

How Will Romney Tax Plan Affect Business?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: - Geo. Romney has presented to the legislature a tax reform program. Here, in the first of a three-part series, is an analysis of the proposal and how it would affect business in Michigan. Later articles will tell of the impact on the individual taxpayer and on hard-pressed local governments.)

By GENE SCHROEDER
LANSING (N-Tax to not to tax is hardly the question.

The question before the Michigan Legislature today is whether to praise Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program or to bury it.

And the only thing certain about the governor's comprehensive tax proposal is that its final disposition is uncertain.

But whether Michigan keeps its present complicated tax system, switches to the Romney program or winds up with some compromise reform, nearly everybody agrees that taxes — like death — are inevitable. The big argument swirls around the questions:

What kind, how much, and on whom?

Out of the current special session of the legislature will come the answers, possibly in time for the Christmas holidays.

"What's in it for me?" is the natural reaction of most taxpayers to any new program such as the one proposed by Romney, who has placed his political prestige on the line in advocating sweeping changes in Michigan's tax structure.

UP, DOWN

Keyed to state and local income taxes, the Romney program would lower the annual tax bite for some and raise it for others.

Over-all, according to some estimates, the reforms would provide relief for business by shifting some $71.5 million of the tax burden onto individuals.

Within the business community itself under the Romney program, new and struggling firms would find their tax bills reduced, while older and more profitable corporations — such as the auto industry's "big three" — would pay more.

Whether this will bring into action against Romney's proposals the same powerful lobbying forces which helped kill the Swainson-backed program last year remains to be seen.

Up to this point, I've had no indication of any such organized opposition," Romney told the Associated Press in an interview.

The governor-nodded agreement that such opposition by the auto industry giants would throw a formidable — and perhaps fatal — roadblock in the path of his fiscal reform program.

A key Romney adviser said in talks with auto company executives he gained the impression that Ford and Chrysler (Continued on Page A-11, Col. 1)

U.N. Space N-Ban Looks Certain

Lyon Official Sees Victory

BADEN-BADEN, Germany (UPI) — An official of Lyon, France says "there is no question" his city will host the 1968 Olympic Games.

Antony Bertrand, the Lyon representative, also said yesterday that "Detroit hasn't got a hope. We're going to win hands down."

Lyon and Detroit are two of four cities bidding for the games. Mexico City and Buenos Aires are the others. Their representatives have been meeting here with delegates to the International Olympic Committee.

Bertrand's remarks came just after Detroit presented a nine-point program to the committee detailing why the Michigan city should be selected.

FORMAL PRESENTATION

Listed among Detroit's assets were the following:

- "Detroit offers a unique concentration of all facilities — A closer grouping of Olympic events than ever enjoyed by Olympic athletes and visitors in the history of the games.
- "Detroit's talent for organization is unquestioned."
- "Detroit is financially ready."
- "Detroit is an international community."
- "The vibrant spirit of the city is reflected in its enthusiasm and loyal support of the Olympic cause."
- "It is America's most sports-minded community."
- "Many of Detroit's excellent facilities are already standing."
- "Detroit is a young city."

After hearing Detroit's proposal, Bertrand laughed, stating "The vibrant spirit of the city will need a lot more than that to beat us out. We've got all that Detroit lists and much more besides."

Quake Shakes New England

No Serious Damage Despite Disturbance

BOSTON (N)—An earthquake shook New England states today, but there were no immediate reports of any serious damage.

The tremor was felt in Woonsocket, R.I., and in the vicinity of Portsmouth, N.H. about 11:30 a.m.

Along the Massachusetts north shore, the tremor was described as severe.

In Rockport and Gloucester, houses shook so much that some residents fled from their homes. In Wintrop, houses shook and some windows were shattered.

COLLEGE RECORDS

The Boston College observatory in suburban Weston said their seismograph recorded the tremor.

One housewife in Winchester, described it as "really frightening."

At Lawrence and Methuen, north of Boston in the Merrimack River valley, people ran from their homes when "the houses shook and windows rattled."

Mrs. Michael Camuso said her daughter was playing on a rock formation when the tremor hit. The formation shuddered, she said.

EXPLOSIVES DID IT — Chas about the mysterious explosion which ripped this hole in the front wall of Bedell's Restaurant are being sought today by detectives from Bloomfield Township and the Michigan State Police crime laboratory. Jack Bedell, owner of the Bloomfield Township establishment, estimated damage at $15,000.

Police Hunt Clues in Bombing

Police today are searching rubble at Bedell's Restaurant in the wake of an early morning bombing which ripped a hole in the front wall of the Bloomfield Township establishment.

Officers from the Michigan State Police crime laboratory were summoned from East Lansing to aid Bloomfield Township detectives in their search for clues.

Police said the force of the blast was equal to at least five sticks of dynamite. They were attempting to determine whether the bomb had been planted or thrown.

Owner Jack Bedell, who estimated damage at $15,000, said he could offer no explanation for the blast.

"I haven't the slightest idea," Bedell said. "We have nothing to hang our hat on. We have the best employee relations and the best customer relations. There have been no cranks and no threats."

"But," he added, "obviously somebody was mad at us."

The explosion at the restaurant, 2295 Woodward near Square Lake road, occurred about 3:34 a.m. Bloomfield Township Patrolmen Nick Siseck and Gil Fowler were at the corner of Woodward and Square Lake road when they heard the blast.

They reported that the smell of explosives was strong when they arrived at the restaurant, which was surrounded by a heavy cloud of dust and smoke.

The blast which was heard "at least five miles away," according to police, tore out a portion of the front wall, knocking down booths and a planter. A janitor present was uninjured.

ALONE IN BUILDING

Arthur Evon of 1150 Wincumb, Birmingham, told police he was alone in the building at the time of the explosion. The cleaning man said he had been running the vacuum sweeper near the front wall.

Bedell said the restaurant would be open for business tomorrow.

Resolution Will Go to General Assembly After Committee

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (N)—A resolution outlawing the orbiting of nuclear weapons in outer space was approved unanimously today by the General Assembly's main political committee.

The proposal — sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and 15 other countries — now goes to the 111-nation assembly itself where approval is expected tomorrow.

While the U.N. action is not legally binding, it is regarded as a moral obligation since the United States and the Soviet Union drafted the plan and voted for it.

FORM OF APPEAL

Actually it is in the form of an appeal to all countries to refrain from placing in orbit objects carrying nuclear weapons or any weapons of mass destruction, or from installing such weapons in outer space in any manner.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson hailed the action as "another decisive advance in the disarmament process." He said the resolution "represents international recognition that the arms race must not be extended into this new environment."

He said the United States warmly welcomes the cooperation of the Soviet Union in working out the agreement.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai Fedorenko told the committee there was no doubt that the decision would "be yet another important step toward the slackening of international tension."

Warmer Weather, Rain Are Forecast

The good old summertime will return to Pontiac with thunderstorms tonight and temperatures soaring to near 80 tomorrow, forecasts the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Tonight's low will be about 52. For the next five days, high temperatures are expected to continue in the 70's and lows will range from 49 to 54. Precipitation will total less than one-quarter of an inch in a few scattered showers tomorrow and again Sunday or Monday.

Morning southerly winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will become variable tomorrow. Forty-nine was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The 2 p.m. reading was 72.

CAMPAGN BEACON — Lighting of the Pontiac Area United Fund torch last night officially set in motion this year's drive. E. M. Estes, campaign chairman, is shown with Torchy Twins Janice and Jennine Willockx, who added charm of four year olds to the ceremony.

Top Goal, Estes Urges; Aim for $800,000 Mark

Already off to a good start, Pontiac Area United Fund campaign workers last night were urged to put the 1963 drive over the $776,700 goal.

"I will not consider this drive an unqualified success unless we top $800,000," stated E. M. Estes, general campaign chairman.

Estes' remarks during the official kickoff dinner at Waldron Hotel preceded the annual torchlighting at Oakland and Saginaw.

During the brief ceremony, the symbolic 25-foot-high United Fund torch flamed into life to signal the start of the drive. It will burn until the campaign ends Nov. 8.

Helping Estes press the button to ignite the giant light were the 4-year-old Torchy Twins, Janice and Jennine Willockx.

Some 75 United Fund leaders at the dinner also heard Robert M. Critchfield's report that the advance gift solicitation is already over its $90,502 goal.

Critchfield said his advance gift unit has pledges of $91,750 and may ring up a final total of $100,000.

In his kickoff address, however, Estes warned that a "completeness is our greatest single obstacle."

Estes said the very fact United Fund has in the past always reached its yearly goal could lead to a let down of campaign efforts.

Reveal Sale of NY Mirror to Daily News

NEW YORK (AP)—The financially distressed New York Mirror has ceased publication after 39 years and some of its assets have been sold to the New York Daily News.

The Mirror's last edition rolled off the presses at 2:17 a.m. today.

The Mirror had a daily circulation of about 882,000, second only to the Daily News' national high of nearly 2 million.

About 1,400 employees lost their jobs. The Mirror said it will distribute in excess of $3.5 million in severance pay to them and set up an employment office to help them find new jobs.

The Hearst Corp. said in announcing the Mirror's sale: "The name, good will and other intangible assets of the Mirror have been sold to the New York News."

No purchase price was disclosed.

F. M. Flynn, Daily News publisher, said he could understand the reason for the Mirror decision. "The prolonged blackout of New York newspapers this past winter adversely affected all of them," Flynn declared.

Pontiac Sets New Mark for 10-Day Sales

Pontiac and Tempest sales in the first 10 days of October have topped any similar period in Pontiac's history. E. M. Estes, division general manager said today.

Estes reported Pontiac dealers retailed 32,474 cars, well over the previous high of 26,389 in April, 1962.

The Oct. 1-10 sales were 29 per cent above the same model introduction period last year. Estes said the last announcement record was set then when 25,109 Pontiacs were sold.

"Sales have been outstanding," Estes asserted. "The stimulus of our new 1964 line of Tempests and Pontiacs has given us a fast start toward another banner year."

HIT BY TRAIN — The driver of this car escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when it was sheared in half by a Grand Trunk Railroad locomotive at a crossing in Davisburg. The driver, Mrs. O. C. Goodwin, 12565 Rattelle Lake, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a head cut. She was hurried from the car on impact. Witnesses told sheriff's deputies that she did not stop for the tracks even though the train's whistle was sounding.

All Candidates Get Ike's OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A declaration by Dwight D. Eisenhower that every man now being mentioned for the Republican presidential nomination is acceptable to him brought happy smiles today to the faces of Sen. Barry Goldwater's supporters.

The former president previously had expressed some puzzlement as to just where the Arizona senator, a leading con-

Grand Jury Has Valachi on Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—Nattily dressed and smiling, gangland informer Joseph Valachi went before a Queens County grand jury today to tell what he knows about the underworld operations of Vito Genovese.

Valachi told newsmen "I got nothing to say" prior to walking into the grand jury room.

Valachi was brought from Washington in a four-car caravan and hustled into the court building under tight security measures.

Valachi posed for newsmen in an anteroom prior to his appearance before the 19-member grand jury, which included two women. They are expected to ask him about 10 unsolved murders.

Valachi was making his first appearance before a grand jury since turning informant. He was expected to detail the part Genovese played in the 1959 slaying of Anthony (Little Augie) Pisano, and his blonde girl friend, Janet Drake.

INDICTMENT HOPE

A spokesman for Queens County Dist. Atty. Frank D. Connor said it was hoped that Valachi's testimony before the grand jury would eventually bring a murder indictment against Genovese, now serving time in federal prison for narcotics traffic.

Genovese has been described by Valachi in Senate hearings in Washington as the boss of "the underworld's crime syndicate."

So tight were security measures on Valachi's arrival, that he didn't leave his auto until it was inside the courthouse building.

At least 300 policemen, detectives and federal agents were in and around the building. Some police were stationed on the roof.

tender for the GOP nomination, stood on some issues.

But, it was learned, Goldwater recently had a heart-to-heart talk with Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa.—a session which apparently went a considerable distance toward a meeting of minds.

Goldwater told a reporter that he informed Eisenhower that he would state his views fully on all issues if he formally enters the presidential nomination journey.

MUST EXPLAIN

"Every man should do that, whether he's running for president, chairman or some higher office," Goldwater said. "Otherwise, in my view, he couldn't get elected."

At a festive 73rd birthday party Tuesday night, Eisenhower did not tap anyone for the presidential nomination.

But he said "Let us not concern ourselves too much with differences of thinking among our natural leaders."

"I know of none of the party's presidential possibilities I could not support."

They are all in favor, he said, of strengthened alliances abroad and sound, pay-as-you-go policies at home. And those, he said, are the things that count.

"With those qualities," he said "a man could be sure of my fervent support. And I believe, if we ring doorbells, visit the last apartment house, the victory in 1964 will not be one of those hairline things but overwhelming."

Eisenhower, who became 73 Monday, had three birthday parties in the last four days. Tuesday night's affair was thrown by the Republican National Committee and other party big-wigs.

U.S. to Name Astronauts

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Manned Spacecraft Center announced today it will name 10 to 15 new American astronauts Friday at a special introductory press conference.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has been testing and selecting the new astronauts for the past few months. They will join the "astronaut flight crew pool" at the manned spacecraft center for projects Gemini and Apollo, America's next two ventures in manned space flights.

MUCK FIRE—Lindy Smith, volunteer with the Orion Township Fire Department, soaks down a weeded section as fire fighters try to control a muck fire on Clarkson road, a mile west of Lake Orion yesterday. State Conservation Department officials are alarmed by the tinder-dry condition of land in the state. "These daily grass fires could result in a forest fire near Pontiac," warned Marvin Hartwig, Conservation Department fire control officer for Oakland County.

Two Guilty of Neglect in Deaths

A Waterford Township couple that left three children alone the night the youngsters died in a fire, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of contributing to delinquency and the neglect of minors yesterday.

Mrs. Harriet Kittles, a divorcee, and her boyfriend George Mishenko were scheduled to reappear before Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem next Tuesday for sentencing.

The reduced charge is a misdemeanor. Previously, they had been charged with manslaughter, a felony.

LEFT CHILDREN

Mrs. Kittles, 32, and Mishenko, 34, left their three small children locked alone in their home at 1235 Manse while they were out drinking at a nearby tavern, July 14.

The children, Patricia Ann, 4 months, Laura, 18 months, and Tammy Lee, 2, died in the fire that gutted the house.

A cigarette left smoldering in a sofa was believed to have caused the fire.

Judge Ziem accepted pleas before trial was scheduled to begin yesterday.

Mrs. Kittles was released until sentencing on a $500 bond. Mishenko was remanded to the county jail in lieu of a $500 bond.

End Berlin Traffic Blocks, Great Britain Tells Russia

LONDON (AP)—The British government called on the Russians today to stop further interference with Britain's military traffic to and from West Berlin.

The action by Foreign Secretary Lord Home came after Soviet authorities halted, then released, a nine-vehicle British military convoy traveling from the divided city to West Germany.

Home summoned the Soviet Charge d'Affaires in London, A. I. Romanov, for a talk on the incident. Later the foreign office stated:

"The secretary of state saw the Soviet Charge d'Affaires shortly after the news that the Russians had stated that they would clear the convoy in accordance with normal procedures."

AVOID INCIDENTS

"The secretary of state stressed the importance of the (Russians) taking steps to avoid such incidents in the future."

The early morning incident at Babelsberg—where the Russians have a checkpoint on the 110-mile route from West Berlin to West Germany—was followed by an immediate British protest to the Soviet military headquarters in East Germany.

British military men on the spot tended to view the development as a politically unfriendly action.

The Russians held the convoy for nine hours at the same spot where they blocked a U.S. convoy last week.

TENSION RISES

Then, as tension rose once more in the isolated old German capital, the Russians finally waved through the convoy of nine vehicles and 28 men.

Bound for West Germany, the Soviet shield to clear the convoy's checkpoint at Marienborn at the western end of the 110-mile-long superhighway.

Reports from Mr. Marienborn said the situation there appeared normal and military vehicles including a convoy of four U.S. Army trucks, were waved through.

Burning Ban in Effect Today

Romney Order Issued in High Fire Danger

LANSING (AP)—A ban on burning fires into effect in Michigan at 4:30 this afternoon under the proclamation of Gov. George Romney.

Romney, issuing the first such statewide order in 17 years, said "a dangerously high forest fire hazard is creating a menace to Michigan's forests, fields and wild lands."

The governor acted yesterday on the recommendation of the conservation department. Department observers around the state have reported increasingly dangerous burning conditions for more than a week.

FACING VIOLATORS

The governor's order prohibits, with a possible $100 fine and or a three-month jail sentence facing violators, these acts:

- Pipe, cigar or cigarette smoking except at places of habitation, authorized improved camp grounds, or in any automobile or vehicle operating on state, county, township, or private highways and roads.
- All burning of rubbish, slashing, brush pile or stumps.
- All camp fires except at authorized camp grounds.
- Throwing from vehicles any matches, ash, burning tobacco, or other burning material.

WHERE EFFECTIVE

Romney's order is effective in all forests, fields, woodlands and muck land areas of the state.

"Dried vegetation, lack of rainfall, high winds and low humidities have combined to create the unprecedented wildfire hazard throughout the state," said the conservation department yesterday in a statement.

Numerous muck fires in southern Michigan require department manpower and equipment. The smoke from two such fires near Parma, in Jackson County, and Lake Orion, in Oakland County—earlier combined with fog to create traffic hazards.

The one-half acre fire in a dried-out bog near Clarkson Road southwest of Lake Orion contributed to a two-car and a four-car accident yesterday morning.

Birmingham Area News U.N. Celebration Is Set at Community House

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—The Community House will be the scene of a United Nations anniversary celebration Oct. 24.

The event is being planned by the Oakland County chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN) to commemorate the world organization's 18th anniversary.

John MacVane, U.N. correspondent for ABC News, will be the featured speaker. He will speak on "The U.N. Today and Tomorrow," at 8 p.m.

VETERAN REPORTER

MacVane, a veteran newspaperman and broadcaster, has specialized in foreign and U.N. affairs since serving as a correspondent in Europe and Africa during World War II. His work keeps him in contact with top U.N. personalities.

Invitations to the event have been sent to the American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters in addition to members and friends of the American Association for the United Nations.

A short recital will be given by the International Institute Group Chorus. A question-and-answer period after MacVane's speech will be followed by refreshments.

Open to the public, the program is the result of the combined efforts of AAUN members, their friends, the City of Birmingham and many other organizations. Harold Chalk of Birmingham is chairman of the planning committee.

Mrs. F. L. McNeill is chairman of the hospitality committee and Mrs. Donald J. Keeney is handling publicity.

Funds for the program were raised earlier this year when the AAUN sold tickets to a meal at the Bloomfield Theater.

Kay S. Bartholomew, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Glen (Shirley) Bartholomew, 991 Humphrey and the late Mr. Bartholomew, will be p.m. Friday at the Embury Methodist Church. Burial will be at the 6th Rocket Battalion, 517th Artillery in Giesse, West Germany, since Aug. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil G. Martzke of Highland, said their son, a private first class, "do not have any interest in politics."

"Our boy isn't a Communist," his mother said. "He's a 'terribly upset about money matters.'"

Martzke's wife said she had not seen her husband since September 1952. They have a 2-year-old son. The couple has been married three years this month.

HE LIKED ARMY

"He liked it (the Army) well enough," Kathy commented, "but I guess the novelty wore off."

The older Martzke said he could not understand his son's defection because, "Gary was so enthusiastic about the service and wanted to be a career soldier."

The last time he was home was in February for a funeral of the father said. "But he seemed perfectly satisfied with the Army. I cannot understand what happened in the meantime."

Martzke joined the service in July 1951, according to his wife. He had thought about staying in, but she thought he had decided against it.

"I think he could be a good citizen if he wanted to and he had help," she added.

MEDICAL TEAM

Algiers authorities sent a medical team including surgeons, nurses and anesthetists to Colomb-Béchar, at dawn today.

Observers believed the large-scale medical mobilization indicated the frontier clashes had caused heavy casualties and were a possible precaution against any further fighting.

War veterans, who fought the 7½ year liberation war against France spent in long lines in front of recruiting offices and barracks. They were responding to President Ahmed Ben Bella's order last night mobilizing all ex-bellied men and war veterans.

Informal sources said the volunteers would be given arms and uniforms only if the fighting for a disputed border area developed into a war. But the "Dienouds" (liberation war fighters) are expected to rejoin the Army ranks immediately.

The military buildup was under way as Ben Bella's two personal emissaries to Morocco sought a new round of talks with King Hassan II.

Family Says GI No Commie

BERLIN (UPI)—A member of the U.S. Army's 6th Rocket Battalion, 517th Artillery, has defected to East Germany and asked for political asylum.

The East German news agency ADN claimed tonight. ADN identified the soldier as Frank Barton, Barton is the fifth U.S. soldier ADN has claimed crossed into the East in the past week. (See story, page 1.)

The estranged Pontiac wife of a U.S. Army soldier who East Germans said defected to East Germany described her husband as a "very mousy" person who "hadn't grown up."

Mrs. Gary (Kathleen M.) Martzke, of 17 Arcadia Court, said her 25-year-old husband had his black moods, but also had his good moods.

Martzke's alleged defection was announced Monday by the official East German news agency. He had been AWOL from the 6th Rocket Battalion, 517th Artillery in Giesse, West Germany, since Aug. 30.

Souvanna's Powers Extended a Year by Laos Assembly

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Lao National Assembly extended Premier Souvanna Phouma's extraordinary powers for another year in a brief session today.

Under the special powers, first granted to Souvanna Oct. 7, 1962, he is permitted to rule by decree.

Some assemblymen contended that Souvanna should report back to the assembly before it granted the extension. However, a vote of 27-9 approved the extension on condition that Souvanna report back to the assembly on his return from a tour of Europe.

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's minority Liberal government survived two no-confidence votes of no confidence Tuesday night.

It was a small revolt in the House of Commons over farm policies in Eastern Canada, such as dairy subsidies and the use of fertilizer, and posed no real threat to the government.

The first motion, introduced by the Conservatives, was defeated 134-85, with the help of the Social Credit and New Democrat parties.

The second motion, introduced by the Social Credit party and supported by the New Democrats, was turned down 208-22. The Conservatives and the Quebec faction of Social Credit voted with Pearson's Liberals.

Arkansas Backs Barry—Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval Faubus, admitting "it's a little difficult to project a year ahead," said yesterday if a presidential election were held right now President Kennedy would not carry Arkansas.

Faubus said he based his belief on a poll he had made. He said it showed definitely Kennedy would lose Arkansas.

Faubus said Republican Barry Goldwater, a possible 1964 candidate, had the most support.

Dems Plan Dollar Drive on Deficit

LANSING (UPI)—State Democratic leaders said today they held high hopes for eliminating a $200 million deficit by the end of this year.

The deficit figure was computed last spring.

State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency said a "Dollars for Democrats" drive will be held Oct. 24-27. This is expected to bring in between $25,000 and $30,000.

Some $75,000 already has been raised through a theater party and "Project 100," an intensive drive to get donors of $100 on the party rolls.

With the estimate from the dollars for Democrats drive, the party would have over $150,000 still lacking, Ferency said. "After that we'll reappraise our debt position and be better able to judge our next move."

Ferency declined to comment on party plans for another fundraising event, probably in November, but there were indications earlier that a major national figure would be asked to top the bill at a statewide party dinner with a large price tag on each plate.

Elderly Home Funds in Bill Before JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A stop-gap bill, authorizing appropriation of an additional $50 million for loans to finance housing for the elderly, went to President Kennedy today for his signature.

The Senate passed the measure yesterday. The money authorized in the bill would be added to the existing balance of $75 million to meet a fiscal 1964 budget request of $125 million for the program.

More than 60,000 foreign students representing 150 countries are attending 1,800 colleges in the United States.

PARIS (AP)—A French government spokesman says President Charles de Gaulle is giving serious thought to a trip to the United States to see President Kennedy.

SOUTHALL, England (AP)—The British government will never agree to segregated schools, Education Minister Sir Edward Boyle said Tuesday night.

He told a mixed audience of English, Jamaican, Indian and Pakistani parents that he understood their anxieties but could not meet demands for segregated schools.

Southall, a town of 45,000 in Middlesex County, has about 8,000 colored workers, mainly Indians and Pakistanis.

Colored children—outnumber whites three to two in the lowest grades, and white parents claim standards are being depressed because many of them come from illiterate families.

They also claim property prices are falling as a result of the influx of colored people.

MOSCOW (AP)—The first snow of the season fell on Moscow today but melted as soon as it landed.

Last year the first snow came two days earlier.

At Crittenton Facility

Osteopaths Refuse Joint Staff

By GARY THORNE
Proposals for a combined staff of doctors of medicine and osteopathy for the suburban unit of Crittenton General Hospital, planned near Rochester, have been rejected by area osteopaths.

Backed by the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, local osteopaths refused the offer of a combined staff because of "the numerous restrictions and the lack of official presentation of the plan . . . to the osteopathic profession."

J. V. Wilkes, D.Q., 83 Avon Road, Avon Township, announced the decision by the osteopaths not to participate on the behalf of the proposed Crittenton-branch hospital.

Dr. Wilkes said the staff of the Avon Center Hospital, supported by the Oakland County Osteopathic Association, recommended refusing the offer for a combined staff.

The Michigan association approved a resolution over the weekend in support of the local osteopaths' position.

FIVE PERSONS
Dr. Wilkes cited five reasons for the action. First, he said osteopaths applying for staff privileges at Crittenton would have "no official staff positions."

Second, he said, osteopaths would have "no official capacity in departmental administration." Third, he said, osteopaths would have "no official capacity in hospital staff committee functions."

Fourth, the Avon Township doctor contended, osteopaths would have "no participation in (the) intern training program. And last, he said, doctors of osteopathy would have "no participation in (the) resident training program."

Dr. Wilkes pointed out that Crittenton's representatives "freely admitted that the only reason for this action was to enable Crittenton to obtain $1 million from the Hill-Burton Federal Aid to Hospitals Fund." He said, "Hill-Burton indicated to Crittenton that osteopathic participation on their staff was an essential requirement for the procurement of this money."

APPLIES IN FUTURE

In supporting the stand of the local osteopaths, the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons emphasized that the action would apply to any and all future proposals of comparable stature in the state.

AREA NEWS

"No consideration will be given to such proposals unless equal privileges and responsibilities are shared by D.O.'s (osteopaths) and M.D.'s alike, and such proposals, will of necessity, be in writing and documented," the association's resolution stated.

Dr. Wilkes added that he did not feel the action of the osteopaths would hurt Crittenton's proposed suburban unit.

"I don't think our action will be detrimental to Crittenton," he added.

"The rapidly expanding population and the increasing demand for hospital bed space will barely be met if both hospitals consummate their present (building) plans on schedule."

Dr. Wilkes said Avon Center Hospital has projected plans for a new 100-bed hospital at Orion and Rochester roads. In addition, the present 44-bed unit will be maintained for chronic, long-stay cases.

Dr. Dewane G. Lindland, administrator of the Avon Center Hospital, said plans are continuing for the new hospital. He said financing is almost complete.

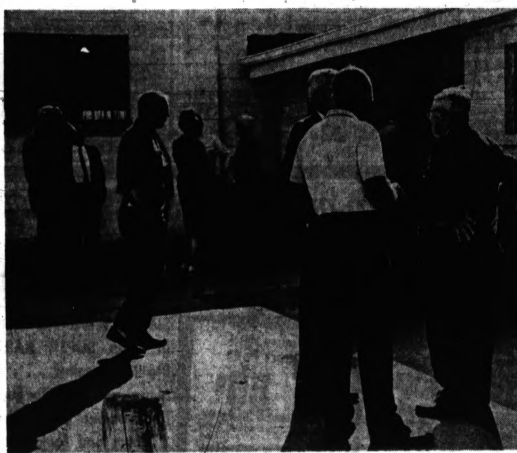

He expected ground-breaking ceremonies to take place after the first of the year, probably about March.

HAD RESTRICTIONS

The Rochester-area branch of Crittenton Hospital is also slated to get under way next spring. Plans call for a 150-bed facility on Walton just west of Rochester.

The combined staff idea was approved by the Oakland County Medical Society about a month ago. The medical society, however, did insist on certain restrictions.

MD's, according to a society spokesman, would head up staff committees, such as the credentials committee, and serve as department heads. Osteopaths would have representation on all committees and in all areas, the spokesman emphasized.

WHERE'S FREEMAN? — A crowd numbering some 200 farmers gathered at the Lapeer County Center Building yesterday for a scheduled talk by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. The cabinet member canceled his appearance five hours before he was due, giving a case of flu as the reason. The farmers shared "crop talk" with others who had not learned of Freeman's cancellation as the crowd slowly dispersed. The secretary's Lapeer visit is now rescheduled for 2 p.m. next Tuesday.

Laymen to Talk at Troy Church

TROY—Next Sunday's national observance of Laymen's Day will receive a two-pronged thrust at the First Presbyterian Church of Troy.

At the 10:30 a.m. service, a layman, Forrest Fox, Detroit area personnel manager for Gulf Oil Corp. will speak on "The Layman's Witness."

Fox also serves on the official board of the First Methodist Church, Birmingham.

He will describe in detail the development of the Firebird III experimental turbine-driven car.

Bidwell is president of the board of trustees of the Troy church on Livernois, north of Waukegan.

Troy to Pick 3 More for Study Committee

TROY—The appointment of members to a civil service study committee here is expected to be completed by next Monday's City Commission meeting.

So far, commissioners have chosen 11 to serve on the 14-member unit.

The committee is an outgrowth of the commission's response to the more than 1,000 signatures presented last month which demanded an election on the civil service issue.

WILL APPOINT

Each city commissioner will appoint two members, and a representative of the police and fire departments will serve in an ex officio, or advisory capacity.

Those already appointed include Richard C. Halney, 871 Owendale; Frank Bedard, 6458 Houghton; Mrs. Wayne Clark, 2755 Iowa; and Dan Monley, 405 E. Square Lake.

Others chosen were Robert E. Schwab, 3090 Oakhill; Jesse H. Holmes, 6839 Dublin Fair; Donald Essenberg, 2525 Spencer; Donald Melcher, 170 Wilson; John Couch, 178 Lovell; Eugene G. Rellly, 6861 Gledynbourne; and Rev. W. D. Pendell, of Royal Oak.

Rev. Pendell is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy.

Police Officer Henry Krell will represent the police and fire departments on the study committee.

Suspect Killed in Escape Bid

FLINT (AP)—A gun battle with police ended in death late yesterday for an ex-convict sought in a $5,000 robbery.

Parke Van Camp, 29, of Flint, was fatally wounded by two detectives armed with a machine gun and a shotgun. The suspect fired a pistol shot at them in his daring bid to escape.

Detectives William Boudreau and S. Victor Nyberg said they killed Van Camp after he jumped from a second floor apartment, landed on a porch roof, scrambled to the ground, and fired one shot.

NARROWLY MISSED

The bullet narrowly missed Boudreau and smashed the windshield of a police car.

Det. Sgt. James Gorman and his partner, Herbert Taylor, said they were confronted by Van Camp's revolver at the door of an apartment on Flint's near west side. They had gone there to arrest Van Camp for investigation in a Monday night drug store holdup.

Van Camp leaped out a window and made his way to the ground where the other two detectives were waiting.

Gorman said a search of the apartment turned up some $2,000 in cash.

Police Denied Back Overtime

Trooper Can't Collect, Commission Rules

LANSING (UPI) — State police officers who worked many years under the 56-hour week in effect throughout the uniformed division do not have recourse to challenge the validity of that long work week, the Civil Service Commission ruled yesterday.

The commission denied that trooper Charles Weber of the Romeo post had any back pay coming for "overtime" worked during the last six years.

State policemen worked a regular 56-hour week until last July when the commission reduced this to 48 hours with compensation or compensatory time off for overtime.

PECULIARITIES

The commission said its rule establishing a minimum-maximum work week of 40-48 hours did not include the state police because of peculiarities in "operating conditions" of the department did not permit application of the rule.

"We had to take into account the unique nature of police work with its necessarily irregular hours and with the indispensable need for police services to the citizens of Michigan," the commission said.

Previously one of the means of compensating for the long work week was the commission's policy to allow "banked time" to accumulate as credit for work over 48 hours per week. This credit was good for use as special sick leave and retirement credit time.

The commission said that all police employees were informed of the long work hours and working conditions when they were hired. This, it said, invalidated Weber's appeal since he had knowledge of what was expected.

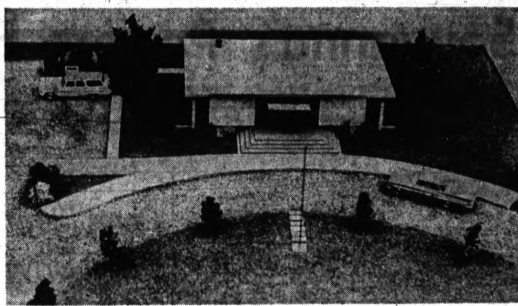

Hamlin School PTA

Will Hold Potluck

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Hamlin School PTA will hold its annual family potluck supper 6:30 p.m. Monday at the school. Those attending are asked to bring their own place settings, rolls, butter and mayonnaise and a salad or dessert to pass.

Traffic Toll Hits 1,374

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State police provisional reports today showed 1,374 persons were killed in highway crashes this year through September as compared with 1,269 victims in the same period of 1962.

Scale Model Of New Keego Harbor City Hall

City Hall Construction Delay OK to 'Thrifty' Keego Council

KEEGO HARBOR — Construction of a new municipal building here has been postponed, but city officials feel it will be worth the wait.

Councilmen were dissatisfied with the three bids they received on the job and are planning to ask for rebids.

"All three were way above our estimate," City Manager Gordon B. Hunter said.

Although he didn't quote any of the figures, Hunter did say the building had been expected to cost about $40,000.

MUCH BUILDING

Hunter attributed the high bids to the large amount of building now being done in the area.

Subcontractors, he said, are all busy and would have to leave other jobs to begin the Keego Harbor project now. Thus each of the subcontractors submitted higher estimates than normal, making the total far above the amount anticipated, he said.

"We had hoped to get the building framed during this fall," Hunter noted. "Then the trades could work inside when bad weather came."

Hunter said the city will ask for new bids in February.

REASONABLY ACCURATE

Mayor Vernon B. Edward agreed that the $40,000 estimate should have been reasonably accurate.

"It is really a practically designed building, both interior and exterior," he said.

A model of the new city hall will be displayed in various public buildings beginning next week at the Keego Harbor branch of Community National Bank.

"The building will be constructed on the east side of Beechmont between Knowlson and Wilbur. It will occupy a portion of the block purchased five or six years ago for that purpose."

MASONRY STRUCTURE

Designed by Gilbert W. Savage, AIA, of Detroit, the front of the masonry building will feature vertical masonry precast panels, glass brick and stone. Only the top level will be visible from the street.

On the top floor of the two levels will be the city offices and police department. Both the manager-clerk and the treasurer will have their own offices while the building inspector, fire marshal and assessor will share one.

The police department will contain an office for the chief, a radio area and interrogation room.

Dominating the lower level will be a combination council and court room. Another combination room will be used by boards, juries and commission.

Also on this level will be an office for the judge and the mayor, storage area and mechanical room.

In front of the building will be a circular driveway and at its side a 14-car parking lot.

'Stop Stalling,' Senator Says

LANSING (AP) — The Senate's top Republican demanded yesterday that his colleagues of both houses "stop stalling" on Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform bills and ready them for floor action.

"I want the vehicles (Romney's bills) on the floor and I want the Senate to act on them," Sen. Stanley Thayer R-Am Arbor, who is also Romney's top legislative spokesman, said in a tardy-worded Senate speech.

"The Michigan legislature has not only failed to react effectively to the times but, as of the moment, we have failed to act responsibly," Thayer said.

Democrats responded from the floor that it is Thayer's party — outnumbering Democrats two to one in the Senate — which controls the timetable and which Thayer should blame.

Republicans were silent except for Sen. Clyde Geering, R-Holland, chairman of the committee which is considering Romney's bills.

"It looks as though hunting season is open for the chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee," he said with a grin.

Tito Continues Coexistence Campaign in U.S.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito files to the United States today to continue his campaign to find a workable formula—for-peaceful coexistence.

Tito will confer with President Kennedy at the White House Thursday after a month-long visit to Brazil, Chile, Bolivia and Mexico.

The first chief of a European Communist state to visit Latin America, Tito carefully avoided peddling his independent brand of communism, according to aides accompanying him.

COMMON VIEWS

Instead, the 71-year-old wartime guerrilla leader discussed with Latin-American presidents two issues on which they share common views:

Cutting Criticism Earns Boyfriend $5.60 Fine

WEYMOUTH, England (UPI) — Anthony Pettiford, 22, was fined $5.60 yesterday for cutting up his girlfriend's skirt with a knife — while she was wearing it — because he thought the skirt was "indecent."

"I cut her skirt," he said, "simply to establish the right of the individual to wear what she pleases within reason."

The need to consolidate peaceful relations among nations with no intervention by big-or little — powers in domestic affairs of other nations, and the need to find additional means to speed the economic progress of developing countries in Latin America, Asia and Africa.

Tito and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos signed a joint communique Tuesday night recommending that an international code be drafted to give legal strength to the policy of peaceful relations.

They asked the United Nations to take steps to reach a general agreement on the principles of non-intervention and international law relating to co-operation among nations.

4 GOP Congressmen Blast Tito's Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Four Republican congressmen believe that Yugoslav President Josip Broz Tito's visit to the United States is "a great victory for communism."

Reps. Steven B. Derouanian, N.Y., Alvin E. O'Konski, Wis., James B. Utt, Calif., and Ralph Beerrman, Neb., protested the visit yesterday in speeches or statements.

This is expected to be a major point in Tito's address to the U.N. General Assembly next week.

Tito, who received Soviet Premier Khrushchev for a two-week visit in Yugoslavia earlier this year, said he has no premeditated intention of "Khrushchev and President Kennedy. He said he would discuss international problems with Kennedy just as he did with the Soviet premier.

In Acapulco Tuesday night, Lopez Mateos hailed Tito's visit as "proof that peoples on different continents have peace and desire friendship."

The Mexican president gave

Tito, his wife Jovanka and their party a tremendous Mexican fiesta.

Several thousand Mexicans lined the streets with torches to cheer the two presidents.

Tito was scheduled to land at Langley Air Force Base, Va., at 4:30 p.m., EST.

He was to be driven to Colonial Williamsburg for a night of rest, and leave Thursday by helicopter for Washington.

The government's X15 research plane project is sponsored jointly by the Air Force, Navy, National Aeronautics Space Administration and North American Aviation Company.

Waterford Schools Get Bond Approval

Waterford Township school system's $4.25-million bond issue for new school buildings and additions has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

A bid opening date for sale of the bonds will be decided when the school board meets tomorrow night.

Voters in Waterford Township approved a $6.25-million school building program last June 10. The project will be undertaken over a five-year period.

A $2-million bond issue to finance the balance of the building program is scheduled about a year from now.

Blast the Noise . . . Rifle Does the Trick

BOLOGNA, Italy (UPI) — Paolo Adani, 25, who hates noise, put a bullet yesterday through the gas tank of a motorcycle that had roused him from his afternoon nap.

The motorcyclist, Giovanni Paparo, 17, called police, who charged Adani with firing a rifle in a public place.

Tattooed 'Ladies' Hit

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — Nottingham School officials said today they are fighting a tattooing craze in which teen-age girls decorate their friends' arms with sewing needles and shoe polish.

They're Employees During the Day, Prisoners at Night

By ADRIAN W. SYBOR
BALTIMORE (AP) — An advertising salesman clears his desk at the end of the day. South of town, a construction worker borrows his employer's pickup truck for a 6-mile drive. A laborer in a nearby quarry telephones to say he will be late — he must work overtime again.

All three are serving prison sentences. They are participating in Maryland's new work release program for prisoners. There are 19 prisoners — 18 men and 1 woman — taking part. They include a truck driver, farm hand, kitchen worker, laundry worker, nurse's aide, clerk, construction worker and mechanic.

NIGHTS IN JAIL

Their offenses include robbery, burglary, housebreaking, larceny, assault, domestic cases and fraud. The prisoners spend their nights in seven of Maryland's nine correctional institutions.

James W. Curran, commissioner of the Maryland Department of Corrections, says the offenses of the participants often are misleading. "They are only labels," says Curran. "Most of the time there are extenuating circumstances."

Only narcotics and sex offenders are excluded from the program.

The program began under a law introduced by Democratic State Sen. Edward O. Weeni Jr., and passed this year by the general assembly. The first participants arrived on the job July 1.

SIMILAR PROGRAM

Only North Carolina has a similar statewide program, created in 1957, although Wisconsin authorizes local jails to operate their own work release program.

About 2,000 of Maryland's 5,160 prisoners are trustees and work each day, weather permitting, outside the prison. But they wear prison uniforms and are

Some walk to work. Others ride public buses. Sometimes the employer provides transportation.

GOAL IS PAROLE

"Our ultimate goal," says acting director Frederick E. Terrinoni, "is to get the prisoner paroled." He says the work release program "teaches the prisoners to accept and learn obligations."

To be eligible, the prisoner can be serving a term of no longer than five years. Curran estimates that 90 per cent of the 4,000 prisoners committed each year fall into this category.

The inmate is not eligible until he has served six months. Then he must volunteer and must provide the name of an employer who will hire him.

Employers are required to pay the prevailing wage. They must notify the prison if they want the inmate to work overtime, and they must telephone the prison if the inmate doesn't appear for work in the morning.

AID FAMILIES

The law requires the prisoners to help support their dependents. They also pay the state $2.50 per day for room and board in prison.

What's left is paid back to the prisoner when he is released.

Before the end of the year, the first of the work release prisoners will go before the parole board. Terrinoni says, "We hope the board will be disposed to granting them paroles," noting that one of the work release prisoners is a parole violator.

Employers seem to like the plan. A construction firm, troubled because employees failed to appear for work on Mondays, commended an inmate working for it because of his good attendance record.

An insulation mechanic has been made foreman of a crew of men. When Terrinoni visited the ad salesman, he found the inmate in charge of the office while the employer was away.

A Million Dollars to Relieve Itch of Piles

It is estimated that over a million dollars a year is spent on varied remedies to relieve itch of piles. Yet druggists tell you that cooling, astringent Peterson's Ointment soothes pile torture in minutes. 6½¢ box or 8½¢ tube applicator. Peterson's Ointment gives fast, joyful relief from itching. Be delighted or money back.

Junior Editors Quiz on HYDROFOILS

QUESTION: What are the mechanics of the hydrofoil boat?

ANSWER: In the opening years of the 20th Century, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, famous inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with kites and airplanes. He was fascinated with the principle of the airfoil, which lifts the wing of an airplane.

We show this principle at upper left. The air streaming over the curved top surface, has a longer way to go, has to speed up and its pressure on the wing below grows less. But the slower air at bottom, giving more pressure, lifts the wing.

Dr. Bell reasoned that the same principle would work in water if an airfoil shape was moving fast. He attached stilts equipped with a number of airfoil shape strips to boats. They worked so well that the body of the boat was lifted up in the air and whizzed along on the foils.

In 1919, Dr. Bell built a large hydrofoil, as these boats became called, which made a world speedboat record of 70.86 miles an hour.

In spite of this success, the hydrofoil boat was slow to develop; it is only now that its possibilities are being appreciated.

The big picture is of a regular outboard motorboat to which hydrofoils have been attached. The foils give great speed and an amazingly smooth ride.

FOR YOU TO DO: A large ocean going hydrofoil, 117 feet long, has recently been built. Watch your newspaper for developments about these boats which may be whizzing passengers over waterways before long.

Group to Seek College Again

Attempt Is Renewed for Oakland School

A renewed attempt to set up a proposed Oakland County community college will be considered tonight at a meeting at 8 p.m. in the Oakland Schools offices, 1025 N. Telegraph.

Members of the steering committee of the Citizens Advisory Council, board of trustee candidates and interested individuals are slated to meet.

The community college proposal was defeated last June in a split vote.

County voters approved the idea of a local two-year college, 19,822 to 18,001, but defeated a second proposition for a one-mill tax levy 19,165 to 17,428.

A campaign to secure a favorable vote may be mapped out tonight.

Several factors contributed to the college issue's defeat last June.

Lack of Drive

Foremost among these was the lack of a concentrated drive for "yes" votes. Such a campaign will be the first order of business for the steering committee.

The county school board, which has fostered the idea of a community college, had asked for tonight's meeting.

The school board requested the advisory council reconvene early in the fall for the purpose of organizing a second vote on the college question.

Bulb Burns for 40 Years

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—A light bulb in the home of Mrs. Ada Javins, 83, is still burning after 40 years of service.

Mrs. Javins remembers that the bulb, shaped like a cluster of grapes, was bought when she and her husband built a new house in 1923.

When she moved she took it with her; and she still uses the bulb, which gives off a dull reddish glow, as a night light.

State Sets Study Into Hiring Bias

LANSING (U) — Breaking a long-standing precedent, the State Civil Service Commission has authorized a study of the appointments of nonwhites who pass merit examinations and are referred to state classified service.

The commission said it broke a rule prohibiting any identification of nonwhites on its employment records to obtain a definitive and accurate picture of racial patterns of employment in state classified service.

Forest Green, Negro commission member from Detroit, asked for the count at the commission meeting yesterday.

He said some segments of the Negro community had complained that discrimination exists in the State Civil Service program although applicants are rated on fitness before they are referred to state agencies for possible employment.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Franklin Dewald, state civil service director, said that under the present system the checkers who score written examinations have no way of knowing the name or the race of the applicant.

"The first time we identify an applicant is when he has passed an examination and a fingerprint check is made for the purpose of screening arrest records," Dewald said. "Even then we do not retain any record in our files of race."

If the qualities of a candidate must be determined beyond a written test, an additional part of the examination is an oral interview by a three-member rating board, Dewald explained.

Candidates for state jobs are ranked by numerical order and the state agency must select from the top three names on the list when there is a vacancy.

Salary Report Goes to Board

Proposed salary adjustments for principals and building progress reports will be presented to the Pontiac School Board tomorrow night.

Adjusted salaries on the basis of school enrollments will be considered by the school board for the district's 16 principals.

Reports on the school district's four new buildings will be made by Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent for business and staff personnel.

In other business, the school board will review a request for the training of 16 automobile mechanics under the Manpower Training and Development Act.

In addition, the fourth Friday enrollment count will be presented to the school board. The traffic light at Whitfield School will be the subject of another report to the board.

Romney Proclaims B'nai B'rith Month

LANSING (UP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed October as B'nai B'rith month in honor of the national Jewish benevolent organization.

Romney noted, "B'nai B'rith, now 120 years old, is the largest Jewish mass membership organization in the world. Benevolent of purpose, it has championed the cause of human rights for all peoples everywhere, regardless of race, creed or national origin."

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

Flighting, new-looking, a few mating male flies are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Only parents can tell if their child has them. If you suspect your child has them, get them out of your child's system. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Japan's P-W-W does . . . and here's how they do it: First — a scientific, searing heat carries the worms into the bowels before they die. Then — Japan's modern, medically approved ingredients go right to work — kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get today Japan's P-W-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special dose for children and adults.

CIRCUS PARTY — Bring on the clowns! It's a Circus Party. Three rings or one, this buffet meal is fun for everyone from Small Fry to Sophisticates. No ordinary stuffed toys are these. Out of the bean bags and your scrap bag come Beanie the Clown, his companions, and the best-eating Pinto Bean Pot. Even the filling of the ring is Beans — Pinto, Red or large white Great Northern dried beans.

Why Not Give a New Type Party as a Treat for the Teen-Age Set

Everybody loves a circus, especially the Clowns! Why not give a Circus Party as a special treat for the Teen-age Set, an evening of gaiety for Grown-ups; good also for the not-too-Small Fry. Fun for everyone! When your church or club group needs gifts for the Christmas Bazaar, get out your scrap bag of fabrics and trimmings and a bag of dried beans, to whip up little bean-filled clowns.

PINTO BAKED BEANS

(with a nod to Boston)
2 pounds (4 and 1/2 cups) Pinto beans
3 quarts (12 cups) water
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons butter or salad oil

2 medium onions chopped, (1 cup)
3/4 pound salt pork
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 cup molasses

Wash beans; add water. Bring to boiling point rapidly. Boil 2 minutes only. Add 1/2 teaspoon soda. Cover; let stand 1 hour. Or soak overnight in measured amount of water with the soda. Either way, to cook the beans, bring to the boiling point in the soaking water. Add salt and butter or oil to cut down foam, and the onion. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer until beans are tender but firm, about 1 and 1/2 hours. (If using the large white Great Northern beans, cook about 1 hour.)

Using a slotted spoon, place beans in heavy bean pot or casserole of about 4-quart capacity. Scrape and wash salt off the salt pork. Cut nearly through skin in 1-inch squares. Bury salt pork, cut side up, in center of beans. Mix together remaining ingredients with the bean liquid.

Pour over the beans, adding enough boiling water so that the beans are covered. Put on the tight-fitting lid or foil and lid. Bake in a 250 degree F. (slow) oven for 8 hours, adding some boiling water if beans are not quite covered. Just before serving, remove lid. With a wooden spoon, gently bring pork to surface. Raise oven heat to brown the pork.

Makes 12 servings. Good reheated though there likely will not be enough left to find out!

Three-Ring Centerpiece:

Cut 1-inch wide strips from heavy paper or poster board; decorate with crayons; staple ends together to form rings.

Place three rings in center of table. Fill each ring with a different color of dried beans—the large white, colorful red, dappled Pintos. Use these to house small dog figures for one act, other circus animals for the other ring.

Individual Bean Casseroles:
So that all the main course foods may go on the same plate, provide individual casseroles or small baking dishes to house the Baked Beans.

Drums Make Unusual Salads:
Sandwich a thick layer of dry-type cottage cheese between two tomato slices, using thin strips of green pepper arranged on diagonals against the cheese to resemble lacing. Make drumsticks by using small celery sticks tipped with small stuffed olives. These "drums" may be served from a chop plate.

Orange Clown Dessert:
To make, cut outer peel of a large seedless orange to make eyes and mouth, cut nose and lift up slightly.

Scoop out pulp, using some to add to a mixture of fruits which you will use as filling for the orange. Accent eyes and mouth with sliced gumdrops. Chili; just before serving, perch cocky paper-cup hat over one eye. Orange shells may be filled with a frozen dessert.

Week Set for School Lunches

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

50,000 Oakland county children buy lunch at school every school day.

Twenty-four school food administrators in the county plan and serve these lunches. These 24 women have formed an organization, The Michigan Oaks, which meets monthly.

They talk shop—learn more about nutrition, economical lunchroom management and how to serve attractive tasty lunches.

Last year we reported to you on their plan of purchasing food jointly and how they meet for testing canned foods before buying.

Mrs. Edna Cook (appropriate name!), Bloomfield Hills schools is president of The Oaks. President elect is Mrs. Ella Stranahan, Rochester Community Schools. Mrs. Mary Kern, school lunch consultant for Oakland County schools, is executive secretary.

This is National School Lunch Week, proclaimed by President John F. Kennedy.

If all the 750 people employed in school lunchrooms in the country are working hard to feed your children right, can you do less?

If you're a mother whose children come home for lunch, here are some suggestions.

How about a chili shortcake? This is a good recipe for the mother of several children coming home at noon. It's made with canned chili and a muffin mix.

CHILI SHORTCAKE

1 (12 oz.) package corn muffin mix
2 (15 1/2-oz. can-beef chili with beans

Cook Asparagus With Chinese Beef

To give a new look (and a new taste) to an old favorite.

Asparagus Steak, Chinese Style

1 1/2 cups uncooked asparagus cuts and tips
1/4 cup oil
1 medium onion, sliced
1 lb. round steak cut in strips
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1/4 cup water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Heat oil in skillet, add onion and steak and saute. Add 1/4 cup water, asparagus cuts and tips; cover and cook for 12 minutes. Meanwhile, mix cornstarch, soy sauce and remaining water. Add to mixture in skillet, cover and cook for an additional five minutes. Serves 4.

1 small green pepper, cut in strips.

Grease bottom of an 8" x corn muffin mix according to package directions. Spoon into prepared pan and bake as directed for cornbread. Cool. Cut layer in half crosswise.

Heat beef chili with beans. Spoon half the chili onto bottom layer of cornbread. Cover with top half of layer. Spoon remaining chili on top. Garnish with green pepper strips. Makes 6 servings.

Another convenience food, a pudding mix, makes a delicious dessert that will appeal to the younger set and will assure extra milk and eggs in their diet.

EGGNOG PUDDING

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling (not instant)
2 cups milk
2 eggs, separated
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground mace

Pour pudding mix into a saucepan. Add small amount of milk and mix until smooth. Add remaining milk, egg yolks, nutmeg and mace.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until pudding thickens. Cool to room temperature.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into pudding. Chill. Makes 4 servings.

How Would Romney's Fiscal Program Affect Business?

ler would keep hands off the tax deliberations in the legislature this time.

However, sources within the two companies advising the AP they were still studying the Romney program, and therefore it was too early to say what they might take eventually.

On the other hand, a General Motors spokesman said his company's only concern is that it be treated fairly and no differently from any other major corporation.

Although none of the "big three" would estimate how much bigger their annual tax bill might run under Romney's proposed 3 1/2 per cent tax on corporate profits, one unofficial calculation pegged the increase for Ford alone at about $4 million.

$81-MILLION INCOME

Total income to the state from the proposed corporate income tax would be $81 million, according to the Michigan Department of Revenue.

Another $9 million would come from a 5 1/2 or 6 per cent income tax on financial institutions, while some $216 million would be raised by a 2 per cent personal income tax.

(The governor's original request for a 5 1/2 per cent financial tax is expected to be amended to 6 per cent to adjust for an error in the original calculations.)

In keeping with Romney's slogan of "Tax reform without tax increase," this $306 million in new revenue would be offset exactly by reductions on existing taxes.

Declaring that "jobs and justice" are the goals of his program, Romney says three basic deficiencies show up in the present state and local tax structure.

These are (1) Taxes on business discourage expansion and new industry (2) Low income families carry a bigger share of the total tax load than they should; and (3) Local governments don't have the tax capacity to handle their own problems.

One of the key steps to encouraging business, Romney feels, is the repeal of Michigan's unique $78 million a year business activities tax, which has no counterpart in any other state.

BURDENSOME

"This tax is based primarily on the mere existence of a business enterprise and is especially burdensome to new business and struggling business," the governor says. "To clear the way for business expansion and creation of new jobs, the tax must be repealed."

Another tax which would be wiped out under the Romney program is the $35 million a year state tax on intangibles, sometimes referred to as an income tax that is not an income tax.

Income is one of the bases for establishing the amount of the intangibles tax, and since the governor's proposals are geared to personal and corporate income taxes, a combination of an intangibles tax and an income tax would amount to unfair double taxation.

Intangibles now subject to taxation include stocks, bonds, bank deposits, mortgages, debentures, annuities, land contracts, accounts and notes receivable, certificates of indebtedness and money on hand or in transit.

Romney points out that banks now pay the intangibles tax, and the state is granted only a single form of taxation on banks. His proposed income tax on financial institutions would be that one and only tax.

Romney also hopes to encourage new business to locate in Michigan through revision of the half-million-dollar-a-year corporation franchise tax.

EXEMPT FROM FEE

Under his proposal, each new profit corporation would be exempt from paying the franchise fee of five mills upon each dollar of its paid-up capital and surplus during the calendar year in which it issued its first certificate of incorporation and in each of the succeeding two calendar years.

Only the minimum annual fee of $10 for the privilege of operating in Michigan would be required to be paid at the time of filing the annual report.

The proposed 20 per cent reduction in school property taxes is an important segment of the governor's plan to stimulate business through major tax relief estimated at $93 million a year.

The proposal is expected to benefit business and individual taxpayers on a 50-50 basis (about $46.5 million for each category).

Surprisingly, this portion of the Romney package has drawn criticism from some of his fellow Republicans, not for what it does but for what it doesn't do. One of these critics is House Speaker Allison Green of Kingston, considered by many to be the most powerful man in the legislature.

In calling for legislation granting general relief from local real and personal school property taxes, Romney proposed that each collecting unit bill the state for 20 per cent of the total tax levy and in turn be required to show an individual tax bills the total tax minus the 20 per cent state reduction.

INCREASE SUPPORT

The governor said such a program would materially increase the state's percentage of support for local education. "Yet retain in the hands of the individual homeowners and voters the ultimate control and direction of school operations."

The 20 per cent credit would apply to all school taxes becoming due and payable after Jan. 1, 1964. After the first year, the totals of the credits and payments would be established annually by the legislature.

This key portion of the Romney program came under fire from Speaker Green at a hearing of the house taxation committee, which (as did its Senate counterpart) held several public meetings around the state.

Green said the Romney formula would result in an inequitable distribution of state funds to school districts, with wealthy districts benefiting from the subsidy and poorer areas suffering in comparison. Green declared he would prefer a formula based on state aid of $50 per pupil to equalize the distribution, rather than allocating the payments in direct relation to the property tax base.

Romney replied that his proposal was intended primarily to give property tax relief, not to improve the school aid formula. Improvements in the formula, he said, should be taken up by the 1964 regular legislative session.

A final plank in the Romney program intended to provide more jobs would specifically benefit Michigan breweries, hard hit by a so-called "unisex" tax of two cents per 12-ounce bottle imposed in mid-1962.

FOR MORE JOBS

The governor, recognizing that the state's brewing industry has suffered from competition from non-Michigan firms, proposed an exemption from the tax of 50 per cent of the annual production of Michigan breweries sold in the state, not to exceed 25,000 barrels per each company.

Romney says his measure—along with other general business tax relief—will help provide more jobs. But spokesmen for the breweries, distributors and brewery workers say the Romney proposal is not enough.

Some 2,000 of the industry's workers already have been laid off in Michigan, says Michael Miller, executive secretary of the Michigan State Council of Brewery Workers.

Miller says the Romney program would not bring about the recall of one single man in Michigan's five major breweries. He told the House Taxation Committee he hopes the tax can be reduced to $2.50 per barrel, or about .72-cent per bottle.

The state's brewers and distributors had hoped Romney would propose a tax cut of as much as 50 per cent across the board—for both Michigan and non-Michigan companies.

Some fear that Romney's plan of giving relief to Michigan breweries only might result in retaliation in the form of taxes against Michigan beer sold in other states.

OTHER FOES

Criticism of the Romney program is not confined to the speaker of the House and spokesmen for the brewing industry.

The governor's tax reform proposals have drawn qualified support from several top Democratic leaders, including Swainson.

Recognizing that the program contains many elements of previous proposals they have made themselves, the Democrats are striving to avoid an obstructionist image.

But many aspects of the program have drawn the fire of a variety of critics, not the least of whom are senior citizens protesting the proposal for a deferment of their property taxes requiring that they sign a lien on their homesteads.

Strongest objections have come from the AFL-CIO, which says the program is a "soak-the-consumer" scheme.

Paradoxically, at a Republican conference on Mackinac Island, Romney was accused of advocating "Marxism" in his plan for personal income taxes at the state and local levels. (However, how the individual income tax would affect you.)

BIRTHDAY BOY — Though he takes health habits lightly, Bill Keller of Spruce Pine, N.C., celebrated his 108th birthday yesterday. He is the oldest person on the Social Security rolls, born Oct. 15, 1855.

Racist Tops Negro in Dixie Vote

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A 45-year-old white segregationist has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of this racially troubled Southwest Georgia city where a Negro sought the office for the first time.

Attorney James V. Davis received 7,200 votes Tuesday, well over a majority of those cast in a record turnout, making a run-off unnecessary. Nomination in the primary means election.

Slater King, a Negro integration leader, was second with 2,547 votes.

The second white man in the race, architect Edward V. Jones, was third with 1,879 votes. He also is a segregationist and opposed formation of any biracial committee.

The outcome indicated little, if any, change in race relations in this city where more than 1,200 arrests were made during 1967 demonstrations the past two years.

WITHIN FRAMEWORK

Davis said he thought that "what will be done for the colored people will have to be done within the framework of segregation."

King, acting president of the Antisegregation Albany Movement, called for creation of a biracial committee to discuss grievances. None has been established.

King said he hoped the campaign would help members of his race to think politically.

"I am really interested in freeing the minds of Negroes because many of them feel that no Negro should aspire for high office," he said.

Waterford Firemen Called 38 Times

Waterford Township's fire department answered 38 alarms during September, five less than in the same month a year ago. Total alarms for the year to date amount to 633 compared to 606 for the first nine months of 1967.

Four persons have died as a result of fires so far this year and five have suffered injuries.

A year ago no fatalities and two injuries occurred during the nine month period.

Students Protest Junta in Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — Students of a night high school, some of them adults, fought with police using teargas last night in a demonstration against the three-man civilian junta government.

The students were dispersed and no arrests were made. Earlier, police arrested 31 men and 20 women who took part in a horn-blowing motorcycle protesting against the junta.

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Alan Coutis, 56, associate professor of speech at Dickinson College since 1957 and a magazine writer and author of dramatic skits for radio, died Monday. Coutis earlier had taught at the University of Vermont and New York University. He was born in Tacoma, Wash.

ASTHMA & SMOG

Air pollution, smog, dust and pollen are a real problem for the millions of Americans who suffer from asthma. The first signs of different breathing, wheezing, coughing and throat irritation may be the cause. Start taking MENTADOL to control asthma, and then promote finer breathing and more peaceful sleep. Most druggists keep and recommend MENTADOL.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth wobble and wobble when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little MENTADOL on your gums. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, sticky taste or feeling. Does not stain. Checkers "false teeth" (denture wearers). Get MENTADOL today at drug counters everywhere.

Leadership Class Set at Oakland U.

The third annual Institute on Organizational Leadership will be held Saturday, Nov. 9, at Oakland University, the Division of Continuing Education announced today.

Geared to the needs of officers of clubs, agencies, churches, commissions and associations, the all-day institute will feature Dr. Richard Featherstone of Michigan State University.

Present and future officers of clubs and other organizations are invited to attend.

College Vote Falls

JACKSON (U) — Jackson County voters turned down, for the second time this year, a set of proposals to finance a proposed Jackson Community College. A 1½-mill tax for operating funds and bond retirement failed, 7,558 to 7,175. A 20-year $3 million bond issue was rejected, 7,446 to 6,620.

In U.S. Schools

Lunch Program Big Business

Some Pontiac parents were getting a peek this week at a small portion of a $1.2-billion business.

Children in several local schools were inviting their parents to lunch at school this week in conjunction with National School Lunch Week, Oct. 13-19.

That hot school lunch that Johnny races through every day is part of a billion-dollar program that serves more than 16 million children daily.

Partially subsidized by the federal government, Pontiac schools serve 1,221,777 lunches annually at a bargain price of 28 cents each.

This mountain of food costs the school district $12,883 every year, excluding another $15,531 in salaries to 91 kitchen employees, according to Mrs. Margaret Peters, Pontiac school lunch director.

The federal government contributes five cents per meal and also donates surplus food, which enables the lunch program to break even.

AVERAGE LUNCH

The average 25-cent lunch, according to Mrs. Peters, would include turkey salad, hash-brown potatoes, buttered beans, celery sticks, homemade hot rolls and butter, pudding and milk.

"We try to provide a balanced meal that gives one-third the daily nutritional requirements," she explained.

"This is important," she added, "because many youngsters skip breakfast and don't eat properly at home."

Many Pontiac schools are observing school lunch week by serving Michigan products. Parents have been invited to try out the school lunches.

The school lunch program statewide includes 450,000 students in 2,100 schools, which amounts to a food market of $35 million, Mrs. Peters said.

Car Kills Jackson Girl

JACKSON (U) — Paula Sabini, 5, of Jackson, was killed yesterday when she ran in front of a car near her home on Clinton Road, Jackson County sheriff's deputies said. The car's driver, Emma Ruth Koch, 42, of Onondaga, was not held.

Castroites Linked to Venezuela Fire

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — The headquarters of the Supreme Electoral Council suffered minor damage last night in a fire which the government said was started by Castro-Communist terrorists.

The fire on the fourth floor of the council building was quenched in a quarter of an hour. It caused some damage to furniture, books and office supplies.

Although the blaze was written off at first as an accident due to a short circuit, the Interior Ministry said later it was "the latest desperate effort of terrorist bands... to obstruct the free expression of the people's will in the Dec. 1 election."

Sunday morning in many Mexico cities is traditionally reserved for a type of rodeo-fiesta combining dancing and daring feats of horsemanship.

For Second Day

Blazes Threatened

MONMOUTH, Ill. (UPI) — At 7 o'clock last night, the telephone rang at the home of Mayor Allen Walters. His wife answered it.

"I am going to say this only once," the caller declared, in the voice of a man who may have been between 20 and 30 years old. "If the pottery works are not closed down, there will be four more fires tomorrow night."

That's tonight.

This message, plus three blazing holocausts yesterday, had police armed with rifles and pistols patrolling the streets of this tense college town in search of a shrewd but "mad" arsonist.

Walters said the man who sparked the three big blazes was a "highly intelligent" person to whom fires were "like a game of chess."

The fire climaxed a month of threats and arson attempts at the Western Stoneware Co. here. Flames leveled two lumber yards and nearly destroyed a metal firm.

VOLUNTEERS PATROL

Two hundred policemen, auxiliary police and volunteers patrolled the streets of this community of 10,000 persons in west-central Illinois following the fires.

After dusk, businessmen banded together to protect their establishments. They hid in alleys and other out-of-the-way places to avoid being seen by the arsonist, reported manager Jim Mudd of station WRAM.

Students from Monmouth College, a Presbyterian institution with an enrollment of about 1,000, joined in the vigil until midnight.

Walters urged townspeople not to panic. He also urged authorities not to use their guns. "We don't want him shot," he said. "We want him caught."

Walters said the "mad arsonist," from the sound of his voice, was between 20 and 30 years old. The mayor called him "no ordinary firebug but a pyromaniac with a gripe."

Deputy State Fire Marshal Walter E. Parlier said he thought he was middle-aged. Fire Marshal William Cowher called him a "very shrewd and cunning person."

BOLSTER FORCE

City officials called out 73 auxiliary policemen to bolster the town's regular force of 12 policemen. Walters said city fathers decided to wait before asking Gov. Otto Kerner to call out the national guard.

"If fires or something else like bombings persist," Walters said, "then we'll consider calling out the guard."

Fifteen fire departments rushed to the town when fires sprang up one after the other at the Monmouth Lumber Co. on the west side, the Fullerton Lumber Co. on the south side and the Monmouth Metal Culvert Co. in the center of the community.

False alarms were turned in for the Colonial Nursing Home, Lincoln School, a grocery store and Monmouth Hospital.

Late estimates of the damage ran to $175,000 for Fullerton Lumber, $75,000 for Monmouth Lumber and $30,000 for Metal Culvert.

A bomb threat was reported at Western Stoneware one month ago. Two company officials reported their houses were scorched in recent weeks, and several arson attempts were reported at the firm.

350 Boys Flee Building Fire

Guard Admits Setting Child Home Flames

NEW YORK (AP)—A guard at a children's home on Staten Island was arrested on an arson charge today several hours after a fire forced about 350 boys to flee.

The guard ran into a blazing unoccupied building with a fire extinguisher and was carried out unconscious from smoke inhalation.

The guard, who recovered quickly, was quoted by officials as saying he had "problems at home" but did not know why he set fire to the four-story building.

None of the boys was reported injured. They fled from three dormitories at Mount Loretto, run by the New York City Catholic Charities. The fire, which for a time threatened the dormitories, was in the boys' section of the campus-like grounds. The home has about 850 children.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas R. Sullivan said the guard, Edward Moresco, 18, of Oakwood, Staten Island, admitted to him and Fire Marshal Denis Hurley that he set the fire.

Moresco was jailed.

What's Wool? His Sheep Wear Special Coats

CASTLE CARROCK, England (AP)—Farmer William Wilson is putting his 3,000 sheep in sheep's clothing for the winter.

The sheep are being clad in special coats of jute sacking, made to Wilson's design at 70 cents each at an Edinburgh factory.

He whipped up such coats to protect the best sheep of his flock during last winter's severe weather and liked the results.

"They not only keep the sheep snug and warm," he said, "but they make the fleece thicker and softer."

Fair Heliport Makes Debut in New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the major 1964 New York World's Fair buildings, a heliport-restaurant, opened six months early last night with a gala society ball followed by a day of inauguration ceremonies.

The Port Authority heliport and "Top of the Fair" restaurant received a rousing send-off from 700 patrons of the Travelers Aid Society. It is the first completed fair building and will be open from now on for visitors who wish to watch the progress of the fair's construction.

Rising like a flying saucer on legs 120 feet above the fairground, the glamorous exhibition rendezvous was a distinct hit with first nighters. Circular picture windows provided the revelers with a panoramic view of fair buildings under construction and the distant skyscrapers of Manhattan.

Starting this morning, visitors can make the helicopter trip from Manhattan to the fair heliport in six minutes, the public restaurant seating 1,200 at a time, the Terrace Club for VIP guests of the fair corporation, and the World Cocktail Lounge are located just beneath the landing deck.

Five elevators connect the sky-high restaurant to the ground.

Star Wants Name Out of 'Senseless' Movie

LONDON (UPI) — British movie star Stanley Baker said he had asked that his name be removed from all publicity for the movie, "Eve," because the finished film "doesn't make sense."

Baker said his costar, French actress Jeanne Moreau, and American director Joey Lowery also had sent a "strongly worded request" to producer Raymond Hakim asking that their names be removed.

The present quota system controlling immigration into the United States has been in effect since 1924.

Blast Kills 2, Hurts 29 in Colombian Tunnel

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — An explosion killed 2 workers and injured 29 others in a tunnel at a construction site about 20 miles west of Bogota Tuesday. Twenty other workers were temporarily trapped in the tunnel, but were later rescued. The explosion was believed caused by an accumulation of natural gas. The tunnel is part of a hydroelectric project.

The subway system here includes about 300 miles on its various routes.

Bubbles Gets Busted

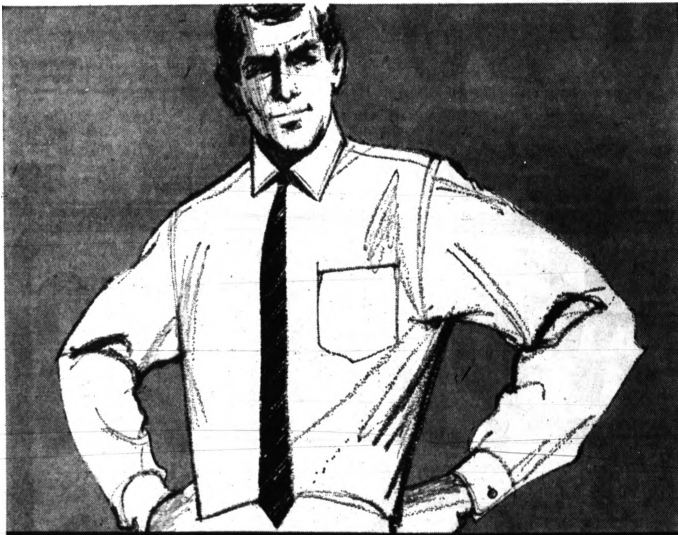

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Police abruptly took "Miss Bubbles," a member of the canine corps, off a car theft case Monday night. They said she tracked down the investigating officers instead of the suspect.

Symphony Opens

By ERIC ALLEN

Music lovers who didn't attend the opening of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra's 19th season missed an unusual double bill: a fine amateur performance of Schubert's 8th symphony; and one of the most lovely instruments — the harp — in solo performance.

The public is rarely treated to extended individual work on the harp, and almost never to group work with the instrument.

The harp ensemble from University of Michigan's music school afforded that pleasure Tuesday evening.

Under direction of Ruth Dean Clark, who herself performs with the quintet, the all-girl ensemble offered five selections, each displaying some facet of this remarkable stringed instrument's facility and the tremendous technique required of the performer.

Most interesting of the works was Debussy's Danse Sacre. This haunting, Oriental flavored poem that explores gossamer melodies molded into Debussy's modern harmonics, races to a series of dynamic climaxes that build to a heady conclusion.

A small string group from the orchestra joined the U. of M. harpists in this Debussy work, performing under skilled direction of conductor Felix Resnick, who this year starts his third season as conductor of the symphony.

At the opening of the symphony Tuesday evening the audience saw a well dressed orchestra and heard a smooth performance.

What most of them never see is an orchestra in rehearsal.

The orchestra opened Tuesday's concert with the light and lively overture to "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai.

Magnum opus for the evening was Franz Schubert's Symphony No. 8 in B Minor which provided the orchestra with considerable challenge.

Misnamed "The Unfinished" by Schubert's romantic and musically befuddled public, the Eighth reaches depths of the composer's soul for some of his most mystical and inverted composition.

The orchestra was mechanically balanced; nearly every note was in place and perspective; no more than the usual amount of control was lost, and that in passages where Schubert's expressive romanticism conceals such errors with natural virtuosity.

This magnificent work demands much more than mechanical reproduction, however.

Tuesday's was a fine amateur performance that lacked only one element of being great . . . that musical spark that comes when every performer completely understands what he is playing.

Without this, the music was flat and colorless when it should have been inspired.

Mr. Resnick at all times had the musicians under firm control. There were a few distortions in sound, primarily in the brasses, which often were heavy and overpowered even this year's expanded string section.

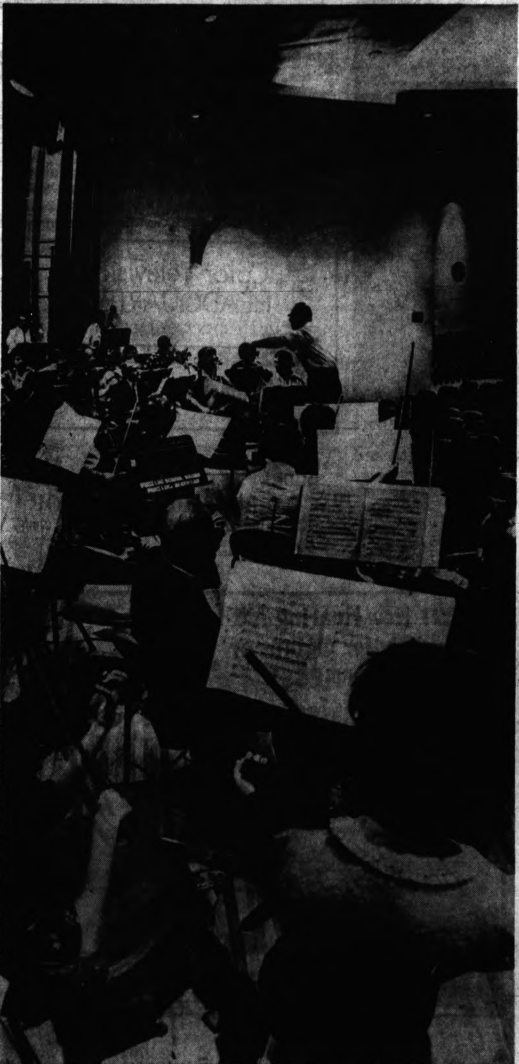

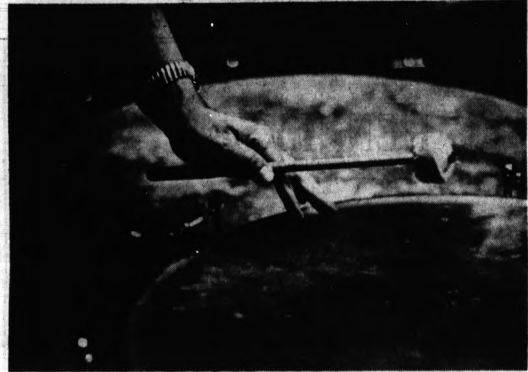

Mr. Resnick has added lower strings, and the bottom of the orchestra benefits.

But of great importance were the themes, carried well between the sections in both allegro and andante movements.

Other works performed Tuesday night included three excerpts from Berlioz' "The Damnation of Faust."

"Dance of the Sprites" and "Dance of the Sylphs" displayed excellent balance and technique in the woodwinds. "March Hongroise," a con-

Michigan State University Students Settle Into Pattern

By JANE BIGLER

Extra curricular activities and regular school work are finally beginning to fall into a pattern for the 27,000-plus students attending Michigan State University this fall.

Larry Reynolds and Paul Aldo, of Pontiac, have been practicing daily as members of MSU's marching band. This one hundred and sixty-five member group performs at all home football games and presents a concert every spring.

This term many students in the field of education are doing their student teaching, an extremely important step in obtaining an education degree.

AREA STUDENT TEACHERS
From Pontiac are Sam Warwick, Lynvia Teasley, Sue Somerville, Connie Scriven, and Judy Kent.

Karen Young, Bloomfield Hills, and Monte Clute, and Rebecca Runner, Rochester, are also student teaching this fall.

A career carnival entitled "Target Tomorrow" was held last week in the Union under the direction of Dan Riley, Bloomfield Hills.

This is an annual event which brings employers and students together and is the largest vocational information service of its kind on any campus.

The Spartans evacuated Michigan State last weekend for the big game with their favorite opponents, the Wolverines from the University of Michigan.

A caravan of one hundred and seventy-five cars drove from Spartan Stadium to Michigan Stadium Saturday.

STUDENT CARAVAN
Among the many students taking part in the day's festivities were Bob Greenhalgh, Joan Gray, Sue Lindgren, Jerry Powers, Carolyn Roush, Barbara Graybiel, and John Hayes.

Mantovani and his orchestra came to MSU this week and for two consecutive nights played to a capacity audience.

ENJOYING MUSIC
Penny Fritchard, Sue Scott, and Vickie Landsperger were among those enjoying the evening of music.

Campus fraternities have just finished their fall rush program and are in the process of pledging new members.

A boy must be at least a second year freshman with a 2.3 grade average to qualify for rush.

Ed Bradley has just become an active member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

RUSH PARTIES
Marilyn Morris and Cindi Hiltz attended a recent Lambda Chi rush party with their dates. Sherrie Dudley and Dave Smith will be attending a party this weekend given by the Theta Chi, the fraternity which Dave has just pledged.

The Spartan eleven will play the team from Indiana Saturday at Michigan State's annual Parent's Day football game.

Fraternities and sororities will be holding open houses after the game to honor their parents. Cathy Steinbaugh of Alpha Xi will be welcoming her parents at a dinner to be held after the game.

Laundromats Good as Gold

At a recent public exhibit, an equipment manufacturer celebrated its 50th anniversary by displaying a gold automatic washer and dryer! However, the elegant paint job didn't seem a bit "far out" to women spectators.

For breathers there the woman who doesn't think of her faithful laundry equipment as just pure gold? Maybe she doesn't get around to spraying the gold paint, but it doesn't strike her as odd that someone might be just that inspired!

Sudsy Welcome

A "welcome mat" that will go into a washing machine is made of deep plush cut-pile carpeting bonded to a rubber base. It's designed to go inside the entrance door.

For the fashion sharp-shooter Country Set does the classic hunt club check in breen and oyster wool, trimmed with breen suede. The oyster cotton blouse completes the slack set. Available locally.

Dibbles' Home Opened to Writers

Area members of the Detroit Women Writers Club gathered for luncheon and a poetry division workshop Tuesday in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Lewis C. Dibble.

Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick of Birmingham served as chairman.

Mrs. Henry Gilmartin of Birmingham will conduct a combined workshop Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Women's City Club, Detroit.

Scout Convention Delegates Chosen

Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council will be represented at the 36th Girl Scout National Convention in Miami Beach, Florida Oct. 21 through 25.

Nine Girl Scout adults and two Senior Girl Scouts will attend the convention, bringing back information of interest to all Scouts and leaders in the area.

Girl Scout adults chosen to represent the council are Mrs. Elwyn Tripp, Mrs. Albert Stanker, Mrs. Richard Meyer, Mrs. Richard Morgan, Mrs. Homer Richmond, Mrs. Murray Perry, Mrs. Anthony LaMacchio, Mrs. William Crommett and Mrs. Robert Gibson.

Senior Girl Scouts attending are Marla Lameret of Waterford and Beth Hord of Milford.

Four-Year-Old Rebel Wants Attention

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Though we had intended to spend several more weeks with our son and his family, my husband wants to cut our visit short. This is because of our four-year-old grandson's spoiled behavior. Yesterday, right in front of us, he dumped a pailful of dirt on some laundry of his baby brother's which was spread out on the back lawn. When his grandfather rebuked him, he stuck out his tongue at us. His parents brush off any criticism of him by saying he's jealous of the baby.

ANSWER: For two grown-up people you sure can be easily routed.

Have you given one minute's thought to what this four-year-old is going through?

Every time that baby opens his mouth to howl, he sees you all stop whatever you're doing. He hears you say, "That was the baby, wasn't it? Maybe it needs changing. Maybe it's got gas pains."

Then he sees the rush upstairs to indulge the baby's want as thoroughly as possible. This indulgence collides with his own constantly increasing experience of denied wants.

When he wants to wiggle his fingers in his glass of milk, he gets, "No—drink it up or I'll take it away."

When he wants to splash in the bathtub, he gets, "No, none of that now. It's time for bed."

If you have not noted the contrast between grown-up indulgence of baby's every wish and resistance to most of his brother's wishes, the brother has noted it.

Plunging dirt on that baby's laundry was passionate protest against the baby's over-privileged state.

I'm sorry he stuck out his tongue at you. But I'm surer that you can't think of anything better to do about it than run away.

If you want to complete this visit, start right now to help your grandson to learn some wishes which can be indulged without making everybody irritable.

Why doesn't his grandfather propose that he wish for a rope swing in the back yard—and then GRANT the wish by constructing the swing for him?

Why don't you propose that he wish to make a picnic out of lunch—and then GRANT that wish by producing his picnic on the back lawn?

What about using your heads to make the point that indulgence of wants is not that baby's monopoly?

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Pops Concert Scheduled on New Organ

Nationally known organist Jack Malmsten will appear in a pops concert Oct. 25 at Washington Junior High School. Wiegand Music Center is sponsoring the 8 p.m. concert.

Mr. Malmsten will appear at the Thomas Symphony organ, a new instrument that places a full orchestra at his finger tips. The concert will feature selections from the Broadway stage, Hollywood motion pictures and light classical music.

Malmsten, a young man, has been playing the organ since the age of eight. He has appeared on radio, television and with symphony orchestras.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice: Which side do women wear their belt buckle, to the right or left side?"

Mrs. J. S.

Dear Mrs. J. S.: Funny, but a little detail like this becomes so routine, that most of us fasten a belt without thinking about the direction. I find that I personally fasten my belt from right to the left, in the same direction women's jackets button.

On checking further, I find that this varies and doesn't seem to follow any definite pattern.

"Dear Eunice: When heavy knits aren't lined, how can a ridge at the hemline be avoided?"

Mrs. V. F.

Dear Mrs. V. F.: After your hem has been marked evenly, turn up and haste close to the fold line and press. Next, baste about 1 inch to 1½ inch above the fold. Carefully slip-stitch the hem to your skirt with long, loose stitches.

Next, fold back ½ inch from the cut edge of hem and again slip-stitch the hem to the skirt. (It is much better to hem heavy fabrics about ½ inch from the cut edge, than right on the edge marks from the edge of fabric don't show as easily.)

By hemming your heavy knits or bulky fabrics with the above method, the entire weight of the hem is not held by a single row of stitches. Try it next time, I think you'll agree with me.

Dear Readers:

Recently we had a question on the unpleasant odor of raw silk when damp. Many thanks to all of you who were kind enough to send me your questions. A Japanese gal wrote and told me what she does with this kind of silk.

Before cutting the fabric, she soaks it in a medium solution of vinegar and water, (about ¼ cup vinegar to 3 or 4 quarts of water). This may have to be repeated several times.

This fabric is becoming more and more popular in this country because of its wearing qualities, its texture, ease in handling, and of course, its beauty. Hope this suggestion will help all of you who have written me.

"Dear Eunice: Some time ago your column carried a small item about knitting sweaters from strips of nylon hose. I would like to know how I can get more information about this subject?"

Mrs. W. W. F.

Dear Mrs. W. W. F.: Sorry, this wasn't in Sew Simple, but it does sound interesting and I would like to know more about it too. If any of you have done this, or can give us any help, I will share it with all of you in this column. Please help me out and send any information you can about knitting with nylon hose.

Dental Auxiliary Will Hear State President

The Women's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Dental Society will sponsor a membership tea, Oct. 23 in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Charles A. Murray at 1:15 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Kavief, Mrs. Gerald Dietz, Mrs. Vince E. Gresson, along with Mrs. Dean Fields' membership committee are completing arrangements and contacting new members in the area.

More Needed in 'Good Days'

Historians record that a 19th century homemaker had to assemble eight pieces of laundry equipment in order to get her "wash" done; a wash bench, three sizes of wash tubs, a washboard, a shirt board, a bosom board, and a towel roller.

How easy it is now with just two pieces of equipment! Turn on the automatic washer, later transfer the damp laundry to the dryer—then just put all the nice clean clothes away.

James Riley, corresponding secretary and Mrs. George Marin, treasurer.

"Dental Health and Education" under the direction of Mrs. Russell Jokela, will be the theme for this year's activities.

Mrs. Palmer Burns and Mrs. James Arcure are accepting area reservations.

Review Projects at Dinner Meeting

The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac reviewed fall and winter projects at a dinner meeting Monday in the Waldron Hotel.

Mrs. Howard Decker and Mrs. Karl Schultz were appointed delegates to the District 3 Soroptimist Conference, Saturday at the Hillside Inn, near Plymouth.

The group plans to attend the Leadership Training Institute, Nov. 9, at Oakland University.

At the recent Food Editors' Conference in Chicago, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, of the Pontiac Club participated in a panel discussion. She is Oakland County Consumer Information Agent.

Club members are taking orders for pecans which will also be sold at the annual "Kart Kapers" and bazaar Dec. 6 in the First Federal of Oakland club rooms.

Leisure Time Discussed by Study Group

Mrs. Walter Greene opened her Angelus Drive home Monday to members of the Waterford Child Study Club for their monthly meeting. Mrs. Bruce Gorte shared cohostess honors.

Mrs. William Emerson and Mrs. Louis DeVito led the discussion of leisure time activities. Members of the group participated by reporting and exhibiting products of their families as well as their own leisure time activities.

The discussion was based on the unit prepared for the Syllabus for the State Child Study Club Association by a committee from the Waterford organization.

Husband "too tired" for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like humans dynamo day after day, which builds up chewing tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 50 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use those delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE— Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most healthful food known. If you are not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carrollton, Michigan, for full refund.

American Husbands Observed—II

Nagging Wives Cause Early Graves

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article of a four-part series by Harry Ferguson on the American husband.

By HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ninety per cent of American men who go to psychiatrists or matrimonial counselors in an attempt to save their marriages open up their "bag of troubles with this statement: "She's nagging me to death."

Experts do not challenge the accusation that the American wife is a nagger, but they do divide nagging into two categories — benevolent and malignant.

Benevolent nagging is insisting that he wears his overalls through a snow storm and have a physical check-up once a year. It springs from love and a desire to keep him healthy.

A man who complains to the psychiatrist about benevolent nagging is almost certain to be the offending party in the forthcoming smash-up of the marriage.

Malignant nagging is demanding repeatedly that he do something about a situation that at the moment cannot be changed. Like insisting he change jobs when no other job is in sight or demanding he buy a dish-washing machine when there is no cash available and his credit is strained to the breaking point.

The American divorce rate is the highest in the world. Not all divorces result from quarrels over money, but enough of them do to make an examination of the family financial set-up imperative to anybody who is trying to save the marriage.

CREDIT BUYING

As soon as he is married the average American husband starts spending $400 a year more than he earns. The amount can get bigger and the situation can last for as long as 20 years, depending on how addicted the wife is to installment buying.

The arrival of children increases the rate of spending and heightens the debt until, as Martha Lear says in her book "The Child Worshiper," American families have a tendency "to spend themselves into a financial sewer."

That's when the malignant nagging is likely to reach its peak and the husband starts casting about for aid and comfort. He can heed Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's admonition to think positively and he has easy access to Dale Carnegie's "How To Stop Worrying and Start Living," but his problem is financial, not philosophical.

"A man is so constituted," writes Dr. Joseph H. Peck on the subject of nagging, "that he must have someone to believe in him to succeed at anything. I have seen good men ruined due to their wives nagging them because the status symbols were not accumulating fast enough."

"When a woman makes up her mind that her husband is a failure and informs him of it, he becomes a failure indeed. There is nothing more depressing for a doctor than to try to treat such a man ... he develops symptoms of every disease in the book and is more difficult to help because subconsciously he doesn't want to get well."

There are, of course, millions of husbands and wives who budget their income wisely, restrain urges to buy things they cannot afford, let other people do the keeping up with the Joneses and live happily ever after.

NOTHING TOO SMALL

But for the man who spends himself into trouble or allows his wife to do so the daily routine can become hell. Nothing is too small to nag about. The wife will complain to him three times a day about dropping cigarette ashes on the rug when a couple of dime store ash trays would solve the problem.

Nagging becomes a two-way street and the husband remarks bitterly that the furniture sure is pretty but there isn't a comfortable chair in the house.

The American Institute of Family Relations has charted the three times during the day when nagging is most likely to explode into a quarrel.

• Just before dinner when the husband is tired and wants to relax.

• At bedtime when the wife wants to get a problem settled before going to sleep.

• At breakfast.

It cites a survey of bus and truck drivers which found that most traffic accidents occur in the first hour of the day, frequently because angry husbands burst out of driveways recklessly or exceed the speed limit on the way to work.

In considering other reasons beside money for nagging and quarrelling, the institute lists complaints about husbands from thousands of wives in this order:

He is selfish. He is untruthful. He drinks too much. He complains too much. He does not show affection. He does not talk things over. He is harsh with the children or else he takes no interest in them. He is touchy. He shows no interest in our home.

TEMPERS FRAYED

Our tempers apparently are closer to the surface than most of us realize, and Dr. Joseph Popone of the institute surveyed several hundred men and women to find out why they got mad.

He found men lost their tempers on an average of six times a week and women three. Men are more likely to get mad at inanimate objects — a flat tire or bumping into a door in the dark.

Women most frequently get mad at people. Either way, a little bit of nagging when the other person is angry is a sure-fire formula for producing a quarrel.

Experts are interested in how many American women marry for money rather than love, but nobody has come up with a device for producing reliable statistics. Women seldom are as frank as the one from Iowa who was interviewed by Dr. Peck.

She had a choice of marrying a tall, handsome farmer, or a short dummy doctor who obviously had a bright financial future. She chose the doctor.

"After all," she explained, "when I am living in Chicago and riding down Michigan Boulevard in my Cadillac, hardly anybody will know that my husband's hair tickles my chin when we dance."

(Tomorrow: The seven-year itch: Why husbands wander.)

The current federal budget allocates $5 1/2 billion for veterans' benefits, more than any other nation in the world. The chief respiratory organ of a fish are its gills.

Supervisor Named as Area Planner

Waterford Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin has been named by Gov. Romney to fill a vacant term on the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

Seeterlin, whose term will expire June 26, 1966, served previously as a commission member from June, 1959 to June, 1962.

The 75-member commission is drawn from Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw counties. It meets every three months.

Rockbusters Scheduled for Outside Con-Test

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)—Competition for places on the Rockbusters football team is fierce.

The team, made up of inmates of the Colorado penitentiary, opens the season Nov. 2 against the Western State College Junior varsity at Hickey Field in Canon City.

It will be the first game in history outside the gates for the Rockbusters.

The average student desiring to become a physician or dentist will be required to invest from $16,000 to $20,000 for his education.

Unemployment Down, but National Outlook Still Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

ECONOMIC: Despite a drop in unemployment during September to 3.5 million, there was no basic change in the job outlook over August and little change is expected next month.

A Labor Department spokesman said Tuesday that a 500,000 increase in employment and a drop in unemployment of 500,000 were caused mainly by seasonal factors as schools reopened and automobile plants toiled up to put out the 1964 models.

The unemployment rate remained at 5.6 per cent after seasonal adjustment.

The new cars also were partially responsible for a small increase in industrial production. The Federal Reserve Board's September index stood at 125.7, one-tenth of 1 per cent above August but below the record 126.5 reached in July. The scale is based on 100 for the 1957-59 average.

DOMINICAN: The United States has denied charges by the Dominican Republic that it is interfering in the internal affairs of the Latin-American nation.

Dominican representative Jose Antonio Bonilla told the Organization of American States Tuesday that the U.S. charge of unfairness, Spencer King, had suggested the ruling military junta turn over its power to Dr. Juan Casanova, president of the Dominican state.

CLAIMS RIGHT

Casanova claims he is the rightful successor to Juan Bosch deposed as president by the junta.

Ward P. Allen, alternate U.S. representative to the OAS, rejected Bonilla's charge. He said King mentioned Casanova's claim to the presidency when asked by a member of the junta to suggest ways that would enable the United States to restore diplomatic relations in the absence of an immediate call for new elections.

OTEPKA'S REPLY: Otto F. Otepka, suspended State Department security officer, has asked the department to dismiss charges that he mutilated and declassified secret documents and gave some to a Senate subcommittee.

In a 12-page letter claiming the charges are without foundation, Otepka said he had reason to believe someone eavesdropped on his conversations, used secret listening devices, tapped his telephone and opened and searched his desk.

Otepka's letter was addressed to John Orsady, chief of the department's personnel operations division, who is reviewing charges which could result in Otepka's dismissal.

Otepka was suspended Sept. 30 on charges of conduct "unbecoming to an officer of the Department of State."

Otepka denied that any documents he gave to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee contained confidential information.

FUZZY PICTURES: After 13 months in orbit, the Tiros VI weather satellite's pictures of clouds have started to get fuzzy. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says its Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md., is trying to find the cause of the difficulty, which started within the past week.

UNDERGROUND SHOT: A nuclear device will be fired Oct. 26 in deep granite, 1,200 feet underground, near Fallon, Nev., in an experiment aimed at distinguishing between underground nuclear blasts and earthquakes.

The Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission announced the shot Tuesday.

The experiment, called Project Shoal, is part of a research program on nuclear test detection.

The Oct. 26 shot, which will use an explosive equivalent to 12,000 tons of TNT, will be the first nuclear experiment in an area that has had numerous earthquakes.

30 Days to Better Grades—XXVII

Have to Cram, Huh? Well, Here's How

BY THE READING LABORATORY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

We've discussed the best ways of reviewing for an exam. If you've been keeping up with your studies, you won't have any problems; all you'll have to do is to refresh your memory a bit.

Start to review well in advance so there won't be any pressure on you and you'll have time to be thorough. An efficient system of daily study is the best way to prepare.

But let's assume you've gotten yourself stuck. You've let your studying slide, a test is coming up, and you don't have time to review properly.

You've got two choices; panic, give up and take a low mark—or cram and survive. Every student should know how to cram. Hopefully, your studying will always be systematic, and you'll never have to cram. But should the occasion ever arise when you're really stuck, cramming may be the only way out.

When you cram, there are a couple of factors in your favor: the length of the text and your ability to overview a textbook.

Paradoxically, the more material there is to cover, the better off you are. Remember, while you're wondering how to study it all, your teacher is wondering how he can construct a one-hour (or even two-hour) test that will include all of the important material.

LITTLE CHOICE

Put yourself in your teacher's place, and you'll see he hasn't much choice.

If there's a lot of material and he wants to test you on all of it, he'll have to construct a test that will just hit the highlights of each important section you were supposed to study.

He may throw in a detail or two, but in the main he'll have to stick to highlights. Remember this when you cram.

Let's say you've got an hour to cram. Take your textbook and overview. Just read the bold print and the chapter summaries. Cover everything this way.

Then, if you've still got some time left, you can go a little deeper into the sections you think are the most important, or the ones that you think your teacher is most likely to test.

Get an idea of the general organization of the material. If you know that, you'll be able to do a lot of intelligent guessing.

Don't make the mistake of putting all your eggs in one basket. Some students spend their cramming time getting just one section down pat—in the hope the teacher will concentrate on it. That's a pretty risky proposition.

IGNORE DETAILS

If there are a lot of details involved, ignore them. You can't learn a maze of details in an hour or two; you'll just get confused and frustrated. Worry about the main ideas and the details will take care of themselves.

And if you have the chance, don't be afraid of playing the parallel. If a friend of yours has been taking good notes, see if you can borrow them.

A real friend will be glad to help you out. Don't make a habit of borrowing notes though, or you may start to run out of friends.

Learn how to cram, and then avoid the necessity of cramming as much as possible. By studying every day, you'll learn and understand the material and the tests will be easy.

By cramming you'll probably pass the tests, but you won't learn anything—and it is nerve wracking.

(Tomorrow: How to take a test)

Author Visits Russia;
Guest of Red Writers

MOSCOW (UPI)—American writer John Steinbeck arrived yesterday with his wife for a visit as guests of the Soviet League of Writers.

They were met by the organization's secretary, Edward Mzhelaitis. Steinbeck last visited the Soviet Union in 1947.

Hospitalman second class Lynn M. Terry is a member of the United States crew that provided emergency assistance to the inhabitants of the Caribbean island of Tobago, devastated by the 110 mile per hour punch of Hurricane Flora.

Terry, assigned to the U.S. Naval Station in Trinidad, is the son of the Hiram Terrys of 1870 McCall Road, Leonard.

Flora struck Tobago, the northernmost island of Trinidad a former British colony, on Oct. 2. She left numerous dead in her wake, hundreds injured and approximately forty per cent of the population homeless. An emergency relief effort was launched within hours after the hurricane had struck.

Gerald W. Supernault, interior communications electrician third class, USN, son of the Paul J. Supernaults of 3500 Warrington Drive Waterford, recently visited Palermo, Sicily, aboard the destroyer USS Forrest Royal when the ship made that port her first stop in her current Mediterranean deployment.

During the stop in Palermo, the destroyer's crewmembers cracked the language barrier when the ship was visited by a large group of orphans. None of the sailors spoke Italian and none of the orphans spoke English, but for two hours the orphans were guided around the ship through gestures and demonstrations.

Later, a lunch of cookies, lemonade and ice cream and a western movie gave the children and sailors an opportunity to strengthen their friendship.

Educators to Hear King

Pontiac and Oakland County teachers will be among the 10,000 instructors and school administrators expected to converge on Cobo Hall Thursday to hear civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

Members of the Michigan Education Association will meet in Detroit Friday to hear Dr. King and NBC correspondent Martin Agronsky.

Group meetings are scheduled for Friday in various communities.

Schools in Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair will be closed Thursday and Friday for the professional meetings.

Dems May Check Convention Vote System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Convention, which like Topsy just sort of grew, may be trimmed to a more manageable size next year. And its collective voice may have less Southern drawl and Western twang.

The decisions will be made when the Democratic National Committee meets in November or early December to allocate the votes for the 1964 convention at Atlantic City.

A subcommittee headed by Jacob Arvey of Chicago, the national committeeman from Illinois, has been studying the allocation of votes since last May. No proposals have been announced, but sources close to the national committee say these could be among them when the committee meets:

- A return to the bonus system. It would reward with larger representation those states — mostly east of the Mississippi — which voted for President Kennedy in 1960.
- VOTE REDUCTION No bonuses, but a reduction in voting power of those states which lost representation in Congress because of population shifts in 1960 and 1960 but, in effect, never lost any of their convention votes.
- A combination of the two that would allocate votes on an up-to-date population basis plus bonus votes for multiples of Democratic votes in 1960, regardless of whether Kennedy carried the state.
- Also expected to come up is a hardy quadrilateral — the number of persons at a Democratic convention.
- Republicans limit their state delegations to a one-man-one-vote basis. But Democrats over the years have split things up into half votes. That way more delegates get to go to the convention, a form of reward for party faithful.

But it also can be confusing. In 1960, there were 3,042 delegates authorized to cast 1,521 votes at the Los Angeles convention. And that didn't include more than 1,400 persons present as alternates.

STATE ALLOTMENT

To the politician, however, the number of delegates isn't nearly so important as the number of votes allotted each state. Some critics felt the 1960 convention was weighted in favor of many—but not all—Southern and far Western states.

Even though there could be some sharp fighting, National Chairman John M. Bailey thinks this is the year to take a good close look at the delegate allocation.

Next year, Bailey said in an interview, there is no doubt the Democrats will nominate Kennedy. So the time to overhaul the allocation system is now—when it's relatively quiet.

South Viet Nam Soldiers Used to Life in Midst of Danger

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

AP CO CO, Viet Nam (AP)—Come along for lunch in the headquarters building of the out-post defending this village deep in the Mekong Delta area of South Viet Nam.

In one corner of the room is a two-way radio embedded in a concrete wall in an effort to keep it from being seized by Communist Viet Cong attackers. In another corner is a box constrictor. The snake is a baby, about four feet long, a pet kept by the men of the unit.

The food for lunch, a blend of Vietnamese and Chinese, is good. There are chicken, beef, pork and vegetables in various mixtures and boiled dry rice. The local beer is served with cracked ice.

The conversation is interesting. The province chief tells you that every night the outpost sends most members of its two

SPECIAL REPORT

Pictures of President Ngo Dinh Diem and members of his family and government hang on the walls of the headquarters, but the talk is of the fight against the Viet Cong, the trading in the market, the rice crop not of politics.

Outside the headquarters has arduous wooden stairs lead to the watchtower. There a young Vietnamese clutching a carbine and another with a portable field radio look out over the flat, wet land of the delta.

Workers are in the fields, villagers file down the muddy road, and the canals and rivers are busy with traffic.

A motorized fishing boat chugs by, flying the flag of the Republic of Viet Nam. A U.S. officer says that a few hundred yards downstream that flag probably will be hauled down and the colors of the Viet Cong, a yellow star on a red and green background, run up in its place. Lying among, and with, both sides is nothing new here.

A couple of visitors decide to take a walk. Two self-defense corps men with rifles tag casually along. They wade through the mud past a Chinese merchant's shop, where a surprising variety of household articles, clothing and sundries can be found.

A narrow footbridge takes the strollers across a canal. Suddenly a machine gun opens up along the river.

Friendly or unfriendly? No one seems to know, but the province chief hurriedly suggests that the route of the walk be changed.

It is, back along a path that leads to the outpost. Inside, the boat sits sleepily in the midday heat. The watchtower guards look out over the flat, wet land of the delta.

East-West Hot Line Tested Hourly, Just in Case...

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once every hour a bell rings shrilly and the "hot line" teletype connection between the Pentagon and the Kremlin springs to life. A message chatters across that line—across the 5,200 miles separating the center of Soviet power and the U.S. capital.

It's not a life-and-death message from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, or the other way around.

It's a test, made hourly around the clock to be certain the circuit—which has another outlet at the White House—is working and ready in event of an emergency requiring instantaneous communication between the Russian and U.S. heads of state.

This has been going on since the line was declared open on Aug. 30.

NOT TALKING

If there have been any communications between Kennedy and Khrushchev during the six weeks the "hot line" has been in business, they are being kept secret. The Defense Department and the White House refuse to discuss the subject.

There is reason to believe the hot line was not used during last week's brief tension over Soviet halting of a U.S. troop convoy bound for West Berlin.

The only break in secrecy surrounding hot line messages became last month when William C. Foster, U.S. disarmament agency chief, told a House committee a Soviet test transmission "described in lyrical language the beauties of a Moscow sunset."

The Pentagon refused to give out the text of that Russian message, or any others received since, saying, "transmissions on the communication link between the USSR and the US are considered 'privacy transmissions'."

NO MATCH

on the American end of the line haven't tried to match the Soviets in the prose department.

The Americans have confined themselves to the standard, "The quick brown fox jumped over a lazy dog's back."

"It has proven to be the best alphabetical test devised," the Defense Department said.

One question which has intrigued many people is whether the Russian and American operators engage in any chitchat on the wire, perhaps to help pass the long waiting hours.

The Pentagon put an end to this speculation by saying that there are "no conversations, only test and service messages."

NO DIVERSIONS

The technicians who man the equipment aren't allowed to read or otherwise while away the time.

"They have collateral duties which occupy their duty time," the Pentagon said without going into detail.

If you ever are in the Pentagon, you can save yourself the trouble of trying to get a look at the hot line complex.

It's in the most guarded area of the giant defense headquarters building—the national military command center to which only those with the highest security clearance are admitted.

The Mormons, led by Brigham Young, first arrived in the fertile Salt Lake Valley of Utah, July 24, 1847.

The Life and Death of Flora--Killer Caribbean Hurricane

EDITOR'S NOTE: A tropical disturbance is formed and starts spinning westward over the Atlantic on Sept. 16, 1963, 3,000 miles southeast of Florida. It develops into Hurricane Flora, the most devastating storm recorded in the Caribbean area. The following traces its birth, growth and effects.

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Staff Writer
The day: Thursday, Sept. 26, 1963. The exact time: Unknown. The place: The tropical Atlantic, 3,000 miles southeast of the Florida coast.

The day is hot, sultry, oppressive. The wind blows in fitful gusts. The heaving sea is gray and sluggish as molten lead.

A whiff of warm, damp air rises from the sea, like smoke drifting up a chimney. Other air takes its place and is caught in the updraft. Very, very slowly, an air column grows.

Rising, the warm air expands and cools. The water in it condenses and falls. Heat is released, adding energy to the thing that has formed.

BEGINS REVOLVING
Affected by the spinning of the earth, the air begins to revolve around a hollow center. More warm moisture is sucked up the chimney. The air spins faster.

Erratically, the darkening column begins to drift westward with the trade winds.

Orbiting over the South Atlantic on Sept. 26, the Tiro 7 weather satellite photographed a poorly organized circular motion in a cloud mass.

Forecasters mark this down as an "area of suspicion" and plan to keep an eye on it.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 27
1:30 p.m. Tiro 7 sends another picture of the same cloud mass. It has moved 400 miles westward.

For two days, there are no further reports. There is little ship traffic in that area.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 29
6 p.m. The captain of a ship 350 miles east of Trinidad reports he is encountering light squalls and rising seas. His barometer is falling.

A hurricane hunter plane is readied at Roosevelt Roads,

Puerto Rico, for a flight the next morning.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30
10 a.m. The hurricane hunter thrusts his plane through the "wall of the eye" of a small but tightly wound and "very dangerous" hurricane. It is moving fast toward the island of Tobago.

Tabago has two hours to prepare. The eye of the hurricane reaches the coast at noon.

Houses collapse under the 100-mile-an-hour winds. Torrential rain triggers floods. Towering waves bury the beaches. Seventeen islanders die.

The hurricane is very small. Highest winds are to the north of the eye. Trinidad, 30 miles south, escapes serious damage.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1
In Haiti, the Negro nation on the island of Hispaniola, the sound of the sea is subtly changing. From far out comes a single long, low swell. It hits the shore of the Tiburon Peninsula with an unexpected boom. Slowly, another comes, and another.

Flora, still far away, is growing more violent.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 2
1 p.m. The waves are breaking high over the coast of Hispaniola. The weather remains calm. Wisps of cirrus clouds spread a pale, milky haze over the sky.

As the day goes on, the veil thickens. The sunset is spectacular, red and orange.

Midnight: A swirling breeze intrudes on the stillness and rustles the palm fronds in Haiti. The air is charged with electricity. Breathing seems difficult.

THURSDAY, OCT. 3
8 a.m. The wind gusts at 50 miles an hour. The sea is wild. A hard burst of rain comes and goes, to be followed by another. Huge swells bombard the coast and hurl foam far up the coral bluffs. From far out comes the thunder of drumming rain.

Native crabs, towns and villages built of mud, straw and tin offer no place to hide.

1 p.m. Two hurricane hunters criss-cross the storm at 10,000 feet. Sustained winds have reached 140 miles an hour, gusts 180.

3 p.m. Hurricane winds reach the south coast of the Tiburon Peninsula.

1 p.m. Flora slams into Cuba's Oriente Province. Now it is the biggest hurricane in history. It torments the sea for a thousand miles, from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico. More than 200 miles to the south, its rains flood Jamaica: Nine persons drown.

Floridians start to worry. Nassau boards up.

SATURDAY, OCT. 5
A gigantic high pressure system to the north stops Flora over Cuba.

FRIDAY, OCT. 4

11 a.m. Flora wanders aimlessly westward, is blocked again by high pressure over the Gulf States.

SUNDAY, OCT. 6
The hurricane turns southwest back into the Caribbean, lashing Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

MONDAY, OCT. 7
The storm stalls between the cities of Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba. Never has a single area taken such a sustained beating from a hurricane.

TUESDAY, OCT. 8

After four days of fantastic rain, floods have risen to tree-top level in Eastern Cuba. Some areas never touched by floodwaters become inland seas.

Villages and towns are destroyed. Crops are ruined, cattle killed. Highways and railways are washed out. Mines are inundated. Factories collapse.

1 p.m. At last, the storm moves northeast off the north-east Cuban coast.

It lashes the lower Bahama Islands with 80-mile winds, then builds back up to 115 miles an hour.

Flora is racing toward her death over the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Now relief workers can pick their way through the mud and debris. Gradually, the awful tale unfolds:

In Haiti: More than 5,000 dead. No really accurate count is possible. Many bodies are in the sea or under the mud.

In Cuba: More than 1,000 dead. Fidel Castro's Communist regime has suffered an economic disaster.

Flora takes her place in history—the most deadly storm ever to howl out of the tropical Atlantic. The old death record of 6,000, set by the Galveston hurricane of 1900, has been exceeded.

Pennsylvania Students

Invites Wallace Visit

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Gov. George E. Wallace of Alabama, whose Nov. 6 appearance at the University of Pennsylvania was canceled by the Law School Forum Committee, received a new invitation yesterday from the student newspaper.

Wallace's scheduled speech before the law forum was canceled last week by a committee which said it feared "civil disorders" might erupt.

Girl Clawed to Death

BERLIN (UPI)—When a 10-year-old girl crawled into the bears' cage in an East German zoo and tried to feed the animals, the bears turned on her and clawed her to death, the East Germany news agency ADN said today.

1st Movie Star Bronco Billy to Be on TV

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "I made a lot of money with one hand and I spent it with the other. I have no regrets. Money is nice to have when you're young, but it wouldn't do me any good now."

The man speaking was Bronco Billy Anderson, who 60 years ago appeared in the first real movie, "The Great Train Robbery." He could be classed as the first real star of films.

Bronco Billy, 81, is vigorous-minded despite a leg ailment that confines him most of the time to his Wilshire District apartment. He lives in a single room, heavy with cigar smoke and memories from his great days as Western hero and film mogul. Atop the television set rests the Oscar he was awarded in 1958 for his contributions to the screen.

He is enjoying one of his periodic reunions with the spotlight. He'll be featured on NBC-TV next Monday on David Wolper's review of the Western film, "Hollywood and the Stars." The network paired him with one of the newest cowboy stars, Gary Clarke of "The Virginian."

The old man seems to thrive on the attention and he reminisces vividly about what he calls the "dipper days of movies."

9 MINUTES

It all started when he convinced Edwin S. Porter to expend a whole nine minutes of film on an old vaudeville sketch called "The Great Train Robbery."

"Before that, movies had been no more than two minutes long," he said. "Our backers were reluctant. They said audiences wouldn't sit still for a whole reel. I said they would, and they did."

The film was a boon to the spawning industry, and Anderson came to Los Angeles to seek locales for shooting Westerns. He found the local scenery unsuitable and landed at Niles.

Calif., near San Francisco, where he established a studio. "I tried making movies with authentic cowboy and back-grounds, but something was wrong; they weren't selling," he said. "I decided it was because there was no central figure for the audience to get interested in."

TOOK IT HIMSELF

So he bought a Peter B. Kyne story about Bronco Billy. Finding no name actor willing to take the role, he assumed it himself. For six years he ground out Bronco Billys, retiring in 1914 under the overpowering competition of William S. Hart.

With George Spoor he founded Essanay—from their initials—and they turned Charlie Chaplin away from Mack Sennett.

"Mack was paying Charlie $250 a week and he wouldn't go for a raise to $300," Billy recalled. "We paid him $1,250. A short while later he was getting $10,000 a week."

Of Chaplin, he said, "Once we stopped over in Chicago and Charlie and I took a couple of showgirls out to dinner. One of them had a real hard-luck story and I know that Charlie slipped her $20 under the table. A fellow who would do that couldn't be all bad."

Underground Students Ask U.S. Aid Against Diem

SAIGON, Viet Nam (U) — An underground student organization has appealed to the United States for help against what it calls the tyrannical rule of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

A letter delivered to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge accused Diem's regime of religious discrimination and political persecution. It asked the United States to force Diem to reform or abandon him.

The letter was signed by "The Confederation of Vietnamese Youth and Students for the Protection of Buddhism," one of several underground organizations that have sprung up since the government cracked down on open political opposition two months ago.

"We have no knowledge of any regime in history which could beat in savagery the current religious persecution perpetrated by the Ngo family," the letter said. The president and members of his family are Roman Catholic.

STUDENT CHARGES
The letter charged the government "ransacked the destroyed Buddhist pagodas, mutilated statues of Buddha, jailed and tortured our fellow students and school pupils by the thousands" since martial law was imposed Aug. 21.

Monks, nuns and students still are being arrested daily, the letter claimed.

"We wonder why the U.S. government goes on supporting the Ngo family while it is well aware the Ngo family are the cause of the Vietnamese people's woes and the object of their deep hatred," the letter said.

The American Embassy had no immediate comment on the letter.

REMOVE TROOPS
The students suggested that the United States could determine the Diem regime's unpopularity by prevailing upon the government to remove its security forces from Saigon and other Vietnamese cities to battle areas.

Then, it said, "the true expression of the Vietnamese people's feelings toward the present regime" would become apparent.

England 'Inherits' Tax

LONDON (UPI) — Government officials said today they have picked up $50,100,000 in the last two weeks in inheritance taxes on the estates of four men — motoring pioneer Lord Nuffield, insurance magnate Lord Bessie, philanthropist G. Northcott and Woolworth's President W. L. Stephenson.

Ngo Dinh Nhu brought her barnstorming defense of the South Vietnamese government to Washington, D.C., today. There was no red carpet welcome.

Only a handful of reporters and a small delegation from the South Vietnamese Embassy were on hand last night when Mme. Nhu and her teen-age daughter, Le Thuy, stepped from a shuttle flight from Newark, N.J.

DEFENDS REGIME
Mme. Nhu, sister-in-law of President Diem, has visited several eastern cities in the past 10 days, defending the regime in which her husband is a powerful adviser.

She intends to carry her case across the country. Conspicuously absent from the airport last night were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tran Van Chuong. Chuong, a Buddhist, quit last month as Vietnamese ambassador to the United States, protesting what he said were Diem's anti-Buddhist policies.

He has become the spokesman outside the Southeast

Asian country for political opposition to Diem's regime.

Mme. Nhu converted to Catholicism upon her marriage. Her husband and brother-in-law are Roman Catholics.

Today Mme. Nhu addresses the women's national press club and tapes a radio program. She will be in Washington three days.

Hurrying to a limousine at the airport last night Mme. Nhu reiterated to reporters that she would like to speak with her father. Her efforts to reach him when both were in New York were in vain, she said.

Girl Scouts Face Battle Over Rules

NEW YORK (U) — The women who run the Girl Scouts of America expect a dispute at the four-day Girl Scout National Convention opening Monday in Miami Beach. The big issue: "Council coverage."

The debate is of intense interest to the movement's 2,637,837 members and their adult supporters in 600 councils around the country.

The national leadership promotes council coverage, which they say beneficially gathers small, scattered councils under the wing of bigger councils and extends scout services.

Opponents say the plan robs some small groups of the autonomy they need to provide the best program for their members.

UNSTIRRED BEHAVIOR
Unstirred bitterness has forced the issue into court in at least two individual cases.

One proposal that will come before the convention is sponsored by the Scarsdale, (N.Y.) Girl Scout Council, with 1,600 members.

"Our proposal allows councils to make the decisions themselves," said Mrs. Myron A. Wright, president of the Scarsdale council.

Mrs. Wright contended that at least 100 of the 600 scout councils oppose big council coverage. But said she is not against council coverage on its face.

"We are against being forced to go into a larger council," she said. "Voluntary mergers are all right, but not forced."

Council coverage, she said, has led to the loss of morale and good programs because previous independent units have to submit to a superior authority.

Ten years ago there were more than 143 doctors for every 100,000 Americans compared to 141 today.

From the

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Out of the conclave of 20 Michigan sports editors which concluded yesterday at Lansing came some interesting insights, opinions and suggestions.

There was strong consensus among the scribes that the classification system of high schools in the Michigan High School Athletic Association is obsolete by today's enrollments.

A class AA setup is necessary, but by the same antiquated rules and rules, Charles Forsythe, MIHSAA athletic director, it may never come about—in his era at least. Forsythe and the MIHSAA have solidly convinced themselves that a school with 900 students is competitively equal to a school of 2,500 or 3,000.

Look at the most recent AP football poll of Class A teams and imagine if you dare, schools like Clarkston, Milford, Rochester, Troy, Bloomfield Hills matching the manpower of Flint Central, Ann Arbor, Farmdale, Lansing Sexton, schools three and four times the enrollment. The logic is even absurd.

AP IS THE OFFICIAL TEAM

It behooves us and other newspaper writers as to why local high school coaches who certainly depend on each local paper would turn around and literally give their local press a kick in the teeth.

This is what the Michigan Coaches Association is doing and what local coaches who contribute or cooperate in the so-called "Official" all-state football team, chosen by one newspaper on the weak merits of a panel alone, are doing.

The Associated Press which represents not one paper but nearly every daily paper in Michigan, selects the Class A, B, C, and D all-state football teams with the cooperation of every member in every corner of the state.

There are 28 AP dailies. One recognizes its own team as "Official." Twenty seven others don't. Who's out of step? Moose Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, made the proposal that the NCAA set up a championship in football as it has in the other sports.

The country would have eight regions and a champion picked from each one. They would play to bring it down to four, then two and one. This would mean a team with a nine game schedule may possibly play 12 before finally winning the national championship.

It is meritorious, not every team would have to play 10, 11 or 12 games, and a true champion should prove himself through three extra weekends.

And, it is really the majority decision or just a random choice of a few in the Michigan High School Coaches Association to ignore the 27 in step?

The authentic AP all-state teams will be made known the first of December and The Press is happy to be part of this region of four daily papers to nominate the candidates. AP nominations come from eight Michigan regions.

DITTO FROM THE PRESS BOX

The AP all-state basketball team will also be chosen next March by close scrutiny of the regions. . . . The sports editors reported tax mileage problems and financial distress for many athletic team around Michigan. Writers used columns by columns a few years ago warning educators it would happen. Now the predictions are that in the future schedules would include schools within only states' throw of each other.

Cutting travel costs and sustaining game receipts are the only solutions left for many schools wanting to keep good complete athletic programs.

WHAT'S AHEAD?

What are the thoughts about the remaining '63 season for Michigan and Michigan State.

They say MSU may win possibly two more games and the Wolverines will have to play earnestly to win one more this year. We shall see!

There's the idea that U. of D. will join Western Michigan as the second state school in the Mid-America conference, and the future Titan basketball schedule will have Minnesota along with Michigan, Purdue and Indiana from the Big 10.

Speaking of basketball, some times it may not pay to be strong. Chicago Loyola, powerful NCAA champions, can't even get its way into a 26-game schedule. Bob Callahan, U. of D. coach bravely keeps Loyola on his card while other schools are finding ways to sneak out.

His philosophy is "I don't care how tough they are, I'll play any team if we agree on a home and home setup."

U. of D. and Western Michigan also must be complimented with their scheduling attitude in basketball.

Lions Do Have Statistic on Their Side—Defense

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit leads the National Football League in total defense and pass defense and the Chicago Bears are first in defense against a ground game. But the Green Bay Packers are tops in one most important statistic—most opponent fumbles recovered.

The Packers, winners of four in a row since dropping the opener to the Bears, have recovered 12 of 13 fumbles by the opposition. In addition, the Packers have intercepted nine passes for a total of 22 scoring opportunities over and above the normal quota.

from Rochester to Commerce, and another six on Sunday, entering Walled Lake to Oxford will participate in the seventh annual tournament.

Included are Airway, How's,

The following weekend they will all exchange days. This same policy will be followed the first four weekends of the tournament.

The fifth and sixth weekends of bowling will be limited to Sunday. This is each qualifying house will have three Sundays and two Saturdays of competition.

The finals are set for the Nov. 30-Dec. 1 weekend at 300 Bowl. Saturday the 30th will see the Actual's Invitational division completed on the "300" lanes, and the Bowlerama handicap phase will conclude the following day.

SIX SQUADS

Where possible each house will have six qualifying squads per day. A minimum of three bowlers is required to fill a squad.

Conflict with leagues will limit the Sunday squads at Lakewood Lane to four—two morning and two late afternoon.

Bowlers are warned to check with the Press sports department or the house where they are to bowl regarding the time of their squad.

While it is planned to have squads at 11 a.m., noon, 1 p.m., 3 p.m., 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. when possible, adjustments to that schedule are anticipated at some establishments.

The times at Lakewood Lanes (effective this Sunday) are 10:15 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 3:45 p.m. and 5 p.m. Lakewood's Bill Kuklinski has also announced his Saturday qualifying times will be 12:30 p.m., 1:45 p.m., 3 p.m., 4:30 p.m., 5:45 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

The top 12 1/2 per cent of the total competitors at each house will qualify for the Bowlerama finals. The entry fee is $7.

Top prize is $700 guaranteed, dropping to $150 for fifth place; the remaining prize list will be determined by the number of entries.

All entrants—men and women—receive a set of four conference based on 200 scratch. The highest 1962-63 sanctioned average should be submitted; or, the highest 1963-64 average for at least 18 games must be supplied.

Golfing World Mourns Loss of Smith

Service in Royal Oak Tonight; Burial Set for Missouri Friday

DETROIT (UPI)—The legendary Horton Smith, who often said "Golf is my life," was being mourned by the golfing world today.

Funeral service for Smith, the first winner of the Masters tournament and a member of the PGA Hall of Fame, will be in Royal Oak's Bass-Lynch Funeral Home at 8:30 tonight. Burial will be Friday at Springfield, Mo.

Smith fought a six-year battle with Hodgkins disease before dying early yesterday. He collapsed Sunday in Atlanta while watching the Ryder Cup matches but recovered sufficiently to watch the finish of play from a golf cart.

Walter Hagen, who first met Smith back in 1928, said, "Everybody loved him. It's hard to believe we've lost him."

Hagen, a golfing immortal himself, said "He was one of the great golfers in this country—with Bobby Jones and all the rest."

Jones called the death of the 55-year-old Smith a "terrific shock."

Smith became the 20th golfer to be admitted to the PGA Hall of Fame in 1958. In 1960, he received the Ben Hogan award for overcoming illness to play golf. In 1962, he received the Bobby Jones award for distinguished sportsmanship.

Smith returned to Detroit Monday before collapsing again and then died in a hospital early yesterday.

Top Squads to Meet in Touch Loop

The Mifflits and Motor Mart Bandits continued their drive toward a showdown clash next week in the city Men's Touch Football League with victories last night.

The Mifflits whipped Anderson's All-Stars, 18-0, as Gary Dirker, Harrison Munson and Earl McKee scored touchdowns.

Dan Dropps went over four times as the Motor Mart Bandits wallpiped the Pontiac Packers, 45-0. Tom Nichols went 70 yards with the second half kickoff to score, also.

Other games saw the Lions defeat the G.M. Raiders, 19-0, sparked by a 70-yard scoring jaunt with a pass interception by Roy Cousser, and the Wildcats edged the Victors, 13-6, although the losers tallied their first touchdown of the season.

Ford Offer to Buy Lions Is Considered 'Generous'

DETROIT — There's more sensational news being made by the Detroit Lions in the office at Michigan Avenue than on the football field at Tiger Stadium.

William Clay Ford made one of the largest offers in sports franchise history when he offered to buy the Detroit Lions yesterday for $6 million. His offer startled the directors who gathered for a Tuesday meeting and two board members, William Downey, vice president and secretary, and Ray Whyte spoke respectfully of Ford's offer. "Very fair," Downey said. "Wonderfully generous," said Whyte.

This would put Ford in full charge. The Lions now are governed by a board of directors responsible to 144 stockholders. For his $6 million Ford would get a squad of players and the Lions modest headquarters office, the club's only tangible assets.

Not since a syndicate of Detroit businessmen bought the Detroit Tigers baseball team for $5.5 million in 1957 has money of that size been on a table in a sports transaction here of this sort.

In fact, it may not have happened anywhere else, either.

A syndicate headed by Dan Reeves reportedly paid $7.1 million for the NFL's Los Angeles Rams earlier this year. There was doubt whether this was a single piece of money, however. Reeves reportedly gave a price of $4.8 million. Pro-rated on a stockholders share basis this was said to work out to $7.1 million.

Baseball's New York Yankees were sold for $3.5 million but this included a stadium and other property. The Milwaukee Braves were sold for $6 million and the Cleveland Indians for $4 million. There has been an offer of $4.8 million for the Philadelphia Football Eagles.

The 35-year-old Ford Motor Co. official—he is a company vice president—is the first member of his family to be a sportsman on a major scale.

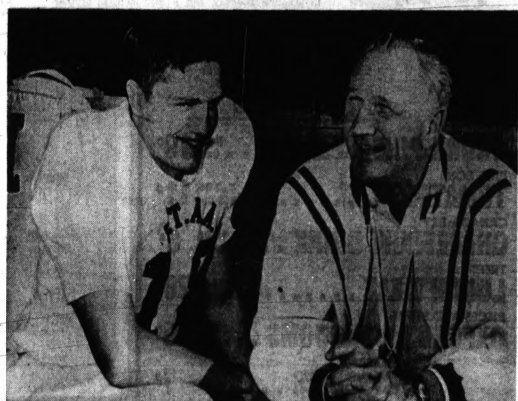

William Clay is one of three grandsons of auto pioneer Henry Ford. The others are Henry II, president of the Ford Motor Co., and Benson, a vice president.

Bill Ford has been president of the Lions since 1961 when, as a member of the board, he stepped into a management breach and became president in a stockholders' proxy fight.

In the shakeup industrialist Edwin Anderson relinquished the presidency to Ford and became general manager, a post he still holds.

Ford's offer to buy came with the Lions struggling to get back on the winning track in their NFL games. The Lions, considered title contenders at the start of the season, have dropped three of their five games.

In recent years, the Lions, near champions in 1961 and 1962, have been a paying proposition. Last year they netted $220,000 on a gross of $440,000.

BACK OF THE WEEK — Georgia Tech quarterback Billy Lott, here named Back of the Week by the Associated Press for the second time this season. He is shown with coach Bobby Dodd. Lott led Tech to a 23-7 win over Tennessee.

Houk '63 AL Manager by Largest Majority

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Houk, who guided the New York Yankees to the American League pennant in 1963 despite injuries to star outfielders Mickey Vernon and Roger Maris, was an overwhelming choice as the American League Manager-of-the-Year today.

In the balloting by 71 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll, Houk received 58 votes. Al Lopez, pilot of the second-place Chicago White Sox, was the runner-up with six votes. The voting was based on the regular season performance.

Sam Mele of the third-place Minnesota Twins and Chuck Dressen, who took over as Detroit Tiger on June 18 and led them into a fifth-place tie with Cleveland, each collected two votes.

ONE EACH
Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles

Angels, the AL Manager-of-the-Year in 1962, Johnny Peavy of Boston and Gil Hodges of Washington, had one each.

Houk, the Yanks' leader since 1961, when he replaced Casey Stengel, had his most difficult assignment the past season after Mantle suffered a broken bone in his left foot while chasing a fly ball in Baltimore June 5.

At the time of Mantle's injury the Yanks were tied for first place with the Orioles and White Sox. However, Houk moved Tom Tresh from left field to Mantle's position in center and also got considerable mileage out of John Blanchard, Maris' replacement in right field.

TUESDAY'S FIGHT BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NEW YORK—Johnny Parsons, 179-lb., fought Johnny Albert, 170-lb., Philadelphia.

Four Listed in Ratings of National Poll

Wisconsin Ineligible for Rose Bowl, Spurs Runnerup Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Popularity, strength and national acclaim are not new to the Big Ten Football Conference, but this season they all seem to be rolled in one powerful package that has the league roaring to its most successful campaign in history.

No fewer than four conference teams are ranked with the nation's top teams. Attendance records are being set in practically every stadium, and one of the league's greatest races for both the championship and the Rose Bowl is in the making.

Wisconsin, the defending champion, is ranked second behind Texas and currently appears headed for another title. But the Badgers can't go to the Rose Bowl because of their appearance in Pasadena New Year's Day. Even if Wisconsin makes off with the title, a royal battle will be staged for the runner-up position and the year-end trip west.

Ohio State is ranked fourth nationally with Illinois seventh. Northwestern tied for 10th and Iowa's surprising Hawkeyes not too far from possibly breaking into the Top Ten.

Always a scourge against outside competition, Big Ten teams have a whopping 10-4-1 record against non-conference foes this season and threatened to extend this figure as the season rolls on.

LARGE TURNOUTS
The Big Ten also is enjoying its greatest season at the gate. Last Saturday with a full slate of five conference games, about $51,940 fans witnessed Big Ten football—an average of 70,368 a game. This exceeded the previous record of 326,246 for five games on Oct. 13, 1956.

For 18 games this season, Big Ten teams have drawn 1,064,687 customers and more will pour in as the race gets hotter.

Northwestern Coach Ara Parsegian predicted Tuesday that the contest could get so competitive that a team with two losses conceivably could win the championship. That has happened only once before, when Wisconsin won with a 5-2 record in 1959.

Adding both to the competition and interest of the race has been the early resurgence of Illinois and Iowa. Illinois was expected to field a stronger team than it had the past two seasons when the Illini came up with two victories.

Pete Elliott's young team won a victory over California, upset mighty Northwestern and then battled Ohio State to a 20-20 tie. A victory over Minnesota Saturday would make the Illini top contenders for the title.

Even more surprising has been the play of Iowa's Hawkeyes. Iowa, defeated Washington State, defeated Washington and opened the conference campaign with a 37-36 triumph over Indiana.

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Julius Boros, National Open golf champion, has accepted an invitation to play Sam Snead for the Hail & Haig Challenge Cup Dec. 3. Snead, defending titlist, won over Tommy Bolt last December.

Wildcats, Milford Post Harrier Wins

Oxford and Milford continued their successful cross-country yesterday with victories.

Oxford withstood a record setting pace by Brown City's Ray Cilders to post a 24-31 win, boosting its record to 4-1.

CALGARY (AP)—Art Johnson, defensive halfback from Michigan State who played formerly with the Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Football Conference joined the Calgary Stampeders of the Western Conference Tuesday.

Doug Elmore, a 24-year-old quarterback from Mississippi, was placed on waivers without right of recall to make room for Johnson.

Johnson earlier had refused to report to the Saskatchewan Roughriders and arrived here last weekend to try out with Stampeders.

as host and favorite in Friday's Wayne-Oakland League meet at Kensington Park by easily capturing the Clarenceville Invitational at Cass-Benton Park.

Milford harriers were well out in front of the 11 other competing squads, scoring 21 points. Second place Garden City had 102 and was closely followed by Livonia Franklin (103), Thurston (105) and Wayne (106).

Bloomfield Hills Bob Richards led all the runners with a 10:18 timing although his team only finished 9th. Clarkston of the W.O was 12th.

Milford's scoring runners were Harold Faught, Ron Hardy, Bill Nelson, Don Boyd — second through fifth — and John Groomes who was seventh.

Oxford's Wildcats were led by Richard Evans and Bill Benedict who were second and third behind Cilders' 10:57 record pace for Brown City.

Neal Sage and Jim Burr were fifth and sixth for the winners.

SWEDISH PLAYER. — Red Sullivan (left), coach of the New York Rangers, is shown with Ulf Sterner of Sweden who will become the first European to play in the National Hockey League when he takes the ice tonight against the Detroit Red Wings in Madison Square Garden. He is on a five-game trial with the Rangers that will not affect his amateur status.

700 Career Goals Seen for Howe

NEW YORK (AP) — How many goals will Gordie Howe score and how long will he play in the National Hockey League?

"He'll play five more years and wind up with at least 700 goals," predicts General Manager Muzz Patrick of the New York Rangers, who open their home season tonight against Howe and the Detroit Red Wings in Madison Square Garden.

Howe, 35-year-old right winger, needs only two more goals to break the NHL career record of 544 held by Maurice (Rocket) Richard, the former Montreal Canadiens' star. The Rocket retired three years ago at age 39.

"There's no doubt that Howe is the greatest player in the history of the game," said Patrick, who joined the Rangers as a player in 1937. "He's already scored three times in two games, so it looks as though he's going to have another outstanding season."

CUT ANKLE
Howe suffered a cut right ankle in practice Tuesday. But a Red Wings' spokesman said the injury probably would not hamper his play against the Rangers tonight.

"Gordie's a little more susceptible to injury now that he's in his mid 30s," Patrick said. "But even if he gets hurt bad, he's strong enough to come back, play another five years and finish with 700 goals."

Howe, a native of Saskatoon, Sask., and a Detroit resident, is in his 18th big league season. Last year he won the circuit's scoring title and was named the most valuable player — each for the sixth time.

"In any situation, offensively or defensively, Gordie is just the best there is," Patrick said. "Richard was an explosive and exciting player. But he couldn't hold a candle to Howe defensively. I'd rate Bill Cook on a par with the Rocket. Bill is about the only old-timer I can think of who could hold his own in the modern era of hockey."

Bill Cook, a member of one of hockey's finest lines which also included brother Bun Cook and Frank Boucher, played for

Pistons Start Tonight

DETROIT (UPI) — A better start is a must for the Detroit Pistons who kick off their 1963-64 National Basketball Association season tonight.

Last season the Pistons lost 16 of their first 19 games. That put the Pistons in a big hole and they made a remarkable comeback even to finish in third place and make the playoffs.

But new coach Charley Wolf is determined that the Pistons, who host the Philadelphia 76ers, will have a better start this year.

Wolf, a stickler for conditioning, has had the team running, running and running since the opening day of practice. They'll come out running from the opening whistle and will also feature a half court press this season.

The Pistons starting lineup will feature Johnny Egan, Don Ohl, Bob Ferry, Ray Scott and Bailey Howell.

Ex-Hurler Now Coach

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers named George Spencer, former Tiger and New York Giants relief pitcher, to coach pitching in the Tigers' minor league organization Tuesday. Spencer succeeds Frank (Stubby) Overmire, who now is a Tiger coach. He also will handle scouting assignments.

Cards to Get Toughest Test

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The champion Green Bay Packers and the once lowly St. Louis Cardinals clash Sunday in a National Football League game that promises to be a lot closer than anyone expected at the start of the season.

The Packers, a heavy pre-season favorite to win their third straight league championship, surprisingly are only second best in the Western Division, although they have lost only to Chicago. However, the Bears are 5-0 and head the division.

On the other hand, the Cardinals are running second in the Eastern Division, a spot surprisingly high for them. Annually among the also rans, St. Louis has used a high-powered offense to race to a 4-1 record, only a game behind unbeaten Cleveland.

Cardinal Coach Wally Lemm, although not willing to admit that his team has surprised him, is obviously pleased. But he knows that the Cardinals will have their hands full Sunday.

"The Packers are a tough powerful team, as strong as last year," he said. "I don't know why they wouldn't be."

At least three of those strong points are end Boyd Dowler, middle linebacker Ray Nitschke and fullback Jim Taylor.

SEVEN INCHES

Pat Fisher, 5-foot-10, will have the job of covering Dowler, who is seven inches taller, and that is a tall order.

"Fisher has been doing a fine job since (Billy) Stacy was injured," Lemm said, "but we have to put Stacy in if Fisher can't handle Dowler."

Nitschke and the Cardinals' Dale Mehnert, will offer a battle of the "best linebackers in this division," Lemm said.

"Nitschke is strong as a bull. He knocks men out of the way. Mehnert has great quickness and agility and he doesn't know what it is to quit. And he rarely makes a mistake."

The Packers also will have Taylor, their outstanding fullback ready to play after being out with a groin injury. But the Cardinals can counter with their own great runner, John David Crow, who returned to limited action last week and, while he won't start, should see plenty of duty Sunday.

But even without Crow for the first four games, the Cardinals worked up an offense that is the best in the league.

Nitschke and Co. will have the job of stopping Charley Johnson, who has thrown for 1,279 yards and nine touchdowns; Bobby Joe Conrad, the leading pass catcher with 29; and Joe Childress, the second leading rusher with 333 yards gained.

All three played a big part in the Cardinals' final minute 24-23 victory over Pittsburgh last week.

"The people were waiting to buy tickets Monday morning after that game," Lemm said.

BOWLING

The Travelling Classic League resumed action Sunday although somewhat limited by the absence of several top bowlers for the state All-Star eliminations.

The day's biggest surprise was Fairgrounds upsetting Huron Bowl, 167, with Mike Samardja, Jr. missing from the state's lineup.

Other scores saw Airway Lanes knock off Sylvan Lanes, 15-4, Wonderland Lanes topped Howe's Lanes, 10-7, and Montclair was a forfeit winner over West Side Lanes.

Art Lattimer paced Fairgrounds as it handed Huron the first loss of the season. He rolled a 243 game and picked up four of the 19 points for his team.

Jim Sherwood had 226-211-621 for five points to lead Wonderland. Bob Gormong had 232 and five points in the Airway victory.

At Huron Bowl last Wednesday the Wolverine Exterminators upped their lead to five points in the "A" League. Ken Blankenship of the Huron Lounge squad had a 669 to lead six others over the 600 mark.

Mark Bowers had 259-661.

The Huron Ladies Matinee Friday afternoon had a 523 series by Naoma Johnston of the house team, currently in fourth place. Doolins Super Shell leads the league by four points.

OTHER SCORES

The Old Timers are pacing the Airway Queens League Tuesday afternoons, currently holding a two-point lead over the Flubbers.

Mable Bush last week had a 200-541, the former being the first game in the 200 bracket this season.

West Side Lanes Southpaws League Tuesday night is a doubles loop; last week Jim Grappin's 254-804 combo was high. Don Smith had a 216 and George Landsperger a 212.

In Rochester bowling, the Hilltop Rebels last week had a 227 game by Rosemary Tai and a 564 series by her. Avon Beauty and C&S Realty are Ed Sot, Jerry Gohl, Gar Gohl and Hoot Gibson all finished within 25 pins of each other for a consistent exhibition. The Eamon Co. hit a record 3,185 series.

Heavyweight Dies Following Beating

BALTIMORE (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Ernie Knox died in a Baltimore hospital today, a day and a half after he battled for a $250 purse.

Doctors said a blood clot on the brain killed him, and even had he lived he would have been partly crippled. Knox died at Provident Hospital at 6 a.m.

He was knocked out in the ninth round of his fight with Wayne Bethea of New York Monday night.

Knox, floored for a nine-count earlier in the round, lay stretched out on the ring canvas for nearly 10 minutes after a volley of Bethea punches sent him there at 1:15 of the round.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Eric Monti, a professional from Los Angeles, shot a six-under-par 33-46 Tuesday for a one-stroke lead in the pro-amateur prologue to the $77,777.77 Hotel Sahara Golf Tournament.

HAPPY REUNION — Frank Carney (left) and Warren Bush went fishing together last week for the first time in 20 years. The Waterford Township residents returned with this 5½-pound smallmouth bass caught by Bush. They were fishing Van Norman Lake.

State Hunters Eye Elk Herd

Special Season Next; High Fee Seen

LANSING (AP)—Trophy hunters already are lining up their gun-sights.

A shooting season at Michigan's elk herd appears inevitable.

Conservation Department experts, like Ralph MacMullan, who made a survey for the game division, recommend it.

"There are just too many elk," reported MacMullan of the herd of some 3,000 now spreading out from the Pigeon River area. "If they keep increasing, they will double every five years."

Trouble is, the elk are eating themselves out of house and home.

"If they move into Antrim County, and they are just at the border, and start nipping at the cherry orchards, then you will hear some demands for cutting down the herd," MacMullan predicted.

MacMullan told the State Conservation Commission that they had been unable to get together since 1942 "because of business commitments that kept our vacations separate."

"I started coming here from Detroit in 1915," related Bush. "Frank lived in Hazel Park and also came here to fish. Now we both live close together."

Bush now lives across from Lester Lake which connects with Van Norman and Lotus along the Clinton River bed.

USES CHUBS

Bush fishes for bass with chubs. He uses a special weedless hook that he designed himself for fishing snag infested waters.

It is a pike hook with a weedless attached and then electricians solder wrapped around the shank.

"The hook scoots through the weeds without hanging up. The big bass are in shallow, in the weeds and lilley pads," Bush explained. "That's why I use a bait outfit. You need the heavy line to get big fish out of those weeds."

Bush said he uses chubs because "they're tougher than shiners and don't tear off when cast."

Carney said the two met for the first time in several years in Waterford Village.

"We made a fishing date right then," he said.

Bush recalls two fishing experiences which stand out in his mind.

"I remember when the Clintonville men went out on Lake Oakland and the dropoff became the shoreline. The fish were crowded together and you could catch pike one after the other."

"A couple of years ago we had one of those big electrical

No Hug or Tears, Just Lunker Bass

Two fishing companions, who hadn't baited a book together in over 20 years, held a dramatic reunion on Van Norman Lake last week.

They didn't hug or shed any tears. The dramatics took place about 5 p.m. Thursday afternoon.

Warren Bush, 65, of 6609 Windgate, and Frank Carney, 63, of 5585 Dons, both Waterford Township, were busy trying to land a lunker smallmouth black bass.

Bush hooked the 5½-pounder in some lilley pads and it was tough and go for a while as he held the 22½-inch fish gingerly out of the potential trouble spot with an 18-pound line and bait casting outfit.

He finally boated the prize by grasping it by the lower lip and lifting.

"It's the heaviest bass I've ever taken," chorled the veteran angler. "And I caught it while fishing with Frank for the first time in years."

Carney pointed out that they had been unable to get together since 1942 "because of business commitments that kept our vacations separate."

storm here on Lester. Lightning must have hit one of the logs leading into that 90-foot hole near the tracks.

"We looked out after it was all over and saw fish splashing around out there. Know what they were? The locals call them herring but they're really ciscos. We collected two bushels. Must have been shocked by lightning."

Although he had never taken a bass over five pounds until last week, Bush is no stranger to big fish. He displayed a color photo of a string of pike caught in the Upper Peninsula with one "going over 30 pounds. He has also taken a 32-pound muskie from Lake St. Clair.

view, and Bob Goodrich, 15, of 617 Oakland. There's a blind on one of the lakes and we don't want other people hunting there," said Glenn.

The only clue is that they walked home carrying a 15½-pound Canada goose that was only wounded and had already inflicted a painful injury to the digit of one of its captors.

Glenn and Bob were hunting with Jamie Bartoni, 17. The younger boys were standing outside the blind when a flock of geese flew over at low altitude. Three shots rang out and one goose started a long glide that carried it to an adjacent lake.

PURSUIT STARTS

Bob and Glenn hustled over the hill separating the lakes, leaving Jamie in the blind.

He got my finger! Smokey yelled," Bob said. "He finally got the goose to shore and we took it home. We laid it over the dog house and finished it with a baseball bat."

It was the third goose in two seasons for Glenn; the first for Bob; a painfully cut and swollen finger for Smokey.

Jamie, who stayed in the blind, went home empty handed.

Annual Press Ringneck Derby

Bird Season Triggers Contest

Shotguns will fall silent and no bow strings will twang between sunrise and 10 a.m. next Monday in the Lower Peninsula. But come 10 of the forenoon, Michigan's army of hunters will march into the fields and woods. The No. 1 target, of course, will be ringnecked pheasants.

The Press contest is open to all residents of Oakland County. The ringnecks can be shot anywhere in Michigan except on preserves. Privately reared pheasants cannot be entered.

A $50 bond will be awarded for the heaviest rooster and a $25 bond for the longest. The contest deadline is noon, Nov. 11.

All entries must be brought to The Press Sports Department for weighing or measuring. The hours for accepting entries will be 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and 7 a.m. to noon on Saturday. The building is not open Sundays.

Fish Stories Earn Place in Records

Lansing, (UP)—Only four big fish stories that have come to the attention of Conservation Department officials in the past two years have impressed them enough to be included in their list of largest specimens.

In an updated list, the fish division officials included specimens ranging in size from a 66 pound lake trout taken in a gill net from Beaver Reef off Munising in September 1942 to a 2 pound 9 ounce bluegill caught in Big Island Lake of Schoolcraft County Oct. 1, 1960 by Alfred F. Moskosky of Lansing.

The lake trout was the third largest on record in conservation department files. The largest dates back to 1864 when a 88 pound specimen was reportedly caught at Grand Haven.

Moskosky's bluegill took second place in its category. It weighed one ounce less than the record bluegill caught by F. M. Brock of Bloomfield Hills in Cheboygan County's Silver Lake.

The fish caught by Moskosky was 1½ inches longer than Brock's catch, but Brock's fish picked up the other ounce by being almost ½ inch larger in girth.

A 2 pound 4 ounce fish caught by Gordon G. Best of Hazel Park was pushed down to third place on the listing by Moskosky's fish. Best caught his fish in Upper Straits Lake of Oakland County.

The two largest pike on the list must indicated something about the fish in Schoolcraft County's Lodge Lake. They were both speared there within two years of each other.

The latest addition to the file listings is a 36 pound 8 ounce specimen speared by Jim Carney of Manistique in Dodge Lake on Jan. 8 of this year.

CHASE ENDS — This 15½-pound Canada goose led Bob Goodrich (left), 15, and Glenn Bartoni, 13, on a two-lake chase before being subdued. The teen-agers were hunting near their Lake Orion homes.

Hunters on Real Wild Goose Chase

Ten shotgun blasts, two lakes, a sore finger and a baseball bat are the ingredients of this hunting story that resulted in a goose being prepared for the oven.

Two brothers, a neighbor and a friend who happened by at the right time, all from Lake Orion, are involved in this hunting excursion that took place west of Lake Orion last Saturday.

"We don't want to tell you the name of the lake," chorused Glenn Bartoni, 13, of 1635 Lakeview, and Bob Goodrich, 15, of 617 Oakland.

There's a blind on one of the lakes and we don't want other people hunting there," said Glenn.

The only clue is that they walked home carrying a 15½-pound Canada goose that was only wounded and had already inflicted a painful injury to the digit of one of its captors.

Glenn and Bob were hunting with Jamie Bartoni, 17. The younger boys were standing outside the blind when a flock of geese flew over at low altitude.

Three shots rang out and one goose started a long glide that carried it to an adjacent lake.

PURSUIT STARTS

Bob and Glenn hustled over the hill separating the lakes, leaving Jamie in the blind.

"We shot at the goose as it was swimming in the water seven times," reported Glenn. The goose was still swimming when a friend, Lawrence (Smokey) Borman, 12, happened along.

He decided to swim out to the goose. Smokey succeeded in getting the hooker by the neck and started back toward shore. And "then he started screaming," related Bob.

"He got my finger! Smokey yelled," Bob said. "He finally got the goose to shore and we took it home. We laid it over the dog house and finished it with a baseball bat."

It was the third goose in two seasons for Glenn; the first for Bob; a painfully cut and swollen finger for Smokey.

Jamie, who stayed in the blind, went home empty handed.

Dogs Causing Biting Problem at State Parks

Dogs continued to cause problems, of some serious, at many state parks in Michigan this past summer.

Accident reports now being reviewed by Conservation Department officials reveal that at least 35 state park visitors were bitten by dogs during the vacationing season.

Most of the victims were youngsters, several of whom suffered wounds that had to be treated at hospitals.

State park managers and rangers stress that present restrictions on dogs leave much to be desired in solving the situation.

Answers Are Necessary

Enrollee Will Be Asked Many Questions

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
"Yours not to reason why..." is the best approach in filling out application blanks for college admission.

Don't get upset at the details asked. Many items demanded have no bearing on your basic qualifications. Each college is trying to select a group of students who can live together congenially and learn from each other. The college needs lots of information to gather the kind of student body you could wish to join.

An important element of a college education is getting to know students from other sections of the country, sometimes from foreign countries. Much general information they absorb will come from association with others whose college majors and backgrounds differ from your own.

So you see, the application blank is not something to be filled out in an offhand manner. It requires your concentration and time. Fill it out completely.

Some questions asked may be unexpected. You'll have to make many decisions — decisions so important they will determine the courses you'll take in college — decisions you can't make without careful consideration.

The application blank you send in will be your representative. You should complete it to the best of your ability because when the admissions officer reviews it, you won't be present to explain those blank spaces or partial answers.

If you present an application which shows evidence of thought and planning, completely and neatly filled out, you'll make the impression you wish to make. Admissions officers usually feel that students will use the same care and planning in carrying out their college work and so are the most likely to be successful.

Your application for admission must meet all the following requirements:

• Be submitted on time.

(Check the particular school in the college catalog.)

• Be filled out completely. These get first consideration. Incomplete ones call for delaying correspondence to get the answers that should have been there in the first place.

• Be addressed to the proper division, and department of the college. (A wrong move not only puts the student in a poor light but the resulting delay may make you miss the deadline.)

• Be accompanied by a scholarship application blank, if called for. Get scholarship information from the college well in advance, for there may be special deadlines required for these. If the school is a member of College Scholarship Service, be sure to have recommendations forwarded promptly to the school of your choice.

North's jump to four hearts was not at all pleased with the contract. But things started out fairly well because West opened the bidding with diamonds and shifted to a club. East's king fell to South's ace and dummy was entered with the ace of spades.

A low heart dropped the queen from East and West won South's king with the ace. West led back a spade and South went right up with dummy's king. West had dealt and passed and had already shown up with the ace and king of diamonds and the ace of hearts. There was no possibility that he would also hold the queen of spades.

South drew West's last trump, cashed his queen of clubs, ruffed his last club in dummy and threw West in with the ace of diamonds.

West did not have another spade and had to lead either a club or a diamond. Either one allowed South to ruff in dummy and discard his last spade.

South had played the hand very well and had been fortunate to find that West held only two spades to start, but he had been really lucky in his choice of defenders. West should have cashed his ace of diamonds before leading that last spade, whereupon there would have been no way for South to put him in the lead.

Girl Survivor of Dixie Church Bombing Suffers Eye Damage

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Four weeks ago today Sarah Jean Collins, 12, was eagerly awaiting the start of school. Now she lies in darkness at a hospital.

Sarah Jean was injured in the blast that rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church Sept. 15. Four Negro girls were killed, including her sister, Addie Mae, 14. Sarah Jean's eyes were cut by flying glass.

EYES COVERED

but swollen and she cannot see through it. Doctors say she will probably regain useful vision.

Nurses say Sarah Jean has moments of deep despondency, and at other times peeps up. Never will she volunteer to talk about the bombing.

"Sometimes my eyes hurt," she told a visitor Tuesday, running her fingers back and forth across the bandages.

Sarah Jean says she heard about the deaths of the four other girls over the radio. With the others she was getting ready to sing in the choir when the blast went off.

What does she think about while lying in the hospital bed?

"About school," she answered. She has a special friend in University Hospital, C. S. Norton, a young Negro who works in the radiology department.

"She adopted me as her brother, and I've adopted her as my sister," he said. "She talks to me, but she's quiet with most everybody else."

Sarah Jean was asked how she feels about the church bombing now that a full month has passed. Her lips moved once but she said nothing.

Norton answered instead.

"Speaking for Sarah—you don't mind if I speak for you, do you Sarah?—she would love to thank people who have been nice to her, for the gifts, dolls, cards and beautiful flowers. I'm sure everyone is praying that she gets her sight back.

PRAYING FOR HIM

"As for the bomber, people are praying for him. We wonder what he would be thinking today, if he had children. No one knows who bombed the church but God. . . . He will face God. We turn this problem over to God, because no one else can solve Birmingham's problems. We leave it up to God to solve them."

"Isn't that how you've felt, Sarah?" Norton asked gently.

Sewer Denied U. S. Funds

Asst. City Manager John F. Reineck announced yesterday that Pontiac's application for a $144,330 federal grant for the proposed Murphy Park relief sewer has been denied.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission notified Reineck that such grants were available only for interceptor sewers, not trunk sewers.

The Murphy Park sewer is considered a trunk sewer. It is estimated to cost $406,100 and is to be financed by special assessment bonds.

The City Commission had applied for the grant last month. Another application made last spring for federal public works acceleration funds to aid the project is still awaiting approval in Washington, Reineck said.

City Man Guilty in Fatal Beating

After two-and-a-half hours of deliberation, a Circuit Court jury today found Jefferson L. Moreau, 36, of 238 Franklin guilty of manslaughter in the May 5 fatal beating of Theodore Montgomery.

Moreau had pleaded self-defense in striking Montgomery, 44, of 5715 Fildew over the head with a 2-by-8 board in an argument over the use of a pay phone at the corner of Luther and Franklin.

Moreau was charged with second-degree murder after Montgomery died of his wounds at Pontiac General Hospital June 18.

Moreau, free on $1,000 bond, is to reappear before Judge Frederick C. Ziem Nov. 5 for sentencing.

Harmon Named to Metropolitan Planning Body

Pontiac City Commissioner Charles H. Harmon has been appointed to the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

He was named to represent Pontiac on the commission last night by Mayor Robert A. Landry.

Harmon, 62, of 336 W. Ironside is filling the post formerly held by City Manager Robert A. Stetter before his dismissal Sept. 17.

Fix Rumor Brings Request for Probe

Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom last night asked City Attorney William A. Ewart to "investigate rumors that a Police Trial Board member tried to use his position to influence a policeman" recently.

Bottom said he'd heard a trial board member involved in a traffic accident had attempted to persuade an officer to write up the accident report so as to clear him of any fault.

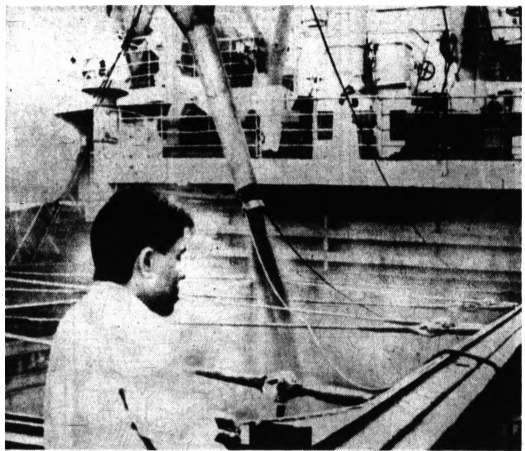

Moments after the request, trial board chairman Cecil C. Mullinix identified himself as the man referred to by Bottom.

Mullinix, a seven-year veteran of the trial board, was in the audience at last night's commission meeting.

Mullinix denied he tried to pressure anyone into making a false accident report.

"SICK AND TIRED"

CAB Eyes Drop of Service

Sherwin Birnkrant, Pontiac assistant city attorney, told the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) yesterday that poor scheduling was to blame for the city's failure to provide enough passengers for North Central Airlines service.

The CAB hearing opened yesterday in Lansing to consider a request by NCA to drop airline service at Pontiac Municipal Airport and two other Michigan airports.

NCA charges that the cities involved have not met the minimum quota of five outbound passengers per day under the CAB "use-it-or-lose-it" policy of determining the need for airline service.

Representing Pontiac are Birnkrant; Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce; and Earl Kreps, assistant manager of the chamber.

Pontiac has averaged 1.14 outbound passengers per day since NCA started operating here in December 1960. The other cities involved are Port Huron and Cadillac-Reed City.

VEEP QUERIED

Birnkrant questioned Frank Buttimer, NCA vice president, who claimed the cities failed to meet the minimum quota over an 18-month trial period.

Birnkrant said during most of the trial period the airport got only one flight north and one south. Buttimer answered that "Pontiac did not support a second flight when it was in service."

Attorneys for Pontiac and Port Huron challenged the airline's use of city population figures in its brief to the CAB, and said the city figures took no account of nearby urban areas.

Pontiac said its airport served 86,000 persons, but Buttimer said from the witness stand that "about 750,000" live within 25 miles of the airport.

Buttimer said Port Huron is too near Detroit to provide a profitable volume of passengers. The hearings are expected to continue through Friday.

Plan to Join 2 Airlines Is Dropped

NEW YORK (AP)—Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways scrapped today their proposal to weld the two carriers into a single $1.2-billion system with 80,000 miles of routes.

The merger would have created the nation's largest air transportation company, supplanting United Air Lines.

"The timetable for necessary approvals, including those of the federal government, has not progressed to the point where we can look forward to consummation of the merger within a reasonable time," heads of the lines said.

The agreement to discuss a merger had been reached Dec. 20, 1962 by directors of TWA and Pan Am.

Termination of the deal was announced jointly by Juan Trippe, president of Pan Am, and Charles C. Tillghast Jr., president of TWA.

Tie Airport Woe to Schedule

Yesterday, state police ballistics expert, Ken Christianson, told the jury the bullet that missed Mrs. Race could have been fired from the rifle entered as evidence.

SLUG SMASHED

He said the slug itself was too badly smashed on impact for positive identification through ballistics.

However, Christianson said an empty casing found at the scene definitely was ejected from Goodrum's rifle.

Service for Mrs. Grace Bradley, 75, of 2641 Walnut will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Hutton Funeral Home, Pontiac. Graveside service and burial will be 2 p.m. Friday in Litchfield, Ill.

Mrs. Bradley died Monday after a lengthy illness.

She was a member of P.I. Holiness Church, Pontiac. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Martha Swafford, 1111 W. 11th whom she made her home, and Mrs. Helen Mick of Pontiac and a son, Talbot Williams of Indiana.

WAFORD H. KILBURN

Service for Waford H. Kilburn, 46, of 250 Harpham, will be Saturday at the Middle Tennessee Funeral Home, Waynesboro, Tenn., with burial following.

Mr. Kilburn, an employee of Ford Motor Co., died Monday from injuries he received that same day in an automobile accident in Plymouth Township.

His body will be at the Richardson - Bird Funeral Home until 7:30 p.m. today.

Surviving besides his wife are three daughters; Mrs. Robert Angell of Pontiac and Barbara and Judy C. both at home; three brothers; two sisters; and a granddaughter.

DELMAR H. KITCHNER

THOR—Service for Delmar H. Kitchner, 65, of 1025 Larchwood, will be 1 p.m. Saturday at the Price Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Union Cemetery.

Mr. Kitchner, an engineer for McCord Corp., Detroit, died yesterday after a long illness. Surviving are his wife Ruth; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Pullerton and Miss Joyce Kitchner, both of California, and Mrs. Robert Bouck of Fromberg, Mont.; two sons, Harry J. of Harrison Township and Patrick, at home, a brother; and nine grandchildren.

PETER LUGAR

Service for Peter Lugar, 76, of 1667 Delmonte will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Walled Lake. Graveside service and burial will follow in the Oakland Hills Cemetery, Novi, under auspices of Lawrence A. Sims Post No. 3962, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Walled Lake.

Mr. Lugar, retired employee of Ford Motor Co., died Monday after a prolonged illness.

He was past master of the Cyrus Lodge, F&M, Livonia.

Surviving are his wife, Lillian; a stepson, William Eggesfield of Detroit; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Richard Weber of Walled Lake; a brother, seven grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

RALPH T. SMITH

AVON TOWNSHIP—Service for Ralph T. Smith, 40, of 2622 Gravel Ridge, will be Friday afternoon at the Churchill Funeral Home, Murray, Ky. Burial will follow in Outland Cemetery, Murray, Ky.

Mr. Smith, an auto mechanic, died unexpectedly of an heart attack yesterday.

Surviving are three sons, Randolph, Nathan and Jerry, and two daughters, Paula and Darla, all at home; five sisters, Mrs. Laura Asbury, Mrs. Treva Washer and Mrs. Lucille Billington, all of Kentucky; Mrs. Juel Modesta of Detroit and Mrs. Bertha Bastedo of Pontiac; and a brother.

Mother, Two Pals Face Robbery Trial

The armed robbery trial of a 26-year-old mother of two and two male companions was scheduled to begin today before Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Mrs. Dorothy Krugman, Marvin Pallister, 26, and Gerard H. Flegler, 30, all of Warren, are accused of being members of the silk stocking gang that staged 25 to 30 robberies in the area.

They are charged specifically with armed robbery of Cracker Barrel Party Store in Royal Oak Dec. 1, in which $980 was taken.

The other accused member of the gang, Jerome C. Parminter, 31, of Warren is serving a 340-day sentence in Jackson Prison for carrying a concealed weapon.

City Woman Listed in Fair Condition

A 55-year-old Pontiac woman is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital following a two-car accident yesterday at Perry and Oliver.

Mrs. Mary M. Kasat, 413 W. Walton, suffered chest injuries in the 4:30 p.m. collision.

Police said Mrs. Kasat was driving out of a driveway when she was struck by a car driven by Wayne D. Schmitt, 22, of 926 John R., Rochester. He was treated for minor injuries and released.

A large truck at the curb waiting to turn into the driveway blocked the vision of both drivers, police said.

PUBLIC SALE

At 5:00 p.m. on October 16, 1963, a 1960 Chevrolet 4-door sedan, serial number 120712012, will be sold at public sale at 1100 E. Grand, Pontiac, Michigan, that address being after the vehicle is stored and may be inspected.

October 15 and 16, 1963

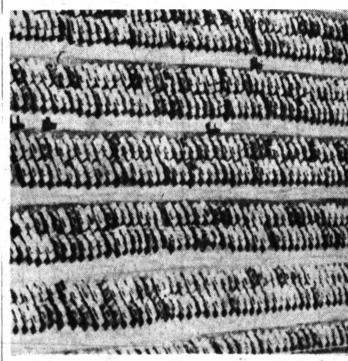

At 5:00 a.m. on October 16, 1963, a 1958 Ford 4-door, serial number C9711, will be sold at public sale at 1100 E. Grand, Pontiac, Michigan, that address being after the vehicle is stored and may be inspected.

October 15 and 16, 1963

Bids are to be opened at City Hall at 2 p.m. Nov. 1.

In answer to a request from the "Friends of Grand Trunk Railroad" committee, Mayor Robert A. Landry appointed Commissioner Loy L. Ledford to represent the city at a Michigan Public Service Commission hearing in Detroit Oct. 21.

The hearing is on a proposal from the railroad to drop commuter service between Pontiac and Detroit. It will be in the Veterans' Memorial Building at 9 a.m.

CORN ON THE COB? — This is not, as you may think, a close-up of an ear of corn. Closer scrutiny reveals the "kernels" to be hundred of automobiles. This aerial photo was taken over one of the parking lots near the North Carolina State Fair.

Capital Letter

Lo, What Will Russian Wheat Deal Bringeth?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — And there was a famine in the land. And patriarch Nikita Khrushchev, who was not a God-fearing man, looked around for a way to save himself and his Communist clan.

Now when Nikita saw that there was wheat in America, he said unto Gromyko: "Some capitalist dreamer has been storing up surpluses against the lean years, which are now upon us. Get you down thither, and buy for us from thence, that we may live and not die."

And Gromyko said unto the patriarch: "But what is our brothers the Americans remember that you said you would bury them?"

Khrushchev spake harshly, saying he had already sold some of his favorite comrades into Siberian bondage for less back than that, and for Gromyko to hurry and get himself thither without further gabbing.

The patriarch MONTGOMERY then loaded Gromyko's sacks with gold, so that he could bring back that which the Communist system had failed to produce. And Gromyko took some of his comrades and went to the land of plenty, and the Governor over all the land was John, the many-coated son of Joseph P.

Now this was the same young man to whom Gromyko had sold a bill of goods exactly one year previously, by claiming that patriarch Nikita was putting only defensive weapons and agrarian reformers in Cuba.

But lo, even as Gromyko spake thus, aerial spies dispatched by John, the son of Joseph P., were spotting missile installations in the island to the southward.

Now Gromyko pondered on these things as he went hat in hand to governor John, but he did not bow down before him with his face to the earth.

After all, his bags were loaded with gold which the Communist patriarch had given him to buy capitalist friendship and grain.

But John, remembering the former treachery, said unto Gromyko: "Whence come ye? Ye are spies, to see the nakedness of the land ye are come."

NO SPIES
Gromyko, maintaining an unbowed head and straight face, replied: "Nay, my lord, but to buy food are they servants come. We are true men. Thy servants are no spies."

Now John, the son of Joseph P., was a very understanding sort who realized that patriarch Nikita did not really want to bury us, but merely to wipe us off the face of the earth.

This wise young governor also knew that his own people were becoming restive because they had too much to eat, and were tired of storing so much plenty against a rainy day.

John therefore assembled his advisors, and although some spake in favor of punishing the Communists comrades for their previous treachery, most of them were dazzled by the exotic foreign gold.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE
The wise young governor at

WHY THEY CAN'T STOP YAWNING IN YOUNGSTOWN
They're bored. So would you be. Think of having to live (if you can call it that) in a town where you can't buy, taste or thoroughly enjoy those famous Cash Wines. Smile, be happy you're in Michigan, where the fun and sheer delight of Cash Wines are as near to you as your favorite supermarket, Squor store or tavern.

first thought of detaining one of the comrades as a hostage, but realizing that one more defector would make little difference in a thousand years, he commanded his officials to fill the Communist sacks with grain, and to restore every man's money into his sack.

And they loaded their asses with the grain, and departed opening his sack to feed his ass, espied his money and said unto his brethren: "My money is restored, and lo, it is even in my sack."

And their hearts nearly failed them, but when they returned to patriarch Nikita and told him what had happened he comforted them, saying: "Have no fear, my comrades. This is the way the Capitalist Americans do business. They subsidize their farmers to grow far more grain than they can use: Then they take up taxes to pay for storing it; And when the time is ripe and we hunger, they sell it to us at half the market price, which they call the world price."

Gromyko beamed and said,

"Good father, then you mean they meant to put our money as well as the grain in our sacks?"

"Aye, even so," Nikita replied. "At this price there is no further point in our trying to grow grain at home. We will hereafter use our farmers to produce missiles, and we will feed ourselves with subsidized American produce. Prepare to return ye, then, to the land of plenty to buy also cotton, milk, butter and feed grains."

And it came to pass that a lively trade developed, and many many moons elapsed before the American taxpayers finally realized they were supporting the Communist economy.

British Convoy Held, Then Russ Relent

BERLIN (AP)—A British military convoy held on the Berlin autobahn by the Russians today moved westward, a British spokesman announced.

The British spokesman said the convoy continued its interrupted journey "on our terms." That meant the British refused the Soviet demand for the British soldiers to dismount and be counted.

The convoy of nine vehicles, carrying 28 men, was stopped by the Soviets at Babelsberg, their checkpoint just outside Berlin where a U.S. convoy was blockaded last week.

It was kept waiting nine hours until the Russians gave up their insistence that the men dismount and lifted the barriers for the convoy to proceed.

It still had to go through a second Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, at the border of West Germany on the western end of the superhighway.

It was still a question whether the Russians would repeat their delaying tactics at Marienborn.

The convoy was en route to West Germany for a routine training exercise, the spokesman said.

It was understood that the Soviets demanded that the British soldiers get out of their vehicles and line up to be counted. The British commander refused.

The Russians made the same demand of a U.S. convoy last week on the autobahn and the American commander similarly refused. A serious crisis resulted, but the Russians finally lifted their blockade.

PERMIT CHECKS
The Western allies allow the Russians to count the troops aboard large convoys but refuse to permit head checks of small convoys, contending that the convoys' travel papers are sufficient.

The British said the Soviet blockade was deliberate and protested vigorously. The U.S. State Department had suggested the American convoy was held up by confusion at the local level.

The halting of the convoy did not interfere with civilian traffic on the 110-mile autobahn between Berlin and West Germany. It was running normally.

CLOSE TOUCH
Britain's Foreign Office kept close touch with British military headquarters in Berlin today about the halting at the Babelsberg checkpoint.

A foreign office spokesman said: "There is not very much I can say about it. We have had preliminary reports which are being studied, and we are in touch with British headquarters in Berlin in order to establish the facts of the situation."

French Official Sees Victory

'Detroit Will Lose '68 Olympics Bid'

BADEN-BADEN, Germany (UPI)—An official of Lyon, France says "there is no question" his city will host the 1968 Olympic Games.

Antony Bertrand, the Lyon representative also said yesterday that "Detroit hasn't got a hope. We're going to win hands down."

Lyon and Detroit are two of four cities bidding for the games. Mexico City and Buenos Aires are the others. Their representatives have been meeting here with delegates to the International Olympic Committee.

Bertrand's remarks came just after Detroit presented a nine-point program to the committee, detailing why the Michigan city should be selected.

FORMAL PRESENTATION
Listed among Detroit's assets were the following:

- "Detroit offers a unique concentration of all facilities—A closer grouping of Olympic events than ever enjoyed by Olympic athletes and visitors in the history of the games.
- "Detroit's talent for organization is unquestioned."
- "Detroit is financially ready."
- "Detroit is an international community."
- "The vibrant spirit of the city is reflected in its enthusiasm and loyal support of the Olympic cause."
- "America's most sports-minded community."
- "Many of Detroit's excellent facilities are already standing."
- "Detroit is a young city."

After hearing Detroit's proposals, Bertrand laughed, stating "Detroit will need a lot more than that to beat us out. We've got all that Detroit lists and much more besides."

Police Hunt Clues in Bombing

Police today are searching for clues about the mysterious explosion which ripped this hole in the front wall of Bedell's Restaurant are being sought today by detectives from Bloomfield Township and the Michigan State Police crime laboratory. Jack Bedell, owner of the Bloomfield Township establishment, estimated damage at $15,000.

Owner Jack Bedell, who estimated damage at $15,000, said he could offer no explanation for the blast.

"I haven't the slightest idea," Bedell said. "We have nothing to hang our hat on. We have the best employee relations and the best customer relations. There have been no cracks and no threats."

"But," he added, "obviously somebody was mad at us."

The explosion at the restaurant, 235 Woodward near Square Lake road, occurred about 3:24 a.m. Bloomfield Township Patrolmen Nick Snaek and Gail Fowler were at the corner of Woodward and Square Lake road when they heard the blast.

They reported that the smell of explosives was strong when they arrived at the restaurant, which was surrounded by a heavy cloud of dust and smoke.

Tonight's low will be about 52. For the next five days, high temperatures are expected to continue in the 70's and lows will range from 40 to 54. Precipitation will total less than one-quarter of an inch in a few scattered showers tomorrow and again Sunday or Monday.

Morning southeasterly winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will become variable tomorrow. Forty-nine was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The 1 p.m. reading as 76.

Earth Tremor Felt in East

Disturbance Shakes Massachusetts Homes

BOSTON (AP)—A widespread earth disturbance was felt today in eastern Massachusetts.

Newspapers and radio stations were beset with calls from disturbed residents in the area.

The Boston College Observatory at suburban Weston said their seismograph recorded something which at first glance we would say was an earthquake.

One Quincy resident said the disturbance was "just as though trains were rumbling by."

It was felt in Taunton in southeastern Massachusetts. Other reports of it came from Everett, just outside Boston and Lowell, 15 miles away.

UP, DOWN
The Boston Globe reported it was felt in its city room.

Residents reported houses were shaken in Winthrop and Lynn. One Winthrop housewife said "it was so strong I'm still shaking myself."

Resolution Will Go to General Assembly After Committee

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A resolution outlawing the orbiting of nuclear weapons in outer space was approved unanimously today by the General Assembly's main political committee.

The proposal—sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and 15 other countries—now goes to the 111-nation assembly itself where approval is expected tomorrow.

While the U.N. action is not legally binding, it is regarded as a moral obligation since the United States and the Soviet Union drafted the plan and voted for it.

FORM OF APPEAL
Actually it is in the form of an appeal to all countries to refrain from placing in orbit objects carrying nuclear weapons or any weapons of mass destruction, or from installing such weapons in outer space in any manner.

The resolution, first tangible Cold War breakthrough since the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, stems from an agreement announced Oct. 3 after talks here by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

How Will Tax Plan Affect Business?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gov. Romney has presented to the legislature a reform program. Here, in the first of a three-part series, is an analysis of the proposal and how it would affect business in Michigan. Later articles will tell of the impact on the individual taxpayer and on hard-pressed local governments.)

By GENE SCHROEDER
LANSING (AP)—To tax or not to tax is hardly the question.

The question before the Michigan Legislature today is whether to praise Gov. Romney's fiscal reform program or to bury it.

And the only thing certain about the governor's comprehensive tax proposal is that its final disposition is uncertain.

But whether Michigan keeps its present complicated tax system, switches to the Romney program or winds up with some compromise reform, nearly everybody agrees that taxes—like death—are inevitable. The big argument swirls around the questions:

"What kind, how much, and on whom?"
Out of the current special session of the legislature come the answers, possibly in time for the Christmas holidays.

"What's in it for me?" is the natural reaction of most taxpayers to any new program such as the one proposed by Romney, who has placed his political prestige on the line in advocating sweeping changes in Michigan's tax structure.

UP, DOWN
Keyed to state and local income taxes, the Romney program would lower the annual tax bite for some and raise it for others.

Over-all, according to some estimates, the reforms would provide relief for business by shifting some $71.5 million of the tax burden onto individuals.

Within the business community itself, under the Romney program new and struggling firms would find their tax bills reduced, while older and more profitable corporations—such as the auto industry's "big three"—would pay more.

Whether this will bring into action against Romney's proposals the same powerful lobbying forces which helped kill the Swainson-backed program last year remains to be seen.

"Up to this point, I've had no indication of any such organized opposition," Romney told the Associated Press in an interview.

BIG ROADBLOCK
The governor dodged agreement that such opposition by the auto industry giants would throw a formidable—and perhaps fatal—roadblock in the path of his fiscal reform program.

A key Romney adviser said in talks with auto company executives he found the impression that Ford and Chrysler (Continued on Page A-11, Col. 1)

Top Goal, Estes Urges; Aim for $800,000 Mark

Already off to a good start, Pontiac Area United Fund campaign workers last night were urged to put the 1963 drive over the $776,790 goal.

"I will not consider this drive an unqualified success unless we top $800,000," stated E. M. Estes, general campaign chairman.

Estes' remarks during the official kickoff dinner at Waldron Hotel preceded the annual torchlighting at Oakland and Saginaw.

During the brief ceremony, the symbolic 25-foot-high United Fund torch flamed into life to signal the start of the drive. It will burn until the campaign ends Nov. 1.

Helping Estes press the button to ignite the giant torch were the 4-year old Torch Twins, Janice and Jeanine Wilcock.

Some 75 United Fund leaders at the dinner also heard Robert M. Critchfield's report that the advance gift solicitation is already over its $60,000 goal. Critchfield said his advance gift unit has pledges of $91,750 and may ring up a final total of $100,000.

In his kickoff address, however, Estes warned the "Complacency is our greatest single obstacle."

Estes said the very fact United Fund has in the past always reached its yearly goal may lead to a let down of campaign efforts.

Reveal Sale of NY Mirror to Daily News

NEW YORK (AP)—The financially distressed New York Mirror has ceased publication after 39 years and some of its assets have been sold to the New York Daily News.

The Mirror's last edition rolled off the presses at 2:17 a.m. today.

The Mirror had a daily circulation of about 882,000, second only to the Daily News' national high of nearly 2 million.

About 1,400 employees lost their jobs. The Mirror said it will distribute in excess of $3.5 million in severance pay to them and set up an employment office to help them find new jobs.

The Hearst Corp. said in announcing the Mirror's sale, "The name, goodwill and other intangible assets of the Mirror have been sold to the New York News."

No purchase price was disclosed.

"The circumstances which forced the Hearst Corp. reluctantly to take this step are the same that have necessitated the discontinuance of so many other good newspapers all over the country," the announcement said.

Pontiac Sets New Mark for 10-Day Sales

Pontiac and Tempest sales in the first 10 days of October have topped any similar period in Pontiac's history, E. M. Estes, division general manager said today.

Estes reported Pontiac dealers realized 32,474 cars, well over the previous high of 28,369 in April, 1962.

The Oct. 1-10 sales were 26 per cent above the same model introduction period last year. Estes said the last announcement record was set when 25,109 Pontiacs were sold.

HIT BY TRAIN—The driver of this car escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when it was sheared in half by a Grand Trunk Railroad locomotive at a crossing in Davisburg. The driver, Mrs. Opal C. Goodwin, 12950 Rattalee Lake, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a head cut. She was hurled from the car on impact. Witnesses told sheriff's deputies that she did not stop for the trucks even though the train's whistle was sounding.

After hearing Detroit's proposals, Bertrand laughed, stating "Detroit will need a lot more than that to beat us out. We've got all that Detroit lists and much more besides."

AMAKE OVER RACES Get Ike's OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A declaration by Dwight D. Eisenhower that every man now being mentioned for the Republican presidential nomination is acceptable to him brought happy smiles today to the faces of Sen.

GOP Aims Broadside at Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the election still 13 months off, the political guns already are zeroing in on their targets. President Kennedy's dealings with Russia are in the center of the crossfire.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller rolled up the GOP artillery Tuesday night at a fund-raising birthday party for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. There may be "conspiracy" in Kennedy's moves, Miller said.

Manning the defenses for the administration earlier in the day was Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. "It is possible," Johnson told a Liberal party rally in New York "to lower world tensions without lowering our guard."

A frequently applauding array of Republican notables heard Miller say that many people are wondering "what really lies behind these moves to conciliate and cohabit with the Soviets in nuclear affairs, commercial transactions and space exploration."

NOT WORRIED
When Eisenhower was in office, Miller said, the people were never "worried over the possibility of secret deals, private understandings and conspiracy with the leaders of the Kremlin."

Johnson said the Kennedy administration believes it can make some progress toward peace by agreements, such as the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and the decision to sell wheat to the Soviets, without relaxing American defenses.

"We are not gambling with our national security," Johnson said. "We are not taking any needless risks for peace. But neither are we foreclosing our future."

In an apparent barb at Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a leading contender for the GOP nomination, Johnson said he and Kennedy will meet head-on the challenge of conservatives who want "to retreat from the 20th Century."

Barry Goldwater's supporters. The former president previously had expressed some puzzlement as to just where the Arizona senator, a leading contender for the GOP nomination, stood on such issues.

But, it was learned, Goldwater recently had a heart-to-heart talk with Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa.—a session which apparently went a considerable distance toward a meeting of minds.

Goldwater told a reporter that he informed Eisenhower that he would state his views fully on all issues if he formally enters the presidential nomination tourney.

MUST EXPLAIN

"Every man should do that, whether he's running for pre-cinct chairman or some higher office," Goldwater said. "Otherwise, in my view, he couldn't get elected."

At a festive 73rd birthday party Tuesday night, Eisenhower did not tap anyone for the presidential nomination.

But he said "Let us not concern ourselves too much with differences of thinking among our natural leaders."

"I know of none of the party's presidential possibilities I could not support."

They are all in favor, he said, of strengthened alliances abroad and sound, pay-as-you-go policies at home. And those, he said are the things that count.

"With those qualities," he said "a man could be sure of my fervent support. And I believe, if we ring doorbells, visit the last apartment house, the victory in 1964 will not be one of those hairline things but overwhelming."

Eisenhower, who became 73 Monday, has had three birthday parties in the last four days. Tuesday night's affair was thrown by the Republican National Committee and other party big-wigs.

Guns, Ammo Shortage Seen for South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (UPI)—The arms blockade imposed by 44 United Nations members against South Africa is expected to cause a shortage of guns and ammunition in the country within three months, it was learned here.

Sources here said Germany, France and Spain were still supplying weapons and ammunition, but South Africa had been hard hit by the loss of supplies from the United States.

MUCK FIRE — Lindy Smith, volunteer with the Orion Township Fire Department, soaks down a weeded section as fire fighters try to control a muck fire on Clarkson Road, a mile west of Lake Orion yesterday. State Conservation Department officials are alarmed by the tinder-dry condition of land in the state. "These daily grass fires could result in a forest fire near Pontiac," warned Marvin Hartwig, Conservation Department fire control officer for Oakland County.

Two Guilty of Neglect in Deaths

A Waterford Township couple that left three children alone the night the youngsters died in a fire, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of contributing to delinquency and the neglect of minors yesterday.

Mrs. Harriet Kittles, a divorcee, and her boyfriend George Mishenko were scheduled to reappear before Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem next Tuesday for sentencing.

The reduced charge is a misdemeanor. Previously, they had been charged with manslaughter, a felony.

LEFT CHILDREN

Mrs. Kittles, 32, and Mishenko, 34, left their three small children locked alone in their home at 1825 Maine while they were out drinking at a nearby tavern, July 14.

The children, Patricia Ann, 4 months, Laura, 18 months, and Tammy Lee, 2, died in the fire that gutted the house.

A cigarette left smoldering in a sofa was believed to have caused the fire.

Judge Ziem accepted pleas before trial was scheduled to begin yesterday.

Mrs. Kittles was released until sentencing on a $500 bond. Mishenko was remanded to the county jail in lieu of a $500 bond.

House Dem Backs Milder Antibias Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee gave full support today to administration efforts to cut some provisions from the sweeping civil rights bill.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., told the committee he would do all in his power to get bipartisan support for the milder proposal recommended by the administration in June.

A Judiciary subcommittee added several highly controversial provisions to the administration program, however, to produce the bill now before the committee.

Att. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy urged the committee yesterday to restore the measure substantially to administration's recommendations, to increase its chances of passage.

Celler spoke as the committee prepared to question Kennedy.

"The urgency for bipartisan legislation at this session is so strong that I intend to put aside my own feelings with respect to the desirability of provisions in addition to those recommended by the administration," Celler said.

Thousands of Algerians Answering Call to Arms

ALGIERS (AP)—Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco.

The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed Sahara border region between Algeria and Morocco.

Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers — estimated to total 30,000 — to report for army service. At the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

WAR FEVER

Those who answered the mobilization call included numerous young volunteers carried away by the officially whipped-up war fever. Many were clearly too young ever to have fought against the French.

Algerian sources said Ben Bella's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

The government — controlled press and radio aimed a steady barrage of abuse at Morocco's King Hassan II.

"Hassan to the gallows, Hassan to the gallows," Algerians chanted in response.

GROUPS RALLYING
Hassan's cabinet chief said opposition groups were rallying behind the king.

A U.S. information center at Constantine became a target when the Algerian radio charged that American pilots had down Moroccan troops to the battle zone. The allegation was denied by the U.S. Air Mission in Morocco and the State Department in Washington.

Several hundred Algerians smashed windows at the center. Police quickly dispersed the mob.

Two Algerian emissaries returned from Morocco with proposals and planned to fly today for a conference with Hassan at Marrakech, where the king was entertaining visiting Mr. John F. Kennedy.

Other forces also considered mediation efforts. Among them were the Addis Ababa Organization of African Unity, Tunisia, Syria and the United Arab Republic.

The Algerian government said 400 of its soldiers controlled the outskirts of Hassi-Beldja and Tadjouba when fighting stopped Tuesday. The Algerians claimed to have repulsed 4,000 Moroccan supporters by planes and tanks.

"Dried vegetation, lack of rainfall, high winds and low humidities have combined to create the unprecedented wildfire hazard throughout the state," said the conservation department yesterday in a statement.

Numerous muck fires in southern Michigan require department manpower and equipment. The smoke from two such fires near Parma, in Jackson County, and Lake Orion, in Oakland County — earlier combined with fog to create traffic hazards.

The one-half acre fire in a dried-out bog near Clarkson Road southwest of Lake Orion contributed to a two-car and a four-car accident yesterday morning.

Military Wins Korea Election

Opposition Concedes in Close Balloting

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A spokesman of ex-President Yun Po-sun's Civil Rule party virtually conceded today election of military strong man Gen. Chung Hee Park as president.

Yun himself went into hiding Tuesday after the balloting. The party's spokesman, Kim Yung-sam, said in an informal statement: "We apologize to the people who fought to the end despite various bad laws and other obstacles in this election."

A spokesman of Park's Democratic Republic party issued a brief statement saying "the presidential election battle is over. We all should let bygones be bygones and be united in our work at building the Third Republic."

While neither party made any final statement of concession or victory, unofficial counts gave Park nearly a 100,000-vote lead.

Tabulations by South Korea's government news network gave Park 4,671,300 votes to 4,379,864 for Yun.

Votes for three minor anti-government candidates totaled 700,201, demonstrating that a majority of South Korea's voters opposed Park's military-dominated regime.

BACK AND FORTH

In earlier returns, the lead shifted back and forth between Park and Yun.

The government's election committee seemed to have broken down under the task of tabulating the estimated 10.8 million ballots.

Yun, 67, candidate of the Civil Rule party and slashing critic of Park's military regime, went into hiding as the ballots were counted. He obviously feared Park's military backers would arrest him.

It seemed apparent that the final tabulation would not end the fierce struggle between the military leaders who have ruled Korea for 29 months and the civilian politicians they displaced in the May 16, 1961, coup.

NOT SUFFICIENT

The losing side was sure to think the winner had not received sufficient mandate to rule unchallenged.

The race was close from the time the vote counting began Tuesday. No one appeared more surprised than Yun's supporters.

Many had thought Park, 46, would easily win a four-year term and go on to form a government-oriented national assembly in elections Nov. 26.

Birmingham Area News U.N. Celebration Is Set at Community House

BIRMINGHAM — The Community House will be the scene of a United Nations anniversary celebration Oct. 24.

The event is being planned by the Oakland County chapter of the American Association for the United Nations.

VETERAN REPORTER

MacVane, a veteran newspaperman and broadcaster, has specialized in foreign and U.N. affairs since serving as a correspondent in Europe and Africa during World War II. His work keeps him in contact with top U.N. personalities.

Invitations to the event have been sent to the American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters in addition to members and friends of the American Association for the United Nations.

A short recital will be given by the International Institute Group Chorus. A question-and-answer period after MacVane's speech will be followed by refreshments.

Open to the public, the program is the result of the combined efforts of AAUW members, the League of Women Voters, the City of Birmingham and other organizations. Harold Chalk of Birmingham is chairman of the planning committee.

Mrs. F. L. McNabb is chairman of the hospitality committee and Mrs. Donald J. Keeney is handling publicity.

Funds for the program were raised earlier this year when the AAUW sold tickets to the Theater at the Bloomfield Theatre.

KAY S. BARTHOLOMEW
Service for Kay S. Bartholomew, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Glen (Shirley) Bartholomew of 911 Humphrey and the late Mr. Bartholomew, will be at 11 a.m. Friday at the Embury Methodist Church. A funeral will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

The girl died unexpectedly of a heart attack Monday. Her body is at the Manly-Bailey Funeral Home.

A. M. Smith of Seaboard High School, she was a member of her church's youth group and choir.

The elder Martize said he could not understand his son's defection because, "Gary was so enthusiastic about the service and wanted to be a career soldier."

The last time he was home was in February for a funeral, the father said. "But he seemed perfectly satisfied with the Army. I cannot understand what happened in the meantime."

Martize joined the service in July 1961, according to his wife. He had thought about staying in, but she thought he had decided against it.

"I think he could be a good citizen if he wanted to and he had help," she added.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Kay Bartholomew Memorial Fund, Embury Methodist Church.

Surviving besides her mother are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lutz of Birmingham and Mrs. L. M. Bartholomew of Rochester.

Many people do, although whether this particular Bridie Murphy ever lived outside the dreams of a Colorado housewife under hypnosis is a matter for considerable argument.

MOREY BERNSTEIN, Pueblo businessman, student of psychology and author, insists she did. He said, Bridie will be reborn again next year — in print.

Bernstein, who wrote "The Search for Bridie Murphy" nine years ago, said his new book will prove that Bridie was not a hoax and will supply new evidence for his contention that man's consciousness survives death.

Bernstein's long preoccupation with Bridie began in 1953 when a friend, Mrs. Hugh B. Tighe, showed him a newspaper article that said she had been experimenting with hypnosis for 10 years before that.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the committee his country hopes to include underground nuclear tests in a comprehensive treaty provided that adequate verification and on-site inspection is guaranteed.

He challenged the Russians to spell out what scientific machinery they will accept to assure such verification.

India's Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of Prime Minister Nehru, accused France and the U.S. of threatening the limited test-ban treaty by not signing it.

She asked the U.N. to bring moral pressure on all abstaining countries to sign the pact.

Neither Mrs. Tighe nor Bernstein had been to Ireland. Bernstein said his new book levels — the hoax matter, the so-called scientific charges, the psychiatrists.

She said she's had nothing to do with hypnosis since the experiments with Bernstein during which, armed with a tape recorder, he hypnotized her to see eight times over a period of 11 months. Each time Mrs. Tighe assumed the role of Bridie Murphy.

She and her husband were appalled by the amount of publicity resulting from the book. "It was a real nightmare for a time," Mrs. Tighe said. "I can still get indignant over reports she and Bernstein cooked up the Bridie Murphy thing as a means of making money."

She was paid a small royalty from the book sales, she said.
