Flight Recorder May Tell Cause of Jet's Plunge

BRUSSELS (UPI) — A flight recorder on the jetliner that crashed and killed 73 persons here Wednesday apparently was not damaged by the fierce heat which melted parts of the plane's metal body, aviation sources said today.

The recorder was recovered from the wreckage along with 30 other instruments which investigators hope will help solve the mystery of the Boeing 707's death dive.

U.S. Embassy officials worked with Belgian authorities to identify the bodies of the 49 Americans aboard.

Including 18 members of the United States figure skating team.

Identification of the victims was slow and painstaking because most of the bodies were burned beyond recognition. Plans to return the bodies to their families were delayed pending formal identification.

Fifty-three victims had U.S. addresses but Sabena Airlines said only 49 of these were Americans.

An American Embassy spokesman here said the State Department is contacting the families of the victims to determine where the bodies should be sent. No memorial services in Brussels were planned.

A government spokesman said the investigating committee may take as long as six months to complete its report.

'NOT YET DETERMINED'

Sabena Director General Willem DeWaele said the plane arriving from New York had appeared to be making a normal approach near the airfield "when there took place an incident, the nature of which has not yet been determined, but which certainly affected the control of the aircraft."

Sabena Boings continued flying today despite the tragedy and a company spokesman said the crash was no cause for grounding the planes.

One of four Sabena Boings still in service flew in from the Congo this morning and made a normal landing at Savanet Airfield.

Planes arriving and departing flew over the wreckage of the ill-fated jetliner.

The death of the skaters stunned the sports world and practically eliminated any U.S. chances in international figure skating competition for years to come.

Belgian government investigators and Sabena Airlines officials were at the crash site — a farm field just short of the runway at Zaventem International Airport — as soon as rescue workers.

Airport sources said heat from the flames which followed the crash probably reached as high as 1,000 degrees, centigrade, just below the temperature at which magnesium boils.

LUMUMBA DEMONSTRATIONS CONTINUE — Demonstrators and United Nations guards (left) battle in the hallway of the U. N. Building Wednesday after the hecklers, shouting "Vive Lumumba," disrupted the meeting of the Security Council on the Congo. The demonstrators continued the fight in the hallway after being ejected from public galleries overlooking the council meeting. A mob surrounds a flaming car (right) belonging to the U. S. Embassy in Cairo, Egypt, Wednesday after setting it afire during a protest over Lumumba's death in the Congo.

Pass Petitions to Oust Union

Rank and File Angry of UAW's Handling of Chrysler Problems

DETROIT (U) — Petitions were being circulated today at a Chrysler Corp. press plant asking that the United Auto Workers Union be ousted as bargaining agent.

The petitions were circulated by a rank-and-file committee at Chrysler's Nine Mile press plant in Warren.

The union has represented auto workers in the Detroit area for 24 years. The ouster move was an auto contract in 1957.

The committee members reportedly were angry with the UAW's handling of seniority and right-to-work problems resulting from heavy layoffs in the industry.

A committee spokesman said more than 650 of the 970 production workers at the plant already had signed the petition. The plant normally employs 2,000. The petition asks the national labor relations board to decertify the UAW as bargaining agent.

He said the petitions would be filed with the NLRB regional office at Detroit later this week or early next week.

Watch Out, Medics Told

ANN ARBOR (U) — Dr. Thomas McKean, president of the Michigan Medical Service, says the medical profession must practice "self-discipline" to keep private medical insurance plans from being replaced by mandatory controls from outside.

Concerned by Congo Crisis

JFK Eyes Build-Up of NATO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, "seriously concerned" by the Congo crisis, announced today he would hold a "key conference" next week on strengthening the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in the face of mounting tension with Russia.

The White House said that Kennedy and Paul Henry Spaak, general secretary of NATO, will meet here next Tuesday.

The endorsement was given by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., after a weekly congressional Republican legislative strategy session.

The White House also announced that Rusk will attend the ministers' council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) meeting at Bangkok March 27.

The announcement said Rusk was going there to help advance the work of SEATO "in the face of the threat now posed to Southeast Asia by the continuing communist pressures."

Spaak, who is retiring soon, will be in Washington Monday and Tuesday at the invitation of Rusk.

America's European allies stepped into line behind Kennedy's firm warnings against intervention in the Congo.

MOSCOW (UPI) — Improved Soviet-American relations appear to remain Premier Nikita Khrushchev's main target despite the Congo crisis, diplomatic observers said today.

Twenty-eight persons, including five women and a girl, were in the picket line at noon.

They were watched closely by 20 policemen, part of a force of almost 150 policemen assigned to the United Nations vicinity to guard against a recurrence of violent demonstrations.

Three of Lumumba's children — still unaware of their father's death — were on the stage at a rally Wednesday night in Cairo to denounce the slaying of the former Congo premier. The youngsters — Francois, 12; Pauline, 9; and Juliana, 6 — are going to school in Cairo. They could not understand the speeches and slogans which were in Arabic.

Negroes Picket the U.N. Quietly

Silent Protest by 28 in Contrast to Rowdy Uprising Wednesday

By The Associated Press

Negro pickets marched quietly in pairs outside the United Nations Building today in contrast to disorder on the sidewalks Wednesday.

The pickets apparently were continuing a protest against the death of Patrice Lumumba, left-wing former Congolese premier, and against U.N. policies in the Congo. But they carried no placards and did not shout slogans.

MSU Board of Trustees Fill 5 Top MSUO Posts

By MAX E. SIMON

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees today ended its search for a new secretary, naming Jacob (Jack) Breslin to the $17,000-a-year post, and also made five important appointments to Michigan State University Oakland.

Meeting this morning at MSUO for the first time, the trustees—with Jan B. Vander Ploeg absent and Don Stevens abstaining—voted 4-0 to appoint Breslin, assistant to President John Hannah to the secretary's post.

Stevens, an Okemos Democrat, explained he was not voting because he felt Breslin, 40, was "too valuable" in his present position. He is also the university's legislative liaison man.

Dr. Charles O. Hucker, a specialist on the Orient, was approved as professor of history and chairman of a new committee on Asian studies at MSUO. The board of trustees also approved naming Dr. Donald D. O'Dowd, 34, an associate professor of psychology since last August, dean of MSUO.

Among the other appointments made today by the trustees was that of Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, presently dean of faculty, as professor of English and assistant to Vander for university planning.

The board, divided 5-1 with the Democrats having the majority, had been split for months over the selection of a secretary to succeed James W. Miller, who was promoted last year to president of Western Michigan University.

Breslin, a 1946 graduate of MSU, became assistant to Hannah when D. B. Varner was named chancellor of MSUO in 1958.

Democratic party leaders reportedly had been insisting upon the selection of Thomas H. E. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Speaker From Guinea Asks Radical Moves; Fear 'Korea' in Africa

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — A representative of leftist Guinea today denounced the U.N. operation in the Congo and demanded immediate and radical measures by the Congolese people to solve their own problems.

Ambassador Daillo Telli addressed the U.N. Security Council as it resumed debate amid unusual security precautions to guard against a repetition of Wednesday's free-for-all fight touched off by supporters of the slain Congo leader Patrice Lumumba.

U.N. guards outside the building were armed with police night sticks and all persons entering U.N. headquarters were carefully screened. The public was barred from the council meeting.

At Elisabethville, Katanga, a military cargo plane landed during the night and unloaded what was believed to be a jet fighter. The secrecy shrouded arrival increased fears in that jittery city that a Congo civil war is imminent.

'A NEW KOREA'

"It looks as if the lines are being drawn for a new Korea," one diplomat commented.

The strategic night plane was identified as belonging to an American charter carrier under contract to the U.N.

The Federal Aviation Administration in Washington said the aircraft's registration number, N5040C, was assigned in the U.S. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Vice President of Bank Dies

W. Arthur Taylor Has Fatal Heart Attack at Age of 60

W. Arthur Taylor, a senior vice president at Community National Bank, died Wednesday of a heart attack while hunting near Metamora. He was 60.

Mr. Taylor, of 1210 Henrietta St., Birmingham, came to Pontiac 35 years ago from Sault Ste. Marie as an employee of the former First National Bank & Trust Co. For several years he was in charge of the Perry-Glenwood branch office.

Following the bank holiday and organization of Community National Bank in 1953, Mr. Taylor became auditor of the institution. Through the years he advanced from assistant cashier to cashier, to vice president-cashier, and to vice president.

A member of the Methodist Church at Sault Ste. Marie, he was also a member of Rotary Club and Pontiac City Club, and served on many civic committees.

Mr. Taylor leaves his wife Helen; a son, William at home; a sister, Miss Sarah Taylor of Sault Ste. Marie; and five brothers, Herman of Lansing, Austin of Sarasota, Fla., Cecil of Williamston, and Armour and Clayton, both of Sault Ste. Marie.

The Rev. C. George Widdifield of All Saints Episcopal Church will officiate at the service at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Sparks-Griffin Chapel. The body will then be taken to the Howe Funeral Home at Sault Ste. Marie for prayers and burial. It is suggested that those wishing to send memorial gifts, make them to the YMCA.

Engine 'Rescues' Baby

DECATUR, Ill. (UPI)—Wabash diesel No. 640-1 Wednesday night destroyed a car, smashed a baby from the wreckage and carried the 18-month-old child to safety.

The baby, 8-month-old Terry Lynn Moody, suffered bruises in the crash and a crying spell at St. Mary's Hospital.

Bufalino Loses Suit Over Pointe

DETROIT (U) — William Bufalino, a member of the Teamsters Union's Board of Monitors, today lost his suit to collect $1 million in slander and libel damages on grounds he was denied the privilege of purchasing a home in Grosse Pointe.

Circuit Court Judge Horace Gilmore ruled Bufalino had no cause for action.

Bufalino, who also is president of the Detroit Juke Box Local of the Teamsters, contended he had been discriminated against under a point system of scoring prospective property buyers in the suburban Grosse Pointe communities.

A native-born American of Italian descent, Bufalino contended he and his wife and five children were humiliated by being rejected after he had paid $2,800 down on two lots Jan. 9, 1958. He said cards showing his grade got into hands of other than brokers.

The brokers denied cards went to other sources.

Judge Gilmore said the overriding reason for his decision that Bufalino had no cause for action was the legal principal of "qualified privileges."

This means, the judge explained, that two parties with a common business interest may engage in conversation or writings which might ordinarily be slanderous or libelous otherwise.

TRUSTEES AT MSUO—Michigan State University's Board of Trustees, governing body of MSU and Michigan State University Oakland, meets on the local campus today for the first time since MSUO's opening in the fall of 1959. Trustees were guests of honor at an informal reception last night at the home of MSUO Chancellor D. B. Varner. Seated on the floor (from left) are: Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president; Warren M. Huff, D-Plymouth; Frank Merriman, R-Deerfield; Varner, Don Stevens, D-Okemos; and Corner P. Smith, D-Standish.

'I Prayed at Last—in Quicksand'

By SAMUEL A. MANN
South Ozone Park, N.Y.

I once found myself in danger of dying, yet did not pray to be saved.

I was a lad of 19 then; and I had no more religion in me than an alley cat.

Like a Vise, Quicksand' me down deeper — a quaking!

CERTAIN DEATH

The first thing that flashed through my mind was something the natives had been telling: "No body ever gets out of those quicksands alive!"

Here, I thought, is certain death. If ever there were a time to pray, it was this. Yet, I hesitated. I did not believe in such things. What could I have expected to come from praying — that God would reach down and lift me out bodily?

There's no way out of this. I thought. I've just got to die. But I realized with some terror that I wasn't brave enough for that. Then it came to me that perhaps there was something I could ask of God. My prayer was simple: "Sustain me for this ordeal!"

At that moment all fear and panic left me, and in its place

Which of these two whiskies is insured for One Million Dollars?

Answer:

The whiskey in the bottle on the right is insured by a world famous insurance company for one million dollars. This whiskey, drawn from Calvert Reserve's precious "Standard of Excellence," is used for quality control and never sold.

The Calvert Reserve on the left, and every bottle you buy must match this one million dollar Standard of Excellence for superb flavor, aroma, smoothness.

"Good as Gold" quality like this—never varying—means combining at least 18 selected straight whiskies with rare grain neutral spirits. The reason: Nature alone is never precise. All straight whiskies vary as they age. But thanks to Calvert's one million dollar Standard of Excellence, the taste and magnificent character of Calvert Reserve never vary from bottle to bottle. Always "Good as Gold!"

Crises Multiply Each Day

Nikita and JFK Wait for Other's Next Move

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — It's no wonder President Kennedy is giving so much time and thought to dealing with Premier Khrushchev. The chubby Russian may be the last train home.

There will be nothing to look forward to except intensified and more dangerous cold war if this country and Russia don't find some common and amicable ground upon which to do business.

Khrushchev won't be around indefinitely. Unless in his lifetime some peaceful settlements are reached, the Communist world, particularly the Red Chinese, can outlive his peaceful coexistence policy repudiated.

The logical alternative to that is a return to the aggressions of Stalin.

Khrushchev may be repudiated by his own followers even in his own lifetime unless his pursuit of peaceful coexistence can be realized in some demonstrable way. His Chinese allies think he is wrong and have said so.

In a way Khrushchev has been a political freak. The only kind of communism the world knew until Stalin died in 1953 was Stalin's kind—cold, more or less inarticulate, and unimaginative.

Nothing but force. It was unimaginative in a very real sense. Stalin relied on the primitive use of force. He ignored the more modern weapons of propaganda, visits abroad, and foreign aid to influence other peoples.

Khrushchev not only denounced Stalin but made the complete switch by drawing a peaceful picture of Russia while using all the modern public relations methods available, the ones Stalin didn't try.

What Stalin and Khrushchev retained in common, as Kennedy pointed out in his State of the Union message, was a determination to make communism prevail.

One basic difference remained. It was impossible to reach peaceful solutions with Stalin; it might be possible with Khrushchev. Kennedy has made it clear he will ignore no effort toward doing so.

Bad Check Sends Man Back to Jackson Prison

A 39-year-old ex-convict, man from Almont, who admitted passing a forged $64 payroll check he had stolen from a Pontiac restaurant, was returned to Jackson Prison Tuesday for 2 to 14 years by Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams.

Randall Forbes pleaded guilty Jan. 30.

Khrushchev sits and waits until he will be glad to talk with him if/ia. But he has said "each day yond his control. While he ponders the course to take in seeking settlements with Khrushchev, the possibility of settlements may be made even more remote by explosions, like the Congo, in areas far distant from both Russia and the United States.

Since he spoke they've become worse. For example, the killing of Patrice Lumumba in the Congo, One of Kennedy's most critical problem is one which may lie be-

Kennedy hasn't even indicated yet that he will. At the moment his policy is to say practically nothing about Khrushchev or Russia.

Mountain Peak Named for U. of M. Geologist

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A University of Michigan geology professor has been informed that an Antarctic mountain peak has been named for him to commemorate his participation in International Geophysical Year activities on the southern icecap.

James H. Zumberge was the 1957-58 United States 102 expedition to the South Pole and made a return visit to Antarctica in 1959.

He did not see the mountain which now bears his name, however, since most of the work was on the opposite side of the continent.

Five Areas Vie for College Site

To Investigate Possible Grand Valley Locations in Western Michigan

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Five areas emerged today as the most likely possible sites for the new Grand Valley College, which will serve an eight-county West Michigan area.

Four of the five locations are in Ottawa County and the fifth is in downtown Grand Rapids.

It was announced that these five areas will get a thorough investigation this week while the inspection of other sites for the proposed four-year, state-supported school is suspended.

There have been more than a dozen sites proposed for the school and more proposals still are being made. But the executive group of the site committee for the college has tabbed the five locations as the best possible to date.

LOCATION OF SITES

The five sites are: —The Allendale site north of Allendale which has one boundary on the Grand River and another on M50.

—The Aman Park site, located west of Grand Rapids. It is a park owned by Grand Rapids but located in Ottawa County.

—The Marne site, located on the edge of Marne with one boundary touching the new U.S. 16 expressway at several points.

—The Grand Haven site, located north of Grand Haven along Lake Michigan.

—The downtown site, located in the urban renewal area of downtown Grand Rapids.

The first four sites would lend themselves to a conventional college campus. The fifth site would be patterned along the lines of the University of Pittsburgh's Tower of Learning.

It's Nerve-Racking

LONDON (AP) — The London Zoo has warned that Britain's unusually mild winter is awakening hibernating pet tortoises too early and this may cause them to have nervous breakdowns. Zoo officials advised tortoise owners to cool their pets and put them to sleep again.

Says Worried Patients Get Better Quicker

NEW YORK (UPI) — Worrywarts recover faster. That is, hospital patients itching to go home or back to work usually get better faster than those who passively accept hospital routine.

The expert saying so is Dr. Leon Lewis, director of the Respiratory and Rehabilitation Center at Fairmont Hospital, San Leandro, Calif.

More Petroleum

CLEVELAND (AP) — Petroleum shipments over the Great Lakes last year totaled 102,661,983 barrels, the Lake Carriers' Association reports. This was an increase of 2 per cent over the previous year.

Woman Casts Dampers on Long Stay in Shelter

NEW YORK (UPI) — A recent issue of Women in Civil Defense carried an account of a family's experience during two weeks spent in a simulated fallout shelter.

The family, the Thomas A. Powners, included husband, wife and three children. Mrs. Powner described the experience as being "like spending 14 consecutive rainy days."

Bombs Explode as Cubans Rant

Mass Meetings Held to Protest the Death of Lumumba; Blame U.S.

HAVANA (UPI) — Bomb explosions echoed repeatedly through the city Wednesday night and early today, punctuating anti-American speeches at a mass meeting protesting the killing of Congo ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Most of the explosions were clearly audible at Havana University, where a crowd of about 10,000 students heard Foreign Minister Raul Roa blame the United States for Lumumba's death.

The noise bombs went off nearly soon after the start of the meeting. A third explosion interrupted a speech by Communist leader Carlos F. Rodriguez and a fourth and heavier blast went off just after Roa spoke.

A fifth bomb exploded on the other side of town, setting a car on fire.

Earlier, student supporters of Premier Fidel Castro had seized the arts and trade department of the Belen (Roman Catholic) High School in an attempt to break a 10-day anti-government student strike.

The Castroite Revolutionary Student Committee said it seized the arts and trade school to counter "continuous attacks by enemies of the revolution."

The government promptly approved the seizure and assigned Diosdado Perez Franco, an engineer, to run the seized facilities.

Other departments of the high school—Cuba's oldest, and Castro's own alma mater—were not affected immediately.

Similar strike-breaking was expected, however, at other private schools affected by the strike.

Fine Youth $75 for Punching Officer in Eye

Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday imposed a $75 fine on a 17-year-old youth who gave a Pontiac policeman a black eye earlier this month.

Sentenced yesterday was Raymond E. Tuttle, 469 E. Tenyson Ave., who was arrested Feb. 4 after swinging at Patrolman Kenneth Davidson, 25.

Davidson was hit as he tried Feb. 4 to intervene in an argument between the teen-ager and his mother, Mrs. Mary Tuttle. She later called police.

Tuttle had pleaded guilty to using profane and indecent language. McCallum ordered him to serve 10 days in the Oakland County Jail if the fine is not paid.

Guarding Garcia After Bombing

But Was Explosion Only Stunt Against President of Philippines?

MANILA (UPI) — Government security forces tightened their protection of President Carlos P. Garcia today following an unsuccessful bombing attempt on his private plane.

Garcia and his family were away from the residence at the time the home-made bomb was thrown from a moving taxicab Wednesday night. No one was hurt and the explosion caused no serious damage.

Reliable but unofficial sources claimed that three suspects picked up after the bombing said they had been hired by Garcia's political foes and hurried the bomb to kill him.

Criminal investigators refused to speculate on the motive, and other sources said the bombing may have been a political stunt or prank.

State Jobless Pay 'Not in Jeopardy'

LANSING (UPI) — "There is no immediate jeopardy to our ability to pay unemployment compensation benefits to those who qualify," according to the Michigan Employment Security Commission director.

"The problem is that we are unable to repay our debts to the federal government and Michigan's employer costs for the program are higher than most states," Max Horton told members of the legislature Wednesday.

The state is now paying out between $20 and $26 million a month in unemployment compensation benefits to laid-off workers, Horton said at a hearing called by the House Labor Committee.

Kennedy Gets Nikita's Cable

Khrushchev Says Let's Have Real Strict Curb on Arms Output

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has cabled President Kennedy that he wants a disarmament agreement including "such strict international control that no one could arm in secret and commit aggression."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the premier's statement was part of his reply to congratulations the President sent him on the launching of the Venus-bound Sputnik last Sunday.

Khrushchev said all nations agree that a disarmament solution "depends to a great extent on agreement between the Soviet Union and the United States of America."

The premier said his government considers that "solution of the disarmament problem would provide conditions favoring the earliest realization" of Soviet-American cooperation in such fields as the struggle against disease, the conquest of space and the development of culture and trade.

Goldwater '64 Choice by 25 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon is favored for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination by more than half the 1960 GOP convention delegates who responded to a newspaper poll published today.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, GOP conservative leader, was backed by more than one-fourth of the delegates who answered. Los Hiner Jr., Washington correspondent for the Indianapolis News, who conducted the poll, termed this a "surprising" and "significant" showing.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was favored for the 1964 nomination by nearly 11 per cent of the delegates who replied.

Answers were received from 780, or 38.6 per cent, of the 1,331 delegates to the Republican convention in Chicago last summer. Hiner said this response was considered "exceptionally high" by poll-takers. The questionnaire listed Nixon, Goldwater and Rockefeller and provided a space for other choices.

Here is a breakdown of the poll: Former Vice President Nixon, the 1960 candidate—436 or 55.9 per cent.

Goldwater—218 or 27.9 per cent. Rockefeller—65 or 10.9 per cent. 7 per cent.

Sees Big Shortage of Auto Mechanics

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States is short at least 250,000 auto mechanics at a time when we are worried by severe unemployment, and nobody is training any, Verdon Volland said today.

Volland is an earnest Chicagoan who is executive director of the Good Car Keeping Institute, a co-operative association supported by auto enterprises.

"In fact, if all the 60 million motorists in the country kept their cars properly, it might provide half a million more jobs," Volland said.

Cause of Blaze in Bloomfield Still Unknown

The origin of a fire that caused $50,000 damage to a Bloomfield Hills home yesterday is still undetermined.

The fire at 1900 Hillwood Road was discovered by the owner T. L. Mitchell when heavy smoke filled his home shortly after 2 a.m.

The blaze destroyed a library and caused extensive smoke and water damage, according to Bloomfield Hills Fire Captain Gray Wachter.

He estimated damage at $30,000 to the home and $20,000 to the contents.

Mitchell was insured for the loss, Wachter said.

The Bloomfield Township Fire Department helped to control the blaze.

Order Pecho Committed to Mental Institution

LANSING (UPI)—Walter Pecho, 42-year-old Lansing man who was released from prison after serving six years of a second-degree murder conviction sentence, has been ordered committed to a mental institution.

Ingham County authorities Wednesday ordered Pecho committed after two local psychiatrists testified the former convict was mentally ill.

President Andrew Jackson, when a lawyer, liked his cock fights as well as his legal battles.

Waterford School Building 'Right on Schedule'

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

When Waterford Township voters approved a $5-million school building program in 1959, they probably did not realize that in a little more than two years they would have six new school buildings, seven big school additions and several future school sites.

That's what has happened in one of the largest, and fastest moving school building programs in Michigan, according to Supt. William A. Shunck.

"Everything has been right on schedule," he added.

With the awarding of construction contracts for additions to the maintenance building, and the Board of Education office tonight, the final stages of the huge building project are drawing to a close.

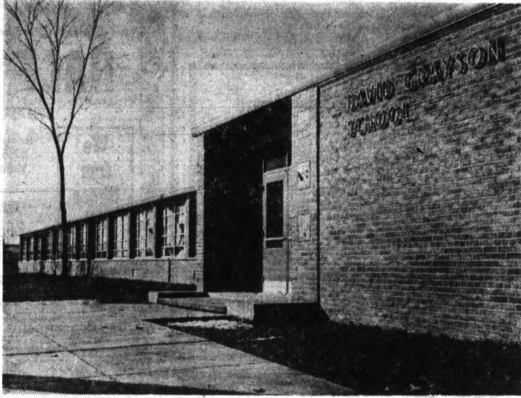

With continued investment of school building funds into United States Treasury bills, the school district picked up a profit of $50,000 in interest on the $5 million during the past two years.

After the voters approved the building program, it didn't take the school board long in setting the wheels in motion for the construction work.

The architectural firm of George D. Mason went to work preparing a master elementary school plan which could be used in the construction of all five of the proposed buildings.

3 SCHOOLS OPEN

Three schools—the David Grayson on Walton Boulevard, the FINISHED FIRST — The David Grayson School was the first to be completed in Waterford Township's gigantic school building program.

Della Lutz on Lynsae Street and the Carl Sandburg on Merry Road—opened their doors to approximately 1,000 pupils in September.

Two more, as yet unnamed in the Lotus Lake and Pleasant Lake areas, are under construction as is the new $2.5-million Waterford-Kettering senior high school.

Each of the new $350,000 elementary schools, has enough acreage for future expansion should it become necessary. The sites have spacious playgrounds, and most of the schools are surrounded by cyclone fencing for protection.

Scientific planning of building has utilized every inch of space. Teachers as well as board members assisted in making changes in the building plans before construction, and as a result, a "more workable system" is now in operation.

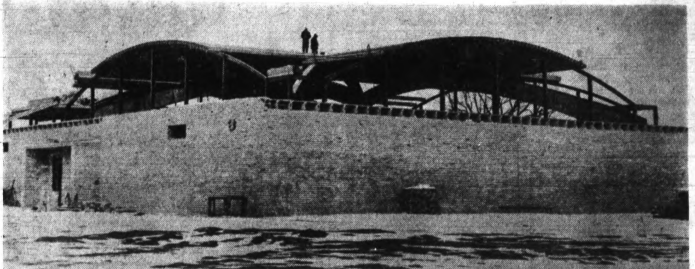

The new senior-high school, scheduled to open in September, is situated on a 35-acre site across Hatchery Road from the John Pierce Junior High School. The Pierce blueprints were used as a guide for the high school, with only minor changes incorporated.

The first of three wings will be made up entirely of classrooms. The second will house the library and more classrooms, and the third wing will have machine and auto shops on the north side and home economics, art and drafting rooms on the south side.

Additional totaling more than $600,000 were contributed by the Covert, Drayton Plains, Schoolcraft and Waterford Village schools, and soon will be on the maintenance building and School Board office.

Waterford Township residents will have the longest "breather" in the system's history between requests for another school bond issue, Shunck predicted. However, as the schools begin to reach their capacity (in about five years, he said) more schools and additions will again become necessary.

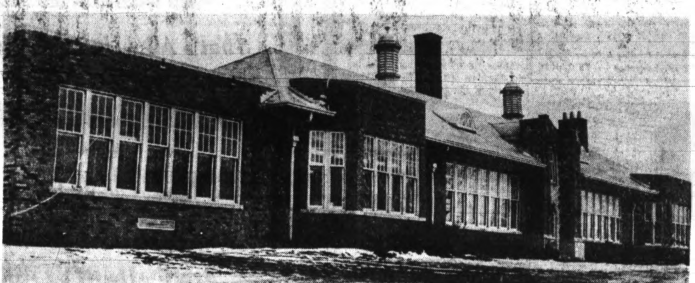

When the new senior high school opens next fall, both high schools will enroll only 10th, 11th and 12th graders, and the two junior high schools will accommodate 7th, 8th and 9th graders. Some 9th grade students now attend Waterford Township High School.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL — Streamlined simplicity was uppermost in the minds of the George D. Mason architects in designing the new Waterford-Kettering High School. The roof of the gymnasium, shown above, is supported by mammoth steel beams, and sheets of steel secured together. The school is expected to open next fall.

NEW UNNAMED SCHOOL — Workmen are getting set to place cement slabs on the roof of a new elementary school on Elizabeth Lake Road near Williams Lake Road. Another elementary school, the last in a $5-million building program, is under construction in the Lotus Lake area.

ADDITION BLENDS — One of the problems of making additions to older school buildings was solved when architects designed more rooms for the Hudson Covert School. A wing was added to each end of the original building, with the same color brick used, giving it a look of "always been that way."

Deputies Back in School

By DICK HANSON

Oakland County sheriff's deputies went back to school today.

Armed with notebooks and pencils, 41 uniformed men trooped into the classroom at the county jail for their first lecture in a series.

Their teacher, Inspector George R. Lyons of the Flint Police Department, conducted a three-hour course on public relations and police ethics while the officers took notes.

The men scribbled furiously, knowing that they will have to take a test on what was being covered.

This was the pioneer class. Eventually all of the sheriff's men will be enrolled in the series of courses, which will continue indefinitely.

The purpose of the classroom training is to assure that each officer keeps abreast of new techniques in police work taught by the best men available in each field.

The idea of sending the deputies back to school originated with Sheriff Frank Irons and Detective Capt. Leo Hazen. They prepared a series of courses through the cooperation of professors in the police administration field at Michigan State University and FBI agents.

The curriculum so far will include two hours on how to write crime reports, six hours on the safest way to stop vehicles and how to approach a violator, four hours on completing traffic accident reports, two hours on traffic laws and six hours on criminal law and how to conduct a search and seizure and make arrests.

HOPE TAYLOR TEACHES

"We hope that County Prosecutor George Taylor will be available to conduct the course in criminal law, search and seizure and how to make a proper arrest," said Capt. Hazen.

The curriculum will be left open for further subjects to be added, according to Sheriff Irons. "My men can plan on going to school here indefinitely," he said.

Many of the teachers will be from the State Police Training School at East Lansing. Other, including laboratory technicians, FBI agents, criminologists and physicians, will be drawn from the field.

Already the best equipped police unit of its kind in the country, the Sheriff's Department undoubtedly will be the best educated if the courses prove as effective as planned.

Cold in North, Snow in Spots, Warm in South

By The Associated Press
It was wintry weather, with snow and cold, across areas from the Northern Rockies into New England today. But fairly mild weather continued in most southern parts of the nation.

Cold air stretched along the northern border, dropping temperatures to zero with some below zero marks in extreme Northern Michigan.

Snow fell in parts of the icy air, with as much as four inches in Buffalo, N.Y. The covering in most of the Lower Great Lakes and Northern Appalachians ranged from 1 to 4 inches. Snow flurries also were reported in the northern plains and the northern and eastern Upper Great Lakes.

New Rocket Fired

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N. M. — The Air Force said Wednesday it had successfully fired a new target rocket 155 miles. A spokesman said the two-stage solid propellant rocket was one of several target missiles being prepared for use in developing the Army's Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile and its ICBM system.

Pontiac Students Capture 22 Firsts at Music Festival

Students from Pontiac's high and junior high schools brought back 22 first place ratings from the District Solo and Ensemble Festival at Wayne State University and Birmingham Groves High School last weekend.

The instrumental music festival was held in Birmingham, while vocalists performed at WSU.

The musicians took 16 No. 1 ratings, and the vocalists won 6 Class A ratings.

In addition, there were 17 second place ratings won by local students, and four placed third.

The students were judged on their skill of technique and interpretation.

Vocalists placing first from Pontiac Central High School were Marlene Beale, Mitzie Schroeder, Eddie Skelley and Nancy Shaw. In addition, the senior girls ensemble and the Songspimmers both received A ratings.

SOLO RATINGS

In the instrumental division,

Pick 4 Sophomores for Science Program

Four Pontiac area high school students were among some 150 outstanding sophomore science students selected to participate in the fifth national science youth day program last week in Detroit.

The local youths were Bob Aumacher of 1910 Beverly Ave., Shirley Reese of 601 Fourth St., Mark Vincent of 2308 Lapeer Road, Pontiac Township, and Jerry Bell of 2150 Parkinson Drive, Waterford Township.

The program was held at Greenfield Village, and was sponsored by the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Winds exceed hurricane force more often than every other day during six months, including the winter, on the summit of Mt. Washington, N.H.

PCH students getting first place ratings in solo work were James Forman, Jean Huttula, Michael Pierce and Larry Reynolds.

Perry Tison was the lone first place soloist from Pontiac Northern, but Northern excelled in the ensemble field.

Lincoln Junior High soloists taking top ratings were Valerie Buncie and Douglas Ingamells.

In duet, Sharon Norberg and Phyllis Hardy took a first place rating, as did June Maxwell, Stephanie Bennett and Mary Ellen Hill in a trio performance.

Cheal took two No. 1 ratings—one for a baritone solo and one for a trombone solo.

The other top rating was taken by a trio from Washington made up of Jill Anderson, Debbie Marlow and Jean Taylor.

High rating entries in the district festival will now continue on to the state festival later this spring.

Stealing From Newsboy Puts Youth on Probation

Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan yesterday placed a 17-year-old youth on 30 days probation for stealing $9.85 from a 12-year-old paper carrier.

Johnny M. Pouch, 30 N. Parke St., was also ordered to pay a $5 fine or serve one day in the Oakland County Jail.

Pouch had pleaded guilty earlier to a simple larceny charge.

Milk, Egg Production Shows January Drop

LANSING (UPI)—Milk and egg production in the state dropped during January, according to the Federal-State Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Milk production was estimated at 382 million pounds, or 4 percent below the 10-year average output for the month and 2 percent under January, 1960 production.

Egg production fell off 18 million from January a year ago to 116 million, the service said.

The rate of lay was off less than one per cent, but reports showed the number of layers in Michigan flocks was down one-eighth.

Soapy Begins Tour of Africa

Will Meet Kazavubu Feb. 27, Trip to Last for 15 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, left by plane Wednesday night for a one-month visit to 15 African nations.

Williams, accompanied by his wife, said he will confer with Congo President Joseph Kasavubu in Leopoldville Feb. 27. Asked if he planned to meet with Antoine Gizenga, recognized by the Soviet Union as head of the Congolese government, Williams replied:

"I would like to meet him, but I don't imagine that will be possible."

Long Lines Loom for Licenses

From a glance at the records, it's obvious that there will be a last-minute rush of Pontiac citizens beating a path to the door of the secretary of state's office to purchase 1961 license plate tabs, according to Willis M. Brewer, branch manager.

Approximately 21,300 persons had purchased tabs by Monday, down from 28,000 at the same time last year. Brewer said sales should equal last year's when 65,000 persons purchased tabs.

"We're only selling 600-800 a day with the Feb. 28 deadline less than two weeks away," Brewer said.

He predicted that those who delay getting their tabs now will be standing in long lines later this month.

Motorists may purchase tabs in the Pontiac office at 96 E. Huron St. and at the temporary office in the Waterford Township hall.

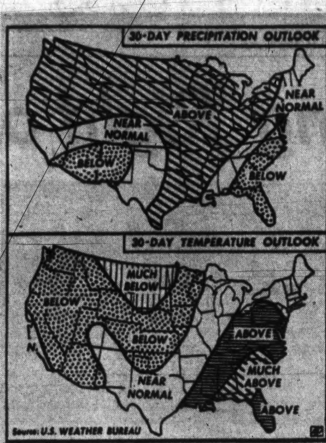

Both locations are presently open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturdays.

Brewer said office hours would be extended shortly before the monthend deadline.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Henri Spaak, the outgoing secretary general of the North Atlantic Alliance, will visit Washington next week and give the Kennedy administration his views on NATO.

Spaak's visit is at the invitation of Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Diplomatic sources in reporting this today said that Spaak is expected to arrive Sunday night. He will meet with Rusk and his aides on Monday and will talk with President Kennedy on Tuesday.

Hellos Cost Too Much, Florida Governor Says

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Gov. Earl Bryant says Florida may be forced to figure out a new way of welcoming tourists to the state.

Bryant said 3.4 million cars entered the state last year, but only 151,000 of them stopped at the state-maintained welcoming stations at the border. He said it cost the state an average of $1.75 per car, and this is too expensive a welcome.

Dem Candidates to Meet in Detroit

LANSING (AP)—Democratic candidates in the April 3 election will meet in Detroit Saturday to talk over campaign issues, John J. Collins, the party's state chairman said Wednesday.

The session (at the Henmore Hotel) is a follow-up to a strategy meeting Feb. 5 in Grand Rapids following the Democratic State Convention.

The nine partisan candidates, as well as the two Democratic nominees for the state Supreme Court, have been invited to attend Collins said.

Argentina, Australia and New Zealand people eat more meat than Americans, according to commodity tables.

Keeping Him Cool
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. R. L. Bagwell didn't know her 3-year-old son was using the family refrigerator to shelter a new found pet. Mrs. Bagwell watched son Roger open the refrigerator door and gently pick up a small toad frog.

BOMB VICTIM'S WIDOW WEDS — The former Mrs. Julian Frank, whose husband was killed in an airliner bomb explosion last year, is shown with her new husband, sales executive Joseph F. Rafferty of Jersey City, N. J., after their wedding in New York City Wednesday. Her former husband, attorney Julian Frank, was suspected of being the person who planted the bomb aboard the airliner, causing it to crash in North Carolina Jan. 6, 1960.

Consolidated to Add Facilities in State

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and affiliates have announced plans for construction of more than $45 million worth of new facilities during 1961.

Michigan Consolidated President Ralph T. McElvenny said the firm will invest $21,850,000 throughout its system in the state including construction of 175 miles of new gas distribution mains.

He said the firm expects to add about 12,200 customers during the year.

The Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. has scheduled $19.5 million for improvements including about $2 million in Michigan.

Ford of Canada Sees Profit Decline in 1960

TORONTO (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., had net profit of $20,389,395 or $12.42 a share in 1960 compared with $25,217,015 and $15.20 in 1959.

Sales during the year totaled $543,707,383 compared with $517,285,922 in the preceding year. Karl E. Scott, president, said the decline in profit reflected a reduction in sales of standard North American passenger cars in Canada and that income from overseas operations was adversely affected by costs associated with startup of manufacturing operations of the new Falcon car in Australia.

Eddie Fisher Okay Following Surgery

LONDON (AP)—Eddie Fisher was reported getting along "quite well" today after emergency removal of his appendix at the London Clinic.

Surgery began half an hour after the singer was admitted to the expensive private hospital Wednesday night.

Fisher and his movie star wife, Elizabeth Taylor, had been celebrating the pre-Lenten carnival season in Munich with friends when stomach pains began bothering him Wednesday. Fisher and Miss Taylor cancelled a ski holiday in Switzerland and flew back to London, where she is to film the movie "Cleopatra."

Fisher's doctor said there were no complications and he should be out of the hospital in four or five days.

Judge Prices Room With View; Awards $3,400

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For years Agnes Goycoolea watched its massive new structures — a whole new skyline — rise in the Civic Center below her home on Hill Street.

She had a good view from her front windows, and it was a thrilling sight.

Then the city elevated a section of Hill Street, reducing her view to 32 feet. She sued the city for $10,000.

Superior Judge Leon T. David agreed Wednesday that the lost view had a market value. He awarded her $3,400.

Bank Unloads Dollars at a Cut-Rate Price

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—The Santa Monica Bank has announced it will take advantage of a citywide dollar sale today and Friday to sell silver dollars for 98 cents.

Aubrey E. Austin Jr., president of the bank, said "We just want to rid our vault of them and decided that an ideal time to do it would be during our citywide dollar days."

He did not say how many silver dollars were available at the cut-rate price, but he cautioned, "No mail or telephone orders, please."

Civic Effort Eyed in War to End Crime

MARQUETTE (U)—In the face of a growing crime rate, a concerted effort to convert crime prevention into a community project is needed, says Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

Adams, addressing a civic club here Wednesday announced a program designed to shift the emphasis in crime control from detection and punishment to crime prevention.

Adams said he has set up a conference May 10 in Lansing to focus attention on crime prevention methods. It will bring together representatives of law enforcement agencies, members of the court and state bar, probation officials, educators, representatives of social agencies and community groups and other interested groups.

"We have refined our techniques for crime detection and punishment and these are certainly most necessary," Adams said. "But unfortunately the crime rate continues to grow."

275 Enrolled in Night School at Central High

Enrollment for night-school classes at Pontiac Central High School this semester totals 275, it was announced today.

The figure is about 100 less than enrolled for courses in the winter term of 1960, according to Raymond J. Graff, acting director of the Vocational Education Department.

It is also lower than enrollment for the fall semester just concluded. There were 387 students in 25 classes in the fall term.

There are 20 classes being conducted in the current semester. Highest enrollment is in the business education division. A total of 121 students are enrolled in seven classes.

There are 80 students enrolled in the eight vocational industrial classes, and 45 in three adult education classes. Two homemaking classes have drawn 28 students.

Graff explained that annually there is higher enrollment for fall classes than for the winter term.

when is the RIGHT TIME to trade your car ??????

IF YOUR PRESENT CAR IS NO LONGER DEPENDABLE

Do you worry about whether your car will start on cold mornings? If so, right now is the time to trade for a new, dependable Valiant. Valiant gives you an Alternator to help keep the battery fully charged—it delivers current even while the engine idles.

IF YOUR PRESENT CAR DEMANDS HIGH-TEST GAS

Why pay extra for every gallon of gas when a new Valiant runs on regular? And, Valiant will run farther on each gallon—it beat both Falcon and Corvair in last year's Mobilgas Economy Run. Right now is the time to trade for Valiant and start saving.

IF YOU CAN REDUCE YOUR PAYMENTS AND GET A NEW CAR

Are you driving a 1958, 1959, or 1960 medium-price car and still making monthly payments on it? Chances are that you can step into a new Valiant and lower the monthly payments at the same time. Right now is the time to save every month with a Valiant.

IF YOUR PRESENT CAR IS HARD TO PARK AND HANDLE

Do you pass up some parking spaces because they're too small? Is it a tight squeeze in your garage? Then right now is the time to trade for Valiant. It has plenty of room, the sturdy feel of a big car yet it has the handling ease of a compact.

Any time that you want to save money on first cost and operating cost... any time that you want to drive a sporty, classic-styled beauty... any time you want peppy performance—that's the time to buy a Valiant!

Valiant...prices start $100 lower than last year!

Neighbors Profit From Other Town

LAKEVIEW, Ga. (AP) — The 500 block on Hillsboro Road has taken on an affluent look because of retail merchants' promotions in neighboring Chattanooga, Tenn., and Rossville, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mays of 506 Hillsboro won $1,000 in a drawing conducted during Chattanooga's Downtown Days. And their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rains of 518 Hillsboro, won $300 in a drawing during Rossville Days.

Christmas Club Claim Colled Largely Humbug

NEW YORK (UPI) — The belief that Americans saved $1.5 billion in Christmas clubs last year to defray yuletide expenses is largely humbug.

According to a leading Christmas club operator, 31 cents of every dollar saved went for Christmas purchases.

Of the balance, 10 cents went for taxes, seven cents for year-end bills, two cents for miscellaneous items — and 51 cents for regular savings and investments.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. My husband insists I get rid of my dog because the dog's dandruff has made my husband's asthma worse. Is there anything I can spray or bathe the dog with? A. Arnold, Jamaica, N. Y.

A. As medical science becomes more proficient in detecting the causes of asthma, I'm confronted more and more often with the problem of the person threatened with the loss of her dearly beloved pet because she or some member of her family is suffering from asthma.

In most cases, cooperation between the physician and veterinarian has helped. Your veterinarian now has special shampoos which, if applied regularly, will almost eliminate dandruff in the dog. Letting the dog sleep outside or in a room far removed from the asthma sufferer will help.

If your house is heated with hot air heat, special filters and humidifiers will cut down greatly the amount of loose dandruff flying in the air.

Generous Move by Ted Kennedy Backfires on Him

BOSTON (AP) — When Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, agreed Feb. 7 to waive a $5,000 salary and be a $1-a-year assistant district attorney, he forgot about the state retirement law.

State Treasurer John T. Driscoll notified Kennedy Tuesday all state employees must join the contributory pension fund and pay in 5 per cent of annual base pay — in Kennedy's case $520.

The treasurer said a employee may waive his salary but not the pension payment.

That means a net loss of $249 for $1-a-year Kennedy.

Not a Solitary Game

GREENWOOD, Ind. (AP) — Clifford Anteliff, a Greenwood lawyer, finally learned what caused the delay in the chess game he was conducting by mail with an unknown player in Massachusetts.

His adversary was an inmate of a penal institution and had been thrown in solitary for trying to escape.

Only 11,000 Years Old

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP) — Excavation of a gravel pit recently uncovered a forest of trees all lying in the same direction. University of Wisconsin scientists, estimating the wood was about 11,000 years old, believe one of the great glaciers that overspread Wisconsin buried the trees.

BALCONY FIGHT — Guards battle demonstrators in the spectators' gallery at the United Nations Security Council Wednesday. There was wild disorder that brought a recess in the Congo debate until the floor could be cleared.

With a Chain—or Brass Knuckles?

'I Was Floored in the U.N. Riot'

Editor's Note: Joel Landu, UPI photographer, suffered a severe cut on his forehead Wednesday when struck by a Congolese demonstrator in the United Nations Security Council chamber.

By JOEL LANDU
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Stanley Hall, a photographer for the New York Mirror, and I were together in a side booth of the Security Council chamber today when an uproar broke out in the public seats.

There was shouting from a group of Negroes and then we saw U.N. guards running up the aisles to them. They began throwing them out, picking up several men and hitting them out bodily.

Hall and I ran out a side door leading to the third floor corridor and moved into the middle of a group of men struggling with the guards. I saw one Negro wielding a chain.

Hall was starting to make a picture when a man hit him in the back of the head either with brass knuckles or a chain. He fell to the corridor floor and didn't move.

HIT IN FOREHEAD
I had started forward to help him and the same man swung at me. I moved back slightly and the blow caught me in the forehead and knocked my camera to the floor.

I staggered back and saw another man hitting a U.N. guard. I kicked him in the leg muscle. I began to feel as if I didn't know where I was. I heard all sorts of screams and noises. My main reaction was not to get hit again.

I walked up to the dispensary. Hall was lying on a couch. He had regained consciousness but he still was in a daze.

The cut I got didn't require any stitches but I still feel pretty wobbly.

Warns of Insurance Ads

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford has issued a strong warning to Michigan residents to be very careful about buying insurance on the basis of advertisements in nationally circulated publications.

"Everyone, especially older people, should make sure that the insurance firms they may be attracted to by advertising in national publications are licensed to do business in Michigan," Blackford said Wednesday.

Hospitalization Hearing Rapped

UAW Official Charges Rate-Hike Hearing Just Propaganda

LANSING (UPI) — A United Auto Workers Union official from Detroit today charged hearings on rate-increase requests by Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospitalization and health insurance firms aimed at influencing Michigan people.

Paul Silver, president of UAW Local 351 in Detroit, appeared at the final hearing held by Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford on the rate-hike requests.

"This is a seminar traveling around the state with Blue Cross and Blue Shield officials at tempting to influence the thinking of the public," Silver said.

He asked Blackford for permission to respond to questions on the rate-hike plan from the audience. Blackford then asked for any comment on questions as they came up from the floor.

Many people from the Detroit area, including several union representatives, were in the Lansing audience.

Gets 90 Days in Jail for Assaulting Man

Field B. Keyton, 27, of 255 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township pleaded guilty to simple assault in Justice of the Peace Patrick R. Daly's court yesterday and was sentenced to 90 days in the Oakland County jail.

Originally charged with felonious assault, the charge was reduced when it was not determined if he attacked a gasoline attendant with a knife.

On the night of Feb. 2, he was ordered to leave a service station at 2450 Dixie Highway by Arley Sheffer. He is charged with pulling a long switch-blade knife and threatening Sheffer.

Keyton was arrested at his home by township police Feb. 6, could not furnish a $1,000 bond and was placed in jail.

At yesterday's arraignment, Keyton was given a choice of 90 days in jail plus $20 court costs, or the 90-day sentence. He was sent back to jail when he was unable to pay the money.

Austria's Raab to Quit

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Chancellor Julius Raab, head of Austria's coalition governments for the past eight years, announced today he will resign April 11.

Crime Cost Shocking, Moore Tells Teen-Agers

Today's Michigan high school students will inherit a $300 million annual debit as tomorrow's taxpayers.

This is the minimum yearly cost of crime in Michigan.

The startling figure was quoted by high school students in Pontiac yesterday by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

He addressed student bodies at both Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools as part of the city's current Crime Prevention Week activities.

"We don't usually think about crime until somebody close to us is robbed, beaten, raped, knifed, murdered or viciously victimized in some other way," he told the youths.

"PLEAD TOO LATE"

"It's only then that we plead 'Why can't something be done?' Human nature seems to react to danger rather than to act to prevent it," the judge added.

This attitude is costing each person in Michigan an average of $1,500 per year to operate state prisons that originally cost another $282.8 million, the judge pointed out. "Further, relief costs for families of prisoners run at least $1,000 each year per family."

"If we add all the cost of apprehending criminals, convicting them, caring for probation and parole and destruction or loss of property, the total cost to Michigan and its citizens probably exceeds $200 million annually. National figures follow the same pattern."

"National patriotism demands elimination of delinquency and crime."

Up Teachers' Pay, Says Businessman

DETROIT (AP) — A businessman has told the nation's high school principals that the first step in improving the country's educational system is to increase teacher pay.

James C. Worthing, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago said Wednesday that pay for teachers "needs to be improved to a point where the teaching profession can compete more effectively in the market for able and talented young people."

Worthing spoke to 6,500 school administrators at the closing session of the 45th annual convention of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. The convention lasted five days.

crime," Judge Moore told the students. "Youth as well as adults are responsible."

"How may you help as youth of this community?" The judge offered the following suggestions:

"First, this is basically a matter of your attitude. Do you insist upon being not only a citizen but a leader in opposition to crime? The emphasis is upon contributing to law enforcement by serious desire for obedience to law."

"Next, you must do things which you know will help your whole youth group. You will not condone bad games, you will not be a violator of a Code of Behavior such as a party-crasher, or liquor toter with rough appearance."

"Thirdly, you will volunteer your services toward any movement which will help to better youth of Pontiac."

"There is no easy way to impress upon potential failures the difference between right and wrong, or miraculously to endow them with high moral standards, religious principles, patriotism, community mindedness and respect for their neighbor," Judge Moore asserted.

"These qualities have to be taught and learned the hard way. They, rather than fear of punishment, are the primary deterrents to crime. And it takes effort to make them a part of your life."

"We are delegating to you teenagers a big share of the responsibility to help America, to restore these qualities which measure the true wealth of our nation and are the very cornerstone of its foundation."

"The slogan for this year's observance is Crime Prevention is a Do-It-Yourself Project." That, to a degree, throws the job right into your laps where it belongs.

"I sincerely hope that the responsibility will become a personal challenge for you all the years of your life."

FARMINGTON — A business district within a business district opened here yesterday.

PTA Will Note Founders' Day

Ludwick, Dr. Bartlett to Speak at Rochester Event Monday Night

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Council of the Parent-Teachers Association will present a Founders' Day program entitled "To Tell the Truth" Monday at 8 p.m. in the student center of Rochester High School.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, and James S. Ludwick of the Rochester Board of Education.

Dr. Bartlett will discuss the quality of education on the state and national levels.

He has been a teacher, administrator and college instructor in addition to serving as state superintendent for the past four years.

Dr. Bartlett supervises a department budget of more than one-half million dollars and dispenses over $200 million in state school funds.

He has more than 300 employees in his department and is responsible for establishing policy and initiating study programs and surveys.

Ludwick will focus the picture of educational costs on the local school district. A certified public accountant, he has been chairman of finance on the subcommittee of the Junior High School Study Group besides being active on the board of education.

TO ANSWER QUESTIONS
The Founders' Day program sponsors say it is designed to answer the question of those interested in the present and future of education.

Education and civic leaders of the Rochester area have been invited to meet Dr. Bartlett at a reception before the program.

While the meeting is open to the public, the reception is by invitation only.

Mrs. Arthur Ferguson Jr. is recruitment committee chairman.

ARRANGE SPECIAL PROGRAM — Three members of the Rochester Council of Parent-Teachers Association go over final plans for the organization's Founders' Day program to be held Monday at 8 p.m. at Rochester High School.

planning area, to be known as the Farmington Center, is an A&P food store.

A large drugstore will open next in the center and in the weeks to follow nine other service stores will be welcomed into the downtown improvement project.

Eventually, 30 stores will be housed in the shopping center. The cost of project, when completed, has been estimated at $1.5 million.

As the initial tenant in the shopping center, officials of the A&P grocery chain were held at a luncheon yesterday at Rochester Inn.

Some 110 persons, including city, county and civic leaders, attended the ceremonies. Luncheon arrangements were made by the Farmington Exchange Club.

They formed the Farmington Center Corp. in order to remedy the situation.

With the cooperation of the city, they optioned and razed a section of the business district and a score of old homes.

Merchants in the downtown area favored the proposed shopping center and agreed 100 per cent to participate in a special assessment to build a 700-car parking lot in the new area, of which they have been allotted 200 spaces.

The corporation then took over the entire parcel, store sites and parking area, at a cost of more than $400,000.

Speaking yesterday at the luncheon, Mayor Robert Lindbergh said the shopping center would be an economical asset to the community.

He said that A&P alone has informed him that 75-80 persons have been employed and that the figure might reach 100.

Roy Hutton, vice president of Farmington Center Corp., explained that the project is not speculative.

"It is a sincere attempt by the corporation to bring back life to Farmington that has been years ago."

The business district has stood still 30 to 40 years without a major development," Hutton added. "We feel intense pride in making the project possible."

ORTONVILLE—The village officials are expected to be returned to their posts in the March 13 election now that all of them have been renominate in the traditional village caucus.

Chosen in the nonpartisan caucus to succeed himself as council president was Raymond Barrick. Other incumbents are Clerk LaVerne Brest, Treasurer Thomas E. McDonnell and Assessor Harold Schoof.

Incumbent councilmen who will be seeking two-year terms in the March election are John Teare, Donald Barns and Allen Stevens. The other terms are for one year.

Although only one person was selected for each public office at the caucus, Brest said the regular election must be held in case the name of a write-in candidate is placed on the ballot.

TO PASS OUT MERIT BADGES
CLIFFORD—Boy Scout Troop 216 will conduct a Court of Honor at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Clifford Community Hall. Merit badges and class awards will be presented.

Kramarz looks to increased demands in cherries, strawberries, cucumbers, sugar beets and possibly peaches this year.

Because of the weather last year, the Hart-Shelby (central west) area produced cherries at 30 per cent of capacity last year. Under normal conditions this year, the need for harvesters should be greater there, said Kramarz.

A long, cool season meant a slow extended harvest for strawberries, under average conditions, a larger work force will be needed.

Lesinski Told He Shouldn't Get Involved
LANSING (UPI)—Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski got a mild slap on the wrist Wednesday from Democratic brass for mixing in a Madison Heights nonpartisan municipal election.

Lesinski endorsed William Huffman, whom he called a "very good personal friend" in the race for mayor.

"Any individual has a right—as an individual—to express a personal preference in a primary election," said J. Joseph Collins, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

He said Lesinski's endorsement action was made without the "knowledge or approval" of the Democratic party.

Gov. John B. Swainson said he had received a complaint from Theodore Kramarz, present mayor of Madison Heights, and has talked to Lesinski about it.

"It simply told him that as incumbent governor I didn't plan to endorse candidates," Swainson said.

CD Director Resigns Post The Michael Fergusons Jr. Honeymoon in Florida

Lake Orion-Orion Twp. Office to Be Filled by Raymond Genereux

ORION TOWNSHIP — Raymond H. Genereux will replace Dr. Richard A. McNeil as director of the Lake Orion-Orion Township Office of Civil Defense, it was announced today.

Dr. McNeil's resignation has been accepted along with that of Wallace C. Crane who served as deputy director of the local civil defense office.

Both Crane and Dr. McNeil said they were stepping down from their CD positions since they both served well over two years in office. Genereux of 317 Jackson St. also has had previous experience with the local unit. He has served as assistant CD director.

A deputy director will be named later to replace Crane, according to Township Clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephen.

The township board has contributed $400 for the 1961 civil defense budget, Mrs. Stephen said.

In other action, the township board signed an agreement to provide fire protection for the western section of Oakland Township.

The agreement will continue fire protection for Oakland Township formerly provided by the now defunct Lake Orion and Geringville fire departments.

Orion township assumed control of the two fire departments Jan. 1 at the request of village officials.

RECOMMEND APPROVAL
The township board also recommended for approval to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission two tavern licenses and a class C liquor license. All were approved for one year.

The tavern licenses were recommended for Robert M. Campbell of 3530 Krom Road and Mrs. Debra Noble for use at Pasquales Restaurant at 865 S. Laper Road.

The liquor license was recommended for two partners, Joseph Mooney and Fred Beckwith, who made the same demands as last year, said the placement chief.

The Rev. Richard Durr officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, the former Camille J. Williamson, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Williamson of 317 N. Madison Drive. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Ferguson of 13023 John R. Madison Heights.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of imported, hand-clipped French Chantilly lace with a tiered skirt and chapel train.

A crown of seed pearls and rhinestones secured her fingertip length veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of stephanotis, Amazon lilies and ivy.

Mary Shaw, maid-of-honor, while bridesmaids were Janice Perry, Janice Williams, Judy Harris and Mrs. Barry Sills.

Serving as best man was the bride's brother Dennis Williamson. The guests were seated by Livingston Schaar, Richard Mercer and Gerald and Richard Lamplier.

The bridegroom's brother, Jerry Ferguson of Madison Heights was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held at Frank Gagen's restaurant in Detroit. The evening reception was at Carpenter's Hall in East Detroit.

After a three-week honeymoon, the newlyweds will live in Madison Heights.

Absentee Ballots Ready
ORION TOWNSHIP — Absentee ballots for voters who will not be here for Monday's primary election are available until 2 p.m. Saturday in the Orion Township Hall, 371 S. Broadway, according to Township Clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephen.

To Call Prior Jurors for Finch Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The defense in the third Finch-Tregoff murder trial plans to summon six jurors from the second trial.

Attorney Maxwell Keith said Wednesday as he opened the defense presentation that he will prove at least one of the defendants have been placed in double jeopardy in violation of constitutional rights.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 43, and his sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, 24, charged with the slaying of Finch's wife, Barbara Jean, 36, July 18, 1959. Two previous trials ended in jury deadlocks.

The defense says jurors in the second trial had agreed to convict Finch on a lesser charge of second-degree murder when it was dismissed. The defense claims Finch should not be tried again on a first-degree murder charge, which could result in a death sentence.

FOUND DEAD — Vicki Lee Morris, 8, was found dead Wednesday morning near Redding, Calif., after an all night search. The child had been slain and apparently raped. She was last seen getting off a school bus in Redding.

Hobo King Has Cure for Nation

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Jeff Davis, the self-proclaimed king of the hoboes, has a five-point program to cure the nation's economic ills.

Davis' program included a five-year moratorium on interest payments on the national debt, a heavy tax on automation, and a shorter work week for all employees in order to give employment to those workers now out of work.

He also would urge that welfare recipients get a little less in order that more can be spared for others in need.

Davis said he planned to go to Washington this month as representative of the hoboes and present his program to the government.

Solons Accept Bid for Tour on Air Force

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About 35 of the new members of the House of Representatives have accepted invitations to take a three-day Air Force orientation tour this weekend.

The tour will start with briefings at the Pentagon and at Andrews Air Force Base.

Saturday, the group will fly to Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, Neb., and then go to North American Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.

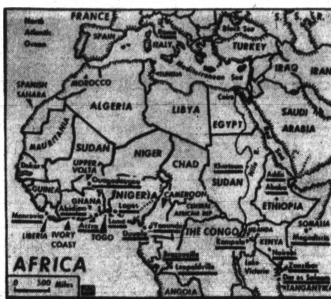

The group will visit the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs Sunday.

This Kind of Obedience Should Alarm Any Crook

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Two gunmen entered a liquor store Wednesday night and ordered the clerk, David Wareham, to lie on the floor.

He did—right on top of the robbery alarm button.

Officers arrived a few minutes later and arrested Robert Lee Jr., 28, and Robert H. Gordon Jr., 32, who were jailed without charge.

WILLIAMS' ITINERARY — The underlined cities are those which will be visited by former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, on his forthcoming, month-long tour of African states. Williams visited President Kennedy recently to discuss the trip and left New York Wednesday for Rome and Ethiopia, where he will attend an African economic conference.

Guilty in Beating of His Father-in-Law

Accused of felonious assault in an argument with his father-in-law, Eugene T. White, 25, of 456 Edith St., yesterday pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of assault and battery just before his Municipal Court examination on the felony charge was to get under way.

White was accused of beating his father-in-law and threatening him with a knife during an argument Jan. 21 over a $4 debt.

White was arrested on the complaint of his father-in-law, Nathan B. Powell, 50, 615 Highland Ave. After returning an ironing board, his son-in-law demanded he be repaid $4 and the argument followed, Powell said.

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum sentenced White for Feb. 17.

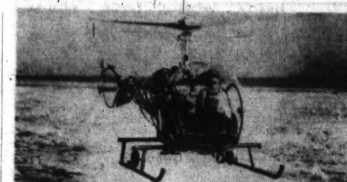

12 Million Flew Safely on 707s Before Crash

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boeing 707s had flown more than 12 million passengers miles more than 18.9 billion passenger miles without a fatality until today's crash of the Sabena aircraft.

The airplane company has delivered 179 of the 707s, five of which were operated by Sabena.

Three 707s have crashed previously. Two, owned by American Airlines, crashed while on training flights. A third was lost by Boeing on a test flight at Seattle.

FLOE ROUNDUP — A helicopter took the role of a cop today Wednesday as the Animal Welfare League of Chicago went about the task of rescuing a German shepherd that had been wandering around on ice floes in Lake Michigan for two days. A league officer, playing out the western-type drama is swinging a lariat which blends into the structure of the copter. Below, the dog is rescued at the shore after the aircraft chased her off the frozen lake.

Dow-Ohio Oil Agreement Necessitates Expansion

DETROIT (UPI) — Ohio Oil Co. Wednesday announced a long-term agreement under which it will provide Dow Chemical Co. with about 20 million gallons of benzene-isoprene mixture annually beginning in 1962.

The substance is used in the manufacture of plastics, synthetic rubber and other items. The agreement will involve a multimillion dollar expansion of Ohio's Aurora Gasoline Co. at Detroit, and the material will be shipped to Dow plants at Bay City by pipeline.

This will involve a new 42-mile pipeline extension to be built by Buckeye Pipe Line Co. at a cost of $1.7 million.

Postpone Examination in Drugstore Burglary

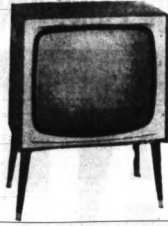

Municipal Court examination of Eugene Linwood, 19, 241 E. Wilson Ave., accused of being one of six participants in a $3,000 drugstore burglary in December, was postponed yesterday to March 1.

Some $3,000 in cash and merchandise and 88 blank money orders were stolen in the break-in of Lou's Drugstore, 493 S. Sanford St., according to Pontiac police.

Expects Upturn in U.S. Economy

Detroit Banker Sees 3rd-Quarter Recovery, He Tells Associates

MARQUETTE (U) — An upturn in the nation's economy, probably by the third quarter of this year, was forecast by a Detroit banker here last night.

Charles S. Ricker, assistant vice president of the National Bank of Detroit, told the winter conference of the Michigan Bankers Association that "it is not improbable that this upturn could gain momentum fairly fast as inventory building takes hold."

He said auto sales of the next 60 days could be "extremely important" in forecasting the future. Ricker said that inventories "look to be pretty lean in the terms of the present final levels of consumption" and that as manufacturers begin to step up their buying the inventories "could actually trigger the turn."

LONDON (U) — Another bitter outright attack by the House of Commons today failed to prevent House of Commons approval today of higher charges for patients of Britain's socialized medical system.

Anderson Introduces New Lake-Level Bill

State representatives in Lansing today received their first briefing of the Oakland County project—a new bill to streamline methods to establish levels of lakes.

Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, introduced his inland lake level bill of 1961 on general orders for the first reading before the House of Representatives.

Frustrated in two previous attempts to steer the measure through to passage, county legislators see little to block approval of their abbreviated bill being sponsored this year by Anderson. A cosponsor is Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township.

The bill now is seven pages long instead of 70.

It would allow the State Conservation Department, county boards of supervisors or two-thirds of landholders on any public lake to petition the county drain commission to establish through court hearings the normal lake level in the interest of health and safety.

Without two outdated provisions of the old drain code, Anderson said, his bill provides for construction and funds to build a dam to maintain the level after it is established by engineers.

He said the old measures had "very ambiguous language" which had caused 18 petitions for establishing lake levels to be piled up before the Oakland County Board of supervisors.

The bill is expected to be referred after today's reading to the drainage committee. Anderson is chairman.

Fuss Over Dime Holdup Backfires for Pair of Pontiac Men

Two men who indignantly told Pontiac police a teen-ager robbed them of a dime at gunpoint Monday night had reason later to rue efficient police work.

Ernest T. Gay, 21, 814 Blaine St., and James Brock, 41, 64 Pine St., who told police the robbery story, found themselves in Municipal Court yesterday — charged with attempted breaking and entering.

The pair are accused of the attempted burglary of the Home Service Grocery Store, 48 Orchard Lake Ave.

They were arrested early Tuesday when a Grand Trunk Railroad detective, patrolling railroad property in a car, spotted two men trying to break into the grocery. Pontiac police arrested Gay near the store and his partner a block away.

Both admitted the attempted burglary yesterday after first insisting they had been robbed, according to police.

They waived examination in Municipal Court yesterday before Judge Cecil McCallum and will be arraigned in Circuit Court Feb. 20. Police said Brock at times said he was William W. Beck.

A night watchman by that name is employed at the WKO furniture storage building, 50 S.

Saginaw St. Beck, 57, of 22 Yamanita St., was, of course, not involved, police said.

They theorized that Brock hoped he would be released if he convinced officers he were the night watchman.

50 Organizations Participate

Form Waterford Advancement Group

An enthusiastic group of Waterford Township residents representing 50 organizations and churches in the community, met at the Pierce Junior High School last night to form a council combining all organizations into one large unit to promote civic and cultural advancements.

Sponsored by the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club, the project is designed to acquire a better understanding of township problems and to help work them out.

Following a general assembly, the women's club president, Mrs. Edmund Windler, asked for project suggestions, and a lively discussion followed.

All agreed that the No. 1 need is a township hospital. A library ranked second with the group. The consensus also was that a safety and health committee and a community youth center are needed.

The first steps were taken in forming the council by the appointment of a steering committee. This group will accumulate facts and figures, and present a constitution at a March 9 meeting in the Pierce Junior High.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Windler, representing the women's club; Gene Preston of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Education Association; Richard Nelson, the Highland Homes Improvement Association; and Donald Geck, of the Lake Oakland Heights Park Association.

Others who will help form the new council are Mrs. Richard Thompson, representing the Jayettes, and Mrs. Christine Tickens, and attorney Paul Mandel, as interested citizens.

Three township schools were represented by members of their student councils. Michael Kalins, Waterford High; Gary Burt, Cray Junior High; and Janet Shipman, of Pierce Junior High.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson explained three proposals which will be on the primary and spring ballots.

Proposals for a fire station and a planning commission will be on the April 3 ballot, and a proposition to raise taxes one-half mill for sidewalk installations will be on the ballot at Monday's primary.

"I have never been to a meeting where there was so much enthusiasm for a project," Mrs. Windler commented. "This has been in the minds of civic minded people for a long time, and I think a community council will benefit the community tremendously."

Delay Examination in Gun-Threat Case

Examination of a Pontiac man accused of threatening his wife with a loaded shotgun was postponed yesterday to Feb. 21.

Willie Clay, 34, 55 Utah St., is charged with felonious assault on a complaint signed by his wife Elizabeth, 37, of 175 Luther St. The couple is separated.

She charged Clay forced his way into her home with the shotgun last month and threatened her with the weapon, Pontiac police said.

Police said Clay jumped through a window, breaking the glass, when they were called to investigate the quarrel. He later surrendered at the Public Safety Building.

CORNELL CAPA

These gloved hands are placing sensitized film on a radioactive piston. This produces a "radio autograph," from which Shell can study the effect of deposits on top performance.

BULLETIN:

Super Shell with 9 ingredients now contains 1 quick-start component; 1 fast warm-up ingredient; 1 mileage booster; 1 anti-knock mix; 2 octane boosters; 1 gum preventive; 1 anti-icer and new improved TCP—to give your car top performance

Read the facts about the remarkable formula of today's Super Shell. You'll learn why every one of these nine ingredients is essential if you want top performance from today's "critical" engines.

ENGINES are much more finicky than they were even a decade ago. That's why your car needs every one of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell.

Test drivers, noted for conservative statements, go so far as to call many recent engines "critical." In fact, many will tell you that you probably do not know how good your car's engine really is, simply because it may be running well below peak efficiency. Today's Super Shell gasoline is designed to help correct this state of affairs.

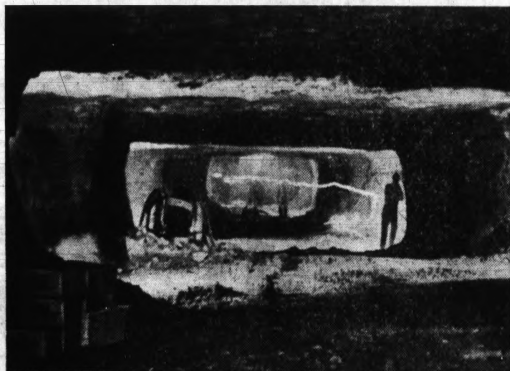

Read on if you want to learn exactly how each of the nine ingredients in Super Shell helps every car deliver its best. Shell's own test drivers call it top performance.

1. The quick-start component in Super Shell is so volatile it's kept underground.

The Butane in today's Super Shell is like the priming charge in a shotgun shell. Its quick-firing volatility is what gets you started fast on cold days. Quick-start Butane, in fact, vaporizes so easily that it is kept under pressure—22 million gallons of it—in a specially dug cavern, 40 stories underground!

Because of Butane, your engine can start in seconds. You save your battery. You don't waste gasoline by pumping, pumping, pumping raw fuel through your engine before it finally catches.

Shell's Butane Storage Cavern at Wood River, Illinois. Some 230,000 tons of rock were removed through a pipe only 42 inches wide. This tiny entrance posed quite a problem when getting a bulldozer down. Shell's solution? Cut the bulldozer up and weld it together again down below.

2. The fast warm-up ingredient in Super Shell acts like kindling for a fire.

The fast warm-up you get with Super Shell comes from its Pentane molecules. Pentanes are "kindling" molecules—split from heavier hydrocarbons. They release their energy quickly, giving you top cold-weather performance in a hurry.

3. The mileage booster in Super Shell owes its energy to carloads of platinum catalyst.

Shell uses eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst to produce Platformate, the extra-energy, extra-mileage ingredient in today's Super Shell. But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum catalyst, which gives the Platformate its odd name, helps to re-form petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the best 100-octane aviation gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

4. The anti-knock mix in Super Shell is so effective that one teaspoonful is enough to treat a gallon.

The human ear is nowhere near sensitive enough when you're trying to detect the slightest trace of knock. Shell scientists depend instead on an astonishing set of instruments that registers the faintest knocks on a delicate picture tube, and then photographs it with a high-speed camera.

The result—information which has enabled Shell scientists to prescribe an anti-knock mix so effective that one teaspoonful per gallon of gasoline is enough to raise the octane rating by five full points.

5. & 6. Both octane boosters in today's Super Shell have a story. One is linked with Jimmy Doolittle. The other comes from heating petroleum to 900 degrees.

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer the first of these high-octane ingredients for Shell aviation fuel. It is called Alkylate.

Alkylate—which took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the sky—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds far better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: Speaking of knock-control at high speeds, remember that car engines often turn faster than the engines of a DC-7.

The second octane-boosting ingredient is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr. This is petroleum that has actually been cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that asserts its authority the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—the mysterious substance that can alter molecules without changing itself at all.

7. The anti-gum ingredient in Super Shell uses a chemical "policeman" to guard against gum-fouled carburetors.

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This gum clogs carburetors and fouls automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry, since a special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Regulates unstable elements to help keep them from clotting. Hence no gum problem.

8. The anti-icer in Super Shell takes care of the most mysterious stalls of all.

Super Shell's formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to drop below forty-five degrees, an anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead. And you might never suspect what did it.

Super Shell's anti-icer tackles the problem by discouraging ice from sticking to metal parts. Result: you can forget about any carburetor icing problems.

9. TCP in Super Shell increases power, mileage and plug life.

In 1953, Shell first introduced TCP—a revolutionary additive that neutralized certain harmful effects of combustion deposits. Today, Shell has developed a new improved TCP, called cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.

TCP can give your car as much as 15 per cent more power and up to 17 extra miles per tankful. It can also make spark plugs last up to twice as long.

Ponder these statistics. They can have a refreshing effect on your car bills.

Test Super Shell for yourself

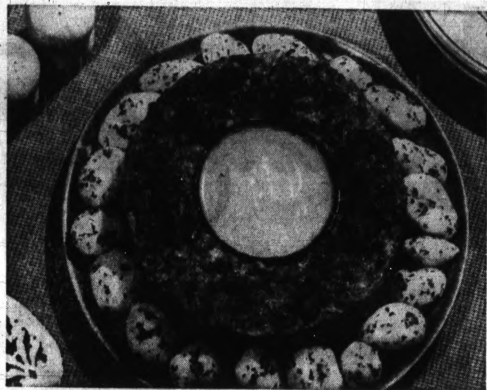

Try today's Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

A BULLETIN FROM SHELL RESEARCH—where 1,007 scientists are working to make your car go better and better.

No Job to Wash Blender if You Let It Help

Did you know that a food blender becomes its own dishwasher after use? Simply fill it three-quarters full of medium hot soap or detergent suds and let it whirl itself clean.

Rinse the same way, remove the cord from the socket, and wipe all outside surfaces carefully with a sudsy sponge. Presto! The blender is clean and sanitary.

Peanut Butter Mixes With Baked Spuds

Taste appeal? Well, doesn't everyone appreciate the fine taste of peanut butter?

And how many foods with all this nutritive value and taste appeal, and which go as far as a jar of peanut butter, are yours for the same price?

Perhaps you have your own little bag of tricks for incorporating peanut butter into your meals, but here's a recipe for transforming baked potatoes into an elegant vegetable that's easy to prepare and serve, and which you might like to try:

Scrub baking potatoes and bake until tender; split lengthwise and scoop out potato. Mash with hot milk, butter, salt, pepper and peanut butter until light and fluffy, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Refill shells, sprinkle generously with grated cheese and bake in hot oven until cheese melts.

You'll find the potatoes might be pretty, and a tasty addition to roast pork and beef entrees.

Don't pack down white sugar when you are measuring it.

Bake Lenten Fish Fillets With Mustard Sauce

Fish on your Lenten menu will take on new zest with this sunny yellow mustard sauce made with evaporated milk. Especially appetizing on perch fillets, the sauce is made by mixing 1/2 cup evaporated milk with 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt and a sprinkling of pepper.

Let stand for several minutes, then pour over about 1 lb. fish fillets in a buttered pan. Bake in preheated oven 400 degrees until tender; 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Old Reliable Tuna Star of Lenten Dishes

The Lenten season brings to many a homemaker a big challenge to her culinary talents. She must follow the fasting rules during the 40 day period, yet keep her family happy with interesting and nourishing menus.

Parley-Lenten Leaf

4 eggs
1 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 cups (4½ to 1 quart each) tuna, drained and flaked
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
½ cup 3-Minute Cheese Sauce*
½ cup melted butter
½ cup chopped parsley

Beat eggs slightly. Add olives, onion, tuna and bread crumbs. Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine egg mixture, macaroni, cheese sauce, butter and parsley. Line bottom of 9"x9" pan with aluminum foil. Butter foil well. Turn macaroni mixture into pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour to 1 hour, 15 minutes.

May be served warm or cold. Garnish with additional sliced olives and parsley, if desired. Makes about 8 servings.

For 2½ cups 3-Minute Cheese Sauce: Simmer 1½ cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk with ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add 2 cups Cheddar cheese. Stir over low heat until cheese melts (about 1 minute longer).

Tuna in Noodle Nest

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
2 ounces wide egg noodles (about 4 cups)
2 cans (4½ to 1 quart each) tuna, drained and flaked
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup 3-Minute Cheese Sauce*
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Peeled Potatoes Can Be Baked

Cooks, sometimes ask us just how to bake peeled potatoes.

Oven Potatoes
4 medium-sized potatoes (about 1½ pounds)
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons butter
Paprika

Pare potatoes and cut in half crosswise; place close together (but do not overlap) in a baking pan into which they just fit. Add water to bottom of pan. Cover tightly with pan lid or foil. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes.

Remove cover. Spread potatoes tightly with pan lid or foil. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Continue baking, uncovered, 15 minutes or until soft through. Makes 4 servings.

Pale Golden Sauce Good on Snap Beans

A vegetable dish with prestige!

Creamed Parmesan Beans

1 pound snap beans
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
White pepper
2 to 4 tablespoons grated Parmesan

Clean beans; turn into shallow baking dish — a deep 8½-inch plate is fine. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese; broil until cheese is tinged with brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

saucepan over low heat stir in flour and a dash of turmeric and pepper; turmeric will make sauce a pale yellow. Add milk mixture; cook and stir over low heat until thickened.

Add beans; turn into shallow baking dish — a deep 8½-inch plate is fine. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese; broil until cheese is tinged with brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Good Lenten Dessert

Rich desserts are not in keeping with the Lenten tradition. A good choice for a Lenten dessert is Florida Ambrosia — orange and grapefruit sections mixed with banana slices and topped with a sprinkling of coconut and sugar. It's satisfying, and healthful, too.

Abby Offers Laughter in These 'Best' Quips

DEAR ABBY: I am married to the world's fastest eater. He won't eat anything fried and he can't stand meat of any kind unless every bit of fat has been trimmed off. He hates anything green on the table and refuses all food no matter how you fix it. He is one of those mamma's boys who didn't marry until he was 40 and he is still talking about his mother's cooking. What shall I feed him?

OUT OF IDEAS

DEAR OUT: Pabulum.

DEAR ABBY: What do you give a man who has everything?

DEAR LU: Encouragement.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a husband who is going back to his second childhood. I am 37 and he is 38 and we live in a rural community. My husband walks half a mile down the road every morning to catch a ride with a fellow worker who drives right past our door.

The reason my husband goes to this man's house to wait is because he hopes to catch the man's wife in her baby doll pajamas. What action should I follow?

DEAR JEALOUS: Get yourself a pair of baby doll pajamas.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is going to have her 13th birthday party and she has invited six girls. Do you know of any entertainment I could provide?

DEAR MRS. S: Invite six boys.

DEAR ABBY: I am not stacked and everyone teases me about it. Mom says, "No substitutes." It's very embarrassing situation. I am 15. Have you any suggestions?

FROM FLATVILLE: If you don't "fill out" in a year or two, write again and I'll "fill you in."

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a vulgar husband. All summer he mowed the lawn in his swimming trunks. I asked, "What would the neighbors think if I went out in the front yard attired like that?"

He replied, "They'd probably think I married you for your money." How do you top a comedian like that?

DEAR GRACE: Why try?

DEAR ABBY: What kind of a husband tells his wife that she should line herself up dates with other men when he is out of town?

DEAR CURIOUS: One with a guilty conscience.

DEAR ABBY: A man who does a lot of business with my husband comes to our home when he is in town. He always has a cigar stuck in his face and the cigar smoke clings to my draperies for days. Don't you think my husband ought to tell him how much it bothers me?

DEAR ANNOYED: Is the man buying or selling?

DEAR ABBY: I am a bachelor, age 49. I have suddenly taken to the idea that maybe I'm not too old to marry. What kind of woman would you suggest for me?

DEAR LOOKING: If you want to be mothered to death, marry a widow. If you want to be babied to death, marry a divorcee. If you want to be loved to death, give an old maid a chance.

DEAR ABBY: I heard that you wrote a book called "Dear Teenager." Please send me the book and if it is any good I will send you a check.

B.S.S.: DEAR B.S.S.: Please send me the check and if it is any good I will send you the book.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of the custom of a husband having a "night out" with the boys? Should I agree to it? Or do you think it is dangerous?

MRS. NEWLYWED: DEAR MRS.: There's nothing dangerous about it as long as the boys are boys.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 25 years and I would like to make a great sacrifice for my country. If they need a woman to go to the moon, I would be glad to send my wife. She is very tiny and would fit nicely in the cone of the rocket. Please tell me if you have any influence with the people who are in charge of this and how are my chances?

PATRIOT: DEAR "PATRIOT": Your generosity has me all choked up. I'll try to arrange it—if you go, too.

"DEAR ABBY: Are you 'Miss' or 'Mrs'? Is that your picture and how old are you? Nosy . . . DEAR NOSY: 'Mrs.' for 21 years. Same man. Picture recent, and I was 42 last July 4."

DEAR ABBY: How do you get rid of a boyfriend you don't care for?

DEAR HELEN: Introduce him to a girl you don't care for.

DEAR ABBY: How much does it cost to rent a movie camera for one night? Maybe if I took pictures of my husband eating his supper he would realize that something has to be done about the way he eats.

I know it isn't right to correct him in front of the children, but he eats like a pig and I can't stand it much longer. (Maybe just a tape recorder would help; he makes noise, too.)

DEAR END: Save this discussion for a time when your husband is well-fed and in his most receptive mood. Use your gentlest tone and most persuasive powers (and be sure the children aren't listening)—but give it to him with both barrels. Love can work wonders with Pymalone.

DEAR ABBY: Have you any advice for a man who is married to a woman who spends every afternoon (and half her evenings) playing poker? We've been married for two years and I am getting tired of it.

DEAR ABBY: Why does a woman say she's been "slipping" when she hasn't bought anything?

DEAR ELMER: Why does a man say he's been "fishing" when he hasn't caught anything?

DEAR ABBY: That letter in your column about the man who was a two-faced sinner and practically lived in church reminds me of my brother-in-law.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a mother and father. I am a 17-year-old boy and my brother is 15. My parents keep saying they want a little girl so they are trying again. Abby, when your mother is 44 and your father is 48, don't you think they should be satisfied with two boys?

DEAR THINK: Think again.

THINK IT'S A SIN

DEAR THINK: Think again.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a mother and father. I am a 17-year-old boy and my brother is 15. My parents keep saying they want a little girl so they are trying again. Abby, when your mother is 44 and your father is 48, don't you think they should be satisfied with two boys?

DEAR THINK: Think again.

He counts the slices of bread in a loaf and tells his poor, widowed mother how long the loaf should last her. And believe it or not, this heel practically lives in church, too. Do you think a man like that belongs in church? PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I can't think of a better place for him.

DEAR ABBY: Three weeks ago a fellow I work with asked if I could lend him a five until pay day. I gave it to him and nothing has been said about it since. Do you think he has forgotten? SOFT TOUCH

DEAR SOFT: Not yet. But give him time and he will.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that fat people are always so good-natured? ARTHUR

DEAR ARTHUR: Probably because they can't run.

DEAR ABBY: When a 17-year-old girl goes riding with an 18-year-old boy and he is driving the car, how close should she sit to him?

DEAR ABBY: I know a woman motorwoman who has so much electricity in her that when she takes her clothes off the sparks start to fly all over. I would like to know if there is any danger of her catching fire. CLOSE FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: No danger—unless she has a conductor.

DEAR ABBY: I am eight years old and am going to be nine soon and I have a question for you, Abby. Is there any such bird as the stork or did they make that up, too?

DEAR CHARLES: Yes, there is a bird known as the stork . . . but don't believe everything you hear about it.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 19 and away at school. She writes that she is going with a man who teaches judo. We are good Christians. Are we wrong for wanting her to go with people of her own faith?

K. H. V.: DEAR MRS. K. H. V.: Judo is the art of self-defense without weapons. Better check the man's spiritual weapons.

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Any Wednesday morning a group of sprightly matrons can be found expertly rowing navy whaleboats around Lake Merritt in the heart of Oakland.

Dressed in middie and blue skirts, the women, ranging in age from 33 to 85, stroke across the large lake in boats provided by the recreation department.

They are known as the Oakland Women's Rowing Club and, in the past 44 years, have become famous for their unusual recreation.

The club was started in 1916 by the late Mrs. Maud Aiken when a group of women decided that volleyball was a bore. It since has grown to 65 members with the longest membership held by Mrs. Julia Viereck, 72, who has been with the club 39 years.

And despite the advanced age of most members, none has ever lost an ear or fallen overboard.

A big moment came last year when the ladies rescued two young men who had capsized in a small sailboat. The young men?

Homemaking Ranks as Full-Time Career

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The new president of Radcliffe College, Mary Ingraham Bunting, has a lot of ideas about women—all of them interesting, but some debatable.
For instance, it is her contention that the creation of a happy home is no longer enough for a woman, that when her youngest child starts to school a woman is ready for the dual role of motherhood and a career.

That's the answer for some women, of course—particularly the women who take so little pride in the job of homemaker that when asked their occupation they reply "Just a housewife."

But there are still a great many women—and well-educated women at that—who choose homemaking as a fulltime, lifetime career and don't have any desire to turn toward a career of their own the day they send their youngest off to school.

These women have the old-fashioned conviction (but still sound) conviction that every family needs one member (the wife and mother) whose goal in life is to encourage her husband and children rather than to achieve herself, who is never too busy with her own concerns to put her family first, whose very presence in the home gives it a warmth and security and peace that is essential to the happiness and welfare of all its members.

When Miss Bunting says that today women are "technologically unemployed" at home she must mean that there isn't enough back-breaking work to keep them busy all day long. But there is much, much more to creating and maintaining a happy home, than scrubbing and washing and ironing and cooking meals.

Any homemaker with imagination and brains can use any free hours she has for self-education and for the betterment of family life.

She'd Like to Order More Food

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Once a month I have dinner with several friends with whom I went to college. We all pay for our own dinners, but instead of each paying for what she had, we divide the bill among the number present.

All the dinners are usually more or less about the same price.

Once in a while there is something on the menu that I would especially like to have but which is quite a bit more expensive than what the others are ordering, and I hesitate to have it because of the division of the bill.

Would it be wrong for me to order this special dish, or when the bill is equally divided, must one limit the price of her meal to what the others prefer?

A: There is no reason why you should not have what you like but you should offer to pay this extra when the bill is presented.

If they refuse your offer, then it would be wrong to take advantage of their generosity by continuing to order more expensive dishes.

Q: I have been married for six months and still find it difficult to call my husband's parents "mother" and "father." Is it improper and disrespectful to call them Mr. and Mrs. which I have been doing?

A: It is neither improper nor disrespectful, but it is certainly most unloving—unless they are so punctilious that they themselves discourage any closer approach.

Usually a synonym for "mother" and "father" is chosen.

Q: May a whole slice of bread be buttered at one time? I've noticed some people doing this and then breaking it. I was taught to butter pieces as eaten.

A: A whole slice of bread as well as a muffin or biscuit should be broken at least in half, before buttering.

The honeymoon's over when a man regrets he married the good-looking instead of the good-listener.

A dealer in those small sports cars has come up with a good idea—a demonstration ride right in the privacy of your living room.

Teens Place Scholar Ahead of Athlete

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

The athlete is losing face to the scholar, not only in college as has been reported frequently, but in high school.

Coads just aren't swooning any more. It is apparent, at the sight of a big, bold athletic letter on a manly young chest.

"To have brains is something everyone doesn't have," explains 14-year-old Marsha Kraig of Beachwood, Ohio. And that sums up the new attitude of the teen-age female toward the teenage male.

The boys don't agree completely, but even they downgrade the importance of athletic ability.

In a survey of 324 American teen-agers, we found that the scholar is the most admired youngster, the person with the sparkling personality, ranks second, and the athlete is third.

HELPS SCHOOL MORE
The young people assert that the scholar does more for the school than the athlete, that scholarship will get a person farther than athletics, and that they are working the hardest to improve their scholarship rather than their personalities and athletic abilities.

In their explanations, the teen-agers show an awareness of the increasing difficulty high school graduates have in gaining admittance to the colleges of their choice.

In their attention to scholarship in their emphasis on it, most of them say something similar to this for Barry Sexton, 18, of Liberal, Kan.

"I need grades to get into college."

In choosing whom they most admire, 42 per cent of the teen-agers we polled said it is the best scholar, 33 per cent the most popular person, 18 per cent the best athlete, and 7 per cent either didn't know or said a combination of the three.

There was a decided difference, however, between the male and female vote—the girls' vote being 51 per cent, 32 per cent and 8 per cent, and the boys' 33 per cent, 33 per cent and 29 per cent.

In defending the athlete, 16-year-old Dan Jennings of Rolling Meadows, Ill., says, "I think the best athlete is usually a good scholar and fairly popular."

Bill Swan, 15, of Alexandria, Va., defends popularity on the ground that the most popular person "is usually the best all-around person, not a brain or just a lot of muscles."

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION
In an attempt to establish who does the most for the school, the boys and girls differ again. Among the boys, 47 per cent say the leading athlete, and 33 per cent the best scholar, while 16 per cent give their vote to the most popular person.

With the girls, it's the best scholar by 47 per cent, the most popular person 33 per cent and the best athlete only 11 per cent.

"The best athletes do the most and make the best showing for the school," says a 16-year-old Steve Foster of Landonwood, Ill., from one side of the fence.

"A school's function is to teach and a good scholar is its greatest asset," retorts Laura Youngblood, 17, of Arlington, Va., from the other side.

The boys and girls are agreed that scholarship will take a young person farther than athletics or popularity.

The combined vote: 79 per cent for scholarship, 17 per cent for popularity and only 1 per cent for athletics.

"The world is getting complicated," says Carol Farrow, 18, of Greenville, N.C. "It takes brains to figure it out."

And that apparently is why most of the youngsters are working so hard on scholarship, that and the desire to further their education.

Among the 324 youngsters, 61 per cent are working to improve their grades, 37 per cent are concentrating on their personalities, and 20 per cent (mostly the boys) are trying to improve their athletic abilities.

An article came in recently that we want to share with you. It's about a leaflet you can obtain that will give you valuable suggestions for keeping the children happy on rainy days.

This leaflet tells how you can make a modeling-base, finger-paint and paste at home out of simple household supplies. This craft base will keep soft for months if it is kept covered. There are additional craft ideas listed.

To obtain a copy of the leaflet, write to Jane Ashley, Corn Products Co., 10 E. 58th St., New York City, 22.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
 The wise woman takes her figure into consideration when selecting her clothes and when having them altered. For instance, the woman who has a very short neck does not look well in high collars or the standaway type so popular now. And, she probably will have to have all of her suit collars lowered if she is to look her best.

She should also wear her hair short in the back. Otherwise, her neck will not show.
 Your figure, bright and the beauty of your legs, also, should enter, to some extent, into the choice of your skirt lengths. There is always some leeway so that a woman can wear a more becoming length and still be in style.

It is sheer madness for a woman with either large or pipestem legs to wear her skirts up to her knees. Extremely tall or very short women look out of proportion when the skirt shortness is too extreme.
HOLD SPINE STRAIGHT
 The distance between the bust and the waist is one of the most important feminine measurements. The greater the distance the lovelier the figure!
 Often women who have enough spoil it with poor posture. This is why it is essential to hold the spine straight and lift the rib cage, making yourself as long as possible between the waist and the bust.

The short woman who is short-waisted has a special problem.

A recent letter asked me for help with this. Of course, the posture I have mentioned will help. Also clothes which are fitted in under the bust and fairly closely to the waist are helpful.

The skirt should not flare out just under the waist. Clothes without a definite waistline, those which are just fitted in at the waist, also are flattering.

Many women who have a fairly small waist but pads of fat on the upper hips make the mistake of wearing their belts too tight. It is true that it shows off the small waistline, but it creates awkward lumps just underneath the waist.

A little easing of the belt is much more becoming to the figure.

Do you look your best? Do the clothes you wear fit and flatter your figure? If you would like to have my leaflet, "Clothes to Fit Your Figure and Personality" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 54. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Honeymoon in Colorado

Honeymooning at Aspen, Colo., are John S. Oser Jr. and his bride, the former Phyllis Marie Hodges who were wed in a single-ring ceremony Saturday in Christ Church, Cranston.

A reception in Orchard Lake Country Club followed the ceremony performed by the Rev. Lester Dolbys.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Millard B. Hodges of Bellingham, Wash. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John S. Oser of Glogary Circle, Bloomfield Village, and the late Mr. Oser.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white bouquet taffeta styled with molded bodice and shallow scoop neckline accented with Venice lace. The full-gathered skirt which encircled a floor-length sheath was accented with the lace.

her elbow-length veil of silk illusion fell from a Eugenie rose of illusion edged with seed pearls. Garlands and ivy were arranged in a hand-cascade bouquet.

Carol Hodges, in perfumed blue silk organza with full gathered skirt and touches of matching satin, attended her sister as honor maid. She wore a headband of ivy and held an arrangement of pink roses, heather and deep purple ranunculus.

James A. Hubbard Jr. of Birmingham was best man for his brother-in-law, Ushers were Gerald Campbell of Detroit and James Kraus of Bloomfield Village.

Mrs. Hodges chose a cocoa sheath in silk and Mrs. Oser appeared in beige silk tulle. Both wore cymbidium orchids.

Vows Said at St. Benedict

Before a flower-banked altar in St. Benedict Church, Judy Ellen Burt became the bride of Jeffrey W. Lorenz in a Saturday morning ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert Wyzanski.

The Robert E. Burts were hosts at a breakfast for the immediate families in their home on Austinwood Court, Waterford, following their daughter's nuptials. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lorenz of LaSalle Avenue, Waterford Township.

Fashioned of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, the floor-length bridal gown was styled with Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. Fingertip veiling of silk illusion was held by a headpiece of French lace and seed pearls.

White roses and carnations were arranged in the bride's semi-cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Larry Ott attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a bouffant gown of blue chiffon with bodice of blue velvet. She held a nosegay of carnations and white roses.

Joseph Lorenz of Drayton Plains was best man for his cousin. Guests were seated by the bride's brother Robert Burt.

After an evening reception for 250 guests at Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Walton Boulevard, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

The bride was wearing a pale green wool sheath dress and an orchid corsage. They will live on Allison Street.

Yellow carnations accented Mrs. Burt's blue wool print and the green wool sheath dress selected by Mrs. Lorenz.

To Match Patch

(UPD) — When patching large cracks or holes in walls in preparation for painting, apply enough of the patching compound so that the patch is slightly higher than the surrounding plaster. This allows for shrinkage and prevents concave spots. When the patch is dry, sand it smooth and flush with the surrounding area. Prime the patches before applying the top coat.

'Double, Double Boil and Bubble'

Casseroles should be bubbling when they come from the oven. Home economists at Michigan State University note that casseroles often are made from leftovers, so the mixtures should be thoroughly cooked and not just warmed.

The food is ready to serve when contents bubble through the topping at the sides as well as at center.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"If my measurements are between a size 16 and 18, should I get the size 18 and make it smaller, or is it wiser to get size 16 and make it larger?"

Mrs. P.G.

It depends on which measurements differ from those of the pattern. We usually buy a pattern that is closest to the size of the "chest" measurement. This measurement is taken slightly above the fullest part of the bust.

It is rather simple to add to the waist and hip measurement, but difficult to make the upper part of the pattern smaller. It is impossible to make the neckline smaller once it has been cut. A neckline that doesn't gap is almost assured if you get the correct size pattern.

"Dear Eunice,

"When I sit down to sew, it makes me nervous. What am I doing wrong? I really want to learn to sew for my 3-year-old daughter."

If sewing makes you nervous, it is because you lack the "know-how" for the patterns you are choosing. Begin with the most simple pattern. When you have perfected this, gradually work into something more difficult.

If you understand what you are doing, sewing can be the most wonderful relaxation in the world. It has been recommended therapy for nervous women.

A small child around you when you are trying to concentrate may be your difficulty. Take advantage of any adult education classes in your community and don't give up. I hope you'll write me a different story a year from now.

"Dear Eunice:

"When you listed the equipment needed for a well-stocked sewing basket, you mentioned beeswax. Please be kind enough to advise me what it possibly could be used for? I am sure I will find the information useful. Also, where can it be purchased?"

Mrs. C.K.

If you will run your thread through the cake of beeswax after the needle is threaded, it will virtually eliminate twisting and knotting of the thread, besides making the thread stronger.

Beeswax is available in a plastic case at most notion counters. If you live in an area where it is difficult to obtain the findings needed in dressmaking, write of a notions catalog from one of the larger fabric stores and these items can be mailed to you.

To My Readers:

Since every occupation has a special language of its own, sewing is no exception. The words and phrases that apply to sewing are often foreign to the beginner. Because of the many requests for a better explanation of these words, we are going to have a glossary as a regular feature of the column. May I suggest you keep any of these that are new to you for future reference.

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY:

STAY-STITCH: This is a machine stitching done with the regular length stitch, $\frac{1}{4}$ " from the cut edge of the garment, or $\frac{1}{8}$ " to the inside of the seam allowance. This stitching will keep the curved edges from stretching. It must be done in the same direction as the fabric grain.

If putting formed sleeves in your garments is troublesome, my new booklet, All About Sleeves, will help you. Obtain it by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Would Kids Stand for This Today?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Children not only were silent in the days of early America, but they also did a lot of standing during meals.

In some families, children stood behind their parents and food was passed to them from the table. In others, they stood at side tables. They ate in absolute silence.

Disposable Trap

(UPI) — A better mousetrap is pre-baited, pre-set and disposable. It is a mouse-size box. To use, rip off the perforated end of the box, pull out a metal strip and wait. Once the mouse is trapped, it and the box can be discarded.

AN INVESTMENT IN GOOD APPEARANCE

Abby Says: No Fool Like...

Better Not Date HER Again

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed to tell you how old I am. Let's just say I am old enough to know better.

I've been a widower for six years and have grand-children. I got myself involved with a divorcee who is determined to marry me.

I am NOT ABBY RICH. In fact, she can buy and sell me many times. We saw a lot of each other last year and then I realized I couldn't take her in large doses. She acts like she owns me.

New Year's Eve she had a big party. She'd bought herself a great big diamond and told everybody I gave it to her. Weddings usually follow engagements. She is pressuring me. How do I get out of this?

DEAR OLD FOOL: Look her straight in the eye, apologize for taking so much of her time and tell her the "engagement" which was never on, is now off. Finally, don't date her again or you'll find yourself in the same old corner.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend who is 48 and thinks she is pregnant. She is quite sure but not positive. She had her last child when she was 42. Her worry is that people will make fun of her for having a child at that age.

Does this happen to many women? I would like to be able to tell her it does, so she'll feel better. Thank you.

DEAR FRIEND: Tell her that it happens to many women. And they are the first to admit that the little dividend, delivered long after they thought the production department had closed down, was the greatest blessing of all.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what you think of women who wear tight, short skirts and insist on crossing their legs at every opportunity? Their skirts hike up and it makes every refined gentleman want to leave the room.

It's gotten so I am afraid to look at a woman when she sits down any more. I hate common women and the way they dress, and cross their legs to boot, makes them all look common.

GENTLEMAN DEAR GENTLEMAN: You'll get no argument from me because I know you're right.

Formula for Success: Let Your Hubby Alone

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—A psychologist who specializes in the problems of management believes a woman who wants to help her husband's career can be extremely effective if she just leaves him alone at work.

David K. Spelt, of Rohrer, Hilber & Replogle, Milwaukee consulting psychologists, recently told wives of employees of a life insurance company, a wife should have "enough imagination and self-sufficiency to run a modern home without making many interruptions at her husband's office."

Spelt said interruptions are distracting to a man at work and if he "is constantly interrupted during the day by calls from home he will might be looked on as one who may be unable to give his best during the working day" when it comes to concentration and decision making.

Spelt told the wives they have "an obligation to keep material and financial ambitions in line with the family situation."

Fingers of Pork Sausage Baked in Pastry

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Want a recipe for an hors d'oeuvre you can make ahead of time and keep in the freezer? Mrs. Clifford Grovogel shares such a recipe with us today.

Mrs. Grovogel came to live in Bloomfield Township from Grand Rapids. She has 17-year-old twin daughters. She's a member of the June group of her church, likes to play bridge and bake.

Take 1 pound of lean pork sausage and roll into finger shapes. Place one on each wedge. Starting from the wide end, roll up and place on baking sheet with tip of pastry down. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Make ahead of time and keep in freezer until just before you want to serve them. Then bake them. Makes 35-40 hors d'oeuvres.

Wed in Glow of Candles

Candlelight vows of Miriam Jeanette McDaniel and Arthur F. Nurnberg were pledged to the Rev. T. Hart Friday evening in the First Methodist Church.

Tiffany baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and carnations graced the chancel.

Receiving with the George E. McDaniels of Lowell Street, at their daughter's church reception, were the Thomas E. Nurnbergs of Ashburn Road, parents of the bridegroom.

Fashioned of white Chantilly lace over silk taffeta, the bride's floor-length gown was styled with Sabrina neckline outlined with pearls and sequins. The long sleeves were tapered to wrist-points.

Teardrop pearls accented the tulle of seed pearls attached to fingertip veiling of silk illusion. White gardenias and miniature pompons were arranged in a crescent bouquet for the bride.

Sharon Spurlock, maid of honor, wore pink tulle with overskirt of white Chantilly-type lace. The bodice was styled with rounded neckline and cap sleeves. She carried blue carnations and pink pompons.

Trilly Perry served her cousin as bridesmaid with Sandra Wylie. They wore blue taffeta and white lace, styled like the hour maid's dress and held colonial bouquets of pink carnations and pink pompons.

Thomas E. Nurnberg of Costa Mesa, Calif. stood as best man for his brother. The bride's brother, James E. McDaniel and James Wyrick acted as 175 guests.

Leaving for a brief Northern honeymoon, the new Mrs. Nurnberg was wearing a full-skirted dress of gold wool jersey and black accessories. The couple will be at home in Saginaw.

A corsage of Tallman roses complimented Mrs. McDaniel's sheath dress of cocoa brown lace over beige silk. Her accessories were brown. The mother of the bridegroom, in bouffant navy blue with white polka dots wore red roses.

International Group Takes Action Following Plane Crash

World Figure Skating Championships Are Cancelled

DAVOS, Switzerland (AP) — The International Skating Union today decided to cancel the 1961 world figure skating championships scheduled to open in Prague next Wednesday. The tournament was called off because of the deaths of 11 members of the American team in the Brussels plane crash yesterday.

George Haesler, secretary-general of the ISU, said the decision was made by the ISU's executive committee. He declined to name the committee members who voted for the cancellation.

Haesler and Jacob Koch, president of the ISU, both of Switzerland, polled the nine members of the executive committee by cable on whether the championships should be held or cancelled. It had been scheduled to start next Wednesday in Prague.

Haesler and Koch informed the committee members that they favored cancellation.

The Prague organizing committee, after meeting to discuss the grim situation yesterday, had decided to go ahead with the championships, pending approval of the ISU.

In Rochester, N. Y., F. Ritter Shumway, acting president of the United States figure skating association, urged that the tournament be held.

"I think our skaters would have wanted it to go on," he said. "They were all good trouper, wonderful people."

"We feel that in fairness to all the others, the championships should be held."

Harry Radix, member of the executive committee of the U.S. Amateur Skating Union, was "heartbroken" and on the verge of tears when he learned of the tragedy at Tucson, Ariz.

"It was like a family," he said. "We all helped to bring up these wonderful young skaters in the last 10 years. After some of our champions left, we had to come up with some new skaters, and we were just doing it."

"Now this terrible calamity has happened. It will take us three to four years to rebuild. These fine youngsters were brought up to be world and Olympic champions, and we had some wonderful talent in this little group of skaters. Now we've lost them."

Among the skaters who perished in the crash were the Owen sisters, Laurence, 16, and Maribel, 20, along with their mother, Mrs. Maribel Vinson Owen, an Olympic skating star herself during the 20's.

Laurence, the North American Figure Skating Championships in Philadelphia last Sunday and her picture is on the cover of the current issue of Sports Illustrated magazine.

Other skating stars who died included Dudley Richards, 29, of Boston, who teamed with Maribel to win the senior pairs title at Colorado Springs, Colo., last month; Larry Pierce of Indianapolis, Ind., and Diane Sherbrook of Los Angeles, winners of the National Dance Championship; Bradley Lord, 21, of Springfield, Mass., who won the senior men's title at Colorado Springs; and Douglas Ramsey, 16, of Detroit, last year's winner of the men's junior title.

President Kennedy was among those "distressed and saddened" by the disaster. In a statement from the White House, he said:

"Our country has sustained a great loss of talent and grace which had brought pleasure to people all over the world."

"Mrs. Kennedy and I extend our deepest sympathy to the families and friends of all the passengers and crew who died in this crash."

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Snow is one of Michigan's necessary crops. The East coast has been buried in it. Kids are sledding on 10-foot pileups in their own yards. Ski resorts are booming.

But, here in Michigan, with 74 winter sports centers, ski areas are in deep trouble. Drivers hate the fluffy stuff. Cities shudder at the costs of clearing it.

But Michigan needs it and the state has to live with it either from the heavens or from machines.

This is the greatest winter sports state east of the Rockies, and the tourist trade booms when ski resorts and clubs can present winter's most necessary product — snow.

One ski area, Holiday Hills, has announced it is through for the season because of financial difficulties. Five other ski areas in the upper half of the state are reported in similar trouble.

Some resort centers are even requesting the state to consider them disaster areas.

Many clubs and resorts have invested thousands of dollars in improving and repairing their facilities, and now they are appealing to the banks and loan companies to extend their loans for another year.

Winter sports in Michigan is a multi-million dollar business, and one of the riskiest. Anything that must depend on the weather for success is risky.

Last year the snows were late in coming. This season the brown barren hills never really got a good dusting from mother nature.

This all boils down to one thing—the snow machine. Some ski areas in the upper half of Michigan refuse to forego pride. They will boast they "don't need machines, they have nature's own product to offer." One publication in a key winter sports belt commented at the start of the season, "There's no snow, like our snow. Nature gives up our white good, we don't need machines."

There are 12 snow machines in the state and seven of them are right here in the Pontiac area. We've had some mighty cold and gray days and without snow machines many clubs in this area would have spent many lonely days and evenings.

There have been even more colder days in the upper half of the state where snow machine investments could be saving some of the areas from financial disaster.

Michigan people know of the winter beauty of this state, and no one will belittle its dignity if some ski areas have to swallow their pride and depend on man-made snow once in a while.

The snow crop is too important to Michigan business. Should it make any difference how we get it?

Senior Golfers Show Zip

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — The round by using the long tees and critics who claim golf is an old sport.

The first round of the Florida Senior Golfers Association Senior Championship was completed Wednesday with 58 of the contestants shooting par or better, including 20 in the 35 and over age group and 38 in the 50 and over age bracket.

Today the 55 and up field plays its second round, and Friday the 50 and up field returns for its second round. The field will be cut Friday night to the low 125 and ties for the final round Saturday and Sunday.

The 50-54 group played its first round Wednesday with Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., a newcomer to the competition, shooting a stirring 6-under-par 65 over the 6,353-yard National PGA Course to take a three-shot lead over the field.

White's round was three strokes better than that of Leonard Ruck of Sylvania, Ohio, and four strokes better than that of the leader in the 55 and up age group, George Smith of Lake Forest, Ill. Smith's 67 was matched by defending champion Dick Metz of White Plains, N. Y., and Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif.

The first two rounds of the par 35-37-72 course are being played from the front tees, making the short game of tremendous importance. In fact, Jimmy Demaree of Houston, Tex., making his debut in the tournament although still considered a top man in any tournament, termed the layout, "a putter's course."

Demaree had to be satisfied with a 69 as his puts refused to drop. The course will be Sunday for the Saturday and Sunday.

FILEUP — Three players spill in front of the net as Pontiac St. Laurent (19) of the Chicago Black Hawks scores against the New York Rangers in the second period of their hockey game in Chicago last night. Players in the pile are goalie Lorne Worley and Bill Gadsby of the Rangers. Chicago won, 3-2.

Montreal Stays in Race

Canadiens Beat Leafs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don't count the Canadiens out yet.

Some hockey fans seemed eager to do just that when the Montreal club, winner of the Stanley Cup for the past five years and the National Hockey League championship four of five, struck a January slump and dropped behind the Toronto Maple Leafs. Maybe they felt the NHL race was less monotonous that way.

But with four points riding on the game, Jacques Plante, the masked goalie, back in the nets and a chance to regain the lead somewhere in sight, the Canadiens played like champs again Wednesday night, beating the Leafs 3-1.

The Canadiens still are four points behind the Leafs, but they have played two fewer games. They've even in games lost and won.

In the night's other game, the third-place Chicago Black Hawks trounced the New York Rangers 5-2. New York now has lost five and tied one of its last six games and trails Detroit by 10 points.

Closer checking and Plante's golden-eye marked the Canadiens' victory. Toronto had the edge for the first 15 minutes and Dave Keon gave the Leafs an early lead. But Marcel Bonin tied it up late in the first period. Jean Beliveau made it 2-1 in the second as Donnie Marshall sent the final goal into an empty net after sub goalie Gerry McNamara had been removed.

McNamara, replacing injured Johnny Bower, did an admirable job, but he was no match for only 25 puts as he was playing his chip shots right up to the pin.

Five Area Glovers in State Tourney

U.S. Must Develop Its Young Skaters

93 to Compete at Grand Rapids This Weekend

Welter Favors Champ Ruben Novice Defends Title in Open Class

Five Pontiac area boxers will be among 93 who will compete in the Michigan State Golden Gloves tournament at Grand Rapids, Friday and Saturday nights at the Civic Auditorium.

The five are among the 130 qualified in the district Golden Gloves tournament at Clarkson and Saturday nights at the Civic Auditorium.

A total of 34 bouts are expected to take place Friday night with entries from six different centers including Flint, Easton Harbor, Bay City, Lansing, a 4 and Grand Rapids along with Clarkson.

Lansing won the team crown in 1959 and Grand Rapids won in 1960. The Flint team however is considered a strong contender this year.

Leading the local array of boxers is Ruben Flores, a light heavyweight who won the state welterweight title at Grand Rapids by defeating Bill Cadman of Port Huron. At Clarkson last month he defeated Cadman again and earned the right to compete in the welter open division this weekend.

Another top contender is Mike McDowell, a light heavyweight, in the open class. McDowell, a 175 pounder was runnerup last year in the novice class.

Others who will compete are Elvin "Showboat" Brown in the lightweight novice class, Tony Babin in the novice welter class and Jerry Wilmont of Clarkson in the novice lightweight class.

Rubio, was halfback on the Pontiac Central football team last season.

The Port Huron boys who will compete are LeRoy Coleman, a heavyweight; Willis Coleman, a flyweight; Charles Lajoy, a lightweight; Mel Beach, a middleweight; Casper Bass, a heavyweight; Earl Howell, a flyweight; Charles Lajoy, a featherweight; and Jerry Gimmick.

The Clarkson American Legion, sponsors of the local tournament, is sending trainers Bill Strang of Pontiac, Leo Armstrong of Clarkson and Roosevelt Noble of Port Huron to accompany the boxers.

The bouts will start at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. Pairings are not made until after physical examinations are held Friday afternoon. State champions will qualify for the nationals in Chicago starting Feb. 28.

Reifer Hired by UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA Wednesday hired Ruben alumnus Ray Johnson, 1960 Olympic featherweight champion, as assistant track and field coach.

Johnson, UCLA track team captain in 1958, will assist his former coach, Dukey Drake.

Titans Nip Canisius, 62-58

From Our Wire Services

The National Invitation Basketball Tournament, which opens one month from tonight, is rounding into shape as the teams already named entered their records and other contenders awaited bids.

Five of the seven teams named scored victories last night.

Detroit defeated Canisius 62-58; Miami split St. John's, 91-84; Dayton defeated Duquesne, 78-67; Army whipped Delaware, 79-47; and Memphis State routed Middle Tennessee, 81-61.

Meanwhile, Holy Cross and LaSalle, a couple of teams looking for berths, scored victories. Holy Cross (13-4) routed Rhode Island, 96-72, and LaSalle (12-5) whipped Syracuse, 81-75.

The Detroit Canisius game started out as a rout as the Titans took a 17 point lead midway in the first half. Canisius bucked it out to 32-21 at halftime, but the Titans never caught off the bench to 14-41 in the second half.

The game turned out to be a shaker as Canisius outscored Detroit 24-10 and even took a one-point lead before Charlie Norbit hit a three-pointer to tip the Titans.

Elsewhere, seventh-ranked North Carolina made up an 11-point deficit in the second half, beat North Carolina State 62-56 and pulled into a tie with Duke for first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Michigan's small college basketball teams came up with Western State of Kansas last night as Canisius won its 16th game in a row, and Western Michigan upset Toledo.

Calvin, the state's only undefeated team, made Holy College its 15th victim of the season and virtually sewed up the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown, winning 97-77.

Bill Woltersdorf led Calvin with 28 points, but the total wasn't enough for game honors as Hope's Jim Vanderhill hooped 29.

Western Michigan came from behind to upset Toledo 65-61. Two points behind at the half, Western Michigan surged ahead in the second round, never to be headed, although Toledo managed to tie the score twice. Western Michigan's big guy in the game was Bob Bolton who scored 24 points.

In the first half, Chamberlain missed passes, threw wildly, and couldn't locate the basket as the NBA's leading scorer with a 38-point-per-game average showed. He hit two of 12 field goal tries. Ruklick never caught off the bench.

But late in the third period, after St. Louis raced to a 78-36 half-time lead, Ruklick got into the game. The score was 103-52. Hawkins, the 215-pounder got one basket, and then flipped in eight more in the fourth period.

Bob Pettit scored 28 points for the Hawks, as Philadelphia was held to less than 100 points for the first time this season.

The 6-9 Ruklick was Chamberlain's understudy as a rookie last

HE DIDN'T GO — Tim Brown, one of the top male figure skaters in the United States, checks the newspaper and talks to a reporter about the air crash which killed the entire U. S. Figure Skating team en route to the World Championships in Prague.

Brown, 22, lives in Sacramento, Calif., did not make the trip because of heart pains. Doug Ramsey, 16 year old Detroit, who replaced him was among the victims.

Tim Brown, who escaped the jet plane crash in Brussels because he withdrew after placing third in the U.S. men's championship, revealed yesterday that he had given up competition because of a heart condition. He is the best surviving male skater.

"There wasn't any point in taking a risk," he said. Brown is 22 and, although he said he had quit for good, he might return by 1964.

Tenley Albright, the 1956 Olympic women's champion, and Barbara Ann Roles, third in the 1960 Olympics, have retired and aren't likely to return. Miss Albright is a medical student at Harvard and could not easily give up the time needed for practice to regain her winning form. Miss Roles' skating career ended with her marriage last summer.

Asked about a possible comeback, Barbara Ann replied, "It's hard to think of anything like that at a time like this."

Miss Albright is vacationing in Bermuda and could not be reached for comment on possibility of returning to competition.

Nancy Heiss, sister of Carol, who turned professional after her marriage to Hayes Alan Jenkins, is regarded as a very promising young skater. She remained out of competition this year to concentrate on college studies but has continued to practice.

Another Heiss, brother Bruce, finished fifth in the national men's singles at Colorado Springs and is considered a good prospect.

President Kennedy was among those "distressed and saddened" by the disaster. In a statement from the White House, he said:

"Our country has sustained a great loss of talent and grace which had brought pleasure to people all over the world."

"Mrs. Kennedy and I extend our deepest sympathy to the families and friends of all the passengers and crew who died in this crash."

Tillman 'Way Out' in SVC
Big Jerry Tillman of unbeaten Saginaw High is "way out" in his bid to win a 2nd straight Saginaw Valley Conference scoring championship. In fact, man, he's "long gone."
Wrapping up another SVC point crown appears only a formality for the 6-foot-4 Tillman, who holds a 23-point spread over teammate Ernie Thompson with two league games remaining.

PCH Meets Hard-luck Quintet Next

Cage Titles Beckon PNH, Holy, Eagles

Local Cagers Fortunate to Gain 45-44 Decision in 1st SVC Match
By BILL CORNWELL
The "hard-luck" label this season in the Saginaw Valley Conference basketball derby belongs to Flint Northern and Pontiac Central. It is no doubt hoping the Vikings keep that distinction Friday night.
However, a lot of sound basketball will be in "frustration" for the Chiefs when they tangle with the Vikings at PCH when they lookly escaped with a 45-44 victory. Now they have to fight the Northern-ers in their own back yard.
Bad luck never shows itself in the record books, of course, and at this moment the Vikings are next to the league cellar with a 1-7 mark and over-all they've won only twice in 12 starts.
But in addition to the one-point loss at PCH, they dropped a 46-51 decision at Arthur Hill on two foul shots by Craig Dill after the first buzzer and lost a narrow 55-53 verdict to Flint Central in their last intracity battle at the IMA.

Saginaw High, which clinched the Valley title a week ago to end Pontiac's two-year reign, also had a struggle on its hands with the Vikings in their first duel at Flint before pulling out a 66-40 win.
Chuckley Ron Jackson, currently the Valley's 3rd-leading scorer with a 14.5 average, is the kingpin of the Northern attack and the Vikings, as usual, are strong around the boards with 6-foot-4 Charlie Haynes tops in that department.
The Chiefs still have a good chance of finishing 2nd in the Valley race and they're presently tied for the runner-up position with Flint Central and Arthur Hill at 5-3. Altogether, they're 5-4.
Head coach Art Van Rydzin is still undecided about his starting lineup, but three positions seem certain—the "big three" rebounding crew of 6-3 George Fed, 6-4 Brad Pittchett and 6-6 Otto Kennedy, who has been improving rapidly since his return to the varsity.

Coach Dick Hall will probably wait until game time to complete his starting lineup. Steve Thompson, Mike Pedynik and Bruce Norton are almost sure starters. Marty Everett, Jim Capistrano, Dennis Harbert and Dave Shields are the others.
Northern can win its second straight championship outright with season help from Farmington. The Falcons play at Walled Lake and a victory over the Vikings coupled with PNH's 18th straight L triumph would end the title chase.

Southfield takes its 6-3 record to Waterford. The Blue Jays lost a close tussle to the Skippers at Farmington earlier in the season. Southfield has the offense but the defense has been woefully weak.
The best Farmdale can do is earn at least a tie for the title. Hazel Park is not expected to upset Farm, and Mt. Clemens, the only other team with a chance to catch the Eagles, is expected to win at Royal Oak Kimball. But spots don't happen.
East Detroit is out of Austin Catholic for a non-league game. Clarkston's Wolves have been planning for their rematch with Holly since being trounced by the Wolves earlier in the season. The Wolves, however, didn't help themselves by losing to West Bloomfield Tuesday.

There are 640 acres in the Cabernet Ski Area.

It's easy to see why the Mountain View Rangers and Standard Forge won their respective division championships in the recently concluded City Junior Hockey League tournament at Northside Park.
Both teams scored the most goals and allowed the fewest as well as boasting the top individual scores.
The Rangers, champions of the 13-15 age group for the 2nd consecutive year, rifled 74 goals through eight regular season and playoff games while permitting only 13.
Forge, champion of the 16-18 age group for the 2nd straight year, fired 50 goals in eight regular season and tournament games while yielding just 16.
Mountain View, unbeaten in two years of competition on Northside ice, compiled an 8-0 National League record this season.
Spearheading the Rangers is another title was Tom Pettit, who topped both circuits in scoring with 25 goals. Pettit received strong support from his teammates as Dave Parker tallied 17 goals, Vic Sullivan 11 and Chipper Curran 11.
Doug Bergman tallied 16 goals to spark Standard Forge to its crown. Other leading AL goal scorers were Dave Blank of the Pontiac Central Raiders, also with 16, and Cliff Harris, who scored 13 for the Boys Club.
Al Ryden of the Sylvan Flyers was the 2nd best goal-maker in the NL with 14. Sylvan's 9th Monitor and Bob Plaskowski of North Woodward Heating each netted 10 goals.

It seems to have become only a matter of time now before bowling joins the list of sports available for area and state high school students to compete in on an inter-school basis.
Seven schools in the southern part of Oakland County took the big step this winter by forming what is known as the South Oakland County High School Bowling league.
All teams compete each week at Fairlawn Bowl in Madison Heights with standings kept in the same manner of all keg leagues. Royal Oak Kimball has two teams while Oak Park, Hazel Park, Royal Oak Don-dero, Madison and Lamphere have one entry each.
Interest has been high in the league thus far with Oak Park, the No. 1 Kimball unit and Hazel Park leading the way.
We're certain schools around Pontiac would be interested in a similar setup or some kind of competition with other schools.
Mike Andonian has operated very successful loops at Pontiac Central in recent years as has Bob Brown at Waterford and many others around this sector. Both boys and girls have shown great interest in competing in bowling.
Proprietors here have helped the various prep programs considerably and certainly would continue their cooperation and assistance all the more for inter-school competition.
Many local prep boys have already become standouts in men's leagues and starred in various tournaments. They would surely jump at the chance to bowl for their respective high schools.
The way the youngsters have taken to the game in the last few seasons there would be a steady flow of talent coming along year in and year out.
Watch for the plan to mushroom in the not too distant future.
Sylvan Lanes gets back on the journey kick Saturday as host to the Chevrolet Proving Ground meet. Speaking of Sylvan, Godhardt Funeral Home rolled the top actual game in the 20-year history of the Lakeside Ladies League there recently with 888. H. Lach hit 202, M. Kincaid 177, A. Murphy 172, Helen Godhardt 171 and June Hancock 166. Dorothy Chambers fired 244-621 in Inter-Lakes Ladies loop.
Land-O-Lakes reports these big scores. Paul Miller rolled 713 topped by a 269 with 21 of a possible 36 strikes. He had an identical score two years ago at the opposite end of the house. Pfeiffer's totaled 1133-3204 in Superior Merchants League led by George Bishop. Doug Coxon rolled 682 in Mixed Doubles. Carolyn Newcomb's 632 series at Lakewood was left out by accident last week.
Twelve divisions of General Motors were represented in GM girls' meet at Howe's. Clayton La-gest almost stole the show from

AL Standards Are Increased
BOSTON (AP). — American League President Joe Cronin today announced new minimum performance standards for the award of official league titles in batting, fielding and pitching.
All the new standards are in line with the expansion of the schedule from 154 games to 162 games. The schedule was increased this season with the expansion of the league from eight to 10 teams.
To qualify for the league batting championship in 1961, a batter must have 502 times faced the pitcher. That is, a batter must have times at bat, hit by pitcher, bases on balls, sacrifices and sacrifice flies totaling 502. It is an increase from 477.
The minimum number of innings pitched necessary to qualify for pitching titles was increased from 154 to 162.
To qualify for fielding honors, a catcher must appear in a minimum of 81 games, an increase of four, and infielders and outfielders must appear in 108, up from 103.

New "broad-shouldered" tread delivers this whopping mileage increase over our last year's new-car tire. It's a wider tread — wider outside ribs — and a new tread pattern.
A new tread rubber — BFG's "Quiet Rubber" — takes the bumps out of highways, the squeal out of stops. '61 Silvertown passed rugged auto makers' tests, is on the '61 cars.
WIDER TREAD. This hefty tread is a full 6% wider to distribute car weight over a much broader surface. This prevents uneven wear and gives greater stability.

Ski Activities Are Scheduled at Area Clubs

Children's Races Set for Saturday With Invitational Sunday

Children's slalom races at Grampian Mountain and an invitational meet at Mt. Christie highlight this weekend's ski program in the Oakland County area.

There is one thing that might put a damper on the skiing—weather. Snow fell on various parts of the county Wednesday afternoon and the temperature began to drop.

The annual slalom races for boys and girls 5 to 14 years old at Grampian will be Saturday. The event is scheduled to get under way at 4 p.m. The meet is open to all children.

About 20 entries are expected. The youngsters will be divided into age groups for the competition. Trophies will be awarded in each division. Boys and girls will compete together.

Ski patrol races are tentatively scheduled at Grampian this weekend.

No other information, other than the fact that the invitational is scheduled, has been made available by Mt. Christie officials.

Lack of cold weather has hampered southeastern Michigan ski areas more than a shortage of snow. Machine made snow can mean good slopes providing the temperature is below the freezing mark. Natural snow is a big help, too.

Mt. Christie was closed Tuesday and Wednesday as officials were "protecting the base." Skiing resumed at the area today.

Grandview—closed—Tuesday because of a soft base but was opened to skiing Wednesday evening. A new coat of artificial snow was applied during the day.

Alpine, Mt. Holly and Summit slopes were not in the best condition although these areas stayed open. The warm weather hurt snow making.

Dryden was the only area to claim "good conditions" Wednesday. Snow was made Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Snow fell most of Wednesday and combined with the artificial powder to put the slopes in good shape.

There is no skiing at Teeple Hill and Chelsea. Neither area has snow machinery.

Michigan Skiing Varies From Poor to Excellent

Khrushchev-Kennedy Honeymoon Ends, Cold War Reappears

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "honeymoon" in Soviet-American relations which began with the inauguration of President Kennedy lasted less than a month.

It ended, as many had feared, the first time that the Kremlin and the new administration came to grips with one of the many major issues of the Cold War. The Congo crisis provided the issue. Three weeks ago Kennedy said that Russia's release of the imprisoned American airmen had removed a "serious obstacle to improvement" of understanding between the world's two major powers.

Wednesday night he charged the Kremlin with trying to wreck the United Nations and warned that the United States would not stand idly by and watch the demolition job.

The President grimly cautioned

Russia against such a "dangerous and irresponsible step" as taking unilateral action to aid the Red army regime of Antoine Gizenga. Kennedy had no choice but to meet the Soviet challenge head on. He was faced with Premier Nikita Khrushchev's viciously worded demand that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld be fired, U.N. forces pulled out of the Congo and full support go to Gizenga. The President put Khrushchev on notice that the Congo was a major test of Soviet intentions. He expressed hope for cooperation in "peaceful ventures" and progress on major problems if — and it was a chilling condition — "if relations between our two countries can be maintained."

Kennedy had feared, his aides said, that the world might expect too much from the superficial cordiality which had marked Soviet-American relations the past few weeks.

When the pro-Belgium government of Katanga Province announced that former Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba had been "killed" after escaping jail, there was immediate apprehension here that the Russians would take drastic steps to utilize the event for their own ends. But few had expected they would go quite as far as they did.

WENT TOO FAR?

Many American officials feel that Khrushchev has overplayed his hand this time. They think a number of Asian and African nations, seeing the United Nations go out of the Congo, it will be a disaster.

Kennedy said he "strongly" agreed with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's statement that if the United Nations goes out of the Congo, it will be a disaster.

Some officials here believe Khrushchev may pull back if he finds the weight of Asian and African sentiment swinging against him. But they said he left himself no route for a graceful retreat.

Kennedy and his top advisers were in no mood today to discuss the possibility of progress on such issues as disarmament, nuclear test ban, Germany. They were awaiting the outcome of the Congo crisis.

The consensus in official Washington was:

If Khrushchev whipped up the new crisis to test Kennedy's firmness — now he knows. If he backed down, serious negotiations on other issues may be possible. If he pushes his present course to the limit, the beginning of the end for the United Nations may be in sight.

President Talks to El Salvador

Tells New Government It Must Help Itself if U.S. Is to Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has prodded the new government of tiny El Salvador with some advice he hopes will be the key to a victory for democracy in all Latin America.

At the same time, he disclosed he is looking for ways to tighten U.S. economic screws against Cuba's Castro regime which is spearheading the Red drive into the Americas.

Kennedy announced at a news conference Wednesday night that Washington is recognizing the three-week-old Salvadoran government headed by Col. Anibal Porfirio.

Instead of sticking to the usual mention of a new government's promise to live up to its intentions, Kennedy stressed the Salvadoran's promise to hold free elections and seek economic and social progress.

He promised U.S. aid "under the spirit of the act of Bogota" — last September's Bogota agreement under which the United States is prepared to provide $500 million to the Latin American countries who will also push improvements on their own.

U.S. authorities are hopeful that the new regime, which appears to have broad domestic support, will through self-help and U.S. aid bring prosperous democracy rather than just making the rich richer and saving the seeds for a Castro-type takeover.

As for Moscow-linked Fidel Castro, Kennedy said he was considering stopping a $12-million loan for Cuban molasses recently made by a Philadelphia liquor firm.

BUSY HANDS — These are just a few uses President Kennedy made of his hands Wednesday night at a news conference in the auditorium of the new State Department Building. The Chief Executive opened the conference with a warning to Russia against any one-sided intervention in the internal affairs of the Congo and then discussed the economy of the country before starting to answer questions from reporters.

Tells Congress to Get Busy

JFK Sizes Up Nation's Many Problems

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, hitting back at those who contend there is no recession, is pumping more federal money into the economy to combat "the very serious problem of unemployment."

The President said up the problem in these terms at his news conference Wednesday night while thrusting at Republican criticism of his efforts to spur business and reduce joblessness. He also prodded the Democratic-controlled Congress—moving slowly so far—to act speedily on his legislative program designed, he said, to get the American economy "back on its feet."

Kennedy dealt at some length with this domestic situation, and also served notice on the Soviet Union to desist from any one-sided intervention in the internal affairs of the strife-torn Congo.

And the President, again with Soviet Union clearly in mind, asserted that any attempt to destroy the United Nations in the domestic economy, Kennedy said, the country is "most concerned about the very serious problem of unemployment." There are, he said, more than 5.5 million Americans who "want work and can't find a job."

Alluding to Congress, the President said he hopes there will be action on his legislative program as soon as possible. He reviewed steps he already has taken on his own to relieve hardship and encourage business recovery, and then listed additional measures he had just ordered apart from proposals which require congressional approval.

These include instructions to quicken distribution of $4 billion in tax refunds which are coming due, in an effort to get this money into the spending stream.

Kennedy also announced that a $34 million is being made available this month for the federal highway construction program. He noted that faster outlay of these funds will have to be implemented by state and local governments, and disclosed he had dispatched telegrams to all state governors urging a speed-up.

As for the domestic economy, Kennedy said the country is "most concerned about the very serious problem of unemployment." There are, he said, more than 5.5 million Americans who "want work and can't find a job."

JFK Sizes Up Nation's Many Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, hitting back at those who contend there is no recession, is pumping more federal money into the economy to combat "the very serious problem of unemployment."

The President said up the problem in these terms at his news conference Wednesday night while thrusting at Republican criticism of his efforts to spur business and reduce joblessness. He also prodded the Democratic-controlled Congress—moving slowly so far—to act speedily on his legislative program designed, he said, to get the American economy "back on its feet."

Kennedy dealt at some length with this domestic situation, and also served notice on the Soviet Union to desist from any one-sided intervention in the internal affairs of the strife-torn Congo.

And the President, again with Soviet Union clearly in mind, asserted that any attempt to destroy the United Nations in the domestic economy, Kennedy said, the country is "most concerned about the very serious problem of unemployment." There are, he said, more than 5.5 million Americans who "want work and can't find a job."

TWA Rakes Suppliers Over the Coals

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The airlines are getting fed up with such items as $12 toilet seats, $278 for an electric razor plug, and a nose cone that costs $13,000 if purchased from one company and only $5,000 if bought from another.

In brief, the airlines are convinced the $3-million price tag on their new jets is water-gate inflated because of unrealistic pricing policies by manufacturers.

One airline, Trans World, thought enough of the problem to call an assembly of suppliers with whom it was doing business — and read the riot act. TWA cited these examples:

— It was paying $12 for a toilet seat identical to one selling for $3.

— On one jet, the flight engineer's seat cost $2,500; on another, an almost identical seat cost only $85 — 270 percent less.

— One manufacturer charged $1,337 for a cabin temperature control unit; another only $29.

— TWA wanted to convert six piston-engine aircraft to cargo planes and needed a small galley for crew meals. The lowest quoted price: $10,000. "A figure almost equal to the cost of a completely equipped Cadillac," one TWA official said.

The airline asked its own maintenance shop what it would cost to make the galley there. The estimate was $5,000 for all six planes.

"Is it any wonder then that we doubt a price policy even exists?" a TWA vice president told the suppliers.

LIST OF COMPLAINTS

The symposium heard a few other complaints. In one case, it asked a manufacturer for overhaul manuals to be used in repair of a certain mechanical part. The supplier replied that "due to the simplicity of our unit, overhaul manuals are not required."

The simple unit happened to contain 119 individual parts.

TWA also complained that many suppliers refused to sell individual parts, insisting that the airline must buy a whole new unit. Typical was a small timing motor, which cost $230 to replace. It would have cost only $10 to repair if individual parts were available.

To drive home the cost-price problem, TWA broke down the individual price tags on most of the 125,000 separate parts that go into a new jetliner. Samples: $221.50 for a cargo door handle, $117.50 for a nose gear door, $11,388 for the main entry door, $845 for a water separator used in air conditioning, $3,444 for a stabilizer trim motor, $14,000 for two cow panels on a jet engine.

TWA reports that the suppliers took the criticism "very well" and have promised a thorough study of pricing policies. But it is a problem that affects the whole airline industry, not just TWA.

Welding Gear Taken by Thief in Waterford

A thief walked off with $150 worth of welding equipment, owned by Francis Profit of South Hospital Road, in Waterford Township yesterday.

Profit told township police that footprints in the snow indicated someone had parked a car some 40 feet north of his house, walked into the yard and carried the equipment back to the car.

Okay Broader Care for Crippled Children

Existence of the new Sister Kenny Foundation physical therapy department at Pontiac General Hospital has resulted in state approval of broader care there under the Crippled Children's Act.

The hospital now is eligible to receive state reimbursement for care of children requiring orthopedic, plastic surgery and neurosurgery procedures, reported Dr. John J. Marra, medical director.

Detroit Firm Auditing Pontiac General Books

The Detroit firm of Haskins and Sells has begun the annual, three-week audit of Pontiac General Hospital financial records.

It was not expected that a report on the audit will be issued until after the firm completes its annual examination of the city's books this spring.

Arrest Jews Over Tract

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Jewish sources here said Wednesday up to 300 Jews have been arrested in Meknes, Fez and Tangier following distribution of a Zionist tract. The tract, distributed through the mails earlier this month called on the Jewish population to observe two minutes of silence Feb. 8 in memory of 41 Jewish refugees from Morocco who drowned when the yacht Pinksank off Morocco last month.

"They should let the politicians out of office solve the nation's problems. They're the ones who always know how to do it."

AFL-CIO Rallying Back of Kennedy's Program

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO's political organization today set a nationwide series of labor union conferences to rally support behind the Kennedy administration's program.

The meetings are to start March 7 at Pensacola, Fla., for states in this area and range through a total of 17 sessions to a final June 3-4 at Sioux Falls, S.D.

Called by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, or COPE, as it is called, the meetings are designed to bring grassroots support to Congress for Kennedy's program and to seek implementing measures in state legislatures.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president here for winter labor union meetings, urged unions Wednesday to get behind the plans proposed by President Kennedy to restore the national economy to full employment and production.

HAS CONFIDENCE

"We must do our job to help mobilize support," Meany told the federation's maritime trades department Wednesday. "We have the greatest confidence in that program and in the President personally."

Meany noted that business organizations like the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers are opposing the Kennedy proposals, but added that "these people don't seem to have learned anything from the past."

The AFL-CIO chief said that higher wages, also would help offset the recession. He explained that a local union exhausts all possible settlement remedies and gets formal permission from its national union to call a walkout.

The policy raises such labor activity at missile bases and sites will mean that other unionists would be expected to pass unauthorized pickets.

Foreign Policy Group Pondered Proposed at Luncheon of Civic Organizations at MSU

Creation of a study group for objective, nonpartisan analysis of foreign policy was the topic of a luncheon meeting at Michigan State University Oakland yesterday.

Attending were representatives of both major political parties, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the Pontiac Manufacturers Association, the Oakland County Council and several units of the League of Women Voters.

The program would be under the auspices of the Continuing Education Department of MSU. The meeting was held at the Michigan State University Oakland campus.

Dr. William E. Rhode, assistant director of continuing education, outlined the aims of the project. He said that such a program could be offered to interested citizens of the community in the form of a 10-week course of lecture and discussion, taking up five major issues in current foreign policy.

The university has raised the possibility of the project in an attempt to make foreign policy more meaningful to the public.

Rhode pointed out that the program would not be to conduct a particular point of view or proposed policies. Its purpose would be to provide the relevant international background that would allow participants to arrive at intelligent personal conclusions.

Tentative starting time would be the spring quarter at MSU, beginning in April. Representatives of the organizations said they would take the matter back to their groups for action.

Dems to Honor Senator Hart

Swinsons Top List of Guests of Dinner Dance Saturday Night

Gov. John B. Swinson and his wife Alice will head the list of state and Oakland County Democrats who will pay tribute to Valentine's Day greetings to Michigan's junior Sen. Philip A. Hart in Oak Park Saturday night.

The occasion will be the fourth annual "Have a Heart for Hart" dinner staged each February for the former senator of the county and lieutenant governor of the state.

This year an overflow crowd of close to 500 informal Saturday-night guests are expected to attend the dinner and dance at the Swinsons.

The informal affair is for the square dancing—something some of the guests of the dinner will be doing.

With Williams, Africa, Billy S. Farnum, deputy director of the state party and one-time 1960-night caller, will call the dance, according to Sherwood Colburn, dinner chairman from Oak Park.

It will be at 7 p.m. at the Oak Park High School, 100 Oak Park Blvd.

Cash money in the April election will also be among the guests.

Reflector Plates May Be Killed

Bill to Repeal Law Up for Discussion by State Legislators

LANSING (UPI)—A bill to repeal a law requiring Michigan vehicle license plates to be reflective was introduced today by Rep. William E. Rhodes.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. John B. Swinson, R-Belling, and Elmer R. Porter, R-Belling, was reported out of committee Wednesday.

It would remove the 25-cent fee which motorists have been paying since last March when the reflectorization law went into effect.

The bill was passed last year and the fee levied, but no money was appropriated by the legislature.

Legislators who want the law repealed contend the reflectorization plates are not as effective as they should be if they are to be used.

Some challenged the advisability of the reflectorization plates because they can only be obtained from one American firm and could not be bought on a competitive bid basis.

Advocates Tax Slash if Dip Stays

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., says personal income taxes should be cut by 3 to 4 per cent if unemployment continues high in May.

He told interviewers that if the recession continues to midsummer, then a public works program should be started and corporation taxes should be cut.

Douglas, here Wednesday for a speech at the University of Utah, also said a 4 per cent income tax cut would release an average of $14 more per month per taxpayer. He said this money could be used to buy more things, thus stimulating industry and employment.

Any cut in corporation taxes, he said, should include a requirement that the money thus freed be spent on plants and machinery.

So Appropriate

DES MOINES (AP) — The Bankers Trust Company of Des Moines has its own "Geiger counter" — Hazel Geiger, one of the tellers who counts the money.

ADVERTISING DOESN'T PAY — Ronald Cadotta, 25, decided he would play the same game, but found advertising doesn't pay. He was handed a speeding ticket at an electronic "stopwatch" set by police in Detroit — then painted a sign. He stationed himself near the "trap" and warned motorists. The "trap" officers found him, however, when business fell off.

Writing to Dr. Walsh, the President said in part: "When you join the American ship HOPE in Indonesia please convey to the physicians, nurses and others participating in Project HOPE my congratulations for the excellent work all of you have done."

Dickerson, 24, is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and Ferris Institute, Big Rapids. The good ship HOPE is supported by public contributions.

Flight Recorder May Tell Cause of Jet's Plunge

BRUSSELS (UPI) — A flight recorder on the jetliner that crashed and killed 73 persons here Wednesday apparently was not damaged by the fierce heat which melted parts of the plane's metal body, aviation sources said today.

The recorder was recovered from the wreckage along with 30 other instruments which investigators hope will help solve the mystery of the Boeing 707's death dive.

U.S. Embassy officials worked with Belgian authorities to identify the bodies of the 49 Americans aboard.

Including 18 members of the United States figure skating team.

Identification of the victims was slow and painstaking because most of the bodies were burned beyond recognition. Plans to return the bodies to their families were delayed pending formal identification.

Fifty-three victims had U.S. addresses but Sabena Airlines said only 49 of these were Americans.

An American Embassy spokesman here said the State Department is contacting the families of the victims to determine where the bodies should be sent. No memorial services in Brussels were planned.

A government spokesman said the investigating committee may take as long as six months to complete its report.

"NOT YET DETERMINED"
Sabena Director General Willem DeSwaert said the plane arriving from New York had appeared to be making a normal approach near the airfield "when there took place an incident, the nature of which has not yet been determined, but which certainly affected the control of the aircraft."

Sabena Airlines continued flying today despite the tragedy and a company spokesman said the crash was no cause for grounding the planes.

One of four Sabena Boeings still in service flew in from the Congo this morning and made a normal landing at Savenien Airfield. Planes arriving and departing flew over the wreckage of the ill-fated jetliner.

Mr. Taylor, of 1210 Hemet St., Birmingham, came to Pontiac 35 years ago from Sault Ste. Marie as an employee of the former First National Bank & Trust Co. For several years he was in charge of the Perry-Greenwood branch office.

Following the bank office and organization of Community National Bank in 1953, Mr. Taylor became assistant of the institution. Through the years he advanced from assistant cashier to cashier, to vice president-cashier, and to vice president.

A member of the Methodist Church at Sault Ste. Marie, he was also a member of Rotary Club and Pontiac City Club, and served of many civic committees.

Mr. Taylor leaves his wife Helen, a son, William at home; a sister, Miss Sarah Taylor of Sault Ste. Marie; and five brothers, Herman of Lansing, Austin of Sarasota, Fla., Cecil of Williamston and Armour and Clayton, both of Sault Ste. Marie.

The Rev. C. George Wildfield of All Saints Episcopal Church will officiate at the service at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Sparks-Griffin Chapel. The body will then be taken to the Hovie Funeral Home at Sault Ste. Marie for viewing and burial. Donations may be made to the YMCA.

Overcast, Rainy Day Expected Tomorrow

The weathermen says tonight will be partly cloudy with the temperature dropping to the low 20s.

Cloudy with occasional rain or showers changing to snow flurries and turning colder is the forecast for Friday. The high is expected to be about 38.

Twenty-three was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the reading was 32.

Pass Petitions to Oust Union

Rank and File Angry

Chrysler Problems

DETROIT — Petitions were being circulated today at a Chrysler Corp. press plant asking that the United Auto Workers Union be ousted as bargaining agent.

The petitions were circulated by a rank-and-file committee at Chrysler's Nine Mile press plant in Warren.

The union has represented auto workers in the Detroit area for 34 years. The ouster move was the first since the union won an auto contract in 1957.

A committee spokesman said more than 650 of the 700 production workers at the plant already had signed the petition. The petition asks the national labor relations board to decertify the UAW as bargaining agent.

He said the petitions would be filed with the NLRB regional office at Detroit later this week or early next week.

Kennedy Warns Soviets on Congo

Hopes Dim for JFK-K Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has told key congressmen that President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic is playing a dangerous role in the explosive Congo crisis, it was learned today.

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prospects of an early meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev dimmed perceptibly today because of the Chief Executive's warning to Russia to stay out of the Congo.

Kennedy, before a nationwide television audience watching last night's news conference, called Soviet unilateral intervention in the Congo "dangerous and irresponsible."

He said this country stood squarely behind the United Nations and would oppose Russian efforts to get U.N. forces out of the Congo.

Against this background of sharp diplomatic language, a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting any time soon appeared unlikely.

There have been reports that the Soviet leader might come to the U.N. General Assembly meeting in New York next month and Khrushchev was expected to seek at least an informal meeting with Kennedy aimed distantly toward the President whose election he hailed as a harbinger of improved U.S.-Soviet relations.

ASKED ABOUT MEETING
Asked about a possible meeting and whether it would be helpful in tense times such as the current Congo crisis in the United Nations.

Suppose Khrushchev does show up in New York, the reporters persisted, would the President "welcome a meeting?"

"I would make a judgment as to what could usefully be done once we knew what Mr. Khrushchev's plans were," he replied gravely. "I must say that I've not heard that he is planning to come."

Kennedy still hopes American-Soviet relations can be put back on a better track. "If relations between our two countries can be maintained," he said.

This unstated remark underlined the gravity with which he regarded current Russian tactics in the United Nations.

Jacwer (Jack) Breslin has been assistant to President John Hannah of Michigan State University and the university's legislative liaison man. Breslin succeeded Dr. B. Varner when Varner was named MSUO chancellor. The new post pays $20,000 a year.

Among the other appointments made today by the trustees was that of Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, presently dean of faculty, as professor of English and assistant to Varner for university planning.

Other appointments approved today for MSUO were Dr. Maurine F. Brown Jr., assistant professor of English, and Dr. Herman W. Lewis, an associate professor of biology.

Dr. Lewis has been assistant professor of biology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology since 1954. He is 37.

Dr. Brown is assistant professor of English at Colby College in Maine. He is 32.

150 Policemen Assigned to U.N.

Guard Against Further Disorder at Building; Riots Are Worldwide

By The Associated Press
A guard of more than 150 city policemen was assigned to the United Nations building area today to cope with any recurrence of the disorder that erupted Wednesday among demonstrators there.

Demonstrations against U.N. and Belgian policies in the Congo and in protest against the slaying of Patrice Lumumba erupted on the streets of New York City and Washington, D.C.

The demonstrations — Wednesday and Wednesday night — followed the riotous scenes in United Nations headquarters in which two score persons were injured.

Three of Lumumba's children — still unaware of their father's death — were on the stage at a rally Wednesday night in Cairo to denounce the slaying of the former Congo premier. The youngsters — Francois, 16, Patricia, 9, and Juliana, 6 — are going to school in Cairo. They could not understand the speeches and slogans which were in Arabic.

The Cairo rally followed a mob outbreak in the Egyptian capital Wednesday during which rioters set fire to the Belgian embassy and stoned nearby U.S., British and United Nations offices.

Pro-Lumumba demonstrators in Ceylon paraded the streets, shouting slogans against the Western nations. They tore down the flag at the residence of the Australian high commissioner.

African, Asian Nations to Take Stand on Leader

Hammarskjold in Tight Spot at U.N.; Fear War in Congo Is Imminent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had the support of a majority of the U.N. Security Council today for his defiance of Soviet demands for his dismissal. Several African or Asian countries were asked to take a stand for or against the embattled secretary general in the continuation of the council's Congo debate today.

Their position was likely to be crucial since Hammarskjold said he would resign only if that was the wish of the "uncommitted nations," a term generally applicable to the Asian and African members.

At Elisabethville, Katanga, a mystery cargo plane landed during the night and unloaded what was believed to be a jet fighter.

The secrecy shrouded around increased fears in that jittery city that a Congo civil war is imminent.

'A NEW KOREA'
"It looks as if the lines are being drawn for a new Korea," one diplomat commented.

A United Nations spokesman said the jet was unloaded from a silver-gray stratospherer whose only marking was the serial number N5640C.

U.N. guards took precautions to prevent a repetition of the riotous Negro demonstrations during Wednesday's council debates, in which 41 persons were injured.

A speaker at a rally Wednesday night in Harlem exhorted the crowd to be at the U.N. again to demand a Soviet resolution.

"Tomorrow the cops won't get us to run. We'll show these go-pole police who we are."

Six of the 11 council members backed up Hammarskjold Wednesday when he told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin he would not resign. They were the United States, Turkey, Nationalist China, France, Chile and Britain.

NEEDS SEVEN VOTES
Since any resolution needs seven votes for adoption, their stand doomed a Soviet resolution.

They have the council call for Hammarskjold's dismissal as "a participant in and organizer of the violence of Patrice Lumumba," deposed premier of the Congo.

Zorin introduced the resolution Wednesday, following up a statement by his government that it (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Local Missionary Calls Congo Another Korea

By PETE KROBILIER

THE CONGO has turned into an other North and South Korea, according to a Pontiac missionary, physician who has been held prisoner by pro-Lumumba forces.

"The northern provinces are now completely under Communist domination," said Dr. John Slater, 29, of 187 E. Huron St.

"It would take an all-out civil war to wrest these areas away from the Communists. The north is at least now in to save what's left of non-Communist Congo—the southern provinces."

Dr. Slater, who arrived in New York City yesterday with his family and a number of other members of the Conservative Baptist Mission Society, today painted for The Pontiac Press a picture of conditions in the northern Congo which he described as "organized anarchy."

Dr. Slater also criticized western colonies toward President Joseph Kasavubu, who was ousted by the Congo's new president, Patrice Lumumba.

"Kasavubu Province calling him 'the most outspoken anti-Communist' in the Congo."

"It has been very unfair and untrue for us in the West almost daily to slap Kasavubu's name," he said.

Dr. Slater saw as a possible bulwark against the advance of Communism southward in the Congo a new alliance between Kasavubu and Elizabeth Taylor and Congo President Kasavubu at Leopoldville.

"The two are getting much closer together right now," said Dr. Slater, "although the Western world doesn't seem to recognize this."

Dr. Slater said Kivu Province into the Communist camp along with Oriental Province, the acknowledged stronghold of the late Patrice Lumumba.

It was in Kivu Province in a village called Katwa that Dr. Slater, and his missionary-physician brother Dwight, 34, their wives and their children had been for 17 months, until anti-Communist early this year caused them to abandon their missionary hospital in an effort to escape the Congo.

Included in the two families are John's wife, Marion, 29, and their children Kenneth, 3, and Karen, 11 months; as well as Dwight's wife, Barbara, 35, and their children, three boys, 10, 8, and 6, and three girls, 10, 8, and 6.

"Correcting earlier versions of the escape, Dr. Slater said that the two women, both registered nurses, and the children slipped out of the village under cover of a heavy fog early Jan. 14, a mission trip only to be halted after a four-hour journey by pro-Lumumba soldiers at the border of Uganda, a British protectorate.

THREATS OF DEATH

He said the women and children were terrorized at the border for more than five hours with threats of death and imprisonment before they were allowed to cross into Kivu.

Dr. Slater said that he and his brother, meantime, were kept under house arrest by pro-Lumumba police for a week at the mission hospital in Katwa. They were freed by U.N. troops from Nigeria.

Mrs. C. B. Wilson Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Charles B. (Lulu) Wilson, whose husband was a partner with his brother, the late David R. Wilson, in the former Willamette, died at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, 2000 E. 10th St., at 2 p.m. Saturday at Sparks-Griffin Chapel.

She was a member of First Presbyterian Church and the Women's Association of her church. She had also been at Pontiac, Tenn., and the Woman's National Garden and Garden Association, Bloomfield Hills and Pine Lake Country clubs.

During World War I, Mrs. Wilson worked with the American Red Cross, later serving in the auxiliary in St. Joseph's Mercy and Pontiac General Hospitals.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Sparks-Griffin Chapel.

Security Council Backs Dag in Crisis would no longer recognize or deal with Hammarskjöld as secretary-general because the Secretary said he had Lumumba's secret on his hands.

The resolution also sought sanctions against Belgium, the arrest of anti-Lumumba Congolese leaders, disarming of their troops, ouster of all Belgians from the Congo and the ending of U.N. operations in the chaotic African country within a month.

Outside the Soviet bloc, only Cuba, Guinea and Mali, which normally lean toward the Soviet camp, cast a vote against Hammarskjöld.

U.A.R. RECOGNITION

The United Arab Republic was the first to give formal recognition.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio said his government had sent a cable to the Congo, recalling the 1,100 troops with the U.N. force "as soon as possible."

Twelve Europeans, including a woman and a 5-year-old child, were seized and beaten by rebellious Lumumba soldiers in Kivu Province today, the U.N. reported.

When they were released after a few hours' detention, the U.N. spokesman said one of the men had a broken arm.

The incident was another of the incidents of violence clouding the Congo aftermath following Lumumba's death.

'Poor Man's Rocket' Launches Satellite

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States put up a 12-foot balloon type space vehicle today but 3 1/2 hours later officials could not say whether it had gone into orbit around the earth.

The test also was a preliminary achievement of orbit by a U.S. rocket from a point other than Cape Canaveral, Fla., or the Pacific Missile Range on the Southern California coast.

Establishment of an earth satellite by means of power easier to handle and cheaper than the liquid fuels that have created headaches in previous high-altitude trials.

Goldwater '64 Choice by 25 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon is favored for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination by more than half the 1960 GOP convention delegates who responded to a newspaper poll published today.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, GOP conservative leader, was backed by more than one-fourth of the delegates, who answered Lou Hiner Jr., Washington correspondent for the Indianapolis News, who conducted the poll, termed this a "surprising" and "significant" showing.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was favored for the 1964 nomination by nearly 11 percent of the delegates who replied.

Answers were received from 780, or 38.6 percent, of the 1,331 delegates to the Republican convention in Chicago last summer. Hiner said this response was considered "exceptionally high" by poll-takers. The questionnaire listed Nixon as Goldwater and Rockefeller and provided a space for other choices.

Here is a breakdown of the poll: Former Vice President Nixon, 50.1 percent—45.6 or 55.9 per cent. Goldwater—21.8 or 27.9 per cent. Rockefeller—15.5 or 10.9 per cent.

'Mired in Quicksand, Prayed at Last'

there came a strange, no-fear-of-death. That sweet calmness was something I knew I did not have before. That was something that had just been given to me.

SEES A CHANCE

I had not asked God to save me. Yet it was that very calmness and freedom from panic and fright, with its resulting presence of mind, which enabled me to save myself.

Being able to think clearly led me to see something I had not noticed before. Close by, but just beyond reach, there was some tall marsh grass growing, in blades about one inch wide and over four feet high.

If only I could get to that. Each blade of grass is fragile, I knew, but "in union there is strength" — 10 or 15 of those blades joined together would have the strength of a sturdy rope.

But I could not move toward them, for my legs were gripped by that powerful suction, and any movement I attempted made me sink more rapidly. I stretched out my arm — the nearest blade of grass was about 25 inches beyond the tips of my fingers.

A DARING PLAN

Then a daring plan suggested itself to me, and now I had the courage for it. I would let myself be pulled forward to give my hand the needed distance, try to grasp a handful of the grass, and pull myself over onto the firmer soil in which I knew the grass must be rooted.

If I failed it would plunge me head first into the quicksand. However, even that alternative seemed preferable. If I must die, why not get it over with quickly, rather than wait to be swallowed up in slow, tortuous suffocation?

In the new calmness of my mind another thought followed. By now I had sunk till the quicksand was almost over the top of my high hip boots. The quicksand, I suddenly realized, was not actually holding me. It was holding my boots, which in turn were holding me. I unfastened the boot straps so that if I succeeded in reaching the firmer ground, my boots might pull myself right out of my boots.

GOD ANSWERS

Taking a deep breath I lunged forward, full length across the quicksand. My fingers stretched desperately for a grip on the slender grasses. With my face almost buried in the sand, I found the handles of this blades of grass. I pulled, and slowly, carefully inched my way to safety.

In the years since, I have never forgotten the prayer lesson I learned that day.

"Please, God, help me to help myself." I believe this prayer for increased personal powers — spiritual strength, greater inspiration, and greater confidence — is one that God always answers.

national developments in Asia and Africa.

ONLY ONE OF ITS KIND

Varner said that establishment of the Asian studies program will make MSUO "the only institution in the nation requiring students to take a four-year sequence of studies in non-Western and Latin American culture."

In establishing the office of dean of the university, Varner said, he would include the responsibility of coordinating activities of the office of dean of students as well as the office of director of MSUO's Continuing Education Department.

"Purpose of establishing this position is to provide a central point of coordination for the university's activities, to underscore the fact that the nonacademic and academic aspects of student life are inseparable, and to emphasize that the continuing education program is an integral part of the educational responsibility of the university," Varner said.

Dr. Hoopes will be responsible, according to Varner, for a systematic study of new developments in higher education, devoting half of his time to this study, and the other half for writing and teaching English.

Appointed dean in 1959, Dr. Hoopes said: "I will have been doing this job for two years — two years of growing pains, and I want to get back to teaching and writing."

All appointments are effective July 1.

Six Flash Bulbs Just Can't Wait to Show Stuff

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Electrifying is the word for the young lady who entered a photo supply shop and bought a roll of film and some flash bulbs.

"When she was about half way to the door, there was this funny flash," said Gene Kramer, a store employee.

"She came back and said, 'My flash bulbs exploded.' The six bulbs on one side of the carton were burned out. The package was hot."

The puzzled Kramer, who gave the young woman new film and bulbs, said he had never heard of such a thing. Neither had the manufacturer of the bulbs.

Kennedy Gets Nikita's Cable

Khushchev Says Let's Have Real Strict Curb on Arms Output

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has cabled President Kennedy that he wants a disarmament agreement including "such strict international control that no one could arm in secret and commit aggression."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the premier's statement was part of his reply to congratulations the President sent him on the launching of the Venus-launch Sputnik last Sunday.

Khrushchev said all nations agree that a disarmament solution "depends to a great extent on agreement between the Soviet Union and the United States of America."

The premier said his government considers that "solution of the disarmament problem would provide conditions favoring the earliest realization of Soviet-American cooperation in such fields as the struggle against disease, the conquest of space and the development of culture and trade."

To Ask Special State Loan Fund

Swinson Has Plans to Back Communities in Luring Industry

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. John B. Swinson plans to ask the legislature for a loan fund so the state can help local government units attract new industry in a special message expected within the next two weeks.

But the governor's proposals will have to take a place in line behind similar proposals already in the legislative hopper.

Swinson's plan for a state lending authority will be modeled after a Pennsylvania law which permits the state to provide one-third of the financing necessary for constructing new industrial facilities, a Capitol source said.

Another third of the cost of a new plant is provided by the local unit of government and the remainder by private capital under the Pennsylvania plan.

The Michigan governor hinted at his plan in the "State of the State" message to the opening session of the legislature Jan. 9. He outlined 10 points for economic growth.

Part of the 10-point program has already been introduced, and the special message would deal with more of it, the source said.

Plans Inquiry Into Prices of Airplane Parts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman John C. Stennis indicated today his Senate Preparedness subcommittee would conduct a preliminary inquiry to determine whether the government—like commercial air lines—pays inflated prices for plane parts.

The Mississippi Democrat made the statement after studying a UPI dispatch stating that the airlines are fed up with such items as $12 toilet seats, $278 razor plugs and the like.

Stennis said the preparedness subcommittee, watching for the Senate Armed Services Committee on Military Procurement Programs, is ready to conduct a full investigation if such action is justified.

State Meeting on April Vote

GOP State Committee and Chairman to Plan Election in Lansing

LANSING (U)—The newly elected Republican State Central Committee and its new chairman will meet here next week to plan for the April 3 election.

The meeting has tentatively been set for Feb. 25.

George M. Van Patten, Holland attorney elected chairman at the GOP state convention Feb. 4, will tell the committee about party plans for the spring election.

The committee also will choose a secretary and treasurer. Norman O. Stockmeyer, Detroit real estate man, is expected to try for another term as secretary.

At least two candidates appear to be in the running to succeed Ardile Ferguson, Benton Harbor businessman, who is stepping out after four years as treasurer.

Thomas E. Walters, Sturgis insurance man and St. Joseph County Republican chairman, announced for the post Wednesday.

Another potential candidate is Robert Brown, retired Kalamazoo businessman who played a prominent role in the Republican state campaign last fall.

To Offer Program for Aged Missed by Medical Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate subcommittee on Aging will propose this week a health care program for the 2.8 million old folks not brought under President Kennedy's medical benefits plan.

Chairman Pat McNamara, D-Mich., said today the subcommittee would call for a medical insurance program financed from general treasury funds for elderly persons not covered by Social Security.

For the 14.2 million persons over 65 who are in the Social Security system, McNamara said the subcommittee would recommend a health plan along the lines of Kennedy's proposal which would be paid for by raising Social Security taxes on workers and their employers.

Quits Yale Faculty for News Assn. Post

DETROIT (UPI) — Peter B. Clark, 32, great-grandson of James E. Scripps, founder of the Detroit News, has taken over duties as secretary of the Evening News Association, publisher of the News.

Clark, a stockholder and, since last May one of the directors, resigned as an assistant professor of political science at Yale University to take the post.

He succeeded Lyman G. Lewis who died Oct. 5.

Clark is a native of Detroit. His father, Rex Scripps Clark, now of La Jolla, Calif., was with the News classified and photo staffs in the 1930s.

Bobby Breen's Testimony Gives Wife Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bobby Breen, 33, onetime juvenile singing star, testified briefly Wednesday to enable his wife to divorce him after eight years.

Jocelyn Breen, 30, an ex-fashion model, obtained the decree after telling a judge that Breen slapped and kicked her and said he no longer wanted the responsibilities of marriage. They have a son, Hunter, 6, for whose support the mother is to receive $200 a month.

Breen's testimony was necessary to establish his own California residence. Otherwise, Mrs. Breen, now living in Yonkers, N.Y., would not have qualified for a divorce here.

Pershing Missile Success With Inertial Guidance

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army's Pershing missile has passed a significant milestone in its test program, an inertial guidance system steering the rocket to target for the first time.

One of the 34-foot, solid-fuel missiles covered 160 miles Wednesday night with an inertial system guiding it all the way. It was the 10th success in 12 Pershing firings.

Inertial guidance, self-contained within the rocket, would prevent enemy jamming of the Pershing if it is fired in wartime.

Detroit, GR Routes Asked by CAB Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit and Grand Rapids, Mich., are among the cities on transcontinental air cargo routes recommended by a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner.

Examiner Merritt Ruben proposed that the Flying Tiger Line, Inc., of Burbank, Calif., be selected to provide transcontinental service and Middle Airlines, of Miami, Fla., be picked for North-South cargo service.

Ruben also recommended modification in existing American Airlines cargo routes.

Both services would be all-cargo, neither carrying passengers. American movie theaters sell about 600 million admissions a week.

Recession? Jobs Still Go Begging

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — In a paradox of the nation's economic recession, thousands of specialized jobs are going begging while nearly 5.5 million American workers are unemployed.

A government report showed today that a total of 17,954 jobs in various fields could not be filled locally last month by the U.S. employment service.

Employers reported shortages of engineers, social workers, teachers, nurses, draftsmen, technicians, machinists and instructors for deaf children.

Data from employment service offices stretching from New York to Los Angeles also indicated a continuing demand for "well-trained, competent secretaries, stenographers and typists."

Even Detroit, with nearly 12 percent of its labor force out of work, reported job openings for specialists who operate electronic computers and machine bookkeeping systems.

Factory production workers, however, have found the "no help wanted" sign at nearly all of the 1,800 employment service offices, Labor Department officials said.

Delay Examination in Gun-Threat Case

Examination of a Pontiac man accused of threatening his wife with a loaded shotgun was postponed yesterday to Feb. 21.

Willie Clay, 34, 35 Utah St., is charged with felonious assault on a complaint signed by his wife Elizabeth, 37, of 175 Luther St. The couple is separated.

She charged Clay forced his way into her home with the shotgun last month and threatened her with the weapon, Pontiac police said.

Police said Clay jumped through a window, breaking the glass, when they were called to investigate the quarrel. He later surrendered at the Public Safety Building.

Called Blue Angels

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI) — The "Blue Angels"—trucks manned by two men and having flashing blue lights—are patrolling New Hampshire's highways during the night to assist drivers in trouble.

The first inauguration of George Washington was delayed almost two months because of travel difficulties.

Fuss Over Dime Holdup Backfires for Pair of Pontiac Men

Two men who indignantly told Pontiac police a teen-ager robbed them of a dime at gunpoint Monday night had reason later to rue efficient police work.

Ernest T. Gay, 21, 814 Blaine St., and James Brock, 41, 64 Pine St., who told police the robbery story, found themselves in Municipal Court yesterday — charged with attempted breaking and entering.

The pair are accused of the attempted burglary of the Home Service Grocery Store, 55 Orchard Lake Ave.

They were arrested early Tuesday when a Grand Trunk Railroad detective, patrolling railroad property in a car, spotted two men trying to break into the grocery. Pontiac police arrested Gay near the store and his partner a block away.

Both admitted the attempted burglary yesterday after first insisting they had been robbed, according to police.

They waived examination in Municipal Court yesterday before Judge Cecil McCallum and will be arraigned in Circuit Court Feb. 21. Police said Brock at times said he was William W. Beck.

A night watchman by that name is employed at the WBC furniture storage building, 39 S.

They theorized that Brock hoped he would be released if he convinced officers he were the night watchman.

VEAL RING — All meat contains body-building protein which everyone needs, especially growing youngsters. So next time you're pressed for an end-of-the-week meal and the budget is almost expended, give this Veal Ring an opportunity to prove itself. Preparation is simple, ingredients are not exotic but just wait until you taste the flavor.

Bacon Strips Help Flavor Veal Meat Loaf Ring

Every homemaker, more likely than not, can proudly say, "Here is the recipe for my own special meat loaf." Anyone who does any type of cooking takes secret pride in his or her own successful adventure into the culinary fantasy land.

This idea for a Bacon-Topped Veal Ring won't be a guarded family treasure, however, in the eyes of the budget-minded homemaker, this recipe will become a sparkling jewel in your recipe chest.

Regardless of what the men say, stretching that food dollar isn't as easy as it may sound. That's why this recipe is such a real catch.

Serving low cost meals is an art . . . but one which the homemaker must learn to do without sacrificing the nutritional factor. This recipe for Bacon-Topped Veal Ring is as versatile as you want to make it. Using the same mixture, it can be packed into a sedgwich loaf pan . . . the bacon sliced on top and baked in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

First combine 1 1/2 pounds ground veal, 1/2 pound ground pork, 1/2 cup coarse dry bread crumbs, 1/2 cup evaporated milk, 2 eggs which have been beaten slightly, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon celery salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Mix these ingredients thoroughly. Pack into a greased 1 1/2 quart ring mold. Dice 2 slices of bacon and place on top of the ring. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour.

When ready to serve, turn the meat ring out onto a warm platter. Garnish with tiny parsleyed new potatoes.

with either catchup or a nippy flavored creole sauce.

Another variation of this same mixture is Crisp-Cross Veal Patties. Shape into 8 thick patties. You'll need 16 slices of bacon instead of just 2. Place two strips of bacon in the form of a cross, then place the meat patty in the center and bring the slices up over the patty.

Place patties in an open roasting pan so the ends of bacon are underneath the patty. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 to 45 minutes.

Souffle Bite Size Fish in Butter, Hot Olive Oil

Souffled puffs of fish fried in Spanish olive oil make an excellent Friday night entree. To make the foamy batter, beat the white of an egg until stiff, fold in beaten egg yolk which has been blended with 1 tablespoon flour and 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Dip serving-size pieces of filleted fish in the batter then fry until golden on each side in hot olive oil. One egg makes enough batter for a pound of fish fillets.

Custard Oranges Are Good Eating

Custard Oranges

2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup custard milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4 oranges

Beat egg yolk lightly and mix in sugar and a dash of salt. Gradually stir in scalded milk. Cook and stir constantly over hot (not boiling) water until custard coats a metal spoon. Cover and all outside surfaces carefully with a sudsy sponge. Presto! Blender is clean and sanitary.

Slice oranges in membrane-free

rounds; cut each round in half; arrange in serving dishes; top with custard sauce. Makes 8 servings.

No Job to Wash Blender if You Let It Help

Did you know that a food blender becomes its own dishwasher after use? Simply fill it three-quarters full of medium hot soap or detergent suds and let it whirl itself clean!

Rinse the same way, remove the cord from the socket, and wipe all outside surfaces carefully with a sudsy sponge. Presto! Blender is clean and sanitary.

Peanut Butter Mixes With Baked Spuds

Taste appeal? Well, doesn't everyone appreciate the fine taste of peanut butter?

And how many foods with all this nutritive value and taste appeal, and which go as far as a far of peanut butter, are yours for the same price?

Perhaps you have your own little bag of tricks for incorporating peanut butter into your meals, but here's a recipe for transforming baked potatoes into an elegant vegetable that's easy to prepare and serve, and which you might like to try:

Scrub baking potatoes and bake until tender; split lengthwise and scoop out potato. Mash with hot milk, butter, salt, pepper and peanut butter until light and fluffy, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Roll in shells, sprinkle generously with grated cheese and bake in hot oven until cheese melts.

You'll find the potatoes might be a bit dry, but they're a pretty and a tasty addition to roast pork and beef entrees.

Don't pack down white sugar when you are measuring it.

Bake Lenten Fish Fillets With Mustard Sauce

Fish on your Lenten menu will take on new zest with this sunny yellow mustard sauce made with evaporated milk. Especially appetizing on perch fillets, the sauce is made by mixing 1/2 cup evaporated milk with 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt and a sprinkling of pepper.

Let stand for several minutes, then pour over about 1 lb. fish fillets in a buttered pan. Bake in preheated oven 400 degrees until tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

EATING ARTICHOKE

ARTICHOKE — Don't miss one single bite from that flavorful artichoke, starting with the outer leaves and working in to the delicious heart.

Salmon-Olive Timbale Is Super

An elegant salmon timbale stuffed with Spanish pimiento-stuffed olives... It's a dish in the grand manner, yet one that even beginner cooks can make with perfect confidence. It's a pretty dish, too — the vibrant red and green of the olives contrasting with the delicious pink of the salmon.

This Salmon-Olive Timbale is a happy blend of the North and the South. The fish comes from the cold waters of the Pacific Northwest and Alaska, home of the finest of salmon. The pimiento-stuffed olives hail from Andalusia in Southern Spain, where the hills echo with the sound of church bells and the songs of Flamenco.

Salmon, King of the fish, and King of the table, in turn, thanks to modern canning methods, is a luxury accessible even to the slenderest of purses. The cost of the pimiento-stuffed olives is trifling, too, and yet, in a little jar, there is a world of flavor and color that will give new life to humdrum, every day eating.

Salmon-Olive Timbale
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon curry powder
1/2 cup pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup salmon, drained and flaked
1/2 cup cooked rice
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup pimiento-stuffed olives, sliced (about 1 cup)

Melt butter or margarine in a frying pan. Add onions, green pepper and curry powder. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, 5 minutes. Add flour; mix well. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened.

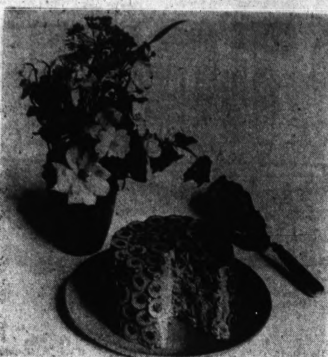

Chop salmon. Combine salmon, rice, and parsley; mix well. Add onion and green pepper mixture; mix well.

Line a well greased 1-quart mold with sliced olives. Fill mold with salmon mixture. Top with olives. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. To serve, loosen timbale from edge of mold and turn out on serving plate. Makes 4 servings.

Sweet Sour Dressing
Always Good on Slaw

With cabbage so abundant right now, crisp coleslaw is an inspired salad choice — especially with this evaporated milk-made Sweet and Sour Dressing.

For the tangy dressing blend 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper with 1/2 cup evaporated milk in a small bowl. Let stand 5 minutes, stirring occasionally, then gradually blend in 1/2 cup cider vinegar. Chill and toss lightly with 4 to 5 cups finely cut cabbage for 6 to 8 servings of slaw supreme.

SALMON-OLIVE TIMBALE. — Salmon and pimiento-stuffed olives make a handsome timbale that even beginners can turn out to perfection.

Spinach Is Tasty Food
If Creamed

Know how to prepare really good creamed spinach?

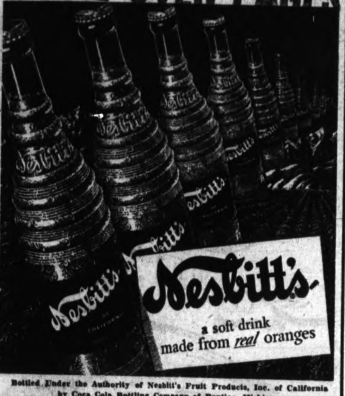

Creamed Spinach
1 package (10 ounces) washed fresh spinach
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup regular or skim milk
Salt and pepper

Rinse spinach in a large amount of cold water; drain lightly. Cook in a heavy saucepan, with just the water that clings to the leaves, over low heat until juices collect in pan.

Turn with a fork as spinach wilts; increase heat a little, cover and cook about 3 minutes longer or just until tender. Drain if necessary, and chop slightly.

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add spinach and salt and pepper to taste; reheat briefly but do not boil.

Scared to Try Artichokes?
Brush Up on Technique

What vegetable is interesting, small sharp knife and metal spoon, looking very flavorful and lots of fun to eat? The artichoke, of course. With its pineapple-like appearance, it's a most decorative vegetable to serve. Its subtle nut-like flavor adds just that gourmet touch you need for a really good meal. And, when it comes down to eating it, you'll find it a conversation piece all its own. Artichokes are a real party-goer.

Arrange artichokes, cut side down in skillet. Add remaining ingredients; cover and simmer 45 minutes or until stems can be easily pierced with a fork. Makes 4 servings.

Artichokes with Remoulade Sauce

1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup relish
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup celery, finely chopped
1/2 cup parsley, finely chopped
1/2 cup dill, finely chopped
1/2 cup vinegar

Wash artichokes, trim stems to 1 inch, pull off tough outer leaves and snip off tips of remaining leaves. Place artichokes in 1 inch of boiling water to which 3 tablespoons lemon juice have been added. Sprinkle 1/4 teaspoon salt over each artichoke. Cover tightly and cook 20 to 45 minutes, or until stems can be easily pierced with a fork (depending upon the size of the artichokes). Remove artichokes and turn upside down immediately to drain.

Combine remaining ingredients and mix well. Serve artichokes with sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Artichokes, Italian Style

4 artichokes
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup garlic, minced
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup tomato, finely chopped
1/2 cup parsley, finely chopped
1/2 cup dill, finely chopped
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup pepper

Wash artichokes, trim stems to 1 inch, pull off tough outer leaves and snip off tips of remaining leaves. Cut artichokes in half; remove chokes (fuzzy portions) using

Meatless Type of Macaroni

Meatless main dish adapted from Sicilian cooking.

Eggplant and Macaroni
1 medium-sized eggplant (1 1/2 pounds)
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup tomato, finely chopped
1/2 cup parsley, finely chopped
1/2 cup dill, finely chopped
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup pepper

Pure eggplant; slice into rounds 1/2-inch thick; cut slices in half. Heat half the oil in a large skillet; add one layer of eggplant and brown on both sides; add remaining oil as needed and to brown rest of eggplant. Drain eggplant on absorbent paper.

Meanwhile cook macaroni according to package directions; drain; return to kettle; add spaghetti sauce and mix over low heat. In a buttered 1 1/2-quart baking dish, layer macaroni mixture, eggplant (lightly sprinkled with salt) and cheddar cheese. Sprinkle top with Parmesan.
