerned over the possibility the Spanish public might learn of the news that American warplanes with nuclear armament on board were flying over Spanish territory.

The Spanish government clamped a complete blackout throughout the country on news that a nuclear bomber was involved in the crash, which killed seven men. Four crewmen of the seven-man B52 bomber crew bailed out and were rescued.

Hundreds of U.S. Air Force personnel resumed the search early this morning for a nuclear device missing after the crash of the bomber.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the area near the village of Palomares, which is about a mile from the coast, was still cordoned off and 400 airmen were involved in the search.

HUNT PARTS OF PLANE

When asked by United Press International what the men were searching for, the spokesman replied, "parts of the plane."

Residents of this tiny village were unaware of the threat of radiation contamination in their backyard. But as word spread from villager to villager, many of them voiced severe criticism against the government for allowing U.S. nuclear bombers to fly over Spanish territory.

Although American bombers with nuclear capability have crashed in the past, this was the first known crash of an atomic plane in Europe.

Small Clashes Occur During Viet Armistice

Fighting Is Scattered During Festivities of Oriental New Year

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Separate cease-fires proclaimed by the Communists and the allies came to Viet Nam today amid the jubilation and solemnity of the lunar new year holiday. But scattered fighting erupted after the hours set by each side for the start of the brief peace.

A flurry of Viet Cong attacks came about midnight, when the four-day truce announced by the Communists was supposed to begin. But a South Vietnamese military spokesman said his government had decided the Viet Cong truce did not begin until 1 a.m.

The first incident after the commencement of the 78-hour allied truce at noon occurred seven miles west of Tuy Hoa, along the central coast, when a Viet Cong company fired on men of the U. S. 101st Airborne Brigade at 1:50 p.m.

The paratroopers returned the shots, killing one Viet Cong but incurring no injuries to themselves, a military spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

CONG ENCOUNTERS

U. S. Marines encountered the Viet Cong 17 times in the 24 hours leading up to the allied truce and killed two and wounded four in the skirmishes, according to reports from Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

While Vietnamese of all political persuasion joined the national celebration, it was a tense holiday for Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's seven-month-old government.

It was reported to have arrested a number of junior army officers for allegedly plotting its overthrow and to be keeping two generals under surveillance.

U.S. May Draft Some Collegians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has indicated some college students may face induction if draft calls continue to run above 30,000 monthly.

"I think 30,000 as a diet is too great for us, that's 360,000 a year," Hershey said, apparently meaning that if calls exceed that figure college students who fail to meet specified requirements may be drafted. Monthly draft calls lately have been running around 40,000.

As for the requirements, Hershey said "the odds are strong" there will be a return to a system of testing and consideration of class standing, as was used during the Korean War, in granting deferments to college students.

The draft director met during the day with eastern and midwestern state draft directors.

★ ★ ★

He said a decision will have to be made within the next 10 days — by Feb. 1 — in order for any testing to begin before the end of the current academic year. The results would apply then for the 1966-67 college year.

MAY BE GUIDES

Local draft boards could use the results as guides in deciding on student deferments. But Hershey emphasized that the local boards are not required to follow the test results.

★ ★ ★

Asked if students who failed to meet the required passing grade on the test or to maintain the stipulated standing in the upper portion of their class would be drafted, Hershey said he could not estimate when they might be ordered inducted.

'LBJ Economy Plan Doomed'

Romney Is Critical of Johnson Policies

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan criticized the Johnson Administration's economic policies yesterday and said that in the fight against inflation, they "are inconsistent, expedient and deceptive . . . and doomed to failure."

In a speech at a Republican fund raising dinner, Romney said America's most obvious success is economic.

But, he added, few Americans understand the nation's fundamental and unique economic principles.

He listed four of these as competition, voluntary cooperation, incentive and progress-sharing.

"These four . . . are the basic principles which are the strength of the American economy," he said.

"And these are the principles which the national administration consistently ignores, in the name of a spurious 'national interest' which is really only a cloak for short-run political expediency."

Precautions Taken to Check TB Spread

DETROIT (AP) — Health authorities took precautions today to prevent the spread of a tuberculosis epidemic uncovered at a Garden City nursery.

With 14 children, aged 3 to 6, under treatment, officials urged families who had been in contact with the youngsters to take TB tests.

Meanwhile, a demand for a legislative investigation and the setting up of new safeguards was heard at Lansing.

Former Mayor James Tierney of Garden City, home of Hansel & Gretel Day Nursery where the epidemic was found, called for legislative steps.

Tierney, a Democratic representative, proposed creation of a special health committee to serve as a watchdog on nurseries and "other establishments serving the public."

He proposed in a House resolution that a five-member group be set up to function from now until the end of the year.

The 14 infected children all attended the Garden City nursery.

Thirteen are patients at Maybury Sanatorium. The 14th is an outpatient.

A woman teacher at the nursery, once treated for tuberculosis, was identified as the source of the epidemic. She is hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Tierney expressed "shock and alarm" in making his proposal.

YEARLY CHECKUP

In the Senate, Edward Robinson, Democratic member from Dearborn, said the nursery incident emphasized need for a "yearly checkup" for TB by all persons.

Robinson urged establishment of one lung disease hospital in Michigan.

He said that Michigan's medical strength is dissipated by having the present seven county TB sanatoriums.

February Call 125 for County

Lower Than January, but Over 1965 Rate

Oakland County draft boards will induct 125 men in February, State Selective Service Headquarters announced today. This compares to 222 this month.

★ ★ ★

Statewide, the February draft call is down 500 from February with 2,800 men scheduled for induction next month compared to 3,300 in January.

Despite the drop in February calls, induction levels are running about 10 times the totals of a year ago, according to State Selective Service Director Col. Arthur Holmes.

Holmes said the recent Pentagon announcement of increased Army and Marine Corps strength indicates draft calls will continue at a high level.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's three draft boards will provide 62 of the county's February inductees and the Farmington board will induct 33.

MEN EARMARKED

The Pontiac boards slated 71 men for January induction and 48 were earmarked for induction this month by the Farmington board.

★ ★ ★

The remaining three of the county's seven draft boards are in the Royal Oak area. Their induction schedule calls for a total of 103 in January and 30 in February.

Mercury Due Little Change

Skies will continue overcast with little change in temperature through tomorrow.

The weatherman said temperatures will range from 12 to 20 tonight. Highs predicted for tomorrow are 22 to 30. Colder, with snow flurries probable, is the outlook for Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Variable winds, generally northerly, will continue at 5 to 15 miles per hour.

Seventeen was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 1 p.m., the mercury had moved up to 25.

Sentencing Set in Fatal Knifing

Pearson Could Get Up to Life in Prison

Alan Ross Pearson Jr., 17, found guilty of second-degree murder yesterday in the stabbing of a Waterford Township youth, will be sentenced Feb. 10 at 9 a.m. by Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

★ ★ ★

Pearson was convicted by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury of killing Jeffrey Talbot, 17, of 2045 Watkins Lake, last June 27.

Pearson, of 1127 Alhi, Waterford Township had been charged with first-degree murder.

He could be sentenced to any number of years in prison, up to a maximum of life.

The jury of seven men and five women returned the verdict at 11:15 a.m.

As he left the courtroom, Pearson told newsmen, "I have butterflies in my stomach.

"It was what I had expected," said Pearson. "I had hoped for manslaughter but it just didn't work out that way."

RETURNED TO JAIL

Pearson was returned to the Oakland County Jail to await sentencing.

★ ★ ★

The case went to the jury at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday after closing arguments by Ass't. Prosecutor Bernard P. Paige and defense counsel Clarence Smith.

Pearson contended he acted in self-defense during the June 27 incident.

STRIKES TWICE—The stop sign (above) and a warning sign erected after the Jan. 3 deaths of two sisters failed to prevent an accident at the intersection of Carroll Lake and Wise roads yesterday. The driver of a car eastbound on Wise in Commerce Township failed to heed either sign, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

New Warning Sign Fails to Prevent Crash

A warning sign — newly installed at a Commerce Township intersection where two sisters were killed Jan. 3 — failed to prevent a similar collision yesterday in which both drivers escaped uninjured.

Involved in the accident at Wise and Carroll Lake Road were Mrs. D. F. Hofmeister, 40, of 5553 Leafwood, Commerce Township, and Charles L. Crandall, 57, of 186 Foxbury, Commerce Township.

The Hofmeister woman told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she failed to see either the warning sign, installed at the request of residents near the intersection, or the stop sign, as she traveled eastbound on Wise Road.

Crandall, northbound on Carroll Lake, said he was unable to avoid hitting Mrs. Hofmeister's car.

Radar Speed Trap Nets Strange Catch

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — A new radar device set up in a speed zone quickly caught three persons.

The first was Mayor Pat Dunne. He paid a $17.50 fine and with the comment that "the only way to avoid fines is not to speed."

The second person nabbed Wednesday was a policewoman.

The third was a disc jockey. He went directly to his radio station and broadcast the location of the speed zone to other drivers.

Soviets Reject New Peace Bid

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union rejected a new non-Communist plea today that it use its influence to bring North Viet Nam to the conference table.

The plea was directed to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko by Japanese Foreign Minister Etsaburo Shiina during a two-hour talk here today.

Shiina told newsmen that Gromyko told him since the United States is the "aggressor" in Viet Nam it is up to Washington to promote peace talks by stopping the fighting and evacuating its troops.

Russia itself is not in a position to mediate the crisis, Gromyko told Shiina.

★ ★ ★

Shiina's report of his meeting indicated that, despite the U. S. peace offensive and months of intensive Western pressure on the Kremlin, this nation has not changed its attitude on Viet Nam.

SOVIET POLICY

The Soviet policy is to give the North Vietnamese moral, economic and military support, while rebuffing Western attempts to enlist them in moves toward peace talks.

The Shiina-Gromyko talks — their second in two days— ranged broadly across international affairs. But 50 minutes, or nearly half their meeting, centered on Viet Nam.

Shiina said he changed the subject when it became obvious the Soviet position was adamant.

★ ★ ★

Shiina, who met earlier this month in Tokyo with roving U. S. Ambassador W. Averill Harriman, said he reported to Gromyko that the United States is ready to stop fighting when the Communists are.

ROGER H. CRIMMINS

Jaycee Award Is Announced

Roger H. Crimmins, whose activities range from the PTA to politics, last night received the distinguished service award of the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commmerce.

An account executive for R. L. Polk and Co. of Detroit, the 34-year-old honoree was listed in the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America" and the 1964-65 edition of "Leading Men in the USA."

He has received six professional achievement awards and various Jaycee honors.

LBJ Offers Aid to Nations on Population

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) — President Johnson today offered a renewed measure of American aid to nations seeking to control the size of their populations.

The chief executive presented an expanded but generalized view of birth control in heavily over-populated countries during a prepared speech saluting former President Harry S. Truman.

The occasion was a ceremony at the Truman Library here marking the establishment of a Harry S. Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace in Israel and an annual $50,000 peace award named for the former president.

At the outset, Johnson praised Truman for being "one of the world's most persistent searchers for peace" and for pioneering American foriegn aid with his "Point IV" program of 1949.

Against this background, Johnson presented his own version of foreign assistance in 1966. Based on his recent state of the union message when he called for "a major new effort . . . to improve the life of man."

Russia Plans Record Flight?

3 Take Month-Long Simulated Space Trip

MOSCOW (AP)—The government newspaper Izvestia Wednesday night described a simulated three-man space flight that lasted nearly a month.

The article gave no indication of whether the training was preparation for an actual flight of long duration.

★ ★ ★

The United States has pulled ahead of the Soviet Union in the longest manned space flight with Gemini 7, which was up for 13 days. The best Soviet effort, by Valery Bykovsky in June of 1963, lasted a little less than five days.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union has not launched a manned spaceship now since last March 18, when Alexei Leonov made the first walk in space. The long gap in the program has aroused much speculation here about what this country will try next to keep up — or surpass — the United States in the space race.

TEST PILOT

A test pilot, doctor and journalist took part in the "flight" carried out near Moscow at Star City, where the Soviet cosmonauts train. The journalist, A. Khorobrykh, wrote the Izvestia article.

★ ★ ★

He said the training included a deliberate break in communications with the control station during which the crew carried out a great variety of maneuvers.

★ ★ ★

The article described the three "cosmonauts" as lying down throughout the test. Khorobrykh said they used special training equipment to counter the desire to stand up.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the 15th day the control station ordered the men to take a "hygienic bath." They used towels scented like birch twigs and hay — reminiscent of a Russian steam bath. Their plastic toilet articles kits also contained razors and changes of underwear.

★ ★ ★

The journalist reported that after the experiment there were no noticeable changes in the organism of the trainees.

Break Ground for Addition

Ground was broken yesterday for a $500,000 addition that will double the present size of the Professional Building, 909 Woodward.

★ ★ ★

The property is owned by the Physicians Real Estate Development Corp. comprised of staff physicians at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital which is located directly across Woodward from the medical building.

General contractor for the 23,340-square-foot addition is the Schurerr Construction Co. Denyes & Associates is the architectural firm for the building.

The addition will provide for 18 more professional offices and present parking facilities will be nearly doubled.

★ ★ ★

Presently the building contains 17 professional offices, a branch office of Community National Bank and a pharmacy.

Completion is scheduled for October.

Pontiac Youth Stands Mute in Motel Holdup

A 20-year-old Pontiac youth charged in connection with an early morning holdup at the Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township yesterday stood mute at his justice court arraignment.

★ ★ ★

Preliminary examination of Roland D. Lewis, 461 Going, was scheduled for Jan. 27 by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

★ ★ ★

The armed robbery charge stems from a 4 a.m. holdup in which an empty wallet allegedly was stolen from Harry Filler of Gateway, Ohio, a traveling salesman staying at the motel, 1801 S. Telegraph.

Lewis is being held in Oakland County Jail on a $2,500 bond.

WOUNDED BY CONG — Relatives help a 15-year-old Vietnamese boy into a cart at Tam Ky after he was wounded in the leg during a Cong massacre attack on a refugee camp yesterday. At least 33 were killed and 54 wounded in the raid on the camp about 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

Peace Hopes Fade

"have shown no interest" in Johnson's peace campaign.

Such hope as remains that the North Vietnamese may still agree to negotiate is based on speculation among officials here that they would need time to change their position if, in fact, they had any intention of doing so.

From Saigon came press reports that top officials in the U.S. Embassy and military command there favored an increased war effort against the Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese forces fighting in the South as well as against North Viet Nam.

Their view was described as being that such a strategy offers the only logical hope of getting the Communists to a conference table.

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was described in these dispatches as favoring resumption of air strikes against North Viet Nam targets next week following the end of the current Vietnamese New Year holiday and whatever lull it produces in the fighting.

CRUCIAL WEEK

One reason next week is considered a crucial week for U.S. policy making: If the Communist leadership is interested in trying to reduce the level of the war, as President Johnson suggested a week ago, their intentions would show up most clearly in what they do after the holiday ends.

The general expectation is that as in the past they will return to the fight with renewed violence. Should they demonstrate instead a desire to ease off the fighting it would be considered here as an encouraging response to Johnson's proposal for scaling down the conflict even without negotiations.

Harriman was sent abroad by the President on Dec. 28. He left Washington secretly and his mission was only discovered when he arrived at his first stop, Warsaw, Poland.

★ ★ ★

With that disclosure Johnson's highly publicized peace offensive began to unfold. Harriman visited other capitals in Eastern Europe and in the Middle East and Asia.

OTHER ENVOYS

Other envoys dispatched by the President called on leaders in other parts of the world. The President reported that they had visited 30 countries in all.

Harriman, 74, linked up with Rusk in Southeast Asia as Rusk was returning by way of Thailand and South Viet Nam from the funeral of Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, which he attended with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

In New Delhi, Humphrey and Rusk conferred with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

He's a Life Saver, but Not Officially

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)— H. Lloyd King Jr., 12, won a certificate of merit from the Boy Scouts of America yesterday for saving his 5-year-old brother from drowning last May.

Last summer, Lloyd took a life-saving course from the Red Cross and flunked it. They said he could not swim well enough.

Holy Land Travel Film Slated

BIRMINGHAM — A travelogue about the Holy Land and a special children's show highlight the weekend activities planned at the Community House.

Charles Forbes Taylor will bring his film about Israel to the Community House tomorrow and Saturday.

The 8 p.m. travel film series presentation will focus on the new state where Jews are living under their own government for the first time in nearly 2,000 years.

Taylor recorded scenes along the troubled borders of Israel, in the modern city of Tel Aviv on the Mediterranean and the busy seaport of Haifa, which is also a center of industry with its cement, iron, steel, oil refining and automobile assembly plants.

★ ★ ★

The film also includes areas of Biblical interest.

HOLY LAND FOODS

Foods from the Holy Land, as well as American dishes, will be served at the 6 p.m. dinner preceding the film.

Reservations for the dinner must be made today, but none are required for the film program.

Saturday afternoon, youngsters will invade the Community House auditorium for the first children's show of 1966.

★ ★ ★

The live stage show is scheduled for 1:30 to 3 p.m.

TV PERSONALITY

It will feature television personality Jerry Booth and La-Thom the Magician.

★ ★ ★

The Community House staff advises parents to purchase tickets for the popular show in advance. Adult chaperones are provided for the program.

Among them are Frederick C. Matthaei Jr. of 876 Covington and Stephen C. Miller of 3550 Larkwood, both of Bloomfield Township, who were named to the bank's board of directors.

★ ★ ★

The others are Charles T. Hammond, 656 N. Cranbrook, Bloomfield Township and George B. Kilborne of 1045 Suffield, James C. Holmes, 1195 Willow and Donald H. Parsons, all of Birmingham.

Parsons was elected chairman at the annual meeting of the 14-member board and Kilborne was named vice chairman.

Waterford Girl Injured by Car

A 4-year-old Waterford Township girl was in a coma today with head injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when she was struck by an automobile near her home at 2368 Crane.

★ ★ ★

Donna M. Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins, apparently darted into the path of a car driven by Ronald L. Holmes, 18, of 3785 Lakewood, Waterford Township, according to township police.

Officials at Pontiac General Hospital this morning said the girl had not regained consciousness.

She was listed in serious condition.

Holmes, who told township police he was driving only 15 miles per hour, was not held.

Chiefs to Play Handy Five; Saginaw Idle

PCH Facing League's Top Point Producer in Bill Abbey

Pontiac Central can take over sole possession of first place in the Saginaw Valley Conference Friday by defeating winless Bay City Handy.

The Chiefs are tied with Saginaw. Both have 5-0 league marks. Saginaw has a nonleague basketball engagement with Flint Northwestern Friday night.

★ ★ ★

PCH and Saginaw, both 7-0 overall and ranked second and third, respectively, in this week's state Class A polls, collide head-on Tuesday at Saginaw.

Handy may be in last place, but the Wildcats will bring the top scorer in the Saginaw Valley to Pontiac. He is forward Bill Abbey who has been averaging 22 points a game.

"Abbey is one of the finest players in the Valley," said PCH coach Fred Zittel. "They have another very good player in Mel Mellor, a guard, who can hurt any opponent."

Mellor is averaging better than 14 points a game.

Zittel has been concentrating on Handy in practices this week, hoping to offset a normal tendency of the PCH players to look past a last place team to the Saginaw contest.

OTHER GAMES

Other SVC games Friday will be Flint Northern at Flint Southwestern, Midland at Flint Central, and Bay City Central at Arthur Hill.

PCH's defensive ability has impressed opponents over the years and this season is no exception. The offense has been very good, too, averaging 74.9 points a game.

Defensively, the Chiefs have held seven foes to 53.9 points a game. Midland scored 54 for the top Valley effort so far against PCH. Waterford (59) and Pontiac Northern (57) bettered the average, but both were decisively defeated.

"The boys have been playing very good defense," said Zittel, "but we know they can be better and we are constantly working on this phase of the game."

The coach is not expected to after his starting lineup of Jessie Evans, Willie Craft, Larry Platt, Eddie Pruitt and Jim McClendon. Ross Ludwick, who did not start the last contest against Flint Northern but starred as a reserve is a possible starter.

Sharp-shooting Prentice Hill is the No. 1 guard replacement.

Foss Clamps Down in Halting Grid Deal

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) —Commissioner Joe Foss, in voiding the disputed trade involving San Diego's Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison, took the fourth and final step in a get tough policy that figures to give the American Football League a more sophisticated image.

★ ★ ★

Using his sweeping power, Foss completed a series of moves Wednesday that firmly established his iron rule and likely put an end to the controversial statements that have been made to the press by various AFL personnel in recent weeks.

As a matter of fact, when the phone rang in press headquarters following Foss' latest announcement, an official taking the call jokingly answered:

NO COMMENT

"AFL press headquarters. No comment."

While it may have been a joke in press headquarters, it certainly was no joke to K. S. (Bud) Adams Jr., the Houston owner who always seems to have a Texas-sized announcement for the press.

★ ★ ★

But Foss' image changing decisions also undoubtedly will clamp down on other outspoken owners such as New York's Sonny Werblin, who had been quoted recently on the subject of franchise shifting.

Foss, in announcing the decision to void the trade, after personally investigating the various allegations, said he "concluded that statements of owner K. S. Adams published prior to the trade constitute tampering with players Ladd and Faison under the provisions of our constitution.

EVIDENCE

"The evidence is conclusive the players knew of the published statements of Mr. Adams and one of them, Ernie Ladd, was quoted as saying: 'If a man (Adams) is willing to give up four players, he must be willing to give up a lot of money.'

"The obvious effect of Mr. Adams' statement was, therefore, interference with the ability of San Diego to sign these players."

Ladd and Faison now will return to San Diego while Houston retains linebacker Johnny Baker, defensive end Gary Cutsinger and defensive back Pete Jaquess.

OTHER BUSINESS

While the Ladd-Faison controversy overshadowed the other things accomplished at the AFL annual meeting, these five major items of business were concluded:

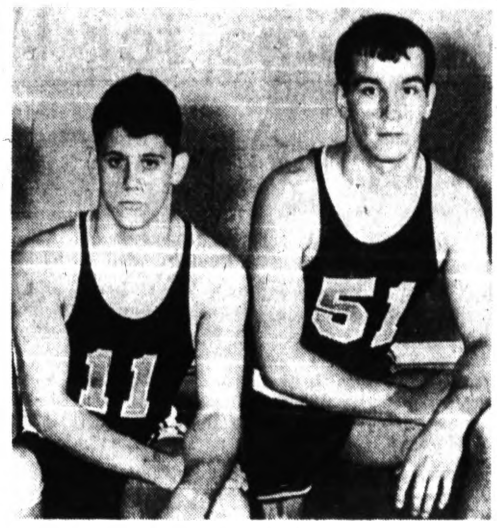

1. The new Miami Dolphins selected 32 veteran players in the expansion draft and wound up with 20 players, plus a veteran quarterback in Dick Wood, who had been starters at least part of the 1965 season.

2. The league voted to expand by two additional teams for the 1967 season with Portland, Ore., Los Angeles and Anaheim, Calif., Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and New Orleans, La., listed as franchise candidates.

3. The league established a central scouting system to be operated by the league office.

4. The league approved the raising of the goal uprights 10 feet in an attempt to make it easier to judge field goals and conversions.

5. The league approved the use of a sixth official for its games.

Leafs Strafe Sub Goalie in Downing Rangers, 6-2

By the Associated Press

First Toronto's Frank Mahovlich fell on New York goal tender Cesare Maniago and then the roof caved in on the Rangers.

After a second period collision knocked Maniago out of the only National Hockey League game played Wednesday night, the Maple Leafs strafed substitute goalie Don Simmons for four third-period goals in a 6-2 romp over the Rangers.

The Leafs were leading 2-1 with 8:27 gone in the second period when Mahovlich, racing after a loose puck 10 feet in front of the New York net, banged into Maniago, who had come out to clear the rubber.

It was hard enough to send Maniago to a Toronto hospital for Xrays of his shoulder and ribs. Simmons played scoreless hockey for the rest of the second period but Toronto broke it open with a trio of goals inside of 3½ minutes midway through the third period.

GOALIE ABSOLVED

Ranger Manager-coach Emile Francis absolved Simmons from blame for Toronto's third period barrage. "He didn't have much chance on the goals," Francis said. "The Leafs just played better than us."

Toronto scorers were Eddie Shack, Ron Ellis, Dave Keon, Pete Stemkowski, Bob Pulford and Mahovlich. Earl Ingarfield and rookie Ray Cullen hit for New York with Cullen's goal his first in the NHL.

U-D Squad Downs Villanova, 101-94

From Our Wire Services

Led by senior guard Lou Hyatt, the University of Detroit rolled to a 101-94 victory over Villanova last night at U of D Fieldhouse.

Hyatt hit on 13 of 19 shots from the floor and wound up with 33 points to spark the Titan attack.

The slender Hyatt also starred on defense as he limited the losers' ace Bill Melchionni to 24 points.

The losers held a 51-45 lead at halftime, but the Titans stormed back after intermission, tying the game at 53-53 at the two-minute mark before pulling away.

Buster Mathis Posts Seventh Pro Ring Win

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Undefeated Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., racked up his seventh pro victory Wednesday night by stopping Mike Bruce of Springfield, Mass., in 1:21 of the fifth round of a six-rounder at the County Center.

The fast-moving, 266-pound Mathis was cut over the left eye in the first round but came on strong after that to hand Bruce, 205, a sound drubbing. Buster dropped Bruce with a right for the eight-count in the fourth round and was battering his foe in the fifth when referee Harold Valan intervened.

Chamberlain Sparks 76ers Past Pistons

BOSTON (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and Dave Gambee sparked a second period explosion that lifted the Philadelphia 76ers to a 110-93 victory over the Detroit Pistons Wednesday night in the opener of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Chamberlain, who led all scorers with 33 points, hit for 12 of them in the second quarter as the 76ers broke a 20-20 deadlock and roared to a 50-34 halftime lead. Gambee tallied all nine of his points in the second period surge.

Detroit was held to four points in seven minutes as the 76ers went on their rampage.

LEADS PISTONS

Ray Scott connected for 21 points to pace the Pistons, who never were able to fight back into contention and trailed by more than 20 points throughout most of the second half.

In the second game the league-leading Boston Celtics, piloted by sometime-coach Bill Russell, recorded their sixth straight victory over the Baltimore Bullets, 129-89.

Russell filled in for Coach Red Auerbach, who drew two technical fouls and was ejected early in the first period for arguing with officials.

Trailing 13-12 when Russell took command, the Celtics held Baltimore scoreless from the floor for the next six minutes in storming to a 23-15 lead. The advantage was raised to 58-39 at halftime and Boston breezed to its 16th victory in 18 home games.

★ ★ ★

Seven Boston players, led by Willie Naulls with 20 points and Larry Siegfried with 19, hit in double figures. Baltimore, runnerup to Los Angeles in the NBA's Western Division, was topped by Johnny Green with 21.

Track Captains Named

EAST LANSING (AP)—Gene Washington, an All - America football end and a Big Ten champion hurdler, and Daswell Campbell, a leading sprinter, will be cocaptains of Michigan State's track squad this year.

SELECTION LIKELY—Former Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams is expected to be chosen for Baseball's Hall of Fame today. This is his first year of eligibility for the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y. A morning press conference at Boston's Fenway Park may reveal this year's choice(s).

Hall of Fame for Williams?

BOSTON (AP) — Slugging great Ted Williams was expected to be named to baseball's Hall of Fame today in his first year of eligibility.

Williams, longtime star of the Boston Red Sox, appeared to be the top choice in the balloting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Results of the balloting apparently were to be announced at a morning news conference called by the Red Sox.

Hy Hurwitz, BBWAA secretary-treasurer, declined to comment on reports that he intended to announce Hall of Fame election results. The Red Sox also refused to state the reason for the conference.

FORMAL MEETING

However, it generally was believed that Hurwitz would have a formal announcement at the Fenway Park meeting with news media. He has had in hand for several days ballots submitted by 10-year BBWAA members in voting for the Hall of Fame.

Williams, former Boston slugging great, appeared an overwhelming choice to be elected to the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., in his first year of eligibility. Williams, retired as a player the minimum of five years, hit 521 homers and compiled a .344 average in 19 seasons with Boston.

Huskies Meet Farmington '5'

Walled Lake Quintet to Entertain WTHS

Pontiac Northern's title-scenting Huskies will face a major obstacle Friday night in their quest for a sixth Inter-Lakes League cage title in seven seasons.

Their visit to Farmington will pair them with the one I-L quintet that has found any repeated success against Northern's usually quick shooting attack.

Since PNH joined the league in 1959-60, only Farmington's cagers have defeated the Huskies more than twice — winning four of the 12 contests between the two. The Falcons' home court has bothered Northern.

★ ★ ★

Southfield (from the former I-L lineup) was the only other team to defeat the Huskies twice in league play. Waterford's Skippers did the trick twice during PNH's first season but that was before it joined the circuit.

Waterford will visit Walled Lake in Friday's other I-L tilt. Both the Skippers and their host this week have been beaten this season by Northern.

More than just tradition will be working against the Huskies this week. Farmington is the only league squad with an overall winning mark this campaign. It is 5-4 and has won two straight at home after losing its opener there.

EYING TIE

The Falcons (1-1 in the loop) can tie for first place by upsetting the visiting PNH squad which is 2-0 and 3-4 over-all.

PNH coach Dick Hall, also, has to find a replacement for 6-4 all-league candidate Larry Frye who was dismissed from the Huskies' team following a post-game incident after last week's win over Waterford.

Farmington has a returning all-league player in 5-11 Mike Wilson, a tricky guard who is averaging almost 20 points per game. He is aided capably by 6-3 center Mike Ames and 6-0 forward Greg Dorow.

Walled Lake, burdened by eight straight losses after winning its opener hopes the home court will give it an advantage over Waterford whose title hopes were jarred by PNH last week.

The Skippers are favored but must bounce back. They had good balance behind sharp-shooting Rick Ziem in a league-opening triumph over Farmington.

However, Walled Lake's Vikins expect John Huebler to offset Ziem's scoring and could end their famine if the other starters can contain Ziem's teammates. Improved shooting is another factor the Vikings need to pull the upset.

Detroiter Strampe in Keg Lead

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bob Strampe jumped to a 71-point lead with a five-game total of 1215 in Wednesday's opening preliminary round of the $100,000 National All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The slender Detroiter, who won the All-Star crown in 1964 in Dallas, averaged 243 for his first of three five-game qualifying blocks with games of 212, 237, 249, 260 and 257.

But the spotlight did not belong to Strampe alone.

PERFECT GAME

Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., put together 12 consecutive strikes for a perfect 300 game. It was Johnson's fourth sanctioned 300 game and the 17th in the 25-year history of the tournament.

A 25-year-old professional, Johnson switched to an outside angle and fired the perfect score in his fifth game. He had trouble in the first four with scores of 174, 176, 205 and 178, for a 1033 total and 82nd place the field of 432.

LEFTY SECOND

Holding down second place with a five-game total of 1144 was Bill Allen, a left-hander from Orlando, Fla. Allen rolled games of 214, 227, 234, 268 and 201.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Dick Weber of St. Louis, who won the All-Star title in 1962, 1963 and 1965, had an opening round of 1037. The highest money-winner in the All-Star shot 186, 191, 224, 225 and 221 to rank in 76th place.

In 10 previous All-Star tournaments Weber collected $60,545.

The preliminaries continue through Friday, at which time the field will be trimmed to 216 bowlers. The nationally televised finals will be held Jan. 30 with the winner receiving $15,000.

On Saturday 216 of the top women bowlers begin competition. The winner receives $5,000.

Pros After Bing's Rich Golf Purse

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —A bulky field of 137 pros, each with an amateur partner, opened fire today in the silver anniversary edition of Bing Crosby's golf tournament, an event started for fun which now will reward the low scorers with $104,500.

Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner of 1965 with $140,752.14 in official money, makes his 1966 debut here. His final practice rounds were disappointing as he shot only a 74 over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course on Wednesday.

★ ★ ★ ★

He toured the layout with Arnold Palmer and lost to him by four in the warm-up over the course with a par 71.

ENDS SLUMP

Palmer snapped out of his slump to win the Los Angeles Open two weeks ago and could also snap the slump which has left the Crosby one of the major titles to elude him.

Still, if there can be a favorite here, it should be Billy Casper, holder of the tournament record for 72 holes with a 277 in 1958 and also winner in 1963 with a 285.

★ ★ ★

Casper is fresh off a victory last Sunday in the San Diego Open when he shot a closing seven - under - par 64 in cold, windy weather, reminiscent of many days in past Crosby tournaments.

REENLISTMENT BONUS — Sgt. Donald G. Fouse, 27, a high frequency radio operator with the 7th Army in Darmstadt, Germany, holds a bag containing $2,397.80, part of his $8,361 reenlistment bonus. Fouse, who signed up for six more years, said he planned to use some of the money to help buy a home in Columbus, Ohio. The big bonus was paid under a new Army program started Jan. 1 to encourage reenlistment of men with special skills.

Storm Stills British Pirate Radio Ship

LONDON (AP) — A North Sea storm drove Britain's pioneer radio pirate ship on to British territory today. But the government said it wouldn't seize Radio Caroline unless she started broadcasting.

Rescue teams brought five disc jockeys and two technicians ashore by breeches buoy through heavy seas. The Dutch skipper and his crew stayed aboard.

★ ★ ★

At dawn they could have walked ashore. The receding tide left Caroline listing on the beach at Frinton, an East Coast resort.

Caroline, based on a converted sailing ship, was the first of the radio pirates to take to the seas to beat the British ban on commercial radio. Anchored outside territorial waters and broadcasting pop records between the commercials, her operators claim that in two years she has attracted daily audiences of up to 30 million in Britain and Western Europe.

The Pirate started dragging her anchors Wednesday night soon after she went off the air for the night. The Coast Guard noticed she was in danger and for three hours tried in vain to call her on the emergency radio net. People ashore tried to signal by flashing auto headlights.

Caroline went aground within 50 yards of Frinton's cliffs. The Coast Guard rescue squad was waiting to fire a rocket carrying the breeches buoy line.

★ ★ ★

Graham Webb, one of the first disc jockeys ashore, reported: "We felt the ship bumping about, but it has been so rough lately that no one took any notice.

"The sea was very rough and the winds very high, but we went on watching television. It wasn't until the wrestling was on that we realized we were in trouble."

NO BROADCASTING

Once she was inside the three-mile limit, Caroline was within the reach of British law. But the Post Office, which controls broadcasting, said: "Provided they don't broadcast no action will be taken."

A Lot of Sassafras

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Standing on the lawn of Dr. O. W. Rash's home is the largest known sassafras tree in the world. The 250-year-old giant, whose claim has been substantiated by the American Forestry Association, measures 18 feet in circumference and is 90 feet tall.

New Film Is Labor of Love for Actress Nancy Kwan

HONG KONG (AP) —Nancy Kwan, who captivated audiences in the American films "World of Suzie Wong" and "Flower Drum Song," has come home to a labor of love.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of a Chinese father and an English mother is starring in the ultra-low budget "Lodestone," being filmed in color on an outlying Hong Kong island by the Government Information Serivice.

★ ★ ★

The 40-minute picture, far removed from the usual tourist promotion film, presents a dramatic story instead of a series of scenic views.

"Lodestone" has an over-all budget of $35,000.

OTHER COSTS

Out of that must come costs of color film and processing, payments to owners and salaries of crews for a score of Chinese junks featured in the film, and the price of one junk which will be wrecked in a key storm-at-sea sequence.

★ ★ ★

"That," explained a spokesman, "leaves no money for a star-sized salary to an international film star of Miss Kwan's calibre.

"But that made no difference to Miss Kwan, 26. She came home to Hong Kong, from Austria where she now lives with hotel man husband, Peter Pock, and their son, to lend her talents for a film which will show Hong Kong to the rest of the world in a new light."

★ ★ ★

Miss Kwan plays the wife of a Chinese fisherman in a story set a thousand years ago on the group of islands which eventuallly became Hong Kong. The script, written by Brian Salt, head of the information service's film department, weaves together two old Hong Kong area legends.

INVENTED COMPASS

One has it that Chinese fishermen invented the compass in this area. From that comes the film's title.

★ ★ ★

The other tells of a wife who, with her baby strapped to her back, climbed a Hong Kong hill to wait for her fisherman husband lost in a storm at sea. The Chinese gods, taking pity on her, used a lightning bolt to turn her to stone so she would not grow old alone.

A rock pillar, roughly in the shape of a woman with a baby on her back, stands in Hong Kong's Shatin area—between the city and the Chinese border—and some Chinese claim it is the waiting mother and her baby.

Coupled with the scene of her husband's junk being wrecked at sea will be another of the lightning flash turning Miss Kwan to stone.

★ ★ ★

The film is expected to be completed next month and probably will have its premiere here in midyear. After that prints will be distributed for showing around the world.

Salt, writer, producer and director, hopes for a side value—a vehicle showing commercial film producers of America and Europe what the outlying islands and rural areas of Hong Kong can supply in the way of natural beauty and exotic backgrounds for full-length films. Feature films have used Hong Kong city as a locale, but none has gone out into the country-side or used any of the small outlying islands.

Judgeship Bid Is Announced

Robert J. Turner, Ferndale city attorney and a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, has announced he will be a candidate for circuit judge in the fall election.

Turner, 41, has served as legal counsel for the city since 1962 and has been a supervisor for three years.

★ ★ ★

He was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for state representative in 1960.

A graduate of Wayne State University Law School, Turner is a partner in the Ferndale law firm of Turner, Meade and Wilson.

Soviet Fleet Fishing in California Gulf

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet fishing fleet has entered the Gulf of California for the first time and is fishing experimentally for anchovies, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

Soviet fishermen and scientists "will also fish experimentally in tropical waters for mackerel, sardines and other fish and will prepare recommendations for large-scale fishing at that area," Tass said.

Ex-King Out of Hospital

CANNES, France (AP) — Retired King Leopold III of Belgium today left the hospital where he had been confined since Jan. 11 for treatment of injuries received in an automobile accident.

Had 40-Year Career

Phony Doctor: I'm a Genius

DENVER (UPI) — A victim of his latest ruse calls "Dr." Arthur Osborne Phillips one of the most remarkable medical phonies of all time."

And from his jail cell, "Dr." Phillips replies: "I'm a genius. I had to be a genius to do all that I did with no formal medical education."

"All" he did was hoodwink the federal government and authorities in 10 states during a 40-year-career as a phony doctor.

★ ★ ★

The 70-year-old man's latest caper was working on delicate research into the surgical use of the laser light at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver. His associates there said he "did competent work."

Phillips showed up in Colorado recently, convinced officials at the medical center he was a doctor and went to work. He made the mistake, though of going to a convention in California at which someone recognized him.

ARREST MADE

After some inquiry, authorities in Colorado were notified and the good "doctor" was arrested 10 days ago at his home in Wheat Ridge on a charge of violating parole from a Kansas prison.

But now Kansas doesn't want him. W. C. Henry, chairman of the Kansas State Parole Board, said Phillips had completed his parole. The "want" apparently was a mistake.

Colorado authorities don't plan to prosecute for the medical center escapade, and State Parole Director Edward W. Grout said Phillips could go free as soon as written notification came from Kansas that he was not wanted. That could be today or tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

According to prison records, Phillips' career began when he worked as an orderly during World War I for a Dr. James Herman Phillips of Doro, Ala.

TOOK OVER NAME

The real Phillips died in 1920 and the phony Phillips, according to the records, took over his name, medical shingle and license.

Then began a long career that was interrupted by jail terms in California, Kansas, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Idaho, Arizona, Illinois, Washington and Colorado.

While working as a "surgeon" with the Civilian Conservation Corps in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho in the 1940s, Phillips performed 32 successful appendectomies.

★ ★ ★

His worst "stretch" came about because of dirty fingernails. In 1951, Phillips was involved in a trial of an automobile accident damage suit. An insurance agent noticed that he had dirty fingernails and proved that he was not a doctor.

LONG SENTENCE

Phillips was sentenced to 15-20 years, not for medical law violations, but for perjury.

In 1942, the American Medical Journal described his career as "one of the most amazing stories of medical imposture that has ever appeared in the pages of this publication."

His training career consisted of his work as an army orderly, a position as a drugstore clerk and a few courses in chemistry from correspondence schools.

★ ★ ★

An official at the Denver medical center, who understandably wanted to remain anonymous, described him as "one of the most remarkable medical phonies of all time."

Despite that dubious plaudet and his desire to go back into laser research, "Dr." Phillips said he probably will bring his career to an end.

"I guess I'll just do nothing," he said.

Alleged Theft Brings Arrest of Two Youths

A 17-year-old youth and his young companion were arrested yesterday by Pontiac and Waterford Township police for the alleged theft of nearly $3,000 in cash and checks from a service station.

Held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of larceny from a building is Lawrence C. Tiernan of 508 Harper.

A 15-year-old youth apprehended with Tiernan was released to the custody of his parents.

The two, both students at Pontiac Northern High School, were picked up by Waterford Townshi police just after noon yesterday. picked up by Waterford Township police just after noon yesterday.

Pontiac police said the pair admitted taking a steel cash box yesterday morning from Bingley's Sunoco Service at 1153 N. Perry.

In the box was $2,940 in cash and personal checks, according to the owner of the station.

Death of Area Man Is Ruled a Suicide

The gunshot death of Wayne Webster, 25, of 1299 Penarth, Commerce Township, has been termed a suicide by Oakland County Sheriff's detectives.

Webster's body was found lying on top a 30-30 rifle in his basement yesterday after a neighbor told deputies he had not seen Webster since Jan. 2.

Death Claims Woman at 89

Was Member of Two Early Area Families

Mrs. Frank L. (Adele) Willits, a member of two of Oakland County's oldest families, died Wednesday in White Plains, N.Y. after a brief illness. She was 89.

A memorial service will be 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in All Saints Episcopal Church. Cremation was in White Plains yesterday.

The family suggests memorial tributes be made to All Saints Church.

Mrs. Willits traces her lineage on her mother's side to the Davis family that founded Davisburg in Springfield Township in 1857.

★ ★ ★

WATER SUPERINTENDENT

Born in Davisburg, Mrs. Willits was brought to Pontiac as a child when her father, Harvey G. Monroe, became Pontiac's first water superintendent and built the city's first water works.

The first home in which Monroe quartered his family was the living area on the second floor of the city's old fire department at Pike and Perry.

Mrs. Willits, a well-known contralto soloist, was a charter member of Tuesday Musicale of Pontiac and a member of the Daughters of American Revolution.

★ ★ ★

She was soloist for many years in choirs of All Saints Episcopal, First Baptist and First Presbyterian churches.

SURVIVORS

Surviving are two daughters, Marion C. of White Plains and Mrs. Jean A. Hoffman of Morristown, N.J., and two sons, Frederick H. of North East, Pa., and George W. of Clarendon Hills, Ill.

Also surviving are three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Circuit Court to Get Manslaughter Case

A 25-year-old Pontiac man was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday for arraignment Jan. 26 on a charge of manslaughter.

Eugene F. Douglas of 24 Bloomfield is accused of the fatal stabbing Jan. 12 of a 20-year-old youth in a tavern fight.

★ ★ ★

The victim, Jesse Anderson of 168 Crestwood, died about an hour after receiving knife wounds about the head, neck and shoulders in what witnesses described as a "scuffle."

Douglas was released after posting $200 bond.

High Court to Hear County Judges' Suit

The Michigan Supreme Court next month will hear oral arguments in a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of a state law that extended the terms of two Oakland County circuit judges.

★ ★ ★

The high court this week informed Judges Philip Pratt and James S. Thorburn that it has accepted their application to bypass the Michigan Court of Appeals in the matter.

In December, Macomb County Circuit Judge George Deneweth ruled that the legislation, adopted in October, was valid.

The state statute extended the terms of Pratt and Thorburn, along with three other judges, two in Wayne and one in Washtenaw counties, until 1970.

Shortly after Deneweth's decision, Pratt and Thorburn appealed to the Michigan Court of Appeals and then filed an application to bypass it.

NEEED QUICK DECISION

They feel that the matter has to be decided quickly because of a requirement that incumbent judges file an affidavit of intent to seek reelection by April 1, if they are seeking reelection in 1966.

Pratt and Thorburn had originally intended to run for reelection this year along with the county's four other incumbent circuit judges.

Pratt said yesterday that the Supreme Court has not yet scheduled a date for the oral arguments, but that he expected it would be during the week of Feb. 7.

Two Charged in Attempted City Break-In

Two Pontiac men have been charged with attempted breaking and entering after their apprehension early yesterday outside Eagles Lodge No. 1230 at 289 Montclam.

★ ★ ★

William Cook, 23, and William Hearn, 26, both of 142 Dresden, demanded examination this morning at their arraignment in Municipal Court.

They were ordered to appear for examination Jan. 26 and are held at the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

The two were arrested by Pontiac police following discovery of a jimmied door at the rear of the lodge.

★ ★ ★

Hearn was stopped as he left the rear of the building. Lying hearby, patrolman found a black pry bar, a loaded 38-automatic pistol and a pair of rubber gloves.

PICKED UP

Cook, seen in the vicinity of the lodge earlier, was picked up after Hearn admitted having been with him.

★ ★ ★

In Cook's car, police discovered a number of burglary tools.

'Love' Spells Trouble, Puts Finger on Man

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Police officer Joe Smith figured that anyone with "L-O-V-E" tattooed on his knuckles must be wanted for something, so he made a quick check on a stranger in a coffee shop.

★ ★ ★

OK Grant to Train Practical Nurses

A federal grant of $140,056 to provide practical nurse training for 50 unemployed area residents was announced today by U. S. Congressman Billie S. Farnum.

At County Meeting

Doctors Hear Proponents of Hypnosis

Daydreaming and effective prayer are two forms of hypnosis.

Area doctors were told this last night at the regular meeting of the Oakland County Medical Society at the Kingsley Inn.

Dr. William J. Bryan, exeutive director of the American Institute of Hypnosis, said that science had not yet settled on a definition of hypnosis, but "we know a lot about it."

The west coast physician described hypnosis as the ability to concentrate one's mind to a great extent.

★ ★ ★

He declared the study of hypnosis was the study of human motivation.

RULE BEHAVIOR

Bryan said it was not the suggestion but the power behind the suggestion that dictated human behavior.

According to the OCMS speaker, the human mind is not a mass, but an organ of energy in the brain. He offered that distinction between the brain and the mind.

As an organ of energy, the mind can be divided into smaller units of "mind power."

★ ★ ★

He said a suggestion, as it runs through the mind, may receive a certain number of units of so-called mind power.

CERTAIN MANNER

Thus, when a particular suggestion receives a great number of units of mind power, the individual behaves in a certain manner.

In hypnosis, according to Bryan, all the units of mind power are focused on a single suggestion.

For example, he said an individual may drive somewhere while concentrating on a specific knotty problem.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly, he arrives at his destination and realizes he can't remember driving the last ten blocks. He has amnesia for the ten blocks.

A PHENOMENA

Bryan said this was the phenomena of hypnosis.

Three things happen in hypnosis: increased concentration, increased relaxation and increased susceptibility to suggestion.

The visiting speaker, who is to conduct a three-day postgraduate course on hypnosis in Detroit, claimed emotion concentrates the mind.

★ ★ ★

"You don't think; you react." This, he claimed, is shown when people react in a crisis situation.

BACK DOCTRINE

The doctor noted that Michigan law recognizes the doctrine of the irrestible impulse.

He said there were 25,000 operations a year done under hypnosis.

Offering further illustration of how hypnosis and the mind works, he said that in employing sypnosis for anesthetic purposes, there were no units of mind power left to absorb pain.

★ ★ ★

He told the OCMS, and the women's auxiliary, of a four-hour operation conducted with hypnosis on a man in his 70's by "putting him on a beach."

KNOW HYPNOSIS

If for no other reason, physicians should know hypnosis in order to make use of some of its methods, he said.

These he listed as the power of the positive suggestion and use of indirect suggestions rather than direct suggestions.

"Words," he reminded the assembled doctors, "cause emotion in people. They cause organs to react."

Effective communication, according to Bryan, is the art of medicine.
