Rock Slides Block Traffic

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Massive rain-caused slides blocked major rail and highway routes across Cascade Mountains today and trapped 90 passengers for 10 hours in a stalled train until they got out by bus on a one-way road.

A woman was killed in a mountain pass highway accident.

Flooding rivers forced evacuation of scores of farm families in Northwest Washington valleys.

Three railroads diverted traffic over a combined route south of the trouble zone.

TRAIN HELD UP

The Milwaukee Road's nine-car Olympian Hiawatha passenger train was caught between slides Sunday afternoon near Hyak, 60 miles east of Seattle. Buses (from Ellensburg, Wash., east of the Cascades, reached the stalled train early today and took the passengers to Spokane for transfer to a makeup train for Chicago.

The Milwaukee, Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads all halted trains on regular routes across the Cascades. They combined to divert traffic on a southern route by way of Pasco and Vancouver, Wash.

Highway traffic piled up on both sides of the Cascades as the major cross-state passes—Snoqualmie, Stevens, White and Blewett—all closed by slides.

Hazel K. Caddell, 64, of Leavenworth, Wash., was killed on Stevens Pass when her automobile crashed into a truck in a slide area.

Several days of heavy rain followed by a warm chinook wind in the snow-covered mountains caused the flooding. Water from melting snow poured down streams, ditches and ravines in the Cascades.

The Snohomish Valley was being flooded by waters from the Snohomish and Stillaguamish rivers. Civil Defense officials requested Coast Guard aid and called for civilian outboard powered boats to evacuate families in the area.

Rivers, already over their banks, were still on the rise and the rich farming area braced itself for more punishment.

Snohomish County Civil Defense Director Harold Peterson, said the situation was "extremely critical."

"There's every reason to think tomorrow will be worse and the next day will be worse than that," he said.

Dream of Spring Will Continue Another Day

Mild weather will continue with a high of 58 today and a low of 38 tonight. Tuesday's high is expected to be 45.

Southwesterly winds 12 to 20 miles per hour will become westerly tonight, it is predicted.

Temperatures rose Sunday to a springlike high of 55. Wind velocity at 10 a.m. was southwesterly at 18 m.p.h.

The thermometer registered 51 in downtown Pontiac at 1 p.m.

Reds Refused Offices in Cuban Labor Group

Confederation Backs Out of Anti-Communist 'U.S.-Dominated' Unit

HAVANA (P)—The Cuban Confederation of Labor today elected an executive committee made up entirely of members of Fidel Castro's revolutionary party and rejected a Communist party bid for posts on the labor high command.

Despite the rebuff to the organized Reds, informed sources said the 13-man group elected early today by the 10th National Labor Congress included several former Communists and some Communist sympathizers.

Heading the group is Secretary General David Salvador. Castro's choice installed last Jan. 1 when the revolution triumphed and an outspoken critic of the United States.

The election by a roaring vote ended the congress after a tumultuous final session of wrangling which lasted most of the night.

Earlier the congress withdrew the Cuban Confederation from the anti-Communist Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers and set out to organize a new "Revolutionary Confederation of Latin American Workers."

A congress resolution charged the IAROW was under the control of "American imperialism, which has consistently supported all dictators."

The Inter-American regional organization was formed nearly a decade ago. It is a branch of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. The Free World's rival to the Communist-led World Federation of Trade Unions.

The congress appealed to other Latin-American labor groups to join it in forming the new "revolutionary confederation."

The delegates also proposed a handful of other resolutions bristling with attacks on the United States.

These included a denunciation of U.S. "monopolists and the State Department" for "opposing just efforts of the Latin-American people to achieve their rights."

Another assailed Latin-American dictatorships "who are supported by the United States."

Disc Jockeys Get Heave-Ho as Payola Plays Bitter Tune

NEW YORK (AP)—Disc Jockey Alan Freed, a pioneer in the rock 'n' roll craze who has been fired by a New York radio station, meets today with officials of a television station here to talk about payola.

While congressional investigators probed payola—under-the-table payments by record companies to disc jockeys for plugging certain records on their programs—some stations took quick action.

In Detroit, radio station WJBK

Sunday fired disc jockey Thomas Clay who admitted taking payola. Dale Young, master of ceremonies on WJBK-TV's Detroit Bandstand, resigned. Young did not comment.

Bill Michaels, WJBK-TV manager who announced Young's resignation, said the Storer Broadcasting Corp. is investigating payola at all its TV and radio stations in Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Miami, and Wheeling, W. Va.

In New York, radio station

WABC fired Freed Saturday after he refused to answer questions put to the station's record spinners.

DETROIT (P)—Don McLeod, Detroit disc jockey, resigned from radio station WJBK today. He was the third disc jockey to leave the station within 24 hours.

Freed insisted he was honest and it was an insult to ask him.

Officials of WNEW-TV here, which carries a Freed show, asked the disc jockey to meet with them today.

"We want to know what the situation is," said WNEW-TV general manager Bennett Korn. "We don't believe in prejudging a man. On the other hand, we don't intend to be soft or ostrich-like in our decision."

Freed was not available for comment.

The payola probe drew comment from Federal Communications Commissioner Robert E. Lee, who spoke at a breakfast here Sunday. Lee said payola disc jockeys might cause their stations to lose their licenses.

"Irrespective of the licensee having knowledge of the same, the violation exists and, depending on the circumstances at attendant on each case, jeopardizes the license in question," Lee said.

He again called for a law to protect the public from TV frauds.

TIME, NBC SPAT

Meanwhile, top officials of the National Broadcasting Co. and Time, Inc., collided over the TV quiz show fixes.

A Time magazine article Nov. 16 accused the networks of ignoring a story in a 1957 issue of Time which hinted some quiz shows were rigged. NBC Board Chairman Robert W. Sarnoff Sunday retorted that several Time-owned stations also ignored the article.

Weston C. Pullen Jr., vice president for broadcasting of Time, Inc., promptly conceded that Time, Inc., should have dropped the quiz shows from its stations.

"I regret that we did not," said Pullen. "Like Mr. Sarnoff and others, we learned a lesson."

Time, Inc., owns four television stations—KLTZ-TV, Denver, a Columbia Broadcasting System affiliate; WCTN-TV, Minneapolis, an American Broadcasting Co. affiliate; WFBN-TV, Indianapolis, an NBC affiliate; and WOOD, Grand Rapids, Mich., affiliated with both NBC and ABC. Time recently sold KTVT, Salt Lake City, to Columbia Pictures.

Pilot Lands Quickly, Then Loses Plane

A Lathrup Village pilot plunked his plane down in a hurry and then couldn't find it later.

The single-engine craft was right where he'd left it—flipped over and half submerged in a marsh near Prudenville. The pilot, Charles G. Paluska, discovered it later.

Paluska, 23, of 27362 Morning-side Rd., was flying from Detroit to Traverse City Sunday when he heard a icy conditions and poor visibility.

He decided to land in what he thought was a smooth green meadow below. It turned out to be a marsh instead.

Now Paluska will have to either dismantle the craft to carry it out of the swamp or put pontoons on it and pull it to open water after flipping it rightside up.

10 Are Killed on Highways; 2 Hunters Shot

6 Young Boys Drown, 51 Persons Routed in Pair of Fires

Violent death stalked Michigan's highways, waterways and woods over the weekend.

Among 10 persons killed in traffic accidents was a 14-year-old Orion Township girl, who died this morning from injuries. She was in a head-on collision which killed a Flint woman Sunday south of Fenton.

Two hunters were shot to death accidentally six young boys drowned and 51 persons—40 of them children—narrowly escaped death in separate fires at Flint and Port Huron.

Georganna Matteson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Matteson of 4316 Lakeside Dr., Orion Township, died shortly after 3 a.m. at McLaren Hospital, Flint.

Matteson, 28, one of the drivers, was reported in fair condition.

A son, Charles, 16, was admitted with serious injuries, said State Police at the Brighton Post.

Killed instantly in the collision on U.S. 23 in Livingston County was Mrs. Reba M. Allard, 54, of Flint. She was in a car driven by her husband, Charles, 63, who was admitted to Flint Hurley Hospital, Flint.

The hunter deaths brought to six the number of persons who have died by gunshot in the state's nine-day deer season. In addition, 12 hunters have suffered fatal heart attacks, five have been asphyxiated and one died of an undetermined cause.

Eleven youngsters fled from their home at Port Huron when a fire broke out. At Flint, 46 persons, 29 of them youngsters, fled from a burning three-story apartment.

Three youngsters drowned when they plunged through ice on a pond near St. Joseph. Another boy fell into the Black River near his South Haven home while playing and drowned.

The body of one of two Saginaw brothers who disappeared from home Friday night was found in the Saginaw River and police feared his brother suffered the same fate.

Another boy drowned when he fell through ice on a lake near his home northeast of Grand Rapids.

The St. Joseph trio drowned Saturday night when a makeshift raft plunged through ice on a frozen pond near St. Joseph Saturday.

Berrien County sheriff's deputies identified the boys as Dale Schultz, 9, his brother Anthony, 7, and Ricky Rogers, 11. They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers.

The bodies of the boys were found beneath the raft in 20 feet of water.

The body of Walter Stockford, 13, one of two Saginaw brothers missing from home since Friday, was recovered Sunday from the Saginaw River. Police feared his brother Terry, 12, also was drowned, and they planned continued dragging operations.

Runs 20 Miles in Britain's Off-Beat Craze

LONDON (UPI)—A 56-year-old woman who says she ran 20 miles carrying a turtle and a hot water bottle headed up the latest lot of "marching champions" today in Britain's new off-beat craze.

Dr. Barbara Moore, who lives on fruit juice and herbs, claimed the record time of 28 hours and 39 minutes Sunday to cover 110 miles with her feet wrapped in burlap bags.

Dr. Moore's stunt was the newest feat in marching craze set off two weeks ago to see who could cover 110 miles the fastest on foot.

But there was some doubt about Dr. Moore's record. Witnesses said she was last seen trotting through St. Albans, 20 miles from London, around tea time carrying her pet turtle kept warm by a hot water bottle.

Seeking Pontiac Convict After Pair Flee in Car

Escaped convict Paul McDonald voluntarily surrendered to Pontiac Police late this morning after his pal, Eugene Hobart, was seized in a Detroit bar. McDonald was being held for Jackson Prison Authorities at Oakland County Jail.

A three-state police alert was in effect today for two Jackson Prison trustees—one from Pontiac, the other Detroit—who overpowered a guard and driver and escaped in a prison car.

Sought are Paul McDonald, 33, a Pontiac man with a long criminal record, and Eugene Hobart, 44, a Detroit gunman sentenced as an habitual criminal.

Prison officials said the two convicts were riding in the car when they made their break yesterday.

The pair was working on a Christmas project at the prison which required them to take photographs at several prison farms a few miles outside the walls.

Authorities said the two men were on their way from one farm to another when they pulled knives on the guard, Kenneth Grow, and the driver, Leon Thompson, another trustee.

They forced Grow and Thompson out of the car and tied them to trees, then drove off in the car, state police said.

Although the car was easily identifiable as a state-owned vehicle, road blocks set up in the Jackson area yesterday afternoon and evening failed to spot it.

McDonald was serving a 2½-15 year term for entering without breaking. He was sentenced last August from Tuscola County Circuit Court.

A native of Pontiac, McDonald had been sentenced three times previously in Oakland County Circuit Court.

In 1949, he was placed on one-year probation here for grand larceny. Two years later, he was sentenced to 2½-10 years in Jackson for assault with intent to rape.

Paroled in 1953, McDonald was sentenced to Jackson again in 1957, this time a 2½-15 year term for breaking and entering. He was paroled in March of this year, only to be convicted again five months later in Tuscola County.

In 1947, MacDonald was placed on three year's probation in Los Angeles for assault with intent to kill. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Fireman Faces Closed Hearing

Lt. Raymond R. Fay's Job Under Discussion at 7:30 Tonight

The job of a Pontiac Fire Department lieutenant will be at stake when the Civil Service Commission meets tonight to consider dismissal charges against the officer, Lt. Raymond R. Fay.

A veteran of 13 years with the department, Fay, 35, is charged with conduct unbecoming an officer in "failing to maintain good behavior and giving the department unfavorable publicity."

Charges against Fay, who faces examination on a felonious assault charge in Orion Township Justice Court Nov. 1 were prepared by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman and Fire Chief James E. White. They were submitted by city manager Walter K. Willman.

Fay has asked for a closed hearing before the three-man commission. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

The officer was arrested Nov. 6 after he allegedly went to the home of William H. Whitmire, 19, of 3715 Grafton St., Orion Township, armed with a shotgun.

He had demanded to see Whitmire, cleared of complicity in the knife-slashing of a Pontiac man, Louis Vanivelt, 26, in a tavern brawl.

Fay is a friend of Vanivelt. Whitmire's brother answered the door, and slammed it in the officer's face.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies arrested Fay when he lost control of his pickup truck near the Whitmire home and ran into a ditch.

He was suspended from the Fire Dept. Nov. 9 by White.

UPROAR AT CUBAN LABOR MEETING — A session of the National Labor Congress at Havana, Cuba, erupts in disorder as delegates mull about on the floor to protest delay in election of an executive committee. Sunday the Congress

River near his home. Police said he was standing on a concrete pier tossing stones when he tumbled into the water. His body was recovered. He was the son of Mrs. Peggy Harrington.

Eight-year-old Fred VanDriel drowned Saturday when he fell through a film of ice on Ratigan Lake near his farm home northeast of Grand Rapids. A sheriff's deputy recovered the body.

Fred, the youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. John VanDriel who operate a farm near the lake, walked out on the ice with a companion while on a "hunting" trip with BB guns, officers said. The companion, 9-year-old neighbor Bruce Biddinger, scrambled from the neck-deep water and ran to the VanDriel home for help.

In the hunting mishaps, Clifford Sanders, 30, of Albion, was shot in the back about 30 miles northwest of Baldwin, and Bernard A. Degris, 68, of Jackson, apparently shot himself in the head while hunting five miles north of Jackson.

John Green, 31, of Grand Rapids, was quoted by Lake County sheriff's deputies as saying he heard Sanders moving in thick brush and fired, thinking he had heard a deer.

Twenty-one hunters have died of heart attacks and five have perished by asphyxiation from gas heaters in their trailers since the season opened Nov. 15.

Near Flint, the 40 persons, including 20 children, were evacuated from a burning three-story apartment house in suburban Burton Township. The brick and frame structure was destroyed, firemen said. Fire started when grease on a stove caught fire and spread, shooting flames 100 feet into the air.

At Port Huron, the 11 children fled their home when a fire broke out in a second-floor bedroom. Police said the children's mother, Mrs. S. F. Petosky, was not at home and their father was believed working in Chicago.

Firemen said the fire damaged the second floor of the house. The cause was not determined.

Five Missing in Hotel Blaze

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Fire raged for four hours in the Arion Hotel today and five persons were reported missing.

It was the second Peoria hotel fire in 24 hours and arson was suspected in both.

Authorities said two or three persons leaped to safety from upstairs rooms in the Arion and other residents made their way through the burning building to safety.

Ronald Peyton, a bartender in a nearby tavern, told authorities he heard an explosion and rushed out to find the hotel ablaze. Peyton said he smelled kerosene.

Two taxi drivers also told authorities they had detected kerosene fumes at the scene.

Mrs. Betty Woodrum, a resident of the Arion, said she had left her four-month-old child inside the building in the care of another woman. The child was among the persons missing.

Earlier fire destroyed the Parkway Arms Hotel, which had been converted from a hospital.

Gasoline tins and steel drums containing flammable fluid were found inside the building. It was planned to open for Negro residents in a fringe area not yet settled by Negroes.

Fire Destroys Barn in Springfield Township

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — A large barn was destroyed here last night by fire, leaving only the silo standing.

Township Fire Chief Charles Hillman said that the barn was nearly gone by the time the fire department arrived, and the only thing that could be done was to see that sparks didn't ignite the home of the owner, Thomas Graves, 10655 Rattale Lake Rd.

Hillman said that the fire, fed by hay stored in the barn, caused damage estimated at $3,500.

Romney Assists Building County Citizens Group

Citizens for Michigan founder George Romney tonight will help lay the groundwork for an Oakland County regional committee of his group in a meeting at Birmingham Community House.

Romney, of Bloomfield Hills, will speak briefly to a steering committee of the recently appointed Oakland group, after which plans on how to build up membership will be discussed.

"We want to cover all facets of the county in our membership," said Murray D. Van Wagoner, Romney's choice as chairman of the Oakland committee.

"Our objective will be to get a cross-section of the entire county—members who can contribute to this organization aimed at making Michigan a better place to live in."

Van Wagoner said there would be a general meeting scheduled sometime in December at which time all interested persons are invited.

Tonight's meeting, the chairman said, is more for organizational purposes. It will begin at 7:30.

President of Philippines to Honor Mrs. Murphy

BIRMINGHAM — University of Michigan Regent Mrs. Irene E. Murphy, 444 Bonnie Briar Rd., will be honored Dec. 4 in Manila by Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia for her work in starting the Community Chest there.

Mrs. Murphy, who will not arrive in Manila until a week after the formal presentation, has sent a letter of acceptance of the presidential award to be read on that day.

Mrs. Murphy will leave Detroit Sunday to travel to Tokyo, Manila, Hong Kong, Bangkok, New Delhi, Beirut, Athens and return to New York Jan. 24.

Her visit to Bangkok will be for an official inspection of the University of Michigan's English Language Institute project there which is under contract with the International Cooperation Administration.

The first part of her trip will be undertaken by her personally. She will follow up the work she did in community development for the United Nations from 1949 to 1951.

Mrs. Murphy's trip will also include meetings with University of Michigan clubs in Manila and Taipei, Formosa.

City Manager L. R. Gare will recommend to the City Commission at its regular meeting tonight that alleys on either side of Woodward avenue from Lincoln avenue to 14-mile road be paved, and the business property fronting them be assessed the cost of the improvement.

He said during the past several years, numerous complaints have been received by the city on both the appearance and conditions of the alleys.

"Normally, where an alley abuts business property on one side and residential property on the opposite side, the procedure is to place that portion of the assessment, not carried by the city, against the business property, and place no assessment against the residential property," Gare said.

"To my knowledge, this is the way previous assessments within the city have been made and I feel it is equitable."

Classes are held on the second floor of the Birmingham Community House.

class leaders and residents of Birmingham, will participate in a three-way conversation on impressions they received while visiting Russia last summer.

Mrs. Shain said the public is invited with no admission charge.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Ernest J. Robinson, Birmingham and Mrs. Clarence Wright, Pontiac; two grandchildren; a great-grandchild; and a sister, Mrs. Louis Wellingham of Essex, England.

Faucet Shuts Off on Hawaii's Fiery Kilauea Volcano

HONOLULU (AP) — Like a giant faucet turned by an invisible hand, spectacular Kilauea volcano has abruptly ceased flowing.

Activity stopped Saturday night after a week of natural fireworks in which a fiery fountain of lava spouted to heights of more than 1,200 feet.

Volcanologist Jerry Eaton could offer no explanation for the sudden halt in the eruption which attracted thousands of sightseers.

Lava still flowed close to the surface yesterday but the possibility of a renewed eruption narrowed by the hour, Eaton added.

He said it would take decades for the 100-acre lava bed to cool.

Hart Favors Laws
Against Influencers

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) said today Congress should try to work-out legislation that will put to rest any public concern about back door approaches to federal regulatory agencies.

Hart is acting chairman of a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee which is conducting hearings on a bill to outlaw undisclosed attempts to influence decisions by such agencies.

The bill was introduced at the request of the American Bar Assn. and was the outgrowth of a House investigation last year. Its ban would apply to members of Congress as well as anyone else.

UCLA Repays
Mice With 'C' in Doughnut

LOS ANGELES (U) — Bill Hughes thought he'd do something nice for his school, the University of Southern California.

So Friday he painted 200 mice red and gold — USC's colors — and set them loose in the UCLA library.

He sat back and watched the coeds scream.

Now it so happens that UCLA and USC, traditional rivals, clash in their annual football game today. And things like this happen during the week of Los Angeles' big game.

To show their hearts were in the right place, the members of UCLA's School Spirit Club, Kelps, reciprocated.

They caught Hughes after he released the mice and carted him off to a fraternity house.

Hughes punishment: his scalp was shaved in the shape of a doughnut.

And in the middle, the Kelps painted a blue C for California. Blue is UCLA's color.

Official state flower of Indiana is the zinnia.

Snakes to the Irish?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Officials of the Washington Zoo admit they don't know what St. Patrick would think of their latest project. The Washington Zoo has a surplus of snakes, and is shipping the extra reptiles to the Dublin, Ireland zoo.

Wants AFL-CIO to Aid Steel Men

Donald C. Rarick Plans to Write Meany for New Strike Fund Help

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP)—Donald C. Rarick, who in the past has found fault with United Steelworkers' leadership, said today the AFL-CIO should set up a fund to assist steelworkers if they strike again.

Rarick gained prominence in 1957 when he unsuccessfully opposed USW President David J. McDonald's bid for re-election. He also headed a dues protest committee that fought against an increase in the USW membership dues.

Rarick, now president of the USW local at U.S. Steel Corp.'s Irvin Works in McKeesport, said he plans to write to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO and recommend that a strike fund be formed immediately.

"McDonald has my full support in the USW effort to win a new labor contract with the steel industry," Rarick said, referring to a 116-day strike that was halted Nov. 7 by a Taft-Hartley injunction.

"As conditions now stand there seems no other course but to renew the strike when the injunction expires Jan. 26," he added. "But the AFL-CIO should bear some of the burden and aid the steelworkers if the strike is renewed."

Rarick said he plans to ask Meany to make plans for establishment of a strike fund which would guarantee steelworkers some weekly income if the strike is renewed.

NEW YORK — An average telephone central office requires as much as 150,000 feet of cable, and each cable may contain from six to 312 units to provide for necessary service connections.

Finally Crack Fake; Who Loses?

Liked the Army so Well He Stayed After Discharge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pvt. Lemuel King liked the Army after 14 years, and when he was discharged in 1958 for misconduct, he just didn't want to leave. So he stayed.

His story is told in records of the U.S. Court of Military Appeals here.

When King was ordered discharged, a friend at the Army Training Center at Ft. Ord, Calif., fixed him up with fake orders assigning him to active duty in Germany. The friend also made him a sergeant 1st class.

King, 38, of Seaside, Calif., traveled to Ft. Dix, N. J., drawing $194 in travel pay. From there he was shipped to Frankfurt, Germany, and made a food supervisor.

For five months King drew a sergeant's pay and quarter's allowance. There was no KP. Then he went AWOL, was picked up and the story came out.

He was court martialed and sentenced to dishonorable discharge and one year hard labor at the U. S. disciplinary barracks at Lompoc, Calif.

But King wrote the judge advocate general of the Army here protesting that he was a civilian — he was discharged back in 1958 — and civilians can't be court martialed.

The Army said he placed himself under military justice by "effect-

Jackson-Bay City Run Thing of Past by Rail

LANSING — The New York Central Railroad has been authorized to abandon its two daily Bee-Line passenger train runs between Jackson and Bay City.

The State Public Service Commission sanctioned the end of the runs as of Dec. 24 after the railroad cited declining patronage and revenue.

The Bee-Liners had also been making regularly scheduled stops at Lansing, Saginaw and Owosso.

New Graduate Level Approved for MSU

EAST LANSING — A new graduate program between the master's and doctoral level has been approved by the Board of Trustees at Michigan State University.

MSU President John A. Hannah said the program was aimed at students who wish to obtain proficiency beyond a master's degree but who do not necessarily plan to complete a doctoral degree.

The experimental plan will offer a diploma for "advanced graduate study."

Provost Paul Miller said only a small enrollment is expected in the program which is not widespread among the nation's universities.

Miller figured the most interest in the program would be drawn from teacher education and possibly some industrial fields.

Cornell University's forestry school was the first of its kind in the United States.

Truck Light Ordinance May Not Affect Tourists

DETROIT — The Automobile Club of Michigan says it has been told that Tennessee does not plan to enforce a state law requiring special lighting for extra-wide cars driven by motorists from other states.

Jerry Fisher, the club's touring manager, said he had been informed that Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington said "the highway patrol will not enforce the over-width car law on tourists."

Picks a Perfect Alley to Bowl 300 Game

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Roland Thompson earned $1,000 by being at the right place when he bowled his 300 game.

The 25-year-old kegler turned in his perfect score at an alley that pays off on 300-games in open as well as league competition.

Businessman Springs Stripper From Jail

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Stripper Candy Barr was free today on $5,000 bond posted by a Las Vegas businessman in five $1,000 bills.

Miss Barr was jailed last Friday when the attorney for her former boyfriend, pudgy ex-gambler Mickey Cohen, withdrew a bond on a Texas narcotics conviction.

Cohen claimed he had nothing to do with withdrawal of the bond and said he was trying to have it reinstated.

Las Vegas businessman Max Chasen posted the money for Miss Barr's bail Saturday, but he refused to say what his connection with the shapely dancer was.

Miss Barr returned immediately to the El Rancho Hotel here to perform her three-times nightly act. She is awaiting outcome of an appeal to her conviction of illegal possession of narcotics in Texas two years ago. She faces a 15-year prison sentence.

Castro Grabs Funds of Catholic Church

BOSTON (UPI) — Catholics in Latin America have been dealt a hard blow with impounding of "funds of the church" by the regime of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston warns.

"The Castro government has impounded the funds of the church, in effect closing the seminaries and missions, for lack of funds," the prelate said in an extemporaneous speech before parishioners of St. Andrew the Apostle Church at a Holy Name Communion breakfast yesterday.

He said that from observation of news reports, Castro's administration seemed sympathetic toward communism.

"The church in Cuba today is a silent church," he said. That designation usually is used by the Catholic hierarchy in describing the church's lack of activity behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

In the address, Cardinal Cushing did not mention the amount of church funds impounded in Cuba nor how it was done.

'Rolling in Wealth'

Japanese and Chinese ladies judged wealth by the amount of hair rolls on a lady's head. Their hair was dressed every morning by slaves who pinned up each large curl with long jeweled pins — then painted the whole head with lacquer to hold the curls in place.

From the fall and winter 1959 collection of Susy Perette — this dress of softly molded beige jersey with a tightly fitting midriff in stitch detailing that curves upward beneath a gathered top with wide-cuffed three-quarter sleeves.

Self-Dissatisfaction Source of Nagging

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

On Saturday morning as she hauls the vacuum cleaner from one plug to another one, Amy's mother pauses only long enough to call upstairs: "Why's the piano all messed up with your music again? You didn't practice yesterday. I don't know why we go on paying for lessons."

"And what about that torn sheet? Did you put it in the hamper for me to find as well as mend when I get a minute's breath?"

Sometimes this nagging produces results, but only after prolonged resistance when Amy finally comes downstairs to pick up her music in sullen and resentful silence.

Yet the pressure mother puts on Amy is swan's-down to the kind mother puts on herself.

As she piles the vacuum cleaner, her conscience hounds her far more remorselessly than she nags Amy. Though she's expending all the strength she's got, it demands more, whispering:

"You'd better get at that tear in the bathroom curtain or it will go to pieces in the laundry. Why didn't you keep your promise to get that cake to the church bazaar last night? And you forgot to tell the cleaner about the stain on Bill's coat-sleeve, too. Bill will be mad if he misses it."

"Boy, what a mess you are! You don't do anything right. Your children don't like you; and as to Bill—well, who knows about that?"

Yes, the nagging we deliver to children is simply an overflow of the persistent self-nagging that goes on in ourselves.

So, if children accuse us of nagging them, we are stupid to respond with indignation. We need this accusation to become aware of our unending demand for bigger and better performance from ourselves.

With this awareness we are ready to ask ourselves, "Why am I never satisfied with myself and what I do?"

We're not born nagging. We are made into naggers by childhood association with authorities who, instead of being content with what we were, constantly complained that we ought to do better. After a while our conscience took over for them; and in their behalf continues to urge their dissatisfaction upon us.

If you don't believe me, just check yourself when you start nagging your youngsters. The probability is, you'll find your self-dissatisfaction is reaching one of its periodic climaxes.

Around the World With 2,000 Earrings

By ELIZABETH ASHLEY

The Valdosta (Ga.) Times VALDOSTA, Ga., (AP) — Tibet and Nepal have something unusual in common.

They are the only two countries in the world not represented in an earring collection owned by Mrs. Alice Lindsey, wife of an Air Force colonel.

Mrs. Lindsey says her collection consists of more than 2,000 pairs, most of them gifts from friends who travel. Several sets were contributed by governments who wanted to be represented.

In her 20 years of collecting earrings, Mrs. Lindsey says she lost only one pair — one of her most precious. They were made from a pair of onyx rings given to Mrs. Lindsey by her mother, Mrs. H. S. Young of Nashville, Ga.

The earring collection is mounted on four boards 5 feet long and 2½ feet wide. She uses one for each season to decorate her bedroom wall.

In her collection is a pair of tiny compasses set in silver. They came from the Sahara desert where such earrings were worn singly by women of the Bedouin Tribe as a wedding gift from their nomad husbands.

From the princess of the Tas Indian Tribe came a pair of tiny silver bell earrings. They are presented by the daughter-in-law to her mother-in-law and warn when the mother-in-law is coming.

A pair of small ermine mice earrings was contributed by Lichenstein, smallest country in Europe. When worn by women of that country, they signify that the husband is away, carrying out the old proverb, "When the cat is away the mice will play."

Mrs. Lindsey's collection contains a pair of rice bell earrings from Latvia. The clear crystal balls are set in gold and contain grains of rice. When worn they denote that wedding vows have been taken.

One of the loveliest pairs came from Formosa. Legend has it that when the engagement of a daughter is announced, the most talented member of the groom's family carves in pearl the image of the groom-to-be. The earrings are given to the bride by his parents to be worn on their wedding day.

Some represent typical international and American holidays — clocks for the New Year and hearts for Valentine's Day.

TENDER MOMENT — Millie Perkins, as Anne Frank, and Richard Beymer find a rare, solitary moment together in the first flush of young love in "The Diary of Anne Frank," now playing at the Oakland Theater. The story relates the last two years of the young girl's life spent hiding with her family in an attic to escape the Nazis during the invasion of the Netherlands.

Thieves Know Why Cars Don't Start

Four brand-new cars on the storage lot of Jerome Motor Sales Co. wouldn't start Saturday. It wasn't surprising.

Overnight, thieves had stripped the cars of four batteries, two carburetors, four sets of ignition wires and a generator.

The total value of the stolen parts was estimated at $373. The lot is next to 263 S. Parke St.

Motorist Is Released From St. Joseph Mercy

Whitman had stopped for a left turn. The accident occurred at 5:56 p.m. near 543 S. Saginaw St.

Hollywood Headlines

Barbara Nichols Upset: 'No One Sees Movies'

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Shapely Barbara Nichols, one of the more successful movie actresses, means that "no one sees movies any more."

The Long Island-born blonde came here several years ago for a movie role for Warner Bros. and has appeared in "Pal Joey," "Sweet Smell of Success," "Who Was That Lady?" and "That Kind of Woman." She had stand-out parts in those and other movies.

"But I never got much reaction from them," she says. "Nothing like I get from television."

She says the bulk of her fan mail comes from such TV performances as the stripper on "The Untouchables" and appearances with Jack Benny.

BENNY'S 'GIRL FRIEND'

She has been cast as Benny's girl friend, Mildred Meyerhouser, in several of the comic's TV shows.

"I've got my agents looking for a TV series for me," says voluptuous Barbara. "That's the only way to get famous these days."

She had a hard time convincing Benny she was right for him. "You're too beautiful to be my girl friend," said Benny. "No one would believe it."

Barbara got the part when she answered: "You should see some of the guys I've been out with."

But her observation on the plight of the movies accents the findings of this reporter on a cross-country motor trip earlier this year. One wonders how movies make any money. Most people questioned said they averaged one or two movies a year. Only teen-agers, it appeared, were regular moviegoers.

One major producer sums up the situation this way:

MOOLA FROM ABROAD

"The bulk of the money now on a movie comes from Europe and Asia, where we don't have the television competition we have in this country."

"About 55 per cent of the returns on a major movie nowadays comes from abroad. Most of the rest comes from first runs in major key cities of the United States."

"That's why a movie that used to cost 50 cents before the war may now cost $3. We're making fewer and better movies now, and I guess you might say fewer and richer people are seeing them."

BARBARA NICHOLS

Are You Insured for One Million?

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—An insurance company reports that its average "life insurance millionaire" is a man 44 years old with a wife and children and a good job as a business executive.

Massachusetts Mutual Life studied the background of its 28 policyholders whose life is insured for $1,000,000 or more. Ages range from 31 to 58, all but three are men, and more than half are involved in manufacturing, finance, investment or real estate.

Two of the women are housewives with business interests, and the third is an executive in a business firm.

Massachusetts Tech Likes Automation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—In just 200 hours, a whirlwind computer has completed 76 complex and voluminous calculations which would have taken hundreds of years using pencil and paper.

The data were processed through a computer at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to obtain a better understanding of the so-called "iron series elements" in atomic research.

A long ton weighs 240 pounds more than a short ton.

But for a Few Weeks Only

U. S. Certain to Extend Present Ban on N-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, now seems certain to order an extension of the U.S. ban on nuclear weapons tests—but for a few weeks only. Further extensions could follow.

Administration leaders are prepared to go along with a United Nations resolution, adopted Saturday, opposing any resumption of nuclear tests during negotiations for a permanent, policed test ban.

But the negotiations themselves are expected to come to a climax at Geneva in the first half of 1960 and a breakdown of the conference, now more than a year old, would bring a quick resumption of underground nuclear test explosions by the United States.

Eisenhower already has extended for two months—until Dec. 31—the one-year U.S. respite he originally put into effect at the end of October 1958. He thus has more than a month during which he can act to keep the ban in effect.

One tactical objective of the administration at the present time is to try to maintain the pressure on the Soviet government to keep the Geneva negotiations moving along.

The latest word on administration thinking came Sunday night from Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission in a television interview (NBC-Meet the Press).

Opposing any prolonged extension on the present test ban, he said any such action should be taken on a week-to-week basis.

McCone also told his questioners that he thought a Soviet suggestion for joint U.S.-Soviet construction and operation of a gigantic atom smasher for nuclear research was "well worth studying."

Other countries might want to join in such a cooperative enterprise, he said, agreeing, as a Soviet atomic leader suggested last week, that there is need for only one super atom smasher.

The United States and the Soviet Union announced a new two-year cultural, technical, scientific and educational exchange agreement in Moscow Saturday. They pledged themselves to study the possibility of cooperative enterprises in the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Conscience Clear: Pays 63-Year Debt

CARBON HILL, Ala. (AP)—H. D. Deavours still hasn't paid his 63-year-old debt to the Frisco Railroad, but he has a clear conscience nowadays.

Deavours, 81, dropped by the Frisco office and offered $1 to make up for the 35-cent fare he escaped paying by hiding in the wash room on a run from Carbon Hill to Glen Allen, Ala., in 1896.

Frisco Agent W. H. Byrd took the dollar bill, then gave Deavours another one in return, and called it even.

Nebraska's 'Navy' Now Fully Insured

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska's mythical navy, manned by nothing but admirals, is now insured against sinking, collision, fallout, icebergs and stray whales.

The insurance policy, 2 by 4 feet, was presented to Gov. Ralph Brooks by the Nebraska insurance industry.

Governors have been presenting "admiral" commissions to officials, friends, distinguished visitors and local heroes for the past 25 years.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—What may well be the biggest ashtray in town was emptied recently and a surprise lay at the bottom.

The ashtray is a hole in the center of heavily traveled Clayton road at equally busy Skinker boulevard.

For months motorists stopped at a traffic light whiled away the time by emptying their car ashtrays into it.

Director of Streets Henry S. Miller found out about the practice and ordered the hole cleaned out. At the bottom workmen found a manhole cover, which hadn't been raised when the street was resurfaced.

Orders to Clancy: Keep Away From TV

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—The doctor says Clancy MacGillicuddy has to cut down his television viewing time.

Clancy has returned home from the hospital and is convalescing from an operation for eye cataracts which the doctor said resulted from too much time in front of the TV set.

However, Clancy is permitted to watch his favorite program—"Lasie."

Clancy is a 3-year-old Dalmatian dog.

Top Pole Agent Quits Commies

Ousted AP Man Now Tells Story of Monat Fleeing to Vienna

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today that one of Communist Poland's top intelligence agents has fled Poland and reportedly turned himself over to U. S. representatives in Vienna.

A. M. Rosenthal, in a dispatch from Vienna, identified the Pole as Col. Pawel Monat, who was in charge of coordinating the works of Polish military attaches all over the world.

The newspaper said the defection "came last summer at a time when a crisis was brewing in Poland," adding: "It had political ramifications . . . a result of economic and political problems."

In Vienna, a spokesman at the U. S. Embassy told the Associated Press the embassy knew nothing about such a man but was investigating.

The Times story said: "It was one of the incidents that helped convince M. Gomułka (Poland's Communist chief) that Communist rule in Poland was crumbling because of a lack of 'discipline' and that tougher men and tougher ways were needed inside the Communist apparatus as much as outside it."

Rosenthal was expelled recently as Times correspondent in Poland. A foreign ministry official said at the time "that he had probed too deeply into the internal affairs of the country."

In his current story (Rosenthal said: "This reporter learned of the Monat story a couple of months ago. To have written it in Poland would have meant immediate expulsion and possibly arrest."

Nazism Alive in Germany

It Is Dying Slowly Among Young People but Time Helping

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Would it be better to have more Jews living in West Germany?

When this question was put to German youths between the ages of 18 and 29 in 1952, 16 per cent said "yes."

The same question asked of the same age group by the West German Research Institute in 1956 brought "yes" answers from 32 per cent.

In 1958, the same query drew a favorable response of 40 per cent. One of a series of surveys conducted by the institute from 1952 to 1959, the question concerning Jews provides an insight into the attitudes of West German youth toward Adolf Hitler's Nazi era.

While nostalgia for Nazism still exists, the passage of time tends to erode it among the young people of West Germany, the institute said.

In another pulse-taking on how much Nazism still beats in young German hearts, the poll takers in 1952 asked members of the 18-29 group:

"Who has done more for Germany: Bismarck, Hitler, Frederick the Great or Adenauer?"

Bismarck wound up in first place with 31 per cent, followed by Hitler with 10, Frederick also with 10 and Adenauer with 3. The remainder had no opinion.

By 1958, however, the influence of democracy had made itself felt. The standing now showed Adenauer first with 30 per cent, Bismarck second with 14, Hitler down to 4 per cent and Frederick with 3.

Nevertheless, Hitlerism dies hard in West Germany.

Migrant Worker in Need of Help

Improving His Situation to Aid Farm Economy, Claims Sec. Mitchell

CHICAGO (UPI)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said yesterday that the true solution to the migrant farm worker's dilemma is "the security of an adequate and stable income."

Mitchell, in a speech before the national conference to stabilize migrant labor, said many organized farm interests believe that action taken by the government to improve the welfare of migrants would have a telling effect upon the agricultural economy in general.

The organized farm employer's position, Mitchell said, is "that the national interest would be endangered by lifting the condition of the migrant since it would burden the agricultural economy."

He said, however, "that the migrant farm worker can never take his place as a partner in American life unless he enjoys the protection of a minimum wage of some kind — what kind I do not presently know, nor can I predict the amount that would be feasible. The Department of Labor is now studying the matter."

The migrant could be termed "the excluded American," he said, because he is one of the few American citizens without legal recourse.

Minimum wage laws, unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation, and state and local welfare laws which protect other American working people, do not protect the migrant worker, Mitchell said.

About 500,000 migratory workers have an average annual income of about $900, according to Mitchell.

This condition is in itself offensive to our national standards, he said. "But I do not think the American people are going to permit the condition of the migrant farm worker to be prolonged because of a resistance to change on the part of some farm employer associations."

"The American people are going to become impatient with continued resistance to needed change, and that change will come as surely as the sun will rise."

He Better Look Twice

MALINES, Belgium (UPI)—Barkeeper Henri Verbruggen began an expedition to deflate the tires on cars of motorists who refused to join a strike against a new gas tax. Police said they were preparing to deflate the tires of an automobile he had failed to recognize as a police car.

Declares No Plans to Drop DeSoto Line

"We have no plans to drop DeSoto," Byron J. Nichols, vice president, Automotive Sales, Chrysler Corp., declared Saturday. Public reception of the 1960 line has been exceptional, he stated and added: "Our order condition for DeSoto is excellent."

"Future plans for DeSoto," he said, "are continuing in line with our normal planning requirements for all lines of our cars."

Vandals Steal Nothing, Mess Up Vacant House

Vandals ransacked the home of a Brandon Township couple, overturning almost every item of furniture in the home but apparently stealing nothing, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Broken into was the home of Elwyn Yonkers, 5005 Hummer Lake Rd. Deputies found a stove, refrigerator, deep freeze, television set, and household furniture overturned, and several windows broken.

Walls and fixtures were also damaged by the culprits, said deputies. The Yonkers are living in Bradenton, Fla. for the winter.

Uncle Earl in Plenty of Hot Water

Louisiana to Vote Soon on Long

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—In less than two weeks the people of Louisiana will decide what to do with their Uncle Earl.

Gov. Earl K. Long is running for lieutenant governor in the Dec. 5 primary despite setbacks that would make most politicians look for a place to hide.

Long is running behind former Gov. James A. Noe, a millionaire who was possibly the best friend Huey Long, Earl's brother, ever had.

But Noe, who was governor by succession only for a few months, is given very little chance of being elected to the top spot.

But that doesn't mean that "Uncle Earl" can't win without him. Long says that he "doesn't want to be lieutenant governor under anybody but Noe, but he nastily adds that he would probably accept the post anyway."

However, things aren't going too well for "Uncle Earl," and the situation looks darker as the days roll on toward election time.

SLACK EYE FOR STATE

His antics in and out of two mental hospitals and across five other states last summer did little to endear him to many persons in Louisiana, who feel the state was given a black eye by the episode.

His political manipulations since then, such as waiting until the last moment to announce his decision to run for lieutenant governor after having campaigned for governor for months, may have confused much of his old-guard constituency.

He had a rendezvous in New Orleans with a red-haired stripper named Blaze Starr, something that didn't set too well with some of his country friends.

Then, Mrs. Ann Billings, whom he befriended while on his much-publicized vacation, got picked up on a moral charge in Memphis.

Long denied that he'd ever been alone with the woman, over the objections of reporters who knew better.

The governor seems to be getting a little surly as he comes back from his vacation. The recovery project is described as an important step in learning how to send a man into space in a satellite — and then bring him back safely to earth. Four previous recovery tries also failed.

The Discoverer VIII rocket will orbit perhaps two more months, spokesmen said. It was launched here Friday.

Williams Aide Quits to Teach in College

LANSING (AP)—Another of Gov. Williams' administrative team members announced his resignation today.

William R. Monat, 35, administrative aide to the governor since July 1957, quit to become an associate professor of political science and public administration at Pennsylvania State University. He will take over the post Feb. 1.

Monat, formerly on the faculty at Wayne State University, was the governor's liaison man in the areas of economic development, mental health, metropolitan area problems, the commission on Michigan's economic future, problems of the aging and water resources.

Only Paul W. Weber, Williams' press secretary, remains on the staff that came with the governor when he first took office in 1949.

W. B. Palmer to Handle Military Aid Program to Other Nations

From Our News wires

AUGUSTA, Ga. — President Eisenhower acted Saturday to give the Defense Department a more clearly defined role of responsibility for executing the military assistance program overseas.

He tapped four-star Gen. William M. Palmer to head the Pentagon's military aid program to other nations. He will operate on the same level as the military chiefs of staff.

This step, the White House said, carries out one of the recommendations of a committee which surveyed the military assistance program for Eisenhower. It was headed by businessman William H. Draper, a former general.

Palmer now is deputy commander in chief of the U. S. European Command. He is slated for retirement from the Army Nov. 30.

Wayne Hawks, acting White House press secretary, said he will be recalled to active duty to serve as director of military assistance in the office of the assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs.

The Draper committee had proposed that the military aid program be made part of the national defense system, with the State Department to retain responsibility for offering some advice and guidance.

Hawks said that Palmer will not serve as a member but will work closely with the Joint Chiefs of Staff and have the same sort of authority in his field that JCS members have in theirs.
