Enough Room for All in Space, Says Titov

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Cosmonaut Gherman Titov said today there is enough room in outer space for everyone. But he jokingly questioned the wisdom of trying to send the U.N. Security Council to the moon.

Titov made his comments on a tour of U.N. headquarters, where he was given an enthusiastic reception by U.N. officials and visitors alike. His pretty wife Tamara accompanied him.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson personally welcomed Titov at a reception in the Russian's honor at U.N. headquarters by acting Secretary General U. Thant.

Stevenson said he was sure Titov would have much to talk about when he and U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. meet in Washington later this week.

Stevenson asked Titov jokingly if he thought it would be technically possible to send members of the U.N. Security Council to the moon.

Replying in the same vein, Titov said it would not be too difficult technically but there were enough problems on the earth for the council to solve first.

Titov spoke briefly in the economic and social council chamber, which was packed to capacity. He got a standing ovation when he entered.

He said he hoped international cooperation would result in great advancement in peaceful exploration of outer space.

"In these days," he said, "You can't even fly a plane all by yourself. How much more enormously difficult it would be for one person to try to solve problems of conquering outer space all by himself."

Titov, smiling and in obvious good spirits after a night on the town, was greeted with a burst of applause from several hundred spectators as his motorcade arrived.

Leaders Soften, Agree on Early Talk With Nikita

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appear to be broadening their joint approach to summit diplomacy in a move toward more informal contacts with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This seems to be one of the chief results of the weekend White House conference between American and British leaders. Another reported result is agreement to soften as far as possible U.S. and British conflicts of interest over reshaping worldwide trade patterns on Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

Rusk Reviews N-Testing Race

In a communique Sunday Kennedy and Macmillan blamed the Soviet Union for the current series of U.S. nuclear weapons tests and pledged to work for disarmament and a ban on testing.

The criticism of the Soviet Union was muted and indirect and apparently reflected a desire by Kennedy and Macmillan to keep on good terms with Khrushchev.

The summit maneuver presumably reflects the same attitude and is pointed toward future weeks rather than an immediate heads of government meeting.

In fact it was learned that one objective Kennedy and Macmillan have in mind is to establish a pattern of talking with Khrushchev occasionally without having to have a big formal conference.

"They think it should be possible," one well-informed diplomat explained, "to have more flexibility in summit diplomacy—to get together from time to time without having a huge international circus."

TO-SERVE PEACE — This was brought out in the communique in a less direct manner. Kennedy and Macmillan said, "reaffirmed their willingness to consider meetings of heads of government whenever there is an indication that such meetings would serve the interests of peace and understanding, and in this respect they took note of the opinion recently expressed by Chairman Khrushchev."

CENTO consists of Pakistan, Iran, Turkey and Britain. The United States takes part in its work as an associate member. The alliance grew out of the Baghdad Pact.

Pakistan, with the support of Iran and Turkey, has been urged to play a larger role in Middle East defense, possibly by changing its associate membership to full membership.

'Let's Drink to Knowledge'

49 Nobel Winners, Other Talent

Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters—in the East Ballroom.

Mrs. Kennedy looking on with amusement at the impromptu display, declared it was a good idea and said, "We'll have to do this again."

He called them all together Sunday night—a potpourri of the famed-to-honor the Nobel Prize winners of the Western Hemisphere.

The 49 Nobel winners on hand for the biggest dinner held at the White House in modern times greeted each other with delight. They said no one before had ever thought to bring so many of them together at once.

In gay, good humor, some started after-dinner waltzing in the north entrance hallway where Air Force musicians were playing.

X15 Plane Tops 48-Mile Mark

Hits Record Altitude for Winged Craft; Goes Higher Than Goal

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket space jet more than 48 miles into space today, a record for winged craft, and apparently achieved its goal of flying higher than it was designed to fly.

Scientists said the fact-out in data from ground radar tracking stations made it impossible to be certain immediately that the designed altitude of 250,000 feet, or about 47½ miles, had been passed.

But preliminary computations, they said, indicated it had.

An early reading, while the X15 was in the air, had indicated the top was 230,000 feet.

Space agency pilot Joe Walker set the new mark of about 265,000 feet at the top of a 450-mile-an-hour climb at the steepest angle the rocket plane has yet tackled: 38 degrees. Thirty-three degrees was the previous steepest.

OLD MARK IN MILES — Walker topped by a substantial margin the old mark of 217,000 feet, or about 41 miles, set Oct. 11 by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

He plunged back into the earth's atmosphere from the fringe of space spread-angle style, the X15 flattened out like a swimmer rather than in a nose-first dive, a trick future spacecraft will use to slow their descent.

At one point in the descent Walker said over his radio: "I sure felt that one." He may have been referring to buffeting, but there was no elaboration.

So severe was the air friction that the plane's black paint was charred.

'Stable Economy Wouldn't Need Intervention'

Bids for Cooperation in Price-Setting Process in U.S. Chamber Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

The President delivered to the chamber's 50th annual meeting a sober appeal for cooperation among business, labor and government. He said this would keep the economy stable, protect the dollar, and expand foreign commerce.

"These areas where conflict exists between private interests and government interest must be met by all of us who care for our country," Kennedy said.

The President said there never again need be such events as his recent crackdown on the steel industry's attempted price increase—providing all forces join in achieving noninflationary profits and wage increases within bounds of productivity increases.

Kennedy, assuring the business leaders there can be no prosperity without profits, received heavy applause at the end of his 20 minute address.

NOT AS POPULAR

But he was not interrupted by applause as was the retiring Chamber President Richard Wagner who followed the chief executive with a talk defending the steel price increase the President crushed 2½ weeks ago.

In his first speech to any business organization since he served steel industry to withdraw its April price increase—a move widely criticized in industry—Kennedy assured the 4,000 businessmen, delegates and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

Instead, he said, the government is trying to develop a climate in which there is cooperation of the several segments of the economy, and in which the free forces of competition will serve to prevent inflation from damaging the dollar and inflating prices to consumers.

Kennedy was greeted with a rising ovation as he entered Constitution Hall, but many of the delegates did not join in the applause.

But he quickly produced laughter with an observation that he was pleased to see that the chamber had chosen for its new president a man from Massachusetts.

Then he added with a smile: "I don't know how widely that view is shared here."

COMPLIMENTS CHAMBER

Kennedy complimented the chamber on its 50 years of service, declaring that the establishment (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Birds Like Twitter of Plane Motor

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—A high-pitched twitter, comparable to the sound of crickets in late summer, may have caused the 1960 crash of an airliner in Boston.

The Federal Aviation Agency's Civil Aeronautics Research Institute here has reached that conclusion after a two-year study of the apparent affinity between starlings and Lockheed Electra aircraft.

The crash Oct. 4, 1960 killed 62 persons. Starlings—small birds that fly in flocks and feed on insects—were found in the Electra's turbo-prop engines.

The institute's report said ingestion of a sufficient number of birds could stop an engine.

It wasn't the first time Electra had been bothered by starlings, the institute said. Several times before the Boston crash, Electras were forced to avoid flights because of ingestion of the birds.

SUSPECTED TROUBLE

After the Boston crash institute researchers began to think there was something in the aircraft engine areas attracting the starlings, said Dr. Stanley Mohler, director, and researcher John Swearingen in their report.

The white produced by the aircraft's engines contains a highly polished tuff that sounds like a mixture of crickets, the investigators said.

Muslims Held in Gun Battle

One Man Killed and 13 Hurt in Clash With Los Angeles Police

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Twenty-two members of the extremist Black Muslim cult will be arraigned Wednesday on charges stemming from a blazing gun battle with police last weekend in which one man was killed and 13 injured.

Seven police officers were injured, one by gunfire, and six members of the cult were shot. Four of the six were critically wounded. Dead was Robert Stokes, 28, Los Angeles, identified by police as one of the Black-acted Muslims.

About 50 Muslims and an equal number of police were involved in the street battle by the time it reached a climax shortly after midnight arrested.

Most of the 22 Muslims arrested were booked on charges of assault with intent to commit murder.

SHOT POLICEMAN
The battle erupted after two policemen stopped to question two men involved in selling suits near the local headquarters of the Muslim group. Patrolman Frank Tomlinson said one of the men became belligerent and bystanders joined the altercation which followed.

One of the men took patrolman Stanley Kent's gun and shot Tomlinson in the left arm.

Police reinforcements converged on the scene and other Black Muslims came rushing from their headquarters.

By the time police restored order after the one-hour battle, a crowd of nearly 200 spectators had gathered. Tomlinson and two other police officers were hospitalized and reported in satisfactory condition today. The other four policemen were treated and released.

Boy Critically Hurt by Falling Tree Limb

INKSTER (AP)—A 3-year-old boy was in critical condition today after having been struck on the head by a falling tree limb in a city park.

Police said Raymond Travis was in the park yesterday with his mother, Mrs. Norma Travis, and was sliding down a playground slide when two nearby trees cracked and fell.

Also injured was Walter Sanders of Plymouth, who heard the trees crack and attempted to pull Raymond off the slide. Sanders also was hospitalized.

Mrs. Emily Mosher, 65, of Plymouth, suffered slight cuts and was given first aid.

Police said the trees were rotted and may have been toppled by wind.

Angie Moore, who has lived at that address for 11 years, never heard of Mosher. The postcard says, merely, "A Merry Xmas & a Happy New Year." It is signed: "Sylvia & Ira."

Congress authorized setting aside ground in New York Harbor for the Statue of Liberty in 1871.

The situation was brought to a head when riders attacked the small Vietnamese border hamlet of Vinh Lac, killing 54. South Viet Nam says the raid was carried out by Cambodian frontier pirates with the assistance of Cambodian military units in the area.

Denies Charge
Cambodia denies the charges, saying there was no military activity in the area on its side of the border at the time of the raid.

While the tone of notes from both sides remains fairly cautious, the breach between Cambodia and widening with the possibility of diplomatic relations may be severed.

Cambodia broke relations with Thailand last fall after a long series of insults and incidents on both sides.

If Cambodia and South Viet Nam should break, the entire Indo-Chinese peninsula would be split down the middle from the 17th Parallel to the Gulf of Siam. In the west is pro-Western Thailand. In the center is the southern tongue of Laos, controlled by Communist forces and neutralist Cambodia. In the east is South Viet Nam.

ON CLOSING GAP
In the event of a general conflict in Indochina, anti-Communist forces might find themselves split apart by the central strip. Communist units with their enormous Soviet-operated supply bases in Southern Laos probably could make quick work of marching south through Cambodia, completely separating anti-Communist Thailand and South Viet Nam.

But many U.S. military advisers here concur with a common South Vietnamese view that closing of the Viet Nam-Cambodia frontier would help in the war against Communist guerrillas. South Viet Nam has long claimed the Viet Cong uses bases in Cambodia to launch hit and run attacks on Vietnamese government posts.

Cambodia and South Viet Nam have often served as havens for political refugees since the two states became independent of France in 1954.

Nearly half a million Vietnamese live in Cambodia, retaining their Vietnamese nationality. Probably an equal number of Cambodians live in Viet Nam, although under Vietnamese policy, all but 150 have taken Vietnamese citizenship.

Both countries accuse each other of mistreating each other's expatriates.

Alabama Goes to Polls Tuesday

To Nominate Governor, Senator and Others in Democratic Primary

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama, perhaps in record numbers, will cast ballots in a Democratic primary Tuesday for a governor, one U.S. senator, and a host of other officials.

Voters also will take the first step in a unique plan to eliminate one of the state's nine congressional districts by population changes.

Other officers to be nominated range from lieutenant governor to legislators and scores of lesser officers.

Voters also will elect a new state Democratic Executive Committee and settle the fate of eight constitutional amendments.

Keen interest in local and state races may attract a record number of voters. The record is 618,462 votes cast in the 1958 gubernatorial primary election.

Facial problems and the need for more money for schools kept the governor's race. All candidates made strong pledges to maintain segregation and to find new revenue for public schools.

The seven candidates for governor, in alphabetical order, are: Birmingham Police Commissioner Eugene Connor; state Sen. Ryan Dugan; former Gov. James E. Folsom, who is seeking an unprecedented third term; Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion; Bruce Henderson, Wayne Bodie Jennings, and former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace.

U.S. Sen. Lister Hill is seeking re-election. His opponents are Donald Hallmark of Montgomery and John Crommelin, a retired admiral.

Pilot Lands Plane in Field; Plans Take-Off on Road—GRAND HAVEN (UPI)—An East Detroit flier who safely landed a small plane, carrying three passengers, in an Ottawa County field was due to take off today from the U.S. 31 expressway.

John Parry, 39, put the plane down on a field on the John Kuhn farm in Spring Lake Township yesterday after becoming lost in a fog.

Parry and his three passengers were on their way from Grand Rapids to Muskegon in a small one-engine plane when the fog closed in.

State police said the plane would be towed out to the highway today and traffic halted while Parry took off.

The plane sustained only minor damage to the left wing and tail wheel.

Joint Space Exploration Is Movement Forward

Cooperation in space was vividly demonstrated recently at Cape Canaveral.

The spectacular but scientifically important launchings of unmanned satellites have a way of going largely unnoticed while public enthusiasm for Project Mercury and its seven astronauts is at a peak.

More than usual significance, however, attended this launching since it set a history-breaking record of being the first international satellite.

The 128-pound satellite, instrumented by Great Britain was fired into orbit miles above the earth by a United States rocket. It is designed to run for one year on sun power and will aid the study of cosmic rays and the ionosphere.

Later this year, probably in the fall, a Canadian-built satellite is scheduled to be launched from the West Coast by an American-built rocket.

In all, 33 countries and seven political entities are involved in joint space exploration with the United States. Some 23 nations are sending scientists and technicians to the United States for special training in the space field.

This kind of cooperation gives credibility to President Kennedy's concrete proposal made March 17 for a broad program of joint U.S. and Soviet space projects.

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, has yet to demonstrate that it trusts anyone, even its own allies, enough to extend genuine cooperation in space exploration.

What Louisiana Thinks of Segregated Schools

A rather forthright example of just how some areas in the Deep South feel toward segregation was noted in an editorial from the Shreveport Journal in Louisiana.

The occasion for the editorial was a welcome for the editors of America's newspapers visiting in New Orleans. We are merely reprinting a portion of the editorial for our readers to see what some southerners stand for.

The editorial said in part:

"We would particularly like for our distinguished guests to have an opportunity to study all aspects of Louisiana's fine racially-segregated educational system. We would like for them to visit Louisiana's white and Negro schools and see for themselves the caliber of education available to all citizens. We would like for them to be impressed by the fact that the quality of facilities for white and Negroes is the same — that the pay scales for white and Negro teachers are equal — and that a great segment of our economy is geared to the role the Negro educator plays in our segregated society."

We feel reasonably certain that most editors like ourselves did not have time enough or linger long enough to inspect the school systems. Further we feel that Louisiana would have a hard time selling her philosophy to many visitors from the North.

Make Sure Your Craft Is Safe for Launching

Boat launching in Oakland County's many lakes is at hand, heralding another season afloat. Each year, as the lakes become more crowded, it is essential that boaters observe courtesy and safety measures.

One important point often overlooked in the warnings about safe operation is the basic fact that the boat must be seaworthy to begin with.

More than one water accident comes back to inadequate preparation prior to launching. In the rush to begin the season, essential maintenance can be overlooked with disastrous effects.

There have been many cartoons about boat owners who failed to insert drain plugs after having their boat laid up during the winter. But this still happens.

Putting the same old equipment aboard each year without checking its condition also can lead to trouble. Life jackets can wear out just as anything else. Steering controls must be in top condition.

An unsafe boat on the lakes is just as dangerous as a safe one with a reckless driver.

David Lawrence Says:

Voting Standards Are State Affair

WASHINGTON — An editorial in the New York "Times" on the subject of "qualifications" for voters has startled many of the constitutional lawyers of the country. The doctrine expressed is novel. It is that, when the 15th Amendment was adopted just after the Civil War, this action gave Congress an overriding power to fix voter qualifications.

According to the "Times" editorial, "The 15th Amendment says that the right to vote shall not be denied or abridged on account of race or color. And it gives Congress the power to enforce that sweeping command by appropriate legislation."

But, if this be true, lawyers are asking what was the meaning of the action taken — 43 years after the 13th Amendment was proclaimed — when the people of the United States in 1913 ratified the 17th Amendment.

Here is what the 17th Amendment says: "The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years and each senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures." This relates specifically to the sole right of the states to fix voter "qualifications." It is obvious that every voter must always be given a square deal and cannot be denied his chance to vote only because of race or color.

But to say that, because the Constitution has forbidden the states to discriminate, they have thereby lost their power to set what they, in their judgment, consider a proper qualification for voting, is to argue that a mere act of Congress now can amend the Constitution.

The "Times" editorial does concede that the states still have some powers left. It says:

"The bill would leave the states free to impose their own educational qualifications for voting. They could require three grades of schooling, or they could make voters have a college degree. Those are objective qualifications, applicable to white and Negro alike. What a state could no longer do is adopt the vague standard of 'literacy' and then apply it unequally to citizens of different color."

But the attorney general himself admits that he could prosecute such discrimination today under the 13th Amendment, though he frankly states that a Federal law would save him a lot of bother.

What the proponents of the new legislation before the Senate this week really are saying is that:

because they suspect the good faith of certain states and do not wish to take the trouble to prove in court that these state officers have exercised discrimination, the provisions of the Constitution which give the states the sole power to fix qualifications of voters can be ignored.

If, indeed, a state can fix a third-grade education or a college degree as a standard for qualification, it will be asked, Why doesn't a state have the constitutional power to determine and prescribe its own standards of "literacy" and to apply them equally to all persons?

But if Congress has the "ever-biding" right to fix "standards," then, in an endeavor to abolish racial discrimination in factories, a law could be enacted setting "efficiency" standards in employment based on a fixed number of years of experience in a particular trade or profession.

It could require an employer to hire, whenever there are enough applicants, at least one colored worker for every white employee. The argument could be made that "equal protection of the law" as set forth in the 14th Amendment overrides all other articles of the Constitution.

CAN GET AROUND IT

There are plenty of ways, however, to circumvent the Constitution if the public is indifferent and accept the doctrine that "the end justifies the means."

There is currently prevalent in some quarters a mood of impatience with the method of amending the Constitution prescribed in that document itself. As the New York "Times" says: "It is time to put aside specious legal arguments and consider the real issue before the Senate and before the country — the right of Negroes to vote."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

We Possess the Means to Prevent Tuberculosis

Some time ago, I reported a small epidemic of tuberculosis among school children whose bus driver proved to be the source of their infection. Of present concern is another epidemic that occurred in a British primary school and an outbreak aboard a U.S. Navy picket destroyer.

In the less serious British experience, the discovery of a farm of skin tuberculosis in 10 children led to a survey that revealed 23 additional infections in the school. Of these, 21 were in a single classroom. In this classroom, the source of the infection was thought to be a little girl who had been in contact with the infection for at least two years.

As a result of her presence, more than 40 per cent of her classmates gave positive reactions to tuberculin tests as against slightly over 10 per cent in the rest of the school.

All this might have been prevented if the little girl had been given simple treatment with an antibiotic course or if she had been vaccinated with BCG.

TRACED DOWN

In the case of the outbreak in our Navy, the source was presumably a young electrician who had been associated with a civilian friend, known to have had active tuberculosis, some four months previously.

Within a period of 18 months, the young electrician's infection had spread to involve 48 of the ship's complement of 526 enlisted men and officers.

As a result of the alertness and competence of the Naval Medical Department, the epidemic was brought to an abrupt halt.

Here are some of the lessons that have emerged from these disturbing experiences:

Tuberculosis may be acquired from inhalation of resistant tubercle bacilli even though there has been no direct person-to-person contact with the primary source.

Resistance to tuberculosis may be acquired by BCG vaccination in infancy provided that the vaccine produces a positive tuberculin reaction.

Persons whose tuberculin reaction converts from negative to positive, especially after known exposure to a person with proven active infection, may be protected by simple treatment with an anti-tuberculous pill.

And finally, the tubercle bacillus may be knocked to the curbs innumerable times by the powerful drugs now at hand. But until he is nailed in his coffin, he remains a dangerous foe.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-401: Alice and Fred are sister and brother, aged 16 and 15.

"But, Dr. Crane, they fight like cats and dogs," their worried mother protested unhappily.

"Each seems to think the other gets more favors from their Daddy and the, but that isn't true. We try to treat them alike."

"And they are," Dr. CRANE gets increasingly over who should go to the grocery store who is due to carry out the garbage, etc.

"They also find fault with each other, and actually seem to delight in being caustic or critical of one another."

"And can parents do to make their children act like adults?"

PREVIEW OF MARRIAGE

Alas, the behavior of Alice and Fred is but a preview of many marriages where husband and wife may even be 25 or 30 years apart.

Youngsters in the home are excessively eager to feel important. Previously I have told you that everybody has a tattoo across his chest that reads: "I want to feel important."

And there are two ways to gain this feeling of importance. The first and lastest reaction is to beat everybody else down below our own level.

That explains why it is natural to gossip and tell mean things about our neighbors. That's why of talking the other fellow's horn, and point out flaws in each other.

For the primitive and less intelligent method of appearing big is to belittle everybody else until we

Voice of the People: 'Water Skiing Is Excellent Means of Relaxation'

We need control of boating and water skiing, but skiing is just as relaxing as fishing. I'm recovering from a nervous breakdown and water skiing was recommended by several doctors as a means of rehabilitation. It must have a wonderful effect on the pent-up emotions of teen-agers and other active people.

I hope officials go easy when putting new boating laws into effect. We have enough juvenile and adult delinquents because of limited outlets for extra energy.

'Owner of Property Explains Situation'

Being the owner of the 15-acre parcel in the Pontiac Recreation Area, I feel the interest of "Too Sick to Lie" was well-founded, and the questions intelligent. But the answer from Mr. Wigg was of a personal nature. When he made reference to "the owner's actions," and the lack of jurisdiction over these actions, I feel he would like people to think that I am a berk-zerk woodchuck.

At three different times between 1967 and 1969 I offered to trade the state this 15 acres for an equal amount of state-owned land adjacent to my gravel pit on Gale Road. This state-owned parcel contains about 5 acres of swamp, 6 or 7 trees and a hill that couldn't support a chipmunk. But the state refused to deal and the reason was "the gravel value on their land was greater than the timber value on mine."

I guess the conservation department has gone in the gravel business.

The Press is doing its readers a service by publishing David Lawrence's column.

If some readers want to be lulled into complacency by glib words and promises of party politicians and "Pie-in-the-Sky" writers, then they shouldn't read David Lawrence.

'How About Helping the Unemployed?'

The picture in The Press showing Lewis Boyd and his family makes me sick. My husband has been a provider for 26 of our 28 years of marriage. He has been a laid off car hauler for more than a year. He has run out of unemployment compensation and is unable to find a job. We have lost our home, truck, hospitalization, insurance, etc. He is 54 years old and can still do an honest day's work. We have an 8 and 11 year old still at home. For years he has paid in a lot of income tax. Why can't something be done for him and others like him or do they want to change their color? Do you suppose if he were sent to New Orleans the White Citizens Council would find him a job?

'Give Consideration to School Election'

Waterford Township taxpayers will soon be faced with electing two school board members. I hope serious consideration will be given by the voters. Your children's education and the school system in which they are being educated are at stake. Let's get some members who will act, not just accept recommendations.

Also, why can a special school board meeting be called without public notice? Who calls these meetings and why are the residents not informed through the papers?

Today is Monday, April 30, the 120th day of the year with 245 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1789, a great crowd assembled in New York to watch and hear George Washington take the oath of office as the first U.S. president.

In 1803, the U.S. made the "Louisiana Purchase," and more than doubled its physical area by purchasing from Napoleon all of the French territory west of the Mississippi River.

In 1900, Casey Jones, the "brave engineer" of the famous American folk song, was killed when his train collided with the back end of a freight train.

In 1945, Nazi dictator Adolf Hitler committed suicide in a bunker in Berlin.

A thought for the day: French Emperor Napoleon Bonaparte said: "From the sublime to the ridiculous is but a step."

make them seem little and below par.

This antagonism or daily family fighting is thus typical of juveniles, even in the best regulated families. It has occurred in ours, too, for children pick on each other automatically.

TEST OF ADULTHOOD

The true test of an emotional adult, however, is how well he curbs this childish tendency to fight with his companions and substitutes the "compliment club" technique.

In my public addresses before more than 2,000,000 of you American high schoolers, I have told you that popularity depends on your skill in playing a certain musical instrument.

"Toot the other fellow's horn, instead of your own," is my advice.

You laugh when I surprise you with that simple axiom of applied psychology, but I've done dozens more miracles than Aladdin's lamp or the "open sesame" formula.

For when you curb your juvenile tendency to scold or criticize and belittle, you are growing up.

And when you then toot the other fellow's horn with no boast, you make him so happy and delighted that soon he will awkwardly reach over and toot your horn with a lot of grace.

So you both get your horns tooted under this new and magical strategy. And now you like each other instead of quarreling.

Friendships and later romances will develop from this technique of tooting the other fellow's horn.

HORN TOOTING

So I urged the mother of Alice and Fred to start them on this new form of music lesson in which

'Venereal Disease Up Among U. S. Teens'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan public health expert told an education meeting Saturday there has been a recent increase of venereal disease among teen-agers, largely in low-income minority groups.

Dr. Frank W. Reynolds, associate professor of public health administration, made the report to a meeting of Pi Lambda Theta, an organization of women in education.

Dr. Reynolds said the increase results from relaxation in venereal disease control at a time "when we are witnessing a social phenomenon the magnitude of which few people fully realize." He identified this as "the northern migration and urbanization of the rural Southern Negro."

Dr. Reynolds said teen-agers likely to contract disease are generally apathetic toward school, don't go to church and have little interest in working. He said teachers should be alert to this as a means of checking the spread of disease.

U.S. Fallout Like Glow From Night Clock

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK — A naggle friend dropped in with the following:

The amount of fallout occasioned by the current U.S. tests will be roughly to that given off by a new glow-in-the-night clock.

We had to resume the testing for a very simple reason: Not one of the missiles on which we are spending billions perfecting and producing has ever been tested with a real McCoy war head.

The Air Force is concerned about that day — not too many years away — when most of its striking power will be missiles sitting in their silos.

Their ground crews will have little or nothing to do, no engines to tinker with, nothing to polish, no tires to change or fuel to add.

The problem is how to keep those crews sharp. Three suggestions under consideration: Let them use their working hours studying for an additional university degree; surprise them at odd times by unannounced inspections; let them shoot one every now and then from their regular silos, not from Canaveral or Vandenberg.

There has been a breakdown in efforts to raise the ransom for the man Castro is holding in his prisons. A Cuban exile friend informs us:

"Opinions on the ransom deal, among exiles, are very much divided. There are those who find it only human to strive to raise the money — even the $62 million — and there are those who reject blackmail and question the wisdom of strengthening Cuban communism.

"The latter seem to constitute the unquestionable majority, and thus the chances of raising the money are poor. Even the comparatively small sum of nearly $5 million in cash to pay for the 60-odd badly injured prisoners already released isn't easily being gathered."

We're developing into a nation of bad spellers and worse readers, and the Reading Reform Foundation, of 38 West 44th Street, NYC, has undertaken the colossal job of turning the tide.

The aim of the organization, whose president is the former Davis Cup star Watson Washburn, is "to restore the alphabet to its proper place as the basis of elementary reading instruction in English."

It says its on the "look-say" or whole word method now so prevalent in our schools, and I couldn't agree more heartily. Back to the ABCs!

Preliminary publicity regarding Burt Lancaster's new picture,
"Bird-Man of Alcatraz," indicates that the "heavy" in the script is James V. Bennett, Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons for many years.

Bennett consistently resisted efforts to spring Robert Stroud, old-time murderer, from solitary confinement.

Stroud, whose part Lancaster plays, has been in prison for 53 years, 43 in solitary.

In those years he, whose schooling ended in the third grade, has become learned in several languages and wrote an authoritative book on bird diseases.

We asked a police friend why such profound punishment, and he gave a policeman's answer: "He killed a cop."

Seems like yesterday — but it was March 11, 1957 — that Tex Johnston of Boeing took a bunch of us across the country from Seattle to Baltimore in the first 707 in the fine time of three hours and 48 minutes, an average of 813

m.p.h.

Since that day, Boeing jets have set more than 500 speed records in worldwide operations; most of them of the broken and rebroken caliber.

But the Seattle-Baltimore march has never been molested, and perhaps for one reason: Nobody seems to have flown nonstop between those two cities since 1957.

Beauty Salon Closes

OTTAWA (AP) — For lack of business, the parliamentary beauty salon, opened at the request of Niagara Falls liberal MP Judy
La Marsh, has closed after operating for four months. Clients were able to Baltimore in the first 707
in the fine time of three hours and

To Practice at Home

CAIRO (AP) — The touring prime minister of Singapore, Lee Kuan Yew, was introduced to croquet by a student group at Port Said with what was described as indifferent success. But as a consolation prize he was given a set of mallets, balls, wickets and stakes to practice with at home.

Death and Other Problems Plague Algeria Every Day

ALGIERS (AP) — There was nothing unusual about the two Moslem youths riding a motor scooter into a downtown street in the European sector.

They looked around nervously—as do all Moslems in European neighborhoods—when the traffic backed up and forced them to stop.

It was with a sigh of relief they buzzed off again—but they didn't get 10 yards. Five shots rang out. The first hit the youth on the rear seat squarely in the back of the head and he flopped to the street like a limp discolor.

The driver was hit in the neck and shoulders. He and the scooter tumbled into a heap. The motor ran wide open for a minute and sputtered out.

TRAFFIC KEEPS GOING

Traffic kept moving. European men, women and children peered at the bodies from car windows.

Only when the bodies blocked a city bus did some off-duty soldiers drag the scooter to the side of the street and the bodies to the other. One soldier used a folded newspaper to keep his hands clean.

They searched the victims' pockets for arms, but did not find any.

A small, quiet crowd of European spectators assembled before police arrived.

"They are Moslems," the word spread.

Oh well," said someone, "They should know better than to come here. Don't they know we're trying to clean up this town?"

No one saw the killer. No one ever sees the killer.

Reds Study Medicine

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, says the Soviet Union has a record 180,000 students taking various types of medical training.

Pilfering Pay Phones

TOKYO (AP)—Japan Telephone and Telegraph Corp., plagued by thieves breaking into public pay phones, is installing special burglar alarms in the phones. The company said there were 95 cases of pilfering last year.

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — They were dancing the twist in an Oran night club. During a pause a pretty dark-haired girl said:

"Imagine — they have no more blue bikinis my size. They say they do not import them from France any more."

The music drowned out the sound of machine-gun volleys but time was pressing — the club was to close at 8:30 p.m., because of the curfew.

On the wall outside, letters scribbled in red proclaimed that OAS, the initials of the Secret Army Organization, mean order, safety, security (ordre, avenir, securite).

There were 100 dead in the city's morgue, most of them Moslems who died of hunger, disease or bullets of secret army terrorists.

"MORGUE IS TERRIBLE"

"Yes, the morgue is terrible," said a high police official. "You see, if the army gave us escorts we would bury them faster. But the army says it cannot spare the men."

"We are helpless," he continued. "We cannot investigate terrorist attacks any more. Everyone fires on my inspectors — the army, the Europeans and the Moslems. All we can do now is direct traffic and issue identity cards."

In the shaded Place de la Bastille, the heart of European Oran, elderly couples sat on wooden benches. They left when firing broke out around the square but turned right after it died out.

"It is idiotic, this curfew," said one elderly man. "The evenings are so warm now."

On the waterfront, boulevard, steel-helmeted French gendarmes waved on the traffic while firing toward distant rooftops.

"This problem upsets me," concluded the girl in the night club. "Surely there must be someone who could bring a blue bikini from the civilized world. You see, I look best in blue on the beach."

Cyrogenics is the science dealing with temperatures below 300 degrees Fahrenheit. The name comes from a Greek word meaning "icy cold."

Fireman Among 11 Dead in State Traffic

An Oscoda County volunteer fireman, killed in a fire truck accident near Reed City Sunday, was one of 11 persons who died in highway mishaps in Michigan during the weekend.

Also among the victims were two men who were killed in a motorcycle-car collision near Grand Rapids.

A Shiawassee County farmer, killed in a fall from a railroad trestle, was the state's only reported nontraffic victim.

The Associated Press count of weekend traffic fatalities began Friday at 6 p. m. and ended Sunday at midnight.

TRAFFIC
Edwin C. Parker, 37, of Route 1, Leroy, was killed in a fire truck mishap near Reed City Sunday afternoon. State police said the truck apparently rolled over him after its brakes failed and it ran off the road. The truck was answering a false alarm.

Richard Culey, 23, of Route 6, Charlotte, was hurt fatally Sunday in a two-car collision at M2E and Dexter Trail in Ingham County.

Alvin Bednarek, 46, of Garden City died Sunday of injuries sustained in a two-car crash on M162 near Bad Axe in Huron County.

James Webb, 65, of Detroit was killed Sunday when the car in which he was a passenger hit a utility pole on the westbound Edsel Ford Expressway in Detroit.

Lee Groenewald, 21, of Grand Rapids and Roger Cole, 21, of Dorr were killed Saturday when their motorcycle collided head-on with a car in Byron Township, just south of Grand Rapids.

Sandra Parks, 4, of Detroit was struck and killed by a car on a street near her home Saturday. Police said the driver, Gerald Poe, 26, of Detroit was held for investigation.

Moses Joseph, 26, of Hubbard Lake died Sunday in an Alpena hospital of injuries suffered Friday night. His car struck a tree on a rural road in Alpena County.

Maurice Marshall, 28, of Ypsilanti was injured fatally early Sunday when his car missed a curve on a road between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and hit a tree.

Anna Danyliczenka, 17, of Detroit was killed Saturday when the car in which she was a passenger crashed into a bridge abutment in Dearborn Township.

Orville Henry, 49, of Kalamazoo was struck by a car and killed Sunday night in Kalamazoo.

George Battleshaw, 44, of Farwell was injured fatally Sunday night when his car was side-swiped on a Gilmore Township road in Isabella County.

MISCELLANEOUS
John Herbert Townsend, 51, a Shiawassee County farmer, was killed early Saturday in a fall from a railroad trestle while walking home from an auto accident. A coroner's jury ruled he died of a broken neck.

Milk-Drinking Honors Go to Irish Nation

ROME (U)—The Irish are the world's top milk drinkers, says the Food and Agriculture Organization in milk consumption statistics released Saturday.

The FAO committee on commodity problems, meeting here to discuss world dairy problems and how to adjust supply and demand, said Ireland consumes 637 kilograms (1,401.4 pounds) per person each year.

That puts the Irish ahead of Britain, the United States, France, Germany and Austria — each of whose citizens drinks 300 to 400 kilograms (660 to 880 pounds) of milk and milk products yearly. Right behind Ireland are Finland (623 kilograms or 1,392.6 pounds), New Zealand (601 kilograms or 1,322.2 pounds), and Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Canada and Australia (more than 400 kilograms or 880 pounds).

He who finds he has something to sell

And goes and whippers it down a well,

Is not so apt to reap the dollars

As he who climbs a tree and HOLLERS.

... and the very best way to "HOLLER" profitably...

Members of Pontiac City Panhellenic Association are busy with last-minute preparations for Sunday's annual tea for prospective college girls and their mothers. Checking "Speaking of Sorority" pamphlets at a committee meeting are (from left) Mrs. George R. Yansen and Mrs. Robinson L. Bronson, who are tea co-chairmen, Mrs. Cecil H. Myers and Rosamond Haebler, incoming Panhellenic president.

Panhellenic Unit Plans

Set Tea for Coeds-to-Be

Pontiac City Panhellenic Association members are completing arrangements for their annual tea for prospective college girls and their mothers. The affair is slated Sunday at 3 p.m. in First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland's building.

Mrs. Russell T. Costello of Pine Lake Drive will be guest speaker for the afternoon. National Panhellenic delegate and a past national Delta Zeta Sorority president, Mrs. Costello will talk about college and sorority life.

Several area college students also will be on hand to model clothes worn on campus and answer questions about sororities at their schools.

All senior girls from Pontiac, Waterford, Clarkston and surrounding areas have been invited to attend the tea and to bring their mothers.

Mrs. Robinson L. Bronson and Mrs. George Yansen are tea co-chairmen. Their committee chairmen include Mrs. Howard Owen, display; Rosamond Haebler, music; Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm, decorations; and Mrs. John Irwin, name tags.

Others helping are chairmen Mrs. Richard Kuhn, publicity; John VanTassel, school newspapers; and Mrs. Robert Crandall, school lists.

Chairman of refreshments is Mrs. Philip Stomberg, assisted by Mrs. Richard Broster, Mrs.

Glenn Cheek, Mrs. Howard Dell, Mrs. Thomas Shearer, Mrs. Arthur Bentley, Mrs. Andre DeWilde and Mrs. Charles Smith.

Chairman of the clean-up committee is Mrs. W. H. Ragsdale, assisted by Mrs. Wayne

J. Patterson. Working on the program committee are Mrs. Wayne Pyke, chairman, and Mrs. Crandall. Invitation committee workers are Mrs. John O'Brien, chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Freymuth and Mrs. William Belaney.

Huron Gardens Extension Club Elects Officers

The Huron Gardens Extension Club elected officers following a cooperative dinner in the home of Mrs. Walter Lehman of Tilden Avenue.

Mrs. Howard Reynolds is incoming chairman; Mrs. Norman Brown, vice chairman; Mrs. Leo Hould and Mrs. Robert Shaw, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Kohn, treasurer; and chairmen Mrs. Romeo Gubbar, publicity; Mrs. Jerry Hould and Mrs. Harry Ales, recreation; and Mrs. Levi Geasler, flowers.

The lesson on "Upholstered Furniture Facts" was conducted by Mrs. Gerald Wright.

Hostess for the May 31 meeting will be Mrs. Reynolds of Boston Avenue.

Glamorous Grooming

Cologne and perfume can be as important to good grooming as your make-up requires, according to a well-known beauty authority.

Most people like to be around someone who is wearing a pleasant fragrance, and the user always feels fresher and more glamorous.

Many women, however, feel that wearing a perfume or cologne during the day at home or at work is out of place. This is not so, especially if an appropriate, light scented fragrance is worn.

Besides giving you that well-groomed feeling, a fragrance can give you a mental and physical "pick-me-up."

If you are at work all day, carry a purse dispenser of cologne or perfume in your handbag.

A Kiss Is a Kiss Is a Kiss

By ANGAH, VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live in Anchorage, Alaska, and can tell you "Eskimos" reader that Eskimos do rub noses to show affection, but it is no substitute for a kiss. Also, please tell your readers that we do not live in igloos.

The only igloo I ever saw was in a picture book and I am 42 years old.

ANCHORAGE RESIDENT
DEAR ABBY: Take it from a GI who spent a year in Greenland: The only nose I rubbed among the Eskimos was my own.

"COLD PROPOSITION"
DEAR ABBY: Yes, the Eskimos do rub noses instead of kissing for common sense reasons. It is so cold that if they kissed, their lips would get stuck together.

BUZZIE (Age 11)
DEAR ABBY: May I quote Peter Freuchen, a Dane, and the foremost authority on Eskimos and their customs: "A standard of beauty among the Eskimos is the nose. Eskimos do not kiss. They rub noses in greeting, but there is never any pressing of the lips together, not even when they meet, girl."

(signed) "NOSEY"
DEAR ABBY: The Eskimos do not rub noses instead of kissing. Years ago, when the TB epidemic was a threat among the Eskimos, they avoided kissing for reasons of health. But now they kiss like any other people.

"OLD FUR TRADER"

DEAR ABBY: I am a retired Coast Guardman who was assigned to the Alaska Seal Patrol for 13 years. We traveled so far west we were actually going east all the way out to the Siberian Pribilof Islands. Eskimos do rub noses when they meet, but it's man-to-man, man-to-woman, brother-to-sister and all sorts of combinations. It is more like a handshake than a kiss.

RETIREE SEAMAN

DEAR ABBY: Thank you. I am so glad to know that a kiss is still a kiss.

For a personal (unpublished) reply to your problem, send Abby a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Small Party at Home Is Better

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: A relative of mine, aged 17, eloped three months ago. Her parents have just found out that she is married and expecting a baby. They are making plans to give a reception in a public hall, inviting about 200 people. A friend is also planning to give a shower for her.

I think, under the circumstances, the reception and shower are out of order and will leave the family open to criticism. Will you please give your opinion concerning this matter?

A: A large reception would be in questionable taste, but there is no reason why the bride's parents may not give a small reception at home in honor of their daughter's marriage and invite relatives and closest friends. It will be best to dispense with a bridal shower; later on, her friend could give a stork shower instead.

Q: My husband and I were married 25 years when I divorced him. After living apart for two years, we realized our mistake and were remarried. Next month we will have been married 25 years — that is, counting the two years we were separated. I would like to know if, under the circumstances, it would be proper to have a party of some kind to celebrate the occasion, even though we did not actually live together for 25 years.

A: It will be quite proper to ignore the two unhappy years you were separated and celebrate the 25th anniversary of your original wedding day.

Q: What are the proper greetings to the bride and groom at their wedding reception? Also, what is one supposed to say to the parents?

A: Congratulate the bridegroom and wish the bride happiness. Make some polite remark to the parents, such as: "How lovely the bride is," or "What a charming couple they make," etc.

Do you find it difficult to eat spaghetti? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Square Dance Club Elects New Officers

The Allemanders Square Dance Club elected officers for 1962-3 at Saturday's dance, the last of the season.

Taking office in September will be Noble Meredith, president; Clifford Brackett, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Napier, treasurer; and Mrs. Albert King, secretary.

Club caller Sam Joan will soon announce a schedule for "Summer Squares" at the Waterford Community Center.

1st Baptist Pastor to Address WCTU

Rev. Robert Shelton, new pastor at the First Baptist Church, will speak before the Pontiac Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, May 22 in the Church of the Brethren on Roselawn Avenue.

A workshop on cancer screenings and lap robes preceding next week's luncheon meeting in the home of Mrs. Helen R. Joseph of North Jessie Street. Mrs. Ray Fleming gave the afternoon program and devotion.

Sharon McRae Plans to Wed George Palaian

The engagement of Sharon Ruth McRae to George K. Palaian was announced at a dinner party Saturday in the Rochester home of his sister and brother-in-law, the Nazar Melkonians.

The Willard L. McRae, Sylvan Lake, are parents of the bride-elect, a senior at the Highland Park Graduate School of Nursing. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Steve Palaian of Lowell Street and the late Mr. Palaian.

Attendees at the December wedding will be Helen Jane Spack, Sylvan Lake, honor maid; Sharon Clark, McClintock Drive, West Bloomfield Township, and Mary Sue Dahlgren, Sylvan Lake, will be bridesmaids, and Eve Palaian, junior attendant.

Among the 75 relatives from Bay City, Lansing and Detroit at the party was Mrs. Guy Platt, Port Sanilac, grandmother of the bride-elect.

Business Women's Unit Makes Donation to Family Life Agency

Pontiac Business and Professional Women have made a contribution to one aspect of Family Service of Oakland County's program which is not supported through monies received by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

This is the Family Life Education program of the agency, geared to help prevent families from having problems which become so serious that professional help of the casework staff is necessary.

GROUP'S WORK
Family Life Education discussion sessions are led by a professional staff member and they deal with subject matters concerned with family life: such areas as understanding normal problems of childhood development; how to handle certain aspects of child behavior problems; understanding and dealing with the adolescent; problems of marital adjustment; and the "second forty years."

Discussion groups have been formed within the community and the agency has provided the professional leadership. The cost has been paid out of special funds from groups such as the Business and Professional Women.

PARTICIPANTS AIDED
Individuals attending the Family Life Education sessions bring in any of their questions under the areas discussed. They also learn how other participants have handled similar problems. The professional leader's understanding enables them to handle problems in a more beneficial way.

The money received from the Business and Professional Women of Pontiac will be used to give leadership to a group that is unable to provide the cost themselves.

Mrs. H. Anne Stapp, president of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, endorses a contribution club members have donated to Family Service of Oakland County's family life

Education program. Approving look-on are Robert Jones, director of FSC, and Mrs. Leo McDonald, BPW vice president.

Women's Section Solemnize Hansen-Baker Rites

A reception in Pine Lake Country Club followed the candlelight nuptials of Judith Ann Baker to William R. Hansen spoken before Rev. Galen Hershey Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

Daughter of Mrs. Harry T. Baker of Navajo Drive and the late Mr. Baker, the bride was given in marriage by her brother James. The Lawrence Hansens of Pontiac Road are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride wore white silk organza over tulle with beaded Alencon lace accenting the bateau neckline and hip yokes above the chapel train. A lace shell cap caught her veil of silk illusion and she held white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Gail Blaney of Birmingham served as maid of honor with bridesmaids Lynne Benter, Bonnie Meade of Jackson; Barbara Nicholls of Rocky River, Ohio, and Mrs. A. Scott Koeze, Grand Rapids.

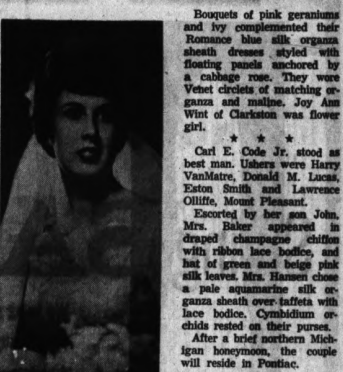

To 'Set' Tables

"America the Beautiful" will be the theme for an exhibit of table settings and flower arrangements by some 140 members of the Michigan Division, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Wednesday and Thursday at Wright Kay and Co., in downtown Detroit.

In appreciation of the efforts expended to make this showing a success, Wright Kay has presented a $1,000 award to the Division for its Camp Kett Fund. Camp Kett is a 4-H Club training center for youth leaders.

Presidents of WNF&G branches Hilda E. Robert, Mrs. Clifford T. Ekelund of the Pontiac Branch will be an honorary patroness. Pontiac Branch members exhibiting will be Mrs. C. J. Gately, Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell, Mrs. W. F. Maybury, Mrs. John H. Peterson and Mrs. Robert G. Le-gris.

A Thanksgiving dinner table entered by Mrs. Gately will feature a brown net tablecloth with felt applique of fruits and vegetables, handmade by Mrs. L. Warren Gately. A fruit centerpiece will complete the arrangement.

MRS. WILLIAM R. HANSEN

White flowers in a white Roy-

Boquets of pink geraniums and joy complemented their Romanesque blue silk organza sheath dresses styled with floating panels anchored by a cabbage rose. They were finest circles of matching organza and tulle. Joy Ann Wint of Clarkston was flower girl.

Carl E. Code Jr. stood as best man. Ushers were Harry VanMatre, Donald M. Lucas, Eaton Smith and Lawrence Clifton, Mount Pleasant.

Escorted by her son John, Mrs. Baker appeared in draped champagne chiffon with ribbon lace bodice, and hat of green and beige pink silk leaves. Mrs. Hansen chose a pale aquamarine silk organza sheath over tulle with lace bodice. Cymbidium orchids rested on their purses.

After a brief northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will reside in Pontiac.

Beaumont Service Unit to Meet

Members of the Women's Service Committee of William Beaumont Hospital will hold their annual meeting and officers' installation following a luncheon at the Birmingham Country Club May 11.

Hospital Director Owen R. Pinkerman will conduct the installation service for the following officers:

Mrs. E. E. Tompkins, president; Mrs. Harace Shank-wiler, first vice president; Mrs. Keith Tomlin, second vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Forster, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Bishop, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William Menewick, treasurer. All are from Birmingham.

Other officers are Mrs. Elery Laidlaw, financial secretary; Royal Oak; Mrs. Keith Bliss, parliamentary, Franklin; and Mrs. Lewis Webb, immediate past president, Huntington Woods.

Directors who will be installed officers are Robert Maxwell, Mrs. William Moore and Mrs. Duncan McCallum, all of Birmingham.

Among the retired directors who will be honored are Mrs. Robert Calver, Mrs. Lyman Craig Jr. and Mrs. Ross Hansen, all of Birmingham.

Concert Set for May 16

The Pontiac Women's Chorus will present the annual spring concert, May 16, at 8:15 p.m. in Pontiac Central High School auditorium. George Scott is director and Charles Willis, accompanist.

The group, sponsored by Pontiac Parks and Recreation, presented a concert last week at Pontiac State Hospital.

Secretaries Attend Workshop

Secretaries, commercial students, teachers and office personnel from Oakland and neighboring counties attended the sixth annual secretarial workshop Saturday at Michigan State University Oakland.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International, the one-day program was designed to supply fresh views on the variety of problems facing women in business.

Entitled, "Walk Worthy of Your Profession," the program was also designed to create a desire for further knowledge in the largest association for women in one profession.

Officers attending from the Pontiac Chapter were: Theresa McVeigh, president; Mary Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Laverne Markelwitz, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Garland Woody, recording secretary; and Mrs. Carl Cronk, right, treasurer.

Miss McVeigh extended a welcome to the group from the chapter along with Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, institute coordinator, who greeted guests on behalf of MSUO.

Following the morning session, James Dickerson, assistant director of continuing education at MSUO spoke on "The Secretary, A Valuable Citizen."

Robert J. Kock, director, office management division Michigan hospital service, followed with a talk on "A Planning Program for Making the Secretary More Effective."

Secretaries and their guests visited office equipment displays and attended a luncheon where Mrs. Cronkright, 1961 Secretary of the Year of Oakland County, was honored.

Closing the afternoon session was Margaret McInerney, certified professional secretary, education chairman Michigan division of NSA, whose topic was "Going Our Way?"

Members of the workshop committee included: Mary Johnson, reservations; Mrs. Cronkright, finance; Mrs. Russell Brackett, publicity; Mrs. Laverne Markelwitz and Mrs. Joseph Tessmer, decorations.

Also serving were: Mrs. Warren Trevelthan, Mrs. Michael Keren and Mrs. Thurlie Riggie, exhibits; and Mrs. Ernest Kye Jr., Mrs. H. H. Young, Mary Hubbard, Mrs. John Duncan, Mrs. Daniel Bennett and Mrs. Cleatus Garner, mailing.

Design Lies on Function
No design can be successful until it can function properly, says talented designer Paul McCobb, in explaining his new line — 40 contemporary up-holstered pieces.

"One usually has the choice of two extremes in choosing seating. There are people who sell only comfort and build houses, and there are people who sell only the creations of the novelty designers and there is no comfort," he explains.

DESIGNS COMFORT
He has integrated design with comfort in the handsome, contemporary units of a group he calls Symmetrics. The group was displayed at the Chicago home furnishings market.

Extension Unit Names Officers for Coming Year
Twelve members of the Modern Homemakers' Extension Group met Wednesday evening in the Sylvan Lake home of Mrs. Roy Linn as officers were elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Lloyd Christian will serve as chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Hoskins, vice chairman; Mrs. Gerald Fredericksen, secretary; Mrs. Richard Hoban, project leader; Mrs. Linn, reporter and historian; Mrs. Emerson Brown, community chairman.

The lesson "Good Values in Upholstered Furniture" was taught by Mrs. Harold McAllister who will be hostess for the May meeting in her home at Union Lake.

Letters were read from the "magazine friends" in Pakistan and Indonesia.

Mrs. Kenneth Gilboa, Pontiac district representative to the council, was a guest.

Presbyterian Unit Meets for Lunch
The Women's Guild of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church met Thursday for a cooperative luncheon and cancer sewing session. Hostesses were Mrs. Gay Carwell and Mrs. Marion Brown.

Police officers in Italy and industrial research in the U.S. particularly in Rome, are required to be able to speak one or more foreign languages.

Sheila Kinder Weds

Miniature white calla lilies rested on the white prayer book held by Sheila Darlene Kinder as she exchanged vows and rings with Richard A. Binn Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church. Rev. C. George Wildfield performed the candlelight ceremony.

Triple tiers of silk illusion held by a jeweled crown billowed over her gown of white silk tulle. Alencon lace, touched with pearls accentuated the scoop neckline and was repeated on the bouffant chapel-length skirt.

Parents of the bride are the Vanice Kinders of Carr Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arnold Binn of Monticello Street and the late Mr. Binn.

Bouquets of daffodils were held by Carol Anne Carr, maid of honor and Mrs. Roy Farmer, bridesmaid who wore apricot nylon sheer dresses.

On the esquire side were Roy Farmer, best man, with the bride's brother Dennis ushering with Harry Moore.

After greeting some 300 guests at the reception in Knights of Columbus Hall, the newlyweds left for a Florida honeymoon by way of the Blue Ridge Mountains. They will live in Indianapolis. Mr. Binn is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Mrs. Kinder chose a royal blue tulle sheath dress for the wedding. The mother of the bride groom appeared in a two-piece dress of soft green silk shantung.

Valentine-Harrell Vows Wed in Evening Rites

A reception at Saginaw Country Club followed candlelight vows of Judith Ann Harrell to Christopher M. Valentine Saturday evening in St. Matthews Episcopal Church, Saginaw. Rev. Lewis Towler officiated.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. James Harrell, was maid of honor. Mrs. Jo Harrell attended her sister as bridesmaid, with Alice Jeffers of Muir.

Robert C. Pace, Clarkson, stood as best man. Guests were seated by Louis H. Harrell, Detroit, Robert Johnson, Birch Run, and James Harrell.

The new Mrs. Valentine is a junior at Michigan State University where her husband received his degree. He is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Interlochen Adds More Woodwinds

INTERLOCHEN — A resident woodwind quintet composed of well known concert performers is the latest addition to the permanent faculty of the new Interlochen Arts Academy, according to Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, president of the academy.

The quintet includes Ramona Dahlberg, flutist; Don T. Jaeger, oboist; Fred E. Ormand, clarinetist; Donald Wayne Haddad, hornist; and Melinda Dalley, bassoonist.

Miss Dahlberg is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, and has been an instructor at both Juilliard and Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. She has performed with the Yale University Symphony and has given recitals in Town Hall and Carnegie Hall in New York.

The other four are first chair players with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra and members of the Amarillo College Woodwind Quintet which has also made concert appearances in New York and throughout the country.

With Miss Dahlberg they will continue doing concert performances as the Interlochen Woodwind Quintet in addition to teaching at the arts academy. Dr. Maddy said he also plans to have a resident string quartet for concert appearances.

Most key positions on the arts academy faculty have now been filled, he added. Heading the academy's science department will be a British scientist, John Charles Ringe, graduate of Trinity College, Oxford, England and exchange teacher of science at Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, New Hampshire.

The academy, which opens next September, is a specialized school for gifted students of high school age. It will offer a full college preparatory course but with emphasis on music and the arts.

You Can Do It

Nine Pounds Off in 9 Days

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Once upon a time molasses and sulphur were given to a victim of spring fever. Today, a new, flowered hat and a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds is the more modern prescription and much more effective.

So many women hover around a truly lovely figure, but always remain a few pounds away from it. This seems a shame because those few pounds can be lost so quickly, once a woman makes up her mind.

Since we become especially figure conscious in the spring of the year (because nature is redecorating herself and because summer is only a short time away), I let you my 9-day reducing diet at about this time each year.

In case you do not know about this quickie reducing plan, you can lose from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days if you will follow the menus which will appear in this column each day for nine days. You will be given the menus for the following day so that you can shop ahead of time.

Here are the menus for tomorrow:

BREAKFAST
Half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, black coffee

MID MORNING
Glass of tomato juice
Glass of tomato juice

DINNER
One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans
One glass skimmed milk, one apple

If you would like to have my complete 9-day diet in a small booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

LUNCHEON
Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing, 1 slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)
One glass skimmed milk
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast

MID AFTERNOON
Glass of tomato juice

DINNER
One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans

Human Error Still Major Problem

Complex Air Traffic Control Problem Being Solved

By ROBERT J. SEERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — Q. What difficulties did the March 21 incident disclose?

A. No weaknesses that were not already known to exist. It stemmed largely from human error, and the human error stemmed largely from the pressures generated by an antiquated system of keeping track of traffic.

Q. Why in this year of 1962 and this age of electronic marvels should there be anything antiquated about controlling air traffic?

A. The entire Air Traffic Control (ATC) system is not antiquated. But one of its major segments, and the human error stemmed largely from the pressures generated by an antiquated system of keeping track of traffic, is antiquated. It is laborious, slow and inefficient.

The controller responsible for the near-tragedy over Washington was handling eight such strips simultaneously and forgot to mark one of them with a revised altitude.

The obvious need is a device that will keep track of flights electronically so controllers can concentrate on fewer planes and fewer problems. Such a device is being developed.

Q. What is being done to reduce the strains and stresses of a controller's job?

A. First, improved training at the Federal Aviation Agency's Air Training Center in Oklahoma City. Second, FAA is conducting medical research designed to pinpoint specific pressures and recommend means of easing them.

Third, the agency is rapidly adding modernized control towers and traffic centers with better and more efficient working conditions.

Fourth, FAA is trying to obtain funds that would let controllers retire after 20 years service. Fifth, controllers are being allowed longer and more frequent rest periods.

Q. Is controller training adequate for the increasing demands?

A. The Oklahoma City facility is regarded as one of the world's finest. Many foreign countries sent their own ATC personnel there. A good indication of its thoroughness is the fact that 85 per cent of the trainees dunk before they even get into a control center.

Q. How come the federal government has spent millions of dollars since 1956 and we're still having near collisions?

A. FAA officials themselves admit that despite the past few years has been overconcentrated on an extremely complicated ATC system that still is years away from achievement. There has been too little done in the way of immediate, interim improvements.

Also, it has been difficult to attract top electronics personnel from private industry into lower-paying jobs. The chief weakness in FAA's research program has been a lack of top-notch management personnel to give the program some hard-fisted direction and decision.

Q. Do you mean there has been no progress since the 1956 collision over Grand Canyon?

A. Not as much as there should have been but actually more than the "cries of doom" would have you believe. Vast improvements have been made in controlling en route traffic, particularly at high altitudes involving the jets.

There is much better coordination between military and civil ATC. Use of radar has been expanded in fantastic proportions.

The FAA has streamlined ATC by reducing the number of controlling centers from 29 to 21, which means there are fewer "hand-offs" from one jurisdiction to another and that it is a significant safety advance. The chief bottleneck still involves traffic near airports themselves, when congestion mounts.

Q. What is the chief reason for near-collisions?

A. Basically, the trouble lies in the mixing of traffic flying under visual rules and traffic operating under instrument rules.

The latter planes are monitored, controlled and separated by ATC. The former are not, and the majority of potential and actual collisions involve at least one aircraft not operating under ATC guidance.

One point to remember is that just keeping airplanes apart is fairly simple; most of the headaches involve the far greater numbers of private, business and military aircraft.

Q. When will we get significant improvements?

A. FAA Administrator Najeb E. Halaby does not expect major reductions in near-collision incidents much earlier than three years.

There will be constant improvements within that time but Halaby's three-year estimate is for really drastic developments—such as semiautomation.

Q. There shouldn't I feel squeamish about flying around in a sky apparently loaded with potential disaster?

A. There is no use hiding the fact that near-collisions occur too frequently. But the fact that they are only "near-collisions" points to some understated safeguards in the ATC system.

Probe of Rate Hike by Gas Co. Ordered

LANSING (U) — A hearing and an investigation were ordered by the state public service commission yesterday on rate increases put into effect last fall by Michigan Gas Utilities Co.

The commission ordered the company to show cause at a hearing here June 18 why its rates should not be reduced or revised.

A petition by the city of Monroe for a rehearing of the commission's order granting the increase was denied, since it was filed six months after the new rates took effect.

Planes get on potential collision courses daily. But while ATC cannot always prevent two aircraft from starting on such a course, it does act soon enough to keep the incident from becoming an accident.

Q. What major anticollision tool is next in sight?

A. The FAA's most immediate goal is an automatic altitude reporting device, which will be part of the present "transponders" already in use on jets.

The "transponder" flashes to a radar station a plane's exact position. Scientists are working on a refinement that would add altitude information to transponder communications.

The altitude reports would appear automatically on the radar screen next to the plane's image. Achievement of this major advance should come well within the three years estimated for overall revisions in ATC.

Tigers Back in '61 Stride as 'Run-Makers' in League

Homers Aplenty in American League

By The Associated Press
Boom! Boom! Boom! It looked like the Fourth of July the way those baseballs were being shot out of American League parks Sunday.

A record-tying total of 27 home runs were belted by 22 assorted swashbucklers from the junior circuit, including six solo home runs in one game by the Minnesota Twins, which equaled another league record.

Including the 22 homers walloped by the National League, the majors had a grand total of 49, just one shy of the record set by the two leagues on May 30, 1956. The American League mark of 27 was set on May 28, 1961.

MARLBERS CONNECTS

Three home runs—by Roger Maris, Clete Boyer and Bill Skowron—helped the New York Yankees meet a doubleheader from Washington 3-2 and 11-6, and boosted them into first place, a half game in front of Chicago. The Yankees' slugger, accounted for the winning run in the opener.

The White Sox hit only one homer in their 2-1 and 5-1 twin bill sweep over Boston's Red Sox but that homer, by rookie Mike Herbolzheimer, accounted for the winning run in the opener.

Minnesota, held homeless in its 3-1 first game victory over Cleveland, went on a six-homer binge, two by Johnny Goryl, to grab off the second game, too, 7-3. The twin defeats dropped the Indians from first to third, a game behind the leaders.

Baltimore also had four homers in downing Kansas City 6-3. Maris' joyous home run was the most productive day of the young season. After getting two singles in the opener, the Yankee slugger romped a home run (No. 4) and three doubles in the second game.

There will be a meeting of umpires and those interested in umpiring in the city baseball leagues tonight at 7:00 p.m. at Madison Junior High School. It was also announced that there are openings still available for class A and class B baseball teams in the city leagues. Registrations can be made by calling the recreation department.

Veteran U.S. weightlifter Norbert Schemansky made a two-hand catch of 285 pounds in Detroit Saturday to break the world record, held by Russia's Hot Vlasov, by 2½ pounds.

Ferris Institute won its own invitational track meet Saturday with 63 points. Calvin was second with 51½ points.

as the Senators' losing streak was extended to 13 straight.

SECOND WIN

Whitey Ford won his second game for the Yankees, going the distance in the opener with a seven-hitter. It was his 189th lifetime victory against 53 defeats for a .774 percentage, top lifetime winning average of all pitchers with more than 100 victories.

Washington had five home runs in the two games, two each by Harry Bright and John Schalue.

and one by Bob Schmidt.

Triumph Thrills Early Wynn

CHICAGO (AP) — Early Wynn, 42-year-old White Sox right-hander, pitched a three-hitter in the nightcap for a Chicago sweep of the four game series with Boston. It was Wynn's first triumph since last July and the 23rd of his career. Herbolzheimer, whose home run won the opener for right-hander Johnny Buzhardt, drove in two runs in the nightcap with a bases-loaded single.

Singles by pinch hitter Harmon Killebrew and Bill Tuttle featured the eighth inning to break up a 4-1 tie with Cleveland in the opener. Tuttle had three hits in the second game including a homer. Other Minnesota home run hitters, besides Goryl, were Zoltu Versaloff, Lenny Green and Don Mincher.

Baltimore scored six runs in the seventh to overcome a 3-2 Kansas City lead. Russ Suggs opened the inning with a pinch homer, Jim Gentile also homered in the inning, his second of the game.

Wynn had just set down the Boston Red Sox with a snappy three-hit, 5-1 performance, his first victory since last July 17. Five days later Wynn called it quits for the 1961 season because of arm trouble.

Wynn couldn't have been any better in the first inning. He struck out the first three men he faced. In the second inning, the Red Sox got a couple of hits and a walk for their only run.

Wynn's only other start this season was against Kansas City, when he was shelved from the mound after four innings on a field of five hits and four runs.

"Funny, but I felt good today," said Wynn "and that's just how I felt against Kansas City. In that game I started well and then lost my coordination and began floundering. I was afraid the same thing would happen again, especially after pumping so hard in the first inning. You have to get over that first inning."

Dodgers Never Dizzier Than Mets and Phillies

Shades of Brooklyn!

By The Associated Press
It should have happened in Brooklyn. The Mets-Phillies game, that is, Dizzy as the Dodgers at their daffiest; the only thing lacking was Casey Stengel letting a sparrow out of his cap.

That was the fourth inning of the New York Mets' first game with Philadelphia Sunday. New York got seven runs on four hits, two hit batters, a wild pitch, two errors, stolen base, a sacrifice fly and some incredible Philadelphia play.

It put the Mets off and winging to an 8-0 triumph that extended their winning string to club record proportions—two. The streak was halted in the nightcap when the Phillies bombed Casey's boys 10-2.

QUIET GAME

In a more sober affair at St. Louis, the Cardinals swept 5-0-6 with two homers as St. Louis split with Cincinnati, the Cards taking the first 163, the Reds the second 4-3. In San Francisco, Jack Sanford and Billy Pierce had three-hit shutouts as the Giants swept two from Chicago, 7-0 and 6-0. In Los Angeles, Pittsburgh against the top spot with a sweep against the Dodgers, 6-1 and 1-0. In Houston, Roman Mejias' ninth inning homer brought the Colts a 3-2 decision over Milwaukee.

The Mets' fourth inning was as weird as Frankenstein and complicated as a Russian novel. It featured, among other things, the Mets putting two runners on third at the same time. All hands were safe and a run scored when the Phillie catcher tagged the wrong man and another player eventually threw the ball away.

NOT IN BROOKLYN

And there was Frank Thomas, who was hit by a pitched ball twice and by a thrown ball once while running the bases—all in the same inning. And Phillie manager Gene Mauch refused to come out of the dugout when beckoned by the umpires.

When it was over, the Mets had seven runs and rookie Al Jackson, who appeared to be hot, had his first victory. Home runs by Tony Gonzalez, Don Demeter and Wes Covington featured the angered Phils 11 hit attack off four New York pitchers in the second game. Bobby Locke, who allowed only one hit over 4-3 innings, got the victory in relief.

Yoda Pinson and Gordy Coleman of the Reds and Maital socked home runs in each game at St. Louis. Maital's big day boosted his average to .336. Ken Boyer drove in five runs and Curt Flood had four hits in support of Larry Jackson's sixth-hit pitching for the Cards in the opener. Eddie Kasko's ninth-inning home run pulled out the nightcap for the Reds.

His performance was only slightly better than that of John Buzhardt, who set down the Red Sox on four hits for a 2-1 triumph in which rookie Mike Herbolzheimer hit his first major league home run to break a 1-1 tie in the seventh.

He didn't exactly burn up the course, in fact they shot their worst rounds, but defending champion Mickey Wright and persistent challenger Ruth Sorenson all were around today for the first playing in the 23-year history of the women's Titleholders Golf Tournament.

Both posted uninspired 77s Sunday in the final round and finished with 72-hole totals of 265. Miss Wright, who won last year with a 289 total, had to sink a 36-foot putt on the difficult 18th green at Augusta Country Club to stay in the running for the $2,500 pot.

The girls will divide after the 36-hole playoff. The winner will pocket $1,600 and the loser $1,300. Barbara Romack made a strong comeback after a 75 Saturday, but she faltered on the last two holes and finished with a 75 for 297 and third place. Miss Bery closed with 77 for 298. Next came Mary Lena Bank, who fired 74s in the third and fourth rounds for 299 and Marilyn Smith, with 75 for 300.

Winning first places for OLL were John Weber, high hurdles; Terry Lilley, 220; Mike Anderson, 880; Bob Schaffer, pole vault; George Sharpe, high jump, 5-8 (school record); and the mile relay team.

State Adds Pro Team
DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Iowa's hockey League officials agreed Saturday to expand from four to six teams, and said that Waterloo, Iowa, and Marquette-Hancock, Mich., are the leading candidates for joining the league.

Reds and gave unbeaten Bob Stuart's homer was the only run in the second.

THREE HITTER

Ed Bailey's home run and three San Francisco double plays supported Pierce's three-hitter against the Cubs, while Willie Mays crashed his sixth homer of the season with a man on base. Sanford hit Ken Hubbs in the left ear with a fast ball in the first inning and Hubbs was carried from the field on a stretcher. Later, he was reported to have been in the opener, and Dick no serious injury.

DEFECTION — Marv Grissom, Los Angeles Angels playing coach with hat in hand, sits on a dejected bench of players as reliever Jim Donohue warms up to go into the game against the Detroit Tigers. Donohue went in at the third inning and was one of four pitchers shelled by Detroit in winning 13-6.

Tigers Seeking Pitcher but Having Little Luck

DETROIT, (AP) — The Detroit Tigers need pitching help and they need it immediately. And vice president Rick Ferrell, in charge of dealing and wheeling for the Tigers, says: "I've talked trade with every club in the league and haven't gotten anywhere," Ferrell said. "I don't think we can make a big trade. Anything we may do probably will be minor, a trade of fringe players."

With Frank Lary sidelined with an inflamed shoulder, manager Bob Schaffer can send only Jim Bunning and Don Mossi out with any guarantee of reliability.

The rest of the staff? Well, Schaffer's fingers are becoming gnarled from moving them when he has to dip into the pool of free agents.

He's as eager to make a trade as Ferrell.

"We'd hate to give up any of our regulars for a pitcher," Ferrell said. "But we might be willing to if we can get a good pitcher. Nobody has talked about letting us have a good pitcher, though."

Ferrell, of course, wouldn't trade any of the Tigers' frontliners, Al Kaline, Norm Cash or Rocky Colavito.

"Pot Billy Bruton in that group," Ferrell said. "He's not a starter."

He admitted Steve Boros and Jake Wood could be had in a trade if the Tigers received what they want in exchange.

"Don't get any idea they're on the block," Ferrell cautioned. "They're not."

The only pitcher mentioned in trade reports lately has been Bill Monbouffant, ace of the Boston Red Sox since 1957.

"I've talked to the Boston officials and his name never came up," Ferrell said. "He's their best pitcher. Why if they traded him, it would be just like us trading Lary."

The type of pitcher the Tigers need—and want—is either a right hander or left hander who has some experience and a decent fastball and curve.

"These kind are scarce on the trading market—but Ferrell intends to keep trying."

But he weakened and Hank Aguirre came on for the final two outs in the ninth. The Angels got 10 hits off Reagan, including homers by Lee Thomas and Bob Rodgers and three consecutive doubles by Mike Albin Pearson.

The Tigers had four homers themselves and enjoyed two big innings.

They routed loser Dean Chance in the third with their third seven-run outburst in four games. Jake Wood pitched the rally with a three-run inside-the-park homer. His drive hit the 415 mark in center and then popped out of Thomas' glove.

Jim Donohue and George Witt were victims of a five-run flurry in the fifth. Billy Brown and Al Kaline started it off with consecutive homers, off Donohue and Dick Brown stroked a two-run single off Witt.

Every batter started off for Los Angeles in the seventh, and Ferrell's Tiger starter but Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe drove in at least one run. Bruton, Kaline, Cash, Rocky Colavito, Steve Boros and Brown each collected two hits in the 13-hit attack.

The Tigers play an exhibition tonight at St. Louis before starting a nine-game road swing tomorrow at Kansas City.

Marine Eclipses World Pole Vault Record

Lt. Dave Tork Clears 16-2 in Coast Relays

Effort Tops All Known Marks and Recognition Is Expected

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—A world record of 16 feet, 2 inches in the pole vault was on its way toward official recognition today and the owner, Marine Lt. Dave Tork, has an even loftier target.

"I hope to hit 17 feet," the 27-year-old leatherneck from Camp Pendleton declared.

Relatively unknown until recently in track and field circles, the slender 6-foot Marine eclipsed all official and unofficial marks in the annual Mt. San Antonio Relays two days ago.

TOP PERFORMANCES

Other highlights: Jim Grelle, a graduate of the University of Oregon's great school of distance runners, joined the somewhat crowded sub-four-minute mile club. He barely made it with a clocking of 3:19.2 to become the fourth American and the 30th man to run under 4 minutes.

Two-time Olympic champion Al Oerter threw the discus 138 feet 6 inches. He missed the world record by 9 1/2 inches as he and record holder, Ray Silvester, staged a tremendous duel. Silvester, whose world mark is 139-3/4, had a best of 135-7. He and Oerter threw over 130 feet nine times.

Meet director Hilmer Lodge said everything is in order as far as he knows for record application on Tork's mighty leap. The main problem could be that Tork or another ex-Marine, John Uelses, may go even higher before the international committee acts on the pending records.

OLD RECORD

Still on the books, and looking rather insignificant, is the 15-1/4 height set by Don Bragg in 1950. Last March 31 at Santa Barbara, Uelses became the first man to break the 16-foot ceiling outdoors—had already done it indoors—with a mark of 16 feet 1/4 inch.

Tork didn't start to vault in the meet here until the bar reached 15 feet. He cleared it on his first try and cleared again at 15-7 on the first leap.

George Davies, of Arizona State, and Gerald Pratt of Texas Southern, managed the 15-7 but failed to clear it on their first try and cleared it on their second.

Joins Ridan as Kentucky Derby Favorite

Sir Gaylord Takes Stepping Stone

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Owners and trainers with 3-year-olds eligible for Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs apparently don't score easily—even in face of recent eye-popping performances by Sir Gaylord and Ridan.

Sir Gaylord, unbeaten in four starts this year, and Ridan, all-winners last year and not far off pace this season, stand out. But still as many as 15 horses are expected to start in the 1 1/4-mile $125,000-added blue ribbon classic.

The latest issue of the future books odds from Caliente quotes Sir Gaylord the 7-5 choice with Ridan held at 2-1.

FAST FINISH

Ridan, beaten twice in Florida by Sir Gaylord before the latter was sidelined by an ankle injury late in February, won the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday in 1:47 3/5 for one and one eighth miles. He then finished the Derby distance in 2:01, two-fifths of a second faster than the Derby record hung up by Whirlaway in 1941.

Sir Gaylord, making his first appearance since winning the Everglades at Hialeah Park, reeled off seven furlongs in 1:22 3/5 Saturday in taking the Stepping Stone Purses on the show at Churchill Downs track. He proceeded to work out the Derby distance in 2:02 3/5.

Off the two displays of speed and stamina, the 68th run for the roses shapes up as a two-horse race.

Still there are more than a dozen horses on the grounds whose trainers and owners say they are here to run in the Derby and that is where they'll be when the hands start playing "My Old Kentucky Home" and the twin spires of ancient Churchill Downs.

The presence of Sir Gaylord and Cicada would give Churnery a powerful 1 1/2 Derby punch, for his filly was just edged by Ridan in the Florida Derby.

Tuesday's Derby Trial at a mile may furnish a little more light on the size of the field. Royal Attack, winner of the Santa Anita Derby, is the only name horse expected to start. Others include Sharp Count, Mister Pity, Touch Bar, and possibly Boone Co. and Good Fight. A good performance could earn a position in the Derby starting field.

The track sets aside about 25 "horses' boxes" each year, to accommodate owners of Derby horses—each owner gets one. If fewer than 25 start in the Derby—a few are never that many—a few are left and that, Stone said, is the only way.

No Box Seats Available as Usual in Derby Stands

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—You want a box for the Kentucky Derby in 1962? You're too late. In 1963?

You're still probably too late. It's much like that of a social register—once you're in, you're in for life, unless you do something you shouldn't—like scalping seats. And there aren't many cancellations.

"We have a turnover of fewer than 50 boxes a year," said Lynn Stone, resident manager of Churchill Downs.

NOTHING LEFT

"I've had a dozen long distance calls this week. People saying money is no object, they just want a box. But there just aren't any."

Once you get a box, you are added at the first of each year if you want to renew it. If so you send the money; if not, it is reassigned.

If you're caught scalping a box seat—selling it for more than you paid—you lose it, but with a minimum of fanfare. You simply don't get a renewal notice the next year.

"This doesn't happen—or at least we don't catch them—as often as you might think; maybe two or three times a year," said Warren Knebelkamp, president of the track. "It's hard to know the sale price in a cash transaction."

NO TRANSFER
If a boxholder dies, the box is reassigned. He can't give it to anybody while he's living. But if he was someone prominent in the thoroughbred industry, an effort is made to give his widow, or closest survivor, another box.

The 4,600 boxes, with an average of six seats each, range in price from $72 to $180, with 10 choice boxes on the roof going at $225. They have 10 seats each.

Wolverine Milers Win

Drake Event Had Speed, Penn Relays Muscle

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The comparison of times and distances between the annual Drake and Penn track and field meets this year results in two definite conclusions: Drake had the speed and Penn the muscle.

A check of summaries from both meets in this annual figure filbert field day shows Drake competitors bettered their Penn counterparts, 11 to 7. Ten of Drake's superior performances were in the running events, while six of Penn's toppers were in field events.

Taking the track events first, Florida A&M's sophomore sensation, Bob Hayes, turned in a 9.5

second 100-yard dash as against 9.7 for the Penn winner, Demetrius Richardson of Abilene Christian. Houston's Pat Ciochery won the Drake 2-mile run at 9:59.6, while Jarred Norse of Duke needed 9:11.3 at Philadelphia.

DOUBLE WINNER

In the only other comparative individual competition, Ray Cunningham of Texas was clocked in 1:39 at Drake for the 120-yard high hurdles, while Penn's only double winner, Russ Rogers of Maryland State leaped and ran the same distance in 1:42.

Penn runners bettered Drake figures in only one of the relay races, the 800, in which Villanova's quartet of Pat Nicastro, Paul Drayton, Bob Rasmussen and Frank Budd, negotiated the distance in 1:25 as against 1:25.3 at Drake for Florida A&M.

IN THE OTHER RELAYS:

Florida A&M, with Hayes the anchor man, cut out a 40.8 in qualifying for the 440-final. Texas Southern ripped off a 3:11.4 in a mile relay qualifying event, Kansas took the 2-mile in 7:35, and the 4-mile in 16:57. Missouri the sprint medley in 3:19.2. Southern Illinois the distance medley in 6:50.2, and Nebraska the 480-yard shuttle hurdles in 58.8.

IN THE SAME EVENTS AT PENN:

Abilene Christian's winning 440 was clocked in 41.6. NYU's mile relay combined 3:12.9. Villanova's 2-mile quartet in 7:37.8 and its 4-mile team in 17:12.5. NYU's sprint medley winners in 3:25.3. Villanova's distance medley champion in 6:50.7, and Winston-Salem's shuttle hurdles in 59.3. The only field event won by Drake was the high jump on a 6 foot, 7 1/4 inch performance by Colin Ridgway of Lamar Tech.

Moris Has Been Hot Since Talking to JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Did President Kennedy advise Roger Moris to speak softly but carry a big stick? Since visiting the White House last Friday afternoon, the New York Yankee boxer has been connected for 19 hits in 19 at bats. His three homers and driven in six runs.

Wins Net Tourney

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Antonio Palacios crushed lanky Frank Froehling 6-4 to win the Baccarat Davis men's singles tennis championship here Sunday.

The little Mexico Davis Cup star shot down Froehling, American's sixth-ranked player, with a dazzling display of ground strokes.

New York City Folk Tend Patio Garden With Love

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — People from out of town, more pastoral places tend to think of New York as treeless, birdless and ruthless. It's not true at all. Behind the stern exterior of many a modern apartment and brownstone are plenty of trees bared with honey-honey birds. And a lot of one citizens, particularly those under 30, are extremely rural. For instance, take our little hideaway (in the winter, I wish you could take it — it's dark, this-walled and fairly capricious under a load of overpriced rent). It has a large patio and right now, as I write, it looks magnificent.

SEVEN TREES
There are seven trees — three delightfully droopy weeping willows, one flowering peach in full pink blossom, two flowering crab-apples that have gone crazy with their blooming ability, and our brand-new pride and joy, a weeping flowering Japanese cherry as dramatic, in its little crooked pink way, as Fujiyama.

Add to this a fountain, honeysuckles, roses, geraniums, petunias, azaleas and ivy — a 45-by-25-foot garden that no suburban gardener I know would want to plant. In the suburbs, gardening is so easy that it loses some of its appeal; in New York City it's such a great and costly challenge.

especially when the patio or penthouse are concrete, and everything must be coddled constantly to grow in wooden tubs — that a family's garden comes first.

Careers, social life, even meals, come secondary as the family with the rented plot of potential beauty goes about the work of fertilizing, watering, pruning and praying.

But is it worth it? Ah me, yes. Because the city-family has a problem that is exactly the reverse of the suburban family.

In Westchester County or Long Island, the houses are sweetly quiet, and the noises of the neighborhood outstrip the songs of birds.

NOISES APARENTLY
In New York City's so-called "modern luxury apartment houses," the noises of the neighborhood permeate the walls. In one room, you hear the kiddies next door singing in the bath, in another room filters a neighbor's dishwasher music, and from above and below come the sounds of other people's television sets playing programs that seem to be the conflicting tastes of cosmopolitans. Thus, the patio is the quieter oasis. On the city patio, you hear only the hum of the big city's activity — and that is a welcome sound because it is a reminder that business is good, and as long as business is good there will be money to pay for these fairs and fairs, this fun and fertilizer.

So feel no pity for us, dear suburbanites.

New York is a wonderful place to visit, but it also is a costly, challenging, exhausting, marvelous place to live!

ON BACKGACHES

Speaking of challenge and exhaustion, there is some evidence today that your "aching back" may be a hereditary pain in the spine.

Dr. Benjamin R. Wilberger, associate professor of surgery at Ohio State University, has the impression that backaches run in families.

And he cites the cases of one Ohio family in which a father and 11 of his 12 children have quite similar pains of this nature. This, and other cases, lead the doctor to believe most victims are born with a susceptibility to slipped discs, and that ordinary activity, rather than unusual stress, can bring on discomfort in such afflicted family groups.

If true — it's a dis-acting injustice by nature!

Arguments Flying Today on 4 Railroads' Merger

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission brought its mobile hearing on the proposed creation of the world's longest railroad to the nation's rail center today.

The commission prepared to hear more arguments for and against the proposed merger of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Burlington, and Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railroad.

The merged lines would operate over 36,500 miles of track between Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

The merger is opposed by the Milwaukee road, the only other railroad in direct freight competition with the four railroads for the full distance from Chicago west. The Milwaukee recently halted passenger service west of Minneapolis, Minn.

Milwaukee President William J. Quinn asked the commission during its hearing at Seattle, Wash., April 2 to impose six conditions on the railroads if it should approve the merger.

The Milwaukee contends it would lose $1 million a year in reduced traffic and another $3 million annually in increased spending to remain competitive should the merger go through.

The Milwaukee's proposed conditions included provisions for gateways between the competing lines in North Dakota, Montana and Washington; trackage rights for the Milwaukee over lines of the merged company in parts of Washington and Oregon; Milwaukee access to Billings, Mont.; revised switching charges, and rate adjustments.

The commission 34 years ago agreed to the consolidation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific provided they would allow the Milwaukee, which opposed the move, to use Spokane, Portland and Seattle tracks. The GN and the NP rejected the conditions and continued independent operations.

The GN and the NP currently own both the Burlington and the SP&S railways.

The Great Northern operates through St. Paul, Minn.; Minot, N. D.; Havre, Mont.; Glacier Park, Mont.; and Spokane, Wash.; the Northern Pacific through St. Paul; Blamark, N. D.; Billings, Mont.; Missoula, Mont.; and Spokane, and the Milwaukee through St. Paul; Aberdeen, S. D.; Miles City, Mont.; Missoula and Spokane.

The Northern Pacific finished laying its tracks west in 1883, and the GN in 1883. The Milwaukee pushed west into competition with the two railroads in 1909.

To Vote Constitution as One Document?

LANSING — It is highly likely that Michigan will vote on its new constitution as a complete document, and not section by section.

Indications make this virtually a foregone conclusion, and the final decision could come today or tonight.

A resolution proposing one-package submission was on the calendar for today's session. Twelve of the convention's 14 committee chairmen voted in the informal Associated Press poll for submission of the new basic law as a whole.

One chairman said he favored "submission in sections, not to exceed five." Another said his final decision on whole - bag or pie-meal balloting will depend, "on the end result, because I wouldn't want to lose all due to some highly controversial section."

All 14 chairmen are Republicans. Their party holds two-thirds of the convention's 144 seats, and one chairman said he felt one-package submission represented the overwhelming view of GOP delegates.

Nine Democratic delegates, however, have served notice they'll fight for section-by-section submission to the people. Some published reports, neither confirmed nor denied by Democratic leaders, have said that party may attempt to get some sections on the ballot by petition that would compete with convention-adopted portions.

REJECT PLAN
The convention's rules and resolutions committee, with at least one Democrat voting "aye," last week turned down a Democratic-sponsored sectional submission plan and adopted instead a resolution calling for voter "acceptance or rejection as a single document."

The proposal was on today's calendar.

Glen S. Allen Jr., R-Kalamazoo, told the resolutions committee that is work out wording whereby voters could accept some sections of the new and let some sections of the old constitution stand "would take another six months."

Allen and others pointed out the convention had been reworking in its entirety the 1908 constitution, not merely proposing sectional changes.

In recommending one-package submission, the resolutions committee said:

"MIGHT BE CONFUSING"
The provisions of the proposed new constitution adopted to date are inter-related and decisions made have been interdependent and submission . . . in pieces rather than as a whole could result in confusion at the polls and in a patchwork document."

The proposal of the nine Democrats, headed by convention vice president Tom Downs of Detroit, would lump into a single package items that have won overwhelming bipartisan approval and submit separately sections "that are highly controversial . . . so that voter antipathy to one controversial item will not jeopardize" all.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Public Hearing Stated on Southfield's Budget

SOUTHFIELD — Local residents will have the opportunity to air their views on the city's proposed budget of $2,877,671 for next year at a public hearing Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Southfield High School on Lahser and 10 Mile roads.

The city council and Administrator Donald V. Smith held the last of several meetings on the budget, up $311,000 over this year's, on Saturday. For the first time since Southfield became a city, all department heads were present.

Among them were Civil Defense Director Louis J. Angelo, whose budget had been long-availed by the council. Angelo, an appointee of Mayor S. James Clarkson, has been under fire by Councilman John J.

Hollywood for spending money for civil defense without first submitting a budget to the council.

The first meeting of the Civic Center Advisory Commission is scheduled for next Saturday at 10 a.m. in the No. 10 Elementary School on 10 Mile Road.

TO NAME APPOINTEE
Dohany said today that he expects Hollywood to name his choice for commission appointee at tonight's council meeting. Hollywood is the only councilman who has not made his selection of a man to serve on the 17-man commission.

The council president said he is anxious to get the ball rolling on the civic center project.

"The first and most important thing that must be done is to reroute a pipeline running through the proposed site at 10th and Evergreen roads," he said.

The pipe, owned by the Buckeye Pipe Line Co. of Canada, runs through Southfield all the way to Sarnia, Ont. A man-made hill is proposed for that area but it cannot be built until the pipe is relocated, Dohany said.

OK Granted to Expand Avon Hall

The permission that Avon Township needed from the Village of Rochester before it could proceed with plans for an addition to its township hall was granted Saturday.

The Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals approved township plans for a 30- by 30-foot addition to its offices at Pine and Fourth streets in Rochester following a public hearing.

Zoning board consent for the addition was needed because the township hall is a nonconforming use on land zoned residential. Under the village's zoning ordinance, a nonconforming use cannot expand its facilities without special permission from the zoning board.

Although two nearby property owners aired objections to the expansion at the hearing, only change in township plans made by the zoning board was elimination of provision for six offstreet parking spaces.

The six parking spaces had been added to the plans originally at the suggestion of the village.

A July 21 wedding date has been set by Edith J. Teggerdine and Duane C. Bailey whose engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Teggerdine, of 6233 Walden Road, Independence Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Bailey, of 8782 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

Walled Lake Studies Budget With Tax Hike

WALLED LAKE — A proposed budget of $127,000, requiring a $2-tax increase over the current $15 levy for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, is being studied by the City Council here.

Proposed expenditures for the 1963 fiscal year have been estimated at $5,000 above the present budget. The additional revenue would provide the city with approximately $10,000 in new funds.

City Manager Harold Millspaugh said a proposed street improvement program, together with capital expenditures in the police, fire and road departments, have necessitated the tax increase.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for May 21.

The tax hike, if approved by the council, would be the first for city residents in several years. Two years ago they received a $3 reduction, giving them the $15 rate.

Last year, a dollar-and-a-half increase was proposed but the council adjourned the proposed budget and was able to keep the tax rate at $15.

The $17 levy would provide the city with $79,000 from general property taxes. State sales tax would give the city another $25,000. The remainder would come from fees, penalties and licenses.

The proposed police budget shows a $6,000 increase over current expenditures. This includes, however, nearly $2,000 in wages for volunteers. Total proposed expenditures are $35,743.

The preliminary fire department budget has been increased by about $1,500.

The first year band of beginners from the fifth grade will open the program to be followed by the sixth grade band playing three numbers.

Next will be the seventh grade musicians who will present a group of four selections. The "B" band of the junior high, which is made up of eighth grade students, will offer three numbers.

The cadet band then will demonstrate the ability and talent its members displayed to win a first division rating at the state regional junior high band festival.

The program will close with three numbers by the senior high band.

A Ray Township youth was one of two Macomb County 4-H overall achievement award winners announced Saturday night at Richmond High School in Richmond.

Nine other Romeo area 4-H workers were among top award winners.

Gary L. Reed, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed of 12555 25-Mile Road, was named one of the two top achievers in Macomb County 4-H work.

Bonnie Kay Holomo, 17, of Mount Clemens, was the other winner of the over-all achievement award. Karen Whiting, 15, of 1361 29-Mile Road, Washington, was one of two winners of the dress revue who will go on to the state show.

Romeo area 4-H Club members dominated the awards in the share-the-fun contests.

Randy Campbell, 15, and his brother, Brian, 12, both of 56097 Romeo Plank Road, Washington, and George Rang, 12, of 55049 Romeo Plank Road, Washington, were three in a group of four that won the large group division with a parody sail.

Janet Rauch, 16, of 12444 Eberling Road, Romeo, and Rosemary Dahm, 13, of 13339 Pratt Road, Romeo, were two in the small group division.

Shirley Toles, 17, of 76040 McFadden Road, Romeo, and Patricia Lawson, 14, of 17941 Irwin Road, Romeo, were winners in clothing competition. Their entries will go to the state show.

"Thanks, Dad"

Your boy will thank you for investing in the "Estate Builder"

Look what a $5,000 "Estate Builder" is doing for this young fellow.

His father started an Estate Builder for him at age one, at a fixed annual premium of $228. At age 21, his $5,000 policy will automatically increase to $25,000 with no change in premium. (The Cash Surrender Value at age 21 is $4,645.) Let's assume his $25,000 policy continues in force to age 65 and his dividends are left to accumulate at the current favorable rate. (Keep in mind that the dividend scale necessarily changes from time to time.) He will then have three choices: $41,746 in cash; or $321 monthly income for life; or $24,216 in cash plus a paid-up participating policy of $23,070. Talk to a Great-West Life man about its many advantages. Just call or write:

Does Change-of-Life Make You Feel Older Than You Are?

So many, so many, so many... you can't enjoy your husband?

In doctor's tests, special medicine relieved those hot flashes, weakness, nervousness for women after woman... then they could enjoy a happier middle-age!

Does change of life leave you so weak, irritable you feel older than you really are? Suffocated by hot flashes, constantly tense, so you can't be the affectionate wife of old? Don't despair! LYNA PINKHAM'S Compound can relieve that physical distress and tension both... in doctor's tests using Pinkham's Compound, women after woman got glorious relief without costly shots! Hot flashes quickly subsided. That awful nervousness was calmed. Then most women found they could go "miling through" the trying years of change-of-life!

If change-of-life is making you feel older than you are, ask for LYNA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE Compound at drug stores. See how fast this special medicine helps you feel like your happy, active self again.

KEEP A HOUSE—WALK UP THEM! When due to simple iron-deficiency anemia, take Pinkham Tablets. Rich in iron, they start to strengthen blood in one day! Thus help restore vitality.

The board directed the agency and its president, Thomas Payne, to re-employ any of the strikers not yet taken back and reimburse them for any pay loss after their applications for reinstatement.

The case caused interest in its early stages because Payne, arguing the case himself, drew praise from the NLRB's trial examiner that, although not a lawyer, he "conducted his part in the trial in a manner that would do credit to many practicing attorneys."

The examiner, John C. Fisher, recommended the NLRB dismiss all charges against Payne's agency.

House Gets Down to Work After 10-Day Break

Senate at Snail's Pace on Voter Literacy Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House knocked down to work today after a 10-day Easter vacation, while the Senate plods along with its debate over a bill to prevent racial discrimination in voter literacy tests.

No major bills were ticketed for immediate consideration in the House, but before the end of the week leaders hope to bring up a bill urged by President Kennedy to set up a private corporation to own and operate a communications satellite system.

Before the week ends Senate leaders reportedly plan to initiate a move to clamp a time limit on the debate that began last Wednesday on the voter literacy bill — the administration's principal civil rights measure.

The bill, strongly opposed by its Southern foes, would exempt anyone with a six-grade education from having to take a state literacy test to qualify as a voter in presidential and congressional elections.

The first step in invoking the Senate's anti-filibuster rule is filing of a cloture — or debate limitation — petition signed by 16 senators.

Once such a petition is filed, it automatically is put to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on the second day thereafter. Its adoption requires a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

A two-thirds majority never has been obtained for breaking a filibuster against a civil rights bill, but party leaders say they may have a better chance this time since the 1960 Democratic and Republican platforms called for a literacy test measure.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has said that if the move fails by a substantial margin, the bill will be laid aside. If the vote is close, he said, a second attempt will be made after more debate.

With the rules barring committee hearings while the Senate is in session, without unanimous consent, some committees have canceled their meetings for the duration of the break.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee called a meeting today, however, to start work on the administration's $4.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

This is one of many major pieces of legislation urged by Kennedy that remained to be acted on as Congress reached the half-way point in its planned eight-month session.

Only five of Kennedy's 33

major recommendations have been passed one chamber or the other and a quickening well stymied at the moment by have pace is anticipated in the months ahead.

Prince in Austere Prep School

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Charles, 13-year-old heir to the British throne, tomorrow will enter his prep school and a new life of early rising, cold showers, and regular chores designed to make a man of him.

When the house-bound prince enters the Gordonstoun school in Scotland he will be following the footsteps of his father, Prince Philip, and, in a sense, will be leaving boyhood and entering young manhood.

Philip himself will take Charles to Gordonstoun, flying him the 500 miles north from London in a plane of the queen's flight.

It is possible Prince Philip will take the controls himself. Queen Elizabeth will not accompany her husband and son.

If the queen and Prince Philip have their way, they will not get much information on just how Charles begins his new school life.

As they did when he first went to school — to Cheam school in the south of England — the queen and her consort, through the Buckingham Palace press office, issued an ap-

Moslem Soldiers Kill and Escape

Three Slay Europeans in Their Unit, Then Flee Into Hills

ALGIERS (AP) — Five European soldiers were slain as they slept last night by Moslem troops of their unit, posted near the Moroccan frontier, reliable sources reported today.

After opening fire on their comrades, the three Moslem soldiers fled into mountainous countryside with all the weapons and ammunition they could carry, the informants said.

The incident occurred at a frontier post near Marra, located about 10 miles west of the Moroccan frontier.

The slayings were discovered by troops sent out to relieve the unit at dusk. The post. An alert was immediately sounded and a search operation began in an effort to find the deserters.

It was not the first time Moslems serving in the French army have deserted their units in the Algerian interior. But it was the most serious incident reported since the French-Algerian ceasefire went into effect March 19.

Moslems in the French army have been under increasing pressure to join the rebel army since the ceasefire was signed.

The French army is still maintaining a heavy presence in the Algerian interior, but is trying to bring the Moroccan and Tunisian frontiers into order to bar entry into Algeria of 40,000 rebel troops from the two neighboring countries. The rebel forces are not entering Algeria legally until a vote is held on Algeria's future.

Meanwhile in Oran, French army units returned to the center of the city after withdrawing briefly earlier in the day. During the brief withdrawal of the armed-support troops, cars and delivery trucks were able to circulate freely.

Ike Heads East After Vacation in California

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is on his way East after a four-month winter vacation on the Southern California desert.

Eisenhower and his wife left Sunday by private railroad car. They will return to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm after stopping at Abilene, Kan., Tuesday night, the departure of the new Eisenhower Library.

The former chief executive was a surprise visitor at a luncheon Sunday at the home of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon at El Dorado County, Calif. near Palm Desert where Eisenhower has been staying. Nixon is seeking the California gubernatorial nomination.

"I don't agree with those people who say Republicans cannot win in California this year," Eisenhower said. The luncheon was sponsored by San Bernardino County Republicans.

Outlook OK for Certain School-Aid Bills

(Editor's Note — A wide variety of legislative proposals for strengthening America's educational system are before Congress. The following dispatch reports on their present status and outlook.)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In his budget message to Congress early this year, President Kennedy said that more and better schools are indispensable to the preservation of America's free society.

He later submitted half a dozen legislative proposals for strengthening the educational system at every level from kindergarten through college, and in several special fields such as medical education, teacher training, and adult literacy.

With the congressional session at the halfway mark, one education bill has been passed and sent to the White House. It authorizes $32 million in federal grants over the next five years to encourage development of educational television stations.

The other bills are still in various stages of consideration. Some seem to have a good to excellent chance of enactment. The outlook for others ranges from dark to dismal.

Here is an item-by-item report on the current status of the major proposals:

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES
It now appears probable that Congress will enact legislation providing about $500 a year for the next three years to help public and private colleges build new classrooms, dormitories and laboratories.

The big question is whether the bill will also provide scholarships for needy and talented students.

Both the House and Senate have passed higher education aid bills. The Senate version, reflecting the administration's requests, includes $125 million for four-year scholarships.

The House did not vote any scholarships, and its powerful rules committee has refused to let the differing versions be submitted to a joint Senate-House conference committee for compromise until assured that the House conferees would stand firm against scholarship ships.

A deal has now been made under which the bill will go to a conference committee soon. The House conferees will refuse to go along with the Senate scholarship provision, and will report back to the House for "instructions" on this issue.

This will give the entire House a chance to vote on the question of scholarships. On the basis of its past record, the House is likely to vote no.

Another difference which will have to be ironed out by conference concerns the way in which the federal aid would be extended. The House has voted for $300 million in outright grants and $900 million in loans; the Senate for $1.5 billion in loans only.

Some members of the Senate argue that the constitutional principle of church-state separation would be violated by outright grants to church-related colleges. Both bills take cognizance of a possible religious issue by stipulating that none of the federal money could be used to build divinity schools or other facilities used specifically for religious worship or instruction.

MEDICAL EDUCATION
The House Commerce Committee has approved legislation under which the federal government would expend about $1 billion over the next 10 years to expand facilities for training physicians and dentists. It also provides for low-interest loans to students.

This bill is before the House Rules Committee, and the work is that it will be cleared for floor action after the college aid bill is completed, perhaps in May.

There has so far been little controversy over this measure to relieve the nation's worsening shortage of physicians and dentists, and the expectation on Capitol Hill is that it will be passed by the House and Senate before adjournment.

ELEMENTARY AND HIGH SCHOOLS
President Kennedy keeps urging Congress to act on his proposal to pump $2.1 billion in federal aid into public school systems for classroom construction and teachers' salaries. But his chances of getting it passed this year are pretty close to zero.

To lawmakers who face an election this fall, the bill bears the fatal odor of religious controversy, growing out of Roman Catholic demands that parochial schools share in the federal aid funds.

In a frank attempt to pass the bill on the religious issue, a House education subcommittee has been considering a substitute under which federal grants totaling about $500 million a year would be allocated among the states, leaving each state to decide for itself whether to pass any of the aid along to parochial schools.

There is no likelihood of action this year on the substitute measure, introduced by Rep. Cleveland Bailey, D-W. Va. As one congressional source put it, the bill is simply being given a trial airing this session "to see who shoots at it."

TEACHER TRAINING
Pending in the House Education Committee, with uncertain prospects, is a five-year, $748 million bill to improve the quality of teaching in public elementary and high schools.

Grants would be provided to permit 2,500 teachers annually to go back to college for a year's advanced study.

Other funds would set up summer school institutes for teachers, and underwrite "special projects" for improving teaching standards. For reasons which have not been made clear, some southern congressmen suspect that this program might somehow be used as a lever to speed desegregation of schools.

If their fears can be allayed in committee, the bill may have a chance of enactment.

The House Education Committee has approved President Kennedy's proposal to give the states $30 million over five years of combat adult illiteracy. (There are about 8 million Americans over the age of 25 who have not gone beyond the fifth grade in school.)

This bill is now in the House Rules Committee, awaiting a clearance for floor action which it may never get.

MIGRANT CHILDREN
The Senate has passed, and the administration has endorsed, a $22-million program to help states open the golf ball. Doctors said a caustic acid used in making the ball squirted into David's eye when the knife pierced the center of the ball.

David's eye suffered no apparent permanent damage, doctors said.

173 Nobel Winners, Other Talent

Kennedy Toasts Dinner Guests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters—all the most extraordinary collection of talent ever gathered at the White House.

He called them all together Sunday night—a potpourri of the famed—to honor the Nobel Prize winners of the Western Hemisphere.

The 30 Nobel winners on hand for the biggest dinner held at the White House in modern times greeted each other with delight. They said no one before had ever thought to bring so many of them together at once.

In gay, good humor, some started after-dinner walking in the

April to Bow Out Ungracefully Mid Thunder, Rain

Scattered thunderstorms are due late this afternoon and early tonight in the Pontiac vicinity, the weatherman forecasts. The mercury will drop to a low of 50 degrees tonight.

Today's outlook includes partly cloudy and cooler weather, with the high around 70.

Precipitation will total one-half inch in showers after Friday. In contrast, 1 inch rainfall was between 10 a.m. Saturday and 10 this morning.

Southeast to south winds increasing 10 to 20 miles will shift to northwest late tonight.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. today was 55 degrees at 5:15 a.m. By 1 p.m. the mercury had risen to a pleasant 61.

Asks Stable Economy

Leaders Mellow on Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appear to be broadening their joint approach to summit diplomacy in a move toward more informal contacts with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This seems to be one of the chief results of the weekend White House conference between American and British leaders. Another reported result is agreement to soften as far as possible U.S. and British conflicts of interest over reshaping worldwide trade patterns on Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

In a communique, Sunday Kennedy and Macmillan blamed the Soviet Union for the current series of U.S. nuclear weapons tests and pledged to work for disarmament and a ban on testing. The criticism of the Soviet Union was muted and indirect and apparently reflected a desire by Kennedy and Macmillan to keep on good terms with Khrushchev.

The summit maneuver presumably reflects the same attitude and is pointed toward future weeks rather than an immediate heads of government meeting.

In fact it was learned that one objective Kennedy and Macmillan have in mind is to establish a pattern of talking with Khrushchev occasionally without having to have a formal conference.

TO SERVE PEACE
This was brought out in the communique in a less direct manner. Kennedy and Macmillan said, "reaffirmed their willingness to consider meetings of heads of government whenever there is an indication that such meetings would serve the interests of peace and understanding, and in this respect they took note of the opinion recently expressed by Chairman Khrushchev."

Whirls Into Orbit

Launch Tourist Titov in Astronomical NY

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov has discovered that going around the globe 17 times is a snap compared to orbiting nighttime Manhattan.

The Soviet spaceman and his pretty brunette wife, Tamara, 24, wasted little time Sunday night in hitting the tourist trail.

At 6:30 p.m. they were walking down the ramp from a Soviet turboprop airliner, at Idlewild Airport. At 7:30 p.m. they were arriving at the Soviet United Nations mission headquarters on Park Avenue.

They took only an hour and a half to freshen up before they were off again. The plan, apparently, was a quick and quiet tour of some of the sights of the brightly lit city.

Thanks to midtown traffic, the tour wasn't as quick as intended. Thanks to the curiosity of the average New Yorker it wasn't so quiet either.

Before the tour started, Titov said he was anxious to meet American astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. "We will have quite a lot to talk about," Titov added through an interpreter. Titov is to attend the international space conference in Washington, D.C., later this week.

Cleveland industrialist—Cyrus Easton and his wife, who have visited Premier Khrushchev in the Soviet Union, were among 300 persons who greeted Titov and his wife at Idlewild.

During Titov's tour of Manhattan he kept smiling, and responding with friendly gestures to the attention that appeared to take him by surprise.

At Times Square, plainclothes police had to clear a crowded sidewalk so Titov and his party could get out of their limousines for a stroll. As the strollers moved up the east side of the square the crowd around Titov grew until it stopped traffic briefly, and hid the cosmonaut entirely.

VISIBLE FAR AWAY
There was no advance word on the Christmas Island explosions last week. Both these explosions—dropped by planes—were believed to have been at relatively low levels, under 30,000 feet.

Some of the sky-high shots will be hundreds of miles up and the flash may be seen thousands of miles away.

Walt W. Rostow, top policy planner in the State Department, said today the U. S. decision to resume atmospheric nuclear testing was based on the unanimous opinion of President Kennedy's advisers.

Rostow, in a copyrighted interview in U. S. News and World Report, said "every element that is represented on the National Security Council gave the President advice—military and civil. And that advice was extraordinarily unanimous."

Doesn't Want to Intervene in Pricing Process

President Speaks at 50th Annual Meeting of U.S. C. of C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

The President delivered to the chamber's 50th annual meeting a sober appeal for cooperation among business, labor and government. He said this would keep the economy stable, protect the dollar, and expand foreign commerce.

"These argue where conflict exists between private interests and government interest must be met by all of us who care for our country," Kennedy said.

In his first speech to any business organization since he forced the steel industry to withdraw its April price increase—a move widely criticized in industry—Kennedy assured the 4,000 businessmen and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

Instead, he said, the government is trying to develop a climate in which there is cooperation of the several segments of the economy, and in which the free forces of competition will serve to prevent inflation from damaging the dollar and inflating prices to consumers.

Kennedy was greeted with a rising ovation as he entered Constitution Hall, but many of the delegates did not join in the applause. But he quickly produced laughter with an observation that he was pleased to note that the chamber had chosen for its new president a man from Massachusetts.

"Then he added with a smile: 'I don't know how widely that is shared.'"

COMPLIMENTS CHAMBER
Kennedy complimented the chamber on its 50 years of service, declaring that the establishment of the chamber in 1912 was a turning point in the relationship of government with industry.

There was more laughter when he added: "And some say the events of this April also marked a turning point." From that reference to the steel-price battle, Kennedy went on to observe that he hoped this April would indeed have been a turning point in the sense that it may have awakened wider knowledge of the necessity for understanding between business, government and labor.

Nuisance Taxes Come to Life

Lawmakers at Roadblock

LANSING (AP) — After weeks of overtime sessions, the legislature is no closer to a solution of Michigan's nagging "money problems" than it was three months ago.

Income tax bills appear to be dead, and once again the patch-the-existing-tax — structure contingent is on the uprise.

The "nuisance" tax backers are moving now to gather their forces into a cohesive unit that can ram a package of levies on cigarettes, beer, liquor and what-ave-you through the legislature.

WANT TO GO HOME

If a majority rallies to their side this week, lawmakers can meet their May 11 target date for adjournment and go home to start working on re-election campaigns.

All of them dread a marathon summer battle that would carry close to the Aug. 7 primary and leave voters with a hostile attitude toward a legislature that couldn't get its work done.

While the tax writers go to work, the cut-the-expenses-to-the-bone platoon will get a chance to speak its piece again this week.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, who was elevated to Senate majority leader last week when Sen. Frank D. Beale, R-St. Clair, was thrown out for joining the income tax supporters.

Rain, Snow, Fog Covering Broad Area of Nation

By The Associated Press

Rain, light snow, fog and cool weather extended across broad areas of the nation today from the north Atlantic region into the Plateau states.

Warm and humid weather covered much of the South, with showers in prospect in the middle and lower Mississippi Valley and in the Gulf region.

Five inches of snow covered the ground in Fraser, Colo., and a late April snowstorm dumped about three inches in Denver.

Light rain and fog covered the north Atlantic area westward to the upper Mississippi Valley. The fog extended into Iowa and northern Illinois with thunderstorms reported in eastern Iowa.

Thunderstorms rumbled across scattered sections of western Kansas and Oklahoma and the extreme northern edge of north-central Texas. The Weather Bureau issued a forecast of hail storms and damaging windstorms in sections of Oklahoma.

Student Strikers Go 'Back to Work'

NEW BALTIMORE (AP) — All the strikers among Anchor Bay High School's students returned to classes today, for the start of the new school year.

The high school office reported conditions normal and "no incidents." Most of the school's 360 students went on a strike last Friday, refusing to attend classes in a protest over principal Rudolph Kamischke's firing and suspension of eight teachers.

Substitute teachers served in the place of the suspended teachers—disciplined for wearing black arm bands after defeat at the school district polls of a teacher tenure proposal.

Denies N-Bombs Based in Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said emphatically today there are no U.S. nuclear weapons in Japan or on any American military bases in Japan.

The comment followed a report from Canberra, Australia, quoting Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, chief of U.S. Air Forces in the Pacific, as saying the United States has nuclear-armed aircraft in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and the Philippines.

A request for the full statement of Pacific air chief was expected to be made. There was speculation that he may have made a slip of the tongue in listing Japan with other U.S. bases in the Pacific.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Felix Frankfurter's office said today he will not take part in the Supreme Court's work for the remainder of the court's present term but anticipates returning to the bench in October.

The 73-year-old justice has been in George Washington University Hospital since April 5 when he collapsed at his desk.

His office said in a statement that he is continuing to improve but that his physician had advised that he not return to the court until fall.

The present court term probably will run through June. There is no fixed date for the term to end. The justices decided in the light of the court's docket when to bring the term to a close.

Two Teen-Agers Hurt in Crash

Two Avon Township teen-agers escaped death yesterday evening when a car in which they were riding careened out of control and smashed into the front of a house in Rochester.

They are among four persons hospitalized in Pontiac today with injuries suffered in area traffic accidents over the weekend.

Critically injured in the Rochester crash was Marilyn V. Stok, 17, 183 Texas St. The driver of the car, John R. Mollica, 21, 200 W. Marynoll St., is reported to be in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Rochester police said Mollica was driving east on University Drive about 5 p.m. when his car went out of control as he attempted to pass another near Highway Street.

County Awards 3 Road Projects to Begin June 1

Bids have been awarded for three county road construction projects slated to get under way June 1.

Two bids totaling $31,782 went to the Oakland Paving Co. for construction on Farmington Road from 12 to 13 Mile roads and Richardson Road from Haggerty to Green Lake roads.

Peake Asphalt Paving Co. was awarded a $30,900 contract for work on Long Lake Road between Rochester and Dequindre roads.

Scheduled completion date of all three projects is July 14.

Denies N-Bombs Based in Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said emphatically today there are no U.S. nuclear weapons in Japan or on any American military bases in Japan.

The comment followed a report from Canberra, Australia, quoting Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, chief of U.S. Air Forces in the Pacific, as saying the United States has nuclear-armed aircraft in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and the Philippines.

A request for the full statement of Pacific air chief was expected to be made. There was speculation that he may have made a slip of the tongue in listing Japan with other U.S. bases in the Pacific.

Teacher Seeks Dem Nomination for Legislature

LONDON (AP) — Premier Churchill today said a call on Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, who is in Moscow on a private visit, Moscow Radio reported. It said they had a "friendly conversation."

A Livonia high school teacher has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as state representative from Oakland County's 4th district.

He is Archie H. Bailey, 25, of 4224 Griffith St., Berkeley, Calif., who teaches government and history at Livonia's Bentley High School and is treasurer of the Berkeley Democratic Club.

Leaders Mellow on Summit Talks

Macmillan has any plan to rush off to Moscow and British and American officials both said the present moment is not ripe for summery. The statement did, however, open the door to new possibilities — a series of top-level East-West talks, involving two, three, or four men depending on the nature of the problem. Khrushchev's reaction will be watched with interest.

The revised security treaty between the two countries calls for consultations in advance before any nuclear weapons are based in Japan.

O'Donnell's remark was virtually certain to touch off a furor among Japanese political parties.

The State Department's denial came after a similar statement from a U.S. 5th Air Force spokesman in Japan who said: "There are no nuclear weapons in Japan." The spokesman would not comment further.

O'Donnell's remarks were made at a news conference in response to a request to assess Red China's military strength he said the Communists had the capability to stir up trouble.

"But if there was an all-out war they would have to face what we can give them," he stated, then added his comment about the nuclear armed aircraft at Pacific bases.

The Day in Birmingham

New York City Organist Will Be May 15 Artist

BIRMINGHAM — Alec Wyton, organist and choir director of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City, will close the 1961-62 concert series at St. James Episcopal Church May 15.

Wyton, who also is headmaster of the Cathedral Choir School, has served as both organist and choir director in many famous churches in the U.S. and abroad.

Born in London, England, he graduated from the Royal Academy of Music, Oxford University, with a master of arts degree. Since 1948 he has been a fellow of the Royal College of Organists, and choirmaster since 1948.

He has been a fellow of the American Guild of Organists since 1950 and is a member of the New York Musician's Club.

Tickets for the 8:15 p.m. concert can be obtained at the church office or Grinnell Brothers in Birmingham.

Safety Checking Starts Tuesday

Cars Can Be Inspected Free at Many Places Throughout City

Vehicle Safety Check Month begins tomorrow in Pontiac sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic Safety Committee in cooperation with service clubs, new car dealers, filling station operators and the Pontiac Police Department.

Drivers will have the opportunity to safeguard themselves and others without cost by participating in the annual inspection.

Those passing inspection will be given safety stickers for their windshields. No motorist is placed under any obligation to repair defects found in the inspection. He is merely informed that they exist.

Kenneth S. Miller, traffic safety committee chairman, has appointed Robert T. Flynn as vehicle safety check chairman.

Committee members include Charles M. Tucker, Pontiac Police; Lt. Clayton Randolph and Sgt. Lawrence LaBair, Joseph J. Zabelski of the Automobile Club of Michigan; Dean Wilson and Sherman Van Deusen, driver training instructors; and Mrs. James St. Louis and Dr. George Harkless.

During the entire month, motorists may have their cars inspected at dealers and filling stations displaying free check up signs.

From May 15-19, vehicle safety check lanes will be set up at various spots in the city on main streets and an eye vision test trailer will be located at Huron and Saginaw streets for free vision examination.

The vehicle checks will cover brakes, rear view mirror and windshield wipers.

MSUO Students on 'Peace Walk' Along Woodward

A small group of marchers, most of them Michigan State University students, walked along Woodward Avenue from Pontiac to Birmingham yesterday to protest nuclear weapons testing.

The group, numbering about 15 to 20 persons, was very orderly and paraded along the side of the road from the old Oakland County Courthouse to the northern edge of Birmingham, according to Birmingham police.

A spokesman for the marchers, Sheila O'Rourke, 1439 Pontiac Drive, Sylvan Lake, said the "peace walk" was a protest by "local residents who oppose nuclear testing whether it's done by the United States or the Soviet Union."

Birmingham police earlier had warned the marchers that they must keep to the side of the road to avoid being charged with violating of a city ordinance.

JFK Appeals for Economic Cooperation

The country were not overwhelming or defeating when he was elected, Kennedy said, he has been impressed with the cooperation given by business groups ever since when the country has become involved in crisis.

In a speech prepared for delivery just after President Kennedy's scheduled appearance on the same platform, Chamber President Richard Wagner defended the steel price increase which Kennedy forced steel firms to cancel 2 1/2 weeks ago.

DENIES IMPRESSION

Wagner, a Chicago oilman, deplored and denied the mistaken impression which he said many people gained from the dramatic steel struggle—that inflationary pressures are fostered by industry's so-called greedy desire for profit.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Wagner told about 4,000 delegates at the opening session of the chamber's 50th annual meeting.

"Steel had already been subjected to three increases in wage costs as well as increases in the cost of raw materials at a rate in price."

The chamber president declared that some of the constitutional checks and balances of the power of the executive have eroded with the years. He said further erosion could lead to "dictatorship or personal government."

Kennedy's speech to the nation's biggest business organization was his first appearance before a business audience since he forced the country's major steel producers to withdraw their $6 a ton price increase.

Wagner, chairman of the executive committee of Chamberlain Oil & Refining Co., told the delegates in his keynote address that business, in seeking to preserve the curb on executive power, should not resort to name-calling and should work closely with government in the many fields in which there are common interests.

Wagner told the delegates that "the two culprits slowing down America's growth are first, high taxation accompanied by deficits because of excess spending, and second, wage increases at a rate that is in excess of gains in productivity."

Trace 1-Track-Minded Turtle

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — "There must be something we don't know when a turtle is able to make a trip from the Brazilian coast and arrive on Ascension Island, a speck of sand 1,800 miles away, on schedule," says a University of Florida biologist.

Dr. Archie Carr aims to find out how they do it.

"It's got to be more than just innate or random behavior to account for the turtle's navigating abilities," said Carr. "They're in communication with their environment in some way — either through the stars, the moon, the sun, or the earth's magnetic field."

To prove his belief, Carr proposed attaching miniature radios to the backs of turtles and tracking them over long distances. The Navy bought Carr's idea and plans to begin this summer.

Carr said the radios will transmit signals only when the turtles rise — at intervals from 30 seconds to three minutes. He said the marine turtles travel at a "maximum rate of about 20 to 30 miles a day."

The University of Florida biologist hopes the experiment will prove the turtle doesn't wander at random until it sights a landfall. If Carr is correct, the next step will be determining the source of the turtle's navigational aid.

In earlier experiments, Carr attached helium-filled balloons to turtles to track them.

Panhellenic Unit Plans

Set Tea for Coeds-to-Be

Pontiac City Panhellenic Association members are completing arrangements for their annual tea for prospective college girls and their mothers. The affair is slated Sunday at 3 p.m. in First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland's building.

Mrs. Russell T. Costello of Pine Lake Drive will be guest speaker for the afternoon. National Panhellenic delegate and a past national Delta Zeta Sorority president, Mrs. Costello will talk about college and sorority life.

Several area college students also will be on hand to model clothes worn on campus and answer questions about sororities at their schools.

All senior girls from Pontiac, Waterford, Clarkston and surrounding areas have been invited to attend the tea and to bring their mothers.

Mrs. Robinson L. Bronnel and Mrs. George Yansen are tea co-chairmen. Their committee chairmen include Mrs. Howard Owen, displays; Rosamond Haebler, music; Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm, decorations; and Mrs. John Irwin, name tags.

Huron Gardens Extension Club Elects Officers

The Huron Gardens Extension Club elected officers following a cooperative dinner in the home of Mrs. Walter Lehman of Tilden Avenue.

Mrs. Howard Reynolds is incoming chairman; Mrs. Norman Brown, vice chairman; Mrs. Leo Hould and Mrs. Robert Devine, leaders; Mrs. Harold Shaw, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Kahn, treasurer; and their chairman Mrs. Romeo Guibord, publicity; Mrs. Jerry Hould and Mrs. Harry Ales, recreation; and Mrs. Levi Geasler, flowers.

The lesson on "Upholstered Furniture Facts" was conducted by Mrs. Gerald Wright. Hostesses for the May 24 meeting will be Mrs. Reynolds of Boston Avenue.

Glamorous Grooming

Cologne and perfume can be as important to good grooming as your make-up requisites, according to a well-known beauty authority.

Most people like to be around someone who is wearing a pleasant fragrance, and the user always feels fresher and more glamorous.

Many women, however, feel that wearing a perfume or cologne during the day at home or at work is out of place. This is not so, especially if an appropriate, light scented fragrance is worn.

Besides giving you that well-groomed feeling, a fragrance can give you a mental and physical "pick-me-up."

If you are at work all day, carry a purse dispenser of cologne or perfume in your handbag.

Chairman of refreshments is Mrs. Philip Stomberg, assisted by Mrs. Richard Brosier, Mrs.

Glenn Cheek, Mrs. Howard Dell, Mrs. Thomas Shearer, Mrs. Arthur Bentley, Mrs. Andre De Wilde and Mrs. Charles Smith.

Chairman of the clean-up committee is Mrs. W. H. Ragsdale, assisted by Mrs. Wayne

J. Patterson. Working on the program committee are Mrs. Wayne Pyke, chairman, and Mrs. Crandall, invitation committee workers are Mrs. John Collison, chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Freyermuth and Mrs. William Belaney.

Wistful at the thought of leaving high school, but excited at the prospect of entering college next fall are these three high school seniors who will attend Sunday's annual Panhellenic tea.

A Kiss Is a Kiss Is a Kiss

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live in Anchorage, Alaska, and can tell you "Curious" reader that Eskimos do rub noses to show affection, but it is no substitute for a kiss. Also, please tell your readers that we do not live in igloos. The only igloo I ever saw was in a picture book and I am 42 years old.

ANCHORAGE RESIDENT DEAR ABBY: Take it from a GI who spent a year in Greenland: The only nose I rubbed among the Eskimos was my own!

"COLD PROPOSITION" DEAR ABBY: Yes, the Eskimos do rub noses instead of kissing for common sense reasons. It is so cold that if they kissed, their lips would get stuck together.

BUZZIE (Age 11) DEAR ABBY: May I quote Peter Freuchen, a Dane, and the foremost authority on Eskimos and their customs:

"A standard of beauty among the Eskimos is the nose. Eskimos do not kiss. They rub noses in greeting, but there is never any pressing of the lips together, not even when you meet a girl."

(signed) "NOSEY" DEAR ABBY: The Eskimos do not rub noses instead of kissing. Years ago, when the TB epidemic was a threat among the Eskimos, they

"OLD FUR TRADER"

DEAR ABBY: I am a retired Coast Guardsman who was assigned to the Alaska Seal-Patrol for 13 years. We traveled so far west we were actually going east all the way out to the Siberian Pribilof Islands. Eskimos do rub noses when they meet, but it's man-to-man, man-to-woman, brother-to-sister and all sorts of combinations. It is more like a handshake than a kiss.

DEAR SEAMAN: Thank you. I am so glad to know that a kiss is still a kiss!

December vows are planned by Sharon Ruth McRae, daughter of the Willard L. McRae, Sylvan Lake, to George K. Palaian, son of Mrs. Steve Palaian of Lowell Street and the late Mr. Palaian. She is a senior at Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing.

SHARON RUTH McRAE

Small Party at Home Is Better

By The Emily Post Institute Q: A relative of mine, aged 17, eloped three months ago. Her parents have just found out that she is married and expecting a baby. They are making plans to give a reception in a public hall, inviting about 200 people. A friend is also planning to give a shower for her.

I think, under the circumstances, the reception and shower are out of order and will leave the family open to criticism. Will you please give your opinion concerning this matter?

A: A large reception would be in questionable taste, but there is no reason why the bride's parents may not give a small reception at home in honor of their daughter's marriage and invite relatives and closest friends. It will be best to dispense with a bridal shower; later on, her friend could give a stork shower instead.

Q: My husband and I were married 20 years when I divorced him. After living apart for two years, we realized our mistake and were remarried. Next month we will have been married 23 years — that is, counting the two years we were separated. I would like to know if, under the circumstances, it would be proper to have a party of some kind to celebrate the occasion, even though we did not actually live together for 25 years.

A: It will be quite proper to ignore the two unhappy years we were separated and celebrate the 25th anniversary of your original wedding day.

Q: What are proper greetings to the bride and groom at their wedding reception? Also, what is one supposed to say to the parents? A: Congratulate the bride and groom with the bride happily. Make some polite remark to the parents, such as: "How lovely the bride is," or "What a charming couple they make," etc.

Do you find it difficult to eat spaghetti? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Square Dance Club Elects New Officers

The Allenanders Square Dance Club elected officers for 1962-3 at Saturday's dance, the last of the season.

Taking office in September will be Noble Meredith, president; Clifford Brackett, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Napier, King, secretary.

1st Baptist Pastor to Address WCTU

Rev. Robert Shelton, new pastor at the First Baptist Church, will speak before the Pontiac Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, May 22 in the Church of the Brethren on Rosekawn Avenue.

A workshop on cancer dressings and lap robes preceded last week's luncheon meeting in the home of Mrs. Helen R. Joseph of North Street. Mrs. Ray Fleming gave the afternoon program and devotions.

Sharon McRae Plans to Wed George Palaian

The engagement of Sharon Ruth McRae to George K. Palaian was announced at a dinner party Saturday in the Rochester home of his sister and brother-in-law, the Nazir Malkasians.

The Willard L. McRae, Sylvan Lake, are parents of the bride-elle, a senior at the Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Steve Palaian of Lowell Street and the late Mr. Palaian.

Attendees at the December wedding will be Helen Jane Spark, Sylvan Lake, honor maid; Sharon Clark, McClintock Drive, West Bloomfield Township, and Mary Sue Dahlberg, Sylvan Lake, will be bridesmaids, and Eve Palaian, junior attendant.

Among the 75 relatives from Bay City, Lansing and Detroit at the party was Mrs. Guy Platts, Port Sanilac, grandmother of the bride-ely.

Business Women MAKE OVER PAGES

Donation to Family Life Agency

Pontiac Business and Professional Women have made a contribution to one aspect of Family Service of Oakland County's program which is not supported through monies received by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

This is the Family Life Education program of the agency, geared to help prevent families from having problems which become so serious that professional help of the casework staff is necessary.

GROUP'S WORK Family Life Education discussion sessions are led by a professional staff member and they deal with subject matters concerned with family life. Such areas as understanding normal problems of childhood development; how to handle certain aspects of child behavior problems; understanding and dealing with the adolescent; problems of marital adjustment; and the "second forty years."

Discussion groups have been formed within the community and the agency has provided the professional leadership. The cost has been paid out of special funds from groups such as the Business and Professional Women.

PARTICIPANTS AIDED Individuals attending the Family Life Education sessions bring in any of their questions under the areas discussed. They also learn how other participants have handled similar leaders' understanding enables them to handle problems in a more beneficial way.

The money received from the Business and Professional Women of Pontiac will be used to give leadership to a group that is unable to provide the cost themselves.

Mrs. H. Anne Stapp, president of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, endorses a contribution club members have donated to Family Service of Oakland County's family life

Education program. Approving lookers on are Robert Jones, director of F.S.O.C., and Mrs. Leo McDonald, BPW vice president.

Women's Section

Solemnize Hansen-Baker Rites

A reception in Pine Lake Country Club followed the candlelight service of Judith Ann Baker to William R. Hansen spoken before Rev. Galen Hershey Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

Daughter of Mrs. Harry T. Baker of Navajo Drive and the late Mr. Baker, the bride was given in marriage by her brother James. The Lawrence Hansens of Pontiac Road are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride wore white silk organza over taffeta with beaded Alencon lace accenting the bateau neckline and hip yoke above the chapel train. A lace shell cap caught her veil of silk illusion and she held white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Gail Blamy of Birmingham served as maid of honor with bridesmaids Lynne Bentler, Bonnie Meade of Jackson; Barbara Nicholls of Rocky River, Ohio, and Mrs. A. Scott Koenig, Grand Rapids.

MRS. WILLIAM R. HANSEN

Bouquets of pink geraniums and ivy complemented their Romantic blue silk organza sheath dresses styled with floating panels anchored by a cabbage rose. They wore Venetian circlets of matching organza and maline. Joy Ann Wint of Clarkston was flower girl.

Carl E. Code Jr. stood as best man. Ushers were Harry VanMatre, Donald M. Lucas, Eston Smith and Lawrence Olliffe, Mount Pleasant.

Escorted by her son John, Mrs. Baker appeared in draped champagne chiffon with ribbon lace bodice, and hat of green and beige pink silk leaves. Mrs. Hansen chose a pale aquamarine silk organza sheath over taffeta with lace bodice. Cymbidium orchids rested on their purses.

After a brief northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will reside in Pontiac.

To 'Set' Tables

"America the Beautiful" will be the theme for an exhibit of table settings and flower arrangements by some 140 members of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Wednesday and Thursday at Wright Kay and Co., in downtown Detroit.

In appreciation of the efforts expended to make this showing a success, Wright Kay has presented a $1,000 award to the "Division for its Camp Kett Fund. Camp Kett is a 4-H Kett training center for youth leaders.

Presidents of WNF&G branches will be hostesses. Mrs. Clifford T. Ekland of the Pontiac Branch will be an honorary patroness. Pontiac Branch members exhibiting will be Mrs. C. L. Gately, Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell, Mrs. W. F. Maybury, Mrs. John H. Patterson and Mrs. Robert G. Isgrig.

A Thanksgiving dinner table entered by Mrs. Gately will feature a brown net tablecloth with felt applique of fruits and vegetables, handmade by Mrs. L. Warren Gately. A fruit centerpiece will complete the arrangement.

White flowers in a white Roy al Dalton ballerina will center Mrs. Rockwell's "Sweet Sixteen" luncheon table. Gray Wedgwood in a fleur-de-lis pattern on a gold cloth will be used.

Sixteen-inch American eagle-etched hurricane lamps with white candles and red geraniums will be used for a "Fourth of July Buffet" being arranged by Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Isgrig.

A white antique, French lace cloth with flag blue undercloth, will complement white and silver Lenox china. Mrs. Maybury will exhibit an original floral centerpiece.

The exhibit hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Concert Set for May 16

The Pontiac Women's Chorus will present the annual spring concert, May 16, at 8:15 p.m. in Pontiac Central High School auditorium. George Scott is director and Charles Wilson, accompanist.

Other officers are Mrs. Elroy Laidlaw, financial secretary, Royal Oak; Mrs. Keith Bliss, parliamentarian, Franklin; and Mrs. Lewis Wake, treasurer, P.A. president, Huntington Woods.

Directors who will be installed include: Mrs. Robert Maxwell, Mrs. William Moore and Mrs. Duncan McCallum, all of Birmingham.

Among the retiring directors who will be honored are Mrs. Robert Calver, Mrs. Lyman Craig Jr. and Mrs. Ross Hanson, also of Birmingham.

Mrs. George Trumbull, Bloomfield Hills, program and hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Vincent Russell of Pleasant Ridge are in charge of the day's arrangements.

Sheila Kinder Weds

Miniature white, calla lilies, ruffled on the white prayer book held by Sheila Darlene Kinder as she exchanged vows and rings with Richard A. Binn Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church. Rev. C. George Wilder performed the candlelight ceremony.

'Triple tiers of silk illusion held by a jeweled crown bloused over her gown of white silk tulle. Amon lace, touched with pearls, accentuated the scoop neckline and was repeated on the bouffant chapel-length skirt.

Parents of the bride are the Vester Kanders of Carr Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arnold Binn of Monticello Street and the late Mr. Binn.

Bouquets of daffodils were held by Carol Anne Carr, maid of honor and Mrs. Roy Turner, bridesmaid who wore apricot nylon sheer dresses.

On the require side were Roy Turner, best man, with the bride's brother Dennis ushering with Harry Moore.

After greeting some 300 guests at the reception in Knights of Columbus Hall, the newlyweds left for a Florida honeymoon by way of the Blue Ridge Mountains. They will live in Indianapolis. Mr. Binn is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Mrs. Kinder chose a royal blue tulle sheath dress for the wedding. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a two-piece dress of soft green silk shantung.

Interlochen Adds More Woodwinds

INTERLOCHEN — A resident woodwind quintet composed of well known concert performers is the latest addition to the permanent faculty of the new Interlochen Arts Academy, according to Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, president of the academy. The quintet includes Ramona Dahlborg, flutist; Don T. Jaeger, oboist; Fred E. Ormand, clarinetist; Donald Wayne Haddad, hornist; and Melinda Dalley, bassoonist.

Miss Dahlborg is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, and has been an instructor at both Juilliard and Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. She has performed with the Yale University Symphony and has given recitals in Town Hall and Carnegie Hall in New York.

The other four are first chair players with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra and members of the Amarillo College Woodwind Quintet which has also made concert appearances in New York and throughout the country.

With Miss Dahlborg they will continue doing concert performances at the Interlochen Woodwind Quintet in addition to teaching at the arts academy. Dr. Maddy said he also plans to have a resident string quartet for concert appearances.

Most key positions on the arts academy faculty have now been filled, he added. Heading the academy's science department will be a British scientist, John Charles Range, graduate of Trinity College, Oxford, England and exchange teacher of science at Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, New Hampshire.

The academy, which opens next September, is a specialized school for gifted students of high school age. It will offer a full college preparatory course but with emphasis on music and the arts.

You Can Do It

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Once upon a time molasses and sulphur were given to a victim of spring fever. Today, a new, flowered hat and a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds is the more modern prescription and much more effective.

So many women hover around a truly lovely figure, but always remain a few pounds away from it. This seems a shame because those few pounds can be lost so quickly, once a woman makes up her mind.

Since we become especially figure conscious in the spring of the year (because nature is redecorating herself and because summer is only a short time away), I bring you my 9-day reducing diet at about this time each year.

In case you do not know about this quick reducing plan, you can lose from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days if you will follow the menus which will appear in this

Here are the menus for tomorrow:

BREAKFAST
Half grapefruit.
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, black coffee

Valentine-Harrell Vows

Wed in Evening Rites

A reception at Saginaw Country Club followed candlelight vows of Judith Ann Harrell to Christopher M. Valentine Saturday evening in St. Matthews Episcopal Church, Saginaw. Rev. Lewis Towler officiated.

Their parents are the Joseph H. Harrells of Saginaw and the Michael Valentines of Lansdowne Road, Drayton Plains.

The classic floor-length bridal gown of blossom white mousseline line de sole featured a fitted bodice with wide curved double-lapels appliqued with Gulpure lace. The exquisite lace was repeated at the highling waistline and on the bracelet-length sleeves.

A tiered silk illusion veil attached to a pearl tiara and a cascade of tulle of the valley and white roses completed the bride's ensemble.

ATTENDED SISTER

Crescents of pale yellow roses and white carnations complemented crepe-backed aquamarine satin dresses for the attendants.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. James Hatfield, was matron of honor. Mary Jo Harrell attended her sister as bridesmaid, with Alice Jeffers of Mair.

Robert C. Pace, Clarkson, stood as best man. Guests were seated by Louis H. Harrell, Detroit, Robert Johnston, Birch Run, and James Hatfield.

The new Mrs. Valentine is a junior at Michigan State University where her husband received his degree. He is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Human Error Still Major Problem

Complex Air Traffic Control Problem Being Solved

Editor's Note — There have been four fatal collisions involving commercial airliners since 1956. On March 21, there was almost a fifth. The following dispatch discusses the weaknesses and strengths of the present traffic control system.

By ROBERT J. SEERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — Q. What deficiencies did the March 21 incident disclose?

A. No weaknesses that were not already known to exist. It stemmed largely from human error, and the human error stemmed largely from the pressures generated by an antiquated system of keeping track of traffic.

Q. Why in this year of 1962 and this age of electronic marvels should there be anything antiquated about controlling air traffic?

A. The entire Air Traffic Control (ATC) system is not antiquated. But one of its major segments has not changed since 1938. Namely, controllers record flight information on strips of paper that are placed in racks and moved up or down in accordance with altitude changes. Each strip contains the name of the airline, flight number and current altitude. It is laborious, slow and inefficient.

The controller responsible for the near-tragedy over Washington was handling eight such strips simultaneously and forgot to mark one of them with a revised altitude.

The obvious need is a device that will keep track of flights electronically so controllers can concentrate on fewer planes and fewer problems. Such a device is being developed.

Q. What is being done to reduce the strains and stresses of a controller's job?

A. First, improved training at the Federal Aviation Agency's Air Training Center in Oklahoma City. Second, FAA is conducting medical research designed to pinpoint specific pressures and recommend means of easing them.

Third, the agency is rapidly adding modernized control towers and more efficient working conditions.

Fourth, FAA is trying to obtain funds that would let controllers retire after 20 years of service. Fifth, controllers are being allowed longer and more frequent rest periods.

Q. Is controller training adequate for the increasing demands?

A. The Oklahoma City facility is regarded as one of the world's finest. Many foreign countries sent their own ATC personnel there. A good indication of its thoroughness is the fact that 54 per cent of the trainees that before they even get into a control center.

Q. How come the federal government has spent millions of dollars since 1956 and we're still having near collisions?

A. FAA officials themselves admit that research for the past few years has been overconcentrated on an extremely complicated ATC system that still is years away from achievement. There has been too little done in the way of immediate, interim improvements.

Also, it has been difficult to attract top electronics personnel from private industry into lower-paying jobs. The chief weakness in FAA's research program has been a lack of top-notch management personnel to give the program some hard-fisted direction and decision.

Q. Do you mean there has been no progress since the 1956 collision over Grand Canyon?

A. Not as much as there should have been but actually more than the "cries of doom" would have you believe. Vast improvements have been made in controlling en route traffic, particularly at high altitudes involving the jets.

There is much better coordination between military and civil ATC. Use of radar has been expanded in fantastic proportions.

The FAA has streamlined ATC by reducing the number of controlling centers from 29 to 21, which means there are fewer "hand-offs" from one jurisdiction to another and that it is a significant safety advance. The chief bottleneck still involves traffic near airports themselves, when congestion mounts.

Q. What is the chief reason for near-collisions?

A. Basically, the trouble lies in the mixing of traffic flying under visual rules and traffic operating under instrument rules. The latter planes are monitored, controlled and separated by ATC.

The former are not, and the majority of potential and actual collisions involve at least one aircraft not operating under ATC guidance.

One point to remember is that just keeping airplanes apart is fairly simple; most of the headaches involve the far greater numbers of private, business and military aircraft.

Q. When will we get significant improvements?

A. FAA Administrator Joseph E. Halaby does not expect major reductions in near-collision incidents much earlier than three years.

There will be constant improvements within that time but Halaby's three-year estimate is for really drastic developments—such as semiautomation.

Q. Then shouldn't I feel squeamish about flying around in a sky apparently loaded with potential disaster?

A. There is no use hiding the fact that near-collisions occur too frequently. But the fact that they are only "near-collisions" points to some underrated safeguards in the ATC system.

Probe of Rate Hike by Gas Co. Ordered

LANSING (AP) — A hearing and an investigation were ordered by the state public service commission yesterday on rate increases put into effect last fall by Michigan Gas Utilities Co.

The commission ordered the company to show cause at a hearing here June 18 why its rates should not be reduced or revised.

A petition by the city of Monroe for a rehearing of the commission's order granting the increase was denied, since it was filed six months after the new rates took effect.

Planes get on potential collision courses daily. But while ATC cannot always prevent two aircraft from starting on such a course, it does act soon enough to keep the incident from becoming an accident.

Q. What major anticollision tool is next in sight?

A. The FAA's most immediate goal is an automatic altitude-reporting device, which will be part of the present "transponders" already in use on jets.

The "transponder" flashes to a radar station a plane's exact position. Scientists are working on a refinement that would add altitude information to transponder communications.

The altitude reports would appear automatically on the radar screen next to the plane's image. Achievement of this major advance should come well within the three years estimated for overall revisions in ATC.

'M' Nine Wins Pair to Gain Lead Share

By the Associated Press
Michigan, defending Big Ten baseball champion, climbed into a first place tie with Illinois by sweeping a doubleheader from Minnesota Saturday.

The Wolverines scored 8-3 and 3-2 victories over Minnesota while Illinois defeated Indiana 3-1 and then saw its five-game winning streak end as the Hoosiers capped the second game of a doubleheader, 3-2.

Ohio State climbed within one game of the leaders by taking a pair from Purdue, 5-0 and 5-2. Wisconsin defeated Northwestern, 4-3 and 3-2, while Iowa and Michigan State split with the Hawkeyes winning, 13-10 and Michigan coming back for a 7-3 win in the nightcap.

None of the contending teams will meet this weekend. Friday's games find Illinois at Wisconsin, Iowa at Indiana, Michigan at Michigan State, Minnesota at Ohio State and Purdue at Northwestern.

Doubleheaders Saturday have Illinois at Northwestern, Iowa at Ohio State, Michigan State at Michigan, Minnesota at Indiana and Purdue at Wisconsin.

ERRORS HURT
Ron Johnson limited Indiana to one run in the first game.

Michigan State took advantage of five Iowa errors to win the nightcap in which Dick Sutton tripled home the winning run in the seventh and then romped home on a sacrifice fly for an insurance tally.

Two hits in the second game of their doubleheader, four errors and a wild pitch by Johnson led to Illinois' defeat. Doug Mills twirled a four-hit victory for Illinois in the first game.

Michigan took advantage of six Minnesota errors to win a victory and then made it a sweep when Dennis Spalla slammed a three-run homer in the fourth inning of the nightcap.

Ohio State received shutout pitching from Dave Stazinski in the opener but the Buckeyes had to score three runs in the eighth inning of the second game to vanquish the Bollermakers and remain one game off the pace.

Michigan and Illinois have 5-1 records and Ohio State is 4-2. Wisconsin (3-3) pulled into a fourth place tie with Indiana on its one-run triumph over Northwestern.

Wisconsin scored three runs in the fourth inning of the opener and then captured the nightcap when Russ Williams hit a sacrifice fly in the final inning to chase home the winning run.

Iowa scored five runs in the first inning on a Bob Sherman three-run homer and a two-run triple by Howie Kennedy but the Hawkeyes had to come back with six in the eighth to win their first game.

BIG IN TEXAS—Arnold Palmer, who put on one of his great finishes Sunday to win the Texas Open for the third time in a row, is surrounded by enthusiastic youngsters seeking autographs. Palmer birdied three of the last four holes to win the 72 holes.

Patented Palmer Finish Wins Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer slammed a 7-iron 170 yards within 18 inches of the pin on the 18th hole in another of his dramatic finishes Sunday. He sank the birdie putt and became the first man to win the $30,000 Texas Open three years in a row. It was Palmer's third birdie on the four closing holes and he gave him a four-under-par 67 and 273 for 72 holes for a one-stroke triumph.

Palmer, who wins his greatest victories by coming from behind, had done it again and the huge crowd on the 18th green sensed he had won although two mighty contenders for the title—Gene Littler and Joe Campbell—were yet to come in and could tie Palmer if they also banded birdies.

SIGHTS RECORD
Palmer won his fourth tournament of the year and ran his money earnings to $41,308.33. That was for only four months, and with 28 more tournaments to go it is possible that he can better the all-time record of $75,262.85 that he set in 1960.

Palmer has won three tournaments this year by coming from behind. He did it at Palm Springs. He tied for the Masters with a birdie barrage on the final holes and then came from behind in the playoff to win the title. Then there was Sunday when Palmer gave the crowd just what it had expected—he came from two strokes back on the final 18 holes to win.

TOP MONEY

Dave Marr shot a 70 for 276 and placed sixth money of $1,400.

Defense Michigan Highlight

From Our News Wires
George Salmes, Michigan State's great fullback of last season, is picking up where he left off.

For the second week in a row, Salmes scored three of the first four touchdowns to give his team a 27-0 halftime lead. Harry Ammon added the fifth touchdown on a 39-yard pass following a pass interception. Earl Lattin also scored.

Dan Underwood, a right end, was the game's only casualty. He bruised his right shoulder but is expected to play in the Old Timers game, May 12.

The blues, composed chiefly of varsity players, defeated the whites 30-6 Saturday in the University of Michigan's second major scrimmage of spring football practice.

Coach Bump Elliott later said his offense was "ragged and loose," while the defense showed some improvement.

Quarterback Dave Glinka pitched a 35-yard scoring pass to captain Bob Brown, and Bob Timberlake, a potential sophomore signal-caller, set up the second touchdown with a 25-yard pass to end John Yanz.

All other scores were accomplished by runs from inside the 10.

State Women's Meet Ends; One New Leader at Michigan Men's

A Cleveland duo is champion of the 1962 Milford Doubles at Fairgrounds, the Michigan State Women's tourney is over for another year and the Michigan Men's event has a new leader in all events.

Dick Gonder and Joe Davino rolled 1,437 several weeks ago and the score held up through yesterday's finish. Jim Copley Jr. and Phil Syrak of Dearborn wound up 2nd at 1,417. Harold Bauman of Royal Oak and Ferdiand's Don Zimmerman teamed for 1,411 for 3rd.

Bob Garrett and John Sawyer, Fort Lee, 1,409 and Ralph Beeman and Harry Crag of Milford 1,400.

Edmond Oldsbridge of Detroit won handicap honors with 3,017 and runnerup Process Mold, Warren, had high actual of 2,817 at the women's battle in Muskegon.

Marie Erskine-Mary Kennedy of Hemlock won handicap doubles at 1,264. Detroit stars Elvira Toepfer and Anita Cantello led in actual at 1,177. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids won singles and all events actual with 621 and 1,878. James Walters of Greenville took single handicap with 726. Joyce Roselle, Detroit, won all events handicap on 1,929.

John Grabetz of Monroe fired 213 to go ahead in men's competition at Kalamazoo.

State Ladies Threats at Pro Keg Tourney
NORWALK, Calif. (UPI)—Two Grand Rapids, Mich., women, including perennial champion Mrs. Marion Ladewig, were within striking distance of the lead today in the Women's Professional Bowling Association tourney here.

Patty McBridge had 1,653 and Mrs. Ladewig had 1,625 as the 16-game, two-day $7,100 tourney reached the halfway mark.

The leaders were Ruby Chon, Oakland, Calif., and Carol Shevlin, Bufilejo, N.Y., tied at 1,600.

To Vote Constitution as One Document?

LANSING — It is highly likely that Michigan will vote on its new constitution as a complete document, and not section by section.

Indications make this virtually a foregone certainty, and the final decision could come today or tomorrow.

A resolution proposing one package submission was on the calendar for today's session.

Twelve of the convention's 14 committee chairmen voted in an informal Associated Press poll for submission of the new basic law as a whole.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Public Hearing Stated on Southfield's Budget

SOUTHFIELD—Local residents will have the opportunity to air their views on the city's proposed budget of $2,287,671 for next year at a public hearing Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Southfield High School on Lahser and 10 Mile roads.

The city council and Administrator Donald V. Smith held the last of several meetings on the budget, up $311,669 over this year's, on Saturday. For the first time since Southfield became a city, all department heads were present.

Among them were Civil Defense Director Louis J. Angelo, whose budget had been long-awaited by the council. Angelo, an appointee of Mayor S. James Clarkson, has been under fire by Councilman John J.

OLGA BARKELEY,
City Clerk

One chairman said he favored "submission in sections, not to exceed five." Another said his final decision on whole - hog or piecemeal balloting will depend "on the end result, because I wouldn't want to lose all due to some highly controversial section."

All 14 chairmen are Republicans. Their party holds two-thirds of the convention's 144 seats, and one chairman said by far one package submission represented the overwhelming view of GOP delegates.

Nine Democratic delegates, however, have served notice they'll fight for section-by-section submission to the people. Some published reports, neither confirmed nor denied by Democratic leaders, have said that party may attempt to get some sections on the ballot by petition that would compete with convention-adopted portions.

REJECT PLAN
The convention's rules and resolutions committee, with at least one Democrat voting "aye," last week turned down a Democratic-sponsored sectional submission plan and adopted instead a resolution calling for voter "acceptance or rejection as a single document."

The proposal was on today's calendar.

Glenn S. Allen Jr., R-Kalamazoo, told the resolutions committee that to work out wording whereby voters could accept some sections of the new and let some sections of the old constitution stand "would take an other six months."

Allen and others pointed out the convention had been reworking in its entirety the 1908 constitution, not merely proposing sectional changes.

In recommending one-package submission, the resolutions committee said: "We MUST BE CONFUSED!"

"The provisions of the proposed new constitution adopted to date are inter-related and decisions made have been interdependent and submission in pieces rather than as a whole could result in confusion at the polls and in a patchwork document."

The proposal of the nine Democrats, headed by convention vice president Tom Downs of Detroit, would lump into a single package items that have won overwhelming bipartisan approval and submit separately sections that are highly controversial, so that voter antipathy to one controversial item will not jeopardize "all."

Walled Lake Studies Budget With Tax Hike

WALLED LAKE — A proposed budget of $127,000, requiring a $2-tax increase over the current $15 levy for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, is being studied by the City Council here.

Proposed expenditures for the 1962-63 fiscal year have been estimated at $5,000 above the present budget. The additional revenue would provide the city with approximately $10,000 in new funds.

City Manager Harold M. Spangh said a proposed street improvement program, together with capital expenditures in the police, fire and road departments, have necessitated the tax increase.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for May 21.

The tax hike, if approved by the council, would be the first for city residents in several years. Two years ago they received a $3 reduction, giving them the $15 rate.

Last year, a dollar-and-a-half increase was proposed but the council adjusted the proposed budget and was able to keep the tax rate at $15.

The $17 levy would provide the city with $79,000 from general property taxes. State sales tax would give the city another $25,000. The remainder would come from fees, penalties and fines.

The proposed police budget shows a $6,000 increase over current expenditures. This includes, however, nearly $2,000 in wages for volunteers. Total proposed expenditures are $35,143.

The preliminary fire department budget has been increased by about $1,500.

Band Festival Tomorrow Night

ROMEO—The annual "Festival of Bands" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow by the instrumental department of the Romeo Community schools in the high school gymnasium.

The first year band of beginners from the fifth grade will open the program to be followed by the sixth grade band playing three numbers.

Next will be the seventh grade musicians who will present a group of four selections. The "B" band of the junior high, which is made up of eighth grade students, will offer three numbers.

The cadet band then will demonstrate the ability and talent its members displayed to win a first division rating at the state regional junior high band festival.

The program will close with three numbers by the senior high band.

A Ray Township youth was one of two Macomb County 4-H overall achievement award winners announced Saturday night at Richmond High School in Richmond.

Nine other Romeo area 4-H workers were named top award winners.

Gary L. Reed, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed of 1925 29-Mile Road, was named one of the two top achievers in Macomb County 4-H work.

Bonnie Kay Holms, 17, of Mount Clemens, was the other winner of the overall achievement award.

Romeo area 4-H Club members dominated the awards in the share-the-fun contests.

Randy Campbell, 12, and his brother, Brian, 12, both of 5607 Romeo Plank Road, Washington, and George Rang, 12, of 5949 Romeo Plank Road, Washington, were three in a group of four that won in the large group division with a parody skit.

Janet Rauch, 15, of 1044 Eberling Road, Romeo, and Rosemary Dahn, 13, of 17320 Pratt Road, Romeo, were winners in clothing competition. Their entries will go to the state show.

"Thanks, Dad"

Your boy will thank you for investing in the "Estate Builder"

Look what a $5,000 "Estate Builder" is doing for this young fellow.

His father started an Estate Builder for him at age one, at a fixed annual premium of $23. At age 21, his $5,000 policy will automatically increase to $25,000 with no change in premium. (The Cash Surrender Value at age 21 is $4,645.) Let's assume his $25,000 policy continues in force to age 65 and his dividends are left to accumulate at the current favorable rate. (Keep in mind that the dividend scale necessarily changes from time to time.) He will then have three choices: $41,786 in cash; or $282 monthly income for life; or $24,216 in cash plus a paid-up participating policy of $23,070.

House Gets Down to Work After 10-Day Break

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House knuckled down to work today after a 10-day Easter vacation, while the Senate plods along with its debate over a bill to prevent racial discrimination in voter literacy tests.

No major bills were ticketed for immediate consideration in the House, but before the end of the week leaders hope to bring up a bill urged by President Kennedy to set up a private corporation to own and operate a communications satellite system.

Before the week ends Senate leaders reportedly plan to initiate a move to clamp a time limit on the debate that began last Wednesday on the voter literacy bill — the administration's principal civil rights measure.

The bill, strongly opposed by its Southern foes, would exempt anyone with a 6th-grade education from having to take a state literacy test to qualify as a voter in presidential and congressional elections.

The first step in invoking the Senate's filibuster rule is filing of a cloture — or debate limitation — petition signed by 16 senators.

Once such a petition is filed, it automatically is put to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on the second day thereafter. Its adoption requires a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

A two-thirds majority never has been obtained for breaking a filibuster against a civil rights bill, but party leaders say they may have a better chance this time after the 1961 Democratic and Republican platforms called for a literacy test measure.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has said that if the move fails by a substantial margin, the bill will be laid aside. If the vote is close, he said, a second attempt will be made after more debate.

With the rules barring committee hearings while the Senate is in session, without unanimous consent, some committees have canceled their meetings for the duration of the battle.

MEETING CALLED

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called a meeting today, however, to start work on the administration's $2.9-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

This is one of many major pieces of legislation urged by Kennedy that remained to be acted on as Congress reached the halfway point in its planned eight-month session.

Only five of Kennedy's 35

major recommendations have pace is anticipated in the months

Cubans Warned to Hear Castro

Government Cautions Against Attempts to Leave May Day Rally

HAVANA (AP) — Cubans had a warning today against any attempt to walk out, on Prime Minister Fidel Castro when he addresses the big May Day rally in Jose Marti Plaza.

The Communist newspaper Hoy said no one would be allowed to leave the plaza-site of major government-sponsored demonstrations — until hearing the last words of the revolution's leader.

Plans went ahead for the show after a weekend that brought the first open antigovernment outburst in Havana in seven months and the dismissal of another official of the Integrated Revolutionary Organization, Cuba's only legal political body.

Witnesses said about 50 demonstrators unfurled banners demanding the release of political prisoners at a busy Havana corner Saturday night. They had mingled with a crowd assembled for a pep rally in connection with the May Day celebrations.

Police, apparently tipped off quickly squelched the hostile outburst and rushed some of the demonstrators away.

It was the first reported demonstration against the Castro regime since about 4,000 persons in a Roman Catholic procession rose up with anti-Communist denunciations last September and tried to march on the Presidential Palace.
