3,000 in City Wait for Train to Hear Speech

Sides With Broomfield on Federal Aid Funds for Local Projects

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, whistlestopping in Pontiac yesterday afternoon, said the Eisenhower administration stands for progress, peace and prosperity.

His 20-minute speech here, foreshadowing a major address in Flint's IMA Auditorium last night, reflected pollsters' conclusions about the national race to date and skilfully blended platform points of local candidates.

Hammering at his theme that Eisenhower is the best man to keep peace the next four years, Nixon said the President's Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson, "just isn't in the same league with President Eisenhower."

He added, "Regardless of what party we belong to, this man is the best man America has produced to lead us in the next four years."

Pollsters and political pundits have agreed the Nov. 6 election depends on the votes of uncommitted Democrats and independents.

STAND ON U. S. AID

Nixon drew applause from the crowd with a statement on federal aid policy. He said the federal government cannot undertake every local project throughout the nation, but should be prepared to step in where local governments are unable to handle their problems.

"The United States is the great country it is because we recognize individual rather than government enterprise," he added.

William S. Broomfield, Oakland County GOP candidate for Congress, has opposed Democrat Paul Sutton's platform statement that federal aid should be forthcoming to aid South Oakland County in solving its water and drainage problems.

Broomfield, who was given the job of introducing Nixon, also called on state ticket candidates who were traveling with the train.

Richard B. Van Dusen, candidate for attorney general; John B. Martin Jr., for secretary of state, and Clarence A. Reid, for lieutenant governor, all waved briefly from the platform of Nixon's car.

GOP "progress and prosperity," Nixon said, have given the country "sound-Eisenhower dollars rather than rubber Truman dollars."

The halting of inflation, he said, "lets us plan for the future and know the dollars we save now will buy a dollar's worth of goods when we want to use them."

Democratic policies, he said,

Find Moore Guilty

After two hours of deliberation, a 2-man, 10-woman jury yesterday convicted Howard Wayne Moore of first-degree murder in the sex-slaying July 27 of three-year-old Linda Little of Lake Orion.

Moore listened impassively to the verdict, which carries a mandatory life sentence. He will be sentenced by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

He was accused of driving the girl from her home after dinnertime to a deserted lovers' lane 11 miles away, where he assaulted her, then beat her to death with a tire-iron.

Moore was arrested that night at a Lake Orion gas station. The girl's body was found about 2 p.m. the next day.

Under Michigan State Law, a killer convicted of first-degree murder faces mandatory life imprisonment. Only the governor can commute the sentence after 17 years and on recommendation of a parole board.

The jury had been instructed of four other possible verdicts: guilty of second or third degree murder, innocent by reason of insanity, or innocent of the crime.

Insanity figured as the main defense forwarded by Ingraham. Hartrick praised Ingraham as discharging well his full responsibility to his client and to the State.

Ingraham asked the jury to consider Moore's "abnormal" behavior since his arrest July 27, the night the girl was found beaten to death in a field 11 miles from home.

He touched on medical testimony that Moore is insane, saying society has an obligation to give Moore treatment if he needs it.

Ziem countered with the statement: "The terrible thing about Moore is he is not insane. He should never be allowed to prey on little children again."

$612,202 Goal Marked for '56 by Torchlighters

More Than 4,500 Begin Three-Week Campaign to Aid 54 Agencies

Pontiac Area United Fund volunteers, fired by successful first reports, embarked this morning on the biggest drive in the fund's seven-year history.

More than 4,500 Torchlighters will start a three-week campaign to raise $612,202 to support 54 voluntary health, welfare and child-care agencies next year.

They will ask contributors "to dig a little deeper" to meet the nine per cent goal increase over last year's figure.

"Knock on every door."

Main speaker was Frank O. Staiger, executive secretary-treasurer of the Michigan District of Kiwanis, who commended volunteers for the "spirit with which you are determined to make this campaign a success."

85 PCT. REACHED

Nearly 500 volunteers heard reports the advanced gifts section of the Special Gifts Division had reached 85 per cent of quota.

Division chairman H. Wayne Gabert announced $58,000 out of a total $68,000 sought from large givers had already been pledged.

"Many have met the suggested nine per cent increase," he said, "and some have contributed much more."

Willman then introduced Gabert and other chairmen, Mrs. Ralph G. Bump of the Geographic Division and James F. Nye of the Commercial Division. Harvey Johns represented Earl Maxwell, chairman of the Commercial Division.

TORCH LIGHTED

After breakfast, officials watched two Campfire Girls light the symbolic torch at North Saginaw street and Oakland Avenue. They were Gloria Giddings, 9, of 491 Second Ave. and Donna Lyons, 10, of 411 First Ave.

The torch will burn steadily throughout the campaign, a reminder of the need to which the

Near Riots in Three Cities

Oust Stalinist Defense Heads in Poland Following Anti-Russian Demonstrations

WARSAW, Ponland (AP)—Wild anti-Russian demonstrations were reported from three major Polish cities today.

Angry crowds in Wroclaw, the former German city of Breslau stormed the headquarters of the Polish-Russian Friendship Society and tore down and trampled on Soviet flags.

A Western eyewitness said the crowds yelled "Rokossovsky to Siberia!" and "Tell the truth about the Katyn murders!"

Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, a Soviet Red army hero of World War II, is the Polish defense minister who was ousted Sunday from the United Workers Communist Party politburo in a purge of Stalinists.

Warsaw radio, in a broadcast heard in London, said there had been a shakeup in Rokossovsky's defense ministry.

It said Gen. Marian Spychalski, once purged with Wladyslaw Gomulka, the new chief of the politburo, had been appointed deputy defense minister and chief of political officers in the Polish army. He took the place of Gen. Kazimierz Witaszewski, who had played a key role in exerting Stalinist control over Poland's armed forces.

* * *

The radio said the action was taken by the new politburo "in accordance with the motion of the minister of national defense"—presumably Rokossovsky.

AT STETTIN, KRAKOW

Similar demonstrations were reported from Stettin and the university city of Krakow. All three towns are near the Polish border with Communist East Germany.

From Berlin comes word Communist East Germany has been trying to suppress news of the anti-Soviet political upheaval in neighboring Poland.

Last night police seized all copies of an east Berlin Communist tabloid that gave excerpts of a speech of the new Polish Communist Party boss, Wladyslaw Gomulka.

Western sources said East Germany's radio jamming stations have been going at full capacity

H-Bomb Tests Topic Tonight

Adlai Flying to New York, Will Hit 'Bedrock Issues'

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson turned to what his aides called "bedrock issues" today as he prepared to fly to New York City on a final nonstop drive of presidential campaigning.

The Democratic nominee put foreign policy—and his own GOP-opposed proposal to move toward the banning of hydrogen bomb tests—at the top of the list for discussion.

He was expected to expand in a Madison Square Garden appearance tonight on what he said yesterday was the "real issue" involved in an exchange of letters between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin. Stevenson said the issue is:

"What we are going to do to save the world from hydrogen disaster."

Aides said Stevenson will also concentrate in the final two weeks on these subjects:

Alleged GOP favoritism to big business at the expense of the little fellow, or, as Stevenson puts it, "General Motors vs. Joe Smith;" a vote for Eisenhower is a vote for Vice President Nixon; the high cost of living and low farm prices.

WORDS HAD STING

Stevenson obviously was stung by the wording of what he called Eisenhower's "unfortunate" message assailing Bulganin's latest letter offering to reopen discussion of possible curbing of atomic tests.

The Stevenson camp felt Eisenhower went out of his way to attempt to put his Democratic opponent on the same side of the political fence with Bulganin.

The President said Bulganin's criticism of Secretary of State Dulles was "personally offensive to me." He added that Bulganin's statements "seem to impugn my own sincerity."

After a tour of New York's boroughs tomorrow, Stevenson faces a full schedule of announced speaking dates through next Monday night's appearance in Boston.

From there he is expected to travel to Camden, N. J., for an afternoon speech and to Philadelphia for a night speech Oct. 30. He probably will make additional New York City appearances Oct. 31 and a speech at Pittsburgh that night.

Tentatively, he has arranged to visit Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, in upstate New York, Nov. 1.

A Cleveland rally at noon and a Detroit rally at night are on the Nov. 2 schedule. A rally is scheduled in Chicago the night of Nov. 3, with church attendance in Bloomington, Ill., the following day.

He may wind up the campaign with a nationally televised address from Chicago election eve, Nov. 5.

Nixon, whistle-stopping through Michigan on a campaign tour yesterday and today, spoke for 20 minutes yesterday afternoon at the Huron Street Grand Trunk crossing. Expert Aided in Selecting Courthouse Site

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles describing plans for a new Oakland County court house.)

By CONRAD N. CHURCH

Oakland County's supervisors have been thinking about a new courthouse for many years. The present building and its annex have been so overcrowded that it has been necessary to go outside for much more space. Even the former Masonic Temple building was insufficient to provide all the space required for offices as a result of the county's rapid growth.

* * *

Definite, organized plans for building a new courthouse began with the employment of Dr. Louis Friedland, professor of government at Wayne University, as an adviser to the Board of Supervisors' Special Building Committee. This was in 1953.

He surveyed the whole county area in an effort to find the best possible site. All possible factors were considered. These included distribution of the county's population and population trends, traffic, accessibility, costs, parking and others.

Dr. Friedland has worked closely with the special building committee of the Board of Supervisors, and this group visited several other counties with him in the big task of deciding where the courthouse should be located and the space needs of the various county departments.

* * *

Dr. Friedland's employment was announced publicly, as have been all of the major steps taken since. He first made a study of population trends. His study forecast a total county population in 1956 of 500,000. Present estimates indicate that the growth has been even more rapid than his study anticipated. Today the population is estimated at approximately 600,000.

Next Dr. Friedland studied the proposal that city and county should build a joint governmental center in or near Pontiac's downtown section. Meetings were held with City Manager Walter K. Willman, City Commissioners, and the special county committee.

A study was made of 29 other places where such a combined civic center had been tried. In practically all of these other places the city concerned dominated the county in population and in its concentration of the various mortgage, financing, legal and other agencies which have the most frequent contacts with county offices.

* * *

Dr. Friedland says: "That was not the case here. Pontiac has only about 11 per cent of the county's population. By 1960 less than 10 per cent of the population will reside in Pontiac.

"Likewise, such a concentration of affiliated business agencies does not exist in our case. Much of that type of work still stems out of Detroit and its immediate vicinity.

"We then studied the site favored by the city, which it already had acquired at Hill and Pike Streets. We found this site entirely inadequate for a combined center. It lacked anywhere near the amount of land required for buildings alone, to say nothing of adequate parking space.

"To secure sufficient land for parking and buildings would have made the cost prohibitive. It would have involved buying a great deal of surrounding land at high cost and going up into the air with a skyscraper type of building which would have been more costly than the type we are now planning.

"Oakland County already owned between 335 and 350 acres in an area readily accessible to the whole county. It is an ideal location. Also the county already had constructed several large buildings on this site. If we had gone in with the city, we would either have had to abandon these buildings, or efficiency of our county operations would have been reduced through having some functions in downtown Pontiac and others in the Telegraph road center.

"We know what those difficulties are at the present time when we are using several buildings downtown in addition to the units already occupied at the county service center on Telegraph road.

"Another factor was the steam plant which had already been constructed on the county center site. It was being used at only about one-fourth of its capacity, as it had been anticipated when built that it would serve other units to be erected later.

* * *

"Our county campus-type center, with all of the county service buildings grouped in one area, is in the modern trend. It makes for efficiency, both for the county employes and officers, and in convenience and ease of contact by the public.

"This is going to be increasingly true as the years go on. Our local governmental units cannot begin to provide all of the services demanded by the people. County government must expand to care for such of these as cannot be provided by our townships, cities and villages.

"The Board of Supervisors made its final decision on the site in 1953. Our study had shown that the county was occupying then some 120,000 square feet in five or six buildings in Pontiac, in addition to the buildings in the county center. All of the county offices were crowded. So a study next was made of the space needs of all the various county departments."

Dr. Friedland and the special committee met with all departments and got their ideas. Their recommendations were studied in detail. Among those consulted were the judges and the bar association. Dr. Friedland reports that several sessions were held with the circuit judges.

His study came up with a total of 250,000 square feet of space that would be required by 1965 to house all of the departments now occupying downtown space. Of this total 220,000 square feet is in actual office space, the remainder in corridors, stairways, elevators, etc.

In order to provide for the space needed in the immediate future and to avoid providing a lot of space that would stand unused for years as the need for it gradually increased, it was decided to build a courthouse tower of five stories and a basement as the first unit, with three wings that could be added in later years as need arose.

Later articles in this series will take up in detail, first the way in which the Board of Supervisors proposes to finance the new courthouse, and, second, a detailed explanation of the building itself.

Supervisors Refile Request to Vacate Street

After six months of no answer, Oakland County Board of Supervisors has refiled its request with the Pontiac City Commission that the city vacate West Boulevard to permit its relocation through the proposed County Service Center.

Having a place on the weekly City Commission agenda, is a communication from Harold K. Schone, chairman of the Special County Building Committee, urging an answer "as quickly as possible so the proper development of the area is not hampered."

The Board first made its request in April at which time the commissioners referred it to an informal session. No answer ever developed.

Mayor William W. Donaldson explained the delay by saying the commissioners had hopes of retaining the courthouse in its present downtown area.

Schone pointed out in his letter that the county was proceeding with the first unit of the new courthouse and county office building.

RECOMMEND OK

Highlighting four reports from the City Planning Commission, is one recommending approval of the city's first "personal service district" zoning classification.

The proposed area would be the east side of Franklin boulevard from Pike to Orchard Lake, the west side of Franklin from Orchard Lake to Huron, and the south side of West Huron street from Franklin to Palmer street.

Public improvement items on the agenda include two engineer estimates, possible acceptance of one special assessment roll, and six confirmations of completed jobs.

The State Highway Dept. has submitted a request that the city take action prohibiting parking on Perry street between Huron and Walton boulevard prior to the widening of the state trunkline.

Routine acceptance is expected to be voiced for an amendment to a grant agreement for an additional $12,000 to the city for payment of the new 4,000-foot runway at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Nixon Cites Peace, Prosperity to Pontiac

"never produced prosperity except in a time of war."

The issue of peace, Nixon said, "is the most important question for the voters." He said Eisenhower is a "partisan for peace, one we can bet on and depend on."

In the next four years, he said, there will be international meetings with top Russian leaders. "And regardless of what you may think of them, they're pretty tough cookies at a bargaining table," he said.

Voters must decide whether they want Eisenhower or Stevenson to present them at these parleys, Nixon said.

"The cause of peace is bigger than any party, as big as America," the vice president said. "We can't afford second-best leadership."

Despite one heckler waving a Democratic sign, and another with a trombone who played the first bars of "The Missouri Waltz" as Nixon's train pulled into the station, the vice president was eagerly received.

Despite his apparent confidence yesterday, and his comment to newsmen that the GOP Michigan campaign is in "the mop-up stage," Nixon sounded a note of warning in his first whistle-stop today.

"The moment we become overconfident and say this election is in the bag, the American people will be left holding the bag.

"And it will be a bagful of empty Stevenson promises based on the political shellgame of buying votes with your own money," he told his Lansing audience.

MSU Would Like Tilt With Oklahoma Team

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State athletic director Biggie Munn said today that he would like to schedule a football series with Oklahoma.

Michigan State, just today, nudged Oklahoma out of top place in the Associated Press poll.

Munn said, however, it would be "impossible" to talk about a 10-year contract as one report of the projected series had it.

Munn said there had been little discussion with Oklahoma authorities on the proposal recently, however.

"We also would like to get in a game with the University of Detroit," he added.

Montana is three times as large in total area as the state of New York. It is equal to the combined areas of the United Kingdom plus all of the Netherlands and Belgium as well.

Order Murder Trial in Fairgrounds Killing

Two Ferndale youths and a Detroiter today faced first-degree murder trials in the fatal beating last month of another youth outside the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Recorder's Judge Paul E. Krause yesterday ordered Tom Rollins, 19, and Odell Gray, 18, of Ferndale, and Horace Collier, 18, of Detroit, held without bail. Trial date has not been set.

A 16-year-old youth is in custody of Juvenile Court pending a decision on whether jurisdiction will be waived to permit his trial as an adult in the case.

All four are accused of beating 14-year-old Gerald Rondeau of Wayne, with a tire iron Sept. 4 as he waited on a corner for relatives to pick him up.

The Day in Birmingham

Brief Meeting Sees Stall on Rubbish Contracting

BIRMINGHAM — In a one-hour commission meeting last night, City Commissioners deferred awarding of the rubbish and garbage contract for an ordinance survey.

The city attorney is to report back next week on whether a three-year contract could be issued rather than a one-year contract.

Low bidder, Painter and Ruthenburg Truck, of Detroit, offers to work for $65,000 a year or $189,840, for three years, which would average $63,280 a year.

Commissioners received a protest from Fairfield property owners on rezoning of three lots at 14 Mile and Pierce. Residents advocate a terrace there instead of an office building, to limit traffic hazard for school children.

No action was taken on the city's quarterly financial statement with Finance Dirctor James Purkiss and Commissioners James Rentrew and Manley Bailey all absent.

A request to change the name of George Street to George Place was rejected.

To mark United Nations Week, now underway, Birmingham citizens are invited to Torry School, on East Lincoln at Torry, to a special community meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Mayor James C. Allen will open the observance, and participants will include Russell Barnes, foreign affairs commentator for the Detroit News, and a Birmingham resident. He was only Michigan correspondent at the Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting in Moscow.

5 Gas Stations in City Robbed

Police See Similarity in Breakins; Loot Set at $541

Five Pontiac gas stations were broken into and robbed of $541 in cash and merchandise Sunday night, Pontiac police said today.

No arrests have been made and there are no suspects but investigators said the breakins were similar. Each place was entered by breaking a window. Machines, desks and cash registers were pried open.

Biggest losses were reported by the Marathon station at 480 Orchard Lake Ave. which lost $264.17, and Dickie's Service Station, 200 S. Telegraph Rd., which had $210 stolen.

Two batteries worth $30, and $4.45 in change were stolen from the Mobilgas station at 360 Orchard Lake Ave. Some $23 in cash and a pocket watch worth $10 were stolen from the Cities Service Station at 307 Oakland Ave.

The Cities Service station at 415 Orchard Lake Ave. was also broken into but nothing was taken. Apparently burglars were scared away by an alarm. A window was broken at the Texaco station at 874 W. Huron St., but the building was not entered.

Conviction Called 'Justice'

Orion Backs Moore Jury

LAKE ORION—There was a general feeling throughout this small community yesterday afternoon that justice had been done.

Moore, 24, was found guilty of first degree murder of three-year-old Martha Little of Lake Orion July 25. Conviction carries a mandatory life sentence. He will be sentenced Monday.

Everywhere one went here yesterday, citizens expressed their belief Moore was guilty. Many remembered that warm Saturday evening when residents combed the neighborhood trying to locate little Martha. They said they will never forget the shocking news when the girl's body was found by a sheriff's deputy.

NEIGHBORS SPEAK

An expectant mother, Mrs. Dean Brumm, said, "All the evidence pointed to a guilty charge."

"Any man must have been crazy to do such a thing," said Glen Pickering, employed by a cleaning firm. "Most of the people around here wanted to see him hang."

Pickering's feeling toward capital punishment was shared by others who asked their names be withheld.

* * *

A filling station owner who lives only four blocks from the Little home, Tom Ricketts, expressed his opinion this way: "I feel that he was guilty because he first made the statement he was."

"I personally feel that the man is insane and should be treated as such," Ricketts said as he continued serving a customer.

The jury of 10 men and two women took less than two hours Monday to reach a verdict, rejecting a defense strategy of insanity.

'SURE HE'S GUILTY'

A mother of two children, who helped search for Martha, Mrs. Howard Michaels of 540 Newman Rd., said: "If the jury feels he was guilty after hearing the evidence, I feel the same way."

Clarence Baker of 265 Indian Lake Rd., an ambulance driver, said: "I figure he's getting what he deserves and that should be life imprisonment."

Claims Cobo Erred on Retarded Children

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams charged last night his Republican opponent, Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, has "twisted and distorted and falsified" facts in connection with the state's hospitalization program for mentally retarded children.

* * *

Immediately after the Democratic governor's campaign telecast, Cobo issued this rejoinder from Detroit where he is confined by a cold:

"Every figure used by me in my remarks last Friday on the treatment of retarded children was taken from the official records of the Mental Health Department.

"I am not surprised that Gov. Williams challenges the statements I made for the simple reason that he and very few people around him have any idea as to the over-all mental health picture in the state."

COBO WOEFULLY IGNORANT

Williams said Cobo has shown "woeful ignorance" in reporting the state has vacant space it could be using for about 650 mentally retarded children.

The governor quoted the State Mental Health Department as saying, "There are no vacant beds for retarded and deficient children in any of our institutions that could be occupied."

Williams also attacked the Republican - dominated Legislature, saying he had "to go over the Legislature's head to the people" last year to get a hospital program. The program, he said, has taken care of nearly 1,150 of the 1,250 children who were on the waiting list when he called a special session of the Legislature to do something about it.

* * *

The Governor said he will ask for more money for more beds in January.

"The facts are," Williams said, "that for years I begged the Republican legislative leaders to give us enough money to provide decent care for these (retarded) children. And every year they refused to do so.

"The waiting list (of those ordered committed by courts) increased month by month, until finally, about a year ago, it went to 1,250 children . . .

SPECIAL SESSION

"I declared the existence of this waiting list of 1,250 children to be a public emergency. I called the Legislature into special session and laid before them — and the people—an emergency program to wipe out the waiting list. . . .

"You all remember what happened. . . . Instead of acting promptly, the Legislature bogged down in a bitter internal factional quarrel among Republican legislators—a quarrel which was pure politics and had nothing to do with the needs of afflicted children. . . .

"They adjourned the session and went home. . . . I refused to accept that. I called them back the next day in a second extraordinary session. . . . They responded by recessing the Legislature so I couldn't call them back a third time and again they went home.

* * *

"This Republican stalemate . . . went on for two months. . . . Public opinion was outraged. Nearly every newspaper in the state editorially supported our demand for action. Every member of the Detroit Common Council signed a telegram urging the Republicans to drop their factional row and take care of those children.

"My opponent was mayor of Detroit at that time, but he did not sign that telegram. He was in Arizona attending to his real estate investments.

COSTLY CHANGES

"They allowed us to rent . . . space in the Children's Hospital at Farmington and in the old Ft. Custer Hospital at Battle Creek. To put retarded children in these hospitals . . . required extensive and costly remodeling. . . .

"Yet with all this Republican obstruction . . . we have succeeded in putting 603 children into the Ft. Custer Hospital and 190 children into Farmington. With other space we have found in other hospitals, we have succeeded in nine months, in providing hospital care for 1,150 of the 1,250 children who were on the waiting list a year ago."

Williams said Cobo was wrong in reporting 130 vacant beds in a state hospital at Coldwater.

The governor said 130 beds were under construction "but only 57 beds are finished and all 57 are already occupied."

Williams said Cobo reported the State Administrative Board hadn't provided furniture yet for a children's unit at the State Hospital at Newberry, then the governor quoted thus from the Newberry superintendent:

"There are no vacant beds at the children's unit . . . that could be used. All completed buildings are fully equipped with furniture and all available bed space is in use."

* * *

Williams also quoted the state's director of mental health as reporting to him:

"In response to your inquiry, there are no vacant beds for retarded and deficient children in any of our institutions that could be occupied . . ."

A United States Senator Looks at Russia

Soviet Worker Enjoys But Meager Fruits of His Labor

(This is the second of five articles by U.S. Senator Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) based on his recent trip through the Soviet Union and the Middle East.)

By HENRY M. JACKSON
U.S. Senator (D.-Wash.)
(Distributed by INS)

The Soviet man - on - the - street speaks about his desire for peace with a sincerity that is lacking in the deeds of his leaders who speak the same way.

The subject of peace would come up in virtually every conversation we had with the Russian people.

One important reason for this, I am sure, is that every Soviet citizen realizes that the improvement of his own lot depends on peace and a deemphasis on military production.

The Soviet citizen has been producing for the motherland since before World War II. He would like to start sharing more of the fruits of his labor.

It is fair to say that the Soviet Union is no worker's paradise!

The average wage is 750 rubles per month. A factory worker may earn 900 to 950 rubles. Farm workers on state-owned farms earn up to 800 rubles.

At the official exchange rate of four rubles per dollar, these wages might not seem terrible low.

* * *

A dozen eggs — small ones at that—cost 10 rubles ($2.50) at a state-owned store and more on the open market.

Limited items available at reasonable prices required waiting in a long queue for service. This, too, was true at food stores—the Soviet housewife spends an interminably long time waiting in line.

* * *

We were granted permission to pick homes at random to visit. We stopped at one apartment house where a bewildered woman invited us in.

We were surprised at the number of people in the apartment. It soon turned out that what we thought to be a single family was in fact three families—each assigned to a single room and sharing a common kitchen and bath.

EXTREMES IN HOUSING

We saw two extremes in housing.

On a collective farm we saw people living in dilapidated huts without sanitary facilities. We got the impression that some of the favorite farm animals shared these huts with the humans.

And one afternoon in Moscow our driver took us for a trip outside the city. We were able to see the villas (Dachas) of the important people in government, including some homes of members of the Praesidium.

We weren't invited in—but judging from the size and appearance of these dwellings, there are people in the Soviet Union who live in the best capitalist splendor.

This led us to an important discovery—there is as much class consciousness in the Soviet Union as anywhere else, if not more.

This stems fundamentally from the exclusive membership in the Communist Party of seven million persons out of a popular of 210 million.

The Communist Party has taken over positions of privilege once held by landed gentry under the czars.

There are some important considerations for the masses, however. Just about every community of any size in the Soviet Union has an opera house or a legitimate theater. Soviet citizens may lack adequate sanitary and other normal conveniences of life, but they seemingly never fail to have an opera house or cultural center.

In Alma Ata, Tashkent and Samarkand, all in the South Central U.S.S.R., for instance, separate schools were maintained for the native racial strains and for those of Russian stock.

The claim was made that separate schools were necessary for language reasons and because the separate racial groups lived in separate parts of town—more segregation.

We were able to go to church one Sunday in Moscow—but religious freedom is only a myth in the Soviet Union.

The Russian Orthodox Church we attended in Moscow was the only church we could find open.

Most of the churches have been boarded up. Some are used as museums, others have been allowed to deteriorate in a shameful way.

The church we attended was packed inside with hundreds of other would-be worshippers standing in the street outside.

In Alma Ata, a city of 300,000, we were advised that only one mosque, one synagogue and one Russian Orthodox Church were open. This struck us as a classic example of giving lip service to religious freedom.

These, of necessity, are only hastily-gathered impressions of the way of life of the Soviet people. It is not a happy picture. But our impressions, I believe, were borne out by the conduct of people in the street.

Except in the gay Republic of Georgia, there were no smiles, no laughter, little conversation—just the muffled footsteps of people too weary of life to smile, laugh or even talk about it.

Study 2-Mile Strip for Willow Run Jets

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Air Force is considering plans to extend a Willow Run Airport runway to 9,500 feet — almost two miles — making it the longest jet runway in the Detroit area.

The work would be on the instrument landing runway. The longest such strip is 8,200 feet at Selfridge Air Force Base.

The Army Corps of Engineers has asked for maps of the property to make preliminary surveys. A congressional appropriation would be necessary for the work.

An Air Force reserve unit, the 472nd Fighter-Bomber Squadron, is based at Willow Run. It flies F84 and T33 jet planes.

Floyd Wakefield, airport manager, said he has no idea how much the project would cost.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service disclosed that Hugo Seinfeld, 34, had been flown out of the country last Wednesday. He is not eligible to return.

* * *

He said he despairingly poured a glass of wine laced with cyanide for himself, but she talked him into leaving the hotel and going for a walk alone.

* * *

He found her dead when he returned, he told police. He said she had drunk the poison intended for him.

Seinfeld came to the United States from Israel last June on a student visa.

He is the father of three and was recently divorced in Israel.

Bob Considine Says:

America's Queens Outshine Real Royalty

OMAHA, Neb. (INS) — It may confuse the peoples overseas, but this great land of democracy probably produces more queens per week than the royal families do in a century—and generally better ones, too.

* * *

The difference in their queens and ours is that theirs have things pretty well greased for themselves, via heritage, while ours emerge as the best of a competitive lot of attractive young American girls.

Two queens were crowned out this way over the weekend. They were pretty Marlyn Serbousek of Hay Springs, Neb., queen of the Nebraska wheatland, and vivaciously lovely Sally Jane Skutt of Omaha, who'll rule for the following year as queen of the Kingdom of Quivira, a never-never land created by a remarkable organization named Ak-Sar-Ben.

Ak-Sar-Ben, the name of the state in reverse, is a 22,000-member non-profit group formed in 1895 to lift Omaha and surrounding areas out of knee-deep-doldrums.

* * *

It provides hundreds of scholarships, supports agricultural research projects, conducts a livestock show and the world's biggest 4-H baby beef show, stimulates the interest of youngsters in farming, builds bridges, operates ambulances and lifesaving equipment, runs an annual thoroughbred race meeting, provides rodeos, ice shows, Broadway stars and bands to entertain Ak-Sar-Ben members—who pay two cents a day to belong.

CORONATION GUEST

I didn't have the pleasure of seeing Miss Marlyn coronated but through a friend named Morris E. Jacobs, who used to be a newspaperman himself, I had a front-row box at the elevation of Sally Jane to queenhood.

* * *

He's V. J. Skutt, a good-looking hard-working fellow who reached Omaha from someplace in South Dakota in 1919, babysitting a load of steers, worked his way through Creighton Law School and up through the ranks to the presidency of the biggest health and accident insurance company on earth, Mutual of Omaha.

This coronation was more than a passing milestone in his particular life.

* * *

You've got to see one of those things to believe it. Dream up, if you will, a 9,000-seat coliseum turned into something splendidd enough to pop the eyes of Louis XIV.

Fill it with gowned performers, accolytes, pages, crown bearers, etc., dressed more handsomely than, let us say, the glittering cast of characters which attended the wedding of Grace to Rainier.

* * *

Add the Ak-Sar-Ben Symphony, the pomp and circumstance of processionals, Radio City Music Hall-brand lighting, and you begin to perceive faintly what one of these spectaculars is like.

WHITE TIE, TAILS

I've never seen as many men in white tie and tails, or manlier looking ones, or more splendidly gowned women, than the spectators and relatives who lined the block-long stretch of blue carpet which reached from the white and gold doors at one end of the arena to the lustrous throne room at the other.

* * *

There was a good acre or two of white orchids a'flutter like doves to lend further enchantment to a scene which would have startled the people of the wagon trains who first broke this land and, equally, would have dazzled the society folk of New York, Palm Beach, Chicago and San francisco who assume they hold a monopoly on such splendor.

I learned from Molly Simpson's piece in the World-Herald the next morning that her ivory white gown, by Howard Shoup of Beverly Hills, glowed with 8,640 jewels, and that it was made up of such things as 15 yards of pellon, 20 yards of Venetian lace, 36 yards of Val lace edging, and 75 yards of nylon tulle petticoat.

* * *

It took a strong girl to bear that handsome burden the length of the coliseum. The girl's sparkling goodness, as American as a scrubbed face, shone as she made her way to her make-believe throne through the ranks of those who know her and love her and others who are like her.

Resisted Stalin but Survived

Top Pole Lucky to Live

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Polish Communist Party Boss Wladyslaw Gomulka is lucky to be alive.

He and Yugoslav Marshal Tito, whose line of independence from the Kremlin he followed, are two top-rank Reds who defied Stalin at the height of the cold war and are still around to tell the tale.

Because he said Poland must follow her "own road" of socialism and made clear this was not necessarily the Moscow path, Gomulka was stripped in 1949 of the office he has regained.

Two years later the 51-year-old balding Gomulka with the hatchet face and piercing eyes was arrested. He languished in jail four years without public trial but never recanted his views.

He was openly called the "Tito" of Poland by the Polish press, which demanded he be brought to trial.

Gomulka's named was mentioned in the eastern European trials in which other top Communist leaders were charged with "Titoism," confirmed to death and executed.

Some of them have been "rehabilitated" in the new destalinization era but only Gomulka can reap the benefits.

Gomulka, the son of an oil field worker, who took his first job as a blacksmith when only 14, lacks dash and color, but he compensates for it with a dogged determination—for example, his long-time embrace of a "nationalistic" approach to communism.

Ponders Probe on Vote Frauds

Judge to Rule on Plea for 1-Man Grand Jury in Macomb County

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe says he will rule within a week on a request for a one-man grand jury to investigate alleged bribery and election fraud in Macomb County.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh asked a countywide grand jury inquiry, without specifying any particular communities, in a formal petition yesterday.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery, however, currently is investigating reported irregularities in Warren Township's recent charter election. And the St. Clair Shores City Council recently ordered an investigation into city purchases.

Kavanagh said in his petition he had reason to believe that since 1951 "certain public officials and public employes have threatened injury to property with intent to extort money" and "corruptly accepted" bribes.

He also said that "certain public officials" are believed to have conspired to violate state election laws and that witnesses appear unwilling to testify without a subpoena.

The attorney general charged, in addition, that some officials have received "financial interests in the profits of contracts for the sale of land and services in return for their votes or influence" on official matters.

In nearby Detroit, meanwhile yesterday, a one-man grand jury indicted Ecorse City Councilman Elmer G. Korn, 57, on a charge of accepting a $100 bribe in return for his favorable vote on a hauling contract.

Korn, the third councilman indicted, is accused of taking $100 from Harry T. Hickey on July 15, 1954, when Hickey, who has since broken with Voisine, was Ecorse public works commissioner. Both denied the charge. Hickey was not indicted.

Blast Sets Off Blaze in Texas

Explosion in Gasoline Treating Unit Cause; 2 Critically Burned

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—An explosion just before midnight touched off a gasoline fire which roared out of control for a time today in the sprawling Magnolia Refinery here.

An explosion in a gasoline treating unit touched off flames which roared out of control about an hour and a half.

Two men were critically burned as flames danced 100 feet into the air from about 16,000 gallons of gasoline.

There was no damage estimate.

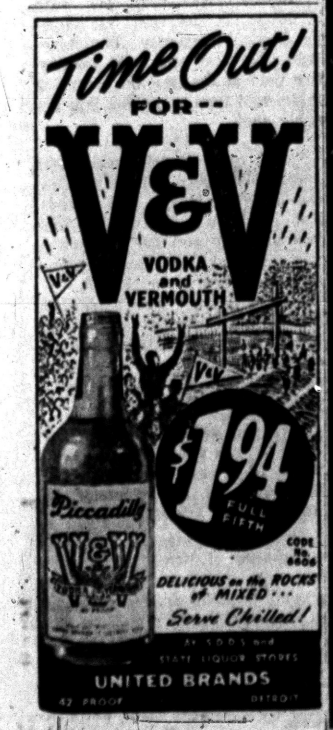

The flow of petroleum into the fire area was shut off, reducing the danger of spreading the fire into other units of the refinery, which dominates the southeastern edge of this southeast Texas city.

Dewey Raps Red Campaign Meddling

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Gov. Dewey of New York has charged Soviet Premier Bulganin with seeking to influence the Nov. 6 election by telling Americans that Adlai Stevenson is right and President Eisenhower wrong in the H-bomb controversy.

"I'm sure that every American resents Bulganin treating the United States as if it were one of Russia's satellites," said Dewey yesterday on his arrival here to address two Republican rallies tonight.

THE AGE OF CHIVALRY — 2

A King

The lord of the castle governed his small community like a king, having absolute power over the people in return for his protection. Because his life was often in danger from the envious he usually wore body armor beneath his rich robes.

The king's throne was carved in fantastic shapes and richly gilded, he wore a jeweled crown, and carried a scepter, or baton.

Many stories of great kings have come down to us in legend. Most famous of these is King Arthur and his knights of the Round Table in the castle of Camelot.

Use your brightest crayons to color this picture, and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully, and slit, as indicated, on each side of his hands. Then you can slip the scepter into his right hand, or slip the sword under both hands, so it lies across his knees. Cut the opening in the crown and put it on his head.

Tanya's Father Kidnaped, Too?

Witness Tells Probers Maybe Reds Forced Return to Russia

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators summoned U.S. immigration agents today to tell of their unsuccessful efforts to find Alexei Chwastov aboard ship before he sailed for Russia with his tiny American-born daughter.

* * *

The Senate Internal Security subcommiteee heard testimony yesterday that Chwastov, a refugee from the Soviet Union, had indicated he wanted to stay in the United States, but that he voiced fear "the Soviet Embassy will get me" if he did not return to his homeland with Tanya, his 2½-year-old daughter.

One witness said Chwastov may have been seized by Soviet agents when he wavered in his decision to go back to Russia.

Chwastov sailed with Tanya aboard the Queen Mary Oct. 3. When he got to London, suit was filed there in the name of the girl's mother, Mrs. George Dieczok of Detroit. This blocked him, at least temporarily, from taking Tanya on to Russia. Mrs. Dieczok left for London late yesterday to fight for custody of Tanya.

Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel, said the child's birth certificate shows Tanya is the illegitimate daughter of Chwastov and Mrs. Dieczok. Morris said the father has no legal right to hold her, and may have violated U.S. law by taking her out of the country without first getting an American passport for her.

Mother Held in Death and Slashing of Son

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A 34-year-old mother was charged with murder last night after she slashed her wrists and those of her four-year-old son and her nine-year-old daughter. The boy died.

Mrs. Cecilia Linder was arraigned before Alderman Robert J. Kalbach and ordered held in the Schuylkill County Prison without bail pending a grand jury hearing on charges of murder, assault and battery, and aggravated assault and battery.

Chief of County Detectives William Keuch said Mrs. Linder told him she tried to take her own life and those of her children early yesterday because she had been in poor health, bordering on a nervous breakdown.

Paper Says Deportee in London Is Relaying Kremlin Line

NEW YORK —The New York Herald Tribune said in a London dispatch today that the American Communist party is receiving directives and instructions from Moscow through a contact man in London.

* * *

The copyrighted dispatch identified the man as John Williamson, who was deported from the United States to Britain two years ago after serving a prison term for advocating overthrow of the U.S. government by force. Williamson is a native Britisher who fought and lost deportation proceedings when he came out of prison.

* * *

The dispatch said Williamson writes a regular weekly column in the London Daily Worker titled "The American Scene." In recent weeks it has stressed U. S. election issues as seen from the Communist viewpoint.

* * *

The Herald-Tribune story said the column disappeared from the Communist newspaper during the latter half of August when Williamson was understood to have visited the Soviet Union and returned with a directive embodying Soviet observations and instructions.

* * *

The dispatch described thusly the substance of Williamson's message to the U.S. Communists:

Soviet leaders are amazed at the nature of discussions and developments taking place in the U.S. Communist party and feel it has lost all perspective and orientation. Anger is being expressed over statements in the Daily Worker in New York which propose to abandon the teachings of Marx and Lenin.

* * *

The dispatch said Williamson is to stress to American Communists to cease all anti-Soviet slander, regard Marxism-Leninism as basic and to retain William Z. Foster as chairman and Eugene Dennis as secretary of the party.

Top Hungarian Reds to Meet With Titoists

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Hungary's Communist party boss says his government must secure the understanding and support of the broadest masses of the people to develop a democratic system.

Party Secretary Ernoe Geroe heads a delegation of top Hungarian leaders conferring with Yugoslav leaders including President Tito, who has been preaching national communism independent of Moscow. Geroe's comments were published last night in Borba, a newspaper that speaks for Tito's government.

Soil Bank Funds Buy GOP Votes, Estes Charges

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver accused the Eisenhower administration today of using the farm soil bank program for political purposes.

* * *

"The soil bank is being cut and trimmed to fit the political needs of the Eisenhower administration," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at a fair grounds farm-labor gathering here.

"Very little of the money is going to states that are considered sure to go Democratic. Not much more of it is going to states that are considered safely Republican.

"The money is being spent in states where Republicans are in the most serious political trouble —states like Iowa. One fifth of the whole national total that is being spent on the soil bank this year is going into Iowa."

Kefauver hit out at apportioning of federal soil bank funds in a speech prepared for AFL-CIO labor groups and members of the National Farmers Organization.

The soil bank, enacted this year by Congress, authorizes payment of more than a billion dollars to farmers who agree to reduce plantings of surplus crops or place a percentage of the acreage into a soil reserve.

to Study U.S. Elections

The three, who arrived in Washington yesterday as guests of the State Department, are also scheduled to visit the Capitol.

Monroe Officials Support A Plant

City Commissioners Pass Resolutions Attacking 3 Unions Opposing Plan

MONROE (AP)—To support the proposed atomic power plant near their city, Monroe City Commissioners passed a unanimous resolution last night, attacking three unions who oppose the plant.

* * *

Commissioner Lawrence A. Frost who sponsored the resolution said it would make "it apparent that we little people have a definite interest," in the construction of the plant.

"The unions' sudden concern for the safety of the people of Monroe, brings tears to one's eyes," Frost said.

The United Auto Workers, the United Electrical Workers and the United Paper Workers asked the Atomic Energy Commission this weekend to reconsider its refusal to suspend construction of the plant.

* * *

Bert Wilcox, president of the Monroe County Building Trades Council, said members of his council were alarmed over latest moves to stop the project.

He said his council will send a wire to the AEC supporting the continuation of construction work. He added he would ask the Toledo (Ohio) Building Trades Council to join in the request since the opposing unions implied, he said, there was danger from the plant to Toledo.

Help of All Is Needed in United Fund Drive

Once again the people of the Pontiac area face an all important task.

That task is to raise between now and November 16 the $612,202 needed to finance for next year 54 health, welfare and family service agencies in the United Fund.

After a splendid kickoff breakfast today, the campaign got away to an enthusiastic start with a huge army of volunteers under United Fund Chairman WALTER K. WILLMAN. Every one of those volunteers is donating his services. They are prepared to call on every home, office and industry in Pontiac, and Waterford and Pontiac Townships.

Because of rising costs and growing population, the goal of this eighth successive campaign is nine per cent greater than last year's $562,175. Everybody's help is needed if Pontiac is to maintain its record of never having failed to go over the top in all previous United Fund drives.

★ ★ ★

The United Fund way of "giving once for all" presents this thriving community not only with an obligation but with an opportunity to help others. It coordinates the needs of the various agencies insuring that each gets a fair share and that none will be overlooked.

★ ★ ★

Let's do all we can to lighten the burden on the volunteers. Let's put this drive over the top before the deadline. Let's prove as we always have that Pontiac looks after its own by recognizing and promptly meeting its social service obligations.

Give generously because the idea of contributing once-for-all is sound and the need is great.

N.Y. Thruway Chairman New U.S. Highway Chief

President EISENHOWER has made an excellent choice in appointing BERTRAM D. TALLAMY of New York to direct our new $33 billion, 41,000 mile Federal highway construction program.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks calls Tallamy, chairman of New York's Thruway Authority, "one of the world's greatest builders of roads." Now 54 years old, Mr. Tallamy, a native of Plainfield, N. J., is a 1925 graduate of Rensselaer Institute.

Early in his career the appointee became established in the construction field. In 1935 as a member of his firm, Fratts, Tallamy, Senior & Forrestel, he became Deputy Chief Engineer of the Niagara Frontier Planning Board and was appointed Chief Engineer in 1937.

While on this board Mr. TALLAMY was responsible for planning the Buffalo to Niagara Falls section of the New York State Thruway system, now under construction. He also helped plan an expressway from Buffalo through the City of Lackawanna, now part of the state arterial route system.

To accept the position of Deputy Superintendent of Public Works of the State of New York, Mr. TALLAMY in 1945 left his private engineering firm and the planning board. In these positions he gained wide and valuable experience in every phase of road planning and construction. He was appointed Chief Engineer of New York's Public Works Department in 1947 and was Superintendent from 1948 to 1955.

★ ★ ★

Mr. TALLAMY will take over direction of the vast 13 year project early next year after winding up his affairs as chairman of the Thruway Authority, a job he has held since 1950. In the meantime the new post will be filled temporarily by JOHN A. VOLPE of Winchester, Mass., a construction company executive.

All available evidence indicates that Messrs. TALLAMY and VOLPE are unusually well qualified to direct this gigantic and all important project.

H-Bomb!...H Stands for Harry!

David Lawrence Says:

'56 Campaign Devoid of Morality

WASHINGTON — Present-day politics must inevitably cause many of its practitioners to hang their heads in shame. For campaigning today seems to be devoid of morality. It has gone so far in the widespread use of deceptions and untruths, that people may wonder why the politicians think the majority of the voters have so little intelligence as to believe these misrepresentations.

Before the presidential campaign began there was pious talk about "moderation." But gradually it has become apparent that former President Truman, the champion of the "give 'em hell" technique, has dominated the style and strategy of the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson.

The Republican spokesmen, too, have fallen victims to the strategy and have tried to return arguments in kind. The cries of outraged provocation always lead to more charges and counter-charges.

Adlai Stevenson has made the basis of his campaign on innuendo that there's some kind of crooked relationship between the Eisenhower administration and "big business." Yet he himself, in a magazine article in October 1955, complained that "it became part of the ritual of new deal politics to castigate a business system that has always been recognized by Americans as the only permanent source of the jobs and consumer purchasing power which 'the government' was trying to restore."

Another example is this comment in a recent speech by Stevenson: "They (the Republicans at their convention) deliberately and dramatically threw Joe Smith—American—out, and put Richard Nixon—Republican—in."

The Democratic speakers, on the other hand, can point to Republican misrepresentations, too. It is not a fact, for instance, as some Republican orators claim, that the Democratic party caused both World War I and World War II or had the primary responsibility for the outbreak of the war in Korea.

The worst deception, however, is in connection with Adlai Stevenson's speeches on the H-bomb tests and the draft. Reports from different parts of the country indicate that many women voters may have been led to believe that, if Stevenson is elected, he will abolish the H-bomb and end the draft.

Yet this comes under the head of campaigning. Expediency, misrepresentation, innuendo, guilt by association, anything to get elected—all these are the characteristics of the present campaign. It looks as if 1956 will establish a record for unfairness and unmoral partisanship.

sary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Well it seems like Mr. Adlai now is burned up by his speeches, because his party under the leadership of "Give 'Em Hell, Harry" could not bring about the peace, which we did get under the fine leadership of President Eisenhower, his capable staff and the American people.

As for letting the enemy drop the first bomb and then do something, isn't that like locking the barn door after the horse is stolen? The testing of the bomb is nothing compared to what the real thing will be, which the enemy will be sure to drop on us if they figure they are the strongest.

Adlai's views on this alone should snow him under with defeat. I see in a Detroit newspaper that he nets $500,000 alone from a Republican newspaper he owns. On a TV program where the panelists appear strictly for charity, one had the nerve last week to say it is for Dollars for Democrats. How long has that been called charity?

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Sounds Caution at Heavy Tobacco Users

At the outset I assure readers that I'm no authority, but just a writing doctor. Furthermore, I'm a moderate smoker and a rabid teetotaler. I say a moderate smoker, meaning that when I'm at work, I don't smoke at all nor want to, until after the day's work is done. Then, after dinner in the evening, I enjoy my pipe more than any tobacco hog can enjoy excessive indulgence. On play days, however, I have my first smoke after lunch or lunch time, when I arrive at the bowling green. All forenoon when I'm working, I have no particular desire or craving for a smoke. Years ago, when my cigars cost nothing (cigar maker kept me supplied in lieu of payments on his bill), I smoked at any time from breakfast to bedtime and never did learn to enjoy it.

Nowadays we hear a good deal about the alarming increase in cancer of the throat, larynx, bronchi, or lungs of smokers. Heavy smokers. Tobacco hogs. People who can't be temperate or moderate, they let themselves go and smoke to excess.

As already mentioned, I am no authority about smoking, cancer, or other subject. I have no mass of statistics to substantiate my opinion, but at the moment I cannot recall one among the numerous reports in current medical literature that ascribed such cancer to moderate pipe smoking.

The experts seem confident that "tars" in tobacco smoke account for the irritation of the throat, larynx (voice box), bronchial tubes, and lungs. Nicotine doesn't figure any more in investigations of the nature and cause of cancer.

What the role of "tars" may be is difficult to estimate. But from the information I have garnered from the study of current medical literature, I infer that the harmful potentiality of tobacco is greatest in cigaret smoking, cigar smoking is less harmful, pipe smoking still less harmful, tobacco chewing and snuff taking least harmful.

Furthermore, I am convinced—remember, I'm just an ordinary doctor—that the injurious factor of tobacco smoke is not "tars," not nicotine, but carbon monoxide.

Remember, air containing 1 or 2 parts of C-O per thousand may cause unpleasant symptoms such as headache, dizziness, sense of constriction across forehead, weakness, nausea, even loss of consciousness. In every puff of cigaret smoke there is a wee bit of carbon monoxide.

The C-O in tobacco smoke accounts for the fact that some persons who do not smoke nevertheless suffer the ill effects of smoking if they are confined in a poorly ventilated room where one or more persons are smoking.

Young children and frail women are particularly susceptible to such poisoning. Stimulants and painkillers are dangerous. The first aid treatment is either carry the victim out into the open air or open wide doors and windows to give the victim a good draft of fresh cold air.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Be 'Big Shot' Without Juvenility

Stop and analyze what you mean by fun! Discuss this topic in high school or Sunday school classes. Why do inferiority complexers relish exceeding the speed limit? Why do they swill down liquor? If it is just to appear "big shots", why not learn how to really be "big shots" without such juvenility?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

* * *

"Dr. Crane, I've been reading your column every day," he said, after his worried parents had brought him to see me.

"And I would like to quit liquor. But it seem the things I enjoy are all wrong, while the thing that are right, I just don't take to.

"I had one year of college, but got expelled for some escapades. And it has always been like that. I'm always getting into trouble.

"I just naturally crave excitement and the good things my parents recommend don't give me any thrills.

IMITATE THE DIABETIC

We must steer our appetites and not be slaves thereto. Esau was a victim of his appetite for food and thus sold out his birthright.

Such stupid conduct should be avoided by young people. At the outset, you should all realize that when you are adults, you will be slaves.

* * *

That is literally true! All of us adults are slaves to habits. The chronic drunk is a slave to the liquor habit.

I, myself, am a slave to the habit of refraining from all liquor. So the drunk and I are both slaves.

But his habit makes him lose jobs and alienate his wife and terrorize his children and contract syphilis or gonorrhea, etc.

My habit leaves me sober and happy and healthy and imposes no unnatural strain on Mrs. Crane or our five children, for I don't beat them up when I get home in the middle of the night.

So face this matter of adult slavery and pick your taskmasters wisely. Select good habits which will win you friends and salary increases and produce good health and morality.

* * *

Imitate the diabetic, who learns that too much candy and sugar are bad for him, so he cultivates a scientific eating habit.

Later, he relishes his meals and actually has no more craving for sweets.

WHAT IS FUN?

"What fun do you get in doing the wrong things?" I asked.

"You pay fines and get locked up in jail. You stab your faithful parents in the back. You bring shame to your children.

"You stagger on the street and fall in the gutter while people laugh at you. You get arrested for drunken driving, even if you don't kill somebody while inbriated at the wheel.

"What fun is there in that kind of behavior? Why don't you get wise to life and train yourself to like the things which will not harm yourself and your family?"

"Liquor burns when you swig it down. Is that fun? It dopes up your inferiority complexes temporarily, as ether will anesthetize pain at the hospital operating table, and then you think you are a big shot.

* * *

"You may forget your fears and unpaid debts and the humiliation of your family and friends. But it doesn't last long. Soon you sober up and see that you've just run away from your problems for a few hours via alcohol.

"So why don't you learn how to have fun without getting drunk? If your inferiority is due to sexual complexes, then order the appropriate bulletin via my column in your newspaper.

"If you actually don't know how to be a good father to your kids, then get the 'Test for Fathers' and rate yourself on the 100-point scale therein.

"But quit fleeing from reality via alcohol. Learn to face reality and win legitimate rewards by playing the game of life according to our adult rules."

ADMIRING CITY SCHOOL — Pictures and plans, above, are of Pontiac's new James Madison Junior High School, completed this fall and judged tops in its class at the eighth annual Michigan School Board Conference in East Lansing. Admiring the display are, left to right: R. C. Rowlson and J. T. Hilberg, of H. E. Beyster and Associates in Detroit, and J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac schools. Semi-Annual Coin Bourse Set Sunday at Boys Club

The Pontiac Coin Club will hold its semi-annual Coin Bourse Sunday beginning at 9 a.m. at the Pontiac Boys Club.

Various rare coins, paper money, curios, medals, stamps, and even wooden nickels will be on display at the exhibition, which is open to the public.

Dealers from every part of Michigan and from other states will participate in the Bourse. The exhibition will be open until 5 p.m. with Club President Walter Willson presiding.

Many of the dealers will have unusual coins for sale and will be in the market for purchasing additions for their collections.

BRING COINS

All local persons having coins they wish to sell may bring them to the Bourse.

All coins will be displayed in glass cases with cards of identification in under them. The exhibition will include coins from all parts of the nation and world.

President Willson, who reportedly has one of the finest collections of paper money in the state, and several other Pontiac collectors will have display in the Bourse.

Donate to Hurt Athlete

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A check for $533 has been turned over to Fred Corbus, former Western Michigan College athlete injured in a fight May 30 with Eugene Lekenta, one-time Michigan State University football player. The money was raised at a benefit basketball game between the Sutherland Paper Co. team and the Major League All-Stars.

Privately owned aircraft in the United States consumed $176,600,000 gallons of gasoline last year — enough to supply 221,000 average automobiles for one year.

Rookie Troopers Start Training

EAST LANSING (AP)—The first of three recent schools to train 168 new state troopers opened yesterday at State Police Headquarters.

Sixty-five recruits are enrolled in the first class, which will last seven weeks.

After their first four weeks of classroom instruction, the trainees will be assigned posts in the fields for several months, then return for four weeks of advance training.

The extra state troopers were authorized by the Legislature last spring.

Fears Ike Fell Into Red Trap

Rayburn Hits Rejection of Bulganin's Proposal to End Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn said today he fears the Eisenhower administration has fallen into a propaganda trap by rejecting summarily Russian Premier Bulganin's latest proposal on ending nuclear tests.

President Eisenhower should be concerned with how "to save the world from atomic death" more than with diplomatic niceties, the Texas Democrat said in a statement issued through the Democratic National Committee.

* * *

Eisenhower on Sunday sharply rejected Bulganin's suggestion for an international agreement to ban the testing of atomic and hydrogen bombs. He accused Bulganin of meddling in the American election campaign and said that in other ways the Soviet Premier had transgressed usual diplomatic practice.

* * *

Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower's Democratic opponent, said yesterday he shares Eisenhower's "resentment at the manner and timing" of Bulganin's letter. Stevenson, however, said the United States should "pursue this opening immediately and all the way."

Rayburn, in a statement telephoned here from his home in Bonham, Tex., discounted the importance of whether Bulganin had sought improperly to intercede in U.S. affairs.

"It seems to me," he said, "that the real issue is not whether the Russians sought to interfere in our domstic political debate, or whether or not they have used the proper diplomatic channels.

* * *

"The real issue is how we can find a way to save the world from atomic death. Mr. Eisenhower owes it to his country to address himself to that issue."

Costly Train Crossing

JACKSON (AP)—A traffic count showed that trains at the busy New York Central crossing at Michigan avenue here block some 1,040,000 cars an average of 624 hours a year. City engineers figure the dollar loss in man hours in the years the crossing has been used would approximate 20 times what a grade separation would cost.

Texas Judge to Rule If NAACP Is Legal

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan will decide today whether the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People can continue to operate in Texas.

Whatever his ruling, it is expected that an appeal will be made.

The defense rested yesterday after 16 days of testimony had been heard.

The state has asked that a temporary restraining order issued against the NAACP by Dunagan be made a temporary injunction. If such an injunction is ordered it will remain in effect until a full-scale trial finally decides the issue.

Just Tackle Awkward Foods With Confidence

Do Raw Oysters Make You Feel Inferior?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — To me, the raw oyster — staring up damp and untidily from the half-shell — has always presented a dining problem.

* * *

I don't care if it is some pearl's mother.

The oyster defies chewing, bulges the Adam's apple appallingly when consumed whole, and is constantly threatening to slither off the fork or lips and splash off to freedom.

I guess when you stop to analyze it (as deep thinkers will) the trouble with the raw oyster is that it oozes around too much.

It simply doesn't seem altogether dead.

Now of course that is perfectly silly, an editor of "Good Housekeeping" tells me. Oysters are one of America's finest delicacies, and probably you suffer only from an inferiority complex about them.

Me? I inquire haughtily. Inferior to an oyster?

GULP WITH AUTHORITY

She hastens to explain. This inferiority involves an inability to look forthrightly at an oyster, pick up the proper sharp-tonged fork and spear it into the mouth to be swallowed — whole, in one gulp, and authoritatively.

* * *

"Some foods simply don't lend themselves to ordinary knife-fork-or-spoon eating, but require special techniques," she says.

"These are what we at Good Housekeeping call the 'awkward foods,' and it so happens that in our current issue we tell you just how to get around any embarrassment you might feel when they are put before you."

There was forthwith put before me a copy of this "Complete Etiquette of Eating Awkward Foods," which points out that not only the oyster, but many other slippery or pithy delicacies are giving Americans trouble.

* * *

For instance, bananas. What do you do at a dinner party when the hostess passes around a tray of fruits for dessert and you are pining for a banana. Well, in the first place, do not hesitate. Take it. Then:

"Peel bananas by hand. Lay the fruit on your plate. Place the peel to the side of the plate. Using a fork, cut and eat a slice at a time."

A TOUGHER TASK

With fresh apricots and plums, it's tougher. "Eat as close to the pit as possible; when there is no longer enough fruit to hold onto, put the remainder of the fruit, and the pit, into your mouth.

* * *

"Now bite off the fruit and remove the pit from your mouth with your fingers — or raise your cupped hand to your mouth and put the pit into it, transferring it to the plate."

In Europe, the removal of fruit seeds or fish bones from one's mouth calls for hiding the face behind a napkin, but "Good Housekeeping" says no-no-no, it's bad taste in America. "It simply calls attention" to what you're doing.

Steamed clams, like oysters, are a mental block to many diners. They try to pick them out of the shell with a fork but this is taboo, gentlemen.

* * *

"Take the shell in your left hand and hold it over a dish," if you'd be correct. "Remove the clam from the shell with your right hand and dip it into butter or broth."

If you find a clam that hasn't been opened by steaming, for gosh sakes leave it on the plate, and don't attempt to open it. This could only lead to disgrace or broken fingers.

* * *

Among dozens of other helpful little tips are: Eat no more than three rows at a time of corn on the cob; start eating asparagus from the tip end; remove fish bones from your teeth with the thumb and forefinger; you can drop small chunks of bread in gravy and eat them with a fork, but only one piece at a time; eat shoestring or julienne potatoes only one at a time, with the fingers; and with sandwiches, the "usual" proper procedure is to quarter them before eating.

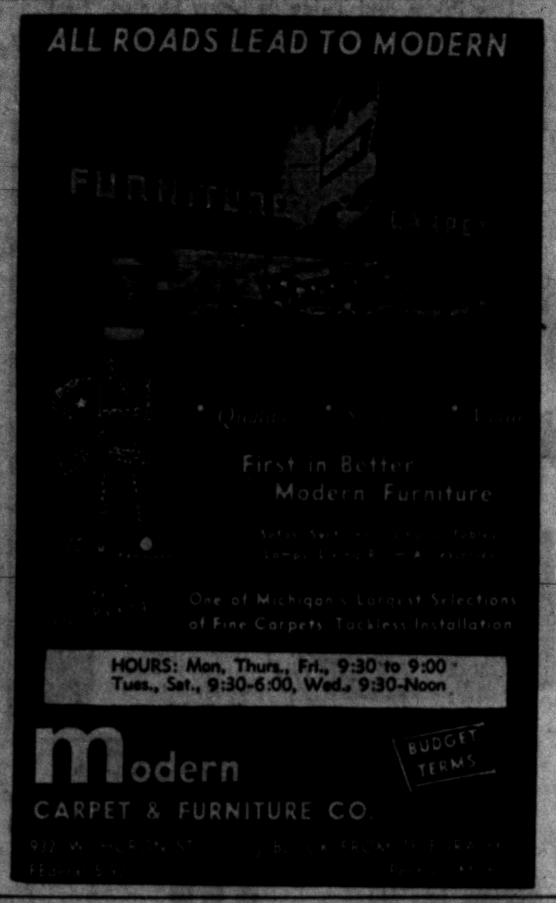

* * *

And always look at those awkward foods with confidence. Then the whole world — heaven forbid! — will be your oyster.

Highway Toll May Shock U.S.

Safety Czar Predicts Drastic Action to Curb Slaughter

CHICAGO (INS)—Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, says the record-breaking traffic death toll being piled up this year may shock the nation into drastic action to reduce it.

* * *

Dearborn predicted a high of more than 41,000 auto deaths will be set in 1956 and asked:

"Can anyone contend that death and danger on the highway are not reaching the point of a national emergency that calls for action by everyone, just as would war, flood or some other disaster?"

PUBLIC AROUSED

He said the public is more safety conscious today than at any time in history and becoming more and more aroused as the highway toll rises. He added:

"I see this aroused citizenry uniting in local safety groups to pool their demands for a stop to this slaughter that threatens their families and their security."

Dearborn warned the alternative to action is the "awful specter of 54,000 traffic deaths by 1966."

* * *

He claimed the nation can win the war on accidents through an aroused citizenry that will demand, support and accept the action that will prevent them.

Dearborn outlined the traffic safety campaign the National Safety Council will launch in December.

He said the campaign, called "Back the Attack," will seek to encourage public officials to step up the war on traffic accidents and to stimulate citizens to back the fight with their personal example, united effort, talent and money.

Contrast to Determine Illinois Battle

Dirksen Has Big Advantage Over Rival: Senator Is Known in Every County

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (UP) — Republican Sen. Everett Dirksen started his bid for re-election with the advantage of being known in every county in Illinois.

Democratic Richard Stengel, who is trying to unseat him, has visited every county in a thorough-going effort to make himself known.

* * *

They conflict, of course, in opinion about the outcome.

Dirksen strategists figure he will win by about the same margin as in 1950. He whipped Sen. Scott Lucas then by 294,394 votes.

Stengel headquarters say their man will have a deficit of no more than 75,000 in traditionally Republican downstate, and pick up all the votes he needs to win the election in normally Democratic Chicago.

Early returns in an Illinois poll conducted by the Chicago Sun-Times, which endorsed Stengel, put Stengel ahead in Chicago and Dirksen out in front in the suburban and downstate territory.

Over-all, Dirksen had 52.92 per cent and Stengel 47.08 per cent in the Monday tabulations.

* * *

Stengel, backed by the AFL-CIO favors amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act. He is for farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Dirksen voted for flexible supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Dirksen voted for flexible supports and against the 90 per cent props in March. In the Illinois primary the following month he was in a virtual tie for second place in the number of ballots gathered by Republican candidates downstate, where the farmers vote. President Eisenhower was the top vote puller.

Both Stengel and Dirksen were unopposed in the April primary. Dirksen outdrew Stengel in the state as a whole by 65,000 votes.

* * *

Sen. Dirksen, 60, a well-set man whose mellifluous voice is familiar to political audiences across the nation, is running on his record. Stengel claims Dirksen has been on "all sides on all questions," and calls him "the revolving door candidate."

Stengel, 42, a tall (6 feet 1), lithe, dark-haired man, is serving his fourth term as a state representative. The Legisltive Correspondents Assn. named him the outstanding member of the House last year.

* * *

But he was little known outside of Springfield and his home bailiwick, the Rock Island area. So, in February he set out to get acquainted. Since then he has traveled more than 40,000 miles on trips that have carried him to all 102 counties.

* * *

Dirksen, who served 16 years in the House in Washington before he shifted to the Senate, seems relaxed as he makes his campaign rounds. Eisenhower has asked for his re-election.

Summerfield to Speak at Rally in St. Clair

LANSING (UP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield will make a major address at a Republican rally at 8 p.m. Wednesday in St. Clair, Republican headquarters announced.

* * *

The meeting, sponsored by St. Clair Republicans, will be a countywide party rally.

Doctors Using Ribs to Replace Damaged Skulls

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Two surgeons, pioneers in a new technique, have described how a patient's ribs can be used to rebuild his skull without leaving him minus ribs.

* * *

Drs. Jacob J. Longacre and G. A. Stefano addressed the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery on "split rib grafts" they have developed at Christ and Children's Hospitals, Cincinnati.

They told of successfully transferring 60 such grafts to the skulls of 11 patients to close wounds which involved as much as half the skull area.

The grafts, Longacre and de Stefano said, form a scaffold for living cells which quickly lay down new bone tissue. The surgeons said if the rib used is removed carefully, a new rib forms in as little as 34 days and it too can be used for grafting with assurance another will replace it.

* * *

Metal plates have been used in the past to close skull wounds but in the case of children, they have to be replaced as the skull grows.

Well-known Newscaster, WJBK-TV, Detroit

Jac LeGoff asks:

"WOULD YOU WANT YOUR SONS TO ENTER THE SAME BUSINESS YOU'RE IN?"

JACOB A. CITRIN of the Citrin Oil Co., Detroit, Michigan: "In my case—yes. And I'll tell you why. Our company, of which my father and I were the founders, is a wholesale distributor of oil. Our future—and that means the future of my sons—depends largely on two things—the quality of the products we distribute and the policy of our large oil company supplier toward our own smaller oil company. Standard Oil, our major supplier, is noted for fine products. The company's policy towards us in the thirty-five years we have been associated has demonstrated Standard Oil Company's belief in the future of the independent oil jobber. Our relationship is an example of the fine teamwork possible between big and small companies under the American business system. We are now a corporation and one son is already an officer. The interests of the other two sons are being held in trust until they finish their education."

WALLACE A. COWAN, Standard Oil Dealer, Council Bluffs, Iowa: "You bet I do! I have a boy, 16, and he's already helping me after school and on weekends. He wants to start in here full time just as soon as he finishes school, because he likes a service business, a business where he can meet people and be his own boss. There are not many businesses that offer the same opportunity for serving your friends and neighbors."

PAUL PETSCHKE, Standard Oil Agent, Downers Grove, Illinois: "Well, if I had my own life to lead over again, I'd want to do the same thing I'm doing right now. My son is already in my business. He, too, enjoys the friendships that you make in a job like this and also likes having the same opportunities for service. Another thing—people have confidence in my products—and that's pretty hard to beat in business."

JACK CLARK, Standard Oil Dealer, Des Moines, Iowa: "I've been a Standard Oil dealer 22 years. I have been active in church work and civic activities and am a member of the Chamber of Commerce. It is a satisfying life's work to serve people, both in business and out. I would be most happy if my sons, Bill and David, should enter the service station business."

What Makes a Business a Good Citizen?

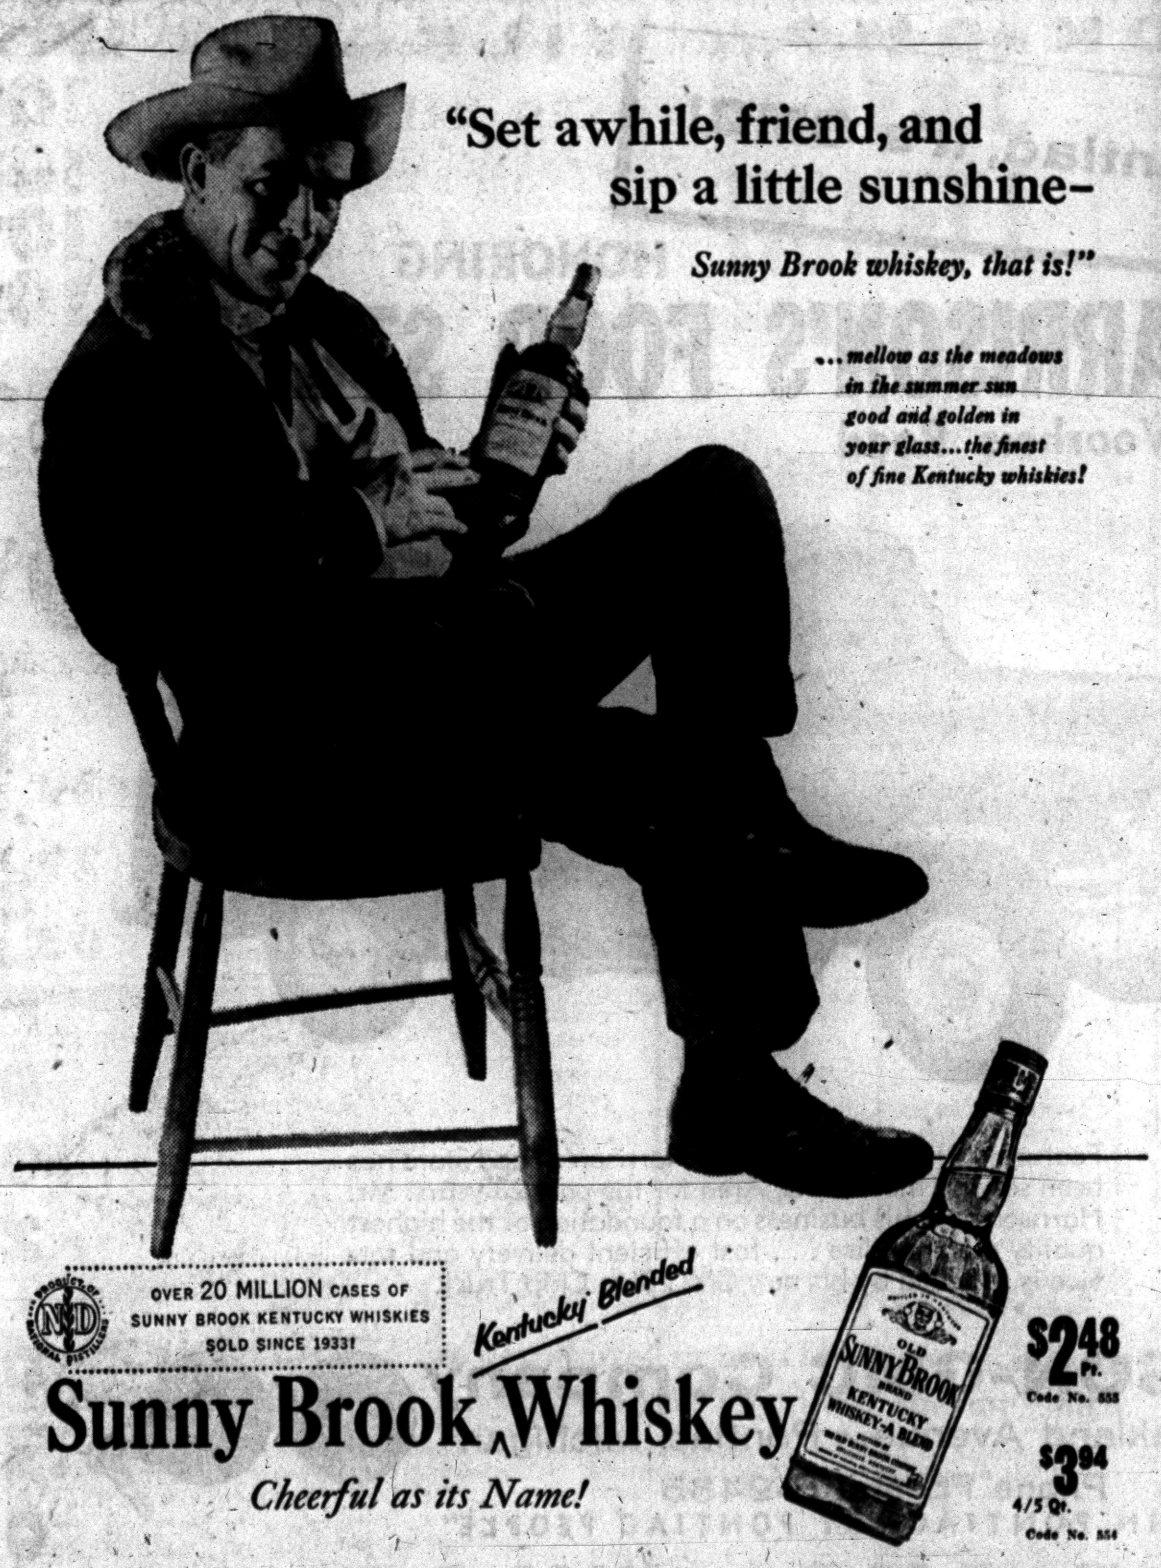

We are proud of our long and successful association with such fine people. In the case of the Citrins, for example, the new officer represents the third generation in the same business. Many Standard dealers, distributors and employees have been with our company for years and many want their sons, too, to continue business relations with us in the oil industry. We regard that as a fine compliment. And we feel that the policies of fair play that helped to create such loyalty contribute to the many benefits received by the public under our free and competitive business system.

Benson Ford Undergoes Surgery on Left Knee

DETROIT (AP) — Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., was reported "resting comfortably" today after surgery on his left knee at Henry Ford Hospital.

The operation was to correct a loose cartilage, doctors said.

Stymied by Shortage

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Jefferson County school system has come up with a unique type of shortage. Board members can't find a supply of names for new schools. Superintendent Richard Van Hoose said he's spent a futile two months trying to find a better name for Miles Lane Elementary School. He said the 55 other county schools and the 70-odd city schools have just about exhausted the supply.

Both Adhere to Same Policies

Ike Displaying Confidence Stevenson a Bit Gloomy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This presidential campaign — as happens every four years — looks like a contest between Sunny Jim and Gloomy Gus.

President Eisenhower, head of the party which has been running things and must stand on its record, thinks things are pretty dandy and getting better.

Time may show the most important question of the campaign — foreign policy and how to improve it — was not really much of a campaign issue.

Stevenson said early in the campaign it should be debated. And he's discussed it far more than Eisenhower.

The President has dwelt on foreign policy at length only twice: at the Republican convention in August and in his opening campaign speech Sept. 19.

Stevenson has accused the Eisenhower administration of lacking new ideas in foreign policy. Basically he's right. Eisenhower is following the Truman-Acheson foreign policy: military alliances and foreign aid.

Whether that's right or wrong, now that the Russians have shifted their tactics, remains to be seen. But when it comes to new programs, Stevenson so far hasn't been very productive either.

* * *

When you cut through all Stevenson has said, the difference he seems to see between himself and Eisenhower on foreign policy is not so much a difference in programs, or the lack of them, but in attitude.

He suggests the Eisenhower administration has alienated other peoples by bluster, and he says he would show them respect as individuals to win them over.

Both men agree disarmament — when it can be worked out with safeguards — is a key to peace. Both agree this country is in a contest with Russia for the hearts and minds of men and that they must be helped with American aid.

Both use almost identical words in saying other peoples must be respected. Eisenhower: "We respect fully the right of all peoples, able and ready to govern themselves." Stevenson: "A decent respect for the opinions of others is still a basic requirement of a good foreign policy."

* * *

Both men mention identical objectives. Eisenhower: "There are three imperatives of peace . . . moral . . . economic . . . military." Stevenson: ". . . The struggle for peace must be waged on three fronts . . . military . . . economic . . . moral."

Stevenson proposes — as Eisenhower did, long before this campaign — helping other countries with peaceful atomic development.

Some may think Stevenson has suggested something brand new regarding H-bomb tests. It can hardly be called a solid proposal until Stevenson has made it clear whether he thinks such tests should be stopped whether or not Russia agrees to do the same.

On the problem of colonialism both men have been blanks. Eisenhower hasn't mentioned the word in this campaign. Stevenson has mentioned it a couple of times but without conveying any understandable meaning.

UNDER SHADOW — Because Queen Soraya of Iran has failed to bear him an heir in five years, Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi may be forced under Islamic law to divorce his beloved wife or take a second wife. The queen is pictured as she recently arrived in Rome without the shah. They were married in 1951, two years after he divorced Egyptian Princess Fawzia, sister of ex-King Farouk, because she had failed to give him an heir.

State Medic Awaits Custody Suit Report

The doctor's attorneys sought to prove Elizabeth Bowman Block has been an unfit mother.

Judge Morris said he would give a decision in about 12 days.

Auto Firms to Supply Front Plate Brackets

DETROIT (INS) — The Automobile Club of Michigan says if you're one of the thousands of motorists who disposed of the front license plate bracket on your automobile —take it easy.

Auto manufacturers are supplying their dealers with a large stock of brackets to make it easier for motorists to comply with the new state regulation calling for both front and rear license plates in 1947.

The Auto Club has also mailed letters to auto dealers throughout the state alerting them to a wholesale need for the mounting bracket when 1957 plates go on sale.

Sea Crash Kills Pilot, 2 Aviation Executives

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A plane carrying two executives of North American Aviation, Inc., and their pilot plunged into the ocean moments after taking off from Los Angeles International Airport last night. One body has been recovered.

* * *

The body was found floating a mile and a half offshore amid bits of wreckage of the twin-engine Piper Apache in which the three were flying to North America's flight test center in Palmdale, 70 miles away.

Company officials identified the dead man as Carl J. Strough, 36, a senior flight test engineer at Palmdale. Missing are John F. O'Brien, general superintendent of the Palmdale facility, and Girard Radice, 44, a company pilot.

The plane took off a little after 8 p.m. and disappeared moments later from the control tower radar screen. Tower personnel said they received no radio report from the pilot.

* * *

Stough was a native of Mansfield, Ohio, and studied aeronautical engineering at Ohio State University.

Mrs. Hobby Calls Adlai 'Naive' on H-Test Ban

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)— Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby said last night Adlai Stevenson's proposals on H-bomb tests are "terrifyingly naive and irresponsible."

Mrs. Hobby formerly was secretary of health, education and welfare in the Eisenhower Cabinet. She is President of the Houston Post.

She told a "Democrats for Eisenhower" dinner last night Stevenson "seems to urge that we give up our hard-won advantage in nuclear research in the fond hope Russia will follow our example. The suggestion was met with warm endorsement in Moscow — as well it might."

Mrs. Hobby said Eisenhower has met the challenge of the hydrogen age "with boldness and yet with prudence."

Pole Prosecutor Orders Amnesty for Prisoners

LONDON (AP)—The Polish Prosecutor General's Office today ordered a revision of all indictments submitted as a result of the June 28 Poznan hunger riots, the Warsaw radio announced today.

At the same time, the prosecutor move to have the courts release all persons now held in custody who are not charged with murder or robbery.

Dems Gaining in Wisconsin, But Not Enough to Overcome Ike

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin remains unshakably Republican in 1956.

Down through this past century, Wisconsin has gone Republican most of the time. Unless advance signs are wrong, it will go for President Eisenhower again Nov. 6.

Leading Democrats in the state have all but written off Adlai E. Stevenson's chances of getting Wisconsin's 12 electoral votes.

That doesn't mean the Democrats aren't pulling up. They have been gaining for months.

So Eisenhower can't expect another victory of the landslide dimensions (Eisenhower 980,000; Stevenson 622,000) of four years ago.

* * *

Republican politicos concede that disgruntled farmers will cost Eisenhower votes, but not enough to lose the state.

For one thing, it would take a farm revolt of somewhat massive proportions to defeat Eisenhower. The state's 146,000 farm families can cast only about one sixth of the state's votes, people tied to the farm economy another sixth.

With many farmers and their wives, peace is the big issue. The Wisconsin Agriculturist and Farmer found that out in a poll.

The bimonthly magazine reported in its Oct. 6 issue that a far larger proportion of farmers think the Republicans will do a better job of preventing war than the Democrats, but that far more say the Democrats will do a better job in helping raise farm income. Of the two issues, farmers rated peace more important than prosperity in a ratio of about 3-2.

As for prosperity, that's likely to help the GOP in Wisconsin's normally Democratic industrial cities. Things are booming there and in suburbia.

Employment in the state has dropped only a little below the peak set in July. Unemployment is low, although there are annoying spots of it in auto and farm implement plants that have felt the impact of decreased farmer purchasing.

Sitting silently on the sidelines is Republican Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, with nobody beseeching him to jump into the campaign.

Eisenhower has classed McCarthy as a senator to whom he can't look for help in putting over a program "for the good of the country." McCarthy was on the losing side in an attempt to prevent the renomination of his fellow senator from Wisconsin, Alexander Wiley.

* * *

As for the presidential race, a prominent farmer, Wilbur Renk, summed up a rather widespread sentiment throughout the state:

"The Democrats have definitely staged quite a comeback, although I don't believe the farmers are as dissatisfied as they were last spring. The only thing that would wreck Ike and the Republicans would be if he had a little stomach ache about Oct. 25 and missed one or two TV appearances."

One of the top Democrats in the state, a person who understandably uses a more optimistic tone in his public pronouncements, sized up the presidential contest like this:

"I do not think the national ticket is running well in the state. Stevenson is not popular with the masses of the voters and has done little to correct it. His TV appearances have been flat. If he would mingle and mix more, it would help.

Men at South Pole Vote for President

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (Delayed) (AP) — A dozen men at this antarctic base voted today in the U.S. presidential election. A dozen others discovered to their dismay that envelopes they thought contained absentee ballots contained only applications to fill out.

* * *

The discovery means that President Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson cannot count on many votes from Antarctica. There isn't time for the applications to be sent back to the United States and to get the actual ballots here before the Nov. 6 election.

Some of the men who have just arrived to participate in the U.S. Navy's Operation Deepfreeze were able to vote by absentee ballot before leaving New Zealand. The Navy had also promised to bring ballots to eligible voters among 93 men who spent the long Southern Hemisphere winter here.

Expectant Mother Out of 5-Month Coma, May Heal

NEWCASTLE, England (AP) — A 22-year-old expectant mother has spoken her first words since she was struck on the head by a log that slipped off a truck here more than five months ago.

Doctors say there is hope both for Mrs. Ellen Moore, 22, and her baby, although Mrs. Moore remains in serious condition from a severe brain injury.

Treatment included lowering her body temperature and keeping her in a virtual state of hibernation for seven days, a medical bulletin said.

* * *

"This method tided her over the most dangerous phases of her illness and probably saved her life because her temperature at the time of her admission to the hospital was rising to a dangerous level," the bulletin added.

Rebels Map Future Course for Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — A Cabinet made up mostly of young men was called into session today to plot the future course of this Central American republic.

* * *

The Cabinet was named by the three-man military junta which removed Julio Lozano as chief of state and acting president Sunday in a bloodless coup.

Col. Hector Caraccioli, 34-year-old chief of the Honduras air force who is a member of the junta, said 71-year-old Lozano was removed in order to "correct the mistakes we felt he was making." He said Lozano, "a good and honorable man," had been informed of the plan last Friday and "agreed in principle."

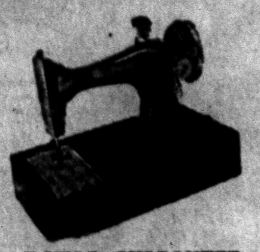

The new government must decide whether to postpone the meeting of the newly elected Constituent Assembly set for Nov. 11, or perhaps to nullify the Oct. 7 election of the Assembly itself.

Financier Recuperating

NEW YORK (AP) — Millionaire Marshall Field was reported in satisfactory condition today after surgery to remove a blood clot on his brain. The 63-year-old financier was operated on last night at New York Hospital.

Daniel Whitfield PTA is planning its annual Fall Fair. Getting set to perfect their aim at "breaking the plates" for the fair Friday at the school are students (left to right) Robert Heathman of Canterbury drive, Stephanie Hardenburg of Pontiac drive and Gerda Jurgenson of West Square Lake road. Mrs. Clarence Hardenburg of the PTA is giving them a few hints. Time for the fair is from 5 to 8 p.m.

Fall is festival time and members of PTA groups of area schools are busy making final preparations for bazaars and fairs being held this weekend.

Mrs. Allan Monteith, Mrs. Orville Tripp and Mrs. Anthony Osler are serving as chairmen of the fair planned by Daniel Whitfield School PTA.

Home room mothers are arranging booths where one will be able to purchase popcorn, candied apples, cider and doughnuts, candy, baked goods, balloons, books, and toys, cotton candy, house plants, handiwork and white elephant items.

The public is invited to attend the event where a blue plate special, hot dogs, sandwiches, pie, cake and beverages will be served in the cafeteria.

Children and parents are busy gathering the corn shocks and pumpkins for decorations at the Malkim School Fair.

Their Fair will be held Friday evening at the school with Mrs. Edgar Dewey serving as general chairman. Beginning at 5:30 p.m. dinner, entertainment and booths of gifts and baked goods will provide a full evening of entertainment.

Children and adults will join in the fun at the Malkim School Fair being held Friday at the school from 5:30 to 9 p.m. Arranging a preview of the funny hats that will be available are (left to right) Mrs. Elwin Hodges of Bielby street, David Atwell of Lehigh avenue, Carol Ann Williams of Stirling avenue and Mrs. Erwin Atwell of Lehigh avenue, chairman of the booth.

Skin Defects Beset Many Women

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is too bad that we cannot shed our skins once a year and bloom forth minus wrinkles, blackheads, pimples, large pores or whatever other complexion defect we may have.

* * *

A constant stream of letters asking for help in skin troubles passes across my desk. This is understandable because a lovely complexion can enhance irregular, or even homely, features.

Many of these conditions are the direct result of neglect or incorrect care. For instance, the young woman who has an oily skin may fail to wash her face in soap and water several times a day. The little oil glands then become packed with oil and dirt and cause blackheads.

From here on she probably picks at her face and squeezes the blackheads until they become infected and cause pimples. She then picks at the pimples and spreads the infection to other pores.

* * *

The woman who has a dry skin can profit by cream cleansing as well as oily creams for lubrication. The one with an oily skin does not need creams but does require frequent soap and water cleansing. She should also use an astringent, while this may be too drying for a dry complexion.

ENLARGED PORES

Large pores harass many women. These usually occur when the skin is oily and the little oil glands are expanded and lax. The habit of leaving makeup on for long periods without cleansing may be a factor.

* * *

If you have large pores, wash your face with soap and water. A complexion brush may be helpful because of the stimulation in provides. Keep your astringent in the icebox and apply it after rinsing and drying the face.

If you have this kind of complexion cut down on fats in the diet and leave off all rich, heavy, highly seasoned foods.

A well-developed case of acne should be treated by a skin specialist. Much has been learned about this condition during relatively recent years. Sometimes hormone therapy is used.

* * *

Today minor acne scars can be removed and even deep ones can be greatly minimized. There is a lot of available help for skin problems from the medical profession as well as from the cosmetic counters.

If you would like my leaflet No. 47 "Your Outer Coating (Care of Skin)," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Pat Nixon Has Lasting Loveliness

U. S. Second Lady Is Wife and Mother First of All

By JOE HAAS

"Did Daddy get any votes today?" is the query that Pat Nixon usually gets from her daughters, Patricia and Julie, when she calls them up every evening while on the campaign train.

* * *

As I talked to Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon Monday in their private car on the 12-car train which hauled their party from Lapeer to Pontiac via Imlay City, they impressed me as being as common as the proverbial old shoe.

His piercing eyes and square chin make up a "don't fool with me" countenance that makes you think twice about what you're going to say.

After a few minutes of conversation, he was so pressed with others who were making arrangements for his Pontiac appearance that he turned me over to Pat—which was OK with me.

* * *

She remembered our meeting near the speaker's stand at the courthouse here four years ago, recollected that it was a frigid day, and said since then she had often thought about it. She's a real campaigner.

WHOLESOME BEAUTY

This slight-of-stature second lady in our land would never win a prize in a beauty contest, unless it was based 90 per cent on brains —but still she's beautiful — in ways that really count and endure.

* * *

Her beauty is the wholesome, thinking and everlasting kind on which is founded the motherhood that makes our country great. She does not know how, and does not care, to aspire to be the life of the party.

She married Dick Nixon 16 years ago when he was a budding California lawyer with pugnacious ways that sort of get under your skin.

Her hair and complexion border on the red, she has freckles, but doesn't try to hide them; wears plain clothes, skimpy jewelry, scant makeup, modest hat and low-heeled shoes.

* * *

She says Dick still is the greatest sweetheart in the world, no matter how his official or other duties may beset him. She places herself third in his regard of wordly things, the first two places being divided between his country on one hand and their two girls on the other.

"Then I'm sure I come next," says Pat, who drew a big round of applause when she was introduced to their Pontiac audience, just as she does everywhere else.

Dior, Chanel Are Friends of Separates

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS)—Two top Paris designers, Dior and Chanel, believe that "separates" are still a safe bet in a smart European as well as American woman's wardrobe.

* * *

The dozen separate skirts in Dior's boutique may give fashion-conscious females an idea what to look for when shopping for that extra piece of attire.

Both daytime and evening skirts at Dior have the new "magnet" silhouette with Dutch-tucked pleats around the waist to give the hips a rounded fullness.

The smartest Dior day skirt is of nubby black and white tweed. There is also a skirt in dark gray flannel, just as smart for country as for city wear.

* * *

The cocktail skirts in Dior's boutique have two outstanding characteristics. They are in bright, jewel-colored satin and they come in the new length with the hem just above the ankles.

Chanel, who always loved separates and often wears them herself, believes that a girl can steal the show anywhere in a well-chosen skirt and sweater.

But the fashion point, in her opinion, is that you wear them with loads of jewelry. A plain sweater and chic skirt can take much more jewelry, Chanel says, than a dress or suit with a complicated cut.

* * *

So, next time you wear your separates put on your jewelry and don't be afraid to look like a Christmas tree. Remember, you have Chanel on your side.

Crocheted Doilies Are Unwelcome

Recipient Dislikes Antimacassars on Furniture

By EMILY POST

"Just recently we bought new living room furniture, and a friend of mine, who crochets beautifully, made me a set of antimacassars to protect the arms and backs of our chairs.

"I never liked these on furniture and certainly don't care to use them on my new furniture. What can I do about this without hurting her feelings? She comes to visit us quite often and surely will notice whether they are being used."

Answer: Generally you would run and put them on when you knew she was coming. If she should happen to come before you have a chance to put them on—"they are in the laundry."

"Dear Mrs. Post: A bachelor lawyer, living with his parents in a house which he has provided for them, invited my husband and me to a cocktail party. His parents were present and his mother had obviously helped with the preparations.

"Am I indebted to the parents for a return invitation? The lawyer is a personal friend. I had not previously met his parents.

"The mother is hurt because to date I have not invited her and her husband to anything. I have extended two invitations to the lawyer but not to his parents."

Answer: There is no reason in the world why you are indebted to the parents. If you give a large party, you would be free to invite them if you care to, but you are not obliged to do even this.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly tell me if the mothers of the bride and bridegroom leave their gloves on while receiving guests at a wedding, or do they remove them?"

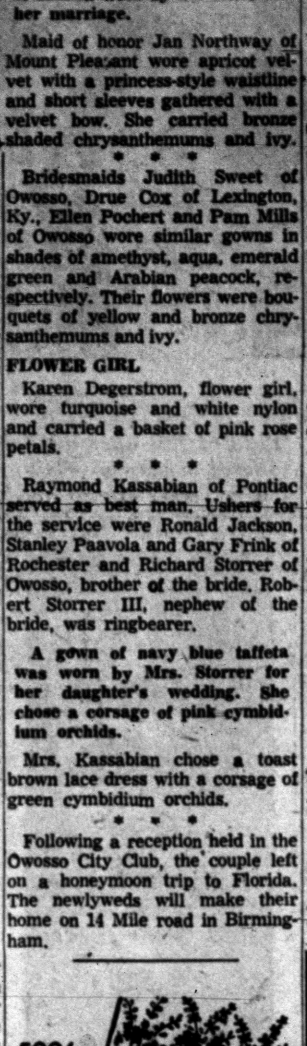

Answer: They keep them on.

The Rev. Thompson L. Marcero Celebrates Silver Jubilee

Pastor of St. Vincent Is Feted

The Rev. Thompson L. Marcero, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church marked his silver anniversary in the priesthood this weekend. Father Marcero, a native of Pontiac, was raised in St. Vincent Parish and offered his first Mass here 25 years ago.

* * *

Father Marcero attended St. Frederick School, Barbour Hall, Kalamazoo; Assumption College, Windsor; Regis College, Denver, Colo.; Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit and completed his theological studies at St. Thomas Seminary, Denver, in 1931.

A solemn Mass of thanksgiving was offered Saturday and Sunday by Father Marcero. He was assisted by the Rev. William C. Swift of Wyandotte, as deacon; the Rev. A. Joseph Immel of St. Vincent as subdeacon, the Rev. Fabian Weber of St. Vincent as master of ceremonies and the Rev. Francis J. Zdrodowski of St. Mary Orchard Lake, preached.

* * *

Present at the celebration of the solemn Mass Saturday and Sunday were the Honor Guard of the Knights of Columbus and St. Frederick School Boy Scout Troop. Dominic Kline was organist and choir master.

Saturday's celebration which began with the 11 o'clock Mass was followed by an invitational dinner at the K. of C. Hall for family, friends and visiting clergy.

Honored guests were former students of St. Frederick School who are now in various religious orders, as well as sisters who formerly taught at St. Frederick School.

The dinner was followed by a reception at St. Vincent Parish Hall.

Sunday, Father Marcero offered a 10 o'clock Mass of thanksgiving for the parish. Parishioners and students of St. Frederick School honored him with a reception and program in the parish hall in the evening. Five hundred guests attended the Sunday evening reception when students presented his life in playlet form.

Father Marcero's brother, Joseph L. Marcero Jr. of Pontiac and his sisters, Mary Elizabeth of Pontiac and Sister Marie Joseph, I.H.M. of Monroe attended the weekend celebration.

His assignments following ordination were as assistant at St. Francis de Sales and St. David's, Detroit; and St. Charles, Newport. His pastorates include Sacred Heart Parish, Yale; and Guardian Angel Parish in Clawson.

Near-ankle length is correct for cocktail dresses but mid-calf or just below will continue for daytime suits.

Evening Styles Stress Separates

Fath favors velvet for after-dark this year. Dior likes chiffons, in nightgown clinging styles. Pauline Trigere is intrigued by plaid silk skirts, topped with black.

Others cling to the brocades, taffetas or the lighter satins, with lace an all-season standby.

Evening separates are still very much in vogue and extremely adaptable. For a really "new look," add a high-necked tunic-length blouse to an evening sheath skirt. Take along alternate blouses, perhaps a bare-backed one for ultra-smartness.

Fashion talks back this year... and black. The covered-up front, but almost completely bare-in-back look is the signature of a really style-conscious woman. And, black is the chic choice for evening wear.

Feminine Scent Is Style Today

The fashion trend in coats, is a slim look in front, with fullness in back, via the use of panels or blousing.

Suits, one of the most essential costumes of the American woman, are being shown in softly feminine lines, from the bloused back to stand-away collars that are so flattering.

To complement these clothes, you will want a fragrance that is chic and feminine. Either a modern, spicy of a fruity blend of perfume would act as lovely accent to the smart good looks of the new suits and coats.

Post and Auxiliary

Coming events announced include a Halloween dance Saturday at the post home, with prizes for those in the most original costumes, Nov. 2 is the date for the district meeting being held at Auburn Heights.

Creamed cottage cheese has a delicate flavor and should be used within three or four days after purchase to insure maximum quality.

Letter-Holder Has Charm

NEW YORK (INS) — You can charm your guests with a touch of Early Americana, especially if it's a candle box letter-holder that you've made yourself.

The letter holder, which comes complete in a do-it-yourself kit, is an authentic reproduction of one found in an old home in Lexington, Mass.

* * *

The firm manufacturing the colonial antique kits also has packaged such charming antiquities as a five-board foot stool, a deacon's pipe-box planter, a three-drawer wall shelf, a seven-drawer spice box and a blacksmith's box.

The blacksmith's box, found in an old sway-backed barn in Hampstead, N. H., can be used either for magazines or for holding smoking accessories.

Check Amount of Sizing in Bargain Linens

During white sales, watch those bargain bed linens for heavy sizing, advise textile and laundering authorities at American Institute of Laundering.

Sizing is the term given a filler material that is used in producing less expensive items. Less yarn is used and the holes in the weave are filled with such things as resin, starches or clay.

Heavily sized items, especially in sheets and pillow cases, have a good appearance when new. However, after laundering, the sizing is gone and the item becomes limp and "sleezy."

AIL authorities say that the amount of sizing can be checked by rubbing the fabric together over a dark surface. If a small amount of powder falls out on the dark surface, you can expect a different appearing item after laundering.

Make Your Fruit Cake Soon Now

Lakeville Cook Uses Just Dates and Nuts for a Change

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Despite the warm weather we have been having, it is time to make your holiday fruit cake. Today's recipe is for a White Fruit Cake. It was given to us by Mrs. Gerald Dunn of Lakeville.

Mrs. Dunn enjoys working with food and does a lot of quantity cooking for her church group and the Oxford Eastern Star. She is enthusiastic about her new home on a hill overlooking two lakes.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE
By Mrs. Gerald Dunn

½ pound walnut halves
½ pound dates
½ pound red and green candied pineapple
½ pound red cherries
1 cup sugar
1 cup sifted flour
4 eggs
Salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut fruit into bowl, add nuts. Sift flour, salt and sugar over fruit. Add 3 tablespoons cold water to egg yolks and beat until light. Add to fruit and flour mixture.

Add 2 tablespoons cold water to egg whites. Beat until stiff but not dry. Fold first mixture into beaten whites.

Bake 45-60 minutes in a 350-degree oven. This may be baked in an angel cake pan, but it is better in several smaller pans.

Patty McCormack Tells of Role in 'The Bad Seed'

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Child actors have the reputation for being more crafty than cute, more precocious than pretty.

This description in no way fits pigtailed Patty McCormack, the 11-year-old who played a cross between little Eva and little Caesar in the stage and screen versions of "The Bad Seed."

You interview Patty over a drink, just like any other actress, only in her case it's a gooey ice cream soda guaranteed to put 10 pounds on the reporter.

"I think we are going to live out here," the Brooklyn-born child star confided. "I think that's swell but I miss the cold weather."

Patty's career began when she was four years old.

STARTED AS MODEL

"I used to model," she explained matter-of-factly, summing up her career. "Then I went up for a part in a TV show and got it. Then I did lots more, then I did a Broadway play called 'Touchstone,' then more TV, then 'The Bad Seed' on Broadway, then the movie, then more television. I'm doing a radio show now," she concluded, referring to her Oct. 23 appearance on CBS-radio's "Suspense."

LIKES 'REGULAR' SCHOOL

Patty attends grade school while on the West Coast, and while working on a picture, such as her most recent, "The Day They Gave Babies Away," the studio must provide her with a teacher. She prefers going to regular school with the other kids.

When first in Hollywood, Patty met a number of Hollywood's top glamor stars, such as Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson, Tab Hunter, Alan Ladd.

"I was just introduced to them, I don't really know them," she said, making it clear she is no name-dropper.

"I like Elizabeth Taylor best. She was my favorite even before I met her. And I like Susan Hayward, too."

Patty presumes she will be an actress when she grows up, but it isn't something she thinks about much. She's too preoccupied with her schoolwork, a doll collection of about 30, and baseball.

"I play any position," she said, "but I like to be batter best."

Marbach Group Holds Meeting

The recently organized Marbach Group of First Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Galen Hershey on West Iroquois road. Cohostess for the evening meeting was Mrs. Chalmers Robinette.

* * *

Mrs. Hershey presented devotions using as her theme, "Christian Living, Family Style."

New members were welcomed. They include Mrs. Gordon Doule, Mrs. George Beauchamp, Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. Bruce Songer, Mrs. Robert Erwin, Mrs. Peter Bosolo, Mrs. Sidney Savage, Mrs. Daryl Donaldson, Mrs. Kenneth White and Mrs. Lyel Dehnken.

Refreshments were served at tables decorated in the Halloween motif.

Older Persons Are Not All Alike

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some years back, I had tea with my godmother on her 71st birthday.

She was a bright-eyed gal, bustling around, serving fabulous sandwiches and cakes, answering the doorbell and telephone briskly and, in general, having a fine time.

Finally, when things settled down, she polished off her third cup of tea and said, "You know, my dear, I meant to invite those classmates of mine, Susan and Elizabeth, but they're such old fogies. Really, it must be tough to be getting old!"

I think of her remark when I hear about programs for the aging.

* * *

The general assumption is that at some specific year, say the 65th, people all of a sudden become "the aging"; that they are all alike with the same drives, desires and frustrations.

Of couse, that is a lot of nonsense. The older we get, the more individual we get and the less you can dump us into groups of that kind.

FALLACY REVEALED

That's the fallacy, it seems to me, in the idea which is presented by a reader of mine whom I shall call Mrs. K.

She says, "I am a widow, 53, and have had a good deal of experience in dress shops. Now I want to start one of my own and would like to know your opinion of my idea.

"I would like to specialize in chic styles for the older woman. So many of them dress like such frumps that it seems to me there ought to be a shop which specializes in the right styles for the full figure, the right colors for gray and white hair, etc. What do you think?"

Well, I think such a shop would fail.

In the first place, who wants to be pegged "the older woman?" I don't and I'm over 40. My godmother wouldn't and she's now 87. I think customers would stay away in droves.

Secondly, all older women aren't fat or gray-haired. Some are slim, some are skinny, some dye their hair and some still have the color they were born with.

Thirdly, and I know this is heresy in some circles—why should the older woman be chic, if she doesn't want to?

I have a friend in her late 70's who is a frump. She dresses in wild colors, combining purple and scarlet and bright green in the same outfit.

She loves it because it makes her feel gay and young and helps her live a happy and peppy life.

No, I think Mrs. K. should open a dress shop for all comers and she'll find that some of her customers in their 80's are, at heart, junior misses—and some of her 20-year-old are sedate old fogies!

Shipwreck Stew

2 lb. Kroger Tenderay Boneless Beef
Fat for browning
1 cup each carrot and celery sticks
½ cup each peas and sliced onions
1 cup cubed potatoes

1. Dredge cubes of Kroger Tenderay Boneless Beef in flour, salt and pepper. Brown slowly in fat. The secret of delicious stew is lean, tender beef. Kroger Tenderay is tender 10 times out of 10, and excess fat is removed before you buy.
2. Cover browned beef with water and simmer about 2 hours. The beef will be wonderfully tender and juicy. The Kroger Tenderay method makes U. S. Govt. Grades of finest beef tender without ageing—without loss of fresh flavor and juice.
3. Cook vegetables together in small amount of water. Do not overcook. Save the liquid.
4. To make gravy: Melt 3 tablespoons fat, blend in 3 tablespoons flour. Add 2 cups liquid from vegetables and meat, and 1 cup tomato puree. Season with 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery seed, and 2 teaspoons meat sauce.
5. Add meat and vegetables to the gravy just before serving. Bring to the table bubbling hot. Old salts and landlubbers alike, never tasted a better beef stew.

Urges Bringing Disputes to U.N. for Settlement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold urges that nations make better use of the U.N.'s "resources for reconciliation" to settle such disputes as those involving Palestine and the Suez Canal.

He says they should "give greater emphasis to the United Nations as an instrument for negotiation of settlements, as distinct from the mere debate of issues."

Hammarskjold wrote these remarks into an introduction to his annual report to the U.N. General Assembly. He said they had a bearing on the Suez problem and a relation to the situation in Palestine.

CIDER FOR BETTER BLOOD — Milford's five Cronin brothers have given a total of 54 pints of blood to the American Red Cross, and are here drinking fresh apple cider to 'freshen up' before again going down to the Bloodmobile at the Methodist church, tomorrow. Standing are James, Kenneth, Glen and George. Joseph is holding the mug.

Five Brothers Ready Donation

Cronin Boys, 7 Gallon Blood Donors Always Willing to Give

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—Once again the five Cronin brothers have signed up to donate their blood when the Bloodmobile rolls into Milford on Wednesday.

* * *

So far the boys, Ken, Joe, George Glen and Jim have donated close to seven gallons of the life saving blood to the American Red Cross. Only once, Glen was rejected because "he ate too much supper."

All of the boys have grown up and still live in the Milford area and all are married except Ken, who still lives with his mom at 511 Bensen St.

* * *

Mrs. Norma Cronin's husband, James, died when the boys were still growing up but she managed to raise and educate them so that now they are 'just about the healthiest donors' that have registered, according to Mrs. Frank Torrence, Chairman of the Huron Valley Blood Program.

* * *

Although residents should register before hand to give blood, Mrs. Torrence explained that donors will be accepted regardless of a previous appointment.

"So far our blood donor registrations are way below former years," she said, "we need many more donors to meet our quota and replenish our local Blood Bank," she added.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Milford Methodist Church Wednesday only, from 2 in the afternoon to 8 p.m.

Rochester Approves Plat for 88-Lot Subdivision

ROCHESTER — Rochester Councilmen set a record at their council meeting last night, clearing all business in less than two hours while approving a new 88-lot subdivision and accepting a sanitary fill permit.

E. J. Giffels, engineer of Royal Oak, presented the plats of the Rochester Heights Subdivision which had already been approved by The Area Planning Commission.

The Council was unanimous in approval of the plat inside of the village limits. Tentative approval was also given for water and sewer lines, pending Village Manager Robert Slone's investigation and approval.

The subdivision is located in the northeast section between Parkdale and Romeo Streets and on the former William Korff Farm.

The Council accepted the one-year permit for the sanitary fill near the present Disposal Plant east of the village, submitted by Avon Township.

The special assessment roll for asphalt curbing and sidewalks on Helen, Alice, Fairview, Terry and First Streets was approved as presented by Clerk Lillian Easterle and with payments due April 1.

The resignation of Frederick C. Nash from the Rochester - Avon Planning Commission was accepted with regrets.

President Clarence Burr said, "We are losing a valuable member from The Commission in Mr. Nash's moving from Rochester. Nash was also a former member of the Council.

The Kiwanis Club was given a contribution of $150 by the council, to be used towards the Annual Halloween Party sponsored by the club for children of Rochester.

The North Oakland County Girl Scout Council was granted permission to hold a calendar sale, November 19-30.

Mrs. Mary Kinney, director of Religious Education of the First Congregational Church appeared before the council, asking permission to change the date of the UNICEF (United Nations Fund for Children and Mothers) project to Oct. 31 when The Junior High Youth Fellowship will collect pennies for this fund in Rochester.

Total general government and water and sewer bills of $5,932 were ordered paid. Included in the amount were excavation work, $1,508; couplings and valves for Water Dept., $1,003, and a new $1,890 pump for the water works.

Met Club at White Lake Slates Halloween Dance

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Proceeds from the annual Halloween dance of the Metropolitan Club to be given on Saturday, Oct. 27, at the Old Town Hall will be used toward filling welfare needs of township residents, Robert Larson, White Lake Township Fire Chief announced today.

"It looks like the Old Town Hall will be bulging on Saturday, ticket sales are going so well," the Chief said happily. He added that many people buy tickets as a means of donating even if they know they will be unable to attend.

Modern and Square dancing will be featured by a five-piece band playing for the event often popularly referred to as the "Fireman's Ball." The dance committee is made up of Hoyt Ellis, Kenneth Wymer, Robert Larson and Edwin Morgan.

4-Hers Seeking to Attend Congress Among 1,300

Oakland County 4-H'ers are setting their sights high this year, hoping to be among 1,300 attending the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 25 to 29.

Representatives from this area will be joining 4-H boys and girls from 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

In addition to an all-expense trip, these state, sectional and national winners will receive other awards climaxing several years of diligent 4-H project work.

"While the annual value of products resulting from 4-H members' projects amounts to an estimated $115,000,000, this gain is probably the least of the benefits arising from 4-H Club experience," said Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

"The greater and more lasting benefits are the personal satisfactions derived from making friends, practicing democratic procedures through club work, and developing spiritual values from living with 4-H ideals," he stated.

Immediate rewards for the Congress-bound 4-H'ers will be 212 college scholarships worth $67,000; U.S. savings bands valued at $11,250; special cash awards totaling $15,700.

Many will be presented with engraved watches and other handsome gifts.

In the overall National 4-H Award Programs a total of nearly $360,000 is expended annually to recognize boys and girls who have excelled in "improving family and community living."

These award programs are made possible through the combined efforts of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, the Cooperative Extension Service, civic spirited individuals, business firms and foundations.

Riesel Suspect Pleads Guilty

43-Year-Old Ex-Convict Reported Cooperating; May Turn Witness

NEW YORK (AP)—A 43-year-old ex-convict, one of eight men indicted in the acid blinding of columnist Victor Riesel, switched his plea from innocent to guilty last night.

Joseph Carlino was taken under heavy guard to an unusual night session of the U.S. District Court to change his plea. There were reports he was "cooperating" with federal authorities and might turn government witness.

Carlino, labor racketeer John Dioguardi and six other men are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice in the April 5 attack on Riesel.

Carlino allegedly hired the thug who threw the acid in Riesel's face. The attack came shortly before Riesel was to testify before a rackets grand jury, authorities said.

Federal Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan set Nov. 9 for sentencing Carlino. The trial of Dioguardi and the others is scheduled to begin the same day.

Carlino could receive a maximum sentence of five years in prison and $10,000 fine for conspiracy and five years and $5,000 fine for obstruction of justice.

Dioguardi, alleged mastermind behind the attack, is free in $100,000 bail. The other defendants are held in jail in $100,000 bail each.

Nab 12 Naval Reservists Trying to Desert Carrier

DEVONPORT, England (AP) — Twelve British naval reservists with less than three months' service to go were arrested by Royal Marines last night when they tried to walk off the light fleet carrier Ocean.

The men's seven-year enlistment had been slated to expire Jan. 9. But along with thousands of others in Britain's armed forces they were kept in service because of the Suez Canal crisis.

The case, latest in a series of insubordinations involving British reservists, was labeled a "minor incident" by an admiralty spokesman. He said an investigation was under way.

Couple of Hoosier Boys Get Together in City

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A couple of boys from Indiana were getting together here in the "country" part of New York City—and they invited this Ohio boy over.

Burl Ives, from Terre Haute, was entertaining Herb Shriner, from Fort Wayne, up in Burl's apartment on West End Ave.

BURL & HERB

"What we'd like to do eventually," Burl's wife, Helen said, "is live on a boat tied up here in the river."

"The year round?" I asked her—startled.

"Oh, sure!" nodded burly Burl, 40 pounds thinner, due to eating yogurt, goat meat, and eggs. "Our boat is heated!" He tugged at his luxurious beard like some ancient skipper.

I didn't say anything to this born landlubber — but when Herb spoke, I knew he would put the would-be salt in his place.

"That's what I'd like to do, too," said Herb. "Work at this TV a couple of years, and then look everything over again. I was out on our boat . . ."

"This one you can get for $60,000," he said to Burl.

"Do you have TV on your boat?" I asked Mrs. Ives.

"TV! We hardly have room for a radio!"

Burl mentioned that they have land down around Jamaica and Bermuda "as near the South Seas as you can get."

They are both automobile fans, too, each having a 1934 Packard, and are addicts of the motor scooter.

"When I was living in Chicago," Mrs. Shriner said, "people used to say to me 'Are you going out again with that nut on the motorcycle?'"

"And?" I said.

"I went out with that nut," she replied.

★ ★ ★

I was so impressed with the close understanding and mutual interests of these two boys from Indiana that I finally said, "Oh, well, you're both from Indiana. How many decades have you known each other? When did you first meet?"

"Yesterday," said Herb.

Overruled by Slide Rule

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Marvin Lee Perryman Jr., 29, an engineer, used a slide rule and a sheaf of maps to beat an $85 speeding fine. He convinced Criminal Court Judge Frank Ropeke the officer who arrested him was wrong in claiming he was doing 80. Perryman said the officer would have had to drive his motorcycle 140 m.p.h. from a standing start to catch a motorist going 75, and the judge agreed.

Frank Sinatra Tackling His First Film Biography

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra, to whom nothing seems impossible, is taking a crack at his first film biography — that of comedian Joe E. Lewis. The film's title will be "The Joker Is Wild."

No attempt is being made for a physical resemblance to Lewis, but Sinatra said he will ape the comic's singing and joke delivery style.

"I do a couple of numbers in the early part of Joe's career," Sinatra explained. "They'll be done straight, but with the delivery of the 1929-30 era when every singer was making with the arms like Jolson. Also, I sing the songs a little higher than I usually do.

"Later in the picture, I'll do some of Joe's parody songs, and I'll have a gravelly effect on the high notes, the way Joe does when he can't reach them. I'll also do some standup comedy routines, and I've done a pile of research on those."

Sinatra's next picture is "Pal Joey." He said it is all ready to go. "They had some trouble with the script, but that is all fixed now," he explained. "They didn't know whether to keep Joey a heel after the Rita character brushes him off or to give him some redeeming qualities.

* * *

"They decided to give him a chance, and I think that'll be all right. Not enough people have seen the play to object to that."

Sinatra just did a TV show with Dinah Shore and they drew plaudits for their songalogue. He revealed he rehearsed for the show a mere day and a half.

* * *

His stipend for the show was reported at $40,000. Despite this loot, he says he'll do no more TV if he can help it. "That TV's a man-killer," he said.

Claims Thunder Led to Killing

Man Held After Death of Faith Healer; Says He 'Hexed' Mother

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A man who told police an ominous roll of thunder was a sign to kill a faith healer who had "hexed" his mother was charged with murder today.

Police said Johnny Lee Tolliver, 26, of Coldwater, Miss., spoke of magic incantations and heavenly signs of disaster after his arrest in the shotgun slaying of George Webster, leader of the Negro Divine Temple of Healing.

Homicide Capt. W. W. Wilkinson quoted Tolliver as saying that Webster had hexed his mother, and had started in on his sister Gracie Tolliver.

"The Lord told us to kill him," Wilkinson said the sister told officers. Both Tollivers told officers they had prayed for a heavenly sign.

"We knew the Lord was listening when he let it thunder Saturday night," Wilkinson quoted Tolliver. "He told us we were to kill the first time it rained."

The sister was charged as an accessory.

GREENUP, Ky. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy who said he "liked to go to school" and "didn't have anything against the teacher" admitted he and another youth dynamited the Upper Alcorn School last Tuesday, according to Sheriff Delbert McKenzie, who said the boy "just thought it would make a hole in the ground." They were released in custody of their parents.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Long winning streaks in athletics are real impressive, but in determining the strength of such an all-winning team, more consideration need be given to the competition and not merely to the string of victories posted.

This is directed at Oklahoma, which week after week has been voted the number one team in the country.

According to the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, 105 teams have been classified as "major" in the country.

Let an independent like Pitt or Notre Dame arrange a schedule with ten such teams year after year, it's doubtful that a loss would be found on either's record. But eyebrows would surely be raised if either would get the top ranking for playing such a schedule.

If the conferences and independent colleges were divided into classes like the high schools, the rundown would look something like this:

CLASS B—Atlantic Coast, Big Seven, Missouri Valley, Ivy League, Southern Conference and independents Marquette, Cincinnati, Holy Cross, Boston College, Villanova and several others.

CLASS D—President's Conference, Ohio Conference, MIAA, IIAC, etc.

In many instances, like Oklahoma's, there are teams out of their class in their own conference. Take Duke and Maryland out of the Atlantic and the rest are strictly B class teams; the same goes for West Virginia, where membership is even only "C" caliber.

Oklahoma hasn't lost a conference game since 1946 and has pounded every Big Seven club to pulp with scores of 30 points or more.

Yet look at the scores outside of league play and very few go into such high figures.

As far as we are concerned, Oklahoma was the 1955 National Champion by record and not worth. The Sooners need to get their feet wet against teams like Michigan State, Michigan and Ohio State in order as Big Ten teams must do in consecutive weeks.

If there is a better team in the country than Michigan State today it sure wouldn't come out of the Big Seven.

MSU Crowds Way to Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football experts, reversing their revious opinions like a set of shifty halfbacks, today picked unbeaten Michigan State over equally unbeaten Oklahoma as the nation's No. 1 football team.

* * *

It was the first time this season that Oklahoma Sooners had finished anywhere but first in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters. Oklahoma was made No. 1 in the preseason poll and had held its place in the weekly balloting, although Michigan State had been gaining ground for the past couple of weeks.

* * *

The voting provided an unpleasant omen for the mauled men of Notre Dame, whose showing apparently influenced opinion considerably. The 47-14 trouncing Michigan State handed Notre Dame last Saturday seems to have swung the balance. Oklahoma racked up its fourth, and record breaking, victory at the expense of Kansas, 34-12.

That was the 34th in a row for the Sooners, who don't often face opposition quite as tough as Michigan State's. Next Saturday it will be their turn to try conclusions with Notre Dame.

Georgia Tech, whose standing in the poll has been improving steadily as its victories pile up, retained third place by a comfortable margin. After those three, the order was jumbled by upsets, but all the teams rated in the first ten a week ago managed to stay in there as two losers tied for tenth place.

Michigan State drew 96 of 156 first place votes this week and Oklahoma only 44. In seconds it was Oklahoma 75 and State's Spartans 44. Tech, with only nine firsts, was third on 81 ballots.

In the point scoring on the usual basis of ten for each first place vote, nine for second, etc., the totals came out: Michigan State 1,459; Oklahoma 1,358 and Georgia Tech 1,182. The 156 votes were the highest total this season.

* * *

Tennessee moved into fourth place in the ratings as the high-scoring Volunteers kept pace with the defensively strong Engineers in the Southeastern Conference race. While Tech was whipping Auburn, 28-7, Tennessee beat Alabama 24-0.

* * *

The Vols moved up from seventh place and Michigan and Southern California and Stanford up three notches as the teams that had held those spots all suffered upsets. Texas A&M., a 7-6 winner over Texas Christian, advanced from the second ten into seventh place. Then came Baylor, idle last week-end, and the losers, Ohio State, Mississippi and TCU. The last two tied for tenth.

* * *

A few more showdown games are in the works, in addition to the Oklahoma-Notre Dame encounter, for the coming week-end. Michigan State faces Illinois, which could be troublesome, and Georgia Tech takes on 15th-ranked Tulane, which tumbled Mississippi from the unbeaten ranks. Texas A&M and Baylor clash head-on for the Southwest Conference lead and Southern California and tanford meet in an important one in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Many Hunters but No Birds

Kill of Pheasants Is Down for Disappointed State Gunners

LANSING (AP) — Too many hunters and not enough birds have combined to make the 1956 pheasant season a disappointing one, the State Conservation Department reports.

The department said it interviewed 3,658 hunters and found they shot only 1,225 pheasants. An estimated 350,000 to 400,000 were out for the opening day Saturday.

Department biologists blamed a late, wet spring on the drop in pheasant numbers. Ringneck nests were rained out, washing away many of the broods.

Many of the late nesters are still immature, uncolored birds which can't be spotted by hunters, the department said.

Heavier hunting pressure than last year was reported in Monroe County, St. Clair Flats, Sanilac County and the Sharonville, Gratiot-Saginaw and Fennville game areas.

The number of hunters also increased at the Rose Lake wildlife station and the prairie farm near Saginaw, the department said.

Bay City Holds 2nd Spot

Northern Still First

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

A 24-21 loss to top-ranked Flint Northern failed to damage Bay City Central's strong grip on second place in the Associated Press High School football ratings, and eight other teams followed suit and retained their exact rankings of a week ago.

The top nine remain the same in the AP's weekly poll of Michigan Sports Writers and Broadcasters. Only Muskegon Catholic, held to a 20-20 deadlock by Grand Rapids Union, tumbled from the elite list.

* * *

Flint Northern's title-minded Vikings increased the gap between first and second place, rolling up 129 points while runner-up Bay City collected 112 on the basis of 10 points for each first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Grand Rapids Catholic, whipped only by Flint Northern (21-19) in the opening game of the season, retained third place with 97 points by edging Detroit Catholic 7-0. Ann Arbor — another team which can charge its lone loss to Flint Northern (33-0)—stuck with fourth place with 82 points.

Saginaw Arthur Hill, 21-13 winner over Pontiac Saturday night and victim only of Grand Rapids Catholic in six starts, hung onto fifth place with 75 points.

Dearborn Fordson edged East Detroit by one point for sixth place. Fordson, unbeaten in six games, was a 13-7 winner over Royal Oak last time out, while East Detroit humbled Birmingham 28-6.

* * *

The "top ten" in Class A circles have a combined record of 54 victories and six losses—but all six losses have been at the hands of teams in the select group.

* * *

Here's the way the state's sports writers and broadcasters rank the "top ten" with records in parentheses:

TEAM	RECORD	POINTS
Flint Northern	(6-0)	129
Bay City Central	(5-1)	112
Grand Rapids Catholic	(5-1)	97
Ann Arbor	(5-1)	82
Saginaw Arthur Hill	(5-1)	75
Dearborn Fordson	(6-0)	60
East Detroit	(6-0)	50
Midland	(5-1)	37
Muskegon Heights	(5-1)	34
Grosse Pointe	(6-0)	13

'Liz' Says Packers Can Still Improve

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Coach Lisle "Liz" Blackbourn figures his Green Bay Packers still have room to improve despite their 42-17 slaughter of the Los Angeles Rams.

* * *

"We need better offensive line blocking for our runners," Blackbourn said today as he and his staff prepared for the Colts' game at Baltimore Sunday.

"These things go hand in hand," he added. "If our blocking improved, Tobin Rote would have more confidence in our runners and wouldn't be thinking pass all the time."

* * *

Aim for Spartans

Upset Fever at Illinois

* * *

The heart may be there but the talent to cope with such a force as the Spartans doesn't seem to be ample enough.

"It's not saying we don't have a chance," said coach Ray Eliot, whose Illini dropped a 16-13 heartbreaker to Minnesota last week and have a season mark of 1-3. "Any team that takes the field has a chance. Some chances are just slimmer than others.

"Our scout, Chuck Purvis, tells us that Michigan State is as good a football team as he has ever seen."

* * *

Homecoming, a time when spirit runs high, hasn't been too successful for Illinois in the past. In 45 such games, the Illini have won 23 and tied 2. Saturday's game marks the second time the two schools have met on the gridiron, MSU taking the first last year at East Lansing 21-7 after a 7-7 halftime deadlock.

* * *

With the exception of halfback Bobby Mitchell, who aggravated a leg injury, Illinois is expected to be in pretty good physical shape for the Spartans. Harry Jefferson and center Jim Minor, who didn't make the trip to Minnesota, are off the casualty list. Mitchell also may be ready by game time.

* * *

Big Newk Given Little Sympathy

Brooklyn Dodger Brass Unimpressed by Claims of Sore Arm

BROOKLYN (AP)—The news that Don Newcombe blames his poor World Series pitching performances on a sore arm brought little sympathy today from the Brooklyn Dodgers' brass.

"I see he says he has a bad arm," observed Vice President Buzzy Bavasi, "and that he also had one during the Series. All I know is that April is a long way off and this should make him easier to sign."

Newcombe said in Japan yesterday that he hurt the arm in the final game of the National League race. In addition to being battered out in both his World Series starts against the New York Yankees, Newcombe has failed to last in two starts during the Brooks' current tour of the Orient.

Weill Dreaming of New Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — Piloting a fighter to the world's heavyweight title is the dream of every fight manager. Al Weill did it with Rocky Marciano and now that the Rock of Brockton has retired, the veteran manager hopes to strike it rich again with Solomon McTier.

You can't blame Al for dreaming but that's like hoping to find a diamond as big as the Kohinoor in your back yard.

* * *

McTier, a muscular, six-foot, 200-pound Negro from Montgomery, Ala., scored his second knockout in as many pro starts last night when he stowed away Leroy Spivey, 185½, Brooklyn, in 1:33 of the last round of a prelim four-rounder on the Frankie Ryff-Frankie Ippolito card at St. Nicholas Arena. A powerful right hand to the chops did the trick.

Match Offensive Power Friday

Skippers, Vikings Land-Loving Teams

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

By nicknames, the Vikings and the Skippers would pertain to a group of sea-faring men, but when these two outfits meet Friday it should be a contest more for "land-lubbers."

* * *

Both Walled Lake and Waterford have depended mostly on their ground attacks in their respective 6-0 records so far this season.

So Friday night at Walled Lake something has to give with the Inter-Lakes title hanging in the balance.

Overall offensive strength would probably favor Walled Lake which has averaged 372 yards rushing and only 46 through the air. Likewise, Waterford's aerial attack has been far from dangerous, but the ground forces have moved along at about 225 yards a game.

* * *

Friday's game carries the I-L crown right down to the wire. It will be homecoming for Walled Lake and the largest crowd in the school's history is expected to jam the junior high field.

An estimated 3,800, standing 4-deep, witnessed the Southfield game several weeks ago, and Walled Lake officials are attempting to obtain extra bleacher seating for the home finale this week.

Coach Dave Freeman of Waterford is planning to continue his two-platoon backfield. However, Walled Lake is blessed with greater depth than any of the other Skippers' foes faced this year, meaning that wearing down the Viking line will be more difficult.

* * *

Both teams will be in top physical condition for the game with only one change expected in the combined starting lineups.

* * *

Waterford will match the Vikings with eight starting seniors and three juniors, and the Skippers will have a weight advantage in the line.

* * *

Brennan Plans No Serious Alterations at Notre Dame

"We're a sophomore team," says Brennan, whose Irish were pounded by Michigan State 47-14 Saturday, "and I can honestly say our young ball club is coming along fine."

The Irish, who have lost three out of their first four games, oppose Oklahoma Saturday. The Sooners have won 34 straight games and would like nothing better than to make Notre Dame, a team they have never beaten, victim No. 35. The game will be nationally televised.

Brennan already has dismissed earlier talk of reverting to a single wing formation to take full advantage of the talents of star quarterback Paul Hornung. The Irish employ the split-T.

The big question is can the Irish contain Oklahoma defensively? They did a good job of it against Michigan State in the first half when they played the Spartans to a 7-7 tie.

Wing Attack Powers 'M' to Winning Grid System

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Kick around the football terms "one-man gang" and "one-two punch" all you want, but don't kick 'em toward Michigan!

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, whose Wolverines' only loss was to powerful Michigan State, has dotted his club's old-fashioned single wing attack with a host of runners and passers of near-equal ability.

The system has been so successful that Michigan boasts no stars, says the veteran Wolverine coach.

"We don't have outstanding personnel," he insists. "We have a fine group of boys who do a number of things fairly well. They work hard as a unit, and because of their versatility, we have been fortunate enough to keep the opponents' defenses pretty loose."

* * *

To illustrate what the Michigan coach is talking about, four runners — fullback John Herrnstein and halfbacks Terry Barr, Jim Pace and Bob Ptacek—have carried the ball on 152 of Michigan's 212 running plays.

Barr has carried 35 times and leads the ground gainers with a 6.2 average. Pace has a 3.6 average for 44 carries. The sophomores, Herrnstein and Ptacek, have carried 73 times between them. Herrnstein has a 4.5 average in 53 tries and Ptacek has a 4.1 average in 20 attempts.

The Wolverines passing game is just as evenly split up. Although Michigan lacks what Oosterbaan calls a "good, consistent passer," no fewer than 11 players have tried their hand at it in the four games played so far.

Ryff Makes Good on Comeback Trail

NEW YORK (INS)—Frankie Ryff, Bronx lightweight, made a successful start on the comeback trail last night when he scored a unanimous decision over fellow-Bronxite Frank Ippolito in the television feature 10 round bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

* * *

It was Ryff's 1st bout since he was kayoed by Larry Boardman last June. Ryff at 139 gave away a half-pound to Ippolito.

Hunters Taking Limit Bags in Oakland Areas

Among the limit takers during the weekend were John H. Dunlop, 4066 Fieldview, Rte. 2, Orchard Lake, and a party of three others with whom he hunted. All got their limits, including John Hudock of Berkley. Birds were average size, about three pounds.

Milton Swigert, 2640 Sashabaw road, also took two nice roosters, the largest three pounds. Both were beautifully colored, Swigert reported, and said quite a number were seen.

Bags Bird on One Shot; Others Missed on Nine

Sunday, shooting at the Pontiac Lake Recreation area, Koviak downed a bright-colored rooster with one shot, after two young nimrods "had missed it nine times." The bird was just an ounce under three pounds. It was 36¼ inches long, had one tail feather 21⅛ inches long.

Bird was too light and not long enough to qualify for the Pontiac Press big pheasant derby, which began Saturday and runs through the ring-neck season.

A Winning Record

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Coach Ed Merrick is keeping his fingers crossed that his University of Richmond football team has a winning season this year. If Richmond wins more games than it loses, Merrick will be the first Spider coach to field a winning team for four successive years since 1940.

Detroit Pistol Expert Dies in City Hospital

Retired detective lieutenant Lewis Sanderson, a member of the Detroit pistol team more than 20 years and holder of more than 300 medals, died last night of a heart attack in Pontiac General Hospital. He was 56 years old.

Mr. Sanderson, who retired to a 50-acre farm near Milford in 1946, suffered the attack in his home on Saturday.

Former Nip Coach Refuted

Japs Learn From Bums

TOKYO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Japanese baseball players can learn a lot from the visiting Brooklyn Dodgers whether the Dodgers win or lose to native teams, one of Japan's best-known baseball commentators said today.

Tokuro Konishi, sports broadcaster and a recognized expert on the game in Japan, disagreed sharply with Masao Yuasa, a former Japan League team manager, who has been quoted as saying Japanese players "have nothing to learn from the Dodgers."

* * *

Konishi and other experts agreed that most Japanese fans have been disappointed in the caliber of ball played so far by the Brooklyns.

TOKYO PARADE — Fanfare sometimes preceded Brooklyn-Giants games in New York and it's no different in Tokyo, when the Dodgers played the Giants — the Yomiuri Giants. National League pennant winners dropped this opener of a 20-game exhibition tour, 5-4, with 16 Dodgers striking out.

Air Force Rolls

Scores Big in Four Tilts

DENVER (AP)—"Undefeated, untied and untested" is Coach Buck Shaw's report on his Air Force Academy team that's devastated four opponents in its first season of varsity football.

* * *

The Falcons' team of freshmen and sophomores has scored at least seven touchdowns in east victory over teams from smaller four-year colleges in the West.

Those errors are not in the scoring column. Here's the academy record: 46-0 over San Diego University, 53-14 over Colorado College, 48-13 over Western (Colorado) State, 49-6 over Colorado Mines.

* * *

Shaw may be right when he says the Falcons are "untested." Their four victims have a combined 7-14 record.

But those clubs are made up mostly of junior and senior players.

* * *

Col. Robert V. Whitlow, academy athletic director, has blueprinted steadily increasing competition for the Falcons. Next season they tackle five teams from the Skyline, a major conference of the large state universities in the Rockies. The academy's opponents will include Wyoming, Utah, Denver, Colorado A&M and New Mexico.

Dodd Winner in Golf Event

Betty Closes With 67 to Capture Top Prize in Lawton Tourney

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—The daughter of a retired Army colonel who learned her golf while her father was stationed at nearby Ft. Sill, yesterday won the Lawton Ladies PGA Tournament, coming home with a course record breaking 67 for a total of 214.

* * *

Miss Betty Dodd, now of Louisville, Ky., had fired a 74 Monday to take the lead, then put together a 73 and a 67 in yesterday's 36-hole windup., Rain delayed the meet two days, and forced the last two rounds of the 54-hole event into one day.

Miss Dodd won $880, first prize in the $5,000 tourney.

Injuries Dim Chiefs' Hopes

By H. GUY MOATS

Loss of speedy halfback Jimmy Hawkins, injuries to Jim Shorter, Lonnie Humphrey and Bob Holloway, have dimmed somewhat the Chiefs' hope for victory over Royal Oak, Friday night, at Wisner Stadium.

Shorter, a strong runner and No. 2 quarterback, as well as one of the Chiefs' defensive aces, still is bothered by a bad ankle and it is hardly possible that he will start against the Acorns.

Humphrey, also a fast halfback, hurt in the Central tilt, is nursing some bruised ribs and a leg injury. There's not too much hopes he will get in Friday. Same goes for big Bob Holloway, tackle, who suffered a pinched shoulder nerve.

Lineup shifts, necessary to fill in for the injured may find Bob Kelly at Hollay's tackle spot, and Emil Frisch at Bob's guard position. Willie Duncan may go at Holloway's defensive spot. McDonald is the only regular defensive back ready to start.

A light drill marked Monday's workout, but the squad was due for some tough contact work today, coach Ed Graybiel said. Particular emphasis will be placed on pass defense, which proved one of the stumbling blocks in the Arthur Hill loss, last Saturday.

Chiefs have two straight losses to the Acorns to wipe out, Friday. Last year, at the Oaks' field, the hosts won 26-2, the year before, here, 13-0.

Erskine and Snider Pace Dodgers' Win

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—Carl Erskine's slick pitching and a home run by Duke Snider in the ninth inning featured the Brooklyn Dodgers' 1-0 revenge victory over the Tokyo Giants here today.

Erskine held the Giants to three hits and one walk and never let a runner past first base. It was the same Giant team — loser of the Japan World Series — which beat the Dodgers 5-4 in their Tokyo opener last week.

Garden State Stakes May Gross $300,000

CAMDEN, N.J. (INS)—The Garden State Stakes, world's richest horse race, is likely to have a gross value of more than $300,000 Saturday.

Four entries, which paid supplementary fees of $10,000, were added to the field yesterday and if 15 horses go to the post the value of the race will be $311,210.

Ted Atkinson was named to replace Eddie Arcaro aboard Bold Ruler, the favorite. Arcaro will be sitting out a 10-day suspension imposed on him at Keeneland.

Texas Christian Coach Does Not Plan Protest

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Texas Christian Coach Abe Martin says movies of the TCU-Texas A&M game Saturday appear to show that TCU should have had another touchdown, but "the true story of the game is that we were beaten by a good football team 7-6."

Martin said no protest was planned.

He said the picture appeared to show that Jim Swink had gone over the goal line on a play that the officials ruled didn't make it.

Rochester, Memphis Slip

Six Teams Still Spotless

The list of perfect record high school football teams in the Oakland County area gets shorter with each passing week.

Two more prep elevens fell by the wayside last Friday, reducing the select field of undefeated, untied teams to six.

Schools still boasting clean slates are East Detroit and Waterford in Class A, Walled Lake and Romeo in Class B, and Orchard Lake St. Mary and Lake Shore in the C ranks.

A couple of Southern Thumb squads, Almont and New Haven, are unbeaten, but each has a tie to mar the record. The two Class C powers fought each other to a 19-19 draw.

Last week's casualties were Rochester in Class B and little Class D Memphis. Rochester was upended by Lapeer while Memphis bowed to Imlay City.

Eight area scohols are still looking for their 1st win. These include Mt. Clemens, Brown City, Capac, North Branch, St. Frederick, Fitzgerald, South Lake and Millington.

East Detroit (6-0)
Waterford (5-0)
Walled Lake (6-0)
Romeo (6-0)
Orchard Lake St. Mary (5-0)
Lake Shore (6-0)

Two Sport Star

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Pat Lamberti, a starting tackle on the University of Richmond football team, not only stars on the gridiron but also does well in the ring. Lamberti, 210 pounds and 6 foot 2 from Woodbridge, N. J., holds the Golden Gloves heavyweight crown in Virginia.

Oakland B Crown at Stake

Avondale Clashes With Clawson Friday

By BILL CORNWELL

When ambitious high school football teams are gunning for league titles and the season swings into its late stages, it seems as though each succeeding week produces another game of utmost importance.

This is turning out to be particularly true in the case of the Oakland B League race.

Last Friday the Avondale Yellow Jackets encountered Lake Orion and Troy battled Clawson with possible league crowns riding on the outcome for all four schools.

Avondale and Clawson rose to the challenge in magnificent fashion with convincing demonstrations. The Jackets smothered Orion, 27-0, and Clawson romped over the Colts, 32-13.

Now the "chips are down" again. Just as though it was an elimination basketball tournament, the Avondale and Clawson teams will collide this Friday on the Clawson gridiron with the stakes even higher than a week ago.

Coach Bob Acton's Clawson squad is currently leading the Oakland B circuit with four victories and a tie. The Jackets are breathing hot on the heels of the Trojans with three wins and one loss.

Avondale is Clawson's last league opponent. The Trojans can wrap up the championship by disposing of Avon, or they can lose and hope for an assist from Fitzgerald, the Jackets' final league foe after Friday. Fitzgerald's ability to upset Avon appears slim so the task rests squarely with the Trojans.

Both teams got off to slow starts this season in league competition. Avon dropped its opener to Troy, 14-2, in a sluggish performance. Clawson was held to a 13-13 deadlock by lowly Fitzgerald in its conference opener. If Clawson loses to the Jackets, the tie could hurt its chances.

Then each team began gaining momentum. Avondale whipped Madison (27-7) and Roseville (20-6) before its meeting with Orion. Clawson defeated Roseville (26-20), Lake Orion (34-19) and Madison (20-12) prior to the Troy engagement.

The Troy Colt's who were leading the Oakland B until last week's thumping reversal, are still very much in the title picture. Tied with Avondale for 2nd place, they tackle dangerous Orion this Friday afternoon at Troy.

* * *

O'Connell Signs With Cleveland

CLEVELAND (INS)—The Cleveland Browns yesterday signed former University of Illinois ace passer Tom O'Connell and placed quarterback George Ratterman on the injured reserved list.

O'Connell, the leading collegiate passer in 1952, was with the Chicago Bears in 1953, and then spent the following two years quarterbacking the Bolling Field Air Force team.

The 26-year-old quarterback will report to the Browns today and begin working out immediately as the Browns try to stay in contention for the Eastern Division title.

Team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito said the injury will keep Ratterman out of action for at least a month and maybe for the rest of the season.

Baseball's Top Stars Are Not Umpire Baiters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Babe Pinelli spent 21 years umpiring in the National League and says if he learned anything it's this:

The good guys do succeed. It's the .240 sisters and the scatterarms that beef and give the umpires the most trouble.

Speaking in the comparative luxury and security of his retirement, the 61-year-old grandfather listed an all-star lineup of nice guys who were and are star players.

His list includes Stan Musial, Carl Hubbell, Willie Mays, Billy Herman, Paul Waner, Marty Marion, Ted Kluszewski, Ernie Banks, Gabby Hartnett and Stan Hack.

Maybe they got that bad call, Pinelli said, but they took it without as much as a scowl.

3 Red Wings Among Top 5 NHL Scorers

MONTREAL (AP) — Detroit's unbeaten Red Wings have three players among the top five scorers in the National Hockey League today, topped by Ted Lindsay's six points on two goals and four assists.

Norm Ullman and Gordie Howe are the other two Red Wings high up in the individual standings, tied with Toronto's Tod Sloan and Boston's Doug Mohns for 2nd place with five points each.

Comeback for LaStarza

NEW YORK (AP) — Roland LaStarza, the one-time leading heavyweight contender, announced at the St. Nicholas Arena last night that he was planning a comeback. Now 29, the Bronx Adonis hasn't fought since he was knocked out in the fifth round by Julius Mederos, March 2, 1955.

Tied for Scoring Honors

Podoley, Clark Lead State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Central Michigan's Jim Podoley and Hillsdale's Nate Clark are running neck and neck in the state's collegiate touchdown parade, but each is shooting at more football glory than just the 1956 scoring championship.

The goal is within sight of each, too. It is the 50-touchdown record set by the University of Michigan immortal, Willie Heston, more than half a century ago.

* * *

Both Clark and Podoley have scored seven touchdowns this season. Podoley now has scored 43 touchdowns and an extra point for a total of 259 points since he broke in as a Central freshman four years ago. Clark has scored 44 times and converted on three occasions for 267 Hillsdale points in his three-seasons-plus with the Dales.

* * *

Clark pulled into a 1956 tie with two touchdowns last Saturday. Podoley scored only once, but he passed for another TD.

The leaders follow:

Mantle, Robinson Leaders for Major Clutch Hitting

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati both sure-fire candidates for baseball's post-season awards, came through with leading clutch hitting performances during the 1956 season.

Mantle, certain for consideration as the American League's most valuable player, and Robinson, a top National League rookie, led the major leagues in game-winning blows. Each had eight, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

Missing Fishing Boat and Crew Reach Port

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UP) — The Mame Maru, a 74-ton Japanese fishing boat believed to have sunk early this month, sailed into Misaki port with its full crew of 14 yesterday.

Skipper Ichitaro Kurosawa explained he flashed distress signal when the boat developed engine trouble 2,200 miles southeast of Tokyo Oct. 3. The crew repaired the difficulty but the ships radio failed and the distress call could not be canceled.

The typhoon last was reported in the South China Sea heading toward the China mainland.

Flachmeier was put on probation yesterday by Federal Judge Roy W. Harper. He said he sent the letter and signed another man's name to embarrass the other man, not because he had any animosity toward the President.

Anti-Soviet Upheaval Reported in Poland

Most papers told of Gomulka's election but did not mention the removal of pro-Moscow elements from the Polish ruling body.

The Polish demonstrations came as Parliament was called into session here amid public celebration of the nation's newly proclaimed independent course. A government shakeup appeared imminent.

ORDERLY START

The Western witness said the Wroclaw demonstrations started with a meeting in the city's university and an orderly parade through the town.

* * *

Then, with banners and torches the march through town started.

Thousands of cheering Poles lined the streets to watch. People poured out of restaurants and homes to join the march. Polish flags were hung from windows.

The crowds cried 'Long Live Gomulka" — for Wladyslaw Gomulka, the new chief of Poland's Communist Party politburo who has proclaimed a policy of independence in relations with Moscow.

Others in the crowd chanted "Long live free Poland" and "Release Cardinal Wyszynski."

Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, Roman Catholic primate of Poland, was arrested by the Polish government in 1953. He was reported released from prison in 1955, but is believed to be living in a monastery where he is not allowed to exercise any functions of his office.

The crowd also shouted, "Legnica for Poland." Legnica is the main Soviet army headquarters near the East German border.

The student's demonstration, which started last night, was over at 8 p.m.

NEW DEMONSTRATION

But at 10:30 p.m. another demonstration started through the streets. It did not end until about midnight and threatened to get out of hand.

"There were still young people," said one witness, "but this time there were some rough looking characters as well."

This crowd advanced on the Polish-Russian Friendship headquarters, demolished glass exhibition cases in front of the castlelike building, climbed the elaborate portico and threw Soviet flags to the ground.

A policeman who arrived on his motorcycle was seized by the crowd and tossed jubilantly into the air. "The militia is with us," the crowd cried, and the policeman grinned as he was tossed up and down.

"It would have been suicide for him to do anything about it," said the witness.

A responsible source confirmed that a Russian cruiser and three destroyers anchored off Danzig on the Polish north coast yesterday. The ships were not visible in the haze today.

Window-Smasher Sought by Police of Pontiac

Pontiac police today are seeking a man who reportedly smashed the windshield and two windows of a parked 1956 car in front of a home at 565 Fourth St. early this morning.

Joseph Daly, owner of the damaged auto, told police he fired a shot from his 12-gauge shotgun when he saw the vandal near his car but did not know if he had hit the man who drove away in another car.

Mixed Prices Prevail Stocks

Most pivotal issues moved narrowly, going to the plus or minus sides by fractions. There were a few exceptions.

Uncertainty regarding the presidential election was still the dominant factor in the Market's behavior. Trading in equities still took the political shakeup in Poland without excitement but caution prevailed.

Among the wider movers were International Paper and Kennecott Copper, both off more than a point.

The copper stocks still were adversely affected by the latest cut in copper prices by custom smelters. Anaconda and International Nickel added fractional losses to their declines of yesterday.

U.S. Steel, Chrysler and Santa Fe were steady.

Hunting Closed Area Brings Fines to Four

Pleading guilty as charged were: Steve, 22, and Thomas Mitchell, 26, and Jack L. Treaster, 21, all of Detroit; and James M. Smith, 20, of River Rouge. The arraignment was before Justice Allen C. Ingle of Farmington Township.

NATURE FAILED HIM — Lee Lowder Jr., of Allen, Kan., fills his cistern with water trucked from Emporia as residents of towns and farms seek to alleviate a growing water shortage caused by five years of persistent drought conditions. Should rain or ground moisture fail to replenish lakes and dammed waters of the Neosho and Cottonwood Rivers, Emporia itself could face a serious situation within a three-month period.

News in Brief

Pleading guilty to allowing an unlicensed person to drive, Russ E. Walter, 53, of 9700 M15, Clarkston, was sentenced to 45 days in the Oakland County Jail by Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp.

Dale A. Morley, 24, of 62 Jossman Rd., Ortonville, was fined $35 and paid $25 costs after pleading guilty to reckless driving before Justice Emmett C. Leib of Springfield Township Monday.

An outdoor gas tank was broken open and 50 gallons of fuel taken sometime last night at 2124 Silverbell Rd., Orion Township. Oakland County deputies have found no trace of the lock or other evidence.

Raps Streamlined American Cars

MONTREAL (AP)—The well-designed automobile is still something of the future, says Sir Gordon Russell, director of the British Council of Industrial Design.

The trouble with cars, Gordon said, is that they are designed to look as though they are traveling 90 m.p.h. when they are actually doing only 10.

He said he prefers European-built cars to those made in America, but has his peeves about having to bend almost in half to get into the lower, smaller European models.

The tendency in Europe is to make the car owner feel he has a product of lasting quality while the tendency in the United States and Canada is to change the styles too often to give the buyer the feeling he is keeping up to date, he said.

Gordon was in Montreal to address the Canadian Club on the work of the Council of Industrial Design.

Wildcat Strikers Picket Chrysler Press Plant

DETROIT (INS)—Sixteen police officers and sheriff's deputies were dispatched early this morning to the Chrysler Mound Road press plant when wildcat strikers from UAW-CIO Local 869 picketed the main gate and blocked a railroad spur track with a human chain.

The rift began last night when night-shift workers at the plant—which stamps bodies for Chryslers, Dodges and DeSotos—walked out at 10:30 p.m., in a dispute over alleged violations of senior rights.

The strikers charged the company was hiring new workers instead of laid-off employes of the welding section. They also charged that management was upgrading the new employes in violation of seniority provisions.

Sisters Critical From Collision

Pair Fall From Car Rammed at Crossing; Brother Unhurt

Two young Orchard Lake sisters are in critical condition in Pontiac General Hospital today with severe injuries suffered yesterday when they were thrown out of their brother's car as it was struck by another vehicle in West Bloomfield Township.

Kathleen Popek, 5, is under treatment for cuts of the right leg, thigh and hip. Her sister, Karen, 6, has a fractured pelvis, a concussion and severe scalp cuts. They live at 4955 Pontiac Trail.

The accident occurred at Middlebelt and Long Lake Rds., when a car driven by Agatha W. Natho, 57, of Farmington, reportedly drove through a stop sign and struck the Popek vehicle broadside, West Bloomfield Police said.

She was ticketed for running a stop sign. She told police she drove through the stop street at the direction of a flagman standing next to a tar truck, who was waving traffic through the intersection.

The group was arrested Oct. 19 by State Police and sheriff's deputies after an alleged breakin at Wilkins Beverage Store in Orchard Lake. Some $200 worth of beer and liquor was stolen.

Flower Growers Blossom Out

EAST LANSING (AP) — Rosebuds, chrysanthemums, carnations and sunflower seeds were on the luncheon menu yesterday of the 11th annual American Horticultural Congress.

Some 150 delegates, meeting at Kellogg Center, found a rosebud fruit cup at their luncheon plates. It consisted of a conventional fruit cup with a tiny rosebud in the center.

Did they eat it?

"Sure," said Mrs. Evelyn Drake director of the center's food service.

Also on the menu:

GM Executive Predicts Good Year for Builders and Salesmen

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — A General Motors executive today predicted a good business year for auto deals and manufacturers in 1957 "if they work together."

Patrick J. Crowley of Detroit, made the prediction in an address before the Automobile Dealers Assn. of Alabama, Inc., convention. He is administrative assistant to GM Vice President Ivan L. Wiles, who was scheduled to speak but was unable to appear because of illness.

Crowley gave four reasons for his optimistic prediction. He said:

1. The 1957 models are "eminently qualified to stimulate buying. They represent not only marked advances in design and styling but outstanding values as well."

3. "The amazingly strong used car market is holding up well, with dealer stocks at the lowest point since 1954 and prices remaining firm."

4. "The 1956 customer service business has been higher than in 1955 and there is every indication that the service volume will increase importantly in 1957."

U.S. Tourists Suckers in Mexico

By JOHN WIX

MEXICO CITY (INS) — An unpublicized merchants' battle for the U.S. tourist dollar is under way in Mexico. Travelers are footing the bill and guides reaping the profits.

* * *

The controversy, which has reached its most heated pitch in silver-famous Taxco, stems from the amount of commission businessmen are willing to pay guides on purchases made by their unsuspecting charges.

That kickback in Taxco, where some 100,000 tourists visit the 200 silver shops each year, has reached 30 per cent and shows signs of going even higher.

The battle is between merchants on the highway that skirts the edge of Taxco and those long established in the city's center.

COMMISSIONS CLIMB

To garner a lion's share of the trade, the highway merchants, relative newcomers to the lucrative silver trade, first increased the traditional 10 per cent commission paid guides to 20 per cent, then to 25 and finally to 30 per cent.

Uptown merchants refused to match the amount and organized an "Ethical Businessmen's Assn." to combat the resulting boycott by guides. They put placards in their windows reading: "This store does not give commission to guides. This is your assurance of a fair price."

The trouble with the maneuver is that few tourists ever get to see either the placards or the prices on the merchandise.

* * *

The reason is that the usual tour arrives in Taxco for an all-night layover late in the afternoon. Guides, experts at the "I'll-get-it-for-you-wholesale" spiel, take tourists to the highway places. By the time they have finished browsing and buying, stores in town have closed for the night.

Early the next morning guides bundle their clients into tourist limousines and leave for the next stop.

The Mexico City Assn. of Travel Agents, fearing such open warfare will soon harm the tourist trade, appealed to the "ethical" merchants to remove the placards from their windows, promising to bring the guides in line. However, the guides, members of the powerful Confederation of Mexican Workers, flatly refused to give ground. The travel agents privately admit they are unable to do anything about it.

LET'S QUIT!

In desperation, a group of uptown Taxco merchants, headed by William Spratling, father of Taxco's silver jewelry business, implored on Government Tourist Director Dr. Francisco Villagran to put an end to the unfair competition. Villagran's suggestion was that the "ethical" merchants match the commissions paid by highway shops.

Juarez avenue merchants in Mexico City complain guides are unfairly taking prospective clients to "pseudo-factories" on the city's outskirts with promises of cheaper merchandise, while in reality those "factory" prices generally are higher than those in the competitive atmosphere along "Gringo Row."

Kefauver Charges GOP With 'Soil Bank Politics'

WATERLOO, Iowa (INS) — Sen. Estes Kefauver charged today that the Eisenhower administration is spending most of its soil bank money in politically doubtful states.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate said the program "is being cut and trimmed to fit the political needs of the Eisenhower administration in this election year."

In a speech prepared for delivery to a labor-farmer meeting in Waterloo, Kefauver predicted Iowa farmers would not be fooled "by Republican Leap Year sympathy."

"I am sure," he said, "that Iowa farmers will resent this kind of political tinkering with public programs and that they will repudiate it at the ballot box next month."

Not that there is anything wrong with the soil bank idea, Kefauver emphasized. After all, he added, it was a Democratic idea in the first place.

In this regard, he said, Agriculture secretary Ezra Taft Benson opposed the soil bank plan until the end of 1955 because he said it was "against his principles to pay farmers to plow under their crops."

But Benson's principles, Kefauver said, "evaporated when the election loomed up on the horizon this year."

Very little of the money, the Senator added, is being spent either in safely Republican or Democratic states. He said most is going to states where Republicans "are in the most serious political trouble—states like Iowa."

Jailed for Robbery to Pay Maternity Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man who said he turned to burglary to finance the birth of his wife's baby must serve four months in jail—and then pay the maternity bill.

* * *

Police arranged for hospital care for Joe Connaughton's wife Aug. 31, the day he was arrested while attempting to burglarize the awning factory where he was employed. The baby was born the next day.

* * *

Yesterday Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker sentenced 25-year-old Connaughton to serve another four months in jail, with the provision that he can be released on probation if he pays the hospital for expenses for his wife's delivery.

Households at Peak

NEW YORK — The number of households in the United States climbed by nearly 11,000,000 to a total of 48,750,000 in the last 10 years. That's the biggest rise for any decade in the nation's history.

The small state of Coorg was the only Indian state free from murder during the last two fiscal quarters reported on, Mercara learns.

New Science Encyclopedia Coming in 1959

NEW YORK (INS) — According to an old mathematical theory, if six chimpanzees were set to work at six typewriters, they would, in a million years, copy out all the books ever written by man.

* * *

The McGraw-Hill Company is unwilling to wait. Soon, 2,000 typewriters will be heard in the land. But they will be operated by the nation's top specialists in science and engineering.

* * *

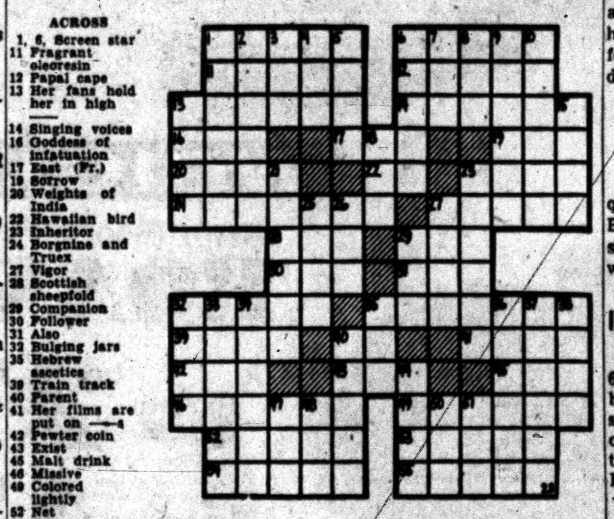

Three years from now, and 7,000 oversize pages later, they will have turned out a brand-new, 10-volume work, the first of its kind. Title: "The McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology."

* * *

Company President Curtis G. Benjamin, concerned over the growing shortage of scientists and engineers, says:

"Our encyclopedia will be the most complete and unified compendium of science and technology ever assembled. And in our opinion, it will fill an urgent need."

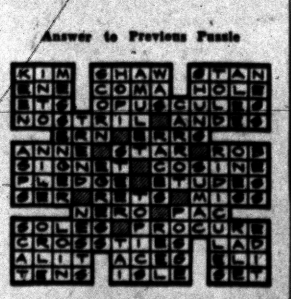

William H. Crouse is over-all editor of the project. Selection of the 2,000 experts who will write the articles will be made by 30 consulting editors, each an authority in his field.

Sullivan Tops Neilsen Ratings

Bob Sterling Garners Parts in 2 Major TV Dramatic Shows

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Nancy Kelley's casting in the Margaret Sullavan role of "The Pilot" on the Nov. 12 Studio One means Nancy's approaching motherhood will be neatly cloaked in the voluminous robes of the role, a true tale of a nun who is also a plane pilot . . .

CBS will not prosecute Miss Sullivan for the cash lost on the Studio One walkout. "We'll just write it off," we were told . . . Same cast except for La Sully on the Nov. 12 try-again.

Bob Sterling, while raking in all the rerun profits of the filmed "Topper" series with wife Anne Jeffreys, is acting all over TV: The Oct. 31 20th Century-Fox Hour, tonight's Kaiser Hour.

If Producer's Showcase uses 44-year-old Jose Ferrer in the title role of "Pal Joey," which is about a dancer in his twenties kept by a woman in her forties, then to keep the contrast maybe they will cast Ethel Barrymore in the original Vivienne Segal Role . . .

Vivienne would be great in the role, but she's far too young for Ferrer.

WILL ALLEN GO?

NBC is making up its corporate mind whether to drop Steve Allen from the Wednesday-Thursday-Friday portions of "Tonight" and permit him to concentrate on his Sunday night shows . . .

To queries arriving on how to get aboard Lawrence Welk's talent searches: Send a recording (tape or disc) of your specialty plus an unretouched photo and a biographical sketch to "Lawrence Welk's Top Tunes and New Talent, Hollywood 51, Calif." . . .

There's no age limit although young performers will be given preference . . . All comers, whether professionals, semi-pros or amateurs, will be given consideration.

ACTOR EISENHOWER

Ike's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, will get into the TV act when "Johns Hopkins File 7" premieres via ABC-TV Nov. 11 . . . Milton is president of Johns Hopkins, so who's to say he shouldn't?

We can't quite get over the reverential nature of the salute to James Dean on the Steve Allen show and the very inspirational approach to his violent death—no one noting that Dean, a talented and twisted kid, met his death in a furiously speeding expensive hotrod and had received tickets for speeding before his needless death . . .

Injuries Fatal to Girl, 6

LANSING (AP) — Sheryl Stenzel, 6, of DeWitt, died yesterday after being injured Saturday when struck by a car while trying to cross a Lansing street. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stenzel.

French Arrests Arouse Arabs

Embassy Under Heavy Guard; Strike Spreads Throughout Tunis

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Crowds, aroused over the French arrest of five Algerian rebel leaders tried to storm government buildings in Tunis today. Union leaders staged a general protest strike.

* * *

Police turned back several thousand screaming demonstrators as they tried to march on government buildings as word of the Algerian arrests spread.

There were no immediate reports of casualties, but the crowd was reported in an ugly mood over the French action.

The French embassy was so heavily guarded it was difficult for employes to enter.

As the strike call went out, steel shutters began to clang down on stores throughout the city. Arab crowds were reported congregating on the outskirts of the city.

* * *

Plans for wild celebrating which greeted Mohammed's arrival changed to an atomosphere of sullen waiting for something to happen.

Lamb Output Up

AUCKLAND—The New Zealand Meat Producers Board reports that 1956 lamb production for export climbed nearly 6 per cent over last year, representing more than 13,800,000 lambs — an increase of 756,000 over 1955.

Soap Maker's Pickpocket Does Clean Getaway

CHICAGO (AP)—A pickpocket did a cleanup job on a retired liquid soap manufacturer last night.

* * *

George L. Simmonds, 63, told police a man bumped into him as he was walking to his near North Side home after parking his car. Simmonds discovered a soapy substance had been sprayed on his suit, apparently, police theorized, from a toy pistol.

* * *

The stranger was apologetic and wiped off the suit with a handkerchief. When Simmonds got home he discovered his wallet containing $215 was missing.

New Coal Mines Open

Wood Uses Stressed

HOUGHTON (AP)—A novel one-story shop building using eastern hemlock timber is being built at Alberta by Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center. The structure, built to show new uses of Michigan lumber, uses extra thick hemlock in arches, decking and wall panels to give superior fire resistance.

Phone Contract Expires, Bell, Union Still Talking

* * *

Negotiators have been in continuous session since 10 a.m. yesterday. Neither the company nor union had any comment on the progress of negotiations.

Wonderful Pork Dinners

BY KATHRYN KENNEDY, Wrigley Food Reporter

Take a snap in the air, a crackling avalanche of brilliant leaves, a family appetite as sharp as a knife-edge and you've got the perfect in-season ingredients for a wonderful pork dinner.

Somehow, cool, crisp weather is tailor-made to set taste buds a-tingle for that hearty robust flavor. And you couldn't ask for a better time to satisfy your family's craving from the harvest of meaty pork roasts and succulent center-cut chops in the Meat Departments of all 94 Wrigley Supermarkets.

Here you'll find that pork's not only seasonable, it's also extra-reasonable with more little piggies going to market these days. How low the cost, but how high the flavor and freshness!

To insure that luscious tenderness, Wrigley's buys only small grain-fed porkers. That's why you'll find that Wrigley's lean 7-rib-cut and loin-end pork roasts average only about three pounds . . . your pork-proof guarantee that they're bound to taste the best.

Examine one of these roasts carefully. You'll see even more savings because Wrigley's Table-Trim cuts away all excess fat and bone. There's just enough fat capping the meat, so that it can baste itself with the rich natural juices while roasting to perfection in your oven. And Table-Trim gives the family carver a helping hand, too. The few bones that remain as a framework for your roast have all been notched at regular intervals for easy, no-waste slicing at the table.

When you're ready—and the sooner the better—to treat your family to a top notch pork dinner, take your roast from the refrigerator at least thirty minutes before popping it into the oven.

Start heating your oven to 350 degrees F. (Pork is tenderer, juicier and more flavorful when cooked at this low temperature.) Meanwhile, place the roast with the fat side up in a shallow uncovered roasting pan. Do not add water. And this time, you won't need a rack, for pork loin roasts can rest on their rib ends instead.

Now for the spices . . . the zippy touch that makes the roast distinctively your own. If you're fond of garlic insert 5 or 6 slivers between the bones on the underside. (Remove garlic to serve.) Or else, for a more subtle flavor, rub the roast thoroughly on all sides with a cut garlic clove.

Other perky pork accents are fresh sage, dried rosemary, tarragon, thyme, crushed caraway seeds, ground cloves, marjoram or ginger. Rub the meat with any one of these condiments combined with a healthy dash of salt and pepper.

We're finally ready for the oven . . . where your pork will achieve its perfect eatin' peak. To insure deliciously flavored pork, it should always be served well done, until it's grey deep down inside without a tinge of pink. And you can avoid guesswork by inserting a roast meat thermometer into the meatiest part, away from the bone or fat. Plan on 35 to 40 minutes per pound in the oven, or until your meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F. The roast will baste itself so there's no need to disrupt its cozy spot until it's done. Then, let the roast stand out of the oven for 15 to 20 minutes before serving, so that the meat will carve more easily into firm, compact slices.

Wrigley's Harvests Apples A-Plenty For Cooking, Munching

All are fine for fruit bowls, fireside munching and salads. Cooking is not recommended with the exception of the McIntosh and Jonathan. They're ideal for sauce, but for other purposes, watch your timing. When overcooked, they turn into mush.

On the other hand, Wrigley's Apple Harvest features two supreme specimens that are the chef's delight . . . Greenings and Northern Spies. (Spies are equally good for sharp, snappy between-meal snacks.) Ald reliables on the range, these crisp juicy apples have a superb tart flavor and firmness that suits them for all-round cooking. Bake'em, sauce'em, spice'em or tuck them in a pie they'll give perfect results, any way, every time.

Even the slightest mention of cooking apples brings to mind those delicious pork dinners that you'll be serving so often this fall and winter. Since time immemorial, apples and pork have mingled their talents to produce a scrumptious go-together flavor . . . and this tasty duo is still tops in many a modern kitchen.

There's nothing like good, old-fashioned, home-made applesauce blending its smooth sweetness with rich, thick slices of roast pork. And the recipe has stayed the same since Great-grandma first cooked up a batch.

Place 2 quarts, pared, sliced apples in saucepan with water . . . ½ cup water should be sufficient for quick-cooking apples such as the McIntosh. Other varieties may require more. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon grated lemon rind and ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg. Stir in ⅓ cup sugar or more until sweetened to taste. (Perhaps you'll prefer it on the tart side for pork.) Boil for three minutes. Makes approximately 1½ pints of sauce.

Taste Treats Galore With Versatile Center-Cut Chops

You're bound to be, once you see the plump juicy beauties at Wrigley's. Pork chop time is here in all its glory . . . and with fall-gadding families building up giant appetites, that rich filling flavor is the perfect answer for hearty cold weather meals.

What's even better, pork chops are a treat for your busy fall schedule, too, since they're easily prepared in a variety of interesting ways. Just remember one cardinal rule. Like all pork cuts, they must be well done . . . so braise or bake . . . never, never broil.

Start with the pork chops in their natural state . . . no fancy fixin's at first . . . and brown them slowly in their own fat. It should take about 15 minutes to get them to a rich golden brown on both sides. Then season with salt and pepper.

Pour the fat from the skillet and let your imagination take over. You'll want the chops to cook under moist heat . . . whether you simmer them atop the stove or tuck them into the oven. And remember, moist doesn't have to mean water.

Try tomato, chili or barbecue sauce, diluted canned condensed soups, catchup, wine, crushed pineapple, sweet or sour cream, tomato, vegetable or fruit juice. Any one will bring a new taste to your table. About ½ cup of liquid should do the trick for four servings. Just be sure your chops aren't swimming.

Now, cover your skillet and let the chops stove-smimmer slowly or bake in the oven at 350 degrees F. until fork-tender and well done. Chops ½ inch thick should take about 30 minutes, 1 inch thick about 45 minutes. But before you whisk them to the table, be sure to test for doneness. With a paring knife, make a small slit in one of the chops near the bone. If there's no trace of pink, they're ready-to-eat in their own delectable sauce.

Company coming or in the mood to cook up a family party? Try the prince of pork chops . . . an ultra-thick, plus-luscious cut designed for stuffing. Ask your Wrigley meat man and he'll prepare them just for you with a special pocket to hold your favorite filling. And this is just the season to complement those extra thick chops with an apple stuffing. Here's what you'll need for six.

APPLE STUFFING

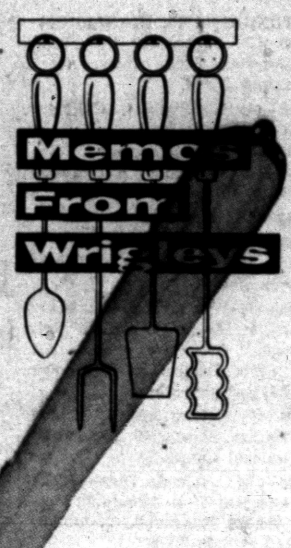

1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup diced apples
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 tsp. chopped onion
¼ tsp. salt
Milk to moisten

Fill the chops with the above mixed ingredients. Then fasten the pockets with skewers or wooden toothpicks. Brown the chops well on both sides. Add about ⅓ cup milk, cream or water, cover and simmer or bake in a 350 deg. oven until the chops are tender . . . approximately 45 minutes.
