Van Horn Guilty— 1st Degree Murder

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

A jury yesterday afternoon found Billy Ray Van Horn guilty of murder in the first degree.

The six women and six men returned to Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty's courtroom around 3:20, after deliberating one hour and 35 minutes, to announce the verdict against the 24-year-old Van Horn.

His attorney, Brakie J. Orr, then asked that the jurors be polled. Clerk Lyle T. Stephenson asked each, "Was that and is that your verdict?" Each replied "yes" as Van Horn stared at them.

Judge Doty announced a May 19 sentencing date. Conviction of first-degree murder in Michigan carries a mandatory life imprisonment without chance for parole.

The Chicago-born Van Horn once admitted his confession and then denied on the stand last week killing Mrs. Hazel Murdock, 39, in the Murdock home at 127 N. Josephine St., Waterford Township.

Her stabbed and strangled body was found by her husband, Drulard B., 55, Jan. 24.

Jury foreman J. Donald Brooks, of 24140 Oneida Dr., Oak Park, said "there was never any doubt about his guilt."

He said the panel, which began deliberating at 1:35, took two ballots—one to find him innocent or guilty, and the second to determine the degree of his guilt.

The verdict brought only slight murmurings from the previously-hushed 70 persons in the courtroom. A row of six relatives of Van Horn's, including his estranged wife, Audrey, 24, sat impassively. Several were red-eyed.

Van Horn, described by the police as a drifter and alcoholic, sat without showing any apparent emotion. His hands were folded as he looked from juror to juror.

Judge Doty commended jurors saying, "That was the only verdict you could find in this case." He also praised Orr, who the court appointed to defend the unemployed Van Horn, for his work in the case.

The verdict yesterday concluded the five-day trial at which Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem marched 45 witnesses to the stand.

Orr's key witness was Van Horn himself. He took the stand last Friday to deny killing the woman, who with her husband, was seeking to curb his excessive drinking.

Hart to Give Speech at Hospital Program

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart will be the featured speaker at the dedication Sunday of the Pontiac General Hospital addition.

Ceremonies, to which more than 4,000 special invitations have been issued, are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. at the new Seminole avenue entrance if weather permits, or within the new lobby if it doesn't.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams and Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the hospital Board of Trustees, are also scheduled to make remarks.

The choice of Hart as speaker is fitting, Hospital Director Carl I. Flath said, because the lieutenant governor helped obtain an $85,000 federal grant to spur construction two years ago.

Invocation will be given by Rev. E. Schroeder, chaplain of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; dedicatory prayer by Dr. William J. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian Church; and benediction by Edward Watkins, chairman of Pontiac General Hospital chaplains.

The general public is urged to attend the ceremonies, Flath said.

In addition, invitations have been sent to thousands of interested citizens and groups throughout the county and southeastern Michigan, he said.

Members of the Pontiac City Commission and administration, the board of trustees and hospital medical staff as well as many of the hospital employes plan to attend, Flath said.

Ike Challenged on World Trade

House Dems Demand Compromise 'or Else' on Reciprocity Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic House leaders called on President Eisenhower today to compromise his demands for reciprocal trade extension or risk utter rout for his trade program in Congress.

In the face of building pressures for erection of high tariff trade barriers, they gave the President until Monday to come up with suggestions which might soften opposition and give his proposals a realistic chance of passage.

Meanwhile the House Ways and Means Committee abruptly suspended further consideration of trade legislation until that time.

The committee, in a surprise action, broke off its efforts a few hours before President Eisenhower appealed last night for Republican congressional support for his trade policies.

While the President's words seemed unlikely to satisfy members of his own party who disagree violently with his proposals, they came at a critical time in the trade battle on Capitol Hill.

Speaking at a dinner for GOP Senate and House members, Eisenhower called world trade an "imperative need" not only in the economic war with Russia but for American industry as well.

He said that while the United States imported 3½ billion dollars of manufactured goods from abroad last year, it was exporting 10½ billion dollars of American-produced goods.

"And we must remember this: America has no monopoly on trade problems. Our friends have problems too. Nor do we have a monopoly on the double-edged game of trade restrictions."

Declaring the nation's trade choice was reciprocity or retaliation, Eisenhower said he chose reciprocity which "has been America's choice for a quarter of a century."

State Board OKs Highway Bonds

Mackie to Meet With New York Buyers Soon; Hopes for Low Interest

LANSING (AP) — A plan to issue 100 million dollars in bonds to speed up state highway construction was over its first hurdle today.

Without discussion, the State Administrative Board yesterday unanimously approved a bonding proposal advanced by highway commissioner, John C. Mackie to finance 245 miles in new road projects, including 180 miles of four-lane expressway work.

The board authorized Mackie to meet with bond buyers in New York May 22. Bids are scheduled to be opened in Lansing May 27.

"We hope to get a rate under three per cent," said Alfred H. Lawrence, highway department finance officer.

Mackie described the bond market as especially favorable at this time, and said the 100 million dollar issue will be the first in a series totaling 400 million dollars sought as a keystone for a $1,250,000,000, five-year construction program.

Thirteen trunk lines would share in the first 100 million dollars. In addition to the 185 miles of four-lane construction 65 miles of two-lane roads are contemplated.

Finance experts pointed out that proceeds of the entire issue would not be needed immediately but the fact that the bonds might be sold for as low as three per cent interest should prompt selling of all the bonds now.

Deputy Highway Commissioner Sidney Woolner said that "the revenue will probably see us through until early in 1960, when we will probably offer additional bonds."

Mental Telepathy Tested

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—Ten British students sat around a musty, spacious room in a centuries-old Cambridge University dormitory and strained to catch the thoughts of Michael Garner in Chicago.

Along with 10 University of Chicago students, the Britons were taking part in a carefully planned attempt to transmit thoughts.

The experiment in mental telepathy was carried out by having one student concentrate for 20 seconds on a card with a simple picture on it while 10 students on the other campus tried to receive his thoughts.

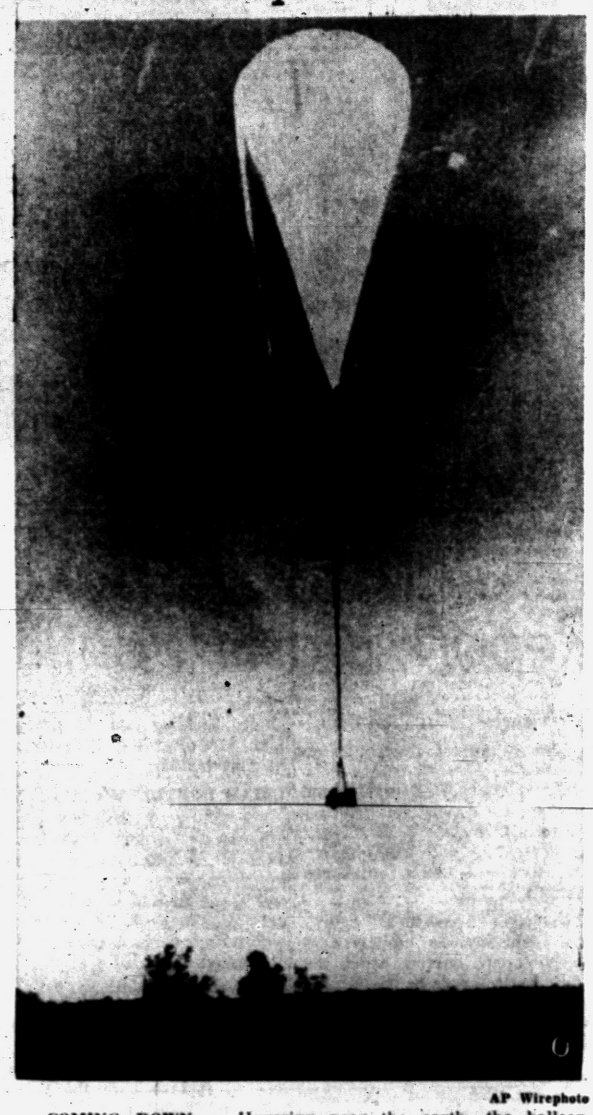

The receivers then guessed at which of five pictures it was and listed their answers.

The answers were mailed to Chicago to be checked. Cambridge will receive a similar set of results from Chicago.

Scientists Soar Nearly 8 Miles

Fatigued Balloonists Safe After Climbing to 40,000

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—An astronomer and a veteran Navy balloonist made a safe, soft landing in Illinois today after a 12-hour ascent to 40,000 feet on an experimental stars and space flight.

Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross, Navy aeronaut, called it the best landing he ever experienced. He said delicate equipment aboard the balloon was undamaged.

In Washington, a Navy medical officer said flight data suggested a possible built-in hazard in a pressure - breathing arrangement which had been designed as a safety factor.

Both Ross and astronomer Alfred H. Mikesell, 44-year-old father of eight children, were fatigued but in high spirits. It was the first ascent for Mikesell, whose specialty is studying the scintillation or twinkling of the stars.

"I am very charmed by this unique method of conducting astronomy," Mikesell had radioed during the flight.

PROVIDES FIRST TEST

The ascent provided the first test of techniques that some day will be used to record men's physical reactions in an orbiting satellite.

Heart beats, respiration and other physical reactions were recorded by radio and piped 1,300 miles by telephone to a naval medical laboratory near Washington, D. C.

Observers described the balloon's return to earth as an expert landing. Ross maneuvered the big bag away from river bluffs and came down about a mile from the Mississippi. The landing site was near US Highway 20 six miles southeast of East Dubuque, Ill.

Between their 7:50 p.m. ascent from an open mine pit near Crosby, Minn. last night and their 7:26 a.m. landing today, the balloonists crossed parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. They were in a small fibreglas basket, open to the air.

Bank Robbery Loot May Total Near $10 Million

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (AP) — The Recorder and Times today reported that loot from a weekend robbery here may total about $10,000,000 — largest in Canadian history.

Officials of Brockville Trust and Savings Co., where the robbery occurred, refused to confirm or deny the figure.

The paper quoted an unidentified "official source" as saying the loot includes almost $7,000,000 in registered securities and stock certificates, $2,250,000 in bearer bonds, $20,000 in cash and checks and an undetermined amount of jewelry.

Blistering Criticism Sent to Commission

Thorough Overhaul and Reorganization Needed, Chicago Experts Say

By HAROLD S. COHEN

A blistering criticism of the operation of the Pontiac Police Dept. was laid before the City Commission last night.

The result of a six-month study by the Public Administration Service of Chicago, the report recommended a thorough overhaul and reorganization.

PAS advised the appointment of a director of public safety, a charter-created position now held by the city manager, for two or three years to supervise the reorganization.

In the study, the Chicago experts found the department "characterized by a lack of pride in service, low 'esprit de corps,' and little public prestige."

They also hit at the Civil Service Act under which the department was placed by the voters last spring and recommended its amendment by the State legislature or replacing it with a locally drafted act to be made part of the city charter.

The report found a "real lack of confidence between the police chief, his command and supervisory officers, and the subordinate personnel of the department."

It also criticized the fact that the chief, under civil service, cannot readily be removed by the city manager.

PAS said the department is split into several "little police departments" operating almost independently of each other.

Other general criticisms included tangled lines of authority, inability of the chief to delegate responsibility, lack of in-service training other than pistol marksmanship, lack of means to evaluate procedure, inefficient use of manpower, poor public relations and lack of uniform methods of gathering crime statistics.

The report said that because the FBI standard reporting system is not used in Pontiac, it is impossible to compare the crime rate or police efficiency with other cities.

But it did call attention to reports that vice is a problem and crime generally prevalent enough "to be the cause of some local concern."

The study makes many detailed recommendations which if adopted, would be so widespread as to in effect create a new department.

It proposes to concentrate major departmental emphasis on the patrol units and a centralized records bureau.

CUT 2 BUREAUS

It would reduce the functions of the present traffic and detective bureaus which, it says, are now separate empires.

Patrol officers would handle all crime reports, traffic mishaps and miscellaneous items.

The traffic bureau would handle parking meter violations and traffic safety, while the detectives would take up only major crimes that require more investigation that the patrolman on the beat could give.

The new plan would abolish foot patrols and motorcycles and inaugurate one-man cars equipped with special communications devices.

It would establish a planning, research and training bureau that would act as a general staff to the chief.

CENTRALIZE FILES

Police Officials in Conference

Join Willman to Study Critical Analysis From Chicago Bureau

City Manager Walter K. Willman summoned top police officials to his City Hall office this morning for a high-level conference on the Public Administration Service survey of Pontiac Police Department operating efficiency and morale.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, closeted in the conference, was not available for comment on the report, which Willman termed "sternly critical," of the department's administration.

The department's detective - inspector and three police captains also attended.

The City Manager and several City Commissioners had strong reactions to the report, although Willman is the only one so far to give it thorough study.

In presenting the report to the Commission last night, Willman said that it hit at organization and management of the department, "particularly in connection with its leadership, diffusion of authority, supervision of activities, and grouping of police functions."

He noted eleven major recommendations contained in the report and placed at the top of his list the appointment of a full-time director of public safety.

Willman has nominally filled this position since 1951, when the former director resigned shortly after Straley was appointed police chief. The position is called for by the City Charter.

"While it is my personal opinion that a better police job has been done than the report would indicate," Willman said, "it is also very evident in the judgment of the Public Administration Service that we are failing to meet satisfactory operating standards.

"As City Manager, I might question portions of the report, but cannot avoid responsibility for the overall situation which has been called to our attention."

CITES GOAL

Willman himself urged last fall that the study be undertaken. He said that the accomplishment of many of the report's recommendations "is certainly the goal to be strived for by the city administration."

Commissioners today said they had not yet had a chance to study the report. But several predicted action would be taken on its recommendations, if acceptable.

"It would probably do more good to adopt the recommendations brought out in the report than go on struggling with the department as we have in the

Calls GOP Election Prospects Bright

Work Will Bring Victory in November — Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says GOP prospects are bright and the party can win, if it works, in the November election.

But he left himself free today to withhold his support from Republicans who do not back his program.

Teeing off the party's 1958 election campaign, Eisenhower said last night that, in a nutshell, the Republican case before America is "responsive, responsible government at home—plus effective support for programs essential to America's peace and security in this gravely menaced world."

His speech over radio and TV was delayed about an hour from the original time announced.

He exhorted Democrats and Republicans alike to line up against what he termed the evil force of tyrannical Communist imperialism and push through Congress his world trade, foreign aid and military reorganization plans.

In a new era of great uneasiness and "balanced terror in the world," he said, "our national survival and human liberty are at stake in the way we form and sustain our national policies."

The approaching decisions on the three key legislative items he named, he said, "demand our attention as Americans, without regard to partisanship" because they are of grave importance to the nation and world peace.

Yet all three are encountering rough going on Capitol Hill—and some members of the President's own party are helping make it rough. Only yesterday a House committee halted work on reciprocal trade extension and called on Eisenhower for a compromise proposal.

At a dinner honoring Republicans in Congress, Eisenhower wound up with this political forecast and promise: "If we will but try — if we will never forget the value of good, hard work—we are certain, with our record, to win next November. This is the sure road to a Republican 86th Congress.

"For myself—you will find me standing beside you and with you. I shall do my best for every member of our Grand Old Party and for all others who with them are carrying forward the never-ending fight for peace, for security, for sound, sane and progressive government in America."

The reference to "all others," a last-minute insert, aroused conjectures that the President might even prefer the candidacy of what he called discerning Democrats to that of undiscerning Republicans. He didn't come out and say as much.

Eisenhower got far more applause as he ran through the objectives of the defense program than when he put on the pressure for trade and aid.

Describing the $3,900,000,000 foreign aid program as a second imperative need, the President said that just as a military service no longer can win major battles by itself, no nation, not even this one, can isolate itself from friends and be secure.

"Therein," he said, "is the whole case for mutual security."

CD Officials Praise Drill

'Attack' Called Heaviest Ever

Begin Task of Adding Up Mythical Casualty Toll Across Nation

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Civil defense forces across the nation today began the task of adding up the mythical death and injury toll from the biggest mock-nuclear attack in the five-year history of Operation Alert.

Millions of Americans theoretically died in the three-hour assault by more than 500 imaginary bombers and a few scattered submarines yesterday.

Uncounted others were marked for death by simulated radiation fallout from 291 bomb blasts swept across the country by prevailing winds today.

Civil defense officials hailed the annual exercise as an apparent success.

"The attack was heavier than ever before, but local and state planning and participation was better than ever too," a spokesman said.

"We've never had such effective simulated evacuations."

Eighty-five key cities undertook hypothetical evacuation. Ten of these, ranking in size from Blytheville, Ark., to Baltimore, Md., reported virtually 100 per cent evacuation.

Half a million civil defense workers took part in the paper test of their ability to cope with an actual attack.

Four million Illinois schoolchildren hurried from classrooms in evacuation drills. Mississippi river boats were tried out at Memphis, Tenn., for use as possible evacuation craft. President Eisenhower rushed to a secret bomb shelter outside Washington.

The test continues through tonight. Most of today's activities will focus on theoretical fallout problems.

Civil defense officials reported mock bombs having the explosive power of as much as 10 million tons of TNT exploded in or near 270 cities and military installations.

The first attack warning came at 10:03 a.m. and the first wave of imaginary bombers roared over the nation's northern borders shortly after noon.

The Ft. Peck dam in Montana crumbled in the blast of the first bomb dropped in the United States.

Fifteen minutes earlier, a submarine lurking off the Pacific Coast theoretically put the Panama Canal out of commission with a pair of intermediate-range missiles that wiped out two locks.

Mythical attacking aircraft also swept in over the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and hit points stretching from Augusta, Maine, to Honolulu, Hawaii and Fairbanks, Alaska.

Air defense forces knocked out 80 imaginary enemy aircraft, but more than 400 others got through.

ARTHUR S. FLEMMING

Will Take Over Folsom's Post

Arthur T. Flemming Named by Ike to Be New Health Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marion Folsom resigned today as secretary of welfare, and President Eisenhower picked Arthur Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, to succeed him.

Folsom, 64, wrote Eisenhower he is leaving the Cabinet for personal reasons which he did not specify. He will step down sometime between July 15 and Aug. 1.

Accepting Folsom's resignation, Eisenhower sent to the Senate a formal nomination of Flemming to be chief of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Flemming, 53, is a former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization and for many years was a member of the Civil Service Commission.

The White House said yesterday that Folsom, former treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Co., who came to the administration in 1955, had informed Eisenhower of a desire to return to private life. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said at that time no letter of resignation had been received from Folsom.

Fleming, 52, is a former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and already has had wide experience elsewhere in government.

He served as a civil service commissioner from 1939 to 1948, when he was elected president of Ohio Wesleyan.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Folsom had informed Eisenhower he wants to return to private life sometime this year.

Folsom, 64, has been welfare secretary since Aug. 1, 1955. He formerly was treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Co.

Report Blasts Pontiac Police or five different bureaus into one master file.

In manpower, PAS recommends boosting the department's personnel to 144, including 22 civilians as compared with the present strength of 115, and an authorized strength of 143.

Excluded from these figures are eight civilian employes of the violations bureau, which the study recommends be transferred to the Municipal Court as has long been requested by the two municipal judges.

Other changes sought would make the vice squad independent of the detective bureau, reporting directly to the chief of police, so as to "pinpoint responsibility" for vice conditions.

A juvenile bureau would be established including the present juvenile officers and policewomen.

The report also takes issue with the present layout of the new Public Safety Building and the proposed plan for operating the city jail in that building.

CALLS FOR RETRAINING

For 113 pages, the study hits at almost every aspect of police work as now conducted by the department and notes that a sweeping and thorough retraining of personnel would have to be undertaken before any reorganization could be attempted.

Its recommendations call for about $22,500 in additional police funds, mainly for special equipment such as a new emergency reporting street communications system to replace both the present police telephones and the familiar red fire alarm boxes.

The report calls for 29 additional persons in the department over present strength. It would abolish the position of inspector when the incumbent retires, add one captain and two lieutenants, abolish five sergeantcies, add seven plainclothesmen and 13 patrolmen plus seven civilians and five cadets.

The grade of detective should be abolished except for the present men in that rank and officers should work in plain clothes or uniform with equal pay, the study said.

Detectives would work alone instead of in teams as now, under the PAS plan.

CUT 2 JOBS

The job of firearms instructor should be abolished and the weights and measures position left to civilians when the present officer retires, PAS urged.

While the report did not once name any individual, it directs its most withering fire on Chief Herbert W. Straley.

It said in part, "it is almost as though an administrative vacuum has been created at the top level, with little effective supervision, direction, leadership, or coordination furnished to the bureau commanders.

"Effective and productive staff relationships . . . are virtually nonexistent . . . these are problems of several years' duration."

Only the juvenile officers received praise — for their operation of an informal police probation program.

The Pontiac Police Officers Assn., frequently at war with the chief, the study found "is neither fully understood nor accepted by the police chief."

However, the report noted that the association which sometimes claims to speak for all personnel has only about 80 per cent membership.

CONSIDERS MORALE

PAS went on to say "in establishing and maintaining morale, the police chief should realize that his men can be led, but should not be driven or intimidated . . .

"Abilities and personalities of individuals, particularly in command or administrative positions, can and do greatly influence morale . . . herein lies Pontiac's principal problems of morale."

It called for "aggressive and imaginative leadership" to correct the basic weakness.

City Manager Walter K. Willman will discuss the report May 15 with the City Commission. He has already indicated he intends to see that the great majority of its recommendations go into effect.

A public hearing is slated for May 27.

Strike Disrupts Building Here

Work on New Homes Stalls as Carpenters Demand Wage Hikes

New home building in the Pontiac area as well as Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties, was partially disrupted at noon today by a carpenters' strike called by the Carpenters Union Council (AFL-CIO), Detroit.

Grady Pinner, business manager of Oakland County Local 998 of the union, said about 500 to 600 of the local's 2,000 members were affected. All are employed on new homes being built by the Builders Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit.

The walkout would affect about 6,000 of the 20,000 carpenters in the metropolitan area, said L. M. Weir, secretary-treasurer of the council.

Negotiations with the builders association, the largest group of its kind in the area, broke off May 2, Weir said.

He said the carpenters, now averaging $3.25 an hour, want a 42-cent package increase over a two-year period. Twenty cents would be effective immediately, with 15 cents more next year. The rest of the increase would be in fringe benefits, such as vacations and paid holidays.

No industrial construction or home repair work would be affected by the strike, Weir said. The union will attempt to sign up individual contractors in Detroit, he added.

Per Unit Profits of Ford and GM Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee today made public per unit profit figures received from the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors for each of the last four years.

Executives of the companies agreed to submit them last January after testifying at the subcommittee's inquiry into automobile pricing practices.

Ford said its average profit per unit, after taxes, was $88 in 1954, $143 in 1955, $85 in 1956 and $84 in 1957.

William T. Gossett, a Ford vice president, said in a letter that these figures related only to the company's domestic car and truck operations and did not include foreign operations or farm equipment business.

The net profit per unit, after taxes, for General Motors was given as $153.52 in 1954, $209 in 1955, $162.40 in 1956 and $150.06 in 1957.

A. F. Power, assistant general counsel for the company, said the figures represented total sales of U. S.-made vehicles to dealers and sales in Canada and overseas.

Detroiter Killed Fighting Police

Probe Death of Berserk Man Who Battled 16 in Arrest Attempt

DETROIT (INS) — The Wayne County prosecutor's office was to question 10 more witnesses today in the death of a 38-year-old Detroit auto worker who died in a fight with 16 policemen.

Lark Jordan, 38, went berserk early yesterday, according to authorities, after he was arrested for breaking windows in the apartment building at 17185 John R where he lived.

The arresting officers said they had to summon help to subdue the man, who was dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital. Twenty witnesses, including the officers involved, made statements yesterday.

Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins, who ordered a full investigation of the fight, said he will await the findings of the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office before deciding whether action should be taken against any of the policemen.

In a preliminary opinion, Deputy Medical Examiner Dr. Robert J. Sillery said death may have been caused by "officers kneeling on Jordan's chest to subdue him, or by the restraining straps they used."

past," said Mayor William W. Donaldson.

"We have the utmost confidence in the agency that conducted the survey. If we don't take the advice contained in its report, it would result in so much money down the drain.

"I want to assure all parties involved that the Commission will give the report a thorough study to see if the city can benefit by its recommendations."

Commissioner Philip E. Rowston believed the report would furnish answers to many of the questions raised in the past concerning operation and management of the department.

"I am certain the Commission will act on its recommendations, if we find they are justified," he said.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles said the report deserves "positive action" after careful study.

"We are not going to dilly-daily around with this question," he emphasized. "The report, at first glance, seems to be a very competent survey with very worthwhile suggestions."

Commissioners John A. Dugan and Wesley J. Wood said they would have to study the report before making any comment. Commissioner Robert A. Landry could not be reached for comment, nor could Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

Henry last night took objection to the Commission's decision that it discuss the report at an informal meeting before airing it in public.

The Commission, however, voted 6-1 to over-ride the objection.

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice announced today 92,000 salaried GM employes invested more than $48,112,000 in 1957 in the corporation's savings-stock purchase program.

Curtice said 83 per cent of the eligible employes are participating in the program that enables employes to save a maximum of 10 per cent of their salaries.

Half of the employes' savings is invested in government bonds and half in GM common stock. The company contributes $1 for each $2 of employe savings.

that reached 76 degrees below zero at the 40,000-foot stage, Mikesell and Ross wore heavy clothing. Above 12,000 feet they breathed oxygen.

Ross reached 84,000 feet last fall in an ascension in a sealed gondola.

TAKEN IN HELICOPTER

On landing, the men were bundled into a waiting helicopter and flown to the Dubuque, Iowa, airport. There they transferred to their tracking plane and flew to Minneapolis.

At the naval laboratory near Washington, Capt. Norman L. Barr, a medical officer, said one of the men had a decrease in the rate of electrical conduction from the top to bottom of his heart.

Barr said this apparently happened about the time an automatic safety device cut in at 37,000 feet to increase pressure inside the men's oxygen masks. If the pressure breathing caused the heart condition, he said, the device will have to be re-evaluated.

Further study of flight records will be needed before definite conclusions are reached, Barr added.

The Navy said the flight was the first of its kind for astronomical and aeromedical observations.

Both men are residents of the Washington area. Mikesell is the first astronomer to observe the heavens from the stratosphere.

The Day in Birmingham

Kindergarten to Enroll Beginning Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM — Kindergarten "round-ups," at which parents may enroll children who will reach school age by the beginning of the fall term, have been announced by the Birmingham Board of Education.

The schedule follows:

Valley Woods School, 2 p.m. May 8; Walnut Lake, 10 a.m. May 14; Franklin, 10:30 a.m. May 16; Bloomfield, 1:30 p.m. May 21; Greenfield, 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. May 23; Torry, 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. May 26, and Harlan School, 7:30 p.m. May 27.

Others are: Midvale, 2 p.m. June 4; Pembroke, 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. June 6; Baldwin, 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. June 10, and Adams, 7:45 p.m. June 12.

The Beverly and Pierce schools already have registered their new pupils.

The registration of kindergartners at this time is necessary in order that the schools can adapt the schedules to fit the predicted enrollments, school officials say.

Thus, changes due to over-crowding can be made during the summer to avoid confusion when the schools open in the fall.

Parents unable to attend the round-up may contact the school board for registration instructions.

TB Challenge Explained Here

Problem to Discover Incipient Cases in Time, Says J. I. Nichols

The challenge in the fight on tuberculosis is to find the incipient cases while they still will be receptive to the proper treatment and before they become a public menace.

Such is the word passed on by J. Irving Nichols, Executive Secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Assn., guest speaker at the annual meeting and dinner of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn. at the Hotel Waldron Tuesday evening.

Executive Secretary Alva R. Musson of the local association reported that returns from the last Christmas seal sale in the county are $57,872.84, coming from 33,415 contributors.

In cooperation with the County Health Department, this largely has been spent in case finding, the results of which prove that tuberculosis is not on the decline in this area. The number of cases reported during the past year shows an increase of 30 per cent over the year before.

Besides case finding, the work of the local association includes health education, rehabilitation, clinical assistance, statistical studies, organization and promotion of facilities and research.

One result of the recent case finding is an indication of the prevalence of tuberculosis among high school students who did not show a positive test at an earlier age, showing that the disease with them is contracted and not hereditary.

Dr. C. P. Mehas, president of the county association presided at the program and urged his listeners not to pay any attention to any new "cures" for tuberculosis. He assured them none of these experimental drugs are being tried out at any sanatoria until they have been proven.

Directors chosen for three year terms are: Joseph C. Austin of Royal Oak, Lee O. Clark of Hazel Park, Edward F. Ferguson of Royal Oak, H. W. Huttenlocher of Clarkston and Larry Jerome of Rochester. Dr. E. W. Deer of Birmingham was named director for two years to succeed Dr. Kenneth Gibson of Birmingham, who resigned.

At the directors meeting Frank Bartlett of South Lyon was chosen president, N. P. Hammelef of Lake Orion, vice president, and Austin, treasurer.

This organization is composed of approximately 600 distinguished American scientists who have made outstanding original contributions to the natural sciences.

Dr. McMath, of Bloomfield Hills, received his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering at the University of Michigan and holds an honorary masters degree from the same school.

He also has honorary doctorate degrees from Wayne State University and Pennsylvania Military College.

He has been director of the area observatory since 1930 when it was founded.

Probe Witness Dies in Capital

New York Publishing House Official Slated to Face Rackets Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sidney Lewis, described as a New York City publishing house official, fell dead of a heart attack in the Senate Office Building today. He was there to testify before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The Capitol police gave his address as 435 W. 23rd St., New York City, but did not disclose the name of his publishing house.

Samuel R. Schneider, a New York attorney who was with Lewis, told reporters Lewis had just entered the investigating committee's headquarters room when he fell to the floor unconscious. He said Lewis had appeared in response to a subpoena and had expected to testify today.

The lawyer said a doctor had stated a heart attack was the cause of death.

Schneider said Lewis' son-in-law, Joel M. Abels, also was present.

Committee aides said Lewis had just entered the outer office of their headquarters suite when he collapsed.

This was just 25 minutes before Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) gaveled the committee's hearing to order in a room two floors above in the Senate Office Building.

Kentucky River on Rampage

Hundreds Fleeing Flood

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Big Sandy River, seven feet above flood stage, covered one-third of this coal mining community today, forcing the evacuation of several hundred families.

Water supplies were cut off temporarily, but National Guardsmen were en route with fresh supplies and food. Main roads leading out of the city were inundated.

Rain continued to fall throughout the area, raising flood warnings at Prestonsburg and small cities below here.

High water also was reported in West Virginia and southwest Virginia. Hardest hit was Coeburn, Va., with further damage being reported in Grundy, Clintwood, St. Paul and near Dungwonnon.

The Tug River was three feet above flood stage at Williamson, W.Va., where businessmen worked through the night moving merchandise to higher ground.

Officials said most of the damage in southwest Virginia appeared over, unless the rain picked up again.

Many families here waded through knee-deep water to higher ground while State Highway Department crews evacuated furniture by boat.

Asst. Fire Chief Jim Blackburn said water was standing eight feet deep in some places.

"It still isn't as bad as last year's flood," he added.

In January, 1957, the Big Sandy reached its highest point in history, 53 feet, and claimed three lives. Damage totaled $30 million in Pike County alone.

At 8:15 a.m. today the river stood at 42.7 feet. It all but isolated the Fire Department, the United Mine Workers Hospital and a number of schools.

It was warmer in some parts of the northern Midwest than in sections of the Southeast.

SEABURY DIES—Samuel Seabury, the driving force in a corruption investigation which led to the resignation of debonair James J. Walker as mayor of New York City, died today. He was 85. As one time judge of the New York State Court of Appeals, Seabury brought considerable prestige to his job as counsel for a legislative committee set up April 30, 1931, to investigate the affairs of Democratic New York City.

Believe Theft of Safe Solved

One Suspect Arrested; Another Sought With Cooperation of FBI

Pontiac police believe they have solved the safe theft from the Banner Linen Co., 366 N. Cass Ave., on May 3 with the arrest of one man and the issuance of a warrant for another.

Eugene F. Genest, 29, of 12 McKinley St., was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and demanded examination.

Another Pontiac man, Cecil B. Warren, 29, same address, believed to have fled the state, is being sought with the cooperation of the FBI.

Thieves took the safe and loaded it into a Banner truck which one of them drove while the other followed in their car.

They drove into a marshy wooded area south of Auburn Heights and hid the safe, intending apparently to return at a later date to open it. It contained about $800 in cash and a number of endorsed checks.

At that point a cruising Bloomfield Township police car approached and they fled on foot when both of their vehicles stuck in the mud.

A cab driver later told police he picked up two men on Woodward near Opdyke and drove them to a Pontiac address. The arrest followed quickly.

A woman who is believed to have helped Warren leave the state was also arrested for investigation, but no warrant has been issued against her to date.

Young Car Thief Poses Puzzle to Law Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County sheriff's deputies are wondering how a young car thief could reach the auto's foot pedals and see through the window at the same time.

The car was taken last night in suburban Groveport and driven about a mile before it ran off Ohio 665 and into the mud. A passer-by grabbed the driver a he hopped from the auto and ran into a field.

The driver, who boasted to deputies, "I stole a truck last week," wouldn't tell them how he was able to drive.

"You see," explained Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Murphy, "he's only7 and he doesn't even come up to my belt buckle."

Ike Declines to Lend His Name to Sales Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has declined to lend his name to a proposed nationwide sales campaign aimed at pumping more consumer dollars into the economy.

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich) suggested in an April 15 letter to Eisenhower that he support a "President's Sale." Chamberlain specifically mentioned automobiles but did not say the campaign should be limited to this field.

In his reply, Eisenhower wrote Chamberlain "I am inclined against giving special endorsement to a particular sales venture." He added he will continue "preaching the general importance of consumer purchasing."

City Planners to Eye Rezoning

Decisions Called for On 5 Proposals, 2 Hearings by Special Board

The City Planning Commission will be asked for a recommendation tonight on a proposal to rezone residential property on East boulevard to a manufacturing classification to conform with its present usage by a lumber yard.

The property is at 248 N. East Blvd. and has been occupied for more than 20 years by the Used Lumber Co. on a non-conforming basis.

The firm is now asking that its property be rezoned. The proposal was first made to the City Commission, which passed it along to the planning board for study.

Planners have four other proposals before them and two public hearings.

Up for discussion is the proposed rezoning of two lots on the north side of W. Huron street between Thorpe and Lincoln avenues from residential to professional service. A physician's clinic is planned there.

Also to be considered is the rezoning of five lots on the north side of E. Walton boulevard west of University avenue from residential to commercial and the vacating of the alley between 21 and 31 Sheridan street.

Hearings will be held on the reclassification of two trailer camps to a new zoning classification. Board members will be asked first to approve creation of the new classification.

Hit-Run Driver Here Put on Probation

George Wooten, 40-year-old Pontiac factory worker who was charged with fleeing a traffic accident from which a woman died later, received a three years probation sentence and was assessed $150 costs.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland also suspended a 90-day jail sentence for Wooten, of 249 Harrison Ave. He warned him he could not drive during his probationary period.

Wooten pleaded guilty April 3 to leaving the scene of an accident in Pontiac last January which resulted in the death several days later of Mrs. Annie Gilmore, 67, of 456 Harvey St.

Most Highway Deaths Occur in Darkness

From National Safety Council

The major traffic hazards in Alaska are dog teams, moose and long hours of darkness.

Few U. S. motorists have run into dog teams or moose lately. But darkness certainly is one of their major driving problems, according to the National Safety Council.

Darkness doesn't mean "pitch blackess." It also includes the "twilight hours" — 4-8 p.m.

Consider these facts:

1. Three times as many motorists and pedestrians lose their lives at night in auto accidents as during the day.

2. Nearly 3 out of 10 auto accidents occur from 4 - 8 p.m. One out of four fatal auto accidents occurs then, too.

3. In summer months, especially, the succeeding four hours — 8 p.m. to midnight — are almost equally as hazardous as the twilight hours. About 1 out of every 5 auto deaths charged against U. S. motorists occurs then, the Council says.

Why is darkness such a danger? For several reasons, the Council points out. Such as:

1. Drivers are tired after a hard day. A trip is a pretty tiring ordeal, even when it's not preceded by eight hours of work.

2. Motorists probably are more inclined to doze at the wheel at night. About 1,850 motorists killed in traffic accidents in 1956 were said to have fallen asleep at the wheel. An estimated 270,000 dozing motorists were involved in that year's traffic accidents.

3. It's harder for most motorists to see at night, and some of them just don't seem to realize it. Too, headlights of approaching cars make night driving difficult for many persons.

4. At night it's hard to spot hazards ahead — sudden twists in the road, wandering animals, a motorist tinkering with his stalled auto.

5. Perhaps most dangerous of the night-time hazards are improper headlights and overdriving your lights.

Overdriving your lights? That means this: At a speed of 60 m.p.h., it takes at least 366 feet to stop a car. The Uniform Vehicle Code recommends that an auto's bright lights be capable of illuminating an object 350 feet away. Which means if you're driving 60 and see a stalled auto ahead, you probably can't possibly stop before reaching it.

The solution to preventing deaths during darkness?

1. Make sure your car lights are properly adjusted. Clean the lenses before driving.

2. Keep your windshield clean, too. It will help reduce fatigue and eyestrain.

3. Slow down when the sun's down.

4. Dim your lights to approaching cars, even if they don't dim theirs. And dim when following a car.

5. Stop periodically on trips for a break.

"It's true that in America we don't have dog teams or moose to contend with," the Council says. "But it still takes a lot of extra effort by motorists to make night driving safe."

Industrial Physician Says:

No 'Executive Disease'

HANOVER, N.H. (INS)—An industrial physician said today the harassed, pill-swallowing company executive who is a mass of nerves and assorted neuroses just doesn't exist.

Dr. Theodore E. Allen, calling "executive disease" a myth, said:

"On the contrary, successful business executives live longer than most other working people."

In a speech prepared for delivery before Dartmouth College's Amos Tuck School of Business Administration, the associate medical director of Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc. claimed the myth of management neurosis has been dreamed up by writers.

According to these authors, Dr. Allen explained, the day you become an executive you abdicate your right to pursue happiness, and "undertake an assignment that bodes only misfortune — physical, mental and marital." He added:

"The medical profession does not subscribe to the ideas about executive health currently being circulated for popular consumption.

"There is no evidence to show that executives . . . are any less healthy than employes in comparable age groups. Indeed, we have every reason to believe that executives thrive on their responsibilities, and derive tremendous satisfaction — fun, that is — from their work."

Dr. Allen said that if these stories about executive ill-health were only partially true, he would urge students to go out and find such "tranquil" jobs as experimental jet pilots or movie stunt men instead of heading for business.

According to the physician, the busy American executive is no more subject to heart attacks, ulcers and anxiety neurosis than the office clerk or day laborer.

Rebel Defeat Means a Pro-Red Indonesia

Although the revolt in Sumatra has not yet been quelled, there isn't much question but that President SUKARNO is the winner.

Ever since Indonesia, with our backing, won its independence from The Netherlands in 1949, SUKARNO has been flirting with the Communist party in his country. It claims to have a million card-carrying members, mostly in populous Java, and in the 1955 elections the Reds came in fourth with six million votes.

In 1957 after a visit to Moscow, Sukarno conceived his idea of a "guided economy" and gave the Communist party a bigger part in government. Vice President Hatta, leader of the Conservatives, foresaw and protested the danger in this move and later resigned. The only hope now is to keep Communists from full control of Indonesia's government.

President SUKARNO has made it quite clear that he thinks socialism, by that he means Communism, is the dominant political force in the world today and that capitalism is on the way out. Recently in Jakarta he declared that:

"Only those blind to history cannot see the new era coming. People living in 13 socialist nations total one-third of the human race. Add to this the people of the new Asian and African nations and those still fighting for independence and you have a total of 2.4 billion. Isn't this an indication of the times? Those who oppose the trend of the times will be destroyed."

In this struggle the United States has had to stand by and see defeated, elements friendly to the free world. SUKARNO, wrongly of course, accused us of helping the rebels while at the same time Russia has been aiding him in every conceivable way. Red China's state owned air fleet has landing rights at Jakarta which means that military advisers, "technicians" and others from Communist countries can fly directly to Indonesia on an all Communist airline.

Stretching for 3,000 miles from the Indian Ocean to the Pacific, the islands of Indonesia hold a strategic position in Southeast Asia and present another grave danger to the free world. The question now is what can be done about it.

Spring Means Much More to Us

The coming of spring weather means much more to the residents of the Pontiac area than to most sections of our nation.

Nature has provided us with a background in which this season can display its attractions to better advantage than in many other areas.

Our numerous lakes, hills, valleys and the general rolling contour of our landscapes supply the groundwork for the creation of magnificent vistas.

With all the glory at its command spring can do little in enhancing the beauty of any area that does not provide the foundation on which these glories can be displayed.

Nature has provided us with that foundation.

A dull, dismal and otherwise unattractive setting, whether it is urban or rural, cannot be made as livable and attractive, even by the splendor and brilliancy that spring lavishes upon it, as we are privileged to enjoy in the Pontiac area at this season.

Hence, we fortunate people should pause and reflect upon the blessings bestowed upon us, and do our share to merit such a condition. Untold millions would gladly change places with us. They were not so lucky.

Other untold millionsk now nothing about such surroundings, but live their lives in a sodden and blue and low-spirited atmosphere which they take for granted, just as many of us take our exceptionally fortunate and exhiliarating and health promoting surroundings for granted.

Waking up to what we have with us will convince you that it's great to be living in the Pontiac area in the spring.

The Man About Town

Our Wildflowers

Now Greeting Us; but They Are for Our Viewing Only

Weather: One of the numerous things that never suits everybody.

Wildflowers are just coming into bloom in the woods, hedgerows and uncultivated fields in the Pontiac area. And again they are in peril. The snowdrops and violets were first to herald spring, trilliums are approaching their best, and will be followed by the mandrake and others. Dogwood trees will soon be in bloom. In this connection, of Keego Harbor, writes me a letter, and I have received phone calls from several others. They all urge attention to the fact that it now is unlawful to pick wildflowers. This applies to private property and also to roadsides and other public property.

Mrs. Wilbur Heittman

Such a law was enacted to save our wildflowers from extinction. It came too late to save that wild orchid, the lady slipper, now found in only one or two spots in Oakland County. The jack-in-the-pulpit went the same way. Our wildflowers are beautiful to look upon, but must be saved for future years.

A former resident of Pontiac was

of Flint, aged 42, who drowned Saturday in a lake in Iosco County.

The same two robins have nested for several years under the eaves of the garage of

Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy Florsheim

at Pontiac Lake. They know it is the same pair because one has only one foot, and other a crooked leg.

Now there's another AAA in motoring: the slogan

"Alertness Avoids Accidents."

The pet crow at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Garlow

of Auburn Heights has brought in some silver spoons with the initials "J. Z." on them. The Garlows can learn of nobody with those initials. Have you lost any silverware?

Double blossoms are quite common on tulips, but

of Keego Harbor has four stalks growing from one bulb.

While the family was away for the weekend, a pair of robins built a nest in the mail box of

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Arthmore of Williams Lake, who now have put up another box.

There is considerable conjecture about the size of Apple Island in Orchard Lake, where Chief Pontiac held his war councils. I am informed by

Supervisor Hiland M. Thatcher

of West Bloomfield Township that it is assessed at 37.88 acres, its present owner being

Mrs. Marjorie Strong

who lives on Pontiac Trail just south of the lake.

Spending Shift Worries Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The change in the spending habits of a lot of Americans has many businessmen worried today. Their worry is backed u p in many instances by a drop in sales and in profits.

A swing one way or the other in spending and saving habits is nothing new. They doubtless will change again. But several new factors have entered the scene and only some of them can be laid to the recession itself. Most of them don't involve any lack of confidence in the nation's economy at all.

Government figures show that Americans are still spending heavily. Consumer outlay for consumption in the early months of this year is put at an annual rate of 281 billion dollars and that is more than four billion dollars higher than in the like 1957 period.

Latest figures of the Securities and Exchange Commission are for the year 1957, showing that Americans socked away in one form or another almost 16 ½billion dollars, the highest amount for any year since World War II. Their total holdings less debt gives them a net equity of a record 141¾ billion dollars.

Various forms of savings—bank accounts, savings and loan associations, insurance sales—indicate that savings are still mounting.

But the SEC includes as savings the payment of debt. The figures show that for some time now Americans have been paying off old debts at a greater rate than they have been taking on new ones. Since debt items usually cover such big things as homes, autos and household appliances, the industries supplying these are among those hurt most by the slump.

The many service industries, and most of the soft goods industries, are doing as well as ever. Some expect to do even better this year.

Item: Travel. Advance sales and bookings indicate more Americans than ever are going to Europe this year. Item: Utilities. Power running the household gadgets is flowing at a rate to give most companies higher sales. Item: Cameras. Sales of these and other things that strike the American fancy, like phonograph records, are higher this year.

Item: Food. Grocers report there's no letup in the purchases of the choicest meat cuts an the convenience foods, prepared or packaged.

Some of the savings are being earmarked for future spending and not for scare hoarding at all.

Many Americans increased the size of their families during the 1940s. These children are making their painful way through the schools headed for college.

It could be possible that some persons aren't buying a new car this year because Junior is studying for college entrance exams. And going to college gets steadily more expensive, as family budget makers are well aware.

Others may have gone without some big expenditure on durable goods to make that trip to Europe.

And most persons have higher prices to pay on what they do buy, and many have larger families to feed, clothe, school, and send to the doctor and dentist.

Lack of confidence? More likely other things and more expensive things to spend on—and in an unfortunate number of cases less income to spend.

Smiles

An Indiana judge sent a man to jail for being habitually lazy. Come summer, they'd better make the jails larger.

Some people search all over for happiness while others find it easily by raising a flock of children.

The Country Parson

"When a fellow loses his religion or his hair, the only thing he can replace them with is artificial."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Dentist Lauds My 'Efforts' —but With Reservations!

In a letter to a newspaper, not to me, a Michigan dentist says:

"Although we dentists applaud Dr. Brady's efforts to get people to have their teeth checked regularly . . ."

Checked, my eye.

" . . . we are always sorry to see him undo this good work consistently with misleading statements . . .

DR. BRADY

"The toothbrush is not a useless device as Dr. Brady implies. Sensibles use of the toothbrush helps oral hygiene in many wasy. Even primitive people recognized this. They used frayed stems and grasses as their toothbrush."

You know, I've listened and listened and I have never heard any applause by Michigan dentists, or for that matter, by dentists anywhere.

This yarn about the primitive people using stems and grasses is typical of the thinking of old-time dental practitioners—if you can call it thinking. Even if this dentist could find somewhere a primitive person using stems or grasses as simple souls in Yankeeland use the toothbrush, what would it prove?

USE WATER, TOOTHPICK

If you want to remove food debris of food particles from your teeth, swish 'em with plain soap and water or just water if you are finicky about the taste of soap, and use a flat white birch toothpick to remove particles that are lodged between the teeth. No amount of tooth brushing with glorified soap in a fancy container can clean them better.

If you want to save your teeth from decay there's only one way to do it: Visit your dentist at such intervals as he or she suggests, for inspection, cleaning (prophylaxis), which may include scaling and polishing, and filling or other treatment of whatever scaling and polishing, and filling or other treatment of whatever little cavities the dentist finds.

This is absolutely essential, no matter how much or how little you brush your teeth.

It is notorious that Americans and Englishmen are the greatest toothbrushers in the world and have the worst teeth in the world, whereas the people of Tristan da Cunha, at least prior to 1349, had no use for toothbrushes or dentifrices and had the finest teeth in the world.

Mind, now, children, I do not say it does any great harm to brush the teeth every day. I merely say no amount of toothbrushing can save teeth from decay. Only regular inspection and treatment by your dentist can save the teeth.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Can Road Commissioner Void Original Contract?'

When is a contract not a contract? Some years ago the State Road Commission entered into a solemn contract with the Oakland County Road Commission to complete Northwestern Highway as per original plans and route. $25 million worth of bonds were sold on that basis, money's in the bank and interest is being paid on it. Federal money's available to supplement this fund.

The Governor and others accuse everyone of doing nothing to provide work yet here's a job that could be started immediately. In spite of all this, State Road Commissioner Mackie says he isn't going to build Northwestern but will use the $25 million to build another road in a different route. As far as I've been able to find out no one wants this new road and many are against it being built.

Can't something be done to force Mr. Mackie to carry out his duty according to the contract?

And One Britisher Says to Another . . .

What is Visiting Britisher over here for — a fault-finding expedition? Or is it just a plain case of sour grapes. At least that's what it looks like to me.

And I'm sure that the Canadians, Brazilians, Mexicans and Argentines are all very happy being distinguished under their own flag, and Americans are quite proud of being Americans.

They aren't the least bit worried about who's bowing and scraping to whom everywhere, every place, all the time.

Postal Clerk Union Criticizes Chamber

U.S. Chamber of Commerce is playing fast and loose with government statistics in an effort to deny postal workers an honest day's pay. Clerks here are protesting to their congressmen against a continuing campaign by the chamber artfully designed to persuade the public that pending pay raises are excessive and that postal salaries are better than average.

A series of comparisons published in recent issues of the chamber's newsletter was deceitful because they compared skilled postal clerk pay averages with overall industrial averages that include unskilled pay rates; they conveniently overlook the fact that wages of private industry have increased more than twice as much as postal workers' since 1939; they attempt to picture federal retirement benefits, for which employes pay half through payroll deductions, as excessively valuable while ignoring the government's lack of hospitalization and medical benefits which are available in most major industries.

The local has no quarrel with the chamber's right to its own economic views, however ancient they may be, but with distortions and omissions designed to set up postal workers as scarecrows in the fields of simple economics. Continuing tirades against decent wage increases are the most reckless kind of short-sightedness at this stage of the recession.

'There's Little Hope for Detroit Tigers'

The Tigers are headed for seventh place permanently. (When the season ends, no one will be able to get as low as Washington.) The Tiger management signs all players other teams discard. When they get too weak for the balance of the clubs, the Tigers grab 'em.

Look at the list of cast-offs: Harris, Zernial, Taylor, Skizas, M. Bolling, Groth, Lau, McDermott, Sleater, Morgan, Aguirre and a few more. This means more than half the Detroit squad is a bunch of dismal failures that batted from .175 to .215 for other teams and so were turned adrift.

Never mind their morning glory averages today. Water seeks its own level and I predict the Tigers will finish seventh and these palookas will all be batting their usual .207 come Labor Day.

The former Tiger management went out and got real ball players and not just has-beens and those that "never was." It's a sorry collection of punks and as I write, they're down to two games from the bottom and gaining rapidly on the cellar. Even Washington may keep ahead of these dismal dipsydoers, especially if the current management grabs a few more of the culls.

As I write, Harris is "leading the team." Why that monkey can't hit .200 for the season. And Zernial and Taylor are the slowest moving mortals since Oscar Strange surrendered. Both of them should be in the Smithsonian Institute.

I read this in a New York paper and have adopted it as my private motto. The man of my dreams must fulfill the following complete alphabet applications before he is eligible husband material: He must be Amorous, Brave, Courteous, Distinguished, Elegant, Fond, Gay, Honorable, Illustrious, Judicious, Kind, Loyal, Manly, Noble, Open, Perky, Quickwitted, Rich, Sublime, Tender, Understanding, Vivacious, Wise, a Xylophonist, Youthful and Zealous. Laking just one of these traits just automatically disqualifies you. How many of you males can qualify?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Smoking and Driving Bad Mixers

Hal is a state policeman who points out the fact that cigarettes are now causing many deaths on the automobile highways. In the single case he cites today, one cigarette wiped out five lives and smashed two automobiles! So heed the wise advice of the American Medical Association. God expects you to use your brain in safeguarding your health.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y — 303: Hal T., aged 35, is a state policeman who patrols the auto highways.

"Dr. Crane, I notice that you have warned teen-agers against mixing alcohol with gasoline," he began.

DR. CRANE

"And we state police see thousands of evidences of drunken driving. In fact, the carnage on the highways is appalling.

"But I had a recent case where cigaret smoking cost the lives of five people in two cars.

"The driver of the first car was whizzing along at about 75 miles per hour. Then he deided he wanted a cigaret.

"So he put one in his mouth. For just a moment he took both hands off the steering wheel to cup a match to his cigaret.

"And in that brief interval, his left front tire blew out. Since he didn't have even one hand on the wheel, his car veered into the left lane and struck an oncoming automobile.

"Five people were thus killed because of that one cigaret!"

NEW AUTO HAZARDS

Many states have posted warning signs urging auto drivers to refrain from using liquor.

But thus far they have ignored the hazard of smoking at the steering wheel.

Officer Hal has wisely brought it to the forefront. Most of you readers have doubtless seen motorists take one or even both hands off the wheel to light a cigaret or flick off the ashes.

Many times, too, the driver then tosses the cigaret or cigar out the window so it may start fires that consume the farmers' wheat fields or corn, rye and ripe soy bean harvests.

Our forest fires, too, are shocking, yet many of them are started by smokers.

Last year, for example, forest fires destroyed a wooded area that was equivalent to Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, combined!

It takes at least 50 to 100 years for such trees to reach maturity, so cigaret fires helped ruin the lumber in forests totaling three entire states.

And that wholesale burning of our natural timber resources, is the rule, not the exception.

Moreover, a recent annual death toll showed 242,000 Americans died of cancer of all types, but 810,000 died of heart trouble and vascular ailments.

Smoking is admitted by the American Medical Association to be a grave cause of cancer and probably the Number One factor in heart disease.

The average cigaret smoker now burns up over $100 per year on the ends of his cigarets.

If husband and wife both smoke, they burn up over $200 per year. Think how much wholesome, all-family recreation that could finance as movie dates, picnics, ball games, or summer vacations at the beach!

Medical researchers recently estimated that a heavy cigaret smoker shortens his life by 6 to 8 years. Let's be conservative and take 5 years.

If you earn an average of $4,000 per year, then you also set fire to $20,000 in income by shortening your productive lifespan by those five years!

The cost of your cigarets thus zooms from $100 annually, to $500 ($20,000 divided by 50 years). Be smart and heed the warning of the A. M. A.

Accuse Widow of 6 Murders

Charge Poisonings of 2 Husbands, Daughter, Mother-In-Law

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A young widow faced murder charges today in the arsenic poisonings of her 9-year-old daughter, two husbands and a mother-in-law over a six-year period.

Mrs. Anjette Donovan Lyles, 32, was arrested in a hospital room yesterday and placed under guard. She reportedly has been hospitalizd since shortly after her daughter Marcia Elaine Lyles, died April 5.

Sheriff James I. Wood said the county physician will examine Mrs. Lyles and confer with other doctors to determine whether she can be moved to the county jail.

Through her attorney, Mrs. Lyles said, "I have committed no crime."

In addition to the death of her daughter, Mrs. Lyles is accused of murdering her first husband, Ben F. Lyles Jr., Jan. 25, 1952; her second husband, Joe Neal Gabbert, Dec. 2, 1955; and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ben F. Lyles Sr., Sept. 29, 1957.

The warrants were obtained by Coroner L. H. Chapman, who said tests by the state crime laboratory showed arsenic poison in the bodies of all four victims.

Durables Inventories Decline in March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inventories of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers declined in March, the Commerce Department reported. All of the drop was registered by durable goods.

Sales of manufacturers and wholesalers decreased slightly between February and March, after adjustment for seasonal factors, while those of retailers were unchanged.

The report said total inventories, seasonally adjusted, dropped to 88½ billion dollars in March from $89,300,000,000 a month earlier.

Retail sales held steady at $16,100,000,000. Manufacturers' sales dropped 400 million dollars to about 25¼ billions while those of wholesalers fell 200 millions to about 10¼ billions.

Air Force Might Issue Mechanics Megaphones

WASHINGTON (AP) The Air Force, after extensive research, confirmed today what every cheerleader knows—that a megaphone is a big help in a big noise.

The study was undertaken to determine scientifically if a megaphone could be a solution to this vexing problem:

How to make important messages understood, without shouting, in the vicinity of jet aircraft or other loud noises.

Researchers, reporting on elaborate tests involving a high-fidelity tape recorder, a microphone and jet noises, presented this conclusion to the American Acoustical Society: "A small megaphone (strapped to the mouth) would be a very cheap and handy aid to communicating by speech in noisy places."

Can We Presently Afford Disarmament Pact?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is one of the most gruesome questions in the cold war:

Could this country, now in recession, afford a big cut in defense spending even if it could reach a disarmament agreement with the Soviet Union tomorrow?

Over the past five years this country has spent around 200 billion dollars for defense, a rate of 40 billions a year.

And this year President Eisenhower is asking for another 40 billions. That means a lot of jobs for workers and a lot of money for American business.

Eisenhower didn't ask this direct question in two talks yesterday: to the Republican members of Congress and to an Advertising Council Conference.

But he raised it obliquely by asking what would happen if the foreign aid program alone — for which he's asking about four billions — were stopped or deeply cut.

The foreign aid program, more recently called mutual security, has cost 60 billions since World War II.

It includes arms and military equipment for Allies, plus economic help for them and other friendly countries. On this foreign aid alone Eisenhower said: "I remind everyone that 80 cents out of every dollar that we spend for mutual aid does not go to foreign lands. It goes to work right here at home. That means hundreds of thousands of jobs for American workers.

"It means large outlays for American machinery, iron and steel, farm goods, chemicals and motor vehicles."

Then, pointing out mutual aid helps American security besides helping the economic development of the non-Communist world, he said: "Now, stating these same results, in a converse way, and in the form of a question:

"What would it mean to us, aside from the loss of thousands of jobs, if this program were stopped or sharply reduced?"

He might have gone further and asked:

If thousands would be thrown out of work by ending or drastically cutting a program so comparatively small as foreign aid, what would happen if the defense program were cut from 40 billion dollars to say 10 billions?

Eisenhower did try to envision what might have been done with the 200 billions spent over the past five years for defense—if we hadn't had to spend it for that purpose.

He conjured up a picture of "all our schools built, all of our roads built and all our hospitals built that we would need for the next 10 years with everyone of them splendidly equipped."

A nice picture. But it doesn't explain what would happen to the American economy if the 40 billion—because of a disarmament agreement — were suddenly chopped in half or less.

And it's not a realistic picture that Eisenhower painted.

Before Congress would spend 200 billions, or close to it, for the hospitals, schools and roads Eisenhower dreamed of, the legislators first would have to undergo a profound change or be shocked into it by a catastrophic economic collapse.

Just one example will illustrate the point: Eisenhower himself has been talking of federal aid to schools for years, a major program of school building.

And Congress still hasn't spent a dime on such a program and it won't this year either.

In short: we're not living in a natural economy. We're living in a cold war economy. Even with all the defense spending we have a recession. It remains to be seen how we would make out if there were no cold war.

Start Remodeling Plans for Waterford Center

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary has started plans for a remodeling project in the Community Activities Center with proceeds of a recent bake sale.

An upstairs room in the building will have new draperies, made by the women and kitchenette facilities will be available. New tile will be installed and the walls completely redecorated.

The room will be available for public use for meetings, small wedding receptions, teas and card parties, for a small rental fee.

Cannon Challenges Vinson

House Dems Lock Horns Over Ike Pentagon Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats weighed chances of a compromise today as two of their senior colleagues battled over President Eisenhower's reorganization plan.

Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) challenged yesterday the opposition of Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga) and some other Democrats to Eisenhower's proposals for strengthening the role of the defense secretary and streamlining military commands within the department.

In a House speech marking the first major Democratic support of Eisenhower's plan, Cannon called for "an end to this insane bickering between the services and (saving of) billions of wastage."

Citing Eisenhower's record as a military leader, he said nobody had better "training, experience and capacity" than Eisenhower to recommend a reorganization plan.

Cannon, a 36-year House veteran and chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee, took a verbal poke at Vinson, eight years his senior in congressional service and chairman of the Armed Services Committee, which is considring the President's bill.

Without naming Vinson, Cannon quoted some of the Georgian's warnings against the possibility of a "man on horseback" and asked, "How silly can they get?"

Vinson refused—for the present—to continue the argument.

The committee has started writing a reorganization measure as a substitute both for the President's and for one by Vinson and others which would whittle down the Defense Department.

Indications are that the compromise will include some of the specific changes which administration witnesses have said are needed in the purely military sphere, but deny what committee members have called sweeping grants of power that would cut into Congress' control of the administration of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

Flu Shots Effective '40 to 65 Per Cent'

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Johns Hopkins University professor said last night that preliminary findings show vaccination for Asian influenza to be 40 to 65 per cent effective in a large field study made last fall.

The project invoving approximately 3,000 persons was described as the largest controlled field study of the flu vaccine ever made on a so-called open population. Studies elsewhere have been with special groups such as students or institutional inmates.

Dr. Raymond Seltser, assistant professor of epidemiology in the Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health emphasized that his report offered only an initial analysis of data and many months of work are needed for a complete evaluation.

Solons to Probe Alleged Swindle

Employers Say They Were Made to Buy Ads in Union Publications

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probers called for testimony today on an alleged swindle of New York employers through sale of advertisements in a union-sponsored publication.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee used the terms swindling and extortion yesterday in referring to a similar practice in Pennsylvania. Employer witnesses from the Philadelphia area said they were asked to buy advertisements to show friendliness to labor unions.

The ads were sold in yearbook-type publications sponsored by the New York and Pennsylvania state federations of labor, but handled for the groups by Benjamin Lapensohn, a former official of Philadelphia Local 107 of the Teamsters Union.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the committee has evidence of "considerable misappropriation of funds that should have gone to the New York federation," but which he said were pocketed secretly by some individuals.

The committee heard testimony that advertisers in the Pennsylvania Federationist paid $792,329 for advertisements, of which the state federation netted $245,627 over a nine-year period.

Disputed Transfusion Boosts Ailing Baby

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—An infant, given a blood transfusion ordered by the court over the religious objections of his parents, was reported in satisfactory condition in a hospital today.

The 6-day-old son of Willard and Darleen Siems, members of Jehovah's Witnesses, was given the transfusion Sunday. Doctors had said the infant was born with a blood condition which could cause death or permanent brain damage.

The doctors told the Siems couple an immediate blood transfusion was necessary but they refused to grant permission, contending it violated God's law.

County Judge Charles G. Seidel granted permission for the operation after the physicians said the boy's blood was deteriorating to a critical point.

New York City's public library system contains about 25 million books.

Carroll Arimond Writes for Hal Boyle:

Juvenile Delinquent Really Nothing New

CHICAGO (AP)—The high school class of 1927 reassembled in Milwaukee the other night to count gray hairs, compare waistlines and exchange lies such as, "You haven't changed a bit."

Reunions are good ideas for less obvious reasons. They help keep today's headlines in perspective. On occasion they must make social scientists feel unsocial, unscientific or both.

Teen-agers of 1927, as today, bedeviled and bewildered their elders who cluck-clucked at their behavior and forecast they'd never amount to much. They weren't called fancy names like juvenile delinquents or miscreants. They were just hell raisers.

We all raised our share of it in varying degrees. The biggest shareholder of the class of 1927 was Ben who practiced his devilry right into graduation night.

Ben planted an alarm clock inside the grand piano in the school auditorium. No wartime submarine commander ever set a torpedo time fuse more accurately. Just as our distinguished speaker was sending us out into the cruel world on a string of platitudes, the clock sang out with its best dollar chime.

Later, when Ben served as a missionary on an Indian reservation in South Dakota, some of us observed that the Custer massacre finally was being avenged.

And what is Ben doing now: Benjamin V. Delahunt is making a nice serene living selling Bibles.

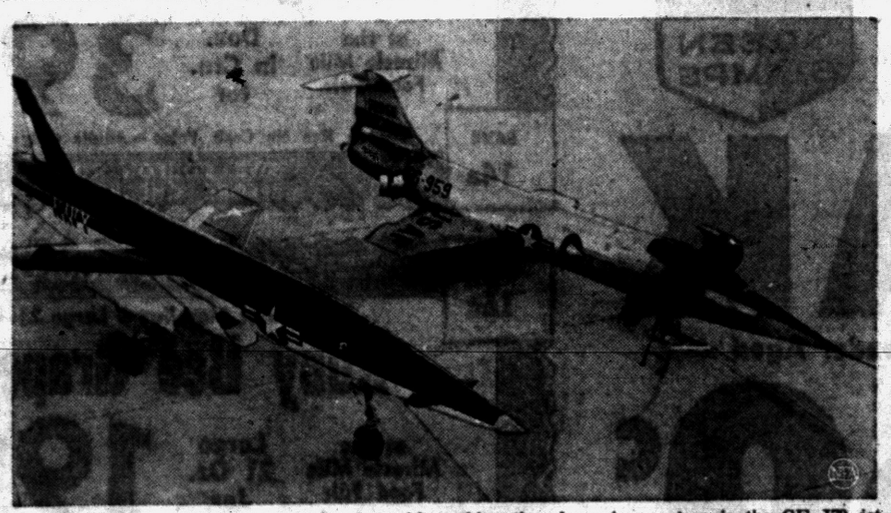

Our reunion speaker — that is, the only one accorded a modicum of silence—was Red, a name that hangs on although gray has replaced most of the auburn of his thatch.

And what is Red doing now: the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S.J., is the president of Marquette University, the argest Catholic university in the United States, if not the world.

And what am I doing? I'm yawning over today's paper with those black headlines over stories about our awful teen-agrs, and writing:

"Don't count these kids out yet. Give 'em at least until 1989."

LOOK-ALIKES — Similar appearing but with different roles are the Navy's Regulus II surface-to-surface missile, left, and the Air Force's F-104A Starfighter interceptor, right, commonly called the "missile with the man in it." One thing they have in common is the GE J79 jet engine in the 15,000-pound thrust class. The missile and plane are shown at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

Pontiac City Affairs

Hearings Held on Improvements

City Commissioners last night whipped through public hearings on assessment rolls for six improvements with a brief discussion on policy concerning financing of state trunkline projects.

Questioned were special assessments to be levied for the widening and repaving of Opdyke road (M24) from Walton boulevard to Square Lake road.

It is planned that the city's $22,000 share of the $160,000 State Highway Department project would be split by property owners and the city, with $21,696 from assessments and $303 from city funds.

District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood suggested tentatively that the whole cost should be paid out of city funds.

"I wonder just what percentage of benefit the property owners along Opdyke will get from the improvement they're paying for," Wood said. "After all, this is a state highway in use by hundreds of drivers every day."

Questioned as to the city's policy, City Manager Walter K. Willman said that since he has held his job here, state highway improvements were treated as any other.

"For example," Willman said, "Baldwin avenue, I believe, carries more traffic than Opdyke. It is not a state highway, however, so there is no question that property owners along it should be assessed for improvement. The same holds true for Elizabeth Lake road, East boulevard and other heavily-traveled streets that are not trunklines."

The Opdyke assessment roll was approved, as were rolls for paving on Taylor street, Oak Hill to Ellwood, and four new sidewalks, including: west side of Seminole avenue, Menominee to Algonquin; east side of Joslyn avenue extension, Perry to Linda Vista; east side of Blaine street, from High street about 500 feet south; and in front of three lots on the east side of N. Jessie street.

106 Aboard Plane Forced to Turn Back

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A New York bound Eastern Airlines plane with 106 persons aboard turned back to Miami International Airport yesterday with one engine dead, then had a brake failure which sent it off the end of a runway.

There were no injuries among the 101 passengers and five crew members. The plane would have continued to Boston from New York.

The four-engine DC6 returned 45 minutes after takeoff. No panic was reported among passengers, who continued their trips on later flights.

Bob Considine Says:

Admiral Agrees Submarines Rank Tops

NEW YORK (INS) — A dip into the grab (mail) bag:

"You hit the nail on the head with that prediction about the future of the submarine," writes a retired admiral so well known I'd better not mention his name.

"The Navy has been calling the supercarrier business the 'fleet elite,' but the submariners should be carrying that banner from now on. Once the Tail Hook Club, the ruthless supercarrier advocates are put in their place, we'll see both submarine and antisubmarine forces BE THE NAVY, as they jolly well should."

Carl N. Clauson of La Grange, Ill., takes a dim view of things:

"I would like to call your attention to the shape of things to come. I feel it is safe to assume that the next war and the last war will be fought between just two great powers, Russia and the United States. No other country will participate because Russia will not permit such participation.

"It is safe to assume that shortly before Russia attacks us she will warn all free world governments to remain neutral during the coming conflict or suffer such deadly and destructive punishment as the Red army and Red air force see fit to apply within a matter of hours.

"Such is the shape of things to come, as I see it, unless God sees fit to intervene in our behalf.

"P.S.—Voices are being heard in England now saying it is better to be occupied than dead."

"Pay-TV has been charged with everything," writes Paul McNamara from the coast. "But you will notice that the Joint Committee on Toll TV winds up its charges against pay TV by saying the whole thing is 'un-American.' How silly can they get?"

"The assertion was made in a coast paper the other day that the motion picture industry is a part of the 'plot' to 'force' pay-TV on the public. I'm sure the producers, who are having a rather hard time of it as a result of what free TV has done to their business, will be frightened to death by such a suggestion."

My personal feeling about pay-TV, if anybody cares, is that the public should be at least permitted the opportunity to decide whether it's worth it or not. If it is made too complicated, it will never go over, no matter what the price. If the programs offered aren't distinctly better than those that can be tuned in free, it's a dead duck also. But at least there should be a trial.

Queen Candidates' Dinner Set May 13 in Waterford

Plans for the annual Waterford Township Community Activities Center Fair, June 20-21-22, are under way, and a "kick-off" dinner for queen contestants will be held at 6:30 p.m. May 13, at the Old Mill Tavern.

All candidates for the contest have been asked to report to the chairman Mrs. George A. Dean before Tuesday for reservations for the dinner.

Rules for entering the contest are that the candidate be a resident of Springfield, White Lake, Waterford, West Bloomfield or Pontiac Townships.

The applicant must never have been married, and cannot have held the honor of being a C.A.I. Queen previously.

The queen will be chosen by votes placed in canisters at business establishments throughout the townships and each vote will cost one cent.

The winner will receive a one week trip for two at a Gaylord resort. She will also receive a host of other prizes.

All proceeds of the Fair will be donated towards the maintenance and operation of the C.A.I.

Commissioners OK Ordinances on Scrap, Birds

Commissioners last night passed two ordinances, one to abolish daily $2 fees for scrap collctors and the other to exempt pigeon raising from public nuisance regulations.

Independent scrap collectors now need to pay only $2-a-year fees and post $30 bonds with the city clerk to guarantee faithful performance. The change went into effect today.

The public nuisance ordinance was changed at the request of a resident who said he wanted to raise a special breed of pigeons, but was prevented from doing so by the ordinance. This change goes into effect in ten days.

A petition calling for the rezoning of three lots at the corner of Oakland avenue and Gerdon street from residential 2 to Commercial 1 was forwarded to the study.

Italy's first automobile factory opened in 1894.

Hungarian Farmers Hooked

$900 Truck Costs $4,900

BUDAPEST (AP)—It was a sorry day for the Szabadsagharcos farm cooperative when it bought a second-hand truck from the Soviet army.

The cooperative — its name means "Freedom Fighter" — farms 1,100 acres south of Budapest. Several months ago it acquired a five-ton vehicle from the local Soviet garrison for 25,000 forints, just under $1,100.

Then it had to pay a Hungarian government garage $1,800 more to put the vehicle in working order.

Everything seemed settled until Hungary's auto trading monopoly came up with an unexpected bill of more than $3,000 for customs duty. It appeared the Soviets had not paid Hungary any customs when they brought the truck into the country.

The cooperative's leaders tried to argue their way out of the predicament, but only succeeded in getting the duty cut to $2,000. In despair they offered to sell the truck to the auto monopoly. Officials said they would gladly buy it—for less than $900.

Meanwhile, the truck has been standing in the garage, while its owners try to figure out what to do with it.

State Department Cuts Out Luxury Under Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional pressure has forced the State Department to cut out plans for cabanas, beach huts, mountain retreats and cabin boats for U. S. diplomats at scattered points around the world.

But the department still intends to build swimming pools in Tehran, Port-au-Prince and Seoul for the recreation of the Foreign Service officers and their families.

These glimpses of the State Department budget were offered in closed-session testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee last January and February.

In censored transcripts made public today, subcommittee Chairman John J. Rooney (D-NY) indicated another State Department program—teaching French to U.S. diplomats in a villa on the French Riviera—is too frilly and expensive to suit him.

Sends Waterford Man to Prison for Burglary

Sentenced yesterday to serve from 18 months to 15 years in prison for burglary was 31-year-old Richard Hubner, of 111 Draper St., Waterford Township.

Hubner, who was sentenced to serve the term with no minimum sentence recommendation by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, pleaded guilty April 25 to breaking into the Eagles Lodge at 4761 Highland Rd. on April 6.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes* of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

*Other causes for muscle cramps are entirely unrelated to calcium deficiency.

Incumbents Get Nod in Indiana

11 Congressmen Given Chance to Keep Jobs in Wet, Chilly Primary

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—All of Indiana's 11 incumbent congressmen won a chance yesterday to keep their Washington jobs for another two years.

In a quiet, off-year primary election, marred by cold, rainy weather, nine Republican and two Democratic legislators won renomination. Four of the Republicans and one of the Democrats had opposition but all scored easy victories.

Voters also chose delegates to state party conventions next month when candidates for the U.S. Senate and minor state offices will be named.

Democrats will meet June 24 and Republicans three days later to select their nominees to succeed U.S. Sen. William E. Jenner, Republican, who is retiring.

It appeared that yesterday's voting drew about 800,000 to the polls, roughly 30 per cent of the state's electorate.

Incumbent congressmen renominated were:

Democrats — Ray J. Madden and Winfield K. Denton.

Republicans — Charles A. Halleck, F. Jay Nimtz, E. Ross Adair, John V. Beamer, Cecil Earl Wilson, Ralph Harvey and Charles B. Brownson.

Pre-election forecasts were that Mrs. Harden and Brownson were in for tough fights but they had little trouble in winning.

In the state's liveliest local scrap, Indianapolis Mayor Philip Bayt, scored a better than 2-1 victory over Owen Mullin, Marion County Democratic chairman, for the Democratic nomination for county prosecutor.

Also nominated were candidates for 100 seats in the Indiana House of Representatives and for half of the 50 seats in the state Senate.

Almost one-third of American farms raise cotton.

In Waterford Township Program

Volunteers Instruct Retarded

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

A program for educating retarded children in Waterford Township has been set up and is in full operation in a building next to the Waterford Center school.

Sponsored by the Oakland County Association for Handicapped Children, the new "Jack and Jill" room was formerly used as a portable school, and later as a storage building.

Marching to music, telephone conversations, sharing with other children and mild exercises all help to improve a handicapped child's outlook on life, according to Director Betty Hansen.

All materials and supplies are donated, and instruction for the children is strictly on a volunteer basis, Miss Hansen explained.

Two women from the association work with the children from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., teaching a class of eight children. Different pairs of women are scheduled daily and all types of physical and mental instruction are included in the program.

Learning their addresses, simple academic subjects, and the ability to recognize danger signs for their own safety are part of the program to bridge the gap between infancy and special education classes, Miss Hansen said.

One of the most active local organizations promoting the newly developed program, is the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary.

They have acquired a piano, a record player, and are now in the process of getting rhythm band instruments and toys for the children.

Benefit card parties have been scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Saturday at 10 different members' homes throughout the township, and all of the proceeds will be donated to the "Jack and Jill" project.

NEW PROJECT—Teaching handicapped children in the newly acquired "Jack and Jill" room in Waterford Township, are volunteers Mrs. Robert Giroux and Mrs. Raymond Sneed. Children are taught neatness, simple academic subjects and how to get along with others, in the new program.

Says Non-Christians Giving Up on West

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An Australian minister says church missionaries are facing a world dissilusioned with the Western way of life.

Winning the mind of the world to the Christian faith is going to be a hard job, said the Rev. Colin W. Williams of Melbourne. The Rev. Mr. Williams spoke to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Williams said, "Today the church stands under the scrutiny of the huge mass of non-Christians. But are we ready to confess that we have used the Gospel as a mask behind which we have sought to export our human way of life, and even as a weapon for maintaining our own imagined superiority?"

2 Years After Tragic Drownings

McKeon Draws Praise

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP)—"He's a good Marine and he gets along fine. He's doing a fine job."

That was the official verdict here on Matthew C. McKeon two years after the tragic drowning of six men on a training night march at Parris Island, S.C.

The public information office here said McKeon was promoted to corporal May 1 as a regular procedure. He serves as an administrative clerk here. The 33-year-old Marine was a staff sergeant platoon leader at Parris Island the night of April 7, 1956, when his night march explode d into the national headlines.

He was convicted by a court-martial board of negligent homicide and drinking in the barracks before the march. He was sentenced to nine months at hard labor and reduced in rank to a private.

McKeon, who elected to stick it out in the Corps, was transferred from Parris Island and taken out of contact with recruits.

Williams Reappoints 3 to State Fair Board

LANSING (AP) — Three members of the State Fair Commission have been reappointed by Gov. Williams, who also named two new members to the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional lanning Commission.

Returned to the Fair Commission were Jack W. O'Connor of Hastings and Mrs. Helen Berthelot and Edwin J. Smith, both of Detroit.

Named to the planning agency were W. Arthur Rowley of Richmond, representing the Macomb County Board of Supervisors, and Estol Swem, acting city engineer of Highland Park.

Retires for New Post

DETROIT (AP) — Miles Furlong, 58, retired Tuesday as deputy superintendent of Detroit police. He had been a member of the department 35 years and said he would become chief police advisor to the International Cooperation Administration of the State Department's Foreign Service Division in Washington next week.

Pre-Trial Hearing of Youth Adjourned

An adjournment to May 20 was granted Tuesday in the pre-trial examination of Frederick W. Swords, 17-year-old Rochester youth charged with negligent homicide following a car crash April 2 in which a companion was killed.

Attorney for Swords, Wilson Severance, requested the postponement in order to produce a road map showing the portion of Orion road in Oakland Township where the accident occurred.

Swords is charged in the death of Gary Bridge, 16, of 138 Glendale St., Rochester.

Gunaca Lawyer to Discuss Trial

Attorney Has Proposed Change of Venue for UAW Member's Case

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — Dist. Atty. David Weber announced yesterday a meeting will be held Friday to discuss change of venue in the criminal trial of a former union man from Michigan.

Weber said he will meet with Circuit Judge F. H. Schlichting and Attorney D. Charles Marston of Detroit, counsel for John Gunaca of Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Gunaca, a former member of a United Auto Workers Union at Detroit was charged here in 1954 with assault with intent to do great bodily harm in the beating of two non-striking employes of the Kohler Co. UAW Local 833 has been on strike against the plumbingware manufacturer since April 5, 1954. The company returned to proeuction two months after the strike started.

The Sheboygan County district attorney quoted a letter from Marston in which the Detroit attorney suggested a meeting to discuss possibly moving the trial "to a place where the tensions in the conflict between the union and the Kohler Co. do not spill over into the community."

Wisconsin law provides that a trial may be moved only to one of the counties adjacent to the county in which the charge was filed.

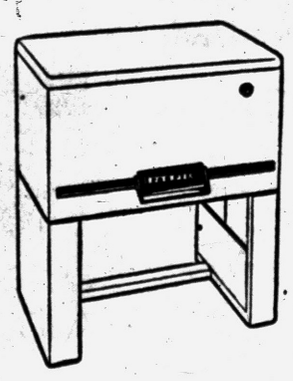

Gunaca returned to Michigan in 1954 and declined to waive extradition to Wisconsin. Gov. G. Mennen Williams declined to extradite Gunaca to Wisconsin, insisting that the man could not obtain a fair trial until there was discernable lessening in bitterness surrounding the company-union dispute.

To Demonstrate Water Safety

South Oakland Scouts Will Hold Open House at Swimming Pools

The Boy Scout swimming classes of the South Oakland County area will hold open house in their pools, beginning Tuesday, to demonstrate a "Water Safety Good Turn."

The Scouts will stress safety and show how to play it safe as well as assist those who get into trouble.

Because small boats and canoes figure in many drowning accidents, the principles that insure safety afloat also will be demonstrated.

All persons, especially those who will be around the water, are invited.

The locations are:

Birmingham High School, Lincoln at Cranbrook road, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Royal Oak Dondero High School, 709 N. Washington, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Southfield High School, 24575 Lasher Rd., Saturday, May 17, at 1 p.m.

Strike at Lockheed Narrowly Averted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and International Assn. of Machinists tentatively agreed on a new working contract early today.

The agreement came less than 24 hours before the midnight strike deadline.

The action raised hopes that a threatened strik eby the Machinists and the United Auto Workers against Lockheed, Douglas Aircraft Co., North American Aviation, Inc., and Convair could be averted. A strike would involve 125,000 workers.

Tentative agreement on a two-year contract covering 16,000 workers at Lockheed's Burbank, Maywood and Palmdale, Calif., plants was announced jointly by the company and union. They had been bargianing nearly four months.

The agreement would provide wage and benefit increases averaging nearly 22 cents an hour, ranging from 18 to 30 cents, the announcement said.

The proposal is subject to approval by the union membership.

The current scale is $1.63 to $2.75 an hour.

Efforts to Condemn Caribou Inn Site Snag

The Caribou Inn condemnation suit in Oakland County Circuit Court was adjourned yesterday to May 20 at the request of attorney Milton R. Henry.

Henry, who is representing the owner of the inn, asked for the postponement because he was committed in another law suit.

The Village Council of Clarkston, where the ancient landmark is located, seeks to condemn the lot on which it stands for use for off-street parking.

When the case last resumed in April, the jury panel had not been chosen as many potential jurors had to be disqualified by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick because they said they had formed an opinion in the case.

3 in County Awarded MSU Scholarships

Three Oakland County teenagers have been awarded four-year tuition scholarships to Michigan State University as recognition for their outstanding scholastic ability and 4-H Club record.

Two are Lora Louise Guthrie, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Guthrie, 173 Hillfield Rd., and Walter Lee Cudnohufsky, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cudnohufsky, of Lake Orion.

They were two of the 50 4-H'ers throughout Michigan who were awarded the scholarships.

Judy Crawford, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crawford, of Milford, also received one of the 18 Michigan State University entrance scholarships based on scholastic ability and extra-curricular activities including 4-H work.

Alabama Runoff Appears Certain

Primary Vote for Dem Governor, Candidates Leaves 2 Deadlocked

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A runoff June 3 between Atty. Gen. John Patterson and Judge George Wallace for the Democratic nomination for Alabama governor appeared certain today.

Still unsetted, however, was control of party machinery, a heated issue in yesterday's Democratic primary.

That control could bar or open the way for this state's Democrats to give its 1960 electoral votes to an independent candidate for president rather than the national party nominee. That was done in 1948.

On inconclusive results, State Executive Committee candidates favoring an independent wait and see role for 1960 were ahead in the districts comprising Birmingham, Mobile and Montgomery. Results from the six other districts will decide the issue.

Patterson, 36, was making his first statewide race. He is the son of Albert L. Patterson, whose murder at Phenix City in 1954 touched of a crime cleanup there.

Wallace, 39, was a member of the Democratic Platform Committee at Chicago in 1956. He, like Patterson and all the 12 other candidates for governor, pledged to continue segregation.

Climaxing the show will be a parade of children representing Michigan's industries and the protrayal of the state as a popular playground.

Dedicate Plant Addition

DETROIT (AP) — Massey-Ferguson, Inc., dedicated its newly expanded tractor plant here Wednesday. Among events were completion of the 250,000th tractor at the Detroit plant. The expanded plant is capable of turning out 200 tractors a day, twice the company's previous capacity.

Man May Collect on the Cabbage He Sold in 1943

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — T. S. Wong has a good chance to collect—in 1959—$62.37 for a load of cabbage he sold in 1943.

The State Bureau of Market Enforcement collected the money from the purchaser in 1946. But someone filed the check with Wong's records.

In 1952, when the error was discovered, the check was outdated.

The Department of Finance sent new claims for Wong to the state agriculture office in Los Angeles. There, an employe assigned to handle the claim put the papers in a desk, where they weren't discovered until after his death last November.

Wong then wasn't found until February. Yesterday the Board of Control approved the claim.

Says Mother-In-Law of Ike Had No Stroke

DENVER (INS) — A family physician reported today Elivere Doud, mother-in-law to President Eisenhower, was feeling fine and did not have a stroke last week as rumored.

Rumors in Denver were the 80-year-old mother of Mamie Eisenhower suffered a mild attack while watching television last Tuesday night.

The doctor, who asked that his name not be used, said:

"It definitely isn't true. I've heard the same rumor, but there was no stroke, mild or otherwise."

Agent Earl Schoel, in charge of the Denver office of the Secret Service, confirmed that Mrs. Doud was in good health in her east Denver home, where she has been living in semi-retirement for the past year since returning from Washington.

Open Lawsuit Retrial Against Two Doctors

The retrial of the malpractice suit brought in 1956 against two Pontiac doctors opened this morning before a jury of nine women and three men.

The trial of Drs. Wilfred M. Green and A. J. Zujko, charging them with negligence and assault and battery, was dismissed in June 1956 after nine days when a jury could not reach a verdict.

The suit, seeking $158,210 damages, was filed by the husband of the late Yvonne Pilgrim, 20, of 13 Crawford St., after she died in 1953 following removal by the doctors of her only kidney.

City Police Told to 'Get Tough'

They Will Crack Down on Ice Cream Peddlers Who Violate Ordinance

City Commissioners last night authorized a "get tough" policy to enforce the city's controversial ice-cream peddler ordinance in the ensuing summer season.

They told City Manager Walter K. Willman to direct the Police Department to arrest peddlers in violation of the ordinance instead of merely ticketing them.

Violation constitutes a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of up to $100 or 90 days in jail or both.

The controversial portion of the ordinance is aimed at protecting youngsters from traffic. It requires peddlers who advertise their products by bells or other noise-makers on their wagons or trucks to provide a helper whose job it is to direct traffic for the children.

"We don't want itinerant peddlers endangering the lives of Pontiac children," said Mayor William W. Donaldson. "Children hear those bells and they flock to the ice cream trucks with no thought of whether they are running into the path of an on-coming car.

"If the peddlers are going to do business in the streets with the children, they ought to provide them with protection."

The city has been experimenting with such an ordinance for several years and finally adopted the present one early last year.

"But its enforcement has, in reality, been negligible," commented City Attorney William A. Ewart. "The police handed out tickets, but they were generally ignored. Out - of - town peddlers could afford to ignore tickets because they planned to leave Pontiac in a few days anyway. They wouldn't be around to suffer any consequences."

It was Ewart's recommendation that "rigorous" enforcement of the ordinance be adopted.

He believed that a Circuit Court case pending next month would rule favorably on the ordinance. In that case, its constitutionality has been challenged.

"The Supreme Court of New York State recently ruled favorably on the constitutionality of a similar ordinance in that state and I believe that ruling would be taken into consideration favorably here," Ewart said.

Keego Harbor to Check Cars for Safety

KEEGO HARBOR — The city of Keego Harbor will stage its fourth annual safety drive Thursday by setting up a vehicle check lane in front of Roosevelt Elementary School. Cars will be inspected from 9 a.m. until dark.

A staff of volunteers will assist the Keego Harbor Police Department in checking each car for proper operation of lights, windshield wipers, brakes, steering and exhaust system. Operators' licenses also will be examined.

The safety drive is being directed by John Sellman, city fire marshal.

The car safety check is operated on a voluntary basis. Owners of cars which pass the safety test will be given a sticker to be displayed on the windshield. Owners of cars which do not pass the check will be given a sticker if a recheck shows that necessary repairs have been made.

Garages in the city will be supplied with windshield stickers and records to carry out safety checks.

The safety drive is planned for Thursday only, but it may be extended to Friday if demand warrants it.

Keego Harbor has conducted the auto safety check each year since it became an incorporated city in 1955. Nearly 1,000 cars were inspected last year.

The city is a member of the National Vehicle Safety Check organization which is active in 34 states.

Voters Set Up Ohio Rematch

Incumbent O'Neill Will Battle DiSalle in Race for Governorship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's Republican C. William O'Neill against Democrat Michael V. DiSalle again in the race for Ohio governor next November.

But primary election returns yesterday indicate the payoff battle will be more intense than two years ago when O'Neill won a 427,885-vote victory.

DiSalle, former federal price controller, outdistanced six other contenders in a show of strength that Democrats hailed as a good omen in a nonpresidential election year.

O'Neill gained renomination handily although his noncampaigning opponent, Charles P. Taft, the 1952 nominee and brother of the late Sen. Robert A. taft, piled up a surprising total.

Taft termed himself a standby candidate in event O'Neill — pronounced recovered from a heart attack of last Jan. 22 — might be forced to step aside.

Without mentioning Taft's big vote, O'Neill said in a victory statement: "I want to express my appreciation to the Republicans of Ohio who registered their approval of my administration during these 16 months I have been in office."

Taft said he was surprised and pleased at the vote he received and added: "The governor has my good wishes."

DiSalle voiced appreciation for the restraint shown by his primary opponents and expressed hope he would be able to serve with complete selflessness as Ohio's governor.

Pontiac Lake Dam Nears Completion

Construction of the Pontiac Lake dam in Waterford Township has just about been completed, with the exception of some work to be done by the State Conservation Department, according to Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry.

The original deadline date for the rebuilding of the 30-year old dam had been set for January 10, but due to unforeseen circumstances and weather conditions, work has been delayed.

Contractor for the project, Lee Turzillo of Cleveland, has finished the final shaping of the dikes, and workmen are in the process of seeding the area. Cost of the work has been approximately $75,000.

Additional stone construction work on the water side of the dam will complete the project, Barry said.

South Americans Lack Understanding—Nixon

U.S. Economy Woes Not Clear

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Vice President Nixon says he has found on his South American tour a woeful lack of understanding of U.S. economic problems.

Government officials know the score but "we must reach the people," Nixon told a news conference last night.

He advocated increasing exchanges of students and specialists between the United States and Latin America and tailoring U.S. information programs to clear up misunderstandings.

Nixon commented on the first half of his 18-day trip before flying today to Lima, Peru.

"There is a feeling in many capitals that the U.S. loan programs and aid programs have not given as much assistance proportionately to Latin America as they should," he said.

The feeling exists, he continued, that there should be no limit on what Washington does for Latin America in the way of loans and stabilization of raw material prices.

Nixon said U.S. officials should "step up across-the-table discussions so that the realities of the situation are laid on the table."

Many Latin Americans feel U.S. insistence that private capital must play a leading part in economic development is unrealistic and unworkable, Nixon continued.

The United States is not trying to force its system on other governments, he explained, but there is a sincere U.S. belief that this "is the only effective way the economic resources of those countries can be developed."

Accuse Widow of 6 Murders

Charge Poisonings of 2 Husbands, Daughter, Mother-In-Law

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A young widow faced murder charges today in the arsenic poisonings of her 9-year-old daughter, two husbands and a mother-in-law over a six-year period.

Mrs. Anjette Donovan Lyles, 32, was arrested in a hospital room yesterday and placed under guard. She reportedly has been hospitalizd since shortly after her daughter Marcia Elaine Lyles, died April 5.

Sheriff James I. Wood said the county physician will examine Mrs. Lyles and confer with other doctors to determine whether she can be moved to the county jail.

Through her attorney, Mrs. Lyles said, "I have committed no crime."

In addition to the death of her daughter, Mrs. Lyles is accused of murdering her first husband, Ben F. Lyles Jr., Jan. 25, 1952; her second husband, Joe Neal Gabbert, Dec. 2, 1955; and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ben F. Lyles Sr., Sept. 29, 1957.

The warrants were obtained by Coroner L. H. Chapman, who said tests by the state crime laboratory showed arsenic poison in the bodies of all four victims.

Durables Inventories Decline in March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inventories of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers declined in March, the Commerce Department reported. All of the drop was registered by durable goods.

Sales of manufacturers and wholesalers decreased slightly between February and March, after adjustment for seasonal factors, while those of retailers were unchanged.

The report said total inventories, seasonally adjusted, dropped to 88½ billion dollars in March from $89,300,000,000 a month earlier.

Retail sales held steady at $16,100,000,000. Manufacturers' sales dropped 400 million dollars to about 25¼ billions while those of wholesalers fell 200 millions to about 10¼ billions.

Air Force Might Issue Mechanics Megaphones

WASHINGTON (AP) The Air Force, after extensive research, confirmed today what every cheerleader knows—that a megaphone is a big help in a big noise.

The study was undertaken to determine scientifically if a megaphone could be a solution to this vexing problem:

How to make important messages understood, without shouting, in the vicinity of jet aircraft or other loud noises.

Researchers, reporting on elaborate tests involving a high-fidelity tape recorder, a microphone and jet noises, presented this conclusion to the American Acoustical Society: "A small megaphone (strapped to the mouth) would be a very cheap and handy aid to communicating by speech in noisy places."

Insuring Car's Safety Can Save You Money

From National Safety Council

Pretty tough making ends meet these days, isn't it? And just about everybody's in the same boat.

A lot of folks, though, have learned how to stretch their dollars—and their years of living. The system involves the family auto.

"Take good care of your car and drive it safely. You'll save money," the National Safety Council says.

How? Well, money-savers have found that keeping their cars in good shape costs less in the end.

The most frequent problems on trips, for example, involve steering, wheel alignment, tires, lights and brakes. A minor defect on the road may cause a costly accident or become major under the stress and strain of turnpike driving.

The Council reports that at least 8 out of 100 cars in accidents are unsafe. Other sources say that 9 out of 10 cars on the road today are in need of repairs.

Okay, you say — so taking care of repairs when they're needed saves on major repair bills later. But how can safe driving mean money in my pocket?

1. By avoiding sudden starts and stops and excessive braking, you save on gas and wear and tear on your brakes — and your nervous system.

2. If you exceed the speed limit you take a chance of being ticketed. And that's at least $10 out of your pocket right there. Besides, you'll have fewer red lights to stop for — and fewer gas-draining starts to make — if you observe the limit.

3. Short cuts to avoid heavy traffic can cost more in the end in increased travel and more stops and starts. Shift traffic lanes because you have an itchy foot on the accelerator and there's more gas down the drain.

"Take it easy behind the wheel," the Council suggests. "Even if you're not concerned with the high cost of drive-like-mad motoring, wear and tear on yourself is certainly a consideration.

"Slow down — you'll save money and live longer."

Navy Announces New Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy today announced a new selected reserve program to train civilian sailors for immediate action in event of war.

Ready-reserve units at ports will be assigned training duties on specified vessels under a commander who will take the crew into action whenever necessary. Officers and men assigned to destroyer-type ships in the selected reserve will use these ships exclusively. No other reservists will use them for training.

The Navy will transfer 14 additional destroyers and escort vessels to the reserve this year.

Active reservists in inland cities will build up the strength of active fleet ships in time of emergency. Other selected reservists will have as their first mobilization duty the demothballing of vessels assigned to them.

Units of the Naval air reserve will be incorporated into the program and most of them will be assigned to antisubmarine activities as will destroyer groups.

Units and vessels assigned to the selected reserve will be announced later.

Chrysler Gets Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has been awarded a 65-million-dollar contract by the Army to produce 900 Patton medium tanks. The tanks will be manufactured at the government-owned Lenappe Ordnance Plant at Newark, Del., but the Army said many of the principal subcontractors are located in critical labor surplus areas in other parts of the country. Chrysler operates the Newark plant.

Approves Price Tags on All New Cars Sold

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Senate commerce subcommittee has approved legislation to require auto manufacturers to reveal the price and "history" of each new car sold.

The bill would require a label on each car showing its place of manufacture, to whom it was delivered, how shipped to the dealer, and the suggested retail price.

Subcommittee Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla), said he expected early consideration by the full Commerce Committee.

U. S. Office to Close

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Justice Department disclosed Monday it will close its regional antitrust office in Detroit June 15 because of its proximity to the Chicago regional office. The Detroit office has a staff of seven. The department said it also is considering closing of offices at Cleveland and Philadelphia as an economy measure.

Concert Is Big Success

By GRETTA PORTER

Before a full house, Pontiac Central High School Vocal Department's "Say It With Music" concert opened Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium.

Beginning the 1958 presentation, the Senior Girls Ensemble sang the Irving Berlin number, "Say It With Music." The singers then started on an imaginary trip around the world with the modern "Cranberry Corners, USA."

FILL STAGE

Combined Girls Glee Clubs filled the entire PCH stage as the colorfully gowned vocalists offered "Around the World" and "L'Amour Toujours l'Amour" directed by Doreen Voltmann. Edward Banghart took over to lead the girls in singing "Bonnie Doon" and the hauntingly lovely tune of the Orient, "Sayonara."

Complete with skullcaps and pigtails Junior Boys Ensemble shuffled onto the stage to proffer the novelty number "Chinatown."

Selective Girls' Glee Club showed good vocal control when they sang "My Johann" and "Suabian Folk Tune."

As the second part of the around-the-world trip, religious music of the Continent was chosen. The A Capella Choir performing under George Putnam, sang with more depth and feeling than any other group on the program. The beautiful Psalm 100, "Make A Joyful Sound," resounded through the PCH auditorium dulcetly.

The liturgical "Tristis Est Anima Mea" conveyed the sorrow and solemnity of the requiem, while the plea "Lord Have Mercy," sung in Russian, was unusual and interesting.

EFFECTIVE STAGING

"Enite, Enite," a Byzantine liturgical selection, was sung against an unusual effect which ended in total darkness except for a lighted stained glass window at the rear of the stage.

Vickie Vandecar sang the Rimsky - Korsakoff favorite, "Song of India," and the Senior Girls Ensemble, complete with polished cotton dresses and straw hats, performed a novelty number "Tico-Tico." The Oriental flavor of "Istanbul" was captured as the Senior Boys Ensemble filed on stage in appropriate Oriental fez.

Combined Boys Glee Clubs performed "Suabian Folk Song," "Riff Song," "Chaguane's Burning" (complete with bongo drums) and "On the Road to Mandalay."

Junior Girls Ensemble joined to sing "Stranger in Paradise," and Charles Hobgood offered an accordion solo, "El Chumbanchero."

FINAL SELECTIONS

Returning to the PCH stage for the final portion of the program was the A Capella Choir which performed "Donkey Serenade." Other selections were "Lady of Spain," "Michigan Morn," and "Romany Life" from the operetta, "The Fortune Teller," with a fine solo performance by Diane Beach.

The massed chorus joined voices for the finale which included "One World," "Look for the Silver Lining" with a solo by John Watson, and "Nation's Creed."

Cotton's Really in the Pink

Supima cotton is known with good reason, as the champagne of cottons. It is used by this country's top designers for clothes of great elegance. A domestic cotton, Supima is grown in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. It's a fine, extra-long staple cotton which is woven into chiffon, georgette, voile, broadcloth, satin, faille, surah, organdies, knits and other fabrics. It's characterized by a feeling of silkiness. Here are a couple of this spring's outstanding models, featuring a bold pink that's fashion-right.

Herbert Sondheim chooses a delicate rose and pink print in Supima cotton voile (left) for a sophisticated dress with tiered, ruffled skirt. The bodice is snugly fitted and the wide V neckline has bows at the shoulders. Ceil Chapman's subtle draping has become a hallmark of her designs. Here she drapes a gown of pink Supima chiffon chambray in harem fashion.

Dear Abby....

Perfume Stirs Up No Tender Passion

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: There's a woman in our office who thinks she is hot stuff. She dresses much too young, for her age, but the worst part of her is that she uses a perfume that gives me a headache.

ABBY

"When she passes my desk I can smell her perfume for hours. It's not only me. Others in the office have complained about it. How can we tell her without hurting her feelings?

THE OFFICE GANG"

DEAR GANG: Let the co-worker who is on the friendliest terms with the offender be the spokesman; helpful advice of this nature must be handled with the utmost diplomacy, goodness "nose."

"DEAR ABBY: I don't want to be a mean mother-in-law, but my problem is that my daughter-in-law lets her kids take her pots, pans and baking utensils outside to play with like they were toys. Then she borrows mine. Instead of asking for them back, I go out and buy myself new ones, but there has to be a limit.

"I have bought more baking pans, pie tins and flour sifters than you would believe. I know this isn't a matter of life or death but I wish you would tell me how to handle it.

MOTHER-IN-LAW"

DEAR M-I-L: Go to the dime store and buy the kids TOY baking utensils intended for playing outside. Give them to your daughter-in-law to give her children. Tell her from now on she must keep her baking utensils for baking only. (And be sure to smile when you say it.)

DEAR ABBY: About that family where the mother is Protestant and the father is Catholic and they expect to raise all the boys Catholic and all the girls Protestant. Our family is split just like theirs. We made the same bargain and believe me, it isn't working out.

"Our daughters go to Protestant Church and our son goes to Catholic school. They are growing apart from each other because all they do is fight over religion. I love my husband and I love all my children the same, but if I had known what the future held, I would have never made that kind of a bargain.

Vitamins, Minerals Keep Us Young

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We have been vitamin and mineral conscious for quite a few years now, and should be. No man or woman who hopes to prolong the youthful portion of life can afford to disregard the latest information concerning nutrition.

Scientific exploration into the world of food has brought us facts which we cannot shrug off with indifference or sophistry, not if we wish to have the years from 50 on vibrant in mind and body. We can glimpse the possibility of youthfulness into old age.

I wish that present information had been available to all of us in the middle-aged group 15 years ago. However, it is not too late to benefit greatly from current knowledge if we will put it into practice now.

Minerals are of the greatest importance. A well-balanced diet will supply us with the essential ones. We need some of these in extremely small amounts but even this tiny amount is essential.

The diets of many adults are deficient in calcium and iron. Then of course there is the problem of iodine deficiency. As most of you know iodine has a direct effect on the thyroid gland. A lack of it may cause goiter. Even fish have been found with goiter in Lake Erie.

IODINE RICH

This mineral is not so widely distributed as most minerals are. Its best source is vegetables which were grown near the sea. Other sources are sea food, watercress, wheat, corn, oats, carrots and cranberries.

If you live inland, you should give special thought to iodine. This is why many people use iodized salt. Sea food should play an important part in your diet as well as the other items I have mentioned.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Diets for Youth and Health" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 43. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Your Three Best Assets

Men notice three things about the women they meet: clothes, hair and eyes, in that order. Clothes for their smart appearance and appropriateness to the occasion, not for frills or extremes.

Hair, for cleanliness and its becoming style. Proof of this is man's trite question, "Is she blond, brunette or red head?" To wear a neat and clean hairdo, never changing with fashion, is not enough. Adapt the new and lasting trends to yourself, avoid extreme fads.

EYES, give them special notice by using them expressively. Experiment with subtle makeup. Enhance nature, do not change it drastically.

These are the things men notice first . . . but what they will rememper longest is the air of charm about you.

Making a Garden Satisfies That Urge

By RUTH MILLETT

Every year in spring there comes a day when you have to put something young and tender in the earth, to nourish and check on and watch take root and grow.

On that day—when the sun is shining and the birds are looking for home sites and the air is soft and the sun is warm, but not hot—it doesn't matter how many things are already growing in your yard.

It doesn't even matter that it may be overplanted and already have more to feed and water and spray and care for than you can handle during the long, hot, leaf-wilting summer months.

Nor do all the other things you should be doing matter in the slightest.

To be in tune with the season, to be a part of spring, instead of just an onlooker, you have to have a part in starting something young and fragile on its way.

CAN'T FIGHT THE URGE

You may try to overrule the planting instinct with sensible arguments to yourself like, "I tried plumbago last year and it didn't do anything at all." Or, "We'll be away this year when the early summer flowers will be at their best." Or even, "I should be cleaning closets instead of spending the morning digging and planting."

But you'll be so restless and no-account you might as well give in gracefully and get out your digging tools.

So why try to suppress such a natural, happy, forward-looking instinct? Why not just take time out to be a part of spring, enjoying every moment of the warmth and fragrance of a lovely day?

Children don't resist the urge to fly a kite or get out the baseball bat and glove. They respond to spring without a second's hesitation.

And that's what happy grownups who have kept a little of the wonder of the seasons in their hearts do, too.

Married Saturday were Mary Ardelan, daughter of Mrs. Flora Ardelan of Dwight street, and Elmer E. Rabideau, son of Mrs. Mary Rabideau of Milford.

MR. and MRS. ELMER E. RABIDEAU

Mary Ardelan Becomes Bride of Elmer Rabideau

White gladioli, snapdragons and pompon chrysanthemums banked the altar of St. Michael's Catholic Church for the Saturday morning wedding of Mary Ardelan and Elmer E. Rabideau.

The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 300 guests. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Al Ardelan of St. Clair Shores.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Flora Ardelan of Dwight street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Rabideau of Milford.

A gown of silk tissue dupione featuring a fitted bodice and scoop neckline with inserts of Alencon lace, was chosen by the bride. Designed on princess style lines, the skirt was accented by unpressed pleats with appliques of Alencon lace at the waist.

A semi-crown headpiece of lace secured her fingertip veil of silk French illusion, and she carried a chapel bouquet of white butterfly roses and feathered carnations.

Matron of honor Mrs. Donald Bennett of Auburn Heights, sister of the bride, was gowned in pink crystallette in a ballerina length and carried a bouquet of variegated pink and white carnations.

At a reception held in St. Michael's Hall following the ceremony, Mrs. Ardelan wore a blue lace ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and pink carnations. Mrs. Rabideau chose a navy blue and pink faille dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and pink carnations.

Prior to leaving on a trip to Washington, D. C., and Boston, Mass., the new Mrs. Rabideau changed to a blue linen dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

The bride attended St. Mary's Academy at Monroe. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Pontiac Business Institute. The couple will reside on Dwight street.

Lobsters are usually shipped in dry ice to keep them alive. However, 16,00 pounds of live lobsters, were shipped in wood shavings to keep an even temperature, from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Brussels, Belgium last Dec. 6. All lobsters arrived alive in their light weight wood shavings. Dry ice would have been too heavy for air transportation.

City Now Owns Most of Land for Fire Hall

Pontiac now controls three-quarters of property on which a new central fire hall is planned.

An option to purchase one of four lots involved was picked up by City Commissioners last night. Two of the lots already have been purchased and the city is negotiating the prce of the fourth, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

The property is directly across E. Pike street from the new Public Safety Building and City Hall in the proposed Civic Center area.

It lies east of the Central School and on the same ridge overlooking the Clinton River as the two othter public buildings.

The westernmost lot sides on Uion street. It was purchased by the city for $18,000. Commissioners picked up the option to purchase the next lot for $16'000 from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stout. Included in the option price is purchase of a small frame home located there.

The third lot, deeper than the others, was purchased for $20,000.

The fourth, or eastermost lot, is still in private ownership, Willman said.

Details of the land purchases were not publicized generally until last night. The city had hoped to avoid publicity in order to better its chances of getting fair prices.

Willman said he hoped purchase of the remaining lot would take place soon.

Construction of a new fire hall has not been definitely placed on the public improvement program as yet, But Commissioners have been discussing replacing the existing 75-year-old fire hall for some time. It is located at the corner of Perry street and E. Pike.

Willman has placed construction of a new building high on the list of needed new public buildings.

Alan Ladd, Yul Brynner to Star in Film on Alamo

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — What a team! Alan Ladd and Yul Brynner are pooling their talents and independent companies to co-star in a spectacle based on the Alamo, as yet untitled. There's quite a tale behind this merger:

Several years ago Alan starred in "The Iron Mistress," about the early life of Jim Bowie. Yul just recently completed playing Jean La Fitte, colorful pirate who founded Galveston, Tex., in "The Buccaneer." This, too, takes in only the early days of La Fitte.

Now Alan and Yul plan to carry on the stories of Bowie and La Fitte into their mature years and their deaths, both men losing their lives at the Alamo.

The boys won't attempt to put this into production until '59. Alan has several stories to follow his "Badlanders" at MGM and Yul has two pictures lined up when he completes "The Journey" in Austria.

Veteran director Edmund Goulding who has made some of the best pictures on the screen is returning to 20th Century-Fox for whom he made so many successful films.

He will direct "Mardi Gras" with Pat Boone, Tommy Sands, Gary Crosby and Christine Carere.

Now there's another girl chosen for the cast. Her name is June Blair. She's an orphan and was raised in a San Francisco orphanage until she was adopted by foster parents. She's a very attractive girl and will play one of the top femme leads. It's always nice to hear of newcomers getting a break.

Just as I was leaving the Beverly Hilton hotel where I had been to see Joseph Schenck and the Nicholas Schencks, I ran into Bill ("Hopalong Cassidy") Boyd, and he was as excited as a two-year-old.

He had just had word from Loretta Young that she shared his idea and enthusiasm about motion picture stars with the most famous faces in the world going to the Brussels Fair to greet visitors to our exhibit.

Columnist Earl Wilson also said he is in entire accord with Hoppy's idea and believes it would be a great thing if our stars who are so well known just put in an appearance at the Bussels Fair.

TALE OF TAPE — Here are the physical statistics for the world's lightweight fight tonight in Houston, Texas. The fight will be televised tonight.

Record Gate Expected for Brown-Dupas Scrap

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Lean Joe Brown, whose fists pack an explosiveness that doesn't coincide with his physical stature, gives young Ralph Dupas his chance to take away the world's lightweight championship here tonight.

It shapes up as a fight between a slugger and a boxer although both have sufficient of the other asset.

A crowd of nearly 11,000 and a gate that may reach $60,000 are in prospect, which would make it the largest draw for a fight in Texas history.

There was a slight falloff in ticket sales in the New Orleans area, from where the two fighters come, because the bout will be nationaly televised over ABC starting at 9 p.m. EST and go into New Orleans. Houston will be blacked out.

The boys weigh in at noon although they have until 2 p.m. to make the 135-pound requirement. Brown said he would be at about 134½. Dupas, who reportedly has been having trouble making the weight, although his manager, Angelo Dundee, claims it is no problm, expects to hit the beams at 135 straight up.

It's the alleged weight problem that has caused Brown to predict he'll win the fight by a knockout long before the 15-round limit is reached. He says Dupas, who has been fighting middlweights and welters lately, will come into the ring weakened by having to drop six or seven pounds.

Both are natives of New Orleans and wanted to stage the fight there. But Brown, a Negro, couldn't fight Dupas in New Orleans because of an interracial law.

The winner here is to meet Kenny Lane, the No. 1 contender. Dupas, rated No. 2, got the fight with Brown through such an agreement. Brown said he wouldn't meet Lane because the latter wanted to put on the fight at Muskegon, Mich., his home town, which, the champion said, "doesn't have the facilities for a championship fight."

Pierce Lasts 2 Innings as Bosox Trip Hose 7-5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Billy Pierce still hasn't won a game this season and the Chicago White Sox still are last in the American League race.

That about tells the story on the White Sox, who have won but four so far and only two of their last 11. That puts them seven games behind the first place New York Yankees on the lost side — and they were only six games back in the lost column when the Yankees clinched the 1957 pennant.

Pierce (0-2), the only member of the Sox staff with a complete game, escaped defeat yesterday, but didn't last two innings in a 7-5 defeat at Boston. It was the fifth victory in six games for the Red Sox, and hoisted them into sixth place ahead of Detroit.

The Tigers, like the rest of the league, were idled again by rain.

Pierce, who had picked up three of his 20 victories by this time last year as the White Sox spurted along at the top or near it, gave up consecutive home runs to Dick Gernert and Frank Malzone in a three-run Boston first. Then he walked the first man in the second and gave way to Ray Moore, who was shackled with the defeat when the Red Sox cracked him for three in the fourth after Chicago had tied it 4-all.

Tigers See Senators Flexing Muscles

Once-Ridiculed Nats Now Make Serious Threat

Tigers Can Put Stop to Washington Surge in Twi-Night Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everybody suddenly has quit laughing at those old jokes about the Washington Senators. Most serious - minded of all should be the wavering Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers could open the gates of first place tonight to the much maligned Washington club.

The Senators, who have been abused and ridiculed for years, now are flexing their muscles. They trail the proud New York Yankees by a meager margin of one game.

Washington will climb into first place itself tonight with a doubleheader victory over the toothless Bengals if Cleveland beats New York.

Cookie Lavagetto, who became manager of the Nats a year ago today, has his array of castoffs humming. They've won nine of 14 starts. Old Washington fans must explore their memories to recall when the Senators got off to a better start.

Jack Tighe's Tigers, meantime, are wallowing in seventh place. Their hitting's fallen off and seven of their last nine games have ended in defeat.

Tighe welcomed last night's postponement, hoping two days of rest will refresh his ball club and pull it out of its slump.

The washout manufactured a twi-night doubleheader tonight. The Nats, because of the way their playing, preferred to make up the postponement tonight rather than wait until later in the season. By then the Washington bubble may have burst.

Tighe has handed Frank Lary (1-2) and Jim Bunning (1-3) the task of trying to bring Washington back to reality tonight. Lavagetto will pitch Hal Griggs (0-0) and Camilo Pascual (1-1).

Gail Harris will become the Detroit first baseman against both left and right handed pitching, Tighe said Ray Boone, who's been hitting only .200, would be benched.

Other changes might be in the offing. General Manager Johnny McHale flew East to join the club. He spent considerable time huddling with Tighe and the coaches. McHale said no player switches were in prospect, but he and Tighe certainly weren't talking about the weather.

Giants' McCormick Tosses 3-Hit Shutout

Rookie Hurler Stifles Bucs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mike McCormick, the kid southpaw every major league club but Cincinnati wanted when he was an American Legion whiz back home in the Alhambra-Los Angeles area, finally has come into his own with the San Francisco Giants.

The big teenager who signed for $65,000 in 1956 was as classy as anyone ever expected him to be last night, giving up just three infield singles for his first major league shutout, a 7-0 job that tripped Pittsburgh out of a share of the National League lead.

He walked but one, fanned four. The Pirates didn't get a hit off the 19-year-old lefty until Roberto Clemente opened the fifth with a single to deep short. It was the eighth before they got another, on Danny Kravitz' shot back to the mound. The other was Dick Groat's single to second in the ninth.

The Chicago Cubs gained a full share of first as Glen Hobbie gained his first shutout in pro ball, a four-hitter that beat Cincinnati 4-0. Milwaukee took second with a 12-8 fling at St. Louis. And Los Angeles moved past Philadelphia into sixth with a 7-6 victory over the Phils in 14 innings.

The Pirates, longing for a fourth starter, again were battered with rookies on the mound. The Giants counted five runs in the first off loser Bennie Daniels and George Perez, with a three-run double by rookie Bob Schmidt the big blow. Rookie Orlando Cepeda's 400-foot home run, his eighth, made it 6-0 in the third and Willie Mays' sacrifice fly closed the scoring in the sixth.

Hobbie, a 22-year-old right-hander who served mostly in relief in three years of minor league ball, got a 3-0 lead in the first when Bobby Thomson tagged loser Joe Nuxhall for a two-on homer. Hobbie's fast ball and curve took it from there, giving up nothing but singles while striking out seven. He stopped Johnny Temple's hit streak at 14 games.

The Braves blew most of a 7-0 lead built in the first two innings, but after the Cardinals had closed to 7-6 in the eighth, Milwaukee cashed five in the ninth. Bob Buhl, backed by three-RBI performances from Hazle and Frank Torre, won his fourth with relief help.

Lindy McDaniel lost his second as the first of seven St. Louis pitchers. The Cards, losing their sixth straight, used 24 men, tying the major league record (Dodgers vs. Giants, April 21, 1958) for a nine-inning game.

But Musial Won't Forget

Speaker Can't Recall Getting His 3,000th Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — When Stan Musial collects his 3,000th base hit in a week or so, they'll probaby stop the game and present the ball to the man in an appropriate ceremony. Undoubtedly it will rest forevermore in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown or on the Musial mantlepiece.

Things weren't always like that. Tris Speaker, one of the seven men to hit safely 3,000 or more times in the majors, is in town with the Cleveland Indians. Happy to see Musial closing in on the 3,000-mark, Speaker admits he can't even remember when he did it.

"I couldn't tell you when I hit it or where or who the pitcher was," said Speaker, a batting coach with the Tribe. "It didn't seem so important to get that hit in those days. Not so much was said about it."

Quickly, as though to assure you he didn't mean to disparage Musial's feat, he said, "I am glad a man like Musial is going to join the club. He is a great ball player and real hardy athlete, a man who plays day after day and seldom misses a game."

Speaker, who was 70 on April 4, works with the younger players on the Cleveland club, trying to improve their hitting — men like Rocky Colavito, Roger Maris, Gary Geiger, Billy Moran, Russ Nixon and Dick Brown.

"You can't teach anybody how to hit," he said. "But you can take the tools they have and try to improve them and correct their faults. Maybe one fellow has a hitch in his swing. Another may fail to get his bat around in front of the ball. You can help on things like that."

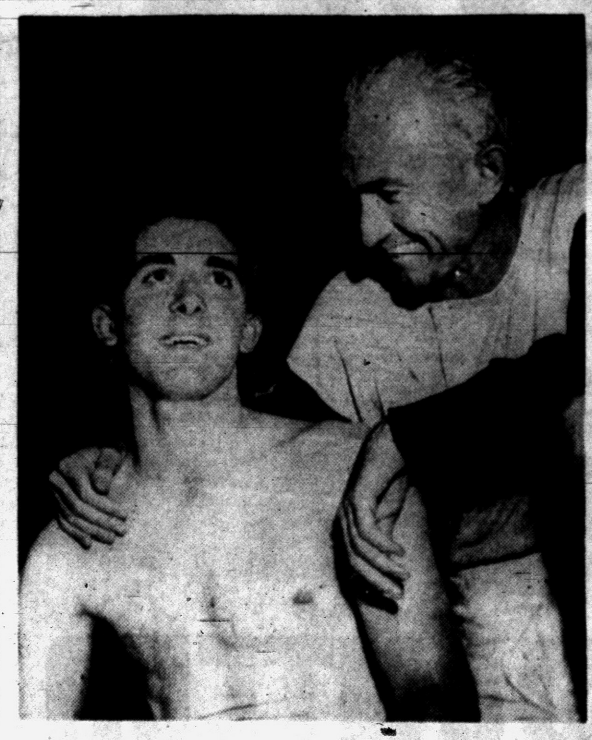

When Speaker roved the outfield from 1907 to 1928, he used to play short center field, much closer to second base than is normal now. He wouldn't do it any more.

"Even if I could go like I could in those days, I wouldn't try it now. Not with that lively ball," he said. "The lively ball chases you back.

"I used to play shallow on certain batters, not on the real long ball hitters. Men like Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Jimmy Fox would move you back.

"You played the percentages. More balls fall in front of a center fielder than go over your head. So you get back far enough so that you can run to the fence if you have to, but come in as close as you can.

65-and-Over Golf Plan Hinges on Course Survey

The proposal to allow all persons 65 years of age and over to play golf free of charge at Pontiac Municipal course is now under serious consideration, according to Dave Ewalt, Parks and Recreation Department director.

Decision on the proposal will be withheld until a survey is completed at the city course to determine how many persons 65 years old and above play golf there, Ewalt said.

The Pontiac Press suggested the idea in an editorial last week, noting that other municipal courses have adopted this plan.

City Manager Walter K. Willman proposed that the survey be taken after the plan was presented to him by the Parks and Recreation Department, which operates the city course.

"We are going to make a two- or three-week check at the course to see how many of our older people play there," Ewalt said. "This course is supported by the taxpayers and we must decide whether or not the move would be harmful financially."

"If the check reveals that no damage would be done to the taxpayers, we will give our support to the idea and Mr. Willman will present it to the City Commission for approval," Ewalt stated.

The survey will probably begin next Monday and the plan will undoubtedly go into effect this summer if the reaction is favorable, Ewalt believes.

Ewalt also announced that the Parks and Recreation Department is seriously considering permitting all children under a certain age to play golf free of charge one morning each week.

Neither the age limit nor the day has been chosen as yet, Ewalt explained, but the move seems assured of approval. The age limit would be either 15 or 16, he thought.

Ewalt said that a day would have to be picked which least interferes with league play at the city course.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complains: Lacking Power

Diagnosis: Restricted Hip Turn on Downswing

TREATMENT: Much of the power you give to your shots comes from turning your left hip around on the downswing. Turning the left hip this way leads the action on the downswing and keeps contributing its part to the power of the swing as long as it's turning back to the left.

But before you'll be able to hit a long ball, you'll have to realize that the turning of the hips on the downswing is a lot different from the turn they take on the backswing.

First of all, the turn is more rapid for the downswing. Secondly, the downswing turn is accompanied by a lateral motion in the direction of the line of flight, whereas the turn on the backswing requires no lateral motion. Lastly, the turn back to the left should carry the left hip around several inches further than the backswing turn carries the right hip.

Many golfers think the backswing and downswing turns are alike. They couldn't be more wrong! And they wonder WHY their shots lose distance!

Today's drawing tells all. Notice that the left hip is well around and out of the way of the hands and arms with the clubhead still nearly a yard from the ball. Follow form and you can't go wrong.

Spartans Take 13-2 Decision From WSU

DETROIT (AP) — Infielder Frank Palamara drove in three runs on two singles and a double in sparking Michigan State to a 13-2 victory over Wayne State in a baseball game here yesterday.

The Spartans scored four runs in the seventh inning and added four more in the ninth, capping a five-run attack in earlier stanzas. Outfielders Ted Kearly and Jerry Stifler contributed to the rout with windblown homers.

Starter Craig Van Sciever, first of three Spartan pitchers, was credited with the victory. The Tarters' Joe Francis was the loser.

Dorais, Tolan, Bennie in Hall of Fame

DETROIT (AP) — Bennie Oosterbaan, Eddie Tolan and the late Gus Dorais today were added to the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

As part of the Michigan Week observance, names of the three athletic greats were placed in the Hall of Fame at a special luncheon in Detroit at noon today.

Three selections are made annually—two living and one deceased—and there now are 18 persons in the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

They are Ty Cobb, Walter Hagen, Gar Wood, Willie Heston, Harry Heilmann, Joe Louis, Jack Adams, Charles Gehringer, Fielding H. Yost, Mickey Cochrane, George Gipp, Gordie Howe, Hank Greenberg, Sam Crawford and Hughie Jennings, plus the three added today.

Veteran golfer Al Watrous and bowler Marion Ladewig narrowly missed being elected this year.

Ballots were submitted by more than 50 representatives of the press, radio and television industry, said W. N. Kerbawy, general manager of the Detroit Lions and chairman of the Michigan Week committee on sports.

Dorais was one of the early passers and a great star during a long football career. He teamed with Knute Rockne at Notre Dame and formed a dangerous passing combination. He later became head coach at the University of Detroit, then coached the Detroit Lions for five seasons. His Titan teams won 114, lost 47 and tied 7 in his 18-year regime.

Dorais died Jan. 3, 1954.

Oosterbaan, now in his 11th season as head football coach at the University of Michigan, came from Muskegon and later earned All-America grid honors three times while playing end for the Wolverines. Oosterbaan also was a great basketball star at Michigan and played baseball. He was a nine-letterman at the school.

Tolan flashed brilliantly across the Michigan sports scene during the late 1920s and early 1930s, with his greatest feats recorded in the 1932 Olympic Games at Los Angeles.

The former Michigan sprint star won three gold medals in the world games that year by scoring victories in the 100-meter dash, the 200-meter dash and as a member of the 400-meter relay team.

Junior Legion League Set

The establishment of a 56-game schedule for an eight-team Oakland County Junior American Legion baseball league has been completed by district chairman Al Voss of Birmingham.

Waterford, Berkley and Southfield were the latest sectors to enter teams joining Birmingham, Milford, Rochester, Clawson and Royal Oak.

Rochester and Milford were league winners in 1957 with Milford going to the regionals in the playoffs.

Southfield is back in the loop after a 10-year absence, Royal Oak has not had a team for eight years and Waterford is returning for the 1st time since 1955.

Schedule plans call for four games to be played each Wednesday and Sunday starting June 11. Play concludes July 27. Sunday games will start at 2 p.m. Wednesday play will start at 6.

All boys who will not reach their 18th birthday by September are eligible to play in the league. Post teams can draw players from their own community and adjacent areas.

'Gainers' Newest Detroit Pros

DETROIT — Add another name, the Detroit Gainers, to the pro sports scene of the Motor City.

The Gainers, reported to be one of 13 franchises comprising the American Football League, moved into the Detroit scene in somewhat mysterious manner yesterday when Pete Korfike, an unemployed sales promoter suddenly announced he was named general manager of the Detroit franchise.

A New Yorker by the name of Lee Hunger is listed as commissioner of the league and Bill Turner another New Yorker is the league secretary.

Korfike said the league is being backed by a group of New York businessmen which have selected 13 cities for franchises. The cities listed are New York, Miami, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Francisco, Boston, Buffalo, Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles and Detroit.

Nothing is known about the players, coaches, sites or schedules of the various teams, except that Korfike said the AFL would play on "share the gate" salaries.

This means that the players would get equal shares of the gate receipts in their respective cities.

Currently the AFL (American Football League) claims eight of the 13 franchises have been set, and the other five will be ready within two years.

Korfike, who was hired by the New York business through a Detroit employment agency, also said that the league is preparing to start play next September and that he would talk to University of Detroit officials about the use of Titan Stadium.

With all the mystery surrounding the organization of the league there were suggestions made that this could be merely a hoax. However, Korfike, 32, said he had talked to the New York men by phone and that the Detroit Gainers are going to open a box office somewhere downtown Detroit.

Powerboats Set for Apple Cup

CHELAN, Wash. (AP) — Mighty engines will roar here Sunday when America's 1958 powerboat season opens with the second annual running of the Apple Cup Speedboat Race.

Twelve huge hydros, four of them brand new and unraced, will go for the golden apple and approximately $3,000 in prize money. The winner of the 60-mile chase gets $1,500, second is worth $1,000 and third place $500.

Each qualifier will pick up $100 and to earn it a boat must make three laps of the three-mile oval at 90 miles per hour.

An estimated 80,000 people swarmed down on this small north central Washington community for the Apple Cup Inaugural last year. Race officials are preparing to greet 100,000 Sunday.

Ace Hurdlers Renew Rivalry in Monroe Test

Cawley, Cole, Sowell, Hawkins Entered in Saturday Meet

What may well be one of the hottest rivalries to crop up in Saturday's Monroe Relays today held the interest of Pontiac Central High, Waterford and Farmington track squads. It involves four of the area's top hurdlers, possibly a fifth. Only the high sticks will be run at Monroe, but this is where the big contest is expected.

Warren Cawley of Farmington, who missed the Mansfield O. meet, in which Waterford's Bill Cole, and PCH'S Danny Sowell and Jim Hawkins performed well is rated the man to beat. Porter of Inkster, a Mansfield placer, may also be in the lists.

If Cawley and Cole should collide in the event, it will be the 3rd time they have met. Cole is a constantly improving performer. Cawley erased Hayes Jones' CMC high sticks mark, last weekend.

Mrs. Weiss Wins WDGA Opener at Forest Lake

Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint won the first tournament of the season in the Women's District Golf Association yesterday at Forest Lake Country Club with a sudden-death victory over Mrs. J. G. Israel of Knollwood.

Mrs. Weiss took the championship flight with a par on the first extra hole after she and Mrs. Israel finished the regulation 18 holes in a tie with 86. Mrs. L. W. Smead of Oakland Hills, a first flight contender, was the low shooter with a 73 as only seven golfers in the field of 85 broke 90.

Cranes Win 19th Meet

Area Preps Busy Tuesday

Cranbrook added another victory (season's 6th) to its string of unbroken track and field victories over the last two years, yesterday afternoon. Cranes topped a strong East Detroit club 64 and 2-5 to 58½ points, with Orchard Lake St. Mary a distant 3rd, with 14⅓ points. It was Cranes' 19th win.

Victors took 7 firsts, led by Larry DeWitt's 16¼ points, won 220 sprints and a leg of the 880 relay. Other Crane firsts were the medley relay, mile (Christ Platou 4:57.2), the 440 (Tom Noteware 53.8) and high jump tie.

East Detroit's Gary Ballman (13 points) won the hurdles (both 120-yrds, 15.4, 13.1) run on grass. The vault and 880 (Jim Pontiera, 2:04.6) went to ED, with Joe Waluk's 50 feet 10 inch shot toss, OLSM's, only first.

Waterford won its 6th meet of the season yesterday at Milford, outdistancing Milford and Northville. Skippers took 8 firsts in collecting 73 points to 47 for Milford, 17 for Northville. A number of field records were set including two hurdle marks by Bill Cole (W), 15.5 in highs and 21.2 for lows. Host team got one first (medley relay), Northville three.

Besides Cole, Skipper winners were Bill Loveland (100 and broad jump), Jerry Nelson (220 at 23.5, a field record), Mike Ewer (880), Bob Mitchell (high jump), Tom Blezinski (tied pole vault).

Birmingham won its 4th EML dual at home against Hazel Park, 80⅓ to 28⅔ points. Kermit Ambrose's club took 11 firsts in 13 events, including Bob Stephenson's 6 feet ⅜ inch high jump for a school record; Chuck Gibson's 54 feet in the shot; Stephenson's 440 win; Bob Kulow's 30 feet 11½ inch broad jump and 10.5 century. Les Danielson (220) and Bob Benson (mile) were other Maple winners. Jim Murphy won the hurdles for Hazel Park's firsts.

Cranbrook also won a baseball game yesterday, outlasting Hamtramck 7-4 on the Cosmos field. Cranes trailed to the 5th, where they got four runs to clinch the win, their 6th (6-2 mark). Dave Walsh's single sent in tying and winning runs. Andy Billesdon was winning pitcher.

Other area games included:

Avondale 4-3 over Lake Orion. A two-run 6th frame settled the issue after trailing from the start.

Southfield defeated Waterford 7-5 in an I-L game. Bluejays led all the way. York was winning pitcher, Jim Lowry the loser. Bob Filar (S) and John Herrington (W) had 3 for 4 at the plate.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

If Red Run Golf Club officials have their way, the touring professionals will "burn up" the place at the end of this month in the 55th Western Open tournament.

As a matter of fact, they'll be downright disappointed if par doesn't take a gruesome battering when the nation's top pros converge on Red Run during the Memorial Day weekend.

Frank Metzger, Red Run's head pro, believes that a scorecard of 273—15 strokes under par—will be required to win the 72-hole event, scheduled Thursday through Sunday, May 29-June 1.

Metzger predicted "low scoring and sensational shots" for the Western Golf Association's famous annual classic won last year by Doug Ford at neighboring Plum Hollow.

SNEAD

"The course is in perfect condition," Metzger said. He also stated that club officials have made no major changes in order to toughen the layout.

"We have built up a few tees and let the rough at the edge of the fairway grow in spots, but we are leaving the course wide open," Metzger announced. "We ought to see some real fireworks before the tourney is over."

Every bright light on the American tournament circuit except Sam Snead is entered and the Slammer is fully expected to join the ranks at tee off time. Snead was Western Open champion in 1949 and 1950.

There are two good reasons why the Western attracts the best in the trade. First of all, double points are at stake for the United States Ryder Cup team.

In addition, the Western is one of America's four most significant events. It rates alongside the U.S. Open, PGA and Masters in national prestige.

SHORT PUTTS

Waterford's Jack Reynolds and Tim Baldwin from Birmingham, sophomore members of the Michigan State golf team, will pick up a little flying time this weekend.

Friday night the Spartans fly to Bloomington for a Saturday engagement with Indiana, then hop to Madison for a Monday meet with Wisconsin before returning to the MSU campus Tuesday.

Sectional qualifying trials for the national PGA tourney are slated June 16 at Port Huron's Black River Country Club.

'Razzberries' Missing in U.S.-Soviet Series

MOSCOW (AP) — The one thing American basketball players missed on their just-completed tour of the Soviet Union was the good old U.S.-style "razzberry."

No booing by Russian spectators. No barracking. No show of favoritism.

"The Russian fans were almost too polite," said Bert Born, star of the Peoria, Ill., Cats. "We sometimes felt we were playing some other game."

The girls found the Soviets leaned over backwards to be good sports.

"When the Soviet girls beat us they did it gracefully," said Margaret Holloran of the Nashville (Tenn.) Business College team. "When they lost the crowds still cheered us."

Relations were so good between the two teams during the 10-day visit that the Americans immediately invited Russian teams to play in the United States next winter.

Preliminary plans were made for a series of U.S.-Russian games, starting Feb. 1. Games would be played in Denver, Peoria, Kansas City, San Francisco and New York.

"We hope to show them the same hospitality they have given us," said Kellum Johnson, president of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union.

The American teams, treated to a friendship dinner at the famed Metropole Hotel last night, headed homeward today. They fly to Copenhagen and then to Paris. The women are scheduled in New York Thursday, the men Saturday.

Spartan Quintet Lists Schedule

EAST LANSING (AP) — A 21-game schedule, including 14 Big Ten contests, was announced today for the 1958-59 Michigan State basketball squad.

The Spartans will open the season Dec. 6 with a home tilt against Detroit. They start conference play Jan. 3, also at East Lansing, against Indiana, the team that barely beat State to the Big Ten championship this past season.

A Dec. 3 date is still open and opponents are not yet certain for the Dixie Classic Dec. 29-31 at Raleigh, N. C.

The schedule:

Pontiac Baseball, Softball Programs Starting May 18

Baseball and spring are synonnmous and the hour is drawing near for the start of the 1958 City League baseball and softball programs, sponsored each year by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Final managers' meeting scheduled this week and next will complete the groundwork for the summer baseball and softball campaigns, which get under way Sunday, May 18.

The last meeting for managers or representatives of adult baseball teams will be held next Monday night at 7:30 in the Parks and Recreation Department office at City Hall. Opening day and the annual Amateur Day festivites are among the many items up for discussion.

There is a strong possibility that a Class B league will be formed this season, the Recreation Department has announced. Five teams are currently registered in the Class A loop while four fall in the "B" group. More teams are desred in both classes.

The final meeting for women's City League softball squads is slated Thursday night at 7:30 in the Recreation Department office. Only four women's team are registered at this time and there is room for more.

Spring training and junior baseball, other annual activities of the Recreation Department, begin this Saturday on the Jaycee Park and Washington Junior High diamonds.

Junior competition will be held in four classes — Class D, 18 years of age and under; Class F, 15 and under; Midgets, 13 and under, and Widgets, 11 and under.

The spring training program will run on successive Saturday from May 10 through June 7 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

Managers' meetings will be held May 14 at the Recreation office, midgets and widgets at 7 p.m. and class D and F at 8. For additional information, call the Parks and Recreation Department, FE 3-7131.

Armada Thinclads Win Southern Thumb Title

Pulling out of a tight battle for points with Brown City, Armada's thinclads grabbed the Southern Thumb prep league title yesterday at Memphis, 64½ to 60 for its top rival. Meet produced several records, including two by hurdlers Thomas (highs, 16.5) and Fisher (lows, 19.6). Both ran for Brown City and a 23.0 (220) by Armada's Tom Traub, who also tied the loop mark for the 100 at 10.5. Winners had four firsts, runnersup three.

Standings of other teams: New Haven 35½, Memphis 28, Almont 24, Capac 13, Anchor Bay 8. Dryden was shut out.

Skippers Win Golf Meet

Waterford High defeated Clarkston, 176-183, in a dual golf meet yesterday at Clarkston Golf Club. Chuck Canterbury of Waterford was medalist with 36 and Chuck Hancock shot 41 for the Wolves.

Switch in Plans Raises Protest

Rooney Hits Lamprey Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of killing sea lampreys in the Great Lakes last year was $7.50 each, a House appropriations subcommittee was told in testimony made public yesterday.

"That is a very expensive item," commented Rep. John J. Rooney (D-NY), chairman of the subcommittee, after state department witnesses conceded the cost was that high.

The closed-door testimony showed Rooney led the state department witnesses over a rough road in a two-day hearing on their request for $914,300 to fight the eel-like parasite. The printed transcript covers 41 pages.

Rooney appeared upset over a switch in U.S.-Canadian Great Lakes Fishery Commission strategy after Congress last year gave the commission an additional $300,000 for electro-mechanical barriers to trap adult lampreys in the lakes. The switch is away from such barriers toward poisoning baby lampreys in the streams.

And he expressed more displeasure that the appropriation request for U.S. participation in the commission remains the same as last year despite the switch.

The trend toward the use of the chemicals or lampricides to protect Great Lakes game fish from the lampreys began after a successful test last year at Little Billie's Creek, Cheboygan County, Mich.

William C. Herrington, state department fisheries and wildlife expert, said the commission needs money this year to buy the larvacides. To this, Rooney said:

"I cannot make heads or tails out of this thing. I do not understand this whole business. Last year we appropriated a substantial amount of the taxpayers' money, and no one is explaining the purpose for which it was used. I know less now than when I started . . .

"Are we going to appropriate on Mr. Herrington's good looks or what?"

Rooney made much of testimony that last year's $914,300 appropriation produced only 122,275 dead adult lampreys.

And on four occasions he read into the record this testimony last year by Dr. James W. Moffett of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries: "The barrier is the major item with which we intend to control these parasites."

Rooney concluded:

"You really made a great case here (last year) for us to go along with the money for the construction of these barriers. You are going to have to do some justifying for what you said last year and explain why we should depend upon your advice this year."

No Recession Seen for Sale of Tackle

Interest in new fishing tackle for the nation's 70,000,000 lovers of the piscatorial sport apparently has not been dampened by talk of a recession, reports a prominent maker of monel swiveling fishing devices.

The Bridgeport, Conn., firm believes retail sales of fresh and salt water tackle will exceed $100 million in 1958. This figure, while not a record, would match the 1957 sales, second best in the history of the fishing tackle business. Sports fishermen spent $134 million on tackle in 1956. "Payoff" end of the fish line (hooks, swivels, leaders, spinners and lures) will absorb about a third of the '58 total, it is expected.

Unusual Hazards

Building a home in Anchorage, Alaska occasionally is fraught with unusual hazards like the time recently, when a builder had to "excavate" an angry bull moose that had fallen into the newly dug basement. Outside of his feelings, the moose was unhurt.

Little Stories About Outdoors

The mushrooming pleasure boating and allied water activities in this country are already being projected into 1960, when an even greater expansion is anticipated. Plans are now under way for the 1960 National Boat Show in Chicago, set for Feb. 6-15. Outboard Boating Club of America is the sponsoring agency.

Some 282,840 boating fans attended the 1958 show in February. The event is looked upon as a national showcase for the $1.9 billion pleasure boating industry. More than 35 million persons took part in recreational boating in 1957, using some 7,071,000 pleasure craft, the OBC reports.

Inveterate angler Wayne Francisco, of the Walled Lake public schools was a limit-taker on opening day of the trout season, getting a nice creel of brookies on Hunt Creek, near Lewiston. He introduced WL's assistant superintendent, John Williams, to fly fishing on Williams' first trout trip —and he did all right, Wayne says.

Froggers, like the bass fishermen, have to wait until June 21, before they can go after their long-legged quarry with spears. Both small and large-mouth bass become legal game on that day. General season opened April 26, along with the trout season.

Visitors to the Upper Peninsula this summer will have their first opportunity to explore the underground workings of an iron mine in northern Michigan. The old East Vulcan mine is being readied for opening on June 16, for guided tours.

Long Casts a Necessity

Pond Fishing Difficult

By JACK PATTERSON

Offhand we can't say just how long ago it was that the Bald Mountain trout pond was created, through the expedient of damming up a minor creek, but we have watched the efforts of hopeful, and mostly unsuccesful fishermen there with interest for several years.

PATTERSON

Restricted to fly fishing, the pond offers some interesting problems to the caster. Principally because the banks are mostly bare, the major cover for fish is an underwater jungle roughly in the center of the pond, running most of its length.

In most parts the water deepens rather abruptly from the bank and waders won't get the fisherman very far out toward the cover. To thoroughly cover the fishable water calls for consistently longer casts than one normally needs in stream fishing, and reason No. 1 for so-so success on this pond is that most fishermen fail to get the distance and spend their time fishing the "in-between" water where there are fish sometimes, but more often not.

Getting a long cast out, an operation made easier by open shorelines, unfortunately doesn't guarantee a two pound rainbow, or even any rainbow, but it is a step in the right direction.

Two other factors enter the picture here. First, and most important, is how the fly is fished, and second, what type of fly is used.

Assuming our angler is fishing wet, proper procedure unless fish are working a hatch, we'll bet that 90 times out of a 100 he'll fish the fly too fast. Most of the time it is better if the fly is allowed to sink to the bottom. Then, a slow retrieve is the ticket. Pond rainbows will often follow, but seldom take a fast-moving fly. So fish it slow, slow, slow.

As for flies we'd stick to smallish, dark nymph types, although for a change we might lay a streamer on the bottom for a good five minutes, then retrieve it in slow jerks. If we felt we had to catch a fish we'd probably stick with a 14 or 16 very sparse, wingless blackfly, without a body and not more than two turns of hackle.

On the infrequent occasions when dry flies are called for our fisherman will almost always err toward too large a deal. Though we haven't found pattern important, size is, and 18's, 20's and 22's will do business when 10's and 12's fail.

Bait fishermen on nearby Paint Creek would do better if they didn't all tend to fish the obvious holes. A good many fish holding spots don't look too hot until a worm is introduced into them, and then zing — — !

Solunar Table

With the weather warming up, angling activity in the Pontiac area is due to improve. For the best times in which to enjoy their sport, fishermen should consult the John Alden Knight solunar periods, listed below, for the coming week:

	A.M. Minor	A.M. Major	P.M. Minor	P.M. Major

Archer Bags Bear

WATROUS, Sask. — Don Adams shot a 350-pound bear near here with one arrow. The first archer in Saskatchewan to win a big game award with bow and arrow, he has another bear and a deer to his credit.

Wild Turkeys, Cock of Woods!

Conservation field men were surprised, recently, to learn of the presence of wild turkeys in the Mio district. Claude Adams reported several of the big birds, including a gobbler, were seen near McKinley, the first these birds, only a short time ago "planted" in other, more southerly Michigan ranges, were seen there. How they got to the Mio district is a mystery, conservation men say. They were seen on both sides of the Au Sable river.

Several years ago Lynn Allen reported seeing a "cock of the woods," a bird somewhat like the Canadian whisky-jack, only much larger. This spring, at the Allen's North Branch (Au Sable) cottage, Lynn saw, not one, but two of the unusual creatures, famed in the old, roaring lumbering days on the big river. Few are ever reported in these times.

Maybe Fishing Lures Being Made Too Small

It could be they have been making fishing lures too small all these years.

Oklahoman Lonnie Roberts caught an 11½-pound catfish in Lake Lawtonka, found upon dressing it that the catfish previously had swallowed a full grown coot, feathers and all . . .

So Anglers Get 'Sonic' Lures

Fish 'Hear' Vibrations

ALL OUTDOORS, U.S.A. (INS)—Fish can "hear" and are attracted and distracted by sound.

The trick is what sounds do what. Some lure manufacturing companies, including the Heddon Co. of Michigan, have put on the market "sonic" and "super sonic" lures that they claim "have broken the sound barrier."

Behind all the advertising claims, unsolicited testimonials and the like there is a pile of scientific evidence that proves fish "hear."

Fish "hear" the same way a deaf person hears. It is done through vibrations that are picked up by the body and passed to an air bladder which serves as a sounding board. In turn the bladder transmits the vibrations to the bone structure and finally to the sacculus, or inner ear.

Researchers donned skin diving outfits and went underwater to observe while assistants sat in boats and cast various "sound lures" around them. Heddon biologists wanted to determine a number of things by actual observation.

They reported that in one muddy area they could not see lures reeled past them, but they could hear them—a valuable piece of information.

The experts said that if fish could detect vibrations and use them to locate food, fishermen could use vibrating, sound or sonic lures to bring fish to the hook.

State Man Winner

One Michigan angler was among the many winners in the big winter Metropolitan Miami fishing tourney, completed recently. Ezra R. Muirhead of Grosse Pte. Farms won with a 14¼-pound, 12-ounce "sail" that is listed with IGFA for a potential world record in the 30-pound line class. Majority of awards (33) in the tourney were taken by northern visitors.

Wrestles Catfish

OKLAHOMA CITY — Billy Frees 13, weights just 85 pounds, but he brought back a 25-pound catfish alive — with his bare hands. Billy saw the cat momentarily snagged on a sandbar so he jumped into the river and started to wrestle with it. He was knocked down twice but managed to get it to shore.

Outshoots FBI Man

OKLAHOMA CITY—D.A. Bryce, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Oklahoma, has a reputation as the best shot in the state. Yet he had to admit defeat when he took his 12-year-old son Johnny deer hunting.

Johnny bagged a buck at 80 yards, 17 minutes after they hit the field. Bryce hunted all day and failed to bag a deer.

Troudt Hooks Prize

DENVER — Fittingly, a man named Troudt won a big fish contest. Harland C. Troudt of Cheyenne, Wyo., landed a rainbow trout weighing 11 pounds, 11 ounces, that gave him such prizes as an aluminum fishing boat, an outboard motor and a three-day trip to the Glenwood Spring, Colo., fishing area next summer.

Time of the Snake!

Expert Tells How to Keep 'em Out of Yard

"What can I do about all those snakes in my yard?"

This is a question that Dr. Max Hensley, Michigan State University herpetologist, has grown used to hearing and answering every spring.

"I tell them that the best thing to do is keep all the grass mowed in and around their yards and to remove everything that a snake can hide under," he said.

"Snakes often hibernate in groups because they like the same sort of places — rock piles, old foundations and other spots where they will be protected from the frost."

Dr. Hensley said there are only 19 species and subspecies of snakes in Michigan and only one of them — a pygmy rattlesnake called the eastern massasauga or sometimes "sauger" and "swamp rattler" — is poisonous.

Another one which is often thought to be dangerous but really isn't, he said, is the hog-nosed snake, often known as a "puff adder" or "blow snake."

Dr. Hensley added that people sometimes mistake harmless milk snakes for copperheads and coral snakes, which are quite different and quite poisonous. Water snakes also get bad reputations because they are confused with cottonmouth water moccasins. None is found in Michigan, Dr. Hensley says.

Nitwits Afloat Provide Top Hazards in Boating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A major cause of boating accidents has been uncovered, and it turns out to be the same thing that contributes to the hazards besetting other human activities all the way from a Sunday drive to a speedy trip down the cellar stairs.

Plain foolishness, that is.

In other words, you take a nitwit out of a whizzing automobile and put him into a whizzing motorboat, and he's the same nitwit with only a change of locale.

The Outboard Boating Club of America, carrying out a survey intended to classify the causes of accidents so that missionary work could be aimed at the most dangerous areas, found that juvenile operators, storms, collisions and fires and explosions rank fairly well down among factors.

But the category best labeled plain lack of common sense leads all the rest. Overloading, standing up in the boat and similar misjudgments accounted for more than 35 per cent of all accidents checked by OBC.

On the other hand, only 9.2 per cent of the boat operators involved were under 20 years old, and the average age of all operators was more than 35.

Storms cause 9.5 per cent of the mishaps and collisions 8 per cent. Fewer than 2 per cent were caused by fires and explosions.

And Relman Morin Wins Pulitzer Prize Doing So

'Shelved' Writer Makes Comeback

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Every newsroom has its favorite drama. This is ours.

On April 25, 1955, Relman (Pat) Morin, special correspondent for the Associated Press, who had covered most of the big ones in war and peace, was hit by a heart attack. He was convinced he was through.

On May 5, 1958, Pat Morin won a Pulitzer Prize for his coverage of the integration violence in Little Rock, Ark. It was one of the biggest, most complex, most emotional stories of the year and the decade. Also, one of the most strenuous.

Pat Morin's comeback was complete.

The word is used advisedly for he had never been away, except in his own mind.

Three years ago, he recovered physically from his heart attack. After four months, he returned to his desk and to a warm welcome. But Pat was suspicious. He couldn't shake loose the dark feeling that he was being shelved; that, far from the electric excitement of the big, breaking news stories, he would be given only the quiet easy assignments, the leisurely background stories, the relaxed features.

A starting pitcher for many years, Pat Morin was now certain he'd only be used in batting practice.

"Everyone at the office was very solicitous when I got back," he recalls. "Gradually, I got the feeling I was being wrapped in cotton wool. I remember there was talk of sending me up to New England to cover the floods but someone thought that would involve too much jumping around. So they gave me an assignment right here in New York.

"In 1952, I had covered the political campaign trains, always one of the most tiring assignments. In 1956, I covered a couple of primaries, did some analytical pieces but never got near a campaign train. I began to wonder whether I'd ever get a fast-breaking story again."

Since joining the AP in 1934, Pat had covered many fast-breaking stories—in Los Angeles, in New York, London, Algiers, Tokyo, Cairo, New Delhi, Italy and Korea. Came Pearl Harbor and he was interned by the Japanese. Released in 1942, he covered the war in Europe. Came the peace, and he headed AP bureaus in Paris and Washington. Came the Korean War, and he was back on the fighting front, this time among the rice paddies, where he won his first Pulitzer Prize.

He became the kind of correspondent for which they coined the word "roving." In a given year, he traveled more than 40,000 miles, at home and abroad. He covered the coronation of a queen in Westminster Abbey and the inauguration of a president in Washington—the execution of the Rosenbergs, presidential campaign trains, strikes, crimes, trials.

All these were strenuous assignments but in 1955, after a heart attack at 47, Pat Morin thought he was to be benched as an armchair reporter.

"I had doubts on two counts. Frankly, I myself wondered if I could again take on a physically demanding story. Also, I doubted the office would give me one."

Both doubts were removed in Little Rock last year, between Sept. 10 and Oct. 1. For days, he was on his feet hours on end, fighting through crowds, rushing to phones, dictating and writing far into the night, sleeping little most nights, not at all some nights.

Now and then, he slipped into a grocery store near the Little Rock high school to make notes on a napkin, to grab a cup of coffee and gulp down some pills and drops. The pills were to counteract the fat deficiency in his diet. The drops were to strengthen his heart muscle.

"Actually," Pat recalls, "I don't think I thought about my heart atack except once. After working all night, I wondered whether I was pushing my luck too far. But my health remained fine.

"Little Rock, for me, was getting over a mountainous hump. That's why the Pulitzer Prize was doubly sweet."

Cut Car Prices, Tax, Senator Proposes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) has called upon the federal government, car manufacturers and the United Auto Workers Union to join in increasing auto sales.

Douglas proposed yesterday that the federal excise tax on cars be cut from 10 per cent to 2 ½ per cent and that manufacturers reduce prices by 6 per cent.

The senator said the resulting reduction of 13½ per cent might well check the nation's economic slump. Douglas testified before the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee.

The combined effect of the cuts on a car selling for $2,000 on the maker's level would be a price reduction of $270, the lawmaker said.

As for the UAW, now engaged in contract negotiations with the automobile companies, Douglas said that as part of this arrangement the union members "might well be willing to reconsider some of the demands which they might otherwise make in the new contract."

Hold Church Meeting

DETROIT (AP) — Protestant ministers and laymen from all parts of the United States convened here today for the 1958 General Conference of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church. Ten bishops of the denomination will preside at sessions in the conference which ends May 18.

Green who won $807, and to the right of Anderson (left to right) are: Clarence H. Jarvis, $1,000; Daniel Wilson, $912; and Ray L. Welch, $602. The enterprising foursome, incidentally, has now achieved success on a combined total of 90 ideas amounting to $11,200.

Grain Futures Sagging Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — Light activity left most grain futures prices sagging slightly again today in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

There was some export business in wheat and soybeans but it was understood to be too small to have any effect on trading. Israel, Formosa and Japan were reported to have bought soybeans and Japan also bought wheat, mostly the white grain from the West Coast.

After an hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel lower, May $2.16⅝; corn ⅜ higher to ½ lower, May $1.25⅝; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, May 62⅜; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.33; soybeans ⅜ to ¾ lower, May $2.26; lard 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.20.

Wholesale Food Prices Ease 1 Cent This Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale food prices eased slightly this week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

At $6.57, the organization's food index was a penny below the previous week and 15 cents below the year's high of $6.72 established early last month. The index is still well above the 1958 low of $6.41 on the week ended Jan. 7.

The latest reading is 7.9 per cent higher than the year ago figure of $6.09. The index has been running 6 or 7 per cent above last year for almost two months.

'Sorry This Had to Come Out'

Bares Dennis Crosby as Father of Her Child

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A pretty Hollywood brunette says that Dennis Crosby is the father of her 5-month old daughter.

Dennis, son of Bing Crosby, is honeymooning in Las Vegas, Nev., with a blonde show girl he married Sunday night.

Marilyn Scott, 25, told her story when newspaper reporters produced copies of Denise Michelle Scott's birth certificate, listing the father as Dennis Michael Crosby.

"I'm sorry this had to come out," she said. "All the more sorry for the effect it will have on my baby's future."

She said she met Dennis in a Sunset Strip restaurant, began dating him and went with him for a couple of months.

"When I first told him I was pregnant he made no offer to marry me — nor did he offer to support the baby," she said. "So I went to an attorney. The attorney took care of everything."

DENNIS MUM

When newsmen asked Dennis about the report, he phoned his family's attorneys in Los Angeles and later told reporters: "On my attorney's advice, I am not going to comment on the situation. Until I can straighten some things out with a few people, I cannot make any further statements."

There was no word on the matter from Bing, who was reported on a fishing trip. Reporters have been trying to locate him since Dennis married Pat Sheehan.

Pat is a 26-year-old divorcee. She has a 6-year-old son. She and Bing dated at one time.

WIFE KNOWS

Mrs. Scott, a divorcee who came to Hollywood seeking a movie career, said she was sure Pat knew about the baby girl. Pat, like Dennis, wouldn't discuss the subject.

Mrs. Scott is a former model and switchboard operator. She said that she received a settlement from the Crosby family, but wouldn't say how much.

"I saw no reason to say anything to anybody," she said. "The Crosbys have been fair and square with me."

She said Dennis had never seen her baby.

"I met Dennis again in January," she said, "and I invited him to come and see the baby. But he didn't come."

Stocks Mixed; Trading Heavy

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market turned irregular early today after an opening upsurge. Trading was heavy.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the rule for most leading issues.

For the third straight session the ticker tape was late briefly under a pile-up of opening blocks.

Opening trades continued the bullish mood shown in the final hour of yesterday's three-million-share day which put the market to its fifth high for the year in as many sessions.

Early gains were trimmed and a scattering of losses appeared. Republic Aviation, which is rehiring help and expanding production, remained ahead by more than a point.

Small losses were shown by Youngstown Sheet, Kennecott, Commonwealth Edison, General Electric and Eastern Air Lines.

American Motors continued in brisk demand following word it was increasing production again.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY mother and sister, Jennie Nique, who passed away one year ago, May 7, 1957.
Today recalls sad memories,
Of a loved one gone to rest;
And the ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
She has left a beautiful memory,
And sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who have loved and lost her,
Her memory will never grow old.
Sadly missed by her Daughter, Sister, Mother and Grandmother.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MOTHER, Mary Setzer, who passed away May 7, 1957.
Gracious, gentle Mother,
Always sweet and kind;
You only saw the good in folks,
And to their faults were blind.
God's taken you to Heaven,
Where all is joy and mirth;
But the place you left so empty,
No one can fill on earth.
Sadly missed by her children and grandchildren.

IN MEMORY OF MARY SELTZER who passed away May 7, 1957.
When a sister breathes her last farewell,
The stroke means more than tongue can tell.
The world seems quite another place
Without the smile on sister's face.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by her brothers & sisters.

Wilson Siestas on Trip for Kim's Premiere

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — Pardon my haste, but I've got a weekend date with Kim Novak.

Kim and I are taking an overnight train ride to San Francisco. We'll be chaperoned—by Mrs. Earl Wilson. We're going to the premiere of Kim's new Alfred Hitchcock picture, called "Vertigo."

WILSON

Next fall or slightly later the jets'll fly N.Y.-to-L.A. in 5 Hrs. 27 Min. On this flight we dozed comfortably in the "Siesta Sleeper Seats"—thanks to the leg and foot rests and the reclining back.

"We're going over Erie," I heard the captain say—then Detroit, Windsor, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Chicago—and I was siestaing.

We had a parakeet aboard and when we came into L.A., one of Howard Hughes' boys who was really on the ball, said, "Well, well, even the birds now fly TWA."

And then the merry-go-round started.

We unpacked, hustled off for grenadine of beef and a fast hello with John Ringling North and Dody Heath, and then made a flying visit to catch a red-hot show with Buddy Lester and Barbara Heller, a little gal from Joplin, Mo.

"This is the only girl I ever saw," Ben Blue said, "with two backs."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Bob Hope couldn't get an OK to land a helicopter in Times Square for his "Paris Holiday" premiere . . . "Mom" Dorsey left the hospital after two months —broken hip . . .

Red Buttons flew in from Florida for Miyoshi Umeki's big opening. (None of the four acts wanted to open the show, so a fifth act was hired to open) . . . Frank Sinatra will premiere his "Kings Go Forth" film in Monaco for Princess Grace's charities . . . Marilyn Johnson of Minneapolis, a Wilson Girl candidate, is engaged to former basketball star Ash Resnick.

Diana Barrymore, on the wagon, won't even order food with a wine sauce . . . Opera star Italo Tajo, now in Rome, writes neighbors: "Visit my wife and make sure she doesn't buy any sack dresses!"

MARILYN

WISH I'D SAID THAT: As any secretary can tell you, the longest hour in the day is from 5:15 to 5:30 p.m.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: This is progress—nowadays you can twist a dial and see exactly the same thing you saw 20 years ago. That's earl, brother.

Workers to Get Silver Dollars

Plant in Illinois Town Lauds Union's Signing of Long-Term Pact

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (UP) — Business is booming in Mount Carmel's main industrial plant and the town, to the jingle of a ton of silver dollars to be paid workers, is going to celebrate.

Union-management teamwork in the signing of a new long-term contract was cited by Eugene Powers, plant manager, as making possible expansion of the plant and increased production. He said he believes the contract is the first of its type negotiated between company and union.

"The contract gave us a stable basis for progress," Powers said. "We've been able to hire 230 new employes and add a whole new line of products."

The contract with the company, Thordarson-Meissner Co., was signed last August and becomes effective May 14.

"It was a simple renewal of the previous three-year contract," Powers said. "The union agreed to giv up an opportunity for wage increases over the next five years on the company's promise to expand and keep everyone working."

Workers now earn from $1.30 to $2.20 hourly.

When the contract was signed by the union, the International Assn. of Machinists, Local 2042, the plant employed 175 persons in the manufacture of electronic equipment. Today 405 are on the payroll.

"Sales are up 20 per cent over the three million dollars of last year," Powers said.

To celebrate the beginning of the new contract, Mount Carmel, a Wabash River town of 10,000, has designated next week as Thordarson-Missner Co. Week.

Plant workers will be paid in silver dollars — 27,000 of them weighingmore than a ton. Merchants have agreed to giv $1.10 value for each silver dollar.

College Center Can Help You Gain Admission

OXFORD, Ohio (UP)—If you can't find a college to accept you this spring, don't give up.

Here's the place to write:

College Admissions Center; Glenbrooke High School, Northbrook, Ill.

You're welcome, because in this case everybody benefits. The chances are you will find a college, and the school fills a place in its freshman class that otherwise might go idle.

It's all part of an idea hatched by the Assn. of College Admissions Counsellors with a financial assist by the Sloan Foundation.

The clearing center plan was announced today by the association president, Harry M. Gerlach, who is also admissions director at Miami University here.

He said that although college enrollments are at a peak and many colleges are overcrowded, others are not operating at capacity.

He said a survey last autumn showed that Midwestern colleges and universities could have enrolled nearly 10,000 more well-prepared students.

Unfilled freshman classes often are the result of multiple applications. The typical high school senior applies for admission to three colleges. If admission is granted by all three, one will enroll the student and the other two will have places to fill.

The admissions center will start operating next June 1.

Here is how it will work:

If you haven't found a college by June 1 and are a qualified high school graduate, you may ask for registration forms from the center. The center charges a $10 registration fee.

Whn any college has openings, its admissions director will be able to thumb through the files and select atudents to invite for applications.

After a student has accepted an invitation to apply, his registration will be taken out of the active fies.

HE'S RIDING HIGH — Robert Horton is a rugged, healthy man of action today, and he's riding high professionally as star of NBC-TV's popular Western, "Wagon Train." But Bob's life as a youngster was a nightmare of sickness and pain. "Wagon Train" is presented Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m.

Actor Recalls Years of Pain

Hero of 'Wagon Train' Has Grown to Rugged, Healthy Manhood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — The high school senior who stepped forward to accept a small gold football as the running guard on Harvard Military Academy's championship football team may have had to brush away an unmanly tear.

The tear isn't in the record book.

The reason for the tear isn't in the book, either. But today I'm putting it there. It represented more courage, heart and physical strength than the football award.

The senior's name was Bob Horton. You know him today as the handsome, soft-voiced redhead who plays Flint McCullough, the scout in "Wagon Train" on TV every Wednesday night.

Today 6-foot-1, 175-pound Horton is a rugged, healthy man of action.

But between the ages of 10 and 14, Bob Horton's life in Los Angeles was a nightmare of pain, operations, physical breakdown and emotional disturbances so great that only a year ago an analyst was able to shake his hand, and smile:

"Bob, I'm happy to say you don't need me any longer."

MEMORIES OF PAIN

A kidney ailment at 10, which required a year of weekly trips to a doctor's office, brought young Horton the loss of physical strength and memories of pain he still shudders to recall. Finally there was an operation to save his life.

It was followed by 13 emergency operations, including an appendectomy. They were years, he remembers, during which some doctor and his parents always were saying:

"You can go out and play, Bob, but take it easy."

As a freshman in a public Los Angeles high school, Bob was taking it easy, too, when the football coach saw him passing a pigskin to a pal after school one day. "How about coming out for the team?" said the coach.

"Gosh, I'd like to," replied Bob, pounding the football against his palm in nervous embarrassment. "But I-I-can't sir. It's my kidney. I have to take it easy."

The next day as Bob silently watched the team at practice there came a stabbing pain with words worse than all of his physical pain as a small boy. The coach looked at him, then turned to one of his players and said:

"Horton would like to play but he SAYS he's got kidney trouble."

PROVED COURAGE

The tear Bob later had to brush away—after he had left public school, had regained his health and had gone on to win one season of private school football honors—may have been left over from that day when a thoughtless coach hinted he was yellow.

He knew he wasn't—and against staggering odds he finally proved it.

The odds were against him as an actor in Hollywood, too, after he served in the Coast Guard during World War II. For two years after the war he worked as a cook, dishwasher, cashier and in other jobs "to find myself."

He studied dramatics at the University of Miami, at UCLA, and later in the New York classes of Lee Strassberg, who founded the famed Actors' Studio.

Then came summer stock and TV acting in New York.

COLD RECEPTION

Hollywood paged him in 1951 and by 1953, after seven movies, MGM decided he was a young Clark Gable. Then MGM's lion stopped roaring and the Horton who was "hot" discovered he was "cold" at other studios, by then hiring economy experts instead of young actors.

An unhappy marriage ending in divorce didn't make things any brighter for Horton.

But instead of doing cheap movies he sought out good roles on TV dramatic shows, played them with brilliance and then he climbed aboard TV's now high-rated "Wagon Train."

And what a ride he's having. "A year ago," he grinned, "I went to New Orleans and a few people stopped me and said, 'Haven't I seen you on TV?' A couple of weeks ago I went there again and they gave me the key to the city."

Gets Into Real Trouble for Brawls on Streets

CAIRO (INS) — After Gamil Mohamed Hassan had paid 22 different fines for street brawling, police decided the 23rd offense should be punished with a jail sentence. But when the police took Gamil to the jail, he screamed: "You cannot lock me up with men, I'm really a girl."

A police matron confirmed the claim of the unkempt trousered trouble-maker, who explained her name was really "Gamila" which in Arabic means "pretty."

Planning Unique Type of Building for City Parks

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. hopes to build a unique type comfort station at three city parks.

Th rear walls would face a concrete court and could be utilized in uch activities as tennis practice and handball.

"As far as I know, this is the first time a park building has been designed to incorporate this extra, recreational feature," said David R. Ewalt, parks and recreation director.

The buildings would be located at Jaycee, Rotary and Optimist Parks and would be paid for mainly through funds raised by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Pontiac Rotary Club and the Pontiac Noon Optimist Club.

Ewart said the Jaycee building, which would be the largest, is estimated to cost less than $5,000. The other two are priced at $3,000 or less, he said.

'Allergies' . . . a Term Designed for Mothers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — You must concede (unless you are in the process of falling in love again) that there's nothing really new under the sun.

It's just that they affix a new name to your old problems.

Take asthma, prickly heat, poison ivy and chronic common cold symptoms. They used to be called asthma, prickly heat, poison ivy and common colds. When you got them, you applied the proper liquids, from calamine to cambric, and waited for them to go away.

Today all these ailments, and worse too, are labeled "allergies." It doesn't exactly take the itch out of poison ivy to call it radicans toxicodendron allergy or contact dermatitis—but it does make it more impressive, now, doesn't it?

A mother can worry more about a dermatitis condition, and after all what are mothers for?

Since allergies have come into prominence this last decade, life has been infinitely more fascinating and comfortable for people who can afford to have their backs pricked by specialists. Great problems have been solved through allergy tests.

Take the case of the man who loved scotch and soda, though it consistently gave him a headache. His entire life was changed when a specialist discovered he was allergic, not to the scotch, but to the aspirin he took as a chaser.

And the woman who feared she was allergic to her husband and discovered it was not actually he who turned her into a rash, but rather his pipes, his occupation (dust brought home on his clothes) and his dog.

You can imagine how THAT discovery perked up the marriage.

To ease the minds, as well as the physical discomforts of sufferers, a woman named Kay Kempton Haydock has written a book with the cozy title, "Your Allergy and You."

In it, she advises the reader of a million facts about the thousands of allergies he may be suffering from, beginning with the most common, hay fever, and going into the more curious forms—like that old bugaboo, headaches following storms out of the East.

It is not a book to be sneezed at—unless, of course, one is allergic to ink, paper or the spending of $2.95—and it should be fascinating to anyone with an unexplained ache or tickle.

Mrs. Haydock takes the allergic person in hand and tells him how to clean house, how to raise his children, what city to live in to avoid pollen, what kind of work is dangerous, and whom to marry to avoid pains in the neck and elsewhere—e.g., two people who are allergic or have allergies in their immediate families should never wed.

When you finish, it isn't likely you'll have got over your problem. "Allergy is rarely outgrown," the author says. "Learn to live with it."

But it is guaranteed you will be the most hep hypochondriac in town.

Waterford Readies for Decoration Day

A meeting of all Waterford Township police, auxiliary police and civil defense personnel has been set for May 19, with the township board, in an attempt to get organized for the anticipated traffic on Decoration Day.

Spearheaded by Justice of the Peace Donald Adams, the group will discuss ways of keeping the heavy traffic flow moving smoothly, and keeping serious accidents at a minimum.

Adams, who was recently appointed a chairman of the Michigan State Water Safety Committee by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, said that the group will also discuss safety on the township lakes for fishermen as well as sports enthusiasts.

Job Is His Life

Education Chief Dedicated

By International News

Lawrence Gridley Derthick was born in a mission school domitory, and schools and missions have been part of his life ever since.

The 52-year-old U.S. commissioner of education is described as being "dedicated to his finger tips to the schooling business." Since his appointment in December, 1956, Derthick has traveled up to 80,000 miles annually, preaching his mission of more and better education for the individual.

Derthick was leaving Washington again Tuesday—this time heading a 10-man group to study the much-touted Russian education system. In the past he has said Russia's education is designed for the betterment of the state rather than that of the individual.

Derthick is first to admit flaws in U.S. schools, but he also believes that the best in the United States is equal to the best anywhere. Education, he says, must teach children to know and live in the world as it is today. But stress in his mind, must remain on the three "R" basics.

The commissioner, born Dec. 23, 1905, in Hazel Green, Ky., has lived education all his life. Both parents were missionary teachers and his 85-year-old father, retired president of Milligan College in East Tennessee, still runs a vocational guidance service. His late mother was Milligan dean of women. His wife, Helda Hannah, is a graduate teacher.

Both brothers, his daughter and one son also are in education. The only stray in the family is Derthick's younger son, Allen, who went into architecture, but Derthick firmly believes that one day he, too, will teach.

Derthick started teaching in the public school system. He worked his way up to become assistant superintendent in charge of instruction in Nashville public schools, and three years later became superintendent of Chattanooga public schools. His Chattanooga service, which continued until his appointment as commissioner, was interrupted by one 15-month period when he served as instruction chief for schools under the Allied military government in Bavaria.

Bone Transplant Growth Reported by Physicians

NEW YORK (INS) — The first known case of "growth" in a transplanted bone was reported to the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons annual meeting in New York.

Surgeons from Indiana University said growth occurred in a transplant involving a five month old boy whose right leg was shorter than the left because of a birth deformity.

A bone from the arch of the foot was transplanted to replace the defect in the fibula, the outer and smaller of two bones in the leg.

Drs. Charles F. Thompson, Edward V. Schaffer and Frank B. Throop pointed out that it is of "considerable interest" that the transplanted bone has not disintegrated and is, in fact, growing.

This is contrary to the usual experience in bone transplants. Ordinarily, the transplanted segment merely forms a framework, but does not, in itself, stay intact or grow.

Polio Little Hindrance

DALAS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cherry, who met in a polio rehabilitation center, now have their third child. Steven was born last week, joining Janis, 14, and Sheila, 4. Mrs. Cherry is confined to a wheel chair, but does all her own housework. Cherry is manager of a credit union.

Hannah More, famous woman author of the latter part of the 18th Century, always insisted on being called "Mrs. More." However, she never married.
