Tough U.S. Stance Asked by Clifford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford yesterday called for a tougher United States negotiating position toward Russia by pushing missile development and defense.

Clifford also came out strongly for keeping "a significant American military presence in Western Europe," which feels threatened by the concentration of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia.

The defense chief's statements before the National Press Club were among several developments yesterday to indicate a toughening attitude.

Clifford appeared at the Press Club luncheon after a series of high level policy discussions, including a session of the National Security Council chaired by President Johnson.

HARD LINE STUDIED

Those sessions weighed the implications of Russia's reversion to a hard line, and possible action the United States might take at the diplomatic and military level to shore up Western defenses.

There were these related developments:

● Citing the Czech situation, the State Department announced cancellation of a tour of Russia by the University of Minnesota concert band and a second ceremonial flight marking the start of commercial air service between New York and Moscow.

● Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, commenting after a White House meeting, said there was a possibility the Senate will not act this year on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

● The State Department branded as "indecent and outrageous" attacks in the Soviet press which said the Atlantic Alliance had planned to take over Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

Clifford announced that "in the light of all current developments our prudent course is to press forward as planned with the Sentinel" antimissile system.

Pentagon officials, searching for possible savings to meet congressional demands for a $3-billion defense spending cut this year, had considered delaying a start on the Sentinel for some months.

'HANDS-OFF' ORDERED

But Clifford disclosed he had ordered that the $5-billion Sentinel system be exempt from any such economy cuts.

At the same time, Clifford defended the testing of advanced Minuteman and Poseidon missiles equipped with multiple warheads which could be targeted on several enemy cities after being carried aloft by a single launcher.

The defense secretary declared he feels the decision to go ahead with the Sentinel "would both improve the chances of talks and the negotiating climate, should such talks take place."

THEY WANT SCHOOL — Four young girls picket their school in Gladwin to protest the fact it hasn't opened yet. A deadlock between the Gladwin Education Association and board of education has kept the classrooms shut. The pickets are Kim Smith, 11; Karen Howarth, 10; Lisa Coleman, 10, and Patty Smith, 9.

Kelley Urges Speed Cuts on Two-Lane Roads

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today advocated lowering speed limits on two-lane highways to 50 miles an hour during the day and 45 miles an hour at night.

Kelley spoke at a Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conference at Cheboygan.

★ ★ ★

The attorney general said four times as many people are killed in Michigan by traffic accidents as by crime on the streets. He called for "some hard steps to meet the spiraling traffic death rate."

"It has been known for several years that the most dangerous roads in our state are not the expressways but the two-lane roads," Kelley said.

DIFFICULTY RECOGNIZED

"I recognize the difficulty in reducing the speed limits on these roads, but I recognize that the alternative appears to be greater death and carnage," the attorney general said.

★ ★ ★

He said the speed limit reduction also has the backing of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Kelley also urged that the State Legislature pass laws to enable Michigan to qualify for federal funds under the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1968.

Steps that must be taken before the state can qualify for the federal funds, Kelley said, include:

★ ★ ★

● A medical evaluation board to advise the secretary of state on physical competency requirements for motorists.

● Special examinations and training for motorcyclists.

★ ★ ★

● Regulation of commercial driver training schools.

● Authority to chemically test dead and unconscious victims of traffic accidents suspected of having been drinking.

PREDICTION HALT ASKED

Kelley also called for "a halt to our weekend death lottery by ending the death predictions given out by some highway safety authorities predicting how many people will die during a holiday weekend then keeping a running tally to check the death-guess experts.

★ ★ ★

"This has not proven to be a valuable tool in keeping those deaths down," he said.

Doctor's Retrial Plea Denied

A Farmington Township physician serving a 3-to-15-year sentence in the State Prison at Jackson for manslaughter in the death of his part-time nurse was denied a new trial yesterday.

Philip Rowston, defense attorney for Dr. Ronald E. Clark, said Clark has 60 days to request permission to appeal the decision of Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Rowston's responsibility as a court-appointed attorney ended with the rejection of the petition for the new trial.

He had sought the new trial on several grounds, including evidence uncovered since Clark's conviction June 28.

OVERDOSE CITED

Clark, 56, of 30735 Grand River, was found guilty by an Ingham County jury of causing the death of Mrs. Grace Neil, 43, of Livonia, by administering an overdose of sodium pentothal, the so-called truth serum.

If Rowston's petition for a new trial had been granted, he had intended to offer an expert witness who would have testified that the quantity of the drug found in Mrs. Neil was not lethal and did not cause her death.

★ ★ ★

Clark was not present during arguments yesterday in Ingham County. The case had been transferred there originally by Beer after Rowston contended that local news coverage of the case would prevent Clark from receiving a fair trial in Oakland County.

Pueblo Plans Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department says it has no knowledge of any preparations among families of the Pueblo crewmen to welcome home the captives, still being held in North Korea.

Asked about rumors families were being given government help to arrange a West Coast reception for the men, a department spokesman said yesterday "I would seriously doubt that." He reiterated the department had no confirmation of various reports the men would be released soon.

Air Logjam Eases; Many Factors Cited

NEW YORK (AP) — Air travelers are getting up, up and away easier these days, although some slight delays in landings and takeoffs are still reported at major airports.

An Associated Press survey yesterday showed several reasons for the improvement—a seasonal decline in the number of flights, unusually good weather and fewer equipment breakdowns.

★ ★ ★

A Federal Aviation Administration spokesman at Kennedy Airport said air traffic conditions at New York's metropolitan area jetports were "a lot better" than they were during the crowded days of July.

It was in July that the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization—which claims 7,000 members—began a "follow the book" slowdown, strictly enforcing FAA safety rules which are sometimes bent in periods of peak congestion.

The FAA spokesman at Kennedy said that delays were limited to from 40 minutes to an hour, and then only during peak travel periods.

The FAA officials said the improvement was due to better weather, fewer breakdowns in air controller radar and communications equipment, fewer flights during the late summer season and diversions of some flights from Kennedy to LaGuardia or Newark airports.

At National Airport in Washington, the FAA said there had been no reportable delays — those of over 30 minutes — since the Labor Day weekend.

Pleasant Weekend Forecast for Area

A pleasant weekend is in store for the Pontiac area. Sunny skies are expected to warm the countryside tomorrow and Sunday.

Here is the day-by-day official U.S. Weather Bureau prediction:

TODAY — Partly cloudy and cool with a chance of brief light showers this afternoon or evening. High 66 to 73. Fair to partly cloudy and cool tonight.

Westerly winds will continue at eight to 18 miles per hour.

TOMORROW—Mostly sunny and mild.

SUNDAY — Fair and warmer.

Precipitation probabilities: Today 20 per cent.

Fifty-four was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury stood near 69 at 2 p.m.

Firemen's Gala Set for Sept. 18

The annual Pontiac Firemen's Festival, scheduled for Sept. 18 at Wisner Stadium, will feature entertainment ranging from a parade to fireworks.

★ ★ ★

In between the opening motorcade-march from the Pontiac Mall and the closing fireworks display, music, equipment demonstrations and a tug-of-war will be highlighted.

★ ★ ★

More than 1,000 persons, plus fire vehicles, are expected to march down Saginaw to the stadium beginning at 6 p.m.

The exclusively motorized portion of the parade will leave the Mall at 5:30 to join marchers at Saginaw and Pike.

MUSICAL PERFORMERS

Music will be provided by the Detroit Fire Department Band and The Firehouse Five singing group.

In addition, the state, national and international champion drill team, the Rae-Vens, will perform and a tug-of-war will be held between the Pontiac-area fire departments' clowns and the Box 113 Club of the Pontiac Fire Department.

★ ★ ★

Door prizes will be awarded.

Demonstrators will include ladder and hose evolutions and the use of expansion foam on a propane gas blaze.

Admission for all events is free.

City Urged: Keep Buses Going

By ED BLUNDEN

One of the area's leading planning officials has urged Pontiac to take whatever steps necessary to preserve its bus system.

Speaking yesterday to the Pontiac Rotary Club was Irving Rubin, director of the Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS). TALUS is a function of the planning division of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG).

Employes of TALUS are gathering information on the six-county region on transportation and land use problems for a master plan for the area.

RUBIN

Rubin pointed out to the Rotarians that last year the State Legislature formed the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA). The objective of this authority is to create an areawide transportation system.

In the proposed system will be incorporated all the existing transportation systems, including Pontiac's, Rubin said. He urged the city to "hang on for two or three more years" to the present system.

The city's bus situation has been described as being in the crisis stage with Pontiac Transit Corp. threatening to withdraw its buses on Sept. 30 and leaving the city with no public transportation.

★ ★ ★

The transit company, a private firm, has been operating with the aid of a $35,000 yearly city subsidy. The firm is seeking about double that amount in an increased subsidy.

A meeting to discuss the problem has been called for representatives of the city, the firm and school district for 7:30 p.m. Monday at City Hall.

SUBSIDY COMMON

Rubin, a former resident of Pontiac now living at 4430 Queens Way, Bloomfield Township, said that it has proven impossible to support public transportation "out of the farebox," and that some sort of subsidy has proven necessary in almost all communities. He also laid stress on having a public transportation system for those classes of citizens without private transportation — the

U.S. Phase-Out in Vietnam Seen as Feasible

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — How soon can the half million American troops in Vietnam begin turning the burden of the war over to the Vietnamese military and start going home?

The prevailing Saigon viewpoint sees this goal realized only years from now unless a settlement is negotiated. The arming of the Vietnamese with more than 200,000 M16 automatic rifles, half of them already delivered, is seen as the initial phase of a long rebuilding process.

And yet because of the peculiar way the Vietnam war is being fought, particularly the general acceptance that military victory in the classical sense is unreachable because of the war's "limits," there is another viewpoint that suggests American boys can start moving out right now without any appreciable military injury.

Just as another quarter of a million American troops brought into Vietnam would not necessarily win the war, many believe the converse applies: A quarter of a million troops pulled out would not necessarily lose it.

REDUCTION AIRED AT TOP

Civilian and military viewpoints on the prospects do not necessarily coincide, but the view that American force levels could and should be reduced has already been placed in circulation in the top government levels in Washington, according to senior Americans here. Its proponents see the war's costs—about $30 billion this year—as the major irritant within the United States over Vietnam.

"A half-million American families worry about their men in Vietnam, but 40 million families worry about their dollars over here. We must satisfy the American public's distaste for spending money in an area as unproductive as this," one senior American official commented.

Some Americans here believe that a phased reduction of U.S. troops could begin immediately, paring the number to 200,000 by 1972. One of the proponents is John P. Vann, an influential and knowledgeable regional director of the U.S.-backed pacification program.

Vann would cut deeply into the elaborate military structure built by the former commander of U.S. troops and now chief of staff of the Army, Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

CALLED PROVOCATVE

The U.S. high command jealously guards its establishment in Vietnam. Vann admits his proposal is provocative—"It would need a hard-headed secretary of defense to push it through."

★ ★ ★

Senior U.S. field commanders are against pulling out any American troops in the foreseeable future. Lt. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell, commander of the area that includes the battle-scarred demilitarized zone, comments: "No troop commander will ever admit he has too many triggerpullers." Certainly it is a tenet among commanders that they need as much manpower as is necessary to accomplish the missions assigned them.

The commanders argue that under the ceiling of 550,000 U.S. troops for Vietnam imposed on the military, an "economy of forces" strategy is already being practiced in most of the country. This is the minimum deployment of forces in one area to permit the maximum deployment in another.

VC Use Human Shields to Flee American Trap

SAIGON (AP) — A veteran Vietcong battalion, herding women and children in front as human shields, smashed into a company of American paratroopers in three waves early today. Thirty-one Americans were killed and 27 wounded.

The waves of troops from the Vietcong's Cu Chi Regiment broke through a company from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The Vietcong and the paratroopers were still locked in battle as night fell.

* * *

Thirty-one Vietcong have been reported killed so far. AP photographer Max Nash reported from the battlefield that many of the Americans were killed by the Vietcong as they lay wounded on the field.

The battle was one of three fought northwest and southwest of Saigon today in which, according to incomplete reports, at least 110 of the enemy were killed and 150 persons seized as suspected Vietcong.

SURROUNDED VILLAGE

A Communist defector had told U.S. intelligence officers that Vietcong troops were meeting yesterday in the village of Ap Trang Dau, nine miles from a major allied military base housing the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and a South Vietnamese training base for rangers.

Troops from the 25th Division put a cordon around the village, and the Vietcong tried unsuccessfully three times to break out.

* * *

Suddenly, Nash reported, about 300 enemy troops charged through rice paddies into one American paratroop company 150 yards away. They came in three waves.

U.S. officers said the first wave of enemy troops came running shoulder-to-shoulder through the night, screaming, firing assault rifles and pushing women and children in front of them as human shields.

After breaking the cordon, the enemy vanished into the darkness, leaving 31 of their own dead on the battlefield.

The American troops seized 123 persons as suspected Vietcong in this area.

2 Top GM Executives Eye Vehicle Sales Record in '69

DETROIT (AP) — The two top executives of General Motors Corp. said yesterday that 1968 model year retail car and truck sales were the second highest in auto industry history and that 1969 sales "could reach 11 million units."

James M. Roche, chairman of the world's largest corporation, and GM President Edward N. Cole, issued the statement as 1969 models began to roll off the nation's assembly lines.

They said the 1968 model year car and truck sales for the industry totaled about 10.7 million "second highest in the history of the automobile industry in the United States and close to the sales record of 10.8 million vehicles.

"The 1968 sales achievement marks the fourth consecutive model year in which new vehicle sales have exceeded the 10 million level."

IN LINE WITH ESTIMATE

The statement said 1968 model year car sales exceeded 9 million, including imports, while commercial sales totaled 1.7 million.

"This is in line with the GM estimate of 10.75 million vehicle sales made a year ago," the statement said.

* * *

Although truck and commercial vehicle figures were not immediately avilable, Associated figures for the 1968 model year ending Aug. 31 show 8,159,454 U.S. car sales, compared with 7,823,715 for Sept. 1-Aug. 31, 1967. This is an increase of 335,739 cars or four per cent.

Despite strikes called by the United Auto Workers Union against both GM and Ford Motor Co. during 1967 contract negotiations, the GM executives cited 1968 as a good year.

* * *

"Reflecting strong consumer acceptance of our products, GM improved its over-all competitive position," the statement said.

Pair of Suspects Arrested in Raid

A 25-year-old Pontiac woman sought in connection with a murder June 30 and a man charged with statutory rape were arrested in a raid at a city home early today.

In addition, Pontiac police said they confiscated, at the house at 119 Jackson, at least seven wallets which contained identifications of persons who had previously reported their wallets had been stolen.

MISS GRANDBERRY

* * *

In custody on an open murder warrant is Willie Grandberry of 177 Fisher. She was named on the same warrant charging Gus Williams, about 30, of an unreported address, with the killing of a man whose body was found in a parking lot on the 500 block of South Sanford.

The victim, William Odneal, 30, of 181 W. South Blvd., had been shot in the chest and stabbed in the back.

* * *

Williams, arrested July 16, has since been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for trial.

Arrested with Miss Grandberry on a charge of statutory rape was Howard Hatchett, 30, of 210 Bassett, according to police.

Both are in Oakland County Jail pending arraignment later today, police said.

Barbers in Area Hold Price Line

Barbers in the Pontiac area have thus far held the line on prices in spite of a 25-cent increase in haircut prices in the Detroit area.

A local State Barbers Association official said a meeting of the group, to which most barbers in this area belong, is scheduled for Tuesday. However, a price increase is not on the agenda, he said.

* * *

Prices at present are $2.75 for a regular haircut with added amounts for special cuts and reduced amounts for children.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers are forecast for tonight in southern Florida and northeastern Montana. It will be warmer in the Great Plains and Rockies and cooler along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

I-696 Petition Denied for Now

Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday denied a petition for restraining orders that would have limited discussion in hearings now being held to determine a route for the I-696 freeway.

Moore turned back the petition that was filed last week by Lathrup Village. Attorneys for the south Oakland County city wanted to prevent Gov. Romney's three-man arbitration panel from hearing discussion on a proposed route for the freeway that would run through Lathrup Village along 11 Mile Road.

* * *

The proposed route, according to Lathrup Village City Attorney Everett Hayes, is unfavorable to his community and is therefore unconstitutional.

Legal precedence has dictated that roadways cannot be constructed through any community without the approval of the community involved, and Hayes has said the 11 Mile route will not receive the approval in question.

MISTAKEN BELIEF

Earlier, one member of the arbitration panel reportedly had said he thought the panel had the power to determine a route without the consent of affected communities.

In turning back the petiton, Judge Moore said that no community has been hurt as yet, since the hearings are only in discussion stages. He indicated he would not consider enjoining proceedings until the panel had reached its decision and a petitioner could claim disapproval.

* * *

The petition was the second drafted by Lathrup Village attorneys. Earlier, a petition filed jointly with Pleasant Ridge was also denied by Moore on similar grounds.

Hayes said plans have not been made yet for another petition, but he didn't rule out the possibility of a third request before a decision is reached by the panel.

City Is Urged to Keep Buses young, the old, the ill, those families with not enough cars.

He also projected that in the future when SEMTA has developed an area system and transportation is more-readily avilable some of the road congestion would be relieved.

* * *

Much of the job of SEMTA will be in better utilization of existing facilities, he pointed out. For instance, he noted that school districts have large fleets of buses which are only used a few hours a day. A more-ideal transportation system would incorporate school needs with other needs and provide a more logical pattern, he said.

In his report on the land-use study, Rubin also praised the Pontiac Plan for future downtown development. The plan was presented to city groups in July by a group of developers and planners.

* * *

He called it realistic and practical, in the light of its projection of the downtown area as a cultural and service center.

ON WAY TO JAIL — Stephen Wildstrom, 21-year-old editor of the University of Michigan student newspaper, the Daily, is escorted to jail in Ann Arbor Wednesday by unidentified Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies after a scuffle when he attempted to attend a meeting in which county supervisors were discussing welfare payments to ADC mothers.

Sheriff: Family Threatened After Ann Arbor Arrests

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey said he received three telephone calls last night threatening the lives of his wife and three children as well as a threat to burn down his house as a result of the arrests of more than 50 persons following a sit-in by welfare mothers.

Harvey said he has moved his family away from his home.

* * *

Late yesterday sheriff's deputies arrested 14 mothers who refused to leave the Washtenaw County Building where they held a sit-in demonstration in protest of what they claim are insufficient welfare payments to provide clothes for their children. The mothers receive aid to dependent children (ADC).

Also arrested were 28 University of Michigan students who joined in the demonstration, as well as other persons.

KELLEY RULING

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Wednesday that the state will pick up a $2-million tab for school clothing for children of ADC mothers who had staged an eight-day sit-in at the Wayne County Social Services Office in Detroit.

* * *

Kelley ruled that lack of adequate school clothing constitutes an emergency and that ADC children in such situations are entitled to emergency clothing allowances provided under the Michigan Social Services Appropriation Act.

* * *

A spokesman for the attorney general said the ruling applies to all counties in the state, although each county can determine the dollar amount which will buy "adequate" clothing.

In Ann Arbor, jailed mothers were freed on $25 bond each from money raised last night, at a student rally on the U-M campus. The jailed students were free after bond was posted by Barbara Newell, a university interim vice president who got the money from a special fund used to bail students out of jail.

RALLY SET TODAY

A rally was scheduled for today on the U-M campus by leaders of the group in support of the mothers.

* * *

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons dispatched 60 of his deputies yesterday to relieve the Washtenaw deputies who ringed the jail to protect against possible assaults by demonstrators.

Longer School Day for First-Graders OK'd

First graders in Pontiac will now be going to school 30 minutes longer each day.

The Pontiac Board of Education approved a 5½-hour day for first graders at a short regular meeting yesterday.

* * *

First graders will now get as much schooling as second through sixth graders. Kindergartners attend school 2½ hours a day.

Birmingham

School Board OKs Pay Hikes for Secretaries

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education has approved pay hikes totaling $47,000 for the secretaries employed in the district.

Representatives of the school board had met with representatives of the Birmingham Association of Educational Secretaries for several months before the tentative agreement was reached Aug. 27.

* * *

It provides for hourly increases ranging from 10 cents an hour for inexperienced personnel to 18 cents an hour for those at maximum under the current schedule.

The new schedule brings the minimum pay for district secretaries up to $2.21 per hour. The maximum pay for top level secretaries with maximum experience comes 42 pay steps later and was set at $4.14 per hour.

In other recent business the board heard a progress report on the district's plan to discontinue exceptions to the board's transportation policies.

At the July 2 board meeting a resolution was adopted that provided for the discontinuance of all exceptions to the system's busing policies.

* * *

School officials noted that the program is still in the planning stages and will not be implemented for at least a year.

Supt. John B. Smith reported that tentative plans have been drawn up to alleviate situations at five elementary schools where exceptions to the bus policies have been made.

LACK SIDEWALKS

In most cases, affected students now ride buses because of a lack of sidewalks or because of the neccessity of crossing dangerous streets. Smith said that most of the situations would be improved if sidewalks were constructed or crossing guards employed.

The superintendent indicated that work would continue on the project so that all exceptions could be eliminated by the opening of school in September of 1969.

* * *

The board also received a lengthy, 62-page report formulated by the district's junior high school study committee. The 80-member committee worked over a year on the project and was headed by Daniel A. Nesbitt, deputy superintendent of schools and Mrs. Richard G. Pearce, a citizen representative.

The report covered such areas as curriculum, staffing, instructional organization, services and student activities and facilities in the district's junior high system.

More than 100 recommendations were included in the report. Board members asked to study the group's findings before any action is taken on the findings.

Fair Trial for Ray at Issue Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Two veteran courtroom tacticians met today before Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle in an effort to determine whether James Earl Ray, accused killer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., can receive a fair trial.

* * *

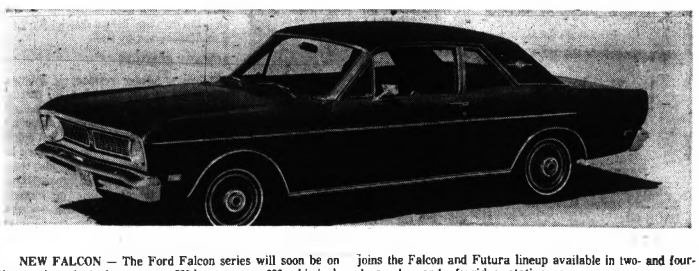
Arthur J. Hanes Sr., a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., who is defending Ray, seeks dismissal of the murder charge on the grounds that publicity in the case has been so "widespread and pervasive" as to make a fair trial anywhere in the United States impossible.

Arguing for the state was District Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale Jr.

Hanes said publicity in the King assassination April 4 was "calculated to and is having the effect of creating widespread public excitement and animosity" toward Ray.

He added that radio and television network programs "so canonized and so depicted the victim of the crime" that "widespread public outrage and hatred have been generated" toward Ray.

He said "most if not all prospective jurors . . . will have been repeatedly exposed to published matter tending to influence public opinion."



NEW FALCON — The Ford Falcon series will soon be on the market, featuring a new 220-horsepower, 302-cubic-inch displacement engine. The Futura Sports Coupe, pictured here, joins the Falcon and Futura lineup available in two- and four-door sedans and a four-door station wagon.

1969 Falcon: Power Option, Safety Items

The Falcon for 1969 features a new power option and a series of Ford Motor Co. safety features.

Available for the first time is the 220-horsepower, 302-cubic-inch displacement engine and additional safety items including front and rear side marker lights.

* * *

Two- and four-door sedans, a four-door station wagon and the Futura Sports Coupe will compose the Falcon lineup.

Residents can see the new Falcon at the following area dealerships: Harold Turner Ford, 464 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Don Spiker Ford, 130 S. Milford, Milford; John McAuliffe Ford, 630 Oakland, Pontiac; Troy Motors, 777 John R., Avon Township; Shuman Ford Sales, 1111 S. Commerce, Commerce Township; Flannery Ford, 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; and Jack Long Ford, 215 Main, Rochester.

STAINLESS HUBCAPS

New styling on the Falcon includes a full-width grille, rocker panel molding, long hood and short deck proportions.

Stainless steel hubcaps are standard on all club coupes, sedans and station wagons. Squeeze-type door handles and vinyl trim are available at no additional cost on all Falcon models. Three-speed manual transmission is also standard.

Additional safety and convenience features available on all 1969 Ford Division passenger cars include: tinted glass, power tail-gate window, seat and shoulder belts, and vinyl roof. Also, a four-way emergency flasher, self-locking folding front seat backs and safety glass windshield are offered.

2 Boundary Squabbles Are Resolved

Two minor boundary squabbles were resolved last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education just in time to take effect for the 1968-69 school year.

The two proposed changes, involving a total of about 50 students, will mean that Waterford schools will surrender some territory to the Huron Valley School District and will gain some territory formerly part of the Walled Lake School District.

* * *

The changes already have been approved by school officials from Walled Lake and Huron Valley. Tuition and transportation arrangements agreed upon will allow secondary school students to stay in their former districts if they choose.

Both annexations are subject to approval by the Oakland County School Board, but officials from the three districts expect no problem in the county's consideration of their petition.

BOUNDARY DETAILED

Upon recommendation by Waterford Schools Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe, a portion of the Walled Lake district between the Twin Lakes subdivision and the Huron River (south of the existing north-south boundary) north of Elizabeth Lake Road) will be petitioned for annex to the Waterford district.

The Waterford board also voted to concur in the petition of the Huron Valley Schools to annex that portion of the Waterford district west of the Twin Lakes subdivision.

Board members also voted to grant an easement to the township for the construction of a sanitary sewer line on the Waterford Mott High School site.

The township Monday night awarded the Mott sewer contract to the low bidder of the previous week, Cadillac Excavating Co. of Southfield. Cost of the sewer will be about $88,800, according to the firm's bid.

BOARD OKS CHECK

The school board had to approve a check to the township covering all costs, including planning, contingencies, rebuilding of sand filter beds and contract administration. Total cost of the project is about $122,850.

* * *

Of this amount, about $69,000 will become an escrow account with the township against which the school board can credit future sewer tap charges. Unused portions of the contingency and right-of-way funds will be returned to the school board in cash, according to Tatroe.

* * *

Total cost to the school district will be about $45,000 including credits and reimbursements, officials estimated. An estimated $8,000 in costs will be paid eventually by the township.

In other business, the board:

- Resolved to take appropriate steps in formulating a 1968-69 Citizens Advisory Committee. Similar ad hoc committees have been organized for six school years. Their purpose is to create more understanding and communication between the community and school officials.
- Accepted four bids for a general fund loan to be used to finance school affairs until tax revenues come in around January. The bid claiming the lowest interest on the requested $1.3-million loan came from the Community National Bank with a rate of 3.2 per cent.
- Decided to take steps to finalize the sale of the Webster School to the Good Shepherd Assembly of God Church. The school, no longer of any use to the district, will net $27,000 for the district. Area realtor Ted McCullough will be paid an additional $3,000 fee as agent in the sale, though he was not employed by the school board.

Waterford School Affairs

Assistant Principal Named for Kettering

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night approved appointment of a new assistant principal at Waterford Kettering High School.

Thomas McCormick of 451 Hauxwell, Waterford Township, was named to succeed Gerald M. Wallace, who has accepted a job as principal of the new Walled Lake Central High School.

* * *

McCormick, who has taught for eight years, has spent the past two years with Waterford schools. He has taught academic subjects as well as physical education.

He also has counseled potential dropout students as part of the Waterford School District's Personal Development Program.

ON EMU FACULTY

McCormick, who was an assistant professor on the Eastern Michigan University faculty for a time, holds both a bachelor's and a master's degree from that school.

Dr. Don O. Tatroe, Waterford Schools superintendent, told board members last night that McCormick "has demonstrated his ability to work with students and teachers very well during his work here as a Personal Development Program teacher."

The appointment is effective this school year. The board also approved appointments for seven teachers for the 1968-69 school year.

Vehicle Registration Near 100 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motor-vehicle registration in the United States will reach almost 100 million by the end of this year, the Federal Highway Administration estimated Thursday.

The agency put the total at 99,959,000, an increase of about three million over 1967.

Passenger-registrations are to reach about 83 million, with that of trucks and buses totaling about 17 million.

Voters Decide Avondale School Millage Tomorrow

By JEAN SAILE

The big vote is tomorrow in the Avondale School District. It is the third go-round at increased millage; its passage has been termed vital.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

"We desperately need additional revenue to resume a full-day schedule and to reinstate economies (cuts) the board of education was forced to adopt," said Schools Supt. John W. Dickey.

Administrators have promised that should voters elect to increase their tax bills by the 7.7 mills asked, it would then put grades 1-8 back on full-day schedules as soon as the additional 20 teachers required can be hired.

'MORE CONFIDENT'

"I feel much more confident this time," said Dickey, "chiefly because of the involvement of the people. They're very concerned and we anticipate a heavier vote and many more 'yes' votes."

Previous requests for additional millage earlier this year were defeated. As a result, the district was forced to pare costs and consequently many services were dropped.

'I Firmly Believe Our Students Deserve A Full Schedule!'
---School Chief John W. Dickey

One of the outcomes was the decision to put on the ballot for the first time the question of whether or not the district should continue to furnish textbooks to its 7-12 grade students.

Dickey said if the voters choose to make such purchases an individual matter, it could save the district $15,000 a year.

BACKED BY PTA BOARD

"There are other years when we change textbooks, that it could save us as much as $40,000," he said.

The request has the backing of the Avondale PTA Council executive board.

At a meeting last night the board went on record as supporting the 7.7 millage increase (for a period of five years) and also the textbook proposal.

The PTA Council statement continued, "the executive board . . . urges every registered resident to vote so that all Avondale schoolchildren can return to a full schedule."

'—DESERVE FULL SCHEDULE'

Said Dickey, "I firmly believe our students deserve a full schedule."

The students themselves have been highly involved with the present millage campaign.

★ ★ ★

An all-day motorized parade tomorrow is expected to be a constant reminder to residents that it is voting day and that votes are needed.

A parent campaign to provide baby-sitting and transportation to the polls is also planned. The service will be offered on a door-to-door basis throughout the district, spokesmen said.

Dem Nominee Is Confirmed by Recount

A recount yesterday confirmed Niles E. Olson of Pontiac Township as the winner of the Democratic nomination for county supervisor in District 22.

There was no change in the vote recorded in the Aug. 6 primary, according to Mabel Child, county election clerk.

The recount had been requested by Bennie R. Warden of 1123 Doris, Pontiac Township. He had lost the nomination to Olson by a vote of 376 to 357.

Olson of 3301 Baldwin is the owner of Town and Village Roofers. He will face John McGee, the Republican candidate, in the November general election.

One of the other recounts petitioned by losers in the supervisor race was being conducted in Berkley today.

In that recount, John B. Huhn of Berkley hopes to overturn the victory of William R. Judy. Judy won the Republican nomination in District 13 with a vote of 464 to Huhn's 418.

The final recount will take place early next week, according to Mrs. CHild, and involves the closest contest between candidates.

In that race, Joseph Barakat of Royal Oak lost the Democratic nomination by a four-vote margin to Madison Heights Mayor Lee Walker.

Barakat had first been declared the winner after the unofficial totals were compiled of District 5, but Walker took the lead when the votes were canvassed.

State Tax Take Up Again; County, Communities Get 10 Pct. More Than Expected

By ED. BLUNDEN

Onward and upward goes revenue from the state income tax — a fact which can cause government officials to rub their hands in anticipation.

The second quarter division has just been announced by Oakland County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin. This time the county slice is even bigger. The first quarter allocation was 20 per cent more than was expected. This quarter, it's gone up about 10 per cent beyond that.

★ ★ ★

The county got $1,046,620 in May. This time it's $1,170,562. Half the money is retained by the county government, and the rest goes to local governments, cities, villages and townships.

The distribution from the state coffers amounts to 85 cents per person, based on the 1960 census. It was originally expected that the revenue would provide local governments with 55 cents per head.

STAYING IN BLACK

The 2.5 per cent state income tax was enacted last October and since then has kept the state budget safely in the black. The portion of the tax that is returned to local governments also has proved a boon.

For instance, the county government will realize more than $1.6 million this calendar year at the present tax level, and more than $2.2 million next year.

★ ★ ★

Local governments will benefit in about the same ratio, but on a smaller scale. Pontiac will get $68,250 this payment and Waterford $39,889. A small community like Groveland Township gets $1,110.

The nicest thing about the distribution, as far as local governments are concerned is that when budgets were estimated last year it was not known if the income from the state tax would be avilable. Therefore many communities balanced budgets as closely as possible with what income was at hand.

WINDFALL SPLIT

Hence, the income-tax split came almost as a complete windfall. No community figured the income would be as great as it turned out to be and neither did the state tax experts.

No mention of a tax cut has been reported on either a state or local level, however.

★ ★ ★

Following is a list of disbursements to area communities from the state income second quarter of the year, based on 85 tax. Payments are for receipts for the cents per person as of the 1960 census.

Shelby Issue to Go on Ballot

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Voters here will pass on one and maybe two new ordinances on their Nov. 5 ballot.

Definitely on the ballot will be a new civil service ordinance governing the employment of township workers. Possibly facing voter decision is a proposed fair-housing ordinance.

Township Supervisor Kirby Holmes was the only board member to oppose the civil service proposals. They would "establish and provide a civil service system in Shelby Township; create a civil service commission and prescribe (its) duties; provide certain exemptions from the classifications in civil service; and provide penalties for violation of the ordinance."

Holmes' opposition to the proposals was based on the alleged "haste and lack of study that went into the proposition.

"I only had it for four days, so it was crammed right through," he said.

SIGNED BY 1,300

The civil rights issue came up at the request of the Utica-Shelby-Sterling Human Relations Council.

They presented the board with a petition signed by 1,300 Shelby residents in favor of a fair-housing ordinance modeled after that of Ypsilanti.

★ ★ ★

The board referred the request to the township attorney for a study and a report for the next board meeting.

The civil rights ordinance will not appear on the ballot if the board adopts it at that meeting, according to Holmes.

14 More Spent Shells Discovered at Cabin Where 6 Were Slain

GOOD HART (AP) — Authorities investigating the mass slaying of the six-member Richard Robison family of 18790 Delores, Lathrup Village, at their northwest Lower Michigan cabin report recovery of 14 spent 22-caliber shells from a bedroom closet of one of the victims.

"How these were missed in the original search of the home is not known, but they have been sent to the crime lab at East Lansing for checks against those found earlier," said Emmet County Sheriff Richard Zink.

★ ★ ★

Bodies of Robison, his wife and four children were found in the closed and locked cabin July 22. Police said they had been dead about one month.

The sheriff's department has been authorized by the National Bank of Detroit, executors of Robison's estate, to take whatever steps necessary to search the cabin property.

Sheriff Zink said no new clues have developed.

2.5-Mill Tax Increase Asked

Oxford School Vote Monday

OXFORD — A chance to reinstitute some $50,000 worth of cuts made in the 1968-69 school budget will be afforded voters of the district Monday.

They will be asked to approve a 2.5-mill increase for a period of one year.

The additional $70,000 revenue, if the millage passes, will be split about $20,000 for increased salaries and the rest for the beefing up of such items as instruction materials, maintenance costs, field trips and conferences and capital outlay as far as possible, according to Schools Supt. Roger Oberg.

★ ★ ★

The cuts were made in June after a previous millage attempt — 6 mills for three years — was defeated by 80 votes at the polls.

BALANCED BUDGET

The cuts helped the district achieve a budget balanced at $1,472,515.

Since that time salary negotiations have raised teacher wages some $550 to $650 per individual. There have been other staff wages and the bus drivers' contract still remains to be settled, Oberg said.

★ ★ ★

The price tag on all salary increases was put at $20,000 by Oberg.

Already due to show up on the Oxford School District tax bills is an additional 5 mills voted for the new junior high school, additions to elementary buildings, the bus garage and relocation of the athletic facilities.

★ ★ ★

Voters residing in Dryden and Addison Townships will vote at Leonard Elementary School in Leonard. Those residing in Brandon, Metamora, Hadley and Oxford Townships will vote at the junior high school auditorium, Oxford.

The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Adult Sign-Up Is Near in Troy

TROY — Local adults who want to follow schoolchildren back to classes will get their opportunity next week as registration opens on no less than 85 adult education classes.

The Troy Adult Education Department, along with the extension service of Oakland Community College, have combined to offer the courses in diversified areas of academic self-improvement, home arts and leisure time activities.

★ ★ ★

Registration for all the programs will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday between 6:30 and 9 p.m. in the Troy High School lobby, 3179 Livernois.

According to Ronald Morse, Troy's adult education director, all of the high school and college credit classes will begin next week while noncredit classes will begin the week of Sept. 23.

Morse also noted that many people may qualify for free tuition for the high school credit courses. Troy residents or nonresidents may register without charge if they meet one of three qualifications:

- A person working toward a high school diploma and not in day school.
- A person under 20 years of age on Sept. 1, 1968, with a high school diploma.
- A veteran, regardless of age or diploma status.

Morse pointed out that the adult education program is divided into four categories. Besides the high school and OCC credit programs, noncredit classes and workshops are also available for prospective students.

S. Lyon Youths Bound Over for Trial in Kidnap Case

NOVI — Three South Lyon youths, charged with the July kidnaping of a Novi police officer, were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday following the conclusion of their preliminary examination in Novi Justice Court.

Justice of the peace Emery Jacques ordered Giles K. Askins, 19, of 21939 Pontiac held in lieu of $100,000 bond on charges of kidnaping and assault with intent to commit murder.

★ ★ ★ ★

However, he reduced the assault charges against Floyd Kirkendall, 17, of 302 W. Blake and William J. Jobe, 17, of 433 Donovan to assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder. Both remain charged with kidnaping.

Kirkendall is being held under $50,000 bond and Jobe is free under $2,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The three youths will be arraigned before Judge William J. Beer in Oakland County Circuit Court on Sept. 25.

Patrolman Robert Starnes, 32, of Novi was held captive by a group of youths at gunpoint, beaten and carried in a car which was chased at high speeds for 10 miles by police from several communities on July 30.

Two juveniles, ages 15 and 16, were also arrested in the case. The 15-year-old suspect was turned over to juvenile authorities and a second attempt is being made to obtain a waiver to try the 16-year-old, Rick A. Nolan, as an adult, after he escaped from Camp Oakland.

★ ★ ★

He is presently being detained in the reception center of the Oakland County Children's center. A hearing is set for Sept. 12.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole said a second request has been filed with the prosecutor's office to obtain a rehearing to try Nolan as an adult.

Senior Citizens Session Scheduled in Rochester

The Avon Youth Service and Recreation Association is sponsoring a special senior citizens meeting 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Woodward Memorial Library, corner of University and Pine, Rochester.

★ ★ ★

All senior citizens and interested persons in the Rochester-Avon area are invited to the meeting, which has been called to discuss the reorganization and future planning of activities of the senior citizen group.

School Probation End 'Near'

UTICA — The probationary accreditation status of Utica High School will likely soon be removed, Principal David Lathers predicted yesterday.

A comprehensive study of the entire educational program at Utica High School was recently completed. It was drawn up following a three-day visit by a 17-member team of the Michigan State Committee of North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges last May.

★ ★ ★

"The report was very favorable," said Lathers. "Judging partially from it, and other improvements we have made, there is no reason why our probationary status should not be removed by the next school year."

Utica High School was placed on probation three years ago when high enrollment forced the temporary establishment of a daily double session of classes.

OVERLOADED FACILITIES

At the time, North Central, the largest accreditation agency in the midwest, cited the school for its overloaded facilities and insufficient vocational education programs for noncollege-bound students.

Lathers said the high school will reapply for accreditation this November and learn the results next spring.

★ ★ ★

Lathers said the latest report indicates that the visiting committee was impressed with the caliber and morale of Utica High's teachers.

The major North Central recommendation, he said, was to increase the vocational-educational opportunities for noncollege bound students.

★ ★ ★

He added that, since the North Central representatives visited, the board of education has approved a $323,000 school remodeling project, primarily for vocational-education improvements, and has authorized purchasing more than $33,000 of new power mechanics and basic electronic equipment.

"Our plan is to meet the criteria contained in the two reports as fully as possible within our budget and manpower limitations," said Lathers.

Doherty School Opening Delayed

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The new Doherty Elementary School, originally scheduled to open this fall, will not be ready until December, according to Anthony Witham, new school superintendent here.

Reasons for the delay are attributed to holdups in construction largely in the interior of the building.

The school, located on Walnut Lake between Middle Belt and Orchard Lake, is designed in two clusters, one containing six expandable classrooms and another containing four. All open onto a central activities area.

Split Is Seen After Coup in African Nation

KINSHASA, Congo (AP) — Who rules the neighboring Congo Republic was unclear today, with the army reported split following its coup against President Alphonse Massamba-Debat.

Armored units were on the move in the south, presumably to disarm Massemba-Debat's tribe, and the president's brother and four other prominent men were sentenced to prison for distributing arms, Radio Kinshasa reported.

But within the army, a majority of officers was reported challenging the authority of the coup leader, Capt. Marien Ngouabi, 32. The anti-Ngouabi officers were reported led by former Defense Minister Augustin Poignet, the interior minister, and Maj. Felix Mouza Bankani.

The Brazzaville correspondent of Kinshasa's Tribune Africaine said 300 troops loyal to Ngouabi guarded the studios of Radio Brazzaville. But he said Ngouabi and his counselors "could already have been arrested."

The correspondent and diplomats here attributed the split in the army to tribal loyalties compounded by ideology, personal grudges and financial interest. Pro-Moscow and pro-Peking politicians were reported in both camps, and no clear political trend has emerged.

Dissident Pontiac Teachers Protest Parts of Contract

A small group of dissident Pontiac teachers is protesting provisions of their teaching contract. Some of them reportedly are even willing to put their jobs at stake.

A move is afoot by members of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT) to petition to possibly overturn provisions in a current teaching contract negotiated by the Pontiac Education Association (PEA), according to a federation member.

* * *

The 650-member PEA is the legal bargaining agent for all Pontiac teachers, including those in the rival, few-hundred-member PFT. PFT members can't vote to approve or disapprove their contract. The school district has more than 1,000 teachers.

One item in the contract being disputed by the protesting teachers, who are mostly federation members, is an agency shop.

The agency shop clause provides all non-PEA members must join the PEA by paying $85 in dues by early October or be dismissed at the end of the school year.

They are given the option of paying a service fee of $85 but not joining the PEA, according to Victor Bouckaert, PEA executive director.

Purpose of the clause is to make all teachers who benefit from the PEA's negotiations to pay for its expenses.

Robert Vackaro, Owen Elementary School teacher and PFT member, said yesterday that a petition "to affect some change" in the agency-shop provision might be circulated.

CALLED MEETING

He is one of 11 teachers who called a meeting of other "concerned" teachers to discuss the problems. Vackaro said some 70 teachers — upset PEA members, federation members and those from neither teacher group — attended.

"Some federation members and others are threatening not to pay the $85," Vackaro reported. He admitted he didn't know whether he would sign.

* * *

The only legal question to be decided in the agency shop agreement is the right to fire teachers with tenure.

Michigan's mandatory tenure act protects teachers from being fired without hearings and showing of reasonable cause.

The tenure commission is expected to rule this month on seven teachers fired in Saginaw for not joining the Michigan Education Association unit there, according to Bouckaert.

* * *

MEA says that 100 of its 519 units have the agency shop. The Michigan Federation of Teachers has only one.

* * *

Other charges leveled by the dissident teachers are:

- The PEA negotiating team voted 2 to 1 for the contract. Three members were absent. Bouckaert contends two were out of town, one didn't know of the meeting and the final say is the membership, which ratified the contract.
- Percentage increases over the beginning salary at each level of experience was cut this year, saving $85,000, with each teacher losing up to $105. Raises were not as big but salaries are higher, say Bocckaert.

'Gang Chiefs Got Chicago OEO Funds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of dollars in war on poverty funds intended to go to Chicago gang members for attending job-training schools ended up instead in the pockets of a few gang leaders, according to testimony before Senate investigations.

A government handwriting expert charged yesterday that there was evidence of widespread check forging and fraud in the million-dollar antipoverty project funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

Howard C. Doulder of the U.S. Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division told the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee a five-month study of $25,193 in checks made out to members of the gang showed much of the money ended up in the hands of a few gangleaders. He displayed douments he said were obviously forged.

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said it was obvious leaders of the blackstone rangers, a tough south side Chicago street gang, were pocketing money that should have gone to underlings.

NY Policemen in Attack on Panthers Face Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay and Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary say they will press for action against off-duty policemen who took part in an attack on Black Panthers and white sympathizers in a courthouse.

Lindsay told a City Hall news conference Thursday that Leary had confirmed reports that off-duty policemen, as well as civilians, were involved" in the incident Wednesday at the Brooklyn Criminal Court.

* * *

"Commissioner Leary has assured me that he will take immediate and vigorous action against any individual member of the force who has violated the law or departmental regulations, including criminal prosecution if that is warranted by the facts," Lindsay said.

Leary, in a teletype message ordered read to every member of the force, said "This department will not tolerate any unlawful actions on the part of individual police officers on or off duty, and when the situation warrants, violators will be arrested."

In the attack, about 200 white men blackjacked, punched and kicked about a dozen of the militant Panthers and their sympathizers. The melee took place outside a courtroom where three Black Panthers accused of assaulting three policemen had a bail hearing.

Dog Catcher Asleep on Job

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Carl Creach, the local dog catcher, finds his job most relaxing.

He passed out after his tranquilizer hypo broke during injection of a stray mongrel on a sidewalk and he was sprayed by the serum. It took the police department an hour to awake him.

Who could think of refurnacing at a time like this?

Seems like a funny time to talk about replacing a furnace, huh? Actually, warm weather's the best time to make home repairs. Like replacing a cranky old heating system with modern electric heat.

And now's an especially good time to convert. Right now, your Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor will give you $100 for your old heating system when you change to electric heat.

Why electric heat? It's comfortable—really comfortable. No chill one moment nor blast of hot, dry air the next.

And operating cost is guaranteed. Call Edison for details, and some names of Approved Electric Heat Contractors.

So if your old furnace won't make it another winter, remember now's the best time to refurnace...to modern electric heat.

Restoring Country to Peaceful Rule

We would guess that as far as the majority of Americans are concerned who watched the political proceedings in Chicago they must have felt as we did—that things in our country are in a horrible mess.

As RICHARD M. NIXON said in his speech accepting the Republican nomination for president, the long dark night for America is about to end. We hope so.

There can be no doubt but that the Country is in a ferment of change. Things simply cannot go on like they have been, with the Country drifting toward a state of anarchy.

★ ★ ★

After his nomination, Mr. Humphrey disclosed in an interview that he and Mrs. Humphrey had received numerous threats of assassination. At the same time, the President of the United States chose to remain away from his party's convention, safely at his guarded ranch in Texas, in a growing isolation.

★ ★ ★

This was by design. The simple fact is it would have been dangerous for LYNDON B. JOHNSON to go to Chicago. This must have been a hard decision for the Democratic Party. Yet it must be remembered that the two highest officeholders in our country are JOHNSON and HUMPHREY and it is their regime which has fostered and sought to benefit from permissiveness and has tried to equate civil disobedience with idealism.

It has been perfectly clear that over the last few years the party wanted the votes of the radicals and assorted extremists, and all of a sudden the normal processes of the Country got out of hand.

★ ★ ★

EUGENE MCCARTHY, the Vietnam platform split, plus the riot-torn, boisterous brawling scene in downtown Chicago, leaves Mr. HUMPHREY with many wounds to heal.

Contrast this with the campaign kickoff welcome NIXON received in the same Chicago streets this week.

Mr. HUMPHREY is a man of good will and good intentions. In his upcoming campaigning Mr. HUMPHREY will hopefully try to explain to the people that there is some curious strength in disunity, and that the end of an era is truly at hand.

★ ★ ★

The door is open for the GOP to walk in if they will just go to work. The challenge to the Republican Party is as great as any in its long service to the Republic. It must restore the Nation's faith.

We are a great country, a great people, but we need guidance.

Hippie Colony Founders on Shoals of License

Few stories about life among the hippies have been more revealing of the truly pathetic nature of that way of life than the short, unhappy history of their Utopia in Harmonsburg, Pa.

It should be required reading for any youths who may still harbor the notion that there is very much of glamor or excitement in the flower children's revolt against "the false values of society."

★ ★ ★

Last June, finding the Haight-Ashbury district of San Francisco becoming an increasingly bad scene because of crackdowns by the authorities, some 40 hippie men, women and children migrated to a farm near the tiny community in the northwest corner of Pennsylvania. There they asked only to be left alone, wishing to bother no one and wanting no one to bother them.

At first, the people of Harmonsburg were willing to grant them that. The hippies kept to themselves, existing on what food they could raise and on handouts from the sympathetic and the curious. The latter began to include thrill-seeking teenagers visiting nearby Conneaut Lake Park, lured by stories of free love and drug orgies, as well as part-time and traveling hippies from elsewhere in the country.

★ ★ ★

Trouble for the hippie colony started when infectious hepatitis broke out in July. Public health officials administered mass inoculations to head off an incipient epidemic, not only among the hippies but among the hundreds who had had contact with them.

It was narcotics, however, that finally doomed the colony. When the hippies began raising their own crop of marijuana, police moved in, closed the place down and hauled the tenants off on a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

The Harmonsburg hippie haven is now no more. Whatever insights into truth, beauty or human happiness the flower children discovered there remains an impenetrable mystery to the square world.

Writer Sees First 'Live' Soccer Game

By DICK SAUNDERS

I took my son to his first professional soccer game Tuesday night. In fact, we sort of took each other, since I had never seen professional soccer in the flesh either.

SAUNDERS

It didn't start out too well. His mother (my wife) was 15 minutes late getting home with the car so the start of our little adventure into the unknown was delayed.

I was really fuming. I informed her that we'd never find a parking spot on the street getting there so late and we were certain to miss the start of the game. Then I grumbled all the way to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

As we approached Tiger Stadium from the north, things seemed deathly still. We had somehow managed to get there 15 minutes before game time.

Where was the crowd? (I am used to fighting my way through 35,000 people whenever I venture to a sports event in the big city.)

There were some kids kicking the can on a side street. I got three blocks from the stadium and suddenly got that sick, empty feeling that the game was being played somewhere else. I pulled the tickets from my pocket.

★ ★ ★

The game, they assured me, was at Tiger Stadium. But there were free parking spots everywhere, and only the neighborhood residents in evidence.

Then I noticed the lights were on in the stadium. There must be a game tonight, I figured. We parked and walked.

We got inside the stadium and, sure enough, there were the fans—all five of them.

We found our seats . . . right on what I'd call the 50 yard line. The game commenced and we watched politely.

★ ★ ★

Every now and then a curious odor descended upon us. It was like a mixture of borsch, garlic and a very rare cheese. Never could figure out just where it was coming from.

We tried to get excited over the game and succeeded once —when the local team scored a goal.

I had really hoped to sit near someone who knew all the finer points of soccer and could explain them to us.

I got half my wish. All the folks around us really knew their soccer. It's just that we couldn't understand them.

★ ★ ★

Everyone talked in a foreign tongue. It was like attending a United Nations council meeting without benefit of a translator. The only guy I could understand was a nearby Scotsman, except when he was excited. If you've ever tried to keep up with a frenzied Scotsman, you know what I mean.

One good thing happened out of all this. At halftime the players kick some plastic soccer balls into the crowd. One landed nearby and out of the ensuing battled popped the ball, right into my son's waiting arms.

★ ★ ★

When we got home, we discovered the ball was lopsided.

It all adds up to frustration. After all these years of attending sports events, we have yet to come away with a baseball, football or hockey puck.

But we go to one soccer game, and we have a lopsided soccer ball to show for it.

Next stop, lacrosse.

TICKER TAPE SHOWER FOR NIXON—Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon waves to crowds as confetti and ticker tape shower down during parade up LaSalle Street in Chicago's financial district Wednesday. Looking up beside him is Mrs. Nixon.

David Lawrence Says:

Daley Speech Not the Answer

WASHINGTON — Although some of the big television networks have declined to give Mayor Daley of Chicago the time he requested to explain to the nation his side of the controversy over the disturbances in Chicago last week, there is grave doubt whether a speech would be adequate to overcome the ill effects of the pictures that were shown on the screens throughout the country.

LAWRENCE

Probably the only way that two sides of the story can be presented on television is to have certain scenes reenacted which were not caught by the cameras in the first place.

★ ★ ★

Much of the disorder in Chicago was in places where there were no television cameras.

Rocks were thrown at police, acid was sprayed into their faces, and other acts of violence were committed which provoked the policemen.

CLUBS USED

When they tried to arrest the demonstrators who engaged in such tactics, clubs had to be used. The television cameras caught the latter action but not what had preceded.

★ ★ ★

Even if all the police in Chicago who were the victims of these assaults were to tell their story on the air, it is doubtful whether many of the people who saw the few bits of film on TV screens would forgive the police for the use of their clubs.

Television is a different form of expression from the printed word. Unless pictures can be made of both sides in a street fight or a riot, there will always be charges of unfairness and bias.

★ ★ ★

The tendency also is to deal with the demonstrators as if all of them did the same things.

STARTED OUT ORDERLY

Most of them started out to be orderly. The few activists who stirred up the trouble did so undoubtedly as a result of plans made beforehand. Members of Congress are saying so in their speeches.

There is no doubt that the general public is hardly aware as yet of the many seditious forces that are at work trying to break down law and order in America.

★ ★ ★

Because a national political convention was being held at Chicago, it was a natural place on which the revolutionaries could center their attention.

★ ★ ★

The strategy is to form what appears to be a peaceful demonstration. Then certain individuals in the crowd start to throw rocks and bottles at the police, and the consequence is a riot.

Congress has reassembled for a brief session, and members are openly demanding that something be done about the riots and that federal laws be invoked promptly to punish the originators of the violence.

Bob Considine Says:

Too Bad Big Bill Tilden Had to Miss This Week

NEW YORK — If the years could be swept back, what a wonderful week this would be for Big Bill Tilden!

CONSIDINE

The greatest player of all time would naturally be in the thick of the first U.S. Open Tennis Championship now being held at Forest Hills. He plugged for years for a tennis open, wrote about its advantages, shrilly scolded the huffy officials of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association for their intransigence.

★ ★ ★

William Tatem Tilden (1893-1953) could do more things with a racquet and a ball than any player before or since.

He delighted in beating opponents known for their mastery of a certain stroke or tactic by unleashing a superior brand of that stroke or tactic. For example, when he met Wallace Johnson in the finals of one of the six National Singles he won in a row, Tilden out-chopped that ultimate user of the chop stroke.

OUTRUSHES RICHARDS

Against most opponents Tilden was content to bombard them with long and immensely powerful strokes from the baseline. But against Vincent Richards, the best net rusher and volleyer of the Golden Age of Sports, Tilden outrushed him to the net and, once there, volleyed better than the best known exponent of the volley.

Today's top players and a few tennis writers tend to believe that Tilden could not have stood up against the likes of Don Budge, Jack Kramer, Pancho Gonzales and the better Australians of recent vintage.

★ ★ ★

We'll never know, of course. It's like matching Dempsey against Joe Louis, Man O' War against Dr. Fager, and all other hypothetical time-bridging contests.

★ ★ ★

Tilden, I think, would have moved with change, kept abreast or ahead of the trends, just as Knute Rockne and Pop Warner would have altered and improved their brand of football. Tilden was never a fellow who let the parade go by him. He always led it, and as colorfully as a drum major.

DOMINATED GAME

He dominated the game from 1920 to 1930 as no player ever made an era his own. He was 27 years old before he won his first National Singles — an old man by today's tennis standards — but thereafter he won 70 American and international championships. He was the first American to win at Wimbledon, was on 11 U.S. Davis Cup teams, and did much to keep the cup in the U.S. for seven straight years.

'Campaign Against Daylight Saving Time'

Mothers of tired, cranky children, now is the time to start our political campaign against daylight saving time. November is the time to vote "no" but now is the time to talk about it. Don't let anyone tell you it prevents crime when the greatest majority of our crimes are committed by children 15 years old. These children should be home at that time, yet this summer it was still daylight at 10 p.m. When these same high-schoolers catch the bus this fall, it will be dark.

★ ★ ★

Being a mother of six children, I, too, like to drop in bed early. The screech of tires, the loud, uncaring picnickers and boaters are not conducive to sleep. We have tampered with our time zone once for a useful purpose. Let's leave well enough alone. We enjoyed our boat, golf and our children just as much before double daylight saving time.

In answer to a letter explaining Governor Wallace's actions, I saw the same thing, and so did my 11-year-old granddaughter. She asked why he let the white kids go in and not the colored boy and girl. When I told her they were colored, she asked what their color has to do with it; don't they need an education too? I cannot see where Governor Wallace had any respect for the President in what he did. How come he has changed so much in such a short time? Please explain what he means in no-nonsense promise to restore respect and order and law, when it seems he is not living up to law and order. Or is he going to make a new set of rules?

Questions Funds to Train Hospital Workers

Why is it necessary to grant $299,871 to Pontiac State Hospital to train attendant nurses, laboratory trainees, dietary and central supply personnel? Thrifty Drugs on Dixie Highway in Drayton carries it and Simms in downtown Pontiac has it. K-Mart has a granulated sugar substitute which comes in a box of individual packets.

Assassination

Nashville Banner

Terrorism as such — mark it well — pulled the assassins' trigger that gunned down U.S. Ambassador John Gordeon Mein at Guatemala City. The shock of that infamous and senseless crime is hemisphere-wide. Awareness of its meaning as the pattern of Communist device, surely by now is worldwide.

★ ★ ★

Guatemala has been in the throes of off-and-on Red revolution since the compliant tool regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman — particeps criminis — let down the bars to it in the early '50s. He supplied Communism its first toehold in Latin America, antedating Castro's takeover in Cuba. For the military revolt that expunged and expelled the Arbenz cabal, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas — the nation's deliverer and President — was assassinated in July, 1957.

★ ★ ★

There is no difficulty in adding up the facts more than circumstantially pointing to the enemy of all freedom in Latin America or elsewhere; and the bead it has drawn — as on embassies representative of the bastion of liberty. It has led riots against these, triggering violent assaults; stoning them, sacking U.S. installations, tearing down their Flag. Now it has murdered an Ambassador.

★ ★ ★

By whatever underground transmission it runs to that target point, the line of conspiratorial infamy traces from Moscow to Havana to Guatemala City; and Castro's branch office of the school of subversion has chalked up another monstrous inning, remindful of the fact that it still is a hemispheric cancer to be exterminated.

★ ★ ★

The United States is shocked and saddened by the loss of a faithful diplomatic servant — ably discharging duties where he was sent. It also should wise, to the implication of this be fully awakened, security-crime.

In an era when political candidates are more likely to offer instant solutions to all the world's ills (and themselves as the only one with talent sufficient to do the job) there is something refreshing in this soft sell.

★ ★ ★

It may well be that the voter, weary of the glowing pledges and boasts so much a part of today's campaigns, will turn to the aspirant who depreciates himself and professes an interest only in the pay of a political office.

★ ★ ★

The approach may even catch on. The day of the log cabin candidate has long since passed, after all, and the public does enjoy something new. At nominating conventions to come, in fact, the traditional "a man who" introduction of candidates may give way to "a man who can't."

Wrinkles in New Court Setup Being Smoothed

LANSING (AP) — Implementing Michigan's new 150-judge district court system is creating some problems, but probably none that can't be worked out, says State Court Administrator William R. Hart.

"We won't have all the wrinkles smoothed out by the first of the year," he said. "We've got to move fast, but we've got time."

* * *

The new court system, created by the Lower Court Reorganization Act given legislative approval this year, will replace the state's justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners, as well as most existing city courts.

The district courts come into official existence Jan. 1, and Hart says they'll probably be ready to function by then. But there are questions which the Supreme Court—which has the final say—must answer before then.

MAY BE CHANGES

And there may be areas where the Legislature will have to change its complex new court bill next year.

Meanwhile, a three-member committee of the Supreme Court has been set up to oversee the district courts, and another committee of justices is drafting proposed court rules.

Some of the problems, Hart says, include:

● The fact that a legislative oversight might now make it impossible for rural court district judges to hold court in county buildings if the buildings are in cities which are part of different districts.

SAGINAW PROBLEM

For example, judges in the 69th District, which is the City of Saginaw, could sit in buildings in the city, but those in the 70th—the rest of Saginaw County—apparently could not, and would have to find courtrooms elsewhere.

Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, who discovered the problem, said he will introduce legislation next year to resolve it.

● How to transfer records to the new courts from the justice courts, which are abolished effective Dec. 31. Hart hopes cities and counties will designate clerical employes, such as their clerks, to receive them.

● Where to get electronic recording devices, which the new courts may use in place of the traditional court stenographer. Four companies are bidding to supply them.

● Whom to pick as the $19,000-a-year deputy court administrator to devote his time to the new courts. Hart says 41 persons have applied. The Supreme Court will pick the man.

* * *

● Whether the few municipal courts that will remain in existence after Jan. 1 will find themselves with jurisdiction over fewer civil cases.

Some now can handle lawsuits up to $1,500. Hart says, but the new court law gives them the same jurisdiction as the present justice courts—where the limit is $600.

Increased Control of Pesticides Urged by Romney Advisers

LANSING (AP) — Michigan needs more coordinated regulation of potentially harmful toxic pesticides and more control over the people who apply them, a special advisory panel told Gov. George Romney Thursday.

Also recommended by the three-member panel were more pesticide research, better control of small packages of pesticides, and a careful check on the effects toxic accumulations have on the state's new coho salmon.

* * *

It added that checks should be made in areas where pesticides are applied, and said the State Department of Agriculture would be the most competent agency to to it.

The state departments of agriculture and conservation have been at odds over pest-control programs in the past.

REDUCTION ASKED

The advisory panel, named in April by Romney, called for a reduction in the use of lingering toxic pesticides "to safeguard the quality of our environment."

Panel members were Dr. Gordon E. Guyer, professor of entomology at Michigan State University; Dr. John E. Bardach, professor of fisheries and zoology at the University of Michigan; and Eugene E. Kenaga, Dow Chemical Co. environmental specialist.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Their report, presented to Romney Thursday, recommends:

● More money for the Agriculture Deparement, the Conservation Department and university research programs.

● Finding a way to determine total annual sale and use of toxic pesticides in the state, perhaps by checking distributors or retailers.

● Tighter control of pesticide appliers, since "it appears that these applicators can secure licenses for their trade with a minimum of control as to their training and competence to do a socially and environmentally safe pesticide job."

● More regulation, through information and restrictive legislation, of small packages of pesticides sold for house, lawn and garden use.

● Immediate expansion of research into the effects of toxic chemicals in Michigan's environment.

● An end of the "lack of coordination and, in some cases, duplication" in pesticide monitoring efforts, with a joint effort to be made by the two state departments and the universities.

● An attempt to reach agreement with Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin on control of pesticides which might accumulate in Lake Michigan.

● Creation of an advisory and appeal committee, directly responsible to the governor, to pass on proposed pesticide programs.

Washington made his farewell address in 1783 at Fraunces Tavern in New York.

McCarthyites Pushing Ballot Quest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Die-hard supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy are pushing for fourth-party slots on the ballots of several states, despite McCarthy's removal of his name as fast as it gets on some ballots.

An Associated Press survey shows McCarthy backers are working hardest in 12 states.

* * *

The push was successful in Indiana and Iowa, but McCarthy asked that his name be stricken. Workers are still busy circulating petitions in Minnesota, Tennessee, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont, Arizona, Florida, Delaware, Nebraska and California.

The threat of a fourth-party drive drawing disenchanted voters from the regular parties was compounded Thursday by the defection of a second Southern governor from the Democratic ticket.

* * *

Gov. John Bell Williams said he and the Mississippi delegation rejected by the Democratic convention would support third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

* * *

Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana denounced the Democratic ticket earlier, although he stopped short of a formal endorsement for Wallace.

Wallace was resting in Miami Beach, Fla., today.

* * *

While Hubert Humphrey rested in Minnesota, students from the University of Minnesota law school solicited the 2,000 signatures necessary to get McCarthy on the November ballot.

Florida workers sought 18,500 signatures and said they'll seek court action to overturn an Aug. 15 deadline for filing. In New Hampshire, the closing deadline for the 1,000 signatures needed is Sept. 25. The New Party in Arizona had a spot on the ballot and was expected to nominate McCarthy.

* * *

The New Party in Delaware fought challenges to petitions to get McCarthy's name on the ballot there, as did McCarthy backers in Rhode Island.

Californians said they are aiming at a Sept. 20 deadline to get 330,000 signatures for McCarthy.

NO REACTION

Petitioners filed for McCarthy in Vermont, but there was no immediate reaction from the state election bureau.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Humphrey's running mate, accepted the Liberal Party nomination for president on Humphrey's behalf in Washington, then read the vice president's speech prepared for the American Political Science Assocaition.

35 Walk Out at State Store

'Liquor to Flow Despite Strike'

LINCOLN PARK (AP)— Despite a wildcat strike by 35 employes, the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in the Detroit suburb of Lincoln Park plans says it plans to keep booze flowing to its customers.

Commission Business Manager George Burke Jr. said, "This includes using supervisory employes and hiring new workers, which we have been authorized to do by the State Civil Service Commission."

The walkout by fillers and checkers at the Commission's largest wholesale store Thursday was called illegal by commission officials under both the state's Hutchinson Act and civil service rules.

The Hutchinson Act prohibits strikes by public employes. As a result, the commission began suspending the 35 employes by telegrams.

89 INNOLVED

A spokesman for the American Federation of State, Local and Municipal Employes Local 1342, Chief Steward Leroy McDuffy, said that 89 employes are involved in the dispute, rather than 35.

McDuffy said the workers were "locked out" and forced to leave the premises after negotiations on wages and working conditions broke down.

He said the union is seeking wage hikes of 80 cents an hour and that the state's proposed increase would provide only a 10-cent increase for order fillers and nothing for checkers.

Workers walked out an hour and a half after punching their time cards, Burke said, and they refused to take their positions on the assembly line which fills liquor orders.

* * *

Burke said the store services the accounts of 2,100 Class C (bar) and SDD (package liquor) licensees in the Detroit metropolitan area.

He said employes walked out in apparent dissatisfaction with an increase from $3.20 to $3.33 an hour for order fillers and other wage reclassifications granted last week by the State Civil Service Commission.

Temperatures on Venus range from 104 to 530 degrees Fahrenheit.

Second Flood in Six Weeks Hits L'Anse

L'ANSE (AP)—For the second time in six weeks, the main street and other thoroughfares in L'Anse in the Upper Peninsula have been flooded, causing an estimated $30,000 damage.

The flooding came from heavy rains Wednesday night which filled nearby creeks and flowed down hilly areas nearby.

* * *

About six weeks ago a worse flooding took place due to a "seiche" condition on Keweenaw Bay. Such a situation results when high waters force swelling of nearby streams because of certain climatological conditions. Damage caused then was estimated at $100,000.

Glenn Sands, L'Anse town clerk, estimated the latest damage at $30,000.

* * *

The rains also hampered railroad freight service between Houghton and Champion. Champion is the junction point of the Soo and the Milwaukee railroad lines.

Area Man Gets State Position

Ervin Vahratian of 22946 Frederick, Farmington, has been appointed deputy director of the Detroit district of the State Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, it was announced yesterday.

State Director Burke L. Dailey said Vahratian will be in charge of the entire district, including the Pontiac and Mount Clemens offices as well as those in Detroit.

"He has an outstanding record of administrative achievement," said Dailey. "In the past he has proposed many unique management ideas that have been very effective."

Vahratian will assume his new duties Oct. 1.

OU Starts Fall Term With 'Student Week'

The hush enveloping Oakland University's relatively deserted campus has been broken this week as students and faculty returned to open the university's 10th fall term.

Registration is being held, as well as the annual convocation, orientation sessions, lectures seminars, get-acquainted discussions, open houses and films.

* * *

Classes begin Monday with an anticipated enrollment of more than 4,900 students as compared with 3,896 last fall.

As a relaxing intermission to New Student Week, which runs through Sunday, the student activities center will present Spanky and Our Gang in concert at Baldwin Pavilion at 8:30 tonight.

UNFINISHED BUILDINGS

Three new buildings are in the final stages of construction as the summer recess closes.

Two facilities — Dodge Hall of Engineering and Hamlin Hall — will be at least partially completed and in operation by the start of the new school year.

* * *

The third building — the new Student Health Center — will be finished later in the year.

Oakland Community College with campuses in Pontiac, Waterford and Farmington townships begin classes this week with an estimated 7,000 students.

ENROLLMENT UP

This is an increase of 1,500 over a year ago and almost doubles its opening enrollment of three years ago.

Holidays to See Cut in Mailbox Pickups

The Pontiac Post Office will discontinue holiday collections from mailboxes on side streets which generate very little mail, Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today.

Patrons mailing letters with time value should deposit their mail in collection boxes on the main arterial streets or in shopping centers on legal holidays.

Boxes with a star on the side receive the most frequent service.

Many entomologists now favor a combination of chemical and biological methods to control insects.

OCC Board Unanimous in OK of Chief

Dr. Joseph E. Hill, associate dean for graduate studies at Wayne State University, was unanimously appointed president of Oakland Community College by the seven-member board of trustees last night.

Hill, 49, who was selected last week, takes over Oct. 1 at a $27,000-a-year salary.

* * *

He is one of the first administrators at OCC to get a contract with no termination date. Hill reportedly asked for this type of contract. Former President Dr. John Tirrell had a three-year $32,000 contract.

Hill's contract provides that the board can terminate his employment as president within 10 days or he can end the agreement with three months notice.

* * *

If he is released as president, he could become a full professor at OCC if he so desires. All OCC administrators have this guarantee.

His contract also provides for use of a car and fringe benefits of full hospitalization, $70,000 in life insurance and long-term disability insurance.

The oldest university in Scotland is St. Andrews, which was founded in 1412.

Officials See U.S. Phase-Out in Viet as Feasible

Only around Saigon itself and in the two northernmost provinces are there enough forces to meet amply maximum enemy pressure. Elsewhere the allies react to enemy thrusts by rapidly massing the limited forces available.

SAIGON SECURITY

American efforts in Vietnam presumably are based on the assumption that Vietnamese will eventually take over the defense burden, but critics see the opposite taking place in some areas. Around Saigon, for example, the continuous threat of a major enemy attack has tempted the U.S. command to insist upon a greater voice in security than is normally the case.

"We could nursemaid the Vietnamese army forever," one civilian official commented.

* * *

"We saved them in 1965, and we built them up. Now they have a second chance, and they say they are nearly ready to do the job themselves. Maybe they can. God knows we should find out."

Several factors are seen as possibly speeding up the time for a partial American withdrawal.

IMPROVED ARMS

One is improved weaponry in the Vietnamese army. All 158 maneuver battalions in the regular forces have received the M16 automatic rifle with chrome-plated chambers and strengthened recoil buffers to prevent jamming. Local militia forces have started getting the M16, giving them equal if not better firepower than the Vietcong for the first time since 1964.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, is "showing considerably less patience for high-level excuses than did Westy," according to one official close to him. Abrams believes that real progress in Vietnam can be made only by the Vietnamese, and has told them so. Vietnamese "officers know that the honeymoon with the U.S. is over—they must fish or cut bait," said one official.

* * *

Another factor is that a decision to start moving Americans out would allow maximum leverage to be used against the Vietnamese government. Pacification director Vann, who in eight years in Vietnam has sought for more leverage to get things done, believes that if the right response was received from the government there would be no reduction of the over-all military effort with the departure of some Americans, but just a transference back to the Vietnamese. Vann sees hope in President Nguyen Van Thieu's broader-based government and the improved quality of district and province chiefs.

For the first time North Vietnamese troops now outnumber local Vietcong forces in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Corps Areas. That makes the war an easier one to wage because of the North Vietnamese tendency to fight a far more conventional war than the Vietcong. Also because of North Vietnamese dependence on lines of communications, and unfamiliarity with the countryside and with the people. The enemy forces can still move fairly freely at night, and allied forces still rely more on firepower than on infantrymen to destroy them. But the allied strategy of defense is seen as enabling a more rapid Vietnamese take-over. B52 bombers, artillery and radar can be used just as well to keep the enemy off a Vietnamese force as off an American one.

ATTITUDE FOR PULLOUT

One other major factor may be the attitude of people in the United States to the war. "Right now, people don't expect the war to be going on in Vietnam in 1969," declared Vann, who recently returned from Washington.

"They think the whole thing will be solved this year in Paris. But I tell you, the war will still be going next year, and when they find that out, they won't like it at all."

* * *

To avert what might turn out to be a complete rejection of the war by the U.S. public, Vann said, a planned reduction of U.S. forces would be a necessity. "We have to show them that this thing can end," he said.

He would go about the reduction by partly dismantling the elaborate military structure erected by Gen. Westmoreland.

FIRST 100,000 'FREE'

"The first 100,000 Americans to leave would be for free," Vann declared. "They are the clerks, the laundrymen, the engineer battalions building officers' clubs throughout the country. So many extraneous things are soaking up people not essential."

In Vann's view, infantry divisions should be limited to one base camp each instead of several (the 1st Division has five base camps.) Each base camp generally requires one battalion of infantrymen to secure, meaning that as much as one third of the trigger-pullers in each of the 11 American infantry divisions are standing guard duty.

* * *

Restricted to one base camp, U.S. troops would be required to stay out in the field longer, and walk more, particularly if fewer helicopters were used, another Vann recommendation to save the taxpayers money.

In the 3rd Corps area there are 900 helicopters, each using 3,600 pounds of fuel per day. Others who agree with Vann's viewpoint believe that vast quantities of ammunition are used unnecessarily, particularly in the "searching by fire" tactic wherein a unit moves into an area spraying gunfire in front of it.

There are also critics of the constant B52 raids that rattle cities every night. "Those raids cost half a million dollars apiece," one official commented. "I know of at least half a dozen raids where an infantry squad would have been better advised to check out the area—at one thousandth of the cost."

DEFOLIATION HIT

The defoliation program, costing $44 million this year for chemicals plus about three times that much to complete, is also criticized.

"I have been unable to determine one possible advantage from defoliation," one senior provincial official declared. "The program is more trouble than good and is the No. 1 complaint by the people in all three corps. It is the accidents that cause all the trouble—dropping the chemicals in the wrong place, and wind changes that wipe out the back gardens of a provincial capital, the plane leaks that spray the stuff over friendly paddy-fields. One rainstorm, and the targets in the forests of Zone D and zone C are matted with foliage again and you can't see the ground anyway."

Critics of the cost of the war divide annual expenditures this way: $800,000 U.S. economic aid; $1.8 billion military aid to the Vietnamese army, $2.6 billion in direct support of Vietnamese operations such as naval blockades and air support. The U.S. effort costs an additional $25 billion.

"Our real costs," said one high-level critic "are the 11 U.S. divisions and telling them that the sky is the limit moneywise. If some brigade commander decides to plow the country, we will ship out the equipment. Defoliate the highlands, we'll send the chemicals over. What commander has not told you he would rather spend a million dollars on bombs to stop an enemy force rather than risk one American life? I hate to say it but in Vietnam now that money has become as important as that one life."

WON'T SELL OUT

Those here who see a U.S. planned withdrawal as possible say they have no intention of selling out the Vietnamese. "I think that taking over the burden of the war is within their capability," Vann said. "Things are looking up, not enough but some. But as we phased out our troops, at some time we might have to make a value judgment, particularly if the other side was benefiting from our withdrawal."

Some Vietnamese units have already taken over from Americans.

* * *

The four-craft swiftboat unit at Phuoc Quoc Island is now all Vietnamese. The Vietnamese navy has taken over responsibility for manning eight coastal patrol stations.

Vietnamese minesweepers clear the important Dong Ngai River each day. The Vietnamese air force now has a squadron of UHIB (Huey) helicopters, and a squadron of Vietnamese F5 Freedom Fighter jets has flown 5,000 combat missions in the past year.

TAKING OVER CAMPS

Vietnamese also are taking over an increasing number of Special Forces camps in the highlands, and the Vietnamese army is moving in to some places, such as the Bong Son Plain, that American divisions once policed.

But there are still vast differences, particularly in mobility and in firepower. A U.S. infantry battalion has four times more machine guns than the Vietnamese equivalent. A U.S. division has twice as many artillery pieces, most of them of far higher caliber than the Vietnamese 105mm. A U.S. battalion has nine times more vehicles than a Vietnamese battalion.

* * *

The Vietnamese desertion rate still runs at around 6,000 per month, and some units have major disciplinary problems, but there is at least the possibility that many Americans can leave in stages without the loss of essential American firepower.

Felony Squad Forms in County

A special felony squad is being formed in the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office to combat increasing crime, it was announced today.

The felony unit was spurred by the recent FBI report of a marked rise in major crimes, according to Thomas G. Plunkett, chief assistant prosecutors.

* * *

"The unit will devote itself exclusively to the investigation and prosecution of serious crimes," said Plunkett.

Minor crimes such as neighborhood disputes, family squabbles and other misdemeanors will now be handled by a separate division, according to Plunkett.

This will allow the felony unit to give full attention to serious offenses, he said. Both changes will take place Oct. 1.

Plunkett will supervise the felony unit, which will consist of several experienced prosecutors.

* * *

Working closely with the felony unit will be the prosecutor's drug abuse unit and the special juvenile court unit which was inaugurated earlier this year in response to the increase in juvenile crime.

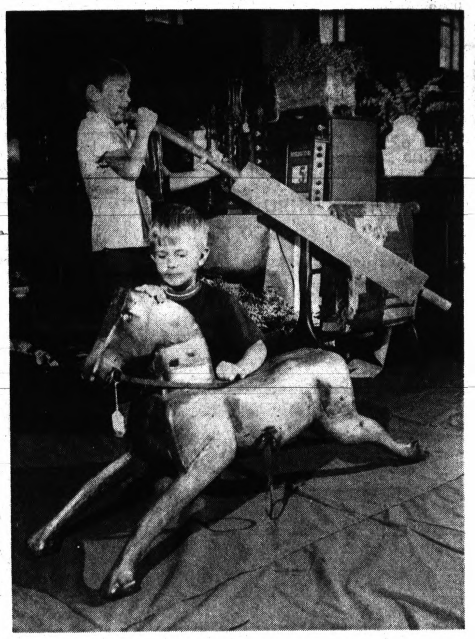
Antique Fair Draws All Sorts

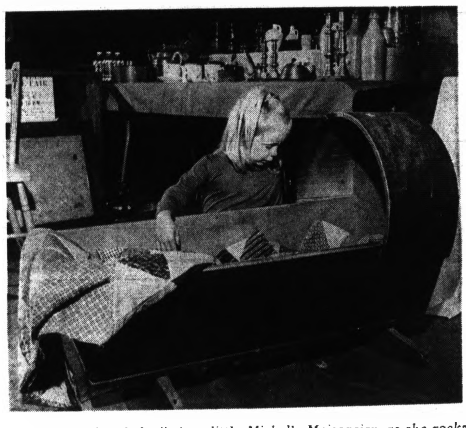
The lusty howls of this old English sheep dog, a neighborhood drop-in at the Bloomfield Antique Fair at Cranbrook Auditorium Thursday, are interpreted as thanks in behalf of his animal cousins at the Featherstone Road Shelter of the Michigan Animal Rescue League. Proceeds of the Fair, which continues through Saturday, will be used for maintaining the facility.

"Hey, where's the price tag?" seems to be the reaction of David Crawford, countering the obvious delight of his wife, Ann, in this solidly-constructed hutch of an earlier era. Femmine wiles won out, chalking up a sale for the Quail Hollow Antique Shop on Orchard Lake Road, and giving the Crawfords, of Detroit, a fine storage and display piece for their home.

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble



Bearing out the "something of interest for everyone" theory, these two youngsters admire a hand-carved, post-Civil War era rocking horse (minus its rocker) and a manually-lifted, wind-operated foghorn used on ships of about the same period. All set to blow while clutching a bag of licorice strips, is Robert "Bobby" Stewart, 9, of Bloomfield Hills. Roger "Chipper" Gay, 6, also Bloomfield Hills, pets the horse. Their mothers, Mrs. Carlton A. Stewart and Mrs. Roger R. Gay, also enjoyed the display of Daisy Dowling and James Schulz from their Troy shop.



"Hush-a-bye baby," sings little Michelle Meisegeier, as she rocks an imaginary baby cuddled warmly under the patchwork quilt. Michelle, almost four, could sleep quite comfortably in the outsize cradle. She attended the Antique Fair with her mother, Mrs. Reynold Meisegeier of Utica. Fair hours are from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Winner States Personal View on Repayment

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. Jole Zaydak of Mineola, N.Y.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I read today about the lady who had been hospitalized and who was fortunate to have friends who had her family to their home for dinner. She wondered if repayment of the invitation was necessary.

* * *

Isn't it astounding that people sometimes just can't accept an act or expression of help in times of trouble and feel they must repay kindness with a material repayment? There are still nice people in this world who help friends and acquaintances out of neighborliness and sheer kindness and who only want to be repaid with a "thank you."

* * *

They take it for granted that they would be helped if the situation were reversed — at least they hope to be so helped. The way to repay kindness is with kindness. Don't spoil it with anything else. — Jole Zaydak.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Zaydak: You are right — a warm thank you should be sufficient acknowledgement of an act of kindness of the sort you mention. Naturally, when the opportunity arises, the recipient will wish to offer an equally thoughtful service in return. But to feel that it is necessary to return "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" does much to destroy the unselfish thought behind the first gesture.

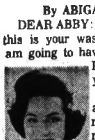
Letter Is Not a Shocker

Teens Alternately Love, Hate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I suppose you will throw this is your waste paper basket, but I am going to have my say anyway, and I hope it doesn't shock you.



ABBY

I am a 14-year-old girl and my problem is my mother. I hate her. It may sound terrible to you, but I really HATE her. I used to think I would get over it, but I know now I never will.

Sometimes I think I will go out of my mind If she doesn't quit picking on me. I never do anything to suit her. She doesn't like my clothes, my hair, my friends or anything.

My friends are not bums, either. They are good kids and they aren't wild or on pot or anything like that, but my mother says they look like hippies, and they AREN'T.

* * *

Please help me, Abby, before I run away from home. I cry myself to sleep at night because my mother is so hateful. If I babysit she makes me put the money in the bank. Other girls can buy records or do whatever they want with the money they earn.

Don't tell me to talk to my father. He's always on her side. And don't tell me my mother "loves" me and is only doing things for my own good. If you print my letter, don't sign my name or I'll get killed.

MISERABLE IN PHOENIX

DEAR MISERABLE: Your letter doesn't "shock" me at all. I receive many such letters each week. Almost every normal teen-ager alternately loves and hates his parents.

It's not easy to be criticized, restricted, corrected, and disciplined day in and day out. But parents who really love their children, prove it by consistently letting their children know what is expected of them. Parents who are "soft" and permissive, rear confused, insecure children.

I don't expect you to agree with me today, but keep this letter and read it again three years from now, and then you'll understand it perfectly. Good luck, dear. You're lucky. You are loved.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am appalled at the carelessness with which some women and girls sit in their too-short skirts these days. I am tired of sitting on buses, in restaurants, and at private gatherings and being exposed to views I can't avoid.

The other evening in a restaurant an older woman in a miniskirt left nothing to the imagination. I didn't know whether to signal her, whisper to her as I left, or write her a note on my napkin.

Should one ignore a situation which is disgusting to all, or try to communicate the problem to the offenders in some way?

REVOLTED

* * *

DEAR REVOLTED: Don't bother to signal, whisper or write any notes. The offenders know full well what they're exposing, and they could care less. Just look somewhere else.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Illinois and Miss Alabama in Winning Form

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Illinois, who floated through the air off a trampoline, and Miss Alabama, who stays curvy despite hot fudge sundaes, are second-round winners in the Miss America Pageant.

Judith Ford, 18, the talent winner, performed a three-minute acrobatic dance and trampoline exhibition Thursday night.

* * *

The striking 5-foot-7 blonde from Belvidere, Ill., was the first to do a trampoline act in Pageant history.

An Illinois University sophomore and physical education major, Judy is the National Junior Women's Trampoline champion and was rated second by the Amateur Athletic Union in the Senior Women's Gymnastics Championships.

SWIM SUIT

Swimsuit winner Dellynne Catching, a brown-haired beauty from Birmingham, Ala., said she has to diet to keep her 37-24-37 figure. But she said it doesn't keep her from eating hot fudge sundaes.

"It's my favorite dessert," said 19-year-old Dellynne, a 5-foot-6 sophomore majoring in piano at Birmingham-Southern College.

Beauty apparently runs in the Catching family. Her mother was fourth runnerunrup in the 1942 Miss Mississippi Pageant.

CROWNING

By their victories, Misses Alabama and Illinois join Miss Iowa and Miss Virginia as preliminary round winners.

The crowning is Saturday night.

Meanwhile, contestants were expected here for the start tonight of the Miss Black America contest which is being held in protest of what its sponsors call the "lily white" Miss America Pageant.

News in Hills Combination of Moves, Returns, Romance

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ludington Jr., and their children Susan, Ian, Dana, and David, are home now after an all-summer stay at their Harbor Beach place.

* * *

Over the Labor Day weekend, 31 people gathered there to help mother-in-law, Mrs. Ivan Ludington, celebrate her birthday. Among them were Overhill Drive neighbors of the junior Ludingtons, Dr. and Mrs. Fritz Adams.

* * *

September 21 is the date chosen for the marriage of Edward D. Rollert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rollert, of Bloomfield Hills, to Margaret Mead Baker, of Hinsdale, Ill. The bride-to-be is a Smith College graduate, her fiance a graduate of Purdue and the University of Michigan Law School.

* * *

The Wright Tisdales, West Long Lake Road, are having a dinner party Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Wright. It's to be a farewell party, maybe.

* * *

The Wrights are moving from their Wing Lake Road home to their place at Sea Island, Ga. Their stay there will be an extended one, but, says Mrs. Wright, "I think we'll be back." After all, they've only lived in this area for 22 years.

ABUNDANCE

Imagine 18 bridesmaids and ushers. When the superlatives are totted up at the end of this season, the double wedding of the Bowman sisters may prove to be the only one that filled the entire length of the aisle at St. Hugo of the Hills, where the ceremonies will take place Saturday.

Vicki Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bowman, of Bloomfield Hills, will be escorted up the aisle by her father. Waiting at the altar will be David Pistor, son of the Jack Pistors, also of Bloomfield Hills.

Michael Bowman, 16, will escort his sister Judy to the altar. Her husband-to-be is William Madigan, son of the John Madigans of Mt. Clemens.

The three sets of parents, and all the attendants, will meet at the Pistor home this evening for the rehearsal dinner, which is cohosted by Mr. and Mrs. Madigan.

All six of the Bowman children still at home will be in the wedding party.

* * *

Deep in the throes of packing and crating are Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barker of Bloomfield Hills. They are moving from Martel Drive to something cosier, on Stratford Lane, same P.O. They hope, fervently, to be settled by October.

Kathy Hoopes to Wed Sanford S. Decker

The betrothal of their daughter, Kathy Elizabeth, to Sanford Stuart Decker, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoopes of Foster Road, Springfield Township. Vows are slated for early November.

The prospective bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Milton Decker of Oak Park and the late Mr. Decker, and his fiancee are alumni of Wayne State University.

McGinty's Tour Britain

The F. J. McGintys of Crescent Point Drive will leave for New York City to visit friends before departing from that city for a tour of Britain.

Nuptials Spoken by Miss McIntyre

The George Peter Riesses (nee Sandra Ellen McIntyre) are honeymooning at Niagara Falls following their recent exchange of vows in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Attired in an A-line gown of shantung the former Miss McIntyre carried a bouquet of cascading white roses with English ivy.

* * *

Her gown was fashioned with a cowl neckline and modified bell sleeves of Danish lace.

* * *

Matching lace appliques accented her chapel train and the bow which secured her illusion veil.

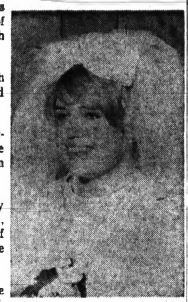
* * *

Honor attendants were Molly McIntyre, sister of the bride, and Frank Riess Jr., brother of the bridegroom. Roger LaPointe and Richard Miller ushered.

* * *

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. McIntyre of Cooley Steert and the senior Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riess of Balmoral Terrace, Independence Township.

A reception in Guinn's Banquet Hall following the ceremony.



MRS. GEORGE P. RIESS

A late January wedding is planned by Phyllis Elaine Collins and Paul Kitchen, both students at Spring Arbor College. The bride elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire Collins of Three Oaks. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson of Ross Drive.

The engagement of their daughter, Genevieve Ann, to Danny William Giroux, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Shufer C. Burns of Highfield Street. Danny is the son of the junior Mr. and Mrs. William Giroux of Dixie Highway. The bride elect has attended Central Michigan University and her fiance is a sophomore at Adrian College.

Act Offers Self-Employed Tax Break

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

If you're self-employed and want a tax break on the funds you're building for retirement, you'd better take another look at a new ruling on the so-called Keogh Plan.

MARY FEELEY

The Self-Employed Individual's Tax Retirement Act, official name for the plan generally called after Sen. Keogh, now allows you (1) to put 10 per cent (not to exceed $2,500) of all your income from capital and personal services into a pension fund, instead of just a tenth of 30 per cent of the income; (2) all money put into the plan is tax deductible, not just one-half of it as formerly specified. Even if you're on a salary in one job and self-employment is a second job, earnings from the later may be put into a retirement fund.

* * *

Of course, if you're owner of a business with employes who have been with you for more than three years, you for more than three years, the cost of using the Keogh Plan may still prove too much to attract you, since you'd have to make provisions for them as well as for yourself. But if you have only your own retirement to think about, the plan has some significant advantages.

It's a systematic savings program which you're committed to keep up; it offers a tax savings you can feel every year.

MONEY SAVED

If, for example, your earnings put you in the 28 per cent bracket and you put $1,000 into retirement funds under the Keogh Plan every year, you'll save $280 on your federal income return. When you retire and start collecting your savings, the assumption is that your tax bracket will be much lower.

True, there are disadvantages, too. If your tax bracket is not substantially reduced when you hit retirement age and start using these savings, then you don't stand to benefit enough to make it worthwhile.

* * *

Also, you can't take out your savings or any part of them until you are 59½. And you can't borrow on them, which could be a considerable disadvantage unless you also maintain emergency savings in some other form. While exceptions are made in case of death or disability — the latter described as "incapable of performing duties" — some plans impose a heavy tax penalty if you make premature withdrawals.

Basic pension plans set up under this act as of now and approved by the Internal Revenue Service, include insurance, mutual funds, commercial and savings bank trusts and U.S. Retirement Plan Bonds.

PAYMENTS TERMINATED

If you go in for one of these plans, but find your self-employed earnings decrease and you decide you want to stop payments, you can. Interest will accrue, but you can't take out either principal or interest.

* * *

If you start out with one type of plan and want to switch to another later, such as from insurance to a bank trust or vice versa, you may.

As to whether you're required to continue putting in the same amount of money each year, that depends on where you invest. Some requirements may be set at a minimum of $100 up to 10 per cent of income, provided it doesn't exceed the $2,500 a year maximum.

It will certainly pay to shop around, since the various plans will earn varying interest and you want some logical estimate of what you can expect in the kitty when you turn 59½. Incidentally, you must start taking out these savings by age 70½ at the latest, if you are still actively employed.

APPROVAL REQUEST

When you settle on the type of pension fund you want to build, you'll have to fill out IRS Form 3673 which is a request for approval governing such investments, in addition to a master plan with the company receiving your payments.

Fashion Revives Elegant Chains of Renaissance

The forehead has come to the fore again in fashion.

Along with the squaw band and the "headache" band, there is the most sparkling revival of all — the Ferronniere.

Strictly for evening, strictly for elegance, fashion a la Ferronniere decrees a chain around the head with a single precious gem glittering in the center of the forehead.

* * *

This fashion originated in the Renaissance. It takes its name from the young mistress of Francis I of France, La Belle Ferronniere, who introduced it. When headdresses became elaborate, this jewel-form disappeared. It returned to popularity during the Victorian era for wear at galas.

* * *

Today, the Ferronniere is experiencing a third vogue — but with a romantic look so 'now' that it's hard to believe there's nothing new under the diamond.

Love Bubbles in Laundromat

Boy-Meets-Girl is an old game — but the rules are always new.

The current meeting place for hopeful singles is the neighborhood coin laundry: she explains to him the mysteries of soaps, detergents, rinse-and-spin cycles; he helps her fold the sheets and blankets — and love bubbles among the steam and suds!

Polish Dance Set

Polish folk dances and songs will highlight Saturday's benefit dance in the CAI Building being sponsored by the Polish National Alliance Pontiac Lodge No. 2776.

Beginning at 9 p.m., the event which is open to the public will feature the Wawel Folk Ensemble. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Tipacon Charter Chapter Notes

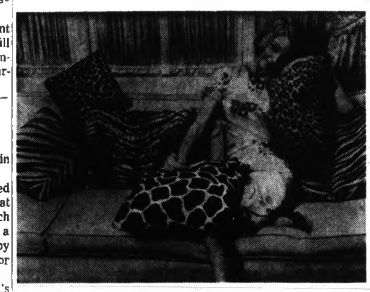
Postmaster William Donaldson welcomed members of Tipacon Charter Chapter, American Business Women's Association as they arrived Wednesday for a tour of the Pontiac Post Office on West Huron Street.

* * *

Guides for the affair, followed with a film and discussion by Clyde Smith, customer relations representative, were Mrs. Charles Dugas and Mrs. Marvin Jennings.

The evening was concluded with a smorgasbord dessert at Grace Lutheran Church, which will be the scene Sept. 21 of a fall rummage sale sponsored by members with profits used for the group's scholarship fund.

Guests attending Wednesday's program were Patricia Vogelsburg, Mrs. Frances Birch and Mrs. Otto Kopp.



Newest sophisticate in pillow decor is the animal print, with its staccato accent of boldly patterned black-and-whites and browns-and-beiges. Short of a safari hunt for the real pelt, the most life-like interpretations are found in the deep-textured mohair pile fabrics. The lustrous natural mohair fiber imparts a realistic gloss and softness. They have a true jungle animal suppleness in such patterns as tiger, leopard, zebra and giraffe. Animal patterned fabrics by Tressard of New York are available through local decorators.

NANCY WATSON

FRANCES WILLIAMS

Air Force Blue for Area Girls

Four area girls are bound for orientation assignments in the Panhandle state following recent news of their enlistment in the United States Air Force, according to Sgt. Charles J. Duffy of Cottonwood Knoll, local Air Force Recruiter.

Sheppard AFB, Witcheta Falls, Tex., will be home for three weeks for Joan Anne Duffy, RN, who recently accepted an appointment as 2nd Lieutenant in the Nurses Corps.

Joan, a graduate of Mercy College of Detroit, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John West Bloomfield Township.

Nancy Watson, Frances Williams, and Lucinda Kitchen (not pictured) will receive basic training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio.

The girls, who will be stationed there for six weeks, were recently graduated from Pontiac Northern, Central and Clarkston High Schools respectively.

Nancy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Watson of Meadow Street and Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams of Harvey Street. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kitchen, Lucinda's parents, reside on Clarkston Road in Independence Township.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Someone said, "Motion should match, emotion," or words to that effect. Saying it another way, physical activity is a natural antidote for emotional stress.

This is why. When we are upset or angry or worried about something, our adrenalin glands shoot adrenalin into our blood stream to prepare us for physical action. But what do we do?

Today, men do not usually go about punching one another in the nose because of differences or resentments, nor do women indulge in scratching, biting, kicking or hair pulling when they are angry with someone. We bury our anger or worry within us. We actually stew in our own juice rather than use the adrenalin, which has been poured into our blood for physical activity, as nature planned.

The anxieties of prehistoric man were concerned mainly with staying alive and getting enough food. He needed the shot of adrenalin for immediate and violent physical action as he protected himself and obtained essential nutriment.

It is believed that stress which is maintained for a long time, or is repeated periodically, can lay the foundation for physical and even mental disorders. It is a well-known fact that emotional stress raises the cholesterol blood level and therefore may promote hardening of the arteries.

* * *

Our adrenal glands know when we are in trouble and try to help us get ready for action. However, since our environmental circumstances and the standards of proper conduct have changed, we no longer fight it out except with ourselves.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the famous heart specialist, who is a great enthusiast concerning the benefits of regular physical exercise, has often said that it provides the best relief from tension.

Why not try exercise the next time you are worried or angry or tense? Just a brisk walk may clear the clouds and renew energy. A swim is much better than a tranquilizer or a sleeping pill. Try it!

Ann Simpson, David Smith Repeat Vows

Four Towns Methodist Church was the setting Saturday for vows spoken by Ann Marie Simpson and David Vernal Smith, a reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.

For the afternoon rite, the daughter of the Richard H. Simpsons of Pontiac Lake Road wore a gown of bridal satin with lace accents. Her bouquet was comprised of white roses, and pink carnations.

* * *

Constance Simpson attended her sister as maid of honor with Pamela J. Hill and Mrs. John Mills of Alma as bridesmaids. Escorts were David Caszett, Albert McBride, both of St. Louis, and James Smith

The son of the Vernal Smiths of St. Louis and his bride are honeymooning in lower Michigan.

Carpet Glossary

BROADLOOM is a designation of carpet width. It does not describe any special quality, style or construction. The term refers to any carpet made in a seamless width of more than six feet.

PILE YARNS, sometimes called "face yarns," are tufts of yarn that form the surface of the carpet.

BACKING YARNS are the materials that form the carpet backing, or foundation, to which pile or face yarns are anchored. A second backing fabric may be laminated to the primary backing, and the backing may be coated with latex.

PLY is a thickness of yarns used in carpet. If the pile yarn is described as "3-ply," it means that each tuft is made of three strands of yarn spun together. Ply affects texture; it does not necessarily improve quality.

WILTON, AXMINSTER and VELVET are type of looms on which carpet is woven. Carpets made on these looms may also be described by these terms, such as a "Wilton carpet," a "velvet carpet," or "an Axminster."

TUFTING is a construction process used for most carpets and rugs today. Pile yarns are attached to a preconstructed backing by wide multiple-needled machines.

DENSITY is the carpet factor which is the single best clue to quality. It refers to the closeness of construction of surface yarns—and the best rule of thumb is "The deeper, the denser, the better."

Ordinary Human Hurt Is Yours to Bear

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

I once knew a woman whose favorite question was: "Why has this happened to me?"

If a tooth broke off, she asked this question. If her son wouldn't join her in country weekends, she asked it. When he disobediently married, she asked it yet more plaintively. Finally, you realized that she wasn't asking you this question at all. Nor, being an irreligious woman, was she asking God to answer it.

You saw that she was demanding answer from some almighty self that had somehow got installed in her in place of an ordinary human self — one from which she expected protection from all ordinary disappointments in people and circumstances.

* * *

The trouble was, this almighty self didn't exist. So it couldn't deliver this protection. Consequently, its continuous failures to protect her ended in such persistent complaint that everybody, including her son, got sick of it. And left her alone — alone with that arrogant and never-answered question of hers: "Why has this disappointing happening dared to happen to me?"

* * *

Her aloneness is a warning to a reader who writes, "I have just learned that my daughter and her husband, had his parents at a housewarming party in their new home. Not only was I not invited to this party but it was also kept secret from me. Mrs. Lawrence, as a widow left to get by on a very small income, I denied myself for years to give this girl the education I never had. Why has this insulting treatment happened to me?"

* * *

Madam, you are not addressing that question to me. You want explanation from some grandly powerful self you have somehow acquired and which you have most mistakenly trusted to shield you against commonplace hurts as queens trust palace guards to guard them against intrusion by common people.

* * *

Therefore, all I can suggest is that you stop fighting what has happened and acquiesce in the fact that it has happened. Ordinary human hurt has got past your palace guards, madam. What's more, it will presume to intrude on you again. So you'd better get used to it.

* * *

For these grandly controlling selves we acquire are frauds, you see. They are no more able to control a daughter's guest list than they can control the ocean's tides. They constantly let us down. For which reason, it's sensible to rid ourselves of them and join the rest of this not-so-powerful human race. Otherwise, they entrap us in endless and mystified complaint.

To Be Sanitary Clean Toilet Often

In addition to making sure that the bowl is flushed after every use, proper bathroom care involves cleaning the toilet daily to keep it sanitary.

Start by sprinkling soap or detergent into the bowl to "soak." Next wipe the outside of bowl; the top, sides, and bottom of the tank; and both sides of the seat with a sudsy cloth. Then use a long-handled brush to scrub inside bowl.

* * *

Finish up by flushing it and storing the brush in a special jar or container — out of reach of small children.

Canadian Honeymoon for the Philip M. Halls

Philip M. Hall and his bride (nee Judy Lyn Medlar) are honeymooning in Montreal, following vows Saturday in St. Jacobs Lutheran Church, Miamisburg, Ohio.

The son of the Stuart P. Halls of North Rochester Road in Addison Township and the daughter of the Earl T. Medlars of Miamisburg, were feted with a reception in the church parlors and a buffet in the home of the bride's parents prior to their departure.

ENSEMBLE

For the double ring exchange, the former Miss Medlar chose a satin sheath with an overlay of white organza, fashioned with a jewel neckline and chapel train. Her illusion veil was secured with a lace demihat and she held a colonial bouquet of white daisies, roses and Stephanotis.

★ ★ ★ ★

Carol Medlar and Allan Hall stood as honor attendants for their sister and brother, respectively, with Kathleen Drayer, Norma Bartimay and Mrs. Gary Swigart, bridesmaids, escorted by Robert Wright, Craig Cheney and Capt., Gary Swigart, USAF, ushers.

The newlyweds will make their home in Marblehead, Mass.

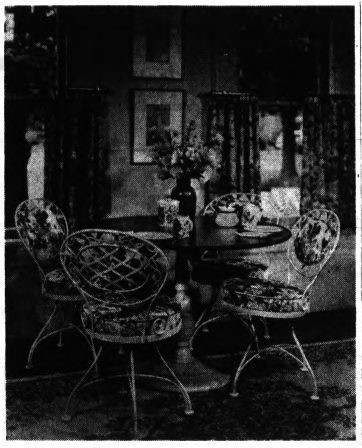
B and B Method Is Recommended for Burn Therapy

"B and B" is the method recommended by Dr. E. Ide Smith of Kansas City for the home treatment of small but severe burns in children.

★ ★ ★

He explains this means to bathe the burn with whatever soap or detergent the family uses for dishes, and to "butter" it several times a day with an antibiotic ointment.

The procedure must be initiated by a physician, after which an especially trained nurse instructs the parents on how to continue the treatment.



Prettily poised on pedestal swivel bases, these lacy wrought iron chairs are a particularly good choice for a small dining area. They accent dining comfort while allowing the diner to turn and rise without moving the chair. Chairs and matching pedestal table are from the new indoor Chantilly Rose collection by Lee L. Woodard Sons, Inc., Owosso, Mich. The table top is of mellow walnut wood. Chairs have bright patterned upholstery on luxuriously soft foam cushions.

Conversation Piece for Outdoor Garden

Apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, etc. are excellent fruits every gardener should grow. But there are also a number of less-known fruits which should be tried, too. And, some attract fewer pests.

There is the paw-paw, native from New Jersey and New York to Michigan, Nebraska and southward. It likes a fairly good soil, reasonably moist, in open shade where it makes a small tree up to 30-feet tall. The fruits are sweet, dark skinned, oblong, up to five inches long and somewhat banana-like in flavor.

* * *

Another is the jujube, and attractive Chinese tree, which grows to the same height. It, too, thrives in the colder states as well as some warmer ones. It may start bearing a year or two after planting. Its plentiful fruits are one to two inches long, oval, sweet and crisp. They can be eaten fresh, candied or made into jam.

Somewhat better known are the persimmons, both native and oriental ones. While the former are smaller fruiting, they are hardier and will grow from southern New England to Iowa and southward. Since the roots are inclined to be long, dig a deeper hole than for most trees. Fruiting takes place in early fall but the fruits are unpleasant until fully ripe.

OTHERS

Then there are the somewhat apple-like medlars; white, black and red mulberries; elderberries; beach plums; figs for mild climates and bush cherries for the northern plains where few other fruits do well.

While these trees will grow fairly well with little care, prepare the soil and plant carefully for best results. Using your spade or fork dig a hole several feet across and as deep. Loosen and spade into the soil in the bottom at least a one-inch layer of peat or compost and a cup of vegetable fertilizer. Return some of the soil and plant in the usual way, firming the soil and adding at least a bucket of water before completing the filling to the top. Here a shallow basin is left to hold water and place one to two inches of mulch over the soil to retain moisture. The soil which is returned should be improved with humus and one to three packets of the new three to five year fertilizer placed under the roots.

A Tall Phlox Unsurpassed in Reliability

For color, over-all garden effect and reliability, nothing surpasses the tall perennial phlox. To call it "colorful" is an understatement — pure, snowy whites, brilliant reds, flaming scarlets, blues, purples, soft pinks, lavenders and everything between. All these, and more, are now available.

And, now is the time to select your favorites while they are in bloom. They can be planted this fall or next spring, if necessary.

* *

Among the older, better-known varities are the three-foot fiery scarlet Leo Schlageter; luminous salmon Sir John Falstaff; Prince of Orange; Snowball; soft pink with a crimson eye Rosa Spier, a strong grower; Amethyst; American Beauty Red Augusta; Vintage Wine, Cameo-pink Dresden China and Orange Perfection.

Added to these we have newer and still better ones. For palest of pinks try Mother of Pearl. For a deeper color plant, rose pink R. Symons-Jeune or sparkling deep Pink Gown. Starry Skies is pale lavender and Russian Violet, violet-purple. Flaming Prince Charming and spectacular Starfire are outstanding reds. Among the whites nothing beats Mount Fujiyama. These are but a small sample. Look at some up-to-date catalogs, or visit a good nursery to see them for yourself.

PLANTING LOCATION

When the time comes to plant select a location with a fair amount of sun — they stand more shade than many perennials, a reasonable soil, well-drained and where there is good movement of air.

Dig the soil deeply, at least one green thumb spade full, and work in 2 inches of humus and a good vegetable fertilizer. If the soil is heavy, add sand or fine gravel, too, and in acid soil ground limestone as indicated by a soil test.

* * *

Then dig a hole large enough to accommodate all roots and set the plant the same depth it was before with two feet or more between plants. Firm the soil well with your feet, water and cover with a basket for a few days if the weather is hot. In particularly dry soil add a little "water-wetter" available in most good garden stores.

Thereafter weed and cultivate frequently. If it becomes necessary to water, do so with a soil soaker or other method which will keep it off the leaves to prevent mildew.

Annual Vines Will Pay Handsome Dividends

Vines seem to have been receiving a little less attention lately — less than they deserve. This is especially true of the annual vines which you can still plant and get results this year. They make an excellent screen, are colorful, and are very easy to grow.

You must first prepare the soil as you would for any other annuals. If the soil has not been turned over recently, do so at once, using a green thumb spade or spading fork its full depth into the soil to thoroughly incorporate one to two inches of old manure, compost or other humus.

* * *

Apply three to five pounds of vegetable fertilizer mixed in well. Rake it smooth and you are ready for planting — a small, triangular hoe is excellent for making the furrows. To speed germination soak the larger seeds overnight. Most are vigorous enough to grow on any type trellis, wire fence or strings.

As for the plants, you have a choice. For a strong grower with bright red flowers over a fairly long season, try the scarlet runner bean. If picked young the beans are as good as any. If left until fully matured, however, they can be a bit tough eating.

CLUSTERS

Naturally, the flowers are in clusters, bean-like and of a most brilliant hue — growing 6 to 8 feet and more. About the same height, also with beanlike flowers but in a rich purple is the hyacinth bean. Later come flat pods in purple or white, a very attractive and good screening vine.

Another attractive vine is the cobaea or cup-and-saucer vine. In the north it is grown as an annual. In the south it may turn perennial and climb very high. The flowers are large, pink to purple, followed later by plum-like fruits. The big seeds usually germinate better standing edgewise in the soil.

* * *

Everyone knows the morning glories, especially Heavenly Blue. There are also the pure white Pearly Gates and a red called Scarlett O'Hara, all easy to grow. Nick the seed coats with a knife before planting.

Less known is the cardinal climber with smaller, red trumpet flowers and somewhat ferny foliage. While it can grow up to 20 feet tall, it looks good on a low fence. Nick the seed and soak overnight.

NASTURTIUMS

Nasturtiums are easy, floriferous, colorful but sometimes buggy. So long as you do not intend to grow vegetables there, you can prevent this by using one of the new systemic insecticides in the soil.

Besides these you can sometimes find seeds of the canarybird vine, black-eyed-Susan vine, balloon vine and, of course, gourds. All are good, colorful and easy.

Harvest Festival to Open Wednesday

The Michigan Horticultural Society will hold its annual Harvest Festival Tuesday through Thursday at the Belle Isle Casino, Detroit.

Any amateur arranger and member of a garden group may enter the show, announced Mrs. William J. Boustead, executive secretary of the society.

* * *

The number of entries in arrangement classes is limited and will be closed in order of registration. Exhibitors are requested to find a substitute if unable to display an arrangement.

The building opens at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday and the exhibits are to be judged in place by 11 a.m. the same day. They must be removed by 4 p.m. on Wednesday.

JUDGING

Judging will be by the standard system.

* * *

Additional information may be had at Mrs. Boustead's office, Michigan Horticultural Society, The White House, Belle Isle, Detroit, 48207.

To frame a flat-roofed garden hideaway, join 4x6-inch corner posts lengthwise with 2x10s bolted to either side of posts. Then run 2x2s or 1x2s on edge across the beams for a slat-style roof.

"For the past two years have been seeding Windsor into my lawn in the fall. Results have been amazing — real beautiful grass getting thicker all the time." J G CHARLESTON

"Our lawn seemed hopeless when we decided to seed Windsor into what was left. Improvement was slow at first but we kept feeding. Great success in time." MRS FRANCIS MCGUIRE

"I have succeeded in growing Windsor directly in an old road bed!" MAXINE SCHWANKE

"Last fall I seeded in Windsor. Results were just beautiful, so much so that four neighbors have been converted to seeding Windsor." SAM SINACORE

"I bought a box of Windsor and sowed it in areas where the lawn looked poor. I was disappointed because I saw no results at first. But this summer, to my surprise, the Windsor has come up and my lawn is the envy of all." P C BARTROE

• Windsor succeeds in trying situations because of its unusual root and rhizome strength.

Why it is now practical

With the introduction of Windsor, the remarkable new variety of Kentucky bluegrass, seeding right into an existing lawn became practical. Now, with a little patience and a box of Windsor, you can begin to upgrade your lawn without digging up and starting over. Your ultimate reward will be the rich green carpet that only Windsor can provide—one that feels like velvet and wears like iron. And fall is the naturally right time to plant grass seed.

Whether you seed Windsor into your present lawn or not, right now is the time to fertilize, for a better lawn this fall and next year. Your grass is probably hungry right now. Feed it with Turf Builder, the fertilizer that makes grass multiply itself. (Scotts dealers are having a timely Seed-and-Feed Sale. See special fall offer below.)

Premeasured and Mixed Chemicals

If you love to garden but dislike the messy job of mixing garden chemicals, you will welcome the new premixed and premeasured packets of lawn and garden sprays being introduced nationally for the first time.

They come in five different formulations for different types of plants and will solve most of the home gardening problems caused by insects, plant diseases and weeds. Each of the five formulations is premeasured to make one gallon of spray and then sealed in water-soluble packets for greater safety and convenience.

* * *

Called "Pop-in", the sprays have been named for the way they are used. A gardener merely "pops" one or more of the packets in a garden sprayer or a bucket and adds water. In moments the plastic casing disintegrates and the premixed powder chemicals dissolve quickly throughout the water. No measuring or mixing is required.

* * *

Each consumer-size package contains five separate water-soluble plastic packets for a single use—on roses and other flowers, shrubs and evergreens, fruit trees, tomatoes and vegetables or weeds.

MODERN CHEMICALS

In commenting on the new type lawn and garden chemicals developed by his company, Walter A. Houston, Vice President of Encap Products Company, said that the most modern and effective chemicals available are used in formulating the "Pop-in" lawn and garden sprays.

He particularly cited the use of Sevin, the new wonder insecticide which is rapidly replacing DDT because Sevin is a biodegradable chemical that breaks down within weeks after it is used and its effective power is no longer needed.

* * *

"Pop-in" formulations also contain the highest quality wetting agents, thereby eliminating the need for wetting additives. They furthermore have exceptional suspension and dispersion qualities to better assure an even amount of chemical being dispersed throughout the entire spray.

The new type packets were developed after years of research to provide gardeners with a faster, cleaner, safer and more effective way to handle garden chemicals. They eliminate any direct contact with toxic powders, prevent possible mistakes in measuring, and provide a low cost chemical in comparison to aerosols or hose sprayers that waste chemicals.

The packets can be used with any of the conventional compressed air, knapsack, slide or power sprayers of any size.

Caladium Ranks High as Favorite

Many houseplants rival fresh flowers in the exquisite coloring of their leaves. Two especially great beauties are begonias and caladiums.

* * *

A 19th Century British botanist was so inspired by these particular plants that he wrote: "It would be imprudent, even if it were not impossible, to proceed far in the selection of beautifully-leaved plants without taking notice of a caladium.

* * *

"Nature has selected types of powers and beauties and placed them before us as examples of perfections concentrated.

* *

"Thus, the horse becomes the emblem of courage and strength; the nightingale and the thrush represent the whole of nature's music; humming birds show us what is possible in the highest-wrought coloring of the feathers of birds; and caladiums and begonias appear to be commissioned to demonstrate the fullest splendor in the coloring of leaves."

Aluminum Trellis Aid to Gardener

The weekend gardener can trim the roses on his trellis year in and year out without replacing the trellis when it is made of colorful aluminum.

The metal framework is designed to support climbing plants all year round and won't rust or turn color even in the worst weather.

CLEVER IDEA — A post that once held one end of a clothesline has been equipped with hooks and from these are suspended cast off, large size tin cans, drainage holes punched in their sides, a coat of paint covering all defects. Filled with red geraniums, they are a sight to gladden the heart of a gardener all summer long. Then they may be moved indoors for winter.

Potted Plant Can Add Decorator Touch to Husband's Office

On those rare occasions when you visit your husband's office, do you find it a drab or dismal place? Is it more functional than beautiful? More hectic than serene?

* * *

You can introduce a new spirit into the good man's surroundings with a gift that will startle and, if not at first, eventually delight him.

Bring him an indoor tree!

* * *

Growing green foliage casts a certain spell upon the person who beholds it. The office grouch may acquire new depths of humor. The boss may suddenly relax in the disarming presence of a living, growing tree.

Your gift, incidentally, need not be "tree" singular. It might well be "trees" plural for there are few sights more arresting indoors than several potted trees of various heights arranged in one artistic grouping One thing is certain. It will bring the office that healthy "back to the woods" feeling!

The Schefflera is an almost indestructible indoor tree that will flourish in a large pot or redwood box for years because it grows so slowly. The bride who gives her husband a Schefflera now may well know the same plant when her children graduate from high school.

In-depth horticultural research is not necessary in your selection of an indoor tree. This has already been accomplished by the experts who for decades have combed jungles and forests, mountains and valleys in their search for exotic, homey, stately, dainty and even funny-looking indoor trees. Your florist will know their names and characteristics and will enjoy sharing his knowledge with you.

If you have a leaning towards a homey indoor tree, consider the Araucaria excelsa, or Norfolk Island Pine. Here is another extraordinarily durable specimen that will grow for years without any pampering at all. Like the Schefflera, this forest gem never needs sunlight. It thrives on the natural light that filters indirectly into a room and it grows well under artificial lighting, too.

The most striking characteristic of the Araucaria excelsa is its resemblance to a Christmas tree. The branches are sturdy enough to hold small packages tied to them — and at holiday time it is always refreshing to see a living rather than an artificial tree.

Czech Affair Leaves E. Germans Worried, Uncertain, Silent

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP) — The occupation of Czechoslovakia was a jolt for many East Germans and now they are worried, uncertain and silent.

Politics never are discussed freely in East Germany, but since the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia those familiar with the country say the lid is on tighter than ever.

* * *

"They will talk if you get them in a real quiet corner," said one exhibitor at the Leipzig fall fair who has many East German friends. "And they will tell you they don't like it and are afraid there will be more trouble."

An elderly man, who didn't mention Czechoslovakia directly, referred to the current "political events" and said, "Life is bad enough here anyway. We don't need any more trouble."

STUDENT PROTEST

Several persons said there were student protests in Leipzig and Erfurt after the invasion and leaflets were distributed.

Some say East German security police are checking typewriters in business offices, trying to find out where the leaflets were typed.

* * *

Even though they shy away from mentioning Czechoslovakia, Leipzig residents noted that many visitors stayed away from the fall fair because of "politics" and complain that "now there are even more travel restrictions."

Many people are worried because they thought such interventions were a thing of the past.

"It's perhaps a step back toward Stalinism," said a cabbie.

There is also uneasiness about German troops again occupying Czechoslovak soil. One exhibitor suggested that East Germans don't talk about it because they are ashamed of their country's participation in the Soviet-led occupation.

"They are more ashamed than you can imagine," he said.

A student, who refused to commit himself on whether the occupation was necessary, thought nevertheless it was a mistake for East German troops to participate. He said the Czechoslovaks may "dislike the Soviets, but now they hate us East Germans."

He said a friend visiting Prague at the time had left his East German-made Wartburg automobile on the street and Czech youths ripped the doors off it.

* * *

The Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland carries a daily report on "counterrevolutionary activity" in Prague, but the reports are often greeted with skepticism. Two girls assisting visitors at the fair were asked one morning if they had heard any news from Prague that day. "Well, we see Neues Deutschland," one said. The girls looked at each other and giggled.

* * *

"We can't speak of it," said one taxi driver, "but we have other nerves like West German television and we know what's going on."

* * *

A Czechoslovak delegation is at the fair and some of the members tell their East German hosts a joke current in Prague: "One night 12 children are born in Prague and the next morning a message is sent to the Kremlin—send more troops, there are 12 more counterrevolutionaries in Prague."

The East Germans don't think it's very funny.

League Leaders Get OK to Print Series Tickets

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series will open in the National League city — St. Louis barring a massive collapse of the Cardinals — on Wednesday, Oct. 2, baseball Commissioner William D. Ecker announced Thursday.

All games will start at 1 p.m., local time. Detroit, with an eight-game lead in the American League, appears headed for its first pennant and World Series in 25 years.

★ ★ ★

In announcing the Series' schedule at a meeting of officials of contending teams and league presidents, Eckert granted permission to print tickets immediately to only the Cardinals and Tigers.

★ ★ ★

The second game will be in the National League city, Thursday, Oct. 3. Friday will be a travel day. The next three games in the best-of-7 series, will be played in the American League city, Saturday, Oct. 5, Sunday and Monday, if the fifth game is necessary.

If more games are required Tuesday, Oct. 8 will be a travel day, with the sixth and seventh games, if necessary, in the National League city, Wednesday, Oct. 9, and Thursday, Oct. 10.

Ticket prices will be the same as for last year when the Cardinals beat the Boston Red Sox, four games to three.

The prices are $12 for a box seat, $8 for grandstand reserved, $6 for pavillion reserved (Detroit only), $4 for standing room, and $2 for the bleachers.

★ ★ ★

Among those attending the meeting with Eckert were Warren Giles, the NL president; Joe Cronin, the AL president; Bing Devine and Joe McShane of the Cardinals; Hal Middlesworth and Norm Otto of the Tigers; Dick Wagner of Cincinnati; Salty Saltwell of Chicago and Jack Dunn of Baltimore.

Magic Numbers

By Associated Press

Detroit and St. Louis resume their pennant chases tonight with the Tigers home against the Minnesota Twins and the Cardinals hosting the San Francisco Giants for a twi-night doubleheader.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers, enjoying an eight game bulge, in the American League, have 21 games to play — the same number as pursuing Baltimore. That means the magic number for Detroit to clinch its first pennant since 1945 is 14. Any combination of 14 Tigers victories and-or Oriole losses will wrap it up for Detroit.

The National League Cardinals are 13½ games in front of second place San Francisco and have the same record as the Tigers—89-52.

St. Louis, with 21 games remaining, has a magic number of seven to clinch its second consecutive flag.

WITH MONTREAL — Gene Mauch has been named field manager of the Montreal Expos who'll open play next season in the National League. Mauch, 43, is a former Philadelphia Phillies manager.

Denny Taking Mound Against Twins Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain has about six shots left to win 30 games and the brash Detroit Tigers' right-hander gets one of them tonight when the Bengals take on the Minnesota Twins in the opener of a three-game series.

McLain, now 27-5, has beaten the Twins five times without a loss this year.

★ ★ ★

"Sure, I'm thinking about 30 games," said McLain. "But I'm thinking about the pennant first — and then about No. 28."

RIGHT PITCH

The pressure has been mounting on the 25-year-old son-in-law of former boy manager Lou Boudreau. But he seems to come through with the right pitch at the right moment.

★ ★ ★

He staggered to a 7-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles for his 27th victory last Sunday after turning a hot liner off the bat of Boog Powell into a triple play.

After that, he held the Orioles to two hits over the six innings.

★ ★ ★

The last American League pitcher to win 30 games was Lefty Grove, who posted a 31-4 mark for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1931. Grove was 31 at the time and didn't win his 28th game until Sept. 8.

★ ★ ★

Assuming the Tigers clinch the pennant within the next 10 days, McLain should get about five more starts after tonight's game.

Manager Mayo Smith says he plans to use McLain with a full four days rest between assignments to give his strained right shoulder a chance to rest before the World Series.

★ ★ ★

The strain, caused by over-development of the right side of McLain's body, requires periodic treatments. But it hasn't caused McLain to miss a start.

Detroit's Lions, New York Jets Duel in Opener

CLEVELAND (AP) — More than 80,000 persons are expected to clank the Municipal Stadium turnstiles for Saturday night's pro football doubleheader. Many of them will be getting their first look at an American Football League club.

The New York Jets, who meet the Detroit Lions in the opening exhibition game, are the first AFL team ever to play in Cleveland.

PACKERS PLAY

The Green Bay Packers play the Cleveland Browns in the second exhibition.

Green Bay, Cleveland and Detroit are National Football League clubs.

This is the seventh doubleheader, and every one of the annual extravaganzas put on by Browns' owner Art Modell has been a sellout.

★ ★ ★

The six previous doubleheaders attracted a total of nearly half a million people — an average of 82,568 per game, and Saturday's program has been sold out for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

All four squads go into their final exhibition games with 2-2 records against pro opponents. The Packers also have a 34-17 win over the College All-Stars to boost their exhibition record to 3-2.

SPEEDY WORKOUT — Driver Bill Schumaker speeds across the course on the Detroit River yesterday in Miss Bardahl in tuning up for the Gold Cup race Sunday. Schumaker was clocked at 120.805 miles an hour, an unofficial course record.

Former Phillies Skipper Heads Montreal Nine

MONTREAL (AP) — Two new names were added to Montreal's National League baseball team Thursday — those of a manager and a club name.

★ ★ ★

John McHale, president of the club, announced that Gene Mauch, former manager of Philadelphia Phillies, has been hired to handle the same position with the Expos, Montreal's new club name.

★ ★ ★

Mauch, 43, was released by the Phillies in June after reported differences with batting star Richie Allen. He had been with the Philadelphia organization for 8½ years.

★ ★ ★

"He's a fine baseball man — young, aggressive, and a great handler of players," McHale said of Mauch. "Gene has youth and dash and we think he best fits the mould to handle a new club."

★ ★ ★

The field manager is expected to meet with the team's scouting staff sometime today — Ed Lopat, Bobby Bragan, Buzz Boyle, Johnny Moore and Larry Doby.

Hydro Favorite Sets Hot Pace in Tuneup Race

DETROIT (AP) — Miss Bardahl, which is favored to win Sunday's running of the $40,000 Gold Cup race on the Detroit River, set an unofficial world record Thursday in a preliminary race with a speed of 120.805 miles an hour.

Although all 12 hydroplanes entered in the race are qualified, Thursday's race was run not only for practice but also for money. Miss Bardahl's first place earned her owners $500.

★ ★ ★

Miss Budwiser was second at 115 m.p.h. and collected $300, while Roostertail's 111 m.p.h. brought third prize of $200.

A race official said he doubted Miss Bardahl's speed would be made official because the race finished so late there was no time to resurvey the course.

Spartan QB's Continue to Be Impressive

EAST LANSING (AP)—Spartan quarterbacks continued to impress their coaches Thursday as Michigan State's football team ran through light workouts in preparation for a full scrimmage Saturday.

Senior Bill Feraco and sophomore Gordon "Scooter" Longmire looked sharp as they continually hit their receivers, primarily end Al Brenner and flanker Charlie Wedemeyer.

Ex-Lion on Waivers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers asked waivers Thursday on veteran linebacker Wally Hilgenberg, obtained in a trade with the Detroit Lions.

Redbirds Call Ted Simmons for Spot Duty

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ted Simmons, a University of Michigan student from Southfield, who was the St. Louis Cardinals top choice in the 1967 free agent draft, will play with the team on weekends for the remainder of the season, General Manager Bing Devine said Thursday.

Simmons, a 6-foot, 195-pound, switch-hitting catcher, starred with the Cardinals' Modesto, Calif., farm club in the California League this summer.

He will make his debut in a Cardinal uniform Friday night against San Francisco in Busch Stadium.

The former Southfield prep star was a two-time most valuable player choice in the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament.

Club Shoot Slated

WALLED LAKE (AP) — Michigan United Conservation Clubs will hold its annual shoot Sept. 21-22 near Walled Lake. Events include skeet, trap, archery, rifle, pistol and muzzle-loader shooting. The competition is open only to MUCC members.

Pro Grid Twinbill on Saturday Video

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit area sports fans will get lots of football Saturday night when station WJBK-TV, Channel Two, will televise two professional games.

At 6:30 p.m., the station will carry the contest in Cleveland between the Detroit Lions and the New York Jets. It will be followed by a game at Dallas where the Cowboys host Baltimore.

Ex-Pontiac Back Woe for F-Birds

An old teammate has become an old nemesis for Pontiac in the Midwest Football League and Sunday afternoon when the firebirds face the Ypsilanti Vikings at 4:00 p.m. at Wisner Stadium, Jim Johnson will be the one the F-Birds will have to watch.

Johnson, who started in the Midwest Football League with Pontiac five years ago, played the last two seasons at Mt. Clemens with the Arrows, who left Pontiac prior to 1967.

Johnson was one of the leading scorers in the MFL for several seasons, and this year he is taking his place among the top pass receivers in the league.

While at Mt. Clemens last year, in two games Johnson hurt the Firebirds with touchdown receptions.

SCORES 3 TIMES

Last week when Ypsilanti defeated Fort Wayne 37-15, Johnson scored on three long aerials from Craig Kirby for 75, 65 and 40 yards.

Kirby, former University of Michigan grid star from Royal Oak, threw for five touchdowns in giving the Vikings their first win after four losses.

★ ★ ★

The Firebirds, with a 2-2 record, must win this game to get back in the title chase.

After a week off, many of the injuries suffered in the opening four games have mended and head coach Tom Tracy said his team will be in its best physical condition of the year.

READY TO START

Quarterback Bill Harrington is not fully recovered but the veteran signal caller is expected to start against Ypsilanti.

To get some speed in the backfield, Tracy is planning on moving Bob Brown into the running spot with speedy Tom Eifert.

Marty Malatin has been the starter with Eifert since the start of the season.

★ ★ ★

The tough Pontiac defense will have to be careful of Kirby and his rollout.

Tickets for the game can be obtained in advance by calling the Firebirds at FE 5-4201.

★ ★ ★

Ticket windows at Wisner will open Sunday at 3:00 p.m.

TROUBLE FOR F-BIRDS—Jim Johnson, who started playing in the Midwest Football League four years ago with Pontiac, will be here Sunday with the Ypsilanti Vikings. Johnson has become the leading pass receiver for the Vikings. The two teams clash Sunday at 4:00 p.m. at Wisner Stadium.

Name to Be Official for Horton: It Will Be Just Plain Willie

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton, slugging outfielder for the pennant-bound Detroit Tigers, is making it official.

He's going to change his name from William Wattison Horton to just plain "Willie."

Horton was to have appeared in Wayne County Probate Court Thursday to make the change official. But he called the court and asked for a postponement because of the long trip from Oakland, Calif., where he drove in the deciding run in a 4-2 Tiger victory over the Athletics Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Joseph Brown, Horton's lawyer, said the power-hitting outfielder is seeking the change because he is known professionally as Willie and has been signing his name as Willie for six years.

★ ★ ★

"When you say William Horton, that could be anyone on the street," explained Brown. "But when you say Willie Horton everyone knows whom you are talking about."

Catcher, Pitcher Shine for Chisox

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gerry McNertney's two-run single in the seventh inning gave rookie Jerry Nyman and the Chicago White Sox a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday night in a makeup game before 1,154, smallest crowd of the season in D.S. Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Nyman, who shut out the New York Yankees in his major league debut last week, gave up three hits and an unearned run in seven innings. Hoyt Wilhelm and Gary Peters finished up.

Ex-Wing Okays Penguins' Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Penguins announced Thursday that veteran Charlie Burns signed his contract for the 1968-69 National Hockey League season.

★ ★ ★

Burns, 31, a center, and a former Detroit Red Wing was acquired from Oakland in the off-season. One of the very few American born players in the league, he scored 9 goals and assisted on 26 for 35 points in 1967-68.

Discover Trout Killer

CADILLAC (AP) — "Whirling disease," a crippler and killer of trout that recently hit Michigan "is serious — but there is no need to panic," the State Conservation Commission was told Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The disease, which causes trout to go into tail-chasing spasms and die, was found in several of the state's private trout hatcheries. It was traced back to stock imported from Ohio.

"We hope to isolate it and stamp it out," reported Wayne Tody, chief of the department's fish division.

Rearing ponds where the disease was found have been placed under strict quarantine, Tody said.

"The only answer is to eliminate the stock and sterilize the pond," he reported.

★ ★ ★

Today said the disease is caused by a tiny parasite that originally came from Central Europe and reached this country through imported fish.

For Super Bowl

Ticket Sales Begin

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sale of tickets for the Super Bowl game matching National and American Football League champions will start Friday, 10 weeks earlier than last year when the game drew the highest receipts in pro football history at Miami.

Jim Kensil, assistant to Commissioner Pete Rozelle, told a news conference the sale was being launched at the early date because of a deluge of inquiries.

* * *

The third game in the world championship series will be played Jan. 12 in the Miami Orange Bowl, with a 3 p.m., EST, kickoff.

Gross receipts for the 1968 game, in which the NFL's Green Bay Packers blasted the AFL's Oakland Raiders 33-14 were $3.4 million, including television rights. Tickets sales brought in $793,000.

MAIL ORDERS

Kensil said mail orders for $12 seats would be accepted starting Friday. Public sale of $8 and $6 tickets will begin at the Orange Bowl windows today.

Approximately 55,000 seats in the 76,354-seat stadium will be made available to the public, including 33,000 at $12 through the mail order sale and 14,000 at the lower rates through the windows. Ticket scaling is the same as the last game.

* * *

Kensil said the teams would switch training sites for the next game, with the NFL winner using the Miami Dolphins' training camp at Boca Raton, Fla., and the AFL champion working out at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Amateurs Stay in Step With Pros

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt is around the U.S. Open Tennis Championships with his check book — and every day the price goes up for Tom Okker Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner.

Okker, the 24-year-old Dutch youngster who has become a nemesis of the pros, probably will sign a contract after the Pacific Southwest Open in Los Angeles, starting Friday. He has been offered $45,000 a year guarantee.

* * *

Ashe and Graebner might be tempted to join the money ranks after they've won the Davis Cup back for the United States at Adelaide, Australia, in late December.

AMATEURS TOUGH

Meanwhile, the amateurs are sticking right in there with the pros in this first U.S. Open, and everybody is delighted — except the pros.

Pancho Gonzales, for example, the 40-year-old grandpa who gave a magnificent show before bowing to young Okker in a dramatic quarter-final match Thursday 14-16, 6-3, 10-8, 6-3, doesn't think it's fair that Okker — a registered player — can bid for the $14,000 first prize and other money prizes just by saving so.

* * *

"He ought to declare himself," said Pancho. "He shouldn't accept expenses in amateur tournaments and prize money in the opens." But it's the new rules.

Ashe and Graebner, the U.S. top Davis Cup aces and semifinalists at Wimbledon, are amateurs and are playing only for silverware. The United States doesn't recognize registered players in its own ranks but must observe the wishes of outsiders, as in the case of Okker.

Okker and Ashe are the only players so far solidly fixed on semifinal brackets. Third-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia, the tournament favorite, still had a quarter-final duel with Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., scheduled today, and Graebner was to complete a held-over match with Australian pro John Newcombe.

COME FROM BEHIND

Fighting from behind, Graebner took a 2-1 set leadover Newcombe 5-7, 11-9, 6-1 and the score tied 2-2 in the fourth when the match was halted by darkness.

If he doesn't have to work too hard in the unfinished match, the winner will take a brief rest and then go onto the court against Ashe, the new U.S. amateur champion. Ashe played magnificently in beating South Africa's Cliff Drysdale 8-10, 6-3, 9-7, 6-4.

* * *

Okker takes on the Rosewall-Ralston winner Saturday.

In the women's division, top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., was to play Maria Bueno, the four-time U.S. champion from Brazil, in the semi-finals. The survivor on Saturday plays Britain's Virginia Wade, who upset second-seeded Ann Haydon Jones, also of Britain, 7-5, 6-1.

Boxer Would Rather Switch...and Fight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Light heavyweight Arthur Redden of just missed making the U.S. Olympic boxing team four years ago and he's determined to do it this year.

The 30-year-old Marine from Wilmington, Del., took a giant step in that direction Thursday night in defeating Robert "Sweet Pete" Peterson, Air Force titlist from Sacramento, Calif., in semifinal action of the Olympic boxing trials.

Redden, who played football at Arkansas A&M, won his division title in the 1964 Olympic trials, but was dropped from the team in training camp when officials decided his low-bending style of boxing would not pass the more strict international boxing rules.

CHANGES STYLE

"I had to change my style completely," Redden said in describing how he has trained since then to fulfill his ambition of fighting in the Olympic Games. "I've been working for this one thing. Whether I make it or not I'll retire."

Twenty-two amateur boxers advanced to tonight's finals. Winners in 11 weight divisions will qualify for the Olympic matches next month in Mexico City.

* * *

In the biggest crowd pleaser of the evening Thursday, heavyweight George Foreman, 222-pound National AAU champ from Pleasanton, Calif., beat Otis Evans Jr., Army titlist from Atlanta.

Foreman, who appeared to be trailing slightly in points in the three-round slugfest, floored Evans with a right uppercut with less than 15 seconds remaining in the final round.

Foreman will face in the finals Albert Wilson, Golden Gloves champion from McKeesport, Pa., who Thursday night outpointed crowd-favored James "Sugarbear" Williams, 247-pound left-handed Marine from Omaha, Neb., who won the interservice title.

In the only technical knockout of the night, lightweight Michael Raylor, Western Olympics Trials winner from Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., beat Morris Harris of Youngstown, Ohio, the Navy champion, in 1:17 of the third round.

James Ross, interservice light middleweight titlist from Canton, Ohio, won a decision over Richard Royal of New York, the 1967 Pan American champion and current Golden Gloves titlist.

Bruins, Celtics Losing Home?

College After Present Property of Pro Clubs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins and the Boston Celtics are faced with looking for a new home. The University of Massachusetts is considering taking over the property occupied by two major league clubs.

Weston Adams, chairman of the Boston Garden Board, disclosed Thursday that the state university is eyeing the Boston Garden and surrounding area as a potential site for a Boston campus.

Adams was disturbed visibly by the news that the land grant university might want the site of the Garden.

Adams noted that the area has an assessed valuation of $8 million and said it would be a "tragic mistake" if the city accepted such a deal.

The University of Massachusetts, based in Amherst in the western sector of the state, is attempting to obtain a branch in the Boston area. Under protest, it recently withdrew a proposal for a campus in the Copley Square area.

Hot Play Puts Aussie in Hartford Golf Lead

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "It used to take three good rounds and one terrific round to win one of these golf tournaments. Now it takes four super rounds," Bruce Crampton said Thursday after he took the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Taking Australian Crampton at his word, he would be the only one qualified to take home the $20,000 first prize on Sunday. He had the only super round Thursday, a six-under-par 65 over the 6,568-yard Wethersfield Country Club.

Five other players were two shots behind Crampton at four-under-par 67, including 23-year-old rookie Ron Cerrudo and veterans Al Balding, Billy Maxwell, Ken Still and Mason Rudolph.

GOLDEN TOUCH

Crampton's putting touch was golden for four consecutive holes as he scored birdies on putts of 10, 15, 8 and 12 feet on the fourth through seventh holes. "It sure was fun," Crampton said.

* * *

"My scores have been about the same lately as those I've had in other years when I won a few tournaments. The difference has been that the competition is so much rougher now. It takes better golf to win," said the 32-year-old veteran of nine years of pro golf.

Crampton hasn't won on the Professional Golfers Association tour since 1965, when he captured three tournaments. But even without one of those big winners' checks, he's amassed $64,030 so far this year compared to the $68,800 he won in his big year in 1965.

MISSES CHANCE

Billy Casper was in an eighth-man tie at 68 after the first round. Casper, leading money winner in 1968 with $151,329 so far, missed a chance to move closer to the lead when he missed putts of three feet and five feet on the first two holes, and missed another from four feet on the 18th green.

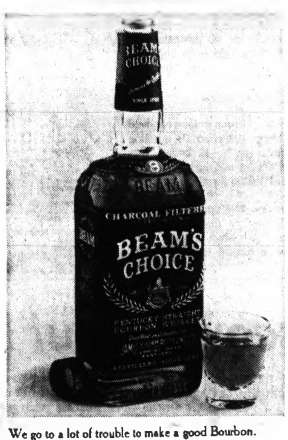
BEAM'S CHOICE IS TOO GOOD TO GET "BOMBED" ON.



We go to a lot of trouble to make a good Bourbon.
Aging it eight long years.
Charcoal filtering it after aging.
The result is a Bourbon that's too good to waste on people who intend to overindulge.
Beam's Choice deserves an appreciative audience.

Tour Players, Parent Group Still at Odds

HOUSTON (AP) — The Professional Golf Association has indicated the PGA would agree to a control board that would include equal representation for the sponsor, player and the PGA.

Max Elbin, PGA president, appeared before major sponsors of the PGA's $5.6 million tour Thursday. The sponsors were meeting to discuss a dispute between the PGA and the touring professionals. Further meetings were scheduled today.

FORM GROUP

Most of the touring pros left the PGA Aug. 13 in a dispute over control of the tour. They announced Aug. 19 the formation of a new organization called the American Professional Golfers.

Elbin said if the sponsors group united behind the PGA that the association is ready to formulate the 1969 tour schedule immediately. He also predicted that a united position between the two groups would persuade a majority of the current tournament players to remain under the PGA banner.

Elbin uged the group to share the responsibility for tournament golf with the PGA "and effect a lasting solution to the problems of the last three years."

"Tournament golf is at the crossroads," he told the sponsors. "You have two avenues open to you. Tournament golf can be conducted by the players who want full and complete authority over all activities. Or the game can go forwagd as a joint enterprise of the sponsors, players and the PGA."

None of the players involved in the dispute attended the meetings.

Odd Decision Favors Mathis

Heavyweight Winner by Weird Scoring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavy weight boxer Buster Mathis has lost but one fight in 27 — to Joe Frazier — but his 26th victory afforded the big fellow from Grand Rapids, Mich., his weirdest exhibition of scoring.

He agreed that his 10-round triumph over veteran trial-horse Amos "Big Train" Lincoln Thursday night was hardly an artistic exercise.

The decision before a small crowd of 3,836, at the Olympic Auditorium was split, a verdict that brought jeers from even the pro-Big Train partisans.

Try this for odd ones: Judge George Latka blanked Lincoln, 11-0, and referee Dick Young had it 9-1 for Mathis.

Judge Joey Olmos scored 5-4 for Lincoln.

Rain Slowing Pennant Race for IL Teams

By the Associated Press

For exactly half the International League's eight teams, watching the skies suddenly has become as important as looking at the scoreboard.

It all began last week in Jacksonville when rain all but obliterated the Mets' last two season series at home. For the Mets, it set up a run of doubleheaders that now is jeopardizing their hopes of making the postseason playoffs.

* * *

Four of the twin bills were scheduled — beginning Thursday night — in Columbus, where the Jets are battling to overcome Toledo's Mud Hens for the regular season championship.

But rain intervened Thursday night at Columbus, where the second game of the first of the four twin bills was canceled after the Jets took the opener 7-4 in 12 innings, and also at Rochester, where Toledo now must play a doubleheader tonight.

Top Pros Bid for Fat Purses in Golf Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The man who has dominated the World Series of Golf will be missing this weekend when the winners of the world's four prestige golf tournaments compete here for gold and glory.

Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the top-rated golf professional, failed to qualify for only the second time in the seven-year history of the series.

PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters' king Bob Goalby, British Open titlist Gary Player and U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino will shoot for the $50,000 first prize in the 36-hole event Saturday and Sunday.

Setting for the seventh annual World Series is the tough 7,180-yard, par-70 Firestone Country Club course, scene of the six previous events.

Doormat Role Likely

Grid Outlook Dim for Iowa

(This is another of a series of Big 10 Football Reports.)

By JERRY LISKA

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Downtrodden Iowa would like to become another Indiana this Big Ten football season, but event with superb quarterback Ed Podolak the Hawkeyes again look like a conference doormat.

Iowa last year finished with a 1-8-1 over-all record and tied Wisconsin for the league cellar spot at 0-6-1 with the top achievement a 21-21 deadlock with the Badgers.

CLOSE VICTORY

It was Indiana's close 21-17 decision over Iowa in the fourth game of last season, Hoosier Coach Johnny Pont has said, that was his team's turning point in a surprising surge to a conference title tie, No. 4 rating in the Associated Press final poll and a Rose Bowl berth.

Podolak, a senior described by Iowa Coach Ray Nagel as one of the nation's top quarterbacks, recalled that setback by Indiana as a turning point — in the opposite direction — for Iowa.

"We thought we had a better team than Indiana and played a better game only to lose by four points," said Podolak. "When we lost, it dispirited us as much as it proved a springboard to Indiana's success."

Despite the Big Ten's smallest squad, defensively and offensively, Nagel expects his Hawkeyes to be improved over last season when Podolak missed most of the last four games because of a rib injury.

Nagel, starting his third Hawkeye season, is banking heavily on his first good sophomore corp to compensate for a pittance of only four senior regulars -- Podolak, ace split end Al Bream, flanker Barry Crees and safety Steve Wilson.

SIX SOPHS

As many as six sophomores may start on defense and at least two on offense, including explosive Dennis Green from Harrisburg, Pa., at tailback.

If Green is slow developing, Podolak — as fast as any Hawkeye runner — could be used at tailback for his great pass-scoot threat, with another sophomore, Larry Lawrence of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, or junior Mike Cielk at qurterback.

Iowa's sieve-like defense last season prompted Nagel to shift from a wide-tackle-six to a five man line with a roving linebacker.

"This was the department that needed most improvement," said Nagel, "and I think we'll have a solid defense, better geared to our personnel, this fall."

Such other lettermen as fullback Tim Sullivan and tackle Jon Meskinen on offense and linemen Greg Allison, Mike Edwards and Rich Stepanek and linebackers Rod Barnhart and Mike Phillips on defense round out Nagel's hard core of talent.

Iowa opens here with powerful Oregon State Sept. 21, and meets Texas Christian and Notre Dame before opening its seven-game Big Ten card at home against Indiana Oct. 12.

"We have a very, very difficult schedule—compared to, say 1965 when Iowa might have been one of the good Big Ten teams," said Nagel. "But if we escape early injuries, we still might be a good club."

Cowboys Put Jerry Rhome on Taxi List

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have placed third team quarterback Jerry Rhome on the taxi squad after he has pass all waivers to be claimed.

Under the new rule in the NFL, Rhome can be activated immediately if the need arises.

Rhome has been playing in the shadow of Veteran Don Meredith and Craig Morton, who was sensational last Saturday in leading the Cowboys to victory over Houston.

Coach Tom Landry said "only in the most technical sense will Jerry be on the taxi squad. He will be treated just as he was last year, as a member of the 40-man roster. He will be on the sidelines and work the phones for us."

Landry said the move was forced because the Cowboys have two kickers on the team, place kicker Mike Clark and Punter Ron Widby.

Fish Are Killed in Grand River

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The first fish kill of the year was reported in the Grand River at Grand Rapids over the weekend. Chester Harvey, district supervisor for the Michigan Water Resources Commission, said that overflow wastes from sanitary sewers that apparently emptied into storm drains, flowed into the river.

Harvey said the wastes included cyanide and other chemicals associated with the city's plating industry. An estimated 200 to 400 fish, mostly carp and suckers, were observed dead along the river, Harvey said.

Sporting Fish Luring Anglers

Good Bass Catches Reported Near City

As fall closes in on Michigan fishermen, the "Cohomania" craze was reported reaching a fever pitch.

Despite small craft warnings on Lake Michigan earlier this week, over 800 boats were sighted from Manistee north to Platte Bay.

And if the weather stays warm and the waters are calm this weekend, Michigan's roads and lakes are bound to be crowded with fishermen eager to haul in the sporting Coho salmon.

Reports from the Automobile Club of Michigan and the State Conservation Department indicated best results may be expected in Lake Michigan one-half to five miles offshore from Manistee north to Platte Bay.

RECORD NUMBERS

In the Upper Peninsula, anglers were grabbing record numbers of Alaskan cohn at the mouth of Thompson Creek near Manistique. Most made their catches by wading and casting in the shallows.

Little fishing remained in southern lower Michigan, but the Auto Club said perch and bass highlighted what was left.

* * *

Pontiac and Lakeville lakes were producing good catches of bass. Anglers were reported having luck using the night crawler harness with two instead of three hooks.

POPULAR PERCH

South of Detroit, Frank Bellino said there were excellent catches of perch anywhere in Lake Erie's Brest Bay, particularly one-half to one mile off-shore in 12 to 15 feet of water.

Near Grindstone City, at the tip of the thumb, perch catches have increased. The best area was between Grindstone City and Pointe Aux Barques three-quarters of a mile offshore in 20 feet of water.

ROUGH WEATHER

Rough weather restricted fishing activity throughout most of the Saginaw Bay area this week. However, those fishing the leeward side of North Island have been bringing in good catches of perch.

In northern lower Michigan, the best bet was pike in Thunder Bay River, Fletcher's Pond, the south arm of Lake Charlevoix and Houghton Lake.

Don Coy of Alpena said flatfish were the most productive bait for pike in the Thunder Bay River while Chuck Teare at Fletcher's Pond said black and orange spoons and the red and white mouse were the best baits.

* * *

At Hessel in the UP, Ralph Dresbach reported most fishermen left after the Labor Day weekend and were missing out on excellent perch and pike fishing in Hessel and Mackinac bays.

Cincinnati, Chargers Paired in AFL Opener

By Associated Press

Cincinnati will find out if a couple of preseason surprises mean anything in the first play-for-keeps match while the prestige of the venerable National Football League is at stake in a couple of games that don't mean anything this weekend.

* * *

In a quirk of scheduling, the expansion Bengals open the American League campaign at San Diego Friday night before most of the other pro teams wrapup exhibition activity.

* * *

The Bengals, rated two touchdown underdogs in the game to be nationally televised by NBC at 8:30 p.m., pulled off a couple of upsets in their last two exhibitions—beating Pittsburgh and the New York Jets.

OTHERS IN AFL

Two other AFL openers also are on tap during the weekend. Boston is at Buffalo Sunday, while two top threats—Kansas City's Western Division runners-up and Houston's defending Eastern titlists—meet at Houston Monday night. Both games will be televised nationally by NBC.

In addition, there are 10 exhibitions Friday night and Saturday—including two interleague tests. And, the NFL will have to win both to accomplish a little face saving.

The AFL, winners of only three of 16 games with the elder league last season, holds an 11-10 edge in face-to-face meetings this summer.

Because of Joe Namath's injured knee, Detroit, NFL, is favored to stop the New York Jets, AFL, in the first game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night. But a showdown the same evening between the Atlanta Falcons, NLF, at Miami, AFL, is reated a toss-up.

Three NFL exhibitions are scheduled Friday night: Minnesota vs. New Orleans at Shreveport, La.; St. Louis at Chicago and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

* * *

Green Bay's champions collide with the Browns in the second game of the doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night, wile New York plays Philadelphia in the afternoon at Princeton, N.J.; Baltimore is at Dallas, and Pittsburgh plays Washington at Norfolk, Va.

Denver meets Oakland at Portland, Ore., in an AFL exhibition Saturday night.

The NFL swings into regular season play Saturday, Sept. 14, with Atlanta at Minnesota.

Paul Brown, former Cleveland boss who stepped out of retirement to guide the first season fortunes of Cincinnati, isn't overly optimistic despite the Bengals last two victories after losing their first three exhibitions.

* * *

"We haven't played anybody when it really counted," he said, quickly pointing out that when New Orleans made its debut in the NFL last season it won five exhibition games, then was defeated in seven straight league games.

San Diego, winner of three of five preseason games, is pinning its hopes on a revamped defense and an explosive offense headed by quarterback John Hadl.

Brown indicated John Stofa, bothered with a knee injury, and rookie Dewey Warren would share the Bengals' quarterbacking chores.

Flyers' Player Retains Crown in NHL Golf

MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP) — Gary Dornhoefer of the Philadelphia Flyers successfully defended his National League Golf Tournament title Thursday by finishing with a 36-hole total of 144.

* * *

Dornhoefer shot a 72 over the final 18 holes, matching his total for the opening round of the two-day event.

* * *

Andy Bathgate of the Pittsburgh Penguins and Brian McDonald of the Chicago Black Hawks tied for second place with 146s. Jim Pappin of Chicago was fourth at 147, followed by Bobby Rousseau, Montreal Canadiens, 150.

* * *

The Black Hawks won the team championship with a total of 602. In addition to McDonald and Pappin, they were represented by Stan Mikita and Pit Martin.

Ohio Nine Takes Tourney Opener

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Lakewood, Ohio, sought to remain undefeated today after clipping Waterbury, Conn., in the first round of the 30th American Amateur Baseball Conference sponsored Musial World Series games.

The spunky suburban Cleveland team rallied for four runs in the bottom of the ninth Thursday to edge the New Englanders 7-6. Lakewood put together four bases on balls and a couple of singles to clamp down the victory.

Irish QB Out

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Notre Dame quarterback Terry Hanratty was hospitalized in the university infirmary Tuesday with a virus infection.

Coach Ara Parseghian also received a doctors' report that Larry Vuillemin, No. two center, will be lost to the team for the season because of a recurrence of a shoulder separation.

LEAVING NO PAW PRINTS — When the Clarkston Wolves venture onto the green grass of the high school football stadium they have to show respect for the track team by not implanting their cleated shoes on the all-weather track surrounding the playing field. Those "kneeling" their way across the track include (left to right) Doug Green, Bob Palladino, Bill Anderson, Jeff Keyser, Rich Porritt and Bill Wertman. The local prep season commences next week and The Press will spotlight the activity with its annual Kick Off section Tuesday.

Season Opens Oct. 11

Variety Spices Pro Ice Schedule

MONTREAL (AP) — Variety is the keynote of the National Hockey League's 1968-69 regular-season schedule, released today.

The record 456-game schedule, which gets under way with three games Oct. 11, includes 216 interlocking contests between East and West Division teams.

This represents six games more than the entire NHL schedule for each of the 18 seasons prior to the 1967-68 expanded 12-team league when 444 games were played, including 144 interlocking encounters.

This season, the six teams in each division play teams from their own group a total of eight times, four at home and four away. They play the six teams in the other division six times, including three at home.

25 WEEKENDS

Last season's ratio was 10 to four.

As was the case last season, the 24-week schedule runs through 25 weekends, ending with 10 of the 12 teams playing Sunday, March 30.

* * *

The opening-night games are Detroit at Boston, St. Louis at Chicago and Minnesota at Oakland, Saturday, Oct. 12, has the Canadiens visiting Pittsburgh and Los Angeles at St. Louis.

The other three teams, Philadelphia, New York and Toronto, all open their schedules on the road, Oct. 13 with Toronto at Detroit, New York at Chicago and Philadelphia at Boston.

Home openers for the Rangers and Maple Leafs are Oct. 16 with Pittsburgh in Toronto and Philadelphia at New York.

The following night, Minnesota begins its home season against Montreal while Boston opens the Kings' home schedule at Los Angeles. Also that night, Pittsburgh visits Philadelphia in the Flyers' first home game.

LAST TO OPEN

The Canadiens are the last team to open at home because of renovations to the Forum. They host Detroit Nov. 2 after playing their first eight games on the road.

There are no interlocking games scheduled for the final 30 contests of the season.

* * *

The NHL also announced that the 22nd annual All-Star Game will be played in Montreal, Tuesday, Jan. 21. This season, a team of All-Stars from the East Division will play a team of All-Stars from the West Division, a change from the format of other years when the All-Stars played the defending Stanley Cup champions.

Johnson Back to Drills With U. of M. Gridders

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ron Johnson returned to practice Thursday as Michigan's Wolverines avoided heavy contact in a light workout which concentrated on offense.

Johnson, U-M's captain who has a good chance to gain All-America honors this year as a halfback, had a thumb injury as a result of a scrimmage last week. He shared halfback spot Thursday with Lance Sheffler, an impressive sophomore runner from Trenton.

Coach Bump Elliott, in another effort to bolster his running attack, switched sophomore quarterback Jim Betts to halfback. Betts had been operating behind senior Dennis Brown and Don Moorhead, a South Haven sophomore.

Games Trials Near

Local Rider Is Eying Olympics Berth

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

OXFORD — A three-member Michigan team will begin seeking an Olympic Games berth next Saturday at Gladstone, N.J.

This team is made up of a woman and two horses.

The woman is Mrs. Irving A. Duffy, the former Dr. Helga Laufenstein, and the horses are Hansi Too and Silver Dollar, both thoroughbreds.

They will be seeking to represent the United States in the dressage event in the equestrian division of the Olympics at Mexico City. In dressage a horse executes complex steps and maneuvers in response to barely perceptible movements of a rider's hands, legs and weight.

PRECISION KEY

Precision is a key to a horse's performance, which must be as flawless as that of a ballet dancer or an Olympic figure skater. The less perceptible their orders, the higher their score.

Mrs. Duffy, a veterinarian, and Maj. Robert Borg, co-owner with Duffy of RedBob Farms outside Oxford, have been working year — around with Hansi Too and Silver Dollar for some five years for an hour and a half to two hours daily.

* * *

They have competed in events all over the eastern United States and have many ribbons to show for their efforts thus far, but an Olympic berth has been a goal since the start.

Mrs. Duffy's interest in horses is one of long - standing. As a part of her veterinary training at the University of Vienna, Austria, she was assigned to the breeding farms of the world-famed Lippizaner horses of the Spanish Riding School of Vienna. She came to the United States 15 years ago.

IN CHARGE

She is in personal charge of the health of all the horses at RedBob Farms, one of the state's most plush and most widely known race horse breeding establishments.

Maj. Borg, a West Point graduate and one - time cavalryman, as is Duffy, is in charge of RedBob training and plans to open a five - eighths - mile running track there Sept. 15 for the training of Michigan race horses.

* * *

Incidentally, if Hansi Too and Silver Dollar make it to the Olympics they will be the United States' first thoroughbred competitors since the Army last competed in the games in 1948.

Maj. Borg once trained Army horses for Olympic military competition and was a competing rider himself in 1948-52-56. Duffy's son, Dr. Frank H. Duffy, an Army physician, was a competitor in the three - day dressage, cross - country and Steeplechase, equestrian Olympic event in 1956 and also a rider in the 1955 Pan-American Games equestrian events.

Dogs Put Bite on Women Golfers

This year's Women's District Golf Association medal play tournament may be remembered as one that went to the dogs.

The ladies were rained out back in June when they originally tried to play the event at Meadowbrook Country Club. They did open it at the same club on Wednesday without problems, but in the second round yesterday, a couple of dogs stole the show.

ADD MYSTERY

The dogs added a bit of mystery to the play. Two balls, both hit in the middle of the fairway, could not be found and one of them belonged to the tournament leader, Mrs. H. G. Marquardt of Gowanie.

* * *

The playful canines got into the act when Mrs Louis Schwartz of Tam O'Shanter, who shot an 88, hit a shot on the 10th hole. Other than the golfers, the only moving things around were the two dogs. Mrs. Schwartz' ball could not be found.

BALL DISAPPEARS

Later, as Mr. Marquardt, who has a 36-hole score of 162, teed off on the 17th, she hit one down the middle and it disappeared. Again, the dogs were on hand.

* * *

"We knew exactly where both shots were that were lost," said a WDGA official, "and those dogs were around when both were lost, so we decided not to penalize either player."

* * *

Mrs. Marquardt went into the final round today with a five-shot lead over Mrs. Bruce Hilkene of Indianwood, who had an 83 yesterday to go with a first-round 84.

Mid-American Studies Bowl

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference athletic directors delayed Thursday making a recommendation on whether to permit the loop's football champion play in the 1968 Tangerine Bowl.

"Our athletic directors were very much interested in the Tangerine Bowl, but several pertinent questions came up for which we did not have answers," MAC Commissioner Bob James said after a meeting here.

He said the questions pertained mainly to accommodations, practice facilities and game arrangements.

HOST LEAGUE

The host Southern Conference has invited the MAC to allow its champion to meet the SC titlist in the Tangerine Bowl game at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 28.

Until this year, college division teams of the NCAA participated in the annual post-season contest. The Southern Conference, however, has signed a two-year agreement with the bowl to act as host conference.

Former Cardinal Dies

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Ernie Orsatti, who had a lifetime batting average of .306 for the St. Louis Cardinals and played in three World Series, died of a heart attack Wednesday at his home. He was 65.

Former OU Star on Northern Staff

Jay Shutt, an outstanding basketball player at Oakland University, has joined the athletic staff at Pontiac Northern.

At PNH, Shutt will teach English and serve as assistant to head basketball coach Dick Hall

New Orleans Unveils 'Dome' Plans

NEW ORLEANS, La., (AP) — The proposed domed stadium in New Orleans would have a capacity of 81,320 for major football games and would be far superior to the Astrodome in Houston, a stadium official said Thursday.

* * *

Dave Dixon, executive secretary of the Louisiana Stadium and Exposition Commission, unveiled the final design for the stadium's interior at a meeting. He said it would be "as far superior to the Astrodome as the Astrodome is to Tulane Stadium."

* * *

Dixon said the exterior design would be revealed at a commission meeting Monday. He said it would show a building that will dominate the downtown skyline.

He listed the final cost for the stadium itself at $42.7 million but said $3 million to $4 million more would be added, with commission approval, to include convention facilities.

"These facilities," he said, "will bring us a 10 to 1 return on our investment."

The design figures show 73,870 permanent seats for football, with additional temporary seating and standing room to reach the 81,320 figure. The baseball configuration of the stadium would seat 58,956, with 40,000 of what Dixon called prime seats.

* * *

Dixon said that arena-type seating for basketball, tennis or boxing could range from 17,250 to 23,990 seats.

He said that the football configuration of the stadium includes 50,000 sideline seats, more than the entire seating of the Astrodome.

City Table Netters Romp in Exhibition

The Pontiac Table Tennis All-Stars downed a Detroit Play Boy team Wednesday night, 13-3.

* * *

Other local players posting victories were Paul Collis, Doug Marx, Bob Quinn and Perc Secord.

Allies Try to Seal Off Da Nang From Cong

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Da Nang and its 320,000 residents are being circled by a double ring of barbed wire fences in the first allied effort to seal off a major city from Vietcong infiltrators.

* * *

Dubbed Lam's Wall after its architect, Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the antiguerrilla barrier consists of two fortified lines—one around the city's outskirts and the second cutting through the rice paddies and foothills seven miles away.

The inner barrier, a 100-yard-wide strip with parallel barbed wire fences, mine fields and watchtowers, was completed nearly two months ago.

U.S. Marines and Seabees and Vietnamese army engineers are pushing construction of the 22-mile outer barrier. It is expected to be completed within a month to six weeks, according to Lam, commander of the 1st military corps area in northern South Vietnam.

The southern section of the outer line had been nearly completed when the Communist command sent two battalions of nearly 1,000 men marching on Da Nang recently. All of the watchtowers and bunkers were not in place but the fence was credited with channeling the enemy troops into the path of waiting allied units.

North Vietnamese soldiers cut through a 50-foot length of the fence and then moved into Hoa Vang, only two miles south of Da Nang, where they were trapped and mauled Aug. 23 by three battalions of U.S. Marines and Vietnamese rangers. More than 300 of the enemy were killed as they tried to break away and flee. None got near the inner fence.

* * *

There are only half a dozen gateways through the inner barrier and all persons passing through the line must show identification papers and have baggage examined.

These checks were credited by Lam with leading to the arrests of a dozen Vietcong infiltrators, the destruction of a North Vietnamese reconnaissance squad and the finding of several arms caches in late July.

* * *

Both barriers are disruptive to farmers, travelers and even young lovers, but "they may save Da Nang from the type of street fighting that killed so many civilians in Saigon and Hue, one of Lam's aides said.

Trucks, buses and pedestrians line up at the checkpoints as police and militiamen make methodical examinations.

A farmer urges on his plodding water buffalo beside the barbed wire along half of his rice paddy. The other half is on the other side and it would mean a trip of several miles for the peasant to cultivate it.

* * *

The fence straddles a Buddhist graveyard, with some of the white headstones inside the 50-yard center section and its mine field.

Barbed wire strung along Da Nang Bay bars young couples from the narrow, quiet beach that once was a favorite rendezvous.

SNIPERS, BOOBY TRAPS

The Vietcong has used snipers, mortars and booby traps to delay construction of the outer wall. Some 30 Vietnamese infantrymen and combat engineers have been killed and nearly 50 wounded.

"They even had children out cutting the wire," says Lt. Col. Wray N. Bradley, Raleigh, N.C., adviser to the 51st Vietnamese Infantry Regiment. "We held our fire."

Another deadly enemy trick was to bobby trap wells that they knew the fence builders would use.

Lt. Gen. Robert H. Cushman, Jr., commanding general of the 84,000 U.S. Marines in South Vietnam and chief adviser to Lam, says the objective of the fence "is strictly population control—it clearly does not apply the enclave theory"— where allied forces would remain in static positions behind barriers.

Man Dies as Car Falls on Train

LANSING (UPI) — A Grand Rapids man was killed Thursday when his van-type car plunged through a guard rail on I-96 and landed on top of a moving Chesapeake & Ohio freight train.

Police said the victim, Martin L. Peters, 22, was heading east on the highway just northwest of here when he lost control of his vehicle and it swerved onto the median. Peters traveled 300 feet down the median strip before his car ripped through the guard rail and fell 30 feet to the train.

Joint Hearing Set

LANSING (AP) — A joint hearing before a House committee and the air pollution control section of the State Public Health Department is scheduled for next Tuesday in Port Huron.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRAVITY

Question: How can plants grow up if gravity is always pulling them down?

* * *

Answer: It's true that objects on the earth's surface are directed towards its center by what is called gravity. But Earth is one of the smaller planets. The gravitation is not strong enough to prevent many things from rising upward at least for a time.

Throw a ball up into the air. The impetus from your throw makes it rise against gravity. When the impetus is used up, gravity takes over and the ball falls.

The young corn plants are shooting up their spearheads because of a mighty impulse which is driving them: the search for sunlight. They must have this to act as the force which will power the little factories in their leaves, allowing these factories to manufacture starch and sugar as plant food.

When the plant has enough leaves in the sunlight, the upward tendency stops (right).

Now the plant can attend to making flowers and fruits. The plant is no longer concerned with itself alone. It must make rich kernels which will, in time, cause other vigorous young corn plants to thrust upward toward the sun.

You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.

Opening lead—♠ 10

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Back in the days of Whist some unsung player said, "When in doubt, lead trumps."

A much better aphorism would be, "When not in doubt, lead trumps."

JACOBY

North's two-spade bid was one of those modern cue bids that may or may not show first round control of the suit, depending on just what the cue bidder holds.

* * *

East decided to jam the bidding with a jump to four spades and South was happy to be able to pass. He had a minimum opening bid and his partner had passed as dealer.

North's jump to six clubs was unsound. He had no reason to expect that a slam could be made but his partner could have the right cards. However, North did not like the way that East had jammed the bidding and decided that his jump to six clubs might well get East and West to go to six spades, North was sure that his side would show a profit against that contract.

* * *

East and West refused the bait. They both passed and it was up to West to lead.

West was in doubt. He hated to lay down the ace of spades. It might just set up the king somewhere. He hated to lead from his king of hearts and he was not intrigued with his diamond doubleton. Finally he led a trump.

* * *

South drew trumps, discarded his three hearts on dummy's diamonds and conceded a spade trick.

We sympathize with East and are sorry for West but we do not approve of his trump lead. West should have attacked and the ace of spades opening would have been the best way to start. After that lead West would surely have found the shift to hearts and South would have been down two tricks.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♦	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♦	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ J 4 ♥ K J 9 8 ♦ A 2 ♣ K Q 10 5 4

What do you do now?

A—Pass. You have a good hand but it does not look at all slammish.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding two diamonds your partner has bid two spades over your two clubs. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Keep actions low-keyed. Means don't force issues. Some facts have yet to be uncovered. Don't commit yourself just now, but play waiting game. You thus gain time and allies.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Friends may appear gloomy. But don't permit yourself to be tangled in web of depression. Seek new ways to express feelings. Surprise involving member of opposite sex is forthcoming.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Disagreement may erupt among professional associates. Lean toward exuberance . . . don't fall prey to false promises. Your integrity may be at stake. Stand tall!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Some of recent pressure is relieved. You can see daylight involving important project. One you admire pays compliment. Others may come to you with their problems. Be generous with praise.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You could lose both money and friends—unless you are discriminating. Don't borrow or lend without giving much thought first. Stress independence, new contacts, fresh methods.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Better to be suspicious of any get-rich-quick scheme. Applies especially to contracts, written agreements. Individual who promises you much . . . may have little to back it up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be flexible. Fine now for relaxing with congenial persons. Sense of humor very important. If you don't take claims, interests, boasts seriously . . . then day glows!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Romantic area requires attention. Some recent decisions, changes may have to be revised. Check details. You may have overlooked minor but important factor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Changes due among higher-ups. These could affect you directly. Take advantage of activity by expressing creative views. Come out of shell . . . let talents, abilities be known.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Study correspondence, messages. You must have clear picture of alternatives before making your views known. Desires, motives also emphasized. Organize emotions. Be sure!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Mate or partner may appear eccentric. Key is to be understanding. Otherwise you could make impulsive request. If it is fulfilled . . . you could regret it. Better to wait and observe.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): You can gain objective if mature. Guard against taking backward steps . . . overcome temptation to return to past. Applies in many areas, including romance. Step out with confidence!

* * *

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are perceptive, independent, possess a stubborn streak, but when you wish you exert a fatal charm.

* * *

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for ARIES, TAURUS. Special word to LIBRA: Relax. Don't press. Then what you want comes to you.

Emancipation From Broadway

Theaters Try New Ventures

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

Theater festivals have been trying new combinations of artistry and box office this summer.

Among innovations introduced: the first get-together on this side of the ocean of avant-garde experimenters; at the opposite end of dramatic purpose, a venture into poetic synthesis; somewhere between, an establishment bid for freedom from critics.

* * *

The three projects are all taking place within a couple of hundred miles of New York, but they typify growing theatrical evidence across the country of emancipation from Broadway tradition.

At Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., 10 youthful troupes have taken part in Interact, a roundup of unorthodox drama. Off-Broadway's pioneer Cafe La Mama troupe headed by Ellen Stewart took part and so did visitors from Paris, Edinburgh and Toronto.

ABLE TO INVITE

"It's the first time we've been able to invite instead of being invited," says Miss Stewart.

The collegiate get-together which ended Aug. 25 began with just four scheduled companies. When Miss Stewart discovered Brandeis had three theaters, she persuaded officials to invite six more troupes.

* * *

The university underwrote costs of approximately $50,000 and the response of both staid citizens and hippie-garb youths appears adequate to insure the festival again next summer.

Another college, the Southampton, N.Y., branch of Long Island University, was the angel behind the very contrasting Artists Theater Festival which also seems to have assured its future through this summer of freshman effort.

AESTHETIC SETTINGS

Far-in rather than far-out, Artists Theater aims at productions of poetic drama in settings by painters of aesthetic repute.

Herbert Machiz, a well-known director, and John Bernard Myers, who runs an art gallery, began Artists Theater 15 years ago. It has functioned intermittently since, but Machiz felt hope for enchanced continuity when he discovered Southampton's handsome, air-conditioned theater in summer idleness.

* * *

Dean Robert Umphrey extended hospitality on a proviso that Machiz raise $40,000 needed for a four-play schedule.

Getting the money meant, says Machiz, "we could have run all summer even if not a single person had bought a ticket."

STEADY INCREASE

The lushly social far-Long Island populace, geared more to pools and parties, has thus far built attendance to only about 35 per cent of capacity. What impresses the backers more is a steady week by week increase.

* * *

Machiz has succeeded in attracting an impressive panel of players even though everyone gets a modest $200 weekly and has just two weeks of rehearsal.

* * *

Machiz directed all of the plays given from July 5 through Aug. 25 — Jean Cocteau's "The Knights of the Round Table," "Henrik Ibsen's "Little Eyolf," James Merrill's "The Immortal Husband" and "In the Summer House" by Jane Bowles.

The ventures at Waltham and Southampton have both earned considerable critical praise. But at Stockbridge, Mass., the Berkshire Theater Festival is dedicated to the proposition that art sometimes flourishes best when free of criticism.

REBELLION WITHIN

Also in contrast to the other festivals, Berkshire represents rebellion from within.

"We have tried to create an atmosphere in which established professionals in the theater would have the time and freedom to explore profitably the possibilities of their work," is how Arthur Penn explains the nonreview policy. Penn, who directs on both stage and screen, is festival president.

* * *

Other main talents involved are playwright William Gibson and Lyn Austin, Broadway producer and formerly an aide to Roger L. Stevens who now heads the National Endowment for the Arts.

In its third year of operation, but the first deliberately avoiding critics, the festival which ran from July 3 through Sept. 1 came up with new works by Elaine May, Terrence McNally, Jack Gelber and Gibson.

PURE COINCIDENCE

Three are headed for Broadway, a circumstance which Gibson insists is pure coincidence.

"What we don't want to become is either a stock company or a tryout house for Broadway," says the author.

Miss Austin, production chief, attributes husky box-office activity to the combination of experimental freedom and an ability to pull audiences from a wide area.

* * *

With contributions of $120,000 — including a $50,000 grant from United Artists for first refusal rights to any scripts — the season budget was fixed at $185,000. Anticipated box-office revenue of $65,000 turned out to be comfortably modest, for the first two shows alone garnered $51,000 in ticket sales.

"So far the New York and national reviewers have cooperated fully," Gibson said. "When new things are tried, they need to be protected.

* * *

"Nor is it unfair to audiences. They know how we're operating and they know what they're paying for."

Confab Speakers

LANSING (AP) — Mayor Floyd H. Hyde of Fresno, Calif., and Robben W. Fleming, president of the University of Michigan, will be the keynote speakers at the Michigan Municipal League's annual convention. Over 1,200 persons are expected to attend the Sept. 17-20 convention.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

The first meal at the Eiffel Tower was served on April 2, 1889. Since that time thousands of people have visited the Tower and dined at the different restaurants. The first-floor restaurant, En Plein Ciel, is decorated in a style of old-fashioned comfort: red draperies, Venetian chandeliers. At regular intervals each province takes over the restaurant for two weeks. Each one sends its best chefs, who offer the specialties of their region. The Snackorama on the first platform, offers a sixteen franc prix fixe. There is a "creperie," a stand-up counter where you can get Breton-style pancakes dusted with sugar or flavored with Grand Marnier. Le Panoramique is the moderately priced restaurant on the second platform. It becomes a bar and salon de the' in the afternoon.

Another unusual place to eat is JAYSON'S, 4195 Dixie Hwy., at Hatchery Rd., 673-7900, where you get pleasant, courteous service in a comfortable atmosphere. Enjoy the BOB LAWSON QUARTETTE, Tues. thru Sat., where dining pleasure and hospitality go hand in hand.

Reds Fete Tolstoy Sunday

YASNAYA POLYANA, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Author Leo Tolstoy, whose reputation survived and flowered under communism, is being honored Sunday throughout the Soviet Union as one of the giants of world literature. It is the 140th anniversary of his birth.

The Russian-Communists consider him their own man, even though he was a count in quite another era. His ideas, they claim, expressed the "boiling indignation of the masses" in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

* * *

The feelings Tolstoy described in his exhaustive works led to the Russian Revolution and the first success of Communist power. This has helped Tolstoy keep his high place in university reading lists and, more importantly, in the "approved" category at the tightly controlled state publishing houses.

"War and Peace" is much in demand in book form and the new Soviet film of that name packs in the crowds in Moscow.

ANNUAL EVENT

Tolstoy's birthday, Sept. 8, is an annual event in the Russian literary community. This year students, authors and book-lovers are expected to make a mass pilgrimage to his grave on his estate here.

Yasnaya Polyana—Clear Meadow—has been carefully preserved. Tolstoy spent most of his life here.

* * *

A three-hour drive south of Moscow, it lies on the outskirts of Tula, surrounded by rolling farmland, birch forests and fields of sunflower.

Flocks of geese wander freely about the highways nearby and peasants trudge through the fields with loads of hay on their backs.

BUSLOADS OF TOURISTS

Tourists, mostly Russians, come in busloads to the museum that has been made of his house, listening in awe as the guides tell how the flamboyant aristocrat lived.

Visitors must wear special slippers inside the house, and a maximum of 900 a day are allowed inside to see his library, his scythe, his worn tunic, boots and hat, and his writing tools. The soft leather furniture in the house was described in detail in his books.

A small bench remains in front of his house at the "tree of the poor," where he received peasants and others seeking his sympathy, advice and money.

In Tolstoy's study, the guide calls for silence and holds up a picture of a scorched room littered with wine bottles, broken-down beds and assorted debris.

'AFTERMATH SCENE'

"This is what the study looked like when the dirty German invaders left," the guide says. "They tried to burn down the place as they retreated in 1941, but the local fire brigade saved it. The cold winter air froze the water and made the job very difficult. But the vengeful scheme failed."

8-City Airing for Daley View

2 Chains Will Show Chicago Mayor's Side

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley will get his chance to show in at least eight cities his view of what happened in demonstrations during the week of the Democratic National Convention.

* * *

A statement signed by the mayor and released Thursday by an aide said Daley has accepted the offer of prime time by two broadcasting companies.

DOCUMENTARY

A documentary program, prepared by the mayor's office, will be shown on the Metromedia television and radio network, reaching New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington and Kansas City.

The Chicago-based WGN Continental Broadcasting Co. also will show the documentary through its outlets in Chicago, Denver and Duluth, Minn. The firm has offered to make the program available to any other station interested in showing it.

* * *

Time and date of the airing have not been set, the aide said, but will be announced shortly. It was not announced who will narrate the film.

Earlier this week, Daley asked the three major television networks for prime time to present his case to the American people. Daley charged that the networks presented "one-sided coverage" of demonstrations and police actions during last week's convention in Chicago.

REJECTED BY CBS

The Columbia Broadcasting System rejected Daley's request, saying it already had given Daley a chance to present his view in a 30-minute interview during the convention.

* * *

The National Boradcasting Co. and American Broadcasting Co. offered Daley an opportunity to appear on a prime-time panel discussion with newsmen, but refused to allow him to make an independent presentation.

Daley has rejected these proposals because the "format does not meet the purpose of providing a balanced presentation," the aide said.

* * *

The planned documentary would include films of confrontations between antiwar demonstrators and police in Chicago's streets and information gathered by police on plans by the demonstrators to disrupt the convention and city, the mayor's office said.

Transplant Foe Admits Success Proves His Error

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A medical professor who opposed heart transplant operations last spring says their success has convinced him that he was wrong.

"Transplantation is here," said Dr. Eliot Corday of the University of California at Los Angeles. He is a past president of the American College of Cardiology.

* * *

In a debate last spring with Dr. Christiaan Barnard of Capetown, South Africa, Corday urged a moratorium on heart transplants.

His original objection was based on the lack of a drug or other method for preventing rejection of the transplanted organ. Corday said Thursday. Now, he says, this is being solved with introduction of anti-lymphocyte globulin.

Science Fighting Hail

By Science Service

TORONTO, Canada — Hailstorms cause between $200 to $300 million in crop losses every year in the United States alone. The costs worldwide are sufficiently severe that five other countries — the Soviet Union, France, Kenya, Canada and Italy — are already engaged in large-scale projects to decrease hail.

The National Science Foundation has come up with a plan for approaching the problem in the U.S. It calls for $324 million a year during the next five years using various techniques to modify hail formation.

* * *

In the pilot project next summer, Colorado State University scientists will send explosive nose cones into the center cell of thunderstorm clouds, the hail-producing core.

Detonation of the cones containing lead iodine as a seeding agent will be timed by command from ground radar.

STONES SMALLER

The idea is to cause the formation of many more hail stones than would otherwise occur — and to do this at the earliest possible time after radar shows that hail has formed, thus keeping the stones small and therefore less damaging.

Next summer's program, expected to cost $500,000 is a cooperative effort of NSF, the National Center for Atmospheric Research, the Environmental Science Services Administration and the Department of Agriculture.

* * *

Dr. Wykoff said the United States plan is based on the one being used in Russia. There, Dr. G. K. Sulakvelidze reports, "hail suppression has proved very successful."

GOP Electors in N.Y. Warned

NEW YORK (AP) — The Republican State Committee has named 43 presidential electors and told them that any who accept Conservative party endorsement would be disqualified.

* * *

"This may very well end up in the courts," J. Daniel Mahoney, the Conservatives' state chairman, said after the appointments Thursday.

Mahoney and his vice chairman, Kieran O'Doherty, stood outside the meeting room where the 336-member GOP committee debated, then rejected, a proposal for a joint Republican-Conservative slate of electors.

* * *

Conservative leaders contend the Republicans need the Conservative popular vote to help the Nixon-Agnew GOP ticket claim New York's 43 electoral votes.

DISAGREEMENT

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other GOP leaders disagreed with this.

"I think we can carry the state without any question," said GOP State Chairman Charles J. Schoeneck.

* * *

The Conservatives have threatened to file their own slate of Nixon-Agnew electors, whose votes would not be counted towards the Nixon-Agnew total of the GOP state.

However, New York Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo, the chief elections officer, said he would not approve a separate slate without Richard M. Nixon's consent. He said a candidate's consent is necessary under state law.

Riot Helmet? Gas Mask? You're Ready for College

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the autumn rituals in America is an exercise in futility and frustration called "getting the kids off to school."

The futility and frustration comes mainly from trying to cram a second-grader back into his first grade clothing. WEST

Those clothes were a perfect fit, or maybe a little on the loose side, when school closed last June.

* * *

How, then, does one account for the fact that they are now twice too small?

PHYSICAL IMPOSSIBILITY

I checked with the children's bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and I was told no boy that age could possibly have doubled in size in less than three months.

It is my theory that we have a psychopath in our neighborhood. Harkening back to my police reporting days, I have dubbed him "The Phantom Shrinker."

* * *

Last month while we were away on vacation the shrinker sneaked into my house and washed all of my kid's school clothes in the wrong kind of detergent. I'm turning the case over to the FBI tomorrow. Meanwhile . . .

Well, meanwhile, there is the business of trying to get my elder daughter ready to go off to college for the first time.

ASSEMBLE EQUIPMENT

Unless you have been through this yourself, you couldn't believe all the stuff that freshmen girls take with them to college these days.

My wife, the quartermaster, has drawn up a check list and the other evening we conducted an inventory to make certain all of the necessary equipment was at hand.

* * *

"Riot helmet?"

"Check."

"Tear gas mask?"

"Check."

"Bail money?"

"Check."

"Water, paint and cardboard for making protest signs?"

"Check."

"A length of rope for tying up the dean?"

"Check."

"Empty beer bottles to throw at the cops?"

"Check."

"Okay. It looks like she's ready to begin her higher education. Let's get it crated up. The moving van will be here next Saturday."

Britain Keeps Sharp Eye on Scientology

EAST GRINSTEAD, England (AP) — "They say we have orgies here," said the young Englishman, pointing at the swimming pool. "We're too busy to have orgies—we don't even have time to go swimming."

This was at the country mansion once owned by the Maharajah of Jaipur. It is now headquarters of the Scientology movement, a semireligious organization from the United States. This "largest mental health organization the world," as it calls itself, has become a storm center in Britain.

* * *

Villagers in East Grinstead, a centuries-old market center 30 miles from London, seek a ban on the Scientologists, claiming they spread their influence in the town.

'POTENTIAL MENACE'

Health Minister Kenneth Robinson last month denounced Scientology as "socially harmful . . . a potential menace."

In Parliament Robinson said Scientology "alienates members of families from each other and attributes squalid and disgraceful motives to all who oppose it. Its authoritarian principles and practices are a potential menace to the personality and well-being of those so deluded as to become its followers."

Scientology's founder, American science fiction writer L. Ron Hubbard, 57, is barred from returning to England. He moved his headquarters here 11 years ago but now reportedly lives aboard a yacht in the Mediterranean.

Scientology calls itself "a practical religious philosophy interested in ability and increasing it . . . the most vital philosophic movement on the planet . . . the freeing of the soul by wisdom." Its publications contend it makes people "more aware, more alert, more successful." It has groups in the United States and around the world and claims millions of members.

A Scientology minister, called an "auditor," gives confessionals. "The confessional in Scientology is not solely the recounting of sins or wrongs that the person has done," one of its publication says. "The purpose of auditing is to make the person more spiritually able, more aware, more free."

E-METER TELLS ALL

One of the instruments used is called the "Hubbard electrometer," or "E-meter." Scientology literature says it measures the mental state of individuals, "to disclose truth to the individual who is being processed and thus free him spiritually."

The person being processed holds metallic cups attached to the instrument, a box-like affair with several dials and a gauge. The auditor watches the meter and registers the fluctuations.

* * *

The East Grimstead college has 200 to 300 students and a staff of about 150. Roughly half the students and staff come from outside Britain. The government restrictions ruled foreign students or staff members would no longer be admitted to Britain or allowed to prolong their stay.

At one stage more than 65 American Scientologists were stopped at airports here and flown out again. A charter flight of 180 Americans was canceled. About 18 American staff members left England. But Gaiman said "Students are now coming in openly and we had 37 permits extended last week."

BAN IS STILL ON

The Home Office asserts the ban is still on. It has claimed all along that Scientologists could come to Britain as visitors, but denied them entry for extended periods under a student classification. The college is not recognized by the government.

Gaiman said Scientology has more than 100,000 members in Britain. It also has its own legal department of five lawyers, all Scientologists. They are now busy with 64 libel suits—largely against British newspapers.

Two thousand sterilized men a day is the new birth control target of the Pakistani Government.

Stock Market Continues Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its rise in active trading early Friday afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 250 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.79 at 920.31.

The average was approaching its closing high for the year, 923.72, made July 15.

Traders and investors were attracted by the continuity of four straight market sessions for the first time since early June. The fact that the market rise won greater momentum since Tuesday had what brokers called a cumulative or "bandwagon" effect, helped by good economic news.

a trend toward easier money and a rise this week in scheduled auto assemblies despite the Labor Day holiday were among encouraging factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 339.2, with industrials up 1.6, rails up 1.1, and utilities off 1.

In a second-day reaction to news of the proposed Lorillard-Loew's Theatres merger, Loew's opened late on a block of 48,000 shares, down 5½ at 105, later extending its loss to 6. The stock ran up 15½ points Thursday.

Lorillard opened on 23,000 shares, up 1 at 61¾, clipping the gain to a fraction later on. It rose 2⅜ Thursday. Volume was boosted by a cross transaction of 61,200 shares at 60*, with a single broker representing buyer and seller.

Detroit Racial Climate Called Improved

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's over-all racial climate was depicted yesterday as improved since last summer's riots, with both the black and white communities closer together.

The description was included in a private survey conducted for New Detroit Inc., a group organized to coordinate efforts to ease racial tensions in the city.

* * *

The survey added, however, that while the feeling of improvement is prevalent, "There are still vast differences in attitudes and understandings between the races."

Conducted by Market Strategy Inc., the survey involved 1,200 blacks and 1,200 whites — 400 each in the inner city, outer city and suburbs. It was conducted between June 15 and July 15.

FEAR SHARED

While reporting that a predominant number of blacks and whites feel there has been a positive change for the better, the report said that "fear of possible violence is a concern shared by both blacks and whites.

Of all those interviewed, the report continued, less than 10 per cent see another riot as necessary to further black goals.

"However," the report added, "this attitude is far more apparent among black youths under 25 years of age, of whom almost one in four feel more rioting is necessary.

The study shows further that about 40 per cent of all interviewed have strong feelings that if more progress than has been evident so far is not made soon, there may be more violence.

"Partly because of this fear, and partly because of a feeling of confusion as to what an individual can do to help, there continues to exist a wide gap between the two communities and concern about the problems and involvement in solving them.

* * *

"Blacks are not convinced that the white middle class really want to get involved. The survey shows that while the majority of whites talk about the problem among themselves, they do not act beyond this stage," the report stated.

The report said that the greatest progress as seen through the eyes of both blacks and whites is that more people are aware and concerned about the problems now.

It said tangible progress has been noted mainly in: job opportunities, self-determination of realistic goals, unbiased television coverage of racial issues and greater black involvement in solving city problems.

DECLINES SEEN

Both whites and blacks were reported to see a decline in police and inner city relationships and availability of good and low-cost housing.

Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of New Detroit since its founding, said in his farewell report that progress made so far and measured against total needs of the inner city, "leaves a great deal to be desired, particularly in low-cost housing and education."

Hudson was succeeded as chairman by Max Fisher, Detroit industrialist and financier.

Agnew Lashes Some of Chicago Protesters

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, continuing to emphasize his theme of law and order, has told a group of young people that militant minorities among them are involved in what he termed unconscious anarchism.

Lashing out at some of the youthful antiwar demonstrators who appeared in Chicago recently during the Democratic National Convntion, the Republican vice presidential nominee charged that "all they can do is lay down in the park and sleep or kick policemen with razor blades."

* * *

The Maryland governor arrived here Thursday night. He made his remarks at a convention of Young Republicans in York, Pa.

Who is going to succeed to the responsibilities of operating the businesses, the industries, the government, the transportation systems, everything that needs to be kept up to keep us functioning as a civilized society, unless the young people are trained and accept the responsibilities that they must take on ultimately?" Agnew said.

ALL THEY CAN DO

"If you tell me that the hippies and the yippies are going to be able to do the job, I'll tell you this: They can't run a bus, they can't serve in a governmental office, they can't run a lathe in a factory. All they can do is lay down in a park and sleep or kick policemen with razor blades.

"This does not mean that I have lost my faith in the young people of this country. It simply means that I refuse to recognize a militant minority of the people in the colleges as the young people who are available to do the jobs of government.

"A small minority of these people are involved in what I might term unconscious anarchy.

"And it's people like you," Agnew continued, "that are willing to reject summarily, out of hand, what's going on in these places throughout the world—and it's not just in the United States and much of it is Communist-inspired as you and I know—you are doing the greatest service to your country that you can do."

'SILLY THINGS'

"I wanted to do a lot of silly things when I was your age, too, but my parents wouldn't let me," he said. "And let me tell you something. When I grew older, I was very glad they didn't.

"So let's stop wasting public dollars buying off the militants."

Earlier Thursday, Agnew told the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C., that the only solution to urban slums and hard-core unemployment was the development of satellite cities.

He said the pouring of federal dollars into slums in an effort to improve them is not a step forward, but only "marching in place.

Israel Arrests 18 Arabs as Suspects in Bombings

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli police picked up four more Arab suspects in raids before dawn today, bringing to 18 the number of Arabs arrested on suspicion of taking part in bombings in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

Only 36 hours after three explosive charges killed one Israeli and wounded 59 at the crowded Tel Aviv bus station, police announced they had captured the bomb squad.

* * *

The group, from Arab Jerusalem and the West Bank territory seized from Jordan in the 1967 war, was also accused of exploding a bomb in a Jerusalem cafe Aug. 1, a grenade in the courtyard of the U.S. Consulate in east Jerusalem on Aug. 8, and a number of grenades which wounded nine Israelis on Aug. 18 in the Holy City.

* * *

'FUTILITY OF RIOTING

The press today declared that the police force's announced successes "prove all the more the futility of such rioting" and called on the public "to leave the job of catching the terrorists to the police."

The influential Haaretz attacked the right-wing Herut party and other groups which called for a ban on Arabs traveling from occupied territories into Israel.

* * *

"Our war is against the terrorists, not against the Arabs under our dominion," said Haaretz. "We must bring the Arabs close to us, for it is clear they want no truck with the saboteurs . . . The quiet resumption of classes in occupied territories and the fact that the recent business strike in Jerusalem—instigated by terrorists—hardly materialized are sufficient proof of this."

For School Districts

Income Tax Urged

LANSING (UPI) — A and not just property member of the Michigan Boards of Education Association last night proposed local districts be given the power to levy an income tax of up to 1 per cent to support their schools.

* * *

Thomas Walsh, treasurer of the Lansing Board of Education and a member of the association's resolutions committee, said such a tax, collectable as part of the state income tax package, would relieve the tax burden on local property owners.

"The rationale for this is very simple," Walsh said. "School districts have no independent income. County allocation boards give some, local millage provides some and the state does what it pleases when it gets around to it each year.

* * *

"Many citizens certainly feel property taxes have reached their limit," he said. "state costs going up much more rapidly than state aid has thrust an increasingly large part of the tax burden on the local property owner."

SUPPLEMENT LEVIES

Walsh said the income tax would supplement, rather than replace, local school millage levies. He also suggested that the state income tax form include a notation of what school district the taxpayer lives in so that there could be "some statewide computation of where the wealth is in terms of income ownership."

* * *

They said state control has resulted in a high standard of operation and growth in aviation activity in the Lansing area.

Gov. George Romney suggested earlier this year that the city assume control of the facility, last major airport in Michigan operated by the state.

DUE OCT. 3

The legislative committee said it will meet again Oct. 3 to receive a recommendation from State Aeronautics Director James D. Ramsey before proceeding further.

Airport Transfer Gets 2nd Look

LANSING (UPI) — The State of Michigan is having second thoughts about turning over Capital City Airport to the City of Lansing.

Members of a special Senate-House committee considering the transfer indicated at a meeting Thursday it might not be a wise move after all.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF WATERFORD
1968 SEWER SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS, SERIES 1
Sealed bids for the purchase of 1968 Sewer Special Assessment Bonds, Series 1, to be issued by the Township of Waterford, Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $150,000, will be received by the undersigned, at the Township Hall, 4995 West Huron Street in said Township (the post office address is Pontiac, Michigan), until 7:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on Monday, the 16th day of September, 1968, at which time and place the said bids will be publicly opened and read.
Said bonds will be dated August 1, 1968, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 5% per annum, payable on February 1, 1969 and thereafter semi-annually on August 1 and February 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%. The interest rate on any one bond shall be one rate only and shall be represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period. All bonds maturing in the same year shall bear the same rate of interest and no bond of this issue shall bear interest at a rate per annum which is less than 50% of the interest rate or any other bond of this issue. Accrued interest to date of delivery on the said bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, subject to the approval of the Township, which paying agent qualifies as such under the statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government.
The said bonds will mature serially on August 1st in the amount and years as follows:

1969—$ 5,000	1977—$ 5,000	1985—$ 5,000
1970— 5,000	1978— 5,000	1986— 5,000
1971— 5,000	1979— 5,000	1987— 5,000
1972— 10,000	1980— 10,000	1988— 10,000
1973— 5,000	1981— 5,000	1989— 5,000
1974— 5,000	1982— 5,000	1990— 5,000
1975— 5,000	1983— 5,000	1991— 5,000
1976— 10,000	1984— 10,000	1992— 10,000

Bonds maturing in the years 1969 and 1970 shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. The bonds maturing in the years 1971, 1972 are subject to redemption at the option of the Township, as a direct general obligation, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after August 1, 1970, at the par value thereof and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of the bonds called for redemption by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which is recognized as a part of its regular service, notices for the sale of municipal bonds. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.
The said bonds are to be issued in anticipation of the collection of an equal amount of special assessments against lands in special assessment district No. 174, to defray part of the cost of constructing sewers in said Special Assessment District in the Charter Township of Waterford, and in addition will pledge the full faith and credit of the Township for the payment of the principal and interest thereon. Interest due on said bonds on February 1, 1969, is capitalized and will be paid from the bond proceeds.
If the receipts from the special assessments in anticipation of which the bonds in this issue are issued, should not be sufficient to meet the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds when due, then moneys shall be advanced from the general fund of the Township to meet such deficiency.
For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of interest on the bonds from October 1, 1968 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the Township. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than par value will be considered.
A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Township Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.
Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Dickinson, Wright, McKean & Cudlip, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the Township. There will also be furnished the usual closing papers, including a non-litigation certificate, dated as of the date of the delivery of the bonds. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, or such other place as may be agreed upon between the Township and the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds"

A Look at TV

'Golddiggers' May Return

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — "The Golddiggers," NBC's youth oriented summer variety series, marched gaily into oblivion with Thursday night's performance.

And it will be missed by, among others, a lot of parents and a sprinkling of grandparents. What other show can make a finger-snapping teen turn to a TV-watching parent and say with surprise, "Why, Dad, you know all the words."

The idea of reprieving the old 1930 and 1940 songs in a modern frame worked out to be excellent summer entertainment. There has been plenty of song and dance, pretty good comedy and a nice blithe spirit all around.

MIDWINTER REPLACEMENT

There is talk of bringing it back as a midwinter replacement, although at the moment it seems that the three networks are overstocked with variety shows.

At the 11th hour, the producers of next Saturday night's "Miss America Pageant" made their peace with the composer of the show's stirring theme song, and Bert Parks as usual will be heard warbling "There she is, Miss Amer-i-cuh."

For a while it seemed that the pageant, televised annually since 1954, would just not be the same. Composer Bernie Wayne and the pageant management disagreed about royalties for the song and it was decided to drop it.

Bess Myerson, the 1945 Miss America, has been hostess for the past 14 years and Parks has been master of ceremonies and official baritone since 1955.

Foreign Press Free in Prague

Alcron Hotel Lobby Bastion for Newsmen

PRAGUE (UPI) — To the Kremlin it is a bastion of reaction, but to the western press corps, the lobby of Prague's Alcron Hotel is a "yellow submarine," their home in a beleaguered city.

So important a center of information had the lobby become even before the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia that some newspapers were jokingly said to have permanent Alcron correspondents.

The lobby and the ground floor restaurant have become the headquarters for western journalists, photographers and television teams.

They also have inevitably become a "rumor mill," where stories dramatically change in substance and in significance as they pass from hand to hand and across numerous language barriers.

PERMATURE REPORTS

From them came reports as much as four weeks premature that the five fraternal Warsaw Pact armies had invaded Czechoslovakia.

Since the invasion, the number of often-farfetched rumors have doubled or trebled as previously reliable sources of news began to dry up.

In the first few days of the occupation, when gunfire was heard nightly 100 yards down the road in Wenceslas Square, the atmosphere became taut as a violin string.

★ ★ ★

A fist fight broke out between American correspondents over the reliability of their sources, and one night a typewriter came crashing through a window of an overexcited correspondent to land on the roof of the "yellow submarine."

From the moment the Soviet tanks entered Prague, the foreign press corps has been expecting to be asked to leave the country. Some journalists openly expressed hopes that they would.

But an informed Czech source said there were no instructions in the foreign ministry to indicate this would happen and the Prague police headquarters continued issuing visa extensions.

Tough U.S. Stance Asked by Clifford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford yesterday called for a tougher United States negotiating position toward Russia by pushing missile development and defense.

Clifford also came out strongly for keeping "a significant American military presence in Western Europe," which feels threatened by the concentration of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia.

★ ★ ★

The defense chief's statements before the National Press Club were among several developments yesterday to indicate a toughening attitude.

Clifford appeared at the Press Club luncheon after a series of high level policy discussions, including a session of the National Security Council chaired by President Johnson.

HARD LINE STUDIED

Those sessions weighed the implications of Russia's reversion to a hard line, and possible action the United States might take at the diplomatic and military level to shore up Western defenses.

There were the related developments:

● Citing the Czech situation, the State Department announced cancellation of a tour of Russia by the University of Minnesota concert band and a second ceremonial flight marking the start of commercial air service between New York and Moscow.

● Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, commenting after a White House meeting, said there was a possibility the Senate will not act this year on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

● The State Department branded as "indecent and outrageous" attacks in the Soviet press which said the Atlantic Alliance had planned to take over Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

Clifford announced that "in the light of all current developments our prudent course is to press forward as planned with the Sentinel" antimissile system.

Pentagon officials, searching for possible savings to meet congressional demands for a $3-billion defense spending cut this year, had considered delaying a start on the Sentinel for some months.

'HANDS-OFF' ORDERED

But Clifford disclosed he had ordered that the $5-billion Sentinel system be exempt from any such economy cuts.

At the same time, Clifford defended the testing of advanced Minuteman and Poseidon missiles equipped with multiple warheads which could be targeted on several enemy cities after being carried aloft by a single launcher.

★ ★ ★

The defense secretary declared he feels the decision to go ahead with the Sentinel "would both improve the chances of talks and the negotiating climate, should such talks take place."

Judge Denies Dr. Clark's Plea for a New Trial

A Farmington Township physician serving a 3-to-15-year sentence in the State Prison at Jackson for manslaughter in the death of his part-time nurse was denied a new trial yesterday.

Philip Rowston, defense attorney for Dr. Ronald E. Clark said Clark has 60 days to request permission to appeal the decision of Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

★ ★ ★

Rowston's responsibility as a court-appointed attorney ended with the rejection of the petition for the new trial.

He had sought the new trial on several grounds, including evidence uncovered since Clark's conviction June 28.

OVERDOSE CITED

Clark, 56, of 30735 Grand River, was found guilty by an Ingham County jury of causing the death of Mrs. Grace Neil, 43, of Livonia, by administering an overdose of sodium pentothal, the so-called truth serum.

If Rowston's petition for a new trial had been granted, he had intended to offer an expert witness who would have testified that the quantity of the drug found in Mrs. Neil was not lethal and did not cause her death.

★ ★ ★

Clark was not present during arguments yesterday in Ingham County. The case had been transferred there originally by Beer after Rowston contended that local news coverage of the case would prevent Clark from receiving a fair trial in Oakland County.

Pontiac Sales Set New August Mark

Sales of Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds have set divisional records for the month of August and the Aug. 21-31 period, it was announced yesterday by John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager.

For the month Pontiac sales totaled 62,615 units, which topped the old record of 59,595 set three years ago. This also marked an 18 per cent increase over the 52,979 new cars sold last August.

★ ★ ★

DeLorean also reported sales of 22,945 for the last third of the month. This broke the previous record of 19,449 set in 1966. A year ago Pontiac dealers sold 18,748 new cars in the same period.

DR. RONALD E. CLARK

Dirksen Piques Wryly at Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a sure sign Congress was back in session: The champion of the marigold, the protector of birds, was holding court.

Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, Republican minority leader from Pekin, Ill., was perched on a table in the Senate press gallery, cup of coffee in hand, cigarettes nearby, holding his weekly news conference for the first time in a month.

★ ★ ★

Not even a story about a report that he was marked for assassination escaped the wry touch.

"I don't want my head blown off," Dirksen said he told police after one of three reports of threats on his life.

'THEY NEED ME'

"I've got flowers in bloom and they need me. I've got 65 bird feeders now, and the birds need me," he said.

★ ★ ★

He said he told the police that "Whoever this creature is, why doesn't he wait until the frost has slashed at the flowers and the birds have gone south? Then it won't be so hard to take."

The conference darted from anecdote to reminiscence to hard answers.

★ ★ ★

What did he think of chances the Senate would confirm Abe Fortas' nomination as chief justice?

"Not roseate," he intoned.

Did he think President Johnson should withdraw the nomination?

★ ★ ★

"I don't know what the President should or shouldn't do. I'm not the president. I should be but I'm not."

Senate Leaders Take Dim View of Fortas Hopes

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Senate leaders are taking an increasingly dim view of Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice and raise the possibility his nomination will die in committee.

President Johnson, however, is pictured as still hopeful Fortas will make it and as giving no indication he might withdraw the nomination.

★ ★ ★

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated yesterday that opponents may succeed in keeping the nomination locked up in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

★ ★ ★

"I'd say the opposition has hardened and may well have increased," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield. He termed Fortas' chances of confirmation to succeed Earl Warren "not encouraging."

STALLED BY CONTROVERSY

Stalled by the controversy over Fortas' appointment is Johnson's nomination of another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry, to be associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Until Fortas is confirmed, there won't be any vacancy on the court for Thornberry to fill since Warren has made his retirement is contingent on approval of a successor.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile opponents of Johnson's Supreme Court nominations expressed concern today that he may find a way to outflank the Senate bloc they have lined up against confirming his choices.

Sen. Robert Griffin, Re-Mich., leader of the coalition of Republicans and southerners who oppose the nominations, said Johnson could take any of a number of courses that might give him victory.

ONE WAY CITED

"One way would be to withdraw the Thornberry nomination in favor of a man more to southern tastes," Griffin said.

★ ★ ★

Another member of the opposition speculated that Johnson might merely announce he was appointing Fortas to succeed Warren, asserting that Senate confirmation was not needed for the elevation. This senator — a Democrat — said tradition alone and not the Constitution had dictated the view that Senate approval was needed to elevate a sitting justice.

Air Logjam Eases; Many Factors Cited

NEW YORK (AP) — Air travelers are getting up, up and away easier these days, although some slight delays in landings and takeoffs are still reported at major airports.

An Associated Press survey yesterday showed several reasons for the improvement—a seasonal decline in the number of flights, unusually good weather and fewer equipment breakdowns.

★ ★ ★

A Federal Aviation Administration spokesman at Kennedy Airport said air traffic conditions at New York's metropolitan area jetports were "a lot better" than they were during the crowded days of July.

It was in July that the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization—which claims 7,000 members—began a "follow the book" slowdown, strictly enforcing FAA safety rules which are sometimes bent in periods of peak congestion.

The FAA spokesman at Kennedy said that delays were limited to from 40 minutes to an hour, and then only during peak travel periods.

The FAA officials said the improvement was due to better weather, fewer breakdowns in air controller radar and communications equipment, fewer flights during the late summer season and diversions of some flights from Kennedy to LaGuardia or Newark airports.

At National Airport in Washington, the FAA said there had been no reportable delays — those of over 30 minutes — since the Labor Day weekend.

Pleasant Weekend Forecast for Area

A pleasant weekend is in store for the Pontiac area. Sunny skies are expected to warm the countryside tomorrow and Sunday.

Here is the day-by-day official U.S. Weather Bureau prediction:

TODAY — Partly cloudy and cool with

a chance of brief light showers this afternoon or evening. High 66 to 73. Fair to partly cloudy and cool tonight.

Westerly winds will continue at eight to 18 miles per hour.

TOMORROW—Mostly sunny and mild.

SUNDAY — Fair and warmer.

Precipitation probabilities: Today 20 per cent.

Fifty-four was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury stood near 70 at 12:30 p.m.

Firemen's Gala Set for Sept. 18

The annual Pontiac Firemen's Festival, scheduled for Sept. 18 at Wisner Stadium, will feature entertainment ranging from a parade to fireworks.

★ ★ ★

In between the opening motorcade-march from the Pontiac Mall and the closing fireworks display, music, equipment demonstrations and a tug-of-war will be highlighted.

★ ★ ★

More than 1,000 persons, plus fire vehicles, are expected to march down Saginaw to the stadium beginning at 6 p.m.

The exclusively motorized portion of the parade will leave the Mall at 5:30 to join marchers at Saginaw and Pike.

MUSICAL PERFORMERS

Music will be provided by the Detroit Fire Department Band and The Firehouse Five singing group.

In addition, the state, national and international champion drill team, The Rae-Vens, will perform and a tug-of-war will be held between the Pontiac-area fire departments' clowns and the Box 113 Club of the Pontiac Fire Department.

★ ★ ★

Door prizes will be awarded.

Demonstrators will include ladder and hose evolutions and the use of expansion foam on a propane gas blaze.

Admission for all events is free.

City Urged: Keep Buses Going

By ED BLUNDEN

One of the area's leading planning officials has urged Pontiac to take whatever steps necessary to preserve its bus system.

Speaking yesterday to the Pontiac Rotary Club was Irving Rubin, director of the Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS). TALUS is a function of the planning division of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG).

Employes of TALUS are gathering information on the six-county region on transportation and land use problems for a master plan for the area.

Rubin pointed out to the Rotarians that last year the State Legislature formed the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA). The objective of this authority is to create an areawide transportation system.

RUBIN

In the proposed system will be incorporated all the existing transportation systems, including Pontiac's, Rubin said. He urged the city to "hang on for two or three more years" to the present system.

The city's bus situation has been described as being in the crisis stage with Pontiac Transit Corp. threatening to withdraw its buses on Sept. 30 and leaving the city with no public transportation.

★ ★ ★

The transit company, a private firm, has been operating with the aid of a $35,000 yearly city subsidy. The firm is seeking about double that amount in an increased subsidy.

A meeting to discuss the problem has been called for representatives of the city, the firm and school district for 7:30 p.m. Monday at City Hall.

SUBSIDY COMMON

Rubin, a former resident of Pontiac now living at 4430 Queens Way, Bloomfield Township, said that it has proven impossible to support public transportation "out of the farebox," and that some sort of subsidy has proven necessary in almost all communities. He also laid stress on having a public transportation system for those classes of citizens without private transportation — the

U.S. Phase-Out in Vietnam Seen as Feasible

SAIGON (AP) — How soon can the half million American troops in Vietnam begin turning the burden of the war over to the Vietnamese military and start going home?

The prevailing Saigon viewpoint sees this goal realized only years from now unless a settlement is negotiated. The arming of the Vietnamese with more than 200,000 M16 automatic rifles, half of them already delivered, is seen as the initial phase of a long rebuilding process.

★ ★ ★

And yet because of the peculiar way the Vietnam war is being fought, particularly the general acceptance that military victory in the classical sense is unreachable because of the war's "limits," there is another viewpoint that suggests American boys can start moving, out right now without any appreciable military injury.

Just as another quarter of a million American troops brought into Vietnam would not necessarily win the war, many believe the converse applies: A quarter of a million troops pulled out would not necessarily lose it.

REDUCTION AIRED AT TOP

Civilian and military viewpoints on the prospects do not necessarily coincide, but the view that American force levels could and should be reduced has already been placed in circulation in the top government levels in Washington, according to senior Americans here. Its proponents see the war's costs—about $30 billion this year—as the major irritant within the United States over Vietnam.

"A half-million American families worry about their men in Vietnam, but 40 million families worry about their dollars over here. We must satisfy the American public's distaste for spending money in an area as unproductive as this," one senior American official commented.

Some Americans here believe that a phased reduction of U.S. troops could begin immediately, paring the number to 200,000 by 1972. One of the proponents is John P. Vann, an influential and knowledgeable regional director of the U.S.-backed pacification program.

Vann would cut deeply into the elaborate military structure built by the former commander of U.S. troops and now chief of staff of the Army, Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

CALLED PROVOCATIVE

The U.S. high command jealously guards its establishment in Vietnam. Vann admits his proposal is provocative—"It would need a hard-headed hard-headed secretary of defense to push it through."

Senior U.S. field commanders are against pulling out any American troops in the foreseeable future. Lt. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell, commander of the area that includes the battle-scarred demilitarized zone, comments: "No troop commander will ever admit he has too many triggerpullers." Certainly it is a tenet among commanders that they need as much manpower as is necessary to accomplish the missions assigned them.

The commanders argue that under the ceiling of 550,000 U.S. troops for Vietnam imposed on the military, an "economy of forces" strategy is already being practiced in most of the country. This is the minimum deployment of forces in one area to permit the maximum deployment in another.

Avondale School Millage Tomorrow

By JEAN SAILE

The big vote is tomorrow in the Avondale School District. It is the third go-round at increased millage; its passage has been termed vital.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

"We desperately need additional revenue to resume a full-day schedule and to reinstate economies (cuts) the board of education was forced to adopt," said Schools Supt. John W. Dickey.

Administrators have promised that should voters elect to increase their tax bills by the 7.7 mills asked, it would then put grades 1-8 back on full-day schedules as soon as the additional 20 teachers required can be hired.

'I Firmly Believe Our Students Deserve A Full Schedule!'
---School Chief John W. Dickey

'MORE CONFIDENT'

"I feel much more confident this time," said Dickey, "chiefly because of the involvement of the people. They're very concerned and we anticipate a heavier vote and many more 'yes' votes."

Previous requests for additional millage earlier this year were defeated. As a result, the district was forced to pare costs and consequently many services were dropped.

One of the outcomes was the decision to put on the ballot for the time the question of whether or not the district should continue to furnish textbooks to its 7-12 grade students.

Dickey said if the voters choose to make such purchases an individual matter, it could save the district $15,000 this year.

BACKED BY PTA BOARD

"There are other years when we change textbooks, that it could save us as much as $40,000," he said.

The request has the backing of the Avondale PTA Council executive board.

At a meeting last night the board went on record as supporting the 7.7 millage increase (for a period of five years) and also the textbook proposal.

The PTA Council statement continued, "the executive board . . . urges every registered resident to vote so that all Avondale schoolchildren can return to a full schedule."

'—DESERVE FULL SCHEDULE'

Said Dickey, "I firmly believe our students deserve a full schedule."

The students themselves have been highly involved with the present millage campaign.

★ ★ ★

An all-day motorized parade tomorrow is expected to be a constant reminder to residents that it is voting day and that votes are needed.

A parent campaign to provide baby-sitting and transportation to the polls is also planned. The service will be offered on a door-to-door basis throughout the district, spokesmen said.

Dem Nominee Is Confirmed by Recount

A recount yesterday confirmed Niles E. Olson of Pontiac Township as the winner of the Democratic nomination for county supervisor in District 22.

There was no change in the vote recorded in the Aug. 6 primary, according to Mabel Child, county election clerk.

The recount had been requested by Bennie R. Warden of 1123 Doris, Pontiac Township. He had lost the nomination to Olson by a vote of 376 to 357.

Olson of 3301 Baldwin is the owner of Town and Village Roofers. He will face John McGee, the Republican candidate, in the November general election.

One of the other recounts petitioned by losers in the supervisor race was being conducted in Berkley today.

In that recount, John B. Huhn of Berkley hopes to overturn the victory of William R. Judy. Judy won the Republican nomination in District 13 with a vote of 464 to Huhn's 418.

The final recount will take place early next week, according to Mrs. CHild, and involves the closest contest between candidates.

In that race, Joseph Barakat of Royal Oak lost the Democratic nomination by a four-vote margin to Madison Heights Mayor Lee Walker.

Barakat had first been declared the winner after the unofficial totals were compiled of District 5, but Walker took the lead when the votes were canvassed.

State Tax Take Up Again; County, Communities Get 10 Pct. More Than Expected

By ED. BLUNDEN

Onward and upward goes revenue from the state income tax — a fact which can cause government officials to rub their hands in anticipation.

The second quarter division has just been announced by Oakland County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin. This time the county slice is even bigger. The first quarter allocation was 20 per cent more than was expected. This quarter, it's gone up about 10 per cent beyond that.

★ ★ ★

The county got $1,046,620 in May. This time it's $1,170,562. Half the money is retained by the county government, and the rest goes to local governments, cities, villages and townships.

The distribution from the state coffers amounts to 85 cents per person, based on the 1960 census. It was originally expected that the revenue would provide local governments with 55 cents per head.

STAYING IN BLACK

The 2.5 per cent state income tax was enacted last October and since then has kept the state budget safely in the black. The portion of the tax that is returned to local governments also has proved a boon.

For instance, the county government will realize more than $1.6 million this calendar year at the present tax level, and more than $2.2 million next year.

★ ★ ★

Local governments will benefit in about the same ratio, but on a smaller scale. Pontiac will get $68,250 this payment and Waterford $39,889. A small community like Groveland Township gets $1,110.

The nicest thing about the distribution, as far as local governments are concerned is that when budgets were estimated last year it was not known if the income from the state tax would be avilable. Therefore many communities balanced budgets as closely as possible with what income was at hand.

WINDFALL SPLIT

Hence, the income-tax split came almost as a complete windfall. No community figured the income would be as great as it turned out to be and neither did the state tax experts.

No mention of a tax cut has been reported on either a state or local level, however.

★ ★ ★

Following is a list of disbursements to area communities from the state income second quarter of the year, based on 85 tax. Payments are for receipts for the cents per person as of the 1960 census.

2.5-Mill Tax Increase Asked

Oxford School Vote Monday

OXFORD — A chance to reinstitute some $50,000 worth of cuts made in the 1968-69 school budget will be afforded voters of the district Monday.

They will be asked to approve a 2.5-mill increase for a period of one year.

The additional $70,000 revenue, if the millage passes, will be split about $20,000 for increased salaries and the rest for the beefing up of such items as instruction materials, maintenance costs, field trips and conferences and capital outlay as far as possible, according to Schools Supt. Roger Oberg.

★ ★ ★

The cuts were made in June after a previous millage attempt — 6 mills for three years — was defeated by 80 votes at the polls.

BALANCED BUDGET

The cuts helped the district achieve a budget balanced at $1,472,515.

Since that time salary negotiations have raised teacher wages some $550 to $650 per individual. There have been other staff wages and the bus drivers' contract still remains to be settled, Oberg said.

★ ★ ★

The price tag on all salary increases was put at $20,000 by Oberg.

Already due to show up on the Oxford School District tax bills is an additional 5 mills voted for the new junior high school, additions to elementary buildings, the bus garage and relocation of the athletic facilities.

★ ★ ★

Voters residing in Dryden and Addison Townships will vote at Leonard Elementary School in Leonard. Those residing in Brandon, Metamora, Hadley and Oxford Townships will vote at the junior high school auditorium, Oxford.

The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Adult Sign-Up Is Near in Troy

TROY — Local adults who want to follow schoolchildren back to classes will get their opportunity next week as registration opens on no less than 85 adult education classes.

The Troy Adult Education Department, along with the extension service of Oakland Community College, have combined to offer the courses in diversified areas of academic self-improvement, home arts and leisure time activities.

★ ★ ★

Registration for all the programs will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday between 6:30 and 9 p.m. in the Troy High School lobby, 3179 Livernois.

According to Ronald Morse, Troy's adult education director, all of the high school and college credit classes will begin next week while noncredit classes will begin the week of Sept. 23.

Morse also noted that many people may qualify for free tuition for the high school credit courses. Troy residents or nonresidents may register without charge if they meet one of three qualifications:

- A person working toward a high school diploma and not in day school.
- A person under 20 years of age on Sept. 1, 1968, with a high school diploma.
- A veteran, regardless of age or diploma status.

Morse pointed out that the adult education program is divided into four categories. Besides the high school and OCC credit programs, noncredit classes and workshops are also available for prospective students.

S. Lyon Youths Bound Over for Trial in Kidnap Case

NOVI — Three South Lyon youths, charged with the July kidnaping of a Novi police officer, were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday following the conclusion of their preliminary examination in Novi Justice Court.

Justice of the peace Emery Jacques ordered Giles K. Askins, 19, of 21939 Pontiac held in lieu of $100,000 bond on charges of kidnaping and assault with intent to commit murder.

★ ★ ★ ★

However, he reduced the assault charges against Floyd Kirkendall, 17, of 302 W. Blake and William J. Jobe, 17, of 433 Donovan to assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder. Both remain charged with kidnaping.

Kirkendall is being held under $50,000 bond and Jobe is free under $2,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The three youths will be arraigned before Judge William J. Beer in Oakland County Circuit Court on Sept. 25.

Patrolman Robert Starnes, 32, of Novi was held captive by a group of youths at gunpoint, beaten and carried in a car which was chased at high speeds for 10 miles by police from several communities on July 30.

Two juveniles, ages 15 and 16, were also arrested in the case. The 15-year-old suspect was turned over to juvenile authorities and a second attempt is being made to obtain a waiver to try the 16-year-old, Rick A. Nolan, as an adult, after he escaped from Camp Oakland.

★ ★ ★

He is presently being detained in the reception center of the Oakland County Children's center. A hearing is set for Sept. 12.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole said a second request has been filed with the prosecutor's office to obtain a rehearing to try Nolan as an adult.

Shelby Issue to Go on Ballot

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Voters here will pass on one and maybe two new ordinances on their Nov. 5 ballot.

Definitely on the ballot will be a new civil service ordinance governing the employment of township workers. Possibly facing voter decision is a proposed fair-housing ordinance.

Township Supervisor Kirby Holmes was the only board member to oppose the civil service proposals. They would "establish and provide a civil service system in Shelby Township; create a civil service commission and prescribe (its) duties; provide certain exemptions from the classifications in civil service; and provide penalties for violation of the ordinance."

Homes' opposition to the proposals was based on the alleged "haste and lack of study that went into the proposition.

"I only had it for four days, so it was crammed right through," he said.

SIGNED BY 1,300

The civil rights issue came up at the request of the Utica-Shelby-Sterling Human Relations Council.

They presented the board with a petition signed by 1,300 Shelby residents in favor of a fair-housing ordinance modeled after that of Ypsilanti.

★ ★ ★

The board referred the request to the township attorney for a study and a report for the next board meeting.

The civil rights ordinance will not appear on the ballot if the board adopts it at that meeting, according to Holmes.

School Probation End 'Near'

UTICA — The probationary accreditation status of Utica High School will likely soon be removed, Principal David Lathers predicted yesterday.

A comprehensive study of the entire educational program at Utica High School was recently completed. It was drawn up following a three-day visit by a 17-member team of the Michigan State Committee of North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges last May.

★ ★ ★

"The report was very favorable," said Lathers. "Judging partially from it, and other improvements we have made, there is no reason why our probationary status should not be removed by the next school year."

Utica High School was placed on probation three years ago when high enrollment forced the temporary establishment of a daily double session of classes.

OVERLOADED FACILITIES

At the time, North Central, the largest accreditation agency in the midwest, cited the school for its overloaded facilities and insufficient vocational education programs for noncollege-bound students.

Lathers said the high school will reapply for accreditation this November and learn the results next spring.

★ ★ ★

Lathers said the latest report indicates that the visiting committee was impressed with the caliber and morale of Utica High's teachers.

The major North Central recommendation, he said, was to increase the vocational-educational opportunities for noncollege bound students.

★ ★ ★

He added that, since the North Central representatives visited, the board of education has approved a $323,000 school remodeling project, primarily for vocational-education improvements, and has authorized purchasing more than $33,000 of new power mechanics and basic electronic equipment.

"Our plan is to meet the criteria contained in the two reports as fully as possible within our budget and manpower limitations," said Lathers.

Senior Citizens Session Scheduled in Rochester

The Avon Youth Service and Recreation Association is sponsoring a special senior citizens meeting 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Woodward Memorial Library, corner of University and Pine, Rochester.

★ ★ ★

All senior citizens and interested persons in the Rochester-Avon area are invited to the meeting, which has been called to discuss the reorganization and future planning of activities of the senior citizen group.

Doherty School Opening Delayed

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The new Doherty Elementary School, originally scheduled to open this fall, will not be ready until December, according to Anthony Witham, new school superintendent here.

Reasons for the delay are attributed to holdups in construction largely in the interior of the building.

The school, located on Walnut Lake between Middle Belt and Orchard Lake, is designed in two clusters, one containing six expandable classrooms and another containing four. All open onto a central activities area.

14 More Spent Shells Discovered at Cabin Where 6 Were Slain

GOOD HART (AP) — Authorities investigating the mass slaying of the six-member Richard Robison family of 18790 Delores, Lathrup Village, at their northwest Lower Michigan cabin report recovery of 14 spent 22-caliber shells from a bedroom closet of one of the victims.

"How these were missed in the original search of the home is not known, but they have been sent to the crime lab at East Lansing for checks against those found earlier," said Emmet County Sheriff Richard Zink.

★ ★ ★

Bodies of Robison, his wife and four children were found in the closed and locked cabin July 22. Police said they had been dead about one month.

The sheriff's department has been authorized by the National Bank of Detroit, executors of Robison's estate, to take whatever steps necessary to search the cabin property.

Sheriff Zink said no new clues have developed.

Split Is Seen After Coup in African Nation

KINSHASA, Congo (AP) — Who rules the neighboring Congo Republic was unclear today, with the army reported split following its coup against President Alphonse Massamba-Debat.

Armored units were on the move in the south, presumably to disarm Massemba-Debat's tribe, and the president's brother and four other prominent men were sentenced to prison for distributing arms, Radio Kinshasa reported.

But within the army, a majority of officers was reported challenging the authority of the coup leader, Capt. Marien Ngouabi, 32. The anti-Ngouabi officers were reported led by former Defense Minister Augustin Poignet, the interior minister, and Maj. Felix Mouza Bankani.

The Brazzaville correspondent of Kinshasa's Tribune Africaine said 300 troops loyal to Ngouabi guarded the studios of Radio Brazzaville. But he said Ngouabi and his counselors "could already have been arrested."

The correspondent and diplomats here attributed the split in the army to tribal loyalties compounded by ideology, personal grudges and financial interest. Pro-Moscow and pro-Peking politicians were reported in both camps, and no clear political trend has emerged.

Dissident Pontiac Teachers Protest Parts of Contract

A small group of dissident Pontiac teachers is protesting provisions of their teaching contract. Some of them reportedly are even willing to put their jobs at stake.

A move is afoot by members of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, PFT, to petition to possibly overturn provisions in a current teaching contract negotiated by the Pontiac Education Association (PEA), according to a federation member.

* * *

The 650-member PEA is the legal bargaining agent for all Pontiac teachers including those in the rival, few-hundred member PFT. PFT members can't vote to approve or disapprove their contract. The school district has more than 1,000 teachers.

One item in the contract being disputed by the protesting teachers, who are mostly federation members, is an agency shop.

The agency shop clause provides all non-PEA members must join the PEA by paying $85 in dues by early October or be dismissed at the end of the school year.

They are given the option of paying a service fee of $85 but not joining the PEA, according to Victor Bouckaert, PEA executive director.

Purpose of the clause is to make all teachers who benefit from the PEA's negotiations to pay for its expenses.

Robert Vackaro, Owen Elementary School teacher and PFT member, said yesterday that a petition "to affect some change" in the agency-shop provision might be circulated.

CALLED MEETING

He is one of 11 teachers who called a meeting of other "concerned" teachers to discuss the problems. Vackaro said some 70 teachers — upset PEA members, federation members and those from neither teacher group — attended.

"Some federation members and others are threatening not to pay the $85," Vackaro reported. He admitted he didn't know whether he would sign.

* * *

The only legal question to be decided in the agency shop agreement is the right to fire teachers with tenure.

Michigan's mandatory tenure act protects teachers from being fired without hearings and showing of reasonable cause.

The tenure commission is expected to rule this month on seven teachers fired in Saginaw for not joining the Michigan Education Association unit there, according to Bouckaert.

* * *

MEA says that 100 of its 519 units have the agency shop. The Michigan Federation of Teachers has only one.

* * *

Other charges leveled by the dissident teachers are:

- The PEA negotiating team voted 2 to 1 for the contract. Three members were absent. Bouckaert contends two were out of town, one didn't know of the meeting and the final say is the membership, which ratified the contract.
- Percentage increases over the beginning salary at each level of experience was cut this year, saving $85,000, with each teacher losing up to $105. Raises were not as big but salaries are higher, say Bocckaert.

'Gang Chiefs Got Chicago OEO Funds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of dollars in war on poverty funds intended to go to Chicago gang members for attending job-training schools ended up instead in the pockets of a few gang leaders, according to testimony before Senate investigations.

A government handwriting expert charged yesterday that there was evidence of widespread check forging and fraud in the million-dollar antipoverty project funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

Howard C. Doulder of the U.S. Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division told the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee a five-month study of $25,193 in checks made out to members of the gang showed much of the money ended up in the hands of a few gangleaders. He displayed doucments he said were obviously forged.

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said it was obvious leaders of the blackstone rangers, a tough south side Chicago street gang, were pocketing money that should have gone to underlings.

NY Policemen in Attack on Panthers Face Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay and Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary say they will press for action against off-duty policemen who took part in an attack on Black Panthers and white sympathizers in a courthouse.

Lindsay told a City Hall news conference Thursday that Leary had confirmed reports that "off-duty policemen, as well as civilians, were involved" in the incident Wednesday at the Brooklyn Criminal Court.

* * *

"Commissioner Leary has assured me that he will take immediate and vigorous action against any individual member of the force who has violated the law or departmental regulations, including criminal prosecution if that is warranted by the facts," Lindsay said.

Leary, in a teletype message ordered read to every member of the force, said "This department will not tolerate any unlawful actions on the part of individual police officers on or off duty, and when the situation warrants, violators will be arrested."

In the attack, about 200 white men blackjacked, punched and kicked about a dozen of the militant Panthers and their sympathizers. The melee took place outside a courtroom where three Black Panthers accused of assaulting three policemen had a bail hearing.

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Carl Creach, the local dog catcher, finds his job most relaxing.

Who could think of refurnacing at a time like this?

Seems like a funny time to talk about replacing a furnace, huh? Actually, warm weather's the best time to make home repairs. Like replacing a cranky old heating system with modern electric heat.

And now's an especially good time to convert. Right now, your Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor will give you $100 for your old heating system when you change to electric heat.

Why electric heat? It's comfortable—really comfortable. No chill one moment nor blast of hot, dry air the next.

And operating cost is guaranteed. Call Edison for details, and some names of Approved Electric Heat Contractors.

So if your old furnace won't make it another winter, remember now's the best time to refurnace...to modern electric heat.

Area Man Gets State Position

Ervin Vahratian of 22946 Frederick, Farmington, has been appointed deputy director of the Detroit district of the State Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, it was announced yesterday.

State Director Burke L. Dailey said Vahratian will be in charge of the entire district, including the Pontiac and Mount Clemens offices as well as those in Detroit.

"He has an outstanding record of administrative achievement," said Dailey. "In the past he has proposed many unique management ideas that have been very effective."

Vahratian will assume his new duties Oct. 1.

OU Starts Fall Term With 'Student Week'

The hush enveloping Oakland University's relatively deserted campus has been broken this week as students and faculty returned to open the university's 10th fall term.

Registration is being held, as well as the annual convocation, orientation sessions, lectures, seminars, get-acquainted discussions, open houses and films.

* * *

Classes begin Monday with an anticipated enrollment of more than 4,900 students as compared with 3,896 last fall.

As a relaxing intermission to New Student Week, which runs through Sunday, the student activities center will present Spanky and Our Gang in concert at Baldwin Pavilion at 8:30 tonight.

UNFINISHED BUILDINGS

Three new buildings are in the final stages of construction as the summer recess closes.

Two facilities — Dodge Hall of Engineering and Hamlin Hall — will be at least partially completed and in operation by the start of the new school year.

* * *

The third building — the new Student Health Center — will be finished later in the year.

Oakland Community College with campuses in Pontiac, Waterford and Farmington townships begin classes this week with an estimated 7,000 students.

ENROLLMENT UP

This is an increase of 1,500 over a year ago and almost doubles its opening enrollment of three years ago.

Holidays to See Cut in Mailbox Pickups

The Pontiac Post Office will discontinue holiday collections from mailboxes on side streets which generate very little mail, Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today.

Patrons mailing letters with time value should deposit their mail in collection boxes on the main arterial streets or in shopping centers on legal holidays.

Boxes with a star on the side receive the most frequent service.

OCC Board Unanimous in OK of Chief

Dr. Joseph E. Hill, associate dean for graduate studies at Wayne State University, was unanimously appointed president of Oakland Community College by the seven-member board of trustees last night.

Hill, 49, who was selected last week, takes over Oct. 1 at a $27,000-a-year salary.

* * *

He is one of the first administrators at OCC to get a contract with no termination date. Hill reportedly asked for this type of contract. Former President Dr. John Tirrell had a three-year $32,000 contract.

Hill's contract provides that the board can terminate his employment as president within 10 days or he can end the agreement with three months notice.

* * *

If he is released as president, he could become a full professor at OCC if he so desires. All OCC administrators have this guarantee.

His contract also provides for use of a car and fringe benefits of full hospitalization, $70,000 in life insurance and long-term disability insurance.

For Super Bowl

Ticket Sales Begin

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sale of tickets for the Super Bowl game matching National and American Football League champions will start Friday, 10 weeks earlier than last year when the game drew the highest receipts in pro football history at Miami.

Jim Kensil, assistant to Commissioner Pete Rozelle, told a news conference the sale was being launched at the early date because of a deluge of inquiries.

* * *

The third game in the world championship series will be played Jan. 12 in the Miami Orange Bowl, with a 3 p.m., EST, kickoff.

Gross receipts for the 1968 game, in which the NFL's Green Bay Packers blasted the AFL's Oakland Raiders 33-14, were $3.4 million, including television rights. Tickets sales brought in $793,000.

MAIL ORDERS

Kensil said mail orders for $12 seats would be accepted starting Friday. Public sale of $8 and $6 tickets will begin at the Orange Bowl windows today.

Approximately 55,000 seats in the 76,354-seat stadium will be made available to the public, including 33,000 at $12 through the mail order sale and 14,000 at the lower rates through the windows. Ticket scaling is the same as the last game.

* * *

Kensil said the teams would switch training sites for the next game, with the NFL winner using the Miami Dolphins' training camp at Boca Raton, Fla., and the AFL champion working out at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

PGA Bids for Sponsor Backing

Plan Put Forth for Agreement

Tour Players, Parent Group Still at Odds

HOUSTON (AP) — The Professional Golf Association has indicated the PGA would agree to a control board that would include equal representation for the sponsor, player and the PGA.

Max Elbin, PGA president, appeared before major sponsors of the PGA's $5.6 million tour Thursday. The sponsors were meeting to discuss a dispute between the PGA and the touring professionals. Further meetings were scheduled today.

FORM GROUP

Most of the touring pros left the PGA Aug. 13 in a dispute over control of the tour. They announced Aug. 19 the formation of a new organization called the American Professional Golfers.

Elbin said if the sponsors group united behind the PGA that the association is ready to formulate the 1969 tour schedule immediately. He also predicted that a united position between the two groups would persuade a majority of the current tournament players to remain under the PGA banner.

Elbin uged the group to share the responsibility for tournament golf with the PGA "and effect a lasting solution to the problems of the last three years."

"Tournament golf is at the crossroads," he told the sponsors. "You have two avenues open to you. Tournament golf can be conducted by the players who want full and complete authority over all activities. Or the game can go forward as a joint enterprise of the sponsors, players and the PGA."

None of the players involved in the dispute attended the meetings.

In U.S. Net Tournament

Amateurs Stay in Step With Pros

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt is around the U.S. Open Tennis Championships with his check book — and every day the price goes up for Tom Okker Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner.

Okker, the 24-year-old Dutch youngster who has become a nemesis of the pros, probably will sign a contract after the Pacific Southwest Open in Los Angeles, starting Friday. He has been offered $45,000 a year guarantee.

* * *

Ashe and Graebner might be tempted to join the money ranks after they've won the Davis Cup back for the United States at Adelaide, Australia, in late December.

AMATEURS TOUGH

Meanwhile, the amateurs are sticking right in there with the pros in this first U.S. Open, and everybody is delighted — except the pros.

Pancho Gonzales, for example, the 40-year-old grandpa who gave a magnificent show before bowing to young Okker in a dramatic quarter-final match Thursday 14-16, 6-3, 10-8, 6-3, doesn't think it's fair that Okker — a registered player — can bid for the $14,000 first prize and other money prizes just by saying so.

* * *

"He ought to declare himself," said Pancho. "He shouldn't accept expenses in amateur tournaments and prize money in the opens." But it's the new rules.

Ashe and Graebner, the U.S. top Davis Cup aces and semifinalists at Wimbledon, are amateurs and are playing only for silverware. The United States doesn't recognize registered players in its own ranks but must observe the wishes of outsiders, as in the case of Okker.

Okker and Ashe are the only players so far solidly fixed on semifinal brackets. Third-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia, the tournament favorite, still had a quarter-final duel with Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., scheduled today, and Graebner was to complete a held-over match with Australian pro John Newcombe.

COME FROM BEHIND

Fighting from behind, Graebner took a 2-1 set leadover Newcombe 5-7, 11-9, 6-1 and the score tied 2-2 in the fourth when the match was halted by darkness.

If he doesn't have to work too hard in the unfinished match, the winner will take a brief rest and then go onto the court against Ashe, the new U.S. amateur champion. Ashe played magnificently in beating South Africa's Cliff Drysdale 8-10, 6-3, 9-7, 6-4.

* * *

Okker takes on the Rosewall-Ralston winner Saturday.

In the women's division, top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., was to play Maria Bueno, the four-time U.S. champion from Brazil, in the semi-finals. The survivor on Saturday plays Britain's Virginia Wade, who upset second-seeded Ann Haydon Jones, also of Britain, 7-5, 6-1.

WINNING EFFORT — Amateur Virginia Wade serves the ball in her match against pro Ann Haydon Jones in the all-British women's semifinals of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., yesterday. The 23-year-old Miss Wade ousted Mrs. Jones, the No. 2 seed, 7-5, 6-1.

Boxer Would Rather Switch...and Fight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Light heavyweight Arthur Redden just missed making the U.S. Olympic boxing team four years ago and he's determined to do it this year.

The 30-year-old Marine from Wilmington, Del., took a giant step in that direction Thursday night in defeating Robert "Sweet Pete" Peterson, Air Force titlist from Sacramento, Calif., in semifinal action of the Olympic boxing trials.

Redden, who played football at Arkansas A&M, won his division title in the 1964 Olympic trials, but was dropped from the team in training camp when officials decided his low-bending style of boxing would not pass the more strict international boxing rules.

CHANGES STYLE

"I had to change my style completely," Redden said in describing how he has trained since then to fulfill his ambition of fighting in the Olympic Games. "I've been working for this one thing. Whether I make it or not I'll retire."

Twenty-two amateur boxers advanced to tonight's finals. Winners in 11 weight divisions will qualify for the Olympic matches next month in Mexico City.

* * *

In the biggest crowd pleaser of the evening Thursday, heavyweight George Foreman, 222-pound National AAU champ from Pleasanton, Calif., beat Otis Evans Jr., Army titlist from Atlanta.

Foreman, who appeared to be trailing slightly in points in the three-round slugfest, floored Evans with a right uppercut with less than 15 seconds remaining in the final round.

Foreman will face in the finals Albert Wilson, Golden Gloves champion from McKeesport, Pa., who Thursday night outpointed crowd-favored James "Sugarbear" Williams 247-pound left-handed Marine from Omaha, Neb., who won the interservice title.

In the only technical knockout of the night, lightweight Michael Raylor, Western Olympics Trials winner from Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., beat Morris Harris of Youngstown, Ohio, the Navy champion, in 1:17 of the third round.

James Ross, interservice light middleweight titlist from Canton, Ohio, won a decision over Richard Royal of New York, the 1967 Pan American champion and current Golden Gloves titlist.

Bruins, Celtics Losing Home?

College After Present Property of Pro Clubs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins and the Boston Celtics are faced with looking for a new home. The University of Massachusetts is considering taking over the property occupied by two major league clubs.

Weston Adams, chairman of the Boston Garden Board, disclosed Thursday that the state university is eyeing the Boston Garden and surrounding area as a potential site for a Boston campus.

Adams was disturbed visibly by the news that the land grant university might want the site of the Garden.

Adams noted that the area has an assessed valuation of $9 million and said it would be a "tragic mistake" if the city accepted such a deal.

The University of Massachusetts, based in Amherst in the western sector of the state, is attempting to obtain a branch in the Boston area. Under protest, it recently withdrew a proposal for a campus in the Copley Square area.

Hot Play Puts Aussie in Hartford Golf Lead

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "It used to take three good rounds and one terrific round to win one of these golf tournaments. Now it takes four super rounds," Bruce Crampton said Thursday after he took the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Taking Australian Crampton at his word, he would be the only one qualified to take home the $20,000 first prize on Sunday. He had the only super round Thursday, a six-under-par 65 over the 6,568-yard Wethersfield Country Club.

Five other players were two shots behind Crampton at four-under-par 67, including 23-year-old rookie Ron Cerrudo and veterans Al Balding, Billy Maxwell, Ken Still and Mason Rudolph.

GOLDEN TOUCH

Crampton's putting touch was golden for four consecutive holes as he scored birdies on putts of 10, 15, 8 and 12 feet on the fourth through seventh holes. "It sure was fun," Crampton said.

* * *

"My scores have been about the same lately as those I've had in other years when I won a few tournaments. The difference has been that the competition is so much rougher now. It takes better golf to win," said the 32-year-old veteran of nine years of pro golf.

Crampton hasn't won on the Professional Golfers Association tour since 1965, when he captured three tournaments. But even without one of those big winners' checks, he's amassed $64,030 so far this year compared to the $68,800 he won in his big year in 1965.

MISSES CHANCE

Billy Casper was in an eight-man tie at 68 after the first round. Casper, leading money winner in 1968 with $151,329 so far, missed a chance to move closer to the lead when he missed putts of three feet and five feet on the first two holes, and missed another from four feet on the 18th green.

Odd Decision Favors Mathis

Heavyweight Winner by Weird Scoring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavy weight boxer Buster Mathis has lost but one fight in 27 — to Joe Frazier — but his 26th victory afforded the big fellow from Grand Rapids, Mich., his weirdest exhibition of scoring.

He agreed that his 10-round triumph over veteran trial-horse Amos "Big Train" Lincoln Thursday night was hardly an artistic exercise.

The decision before a small crowd of 3,836, at the Olympic Auditorium was split, a verdict that brought jeers from even the pro-Big Train partisans.

Try this for odd ones: Judge George Latka blanked Lincoln, 11-0, and referee Dick Young had it 9-1 for Mathis.

Judge Joey Olmos scored 5-4 for Lincoln.

Rain Slowing Pennant Race for IL Teams

By the Associated Press

For exactly half the International League's eight teams, watching the skies suddenly has become as important as looking at the scoreboard.

It all began last week in Jacksonville when rain all but obliterated the Mets' last two season series at home. For the Mets, it set up a run of doubleheaders that now is jeopardizing their hopes of making the postseason playoffs.

* * *

Four of the twin bills were scheduled — beginning Thursday night — in Columbus, where the Jets are battling to overcome Toledo's Mud Hens for the regular season championship.

But rain intervened Thursday night at Columbus, where the second game of the first of the four twin bills was canceled after the Jets took the opener 7-4 in 12 innings, and also at Rochester, where Toledo now must play a doubleheader tonight.

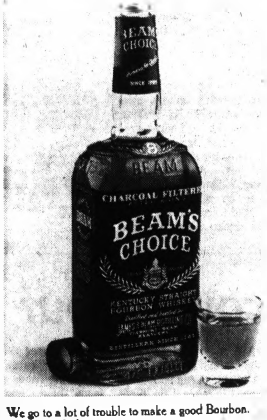
BEAM'S CHOICE IS TOO GOOD TO GET "BOMBED" ON.



We go to a lot of trouble to make a good Bourbon.
Aging it eight long years.
Charcoal filtering it after aging.
The result is a Bourbon that's too good to waste on people who intend to overindulge.
Beam's Choice deserves an appreciative audience.

Top Pros Bid for Fat Purses in Golf Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The man who has dominated the World Series of Golf will be missing this weekend when the winners of the world's four prestige golf tournaments compete here for gold and glory.

Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the top-rated golf professional, failed to qualify for only the second time in the seven-year history of the series.

PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters' king Bob Goalby, British Open titlist Gary Player and U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino will shoot for the $50,000 first prize in the 36-hole event Saturday and Sunday.

Setting for the seventh annual World Series is the tough 7,180-yard, par-70 Firestone Country Club course, scene of the six previous events.

Detroit Racial Climate Called Improved

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's over-all racial climate was depicted yesterday as improved since last summer's riots, with both the black and white communities closer together.

The description was included in a private survey conducted for New Detroit Inc., a group organized to coordinate efforts to ease racial tensions in the city.

★ ★ ★

The survey added, however, that while the feeling of improvement is prevalent, "There are still vast differences in attitudes and understandings between the races."

Conducted by Market Strategy Inc., the survey involved 1,200 blacks and 1,200 whites — 400 each in the inner city, outer city and suburbs. It was conducted between June 15 and July 15.

FEAR SHARED

While reporting that a predominant number of blacks and whites feel there has been a positive change for the better, the report said that "fear of possible violence is a concern shared by both blacks and whites.

Of all those interviewed, the report continued, less than 10 per cent see another riot as necessary to further black goals.

"However," the report added, "this attitude is far more apparent among black youths under 25 years of age, of whom almost one in four feel more rioting is necessary.

The study shows further that about 40 per cent of all interviewed have strong feelings that if more progress than has been evident so far is not made soon, there may be more violence.

"Partly because of this fear, and partly because of a feeling of confusion as to what an individual can do to help, there continues to exist a wide gap between the two communities and concern about the problems and involvement in solving them.

★ ★ ★

"Blacks are not convinced that the white middle class really want to get involved. The survey shows that while the majority of whites talk about the problem among themselves, they do not act beyond this stage," the report stated.

The report said that the greatest progress as seen through the eyes of both blacks and whites is that more people are aware and concerned about the problems now.

It said tangible progress has been noted mainly in: job opportunities, self-determination of realistic goals, unbiased television coverage of racial issues and greater black involvement in solving city problems.

DECLINES SEEN

Both whites and blacks were reported to see a decline in police and inner city relationships and availability of good and low-cost housing.

Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of New Detroit since its founding, said in his farewell report that progress made so far and measured against total needs of the inner city, "leaves a great deal to be desired, particularly in low-cost housing and education."

★ ★ ★

Hudson was succeeded as chairman by Max Fisher, Detroit industrialist and financier.

Agnew Lashes Some of Chicago Protesters

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, continuing to emphasize his theme of law and order, has told a group of young people that militant minorities among them are involved in what he termed unconscious anarchism.

Lashing out at some of the youthful antiwar demonstrators who appeared in Chicago recently during the Democratic National Convntion, the Republican vice presidential nominee charged that "all they can do is lay down in the park and sleep or kick policemen with razor blades."

★ ★ ★

The Maryland governor arrived here Thursday night. He made his remarks at a convention of Young Republicans in York, Pa.

"Who is going to succeed to the responsibilities of operating the businesses, the industries, the government, the transportation systems, everything that needs to be kept up to keep us functioning as a civilized society, unless the young people are trained and accept the responsibilities that they must take on ultimately?" Agnew said.

ALL THEY CAN DO

"If you tell me that the hippies and the yippies are going to be able to do the job, I'll tell you this. They can't run a bus, they can't serve in a governmental office, they can't run a lathe in a factory. All they can do is lay down in a park and sleep or kick policemen with razor blades.

"This does not mean that I have lost my faith in the young people of this country. It simply means that I refuse to recognize a militant minority of the people in the colleges as the young people who are available to do the jobs of government.

"A small minority of these people are involved in what I might term unconscious anarchy.

"And it's people like you," Agnew continued, "that are willing to reject summarily, out of hand, what's going on in these places throughout the world—and it's not just in the United States and much of it is Communist-inspired as you and I know—you are doing the greatest service to your country that you can do."

SILLY THINGS

"I wanted to do a lot of silly things when I was your age, too, but my parents wouldn't let me," he said. "And let me tell you something. When I grew older. I was very glad they didn't.

"So let's stop wasting public dollars buying off the militants."

Earlier Thursday, Agnew told the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C., that the only solution to urban slums and hard-core unemployment was the development of satellite cities.

He said the pouring of federal dollars into slums in an effort to improve them is not a step forward, but only "marching in place.

Israel Arrests 18 Arabs as Suspects in Bombings

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli police picked up four more Arab suspects in raids before dawn today, bringing to 18 the number of Arabs arrested on suspicion of taking part in bombings in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

Only 36 hours after three explosive charges killed one Israeli and wounded 59 at the crowded Tel Aviv bus station, police announced they had captured the bomb squad.

★ ★ ★

The group, from Arab Jerusalem and the West Bank territory seized from Jordan in the 1967 war, was also accused of exploding a bomb in a Jerusalem cafe Aug. 1, a grenade in the courtyard of the U.S. Consulate in east Jerusalem on Aug. 8, and a number of grenades which wounded nine Israelis on Aug. 18 in the Holy City.

★ ★ ★

'FUTILITY OF RIOTING

The press today declared that the police force's announced successes "prove all the more the futility of such rioting" and called on the public "to leave the job of catching the terrorists to the police."

The influential Haaretz attacked the right-wing Herut party and other groups which called for a ban on Arabs traveling from occupied territories into Israel.

★ ★ ★

"Our war is against the terrorists, not against the Arabs under our dominion," said Haaretz. "We must bring the Arabs close to us, for it is clear they want no truck with the saboteurs . . . The quiet resumption of classes in occupied territories and the fact that the recent business strike in Jerusalem—instigated by terrorists—hardly materialized are sufficient proof of this."

The airline industry has grown about 14 per cent each year since 1950.

Airport Transfer Gets 2nd Look

LANSING (UPI) — The State of Michigan is having second thoughts about turning over Capital City Airport to the City of Lansing.

Members of a special Senate-House committee considering the transfer indicated at a meeting Thursday it might not be a wise move after all.

★ ★ ★

They said state control has resulted in a high standard of operation and growth in aviation activity in the Lansing area.

Gov. George Romney suggested earlier this year that the city assume control of the facility, last major airport in Michigan operated by the state.

DUE OCT. 3

The legislative committee said it will meet again Oct. 3 to receive a recommendation from State Aeronautics Director James D. Ramsey before proceeding further.

★ ★ ★

The city and a committee composed of officials of Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties also will continue investigating the feasibility of the transfer.

Hampton to Talk to GOP Club

State Rep. William P. Hampton of Bloomfield Hills will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Republican Club of Waterford Township Tuesday.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF WATERFORD
1968 SEWER SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS, SERIES 1
Sealed bids for the purchase of 1968 Sewer Special Assessment Bonds, Series 1, to be issued by the Township of Waterford, Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $150,000, will be received by the undersigned, at the Township Hall, 4995 West Huron Street in said Township (Post Office address is Pontiac, Michigan), until 7:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on Monday, the 16th day of September, 1968, at which time and place the said bids will be publicly opened and read.
Said bonds will be dated August 1, 1968, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 5% per annum, payable on February 1, 1969 and thereafter semi-annually on August 1 and February 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted (expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%). The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and shall be represented by one interest coupon for each interest period. All bonds maturing in the same year shall bear the same rate of interest and no bond of this issue shall bear interest at a rate in excess which is less than 50% of the interest rate on any other bond of this issue. Accrued interest to date of delivery on each bond must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company as shall be designated by the original purchaser of said bonds, subject to the approval of the Township, which paying agent qualifies as such under the Rules of the State and of the Federal Government.
The said bonds will mature serially on August 1st in the amount and years as follows:

1969—$ 5,000	1977—$ 5,000	1985—$ 5,000
1970— 5,000	1978— 5,000	1986— 5,000
1971— 5,000	1979— 5,000	1987— 5,000
1972— 10,000	1980— 10,000	1988— 10,000
1973— 5,000	1981— 5,000	1989— 5,000
1974— 5,000	1982— 5,000	1990— 5,000
1975— 5,000	1983— 5,000	1991— 5,000
1976— 10,000	1984— 10,000	1992— 10,000

Bonds maturing in the years 1969 and 1970 shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. The bonds maturing in the years 1971 to 1992 are subject to redemption at the option of the Township, in direct numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after August 1, 1970, at the par value thereof and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds called for redemption by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.
The bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of an equal amount of bonded assessments against lands in special assessment district No. 116, to defray part of the cost of Sewer Assessment District in the Charter Township of Waterford and in addition will pledge the full faith and credit of the Township for the payment of the said principal and interest thereon. Interest due on said bonds on February 1, 1969 and thereafter shall be payable from the bond proceeds.
Bond receipts from the special assessments in anticipation of which the bonds are issued, shall not be sufficient to meet the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds when due, then moneys shall be advanced from the general fund of the Township to meet such deficiency.
For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of interest on the bonds from October 1, 1968 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the Township. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than par value will be considered.
A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,000, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Township Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.
Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Dickinson, Wright, McKean & Cudlip, Attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the Township. There will also be furnished the usual closing papers, including a non-litigation certificate, dated as of the date of the delivery of the bonds. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, or such other place as may be agreed upon between the Township and the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds".
