Back to Little Rock

Guardsmen—Only a Few—Report in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)— National Guardsmen—but only a handful—reported for duty at Central High School again today amid increasing rumors that Gov. Orval Faubus may withdraw them entirely before the end of the week.

No comment on the reports came from the governor's mansion.

Approximately 30 guardsmen took stations at the school this morning when classes resumed. After reporting, some of them went to a nearby drugstore for coffee and soft drinks. A week ago, 250 soldiers surrounded the school.

No Negroes attempted to approach the big school building that has become a symbol of the great clash between the federal government and Faubus.

Between 25 and 30 adults gathered on the sidewalk across the street. In a good-natured mood, they joked with reporters.

In a television interview last night, Faubus said it is "foreseeable" that the guards could be withdrawn this week.

He also said "there were certain areas of agreement" that developed in his conference Saturday at Newport, R.I., with President Eisenhower.

But he still says Negro students will not be permitted to enroll in the high school until a condition of "tranquility" exists in the city. He will be the judge of when that moment has come, he said in the TV talk.

The prevailing belief in Little Rock today—and it is not supported by any solid information from the governor's mansion—is that Faubus will remove the Guard within a few days, perhaps Wednesday or Thursday.

He has been summoned to appear in U.S. District Court Friday. There, in all probability, he will be asked to present the evidence he claims to have that violence would have taken place at the high school had he not put the guardsmen there with orders to turn away Negroes.

Faubus' information and FBI reports presumably will be aired together—if the hearing takes place at all.

Police Careers At Stake Today

Circuit Court to Review 1 Case; Civil Service to Decide 2 Others

The careers of three Pontiac police officers are in the legal machinery today as the circuit court agreed to review the firing of one officer and the Civil Service Commission meets tonight to decide on the firing of two others.

Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland said this morning he would review the firing of Patrolman Louis Romeos dismissed by the commission on July 9 on charges of insubordination.

Judge Holland denied a motion by City Attorney William Ewart to reject the petition of review on technical grounds and gave Ewart 15 days to produce the transcript of Romeo's hearing before the Civil Service Commission and file his answer to charges that the commission's decision was unfair.

At 7:30 tonight, the commission will hold a public hearing to decide whether or not to fire Det. Sgt. Raymond Meggitt and Det. Robert Emery.

Both men have been accused of dereliction of duty in allowing an arrested suspect to escape on Sept. 5.

Adenauer Wins Big Victory in West Germany

Increases His Majority in Favor of NATO, Western Strength

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won an immense election triumph today and immediately pledged that West Germany would throw "all its political and moral weight" behind the Western alliance.

The 81-year-old chancellor was returned to power for another four years in yesterday's voting in a victory so complete it stunned his neutral-minded Socialist opponents.

It surprised even his own supporters and the Communists in East Germany were glum.

His Christian Democratic Union which won an absolute majority for the first time in a free German election four years ago not only retained that majority but increased it in an outpouring of more than 31 million votes.

Adenauer's third straight national election victory since the West German Republic was created in 1949 was a heavy blow to the Soviet Union and a triumph for the United States.

Fearful of West Germany's mounting economic and military power, the Russians had pulled all possible strings in an effort to defeat the iron-willed chancellor.

So confident of success that he did not wait up for the final returns last night, Adenauer was smiling and joking when he met reporters at the chancellery entrance this morning.

He interpreted the election results as a strengthening of "the forces seeking world peace." The world had waited in doubt for the result, he said, wondering whether Russia's hopes that Bonn would quit NATO would be realized.

"West Germany's foreign policy will be a safe foundation for the policies of NATO under the lead-

AIRLINE WRECKAGE — Firefighters wet down wreckage of Northeast Airlines DC 3 plane which crashed in fog while approaching an airport at New Bedford, Mass. last night. Ten persons died in the crash in the Boston-New York plane which had 24 aboard.

DC3 Cracks Up in Swamp Near New Bedford

Hits Trees in Fog Last Night While Preparing to Land at Airport

NEW BEDFORD, Mass (AP) —A Northeast Airlines plane with 24 persons aboard, flying from Boston to New York through fog, crashed and broke up in a wooded swamp last night.

The pilot, copilot and eight passengers were killed. Thirteen passengers and the hostess were injured and hospitalized. Doctors placed the names of at least five on the danger list.

The plane was only half a mile from the New Bedford Municipal Airport and was preparing to make a scheduled instrument landing when it crashed through trees and swamp growth and cracked up on a tiny knoll.

Two airport employes said they heard the plane crash at 8:50 p.m., but it was nearly three hours before the first rescue team could reach the scene.

The only access to the spot was by foot. Fire fighters' ladders were used as bridges across the swamp and the adjoining Paskamansett River.

Dr. Robert Siegel, 46, gave this description: "The swamp was soggy and mud and water oozed up to our knees when we first attempted to cross it. We broke branches to form a bridge and tried again. After several attempts we made it.

"Some people were outside the plane. They were moaning. We entered the plane first. We checked the dead. We got hypos to the survivors and bandaged the injured."

George Nelson, building custodian at the airport, said on his return from the crash scene: "Both wings of the plane were ripped off, and it looked like the plane had nosed in at a 45-degree angle. The fuselage was torn open like an eggshell. The nose of the plane was about 50 feet from the fuselage."

George H. Danforth, 55, New York, one of the passengers, said: "When I came to, believe it or not, I was 30 feet away from the plane. I was strapped in my seat, with my head down and my feet up, looking up into a sea of mud."

"Danforth suffered only a rib fracture.

The plane a twin-engine DC3, was on a flight from Boston to

Budget Drawn for Supervisors

$10.7 Million Suggested After Committee Hassle Over Appraisers

A $10,732,014 budget was recommended to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors today, following controversy over appraisers appointed by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The budget was tabled one week for study.

The Legislative Committee was given until January to study the present system of appraisals under which it is possible for Judge Moore to appoint as appraisers supervisors who ultimately control his salary.

A motion by Mrs. Harrie Phillips of Huntington Woods met opposition from Oscar Beamer of Hazel Park and five other supervisors. Mrs. Phillips said she wanted the committee to have time to study the question in "peace and quiet."

Beamer, however, urged that supervisors go on record immediately as opposing Probate Court appointments to supervisors who are not attorneys.

A parliamentary hassle on the question was resolved when Pontiac Supervisor Robert R. Boyer called for an end to the debate. The vote for the motion was 66 to 6.

Mrs. Phillips said there are two basic weaknesses in the Oakland County form of government. City supervisors, she said, are appointed and "not really representative" and the Board of Supervisors has to rely far too much on committee reports.

Probe to Call Teamster Before Union Election

Hoffa Hearing Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said today the Senate Rackets Committee will hold new hearings next week in its investigation of Midwest Teamster Boss James R. Hoffa. The hearings were set tentatively for Tuesday, Sept. 24.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) will meet with rackets committee investigators today to decide whether to resume hearings on Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa prior to the union's election.

Chairman McClellan also will receive a report from counsel Robert F. Kennedy on what the latter called a "productive" eight-day investigation of Hoffa's activities in his home town of Detroit.

The Teamster vice president was kept under subpoena at recent hearings after being accused of a tie-up with New York racketeers Johnny Dio and questionable use of union funds.

Hoffa, through his attorney, George S. Fitzgerald, asked that he not be called for any hearings between next Wednesday and the Teamsters convention which opens Sept. 30 in Miami.

If Hoffa's reappearance before the committee is delayed, Kennedy said, there was a possibility sessions could be held on the new material without his presence.

In Detroit, Republican State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemeyer says his state party won't seek Teamster boss James R. Hoffa's support when it tries to crack the Democratic hold on the labor vote in the 1958 gubernatorial election.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, Thomas J. Haggerty, former milkman who seeks presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, today claimed backing of the 12,000-member General Truck Drivers Union, Local 938, of Toronto, Canada.

Haggerty said he plans to campaign in the East next week.

Peter J. Hoban, Haggerty's campaign manager, announced the Toronto local's endorsement and that of Local 835 of Gary, Ind.

Hoban is president of the Chicago Milk Wagon Driver's Union, Local 753, of which 52-year-old Haggerty is secretary-treasurer.

Hoffa has claimed support of 75 per cent of the international union's convention delegates. Haggerty took sharp issue with this claim.

The Chicago candidate said that he will move at the Miami Beach convention for an election by secret ballot, to "enable each delegate to vote as his conscience dictates, without pressure or intimidation by floor campaigners for any candidate."

Police Tow In 8 More Cars

Drive on Parking Violators Seen as Police-Judge Feud

The Pontiac police crackdown on drivers who owe on past parking tickets moved forward slowly over the weekend, with eight cars towed in out of 282 being sought.

The all-out drive has been interpreted by some as a feud between the department and Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. Last week the judge ruled the city's parking ordinance unconstitutional to the extent that it permits towing in of cars for past parking tickets.

Judge McCallum said such action constituted seizure of private property without due process of law and he acquited a defendent charged with assaulting an officer who was trying to tow the defendant's car in.

McCallum was immediately challenged by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, who said, to his knowledge, a municipal judge has no power to declare an ordinance unconstitutional.

Straley ordered his men to pick up any car the Traffic Violation Bureau listed tickets against.

Judge McCallum, terming the chief's action "boy's play," said he

Phone Installers Here Join Nationwide Strike

Telephone installers of the Western Electric Co. were picketing the Pontiac office of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. at 54 E. Huron St. as part of the nationwide walkout which began at 6 a.m.

Fifty per cent of Michigan Bell employes, including 62 operators, refused to cross picket lines to report for work, according to Raymond H. Storm, Pontiac district manager.

However, only long distance calls and others requiring an operator will be affected by the strike, he said. Use of supervisory personnel will restore "nearly normal" service by mid-afternoon, Storm said.

Hampered also by the walkout will be installation of new phones in the Pontiac area. In outlying county areas, where installers rely on assignments by technicians from the Pontiac office, work will go on until present assignments run out.

Involved in the nation are 23,800 installers in 44 states and the District of Columbia. The four states not affected are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Montana where local telephone companies maintain their own equipment.

DIAL SYSTEM OPERATING

Storm said local calls, virtually all by dial system, were going through as usual.

The installers are members of Local 4090 of the Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO. A total of 1,050 are expected to be affected in Michigan.

Postmidnight negotiations failed early today to avert the walkout. Talks were scheduled to resume later today.

The strike is against the Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The principal issues upon which the negotiations stalled were wages, allowance for travel time, and the duration of a contract.

3 SIGN CONTRACTS

A Western Electric spokesman said three of its small manufacturing plants had signed contracts this morning covering 2,200 installers in Minnesota, Nebraska and New York.

The CWA called 18,500 employes off the job when the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. was struck at 6 a.m. Forty-five cities were hit.

The 25 pickets in Pontiac formed with signs around 6:30.

Expected to be slowed by the strike was the completion of installing the phone and inter-communication systems at the new Public Safety Building.

Storm also added the installation of equipment in the new fifth floor of the Michigan Bell building would be delayed due to the walkout.

Husband Slayer at Peace in Jail

Sledgehammer Weapon of Wife Who Feared 'Jekyll-Hyde' Mate

DETROIT (INS)—A 30-year-old Detroit mother of three said today that for the first time in five years she found peace—in jail.

Five-foot, 11-inch Mrs. Margaret Smar admitted to homocide detectives that she battered her husband, Michael, 36, to death with a two-pound sledgehammer Saturday night.

She said last night in jail was the most peaceful night she has had in years and she asked that she be allowed to remain there.

The 170-pound woman said she lived in constant fear of her husband who she described as a "Jekyll-Hyde character who was a 'nice guy' at work and a 'big man' in local saloons." She said, "he kicked me around where it wouldn't show."

According to a police report, Mrs. Smar waylaid her husband when he came home from work Saturday. She struck him two or three times with the sledgehammer, police said, then strangled him with a dish towel "because I couldn't stand his dying moans."

Her 180-pound husband, Michael, was her second who she married "because I felt sorry for him. He drank all day."

She described her first husband, father of her eldest child, as "a drunken bum," but said she married him because her mother urged it.

Mrs. Smar said her husband, a machinist's helper at the Detroit News, was always in debt and refused to give her money "for doctors or for shots and tranquilizer pills for my nerves."

Milford Driver Leaves No Doubt Where He Went

A Milford man accused of drunk driving has his day in court Saturday, with just cause.

South Lyon Justice of the Peace Bernard Snell levied a fine of $70 and costs of $10 when he learned:

The driver veered from the road, crashed through the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lloyd, 404 Pontiac Trail.

He went through one side of the Lloyd garage, and out the other, trailing lawn equipment.

Continuing his destructive course, he drove another 30 feet before ramming the Lloyd house, jarring the stove and moving the bathtub.

Is it true that many moving things veer to the right in this hemisphere? Do they veer to the left in the southern hemisphere?

Yes, it is true that in this hemisphere things veer to the right. A shell from a big gun will veer several feet to the right when fired in the northern latitudes, if it travels several miles.

Ocean currents veer to the right in this hemisphere, as does weather — such as the hurricane. This tendency is know as either Coriolis Force or Ferrel's law. And it is reversed when we cross the equator.

In the southern hemisphere thins veer to the left. So when people talk about the veer to the right, there is something to it. Whether this force affects vines growing around trees, water in the sink, etc., is still a matter of debate.

13 Meet Death in State Traffic

Two Women Killed in Separate, Similar Nearby Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirteen persons were killed in Michigan weekend traffic accidents, but cooling fall weather and rain eliminated the usual summer rash of drownings.

Two women, both in cars driven by their husbands, were killed on U.S. 131 on the outskirts of Grand Rapids within a mile and a half of each other Sunday night in separate accidents.

Mrs. Esther Freyermuth, 56, Lowell, was killed when a car driven by her husband, Carl, collided with another. And Mrs. Cornelia Kamp, also 56, Grand Rapids, was killed when a car driven by her husband, Anthony, collided with another.

Carl W. Cox, 35, of Elkhart, Ind., was killed Sunday night on U.S. 112, 15 miles west of White Pigeon when his car went out of control, sideswiped another and struck two trees.

Robert C. Clark, 40, and his son, William, 21, both of Mesick, were killed Friday night when their car collided with a school bus carrying 32 Middleville High School football players to practice near Hastings.

Dause Jones, 30, Rosebush, was killed Saturday in a car that collided with a parked truck on U.S. 27 in Harrison.

Anthony D. Betzing, 34, Pontiac, was killed Saturday when his car hit a parked truck in Pontiac.

Mrs. Rose Michaels, 60, Manistique, was struck and killed by a car while walking near Manistique Saturday.

John Leslie Barrett, 37, Hubbard Lake, and Raymond Robert Beyer, 24, Alpena, were killed Sunday in a two-car head-on collision in Ossineke Township.

Harold Nelson, 21, Otsego, and his 18-year-old wife, Mildred, were killed Sunday when their convertible missed a curve and overturned in Van Buren County.

Patricia Nelson, 18, Sundell, was injured fatally Sunday in a three-car pileup one mile south of Au Train. Four others were injured, one seriously.

would give any motorist who had his car taken in on past tickets a writ of replevin to recover the vehicle without paying an impounding fee.

"If the police think they can seize property without a court order and force people to plead guilty without even a court hearing, they are mistaken," the judge said. "A parking ticket doesn't mean anything legally until the police swear out a warrant against the offender and that is the way they should proceed."

The judge noted that because the police have tickets against a given license number, it does not mean the owner is guilty. "It could easily be that another person was driving the car when the violation occurred. The owner is entitled to his day in court if he wants it."

Chief Straley retorted, "Until the city commission repeals the ordinance, we will enforce it. That is our sworn duty."

Neither the city attorney nor the city manager has volunteered to enter the dispute. William Ewart said, "The police did not consult the city's legal department on the implications of the judge's ruling and we have no official comment."

City Manager Walter K. Willman said, "This is a matter strictly for the chief to decide, not me."

Weslie Lagoon, on duty at the New Bedford airport control tower, last heard from the plane at 8:46 p.m.

He said the plane radioed the control tower that it was making a routine approach on instrument landing. Lagoon called back but got no response.

Miss Lehan's injuries were listed as fractured pelvis and leg and a possible punctured lung.

Pontiac Asked to Lease Buses

Request by City Lines Results From Growing Loss of Revenue

Officials of the Pontiac City Lines, Inc., have asked the city to consider leasing the company to help pull it out of the red.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would arrange a meeting with officials so that the proposal could be outlined in detail. He added he might confer with city officials in Jackson, where such an arrangement has been worked out.

The company has been steadily losing money due to lowering patronage, especially during the past eight months, according to E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent. It made only $537 during July, with August profits being worse, he explained.

Dreasher mentioned that another alternative might be increasing fares. "But this usually scares off the riders," he stated.

The leasing proposal would exempt the company from paying $17,000 in city taxes annually, the official said. The proposal would mean the firm would continue to run the lines under lease by the city.

The firm has been operating in Pontiac since 1936 as a subsidiary of the National City Lines, Inc., of Chicago.

Detroiters Pay Last Respects to Mayor Cobo

DETROIT (AP) — Hundreds of city employes left their jobs early today to pay their last respects to Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

The body of the 63-year-old mayor who died last Thursday after a heart attack has lain in state at a Highland Park funeral home since Saturday morning.

He was to be taken to the Scottish Rite Cathedral at Masonic Temple shortly after noon today for the final Masonic rites to be conducted by the Detroit Commandry, No. 1 of Knights Templar, with Canon Charles W. Hughes of St. Alban's Episcopal Church officiating.

Cobo, who served as mayor for nearly eight years, will be buried in Woodlawn Cemetery.

All city courts planned to close at noon today in respect for the mayor and City Controller John H. Witherspoon recommended that city offices also close then to permit employes to attend the funeral.

More than 8,000 persons filed past the mayor's bier Friday afternoon when his body lay in state for nearly three hours in the lobby of the City-County Building.

Some 3,000 persons viewed the mayor as he lay in state at the funeral home, among them his widow, Mrs. Ethel Cobo, and his two daughters, Mrs. Jean Collmen and Mrs. Elaine Hurst.

Standard Cuts Price on Gas to Its Dealers

The Standard Oil Co. announced this morning that it will reduce the price of both standard and premium gasoline to its dealers, one cent per gallon.

The reduction will be effective immediately in the Detroit Metropolitan and Pontiac area, according to Frank J. Swindell, Detroit Division Manager. It follows a reduction of 1.9 cents per gallon announced Aug. 13.

Swindell said that the temporary reduction is being made to enable the company's dealers to be more competitive at the retail level. Although the dealers' price cannot be set by the company it is expected that all dealers will follow suit, reducing the retail price accordingly.

Jets Add to Spectacle

Legion Stages Big Parade

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Row upon row of American Legionnaires marched in their spectacular annual parade on this resort city's boardwalk today under a canopy of jet planes.

Two dozen Air Force and Navy jets roared over the parade route, first at an altitude of 1,000 feet and then at 500 feet, at speeds of 350 to 400 m.p.h.

The noise of the sleek, silvery planes sent reverbations echoing like thunder among the waterfront hotels.

The dazzling display of speed and precision came as first units of the parade reached the reviewing stand at 10:30 a.m. in bright, sunshine weather. A white half moon was visible in the blue sky.

A brisk breeze whipping in from the ocean came as a comfort to the thousands of marchers plodding the route of more than two miles.

The parade was the first ever held by a National Legion convention on this city's wooden boardwalk, wide as a boulevard.

2 Hurt as Car, Truck Collide in Waterford

Two men were injured this morning in a truck-car collision at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. in Waterford Township, according to troopers at the Pontiac State Police Post.

Joseph Schack, 40, of 619 Gardiner St. Clawson, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with face and leg injuries and is reported in satisfactory condition.

Troopers said Schack hit a truck driven by Robert Secord, 21, of Lincoln Park, as Secord made a left turn. Secord was treated for minor injuries and released.

The Day in Birmingham

No Hearings, Lawmakers Process Communications

BIRMINGHAM — For the first time in many weeks, no public hearings are scheduled for tonight's commission meeting. Commissioners, however, will process a number of communications including one from Attorney Forbes S. Hascall.

Hascall, representing the Birmingham Eccentric, informs commissioners that there is a descrepancy in Assessors Plat No. 3, concerning the property on the east side of Maple Avenue, between Elm street, and Adams road.

The Eccentric, he said, has purchased property there, for the construction of a new business building.

The discrepancy of lot lines makes it unadvisable for the company to start construction, he said. Hascall asks that the matter be given immediate attention by city officials.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley will present a report on the action of teenage traffic courts, with the idea of possibly establishing such a court in Birmingham.

Moxley said the police department has for some time studied procedures in other cities, particularly Flint. The teenage court there, he feels, is the best in the area.

His report to commissioners will include a complete summary of the Flint court and an endorsement from Probate Judge Arthur Moore.

Judge Moore has agreed to assist in the formation of such a court here.

Moxley concluded by saying that Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent, is in full agreement with the plan and desires to present it to the school board at its meeting tomorrow.

Bloomfield Village PTA, under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. J. Kreissel is planning its annual fair for Oct. 25. Booth classifications and chairmen already have been named.

Mrs. Thomas Restrick is co-chairman, with Mrs. W. C. Heller in charge of publicity.

Clarence A. Davis

Service for Clarence A. Davis, 71, of 27215 Springarbor Rd., will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Presentation Church, Detroit. His body is at the Ted C. Sullivan Funeral Home, West McNichols road, Detroit.

Mr. Davis, who died Saturday, was co-founder of the Davis Brothers Plumbing and Heating Co., Inc., Detroit. He retired two years ago and recently accepted a position as treasurer in the J. P. Davis Co., also in plumbing.

He is survived by his wife, Camilla; a son, John; four daughters, Mrs. Roberta Reese, Mrs. Joseph Brichta, Mrs. John Dahmer and Miss Irene, a postulant in a Montreal convent. Two brothers and a sister also survive.

Adenauer Triumphs in German Election

ership of the United States," he said slowly and deliberately.

"Germany will be able to give all its political and moral weight to this policy.

"The aims of the policy are a controlled disarmament, a relaxation of international tension, reunification of Germany and genuine peace for all nations."

The Adenauer victory was a bitter pill to 56-year-old Erich Ollenhauer, the Social Democratic leader who wanted West Germany to turn to a more neutral position between East and West.

Wilhelm Mellies, Ollenhauer's chief lieutenant, commented that both the United States and Russia had contributed to the Adenauer victory. The bitter Communist opposition to Adenauer helped him, Mellies argued. The fact that the strength, he added, "deserves respect because the whole world was against us."

The Communist East German radio said the Adenauer victory was won by "terror in the style of Hitler's storm troopers" and threatened European peace. The West German Socialists, it added, had failed to make the best of their opportunities.

A victory for the Socialists could have forced a drastic readjustment of U. S. policy in Europe.

As the Socialists and minor parties conceded defeat, Speaker Eugene Gerstenmaier announced the new Parliament will convene Oct. 10 or 11 in Berlin, the old capital of the Reich.

Presumably Parliament will use this session 100 miles behind the Iron Curtain of Communist East Germany to name Adenauer to his third term as chancellor. The East German propaganda machine kept up its attack on Adenauer to the very last.

Storm Carrie Near Bermuda

Air Force Pulls Back Planes; Hurricane Is 175 Miles Away

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Carrie threatened Bermuda with 50-mile-an-hour winds today and the Air Force pulled back its hurricane hunter airplanes to safety at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Six of the B50s, including one crippled ship, were ordered back. Two of the aircraft were held on the ground at the island resort, 900 miles east-southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C., and would fly into the eye of the storm before heading for the Florida base, the Air Force said.

The Air Force laid plans for staggering flights and keeping one plane with the storm at all times.

One B50, which lost an engine while tracking Carrie, was limping into West Palm Beach today under the command of Capt. Nick Kanter, a former Detroit detective.

The Weather Bureau's 5 a.m., EST, advisory said the storm, with peak winds of 115 miles an hour, was located by aircraft 175 miles east of Bermuda. Little change was expected in size or intensity the following 12 hours.

Wins Extension to Seek Retrial

Clifford Dye, Convicted in Fenton Shooting, Has to Dec. 24 to Appeal

A 90-day extension has been granted in the appeal for a retrial of former Fenton attorney Clifford B. Dye, sentenced last year to a 2-to-10 year prison term for the non-fatal shooting of William C. Clark, 28.

The request for the extension was approved today by Oakland County Judge Clark J. Adams.

The State Supreme Court in June granted Dye leave to appeal his conviction of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. A retrial motion was denied by Judge Adams last summer.

Dye reportedly asked the time to study the 800-odd pages of the official transcript of the nine-day trial.

Car Crash Injures 2 Slightly on Saturday

Two persons were injured Saturday night in an auto accident on Auburn Ave., at East Blvd.

Sylvia L. deSteiger, 23, of 59 Monroe St., hit a car making a left turn in front of her at the intersection. She suffered chest injuries and was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where she was treated and released.

The other driver, Herman E. Goodman, 24, of Van Dyke, was not hurt, but a passenger, Garry L. May, 6, of 258 Osmun St., was bruised.

Yen to Play Fireman Too Much for Thief

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A battalion fire chief's shiny red car was stolen while the chief was occupied with a minor fire in a house.

Nuzzo, released just three days earlier after serving a federal prison term for car theft, had been sounding the siren while driving around town.

"I've always had a desire to play fireman," he said.

Eskimos Try Out Plastic Foam Igloo

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—Even snowhouses aren't snowhouses anymore. An Eskimo family of three in Canada's Arctic is living in an igloo made of plastic foam.

"It is an experiment," says J. I. Nicol of the government's Northern Affairs Department. "Next year we may build a larger type snowhouse, divided off into rooms."

The plastic igloo was set up last summer on Baffin Island. It provides accommodation for the Eskimo family accustomed to the close quarters of a one-room igloo made of snow. A camp-type stove will heat the igloo up to 60 degrees. But the house won't melt or ice over inside and lose its natural insulation.

Like all igloos it resembles a large overturned mixing bowl. It is made of light-weight squares, complete with chimney, ventilation slot and a door with a doorknob. Light comes through it.

Woman, 102, 'Younger'

IIDA, Japan, (AP) — Mrs. Take Hasegawa, 102 years old tomorrow, insisted today: "I am much younger, at least four or five years younger." A town official, noting that the records show she was born in 1855, commented: "Mrs. Hasegawa may feel young in heart. There's nothing we can do but go by her birth record which make her a celebrity."

Driver education for adults will be taught in the late afternoon. Twenty hours of instruction completes the course.

Classes in Americanization, citizenship and first aid are three which are offered without cost.

They are trade mathematics, blueprint reading, technical drawing, advanced projection, English fundamentals, speach, methods analysis, time study and psychology in industry.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Right Solution Now Brings Winner $200

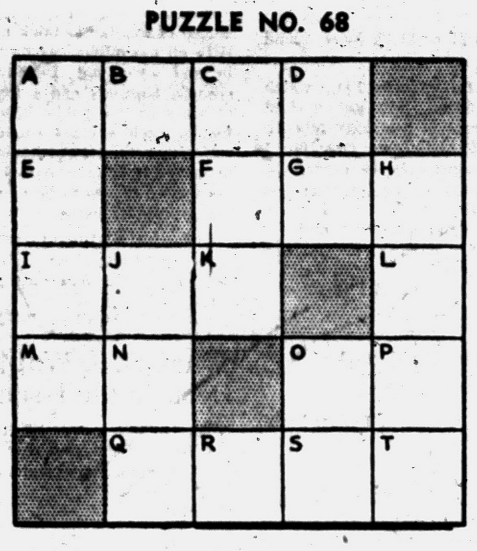

Winners may have emptied the pot, but already it's back at the $200 mark. Surely it's worth a few minutes of time and fun for a try at removing the cash from Pot-O-Gold again.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

All States Must Abide by Laws of the Nation

The longer it runs, the more challenging this Southern integration matter becomes.

The schools are the main stumbling block. Some Southern cities and Southern states are determined to thrust their will down the throat of the nation, willy nilly.

No state, city or group can defy constituted authority. Each may challenge the wisdom of any action and may present its case to the best of its ability. But when all is said and done and when the final verdict is rendered, decisions are just as binding on Tennessee, Arkansas and Alabama as they are on New York, Pennsylvania or Michigan. No state can rise superior to the others. That's fundamental. No state can claim, "these laws apply to everyone but me." That fact has been completely established.

The Federal Government has no desire to employ military might. President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his associates are going sled length to avoid it.

But if their hand is forced and they're compelled to use showdown tactics, they simply have that to do. Small minority blocs cannot breathe defiance and place themselves above the laws that apply to everyone else.

Millions of white children and colored children attend schools across the length and breadth of the land in peace, harmony and concord, but this seems to mean little to the diehards. The PRESS has tremendous respect for a good fighter and one who goes all out, but the battle must be justified and bear the approval of law, order and decency.

Reuther's Idea Puts Cart Before the Horse

WALTER REUTHER'S recent suggestion that the automobile companies reduce their prices $100 a car so he could "take that into consideration" when negotiations come up, produced some interesting facts and figures from HENRY FORD II.

A typical Ford car has only increased 30 per cent in price in the same length of time. "And," says Mr. Ford, "it's a bigger and better car than it was ten years ago."

The increase in wages over the past ten years has been more instrumental than any one factor in advancing living costs. Yet, this most damaging factor is the one the unions want continued while all other advances grind to a stop.

The greatest of the causes of increased living costs should be curbed first. The steady, upward trend of wages occupies this role. If soldiers in company front are advancing too rapidly, those the farthest ahead should be halted originally to restore balance.

How else can it be done?

Living costs can NEVER hold the line until wages cease advancing. Wages continue to be the most "run-away" and persistent part of the spiral. It would be ideal if everything could stop at once, but if that's impossible, the biggest offender should lead the parade.

THE man who told his small son that his playmate ought to be punched in the nose disclaimed responsibility for his son having subsequently punched him in the nose. "I was merely preaching an abstract doctrine," he said. "I didn't advocate action."

"IF THE cost of living continues to rise much longer, many ultimate consumers will lose their shirts," says a columnist. Yes, indeed—particularly those whose shirts have white collars.

THE less sure a person is of his opinion, the more nettled he becomes if you disagree with him.

A Pontiac Area Native Got Him Into Politics

Optimist: The person who thinks the question of a site for Oakland County's new court house will ever be settled.

Much of the credit for getting the late

into Detroit city politics goes to his friend,

Judge Ira E. Jayne

of that city. Jayne is a native of Fenton, and grew up there in the horse and buggy and early bicycle days, when I was growing up at Holly, and we became warm friends.

Last year when it came time for Cobo to announce his candidacy for governor, out of respect for Judge Jayne, he chose Fenton as the place to do it. Jayne then saw to it that I was invited to the afternoon party that preceded the banquet, being the only newspaperman there. The next day The Pontiac Press had an exclusive on the matter.

Personal correction on statement that 101-year-old of Drayton Plains. Last year he would have been a winner, but his entry did not arrive on time. He says, "And I'm not going to kick away $300 again."

First entry in our football contest came from

Which reminds me that you'd better follow this example and go after that $300 yourself before you forget it. Full particulars were given in Friday's column.

Recently attending the sixtieth wedding anniversary of her parents at Goderich, Ont., were

"So far, it seems that our Uncle Sam is the biggest winner in your Pot-O-Gold contest," writes of Birmingham, "as he's probably found it necessary to put on an extra shift where he prints his postal cards."

Mrs. Rachael Overmeyer

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

What Happened to That Diet?

David Lawrence Says:

Faubus Had Right to Call Troops

WASHINGTON — Small wonder many people said they were "puzzled" by the statements issued by the President and the governor of Arkansas after their historic conference. Millions of persons were misled in the first place.

LAWRENCE

They are still being misled by those who insist that the only issue in Arkansas concerns an alleged refusal by the governor to obey a court order when it really concerns just as fundamentally the right of a governor to preserve order in his state without interference by a Federal Court.

The conference at Newport was "constructive" for many reasons. At least President Eisenhower was able to clarify the situation as he wisely sought to remove the impression that the Federal government was just trying to strong-arm a governor and interfere with his constitutional right to call out the militia to preserve order and prevent bloodshed.

The President's statement, moreover, told millions of people in America for the first time what many of them had not previously accepted as an official fact—namely, that the governor of Arkansas had a right to call out his state troops to preserve order and that there is no constitutional power authorizing the Federal government to interfere with the action of a sovereign state in that respect.

The crucial words in the President's statement, issued after the weekend conference, are these:

"The governor stated his intention to respect the decisions of the United States District Court and to give his full cooperation in carrying out his responsibilities in respect to those decisions.

"In doing so, I recognize the inescapable responsibility resting upon the governor to preserve law and order in his state. I am gratified by his constructive and cooperative attitude at our meeting. I have assured the governor of the cooperation of Federal officials."

CORRECT HANDLING

This is exactly the way a delicate conflict between state and Federal authority should be handled. Logically it means that the governor of Arkansas can no longer be regarded as a "defendant" required to show cause at the September 20 hearing in Federal court as to why he is allegedly blocking "integration."

Presumably now the Department of Justice will petition the court to drop the proceedings against the governor of Arkansas and the officers in command of the National Guard there. Presumably also the governor, if he feels that he can risk taking action without seeing violence break out, may decide that the National Guard can be withdrawn from the vicinity of the high school.

The time for admitting new pupils in the school has probably passed now anyway and a whole year can contribute to better understanding, just as in other parts of Arkansas "integration" has been put into effect gradually.

It is significant that the President referred in his statement to an important fact omitted or glossed over by many who have been vocal in the present controversy when he said:

"I was pleased to hear from the governor of the progress already made in the elimination of segregation in other activities in the state of Arkansas."

Undoubtedly it was this "gradualism" which Governor Faubus had in mind when he said this in his statement at Newport:

"When I assure the President, as I already have done, that I expect to accept the decisions of the court, I entertain the hope that the Department of Justice and the Federal judiciary will act with understanding and patience in discharging their duties."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words. —Nehemiah 5:6.

To rule one's anger is well; to prevent it is better.—Jonathan Edwards.

The Country Parson

"A woman was more likely to give God credit for the miracle of whipped cream when she had to whip it than she is now that it comes squirting out of tin cans."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Reader Chases Aches With Vitamins, Calcium

"Dear Sir: I am 55, weigh 139, work in an office, and never take nostrums or pain-killers.

DR. BRADY

"Over a period of 10 years I have been taking at least one, usually two or three vitamin D, B, and and one calcium wafer every day. This has not only kept me in fine health but my rheumatiz and migraine headaches have faded out.

"I started this regimen because a fruitless routine of "shots" of this and that for the rheumatiz got me nowhere.

"Since I now enjoy such fine health, am I getting enough of the essentials you mention in your booklet to maintain good nutrition and so arrest or retard degeneration of joint tissues?" (Miss N. W.)

Whether you now get the essentials to maintain good nutrition depends mainly on your diet. If you follow the diet of most Americans, your nutrition is probably inadequate.

On the other hand, if you follow a high calcium, high vitamin diet not for a week or a month but regularly the year around—your nutrition is probably adequate.

A model high calcium, high vitamin diet—a basic health diet, a corrective protective diet, a regeneration, rejuvenation, reduction diet, or the pattern for such diet on which to build your own according to your particular requirements, is given on page 43 of the booklet The 7 Keys to Vite, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DRINK MILK

One way to get an optimal or adequate daily ration of calcium: Drink a quart of milk a day. If you hesitate to do so because you think milk is "fattening," a quart of milk yields only 640 calories, a quart of skim milk 320 calories.

Other high calcium food are cheese, green leafy vegetables, peas, beans, nuts and peanuts.

Butter and milk are the only items in the diet that supply vitamin D at all, and these are likely to be poor in D content if the cows are not on pasture. Therefore extra vitamin D in one form or another is good for most Americans, especially when the regular diet is deficient in calcium.

So I advise every nice kind lady, her husband, her boss, her hired man and her dog to supplement the regular diet with a daily ration of one of the calcium and vitamin D preparations mentioned.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Good Grades Are Very Important

Tommy is making a sad mistake. He is deliberately avoiding high grades. For he thinks the larger boys will shun him if he is a "brain" and an honor student. But that is very short-sighted, as this case will prove. So discuss Tommy' problem at the dinner table, if you have children of school age.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-391: Tommy L., aged 13, is a seventh grader.

"Dr. Crane, Tommy used to be an 'A' student," his worried mother told me when I addressed the PTA at Brentwood, Pennsylvania, recently.

DR. CRANE

"But something has happened. He now seems to think it is sissy to be a bright pupil. He abhors the idea of being a 'brain,' and now purposely tries to get lower grades.

"Maybe it is because Tommy is short and wants to be included in the sports of the bigger boys.

KIDS, WISE UP

You kids better wise up to reality. The payoff in life is seldom based on a strong back or football and other athletic prowess at school.

No siree! What counts in this modern age is a trained brain.

Labor saving machinery has now made it possible for a woman to handle all the hardest factory jobs. And women can operate all the machinery on a farm.

So don't become idolatrous in your worship of a big athletic figure. The smart little guys in your class will probably be the employers 25 years hence.

The social lions, who are not the athletes, will be begging those smart former classmates for good jobs later on, for that's the way of this world.

If you think I am kidding, then look at the figures that Dr. Paul C. Glick reveals from his analysis of our U. S. Census data.

A boy who graduates from high school earns an average of $49,000 more the rest of his life than does the big bruiser who quit after the 8th grade.

And each year of college leads to an additional $25,000 in later earnings!

So smart boys and girls realize they must graduate from high school and take a year of more of college.

ATHLETES ARE SMART

Even the professional baseball players and football stars are now being recruited from smart college athletes, so you will have little chance in those professional sports unless you are a college man.

And the competition will be much keener in another 10 years. Indeed, the colleges are predicted to have double their present enrollments in 1970, which is just 13 years ahead.

If you wish to get into the university, then you must dig in now and build up an honorable grade report. School marks are an indirect index of your mental horsepower, as well as your habits of diligent work.

Kids with low grades are usually regarded as either below par in I.Q. or else lacking in ambition and good study methods.

Short boys like Tommy are often quite sensitive about their height. But they should realize that some children start growing faster than others.

Our Crane children, for example, didn't start shooting up in height till they were 15 years old, whereas the average child starts at 13.

But short boys are not serious handicapped in swimming or track, and they may actually become taller than their classmates by the senior year in high school.

Meanwhile, don't try to affect disinterest in grades. Instead, dig in and raise your marks as high as possible. Build up a good school pedigree.

To do this send for my booklet "How to Improve Your Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It applies to business men as well as to school pupils, for it offers you the psychological shortcuts to better grades, plus a good memory for names and faces.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Group of Parents Praises City Recreation Program

On behalf of parents of the Perry Park-Emerson School area, we would like to express our gratitude for the fine work done by the Parks and Recreation Department during the summer program. The children were very happy with all the activities planned and enjoyed all the educational trips they took.

We felt it kept the children occupied and gave them a chance to learn competition and good sportsmanship. Parents enjoyed the ball games and the show at Oakland Park.

Our multi-purpose room and the blacktop area helped a great deal by allowing more activities and more children to participate. And we want especially to thank the teachers and college students who supervised the program very well.

Mr. Clark Replies on Haircut Price

After reading the letter complaining about a $2 charge here for haircuts, I'd like to say that Pontiac's charge is the highest I've ever found in any of the hundreds of cities I've visited. The West Coast is well unionized and the charge is $1 or $1.25. Most inland cities are the same.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., which isn't unionized, you get a first class haircut in a strictly modern shop for 60 to 75 cents. One shop I know charges only 69 cents, the barbers work on commission and all 18 of them make over $5,000 a year and drive Cadillacs, and the haircuts are as good as you can get anywhere.

While in your city, I played golf at your city course, and I'd like to commend those responsible for keeping it in such good condition. It would be very difficult to find another public golf course in such good condition, when you consider the amount of play.

Another Defends Teamster Head

I have been a member of the Teamsters Union for nine years. In that time I've met Jimmy Hoffa quite often. He is a man of good morals and he's working for the best interest of all members, white or Negro. This is money well spent.

That is more than I can say for Senator McClellan of Arkansas, who only represents a select few. That's money and time wasted.

We are well satisfied with our labor leaders. In the best interests of all members concerned, we think Senator McClellan should stay home and clean house before criticizing other people and their actions.

Comments About Voting Paradox

The Democratic controlled state of Arkansas is having a small time civil uprising over allowing colored children to attend schools with white children. The solid Democratic voting section of the United States is the solid section against colored advancement or against colored association with white people. And yet Negroes go blindly to the polls and vote Democratic like the slaves they once were.

Observer

Suggests Pontiac Follow Flint Plan

I read in The Press a short time ago that the Flint school board received a loan of one million dollars from a "foundation" interest free, thereby saving the people of Flint $175,000.

Now that is something for the people of Pontiac to think about. With all the millions being spent in and around Pontiac for schools, hospitals and a number of other needed public improvements, such savings would result either in a huge saving in taxes for Pontiac people or perhaps more money to be used for public improvements.

Think what a saving there would be for the people of the U.S. if we had an interest free money system.

'What U. S. Wants Decides the Issue'

A recent writer says "if it (integration) were put to a vote, there would be no question what the majority of the citizens would want." He fails to understand that it's what the people of the United States want, and not what the people of Arkansas want. And the people of the whole United States would vote for integration by an overwhelming majority.

The writer of that letter will please remember, that if it were just what Arkansas wanted, all colored people in Arkansas would be slaves today. The South even went to war to keep them in slavery. The South lost and that's why they're free.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Claims U.S. Uninformed on Girard Trial Actions

TOKYO (INS) — The United States Senate observer at GI William S. Girard's Japanese manslaughter trial declared Friday in Tokyo that the American people "haven't the slightest idea of what's going on" at the proceedings.

Charles Slayman, chief counsel for the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, said he gained this impression after spending several days in the U.S. following his attendance at the opening session of the trial Aug. 26 at Maebashi, Japan. Slayman, who returned to Japan Thursday, said:

"Despite all the news that's been printed about the Girard trial the American people still don't have the slightest idea what's going on.

"And this goes for officials and the general public."

Slayman, 42, said he plans to remain in Japan to observe the trial until the final session scheduled late October or November.

He said news "being printed "They don't know about Japanese legal practice and have unnecessary fears about it."

"From what I have seen Girard is getting a fair trial and his defense counsel is the best he could have."

Slayman praised Girard's lawyers, Maj. Stanley F. Levin, 49, of Hollywood, Calif., and 64-year-old Itsuro Hayashi, former president of the All-Japan Bar Association.

The Senate observer was referring to criticism in some quarters of Girard's defense counsel and his plea of "not guilty" to a charge of bodily injury resulting in the firing range shooting death of Mrs. Naka Sakai eight months ago. Slayman said:

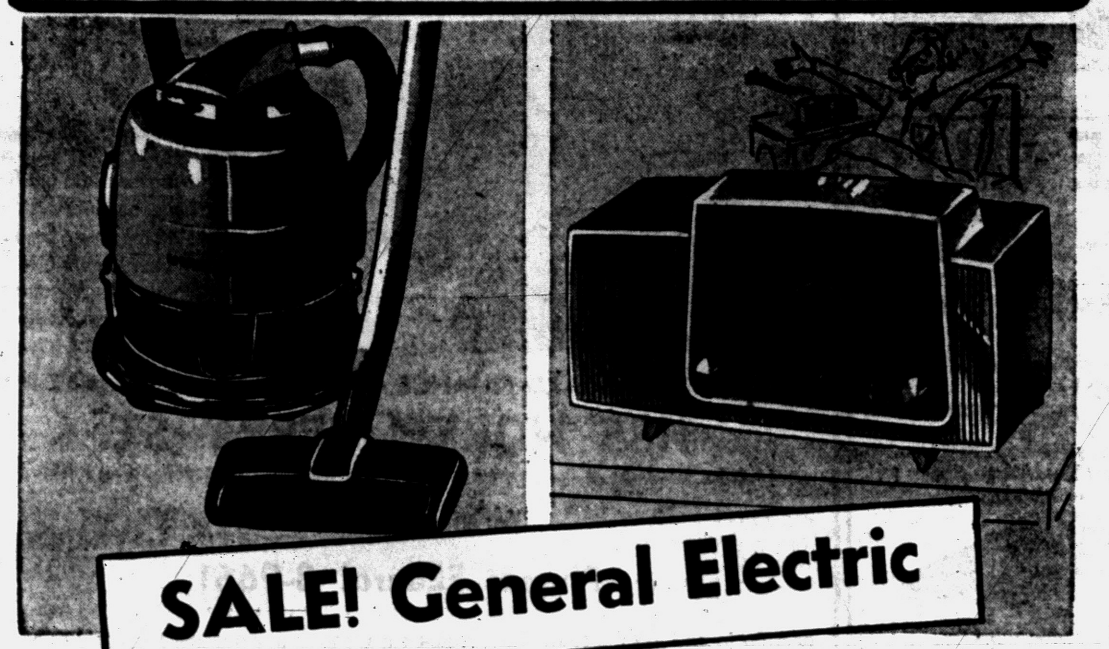

"I believe the defense is making the strongest possible case and I agree with the plea."

Slayman, who will make a full report on his observations at the Girard trial to the subcommittee, said:

"When I return home I will make an effort to counteract the lack of knowledge of the Girard trial on the part of the American

Japan to Oppose U.S. A-Test Plan

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government and private groups today mapped protests against the nuclear tests the United States plans to hold in the Pacific next April.

Dr. Kaoru Yasui, chairman of the Japan Council Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs, said rallies —some by students—would be held throughout Japan tonight and tomorrow "to build up world public opinion against the tests."

LONDON (AP) — Britain claims it will have the world's largest nuclear power station operating by 1962. It will cost 168 million dollars.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: Why is the cowbird, like the cuckoo, a menace to other birds?

ANSWER: The American cowbird and the European cuckoo have picked up a bad habit that has made them famous among people and dangerous to smaller birds. They seem to be awfully lazy. They don't even build nests. Instead, the females sneak around in the bushes and lay their eggs one at a time in the nests of little birds. Not being very smart, the little birds hatch the big eggs along with their own. Because the big nestlings are stronger than the little ones, they often are the only ones to survive.

Despite its bad habit, the cowbird is a useful bird as well as an interesting one.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color this picture. The female cowbird, shown here adding an egg to a sparrow's nest, is grey. The head of a male is brownish and the back is black. Next time you're out in the fields in the eastern part of the country, see if you can identify one.

Tito Calls Soviets First Socialists

Warns Russians Against Interference With Other Red Governments

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito describes Russia as "the first country of socialism" but says the Soviet Union must not interfere with other Red governments.

Tito toasted the Soviet Union yesterday at a luncheon for his Polish visitors, Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz.

He said Yugoslavia and Poland cannot "copy experiences in a stereotyped manner from the Soviet Union."

"When we speak of the leading role of the Soviet Union," Tito said, "we mean that the Soviet Union, as the first country of socialism (communism), is primarily responsible for the preservation of peace and for just relations between Socialist countries . . ."

"We do not deny this great role of the first country of socialism. But we demand that in the present stage of development there should be between the big and small Socialist countries such relations that will be a powerful stimulus for the creation of confidence toward the Soviet Union in the entire world."

Talks between the Yugoslav and Polish leaders have resulted in complete agreement on questions of world peace, the Middle East, German unity and European security, Tito said.

Tot Drops Hand Grenade in Police Headquarters

DOVER, N. J. (AP)—Six-year-old Paul Delvey walked into police headquarters last night and dropped a hand grenade on the desk saying: "My grandmother told me to give you this."

Lt. Joseph Petrzelka first ducked under the desk and then recovered, running outside with the grenade. He called a demolition expert who disarmed the weapon and found it empty.

Paul's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Delvey, later told police she had found the war souvenir while cleaning out a closet.

Koreans Erect Statue of Gen. MacArthur

INCHON, Korea (AP)—A 12-foot statue in bronze of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was unveiled yesterday at this west coast port where his U.N. army staged its famous landing seven years ago.

President Synghman Rhee said in a speech read for him at the ceremonies that the landing was "one of the most memorable feats in the history of warfare."

The surprise landing broke the back of the invading North Korean army and would have spelled complete victory in the Korean War had not the Chinese Communists intervened.

The $70,000 for the statue was raised by a committee of government officials and civic leaders who received donations from Koreans of all walks of life. MacArthur was invited but was unable to attend.

Bouncing Beach Ball Proves Life Saver

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A bouncing beach ball followed by a 10-year-old boy led to the rescue of a youth trapped in the cave-in of a tunnel he had been digging in a sand bank.

Only one foot of Bruce Livingston, 14, was sticking from the bank when young Ed Drake, chasing the ball, saw the foot and sounded the alarm.

Joel Freeman, 35, dug the unconscious boy out and gave him artificial respiration until lifeguards revived him with oxygen.

Of the 10,600 Americans who perished in fires during 1956, 6,300 died in buildings and 4,300 outside buildings.

What Caused Violence in Dixie? Considine Probes for Answer

(While violence exploded in the school integration crisis last week a team of reporters led by Bob Considine went to the roots of the trouble in Dixie. What caused the turbulent outbreak in Southern cities? How do responsible leaders of the South propose handling the problems of integration? These and other basic questions are answered in the series of six articles that start today.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS)—Gov. Orval Faubus' use of his National Guard to block the ordained desegregation processes at Little Rock High, and the tremendous bombing of Hattie Cotton School in Nashville, served the cause of school integration mightily.

So did the gantlet of villification which a Negro girl named Elizabeth Eckford was forced to run at Little Rock High. The "horns" another teenager made above the head of Dorothy Counts at Charlotte, N.C., and the cries of "Spit on her," may be remembered in integration annals as a major incident leading up to the eventual solution, simply because it focused world attention on the problem.

A boy named Teddy Camp, 17, who looked like Johnny Dio as, cigarette dangling, he blocked the six Negroes who sought entrance to North Little Rock High, similarly contributed unknowingly toward the day when just the reverse of what was in his hot blood will be routine.

A DAY OF SHAME

Of that latter incident, the North Little Rock Times said in a front page editorial:

"North Little Rock had its day of shame yesterday . . . . there will be weeping all around the world for the animalism that was displayed here. And all of us here must weep a little too, because a large amount of North Little Rock's self respect died when the mob rose up and tried to have its way. "In fact, there seems nothing left to do now but to weep."

The tears could flow for a long time.

Integration is as alien to millions of decent, sincere Southerners as would be a demand by the Supreme Court that a member of each family must become a Trappist monk. To the rest of the country it looks too easy.

The truth of the matter is that integration is going very slowly and is now entering, or barely beginning to enter, the areas in which the change will be most resisted.

Three years after the high bench handed down its ruling, the real battle is just being joined. There has been comparatively, and miraculously, little violence to date. There have been no deaths, hardly a bloody nose. In Clinton, Tenn., where a weird racist named John Kasper nearly put the torch to the kindly last year, all is quiet.

But none of the Southerners who have thought long and seriously about this crisis can see the end of the road that leads to the Utopian state of student integration dreamed of and required by the Supreme Court.

Before the day comes the saga could be dotted with acts similar to those which have aroused the attention of the world these past few weeks.

There is no mixed public education in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia. There are only 23 Negroes out of 750,000 students in Tennessee white schools, less than a dozen in North Carolina, a few more in Arkansas.

The tens of thousands to come will find themselves—no matter how handpicked they are to represent their race in previously all-white schools—confronted by scores of obstacles ranging from the constitutional labyrinths of Faubus-type decisions to the clenched fists of successding editions of Teddy Camp.

ONLY MINORITY GROUP

When Kasper is put away, it seems certain someone will take his place. Kasper and his ilk by no means speak for the majority in the South. They speak for and to the generally mute, the ignorant and poor white segment who needs to keep the Negro lower because if he pulls abreast there is no one left he can feel superior to.

They speak to the alarmed white parent who fears his schoolgirl daughter will be attacked by or, worse, submit to Negro boys.

School principal George E. Miller could not break the Negro students through the barrier formed by his own students, and when he took the white boys to task and threatened them with expulsion, they told him bluntly that it wouldn't be necessary; that they would leave immediately if the Negroes came in.

Only about 15 of our students took part in the trouble and this is a small number considering our enrollment," Miller said in the voice of the Southern educator who is distressed at the picture his school's troubles may plant in the minds of people elsewhere. "More than fourteen hundred students obeyed my order to go into the building, only fifteen defied me.

"Later they were brought into the school, and, although there was no disciplinary action taken at that time, as such, I did take them aside and try to explain the situation to them.

"I'd say that 98 per cent of the students here would cause no toruble. They are willing to accept the Negroes or are resigned to the inevitablity of it. The handful of troublemakers will continue to be troublemakers whether the problem is integration or what have you."

We asked him what the 15 would have done if integration had been achieved that day.

"I don't know," the worried man said "But I do know this much: In time the other students would have disciplined the troublemakers themselves. Integration is no great problem to the vast majority of students, and, given time, they would see to it that a little group of troublemakers didn't make it a problem for them."

Wants Society to Take Picture of Lumber Pile

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan professor has asked the State Historical Society to photograph the pile of lumber left after the razing of the old clerk's quarters of the American Fur Co. on Mackinac Island.

The planks are all that remain of the historic 140-year-old building. It was torn down by the city of Machinac Island recently as a hazard when funds couldn't be raised to restore it.

Prof. Emil Lorch, a teacher in the U of M School of Architecture, said he feared the Machinac Island City Council may dispose of the lumber. A photograph, Lorch said, would be documentary proof of what remains and how much.

Lorch also hopes the society will show the picture to the state legislature next session in an attempt to pry loose an appropriation to restore the historic building.

Reporter Speculates:

What Did Faubus Think During Ike Conference?

BOW—BOX 17&OL—WHAT DID
By ROBERT E. HENNESSEE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — You're Orval Faubus and in front of you is the President of the United States. Behind you are 47 years, starting in a shack in a briar patch in the red-clay foothills of the Ozarks.

It seems like only yesterday you were but a postmaster in your home town of Huntsville, Ark. And now you are sitting down to talk terms with the President. You speak for the whole South in your plea for state's rights.

Ironic, isn't it? How many times have you said that to yourself since you used troops to stop violence—and thereby integration—at a white school the day after Labor Day?

Your friends and enemies alike have been calling you an "astute politician" and you seemed destined to be the second man in history to be elected Arkansas governor three times, until all this happened. Now, no one knows.

You've made enemies of friends, and friends of enemies. You were proud of the friendship of Harry Truman and Adlai Stevenson, and now they condemn you. A weird jailbird named John Kasper said, "Welcome, friend."

NOW AN 'ENEMY'

And there is Sid McMath, whom you called an "enemy" just Friday as you left Little Rock for your flight to Newport, R.I., and the conference with the President.

If was Sid, as you well remember, who brought you down out of the Ozark hills when he was governor and made you his administrative aide. That was your first big break in life, the only real stroke of luck you had ever had.

Sid said this week that the Democratic Party had asked him to take hold of this thing and keep it from running amok. He now leads your enemies.

You were a moderate liberal—everyone knew this, even Sid McMath, who said so only this week—but now you are being linked with the most reactionary, race-baiting groups in the nation.

Strange, how all this should happen simply because you did the only thing you felt you could under the circumstances, which was ordering the National Guard out when you saw violence approaching. You had not been—and are not—a racist, and more people should have understood.

You blamed all those out-of-state reporters who suddenly descended on Little Rock last week. They had failed, you thought, in presenting your case to the nation. They had asked "evidence," but how do you document evidence of tension and approaching violence?

And so you couldn't give them any evidence.

The thing got out of hand from the very beginning. You especially flinched when Communists made your name a by-word in Moscow and New Delhi and Manila, Bangkok and Cairo.

And now, your war with the Federal government had reached an impasse when something must give. You felt you couldn't "throw in the sponge" or "capitulate," as the commentators had suggested.

Yet, ironically, you didn't even want the Federal government to have to give in, not in principle anyway. You were no ardent states' righter like Allen Shivers, Strom Thurman or Marvin Griffin.

But, for a farm boy from the hills who never even had a college education, you had come a long way, and all the time believing in the American way.

You would try to explain all this to the President, perhaps he would understand and give you time, for in time those Negro children would get to Central High with your help.

Without your help, it might be rough.

City Man Slightly Hurt in Two-Car Collision

Charles D. Winstead, 31, of 98 S. Edith St., was slightly injured early Saturday morning when his car was involved in an accident at Elizabeth Lake Road and Telegraph.

The other driver, Charles H. McKee, 55, of Detroit, was not hurt. Winstead was making a left turn when the collision occurred. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises.

Ferry Plies Straits for Last Voyage

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — The City of Cheboygan made her final run across the Straits of Mackinac to St. Ignace last night.

As the ferry boat pulled away from the dock on her last voyage across the straits, other vessels rang bells and blew whistles to say goodbye.

The City of Cheboygan replied with three long and two short blasts, signifying the end of a voyage in maritime language.

The ship was the second of the ferry boat fleet to be retired. The Straits of Mackinac made her last voyage a week ago.

The three remaining ferries — City of Munising, City of Petoskey and Vacationland — probably will make their last voyages soon. When the giant Straits of Mackinack Bridge formally opens in early November none of the ferries will be running.

He Should Do Well

KESHENA, Wis. (AP) — Ernie Goodwill is a member of the Recreation Committee of the Menominee Indian Advisory Council.

Gluck Sees Man Who Has Name He Didn't Recall

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Maxwell Gluck, the millionaire merchant, today met the man whose name he couldn't remember. They got along just fine.

The Kentucky and New York man was presenting his credentials as the new U. S. ambassador to Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike.

A reliable source said there was much joking between the two about Gluck's admission before a Senate committee that he did not know the names of the prime minister of Ceylon—at the moment.

"You have arrived here with all your fame coming ahead of you," Bandaranaike said.

Bandaranaike thanked Gluck for "the publicity Ceylon got from this incident."

"The Prime Minister," said a high government source, "is highly impressed with him and is sure he will make a success of his job. He will pick things up about Ceylon swiftly."

Headon Crash Injures 3 From Drayton Plains

A headon collision on Sasabaw Rd., just north of Walton Blvd., in Waterford Township, Sunday, sent three Drayton Plains residents to Pontiac General Hospital.

One of the drivers, Carma Kern, 53, of 3963 Woodmere St., was admitted with a broken leg and knee and cuts of the forehead. She is reported in satisfactory condition today.

The driver of the other car, Arnold E. Dorey, 18, of 3355 Addie St., was treated for minor injuries and released, while his brother, Elmer, 16, is listed in satisfactory condition with a broken jaw and possible concussion.

600 Gather at Reception in Honor of J. Cecil Cox

Honored yesterday by some 600 guests was retiring Assistant Superintendent of Pontiac Schools J. Cecil Cox. The event took place at James Madison Junior High School, with Mrs. William Wright as the general chairman assisted by Mrs. Fred Weist.

Among the special guests were Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett, president of Michigan Congress of Parent and Teachers; Frank J. DuFrain, former superintendent of Pontiac school, and Mrs. DuFrain.

PROGRAM PRESENTED

Vera Mae Adams, director of Pontiac High School Radio Workshop, planned the program and William Coffing, vocal music instructor at Madison, was the master of ceremonies.

Olive Absher, Velva Wolfe and Elaine Keinert sang, and a piano duet was presented by Sue Eckley and Jerry Simth. Also singing were Mr. and Mrs. George Putnam.

Other committee chairmen for the event were Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury, invitations; Mrs. Harold Muldowney and Mrs. Fred Steinbaugh, decorations; Mrs. Wayne Weaver, refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Cloyd Houts, and Mrs. Harry E. King, receiving line.

Pontiac Education Association, Pontiac Federation of Teachers and Pontiac Association for Childhood Education sponsored the event.

Other sponsors were Pontiac Administrators and Supervisors Association, Pontiac Council of Parent Teacher Associations and Pontiac Board of Education.

"It sure will be nice to go fishing," J. Cecil Cox seems to be saying as he looks over the boat, a gift presented to him, with William Wright.

Pinning a corsage on Mrs. J. Cecil Cox while Mrs. Everett Peterson (left) looks on is William Coffing. Reason for all the festivities? A reception Sunday at Madison Junior High School honoring retiring Assistant Superintendent of Schools J. Cecil Cox.

Pick Own Sweater Type

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — There's a sweater type for everybody in the female population, starting with wee tots and working right through the Thelma Ritter cardigan and the glamor girl stuff.

There's the country look, the very fancy evening look, the campus look and the sophisticated look.

This fall, you can pretty well pick the length, type, color, weight and weave that you favor to say nothing of the stuff from which the sweater's knitted.

The sweater turns into a costume top for autumn. It's worn as an overblouse. It's a neat little jacket. When it gets fancy, it's touched with velvet, embroidery, lace, satin or chiffon.

For campus wear, there's the bulky cableknit wool cardigan in white, nipped at the waistline. It can be worn day or evening.

A double-breasted jacket with brass buttons is in a heavy ribbed-stitched wool. It has the longer sleeve and notched lapel collar.

Leaders Gather at Quiet Meetings in Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Increasing numbers of the nation's leaders are quietly meeting in weekly prayer sessions to seek guidance and strength in discharging their heavy responsibilities.

In Washington there are now 19 such groups, including two on Capitol Hill, several in the Pentagon and one at the Federal Trade Commission. A group from the State, Commerce and Agriculture Departments meets every Tuesday at the YMCA.

PRAYER ROOM

There was much talk of a "religious revival" when the new prayer room in the Capitol was readied in 1955 for use by members of Congress for moments of quiet meditation.

Actually, some members have been gathering at weekly prayer meeting breakfasts at the Capitol since 1941 to "ponder ways and means of living amid the world's problems in a manner acceptable to God."

Though they shun publicity, at least 35 senators have been meeting each Wednesday in the Vandenberg Room, and more than 60 members of the House in the House restaurant on Thursdays.

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) is chairman of the Senate group and Rep. L. H. Fountain (D-SC) is chairman of the House group.

IDEA SNOWBALLS

The idea for the prayer meeting clubs started in 1933, in Seattle, Wash., and has snowballed throughout the United States and many other countries. There are about 130 clubs in the United States, some of them made up of women.

The groups function under International Christian Leadership which is an interdemonimational organization. Princess Wilhelmina of The Netherlands is honorary president of the international council, and Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) is president.

Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) is a vice president along with Gustav Gedat of the German Bundestag and John Henderson of the British Parliament.

Judge Boyd M. Leedom, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, is president of the national group. Abraham Vereide of Washington is executive director.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

"The groups consist of leaders who meet weekly for Christian fellowship, Bible study, discussion and prayer in a non-sectarian and non-partisan setting," explains Vereide.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Welch of Silver Lake road are the bride's parents, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne O. Berry of Ferndale.

GOWNED IN SILK

The bride chose a silk bombazine gown featuring a Sabrina neckline re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins on lace appliques. The bouffant skirt which fell in soft gathers from the waist was accented with re-embroidered lace appliques and flowed into a chapel sweep train.

Her headpiece was a cloche cap of silk securing a fingertip veil of French silk illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Janet Hudson, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a light green peau de crystal gown designed with a boat neckline and a two-tone cummerbund accenting the full skirt. She carried a crescent of buckskin chrysanthemums and croton leaves.

MRS. THOMAS E. BERRY

Nancy Sue Welch and Thomas E. Berry were married Saturday in Central Methodist Church. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Welch, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne O. Berry.

Mrs. John Opie of Ferndale, a sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Gerald Bauer and Mrs. Richard Smith of Fort Rucker, Ala., were the bridesmaids. They were gowned like the honor attendant in darker green peau de crystal and carried crescents of light bronze chrysanthemums and croton leaves.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

For a reception in the church parlors Mrs. Welch wore a two-piece dress of blue Belgian lace with matching accessories and a corsage of blush pink cymbidium orchids.

Before leaving on a northern Michigan and Canadian trip the new Mrs. Berry changed to a black sheath with black and white accessories and an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in East Lansing where the bridegroom is attending MSU. The bride was graduated from Michigan State.

Men don't like girls in "uniforms" (blue jeans, saddle shoes, borrowed men's shirts) but they're likely to like this delicate low bowed sweater . . . so right for campus and dress-up dates.

They Should Be Happy With Their Freedom, Riches

What Causes Tension in American Women Today?

(In the 20th Century, the American woman has won a lot of freedoms. She's free to vote, to compete in business, to smoke and to drink. But with these freedoms, there is increasing evidence that the American woman also is unhappy and confused about her role as a female. The following article, first in a series of five, begins an authoritative report on what causes tension, on the problems created by women seeking to escape it, and on how you can learn to live with it.)

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

The American woman seems to be coming apart at the emotional seams.

She ought to be the happiest, richest, most pampered female in history, but she's swallowing tranquilizers by the millions, drinking more than ever before, and winding up in mental hospitals by the hundreds of thousands.

To find out why, International News Service asked doctors, clergymen, social workers and famous women all over the world.

The answer came in one word: TENSION.

Compared with other women in other countries, American women combined the world's highest standard of living with the world's biggest case of nerves.

VARIED REASONS

But the reasons given varied. Some experts said it was the career - vs - marriage problem. Some blamed sexual maladjustment. Some blamed the pressure of the "atomic age."

"Marriage helps ease the tension. Without marriage there's an emptiness in a woman. Marriage gives 'wholeness' to a person."

Yet marriage itself was blamed by several doctors as the cause of tension in women. Dr. John A. Schindler of the Monroe Clinic in Wisconsin, a best-selling author on emotional problems, believes single women have these problems much less frequently than do married women. He noted, however, that tension is largely a woman's complaint:

"There are three women patients with emotionally induced illness to every man with the same disease."

TRANSITION PERIOD

Why? Novelist Fannie Hurst, a widow and a noted exponent of women's rights, said:

"Living today creates higher tension for a woman than ever before. She's in a period of transition, trying to ride two horses (career and marriage) at once. It can be done but it's tricky, and she's a little wobbly."

Miss Hurst added that she doesn't think women "are going to the dogs just because they're going through a difficult transition."

Another explanation came from Clark W. Blackburn, general director of the Family Service Association of America, which represents 271 Family Service agencies in the U.S. and Canada. Blackburn said:

"We've uprooted the old patterns of living without replacing them with a new set of standards for American women to live by."

As a result, Blackburn believes, "every woman in this generation, regardless of her status — single, married, employed, 'only a housewife,' with or without children—is exposed to a pattern of tensions."

BETTER OFF NOW

There are some experts who disagree completely, who think "women are better off than ever before," even though the weight of expert opinion seems to be on the other side.

So says Dr. C. Knight Aldrich, chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Chicago, who thinks the "business of modern life producing all these tensions is overdone."

And anthropologist Dr. Margaret Mead of New York also denies that "women are cracking up." Such a statement, she claims, is hardly consistent with the fact that women are living an average of five years longer than men.

Then what accounts for the estimated seven million tranquilizer prescriptions bought in the U.S. each year? And what accounts for "the million women alcoholics" estimated by Dr. Sidney S. Greenberg of the Consultation Clinic for Alcoholism at New York's Bellevue Medical Center?

Specialize for Best Home Product

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When you try to be all things to all people, you end up being nothing to anybody.

I remember when I was very young, I used to read articles on how to snare a beau.

HAD TO PRETEND

You had to pretend to be this or that, you had to remember that men like such-and-such a type. My friends and I would read and study and practice these methods of being universally popular.

The little articles assured us that every boy in town would just adore us if we mastered the technique of being really charming.

You know what happened — nobody liked us at all. Finally I relaxed and decided to just be myself, whether anybody liked it or not.

From then on, my telephone was busy. The same thing is true with any area of life.

For example, suppose you have decided to make a home product for sale.

SHOULD SPECIALIZE

If it's going to be cookies, don't decide to make just all kinds of cookies in an effort to please everybody. Make just one kind.

Because you specialize you will be able to perfect your product. Pretty soon, the people who like that kind of cookie will beat a path to your door.

Or if it's ceramics, don't make all kinds of products — dolls, ashtrays, lamps and powder boxes — in an effort to get the whole town for customers.

Make just one thing, make it perfectly and attract all the people in town who want it.

The other day I met a woman who is a good example of that.

She makes beautiful baskets to hold firewood. They are graceful in line and come in various sizes.

She makes them herself and has a wonderful clientele — people who are tired of polishing brass or copper, people who have modern decor and like the light, modern look of baskets, people who want a rustic look.

SINGLE PRODUCT

"But all I make is firewood baskets," she told me firmly. "People are always asking me to make picnic baskets, handbags or bread trays. But I specialize and turn down orders for all other things.

"This way, I can perfect my technique so that I can make them very fast and get a larger profit for my time. It also simplifies purchasing and enables me to get materials at a lower price.

"But more than that, I love fireplaces and get a great deal of pleasure in knowing that I'm contributing to their beauty!"

If you're thinking of selling a homemade product, remember that you can't be all things to all people.

Concentrate on Essential but Low-Calorie Foods

Eat Correctly to Hold Weight at Ideal Level

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Whenever I plan reducing menus or when I stick to one myself for a short time I am newly impressed with how much one can eat when losing weight, and also with how much more most people eat than they need.

If we cut out the empty calories (food which brings us calories only and are lacking in protein and vitamin and mineral content) that alone gives us a good start toward a weight loss and good health.

The successful reducer is eager to know how to hold her weight at the ideal spot on the scales. I often have told you in this column to experiment by adding 200 or 300 calories a day and watching your weight.

In a short time you can determine just how many calories you need. This depends on your metabolism and your physical activity and other factors.

It might be helpful to you if I outline a diet which should be typical for the woman who wishes to maintain her weight but not gain weight. It is most satisfactory to divide your food among three meals with a few calories for in-between-meal fruit juice or milk. This is especially helpful if you live on a fairly low-calorie intake.

ESSENTIAL FOODS

The following menus give you the essential foods but are low enough in calorie count to keep you at the ideal spot on the bathroom scales.

Some of you might even lose slowly when following such a plan. If so you would have to add a couple of hundred more calories daily.

Breakfast

One cup of orange juice
One poached egg on toast with a little butter
One cup of coffee with a teaspoonful of sugar

Luncheon

Two medium tomatoes
Three tablespoons cottage cheese
One-third of a head of lettuce
One piece of whole wheat bread, a little butter
One glass of skim milk

Mid-Afternoon

One glass of tomato juice or buttermilk or Skim milk or one piece of fresh fruit

Dinner

Two medium slices of roast or steak or fish or fowl
One baked potato (easy on the butter)
One helping of beet greens or some other greens
Green or fruit salad with one tablespoonful of French dressing

Before Retiring

Glass of skim milk

If you would like to have my leaflet "Vitamins in Your Diet" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

CHECK MENTAL HEALTH

Many women who take their vitamins regularly, sleep adequately and exercise faithfully, completely neglect their mental health. We are apt to take this for granted and therefore fall into stale and destructive ruts in thought and feeling and personality.

It seems to me that it is just as important to check up on our mental health as our physical condition.

We can age emotionally and mentally just as rapidly, if not more rapidly, than we do physically. So, you may wish to check yourself against the following list to see not only how healthy you are mentally, but how young you are. I hope that you —

1. Live each day as though it were the last day you will ever have. If you do not live quite that vibrantly, at least I hope that you do not cling to the past or dream only of the future but that you are keenly aware of today, with all of its interests and potentialities.

2. Look "out," because there is a lot to see when you do not pull the blinders down by looking "in" at yourself continually.

3. Laugh many times each day and are able to see the humor in everyday happenings. Do you laugh less than ynou used to?

YOU MUST BELIEVE

4. Believe in something or someone or both with enthusiasm and your whole heart.

5. Do not indulge in the worry habit but instead face your problems, do what you can about them and then forget them.

6. Don't allow yourself to be "thrown" by blue days. Everyone has them but they soon pass. Do not take them too seriously. Shrug them off.

7. Have constructive work to do. This is the best medicine in the world for depression, worry or boredom.

8. Think positively rather than negatively. Do not allow petty irritations or hurts to dim your days.

9. Think things are going to be better rather than worse.

10. Be more tolerant than critical.

11. Do not place your sights so high that you sigh constantly over the impossible and therefore pass possible happiness or success which are within your reach.

If you score well on this list you are certain to be at the top of the popularity lists of your friends and family. If you score poorly — run if you see a straight jacket coming!

Ruth Elaine Titley and Stewart Louis Peck were married Saturday in Tipton Community Church, Tipton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Titley, and the Victor L. Pecks are the bridegroom's parents.

Pair Travels to Smokies Following Rite in Tipton

Two-hundred and fifty guests witnessed the marriage of Ruth Elaine Titley and Stewart Louis Peck Saturday evening. The Rev. David M. Holly performed the ceremony in Tipton Community Church, Tipton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman B. Titley of Tecumseh are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Peck of Birmingham.

WHITE SATIN GOWN

The skirt and chaple-length train featured medalions of lace and a tiny cap held her lace-edged fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Carol S. Peck, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore an emerald green crystalette gown fashioned with a round neckline, a full skirt and a panel at the back with a flat waistline bow. She wore a petal headband and carried a basket of vari-colored chrysanthemums.

Kathleen Thomas of Royal Oak and Janet Wait of Jackson were the bridesmaids and were gowned like the honor attendant. Miss Thomas wore gold and Miss Wait, tangerine.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Dr. James H. Stegeman of Birmingham acted as best man while a brother of the bride, Dale E. Titley of Tecumseh, Robert E. Basham of Pittsburgh, Pa., Lawrence D. Peck of Birmingham and Air Force Lt. Daniel F. Robins of St. Louis seated the guests.

For a reception in the church parlors the bride's mother wore a Dior blue crepe dress with pink orchid corsage. Mrs. Peck chose a navy sheer gown with lace trim, pink accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Before leaving on a trip to the Smoky Mountains the new Mrs. Peck changed to a gold sheath dress with black accessories. The couple will live in Birmingham.

Mrs. Peck was graduated Aug. 31 from Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing.

Detachable fur collar qualifies the same coat for either dressy or casual wear. A long wool scarf can make another change.

Important collars, from shawls to capelets, were shown in the European collections. A deep cape collar can be used as a separate fur evening wrap. The detachable shawl collar will serve on a cashmere cardigan and your coat too.

Wixom Eyes Status of 5th Class City

WIXOM — The young village of Wixom, less than a year old, may branch into a fifth class city in the near future.

Submitted by a citizen's group, the petition contains a total of 168 legal signatures. A petition of that nature requires only 100 signatures or a quantity equal to one per cent of the total population, according to Joseph T. Stadnik, village president.

The council must wait at least 30 days before taking final action on the petition. After the waiting period, council will adopt an official resolution and set a date for a special election to bring the matter to a vote.

It is expected that Wixom councilmen will schedule an election at their regular meeting slated for Monday evening, October 14.

Should Wixom become a fifth class city, it will be known as a "home rule city," Stadnik said.

The chief advantage to a fifth class city classification would be the security of Wixom's size. As a village, Wixom could lost part of its territory should either Novi or Commerce townships become a city.

A second advantage to Wixom residents would be the elimination of township taxation.

In commenting on the new issue, Stadnik issued the following statement: "If the citizens of Wixom want a fifth class city status, it would be beneficial to make such a change now before the village government gets into high gear."

Stadnik also declared that he was 100 per cent behind the proposal and that the fifth class city status was part of his campaign platform.

Voters will be asked to elect a nine-man charter commission when a special election is held. Then, voters would be asked to approve a fifth class city charter at a second election.

Firemen List Arson in City House Fire

A fire, apparently set by an arsonist, burned down both doors to the home of Edgar Anderson, 38, of 103 W. Rutgers St., early Sunday morning.

Anderson, alone and asleep in the cement block house, was awakened about 5 a.m. by shouting from the street and the sound of breaking glass.

He found both front and rear door ablaze and the windows too narrow for escape.

Anderson ran water in the kitchen sink and threw it on the back door. The flames died down for a minute and he ran into the backyard.

The Pontiac Fire Dept., summoned by a neighbor, brought the fire under control before it reached the attic. They found a quart jar, smelling of gasoline in the back yard and believe someone threw gasoline on the doors and deliberately set them on fire.

NL Lead Cut to 2½ Games

Braves on Shaky Ground

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Hurt seriously by a batting slump, the Milwaukee Braves today led the National League by 2½ games. But worried Manager Fred Haney insisted, "We're not going to blow this one."

The Braves' bats became silent right after Labor Day when they led by 8½ games. Yesterday they lost their eighth in 11 starts 3-2 in 10 innings to the Philadelphia Phillies. The second place St. Louis Cardinals grabbed a twin bill from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In the dressing room, his gloomy players grouped around him, Haney declared, "We're still going to win."

"But we've got to get some hits," Haney said. The Braves have collected six runs and 19 hits in their last four games, three of them consecutive defeats which equalled the club's longest losing string of the season.

The little manager has revamped his batting order and welcomed back two of his injured regulars—Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan—in his hunt for hits and runs. But he admitted he hasn't found the combination. In a further search the club yesterday called up three of its minor league standouts.

"How do I know why we aren't getting any hits?' Haney asked a questioner. "If I knew the answer, I'd put a stop to this slump right now."

He added, "We're overdue to break out of it. And if just one guy starts hitting, the rest will follow like sheep."

Haney's remarks were echoed by Red Schoendienst whose arrival in the Milwaukee camp in June was followed by the better baseball that carried the Braves to their once handsome lead.

Warren Spahn, shooting for his 20th victory, coddled a 2-1 lead into the ninth inning Sunday only to have Philadelphia tie the score in the ninth and beat Milwaukee in the 10th 3-2. After two hits sent Spahn to the showers, Ted Kazanski, a .255 hitter, singled home the winning run.

With Stan Musial back in the starting lineup and chipping in with three hits in six trips, the Cardinals thumped Pittsburgh twice 9-6 and 11-3 behind Herm Wehmeier and Sam Jones. Two big innings did the trick—six runs in the fifth inning of the opener and five in the first inning of the second game.

Cincinnati slammed four home runs, chasing Don Newcombe, in an 11-6 romp over Brooklyn. Hal Jeffcoat hit one of the homers and took an 11-2 lead into the ninth before he fell apart.

Ed Haas, a rookie outfielder from Fort Worth, delivered a pinch single with the bases loaded and the score tied for the Chicago Cub's 7-6 edge over the New York Giants. The Cubs won the opener 6-2 behind veteran Bob Rush. Willie Mays had four hits for the Giants, including his 34th homer, to hike his average to .339.

Yanks Sweep Athletics to Widen AL Margin

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Tommy Byrne's pinch homer in the opener and the three-hit pitching of Don Larsen gave the Yankees a sweep of 5-3 and 3-0 decisions over Kansas City and increased the New York lead to 5½ games over Chicago which dumped Washington 3-1 in a single game yesterday.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit moved within one game of 3rd place by ripping Boston twice, 7 to 1 and 4 to 3, and Baltimore swept a marathon twinbill from Cleveland winning 5 to 4 and 4 to 3 to move into 5th place ahead of the Tribe.

The Yanks were held scoreless by Jack Urban until the seventh when three singles produced one run, Byrne's homer delivered three more and Hank Bauer's roundtripper scored a fifth tally. Homers by Tony Kubek and Harry Simpson off rookie George Brunet won the second for the Yanks who concluded their season series with K.C. The Yanks won 19 of the 22 games between the two clubs.

Jim Lemon's homer was the only run in the Washington game until the White Sox scored three in the ninth on Earl Torgeson's two-run double and a sacrifice fly. Barry Latman won and Truman Clevenger lost.

Baltimore won the opener in 16 innings despite a Cleveland triple play. Joe Caffie hit a homer in the ninth for Cleveland to tie the score and then in the bottom of the ninth, pitcher Bud Daley caught George Zuverink's pop fly bunt and nabbed both Bob Boyd and Billy Goodman off base to complete a triple play.

A wild throw by Vic Wertz enabled Ken Lehman to bring home the run that gave him the win. All of Baltimore's second game runs came in the third inning on six straight singles off Don Mossi. Ray Moore was the winner.

Only One Game Back of Boston After Two Wins

Bunning Notches 19th Victory in Opener of Sunday's 'Double'

BOSTON (AP) — The rejuvenated Detroit Tigers, who appeared to have found a home in the second division earlier this season, have bulldozed their way to within one game of third-place Boston in the American League.

The surprising fourth-place Tigers swept a twin bill from Boston yesterday; 7-1 and 4-3, to mathematically eliminate the Red Sox from the pennant chase.

The day also was a good for Jim Bunning, the hurler who has exploded into Detroit's winningest pitcher this season after spending most of last year in the minors.

Bunning got his 19th victory yesterday as Detroit downed Boston 7-1 in the opener to reach the threshold of the coveted 20-game winner's circle.

Bunning allowed five hits. He fanned nine and walked four. Frank Malzone's sixth-inning single which scored Jim Piersall was the first run off Bunning in 18 innings.

Bunning has chalked up a 24-8 record since being recalled by Detroit late in 1956 and is almost certain to win 20 games, since he will be given two and possibly three more chances.

Al Kaline hit his 23rd homer of the season with two on in the first inning of the nightcap, giving Detroit a three-run lead which it never lost.

Boston picked up its runs on Mickey Vernon's bases-empty homer in the fourth and Dick Gernert's two-run homer in the seventh.

Frank Lary was the winner.

Tigers rest today but will be in New York tomorrow for the first of a two-game series with the Yankees. They trail New York by 15½ games.

St. Mike, Dales Ready to Challenge

Eaglets Face Battle in SCL

By BILL CORNWELL

Orchard Lake St. Mary goes in search of its 3rd consecutive Suburban Catholic League football title this fall, but all signs along the way indicate that the trail will be a rocky one.

Highly-respected St. Michael and ever-dangerous Ferndale St. James look ready to offer stern challenges while Highland Park St. Benedict lurks craftily in the background.

Although the talent appears thinner at Royal Oak St. Mary, St. Clement of Center Line and Detroit St. Rita, there is enough caliber aboard to make it mighty uncomfortable on any given occasion.

Even badly-battered St. Frederick, the SCL doormat which has not won on the gridiron since the 1953 season opener, figures to score at least a couple of victories and end the long drought.

In other words, this year's race for honors could be one of the hottest and most closely-contested battles in the parochial league's recent history.

The Orchard Lake Eaglets, winners with comparative ease in 1955 and '56, have the makings of another championship club if Rev. John Rakoczy can find adequate replacements for his graduation-riddled backfield.

Terry Raymond, star pile-driving fullback, is the lone backfield holdover. Dick Novak is being groomed for the quarterback post, with Stan Moniuszko and speedy Frank Bartos destined for halfback roles. The Eaglet line, for the most part, is experienced.

Despite the loss of brothers Bill, Joe and Gary Fitzgerald, who moved to Marion, Ind., and the questionable eligibility of Leo VandenBusche, transfer end from Mt. Clemens St. Mary, St. Mike coach Bob Mineweaser is more cheerful now than he was when practice began.

St. Fred still looks a year or two away from a winning season, but coach Gene Wright thinks his gridders might break into the victory column two or three times before the 1957 schedule runs out.

Wright greeted 15 lettermen on opening day, headed by halfback Tom Derocher, quarterback Dick Kast, fullback Jack Lyon, end Phil Biery, tackle Frank Zwicker and guards Marty Koenig and Frank Palopoli.

The Rams were dealt a severe blow last week, however, when Palopoli suffered a head injury during a tackling drill. He is probably lost to the team for the year.

St. James, coached by Corky Foster, is geared for a serious crack at the league crown. Half a dozen veterans bolster the Dales' chances, led by bruising fullback Bill Tunnicliff and halfback Larry Honeycut.

Ed Casey, new head mentor at Royal Oak St. Mary, inherits a talent-thin bench, but he does have a ball-carrier of high caliber in veteran Paul Smuts.

Lou Little Calls 'em

By LOU LITTLE

As I get around the country I find people saying that one of the happiest features of the new football season is that Notre Dame and Army are matched again.

College football thrives best when the old, traditional centers of the sport are strong. The public reacts, there is more interest generally and the feeling extends all the way to the high school level. There is more football talk in the homes, and it even touches the youngsters who 10 years from now will be fighting for places on college teams, big and little.

Notre Dame and West Point are certainly traditional centers of the sport as well as of their own contrasting and important types of education.

When their football teams collide in Philadelphia on Oct. 12, they will bring back a rivalry the sport needs, just as it needs the Harvard-Yale, Army-Navy, Penn-Cornell, California-Stanford, Texas-Texas A&M., Michigan-Ohio State, Georgia-Georgia Tech classics and others like them. When interest wanes in games like these, then we can start worrying about the future of football.

Maybe it will surprise you to know that a coach welcomes the week in which his team plays an old traditional foe. This is the week you don't have to worry about the men being on the practice field at the earliest possible moment after release from classes.

This is the week they are intent on every coaching word. They're up mentally, and that usually means physically, too. This is the week you don't have to resort to any semblance of the old-time "fight-talk." They don't need it.

After 33 years of college coaching, at Georgetown and Columbia, I find myself with a new problem this year—one I have never faced before. The problem is where to spend each succeeding Saturday afternoon.

This week it must be the Oklahoma-Pitt game, but there are at least two others I really hate to miss. Navy visits Boston, which should be a first-rate contest as well as an historic event in the Hub as B.C. dedicates a new stadium.

The other place I'd like to be in is Atlanta, where Georgia Tech plays Kentucky in the afternoon and then at night Georgia plays Texas—an unusual doubleheader for Tech's Grant Field.

The Tech-Kentucky game may not be one of those traditional Southern classics historically comparable to some of Tech's other rivalries such as Georgia, Auburn and Duke, but it can be a battle representative of the first-rate football played in the South.

Through the years I have known and worked with many coaches and none has earned more fully my respect than Tech's Bobby Dodd. As a result, I was interested in the report of a mutual friend, an Atlanta business man, who told me in New York the other day about the Tech prospects.

Battered Putter Big Title Aid

Robbins U.S. Amateur King

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Lt. Hillman Robbins has succeeded Harvie Ward Jr. as king of amateur golf with the help of a battered but treasured old putter.

Ward ruled the amateurs in 1955-56 and it was a similar relic which aided his climb to the top. Ward was ineligible this year.

Robbins, an accounting officer in the Air Force from Memphis, Tenn., defeated Dr. Frank "Bud" Taylor, 40, 5 and 4 Saturday in the 36-hole windup of the 57th National Amateur golf championship.

Robbins had trouble putting in the morning when he lost a 4-up advantage but was master of the greens in the afternoon when he came back in a blazing finish to win seven of the last nine holes.

His 12-foot birdie putt concluded the match on the 32nd hole.

"I've always used the same putter and never will part with it," the tanned Tennessean said. "The man who taught me the game—Dub Fondren who is a pro at a Memphis course—loaned me the putter back in 1948 and I never have given it back. I never will now."

Robbins's devotion to the club recalls the incident at the start of Ward's golfing career when he found a putter discarded in a locker room in Tarboro, N. C. He has used the club ever since.

Robbins, 25, who said he won't turn professional and won't compete in another tournament until the Master's next spring, called the 24th hole the turning point.

"I thought I was going to lose it but wound up even instead of down two," he said.

The airman drove into the rough down the bank to the left of the green on the 185-yard hole but chipped to within two feet of the pin and dropped the putt.

Then a nine-foot putt on the 26th, a 20-footer on the sloping green of the 28th and his closing 12-footer hurried the match to its conclusion.

Rookies Shine in Wings-Flyer Tie

Adams Looking for New Forwards

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—General Manager Jack Adams tried fitting new forwards today in line holes that showed up in the opening of the Detroit Red Wings' exhibition hockey season.

The National Hockey League champions were forced to a 3-3 tie with the Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League in their first pre-season contest Saturday night.

Two who gained stature in the deadlock, however, were rookies Tom McCarthy and former Chicago Black Hawk Forbes Kennedy.

Kennedy, who started the game with the Flyers, found himself elevated today from the Red Wing farm club to a left wing spot on the Alex Delvecchio - Lorne Ferguson line.

Bill McCreary, who had a week's trial as left winger on the No. 2 line, was dropped down to the Flyers lineup.

"I was impressed with McCarthy's aggressiveness," Adams declared after the game. "I also liked the way Kennedy looked," he added.

Kennedy, one of the four players who came to Detroit in the deal that sent Ted Lindsay and Glenn Hall to the Black Hawks, showed up well when the Flyers started rallying late in the first period.

Despite having spent the entire last season with the Hawks at center, Kennedy now is at a left wing with Norman Ullman and Bill Dineen. Should he fail as a flanker he seems certain to find a pivot spot somewhere as his fiery style appeals to Adams.

Right wing Cummy Burton got one back for the Flyers when he connected late in the first period on a double rebound that nicked past Terry Sawchuk.

It was the only shot that got through Terry of 11 fired at him in the 33 minutes he worked.

Delvecchio sent the Wings two goals ahead on a brilliant end-to-end rush at 17:58 or the second period. But 63 seconds later Gordon Strate bounced a long shot into the net off Al Arbour and the Flyers knotted the score at 15:22 of the final stanza.

The two clubs meet here again Wednesday night.

Bradley Trips Chips to Cut Victory Skein

SAGINAW (AP) — Michigan's college football season got off to a dismal start here over the weekend. Bradley defeated Central Michigan 14-7 to snap the Chippewas' victory string at 15 Saturday night.

Halfback Dale Ems pounced on a Chippewa fumble on Central's 22 in the second quarter. Several plays later he crashed over right tackle for Bradley's first touchdown.

Late in the fourth quarter the Braves covered 62 yards in eight plays for what proved to be the deciding score. Quarterback John Giangorgi carried over from one yard out for the touchdown.

City Golfers 2nd in MRA

Despite the efforts of Mrs. Zadah DeBolt, who shot 43-43—86 for medalist honors, defending champion Pontiac could do no better than 2nd Saturday in the women's Michigan Recreation golf tournament at Municipal course.

Lansing's five-woman team, paced by Marie Terranova who fired 92, won the state MRA tourney with an 18-hole total of 481. Pontiac's runnerup total was 491.

Joyous Cards Order World Series Ducats

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, flushed by a doubleheader sweep and bolstered by the return of the injured Stan Musial, yesterday ordered World Series tickets printed and stuck two scouts on the trail of the New York Yankees.

The Cards are 2½ games shy of front running Milwaukee. The stumbling Braves lost to Philadelphia 3-2 yesterday in 10 innings while St. Louis swept Pittsburgh 9-6, 11-3.

The Cards feel the club is in position for a do-it-yourself drive to the pennant. No longer do they have to rely on the help of other clubs. The Braves are within reach now.

"We expect to do it," General Manager Frank Lane said after the double victory.

"They can't afford to make many slips or we'll be right there," said Manager Fred Hutchinson.

"Now we have a chance to do it on our own, and if we don't—then what the hell."

Immediately ahead, tomorrow and Wednesday, are two games with Brooklyn. Hutch said the third place Bums will be tough.

Looking farther ahead, the St. Louis skipper predicted the pennant will be decided in the Cardinals' three-game series at Milwaukee Sept. 23-24-25.

Musial, six-time batting champion, tacked two points onto his National League batting lead in his return to the starting lineup after 20 games. Stan had 3-for-6, giving him a .342 mark. He played six innings in each game.

Musial unknotted a 3-3 tie in the first game with a run-scoring single. He doubled twice in the second contest.

He said afterwards his injured left shoulder felt strong when he was swinging a bat but his throwing bothered him a little.

Put on the trail of the Yankees as scouts were W. H. "Buddy" Lewis and Bennie Borgman.

The Red Birds were 8½ games behind after losing a Labor Day doubleheader at Cincinnati. Since then they've won 10 of 12. They are closer to first than at any time since Aug. 8.

4 Tilts Mark Start of BC Grid Season

Packers took a thrilling 16-12 win over Lions, Bears dumped Eagles 42-30, then went on later to beat the Lions 50-42. Packers edged Eagles 36-30, in their 2nd encounter. Saturday's games left the Bears and Packers tied for the league lead with Lions and Eagles knotted for second.

Jan Jones' running and passing and Leigh Dushane's defensive play led the Packer win over Lions. Joe Doyan paced the Bears' attack for 61 yards and six of his team's TDs in the win over Eagles.

Chuck Kocsis Triumphs

Chuck Kocsis fired a closing round 71 Sunday to win the club championship at Red Run Golf Club with a 54-hole total of 217. Dick Whiting, who shot 75 yesterday, and Tom Draper, who finished with a 76, tied for 2nd place at 219.

Wilson Raps "Complacent" Lions

There isn't an Eastern team in the National Professional Football League which can boast of a record better than .500, yet two consecutive defeats have been administered the Detroit Lions by Eastern division teams.

Saturday night in Cleveland the Lions fell 23-7 to the Browns and as a result coach George Wilson angrily charged the team with "complacency."

"The trouble with this ball club is that they're too easy going, they are not mean enough," Wilson said.

"We've become to complacent," said Wilson going over the beating his club got from a vastly improved Cleveland team. "They're not hustling and they make too many mistakes for a veteran team," he said of the Lions. "It's time to get tough. They are going to get the treatment that I got when I started in this business."

The defeat by the Browns followed a loss a week ago to the Pittsburgh Steelers and left the Lions with a 3-2 record so far in the exhibition season. They play one more game against world champion New York Giants next Sunday before opening the regular season against the Baltimore Colts Sept. 29.

The Browns jumped to a 13-0 halftime lead on Noll's first quarter touchdown and two of Groza's field goals in the second quarter.

It wasn't until the last few minutes of the game that quarterback Bobby Layne could find the passing range. Layne engineered a 64-yard scoring drive that ended when Tom Tracy bulled over for the only Detroit touchdown from the half-yard line. Layne made the conversion.

Groza scored 11 of the Browns' 23 points with field goals of 14, 40 and 46 yards and two conversions.

In other NFL games, three Western Division teams rolled to victories. Unbeaten Green Bay squeezed past Washington, 20-17, Baltimore romped over the Cardinals 27-9 and the Bears stopped Buddy Parker's two-game winning streak by dumping the Steelers, 37-10.

Big Hotel-Office Project is Los Angeles Dream

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Los Angeles, the nation's third largest city and still growing strong, is looking forward today to outdazzling New York and Chicago with construction of a monster hotel-office building development of dream-like proportions.

The project is planned for the 21-acre site on Wilshire Boulevard occupied by the Ambassador Hotel and will be known as "Ambassador International."

The site itself is believed to be the largest single-owned block of metropolitan property in the United States and is owned by Schine Enterprises, operators of hotel and theater chains.

No time limit has been set for completion of the project but it is expected to begin as soon as the city rezones the property from multiple-dwelling classification to commercial.

In announcing the project, G. David Schine, young president of Schine Enterprises, said the cumulative cost is expected to reach more than $300,000,000.

INCLUDES HELIPORT

If and when the project is completed, it will have seven office buildings, ranging from 25 to 50 stories; 2,000-room hotel; a convention hall and dining facilities for 2,500; a merchandise mart; an exhibition hall; a heliport; and underground parking for 2,700 cars.

The project is based on a predicted population of eight million persons for Los Angeles in 1970.

Figures issued by the planners of Ambassador International dwarf by comparison the statistics on New York's fabulous Rockefeller Center which has been 25 years abuilding and is still incomplete.

The Ambassador commercial dream development has 21 acres as compared to Rockefeller Center's 12 acres; Ambassador office space in envisioned at 10,500,000 square feet or four times the space of Rockefeller Center which has approximately 2,500,000 feet; and what's more the Ambassador project will have a landscaped lake to maintain what the planners call the "open character" of outdoor California living.

While Ambassador International is still only a dream, preliminary plans have been surveyed by the architectural engineering firm of Daniel, Mann, Johnson and Mendenhall.

A basic, feet-on-the ground approach is evident in the plan to maintain present hotel facilities on the grounds as the new development takes shape.

3 PHASES

The engineers have divided the development into three phases which will come into actuality as requirements of population and services indicate. As envisioned, the project may be halted at any stage if the planners should decide that they have been too optimistic.

Phase one calls for a $30,000,000 outlay and would include a new wing of 450-500 rooms on the present hotel with a 32-story tower; at least one office building of 25-stories; underground parking facilities; the heliport and improvement of the grounds.

Phase two calls for another 500-room hotel addition; a second 25-story office building; the merchandise mart; and a 37-story office building.

Phase three would see the old Ambassador Hotel razed and the new 2,000-room structure completed along with four more office buildings ranging up to 50 stories.

The city planning commission with the hearty approval of mayor Norris Poulson is expected to act quietly to rezone the property so construction can begin.

Navy Builds Keel on Constellation II

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP) — The keel was laid Saturday at the New York Naval Shipyard for a supercarrier that will bear one of the most venerable names in U.S. naval history — the Constellation.

The keel-laying of the original Constellation took place some 162 years ago.

The two Constellation's representing the Navy's newest ship building and the navy's oldest ship afloat, were linked together by Robert Michaels of Baltimore. He is national chairman of a fund-raising drive to restore and enshrine the old frigate at Ft. McHenry, birthplace of the "Star Spangled Banner." It is now at Baltimore.

The ship whose keel was laid today will be the sixth and final of the 60,000-ton supercarriers of the Forrestal class. It will also be the final carrier to be propelled by conventional means. Atomic power will propell future carriers.

The carrier will measure 1,047 feet by 252 feet with a 100-plane capacity.

All That Glitters Is Not Golden

Hong Kong Nothing but Great Fraud Promoted by Thousands of Tourists

BY MARVIN L. STONE
Far Eastern Director

HONG KONG (INS) — Hong Kong is one of the world's great frauds. It glitters like gold but a little rubbing leaves you holding a brick.

The fraud is not perpetrated by the British colony itself. It is being promoted by thousands of American tourists who have "discovered" Hong Kong in recent years.

IT'S EVERYTHING

To hear them tell it, it is Rio De Janeiro, Paris and San Francisco rolled in one. It is beautiful, prosperous, clean and gay. Bargain hunters claim it is the greatest thing since the Townsend Plan.

"The trouble with tourists is they are too busy to see anything," said Richard W. Reuter, executive director of Care who has been in Hong Kong supervising aid to many of the colony's 800,000 refugees from communism.

SEES HARBOR

What the tourist sees is a breath-taking harbor with colorful old junks sporting around. Only they aren't sporting. A quarter of a million people use them to try to make a living. They rarely ever do. They eat, sleep and work aboard them in family groups and in appalling squalor.

Store windows are filled with rare jades, delicate ivories, rosewood chests and fine brocades, and the price seems right.

There are actually three prices in Hong Kong: one for the Chinese, one for the British, and one for American tourists. The Yank pays from 35 to 50 per cent more than the others.

TOURISTS TAKEN

"Oh, but they love to be taken, these Americans," said a British businessman who for years has watched, somewhat aloofly, the American bargain-hunter at work.

Shopping is unquestionably a major attraction, rating with Chinese high split skirts, two-decker buses, the three-cent ferry ride and gaping at Chinese men who still can legally take as many wives as they can afford.

The cheapest drinks in Hong Kong are served at tailor shops. You can't walk into one (if you are an American) without having a highball shoved in your hands before you ask to look at materials.

When you get home, Mr. and Mrs. American end up, often as not, with suits and dresses of a strange cut, stitching that comes apart within weeks, and a hangover.

Never mind, it's fascinating. But the catch is that the average American never sees Hong Kong. It looks prosperous; for the majority of the 2,500,000 people here — about twice as many as the colony can properly care for — times are hard.

So hard that the suicide rate, for example, was never higher. So hard that the average caloric intake of the Chinese is 1,000 calories a day. All right for a dieting matron but hardly enough for a growing boy.

It has the most superficial kind of building prosperity, based on fear. The money comes from overseas Chinese trying to get money out of Singapore and Vietnam. The rents will be pegged high enough to repay investments in four years. This is because no one ever is sure what the Communists, sitting across the border, are going to do next.

The tuberculosis toll in Hong Kong is 50 deaths a week. Unemployment stands at about one-half million. Begging, petty thievery, daylight snatching of handbags, wristwatches and earrings is on the rise.

In some districts of Hong Kong, 30 people live in flats normally suitable for six. An import-export clerk skilled in three languages, typing and accounting, sometimes cannot make twenty-five dollars a month.

Street-walkers are rife, although officially banned. Rolled newspapers have become a necessary weapon for beating off prostitutes along two or three particularly overcrowded thoroughfares.

Police are at wits end trying to cope with hundreds and hundreds of beggars on the streets. They are professionals, formed into gangs. An amateur in real need is hounded off the streets by the pros.

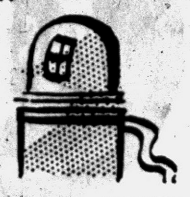

Hong Kong is 99 per cent Chinese. The other one per cent is largely British colonial types with a sprinkling of other nationalities. One per cent lives very well indeed.

It is this one per cent the average tourist hob-nobs with. This may be the reason he is usually 99 per cent wrong about Hong Kong.

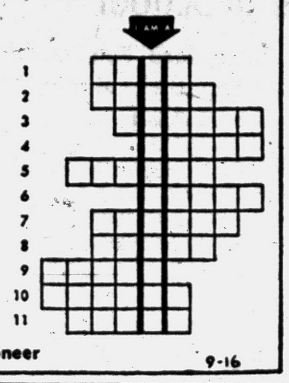

Soviet scientists in Moscow say that the level of the Caspain Sea has dropped several feet during the last 25 years.

Equitable's Living Insurance Family Style

Here is personal coverage on each insured member of your family under one single policy with a choice of two plans...

A Family Protection plan providing insurance on dad, mother and the children... and a Family Security plan providing a valuable savings feature, too.

Now The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U.S. offers you this new and unique choice in family insurance. Its benefits are different from any offered the American family.

In other words, this is a take-what-you-need proposition. In Living Insurance Family Style you pick the plan that suits your family best. Here's how it works.

Family Protection

If you're a young father, your primary interest probably is immediate individual coverage on yourself, your wife and your children. Then Family Protection is your plan and here's what you get for each unit.

$5,000 of permanent insurance coverage on yourself . . . insurance with cash values that increase each year and on which you can borrow money in time of emergency.

$3,000 immediate coverage on your wife to age 30 . . . term insurance giving maximum protection during the critical years, decreasing gradually and terminating at her age 65.

$1,000 of coverage on each insured child under 18 . . . term insurance to age 25 or mother's age 65, whichever occurs first, may then be converted to permanent insurance without medical examination up to 5 times the amount of term insurance. Automatic coverage at no extra cost is provided for future children beginning when they are at least 14 days old.

Family Security

On the other hand, suppose you want the advantages of family coverage but feel that you'd like a greater amount of cash in hand when you reach retirement age.

Then the Family Security plan is for you. Here's what you get for each unit.

$3,000 of endowment coverage on your life payable in cash when you are 65 or payable on death before your age 65.

$1,000 of endowment coverage on your wife payable in cash on the very same day that the coverage on your life matures as an endowment—or payable on her prior death.

$1,000 of coverage on each insured child under 18 . . . term insurance to age 25 or your age 65, whichever occurs first. The Family Security plan also contains conversion privilege for the children, and automatic coverage for future children.

Built-in Benefits

The Family Protection Policy and the Family Security Policy are available in amounts up to a total of 3 units. Both plans have valuable built-in features. For example, if father dies, insurance on mother and children is automatically paid up with no further premiums due.

Take a long and careful look at your family now. Then send in the coupon below for complete details on Living Insurance Family Style.

Valuable Offer

If you act promptly, you will also receive a handy Equitable Baby Sitters' Memo and a convenient chart for measuring and recording your children's day-by-day growth!

Keep Children Out of School

75 Waterford Families Protesting Lack of Bus Service in Area

More than seventy-five families living on Hospital road between Cooley Lake and Elizabeth Lake roads in Waterford Township, have been keeping their children home from school because of no bus pick-up.

Residents claim that school buses that are routed down Hospital road, drive by almost empty, and when they reach the school building, are still not half filled up.

John E. Hills, administrative assistant in charge of transportation, explained that this year the state aid program provides bus transportation only for those children living beyond a one-and-a-half mile radius of any school.'

However, the Waterford Township Board of Education is paying the difference and retaining the same one mile from school policy, in effect last year.

With the opening of the new William Beaumont school on Elizabeth Lake road, children that formerly were transported to Waterford Center school, must now walk one-half mile, either to school, or to the pick-up area.

Parents feel that it is not safe for their children to walk along busy Hospital road, and petitions are being circulated by residents in the area for immediate bus pick-up.

The parents of children involved, are planning to meet at 6 p.m. Thursday at the William Beaumont school and attend the regularly scheduled Board of Education meeting, en masse. Ralph Blair of 6527 Elizabeth Lake road is chairman of the group.

Josh Logan to Produce 'World of Suzie Wong'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I ask you—could anyone be better than Josh Logan to bring the best selling "The World of Suzie Wong" to the stage? And I'm making a bet now that when it comes to the screen later, Josh also will be at the helm.

"The World of Suzie Wong," by Richard Mason, is the story of an American painter who falls in love with a Chinese girl of loose morals. Josh has been associated with so many Oriental stories lately he must be eating with chop sticks. He recently finished "Sayonara" for William Goetz, and he's now directing "South Pacific."

Eliot Hyman and Ray Stark bought the rights to "Suzie" from the galley proofs six months ago for $125,000 and naturally they will be the co-producers of the play with Logan. The Broadway dramatization will be made by Paul Osburn who is now working with Josh on "South Pacific."

Irene Dunne, who was nominated by President Eisenhower as an alternate delegate to the United Nations, was sworn in by Secretary of State Dulles, in Washington, D. C., on Thursday. Later Secretary and Mrs. Dulles gave a reception for her and the other eight delegates.

She will also be the guest of honor at a dinner party in New York given by Ambassador and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge.

In a note Irene said, "I feel so privileged to be a part of this vital organization, the United Nations, which is designed to prevent a future war." Knowing Irene as well as I do, she'll be a wonderful asset to this great organization.

I hate to brag I told you so—but before blonde, green-eyed Susan Oliver ever stepped before a camera at Warners I predicted this girl was a comer and was in movies to stay. Sure enough, Jack Warner is so pleased with her in "The Green-eyed Blonde," her first film, that he's put Susan under a long term contract.

For girls who read this and think getting to the top in a hurry in Hollywood is easy, let me say that Susie served her apprenticeship well on Broadway before coming here. She played many small roles before she was given a real part in "Small War on Murray Hill" and attracted a Warner Brothers scout.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Frank Sinatra, who hasn't seen Peggy Connolly for ages, was with her the night he returned home, at the Slate Brothers. In the same party were Ernie Kovacs, Jimmy Van Heusen, Joe Fields and Carl Reiner.

A romance to watch is that of actress Sheree North and music arranger Pete Rugolo. They were a twosome at Phil Ahn's Moongate Restaurant in the valley.

Leslie Caron was so eager to get home to see her baby she didn't even stop for a piece of birthday cake at Maurice Chevalier's 69th birthday party. Marriage and motherhood have done much for her.

Arthur Freed introduced me to a dark-eyed girl named Annette Claudier, who comes from Monaco and has a bit in "Gigi." She says she sings the same songs that Chevalier does — "only not as well."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

U.N. Due to Rebuff China's Bid for Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Red China's bid for a seat in the U.N.—sponsored by India for the second year in a row—is headed for another rebuff.

India has proposed that the General Assembly put the subject of "the representation of China in the United Nations" on its agenda for the 12th session to start tomorrow. She and the Soviet bloc want the 81-nation Assembly to seat the Chinese Communists.

But diplomats say the Assembly will vote overwhelmingly to sidetrack the bid for another year.

The Peiping regime will do well to get as much support as it did a year ago in a similar test. At that time 47 countries voted to shelve the question, while 24 voted to consider it. Eight other abstained.

The United States will again spearhead the move to postpone action. It will have the backing of some countries like Britain and Australia, which have recognized Red China, but feel that the time has not come to seat the Chinese Reds.

Jockeys to Replace Rats in Diet Study

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jockeys will replace rats in a study of the role of diet and exercise in the control of heart disease.

Three scientists from the University of Southern California School of Medicine will take blood samplings of jockeys at Santa Anita race track this winter.

Dr. Roslyn B. Alfin, Slater, associate professor of biochemistry and nutrition, says the school has used more than 2,000 rats so far in its studies.

"We are hopeful that experiments with the enforced diets of these half-starved jockeys will yield a great deal of valuable information toward the understanding of the causes of heart disease," he said.

Market Takes a Step Down

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was a shade lower in very quiet dealings early today.

Pivotal stocks mostly showed fractional losses although there were some equally small gains scattered throughout the list. Trading slowed down after an only moderately active opening.

Minor pressure appeared to be exerted against the aircrafts with Boeing, Douglas and United Aircraft all down small fractions. Most airlines and oils also eased.

Utility issues had a steadier tone than the rest of the list. Consolidated Edison, Consolidated Natural Gas and Commonwealth Edison posted small advances.

Other opening blocks included 1,500 shares of Sperry Rand at 21⅜, up ¼, and 1,500 shares of General Motors at 41¼, off ⅜.

Police Doubt Call to Inspect Bomb; Find It No Fake

With fake bomb scares sweeping the state during the past week, Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies were rather pessimistic Sunday when they received a call that a bomb had been found in a wooded area in Independence Township.

Deputies went to the scene and, sure enough, Lester T. McDonnell, of 5390 Cecilia Ann St., Clarkston, produced a M-3, 81 m.m. shell which he told them he found along Waterford Rd., just east of US-10.

The percussion cap was still intact but the shell was minus a firing pin and housing. It was taken to the sheriff's department where demolition experts termed it harmless.

Announces Managers for New Zone Areas in Neward, Jacksonville

New zone offices of Pontiac Motor Division will be opened Oct. 1 in Newark, N.J., and Jacksonville, Fla., according to Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

It will bring to 27 the number of zone areas in the country, Bridge said.

"We feel these additional zones will enable us to give our dealers better service in these areas where the population and the automobile market have increased substantially in the past few years," he said.

The Newark zone will be headed by William W. Harris as zone manager. Harris, a native of Pontiac, has been assistant zone manager of the Pontiac zone since 1954. Assistant of the Newark zone will be Melvin H. Cole, formerly business manager of the Boston zone.

HARRIS

COLE

H. N. Long Jr. will be manager of the Jacksonville zone, while William McNair Jr. will be assistant zone manager. Long joined Pontiac Motor Division in 1950 and has held positions with the division's Buffalo, Pontiac and Memphis zones.

LONG

McNAIR

McNair has held positions with the Cleveland, Memphis and Atlanta zones since joining the division in 1946.

The appointment of Philip Western as assistant manager of the zone in Pontiac was announced by Bridge. He succeeds Harris, the new Newark manager.

WESTERN

Western joined the division in 1936 and has held positions in the Pontiac and St. Louis zones. He has been service manager of the zone here since 1951.

Liquidation Cuts Prices on Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — General liquidation appeared in most grain pits on the board of trade today and prices eased from Friday's levels.

Wheat futures declined as much as two cents a bushel at times, influenced by good rains in the Southwest over the weekend and disappointment over the small amount of acreage going into the soil bank.

Corn was off on news that the Commodity Credit Corp. had sold around 2½ million bushels of the feed grain from government stocks and indications of more CCC sales to come. This had a depressing effect on free corn.

Soybeans were down nearly two cents a bushel on prospects that harvest would get into full swing soon. Although the weather bureau forecast cooler weather over the corn and soybean belt with temperatures five to 10 degrees below normal there was no indication of early frost.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was 1 to 2 cents a bushel lower, Sept. $2.13½; corn was ½ to ¾ lower, Sept. $1.22⅝; oats were ⅛ to ½ lower, Sept. 65¼; rye was 1⅛ to 1¾ lower, Sept. $1.31; soybeans were 1½ to 1⅞ lower, Sept. $2.36¼; and lard was 2 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. $12.40.

Board to Meet at Waterford

Opening Bids Tonight on Installation of Fence at Cemetery

Bids for a new four-foot chain fencing around Waterford Cemetery will be opened when the township board meets at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Adjoining property owner Louis Dorman has promised to pay one-half the cost of the fence on two sides of the century-old cemetery just off Dixie Highway.

Recommendations by Clerk James Seeterlin for repairing other fences in the township will be discussed.

The cost to the township of water meters has been raised from $24 to $29. Seeterlin will propose a raise in the tapping fee to absorb the $4 increase.

The board also will hear a proposal to repaint the interiors of the township's three fire stations.

Other speakers will be Louis Nims, chairman of the State Tax Commission, and State Sen. Frank Beadle (R-St. Clair).

Lacks Gratitude; Chipmunk Bites Royal Oak Girl, 12

A 12-year-old Royal Oak girl was the victim of bad fortune Sunday, as she tried to help a floundering chipmunk at the Franklin Cider Mill in Bloomfield Township.

Jane Louise McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. McCarty of 1112 Pinehurst St., Royal Oak, was bitten on the hand by the struggling chipmunk as she helped it from a pond it appeared to have fallen into, State Police said.

A few moments later the chipmunk died. The chipmunk was taken to the State Police lab in Lansing for tests to determine whether or not it died of rabies.

'Air Attack' Brings Barrage of Calls

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — About a hundred television viewers in a 40-mile radius from Hartford yesterday telephoned newspapers, the station and Hartford police in alarm over a Civil Defense program.

The program showed a Civil Defense notion of what would happen during an air attack by "enemy planes" from the North Pole region. Live studio news reports by announcers were intermingled with film clips showing an Army missile base and the Air National Guard in action.

Many people apparently did not hear an announcement before the program went on the air that said it was a mock air raid test.

"I had no idea it would be so effective," said writer-director Dan Morris of WHCT-TV.

Missouri Police Seek Fugitives

4 Prisoners Escaped; 2 Caught; One at Large Was Held for Michigan

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis police have joined an extensive search for two fugitives who escaped from a jail atop the three-story Butler County courthouse in Poplar Bluff, Mo., by slugging a jailer.

The fugitives are Thomas Franklin Dorman, 26, of Ionia, Mich., who was held for Michigan authorities on charges of statutory rape, jail breaking and parole violation, and Walter Roy Bostian, 19, of Sunbury, Pa., described by state police as a navy deserter from Pensacola, Fla., and charged with burglary.

They and two other prisoners escaped Thursday night. Two were recaptured quickly.

St. Louis detectives investigated an address here which had been forwarded from Butler County authorities Friday and continued the search yesterday.

Butler County sheriff Lester Massingham said the fugitives might have escaped the area in a car stolen about two hours after the break. The search efforts may have been hampered by the fact the car wasn't reported as stolen until the next morning.

The sheriff said he has requested federal fugitive warrants on the two men. Massingham said he had other reports indicating Dorman and Bostian may have split up soon after the escape.

Recaptured were James Robert Bozmann, 19, of Cambridge, Md., and Ray McClain, 25, of Poplar Bluff.

Shoots Wife and Girl, Then Kills Himself

CADILLAC (AP) — A Cadillac truck driver shot his wife and stepdaughter and then fatally wounded himself as police converged on his home Saturday.

Police Chief Fred Weber said Gilbert Yack, 39, shot his 15-year-old stepdaughter, Sharon Boyd, three time with a .22 caliber pistol. She was taken to a Cadillac hospital and listed as critical. A ricocheting bullet hit Yack's wife, Ruth, 37, superficially wounding her.

Weber said Mrs. Yack, who operates a beauty parlor in the front of her home, said her husband left home and returned later in the day. She said after a talk, he drew the gun and fired as the two women attempted to flee the room.

Yack shot himself in the temple as Cadillac Police Sgt. Delbert Conrad rushed into the home. He died two hours later.

Mrs. Yack said she and her husband had quarreled frequently.

Amazed Bandit Takes $95 From Big Grid End

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A gunman got a shock as well as $95 from Lamar Lundy, rookie end for the Los Angeles Rams professional football team.

The robber invaded Lundy's hotel room, waved his gun and ordered the athlete out of bed. Then he watched in fascination as Lundy rose to his barefoot 6 feet 7.

"My gosh!" the prowler exclaimed. "You . . . you'd better get in the bathroom. And close the door."

Lundy peered out of the washroom a few minutes later. The man — and the money — were gone.

Ike Talks Today With Aide Cutler

To Discuss Problems of Security, Internation Affairs; No Emergency

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Vacationing President Eisenhower talks over international problems today with a national security aide here from Washington.

Turning for the moment at least from the Arkansas school integration crisis, the President arranged to confer at the Newport White House with Robert Cutler, a specialist on security matters.

There was no immediate White House comment on Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus' assertion last night that National Guard troops would not be ordered away from Little Rock's Central High School today.

Cutler was here to report to the President on a National Security Council meeting held in the capital last Thursday. Vice President Nixon presided in Eisenhower's absence.

There was no indication Cutler's visit has any emergency aspect. In Washington he and the President confer several times a week.

At church services here yesterday, the President commended a Navy chaplain's sermon remarks on school integration and told him: "I have been trying to convey the idea you cannot legislate morality where human beings are involved. It must come from within."

The Chaplain, Lt. Valery Sundt, said in his sermon at the First Presbyterian Church that it is "a tragedy that there are Christian people on both sides" in the school integration controversy.

The clergyman called for "prayerful patience" and appealed to the congregation not to judge.

TV Disc Show Goes Over Big

'American Bandstand' Attracts Adults as Well as Youngsters

By ANTHONY ZECCA

That's on the basis of more than 29,000 letters that swamped his "American Bandstand" headquarters in Philadelphia during the first five days that ABC-TV put his 90-minute afternoon disc jockey show on a 62-station network coast to coast.

The gist of the letters is that the handsome 27-year-old Pied Piper of the teenagers is more than "the most" to his fans. They think he's the "living end."

Surprising fact gleaned from the letters, however, is the large percentage of writers who don't fall in the teen bracket. These fans range from sub-teen to grandmas who watch the program and get a vicarious bang out of seeing the teeners cavort to records.

Some 150 boys and girls in Dick's studio audience show off the latest dress and dance fads and generally have themselves a ball while Dick spins the platters. Dick, married and the father of a 7-month-old son, doubles as chaperon.

NEVER ANY TROUBLE

"Be nice, but firm," he says, "and there's never any trouble." He sees some 300,000 teenagers a year while hosting record hops in addition to his TV show.

Clark also introduces visiting guest stars to his audience, chiefly recording artists who go through the motions of singing their current hits while Dick spins the record.

The youthful emcee's trips around the country have convinced him that the popular music taste of teeners doesn't vary appreciably.

His Philadelphia audience has demonstrated some fairly ingenious dance steps on "American Bandstand," the latest one is called "Chalypso," a combination of the cha cha cha and calypso. They've also done the "slop," "bop," "chicken," "stroll" and "Panama" among others.

But letters to Clark from young viewers around the country report they are doing the same dances under different names in their own home towns.

He was referring to the fact that his show, which had its network debut on Aug. 5, is rounding out its fifth year on local Philadelphia screens. The program has been sold out to sponsors for the last four.

One rating service reported it the most popular pre-5 p.m. show, local or network, in any of the nation's largest cities.

Clark is hoping it will do as well nationally, and those mail bags offer promise of fulfilling that hope.

KEY TO SUCCESS

Dick says that "this has been the key of converting our local success to a national one."

FAME IN ONE WEEK — Dick Clark, host of ABC-TV's "American Bandstand," didn't become a national celebrity overnight — but it only took him a week. Over 29,000 letters flooded into his Philadelphia headquarters within five days after the Aug. 5 premiere of his record hop for teenagers. Bandstand is telecast Mondays through Fridays from 2 to 3:30 p. m.

Nothing Accomplished but It Was a Nice Trip

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We stumbled around to the fall opening of a local night club this dawning and found Natalie Wood having her hand fondled by Robert Wagner who calls her "O'Brien"—after Margaret—who calls him "Tab"—after Guess Who.

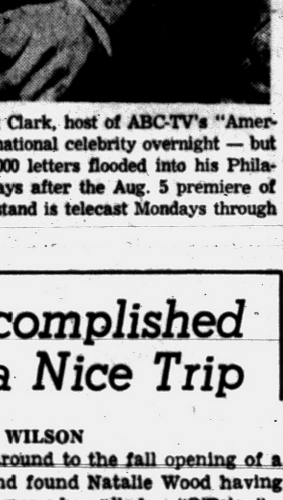

WILSON

Natalie and the "Marjorie Morningstar" cast are going back to California after actually shooting about one day in Manhattan (and three weeks in the Catskills).

The famous West End Avenue apartment building they came into town to shoot isn't rentable—they'll have to build a replica in Hollywood. Oh well, it was a nice trip . . . nice and long and expensive and, we trust, deductible.

NATALIE

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Bob Hope and Pat Boone will swap TV guest shots because, says Bob, "We can't afford to pay each other." . . . The Bell lab developed a phone without wires to the receiver . . . An uptown theater wants to hire tennis star Althea Gibson as a singer.

EARL'S PEARLS: Ideas are apt to be like children. You often think your own are the best.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Remember when $30-a-week would feed a family of five, instead of a child of five?"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A Britisher told us that England's guided missile is named "the Civil Servant": "That's because it won't work and no one can fire it." . . . That's earl, brother.

Two Climbers Die on Oregon Heights

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A rarely climbed, 1,200-foot rock spire that juts up in the Columbia River gorge took the lives of two men yesterday.

Two other men, who would have been along except for oversleeping, watched in horror as Don McKay, 36, Portland, and Lloyd Joseph Quigley, 32, Vancouver, Wash., fell to their death. Both were veteran climbers.

They were within 300 feet of the top of towering St. Peter's Dome, 30 miles east of Portland.

Dave Hitchcock and Ross Petrie arrived late and discovered McKay and Quigley had started without them. They watched the climbers through binoculars.

The crumbling rock surface that has stopped many previous attempts on the dome was blamed for the deaths. Both men were known as steady, cautious climbers. Friends said they undoubtedly were working with steel-driving pegs into the rock for foot and rope holds—and that the rock must have failed to hold when a strain came.

They were roped together.

Summer Visits Eastern Third of Country Briefly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A late summer spell of hot and humid weather continued in most of the eastern third of the country today but it was pleasant in most other areas.

The cool air from Canada and eastward from the Rockies spread over mid-continent areas, dipping as far south as southern Texas and eastward to the upper and mid-Mississippi valleys and upper Great Lakes region.

East and south of the cool belt, it was warm and humid in southern Texas, the lower Mississippi Valley and east of the Mississippi Valley except the upper Great Lakes. Readings were mostly in the upper 60s and 70s.

The Gulf states, were hit by heavy rain yesterday and last night. More than 2½ inches of rain drenched Birmingham, Ala., with the biggest amount in a two-hour period.

Heavy rain also was reported in Monroe, La., Tuscaloosa, Ala., Burwood, La., Tampa, Fla., Fayetteville, Ark., and Tupelo, Miss.
