GM Chairman: Public in Mood to Buy Autos

Stockholders Hear of Increasing Demands, Expansion Program

DETROIT (AP) General Motors Corp. told its stockholders today that "clearly, the public is in a car-buying mood and has the ability to pay."

The message was delivered by GM Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner at the firm's 57th annual meeting.

Donner said that increasing demand for automotive products had caused GM to adjust its expansion and modernization program so it now represents a $3.5 billion total for 1964, 1965 and 1966.

Donner said that in addition $750 million will be spent each of the three years in special tooling projects.

"Assuming a continuation of current economic expansion, with its favorable effects on employment, income and consumer confidence, sales of motor vehicles in the United States could reach 10.5 million units including some nine million passenger cars," he said, adding, "Prospects are also good for General Motors business in Canada and overseas during the rest of 1965.

Donner said retail sales of General Motors cars for the model year to date are running about 5 per cent ahead of last year "even in the face of strikes during the final quarter of 1964."

He said sales in the last four months "have been at an even higher rate—reflecting in part, the filling of orders deferred by the strikes."

Of the labor front, Donner said:

"This record is even more remarkable because it was achieved in the face of strikes which stopped production of vehicles in the United States for up to six weeks, in Canada for seven weeks and in Australia for four weeks.

"With respect to the strike in the United States, a number of fundamental issues of both a national and local plant character involved our responsibility to run the business in a sound basis."

Donner said that insofar as future business is concerned "the consumer has more money to spend, he has confidence in continuing prosperity and is demonstrating his strong approval of the products offered in the market place."

PLANNING PARADE Mrs. Frank Finch (left), secretary of the Franklin School Community Council; Roy Norton (center), director of the Franklin School Community Action Program, and Fred Smith, chairman of the Franklin School Community Council, are pictured as they plan a parade scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Monday to officially begin the Pontiac Schools Community Action Program.

Festivities Will Start Program

Antipoverty Grant Put to Use by Schools

The Pontiac School Community Action Program will get under way officially Monday with a parade from Nebraska and Howland to the Franklin Elementary School.

★ ★ ★

The Community Action Program has been established here through a $192,000 grant to Oakland County schools under the federal antipoverty program.

Three local schools are currently involved in the program — Whittier Elementary School, Jefferson Junior High School and Franklin.

The parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. The Jefferson Junior High School band and other community groups will participate.

★ ★ ★

Following the parade, a town hall-type meeting will be held at Franklin school.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ruth Buckner, a school principal from Flint. In addition to the talk, the Franklin School glee club will offer musical selections.

★ ★ ★

A summary of the Franklin School Community Council's in-service training will also be given.

'Ford in the Future Is a Rosy Picture'

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Co., gave an audience of 1,269 a rosy picture of the firm's future prospects yesterday at the annual stockholders' meeting.

In addition he fielded a score of questions concerning his stewardship of the firm his grandfather founded.

Mrs. Wilma Soss of New York, a familiar figure at stockholder meetings, got the women's angle in the session when she said she was not too displeased that Ford did not have a woman on its board of directors.

"I know what a fine influence your mother has been on you," said Mrs. Soss.

Lewis D. Gilbert of New York another familiar figure at stockholder meetings, fired numerous questions at Ford.

EXECUTIVE PAY

Gilbert inquired about Ford's $540,000 salary and supplemental compensation last year and repeated his contention that some automotive brass' salaries are too large.

In answer to one question, Ford said he had no intention of giving up his job as chairman of the board to take a more active role in the company's worldwide affairs.

"My job is right here and I am a candidate for the board," he said.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he and other members of the Ford family had ever given consideration to making a financial settlement in exchange for the additional voting rights which their Ford Class B stock has under the company's present setup, Ford replied:

NOT FOR SALE

"I'd be foolish to give up that extra vote. Some things are not for sale. We have pride in our family heritage and regardless of the money offered we would not accept it."

In his prepared address Ford asked the firm's 348,000 stockholders to join him in the fight for complete elimination of excise taxes on new cars.

Congress currently is studying the request of President Johnson for an immediate cut in the ten per cent tax with an additional two per cent slash in 1967. Under President Johnson's proposal five per cent of the tax would remain.

Ford, in backing up his faith in the sales outlook, disclosed Ford Motor Co. has added about $800 million to the ex-

Thunderstorms Are Predicted Later Tonight

Going shopping tonight? Take an umbrella along.

Scattered showers and thundershowers are scheduled for late today and tonight. The low temperature will be from 52 to 58.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, the sun will shine occasionally. Temperatures will turn cooler in the afternoon with a high in the 70s forecast.

Sunday, the area will have mild temperatures with fair skies to enjoy.

Winds this morning were variable. They became southerly at 12 to 22 miles an hour this afternoon and will increase to 15 to 25 miles an hour tonight.

Forty-eight was the lowest mercury recording preceding 8 a.m. today. The area had a high of 79 at 2 p.m.

Viet Forces Head Off Coup Assassinations

Group of Dissident Leaders Are Arrested Just Before Zero Hour

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A government spokesman said today assassination of key Vietnamese civilian and military leaders was one aim of a plot crushed by a lightning series of raids last night. He reported the zero hour had been set for 11 p.m. yesterday.

Word of the coup attempt, intended to topple both premier Phan Huy Quat's regime and the South Vietnamese military high command, leaked out late yesterday afternoon, the spokesman said. Counter action was launched at once.

The leaders were described as dissident military officers and civilians who had promoted two abortive uprisings in the last eight months — Sept. 13 and Feb. 19.

One officer identified as Capt. Huynh Tan Hung, was killed in the roundup. The spokesman said he was shot trying to escape.

★ ★ ★

At least 33 others were arrested. These included Lt. Col. Le Hoanh Thao, former commander of the 46th infantry regiment, which joined the coup makers Feb. 19.

KEY LEADER

However, the key leader, Col. Pham Ngos Thao got away, the spokesman said.

Another still sought is Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat. Both have been sentenced to death in absentia for their previous antigovernment efforts. They are believed hiding in the Saigon area.

Thao's brother, Pham Ngoc Thun, was among those arrested last night.

Prominent Men Flee

DETROIT (AP) Some of the world's wealthiest and most influential men were routed today by a predawn fire which forced more than 900 to flee the Statler Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit.

Eight firemen were overcome by smoke in fighting the blaze which did an estimated $250,000 damage.

Firemen were the only casualties, although many were endangered.

Frederic G. Donner, board chairman of General Motors Corp., was among those who fled the five-alarm fire.

So were GM directors Charles Stewart Mott, Flint multimillionaire philanthropist; Lucius D. Clay, former Army general and occupation commander in Germany; Leiws L. Douglas, chairman of the Southern Arizona Bank and Trust Co. and former ambassaador to Great Britain; James R. Killian Jr., chairman of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Richard K. Mellon of the Mellon National Bank & Trust Co., of New York.

DAMAGE ESTIMATE

Fire Chief Glenn Thom made the damage estimate.

★ ★ ★

Hotel manager Frank Teich said guests were allowed to return to their rooms on the first eight floors of the 15-story building after the fire was put out.

AT NEARBY HOTELS

"We've made arrangements to house the other guests at nearby hotels," said Teich.

The fire broke out in a service area, enclosed by fire walls, on the eighth floor. It was fueled by furniture and other equipment stored in the enclosure.

Thom said the cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

He said the fire shot up an elevator shaft, but was confined by his men and fire walls.

Through the night, hotel guests roamed the lobby, some in nightclothes, other with blankets wrapped around their shoulders.

They talked quietly, drank coffee and several inquired

INSPECTS DAMAGE — Acting Fire Marshal George Lambert surveys fire damage to the ninth floor service area of the Statler Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit. The blaze routed more than 900 guests early today. Eight firemen were overcome by smoke. None of the guests was hurt.

U.N. Rejects Censuring U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The U.N. Security Council rejected today a Soviet resolution calling for condemnation of the United States for sending military forces to the Dominican Republic, and demanding their immediate withdrawal.

Nikolai T. Fedorenko, the chief Soviet delegate, insisted upon pressing the resolution after the council received reports of new fighting between the forces of the military junta and the rebel regime this morning in Santo Domingo.

A 24-hour cease-fire between junta and rebel forces had been scheduled to start at noon today to permit removal of dead and wounded from Santo Domingo's battle-torn northern suburbs.

The Red Cross and the United Nations negotiated the agreement to suspend the five-day old battle which has caused a death toll estimated at more than 100.

Hospital to Initiate Pilot Transfer Plan

Pontiac General Hospital will embark next week on a major experiment to relieve the hospital's bed shortage and also to cut the cost of medical care.

Nursing home convalescence for selected Pontiac General patients will begin Monday.

Under terms of a three-year pilot program, certain patients will be transferred to the Seminole Hills Nursing Home, 532 Orchard Lake, for convalescence.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, told the Pontiac General Board of Trustees last night that about 10 patients would participate in the initial phase of the nursing home-hospital program.

★ ★ ★

Conceived by United Community Services (UCS) of Metropolitan Detroit, the experimental program is an effort to free important general hospital beds.

In addition to freeing hospital beds, the total cost of medical care to the patient should be cut by the plan. The cost per

Crew Safe as Ship Sinks in Atlantic

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 326-foot Norwegian freighter Lionne was sinking in the Atlantic Ocean today about 740 miles southeast of Greenland, but a British passenger liner rescued all 27 crewmen aboard.

The U. S. Coast Guard here said a Coast Guard plane circled the scene advised that the last two crewmen clambered aboard the liner Sylvania from a life raft.

The Sylvania sped to the scene after the Lionne, a 2,862-ton vessel out of Oslo, Norway, reported water was filling its engine rooms and the captain was abandoning ship.

U. S. Charges 11 as Gamblers

Group Was Nabbed in Numbers Raids

Eleven persons arrested in raids on an alleged Mafia-linked numbers operation were arraigned yesterday on charges of failure to purchase federal gambling tax stamps. Nine of the 11 are Pontiac residents.

U.S. District Judge Wade H. McCree released the 11 on $1,000 bond each and set their preliminary examination for June 22.

They were arrested in raids Wednesday afternoon by agents of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and police in Pontiac, Detroit and Oak Park.

The Pontiac residents are Vennie Wright, 39, of 470 S. Edith; Vernon Reynolds, 31, of 173 Green; Walter McKinney, 65, of 40 Bagley; Della Gaston, 45, of 587 Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Crump of 486 Kuhn; W. C. Wilson, 41, of 313 Fisher; James W. Ward, 49, of 267 S. Marshall; and Robert Chenault, 59, of 276 Howard McNeil.

The other two, Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi, 37, of Detroit, and Mrs. Geraldine Winderman, 47, of 23250 Berkley, Oak Park, were named by IRS officials as the ringleaders. The pair was arrested in their homes.

The IRS estimated that the operation did a $2 million annual business.

Lombardi was named in 1963 by then Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards as a section leader in the Mafia, an international crime syndicate.

'OU Funds Lost Out to Trivia'

The Senate Appropriations Committee, despite all of its hard and conscientious work, sacrificed some necessity for trivial comforts this year, State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, said today.

O'Brien said his remarks were aimed at approval in the Senate, on the committee's recommendation, of a $600,000 expenditure to air-condition a state office building (the Cass Building) in Lansing while some educational needs were going unmet.

CARL W. O'BRIEN

"I fought on the floor to get another $150,000 for Oakland University, which has been underappropriated for several years despite its obvious growing pains.

"Instead we are worrying about the comfort of a bunch of bureaucrats," O'Brien said.

★ ★ ★

The 17th District Democrat said the argument that because all of the other state offices will be air-conditioned, nobody would want to work in the Cass Building is a weak one.

"The State Capitol isn't air-conditioned, and our people working for the legislature and others in the building are going to spend some mighty hot days in the old museum," he said.

Was Set for After July 1

4-Day Gemini Flight June 3

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that June 3 is the target date for the four-day space flight of Gemini astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

★ ★ ★

Officials had said previously that the flight was scheduled "in the third quarter of 1965," which begins July 1.

However, news services have listed the June 3 date for several weeks, based on unofficial sources.

The agency had listed the later period to provide time for preparation and to avoid criticism if the target day were missed.

NASA said McDivitt and White will circle the earth 62 times in 97 hours 50 minutes to evaluate the effects of extended space flight on crew performance and physical condition.

The agency said it had not yet determined

Hints U.S. Should Be Set for Heavier Viet Fighting

— By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is reported beginning to prepare the American public for increased numbers of troops, more fighting and possibly higher U.S. casualties in Viet Nam.

Sources who would not be quoted by name said today it is no coincidence that Rep. Clement J. Zablocki of Wisconsin spoke openly this week of a like blood of heavier American casualties in the Southeast Asian war.

Zablocki, an administration Democrat and ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is chairman of the Far East subcommittee. In that position he is close to administration thinking on Viet Nam.

In a speech to a Washington Suburban Democratic Club Wednesday night, Zablocki said a decision on whether to use American troops in open warfare there is now being weighed.

DRIVING WEDGE

Communist forces seeking to score a major victory during the monsoon season may try to drive a wedge through the center of Viet Nam, cutting off the Mekong River delta area and Saigon from the northern mountain areas, Zablocki said.

"In this coming encounter, it may be necessary to use American men in a full combat role, not simply as instructors or in defensive positions as in the past," he said.

* * *

The result, Zablocki said, "is almost certain to be increased American casualties."

The congressman did not go specifically into the matter of increased troop commitments but that was implicit in his discussion of an expanded operating role.

INCREASED FORCES

The sources who read significance into Zablocki's statement indicated the likelihood is high that U.S. forces in Viet Nam will reach 75,000 over the next three or four months.

The number of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam is now approaching 50,000. On May 7, the Defense Department reported a total of 42,200 Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

The refusal of Communist China and North Viet Nam to display any interest in the unconditional discussions proposed by President Johnson was cited by U.S. officials as one reason for the broadening U.S. commitment.

Other officials said that if North Viet Nam does become interested in negotiations during the monsoon season, it would be natural that they would attempt to inflict a major defeat on the Vietnamese armed forces before going to the conference table. This was the strategy they followed at Dien Bien Phu with the French seven years ago.

COTTON PICKER — A large part of the fun of a carnival can be found in that large fluff of strawberry pink called cotton candy, 3-year-old Becky Stahl learned in Birmingham yesterday. Becky, 15669 Kirkshire, Beverly Hills, was in the crowd that attended the Village Fair, being held Thursday through Sunday in Shain Park in connection with Michigan Week.

OU Chancellor Leaves for Funeral of Mother

Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner left today to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. H. S. Varner, 84, of Cottonwood, Tex., who died yesterday after a long illness. Service and burial will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the Godfrey Funeral Home in Baird, Tex.

Mrs. Varner, a member of the Baptist Church, is survived by two other sons; three daughters; and six grandchildren.

Contracts Let for OU Building

Construction to Begin on $4 Million Unit

Construction will begin immediately on a $4.3 million dormitory-food service building at Oakland University, acording to Robert W. Swanson, director of business affairs at OU.

* * *

Contracts were awarded to low bidders today by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, meeting at Gull Lake, near Battle Creek.

Eames & Brown Inc. of 55 E. Pike submitted the low bid of $925,911 on the mechanical trades contract.

Other successful low bidders were J. A. Ferguson Construction Co., Detroit, architectural trades contract, $2,266,900; Cates Electric Co., Royal Oak, electrical contract, $473,900; Dover Elevator Co., Detroit, elevator equipment, $54,861; and Great Lakes Hotel Supply Co., Detroit, kitchen equipment, $190,968.

* * *

The twin-towered, seven-story building will house 572 students and provide food services for up to 1,600 students.

STUDENT RESIDENCE

Planned as a coeducational student residence, it will house men in one tower and women in the other.

The first main level will provide central lounge, recreational and office areas, and the kitchen and dining room area will be located on the second level. Plans for the building were prepared by the architectural firm Ralph R. Calder and Associates of Detroit.

* * *

According to Swanson, the building is to be completed by Aug. 1, 1966.

It will be constructed with borrowed funds, to be repaid on a self-liquidating basis out of room and board charges.

900 Flee Hotel Fire

about retrieving their belongings to continue trips.

"I've got to catch a plane for Norway," said one guest. "My luggage is on the 13th floor."

* * *

Leonard Whitehouse of Baltimore, Md., said he was calling the hotel desk to ask a question when he learned of the fire.

'DON'T PANIC'

"A boy knocked on the door and said 'Don't panic, but get out of here fast.'" Whitehouse said. "I threw on my pants over my pajamas and ran downstairs. The elevators were out of order."

The hotel manager said there were 994 guests in the hotel.

"We have a general alarm operated at the desk," he said. "But we didn't want to panic anyone, so we have the operators call the rooms and other employes checked the rooms."

* * *

"There was no panic. Everyone was rather cool," said Sam Cohen, a South African auto dealer attending the GM meeting.

GOOD JOB

A New York businessman, Sid Schulman, added: "If it wasn't for the hotel help coming around knocking on the door I would still be up there. They did a good job."

Vina Worley, a hotel employe, said the fire was detected by a watchman making the rounds.

"He smelled smoke and we started calling people right away," she said.

* * *

Most of the guests milled in the lobby, and later lounged in the hotel coffee shop while firemen cleared smoke from upper floors.

HAD TROUBLES

Thom said his men had trouble fighting the blaze because elevator power was cut off.

* * *

The guests were evacuated by use of the stairways. Some of them went to a hospitality suite which was opened for them at the Tuller Hotel across the street from the Statler. They were served coffee and allowed to wait out the blaze in comparative comfort.

Hospital Gets Certification

Certification of the Oakland County Medical Care Facility as a hospital by the State Health Department has removed the possibility of an estimated loss of $34,913 monthly in state and federal aid.

The certification, announced yesterday by Dr. Leon H. Warren of the State Health Department, is retroactive to May 1.

* * *

This was the date the facility's certification was temporarily removed due to the transfer of tuberculosis patients into a wing of the building.

Transfer of the TB patients was necessitated by the sale of the former TB Sanatorium to Oakland Community College.

Reds Tell of Death of South Korean Pilot

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) — North Korean officials disclosed today that the pilot of an unarmed South Korean observation plane was killed when the aircraft was shot down over Communist territory last Tuesday.

They charged that Lt. Lim Seung-sam of the South Korean army was on a deliberate espionage mission when his L19 was downed 25 miles inside Communist territory.

Romance Is Held Up, as Gunmen Take Over

NEW YORK (AP) — All Jack Smith and his fiancee, Kathleen Stephens, wanted to do was look at some engagement rings in the shop of jeweler Edmund Coleman.

But while they were looking at rings, two gunmen walked in, handcuffed Coleman, and took Smith with them as hostage. A sharp-shooting patrolman wounded the two and Smith returned to his fiancee.

Holdup Man Nets $1,250 at Motel

A holdup man armed with a sawed-off 22-caliber rifle netted some $1,250 from the Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township this morning.

The motel at 1801 S. Telegraph was robbed shortly before 9 this morning.

* * *

Night auditor Walter Brown and an unidentified porter were the only employes there at the time.

Bloomfield Township police investigating the robbery said the money was taken from a safe at the motel.

Modified Martial Law Declared in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — The government today decreed a state of siege or modified martial law throughout Colombia following widespread student disorders.

* * *

The government's action banned public demonstrations — there have been street riots in at least four cities in the past 11 days — and authorized departmental (provincial) governors and the mayor of Bogota to impose a curfew, censorship and ban the sale of alcohol.

Didn't Deduct Social Security

Hospital Faces Cost of Up to $50,000

Failure to deduct Social Security payments from the salaries of resident doctors for 10 years may cost Pontiac General Hospital $30,000 to $50,000, it was disclosed last night.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported to hospital board of trustees that the hospital may have to pay back Social Security benefits for the period from 1955 through 1964.

The hospital would have to pay both its share and the employe share because it would be nearly impossible to locate and collect from the former resident doctors.

Hospital officials said Social Security was not taken out of the salaries paid residents because it was thought they were excluded from provisions of the federal law.

* * *

Euler said that interns and people in training are exempted under the law. This was the basis for not withholding Social Security from the wages of residents.

FOR 10 YEARS

During the 10-year period, it is estimated the hospital had 75 to 100 residents. Hospital officials estimate that it would cost up to $50,000 to cover Social Security benefits for the 10 years.

The State Employes Retirement Board, Social Security Contribution Fund, has asked the hospital for salary figures for the residents.

Meantime, hospital officials hope for a compromise that would enable them to pay for only three years of the benefits.

General Sees Hard Choice Over Appeal

LANSING (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, stunned by his dismissal as Michigan National Guard adjutant general, today faces what he calls "the extremely difficult choice" of whether to appeal the dismissal.

Gov. George Romney fired McDonald yesterday after a 93-hour hearing for McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert on charges stemming from irregularities in the Michigan military establishment.

Romney found Neifert guilty of gross neglect of duty and misfeasance, but said he would reinstate him June 8 — at the end of a seven-month suspension without pay.

McDonald was found guilty of the same charges and also of the more serious charge of malfeasance.

Even if he decides not to appeal, he still must decide between two alternatives set up by Romney to protect McDonald's retirement privileges.

GIVEN 10 DAYS

Romney gave McDonald 10 days to decide whether he would prefer transfer to the guard's unassigned officer pool, which would cause him to lose his federal recognition as a major general but preserve his state retirement rights at age 64, or take another assignment as a colonel in the guard.

Wrist Radios, Pellet Guns?

Crime-Fighting Aids Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Instead of billy clubs, pistols and call boxes, tomorrow's policemen may have tranquilizer guns, Dick Tracy-style wrist radios and order-giving computers.

A House Judiciary subcommittee yesterday received a report on these experimental techniques being considered by the nation's crime fighters.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas deB. Katzenbach headed a battery of witnesses who urged Congress to put $10 million into the fight against crime.

The money, Katzenbach said, would be used to support public and private studies on ways to improve law enforcement.

* * *

One new technique that had impressed him, Katzenbach told the committee, was a computer system used in St. Louis to assign policemen to beats.

* * *

STUN VICTIM

Rep. James H. Scheuer, supporting Katzenbach's proposals, suggested that a gun be developed which would fire pellets that stun a victim rather than kill. He said the pellet gun would give a patrolman far more latitude to use his gun.

At the same time, the New York Democrat said, the pellet gun would cut down on the "number of by-standers killed or wounded by police action."

Both Katzenbach and Scheuer saw great possibilities in a Dick Tracy-style wrist radio. Scheuer pointed out that miniaturization already had progressed to a point where a transmitter could be fitted into an olive and dropped into a victim's martini.

* * *

Under the administration's bill, the $10 million grant from Congress would be a first-year appropriation. But Katzenbach said the administration did not see "this legislation as launching a massive federal subsidy program."

Instead, he said, it would "permit selective support of a relatively few programs . . . which may demonstrate to all of us steps which could make a difference" in cutting the crime rate.

District Music Festival Scheduled at Seaholm

BIRMINGHAM — The seventh biannual All School District Vocal Music Festival will be held Wednesday and Thursday in the Seaholm High School gymnasium.

Elementary students will appear Wednesday and secondary students Thursday, both programs scheduled for 8 p.m.

In the first concert, over 1,000 young voices will represent the glee clubs of Adams, Baldwin, Beverly, Bloomfield, Franklin, Greenfield, Harlan, Meadow Lake, Midvale, Pembroke, Pierce, Quarton, Torry, Valley Woods, Walnut Lake and Westchester elementary schools.

Songs will range from those of a patriotic and serious nature to foot-tapping and show tunes.

Also included on the program will be dance groups from Meadow Lake, Midvale, Quarton and Torry schools.

DIRECTORS

Directors for the program are Joanne Boraks, Kathleen Ferguson Catherine Fieleke, Phyllis Gardner, Patricia Kronewetter, Mary Partlow, Aurelia Powledge, Coralynn Thompson and Al Winters.

Thursday's program will feature more than 900 students from the various vocal groups at Derby, Barnum and Berkshire junior high schools and Groves and Seaholm high schools.

They will sing by combined grade levels and combined senior highs. Two songs will be rendered by the total group.

* * *

Highlight of the program will be numbers by the combined madrigal singers from the two high schools.

LEAD PUPILS

The students will be directed by Eleanor Balaam and Elwanda Baumgartner of Berkshire, Sandra Drew and Janice Sherman of Derby, Kenneth Ish and James Smela of Barnum, Evelyn Micheletti of Groves and William Seeback of Seaholm.

There is no admission charge for the concerts, open to parents and friends.

Jacquelyn Bartlett, a 10th grader at Groves High School, is among 10 outstanding student musicians who will perform in Youth Day activities in Flint tomorrow.

Jacquelyn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul D. Bartlett, 30587 Bristol, will play the harp in the state-wide Youth Enrichment Program Concerts at Flint's Central High School are scheduled for 3:30 and 8 p.m.

Parents, Sister of Area Pupil Among Dead

The parents and sister of a student at Cranbrook School were among those killed yesterday in the crash of a Pakistani airliner near Cairo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Howard and Elizabeth Clare, 9, were en route from Saudi Arabia to Bloomfield Hills to attend the graduation of their son, Richard, 19.

The Howards planned to spend about three weeks visiting Mrs. Howard's sister, Mrs. Melvin Beland of Sturgis, before returning to Saudi Arabia.

Howard, 43, was employed by the Aramco Oil Co. there.

Their son planned to attend college in the United States after graduating next month. He had attended Cranbrook for the past three years.

* * *

Annual Roundup

Kindergarten Event Set

The annual Pontiac school kindergarten roundup begins Monday at the Rogers Elementary School.

In order to be registered for fall kindergarten classes, a child must be 5 years old on or before December 1, 1965. A birth certificate is required.

Children should be registered during regular school hours at the elementary school in their district.

Those who are not registered now will be registered in the fall.

Spring registration is encouraged, however, in order that parents may use the summer months to fulfill entrance requirements.

The roundup dates for other elementary schools in the Pontiac School District are as follows:

- May 25 — Bailey, Central, Frost, Franklin, Herrington, Willis and Wisner.
- May 26 — Emerson, McCarroll, Owen and Whittier.
- May 27 — Baldwin, Bethune and Wilson.
- May 28 — Alcott, Irving and McConnell.
- June 1 — Twain.
- June 2 — Malkim.

* * *

- June 3 — Crofoot, LeBaron, Longfellow, Wever and Webster (morning only).

4-Day Gemini Flight June 3

whether White would be the first American astronaut to expose himself to the elements of space from a spacecraft.

It reported that the space suit and hatch opening procedure had not been fully qualified.

A decision might not be made until a day or two before launching, the agency said.

* * *

10-MINUTE WALK

Complete emergence of a U. S. astronaut is not planned until later this year.

The eight U.S. astronauts who have flown into space logged total flight time of 65 hours 44 minutes.

The longest single mission was 34 hours 20 minutes, by Air Force Maj. T. Gordon Cooper Jr.

AIR FORCE MAJORS

McDivitt and White, also both Air Force majors, are to triple the present flight time figure.

Hospital Pilot Plan Ready

day is less in a nursing home than in a general hospital.

The UCS plan has paired five hospitals and five nursing homes across the state. In the pilot program patients are to be screened carefully.

Nursing homes will be employed during the convalescent stage of a patient's illness. For certain selected patients long-term hospital stays would be eliminated.

For example, a patient who has a gall bladder operation now spends 7-10 days in Pontiac General. Under the UCS plan, the patient would transfer to a nursing home after the fourth or fifth day.

Backers of the experiment point out that a patient could be transferred back to the hospital for special treatment or in the event of a relapse.

The pilot program was officially declared "in business" on March 1, but it has taken until now to work out the mechanics of the program.

Euler told the hospital trustees last night that Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield have recently given their approval to the plan.

Pontiac General facilities have been suffering with a high rate of occupancy. Euler presented figures last night for the first four months of 1965.

A total of 6,295 patients have been admitted this year so far, compared to 6,080 in the same period in 1964.

The hospital has had to cancel 666 more admissions this year than the 866 cancelled during the first four months of last year.

Ford Paints Rosy Picture for Future

pansion plans outlined to stockholders a year ago.

"Last May," Ford said, "I told you that we expected to spend $1.6 billion worldwide for new and improved facilities in 1964, 1965 and 1966.

* * *

"In order to meet the demand for Ford products we are projecting in the next few years, we have now added $800 million to the plans I reported to you a year ago. . ."

* * *

NO ANSWER

Ford declined to answer detailed questions about the Ford Foundation's announcement Wednesday that it would offer six million shares of Ford common stock at a public sale soon.

India Hails 19 Who Scaled Mt. Everest

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Victory-hungary India put aside its worries today to salute 19 new heroes — the members of the first Indian team to climb Mt. Everest.

Army Capt. A. S. Cheema and Nawang Gombu, a Sherpa, reached the 29,028-foot peak of the world's highest mountain at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and tied the Indian and Nepalese flags to the pole left there two years ago by an American expedition, the government announced.

★ ★ ★

Five more Sherpas, including Nawang's brother Anu Kami, joined them on the top of the world. It was the largest group that ever has been on Everest's summit at one time.

Nawang and Anu are nephews of Tenzing Norgay, one of the first two men to reach the top of Everest, in 1953. It was Nawang's second trip to the top, making him the first climber to achieve that distinction. His first time up was with the Americans in 1963.

CLIMBERS HAILED

Indian newspapers and officials pushed aside their nation's food shortages, its near war with Pakistan, its internal political stresses and the threat of Red China to hail the climbers.

★ ★ ★

President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan messaged "our heroes" of his delight because "this new conquest is entirely an Indian effort and is therefore all the more thrilling."

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said the climbers "have brought glory to India and I am so proud of them."

The awesome, snow-capped peak had been climbed three times before — by Sir John Hunt's British team in 1953, by a Swiss group in 1956 and by Norman Dyhrenfurth's American expedition in 1963. Two previous Indian expeditions failed in 1960 and 1962.

RED CHINESE

The Chinese Communists claim to have put a team on top of Everest from the north on May 30, 1962, the same day that bad weather drove back Indian climbers 428 feet from the top.

Himalayan experts don't believe the Chinese claim because the Americans the next year found no evidence the Chinese had been there.

The Indians may be the last to climb Everest for some years from the south or Nepal side of the mountain. The government of the little buffer kingdom announced in March it would permit no more attempts by foreigners.

★ ★ ★

The Nepalese government said it feared climbers might lose their way and wander into Communist-ruled Tibet. Peking has charged that some climbers were spies.

The Indian expedition was led by Navy Lt. Cmdr. M. S. Kohli. It left New Delhi Feb. 22 and worked its way slowly up the south face of the mountain, using the same route earlier successful expeditions took.

BASE CAMP

The climbers established their base camp on March 22. For the past two weeks they were reported stalled 1,000 feet below the summit. A radio message said the weather cleared about 5 a.m. Thursday, and Cheema and Gombu made for the top.

They spent 30 minutes at the summit.

To Resume Probe Into Ship Crash

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Coast Guard board of inquiry was scheduled today to resume its hearing into the May 7 sinking of the freighter Cedarville in the Straits of Mackinac.

A major issue was whether attorneys for the Norwegian-American Shipping Co., operators of the freighter Topdalsfjord which collided with the Cedarville, may question Capt. Martin E. Joppich, skipper of the sunken limestone carrier.

★ ★ ★

Ten crewmen aboard the Cedarville lost their lives.

Joppich invoked the Fifth Amendment last week in declining on constitutional grounds to answer questions by attorney Joseph Keig Jr. of Chicago. The problem ultimately could go before a federal judge.

IN GRAND RAPIDS

Capt. Willis Bruso of the U.S. Coast Guard Ninth District presides as chairman of the inquiry board. The hearing site is a grand jury room at the Federal Building here.

The hearing follows Coast Guard sessions at Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace.

★ ★ ★

The Topdalsfjord's operators have filed a petition "for exoneration and limitation" through U.S. District Court at Chicago. An order signed last Friday by Judge Bernard Decker restrains any parties from legal action resulting from the collision except as part of the plea now before him.

Such petitions are standard in maritime practice. They aim at exoneration of the ship owner and — if found liable — limitation of liability to the value of the ship.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Steel Corp., owner of the Cedarville, at the same time filed a $3.5 million suit in U.S. District Court at Cleveland against the Norwegian-American line. It charges violation of Great Lakes shipping rules, excessive speed in fog and failure to blow passing signals.

Teachers in Warren Accept New Contract

SETTLES LETTER QUESTION — Mrs. Lucianne Cummings, a Washington public relations woman, revealed in New York yesterday that she was the owner who tried to sell a letter written in 1960 by Mrs. John F. Kennedy to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. An autograph dealer had planned to put the letter up for auction tonight, but Mrs. Johnson wanted it back. Mrs. Cummings, a campaign worker in 1960, had handled the letter for Mrs. Johnson.

LBJ Aiming for 'Instant Paradise'—Ike

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says President Johnson's "Great Society" program is an effort "to establish instant paradise."

★ ★ ★

In an address Thursday night before 500 senior business and financial executives of the National Industrial Conference Board, Eisenhower said the growth of the federal government has been "octopuslike."

★ ★ ★

"The government has displayed great ingenuity in contriving new ways to invade the provinces of states and localities," he said.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower said that the federal government often is in direct competition with private business.

FORMED POLICY

When he was president, Eisenhower said, he established a policy that "the federal government would not start or carry on a commercial activity to provide a service or product for its own use if the product or service could be procured on a fair basis from private enterprise through ordinary channels."

Earlier, the former president was honored by the Ukranian community as "a great soldier of war and a great president of peace."

★ ★ ★

In a ceremony, he was presented the Shevchenko Medal, awarded by the Shevchenko Scientific Society, and with the Freedom Award of the Shevchenko Memorial Committee of America.

The society commemorates Taras Shevchenko, a serf born in 1814 who — at the age of 24 — became the Ukraine's national hero and poet laureate.

Convicted Narcotics Boss Due at Chicago Crime Investigation

CHICAGO (AP) — A narcotics gang boss has been brought from prison to testify today before a federal grand jury investigating organized crime in Chicago.

Americo DePietto, convicted last year of operating a $10 million-a-year dope ring, was brought from Leavenworth Prison on a writ of habeas corpus to testify, an official said.

★ ★ ★

Among at least five persons subpoenaed, a government official said, was Richard Cain, former chief investigator for the Cook County sheriff's police who was convicted last year of perjury.

Today's session will be the third in eight days for the grand jury, which the official said was empaneled in December to investigate the crime syndicate dealings.

Also among those subpoenaed for today's session, were:

Pat Marcy, 52, secretary of the 1st Ward Democratic Organization who served a prison term for robbery in the 1930s.

Dominic Blasi, a chauffeur and courier for Momo Salvatore Giancana, reputed kingpin of the Chicago crime syndicate.

Leo Manfredi, 49, an ex-convict reputedly connected with the syndicate's gambling operations.

Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, reportedly the crime syndicate's emissary among politicians.

Reports have been circulated that a "mystery woman" would be subpoenaed, following the testimony Wednesday of Phyllis McGuire of the singing McGuire Sisters.

Miss McGuire is expected to return before the grand jury completes its investigation within two weeks, the official said.

Miss McGuire, 34, and Giancana, 57, kept company from 1960 to 1963 in the United States and abroad.

Likely Causes Listed in Egypt Plane Crash

CAIRO (UPI) — Human error or faulty landing flaps probably caused the crash of a Pakistani jetliner in desert wasteland near the Cairo airport, preliminary investigations indicated today. Four Americans were among the 119 persons killed in the disaster.

Reports that one of the Boeing 720B's four engines was ablaze prior to the crash yesterday were discounted by officials of Pakistan International Airlines (PIA). A PIA spokesman said it would be several days before definite conclusions could be drawn.

Egyptian investigators said a check of the wreckage showed the crash was probably the result of misjudgment of altitude or malfunction of wing flaps which are designed to slow the plane prior to landing.

The Americans killed in the crash were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Howard of Sturgis, Mich., and their daughter, Elizabeth, and Donald D. Love, 45, of Riverside, Conn. Love was an executive of Esso International, Inc. of New York.

★ ★ ★

Among the other victims were 26 prominent Pakistani journalists and nine Chinese Communists. The latter were carrying anti-American pamphlets found in the wreckage.

DEATH TOLL

In Karachi, a PIA official said today a check by the airline indicated 122 persons died in the crash. A spokesman said 115 passengers and 13 crewmen were aboard the ill-fated plane.

Six persons, all Pakistanis, survived the crash. Authorities hoped they would be able to help determine the cause of the disaster. The plane was about five minutes short of the Cairo airport runway when "a ball of fire" illuminated the predawn sky, witnesses said.

The plane was on an inaugural flight opening service between Communist China and London via the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

One victim was believed to be stewardess Momi Gulduram, whose smile graced PIA advertising posters around the world.

DOING NOTHING

The plane went down in hilly terrain, plowing up a hill and broke into three sections. Rescue workers said when they arrived they found 200 to 300 Bedouin tribesmen "pillaging and doing nothing to help the survivors."

Several bags of diplomatic mail, including one Communist Chinese pouch, was among the debris at the crash scene. A large bundle of Red Chinese propaganda pamphlets in French reading, "Support the Vietnamese people in their struggle against American imperialism," also was found.

The crash was the third-worst single plane disaster in aviation history.

Driver License Bill Is Buried

LANSING (AP) — The House has buried legislation to put the state in the driver licensing business as a number of Michigan counties and communities are getting out.

The bill, backed by Secretary of State James Hare but not Gov. George Romney, was returned to the House Public Safety Committee Thursday night. The return virtually assures the bill will remain on ice until the next legislative session.

Hare said earlier this month that after July 1, Jackson County and all communities will quit issuing licenses. Washtenaw County also plans to stop, he said, shifting the burden to Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti police departments.

The reason, Hare said, is another state law, being put into effect for the first time this year. It requires colored photographs of the motorist affixed to each new license.

The Jackson and Washtenaw county boards of supervisors have ordered their sheriff's departments out of the business because of the expense and trouble of the pictures.

Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, argued for the bill Thursday, saying, "the state needs a uniform system with uniform standards."

Youngster Drowned

SARANAC (AP) — Patrick Smith, 3, of Saranac, drowned Thursday when he fell from a raft into 5½ feet of water in a gravel pit.

Taylor's Jet Plane Hit by Ground Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A jet plane returning U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor to Saigon from Da Nang was hit by a round of small arms fire from the ground today but neither Taylor nor anyone aboard the craft was hurt.

★ ★ ★

Reliable sources said the plane, a Canberra jet, took one round of fire in the nose section. But the sources said it was not known the plane had been hit until after it landed safely at Saigon airport.

★ ★ ★

Taylor had flown from Saigon to Da Nang, 380 miles to the north, to visit U.S. Marine Corps units.

McDonald Asks Fete to 'Say Prayer for Me'

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Say a prayer for me," said a weeping David J. McDonald, defeated president of the United Steelworkers Union.

McDonald, for 12 years one of the nation's top labor leaders as chief of the million-member USW, wept before hundreds of union delegates at an AFL-CIO banquet Saturday.

He had sat composed at the head table while Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and AFL-CIO President George Meany praised him for dropping a challenge of his defeat by Secretary-Treasurer I.W. Abel in the union's recent presidential election.

But when he was besieged afterward by dozens of admiring well-wishers and autograph seekers, the 62-year-old McDonald broke into tears.

Wirtz' comments reflected visible relief of the Johnson administration at McDonald's decision not to seek a Labor Department investigation and a federal court order for a new election.

Administration officials had privately indicated fear that a long McDonald-Abel battle for control of the union might hamper current negotiations.

The occasion for the banquet was the presentation of an AFL-CIO award to industrialist Henry J. Kaiser for contributions to social welfare.

City Was Well Served by Retiring Officials

Pontiac City Hall bids adieu to two respected officeholders who have logged a combined total of 65 years in the service of the City.

EWART

Retiring are City Attorney WILLIAM A. EWART, who has conducted the municipality's legal affairs for 33 years, and its City Assessor, EDWARD C. BLOE, identified with that office for 32 years.

Both administrators headed particularly sensitive departments of the city government.

The long tenure of the retirees takes them back to the dark days of the Depression and the desperate problems that beset government on all levels. That Pontiac weathered the storm with fiscal integrity and laid the groundwork for undreamed-of growth and progress was due to such loyal functionaries as BILL EWART and ED BLOE.

BLOE

The PRESS salutes them on the completion of their long spans of public service, with best wishes for many enjoyable and rewarding years in other pursuits.

Aping Man, Curs Are a Howling Success

What is Man's Best Friend doing to man?

He's latching on to man's culture, is what he's doing.

In Chicago, the American Cancer Society reports that dogs used by the society in research projects have quickly acquired the cigarette habit and would rather bite than switch.

★ ★ ★

In London, a pub-punchy pooch has become so addicted to alcoholic beverages it is feared he may end up a rumhound.

In Portland, Ore., a precocious pup has flipped for the sidewalk surfboard craze and is now the fastest paw in the junior jet set.

First thing we know, these mixed-up mutts will think they're advanced as people and start dropping bombs on each other.

★ ★ ★

New Twist Promised in Bobby Baker Snarl

The BOBBY BAKER scandal grows continually worse — not only in the revelations brought to light but in the unholy tactics of the Democratic hierarchy to prevent either the emergence of additional evidence or discredit that which is uncovered.

Latest of such maneuvers is an outrageous attack initiated by the Democratic majority of the Senate rules committee on the integrity of a fellow senator, Republican JOHN J. WILLIAMS of Delaware.

★ ★ ★

Reason for the smear soon to see the light of day is, as Sherlock Holmes was wont to tell Watson, elementary.

It was Sen. Williams, you see, who broke open the Baker case and kept the investigation going, cursory as it was, despite frantic attempts by powerful Administration leaders to halt it.

As ripples of scandal reached not only the Democratic national committee but the White House, Senate Democrats in a previous report and in a sequence of statements tried to shake off mounting and incriminating evidence by evasion, by impugning the testimony of witnesses—and by silence.

The silence was thunderous.

★ ★ ★

But public suspicion refused to lie down. The flow of additional evidence, gathered almost singlehandedly by Sen. WILLIAMS, has continued.

So, Watson, the rules committee has no other choice than to imply in its report that WILLIAMS is a meddlesome liar who shouldn't concern himself with matters under the jurisdiction of that august body. According to one source, the document reads "as if it were a brief in a libel suit against the senator instead of an examination of serious charges brought by him."

If, as 'tis said, politics makes strange bedfellows, scandal impels them to pull the blanket over their heads.

Monroe Doctrine Took Odd Twists

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Monroe Doctrine of 1823 was a rather pallid piece of paper until President Theodore Roosevelt put some decorations of his own on it.

Since then the United States, on and off, has had troubles with Latin-American countries, including the Dominican Republic where rebels now are fighting a conservative junta.

MARLOW

President Johnson's efforts to get the Dominican people to agree on a coalition government with representatives from both sides would be one way of saving the United States from being tagged antirebel and proconservative.

It wouldn't be the first time the United States tried something like that in Latin America.

But whenever it happened, just as now, it was intervention in the affairs of another nation. It's one of the reasons the Dominican people reportedly have been growing anti-American by the day.

★ ★ ★

The Monroe Doctrine simply told the Europeans to keep hands off Latin America without saying whether or not the United States would ever interfere.

FAILURE TO MENTION

But what the Monroe Doctrine failed to mention, President Roosevelt added:

When the Dominicans in 1905 couldn't pay their debts to the United States and a number of European countries, Roosevelt, to straighten them out, took over the job of collecting the Dominican Republic's customs duties, giving them some of the receipts, using the rest to pay off the debts.

He said, and he could say it and get away with it because the Latin Americans couldn't match U.S. power, that this country would intervene in their problems any time it pleased, as for example, when there were disorders.

But as the years passed and disorders in the Dominican Republic spilled over into revolution — Roosevelt was gone by then— President Wilson sent in Marines in 1916 and stayed until 1924.

INEFFECTIVE TEACHING

But there, as often elsewhere, American tutelage in democracy wasn't effective, whether or not Americans stayed a short time or almost two decades.

Johnson said the Marines were there this time to prevent a Communist takeover. Since the junta was conservative, this meant the Reds had to be among the rebels, and the effect was to make Johnson look antirebel and proconservative. He got a bad reaction in many places.

After a couple of weeks his administration, anxious to restore peace but undoubtedly equally anxious to avoid the appearance of preserving conservatives or reactionaries, sought to get both sides to agree to a coalition government.

It didn't succeed. And, up to this point, it's stuck with the revolution.

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Must Get Truth to Chinese

WASHINGTON — While the government of the United States does not recognize the government of Red China, there is no reason why the American president should not speak to all the people on the mainland of Asia.

LAWRENCE

Though there has been reluctance and long delay in placing upon the Peking regime the responsibility for the trouble in Viet Nam and the unrest in Asia, President Johnson has at last pinpointed the Red Chinese government as a real threat to peace and as the sponsor of the revolutions and guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam.

But there is need for a long-range program to hammer home this fact.

The time is opportune now for President Johnson to address the Chinese people and to set forth the disinterested purpose of the United States and its citizens in helping other nations throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

The American people would be glad to help the people of Red China, just as economic aid and military assistance in a crisis have been extended to other peoples on all continents.

HISTORIC FRIENDSHIP

There is a historic friendship between the people of this country and the Chinese. Unfortunately, China today is divided.

But there will be no chance of reunification until the people of the mainland come to realize that any government set up in Peking in the future must be responsive to the wishes of all its people and mindful of their safety in a nuclear world.

The United States is in a position to render economic help to the Chinese people.

★ ★ ★

There is no reason why the plain truths about the future of Asia cannot be voiced in a series of speeches by the President of the United States, so that all Chinese people may become aware of the sincere desire of this country to be of assistance, not only in preserving peace and in preventing nuclear war but in building up the economic opportunities that could bring a better standard of living to the population.

NOT HARD TO REACH

It has often been said that it would be hard to reach a nation of 700 million people, but in these days of communication by relay through satellites in space, there isn't an area of the world that cannot be reached some way.

At first, only a small number of persons might listen to their radios and get the message from abroad, but word-of-mouth communication increases rapidly when a concerted effort is made to communicate with the people of any country.

Even if not immediately successful, it is a project that, in the long run, can help to build a truly friendly relationship between all the Chinese people and the American people.

★ ★ ★

An "alliance for peace" could include the people of the mainland of China as well as the peoples of the rest of Asia. It could mean a pledge by the United States to come to the assistance of any nation in Asia which is threatened by a nuclear attack.

NATO pledges America to give military help to European countries. Logically, the same protection can be afforded to Asia and make unnecessary the spread of nuclear arsenals.

If You're Going Abroad, Join Medical Aid Group

NEW YORK—If you're going abroad this year, 1) don't expect LBJ to see you off, and 2) Do become a member of the International Association for Medical Assistance to Travelers, Inc.

CONSIDINE

No. 1 will cost you money. Travel gets dearer every year. The day of the "quaint little place" where it costs next to nothing to live like a lord is just about done, finished.

No. 2 doesn't cost anything. It is the pioneering group that compiled a list of English-speaking, properly - trained physicians, surgeons and specialists all around the globe and gained their agreement to charge IAMAT card-bearers no more than $8 an office call, $10 a hotel or house call, and $15 a night or Sunday or holiday call. This does not apply for doctors called in for consultation.

IAMAT is shocked by the rise of several commercial organizations which offer the same sort of catalogue, but for a fee, and which may have appropriated the original idea.

★ ★ ★

These new organizations blight one of the proudest boasts of the better European and Asiatic doctors: that they do not advertise.

ON CONTRIBUTIONS

IAMAT hopes to exist solely on contributions, admittedly a precarious perch. But there it is. IAMAT's offices are at 11 Via Parigi, Rome, 18 Temperance St., Toronto, and 19 W. 44th St., N. Y.

'British Views'

There is a good deal of comment in today's British papers about President Johnson's renewed offer of unconditional talks on Viet Nam.

THE LONDON DAILY TELEGRAPH (Conservative) says the President's statement comes at the start of what looks like a testing time for America and South Viet Nam. The balance which had begun to swing in their favor as a result of intensive air operations is now likely to swing against them because of the monsoon rains and bad flying weather.

While Mr. Johnson carries Congress and a great majority of the public with him, a spell of bad military news would certainly be exploited by his very vocal critics. The paper considers the Vietnamese situation in the light of the recent NATO Council meeting where Mr. Rusk was supported by everyone except France.

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH continues: "But infinitely more damaging than paragraphs in communiques are President de Gaulle's actions. By throwing all his diplomatic influence against America over Viet Nam, as elsewhere, and making vague proposals that could only lead to a Communist takeover, he encourages China and North Viet Nam to obduracy. This is all the more irresponsible in view of strong evidence that in reality he does not want the Americans out of Viet Nam at all."

★ ★ ★

THE BIRMINGHAM POST (Independent Conservative):

"President Johnson is not saying anything new. But there are some things that have to be repeated. A number of people, in this country and in his own, don't want to know that the President is ready for talks; nor do they wish to grasp the fact that North Viet Nam has rejected the good offices of the United Nations. To accept these facts would be to destroy their preconceived ideas and involve them in a reconsideration of their own attitudes.

"If the President supposes that Mao Tse-tung is inducing the North Vietnamese Communist regime to continue the war against its will he is making a profound mistake. They are influenced by the experience of their struggle against the French, whom they eventually forced out of the country. They obviously believe that they can do the same, employing the same tactics, against the Americans."

★ ★ ★

THE LONDON GUARDIAN (Liberal) disagrees with nearly every part of the speech, which it calls "another of President Johnson's tragic statements" because Mr. Johnson's patently good intentions are inseparately fused with obstinate failure to understand how his country has gotten into its present difficulties. Quoting the President's remark: "We combine unlimited patience with unlimited resources and unwavering purpose," THE GUARDIAN asks:

"Are these enough? President Kennedy knew better when he said 'We must face the fact that the United States is neither omnipotent nor omniscient.' President Johnson emphasized the constructive rather than the destructive side of those unlimited resources — his plans for aid rather than for more bombing. But an Asian development bank simply is not an answer.

"If economic aid could bring peace — well, the President himself pointed out that the United States has spent more than $2,000 million for the people of South Viet Nam in the past eleven years. It is bitterly clear that it has not enabled the South Vietnamese to produce a stable government — any more than have the much larger sums spent on military aid."

THE GUARDIAN believes the President does not seem to understand what the word "unconditional" implies. Of his remark "I am continuing the search for every possible path to peace," THE GUARDIAN writes:

"Every possible path, but not apparently the one that might be effective — an acknowledgement that the National Liberation Front, representing the Viet Cong, must be one of the main parties in any negotiations; and so the bombings and the burnings will continue."

Colorado Republican Senator Attacks Administration-Backed Bill to Curb Gun Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gordon Allott attacked today the administration-backed bill to curb gun traffic. He said Lee Harvey Oswald could just as easily have purchased his rifle from a sporting goods store as from a mail-order house.

★ ★ ★

"That gun from a sporting goods store would have been just as deadly as the mail-order weapon he used," said Allott, a Colorado Republican, in testimony prepared for the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

Two days ago, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, testifying in favor of the bill, told the subcommittee:

"As long as I live, I can never forget that it was a mail-order rifle — sent to a post office box, that had been rented under an assumed name, by a man with an established record of defection and mental instability — that killed President Kennedy."

NO CORRECTION

Allott and another Republican senator from the West — Arizona's Paul Fannin — argued that the administration bill would penalize ordinary, law-abiding citizens without correcting abuses in the use of firearms.

★ ★ ★

Allott said he objects to the notion that the word "guns" is "a four-letter, Anglo-Saxon word with dirty connotations."

He said "Perhaps we of the West are more familiar with firearms and therefore fear them less, recognizing it is the abuse of the weapon that is the real problem. There are legitimate uses and legitimate users and I strongly feel we must not unduly hinder these legitimate uses in attempting to curb the abuses."

★ ★ ★

Fannin said in his prepared testimony: "The regulations embodied in S. 1592 (the gun bill) would not prevent the determined criminal from obtaining firearms; instead it would impose severe penalties on millions of honest, law-abiding citizens."

The subcommittee also hears today from Franklin L. Orth of Washington, executive director of the National Rifle Association. Katzenbach and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., the subcommittee chairman and chief sponsor of the bill, have accused the NRA of attempting to discredit the bill with false propaganda.

INTERSTATE SALES

The bill would forbid interstate sales of firearms except between licensed manufacturers, importers and dealers and would sharply curb imports of firearms.

★ ★ ★

Thursday, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., a brother of the slain president, testified in favor of the bill, saying "it would save hundreds of lives in this country and spare thousands of families all across this land the grief and heartbreak that may come from the loss of a husband, a son, a brother or a friend."

★ ★ ★

Allott, noting that he has co-sponsored gun limitation measures, said, "It has been hammered home that Lee Harvey Oswald used a mail-order gun in committing his heinous crime. So far as I know, it has not been generally recognized that Lee Oswald could have walked into any one of several sporting goods stores in Dallas and purchased a rifle of the same quality across the counter and he would not have violated any law in doing so."

"Further," said Allott, "Jack Ruby (convicted slayer of Oswald, I am informed, used a Smith and Wesson .38 for which he had a permit."

The Colorado Republican disputed Katzenbach's testimony that the measure is "not intended to curtail the ownership of guns among those legally entitled to own them."

Presbyterians Discuss Unity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 177th annual General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. turned today to work on means for establishing closer links with other Christians.

Among suggested steps was occasional attendance by Presbyterians at Mass in Roman Catholic parishes.

★ ★ ★

"The needs of the church universal in our generation can only be met by Christian people working together," declared a report placed before delegates from across the nation.

William Phelps Thompson, a Wichita, Kan., attorney, took over the gavel, after his election late Thursday as moderator of the 3.5-million-member denomination, its highest titular office.

Further Christian unity was cited as one of his key concerns.

A wide-ranging series of actions to increase interchurch ties was proposed in a report by the church's commission on ecumenical mission and relations, as the week-long assembly entered its second day.

The nickname "Little Flower" bestowed on Fiorello LaGuardia, three times mayor of New York City, was a literal translation of his first name.

BALTIMORE BUBBLE BATH — A scenic fountain in front of the courthouse in Baltimore, Md., was turned into a bubble bath yesterday by a prankster who dumped in a box of soap. The soapy scene got laughs from office secretaries, and one of them tests the texture of the suds.

File for Vote Bill Cloture Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield sets the machinery in motion today for ending debate on the voting rights bill and putting it to a vote.

Joined by at least 31 senators — there may be additional late signers — Mansfield will file a petition that seeks to limit each senator to an hour's speaking time on the bill and all its amendments.

The petition comes to a vote Tuesday. If two-thirds of the senators voting follow the leader, cloture will be applied and, Mansfield hopes, the bill can be brought to a vote by week's end.

Except for the petition-filing in early afternoon, not much action was expected on the administration-backed measure today. It's a Friday and many members of Congress find it hard to resist a long weekend.

Last year the cloture rule was invoked successfully for the first time to cut through a filibuster against civil rights legislation.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said Thursday he thinks enough senators will vote for cloture this time and that the debate limitation will open the way for passage of the bill next week.

★ ★ ★

Dirksen told newsmen he thinks at least 24 of the 32 Republican senators will vote to end debate. If they do and if all 100 senators vote, it will take 43 of the 68 Democrats to stifle Southern talk against the bill.

Southern senators have been fighting the legislation with words and with proposed amendments, contending it would deprive states of their constitutional right to fix voter qualifications.

They have refused to enter into any agreement to limit debate and bring the bill to a vote. However, much of the time the Senate has spent on the legislation since it came to the floor April 22 has been taken up by a dispute among its supporters over poll taxes.

Ladies Garment Union Reelects President, 73

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — David Dubinsky, 73, president of the 440,000-member International Ladies Garment Workers Union for 33 years, has been re-elected unanimously for another three-year term.

Also re-elected at Thursday's closing session of the 32nd ILGWU convention were Louis Stulberg, secretary-treasurer, and Luigi Antonini, first vice-president.

Group to Meet on Retardation

An organizational meeting of a proposed adult group interested in the problem of mental retardation is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Pierce Junior High School, Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

On the agenda are election of officers, discussion of general goals and selection of a name for the organization.

Parents of retarded youngsters and special education teachers in the Waterford school system initiated the idea for the adult group.

★ ★ ★

Preliminary goals of the organization are to assist retarded children to prepare themselves for adulthood and to help adults understand the retarded child.

Junior Editors Quiz on SUNDIALS

QUESTION: How do sundials work?

ANSWER: Sundials came before clocks as instruments for measuring time. They were used in Babylon some 4,000 years ago. The principal is that the shadow of an upright piece of metal called the "gnomon" moves around a flat dial as the sun travels from east to west.

The dial is marked in hours as in our picture, from 6 a.m. until noon on the left side, and from noon until 6 p.m. on the right side.

To be really accurate, the gnomon is supposed to point toward true north or the North Pole, instead of magnetic north, as the compass does. Also, the angle of the gnomon should be the same as the latitude (distance north or south from the equator) of the place where the sundial is. This sounds complicated.

But, as we suggest in the illustration, you can make a sundial out of cardboard which will work very well, even if you can't figure out true north and latitude.

A square cardboard box, such as you get at a food market, makes a fine base with the bottom side up. Cut a slit in this for the gnomon.

FOR YOU TO DO: Mark box as we show, drawing around a 10-inch dinner plate to get circle. Put gnomon in slit and set in sunlight, pointing upright slanting edge of gnomon toward north. Check with clock when on the hour, moving gnomon until clock and sundial agree. (Your sundial will show standard time; if on daylight saving time, allow for difference.)

KKK Denounced in Town Where Rally Was Held

DUNN, N.C. (AP) — Civic leaders of this eastern North Carolina town, where the three Ku Klux Klansmen accused in the slaying of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo appeared at a rally last week, have denounced the KKK and ask others to do the same.

Ten ministers and nine laymen issued an open letter Thursday deploring klan activity and asking Dunn residents to "have nothing to do with the Klan or its program."

The statement expressed "regret and shame that the Ku Klux Klan chose our town as a showplace in which to exhibit three men accused of murder and their defense attorney as the feature attractions at a rally last Saturday."

CANADIAN WHISKY. A BLEND. 80 PROOF. IMPORTED BY McMASTER IMPORT COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?

What's the gimmick?

Big tax savings on every bottle!

Instead of bottling McMaster's in Canada, as most Canadian Whiskys are, we import it direct and bottle it here. By doing it this way, we save handsomely on taxes and other charges.

You would expect to pay $6.50 for this smooth, mellow Canadian Whisky. McMaster's is distilled, aged in the barrel, and blended in Canada.

You can't buy a finer Canadian Whisky than McMaster's. Why pay more than $4.80 a fifth (tax included).

(P.S. McMaster's also comes in a big new ½-gallon size and in handy pints, too. Just $11.95 and $3.06.)

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY. 80 PROOF. IMPORTED IN ORIGINAL CASKS BY McMASTER IMPORT CO., DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

Baptist Unity Is Viewed by Two Church Leaders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 120-year-old split between the 10.5-million member Southern Baptist Convention and the 1.5-million member American Baptist Convention may one day be bridged.

"Merger has been my challenger this year, but everywhere I hear, 'it is too soon,'" the Rev. J. Lester Harnish, president of the American Convention said Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"Organic union of the Baptist Church groups is the top of the stairway, and we have to start at the bottom step," said the Rev. Wayne DeHoney, president of the Southern Convention.

★ ★ ★

The two church leaders gave their views on possible Baptist unity at a joint news conference at the American Baptist Convention's annual meeting.

The two bodies have no difference in doctrine, only in organizational structures, Harnish said.

★ ★ ★

In spite of the similarities the two groups remain divided after a bitter dispute over slavery more than a century ago.

★ ★ ★

On present-day race relations, however, there is at least official agreement.

★ ★ ★

"We're in the vanguard of race relations on the American scene — we favor integration," Harnish said of his group.

ALMOST IDENTICAL

"Our position," said DeHoney, "is almost identical with that of the American Baptists." There is integration, but it is token integration because the national unit can not impose its views on local churches, he said.

Bogalusa Parks Closed to Nip Violence

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Bogalusa's two municipal parks have been closed indefinitely and a Negro civil rights leader says the decision by Mayor Jesse H. Cutrer Jr., "was a nice move."

"There wasn't any use in provoking this thing," said Robert Hicks, an official of the Civic and Voters League, local affiliate of the Congress of Racial Equality.

★ ★ ★

Hicks called off a scheduled Negro "picnic" at Cassidy Park Thursday after the mayor acted. The previous day, whites and Negroes clashed in the park.

A crowd of angry whites clustered outside the park Thursday awaiting the Negroes.

ATTACK NEWSMAN

A gang of white teen-agers attacked Terry Friedman, a news photographer for the New Orleans Times-Picayune. Friedman was slugged, knocked down and kicked. His cameras were smashed and thrown into a nearby creek.

Tom Frazer, a former Times-Picayune newsman who had accompanied Friedman, said he ran to nearby policemen for help.

★ ★ ★

"They (the police) were watching all the time, grinning," Frazer said.

The 30 youths fled when officers approached. No arrests were made.

Friedman was given a State Police escort for a mile out of the city. Afterwards, a car tailed him for about a mile, then speeded up to pass, Friedman said.

2 WHITE MEN

"One of the two white men in the auto shook a big .45 automatic in my face as they went by," he said. "They stopped up ahead. I braked, made a U-turn and went back into town."

He later returned without incident to New Orleans, 70 miles to the southwest.

Cutrer said he was disturbed by the attack. Told that the group was composed of teenagers, Cutrer said, "that is where part of our problem lies."

★ ★ ★

Bogalusa has been the target of integration demands by civil rights groups this spring. The Ku Klux Klan boasts that it dominates the area.

California Passes Act on Smoking Drivers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — The California Legislature has passed the "Paul Buzzo Act," making it illegal for motorists to throw lighted cigarettes on a road or surrounding area.

★ ★ ★

The bill is named for a Concord, Calif., boy who wrote to his assemblyman asking for tighter restrictions on motorists. The letter said, in part, "I am 11 years old and I think smokers are very careless."

Life Must Go On for Widows of Viet Nam War

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The telegram lay on the round coffee table in the living room.

From his cardboard rocket ship, Stephen, 5, would glance occasionally at the strange yellow piece of paper, then at his mother on the sofa. She wasn't crying. She was just sitting there motionless, staring ahead.

★ ★ ★

With an air of decision he marched to the table and picked up the telegram. The words "The Secretary of the Army regrets to inform you that your husband ... meant nothing to him. But he knew.

Eyes wide with wonder, he turned to his mother. "My daddy is dead, isn't he?"

QUIET GRIEF

Ei Young Japanese wife of Staff Sgt. Horace Young, newly dead in Viet Nam, stilled a cry and gathered her son to her. It was to be her only public expression of grief. Friends, chaplain, or even her older son, Jesse, 8, when he came home from school, would see none.

Across town in a section of several hundred mobile homes called Trailertown, about a 10 minute ride from Ft. Bragg, a pretty young woman packed methodically.

★ ★ ★ ★

She was going home to Phenix City, Ala., where her mother had been keeping her 8-months old daughter since the funeral two weeks before.

Shirley Isaacs, 5 feet tall with eyes of blue and light brown hair, formerly Girl Friday to Phenix City's mayor, then wife and mother, was now a widow at 23. Her husband Royall G. Isaacs Jr., who had made captain without living to receive the notification, was killed on patrol in Viet Nam.

MEMORY OF PAST

Resting a moment, she looked out the trailer's window at the clothesline, the clothespins all in place. Sadly she shook her head. He had loved to use those pins for target practice with an air rifle. They were always on the ground when she needed them. But now, of course, she wouldn't need them. Not here.

"I don't know too much about his life over there," she explained, almost apologetically. "He only wrote me the happy things. If he went out on patrol, he would write later only that he had had a good operation.

"I received a letter after he was killed. He talked about moving camps and that he hoped he got to stay in that camp because they had spent a lot of work on it. He wrote how much he missed us and was looking forward to seeing us again."

★ ★ ★

Carefully she laid his Special Forces green beret in a suitcase.

SANG A SONG

"He had a pet dog that the Vietnamese people gave him — that was quite an honor — and a pet monkey. He learned to sing 'The Longest Day' in Vietnamese and the children were always clustering around him to sing it. He always did. He loved children.

"He sent the baby, Sherry Terrece, a Vietnamese record with nursery rhymes on the back. I'm keeping it for her."

★ ★ ★

Firmly she snapped shut the suitcase.

"Everything happened so fast. He couldn't stand tears. I'm trying so hard for him."

The Special Forces wives are a closely knit group. When a husband goes overseas, they keep the wife left behind busy with coffees and golf and bridge and hope she won't be too lonely. When a husband is killed they rally quickly to her side.

Of Shirley Isaacs, one older wife commented: "I used to worry about her because she often said she didn't know what she would do if anything happened to her husband. She's so young. Yet she's amazed us all with her strength. She's never once broken down that I know of."

★ ★ ★

More baffling to the wives was another recent widow, who was still lying on her bed staring at the ceiling, questioning why God had to take her husband, a week after the telegram came.

"We try to tell her her children need her — one is a tiny baby, you know — but she just lies there. We don't know what to do for her, except to take care of the children. Few Special Forces wives act like that," said the wife of a sergeant.

Some widows go back home, like Shirley Isaacs. She thinks she'll probably return to work for the mayor. He had told her at the funeral that her old job was waiting for her.

★ ★ ★

Some don't know what they will do. Ei Young would like to return to Japan, but she wants her children to have an American education. Possibly she will remain in the new brick house near Ft. Bragg that her husband lived in only one month before he went to Viet Nam just before Christmas.

For others Fayetteville is home. Jackie Sawyer who grew up here, buried her husband, Bob, nearly a year go in the cemetery across the street from the Veterans Hospital, plans to spend the rest of her life here.

After her husband died in an Okinawa hospital from parachute jump injuries a close friend says, "She got into a state of mind that was just bitter."

Jackie, herself, says: "At first it was like it wasn't even real. I was going to work, coming home, doing the necessary things. Like I was just existing from day to day is the only way I can explain it.

"Two months ago it really dawned on me he was never coming back. I had always been active in church. I began having a social life. I'll probably work only part-time in the Superior Court clerk's office. It's too much full-time and being mother and Daddy.

★ ★ ★

"I live a pretty normal life really. But there was a lot of adjustment to do. I try hard to keep the children busy doing something."

The children are Pam, 12; Bob 10, and Jay, almost.

HIDDEN FEELINGS

"The two older children keep their feelings pretty much within themselves. They're old enough to know it hurts and they probably can see the hurt in my face."

Central Selects Cheerleaders

By KAY COSMA

Pontiac Central High School has chosen its new cheerleading squad for the 1965-66 season. Faculty recommendation dependent upon the individual's excellence in skill, scholarship, attendance, and leadership, determines the winners.

Judy Almas, Carole Beckett, Debby Gordon, Cindy Gowen, Pam Harrington, and Eileen Hatchett were selected.

Others were Cecilia Hunt, Linda Jackson, Jo Johnson, Vicki Leczel, Diane McCall, and Jo Lynn Yansen.

Diane McCall was chosen captain until the end of football season.

The cheerleaders are now planning to attend the Camp All American in Hartland.

* * *

WEEKEND OUTING

On July 10 a weekend outing is being planned by the senior cheerleaders, Jill Dearing, captain, Sue Froede, Sue Huntzinger, Carol Gray, John Baker, and Jobe Post.

Mrs. Charles Smith is the sponsor.

"War Drums," the album recorded by Central's band is now on sale in the music department. Included on the record are "Wonderland by Night," Ravel's "Bolero" and Civil War songs.

Students have been chosen for membership in the Thespians Club, a national dramatics society.

* * *

OTHERS LISTED

Others are Karen Lane, Mary Jo Myers, Dan Moriarity, Sandi Neeson, Roger Putnam, Mark Papazian, Linda Sundahl, Jeff Stickney, Russ Underwood, Connie Vanderlind, Chuck Wildinson, and Jim Wood.

Still others are Jo Lynn Yansen, Ann Strait, and Mary Worthy.

Top 2 Seniors at Our Lady Announced

By ANN LONGO

The two top students in the senior class of Our Lady of the Lakes High School have been announced.

Valedictorian is Michael Anderson with a 3.5 average. Catherine LaForgeis is salutatorian with a 3.4 average.

Michael served as president and vice president of the student council, president of his sophomore class, and secretary of the Catholic Youth Organization.

Michael won an award in the Optimist speech contest, and belonged to the honor society and the speech and debate clubs. He was on the track team, played junior varsity basketball and three years of varsity football.

* * *

He plans to attend the University of Michigan, major in business and later transfer to law.

Catherine served as prefect of the Sodality, president of the library club, business manager of the yearbook.

She did catechetical work throughout high school, belonged to the Catholic Youth Organization and played varsity basketball for three years.

Cathy plans to become a Sister of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Order in Monroe.

St. Mike's Elects Officers for Council

By HERVEY LAVOIE

Following a vigorous campaign at St. Michael High School officers were elected for the student council.

They are Tom Patch, president; Dianne Campbell, vice president; Margaret Finnegan, treasurer; Rick Land, secretary and Jerry Traynor, sergeant-at-arms.

The seminar on government in action, under the direction of Sister Gertrude Ann, has chosen new officers. Included are Larry Bieri, chairman; Margaret Finnegan, vice chairman-Florence Henretty, secretary; Fran Franzel, scribe; Bob French, business manager and Lorraine Hylla, student council representative.

The annual senior breakfast is scheduled to follow 8:45 Mass this Sunday.

Seniors Trim Gym for Prom

Pick Hawaiian Theme for Kettering Event

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Tomorrow night from 9 - 12 the senior class of Waterford Kettering will transform the gymnasium into Moano Puukohoku — where the stars and the hills meet in a paradise called Hawaii — for the annual senior prom.

Under decorations chairman Catherine Coleman, palm trees, goldfish ponds, Hawaiian outrigger canoes, and fish nets will be arranged on the gym floor.

Diamond-head will tower from the stage, and the court will boast grass shacks and a smoking volcano. The lobby will hold shells in the showcases, and stately tiki gods.

Refreshments will be served in the court luau-style, under the direction of refreshment chairman Christine Harrington.

* * *

ANNOUNCE COUPLES

Juniors Richard McPartlin and Mark Harrington will announce the couples.

Wrapped in Hawaiian sarongs, Jackie Ross, Genie Burns, Donna Gould and Marjorie Howereth will preside over the checkroom.

Girls Athletic Association members honor their mothers at the annual Moms' Night, Monday at 6. Program of the cooperative dinner will include a speech by sponsor Carol Kratt, and announcement of next year's GAA Letter club officers.

* * *

CLASS BOARD

Juniors interested in becoming candidates for next year's junior class board, submitted their names this week to sponsor William Cole, or junior president Genie Burns.

Bible club members, with sponsor Mrs. Johanna Keller, went horseback riding this afternoon after school.

* * *

Science Futurity Association members are now planning the itinerary for their annual end-of-the-year trip to Chicago.

'Alice in Wonderland' Slated

By JEAN PERRY

Written by Lewis Carroll, the children's classic "Alice in Wonderland" will be presented by the play production class of Waterford Township High School tomorrow in the gym at 2 p.m.

A special matinee for Waterford High students was held today at 2:45 p.m.

Chosen for the cast are Alice, Margie Simmons; Margaret, Barbara Flowers; white rabbit, Frank German; queen, Carolyn Hall; king, Martin Swackhammer; and duchess, Helen Carrick.

Others are cheshire cat, Dave Suzor; mad hatter, Charles Wilson; March hare, Donald Bruce; door mouse, Larry Peters; gryphon, John Evans; and mock turtle, Dave Thomas.

Directing the play is, Mrs. Rebecca Lever, student teacher. Anne Hobart, dramatics teacher, is the technical director.

* * *

Many of the students now in play production find it their favorite class. Stated Barb Flowers, WTHS Junior, "It's not all book work and tests, but yet you learn as you put on plays and study some of the famous playwriters and their techniques."

HONORS CONVOCATION

Outstanding Waterford students will be honored with awards and recognition at the Eighteenth Annual Honors Convocation on Wednesday.

Highlighting the assembly will be the presentation of the Outstanding Senior Citizen Award by Principal Paul O'Neill. The original award was given in 1949 by the Exchange Club.

They stipulated that it go not to an academic student, but to a good citizen; a senior outstanding in "leadership, citizenship, service, and dependability." WTHS teachers choose this person.

In addition, the John Phillip Sousa Award will be presented to the year's outstanding band member. Library Service Awards, scholarships, speech and debate awards will be presented while the outstanding athlete will be honored.

OTHER AWARDS

The outstanding senior journalism student will receive an award, first given in 1955 by the Lakeland Tribune. Also the valedictorian award will go to Linda Walter, while Pamela Clark receives the salutatorian award.

Waterlog Day, the annual day set aside for Waterford's yearbook will be next Wednesday. The books will be distributed in homerooms by Waterlog representatives after the Honors Convocation. Final payments are to be made at the time of distribution.

Teachers are asked to allow students at least 20 minutes class time during each hour for the signing of yearbooks.

Senior Class officers for next year were recently elected. Leaders of the future senior class are; Tony Kellogg, president; Carol Petar, vice president; Mary Ott, secretary; and Charles Wilson, treasurer.

By SHIRLEY EVANS

The Oxford High Student Council elections for next year were held this morning.

Nominated were Earl Caron and Rusty Mills, president; Jim McGraw and Roylene Hardgrove, vice president; Janet Terry and Kerry Nixon, secretary; and Janice Ludwig and Chris Parenti, treasurer.

* * *

Representatives for Governor's Day at Oakland University were: Randy Jeans, Mike Schlusler, Rick Fox, Earl Caron, Kathy Howes, Trueman Kelly, and Roylene Hardgrove.

The annual spring band concert under direction of Wendell Honsinger, will be next Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the gymnasium.

Dominican

By PATT GENEREUX

Seniors at Dominican Academy auctioned themselves off on "Senior Slave Day" yesterday.

On slave day, underclassmen return all the "favors" given to them by the seniors during the school year.

Debbie Van Natter and Cathy Samson represented the Academy at the State Forensic Meet in Ann Arbor last Saturday.

Prom Set at Clarkston on Saturday

By CATHY RICHARDSON

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow, blue-birds fly. . ." and couples in formal dress enter a beautifully - decorated "Rainbow Room" as Clarkston's spring prom begins.

Thus will be the scene tomorrow evening at 9 as the juniors present their annual gift to the graduating senior class.

Under the direction of sponsors, Robert Casteel and Lawrence Thibault, the class of '66 has chosen "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" as this year's theme.

In charge of refreshments is Rod Allen, Steve Barnett, publicity; Linda Bennett, fayors; Cindy Mosier, dance decorations and Jeanne Slinkard, tickets.

* * *

Clarkston High recently named cheerleaders for next year.

VARSITY SQUAD

Linda Bennett, Darlene Craven, Marty Tisch, Shawn Blasey, Caroline Giles and Linda McCracken have been chosen for the varsity squad.

Six girls who will make up next year's junior varsity squad are Pam Affolder, Shayla Smith, Kathy Eudis, Chris Woodward, Cherly Mansfield and Salli Radoye. Managers will be chosen soon.

French classes are planning a "happening" Wednesday, at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria No language is used.

* * *

A happening is a simultaneous presentation of several art media. It is currently in vogue in Greenwich Village, Paris, Rome, Ann Arbor, and Clarkston.

Ralph Kenyon and William Mackson's biology classes will take a day-long field trip next week.

TRY AGAIN — Donna Davis of 9509 Pine Knob and her escort, Paul Allen of 6281 Church, discovered they were all dressed up with no place to go when they arrived at the Clarkston High "Rainbow Room" a day early. Pointing to the correct date on the calendar is decoration chairman Cindy Mosier of 7701 Eston. All are from Independence Township. The prom will take place tomorrow at 9 p.m.

Water Show Opens at PNH

By ALICE TURNER

Pontiac Northern's annual water show opened with its first performance last night.

Other performances may be seen tonight and Saturday at 8 p.m.

This year's show, entitled "What's Cooking?" and under the direction of Madeline Thomas, has fourteen entertaining numbers. Forty-two females and seven male swimmers are performing.

The grand finale is comprised of the candle ceremony and the dolphin line. Tickets for the show can be purchased at the door.

Three Pontiac Northern seniors have been awarded scholarships from the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority. They are Marilyn Cadman, Robert Pintamo and David Han.

* * *

Marilyn will attend Kalamazoo College, Robert and David will attend Oakland University.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Northern will hold its annual election of student council officers Monday, May 31. To be eligible, the student must have served at least one semester on the council and have at least a C average.

Members of Northern's vocal music department are busy preparing for the annual spring concert. The concert is scheduled June 2 in the Pontiac Northern auditorium.

The vocal concert will terminate the appearances of Northern's vocal groups for the year.

An assembly was held last Friday in Northern's auditorium featuring exchange students from other high schools near Pontiac.

TELL OF COUNTRY

Each of the students told of his country and the various customs. Students representing the Netherlands, Indonesia, Germany and Africa spoke.

The annual communications banquet will be Tuesday in the school cafeteria.

2 at St. Fred's Top Seniors

By MIKE VOSBURG

The climax of scholastic achievement comes with the announcement of valedictorian and salutatorian at St. Frederick High School.

Valedictorian is Janis Quarles,

J. QUARLES C. LEASE

who has maintained an "A" average throughout high school.

An officer in several clubs, including student council, National Honor Society, and Girls Athletic Association, Janice was captain of the girls' basketball team and on the cheer-leading squad for two years.

She plans to attend Marygrove College in Detroit after graduation, where she will major in education.

* * *

Salutatorian is Candice Lease.

Besides maintaining an "A" average throughout high school, Candice served as an officer of her class in previous years as well as an officer in the National Honor Society and Sodality of Mary, this year.

She plans to attend Pontiac Business Institute next fall.

Olympic Day for Students at Emmanuel

By LINDA WRIGHT

Students of Emmanuel Christian High School had an opportunity to exhibit their athletic abilities today by participating in the annual Olympic Day sponsored by the student body officers.

There were numerous events for the students to enter. Open to both boys and girls were the hundred yard dash, the high jump, and the broad jump.

The boys got a chance at the four-forty yard run, the shot-put and the mile-relay, while for the girls there was a two-twenty yard run and a softball throw.

Each prize, first, second, and third place, was a medallion attached to a ribbon to be worn around the neck. The medallion was inscribed with the event and the place.

The big highlight of the afternoon was a tug-of-war and balloon toss between the students and teachers.

Students Ready Annual Play at West Bloomfield

By SUSAN LaFEHR

West Bloomfield will present its spring production, "Barretts of Wimpole Street," next Thursday.

Kept as an invalid by her tyrannical father, Elizabeth Barrett finds health and happiness through her romance with Robert Browning, London's dashing poet. The struggle with her father comes to a climax when she secretly marries and runs away to Italy with Browning.

Jill Todd and James Strong will play the leads. Gladys Parker, English instructor, directs.

The annual W. B. prom will be held Saturday in the Oakland University Gold Room. The Northville Dance Band will provide entertainment as the seniors and juniors are surrounded by Oriental decorations.

New Wrinkle on H-Weapons

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON — America's hydrogen weapons employ a four-stage fission-fusion-fusion-fission process of energy release, Dr. Ralph Lapp said today.

The nuclear physicist provided this new wrinkle on how hydrogen weapons work after studying a long-overlooked government report which disclosed the key ingredient in the weapons is an ordinarily nonexplosive chemical called lithium deuteride.

Pound for pound, lithium deuteride is at least half as costly as the key alternative ingredients of conventional atomic weapons — uranium 235 or plutonium.

The Atomic Energy Commission some time ago made public the fact that tritium — the heaviest of the hydrogen isotopes — is the substance which produces the explosive thermonuclear reaction of the H-bomb. It's done by a process known as fusion — joining of atoms as distinguished from the fission — splitting — process of the A-bomb.

BOMBARDING

The AEC also indicated that the tritium is produced by bombarding a form of lithium with atomic neutrons, or rays, in special nuclear reactors.

But the new Lapp slat is that most of the tritium is manufactured within the exploding bomb itself, with built-in lithium deuteride as the source.

The first official disclosure that the lithium compound is used inside hydrgen weapons was made by Dr. W. J. Frank of the AEC's weapons laboratory at Livermore, Calif.

He did so in a talk at a symposium on the "Plowshare" program — the venture aimed at using nuclear explosives for peaceful purposes such as canal digging — held at the University of California at Davis more than a year ago.

A NEW METHOD FOR RELIEVING PAINFUL CORNS OR CALLOUSES

A scientific new formula in an easy-to-apply liquid is available to those who suffer with corns, callouses, bunions, tired aching feet or athletes foot. Bunex is a liquid that promises relief from foot troubles or your money back.

For corns, callouses or bunions, a little Bunex is placed on and around the infected area and massaged in well twice daily using fingers. For tired and aching feet, Bunex is applied like a hand lotion and rubbed in well.

For athletes foot, Bunex is applied and massaged into infected area each night for about two weeks. The condition will clear up in a very few days, but keep using wonderful Bunex for two weeks to insure removal of all fungi.

Bunex is absolutely safe to use even for children. Its continued use can prevent return of corns, callouses or Athletes foot.

BUNEX is sold on a money back guarantee at PERRY PHARMACY, Pontiac and Birmingham; THRIFTY DRUG STORE, Pontiac and Drayton Plains; PATTERSON PHCY., Oxford; or your favorite drug store; or send $1.50 to Wilbrin Lab., P.O. Box 143, Lathrup Village, Mich.

Loan to Michigan Tech

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Community Facilities Administration Thursday granted a $640,000 loan to Michigan Tech to help finance a 215-student dormitory.

IN OWN DEFENSE—Timothy Nicholson (right), accused of the murder of his twin brother, Todd, waits with his attorney, Max Fink, outside the courtroom in Pasadena, Calif., before taking the stand yesterday. Tim burst into tears as he testified about the stormy relationship with Todd.

Murder Suspect Weeps

Tells of Stormy Life With Kin

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Timothy Nicholson wept repeatedly as he testified at his murder trial that his twin brother, Todd, flew into uncontrollable rages and twice tried to shoot him.

Timothy took the defense stand Thursday and said: "When Todd gets mad the only thing to do is just to leave Todd alone."

The brothers, 22, coheirs to the Cudahy meat packing and Pullman sleeping car fortunes, quarreled last Dec. 7 at their plush apartment house in suburban Temple City. Todd was fatally shot. Timothy contends it was an accident.

The husky defendant told the jury Todd first tried to shoot him three years ago during an argument over who would drive a car Tim had borrowed from a friend.

The second attempt, said Timothy, was in July 1964 at Todd's Phoenix, Ariz., apartment when Todd learned that Timothy had brought a girlfriend to Todd's rooms.

"Todd flew off the handle," said Timothy. "He got mad and told me to get out."

* * *

Timothy said that he was unable to pacify him, and that Todd went into a bedroom and got a pistol. A previous witness, Rita Musgrave, testified that Todd later confided in her that he had pulled the trigger as Timothy ran, but the gun misfired.

* * *

Timothy testified that his brother often became violently angry for little or no reason. On one occasion, he said, Todd threw all Timothy's clothes into the driveway and told Timothy to get out.

Philippine Language Is Barrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has discovered to its chagrin that no one in its large embassy in Manila is fluent in the official language of the Philippines.

What's more, the department found after a search there isn't one specialist in the language — Tagalog — in the entire U.S. foreign service.

This situation came to light after intelligence reports reached Washington of systematic propaganda Communist China and Indonesia are beaming at the Tagalog-speaking country folk of the Philippines. The Indonesian propaganda is aimed against U.S. bases in the Philippines. Peking follows the usual anti-American line. The radio broadcasts can be heard just outside of Manila every night.

The broadcasts in Tagalog are received on transistorized radios, and obtaining a radio, available for 60 pesos — or $15 — has become a "must" to education-minded Filipinos. Some will even mortgage their annual rice harvest to get one.

TWO LANGUAGES

English and Spanish are the most widely spoken languages in the Philippines and are considered official for conducting business in the Congress. But Tagalog is the official language.

The State Department's Foreign Service Institute reports Tagalog is not being taught at present in Washington. Seven students were studying the language in the six months ending last Dec. 31.

Lewis Gleeck, the U.S. consul general in Manila, has studied Tagalog informally and negotiations are under way between the State Department and the University of California for a better text with which to teach the language.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and hips, I tried DeWitt's Pills—got wonderful relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

People write in every day praising the remarkable relief they get with DeWitt's Pills.

DeWitt's Pills act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and flush out irritating bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. If pain persists, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Insist on the genuine DeWitt's Pills.

Over 114 million DeWitt's Pills are sold by druggists day after day after day, the world over—a tribute to their amazing action!

Traffic Officer Hit on TV, but Not With Chief

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Traffic cop Vic Cianca may have wowed a television audience, but he left his boss unhappy.

Cianca, 45, has a unique way of directing traffic. He twists and weaves, with both arms flying.

A film of his antics appeared on "Candid Camera" last December and viewers voted Cianca the second best performer in the program's history. The producers decided to give him an award.

★ ★ ★

But Police Supt. James W. Slusser said no.

"Patrolman Cianca moves traffic as efficiently as anybody else, maybe even better, but if he wants to be an actor I don't want him performing in a police uniform," Slusser said.

TB Making Comeback as Serious Problem

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Tuberculosis, believed by some authorities to be near eradication a decade ago, affected almost as many persons in the United States last year as did polio in 1952 — a peak year for that disease immediately preceding development of polio vaccine.

Because of government concern, the U.S. Public Health Service has joined with Denver's National Jewish Hospital — a charity-supported institution specializing in respiratory diseases — in establishing a tuberculosis training program.

Preliminary figures for 1964 indicate that nearly 51,000 persons contracted new active cases of tuberculosis. The polio incidence in 1952 was under 58,000. The death rate by tuberculosis in 1962 (the most recent official figures) was just over 9,500.

Dr. Thomas Moulding, coordinator of the project at National Jewish Hospital, said today: "It is now apparent from the experience of the last few years, which shows a leveling-off or a slight rise in the rates of new active cases, that rapid elimination of this disease is not likely."

FEWER CARRIERS

Progress in the 1950s, chiefly in the development of chemotherapeutic outpatient treatment, "almost stopped the flow of new physicians wishing to make careers in the field of TB," Moulding said. Because of these advances, some areas reduced tuberculosis control programs, he said.

Chemotherapy is the intake of antituberculin drugs, usually in pill form. Foremost in a long list of drugs used are streptomycin, an antibiotic, and isoniazid and P.A.S., both chemicals.

★ ★ ★

Failure to follow the pill-taking regimen after leaving a hospital could result in a relapse, Moulding said.

Some patients become symptom-free, which is deceptive, soon after starting medication, Moulding said. He said that a minimum of 18 months treatment, including up to 30 pills a day, is required.

MAJOR PROBLEM

A major problem is education, said Moulding. "There is a marked paucity of written materials, posters or audiovisual aides for patients about the importance of taking medication," he said.

★ ★ ★

About 200 specialists have enrolled for courses covering bacteriological, clinical and public health aspects of tuberculosis.

Science Will Overcome Disease, Aging—Hubert

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today that "someday we will be able to tell the world that science has discovered the secrets of aging, or of cancer, or of muscular dystrophy, or multiple sclerosis."

"That news will outrank in importance even the wonderful tidings that man has landed on the moon," Humphrey said in an address prepared for the 16th annual Albert Lasker medical journalism awards luncheon.

Humphrey said that "great medical journalism is a cornerstone for the good life in the great society.

"It helps make whole man's understanding, and thereby helps make possible man's healing," he added.

AWARD WINNERS

The award winners were:

Newspaper Field — Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer, and Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, director of the heart disease control program, Chicago Board of Health, for their series, "Your Heart Has Nine Lives." The series, which tells what each individual can do in the light of present knowledge to prevent heart disease, was released by the Associated Press in May 1964.

★ ★ ★

Magazine Field — Matt Clark, medicine editor of Newsweek, for his cover story, "Birth Control: The Pill and the Church," published in Newsweek on July 6, 1964. The story reviews the position of the Roman Catholic Church in view of growing population problems and new scientific developments, such as the birth control pill.

Television Field — Fred W. Friendly and Jay McMullen, for the Columbia Broadcasting System "CBS Reports" program, "The Business of Heroin," broadcast on Jan. 22, 1964. The program depicted the problem of heroin addition.

SPECIAL CITATIONS

There were two special citations.

They went to Jack Nelson for his series, "Milledgeville — Reform and Crisis," which appeared in the Atlanta Constitution in April 1964; and to Edgar T. Bell, manager of station KWTV in Oklahoma City Okla., for the program, "The Twilight World."

The series by Nelson, now southeastern bureau chief of the Los Angeles Times in Atlanta, Ga., reviews the care of mentally ill in the State of Georgia and crusades for reforms.

The KWTV program, broadcast on Oct. 14 and 28, 1964, reviews the institutional care given to victims of mental retardation in Oklahoma.

$2,500

The award winners each received $2,500, an engraved citation and a gold statuette of the winged victory of Samothrace, symbolizing victory over death and disease.

Nelson and Bell each received a winged victory statuette and an illuminated citation.

The winners were selected by an advisory committee of newspaper, magazine and television executives and medical scientists. Alice Fordyce, vice president of the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation, was chairman of the committee.

Diocese Adds School Board

Laymen, Clergymen to Regulate Policy

LANSING (AP) — Creation of a board of education in which six laymen and four clergymen will determine policy for 90 Catholic schools in southern Michigan was announced today by the Most Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski, Bishop of the Diocese of Lansing.

The board to govern its elementary and secondary schools is the first in the 15-county Lansing Diocese and one of a few among dioceses in Michigan.

It will be followed by establishment of "subordinate local boards," the bishop said. No details were revealed of the planned local boards.

The Rev. William F. Meyers of Lansing was named superintendent of schools for the diocese, succeeding the Rev. Francis T. Martin of Lansing. The Rev. Meyers formerly was assistant to the Rev. Martin.

William Blackburn of Lansing, an employe of the State Highway Department personnel division, will become assistant superintendent June 7, Bishop Zaleski said.

"New goals, new programs, new organization and, indeed, new problems present themselves which call for the development of diocesan-wide policy governing our 70 elementary and 20 high schools," Bishop Zaleski said.

Teachers' Union Backs PEA in Salary Dispute

The Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT) has given its support to the Pontiac Education Association (PEA), in its fight with the Pontiac Board of Education over proposed salaries.

PFT President Graham Lewis said his organization will be "well represented" when the PEA holds a mass meeting Tuesday at Pontiac Northern High School to protest the board's "inaction" on 1965-66 salary hikes for teachers.

The PFT said it supported the demand for $5,500 in starting salaries for teachers and $100 in fringe benefits asked by the Salary Committee of the PEA.

The school board has not scheduled action on salaries because it cannot act on budget appropriations until the state establishes the equalized tax base of the school district later this month.

School administrators have proposed a salary schedule giving teachers $5,400 annually.

Paperback reprints of books became big business for the first time in 1951 when publishers sold about 231 million copies at an average price of 25 cents each.

World News Roundup

'Arms in Kenya Made in Red China'

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The Kenya government says the 75 tons of arms and ammunition its police seized on the way to Uganda were made by the Chinese Communists.

Uganda's internal affairs minister, Felix Onama, confirmed that the shipment was for Uganda's army. It was the first word that the East African nation was getting military material from the Chinese, although Communist arms have passed through Uganda to the Congolese rebels.

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government has indicated it will seek revision of the Atlantic alliance's structure when the treaty expires in 1969.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville told a National Assembly committee Thursday that France feels the structure must be "reformed" and 1969 seems to be the right time.

Couve de Murville said France considers the working of the alliance is "too heavy and costly" and feels it "tends to dilute" France's own responsibilities for defense. His criticisms apparently were aimed at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's integrated command.

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Syrian authorities have refused to deliver the body of Eliaho Cohen, executed Tuesday as an Israeli spy, to his family in Israel.

A communication through the Syrian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission said Syrian law does not allow exhumation of bodies for removal abroad.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — An estimated 1,300 Indonesian guerrillas have been killed, wounded or captured since the start of Indonesia's armed campaign to crush Malaysia two and a half years ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said casualties on the Malaysian side, including British and other Commonwealth troops, totaled 241.

Indonesia recently claimed that 600 Malaysians had been killed in Borneo alone, and "thousands" wounded.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Japan and South Korea will sign a formal agreement to establish diplomatic relations early next month, South Korean Foreign Minister Lee Tong-won said today.

Lee said differences over the final draft of a fisheries agreement were expected to be settled by the end of the month.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED?... MICHIGAN.

This week—Michigan Week—seems an appropriate time to salute the scholars you see here. In just a few years they will be college graduates... equipped with the formal training so necessary to the progress and success of a dynamic Michigan. All of them were awarded Edison Scholarships last year.

Most of the scholarships are for undergraduate work, with the others awarded to students interested in advanced work in electrical, mechanical or nuclear engineering. One, the Alex Dow Fellowship, is given to a qualified graduate engineering student to help further his studies. Another is the Edison Power Fellowship, awarded to a graduate student for continuing studies in the field of electric power.

Your son or daughter could well be one of the Edison Scholarship winners in the future. Interested students can get full information about these scholarships from their high school counselor or principal. This scholarship program is a reflection of Edison's confidence in the future of Michigan and its youth.

Faithful Family Nurses Vanishing Breed

Jackie Looking for Rare Specimen: an English Nanny

LONDON (AP) — The British nanny Mrs. John F. Kennedy hopes to find for her children is one of a disappearing breed.

"A really good nanny is as rare as a warm, sunny English day," said a titled mother of two young children.

★ ★ ★

Lady X — "If you used my name, I'd never get another nanny and I'm looking again" — has had 200 nurses for her children in the last nine years.

Of the 200, only seven were British. Lady X tried Germans, French, Belgians, Poles, Italians, Spaniards, Austrians, Swiss, Swedes, Danes, Finns and one Russian.

HAD PROBLEMS

Two turned out to be alcoholics. One tried to stab the butler. Another turned the gas heater on in the nursery and didn't light it — "She told me a little gas would make the children sleep better."

None of the 200 was the old-fashioned nanny, Lady X emphasized.

"Other than those still in service and growing old," she said, "I'm convinced only a few exist."

Here for the dedication of the Runnymede Memorial to her husband, Mrs. Kennedy advertised last week for a British or French nanny to replace Maud Shaw. Miss Shaw, an Englishwoman, is retiring after nursing children for more than 40 years. She has been with Mrs. Kennedy for more than seven years, since shortly after Caroline was born.

WHY BRITISH?

Why do Mrs. Kennedy and other mothers in America and Europe want British nannies?

"Because they're so good, reliable and trustworthy," said Lady X. "Of course, some people have them as status symbols. But if you're lucky, the good one stays with you most of her life.

"Mummy's old nanny, the one who brought up my brothers and me, lived with our family until I got married and had my first baby. Then she was persuaded to come with me. But she was getting very old. When my second child arrived, she retired. Now she's back with mummy, like a member of the family, of course."

Joining the family as a young girl, the typical nanny took over the children from birth. As the children grew up, nanny grew into a gentle tyrant whose word was law in the household.

Her position was unique — part of the servant staff — yet above it. A sort of high priestess, she exercised a benevolent despotism over all with whom she came in contact. She ruled and issued edicts from the nursery and the ironing room.

Her workday went around the clock. She was so devoted to the family she gave it all her love and never married. She nursed each succeeding generation until too old, then lived on with some member of the family until death. Hundreds of British homes still have the aged nannies of other years, living out their days with their "families."

★ ★ ★

In more gracious years, the agency for nannies was Mrs. Bouchers, in Pont Street, famous all over Britain and the continent. Even the Russian imperial family engaged its nannies there. Like most of the old-fashioned nannies, Mrs. Bouchers has gone.

In London, a nanny's pay is 6 or 7 pounds ($16.80 to $19.60) a week. The employer also supplies the starched uniforms, nanny's food and her room in the family home.

★ ★ ★

But in these days of short working hours, short weeks and union wages, most young British women choose the office, the factory or a home and family of their own.

Johnson Can't Win for Losing on Government Electric Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes, President Johnson, you can't win for losing.

You go around switching off the lights in the White House and somebody at the Census Bureau gets a new electric computer.

It adds up to this: The federal government's electricity bill is expected to rise a total of some $900,000 in its buildings across the country in the coming year. It was $20,900,000 last year.

It appears to be an embarrassing predicament — with a boss in the White House who's cut his electric light bill by a reported $1,800 a month — from $4,600 to $2,800.

However, the President's example may be responsible for slowing down the increase in government electricity costs.

6,000 BUILDINGS

A check today at the General Services Administration, which pays the utilities bills for some 6,000 federal buildings (out of some 9,100 such buildings) brought this information:

The electricity cost increase is due largely to new air-conditioning equipment being put in existing buildings.

Improvements in light intensity is definitely a factor (work output is supposed to improve with better lighting).

Federal agencies are installing more automatic data processing equipment, and this, too, requires more electrical power.

MORE LIGHTS

Of course, new federal buildings are going up, with more lights, more air-conditioning and more mechanical equipment.

But somebody must be turning off the lights — or something.

The GSA said that in the past three years electricity costs had been rising an average of 6 per cent a year. For this year, the rise is only 4.3 per cent.

A check around town turned up no general directive from the White House, the GSA or the Budget Bureau to "turn off the lights."

However, various officials said the word had got around.

As T. Sutton Jett, director of the Capitol Park Service, which pays the bill for the White House, told a congressional committee recently: "I guess these things go beyond the White House. Elsewhere in the park system we are more inclined to turn them (the lights) off, too."

Anyhow, on government building bulletin boards there are placards with this message from Johnson: "I ask your help in fulfilling the pledge I have made: That the government will get a dollar's value for a dollar spent and that the government will set an example of prudence and economy."

Technique Called Programmed Learning

New Teaching Method Gets Good Results in Novi

By PAT McCARTY

NOVI — A "teaching machine" with no moving parts is being used here to help children who have reading problems.

The visible motion is in the finger of a child turning pages of a colorful book.

A lip is bitten — a head tilted.

And a young face lights up with a grin of accomplishment.

On to the next line . . .

The youngsters are using a relatively new technique called programmed learning.

"This is no different than a teaching machine," claims Mrs. Thomas McDonough, who is introducing the method in the school system.

LIKE A MACHINE

"Like the machine on which you go from question to question, this is a form of individualized instruction," she said.

The board of education decided last October that a special teacher was needed to help youngsters who are troubled by work in particular areas and to encourage those who would like to work beyond their present grade levels.

Mrs. McDonough, principal of Orchard Hills Elementary School, was put in charge of the program on a half-time basis.

★ ★ ★

The area where formalized help was needed immediately was in remedial reading.

MUST READ

"If they can't read, they can't do anything else," Mrs. McDonough said, noting this single skill is the foundation of most learning.

Having recently taken a course in programmed instruction at Wayne State University, Mrs. McDonough turned to this technique to answer the district's needs.

The basis of the method is a segment-by-segment approach to the introduction of new ideas.

Instead of reading a story as one member of a class, then being tested on the whole unit, the child reads through at his own pace.

Each sentence or group of sentences poses a question he must answer.

Thus, he reads: "Ann is fixing dinner. She is mixing a salad with a f-rk. In the red pan, a fish is (flying or frying)."

The pupil is aided by a picture of Ann and her utensils.

He writes down his answers, uncovers the correct ones listed in the book and compares the two.

GETS ANSWER

"By taking this in small segments, he immediately gets the answer. He responds and gets immediate confirmation," Mrs. McDonough said. "He must get 95 per cent right, or he's not in the right grade book."

The books are graded with a set of 16 covering the first six grades.

Mrs. McDonough now is working with 30 fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Orchard Hills and Novi elementary schools and five at the junior high school.

"The most important aspect of this program is that the student builds up confidence in himself as he continually gets the right answers," she said.

Taking the lessons a step at a time by himself, he is not caught in a situation which forces him to keep up with a class or lose out altogether.

Usually the slow readers are those we need to have their confidence built up.

The individualized technique also serves to organize their thinking — the steps fall into a logical pattern.

"In this way, it's therapeutic in nature," Mrs. McDonough said.

PROGRESS CHECK

She noted there was no point in a child's cheating and looking at the answers before arriving at his own. His work is not graded, although he is checked for progress.

"If he doesn't know the answer, he may look at it," she said. "But they like to play the game. When they find they are right, it gives them a feeling of satisfaction. You like to do things when you succeed."

Oral tests are taken periodically as the pupil works his way through a book, the lessons in which are based on phonetics.

Mrs. McDonough works with the youngsters for two one-hour periods a week. She noted that at Orchard Hills she has 15 students on eight different levels — a situation which would be impossible for a teacher in a traditional classroom.

UNGRADED CLASSES

The technique would be extremely adaptable to an ungraded classroom situation, Mrs. McDonough said, although she noted no such plan now is being contemplated.

In the future, she said she hopes to expand the program into other conventional areas like mathematics and into specialized enrichment fields like astronomy, electricity and government.

One sixth grade boy now participating in the program is doing ninth grade level work in electricity, she said.

★ ★ ★

Other area school systems are adapting the program to meet their own needs.

Pontiac Press Photo

AIDS READING STUDENT Mrs. Thomas McDonough, helping teacher in the Novi School System, assists a remedial reading pupil at Orchard Hills Elementary School. Mrs. McDonough, also principal at the school, gives the youngsters periodic oral tests to check on their pronunciation of words learned through the new programmed instruction technique she employs.

Multitude of Attractions

Park to Open Memorial Day Weekend

Swimming, fishing, boating, picnicking, scenic drives, nature trails and a nature center will be the primary attractions at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park when the 3,500-acre recreational site opens Memorial Day weekend.

★ ★ ★

William L. Tait, park superintendent, said swimming will be permitted at Baypoint Beach the swimming site at 500-acre Stony Creek Lake.

There will be swimming from 9 a.m. to dusk on May 29, 30 and 31 and June 5 and 6. Daily operations will begin June 12 and continue through Labor Day, Tait said.

A launching ramp has been set up at the southern end of Stony Creek Lake. Permits for this service are issued without charge at the park office or by personnel assigned to the ramp.

Pike, small-mouth bass, perch, bluegills and crappies inhabit the lake.

Picnicking is now available at the Oakgrove, White Pine and Wintercove picnic areas.

A nature center at the northeast section of the park provides a rustic, wooded environment. This area will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 29-31. Except for holidays, the nature study area is closed Mondays.

★ ★ ★

It should be noted that 26 Mile Road is closed to traffic because of construction at the intersection of 26 Mile and Shelby.

★ ★ ★

This main entrance route will connect with the new Van Dyke Freeway, also under construction. Both projects are expected to be finished later this year.

Johnson Will Miss Holly Fun

HOLLY — Among the news coming from the Holly Centennial Committee this week is the announcement that President Johnson will not attend the June 18-20 event.

Centennial chairman Leslie Klingler today divulged the contents of a letter from Jack Valenti, special assistant to the President.

"The President is very sorry indeed the heavy schedule to which he is committed throughout all of next month precludes his coming to Holly for this important event," Valenti wrote.

"He is most appreciative of your thoughtfulness in inviting him to do so, nevertheless, and sends his warm best wishes for a most memorable celebration."

★ ★ ★

The President also had a word of advice for the folks planning the event:

"As to the possibility of the vice president coming out to Holly, it is suggested that you write him directly about this."

Queen Finalists to Be Selected

Five of 23 Entrants to Vie for Holly Crown

HOLLY — The first of the preview events leading up to Holly's Centennial celebration will be staged Wednesday when five finalists are chosen in the Holly Centennial Queen Contest.

★ ★ ★

The girls will be chosen from 23 entrants in a 7:30 p.m. program at the Holly Theater.

The five candidates chosen as finalists will appear in neighboring communities to publicize the anniversary weekend, June 18-20.

During the celebration, one of the five will be picked as Centennial Queen and the other four will serve as her court.

★ ★ ★

Judges for the event will be Flint disc jockeys Bob Dell and Jackson Ross; Zigmund Cybulski, past state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Larry and Kay McCarty, who operate a ballet school in Flint.

MASTER OF CEREMONIES

Master of ceremonies for the contest will be John Fuchs, a University of Michigan junior who has worked as a disc jockey and is program director of the university's Campus Broadcasting Network.

Music will be supplied by Mrs. Donald Beach at the organ.

Centennial plans furthered this week include those for the June 20 parade, in which 13 merchants and local groups thus far have committed themselves for floats.

★ ★ ★

The Cordials, an area dance band directed by Don Wilson of Holly, has been secured to supply the music for the costume ball to be held June 19 at the VFW Hall.

★ ★ ★

Souvenir wooden nickels and half dollars will be available at local banks this weekend. They will be used as change throughout the Centennial weekend.

AREA NEWS

Open House Will Honor Two Educators

An open house from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday will honor retiring Assistant School Superintendent Arnold Ojala and retired principal Eva Yarger, both of the Avondale School System.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Board of Education, the open house will be held at Avondale Junior High School.

Ojala has been with the district for 26 years and will retire in June. Mrs. Yarger, who retired last June as principal of Auburn Heights Elementary served 28 years in the system.

Superintendent George Shackelford said, "We hope many former students, colleagues and friends of Mr. Ojala and Mrs. Yarger will attend the open house and help us show our appreciation to these two fine educators who have given many years of service to Avondale and Auburn Heights."

Troy Improvement Unit to Hold First Meeting

TROY — The Northeast Improvement Association of Troy will hold its first general meeting at Troy Union School, Square Lake between Rochester and John R, at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow.

The boundaries of the association are a square mile bounded by Dequindre, South Boulevard, Square Lake and property facing both sides of John R. between South Boulevard and Square Lake. Property owners in this area are asked to attend the meeting.

Music Departments Will Present Concert

AVONDALE — The vocal and instrumental music departments of Avondale High School will present their Musical Finale Concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school gymnasium.

★ ★ ★

Under the direction of Miss Mary Budd, the 90-voice choir will sing four sacred numbers and a medley of Negro spirituals. Soloists will be Virginia Catterfeld and Kenneth Hebel.

A new group of folk singers called "The Strollers" will be introduced at the concert. Members of the group are Gary Sipperly, Jim Dutton, Virginia Catterfeld, Marilyn Lane, Lorrie Stover, Kay Granger, Anita McLaughlin, Dale Crittendon, Reyes Coronado, Bill Moden, Donna Patrick, Kathleen Clancy, Phyllis Grisham and Cindy Everett.

The high school concert band, directed by Larry Detter, will play several selections including an elegiac tribute, "Threnody" to the late President Kennedy.

As a finale, the choir and band will combine for their interpretation of "Climb Ev'ry Mountain" from Rodger's and Hammerstein's "Sound of Music."

Council OKs $500 for Rec Program

KEEGO HARBOR—Plans for a six-week summer recreation program in the city were boosted this week by a $500 contribution from the City Council.

The program, to be held July 12 through Aug. 20 at Roosevelt Elementary School, will be headed by a paid director and his assistant.

Funds given to the Child Protection and Youth Assistance Committee for the program now total $700.

Activities this summer will include outside games, field trips, arts and crafts.

Walled Lake Concert Set

Walled Lake High School's annual spring concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Groups to perform in the gymnasium are the concert band, orchestra, choir, the 175-voice girls' chorus and the 100-voice male chorus.

The concert finale, to be performed by the combined groups, will be "The Heavens are Telling" from Haydn's "Creation."

There will be no admission charge for the public concert.

Clarkston Area JCs Elect New Officers

CLARKSTON — Robert Nelin has been elected President of the 76-member Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce for a one-year term beginning July 1.

★ ★ ★

Other newly - elected officers of the organization are Ralph Chambers, internal vice president; Robert Brumback, external vice president; Charles Curry, ways and means vice president; Gordon Spelbring, secretary; and Donald Auten, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Elected to the board of directors are Kenneth Barks, Donald Bostwick and Harry Fahrner. Lewis Wint also will serve on the board as the retiring president.

Davisburg Clubs Join in Sponsoring Supper

DAVISBURG — A pancake supper will be served at the Masonic Temple on Andersonville Road from 5 to 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The supper is cosponsored by Masons of Austin Lodge No. 18 and Austin Chapter No. 396 of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Family Fun Night Planned to Raise 4-H Trip Funds

A family fun night to raise funds for the Missouri 4-H exchange trip will be held by the Missouri delegation at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Oakland County 4-H Fairgrounds, M24 and Walton.

Entertainment will include dancing, cards and booths.

Try Again to Find Lost City of Incas

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A search for a lost Inca City, caches of gold hidden four centuries ago from the marauding Spanish conquerors, fame to the finders.

It sounds exciting. Pith Helmets, native porters, nights in the jungles.

That's the alluring side. The other is sobering.

Back-breaking days hacking tangled jungle brush with a machete, scorching sun and chilling rain, poisonous snakes and man-killing jaguars, frustration and disappointment.

Explorer Gene Savoy say it's worth the trouble. The 38-year-old American is organizing his third expedition to the remote "Plain of the Spirits" in south east Peru, once the heart of the great Inca empire.

HUNT FOR RUINS

Savoy came to Peru six years ago to hunt for ruins of lost civilizations after exploring in Alaska, Canada, the United States and Mexico. His home is in Portland, Ore.

He is credited with discovering three pre-Inca cities and a centuries-old, 100-foot-wide stone highway in northern Peru.

Now he wants to establish beyond doubt that extensive ruins he came across at the foot of the Maracocha and Piscacocha Mountains in south-east Peru are those of Vilcabamba, the last refuge of the Incas.

If the ruins are those of the legendary city of Vilcabamba they will provide a missing link to the history of the mysterious Inca civilization, Savoy says.

Thousands of Inca warriors led by Emperor Manco II escaped from Cuzco, the capital of the Incas, after the Spaniards conquered their empire in the 16th century. It is believed the fleeing Incas carried great treasures of gold with them. Any treasure found, legally belongs to Peru.

* * *

From Vilcabamba, the Incas fought sporadic war on the Spaniards, and the city was so well hidden it defied discovery through the centuries.

* * *

U.S. archeologist Hiram Bingham at first thought he had found Vilcabamba when he discovered the spectacular ruins of Machu Picchu in 1911. But Machu Picchu, high in the Andes, did not fit the description of Vilcabamba, described in chronicles and church records as a jungle capital much farther from Cuzco. Today Machu Picchu is one of South America's biggest tourist attractions.

DOZENS OF RELICS

Savoy, who came back with dozens of relics, photographs and sketches, says he is almost certain he has found the lost city, but acknowledges:

* * *

"I sometimes have my doubts, although I have seen the ruins with my own eyes. I find it hard to believe, myself."

He reported finding granite temples, palatial residences, gardens and fountains on three adjoining plateaus covering a wide area.

* * *

Some archeologists here have their doubts, too, that Savoy has found Vilcabamba. They claim the ruins Savoy explored were discovered years ago, and there is not enough evidence available yet to prove they are those of the last Inca capital.

* * *

The U.S. explorer believes there are at least two other lost metropolitan Inca cities in the same general area and his third expedition will "make a deeper penetration, following the old Inca roads we've found, and at the same time look for the other cities."

* * *

According to present plans he will be accompanied by Sharon Douglas, a Canadian explorer; Gary Vescelius, a Cornell University archeologist; Manuel Chavez Balloon, a Peruvian archeolgist, porters and helpers, and guides.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Cold and warm air.

NEEDED: A balloon and a refrigerator.

DO THIS: Blow up the balloon, tie it tightly so that there is no leak, and measure around it. Keep the balloon in the refrigerator half an hour, then measure it again. It will have shrunk in size.

HERE'S WHY: As the air in the balloon is cooled, it contracts, exerts less pressure on the tight rubber of the balloon and the balloon shrinks. When the author tried it, the balloon shrunk from 24 inches to 21 inches in circumference.

* * *

A slightly more technical explanation is: As the air cools, its molecules move more slowly, beat against the stretched rubber with less force, and therefore the rubber is not distended as much.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form and sold in better bookstores. It is called Science Circus.

Urged to Serve Community

One of society's greatest needs is the enlargement of the woman's role, not the substitute of the male role for the female role.

Samuel Pratt, dean of the Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University told this to about 100 women at the third in a series of conferences at Oakland University Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Speaking on the program topic "Women's Alternatives in Volunteer Work," Dean Pratt said that women are needed in both paid employment and in volunteer work, but that he hopes the trend will be toward volunteer work.

UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY

"Women have a unique opportunity, through voluntary action, to stimulate change," he said.

"And on the personal side, they have the satisfaction of repaying obligations, a sense of well being from having enriched their nation, some form of personal development and sometimes personal gain in the form of preparation for paid employment."

He pointed out that with the advent of more and more leisure time, volunteer work will help fill the otherwise coming void.

"We can't be just one large jet set," he said.

NOT ALL ORGANIZED

There are two types of volunteer work according to Dean Pratt, organized and individual activity, "and we need the second type the most."

"Each individual has an obligation to make a contribution to life in his community," he said. "There should be one act that only one person can perform, even if it's helping just one truly underprivileged child."

★ ★ ★

He said that with the tendency for women to assume the male role, they are not responding fully to their "six-sided role" which he defined as cultural, moral, citizenship, career, social and recreational, and family.

TWO FACES

The two sides of the volunteer picture were presented by two panels, one depicting the role of the volunteer, and the other the role of the voluntary organization.

★ ★ ★

Pointing out the advantages and disadvantages of volunteer work were Mrs. Noel Buckner, Mrs. Sidney W. Smith, Jr., Mrs. John W. Hickling and Mrs. Frederic G. Garrison.

Moderator was Mrs. W. Edwin Mosher Jr., of the Friends of Oakland University Library.

From the point of view of the voluntary organization,

Wire From Governor

A "surprise" telegram from Gov. Romney to Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, director of the conferences, was read at the end of the program. He said:

"As the suburbs have spread far beyond the city limits and as health, educational and welfare institutions have professionalized their services, it has become harder and harder for women of good will to find sick, or old or the poor who need their help.

★ ★ ★

"Although they wish to act as good samaritans, fulfilling the same ideal of good neighborliness of our country's small towns, they find it hard to reach those who really need their help.

"It is our hope that the various projects under the Poverty Bill will provide a channel through which the volunteer may find those who need them.

★ ★ ★

"I hope that women who have loved and educated their own children will seek out the nursery centers to Project Head Start, the school services, home management, job training, and use the guidance areas of the national service.

"The great cities need all of its talent and those of its women particularly in helping its disadvantaged.".

Hospital Rules Differ

It's a Biting Situation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When my sister went to the hospital to have her baby, she couldn't locate her husband, so I went with her.

ABBY

She had had all her teeth pulled and has dentures. When they were preparing her for the delivery room, the nurse asked my sister to take her dentures out.

She said she wouldn't do it because she didn't want her husband to see her without dentures. The nurse said they would have to come out, but my sister said the nurse would have to fight her for them.

Then the nurse said she didn't take nurses' training to fight the patients. My sister said she wasn't going to have her baby there and she started to leave.

Then things started to happen real fast, and she had her baby there — with her dentures in. All during her stay at the hospital those nurses were so mean to her they hardly spoke to her.

Is there a rule about dentures in a hospital? Or did they just make that up?

CELIA

DEAR CELIA: Each hospital has its own rules and there is a good chance that this was the hospital rule.

You could find out definitely from your sister's doctor. (Not all "rules" are consistently enforced . . . but this one apparently had teeth in it.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My gentleman friend separated from his wife so I let him move into my home as I have a spare bedroom. We hope to marry as soon as his divorce becomes final.

When delivery men come to my door with dry cleaning or groceries, they call him "MR. . . ." (my name). He says this is very embarrassing and he thinks he ought to have HIS name on my mailbox.

We have had several quarrels about this. I don't think it is proper for him to have his name on my mailbox where everyone can see it. I would like your advice.

KAY

DEAR KAY: For a woman who is living out of wedlock with a man, your true concern for "propriety" is debatable.

At this point his name does not belong on your mailbox, and the two of you don't belong under the same roof.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago I clipped an item out of a magazine, and now I can't find it. I am sure you wrote it. It was your impression of Milwaukee.

You started out by saying it operated on beer power. I need it for a speech, Abby, and if you can help me out I will give ten dollars to your favorite charity.

R. A. U. IN MILWAUKEE

★ ★ ★

DEAR R. A. U.: I've found it, and here it is: "Milwaukee impressed me as a robust city, operating on beer power, still tingling with the success of the Braves, and defying modern architecture with a German accent."

You can send your check for ten dollars to the local Society for Crippled Children and Adults right there in Milwaukee.

Gardeners See Slides on Europe

Thirty members of the Better Home and Garden Club gathered for the annual May breakfast, Thursday, in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler showed slides of 'Flowers Around the World' taken on her many trips abroad. Included were views of Monaco, also the Longensburg Castle in Germany, where Queen Elizabeth will be visiting this month.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Louis B. Livingston was chairman for the affair which featured the iris as the exhibit flower for May. Mrs. William Sovey assisted as co-chairman.

The club is sending rose bushes and geraniums to the Pontiac State Hospital for the horticultural therapy program.

NEW MEMBERS

New members Mrs. H. V. Harcourt and Mrs. Richard Betzing, were welcomed.

Guests included Mesdames Philip Wargelin, John Trumble, Kenneth Frost, Kimble Keller, Harold Hughes, Donald Barker and Edward Mann. Others were Mrs. Raymond Combs, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Fred Simpson and Janis Hecox.

Polish Art Is Ready to View

An exhibit of Polish handwoven rugs and old world etchings will open Sunday at Rooks Galleries and continue through June 23.

★ ★ ★

Various Polish artists designed the rugs, but the etchings were done by Stephan Mrozewski.

★ ★ ★

New hours for the galleries which are closed on Mondays are Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.

Footlights Beckon Two

Michael Nesbitt (left) and Stephen Saunders, both of Birmingham, are taking leading roles in the St. Dunstan's performance of "Damn Yankees" on June 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, and 12 in the Greek Theater on Lone Pine Road. Nesbitt is playing the part of the devil (in real life, he's assistant minister at Christ Church Cranbrook) and Saunders will star as "Shoeless Joe." Tickets are available at Grinnell's in Birmingham.

Give Time to Helping

Mrs. Frank Wylie, past president of the Junior League of Detroit, pointed out that the organization must constantly evaluate its philosophy and goals and provide a constant program of information for the volunteers.

She said it must challenge the volunteer and "give the volunteer a chance to make her own mistakes."

★ ★ ★

"On the other hand," she said, "The volunteer must bear in mind not only her own needs, but also the needs of the organization and community.

"She must analyze what she thinks of life in the community and what service she can give."

THEY KNOW

The social workers' point of view was presented by Theodore Panaretos, of Pontiac State Hospital; Donald Bachman of the Oakland County Social Welfare; and Hazel Braxton of Detroit.

Panel moderator was Mrs. H. Samuel Greenwalt Jr.

The great need for volunteers in all aspects of community life was explained by Mrs. Aileen Selick, Mrs. Mae Derdarian and Mrs. Louise Brown, all of Detroit.

Mrs. Addison Oakley of the Oakland University scholarship committee was moderator.

★ ★ ★

Winding up the day-long program, James Brown, educational consultant for the Mott Foundation, said, "We are living in a troubled, turbulent world and the next decade is going to see which way the heart and soul of mankind will move.

"We all have to light a candle of service to our fellow man, to our country and to God."

Affluent Nation

By the end of '64, the total personal income of Americans passed an historic milestone: a half-trillion dollars a year, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Fatigue is such a drag on happiness that we should check ourselves if we find that this state is becoming chronic or occurs too frequently. We are all sure to be tired on some days, but a short rest, a relaxing bath or a good night's sleep should restock our store of energy. If this isn't true, then we should try to find out why not.

Naturally a physical examination should be first on the agenda. However, often the trouble actually lies in our habits of life. Check yourself against these possibilities.

★ ★ ★

Are you a worrier? Nothing can make you feel so drained as a good session of this. Some people live in a state of worry or fear, and worry even when there is nothing to worry about. This is a tremendous source of fatigue.

Indecision is a famous thief of energy. If you have decisions to make, face up to them, make the best decision you can and then don't look back, don't waver.

Do you habitually short-change yourself on sleep?

FEET IMPORTANT

What about your feet? Do you wear comfortable shoes which give you enough toe room and support during daytime working hours? High heels throw the body off balance and place strains on muscles and ligaments.

Don't wear them when you are going to be on your feet for long periods of time. Tired feet can make you feel weary all over.

★ ★ ★

Eye strain can make you weary, too. Many people have discovered that their fatigue disappeared when they were properly fitted with eye glasses.

Monotony and boredom lead to fatigue. Add new interests and activities. Change your daily routine. Whip some freshness into it.

State Officer to Talk

Mrs. Taylor Seeber, state chairman of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) legislative committee will be guest speaker at the Union Lake branch meeting on May 27.

Setting for the cooperative dinner meeting will be the Orchard Lake home of Mrs. Frank J. Dickie.

Mrs. Don Donigan, president of the branch, and Mrs. Harry Reed, president-elect who attended the recent state convention in Grand Rapids will make reports.

Every two years, the AAUW announces the four topics which will serve as a focus of its program for the next two years.

The four topics for 1965-67 are "The Law and the Citizen," "Revolution in Modern China," "Education: An Antidote to Poverty," and "Science: A Creative Discipline."

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

There are many versions of Beef Stroganoff, most of them excellent. We're giving you another one today. Mrs. Charles Hooker of Troy is today's cook

BEEF STROGANOFF
By Mrs Charles Hooker

2 pounds top round steak
2 medium onions, diced
¼ pound butter or margarine
1 pound fresh mushrooms
Salt and pepper
1½ teaspoons dill seed
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
⅛ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cans condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 pint sour cream

Cut meat into ½-inch strips. Brown with onions in butter or margarine. Reduce heat, cover and simmer for two hours.

Cut mushrooms into pieces and saute in additional butter or margarine. Mushrooms must be perfectly dry before they are added to the fat.

Add to meat with salt and pepper. Add other seasonings.

Add soup and sour cream. Turn into a casserole and heat 20-25 minutes in 300-degree oven. Makes 6-8 servings.

Duchess of Windsor Pattern

#51

It's no fun being the life of the party, but a little well-deserved attention is always nice and almost always guaranteed by the Duchess of Windsor's latest after-five suggestion.

Call it midnight magic or just plain good design, the look is understated but never undistinguished. The Duchess refines the fit with contour details.

The dart at the bust joins the back seam thereby minimizing nonessential lines. The rounded armhole is formed by the smooth loop of the no-seam strap.

★ ★ ★

With a lean line and a clean sweeping back, the Duchess brings out all the best in you. Make it floor length in silks or short length in brocade, next fall in velvet.

★ ★ ★

Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear sizes produce a better fit. See chart for size best for you.

Project Head Start—3

Program Tries to Help Handicapped Poor Children

(Editor's Note — Children whose minds and health have been stunted by poverty. These are the ones Project Head Start seeks to help. In the last of three dispatches UPI reporter Louis Cassels interviews a noted pediatrician on the goals and hopes of the program.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A teen-age girl volunteer recently reported in near-despair to the teacher in charge of a preschool class for children of poverty.

"You told me to teach them a song," she said. "So I tried a real simple one. 'Row, row, row your boat.' But none of them knows what it means to row. And they've never seen a boat."

There will be many scenes like that this summer in the 10,000 child development centers which are being established throughout the country under "Project Head Start."

Enrolled in the centers will be more than half a million children from the poorest homes in America.

* * *

The purpose of Project Head Start is to expose them to a few of the experiences which middle-class children take for granted — such as washing their hands, eating with utensils, listening to an adult read a story, or staring at a bowl of guppies — so they won't be totally bewildered when they start to school next fall.

RESPECTED DOCTOR

The director of Project Head Start is Dr. Julius B. Richmond, 48, dean of the medical faculty at the State University Upstate Medical Center, Syracuse, N.Y., vice president of the Child Welfare League of America, and one of the nation's most respected pediatricians.

Years of research in child development have convinced Dr. Richmond that "poverty has its impact on the growing child from the time of conception."

"The preschool years are critical," he told UPI in an interview. "If we're going to rescue children from the cycle of poverty, we've got to reach them before they start to school."

* * *

He said some parents manage, in spite of being poor, to send their children to school with clean clothes and high hopes. And some children are so bright they triumph over all handicaps to do well in school.

But these are exceptions. In most cases, the children of poverty reach school age with so many disadvantages they are virtually foredoomed to failure.

One of their disadvantages is "a very limited vocabulary," said Dr. Richmond. Because their parents lack verbal skills, and because adults have rarely bothered to converse with them, many poor children come into first grade knowing fewer than 100 english words. How can a child be expected to learn to read before he has even learned to talk?

"But it's not merely the words that they lack," said the quiet - spoken, slightly - built pediatrician. "They also have pathetically stunted powers of fantasy and imagination. They tend to think only in concrete terms of here and now. They have never been introduced to all of the ideas of color, form, size, texture, etc., out of which children develop more complex concepts."

* * *

They also have physical handicaps. Many have never had a medical examination, or an eye test, or a visit to the dentist, or an inoculation against disease.

Finally, they have psychological handicaps. "They may see people outside the family as strange and threatening," said Dr. Richmond. "Often, by the time they reach school, they have experienced so much failure and frustration that they have little confidence in themselves.

"They have grown up in an atmosphere of apathy and despair, and they have little motivation for learning. No one has ever taught them that learning can be fun, or that it can lead to something."

At Head Start centers, children will be given complete medical examinations, including tests for TB, anemia and kidney disease. They'll get a full set of immunizing shots . . . dental treatment . . . eyeglasses and hearing aids if they need them.

* * *

Under the guidance of expert teachers, they will learn to wash their hands, to sit at desks, to color with crayons, to recognize pictures, shapes, colors and letters.

FIELD TRIPS

They'll be taken on field trips to farms, zoos, museums and parks. Understanding adults will talk to them, sing with them, teach them to play games.

Dr. Richmond is under no illusion that Head Start centers can overcome all of a poor child's handicaps in just eight weeks.

This summer's operation is a a sense a gigantic demonstration project, to show the nation what can be accomplished by investing a little tender loving care in poor children before they become dropouts, delinquents and welfare cases.

* * *

If the demonstration is successful, Congress may put up the money to maintain child development centers year round.

VERY WORTHWHILE

But even if Project Head Start never leads to a more extensive preschool program . . . even if it does nothing more than provide eight magic weeks for 500,000 children in the summer of 1965 — Dr. Richmond feels that it will be very worthwhile.

* * *

"We cannot overcome all of their deficiencies," he said, shaking his head. "But we can make a start. We can do enough to make school a little less frightening for them, and give them at least a fighting chance to succeed."

Early Scrap Deal Can Be Expensive

LONDON (AP)—During debate in Parliament on proposed revisions of a law regulating scrap metal dealers, Lord Mancroft revealed that the law as it now stands provides:

* * *

It is a criminal offense in Britain to sell a secondhand anchor to anyone under 16 years of age before 8 o'clock in the morning.

The penalty is a fine of 20 pounds ($56).

What's more, if such a sale is made from premises over which the dealer's name is not written in letters six inches long, the penalty is an additional 10 pounds ($28).

Emphysema is a lung disease that is a major cause of disability and death among men in middle and old age.

Pitchers Aid Indians' Punch

By The Associated Press

Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts, whose strong suit with the Indians this season was supposed to be hitting, has suddenly found some pitching to go with his punch.

Tebbetts' staff has permitted just five runs in the last four games, the latest a 5-2 victory over Baltimore Thursday night that completed a three-game sweep of the Orioles.

Sonny Siebert, whose 4-2 record and 2.43 earned run average is second best on the Indian staff, stifled the Orioles on six hits going into the ninth. When Baltimore threatened, Gary Bell came on to strike out rookie flash Curt Blefary with two on, ending it.

Fred Whitfield's two-run homer capped a four-run Cleveland second inning against Baltimore starter Dave McNally. After that, Siebert took over.

Elsewhere in the American League, Mel Stottlemyre celebrated the birth of his second son by beating the Boston Red Sox 6-3 for New York.

Ralph Terry, scheduled to open the series against Boston tonight, is Cleveland's leading pitcher with a 4-1 mark and a 2.42 ERA. Bell with a 1-1 record and 2.57 ERA for 12 relief roles, is the top man in the bullpen.

The Indians' off-season trading activity was aimed at getting some hitting to supplement Leon Wagner. They acquired Rocky Colavito and Chuck Hinton and seemed set in the power department. Terry, however, was the only new pitcher on the club.

★ ★ ★

Sophomore Luis Tiant started Cleveland's latest surge with a 7-3 victory over Washington Sunday. Jack Kralick and Don McMahon blanked Baltimore 1-0 on Tuesday and Sam McDowell shut out the Orioles 2-0 on Wednesday.

Stottlemyre got the news of his son's birth early Thursday and then went out and beat the Red Sox with ninth inning help from Pedro Ramos.

★ ★ ★

Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh tagged two-run homers with Pepitone's shot in the third inning climaxing a four-run burst against Red Sox starter Bill Monbouquette.

Ramos came on with two on and one out in the ninth and got out of the jam with a double play. It was his fourth save and only the sixth for the Yankee staff this year.

CUT DOWN — Tiger outfielder Jim Northrup is nipped at the plate by Washington Senator catcher Doug Camilli as he tried to score on a grounder in the first inning of their game at Tiger Stadium yesterday. Northrup tripled but tried to score on George Thomas' grounder. The Tigers won the game; 9-8.

2-Run Homer Gives Bengals 9-8 Triumph

Rival Pitcher Watched Closely by Shortstop Before Big Pitch

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers are thankful that shortstop Dick McAuliffe has been studying opposing pitchers.

★ ★ ★

He opened his "book" on Washington Southpaw Marshall Bridges yesterday in the 10th inning at Tiger Stadium and read the Senators into a 9-8 defeat with a two-run homer.

★ ★ ★

McAuliffe, who boosted his batting average to .317, said he was looking for a high pitch when he stepped in against loser Bridges.

"When he pitched to me Wednesday night, he threw a couple of wide ones, trying to make me go after them," McAuliffe said.

"But when he fell behind, he came in with a high pitch. When his first pitch was a ball today, I figured he'd have to come in and it was right there — high and fast."

McAuliffe added he was looking for the home run because he felt Bridges, who entered the game in the tenth inning, might have been a little tight.

FIRST VICTORY

Jack Hamilton, the fifth Detroit pitcher in the wild, free-swinging contest, was credited with the victory. He faced one batter, Woodie Held, and got him to fly to center.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first inning, featuring a leadoff homer by Jake Wood and a two-run triple by Jim Northrup. But Detroit twice battled back to win.

★ ★ ★

Woodie Held, Ed Brinkman, Don Zimmer, Frank Howard and Don Lock each hit a homer for Washington. Howard's solo shot off Larry Sherry triggered a two-run rally in the Washington ninth.

Lock's pinch-homer put the Senators ahead again in the top of the tenth.

Zimmer's homer in the seventh finally chased Detroit starter Mickey Lolich who averted an earlier departure when the Tigers pulled three double plays in the first five innings.

Northrup walked to open the Detroit tenth and was forced at second by George Thomas, setting the stage for McAuliffe's winning blow.

★ ★ ★

Tiger injuries and the use of Gates Brown as a pinch-runner forced Swift to play Ray Oyler at first base in the final inning.

Redskins Need Two Victories

Rochester, Kettering Win; PCH Loses

Two more victories and Milford will hang up the Wayne-Oakland League baseball championship.

The Redskins ran their league record to 9-3 yesterday with a 6-5 victory over Holly.

Bart Montante collected a double and single and Jim Ward picked up two hits to pace the Milford batting attack. The Redskins can win the title by beating Brighton Saturday and Clarkston in the finale Monday.

In other W-O action, Northville (9-4) stayed a half game off the pace with a 9-4 verdict over West Bloomfield; Clarenceville blanked Bloomfield Hills, 5-0; and Brighton posted a 2-1 decision over Clarkston in 10 innings.

★ ★ ★

Saginaw Arthur Hill scored five times in the top of the seventh inning to break up a close game and down Pontiac Central, 9-3.

ROCHESTER WINS

In an Oakland A game, Rochester ran its league record to 7-3 with a 4-3 victory over Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, Kettering dumped Oxford, 10-3, and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows scored twice in the last of the seventh to down Orchard Lake St. Mary, 10-9, and Royal Oak Kimball posted a 10-9 verdict over Berkley.

Clarenceville's Dan Freels gave up only three hits and went four-for-four at the plate in taming Bloomfield Hills. The winners were aided by three Hills errors in the first two innings.

Rochester scored the winning run in the last of the seventh when Tom Nance scampered home on a sacrifice fly off the bat of pitcher Jim Burton.

Jim Firek cracked a two-out triple in the last inning to chase home the winning runs for Farmington OLS.

John Stepien picked up a double and a pair of singles to pace the OL St. Mary attack.

Hawks' Bobby Hull Given MVP Honor

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks has been named the most valuable player in the National Hockey League for the 1964-65 season.

The dynamic left wing, who scored 39 goals last season was picked by sports writers and sportscasters in the six NHL cities and won the Hart Trophy, emblematic of the honor, by a slim seven points over Detroit's Norm Ullman.

★ ★ ★

Hull led Ullman by 66 points in mid-season balloting and retained his lead although the Detroit star paced second half voting by a wide margin. Hull polled 88 points in the first half and finished with 103. Ullman had 22 at midseason but polled 74 of a possible 90 points in the second half and finished with 96.

Hull, who finished fourth in the regular season scoring race with 71 points, scored 32 of his 39 goals in the first half of the season but was slowed by knee injuries for the final two months. Ullman scored 43 goals and finished second to Chicago's Stan Mikita in the point scoring race.

MATCHING FUNDS

The award was worth $1,250 to Hull, who pocketed the same amount for winning the Lady Byng Trophy as the NHL player best combining effectiveness on the ice with gentlemanly conduct. He received $1,000 for winning the Trophy and an additional $250 for leading first half voting.

Ullman receives $250 for leading second half voting. Detroit's Gordie Howe finished third in the balloting with 35 points.

Wings Expect Added Trades

DETROIT (AP) — Manager-Coach Sid Abel of the Detroit Red Wings said the trade which sent veteran defenseman Marcel Pronovost to the Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday may be the first of several deals.

"I want to make some more trades and I've been talking to every club in the National Hockey League with the exception of Montreal," Abel said.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Pronovost, left-winger Larry Jeffrey, center Eddie Joyal and minor leaguers Aut Erickson and Lowell MacDonald went to the Leafs.

Detroit picked up Andy Bathgate, a 12-year veteran who plays all three forward positions, center Billy Harris and minor league leftwinger Gary Jarrett.

★ ★ ★

"I'm interested in defensemen, left wingers and a goalie with NHL experience," Abel said.

He reportedly has had several telephone conversations with Hap Emms, general manager of the Boston Bruins.

2 Tied in 1st Round

Rookie Pro Is Close to Lead

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mason Rudolph and Bob McCallister, the first round leaders in the $60,000 Memphis Open, are two experienced men on a golf course but a lad who has been a pro less than a month had them shaking in their shoes today.

That rookie's name is Homero Blancas and he is the odds-on choice to be golfing's Rookie of the Year after just four tournaments.

Blancas, a 27-year-old University of Houston graduate, trailed Rudolph and McCallister by one stroke going into today's second round. Rudolph and McCallister both shot 65s in the first round Thursday, while Blancas and two others finished with 66s.

In his debut as a pro, Blancas picked up $2,425 for a seventh place finish in the Houston Classic. He then tied for 16th in the Texas Open and won $875. Last week at New Orleans, he was among the leaders all the way and finished in a tie for seventh for $3,200 in prize money.

Rudolph birdied three of the last four holes Thursday to finish with a 65.

Parnelli Jones Okay After '500' Crackup

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Drivers and owners of cars not yet qualified for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 31 roll the racers out today for the final practice session before the last weekend of qualifications.

There was no more practice scheduled for Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., winner of the 1963 race, who injured himself slightly and smashed his No. 98 Hurst Lotus-Ford Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Physicians said X rays showed Jones had no fractures, but they planned to look him over again today.

Qualification was no concern for Jones and owner J. C. Agajanian of Gardena, Calif. Jones qualified the car last Saturday at 158.625 miles an hour, putting it in the middle of the second three-car row for the race.

Agajanian said his crew would have the car ready to run by race day. He said the accident was caused by failure of some part in the rear suspension.

LAST COUNTDOWN

The countdown was approaching zero for the two score entrants which have not qualified for the race.

Only the 33 fastest cars in two weekends of time trials will start the race. Twenty-one cars made their qualification runs last weekend, and the rest have only Saturday and Sunday to try to make the line-up.

Veteran Loses to Braves

Spahn Haunted, 7-1

By United Press International

Wade Blasingame swallowed the book and Warren Spahn strangled on it.

In one of those ironic twists of the baseball fates, young Blasingame studied under old master Spahn when the pair were roommates with the Milwaukee Braves last season and then demonstrated how well he had learned his lessons in a game the old man wanted for himself.

★ ★ ★

The ironic drama reached its climax Thursday night when Spahn returned to Milwaukee as a member of the New York Mets only to have Blasingame steal his thunder with a spectacular one-hitter that produced a 7-1 victory for the Braves.

A crowd of 17,433, largest in the National League ghost city since opening day, turned out to see Spahn's homecoming — and it wasn't a bad one at that as the 44-year-old lefthanded wizard shut out the Braves for four innings.

BLASINGAME BETTER

But Blasingame, changing speeds and pitching to spots as Spahn taught him to do a year ago, was even better.

He carried a no-hitter for 6⅔ innings before Ron Swoboda singled and he wound up yielding just that one hit, striking out eight and walking two.

Spahn, who spotted the young strongarmer 23 years, had the roof fall in on him in the fifth when a grand slam homer by Ed Mathews — another old pal —and a pair of doubles by Rico Carty produced the seven Braves runs.

A double by Gene Oliver and singles by Frank Bolling, Sandy Alomar and Hank Aaron also contributed to the Braves' attack.

★ ★ ★

Blasingame's development comes as no surprise to anyone in the National League. A phenomenal prospect who had a 26-0 record including five no hitters in high school, he was signed for a $100,000 bonus in 1961 and has been on the verge of stardom ever since

He had a 9-5 record last season and now stands 3-4 for 1965.

The St. Louis Cardianls routed the Philadelphia Phillies 12-2, the Cincinnati Reds bombed the Pittsburgh Pirates 11-3 and the San Francisco Giants downed the Chicago Cubs 2-0 in other NL games.

TV Won't Halt Games

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Big Ten athletic directors ruled Thursday that football games cannot be delayed for television commercials.

Jack Nicklaus on GOLF

• PRACTICING PUTTS •

THE PRIMARY RULE FOR PUTTING PRACTICE IS TO CONCENTRATE MAINLY ON THE PUTTS YOU SHOULD NORMALLY EXPECT TO MAKE, NOT THOSE YOU SHOULD NOT.

PRACTICE LONG PUTTS FOR LAGGING PURPOSES ONLY—TO GAUGE DISTANCE. PERCENTAGE-WISE SOME WILL DROP ANYWAY.

CONFIDENCE AND ACCURACY ARE ACQUIRED FROM 12 FEET IN. YOU SHOULD EXPECT TO MAKE ANY PUTT WITHIN THIS AREA.

LEARN TO SINK THE 3 AND 4 FOOTERS AND YOU WON'T FEAR THOSE LONG PUTTS THAT FAIL TO DIE RIGHT AT THE HOLE.

Hills Golfers Capture W-O League Title

Bloomfield Hills' golf team, one of the favorites to take the Pontiac Press Invitational title Monday, posted a two-stroke victory yesterday in claiming the Wayne-Oakland League crown at Burroughs Farms near Brighton.

Grabbing the runner-up spot was Northville (318).

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Milford (340) finished fifth. Holly (328) was third, Brighton (335) fourth, West Bloomfield (341) sixth and Clarkston (344) came in last.

Northville's Jim St. Germain, who is entering the U.S.G.A. local qualifying at Meadowbrook Monday, won medalist honors by defeating teammate Jim Bertoni and Hills' Bill Scott in sudden death.

St. Germain carded a 37-40—77 to tie Bertoni and Scott, and then canned a birdie putt on the third extra hole to finish on top.

Scott toured the course in 39-38—77. Other members of the Hills' team were Scott Springer (78), Ed Gray (79) and Gordon Schassberger (82).

Huron Bowl Holds Annual Tourney

Huron Bowl will have its second annual Invitational Singles this weekend for its league bowlers who have had an actual game of 245 (men) or better, and 210 (women) or up the past two years.

There will be squads at 10 a.m., 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The tournament is conducted with handicaps and with $75 first prizes guaranteed for both men and women, and also for the men's high actual total.

Entries will be accepted up until squad time. Additional information is available from the establishment at 335-2525.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Early in June last year during the U.S.G.A. sectional qualifying round at Franklin Hills Country Club, the aging slammer from West Virginia, Sam Snead, stepped into a bunker near the ninth hole and blasted a shot onto the green.

The ball settled about 10 feet from the pin. The result would have pleased a duffer but not Sam. Disgusted, he slammed the club into the sand and walked out.

The caddy looking a little embarrassed at Sam's display of temper, waded into the trap and pulled out the club, smoothed the sand and ran to catch up with Snead.

Such episodes have been known to unsettle caddies so much that they have to yield to a substitute.

That didn't happen in this case and that it didn't can be attributed to the caddy master's knowledge of psychology, and maybe a little luck, in pairing the pro with the caddy.

★ ★ ★

What sort of caddy would it take to satisfy Snead?

SPECIAL KIND

"It takes a special kind," says Gene Wright, a teacher at St. Frederick High School in Pontiac, caddy master at Warwick Hills, whose job it will be to match the pros with caddies for the Buick Open set for June 3-6.

Getting back to Snead, Gene says, "It usually takes an older fellow, one who's done a lot of caddying."

Gene's had the job at Warwick for the past five years and he admitted that there were problems at first.

"Several of the pros changed caddies the first year," he said, adding, "But more changed that first year than they have since."

ASSIST PRO

And for the professional, a caddy is an indispensable part of the game. He uses not only his back in toting the clubs, but assists the player in club selection and can often be found discussing the roll of the green with the pro.

★ ★ ★

"Dow Finsterwald had to change his caddie one year because he had a kid who was just too nervous. The kid couldn't hang onto the club," Gene said.

★ ★ ★

At the Buick Open, the touring pros have to use caddies assigned by Gene. So no matter who wins the $18,000 first prize, you'll have to give Gene an assist.

LIGHTS GO ON

Paul Frechette, owner of Clarkston Golf Club, will turn the lights on tonight at the club.

★ ★ ★

Three holes are lighted — seven, eight and nine. With the lights, golfers starting late, say around 7 or 7:30 p.m., will be able to finish the round.

Coaches Ready to Skirmish

Woody vs. Evy Battle Almost Results

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — "I wished," said a Big Ten athletic director "that we could have matched Woody and Evy in Ohio State's stadium and I could have been the promoter. I would have made a million."

The athletic director asked, "Please don't identify me. I'm not a fighter. I was scared, just watching" Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes and Iowa Athletic Director Forest Evashevski.

★ ★ ★

The director was among those at a Big Ten Conference meeting who saw Hayes and Evashevski nearly meet in a fist fight last Wednesday.

That was the climax of an argument in which spectators said Evashevski accused Hayes of being a disgrace to his profession for his sideline conduct, and the Ohio State coach retorted that Evashevski's record as a coach and recruiter left him in no position to criticize.

Hayes then whipped off his coat in the meeting of conference coaches and athletic directors, charged at Evashevski, told him to stand up and threatened to whip him.

Evashevski remained seated and Mackey and Doug Mills, Illinois athletic director, calmed them down.

Neither Evy nor Woody, normally outspoke, wanted to talk about the incident.

Mineweaser Dinner Next Week

Coach Selected at Our Lady

By JERE CRAIG

Young Mike Boyd will probably remember 1965 vividly the rest of his life.

From one of life's darkest moments — the death of a loved one — he has taken a giant stride back to the bright side of life by seeking and winning the headcoaching job at Waterford Our Lady of Lakes High School.

★ ★ ★

His appointment was announced Wednesday night at the school's all-sports banquet. Boyd will succeed veteran area sports figure Bob Mineweaser who is retiring.

Mineweaser will be honored next Wednesday with a dinner at the Old Mill. Reservations are due tomorrow and should be confirmed with C. E. Calme at OR 3-9578.

Boyd currently is assistant coach and teaches business courses at Saginaw St. Peter and Paul High School, his alma mater. He joined the school staff in January.

During his final year (1959-60), he was voted the school's Outstanding Senior Athlete award while lettering in football, basketball, track and baseball for the third time each.

Then he matriculated to Michigan State where his athletic activity was limited to intramurals. He married, became a father and graduated (last June) during college.

WIFE ILL

The 22-year-old, 5-8, 160-pounder also was commissioned in the U.S. Army, but his military career was curtailed when his wife was discovered suffering from cancer.

Boyd worked last fall for the state highway department around Pontiac under his brother Jim, who lives in Drayton Plains. Then cousin Leo Boyd, all-sports coach at SS. Peter and Paul, found a job for him at the school in January.

His wife died shortly after that leaving him to raise their daughter Lynn Marie, now 20 months.

Working with the school's junior varsity basketball team, his first coaching job, apparently was a tonic. Boyd directed the reserve squad to a 12-1 record, which undoubtedly influenced the WOLL selectors.

At the Waterford parochial school, he will handle football, basketball and track. He hopes to add baseball to the sports program later. Boyd will teach American history and physical education.

He says his coaching philosophy stresses developing the basic fundamentals through repetition. He will assume the WOLL duties next August.

Another League Starts in City Recreation Softball

The 300 Bowl team ran its American League record to 2-0 and the International League opened with a pair of games last night in Pontiac recreation softball action.

The 300 Bowl (2-0) squad banged out seven hits in pinning 5-4 loss on Spencer Floor (1-1). The winners jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning and added single runs in the second and fifth to sew up the decision.

Jack Avery paced the winners with a pair of hits and Floyd Hicks, the losing pitcher, collected two safeties.

In the International, Michigan Bell romped to a 12-6 triumph over Bud & Lou's Bar, and Buckner Finance trimmed Motorcar Transport, 11-6. In a National League game, Orchard Lanes routed L & S Standard, 15-0.

Roger Fortin sparked Michigan Bell with four hits in five tries. The winners, behind 5-2, pushed across four in the fourth, two in the fifth and four more in the seventh.

Buckner's scored 10 runs in the second inning on only three hits. Motorcar committed seven errors in the big inning. Jerry Paul and Duane Francis paced the winners with two hits apiece.

★ ★ ★

Orchard Lanes sent six runs across the plate in the opening inning and picked up seven more in the third.

The winners picked up 14 hits. Bill Johns delivered a double and two singles to lead the attack. Ken Boussum gave up only two hits and fanned five to take the decision.

Five Errors Help 20-7 Victory in Rec Action

Midget Bar rapped out 16 hits and took advantage of five Keg and Anchor errors in posting a 20-7 triumph last night in Waterford Township softball action.

John Strong paced the winners with four hits in six trips to the plate. Midget scored five runs in the first inning to start the rout and broke the game open with nine markers in the seventh.

In a second game, Lloyd Harper struck out nine and scattered six hits as Bob & Larry trimmed Howe's Lanes, 12-5.

Dick Nichols collected three hits in four tries to spark the winners. Don Kah collected a pair of safeties for the losers.

Ortonville Names New Grid Coach

Bill Pugh, an assistant the last two years, is moving up to the head football coaching job at Ortonville Brandon High School.

He will replace Ernie Mousseau who has accepted the head gridiron post at Tawas Area High. Mousseau posted 6-2 and 0-7-1 records in his two years as Brandon mentor.

Pugh is a 1959 graduate of Alma College. He spent two years at Springport as assistant football coach. The second year he was head basketball mentor.

After one year as head basketball and baseball coach at Arcadia, Pugh served one year as an assistant coach at Marlette. He moved to Brandon in the fall of 1963.

Pugh will be assisted by Dean Baker who is returning to Brandon after taking a leave to obtain a master's degree at Central Michigan.

Hazel Park Has Record 'Twin' Payoff

HAZEL PARK (AP) — The twin double at Hazel Park Race Track Thursday shattered the previous high, paying one bettor $44,053.80 for his $2 investment.

Bright Season ($30.20), Long Drawers ($41.20), Sir Am ($29) and Dynamite, Jr. ($7.80) made up the record breaking combination.

★ ★ ★

The Daily Double of Pin Deck ($13.60) and Pleasant Pasture ($20.80) paid $184.80. Thursday's handle was $745,786.

The identity of the twin double winner is not known. The winner failed to show up at the cashier's window after the race to claim his money.

Michigan State Makes Strong Bid in Track

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Michigan State opened a strong bid today for its first Big Ten outdoor track and field championship since the school entered the conference 14 years ago.

MSU never has finished better than second in an outdoor league meet and that happened the same year, 1951, it began conference competition.

Bronson Aide Is Still Critical

The condition of Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long improved "slightly" last night, but he still remains in a critical stage, according to his doctor.

Long has been in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital since Monday when he began hemorrhaging internally. He lapsed into a coma shortly after being admitted.

"For the first time he is showing signs of awareness and his heavy breathing has stopped," the doctor said.

Underground N-Test Held at Nevada Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nuclear test of low yield, equivalent to about 20,000 tons of TNT, was set off underground today at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

The blast was the 12th weapons-related test to be announced this year. There also has been one experiment under the Plowshare Project for development of peaceful uses of atomic energy.

School Site Land to Be Condemned

Waterford Township Board of Education members last night authorized condemnation proceedings to acquire one proposed elementary school site and that a purchase offer be made for another.

★ ★ ★

Condemnation was approved for an approximate 10-acre site south of Pleasant Lake which a private appraisor hired by the board valued at $1,500 per acre. The owner seeks double that amount.

The board will offer $2,765 per acre for an approximate 10-acre site on Dafodil in Section 19 of the township and authorized condemnation action if the offer is rejected.

Also in the realm of real estate, the board authorized architects to proceed with remaining projects in the 1963 bond issue, the addition of 14 rooms to three elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

The board also approved a recommendation from its building and grounds committee to buy two lots and a house adjacent to Covert Elementary School for $2,750.

APPROVES LEAVE

In other business, the board approved a one-year leave of absence for Paul O'Neill, principal of Waterford Township High School.

O'Neill has accepted a Mott Training Program Fellowship for the 1965-66 school year.

The board accepted the resignation of Jerome Oweke, principal of Four Towns Elementary School effective next month.

★ ★ ★

Oweke has accepted a position with Science Research Associates.

15 NEW TEACHERS

Board members also authorized hiring of 15 new teachers for the coming school year.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the board supported the Oxford Board of Education's nomination of George W. Coombe Jr. of Birmingham as a director of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

65 Instructors Hired

OCC Has Admitted 2,095

Oakland Community College trustees were told last night that 2,095 students have been processed to begin classes in the fall.

College officials have received 2,219 applications to date. Applications are still being processed for the fall opening of the college.

Trustees were also told that 65 instructors have been employed so far. The board approved 36 of these at last night's meeting.

Three administrators were added to the college staff by the board. Dr. John R. Netcher, currently vice-president of academic affairs for the College of Guam, was hired at an annual salary of $16,500 as dean of the Auburn Hills campus.

Stanley Hergonroeder was named dean of instruction at the Auburn Hills campus at a salary of $14,000. Hergonroeder now holds a similar position at Lake Michigan Community College.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

Arthur W. Jalkanen, presently assistant dean of men at the University of Rhode Island, was appointed dean of student personnel. His salary will be $12,000.

College trustees received preliminary figures on a possible bus shuttle service for students.

Three alternatives were discussed by the board.

First, private bus companies could provide service with the college underwriting the cost or promising a fixed annual income. Cost was estimated at $100 per day per bus.

Second, the college could purchase buses at $6,500 each and an annual per bus cost of $8,000.

Or, buses could be leased.

The possibilities of bus service are to be investigated further by college officials.

Argentina, U.S. Join in Rocket Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Argentina jointly announced today plans to collaborate in launching weather rockets in a search for more information about hemisphere weather patterns.

The rocket program, to begin this year, may lead to "an operational system of weather rocket launching systems throughout the Western Hemisphere," a White House announcement said.

★ ★ ★

Under terms of an agreement signed this week at Mar Del Plata, Argentina, that country will provide launching facilities in Argentina, will transport rockets and equipment from the United States where they will be manufactured, and assemble and launch the rockets. The U.S. launchings will be from Wallops, Island, Va. The launching pads in Argentina will be at Chamical, in the northwestern part of that country.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will lend ground support equipment, such as radar, to the Argentine Space Commission. It also will provide eight instrumented rocket payloads and will train Argentine personnel to use the equipment and process the meteorological data to be obtained from the rockets.

Other Latin American countries have been invited to participate in the program and thus extend the network of weather rocket launching sites.

Bermuda Hop Slated for Area Teen-Agers

Community Activities Inc. of Waterford Township will host a Bermuda Hop tonight for area teen-agers.

Detroit Disc jockey Swingin' Sweeney will be master of ceremonies at the 8 to 11 p.m. dance.

Those attending the dance must wear Bermuda shorts.

Ex-Policeman in State Killing Found Dead

DETROIT (UPI) — A former Detroit policeman who was involved in a bizarre slaying two years ago was found dead yesterday, slumped over the wheel of his car parked in the garage of his home with the engine running.

★ ★ ★

Police said Forrest A. Foster Jr., 38, apparently committed suicide.

A two-page note to his wife was found, indicating he had borrowed heavily to support his wife and their three children.

Foster had resigned from the police force while awaiting trial board action in January 1964, and had not worked since.

★ ★ ★

He had been crippled when he was shot by Macomb County deputies when he tried to escape after being arrested in connection with the slaying.

★ ★ ★

Foster had been charged with murder in the death of John "Wimpy" Elliott, a hanger-on in fight circles March 4, 1963, during an argument over a contract Foster held as manager of lightweight fighter Gene Gresham. He was found innocent of the charge.

County Escapee Is Being Returned

One of three trusties who walked away from the Oakland County jail last Sunday was to be returned today from Albany, Ga., where he had been taken into custody by local police.

The Sheriff's Department was notified yesterday that Claude L. Key, 20, of 225 S. Pike had been apprehended and had waived extradition proceedings.

Details of Key's arrest were not known, according to Capt. Leo Hazen.

Key was being returned by plane accompanied by Detective Harry Maur of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Key had only six weeks remaining of a one year sentence when he escaped. He was in jail for felonious assault.

The other two walkaways, Guy L. Pittman, 28, of Detroit and Benjamin Hargraves, 30, of 860 Scott Lake, are still free.

India Says Pakistan Used Artillery in Clash

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India charged today that Pakistani troops used artillery in clashes along the cease-fire line in Kashmir the past week.

The Pakistanis shelled two Indian posts near Kargil for four hours Monday and attempted, but failed, to take them by assault Tuesday and Wednesday, the Indian Defense Ministry charged.

Trading Slows

Mart Prices Moderately Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were moderately lower early this afternoon as trading slowed.

Selling pressure was slight.

Motors yielded only fractions instead of 1 or 2 points as in the previous session.

The trend was a little lower among rails, steels, rubbers and mail order-retails.

IRREGULAR PATTERN

The pattern was irregular among oils, airlines, tobaccos, drugs, electrical equipments, chemicals, nonferrous metals, electronics and aircrafts.

The news background to stock trading was relatively neutral, with no outstanding new development to spur prices either way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .8 at 338.9 with industrials off 1.1, rails off .2 and utilities off .6.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.26 at 924.01.

PIVOTAL STOCKS

Losses of a point or so among a scattering of pivotal stocks accounted for the lion's share of the drop on average. DuPont and Union Carbide were down about a point and Kennecott more than a point.

Fractional declines were also posted for Chrysler, Bethlehem, Sears, Roebuck and united aircraft.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Ahead a point or so were Valve Corp., Syntex and Eastern Co. Fractional gainers included Hazel Bishop, Kawecki Chemical, Tel-A-Sign, Radiation and Nuclear Corp. of America.

Corporate and U. S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

State House Acts on Budget

$221 Million of Plan Gets Preliminary OK

LANSING (AP) — The House gave preliminary approval Thursday to $221 million of the 1965-66 budget without significant debate, and without the key element — a $544 million state school aid fund bill.

Bills covering general government, public welfare, safety and defense, regulatory agencies and conservation, recreation and agriculture were moved into position for a final vote.

★ ★ ★

That vote, said Majority Floor Leader J. Robert Traxler, will be postponed at least until next Monday "to give the Republicans time to look over the bills.

The appropriations for comparable services, said Rep. Einar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is $810,000 more than that recommended by Gov. George Romney.

OVER-ALL TOTAL

The over-all total, however, was increased by $1 million by the addition of a state disaster fund and an improvement in the veterans' homestead exemption, costing $3 million.

★ ★ ★

The school aid bill includes a $112 million recommendation, as compared with $31.8 million recommended by Romney and $50 million recommended by the Senate. House and Senate Democrats now are working out their differences.

When the bills do come up again, however, the Republicans will be waiting with amendments to eliminate tolls on the Mackinac Bridge, study the state's water pollution problem and its long-range fiscal requirements.

Republicans decided in caucus Thursday to try to amend one of the bills to add $125,000 to finance a water pollution study, to be matched by a similar amount in federal funds.

'Hodeo' Slated for Backhoers

A "Hodeo" will be held tomorrow near the Holiday Inn, 1801 S. Telegraph, Bloomfield Township, featuring backhoe operators from 25 communities in the area.

Winner of the area championship competition, sponsored by Massey-Ferguson Inc., will compete for the national championship in Detroit June 12.

Backhoes, seen on many construction sites today, are used for trenching and a wide variety of other earth-moving work, according to the sponsors.

Skill in operating the backhoe is of greater importance today than the know-how of the cowboy, whose rodeos set the pattern for the Massey-Ferguson Hodeo.

Military Spending May Buoy Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Increased military spending may take up some of the slack that is predicted if the buying of steel and autos for civilian use dips from fever pitch.

DAWSON

Orders for military hardware are cited as a chief reason that new factotry orders for durable goods rose 2 per cent last month to set another record high.

★ ★ ★

Transportation equipment makers were a chief beneficiary. Civilian car buying is still at a high level, if off a bit from the peak. But the industry makes other goods, too. And companies with items fitting into aerospace needs are getting fatter orders. Increased fighting in Viet Nam and the crisis in the Dominican Republic also are leading to more ordering of military supplies.

Just how much civilian ordering of hard goods may dip from the unusually high rate set in the first months of the year is yet to be seen. One uncertainty at the moment is what Congress will finally do about excise taxes on autos and appliances, and whether the public will take a wait and see attitude about buying until the tax cuts are in effect.

SLACKENING

Many companies may be able to offset much of whatever slackening develops in the civilian sector by fresh orders from the new military and aerospace requirements.

Because of the current uncertainty about the course of consumer buying—whether a peak has been reached and a leveling off or slight dip is ahead—the gain in durable goods orders in April is reassuring to those who have been predicting that the economy will climb through the rest of this year.

Orders of hard goods rose to $22.1 billion in April, ahead of the like 1964 months by 8 per cent.

These factory orders mean a building up of backlogs which will keep the lucky firms busy, sometimes for months ahead. Durable goods orders thus point ahead even more than they influence the present statistics.

REASSURING

They are especially reassuring as the period of summer vacation shutdowns approaches. And they help quiet some of the fears built up by the expected slight dip in auto and steel production.

Steel output has been setting records because of increased use of the metal but also, in part, because of a desire to build up stocks as a hedge against a strike threat, now postponed till Sept. 1. Hopes for a labor settlement instead of a strike increased as the union fight over the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America cooled down with David J. McDonald bowing out to let I. W. Abel take office June 1 without further contest.

★ ★ ★

Government economists are also counting strongly on the still-rising total of personal incomes to keep the civilian sector of spending from dipping even if industrial output slows down during the hot weather months.

In April, the seasonally adjusted annual rate of personal incomes set a record at $514.5 billion, up $700 million from March. One thing helping the rise was a record high in corporate profits that inspired boards of directors to pay out 11 per cent more in cash dividends in the first four months of this year than in the like period of 1964.

NO CERTAINTY

While consumer spending can never be charted ahead with certainty, the likelihood of at least a modest increase in military spending seems a sure thing.

★ ★ ★

That can be a stimulant to the economy, just as a tax cut can, although Washington may stress the tax cut more and talk less about the increased ordering for military purposes.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I have $16,000 in savings. I have been thinking of taking $10,000 of this money and investing in General Motors and Chrysler. I do not know what these stocks yield and whether I would be better off with them than I now am." N. N.

A. I do not believe you should tie up so much of your capital in one industry, which is riding high now, but which is always subject to cyclical variations. General Motors, which has just increased its second - quarter dividend to $0.75 is now assumed to be paying at an annual $5 rate. At present levels, the yield is 4.6 per cent. I recommend this stock for purchase.

Chrysler yields only 1.9 per cent on its cash dividend of $1. Although the company has made great strides under able management, the shares have recently been acting poorly, partly because of a large rights offering which will ultimately dilute earnings. In its place, I suggest Atchison Rwy., yielding a quite well secured five per cent.

Q. "The following statement was made to one of my friends. If you go to a broker every day you can make a good living buying several low-priced stocks and, as soon as the price goes up even a point, selling and buying another. Is this true?" O. F.

A. At this historically high level of the market, most low-priced stocks are down because they have lost earning power. I don't believe you should ever buy a stock just because it's low-priced, attractive though that situation might seem.

Earlier this year, you might have bought Studebaker at 7¾, as many speculators did. If you had, you would now be looking sadly at a 2 point loss. I advise you strongly against gambling in the market. Buy values and let them work out.

Lawn and Garden News

Now Is the Time

Plant Bulbs for a Colorful Summer

Spring brings tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and a host of little bulbs. Some, like the late tulips and Spanish squills, last nearly to Memorial Day.

But, Late May also means its bulb - planting season for summer blooming types which are dug up again in the fall.

Best known are the gladiolus, strong-growing, dependable and colorful. Place them in clumps in the shrub or perennial border as well as rows for cutting.

If the large ones are too tall, switch to the miniatures which are just the right size for indoor decorations. Plant the large ones 5 to 6 inches deep and at least 6 inches apart, the smaller kinds 1 to 2 inches less.

* * *

For a real show, try the new dwarf (3 feet) cannas. They now come in attractive pastel colors and, beside groups in the garden they are also dramatic in urns, tubs or planters on porch or patio.

CUT FLOWERS

For plenty of cut flowers or bedding effects give dwarf dahlias a try. They are surprisingly prolific.

If your soil isn't too dry, few flowers will cause the comment that tigridias will, three-petalled with a broad, cup-shaped depression in the center.

Besides the bright oranges, yellows, and reds these cups are spotted like a leopard. Plant 4 inches deep and about 5 apart.

* * *

If fragrance is what you want, you can't afford to neglect the tuberoses. One spike can scent the whole of a small garden, particularly in the evening.

Then, there are the ismenes, glorious, white, flat trumpets with intriguing tail-like structures reaching out beyond. They, too are often stongly fragrant and can bloom in as little as 3 weeks when planted late in the spring.

Gladioulus-like and also very sweet are the acidantheras, white with winey markings in the throat. Also, somewhat gladiolus-like but without the scent are the montbretias, graceful and butterfly-like in the pink orange tones.

* * *

These are but a few of the many bulbs which anyone can plant in the spring to bloom in summer and fall. Dig them all after frost has killed the tops, dry off and store in a cool, dry, well ventilated cellar in very slightly dampened peatmoss or in polyethylene bags for another year of colorful blooms.

Cells Found to Be Alike

Many things about the lives of man and trees are similar, especially on the cellular level.

Plant physiologists study trees in relation to their aging process.

This is invaluable to gerontologists who are building up information that may some day explain the aging process common to all forms of life.

Lawngrass Is Hardy Stuff

Air temperature at about four feet makes the official weather record. Recorded temperatures may seem reasonably pleasant and constant to you, yet down in the lawn where the Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescue plants live wide extremes can occur. A lot depends upon where the grass is growing.

One thin sod registered a temperature of 140 degrees midday on a sunny summer day. The weather in another instance, was 40 degrees colder on a north-facing slope than on the opposite slope facing south into the sun just across the road. The top of a rise may be bone dry, while the base seeps water like a spring.

To an extent any lawn exhibits greater extremes than one would suspect from the weather records. So good lawngrasses have to be exceptionally hardy, perennial and enduring under a wide range of conditions. When planting a lawn, it makes sense to insist upon quality seed of reliable, proven varieties.

Snapdragons Vary

Remember that snapdragons now come in numerous heights, from 6 inches to 2½ feet tall — helpful to know when choosing varieties.

Researchers Hunt Solution

Bentgrass from unpedigreed sources used years ago sometimes volunteers as patches in new bluegrass lawns.

* * *

This has become a problem in certain areas, and researchers are looking diligently for a herbicide that will take such patchy bentgrass out of bluegrass. Nothing really good has yet been uncovered.

Fortunately, bentgrass varieties of more modest habits are less a problem.

Not a great many varieties of Colonial bentgrass — the seeded sort that are fairly erect-growing, used for close-clipped lawns and fairways — are available.

* * *

Because bentgrasses cross readily, it is difficult to isolate and maintain a uniform selection for seed.

Most creeping bentgrasses used for golf greens are planted from live stems.

Nature has helped with one Colonial bentgrass, Highland. This variety grows only in a small hilly section of west-central Oregon, where summers are hotter and drier than usually considered typical for bentgrass.

* * *

Test plantings at the Lawn Institute show Highland to be relatively unaggressive, to scarcely invade bluegrass or become a pest on the grounds.

Pastel Color Themes

Pretty pastel color schemes for the garden are achieved by planting Cleome Pink Queen next to salvia Blue Bedder, or heliotrope with pale yellow dwarf marigolds.

It's best to plan color schemes, pastel or otherwise, before you plant seeds.

Seeds Take Time to Germinate in Soil

Most seeds do not come up overnight, although a few, like beans seem to.

The seeds of most annual flowers take between a week and three weeks to germinate, so don't be in a rush to replant a row.

* * *

The precise length of time it takes seeds to sprout depends on many conditions such as air, temperature of the soil and moisture in the soil.

All of these must be just right.

Winter Kill Due to Dry Fall

Parts of the United States have suffered two exceedingly dry autumns in a row. A number of ornamentals may have been weakened, and failure this spring will likely be attributed to "winterkill."

* * *

In most cases lawns recover nicely from drought, — at least if they contain reliable perennial grasses. But even Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescues can suffer winter damage if there has not been enough moisture in autumn for them to green up.

Fortunately, early winter mostly has been mild, letting rain or melting snow soak into a thawed soil. We can be more optimistic than we were last November.

Winter damage is seldom due to cold. Bluegrasses, fescues and bents aren't bothered until soil temperatures get down nearly to zero, almost never the case in any of the states except Alaska.

* * *

Rather, drying-out, and possibly disease, cause winter injury.

There is less desiccation in snowy weather, but probably more matting and disease.

If patches of the lawn look an unnatural straw color in spring, with only occasional green shoots reviving, bolster the thin turf early. Scratch out matted leaves, so that new seed reaches soil where it can root.

Power rakes or mechanical thinners save time for larger areas. Reseed at once — even while the ground is still frozen.

Plastic Seals Pan for Growing Seeds

Make your own seedling incubator by following this simple advice: Fill a flat shallow pan about 2" deep with potting soil.

Scatter seeds over surface and water thoroughly using a fine spray. Cut a piece of clear plastic wrap large enough to cover the top of the pan completely.

Seal all edges and place in a dark warm spot.

After seedlings appear, move to a cooler, lighter location; continue to water. Remove wrap as soon as second leaves appear.

Want Something Different?

Grow New Petunia Varieties

Want something a little different this year? There are generally a multitude of new offerings for the garden each year, but this year the cupboard is rather bare. Except for the All-America Selection, Appleblossom Petunia, and the other winners, we find that in Petunias there are three worthy of note.

Moon Glow — a rich creamy yellow. This is a new color in the Petunia world, and has been very difficult to produce. It is dwarf and compact of habit, and blooms heavily all summer. For a different color in your annual garden, try this one. You will like it combined with the blue of Sky Magic Petunia or Blue Mink Ageratum.

Another one to try is the improved version of Bingo. Now an F1 Hybrid, this Petunia produces the largest flowers of all. Crimson red and white bicolor with hybrid vigor. As you know, an F1 Hybrid means uniformity of color, flower size and habit.

There is a new dancing multiflora Petunia (multiflora means many flowered, but small flowers, 2 to 2½ inches), aptly named Meteor. A scarlet red and white bicolor that maintains its sharply defined colors all summer long. Very colorful, very weather tolerant. A group planting or sidewalk border of Meteor will lend excitement to your entry way.

There are two more, but since the seed supply is so short you will not have much luck in finding them. We will only mention them in passing just in case you do run across a few plants. They are Peppermint and Strawberry Tart.

Peppermint is a member of that new family of multiflora doubles that look so much like carnations. Ideal for cutting. 2 to 2½ inch blooms borne on sturdy, short jointed stems. Peppermint looks just like the candy that grandmother used to have in the jar. Rose pink veins on pale pink flowers.

The other is a Strawberry red and white double much like its predecessor, Cherry Tart, except for color which is really a scarlet red.

If you find either of them, give them a try. You'll not only have something different — but lovely, too.

Don't think Petunias are only for borders and beds. The improvements in these F1 Hybrids make them ideal for cut flowers, too. The hybridizers have bred in habit — more uniform plants with shorter stiffer stems so that they stay put in arrangements.

With their gently curving stems they provide an ideal foil for erect, straight-stemmed flowers such as Snapdragons, Salvia and Delphiniums.

A new booklet has been published this year for the home gardener. "Accent on Annuals," is a complete guide to the use of annuals in home landscaping. You will find it especially valuable if you are starting from scratch in a new home.

Plastic Foils Worms

To protect young plants from cutworms when transplanting, make a belt of plastic for each plant — cover plant two inches above the surface of the ground and two inches below the surface with plastic wrap, leaving roots and top free.

Gardening Clothes to Be Marketed

One maker of power lawn equipment recently joined forces with a fashion designer in production of a line of gardening clothes.

Jim Briggs, an official of the equipment company, reasoned: "Although the company now has a real easy-to-operate mower, with modern design and colors to help us at the point of sale, we've still got to find a way to get the woman to the point of sale."

Some of the items of clothing have waterproof cloth, gaily colored pullovers with knee pads, stretch pants—all easy to maintain.

Fescue Varieties Confuse Gardener

When seeding the lawn this spring, don't confuse your fescues. One type is the coarse, bunchy, "tall fescue," with varietal monikers such as "Alta" or "Kentucky-31."

* * *

This grass makes tough, hardy clumps, it may be fit for some roadsides, but not the front lawn.

* * *

Much more attractive, and only a little less tenacious, are the attractive fine-leafed lawn fescues. The species is "Creeping Red," Festuca rubra. Any one of its improved varieties such as are grown for lawn seed in Oregon, is a worthy ingredient in a lawn seed mixture.

* * *

Varietal names include "Chewings," "Illahee," "Pennlawn" and "Ramer." All are excellent companions for Kentucky bluegrass, and are noted for persistence on poor or drought-y soils and in the shade.

Increase Your Planting Pleasure

Gardeners' Tools Make the Difference

The kind of tools a gardener uses determines to a large extent, how efficient and how enjoyable your garden will be.

Without the right tools gardening is an uphill fight—nothing goes easily and you waste a lot of time you could spend on the more enjoyable phases of gardening.

With all of them of course, a good quality product is necessary. Inferior grades bend, break and dull quickly, making it impossible or difficult to finish one's job.

But, what are the right tools? First, one need something to dig with and to turn over the soil best for all-around use is the Green Thumb round point shovel. It makes a good tool not only for turning the soil but also for digging holes and scooping.

* * *

For deep holes, prying or taking the backache out of the job the long-handled form is best. And, where digging is difficult because of roots or stones and it is necessary to maintain a firm grip at all times the shorter D-handle comes into its own.

EASY CARE

For deep, especially non-stony soils in the garden the sturdy spade is best. It, too, comes with a D-handle and is excellent for cutting roots and root pruning.

Its long, straight blade makes it particularly satisfactory for digging plants and it readily doubles as a sod cutter and turf edger — unlike the curved blade of a shovel, it cuts a straight line.

Another fine digging tool is the spading fork, particularly adapted to hard or stony soils which its narrow tines penetrate much better than a spade or shovel. It is also lighter and, thus, enables one to dig up the garden much faster.

* * *

Every green thumber knows the regular hoe for both loosening and hilling up soils but for small spaces there are special narrow ones and small triangular ones that slide through the soil with ease in any direction cutting weeds off just below the surface.

For weed control the push-pull motion of the scuffle hoe also covers a lot of ground quickly, while for just loosening the soil nothing beats the long-handled, toothed cultivator.

Equally useful are rakes. For working soil, smooth a sturdy fingered steel garden rake is unsurpassed, while on lawn the spring steel fingers of the broom rake are ideal, particularly the adjustable-width models.

* * *

Hard or root-infested soils, on other hand, call for a mattock while small, close jobs like planting or weeding in small beds require the use of narrow or standard-width trowels and weeders.

Finally, there are turf edgers, sod lifters, tall and short bulb planters and weed cutters such as grass whips, sickles, etc. to round out the stable of helpful tools. Let them help you, too.

Soil Sent for Tests Safe in Sandwich Bag

If you plan to send soil samples for analysis to your county agent, use sandwich-size clear plastic bags.

Include a label identifying the location.

Force Bulbs Inside First

Force caladium bulbs in clay pots indoors this month for a quick welcome to spring.

* * *

Place one bulb in a 4-inch clay pot or three bulbs to a six-inch clay pot, about two inches below soil level, and you can expect bright foliage within 30 days.

* * *

Water them lightly until sprouts appear and step up to daily watering after plants attain full foliage.

Garden Spot Inside Home

The creation of an indoor "Garden Corner" can achieve a beautiful change of pace by bringing the beauty of outdoors indoors.

★ ★ ★

Garden boxes placed side by side will give a solid-mass-of-garden appearance tending to conceal the containers.

Plants which will do well in the subdued light of an apartment are philodendron and ivy, among others.

The flooring under such indoor gardens should be a resilient tile resistant to moisture and alkalis such as solid vinyl, which has the added advantage of a multiple tiny flowerbud design, harmonizing subtly with the garden motif.

★ ★ ★

Indoor plants are very useful in drawing attention to narrow areas for specific reasons—such as a sunken living room which has steps leading down into it.

The placement of dwarf bonzai trees on the sides of each step draws the gaze downward, dramatizing them and alerting guests so that they will not trip.

Plants can emphasize special home-decor effects. For example, the current popularity of Spanish furniture has brought cactus back into fashion as an indoor plant.

★ ★ ★

And many modern bedrooms designed in the outdoor-living tropical mood have tinkling fountains surrounded with lush greenery.

But Follow Logical Plan

Improve Home, Landscape

Go ahead and landscape your property—but be logical. A good plan should be functional as well as beautiful.

Before you begin this year's landscape improvements, Joseph Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University, suggests that you focus your attention on making better use of existing natural resources. For example, plan your landscape around trees that are already on the property.

And base your plans on logic. Cox suggests you consider human use, practicality, lasting quality, cost-quality factors, future values and appearance.

These points are especially important for the family who buys a home where landscape decisions have already been made by others and which may leave something to be desired. The new family must plan carefully to derive the most satisfaction from their changes.

★ ★ ★

Once a new and better plan is formulated it should be put into effect. Cox says many people are skeptical of change, but once they make changes they forget their attachment to the former landscape layout.

MOVE SLOWLY

But don't make changes so quickly that you'll regret them later. Account for the total grounds layout and then plan the construction of permanent landscape items like walks and patios and the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers.

Either call on professional people to help you plan or carefully investigate all your landscape needs before beginning on the project. Always insist on quality construction; it may cost more initially, but it will be less expensive in the long run.

And, most important, permit adequate time for planting. Remember, "it is better to put a $1.00 plant in a $5 hole than to put a $5 plant in a $1.00 hole."

Follow-up care is essential to the successful landscape plan. It's those finishing touches such as mulches, watering and pruning that give your grounds a professional touch.

Details are important to the overall appearance, but take it easy with the ornaments, warns Cox. Ornate or fancy fences, highly colored artificial plants and foundation plantings which disregard the shape, size and needs of the building are frequent offenders which detract from the total landscape composition.

Indoor Gardening Fun Year-Around

Whether you live in the North or South — or East or West — indoor gardening is in order now and all year round.

If you live in the deep south, you will likely garden in a "Florida room;" elsewhere it is most likely in the living room but don't be afraid of using the bedroom.

The old idea that plants where you sleep are harmful has now been proved sheer fallacy.

The only thing to keep in mind is that in the North you should move the plants to a safer place each night, if you are a fresh air fiend.

★ ★ ★

It doesn't make much difference whether you use clay pots or fancy glazed ones. The thing to remember is that glazed pots do not evaporate water through their sides as do clay ones.

LESS WATER

Therefore, they need less frequent watering and less at a time. Also, put a ½ inch, or more of gravel in the bottom of each pot for a drainage area, a safety valve against over-watering.

When watering, try not to use cold water fresh from the pipe. It is noticeably colder than the air at all seasons and may shock some plants. Better fill your watering can immediately after watering and let it stand in the room until next time.

By then, it will be room temperature. Also, if the water is heavily chlorinated, most of it will escape into the air while standing.

★ ★ ★

Another point to bear in mind: the old advice about never letting water stand in drops on the leaves in the sun has been proved completely false.

Water is not only a cooling agent and makes burning impossible but it cannot act like a magnifying glass. To burn, the lens would have to be held an inch or two away from the leaf, not on it.

Another factor is temperature. The average house is on the warm side for most plants. But, if it is allowed to cool down at least 10 degrees at night, the plants take it much better.

★ ★ ★

Drafts are also important. Most plants do better if a little fresh air enters the house.

NOT DIRECT

But, don't let it blow directly on the plants. Drafts or sudden temperature changes shock the plants. They are one of the chief causes of the red bracts falling from poinsettias.

Do not let the soil get hard. Loosen it periodically with one of those small hand tools made especially for patio and indoor gardening.

Finally, bear in mind that all plants must rest some time. They may not lose their leaves but growth does stop. With many plants this is during the short days of winter.

★ ★ ★

During such periods water less frequently and, if possible, put the plants into a lightly cooler place.

Good Lawns Need Adequate Fertilizing

If you didn't get around to fertilizing the lawn in march, do it in April or even May. Just think of all the leaf blades you are going to cut from the grass all summer.

How can it make the growth needed if it is starved?

Seeds Stay Viable in Cool, Dry Place

If you bought your seeds early and if the 1965 planting season should be late, don't be concerned about the seeds spoiling.

Most seeds, kept under proper conditions, will last longer than a year

★ ★ ★

The seeds should be stored in a cool, dry place. Be sure to keep them safe from moisture.

★ ★ ★

Most nursery companies know just when to ship their products to a given area.

Dwarf Tree Bears Early

Two true dwarf nectarines E. Cooke of San Gabriel, Calif. have been developed by Loren He named them Golden Prolific and Silver Prolific

★ ★ ★

The trees may be expected to remain close to 6 feet tall at maturity. They should bear in the second year after planting. Both varieties are freestone.

Cooke also has developed two dwarf peach trees, Golden Glory and Empress.

$3\frac{3}{4}$ out of every 7 women in Detroit prefer the cleanliness and controllability of electric heat!

Now, if only their husbands knew the facts about the costs!

We'll be the first to admit that not all homes can be heated economically with electricity.

In many cases, however, electric heat really isn't expensive. And the many added advantages are usually well worth it.

After all, what other heat provides such even warmth from floor to ceiling? And what other heat allows you to control the temperature of each room individually? And what other heat is so clean?

We'd like the opportunity to prove what we say. If you're planning to build, or add a room, or perhaps convert the attic . . . call your Edison office. We can arrange to have one of our heating engineers give you or your contractor a free estimate—figure out how much electric heat will cost to install—and how much your monthly bills are likely to be.

Or, if you're not quite ready for that . . . send for our 20-page book on electric heat. It's free. And a great way to find out what electric living is really like!

Halt Plan to Cut Off Air Service to City

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) yesterday halted plans to eliminate Pontiac, Cadillac-Reed City and Port Huron from the route of North Central Airlines.

The board stayed its earlier ruling through May 29.

Pontiac officials and those of the other cities had asked for the stay to permit a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals review of the air service case.

Convicted in Stabbing

MARQUETTE (AP) A Marquette State Prison inmate was convicted of manslaughter Thursday in the fatal stabbing of a fellow prisoner. Sentencing for Charles Jackson Jr., 21, was set for June 2.

A jury found Jackson guilty of the slaying of Robert Larson, 30, who died of knife wounds after an argument in the prison dining room Jan. 10.

Fictionalized Look at Papacy

Tests 'No Film' Tag on Novel

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—When Morris L. West's "Shoes of the Fisherman" topped the best-seller list for months, film producers considered whether it could be made into a movie.

THOMAS

"Not possible," they concluded. After all, the novel concerned the inner workings of the papacy and centered on the conflict of a Soviet-born Pope and his one-time tormentor in a prison, now the head of the Soviet government.

★ ★ ★

Film makers doubted that the Roman Catholic Church would ever cooperate with such a movie. Lacking approval, it would face rough going in Catholic countries. And the cost of reproducing papal pomp and such locales as St. Peter's would be almost prohibitive.

One movie maker wasn't discouraged. He was George Englund, young producer-director whose most notable film has been "The Ugly American."

GREAT STORY

"I thought 'Shoes of the Fisherman' was a great story," he says, "and I believed it could be made with the cooperation of the church. All that was required was a reasonable approach."

Englund convinced MGM that such was possible, and negotiations began for purchase of the novel. Then Englund departed on the first of many pilgrimages on behalf of the project. He jetted to Australia to confer with West on how to film his book.

"West lives outside Sydney on the edge of the wild country," said Englund. "Every day we would walk out to the area where the animals roam free and talk for hours. It was one of the most stimulating experiences of my life."

The pair arrived at a feasible approach to the screenplay. Then they met in Rome to labor for seven weeks on a treatment. It was then that Englund made his first approach to the Vatican.

OFFICIALS AMAZED

"The officials were amazed that I would come to them for help," said the producer-director. "That had never been done before. Film makers would come to them with a finished movie and ask for an expression of Church approval."

Englund told the Pontifical Commission for Communications Media that he was not out "to assassinate or attack the church, but to portray it as an arena for the exchange of ideas." After the third meeting, he was assigned an adviser — not a priest, but Antonio Petrucci, himself the maker of Vatican documentary films and hence sympathetic to film-making problems.

After four trips to Rome, Englund is getting close to a shooting script (its author: playwright John Patrick). The Church's advice has been helpful and specific.

The current problem is the casting of Kiril, the Pope. None of the big-name stars qualifies, said Englund, possibly excepting Anthony Quinn. Another possibility: England's Paul Scofield. The producer is going to the Moscow Film Festival in July and will scout Soviet actors for the lead.

A Communist playing the Pope? Englund doesn't rule out the possibility. He also has hopes of filming inside St. Peter's. One thing the whole project has taught him: "Never take anybody's word for the impossible."

Premier on Retirement: Will Be Missionary

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Abdul Rahman of Malaysia says he plans to devote 50 per cent of his time doing Moslem missionary work when he retires.

"I have wanted to retire but my colleagues want me to stay on," the 62-year-old premier told a gathering of missionary workers Thursday night.

Oxford Union Votes to Fight for Britain

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Britain's Defense Ministry can rest easy today. Oxford University students, at least 493 of them, are willing to fight for their country.

The Oxford Union, a debating society open to all undergraduates, last night rejected a motion that "this house would not fight for queen and country." The margin was 27 votes, 493 to 466.

The debate had caused a furor in England because it revived memories of student pacifism in the 1930s here. In 1933, the Oxford Union voted 275 to 133 that "under no circumstances" would its members bear arms for Britain.

Sir Winston Churchill charged the results of that debate might have convinced Hitler and Mussolini that Britons would not resist the Nazi war machine.

Many of those who voted for the 1933 motion were sent white feathers, a symbol of cowardice, by enraged Englishmen.

Two union trustees resigned in protest against last night's "white feather" debate and many other prominent Oxford educators were loudly critical of it.

★ ★ ★

Publicity was nationwide and the British Broadcasting Corp. televised the proceedings for showing at a later date.

The current Oxford Union president is a Pakistani, 21-year-old Tariq Ali. He received threats against his life and uniformed and plainclothes police mingled with the crowd of 2,000 persons which was present for the debate last night.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

The Foglia sisters, Siamese twins separated in surgery 11 days ago, in Turin, Italy, are reported making excellent progress. Their doctors say they will be able to walk normally.

Dr. Luigi Solero, head of the 15-man team that separated the 6-year-old girls, Giuseppina and Santina, said today, however, he would not consider them fully out of danger until affected tissue has completely healed.

Boy Scouts Pay Tribute to John Glenn

GLENN

Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. was among 10 men who received miniature silver buffalos in Miami Beach last night—symbol of the highest award given adult volunteers working in the Boy Scouts of America.

Others honored included Austin T. Cushman, Chicago merchandising executive and Royal Firman Jr., Cleveland industrialist.

The scouts are holding their national council annual meeting.

Student Commutes to School by Airplane

Dallas M. Cogan, an Air Force enlisted man who commutes to class by plane from Hancock Field in Syracuse, N.Y., to Washington, hopes to graduate from American University June 13.

Cogan has been logging about 1,000 miles a week since last February, flying to Washington every Monday for a once-a-week class in chemistry. He is making up credits for a bachelor's degree.

He flies half fare as a military standby. And the Air Force has helped by allowing him to use his leave for the travel.

Holiday Patrols to Be Increased by State Police

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police have ordered stepped-up patrols over the Memorial Day weekend.

Commissioner Joseph Childs ordered special patrols for the holiday period, starting at noon Friday and extending until midnight Monday, May 31.

★ ★ ★

Pass day will be canceled for the period. Detectives will take over desk duties to relieve uniformed officers for the patrols.

State Police again are calling on the National Guard for assistance. There will be 108 Guardsmen working as second men in two-man patrol cars.

Report No Progress in Strike Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — The first bargaining session since Wyandotte Chemical Co. was struck May 4 by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union was adjourned Thursday with no progress made, said state mediator Edmund Phillips. Some 1,600 workers walked out after their contract expired. No date was set for further discussions.

Physical Exam Advisable

Low Vitality Can Affect Student's Grade

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: At the start of her schooling, my daughter, now 11, was always on the honor roll. Not until the fourth grade did I notice that she was gradually slowing down and that her marks were getting lower. Now, on a visit with her sixth-grade teacher, I was informed that her work is not satisfactory and that her I.Q. has gone down seven points since last year.

★ ★ ★

Could you please tell me what causes the I.Q. to go down?

Mrs. D. G. J., Massapequa, L.I., N.Y.

I.Q. is based upon test results. I.Q's sometimes go down gradually over a period of years when a child is living in a very barren environment. In your daughter's case I suggest a thorough physical examination. Low vitality could be the factor influencing her test grades.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our son reports that in his school the weekly tests are corrected by fellow students. They sign their names at the bottom of the test and return them directly to the original student, although the grade is recorded in the class book.

Is this a good practice?

K. O. W., Erie, Pa.

During the development of a new topic, the correcting of papers by other students under the direction of the techer allows students to discover their own errors quickly.

This is much more effective than papers corrected and returned to the student one or two days later. However, any marks placed in the official gradebook should be determined by the teacher and not by another student.

Teachers must grade enough papers to keep informed as to the progress of each student in class.

Dear Dr. Nason: I wish to change my line of work, but since I have a wife and child I'll need some type of loan or grant. I have an AB degree and six units of graduate work, but feel that the social work field I hope to enter will require Master's Degree in sociology.

Where can I obtain information regarding financial assistance?

F. K. N., Ossining, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

The National Defense Student Loan Program provides for loans to graduate students. Application should be made directly to the college.

I suggest you visit the campus in person and work out a complete program including financial support before starting so important a change.

North's one spade overcall is eminently correct in accordance with our theories of all modern bidders. You just do not double with a two suiter.

South's two heart bid is also in full accord with modern theory. When your partner overcalls you raise him if possible. You jump or cue bid when you have a good hand and you bid new suit when you want to suggest that your suit is likely to be a better place for the final contract than your partner's suit.

North is able to jump to four hearts in spite of having only two trumps. He does not think that his partner has much of a hand but he knows that he has a good heart suit.

The play at hearts is rather interesting. If West opens and continues clubs, South ruffs the second club in dummy, draws trumps as best he can and loses another club and a diamond to make his contract on the nose.

If West shifts to a trump at trick two, South can't afford to draw trumps immediately. Instead he leads a low diamond from dummy at trick three. Later he will draw trumps, finesse against West's king of diamonds and make an overtrick.

This hand illustrates the one part of Edgar Kaplan's "Competitive Bidding in Modern Bridge" that we and practically all other experts disagree with him about. For years he has held a theory that the new suit response to an overcall should be a forcing bid.

He is almost alone in this respect and this hand illustrates the great weakness of this idea. He would not be able to bid two hearts with the South hand and would have to let his partner struggle with one spade.

A—Bid two no-trump. Your partner has given a forcing bid and your hand is now ideal for a minimum no-trump call.

By SIDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Key is reasonable attitude. Don't go to extremes. Be calm, but aware of hidden meanings at social affair. Promises made by you could be called to your attention.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your chance for success depends on VERSATILITY. One in authority is observant. Be sociable . . . but make clear your knowledge of the FACTS. Obtain hint from today's ARIES message.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Best to stick close to home ground, remain in familiar areas. Association with strangers could result in unusual situation tonight. But your SENSE OF HUMOR can resolve problems.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Probe deep. No time to be satisfied with superficial answers, indications. Step forward with confidence, investigate, ask—and get answers. Then your prestige rises.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Hold off on expenditures for now. There are past responsibilities which demand attention. Take one thing at a time. Calm, business-like attitude prevails. Go slow!

VIRGO (August 23-Sept. 22): Key is BALANCE. Have fun but also attend to routine matters. Temptation is to throw caution to winds. Wise course is to be THOROUGH, CAREFUL. Patience now . . . profit later.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Tendency is to be restless. Be alert to opportunity, new ideas. Some privacy required. Get thoughts on paper early. Avoid individual who attempts to promote bizarre scheme.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Suggestions prove of value. Enlarge, improvise—add your own personal touch. Day to experiment . . . but be aware, alert. One you respect due to offer deserved compliment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Key is relaxation. Have fun with friends tonight. If too serious you frighten "prospects." Means be natural and calm . . . then others come to you. Don't attempt to force views.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Don't "beat around the bush." Say what you mean—mean what you say. Check details, attend to routine matters in person. One who advocates short-cut may not know facts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Cycle remains high. But some recent purchases may have dented budget. Don't argue with mate or associate. Money affairs due to be straightened out. Have faith!

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Be DIPLOMATIC. Avoid direct or forceful methods. Get where you're going through INDIRECT approach. Family member can help. Show appreciation.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you have distinct, original ideas. You are willing to tear down the old in order to rebuild. You are an individual in the true sense of the word!

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Old friendships cools and . . . important enough to make news.

Antirebel Drive Launched by Burmese

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — With the end of the monsoon season, the Burmese army has launched another massive drive against Communist and tribal rebels.

The government reports at least 30 rebels killed, three rebel bases smashed and more than 500 surrenders during the first two weeks of May. It is a record for the past year.

★ ★ ★

The army said it lost only three men. But the rebels, hard pressed by the offensive, have taken revenge against the civilian population. Nineteen civilians have been murdered, the government says.

More than 60 Shan tribesmen surrendered at Kokang, in the Shan States, and 120 surrendered at another base nearby. They brought in a large amount of arms and ammunition, including bazookas, grenades and automatic weapons.

AMMUNITION SEIZED

Government forces have seized more than 10,000 rounds of ammunition during the two-week period.

The biggest encounter between government troops and the rebels was near Pantanaw, 200 miles north of Rangoon. A government patrol clashed with a band of 80 Communist guerrillas on May 5. The battle raged for two hours and the rebels fled, carrying away their dead and wounded.

In another clash, government troops killed seven right-wing Kachin rebels and wounded six more on May 9 near Kyitkyina, 700 miles north of Rangoon.

In the Shan States, near the Thai-Burmese border, seven Shan rebels were killed and three others wounded on May 14 when government commandos attacked a Uhan rebel camp.

3,000 FLEE

The rebels have been most active in the Kachin States. In the first week of May, more than 3,000 refugees fled from 15 villages because of rebel terrorism.

The government has concentrated its effort in central Burma, the stronghold of the Communist rebels. The Red guerrillas has taken a severe beating ever since peace talks were broken off in 1963.

★ ★ ★

Red guerrilla leaders have been pushed back so fast into the jungle hills that they have lost all contact with each other. The rank and file are reported completely demoralized.

The government has avoided any major campaign against the tribal rebels for fear this might win sympathy for the rebels. Instead, the army has concentrated on harassing tactics and lightning thrusts against known rebel bases.

This policy is apparently paying off. Of the surrenders in the last fortnight, 90 per cent were from tribal groups.

Village School Gets 'Poor Sister' Tag

Children's Village School was described as the poor sister of the Waterford Township School System last night by its principal.

Speaking to the school board, Principal James W. Marshall outlined some of the unique difficulties of the school which serves youngsters in the Oakland County Children's Center and Children's Village.

Main stumbling block to providing an adequate education program at the school was the lack of equipment such as visual and audio aids, according to Marshall.

"We are poorly equipped in instructional materials and below par with other county schools," Marshall said.

★ ★ ★

Marshall said the root of the problem is that Oakland County is not providing sufficient funds for the school.

NO JURISDICTION

Even though the school is included in the Waterford system due to its geographical location, he said Waterford Schools has no jurisdiction over funding for capital equipment.

Another unique problem the school must meet is an unusually high pupil turnover rate, Marshall said, which adds difficulty to setting up a sound educational program.

A total of 443 students were enrolled in the school since last September and 302 of them since have been released. Present enrollment is 141.

★ ★ ★

Youngsters attending the 37-year-old kindergarten-12th grade school at 1075 N. Telegraph include delinquents, neglect cases and emotionally disturbed youngsters.

Marshall and Dr. Kingsley Montgomery, director of children's services for the school system, spoke during the regular curriculum report segment of school board meetings.

Hospital Gets '10 More Beds'

Pontiac General Hospital is now a 401-bed hospital, up 10 beds over its previously rated 391 beds.

However, it's strictly a matter of mathematics, not actual beds

The hospital has been rated 391 beds. According to state regulations, the number of beds are determined by the amount of square feet.

For some time, hospital officials have realized that the pediatrics section could have 10 more beds under state standards.

Pontiac General's occupancy percentage, which is reported annually to the state, has been figured on the basis of 391 beds.

Now however, hospital officials will report on the basis of 401 beds. Thus, Pontiac has gained a larger hospital through mathematics.

The development of the Upper Peninsula still lies ahead, Romney said, and the people at Michigan Tech are leading the way.

A TOP MAN

If you have been at least moderately successful but feel your progress is limited on your present job, the time may be right to consider changing. One of Oakland County's leading sales and finance organizations may be able to start you on the level your old job leaves off, so that you can avoid beginning all over again at the bottom of the ladder. If this approach sounds reasonable to you, and if you had participated in some management training or have a sincere desire to learn, call Mr. Filbrook, 674-2231, 4 p.m.-8 p.m. to arrange a frank and confidential discussion.

'Mr. Novak' Charged in Tire Deflating

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—James Franciscus, television's schoolteaching "Mr. Novak," faces charges with his brother, John, and their wives of letting the air out of a neighbor's tires.

The quartet also was charged with disturbing the peace by singing loudly shortly after midnight Wednesday while deflating two tires on the car of Victor Sidoni, who lives across the street from John.

Franciscus has been staying with his wife at John's home in San Juan while filming a television special called "Caribbean Holiday."

A government detective told police he spotted the foursome, emptying Sidoni's tires.

★ ★ ★

When the four failed to appear before police yesterday, they were arrested at John's home. John pleaded guilty to the deflating the tires but said his brother was not involved.

USED SPACE

He said he did it because Sidoni persisted in parking in front of his house although he had been asked to leave the space clear for John's pregnant wife to park her car.

★ ★ ★

"It's a silly thing," said John. "I just have this little vendetta with those people across the street and they have dragged my brother into it for publicity purposes."

The Franciscus brothers and their wives were freed on $700 bail each and ordered to appear for trial June 18.

Saturn V Passes Key Steering Test

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The Free World's largest rocket booster — The Saturn V — has passed a steering mechanism test preparatory to a manned flight to the moon.

In a static (tied down) test at the Marshall Space Flight Center Thursday, the booster was at full speed for 41 seconds, much longer than two previous test firings.

★ ★ ★

Test laboratory personnel called the test highly successful and said the vehicle's five engines achieved the ultimate 7.5 million pounds of thrust.

Sees 'My Fair Lady' on His 104th Birthday

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Samuel White celebrated his birthday by taking in a movie showing of "My Fair Lady."

The event was the 104th birthday for White and the eighth time he had seen the film.

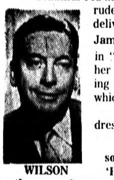
French Star on N.Y. Spree --a Buying Spree, That Is

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "People are nice in New York . . . In Paris, people are rude . . ."

A beautiful red-haired Parisian who ought to know about the rudeness of Paris, since she was born there, delivered that pronouncement. Claudine Auger, James Bond's shapely 23-year-old leading lady in "Thunderball," sat beside me in a taxi with her skirt high above her pretty knees, exclaiming about the wonder of the Fifth Avenue shops which she found superior to the Paris stores.



WILSON

"In one store," Claudine said, "I try 50 dresses and I only take two.

"The salesladies was so heppeee and so nice. In Paris they would say 'AW' and 'Pssh, pssh, pssh," and be so rude. But here they were heppee wiz zair job and I was heppee to be there."

Claudine was so heppee, in fact, that she spent most of her first two days in America just buying . . . "a red fox . . . a black meenk . . . I can't help it. . .

"I bout a Napoleon toy," she said—in a novelty shop—"You pull ze string and Napoleon says, 'I'm mad about you.'

"You don't know," Claudine continued, "you are a very great countree. You have the Rawckees, you have lecks, you have deserts, Texess, Floreedah, New York cowboyeees, and you have very shick cities."

Claudine and Sean Connery were flying back from Nassau to London to finish the picture and Claudine had insisted on a two-day stop here—"I dream all my youth about seeing America and I nearly fent when I get here . . . after deener, I walk through the streets seengeeng."

Claudine preferred to talk about the wonders of New York to discussing the underwater lovemaking she does with Connery in the film. It was nice to meet such an enthusiast—she is a good argument for Americans to heed LBJ's admonition and stay at home this summer and see America.

A Hearing Aid Model That Is Actually a Pen!
We are very proud of our hearing aids that look like fashionable eyeglasses! In order that any hard-of-hearing person who does not know about them might see how truly amazing they are, we have had Qualitone make up models of their latest ones as ball point pens.
These pen models are actual-size replicas of the "Hi-Fashioned" — Qualitone's finest, most attractive and smallest eyeglass hearing aid. We will give one absolutely FREE to any hard-of-hearing person (including those who already have a hearing aid) sending in this ad — or for whom it is sent in by a friend or relative.
See for yourself, in the privacy of your own home, how inconspicuously it might be worn as part of your eyeglasses, especially when you select the color to match your eyeglasses. Enjoy writing with it! It's yours to keep, FREE.
(If you are not hard-of-hearing and would like one of these attractive pen/models — that look like our Qualitone "Hi-Fashioned" hearing aids—please enclose $1 with the ad.)
These pen/models are available while the limited supply lasts, so we suggest you send for yours now. No obligation. Tear out this ad and send it in today with your name and address.

House Clears Teacher Bill

Sets $1,800 Pension for 30 Years Service

LANSING (AP) — The House voted to guarantee retired teachers with 30 years service a minimum pension of $1,800 a year and denied visiting probate judges compensation of $100 a day in a 9½-hour session Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The teacher bill will cost the state $1.9 million next year. If the legislature votes the funds necessary to carry out the program each year, it will cost the state $21 million "over the life of those (relatively few) teachers covered, based on actuarial tables," said Rep. George E. Montgomery, D-Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The probate judges' bill provided they receive $25 a day when serving as visiting judges in another county.

The bill, with Rep. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo, as chief sponsor, would have granted the judges $100 a day if the judgeship were vacant. The bill remained in the House calendar for action today.

BILL AMENDED

It was intended to prod counties into filling vacancies, Arnett said. The bill was amended by Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare, one of its original signers, to eliminate the $100 a day stipend, except for judges called out of retirement under terms of the new Michigan constitution.

They, however, are limited to working one day a week and their salary is deducted from their pensions.

★ ★ ★

The House passed 11 bills and moved 71 to the final voting stage. Only six working days remain before the deadline for passage of bills in the house of origin.

A bill to exempt fruit pickers working on a contractural, piece work basis from the minimum wage law was passed, 91-14, after it was amended to include pickle and tomato growers.

48 Bills OK'd by State Senate

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — The Senate broke away from trivia and technicalities Thursday in a morning-to-midnight session as 48 bills ranging from airport liquor to bounty repeal won approval.

Despite their own day of hard work, senators narrowly turned down—at least for the present—a broadened legislative retirement program.

★ ★ ★

The actions put the Senate back into position to beat the May 28 deadline for passage of Senate bills.

The airport liquor bill authorized issuance of one above-quota liquor license to each publicly owned airport in counties of 100,000 or more. Proponents said sale of liquor would help cut airport operating deficits.

BOUNTY PLAN

Senators wiped out the conservation department's year-old program of paying bounties for the killing of red foxes and bobcats.

Despite protestations from Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, that the nearly $200,000 in annual payments was economically vital to the Upper Peninsula, the measure passed 33-4.

Supreme Court and Appeals court judges each won a $9,500 salary boost to $35,000 and $32,500 respectively under bills passed with only one "no" vote.

Among other bills approved by the Senate were the following:

—A pair of voting registration bills allowing registrations on Sunday.

ELECTION INSPECTORS

A requirement that election inspectors apply through political party county chairmen rather than directly to local county clerks.

A $1.98 million increase in state library aid and organizational provisions for a state library system. Aid this year was just under $700,000.

—Salaries of $60 per working day for the new State Board of Education with an extra $10 for the chairman. The payments were made retroactive to Jan. 1, when the board came into existence.

—Switch of the Employment Security Appeal Board from a part-time to a full-time job and increase in maximum salary per member from $13,000 to $18,000 plus an extra $500 for the chairman.

MUNICIPAL JUDGES

—Two bills permitting an increase in municipal judges salary during their terms of office and removing the requirement that the city charter set the salary limits.

Establishment of an assigned risk auto insurance pool similar to that now maintained voluntarily by auto insurers.

Even a lady could learn to like Soft Whiskey. It's not hard.

Many women don't find whiskey very likeable.

In fact, they find it hard to take.

So you usually find them with gin or vodka, or one of those lady drinks.

But we've changed all that. We've given whiskey more appeal.

A lady can even drink Soft Whiskey straight. Without batting an eyelash. Soft Whiskey swallows nice and easy, treating her ever so tenderly.

But don't get the wrong idea. Soft Whiskey is no softie. It's 86 proof. And does exactly what any 86 proof does. It just does it softer. So lady, be discreet.

Now, about the softening process. All we can tell you is, some of Calvert Extra is distilled in small batches instead of huge ones. Forgive our being so closemouthed. But we fell flat on our faces in year after year of experiments before we found the formula.

After all that, we're not going to make it easy for anyone to steal our women.

900 Driven Out by Detroit Hotel Fire

4-Day Gemini Flight June 3

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that June 3 is the target date for the four-day space flight of Gemini astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

★ ★ ★

Officials had said previously that the flight was scheduled "in the third quarter of 1965," which begins July 1.

However, news services have listed the June 3 date for several weeks, based on unofficial sources.

The agency had listed the later period to provide time for preparation and to avoid criticism if the target day were missed.

NASA said McDivitt and White will circle the earth 62 times in 97 hours 50 minutes to evaluate the effects of extended space flight on crew performance and physical condition.

The agency said it had not yet determined

Coup Attempt Is Crushed in S. Viet Nam

At Least 50 Plotters Arrested; Several Key Rebels Are at Large

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A lightning series of raids last night and today blocked an attempt to overthrow Premier Phan Huy Quat's government and the South Vietnamese military high command.

Quat said one rebel officer was killed resisting arrest.

Reliable sources said at least 50 other plotters, including a colonel and several majors were arrested.

They were being held at the heavily guarded police headquarters in Saigon.

★ ★ ★

Several of the key plotters were reported still at large.

DISSIDENT MEN

Quat said the coup attempt was the work of dissident military men who tried in November and again in February to take power.

Two leaders of those attempts already are under death sentence but are at large.

They are Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat and Col. Pham Ngoc Thau. Both are believed hiding in the Saigon area.

★ ★ ★

Thau's brother, Pham Ngoc Thun, was among those arrested last night.

VIET AFFAIR

"This is a Vietnamese affair," said a U.S. spokesman, adding that the embassy was aware the plot against the government and the military command was boiling up.

Quat charged that the Communist Viet Cong had a role in the attempted coup but did not give details of this.

★ ★ ★

American sources said they knew of no evidence that the Viet Cong were in fact involved.

INSPECTS DAMAGE — Acting Fire Marshal George Lambert surveys fire damage to the ninth floor service area of the Statler Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit. The blaze routed more than 900 guests early today. Eight firemen were overcome by smoke. None of the guests was hurt.

GM Chairman Among Guests Forced to Flee

8 Firemen Overcome Fighting $250,000 Early Morning Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — Eight firemen were overcome fighting a $250,000 predawn fire that drove more than 900 persons from their rooms in the Statler Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit today.

Frederick Donner, board chairman of General Motors Corp., was among those who fled the five-alarm fire.

Neither Donner nor any of the other guests were injured.

Many of those who escaped were dressed only in their nightclothes.

★ ★ ★

The only casualties were those suffered by the firemen.

The eight overcome by smoke were taken to a hospital and treated.

ON 11TH FLOOR

Fire Chief Glenn Thom said Donner was attending a meeting on the 11th floor of the hotel with a group of GM auto dealers from South Africa when the fire broke out.

Thom made the damage estimate.

Also among the guests were most of GM's board, including Charles L. Mott, 90-year-old Flint multimillionaire and philanthropist, here for a directors' meeting today.

Hotel manager Frank Teich said guests were allowed to return to their rooms on the first eight floors of the 15-story building after the fire was put out.

AT NEARBY HOTELS

"We've made arrangements to house the other guests at nearby hotels," said Teich.

The fire broke out in a service area, enclosed by fire walls, on the eighth floor. It was fueled by furniture and other equipment stored in the enclosure.

Thom said the cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

★ ★ ★

He said the fire shot up an elevator shaft, but was confined by his men and fire walls.

ROAMED LOBBY

Through the night, hotel guests roamed the lobby, some in nightclothes, other with blankets wrapped around their shoulders.

School Action Event Opens on Monday

The Pontiac School Community Action Program will get under way officially Monday with a parade from Nebraska and Howland to the Franklin Elementary School.

The Community Action Program has been established here through $192,000 grant to Oakland County schools under the federal Anti-Poverty program.

Three local schools are currently involved in the program — Whittier Elementary School, Jefferson Junior High School and Franklin.

The parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. The Jefferson Junior High School band and other community groups will participate.

★ ★ ★

Following the parade, a town hall-type meeting will be held at Franklin school.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ruth Buckner, a school principal from Flint. In addition to the talk, the Franklin School Glee Club will offer musical selections.

Ship Sinking; 12 Rescued

NEW YORK (UPI)—The British passenger liner Sylvania rescued 12 crewmen from the sinking Norwegian freighter Lionne off the Newfoundland coast today and was efforting to remove 15 more men still aboard the stricken vessel.

★ ★ ★

The Sylvania, bound from Liverpool to New York, picked up the first 12 crewmen from a lifeboat shortly after they had abandoned the leaking 326-foot freighter.

She then began circling the vessel spreading an oil slick over the 12-foot seas to facilitate removal of the 15 men still aboard the Lionne.

The oil will cut down the size of the seas for further lifeboat operations, the Coast Guard here reported.

★ ★ ★

A Coast Guard plane and a commercial plane hovered over the scene, 740 miles southeast of the tip of Greenland.

★ ★ ★

Also en route to the scene were the Coast Guard cutter Bibb and three other British merchant vessels.

Hospital Pilot Plan Ready

Nursing Home to Get Convalescent Patients

Pontiac General Hospital will experiment to relieve the hospital's bed shortage and also to embark next week on a major cut the cost of medical care.

Nursing home convalescence for selected Pontiac General patients will begin Monday.

Under terms of a three-year pilot program, certain patients will be transferred to the Seminole Hills Nursing Home, 532 Orchard Lake, for convalescence.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, told the Pontiac General Board of Trustees last night that about 10 patients would participate in the initial phase of the nursing home-hospital program.

★ ★ ★

Conceived by United Community Services (UCS) of Metropolitan Detroit, the experimental program is an effort to free important general hospital beds.

TO CUT COST

In addition to freeing hospital beds, the total cost of medical care to the patient should be cut by the plan. The cost per day is less in a nursing home than in a general hospital.

The UCS plan has paired five hospitals and five nursing homes across the state. In the pilot program patients are to be screened carefully.

Nursing homes will be employed during the convalescent stage of a patient's illness. For certain selected patients long-term hospital stays would be eliminated.

★ ★ ★

For example, a patient who has a gall bladder operation now spends 7-10 days in Pontiac General. Under the UCS plan, the patient would transfer to a nursing home after the fourth or fifth day.

'Ford in the Future Is a Rosy Picture'

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Co., gave an audience of 1,269 a rosy picture of the firm's future prospects yesterday at the annual stockholders' meeting.

In addition he fielded a score of questions concerning his stewardship of the firm his grandfather founded.

Mrs. Wilma Soss of New York, a familiar figure at stockholder meetings, got the women's angle in the session when she said she was not too displeased that Ford did not have a woman on its board of directors.

"I know what a fine influence your mother has been on you," said Mrs. Soss.

Lewis D. Gilbert of New York another familiar figure at stockholder meetings, fired numerous questions at Ford.

EXECUTIVE PAY

Gilbert inquired about Ford's $540,000 salary and supplemental compensation last year and repeated his contention that some automotive brass' salaries are too large.

In answer to one question, Ford said he had no intention of giving up his job as chairman of the board to take a more active role in the company's worldwide affairs.

"My job is right here and I am a candidate for the board," he said.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he and other members of the Ford family ever given consideration to making a financial settlement in exchange for the additional voting rights which their Ford Class B stock has under the company's present setup, Ford replied:

NOT FOR SALE

"I'd be foolish to give up that extra vote. Some things are not for sale. We have pride in our family heritage and regardless of the money offered we would not accept it."

In his prepared address

U.S. Charges 11 as Gamblers

Eleven persons arrested in raids on an alleged Mafia-linked numbers operation were arraigned yesterday on charges of failure to purchase federal gambling tax stamps. Nine of the 11 are Pontiac residents.

U.S. District Judge Wade H. McCree released the 11 on $1,000 bond each and set their preliminary examination for June 22.

They were arrested in raids Wednesday afternoon by agents of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and police in Pontiac, Detroit and Oak Park.

The Pontiac residents are Vennie Wright, 39, of 470 S. Edith; Vernon Reynolds, 31, of 173 Green; Walter McKinney, 65, of 40 Bagley; Della Gaston, 45, of 587 Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Crump of 486 Kuhn; W. C. Wilson, 41, of 313 Fisher; James W. Ward, 49, of 267 S. Marshall; and Robert Chenault, 59, of 276 Howard McNeil.

★ ★ ★

The other two, Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi, 37, of Detroit, and Mrs. Geraldine Winderman, 47, of 23250 Berkley, Oak Park, were named by IRS officials as the ringleaders. The pair was arrested in their homes.

The IRS estimated that the operation did a $2 million annual business.

Lombardi was named in 1963 by then Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards as a section leader in the Mafia, an international crime syndicate.

General Sees Hard Choice Over Appeal

LANSING (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, stunned by his dismissal as Michigan National Guard adjutant general, today faces what he calls "the extremely difficult choice" of whether to appeal the dismissal.

Gov. George Romney fired McDonald yesterday after a 93-hour hearing for McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert on charges stemming from irregularities in the Michigan military establishment.

Romney found Neifert guilty of gross neglect of duty and misfeasance, but said he would reinstate him June 8—at the end of a seven-month suspension without pay.

McDonald was found guilty of the same charges and also of the more serious charge of malfeasance.

★ ★ ★

Even if he decides not to appeal, he still must decide between two alternatives set up by Romney to protect McDonald's retirement privileges.

GIVEN 10 DAYS

Romney gave McDonald 10 days to decide whether he would prefer transfer to the guard's unassigned officer pool, which would cause him to lose his federal recognition as a major general but preserve his state retirement rights at age 64, or take another assignment as a colonel in the guard.

'OU Funds Lost Out to Trivia'

The Senate Appropriations Committee, despite all of its hard and conscientious work, sacrificed some necessity for trivial comforts this year, State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, said today.

O'Brien said his remarks were aimed at approval in the Senate, on the committee's recommendation, of a $600,000 expenditure to air-condition a state office building (the Cass Building) in Lansing while some educational needs were going unmet.

"I fought on the floor to get another $150,000 for Oakland University, which has been underappropriated for several years despite its obvious growing pains.

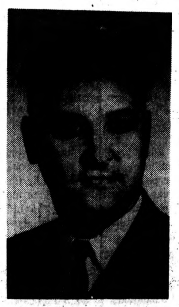
"Instead we are worrying about the comfort of a bunch of bureaucrats," O'Brien said.

★ ★ ★

The 17th District Democrat said the argument that because all of the other state offices will be air-conditioned, nobody would want to work in the Cass Building is a weak one.

"The State Capitol isn't air-conditioned, and our people working for the legislature and others in the building are going to spend some mighty hot days in the old museum," he said.



CARL W. O'BRIEN

Rain Coming Later Today

Going shopping tonight? Take an umbrella along.

Scattered showers and thundershowers are scheduled for late today and tonight. The low temperature will be from 52 to 58.

Tomorrow, the sun will shine occasionally. Temperatures will turn cooler in the afternoon with a high in the 70s forecast.

Sunday, the area will have mild temperatures with fair skies to enjoy.

Forty-eight was the lowest mercury recording preceding 8 a.m. today. The area had a high of 78 at 1 p.m.

'I Hate My Wife, but Oh, You Dog'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A divorced husband, on better terms with the family dog than his wife, who said he hadn't spoken to her in five years, has won the right to visit the pet two hours a week.

"I haven't had a case like this for 15 years," said the veteran judge after issuing the decree.

Judge John L. Niblack's order yesterday permits Glenn O. Black, 63, Indianapolis, to visit his 3-year-old toy Manchester named Pretty from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Niblack, of Marion Circuit Court, added a stipulation, however. With each visit, Black must bring a third party to keep the peace.

★ ★ ★

Niblack recalled that 15 years ago he granted a farmer visitation rights with 16 cows awarded the divorced wife.

MAKE SURE

"He wanted to make sure the animals were well taken care of," the judge said.

In 26 years on the bench, Niblack could remember only one other case involving visitation rights with animals. That was 20 years ago and also concerned a dog.

The judge granted the divorce to Christina R. Black, 54, on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, ending the 32-year marriage. The Blacks have two grown daughters.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Black charged her husband hadn't spoken to her for five years.

Dominican Cease-Fire Set to Allow Removal of Dead

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A 24-hour cease-fire between junta and rebel forces was scheduled to start at noon today to permit removal of dead and wounded from Santo Domingo's battle-torn northern suburbs.

The Red Cross and the United Nations negotiated the agreement to suspend the five-day old battle which has caused a death toll estimated at more than 100.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Amid reports of new fighting, the United States called on the U.N. Security Council today to act in unison with the Organization of American States in seeking to end the civil war in the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

"I have every hope that this 24-hour cease-fire will be permanent," Dr. Luis F. Fernandez Martinez, president of the Dominican Red Cross, told a newsman.

But the junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, whose forces have cut deep into rebel positions in the northern part of the capital, vowed to carry his attack into the main insurgent stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo. He hinted this would happen next week.

BEING ENCIRCLED

Rebel spokesmen acknowledged that their northern forces were being encircled with their backs to the Ozama River.

Imbert told a newsman: "It is now too late for a permanent cease-fire such as the United Nations and the Organization of American States have been trying to arrange."

"We have renewed our military operations and they cannot be stopped," he declared.

"We want to avoid bloodshed if possible, and we are giving every chance to those in the rebel area to surrender or to come out. But we have to take the rebel stronghold very soon, and bring peace back to the country."

MARINE KILLED

U.S. military authorities announced that a Marine was killed by rebel fire Wednesday night after he and another Marine accidentally drove their truck into insurgent territory.

The body of the dead Marine, who was not identified, was returned to U.S. authorities. The other man, Pfc. Leslie Mykle of Utica, N.Y., was released by the rebels.

The Marine's death brought to 19 the number of Americans killed since U.S. forces landed in the Dominican Republic more than three weeks ago.

The Johnson administration denied reports in news dispatches from Santo Domingo that U.S. troops have been actively helping the junta force crush the rebels.

LBJ'S ORDERS

Cyrus R. Vance, deputy defense secretary, told a news conference in Santo Domingo that President Johnson's orders that impartiality be observed by American troops have been made "crystal clear" to all U.S. military commands in the Dominican Republic.

Vance added that future U.S. moves in this country would be dictated "by events and circumstances" which are not now foreseeable.

Didn't Deduct Social Security

Hospital Faces Cost of Up to $50,000

Failure to deduct Social Security payments from the salaries of resident doctors for 10 years may cost Pontiac General Hospital $30,000 to $50,000, it was disclosed last night.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported to hospital board of trustees that the hospital may have to pay back Social Security benefits for the period from 1955 through 1964.

The hospital would have to pay both its share and the employe share because it would be nearly impossible to locate and collect from the former resident doctors.

Hospital officials said Social Security was not taken out of the salaries paid residents because it was thought they were excluded from provisions of the federal law.

★ ★ ★

Euler said that interns and people in training are exempted under the law. This was the basis for not withholding Social Security from the wages of residents.

FOR 10 YEARS

During the 10-year period, it is estimated the hospital had 75 to 100 residents. Hospital officials estimate that it would cost up to $50,000 to cover Social Security benefits for the 10 years.

★ ★ ★

The State Employes Retirement Board, Social Security Contribution Fund, has asked the hospital for salary figures for the residents.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, hospital officials hope for a compromise that would enable them to pay for only three years of the benefits.

District Music Festival Scheduled at Seaholm

BIRMINGHAM—The seventh biannual All School District Vocal Music Festival will be held Wednesday and Thursday in the Seaholm High School gymnasium.

Elementary students will appear Wednesday and secondary students Thursday, both programs scheduled for 8 p.m.

In the first concert, over 1,000 young voices will represent the glee clubs of Adams, Baldwin, Beverly, Bloomfield, Franklin, Greenfield, Harlan, Meadow Lake, Midvale, Pembroke, Pierce, Quarton, Torry, Valley Woods, Walnut Lake and Westchester elementary schools.

Songs will range from those of a patriotic and serious nature to foot-tapping and show tunes.

Also included on the program will be dance groups from Meadow Lake, Midvale, Quarton and Torry schools.

DIRECTORS

Directors for the program are Joanne Boraks, Kathleen Ferguson, Catherine Fieleke, Phyllis Gardner, Patricia Kronewetter, Mary Partlow, Aurelia Powledge, Coralynn Thompson and Al Winters.

Thursday's program will feature more than 900 students from the various vocal groups at Derby Barnum and Berkshire junior high schools and Groves and Seaholm high schools.

They will sing by combined grade levels and combined senior highs. Two songs will be rendered by the total group.

★ ★ ★

Highlight of the program will be numbers by the combined madrigal singers from the two high schools.

LEAD PUPILS

The students will be directed by Eleanor Balaam and Elwanda Baumgartner of Berkshire, Sandra Drew and Janice Sherman of Derby, Kenneth Ish and James Smela of Barnum, Evelyn Micheletti of Groves and William Seeback of Seaholm.

There is no admission charge for the concerts, open to parents and friends.

Jacquelyn Bartlett, a 10th grader at Groves High School, is among 10 outstanding student musicians who will perform in Youth Day activities in Flint tomorrow.

Jacquelyn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul D. Bartlett, 30587 Bristol, will play the harp in the state-wide Youth Enrichment Program. Concerts at Flint's Central High School are scheduled for 3:30 and 8 p.m.

State House Acts on Budget

$221 Million of Plan Gets Preliminary OK

LANSING (AP) — The House gave preliminary approval Thursday to $221 million of the 1965-66 budget without significant debate, and without the key element — a $544 million state school aid fund bill.

Bills covering general government, public welfare, safety and defense, regulatory agencies and conservation, recreation and agriculture were moved into position for a final vote.

★ ★ ★

That vote, said Majority Floor Leader J. Robert Traxler, will be postponed at least until next Monday "to give the Republicans time to look over the bills.

The appropriations for comparable services, said Rep. Einar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is $810,000 more than that recommended by Gov. George Romney.

OVER-ALL TOTAL

The over-all total, however, was increased by $1 million by the addition of a state disaster fund and an improvement in the veterans' homestead exemption, costing $3 million.

★ ★ ★

The school aid bill includes a $112 million recommendation, as compared with $31.8 million recommended by Romney and $50 million recommended by the Senate. House and Senate Democrats now are working out their differences.

★ ★ ★

When the bills do come up again, however, the Republicans will be waiting with amendments to eliminate tolls on the Mackinac Bridge, study the state's water pollution problem and its long-range fiscal requirements.

Republicans decided in caucus Thursday to try to amend one of the bills to add $125,000 to finance a water pollution study, to be matched by a similar amount in federal funds.

Toledo Milk Supply Dried Up by Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sale of powered milk and canned evaporated milk took a sharp upturn today as this city's 350,000 residents headed into a weekend in which fresh milk won't be delivered to their doorsteps or be available at neighborhood stores.

The milk supply was just about dried up by a strike early Wednesday of Teamsters Local 361 against the six major Toledo dairies. The union is deadlocked with the companies in negotiations on a new contract for about 500 drivers and plant workers employed by the dairies.

★ ★ ★

Thursday a few stores still had milk for sale — in most cases because they held it back from Wednesday's rush of customers. But by noon the stocks of all the supermarkets and larger stores were gone. Generally, sales were limited to one gallon per customer.

Some fresh milk still is available from a small dairy, Sterling, which has no Teamster Union contract and serves about a dozen stores. And residents in northern Lucas County need drive only a short distance across the state line to Michigan to pick up a few gallons.

SPECIAL CASES

Infants and adults with ailments requiring milk in their diet are able to obtain it with a doctor-signed slip at one of four fire houses in the city. The Teamsters arranged for Village Farms Dairy, one of the struck companies, to supply milk for distribution at the fire stations and to hospitals, children's homes, rest homes and nursing homes.

The walkout caught the six dairies with about a half million dollars worth of milk at their plants, and they say if they can't sell it at cost it will spoil before the weekend is over.

★ ★ ★

"They should give the milk to the poor and then write it off as a tax loss," said Lawrence N. Steinberg, president of Teamsters Joint Council 44.

No talks are scheduled between the two parties directly involved in the dispute.

HEALTH BOARD

The City Board of Health declared a state of emergency in an effort to make certain the emergency supply machinery of the striking union functioned properly.

Steinbert said a key hurdle in efforts to bargain a new contract to replace one that expired April 4 was a company proposal to eliminate commissions for some drivers and change the commission rate for others.

★ ★ ★

Steinberg said the dairies proposed a $3.30 hourly rate for wholesale delivery drivers and elimination of commissions and that this would cut weekly pay for these drivers by "50 per cent." The companies also proposed eliminating a weekly guarantee for retail delivery drivers, who average between $100 and $150 a week, Steinberg added.

point out that a patient could be transferred back to the hospital for special treatment or in the event of a relapse.

The pilot program was officially declared "in business" on March 1, but it has taken until now to work out the mechanics of the program.

Euler told the hospital trustees last night that Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield have recently given their approval to the plan.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac General facilities have been suffering with a high rate of occupancy. Euler presented figures last night for the first four months of 1965.

6,295 ADMITTED

A total of 6,295 patients have been admitted this year so far, compared to 6,080 in the same period in 1964.

The hospital has had to cancel 666 more admissions this year than the 866 cancelled during the first four months of last year.

whether White would be the first American astronaut to expose himself to the elements of space from a spacecraft.

It reported that the space suit and hatch opening procedure had not been fully qualified.

A decision might not be made until a day or two before launching, the agency said.

★ ★ ★

10-MINUTE WALK

Soviet Alexei Leonov left his Voskhod spacecraft for a 10-minute walk in space March 18.

Complete emergence of a U. S. astronaut is not planned until later this year.

The eight U.S. astronauts who have flown into space logged total flight time of 65 hours 44 minutes.

★ ★ ★

The longest single mission was 34 hours 20 minutes, by Air Force Maj. T. Gordon Cooper Jr.

AIR FORCE MAJORS

McDivitt and White, also both Air Force majors, are to triple the present flight time figure.

Parents, Sister of Area Pupil Among Dead

The parents and sister of a student at Cranbrook School for Boys were among those killed yesterday in the crash of a Pakistani airliner near Cairo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Howard and Elizabeth Clare, 9, were en route from Saudi Arabia to Bloomfield Hills to attend the graduation of their son, Richard, 19.

The Howards planned to spend about three weeks visiting Mrs. Howard's sister, Mrs. Melvin Beland of Sturgis, before returning to Saudi Arabia.

Howard, 43, was employed by the Aramco Oil Co. there.

Their son planned to attend college in the United States after graduating next month. He had attended Cranbrook for the past three years.

★ ★ ★

Annual Roundup

Kindergarten Event Set

The annual Pontiac school kindergarten roundup begins Monday at the Rogers Elementary School.

In order to be registered for fall kindergarten classes, a child must be 5 years old on or before December 1, 1965. A birth certificate is required.

Children should be registered during regular school hours at the elementary school in their district.

Those who are not registered now will be registered in the fall.

Spring registration is encouraged, however, in order that parents may use the summer months to fulfill entrance requirements.

The roundup dates for other elementary schools in the Pontiac School District are as follows:

- May 25 — Bailey, Central, Frost, Franklin, Herrington, Willis and Wisner.
- May 26 — Emerson, McCarroll, Owen and Whittier.
- May 27 — Baldwin, Bethune and Wilson.
- May 28 — Alcott, Irving and McConnell.
- June 1 — Twain.
- June 2 — Malkim.

★ ★ ★

- June 3 — Crofoot, LeBaron, Longfellow, Wever and Webster (morning only).
- June 4 — Hawthorne and Webster (afternoon only).

Hospital Gets Certification

Certification of the Oakland County Medical Care Facility as a hospital by the State Health Department has removed the possibility of an estimated loss of $34,913 monthly in state and federal aid.

The certification, announced yesterday by Dr. Leon H. Warren of the State Health Department, is retroactive to May 1.

★ ★ ★

This was the date the facility's certification was temporarily removed due to the transfer of tuberculosis patients into a wing of the building.

Transfer of the TB patients was necessitated by the sale of the former TB Sanitorium to Oakland Community College.

Holdup Man Nets $1,250 at Motel

A holdup man armed with a sawed-off 22-caliber rifle netted some $1,250 from the Holiday Inn in Bloomfield Township this morning.

The motel at 1801 S. Telegraph was robbed shortly before 9 this morning.

★ ★ ★

Night auditor Walter Brown and an unidentified porter were the only employes there at the time.

Bloomfield Township police investigating the robbery said the money was taken from a safe at the motel.

OU Chancellor Leaves for Funeral of Mother

Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner left today to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. H. S. Varner, 84, of Cottonwood, Tex., who died yesterday after a long illness. Service and burial will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the Godfrey Funeral Home in Baird, Tex.

Mrs. Varner, a member of the Baptist Church, is survived by two other sons; three daughters; and six grandchildren.

Wrist Radios, Pellet Guns?

Crime-Fighting Aids Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Instead of billy clubs, pistols and call boxes, tomorrow's policemen may have tranquilizer guns, Dick Tracy-style wrist radios and order-giving computers.

A House Judiciary subcommittee yesterday received a report on these experimental techniques being considered by the nation's crime fighters.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas deB. Katzenbach headed a battery of witnesses who urged Congress to put $10 million into the fight against crime.

The money, Katzenbach said, would be used to support public and private studies on ways to improve law enforcement.

★ ★ ★

One new technique that had impressed him, Katzenbach told the committee, was a computer system used in St. Louis to assign policemen to beats.

★ ★ ★

The computer enabled police officials to spot areas of growing crime "without having to figure it out with a pencil and paper" a month later, Katzenbach said.

STUN VICTIM

Rep. James H. Scheuer, supporting Katzenbach's proposals, suggested that a gun be developed which would fire pellets that stun a victim rather than kill. He said the pellet gun would give a patrolman far more latitude to use his gun.

At the same time, the New York Democrat said, the pellet gun would cut down on the "number of by-standers killed or wounded by police action."

Both Katzenbach and Scheuer saw great possibilities in a Dick Tracy-style wrist radio. Scheuer pointed out that miniaturization already had progressed to a point where a transmitter could be fitted into an olive and dropped into a victim's martini.

★ ★ ★

Under the administration's bill, the $10 million grant from Congress would be a first-year appropriation. But Katzenbach said the administration did not see "this legislation as launching a massive federal subsidy program."

Instead, he said, it would "permit selective support of a relatively few programs. . . which may demonstrate to all of us steps which could make a difference" in cutting the crime rate.

Ford Paints Rosy Picture for Future

Ford asked the firm's 348,000 stockholders to join him in the fight for complete elimination of excise taxes on new cars.

Congress currently is studying the request of President Johnson for an immediate cut in the ten per cent tax with an additional two per cent slash in 1967. Under President Johnson's proposal five per cent of the tax would remain.

Ford, in backing up his faith in the sales outlook, disclosed Ford Motor Co. has added about $800 million to the expansion plans outlined to stockholders a year ago.

"Last May," Ford said, "I told you that we expected to spend $1.6 billion worldwide for new and improved facilities in 1964, 1965 and 1966.

★ ★ ★

"In order to meet the demand for Ford products we are projecting in the next few years, we have now added $800 million to the plans I reported to you a year ago. . ."

★ ★ ★

NO ANSWER

Ford declined to answer detailed questions about the Ford Foundation's announcement Wednesday that it would offer six million shares of Ford common stock at a public sale soon.

"I've got to catch a plane for Norway," said one guest. "My luggage is on the 13th floor.".

★ ★ ★

Leonard Whitehouse of Baltimore, Md., said he was calling the hotel desk to ask a question when he learned of the fire.

'DON'T PANIC'

"A boy knocked on the door and said 'Don't panic, but get out of here fast,'" Whitehouse said. "I threw on my pants over my pajamas and ran downstairs. The elevators were out of order."

The hotel manager said there were 994 guests in the hotel.

"We have a general alarm operated at the desk," he said. "But we didn't want to panic anyone; so we have the operators call the rooms and other employes checked the rooms."

★ ★ ★

"There was no panic. Everyone was rather cool," said Sam Cohen, a South African auto dealer attending the GM meeting.

GOOD JOB

A New York businessman, Sid Schulman, added: "If it wasn't for the hotel help coming around knocking on the door I would still be up there. They did a good job."

SETTLES' LETTER QUESTION — Mrs. Lucianne Cummings, a Washington public relations woman, revealed in New York yesterday that she was the owner who tried to sell a letter written in 1960 by Mrs. John F. Kennedy to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. An autograph dealer had planned to put the letter up for auction tonight, but Mrs. Johnson wanted it back. Mrs. Cummings, a campaign worker in 1960, had handled the letter for Mrs. Johnson.

LBJ Aiming for 'Instant Paradise'—Ike

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says President Johnson's "Great Society" program is an effort "to establish instant paradise."

★ ★ ★

In an address Thursday night before 500 senior business and financial executives of the National Industrial Conference Board, Eisenhower said the growth of the federal government has been "octopuslike."

★ ★ ★

"The government has displayed great ingenuity in contriving new ways to invade the provinces of states and localities," he said.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower said that the federal government often is in direct competition with private business.

FORMED POLICY

When he was president, Eisenhower said, he established a policy that "the federal government would not start or carry on a commercial activity to provide a service or product for its own use if the product or service could be procured on a fair basis from private enterprise through ordinary channels."

Earlier, the former president was honored by the Ukranian community as "a great soldier of war and a great president of peace."

In a ceremony, he was presented the Shevchenko Medal, awarded by the Shevchenko Scientific Society, and with the Freedom Award of the Shevchenko Memorial Committee of America.

Convicted Narcotics Boss Due at Chicago Crime Investigation

CHICAGO (AP) — A narcotics gang boss has been brought from prison to testify today before a federal grand jury investigating organized crime in Chicago.

Americo DePietto, convicted last year of operating a $10 million-a-year dope ring, was brought from Leavenworth Prison on a writ of habeas corpus to testify, an official said.

★ ★ ★

Among at least five persons subpoenaed, a government official said, was Richard Cain, former chief investigator for the Cook County sheriff's police who was convicted last year of perjury.

Today's session will be the third in eight days for the grand jury, which the official said was empaneled in December to investigate the crime syndicate dealings.

Also among those subpoenaed for today's session, were:

Pat Marcy, 52, secretary of the 1st Ward Democratic Organization who served a prison term for robbery in the 1930s.

Dominic Blasi, a chauffeur and courier for Momo Salvatore Giancana, reputed kingpin of the Chicago crime syndicate.

Leo Manfredi, 49, an ex-convict reputedly connected with the syndicate's gambling operations.

Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, reportedly the crime syndicate's emissary among politicians.

Reports have been circulated that a "mystery woman" would be subpoenaed, following the testimony Wednesday of Phyllis McGuire of the singing McGuire Sisters.

Miss McGuire is expected to return before the grand jury completes its investigation within two weeks, the official said.

Miss McGuire, 34, and Giancana, 57, kept company from 1960 to 1963 in the United States and abroad.

Central Selects Cheerleaders

By KAY COSMA

Pontiac Central High School has chosen its new cheerleading squad for the 1965-66 season. Faculty recommendation dependent upon the individual's excellence in skill, scholarship, attendance, and leadership, determines the winners.

Judy Almas, Carole Beckett, Debby Gordon, Cindy Gowen, Pam Harrington, and Eileen Hatchett were selected.

Others were Cecilia Hunt, Linda Jackson, Jo Johnson, Vicki Leczel, Diane McCall, and Jo Lynn Yansen.

Diane McCall was chosen captain until the end of football season.

The cheerleaders are now planning to attend the Camp All American in Hartland.

* * *

This camp is sponsored by MSU. The girls learn new skills and the latest in cheers and chants.

WEEKEND OUTING

On July 10 a weekend outing is being planned by the senior cheerleaders, Jill Dearing, captain, Sue Froede, Sue Huntzinger, Carol Gray, John Baker, and Jobe Post.

Mrs. Charles Smith is the sponsor.

"War Drums," the album recorded by Central's band is now on sale in the music department. Included on the record are "Wonderland by Night," Ravel's "Bolero" and Civil War songs.

Students have been chosen for membership in the Thespians Club, a national dramatics society.

* * *

OTHERS LISTED

Others are Karen Lane, Mary Jo Myers, Dan Moriarity, Sandi Neeson, Roger Putnam, Mark Papazian, Linda Sundahl, Jeff Stickney, Russ Underwood, Connie Vanderlind, Chuck Wildinson, and Jim Wood.

Still others are Jo Lynn Yansen, Ann Strait, and Mary Worthy.

Top 2 Seniors at Our Lady Announced

By ANN LONGO

The two top students in the senior class of Our Lady of the Lakes High School have been announced.

Valedictorian is Michael Anderson with a 3.5 average. Catherine LaForgeis is salutatorian with a 3.4 average.

Michael served as president and vice president of the student council, president of his sophomore class, and secretary of the Catholic Youth Organization.

Michael won an award in the Optimist speech contest, and belonged to the honor society and the speech and debate clubs. He was on the track team, played junior varsity basketball and three years of varsity football.

* * *

He plans to attend the University of Michigan, major in business and later transfer to law.

Catherine served as prefect of the Sodality, president of the library club, business manager of the yearbook.

She did catechetical work throughout high school, belonged to the Catholic Youth Organization and played varsity basketball for three years.

Cathy plans to become a Sister of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Order in Monroe.

St. Mike's Elects Officers for Council

By HERVEY LAVOIE

Following a vigorous campaign at St. Michael High School officers were elected for the student council.

They are Tom Patch, president; Dianne Campbell, vice president; Margaret Finnegan, treasurer; Rick Land, secretary and Jerry Traynor, sergeant-at-arms.

The seminar on government in action, under the direction of Sister Gertrude Ann, has chosen new officers. Included are Larry Bieri, chairman; Margaret Finnegan, vice chairman-Florence Henretty, secretary; Fran Franzel, scribe; Bob French, business manager and Lorraine Hylla, student council representative.

The annual senior breakfast is scheduled to follow 8:45 Mass this Sunday.

Seniors Trim Gym for Prom

Pick Hawaiian Theme for Kettering Event

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Tomorrow night from 9 - 12 the senior class of Waterford Kettering will transform the gymnasium into Moano Puukohokuu — where the stars and the hills meet in a paradise called Hawaii — for the annual senior prom.

Under decorations chairman Catherine Coleman, palm trees, goldfish ponds, Hawaiian outrigger canoes, and fish nets will be arranged on the gym floor.

Diamond-head will tower from the stage, and the court will boast grass shacks and a smoking volcano. The lobby will hold shells in the showcases, and stately tiki gods.

Refreshments will be served in the court luau-style, under the direction of refreshment chairman Christine Harrington.

* * *

Featured are two Hawaiian dancers and the orchestra.

ANNOUNCE COUPLES

Juniors Richard McPartlin and Mark Harrington will announce the couples.

Trading Moderately Active

Market Prices Mixed, Easy

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were mixed and easy on balance early today. Trading was moderately active.

Slight selling pressure continued following Thursday's sharp decline but many key stocks held their ground or nudged ahead.

General Motors was unchanged, Chrysler off a fraction and Ford easy. American Motors was steady and Studebaker unchanged.

The heavy selling of auto stocks which triggered Thursday's general retreat had all but ceased.

The trend continued mildly lower among steels, rubbers, mail order-retails, aerospace issues, electrical equipments and rails.

PATTERN IRREGULAR

The pattern was irregular or a shade higher among chemicals, electronics, oils and nonferrous metals.

Losses of a point or so were shown by IBM and U.S. Smelting, routine moves for high-priced stocks.

* * *

Thiokol was active and a shade higher.

Pacific Lighting dipped ¾ to 29¾ on a block of 44,700 shares.

Pan American Sulphur advanced a point and a half.

OPENING BLOCKS

Opening blocks included:

Thiokol, up ⅛ at 18 on 10,000 shares; American Telephone, up ⅛ at 69¾ on 7,400; and Westinghouse Electric, off ⅝ at 52 on 5,000 and 2,300.

Thursday, the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks fell 1.6 to 339.7.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

State of Siege in Colombia

Decreed by President to Cope With Unrest

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — President Guillermo Leon Valencia today decreed a state of siege throughout Colombia to cope with internal unrest.

The decree banned public demonstrations and authorized departmental (provincial) governors and the mayor of Bogota to impose curfew, censorship and ban the sale of alcoholic liquors.

The drastic government Measure, which amounts to modified martial law, was announced at 4 a.m. after a cabinet meeting that started late yesterday.

The Congress, however, was authorized to continue in session to aid the government in legislating measures aimed at reestablishing public order.

* * *

Colombians received the news with apparent calm. It had previously been indicated Valencia might decree a state of siege to enable him to dictate emergency measures to deal with social, economic and political problems, including student street disorders.

CITES TACTICS

Only yesterday, conservative Sen. Gustavo Salazar Tapiero told his colleagues that the Communists were trying to set up a "Sierra Maestra" in Colombia.

The Sierra Maestra was the Eastern Oriente Province Mountain range in Cuba where Premier Fidel Castro launched his revolt.

The senator presented a detailed analysis of Communist advances in his department (province) of Huila and elsewhere in this South American country.

* * *

He warned that unless the nation faced up to the situation "the days for Colombians as a free people are counted."

STATE OF SIEGE

The decree imposing the state of siege said that, in addition to the student incidents, public order had been affected "by attempts against liberty, life and property."

This was a reference to the wave of kidnapings over the past year. The latest victims were multimillionaire Harold Eder, who was killed by his abductors, and industrialist Oliverio Lara Borrero who has been held by kidnapers for more than a month.

The student troubles began 11 days ago in Medellin when police clashed with university students demonstrating against the landing of U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic.

Students in other cities supported the Medellin students and the protest spread across the nation.

'Hodeo' Slated for Backhoers

A "Hodeo" will be held tomorrow near the Holiday Inn, 1801 S. Telegraph, Bloomfield Township, featuring backhoe operators from 25 communities in the area.

Winner of the area championship competition, sponsored by Massey-Ferguson Inc., will compete for the national championship in Detroit June 12.

* * *

Backhoes, seen on many construction sites today, are used for trenching and a wide variety of other earth-moving work, according to the sponsors.

Skill in operating the backhoe is of greater importance today than the know-how of the cowboy, whose rodeos set the pattern for the Massey-Ferguson Hodeo.

Military Spending May Buoy Economy

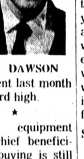
By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Increased military spending may take up some of the slack that is predicted if the buying of steel and autos for civilian use dips from fever pitch.



DAWSON

Orders for military hardware are cited as a chief reason that new factotry orders for durable goods rose 2 per cent last month to set another record high.

* * *

Transportation equipment makers were a chief beneficiary. Civilian car buying is still at a high level, if off a bit from the peak. But the industry makes other goods, too. And companies with items fitting into aerospace needs are getting fatter orders. Increased fighting in Viet Nam and the crisis in the Dominican Republic also are leading to more ordering of military supplies.

Just how much civilian ordering of hard goods may dip from the unusually high rate set in the first months of the year is yet to be seen. One uncertainty at the moment is what Congress will finally do about excise taxes on autos and appliances, and whether the public will take a wait and see attitude about buying until the tax cuts are in effect.

SLACKENING

Many companies may be able to offset much of whatever slackening develops in the civilian sector by fresh orders from the new military and aerospace requirements.

Because of the current uncertainty about the course of consumer buying—whether a peak has been reached and a levelling off or slight dip is ahead—the gain in durable goods orders in April is reassuring to those who have been predicting that the economy will climb through the rest of this year.

* * *

Orders of hard goods rose to $22.1 billion in April, ahead of the like 1964 months by 8 per cent.

These factory orders mean a building up of backlogs which will keep the lucky firms busy, sometimes for months ahead. Durable goods orders thus point ahead even more than they influence the present statistics.

REASSURING

They are especially reassuring as the period of summer vacation shutdowns approaches. And they help quiet some of the fears built up by the expected slight dip in auto and steel production.

Steel output has been setting records because of increased use of the metal but also, in part, because of a desire to build up stocks as a hedge against a strike threat, now postponed till Sept. 1. Hopes for a labor settlement instead of a strike increased as the union fight over the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America cooled down with David J. McDonald bowing out to let I. W. Abel take office June 1 without further contest.

* * *

Government economists are also counting strongly on the still-rising total of personal incomes to keep the civilian sector of spending from dipping even if industrial output slows down during the hot weather months.

In April, the seasonally adjusted annual rate of personal incomes set a record at $514.5 billion, up $700 million from March. One thing helping the rise was a record high in corporate profits that inspired boards of directors to pay out 11 per cent more in cash dividends in the first four months of this year than in the like period of 1964.

NO CERTAINTY

While consumer spending can never be charted ahead with certainty, the likelihood of at least a modest increase in military spending seems a sure thing.

* * *

That can be a stimulant to the economy, just as a tax cut can, although Washington may stress the tax cut more and talk less about the increased ordering for military purposes.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I have $16,000 in savings. I have been thinking of taking $10,000 of this money and investing in General Motors and Chrysler. I do not know what these stocks yield and whether I would be better off with them than I now am." N. N.

A. I do not believe you should tie up so much of your capital in one industry, which is riding high now, but which is always subject to cyclical variations. General Motors, which has just increased its second - quarter dividend to $0.75 is now assumed to be paying at an annual $5 rate. At present levels, the yield is 4.6 per cent. I recommend this stock for purchase.

Chrysler yields only 1.9 per cent on its cash dividend of $1. Although the company has made great strides under able management, the shares have recently been acting poorly, partly because of a large rights offering which will ultimately dilute earnings. In its place, I suggest Atchison Rwy., yielding a quite well secured five per cent.

Q. "The following statement was made to one of my friends. If you go to a broker every day you can make a good living buying several low-priced stocks and, as soon as the price goes up even a point, selling and buying another. Is this true?" O. F.

A. At this historically high level of the market, most low-priced stocks are down because they have lost earning power. I don't believe you should ever buy a stock just because it's low-priced, attractive though that situation might seem.

Earlier this year, you might have bought Studebaker at 7¾, as many speculators did. If you had, you would now be looking sadly at a 2 point loss. I advise you strongly against gambling in the market. Buy values and let them work out.

Chrysler to Build Styling Center in Highland Park

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — Plans for a Chrysler Corp. styling and engineering center to be built here were announced Thursday.

* * *

Chrysler Facilities Engineering Manager John von Rosen said the plant would be built on a 42-acre site near the present Chrysler complex and would employ 2,500 persons by 1970.

* * *

No cost estimates or further details were released.

Chrysler will bid on the land after federal approval of an urban renewal project in the area. Approval is expected later this month.

Oxford Union Votes to Fight for Britain

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Britain's Defense Ministry can rest easy today. Oxford University students, at least 493 of them, are willing to fight for their country.

The Oxford Union, a debating society open to all undergraduates, last night rejected a motion that "this house would not fight for queen and country." The margin was 27 votes, 493 to 466.

The debate had caused a furor in England because it revived memories of student pacifism in the 1930s here. In 1933, the Oxford Union voted 275 to 133 that "under no circumstances" would its members bear arms for Britain.

Sir Winston Churchill charged the results of that debate might have convinced Hitler and Mussolini that Britons would not resist the Nazi war machine.

Many of those who voted for the 1933 motion were sent white feathers, a symbol of cowardice, by enraged Englishmen.

Two union trustees resigned in protest against last night's "white feather" debate and many other prominent Oxford educators were loudly critical of it.

★ ★ ★

Publicity was nationwide and the British Broadcasting Corp. televised the proceedings for showing at a later date.

The current Oxford Union president is a Pakistani, 21-year-old Tariq Ali. He received threats against his life and uniformed and plainclothes police mingled with the crowd of 2,000 persons which was present for the debate last night.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

The Fogha sisters, Siamese twins separated in surgery 11 days ago in Turin, Italy, are reported making excellent progress. Their doctors say they will be able to walk normally.

Dr. Luigi Solero, head of the 15-man team that separated the 6-year-old girls, Giuseppina and Santina, said today, however, he would not consider them fully out of danger until affected tissue has completely healed.

Boy Scouts Pay Tribute to John Glenn

GLENN

Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. was among 10 men who received miniature silver buffalos in Miami Beach last night—symbol of the highest award given adult volunteers working in the Boy Scouts of America.

Others honored included Austin T. Cushman, Chicago merchandising executive and Royal Firman Jr., Cleveland industrialist.

The scouts are holding their national council annual meeting.

Student Commutes to School by Airplane

Dallas M. Cogan, an Air Force enlisted man who commutes to class by plane from Hancock Field in Syracuse, N.Y., to Washington, hopes to graduate from American University June 13.

Cogan has been logging about 1,000 miles a week since last February, flying to Washington every Monday for a once-a-week class in chemistry. He is making up credits for a bachelor's degree.

He flies half fare as a military standby. And the Air Force has helped by allowing him to use his leave for the travel.

Holiday Patrols to Be Increased by State Police

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police have ordered stepped-up patrols over the Memorial Day weekend.

Commissioner Joseph Childs ordered special patrols for the holiday period, starting at noon Friday and extending until midnight Monday, May 31.

★ ★ ★

Pass day will be canceled for the period. Detectives will take over desk duties to relieve uniformed officers for the patrols.

State Police again are calling on the National Guard for assistance. There will be 108 Guardsmen working as second men in two-man patrol cars.

Report No Progress in Strike Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — The first bargaining session since Wyandotte Chemical Co. was struck May 4 by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union was adjourned Thursday with "no progress made, said state mediator Edmund Phillips. Some 1,600 workers walked out after their contract expired. No date was set for further discussions.

Antirebel Drive Launched by Burmese

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — With the end of the monsoon season, the Burmese army has launched another massive drive against Communist and tribal rebels.

The government reports at least 30 rebels killed, three rebel bases smashed and more than 500 surrenders during the first two weeks of May. It is a record for the past year.

★ ★ ★

The army said it lost only three men. But the rebels, hard pressed by the offensive, have taken revenge against the civilian population. Nineteen civilians have been murdered, the government says.

More than 60 Shan tribesmen surrendered at Kokang, in the Shan States, and 120 surrendered at another base nearby. They brought in a large amount of arms and ammunition, including bazookas, grenades and automatic weapons.

AMMUNITION SEIZED

Government forces have seized more than 10,000 rounds of ammunition during the two-week period.

The biggest encounter between government troops and the rebels was near Pantanaw, 200 miles north of Rangoon. A government patrol clashed with a band of 80 Communist guerrillas on May 5. The battle raged for two hours and the rebels fled, carrying away their dead and wounded.

In another clash, government troops killed seven right-wing Kachin rebels and wounded six more on May 9 near Kyitkyina, 700 miles north of Rangoon.

In the Shan States, near the Thai-Burmese border, seven Shan rebels were killed and three others wounded on May 14 when government commandos attacked a Uhan rebel camp.

3,000 FLEE

The rebels have been most active in the Kachin States. In the first week of May, more than 3,000 refugees fled from 15 villages because of rebel terrorism.

The government has concentrated its effort in central Burma, the stronghold of the Communist rebels. The Red guerrillas has taken a severe beating ever since peace talks were broken off in 1963.

★ ★ ★

Red guerrilla leaders have been pushed back so fast into the jungle hills that they have lost all contact with each other. The rank and file are reported completely demoralized.

The government has avoided any major campaign against the tribal rebels for fear this might win sympathy for the rebels. Instead, the army has concentrated on harassing tactics and lightning thrusts against known rebel bases.

★ ★ ★

This policy is apparently paying off. Of the surrenders in the last fortnight, 90 per cent were from tribal groups.

Village School Gets 'Poor Sister' Tag

Children's Village School was described as the poor sister of the Waterford Township School System last night by its principal.

Speaking to the school board, Principal James W. Marshall outlined some of the unique difficulties of the school which serves youngsters in the Oakland County Children's Center and Children's Village.

Main stumbling block to providing an adequate education program at the school was the lack of equipment such as visual and audio aids, according to Marshall.

"We are poorly equipped in instructional materials and below par with other county schools," Marshall said.

★ ★ ★

Marshall said the root of the problem is that Oakland County is not providing sufficient funds for the school.

NO JURISDICTION

Even though the school is included in the Waterford system due to its geographical location, he said Waterford Schools has no jurisdiction over funding for capital equipment.

Another unique problem the school must meet is an unusually high pupil turnover rate, Marshall said, which adds difficulty to setting up a sound educational program.

A total of 443 students were enrolled in the school since last September and 302 of them since have been released. Present enrollment is 141.

★ ★ ★

Youngsters attending the 37-year-old kindergarten - 12th grade school at 1075 N. Telegraph include delinquents, neglect cases and emotionally disturbed youngsters.

Marshall and Dr. Kingsley Montgomery, director of children's services for the school system, spoke during the regular curriculum report segment of school board meetings.

Hospital Gets '10 More Beds'

Pontiac General Hospital is now a 401-bed hospital, up 10 beds over its previously rated 391 beds.

However, it's strictly a matter of mathematics, not actual beds.

The hospital has been rated 391 beds. According to state regulations, the number of beds are determined by the amount of square feet.

For some time, hospital officials have realized that the pediatrics section could have 10 more beds under state standards.

Pontiac General's occupancy percentage, which is reported annually to the state, has been figured on the basis of 391 beds.

Now however, hospital officials will report on the basis of 401 beds. Thus, Pontiac has gained a larger hospital through mathematics.

U.P. Development Is Ahead--Romney

HOUGHTON (AP) — "The Upper Peninsula is really one of the valuable underdeveloped parts of the United States," Gov. George Romney said Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Romney spoke at a Michigan Week dinner at Houghton's Michigan Technological University.

★ ★ ★

The development of the Upper Peninsula still lies ahead, Romney said, and the people at Michigan Tech are leading the way.
