Red Chiefs Grimly Leave Meeting With Eden

$50,000 Fire Guts Store

Two Men Hurt Fighting Blaze Nearly 5 Hours

Believe Faulty Wiring in Waterford Township Building Cause

Faulty wiring was given as the probable cause by fire officials today for the $50,000 blaze which destroyed a building in Waterford Township last night.

Fire Chief Edward T. Smith and volunteer Everett Draker were injured in the blaze which gutted a combination grocery store, service station, apartment and garage. Five area township fire departments fought the flames.

The fire was under control two hours after it started at 8:45 but was not completely extinguished until 1:30 a.m. today.

Chief Smith had 14 stitches taken in a cut to his right hand, while Draker received an injured foot when struck by an overhead door in the garage.

Smith, who returned to fight the blaze after treatment, was hurt when he raised his hand to protect his face from flying glass.

Inability to find a water source hindered early operations of the firemen and they were forced to use tanks until a line was finally assembled.

The damaged building was located at Clintonville and Mann Roads. Firemen estimated the loss to the building at $35,000 and its contents at $15,000.

The blaze was said to have started in a small storage room adjoining the filling station. The structure is owned by John Svejcar. His son, John, Jr., operated the station. Bruno Wolosiewicz was the grocery store manager.

No one was at the scene at the time the fire started, according to the firemen. Nearby residents called in the alarm, they said. Traffic on the Clintonville Road was blocked for four hours.

Orders Appeal in Justice Case

Circuit Judge Holland Says Denial Would Be Loss of Rights

In a circuit court decision yesterday, the right of justices to decide whether violators convicted in their courts may appeal to circuit court was denied.

Southfield Township Justice Edward A. Elsarelli was ordered by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland to forward the appeal documents of 27-year-old Robert E. Paine, of Clawson, who pleaded guilty to drunk driving before Elsarelli March 26 and paid his fine of $100 with $50 costs.

Elsarelli also suspended Paine's driving privilege for a year.

Elsarelli, defended by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor, contended that state Supreme Court decisions had ruled out appeals after payment of the fine.

Judge Holland ruled that appeal from justice court is a constitutional right, and that denial of appeal below circuit court level would be depriving the defendant of his rights without due process of law.

Judge Holland also ruled that if a justice could deny appeal to circuit court, he would be depriving the court of its appellate jurisdiction and illegally enlarging his own jurisdiction.

Seek Passage of Soil Bank Bill

GOP Leaders to Push $1,200,000,000 Plan Within 24 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders decided at a White House conference today to seek passage of a $1,200,000,000 soil bank bill within the next 24 hours.

The GOP leaders said tax reduction also was discussed at their weekly meeting with President Eisenhower. They indicated the feeling was that prospects are dim for a tax cut even if the government winds up the fiscal year with a larger-than-expected two billion dollar surplus.

House GOP leader Martin (Mass), said he is "very hopeful and confident" Democrats will get behind the soil bank proposal which, among other things, would authorize the President to start making 500 million dollars in advance payments during this crop year to farmers who agree to participate in the program.

Martin said he was counting on support from some Democrats "knowing they want to help the farmer this year and not next year."

The Republicans said they will make their big push for the soil bank in the form they want by some parliamentary technique to produce a bill giving the President special authorization to launch the program.

The soil bank was in the general farm bill which Eisenhower vetoed on grounds of objections to its high price support features.

Service Awards Goes to Kyes

Quarles Says We Lead in Missiles Development

DETROIT (AP)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles says "we are technically ahead of the Soviets" in development of guided missiles and said that the United States is "putting top priority on the development of such weapons."

He discounted the London declaration of Russian leaders that the Soviets soon will have hydrogen-bomb guided missiles that can hit any point in the world, but added: "If it is true, it is a terrible warning to the free world."

"It all depends," he said at a news conference, "on Nikita Khrushchev's definition of 'soon' or a 'short time.'

"It probably comes down to translating the Russian.

"In a matter of time the Russians will have such weapons," he said, adding that similar announcements had been made in the past by Marshal Zhukov and others.

Speaking subsequently to a Michigan Aero Club dinner honoring Roger M. Kyes, a General Motors Corp. vice president and a former deputy secretary of defense, Quarles said that in this atomic age "treacherous evasion" of any disarmament agreement might be hard to discover, or if discovered, to counter.

While all efforts to ease world tensions and bring about a situation that permits disarmament must be continued, he said that "we must recognize, however, that the dangers in such a course are enormously greater that in the pre-atomic age."

Kyes, deputy secretary of defense from January 1953, to May 1954, was presented the Air Force Exceptional Service Award, its highest civilian decoration.

Kyes said in accepting that the nation should have a 137-wing Air Force, that it is essential that the next chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff be an Air Force man, and that the pay and pensions of Air Force personnel should be improved.

Guests included Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Kyes' former boss both in the Defense Department and at General Motors. Wilson quit as GM president to enter President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Kyes now has returned to GM as a vice president and group executive in charge of the Dayton household appliances and GMC Truck and Coach Division.

At his news conference Quarles showed no great concern about the squabble over selection of a jet fighter base in northern Michigan.

Two Baby Boys Die in Flint Trailer Fire

FLINT (AP) — Two baby sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb perished in a fire in their trailer home on the southern outskirts of Flint last night.

* * *

The victims were 18-months-old Charles Leon Webb and his 5-month-old brother, Lawrence.

The mother was visiting in an adjoining trailer on Fenton road when she noticed smoke pouring from her home. She dashed into the fiery trailer and carried out Lawrence. A neighbor brought out Charles Leon. Both were pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Firemen said defective wiring could have caused the blaze, but the cause was not fixed immediately.

The children's father, an auto factory employe, was at work at the time of the tragedy.

Dulles Warns NATO to Expand to Other Fields

Says to Enter Political, Economic Affairs or Risk Decline

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles declared today the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must enter political and economic affairs or risk a decline.

He said the military aspects of NATO will continue as a major factor for some time but that it is necessary now to expand into other fields.

Dulles also told a news conference that his proposal for expanding NATO was discussed with the permanent representative of the organization in Paris and was given a favorable hearing.

The secretary said he envisioned activities in which NATO would help countries outside Europe with both trade and aid.

Other points made by Dulles included:

1. The greatest single task of postwar statesmanship is to heal disunity which in the past has led to war among western nations.

2. The fact that a general war with Russia appears more remote now than it did a year ago represents a solid advance for the free world in the cold war.

3. Russia now appears more tolerant, more liberal and less fearsome than it did a year ago and that is a great victory in the cold war.

4. The State Department will protest to Russia if the current FBI investigation discloses that the Soviet delegate to the United Nations, Arkady Sobolev, acted improperly in persuading five Soviet seamen to drop their plea for political asylum and return to Russia.

5. The Russian hold satellite nations appears to have been weakened by Soviet acceptance of the Titoist idea that a nation can have a Communist government without being subservient to Moscow.

6. It is hoped that a new foreign aid plan can be made public within a few days.

7. There is no thought of inviting any of the Russian leaders, including Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, to the United States.

Big 'Weatherball' Flashes First Neon Forecast

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A large neon "weatherball" perched 200 feet above downtown St. Louis last night flashed its first forecasts over a 10-mile radius.

The sphere was a brilliant blue in its first showing, meaning "colder weather expected." It flashed on and off, indicating precipitation—rain, snow or hail, depending on the season. A red glow means warmer temperatures and green signals no change.

The device revolves atop the General American Life Insurance Co. building.

500 Farmers Cheer Martin During Fair Share Session

An estimated 500 farmers and their wives cheered Homer Martin, former president of the United Auto Workers union, last night in his effort to gain control of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. of dairy farmers at a South Lyon meeting.

The same group hooted Roland Brengle, Fair Share President, and Leo Kuhlman, named organizing agent in Martin's stead when the latter was fired by a majority of the Fair Share board of directors recently.

Martin was applauded in calling for an organization of dairy farmers independent of labor unions and politics.

Brengle, supporting a tie between Fair Share and the CIO, was forced to quit speaking after about 10 minutes by the cadence clapping of the audience.

Kuhlman was booed when he entered while Martin was speaking. Kuhlman said later an aggressive, militant organization was needed, not a divided one.

DENIES CIO CONTROL

He denied the Fair Share board of directors would give the CIO control of the organization, but he did say that CIO leader Gus Scholle had told the farmers they couldn't do a good job with Martin.

Again Kuhlman was booed, and he responded heatedly: "If you want Homer Martin, you can have him."

Martin, a Fair Share organizer and its advisor in a recent strike to force creameries into higher milk prices to farmers, called for a stronger farmer organization without union ties.

AVOID HATE ATTITUDE

He said he would like to see a policy of no union affiliation, but added that "we must avoid the hate labor attitude of some farm groups."

He advocated an organization controlled by farmers and "dedicated to the farm family and the family farm."

Martin was the first president of the United Auto Workers but was booted out in the CIO's intensive early-day campaigns to organize the industry as a whole quickly. He now is a part-time farmer, but owns no dairy cows.

Air Force Has Monster Plane

Boasts 100,000 Pound Load; Wingspan Wider Than Football Field

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)— The C133A, new sky giant with a wingspan 19 feet 8 inches wider than a football field, was flown yesterday for the first time.

The monster turboprop transport, built by Douglas Aircraft Co., flew here from Long Beach for further testing by the Air Force.

The C133A has about twice the payload capacty of the Military Air Transport Service's C124 Globemaster, now the biggest transport in active service. The new plane also was developed for MATS.

Douglas says a C133A can haul a 50,000-pound load 3,500 nautical miles or a 100,000-pound load shorter distances.

Primarily a freighter, it has a floor pattern that will permit installation of 200 seats. It could be used also as a hospital plane.

The C133A weighs 225,000 pounds and has four Pratt-Whitney T34 turboprop engines. The wingspan is 179 feet 8 inches, the fuselage 153 feet. The 48-foot tail is as high as a four-story building.

Supports Soviet Brag

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) disclosed today that secret testimony before Congress has supported Soviet claims that they are close to achieving intercontinental missiles with H-bomb warheads.

British Hopes for Agreement Becoming Dim

Khrushchev, Bulganin Look Almost Sullen as They Stalk Out

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist Party chief Nikita Khrushchev strode grimly from a crucial meeting today with Prime Minister Eden, amid plummeting hopes for any solid British-Soviet agreement on world issues.

Moments later the Soviet leaders postponed for 36 hours a news conference they had scheduled for tomorrow.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said he could not explain the reason.

With the Soviet-British talks in their final stage—this was the next to the last session—the Russian leaders looked almost sullen as they left No. 10 Downing St.

Eden did not come to the door of his official residence to see the Soviet leaders out.

Staring stolidly ahead, the Russians hurried to their waiting car to be driven to the House of Commons for a luncheon given by the Speaker.

British alarm and resentment mounted as a result of Khrushchev's two speeches yesterday in which he bragged about Soviet guided missiles with H-bomb warheads and talked tough to Labor leaders critical of Communist policies.

A Foreign Office statement said today's talk at Downing St. "reviewed the question of Anglo-Soviet trade and continued discussions of cultural exchanges and on the disarmament problem."

Indications were that Khrushchev and Bulganin ran up against a British stone wall on the trade and contacts phases of the talks.

British opposition to breaking down the Western embargo on selling strategic goods to Russia seems to have irritated Khrushchev and resulted in his new tough tone.

He seemed to approach the talks now with a chip-on-shoulder attitude.

Four Israelis Slain in Ambush

U.N. Truce Observers Hurry to Scene Near Jordan Border

JERUSALEM (AP)—Four Israelis were murdered in an ambush last night several hundred yards from the Israeli-Jordan border of the Negev Desert.

* * *

U.N. truce observers hurried to the scene today.

An Israeli army spokesman said the four men, employes of Israel's water authority, were traveling in a command car which was set afire.

The outbreak on the Jordan border raised new problems for U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in his mission to put an end to shooting incidents between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

* * *

Hammarskjold today was in Damascus trying to secure Syrian agreement to an unconditional cease-fire along the Syrian-Israeli frontier formed by the Jordan River and the Sea of Galilee.

Recent serious Arab - Israeli clashes have occurred along Israel's borders with Egypt and Syria. The frontier with Jordan has been generally quiet for months, and that with Lebanon even quieter.

Egypt and Israel agreed to observe an unconditional cease-fire last week. Lebanon subsequently promised to cooperate in reducing tension.

Civic Leaders, Young People Discuss Problems

"Youth and the Community" was the main topic last night when civic leaders joined with young people to discuss problems common to both of them.

The program was held at Congregation B'nai Israel and sponsored by the Adult Institute of the synagogue.

Speakers of the evening were Dr. James McHugh of Pontiac State Hospital; William Coulacos, director of the Pontiac Boys Club; the Rev. C. George Widdifield of All Saints Episcopal Church and Paul Sullivan, Pontiac School psychologist.

Morris Kampner, director of the Adult Institute of Congregation B'Nai Israel, opened and closed the meeting and Rabbi Henry Hoschander was moderator of the group which included six Pontiac teenagers.

First speaker was Dr. McHugh who chose the topic "Youth and the Family." He stressed the family's importance as a basic unit in society. "If the family is not strong, the community, the country is weak," he said.

Since they are neither children nor adults, adolescents must identify with some group so they identify with each other. It's their defense against loneliness and insecurity, he continued.

A teenager needs from his parents, Dr. McHugh continued, acceptance, approval, guidance, control, teaching and understanding.

He counseled parents to be interested and reasonable and to seek good advice when in difficulty.

Sullivan, next to speak to the approximately 100 present, spoke of "Youth in the Schools," and their patterns of behavior. He told how youths imitated teachers. Teachers served as models.

"Youth in indecision turns to the model he would most like to be like," Sullivan said. Each teacher appeals to a different student and well staffed school has all types of teachers in its employ, he continued.

Coulacos used his Boys Club experience to back up his topic of "Youth and Youth." Youth playing with other youth is the first real experience away from adult supervision, he said. "Youth is the battleground for growing up."

"A youth society is similar to an adult society," Coulacos said. "They differ only in the level of reasoning and maturity that underlies their existence."

He spoke of gangs and crowds and the need for approval and reassurance the teenage and adolescent youths need.

The way a young person solves a problem determines the type of person he will make when he is grown up, Coulacos continued. He will grow up well, if the adult influence (or parents) have done their job well, he said.

"Youth and Religion" was the topic of the Rev. Mr. Widdifield. He spoke of putting an adult in the place of a teenager, being born from 1935 to 1945 in radical unstable years where war, depression, inflation and threat of atomic war held full sway.

Shopping Center Plans Slowed

Confirmation of Sale Set Aside by Judge Upon Request

A $5,000,000 shopping center and residential community planned in Troy Township apparently suffered a setback yesterday afternoon in a Probate Court decision by Judge Arthur Moore.

Kaufman and Wolf Associates, Detroit developers and builders, announced April 5 they had purchased the 70-acre Louise Most estate at Livernois and Maple Roads for the center.

But estate administrator John Most told Judge Moore yesterday he didn't realize he had signed the sale documents. He said he thought bids would remain open for two more weeks after he signed April 2.

"I'm hard of hearing," Most explained.

Judge Moore set aside the court's confirmation of the sale, necessary because the estate still is in trust for Most and three other heirs.

Joe Bryant, Clawson realtor who negotiated the original purchase for Kaufman and Wolf, said today he had "no comment" on the decision. He declined to say whether his negotiations would be resumed.

Panel Discusses Problems of Youth

stand the insecurity of youth, the Rev. Mr. Widdifield said. Religion should give a security. Prove that life is rooted in something stable, permanent.

"Two basic questions always asked even though sometimes unspoken are origin, that is where do I come from and death or what becomes of me," he went on. "Religion must answer these questions of youth. There is a great potential danger in leaving them unanswered.

"The church and synagogue are better equipped to handle the questions than any other group," he said.

A summation of the speakers was given by Mayor William W. Donaldson who spoke of youth and their place in the community, what they could benefit from in the community and what they could give to the community.

He spoke of Pontiac, what has been done in the last 10 years and what remains to be done.

He counseled youth to be builders and not wreckers. "A man can't control his length of life, but he can control its breadth, depth and height," Donaldson concluded.

The last portion of the program featured questions from six local teenagers to the panel of speakers. Serving on the youth panel were Thomas Lufkin, St. Frederick High junior; Charles Williams, David Cartier and Leah Berg, Pontiac High juniors and Vickie Everett, and Kren Beam, Pontiac High seniors.

Questions and comments covered smoking, parental disapproval, and what Pontiac offers youth of today.

Quite a bit of discussion revolved around the question which concerned cliques and gangs, and "If you know a friend of yours is doing wrong, what should you do or tell him." Panel speakers agreed that the erring party must be told.

Marriage was another topic discussed, with a student asking if hurried marriages weren't the result of fear of not getting the right mate. Both the Rev. Mr. Widdifield and Dr. McHugh felt that a hurried marriage represented insecurity and inadequacy rather than inability to find the right mate.

Religion was another question, in the form of what to do if religion is "forced" on a teenager until he rebels. Ideas are right but the method is wrong, was the concensus of the panel.

Questions from the floor concerned discipline, working teenagers and driving habits of the teenage group.

Kampner's closing remarks thanked the panel members and the audience for being so "deeply concerned with the vital problem of youth today."

Three Oaks Girl Is Queen

Blossom Festival Ready — Just Needs Some Blossoms

By JIM SMALLEGAN

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Susan Camburn, an 18-year-old brown-eyed beauty from Three Oaks High School, today reigns as Miss Blossomtime over the 33rd annual Blossom Festival.

"Just think, there aren't any blossoms yet," beamed Suzie last night when she was chosen from 25 finalists. "But I don't care, there will be."

The event, followed by a coronation ball, kicked off one of Michigan's biggest annual celebrations—the coming of the rich western Michigan fruit belt season. Throngs will travel to this area to look at the awesome beauty of fruit tree blossoms between next Sunday and May 5—blossomtime.

Unseasonal cold weather has held the lid on the trees. "I almost froze riding in that convertible before the contest," said the 105-pound Susie whose measurements are 34-22-34.

Suzie, who plans to major in elementary education at Olivet College next fall, said she entered her first beauty contest, "because I wanted to see Three Oaks represented. Nobody ever told me I might win," she added.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Camburn. Her father is a bulk oil dealer.

More than 200 girls from Southwestern Michigan were originally in this largest of state beauty contests and the three judges sweated to find a winner. Beauty was everywhere.

The two runnersup were 17-year-old Ann Marie Boyce (Miss Dowagiac), who at one time thought she never again would walk following an auto accident which killed her sister; and 17-year-old Adele Mumford, Paw Paw High School senior, representing her home town.

When asked if she were interested in this year's Miss Michigan competition, Suzie said, "I don't think so. You have to have talent to win that. All I can do is stand on my head and water ski. And it's kind of tough water skiing on the stage of a theater."

The girls were judged on poise, beauty, carriage and general appearance. Most of them had all the requirements—it was just a matter of degree.

Unsafe Vehicles to Be Detected

One of Every Five Cars Needs Some Repairs, Says Drive Chairman

More than one driver in the May auto check will find out his car is not in safe operating condition, said Clyle R. Haskill, who heads the event.

He pointed to national figures last year which show that one out of every five cars checked last year were in need of maintenance attention.

Nearly one and a half million vehicles were checked in programs throughout the country, Haskill said.

The event will be sponsored here May 7 through 12 by the Chamber of Commerce safety committee, which Haskill heads.

During half-minute tests at five points in the city volunteers will check brakes, front lights, rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror and horn.

Traffic lanes will be set aside for the check, which is not compulsory, at these places, Haskill said: East boulevard S. between Auburn avenue and Whittemore street; N. Johnson avenue between State and Liberty streets; W. Montcalm street at Summitt avenue and W. Huron street at N. Saginaw street.

The committee is making plans to hold the fifth check on Orchard Lake avenue near Berwick boulevard, Haskell said.

Science Fiction Analysis Slated by Astronomer

An analysis of recent science fiction by an astronomer will highlight a program at the Cranbrook School auditorium Thursday evening at 8:15.

Professor Leo Goldberg, Chairman of the Department of Astronomy at the University of Michigan and Director of the U. of M. observatory will analyze science fiction at the program sponsored by the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Dr. Robert T. Hatt, Science Institute Director, announces the lecture is open to the public and is not illustrated.

Seek Young Teacher Missing Near Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Police searched today for a young Grand Marais school teacher reported missing since Sunday in an area 100 miles west of the Soo described as "one of the loneliest spots in the Upper Peninsula."

* * *

Sought is 21-year-old Patricia Burdick, missing en route to Grand Marais after a weekend visit with her mother, Mrs. Eva Burdick, at the Soo.

Police said the young teacher was last seen about 8:30 p. m. Sunday at the intersection of M28 and M77 in Seney, a tiny community in a sparsely populated area of swamps and forest 26 miles south of Grand Marais.

State Police and sheriff's deputies were augmented by conservation officers and a helicopter from Kinross Air Force Base in their hunt for the girl.

Racial Barriers Still Up in Southland

Desegregated Buses Open to Negroes for First Time

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Negroes rode desegregated buses for the first time in the cradle of the Confederacy today in the face of a stern warning from city officials to keep the racial barriers up.

Montgomery City Lines Inc., which operates the city's only bus service, abandoned the traditional segregation of white and Negro passengers in the wake of yesterday's Supreme Court ruling.

Only a relatively few Negroes who have boycotted the buses for nearly five months patronized them during the morning because word of the bus company's new policy didn't become known until late last night. Some of the drivers were unaware of it until they reported for work today.

* * *

Meanwhile, the future course of the boycott was undetermined, but the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., one of the leaders, expressed hope the end of segregation would terminate the long protest.

King said the decision will be left to the Montgomery Improvement Assn., an organization formed to support the boycott. The executive board was called to meet at 2 p.m (CST).

* * *

The Negro Baptist minister, who was convicted of violating Alabama's anti-boycott law for his part in the bus protest, said he didn't believe news of the end of segregation had spread enough to bring many Negroes back to riding the buses this morning.

The car pool which has provided transportation for Negroes throughout the boycott was still operating.

* * *

City officials who had insisted yesterday that segregation would be maintained despite the Supreme Court's decision, were unavailable for comment, but the City Commission was expected to meet this morning.

Neither was there any comment from the bus company, a subsidiary of National City Lines Inc., of Chicago. Manager J. H. Bagley was unavailable through the night after word spread that a desegregation order had been posted at the company office.

Arrest City Man in Breakin Count

Date in Circuit Court Set for Dale Richmond on Entering Charge

Arrest of a Pontiac man, 21, for breaking and entering has cleared up at least four other city burglaries and a wave of county crimes one night last month, Pontiac police claimed today.

They said Dale Richmond, 335 Voorheis Rd. claimed he was the chauffeur and received no loot in any of the crimes except the $85 breakin of a family garage April 6 with which he was charged.

Richmond waived examination and was bound over for arraignment next Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court. A bond of $2,000, set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, was posted, but the man was returned to jail for further investigation by other area detectives.

Det. Olin Hoffman said Richmond told of stealing a tool box, brief case, miscellaneous keys and a tire from the garage at 94 Dwight St.

His alleged partner in the other crimes last week began serving a 2½ to 15 years sentence in Southern Michigan State Prison. He is Donald H. Ritter, 27, of 12 Downing St., whom Royal Oak police charged with a gas station breakin.

Sheriff's detectives said the pair are credited with at least 12 breakins March 24, in which mostly cigarettes and change from vending machines were taken. That same night, Hoffman alleged, the pair was involved in burglaries at a drive-in at 910 Oakland Ave. and at the Eagles Hall, 280 W. Montcalm Ave., which gained them $85 and other change.

Hoffman stated the pair also netted $99 in the robbery March 19 of a gas station at 203 S. Telegraph Rd. and stole two auto wheels worth $75 during the first week of April.

Pan American to Offer Non-Stop Oceanic Trips

Non-stop trans-Atlantic flights between Detroit and London will be inaugurated June 1, officials of Pan American World Airways announced yesterday. The flights will leave from Wayne-Major Airport.

The use of Super 7 Clippers on the run is expected to reduce the flying time between the two cities from 13½ to 10½ hours, according to District Manager J. P. Smith Jr.

Although the airline has provided similar flights for the past two year variousr fueling stops have been made enroute.

Playing without its ace, Jack Reynolds, who is ill, Skippers were paced by Dale Wheeler's 38 (9 holes), John Wettlaufer's 43, Cleland Charbeneau's 44 and Bill Cumberworth's 47. Bishop, with 43 was Farmington's medalist. Waterford plays Royal Oak at Sylvan Glen Thursday.

Publishers Eye Rising Costs

Newspapers Must Face Challenge in Service to Reading Public

NEW YORK (AP) — How to cope with increased costs and yet produce better newspapers were chief topics of discussion at the opening today of the 70th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

More than 1,200 editors and publishers are attending the three-day convention in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

* * *

Richard W. Slocum of the Philadelphia Bulletin, ANPA president, told one of three discussion groups:

"The American press has served the nation well but each week brings new and increasing problems."

He said the cost of doing business continues an upward climb while the profit column "necessary to a sound future," shows a declining trend.

* * *

"Each week," he said, "shows more acutely the need for instituting every possible economy and shortcut conducive to continuing to publish a good newspaper and to serve the public—and that is what newspapers are for."

Slocum addressed a discussion group of publishers representing newspapers of more than 50,000 circulation. John W. Sweetenman of the Washington Post and Times-Herald presided.

Pioneer Auto Maker, W. S. Paterson, Dies

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Private funeral services were conducted here yesterday for William S. Paterson, former Flint, Mich., motor car manufacturer, who died Sunday at his Menlo Park home.

Interment will be in Glenwood Cemetery, Flint.

Paterson, 75, formerly operated the Paterson Motor Car Co. Flint. The company was sold some years ago to General Motors.

Paterson and his wife, Mary L., have been living in California since about 1940. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Arthur Pound, Flingerlands, N. Y.

E. M. Ford Skipper Admits Blame in St. Clair Crash

DETROIT (AP) — Captain Thompson Campbell says a jammed steering gear caused his freighter, the E. M. Ford, and the Steamer A. M. Byers to collide in the St. Clair River last Thursday.

* * *

The Byers, loaded with 9,800 tons of dolomite, sank and blocked Great Lakes shipping for 24 hours. At one time 50 vessels were tied up on either side of the wreck, but sufficiently wide and deep water was found to get around it.

Campbell, a 67-year-old Detroiter, told a Coast Guard Maritime Board of Inquiry the wheel stuck with the Ford's rudder heading it slightly to the left as he was about to pass the Byers.

Campbell said both ships were on normal course and had just exchanged routine passing signals, when he changed his course heading from 41 degrees to 48 degrees in accordance with the marked channel.

It was when he attempted to straighten the ship out on a 48-degree heading that he found the steering gear jammed, the skipper testified. He said he took the wheel from the wheelsman and tried to turn it both right and left, but it would not move in either direction.

* * *

Capt. Campbell referred to what he said was an engineer's report that the jamming was caused by a bar which had fallen into the steering gear, but the hearing didn't take up the report.

The Day in Birmingham

City Okays Assessments on Two Parking Districts

BIRMINGHAM — Assessments for two parking lots won City Commission approval last night, but those for the proposed lot at Brownell and Forest were set aside while property owners check land values.

Parking Lot 3-A, north of Hamilton, and Lot 3-HH at Hamilton and Hunter had their special assessment districts approved. The district for Parking Lot 4 will be presented again in two weeks.

Attorney Milton Mallender requested the postponement for his clients, Elliott Kinney, Mike Harbedian and Yah Tam.

A new mayor pro-tem was chosen at the meeting after commissioners accepted Charles Renfrew's resignation.

Renfrew, named recently to the city's retirement board, said he did not wish to carry both posts. Harry Denyes, in his second year on the Commission, is new mayor pro-tem.

Parking on West Maple will be brought up in two weeks, commissioners decided. The proposed ban on parking on one side of the street in the morning and the opposite side in the afternoon, had been tabled a month ago.

June 5 was set as date for balloting on the city's annexation of two properties from Troy City and Township.

Continued study of parking lot prospects in the northwest quadrant was ordered last night. Commissioners received promise of cooperation from officials of the Wabeek Corp. and Jacobson's in formulating a long range plan for either city or private lots.

Other action including rejection of all bids for the Adams Park subdivision lots, setting a road oil hearing in three weeks, approving change in the taxi and vehicle weight and load ordinances, and purchase of two police cars.

Peter Webster of Royal Oak paid a $100 fine after pleading guilty to a drunk driving charge in Justice Court last week.

Soviet Bosses Leave Vital British Meeting

Jews in Russia and the Red bloc nations.

Even the most leftist of the Socialists seemed shocked.

Informed opinion here traced Khrushchev's new tone to a combination of irritation over the cool reception he and Premier Bulganin have received and their failure to break down Britain's determination not to trade in strategic goods.

There had been reports that some progress was made on the Middle East problem but there appeared to be a deadlock in matters of trade and East-West contacts.

WEAR FIXED SMILES

Bulganin and Khrushchev wore fixed smiles as they left their hotel headquarters for the session with Eden. Their faces were puffy and they looked tired.

The smallest crowd of their visit watched them leave the hotel. It was grimly silent.

Moscow radio, meanwhile, bolstered speculation that the Soviet Union expects Britain to help the Russians make closer contact with the United States.

The Moscow broadcast quoted Khrushchev as contending that the Soviet government would like good, friendly relations with all powers, including the United States.

There have been reports here that Bulganin and Khrushchev are fishing for an invitation to visit the United States and are hoping the British might help them get it.

Eden was reported anxious to make clear Britain's determination to protect her Middle Eastern oil resources against any unprovoked attack. He was critical of the sale of Red Arms to Arab nations, charging it has spurred rising tensions in the area.

The informant said the Prime Minister already had stressed to the Soviet chiefs the determination of the Western Powers to intervene against any Middle Eastern aggressor if Russia by veto blocks U.N. action.

Associated Press Directors Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of The Associated Press have re-elected five directors and elected one new one at the AP's annual meeting.

The new director is Kenneth MacDonald of the Des Moines Tribune.

Those re-elected are Robert McLean, of the Philadelphia Bulletin, who also is president of The Associated Press; Paul Miller, Rochester (N.Y.) Democrat & Chronicle; Robert B. Choate, Boston Herald & Boston Sunday Herald; James M. North Jr., Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram; and Harry F. Byrd Jr., Winchester (Va.) Evening Star.

Results of the election at yesterday's meeting were tabulated and announced last night.

MacDonald replaced Norman Chandler of the Los Angeles Times who had held office for three consecutive terms. Associated Press bylaws provide that a director cannot hold office for more than three consecutive terms unless he also serves as president during his term.

Directors who continue in office by reason of their terms not having expired include Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher, Pontiac Press.

Son of Actor 'Serious' After Attempted Suicide

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Edward G. Robinson Jr., son of the actor, took an overdose of sleeping pills today but was saved from death.

Police said that young Robinson was rushed to Santa Monica Hospital and his stomach was pumped out. His condition was described as serious.

Roy Rogers Delays Trip Down Rivers

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Cowboy film star Roy Rogers today postponed for a week or 10 days the scheduled start of his trip down the Red and Mississippi Rivers in a small boat.

Rogers and his party, which is to include six two-man boats, planned to start the 1,000-mile trip from Denison, Tex., to New Orleans on Wednesday.

Rogers participated in a weekend San Pedro-to-Santa Catalina Island motorboat race which was marred by a shroud-like fog. A spokesman for Rogers said he still was on the island yesterday.

(The Pontiac Press will run a series on his trip when it starts.)

'Popularity Elections' Today in East, Alaska

WASHINGTON (INS)—Voters in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Alaska ballot today in three of the nation's least decisive presidential primaries.

* * *

Adlai E. Stevenson and President Eisenhower apparently stand to benefit most from the "popularity" scorings. Each is unopposed in Pennsylvania, which offers a fat bloc of 74 convention votes to the Democratic candidate and 70 to the Republican.

As a new resident of Pennsylvania, Eisenhower may turn out a big vote in the GOP side of the preferential primary.

Pennsylvania is important to Stevenson as a means of dramatizing his "sure" strength in delegates and to offset the drubbing he took from Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in the March 20 Minnesota primary. Kefauver's "upset victory there gave him 26 of Minnesota's 30 votes.

With Pennsylvania, Stevenson will have nailed down through primaries more than double the total votes Kefauver has taken to date through the same method.

THE TALLY SO FAR

Kefauver now has 62 and one-half votes, comprised of New Hampshire's eight, Minnesota's 26, Wisconsin's 28 and the one-half he eked out in New Jersey.

Stevenson can count on about 142 after tonight, made up of Minnesota's four, 64 from Illinois and Pennsylvania's 74. His tally does not include New Jersey's 36, which are regarded as pro-Stevenson although slated to Gov. Robert Meyner.

Massachusetts has 40 Democratic and 38 Republican convention votes, but elected convention delegates are not legally bound by the outcome of the preferential primary.

ADA BACKS ADLAI

With no clear-cut contests between major candidates, strength of the contenders will be reflected through write-in votes in Massachusetts.

House Majority Leader John McCormack (D-Mass), has been boomed as a "favorite son" write-in candidate, with the backing of Democratic State Chairman William H. Burke Jr. Burke charged that Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) was "waging a campaign" for a Stevenson write-in. The McCormack write-in move scotched an open Stevenson-Kefauver battle.

Alaska has a popularity contest between Stevenson and Kefauver in its preferential voting, but picks its Democratic delegates, who will have six convention votes, at a state convention. President Eisenhower may get the territory's four GOP convention votes. Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif), was entered in the primary but no longer is an active candidate.

Alaska voters may elect convention delegates but do not participate in actual voting for president in November. This franchise is limited to the 48 states.

Auto personal accident protection for husband & wife costs just $5.00

$3.00 for individuals (PER YEAR)

Michigan Mutual Liability pays $50.00 per week to husband—$25.00 per week to wife for total disability caused by an auto accident. You needn't be in a hospital to collect. Pays $2,000 death benefit each—plus other important features. New policy provisions believed first to provide such broad protection to auto insurance policyholders.

If you're injured as a pedestrian—struck by an automobile.

If you are injured in your own or in some one else's car.

If you are unable to work, you receive benefits as stated below.

CAN YOUR FAMILY AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT THIS EXCITINGLY INEXPENSIVE PROTECTION? Hospital payment plans may cover your hospital expenses. But who'll provide for a husband's loss of income while unable to work? Who'll pay for the care of children while the mother is disabled? Who'll pay for groceries—home payments and other expenses?

Michigan Mutual Liability will help—will pay $50.00 per week to the husband, if disabled. Will pay $25.00 per week to his wife if she is disabled, for up to 13 weeks, a quarter of a year. Payments are made whether at home or in the hospital. The wife may be insured for $50.00 weekly benefits at the $3.00 individual rate.

IMPORTANT : : : any car owner can enjoy this added low cost personal auto accident protection as part of a Blue Ribbon Auto Insurance Policy. If you are not a policyholder at this time, phone for full facts and rates on your car. Enjoy road service, travel and touring bureau service, as well as complete auto insurance protection, at Michigan Mutual Liability's new low rates which are comparable to those of policies sold on price alone.

In addition to weekly benefits the following amounts are paid for death or dismemberment if they occur within 90 days of the accident:

Loss of Life	$2,000	Loss of a Leg	$2,000
Loss of an Arm	$2,000	Loss of an Eye	$2,000

Of course the $2,000 benefit is paid in event of loss of more than one limb or complete loss of sight.

HERE'S WHY WE OFFER THIS NEW PROTECTION

As one of America's pioneer auto insurance companies, and one of the oldest and largest in the field, we have seen the financial loss that can accrue to a family as a result of an auto accident and are doing something about it. Hospital pay plans cover medical and surgical costs. Liability and collision insurance protect against injuries or damage to property of others, or damage to your car. But who'll help the husband and wife with their other expenses when they are unable to work, when their regular income is curtailed?

We feel this new Blue Ribbon Auto Policy optional provision will help you. We think it fills a crying need for such help. We believe our company is the first to offer so much additional protection at so relatively little cost.

You receive full weekly disability benefits and all other payments as scheduled, regardless of other life, hospital, or health or accident policies you may already have with other companies. Act today! Phone for full facts!

Two Building Proposals on Commission Agenda

Two important building proposals — one involving the new county courthouse, and the other the proposed U. S. Army training center — will get the City Commission's attention tonight, but decisions on both are expected to be delayed a week.

Other action on the 33-point agenda, will include a request from the Pontiac Police Officer's Assn. that a charter amendment be placed on the November ballot to decide whether police officers should have to live within the city.

A request from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors that the city vacate a portion of West boulevard in order that the proposed courthouse be built here, will be received tonight by the commissioners.

No definite action on the request is expected as city officials are scheduled to confer with county representatives next Tuesday to discuss the proposal.

A land lease between the city and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for a five-acre Orchard Lake avenue site for a new training center, is expected to be referred to the city engineering staff for study.

A decision might be forthcoming April 30 as the matter is expected to be placed on the City Commission's informal agenda scheduled that night.

The police organization has requested the ballot decision to change a 1932 city charter amendment that requires that officers live within the city.

Scattered amongst some 24 items involving public improvements in the city, will be the second reading of a proposed city ambulance ordinance, a lease for building a hanger at the Municipal Airport, and a deed for two lots in the $600,000 off-street parking program.

Five engineer estimates, four involving sidewalk projects and the fifth on a grading and graveling job, will be aired by the city clerk in action tonight.

Seven public hearings will be held on intention to install public improvement items in several areas in the city.

Public hearings, with confirmation deferred, are scheduled on special assessment rolls on the following:

Curb, gutter, and related work on Valencia drive from Mt. Clemens to the south line of lots 144 and 283 of the Eastview Subdivision No. 1, Hazel street from Telegraph to Starr, and for Beverly avenue from Laurel to Highwood.

Sanitary sewer in Astor street from Maines to Michigan.

Sidewalk and related work on the north side of Michigan avenue from Jessie to Tasmania.

Resolutions to receive special assessment rolls on three projects are expected to receive the approval of the commission.

Four petitions will be received by the commission in other action.

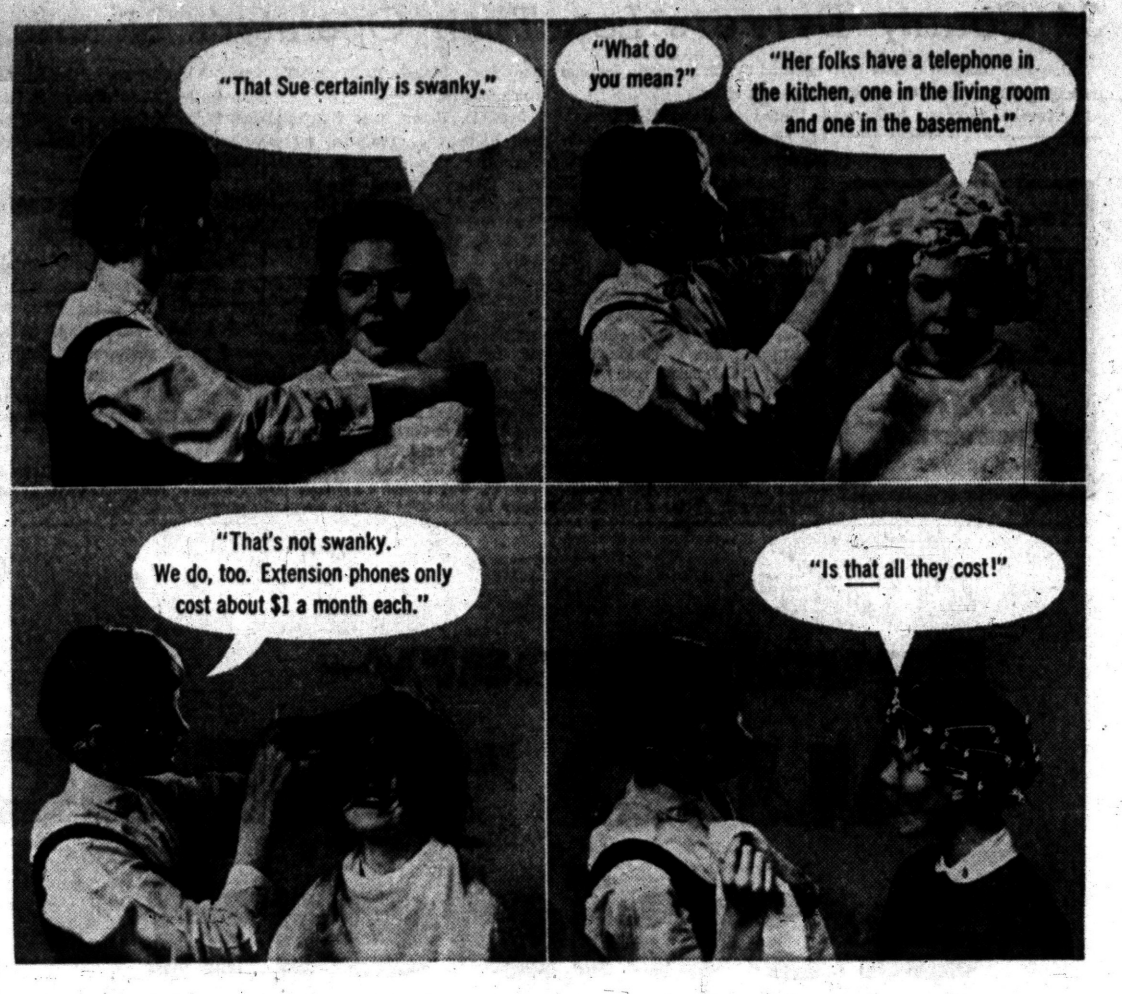

A resolution of public necessity on paving and related work on Motor street from Alton to Pearsall is scheduled for acceptance by the commissioners in final action.

Cobo Willing to Run If People Want Him

The biggest news in Michigan Republican circles today is all about Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

The reason is the success with which a number of influential party leaders have been able to revive the draft Cobo for governor movement, with his knowledge and consent.

Started only Saturday, it gained momentum so rapidly that backers are completely confident the Mayor will agree to become a candidate. Not only that, but Cobo nominating petitions reportedly are being circulated today in 20 Michigan counties.

As for the Mayor himself, he said at Tucson, Ariz., where he is vacationing that "if the people of Michigan want me, I'll run for Governor." But he added that he is waiting to see how the petitions are received by the people.

Attesting the vigor of the demand for Cobo's candidacy is the fact that it has the sanction of Republican State Central Committee Chairman John Feikens. Joining him in support are National Committeeman Clifford O'Sullivan, Ben Calvin, a veteran GOP leader, and many others.

With the Mayor's ability to poll a heavy vote in Wayne County, there isn't any doubt that his petitions soon will bear many times more signatures than the 11,000 needed. In fact, he is just the sort of candidate the Republicans have been looking for to recapture the State's top political office.

Utilities to Expand in City and County

If a stranger in Pontiac and Oakland County wanted to find out whether these areas are expanding economically, he wouldn't have to look far.

Evidence certainly exists in the expansion plans of Michigan Bell Telephone, Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Co. These utilities plan to spend a considerable part of $25,986,000 on increased facilities here this year.

Most of the $3,986,000 the telephone company will spend will be devoted to providing direct dial connection between its Federal exchange and 85 Michigan and Canadian communities. This welcome new service will be put into operation July 8.

Edison's program in the County calls for the expenditure of $8,000,000. This sum will provide for the construction of 10 new substations to enable the company to serve the 40,000 new customers expected this year.

★ ★ ★

Early in the year the Consumers Power Co. announced that its Southeastern Division, which includes Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties, would spend $14,000,000 on expansion. This sum will finance 140 miles of new mains and other equipment needed to serve 23,000 additional gas users.

Also planned is some electrical expansion in Pontiac including a high voltage cable downtown and improvements at the Paddock Street station.

Utility companies can't afford to guess about the growth and prospects of the areas they serve. They spare no effort or expense to be certain. The expansion plans outlined here not only reflect the healthy condition of the local economy but will stimulate it.

Summer Jobs Plentiful

Employment experts say temporary jobs for the summer are plentiful but they warn students that more applicants than ever will be seeking those available.

This, of course, means that those who start looking too late may find it difficult to get a satisfactory connection. The situation naturally varies from area to area and with the nature of the employment sought.

★ ★ ★

For example, summer jobs in U. S. National Parks have been filled since February. The only chance of getting one now is as a replacement for someone who has had to withdraw. On the other hand, says U. S. News & World Report jobs as counselors or nurses at private camps frequently go begging up to opening of the season.

★ ★ ★

The best place for most youths to start hunting for summer jobs is at the nearest office of the State Employment Service. Farm work, live-in jobs or plain day labor are reported widely available. Service stations, drive-in stands, construction companies and others whose business steps up seasonally are good job sources.

Firms looking for permanent employes often give summertime work to youths in the hope of getting them to come back after they finish school. That's especially true for engineering students and those with typing skill.

David Lawrence Says:

Reds Apparently Dupe Public Figures in 'Ban the Bomb' Propaganda Battle

WASHINGTON—This is an expression of deepest sympathy for the average reader of the news dispatches in American newspapers. Small wonder he is bewildered and can't tell sometimes when he is being fed propaganda that delights the Communists.

* * *

For several months Moscow, through its agents and stooges throughout the world, has been urging a ban on tests of H-bombs and A-bombs. Some scientists, impressed by what they thought was a danger of "fall-out," conscientiously argued for such a prohibition. Other scientists said there was no danger of "fall-out" from the tests thus far made and that it's dangerous only when big bombs are actually exploded—and these usually have been tried out in mid-ocean.

But, while Soviet Russia has been urging other countries to abandon nuclear tests, she has been doing a lot of testing herself. It is admitted that some chicken-hearted and timid scientists high up in government during the Truman regime actually delayed the development of the H-bomb for many years and thereby Soviet Russia was given a chance to catch up. Why they delayed is still a matter of controversy, and there is no proof that anything disloyal happened—it was a case of emotionalism rather than military reasoning.

Last Saturday Adlai Stevenson made a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in which he tackled this delicate subject head on. He said:

"I believe we should give prompt and earnest consideration to stopping further tests of the hydrogen bomb, as Commissioner Murray of the Atomic Energy Commission recently proposed. As a layman, I question the sense in multiplying and enlarging weapons of a destructive power already almost incomprehensible. Of course, I would call upon other nations to follow our lead, and if they don't and persist in further tests, we will know about it and we can reconsider our policy."

DOESN'T SAY

Mr. Stevenson does not say how many precious months he would wait, if he were president, before he let our scientists and our manufacturers of H-bombs go ahead again. His argument is that America should stop and then wait and see. There is some doubt whether any system of verification of what the enemy would be doing while America held off would be foolproof. President Eisenhower has been trying for months to get the Soviets to agree to a mutually acceptable air-inspection plan but to no avail.

So, to take a look at the news ticker of Monday:

At 9:26 a.m., the Communist Party Boss, Khrushchev, told British business men that the Soviet Union is building a guided missile with an atomic war head.

* * *

At 10:08 a.m. Senator Kefauver said he "saw no particular good in having further H-bomb tests."

At 12:28 p.m. Mr. Stevenson was asked if he believed Soviet Russia would go along with his suggestion that both sides stop testing deadly atomic weapons. "They've given every indication of it," he said.

At 1:23 p.m., the Senate got into a debate on the subject, and Senator Kuchel, Republican, of California, said that some of the people who are proposing an end to the U.S. tests are "good, but mistaken." Senator Bridges, Republican, said "These people who are taken in by some of the things that are going on should have their heads examined."

At 3:09 p.m., Senator Kefauver said he doesn't believe this country should halt testing of hydrogen bombs unless Russia does. He added: "I think that anything we do along that line should be reciprocal. I wouldn't want this country to stop testing if they (the Russians) are going to keep on testing."

Then what's all the shouting about? Why propose, as Mr. Stevenson did, that America take the initiative in banning nuclear tests? Mr. Stevenson says he took his cue from Thomas E. Murray of the Atomic Energy Commission. But a careful reading of Mr. Murray's statement of April 12 doesn't show that the latter wants to stop the tests without reference to what Russia may do. He said:

FALSE IDEALISM

"We must beware of the false idealism lurking in the Soviet slogan, 'ban the bomb.' In the discussions and negotiations looking to disarmament, it would be sheer folly to be maneuvered into making a blanket renunciation of the use of all types of nuclear weapons."

Medical Students Require More Time for Internship

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

My preliminary education before I entered medical school was four years of high school—but what a high school! Canandaigua High School, no less, and the course included a year of physics, a year of chemistry, two or three years of Latin, two or three years of mathematics, all solid stuff, and none of the shortcuts called "science" or "biology" in high schools today.

As an intern in a large charity hospital I had more experience than a doctor in private practice has in five or ten years.

One of the established practitioners in the community had apparently prospered. He had gone directly from medical school into practice. Unlike the others, he was friendly towards me from the first, inviting me to go hunting, referring non-pay or poor-pay patients to me so that I could seem busy, having me as dinner guest.

Among the secrets of success my kindly colleague imparted was the strychnine routine. He showed me his stock of small-dose strychnine tablets—six or eight large jars filled with strychnine tablets, sugar coated, chocolate coated, red, orange, green, violet, and other colors. Instead of giving the patient just a bottle of liquid medicine and charging 50c, it could do no harm, might even make the patient perk up, to dispense also a couple of strych. tablets in an envelope and charge 75c. The tablets and envelope cost only a penny or two . . . and people generally thought a doctor who gave them only one kind of medicine was not as good as a doctor who gave two or more kinds.

One morning the doctor called me to the home of his patient. The patient had been in labor since the afternoon of the day before, making no progress, so he was going to use forceps. The patient, a tossing, wailing, nearly exhausted young woman, labored alone, or rather didn't labor, as though her predicament were none of her husband's, mother's, sister's, or other's concern. While the doctor was scrubbing up and sterilizing his instruments I started the anesthetic. With the first few inhalations, enough to take the edge off the pains, what doctors call the obstetric stage of anesthesia, the patient quit tossing about, listened to my instructions, worked with the contractions, relaxed between contractions, and presently delivered herself without the aid of instruments.

I have never been able to reconcile that man's kindliness and success with his incompetence. And I think of him and other doctors who have enjoyed success in practice, whenever I deplore the requirement that a student loaf for one, two, three, or four years in college between graduation from high school and matriculation in medical school. The student would make a better doctor if instead of his waste of time he or she were required to serve an extra six months as intern and earn his or her living at some outside job for six months.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Lighted Track Field Asked by 'Old Timer Sports Fan'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

After reading in the paper what our boys did in the track meet in Ohio, I feel it shows that we do have the talent here. I think our coach did a wonderful job.

I have heard we do not have the talent for football, but I think we do.

I do hope that they get busy and make our track field here one of the best in the state, so we can have some big meets. They have been working on it long enough. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we had a lighted field? That sure would get a lot of people to come out.

'Down but Not Out' Is Riled at Proposed Site

I simply can't understand the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, who against the wishes of the people of Oakland County and Pontiac, insist on putting the courthouse out in the country away from the Oakland County seat.

I think the people of Oakland County, right now, should write or phone the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and demand that property on Huron and Saginaw, which was meant for a court house and nothing else, should have one.

Hal Boyle Says:

There Are No Disguises Among Fellow Travelers

NEW YORK (AP)—Notes on travel by a poor man's Marco Polo:

* * *

You never really know a person until you go on a journey with him. During a two-week trip you can learn more about him than by associating with him half a lifetime in his own home town.

HIS REAL NATURE

Travel may not necessarily broaden a person—but it is bound to show him up for what he is. It forces him to reveal his real nature as nothing else does.

* * *

Travel will make a liar out of the most honest woman. If she goes on an expensive vacation but for one reason or another has a lousy time, she'll rarely admit this fact when she gets back home.

She feels the money is never wasted so long as her neighbors envy the fun they think she had—but really didn't. This may sound like a feminine weakness. It isn't at all. It is part of the armorplate on her strength. Women believe only fools brag about the mistakes they make.

* * *

Very few people have the strength of character to stick rigidly to a diet while on shipboard. The greatest possible test of willpower is the ability to actually start a diet while on shipboard. I have never known anyone who could—or did.

TRADITIONAL EATING

This is surprising in a way, for most people aboard ship don't overeat because the food is so good — the meals seldom are as good as you can get at a good restaurant ashore—but because they are expected to. It is traditional.

* * *

The only really superior dishes aboard most liners are the desserts.

The greatest sadists among travelers are those who, when a ship is rolling in a heavy storm, stuff themselves at the table while murmuring to wan-faced fellow passengers, "seasickness is all in the mind."

SHIPBOARD SNOBS

There are two types of snobs on every tropical voyage; those who endlessly fry themselves in the sun so they can come back with a tan—and those who stay out of the sun altogether, just so they can look different.

* * *

The thing that disturbs the peace of mind of most amateur travelers all through a voyage is "Just whom should I tip—and how much?"

There isn't one out of 10 travelers who feels he knows the right answer. Probably there isn't any.

* * *

My system: I tip everybody who smiled at me during the voyage—including fellow passengers. Then when my money runs out, I walk by the others head down, holding out my empty wallet like a drooping flag.

SNIPPY HOSTESSES

There has been so much propaganda put out about the superior service provided by airline stewardesses—much of it justified, it must be admitted—that few travelers dare to raise a holler when they occasionally run into a snippy stewardess.

* * *

I, for one, am afraid even to turn down a packet of gum when offered by one of these smiling airline lassies, for fear she'll take it as a form of criticism.

The saddest sight abroad is a group of lame-footed tourists, bullied by a guide into taking an exhaustive tour of all the local museums and monuments in the holy name of culture.

* * *

The average visitor can absorb more real worthwhile human culture spending a pleasant evening in the home of an ordinary French family in Paris than he can in three days of wandering through the Louvre.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dr. Crane Gives College Curfew Rules for Teens Griping About Restrictions

Gwen is acting like a juvenile. She isn't playing ball according to the rules of the game. If you teenagers think your parents are wrong about curtailing your late dates, read the facts. And rate yourselves by the "Tests for Sweethearts" outlined below. By the age of 16, your brain is mature so you should act like an adult.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-338: Gwen T., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"But Dr. Crane, we feel that Gwen is staying out too late on dates," her father informed me.

* * *

"She wants to date during the week, and often doesn't come home till midnight.

"And on Saturday and Sunday nights she insists on going out on dates and on a few occasions has not returned home till two o'clock.

"When her mother and I remonstrate, she says we are old-fashioned and that this is a new age.

"Besides, she says all the other girls get to stay out later than she does. So what do you think is a fair schedule for a high schooler?"

DATING DATA

Well, let's analyze the college regulations, where girls usually are 18 to 21 years of age.

At Northwestern University, for instance, freshman girls are due in their dormitories by 10 p.m. on Monday through Thursday nights.

* * *

On Friday and Saturday, the curfew hour is 2 a.m., but this late permission is due to the fact that concerts and theater dates in Chicago require about an extra hour of traveling time via train or bus.

In the usual college situation, a late curfew of 1 a.m. is more typical.

And on Sunday night, the girls must be home at 11 p.m., for Monday is another working day and they can't stay awake in class without eight hours of sleep.

If such a schedule is deemed appropriate for older college coeds, no high school girls should complain about similar regulations.

Since Drive-In movies and other forms of entertainment usually end by midnight, then 1 a.m. is a very liberal late curfew for high school girls on Friday and Saturday nights.

BE AN ADULT

And every teen-ager who wants to be treated as an adult, should also act like an adult.

This means you should do what a physician does and tell your family where you will be any given time throughout the entire evening.

* * *

It is kid stuff to act secretive! Grown up, mature adults know the wisdom of being on call in case of unforeseen emergencies.

At college, therefore, a girl who expects to be away from the dormitory in the evening must "sign out" by 7:30, telling where she is going, with whom and when she expects to be back.

If immature college freshmen violate the curfew regulations, the first penalty is a "date jerk," which means she must give up a 2 a.m. late date privilege.

If her violations are deemed more serious, than she is "campused" for possibly a week or even several months.

That penalty deprives her of all date privileges during the duration of her "sentence."

* * *

If a girl is not home within the time limit for her late date, she is granted one hour in which to telephone the reason for the abnormal delay.

If she does not telephone then the police are notified and the custom at Northwestern University is also to call her parents by phone immediately.

That latter procedure is deemed one of the most effective ways to make a juvenile girl realize her adult responsibilities.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Stop family feuding about dating. Get the facts and learn to act like an adult, even in high school, for colleges will not put up with juvenile irresponsibility about abiding by curfew dating hours.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Revenue Men Send Governor 'the Book'

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Gov. J. Bracken Lee, who refused to pay part of his Federal income tax and then asked the government what it was going to do about it, got his answer yesterday: a copy of tax collection regulations from the U.S. Treasury.

* * *

Lee is withholding payment of taxes on income of his which is not subject to withholding tax. He wants to force a court test of Congress' right to use the tax money foreign aid — something he maintains is unconstitutional, along with the tax itself.

* * *

Lee says he got the booklet when he asked Treasury Secretary Humphrey to elaborate on an earlier statement that Lee's taxes would be collected "in the usual and customary manner . . . by filing a lien and levying on assets."

Bronx Mother of Twins Gives Birth to Quadruplets

NEW YORK (AP)—A tiny Bronx mother of year-old twins gave birth to quadruplets yesterday.

* * *

Mrs. Carmen Medina, 25, wife of a $40-a-week machinist, had twin girls April 10, 1955. She expected twins again this time. But she had two boys and two girls—a one in a million occurrence.

Mrs. Medina is 5 feet 2 and weighs only 96 pounds. The father, Ciprian, 28, is three inches taller and weighs 115.

* * *

The four new babies were put into incubators at Flower and Fifth Avenue Hospitals. They and their mother were reported doing well.

The quads arrived four minutes apart. The smallest, a boy, weighed 2 pounds 5 ounces. The largest, also a boy, weighed 3 pounds 3 ounces.

* * *

The Medinas were married in Puerto Rico in 1947. They came here shortly thereafter and now live in a $40-a-month walkup apartment.

Informed he was the father of quadruplets, Medina said: "I think I'd better earn more money. I can't believe it. I was expecting twins."

Legislature to Hire Educational Adviser

LANSING (AP) — A Legislative Interim Committee indicated today it is ready to hire a New Mexico educator as part-time director of a study on higher educational needs in Michigan.

* * *

Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), vice-chairman of the committee, said the group interviewed Dr. John D. Russell, chancellor and executive secretary of the New Mexico board of educational finance.

"We asked him to submit the days he could apply to the job and how much salary he would require," Green said.

The study is designed to determine what roles state supported and private colleges will play in higher education in the state.

Amvets Contest for Beauty Queen Near Deadline

Deadline time is approaching fast for entry in the Amvets Post 16 Beauty Contest to be held April 28 at 8:30 p.m. at the Roosevelt Hotel Ballroom.

Six girls have already signified their intentions of competing with several more expected to sign up before Friday, April 27 deadline, officials said.

Contest officials hope to have at least 20 girls in the event with no limit on entries. All single girls from Pontiac and vicinity between the ages of 17 and 23 are eligible. They may enter by calling FE 4-9503, FE 4-9504 or FE 4-9505.

Post 16 is hoping to come up with an outstanding representative for the Miss Amvet state contest to be held at the convention in Grand Rapids. The Michigan winner will compete for national honors. Contestants will be judged in bathing suits and informal dress at the local contest.

The judges will be Mayor William Donaldson, Sheriff Frank Irons, Prosecutor Fred Ziem, Judith L. Clemence, Society Editor, The Pontiac Press, and Robert Hanger, of radio station WPON.

Plea of Innocent Given by Ortonville Resident

Charged with taking indecent liberties with a 12-year-old girl, Harold Loyd Pearce, 1191 Bird Rd., Ortonville, pleaded innocent at his arraignment yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Frank L. Doty set no trial date for Pearce, who was returned to Oakland County Jail after failing to furnish bond of $1,000.

Enters Plea of Guilty in Forging of Check

Charged with writing a $76.40 check to himself and signing it with another man's name, James Donley, 136 Prospect St., pleaded guilty yesterday at his circuit court arraignment.

Judge Frank L. Doty will sentence Donley May 7. Donley, who failed to furnish bond of $500, is in Oakland County Jail awaiting sentence.

Grocer Stands Mute on Unsanitary Charge

A Leonard grocer convicted April 13 of permitting unsanitary conditions in his store stood mute in his Circuit Court appeal yesterday.

A jury convicted Thomas E. Flood, 22 Elmwood St., Leonard, after Flood testified a State liquor inspector promised him there would be no more inspections if he gave the inspector $50.

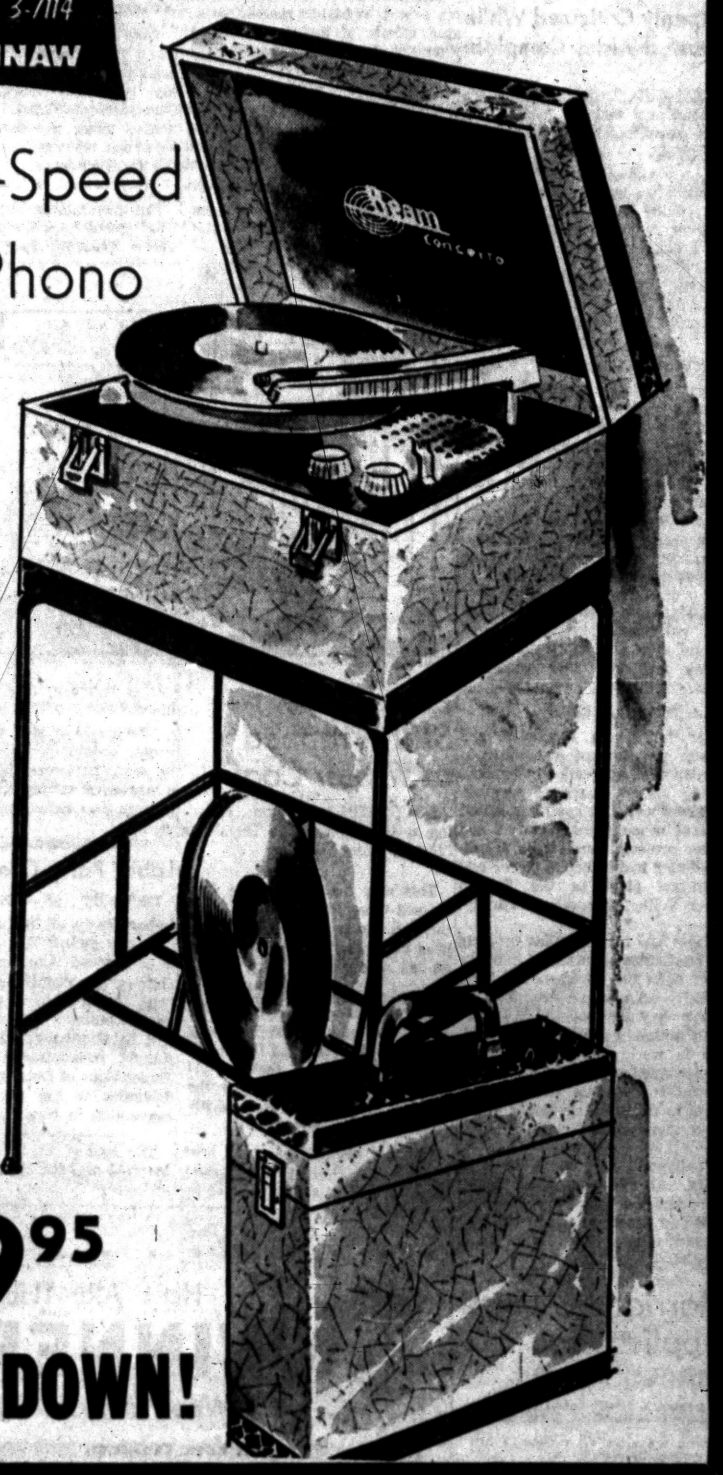

No trial date was immediately set. Judge Frank L. Doty, who entered a plea of innocent for Flood, continued bond of $200 for Flood.

Turkey Steams With Discontent

Menderes Policy Stand Openly Criticized While Ousted Aides Complain

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's next general election is still two years away, but the storm already is brewing.

* * *

Opposition leaders and a large part of the Turkish press accuse Premier Adnan Menderes of leading Turkey into serious economic difficulties.

Menderes accuses his political opponents and the press of sabotaging his policies and of "preparing revolution in the country."

MANY QUIT POST

The wide-open political battle dates from December. At that time Menderes' Cabinet quit during a squabble within his own Democratic party over the country's faltering economy. He formed a new government immediately, but only after a score of leading Democratic deputies quit or were ousted from the party. They joined in the mounting clamor against him.

* * *

In almost daily meetings, opposition politicians blame Menderes for inflation in Turkey, for rising prices and for other economic woes.

WILL USE PROJECTS

For his forum Menderes has chosen the sites of a number of development projects undertaken during his six years as premier. In recent weeks he has inaugurated several new cement factories and power projects, including a 35-million-dollar hydroelectric power and irrigation plant in the Sehyan River Valley, in southern Turkey.

* * *

These and many similar projects to modernize Turkish industry have been the backbone of Menderes' economic program. He claims they are essential if Turkey is to maintain a competitive position in world markets and raise the standard of living at home. The opposition contends the program leads to inflation, shortages and a lower standard of living.

"Lollypop" originated in Australia. All candy is called "lolly" there and the "pop" probably was added in America, where children popped the stick into their mouths.

Conventions Turn Businessmen Into Sheep

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—I am an expert on habits, mores, causes and effects of inebriated conventioneers. I say this in all modesty. Not to mention misery.

* * *

There may be others who have known these men on a business bat more intimately, have studied them with a more psychological approach or more medical savvy.

But none, surely, has been bedded down in more hotel rooms within earblast shot of convention headquarters than I. I would swear this on a stack of empty fifths.

Take here, in Kansas City, home away from home of the Midwest businessman. My radio is playing, my typewriter clacks with the fierceness of Babel. A towel is stuffed under my door and newsboys are whining for business in the great outdoors.

* * *

But over the din of honest labor, what sound rules the night waves? Three, possibly four, conventioneers cackling violently in the next room.

AH, LAUGHTER

"Hey, cummonow, get downa the problem," one has just spoken. "Whum I gonna get my wife?"

"Just your lil old self is plenty," recommends another.

"'S too much, in fact," bellows the third.

* * *

Ah, what jolly laughter ensues!

Tomorrow these joy boys of the night will go out and buy their wives nightgowns, no doubt, if they can sneak away from a committee meeting before the cocktail hour.

But now, at this moment, escape is the thing, and insensibility the status most devoutly to be desired.

* * *

"We've got to get up in the morning," one neighbor has just observed, over a gurgling-tinkling nightcap noise.

* * *

It was not to be argued. "You've got something there, Chick," his friend agrees. This inspired drunk No. 3 to remind them "you only live once," a classic which any student of conventions knows is a sign that one of two things will happen:

Either they'll fold up, or they'll head for the great outdoors and the wonders that only men in a "live once" attitude can honestly regard as adventures.

MANY THEORIES

There are many theories afloat on why ordinarily peaceful, civic-minded family men go berserk when they leave the family fold and suddenly find themselves surrounded by a covey of men in a strange hotel.

* * *

Many students of convention culture insist it's the sudden independence from women that makes men slightly depraved. Others claim males are a convivial breed and the reason they hold conventions is to forget business earlier in the day than they could permit themselves to do at the office.

A third theory is that there is so much free whisky to be had at most conventions that a man would be a blathering idiot to stay sober.

After long observation and eavesdropping, however, I have this answer:

Men away from the sanctity of home and the sanity of office become as a herd of sheep—without identity, put to pasture, abruptly faced with time on their hands and a fieldful of clover to partake of. The entire herd partakes its aimless head off.

* * *

As the guy in the next room is saying—"Ba-a-a-, let's have one more."

Isle Royale Still Wrapped in Winter Coat

HOUGHTON (AP)—Winter is keeping a toehold on Isle Royale in blustery Lake Superior.

* * *

This was the report from Capt. Russell Greenleaf as he completed the first trip to the National Wilderness Park this spring. He leaves on his second trip today.

Capt. Greenleaf said, "Why, it took us an hour to break the ice ahead of us to make our way into the harbor, and when we finally were able to dock to start the utilities dormant over the winter, we found snow drifts higher than three feet."

Running his national park boat, Ranger II, close to the island, Capt. Greenleaf said, "most of the harbor recesses were still ice surfaced."

"People who still want to see winter should go to Isle Royale," he said, "it looked like a gem in a primitive setting as we viewed it from five miles out last Thursday."

Labor Party Choice

DETROIT (AP) — The Socialist Labor Party of Michigan has unofficially picked Ralph W. Muncy, a 53-year-old Ann Arbor sanitary engineer, to run for governor and head up its slate of candidates in the November election. Candidates will be nominated officially at an August convention. Muncy and James Sims of Detroit were named delegates to the party's national convention in New York May 5.

Michigan Sugar Maples Are Research Objects

HOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan College of Mining and Technology has announced its Ford Forestry Center will start a program of forest products research on May 10.

The center, located at the village of Alberta, was given to Michigan Tech in 1954 by the Ford Motor Co. fund.

The center's mill will start cutting "around the log" on 10,000 feet of sugar maple for a quality test.

Trees growing in Brooklyn and other New York City boroughs number about 2,300,000.

Cite 4 State Youngsters

DETROIT (AP) — Four Michigan youngsters have won top awards in the American Automobile Assn. 12th annual Safety Poster Contest. They were Yvonne Kafoury, 17, of St. Clair Shores, Karen Dennis, 9, of Wayne, Barbara Pesola, 16, and Nick Nicholas, 18, both of Detroit.

Mock GOP Convention

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A mock national Republican convention with 500 high school students as delegates will be held at Kalamazoo College Saturday. The convention will select nominees for president and vice president and draft a platform.

It Is An Heritage of Kindness . . .

Your neighbors and friends will be more kindly than you ever thought possible at your time of bereavement. Their good deeds during your despair are an outpouring of the best of human kindness.

Whether it be flowers or personal favors, accept their tributes and their kindness graciously. This is an American heritage that has come down through generations, and will long endure.

Shell Premium with TCP outperforms competitive premium gasolines

How tests were made. Here two identical cars finish a "wide-open" throttle acceleration run. The lead car had used only Shell Premium with TCP—its trailing twin used only a premium competitive gasoline. Tests like this one went on day after day with radar checking results. Most cars got 6 to 18% better pickup with Shell Premium.

In full-throttle acceleration trials Radar clocks up to 18% advantage!

A touch of your toe and today's new cars fairly take off.

But new car performance is soon curbed by harmful deposits.

In 3000 miles or less of average driving these deposits are pre-firing the gasoline or short-circuiting the spark plugs—causing power loss.

Now, just a few tankfuls of Shell Premium with TCP* tunes an engine—restores lost power.

TCP additive neutralizes deposits, brings back power that pre-firing and spark plug failure take away. It re-powers while you drive.

Switch to Shell and see. It's the greatest gasoline development in 31 years!

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

SURPRISE GIFT — In a recent sermon marking his seventh year at Temple Beth Jacob and 13th year in the rabbinate, Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein told of the high religious and cultured life maintained by his people as prisoners of the Ghetto. He also brought out that when most of the world was closed to Jewry the gates of Israel were opened. At the close of the service, Julius Levine, president of the temple, (center) presented Rabbi and Mrs. Saperstein a check from the congregation for a round-trip to Israel. He said, "Your religious school has imbued a generation of youth with a love and appreciation of our faith. The community at large has been enriched by your participation and leadership. We love and respect you."

Fear Lost GI Caught in Tunnel Maze of Verdun

VERDUN, France (AP) — Rescue workers continued an underground search today for an American soldier lost in the maze of tunnels used by the French in the famous World War I Battle of Verdun.

Army authorities identified the missing man as Gerald H. Dunnigan, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Dunnigan of Wicomico, Va. His wife and two daughters, 15 and 4 months old, live here where Dunnigan is attached to an Army unit.

* * *

The soldier and his wife were sightseeing at Ft. Tavennes, near Verdun, Saturday afternoon. He left her to inspect one of the many entrances to the old fort, which was built in 1745. When he failed to return, Mrs. Dunnigan notified the Army and a search was started.

Army rescue teams feared that the soldier had been trapped underground by a crumbling tunnel.

National Guard Local Company Joins Campaign

Pontiac's Company M unit of the Michigan National Guard has joined an all-out state drive to recruit eligible men for six months training under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955, Capt. A. J. Largent, Company Commander, reported today.

"We're joining other units to help meet the National Guard's quota of 6,500 volunteers by June 30," he said. Each unit has been asked to obtain at least one volunteer.

The plan gives men between the ages of 17 and 18½ the opportunity to fulfill their military and reserve obligations through participation in the six-month training program, regular weekly meetings, and summer camp.

Volunteers may choose any time during the first year of their enlistment to take part in the training. Interested men may obtain further information by calling or visiting the Company M Armory.

Buick CENTURY 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera, Model 63D

Makes Friends with the Meanest Roads

(Have you tried Buick's great new ride?)

THE SWEET WAY a '56 Buick rides on all sorts of roads is something you find nowhere else on wheels.

Capricious roads that twist and turn—unruly roads that rock and roll—tired roads, battered and beaten—they all seem to wear company manners the moment a Buick approaches.

Why? Simply because Buick comes with what it takes to put any road on its best behavior—the completely ride-engineered combination of chassis, engine and automatic drive that is obtainable in no other car.

And that's gospel truth whether you drive a new SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

No other car matches the firm, true tracking of Buick's own ride foundation—buttressed by brawny X-braced frame and torque-tube drive—cushioned on coil springs and deep-oil shock absorbers.

No other has such width of tread and length of wheelbase within dimensions so trim and tidy that Buicks turn, park and garage more easily than smaller cars.

No other duplicates the assurance of steering, brakes and rear axle so precisely geared and gaited for the nimble handling that's a safety "must" in modern cars.

And certainly no other name plate promises the soaring sweep of power that wells from the big 322-cubic-inch V8 beneath every new Buick bonnet.

Nor does any other automatic drive put power to its car's rear wheels with the swift, unruffled pace of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—and that goes double every time you "switch pitch" for whip-quick, safer passing.

But why stop to count reasons—when results are what you're after?

Wouldn't you rather really feel Buick's new "sense of direction" on straightaway, curves and corners?

Wouldn't you rather relax in supreme comfort while tooling this powerful performer over roads you always hated to travel?

Well, sir, we cordially invite you to drop in on us and do just that.

Make it this week, won't you? Sample the ride that has charms to win any old road—and get first-hand figures on prices that make Buick owning a more positive pleasure.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Farmington Hearing Set on Race Track Rezoning

Public Meeting at 8 Wednesday

Seek to Construct Arena at Cost of $5,500,000 Within Township

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Two proposals will come up for public hearing when the Township Zoning Board meets Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall.

The first will be the proposed rezoning of a 244-acre parcel of land in the southwestern section of the townsection from residential to commercial.

The rezoning has been requested to make way for the construction of a $5,500,000 race track and sports arena.

Recent changes in the state law make it possible for townships to derive the same revenue from parimutuels as do cities. The law provides that 20 per cent of the revenues received from racing fees not to exceed $500,000, shall be returned to the city or township in which the track is located.

Tentative approval for the proposed rezoning was given by the township board at a special meeting last Feb. 27.

A proposal to amend the zoning ordinance to allow for the erection of public hospitals and non-profit homes for the aged in residential zones also will come up for hearing.

This was prompted by a request for permission to construct Detroit Baptist Manor, a home for the aged, on 13 Mile Road between Orchard Lake and Middlebelt.

Officials of the proposed Baptist Manor have appeared before the board on previous occasions. At a regular meeting of the Township Board Feb. 28, they presented petitions signed by some 500 residents of the township, requesting the zoning change.

Pontiac Woman Hurt in Front of Hospital

A Pontiac woman was in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today following an accident in front of the hospital this morning.

Velma W. Stevens, 39, 118 Augusta Ave., suffered back and neck injuries when the car she was driving was struck from the rear by a vehicle operated by William P. Moody, 29, of 4 Liberty St.

The impact sent the Stevens car onto the hospital lawn and through a sign.

Your PTA Is Planning:

'Calico Capers,' Dance at Leonard Saturday

LEONARD—PTA members here are sponsoring a square dance, "Calico Capers," at Rowland Hall Saturday evening, starting at 9.

A square dance caller will be on hand and an orchestra from Dryden will provide music. Refreshments will be served.

Waterford Township

Shuman Worrell, director of Highland Recreation Area, will be the guest speaker when the Waterford Village PTA meets at 8 p. m. Thursday at the school. Mr. Worrell will tell of the plans being made for the national Girl Scout Round-up to be held here this summer.

On the agenda for the business meeting is the installation of new officers.

Franklin

The annual "Kindergarten Round-up" at Franklin School will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday, May 16, in the kindergarten room. Parents are invited to bring their children entering kindergarten next fall so that they may become acquainted with teachers and other children in this group.

Persons planning to attend are asked to call the school office, MAyfair 6-2330, so that officials may mail information regarding necessary credentials to bring for registration of children.

Refreshments will be provided by kindergarten room mothers Mrs. Newton Cole and Mrs. John Lackner.

Almont

Mrs. Melvin Fiebelkorn has been elected new president of the PTA here. Chosen to serve with her are George Juhl, father vice president; Viola Braidwood, mother vice president; Mrs. Olaf Vicklund, teacher vice president; Mrs. Currey Millikin, secretary and Mrs. Eugene Nikkari, treasurer.

Waterford Township

The Donelson School PTA met recently to hear Lewis Jarrendt, Oakland County Civil Defense Director, speak on what defense plans have been made for this area in the event of an air attack. As Detroit is considered a critical area, Waterford Township becomes a reception area for Detroit and Wayne County and civilians are being trained to help policemen, firemen and welfare agents to cope with the influx of people. He spoke also on safety measures for tornadoes.

Preemie Births on Rise in Flint

Pediatrician Says Better Pre-Natal Care Assists Working Mothers

FLINT (AP) — A Flint pediatrician says more working mothers and better pre-natal care may account for a big jump in the number of premature babies born here.

Dr. Lafon Jones made the comment on a report from Hurley Hospital that premature births have jumped almost 100 per cent between 1951 and 1955. Total births in that period increased only .05 per cent.

Edward W. Gilgan, director of Hurley, said an average of 15 premature babies were born daily in a recent week. Eight to 10 such births a day has not been unusual.

Dr. Jones said working mothers may contribute to the situation. And he suggested better prenatal care may mean life for an infant who otherwise might have been stillborn.

PREEMIE NURSERY

The hospital has developed a whole new nursery to care for "preemies," who must stay in the hospital until they weigh about 5½ pounds.

The nursery is equipped with six incubators, three isolettes similar to an incubator in which a baby can be weighed without removing him; a rocking bed, resuscitators and oxygen regulators.

In many cases the hospital has found premature babies return to the hospital for additional care not long after they have been allowed to go home.

A special fund has been set up to provide visiting nurses who give post-birth instruction to mothers of "preemies." They advise on formulas and other problems which arise.

Dad Just Moans as Kids Have Real Hey-Day

CHICAGO (INS) — Buddy Skinner is suffering from jangled nerves and fatigue today—with good reason.

Skinner's son and a neighbor's daughter positively ran him ragged yesterday with their propensities for stuffing themselves with unusual and alien objects.

It all began when Skinner, a production supervisor, was hurriedly summoned home from work at a nearby factory by his wife, Norine.

She had discovered that every time she lifted their 4-year-old Timothy he tinkled like a bell.

Skinner took little Timmy to Chicago's Memorial Hospital where physicians removed a bell he had stuffed into his nose.

The young father was hardly back at work when his neighbor, Mrs. Elaine Hlidek, telephoned him.

Mrs. Hlidek said she had missed a cup of bleach and suspected her 22-month-old Kathleen had swallowed it.

Once again, Skinner rushed home and this time he took tiny Kathy to the hospital where doctors pumped the bleach out of her stomach.

Everyone involved was reported doing well except Skinner.

Warn Against Danger of Child Riding Tractor

"Daddy, may I ride?" This is an important question which many of you will have to answer this spring. Your young son or daughter will want to get on your tractor and take a ride with you. Will you permit your child to get on and ride, or will you—as a wise parent—explain the danger of such a practice?

Jack Worthington, 4-H Club Agent for Oakland County, says that ever year many children are injured or killed because Dad didn't have the heart to say "No." Each year in Michigan more children under 10 years of age are killed by farm tractors than 20-30 year olds, or 30-40 year olds, or the 40-50 year old group. Worthington says many parents thought they had used every precaution to make the ride safe, but then it happened.

There is only one wise way to protect your child from this hazard—never permit him to ride with you on your tractor or other farm machinery.

And, Worthington continued, there's no better time to teach a youngster driver training than when he is learning to ride a bicycle. That's because the same rules apply to driving a car and the child will have many lessons learned when he becomes a motorist. Parents, he stresses, can help avoid bicycle accidents by teaching their children the rules of the road. There have been several deaths and several hundred injuries in Michigan bicycle accidents within the past year.

Alaskans Vote in Primary Today

Territory Is Barometer of Nation Based on Past Convention Results

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans vote in their first presidential preferential primary today.

* * *

They will chose between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver for the Democratic nomination.

Although the names of President Eisenhower and Sen. William F. Knowland of California were on the Republican ballot, the Stevenson-Kefauver contest drew the lion's share of interest.

GO UNINSTRUCTED

Knowland's name was placed on the ballot before Eisenhower announced his willingness to run. It could not be removed.

Although Alaska's six-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention will go uninstructed, any strong swing in the Stevenson-Kefauver race could well have influence. An informal poll of the delegation shows it to be in favor of Stevenson at this point by about a 3-1 margin.

* * *

In addition to the preferential primary, authorized by the last Territorial Legislature, Alaskans will be voting on candidates for the national committees of the two major parties, candidates for the Territorial Legislature, ratification of a proposed state constitution and related issues.

Population Gauged by Decennial Census

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held today the population of a city must be determined from the latest decennial census in realigning school districts.

* * *

The opinion was issued in answer to questions from Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

Kavanagh ruled any part of a school district which lies within a city automatically becomes part of a city school district when the city reaches a population of 125,000.

The Attorney General also ruled that any such school district, or part of it, lying within a city must pay debts owed to the district to which it formerly belonged if it becomes part of the city school district.

* * *

Kanavagh held the change in a school district in such cases could be made only after the latest census showed the city involved had passed 125,000 in population.

'Wild' Cyclist, 9, Injured by King, Gets Gifts Galore

The Copenhagen boy made a sudden left turn without signaling and was hit last Sunday by a car King Frederik was driving.

The King sent the child a box of candy and this handwritten letter:

A FUNNY NAME FOR A FLOWER

"Butter and Eggs."

"Butter and Eggs! That's a funny name for a flower," you might say of the wild flower pictured here. But is it?

The flowers have the lovely color of fresh butter, and in the center, the orange of egg yolks.

Originally it was brought to this country from Europe, and is found almost everywhere in the temperate zones of North America from June to October. Sometimes it is called by other nick-names like Toad-flax, Jacob's Ladder, Brideweek and Eggs and Bacon.

The stems are erect, the leaves narrow and grasslike, and the flowers cluster densely in spikes of yellow and orange. It can be picked without damage to the roots, but it is better to leave it where it is.

In the background is a little country girl making butter in an old fashioned churn. Whey is spraying out around the dasher of the churn. Her pet hen is at her feet near her nest of eggs.

Color this panel too for your scrapbook.

(This idea was suggested first by Jean and Janice Klink, Bay City, Mich. Perhaps you have an idea for a Junior Editors panel. If so send it in care of this newspaper and if it's usable, it'll win a $10 award. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Brazil Uses Stamps —by the Millions

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — There never was a Boston tea party in Brazil. Therefore, you see tax stamps everywhere.

* * *

Buy a coat hanger and there's a tax stamp on it. It's illegal to wear new shoes if there's no tax stamp on the soles. There are stamps on beer bottle caps and on match boxes and tables and lamps. Write a letter to the government to complain about tax stamps: it won't get anywhere unless there's a stamp on it—not only on the envelope but on the letter.

MAIN REVENUE SOURCE

It would take quite a tea party now to do away with the stamps, which account for more than 40 per cent of the government's ordinary revenue.

Stamps are needed on so many things that you have to stand in line to get them. The stickum on the stamp is no good so they have to be glued, and each one has to be canceled by writing your name and the date across the front.

* * *

You can complain to the government about your boss without a stamp. The law specifically provides that petitions to labor courts need not be stamped.

Township Woman Mute on Assault Charge

Charged with feloniously assaulting her husband with a knife March 17, Myrtle Cowan, 10736 Hartley Ct., Royal Oak Township, stood mute at her arraignment yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Frank L. Doty entered a plea of innocent for Mrs. Cowan. No trial date was set, and she was returned to Oakland County Jail after failing to furnish bond of $500.

Women Discuss 'Ideal House'

Results of Conference to Be Guide to Future Home Building

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government-sponsored Women's Congress on Housing considers today the outside requirements of the ideal home designed for more family living.

* * *

The 103 delegates—all housewives selected on the basis of letters written on what they think a modern home should be—scheduled a full day's discussion on exterior home design, lot size and community planning.

They spent the first day of the three-day conference yesterday mapping out the kind of house that would strengthen the family as a unit, has plenty of storage space, and is comfortable.

Analysis of the findings tomorrow will conclude the program sponsored by the Housing and Home Finance Administration to give homemakers a chance to express their views on what housing should include.

The results are expected to provide a guide for future construction and in particular help the government determine minimum standards for dwelling units on which it underwrites the mortgages.

In addition to types—ranch, Cape Cod, rambler, or other—the housewives will try to decide how big a lot should be, whether streets should be straight or curved, and the planning of community facilities in a residential area.

MORE STORAGE

In the discussion of interiors, they were in general agreement on the need for more storage, for three small bedrooms, one and one-half baths, and a kitchen with limited eating space.

There was little sentiment for big kitchens that would double as a family room or for expens' "gadgets." The women emphasized there should be a separate family or recreation room.

While the kitchen should have a nook or bar for informal eating, the housewife-delegates also wanted a dining room—which, they said, could be in the small end of an L-shaped living room.

Seven of the nine geographically-located groups urged basements, but opinion was widely scattered on car space—one or two-car garages, carports, or nothing.

* * *

The homemakers did agree—apparently unanimously—on the need for a utility room to house laundry equipment and ironing facilities.

OK for Rose Bowl, Not for Extension

ANN ARBOR (UP)—The University of Michigan faculty senate, by a 127-96 margin, approved in an advisory vote yesterday the Big Ten continuing its Rose Bowl football contract with the Pacific Coast conference.

But in a overwhelming voice vote, the faculty went on record against more than a three-year extension of the agreement.

Soviet Leaders Must Evolve a New Control System

By TOM WHITNEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Two months ago today Nikita Khrushchev denounced Joseph Stalin. By this act he took the post-Stalin leadership of the U.S.S.R. past "the point of no return."

* * *

By destroying the Stalin myth the Kremlin leaders burned their bridges behind them. They made it impossible for themselves—and perhaps for anyone else—to return to Stalin-type rule of the Soviet Union.

That's why Feb. 24, 1956 will be remembered in history.

FIND NEW WAY

The Soviet leaders must now push forward in the search they began when Stalin died three years ago — for a new way of running their country. They must also continue to seek new modes of accommodation with the outside world. The things which have happened since Feb. 24 are only the beginnings. But they are signposts to the future.

MAIN EVENTS

Here are the main, significant events since Khrushchev delivered his speech, the text of which remains secret, but not its major outlines:

1. The Kremlin leaders decided to break the news to the public by word-of-mouth and gradual revelations in the press. The party's Central Committee sent a letter to party organizations embodying some of Khrushchev's indictment of the dead dictator. These were read to party members, who then went out and spread the word among other Soviet citizens. On March 27 Pravda assailed Stalin directly but with only vague references to the crimes Khrushchev laid at his door. Other publications then followed — but slowly and with similar gentleness.

* * *

2. First sharp reaction came in Tiflis. Led by students, crowds came close to taking over for several days this Georgian city where Stalin began his revolutionary career. The most important thing about the Tiflis developments was that they showed some Soviet people were no longer afraid to undertake an open manifestation against the government.

* * *

3. The next reaction was revealed in an editorial in Pravda April 4. It condemned "rotten elements" in the party for using the drive to discredit the party.

* * *

4. Then the rehabilitations began, and the list of people condemned under Stalin as traitors whose records were cleansed grew in length.

The rehabilitation movement also spread to the satellites.

* * *

5. Some people got promotions: Edward Ekhab became chief of the Polish Communist party after Boleslav Bierut died in Moscow. Anton Yugov became prime minister of Bulgaria. Vladimir Matskevich, previously minister of agriculture, became a deputy premier in the U.S.S.R.

* * *

Most important promotion was that of Marshal Georgi Zhukov to the Soviet Communist party's Presidium, the first career army officer ever to ascend this high in party circles. This, most observers felt, indicated the Soviet army has increased its political prestige and strength.

* * *

6. Others got demotions. Vulke Chervenkov fell from his job as prime minister of Bulgaria amid charges he had furthered a "personality cult" — Stalin-type rule.

* * *

7. The anti-Stalin campaign was not unrelated to foreign affairs and one of its most obvious manifestations was the Soviet effort to appeal to non-Communist Socialists to join with Communists in united fronts.

* * *

8. The dissolution April 17 of the Cominform was clearly intended to further the impression of Kremlin peaceful intentions. Beyond this it was designed to placate Yugoslavia's President Tito. Actually the Cominform had been inactive for a long time.

* * *

9. Soviet agreement to join the international atoms-for-peace organization fitted into this same picture of public demonstration of peaceful intentions.

Reds Claim U.S. in Berlin Use Intricate Spy Tunnel

BERLIN (UP) — The U. S. Command in Berlin today denied knowledge of a tunnel the Russians charged was used by spies tapping the Soviets' main communication lines.

A U. S. spokesman said, however, that the Soviet accusation "is being investigated." Another American official described the Soviet charge as "ridiculous."

The Russians announced last night that their signal and intelligence officers uncovered a long and elaborately equipped tunnel running from the American sector of Berlin into the Soviet sector.

* * *

They accused "American military authorities" of digging the tunnel and equipping it with an intricate system of listening devices, switchboards and recording apparatus. The Soviets claimed the Americans tapped three main cables which supply communications for their forces in East Germany.

The Soviets claimed the tunnel was detected Sunday by their signalmen. The East German government news agency ADN said Americans were in the tunnel and withdrew in a "great hurry." It added that lights in the tunnel were burning and listening devices were turned on.

After a news conference in East Berlin, the Soviets showed Western and Communist newsmen through the tunnel. It contained an air-conditioning system, a switchboard, an amplifier, recording devices and the three cables which the Russians said were tapped.

Each cable carried about 100 wires. The Soviets claimed all the equipment — except the cables — was of American or British manufacture.

* * *

The tunnel itself was about 1,600 feet long. Berlin newsmen familiar with the area estimated that about two thirds of it was under the Soviet sector and the rest extended into the American sector.

New 'Crime Tax' Costs Driver Extra 2 Dollars

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Kentucky's new "tax on crime" cost Alden K. Young an extra $2.

The law, apparently being applied for the first time, provides that a $2 tax be imposed in cases involving fines to be paid into the state treasury. Young was fined $100 for reckless driving yesterday and Judge Frank A. Ropke immediately tacked on the tax.

MANILA (UP)—Two villagers were reported killed and a number of homes sacked and burned in a raid by Moro pirates on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao.

Turkish Cypriots Set Shops Afire

Revenge Seeking Group Destroy Greek-Owned Building in Nicosia

NICOSIA (INS) — Revenge-seeking Turkish Cypriots set fire to several Greek-owned shops in the Turkish quarters of Nicosia today.

* * *

The blazing shops caused a thick pall of smoke to hang over the old quarter where two Turks were killed and several Greeks were wounded yesterday.

Turks ran through the streets smashing the windows of Greek-owned stores before British troops finally dispersed the demonstrators.

A curfew that had been imposed on the quarter yesterday by the British was lifted before the demonstrations began, then was clamped on again.

Cypriots of Greek descent, who make up about three-quarters of the population of Cyprus, have been bitterly opposed by Turkish Cypriots in their violent campaign for union with Greece.

* * *

District One of the BPW Has Meeting

Clubs Honor New Members at Affair in West Bloomfield

Two hundred and sixty-eight members of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, representing 22 clubs in District One, gathered at West Bloomfield High School Sunday.

* * *

Pontiac, Waterford Township and Keego Harbor clubs were hostess groups for the gathering honoring new members. The theme for the meeting was "Honoring the Future," with "Aim High" and "Achieve Your Goals" as the national and state themes.

During the business meeting held prior to dinner, reports were heard from members of the standing committees and the district officers. Mrs. Charles Leaf, chairman of District One, presided.

In addressing the group, Virginia Allen, president of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, directed her remarks to the 56 new members who were later initiated into the organization in a candlelight ceremony.

* * *

The speaker reminded the members that the group was organized at the request of the United States government during World War I.

ABILITY, QUALITY

"As businesswomen we have an obligation to set high standards for young women. Today we have discrimination in attitudes and we are particularly interested in changing the minds of women in their attitudes toward one another in business. They have ability and quality and it must be recognized," the speaker stated.

* * *

Past state presidents who were introduced were Mrs. Ross Boyd, Vemba Dunlap and Mrs. Betty Penzien. Other state officers present were Helen McNamara, Dorothy Rowley and Clara Edmonds.

Mrs. Leaf was re-elected as chairman of the district at the election held during the meeting. Serving with the chairman are Dorothea Seifert, vice chairman; Lelia Wycoff, secretary and treasurer, and Helen McNamara state nominating committee.

Richard McClerck, president of the West Bloomfield School Board, welcomed the group.

First Lady of Business Honored

Pontioak Chapter Joins in Program

All over the country secretaries are observing National Secretaries' Week. This week's celebration, which was proclaimed nationally by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and locally by Mayor William Donaldson, honors the secretary, first lady of American business, and draws attention to the advantages of a career as a professional secretary.

On hand for the signing of the proclamation declaring April 22-28 as National Secretaries' Week, with Wednesday designated as National Secretaries' Day, were Cassandra Waterman of Niagara Falls, N. Y., president of the National Secretaries' Association (International), the world's largest association for women in one profession, and K. P. Morse, president of the Office Equipment Manufacturers' Institute, co-sponsors of the week.

Miss Waterman announced that the theme for the week is "Better Secretaries Mean Better Business."

National Secretaries' Association is taking an important part in this year's "week" — partly to make management ever more aware of the secretary's contribution and partly to help secretaries improve themselves for their jobs and thereby for industry as a whole.

* * *

Prominent among the association's activities for the week will be Career Day talks. Another feature of the week will be secretarial workshops.

During National Secretaries' Week, through the press, radio and television, the association will continue to keep the public informed of its CPS—Certified Professional Secretary program, which is one of its most important works.

Open to all qualified secretaries, members or non-members of the National Secretaries' Association, the CPS program culminates annually in a 12-hour certifying examination aimed at giving secretaryship professional status.

Each chapter engages in civic and welfare projects, and through these a member can contribute much to her community. There are also educational programs, such as workshops, worked out in local chapters. The last full week in April has been set aside each year to honor all American secretaries.

* * *

Oakland County's own Secretary of the Year, Mrs. William Robinson, is being honored this week. She was chosen for the honor from among those members of the Pontioak Chapter of National Secretaries' Association employed by businesses and professional men throughout Oakland County.

Local chairman of National Secretaries' Week is Morene Frady, and handling publicity is Mrs. Russell Brackett. Pontioak Chapter celebrates National Secretaries Day Wednesday, as it begins its third year of existence, according to Mary Eleanor Lockman, president of the Pontioak chapter.

Today 20 million women are working in the United States. More than a million of them are in the secretarial field.

Her pride can't help showing, when she receives this cosmetic gift for Mother's Day. Resembling a miniature straw basket, it contains three grooming essentials; soap, talc powder and essence.

9-Day Reducing Diet

Overweight Weakens Both Health, Morale

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Remember the old-fashioned spring tonic which held sway for years? Even if you never took it you probably remember hearing about it—sulphur and molasses!

* * *

Why not make your spring tonic this year a new figure? This is not as superficial as it may sound to you. Overweight is unhealthful. It places a strain on every organ in your body. Reducing when done properly is a health measure as well as a cosmetic procedure.

A new figure is also a splendid spring tonic because of the way it makes you feel, the boost it gives your ego. Getting rid of that roll over the girdle or that pad of fat on the tummy is a morale builder. It will make you feel younger as well as look younger.

You can lose from 5 to 10 pounds in just nine days time if you follow my 9-Day Reducing Diet which is running now in this column. Here are tomorrow's menus.

WEDNESDAY
Breakfast

One-half grapefruit, one thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, black coffee.

Mid-Morning

Glass of skimmed milk or buttermilk.

Luncheon

One poached egg, one thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, one-half cup broccoli, one glass skimmed milk.

Dinner

Two crisp raw carrots, baked fish (medium portion), one-half cup green peas, shredded lettuce salad, lemon dressing, fresh fruit cup (don't eat canned fruit).

* * *

If you would like to have the complete diet in a convenient booklet sent 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Though Spring Bursts Forth Gals Needn't Burst Seams."

Man Asks Who Pays Meal Check

Often Encounters Girl Acquaintance at Restaurant

By EMILY POST

The following letter is from a man who tells me: "A young woman whom I take out occasionally in the evening works just around the corner from where I do. Every once in a while I run into her at one of the neighborhood restaurants at lunchtime.

"If she is sitting alone I usually join her. When this happens, should I pick up her lunch check, or would it be proper to let her pay her own. An answer from you will be appreciated."

Answer: Since you did not invite her to lunch, it is not your obligation to pay her check. Best advice to you is don't begin it, because if you do, you can't stop. (If you are very well-to-do this would, of course, be quite all right.)

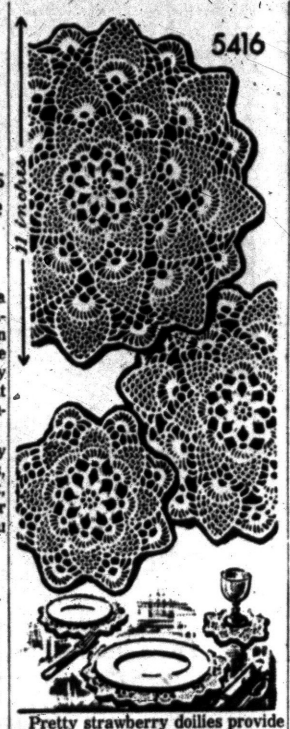

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening I entertained a group of eight women at my house. Refreshments consisting of small sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. A friend of mine criticized me for serving granulated sugar with the coffee instead of lump sugar.

"I was very much surprised at this as I never knew there was a right and wrong kind of sugar to serve. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?"

Answer: I do not consider it at all important, but according to correct custom, square lump sugar is served with hot tea and hot coffee. Powdered or granulated sugar is served with iced tea and iced coffee because it melts more quickly.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I was at a dinner given for my husband. A toast was proposed to him and everyone stood to drink. I stood up with the others and drank, although I was uncomfortable because I really didn't know whether, as his wife, I should take part or not."

Answer: If the toast had been to you as well as him, you would not have stood. But as it was to him alone, you were correct in standing.

Event Slated at Lincoln Junior High

Performance Will Feature Conductor Di Blasi

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, organized in February 1953, will present the final performance of the season Wednesday at Lincoln Junior High School. The concert, scheduled for 8 p.m., will feature Francesco DiBlasi, conductor and trumpetist.

* * *

Mr. DiBlasi has guided the symphony since its beginning three years ago. Dale Harris, director of instrumental music for Pontiac public schools, said in 1953, "We hope to make this orchestra a place where musicians can employ their art, and a means of outstanding cultural entertainment for the entire city, as well."

Now, three years later, still under the able directorship of Mr. DiBlasi, the symphony has fulfilled Mr. Harris' hopes, particularly in the respect that the orchestra will continue to promote and provide cultural entertainment for the city of Pontiac.

Wednesday night's program includes:

Overture Midsummer Night's Dream ..... Mendelssohn
Symphony No. 38 (Prague) ..... Mozart
Adagio ..... Allegro
Andante Finale ..... Presto
Intermission
Concerto for Trumpet, Piano and Strings ..... Saint Saens
Preambule ..... Piu Allegro
Minuet
Intermede
Gavotte ...et final
Francesco DiBlasi—trumpet
Norman Clifford—piano
Laforsa del Destina ..... Verdi

Mr. DiBlasi, also a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will sail for Rome in May to audition as conductor with the famous St. Cecilia Orchestra. To audition, he must be prepared to conduct 18 major symphonies.

* * *

The Pontiac Symphony, organized on a subscription basis, is now in its fourth season, a sellout. Its foundation has been laid and its growth means opportunities for many to express their talents in orchestral music.

Valuable experiences are gained by young students playing with more seasoned artists.

Following the concert, coffee will be served to guests to afford an opportunity for them to meet Dr. DiBlasi and members of the symphony.

Alumnae of Mercy to Hold Family Day

Mercy College's Alumnae Family Day will be held on Sunday in the Mercy Social Hall. The annual event is designed to bring graduates and their families together for a friendly reunion where old acquaintances can be renewed.

This year the family will go to the "circus" in the Social Hall. Mrs. Paul Delozier, chairman of the program, and her assistants have transformed the hall into a "big top" with clowns, balloons, pink lemonade and all.

JEAN DUNLOP

The engagement of Jean Dunlop to Robert Lyle Cummins is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Dunlop of Cherokee road. Robert, a graduate of the University of Washington, is the son of Mrs. Violet Carr of Seattle, Wash. The wedding will be solemnized May 26 in Los Angeles.

Oily Scalp Can Also Cause Problem of Dandruff Hair

Many mature women who keep a close watch on the progressive drying of their skins and hair also notice the beginnings of dandruff, which they may never have had before. They automatically assume that this is also an indication of drying.

Quite the reverse is true. Dandruff is the consequence of an oily scalp, however dry the rest of the skin may be. These same women attempt to cure what they feel is a "dry" difficulty with various oily shampoos and treatments.

This may seem to work for a while. What it is actually doing is pasting down the dandruff rather than removing it. When the effectiveness of the oil passes the dandruff flakes up again.

There are many shampoos designed for those with skin and scalp trouble. There are also many medications, available on prescription from a doctor, that treat dandruff. Finding the right one is a matter of trial and error since your skin may be quite different from your neighbor's.

If dandruff is getting to be a really serious problem with a mature woman, she should certainly see a doctor and get him to prescribe something potent. Many of the allergy-treating drugs, in ointment form, have been found to work wonders on dandruff.

Super-fatted soaps, nonalkaline soaps, cleansing cakes that contain no soap at all—many of these are available from the druggist's drawer.

Keep trying. But don't, under any circumstances, treat dandruff as a dry skin problem.

Sunset Club Holds Dedication of Flag

Sunset Club, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, dedicated its new American Flag at the recent meeting at Wilson School. The Flag was presented to the club by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, charter members.

Mrs. Little spoke on the history of the American Flag and gave a short account of the founding of the club. Members repeated the Pledge to the Flag and sang several songs. Mrs. Andre Govan was a guest. The next meeting will be at Wilson School May 3.

Expansion Aims Keynote Military Reserve Week

Mayor William W. Donaldson has proclaimed the week of April 22-28 as Military Reserve Week in Pontiac with the tradition of devoting one week of each year in special homage to U. S. military reserve forces.

The five Reserve units in the Pontiac area have gone from five men to 203 in nine years and are striving to further increase that total during the observance which is currently being celebrated throughout the country.

Chief aim, according to Maj. Edward Godalusin, Fifth Army adviser, is to fill the 37 vacancies among the groups currently in the command.

They include the 703rd Tank Battalion, Hdq. & Hdq. Detachment, 307th Ordnance Battalion, the 401st Army Postal unit, and a Field Artillery Battalion now in the process of activation.

Area Reserves have a great deal to look forward to if current plans for the construction of a large, new Reserve Training Center can be completed, Major Godalusin said this week.

The planned training center would be built on five acres of land on Orchard Lake road. If land-lease approval is given by the city, reserve officials hope to have bids out by fall in order that the building can go up within nine months.

Four units would make use of the structure and several new vacancies would be created with the activation of the field artillery.

Major Godalusin said the Reserves would maintain full-time operation of the center and utilize it three nights a week for meetings. He added that other programs could be held and that there was a possibility of making it available for community use.

If built on the regular Reserve pattern, the structure would have a drill hall, indoor range, assembly room, class rooms, office space, a day room, locker rooms, and a kitchen.

Such a change would be the fourth different location used by reserves here. The group started in 1947 with five officers meeting regularly at Pontiac High School.

Classroom instruction and training films are featured at present weekly meetings at the 37 West Lawrence site which is made up of a small assembly room, three class rooms, an officer's room, and basement. Supply rooms and lockers are in the basement.

Army Reserves hold two-hour meetings and require each member to take two weeks field training each summer at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin. The program is under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Military District.

The 703rd is the oldest of the local units with 130 men, while the Postal Unit started meeting in January and has since added 12 men.

The busy major is optimistic over the future of Pontiac units with all growing rapidly and the hope of having a brand new building to train in.

* * *

His comment on the now-forming Field Artillery group seems indicative of his hopes for all concerned. "I have a feeling it will really go places, he said.

The Helpless Female Is Becoming Passe'

Mom Emerges as Family 'Fixer'

By JANICE HAYHOW

There's no question about it. Pontiac women have joined the do-it-yourself craze with a flourish. Hammer in hand, milady now waltzes through the toughest building or repairing job in utter serenity.

Where the age-old male task of straight painting is concerned, the female counterpart takes brush in hand and with a flip of the wrist makes exciting little curlicues that add the touch of an expert.

The time-honored flock of helpless women slumps further into oblivion and most everyone is saying, "Good riddance!"

Woman's realm in home creativeness has long been sewing curtains, washing walls, occasionally painting a chair and working in the garden. But now she slaps on wallpaper, casually builds an end table or two, reupholsters the sofa and holds down a full time job on the side.

When the faucet leaks these days, no more running to hubby with pleas and threats to "come right now and fix this or I won't be able to get a thing done!" Nope! Our 1956 housewife is already prepared. She shrugs a cool shoulder, removes the faucet head, and puts the new washer firmly in place while hubby shakes his head in amazement.

Women are invading man's most sacred and exclusive retreat . . . his workshop . . . and reports say the men are holding up remarkably well.

Ben Ronan of Simms Brothers in Pontiac says it isn't at all unusual for a woman to buy washers for a faucet and order them by the right size. She often reveals that she intends to put them on, he said.

He added that women often come in and ask how to do such things as install accordion doors or put together some gadget because they're planning to "do-it-themselves."

"Wiring has stayed pretty much a man's job, I think," Ronan continued. "Women seem a little afraid to tackle that job yet."

Mrs. Ann Nacarto of Brown Brothers said that manufacturers are making it easier for women to do the work themselves. New wallpaper, pre-pasted and pre - trimmed, makes hanging it a cinch, she said.

With all the new products on the market women's cleaning jobs go down, too, she continued. Plastic coating for wallpaper is just one thing that makes cleaning so much easier.

Robert Reynnells of F. J. Poole Lumber and Building Supply, agreed that women are becoming handier. They are the biggest purchasers of floor tile, wall coverings plus the new rigid decorative wall board, Reynnells said.

One big factor responsible for this, he continued, is the instruction given by manufacturers for their products. Now instructions are not only visual (illustrated on a sheet of paper), but manufacturers are distributing 78 rpm records to give full audio instructions to do-it-yourselfers.

Women don't buy lumber too frequently, Reynnells said. "Occasionally they come in with a picture and instructions they've found on how to build an end table or some other construction work and then buy the pieces of lumber to build it."

One of women's favorite working materials is peg board, he said. "It's not only easy to work with, but very versatile."

Louis Scheffler, manager of the Do-It-Yourself Mart, says they make it easy for women to do their own work. They furnish instructions for everything. Women are top tile buyers, too, he said.

And what does the "fairer sex" think of these new found skills formerly claimed only by the male faction?

Well, not too much. There just isn't time to sit back and gloat about accomplishments. What with running a home, building, remodeling, repairing, painting, getting the kids off to school and sometimes holding down a full time job to boot, our Pontiac housewives, can't spare the time for a little well-deserved boasting.

"DO-IT-YOURSELF" CAN BE FUN — Rickey Hicks, 3, of Flint, shows one good reason why his parents call him the "little clipper." Rickey ferreted out the electric hair clippers from a cupboard and went to work on his brother, Michael, 2, with obvious results. Then he turned the clippers on himself but was not quite so thorough. Mother figures both heads would have to be shaved and given a fresh start.

Truman to Act Only in Deadlock

Denies Dem Candidacy but Promises Fireworks for Republicans

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Truman says he will not take a hand in the selection of the 1956 Democratic nominee for president unless a deadlock appears inevitable.

He declared in an interview yesterday:

"If it should develop that a decision can't be reached any other way, I'll do all I can to help should I be called on."

PIVOTAL ROLE

The former President well knows the pivotal role he might be called upon to play if there is a deadlock. It has guided his refusal to make a personal choice this early.

Truman shrugs off any suggestion he run against President Eisenhower in November, he said.

"If I were younger, I might consider it," he said. "But no one has ever been elected to the presidency after reaching 65 and lived to serve out his term."

Truman will be 72 May 8. President Eisenhower was 65 last Oct. 14.

"I'm saving my fireworks for the Republicans," Truman said. "We can win if we make a fighting campaign.

"The Republicans will have all the money, but the issues will be all in our favor.

"The Republicans boast of peace and prosperity. But where is the real peace in a world where little wars could develop into big ones? And where is your prosperity if little business and the farmer don't share it? And how long can it last if they don't?"

Dog and Pigeon Best of Buddies; Irate Peck Only Rift in Friendship

BY CHARLES W. ABAIR

Among unique combinations of family pets to be found in the Pontiac area is a pigeon-dog team owned by 13-year-old Nora Bailey, of 500 Raeburn St.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bailey sees nothing unusual about having a pigeon and dog together since she has had them around for two years now and has watched their strong friendship blossom.

"Biscuit" and "Squeekie," nicknames of the dog and bird, respectively, have become constant companions since the pigeon entered the Bailey household and now even eat their meals from the very same plate.

The beginning of the union goes back to 1954. Biscuit had been the family pet for two years when the young pigeon landed in the Bailey yard while learning to fly.

The bird soon became a regular member of the family and drew its nickname from the little noise it makes when walking around.

Biscuit is a small, white and black four-year-old of mixed breeds while Nora estimates her pigeon is a little over two years old.

Both pets have been brought up on oats and the pigeon still thrives on this food. But the dog has come to prefer meat off bones. "Anything my dog eats, my pigeon will eat," said Nora and she cited one incident of a quarrel between the pair as a good example.

On this occasion, Biscuit was chewing on a bone when Squeekie tried to get some of the meat, resulting in the dog biting the pigeon under the eyes. "We doctored her and the eye healed," the girl remarked. It was one of the few times the pets have tangled.

Normally the dog looks after the bird chasing other dogs and cats away from the Bailey yard. They often play together and Squeekie follows Biscuit to the park to roam there.

A little jealousy reigns between the pets at times, according to the proud owner. She related how her mother recently picked up the pigeon and the dog started acting up.

It was the other way around on Easter Sunday when Mr. Bailey took Biscuit for a walk to nearby Murphy Park and the pigeon flew all the way over and back "to see what was going on."

Her father, who works nights, usually cares for the pair while Nora is attending Eastern Junior High. She takes over after returning from classes.

The pets spend most of the day in the yard although the pigeon often flies to nearby lawns for food. Squeekie is kept in a bird cage at night and Biscuit has a dog house.

Young Miss Bailey says the pigeon has never flown away to stay for any length of time. "She sometimes goes to the next street but always comes back," explained Nora. The dog was hit by a car once but not hurt seriously.

Both pets answer to their names and will usually go to a member of the family when called. The pigeon, however, shies away from strangers. Nora has taught Biscuit to do some tricks but says of Squeekie: "She just walks around looking for things to eat."

One of the pigeon's favorite habits is to stand on the dog's back when it is sleeping or lying down. "When the dog's ears wiggle, the bird pecks them," said the girl. The pets are very popular with Nora friends.

Which of the two do Nora and her parents like best? "We try not to favor either because we love them both the same," she answered in conclusion.

Toronto Child Saved by Indian Blood Gift

TORONTO (AP) — For the second time in a year a gift of blood from a part-Indian mother living in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains has meant life to a child thousands of miles away.

The drama in which the life-giving donation was rushed across Canada by plane began within hours of the infant boy's birth Friday in Oshawa General Hospital.

Doctors noticed the baby was developing a jaundice condition. Tests confirmed one of the rarest combinations of blood factors—the RH deletion—known. Twenty-three members of an Alberta family are the only source of such blood known to the Red Cross.

A telephone call to Edmonton sent a Red Cross doctor 150 miles by car to the home of Mrs. Clara L'Hirondelle at Marlboro. The blood was put aboard a trans-Canada Air Lines plane and arrived in Toronto Sunday.

Veteran Pension Bills Contradict Bradley's Advice

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Committee prepared to act today on bills to broaden veterans pensions — just two days after a presidential commission recommended they be scaled down.

* * *

Up for Veterans Committee action at a closed session today were scores of pension and compensation bills. Among them were far-reaching proposals, by major veterans groups, which ran counter to proposals of the commission headed by retired Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

Congressional reaction was split in the wake of Bradley's testimony to the Committee yesterday on the commission's conclusions, made public Sunday after a year-long study.

Among some 70 proposals that would greatly change veterans benefits, the commission said non-service-connected pensions should be gradually done away with as Social Security payments increase.

A major bill before the Committee is sponsored by the American Legion.

Driver Lacking License Gets Chased by Police

DETROIT (INS) — Police today captured a motorist whose driver's license had been revoked after a frantic chase through downtown Detroit during the morning rush hour.

Officers fired three shots at the automobile of James Robert Doyle, 25, of Detroit, before he was finally stopped at Baubien and Franklin. He had made an improper turn.

The chase centered around the old city hall shortly after 8 a. m.

Doyle, whose driver's license heading for their jobs.

when thousands were on the streets was revoked last September by Traffic Judge George T. Murphy, was finally stopped near the Detroit River when his car was forced to the curb.

Wisconsin Boy Takes All Wedding Pictures

By EARL WILSON

MONTE CARLO — A steak-and-apple pie boy from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., came to this tiny monarchy to take the official wedding pictures of Grace Kelly and her Prince for the whole world.

"Over at the palace," said Howell P. Conant, 38, the handsome glamour photog whom Grace brought with her, "we had a color lab set up in a big bathroom adjacent to the Prince's apartment . . ." (This was before the Big Day, of course).

"We brought over three wardrobe trunks full of equipment . . . over $20,000 worth . . . there must be 15 cameras."

GRACE & HAIRDRESSER

Conant and I were riding in a carriage along the famous Monte Carlo harbor and he was speaking respectfully but breezily of Grace whom he frequently called "Kelly."

"I guess I've taken at least 5,000 exposures of Kelly," he said. "A year ago in some of her press pictures she didn't look too good.

"I used to get some unflattering candids of her but now it's impossible. Now there are no bad ones. I think she's thinner . . ."

Conant, whose father and grandfather were photographers, was designated by Grace and Prince Rainier to take the official color pictures of the wedding . . . exclusively, of course.

"I think she's the most beautiful woman I've ever photographed and I want these to be the most beautiful wedding photographs ever taken."

About every six months, he says, "Kelly changes, photographically."

★ ★ ★ ★

Conant first photographed Grace in his New York studio about 18 months ago. Then he shot her in Jamaica in a head-above-the-water shot that was a cover for Collier's — and since that for 15 other magazines.

Nat 'King' Cole Joins NAACP

Singer Buys $500 Life Membership; Dedicates to End Discrimination

DETROIT (AP) — Singer Nat (King) Cole has bought a $500 life membership in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) because, he said, he is "dedicated to the elimination of all forms of discrimination."

Cole said he also took the step yesterday to put down criticism of a statement he made after he was attacked recently by a group of white men while performing in Birmingham, Ala.

Answering a telegram of support from the NAACP, Cole had replied that he was not a crusader and that he felt he could do the most effective work for racial equality in his role as a musician.

His statement, Cole said, was distorted by some to mean that he opposed the NAACP.

"It is obvious," he added, "that those who are opposed to equality and dignity of all men have used the unfortunate Birmingham incident as a weapon against the NAACP, against me, and against the fight for first class citizenship".

Cole was in Detroit for a stage appearance.

Ike Favors Medal for Notable Citizens

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has expressed his strong personal support of a proposed new medal similar to the French legion of honor to be awarded for distinguished civilian achievement.

It was agreed at a White House conference that a study group should proceed with further discussions leading to creation of the medal.

The award would be given for distinguished achievement in such fields as science, the arts and letters.

The group meeting with Eisenhower included president Harold W. Dodds of Princeton University; Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and Percival Brundage, director of the Budget Bureau.

Sallade Asks Re-election to House From Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) announced today he will seek re-election to the House this fall.

The 33-year-old legislator had considered running for the Republican nomination for Governor, but backed out Saturday when Republican leaders started booming Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo for the nomination.

Sallade, elected to a first term in 1954, was the spokesman for the "Young Turk" Republicans in the House, who occasionally sided with Democrats on critical issues.

Everybody's Welcome

KALAMAZOO (AP)—It's been 50 years since Everett Vander Roest moved to this country from his native Netherlands so he threw a party to celebrate. Vander Roest, 65-year-old plasterer, said he wanted to tell his friends and neighbors he thinks this is the "finest country in the world." One of his five sons was killed in World War II.

Hollywood Headlines:

Anita Ekberg Considers Movie Men Uninteresting

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Anita Ekberg, engaged to wed a British actor, failed to find a husband here because Hollywood men are "married, engaged or dull."

* * *

This will no doubt be a blow to the ego of movie males, but the sizzling Swede declares it's true. She says all the interesting men here are already claimed.

What about the rest?

"SO VERY DULL"

"The men here are not very interesting," she said. "I never even liked to go out with actors, because they can talk about one thing only: acting. That is so very dull.

"I do not like to talk about acting all the time. I like to do my work and then leave it."

* * *

How come she is marrying an actor? The lucky fellow is Anthony Steel, well-known English player.

"He does not act like an actor when he is away from his work," she commented. "When we are together, we never talk about acting. We talk about anything else."

* * *

Obviously she is nuts about the guy. She said that they met in London quite by accident.

RELUCTANT GUEST

"I was asked to go to a premiere by Warwick Productions, for whom I was making a picture," she remarked. "I didn't want to go, but the publicity man urged me to and asked me to come to a small dinner beforehand in one of the suites of the Savoy Hotel. I was going to the premiere with him.

* * *

"Tony was also at the dinner, though all the others were not in the picture business. He was going to the premiere, but he had no one to go with. So he took me. After that, we saw each other every night.

"I came back here, and he followed about 10 days later. That's when we decided to get married."

* * *

When will it happen?

"Perhaps in a month, when I go to Florence to see him," she said. "He is making a picture in Italy."

Hare Refutes Feikens' Blast

Counters Charges With Claim State GOP Uses 'Big Lie' Technique

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of State James M. Hare declared last night that "not a single one of the persons who later became branch managers" under him "contributed to my campaign in 1954."

But, Hare said, sworn records show that 85 branch managers appointed by Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary contributed to Cleary's unsuccessful re-election campaign.

Hare is a Democrat; Cleary a Republican.

Hare also said personal political appointees, "beholden" to Cleary contributed 62 per cent of his total campaign funds.

The Secretary of State's speech was in answer to what he said were "certain grave public charges against your Department of State and myself" by Republican State Chairman John Feikens.

SUCH 'UGLY WORDS'

Hare said Feikens had used "such ugly words as 'blackmail,' 'political kickback,' 'selling state jobs,' 'demanding tribute,' and 'corruption.'

"It grows daily more apparent," Hare continued, "that the Republican Parfy leaders in this political election year intend to use the 'Big Lie' technique as their basic device to mislead the voters."

Hare accused Feikens of "hypocrisy." He said:

"Most of the branch managers of the Secretary of State are political appointees. The jobs are political patronage. There is no secret to this. This was true during the long years the Republicans occupied the office of Secretary of State and it is true today."

"The Republican charge of corruption," Hare said, "is political hokum. The real corruption lies in their hypocrisy and in their motives."

Jack Graham in the Spotlight

Call Sullen Youth, 24, Deliberate Killer of Mother, 43 Others

DENVER (INS) — The spoiled son, Jack Graham, 24, was spotlighted today as the deliberate, cold-blooded slayer of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 55, in the dynamiting of a United Air Lines DC6B which blew up killing her and 43 other persons.

* * *

Graham, a dark, sullen youth with a poker face and crew ahircut, sat coldly impassive in district court as prosecution witnesses treked to the stand and gave details of what transpired before and after ill-fated flight 629 took off from Denver last Nov. 1.

The boyish-looking defendant didn't bat an eye when Jack Legg, UAL passenger agent at Stapleton Field, Denver, dramatically pointed a finger at him and said Graham was at the ticket counter with his mother when she was protesting paying $27.82 excess baggage on her three pieces of luggage.

The prosecutor demanded the death penalty which would mean that if Graham is convicted of first degree murder, he may have to die in the gas chamber.

Jailed on Three Counts

Leon Butler Jr., 23, of 489 Marion St., has been jailed by Oakland County officials for 60 days after pleading guilty on three counts in an arraignment held by Justice Elmer C. Ike, as Pennsylvanian, Casts His First Ballot

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower cast his first ballot as a Pennsylvanian today in a presidential preference primary matching him against Democrat Adlai Stevenson in a popularity test.

* * *

A heavy, wet snow was falling as the smiling President arrived at the Cumberland Township polling place at 7:04 a.m., four minutes after the unit had opened for business.

His was the first ballot in.

Wearing a tan topcoat and a brown hat, he had to make his way through a big crowd of reporters and photographers who jammed every vantage point inside the 10x15-foot white frame voting place some four miles from his farm home.

Eisenhower presented himself to Clerk Herbert G. Raab, who handed him a voter's certificate, which the President signed.

The chief executive then received ballot No. 1 from Raab and went directly into voting booth No. 5 in a row of five, dropping a white curtain behind him as he entered.

* * *

He took only 60 seconds to mark his Republican ballot.

He planned to be back in Washington for most of a day's work.

* * *

He drove from Washington to his farm last night. He registered here last Feb. 3, officially transferring his legal residence to Pennsylvania from New York.

Joe 'Sold' Title to IBC, U.S. Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — The government produced a series of documents yesterday charging the International Boxing Club with offering former heavyweight champion Joe Louis $150,000 to resign as champ and sign the four leading challengers to exclusive contracts as the monopoly trial of the IBC continued.

* * *

Assistant U.S. Attorneys William J. Elkins and Lawrence Gochberg traced the details of the formation and operation of the IBC through the documents to support the claim that club operates in restraint of free enterprise in professional boxing.

* * *

The government contended that an agreement was reached in early 1948 with Louis turning over the contracts to the IBC for $150,000.

Under the agreement, it was claimed Gus Lesnevich received $10,000 and Lee Savold was paid $5,000. Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott, the other two contenders, were to meet in the first match for the title.

* * *

The government also produced documents purported to show how Jim Norris, IBC president, and his associates, bought off the late Mike Jacobs with $100,000 to gain control of Madison Square Garden.

The documents were presented to Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, who is sitting without a jury in Federal District Court for the trial in which the government is seeking to dissolve the "amalgamation of power" of the defendants and to enjoin the "illegal practice through which it was achieved."

The IBC of New York, the IBC of Illinois, Madison Square Garden Corporation and James D. Norris, are named as the defendants in the Justice Department suit.

Ol' Satch Returns

Will Help Miami Club

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Miami Marlins are counting on Leroy (Satchel) Paige to help them off the ground in the International League race but the ancient pitcher insists it won't be by helicopter.

* * *

Paige came to the Marlins on opening night—by whirlybird. He was supposed to land on the pitcher's mound before the game but somehow the pilot missed his signal and it wasn't until the second inning that Satch stepped out of the flying machine in a cloud of dust.

* * *

He was properly attired in a baseball uniform and ambled to the dugout. Someone brought a rocking chair, Paige obligingly took it and struck a familar pose.

Bill Veeck, executive vice president of the Marlins, insists that bringing in Paige was no joke but a sincere effort to help the ball club.

* * *

"This is no joke," Veeck said. "I wouldn't have brought Satch here if he wasn't going to be a help to the ball club. "The old boy still has got a lot on the ball. I honestly think he'll be a big help."

Asked what it cost to bring Paige to the Marlins, Veeck admitted only that he comes "high."

* * *

"Paige and I have been friends for years," Bill said. "He was with me last year on a barnstorming tour. He can still pitch."

Paige, who entertains the other players with his antics, retired the final batter Sunday night in the second game of a doubleheader to save a 3-2 decision for Miami.

* * *

Last night Manager Don Osborn called on him and Paige came through again. He pitched to Allie Clark, the ex-Cleveland outfielder who came on as a pinch hitter.

* * *

Clark hit the ball solidly but outfielder Dave Mann raced to his left and hauled it in for the final out for Rochester, who won the game anyway, 2-1.

SKEETERS — The above four members of the Bill Brown family of Birmingham are real "skeeters." All placed in either 1st or 2nd spots in the weekend annual spring shoot at OCSC. At top is Bill senior, just over Bill Jr. In the middle is Bud and at bottom is the family skeet-shooting hotshot, young Eddie Brown who was a sensation at last year's Nationals at Waterford.

Ted Gets Rest as Cold Benches Majors With Only One Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How much does Ted Williams mean to the Boston Red Sox?

The inescapable truth is that the Red Sox, without Ted Williams, are a second-division club. With him, they're a pennant contender.

* * *

The recent series with the New York Yankees demonstrated how feeble the club really is when Williams is out of the lineup.

* * *

The combination of a light schedule and bad weather yesterday, which wiped out all major league action except Brooklyn's 6-1 victory over Philadelphia, gave an opportunity for a check of Boston box scores during the past four seasons. Starting with 1952, the year Williams left the club to serve his second term with the Marines, the figures plainly show Ted's value to the Red Sox.

* * *

From the start of the 1952 season to date, the Red Sox have won 316 games while losing 305 for a .509 percentage. With Williams in the lineup, they won 144 and lost 111. That's a .565 gait. Without him, they won 172 and lost 194 for a .470 percentage.

Boston won the first two games handily this season. Williams clubbed four hits in five times at bat. The Red Sox made it three in a row the next day with Williams out of the lineup because of a foot injury. Then came the three successive losses to the Yankees, 7-1, 14-10 and 13-6. Ted got into action in two of those games as a pinch hitter, driving in a run with a single.

Boston's scheduled game with Baltimore last night was postponed because of cold weather. It may prove a blessing because it gives Ted another day to recover from his injury.

* * *

Five games were scheduled yesterday, all under the lights, but cold weather, rain and snow combined to wipe them all off the slate except the game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and Phillies in Philadelphia.

* * *

In Philadelphia, young Don Drysdale, Brooklyn's rookie right-hander, made his first major league start and turned in an impressive performance. The 19-year-old Montreal graduate yielded nine hits but pitched superbly in the clutch, striking out nine batters.

The victory moved the Dodgers into a first-place tie with Milwaukee. Each club has a 4-2 record.

Drysdale, a lanky, baby-faced youngster with a side-arming style not unlike Ewell Blackwell, walked only one batter.

* * *

The kid himself set up the winning rally in the fifth. After Carl Furillo had walked, he got the first hit off veteran Murry Dickson, a single to left. Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese followed with singles to give the Dodgers a 3-0 lead. The Dodgers added insurance runs in the eighth and ninth.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

A man who takes himself seriously in this "expert-ing" business is a fatuous fool. Still, the public expects a target to shoot at. You've got to sit down and go through the motions of weighing earned run averages, fielding and hitting percentages, age, weight, wind velocity and direction, plus local precipitation divided by the number of votes it takes to override a gubernatorial veto.

★ ★ ★ ★

In the old days, pie-charts and slide rules actually were trotted out and taken seriously, I'm sorry to say. Today we take a stab and forget about the whole thing until, say, Fourth of July, when we take another guess based on past performances of the current season.

Along about Labor Day it is the custom to take a third guess with the eliminated teams all but buried and forgotten. You'd be surprised how many times you can come up with a winner after three runs at it.

Quickly to refresh you. The 1955 final standings were Brooklyn 98-55; Braves 85-69 and Giants 80-74. The Yanks were 96-58; Indians 93-61 and White Sox 91-63.

★ ★ ★ ★

It should be an interesting season for the first half at any rate. The Yanks and the Red Sox grabbed themselves a wagonload of seasoned Senators. Cleveland negotiated for a much needed shortstop by giving over Larry Doby for Chico Carresquel.

VERY LITTLE SHUFFLING OF TALENT IN NL

The National League made a mistake, I believe. It goes into action as the same old tired league with the same old roster of faces. The only appreciable change is Ransom Jackson at third for the Dodgers. Sometimes a club should make what Casey Stengel calls a "psychological trade," whatever that is.

★ ★ ★ ★

I believe Casey explained that the entertainment business required a shuffling of talent to stimulate the sale of tickets.

The Giants who need help the most did the least in this department. Horace Stoneham quite rightly points out that it not only takes two to tango but also to change uniforms on some of our heroes.

★ ★ ★ ★

Now for the odds. The Yanks and Dodgers are even money. Indians are 2-1. Braves are 2½-1. These are Las Vegas quotations. There are more spurious odds published prior to most big sports events than you can shake a stick of chalk it. Still the above are close to correct.

★ ★ ★ ★

You've got to pick the Yanks and Dodgers if for no other reason than the rather simple one that they usually do win. They have been World Series rivals in five of the last nine years.

From The PRESS BOX

Pontiac's brilliant young track star, Hayes Jones, all alone accounted for more points in the big Mansfield, Ohio Relays than 95 per cent of the 98 shools entered. Hayes collected 16 markers, more than any one team, outside the six top teams gathered. More than 1,245 athletes were in action.

Mt. Lebanon, Pa., runnerup to Chiefs with 24 points (PHS had 34½) won all its total in four events, all of the distance category.

Like Harry E. Mehock, meet founder and director said; "give me that Pontiac Mich. power on the track and Mt. Lebanon's great distance running and I'd go against any team in the country, and make 'em all step.

"You can say that Pontiac's fine team balance was it's real winning factor."

* * *

Herb Shreiber of Birmingham was among 13 varsity swimmers awarded letters at Michigan Tech for the past season.

* * *

The annual city-wide marble tournament, sponsored by The Pontiac Press in conjunction with the Parks and Recreation Department, will soon be getting under way.

Preliminaries will start early next month with championship finals slated Saturday, May 12, at Crofoot. Competition is scheduled in midget and junior divisions with awards going to winners and runners-up.

Rows Will Mean Forfeits

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Warren Giles, president of the National Baseball League, says umpires at Connie Mack Stadium have been told to declare a mandatory forfeit of the game if there are any more bleacher uprisings by fans of the Philadelphia Phillies.

* * *

"The umpires have the right to forfeit a game if circumstances justify it. They have now been instructed that if there are any further incidents at Connie Mack Stadium, there is to be a mandatory forfeit of the game," Giles said last night on a local radio sports program.

* * *

Some of the fans conducted a beer can and bottle barrage Sunday in the second game of a doubleheader between the Phillies and the New York Giants. The incident brought protests from Bill Rigney, Giants manager, and Whitey Lockman, Giant outfielder.

* * *

Beer is not sold at the stadium but is brought in by fans in bottles and cans. The Phillies are seeking a license to sell it in paper cups.

* * *

Gibbons ordered a 20-man police detail on duty inside the park and one fan was arrested last night during the Brooklyn Dodgers' 6-1 victory over the Phillies. Edward Conlan, 36, of Gloucester, N.J., was charged with disorderly conduct after he left the left-field stands and went onto the field to talk with a player.

Clarkston High School's baseball team readied itself for Thursday's important Wayne-Oakland League clash with Clarenceville by defeating Holly, 5-3, at Clarkston Monday.

Gary Nelson pitched and batted the Wolves to victory. Nelson scattered four safeties and drove in two runs with a triple and single. It was Clarkston's 3rd victory in four starts and 1st in the league.

Clarenceville, defending W-O co-champ with the Wolves, rolled merrily along with a 13-0 conquest of West Bloomfield at Clarenceville.

Oxford was trimmed by Romeo, 10-3, yesterday at Romeo. The Bulldogs sewed up the decision with five runs in the 1st inning.

Ed DeBaene hurled a two-hitter as Mt. Clemens St. Mary shut out Roseville, 3-0.

Umpire Stops Game, Faints From Hunger

GIFU, Japan (AP)—For seven innings, yesterday's softball game between the Kawasaki Aircraft Company team and the Gifu Forestry Bureau outfit was strictly routine, a 4-4 standoff, nothing out of the ordinary.

Then things started to drag. The two teams battled through 29 scoreless innings before the chief umpire called it a tie and collapsed from hunger. 8 hours and 40 minutes after the game had started. The other umpires and players ate during the game, but he was too busy.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

In taking an 8-iron back, you will notice, there is not as much body action as there is with the longer clubs. It is more of an arms-and-hands shot, with the body pivoting enough to maintain balance.

As the club is taken back, the clubhead is low to the ground for the first few inches. However, because of the shorter shaft the club starts on the upswing sooner than the wood does.

Compared to your swing with the driver, the short iron requires only about a three-quarters swing.

Also, in comparing it to the driver, your wrists will start to cock sooner. The entire swing with the 8-iron is a smaller arch. Therefore you will have a feeling of quickness. However, maintain the same rhythm you established in your swing pattern for the longer shots.

At the top of your backswing your left arm will be almost straight out from your body. Since the hands play an important part in the shot, they should be firmly on the shaft and the club should be completely controlled.

You will notice that there is not as much shifting of your weight with the shorter iron. However, at the top of your swing the left knee will bend in toward the right and the emphasis of your weight will be primarily on the right side.

* * *

The left shoulder comes around approximately under the chin as the head and eyes remain over the ball as at the address.

You will have the sensation of a more compact swing with the shorter irons. But because you cock your wrists sooner, do not speed up your backswing in using the shorter clubs. Timing and rhythm are important to your stroke.

Remember the shorter irons are played for accuracy rather than distance, so it is important to execute a smooth swing.

(Copyright General Features Corp.)

ARMS, HANDS DOMINATE IN TAKING 8-IRON BACK

At the top of the backswing with an 8-iron your club will be more upright than with the longer clubs. The left arm is almost fully extended from the body. Notice there is little body pivot with this club.

Lumpe Facing 'Job' on Bench

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerry Lumpe, the only rookie to win a regular job on the New York Yankees this year, may be heading for a cozy spot on the bench, Manager Casey Stengel indicated today.

* * *

The professor wore a more-wrinkled - than - usual look when he took up the subject of the 22-year old shortstop's fielding.

* * *

"All I know is that he's supposed to be a better thrower than this," he said. "Phil Page had him down in Birmingham last year and he was going out making all the relays from the outfield. Throwing a lot of guys out at the plate too. Does that sound like a guy who can't throw?"

* * *

No, Professor, it doesn't. What then is the answer?

"Well, I can't bench him right this minute," said Stengel. "He's hitting .350 and that's good."

Coast Probers Hear Bobo's Manager

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Sid Flaherty, manager of Carl "Bobo" Olson, and described as the man who "actually runs" the San Francisco area major fight promotion organization, testifies today in the California boxing investigation.

* * *

James Cox, counsel for Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's inquiry into California boxing operations, said Benny Ford, San Francisco California Boxing Enterprises, Inc., would be called with Flaherty.

Johnny Munro, the CBE matchmaker at Richmond and Oakland, testified yesterday that Sid Flaherty "actually runs" the CBE. Munro said Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club in New York, and Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, were shareholders of the CBE.

* * *

California boxing rules forbid a manager of a fighter from participating in fight promotion. Flaherty manages Olson, former middleweight champion, and a stable of 40 boxers.

* * *

Cox said he plans also to recall Jimmy Murray, Oakland promoter described as working in close cooperation with Babe McCoy, Los Angeles matchmaker. In the Los Angeles hearing, McCoy was depicted as the boss of Southern California boxing.

* * *

Cox drew testimony from Jackie King and Fred A. Pearl, Sacramento promoter, showing gate share payment on Sacramento fights to Flaherty, Murray and McCoy.

* * *

King said Flaherty was paid $857 as a half share in Sacramento's only televised fight between Maurice Harper and Al Wilson. King explained Flaherty had put him in touch with Ray Arcel, booking agent for fight televisions.

Shamrocks, Eaglets Lose to Catholic League Foes

After two attempts St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary baseball teams are still without a victory in the Suburban Catholic League.

St. Frederick dropped its 2nd league decision Sunday and the Mikes and Eaglets kept pace Monday. Ferndale St. James scored a 7-2 win over St. Mike at Columbia-Joslyn and St. Rita edged St. Mary, 6-5, in an 11-inning struggle at Hazel Park.

St. James received four-hit pitching from Bob McDonald while capitalizing on seven Shamrock errors and five hits of its own. Pitcher Bill Hall committed two of the miscues in the 1st two innings and both runners scored.

The Dales tallied twice in the 1st inning, once in the 2nd, once in the 3rd, and three times in the 4th. The Mikes scored their two runs in the 3rd on a pair of walks and singles by Chuck Brown and Jim Fox.

Whereas St. Mike and St. James played only five innings by agreement due to chilly weather, Orchard Lake and St. Rita were forced into overtime to settle their argument.

The two teams were scoreless after six innings as St. Rita's Tom O'Meara and St. Mary's Tony Chojnowski waged a pitching duel. Each squad broke the ice with a run in the 7th and entered the 10th inning in a 1-1 deadlock.

Frank Grabinski relieved O'Meara in the 10th and Paul Franckowiak came to Chojnowski's rescue in the same stanza as each club tallied twice. St. Mary popped up with two runs in the 11th to take a 5-3 lead, but the Vikings rallied in their half of the 11th to settle the issue.

An error, two walks, and singles by Grabinski and Frank Martinko handed the decision to St. Rita. Franckowiak was tagged with the loss and Grabinski received credit for the win.

Royal Oak St. Mary defeated Highland Park St. Benedict, 7-3, in an SCL game yesterday. Phil Brzezinski hurled a two-hitter for the Irish.

Britain Sends Confident Team

Four-Man Crew Will Run Three Events in Penn Relays

NEW YORK (AP) — A confident bunch of blokes these Oxford University athletes are.

Four of them are here to compete in the Penn Relays this Friday and Saturday. They're simply oozing confidence.

For one thing, they didn't even bring along a spare in case of a mishap. Then, after entering two events, they decided to try a third because they didn't think the opposition in the other two was strong enough.

"You don't know how much we in England have improved in the past three years," 22-year-old Ian Boyd told the New York Track Writers Assn. luncheon yesterday.

The other three members of the team are Alan Gordon, Derek Johnson and Donald Gorrie.

The two-mile and the four-mile are to be run off within an hour and 25 minutes, but that doesn't bother the visitors at all.

Jones' Slants Tame Hillites Without a Hit

Monday's 10-2 Victory Marks Start of Valley Campaign

Jim Jones, Pontiac High's ace righthander, won his second game in two consecutive playing days, Monday afternoon on Wisner Field. Where Jim shut out Port Huron Saturday on one hit, yesterday he was also stingy with the safeties, but allowed two runs in the 10-2 victory.

Win started Coach Ed Heikkinen's club in its Valley campaign. PHS meets the Lumberjacks again Thursday in Saginaw, for the 2nd SVC encounter. Arnold Larsen was named this morning to open against the 'Jacks. Larson also won a game on Saturday when he set down the Reds 5-4, in the afterpiece of the twin bill.

'Jack's jumped into a two run lead in the opener, with Rae and Bailey scoring on a walk, Jones' overthrow of 1st on Bailey's grounder, plus a passed ball.

That's the way it was until the 3rd when Chiefs garnered four tallies to go with one in the 2nd. They blasted five more counters in the 5th, off the second and third Hills hurlers.

Clay Williams, Charles McIlrath, Bud Hayward and Bill Hayward counted the winning and "insurance" runs. Williams' fielder's choice cut off Art Poe who had walked, but Clay moved to 3rd on Chuck McIlrath's single. Bud Hayward blasted a long triple, scoring Williams and McIlrath. Then Bill singled Bud home. Bill scored all the day from 2nd on Bob Murphy's hard single.

The 5-run 4th frame was produced on two hits, two errors and two passes. Jones, Poe, Williams, McIlrath and Bud Hayward counted during this merry-go-round.

NEW YORK (AP) — A return bout was in the making today between Tex Gonzales and Gene Poirier.

The two scrappy middleweights belted each other freely in a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena last night with Gonzalzles earning the unanimous decision over 10 rounds.

"One good fight deserves another," said matchmaker Teddy Brenner. "I think I'll rematch them as soon as their cuts heal."

Gonzales, of East Orange, N. J., was cut over the left eye and Poirier, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., was gashed on the scalp as the result of a head collision in the sixth round.

Cold Weather, Hot Air!

Trade Rumors Heard as Bengals Are Idle

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cold weather froze out the Detroit Tiger's game with the Kansas City Athletics last night.

The A's called the game at noon and right after the Kansas City owner Arnold Johnson asked Tiger manager Bucky Harris to drop by for a talk. Rumor had it the two talked trade. Neither would say after the afternoon-long session broke up.

Harris has been looking around for a left fielder since the start of the season. Whether or not Charley Maxwell's performance in that department has made him change his mind isn't known for sure.

Despite the fact Harris didn't start Maxwell until the season was three days old, the Paw Paw, Mich., outfielder has ousted Jim Delsing, Chick king and Wayne Belardi for the left field job at least for the time being.

Maxwell got one of three in Sunday's 1st game against Cleveland and two out of four in the nightcap. It boosted him to the top of the Tiger batting averages with a three-game figure of .445. His average in exhibition games this spring was .216. But Maxwell says: "I'm always a lousy spring training hitter."

Delsing who opened the season in left still is looking for his 1st hit after nine at bats.

Belardi, a converted infielder, leads the Tigers in pinch-hitting. He has a two for two record with one home run and one single. On a third trip he was hit by a pitched ball.

Maxwell came to Detroit in a waiver deal with Baltimore last May. He hit .257 in 50 games last season.

The Tigers were scheduled to meet the A's today, weather permitting.

Steve Gromek was to face Bobby Shantz. Shantz beat the Tigers last week in a Briggs Stadium meeting.

IBG Claim Is Disputed

Government Anti-trust Lawyers Refute Claim of Labor Exemption

CLEVELAND (AP)—The government contends the International Boxing Guild is not a labor union and is not exempt from antitrust laws.

* * *

Antitrust lawyers yesterday filed in U.S. District Court a 20-page report which disputed the IBG's claim of exemption.

* * *

The IBC, its Ohio affiliate and three officers were indicted last January of trying to knock television out of the boxing business.

In its counterblows, the Justice Department said the IBG failed to show its members are "employes of anybody," worked specific hours or otherwise fell into an employe - employer relationship.

CIO Baseball Practices

The UAW-CIO Local 594 baseball team, a member of the Class A City League, will hold practices today through Friday at Colubia-Joslyn's north diamond. All positions are open and interested players are invited to attend the workouts. Each session starts at 5 p.m. and continues until dark.

Underdog, Favorite!

Gavilan Rated Both Ways

LONDON (AP)—Kid Gavilan goes into tonight's return bout with Peter Waterman a betting underdog but a popular favorite.

* * *

Both positions were unusual for the Cuban fighter, who lost to Waterman Feb. 7 in one of the most controversial fights in the British ring in a long time. The bookies make Waterman, a 21-year-old Briton, a 4-5 favorite this time, but British sports writers favor Gavilan. The writers were virtually unanimous in criticising the decision in the first bout, and the uproar led to the suspension of the referee, 71-year-old Ben Green.

* * *

Gavilin, who had been involved in many a disputed decision over the course of the years, predicted "a referee will not be necessary to add up the points this time." Despite his prediction, Irishman Andrew Smythe was named to referee.

Countrymen Watch Elorde Beat Lane

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A large contingent of Philippinos came to see Flash Elorde fight and their home-town boy did not disappoint them as he stopped Cleo Lane in 2:26 of the first round of a 10-rounder here last night.

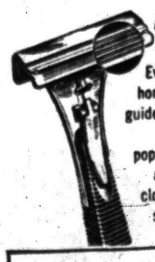

Elorde weighed 130½, Lane 129½.

Elorde, a southpaw came out swinging from the bell. After landing several lefts and rights to the head and body in the middle of the round, Referee Vern Bypee stopped the fight as Lane sat helpless on the lower strand of rope.

Wives of Executives in Administration Help Spread Republican Gospel in Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Republican administration's "Kitchen Kabinet" flies in from Washington today for a grass roots conference with Ohio GOP women.

* * *

The wives of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Atty. Gen. Brownell will take part along with wives of 10 other secretaries and undersecretaries. They will fly back to Washington in time to have dinner with their husbands.

A FIRST TIME

Mrs. Carroll D. Kearns, president of the National Federation of Republican women, said it is the first time wives of U.S. department heads have served as a "Kitchen Kabinet" to spread political gospel.

* * *

"It will give women at the grass roots level a much better understanding of politics," said Mrs. Florence G. Morris of Toledo, vice president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, the organization sponsoring today's affairs.

EDUCATIONAL PROJECT

"Women are more and more interested in government," she said. "They want to know what makes government tick on the national level. They want a first hand knowledge of government."

Mrs. Morris, a housewife whose only son is a precinct captain, said the "Kitchen Kabinet" is "purely an educational project."

* * *

The cabinet and subcabinet wives were set to speak to small groups first and then summarize their remarks to the 1,000 delegates in a later session.

The wives of Secretary of the Army Brucker and Secretary of the Air Force Quarles were on the program.

Bursting Main Causes Flood

NEW YORK (AP)—A water main burst and flooded part of fashionable Fifth Avenue for several hours last night.

The sudden gusher at the 59th Street intersection sent sidewalk strollers scurrying. Water halted traffic and also poured into cellars of restaurants, hotels and shops.

The water was shut off and repair work was begun without two hours.

A fireman claimed he snatched a stunned six-inch fish out of a brimming gutter during the flood.

Feed Grains Make Retreat

CHICAGO (AP) — Feed grains retreated on the Board of Trade today but wheat and soybeans, after selling off at the start, bounced right back up to show small gains.

* * *

New crop corn met considerable selling pressure after announcement that corn planted outside acreage allotments would be supported by the government at $1.25 a bushel. It was felt this might increase corn production.

Disappointingly light moisture in the winter wheat belt overnight provided support in new crop w[illegible]. New crop soybeans were purchased on the possibility some acreage originally intended for soybeans will be shifted to corn. Oats eased with corn while rye held steady.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $2.38¾; corn ⅞ to 1½ lower, May $1.50¾; oats ¼ to ⅜ lower, May 66⅞; rye ¼ lower to ½ higher, May $1.30; soybeans ½ lower to 1 cent higher, May $3.02, and lard 2 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.75.

GM Employment Up in 1st Quarter

Wage earners in General Motors United States plants totaled an average 421,139 during the first quarter of 1956, Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Albert Bradley, chairman of the board, announced today in a statement preliminary to GM's quarterly report.

First quarter employment was up from 400,266 a year ago despite some layoffs in short-service personnel because of adjustments in production schedules.

Average hours worked per week in the first quarter were 39.2 and weekly earnings averaged $94.17. There was a reduction of five hours in the average of overtime hours worked, compared with the corresponding quarter a year ago.

An average of 638,926 men and women were working for GM throughout the world in the first quarter of 1956. Payrolls totaled $760 million. Average world-wide employment in the first quarter last year was 614,122 and payrolls totaled $768 million.

Kansas Has Industry

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)— Eighty new industries started operation in this predominantly agricultural state in 1955. The Kansas Industrial Development Commission said it was the biggest new gain in eight years. Towns with less than 10,000 population got 40 per cent of the new plants.

Australia requires its eligible electorate to vote and failure to do so, without good reason, brings a fine.

Stocks Steady Around Lows

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sold off in a quick rush today, but it steadied around its lows in the early afternoon.

* * *

Losses sometimes extended as far as 3 to 4 points, and there were many losses of 1 to 2 points in the list. Gains usually were small.

Trading hit a fast pace at times, and the total came to more than yesterday's 2,440,000 shares traded when the market was irregularly higher.

The selling was not linked to any specific news development, but it came about the time Republican legislative leaders met at the White House and word came out that tax cuts this year faced a dim prospect.

The market has been irregularly lower most of the time since it hit a record high mark two weeks ago and last Friday. Today's sudden spurt of weakness in the price structure was not surprising in the light of the market's background.

* * *

All major divisions sold down including the steels, motors, rubbers, mail order issues, aircrafts, coppers, aluminums, chemicals, electric equipments, railroads and the oils.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 70 cents at $188.50. Yesterday the average was up 50 cents but there were more losers than gainers in the list. Such irregularity has been typical of many recent sessions.

Stock Purchase Appeal Waived

Supreme Court Refuses Review of Sharing Plan in Employe Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has let stand a decision that an employer who has a stock purchase plan for his workers must bargain collectively with their union on terms and conditions of the plan.

The decision—which the high Tribunal refused to review yesterday—was given by the U. S. Court of Appeals here in a case affecting the Richfield Oil Corp. The corporation asked the Court of Appeals to overturn a National Labor Relations Board order to bargain with the CIO Oil Workers International Union on the stock plan.

Richfield's appeal said none of the shares received by its employes represent compensation for service. The appeal contended the National Labor Relations Act was not intended to require such bargaining.

"The decision," the appeal stated, "introduces into the collective bargaining procedure a new and very broad field of industrial controversy, which can only increase the area of industrial dispute and unrest which it was the express purpose of the act to minimize."

Richfield said General Motors, Ford Motor Co., and some 40 other leading firms have stock purchase plans of one sort or another.

* * *

"All of them are now confronted for the first time with a duty to bargain in good faith respecting the sale and disposition of the very businesses which they own and manage," the appeal added.

Stockholders of Consumers Power Co. in the Pontiac area will hear a report on the company's plans and prospects, including a discussion of atom power developments, at a regional meeting of shareholders Thursday evening in the Community House, Birmingham.

The regional meeting in Birmingham is one of a series of 10 such meetings in Michigan cities following the company's annual meeting April 10 in Maine, the state in which Consumers was originally chartered.

Consumers operates only in Michigan, supplying electric or gas service to 1,019,000 individual customers, and more than half of the company's 72,000 shareholders are Michigan residents.

Dan E. Karn, president, will be the principal speaker at the Birmingham meeting. Several other officers and directors will be present. Karn will be introduced by Division Manager D. H. Gerhard, and a brief report on the annual meeting will be given by L. J. Hamilton, treasurer of the company.

The program includes the showing of a short motion picture "This Is Automation."

Savings Vanish With Old Stove

Couple Goes Hunting for $3,000 Treasure, and Then - - -

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — For several years Jess Leon has been saving for the day he could buy the little farm he and his wife wanted.

He got together $3,000, hid in it in a small purse which he placed in a coffee can, and then put the can inside an old stove in the garage.

Last Friday a salvage truck stopped and Mrs. Lupe Leon thought of that old stove in the garage. Next day Leon noticed the stove was gone, and his secret came out.

He and his wife searched frantically for the salvage man. They asked police help and, finally, after five salvage yards had been searched, the stove was located.

Oh, the money was there, all right, but Leon marched right down to a bank and deposited his $3,000 in a savings account.

I GOT $10,000 BY WORKING SMARTER

By a Wall Street Journal Subscriber

"Don't work so hard," said my boss: "Put your feet up on your desk and think of some new ways for the company to earn money."

That was a turning point in my life. One thing I did right away was to start reading The Wall Street Journal. In the pages of The Journal I found some of the most helpful articles I ever read. I found ideas that were immediately useful to our business. I found suggestions for cutting overhead costs and increasing our sales. The Journal was helpful to me personally too. Last year my income was increased to $10,000.

This story is typical. If you think The Wall Street Journal is just for millionaires, you are WRONG! The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to owners of small businesses. It can be of priceless benefit to ambitious young men who want to earn more money.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Advance in Materials May Boost Car Prices

An incentive to an upturn in spirng automotive sales is the possibility that prices on 1957 cars may be higher than current levels, R. M. Lakes Workers Dispute Ended

Tugmen, Operators of Dredges Okay Contract, Resume Seaway Work

DETROIT (AP) — Great Lakes tugmen and dredge operators yesterday reached agreement on a new contract, ending a dispute that for more than a week had halted work on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

* * *

Federal mediator Harry Caton said the tugmen got an 18-cent-an-hour wage increase, improved hospitalization plans and the addition of a man on launches of more than 150 horsepower. The wage boost is retroactive to April 14.

The increase brings the average wage from $2.67 to $2.85 an hour.

The licensed Tugmen's Protective Assn. pulled pickets out of Massena, N.Y. where work on a seaway channel had been halted.

The union had sought a 10 per cent wage increase and a cut in the work week from 45 to 40 hours with no loss of pay. The Great Lakes Dredge Owners Assn. had offered a package deal they said was worth 29 cents an hour.

The old contract expired March 31. Negotiations broke down April 14 and the tugmen were idled in what the union said was a lockout and the dredge operators said was a layoff.

* * *

The dispute also had halted work briefly on the substructure of the Mackinac Straits Bridge joining Michigan's two peninsulas.

Targonski Closes Probe on 'Misuse of a State Car'

LANSING (AP)—Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski today chided a state official for bad bookkeeping in an investigation of alleged misuse of a state car.

Indications were the investigation would cost taxpayers about $600, although a much smaller amount was involved in operation of the car.

"We'll be ready to report to the Governor and the State Labor Mediation Board Wednesday," Targonski said.

He added the amount involved had not yet been figured out in dollars and cents but that it was a "small sum."

The investigation was launched in February after John H. Piercey of Muskegon, former member of the board, accused Charles E. Coykendall, board secretary, of using a state car for personal trips.

ALL DEMOCRATS

Targonski, Piercey and Coykendall are Democrats. Pierecy had been replaced on the board in January by Gov. Williams.

Targonski finished questioning Coykendall yesterday in trips he had made around the state on business. Most of the questioning was of a detailed nature, involving entries on trip logs.

Theodore Souris of Detroit, Coykendall's attorney, said the trip logs revealed $20.10 should have been charged against Coykendall personally but was charged instead to the state.

'CRUCIFIED POLITICALLY'

"Against that he could have charged the state $108.70 which he did not claim," Souris said. "That means the state owes him $88.60."

Souris said Coykendall should be praised for failure to claim all expenses due him. Instead, he said, he was "crucified politically."

But Targonski criticized Coykendall will be "meticulous" in his accurately." Coykendall had admitted making several errors.

Henceforth, Souris said, Coykendall will be "emticulous" in his account-keeping.

* * *

In an earlier session of the hearing, Coykendall said he made overnight stops at Bitely, where he had the use of a cottage, that saved the state money because he did not claim expenses for lodging.

* * *

Piercey had accused Coykendall of acting as an "assistant" to Neil Staebler, Democratic state central committee chairman.

Youth Gang Beats Watchman to Death

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A gang of teen-agrs beat a night watchman to death with a tire iron last night as he caught them breaking into the Tucson Sports Center, sheriff's officers reported.

Police said the youths apparently were after a case of beer.

* * *

Ray T. Garcia, 50, a former wrestler and more recently a referee at the local matches, was found by police dying and covered with blood.

Three 17-year-old youths were arrested. At least two others were being sought.

* * *

Roy Varelas, 51, who lives behind the sports center, said he was beaten as he tried to stop the fleeing gang. He notified police and was taken to a hospital with a severe leg laceration.

Sheriff's Capt. James Williams said Garcia identified his attackers before he died.

Cuba's motor transport has reached "the saturation point," Havana reports. No new licenses for buses or trucks will be granted at present.

Newest Emcee Stays Relaxed

Lauds the Contestants Displaying Knowledge on '$64,000 Challenge'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — "I beat Hal March," says Sonny Fox. "It took him four weeks as master of ceremonies on 'The $64,000 Question' before he goofed a question. On 'The $64,000 Challenge' I goofed a question the first week."

* * *

The young, tall, handsome master of ceremonies of the new quiz program is perfectly relaxed about his failure to catch an erroneous answer on the name of Desdemona's father by a Shakespeare expert, New York City patrolman Redmond O'Hanlon. Many viewers were momentarily perturbed when this occurred on the weekly program's debut three Sundays ago on CBS-TV—but only momentarily.

QUITS APOLOGIZING

"I've stopped apologizing about it," Fox said the other day. "Now I'm taking credit for it. Nobody bawled me out about it. I didn't even realize it had happened until the next day. My wife, Gloria, told me to keep a finger on all the answers from now on—and I'm going to."

* * *

On "The $64,000 Challenge" Fox finds that tension is fixed on him personally until the tension of the show itself (will the contestant move higher or not?) begins to take over. In this program a "roll of champions"—persons who have won $8,000 or more on "The $64,000 Question"—are challenged by newcomers.

NOT SMART-ALECKS

"The people on these shows are completely different from those I've seen on most quiz programs," Fox said. "They're not smart-alecks. They're not foils to a master of ceremonies who tries to be a comedian. They're people of dignity and poise and intelligence."

* * *

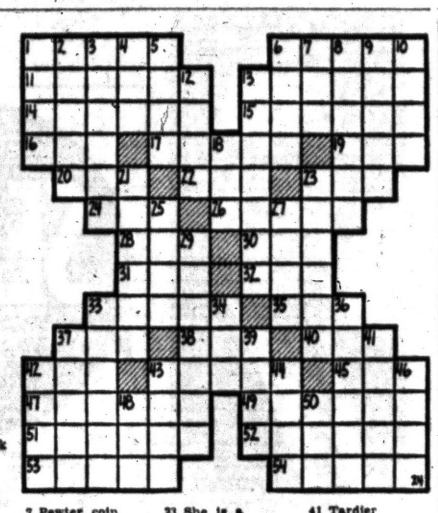

He smiled. "Maybe there's a little bit of the ham in some of them. But maybe there's a bit of the ham in me too."

* * *

Before taking on his new assignment Fox served for a year as host and guide on CBS-TV's "Let's Take A Trip," in which he and two youngsters named Ginger MacManus and "Pud" Flanagan visited spots of interest.

No Contempt Meant

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Judge Lawrence Grauman thought nothing of it when the plaintiff laughed aloud at the attorneys and jury. "After all, she's a plaintiff and should be entitled to remain in the courtroom," he said. The plaintiff was Kathleen Thieneman, 10½ months old. She is suing through her father for $10,750 damages for injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Supreme Court Will Hear UAW 'Political TV' Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to say whether the United Automobile Workers violated federal law by paying for political television broadcasts with money from the union's general fund.

* * *

The government contends it did. And it has asked the High Court to review its appeal of a lower court's ruling in favor of the union. The Supreme Court will hear arguments on the appeal in its new term beginning next October.

The Justice Department contends union-sponsored broadcasts made in 1954 over a Detroit radio station were in support of particular candidates for the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives. The government charged payments for the broadcasts violated a section of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act.

U.S. District Judge Frank A. Picard of Detroit decided, however, the payments were not within the meaning of the word "expenditures" as used in the act.

"UNCONSTITUTIONAL"

Picard dismissed the government's complaint. He said if the case were appealed the Supreme Court might reverse his ruling and also decide on the constitutionality of the section of the act at issue.

The union argues the law is unconstitutional in that it abridges freedom of speech and press, peaceable assembly and the right of petition as guaranteed by the constitution. Picard's ruling, however, did not touch on the constitutionality of the questions.

Leaders of the Republican Party in Michigan accused the union of using general funds in support of Democratic candidates in the 1954 election, in particular in support of Sen. McNamara (D-Mich). McNamara defeated incumbent Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson.

* * *

The government's appeal did not give the total amount spent but said payments for broadcasts ranged from $700 to $2,500.

Conviction under the act provides a penalty of $5,000 for unions. Union officers may be fined from $1,000 to $10,000 and imprisoned one to two years. The same penalties apply to corporations and their officers.

Three Year Probation Given Youth for Breakin

A Pontiac youth whose admitted breakin of a West Bloomfield Township garage netted him two boxes of car parts was sentenced yesterday to three years' probation and payment of $100 court costs.

Gerald W. Shovan, 17, of 19165 Rosedale Ave., pleaded guilty to the charge April 16. He was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Hotel Guests Routed by Fire in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—About 100 persons were forced to evacuate their rooms in the Morrison Hotel early today after a fire was discovered in an air chute. No injuries were reported.

* * *

Firemen poured water down the chute from the 42nd floor of the big Loop area hotel and also at other openings in the chute five floors apart.

* * *

Some 1,500 persons were registered in the hotel, which has 1,850 rooms. Six persons were forced to walk down an outside fire escape from the penthouse at the 42nd floor to the 19th floor where they boarded an elevator.

Fire officials estimated damage at $5,000.

Two Year Probation Given Detroit Woman

One of two Detroit women who pleaded guilty April 9 to altering credit slips on an area shopping center was sentenced yesterday to two years' probation and payment of $100 court costs.

She is Phyllis Fox Tatt, 19, of 17126 Santa Barbara Ave. Her companion, Rosalie Fox, will be sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty May 7.

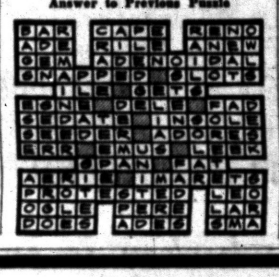

Electric Chair Comfort

Vienna's Eislaufverein rink is not only one of the most gigantic ice rinks in the world, it is also one of the most modern. At one time, eight hockey teams can play on the rinks and there's room left over for a few orchestras. To keep these musicians warm during a Stauss waltz, the ingenious Vienese have rigged a device for heating the chairs electrically.

Moose Lodge Suspended

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Liquor Commission Monday ordered 30 days' suspension and a $250 fine for the Loyal Order of Moose, Benton Harbor Lodge 1570. The organization was charged with selling liquor on Sunday.

A felonious assault in Ferndale March 17 yesterday cost James C. Scott, 28, of 21012 Fenner Ct., Ferndale, two years' probation and $200 court costs.

He Asked—She Obliged

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—"Would you do me a favor and give me all the money in the cash register?" asked the man who walked into a dairy last night. Mrs. Nan Vaughn promptly obliged. A gun in the man's hand indicated he would insist upon the "favor." She wasn't able to say how much the "favor" cost the dairy.
