Ernest R. Breech Quits Ford Post; to Stay on Board

DETROIT (AP)—Ernest R. Breech resigned today as chairman of the board of Ford Motor Co. and was replaced by company President Henry Ford II who will hold both jobs.

Breech will remain as a member of the board of directors and was given the newly created job of chairman of the company's finance committee.

Breech's resignation was announced after the Ford Board of Directors meeting today.

The 63-year-old Breech of Bloomfield Township said: "This decision has been taken by me only after many months of deep soul searching. But I have felt for some time that after more than 40 years of extremely active business life, I should now relieve myself of a major portion of the heavy demands of day to day operational responsibilities and allow younger men to assume them, both in their interest and for the long term good of the company."

Henry Ford expressed regret at Breech's decision and said that

Belgium Asking Aid Over Congo

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Belgium asked the U.N. today for help—possibly military aid—in restoring order in troubled Leopoldville and the new Congo.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld set up a meeting of the U.N. Security Council for 7:30 p.m. EST tonight.

Ambassador Walter Lorrain, Belgium's permanent U.N. representative, met with Hammarskjöld.

A Belgian informant said Lorrain set up the appointment to tell the secretary general of the serious situation in Leopoldville, the Congo capital.

In Moscow, the Soviet Union today accused the United States of trying to undermine the freedom of the newly independent Congo.

A statement by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared the United States, along with Belgium and West Germany, is committing aggression against the Congo. He demanded that the United Nations act.

The statement was delivered to the chief diplomatic representatives of NATO powers.

Little Hope Held for Release of RB47 Officers

U.S. Demanding Their Freedom; Also Denies Red Spy Charges

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union today demanded an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council on the U.S. RB47 plane incident.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials hold little hope of winning freedom for two air force officers held in the Soviet Union after the shooting down of an American reconnaissance bomber on July 1.

The expectation here is that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will put the two men on trial on charges of espionage in order to promote his campaign against American bases in Allied countries.

The United States formally demanded release of the two officers Tuesday in a note delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry by the embassy in Moscow.

The note rejected Soviet charges that the aircraft was on a spy mission similar to that of the U.S. high-altitude jet which went down in the Ural Mountains May 1.

It was that incident which preceded the breakup of the summit conference and the development of bitter new Cold War conflict between Washington and Moscow.

In Moscow Capt. Vasily Polyakov, the Soviet fighter pilot who shot down the American RB47 reconnaissance plane July 1, has been awarded the Order of the Red Banner, Moscow papers announced today.

Polyakov was decorated by decree of the President of the Supreme Soviet, the interim executive committee of the Soviet Parliament.

The RB47 which was accused by the Soviet government of violating its air space on July 1 in the Arctic region of the Kola Peninsula actually was never closer than 20 miles to the Soviet coast, the U.S. note declared.

"It is therefore evident," the note said, "that pursuant to instructions of the Soviet government, airplanes of the Soviet air force wantonly attacked the American airplane over international waters with the admitted loss of that aircraft and the life of at least one of the members of its crew."

"Two other members of the crew have, according to the Soviet note, been taken into custody without any legal basis and are to be subjected to trial under what is called 'full severity of Soviet law.'"

JOHNSON PRESENTS KENNEDY — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, right, smilingly turns toward Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts after introducing him to his fellow Texans at a caucus in Los Angeles Tuesday. Johnson had challenged Kennedy to a debate on their bids for the Democratic presidential nomination, but Kennedy said there were no major differences between them on the issues of the day.

WANT ADLAI BADLY — Enthusiastic fans surround Adlai Stevenson as he attempts to leave the Tuesday night session of the Democratic National Convention at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. The two-time presidential candidate received a 20-minute ovation as he put in an appearance on the convention floor and was asked by Permanent Chairman Gov. LeRoy Collins to say a few words to the delegates.

South Fails to Soften Stand

ADOPT HEFTY RIGHTS PLANK

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democrats hope to move back into the White House on a platform beamed by Southerners for its strong stand on civil rights.

The platform, adopted by the Democratic National Convention Tuesday night, covered much more than "civil rights." It was a 15,000-word statement that accused the Republicans of taking an eight-year "holiday from history."

But the civil rights debate, although less bitter than previous ones in Democratic history, enlivened the session in the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

After an hour of wrangling, Gov. LeRoy Collins, the convention chairman, called for a vote on a Southern proposal to eliminate the civil rights plank. Collins listened to the ayes and noes and decided that the South had failed.

Then Collins called for a vote on adopting the entire platform. He received almost as many noes as ayes. In fact, some listeners in the platform thought there was more volume to the noes.

But Collins didn't hesitate. He announced that the platform had been adopted. Cheers and catcalls greeted his ruling.

The platform fired a volley of verbal missiles at President Eisenhower's administration and promised to bolster America's military, political, economic and moral strength.

One poke at the GOP went this way: "We Democrats believe that our economy can and must grow at an average rate of 5 per cent annually, almost twice as fast as our average annual rate since 1953. We pledge ourselves to policies that will achieve this goal without inflation."

The civil rights plank called for federal injunction powers to enforce racial equality in voting, education and employment, and an end to federal aid to segregated housing projects.

It said 1961, the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, should be the deadline for at least first-step compliance with desegregation in every school district.

Opening the debate, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina pleaded with the delegates. "Don't make it too hard for us to carry the South."

Holland said he didn't mind the booing delegates but wanted to remind the delegates that 50 million Southerners—"most of whom are Democrats"—were watching or listening.

But the convention was swayed more by arguments from speakers like Patsy Mink of Hawaii, who comes from a family of several racial strains.

"I cannot sit silent in this historic moment," she said, "with out defending what I consider the truly greatest plank in the Democratic platform."

The Southern opposition never seemed so bitter as to indicate any possibility of a Southern bolt from the convention.

Sheriff Bailey Grant said the five were shot by Robert Fuller, owner of a septic tank service. Grant booked Fuller, about 40, on an open charge pending further investigation.

Grant was unable to give a motive for the shooting, but one of Fuller's neighbors said Fuller told him several days ago he was expecting trouble from some of his Negro workers. He asked the neighbor to keep watch on the house, particularly at night.

Gov. Freeman to Put Kennedy in Nomination

MINNESOTA'S 31 VOTES IN DOUBT; COULD PROVE CRUCIAL FOR JACK

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota announced today that he will cast his Democratic National Convention ballots for Adlai Stevenson for president.

At the same time, Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota said today he had been chosen to place Sen. John F. Kennedy's name in nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

Humphrey said he would vote for Stevenson "in the belief that Adlai Stevenson is best qualified to serve as president at a time when the security of the nation is at stake."

The announcement represented a break of front in Minnesota in the light of Freeman's announcement he would make the nominating speech for Kennedy.

The precise fate of the 31 Minnesota convention votes, which had stuck behind Humphrey despite his pull-out from competition, remained in doubt.

There was reported to be considerable Stevenson sentiment in the group.

Freeman leads the Minnesota delegation which had been hanging "obviously for trading purposes"—said Humphrey.

The governor has been one of those most frequently mentioned as a vice presidential choice on a Kennedy ticket.

TV, Radio to Cover Convention Balloting

Full television coverage again is slated tonight for the Democratic National Convention. The proceeding should start about 8 p.m., and will be carried over channels 2, 4 and 7.

The high point of the convention will take place tonight as the delegates choose their nominee for the presidency.

In the event that the balloting should not be completed before this adjustment, it is scheduled to be resumed at approximately noon Thursday.

Radio stations WWJ and WXYZ plan to cover the entire session and WJBK will cut in at 8:30 p.m.

Municipal Court Clerk Leo F. McDonald Dies

CITY flags flew at half mast today for Municipal Court Clerk Leo F. McDonald.

The 62-year-old veteran city employee died of cancer in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday afternoon. He had been ill a month.

His death saddened all City Hall. A tribute was being prepared for adoption by the City Commission next week.

"Leo was one of the city's most loyal and best liked servants," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston last night.

"His death is a loss to us and to the entire city."

McDonald, a short, white-haired man whose quick movements and youthful eyes belied his years, ran one of Pontiac's major financial operations.

As court clerk, he handled funds which amounted to well over $1 million annually in recent years and busily supervised a host of court activities aided by a staff of several women.

A native of Cortland, N.Y., McDonald settled in Pontiac in 1919 where his brother-in-law was a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

The only way we're going to have a centennial is to pay Straley first."

Bottom said he would oppose the centennial commission itself "if we're going to continue to fight back and forth like this."

Voting for the loan was Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Dugan and Commissioners, Wesley J. Wood and William H. Taylor Jr. It was the second time the present Commission has split 4-3 when the subject of Straley came up for discussion.

Rowston deplored the lack of unity in the early stages of centennial planning.

"He had tried to gain harmony on the loan before the regular meeting and again afterwards, during a session in City Manager Walter K. Williams's office."

But after a 20-minute argument, the seven commissioners trooped back into the Commission chambers and continued their action in public.

"I see no connection between the centennial and Straley's legal fees," Rowston said. "The centennial is a public question concerning the whole community—the other is a legal question concerning one man."

But Henry and Landry maintained the city had a "moral" obligation to reimburse Straley if they were uncompensated public funds advanced.

Both argued, like Bottom, that the anti-Straley majority was trying to approve the centennial allocations without proper study first.

Wood bluntly retorted that "Landry and Henry know they're just trying to stall."

Taylor said, "If the city has prior commitments to the centennial leaders, they must meet them."

It was last fall that the 1938-1960 Commission promised a $50,000 loan to the centennial and early this year that the Chamber of Commerce was told the city would pick half the cost of its $12,000 film, "Pontiac: Story of Progress and Promise."

Both promises were made at informal meetings.

Half the loan—$25,000—was budgeted in the contingency fund this year. The loan is to be repaid next year—as far as possible—from centennial revenues.

Billings by the centennial commission and the Chamber of Commerce were presented to the Commission last week by William, who recommended they be approved during the regular meeting.

Rowston said both organizations needed the money immediately to meet commitments.

The centennial commission, he said, had to meet commitments to the John B. Rogers Producers Co. of Fortoria, Ohio, the outfit hired to stage the city's centennial observance next spring.

Landry then introduced the old subject of the legal fees Straley ran up while successfully fighting his Civil Service Commission ouster.

He said if there were any uncompensated funds, Straley should be reimbursed out of them.

Rowston retorted that reimbursement was a subject that Straley should take up with the Circuit Court that reversed his Civil Service Commission ouster.

Outside of our auto making, I find that the best known things about Michigan are Greenfield Village and the Mackinac Bridge.

Quite a number mention our Cranbrook. Among Californians, it is memories of what Michigan football teams have done to them.

Leading out to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena is a Holly street, named in honor of our Oakland County village. It was done by Dr. L. E. Williams and his brother-in-law, Washington P. Accused of Murdering Six Persons, Felecs on Verge of Death

UNION, N.J. (AP) — Michael Felecs, a Hungarian refugee accused of murdering six persons in a coma on a hospital bed today, a policeman's bullet lodged in the base of his skull.

The end of one of the most interesting stories in the state history books came Tuesday night when Felecs tried to shoot it out with two policemen of a dirt road in a wooded area.

He fired a volley of wild shots before being brought down by a bullet fired by Union Patrolman Walter Leary.

Felecs, 25, a lover of sports cars, formal clothes, and jazz records was being sought by police for questioning in connection with the slaying of two policemen in Highland Park last Sunday.

The search gathered momentum Tuesday after Middlesex County Prosecutor Edward J. Dolan said that Felecs had killed the two policemen and had slain four other persons on a North Brunswick estate last January.

GOOD AS ANY OTHER
Union Police Sgt. Michael Barry, who was with Leary during the duel with Felecs, said Laura Marino had phoned to say a suspicious-looking man answering Felecs' description was prowling in the wooded residential area near the Irvington city line.

"We figured it was as good as any other tip," Barry said.

Felecs spotted the two policemen shot and opened fire. A return shot from Leary ripped through the fugitive's forehead and brain and lodged at the base of his skull.

Doctors at Elizabeth General Hospital said the bullet had caused a massive brain hemorrhage and Felecs was not expected to live.

North Pontiac Kiwanis to Hold Beef Barbecue

The North Pontiac Kiwanis Club will offer a mighty appealing dish to beef lovers Saturday afternoon, according to James Mann, president.

The club will hold its first annual beef barbecue beginning at 4 p.m. at Oakland Park.

"It will last until dark — or until the beef runs out and we've got enough to feed an army," Mann said.

Benefiting will be Pontiac area youth. The club will put all proceeds into the youth activities fund.

Entertainment will be provided by area talent under the direction of Kenneth Strine of the Northside Community Club.

The show will include tap dancing, pantomime, singing and various musical acts.

Demand Kishi Bar All RB47s

Japanese Leftists, Tag Plane U2 Successor; 'Fear Retaliation'

TOKYO (UPI)—The leftist Japan Council Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs today demanded that Premier Nobusuke Kishi call on the United States to withdraw any RB47 reconnaissance planes based on Japanese territory.

"The fact that an RB47 was shot down over Soviet territory proves that such planes have taken over the spying activities of the U.S.," the council said. "There is no guarantee that military bases in Japan will not be used to conduct such spy activities."

The council said that if any of the RB47s are based in Japan the withdrawal of the U.S. planes would be meaningless. A U.S. Air Force spokesman said there are no RB47 planes based in Japan at present.

"We fear a retaliatory attack will be carried out against us if RB47s are based in Japan," the council said. "We demand the government start talks for the abolition of U.S. bases in Japan and that it create a supra-partisan committee with powers to inspect military bases to determine whether spy planes exist."

The committee, which played a leading part in the demonstrations against the U.S. Japan security pact, further demanded the Kishi government "ask the United States to stop immediately its espionage activities."

The weasel is a small reddish-brown animal that turns white in frigid cold climates.

To Discuss Pay Raises Thursday

City and Employees Will Decide Amount of Hike; $52,000 Is Set Aside

City commissioners and municipal employee representatives will meet Thursday afternoon with City Manager Walter K. Willman to decide the pay raise question.

To be decided, Willman said, is how much money is to be spent this year on the raises recommended in the new pay plan drawn at the Commission's request by James O. Yarger, an independent personnel consultant.

This, Willman said, is the main consideration facing the city before adoption of the plan.

"You have to determine the city's policy and the plan and its application," he told commissioners as they agreed to the meeting last night.

A big consideration is the $52,000 the city put into contingency funds last month as a possible source of raises.

At budget time in January, the Commission promised to consider raises in July if funds were available and the study indicated they were warranted.

Yarger already has told the Commission it would cost the city around $100,000 to put the plan partially into effect for the whole year, or $50,000 for half a year. He said it would cost more than $200,000 if it all into effect for the whole year.

Dem Governor Candidates in Northland Talk

All three Democratic candidates seeking the nomination of governor will square off in a pre-primary "meet your candidate" session next Tuesday at the Northland Center Auditorium.

Ready to answer questions from the floor will be Secretary of State James M. Hare, U.S. Gov. John B. Swainson and Detroit Councilman Edward Connor.

Putting on the 8 p.m. public question and answer period will be the Democratic clubs of Oak Park, Huntington Woods and Pleasant Ridge.

Also scheduled to be present are Richard F. Vander Veen, William Coughlin and T. John Lesnaski, candidates for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor in the Aug. 2 primary.

The event is open to the public.

Has Change of Heart Backs Out of Suicide

A 35-year-old Waterford Township man who told sheriff's deputies he was despondent over recent family troubles, backed out (in more ways than one) of a suicide attempt late last night.

The man told deputies he had decided earlier to put an end to his woes. He went to his garage, closed the door tight, got in his car and turned the motor on.

But after a short time he had a sudden change of heart, "when the fumes started to burn my eyes," he told deputies. "I was afraid I wouldn't make it."

State Man Appointed

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today gave Charles H. King, of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., a recess appointment as a member of the Federal Communications Commission.

Tot, 2, Tumbles Out of Auto

Struck by Car Behind; Receives Cuts, Is Hurt Internally

A 3-year-old Waterford Township child received internal injuries and abrasions Tuesday afternoon when she tumbled out of her mother's car and was struck by another auto.

Vicky Zenko, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Zenko, 32, of 4171 Maple Road, apparently fell from the car as it was turning onto Cass and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Victor Pay Estimators is president of Pontiac.

WANNA ATTEND THE CONVENTION? — There's been a great hullabaloo about hard-to-get tickets to the Democratic National Convention, but you'd never know it had you been there when Tuesday's second session started. Only a handful of spectators were scattered in the galleries and most of the delegates' seats were empty.

Shipping Costs Cuba Money

Russia Receives Sugar at Lower Rate With 100-Million-Dollar Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuba is losing money—even on the sugar it is shipping so far to the Soviet Union under a 100-million dollar trade pact negotiated last February.

The Russians are getting the sugar at the world price of three cents a pound. Cuban production costs are figured at about four cents a pound.

Cuba's deficit in sales at world prices in the past have been made up by a subsidy of more than two cents a pound on sugar shipped to the United States, which obtained about a third of its annual consumption of nine million tons from Cuba.

President Eisenhower last Wednesday signed a new sugar bill and ordered an end to virtually all further U.S. buying of sugar from Cuba this year; it accused the Castro regime of deliberate hostility to the United States.

Eisenhower chopped 700,000 tons from Cuba's 1960 quota of 3,119,655 tons. Since Cuba had already shipped most of its 1960 sugar to the United States, the order allows only 39,752 tons more to be admitted at American ports this year.

PLANE STORY — Premier Khrushchev told a news conference that the RB47 shot down July 1 landed in Russian waters north of Svyatoy Nos (Holy Nose) (1). He said the plane refused to follow the Red fighter sent up to intercept it. The craft took off for a mapping mission from a British base (2) and was slated to return there. Khrushchev, however, claims intercepted radio messages indicate it was headed for Bodo, Norway (3). The U. S. claims the Russians downed the U. S. plane over international waters 30 miles from Soviet territory.

Seeks Funds to Build $1-Million High School

PORT HURON (UPI) — Archbishop John F. Dearden of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit has announced a fund drive to build a million dollar Port Huron high school and to provide for the elementary school needs of the eight parishes involved.

The new school would be built for an enrollment of 750 pupils, would be coeducational and would replace St. Stephens High School here. St. Stephens would be used for an elementary school.

Itch of Piles Get Relief Now

Millions of sufferers in the last 40 years have found a way to fast relief from itching and smarting of piles. They use a delightful cooling soothing astringent formula—Peterson's Ointment. No wonder the ointment is so popular. The itching and smarting were relieved, and I slept all night. Peterson's Ointment is marvelous. See and see, all druggists. Be delighted or money back.

80 U.S. Airmen Cold War Victims in Past 10 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Eighty American airmen have died or been reported missing in cold war episodes during the past 10 years.

The heaviest toll occurred on Sept. 2, 1955, when a turboprop transport plane was shot down in Soviet Armenia after going off course on a flight in Turkey. Russia returned the bodies of six crewmen, disclaiming knowledge of others. The United States said there had been 17 in the crew.

Sixteen crewmen were lost July 29, 1953, when a B50 bomber was shot down by MIGs over the Sea of Japan.

The wedding and Caribbean honeymoon voyage aboard the royal yacht Britannia of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones cost about $185,000.

BIG BUSINESS—Sprawling over a two-block area is the Benton Harbor Fruit Market, reported to be the world's largest wholesale fruit selling grounds. The vehicles parked in the center area belong to growers offering produce for sale. Trucks haul the fruit and vegetables to nearby every state.

Benton Harbor Lays Claim to Biggest Fruit Market

By JERRY KRUEGER
Benton Harbor News-Palladium
Written Especially for AP
BENTON HARBOR—This summer, as almost every season for more than a century now, southwestern Michigan's fruit belt is pouring forth a harvest of fresh fruits and vegetables, second in diversity and quantity only to the vast California valleys.

Daily from June through October an average of 75 to 80 north-bound trucks head out of Benton Harbor, laden to the tailgates with produce sold that day on the Benton Harbor Fruit Market.

This market is the hub of the four-county fruit belt that lies in the lee of Lake Michigan. Approximately 40,000 bushels, cartons and crates of fruits and vegetables leave the market each day, on the average, for the dinner tables in as many as 35 to 38 states and Canada.

The daily outpouring of produce is about a 10-million-dollar-a-season operation at this municipally owned wholesale market. From strawberries and cucumbers to peaches and apples, this market—which claims the title of largest wholesale fruit market in the world—handles as complete a line of fruits and vegetables as will be found at any one shipping point in the nation. Some 60 different crops are to be found here in season.

Now in its 26th year in its present facilities, the Benton Harbor fruit market actually had its beginnings back about a century ago. Early settlers by the 1850s had found the winters were not quite as cold and the summers a little cooler in a narrow belt of land close along the lee shore of Lake Michigan. Fruit trees that would be killed by severe winter temperatures in most parts of northern United States survived here and yielded plentifully.

First lumber schooners sailing vessels carried some fruit to the growing metropolis of Chicago across the lake. Soon special fruit carrying lake packets were built to ship increasing supplies.

As the leading terminus for these lake shipments, Benton Harbor naturally became the concentration point for fruit harvested over a radius of 30 miles.

Buyers from Chicago and a growing number of other Mid-west population centers came here to buy fruit. Heavy rail shipments soon were going to other consuming markets not connected by water routes.

The advent of the truck for commercial hauling in the 1920s soon began to plug the streets of Benton Harbor. The trading was done in the various side streets, and the congestion forced the city to establish the Benton Harbor fruit market on its present site inside the city in 1930.

Dedicated to serving as a common meeting place for the growers and buyers, the market since has grown in size and prestige until now it helps determine the daily wholesale prices of fruits and vegetables in wide areas of the Midwest. It is a "must" stop for scores of foreign agricultural visitors to America each year.

Although suburban, industrial and highway spread is taking its toll of good orchard sites in the fruit belt, agricultural leaders here point out production is at an all time high, and that enough new orchards are already planted to push the yields even higher for at least another decade or two.

New technology has doubled the per-acre yields of many of the fruit crops and new ways are known to fight the ironroads of frost and insects. Mechanical harvesting equipment is now in the experimental stage that can soon unlock another limitation on fruit production—the large number of harvest workers required.

There is general agreement among buyers and growers who use the Benton Harbor market that its present facilities are even now outgrown, and that expansion is a must. Discussion at this stage centers on whether expansion should be made at the existing site inside the city, or whether a new one should be built at the edge of the city along new Interstate Highway 94.

Says Mexico's Not Necessarily for Fidel

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Foreign Minister Manuel Tello has informed the United States that a Mexican congressman's expression of support for Cuban Premier Fidel Castro does not necessarily reflect the official position of the government of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Tello said that the executive branch of the government directs international policy and that opinions expressed by congressmen do not commit the executive.

A statement said Tello stressed these points in talks with U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill. The American ambassador had called on Tello to seek "clarification" of remarks made by Emilio Sanchez Piedra, chairman of the permanent congressional committee.

Former Opera House to Be Razed in Bay City
 BAY CITY (UPI) — The one-time opera house here will probably be razed for a parking lot. Now known as the Washington Theater, the building will be razed to provide parking places for 200 calves.

The city has obtained options on three other parcels of property which make up an entire block in the downtown area. Whaling nations of the world signed a convention in 1937 not to take cow whales running with to provide parking places for 200 calves.

S. Africa Still Holds 250 Subversion Suspects

PITZERIA, South Africa (U.P.) — The government announced today it is still holding only about 250 persons of the original 1,800 of all those arrested as suspected political subversion under state of emergency regulations which have been prevailing since March.

Litterbugs Cost Michigan $1,000 a Day for Cleanup

FLINT (U.P.) — Litterbugs, the kind that toss bottles, cans and paper cartons out of car windows, cost the state $1,000 a day to clean up after them, State Highway Commissioner John C. Markie said today.

With the tourist season moving into full swing, Michiganans should be especially careful to keep roadways looking neat and attractive, Markie said, as trash-littered highways will discourage some tourists from returning.

A paper tissue thrown from a car window will lie beside the highway for a month in dry weather before it deteriorates, he said. A beer can will lie there for two years before it rusts away.

The money spent annually to remove litter from state highways and roadside parks would, with federal aid, finance construction of six miles of expressways, he said.

"QUEEN MOTHER" — Flashing a jaunty smile is Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, 70-year-old mother of presidential candidate John F. Kennedy. She may ascend to a position roughly corresponding to England's queen mother if her son is elected president in November. She is shown at a Tuesday press conference at which it appeared he had the nomination sewed up.

Just Nothing Like Putting on a Picnic, Golfers Find

Battle of Winkelman street, Mrs. A. O. Pharr of West Walton boulevard, Mrs. Robert Vidlund of Fairbanks street and Mrs. May Richardson of West Walton boulevard.

Abby Says: Let's Reform Grownups First

Adult Behavior Causes Youth to Sneer

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I think it is time somebody started some kind of national organization to save our youth from the moral decay that will eventually destroy our nation.

The caliber of young people today is so discouraging that it makes me sick to walk down the street and look at them.

SENIOR CITIZEN: DEAR SENIOR CITIZEN: First someone should start some kind of an organization to reform some of our adults. Their lack of honesty, integrity and sobriety is even more discouraging. It is their bad example that has caused our youth to laugh at the old-fashioned virtues.

DEAR ABBY: I am in a state of shock and am sick inside. My husband's boss sent him on a business trip last week. He has gone on many and I have always packed for him because he doesn't know how to pack. When he comes home, I unpack his suitcase. All his things are thrown in his case every which way. I never cared because it was just his soiled laundry. On his last trip I unpacked for him and my heart's good still. Everything was packed perfectly. Socks matched up together. Pajamas folded neatly. He never could have done it himself. There must be another woman in the picture.

Now when he comes near me, I freeze up. I can't bring myself to ask him any questions because I guess I don't want to face the truth. Should I just leave him or what?

SICK INSIDE: DEAR SICK: Most of the things we worry about never happened, or never will happen. For goodness sake, ask him and get it over with. You could be off base by a country mile. Bellows frequently pack for men who must check out in a hurry. Give your husband a chance to defend himself.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 27, but he acts like he has only one week to live. I've heard of people wanting to see the world, but this guy's got it bad. In the year we have been married we've been half-way across the country.

We get settled in an apartment and I meet some nice neighbors and — whom! He's ready to move again. His kind of work is easy to find and he says we might just as well see the country before we have children and get tied down.

I tell him I want to take root somewhere, but he's so busy thinking about where he wants to go next he doesn't even listen. How can I get him to stay put?

"GYPSY"

DEAR "GYPSY": Relax and enjoy the scenery. As long as your husband is able to make a living wherever he is, let him get the wanderlust out of his system while you are able to go with him. Some women don't know when they're well off.

News Roundabout

Jerry Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powers of Cherokee road, and Ronald Hoekman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Hoekman of Hamilton drive, left Thursday by plane for Geneva, Switzerland where they will visit Jim Ruth, formerly of Pontiac.

The three will then tour several European countries and visit Jacquelin Baron of Rosier, France, and Helmut Gaisbauer of Vienna, both former exchange students attending Pontiac Central High School.

Jerry and Ron will return to their homes Aug. 15.

Former Pontiac resident Harry Bigham of Hutchinson, Kan., is visiting his brother-in-law and sister, the Edward T. Vandervoort of West Stratmore avenue and their son Michael Edward, through next week.

For the latter part of July and the month of August, Mr. Bigham will visit a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bigham Jr. and family in Flint.

Maureen Slosson in Honolulu taking graduate work at University of Hawaii. Daughter of the T. N. Slossons of Woodbine drive, Waterford Twp. Miss Slosson teaches at Brookside Elementary School, Grand Rapids.

House guests of Circuit Judge and Mrs. Clark J. Adams of West Walton boulevard the past week were the Edward G. Pagels and daughter Suzanne from Pelletier.

Former Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. Arden Yinkley Jr. and their daughters, of Wilton, Conn., spent the weekend with Mr. Yinkley's sister and brother-in-law, the junior Harry D. Weeds of Franklin.

The Yinkleys attended the Saturday wedding of Sandra Brown and Walter Briggs Fisher.

Returned to their home on South Avery road after a three-week motor trip to the west coast are the Robert E. Fields and daughters Suzanne, Barbara and Joanne.

Their itinerary included Yellowstone National Park, Grand Canyon, Zion and Bryce Canyons, Mexico, Disneyland, San Francisco and Yosemite.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Bonham (Sandra Haire) announce the birth of a daughter Angela Grace on July 4.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Haire of North Sanford street. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Louretta Bonham of Jonquay boulevard, Waterford Twp., and Charles Bonham of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Harris and children Carol and Paul are at home again on First avenue after a two-week vacation at Conway and Myrtle Beach, S.C. They also visited Washington and Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Mrs. Hillary B. Jones who attended the recent marriage of her grandson Donald Bobbitt Jones to Charlotte Grace Johnson at Ann Arbor, has returned to her home in Dresden, Tenn., with Mrs. Harry Jones, aunt of the bridegroom.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Ethel Mitty of Bensyn, Ill., and her great-aunt, Anna Urban, of Chicago, also attended the wedding.

Kilgore-Nolen Ceremony Held in Pastor's Home

Former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. John Hodgins of Harrisburg, Ill., announce the marriage of their daughter Betty Nolen of Union street to James C. Kilgore of Chamberlain street.

Vows were exchanged Saturday evening in the home of the Rev. Gordon Lindsay, pastor of Five Points Community Church.

A corsage of white carnations and miniature pink roses

complemented the bride's dress of pale blue lace. Mrs. Arthur Eugene Kilgore attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor wearing a blue cotton swirl print sheath dress.

Arthur Eugene Kilgore was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zedley Kilgore of Eastland, Tenn.

Returning from a southern honeymoon, the newlyweds will live on Union street.

Couple at Mackinac Isle

On a honeymoon to historic Mackinac Island and Tahquamenon Falls are Arnold William Edmunds and his bride, the former Carol Anne DeJager who were wed Saturday morning in St. Michael Church.

Vows were pledged to the Rev. Francis Orlick before the main altar banked with white gladioli and carnations.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Constant DeJager of West Hopkins street.

For her wedding, the bride chose a triple-tiered gown of white embroidered Swiss organza styled with molded elongated bodice and floor-length skirt. Organza gauntlets were worn.

Fingertip silk illusion veiling was held by a tiara of orange blossoms. A cascade of feathered carnations and ivy rested on the bride's white pearl prayer book.

Colonial arrangements of carnations were tinted to match rainbow shades of orchid nylon sheer for the attendants. They wore matching shoes and picture hats.

Orchid color was chosen for honor maid Catherine McCormick, aqua for Loretta Heitjan and yellow for Nancy Budwit.

Bride Edmonds was flower girl and Rex Ross of Flint ring bearer, at their uncle's wedding.

On the esquire side were three brothers of the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chester Edmunds of East Walton boulevard. Donald was best man, with Arthur and Robert seating the guests, assisted by Harold Kidger.

After the reception in Amvets Hall, the new Mrs. Edmunds changed to a two-piece suit of olive green shantung for the northern motor trip. They will reside on North Perry street.

Mrs. DeJager, in blue nylon lace over satin, wore aurora borealis crystal jewelry for her daughter's wedding. Pink carnations were pinned at her shoulder.

Tangerine carnations accented Mrs. Edmunds' champagne sheath dress of nylon sheer over silk taffeta, worn with tangerine-shade fresh water pearls.

Bride Edmonds was flower girl and Rex Ross of Flint ring bearer, at their uncle's wedding.

To Women: Do Dress for Church

DEAR MRS. POST: I am a clergyman and have been an ardent admirer of yours for many years. You have done much to influence the manners and morals of the men and women of our country. Knowing how widespread your column is, I am appealing to you to please write something in regard to proper dress in church.

Sunday after Sunday I have noticed an increasing number of women coming to church with bare backs and shoulders. True, the weather has been very hot but that is no excuse to come to church dressed in that fashion. It is really shocking.

Won't you please advise your women readers to be more modest in their dress—at least when going to church. Answer: I agree with you that there is no degree of heat unbearable enough to excuse women's coming into the House of God immodestly dressed. Even in the hottest tropics women come to church in clothes that decently cover them.

Dear Mrs. Post: Quite often when I leave the office at night I stop and buy myself a chocolate bar to eat on the subway to tide me over until dinner. One of the girls with whom I work, jokingly criticized me for this and said that it was not good manners to eat anything in public—except of course at a picnic. Will you please tell me if she is right about this.

Answer: She is right. We should really try to avoid eating in public. However, eating a small amount of chocolate in a subway ought not to be frowned upon.

Dear Mrs. Post: When someone pays me a compliment I get very flustered and never know what to say. Will you please help me?

Answer: Smile with pleasure and say, "Thank you," and then talk about something else. Remember that looking pleased is not necessarily an act of vanity but of appreciation of the other person's kindness.

Parents Tell of Marriage

Former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Todd of Sherman, Tex., announce the marriage of their daughter Nina to A. C. Charles Allen Seats on May 21.

Mrs. Mary Shroyer was her sister's matron of honor at the home ceremony.

Richard Logan of Perrin Air Force Base was best man for the bridegroom, son of former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. Cledith E. Seats, now of Paducah, Ky.

Altman Seats is presently stationed at Perrin AFB.

A fabulous ball gown created by designer Dan Loper was shown Tuesday at a fashion luncheon for wives of delegates to the Democratic National Convention. Priced at $5,000, the gown consists of a greatcoat of heirloom re-embroidered black lace mounted on white faille and heavily encrusted with black bugle beads and jet. A tulip-shaped skirt is featured on the simple white faille princess gown.

M. Virginia Sink in Line for Top Post

Wins Soroptimist Vice Presidency

By MADEIRA DOERN

Delegates to the 18th biennial convention of the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas in Detroit's Hotel Sheraton Cadillac last week elected a Clarkson woman, M. Virginia Sink, first vice president. The job automatically elevates her to the presidency in July 1962.

Of 385 ballots cast Miss Sink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sink of Sashabaw road, won 202. Her opponent was Mrs. Helene Thomas Bennett of Yuma, Ariz.

Virginia, as she is always called, is the first Detroit-area woman ever to hold a top post in the 23,000-member classified organization for professional and executive business women.

Being first is not unusual for Virginia. First woman engineer ever to join the ranks of Chrysler Motors, Virginia was also the first woman to enroll and graduate with a master's degree from the Chrysler Institute of Engineering. She was the only woman speaker at the 1959 national convention of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Born in Colorado Springs, Colo., Virginia was graduated with honors in chemical engineering from the University of Colorado. Her professional memberships include American Chemical Society, Society of Automotive Engineers, Engineering Society of Detroit, and American Society of Women Engineers. She is chairman of the Data Analysis Panel of Vehicle Combustion Committee Automobile Manufacturers' Assn.

She is well steeped in Soroptimism, having served the Detroit club as president in 1955-56 before being elected governor of the Midwestern Region in 1958.

Charm magazine honored Miss Sink in an article "Symbols of Detroit's Working Women" she is listed in Detroit's "Women of Achievement."

Her fraternal affiliations include Sigma Pi Sigma honorary physics, Tau Beta Pi honorary engineering and Iota Sigma Pi honorary chemical.

Author of an article "Career Satisfaction of an Engineer" which appeared in "The American Soroptimist" April 1960, Virginia, who is currently an engineer with the smog abatement project at Chrysler, says "Engineering shapes the lives of more people than any other profession, by designing and building all devices and systems so essential to our complex civilization today."

Plan Wedding for Aug. 27

Summer vows are planned by Gwendolyn Hepler Polk, and Samuel Jacob Yarger, son of the Ralph D. Yargers of Herbel drive, Waterford Township.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mrs. Nedon Grady Polk of Brookdale street, Waterford Township, and the late Mr. Grady, attended Michigan State University and is presently enrolled at Wayne State University.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and is working on his master's degree at University of Michigan.

Mrs. Neville G. Polk of Lima, Ohio, will be matron of honor at the Aug. 27 wedding, with Barbara Easton of Detroit and Mrs. Richard Tompkins, bridesmaids. Stephanie Polk will be flower girl and Stephen Polk, ring bearer.

Running tests on an exhaust device in a dynamometer cell with a fellow engineer at Chrysler Engineering Laboratories is M. Virginia Sink of Clarkston, elected first vice president of the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas at the recent 16th biennial convention in Detroit.

Powers-Dotson Vows Told

Chapel vases of white gladioli and ivy caught the light from candelabra at altar-side Saturday evening in the White Lake Presbyterian Church, Davisburg, where Camille Suzanne Dotson exchanged vows with Robert James Powers of Waterford.

The Rev. Howard Short of Mil-isburg. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Helen Powers of South East boulevard and Ralph E. Powers of Vornberg, Austria.

Denise Chevalier and Robin Penland, also in aqua cotton dresses, wore white picture hats and carried pink rose petals in white baskets at their uncle's wedding.

Billy Gerald Penland was best man. Robert Dorman of Waterford and Lawrence Townsend ushered.

Upon returning from a brief northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will be at home in Highland.

Mrs. Billy Gerald Penland of Waterford, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Juliet May Dotson served as her sister's bridesmaid with Mary Elizabeth Moultrap of Waterford. They were imported aqua polished cotton dresses with match-and aqua carnations, comprising their colonial bouquets.

Newlyweds Motoring to Georgia and Florida

Douglas Max Justus and his bride the former Miss Lee Davis left on a motor trip to Georgia and Florida after exchanging vows Saturday evening in the First United Missionary Church.

The Rev. Orville P. Eastman performed the ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Russell Davis of Elm street at their daughter's church reception were Mr. and Mrs. Volmer Lafayette Justus of Raubers street, parents of the bridegroom.

A seed pearl crown taught halcyon-length French silks, with veiling worn in complement to the bridal gown of white silk organza over tulle. The sleeveless bodice was styled with a scoop neckline.

The bride carried a hand-cascade of white carnations and ivy. A basket of yellow daisies complemented halcyon-length aqua silk organza over tulle for honor matron Mrs. Charles Guy Parks of Milford, her sister's only attendant. Her caplet of aqua organza held a nose veil of French tulle.

Charles Guy Parks served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were James Stott and Leyon Vincent.

Shoulder corsages of white carnations accented Mrs. Davis' sheath dress of blue pure silk and a taupe sheath of silk organza for her mother of the bridegroom.

The couple will live on Carter street.

Pontiac Girl Will Appear in Cranbrook Play

Nine-year-old Betsy Agree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Agree of West Ingois road, will appear in a Cranbrook Summer Theater School children's play on Detroit's educational TV station Friday evening.

The play, "Ding, Dong Bell," directed by John Fredrickson of Birmingham, is the Cranbrook group's first children's drama to be televised.

At the third group of evening one-act plays presented Monday in the Greek Theater Nancy Walker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Walker of James St. boulevard, directed a junior play called "The Magic Hat."

Nancy's brother Mark played a Chinese cook in "Million Dollar Recipe," a comedy written by Carl Wornberger, director of the theater school.

Junior and intermediate divisions at the school are preparing their final play "The King's Gift," scheduled for presentation July 27 and 28.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps is a prolonged deficiency of calcium.

Dr. says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other leading health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNAL-CAL Calcium Tablets, terminating calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNAL-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphate products. DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker—bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles.

Pleasant-tasting DYNAL-CAL Tablets with calcium, glucose and hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNAL-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

"DYNAL-CAL is much more than merely a calcium supplement."

Beating Creates Fear of Human Contact

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The T's have become increasingly aware of the severity and frequency of the spasms Mr. T's sister gives her children. The oldest one—a girl of 8—is the special target of this discipline. Mrs. T writes:

"Though we don't know why these beatings are bad for the children emotionally, we feel that they are and want to know what we can do about the situation. . . . You can refer it to your local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children which will hold your complaint in confidence.

As to the badness of beating children severely and frequently, it can be simply stated. It creates deep and lasting fear of human contact.

This should not be hard to understand. A parent who uses a child's body to discharge some passion of his own is oblivious of the child and the child's feelings. He is aware only of his need for relief from tensions within himself.

To be so used as a "thing," as an instrument for the release of another person's passion is to develop terror of any human contact.

Children with histories of severe corporal punishment suffer not only from sexual maladjustments but from suspicion of all relationship.

Because children's bodies belong to them, beating the bodies is biologically crazy. It violates the natural independence of their bodies which chew food, digest it, breathe and move about without connection to parents.

When we beat a child severely and frequently, we destroy the security of this independence. We leave him with the conviction that anyone who approaches him may abuse his body. So, to protect himself, he withdraws from people lest they seek contact with him.

People who have been severely beaten as children may experience panic in a crowded bus.

They will avoid contact sports and clothing that exposes their bodies.

They will credit you with unspoken criticism of their physical appearance.

They will imagine themselves to be suffering from diseases they do not have.

Because their bodies have been made a source of humiliation and pain to them, their bodies have become their enemies. Inasmuch as bodies are essential to human existence, they seldom experience much joy in human existence.

But parents who indulge themselves in severe corporal punishment are unable to consider these effects.

To deal with them we have to call the S.P.C.C.

If you are underweight, you should learn to relax. Enormous amounts of energy are lost in nervous mannerisms.

Save Those Calories

Underweight? Just Relax

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Usually those who bemoan their extra pounds make such loud noises that we who write about such things are apt to overlook the underweight gals. Yet lack of curves can be a great source of unhappiness to a woman.

I have written many times about the importance of enough sleep, a well-balanced diet, mild exercises and rest before meals.

I have advised five or six small meals rather than three large ones for the one who wishes to gain.

The underweight person often is very energetic and also very nervous, subways, or in a car if you are not driving. You will not get sitting down. She fidgets while there any faster by being tense.

In fact she seldom relaxes. The art of snatching moments of relaxation at odd moments is an art which can be learned. You can relax while you wait at the beauty salon, or while you watch for the children outside the school door.

The underweight woman is likely to be tense emotionally. She worries about things she cannot change or things which never will happen.

She makes mountains out of the molehills. She "fumbles" at "crises" which occur in daily life rather than meeting them with a relaxed and humorous viewpoint.

Chicken Noodle Soup Is Base for Ham Casserole

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Today's recipe is for a soufflé-type ham noodle loaf. You use undiluted chicken noodle soup as part of the ingredients. Serve this loaf as soon as it is done as it does not stand well.

Mrs. Lewis Nostrand is our cook. An animal lover, she owns two dachshunds and one Siamese cat. She enjoys sewing.

Ham-Chicken-Noodle Loaf
By Mrs. Lewis Nostrand

1 can condensed chicken noodle soup
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup flour
1 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup cubed cooked ham
4 eggs, beaten
1 cup soft bread crumbs
Drain soup and keep liquid. Melt shortening, add flour and stir in soup liquid. Cook until mixture is thick. Add rest of ingredients to this sauce. Pour into greased 8x8x2 loaf pan. Bake one hour at 350 degrees. Serves four to six.

ONE DAY SELF-IMPROVEMENT PLAN

Three things that you can do to recapture a youthful appearance in one day's time—

1. Take a good look at your hairline. Adjust your hair to the correct strand length. While you have the machine go, look at the back of your dress. Would it fit better if you took out the buttons above the waist? It's easy to do. Just follow the darts up a little higher.

2. Correct your posture. It needs for a session on the subject. Just stand in front of a full length mirror and use your own judgment.

3. Brush your hair with your scalp fingers. When you comb it back into place, see if it needs shortening, thinning or just washing. The net results of these will total up to a new outward appearance. See if your family doesn't think so.

200 at Buffet Held in Bride's Home

Peggy Jean Basore exchanged wedding vows with Darrell E. Patton before the Rev. Jerry E. Redman Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church, Drayton Plains.

Some 200 guests attended reception at the church followed by the buffet in the Drayton Plains home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLarty on Kemper street.

Receiving with them were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Patton of Hatchery road, Waterford Township.

Proceeding the bride to the flower-laden altar was her cousin, Judith Clouse of Ortonville, in pink organza and lace and pink satin shoes. Her flowers were white carnations and blue rosebuds.

Bridesmaids Mary Alice Clouse and Patricia Herdina, in blue organza, wore blue satin shoes and white lace gloves. They held cascades of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Joyce McLarty, in white tulle and lace, carried a basket of pink and blue rose petals.

MRS. DARRELL E. PATTON

swamp trail. A tress of pearls secured the fingertip veil.

A corsage of white roses centered the bride's cascade bouquet of pale pink carnations.

Edwin Price of Ortonville performed the duties of best man. Tom Amos and the bride's brother Roger E. McLarty ushered.

After a Northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will make their home with the bridegroom's parents.

Shoulder corsages of pink carnations and rosebuds were worn by Mrs. McLarty who was attired in blue lace and matching hat, and Mrs. Patton in beige nylon sheer.

Chit-Chat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Some men who commutes daily from Chicago to the North Shore area, once commented that 30 years ago he could smell the fragrance of freshly cut grass when he walked home from the train station. Now all he can smell is barbecuing meat.

That about sums up the way we live in the summer time nowadays. We cook outdoors whenever possible.

American manufacturers have taken advantage of this fact and are turning out hundreds of new products designed to catch the eye of the outdoor cook.

You can buy a barbecue grill for almost any price you want to pay. The newer barbecue kettles or smoke cookers are just beginning to appear in the Pontiac area. What they do is a piece of meat is worth raving about.

We've tried at least two new charcoal lighters. The little brown squares of some quick-burning material are easy to use and less dangerous than liquid lighter fluid. One downtown store carries charcoal briquets bonded inside a wax impregnated paper shell. This shell lights at the touch of a match and sets the charcoal afire. These packages of briquets resemble an egg carton.

If your charcoal is to be instantly available on the patio, keep it in one of the new charcoal buckets.

For easy handling of whatever is on the grill, use one of the combination fork-pancake turners. And be sure you buy the man of the house one of the special aprons made for male outdoor cooks.

Cool drinks are a must at this season. We saw a new ice bucket that's suppose to keep ice 24 hours. It can't weigh more than a few ounces. Pour the drinks into the new insulated plastic "glasses" where they'll stay cold for a long time. These same double-layer glasses can be used for hot drinks.

Laird's high shortening power, its economy and its wide plastic range make it an excellent choice for all kinds of baking — pies, yeast breads, cookies, cakes, doughnuts, biscuits, etc.

Thelma Kyle Honored by Linen Shower

A linen shower honored bride-elect Thelma Marilyn Kyles Sunday afternoon. Mrs. William Phinn of Mt. Clemens was hostess for the affair at the Lonsdale drive home of Miss Kyles' parents, the Ernest R. Kyles.

An August 6 wedding date has been set by Miss Kyles and Richard Q. Sweet, son of the Quensie E. Swets of South Avery street.

Shower guests were Mrs. Sweet, Mrs. Kyles, Mrs. Hollis Stephenson, Mrs. Wilfred Bowman, Mrs. Walter Summers, Mrs. Gerald Ball, Mrs. W. Keith Porter, Mrs. Doane Matherly and Mrs. Daryl Wilson.

Others were Mrs. Michael Kovac, Mrs. Joseph Fish, Vera Towle, Elda Wilkinson and Mrs. Bernard Walters.

2 Area Teachers Attend U.S. Language Classes

Teachers from all over the country are participating in National Defense Foreign Language Institute at 37 universities this summer.

Sponsored by a United States Office of Education grant, the program provides language training in French or Spanish. Participants receive instruction in language teaching techniques and the cultures of French and Spanish-speaking countries.

Nedra Ann Schluckebier of Pontiac and Thomas K. Parker, instructor in English and French in the Walled Lake Consolidated Schools, were selected from 1,200 applicants to participate in the institute which is being held at Michigan State University.

Public school teachers receive stipends and family allowances while in attendance.

Fashionette Club Holds Picnic, Names Workers

Fashionette Club members met at Cass Dodge Park Tuesday evening for their annual summer picnic.

Members failing to lose weight during a recent six-week reducing contest furnished food for those who had successfully reduced during the period.

Among committee heads appointed by newly elected president Mrs. John Reichert were Mrs. Wava Forker, hospitality; Mrs. Bert Hillock, sympathy and relief fund; and Mrs. Frederick Root, kitchen detail.

Others appointed were Mrs. Earl Bowers, telephone; Mrs. Andrew Noel, contest chairman; and Mrs. Helen Dawson and Mrs. Edward Cook, delegates to the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs.

Assisting Program Chairman Mrs. David Cowan for the next six months will be Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Forker, Mrs. Hillock, Mrs. W. C. Bordeaux and Mrs. John Neaves.

Mrs. Harold Hopper took home a club trophy. Mrs. Neaves won an award for losing the most weight during a June contest.

A new contest, in which members who gain no weight for a specified number of weeks receive pledged prizes from other members, was approved.

School Tax Decrease Coming in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — An increase in operating tax in the Walled Lake School District will be offset by a lower debt retirement levy, making total taxes less than last year, School Superintendent Clifford H. Smart announced Tuesday.

Total school taxes for the coming year will be reduced 35 cents from $30.48 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation to $29.13, a $1.35 decrease.

State Fair Calls Beauty Queens

Contestant Must Have Captured Other Crown To Be Eligible

The Michigan State Fair has sent out a call for Michigan beauty queens to enter the annual Miss Michigan contest which will be held during this year's state fair, Sept. 2-11.

General Manager Donald L. Swanson has set Aug. 26 as the deadline for entries.

As in past years, to qualify for the contest, the candidate must have been a sponsored beauty queen in Michigan since the last state fair, she must be between the ages of 18 and 25 years and single.

Miss Michigan State Fair of 1959 thus will be the queen of all Michigan beauty queens. Preliminary judging will be held at the state fair Sept. 5 and the winner will be chosen by well-known judges and crowned by Gov. G. Mennen Williams on Wednesday, Sept. 7.

Only one queen may be sent by the sponsoring Michigan group which pays her expenses. Official entry blanks may be secured by writing to the state fair in Detroit to the attention of Clifton Melin.

Melin, who is director of music and parades in addition to the queen contest, will see that the various events are invited to ride in convertibles in the opening night parade Sept. 3, through downtown Detroit and be guests of honor to other state fair functions.

Rezoning Stirs Owners at Milford to Seek Same

MILFORD — Objecting to the rezoning of a parcel of land proposed for a motel site and gas station, property owners adjacent to the site will petition to have their land also rezoned from residential to commercial, Village Manager Oliver Taylor said today.

The strip of land wanted Monday night by the Village Council is along the east side of Milford road and bounded by Summit street on the north and the Biddle clinic on the south.

The site is owned by businessman Jim Eddles, but the 10-unit motel is proposed by Robert Gamble, a test driver at the General Motors Proving Grounds here.

The adjacent property owners did not object to the rezoning classification, only to the fact that their property was not included, Taylor said.

The petition has not yet been received by the village yet, but the settlement reached in Ford Co. Strike

Settlement Reached in Ford Co. Strike

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Settlement was reached early today in a strike at a suburban Ford Motor Co. plant which caused the firm to stop production of its compact cars.

The settlement at the Walton Hills stamping plant was jointly announced by company officials and Dale Martin, president of Local 420 of the United Auto Workers Union.

The strike had idled 3,800 men at the plant since Tuesday morning and caused the firm to furlough an additional 18,000 workers at eight other plants across the country where parts were needed from the Walton Hills plant.

Agreement was reached at 3:30 a.m. after a 12-hour bargaining session. A Ford spokesman said that if agreement is approved production would probably resume Friday.

Actor Navarro Fined for Reckless Driving

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After a jury deadlocked on a more serious charge, old-time actor Ramon Navarro was permitted to plead guilty Tuesday to a charge of driving while under the influence of non-narcotic drugs. He was fined $250.

The 61-year-old actor, once an idol of the silent screen, was arrested May 28 and charged with drunken driving after his car and two others collided.

However, a substantial tax reduction of $1.35 is not realized since voters in the June school election approved an additional one mill (1) hike in taxes for site improvements and construction of recreational facilities.

The millage increase will be used to pay off a $350,000 bond issue approved by the voters by a large margin.

The added millage, originally, to be spread over eight years, is expected to end in five years due to the increased valuation in the school district, Smart said.

Increased valuation in the district was responsible for lowering the debt retirement this year, he noted.

The lower debt retirement tax will bring in about $300,000 for the fiscal year when tax bills go out in December. The figure is about the same as it was last year, Smart said.

The school system is carrying a debt of about $3,455,000, he added. The Superintendent considers this low for the school district since it represents only a 5 per cent debt obligation of the total $3 million dollars of assessed school valuation.

OPERATING BUDGET UP

The operating budget, approved by the Board of Education Monday, is set at $2,302,532 for the coming year.

This is an increase of approximately $150,000 over the current year's budget.

The increase will be used to hire additional personnel and for teachers' salary increases.

Two projects being undertaken with tax money call for the addition of classrooms at two schools.

Seven rooms are being added at the Union Lake Elementary School and 12 classrooms are being built at the Clifford H. Smart Junior High School.

Total cost of the two additions is expected to be $385,000.

W. Reich Kills Red Spy Ring

14 Agents Arrested; Job Was to Locate East German Refugees

BONN, Germany (UPI)—West German authorities have smashed a new East German Communist spy ring, it was announced today.

The Federal Interior Ministry said 14 Communist agents were arrested in the crackdown.

A spokesman said the agents had been working for the so-called East German "State Security Ministry" (secret police), mainly in Frankfurt, Augsburg, Saarbrücken and Ludwigshafen.

Officials said a member of the Soviet zone ministry had voluntarily surrendered to West German authorities.

They said the agents' main job was to establish the current whereabouts of East Germans who had defected to the West.

The agents also were to prepare kidnappings of refugees and try to persuade West Germans to work for the Soviet zone espionage organization, the spokesman said.

The ring received orders by radio from East Germany, he added.

Two months ago, the Federal Interior Ministry announced that 26 Soviet spies and 2,325 East German agents had been arrested in West Germany during 1959.

Gary Crosby in Hospital; the Reason?

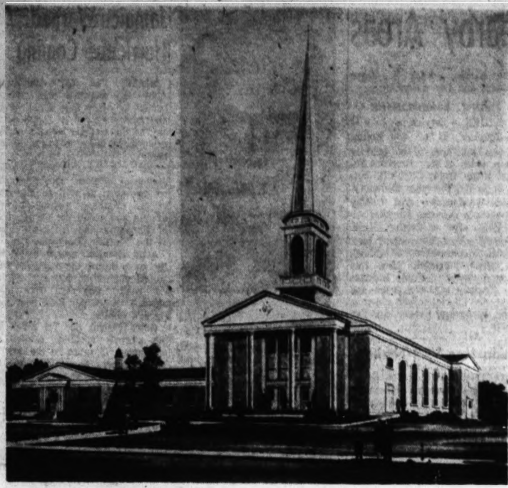

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Gary Crosby, 36, eldest of Bing Crosby's sons, today was confined in St. John's Hospital.

The young entertainer was admitted to the hospital Tuesday, but nature of his ailment depended on which of his representatives was questioned.

Crosby spokesmen variously said Gary had suffered food poisoning, chills and the effects of drinking too much.

His confinement caused him to cancel a three-day engagement at Catalina Island Casino set to start tonight. He is scheduled to begin a three-week stand July 21 at Las Vegas' Flamingo Hotel.

A hospital spokesman said Crosby's condition was good, but he refused to identify the ailment.

READY FOR GROUND-BREAKING—July 24 has been set as the date for ground-breaking ceremonies to launch construction of the First Methodist Church at Clarkson, shown above. Boy Scouts of the church top are preparing the site. The occasion will be marked with a special service at the site by pastor, the Rev. William J. Richards, and Dr. Chester R. McPeckers. The ground-breaking steering committee is headed by Mrs. Rofe Smith. All members of the church have been invited to participate in the ceremony which will get under way at 10 a. m.

Both Crashes in Lapeer County

5 Injured in 2 Accidents

Five persons were in the hospital today, one of them reported in serious condition, as the result of two traffic accidents in southern Lapeer County.

Imlay City police said Frank Beasley, 22, of Traverse City, was hurt seriously in a two-car crash at the intersection of M31 and M21 yesterday evening.

Beasley's car and one driven by Richard Dewey, 27, of 2008 Imlay City Rd., Imlay City, collided head-on just east of the intersection on M31. Beasley's sports car was nearly demolished and Dewey's was badly damaged.

Dewey suffered lesser injuries and both men were reported to be "improving" at Almont Community Hospital.

Later yesterday, a car containing six Flint residents was struck by a car driven by a 24-year-old Metamora man, at Hurd and Ritchie roads, seven miles southwest of Lapeer.

Injured were Lester Dewey, 31; Margaret Bunch, 16, and David Farrell, 16, all of Flint. Miss Bunch and Farrell were reported in satisfactory condition and Dewey's was listed as "fair" at Lapeer County General Hospital.

The car in which they were riding was struck broadside while making a left hand turn from Hurd onto Ritchie Rd., according to Lapeer Under Sheriff Carter Scramline.

The driver of the other car, Richard H. Brower, said his view was obstructed by a dip in the road. Brower, who escaped without serious injury, was alone in his car. He was not held by police.

Barbara, who was home alone, escaped without injury.

The Flint car, his sister-in-law, Anna Dewey, 27, and her son, Lester Jr., were released after treatment at Lapeer County Hospital.

Two high school teachers from Oakland County are participating in a seven-week physics institute at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., this summer.

Donald E. Smith of 1421 Beverly Blvd., Walled Lake, and Bernard H. Sharkey, 13344 Elgin St., Huntington Woods, are attending the workshop being offered by the university through the support of the National Science Foundation.

Selected topics in classical and modern physics are being presented.

Smith teaches physics at Walled Lake Senior High School, and Sharkey at Northern High School in Detroit.

The institute will terminate Aug. 12.

Farmington Council OKs Detroit Water

FARMINGTON — A water contract with the City of Detroit has received approval from the City Council here.

The contract will become official this week when it is signed by Mayor Robert B. Lindbert and City Clerk Treva Quinn.

Detroit water is expected to be flowing into Farmington by September, with the completion of city water mains and a pumping station. The first connection with the 24-inch Detroit main was made early this month at Eight Mile and Farmington roads.

In April voters approved by the overwhelming majority of 946 to 106 a $250,000 bond issue for the construction of the internal water system.

Approval to sell the bond issue meant no increase in taxes for residents. One mill on each $1,000 of assessed valuation will be set aside in each budget for the next 15 years.

City-owned wells presently supply residents in the area with water. They will be kept in operating order in case there ever is a temporary failure in the Detroit system.

Detroit is constructing the main across Eight Mile road to bring water in from the Livonia area.

TOWNSHIP, TOO Eventually, Farmington Township will be hooked up with the Detroit system also. It had been thought that the township would receive Detroit water later this year, but it is expected now that it will be early 1961 before it could benefit from the water supply.

Councilmen here have also agreed to apply for Urban Planning Assistance to make a study of drains and sewers within the city.

The city first must apply to the State, which in turn applies to the federal government for matching funds to finance the study known as the 701 Program.

The planning assistance program has nothing to do with the Urban Renewal Program being sought by the city for the redevelopment of 55 acres in the downtown business district.

A public hearing on the proposal to get matching funds from the federal government to improve run-down areas will be held July 25 in the Farmington Junior High School at 7 p.m.

The Council will hold its regular meeting at the school following the public hearing.

Plans for the renovation of the lighted areas, prepared by Geer and Associates of Bloomfield Hills, and necessary before applying for federal money, will be discussed at the meeting.

Should the city apply to the federal government and receive urban renewal, the federal government would then pay two-thirds of the cost in the redevelopment program.

At Oxbow Pavilion

Set Political Rally Friday

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — At least 45 of 72 candidates for state, county and congressional offices in the August primary election are expected to present their platforms at a political rally Friday at the Oxbow Lake Pavilion here.

Planned as one of the largest rallies in the county before the Aug. 2 primary, the meeting is sponsored by the White Lake Township Citizens Committee.

According to Township Supervisor Edward Chey and chairman of the committee, all the candidates for county offices will be present at the meeting and at least one candidate from both the Democratic and Republican parties running for Congress.

The boy, Billy Kiser, was run over by a semi-trailer in front of his home at 301 W. Kalama St., after his father had twice asked the city to place stop signs at both corners of their block but was turned down.

The Council now has agreed to install "yield right of way" signs at the intersections of Harwood and Alger streets with Kalama street.

City Attorney H. Eugene Field was directed by the Council to draft two ordinances — one to limit parking on residential streets to only one side of the street, the other to prohibit commercial vehicles on residential streets except to make deliveries.

City Manager Richard W. Marshall said trucks frequently take short cuts over residential streets to avoid stoplights on main thoroughfares in Madison Heights.

Clawson High Principal Refuses Top Position

Clawson High School Principal John S. Volk, appointed to succeed Paul A. Schalm as superintendent of public schools in Clawson when the latter resigns the post in 1961, has declined the position.

In a prepared statement to School Board officials, Volk, who is 48, said he felt he could contribute more to the school system by re-organizing in Madison Heights, remaining as principal.

Scientists have discovered why some hard-boiled eggs are hard to peel. It all depends on how much acid is contained in the egg white. Fresh eggs have the least acid, so their shells are most likely to stick to the white.

MOSCOW (UPI) - The Soviet press today reported that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday received the delegation of the National Maritime Union of the United States led by Joseph Curran.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) - Hurricane Abby, the season's first, is expected to carry gale force winds and heavy rainfall to Jamaica today as the tropical storm's northern fringes begin to touch the island.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said Jamaican interests should remain on the alert, as well as interests in the Caymans, northeast Nicaragua and along the north coast of Honduras and the east coast of the Yucatan Peninsula.

Abby changed course a bit to the north during the night and has gained slightly in intensity. Highest winds, however, were still about 55 miles per hour near the storm's center.

Gales extend out 175 miles to the storm's northern semicircle and about 75 miles to the south. The Weather Bureau expects little change in size or intensity during the next 12 to 24 hours.

The first ambition of John L. Sullivan, a world heavyweight champion, was to be a plumber or tinsmith.

Convention Saved From Doldrums

By SAUL FEE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For a while it looked like the Democratic convention was going to give us a coast-to-coast tranquility.

But Tuesday they began to act like Democrats. They began to fight.

The day started with a debate between candidates Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy. They met in something less than mortal combat. The day ended at a convention hall with Democratic delegates fighting over civil rights. It was almost like old times.

Johnson, the gray fox of Texas, invited Kennedy to debate the issues.

It proved to be a heart-warming meeting. There they were, Johnson and Kennedy, telling each other what great friends they were, two old Senate buddies, full of mutual admiration.

It was so moving you could almost see them needle each other. But they did.

Kennedy wondered out loud about candidates who don't enter primaries, which Johnson didn't. Johnson innocently remarked on the importance of a good Senate attendance record, which Kennedy hasn't had lately.

Meanwhile, back in the Convention hall, the second session moved along with all the alacrity of a dying elephant. Speakers got the same rapt attention Americans usually reserve for TV commercials.

The delegates milled in the aisles. They clustered around TV sets clustering around somebody on camera. They took pictures of each other posing with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and other celebrities to impress the folks back home. They ogled Frank Sinatra and Peter Lawford, who wandered around wearing buttons which said, "Best Khrushchev."

ARMED AND DANGEROUS

Temporary Chairman Frank Church, the boy senator from Idaho, begged the delegates to clear the aisles. They didn't. He got mad and threatened to call the cops. But the aisles remained clogged as if it were dollar-day at Tiffany's.

Another speaker, Philip P. Flikentz, 37, high school credit from Muskogee, Okla., proved it was possible to look younger than Frank Church and still wear long pants.

But it was Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, the permanent chairman, who had the roughest time holding or finding his audience. He stopped himself, pounded the gavel, and begged the delegates to align somewhere.

STEVENSON CHEERED. Then he was apalled by Eleanor Roosevelt. Her entrance brought a big roar while delegates turned their backs on Collins.

Mercifully, the governor was allowed to finish before Adlai E. Stevenson entered and received a huge, 20-minute ovation. Adlai got off the best crack of the convention so far. After getting in and out of the crowd at the convention headquarters, he said, "I know who will be nominated—it will be the last survivor."

Then the convention went to sleep again while platform Chairman Chester Bowles read the platform and showed movies. I haven't been so stirred since my Aunt Elvira showed me her home movies of her trip to Oshkosh.

But there was fight left in the Old Democrats yet. Five Southern delegates stomped to the platform to demand that the civil rights plank be killed. Six Northern delegates argued against them. The chair finally put it to a vote. My steno-grapher detected little differences between roars of "yea" and "nay," but the chair ruled that Dixie had lost again.

The Southerners screamed they were robbed. They booed, whistled, sneered, shook angry fists. But no one fired on Ft. Sumter.

Central Committee Meets in Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party's Central Committee met in the Kremlin today to review the progress of industrial, transport and production development ordered by the last party congress.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the meeting began with a brief statement by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the party Central Committee.

Car License Takes Trip but Returns to Owners

LUXEMBURG, Wis. (U) — The license plate on Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Kopp's car traveled considerably farther than they did on a recent trip to the Southwest.

The plate fell off somewhere along the way. It was mailed back recently by Harry McClelland of Spokane, Wash., who told of finding it near Carlsbad, N. M.

He affixed a mailing sticker directly to the metal, addressed it to the Wisconsin Traffic Patrol and asked that it be forwarded to the owner.

To Post Bond in Bomb Case

Two Picked Up as They Start to Light Fuse of Negro College

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An attorney has promised to post bond today for two men charged with the attempted bombing of a Negro college.

Police posted an investigation of a blast which damaged a school district storage building. There was no indication the attempted bombing and the actual blast were linked.

Emmett E. Miller, 44, and Robert Lloyd Parks, 38, both of West Memphis, remained in jail overnight in lieu of $20,000 each. Hugh Lynn Adams, 33, of Bassett, Ark., posted $3,000 bond Tuesday at Forrest City.

Miller and Parks were arrested by FBI agents early Tuesday as they were about to light the fuse of a homemade bomb at Philander Smith College for Negroes. Adams, charged as an accomplice, was arrested about the same time at his home in Bassett.

The men were the first to be charged under a provision of the 1960 federal civil rights act prohibiting interstate transportation of explosives. The FBI said they had bought the dynamite in Memphis, Tenn.

Scientist to Get Medal for 18-Year-Old Process

Antiradar Invention Wins High Honor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A brilliant scientist today receives one of the nation's highest honors for an antiradar invention so vital that it is still classified as a top secret.

Rear Adm. Walter F. Roper, commander of 11th Naval District air bases, will give Dr. Otto Halpern a special Defense Department medal in ceremonies at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The fact that Dr. Halpern had to fight for 18 years for his right to the honor is of no significance to him today.

"Wouldn't it be ungracious of me to complain," he said in an interview Tuesday, "when the Defense Department is 'doing everything it can now to make up for those bitter years?'"

A year ago Dr. Halpern was awarded $30,000 by the Defense Department in settlement of his 18-year court battle for recognition as inventor of a material that helped U.S. planes and ships evade enemy radar in World War II and the Korean conflict.

At the time, the then secretary of defense, Neil McElroy, sent Halpern a letter of appreciation saying his ideas continue to be the basis of research in radar defense.

NOT BITTER
Does he feel any bitterness that recognition came so late?

"Not at all," says the sprightly, tiny metallic flakes which is applied to ships, planes and ground installations to absorb radar waves.

A theoretical physicist, he developed his idea while working at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1941, and it was this rubber-like coating that was put to work by the navy.

Movie Star Ann Blyth Once Dated Kennedy

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—One movie star able to boast of having dated Sen. John Kennedy is Ann Blyth, and she is outspokenly in favor of Sen. Kennedy for president.

Shortly after World War II, when the senator was a bachelor and Ann was as pretty a starlet as Hollywood could muster, they had several dinner dates, and became friends.

There was no romance, but Ann, wide-eyed and soft-spoken, has been a Kennedy fan ever since.

"He is a wonderful man," she said. "He's intelligent, able and sincere. I think he has all the qualities of a presidential candidate."

Ann is among a handful of movie and TV stars willing to state a preference for potential candidates. Most celebrities keep their politics to themselves.

They figure few Americans will become fans simply because a star supports a particular candidate. Conversely, many stars believe they will lose fans by stating a preference.

Among movietown's Democrats, Adlai Stevenson seems to be the favorite.

Producer-director Dore Schary has been a dedicated campaigner for Stevenson. Also working on his behalf are Jan Sterling and Shirley Maclaine.

Other Stevenson followers are Robert Ryan, Stan Freberg, Hope Lange, Inger Stevens, Jack Lemmon and John Forsythe.

Elvis Presley isn't talking. But his manager, Colonel Tom Parker, is a staunch Lyndon Johnson man. Fellow Texan Audie Murphy also is a Johnson supporter.

In the Kennedy camp are Peter Lawford, the senator's brother-in-law; Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis Jr. and Milton Berle.

Doris Day put forth the majority argument best, saying, "I have political convictions, but they are my business. I don't think my support would help any candidate, so I never even state whether I am a Republican or Democrat. But I do contribute financially to the support of the man I think is best suited for the job."

Among other noncommittal stars are Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Jack Benny, George Burns, Rock Hudson, Kim Novak, Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and Charlton Heston.

Jayne Mansfield provided a zany note.

"I like 'em all," she giggled. "They're all very nice men and I think it's a shame each and every one of them can't be president."

5 Children Bowled Over by Bolt of Lightning

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A lightning bolt stunned five children under a tree in a Wichita park during a severe thunderstorm Tuesday. None was hurt seriously.

Policeman Earl Lathrom, checking on an auto accident nearby, saw the bolt strike.

What a Crummy Trail!

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Patrolman Vernon Nix easily found the thieves after a parked bakery truck was looted Tuesday. Three boys left a trail of cookies, cakes and maple sticks.

What a Treat! Fresh Breakfast Doughnuts

Fresh yeast-raised doughnuts are a treat from our new, turn breakfast into something really special. This doesn't mean that the cook has to get up at cockcrow in order to make the doughnuts. With a little planning and evening-before preparation, plus a recipe that needs only one rising, the doughnuts can be made in slightly more than an hour. Biggest problem will be keeping them from disappearing before you're ready to serve them!

Here's how to manage it. The evening before, measure the milk into a small pan and set it hot to the margarine and eggs in the refrigerator, so that all may be taken out at one time. Combine with salt and spices in a small bowl, and set out, along with the sifted measured flour.

Next morning, mix and cut out the doughnuts, and when they rise, prepare the shortening for frying, set the table, put the coffee on, etc. etc.

The recipe below makes dolefully tender, tasty doughnuts. So don't keep it just for breakfast special; serve Speedy Doughnuts any time of day from breakfast to TV snack time.

Speedy Doughnuts
1 cup milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon allspice

1 cup (1 stick) margarine or butter
1 package of cake yeast, active dry or 2 eggs, unbeaten
Sifted flour

Sifted milk, and sugar, salt, spices and margarine or butter; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast).

Scrub or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved.

Add 2 cups of the flour to lukewarm milk mixture; beat until smooth. Add eggs and yeast; beat well. Add remaining flour to make stiff batter. Beat until smooth.

Handling gently, roll out 1/4 inch thick on well floured board. Cut with floured doughnut cutter. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Drop with spatula into deep hot fat (365 degrees). Fry until golden brown, about 3 minutes; turn and brown other side. Drain on absorbent paper. Toss in confectioners' sugar or cinnamon-sugar mixture. Makes 2 to 2 1/2 dozen doughnuts.

You'll need much less sugar to give iced tea or coffee the desired sweetness if you dissolve the sugar in hot water beforehand.

Take Good Care of That Ice Cream

Large milk supplies in summer bring more milk than we usually drink, reports the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Part of the "extra" milk is made into ice cream to satisfy summer appetites.

If you have a freezer and store ice cream, remember it should be held a zero degrees and used within three to four weeks. If you keep ice cream in the freezing unit of amount of lightly salted boiling water. Drain, pressing down into a wooden spoon to are all members of the salami better if you remove it from the carton, pack into ice cube trays not have completely dry. Return and cover with foil or transparent film to keep it air tight.

Toss Spinach With Egg and Grated Cheese

Tossing Spinach
1 package (10 ounces) frozen spinach
2 eggs
3 to 4 tablespoons freshly grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
Pepper

Cook spinach according to package directions but use a large salami. Gently, core out, pepper, water. Drain, pressing down into a wooden spoon to are all members of the salami better if you remove it from the carton, pack into ice cube trays not have completely dry. Return and cover with foil or transparent film to keep it air tight.

yellow; stir in grated cheese. Reheat spinach, turning with a fork; remove from heat. Stir in thoroughly the egg-cheese mixture. Return to very low heat, tossing with a fork, until just heated through again.

Do not use high heat or boil, or mixture will curdle. Add more salt if necessary and pepper to taste. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Sausage Lesson

For your information... Genoa salami, Mortadella and Landjaeger are all members of the salami family. These sausages are ready-to-eat and are excellent year-round for sandwiches, omelets, scrambled eggs, and appetizers, or poultry to be pan-fried.

Europe and Asia Meet in American Recipe

Cut 1 4-ounce can of Vienna-style sausages into thin slices. Drain 1 No. 303 can of bean sprouts thoroughly. Add sliced sausages and bean sprouts to 6 eggs and mix well. Add 1 tablespoon of soy sauce and turn the mixture into a frying-pan greased with 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine. Cook, stirring occasionally until thickened.

Heat 1 4-ounce can of Vienna-style sausages. Turn the omelet onto a hot platter and garnish it with the whole sausages. Yield: 6 servings.

Chili powder gives good flavor when used in flour seasoned with salt and pepper for coating meat or poultry to be pan-fried.

Despite Record Expansion

Supermarket Profits Are Falling Off

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business New Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The grocery customer—and who isn't?—finds his and her store ever fancier these days and often more efficient.

Some of the supermarkets may hulk you and accompanying small fry with piped-in music or entice you with an ever wider variety of food products—and nonfood items. But while the food chains go on spreading and coping an impressive share of total grocery sales, behind their suave fronts are increasing problems that the music—or even the cash register jingle—doesn't hulk.

The grocery chains boast that in the 1950s they expanded faster than any other form of retail trade. But with that growth they face today a squeeze on profits.

Example: the largest chain (A&P) reports earnings in its latest quarter were off 4.5 per cent from the spring weeks of 1959 and its total net income last year was 1 per cent of sales volume.

Food's share of the basic standard of living was 24.3 per cent in 1959 and 23.1 per cent in 1958. Its share may shrink a bit more this year, in spite of the Grocery Manufacturers of America's prediction that 1960 will see another record spending for food.

In 1959 food chain store sales rose 5 per cent over 1958 to a record 19 1/2 billion dollars, or 39 per cent of total grocery store sales. But profit margins of all but one of the 10 largest chains were under 2 per cent of sales.

Some food chain battles, like those over trading stamps and private labels vs. national brands, seem to be in the true stage at the moment.

While some food chains still fight trading stamps, their wide acceptance is hailed by executives of the Trading Stamp Institute of America at its annual meeting in Atlantic City this week.

They report that last year saw a 10 per cent increase in the number of savers (estimated at 39,457,000 families) and a five per cent growth in the number of food chains and supermarkets using them.

Now they hope that vending machines boosting currency recognition and change making may spur further automation and prepackaging. This may help fight off the pinch on profits arising from increasing cost of new store construction, higher wages, new services and promotion hoopla.

To fight off the saturation threat the chains are keeping a closer watch on trading areas and their population growth and changes. The chains moved fast into the supermarket field and now operate 13,000, or 62 per cent of the 22,000 total. (A super is defined as having annual sales of $75,000 or more.) The largest chains are predicting that this year they'll average one million dollars in sales per supermarket.

But there's an opposite trend, too. For shoppers in a hurry or averse to toting heavy food parcels across big parking lots some chains are putting up drive-in stores or bantam markets stocked with the more popular brands only.

And the food industry as a whole is counting on improved packaging and processing, more convenient product and continued upgrading of diet coupled with a growing population given to large families, to bring 1970's food distribution bill to 115 billion dollars, against today's 72 billion dollars.

New Products Parade for Your Approval

By JANET ODELL

Postage From Home Editor
Always something new to report to you. This food business is such an exciting one. Everyone HAS to be interested to some extent — we all eat.

Your children will enjoy the newest ready-to-eat cereal, sugar-coated star-shaped oat cereal. We've seen it in local stores. The company that puts it out suggests all the special foods? The latest you serve breakfast parfaits. Lay is strained cereal with fruit.

You've all used the little packages of salad dressing mix, we're sure. Just last week a new one it with ice cream instead of the milk.

Last week we received an convenient ring mold made of flexible plastic; it will serve 10-12 people. There's a cup-shaped bowl that fits in the center hole. This makes the mold useful as a dip and snack tray with the dip in the bowl and the snacks in the ring mold.

Babies certainly are entered to these days. How did the older generation ever grow up without them? Just last week a new one it with ice cream instead of the milk.

Last week we received an

Hearty Macaroni Salad
1 envelope onion, sliced, drained, mix vinegar, water and oil
2 quarts (12 cups) water
1 tablespoon salt
2 cups elbow macaroni
1/2 cup sliced celery
1/4 cup grated carrot
1 cup sliced radishes
1 cup mayonnaise
2 cups bite-size pieces salad greens
2 hard-cooked eggs, quartered small green pepper, cut in thin strips

Prepare salad dressing mix with vinegar, water and oil as directed on envelope or crust. Measure 1/2 cup and set aside.

Bring water and salt to a boil in a 4-quart saucepan. Gradually add the macaroni. Cook until tender, stirring occasionally. Drain macaroni, rinse with cold water and drain again. Add 1/2 cup of the salad dressing to the cooked macaroni and let stand to marinate several hours or overnight.

When ready to serve salad, combine macaroni with dressing, the celery, carrot and radishes. Blend remaining 1/4 cup salad dressing with the mayonnaise. Pour over the macaroni mixture and toss together. Serve salad with salad greens. Garnish with eggs and green pepper. Makes 6 to 8 entree salads.

Coming last on the list as dessert before starting to bake. This keeps the menu in the new ice cream treat. Toffee candy which serves out of the cookie. Bake and you have enjoyed for years has only 10 minutes.

Good Sugar Cookies Are Thin and Bake Fast

A good sugar cookie is water thin, delicately browned and crisp. Instead of rolling the dough and cutting each cookie, try dropping the mixture by rounded teaspoonfuls on a lightly greased baking sheet. Grease the bottom of a glass, dip the glass in sugar and flatten each cookie as thin as possible.

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees before starting to bake. This keeps the cookies from melting and shortening out of the cookie. Bake and you have enjoyed for years has only 10 minutes.

Buttery Cereal Bits
Garnish Spring Salad

Salad-making is one of the most creative of the culinary arts. There's just no end to the number of tasty and pretty combinations that you can dream-up.

Take the Golden Green Salad, for instance. The golden squares of bite-size toasted corn cereal have been heated in marjoram-flavored butter. Then they're added to the salad at the last minute. The crisp texture and delicate corn and herb flavors do wonderful things for the early spring greens, sharp cheese and hard-cooked eggs.

This is just the basic recipe.

Maybe you will want to substitute basil, thyme or perhaps a seasoned salt for marjoram. Corn flavor is extremely affable, you know, and mixes well with just about any seasoning.

You can serve a different salad every day in the week by varying the greens, the kind of cheese and the herbs for flavoring the crisp bite-size corn cereal.

Golden Green Salad

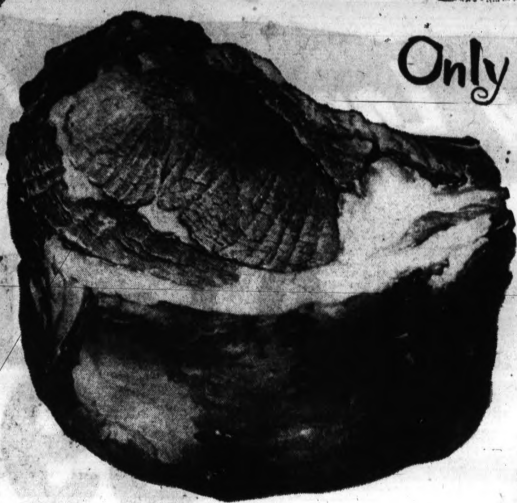

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon powdered marjoram
3 cups bite-size toasted corn cereal

Melt butter in skillet over low heat. Stir in 1/4 teaspoon salt and marjoram. Add corn cereal. Stir until thoroughly coated. Continue to heat and stir occasionally for 5 minutes. Spread on absorbent paper to cool.

Combine lettuce, spinach, onion, eggs, and cheese. Chill. Add 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, dressing, and cereal. Toss lightly. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

Good Insulation

Newspapers are good insulation for keeping picnic foods hot or cold for short periods of time. Use several layers wrapped tightly about trays of ice cubes or a box dish.

Chilled Salads Are Ideal for Hot Days

Be it patio party, picnic or just plain family supper, nothing takes your mind off the heat better than a tart n' tasty chilled salad served up on fresh, crisp lettuce.

Often, however, a summer salad, no matter how nutritious, looks colorless and uninteresting, and does little to spark appetites dulled by the heat.

Here are two delicious salads whose very names make you feel cooler. They're made colorful with easy-to-fix frozen green peas, and given plenty of taste appeal by the imaginative use of spices and salad dressings. Try them on your family and friends, and watch them disappear!

Italian Jade Salad

16-ounce package frozen green peas
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sliced green onions
1 cup sliced celery
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon ground tarragon
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 cup dry white wine
1 cup Italian or garlic dressing

Place unfrozen peas in saucepan with water, sugar and salt. Cover and bring quickly to a boil over high heat, separating peas with a fork, if necessary, to hasten drawing. Reduce heat and simmer 3-4 minutes.

Turn peas immediately into a refrigerator container with ice cubes. Chill thoroughly and refrigerate until ready to use.

Prepare a marinade of wine and remaining seasonings. Pour over onions, celery and pimiento in a jar with a tight cover and refrigerate for several hours, stirring occasionally so that all of the vegetables are seasoned.

At serving time, add the Italian or Garlic Dressing to the marinated vegetables. Mix well. Drain chilled peas, and toss all together lightly. Serve on crisp lettuce cups. (Serves four).

Frosty Favorite

16-ounce package frozen green peas
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cucumber chopped fine
1 teaspoon ground rosemary
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 cup garlic or Italian dressing

Place unfrozen peas in saucepan with water, sugar and salt. Cover and bring quickly to a boil over high heat, separating peas with a fork, if necessary, to hasten thawing. Reduce heat and simmer 3-4 minutes. Turn peas immediately into a refrigerator container with ice cubes. Chill thoroughly and refrigerate until ready to use. Mix cheese, cucumber, rosemary and monosodium glutamate. Add chilled peas, drained, and toss lightly with Garlic or Italian Dressing. (Serves four)

Fix Pineapple Melbas for Summer Dessert

Easy to prepare and pretty to serve are Pineapple Melbas. Drain slices of canned pineapple and arrange on individual plates. Top each slice with a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Pour a puree of raspberries over ice cream.

The raspberry puree can be made by whirling a package of frozen berries in a blender or forcing them through a sieve. If you are not counting calories, garnish with whipped cream.

Variety of Cheeses Tempt the Consumer

There are 18 distinct types of cheese; many of them in your markets, says Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Agent. These types are given several hundred different names. Statistics show we're each eating about twice as much cheese as people did 20 years ago. And we're experimenting with kinds that are new to us.

Modern packaging has made it economical to use cheese. We can buy a small portion of an old favorite, or try an unfamiliar cheese without wasting what won't be used at one meal. Another advantage of modern packaging is that cheese can be aged to perfection-for-life, type, and the aging process halted at the moment of packaging. In contrast, homemakers of yesterday couldn't be certain from week to week, of the quality or condition of the cheese she'd buy.

Tuna Waldorf Salad

If you're watching calories, Tuna Waldorf is for you. Drain one 8-ounce can tuna; flake and combine with 1/2 cup diced apples, 1/4 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts and 1/4 cup mayonnaise that has been seasoned with fresh lemon juice.

Wisconsin produces about 50 per cent of the cheese in the United States.

Ice Cream Soup

Keep cans of your favorite creamed soup on ice during warm weather. Stir in 1/4 teaspoon marjoram, curry, tarragon or sweet basil for surprise summery touch. Serve soup as a beverage in tall tapered glasses or squat handled glasses for easy sipping.

To Decorate a Cake

Pretty and easy cake decoration: Cut soaked prunes into long petal shapes and arrange in flower design with small colored candies (chocolate-colored) for flower centers over frosting.

See Civil Rights Stand Boost to Williams for VP

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Michigan Democrats today hailed the civil rights plank adopted by the party's national convention as a major "liberal" victory enhanced by Gov. G. Mennen Williams' chances for landing the vice presidential nomination.

Williams and other top party leaders from Michigan also said the state's 51-vote delegation remained firmly committed to Sen. John F. Kennedy as balloting for the presidential nomination got under way today.

Mon got under way today. "debate" between Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and the demonstration staged for Adlai E. Stevenson on the convention floor Tuesday night had not caused any discernible wavering among delegates committed to Kennedy.

The Massachusetts senator got 42 of Michigan's votes on a caucus roll call Monday and the delegation was to be polled again today, just before the balloting begins.

August Scholle, a delegate, a former Stevenson supporter and president of the state AFL-CIO, said the demonstration staged for Stevenson Tuesday night was "a manifestation of the respect which Stevenson deserves from the delegates. But even as late as tonight Stevenson has failed to encourage his supporters for the nomination," Scholle said.

Williams, who had no success when he helped launch a fight for a strong civil rights plank in 1952, hailed the statement adopted as "a historic breakthrough in man's eternal quest for justice and the realization of his rights."

"At long last we have a platform which pulls no punches," he said. National Committeewoman Thomas H. E. Quimby and State Chairman Neil Stiebler said the Michigan delegation was "completely delighted" with the civil rights plank.

Stiebler said, "This is what Williams has been fighting for, for years."

Sen. Phil Hart said that "If we are seeking a man for the vice presidency whom the platform fits to a 'T,'" then we've got him; it's Williams."

Quimby said that as a result of the "liberal" victory on civil rights he felt Williams was "very much in the running for the vice presidential nomination."

The Michigan delegation was host Tuesday night at a reception for other state delegations and all visitors were given pamphlets listing Williams' qualifications for second spot on the ticket.

Outside the Michigan delegation, however, there appeared to be almost no discussion of Williams as a vice presidential possibility.

Ike Signs Medical Research Measure

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law a bill setting up a new program of international medical research.

The program would be financed largely through U. S.-owned foreign currencies obtained for surplus farm commodities which this country sends abroad.

The program would support planning for research into disease and disease prevention on a world wide basis, and encourage international coordination of medical research programs.

Pen, Unsigned Note Mailed to Post Office

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Postmaster Frank A. Fairley opened a letter addressed to the post office and out dropped a ball point pen attached to a chain. Enclosed was this note:

"Other night I had to take the pen from the post office because my fountain pen became dry. Of course that's a low excuse. It was late at night and I had to write. Anyway, I'm very sorry, thank you anyway."

The note was unsigned.

Oakwood Manor Assn. Approves Small-Car Track

Members of the Oakwood Manor subdivision association who complained to the Waterford Township Board about noise from a small car race track on Telegraph Road at Dixie Highway have given their approval for permanent operation of the track.

Owner of the quarter-mile track, Carlton E. Everett had been issued a ten-day probationary license by the township providing that he install sound proof mufflers on his six, six-cylinder gasolene cars. Everett told the Board the installations had been completed.

In approving the track operation, the Board stipulated that all operations must end by 10:30 nightly, with no racing permitted. The cars will be restricted to customers for pleasure riding only.

In other business, a request for a license to open a used car lot at 4500 Dixie Highway was approved for the owners, Royce Haskins and Robert Giroux. An other request for a used car license, at 457 Elizabeth Lake Road, was turned down due to inadequate sanitary facilities. The Board said.

Four township policemen were granted an annual pay increase of $150 each. The policemen, Arthur Holmes, Ronald Freeman, Thomas Farrell and Richard Beckman, were hired at a starting salary of $4,800 six months ago. They now will receive $5,050.

The Board approved the low bid of $11,382 and awarded a contract to the A & S Paving company of Birmingham for blacktopping 1,400 feet of winding street. The bid does not include engineering fees. Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson was authorized to set up a special assessment district for presentation to the Board next Monday.

The Board also approved $320 for repairing the township hall roof. The Southwestern Petroleum company has been hired to do the work.

Kansas Man Drowns Boating at Belle Isle

DETROIT (UPI)—A 23-year-old man drowned yesterday at Detroit's Belle Isle Park while canoeing.

Robert W. Smith of McVey, Kan., drowned when the canoe in which he was riding overturned Tuesday morning.

He was dead on arrival at Douglas Hospital. Smith was with his cousin Franklin Jameson, 26, and a friend, James Harris, 28.

The canoe overturned and none of the men could swim. Smith waded into deeper water by accident. Attempts at reviving him by a passer-by failed.

Don't Eat the Daisies—May Be Poisonous

LANSING (AP)—"Please Don't Eat the Daisies," said the State Health Department today.

Daisies or any other flowers on greenery around the yard may be sprayed with poisonous insecticides and pesticides, the Department said in urging parents to pass on the warning to their children.

Some plants themselves contain poison.

When spraying flowers or vegetables, keep the children out of the area, health authorities said. Inhaling some spray materials can cause illness or, rarely, death.

Poisonous sprays should be kept in locked cabinets, or at least out of children's reach.

Could Make Kennedy Seem Older

His Ideas Improve TV Images

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK—John E. McCarthy, director of a new service called "Executives on Camera," has been dubbed "the Boss" by the media. McCarthy's ideas for improving the TV image of our presidential hopefuls are being widely discussed.

And how Nixon, by correcting one unfortunate gesture, could appear more sincere.

He was slow to comment on these political figures, since his specialty is giving "an ideal corporate image" to TV-shy business wheels, but under persistent questioning McCarthy admitted:

"Sen. Kennedy's problem—and I can't understand why his advisers haven't corrected it—is that he talks like a man of 30—fast. And at a televised press conference, he feels impelled to glance around at the whole group when he answers a question, instead of keeping his gaze concentrated on the questioner."

"This quick, flicking-glance technique, combined with his hurried speech, gives him the air of eager youth. He could have white hair and he'd still be looked on as a colleague because of his manner."

"Kennedy should take a page out of President Eisenhower's book—concentrate on the more measured, glacial, but chary, with the just famous smile, talk with deliberation."

As for Nixon, McCarthy believes that "his personal sincerity is covered over with a surface manner that makes him look at times almost—well, shifty. He has a tendency, after being asked a question, to look quickly away and then back at the questioner."

"It is almost unnoticeable, as a single gesture. But when he does it often enough the total effect on the watcher is one of evasiveness."

But the problems of experienced politicians are minor compared with those of McCarthy's clients, top-echelon businessmen—presidents, board chairmen, sales managers of large companies—who more and more are being called upon to sell ideas, and themselves as leaders, on closed circuit television.

"Most of these businessmen have made speeches most of their lives, sometimes before great audiences in huge auditoriums," McCarthy says. "But the minute they get before a camera, they develop the great stone face. And other mannerisms."

"For instance, everyone tends to be a little nervous when he gives a speech. If he weren't nervous, the speech probably wouldn't be as charged with excitement."

"But what happens when he gets nervous? His head is likely to bob. He is likely to gesture a great deal. He talks fast so his lips get dry, and he licks them frequently."

"In an auditorium, no one like it there."

would care. But on camera, every unnecessary gesture looks idiotic. Head-bobbing is ludicrous. And lip-licking can be almost revolting."

"The television camera doesn't concentrate on the more measured, glacial, but chary, with the just famous smile, talk with deliberation."

Since television is the greatest "lie-detector" of personality this side of the FBI, any hint of insincerity also is obvious in the face of an executive. But this pretension, to look quickly away and then back at the questioner.

"So that's no problem. The only problem is to make them see that if they head-bob, mouth-twitch, ear-twig and lip-lick—their hearts won't be, according to and souls don't show up to the McCarthy, who was a veteran best advantage."

radio-TV performer, director and producer before he began to shape corporate images.

"Most business executives, as possibly distinctive from some politicians, are heart-and-soul sincere about their work. They are authoritative. They have that old-fashioned 'We can make it, fellows' outlook."

"So that's no problem. The only problem is to make them see that if they head-bob, mouth-twitch, ear-twig and lip-lick—their hearts won't be, according to and souls don't show up to the McCarthy, who was a veteran best advantage."

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

"Q. We are told that it is possible for our horse to be lame without our being able to recognize it. Is this so?"

A. Slight, but painful lameness in a horse can go undetected. If you're in doubt, try the method I've used successfully for many years: Walk, or trot your horse on a hard surface.

The sound of the hooves should have a rhythmic, uninterupted beat. You won't need a musical appreciation course to recognize the staccato, off-beat patter of the lame horse. In that case, close your eyes and familiarize yourself with the sound for a few minutes.

Open your eyes when the sour note hits, and the lame leg will be obvious. You will also notice the horse nod his head as the good leg comes down.

Most lameness occurs in the forelegs, and the horse will tread lighter on the affected leg than on its companion. Ninety per cent of all lameness is in the foot, and often it is difficult to diagnose unless the shoe is removed. Doing this before the veterinarian arrives will save time for everyone.

Hero Dog 'Jiro' Dies in Japanese Antarctic Journey

TOKYO (AP)—Japan was saddened Tuesday by a report of the death of one of the huskies with the Japanese antarctic expedition.

A report to the Antarctic expedition headquarters here from Showa Base said the dog "Jiro" died last Saturday of weakened heart. He was four years and two months old.

Jiro last year became Japan's hero when he was found alone in the antarctic. He was one of two out of 15 dogs abandoned on the island early in 1958 to survive. The other dog is Taro, still healthy.

Urban Renewal Group Aids Grand Rapids Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Urban Renewal Administration announced approval of a $2,696,455 loan and a $1,904,841 grant to Grand Rapids, Mich., to finance its 65-acre Grand River slum clearance project.

The area contains 470 dwelling units, many of which are substandard. The 369 families living in the area will be offered relocation in suitable quarters. The land, after being cleared, will be re-used for industrial purposes.

From The PRESS BOX

Michigan State has announced a schedule of seven dual meets, one double dual and two tournaments for the 1961-62 wrestling season. The school will host the Big Ten championships March 24.

Pete Wonders, a 1959 All-State footballer who has a scholarship to Michigan State, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon in a freak accident near Iron Mountain. Wonders on the front bumper of a moving car trying to rope a horse when he slipped and fell beneath the car which went over him.

The Los Angeles Rams and Dallas Cowboys will play an exhibition game in Pendleton, Ore. Sept. 4. The site was switched from Albuquerque, N.M. New Mexico State, placing specialist Dan Villaverde signed with L. A. yesterday.

Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah today took a one-stroke lead into the final 36 holes of the French Open Golf Championship at Paris. He has 128 for two rounds to 137 for Leopold Rufo of Argentina.

The St. Louis Hawks have placed eight-year veteran Jack McMahon on waivers. If not picked up, the cager will be made a free agent.

83 Card Wins WDGA's Round for Mrs. Hilkene

Her 42 on the first nine, at Dearborn Country Club yesterday proved the winning margin for Mrs. Bruce Hilkene of Indianapolis, CC, in the Detroit District Golf Assn. weekly tournament. Mrs. Hilkene carded an 83 for the round to edge Mrs. John Hume Jr., by one stroke.

The Indianwood player and Mrs. Hume each had 41s on the back nine, but Mrs. Hilkene shot 42 to take a one-stroke edge on the opener.

Cards of the championship flight.

Tigers Promote Hurler Regan

Joins Club Friday; May Place Foytack on Disabled List

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers today recalled right-hander Phil Regan of Wayland, Mich., from their Denver farm club in the American Association.

Veteran Paul Foytack, who has only one victory and one complete game in 10 starts, may be placed on the disabled list to make room for Regan.

President Bill DeWitt and assistant Rick Ferrell were out of the city and not available for comment, but there have been reports that Foytack's arm has not been sound. He has a 1-7 record.

Regan will return in time for Friday night's game against the New York Yankees.

He is 21 and has a 9-3 record with the Denver club. Appearing in 23 games, Regan has pitched 36 and one-third innings, yielded 92 hits and 41 runs, 33 of them earned.

He has struck out 62 and walked 30 and has an earned run average of 3.10.

Race Driver Hurt When Horse Bolts

DETROIT (AP)—Jake Desbetsky, 44-year-old North Branch, Mich., driver, was injured critically last night in the sixth harness race at Northville Downs.

Desbetsky was hospitalized with a fractured skull and brain concussion after his horse, El Picaro, suddenly made a break and fell. Desbetsky, a father of three, was thrown from his sulky and under his horse.

NL Victors Finish Strong

It was an all-National League schedule in city softball last night and the wins went to Huron Bowl. First Presbyterian, Phillips' Lutheran and O'Neil Realty.

Huron got rolling after trailing 3-0 and combined its four hits in two three-run frames downing Universal Oil, 6-3.

The Presbyterian boys were down 4-1 in the 6th inning when they exploded for three tallies to beat Herk's Auto Parts, 5-4. Ray Be-Vault and Chuck Young belted

HE MAKES IT — Mike Andonian (above) of Pontiac slipped to a 78 Tuesday at Honolulu in the National Public Links qualifiers, but still managed to qualify for match play with a 36-hole score of 150. Wally Smith of Pontiac also managed to qualify after a sudden-death playoff. See story on page 39.

'Amateur Day' Program Slated Sunday

Full Afternoon of Baseball Set for Jaycee Park

City's Annual Diamond Show Will Feature 10 Games in 6 Classes

A full afternoon of baseball is in store for city fans this Sunday when the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department conducts its annual "Amateur Day" festivities at Jaycee Park.

There will be baseball in all age groups, ranging from nine-year-olds to adults.

A total of 10 games in six classes is scheduled during the course of the afternoon with the big diamond show getting under way at 1:30 p.m.

Two all-star games will highlight the baseball card.

The Knights of Columbus, defending Class A City League champions and front-runners in the current race, will meet the Class B All-Stars at 3:30 on Jaycee's No. 1 diamond.

Pontiac Business Institute, present pace-setter in the "B" loop, will meet the Class B All-Stars at the same time on the No. 2 diamond.

Three Widge games involving boys 9-11 years old will be held on the No. 3 softball field at 1:30, 2:30 and 4:30. The Fireballs meet Rappys, the Pontiac Tigers play Preston Boys, and the city Boys Club faces the Hudson Hornets, in that order.

Pontiac Boys Club and Tel-Huron Tigers meet in Class 2 at 1:30 on the No. 1 baseball field and at the same hour Powell Trucking and Don Nicholich collide in Class 3 on the 2nd baseball field.

Class F games on the No. 1 softball diamond include:

Disco Dairy Dodgers vs. Baldwin E.U.B., 1:30; Tigers vs. Civic Bears, 3:00; Northside Kiwanis vs. Pontiac Police, 4:30.

Three Birdies in Row Win Tourney for Ziske

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., birdied the last three holes and won the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. division of the third annual Hoosier Celebrities tournament by four strokes Tuesday.

Her 36-33-69 was a ladies' record for the Fort Wayne Country Club. It was worth a $600 slice of the $4,000 prize money.

A two-run triple by Dick Elliot and Mike Taylor's homer in the 7th broke up a nip-and-tuck affair and gave Phillips' a 6-3 verdict over Langford's Boat Livery. Victor Fred Cox got three straight batters in the 7th.

Blue Star Drive-In scored first off O'Neil took over from there to triumph, 4-1. Bill Hall got a home run and single to spark the win.

doublet and Al Olsen had a triple in rally. Winner Lowell Vollmar had little trouble in the 7th.

The Presbyterian boys were down 4-1 in the 6th inning when they exploded for three tallies to beat Herk's Auto Parts, 5-4. Ray Be-Vault and Chuck Young belted

Nationals Seek Sweep of Series at Yankee Park

But 1959 PGA Champ May Get Rolling in Western Open

It's Bad Year for Rosburg

DETROIT—Injuries, illness and inactivity have made paddy Bob Rosburg almost an unknown, relatively speaking, on the 1960 professional golf tour.

The defending PGA champion has had a hand injury, a stomach disorder and a run of no-no golf — and has made only $3,000 on the tour this year. His best showing was a tie for third place in the New Orleans Open and a tie for fourth in the Memphis event.

Rosburg won the PGA tournament last year at Minneapolis and will defend his crown next week at Akron, Ohio. His 1959 earnings exceeded $20,000.

Rosburg is in Detroit for the Western Open, and it might not be a bad bet to wager that he'll be a strong contender.

It was on this same Western Golf and Country Club course that Rosburg won the Motor City Open in 1956, beating Ed Furgel in a sudden death playoff. They tied at 284, four under par after the regulation 72 holes.

Summer weather agrees with Rosburg. The former Stanford baseball player — he still uses a baseball grip on his golf clubs — always plays best in the hot weather. He can't explain it.

The weather prediction for the Western Open is the hot and muggy type, and Rosburg is ready for his own hot streak.

Rosburg did not have to qualify for the Western, which begins Thursday and runs through Sunday with $5,000 top prize money in the $25,000 field.

But 125 others had to battle it out yesterday for 60 places over

Western's 6,800-yard course with its 35-72 par. Including ties, 72 qualified and the starting field will be 161.

There would have been 162 in the starting field, but Dow Finsterwald notified tournament officials yesterday that he was withdrawing from the event to remain at the Requesta, Fla., home with his wife, who gave birth to a baby Monday. A cut at 36 holes reduces the field to the low 70 and ties and a cut at 54 holes will trim it to the low 50 and ties. Eighty-six players were exempt from qualifying.

The best score was 69, shot by four players. They were John Dwyer of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; Jim Williams Jr. of Grose Ile, Mich.; Juan Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Dick Landahl of California. It took a score of 76 to qualify.

Although he putted badly, Pontiac Country Club pro Frank (Red) Wilson managed to qualify for the Western Open by shooting 36-39, three over par. Wilson birdied the 8th, 9th and 10th holes, but three-putted Nos. 13, 14 and 15 for bogies.

SUGAR GETS HIS LUMPS — It's a bitter experience for Garret (Sugar) Hart as he is a knockout victim at the expense of Benny (Kid) Pare's right hand at New York City's Madison Square Garden last night. Pare knocked Hart in 2:36 of the 6th round in a scheduled 10-round bout.

Lindsay Retires After 13 Seasons

DETROIT (AP) — Ted Lindsay is the kind of a guy who not only wants to be remembered as a talented player, but also as a good person.

Lindsay, who will be 35 this month, was one of the game's fiercest competitors.

Lindsay apparently realized Tuesday that he no longer could give enough and retired from the National Hockey League after 13 seasons—13 of them with the Detroit Red Wings and the last three with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The fiery star must have felt a premonition of his coming retirement last season when he confided: "Either I'm slowing up or these players are getting faster."

Lindsay, who will be 35 this month, was one of the game's fiercest competitors.

Lindsay apparently realized Tuesday that he no longer could give enough and retired from the National Hockey League after 13 seasons—13 of them with the Detroit Red Wings and the last three with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The fiery star must have felt a premonition of his coming retirement last season when he confided: "Either I'm slowing up or these players are getting faster."

letic bun. Hockey has been wonderful to me. The game and the people in it have made my life a good one," Lindsay said today.

"I feel I could play one more year, possibly two. But I don't want to milk the thing. I'm leaving with a good feeling."

"My wife Pat has done a wonderful job with our three children, but I feel now that I should be with them all year around. And my business is at the point now where I would be putting a couple of years of hockey against a business future and I know, after a great deal of thought, that now is the time to call it quits."

Lindsay and an ex-Red Wing teammate, Marty Pavelich, are partners as "manufacturers' representatives," Lindsay and his family live in suburban Birmingham.

When Lindsay joined the Red Wings he became part of a line that was one of the most productive and the most feared in the game's history. It was this combination of Lindsay, Gordie Howe, who Monday signed for his 10th season with Detroit, and Sid Abel, the present Red Wing coach, that gave Detroit one of the most powerful teams in NHL history. During Lindsay's tenure with the club, the Red Wings won eight NHL championships and four Stanley Cups.

Lindsay, collecting 33 goals to win the scoring title once, spent 1,635 minutes in the penalty box. There was no other player in league history.

His lifetime record includes 363 goals and 468 assists for 831 points, an all-time NHL record for a left-winger. He played in 999 games.

That United States Olympic hopefuls are nearing their greatest peak of all time was evidenced by the recent Los Angeles meet which saw two world records and four American marks bettered.

During the final week preceding the meet, tickets also will be available at a special box office to be set up at Brennan Pools in Rouge Park, site of the tryouts to determine members of the swimming teams which will represent the United States in the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome.

Candidates for the American team will have their last major sale for the United States Olympic swimmer and diving finals scheduled to take place this month.

The women's AAU swimming and diving championships will be held July 15, 16 and 17 at Indianapolis. Contestants who place well in that meet are expected to come to Detroit immediately to start workouts in Brennan Pools for the Olympic showdown.

The men's AAU meet is scheduled for Toledo, July 21, 22, 23 and 24, except for one event — the 10-meter platform diving competition which will take place at Detroit's Olympic site on Sunday, July 24.

Frick Studies Strange Case of Tribe's Power

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to take some action today in the strange case of Vic Power, the reluctant Indian.

Power, a Cleveland first baseman, disappeared from the bench in Kansas City in the first All-Star game Monday, and sent word off by the time the Kansas City Royals decided to use him in midgame.

"I haven't been able to reach everybody concerned yet," said Frick, obviously referring to Power. "There is no formal inquiry, but I am in the process of getting the fact together."

Power made himself unavailable to all concerned, but Lopez was on hand and had plenty to say.

"I can't understand him," he said. "He was late getting to the game and told me he had dizzy spells during the night. It makes you wonder about the difference of attitude in the players, about their own desires of wanting to win."

"I might point out that Ted Williams was used as a pinch hitter in the second and Mickey Mantle was taken out in the sixth. They're both pretty good country players and they managed to stay until the end to cheer the other guys on."

"In any event, I hope Power can play today. On the other hand, if he says he can't, I guess he won't be in there. It's as simple as that."

There are a couple of aspects of the case that Frick is looking into:

For one thing, a Cleveland radio announcer said that Power had bet him $100 that he wouldn't play because he thought Lopez didn't like him.

For another, there was a rumor that he was annoyed because the starters didn't vote him into the starting lineup. New York's Bill Skowron was the starting first baseman.

Or did he refuse to play because of personal differences with Lopez? Power had dressed and skipped the game ended and presumably himself incommunicado until today's game.

"Gosh," sighed Lopez, "Williams and Mantle say till the end and when you want to use Power, you have to send a special envoy for him."

To put out of a sand trap, the ball must be on a vice level lie atop the sand, and the approach from trap to green must be smooth and gradual.

As to technique, the first consideration is to be sure and hit the ball solidly, bringing the middle of the clubface with the middle of the ball.

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite their victory in Kansas City Monday and their superior punch in the starting lineup, the National League was no more than even money today to sweep the two-game All-Star set against the physically handicapped American League.

A crowd of some 4,000 was expected to see Pittsburgh's right-hander Vernon Law (11-4) and New York left-hander Whitey Ford (5-1), face each other on the mound in the 25th mid-summer game and the first in Yankee Stadium since 1939. The Americans, despite their loss two days ago, still lead the series, 16 to 12, but the Nationals have taken eight of the last 12.

AL Manager Al Lopez and NL pilot Walter Alton have decided to stick to the same batting orders that faced each other in the 100-degree heat in Kansas City's Municipal Stadium Monday.

Lopez, the Chicago White Sox skipper, once again will have the four Yankee sluggers — Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle, Bill Skowron and Yogi Berra — right in the middle where the strength is supposed to be. The quartet didn't distinguish itself in KC, managing only a single by Skowron and two walks by the crippled Mantle in 10 appearances.

American League Delaying Expansion Move

Wettlaufer Clinches Win; Kocsis Helps Cause

International Cup to U.S.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Lightening twice has struck the Canadian pro-amateur golfers in the 4-year-old International Cup series with the United States.

Tuesday for the second straight year, a U. S. amateur led out with a superb performance in a sudden death playoff to nip the Dominion delegation.

Ward Wettlaufer, the host club champion, turned the trick on the 370-yard, par 4, first hole of the playoff when he tapped a 3-foot putt for a birdie 3.

Far off his usual per-shattering, tours of the Country Club of Buffalo course, Wettlaufer sent an 8-iron shot out of a trap on the extra hole to within 4 yards of the flag. He then tapped the short putt to escape the role of the goat. Last year much the same happened when the Canadian and U. S. teams finished play in a six-point deadlock in Toronto.

Amateur Ed Meister's 15-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole provided the margin of victory for the States and ended Canada's two-year hold on the series.

Tuesday's event was sent into a playoff when Stan Leonard and Gary Cowan of the Canadian best Wettlaufer and Dow Finsterwald 2 and 1 in the featured match.

Leonard had a chance to hold the tie on the first hole, but his 12-foot birdie putt rimmed the cup.

He captured the unofficial medal honors, however, with a 36-31, 67 score over the tricky 6,581-yard course. Par is 36-36-72.

Julius Boros, U. S. professional, teamed with amateur Chuck Kocsis for a 5-up triumph over Jack Kay and Bob Panash in the first match and earned 2½ to 1½ points.

The Canadian team of pro Al Bolding and amateur Bruce Cator took 3 points in turning back the U. S. pro-amateur duo of Paul Harney and Bill Campbell, 4 and 2.

Meister and pro Doug Ford defeated the Canadian team of Bob Cunningham and Nick Westlock, 5 and 4 for 3 points.

In the regulation play, Leonard and Cowan took 2½ of the 3 points in their match with Wettlaufer and Finsterwald.

Each match was worth 3 points, one for each nine and one for 18 holes in the best ball play.

National Club Officials Meet Monday; 1961 Opener April 10

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League, openly in favor of expansion, admitted today it cannot do anything about increasing its eight-team baseball set-up without the full cooperation of the National League.

A spokesman for the junior circuit, in explaining why his league did not "officially" discuss expansion at Tuesday's four-hour meeting here, said:

"What's the use? It would be foolish to come to a decision to expand and then find out the National League once again is against it."

"At one time we thought we could go it alone. But after giving it a great deal of thought, and exploring all kinds of possibilities, we realized it would be unworkable and unwise to do it."

"One league simply cannot expand without the other."

"We in our league are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the National League meeting in Chicago next Monday. I personally have reason to believe they (the National League) are less opposed to it than they were a year ago. As a matter of fact, I have reason to believe that Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and San Francisco, the three cities strongly opposed to expansion, may have had a change of heart."

"Anyway, should the National League express a desire to expand, the American no doubt will call a special meeting with expansion in the theme."

The only significant news out of the meeting was the announcement that the American League season in 1961 will open with a game in Washington April 10, with the other six clubs going into action the following day. Oct. 1 is the closing date.

Also, for the first time in league history, the openings will feature eastern teams against western teams. No pairings have been decided upon.

The 1961 openings will come eight days earlier than they did this year. The National League got the jump on the American this season by opening April 12, a full week before the American.

"We have worked out a schedule," said Joe McKenney, AL public relations director, "whereby each club will have an equal number of Sunday and holiday games against each other."

Louis (Bobo) Newsum was a 20-game winner for the St. Louis Browns in 1938 despite the fact that he allowed a record number of 186 earned runs during that season.

Hope History Repeats

Gentile, Mays Lead Hitters at 'Star Break

NEW YORK (AP) — History doesn't always repeat itself, but Jim Gentile of the Baltimore Orioles and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants are hopeful that it does by the end of the 1960 baseball season.

Gentile and Mays are the major league batting leaders at the All-Star break, Gentile topping the American League with a .328 average and Mays pacing the National at .353.

Ordinarily, you'd expect them both to be looking ahead to the second half of the campaign. At the same time, however, you can't blame them for looking back at the batting races of last season.

At the first All-Star Game break a year ago Harvey Kuenn, then of Detroit but now with Cleveland, and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee were leading their leagues in batting.

Kuenn was hitting .356 and he went on to win the American league title with .353. Aaron's .370 mark was high at the mid-season break and he finished in front of the National League batting at .355.

But it doesn't always work out that way. In 1958, for instance, Nellie Fox of the White Sox and Stan Musial of the Cardinals were the batting front-runners at All-Star time. When the season ended,

Los Angeles' Norm Larker in runner-up to Mays with .348, followed by Chicago's Richie Ashburn in third at .330. Larker, second a week ago, went 5-for-15 and slipped one point. Ashburn, in advancing from fourth, picked up five points with 9 hits in 23 trips.

Mays lost ground during the week as his average decreased 13 points on 3-for-23. The Giants' outfielder showed signs of coming out of his slump by delivering three hits in Monday's All-Star Game at Kansas City.

Pitcher's Car in Fatal Crash

Three Killed, Card's Duliba Hurt as Cars Collide on Curve

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Robert John Duliba, a pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, suffered head and possible internal injuries last night in a highway accident that killed three persons and injured four.

Killed were Mrs. Robert Hunsap, 24, Columbia; her son, Timothy, 9 months, and Anna Marie Wilga, 9 months, daughter of Mrs. Sophie Wilga, St. Ann, Mo.

Duliba, 25, of Glen Lyon, Pa., and his wife were on their way to the wedding of his teammate, Ray Sadecki, who was to be married today in Kansas City.

Mrs. Wilga, 40, and her daughter were riding with the Dulibas. His wife suffered lacerations and was in good condition.

Mrs. Wilga was in dangerous condition with internal injuries. Robert Hunsap, 26, driver of the car in which his wife and son were killed, was in dangerous condition with a back injury.

The accident happened about 11 miles west of Columbia on U.S. 40. Police quoted Duliba as saying his car went out of control on a curve during a rainstorm and collided with Hunsap's car.

Easy Fishing—Pole to Pan

King of the Shetlands Comes to Pontiac Area

By The Press Outdoor Editor

The "king" arrives this weekend to assume a royal status among Michigan's Shetland pony populations. The "king" is none other than Captain Topper, called the highest-priced Shetland in this commonwealth.

The four-year-old, flashy little sorrel stallion cost $36,500. He comes to the Burton Farms at Metamora, from Texas, to become head of the farm's Shetland stud that includes two other stallions in residence. The other are Magic Hour's Jet-Cody and Mark's Whisper of Toy, progeny of famous Shetlands.

The Captain's arrival also marks the close of his show circuit appearances in which he has acquired some 40 "blues," 17 championships, 10 reserves and 69 group "blues" in two years campaigning.

Captain Topper was acquired at a recent Texas production sale. His owner, and operator of the Metamora farm, is pretty, statuesque Patricia Burton, granddaughter of C. M. Burton, Detroit historian, who donated the Burton Historical collection to the motor city.

Miss Burton long has planned on making her Shetland farm a top-line stud farm of registered stallions, and her acquisition of Captain Topper marks a big step towards that goal.

"Our operation is a quality one," Miss Burton says. "We propose to breed the best to the best." The farm will also open its facilities for boarding privileges to a few approved registered mares, or to selected mares already in foal, whose owners wish to continue a long term program of breeding back to the top blood lines available.

Captain Topper is a grandson of the 1923 world champion Shetland stallion, King Larigo whose record of 898 titles has never been equaled.

AREA FISHING STILL HOLDS GOOD

There's plenty evidence that area fishing continues to be pretty good. Like the two new leaders in The Press' fishing "derby" where a near-record black bass and a husky pike have moved to the top.

Reports of limit bass catches at Pine, Oxbow, Crescent and Pontiac lakes during the last weekend and first of this week, include Robert Gell, 6797 Woodbank, Birmingham, who took a string of 13-15 inch fish off Shanty Hook's Pine Lake river. Gates Raymond of Dearborn, fishing off Art York's boat headquarters, also at Pine Lake, had several fine 11-15 inchers, as did Bernard Park of Detroit who crept three nice bass.

There seems to be plenty big yellow perch, like the 14-inch specimen taken from a gravel pit at Utica. Mancill Fulk, Utica, caught the big one.

GOLFER'S SHOT BAGS A "HAWK"

Birdies, eagles and double-eagles are commonplace around golf courses, but when a linkman collects a hawk, that's something new.

Tom Seilthoff, 18, Auburn Heights prep griddler, and for the last several years a caddy at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, has the rare distinction of getting a "hawk" on the No. 16 hole at BHCC. Tom hit a 2nd shot (3-iron) that sailed into a tree just off the fairway. The ball, and a sparrow hawk dropped to the ground. "No eagle, no birdie, but a hawk was what I had on that hole," Tom commented. He carded a par-4.

A friendly, and unusual, deed was performed by an unnamed area motorist a few days ago, and the person who observed it praised the performer for his regard for helpless young wildlife.

The motorist stopped his car, halting traffic on Hatchery road while he rescued a pair of baby kingfishers from the roadway. His kindness wasn't appreciated quite as much, however, by one of the fledglings' parents, for the adult swooped down to strike the man's head, where it inflicted a cut.

YOUNGSTER WINS BATTLE WITH DOGFISH

A determined young angler is 16-year-old Carl Yates, son of Noble Yates, 2267 Shankin road at Wolverine Lake. Carl was fishing recently, trying for some bluegills, from the family's front yard. He got a strike, and started hauling in his line. He got all excited when he saw what he had hooked, a scraper that turned out to be a 9-pound dogfish. It was one of the largest dogfish reported in years for this area.

Best part of the story is that Carl just waded out in the lake to finally net his unusual catch.

Fishing's Fun, Costs Little

LANING — If you've been searching for a sport that is easy to master, easy to reach and easy on the pocketbook, look no further than the nearest lake.

It's almost certain to afford warm-water fishing—an easy sport from pole to pan. Bluegills, sunfish, crappies, rock bass and perch are Michigan's warm-water species. They are also commonly called panfish.

A few general pointers on where, when and how to fish 'em, the bare essentials in catching gear, and a license will put the beginning angler in business. A boat is also standard equipment, of course, but livebaits are frequently available, particularly on the better fishing lakes, to save you the expense of buying one.

The newcomer to panfishing will find his bill of fare to be a bargain. With his $2.00 license the resident may fish for these warm-water species year round in practically all Michigan waters, except trout lakes and streams. Nonresidents may either buy an annual $5.00 license or a 15-day license for $1.00.

You don't have to shell out a lot of money for two equipment items to enjoy this sport. A cane pole or bass-type rod with a simple reel will do and practically any type of line can be used with either of these. Although a leader is not absolutely necessary, it will help your chances of catching fish.

If you plan to fish with live bait, a three-foot Nylon leader of two-to-four pound test will fill the bill.

Hook sizes vary with the fish you're going after and the type of bait to be used and a sporting goods dealer can guide you in your selection. Long-shanked hooks are the best bet when you're using worms.

A couple of BB-sized lead sinkers should be placed about six inches above the hook. A common cork may be used as the bobber. If should be placed on the line so that your baited hook will be at the proper depth—where the fish are. A holding net or stringer is a sound investment for keeping fish fresh.

Father and Son Hydro Race Team Stage Hot Duels

An interesting family hydroplane boat racing duel has been going on this spring between Henry (Hank) Ball, Pontiac industrial plant operator, and his 20-year-old son Terry.

Both operate in the "B" class for hydro, and always against one another.

So far Hank has held the edge, with three wins against Terry's two 2nd and a 3rd. Ball won the 45 class at Columbus, Ohio last weekend, took the same class at Grand Rapids, Ohio, on the Maumee. The team will compete this weekend in the Swan Creek threup at Newport, Mich., for the big Aug. 7 races on Loon Lake, under Waterford Kiwanis auspices.

Terry is driving a boat formerly owned by national champion Chuck Thompson of Detroit. The power plant, however, is Terry's own job.

Shepherd Match Set for Sunday

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Detroit will hold its annual Shepherd puppy, all-age match and obedience trial Sunday July 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Bukmann on Square Lake road at 1921 Detroit road.

A special feature has been added this year. There will be a veteran's class and brood bitches in which two of their progeny must be shown with their dam or sire.

Boy Scouters of Detroit will judge obedience classes, including graduate and novice. George Young will judge conformation. Judging starts at 1 p.m.

Record Enrollment for Conservation Sessions

LANING — A record 231 teachers and school administrators are attending the 14th annual summer scholarship school at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake Conservation School that began on July 10.

Fifty-five scholarship teachers will attend the first session, ending July 16.

Three other sessions are planned, July 24-30, August 14-20, and August 21-27.

More school administrators and lower elementary grade teachers and fewer science teachers are enrolled this year, indicating a shift from the earlier belief that conservation is primarily a science course.

"Educators familiar with the scholarship school see that conservation education nowadays cuts across all fields of interest," says Walter Van Dien, department educational consultant. "Also, our lecturers and resource people are coming more from the universities, giving these scholarship sessions a broader range of subject matter."

Scholarship costs are paid primarily by community clubs of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, and by the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn. clubs.

Jersey City Back in Triple A Friday

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Board of Commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to approve a contract bringing the International League baseball back to Jersey City.

Parks Commissioner Bernard J. Berry and Frank J. Shaugnessy, II, president, signed the contract leasing Roosevelt Stadium to the former Havana Sugar Kings.

The team will play the Columbus Jets here Friday night in the first Triple A ball game in New Jersey since 1950, when the Jersey Giants left after 13 years.

State Plans Auctions of Tax-Reverted Lands

LANING—More than 400 small tax-reverted land units in the upper and northern lower peninsulas will be offered for sale this month at five public auctions to be held by the Conservation Department.

Any person, firm, corporation, or association authorized to acquire property in Michigan may bid for these parcels, most of which are planted.

Vejar in Miami Draw

Check Boat Propeller When Motor Vibrates

Whenever your outboard motor appears to be vibrating excessively, it is a good idea to check the propeller immediately.

Excessive vibration is most commonly caused by a bent or broken propeller, weeds or other foreign material on the propeller or gear case, and by improper adjustment of the carburetor, which makes the motor run "rough."

Robert Yontz, Pontiac, and Mrs. Yontz, hit 7-pounds, 12-ounces, 3-ounces under the "derby's" all-time fish. Needless to say the lunker takes the contest lead.

Measuring 23 1/2 inches long, and tipping the scales at a 7-pound, 12-ounce figure, Yontz' trophy was taken on a spin-casting rig, with a night-crawler lure. The new leader displaced a 6-pounder, taken June 30 by Alex Stasius of Pontiac.

Yontz has been a devoted angler for more than 20 years, but never traded "blows" before with a bass the size of his latest "victory."

The Yontz have resided at their present location for the last two years. Robert is employed by the L. E. Meyers Co. of Plymouth. Still another new "derby" leader has come along this week.

Fourteen-year-old Harold Fausch, son of Angela Fausch, 10071 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Milford, filed a "slip" entry for a 6-pound, 3-ounce northern pike on Tuesday. That fish, 35-inches long, put the youngster in fourth place. His catch displaced an 8-pounder, entered June 30 by Richard Thompson of Pontiac.

Fought, who will be a Milford High Freshman next fall, landed his northern on Oxbow Lake, using a cane pole and a large sucker for the lure.

Delaware Has 11 Votes for Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The second smallest state in the union, Delaware, today voted to give the 11 convention votes to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson on tonight's first ballot for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Johnson supporters within the small delegation outmaneuvered the forces of Sen. John F. Kennedy, who had thought they had a majority.

Earlier, the anti-Kennedy forces had united and agreed to back Johnson. At the postmidnight caucus, the confident Kennedy backers proposed a unit rule, to which the Johnson delegates agreed.

Twelve of the 23 delegates, each with half a vote, favored Johnson. Nine went to Kennedy and one to Sen. Stuart Symington. Under the unit rule all 11 votes were committed to Johnson for the first ballot.

The lone Symington voter, State Treasurer Belle Everett, said she had marked her ballot for him by mistake, meaning to vote for Adlai E. Stevenson.

Hail to Cherry Festival

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI)—The 35th annual National Cherry Festival—three days of carnival fun and regattas to hail the beginning of the 1960 cherry harvest—starts here tonight.

Humphrey Backs Adlai; Freeman Supports Jack

Freeman means the whole delegation has gone over, it suggests Freeman may have gotten the nod. With Kennedy's count of committed delegates standing at 74 1/2 at the time of the Freeman announcement, the 31 votes would give the Massachusetts senator more than the 76 1/2 votes needed for the nomination.

NO PART OF IT

Freeman himself said that when he was asked to make the speech for Adlai, he was not thinking of his bearing on second place on the Democratic ticket.

"That was no part of it," Freeman told newsmen.

He added there is recent pressure against coupling the nomination with the ticket.

"You'll remember what happened four years ago," Freeman said.

Kennedy later lost out in a fight with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the vice presidential nomination.

He left the Massachusetts senator's major opponents clinging to the cliffs of hope that Kennedy's tidal wave will recede quickly if it doesn't engulf them at the start.

Nobody will ever come that close in the past and then lost out.

This, moreover, was a convention thirsty for the wine of Northern victory. As such it roared its approval Tuesday night of the platform into which had been nailed the toughest civil rights plank the party ever adopted.

Southerners interested in making a record for the home voters tried unsuccessfully to kill this declaration. But not a Dixie delegate lifted a foot to walk out of the hall, as many of them have in the past.

The most potent explanation of this was that they didn't want to upset by a bolt whatever chance Sen. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas might have to get the top nomination.

Despite Kennedy's formidable lead, campaign strategists for his opponents one by one ticked off their determination to place their favorites' names in nomination.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn said he will offer Johnson's name with confidence the Senate Democratic leader will win out in the end.

Gov. James I. Blair Jr. of Missouri said he is presenting his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, to the convention with the belief that Kennedy is 70 to 80 votes short of the 76 1/2 needed for the nomination.

Blair did not discount the possibility of a Kennedy cruncher, even on the second ballot. But he shook off as premature suggestions that Symington might agree to take second place on the ticket.

Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma made it emphatic that Stevenson's name will be put on the ballot for the countdown when he would be reached after time-registered nominating speeches and the usual hoopla of banner-waving supporters marching and chanting about the tie hall.

ALL TO BE PRESENT

With a showdown in prospect, the Democrats seemed unlikely to fill all the seats that were vacant in the previous sessions.

The convention got its first taste of the excitement delegates and spectators craved when Stevenson, twice the party nominee, paid an unannounced visit to the floor Tuesday night.

Surrounded by admirers and newsmen as he reached the outer corners of the convention area, the former Illinois governor literally had to fight his way to the floor behind a cordon of policemen.

His appearance awoke the previously lethargic galleries. They whooped and cheered as they have had few occasions to do in this well-oiled convention. But a lot of voting delegates noticeably sat on their hands.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Kennedy's floor manager, stuck to his line that Kennedy will win the nomination on the first or second ballot.

Here Virgil Myers of 3600 Lincolnton Township, and Water Patrol Deputy John Deane of 2830 Pine Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, are lining up safety equipment to be used in the demonstration. Myers, a foreman at Michigan Bell in Pontiac, is a company safety official.

Grains Get Weaker in Selling Pressure

CHICAGO (U-P)—Selling pressure which had the markets of profit taking hit soybean futures today and all contracts were weak in early transactions of the Board of Trade.

Some dealers said there appeared to be a trade feeling that the slump of yesterday in that pit reflected an overbought market.

At that time the gains were well over a cent.

Wheat again was firm with the July delivery up a major fraction during the first several minutes as receipts in commercial positions and hedging continued relatively light.

Other grains were unchanged or within minimal fractions of previous closes.

Dems to Cast Votes Tonight

JOHNSON PRESENTS KENNEDY — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, right, smilingly turns toward Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts after introducing him to his fellow Texans at a caucus in Los Angeles Tuesday. Johnson had challenged Kennedy to a debate on their bids for the Democratic presidential nomination, but Kennedy said there were no major differences between them on the issues of the day.

Michigan Delegates Loyal in Attendance

By JOE HAAS
LOS ANGELES—In a program largely given over to completing the permanent organization, Tuesday's Democratic convention session opened with less than one-tenth of the spectators' seats occupied.
There were some absentees among the delegates, but Michigan's were on hand almost 100 per cent. It has one of the best attendance records at the convention. The poorest record is that of home state of California.
Disorder on the floor several times caused a cessation of proceedings until the police could clear the aisles.
An address by Sen. Quentin Burdick of North Dakota was so brief that it was a rousing ovation. It also precipitated an incident when a Michigan youth who gave a typical school boy oratory talk.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Belgium prepared today to ask the U. N. for help—possibly military aid—in restoring order in troubled Leopoldville and the new Congo Republic.
Ambassador Walter Lorian, Belgium's permanent U. N. representative, had an appointment with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to tell him of the situation in Leopoldville.
From Our News Wires
The United States took a cautious wait-and-see attitude on the Congo situation today, apparently in hopes that the "quiet diplomacy" of United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld could restore peace in that riot-torn land.
Congo Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba said he considered Belgium's action in sending its troops into action against rebellious African soldiers "an act of aggression against our country."
He and President Joseph Kasu Vubu demanded that all Belgian troops be withdrawn from their bases and stay there. At the same time they pressed a request for United Nations help, emphasizing "the extreme urgency of sending U.N. troops to the Congo."
President Eisenhower referred to the United Nations a similar request for the immediate dispatch of 3,000 American troops, with the clear implication that the United States would like to stay in the background of any U.N. action.
The summer White House at Newport, R.I., refused to disclose whether the President would honor any U.N. appeal for American forces to help restore order in the strife-ridden Congo. But it was evident the United States was playing the situation coolly.

Little Hope Held for Release of RB47 Officers

U.S. Demanding Their Freedom; Also Denies Red Spy Charges
WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials hold little hope of winning freedom for two air force officers held in the Soviet Union after the shooting down of an American reconnaissance bomber on July 1.
The expectation here is that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will put the two men on trial on charges of espionage in order to promote his campaign against American bases in Allied countries.

Centennial Rift in Commission

Charges That Straley Backers Seek to Block City Celebration
By PETE LOCHNER
Three pro-Straley city commissioners last night denied charges that they were plotting to sabotage centennial planning in a new effort to win concessions for ousted Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.
The accusation was made by Commissioner John A. Dugan minutes before the anti-Straley majority pushed through by a 4-3 vote a $12,000 advance promised to the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission, Inc.

The same split occurred on paying the first half of a $4,000 grant promised the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce for the centennial film it is producing.
Nays were cast by Commissioners Robert A. Landry, Milton R. Henry and Winford E. Bottom.
Bottom said he dissented on principle, because his request for time to study the loan was turned down.
Landry and Henry said they want the city to reimburse Straley for attorney fees run up during his long battle before the Civil Service Commission last year.
Dugan angrily charged that the three are trying "to pressure" the city into paying the legal bill—reportedly around $7,500.

Stevenson Sinks Into Sea of Fans

WANT ADLAI RADLY — Enthusiastic fans surround Adlai Stevenson as he attempts to leave the Tuesday night session of the Democratic National Convention at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. The two-time presidential candidate received a 20-minute ovation as he put in an appearance on the convention floor and was thanked by Permanent Chairman Gov. LeRoy Collins to say a few words to the delegates.

NEWS LOOKS GOOD — Robert Kennedy tells Michigan Gov. William G. Milliken that his brother John Kennedy has picked up additional votes in his drive toward the Democratic presidential nomination. The two conferred Tuesday night on the floor of the convention in the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

South Fails to Soften Stand

Adopt Hefty Rights Plank

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democrats here, in fact, some listeners on the platform thought there was more volume to the noise.
But Collins didn't hesitate. He announced that the platform had been adopted. Cheers and catcalls greeted his ruling.

GROWTH SPEEDUP
One poke at the GOP went this way: "We Democrats believe that our economy can and must grow at an average rate of 5 per cent annually, almost twice as fast as our average annual rate since 1953. We pledge ourselves to policies that will achieve this goal without inflation."

The civil rights plank called for federal injunction powers to enforce racial equality in voting, education and employment, and an end to federal aid to segregated housing projects.
It said 1963, the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, should be the deadline for at least first-step compliance with desegregation in every school district.
Opening the debate, Sen. Sam Ervin Jr. of North Carolina pleaded with the delegates, "Don't make it too hard for us to carry the South."

Then Collins called for a vote on adopting the entire platform. He received almost as many nays as yays.

See Civil Rights Stand Boost to Williams for VP

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Michigan Democrats today hailed the civil rights plank adopted by the party's national convention as a major "liberal" victory enhanced by Gov. G. Mennen Williams' chances for landing the vice presidential nomination.
Williams and other top party leaders from Michigan also said the state's 51-vote delegation remained firmly committed to Sen. John F. Kennedy as balloting for the presidential nomination got under way today.

They said yesterday's "debate" between Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and the demonstration staged for Adlai E. Stevenson on Tuesday night had not caused any discernible wavering among delegates committed to Kennedy.
The Massachusetts senator got 62 of Michigan's votes on a caucus roll call Monday and the delegation was to be polled again today just before the balloting begins.

August Scholle, a delegate, a former Stevenson supporter and president of the state AFL-CIO, said the demonstration staged for Stevenson Tuesday night was "a manifestation of the respect which Stevenson deserves from the delegates. But even as late as tonight Stevenson has failed to encourage his supporters for the nomination," Scholle said.
Williams, who had no success when he helped launch a fight for a strong civil rights plank in 1952, hailed the statement adopted as "a historic breakthrough in man's eternal quest for justice and the realization of his rights."
"At long last we have a platform which pulls no punches," he said.

Kennedy Riding High but Adlai Ovation Is Loud

Tough Plank on Civil Rights Bids for Victory in November
By JACK BELL
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democrats name their presidential candidate today with Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts riding a crest his backers believe will give him a first-ballot victory.
A restive, noisy, and generally disorderly convention last night exploded with an ovation for Adlai E. Stevenson.

It left the Massachusetts senator's major opponents clinging to the cliffs of hope that Kennedy's tidal wave will recede quickly if it doesn't engulf them at the start.
But they had only a precarious handhold. This was demonstrated by the fact that Kennedy had what was recorded as solid commitments of delegate votes only 20 short of the 761 needed for the nomination.
Nobody has ever come that close in the past and then lost out.
This, moreover, was a convention thirty for the wine of November victory. As such it roared its approval Tuesday night of a platform into which had been nailed the toughest civil rights plank the party ever adopted.
DIXIE POLKS STAGED
Southerners interested in making a record for the home voters tried unsuccessfully to kill this declaration. But not a Dixie delegate lifted a foot to walk out of the hall, as many of them have done in the past.

The most potent explanation of this was that they didn't want to upset by a bolt whatever chance Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas might have to get the top nomination.

TV, Radio to Cover Convention Balloting

Full television coverage again is slated tonight for the Democratic National Convention. The proceeding should start about 5 p.m., and will be carried over channels 2, 4 and 7.
The high point of the convention will take place tonight as delegates choose their nominee for the presidency.
In the event that the balloting should not be completed before this adjournment, it is scheduled to be resumed at approximately noon Thursday.
Radio stations WJW and WXYZ plan to cover the entire session and WJBK will cut in at 8:30 p.m.

Municipal Court Clerk Leo F. McDonald Dies

City flags flew at half mast today for Municipal Court Clerk Leo F. McDonald.
The 62-year-old veteran city employee died of cancer in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday afternoon. He had been ill a month.
His death saddened all City Hall. A tribute was being prepared for adoption by the City Commission next week.

"Leo was one of the city's most loyal and best liked servants," said Mayor Philip E. Twiston last night.
"His death is a loss to us and to the entire city."

McDonald, a short, white-haired man whose quick movements and youthful eyes belied his years, ran one of Pontiac's major financial operations.
As court clerk, he handled funds which amounted to well over $1 million annually in recent years and busily supervised a host of court activities aided by a staff of several women.
A native of Cortland, N.Y., McDonald settled in Pontiac in 1919, where his brother-in-law was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

U.S. Lofts Rocket

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (P)—A 7,125-pound Strongarm rocket was launched here today to find

Choice Faces Dems Then Voters

Both Issues, Personality Vital This Year

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press, News Analyst
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 Democratic convention is something less than emotional—in fact, dull so far—because more than just enthusiasm for an individual is involved.

The delegates' problem is a mixture of issues and individuals, since none of the would-be Democratic presidential candidates is an overwhelming personality.

And when the campaign begins—with Vice President Richard M. Nixon almost certain to be the Republican candidate—the voters will have to wrestle with the same twin problem of issues and personality.

This was not the case, for instance, in 1956 when Adlai E. Stevenson went into far more details on issues and where he stood than President Eisenhower, only to see the immensely popular Eisenhower swamp him.

ALL LIBERALS
The hopeful senators from whom the Democratic convention had to choose today—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Stuart Symington of Missouri—have had fairly liberal voting records.

The distinction between them on the issues has been, in a broad sense, a distinction on fine points. To put it another way, on something more than just issues alone have to be factors in what ever the convention does.

Symington has had an extremely liberal voting record, yet he is as of now a poor third. Therefore, something more than just issues alone have to be factors in what ever the convention does.

It's at this point the personality problem enters, plus some other factors. Kennedy spent far more time in 1960 trying to line up delegates for today—by visiting their states, seeking them out, running in their primaries—than did Johnson or Symington. They ran in no primaries.

LATE STARTERS
Symington handicapped himself in other ways. He didn't say he was a candidate until late, didn't get around enough, and concentrated so much on national defense that he sacrificed appeal to various other group interests, even though his interests are far wider than just defense.

Johnson probably outsmarted himself—although extraordinarily careful about details—in relying on supporters than Kennedy did in rounding up delegates the month preceding the convention. Kennedy did a lot of it first hand.

Johnson may have felt his work as majority leader in the Senate would make up for this—particularly as the Senate rolled up a legislative record—but it hasn't so far. And the Senate record has been very meager.

In addition to any leg work they did in rounding up delegates, the three men had to concern themselves with the problem of their personality.

Each had the task of trying to make himself appear the one best fitted to cope with the tense and unpredictable issues facing the country in the next four years.

This explains why Johnson, eight years older than Kennedy, tried to get across the idea an older man is needed and why former President Harry S. Truman, backing Symington who is older than either Kennedy or Johnson, implied Kennedy is too young and lacks experience.

The one chosen at this convention will have that same competent-personality problem to put across to the voters when the campaign begins and he runs against Nixon.

But Nixon will have exactly the same problem, beside dealing with the issues, since he cannot hope to sail in on personality. And for this reason: He simply lacks the popularity and war-hero stature that Eisenhower had when he won in 1952 and 1956.

The voters will have to decide which man's ideas—meaning his stand on the issues—appeals to him and which seems the more likely to be able to handle what lies ahead.

The Panama Canal at 50 miles is just half the length of the Suez.

Vote Scheduled on Two Issues

Waterford Voters Will Ballot on Civil Service and Annual Meetings

Waterford Township voters will be asked in the Aug. 2 primary to approve Civil Service for the township firemen and to abolish the century-old annual meetings.

A request from members of the fire department for civil service status was presented to the Township Board in January after no feasible plan for retirement benefits or full assurance of staying on the job was established.

If a fireman feels he has been unjustly fired by his superior, he may appeal only to the Township Board which will weigh the merits of the case and act accordingly, it was said.

Simon Chappell, president of the Michigan State Firefighters Assn. has told the Township Board that the establishment of a three-member commission "would give a man on the job a chance to appeal an unfair decision."

The other proposition to abolish annual township meetings was placed on the ballot two years ago and soundly defeated by township voters.

Officials contend the law is "antiquated, outmoded and a downright menace" should a small minority group decide on passing vital issues.

Headquarters Parties

LANSING (UPI)—The 11th for Governor headquarters said today a caravan of chartered buses will converge in Lansing July 21 for a birthday party for Secretary of State James M. Hare, who is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Graduation Speaker From Senior Class

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP)—The 320 graduating students of Melbourne High School didn't need to go outside their own class to find this year's commencement speaker. Bill Nelson, 17, president of Key Club International, filled the job. "We had always picked college presidents for the address," says Dr. B. Frank Brown, school principal. "But there was no need to settle for one of them when we had an international president right in our own midst."

Victor Pas Estemiro is president of Bolivia.

WANNA ATTEND THE CONVENTION? — There's been a great hullabaloo about hard-to-get tickets to the Democratic National Convention, but you'd never know it had you been there when Tuesday's second session started. Only a handful of spectators were scattered in the galleries and most of the delegates' seats were empty.

There are municipalities named Washington in 11 states, not counting the one in the District of Columbia.

Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield, N. J., has a garden of trees, flowers and shrubs mentioned in Shakespeare's plays.

Cairo, Ill., was Gen. Grant's headquarters for attacks on Ft. Henry and Ft. Donelson in the Civil War.

Shipping Costs Cuba Money

Russia Receives Sugar at Lower Rate With 100-Million-Dollar Pact

NEW YORK — Cuba is losing money even on the sugar it is shipping so far to the Soviet Union under a 100-million dollar trade pact negotiated last February.

The Russians are getting the sugar at the world price of three cents a pound on sugar shipped to the United States, which obtained about a third of its annual consumption of nine million tons from Cuba.

President Eisenhower last Wednesday signed a new sugar bill and ordered an end to virtually all further U.S. buying of sugar from Cuba this year, it accused the Castro regime of deliberate hostility to the United States.

Eisenhower chopped 700,000 tons from Cuba's 1960 quota of 3,119,655 tons. Since Cuba had already shipped most of its 1960 sugar to the United States, the order allows only 28,752 tons more to be admitted at American ports this year.

S. Africa Still Holds 250 Subversion Suspects

PRYTORIA, South Africa (U)—The government announced today it is still holding only about 250 disorders in March.

percent of the original 1,000 of all races arrested as suspected political subversives under state of emergency regulations which have been prevailing since race disorders in March.

Litterbugs Cost Michigan $1,000 a Day for Cleanup

FLINT (U)—Litterbugs, the kind that toss bottles, cans and paper cartons out of car windows, cost the state $1,000 a day to clean up after them, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

With the tourist season moving into full swing, Michiganans should be especially careful to keep roadways looking neat and attractive, Mackie said, as trash-littered highways will discourage some tourists from returning.

A paper tissue thrown from a car window will lie beside the highway for a month in dry weather before it deteriorates, he said. A beer can will lie there for two years before it rusts away.

The money spent annually to remove litter from state highways and roadside parks would, with federal aid, finance construction of six miles of expressways, he said.

'QUEEN MOTHER'?—Flashing a jaunty smile is Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, 70-year-old mother of presidential candidate John F. Kennedy. She may ascend to a position roughly corresponding to England's queen mother if her son is elected president in November. She is shown at a Tuesday press conference at which it appeared he had the nomination sewed up.

Never before in history has it lighter: "To my matchless wife" been possible to pick up $10 worth . . . Going to a party with your of groceries by a string . . . In wife is like going fishing with the scripton on a woman's cigaret game warden. —Earl Wilson.

By SAUL PETT
LOS ANGELES (AP) — For while it looked like the Democrats were going to give us a coast-to-coast tranquilizer.

But Tuesday they began to act like Democrats. They began to fight.

The day started with a debate between candidates Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy. They met in something less than a friendly manner.

The day ended with a convention hall with Democrats fighting over civil rights. It was almost like old times.

Johnson, the gray fox of Texas, tried Kennedy to debate the issue.

I proved to be a heart-warming meeting. There they were, men and Kennedy, telling each other what great friends they same rap attention Americans usually reserve for TV commercials.

The delegates milled in the aisles. They clustered around TV men clustering around somebody on camera. They took pictures of each other posing with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and other celebrities to impress the folks back home. They oiled Frank Sinatra and Peter Lawford, who wandered around wearing buttons which said, "Beat Khrushchev."

AISLED JAMMED

Temporary Chairman Frank Church, the boy senator from Idaho, begged the delegates to clear the aisles. They didn't. He got mad and threatened to call the cops. But the aisles remained clogged as if it were daisy-day.

Another speaker, Philip Pilkington, 17, high school orator from Muskogee, Okla., proved it was possible to look younger than Frank Church and still wear long pants.

It was Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, the permanent chairman, who had the roughest time holding or finding his audience. He stopped himself, pounded the gavel, and begged the delegates to alight somewhere.

STEVENS CHIEFER. Then he was upstaged by

Eleanor Roosevelt. Her entrance brought a big roar while delegates turned their backs on Collins. Meritully, the governor was allowed to finish before Adlai E. Stevenson entered and received a huge, 20-minute ovation.

Adlai got off the best crack of the convention so far. After getting in and out of the crowd at the convention headquarters, he said, "I know who will be nominated—it will be the last survivor."

Then the convention went to sleep again while platform Chairman Chester Bowles read the platform and showed movies.

Central Committee Meets in Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party's Central Committee met in the Kremlin today to review the progress of industrial, transport and production development ordered by the last party congress.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the meeting began with a brief statement by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the party Central Committee.

haven't been so stirred since my Aunt Elvira showed me her home movies of her trip to Oklahoma.

But there was fight left in the old Democrats yet. Five Southern delegates stomped to the platform to demand that the civil rights plank be killed. Six Northern delegates argued against them.

The chair finally put it to a voice vote. My seismograph detected little difference between roars of "yes" and "no," but the chair ruled that Dixie had lost again.

The Southerners screamed they were robbed. They booed, whistled, sneered, shook angry fists. But no one fired on Ft. Sumter.

Car License Takes Trip But Returns to Owners

LUXEMBURG, Wis. (AP) — The license plate on Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kropf's car traveled considerably farther than they did on a recent trip to the Southwest.

The plate fell off somewhere along the way. It was mailed back recently by Harry McClelland of Spokane, Wash., who told of finding it near Carlsbad, N.M.

He affixed a mailing sticker directly to the metal, addressed it to the Wisconsin Traffic Patrol and asked that it be forwarded to the owner.

To Post Bond in Bomb Case

Two Picked Up as They Start to Light Fuse at Negro College

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An attorney has promised to post bond today for two men charged with the attempted bombing of a Negro college.

Police pushed an investigation of a blast which damaged a school district storage building. There was no indication the attempted bombing and the actual blast were linked.

Ernest E. Miller, 41, and Robert Lloyd Parks, 38, both of West Memphis, remained in jail overnight in lieu of $20,000 bond each.

Miller and Parks were arrested by FBI agents early Tuesday as they were about to light the fuse of a homemade bomb at Philander Smith College for Negroes, Adams, charged as an accomplice.

The men were the first to be charged under a provision of the 1959 federal civil rights act prohibiting interstate transportation of explosives. The FBI said they had bought the dynamite in Memphis, Tenn.

Scientist to Get Medal

Antiradar Invention Wins High Honor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A brilliant scientist today receives one of the nation's highest honors for an antiradar invention so vital that it is still classified as a top secret.

Rear Adm. Walter F. Rodeo, commander of 11th Naval District air bases, will give Dr. Otto Halpern a special Defense Department medal in ceremonies at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The fact that Dr. Halpern had to fight for 18 years for his right to the honor is of no significance to him today.

"Wouldn't it be ungracious of me to complain," he said in an interview Tuesday, "when the Defense Department is doing everything it can now to make up for those bitter years?"

A year ago Dr. Halpern was awarded $30,000 by the Defense Department in settlement of his 19-year court battle for recognition as inventor of a material that helped U.S. planes and ships evade enemy radar in World War II and the Korean conflict.

At the time, then secretary of defense, Neil McElroy, sent Halpern a letter of appreciation saying his ideas continue to be the basis of research in radar defense.

NOT BITTER
Does he feel any bitterness that recognition came so late?

MAKE OVER PAGES

"Not at all," says the sprightly, tiny metallic flakes which are applied to ships, planes and ground installations to absorb radar waves.

A theoretical physicist, he developed his idea while working at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1941, and it was thin, rubber-like coating contained to work by the navy.

Repatriation Program Bogs Down

Lose Zest to Return to North Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Koreans migrating from Japan to Communist North Korea no longer take automobiles, washing machines, and transistor radios with them. They take clothing, bicycles, sewing machines, soap, kettles, razor blades, food and other consumer goods.

They learned from early repatriates that gasoline in North Korea is only for the privileged few, batteries for transistor radios are nonexistent, and electric current so weak washing machines won't work.

This is a part of the picture pieced together here, from intelligence sources and personal letters, of what has happened to the 30,231 Koreans who have gone to North Korea.

The repatriation program was initiated last December over the bitter objections of South Korea. It permits those Koreans so desiring, among the 600,000 in Japan, to go to North Korea in ships furnished by the Soviet Union.

The Koreans were brought to Japan largely by forced labor during and prior to World War II. Chosen Soen, the North Korean Residents Assn., claim eventually 120,000 will go.

AWAY FROM REEDS
But a slight trend away from the journey into communism seems to be developing. The Japan Red Cross reports that 1,800 have now changed their minds. Other sources report a certain "hesitation" forming among Koreans still in Japan.

They attribute this to reports of those already repatriated and other factors.

South Korea now has a more democratic government, and life there may become more attractive. The initial repatriation fervor is wearing off. North Korean propaganda has slackened. Some letters of disillusionment and dissatisfaction have been received by friends in Japan.

The reports say the repatriates were first put into fine apartments in Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, and other cities. Gradually they were moved to inferior housing in rural areas, where they went to work on farms and mines.

Salaries average 60 won or $25 monthly for nonskilled laborers. High wages are 80 won and extremely high wages up to 150 won, or $62. Work is divided into three eight-hour shifts, but repatriates have had no formal indoctrination classes in their spare time and "volunteer" additional working hours.

A North Korean pamphlet on the repatriates just received in Japan still depicts a life of smiling workers, recreation, comfort and happiness.

South Korea move to better the livelihood of North residents in Japan and persuade them from Japan.

joining the mass migration to Communist North Korea were announced July 9 by Ei Chai-hang, Korean minister in Tokyo.

He said the government of caretaker South Korean Premier Han Chung had decided in principle to establish a five-million-dollar loan fund in Japan and to pour a considerable sum into a projected welfare fund for destitute Koreans in Japan.

Election Delayed for Japan Chief

TOKYO (AP)—Factional rivalries within the ruling Liberal Democratic party today postponed election of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's successor at least 24 hours, but Hayato Ikeda was still considered likely to win Thursday.

Ikeda, known for his pro-Western thinking and tough anti-inflationary policies, was believed to command enough of the party convention's 513 votes to win on at least the second ballot. Only a simple majority is needed.

Resignation of Kishi's cabinet and election of the new party president to the prime ministry by the lower house of Parliament was expected to follow immediately after the party election.

Kishi, after bringing the new U. S.-Japanese military treaty

Commander in Chief of the U. S. Marine Corps, will address the National Convention of the Marine Corps League here Aug. 20, it was announced today.

Samuel Richardson, one of the most successful of the 18th Century English novelists, was a printer while he was writing novels. His most successful novels, including "Pamela" and "Clarissa," were written when he was past 50. He set the type for their first publications himself.

Cubans Seize U.S. Newsmen

3 Still Held on Charge of Showing Revolution in Bad Light

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuban authorities seized seven American newsmen last night. Three were believed still in custody today.

The three were William Moser of the Miami Daily News, Justin Gooding of Time-Life and John Hlavacek of the National Broadcasting Co.—all hailed to army intelligence headquarters on suspicion of "presenting the revolution in a bad light."

Gooding and Moser only a few hours earlier had been released by the Cuban military intelligence organization, after being detained since last week on unannounced charges.

When they returned to their hotel they posed for Hlavacek to take their pictures in clothing soiled from their stay in jail cells. They agents moved in at that point.

Four other newsmen were rounded up in connection with the incident but allowed to leave after brief questioning. They were Tat Szule of the New York Times, Don Bonafide of the Miami Herald, Harvey Rosenhouse and Andy St. George of Time-Life.

The U.S. Embassy started action immediately to free the three men.

Jobless Pay Shunned for Many Reasons

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Ignorance, indifference and pride prevented many people from receiving unemployment benefits during the 1958 recession according to a nationwide survey made by the University of Michigan.

Among those who received no unemployment insurance benefits during the recession, 10 per cent said they did not apply or delayed applying because they felt their unemployment would be short.

Three per cent said getting unemployment insurance "wasn't worth the trouble," while eight per cent felt the benefits were "doubtful."

Authors of the study said a much more vigorous educational campaign was necessary to inform unemployed persons of their legal rights under state and federal laws.

New Firehouse Gets on Ancient Inscription

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Fire Chief Edward McCabe has suggested that a 1,000-year-old order is inscribed above the main doorway of Milwaukee's new fire department administration building.

The order was issued by a Roman emperor to his fire department. It reads:

"Thou shalt have the safety of those who sleep, guarding of houses, protector of sacred shrines, watching in the night."

Bunche Already in Leopoldville

3 Still Held on Charge of Showing Revolution in Bad Light

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Plans to set up a U.N. technical administration office in Leopoldville, Congo, capital of the Congo, are reported by Hammaraskjold to be well advanced. The U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold is reported to be in Leopoldville.

No military or political personnel will be sent in the first stages. African representatives said, although some of the administrative specialists will be men with military background serving in civilian clothes.

This suggested that before going to the Congo the military observers would help the embattled young regime end the chaos which has followed the end of Belgian rule.

Hammarskjold invited representatives of the 11 nations on the Security Council to hear his plans at lunch today in his 38th floor office at U.N. headquarters. He already has outlined his plans to Jose Carrera of Ecuador, president of the council this month, and representatives of the Big Four—Britain, France, the United States, and the Soviet Union.

The secretary general also met with the chiefs of the nine African delegations and told them of his plans for the Congo.

Red Skelton's Joviality Exported to Convention

By EARL WILSON
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Things got so grave and gruesome around Democratic Convention headquarters—with all the charges, denials, and denials of denials—that I quickly said I would have to import some laughs from Las Vegas.

First, I asked Red Skelton, who's at the Sands Hotel, and he said he heard it was so hot here in one of the smog-filled caucuses rooms that the air-conditioning broke down and a 32d degree Mason went up four degrees.

One reason for the gravity of this convention is that your big stars like Bob Hope and Bing Crosby are rich, and being rich, they're Republicans, and not participating in this dog fight.

Of course, the prices in Los Angeles are up due to the convention influx and Red Skelton said it reminded him of his trip to Miami Beach during the sucker season. (Some places have a deer season, some have a trout season, Miami Beach has a sucker season.)

I picked up a pen to register at the hotel desk. Red said, "And I asked the clerk, 'What can I get for about $30 a day?' The clerk said, 'You're holding it, buddy.'"

Wilbur Clark is here at the Convention as an alternate. A gambler by profession, he has bet several bundles on Sen. Kennedy.

Dave Appollon, the ex-vauvade headline, told me a story which impressed upon me the frailty of some of the "loyalties" we hear about at convention time.

Dave's always been known as a Russian. One day a stranger said, "Mr. Appollon, where are you from in Russia?"

"Kiev," said Dave.

"You probably knew my uncle, Sergei Somethingorothera-vitch," the stranger said.

"Knew him intimately," replied Dave. "Wonderful man. You're his nephew. Well, well, honor to know you."

"Mr. Appollon, could you lend me $50?" the man said.

"Listen, Mister," replied Dave quickly. "I'm a dirty liar. I'm really from Hungary."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Bing Crosby arranged to do a TV show in Ireland in the fall, assisted by his friend, Barry Fitzgerald, who's living in Dublin . . . Singer Brook Benton underwent ear surgery . . . Denise Darcel took up motorcycle for weight-reducing . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The biggest difference between men and boys is the cost of their toys. That's earl, brother. (Copyright, 1960)

France Frees 3 More Colonies

GRANTS INDEPENDENCE TO CHAD, CONGO REPUBLIC, CENTRAL AFRICAN NATION

PARIS (UPI)—France gave independence today to three more of its former African colonies.

Chad, the Congo Republic and the Central African Republic became independent African states and new candidates for United Nations membership. Yesterday France freed the Ivory Coast, Upper Volta, Dahomey and Niger under similar agreements.

Speaking to the leaders of the three new states, Premier Michel Debre noted that current African problems call for "particular vigilance."

Directories

to shreds and showed the DENVER (AP)—Denver's first annual convention coincided with the distribution of new telephone directories. Office workers along the route tore the old directories to shreds and showed the new ones with the paper scraps that drifted curbside in some blocks.

About 200,000 spectators turned out for the parade that blocked the central business area to ordinary traffic and slowed all activity to a walk.

More than 500 clowns enlivened the parade. The marchers were brilliantly garbed in costumes of Arabic origin.

Most of the crowd agreed with reports that Mc Namara had responded to the surgery well, however, and indicated reports that he would leave the hospital soon were accurate.

The Detroit News however said the operation was for cancer and speculated that the state's senior senator might be forced to withdraw from the race.

Friends and campaign workers denied the cancer reports but doctors connected with the case said they had been requested not to discuss the matter.
