Hills Higher and Knots Knottier

Pontiac Press Photos

OVER HILL AND DALE—As Boy Scout Week opens, Press reporter Dick Saunders sets out to explore the rolling hills and dales around Pontiac. His helpers are Scouts Dick Shafer, of 24 Moreland St., (pulling), and Bill Travis, of 45 Seneca St. (pushing). The boys belong to Pontiac Troop No. 5 (Saunders belongs somewhere else!).

SOME PEOPLE HAVE LUCK — But starting a fire in the traditional way is not just luck. The scouts had no trouble getting a roaring fire started skillfully rubbing two sticks together. The "old scout" next to them found this test a lot tougher than expected.

Ex-Scout Finds Going Rough 10 Years Later

Too Pooped to Participate

By DICK SAUNDERS

Boy Scout Week opens today, and there's much more to scouting than being Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, and Prepared. Just ask me.

Your good old days of Boy Scout activity may have been great when you were a kid, but have you tried to pass some of the tests now you're older?

LOSE RANK

This perennial Second Class tried it yesterday. Now I'm lucky they don't take my old Second Class rank away, and bust me through the Tenderfoot rank right on back into the Cub Scouts.

While my mental horizons have expanded during the past 10 years, so have some other not-too-mental horizons. First I went on a "good old hike."

They build hills much steeper nowadays. Did you know that? Much.

HELPED ALONG

Two Troop 5 veterans helped me along, Dick Shafer, of 24 Moreland St. and Bill Travis, of 45 Seneca St., wound up toting my pack, and giving me quite a lift.

Knot-tying — I used to be a whiz. The boys helped me get untangled after a brief struggle.

Fire building? Well, my young companions were eating warm food before I got a spark going.

Someone slipped me wet sticks.

Camping is my forte, I thought. But they're making pup tents for smaller pups this year. Mine fit a trifle snugly when I finally did get it up.

★ ★ ★

Scouting is really a wonderful experience.

Let me tell you, I can remember when my old Beaver Patrol used to . . . or was it the Eagle Patrol? Anyway, I can box the compass, just ask me!

North, north-northeast, northeast, east-northeast . . .

TIGHT FIT — The scouts seem both bewildered and amused by the tactics used by an "old hand" at constructing a tent. Almost ready to throw in the towel, reporter Saunders peers from his collapsed tent as though to say, "I guess I wasn't made for this kind of life."

Switch Ads From TV to Newspaper Space

NEW YORK — A number of big American firms are switching advertising from television to newspapers in order to check downturn in sales, the Wall Street Journal reports.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. has cut its TV time in half. "The money will be pumped into newspapers and magazines," said Goodyear advertising director K. C. Zonisius.

★ ★ ★

Among others turning from TV to newspapers are General Electric, Eversharp, Inc., W. P. Fuller & Co., a large San Francisco paint firm and a number of big power and light firms.

Eversharp advertising manager Joe Buffum said "with newspapers you can concentrate on areas that need work to get the greatest sales potential."

And a Chicago utility ad manager said that newspaper advertising is more flexible and that the cost of a 13-week TV contract is too heavy over an extended period.

Union Chiefs Pressing Hunt for Corruption

Unhalted by Maloney's Resigning as Head of Operating Engineers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO chiefs today charted a stepped-up hunt for corruption in the Operating Engineers Union despite resignation of the union's president, William E. Maloney.

"There are a lot of other things that need investigating in the union," one AFL-CIO leader said privately.

Maloney, 77, ill and feeble after several heart attacks, quit his 18-year rule of the 250,000-member union after he had been pictured in recent Senate rackets hearings as a union dictator grown rich on union funds.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) in summing up hearings on the union before his Senate investigating committee, said Maloney took over the Operating Engineers with the help of hoodlums and after some opponents were "murdered, gangland style."

It was testified Maloney looted Chicago union locals maintained as his special domain for 30 years and padded expense accounts to pay for lush living and a luxury yacht.

Maloney is now living in an island home near here but has been in and out of hospitals with a serious heart condition.

In resigning, Maloney produced a physician's statement saying that unless he quit he might soon die. His term has two years more to run, until the next convention of the Operating Engineers in 1960.

Joseph J. Delaney, 61, New York, secretary - treasurer who announced Maloney's resignation, is expected to be selected to the $50,000-a-year job as Maloney's successor at a union executive board meeting here next week.

Royal Oak Man, 62, Hit, Killed by Car

Aloise Sperl, 62, of 108 E. Fifth St., Royal Oak, was killed last night when he walked into the path of a southbound car on South Woodward avenue just north of 10 Mile road.

He was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

No charges have been filed against the driver of the car, Mary Morgan, 19, of 2735 Bamlet Rd., Royal Oak.

Stassen Confers With Ike Today —Still on Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said today after talking with President Eisenhower that he is continuing for now as Eisenhower's disarmament adviser.

Stassen said, however, he still is considering running for governor of Pennsylvania.

He said he must soon make a decision on whether to quit his present job and seek the governorship.

"I did not submit my resignation," he told newsmen. "I was not asked for it."

In reply to a flurry of questions, he said he would meet again with Eisenhower — at the President's request.

He said the time for such a meeting has not been set yet but that it will be before March 17, filing deadline for gubernatorial candidates in Pennsylvania.

May Try Vanguard Again in 2-3 Weeks

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) — There were indications today the Navy may make another satellite attempt with its Vanguard rocket within the next two or three weeks.

Salvage experts at Cape Canaveral disclosed they had succeeded in retaining over half of the 72-foot satellite rocket which broke up in flight Wednesday and are continuing their efforts in hopes of locating additional pieces.

In Washington, the Naval Laboratory announced it had traced the spectacular failure to faulty wiring in the Vanguard's internal "self-correcting" mechanism, rather than an engine or guidance malfunction.

Normally the Vanguard's automatic pilot—its gyroscope equipment only seven feet from the tip of the missile nose—would have sensed any irregularity and transmitted corrective commands to the rocket engine at the rear of the main stage.

Charts showed that the correcting signal failed to reach the first stage mechanism that would correct the engine's position and provide a change in direction.

The huge rocket was forced sharply to the right. The strain broke it in two.

With a complete answer to the failure at hand, the Navy is expected to begin assembling another of the vehicles it has ready at the test center.

TIMETABLE SUFFERS

The original Vanguard schedule called for launching four six-inch "test" satellites, starting last December, before attempting to put up the fully instrumented moon in March.

The timetable suffered a setback when the first Vanguard rocket fell back to earth and exploded moments after take-off, causing serious damage to the launching stand. Almost two months elapsed between the first and second tries.

Since it takes a minimum of two weeks to assemble and run a missile through all the necessary ground tests which must be made prior to a launching, it appears doubtful the original schedule can be met.

This raises the possibility the

GEORGE W. ROMNEY

'Would Mean Opening Door to Lower Prices, Higher Employment'

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — American Motors President George Romney proposed legislation today to break up the empires of the three big automobile producers, create new competition and lower prices.

He also called for dispersing the national union bargaining power of the United Auto Workers in testimony prepared for the Senate Subcommittee on Anti-Trust and Monopoly.

Romney said the birth of several new auto companies would possibly result from splitting the "Big Three" — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — meaning more competition and opening the door to lower prices, higher employment and improved products.

Romney said: "We are not asking for any special help. We are over the hump, making money and on our way."

But he told the lawmakers that the economic size and influence of the big three car firms is so far reaching that their policy decisions are capable of producing prosperity or depression for the nation.

SLAPS AT PLAN

He also said UAW boss Walter Reuther's 1958 "share-the-profit" program places at stake the right of an owner to protect his investment . . . or forces the owner to share the right with the union.

The head of American Motors said affiliated unions should be free to combine in bargaining with employers having less than 10,000 employes, but only within prescribed geographical limits. Unions with more than 10,000 employes of a single firm should be prohibited from establishing collective bargaining demands or exercising joint economic power against more than one company, he said.

Monopoly, a centralized planned economy, collective bargaining based on conflict and excess concentration of industrial, union and government power are the major issues listed by Romney that would break America.

House Unit Acts on Ike Requests

Rejects $750,000 for Civil Rights, but OKs $43 Million for Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today shunted aside a White House request for $750,000 to finance the six-member Civil Rights Commission.

But it approved in full President Eisenhower's request for $43,400,000 to pay unemployment compensation to jobless veterans and ex-federal employes out of work.

The committee's action was in two separate appropriation bills sent to the House floor for a vote next Monday.

The money was requested for the fiscal year starting next July 1. A separate request for $200,000 to finance the commission until July 1 is pending, but the committee indicated it would not approve that allotment either until the commission is more firmly organized and staffed. Meanwhile, the commission is being financed out of the President's emergency funds.

The committee was unanimous in approving the unemployment compensation allotments, 25 million dollars for jobless veterans and $18,400,000 for federal employes who lost their jobs through reductions in force.

In requesting these amounts, Eisenhower said funds on hand would be exhausted by Feb. 15 because claims for benefits were running higher than had been anticipated.

GE Executive Director

Launches Space Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today established its new space agency, the "Advanced Research Project Agency." Roy W. Johnson, an electrical company executive, was named director.

★ ★ ★

The announcement was made by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy.

Johnson will formally assume the ARPA directorship April 1, but will spend two or three days a week on his new assignment prior to that date.

★ ★ ★

The new agency will be responsible for over-all direction of such things as space weapons and military satellites.

State Bills Top Cash Available by $2 Million

LANSING (AP) — The state treasury has accumulated current unpaid bills of over two million dollars in excess of available cash.

Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski said that he is delaying payment of six million dollars in current obligations for which payment has been authorized — in addition to $28,500,000 in checks drawn but held up for schools.

Szymanski called the situation "the first in a series of crises" predicted since last November by state officials.

Law Requires Water Craft be Registered

State Boat Licenses May Miss Deadline

Oakland County's 40,000 boat owners, along with thousands of others in the state, are supposed to have licensed their boat with the state by March 1, under a new motor boat law passed last year.

But a Lansing source said today that the application forms for the $2 certificate of registration are not completed, and may not be available locally until near or after the March 1 deadline.

Local secretary of state branch offices and sheriff's offices are designated to receive the forms when they are completed.

The law was designed to cut the number of state water fatalities by establishing registration of boats, and identification numerals on the bow.

It also hits at reckless motor boat operation.

Boat owners who take to the lakes after March 1 without displaying an identification number and registration will be ticketed, Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons said today.

The provision concerning boat numerals is eyed as the key to enforcing safe driving practices on the lakes, which have become just as busy and crowded during the summer as the local highways.

EASILY IDENTIFIED

With three-inch-high identifying numerals required by law, lake recklessness may be the subject of formal complaint by witnesses spotting the offending boat's number.

The only boats exempt from the law are those solely operated by muscular power, boats under 16 feet which are not temporarily or permanently equipped with a motor, and U.S. government boats.

A spokesman in the Lansing office of George M. Harlow, administrator of the Motor Fuel Tax division of the department of state, said the licensing forms are nearing completion.

Included in the law is a provision for the state to match funds to finance three full-time deputies for water patrol. However, Irons says that three deputies would be useless on the county's 423 lakes.

The Michigan Sheriff's Assn. met in Lansing last week to discuss enforcement of the measure, and estimated that there are some 600,000 boat owners in the state.

Local sheriffs will receive registration lists from the state, to speed identification and arrest of reckless boat operators.

MORE COMPLAINTS

"In recent years, we have received more and more complaints from lakefront residents and boat owners," Irons said. "This new motor boat law can be the means of ending these compaints, if the people want to cooperate. But patroling all the lakes is out of the question.

Irons pointed out that many of the lake problems are caused by out-county residents who haul their boats to Oakland lakes to launch them.

He called attention to the fact that in the 22 lake fatalities handle by his department during 1957, only 1 person was a perment county resident.

"We learned quite a lesson there about the effect of reducing prices $100," he said.

Colbert, last of the top executives of the "Big Three" car makers to appear before the subcommittee, said Chrysler "got into trouble" in 1953 when it brought out a smaller car.

He said the company decided that what the public wanted was a smaller car and put a big advertising campaign to sell buyers on the idea that small cars would be easier to park and fit into garages.

"We used every argument known to man to impress on the public that they needed a smaller car," Colbert said. But he added that General Motors and Ford "went the other way and we lost out."

"Within six months we knew we made a bad mistake," Colbert said.

Today without a whimper, Colbert said it cost his company half a million dollars or more to make its presentation to a Senate inquiry group yesterday.

"We aren't objecting to the fact that it cost us half a million dollars or more," Colbert told members of the subcommittee.

"It is perfectly all right. That's the kind of world we live in."

Sen. Dirksen (D-Ill) raised the question and suggested it might well be a question to ask all witnesses appearing before congressional committees.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn), slightly stunned by Colbert's figure, said it was hard for him to understand how it could have cost Chrysler that much. He said it seemed to him the job could have been done for $1,000.

"How much do you think it costs for these 20 men to be here today?" Colbert asked, pointing at a group of Chrysler executives behind him.

Kefauver said he supposed the half million was a business expense and would be charged off in Chrysler's income tax return.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is it true that you can place your back into the wind and usually find the center of a weather disturbance to your left?

Yes, strange at it sounds, this is a rule which usually produces an accurate forecast. With your back to the wind, hold out your left arm and it will point to the center of the weather disturbance.

Why is this true? It's because low pressure systems in this hemisphere circle counter clockwise. With your back to the circling (counter clockwise) winds your left hand, extended, automatically points to the low pressure center and your right hand will point to better weather.

It's a good rule for pilots to remember, on long cross country flights.

Real-Life Drama: Policeman, Bull Battle to Death

DETROIT (INS) — A motorcycle policeman and an escaped 1,000-pound Black Angus bull battled to the death in a Detroit alley today. The officer won.

He fired four shots into the enraged animal's head, but not before the bull had butted him from the motorcycle and ripped his uniform to shreds.

One bull was captured and the other shot by police. The third was scattering pedestrians when it was spotted by motorcycle patrolman Frank Demercy, 35.

Demercy headed for the Black Angus and fired one shot that struck the animal in the head. The inflamed beast charged, knocked the officer off his motorcycle and ran up the alley.

Demercy climbed back on his motorcycle and followed. The bull, halted by two trucks blocking the alley, lowered his head for another charge and the policeman fired four quick shots.

"He kept coming," Demercy said. "I thought the bullets must have just bounced off him, but suddenly, when only a few feet away, the bull sank to his knees, then rolled over on his side."

Army will have launched a second U. S. moon before the Navy can get up a fully instrumented sphere.

The Army definitely has a second satellite shot scheduled, but the firing date has not been announced.

With the decks temporarily cleared of moon launching vehicles, the test center is settling back to the job of perfecting defense rockets.

A number of missiles can be seen in their launching stands from the beach—including two 5,000-mile range Atlas intercontinental ballistic projectiles—and presumably are ready for the firing line.

In Washington the Air Force announced yesterday that a new guided missile that cannot be jammed by radar recently hit a target 650 miles away in a successful test.

The ground-to-ground missile was fired from the Air Force Missile Development Center near Alamogordo, N. M., and struck "the selected target area" at Wendover Air Force Base, Utah. It was observed throughout by two sabre jets.

Mrs. Edward Wilson Suing for Divorce

The wife of Edward E. Wilson, son of former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, has filed suit for divorce.

Mrs. Wilson, the former Carol Motherwell, of Birmingham, filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday.

At her request, Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty suppressed details of the case.

The couple has been married 18 years. Neither Wilson nor his wife had any comment on the suit.

cil, holding winter meetings here, was expected to approve a policy statement that will ask Congress to lay off any legislation aimed at regulating union internal affairs, even in such relatively mild form as already proposed by President Eisenhower.

The council's statement was expected to say that the AFL-CIO already is busy and is perfectly capable of cleaning up corruption.

AFL-CIO officials revealed yesterday that heads of the Florida Federation of Labor (AFL) and the state CIO Council have signed an agreement for a long-delayed merger of the two groups.

The two groups represent more than 60,000 Florida workers.

Plans are said to call for a convention in the latter part of March at Tampa to carry out the merger and to draft a constitution.

A move for merger in Florida leaves 11 states still to carry out amalgamation programs in accordance with terms of the AFL-CIO merger in December, 1955.

NICOL SMITH

Adventure Film on 'Toy' Countries Set for Tuesday

"Europe's Toy Countries" — a film on the small nations across the Atlantic—will be the next program in Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club's current Travel and Adventure series, Tuesday.

Nicol Smith will be the speaker. He was the first person to explore and photograph the remote interior of the Island of Hainan, and the first to make a round trip over the Burma Road during the dangerous rainy season.

He has made a name for himself as an explorer of strange, remote and interesting places. He has wandered all over the South Seas, spent six months in the Devil's Island penal colony, and roamed the wild jungles of Dutch Guiana.

Smith is the author of five books —the most recent of which is his "Golden Doorway to Tibet."

Violence Breaks Out at Little Rock School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)— Violence broke out several times at integrated Central High School yesterday and a white boy and a Negro girl were suspended.

The tension-filled day also included a bomb scare but no explosives were found.

Matthews also suspended Lester Judkins Jr., a white youth who reportedly doused Minnie Jean with soup in a cafeteria incident after the fight in the corridor.

Kids went roller skating on a Pontiac school gymnasium floor last night for the first time.

The gleaming varnish finish wasn't scratched a bit, thanks to a novel type of roller that is the basis for a new recreational program developed at Lincoln Junior High School by its faculty, PTA, student council and the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

PLASTIC SOFTER

"The roller is made of a plastic that is softer than the wooden floor. It doesn't mark or mar the wood the way a conventional metal roller would," explained Leonard Buzz, the department's superintendent of recreation.

With the recreation department's help and Board of Education approval, students and parents are ready now to carry on an ambitious roller skating party from 7 - 9 p.m. on alternate Thursdays.

"It was the students' enthusiasm that got us started on this, but it was through the parents' willingness to help supervise the skating that we were able to put the program into effect," said Buzz.

PARENTS ORGANIZED

The parents were organized through a PTA committee headed by Mrs. Russell Bell, of 37 Hudson St. Mrs. George Gray, of 54 Yale St. is the PTA president.

Youngsters and parents worked together to raise $800 to purchase 100 pairs of the special skates, which are available at the door on a rental basis of 25 cents an evening.

Since the gym could hold up to 250 skaters comfortably, children who have similar type skates could use their own if their rollers won't mark the floor, Buzz said.

Last night's skating featured organ music over the public address system, novelty sets and a snack bar for intermissions.

"The recreation department would be happy to help organize similar programs at other schools," said Buzz. "We think it is a good active program for all ages."

600 Republicans Expected to Hear Mrs. Leeds Here

Republicans from throughout Oakland County will pack the Elks Temple in Pontiac Wednesday to hear Mrs. Robert W. Leeds as guest speaker for the county Lincoln Day banquet.

Mrs. Leeds is the first woman to be named to a top post in the United States Patent Office. She has held the position as assistant commissioner of patents since 1953.

Mrs. Leeds will be introduced to some 600 persons attending the 6:30 dinner by Congressman William S. Broomfield.

Ted Koella, ticket chairman, estimated that some 500 tickets have been sold to date. Others at $3.50 are available from any elected county official or from the GOP headquarters in Birmingham, at 351 N. Woodward Ave., Koella said.

Youth Who Defied Red China Ban Rejected by Army

A Utica youth who defied a State Department ban to visit Red China last summer has been rejected for military duty.

Capt. Leonard B. Young, deputy commander of the examination station at Fort Wayne said Larry Schwartz, 22, failed to pass a physical examination and has been rejected.

"As far as we're concerned," Young said, "his rejection had nothing to do with his trip to China."

Schwartz, who was to have been inducted into the Army yesterday following his physical, expressed surprise upon being turned down for military duty.

"They told me that it was no reflection on me personally," Schwartz said. "But as far as I could tell, I met all of the physical requirements."

Schwartz felt that his trip to China may have played "a part in his rejection. But just how great a part, I don't know," he said.

Schwartz was among 41 who attended a World Youth Festival in Moscow last year and went on to Communist China despite State Department objections. He is a University of Michigan graduate.

Coed Brutally Beaten on Campus at MSU

EAST LANSING (INS)—A married coed was brutally beaten early today on the campus of Michigan State University.

Police said Mrs. Brown "positively" identified Logan as the man who accosted her as she was returning from an automatic laundry.

Mrs. Brown told police he struck her on the head several times with a "flat instrument."

Doctors at Olin Memorial Health Center, the campus hospital, said Mrs. Brown suffered a possible broken jaw and a long cut on the head and lost several teeth.

Both the victim and Logan live on the campus.

Judge Seeks to Tear Up Records

Would Expunge Young Offenders

By HAROLD S. COHEN

A plea for a state law to permit circuit judges to expunge the criminal records of youths under 21 who "go straight" was made by Oakland Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

★ ★ ★

SUPPORTS PLEA

He cited the 1957 statistics on probation in support of his plea. About one half of the persons placed on probation last year were under 21 and 88 per cent "made good," he added.

★ ★ ★

The judge said he was convinced the youths who gave up crime and became credits to the community should, in fairness, be allowed to have their criminal records torn up so they could take jobs of responsibility or enlist in the armed forces later in life.

Discussing probation, Judge Adams noted that it costs the taxpayer $36 a year to supervise a probationer, while it costs $1,200 a year to keep a man at Jackson Prison.

PAY FEES

He noted, too that probationers last year paid Oakland County $25,000 in probation fees, and earned at their jobs some $800,000.

Judge Adams said that New York has a law permitting the clearing of a criminal record for minors and that it works well there.

"So many of the boys who get into trouble are basically good boys with excess energy and no place to work it off," he said.

★ ★ ★

PROTECT SOCIETY

He pointed out that a judge's first duty, however, is to protect society, and many criminals must be sent to prison for this reason and as a deterrent to themselves and others not to repeat the crimes they have committed.

"But," he went on, "prison rarely does anyone any good. It is a finishing school for young offenders."

Pay Hike Asked for Prisoners

Corrections Head Says Some Inmates Making Only 5 Cents Daily

LANSING (AP) — Pay raises and "vacations" may be forthcoming for some of the inmates of Michigan prisons.

State Corrections Director Gus Harrison told the Corrections Commission yesterday he was hopeful the legislature would put throug a $63,000 increase in the yearly appropriation for prison wages to some 7,000 prisoners. Current appropriations total $326,430.

Some prisoners, he said, are making as little as five cents a day from which they must buy such personal itemns as toothpaste and other toiletries. The average daily wage is 20 cents.

Inmates also are paid by the prison industries fund.

Citing experience at Camp Pugsley near Traverse City, the commission directed Harrison to look into the possibility of allowing model inmates at Camp Brighton or Cassidy Lake Training School to take weekend "vacations."

Harrison said he probably would set up an experimental program this spring, allowing certain inmates approaching their release date to spend an occasional weekend at home.

About 100 boys at Camp Pugsley, set up for youths placed on probation, have been released for weekends and all have returned to the camp, Harrison said.

Give OK to Unfreeze State School Funds

LANSING (AP) — House majority Republicans gave the green light today to unfreezing $28,500,000 in the state school aid funds tied up in the state treasury since Jan. 15.

★ ★ ★

Their action raised the prospect that the delayed checks will go into the mails next week — as soon as the House okays a Senate-approved bill and Gov. Williams signs it.

In a 90-minute caucus yesterday, GOP members were unable to reach the same unanimity on extending the present $190 formula for school aid through 1958-59. This also has Senate approval.

Speaker George M. Van Peursem said afterwards that while the "great majority" favored extension, a minority wanted more time before making a committment of support.

These, he said, were mostly lawmakers seeking reassurance about the state's overall fiscal situation.

As a result, another caucus will be held on the question early next week, Van Peursem said.

Many Visit Sweden

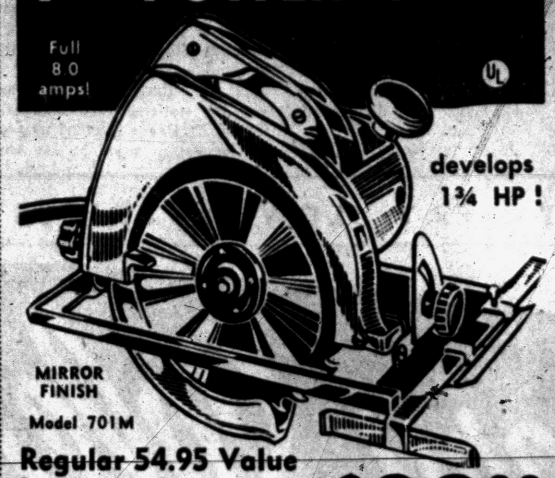

STOCKHOLM — The number of non-Scandinavian tourists and other visitors to Sweden in 1957 is officially estimated at more than 500,000, an increase of about 10 per cent over 1956 and the highest figure ever recorded. About 5 per cent more visitors were from the United States — 90,000 of them.

There are 55 separate American Indian languages and many more dialects.

Sarah Churchill Creates Scene at Air Terminal

Miss Churchill was to take a 6 p.m. flight to Paris, where she goes on to the Riviera to visit her father. But she arrived at the airport at 5:55 p.m. and the plane was loaded and ready to roll. Overseas passengers ordinarily are requested to check in 45 minutes ahead of flight time.

Miss Churchill was miffed at not being put aboard the flight. She told an airline employe: "Look, get me some service. I've got to get on that plane."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Miss Churchill was fined $50 in Los Angeles last month for drunkenness.

From three to five million persons are bothered by hay fever in the United States each year, ranging from severe to only light afflictions.

Mark Edmond Writing for Hal Boyle

U.N. Receiving Flood of Inquiring Letters

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP)—If public letter writing is an accurate barometer, popular interest in the United Nations has never been greater.

Last year the U.N.'s public inquiry section handled 57,837 letters. This represented a steady growth over the years, and a 15 to 20 per cent increase over 1956.

In 1957 there were 1,205 letters dealing with the Hungarian situation, and 1,168 with the Middle East.

Mrs. Josephine Frank, head of the U.N.'s public inquiry unit, says she and her eight assistants have been getting letters from the Soviet Union. For a while there had been none.

★ ★ ★

More mail has also come from the satellite countries, particularly Poland and Hungary.

Letters come from all over the world, but something like 90 per cent come from the United States and Canada.

Most of these are inquiries about the work of U.N. bodies.

Glenn E. Bennett, chief of visitors services, says he is impressed by the number of letters written last year expressing appreciation for Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's peace efforts. There were 1,079.

Bennett explained that the number of serious and thoughtful letters has increased recently, while the number of crackpot letters has decreased.

There used to be more mail from writers with chips on their shoulders or from those with weird axes to grind.

★ ★ ★

There was a request that the U.N. step in to prevent the suicide of dogs who were said to be leaping from a building in a South American city.

A number of letters asked that the writers be put on a list for the first rocket flights into space.

Occasionally a letter is prophetic. One man, begging not to be thought of as a crackpot, wrote three years ago a detailed and serious program calling on the U.N. to undertake an immediate study of space control.

★ ★ ★

Among the frequent correspondence subjects are plans on how to keep peace, concern for the possible danger of fallout from nuclear weapons tests, and requests for financial help.

Threatens Governor; Denies If Later

LANSING (AP)—A man who police said threatened to kill Gov. Williams was held for investigation by state police here today.

Detective Sgt. Walter Caukin of the East Lansing State Police post said a sanity examination would be sought for Reynolds.

He said Reynolds apparently was suffering from hallucinations and reported receiving "mysterious messages which sound as if they were coming over a walkie-talkie."

Caukin said Reynolds denied any plans to kill the governor and added "If I did say anything like that, it was just to get some attention."

An anonymous telephone tipster reported the threats and gave the license plate number of Reynolds' car in the early evening. Reynolds was arrested around 9:30 p.m. while drinking at another bar in Fowlerville, about 25 miles south of Lansing. He was unarmed and offered no resistance, police said.

Plain Divider on Orchard Lake Again Car Culprit

The marker, scene of near mishaps almost every night, according to Pontiac police, was struck by a taxi at 7:30 p.m., injuring two passengers.

The driver, Dillman E. Seelye, 47, of 1120 Cherrylawn Dr., told police he was blinded by oncoming lights.

Mrs. Joyce Caughill, 34, of 1061 Dover, who suffered chest bruises, said she warned the driver just before the accident that the divider was ahead and was a frequent cause of accidents.

Mrs. Caughill and her daughter, Gail, 9, were thrown forward by the impact and Gail suffered a cut mouth. Both were treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police traffic officers say they have complained many times about the new dividers, but are told the State Highway Dept. is responsible for mounting flasher lights or reflectors on them.

New York Race May Be Millionaires' Battle

There's something about a multi-millionaire that packs a tremendous appeal to the Democratic party.

Our own Governor, G. MENNEN WILLIAMS, is from a wealthy family. Our Lieutenant Governor is also "well heeled" beyond the dreams of most people. The late FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT was worth a few million dollars and the outstanding early candidate for the next Democratic Presidential nomination is one of the enormously wealthy KENNEDY clan from Massachusetts. They're in the big dough . . . the real big dough . . . the echelon that stands up internationally . . . the 200 million class.

Governor Averell Harriman of New York is another exceedingly wealthy man and drops comfortably into a plush and purple niche between the Williams, the Harts and the fabulous Kennedys Soooo, New York Republicans are considering a strategic counter by offering voters their choice between Got-Rocks Harriman and Got-More-Rocks Rockefeller.

There's a horse race.

★ ★ ★

NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER is an able and upstanding citizen. He is a philanthropist and comes from one of the most generous families in America. He has been active in public works without holding elective office and is an interested, capable and public spirited man.

This could be a great race between two great men in a great state.

Trade Act Extension Is in National Interest

In a special message to Congress President EISENHOWER has appealed for a five year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act and authority to lower U.S. tariffs five per cent in each of the next five years in return for similar trade concessions from other nations.

The Act, first passed in 1934 under the impetus of the late CORDELL HULL, has been extended 10 times and the present three years extension runs out on June 30. The President points out that two way international trade is "essential to our economic interest, to our security and to our foreign relations."

★ ★ ★

Opposition to extension is powerful. Southern textile manufacturers seem to be taking the lead with extravagant statements claiming damage from the import of Japanese textiles. They lose sight of the fact that Japan imports much of her raw cotton from the South. However, two powerful Southern newspapers, the Birmingham News and Atlanta Constitution, are supporting U.S. reciprocal trade policy.

★ ★ ★

Protectionists should take note of what happens to our exports when imports are unduly taxed. Before the duty on Swiss watches was raised that country was importing almost all its lard from us. Since then Switzerland hasn't bought a pound. On the other hand the Elgin Watch Co. instead of asking higher duties, diversified its products to meet overseas competition.

★ ★ ★

Vice President NIXON recently pointed out that 4.5 million American jobs are attributable to the export trade. If all tariffs were eliminated, the Committee for a National Trade Policy estimates, only about 200,000 workers would have to find other jobs. Last year U.S. goods sold abroad amounted to about $20 billion while our imports of foreign goods was only $13.5 billion.

★ ★ ★

The first common tariffs of the six nation European Market start to go into effect shortly. Then we will be dealing with a group of 265 million people whose nearest market would be the Soviet Union, and as President EISENHOWER has stated, Moscow is engaged in combined trade and aid programs to divide the free world.

The Administration should speak up strongly for the five year extension without crippling amendments.

EVEN if Russia should learn to control the weather, as some predict, there are grounds for wondering if she could worsen it.

WHETHER a person believes in the Darwinian theory may depend upon what kind of in-laws he has.

Nerve-Wracking, to Say the Least

Dems' Tune Changed Since 1933

WASHINGTON — It's strange how the process by which the Constitution can be amended seems suddenly become cumbersome and dilatory to those politicians who wish to circumvent it either by passing a law or by pressuring the Supreme Court to change its decisions.

Thus the Democrats now are saying it would take LAWRENCE to long to get a Constitutional amendment adopted which would provide a method whereby the vice president can serve temporarily in case of the disability of a president.

But the Democrats did not feel that way in 1933, when they put through both Houses of Congress the repeal of the 18th amendment on prohibition and when three-fourths of the states ratified the new 21st amendment by December of that same year — less than 10 months in all.

Similarly, the 17th amendment, providing for the election of senators by popular vote, took less than 13 months for ratification. The 19th amendment on woman suffrage was ratified in about 4 months. Approval of the 20th, or "lame duck," amendment came 11 months after submission by Congress.

The lesson is plain — when public opinion is united, it is easy to get a Constitutional amendment passed quickly. There is every reason to believe that, if by two-thirds vote of the Senate and House of Representatives a new amendment on presidential disability were submitted to the states, it could be adopted before the year 1958 comes to a close.

When controversial issues are involved, it is true that it takes longer to get a Constitutional amendment adopted.

The late President Franklin D. Rosevelt, Democrat, in his nationwide radio broadcast on March 9, 1937 — during the fight over ways and means of influencing decisions of the Supreme Court by "packing" it with additional justices whom the President would appoint — decried the talk of doing anything to reform the court by a Constitutional amendment. He said:

"It would take months or years to get substantial agreement upon the type and language of an amendment. It would take months and years thereafter to get a two-thirds majority in favor of that amendment in both houses of the Congress. Then would come the long course of ratification by three-fourths of all the states. No amendment which any powerful economic interests or the leaders of any powerful political party have had reason to oppose has ever been ratified within anything like a reasonable time."

Mr. Roosevelt expressed his discouragement too, over what happens even when a new Constitutional amendment on a complex subject is finally adopted. He added this observation:

"And remember one thing more. Even if an amendment were passed, and even if in the years to come it were to be ratified, its meaning would depend upon the kind of justices who would be sitting on the Supreme Court bench. An amendment, like the rest of the Constitution, is what the justices say it is rather than what its framers or you might hope it is."

This note of despair about our Constitution uttered by the man who has been canonized by the Democratic Party is repeated these days by Democratic leaders. But some of the same objections apply also to any law that may be passed by Congress.

If, for instance, a statute were enacted setting up a commission to remove the President when he seemed disabled and to decide later whether or not he had recovered from his illness, such a broad discretionary power would surely be challenged in the courts.

Every executive action involving property would become a basis for a lawsuit by the aggrieved party. The whole country would be in doubt as to the legality of action by a temporary president and months or years might elapse before the Supreme Court ruled on the validity of the executive acts performed by a vice president.

Plenty of Experts Back Teachings on Nutrition

What we, if I may use the pronoun, didn't know about nutrition when I launched this health column now fills some of the most rewarding textbooks a student or physician can swipe or buy. For example:

DR. BRADY

The Vitamins in Medicine by Bicknell and Prescott,

Chemistry of Food and Nutrition by Sherman,

Newer Knowledge of Nutrition by McCollum,

The Pafient Past Fifty by Boas,

Nutrition and Physical Degeneration by Price,

Let's Have Healthy Children by Davis,

The Vitamin B Requirement of Man by Cowgill.

(If your book dealers can't supply the book ask for it in the public library).

It was easy for my untutored colleagues (untutored in nutrition) to brush aside or laugh at any suggestion of nutritional deficiency I ventured to make in my newspaper column from the beginning. When a doctor more or less eminent in his domain pronounced such suggestions "pipe dreams" or "unaccepted" or "unscientific," there were no recognized authorities one could cite to support the newer teaching.

Later on, however, our knowledge of nutrition increased tremendously and one had plenty of good authorities in reserve, so to speak, to back up nutritional teachings.

Take iodine, for instance. In the past and even now, few physicians and fewer laymen regarded it as essential for good nutrition or good health.

Indeed, in the years I have been telling people to be sure to get their daily nutritional requirement of iodine, most people and too many physicians have rejected the teaching as "unscientific." Some physicians, who would be happier if I were silenced, even try to make people think it is dangerous.

If I may be permitted to say so, it is astonishing how much difference lack of a tiny fraction of a grain of iodine or iodide in the day's intake makes in the individual's mental alertness and physical efficiency.

Familiar complaint of mature adults with iodine deficiency is that they feel chilly in circumstances which normal individuals consider comfortable. If you're one of these cool customers, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Man Gives Opposite Side of Controversy Over Dogs

I read your editorial on the barbaric killing of hunting dogs just for the sport of it. Now I'm back of the present law, even though I love dogs and have one of my own.

In my experience, there are very few legitimate hunters. Most of them are road hunters who get out of the car only to shoot or pick up game. The hunters cruise the country side looking for a likely ridge where foxes might cross the road. They let the dogs out of the car and listen for the sound of the chase. When they hear it, they charge away at 65 mph to get to the spot where the fox crosses. This goes on for hours, either day or night.

If I stop the car and complain, hunters show genuine concern. The dogs got away and they've been trying for hours to capture them but without success. Only last week two dogs were trailing foxes and frightening my sheep heavy with lamb. I located the owner on the road by his car and listened to the typical story. When I threatened to kill the dogs if they came near my sheep, there was instant action and he had the dogs on leash and into his car within ten minutes.

★ ★ ★

These hunters aren't vicious characters. They're nice people. Some of them are Rotarians like myself. I suggest you become very interested in fox hunting if you want to see my side of the story. Don't become critical or you will get the wrong story. I might even introduce you to some of my friends who hunt foxes.

Recalls Another Russian Episode

We can well understand the Russian's frustration that we, too, can perform the same trick they thought exclusively theirs. However, it's better for the world as it is.

History records another Russian frustration for which mankind's gratitude will never cease. It occurred in 1814 when Europe's struggle against Napoleon was near an end. The northern part of Italy was invaded by Russians and in one tiny village savage soldiers butchered men, women and children. Even women who took refuge in the church were pursued and slain there.

One woman with a male child a few months old in her arms hid in the belfry and frustrated attempts to kill them. That child grew up to compose operas with the most beautiful, inspiring and popular music the world was ever privileged to hear. That child God so miraculously saved was none less than Giuseppe Verdi, Italy's greatest gift to the world.

Arabs Casting Wary Eye on Egypt-Syria Merger

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

President Gamal Abdel Nasser, as expected, has proclaimed himself ruler not only of Egypt but also of Syria.

Perhaps next in line for inclusion in the "United Arab Republic" will be the little kingdom of Yemen. The crown prince of the Red Sea kingdom, 29-year-old Mohammed El Badr, is in Cairo to study the possibility of joining.

EARLY TO JUDGE

It still is too early to judge whether the Syrian-Egyptian merger is just another paper agreement in the name of Arab unity or whether it will become a dangerous new factor in the explosive Middle East political situation.

The past record of proclaimed Arab unity has not been impressive. The Arab League, encouraged in the first place by Britain, never became very powerful. Economic jealousies, differing political ambitions and dynastic hatreds made it ineffective.

Egypt's previous creation of a unified military command between her own forces and those of other Arab states likewise was unimpressive.

The main unifying factor in the Arab world has been the hatred of Israel. Arab efforts to destroy the latter militarily or through economic pressures have failed.

The animosity toward Israel still is there but a new element —Soviet penetration of the Middle East—has caused a split in Arab ranks.

Jordan frankly fears Egypt and Syria and with reason. Propagandists in both countries openly have encouraged Arab nationalists to try to assassinate King Hussein of Jordan.

Lebanon, which with Jordan and Israel separate Egypt and Syria, has been wary of the ambitions of Nasser. Iraq, only Arab state in the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, also opposes the Egyptian-Syrian policy of constantly attacking Western "imperialists" while wooing heavy Russian aid.

The impact of Arab nationalism is not lost on Western diplomats, nor on the Arab nations who have disagreed with Nasser.

There are reports that Jordan, Iraq and Sauda Arabia may get together and form some sort of federation as a counter-weight to the Syrian-Egyptian drive which openly supports the Algerian nationalist drive against the French in North Africa.

Jordan economically is not self-supporting and is an obvious target of the "United Arab Republic" creation. Iraq and Saudi Arabia, also monarchies, have oil resources envied by Egypt and Syria.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Must Wear Hearing Aid Regularly

Ira's mistake is that he listens to his hearing aid instead of through it to the external sounds he should notice. And many bifocal patients also look at their new glasses instead of through them. Wear your false teeth and glasses and hearing aids till you forget about them. Then, and only then, will you enjoy them to the full.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I bought a hearing aid recently," he began.

"But it bothers me with its unnatural sounds and screeching. I can't hear what people say because I pay so much attention to the device in my ear.

"Is anything wrong with this instrument?"

DR. CRANE

HEARING PSYCHOLOGY

When I checked his hearing aid, I found it worked very well, except he hadn't tuned it properly.

But his major problem was the novelty of the new device. Ira was listening TO the instrument in his ear, instead of listening THROUGH it to the conversation around him.

And that is also a common error whenever a person begins to wear bifocals or false teeth.

At the outset, we tend to pay attention to the new gadget. Thus, a person notices the line of cleavage between the dual lens in his bifocals.

★ ★ ★

But he soon will ignore that line of cleavage as soon as he focusses his attention on the external world and begins looking THROUGH his glasses instead of AT them.

★ ★ ★

But most of us disregard this as we focus our attention on the sounds of conversation around us.

BUZZING EARS

Haven't you ever listened to the buzzing or ringing sounds inherent in a small town telephone system?

Perhaps you felt you never could hear above the noise of the system itself. But as soon as your sweetheart got on the other end of the line, you forgot all about the humming on the wires.

Well, that is what happens to normal people when they happen to grow conscious of the buzzing or chirping sounds inherent in their own ears.

And after we notice them, then we grow alarmed and they seem much louder. So just divert your attention to something far away and listen to it. Then you'll forget the buzzing of the ear itself.

★ ★ ★

Oh, in some ailments, as anemia and Meniere's disease, the buzzing sounds are typical symptoms, but they are also typical of ALL ears, anyway, if we pay attention to our own hearing mechanism.

A cousin of mine lived at our house for a semester when she first entered Northwestern University.

After six weeks, he suddenly grew conscious of the ticking of his alarm clock. And the more he focussed on it, the louder it seemed.

Finally he got so wrought up, he brought it out into the hall and asked us to please place it back beside his bed when he fell asleep.

But he had slept with it beside his bed for six weeks and had never noticed it before! So the sound hadn't changed. He had just become conscious of it!

So wear your teeth regularly, as well as your bifocals and ear phones. Don't try to keep them just for "Sunday" use. Make them a constant part of you until you forget you have them on.

Then and only then will you begin to enjoy them properly.

So beware about blaming the hearing aid. In most cases it is the wearer thereof who is at fault for failing to tune it properly or wear it regularly.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Adams Favored to Return Attack

GOP Seen Bypassing Nixon in Reply to Talk by Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee may pick presidential assistant Sherman Adams to answer former President Truman's expected attack on the Eisenhower administration.

★ ★ ★

Truman's speech at a Feb. 22 dinner sponsored by the Democratic National Committee is being billed in advance as a "give 'em hell" assault on the GOP.

The Republican committee has been offered equal television and radio time to answer Truman's broadcast address.

But there is a feeling among some Republican officials that Nixon has gone high level in his unofficial campaign for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination and might not be as vigorous in rebuttal as Adams.

This feeling was strengthened by President Eisenhower's endorsement at his news conference of Adams' speech attacking the Democrats in a Minneapolis, Minn., speech Jan. 20.

While Eisenhower was saying in Chicago the same night that defense should be a nonpartisan matter, Adams mentioned Democratic policies he said led the loss of China and to the Korean War. He charged the Democrats with wasteful and crippling defense planning after World War II.

In the jargon of politics, Adams "stirred up the animals," bringing in to the GOP National Committee its biggest and most favorable mail response to any speech made in months by a high administration official other than the President.

In endorsing Adams' Minneapolis speech, Eisnhower said there was no basic difference between his and Adams' speeches because both came out against partisanship in defense.

Junior Editors Quiz on STRANGE LEGENDS

QUESTION: Does the "abominable snowman" exist?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In 1952 a mountain climbing expedition failed to reach the top of Mount Everest but made headlines with its account of a strange animal, half man and half ape, that appeared on the trail several times. They called it the 'abominable snowman' or 'yeti'. Several similar tales have cropped up from time to time among mountain climbers in the Everest section of the Himalayas. The stories all agree that this strange creature, with wild glaring eyes, long hair on its body but none on its face and long, snaggly teeth, always appears high above the trail party on a cliff or peering down from a precipice. Science, so far, has not given much credence to these tales. If anything, it regards the apparitions as: 1. hallucinations caused by the snow and the awesome weather. 2. possibly the animal is a panda or a snow leopard or a large mountain ape.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: If you get a chance make a snowman, with an ugly face, christen him the "abominable snowman," and use him for a snowball target.

★ ★ ★

Town Honors Dr. Speed for 50 Years Service

SAYRE, Okla. (AP) — This Western Oklahoma town held an all-day celebration to honor Dr. H. K. Speed, 72-year-old physician, for 50 years of continuous service here.

Included in the festivities were a contest to select a queen, princess, king, prince and prettiest baby. The only eligibility requirement was that contestants had to be brought into the world by Speed.

During the first year of the gold rush days, it is believed that more than 100,000 persons came to Colorado.

Honor Financier for Teamwork With Employes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A financier who had only 60 days' formal schooling will be honored tonight for his lifelong devotion to the cause of the underdog.

The award says of Mitchell, who founded an insurance company here in 1940: 'Every company Mr. Mitchell has ever had anything to do with has maintained a hiring policy based solely on ability to do the job. He has never shown regard for any employe's race, color, creed or national origin."

His company includes Negroes and Orientals, in addition to whites.

Mitchell says he has no regard for so-called physical handicaps either, so long as an individual can be trained to do a useful job. He admits it hasn't always been easy going.

★ ★ ★

"Sometimes a whole department wanted to quit because of someone that had been hired. I had to go down and preach Americanism to them.

"We are trying in our small way to create better feeling among all people. That's the only way to combat unrest in this country.

Urges Speedy Tax Reduction

State C. of C. Council Says Income Levy Drop Would 'Turn Recession'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An immediate start on income tax reduction was urged today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, which said such a move would be a big help in "turning around the recession."

★ ★ ★

The council's recommendations, calling for graduated annual tax cuts, were contained in testimony prepared by Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus, Ohio, for the House Ways and Means Committee. That group is winding up five weeks of hearings on general tax revision.

★ ★ ★

"We believe strongly that the tax reductions of 1954 and the tax revision of 1954 helped materially in turning around the recession which started in the fall of 1953 and ended in the summer of 1954," Laylin said.

"We are equally convinced that tax rate reductions at this time would have a similar effect on the current recession."

The council recommended to Congress lowering the maximum individual rate from 91 to 82 per cent and the minimum rate from 20 to 19 per cent, with additional rate reductions put into effect annually until the top rate is reduced to 50 per cent.

It proposed an immediate cut in corporation income taxes from 52 to 50 per cent, with the rate ultimately reduced to 47 per cent.

File Request to Prevent Construction of Church

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Construction of a church next door to their $90,000 home would lower property values and "create disturbances" in the neighborhood, a Phoenix couple contends.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. David Keith filed a request for a temporary restraining order in Maricopa County Superior Court to prevent the Mountain View Church of Christ from building a new church next door.

★ ★ ★

"We just don't want anything which would collect lots of people and noise in the neighborhood," Keith, an investor, said. "We have nothing against the church."

Heredity and Exercise Effects on Arteries Studied Intensively

By CHARLES F. WILKINSON JR. M.D.
N.Y.U. Post Graduate School of Medicine

NEW YORK (NEA) — In the United States, as throughout the world, medical scientists are devoting much time and study to the factors of heredity and exercise in the development of atherosclerosis, known to laymen as "hardening of the arteries."

As has been told in earlier installments of this series, we are concerned with the process by which the arteries become narrowed, roughened and hardened, setting the stage for such events as heart attacks and strokes. This narrowing starts as a deposit of fatty material, but, as time passes, it takes on a more complex structure and finally is composed of not only fat but also of scar tissue, calcium or lime, and even small blood vessels.

There are two groups of factors that control the development of these deposits, or plaques, their rate of growth and position in the artery. Those that make up the first group are called primary since they occur to some extent in all of us.

These include certain anatomical features of the arteries that expose certain areas to more wear and tear than other areas, causing more thickening to develop.

While this wear and tear can explain much, many of us feel that equally important is an inherited tendency to form these plaques faster on some people than in others.

★

If only primary factors were operating, atherosclerosis would not present a major health problem. Unfortunately, they are often complicated by one or more secondary factors. One of them is hypertension. While not all high blood pressure is due to heredity, there is no doubt that much of it is.

Other secondary factors are also important and are either known to be, or suspected of being inherited.

TYPE OF EXERCISE

Many physicians feel that the important consideration is not so much the amount of exercise that is taken by a person, but rather the way in which this exercise is taken.

★ ★ ★

Regular and moderate exercise can be beneficial. As one grows older, however, it may be necessary to reduce the amount and type of activity. Exercise taken at infrequent intervals, such as violent sets of tennis played by an office worker during his vacation, can be quite another thing.

HOW MUCH

How much exercise do people take? How much do they really need? These problems are the subject of considerable research today. Much more study by many scientists will be required before the physician can, with real assurance, proceed with effective rehabilitation of the patient who is suffering from some form of heart disease.

NEXT: HYPERTENSION.

To Quiz Anderson on Business Slump

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Anderson goes to Capitol Hill today for questioning by the Senate-House Economic Committee about the administration's plans for combating the business lump.

★ ★ ★

Chairman William M. Martin of the Federal Reserve Board told the committee he did not think the recession would last "too long." He cautioned against too drastic steps to check it.

★ ★ ★

"Excessive stimulus during recession can jeopardize long-run stability," he said, describing the economy as "robust and strong (but) at the moment suffering from indigestion or overexertion" after three boom years.

The largest demand for electric light bulbs is for those in the 60 and 100-watt sizes, used chiefly in households and business establishments.

Foresee Parks Replacing Cars in Michigan's Cities

By ROGER LANE
AP Lansing Correspondent

(Sixth in a series of articles on municipal problems)

Planners look to the day when grassy malls and plazas with fountains and reflecting pools will replace streams of creeping automobiles at the hub of some of Michigan's larger outstate cities.

The vision has rooted in Muskegon and Jackson, to mention two. Its realization is a long way off, maybe 15 or 20 years, although spadework has begun.

As the planners see it, today's main street will blossom with tomorrow's plantings and walkways, surrounded by lofty retail stores and office buildings. The pedestrian will be king in the new-style shopping center.

Auto traffic, completely eliminated from the central hub of say three by five blocks, will move at the edge in a circulating pattern. Commodious parking lots will line the streets at the edge of the central district, siphoning off cars as they converge off spoke-like thoroughfares from residential areas.

FIRST STEP TEDIOUS

The first step is to set up the streets and parking lots, a slow, tedious, costly venture in congested downtown districts, involving tearing down buildings, rearranging streets, overpasses and grade separations.

Rivers of cars in downtown streets, coupled with the trend to outlying shopping centers, started alarming merchants and metropolitan city officials a long time ago.

First they turned to one-way streets, then stricter limitations on curb parking and next to off-street parking—and more off-street parking. Multi-level ramps, popular in some other states, never took hold in outstate Michigan, although a notable exception is a million-dollar, triple-deck parking facility completed last year in Saginaw.

Flint, with one of the most ambitious off-street programs, now can store more than 6,500 cars downtown in publicly and privately operated lots and at curbside.

Battle Creek, one-fourth Flint's size, accommodates 1,600 vehicles in 12 city-owned lots, a capacity soon to be increased 50 per cent. Private lots and garages offer 1,100 more spaces.

Battle Creek has come a long way since 1946 when it bought its first batch of meters to regulate curb parking on a six-months trial basis.

Since 1954, still smaller Traverse City has built nine publicly owned lots with space for 600 cars. Saginaw, Lansing, Jackson, Sault Ste. Marie—almost any city you name—all are whaling away at the problem.

The more Michigan cities progress in solving street, parking and traffic problems, the more certain it seems that the doom of city bus operations is not far off.

In Muskegon, Jackson, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Port Huron, Saginaw—everywhere the story is the same: Declining patronage, shrinking profits, higher fare and reduced service in a steadily tightening spiral.

LEADS TO BANKRUPTCY

Subsidies of one form or another, where tried, have failed to break the vicious circle that leads to bankruptcy.

In 1946, there were 97 bus companies operating in Michigan, counting inter-city lines. Last year 50 were left. Of these, only 13 were fairly sizeable city operations. Most of the rest were one of two-bus affairs.

Africa's Output Rises

CAPE TOWN — Since 1952 South African production of electricity has risen by 41 per cent, of gold by 33.6 per cent, and coal and pig-iron output have climbed 20.2 per cent each. In the same period, exports increased 45.8 per cent and the ton-mile traffic of the South African Railroad rose 17.5 per cent.

Fuch's South Pole Expedition Off Course

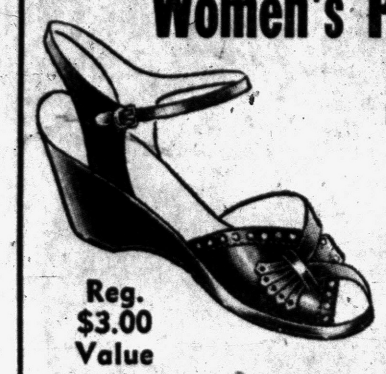

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Machine and marker trouble have slowed Dr. Vivian Fuchs' attempt to lead the first overland party across the Antarctic Continent.

The Ross Sea Committee, organizers of he New Zealand party attached to Fuchs' British expedition, said today that Fuchs reported he had lost sight of markers laid down for him and had gone off course. Fuchs also reported his party lost two snow tractors but later recovered one of them.

The committee said it did not consider the trouble serious. Fuchs reported he was reconnoitering for the route markers, which were set out by Sir Edmund Hillary in his journey to the South Pole.

Fuchs was reported about 28 miles from Depot 700, where Hillary will fly in to meet him and guide the party the 700 miles to Scott base on the coast.

Colosimo's Speakeasy Falls Victim to Axes

CHICAGO (AP) — Colosimo's — the notorious era speakeasy where hoodlums, politicos and the hoi-polloi minged to tipple illegal booze — is coming down.

The mahogany bar, the stills in the basement and the garish walls that looked down on a generation of flappers and echoed to the black bottom yield now to souvenir hunters.

"They're coming from all over," said the present owner of the vacant buiding, Ronald M. Thompson. He's tearing it down to build an electrical contracting firm.

"One man came along and offered me $200 for the bar," he said. "Before I could make up my minds parts were gone."

★ ★ ★

Colosimo's history is as wild as the seamy prohibition era that spawned it.

The old night club under the elevated tracks on Wabash Avenue on the near South Side, was just a restaurant when Big Jim Colosimo bought it in 1914.

The gaudy palace was successful. As Big Jim's wealth increased he hired a Brooklyn gunman, Johnny Torrio, as a bodyguard. In 1919 Torrio brought in one of his Brooklyn hoodlum pals, also to serve as Big Jim's personal bodyguard. He was Al Capone, who became the nation's most notorious gangster and long was identified as Public Enemy No. 1.

★ ★ ★

After Big Jim was killed on May 11, 1920, as he walked into the gilded portal of his cafe, Torrio took over, with Capone as his chief lieutenant. Colosimo's slaying has never been solved.

But Colosimo's gaudy nightspot went on. Vice lords, hoodlums, stage stars, movie heroes and collegiate flappers packed the place.

As the 20s ended, the club's fortunes declined. It continued as a restaurant until 1945 when its doors finally closed.

In 1953 it was rented as a house of worship by a Negro religious group. Two years later it was vacant again. Now it is falling victim to the wreckers' ax.

Florida Doctor Speaks Kindly of House Pets

CHICAGO (AP)—A Florida doctor had a kind word today for the estimated 25 million pet dogs and 35 million pet cats in the country.

They're good for America's kids, said Dr. Hugh A. Carithers of Jacksonville, even if some of them bite or scratch when teased.

He spent 20 months studying the seriousness or after effects of 157 children who had been bitten by one or more of 10 species of animals.

Writing in the Journal of Diseases of Children, published by the American Medical Assn., he gave this conclusion:

"The joy that millions of children receive from pets, particularly dogs, far outweights the danger incurred from bites, and diseases that the animals may inflict on them."

He noted no lasting or serious after effects in any of the children.

Warns Against School Violence

New York Board Rules Unruly Students to Be Suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Board of Education has ruled that, effective today, any public school student accused of violence or insubordination shall be suspended from regular school attendance.

★ ★ ★

The school agency's ruling followed by only a few hours the uring by a special Brooklyn grand jury of "prompt emergency action to clear out of our schools that 1 per cent who prevent the decent 99 per cent from getting the benefit of almost one-half billion dollars of our tax money."

★ ★ ★

The grand jury has been probing violence, including a recent wave of raping, knifing, assaults and general lawlessness, in the city's 900 public schools housing a million pupils. Both whites and Negroes were involved.

Hundreds of mothers and school officials converged on the state capitol at Albany to seek more state aid for city educational facilities.

The city has announced plans to build six more special schools for maladjusted children. It already has five.

But the grand jury called for immediate action, saying: "If there were five barrels, each containing some rotten apples, simple logic would indicate that one of the barrels be used for the bad apples alone."

Although noting that only 1 per cent of the vast student body was causing the situation, the panel said that meant the city had to cope with "nearly 10,000 seriously aggressive and disruptive children."

★ ★ ★

In commenting on the new ruling, a Board of Education spokesman explained that hitherto no student has been suspended unless he was found guilty of a crime or ruled physically or mentally unfit to continue classroom work. There was no estimate of how many such suspensions occurred in the past.

★ ★ ★

In cases of nonviolent crimes, the spokesman said, the school superintendent may use his discretion in ordering suspension.

Cosmic Ray Activity in Space Called Odd

TOKYO (AP) — Unusual cosmic ray activity in outer space on Feb. 5 was reported today by Japanese scientists monitoring the broadcasts from U.S. satellite Explorer.

The Tokyo Astronomical Observatory said a complete study of the signals would be necessary to know what the changes indicate.

The government radio research laboratory said an analysis of the coded messages from the Explorer indicated cosmic rays increased Wednesday from three to five times those normally recorded here. The laboratory has been listening to signals transmitted by the American satellite on 108.03 megacycles since it was shot up Jan. 31.

Estimate Drops on Seaway Cost

Development Firm Tells Congress U. S. Share Down $12,430,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest estimate of what the United States will spend to build its part of the St. Lawrence Seaway — due to be opened next year — has dropped by $12,430,100.

As of last July 1, the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. told Congress that total cost of the project to this nation would be 143 million dollars.

Now, the corporation says in its annual report to Congress, the estimate of total cost has dropped to $130,569,900.

Of this amount, it said, $90,890,864 has already been spent, leaving a balance of $39,679,036 to be expended to complete the waterway. The new figure is as of Dec. 31 last.

Thousand Islands work site — ~~$8,216,800 ($10,219,500)~~; Long Sault Canal work site — $77,192,300 ($79,964,500); Cornwall Island work site — $23,302,200 ($24,149,300); general purpose facilities and equipment — $5,368,700 ($9,912,800); distributive costs — $9,589,900 ($8,753,900); interest during construction period — $6,900,000 ($10,000,000).

The corporation has previously disclosed — through President Eisenhower's budget message — that it estimates it will obtain about $1,500,000 in toll revenue during the first two or three months of the seaway's operation.

It made this estimate, however, without making public the methods it will employ in levying tolls on shipping. Some information on this is expected in the near future.

Uranium Men Ask More Federal Aid

DENVER (AP) — Some leading uranium producers say more government aid is needed to keep the industry on its feet.

Several producers said the government will have to treat uranium miners at least as good as oil companies if the miners are to survive until peacetime use of atomic energy revives the industry.

Uranium production leveled off last October with an Atomic Energy Commission announcement that it had licensed all the milling facilities it needed.

The government, which buys all of the uranium produced in this country, will purchase only milled uranium.

Marne Woman Killed as Stove Overheats

MARNE (AP)—Miss Charlotte Root, 31, was injured fatally yesterday when a fire from an overheated coal stove destroyed the farm home she shared with her father.

Ottawa County Sheriff's deputies said Miss Root's father was away at the time of the fire. Dr. J. J. Miller, county coroner, said the woman died of suffocation.

Quinine was isolated for the first time in 1820.

Navy Given Bomber It Once Scorned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has given the Navy a B36 bomber, the same kind of plane against which scornful admirals revolted nearly a decade ago.

★ ★ ★

The gift bomber is one of many retired by the Air Force to make room for the all-jet B52 hydrogen bomb carrier. And the Navy, in accepting the gift, does not expect to use the big plane with the fleet, but as a target guinea pig to measure "stresses and damage" inflicted by new Navy weapons.

★ ★ ★

An Air Force announcement said that the B36, after being stripped of most of its instruments and equipment built in for strategic bombing purposes, will be used by the Navy at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology at Socorro, N.M.

About 19 million checks are written in the U.S. on an average day, and the average face value of each check figures out to about $30.

Italian Volcanoes Getting Restless, Rumble Anew

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Two of Italy's most active volcanoes, Stromboli and Etna, are erupting but there was no immediate threat to farms and villages around them.

Stromboli, on a Mediterranean island north of this Sicilian port, went into action yesterday after almost two years of rest. It sent a small stream of lava hissing down one slope toward the sea. There were occasional explosions.

★ ★ ★

Etna, a 10,700-foot volcano on Sicily north of Messina, has been in a state of intermittent activity for more than four months. Last night was one of its active periods, with four or five explosions every minute hurling rocks and ashes 1,000 feet into the air.

IDEAL FOR THE COOK AND THE BAKER

'Think of Later Cost,' Dr. Kelly Tells Child Guidance Leaders

By JUDITH CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

What a community can expect from a child guidance clinic was clearly outlined by Dr. William J. Kelly, assistant director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, when he addressed 155 at the annual meeting of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, held in Northwood Inn.

Dr. Kelly challenged his listeners to think in terms of government spending for the care of the mentally ill.

"Is it," he asked, "better to spend 55 cents per day for children in a child guidance program—or better to spend $4.55 per day to care for them in mental hospitals?"

LONG WAITING LIST

There are currently 1,764 children on waiting lists throughout Michigan, Dr. Kelly told the Thursday night gathering. These waiting lists are the results of inadequate facilities for caring for the youngsters, he said.

★ ★ ★

Communities, he charged, should have adequate child guidance programs, but this cannot come about without providing for more staff members. Every community, he declared, has the right to expect a good treatment program, good diagnostic program, but it must be willing to pay for this program.

★ ★ ★

The staff of a child guidance clinic is faced with a grave moral responsibility when it must make a decision about the placement of a child. Therefore, skilled therapists must make these decisions.

One out of every 10 children need help today, the psychiatrist pointed out, and with adequate facilities, these children can be cared for.

Dr. Kelly summed up his talk by saying, "If we make society so complicated that children can not live here with us," then we must provide them with resources such as recreational facilities, child placement and family care programs.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Elected to three-year terms on the board were Dr. Bruce Bauer, Noel Buckner, Fred Haggard and Mrs. Max Miller. Others were Jack Baroff, Peter Quinlan, James Renfrew, Clifford Smart, Mrs. Lloyd Smith and Mrs. Karlton Pierce.

Two-year terms will be filled by Judge Clark J. Adams and William Froberg.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lawrence Martz, president of the board, reported on the year's activities, and Madeleine Half, director, outlined projects undertaken.

Dr. Joseph Fischhoff, consulting psychiatrist for the clinic, introduced the speaker and the Rev. William C. Norvell of Christ Church Cranbrook gave the invocation.

★ ★ ★

Branch supervisors introduced were Mrs. William Thomas of the Birmingham Branch and Emil Zamorski of the South Oakland Branch.

Zonta Club Sees Film on Seaway

George A. Dondero Outlines Progress for City Group

A film, "The Eighth Sea," depicting construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway, was shown Thursday when members and guests of Pontiac Zonta Club met at Hotel Waldron for luncheon.

Former congressman George Dondero told of the progress of this seaway and power project since construction began in 1954.

He traced the progress of legislation in Congress since the idea of an international waterway was brought up 40 years ago. Mr. Dondero paid tribute to Canadian engineers for their work in moving the town of Iroquois to construct a canal 45 feet deep where the town once stood.

New members introduced to the club were Mrs. Elizabeth Stump and Mrs. Dorothy Olson.

Careless Youth Balks at Dad's Wrath but Responds to Mother's Reasoning

By DR. DOROTHY WHIPPLE

It was midnight. Jack wasn't home. Mother and Dad were getting anxious. He said he was going to the library; the library closed at 11. Where could the boy be.

Jack was 17 and quite able to take care of himself, but he had the car and all sorts of accidents do happen in cars. One o'clock came — still no Jack. One thirty — Jack's parents were frantic. They thought about calling the police.

★ ★ ★

At a quarter of two they heard the car door slam shut and presently Jack sauntered in the front door.

"What, you still up?" he asked in surprise.

DAD BLEW UP

Dad's agitation had turned to anger now — anger that this boy had caused him so much anxiety — anger at himself, anger at Jack.

"What do you mean, young man, staying out all hours of the night?" he shouted. "Where have you been?"

★ ★ ★

"Why, Dad, don't get excited. I met Tom and we went over to his place and we've just been chewing the fat . . ."

"That's a fine story."

Jack was angry now. He'd done nothing wrong and it was utterly unreasonable that he should be hauled over the carpet like this.

"Don't believe me if you don't want to, see if I care." And he headed for the kitchen.

★ ★ ★

Mother had said nothing so far, but she saw both sides.

MOM IS SOOTHING

"John," she said when the boy had left, "Jack is right. You have no business to scold him. He didn't realize we would be worried. He is able to take care of himself and he assumed we'd know that. You go up to bed, John. I'm going to talk to Jack."

★ ★ ★

Mother went out to the kitchen.

"How'd a fried egg sandwich taste, son?" she asked.

"Swell, Mom, but isn't it a lot of trouble?"

★ ★ ★

"I'm sorry, Jack, that Dad blew up at you, but you, too, have got to do a bit of understanding.

BOY MUST UNDERSTAND

"Maybe it isn't reasonable that we worry so about you, but the fact is we do. We have faith in you that you aren't doing anything wrong, but we worry lest something happen to you."

"I'm sorry, Mom. I guess I never gave you a thought."

"You said you'd be home around 11. If you had just called up and told us you'd changed your plans your aged parents would have gone to bed and to sleep where they belong at this hour."

★ ★ ★

Healthful Diet, Exercise Are Essential

Reduce Slowly, Avoid Flabbiness

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "When some women lose weight they do not become flabby while others do. Some have huge bags on their upper arms after reducing and look years older in the face while it seems to make others look years younger and they do not have this flibby look. What is their secret?"

A. Many factors enter into this. Some women lose huge amounts of weight in too short a time. In doing so they become malnourished. They deny their bodies the essential ingredients to maintain fine physical condition.

Also if a woman has been greatly overweight for many years her skin has stretched to meet the requirements of her weight. The longer this condition has existed the more difficult it is for the skin to shrink to new, smaller proportions.

However, one woman reduced 100 pounds under my direction and her doctor's supervision, BUT she took a year to do it. She did not have a line in her face or a flabby look at all. She was in her late 40s.

Here are some of the things she did. She ate scientifically, including all of the food elements her body needed EVERY day. She cut her calories to 1,400 a day and was faithful about it.

REGULAR EXERCISE

She exercised regularly so that she built body tone as she lost fatty deposits. She used a body lotion daily to keep her skin pliable. She took facial exercises as well as the general figure-molding ones.

A short, quick reducing diet, properly planned, is fine for the woman who has only a few pounds to lose and it is encourgging as a starter for the woman who has lots of weight to drop. However, a slower rate of loss must be adopted for the long haul if the results are to be lovely.

Q. "Is there anything which will make eyelashes grow? Mine used to be fairly thick but now they are thinning. I am only 30 years old."

A. At your age it does seem that you should not have this trouble. Some folks keep very heavy lashes into old age but the general tendency is for the lashes to thin somewhat as one grows older.

There are systemic conditions which may lead to thinning of the brows and lashes. Have a physical checkup to be sure there is no deficiency of this sort.

Stimulation is also an aid. Massage a little eyelash cream or petroleum jelly into the roots of your lashes. Then use your finger or an eyelash brush to brush the lashes upward. This supplies a gentle stimulation which may promote growth.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow: "For Successful Living We Must Be Adaptable."

A woman under Josephine Lowman's direction lost 100 pounds in a year. She ate scientifically, including all of the food elements her body needed every day.

Relative's Punctuality Criticized

Always Arrives at the Exact Hour Set for Dinner

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle an argument for me? My sister-in-law always waits until the stroke of the hour to put in an appearance when invited to dinner.

"If dinner is at 7 she won't ring the bell until exactly 7 o'clock. I think she is taking punctuality too seriously and feel sure that 5 or 10 minutes before time is permissible."

Answer: Your sister-in-law's arriving on the stroke of the hour is perfect. As much as 10 minutes could be very disrupting to a hostess who is busy in the kitchen putting the finishing touches to the meal.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter who is a senior in high school has been invited to spend a week with her boy friend and his family in Florida. They spend the winter there every year and are a family of considerable means. Will you please tell e if a present is in order?

"I so, should this gift be sent from me or my daughter? Also, should we wait until they return home to send something or send it to them in Florida, or should my daughter take a present with her? please tell me if a present is in Answer: An appreciative letter of thanks after she returns home is all that is expected of her. If, while she is staying with them, she finds there is something she can afford that they would like to have, it would be a nice gesture on her part to send it to them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Whenever we stay at a hotel or motel my husband signs the register 'B. C. Smith and wife'" which I think is wrong and very belittling to me. He disagrees and thinks it is entirely correct to sign the register in this way.

"We have had many an argument over this and as we do a good deal of traveling, I would like to get this settled once and for all, so will you please tell me how the register should correctly be signed?"

Answer: "Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Smith" is preferred but there is nothing belittling to you when he signs "and wife."

Dear Abby . . .

Maybe Psychiatrist Can Help

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago my wife felt a lump on her breast so she went to the doctor. He took every test imaginable and told her not to worry.

ABBY

She wasn't satisfied so she went to another doctor. He also gave her all the tests and told her to go home and forget about it. She is still worried and she is worrying me so I can't sleep nights.

It seems to me that my wife would be happier if someone performed an operation. Two of the best doctors say she is all right. Should I send her to a third?

HER HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: "Worrying about a disease (whether you've got it or not) is a very serious illness in itself. If she is physically well, she needs to be convinced of it. It may take a "mental" doctor to do it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a married man who got a girl in a little trouble. She is of legal age so it could be worse. I have a brother who is single and has offered to marry this girl for me.

She knows my brother but I don't know how she would feel about marrying him. My brother is not a bad guy and would make her a good husband.

Do you think is is a good solution or should we just offer to pay her expenses and keep her out of the family?

DICK

DEAR DICK: A husband should be more than any old male who happens to show up at the church. It's sweet of your brother to offer to "stand in" for you, but the girl is the one who must make the decision. Speak to her immediately before you wind up talking to her lawyer.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We met a couple on our vacation five years ago and every year since we met they have been coming out to spend their vacation with us. We've never gone to visit them.

They are nice people but she talks all the time and a little of them goes a long way. We just got their advance notice and we would like to duck them this year. How can we get out of having them again without hurting their feelings?

Should we say we are planning to go somewhere ourselves or that we are having other houseguests or the place is all torn up or being repapered and painted?

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: Stick as close to the truth as possible. Why not simply write and say that you do not "feel up to" having houseguests this year. That's true!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a sophomore in high school and have been engaged for almost a year to a guy who lives in another town. He is my age. I promised him I would marry him as soon as I was old enough to quit school.

I fell in love with another fellow who goes to my school. He is a senior. He wants me to marry him as soon as he can get the money.

How do I go about breaking the engagement to this first guy without hurting him too much?

REALLY IN LOVE

DEAR REALLY: Tell fiance No. 1 that you would like to be released from your promise of marriage. Don't worry too much about it. His "proposal" was probably about as sincere as your acceptance.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO CURLEY: That Jones is going places—and he's taking Mrs. Jones with him. Find your own girl!

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO LENORE: If your husband is in good health but refuses to work he is plain LAZY. Maybe he was frightened by a job when he was young?

Milford Practices for 3 Act Comedy

Workmen are busy putting the finishing touches on the Little Theater in the new Milford high school in preparation for the first public event to be held during the week of February 17.

Selected for its behind the scenes portrayal of the problems of producing a class play, just about everything that can happen to a young director, does happen.

★ ★ ★

The nearly completed Little Theater in the high school will accommodate 500 people.

The solos will be Frank Crawford, tuba; Virginia Slinker, oboe; Diane Slinker, viola; and Dennis Garrels, trombone.

One ensemble consists of Bob Garrels, and Frank Serratoni, B flat clarinet; Tom McClelland, alto clarinet; and Tom Fisher, bass clarinet.

In the woodwind quartet Martha Thibideau, flute; Virginia Slinker, oboe; Nancy Gottschall, clarinet; and Carolyn Weber, bass clarinet will perform.

★ ★ ★

20 PER CENT HONORED

Of the 920 students enrolled in the senior high school 184 of them or 20 per cent maintained a B or better average for the semester just completed.

Several achieved all A's including Peggy Emmert, the only senior.

The juniors had eight with perfect records. They were Susan Alm, Frank Crawford, Nancy Gottschall, Hazezl Mandilk, Tom McClelland, Susan Merkle, Barbara Parent, and Carol Sommer.

There was one sophomore boy and three girls who had all A's. They were Michael Acton, Nancy Gray, Sandra LaPiner, and Diane Slinker.

Eleven Lincoln Students Receive All A's

Sharon Drew to Edit Eastern's Paper

Jerry Cavalier and Harriet Zimmer were selected by the Arrow as the February boy and girl of the month.

Fifteen students received all A's for the third marking period and 94 made all ones which means excellence in citizenship.

Students receiving all A's were: Pat Boughner, Terry Braun, Tommy Braun, Gary Crews, Darrell Duncan, Brenda Greer, Virginia Hagopian, Don Lesco, Margaret Melzer, Elliott Malloy, Mary Lynn Mitchell, Janice Prieto, Linda Spangler, Karen Strong, and Muriel White.

Honorable mention went to Elizabeth Ballard, a ninth grader, who has been neither absent nor tardy since entering Eastern in the seventh grade.

For the next few weeks eighth grade history classes at Eastern will be studying Michigan history.

For weeks, chips have been flying around Eastern's woodshop. As a result, many projects and new experiences have resulted. Some of the better projects were made by the following boys: Danny Butler, zebra bowl; Richard Alvarado, wall shelf; Arthur Kukuk, desk lamp; Lynn Neeb, lazy Susan; Charles Taylor, end table; Joe Miller and Jerry Burgess, gun racks; Mike Miller, serving tray; and Tom Zink, coffee table.

The clank of tools in the metal shop also indicates that much is being accomplished there. Courses in metal shop are important as a preliminary training for industry.

A boy's first jobs in metal shop are very simple. Afterwards he is presented with more difficult projects.

By the time he has finished the first unit in metal shop, he is expected to be able to do the following: measure and lay-out, use tin snips, operate a drill press, select the correct drill, punch holes, use metal brake, bend rods, make eyes on scratch awls, to case harden, bend angle irons, countersink, know how to soft solder over flames, and use a soldering gun, and know about buffing and polishing metal. He must know about using electric bells and dry cells, 110 volts, 220 volts, and a three-way switch.

AT WASHINGTON

Enrollment in one of the thirty-one clubs offered for the second semester at Washington Junior High was completed and these groups met for the first time this week.

Clubs are organized primarily along the hobby lines. There is something to capture almost every interest.

During the second semester any ninth grader who is participating in the Washington, D.C. tour automatically belongs to a Tour Club. Millicent Hollis, John Burton, Dorothy Myers, Betty Heimke, and Joseph Shara are sponsors of the Tour Clubs this semester.

The bi-weekly student dance Wednesday evening featured square dancing. These are sponsored jointly by the Student Council and the City Department of Parks and Recreation.

The Square Dance Club sponsored by Don Kelly and Ruth Green has been limited to eighth graders this semester. This club helps add proficiency and enjoyment for those attending dances.

Donald Chuey of the Science Department gave a talk on planes and air pressures to the reading groups of Ruth Green.

AT LINCOLN

The Lincoln Junior High has 32 members enrolled in Burtella Green's Library Club. From these members 15 assistant pages have been appointed to help in the library during school hours.

The purpose of the club includes knowledge of the organization of the library and to serve and help boys and girls find materials for school work and good books.

The ninth grade Concert Choir and Chorus' annual semi-formal dance, "Crystal Fantasy" was held Friday evening at Lincoln Junior High School.

Refreshment chairman was Judy Kern. Tom Eley, concert choir president, served as host for the affair and faculty sponsor was Jerry Smith, director of both performing groups.

Hollywood Headlines

Susan Hayward Returns to Star With Jeff Chandler

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The day Jeff Chandler finishes "The Extra Edge" in Berlin he'll catch a plane back to Hollywood to get ready to play opposite Susan Hayward in "Between The Thunder And The Sun."

Susan's been away far too long and we'll all be very glad to see her. None of her Hollywood chums hear from her because she's just too happy living on a Georgia farm with her husband Eaton Chalkley and her two boys.

"Thunder And The Sun," an original by Guy Trosper and Jim Hill about French emigrees who crossed the country in covered wagons bringing grapes from France for planting in the San Joaquin Valley, calls for locations in California, Colorado, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico. So Jeff and Susan have some traveling ahead.

It's a Russell Rouse-Clarence Green production for United Artists, and goes before the cameras May 15.

Michael Anderson, brilliant young director of "Around The World In 80 Days," who didn't get quite the attention he deserved because of a certain other Mike occupying the spotlight, has moved on the Warner lot.

Anderson has been handed the John Lee Mahin script of Pearl Buck's "A Letter From Peking" which Jack Warner has scheduled for a 1958 biggie.

The star being sought is Katharine Hepburn to play the role of a New England woman who falls in love with a Chinese student in college, marries him and returns to his native land to live. Right now, Katharine is touring in Shakespearean repertoire throughout the east.

Although the voting from Europe is still in the early stages of the Hollywood Foreign Press Association's poll for the world's most popular American actor and actress and the best Hollywood picture, I can give you the leaders so far:

Bill Holden is out in front of the men closely pursued by Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson. Among the girls, Doris Day has a shade the best of it but Deborah Kerr and Audrey Hepburn are coming up fast.

The Golden Globe presentations will be made at the 15th annual dinner hosted by the foreign press which will be held at the Cocoanut Grove on Feb. 26.

Margaret O'Brien, pretty as a picture, dropped into Ye Little Club with Eddie Samuels, Eddie Fisher's accompanist.

Curt Jurgens and his girl friend, Simone Bouchard, plane out Monday for Paris. They will be feted Saturday night at a small dinner Ross Hunter is giving.

Tony Randall, in seventh heaven over his New York reviews on "Oh Captain," telephoned me long distance to say the play has a two million dollar advance sale.

Any edition now the Debbie Reynolds-Eddie Fisher baby is due.

18 Planes Delayed by 2 Bomb Threats

NEW YORK (AP) — Two anonymous telephoned bomb threats last night delayed 18 Eastern Air Lines flights. No bombs were found.

★ ★ ★

A man called Eastern's 5th Avenue ticket office and said a bomb had been planted on the next plane scheduled to leave New York. A short time later a woman called an Eastern dispatcher at La Guardia Field and said: "I put a bomb on one of your planes which is leaving tonight."

★ ★ ★

Two Eastern planes were searched at Newark, N.J., airport, and 13 at New York. Three planes already airborne when the threats were received were grounded in Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Raleigh, N.C.

★ ★ ★

The planes were en route to Houston, New Orleans, Louisville, St. Louis, Miami, Atlanta, Boston and San Juan, P.R.

Hunger Threatens Growing Population

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A California Institute of Technology scientist foresees "a very hungry world in 100 years" unless agricultural knowledge in the United States is spread to other countries and other steps are taken.

★ ★ ★

Dr. James F. Bonner told a regional meeting of the American Geophysical Union that in a century the world's population will be eight or nine billion—3½ times its present size.

Dr. Bonner suggested further use of the ocean's enormous food stores and attempts to control pests that now consume one-third of all plant food. By these and other measures, he said, 500 times the present world population could be fed.

Man Who Likes Honey to Spend 45 Days in Jail

Parks was convicted of petty larceny on a charge of stealing a bee hive, the bees and some honey from farmer Jeff Aldridge.

★ ★ ★

Cotton Cloth Improved by Chemical Treatment

WASHINGTON — Federal researchers working with cotton treated the cloth with acetic anhydrid, a colorless liquid used in making dyes, drugs and perfumes.

Tests show that treated cloth, kept at ironing temperature for 15 days, lost only 15 per cent of its strength compared with 50 per cent for untreated fabric. The researchers also found that the treated cloth, took pleats better, and dyed cotton dried faster than untreated cloth quickly.

Housewife's Plea Helps Open Door to Bus Fare Hike

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A housewife's plea yesterday helped open the way for a fare increase that ended the immediate threat of Portland losing its mass transportation system.

The Rose City Transit Co. had said that if a 5-cent fare increase was not granted, it would pull its buses off the streets here Feb. 28.

Commissioner Ormond Bean, whose lone dissenting vote had blocked the increase in two earlier ballots, changed his mind.

The Council then unanimously passed an emergency ordinance permitting the firm to boost its adult fares 5 cents — to 25 cents a ride.

★ ★ ★

Bean said the housewife told him that if the company suspended its operations, her husband would lose his job and their five children might go hungry.

★ ★ ★

The commissioner said that he still basically opposed the increase, but coud not bear to have the firm's employes lose their jobs, or retired employes their pensions.

Chapter 32

Then Alfred could have gone out by bus to the Load of Bricks. He could have left there at 9:30 and would have had plenty of time to go to Rutherford Hall, move the body from the embankment to the sarcophagus, and get into Brackhampton in time to catch the 11:55 back to London. One of the Dickey Rogers gang might even helped him move the body, though Craddock doubted this. An unpleasant lot, but not killers.

★ ★ ★

"Alfred?" he repeated speculatively.

At Rutherford Hall there had been a gathering of the Crackenthorpe family. Harold and Alfred had come down from London and very soon voices were raised and tempers were running high.

On her own initiative, Lucy mixed cocktails in a jug with ice and took them towards the library. The voices sounded clearly in the hall, and indicated that a good deal of acrimony was being directed towards Emma.

"Entirely your fault, Emma." Harold's deep bass voice rang out angrily. "How you could be so shortsighted and foolish beats me. If you hadn't taken that letter to Scotland Yard — and started all this —"

Alfred's higher pitched voice said: "You must have been out of your senses!"

"Now don't bully her," said Cedric. "What's done is done. Much more fishy if they'd identified the woman as the missing Martine and we'd all kept mum about having heard from her."

★ ★ ★

"It's all very well for you, Cedric," said Harold angrily. "You were out of the country on the 20th which seems to be the day they are inquiring about. But it's very embarrassing for Alfred and myself. Fortunately I can remember where I was that afternoon and what I was doing—"

"I bet you can," said Alfred. "If you'd arranged a murder, Harold, you'd arrange your alibi very carefully, I'm sure."

"I gather you are not so fortunate," said Harold coldly.

"That depends," said Alfred. "Anything's better than presenting a cast iron alibi to the police if it isn't really casst iron. They're so clever at breaking these things down.

★ ★ ★

"If you are insinuating that I killed the woman —"

"Oh, do stop, all of you," cried Emma. "Of course none of you killed the woman."

"And just for your information, I wasn't out of England on the 20th," said Cedric. "And the police are wise to it. So we're all under suspicion."

"If it hadn't been for Emma—"

"Oh, don't begin again, Harold." cried Emma.

Dr. Quimper came out of the study where he had been closeted with old Mr. Crackenthorpe. His eye fell on the jug in Lucy's hand.

"What's this? A celebration?"

"More in the nature of oil on troubled waters. They're at it hammer and tongs in thee."

"Mostly abusing Emma."

Dr. Quimper's eyebrows rose.

"Indeed?" He took the jug from Lucy's hand, opened the library door and went in.

"Good evening."

"Ah, Dr. Quimper. I should like a word with you." It was Harold's voice, raised and irritable. "I should like to know what you meant by interfering in a private and family matter, and telling my sister to go to Scotland Yard about it."

Dr. Quimper said calmly.

"Miss Crackenthorpe asked my advice. I gave it to her. In my opinion she did perfectly right."

"Girl!"

It was old Mr. Crackenthorpe's familiar salutation.

He was peering out of the study door just behind Lucky.

Lucy turned rather reluctantly.

"Yes, Mr. Crackenthorpe?"

★ ★ ★

"What are you giving us for dinner tonight? I want curry. You make a very good curry. It's ages since we've had curry."

"The boys don't care much for curry, you see."

"The boys — the boys — what do the boys matter? I'm the one who matters. And anyway, the boys have gone — good riddance, I want a nice hot curry, do you hear?"

Lucy went back to the kitchen. Abandoning the fricassee of chicken which she had planned, she began to assemble the preparations for curry. The front door banged and from the window she saw Dr. Quimper stride angrily from the house to his car and drive away.

Lucy sighed. She missed the boys. And in a way she missed Bryan too . . .

Oh well — she sat down and began to peel mushrooms.

It was 3 a.m. when Dr. Quimper drove his car into the garage, closed the doors and came in pulling the front door behind him rather wearily. Well Mrs. Josh Simpkins had a fine healthy pair of twins to add to her present family of eight. Mr. Simpkins had expressed no elation over the arrival. "Twins," he had said gloomily. "What's the good of they? Quads now, they're good for something. All sorts of things you get sent, and the press comes round and there's pictures in the paper, and they do says as Her Majesty sends you a telegram. But what's twins except two mouths to feed instead of one? Never been twins in our family, nor in the Missus' either. Don't seem fair, somehow."

☆ ★ ★

Dr. Quimper walked upstairs to his bedroom and started throwing off his clothes. He glanced at his watch. Five minutes past three. It had proved an unexpectedly tricky business bringing those twins into the world, but all had gone well. He yawned. He was tired — very tired. He looked appreciatively at his bed.

Then the telephone rang.

Dr. Quimper swore, and picked up the receiver.

"Dr. Quimper?"

"Speaking."

"This is Lucy Eyelesbarrow from Rutherford Hall. I think you'd better come over. Everybody seems to have been taken ill."

"Taken ill? How? What symptoms?"

"I'll be over straightaway. In the meantime —"; he gave her short sharp instructions.

★ ★ ★

Then he quickly resumed his clothes, flung a few extra things into his emergency bag, and hurried down to his car.

It was some three hours later when the doctor and Lucy, both of them somewhat exhausted, sat down by the kitchen table to drink large cups of black coffee.

"Ha," Dr. Quimper drained his cup, set it down with a clatter on the saucer. "I needed that. Now, Miss Eyelesbarrow, let's get down to brass tacks."

Lucy looked at him. The lines of fatigue showed clearly on his face making him look older than his forty-four years, the dark hair on his temples was flecked with gray, and there were lines under his eyes.

"As far as I can judge," said the doctor, "they'll be all right now. But how come? That's what I want to know. Who cooked the dinner?"

7 Soccer Stars Killed in Air Crash

England Mourns Loss of Heroes

MUNICH (INS)—The shattered, snow - covered wreckage of a British airliner was combed today for the cause of a crash that killed 21 persons, including 11 members of "Manchester United," the New York Yankees of Britains's pro soccer league.

★ ★ ★

The chartered British European Airways plane, en route from Belgrade to London with 44 aboard, cracked up and burned near Munich yesterday as it attempted to take off in a blinding snowstorm.

All 23 survivors were injured, many of them seriously.

As the probe went on, doctors fought to save the lives of famed Manchester manager Matt Busby and two top players, Duncan Edwards and Johnny Berry. They were kept in operating rooms through the night and received blood transfusions.

Physicians said the three men were "very ill" and rated their chances of survival at about 30 per cent.

Victims included seven soccer players, four team officials, eight sportswriters and photographers, one other passenger and one crewman—the steward.

Queen Elizabeth said she was shocked by the disaster and sent a message of sympathy to the families of the dead players and to the mayor of Manchester, as the European sports world was plunged into mourning.

Investigators studied the possibility that foreign matter somehow got into the fuel lines of the twin-engined Elizabethan. Its motors had functioned normally on the Belgrade-Munich hop.

The plane was carrying the champion 17-man soccer team and newsmen home from the Yugoslav capital, where Manchester United had advanced to the semi-finals of the European soccer cup competition by playing a 3-3 tie with Yugoslavia's Red Star team Wednesday.

Two officials of the Yugoslav London Embassy staff also were aboard. Authorities said one official, his wife and child were safe.

At Munich, the plane taxied out to the runway twice but its pilot, according to BEA officials, was not satisfied with one of his two engines. He returned for a third take - off attempt after checking with airport mechanics.

"There was a sense of tension among the passengers as we set off for the third time—everyone seemed to sense it was going to happen."

The Elizabethan never got airborne. It overshot the runway, plunged through a fence, split in two and caromed into a cluster of buildings at the edge of the airport.

Wings-Canadiens Play to 1-1 Tie

Detroit Gains Deadlock With 2nd-Frame Goal

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — The Red Wings couldn't beat the Montreal Canadiens last night, but they didn't lose to them either — and that's quite an accomplishment these days.

With 13,437 cash customers looking on at Olympia Stadium, the Detroiters overcame an early 1-0 deficit to gain a 1-1 tie with the Canadiens in their 11th reunion of the season.

Fiery Dickie Moore of Montreal, the National Hockey League's No. 1 scorer, found the range in the 17th minute of the 1st period to put the Canadiens ahead.

Detroit's Nick Mickoski clicked when the 2nd period was only 24 seconds old to square matters, then the Redshirts battled the league-leaders on even terms for 39 plus minutes of no-goal skating.

Even marital troubles failed to prevent goalie Terry Sawchuk from doing a bang-up job in the Detroit net. Sawchuk, whose wife Pat filed suit for divorce in Oakland County yesterday, was credited with 29 saves.

Montreal goaltender Jacques Plante equalled Sawchuk's work at his end of the arena. Statistically, Plante was the busier of the two netminders with a total of 31 stops.

From the penalty standpoint, this Red Wing-Canadien game was a tame affair. Referee Red Storey called only seven penalties, four against Montreal, but one of the Detroit violations was costly.

Defenseman Gordon Strate was off for tripping when Moore connected at 16:52 for his 36th goal of the season. Moore took Jean Beliveau's pass and beat Sawchuk with a 15-footer, a well-screened shot which Terry couldn't see.

It didn't take long for the Wings to knot the count in the middle stanza. Alex Delvecchio won a faceoff and the puck went to Mickoski, who drilled a 40-foot shot past Plante from the left wing.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Don Poile just missed a golden opportunity to give the Wings another goal. On a 1st period breakaway, Poile's sizzling shot fooled Plante completely, but the puck hit the post.

Both teams played ragged and lackadaisical hockey during portions of the 2nd and 3rd periods. The heaviest action was reserved for the opening stanza.

The tie was the Red Wings' 2nd against Montreal to go along with two wins and seven losses. Chicago's 4-1 victory over Boston last night in the other NHL game handed the Wings sole possession of 3rd place, one point behind New York.

Detroit Moves to Resume State Play

Principals OK Idea

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit public schools have cleared the first step in their efforts to resume sports competition with outstate teams.

Principals of public high schools voted yesterday to allow city league teams to participate starting this fall, in state competition in basketball, track, swimming, golf, cross-country track and tennis.

If approved by School Supt. Samuel M. Brownell and the Board of Education, the action will send Detroit public schools after state titles for the first time since 1930.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation to return to state play came as a surprise. The reviewing sub-committee of the principals, headed by Walter L. Draper, met secretly Thursday morning and approved the suggestion to get back into state competition.

They also suggested three other proposals. One was to reduce pre-game tickets from 75 cents to 50 cents following MHSAA rules.

A motion to amend the present rule which calls for limiting regular competition to 25 miles was amended to read 25 miles from the city limits.

Two principals voiced objections to returning to state play. They were Herman G. Schumacker of Cody who said he "was fearful of injury to students while going to and from tournaments."

The other was Irvin G. Wolf of Denby who said he "feared it would hinder the Detroit education program."

The principals decided to continue the present ban on night play except for championship contests.

★ ★ ★

They also decided to continue playing in a Goodfellow Game.

FACES SUIT — Terry Sawchuck, goalie for the Detroit Red Wings, faces a divorce suit filed by his wife, Pat, yesterday in Oakland County circuit court.

Terry Sawchuck's Wife Files Suit to Get Divorce

DETROIT — Red Wings general manager Jack Adams said today a divorce suit filed against ace goalie Terry Sawchuck "has the boy pretty broken up."

★ ★ ★

The suit was filed late yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by an attorney for Sawchuck's wife, Pat. Neither the star hockey player nor his wife would comment on the suit.

★ ★ ★

Three-Way Tie in Tucson Open

Stranahan Among Trio; Michigan's Barnum Is Close 2nd

TUCSON, Ariz. (INS)—Three golfers who shot six-under-par 64s tied for the lead today in the first round of the 72-hole $15,000 Tucson Open.

★ ★ ★

The three were Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, and Manuel De La Torre of Milwaukee.

Stranahan and De La Torre had cards of 32-32; Johnson 31-33 over the 6434-yard El Rio Country Club course.

John Barnum, Grand Rapids,	33-32	65
Billy Nary, Wayne,	34-34	68
Mike Dietz, Lake Orion,	38-33	68

Farmington Matmen Bow After Leading

After opening with a 16-6 lead, Farmington went into a skid that resulted in a 27-21 wrestling loss to Berkley in an Inter-Lakes battle last night.

Don Margherini, Jim Marsh and Dan Ressler gained pins while Tom Peckham and Randy Jordan won decisions for the losers who are now 6-4. John Wright's pin in the final match clinched the verdict for Berkley.

300 to Compete in MSU Relays Set Tomorrow

EAST LANSING (AP) — The best runners in the Midwest and some from far afield will compete here Saturday in the 35th annual Michigan State Relays.

"I can't recall when we've had such a strong field," said meet director Karl Schlademan. "I look for at least five records and wouldn't be surprised by more."

Kansas, Notre Dame, Michigan, Oklahoma, Ohio State, Illinois and host team Michigan State head the schools sending entries.

Also entering runners in the field of more than 300 for the 19 events are Drake, Kansas State, Kentucky, Loyola, Marquette, Miami of Ohio, Missouri, Nebraska, Northwestern, Western Michigan and Wisconsin.

Ernie Shelby, the Kansas broad jumper, is sure to make a mark in his specialty. Shelby, who has cleared 25-6½ should make mincemeat out of the present meet mark of 24-9½ set by Lorenzo Wright of Wayne State University in 1948.

In the pole vault, Ed Hoyle of Marquette, with a 14.4 and Stan Lyons of Ohio State, with 14-6, figure to top the meet mark of 14-1 by Dick Coleman of Illinois in 1951.

Three other records are threatened in the relays events.

Michigan State and Kansas will fight each other in the two mile, Oklahoma has a good combination for the sprint medley mark and Missouri's shuttle team will be out to lower the :29.6 record it set last year.

★ ★ ★

One final, the broad jump, and a host of preliminaries aimed at cutting down the bulky field are scheduled for the afternoon. The evening's events start at 7:30 p.m. (EST).

Bob Dove New Lions Assistant

Ex-Notre Dame, NFL Ace Served 3 Years With Titans

DETROIT (INS) — Bob Dove, former Detroit Lions and Chicago Cardinals defensive end, was named yesterday to the Lions' coaching staff.

Wilson said Dove, of Canfield, O., will work with ends, freeing Nussbaumer for increased player scouting.

Dove, an assistant coach at the University of Detroit the past three years, played with Notre Dame and the El Toro Marines before joining the Chicago Rockets of the old All-American conference in 1946. He played with the Cardinals from 1948 through 1952 and with the Lions in 1953 and 1954.

Lopes Fights Unknown Tonight in TV Bout

For Lopes it's an "everything to lose, nothing to gain" affair.

Originally Lopes was to fight Paolo Rosi in New York's Madison Square Garden, but the 10-rounder was switched to Syracuse by the International Boxing Club and then Collazo was substituted for Rosi. An injured heel caused Rosi's withdrawal.

Finisterre Boat Champ

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—The 39-foot yawl Finisterre won the Miami-to-Nassau ace yesterday for the second straight year and her skipper, Carleton Mitchell of Annapolis, Md., called it "one of the most exciting races I ever sailed in."

Unreported during most of the 184-mile voyage, the speedy Finisterre sneaked into port at 11:14 a.m. EST, about 47 hours after the race's start, to defend her championship.

In all-important corrected time, that gave the gray-hulled scourge of the Southern Ocean Racing Conference a margin of slightly less than 11 minutes over runnerup Ca-Va, 39-foot yawl guided by J. W. Hershey of Houston, Texas' Corinthian Yacht Club.

Finisterre actually consumed 46 hours, 44 minutes and 49 seconds in covering the course in contrasting breezes. In the handicap event her corrected time was 41:11:36.

Players' Assn. Will Continue

BOSTON (AP) — The National Hockey League players Assn. does not plan to disband despite its failure to win recognition from the six NHL club owners

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the association, Ted Lindsay of the Chicago Blackhawks, said last night the group will "continue actively as it has done up to now."

"The best proof of this is that the players are all paying their dues," Lindsay said.

"In fairness to our owners, we want to say that at the meeting in Palm Beach they did not ask or suggest that we drop our association," Lindsay said.

Southfield Wrestlers Defeat Walled Lake

Southfield won its 2nd big wrestling match in three days yesterday whipping Walled Lake 34-16 on the heels of an upset over Berkley's 1957 regional champions.

Aid Plan on Players Agenda

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Stan Musial, Early Wynn, Bob Friend, and Harvey Kuenn were among early arrivals today as the big leaguers began assembling here for the second annual convention of Major League Baseball Players Assn.

The convention, termed primarily a get-together of all major league players and their families for three days of recreation and entertainment, officially opens tomorrow morning with a business meeting in which future plans of the Association will be discussed.

Player representatives of the 16 big - league clubs also will hold their regular meeting. High on their agenda is the question — What can be done to aid the former players who are not eligible under the present pension plan.

The feature event of the convention will be an all-star exhibition game in which greats of the past and present will complete in the first such project to be sponsored by the MLBPA. The game will be played Sunday. One squad will represent the American League, the other the National League. A baseball clinic for youngsters will be held before the contest.

Bob Feller, president of the association, said a sellout of the 6,000-seat stadium has been assured. The former Cleveland Indians' pitcher said a major portion of the proceeds would be made available to former players ineligible for pensions.

"It will be our way," said Feller, "of making some contribution toward filling the needs of old-time players, like Jimmy Foxx, who, unfortunately, could not be included in the present players pension plan."

It recently was made known that Foxx, onetime home run and batting champion of the American League, was penniless. He subsequently was hired as a coach of the Minneapolis Millers, a farm club of the Boston Red Sox.

"This annual convention," said Feller, "has been arranged to provide a better social and business understanding among both active and inactive major league ball players. At our meetings, we plan to hold discussion concerning winter and future business careers of ball players."

Under the present pension plan, only those players who were active in 1947, when the plan was originated, are eligible for benefits. A player with five years of big league experience receives $83 a month at the age of 50 and a 10-year man receives $150.

For Prep, College Basketball

Changes in Rules Studied

CHICAGO (AP) — Basketball, the game which has had more than its share of rules changes in recent years, is apparently in for more revisions.

The Executive Committee of the National Basketball Committee which makes up high school and college rules yesterday disclosed it is studying the possibility of reducing free throw shooting and adding to the time factor allowed in the restricted free throw lane.

★ ★ ★

The proposals being surveyed are:

1. Eliminate all free throws for a common foul until after the offending team has committed 4, for high school, or 6, for college, personal fouls in each half.

The present rule allows a single free throw until after 4 personals in high school or 6 in college, after which a bonus shot is awarded.

2. Permit a player to remain in the restricted zone — the 12-foot free throw lane—for five seconds instead of three.

★ ★ ★

The proposals are contained in a questionnaire being distributed among the nation's basketball coaches. The committee will weigh results of the survey when it meets at Louisville, Ky., March 23-24, to authorize rules for the 1958-59 season.

Double-Barreled Win for OCSC's Riflemen

Oakland County Sportsmen's club riflemen added another victory to their season's winter shooting record, last night, with a double-barrelled win over a good Multi-Lakes squad. OCSC's team was led to a 944-920 win in the actual division by Nancy Newman's 194. M. Meston had 224 in the handicap total to lead that section 1019-988. Match was shot at the Waterford club range.

Invite Russian to Race Car at Daytona Meet

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The National Assn. for Stock Car Racing (NASCAR) said today it has invited a Russian maker to enter his "Kharkov Six" in forthcoming Daytona Beach performance trials.

William H. G. France, NASCAR president, said the invitation was dispatched through the Soviet Embassy in Washington after officials of the American car group read in a magazine that the Red car averaged 170 miles an hour over a six-mile run in the Soviet Union.

NASCAR's 1958 international safety and performance trials will be held at Daytona Beach from Sunday through Feb. 23.

'Doormats' in Waterford Loop Upset Leaders

Most stunning upset of the season in the Waterford Recreation Basketball league was turned in last night when the last-place Johnson-Anderson Engineers defeated the front-running White Swans, 59-34 at Isaac Crary School.

★ ★ ★

In the night's other contest Ryeson's Super-Market grabbed the league lead all alone, with a 68-47 win over Jaycees.

Win for Johnson-Anderson was its first of the season against five defeats. Swans led 31-28 at halftime, 49-40, going into the finale.

Then J-A outscored Swans 19-5, led by Harvey Hernandez and Charley Huggins with 6 points apiece. Jay Newcombe had 19 for the winners and Harry Dearborn 20 for the losers.

Ryeson's Dick Gilchrist hit for 26 and Cecil Dumbrigue had 20 to pace the winners over Jaycees.

PCH After 4th SVC Victory

Pontiac Central Fears Trouble at Arthur Hill

Win Over Lumberjacks Would Put Chiefs Past .500 Mark in League

Pontiac Central will attempt to get above the .500 mark in Saginaw Valley Conference basketball action tonight at Arthur Hill, but the Chiefs can expect a rough time of it.

PCH has not been able to win a league game on the road in three attempts this year, but the Chiefs have won all three on the home court.

Arthur Hill played one of its best games in losing to the Chiefs on the PCH court several weeks ago, but both teams have gone through many personnel changes since then.

Arthur Hill has won only one game in the Saginaw Valley thus far. That was a victory over last place Bay City Central. Overall for the season, the Lumberjacks are 4-6.

This has been a disappointment for coach Fowler, who in pre-season forecasts saw Arthur Hill taking second place at least in the SVC.

Big Paul Doersom, at 6-feet-4, holds down the center position. Doersom had the best night of his prep career in the first game against Pontiac last December 13th when he netted 17 points.

Tonight the league activity could very well scramble the standings. Saginaw could be eliminated at Flint Northern or the Trojans could tighten things by beating the Vikings.

SCL Nearing Finish

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

It's all over in the Suburban Catholic League, but the eight members of the parochial circuit are going to play out the string just for kicks.

A respectable position in the final standings is the objective from here to the finish line, now that Highland Park St. Benedict has clinched its 3rd consecutive SCL title.

The 1957-58 league campaign nears the end of its 10-game regular season schedule tonight with a jammed program on tap.

St. Michael encounters tough Ferndale St. James in the Pontiac Central gym, St. Frederick plays host to Detroit St. Rita St. Ben invades Orchard Lake St. Mary and St. Clement of Center Line visits Royal Oak St. Mary.

St. Mike's basketball forces, suffering through their poorest season in a long time, dropped an earlier decision to the Dales and will be underdogs again this evening.

The Shamrocks are mired in 6th place with a 2-6 record and are doomed to stay there since, even by winning, they cannot dislodge any of their superiors in one night's work.

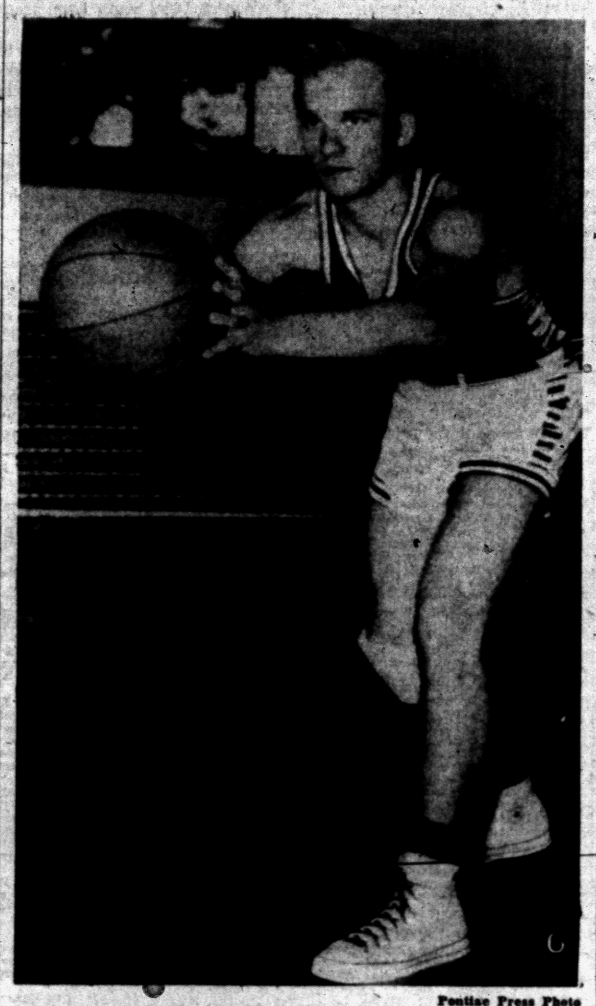

Coach Bob Mineweaser's Mikes will be trying to snap a five-game losing streak against the Dales, who are tied with RO St. Mary for 4th spot.

Gene Wright's St. Fred cagers can sew up 3rd place and maybe get a piece of 2nd by downing St. Rita, a team they whipped easily in a previous engagement. The home floor advantage makes the Rams an even heavier favorite this time.

If the Rams should stumble and St. James and Royal Oak come through with victories, the three schools would be forced to share 3rd spot. St. Fred now has a 6-3 loop record while the Dales and the Irish are both 5-4.

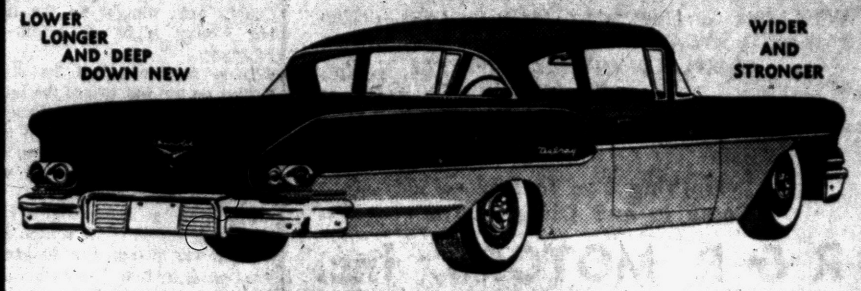

Orchard Lake's battle with St. Ben could have been a title showdown, but St. James scotched all Eaglet hopes for that opportunity by upsetting them last week while the Ravens were crushing St. Mike.

St. Ben's only incentive now will be to preserve its perfect 11-0 record. The Eaglets, who lost a 30-28 squeaker to the Ravens in December, have a 7-2 standing and will be striving to keep their runnerup position.

Upsets May Shift Prep Races

Full schedules in all basketball leagues and several independent contests make for a heavy cage calendar around the Oakland County area tonight on the first big Friday night of action in February.

There are no actual 1st place battles on tap but two of the loops — the Wayne-Oakland and Eastern Michigan — could be thrown into ties should the leaders be upset. There seems little chance it will happen in either case.

Clarkston has been rolling along on top of the W-O all season but its lead was dwindled in Tuesday's loss at Brighton. Northville, co-champions with the Wolves a year ago, is the runnerup.

Leroy Parks & company at CHS will host Milford while Northville takes on Clarenceville putting both in role of strong favorites. Holly attempts to snap a five-game losing streak at West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills is at Brighton rounding out loop play.

Ferndale has same situation as Clarkston. The unbeaten Rail-splitters must keep winning to hold the EML lead with powerful East Detroit breathing down their necks.

Ferndale hhas a road tilt at Hazel Park while East Detroit, fresh from a big upset of Hamtramck, is at home against Birmingham. Mt. Clemens meets Port Huron in the other league tilt.

One of the most important games around the other leagues will be in the Oakland B as Avondale tries to keep its hopes alive for at least sharing the crown by whipping Fitzgerald. Front-runner Troy should extend its league record to 7-0 and overall win string to 13 against Madison while Lake Orion goes after another triumph at Madison.

Berkley has gone along with a spotless record in the Inter-Lakes League but had one of its toughest evenings in edging the Skippers at home by three points. John Herrington and his mates will be out to avenge that score. Walled Lake will be another quintet seeking revenge as the Vikings visit Southfield and Van Dyke clashes with Farmington.

Dryden, with only one victory in eight season starts, will go all out to save face for the season playing Southern Thumb leader and recent tournament champion Almont. Armada travels to Memphis and New Haven is at Brown City completing the slate.

Feature game among the independents will be at Rochester where the Falcons of Gene Konley host Lapeer. Rochester eked out a two-pointer earlier at Lapeer after holding a big lead.

Royal Oak Dondero will be at Grosse Pointe, Oak Park is guest of Country Day, South Lyon travels to Hartland, Utica is at Warren, Royal Oak Shrine goes to Lourdes, Madison Lamphere plays at Clintondale and North Branch is at Frankenmuth in other contests.

On Saturday, Cranbrook seeks its 2nd straight win and 4th all season at home against University School in the Inter-State League

Titans Play Saturday

DETROIT (AP) — John Carroll of Cleveland will try to snap Detroit's four-game winning streak Saturday night when the Blue Streaks meet the Titans at Memorial Fieldhouse The Cleveland team has a 7-4 record while Detroit has won 12 of 18.

Oldest Now Near 79

Anyone Want to Try 80?

Anyone care to make it 80? That's the age it will take to be the oldest bowler in the Press Bowlerama.

"Ain't 79 yet, but it won't be long," he said. Carpenter's birth date is May 1, 1879, and he is still an active tournament bowler.

Carpenter is scheduled to bowl his qualifying round at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at Montcalm, and by coincidence, the man he replaces as the tournament's oldest man bowler, Cap Halliday, 74, is bowling at the same time.

With a 140 average, he bowls with the Eagles team at Auburn Lanes. "I went to the national Eagles tournament last year," he said, "and I'll go on bowling as long as I can."

The oldest woman in the tournament is still Mrs. Anna Winters of Birmingham. She is 76 years old and carries the lowest average in the tourney, a 64. She will qualify a week from tomorrow at Motor Inn with all the other women in the tourney.

The women have only until midnight Monday to submit their entries. Bowling times will be printed in the Press next Thursday.

Play as Free-Lancers

W. Va. Wins by Doing What Comes Naturally

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mountaineers of West Virginia may have to keep their wits sharp in the classroom but they're taught not to think on the basketball court. They do "what just comes naturally."

That's one of the reasons they rank as the No. 1 college team in the nation and have led the Associated Press poll for seven weeks in a row. They showed their class last night at the Carden, beating St. John's of Brooklyn 87-78 for their 16th victory in 17 games.

"We try to make our boys work as free lancers out there," said coach Fred Schaus, at 33 one of the youngest and most successful in the business. "We don't want them to be robots. We don't want them to think too much. We want them to act instinctively."

Schaus, who played pro basketball with Fort Wayne and the New York Knicks before returning to his alma mater as coach in 1954, said the game has developed into such a high-speed fire-engine race that too much thinking can be a detriment.

"I like for the boys to be fluid and flexible," he said. "So we concentrate on fundamentals. We practice patterns but have no set plays. Out on the floor, every boy is on his own."

The bull-shouldered West Virginia coach attributed the Mountaineers' success this year to "a better bench, more over-all balance, a year's extra experience, and about the best sophomore I've seen."

"We have eight good basketball players instead of the six we had last year," he said, "and we are playing three seniors — Loyd Sharrar and the two backcourt men, Don Vincent and Joedy Gardner." Sharrar is 6-10, Vincent 6-2 and Gardner 6-0.

Completing the first five are Bob Smith, (6-4), a junior who leads the fast break, and Jerry West (6-3), of whom Schaus asked:

"He does a lot of things for a sophomore, don't you think? I don't think I've seen one who does more. I just want to be around when he's a senior."

Royals Keep Firm Hold on 'A' Lead

Rolin Johnson netted 23 points to lead the Royals to their 8th win in 10 games. Hal Trott scored 22 points in defeat as the Knights dropped to 3rd place with a 5-5 record.

In a Class B game at PCH, Dean Hess tallied 23 points to pace Walled Lake's 57-54 triumph over Booth Homes. Jerry Long made 14 for the losers.

"The Bird" Is Pontiac's First Pro Basketball Player

Sparrow Fought Handicap, Aims for NBA Honors

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Today at 25-years of age, Guy tips the scales at 225 pounds, stands 6-feet-6 and is one of the top prospects for the National Basketball Association's coveted "rookie-of-the-year" honor, as a member of the New York Knickerbockers.

The battle for the NBA honor is focused on three newcomers. Sparrow, Woody Sauldsbeny of the Philadelphia Warriors and Win Wilfong of the St. Louis Hawks.

Sparrow's selection would be a climax to a great basketball career which started at Lincoln Junior High. Whetheer he receives the honor or not, the city of Pontiac can claim the first pro baseketball player in its history.

Under coach Art Van Ryzin, Sparrow and Exmo Wood led Pontiac to one of its best seasons during 1950-51. They were two of the top scorers in the Saginaw Valley and received all-conference honors.

From Pontiac, Sparrow matriculated to the University of Detroit and it didn't take long before his teammates dubbed him "The Bird." He played seven games in his second semester as freshman, and in one of the games his 14 points helped defeat Oklahoma A&M, then the number one team in the nation, a stunning defeat, 62-52.

He became the highest scoring sophomore in history at U. of D. and he set a single game high of 42 points. For three straight years he took Missouri Valley Conference honors and as a senior he was on the AP All-America third team.

He left U. of D. with 18 individual records in scoring and rebounding. His senior year he finished as the 5th best college rebounder in the entire country.

The New York Knicks drafted him and after training camp in 1955, he enterded the service and was soon hitting the hoops with the All-Army team in Europe.

His biggest thrill of basketball took place in Istanbul, Turkey, where he played with the U.S. team in the International Armed Services Tournament. "There were over 8,000 Turks at the game, and when they all stood up and sang their national anthem, they all sang and I mean sang."

"They sure love their country, I wish we would put as much gusto in our Spangled Banner when it is sung."

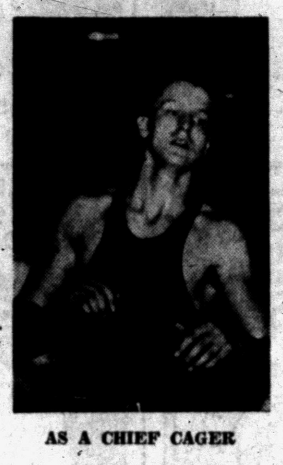

It didn't take long for the Knicks to put Sparrow in uniform after his discharge. "It took him a little while to get back in shape," said coach Vince Boryla of the Knick Knicks, "but he is the top rookie in the league."

Currently, Sparrow leads all rookies in several departments, including total points, shooting percentage and free throws. He and Sauldsberry are running neck and neck in rebounds, minutes played and points per game average.

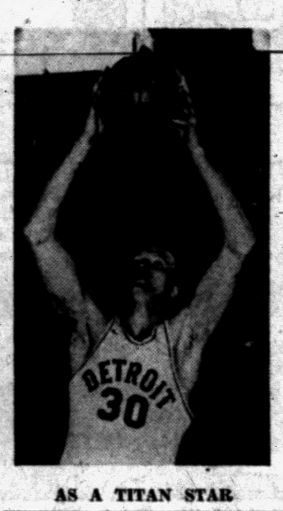

Sunday night, the Knicks will play the Pistons for the last time this season in Detroit. Mayor Donald W. Donaldson has declared the night as "Guy Sparrow Night."

Tickets are available at either of Osmun's two stores or by calling the Olympia. Sparrow will be honored in pre-game ceremonies.

Coach Predicts Gutowski Will Clear 16 Feet

"He'll do it this year, all right," said the coach of the outdoor world record holder. "Bob is one of the truly great athletes. Two weeks ago in his first attempt for heighth since June, he cleared 14-10. He doesn't vault much in training. He conditions himself through weight lifting and sprints."

Gutowski, 23, a slender, six-foot 150-pounder, will make his indoor debut of the season in the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. He will be defending a share of the title he and two-time Olympic champion Bob Richards won with vaults of 15-6 a year ago.

Fullmer, Rhodes Go Rejected in Idaho

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The State Athletic Commission has refused to give its blessings to a proposed fight between Gene Fullmer, ex-middleweight champion from West Jordan, Utah, and Mickey Rhodes of Boise.

Chairman Eddie Cole of Caldwell, reached in Pocatello, said "the commission doesn't feel Mickey Rhodes would be a suitable opponent for Gene Fullmer."

But Cole added such a fight might be sanctioned later "if ... Rhodes proved to be in good condition and demonstrated it in one or more fights leading up to such a bout."

The sanction refusal came only hours behind the announcement that the fight had been arranged between Boise promoter Al Berro and Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson.

Indonesia Presents 'No Cause for Alarm'

KOBE, Japan (AP) — President Sukarno today brushed off Indonesia's so far bloodless rebellion as growing pains normal to a new nation.

* * *

"There is no cause for alarm or anxiety," the Indonesian President told a gathering at his country's consulate in Kobe after rebel radio stations in the island republic failed last night to fulfill predictions they would proclaim a separate government.

* * *

The rebel commander, Lt. Col. Achmad Hussein, broadcast a warning to the government in Jakarta not to attack the rebels in Central Sumatra. He told residents of the dissident area that Jakarta "is starting with economic pressures" and might attack soon.

Key Stocks List Fractional Drops

Key stocks were off fractionally. Many were unchanged. There were a few small gains.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank became the tenth to lower its discount rate. Department store sales were reported lower than a year ago.

Pontiac Man Guilty of Manslaughter

A jury of six men and six women returned the lesser conviction against Clisby Watkins, of 415 Bloomfield St., after deliberating one hour and 45 minutes.

Watkins had been charged with second-degree murder in the knife slaying of Freddie D. Rhimes, 28, of 312 Hughes St., on Nov. 19.

Bomb Threat Delays Planes at Willow Run

State Police searched planes operated by TWA, Eastern and Capital air lines after an anonymous telephone call to TWA's downtown office said a bomb had been planted on a plane leaving Willow Run for Atlanta.

No sign of a bomb or other explosive was found and the planes were released about a half hour behind schedule.

Grain Business Barely Stirring

CHICAGO (AP)—Business in grain futures barely stirred at the opening of the Board of Trade today and prices eased with only slight, scattered demand.

The setback in soybeans ran as much as ¾ cent in initial transactions in consequence of a weaker vegetable oil and soybean meal market, but oats held slightly to the plus side on small commercial buying.

Dealings were light and after first overnight orders were cleared the trade virtually stalled.

After about an hour's trading, however, liquidation stepped up and prices turned decidedly weaker. Wheat was ⅝ to ¾ lower, March $2.15⅝; corn ¼ to ⅜ lower, March $1.09½; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 64; rye ⅞ to 1¼ lower, March $1.26½; soybeans ⅛ to 1 lower, March $2.21½; and lard 7 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $11.55.

Mother of 2 Faces Check-Fraud Charge

A warrent was to be issued today charging a 23-year-old widowed mother of two with passing bad checks totaling $1,320, according to the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Robert D. Long said Mrs. Betty Lou Harris, of 240 W. Ann Arbor Ave., Pontiac, has admitted passing the 14 checks between Jan. 30 and Feb. 6.

Long also said an investigation was under way to see whether a would be issued against two friends of Mrs. Harris, who police said broke into a Walled Lake milk depot Jan. 30 and stole 285 blank company checks and $50 in cash.

Long said it was these Sealtest company checks that the woman admitted passing today.

The woman and the two men were arrested last night after a suspicious Pontiac grocer took the licens enumber of their car, after one of the checks had been passed in his store.

Realtors Considering Hike in Selling Fees

A study committee of the Pontiac Board of Realtors is considering a proposal that Pontiac real estate brokers follow Detroit's lead in boosting fees for selling homes from 5 per cent to 6.

Alcuin G. Kampsen, board president, said the committee would present its recommendation at the March 3 meeting of the board.

The Detroit Real Estate Board recommended the hike to its members last week. Kampsen emphasized that if the Pontiac board makes a similar recommendation it would not be a hard and fast rule that local brokers must follow.

Cancel Hart Banquet at Nonunion Inn

Plans to hold a testimonial banquet for Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart at two places Valentine's Day have been dropped by the Oakland County Democratic Committee because one of the eating places does not employ union labor.

The dinner will go on as scheduled at the Northwood Inn, which does employe union help. But plans for the Normandie Inn have been canceled, Democratic headquarters confirmed today.

A spokesman said that Hart had informed Mrs. Faye Moskowitz, county vice chairman and head of the banquet committee, that he preferred not to have the banquet prepared and served by non-union workers.

Ward's Reports See Car Production Lag

DETROIT (INS)—Ward's Automotive Reports said today rising dealer inventories and a mild sales climate are dictating a slow car production pace in the United States and output in the first quarter of 1958 may slip to the lowest level since 1952.

Ward's said January production of 489,357 cars was 24 per cent off the same 1957 month. An estimated 440,000 units are expected to be completed this month—23 per cent under the same month last year.

The statistical agency said U. S. Manufacturers this week operated at 27 per cent below a year ago and the trend is expected to continue through February.

This week's output was estimated by Ward's at 108,065 cars and 18,391 trucks as compared with 104,359 cars and 18,355 trucks last week. In the corresponding week a year ago, 147,163 cars and 22,957 trucks were completed.

Webster School Cubs Hold Blue, Gold Dinner

Charge Manslaughter in Loan of Death Car

An auto owner who loaned his car to a 19-year-old Lake Orion youth who police say had been drinking was to be charged with manslaughter in a Detroit expressway accident which claimed two lives.

★ ★ ★

Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said he would seek the warrant against William Marshall, 33, of River Rouge. Driving Marshall's car, Neil McClary, of 499 Joslyn Rd. entered the Ford Expresway the wrong way early Tuesday and crashed head-on into another car.

McClary and the other driver, James Coldiron, 29, of Taylor Township were both killed.

State Police Detectives at the Redford Post are investigating a breakin of the Twelve High Bar, located at 12 Mile Rd. and Northwestern Highway, last night which netted thieves $200.

Gas Station Till Rifled While Attendant Busy

An unknown man walked into a Pontiac Township Gas Station Thursday night and rifled the cash register while the attendant was busy, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Ralph Sickel, owner of the Sunoco Service Station at 3250 Auburn Rd., told deputies that someone took $36.50 from the till while he was outside waiting on a customer. The man walked away unnoticed before the loss was discovered, said deputies.

Contracts Set in Detroit Area?

Potter Refutes Report Chrysler Told to Skip Firms on Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) says "there's no basis whatsoever" for a report by Rep. Griffiths (D-Mich) that Michigan has been cut out of Army missile subcontracts.

Potter told a reporter yesterday that 215 of the first 350 subcontracts stemming from the 2-million-dollar Chrysler Corp. missile contract went to Michigan firms.

Earlier Mrs. Griffiths said she had learned that the Army has ordered Chrysler not to award any subcontracts to firms in the Detroit area.

The prime contract for starting mass production of the 1,500-mile range Jupiter missiles and to continue production of the 200-250-mile Redstone missiles was awarded by the Army last December to Chrysler's Warren plant.

Mrs. Griffiths said Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., had put out the no-Michigan order. She said she had learned all subcontracts would go to the Hayes Aircraft Corp. of Birmingham, Ala.

He said Hayes has received only one of the first 350 subcontracts. An additional 1,600 to 1,800 subcontracts will be awarded, he added.

Potter said he checked with the Army about the subcontract situation after newsmen informed him of Mrs. Griffiths' remarks.

Republican congressmen had hailed the Chrysler missile contract as an effective blow against unemployment in Michigan, contending it would result in subcontracts around the state.

When told of Potter's comments, Mrs. Griffiths said it might require a Congressional hearing "to iron this out."

"Chrysler told (a House) subcommittee staff they were given the order by the Army," Mrs. Griffiths said. "The regular suppliers to Chrysler have been told they would not be given subcontracts."

Lab Planned in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — A spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration has confirmed a report that a million-dollar U. S. F & D Administration laboratory is being planned for Detroit.

Asks Early Hearing on Excise Tax End

WASHINGTON (AP)—An early Congressional hearing on proposed repeal of the Federal Excise tax on autos and trucks was asked yesterday.

The author of the repeal bill, Rep. Chamberlain (R-Mich) said in a letter to Chairman Mills (D-Ark) of the House Ways and Mean Committee asking for a hearing:

"Repeal of the automotive excise tax would provide an immediate impetus to our economy and increase employment in the automotive and many related industries."

He told Mills production cutbacks in the Flint area have "had a most serious effect on the local economy" and added:

"The effect of the recent drop in automotive production is felt not only in Michigan, but throughout the entire nation. The bellwether effect of the automotive industry on the rest of the country has been demonstrated time and time again."

Pulley Transmission on 1st All-Dutch Auto

EINDHOVEN, Netherlands (AP) — The DAF Works, Holland's only auto firm, Thursday unveiled the first all-Dutch pasenger car — a four-seater 590 C.C. model with two-pedal control.

The drive of the front-mounted twin cylinder engine is transferred to the rear wheels through two belts which run on pulleys variable in diameter. These pulleys offer an infinite number of ratios instead of the three or four of the conventional reduction mechanism, the makers said.

New Soviet Ambassador Arrives

Pre-Summit Negotiations Seem Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union appeared about ready today to open the diplomatic negotiations which may eventually lead to an East-West summit conference.

★ ★ ★

A new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail A. Menshikov, arrived to take command of Moscow's embassy here. He is expected to seek prompt meetings with Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower to present his credentials and thus clear the way for active work.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who has been home for two weeks of consultation on U.S.-Soviet relations and summit conference problems, is leaving Washington today and will get back to Moscow early next week.

★ ★ ★

Premier Nikolai Bulganin advised President Eisenhower in a message last Sunday that the Soviet Union agreed to an exchange of ideas through diplomatic channels to prepare the way for a conference. Eisenhower has insisted that very careful preparation, offering hope of positive agreements, is essential before a conference can be arranged.

★ ★ ★

Although the Soviet Union and the Western powers are tightly deadlocked on such major issues as the future of Germany and basic disarmament problems, some officials are known to feel that prolonged negotiation eventually may make some headway toward initial arms control arrangements and measures to prevent surprise attack.

A handsome and personable man, he is likely to be much more active in Washington than his predecessor Georgi N. Zarubin, who did not speak English.

Airplanes and Private Autos Revolutionize Transportation

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Writer
Fourth in Series

"You will be abe to cross the continent in scarcely more than an hour, span the Atlantic in less than two hours and the Pacific in scarcely four hours."

This is Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of Eastern Air Lines, talking. He is not talking about the distant future. He is talking about the day after tomorrow.

The airplane and the private automobile are revolutionizing transportation in the United States. This revolution will accelerate in the next decade.

In two years, Rickenbacker says airplanes "will be cruising high above the weather with silent, vibrationless comfort, initially in the speed band of sound, or about 600 miles an hour. Continuing advances in the development of jet power will move these speeds up to 2,500 miles an hour."

On the ground, millions of private automobiles will travel new, high-speed highways.

If the cities are strangling in traffic jams as drivers hunt for parking spaces, if they are losing passenger train service, if they cannot solve the problems of mass transportation—if all these things are true, and they are, there is one thing they can do. They can build airports. Look around.

In Salt Lake City work will start in July on a 10-million-dollar project to accommodate jet airplanes. Travel at the Salt Lake airport has increased an average of 19 per cent each year for the past 10 years—"probably one of the highest increases in the nation," says Joseph Bergin, airport manager.

New Orleans recently acquired Moisant International Airport at Kenner, La., 15 miles west, and is engaged in a two-million-dollar renovation program. A monorail system to downtown New Orleans is being discussed. Indianapolis is building longer runways (for jets) at its new air terminal, completed in 1956.

New facilities at Boston's Logan Airport will cost 23 million dollars.

Chicago has put O'Hare Field into operation, helping to relieve congestion at the nation's most heavily used airport — Midway. From 1947 until the end of this year the Port Authority of New York will have put 235 million dollars into Idlewild International Airport.

Major airport construction and improvement projects are under way in Minneapolis-St. Paul; Miami; Portland, Ore.; Columbus, Ohio; and Philadelphia.

All this is aimed to accommodate the enormous growth in airline travel. Passenger miles flown by scheduled and nonscheduled airlines last year totaled 25,800,000,000, compared with only 6,313,312,000 ten years earlier.

In the same period the number of domestic passengers rose from 12,890,000 to 45,000,000.

Yet the airlines are not happy. Stanley Gewirtz, vice president of the Air Transport Assn., says, "While doing twice the business the dometic trunk (airlines) now make half the profit they did in 1952."

★ ★ ★

But problems aside, air travel prospects look bright. We can go soaring with Eddie Rickenbacker: "In the span of the next century of aviation, space ships will become commonplace for interplanetary travel. With luxurious accommodations for 1,500 to 2,000 passengers, they will use atomic power to develop speeds up to 5,000 miles an hour or better, and will have a practically unlimited range."

This may solve the problem. You can park on the moon.

Mackie Threatened With Impeachment

LANSING (AP) — Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), who two weeks ago called up on Gov. Williams to resign, threatened today to start impeachment proceedings against John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner.

Mackie had criticized Smeekens for obtaining 25,000 highway maps from Charles M. Ziegler, former Republican highway commissioner, and distributing them as political handbills.

Shouting Greets Maria Callas at New York 'Met'

NEW YORK (AP) Maria Callas was greeted with an uproar of shouting and applause last night as she sang at the Metropolitan Opera for the first time this season.

But the temperamental soprano didn't get all she might have wished for from some of the critics.

W. G. Rogers, Associated Pres arts editor, noted the cries of "Brava" from the audience "plus a deafening lot of regular cheering section shouts and yells."

"The applause was ear-splitting when her voice was at its most lovely, and it was just as ear - splitting when, taxing it beyond the limit, she made it strident," Rogers wrote.

She last sang at the Met in January, 1957. Since then she has been making headlines all the way from San Francisco to Rome by NOT singing.

Bergman's Girl to Attend College in California

★ ★ ★

At the airport, the 19-year-old beauty politely but firmly waved aside reporters' questions about her famous mother whose marriage to Italian film director Roberto Rossellini has broken up.

"I know nothing of my mother's personal life or plans," said Pia.

The poised and gracious Miss Lindstrom, who bears a strong resemblance to her mother, was willing, however, to talk about her visit with the actress in Europe last summer—the first time they had seen each other in seven years.

★ ★ ★

She said she "enjoyed" it and "hopes" her mother will return the visit. When or where another get-together of daughter and mother might occur Miss Lindstrom would not predict.

The girl is the daughter of Dr. Peter Lindstrom from whom Miss Bergman parted in 1949 to carry on a romance with Rossellini.

Miss Lindstrom, a sophomore, is transferring from the University of Colorado to Mills College in order to study interior design. She said her principal interest is to finish her schooling and then "make a career for herself."

Resume Discourse in Chrysler Dispute

DETROIT (INS) — Negotiators for Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers were to resume talks today after the firm's Dodge main plant in Detroit was closed for the 10th day in a row in a dispute over production standards.

A company spokesman said 5,000 employes were sent home yesterday after workers in the plant's trim shop refused to meet production standards. The union has charged Chrysler with a speedup.

No report on progress was given after yesterday's meeting which ended after about five hours of talks. Another meeting was scheduled for 2 p.m. today.

Begin Manslaughter, Murder Trials

The first - degree murder trial of James Witherspoon and the manslaughter trial of Maelouise Russell, both of Pontiac, began today in Oakland County Circuit Court before Judges Frank L. Doty and George B. Hartrick, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Witherspoon, 56, of 130 Wessen St., is charged with murdering Joseph Wright, 37, of Pontiac, in a poolroom fight Nov. 18 following an argument over a $5 bill.

Mrs. Russell, 44, of 262 Hughes St., is accused of the fatal stabbing last Christmas of Woodrow Russell, 43.

★ ★ ★

A village manager will be appointed eventually, Councilman Allerton said today, but for the present the council will run the village without one.

Newsmen Urge Bill to Offset Trend

Sees Secrecy in Government Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for America's newspaper editors said today a "suffocatingly pervasive" climate of secrecy is spreading through the vast federal government.

J. R. Wiggins, vice president and executive editor of the Washington Post, spoke for the American Society of Newspaper Editors in asking the House Government Information subcommittee to approve a bill which he called a "timid beginning" against the secrecy trend.

The bill would specify that a 169-year-old law empowering federal department heads to prescribe regulations for handling records does not provide authority to keep records secret. All 10 government departments oppose the bill.

★ ★ ★

Dale Stafford, publisher of the Daily News at Greenville, Mich., yesterday was one who urged congressional support of a Senate bill to bar federal use of a 169-year-old law governing release of government information.

Prince Aly Khan Prepares for Job at United Nations

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Prince Aly Khan went to work at the Foreign Office today to prepare for his new job as Pakistan's permanent representative to the United Nations.

An aide said the 46-year-old playboy prince, former husband of movie actress Rita Hayworth and British socialite Joan Yarde-Buller, is anxious "to learn all about diplomacy and foreign affairs."

The Foreign Office said it is planning to send Prince Aly to U. N. headquarters in New York as soon as possible. He is now studying Pakistan's foreign policies in consultation with top diplomats.

Aly Khan got the U. N. post after his father, the late Aga Khan, passed him over and named Aly's son Prince Karim his successor as head of the far-flung Ismaili Moslem sect. Aly Khan is now an Iranian citizen but will probably adopt Pakistani nationality before leaving here.

Graham to Crusade in Face of Strike

★ ★ ★

The transport workers said they would walk out in sympathy with printers who have closed down the newspapers and print shops since last Saturday with a demand for higher wages. The typographers' union said the bakers, bartenders and sales clerks unions also have pledged sympathy walkouts.

★ ★ ★

Organizers for the Graham crusade, which has been traveling through the Caribbean area, said they were considering setting up car pools to bring people to the 14,000-seat stadium. They also tripled radio publicity.

★ ★ ★

Reporting on the progress of his tour, Graham said on his arrival that 1,000 persons turned out at 15-minute impromptu meetings he held at airports in Venezuela and Colombia on his way from Tobago.

TV's Kingfish Faces Day in Court on Arrest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bench warrant is out for the arrest of the Kingfish of television's Amos 'N' Andy Show. But it won't be served if he shows up in court next Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Actor Harry R. Moore, 70, failed to appear yesterday for arraignment on an assault charge. He was in New York. His attorney explained that Moore, whose hearing is faulty, had thought his case was announced for next Thursday.

Superior Judge Maurice G. Sparling issued the warrant and the proviso on its use.

★ ★ ★

Moore's wife Vivian, 39, filed the complaint against him. She said he fired a shot last Jan. 5 while enraged because her children had eaten a beef roast. She has since indicated she wants to drop the charge.

Still Warbling After 25 Years

Veteran Singer Now Stars in Program on New York Station

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A 25-year-career in the highly competitive world of radio involves a man in some difficult decisions.

★ ★ ★

At present he offers 5½ hours weekly of song, conversation and disc-spinning on CBS Radio's New York station.

Many have forgotten that Ross was a great track star at Yale. Ross says there probably would not have been a radio career at all if he had gone abroad as a member of the 1928 Olympics team.

A great quarter-miler and holder of the AAU 300-yard indoor title, he was named to the Olympics team scheduled to sail for Europe on June 26. He also was leader and soloist of the Yale Glee Club, scheduled to sail for Europe on June 23.

WITHOUT REGRETS

"I went with the Glee Club, to the surprise of a good many people," he said. "I never regretted it."

★ ★ ★

Such a decision, he feels, is one reason why he still is heard on the air waves while many a well-known singer of years past has faded.

"I wanted to sing," he said, "and I had a bit of hard work to do. I wanted to be basically well grounded as a professional singer."

"If you have that basic training, you can change and develop your style. Some make a hit with a particular style for a time, but it's difficult to survive without the basic hard work."

★ ★ ★

Luck and the help of friends play an important part too, said Ross. Perhaps there was an element of luck in a 1931 decision of his.

CHOOSES RADIO

But he also was doing a 15-minute program in radio—and consequently appearing late for rehearsals. The producer warned him to choose either the show or radio.

★ ★ ★

"I chose radio," said Ross. "The show ran a year and a half on Broadway. But I've run 25 years on radio."

Seek Two Men Missing in Lake Plane Crash

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Officers launched a search today for two men still missing after the crash of a light plane in Great Salt Lake.

★ ★ ★

The bodies of two men were recovered yesterday, shortly after the wreckage was discovered. Two others were reported to have been aboard.

★ ★ ★

The dead were Ross Boyd Miller of Bountiful, Utah, the pilot, and Garr Bennett, 38, Murray, Utah. Their bodies were found still strapped in the seats of the four-place plane.

Missing were Dwayne Daniels of Salt Lake City and Glenn H. Hyatt of Sandy, Utah.

Actor Richards Sued 2nd Time for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of actor Jeff Richards has sued him for divorce for the second time in six months.

★ ★ ★

The complaint, identifying the 32-year-old actor by his legal name Richard Taylor, was filed in Superior Court yesterday by Mrs. Vicki Taylor, 25. She charged cruelty.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Taylor filed suit for divorce last August, but withdrew the action two months later after a reconciliation. They were married in December, 1955.

Novices' Short Course: Gold Diggers in Action

By EARL WILSON

A South American playboy tells me a girl may say after lunch, "I have to go to Tiffany's and pick up some things. Would you go with me and advise me?"

One girl confessed she was broke and had to sell her diamond bracelet. Would he buy it? "But I have nobody to give it to," he said. "Well, then you could give it to me," she sighed. A pretty actress said she'd lost at gambling and had to sell her co-op apartment. Would he care to buy it?

"But where would you stay?" he asked. "Oh," she said, smiling flirtatiously, "I would continue living here."

WILSON

★ ★ ★

Today's Wilson Girl nominee is Jeannie Johnson, singer in San Francisco and a psychology major at San Francisco State. Frank Funge of the S. F. Examiner nominates her and says she's the cutest one in town.

★ ★ ★

Marilyn Monroe was given her name by Ben Lyon, the London producer now happily married to Bebe Daniels. He named her Marilyn because his great love had once been Marilyn Miller, the dancer. On a recent trip here he realized that the girl whom he'd named for Marilyn Miller had herself become through marriage . . . Marilyn Miller.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Gene Nelson'll get $2,500 to do a TV'er, then play "Oklahoma!" at N. Y. City Center for $85 a week. Trio: tennis star Gussie Moran, husband Ed Hand, and ex-husband Tom Corbally . . . Deborah Kerr forgot to ask for Sal Mineo's autograph for her daughter at a party, dashed back to get it . . . "Mom" Dorsey leaves the hospital next week, her busted hip mending. Washington Buzz: Vice President Nixon may journey to Moscow to set up a summit conference . . . Bob Evans, who won an award as best newcomer—and hasn't worked since last summer—is off to H'wood to ask his bosses for a movie job.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Irvin S. Cobb said it years ago: "If I ever go crazy, I want to go to Washington, where no one will notice it."

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

On with the space helmets — this week's a rough one. Record shops around Pontiac have come up with an amazing variety of sellers, making the top five harder to figure out than Little Richard singing Sigmund Romberg.

In first place is "Get A Job" by The Silhouettes, for the second straight week. Romping along in second is "Short Shorts" by the Royal Teens. "Twenty-six Miles" popped into the front-runners by sealing down third spot. The others among the top fire sellers are "Maybe" by the Chantels (dropped from a first place tie to fourth), and "Dede Dinah" by Frankie Avalon in fifth.

Just edged out are "Oh Julie" by The Crescendos and "Ballad Of A Teenage Queen" by Johnny Cash (which looks like it may be coming on like a storm). "Witchcraft" by Frankie is getting a lot of attention from record buyers too.

This week Sinatra has two albums that are not only excellent examples of his versatility but are both among the top 10 in sales. His "Where Are You?" (Capitol W-855) is ranked in the top five nationally and "A Swingin' Affair" (Capitol W-803) ranks further back. In Pontiac, it's just the opposite. I hope time doesn't alter local taste; Sinatra's tops when he's swingin'.

THE JAZZ NEST: For lovers of "on the scene" stuff a series of 14 LP's on the Verve label awaits your turntables, bringing highlights of the 1957 Newport Jazz Festival. If you want an advance tip on the discs, the following list of "At Newports" should suffice.

"George Lewis & Turk Murphy" (MGV-8232); "Red Allen, Kid Ory, & Jack Teagarden" (MGV-8233); "Ella Fitzgerald & Billy Holiday" MGV-8234; "Teddy Wilson Trio, Gerry Mulligan Quartet with Bob Brookmeyer" (MGV-8235); "Toshiko & Leon Sash" (MGV-8236); "Eddie Costa, Mat Mathews & Don Elliott" (MGV-8237); "The Gigi Gryce - Donald Byrd Jazz Laboratory & The Cecil Taylor Quartet" (MGV-8238); "The Oscar Peterson Trio with Roy Eldridge, Sonny Stitt & Jo Jones" (MGV-8239).

I will comment briefly on these at our next meeting.

MATTHEW CAMMARERI

Name Chairman of Easter Seal Drive in County

Chairman of the 1958 Easter Seal campaign for the Oakland County Society For Crippled Children this year is Matthew Cammareri of Birmingham.

According to Lloyd Megee, president of the society, this is the third consecutive year Cammareri will direct the campaign.

The campaign will be conducted March 6 through Easter Sunday, April 6.

Mildred A. Burns, 59 Monroe St., has been appointed by Cammareri as publicity chairman for the drive and area chairmen will be named soon.

The society expects to move into its new $49,000 building on the west side of Telegraph Road across from the County Service Center this spring.

Megee emphasized that "not one red cent" collected during the Easter Seal campaign has been or will be used toward the cost of the building. Funds for the new structure have been contributed for that purpose.

Rocket Blows Up, Boy's Sight Periled

★ ★ ★

Doctors at Community Hospital said it will be several days before they know if his sight can be saved.

Robert made a small rocket of half-inch copper tubing, using sulphur and potassium nitrate for fuel and a fuse of gunpowder.

★ ★ ★

Robert lit the fuse. Nothing happened. When he leaned over it to see what was wrong, it exploded, driving bits of metal into his face, neck and hands.

Thieves Get Vacation While Car's Being Fixed

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thieves worked over Ned Wamsley's car so often he finally had to send it to the garage for repairs.

"Mr. Thief. Car being fixed. Sorry to inconvenience you."

Wamsley said thieves raided his car five times in six months.

Must Have Neurosis to Fit Into Party Set

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — It is tres chic these days to be "neurotic." Or at least to claim that you are.

In the old days, "neurotic" was something that people were whom you didn't like.

Now it's different. Now neuroticism is a condition devoutly to be desired in order to be considered interesting. In fact, in New York, where the "smart" people go around in cocktail circles, a man who professes to be psychotically normal is in the same class with the man who drinks martinis at 4-to-one . . .

A dullard.

No one is boorish enough to ask the self-proclaimed neurotic just what form his psychic disorders take; they are only grateful that he has them. It presumes that their's is a cultured, classy group where everybody is intellectual enough to have quirks — and wealthy enough to have psychiatrists.

★ ★ ★

Actually, few of these people who bandy the word around to get attention know what neuroses truly are all about — beyond the fact that they are modern, fascinating accoutrements to boast about. Like shares of General Dynamics, or Picassos in your bathroom.

Even an expert on the subject, one Dr. Albert Ellis, cannot define "neurotics" very explicitly. He says:

"From a practical standpoint, psychologists usually label as 'neurotic' only those individuals who are so inappropriate in their feelings and so ineffective or disruptive in their behavior that they sooner or later get into rather serious difficulties of their own making.

"This sad situation exists largely because we insist that human beings be champions, successes and millionaires on the one hand, and angels, demi-gods and saints on the other. But one can't have saintlessness and have to fight like the devil to get it. And when he is BLAMED for being unable to be both a saint and a fighter, neurosis is bound to abound."

By proclaiming themselves "neurotics," they are immediate social successes. But thus deprecating themselves, they take on the saintly air of honesty. Envy is their reward, instead of blame.

School, Telephone Heads Aim for Better Education

Pontiac school and telephone company administrators will get together this month with an eye towards better job education.

★ ★ ★

A team of 15 school officials, headed by Board of Education President Glenn Griffin, will tour the Bell Telephone Co.'s Pontiac office Tuesday.

A seven - member team from Michigan Bell, headed by Raymond H. Storm, district commercial manager, will in turn visit Pontiac Central High School the following Tuesday.

They are interested in how the schools develop resourcefulness, leadership and dependability in pupils.

The idea for inter-visits between the schools, business and industry originated two years ago with the Board of Education. Several such programs already have taken place since then, said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, schools' superintendent.

Dear Mr. Thompson:

We are very pleased with the comfort we have with our Siegler Oil Space Heater. Not only do we have almost a 50% saving in fuel, the floors are warm and the heat is distributed to all the rooms.

It sure is a relief to have the heat where you need it, not all up on the ceiling or going up the chimney. I sure am glad we have a Siegler.

Sincerely,
Mrs John Sorrow
