Mercury Collapses, Michigan Shudders

From Our News Wires
Michigan shuddered in the grip of the coldest Dec. 23 on record today, with the mercury diving as much as 21 below zero.

But the Weather Bureau promised a slight warming trend before Saturday.

The wave of frigid weather, accompanied in the western part of Michigan by new snowfalls, established records for the date in many places and threatened all-time records in a few.

The cold was part of a general pattern affecting the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

A narrow band of driving snow whipped in off Lake Erie and virtually sealed off metropolitan Buffalo, N. Y., this morning.

The storm closed the State Thruway from Buffalo to Batavia and the northbound Niagara Thruway which runs to Niagara Falls.

Up to a foot of snow fell throughout Metropolitan Buffalo in 10 hours.

Snow plows fought stiff winds and drifting snow to keep roads open in Southern Ontario.

Heavy snowstorms Thursday forced hundreds of motorists to seek refuge in homes, public halls and anywhere they could find shelter.

Whitmer New President of Pontiac Area C. of C.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, yesterday was unanimously elected 161st president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The board of directors also elected Carl D. Rogers, first vice president; Howard M. Nelson, second vice president; F. Milton Hathaway, secretary; and Gaylord L. Herrington, treasurer.

Whitmer will take over the chamber reins from outgoing president Harry J. Woodman, manager of the GMTC Employees Federal Credit Union, at the annual banquet Feb. 1.

The school superintendent had been in line for the presidency since his appointment in September as first vice president.

The first vice president is traditionally elected president the following year.

DR. DANA P. WHITMER

Whitmer filled the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert W. Holcomb, former vice president of Community National Bank. Holcomb resigned when he moved away from the Pontiac area.

Whitmer has served on the board of directors since late 1959.

The new first vice president is the factory manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, Trostmeister, at the chamber's 1959 banquet. Rogers has served on the industrial affairs committee as well as on the special committee supervising the chamber's forthcoming film "Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise."

Nelson, Pontiac manager of Sears Roebuck & Co., was elected to the board earlier this month. He has spearheaded a number of recent downtown activities.

Hathaway, a Pontiac optometrist, is serving his second year on the board.

Herrington, Pontiac manager of Associates Discount Corp., was general chairman of the chamber's annual summer cruise last year.

In electing Rogers and Herrington, board members picked two officers from outside their own ranks. Officers of the chamber are not necessarily members of the board of directors.

Chief Pontiac to Fete GM Vice President

In honor of Fisher Body's virtual completion of the big mechanical replacement program, the Chief Pontiac organization will hold a reception at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club in honor of James E. "Bud" Goodman, Tuesday, Jan. 10.

Goodman is the General Motors vice president in charge of the body and assembly group. Prior to the meeting, brief ceremonies will take place in the plant. This will be the 13th meeting of the local Chief Pontiac group.

Pontiac—in Michigan's Lower Peninsula, traditional icebox—reported 21 below early today.

Niles, in the southwest corner of the state, ran a close second with 18 below.

At the village of Ramsey at the extreme western edge of Upper Michigan had an unofficial reading of 35 below.

Detroit broke an 82-year-old fragility record at 3 a.m. then.

LOS ANGELES (U) — Winter? The temperature reached a summary, shirt-sleeves-and-shorts 80 degrees Thursday.

Forecast for today: about 82, with some light eye irritation from smog.

The new mark was chipped away, degree by degree, during the next four hours.

By 7 a.m., the fifth new mark of the day was set with a 4 below reading.

In the suburbs it was even colder—below at Willow Run and Metropolitan airports.

The Automobile Club of Michigan said an estimated 40,000 motorists in the Detroit area and 80,000 statewide had car trouble Thursday, a record for a December day which it expected to see snapped today.

The club said 50,000 trouble calls were expected in the Detroit area alone today.

Readings elsewhere around the state: Jackson 3, Battle Creek 3, Lansing 2, Flint 4, Saginaw 3 above, Grand Rapids 4 above, Muskegon 7 above, Traverse City 7 above, Saint Joe, Marquette 11.

The record cold wave—in its second day—plunged temperatures below zero in the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic and threatened trouble for Florida citrus farmers.

Some Southern city low marks included: Tallahassee, Fla., 26; Tampa, Fla., 21; Jacksonville, Fla., 30; Tampa, Fla., 37; Mobile, Ala., 26; Miami 48.

It will begin tomorrow afternoon and will be accompanied by a predicted high for tomorrow of 30 degrees, a welcomed relief for any last-minute Christmas shoppers.

Urges Extra Caution in the Holiday Traffic

Sheriff Frank Irons and state police joined today in encouraging Pontiac area motorists and pedestrians to practice extra caution during the holiday weekend.

Ice road conditions will add to the dangers of heavy traffic.

"The risk of traffic deaths has mounted precariously the past couple of days," Irons warned. He advised motorists to remain sober and alert.

In East Lansing, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs urged Michigan motorists to "celebrate with safety over the Christmas holidays."

Childs pointed out that this is traditionally the most hazardous holiday traffic period of the year. The National Safety Council has predicted 510 U.S. traffic deaths.

State police will work extra shifts over the 72-hour holiday in an effort to cut down on accidents. Police highway patrols will be assisted by National Guardsmen.

Motorists planning pre-Christmas travel on Midwest highways may encounter hazardous driving conditions in some parts of the area today and Saturday.

Generally, though, most highways are reported favorable for driving.

Across the nation, Americans headed in every direction to spend Christmas at home, with a light step and gaily wrapped packages as death cast its shadow over the highways.

A spokesman for the nation's railroads, which with air and bus lines will transport millions of people more safely than they can transport themselves, said destinations included "everywhere. People just want to get home."

SOLENN REMINDER — The U. S. Marine Corps base at Camp Pendleton, Calif., has lost 29 men this year in traffic accidents. This formation of 30 uniformed rifles was set up as a grim symbol at the base as personnel began Christmas festivities. The

A history-making 5 degrees below zero entombed all of the Pontiac area in a sunny but bone-chilling deepfreeze for the second straight day today.

Never before has it been this cold on this date, the Weather Bureau in Detroit reported.

The mercury, which didn't even reach above 9 degrees all day Thursday, held fast at the record-setting 5 degrees below zero at 6 a.m.

It was still at this mark at 8 a.m. today, making many of the area's busiest intersections a blur of exhaust plumes as frozen motorists nudged their way to work during the usual rush hour.

Emergency road crews were overwhelmed with calls for assistance. The standard call: "My car won't start. Can you send a wrecker?"

The standard answer: "In a while." Gas station attendants reported they were hours behind schedule in trying to answer all calls.

"I couldn't even begin to count them," said one man when asked how many calls he had since 6 a.m.

Some residents of the outlying townships reported that the temperature dropped to a teeth-chattering 10 degrees below zero. There were other reports of 6 below and 5 below in the suburbs.

Pontiac Motor Division reported abandonment not as high today as it was yesterday when the thermometer dropped to 2 degrees below zero.

Today is payday. The Oakland County Road Commission reported roads clear since the last snow which fell on the area was Tuesday. However, more snow is coming. The Weather Bureau said.

It will begin tomorrow afternoon and will be accompanied by a predicted high for tomorrow of 30 degrees, a welcomed relief for any last-minute Christmas shoppers.

Crewmen From Tug Board Stern Section, as 28 Head to Safety

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Four crewmen from a commercial tug joined engineer John Richard aboard the stern section of the broken American tanker Pine Ridge today as a destroyer sped the 28 other survivors toward Norfolk.

The crewmen were placed aboard the tanker by small boats from the tug—a sharp contrast to the ticklish operation Thursday by which the 28 were lifted from the bobbing hull by helicopter.

Richard, 36, of Wilmington, Del., remained aboard to protect the owner's salvage rights.

For the third year the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will sponsor a Family Christmas Eve service. From 7 to 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Theodore R. Allen will tell a Christmas story with the use of flannelgraph scenes.

Russians 'Hoping' for 'Better' Relations With Kennedy

President-Elect Picks Adviser

Dr. Walter H. Heller Chosen for Chairman of Economic Council

PALM BEACH, Fla. (U-P) — President-Elect Kennedy today chose Dr. Walter H. Heller, University of Minnesota economist and tax scholar, to be chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

Heller, 45, was with Kennedy when the president-elect announced the appointment at a news conference.

In a discussion with newsmen, Heller said there has been a business recession for six months. He added that the economy has been lagging for 8½ years.

Heller said he favors a policy of exploring the idea of adjusting taxes to economic conditions. While he did not say so specifically, Heller apparently was endorsing the idea of a possible tax reduction in times of recession.

STILL FILLING JOBS

Kennedy kept at the task of job-filling in the midst of family preparations for Christmas and after announcing Thursday his resignation from the U.S. Senate, effective immediately.

To his Massachusetts state Gov. Foster Furcolo is appointing a successor suggested by Kennedy, his old friend Benjamin Smith II, former mayor of Gloucester.

Kennedy sent his letter of resignation to Furcolo and also notified Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding officer of the Senate and his Republican opponent in the presidential election.

Heller, who conferred with Kennedy last week in regard to an authority on public finance. He has served for six years as tax adviser to Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman, picked by Kennedy to be Secretary of Agriculture.

The chairmanship of the three-man Council of Economic Advisers is held in the outgoing Eisenhower administration by Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier. The council keeps the president posted on business conditions and trends, and also a warning flag when recession threatens or unemployment shows signs of mounting to a dangerous level.

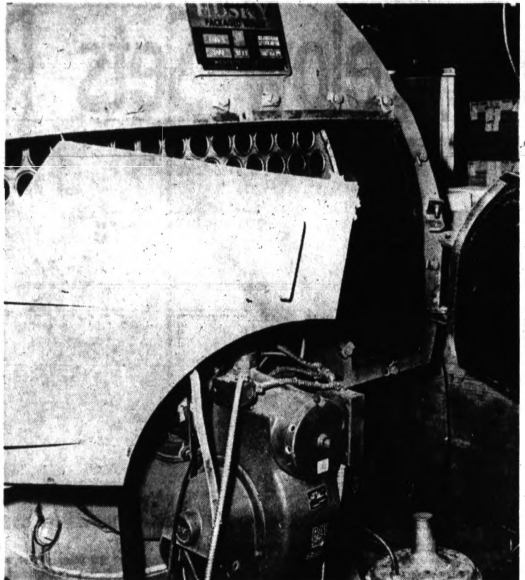

As Kennedy prepares to take over the presidency Jan. 20, the government's latest figures show that more than four million out of work. And both the Eisenhower administration and the outgoing Kennedy regime slump a worrisome development.

Kennedy still has a big job on his hands in picking appointees for policy-making federal jobs.

Even Millions of Dollars Still Can't Cure a Cold

CHICAGO (UPI)—Cold remedies relieve Americans of millions of dollars a year "but they do not cure or prevent colds," the American Medical Association said today.

The AMA's journal said that regardless of what you do for it, a cold still lasts about a week.

EXPLOSION SCENE — Half ripped from their hinges by the force of yesterday's explosion, dangling doors on the boiler in the basement of the nearly completed Leonard Elementary School in Troy are stern evidence of the blast that hurled one man to his death and injured three others.

Food Pushes Living Costs to New Peak

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A jump in food prices pushed living costs to a new peak in November.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reported today its consumer price index rose to 117.4 from 117.3 in October. In this index, 100 represents average prices for the 1947-48 period.

It is usual for food prices to rise in November. The Bureau said this is the first time they have gone up in a November since 1951.

Also contributing to the November rise in the index were increases in movie admission fees and in costs of hospitalization insurance.

The bureau also reported that the after-tax earnings of factory workers declined between October and November as a result of shorter hours.

For the production worker with three dependents, spendable earnings were down 22 cents a week from October, to an average of $80.85. The buying power of factory workers was down about one-half of 1 per cent.

HST Talks of A-Bomb; MacArthur Says: 'False'

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur wanted to A-bomb China and Eastern Siberia during the Korean conflict.

MacArthur terms Truman's assertion "completely false."

Both men are in New York. MacArthur lives here and Truman arrived Wednesday to spend the holidays with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Daniel.

Truman told newsmen during his customary walk this morning that he had no documentary proof.

"I expressed an opinion," he said, "which is not in my memoirs. I've had my say and the general has had his. You can believe anyone you want to."

The controversy was touched off by Truman during a television interview last Saturday night in Chicago. The transcript of the interview became available Thursday.

Irv Kupcinet, a Sun-Times reporter, moderator of the program, had asked Truman if, when he was president, he had been under pressure to unleash the atomic bomb during the Korean War.

GENERAL DENIES IT. "Yes," MacArthur replied, "but I did not want to do just that. He wanted to bomb China and Eastern Siberia and everything else."

MacArthur issued a statement Thursday night denying this.

"Any statement such as that attributed to Mr. Truman that I advocated the use of atomic bombs in the Korean War is completely false," MacArthur said.

"The records are available and will show that atom bombing in the Korean War was never discussed either by my headquarters or by any communication to or from Washington."

He said Truman replied: "Yes, MacArthur wanted to do just that. He wanted to bomb China and Eastern Siberia and everything else."

MacArthur issued a statement Thursday night denying this.

Home Owners Urged to Check Heating Systems

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White today urged Pontiac home owners to make sure their home heating systems are in good working order.

"During the present cold wave, furnaces are working overtime," White said. "The greatest fire hazards, the fire chief said."

White also asked merchants to have their establishments' heating units checked.

"A periodic inspection can result in tremendous savings of property—and lives," he pointed out.

Christmas Day Mass will be celebrated at 6, 7:30, 8:45 and 10 a.m.

Aid Family Which Lost 2 Homes in 9 Days

WILLIAMSTON (UPI)—Offers of help started pouring in today for a family which was turned out of its home twice in the past nine days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths and their four children were evicted from their home in a converted schoolhouse last night when fire broke out. The family lost all their belongings — when the explosion occurred by neighbors less than two weeks ago when a fire gutted their home. No one was injured in either blaze.

The board approved him for the job at a special meeting last Thursday afternoon.

Crew's duties will cover a wide area of administrative responsibility. He will work on direct assignment from administrators.

The new assistant was chosen from 18 candidates for the job, which will work on direct assignment from administrators.

We're Waiting, Says Gromyko

Khrushchev Listens as Minister Outlines 1961 Policy With U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared today that the Soviet Union is ready to improve its relations with the United States after the inauguration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's Parliament, that his government hopes U.S.-Soviet relations after Kennedy's inauguration will revert to the state they were in during the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Soviet government expressed its hope that the present unfavorable atmosphere will be cleared," Gromyko said. "This would help by 100 times the solution to many problems now unsettled."

"I am authorized to state that on the part of the Soviet government there is full readiness to promote the all-around betterment of U.S.-Soviet relations."

Khrushchev was on the platform for Gromyko's review of the international situation and Soviet foreign policy for the joint session of the Supreme Soviet. It was assumed the premier would speak later on foreign policy, but after Gromyko concluded remarks of the Supreme Soviet began debate on the foreign minister's speech.

REHASHES POLICY Gromyko's review—lasting an hour and 45 minutes—was a rehash of previously stated Soviet positions. He gave no indication that Soviet policy would be modified to improve relations with the United States.

Once more he blamed the "Eisenhower-Nixon administration" for the present state of U.S.-Soviet relations and the failure of the Paris summit conference.

He called again for a special summit session of the U.N. General Assembly in the spring of 1961, and the attack on the Western powers as "opponents not only of disarmament but also of control over disarmament."

He claimed that all neutral states now support the Soviet demand for speedy complete disarmament.

Gromyko repeated Soviet accusations against U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and his representatives in the Congo are "accomplices of the colonialists."

Mercury Here Dips to Record Low -5

Weather Bureau predicted that it would be quite so cold tonight. The low forecast is for 8 above.

The temperature hit the zero mark at 11 p.m. last night, as shown on the weather chart in the Pontiac Press cityroom, and gradually dipped lower and lower, reaching the 2 below at 2 a.m., 3 below at 3 a.m., and finally 5 below at 5:30 a.m.

BELOW AVERAGE The five-day forecast for this area continued to show that temperatures will average anywhere from 8 to 10 degrees below the normal high of 34 and the normal low of 21 for this time of the year.

The forecasters said further there would be a "warming trend" through Sunday, then a little colder Monday through Wednesday.

There was no estimate of how much snow was expected to fall tomorrow.

face cuts, a broken right wrist and possible concussion.

SUFFERED HEAD CUT Also treated at St. Joseph was the fourth worker, James Henderson, 34, of St. Clair Shores. He suffered a head cut.

Detectors from the state fire marshal's office at the Redford State Police post began the investigation.

It was not determined whether the explosion involved could be explained by gas, hot air, a combination of both or something else.

The gas furnace on the boiler had been fired for the first time and the four men were standing next to it — Foreman apparently directly in front of the furnace nozzle — when the explosion occurred, ripping the doors loose and sending the four crashing against a cement wall four feet away.

BUCKLES WALL The blast also shot up the chimney and buckled a cement block wall at the rear of the unit. Five bolts from the rear were driven through the wall.

Dr. Rex Smith, superintendent of schools, said the damage would delay the February opening of the 18-classroom school "sometime in March, at the earliest."

Leonard to Advise on Police Changes

Donald S. Leonard, former Detroit and state police adviser, will be hired as a special adviser to help reorganize the police department in Royal Oak Township.

Township Supervisor Elwood Dierks was given authorization last night by the Township Board to hire Leonard to "advise and assist in organizing adequate police service for the community."

Seven members of the township's main police force were accused last year of pocketing funds they collected in the annual Christmas Goodwill sale. All seven were later acquitted.

Dickens said Leonard will study police problems in the township, make recommendations and assist in putting them into action.

Leonard, who now works as a professional consultant and lecturer on police organization, will serve as adviser on all matters pertaining to public safety and law enforcement according to Dickens.

Nixon on Broadway

NEW YORK (U-P) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his family attended a Broadway musical last night and drew a round of applause.

1st Urban Renewal Properties Acquired

The first two properties acquired in the city's $6-million urban renewal program are homes in a land slated for residential redevelopment.

The purchases were closed yesterday, it was announced by Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

Initial acquisitions mean that the federally aided urban renewal effort, several years in the planning stage, is actually under way, said Stierer.

Purchased were homes at 117 Cottage St. and 36 O'Leary St. in the residential area east of Saginaw Street and South of Auburn Avenue, where much of the blight control effort is concentrated.

The Cottage Street home, a two-story frame building, was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. James R. Chaffee, a retired couple who plan to move to Florida in a week or so.

The total price was $7,385, said Stierer — $5,115 to the Chaffees, who have been buying on a land contract, since 1955, and $4,415 to the deed holders, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Puzarski of Troy.

The O'Leary Street home, another two-story frame dwelling, was purchased from George Ransom, a retired worker who plans to find a new home within the city limits, said Stierer.

The price was $7,362, Stierer said.

The Rosary will be recited at 7:30 tonight at the Hutton Funeral Home.

In East Germany Reds Debunk Santa

BERLIN (UPI)—An official Communist magazine said Thursday Santa Claus is an unjust capitalist who brings cheap goods to poor little boys and expensive motorcycles to rich ones.

For poor little girls, it said, he brings knitted gloves but for rich ones—even if they are bad—he has fur coats.

The magazine, Frag von Heute (Today's Woman), official publication of an East German Communist women's organization, urged mothers to tell their children there is no Santa Claus.

"Children should be told that many children in other nations do not have the happy peaceful Christmas we do in our workers' and farmers' state and the reason is because Santa is unjust," it said.

The Communists accused Santa of trying to smuggle guns, trunks, books and Western toys into the Soviet Zone.

The newspaper Volkstimme in the city of Chemnitz said Christmas packages sent from the West containing presents designed to turn children into gangsters had been confiscated by customs officials.

It said the presents confiscated included ties decorated with half-

He Seems to Have Antagonized Too Many People

Many Factors Behind Faisal Resignation

CAIRO (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia has relieved his resignation of the premier, Crown Prince Faisal, as premier and taken back the full powers of government he gave him more than two years ago.

MAN OF ALL WORK

Observers familiar with affairs in Saudi Arabia said hawk-nosed Faisal, 56, apparently antagonized too many people, especially the scores of free-spending, money-loving princes whose subsidies and salaries were cut in Faisal's regime of austerity.

Faisal also was said to have disappointed some supporters who expected him to carry out an energetic program of modernization of the political system.

Moscow Radio broadcast his resignation Wednesday by Saud, 58. The first said, "All ministers are regarded as having resigned after on limousines, palaces and luxuries. The second said Saud, "with the aid of Most High God, had taken over all Faisal's jobs himself."

Beside being premier Faisal was foreign, defense and finance minister. The radio gave no reason for the king's action.

Saud handed over the full powers of government to Faisal in March 1958, when the finances of the sprawling desert kingdom and Syria were reported in a bad state. The Cairo press speculated that despite rich oil royalties of about $300 million a year. The cause was feud and might even agree to a reported to be the lumping of the federation with the U.A.R. Faisal royal and state budgets into one later held what he called "brotherly fund from which Saud drew lavishly talks" with Nasser, but the sums for loyal sheiks to spend federation did not materialize.

Big Food Gain Is Insufficient

World Farmers Produce 50 Per Cent More Than Before War, and Yet . . .

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The world's farmers are producing nearly 50 per cent more food than they did just before World War II but there still are hungry people, the Agriculture Department reports.

According to the department's world crop estimate, food production in the year ending next June will be 42 per cent above the 1935-36 levels but will continue to be inadequate in most underdeveloped countries.

When the world's population gain is taken into account, however, the 1960-61 crop will only be a six per cent gain over the prewar average.

The report said United States farm production — on a per capita basis — will be about twice the Soviet Union's and four times Communist China's.

Australia and New Zealand top the list in per capita food production and will show substantial gains again this year, the report said.

Calls State Employee Pay Hike Appropriate

LANSING (AP) — A 3 per cent across-the-board wage increase for Michigan's 31,000 civil service workers was described by Gov. Williams today as "consonant with operations in private industry and mindful of the state's overall fiscal condition."

Williams said he came to the conclusion after making a study of the recommended pay boost and the reasons for the action, which was taken by the Civil Service Commission Tuesday.

The governor also praised the new group insurance program which will be available to civil service employees at the start of the fiscal year next July, simultaneous with the pay boost.

It Seems to Me . . .

There Is a Limit in Printing Exact Words That Are Spoken

How realistic should we be?
I refer to newspapers.

During the recent school imbroglio in New Orleans, some foul-tongued women screamed vile epithets at the central figures in the integration procedures. Their language was depravity at its worst. Readers of this newspaper would refuse to believe the absolutely filthy phrases that some of these "ladies" used.

The Associated Press and United Press International face this problem: Shall they report exactly what is said?

Some newspapers say "yes."
Some say "no."

Personally, I believe a faithful reporting is an implied part of the obligation on the part of the news services. Then the newspapers can run as much or as little as they individually desire. Of course, this leaves the same problem squarely on the newspapers' shoulders.

Should they "run everything?"
Should they duck?

Ten, twenty and thirty years ago the vile language would have been omitted completely. It might not have been mentioned. Today, we're a little more realistic. Maybe we're harder. Maybe we're a little more calloused.

The Pontiac Press does not print filthy words. We are willing to state that they were used, without the stark realism of these four letter "classics" that desecrate the language. Some newspapers actually printed what these demented mouths screamed during the height of the excitement.

I think there's a limit to everything and down here we feel that 99.99% of our readers agree. I recall the comment of a reasonably-practical friend who had just finished one of these passages of "realism."

He said: "I could achieve the same result by climbing into a bathtub without my clothing and having them cover me with manure."
I agree.

Saucer Theory Dies . . .

The total absence of "flying saucers" in 1960, would seem to scotch that persistent conception.

For a time, every beam of light that flashed through the firmament was set down as a space ship manned by little green men who had two heads, no legs and curious antennas.

A few of these rumors never really met a satisfying death. About 99.9% were explained by some weary government agencies and the rest were written off as figments of too active imaginations. Now 1960 is ready to slip away and the year has been free from interspace interlopers. With science constantly on the march, each year should see additional visitors — if visitors they had been.

An exciting theory dies.

Dorothy no longer visits the Land of Oz, and curious little green people no longer peek at us with compassion, condescension and a dash of pity because of our earthly ineptitudes.

So be it.

Season's Greetings . . .

We have a guest editorial writer Saturday who will convey this newspaper's official message, but I want to creep in on hands and knees long enough to say a faltering and humble word myself.

On behalf of all of us down here at The Pontiac Press, may I wish each one of you a "Merry Christmas" and a very "Happy New Year?" This is said sincerely and comes from the heart. We mean it. Yes, we mean it completely and in every sense that the words can convey.

Irrespective of policies, church, business or social groups, we're all friends together in one great community.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well thumbbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

In Cuba today, political prisoners are allowed five minutes with their attorneys. The meeting is never private. That's CASTRO's communistic justice . . . In 27 years on radio and TV, "The Lone Ranger" has never killed a man or kissed a woman . . . A Chicago TV performer sang "Jingle Bells" in Latin and offered a copy to anyone who wrote. He almost checked out when the total passed 15,000 . . . The current Federal budget contains 1,030 pages.

GEORGE WASHINGTON wrote his on one . . . The pictures of many young ladies have run here. They usually come from friends, but today I pick one myself.

Here's the champion, past, present and future—the prettiest, the finest and the grandest. (She's my own daughter, NANCY CONNOLLY.)

Note to homemakers: When you want to examine that little feller's throat, use a lollipop for a tongue depressor. Success is assured . . . Bert Bacharach says the U.S. working girls are "the best dressed in the world."

"They aren't extravagant," sez he, "and they have fine taste and ingenuity." . . . Social note: My gal Friday has a new hairdo. Very becoming.

Various experts are pronounced the greatest bridge players and it's a moot point. But a host agree on HOWARD SCHENKEN . . . JOE BELLINO played three years of very rough, aggressive football for the Navy and never left the lineup because of injuries . . . Safety belts in automobiles are increasingly regarded as the greatest single life savers. The national Council says if every car were equipped, between 5,000 and 6,000 lives would be saved in 1961 . . . And Good Will Toward Men.

David Lawrence Says:

Let the President Relax in Peace?

WASHINGTON — Golf-playing, unfortunately, gets to be something of a political issue nowadays when it is indulged in by a president of the United States. So it's important to begin this early to defend President-Elect Kennedy against the critics who note that he played nine holes of golf on five successive days on the golf links at Palm Beach, Fla.

This writer defended President Eisenhower against such criticism, though the argument made didn't seem to convince the Democratic National Committee, which inserted many a barb in its campaign literature about Ike's golf-playing habits.

The impression sought to be conveyed, to be sure, was that President Eisenhower wasn't attending to the public business. It was unfair criticism, and the truth is few people know the strain on a president-day president, who is virtually on 24-hour duty every day of the year.

The pressure on a president is incredible. Hence the relief that he gets by going to the golf links for a couple of hours two or three times a week is important to his health and the maintenance of an alert mind.

The United Press International, in a dispatch from the president-elect's headquarters in Florida the other day said: "Kennedy is opposed to press coverage of his golf, and newsmen were told tonight by press secretary Pierre Salinger that no photographs of Kennedy on the links would be permitted prior to the inauguration. But he promised there would be some golfing pictures after Kennedy becomes president."

GOLF NOT NEWS

Many years ago this writer covered the White House for the Associated Press, when President Wilson went to the golf links twice and sometimes three times a week — even in wartime — it wasn't considered news. There was mention occasionally of golfing by President Taft, but largely because he traveled a good deal and played more golf away from Washington than he did here.

Today, every time President Eisenhower goes to the golf links, this fact is reported on the press-association wires. Its repetition or reiteration can't help but give an impression that he is loafing on the job. The reports have been plainly used by political partisans on Capitol Hill for that purpose. Will they now say that Mr. Kennedy is putting white laws or Ethiopia is burning up — and why isn't he working on "bold and imaginative" ideas?

The Country Parson

I get the idea from newspapers through the country. They report the fatalities, a frightful number of fatalities. Frightful, I say, because the operation is unwarranted. The comparatively safe, minor operation, tonsillotomy, remedies everything the most radical tonsillectomy can remedy without risk to the patient's life.

Perpetration of tonsillotomy is particularly heinous when the doctor assures unsophisticated parents that in competent hands it is perfectly safe.

It is to be hoped that the new president will be spared such forms of criticism. To engage in physical exercise of some kind is surely not a sin or a violation of law, nor is it a neglect of duty in the interests of health. Mr. Eisenhower's good health is in large part due to his determination to ignore the critics and get some relaxation and recreation on the golf links. This has contributed a great deal to his excellent physical condition since his heart attack and later surgical operation.

There are also other kinds of criticism that ought to be out of

Dr. William Brady Claims:

Tonsillotomy Is Right, but Not Tonsillectomy

Suddenly her heart stopped beating — or so it was reported. Doctors worked frantically and after four minutes got the heart going again.

This is the newspaper story of the tonsillotomy perpetrated on an eight-year-old child. It happened eight years ago. The child never regained consciousness. Death occurred after eight years of coma.

A physician, the newspaper story says, ascribed death to a brain condition.

The "brain condition" to which the doctor referred is probably necrosis, local death of some of the cells in the brain centers — interruption of the supply of blood (oxygen) for only a few seconds may cause death of the more delicate cells in some brain centers. The wonder is that this child continued even to vegetate if her heart did not beat for a minute or longer.

The direct cause of such damage is the high level of anoxemia (insufficient oxygen in tissues or organs or lack of the normal amount of oxygen in the blood).

Cessation of breathing (cardiac arrest) is one of the dangers of operations that make tonsillectomy unjustifiable, in my judgment. I wouldn't dwell on this here were it not that tonsillotomy — instantaneous removal of the obstructing portion of tonsil — is uniformly satisfactory and subjects the child to no greater hazards than extraction of a tooth.

"Where do you get the idea that tonsillotomy is such a dangerous operation?" says a writer who calls himself "Dr. John Doe" but doesn't reveal whether he has a degree. "I have done over a thousand tonsillotomies without a fatality and some men have done many more."

I get the idea from newspapers through the country. They report the fatalities, a frightful number of fatalities. Frightful, I say, because the operation is unwarranted. The comparatively safe, minor operation, tonsillotomy, remedies everything the most radical tonsillectomy can remedy without risk to the patient's life.

bounds. One is the unfavorable comment made every now and then when a president accepts gifts from various citizens, especially of articles that have some value.

It's the same old problem of "conflict of interest." An honest public servant obeys only one master — the public interest — and does not allow any other consideration to affect his official rulings.

For a president to say he wouldn't accept any gift is to imply that all gift-givers have or might have an ulterior motive.

Early mankind, on all continents, soon sprouted the idea that a Master Mind was behind this world.

But many gods were evolved by these primitive people. Yet every such deity was depicted as vengeful, austere, despotic and almost gleeful in hurling lightning bolts to strike us down for any sin.

So our ancestors constantly knotted and tried to placate such cruel deities by sacrifices.

In India and China, they poured out wine and laid rice on the altars. Human children were thrown into the fiery belly of the idol Baal. And even the most advanced ancient religions, namely, the Hebrews, still sacrificed doves and sheep and bullocks to appease Jehovah.

The Almighty was probably dismayed at the slowness of his human children to understand that God is our Father, who loves mankind and is quite forgiving.

To prove this concept that he was a God who indulged in vengeance and cruelty, he finally reversed all precedent and thus offered a sacrifice at Calvary just to win us mere humans.

WHY BETHLEHEM?

Abraham, about 1800 years B.C., had proved his human affection for Jehovah by thus being willing to sacrifice his son to prove his love of God.

So at Bethlehem we see God recapitulating in the most unique episode in this planet's history.

Voice of the People:

'Having Trouble With Tree Lights? Check Closely'

How much longer are we going to put up with the imported junk that is cluttering our stores? I searched every store in Pontiac for tree lights that were not made in Japan and thought I had found some. There was an "Underwriters' Laboratory" tag on the set I bought which read made in U. S. A! Hurrah!

Before setting them on my tree we tried them out in the box. One socket shorted out, blew a fuse and caught the box on fire. Every last lamp in the two sets of lights were made in Japan and seven of them were no good. I am of the opinion that the only thing "made in the U. S. A." was the tag.

Beware of all tree lights. No wonder we have Christmas tree fires. Doesn't anyone in the United States make them anymore?

The stores are loaded with things made in foreign countries, and they just do not compare to American made goods.

'Schools Need More Than New Home'

It is interesting that the Pontiac Board of Education would consider buying a home to rent to the new incoming science coordinator with tax money when there are so many projects calling for funds such as the library at Daniel Whitfield School which contains 2,011 books. The American Library Association's standards state that a school of this size should have a minimum of from 6,000 to 10,000 books.

The parents of students at Whitfield School have had the dubious pleasure for five years of paying 5 cents for milk instead of 2 cents which is the price at most schools.

It is too bad the board feels there are not sufficient funds to subsidize bus rides for the children who live in Washington Park. These parents must pay full bus fare for their children or else they must cross the Orchard Lake Telegraph intersection, where there is no safety guard.

There are no songs of old to me. So sweet upon the night. As those from carolers that drift Beneath the Yuletide light.

The whole year long it seems to me. Beneath the Yuletide light. I wait for God's new year to come. In fervent hope that I may live. To hear their songs again. Their gentle voices in the blue. Like silver church bells chiming.

In the carols of an ancient Christmas time. I sometimes think that angels walk. On earth this month of year. With samples of the songs that come. Of our may later here. And when the winter melodies. Beneath the heaven fade. I feel within my heart as though. My soul to God has prayed.

'Tigers Are Making Too Many Trades'

I was shocked to see in The Pontiac Press the statement that the Detroit Tigers lost little as the two new American League clubs took some of our players.

Pete Burnside, Eddie Yost, Cool Veal, and Dave Slater were among the best players. Of course, the drafting of the players could not be helped. I can see no mistake the Tigers could have avoided — the trading of Harvey Kuenn and Frank Bolling.

There also are rumors of trading one of our best players, Charlie Maxwell. One more mistake and I think I will become a Yankee fan.

Christ Was Sent to Better Mankind

The Almighty was probably dismayed at the slowness of his human children to understand that God is our Father, who loves mankind and is quite forgiving.

To prove this concept that he was a God who indulged in vengeance and cruelty, he finally reversed all precedent and thus offered a sacrifice at Calvary just to win us mere humans.

He paid more heed to helping raise the status of women and children than to uprooting the Roman invaders. He preached a positive uplifting gospel which has led to colleges, hospitals, etc. He totally ignored the long showering nationalistic dream of the Hebrews to rule supreme on this earth. To indict their bias, he actually elevated the most hated race in their eyes to be the hero of the Good Samaritan Story.

Jesus was thus such a shock to all the conventional ideas and attitudes of his day, that even his own Apostles couldn't absorb the meaning of that Bethlehem episode.

Even after 3 years of personal tutoring by Jesus, they still expected a temporal monarch who would make them his prime ministers.

"Jesus," said Dr. Henry Him Crane, "is the most surprising challenge to the imagination of mankind ever to occur on this earth. No fiction writer could have dreamed up such a unique personality."

Right Now in Washington

All Is Peace and Friendship

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — The sweetest and light that is currently soothing the transition between the outgoing and incoming administrations is an interesting phenomenon of our times.

Instead of the passion and fury that slashed the campaign like bleeding ulcers, the rival camps are making admiring eyes at each other.

It began when 43-year-old John F. Kennedy went calling on 70-year-old Dwight D. Eisenhower at the White House. The president-elect had spent the better part of 10 months criticizing the Eisenhower administration, and he had aimed some bitter innuendoes at the "brazen young man," but the post-election reunion was as festive as the return of a prodigal son.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who but for the grace of a few thousand voters would be the next president, is also getting into the peace-and-friendship act.

He has decided to ask Lyndon B. Johnson, the man who is about to take over his job, whether he would like to be escorted to the swearing-in ceremony Jan. 20. If so, Nixon will pick him up at his home and drive him to the capital.

This is what might be called "The last ride," inasmuch as Lyndon will inherit title to Dick's chauffeur and limousine, as well as to his paycheck the moment that the oath is sworn on the Capitol steps.

STICK AROUND

The new proxy, instead of kicking out Assistant Secretary George Lodge, has asked the son of GOP vice presidential contender Henry Cabot Lodge to stick around awhile. Kennedy was so wildly enthusiastic about Eisenhower's taste in undersecretaries of state that he is elevating Douglas Dillon to his own cabinet. Incumbent Treasury secretary Robert Anderson, a Texas Democrat in a Republican Cabinet, said he is thrilled to death that Republican Dillon will become his successor in a Democratic cabinet.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, undisputed leader of the Republican right-wing, jubilantly sang the praises of Democratic Rep. Stewart L. Udall for interior secretary, even before Kennedy named the Arizona to that post. Kennedy, who has shown courage before, was not to be put off on that score. He still likes Udall, even if Goldwater does too.

Future Attorney General Robert Kennedy, Jack's 35-year-old brother who cut his wisdom teeth as chief counsel for the Senate Labor Racketeering Committee, is delighted with a couple of ace administrators who are already in his new department, and has asked them to stay on with him.

As soon as Bobby has time to sit down with FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover and Narcotics Commissioner Harry Anslinger, he expects to map out a coordinated drive on crime.

Visions of sugar plums may be dancing in other heads at this season, but Bobby is dreaming of a surprise swoop that would envelop all the crime syndicates from several different directions at the same time.

If he succeeds — and the Kennedys seem to have a habit of success — everyone could look forward to merrier yuletides except the dope pushers, gangsters, thieves and Republican "outs."

Orders Maki's Reinstatement

State Motor Carrier Officer Was Fired for Alleged Malpractice

LANSING (AP)—A former Public Service Commission (PSC) officer, fired on charges of driving around with a justice of the peace and holding court in his car, has been ordered reinstated with six months' back pay.

The State Civil Service Commission ruled Wednesday that Arnie Maki, 48, of Wakefield should get back his job as motor carrier officer, but recommended that he be transferred from the Upper Peninsula area where he had been policing the operations of trucking companies.

The commission said it ordered Maki's reinstatement with about $3,300 in back pay — because not enough usable evidence had been introduced at a hearing into multiple misconduct charges last June.

At the hearing, Maki was accused of attempting to set up a kickback of fees arrangement with Ironwood Justice Charles C. Keaton, forcing truckers to provide him with free beer, drinking on the job in a courtroom and while driving a state car, harassing trucking operations, and hiding court in his car.

Norman Berkowitz, PSC secretary, said his commission probably would ask for reconsideration of the case by the civil service board. Berkowitz declined to comment directly on the board's findings but at Maki's appeal hearing this week, he said:

"To put this man back on the job with his established reputation would prove a calamity to this department and would completely negate our efforts to enforce the law in a manner that commands the respect of the trucking industry and the other law enforcement officers and judges from whom we must obtain cooperation in carrying on our program."

FTC Wants Rules on Pleasure Boats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission has proposed a set of fair practice rules for manufacturers, sellers and distributors of pleasure boats.

The FTC said Wednesday the rules would bar false or misleading claims about materials used in pleasure boats, their speed, size, price and guarantees.

They also would prohibit price discrimination between customers.

The FTC scheduled a hearing Jan. 11 at the New York Coliseum to obtain views of interested parties concerning the proposed rule.

GOVERNOR-ELECT'S NEW HOME — This is the $100,000, 12-room home Gov.-elect John B. Swainson is leasing for his two-year term as Michigan's chief executive. Swainson, a disabled veteran, is renting the house from building contractor Vito J. Nico, also a disabled veteran. The governor-elect obtained a two-year option on the home in case he is re-elected in 1962. Unlike most states, Michigan does not supply an official governor's residence so Swainson must provide his own quarters. Estimates are that the yearly rent will cost him around $3,000. Swainson's salary as governor will be $27,500 a year.

Indonesia May Fight for West New Guinea

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia will buy arms in the Soviet Union and elsewhere to strengthen its hand in a dispute with the Dutch for possession of West New Guinea, Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution said in a statement today.

Nasution is security minister and army chief of staff.

Indonesia has claimed West New Guinea ever since the island nation gained independence from the Netherlands after World War II.

After recent mediation efforts by Malaysia failed, the Dutch announced they will bolster New Guinea's defenses with fighter planes and other arms.

Syndicate Buys Harolds Club

Reno Gambling Hall Sold

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Harolds Club, the pioneer among Nevada's ornate, bustling legal gambling halls was sold to a syndicate Wednesday for $16 million by the family that founded it in 1935.

The syndicate includes Oliver Kahle, owner of Oliver's Club at Lake Tahoe, and Ben Jaffe, Kahle's Lake Tahoe associate and landlord of the big Tropicana Casino in Las Vegas.

The sale requires approval by the Nevada Gaming Commission. The club was owned by Raymond I. (Pappy) Smith and his sons, Raymond A. and Harold.

30 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Pappy, with 30 years experience in casinos, sent young Harold to Reno in 1935 to set up a legal gambling business with a carnival wheel. The whole family arrived in 1937. All worked as dealers and croupiers until the operation boomed and they had to hire help. The Smiths were the first to hire women as dealers.

Pleads Guilty in Traffic Deaths

Pontiac Man Admits to Negligent Homicide in Fatal Accident

Minutes before he was tried in the 1959 auto deaths of two men in Pontiac, Eddie Lee Bowman Jr. pleaded guilty to negligent homicide.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer set sentencing for Jan. 23 for Bowman, 28, of 184 Cedarvale St.

Bowman was one of the drivers involved in a two-car collision Sept. 22, 1959 at the intersection of West Wilson Avenue and Motor Street. Police said Bowman failed to heed a yield right-of-way sign at the intersection.

The other driver, McKinley Price, 35, of 800 Nevada Ave., and John Rogers, 26, of 328 W. Wilson Ave., a passenger in Price's car, were killed.

The accident resulted in the removal of some right-of-way signs in the city.

Bowman, having stood mute to the negligent homicide charge, was to go before Judge Beer this morning for a nuptial trial.

Then the judge was informed by Bowman's attorney that he wished to change his plea to guilty.

The maximum sentence on the charge is two years in prison.

Moral Re-Armament's Assembly Opens Today

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—Moral re-armament's Christmas-New Year assembly was scheduled to open here today with the arrival of delegates from all over the world.

Featured at the assembly, which continues through Jan. 2, will be films made by MRA—"The Crowning Experience," "Men of Brazil," a color film made by dock workers in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, and "Freedom," an all-American film.

Pappy Marries 3 Times, Just to Make Sure

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After a third ceremony, Gregory (Pappy) Boyington, World War II Marine Corps ace turned author, says his marriage to the former Dee Tatum is now legal in all 50 states.

Boyington, 46, and the television actress, 34, were married Thursday by a judge. Their previous marriages were Oct. 7, 1959, in Denver and Feb. 16, 1960, in Las Vegas, Nev.

They said they didn't want to rely on these two because the first followed Miss Tatum's quick divorce in Alabama from commercial pilot Carson Shade and the second took place before her California divorce became final.

Also, Boyington's divorce from his second wife, the former Frances Baker, wasn't final until Dec. 2, 1959, Boyington, author of two books, is working on a third.

Police Investigating Drugstore Burglary

Pontiac police today were investigating the burglary of a Pontiac drugstore in which $208 in cash and merchandise valued at $2,900 was stolen.

The break-in at Lou's drugstore, 485 S. Sanford St., was reported to police yesterday.

The burglars apparently entered by prying open a rear door, according to detectives.

Among the stolen items were 30 cases of whisky valued at $1,650, 40 cartons of cigarettes, 48 watches valued at $450, blank money orders and a money order stamping machine.

The cash was scooped out of several cash registers in the drugstore, detective said.

Cover Yourself, Uncover Yard, Village Tells BB

PARIS (UPI)—The villagers of Houeray do not consider Brigitte Bardot one of their local beauty attractions.

So her nude sunbathing must cease.

And the 8-foot fence that hides her curves from the world must come down.

That was the result of the affair in which Miss Bardot did battle with local officials—all men—and lost.

The moody beauty's troubles began last summer when she was leading with her husband Jacques Charrier.

She moved to a syrian glade 30 miles outside Paris and had an 8-foot-high fence built around the place.

"She would go there and, according to friends, shed her clothes and bask in the sun. The neighbors objected."

The fence, a delegation told the prefect of Houeray Village, was so much like a stockade that "all that was missing was a watch-tower."

The formal complaint was not that the fence blocked the view of Miss Bardot but that it spoiled the natural beauty of the countryside.

Village Prefect Marcel Brechet appointed a "committee of experts" and, placing himself at its head, marched to the cottage to look over the situation.

Summer was over then, there was a chill in the air and Brigitte, recovering from her Sept. 28 suicide attempt, was back in her other retreat in the French Riviera fishing town of St. Tropez.

Thursday Miss Bardot, smiling again while making a new picture under the direction of her former husband Roger Vadim, received the news that the prefect had sent workers to the scene to tear down the fence.

Ward's said today the auto industry is cutting production schedules to keep inventories in line with sales.

The statistical agency said the cutback is reflected in December output which will total 323,000 units or seven per cent below the 360,400 units scheduled for assembly this month.

Ward's said January production schedules also are being slashed about 10 per cent.

Auto output in the U.S. this week will total an estimated 113,416 units compared with 138,711 last week and 103,219 in the same week last year. Truck output will hit 19,445 units this week compared with 22,226 last week and 15,993 in the same week of 1959.

Car output to date in 1960 stands at 6,612,400 compared with 5,690,200 at the same date last year. Truck output stands at 1,184,400 to date compared with 1,103,900 at this time a year ago.

Waterford Driver 'Lucky to Be Alive'

A Waterford Township motorist is lucky to be alive today, according to township police.

Paul C. Speed, 1728 Manne Road was driving east around a curve on Elizabeth Lake Road near Williams Lake Road when he drove his car onto the snowy shoulder of the road.

He lost control and slammed into a tree, a witness told police.

Speed is in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Mercy College Plans Move to Farmington Area

$25-Million Girls' School to Use Middlebelt Acres

By JIM LONG

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Lack of space for future expansion and increased enrollment has prompted Detroit's Mercy College to move its entire operation to a 240-acre site here, a spokesman at the all-girl school said yesterday.

The northwest Detroit college, operated by the Religious Sister of Mercy, announced yesterday that ground will be broken here Sept. 24 for a $25-million campus.

The site of the multimillion dollar campus is located on the east side of Middlebelt Road between 11 and 13-mile roads.

Opened in 1941 on a 40-acre site at Southfield and Outer Drive with an enrollment of 125, the college has grown over the years to its present capacity of 700 students.

The new campus will allow the school to more than double its student population.

"However, Mercy College plans to continue as a small college," the spokesman said, "since it feels that in its particular field it can better serve its purpose this way."

In recent years the school established an East Campus at Outer Drive and Schaefer Road in a 7-story building to accommodate the growing enrollment. Students were shuttled between the two campuses by bus.

No future plans have been announced for the present institutions, built originally at a cost of $1.5 million.

ACCESSIBLE

The new site was chosen, according to school officials, because of its accessibility to Detroit and its suburbs. The college will be 1½ miles from the James Couzens extension of the John C. Lodge expressway.

The move was announced yesterday by Sister Mary Lucille Miesner, R.S.M., president of the college, and Mother Mary Nicholas Mihal, R.S.M., mother superior of the province which serves Michigan, Indiana and Iowa.

The new campus will also become the headquarters for the Detroit Province of the Sisters of Mercy.

The religious order purchased the site, to be known as "Maryland," in 1959. Financing the new campus has already been arranged. No fund-raising program is planned.

Preliminary drawings of the first of several administration buildings have been prepared by the architectural firm of Donaldson and Meier, which has designed a number of schools in the Detroit area.

Along with the administration buildings, the campus will include classrooms, an auditorium, library, fine arts building, science building, student teaching laboratory school, home economics building, dormitories, dining hall, student center, single dwellings for faculty housing and a chaplain's residence.

The present Mercy College faculty consists of 21 Sisters of Mercy, 8 priests and 61 lay members.

Sister Mary Lucille said in announcing the plans, "Everyone knows of the increased responsibility that will be placed on institutions of higher education in future years. Mercy College leads out to meet this challenge."

The Religious Sisters of Mercy operates 44 schools and colleges and 25 hospitals in its tri-state province.

Communion Set for Tomorrow

Annual Christmas Eve Methodist Rite to Start at 9 P.M. in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — Worshipers at the First Methodist Church will observe the annual Christmas Eve Family Candlelight Communion service beginning at 9 p.m. tomorrow, according to the Rev. William Richards, church pastor.

The service will continue until all communicants have been served, then they may depart at their own desire after having received the elements.

A background of soft organ music will be played by Mrs. Anne Thomas with choral music presented by the Senior and Wesleyan Choirs, adding the glow of candlelight.

Every 10 minutes Rev. Richards will deliver a short meditation on the "Birth of Jesus." The pastor will interpret the thoughts of the shepherds, the wise men, the innkeeper and Joseph and Mary.

Because of the large attendance every year — and in order to care for the overflow — this type of communion service has been adopted.

"Many people enjoy the brief meditation and then return home to be with their families," Rev. Richards pointed out.

On Christmas Day the church will hold two services, beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing at 11 a.m. The subject, "Unto Us a Son is Born," will be presented by Rev. Richards and special selections with outstanding guest soloists have been prepared by director of music, William Mansfield.

There will be no Sunday School sessions in order that families may worship together on Christmas Day. However, the nursery will be open to serve youngsters of church members and guests.

OK Multiparty Phone Service Cut for Utica

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has been granted authority to discontinue multiparty service in its Utica exchange in Macomb County, Michigan Public Service Commission Executive Secretary Norman Berkowitz said today.

The commission authorized Michigan Bell to discontinue its four-party residential and two-party business service in the exchange area as part of the utility's changeover to direct dial service in the state.

Berkowitz said the commission order also allowed Michigan Bell to "slightly enlarge" its Utica base rate area, including transfer of parts of the Rochester and Washington exchanges to the Utica area.

Some 2,000 customers were affected by the change in services, Berkowitz said.

The change in service was expected to result in an $11,000 annual increase in gross revenue for the company, he said.

Farm Equipment Demand

Optimistic for Next Year

TROY — Demand for farm equipment is on the up-grade and industry sales in 1961 should be 13 per cent higher than in 1960, Merritt D. Hill, vice president and general manager of Ford Motor Co. Tractor and Implement Division, said here today.

"The year 1960 was a very disappointing one for most producers of farm equipment. The industry's tractor production slumped 45 per cent from the 1959 level, Ford tractor production declined correspondingly," he reported.

"Retail sales were off more moderately, the decline resulting primarily from unusually cold and wet weather, in many areas of the United States in the spring and from farmer pessimism in the early part of the year regarding income prospects."

"It appears now that this pessimism was not justified. Gross farm income in 1960 is estimated at $37.7 billion, a slight increase from 1959. With fewer farms in operation in 1960, the per-farm average gross income rose an estimated 3 per cent this year."

"Because reliable industry statistics on inventories and retail sales are not available in time to be of much benefit the members of our industry in planning production schedules, field stocks of tractors and of many items of farm equipment and harvesting machinery were substantially higher at the beginning of 1960 than warranted. This led to production curtailments, and in some lines to 'distress' selling."

"The excessive inventories appear now to have been worked off, and production in line with sales can be resumed," said Hill.

Brooklands Club Plays Santa to 1,900 Children

BROOKLANDS — The Brooklands Exchange Club played Santa Claus for some 1,900 elementary school children in this area yesterday and Wednesday.

The club's 54 members passed out candy-filled Christmas stockings to pupils in the Avon, West Utica, Auburnshire and Brooklands elementary schools.

Exchange Club president Rudy Minchella said the project is financed through its annual fund sale, which is held in October just before Halloween.

Forestry Field Day Set Today

OAK PARK — Members of the department of parks and forestry here were armed with ropes and saws to invade Birmingham today for the first annual Parks and Forestry Field Day.

The field day is the result of a challenge by the Oak Park department, which was to do battle with members of the Birmingham Department of Forestry and Parks.

At stake were such titles as the "Nightiest Woodcutter of All" and "Tractor Man With the Trickiest Touch on the Throttle."

The contest was slated to start at 12:30 p.m. at the Springdale Golf Course in Birmingham.

The crew of tree trimmers which piles up the most points in individual and team competition will be named the winner each year.

A chrome axe is the prize for the winning department. The crew which wins the axe three out of five years will gain permanent custody of the trophy.

Scheduled for competition are tests of skill in rope throwing, rope climbing, cross-cut sawing and hand sawing. A tractor obstacle course race and a spur relay race round out the competition.

This marks the first year that the Oak Park department has taken on outside competition.

Longer Mayor Term to Be on Utica Ballot

UTICA — Proposals to lengthen the terms of the mayor and city assessor to four years will be on the ballot in a special election here Feb. 17.

Another proposition in the election requests that the residency rule for candidates seeking public office in Utica be shortened to one year.

Candidates now have to live in Utica for two years before seeking election.

The terms of the mayor and city assessor now run for only two years.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — An open house is planned to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haslock of 7801 Jardine Road, Davisburg, who were married Dec. 27, 1910. The Haslocks will be honored at a reception at their residence from 2 to 5 p.m. Jan. 8. The couple has two sons, James of Fosterville and Harvey of Davisburg; 12 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Santa Plans Stop in Clarkston to See Children

CLARKSTON — Santa Claus will take an hour and a half off on his way to the North Pole tomorrow night for a stopover in Clarkston to greet some 500 youngsters at Washington and Main streets.

His visit, sponsored by the local Rotary Club, will begin at 7 p.m. at which time he is scheduled to arrive at the main intersection in an open convertible.

The jolly old gentleman will have gifts for each child, according to Frank "Tink" Ronk, Rotary Club president, who will be Santa's official greeter.

Every youngster will have a chance to meet St. Nick personally and tell him their last-minute wants for Christmas, said Ronk.

Alaska has 6,640 miles of coastline, slightly more than all of the rest of the coastal states put together.

Troy Car Crash Hurts Washington Man

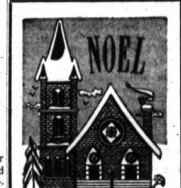

TROY — A 33-year-old Washington man, seriously injured when his car struck a tree here yesterday, will have to spend both Christmas and his birthday confined to his hospital bed.

Reported in serious condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, is Roy E. Pace of 6030 Van Dyke, who will be 34 Sunday.

Pace suffered fractured bones and lacerations when his car struck a tree and speed limit signs on Rochester Road near Square Lake Road.

A witness told Troy police that Pace's car, going north on Rochester Road, appeared to slow down and then spun around three times, skidded off the road and hit the tree and sign.

The mishap occurred about 7 p.m., according to police.

May this Holy Season bring an abundance of happiness and the answer to all your prayers.

Wishes Mothers Would Be Women

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK — Suzanne Godard is a handsome young woman who could lead a living. Instead she designs high-fashion children's clothes. Loves her work, but loathes the attitude of most mothers.

"Really," she sighs, "women are so lazy these days. Presumably they want their children to be the best-dressed children in the neighborhood and they're willing to pay for that privilege."

"But in money, not time. Everything you design has to have 10 tags on it, assuring mother that she can throw the dress in the washer, pull it out, fling it over a line, see it dry in a flash, no ironing required, of course — women hate to iron — so she can put it back on the poor kid and let her fly in the mud so the dress can be tossed in the washer all over again next day."

REMEMBER COTTON?

Miss Godard suddenly closed her beautiful mouth and took on a blissful expression. "Ah, do you remember the days when little girls wore dresses made of cotton? Cotton smells so sweet, like clover in the field."

"I remember it yet, as a little girl I was so proud of my clothes. But today—" Her face grimaced up again. "Today we have synthetic fibers so mama won't have to work. Have you ever noticed, the finishing process they use on some of them makes them smell vaguely of fish — dry, stale fish?"

"While the American housewife saves time, her daughter smells like a trout!"

★ BASIC QUALITIES
Miss Godard's outspoken honesty stems from two basic qualities, sincerity and a sense of security in her own good taste. Born in Paris to a French mother and Yugoslavian father, she was raised primarily in Chisholm, Minn., a small Scandinavian town that speaks her mind.

And, while she's speaking here: "Of course, the reputation of American women today is their insistence on wearing pants or shorts."

"And their girl children wearing jeans or skirts. Why do they do it?" she asks with genuine anguish.

"When a little girl has pants on, she doesn't know she is feminine. She holds herself differently. One leg goes out there, and another over there. "When she can't really see she's any different from the boy across the street, how is she EVER to grow into a lady?"

To get around this "inattentive urge" to put all kiddies in pants, Suzanne ("I've never worn pants in my life") Godard designs dresses with matching panties or ankle-length pantaloons.

EYELET TRIM

All trimmed with eyelet, of course, to make a child realize that she is different from the sex that catches flies. She has nothing to say officially about what adult women will wear (though she goes to Paris twice a year for inspiration — and her own wardrobe) but she suggests in urgent tones that any mother who wears slacks around the home is being unfair to her imitative daughters.

"Little girls are the most feminine creatures on earth," she says gently, "until some day we have synthetic thinking."

"But when they see their mother dressed like their father, they are well on their way to losing it all, and getting psychologically mixed up about which sex is which."

Suzanne, who served her apprenticeship under Lilly Daché before becoming probably the top child's designer in New York, is married to successful textile importer Pierre Godard.

★ NO CHILDREN YET
She has no children, not yet. But she made her own dresses from the time she was 5 till the time she could afford Balmaines and Balmaines, and figures she knows the secret to success:

"A mother who never forgets how womanly she is."

Hostess: Keep Your Weather Eye Peeled

NEW YORK (UPI)—During the holiday party, a good hostess keeps eyes peeled for changes in weather.

Sudden changes can turn the most familiar street into a slippery death trap, warns the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Police.

The auxiliary's president, Elva Frederick of Pittsburgh, Pa., said that a timely warning about changes in the weather can mean the difference between life and death for homework-bound guests.

"Keep a supply of fruit juices and soft drinks available for those who prefer them,"

Mrs. Frederick also said that a good hostess won't force spirited drinks on guests who like soda pop.

Royal Ballet in Detroit Jan. 5 to 8

The Royal Ballet's production of Tchaikovsky's "The Sleeping Beauty" will be presented at the Detroit Masonic Temple Jan. 5-8 as a segment of its sixth North American tour.

Formerly the Sadler's Wells Ballet, the troupe of 130 artists will be presented by impresario S. Hurok who first brought them to this country in an appearance at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1948.

The fairy tale ballet, the work with which the Royal Ballet is most closely identified, launched the company when it moved to London's Royal Opera House Feb. 20, 1946. The event was attended by the entire royal family.

"The Sleeping Beauty" was also the ballet chosen to introduce the group to the American public.

Abby Says It's a Problem

He'll Get Tired of Eggs, Lady

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a man with whom I have gone for two years. We aren't kids. I am 28 and he is 36. This will be the second marriage for both of us.

We like the same things and he is very easy to get along with. One thing worries me.

He loves to eat and I have never learned how to cook. (I am a dental hygienist.) I think I should enroll in a night cooking class, but my friends say that I am placing too much importance on cooking for a modern woman. Just how important is cooking to a marriage? We both intend to work.

NO COOK
DEAR NO COOK: It is very important — especially if the man "loves to eat." Better find out how he likes his goose lest you cook it at the altar.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who bought a paddle to use on her kids whenever they say "yes" instead of "yes." She said she's used it so many times the paddle has already paid for itself. You can hear kids crying over there all day. I personally don't believe in hitting kids with anything except the bare open hand. I would like your ideas on the subject.

A NEIGHBOR
DEAR NEIGHBOR: I don't approve of hitting children, period. Evidently your neighbor's method of teaching her children to say "yes" instead of "ya" has not been successful. If it were, she wouldn't find it necessary to paddle a child a hundred times for saying "ya."

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, who is 18, has a disturbing fault. She talks so loud at times I could run away from her. When I tell her to quit yelling, she gets mad at me. She is very pretty and usually good-natured.

She talks so loud when we go shopping together that the clerks look at her in amazement. She yells when she is talking to someone two feet away from her.

Neighbors have told me that they can hear every word she says when we are home. Is there any hope for her?

BROKEN EARDRUMS

DEAR BROKEN: Have you ever considered having your daughter's hearing tested? Many people are unaware of their shouting because they are hard of hearing. If this is not the case, make up a silent signal (like touching your ear, inconspicuously) to remind her in the presence of others to "soften" her voice. Children will respond to this type of "reminder," while a public reprimand only humiliates them.

Pine Lake Country Club has scheduled a New Year's Eve party beginning with cocktails at 6:30.

Dinner at 7:30 will be followed by dancing from 10 to 2. Early reservations are advised.

Maybe You Should Not Go So Often

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: My husband and I often go out to dinner with several other couples. My husband and I don't eat very much and we don't drink at all, but most of our friends like to do both. They always order cocktails before dinner and order the most expensive food on the menu. When the bill comes, it is always suggested that it be divided equally.

I resent this very much as we are in modest circumstances and I can't see paying for something we didn't have. Is there any way my husband can tactfully suggest that he pay only for what we order without appearing "cheap?"

Answer: If your friends do not notice that you do not drink at all or eat as much as they do, and say themselves that your share of the bill should be less, there is little you can do about it. You might economize by going out with them less often or you could of course tell them frankly that much as you enjoy having dinner with them, you simply cannot afford to, unless you can have a separate check for the few inexpensive dishes you and your husband order.

Question: Recently a neighboring school — some distance away — invited us to a play and we responded well. The principal of our school and his wife, two other faculty members and a bus load of students attended the performance, even though it entailed a long drive. Since then, the principal of that school to our program which was equal to theirs in importance. They ignored the invitation and not one from the school came.

The principal did not even mention the program and made no effort to send students. Are we being pettish or are we justified in considering this school's action inexcusably discourteous?

Answer: If you are certain that your invitation was received, you are more than justified in considering this school's action inexcusably discourteous.

Question: Please tell me whether or not a woman dies when a man extends his hand either to greet or bid her goodbye?

Answer: As a hostess, yes; but not otherwise — unless the man is an important personage or very elderly.

Question: Is it necessary for me to write a thank-you note for a wedding present that was given to my husband at the office by his co-workers and whom he had personally at the time it was presented to him?

Answer: If they had sent the present to your home, a thank-you note from you would be necessary, but as they presented it to your husband at his office, his thanks is sufficient.

Daughters Honor Our Nancy Anne

Job's Daughters, Pontiac Bethel 40 and Bethel 5, joined Rochester's Bethel 51 to honor Nancy Anne Fleming, Miss America, at a dinner Wednesday in Montague High School, Montague.

In the receiving line were Miss Mackinnon Bridge, Miss Muskegon and the group's grand Bethel guardian. The honored queen of Montague's Bethel 50 and the Grand Association Guardian also were present.

The group saw movies of the homecoming parade for Miss Fleming and later presented her gifts. Richard Nash from the Whitehall DeMolay Chapter offered Miss Fleming the DeMolay Sweetheart emblem.

Attending from this area were Shirley Jackson, Helen Boarlight, Nancy Newcomb, Judy Oles, Marilyn Vernon, Barbara Baldwin, Jolynn Peterson, Nicole Peterson, Nancy Oles, Mrs. Lester Oles, Mrs. Harry Vernon, all of Bethel 40, and Rita Linn, Bethel 40's honored queen.

Janet Mathers, honored queen of Rochester's Bethel 51, attended, along with Lavonne Tate, Linda Wallace, Carol McFarland, Eleanor Stuart, Sally Ide, Jean Carson and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kneale, all of Bethel 5.

Others from Bethel 5 attending were Marlene Tibbets, Vickie Landspager, Cathy Koway, Claudia Lowrey, Donna Chambers, Mrs. Arthur Chambers, Sandra Coombs and Mrs. Kenneth Tibbets.

Among area women appointed to committees for Detroit's 1961 Grand Opera season are (from left) Mrs. John S. French of Birmingham and Mrs. John F. Gordon of Bloomfield Hills. They are shown with Mrs. Abraham Cooper of Palmer Woods and Mrs. Henry Ford II discussing season's plans at a tea in Mrs. Ford's Grosse Pointe home.

The Question Box

Old Wives Tell Hair Story

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Q. I heard that removing superfluous hair by electrolysis can cause cancer of the skin. Is this true?
A. No. So far as I know there is absolutely no harm in this idea. It sounds like an "old wives tale."

Q. "Is there any way to make eyelashes longer and thicker?"
A. There are many products on the market for promoting eyelash growth. I think that the stimulation which goes along with applying them is most important. I know that the habit of brushing the lashes upward a few times each night, using a little lash brush, is an aid.

Q. "I would like your opinion as to what is wrong with my figure. I am 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall. My bust measures 33 inches, waist 23 and hips 37."

A. You did not give me your weight or tell me whether you have a small, large or medium frame. However, I guess that you are certainly not overweight, that you have a small build, and you carry a bit too much weight on your hips. I think your problem will be solved if you take hip-slimming exercises.

Q. "I have pimples on my forehead and no other place. What can I do about them?"
A. Wash your forehead with soap and water several times a day. Be careful not to spread the infection to other parts of your face by using the same cloth on it and your forehead. Apply alcohol or calamine lotion at night.

Q. "Is there anything which will cover chicken pox scars on the face?"
A. Yes, if you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me with your request I will be glad to send you this information.

Q. "I am about to go on a long needed diet to put more meat on me. But, before I begin, I want to ask you a few questions. Will constant slimming exercises keep my waist small and will constant building-up exercises make my legs and chest larger?"
A. From your questions I do not think that you have to worry about waist expansion. Gain your weight and take exercises for building up the legs and the bust measurement.

Q. "I am about to go on a long needed diet to put more meat on me. But, before I begin, I want to ask you a few questions. Will constant slimming exercises keep my waist small and will constant building-up exercises make my legs and chest larger?"

Comes to Class From Europe

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Marie Louise Hurley, a tiny coed from Baton Rouge, La., is working her way through college on a jet plane.

Miss Hurley is an airlines stewardess who commutes to Europe between classes as casually as you or I start out for a Sunday drive.

"Peggy," as she is known to friends and family, is a junior majoring in psychology at the City College of New York (CCNY). She also holds a full-time job as stewardess with Pan American World Airways, working on a flight which leaves New York each Friday morning, goes nonstop to London, and then on to Brussels and Düsseldorf, where it lands at midnight, Düsseldorf time. She has Saturday free to sight-see and study or visit a sister teaching in a language school at Essen, Germany.

Sunday morning, Peggy boards the jet to work her way home via Amsterdam and London, arriving in New York — with the time gain flying West — by early afternoon, giving her the rest of the day to prepare for her 11 hours of classes Monday through Thursday.

"Lots of people wonder how I do it," she said, in an interview at her apartment. "But this is the Jet Age, and with the luck of the Irish I haven't missed a class yet."

The stewardess has been with the airlines since 1954 and said she had worked in every division, which means she has traveled Central and South America, Africa, the Middle East and the Pacific.

"You can ask for a transfer to a new division after one year," she explained. "Some girls don't like to move around that much. But this is a good way to see the world and with the airlines paying

Bride-Elect Is Honored by Shower

Judith Ann Huntwork, bride-elect of Roger Ashbury, opened gifts of linen at a shower Tuesday evening in the home of Sharon Boyce on Starr Avenue.

Attendees at the Feb. 11 wedding will be the bride-elect's sister Patricia, Maria Jackson and Miss Boyce.

Mrs. Leslie Huntwork of Erie Drive Orchard Lake and Mrs. Henschel O. Ashbury of Woodbine Drive, Waterford Township, mothers of the engaged couple attended the party.

Others were Mrs. Harlan Boyce, Mrs. Stephen A. Bone, Mrs. James Souden, Mrs. Arthur Starkweather, Mrs. Kenneth Bone, Mary and Martha Cowan, Sally Maier, Janet Wittgen, Donna Scholtz, Judy Lou Elwell, Patricia Clark and Lee Patterson.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Harold Johnson and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Milford, Peggy Fagen of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Ronald Sovera of Livonia, Mrs. Alton Gray of Bloomfield Township and Mrs. Leonard Nyberg and Marlene Lazenby of Drayton Plains.

Sorority Chapter

Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority celebrated a Christmas dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Puddick, Mrs. Kenneth Miller and Mrs. Milton Ott were cohostesses.

Carols and an exchange of secret pal gifts followed dinner. Mrs. Iris Chamberlain will be hostess for the Jan. 11 meeting.

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowditch of Bondale Street have been invited to attend an open house Sunday at 3 p.m. celebrating the couple's 55th wedding anniversary.

When she decided in 1969 to finish her college training, vocational guidance experts suggested a field where "I could use that IQ and do something for others." That is why her chosen field is the handicapped.

The stewardess-coed lives in a small Manhattan apartment whose furnishings include an ancient upright piano painted a bright lacquer red. She is taking piano and ballet lessons, is studying Chinese painting, is a member of the college's modern dance society, and makes all her clothes.

How does she find the time for all these interests? "Oh," she laughed, "I'm the neat and organized type. I'm abominably efficient."

"I first thought I'd be a nurse," she said, "and I had two years of training. But I'm either blessed or cursed with a good IQ, and decided maybe I should become a doctor."

She studied at the University of Tennessee medical branch at Memphis, then transferred as a pre-medical student to Louisiana State University.

"But in 1954 I took a long look at myself," she said, "and found I wanted to see what the world

Have You Tried This? Pineapple Crescents Have Old World Origin

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor
One of the most interesting things about reading recipes is seeing how variations of the same recipe turn up under other names. We have found similar recipes for these crescent cookies in Polish and Hungarian cookbooks. Mrs. Steve Prinko says hers is Slovakian.

Mrs. Prinko is active in church work. She is a member of St. Jude's Guild. She loves to bake. Baking is another of her hobbies.

PINEAPPLE CRESCENTS
By Mrs. Steve Prinko
4 cups sifted flour
1 egg yolk
1 pound butter OR half butter and half margarine
1/2 pint sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

1 pound fat pineapple preserves
2 cups chopped walnuts
Mrs. Prinko says to use enough of the preserves to hold the nuts together.

There is no salt, no sugar and no leavening in this recipe.
Cream butter, add egg yolks, sour cream, vanilla and flour. Mix well. Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator overnight.

Break off small chunks and roll on lightly floured board into a circle. Cut into wedges. Put a spoonful of filling on large end. Roll up short with end tucked under.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 12 minutes, or until sizzling stops. When cool, roll in confectioners sugar.

Pillar Club Marks Yule With Meal
Pillar Club members celebrated their Yule party Tuesday in First Congregational Church where a dinner was served to 45 members and guests.

The Christmas program was observed in the VanWagoner Room. Mrs. A. L. Hulst read Peter Marshall's "Let's Keep Christmas," and the Senior Girl's Ensemble from Pontiac Central High School sang several selections accompanied by Jill Hicks.

Following the reading of Christmas poems and Arthur Gordon's "The Legend of the Creech," by Mrs. Arthur Seiden, the group sang carols under the direction of Mrs. Ray Messer, accompanied by Mrs. T. E. Wiersema.

Mrs. Claude Shoup was general chairman for the party, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Rammes, Mrs. Carl Kutz, Mrs. E. C. Russell, Mrs. Isabel Seiden, Mrs. P. J. Vierende and Mrs. Hulst.

Winter Air Is OK for Health, Tough on Skin Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It's fun to be out in the crisp, cold air in the winter, walking, skiing or skating. And it's wonderfully cozy to go indoors to a fireplace and warming hot coffee or cocoa after.

But each time you do this, baby your skin. For while it's good for your general health to be out of doors at any time of year, it's hard on your skin. And so is the temperature change from the cold to a heated room.

Elder Child Must Make His Own Friends

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: In school this term our older boy has made friends with another child. Up to now he's played with his younger brother Bobby. Now, although there is only two years difference in their ages, Bobby is too much of a baby for him to be bothered with.

If I ask him to include Bobby in games when his friend Don is here, he and Don run off to Don's house. I've tried to speak to him about the way he is hurting his little brother but he only gets sullen and meaner.

ANSWER: We can't very well require friendship between our children. Your older son did not choose his association with your younger one. The association was forced on him by your protection of Bobby.

His association with Don is his own choice. This is one of the reasons that Don is more interesting to him than Bobby. Instead of requiring him to give friendship to Bobby, let's encourage Bobby to find friends of his own.

Children have excellent reasons for making friends with other people's children instead of their parents'. No matter how hard we try, we can't avoid arousing feelings of jealousy and self-distrust in brothers and sisters. Your older child has many memories of what he believes have been your preferences for Bobby. So, he can't measure his sense of self-importance against Bobby.

With his little brother he is handicapped by the secret suspicion that Bobby is more desirable than he is. We are not responsible for this suspicion because it is in the nature of brothers' and sisters' relationship. We are, however, responsible for accepting it as a sacrifice.

apit. We are responsible, too, for recognizing that much of Don's appeal for your older boy is his newness—the fact that he is not involved with this troubling but inevitable suspicion.

Don has never made him feel unimportant by grabbing your attention from him. He has not won fights over the last piece of cake or the car's front seat. He is disconnected from the emotional details that have been the unavoidable results of competitions with his brother.

When we criticize his interest in Don we are not only denying him freedom of choice but are refusing his right to friendship's unprejudiced estimate of his worth. It was Christ who said: "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and in his own house."

Take a Good Look

If no one likes to sit in the basement recreation room, take a good look at the furnishings. Concrete walls and floors, plastic covered furniture and castoffs from upstairs can create a cold, uninviting atmosphere. Home economists at Michigan State University suggest bright, sturdy cotton fabrics for covers, paint for old furniture and an inexpensive area rug can give the room a warm, friendly feeling.

Army Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Myers who are retiring to residence in Pontiac were honored at retirement ceremonies recently in the Detroit Arsenal where Capt. Myers has been stationed since January 1959. During his 20-year service term, Capt. Myers served in Great Britain, Europe, Trinidad, Taiwan and Korea. The couple has two children, Richard, 13, and Deborah, 5.

Pick Your Shade

Shades for your living room lamps can be opaque or translucent. When walls are light in color, it is usually best to select translucent shades which allow light to pass through.

Home economists at Michigan State University note that opaque shades, which allow no light to shine through, may fit best into rooms with dark colored walls. This eliminates the uncomfortable contrast between a bright shade and a dark background.

Sponge for Spray

Do your artificial wreaths and sprays and poinsettias look too tired to use again this year?

Try sponging them with "dry" soap or detergent suds skimmed from the top of the bowl. This softens them, washes away the year's accumulated dust, and makes them glisten again.

Launder ribbons in lukewarm suds, and press under a layer of wax paper.

Christmas Spirit Is Strong at PCH

PREPARE BASKET—Many homerooms and clubs at Pontiac Central have been busy this week promoting Christmas spirit. Typical of the projects aimed at sharing the joys of Christmas with others was that of homeroom 209. Getting a basket of food ready for some needy area family are Connie Crocker of 171 S. Shirley St., Carolyn Anderson of 61 Wenonah Drive, and Douglas Anderson of 383 W. Ingham Road. All are seniors at Central.

Many Projects Mark Holiday

Some Groups Sponsor Parties; Others Aid Needy Families

By BARBARA GREIFIN
Pontiac Central High School is overflowing with Christmas spirit. Before vacation started yesterday many clubs and organizations celebrated the holiday by giving Christmas parties.

Other groups caught the true meaning of the season and helped persons less fortunate than themselves.

The Future Homemakers of America gave a party Tuesday afternoon at the home of the club member Sue Tork. Monday

On the committee for this affair were Bonnie Vallet, Nancy Walker, Betty Bell, Barb McClure, Alice Peterson, and Dave Austin.

Mrs. Doreen Villman opened her home to 50 members of the club for their Christmas party Wednesday night.

Refreshments were served and choir member was given small statue of his favorite composer by Mrs. Villman. This event was especially significant as Mrs. Villman is leaving Central after Christmas vacation.

Wednesday noon the Senior Girls Ensemble had its annual Christmas luncheon. Each girl brought a dish to pass.

The Biology Club held a small, informal party at its regular meeting last Thursday night. This group of scientifically minded students is sending a package to CARE and a food basket to the Salvation Army.

Many homerooms are also sponsoring baskets of food for needy families at Christmas.

In Dick Ayling's senior homeroom 209, students have been bringing in canned goods for two weeks and collecting money to buy meat. Chairman of this project are Connie Crocker and Donna Douglas.

The Selective Girls Glee Club enjoyed a brunch of hot chocolate and doughnuts during regular class period Wednesday morning.

Y-Teens have helped the YWCA decorate for Christmas by the hanging of the greens ceremony Saturday night.

Y-Teens, president of the PCH Playercrafters, initiated 27 new members into this drama club Wednesday afternoon. After the initiation, new members went through a welcome line of presents.

Requirements for joining Playercrafters are to have earned at least two points by working on or acting in one of the Central plays.

Due to the Christmas recess in area high schools, there will not be a school page next week, Dec. 30. The Press takes this opportunity to wish all school page correspondents a happy holiday season and to remind them that the next school page will be on Friday, Jan. 6.

Clarkston Clubs Aid Needy

By JANET TISCH

Adding their touch to the Christmas season, two Clarkston High School youth organizations wrapped Christmas presents and collected funds for underprivileged children in the Clarkston area this week.

The Clarkston Y-Teens held a Christmas party at the home of club member Sue Tork. Monday

The gifts were bought by Sue Cushman, Blair Bullard, and Kathy Taylor with club Christmas funds.

The girls also wrapped clothing that the Clarkston Farm and Gardens Club purchased for two high school girls.

The Hi-Y Club also completed its Christmas project this past week when three members accompanied children from area elementary and junior high schools Christmas shopping.

Four children were chosen by the principal of each school to go with the boys who bought gifts with money collected during the year for this purpose.

Y-Teens sponsor Mrs. Doris Wilkinson, and Hi-Y sponsor Floyd Vincent, feel the students did an excellent job on the Christmas project.

CAROL IN FRENCH

And because of this great interest approximately 30 students in Clarkston High French classes went caroling Tuesday.

Yule Projects Add to Busy Schedule at Waterford

By SUSAN TYRRELL and RAE SEGAN

The coming of Christmas holidays has not kept Waterford Township High School students from their normal academic duties, but has certainly created an increase in activities over the past two weeks.

Only today could students set aside their books and devote themselves fulltime to seasonal festivities.

Until yesterday, student agendas

Seniors to Sponsor 'Winter Magic'; Will Crown Snow Royalty

By FAY BURNS

The magic wand of winter has spread its enchantment over St. Michael's High School in preparation for "Winter Magic," a semi-formal dance sponsored by the senior class.

The gala event will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 on Saturday night, Jan. 7.

Music will be provided by the Blue Notes with an appearance of a special singing quartet. Highlights of the evening will be the crowning of the snow king and snow queen.

Candidates for the queen are Sue Kiny, Kitty Daugherty and Tonya Harris.

Candidates for the king are Bob Linsenman, Allen Tunny and Art Rohak.

The king and queen will be chosen at the dance. Sharon Sutton and Judy Stickney will aid the senior officers in charge of the dance.

A Christmas assembly was held today in the auditorium with the student body joining in the singing of Christmas carols, ending the last day of school before Christmas vacation.

The junior class displayed its Christmas spirit this year with a Christmas basket to provide a merry Christmas for a needy family.

The basket consists mainly of canned goods with a Christmas turkey.

were packed with hard work as well as yuletide preparations.

Results of some of this hard work were announced with the recent posting of the honor roll at the end of the second marking period of the year.

WATERFORD PERFECT RECORDS

Of an enrollment of approximately 1,636 students at Waterford, 10 students achieved all-A honors.

They were seniors Florence Tharmark, Mary Harding, Jane Monttrap, Linda Talsan, and Sue Welch; juniors Marie Stone, Francis Whitaker, and Kathy White; and sophomores Pat Kizer and David Patterson.

Student Council members have been sponsoring a difficult job of major importance. They are beginning to set up a program for the future Waterford Kettering High School.

Among things being discussed are plans for the election of class and student council officers, the class crest and colors, the nickname of athletic teams and dividing treasures of clubs and Student Council between schools.

For their hard work on the athletic field, some students received their awards last week.

Letters were awarded to varsity and junior varsity football and cross country team members by their coaches during a sports award assembly.

GROUPS SPONSOR PROJECTS

Many groups have undertaken projects in preparation for Christmas. But currently the senior class project is foremost in the minds of students.

This Christmas Past, this year's Christmas dance sponsored by the senior class, will be held Dec. 29 from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Decorations will center around the idea of an old fashioned Christmas. Music will be provided by Jerry Libby and his band.

General chairman is Elizabeth Ballinger; chairman are Marjorie Methner, decorations; Kathy Bray, music; Renee St. Dennis, refreshments; Elaine Finkbeiner, favors; Sue Welch, tickets; Sandy Bracey, publicity; and Joelyn Prout, invitations.

All students and alumni are invited to attend this event. Dress for the dance is semi-formal. Tickets will be on sale at the school.

Student Council representatives have been selling Christmas seals and student directories in homes during the past week.

Festivities Close on Musical Assembly Held at West Bloomfield High at Walled Lake

By CAROLYN MAVIS

Yesterday the Christmas festivities at West Bloomfield Township High School were brought to a close with a Christmas assembly.

The choral department, under the direction of Merlin Aspin, sang "Till it on the Mountain," "White Christmas," "The Shepherd's Christmas Song," and other selections.

The Triple Trio also sang, "West Bloomfield's Instrumental music department, under the direction of Robert Pfeiffer, played "Frosty the Snowman," "Christmas Rhapsody," and "Panic Alligators."

"The Christmas Story," a narration, was read by Bill Lemay. "Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly," "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," and many other songs were heard by the student body at lunch hour in the cafeteria during the last two weeks.

Occasionally, the students sang along with the records. Christmas records were also played in the senior English classes yesterday.

Farminghot Rod Club Builds Buggies in Barn

By R. DIANNE STOKOSA

Each Sunday at 7 p.m. in a barn on Drake Road, one mile off Grand River, a group of boys, mostly Farmington High School students and graduates, meet to discuss such earthshaking business as whether to have a three-day assembly.

These are the members of Roman's Hot Rod Club of Farmington. The club is police sponsored and is a member of the National Hot Rod Association.

It is open to all boys. There is no age limit and no specific rules as to area of residence. It was formed two years ago and has grown progressively larger since, with some of the members now attending college.

The main governing bodies of the club are the Board of Officers and the Board.

Officers at present are Phil Hensault, Reg Brown, Ron Ellis and Jim Williams.

The Board is comprised of the officers and two other members, Gary Morello and Jerry Williams.

Good Job Opportunities Open to Student Nurses

Pontiac area high school girls who are considering a nursing career have an excellent outlook for job opportunities.

Even though more students enrolled in schools of professional nursing in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties last year than in any recent year, there still won't be as many nurses as are needed.

The total of 751 enrolled is still 25 per cent below the estimate of need for this area, set up by the National League for Nursing.

was well mixed with a spirit of giving at West Bloomfield.

Students also contributed freely toward a special surprise for a special classmate.

A Christmas gift was purchased with the students' money for exchange student from Germany, days more enjoyable for both students and the faculty.

The annual Christmas box sponsored by the student government was filled and given to a needy family.

All of these festivities plus the added excitement of a vacation from school made the last few days more enjoyable for both students and the faculty.

Disclose Plans for U. N. Contest in Area Schools

Plans and prizes for the 33rd annual high school contest of the United Nations have been announced by Harold Chalk, newly elected president of the Oakland County Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, Inc.

The contest is open to all high school students in the United States. Last year more than 75,000 students participated.

An examination is given testing the student's understanding of the issues facing the U.N. and his knowledge of the history and structure of the world body.

The exam is based on the book: "We, the Peoples of the United Nations" and its newly issued supplement covering recent U.N. events.

"The examination will be given throughout this area and the rest of the nation on Feb. 16," said Chalk.

"First prize for the national winner will be a choice between $200 or a trip to Europe," he announced.

Second prize nationally is $200 or a trip to Mexico.

Prizes for Michigan winners are a one week scholarship to Sarah Lawrence College in New York to study the U.N., and a second place prize of a $25 savings bond.

Five cash prizes will be offered to Oakland County students only. They range from $5 to $10.

Complete and detailed information, as well as the U.N. booklets, can be obtained from Chalk who lives at 230 Big Beaver Road, Birmingham.

Local and state winners will be announced sometime in April or early May, according to Chalk. National winners are to be announced no later than June 1.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Chalk or the national office and must be filed by one teacher from each school before Jan. 16. One booklet and supplement will be sent to each school upon registration.

By LINDA JACOB
A Christmas assembly was given by the Student Council at Oxford High School, Thursday.

The band opened with its selections by the Rev. Clark of the Oxford Methodist Church who gave the students a Christmas message.

Assisting her are Judy Siekas, Nancy Wilson, Louise McNair, and Linda Conrad.

The group of students assisting Warren Woodard, head of the department, who is again the community chairman in the Walled Lake area.

They have mailed 3,000 envelopes containing leaflets requesting aid plus 200 seals to area residents. The people are asked to respond with a contribution.

The March of Dimes drive will soon take place also. Bill Harnman's transcription class is typing 5,000 envelopes to be distributed throughout the area.

Requirements for joining Playercrafters are to have earned at least two points by working on or acting in one of the Central plays.

Practicing at least two nights of the school week, they are concentrating on tricks, strokes, rhythm, grace, poise, and strengthening their kicking.

Twenty-four girls participate in the swimming activities and look forward every year to their big water show. Routines and solos are choreographed by the girls themselves under the supervision and guidance of Madeline McConnell, their sponsor.

Officers of the specialized swimming team are Judy Kern, president; Ruth Ann Kramp, vice president; Carol Henderson, secretary; and Flora McCarty, treasurer.

The girls also design and make all their own costumes and hold business meetings in which they decide on admission price for their shows.

They also set up committees to handle decorating, scenery, and costumes.

Five Northern draftsmen beamed as they finally learned exactly where they placed in the seventh annual high school drafting contest, sponsored by the American Society of Boy Engineers.

Ed Wask, Tom Zink, Bill Seckulch, Dave Slater, and Ron St. Amant are enrolled in Egar West's drafting class.

Wesley Ravel, chief engineer of Aero Detroit, Inc., indicates that only once before had a school placed both first and second in the tri-county contest.

Northern did—in its first year as a high school.

Likewise, no school until now has ever placed first and second for the second time. Tom Zink, as grand winner received $125 in cash, and Ed Wask, second, won $75, to make contest history.

There were 80 schools entered with a total of 315 drawings of excellence. Dave Slater placed fourth, Ed Wask, fifth, and Bill Seckulch, sixth.

Expert judges were taken from industry and decisions were made only after two intensive days of judging.

The traveling trophy now comes back to Northern for another year.

Students took part in decorating Northern for the Christmas holidays. Student council, sophomore, junior and senior homerooms decorated courts.

Near the senior lounge stands a Christmas tree decorated by the senior class.

But as Christmas nears Northern students will take leave of their decorations and class projects for their annual holiday party.

PNH Catalinas Really 'In the Swim'

By DIANE M. WALTER

Winter with its ice and snow may be here but Pontiac Northern High School's Catalinas are still in the swim of the swim.

Catalinas, Northern's synchronized swimming club, is caught in the middle of busy-scurry activities.

It present they have selected music for their spring water show to be held in April.

Practicing at least two nights of the school week, they are concentrating on tricks, strokes, rhythm, grace, poise, and strengthening their kicking.

Twenty-four girls participate in the swimming activities and look forward every year to their big water show. Routines and solos are choreographed by the girls themselves under the supervision and guidance of Madeline McConnell, their sponsor.

The traveling trophy now comes back to Northern for another year.

Students took part in decorating Northern for the Christmas holidays. Student council, sophomore, junior and senior homerooms decorated courts.

Among the scenes set up by the junior class is a North Pole and a huge toy box.

Near the senior lounge stands a Christmas tree decorated by the senior class.

Sable, Gold and Silver

Could Be Some Pagan Fete

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Twas a night before the night before Christmas, and all through the town the visitor could find no indication of what the celebration was about.

He walked along the marble-fronted buildings of Beverly Hills, their windows ablaze with sable and silver. The street lamps of Wilshire Boulevard were brightly lighted with pictures of choristers, reindeer and a fat man in a chimney. Judging from these, the season might be the season of the pagan fete.

TV cowboys just off the range were filling their sports cars with gifts. The choice was vast. At Uncle Bernie's Toy Menagerie, parents could buy their kiddies a six-foot stuffed dinosaur for $350 or some singing toy birds for $400, including cage.

SANTA COCKTAIL
The visitor journeyed eastward, stopping at a wayside inn on the Sunset Strip. There he found celebrators but no hint of what they celebrated. Some gained cheer with a wassail called the Santa baby cocktail—cranberry juice and vodka.

Others to Hollywood Boulevard he went, there to be greeted by endless repetition overhead of Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer wreathed in gold tinsel. The visitor contemplated what Dancer, Francer and the other black-necked veterans would say about this reindeer-come-lately.

Two sailors far from home sought yuletide friendship by wandering into the My Desire cocktail lounge. The tinkling of a Salvation Army lass's bell was scarcely heard by shoppers rushing in and out of stores. The windows featured overstuffed dummies in red velvet suits that bow mechanically; automation had struck the Santa industry, too.

Army musicians was playing carols at Hollywood and Vine, and beatniks in beads and T-shirts and blue jeans listened amusedly. The tinkling of a bell was scarcely heard by shoppers rushing in and out of stores. The windows featured overstuffed dummies in red velvet suits that bow mechanically; automation had struck the Santa industry, too.

The visitor failed in his quest until he left the brilliant lights behind and started over the Calleguas Pass. High on a hill above the pilgrimage theater he discovered a white neon cross that gave him a hint of what the celebration was for.

Clarkston, West Bloomfield in Key Game

From The PRESS BOX

Wayland High School scored a 65-43 victory over Zeeland last night in the semifinals of the Western Michigan holiday basketball tournament.

University of Michigan center Jerry Smith has been elected co-captain with Northwestern fullback Mike Stock for the North squad in the North-South all-star football game Monday night in Miami's Orange Bowl.

The Detroit Tigers announced another step in the expansion of their scouting system today with the signing of Emmett J. Mueller of St. Louis. Tiger vice president James A. Campbell said Mueller will cover the Missouri Valley region for the Tigers.

Former Minnesota basketball star Ron Johnson joined the Los Angeles Lakers yesterday for his first year with the NBA club since being purchased from the Detroit Pistons.

Two former Detroit high school stars have been signed to minor league contracts by the Tigers. They are infielder-outfielder Charles Novotny of Cody and shortstop Joe Martin of Mackenzie. Both were assigned to Jamestown of the Class D Pennsylvania-New York League.

Pistons Finally Fly to Boston

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons finally made it out of Portland, Ore., but they're going to miss their planned early Christmas celebrations.

General manager W. Nick Kerba said last night the fog at Portland had lifted to allow the club to fly to San Francisco. From there they were scheduled to fly to New York and then to Boston, where they meet the Boston Celtics tomorrow.

Fog prevented the Pistons from leaving Portland on schedule Wednesday and again early yesterday. Many of the players had hoped to have Christmas celebrations in Detroit with their families on off-days yesterday and today. The Pistons also play on the road Christmas eve as well as Christmas eve.

"Rastol has tremendous promise because of his size and quickness," Pancho said. "But he has so much to learn. He has not yet learned to listen to advice."

Osuma, who attends the University of Southern California, and Rastol were surprise winners of the Wimbledon doubles championship this year.

In appraising the challenge round starting here Monday, Gonzales said "I am sticking my neck out and saying Italy will win either 3-2 or 4-1."

He said he based his prediction

HALL MAKES SAVE — Glenn Hall, Chicago Black Hawks' goalie, makes a save off the stick of Charlie Burns (10) of the Boston Bruins in their National Hockey League game Thursday night at Boston Garden. Trying to break up the play is Chicago's Jack Evans (5) as Eric Nesterenko of the Hawks watches. The Bruins won, 4-2.

Northville got the jump last night by polishing off Clarenceville, 48-29. Now it is up to West Bloomfield.

The only other area game to night is Willow Run at South Lyon. The outcome of its game with West Bloomfield is important to Clarkston. A victory would move the Wolves into a tie with Milford for second place, one game behind front-running Holly. A setback would mean a long uphill battle to remain in contention again.

The Lakers have shown steady improvement their last two games. A loss would all but eliminate West Bloomfield from the championship picture.

The game at Northville last night was a rough affair. A total of 55 foul shots were taken.

Sophomore Craig Bell turned in his best performance of the season for Northville. The 5-11 sophomore forward tossed in 18 points. The win gives Northville a 2-2 league record and a 2-1 overall mark.

Clarenceville, which hit on seven of 38 field goal attempts and didn't score a basket in the last quarter, is winless in five games. Tom Harding scored 10 points for the losers.

South Lyon gave Willow run a good tussle in the Class B regional final last spring, but the Lions are going to have to show tremendous improvement over their play against Cranbrook last week.

The Flyers appear to have another strong team and are heavily favored over South Lyon. The only action next week involving area teams will be the annual hockey tournament at Redford Union. Farmington, Walled Lake, Southfield and South Lyon will be in this meet.

Frank Robinson and Jim Maguire combined for 34 of the points as the Generals whipped the Captains 43-32 to regain the Army-League lead at the Pontiac Boys Club. Randy Styles hit 13 in defeat.

Trailing at the half, the Majors had 37 saves and Denver's George rallied to nip the Corporals, 34-29. Kirkwood only 17.

Willie Powell hooped 12 for the Majors and Talbert Carter for the Corporals.

Will Play in Rose Bowl Minnesota Halfback's 1953 Wish Comes True

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—"Some day I hope to be a good football player," wrote a 13-year-old Fargo, N. D., schoolboy in 1953. "I hope I am good enough to play in the Rose Bowl."

Dave Mulholland scrawled the note to himself, in a moment of boyish impulse at a time when his most immediate ambition was to make the grade school team. On the front side of the post card was a picture of the Rose Bowl. The youngster filed the note in his scrapbook and forgot about it. His mother didn't. A month ago, with Minnesota driving toward a national championship and its first Rose Bowl game, the card was remembered and the words brought back to the dreaming schoolboy.

Dave Mulholland, it turned out, was good enough to play in the Rose Bowl. When the Gophers face Washington Jan. 2, Mulholland will be in the starting lineup at halfback, a quick hitting 182-pounder who may be the surprise package in Minnesota's offense.

"I don't know what made me write that note," he reflected. "I didn't have the faintest idea it would happen. You just can't sit down and make something like that the goal of your life. It was just a wild hope."

Mulholland, a boy gripped by tragedy that struck down his father and brother in a two-year period, became a star at Fargo Central High School, won a scholarship to Minnesota and fought his way to the first team.

Sidelineers here agree no Minnesota running back has looked sharper in Gopher workouts.

"The more you carry the ball the better you get, and the more you know about the game," he said. "I feel better than at any time this season, and may just get lucky and break loose in the Rose Bowl."

"One thing, I know our team will be ready. We've been building up to this game slowly, but you can't go all out right off the bat."

Dave's sister, Beatrice, will watch him against the Huskies. The Fargo National Bank, where she is employed, is financing her trip.

The Gophers sweated through a morning workout in near 80-degree heat Thursday but bounced back slightly in the afternoon. Coach Murray Warmath was riled by faulty execution in the morning but more content with the second shift.

The Gophers will wind up twice daily practices Saturday and gather for the squad Christmas Eve party Saturday night.

Lions Place 6 on West Team

Packers, Colts Head Squad for January 15 Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Green Bay Packers and the Baltimore Colts dominate the West Team selected Thursday to play the East in the annual Pro Bowl football game in Memorial Coliseum Jan. 15.

The Packers, Western Conference champions of the National Football League, and the 1959 NFL champs, the Colts, each landed seven players on the West team.

The Detroit Lions placed six men, the San Francisco 49ers five, the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears four players and the Dallas Cowboys one.

The squad: OFFENSE Ends—Doug Auld, Bears; Otto M. Smith, Colts; Charlie Kramer, Packers; Tackle—Henry Jordan, Packers; Guard—Art Hoyer, Colts; Quarterback—Johnny Uhl, Colts; Running Back—Paul Hornung, Packers; Fullback—Lenny Moore, Colts; Punter—Jim Taylor, Packers; Kick—Tommy London, Packers.

DEFENSE Ends—Doug Auld, Bears; Otto M. Smith, Colts; Charlie Kramer, Packers; Tackle—Henry Jordan, Packers; Guard—Art Hoyer, Colts; Quarterback—Johnny Uhl, Colts; Running Back—Paul Hornung, Packers; Fullback—Lenny Moore, Colts; Punter—Jim Taylor, Packers; Kick—Tommy London, Packers.

Michigan Battered by Denver Sextet

DENVER (AP)—Denver's Pioneers scored five goals within a five-minute span of the first period last night and sailed to an 8-1 victory over Michigan in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game before 4,402 fans.

Gonzales Picks Italy to Win Cup

SYDNEY (AP)—Professional champion Pancho Gonzales picked Italy to win the Davis Cup today and warned that Mexico will replace the United States as tennis king of the Americas.

"Now that Barry MacKay and Earl Bachholz have turned Pro, I think Rafael Osuma of Mexico is the best amateur in the American zone," the swarthy Los Angeles star said shortly after his arrival in Sydney for special newspaper and television work on the challenge round.

"Osuma is capable of winning with his singles matches against anyone the U.S. can put up. That gives Mexico a big edge in the American zone competition next year."

Gonzales said Chuck Mackinley of St. Louis, who is only 19, will have to carry the load for the United States because teammate Dennis Rastol of Bakersfield, Calif., is at least a year and possibly two years away.

"Rastol has tremendous promise because of his size and quickness," Pancho said. "But he has so much to learn. He has not yet learned to listen to advice."

Osuma, who attends the University of Southern California, and Rastol were surprise winners of the Wimbledon doubles championship this year.

In appraising the challenge round starting here Monday, Gonzales said "I am sticking my neck out and saying Italy will win either 3-2 or 4-1."

He said he based his prediction

State Netters Lose at Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Five Michigan youngsters were early victims in the Orange Bowl tennis tournament yesterday.

The only winner among the Michigan players was Chuck Brainerd of Hamtramck. Brainerd defeated Lee Langstrath of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-0, 6-1, in the first round of the boys' 13-and-under tourney.

In the same group, Jeff Beane of Hamtramck was defeated by Lee Steele of Miami Beach, Fla., 7-5, 6-0, and Donald Valley of Pinckney was beaten by Billy Monan of Coral Gables, 6-0, 6-1.

Bob Lorenzo of Bloomfield Hills lost to Jay Schlosser of Miami Beach, 6-1, 6-0, in the first round of the boys' 15-and-under.

Ken Kesiton of Hamtramck was eliminated in the second round of the boys' 18-and-under by Rodney Mandelstam of Johannesburg, South Africa, 6-2, 6-1.

Betty Beidler of Hamtramck lost in the first round of the girls' 13-and-under, 6-2, 6-1, to Gay Gurney of Miami Beach.

North's Kickers Might Decide Shrine Contest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—It kicking turns out to be a major factor in the Shrine North-South football game, in the Orange Bowl Monday night, North figures it has the men who can do it.

"Last year we couldn't find a placekicker until the final day of practice," says Dale Hall of Army co-coach of the Northerners, with Bump Elliott of Michigan. "This year we have three fine kickers in Mike Stock of Northwestern, Henry Oppermann of Penn State and Army's Tom Blanda."

Stock probably will get the call when needed, with the Grimsley of Michigan State doing the punting. Bill Brown of Illinois also can punt them a mile.

Both North and South were to continue polishing their limited assortment of plays today, with the North squad doing full battle gear for the workout.

Fuel Tank Holocaust Costs $75 Million, Sets Completion Back Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Naval board of inquiry today to explore further today the "calculated risk" taken in putting aboard the carrier Constellation a 500-gallon fuel tank which set off the disastrous fire that claimed 61 lives.

The three-admiral board enters its third day of a step-by-step investigation into the cause of the Constellation which caused $75 million damage and delayed completion of the carrier for a year.

Conflicting testimony was given Thursday on how the valve plug was knocked out of the fuel tank allowing the flammable liquid to course through several decks of the ship before it was set afire by a welder's spark.

Open air services for the dead were held Thursday at the Brooklyn navy yard and thousands of workmen, many of whom had fled the burning ship, gathered there to watch the safety hats in the chilly wind as a bugler sounded taps.

Robert J. McCartney, a civilian engineer serving as safety inspector aboard the carrier, had told the board that he recommended the fuel tank be kept in the open flight deck instead of the enclosed hangar deck.

"It was calculated risk when we put it aboard ship," McCartney testified.

The kerosene-type fuel in the tank is used to test diesel engines and clean workmen's tools.

Earlier witnesses had testified that a hit-truck had nudged a trash bin which in turn had shoved a steel plate against the valve plug cracking it off.

But the hit-truck driver, Leroy Dumas, denied Thursday that he had bumped his truck against any object. He said before the fire he had left his truck parked for a coffee break and when he returned he saw the kerosene-type fuel spilled on the deck.

Indian Envoy Fears 2nd Korea in Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — India warned the United States today that the situation in Laos might touch off another Korean-type war if extreme care is not used.

India's Ambassador M. C. Chagla conferred with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and asked that the international community supervise the Geneva peace treaty be reactivated immediately in Laos.

The Geneva conference agreed a 1954 truce between French and Communist forces in what had been French-Indochina.

India backed a proposal by the Soviet Union that the control commission resume its work in Laos. The United States has taken the position that the U.S. should supervise the Geneva peace treaty.

Sixteen women will be staging their annual Christmas program for other inmates.

Dr. Bernard Finch, Jr., charged with murder in the gun slaying of his wife, Barbara Jean, July 18, 1958, was failed to reach a verdict at two trials and a third is pending.

This will be the couple's second Christmas in jail. Carole will turn 24 Christmas Day. She works as a meal server in the jail cafeteria, where she formerly was a dishwasher.

Woman's Death Boosts Munich Crash Toll to 53

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A German woman critically injured when a Pan Am jetliner crashed in a Munich street last Saturday died today, bringing the death toll to 53.

The latest victim was Anna Fromm, 40, the Air Force plane, showered burning gasoline over the car in which she and her husband, Fritz, were sitting.

Nine victims of the crash are still hospitalized, two of them in critical condition.

Farmington Twp. Burglars Miss $1,000 in Theft

Burglars made off with an estimated $300 in cash but missed another $1,000, when they ripped open a safe during a break-in last night at the Mayfair market in Farmington Township.

The break-in was discovered this morning by William Graustein when he delivered bread at the market at 3306 Northwestern Highway before the store opened for the day. He notified Pontiac state police.

Trooper Wilbur Shelly said the thieves worked undetected at ripping open the safe behind large display windows in the store front. The windows were plastered with advertising displays, giving them near-perfect cover, said Shelly.

He estimated the thieves had been in the store "quite a while." They also looted a cigarette machine of an undetermined amount of change.

The burglars failed to open an inner compartment of the safe, containing about $1,000 according to store manager Charles Warner. The market had been forced by knocking out cement blocks from the rear wall, thus eluding the burglar alarm.

Edward Kennedy Starts Thinking About Congress

BOSTON (UPI) — Edward T. Kennedy, youngest brother of President John F. Kennedy, will begin a legal career here in preparation for a possible congressional campaign in 1962, it was reported today.

Young Kennedy was reported to have been in London, England, and Africa and his wife Joan said she knew nothing of the reports.

The couple recently took an apartment at Lombard Square, an exclusive section of Beacon Hill.

One report had Kennedy accepting a position as assistant to Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne. He would then run for Congress from the 10th Congressional District in 1962.

An expected redistricting will make this district favorable to a Democratic candidate.

The seat is now held by Rep. Lawrence Curtis of Back Bay, a Democrat, who won re-election last November.

It was also rumored that Kennedy would run in 1962 for the Senate seat vacated by his brother, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The new Massachusetts senator, Benjamin Smith of Gloucester, has no plans to run for re-election in that year.

Steel Union Victory Certain for McDonald

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Headquarters of the United Steelworkers Union reported today that steelworker Donald C. Barick had failed to gain sufficient nomination to run a second time for president of the union.

This means UMW President David J. McDonald, who defeated Barick by a slight loss at the Feb. 1 majority in the 1957 election, will remain in office.

Union headquarters, where nominations were tallied, said only that Barick, 42, of nearby West Oak, Pa., did not receive enough nominations to qualify as a candidate. The number he did receive was disclosed.

McDonald garnered 1,136 nominations from among the union's 1,900 locals in the United States and Canada.

Two Monroe Men Killed as Cars Crash Head-On

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Monroe men were killed today in a head-on collision in nearby Brownstown Township, state police reported today.

Gerald Sakala, 34, and Leslie Barber, 19, were driving the two cars when they collided on U.S. 24 near Vreeland Road.

GM Executive Retires Dec. 31

Bloomfield Man Leaves as Director, Also With Overseas Operations

The retirement of a Bloomfield Hills General Motors Corporation executive was announced today.

Carl H. Kindl, 53, of 1330 Pembroke Drive, a vice president and director of GM and group executive in charge of overseas and Canadian operations, will retire Dec. 31.

Kindl joined GM in 1925 on the engineering staff of Dele-Remy Division, later the Buick Division.

He left General Motors in 1929 to become a vice president of National Cash Register Co. and later moved to Aviation Corporation as senior vice president.

In 1948 he returned to GM and was elected a vice president a year later. He has been a director and member of the executive committee since 1951.

He will retire under provisions of the GM Retirement Program.

Woman Killed by Car Crossing Woodward

A 68-year-old Birmingham woman was killed last night when she was struck by a car while walking across Woodward Avenue near her home.

The victim was Mrs. Hulda H. Wigle, 763 N. Woodward Avenue.

Birmingham police said Mrs. Wigle was attempting to cross Woodward Avenue near just west of Oak Street when she was hit by a car driven by Patrick H. Witherspoon, 21, 5181 Dakota Circle, Birmingham.

The impact threw Mrs. Wigle onto the hood of the car, where she was carried 150 feet before stopping.

Witherspoon told police he was traveling at 25 miles an hour when the accident occurred shortly after 7 p.m. Witherspoon was to make a formal statement to the county prosecutor today. He was not held.

Rusk's Son Engaged to California Coed

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — David P. Rusk, son of the newly designated secretary of state, is engaged to marry Delicia Benice, her parents announced Wednesday.

The parents made the announcement at their home in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Students at the University of California here, they plan to marry in August and continue their studies here after the wedding.

Rusk is the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rusk of Scarsdale, N.Y. Miss Benice is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carlos Benice.

77 SUNSET STRIP, 9 p.m. (7). Jeff Spenser (Roger Smith) is hired to protect an elderly husband from "The Other Man" and walks into a cleverly contrived murder charge.

TWILIGHT ZONE, 10 p.m. (2). Art Carney stars as a struggling department store Santa Claus who believes Christmas should be a day for people like himself — "The Shabby Ones."

EYEWITNESS TO HISTORY, 10:30 p.m. (2). A report on the day's tragic fire aboard the carrier and the serious military questions arising from it.

REPEAT OF P.A.M., 11:30 p.m. (4). Repeat of the Oct. 23 program, with Jack Haskell, Jim Pierson, Buddy Hackett, Joyce Bishop and Jack Kerr.

ike Lauds Boy Scouts in Christmas Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower sent his annual Christmas message to the Boy Scouts of America today. It said in part: "This has been a banner year for the Boy Scouts."

Their 50th anniversary programs throughout the nation have given citizens the opportunity for renewed recognition of the values of scouting."

Flint liquor licenses are awarded by the commission to applicants who will be approved by the Michigan department and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Each commissioner is allowed to nominate a candidate for approval or rejection of the values of scouting."

A scramble now is on for 21 new liquor-by-the-glass licenses which will be allowed in Flint on the basis of expanded population revealed in the last census.

Townsend now holds a beer-and-wine license and has had his application for liquor-by-the-glass license for three years.

Conviction of accepting a bribe with the promise to exercise influence brings a maximum sentence of 10 years, or a $5,000 fine.

It also requires forfeiture of public office, and permanently disqualified the accused from holding any public office.

Christmas Spirit Gets the Best of British Girls

ACCRINGTON, England (UPI)—Six girls were suspended from their jobs in a cotton mill for carrying the Christmas spirit a little too far.

They were caught slipping into another department to find more men willing to contribute one shilling (14 cents) to a Christmas charity in exchange for a kiss.

Keep Milkmen Sober, Britons Are Warned

LONDON (AP)—Safety officials warned Britons Thursday against the "pernicious habit" of letting the milkmen have a wee nip when he makes his last pre-Christmas delivery.

Such tip-sipping is dangerous for people who have to deliver milk, said the Royal Society for Prevention of Accidents.

Flint Mayor T. C. Smith Demands Examination in Bribe Charge

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Person to Person" went into the CBS-TV scrap heap last night. As a first salute to this former TV champion, and to the holiday season now upon us, I'm making place a left-over "Person to Person" script:

CHARLES: Tonight, we will visit Santa Claus at his retreat in the Christmas Islands, south of Hawaii, where he has been living a beachcomber's life for the past few weeks. Good evening, Santa, how's the water?

SANTA: Good evening, Charles. Welcome to my sun-drenched cabana. It's nice of you to stop by during my little hiatus here at the Hotel Breeze. First time I've been able to get away in December.

CHARLES: That's a fine sun tan you have, Santa. Since we're on TV now, I wonder if the TV business has affected your work?

SANTA: Very little affect. By the way, old Buddy, thanks for letting me slip in that hotel plug. I'll help with the tab.

As I was saying, TV hasn't changed things for me. We're still opening letters, filling orders, feeding reindeer and delivering toys to good little girls and boys. Oh, I suppose we've had to take on some extra help to handle more work.

I've just set up a separate letter reading division and put a lovely girl in charge. Dr. Joyce Brothers is her name. I've been so busy with guest shots on TV that I had to delegate authority.

CHARLES: Then TV keeps you busy?

SANTA: Well, if it's not visiting department stores or being in parades, it's TV. I commute between Hollywood and New York. You know, they wanted me to sub for Bill Cullen on "The Price Is Right."

Nice chap, Cullen. A little thin, but nice. But since they Charles, can I mention the airline that flies me to the TV shows?

CHARLES: I'm afraid not, Santa.

Olson said he was alarmed by a recent increase in holdup-slays in the metropolitan area.

"I want to see more cases pushed ahead on court dockets so they can be prosecuted with as much dispatch as possible," he said.

Olson also ordered his staff to pay particular attention to cases involving the carrying of concealed weapons, citing such practices as a "contributing and important factor" in the robbery-dailying increase.

Urges Leaders to Be Honorable

Pope John Warns of War Dangers in His Annual Yule Message

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII called on world leaders in his annual Christmas message today to "act honorably in these days of general danger."

It was Pope John's third Christmas message to the world since his election as supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

Like his past two messages and the long series of his predecessors, Pope Pius XII, it called attention to the dangers of war.

Pope John urged the rulers of the world to "say what is true, and finally do what is true."

"The storms which rage over some parts of the world threaten not only the social order, but more important, many souls weak and unstable," he said.

During the next three days, the Vatican radio station will broadcast translations of the message in 30 languages, including Russian and Chinese.

"We appeal to those who have the highest responsibility in the public and social spheres," the pontiff said, "and we invite them in the name of Christ to place their hand on their heart and act honorably in these days of general danger."

The preceding was pre-recorded and edited to comply with seasonal regulations.

CHARLES: I understand. Anyhow, I've got to more lively little reindeer to help bring joy to the families out there. I call them Stanton, Sarnoff, Kintner, Four Star, Desilu, Goldenson, Ampex, Kodak and Treva.

CHARLES: Well, I can see that TV hasn't changed your life at all. By the way, Santa, what are you doing leading under the warm sun at this time of year? Shouldn't you be at the North Pole?

SANTA: I'm glad you asked, Charles. It brings me to the one area in which TV has made a slight change in my routine. You see, last summer, when the weather was good, I put the whole chimney bit on videotape.

We'll run off the tape Saturday and they tell me nobody can tell if it's live or not. And it lets me get away from that snow and boys. Oh, I suppose we've had to take on some extra help to handle more work.

I've just set up a separate letter reading division and put a lovely girl in charge. Dr. Joyce Brothers is her name. I've been so busy with guest shots on TV that I had to delegate authority.

Christmas Themes Dominate Airwaves

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Holiday themes continue to dominate the television screens for the rest of the Christmas-New Year period.

NBC's Telephone Hour tonight jumps the gun by 24 hours with a musical hour (9-10 EST) built around the hit "The Night Before" with the help of Maureen O'Hara, Rise Stevens and John Raitt. And then on CBS' "Twilight Zone" there's Art Carney playing a sad department store Santa in "Night of the Week" (10-10:30).

Labor Secretary's Problem

Goldberg Must Enforce Laws He Has Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—As secretary of labor, Arthur J. Goldberg will be administering laws he has condemned as unfair to unions and has tried to have amended. He has particularly criticized the Landrum-Griffin and Taft-Hartley Acts in his previous capacity as general counsel of the AFL-CIO.

"Landrum-Griffin is complicated, confusing, cumbersome and ambiguous," he stated in an article he and Kenneth A. Miller, AFL-CIO consultant, wrote for the Northwestern University Law Review early this year.

State Welfare League Gains 2 Board Members

In testimony before congressional committees he has charged that the Taft-Hartley law curtailed union rights to picket, delayed labor dispute settlements through injunctions, and abridged the right to strike. Goldberg has hit at the general philosophy behind these two major labor-management laws in his recent speeches. He is known to support fully the Democratic party in the Michigan elections. The election of Gillen is for a term expiring in 1962 and that of other "antilabor excesses." The Kelley for a term expiring in 1963.

PET DOCTOR

Q. Could sudden change of temperature have caused my hamster's death? Rose Marie Marine, Pueblo, Colo.

A. Hamsters are pretty hardy little creatures. Given a choice, they would choose temperatures between 50 and 80 degrees, but they can adjust to almost any climate. In severe cold weather, extra litter in the cage, or a nesting box about seven inches square with at least a three-inch opening will help.

Revolts Must Fail

Ethiopians Worship Selassie

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—While bullets split the air outside, humble Ethiopian men and women lay flat on their faces and prayed for protection inside a circular little church.

A rebellion has been proclaimed against the emperor, and the capital was turned into a bloody battleground.

In this moment of danger the people addressed their prayers to Emperor Haile Selassie himself. They hold the emperor so sacred that many will not repeat his name unless they are lying face down.

For 30 years Haile Selassie, the "elect of God," "King of Kings of Ethiopia," and "the Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah," has been supreme in this remote and primitive mountain kingdom.

He has survived the onslaught of Mussolini's army and repeatedly outwitted his enemies.

To simple Ethiopians he is a benevolent father and protector. This helps explain why last week's revolt failed. And it explains why Ethiopians, primitive and poor as they are, still showed no enthusiasm for any reform on quick modernization. The emperor's personality remains the basis for stability and security in Ethiopia.

At the same time the existence of this paternal monarchy explains why young officers and educated Ethiopians launched the rebellion.

The young men in the imperial bodyguard undoubtedly were motivated, at least in part, by idealism and a desire to modernize the country. Although Ethiopia has been independent 3,000 years, the country lags far behind such newly independent African states as Sudan, Nigeria, Guinea and Ghana in development. But it is a measure of respect they themselves hold for the emperor that the rebels tried to engineer the coup while he was out of the country. They had no thought of assassinating him.

Why there's no heat like

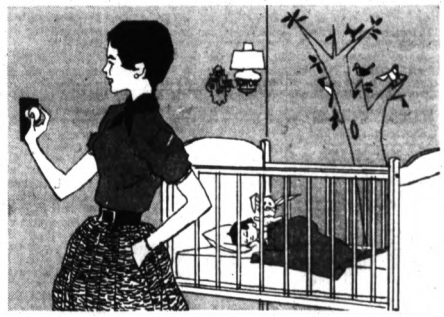

ELECTRIC HEAT
WHEN YOU'RE ADDING ROOM

ADD MORE ROOM WITHOUT STRAINING YOUR PRESENT HEATING SYSTEM. Planning to enclose a porch or breezeway? Adding a bedroom or family room? Then be sure of cold-weather comfort by installing electric heat! It's easy and practical to do because electric heat is installed and operates independently of the existing heating system, no matter what type you now have.

EVEN HEAT, HEAD TO FEET. In an electrically heated room, the temperature seldom varies more than two or three degrees from floor to ceiling. There are no strong drafts—just even, cozy warmth.

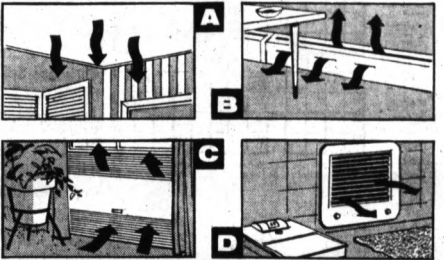

INSTANT HEAT. Electric home heating is fast because the heat source is right there, in the room. And independent operation makes it ideal in spring and fall when one or two rooms need heating while others are warmed by the sun. Individual thermostats in each room make it possible to keep rooms at different temperatures automatically.

CLEAN HEAT. Electric heat is heat by wire instead of fire—it never creates smoke or soot. Walls and furniture, draperies and carpets will require less frequent cleaning.

MATCH THE HEATING UNITS TO MEET YOUR NEEDS

Popular built-in electric heat systems use (A) cable embedded in ceilings, (B) baseboards, (C) forced air units or (D) radiant panels set into the walls.

Five Below Sets Cold Record for City

Mercury Collapses, Michigan Shudders

From Our News Wires
Michigan shuddered in the grip of the coldest Dec. 23 on record today, with the mercury diving to as much as 21 below zero.
But the Weather Bureau promised a slight warming trend before Saturday.
The wave of frigid weather, accompanied in the western part of Michigan by new snowfalls, established records for the date in many places and threatened all-time records in a few.

10 Children Face Sad Christmas

The 10 children of Joseph J. Foreman faced a fatherless Christmas today.

Instead of the warm family circle at Christmastime, they'll be a funeral.

Foreman, a Detroit electrician, was killed in the explosion yesterday noon in the boiler room of the newly completed Leonard Elementary school, 1461 Tallman Road, Troy.

Among the three other workers injured when the boiler unit blew up was Milton Parry, 39, of 2092 Moss St., Kego Harbor, a Kego Harbor councilman.

HOME, DECLINES COMMENT

Home today after treatment for face burns at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Parry was resting, his family said, and unavailable for comment on the mysterious explosion that prompted state authorities into an investigation yesterday afternoon.

At the Foreman home in Detroit the Christmas tree was decorated yesterday, except for the star on top.

Foreman, 40, was to put the star on when he got home from work.

Nine of the 10 children, ranging in age from 3 to 17, waited for a father who never came. One of the children was working.

Mrs. Foreman, 29, was at William Beaumont Hospital in Detroit. Foreman had been pronounced dead on arrival there a few minutes after the explosion.

In serious condition at William Beaumont was Donald Gagnon, 34, of Detroit. He suffered extensive pattern affecting the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

Pellston — the Lower Peninsula's traditional icebox — reported 21 below early today.
Niles, in the southwest corner of the state, ran a close second with 19 below.

These were official figures, but Michigan, in Marquette County, reported an unofficial 22 below.

DETROIT MARK CRUSHED
Detroit broke an 82-year-old frigid record at 3 a. m. then the new mark was chipped away, degree by degree, during the next four hours.

By 7 a. m., the fifth mark of the day was set with a 4 below reading.

In the suburbs it was even colder—4 below at Willow Run and Metropolitan airports.

Nine Michigan deaths have been attributed to the extreme wintry weather since it began three days ago.

LOS ANGELES — Winter?
The temperature reached a summery, shirt-sleeves-and-shorts 89 degrees Thursday.

Forecast for today: about 82, with some light eye irritation from smog.

weather since it began three days ago.

Readings elsewhere around the state: Jackson 5, Battle Creek 3, Lansing 4, Flint 4, Saginaw 3 above, Grand Rapids 5 above, Muskegon 7 above, Traverse City 7 above, South St. Marie 10 and Marquette 12.

Near Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Merrill and their eight children fled when fire destroyed their home in rural Oshtemo Township.

The Merrills, shoeless and in their night clothing, were taken in by neighbors.

FLORIDA WORRIES
The record cold wave—in its second day—plunged temperatures below zero from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic and threatened trouble for Florida citrus farmers.

The bitter, arctic air followed a savage snow storm across the country. The snow and cold combined for a heavy toll of death and hardship.

A coast showed 64 weather-stained deaths in the past five days.

The Midwest, hit by a heavy snowstorm earlier this week, got the zippiest weather, including the bone-chilling 24 below zero in Joliet, Ill., and -23 in International Falls, Minn.

Some Southern city low marks included Tallahassee, Fla., 26; Atlanta 21; Jacksonville, Fla., 30; Tampa, Fla., 37; Mobile, Ala., 28; Miami 30.

Floridians had uneasy memories of the disastrous freeze of 1945.

4 Join Sailor on Split Ship

Crewmen From Tug Board Stern Section as 28 Head to Safety

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Four crewmen from a commercial tug joined engineer John Richard aboard the stern section of the broken American tanker Pine Ridge today as a destroyer sped the 28 survivors toward Norfolk.

The crewmen were placed aboard the tanker by small boats from the tug—a sharp contrast to the feckish operation Thursday by which the 28 were lifted from the bobbing bulk by helicopter.

Richard, 35, of Washington, Del., remained aboard to protect the tanker's salvage rights.

Coast Guard ships and planes resumed their search for the missing ship's agents today. The master, Capt. Clark Snyder, 44, Fla., Minn.

Three survivors of the broken tanker had volunteered to return to assist in towing operations but the ship's agents told them not to go aboard.

The ship's owner is the Key-done Shipping Co. of Philadelphia.

Survivors aboard the Pine Ridge were transferred from the aircraft carrier Valley Forge whose helicopters lifted them from the stern section.

The Pine Ridge was ripped apart Wednesday in gale winds that churned waters 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N.C.—that straited graveyard of the Atlantic.

Carols and Prayer Planned Here

List Christmas Services

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Christians in the Pontiac area joined others around the world today, in preparing to celebrate the birth of the Christ child with ceremonies tomorrow and Sunday.

The singing of carols, prayer and the celebration of Holy Communion will be observed.

St. John's Lutheran Church will have its traditional caroling service at 11 Christmas Eve. Pastor Charles A. Colberg will speak on "The Sill."

Wilmu Nilsson will sing "O Holy Night" and the Golden Age Club of the church will present special Swedish carols.

He Predicts Mild Winter, Then Runs Away South
—WAUKEGAN, Ill. (UPI) — Commercial fisherman Nathan Kyrtiss last fall studied the habits of Lake Michigan perch and came up with the prediction that it would be a mild winter.

Thursday, newsmen decided to ask him to explain the sub-zero call, in the wake of a deep day-before-yesterday snowfall. They were told he already had left for a cruise in the Caribbean.

A history-making 5 degrees below zero entombed all of the Pontiac area in a sunny but bone-chilling deepfreeze for the second straight day today.

Never before has it been this cold on this date, the Weather Bureau in Detroit reported.

The previous low for Dec. 23 was 1 above in 1878.

The mercury, which didn't even reach above 9 degrees all day Thursday, held fast at the record-setting 5 degrees below zero at 6 a.m.

It was still at this mark at 8 a.m. today, making many of the area's heaviest intersections a blur of exhaust plumes as frozen motorists nudged their way to work during the usual rush hour.

Emergency road crews were overwhelmed with calls for assistance. The standard call: "My car won't start. Can you send a wrecker?"

The standard answer: "In a while." Gas station attendants reported they were hours behind schedule in trying to answer all calls.

COULDN'T COUNT CARS
I couldn't even begin to count them, said one man when asked how many calls he had since 6 a.m.

Some residents of the outlying townships reported that the temperature was as low as a teeth-chattering 10 degrees below zero. There were other reports of 6 below and 5 below in the suburbs.

Pontiac Motor Division reported absenteeism not as high today as it was yesterday when the thermometer dipped to 3 degrees below zero.

Today is payday.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported roads clean since the last snow which fell on the area was Tuesday. However, more snow is coming, the Weather Bureau said.

It will begin tomorrow afternoon and will be accompanied by a predicted high for tomorrow of 20 degrees, a welcomed relief for any last-minute Christmas shoppers.

For the start of the long three-day Christmas weekend, the Weather Bureau promised that it wouldn't be quite "so cold" to the south.

President-Elect Still Filling Jobs

Dr. Walter H. Heller Favored for Chairman of Economic Council

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today may follow a custom for his Council of Economic Advisors in the new administration. And the man will have his work cut out for him in this time of the business dip.

Reportedly in line for the key job is Dr. Walter H. Heller, 45, of the University of Minnesota. He heads the economics department in the university's school of business administration.

Kennedy kept at the task of job-filling in the midst of family preparations for Christmas and after announcing Thursday his resignation from the U.S. Senate, effective immediately.

To his Massachusetts seat Gov. Foster Furcolo is appointing a successor suggested by Kennedy, his old friend Benjamin A. Smith II, former mayor of Gloucester.

Kennedy sent his letter of resignation to Furcolo and also notified Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding officer of the Senate and his Republican opponent in the presidential election.

Heller, who conferred with Kennedy last week, is regarded as an authority on public finance. He has served for six years as tax adviser to Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman, picked by Kennedy to be Secretary of Agriculture.

STILL FILLING JOBS

Kennedy's headquarters said he expects to follow an important post during the day but declined to specify the job in advance.

The chairmanship of the three-man Council of Economic Advisors is held in the outgoing Eisenhower administration by Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier. The council keeps the president posted on business conditions and trends, and to help a warning flag when over recession threatens or unemployment shows signs of mounting to a dangerous level.

Kennedy is expected to take over the presidency Jan. 20, the government's latest figures show more than four million out of work. And both the Eisenhower administration and the incoming Kennedy regime consider the current business slump a worrisome development.

Kennedy will have a big job on his hands in picking appointees for policy-making federal jobs. He has named his 10-man Cabinet and filled a few other key positions, but he has about 200 other important policy-making jobs he wants to fill before inauguration to give him effective control of the government at the start.

Even Millions of Dollars Still Can't Cure a Cold

CHICAGO (UPI)—Cold remedies relieve Americans of millions of dollars a year "but they do not cure or prevent colds," the American Medical Association said today.

The AMA's journal said that regardless of what you do for it, a cold still lasts about a week.

Watch That Tree! Check This List to Avert Fires

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Board of Fire Underwriters warned today that many tree deaths will occur over the Christmas holidays unless precautions are taken in decorating Christmas trees.

The board issued these safety recommendations:

- Do not let the tree dry out. Keep it away from heat and stand it in water.
- Use fireproof decorations.
- The electric lights, never candles, inspect each candle and wire. Discard sets with frayed wiring. Turn off tree lights when away from home.
- Inspect tree regularly to see if needles have turned brown. If so, change position of the lights.
- Do not set up electric tinsel under the tree. Discard gift wrapping after the presents are opened.
- Discard the tree when the needles start to fall.

Also treated at St. Joseph was the fourth worker, James Hennessey, 44, of St. Clair Shores. He suffered a head cut.

Deputies from the state fire marshal's office and the Redford State Police post began the investigation.

Leonard to Advise on Police Changes

Donald S. Leonard, former Detroit and state police commissioner, will be hired as a special adviser to help reorganize the police department in Royal Oak Township.

Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens was given authorization last night by the Township Board to hire Leonard to "advise and assist in organizing adequate police service for the community."

Seven members of the township's 11-man police force were accused last year of pocketing funds they collected in the annual Christmas Goodwill sale. All seven were later acquitted.

Dickens said Leonard will study police problems in the township, make recommendations and assist in putting them into action.

Leonard, who now works as a professional consultant and lecturer on police organization, will serve as adviser on all matters pertaining to public safety and law enforcement according to Dickens.

Home Owners Urged to Check Heating Systems

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White today urged Pontiac home owners to make sure their home heating systems are in good working order.

"During the present cold wave, furnaces are working overtime," units are among the greatest of fire hazards, the fire chief said.

White also asked merchants to have their establishments' heating units checked.

"A periodic inspection can result in tremendous savings of property and lives," he pointed out.

Aid Family Which Lost 2 Homes in 9 Days

WILLIAMSTON (UPI)—Offers of help started pouring in today for a family which was burned out of its home twice in the past nine days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths and their four children were routed out of their home in a converted schoolhouse last night when fire broke out. The family lost all its belongings, many of which were donated by neighbors. Less than two days after a fire gutted their old home, No one was injured in either blaze.

Lewis A. Crew to Be Aide

The Pontiac Board of Education has named Lewis A. Crew to be the newly-created position of administrative assistant.

Crew, 39, is principal of Crofoot Elementary School and has been in the Pontiac school system since 1959.

The board approved him for the job at a special meeting last Thursday afternoon.

Crew's duties will cover a wide area of administrative responsibility. He will work on direct assignment from administrators.

The new assistant was chosen from 15 candidates for the job, 10 of whom were local people.

Khrushchev Listens as Minister Outlines 1961 Policy With U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared today that the Soviet Union is ready to improve its relations with the United States after the inauguration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's Parliament, that his government hopes U.S.-Soviet relations after Kennedy's inauguration will revert to the state they were in during the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt—a hope previously expressed by Premier Khrushchev in a cable last month congratulating Kennedy on his victory.

"The Soviet government expresses its hope that the present unfavorable atmosphere will be cleared," Gromyko said. "This would help by 100 times the solution of many problems now unsettled."

"I am authorized to state that on the part of the Soviet government the present state of U.S.-Soviet relations is a result of previously stated Soviet positions. He gave no indication that Soviet policy would be modified to improve relations with the United States."

Once more he blamed the "Eisenhower-Nixon administration" for the present state of U.S.-Soviet relations and the failure of the Paris summit conference.

He called again for a special summit session of the U.N. General Assembly in the spring of 1961, when the Soviet Union would disarmament and attacked Western powers as "opponents not only of disarmament but also of control over disarmament."

Gromyko repeated Soviet accusations against U.S. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and his representatives in the Congo are "accomplices of the colonialists."

1st Urban Renewal Properties Acquired

The first two properties acquired for new housing in the city's first urban renewal program are homes in areas slated for residential redevelopment.

The purchases were closed yesterday, it was announced by Robert A. Stier, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

Initial acquisitions mean that the city's first urban renewal program, several years in the planning stage, is actually under way, said Stier.

Purchased were homes at 117 Cottage St. and 38 O'Reilly St. in the residential area east of Saginaw Street and South of Auburn Avenue, where much of the blighted control effort is concentrated.

The Cottage Street home, a two-story frame building, was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. James R. Chaffee, a retired couple who plan to move to Florida in a week or so.

The total price was $7,250, said Stier — $3,145 to the Chaffees, who have been buying on a cash contract, since 1955, and $4,105 to the deed holders, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pascoroli of Troy.

The O'Reilly Street home, another two-story frame dwelling, was purchased from George Razos, a retired worker who plans to find a new home within the city limits, said Stier.

The price was $7,950, Stier said. Razos, who has lived in the home seven years plans to rent it from the city until spring.

LOTS BOUGHT, TOO

Included in the purchases were the lots on which the homes stand. The Cottage Street lot was a small one — 35 feet wide and 90 feet long. The O'Reilly Street lot was 50 feet wide by 100 feet long.

Both homes eventually will be razed by the city and the land offered to private developers for new housing.

The Cottage Street home is in an area slated for widespread residential redevelopment, Stier said. The O'Reilly Street home is an example of spot clearance.

It is in deteriorated condition, Stier said, but most of the homes around it are in better condition and are not slated for acquisition.

Razos, 72, once operated a Pontiac restaurant, Chaffee, 72, is a retired General Motors Corp. employee.

The option on the Cottage Street property was obtained by the city from W. W. Hind. The O'Reilly option was signed by William H. Kauden, another realtor. Hind and Kauden are the two agents employed by the city to acquire urban renewal property.

Both purchases were closed by Pontiac attorney Hayward Whitlock, under the supervision of City Attorney William A. Ewart. Whitlock is the lawyer hired by the city to close urban renewal property acquisitions.

The purchases leave about 300 more parcels slated for acquisition in the five-year urban renewal effort founded by Saginaw, Pile, Padlock, Parkhurst, Perkins, Gorman and Purke streets.

Both the Chaffees and Razos had asked the city to buy their properties right away, said Stier. "For the next few weeks we will be concentrating on properties where early acquisition has been requested," he explained.

FTC Orders End to Mergers

Scott Paper, Pillsbury Will Protest Mandate to Sell 5 Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission Thursday issued separate antitrust orders against the Scott Paper Co., Chester, Pa., and the Pillsbury Co. of Minneapolis.

Under terms of the orders, the firms would be required to sell five competing companies which they purchased between 1951 and 1954 for about $117 million.

Both Scott and Pillsbury said the orders would be appealed to the federal courts.

The FTC held that the acquisitions—three by Scott and two by Pillsbury—violated the antitrust law and tended to create monopolies or lessen competition.

PENDING MANY YEARS

The two cases had been pending before the FTC for many years. The original complaint against Pillsbury was filed in 1952 and that against Scott in 1958.

Scott was ordered to sell:—Soundview Pulp Co., Everett, Wash., merged into Scott in 1951 through issuance of $90 million in stock.

—Detroit Sulphite Pulp and Paper Co., Detroit, purchased in 1954 for $11 million in stock.

—Hollingsworth & Whitney Co., Boston, acquired in 1954 in exchange for $28 million in stock.

Pillsbury was ordered to sell:—Ballard & Ballard Co., Louisville, Ky., purchased in 1952 for $5,171,000.

—Duff's Baking Mix Division of American Home Foods, Inc., at Hamilton, Ohio, purchased in 1952 for about $3 million.

President Thomas W. Wilson was better known by his middle name—Woodrow.

A MAN OF VISION — Donald Andrus, 17, devised this wiper assembly to keep his eye glasses cleared of snow and rain. A flashlight battery powers the device which is controlled by a lapel switch. Andrus tried it out in Wednesday's heavy snowfall in Rochester, N. Y., and he says it works fine.

With Holiday Driving: Watch Others' Errors

DETROIT (AP)—Millions of motorists will take to the highways today and tomorrow for a Christmas trip and from dozens of organizations concerned with safety and automobiles come pleas for care and caution.

They range from the familiar, "If you drink, don't drive" to "Don't miss the turkey because of a blown tire or bad brakes."

All of them, however, are genuinely concerned about your safety, comfort and pleasure—and the other fellow's.

Too often, many authorities fear, drivers may smile at a clever joke or laugh at a snappy slogan, then ignore it with the attitude of "That's for those crazy drivers, not me."

Safety authorities suggest that during crowded holiday periods shoot or a piglet.

Warsaw Cocktail Bar 'Milkshakes' Popular

WARSAW (AP)—A shiny new cocktail bar in Warsaw's main shopping district has become one of this capital's most popular gathering places.

The Polish version of the American-style bar and lounge drew nearly 500,000 customers during its first three months of operation, according to a press report.

Westerners living in Warsaw or just passing through have shown little interest in the place—probably because the 'strongest beverage on the menu is a spiked milkshake.

But Warsaw officials are delighted with the success of their venture. Began last August on an experimental basis.

Plans have been rushed through for a second similar establishment.

On the other hand, Moscow-type milk bars scattered throughout the city aren't doing too well. These self-service shops, where one can buy snacks and various milk concoctions for a few pennies, are gradually losing ground.

Prices in the cocktail bar are higher than those in the milk bars. But the Poles don't seem to mind.

Many Poles have complained lately about the food, service and dirt in the shabby milk bars where workers and white-collar employees usually stop for breakfast and a snack on the way home from work.

The new bar in Jerolimski Avenue, near Warsaw's one and only department store, is always crowded.

The design is a faithful copy of the well known American institution from the neon 'cocktail' sign over the entrance to the mirror bar.

Waitresses in crisp blue uniforms hurry among 20 small tables in the lounge with trays of coffee and "milk cocktails."

These milkshakes are usually Say Mac Asked Ike Not to Vote in U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A personal plea from British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to President Eisenhower caused the United States to abstain on the anti-colonialism vote in the United Nations. The Washington Post said today.

The resolution against colonialism passed the U. N. General Assembly last week 89 to 0, with the United States among the few abstainers.

The Post said the delegation, during the two weeks of debate, was led to believe the United States would support the resolution, which called for immediate steps toward independence for all colonies.

But, the Post continued, Macmillan sent a personal message to Eisenhower urging the United States not to vote for the resolution. Britain, a colonial power, could be put into an embarrassing position by a U. S. vote in favor of the resolution.

West Germany to Raise Size of Armed Forces

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Defense Ministry announced Thursday West Germany will have 231,000 men in its armed forces at the start of the new year. Army rolls will rise to 182,000. The government is calling up 36,000 conscripts and enlisting 5,000 volunteers.

Mercy College Plans Move to Farmington Area

$25-Million Girls' School to Use Middlebelt Acres

By JIM LONG

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Lack of space for future expansion and increased enrollment has prompted Detroit's Mercy College to move its entire operation to a 240-acre site here, a spokesman at the all-girl school said yesterday.

The northwest Detroit college, operated by the Religious Sister of Mercy, announced yesterday that a ground will be broken here Sept. 24 for a $25-million campus.

The site of the multimillion dollar campus is located on the east side of Middlebelt Road between 11 and 13-mile roads.

Opened in 1941 on a 40-acre site at Southfield and Outer Drive with an enrollment of 125, the college has grown over the years to its present capacity of 700 students.

The new campus will allow the school to more than double its student population.

"However, Mercy College plans to continue as a small college," the spokesman said, "since it feels that in its particular field it can better serve its purpose this way."

In recent years the school established an East Campus at Outer Drive and Schaefer Road in a 7-story building to accommodate the growing enrollment. Students were shuttled between the two campuses by bus.

No future plans have been announced for the present institution, built originally at a cost of $1.3 million.

The new site was chosen, according to school officials, because of its accessibility to Detroit and its suburbs. The college will be 1 1/2 miles from the James Couzens extension of the John C. Lodge expressway.

The move was announced yesterday by Sister Mary Lucille, M.S.M., president of the college, and Mother Mary Nicholas Muhl, R.S.M., mother superior of the province which serves Michigan, Indiana and Iowa.

The new campus will also become the headquarters for the Detroit Province of the Sisters of Mercy.

The religious order purchased the site, to be known as "Maryland," in 1959. Financing the new campus has already been arranged. No fund-raising program is planned.

Preliminary drawings of the first of several administration buildings have been prepared by the architectural firm of Donaldson and Meier, which has designed a number of schools in the Detroit area.

Along with the administration buildings, the campus will include classrooms, an auditorium, library, fine arts building, science building, student teaching laboratory school, home economics building, dormitories, dining hall, two-party center, single dwellings for faculty housing and a chaplain's residence.

The present Mercy College facility consists of 21 Sisters of Mercy, 4 priests and 6 lay members.

Sister Mary Lucille said in announcing the plans, "Everyone knows of the increased responsibility that will be placed on institutions of higher education in future years. Mercy College leads out to meet this challenge."

The Religious Sisters of Mercy operates 44 schools and colleges and 25 hospitals in its tri-state province.

Annual Christmas Eve Methodist Rite to Start at 9 P.M. in Clarkson

CLARKSTON — Worshipers at the First Methodist Church will observe the annual Christmas Eve Family Candlelight Communion service beginning at 9 p.m. tomorrow, according to the Rev. William Richards, church pastor.

The service will continue until all communicants have been served, then they may depart at their own desire after having received the elements.

A background of soft organ music will be played by Mrs. Anna Thomas with vocal music presented by the Senior and Women's Chorus, and the glow of candlelight.

Every 10 minutes Rev. Richards will deliver a short meditation on the "Birth of Jesus." The pastor will interpret the thoughts of the shepherds, the wise men, the innkeeper and Joseph and Mary.

Because of the large attendance every year — and in order to care for the overflow, this type of communion service has been adopted.

"Many people enjoy the brief meditation and then return home to be with their families," Rev. Richards pointed out.

On Christmas Day the church will hold two services, beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing at 11 a.m. The subject, "Unto Us a Son is Born," will be presented by Rev. Richards and special selections with outstanding guest soloists have been prepared by director of music, William Marshall.

There will be no Sunday School sessions in order that families may worship together on Christmas Day. However, the nursery will be open to serve youngsters of church members and guests.

OK Multiparty Phone Service Cut for Utica

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has been granted authority to discontinue multiparty service in its Utica exchange in Macomb County, Michigan Public Service Commission Executive Secretary Norman Berkowitz said today.

The commission authorized Michigan Bell to discontinue its four-party residential and two-party business service in the exchange area as part of the utility's changeover to direct dial service in the state.

Berkowitz said the commission order also allowed Michigan Bell to "slightly enlarge" its Utica base rate area, including transfer of parts of the Rochester and Washington exchanges to the Utica area.

Some 2,000 customers were affected by the change in services, Berkowitz said.

The change in service was expected to result in an $11,900 annual increase in gross revenue for the company, he said.

Farm Equipment Demand

Optimistic for Next Year

TROY — Demand for farm equipment is on the up-grade and industry sales in 1961 should be 15 per cent higher than in 1960, Merritt D. Hill, vice president and general manager of Ford Motor Co. Tractor and Implement Division, said here today.

"The year 1960 was a very disappointing one for most producers of farm equipment. The industry's tractor production slumped 45 per cent from the 1959 level, Ford tractor production declined correspondingly," he reported.

"Retail sales were off more moderately, the decline resulting primarily from unusually cold and wet weather in many areas of the United States in the spring and from farmer pessimism in the early part of the year regarding income prospects."

"It appears now that this pessimism was not justified. Gross farm income in 1960 is estimated at $57.7 billion, a slight increase from 1959. With fewer farmers in operation in 1960, the per-farm average gross income rose an estimated 3 per cent this year."

"Because reliable industry statistics on inventories and retail sales are not available in time to be of much benefit to the members of our industry in planning production schedules, field stocks of tractors and of many items of farm equipment and harvesting machinery were substantially higher at the beginning of 1960 than warranted. This led to production curtailments, and in some lines to 'distress' selling."

"The excessive inventories appear now to have been worked off, and production in line with sales can be resumed," said Hill.

Brooklands Club Plays Santa to 1,900 Children

BROOKLANDS — The Brooklands Exchange Club played Santa Claus for some 1,900 elementary school children in this area yesterday and Wednesday.

The club's 24 members passed out candy-filled Christmas stockings to pupils in the Avon, West Utica, Auburnshire and Brooklands elementary schools.

Exchange Club president Rudy Mitchell said the project is financed through its annual flare sale, which is held in October just before Halloween.

Forestry Field Day Set Today

OAK PARK — Members of the department of parks and forestry here were armed with ropes and saws to invade Birmingham today for the first annual Parks and Forestry Field Day.

The field day is the result of a challenge by the Oak Park department, which was to do battle with members of the Birmingham Department of Forestry and Parks.

At stake were such titles as the "Highest Woodcutter of All" and "Tractor Man With the Trickiest Touch on the Throttle."

The contest was slated to start at 12:30 p.m. at the Springdale Golf Course in Birmingham.

The crew of tree trimmers which pried up the most points in individual and team competition will be named the winner each year.

A chrome ax is the prize for the winning department. The crew which wins the ax has three out of five years will gain permanent custody of the trophy.

Scheduled for competition are tests of skill in rope throwing, rope climbing, cross-cut sawing and hand sawing. A tractor obstacle course race and a spur race mark the end of the competition.

This marks the first year that the Oak Park department has taken on outside competition.

Longer Mayor Term To Be on Utica Ballot

UTICA — Proposals to lengthen the terms of the mayor and city assessor to four years will be on the ballot in a special election here Feb. 17.

Another proposition in the election requests that the residency rule for candidates seeking public office in Utica be shortened to one year.

Candidates now have to live in Utica for two years before seeking election.

The terms of the mayor and city assessor now run for only two years.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — An open house is planned to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haslock of 7801 Jardine Road, Davisburg, who were married Dec. 27, 1910. The Haslocks will be honored at a reception at their residence from 2 to 5 p.m. Jan. 8. The couple has two sons, James of Fowlerville and Harvey of Davisburg; 12 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Santa Plans Stop in Clarkson to See Children

CLARKSTON — Santa Claus will take an hour and a half off on his North Pole tomorrow night for a stopover in Clarkson to greet some 500 youngsters at Washington and Main streets.

His visit, sponsored by the local Rotary Club, will begin at 7 p.m. at which time he is scheduled to arrive at the main intersection in an open convertible.

The jolly old gentleman will have gifts for each child, according to Frank "Tink" Rank, Rotary Club president, who will be Santa's official greeter.

Every youngster will have a chance to meet St. Nick personally and tell him their last-minute wants for Christmas, said Rank.

Alaska has 6,640 miles of coastline, slightly more than all the rest of the coastal states put together.

Troy Car Crash Hurts Washington Man

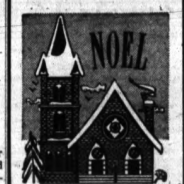

TROY — A 33-year-old Washington man, seriously injured when his car struck a tree here yesterday, will have to spend both Christmas and his birthday confined to his hospital bed.

Reported in serious condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, is Roy E. Pace of 6039 Van Dyke, who will be 34 Sunday.

Pace suffered fractured bones and lacerations when his car struck a tree and speed limit signs on Rochester Road near Square Lake Road.

A witness told Troy police that Paces' car, going north on Rochester Road, appeared to slow down and then spun around three times, skidded off the road and hit the tree and signs.

The mishap occurred about 7 p.m., according to police.

Plans 2 Services on Christmas Eve

TROY — The Big Beaver Methodist Church here will hold two Christmas Eve services, according to the Rev. Albert E. Hartoog, pastor.

At 7:30 p.m. the Children's Choir and the Junior Choir, under the direction of Lee Hohner, will lead the congregation in worship through music. The Adult Choir, Mrs. Malcolm Garwood director, will furnish the music for the 11 p.m. service.

Rev. Hartoog is preparing a sermon on the subject, "The Light of the Star," to be delivered at both hours. At the close of the message he will lead each congregation in a beautifully symbolic candlelighting ritual.

Christmas morning at the Big Beaver Church will be observed with a combined Sunday School and morning worship program at 10 a.m.

May this Holy Season bring an abundance of happiness and the answer to all your prayers.

EDITH DARLENE WILLIAMS

Announcement is made of the engagement of Edith Darlene Williams to Douglas Arthur Mckens by her parents, Mrs. Donald W. Edson of 809 Fairledge St., Orion Township, and Wayne Williams of Miron. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Mckens of 720 E. Clarkson Road, Orion Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

Elder Child Must Make His Own Friends

By MUREL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: In school this term our older boy has made friends with another child. Up to now he's played with his younger brother Bobby. Now, although there is only two years difference in their ages, Bobby is too much of a baby for him to be bothered with.

If I ask him to include Bobby in games when his friend Don is here, he and Don run off to Don's house. I've tried to speak to him about the way he is hurting his little brother but he only gets sullen and meaner.

ANSWER: We can't very well require friendship between our children. Your older son did not choose his association with your younger one. The association was forced on him by your protection of Bobby.

His association with Don is his own choice. This is one of the reasons that Don is more interesting to him than Bobby.

Instead of requiring him to give friendship to Bobby, let's encourage Bobby to find friends of his own.

Children have excellent reasons for making friends with other people's children instead of their parents'. No matter how hard we try, we can't avoid arousing feelings of jealousy and self-distrust in brothers and sisters.

Your older child has many memories of what he believes have been your preferences for Bobby. So he can't measure his sense of self-importance against Bobby.

With his little brother he is handicapped by the secret suspicion that Bobby is more desirable than he is. We are not responsible for this suspicion, because it is in the nature of brothers' and sisters' relationship.

We are, however, responsible for accepting it as an unethical spirit. We are responsible, too, for recognizing that much of Don's appeal for your older boy is his secret—the fact that he is not involved with this troubling but inevitable suspicion.

Don has never made him feel unimportant by grabbing your attention from him. He has not won fights over the last piece of cake or the car's front seat. He is disconnected from the emotional defeats that have been the unavoidable results of competitions with his brother.

When we criticize his interest in Don we are not only denying him freedom of choice but are refusing his right to friendship's unprejudiced estimate of his worth. It was Christ who said: "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and in his own house."

Take a Good Look

If no one likes to sit in the basement recreation room, take a good look at the furnishings. Concrete walls and floors, plastic covered furniture and castoffs from upstairs can create a cold, uninviting atmosphere. Home economists at Michigan State University suggest bright, sturdy cotton fabrics for covers, paint for old furniture and an inexpensive area rug can give the room a warm, friendly feeling.

BONNIE SHARRON LOONEY

June vows are planned by Bonnie Sharron Looney, daughter of the Elbert L. Looneys of Waterford Township and C. Bruce Martin, son of the Charles F. Martins of Waterford Township. Her fiancé attends University of Michigan.

Army Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Myers who are retiring to residence in Pontiac were honored at retirement ceremonies recently in the Detroit Arsenal where Capt. Myers has been stationed since January 1959. During his 20-year service term, Capt. Myers served in Great Britain, Europe, Trinidad, Taiwan and Korea. The couple has two children, Richard, 13, and Deborah, 5.

MAKE OVER PAGES

Pick Your Shade

Sponge for Spray

Shades for your living room lamps can be opaque or translucent. When walls are light in color, it is usually best to select translucent shades which allow light to pass through.

Home economists at Michigan State University note that opaque shades, which allow no light to shine through, may fit best into rooms with dark colored walls. This eliminates the uncomfortable contrast between a bright shade and a dark background.

Do your artificial wreaths and sprays and poinsettias look too tired to use again this year?

Try sponging them with "dry" soap or detergent made skinned from the top of the bowl. This softens them, washes away the year's accumulated dust, and makes them glisten again.

Laundry ribbons in lukewarm soaps, and press under a layer of wax paper.

Christmas Spirit Is Strong at PCH

PREPARE BASKET — Many homerooms and clubs at Pontiac Central have been busy this week promoting Christmas spirit. Typical of the projects aimed at sharing the joys of Christmas with others was that of homeroom 20. Getting a basket of food ready for some needy area family are Connie Crocker of 171 S. Shirley St., Carolyn Anderson of 61 Wenhon Ave., and Douglas Anderson of 383 W. Troop Road. All are seniors at Central.

Many Projects Mark Holiday

Some Groups Sponsor Parties; Others Aid Needy Families

By BARBARA GRIFFIN
Pontiac Central High School is overflowing with Christmas spirit. Before vacation started yesterday many clubs and organizations celebrated the holiday by giving Christmas parties.

Other groups caught the true meaning of the season and helped persons less fortunate than themselves.

The Future Homemakers of America gave a party Tuesday after school in the home economics room. Each member brought toys or cookies which were taken to the Oakland County Children's Home.

Glen Fox was chairman of the FHA project.

Sunday afternoon members of the Radio Workshop enjoyed a bowling party, followed by a buffet supper, at the home of Nancy Walker. Many students also enjoyed ice skating.

On the committee for this affair were Bonnie Valter, Nancy Walker, Betty Bell, Barb McClure, Alice Peterson, and Dave Austin.

Mrs. Doreen Villman opened her home to 35 members of the choir for their Christmas party Wednesday night.

Refreshments were served and choir member was given small statue of his favorite composer by Mrs. Villman. This event was especially significant as Mrs. Villman is leaving Central after Christmas vacation.

Wednesday noon the Senior Girls Ensemble had its annual Christmas luncheon. Each girl brought a dish to pass.

The Biology Club held a small informal party at its regular meeting last Thursday night. This group of scientists for the year is sending a package to CARE and a food basket to the Salvation Army.

Many homerooms are also assembling baskets of food for needy families at Christmas.

In Dick Ylstra's senior homeroom 20, students have been helping in canned goods for two weeks and collecting money to buy meat.

The Selective Girls Glee Club enjoyed a brunch of hot chocolate and doughnuts during regular class period Wednesday morning.

Y-Teens have helped the YWCA decorate for Christmas by the hanging of the greens ceremony Saturday night.

Judy Prevett, president of the PCH Playmakers, initiated 27 new members into this drama club Wednesday afternoon. After the initiation, new members went through a welcome line of presents.

Requirements for joining Playmakers are to have earned at least two points by working on or acting in one of the Central plays.

Due to the Christmas recess in area high schools, there will not be a school page next week, Dec. 30. The Press takes this opportunity to wish all school page correspondents a happy holiday season and to remind them that the next school page will be on Friday, Jan. 6.

Clarkston Clubs Aid Needy

By JANET TISCH

Adding their touch to the Christmas season, two Clarkston High School youth organizations wrapped Christmas presents and collected funds for underprivileged children in the Clarkston area this week.

The Clarkston Y-Teens held a Christmas party at the home of club member Sue Turek. Monday for the purpose of gift wrapping Christmas presents.

The gifts were bought by Sue Cushman, Blair Bullard, and Kathy Taylor with club Christmas funds.

The girls also wrapped clothing that the Clarkston Farm and Gardens Club purchased for two high school girls.

The H-Y Club also completed its Christmas project this past week when three members accompanied children from area elementary and junior high schools Christmas shopping.

Four children were chosen by the principal of each school to go with the boys who bought gifts with money collected during the year for this purpose.

Y-Teens sponsor, Mrs. Doris Wilkinson, and H-Y sponsor, Floyd Vincent, feel the students did an excellent job on the Christmas project.

CAROL IN FRENCH

and because of this great interest approximately 30 students in Clarkston High French classes went caroling Tuesday.

The Junior class displayed its Christmas spirit this year with a Christmas basket to provide a merry Christmas for a needy family.

Prep for Dance at St. Mike's

Seniors to Sponsor 'Winter Magic'; Will Crown Snow Royalty

By PAT BURNS
The magic wand of winter has stirred its enchantment over St. Michael's High School in preparation for "Winter Magic," semi-formal dance sponsored by the senior class.

The gala event will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 on Saturday night, Jan. 7.

Made will be provided by the Blue Notes with an appearance of a special staging group. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the snow king and queen.

Candidates for the queen are Sue Kinny, Kitty Daugherty and Tonya Hurst.

Candidates for the king are Bob Linseman, Allen Tunny and Art Rohak.

The king and queen will be chosen at the dance. Sharon Saxton and Judy Stickey will aid the senior officers in charge of the dance.

Festivities Close on Musical Note at West Bloomfield High

By CAROLEYN MAYES

Yesterday the Christmas festivities at West Bloomfield Township High School were brought to a close with a Christmas assembly.

The choral department, under the direction of Merlin Anglin, sang "Tell It on the Mountain," "White Christmas," "The Shepherd's Christmas Song," and other selections.

The Triple Trio also sang. West Bloomfield's instrumental music department, under the direction of Robert Fleisher, played "Frosty the Snowman," "Christmas Rhapsody," and "Santa Claus."

"The Christmas Story," a narration, was read by Bill Lemay.

"Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly," "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," and many other songs were heard by the student body at lunch hour in the cafeteria during the light two weeks.

Occasionally, the students started singing along with the records. Christmas records were also played in the senior English classes yesterday.

Farmington Hot Rod Club Builds Buggies in Barn

By R. DIANNE STOKOSA
Each Sunday at 7 p.m. in a barn on Drake Road, one mile off Grand River, a group of boys, mostly Farmington High School students and graduates, meet to discuss such earthshaking business as whether to have a three-tier or a four-tier.

These are the members of the Farmington Hot Rod Club of Farmington. The club is police sponsored and is a member of the National Hot Rod Association.

It is open to all boys. There is no age limit and no specific rules as to area of residence. It was formed two years ago and has grown progressively larger since, with some of the members now attending college.

The main governing bodies of the club are the Board of Officers and the Board.

Officers at present are Phil Hensitt, Roy Brown, Ron Ellis and Jim Williams.

The Board is comprised of the officers and two other members, Gary Merrill and Jerry Williams.

Good Job Opportunities Open to Student Nurses

Pontiac area high school girls who are considering a nursing career have an excellent outlook for job opportunities.

Even though more students enrolled in schools of professional nursing in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties last year than in any recent year, there still wasn't as many nurses as are needed.

The total of 73 enrolled is still 25 per cent below the estimate of need for this area set up by the National League for Nursing.

was well mixed with a spirit of giving at West Bloomfield.

Students also contributed freely toward a special surprise for a special classmate.

A Christmas gift was purchased with the students' money for exchange student from Germany, Annegret Gross.

Disclose Plans for U. N. Contest in Area Schools

Plans and prizes for the 35th annual high school contest of the United Nations have been announced by Harold Chalk, newly elected president of the Oakland County chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, Inc.

The contest is open to all high school students in the United States. Last year more than 75,000 students from more than 3,000 schools participated.

An examination is given testing the student's understanding of the issues facing the U.N. and his knowledge of the history and structure of the world body.

The exam is based on the booklet, "We, the Peoples of the United Nations" and its newly issued supplement covering recent U.N. events.

"The examination will be given throughout this area and the rest of the nation on Feb. 16," said Chalk.

"First prize for the national winner will be a choice between $500 or a trip to Europe," he announced.

Second prize nationally is $200 or a trip to Mexico.

Prizes for Michigan winners are a one week scholarship to Sarah Lawrence College in New York to study the U.N., and a second place prize of a $25 savings bond.

Five cash prizes will be offered to Oakland County students only. They range from $5 to $10.

Complete and detailed information, as well as the U.N. booklets, can be obtained from Chalk who lives at 230 Big Beaver Road, Birmingham.

Local and state winners will be announced sometime in April or early May, according to Chalk. National winners are to be announced no later than June 1.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Chalk or the national office and must be filed by one teacher from each school before Jan. 16. One booklet and supplement will be sent to each school upon registration.

Concert Is Staged for Student Body at Oxford High

By LINDA JACOB
A Christmas assembly was given by the Student Council at Oxford High School Thursday.

"The band opened with its selections by the Rev. Clark of the Oxford Methodist Church who gave the students a Christmas message.

The choir sang several Christmas selections and the program was closed with group singing by the entire student body.

School is to resume on Jan. 3.

Assembly Held at Walled Lake

Students Stage Annual Program; Aid County TB Association

By SHARON MURDY
On Dec. 21, Walled Lake Senior High School held its annual Christmas assembly. Members of the band, boys glee club, girls chorus, and mixed choir performed for the rest of the school and faculty.

These groups were under the direction of Belmont, Holland, Meritt, and Frank Baker.

A group of Walled Lake students have been adding the community drive for the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association. The group is headed by chairman, Jeanie Reimer.

Assisting her are Judy Siekas, Nancy Wilson, Louise McNeil, and Linda Conrad.

The group of students assisting Warren Woodard, head of the department, who is again the community chairman in the Walled Lake area.

They have mailed 3,000 envelopes containing leaflets requesting aid plus 200 seals to area residents. The people are asked to respond with a contribution.

The March of Dimes drive will soon take place also. Bill Hermann's transcription class is typing 5,000 envelopes to be distributed throughout the area.

Requirements for joining Playmakers are to have earned at least two points by working on or acting in one of the Central plays.

CHECK COSTUMES — It's safe to say that these girls are thinking about something that would make most Pontiac area residents shiver today. They're thinking about going swimming. The girls, (from left) Judy Kern, Charlotte DeRose, Flora McCartney, Ruth Ann Kramp and Carol Henderson, are members of the Pontiac Northern High School Catalinas, a synchronized swimming club. They are checking out their costumes and working on routines for the club's spring water show.

Ed Wasko, Tom Zink, Bill Seale, Dave Slater, and Ron St. Amant are enrolled in East West's drafting class.

Wesley Ravell, chief engineer of Aero Detroit, Inc., indicates that only once before had a school placed both first and second in the tri-county contest.

Northern did it in its first year as a high school.

Laguna, no school until now has ever placed first and second for the second time. Tom Zink as grand winner, received $125 in cash, and Ed Wasko, second, won $75, to make contest history.

There were 50 schools entered with a total of 318 drawings of excellence. Dave Slater placed 14th, Ron St. Amant 12th, and Bill Seale 14th.

Expert judges were taken from industry and decisions were made only after two intensive days of judging.

The traveling trophy now comes back to Northern for another year.

Students took part in decorating Northern for the Christmas holidays. Student council, homeroom, junior and senior homerooms decorated courts.

Among the scenes set up by the junior class is a North Pole and a huge toy box.

Near the senior lounge stands a Christmas tree decorated by the senior class.

But as Christmas nears Northern students will have their share of their decorations and classrooms for their annual holiday vacation.

Today was the last day of study and homework until Jan. 3.

Sable, Gold and Silver

Could Be Some Pagan Fete

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Twas the night before the night before Christmas, and all through the town the visitor could find no indication of what the celebration was about.

He walked along the marble-fronted buildings of Beverly Hills, their windows ablaze with sable and silver. The street lamps of Wilshire Boulevard were brightly lighted with pictures of choristers, reindeer and a fat man in a chimney.

Judging from these, the season might mark some pagan fete.

TV cowboys just off the range were filling their sports cars with gifts. The choice was vast. At Uncle Bernie's Toy Menagerie, parents could buy their kiddies a stuffed dinosaur for $30 or some singing toy birds for $40, including cage.

At the Gourmet, late shoppers could pick up fresh Iranian caviar at $45 the pound or a methuselah (208 oz.) of French champagne for $75. Or, for those with jaded tastes, there were baby bees, chocolate covered ants, buffalo meat, quail eggs, rattlesnake (diamond back, of course), alligator soup, fried grasshoppers, whale meat.

The visitor wandered into the drug store at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. It was also equipped for the outpouring of dollars. Five hundred of them could buy a man's hair brush—satinwood, wild boar bristle—$450 a solid gold compact.

"We don't sell many compacts because they're too heavy," explained a salesgirl. "But we do sell some of the brushes; they're a nice gift for the man who has everything."

SANTA COCKTAIL
The visitor journeyed eastward, stopping at a wayside inn on the Sunset Strip. There he found celebrators but no hint of what they celebrated. Some gained cheer with a vassail called the Santa baby cocktail—cranberry juice and vodka.

Conward to Hollywood Boulevard he went, there to be greeted by endless repetition overhead of Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer wreathed in gold tinsel. The visitor contemplated what Dancer, Prancer and the other black-nosed veterans would say about this reindeer-complacency.

Two sailors far from home sought yuletide friendship by wandering into the My Desire cocktail lounge. The tinkling of a Salvation Army lass's bell was scarcely heard by shoppers rushing in and out of stores. The windows featured overstuffed dummies in red velvet suits that how mechanically; automation had struck the Santa industry, too.

Army musicians was playing carols at Hollywood and Vine, and beatniks in beards and T-shirts and blue jeans listened amiably.

At the other end of the boulevard, the season was being celebrated with a fanfare of trumpets. Theaters on opposite sides of the street were brightly advertising "The World of Suzie Wong" and "Butterfield 8," about girls whose charms were not given away even at Christmas.

The visitor failed in his quest until he left the brilliant lights behind and started over the Cañon Pass. High on a hill above the pilgrimage theater he discovered a white neon cross that gave him a hint of what the celebration was for.

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucree Hodgins Beale

CHAPTER 17

Michael struggled in the Man-of-War's embrace. His arms were pressed to his sides but he kicked with his legs and butted the creature's soft underside with the head.

The jelly fish raised its long arm out of the sea and snapped it down like a whip with Michael on the end. Again and again Michael rose in the air and cracked down through the water. The flippers on his feet and the lung on his shoulders broke loose and were carried away. Gasping for breath, Michael felt the black pearl bouncing inside his mask. Just in time he sucked it into his mouth and, an instant later, the mask, too, was torn away.

The next time he was carried into the air he saw an astonishing sight. Costenbricker, straddling an enormous tortoise and carrying his folded up parasol under his arm, was racing towards him across the sea!

"Help! Help!" shouted Michael, a sinner's soul swallowing the pearl. Before he was again slammed into the sea.

He held his breath and waited to be drawn up again but suddenly the arm around his waist relaxed and dropped away. Michael swam to the surface and found Costenbricker standing like a warrior on the tortoise's back.

FLOTS AWAY

"I punctured it with my parasol!" he crowed and he pointed at the jellyfish floating harmlessly away like a deflated rubber balloon.

Overseas Flow of Gold Climbs

Soars Over $4-Billion Rate During Quarter, Worries Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The flow of U.S. gold and dollars to other countries, a crucial problem worrying President Eisenhower and his advisers, climbed to an annual rate of more than $4 billion during the summer, the government reported Thursday.

The Commerce Department estimated the rate for July, August and September at $4.12 billion, the highest in a year.

The department primarily blamed the flow on "hot money" cash shifted from one country to another to take advantage of higher interest rates or for other speculative purposes.

During the summer, funds were withdrawn from the United States and sent to Europe, Japan, Germany and other countries in Europe because investments there were paying more. Foreigners who bought U.S. stocks and bonds in the spring sold them in the summer and invested of their money elsewhere.

For the first nine months of the year, the deficit in U.S. international accounts — the excess of money spent abroad over money earned abroad — hit an annual ink rate of $3.2 billion.

This made it likely that the 1960 deficit would be about $3.5 billion.

Depending on developments in October, November and December, the deficit may rise even higher. But government officials are cautiously hopeful that the outflow of "hot money" has abated because of interest rate reductions in other countries.

In an effort to curb the drain on U.S. dollars and gold, Eisenhower has ordered a sharp reduction in the number of servicemen's wives and children overseas and has called for increased U.S. exports.

He also has directed that foreign aid and military supplies be purchased from American companies, rather than foreign firms, wherever possible.

Two members of the House Banking Committee, just back from talks with foreign financial authorities, said Wednesday U.S. dollar and gold resources are "still the strongest in the world."

Ex-General Finally Gets on the Inside

TULSA, Okla., (UP) — The recent presidential election gave retired Marine Gen. Vernon E. McGehee his first chance to carry out an American tradition — entering a voting booth to cast his ballot.

It isn't that the former commanding general of the Fleet Marine Force in the Pacific hadn't voted in the past.

But his 40 years service in the Corps had kept him on the move and he voted by absentee ballot.

He retired a year ago and has been visiting in Oklahoma, his native state.

Service Has Limitations

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The menu of a local restaurant here boasts "individualized service" but specifically requests that patrons "not ask for menu changes."

A Merry Christmas to all!

The old man pulled Michael up beside him on the tortoise's back. "I persuaded this turtle to be my ship," he said, patting the tortoise's back.

"In return, I told him Santa would remember Turtle City at Christmas time. That is, he will if we ever get the pearl in time."

Michael took the pearl from his mouth and he pointed it into the old man's hand.

"You got it!" cried Costenbricker in disbelief. He threw off his triple strength spectacles and straightened his age-bent shoulders. Before Michael's eyes he seemed to grow a hundred years younger.

"Now do you remember the magic words that will waken the elves?" demanded Michael eagerly.

"I do, I do!" exclaimed Costenbricker. He slipped the pearl in his pocket and flung open the parasol. "Let us return quickly to Santa Land for I am afraid there is very little time left."

When they arrived in Santa Land Costenbricker rushed to the toy shop where Santa had been working alone since they left.

"Ekaw pu, ekaw pu!" cried

Costenbricker waving his parasol over the sleeping elves. Instantly the little workers awoke and stared around in bewilderment. Then, seeing the mounts of unfinished toys before them, they went furiously to work.

So he kept the tale of his marvelous adventures to himself and his parents never knew. And they never understood how it happened that when Christmas came there were, after all, flippers and mask for Michael lying under the Christmas tree.

A Merry Christmas to all.

Asks State to Finance Welfare 100 Per Cent

LANSING (UPI) — It will cost the state about $3.4 million in additional funds to carry the Detroit welfare case load through next June, a Social Welfare Department spokesman said today.

John Gambotto, supervisor of audits and control liaison for the department, said Detroit asked to be put on the state rolls for 100 per cent of its welfare load starting about the third week in January.

"They have had about a $2 million load monthly in the past few months," Gambotto said, "so the total program through June will cost about $12 million."

The state normally pays 30 per cent of county welfare costs unless a county runs out of funds.

Dividend and Interest Tax Payments Growing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury reports "a considerable degree of success" in its drive to get people to pay income taxes on dividends and interest.

Undersecretary Fred C. Scribner Jr. said Thursday that preliminary 1959 figures showed "significant increases" in the number of taxpayers reporting interest and dividend income and the total amounts reported by all tax payers.

2 Farmington Twp. Men Get Top Club Posts

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Two local men have been named to top posts in the Detroit Agricultural Club, it was announced today.

Norman L. Peterson of 21251 Randall Road was elected president and Forrest Strand of 21845 13-Mile Road was named vice president.

The office of secretary-treasurer went to Edward Kidd, Wayne County agricultural agent.

Failed to Reach Check Point

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Investigators have evidence that the United Airlines DC8 in the New York City air disaster was nearly 13 miles away from where its instruments showed it was just before the collision.

This was learned today from a study of the transcript of radio communications between traffic controllers and the jetliner before it collided with a TWA Constellation last Friday in history's worst air tragedy.

The transcript shows: "The United plane never reached the Preston radar check point in New Jersey where it was supposed to enter a holding pattern until cleared to land at Idlewild Airport."

At the very moment the United pilot reported he was approaching Preston, unknown to him, the DC8 actually must have been north of that check point and already racing through a snowstorm into the LaGuardia Airport approach area on a collision course with the Constellation.

The jetliner captain apparently still was waiting for the Preston radar signal to show up on his instruments when he hit the TWA plane, killing all 128 persons on the two planes and six persons on the ground.

This reconstruction raises two more questions. First, why was the pilot apparently so far off course without realizing it? This is what a Civil Aeronautics Board investigation opening Jan. 4 must determine.

Some kind of navigation instrument malfunction is a possibility, Federal Aviation Agency

Less Talk, Less Travel

Rusk Will Be a Change From Dulles

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—A lot less talking and a lot less traveling. That would probably be two basic differences between the way the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles handled foreign affairs and the way Dean Rusk, who will take office as secretary next January, will do his job.
There's another: Rusk appears to be more of a teaplayer than Dulles, who ran a one-man show. Right at the beginning of 1953 the nation got an early insight into this wasn't realized at the time—into how President Eisenhower's new secretary, Dulles, would operate.
Rusk, President-Elect John F. Kennedy's hand-picked secretary, has already prepared given an ear-

Only Three Remain

Forgotten Nazi Criminals to Feast on Christmas Bird

BERLIN (UPI)—The wheel of fortune will bring the forgotten men of Spandau Prison American turkey for their Christmas dinner this year, as it has each year since their conviction as war criminals 14 years ago.

The three are Hitler's deputy, Rudolf Hess, Nazi munitions minister, Albert Speer, and Hitler's right hand, Baldur von Schirach. Their Christmas repeat will be:

Roast turkey with dressing and glazed gravy, mashed potatoes, cranberries, peas, salad and fruit.

It is the luck of the draw, in a sense, that brings the imprisoned Nazis turkey for Christmas.

Teachers' Hope for Pay Small

Louisiana's Legislature Has No Holiday Gift in Integration Fight

By CARL F. LEUBENDORF
NEW ORLEANS (U)—Public schools here closed today for what normally is a happy holiday season—10 days off for students. Christmas pay checks for teachers and administrative personnel. Not this year.

The students will have their holiday, but for 4,000 teachers and other personnel, caught between the new courts and the State Legislature in the integration fight, today appears likely to be a payless pay day, barring a miracle.

The Legislature has cut off the Orleans Parish School Board's funds because the board could not show school integration orders. Some hope for the board appeared Wednesday when a three-judge federal court ordered four New Orleans banks to release some $720,000 in school board funds it had frozen. It also ordered the city to turn over to the board $200,000 in taxes that had been held in escrow.

With appeals from the ruling in effect, it was not clear if the board actually would get the funds totaling about 1.5 million, even these funds would not be enough. There had been hope for the Legislature, which paid November salaries for all teachers except those at the two integrated schools, would provide December payments.

But angered by the court ruling, which also cited three top state officials for contempt of court in refusing to draw the salaries at the integrated schools, legislative leaders of the Davis administration decided against introducing legislation to provide the pay checks.

Israel Denies It's Joining Atom Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. fears that Israel was trying to become the world's fifth nuclear military power were reported eased today by assurances from the government at Jerusalem. Officials here said they hoped that the assurances also will be favorably received by Arab governments. Reports of Israeli activity in the nuclear field in recent weeks have been seen as a threat to political stability in the Middle East.

The State Department officially welcomed Thursday night assurances by Premier David Ben-Gurion and Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harari that the new reactor being built in the Negev will be used entirely for peaceful scientific purposes.

Sixth Candidate Files in Lansing Mayor Race

LANSING (UPI)—Councillor Robert Brooks Thursday became the sixth person to file for ballot placement for mayor in the February primary here.

Also in the primary race will be incumbent Mayor Ben E. Hoover, former State Rep. William J. Boren, Jr., Councillor Max Murnighan and Horace Bradshaw, and former Councillor Glen Dean.

WANTS RESERVES?

insight into his ideas on running the State Department. If so, they are quite different from Dulles.

MAKES REPORT

Only six days after taking office on Jan. 21, 1953, Dulles was making a report on Eisenhower's foreign policy before it had even begun.

It set the pattern for many similar reports and public pronouncements to follow in the next six years before Dulles died May 21, 1959.

Only nine days after taking office he dashed overseas for a 10-day European survey. This set a pattern, too. Dulles made so many overseas trips he became far and away the most traveled secretary of state in history.

But this traveling brought him a lot of criticism on grounds like these:

1. That he should have spent for more time in Washington, thinking about foreign policy and listening to advisers, instead of racing around the world to attend to domestic and regional subsidiaries who had handed him. 2. That his apparent feeling he had to handle everything personally showed little confidence in his ambassadors abroad and his staff at home. Instead of teamwork, the State Department wound up with a one-man operation.

DEPENDS ON DULLES

Dulles was a dominant man, and Eisenhower relied on him tremendously. Dulles was already a national figure in the foreign field before he took office. Rusk is hardly known to the public.

Therefore, it would be unusual if Rusk attempted to start out with the same take-charge attitude that Dulles showed. Rusk doesn't seem to approve of traveling around anyway.

He told "too much personal travel can get to be a bad habit." On Dec. 12, when Kennedy appointed him, Rusk was asked by newsmen if he had any very early plans. He said no.

Does he seem anxious to start making public pronouncements about foreign policy problems in a hurry?

He told the same reporters on the same day when asked his foreign policy views: "I think it would be wiser for me not to get into specific questions on policy matters, at this time."

PRESIDENT TOPS

Rusk, judging from what he reportedly thought before being named secretary, doesn't minimize the role of the secretary of state in foreign policy but considers the role of the president in that field as "of the first importance."

This attitude may explain in part why Kennedy picked him after looking over the field of likely prospects for the job. It accords with Kennedy's conduct he intends to be boss in both domestic and foreign problems.

Too Tight to Buy Stamps

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Friends, neighbors, colleagues, kinsmen and fellow Americans: If you haven't received a Christmas card yet, don't blame the poor mail. It's not because I didn't send you one.

Rather than send individual cards this year, I decided to blanket in everyone on my list with one all-embracing Christmas poem. This is not because I feel particularly inclined. It's because I hate to spend money for stamps.

Here then, with profuse apologies to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, are my sentiments for 1960:

Hail! Waaah! and bright good cheer:
Another Christmas time is here!
And so, with carols loudly beating,
To all of you I send my greeting.

A toast to the clan of Kennedy,
Which seems to run from A to Z.
Salute them all across the board,
From Jack to in-law P. Lawford.

To brother Ted, I raise this toast:
"May you some day get a cabinet post."
Greetings next to brother Bob:
I wish him well in his new job.

For who to greet and doll a Hat to Bob's pal, Jimmy Hoffa.
Now hang a wreath on Nixon's door
And wish him well in his sixty-four.

Bring the wine up from the cellar
And wish the same for Goldwater.
Then send someone downstairs
For more!

There's yet another toast to Goldwater.
For when we toast the GOP,
Now toast the mate of Lady Bird!

Also in the primary race will be incumbent Mayor Ben E. Hoover, former State Rep. William J. Boren, Jr., Councillor Max Murnighan and Horace Bradshaw, and former Councillor Glen Dean.

King Plans to Challenge Leadership of U.A.R.'s President

AP PHOTOS
King Hickey, a Democrat, announced Thursday that he would resign his position to accept an appointment to the U.S. Senate, replacing Keith Thompson, the Republican senator-elect who died Dec. 3. The Senate position will not be open until the new Senate convenes Jan. 3 and the seat held by retiring Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, a Democrat, becomes officially vacant. Hickey is expected to serve until a special election in 1962.

Check Untreated Waste Flow Into Detroit River

LANSING (U)—Repairs have been made on a Detroit sewage system pump at Corner Creek to check a flow of untreated waste into the lower Detroit River, the State Conservation Department reported today.

The waste flow of 50 million gallons a day for a while threatened the lives of ducks wintering in the area. It had been feared, the department said, there might be a repeat of the duck kill last winter when more than 12,000 birds died between mid-March and early April.

Labor Secretary's Problem

Goldberg Must Enforce Laws He Has Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—As secretary of labor, Arthur J. Goldberg will be administering laws he has condemned as unfair to unions and has tried to have amended. He has particularly criticized the Landrum-Griffin and Taft-Hartley Acts in his previous capacity as general counsel of the AFL-CIO.

"Landrum-Griffin is complicated, confusing, cumbersome and ambiguous," he stated in an article he and Kenneth A. Meleis, AFL-CIO consultant, wrote in the Northwestern University Law Review early this year.

In testimony before congressional committees he has charged that the Taft-Hartley law curtailed union rights to picket, delayed labor dispute settlements through injunctions, and abridged the right to strike.

Goldberg has hit at the general philosophy behind these two major labor-management laws in numerous speeches. He is known to support fully the Democratic party platform which pledges repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act's authorization for right to work laws and other "antilabor excesses."

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. Could sudden change of temperature have caused my hamster's death? Rose Marie Marino, Pueblo, Colo.

A. Hamsters are pretty hardy little creatures. Given a cage, they can adjust to almost any climate. In severe cold weather, extra litter in the cage, or a nesting box about seven inches square with at least a three-inch opening will help.

Extreme cold temperatures will even cause hamsters to hibernate. When protected against rain, snow, and drafts, it is possible for them to live outside in winter. During heat spells, it's important that the cage is well ventilated, and this nocturnal creature should never be exposed to direct sunlight.

Excessive dampness may contribute to disease, so unless the atmosphere becomes unusually moist, I doubt that weather was the cause of your hamster's demise.

GM Vice President to Retire Dec. 31

DETROIT (UPI)—Carl H. Kindl will retire Dec. 31 as a vice president and director of General Motors Corp. and group executive in charge of overseas and Canadian operations.

Kindl, 61, has been in charge of overseas and Canadian operations since 1948. He joined General Motors in 1925 on the engineering staff of Delco-Remy Division at Anderson, Ind.

He slipped up behind him and jabbed a finger in his back, saying "Freeze. This is a gun." And the man froze until police arrived.

Ethiopians Worship Selassie

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—While bullets split the air outside, humble Ethiopian men and women lay flat on their faces and prayed for protection inside a circular little church.

A rebellion has been proclaimed against the emperor, and the capital was turned into a bloody battleground.

In this moment of danger the people addressed their prayers to Emperor Haile Selassie himself. They hold the emperor so sacred that many will not repeat his name unless they are lying face down.

For 30 years Haile Selassie, the "elect of God," "King of Kings of Ethiopia," and "the Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah," has plained why young officers and ed-ucated Ethiopians launched the rebellion.

The young men in the imperial bodyguard undoubtedly were motivated, at least in part, by idealism and a desire to modernize the country. Although Ethiopia has been independent 3,000 years, the country lags far behind such newly independent African states as Sudan, Nigeria, Guinea and Ghana in development. But it is a measure of respect they themselves hold for the emperor that the rebels tried to engineer the coup while he was out of the country. They had no thought of assassinating him.

To simple Ethiopians he is a benevolent father and protector. This helps explain why last week's revolt failed. And it explains why Ethiopians, primitive and poor as they are, still showed no enthusiasm for any reform on his quick modernization. The emperor's personality remains the basis for stability and security in Ethiopia. At the same time the existence

ELECTRIC HEAT

WHEN YOU'RE ADDING ROOM

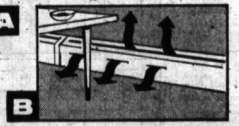

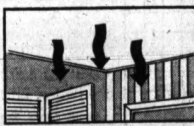

EVEN HEAT, HEAD TO FEET. In an electrically heated room, the temperature seldom varies more than two or three degrees from floor to ceiling. There are no strong drafts—just even, cozy warmth.

INSTANT HEAT. Electric home heating is fast because the heat source is right there, in the room. And independent operation makes it ideal in spring and fall when one or two rooms need heating while others are warmed by the sun. Individual thermostats in each room make it possible to keep rooms at different temperatures automatically.

ADD MORE ROOM WITHOUT STRAINING YOUR PRESENT HEATING SYSTEM. Planning to enclose a porch or breezeway? Adding a bedroom or family room? Then be sure of cold-weather comfort by installing electric heat! It's easy and practical to do because electric heat is installed and operates independently of the existing heating system, no matter what type you now have.

MATCH THE HEATING UNITS TO MEET YOUR NEEDS

CLEAN HEAT. Electric heat is heat by wire instead of fire—it never creates smoke or soot. Walls and furniture, draperies and carpets will require less frequent cleaning.

Popular built-in electric heat systems use (A) cable embedded in ceilings, (B) baseboards, (C) forced air units or (D) radiant panels set into the walls.
