No Expressway, Mackie Repeats; Toll Road Eyed

By PETE LOCHBILER

LANSING—Pontiac representatives arrived here yesterday talking of free expressways and left thinking of toll roads.

They were told during an hour and a half meeting with State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie that the likelihood of a Pontiac expressway during the next five years is "extremely remote."

But if a north-south toll road past Pontiac were financially feasible, it would be given the "go-ahead" signal by the state, Mackie said.

"A north-south expressway, either east or west of U.S. 10 (Woodward Ave.) is definitely going to be built. It could undoubtedly be built sooner as a turnpike than as a freeway," said Mackie.

The state will "very probably" include a north-south freeway past Pontiac in its five-year highway plan beginning in 1962, whether a turnpike is in exisence or not, Mackie added.

NO X-WAY IN PROGRAM

But he reaffirmed his stand of two weeks ago, that there is no north-south expressway through Pontiac planned as part of the present five-year program.

Pontiac representatives who had asked if it was possible to include the Pontiac expressway in the five-year plan, turned their attention to a toll-road" after Michigan Turnpike Authority chairman George N. Higgins stressed that hopes for a turnpike are not dead.

"The present five-year plan practically guarantees which highways are going to be built in Michigan during the next five years," said Higgins. "New York investment brokers are studying the five-year plan now, considering whether a turnpike could fit in as a good investment."

Higgins conceded, however, that the market for turnpike bonds is poor at the moment.

U.S. FUNDS DROPPED

He also pointed out that new turnpikes are no longer eligible for designation as interstate highways, with the subsequent 90 per cent federal aid for the construction.

Higgins maintained there was a good chance, however, for a change in federal law so that the proposed Michigan turnpike — 76 miles long from the Detroit Industrial Expressway through north-

Crash Kills Two Berkley Youths

2 Others Hurt as Cars Collide at Telegraph, 12-Mile Intersection

Two Berkley youths were killed and a third injured when their car was struck by another and nearly cut in two at the intersection of Telegraph and 12 Mile Rds., in Southfield Township.

Dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital were the driver, Gary Russell Dodd, 16, of 4218 Cumberland St., and Forrest Clark, 17, of 2388 Berkley St.

TWO HOSPITALIZED

Driver of the other car, Robert W. Adair, 57, of 4424 Arlington, Royal Oak, was admitted to the hospital with a fractured left leg and possible chest injuries.

The accident occurred at 8:20 p.m. when one of the drivers apparently ran a red light. Adair, in a statement to the Oakland County prosecutor last night, said he had the green light. A witness, who is to make a formal statement today, indicated last night Dodd had the green light, police said.

Adair was traveling north on Telegraph and Dodd east on 12 Mile road when the crash occurred. Adair's car struck Dodd's on the right side. Adair said he did not see the car prior to the accident.

The witness, Donald G. Gregg, of 125 W. Sixth St., Royal Oak, told Redford Post state troopers he had just made a left turn from 12 Mile into Telegraph with the green light when he heard the crash.

Charley Winninger Begs Off Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When actor Charles Winninger, 73, appeared in court to ask that his alimony payments to actress Blanche Ring 81, be cut, he said:

"Why, I'm not sure if Blanche is still alive."

At this point yesterday, Superior Judge Wallace Ware ordered the case continued and said: "In heaven's name, let's get busy and find out if she's still alive."

Newsmen ascertained last night that she is indeed alive and residing at a New York City hotel.

The actor asked that the alimony be cut from $175 a week to $50, saying he had paid his former wife "more than $300,000 since we separated in 1928." Winninger now is married to actress Gertrude Walker.

IKE WITH ROYAL COUPLE — President Eisenhower turns his attention to Prince Philip as they leave National Airport in a car with Queen Elizabeth for the White House. Royal couple arrived from Virginia this morning in Ike's private plane.

Meets Royal Couple at Washington Airport

Elizabeth and Philip Arrive From Williamsburg Aboard President's Own Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II of England flew to Washington today to receive from President Eisenhower, in colorful ceremonies, the official welcome of one great nation to the visiting monarch of another.

Eisenhower's personal plane, Columbine III, bearing the Queen from a triumphant visit to historic Williamsburg, Va., touched down at National Airport at 10:12 a.m.

The splash and color and pomp of full military and official honors contrasted with the dull, gray autumnal day. But a light rain which had been falling earlier in the morning had stopped.

Washington, the nation, and the President receive other chiefs of state from time to time, but there was something special about this one which brought face-to-face the heads of the two great English-speaking nations at a critical time in the world's history.

Eisenhower, dressed in gray, arrived at the airport in a limousine two or three minutes before the Queen's plane came into view.

The color guard snapped to present arms, the band struck up ruffles and flourishes, and "Hail to the Chief" echoed out across the airport.

The Columbine came to a stop exactly on the dot of the scheduled arrival hour — 11:15 a.m.

A portable stairway was wheeled up to the rear exit. Wiley Buchanan, U.S. chief of protocol, preceded the Queen down the steps. Following Her Majesty at the customary two paces was her husband, Prince Philip.

The queen wore an afternoon dress of electric blue in heavy silk crepe.

CLUSTER OF PLEATS

The straight skirt was caught at one side, making a cluster of loose pleats dropping from the waist. The bodice was draped to form a square neckline.

Over the dress Elizabeth wore a loose coat of heavy Yorkshire woolen woven to match the dress. It hung straight from the circular collar with no fastenings. There

Syria, Egypt Poised for War

Ready Armies for Clash With Turkey; U.S. Will Ask U.N. Action

BEIRUT (INS) — Syria, claiming Turkey has poised heavy concentrations of tanks and men at the frontier, reportedly placed her army under a state of emergency today.

Egypt's Middle East news agency said all army leaves were canceled and that arms were being distributed to members of "popular resistance" organizations and youth groups in Aleppo, Homs and other northern Syrian towns.

The Arab news agency reported from Damascus "extremely large Turkish concentrations including about 200 tanks" had been seen near the Syrian frontier "within the past few hours."

Syrian Foreign Minister Salah El Bitar informed the U. N. yesterday that Turkish troop movements near the border indicated an "imminent attack" on Syria.

The Egyptian-Syrian joint command was reported to have gone into permanent session.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the Soviet Union yesterday that an attack on Turkey would bring American retaliation against Russian territory.

U. S. Navy headquarters said the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean is "on guard" against a Russo-Syrian attack on Turkey.

In Washington, a high administration official said today the U. S. will formally ask the United Nations to act to halt the Middle East's headlong plunge toward war.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon declared America's top leaders are bending every effort to bring about a peaceful solution of the war-menacing crisis.

First Fire Truck Burns

BATTLE CREEK (INS)—The American Fire Apparatus Co. of Battle Creek today was mourning the loss of its No. 1 antique —the first locally built fire truck of 1928. The truck was lost yesterday in a warehouse fire.

Doll Up Capital for Queen

Grass Grows Green---by Paint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tidying up the capital for company—when the company is Queen Elizabeth II—yesterday meant painting grass green and TV cable white.

It included peering under manhole covers and shaking tree limbs along the two-miles-plus of parade route Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip follow today to the White House.

The grass around the Lincoln Memorial was splotched with brown after a dry summer. So it received a spraying with green paint.

A broadcasting company obtained permission to mount a television camera atop the memorial. But the government said the trailing cable must be white, so as not to strike a jarring note against the great marble structure. Dutifully, technicians painted the 75-foot cable by hand.

A squad of policemen scouted the parade route, lifting manhole covers to be sure no explosives had been placed beneath them. A squad of tree experts patrolled the route in a jeep, checking tree limbs. Any that showed the least indication they might fall on a royal head were sawed off.

The route, spattered with multi-colored autumn leaves, got special attention from the street sweeping department too.

Merchants dolled up their store front decorations. The fire department planned a red, white and blue arch of ladders, with 60-foot welcome banners.

The armed services detailed 1,640 servicemen to line the route and the various police departments serving Washington mustered 600 for traffic and crowd control. Court hours were shifted so no police would be tied up testifying while they were needed in the streets.

Scientists Deny Sputnik Losing Height, Speed

LONDON (INS) — British scientists estimated today that Sputnik still is traveling at the same speed and height as a week ago but that its rocket companion may soon be destroyed in the earth's atmosphere.

The rocket, which was seen before dawn, was estimated to be about 18 minutes and some 5,000 miles ahead of the man-made moon.

Dr. J. E. Baldwin of the Cavendish Laboratories at Cambridge said the rocket "was quite bright, an orange color probably brighter than the first magnitude."

The rocket's brightness was an indication that it has lost much of its earlier altitude when it was traveling at the same height and speed as the satellite.

It has moved ahead of the satellite because it is now making a shorter orbit around the earth.

Prof. A. C. Lovell, director of the Manchester University radio astronomy station, said he is convinced that something catastrophic will happen to the rocket very shortly, probably in the next day or so.

The satellite, however, is expected to remain in the heavens for at least another month.

Pilot Saves Life of Hurt Farmer

Flies Man Who Was Crushed by Tractor to Hospital

PELEE ISLAND, Ont. (AP) — Flying through fog and rain, an Ohio airlines pilot saved the life of a Pelee Island farmer after he was crushed in the machinery of his tractor Wednesday afternoon.

Owen Parsons, 52, a soybean farmer, lay for two hours on Scudder Docks on the island awaiting the arrival of a plane to fly him to the mainland for medical attention.

Parsons was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital in Sandusky, Ohio, where he is in poor condition with undetermined internal injuries and six fractured ribs.

Workers at the Pelee Cooperative Grain Elevator where Parsons was unloading his tractor said the farmer had slipped between the tractor and trailer and become entangled in the driveshaft operating the power takeoff used to unload the crop.

Horrified workers on the dock looked on helplessly while the screaming farmer, his clothes twisted tightly around him by the spinning shaft, was unable to call out instructions on how to shut off the machine.

Planes from Windsor were grounded because of the weather.

A Sandusky plane crew was notified and arrived to pick up the injured man two hours after the accident. Sandusky, Ohio, is 20 miles south of Pelee Island.

U. of M. Reports Flu Increasing on Campus

ANN ARBOR (INS) — An outbreak of upper respiratory disease presumed to be Asian Flu was reported mounting today at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Morley Beckett, director of health service at the school, said more than 1,000 students have been treated at the service's clinic so far this week, and added hundreds more are sick in dormitories.

Dr. Beckett advised sick students who live 75 to 100 miles from Ann Arbor to go home for treatment because "they can't attend classes anyway." He said those unable to go home should stay in their dormitories for care by roommates and resident advisers.

Easter's Hdwe. & Sptg. Goods Open Evenings and Sundays

Forget Umbrella; Cloudy but Dry Is Area Forecast

Put away your umbrellas. Tonight, the U.S. Weather Bureau says, the Pontiac area will have mostly cloudy and cooler weather. The low will be 42-46.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little cooler, with a high of 56-60.

The outlook for tomorrow night is fair and cool. Saturday's forecast is for generally fair and warmer weather.

In a "30-day outlook" for the period from mid-October to mid-November, the U. S. Weather Bureau" says temperatures will prevail above the normal for Atlantic Coast States, the Ohio Valley and the Great Lakes Region.

Temperatures will average below seasonal normals over the Southwest and Gulf Coast areas.

Rainfall is expected to exceed normal over most of the country. There will be less than usual in the Pacific Northwest, and normal rainfall over the Northeast and Western Plateau.

In downtown Pontiac a mild 59 was the lowest recorded temperature before 8 a.m. At 2 p.m., 60 was the reading.

Communists Set Demonstrations

Power Strike Cripples France in Defiance of Premier's Ban

PARIS (AP)— Communist plans for demonstrations protesting the Algerian war threatened France with violence today. Steelhelmeted police riot squads were reinforced and army units were alerted for trouble.

The nation, meanwhile, struggled along with a caretaker government. Former Premier Antoine Pinay was trying to form a cabinet to end the 16-day-old government crisis.

A 24-hour power strike crippled the entire country. It defied a ban by Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury's lame-duck regime. The government was convinced that riots would result.

The Communists called the ban "fascistic," and the party newspaper L'Humanite said: "Tomorrow in Paris, and in all of France, the great voice of the people will be raised on behalf of peace in Algeria."

Other organizations, including several powerful veteran groups, organized conterdemonstrations.

The Communists support Algerian rebel demands for immediate, complete freedom for the North African land. Some veterans organizations are prominent in the right wing, which insists France must hang on to Algeria at all costs.

Beset by unrest and sharp disruption in the nation's political and economic life, most Frenchmen were aware they faced one of the gravest of their many post-war crises. The realization bolstered Pinay's slim chances of ending the Cabinet crisis.

Pinay, a Conservative Independent, agreed last night to form a cabinet. He planned to submit his lineup to the National Assembly tomorrow for approval, which appeared to hinge on whether the Socialists would support him.

More pay was demanded by more than 100,000 utility workers who struck yesterday, cutting off electricity and gas service during the day. Communist, Socialist and Catholic unions joined in rare unity in asking 30 per cent raises to keep up with the cost of living.

Eases Fire Hazard

BALDWIN (AP)—Conservation officials said a steady rain starting Wednesday, the first in 23 days for the area, has eased the forest fire hazard in West Michigan for at least week.

Missile Tests Half Successful

Both ICBMs Failures, Technicians Claim Duds Provide Valuable Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — About half of the intermediate range ballistic missile tests made by United States weaponeers so far have been rated successful.

The others ranged from complete failures, such as burning up on launching pads to erratic flights in which the test devices had to be destroyed before they had flown very far.

And the only two reported tests of an inter - continental ballistic missile were virtual failures.

On the scientific side of the American rocket program duds and delays also have occurred.

During the last year, men at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., ballistic missile test center have pushed firing buttons on missiles or missile - like test vehicles a total of 13 times.

Six of the "birds" flew high and far, with results meeting or surpassing advance estimates.

Seven of them didn't. But technicians and scientists insist that even some of the faltering missiles provided valuable development data before their brief seconds in the air ended in explosions or fires.

A much larger number of missiles and test vehicles remain to be fired.

The best that the United States now can offer is that a full-scale firing of three rocket engines will be held in December.

Larsen Named to New Post

Psychological Warfare to Get More Attention Under Revised Setup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States intends to pay more attention to psychological warfare as a weapon in the cold war against Russia.

President Eisenhower served notice of this yesterday when he picked Arthur Larson, chief of the U.S. Information Agency, to be his special White House assistant on steps to counter Soviet propaganda campaigns — including that which soared with the Russian satellite.

To succeed Larson as USIA chief, Eisenhower selected George V. Allen, a career diplomat who has served as ambassador to Iran, India, Yugoslavia and NATO and now is ambassador to Greece. No date was fixed for the change, but James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said it will occur soon.

The surprise appointment removed Larson from the agency where he has been a favorite target of congressional Democrats, who objected to his Republican political speeches.

Informed officials said, however, that in naming Larson, Eisenhower was doing more than giving him a new post behind the scenes where he would be safe from Democratic attack.

The job to be filled by Larson, they said, is an important one because it gives the Eisenhower administration a qualified official, unburdened by daily administrative problems, to concentrate full time on the propaganda aspects of the cold war.

De Beaubien is married to the former June Elizabeth Hesse of Grosse Pointe, and lives with his family in Birmingham.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What kind of weather can we expect in the winter ahead? Will this winter be colder than last?

Last winter, except for February, was a rather cold one in most parts of the country. Some of the experts who are going out on a limb early are saying that this winter will be a mild one.

Summer, in many areas of the world, ended early this year. Grapes were harvested in many European countries this year a month earlier than usual. A long Autumn is therefore expected and an early winter might follow.

Quite often this means a severe winter, but other factors indicate our winters are gradually getting milder, and that the coming one is not expcted to be a severe one.

Standard Oil Hikes Gas Price 2.9 Cents

Standard Oil Co. boosted its wholesale price of gasoline 2.9 cents yesterday and the cost increase was generally being passed on to drivers by Pontiac area Standard stations today.

This placed the retail cost of Standard gasoline generally at 33.5 cents a gallon for regular grade and 37.5 cents for premium.

A Standard spokesman said the boost brings the price of gasoline "back to normal" after price reductions two months ago.

The rise in price was effective throughout the Detroit area.

No other oil companies have announced similar price boosts.

The regular meeting of the Leggett School P.T.A., scheduled for tonight, has been changed to next Thursday, due to Teacher's Institute sessions.

From 7:30 to 8 p.m. October 17, there will be an open house and following the business meeting, Superintendent of Waterford Township schools, William Shunck, will speak on the progress of schools in the district.

A question and answer period will follow the program.

Higher seats of learning in Auckland, Wellington, and Canterbury, New Zealand, have been given the title of "university" for the first time. Previously the University of Otago was the only one so titled.

Dowagiac Youth Glad of Arrest

Is in Cass County Jail Charged With Kidnap, Assault of Teachers

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Robert Ball, 18-year-old Boy Scout and singer in his high school choir, was in jail today, charged in the kidnap-assault of two young high school teachers.

The two teachers, victims of a brutal attack Tuesday night, were at their homes. Both were hospitalized briefly for examination, then released. They had not returned to their classrooms today.

The 180-pound Ball, one of five children, had a tearful jail cell visit yesterday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ball. They said they would stand by the youth.

"This is my first time and I'm glad they caught me," Police Chief William C. Wray quoted the youth as saying.

Ball, a high school junior, was remanded to Cass County jail on a kidnaping charge after his arraignment before Justice of the Peace was set for Oct. 24.

Cass County law authorities indicated further charges will be made against the youth.

Cass County Prosecutor Jerry O'Connor said Ball signed formal statements in which he admitted forcing teachers Rita Murray, 22, and Judy Schnieder, 24, to drive him to a wooded area where he attacked them.

Neither of the teachers appeared in court at the youth's arraignment.

Ball said in his signed statements that the attack was aimed at Miss Schneider who failed him in an English class last term. The husky six-footer told police he didn't even know the name of the other teacher.

Detroit Couple Killed in Ontario Collision

STRATHROY, Ont. (AP) — A Detroit couple was killed in a car-truck collision on Highway 22 at Poplar Hill, about six miles northeast of here yesterday. Dead are Gustaf Van Gheluwe, 65, and his wife, Julia, of 5753 Guilford Ave.

The two vehicles were approaching each other on a highway curve when they collided.

The Day in Birmingham

House for City Department to Receive Further Study

BIRMINGHAM—Two items of this week's agenda are being held by commissioners for further study.

The officials are awaiting further state action on a bill which would permit communities to adopt the National Board of Fire Underwriters ordinance by reference. It was pointed out that the bill passed the house and is still in the senate committee. Ability to adopt this code, by reference, would represent a saving to the city of over $3,000 in printing and advertising costs, should it be necessary to formulate its own fire prevention code.

The second item, which received no positive action, is the suggested building for the water meter department. City Manager L. R. Gare said that since the police department expansion, this section has been made "homeless."

The division cleans and tests water meters at the rate of about 1,000 per year, saving taxpayers the cost of the purchase of new meters. Estimated building costs are set at about $11,000.

Commissioners agreed to give Gare about three weeks to ascertain if cheaper housing could be provided, or the meter department located in some section of a city building.

Quarton School PTA is scheduling its 10th annual fair, "A Holiday for Kids," Friday, from 3-8 p.m. at the school.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Dixon, the fair will offer 21 attractions. Features which have proven popular in the past are being repeated with such added attractions as the Bargain Room and an up-to-the minute Science Show, based on the popular "do-it-yourself" fashion of today.

A hot meal will be available throughout the fair hours.

C. Allen Harlan of 3535 North Adams, Bloomfield Township, and prominent in Detroit business circles, may be Gov. Williams' choice for a vacancy on the State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body.

Aides of the governor describe him as an odds-on choice to succeed William E. Baker of Mesick, who resigned last month.

Harlan, president of Harlan Electric Co., long has been keenly interested in youth and education and served as a trustee of both Fisk University and Tuskegee Institute.

As a hobby, he has helped finance college training for scores of students and from time to time has held get-acquainted sessions for foreign students in his home. He has been active in Boy Scout work.

The Board of Agriculture's first meeting since Baker's resignation will be held tomorrow.

Charles E. Holzen

Rosary service will be at 8 p.m. this evening at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home for Charles E. Holzen, 59, of 7325 Cold Spring Lane. Mass will be from Holy Name Church at 10:30 a.m. Friday, with burial in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Mr. Holzen, retired owner of the Detroit Industrial Engineering Corp., died Wednesday at his residence. He was a member of the Detroit Yacht club and the Detroit Riding and Hunting club.

He is survived by his widow, Miriam, and two brothers, Raymond of Algonac and Robert of Flint.

Wander Through New Delhi Streets

Sacred Cow Population Increasing

NEW DELHI (AP) — This city's population of sacred cows is booming.

Poorly fed at home, they break out of their pens and amble around the streets looking for garbage, grassy parks or someone's shrubs. The skinny, hump-backed cows have a strange love for paved streets after meals.

STROLL ALONG

They stroll along, using whichever side of the street pleases them. Cars, bicycles and huge buses come to screeching halts.

No one wants to hit a sacred cow. That could start a riot.

The scabby, lop-eared animals hunch down in the middle of the street for a siesta after a garbage meal. Buses squeeze around them. Traffic becomes jammed for blocks.

City officials in New Delhi and the old, walled city of Delhi estimate the bovine population at 12,000—including the sacred cow, the not-so-sacred bullock, and the water buffalo, not sacred at all.

This is one animal for every 10 persons.

The bovine population multiplied four times in the nine years since 1948. The housing problem is severe for humans and even worse for cattle.

Many of the cattle just wander away from their pens. Others are true orphans, catching a meal where they can find it. And some are runaways from the dry, dusty countryside, outside New Delhi, who amble into the city.

ROUND UP STRAYS

City officials continually round up strays and put them in "cow pounds," similar to "dog pounds" of other countries. The pounds handled 9,000 animals last year, so it seems almost every cow, bullock or water buffalo gets caught once a year.

In the pounds, the cows get food of a sort without scrounging for it. Life isn't pleasant, though. A veterinarian said recently, after a tour, that the affair in the cattle pounds . . . is appalling.

Hindu religious law forbids killing a cow, but harsh treatment is overlooked. Many bullocks pulling carts through city streets have crooked tails, broken by drivers who twisted them to get more speed.

After a cow is put in the pound, the owner has the problem of getting it back. He has to pay a fine for permitting the animal to escape and for the food supplied by the pound.

Some owners can't find this kind of money, and so their cows stay in the pound. Officials, from time to time, drive the cattle into the countryside. Most seem to return to the city.

City officials have a long-range plan to place all the city's milk-giving cows and water buffalo on a dairy farm outside New Delhi. Bombay did the same thing. It turned out to be one of the biggest cattle roundups in Indian history —10,000 animals were pushed out of metropolitan Bombay.

Horse Was 'Spooked'

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Don Adams explained that a dog "spooked" his horse and that was the reason his mount "ran over" a car on U. S. Highway 66 east of Albuquerque, smashing in one side of the vehicle. Adams was unhurt, the horse recovered and insurance paid for the damage to the car.

Prison Population Rises

WASHINGTON—There were 188,730 prisoners confined in state and federal prisons and reformatories for adult offenders at the end of 1956, the nation's highest year-end prison population on record. It was an increase of 3,661, or 2 per cent, over the previous year.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

He Always Gave Freely of Himself

Never counted among those individuals who accept a public position, get credit for the honor, but fail to put themselves wholeheartedly behind it, was the late Attorney ARCHIE D. LEONARD.

At first in the teaching profession, he later entered law, and for over 25 years was a member of the Oakland County Bar, at one time its president and president of the Michigan Bar President's Assn.

He held other positions of trust without financial remuneration, including that thankless and friend forsaking job on the army draft board through World War II, and graciously resumed that task for a considerable time when the present selective service was started.

Into all of these he put himself to as much or greater degree than he did those from which he drew his livelihood.

British Royal Visit Reaffirms Alliance

It is a pleasure to welcome to this country representatives of another great democracy, Queen ELIZABETH II of Great Britain and her husband, Prince PHILIP.

ELIZABETH II is a personable young woman, well educated for her difficult position and ably supported by the deservedly popular and likeable Prince PHILIP. While the Queen's role in politics is nominal, she reads and signs all official papers and may offer advice to the Prime Minister. Quite apart from this, the intangible quality of her influence on British and Commonwealth peoples is immense. She is above all political parties and looked up to as a symbol of unity.

The royal visit is regarded as most important at this time not only because of the Suez matter but because of the propaganda advantage Russia has gained with the launching of its satellite. The British Government hopes that minor irritations which have developed between our two countries will be smoothed out.

The welcome they have received in this country is notice to the world that Britain and the United States stand together. Britain is our staunchest ally and nothing could be more important at this critical time in world affairs.

National Tension Result of Faubus' Foolishness

One of the sorry results of Governor FAUBUS' calculated defiance of the United States, lies in the tension that he has created all over the country.

We doubt whether he is aware of this and even further, we doubt whether he cares. In fact, from his own personal actions he might actually rejoice in causing additional feelings and bitterness between blacks and whites in other cities.

In his all-out effort to prevent nine Negro children from attending Central High School in Little Rock, he succeeded in summoning the militia, paratroopers, reporters and photographers from all over, and a blast against the United States that has circled the world more completely than Russia's Sputnik.

In areas where comparative peace and calm had reigned for years, new hostilities smolder. High feelings have been engendered where there had been a "live and let live" attitude. Both sides became suddenly "suspicious" of each other and unconsciously placed phantom chips on shoulders which had been completely bereft of challenge for years and years.

Fortunately, this area has seen very little reflection of the Arkansas outbreak. We seem well settled in a broader minded thinking and have watched the Little Rock debacle with regret and deep disappointment.

New uneasiness has been reported in some sectors, notably other southern cities. The sooner the Arkansas mess is resolved, the better it will be for our name abroad. We've been kicked around in global circles pretty generally. The Russians have made greater gains out of the segregation tales they have peddled than they have out of their whirling dervish in the skies.

Fresh outbreaks would be calamitous.

The Man About Town

An Air Commuter

Despite Her Age She Has a Penchant for Traveling

Dictionary: The only place where success comes before work.

Today on a plane, bound for Iowa, is one of Pontiac's greatest air gallivanters. Now in her eighty-fourth year, jumping a plane for most anywhere is just a common experience to her. We don't give you any street address, because she hasn't any. She just hops around among her 12 children, 38 grandchildren and 47 great grandchildren, making 97 descendants, which she confides me soon is to round out the hundred mark. This 100-pound commuter is an inspiration to everybody who knows her.

Mrs. Maggie Partridge,

Latest to prove that peanuts can be grown in the Pontiac area is of Rochester, who is harvesting a good crop.

In Detroit the other day,

Mrs. Earl L. Phillips

of 185 Cherokee Road, was asked for the location of a prominent store. The inquirer looked familiar, and in reply to Mrs. Phillips' query if he was he replied in the affirmative, and they had quite an extended conversation. The famous singer was on a Detroit engagement.

In case you were not aware that Oct. 13 was

National Grandparents' Day

it isn't too late to say an extra kind word to yours, or drop them a cheery note. If I had any, I'd do it. The day is coming when you won't have any.

A gourd 40 inches around has been grown by

Mrs. Ralph Porter

of 2554 McClintock Road. It weighs 30 pounds.

In response to inquiries from

Mrs. Henry Lange

of Walled Lake, and several others, my floral experts tell me that fuchsia plants will not survive the winter if left out of doors.

After reading a recent editorial on this page,

Ransom Silkworth

of Birmingham writes me that the theory that October days are melancholy days probably originated with the poet who liked his liquor too well, and who wrote:

"The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year;
When it's much too hot for whiskey,
And much too cold for beer."

David Lawrence Says:

Splinter Parties Beginning to Form

WASHINGTON — A political earthquake has struck America. Its repercussions will be felt in the 1958 congressional elections and in the 1960 presidential election. For the United States has gone the way of so many democracies. Instead of two major parties, it now has four political blocs and the beginning of some splinter parties.

LAWRENCE

Out of the wreckage, a Democratic presidential nominee—possibly even Adlai Stevenson—has the best chance to put Humpty-Dumpty together again and win an electoral majority.

For Stevenson, 57 years old, is the most experienced, the best informed and the most widely known of the Democrats. If he could disentangle himself from some of the academic advisers who have misled him, and revert to the "moderation" doctrine with which his training as a corporation lawyer has imbued him, he might yet come out on top.

The same reasons that caused the Democrats to nominate Bryan for a third time are present today—Stevenson is the best vote-getter the Democrats ever had. He polled more total votes than FDR and did it even against a popular personality—General Eisenhower.

PARTY HOPES DIM

The chances of the Republicans to win any elections perhaps for many years to come—if indeed the party itself survives—have been gravely impaired in the last several months by mistakes that are tragic because they could so easily have been avoided.

The Republican Party is split badly. It lost materially when it failed to satisfy the economy-minded in the party, when it succumbed to those anti-conservative influences known as "modern Republicans," and when it sent federal troops into Arkansas. There is a big enough defection now to cause a substantial percentage of Republican voters to stay away from the polls altogether, as happened in Wisconsin recently.

A big loss to the Republicans—or rather, a big addition to the stay-at-home vote—has resulted from the Little Rock affair. The Republican high command here concedes that the Republican Party in the South has been considerably damaged. Judging, moreover, by the mail received by this correspondent from many northern states, the Arkansas episode has left voters in the North almost evenly divided as to the wisdom of the move. "Hair-trigger government" is what the hasty and impulsive action of the administration is being called.

Even if the defection of Republican voters is only 10 per cent now, the number is sizable. It doesn't have to be very big to forfeit the election to the Democrats.

DEMS SPLIT TOO

As for the Democratic Party, it also is divided, but the division is by no means irreparable. At the moment the northern "liberals" are applauding the President for what he did at Little Rock, with the chant that "there wasn't anything else to do." But they will be singing a different tune when the influential labor-union leaders inside the Democratic Party really begin to take a second look at what has happened.

The use of bayonets to enforce a court injunction is a dangerous thing for a major party to establish as a precedent nowadays, because logically it will rise to plague the federal government and the unions in strikes whenever serious disorders occur.

If the Democrats can sweep the North in 1960, they will not need any southern electoral votes. But if the Republicans are still strong enough to win a few states, the casting of 100 or more electoral votes from the South for independent candidates could mean that neither of the major party nominees would get a majority.

This would throw the election into the House of Representatives, where the southern Democrats would be in a position to demand agreement on a "moderation" policy, instead of "enforced integration," as the price of their support for a Democratic presidential nominee.

Is the Republican situation irreparable? Unfortunately, it looks that way today. Vice President Nixon is identified with the Eisenhower faction in the party, and his influence is weakened. Senator Knowland has his eyes on 1964, when presumably a Republican will be trying to defeat a Democratic president's bid for reelection. There are no other national Republican leaders of power or prestige in the running.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcoholic With 'Jag Legs' Requires Hospital Care

"Relative has been an alcoholic for 40 years. During that time he would drink anything that was obtainable, from the cheapest wine....Today the muscles in his legs have collapsed and he has what is commonly known as jag legs. He has been spending our money going from one doctor to another and I know he is not truthful with them. Are we wasting our money on him as he continues to drink, or is there a cure? (W.I.H.)

It is a familiar sign of beri beri, multiple neuritis, alcoholic paresis (partial paralysis).

An early sign of beri beri, multiple neuritis, alcoholic neuritis or paresis (partial paralysis, which may become complete paralysis if the drinking continues) is flunking the squatting test. That is to say the individual is unable to rise from squatting on his or her heels without using the hands.

Flunking the squatting test actually indicates vitimin B deficiency—but beri beri and the paresis or partial paralysis of chronic alcoholism are due to prolonged or habitual lack of vitamin B.

My answer to W.I.H.'s question is yes, you are wasting your money or worse, allowing the alcoholic to waste it going from one doctor to another and lying to the doctors.

IT'S UP TO YOU

For God's sake and for the alcoholic's sake you should have the man committed to a state or private hospital for care and treatment. It may not be too late even now. If you fail to do this, you are not kind or considerate, you are negligent.

His near or next of kin applies to a court (county or higher court) to name a commission of medical examiners who are qualified to determine the man's competence or incompetence. Upon the commission's findings, the court commits the man for care and treatment.

When and if you make up your mind to do the best you can for the man, put the matter in your attorney's hands.

Try to get the man to eat whole wheat instead of refined wheat products, or eat fresh wheat germ and wheat bran. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat to Eat. Wheat is the best food source of vitamin B.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Offers Solution for Traffic on New City Intersection

The traffic pattern at Telegraph and Orchard Lake Road would be simplified, safer and expedited if all southbound Telegraph traffic were on the new section and all northbound traffic were routed on the old section. This would eliminate the two hazards of crossing traffic at each end as well as the third hazard of left turns from Telegraph against opposing traffic. As The Press stated last Wednesday, routing two-way traffic on both sections creates a tricky situation.

Thinking Ahead

Should Change Marriage Ages

Life insurance tables show that women live six years longer than men. So, men should marry women about six years older than themselves.

If a man is three years older than his wife, she will average to live nine years after he is dead. I'd rather try and time it so we ended together.

Is there anything wrong with a man marrying a woman six years older than he? Marriage ages are simply custom, anyway, and for centuries it has been the custom for men to marry girls two or three years younger.

Can't society make a change? All the logic is on the side of recognizing the facts and making the best of a changing situation. What do others think?

Several Reply About Smoking

What's wrong with women smoking on the street? If it's O.K. for men, why isn't it O.K. for women? What difference is there?

Lolly

Women who smoke on the streets don't look very feminine. I imagine they have a cuspidor in their living rooms.

Mere Man

I don't think women should smoke at all. It isn't very nice to see a grandmother puffing away on a cigarette. It looks even worse to watch a 17-year-old. To begin with, she may be injuring her health and secondly she thinks she's a smarty and does it to show off.

J. S.

Why worry about women smoking on the street? Things are getting so bad these days I just sigh and am glad they don't all smoke cigars, like the one I saw a picture of the other day.

Three Women Answer Weary

I'm a widow and some people say I'm "wealthy," but I'd never consider marrying that lazy 31-year-old male called Weary. I don't think anyone else would, either. Who wants to be married "for money"? I'll wager 31 is a mess all around.

Sputtering

If Weary wants to get married, he can call me up when he has earned a big roll, tidied himself up and become better educated. Until then, I'm not interested whatsoever, and I'm considered good looking and attractive. I'm only 26, but I want a man and not a retiring tramp.

Choosey

Does Weary think he's discovered some grand, new occupation? If he knew anything about economics, he'd realize the supply of Wearies so far outweighs the demand that he's a worthless commodity.

The Answer to His Prayers

'Bugs' Baer Says:

Never going to have peace in U.N. so long as Gromyko shoots off his big echo.

The fellow has his back up longer than a camel. Even the interpreters are in a bad mood.

Why not consider my 1946 ultimatum, "Either do something or put the brewery back?"

A wonderful beeritorium once stood where the U.N. building now eclipses the sunrises. Baer's law of nutrition proves you can get more into a barrel than you can into a portfolio.

We concede the Rockefellers had a terrific idea when they started the gimmick. But so did the fellow who gave the first dame the first diamond.

We're not cracking about the Rockefellers buying the Bums. Now Brooklyn can move its city hall into Bush Terminal.

That's the best-named institution in the world and one of the biggest. Bush Terminal should be the world capital.

Of all the words of tongue or pen give us those that come out of a spigot. Do something or put the brewery back.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wear Glasses if You Need Them

Kathleen's eyes are not balanced. One is far more nearsighted than the other. However, she omits her glasses, probably hoping to rate higher as "date bait." But you girls can wear glasses and still rate tops if you'll follow the strategy below. And it doesn't strengthen your eyes to omit your glasses. Instead, it makes the weak eye worse.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-322: Kathleen M., aged 19, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane," her mother began, "Kathleen needs to wear glasses. One of her eyes is weaker than the other.

DR. CRANE

"But Kathleen omits her glasses much of the time. I think she feels they reduce her social acceptance.

"And nothing I tell her will do any good. So will you please put her case in your newspaper column, for most of the girls in her sorority read what you say.

"If the advice comes from an outsider, I find it registers far better than what her Daddy and I tell her."

STRENGTHEN EYES

"Dr. Crane, I'm afraid wearing glasses will further weaken my eyes," some students have confessed.

"So I leave them off to make my eyes work harder. It strengthens them, doesn't it, to have to work without the aid of eye glasses?"

No, it doesn't, and especially when your eyes are out of balance. In Kathleen's case, for example, she was nearsighted. But her eyes were not equal.

The left eye was almost twice as nearsighted as the right. So the eye doctor had given her glasses which would equalize her vision in both eyes.

Then she would employ both eyes constantly and thus stimulate them by such use.

When Kathleen refrained from wearing her glasses, notice what happened. She immediately began to rely on her stronger eye.

By the same token, she quit paying attention to the images that fell on the retina of her weaker eye.

CAUSES BLINDNESS

If you continue to ignore one eye, it will ultimately grow almost blind just from disuse.

That's why we try to strengthen crossed eyes early. Both of the eyes may have equally good vision. But when crossed, their owner must pick one and ignore the other.

The ignored retina then turns pale and grows relatively blind. For use of an organ, like use of a muscle, produces a richer blood supply and better function.

"But I don't believe boys grow romantic about girls with glasses," many coeds have tearfully explained in my office.

"Men don't make passes at girls who wear glasses," they hesitantly confess.

Well, if you girls will pay your escorts sincere compliments and memorize that formula for being a gay conversationalist wihch I outlined in Case W-311, I'll guarantee you will be more popular with your glasses on, than you will be otherwise even after you shed those spectacles.

Whether or not you wear glasses, is not very significant in your social acceptance.

But if you do feel that you rate lower as "date bait" when wearing horn rimmed spectacles, then leave them off during the date.

But wear them the rest of the time, for it is stupid to make one eye grow blind because of your vanity's sake.

Send for my booklet outlining the "Formuula for Gay Conversation," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Use it, plus liberal compliments, and you will be top date bait even when wearing your glasses!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Williams Backs Gas Demands

Governor to Go to Bat for Pipeline Extensions Into Upper Peninsula

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has promised anew to go to bat for extension of natural gas pipelines into the Upper Peninsula.

He gave his word yesterday at a conference with three representatives of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

The bureau currently is an intervenor in a proceeding before the Federal Power Commission in which two pipe line firms are contending for the right to expand their service areas.

The bureau expects its representatives to be called to testify in late October or early November.

Williams said that he will prepare and send along with the bureau spokesman a statement supporting demands for gas in the U.P.

Specifically, he will urge that any certificate granted either to the Midwestern Pipe Line Co. or the Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. be conditioned on a willingness to supply gas to U.P. industries which want it.

Neither Midwestern nor Michigan-Wisconsin is asking this authority in their petition, asking instead for the right to extend operations in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Gas for the U.P. will be asked "in a manner and in volumes required by the evidence" in the case, Williams said.

Meeting with the governor were Gerald L. Johnson of Marquette, director of the industrial gas division of the development bureau; Victor E. Kral of Iron Mountain, and D. Kelyl Campbell of Ishpeming.

Williams said he understood the Cleveland-Cliffs Corp., Campbell's employer, is ready to use gas for beneficiation of low grade iron ores.

Oil Co. Hosts Firemen for Saving Property

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Cornell Oil Co. owner Walter W. Alley was host Tuesday at a banquet for about 160 firemen who took part in extinguishing an explosive blaze at his firm last Sept. 28.

The company's bulk storage plant in suburban Wyoming Township was swept by a spectacular fire which caused $250,000 damage. Firemen managed to bring it under control and saved a large fuel oil storage tank, the office building and four of the firm's trucks.

An estimated 1.5 billion chicks are hatched annually in the United States, and most of them in the spring.

School Teachers Meet

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — About 6,500 west Michigan school teachers are expected today and Friday in Grand Rapids for a joint convention of regions 9 and 13 of the Michigan Education Assn. Schools in the regions will be closed to allow teacher attendance at the convention.

About 47 per cent of the total area of the Philippine islands is covered by commercially important forests.

Late Dean Honored

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Three engineering laboratories on the University of Michigan's new North Campus have been named the George Granger Brown Memorial Laboratories in honor of the late dean of the college of engineering. Brown died in August after heading the college for six years.

Ancient Moslem School Reopens Its Doors

By WILTON WYNN
for Hal Boyle

CAIRO (AP) — School has started again in a thousand-year-old university in the shadow of the domes and minarets of Old Cairo. Enrolled this year are students from 54 countries where the muezzin calls "Allahu akbar" (God is great) from the minaret.

The university, called El Azhar, is the oldest Moslem center of learning. It clings to traditions and systems begun in days when men thought the world was flat.

Even so, it is the intellectual center of the Moslem world. When its council of elders issues a decree, the impact is felt wherever the faithful gather. Its graduates fan out to carry the message of Islam to the ends of the earth.

There is no green campus, no football stadium, no ivied wall. El Azhar is a large mosque topped by three minarets. Around the columns inside, the students literally sit at the feet of learned sheikhs to study the Koran and Moslem theology.

In narrow streets and bazaars about El Azhar, the population buys and sells as it has for a Millennium. Merchants sitting crosslegged on carpets puff heavily on hubble-bubble pipes.

The air is heavy with a mixture of odors—amber perfume, tobacco smoke, broiling mutton, and spices of every kind. A woman shopper screams imprecations at a merchant who won't bring down his price. A donkey driver shouts at pedestrians to get out of the way. A weary taxicab chugs through the crowd, patiently honking as it inches along.

You step out of this noisy world into the calm and repose of the mosque.

On the left as you enter a wooden stand where students pigeonhole their shoes. No one wears shoes inside the mosque.

Through another arch is the sunny, stone-paved courtyard, arcaded on three sides. The row of arches on the east opens into a forest of columns inside the sanctuary itself. Here the gloom is cut by beams of sunlight filtered through multicolored windows near the ceiling. A mihrab (prayer niche) points the way to Mecca, toward which the faithful face when they pray.

Around almost every column a circle of students squats crosslegged on soft carpets covering the floor. Seated on a wooden bench with his back to the column is a lecturer, usually bearded and wearing the white and red turban of the azhar sheikh, or learned man.

The students represent a cross-section of the Moslem world. They may be black men from Nigeria, yellow men from China, or white men from Albania. But all of them study and argue in Arabic, and almost every sheikh has his hands full coping with alert young students quick to catch the teacher in error.

Old Dollar Bills to Be Retired

Small - Fry Currency Undergoes Changeover in Engraving Office

WASHINGTON — The old-look dollar bill, as cut down in 1929 and later redesigned, is in line for gradual retirement.

In the United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing, new presses are now turning out this year's model at the rate of 288,000 a day. Nearly four times as fast as the old machines, they print 32 instead of 18 bills to a sheet.

DESIGN UNCHANGED

By October 1, Director Henry Holtzclaw estimates, more than 25,000,000 examples of America's latest small-fry paper currency will be available for distribution. In time the new bills will supplant old ones returned to the government for funeral-pyre rites.

The basic design of the 1957 dollar, showing George Washington's portrait on the face and both sides of the Great Seal of the United States on the back, will remain the same, says the National Geographic Society. But there are several noteworthy changes.

The phrase, "In God We Trust," has been added in accordance with the 1955 Act of Congress that required all future paper currency, as well as coins, to carry the motto.

IMPROVE QUALITY

Quality of the bills will be improved, since the new presses can reproduce the required fine-engraving work on dry paper instead of having to use the damp material of the past.

The dry process also eliminates former shrinkage. Hence George Washington's face will be slightly fuller, although he looks out from a steadily contracting dollar in terms of buying power.

Finally, the new dollar bill will carry the name of the present Secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson, who replaced George M. Humphrey. And on its face will appear the series date 1957-A, a date that represents not the time of printing but the latest change in design.

Letters A B C D and so on that follow the series date stand for successive signatures of United States treasurers or Treasury secretaries.

Most of the roughly 1,292,000,000 dollar bills now in circulation bear a 1935 series date. Rare dollars of this and earlier series are collectors' items. A special 1918 issue signed by U.S. Registrer Huston B. Teehee, an Oklahoman of part-Indian descent, is good for more than a laugh. In good condition one such bill may be worth $100.

Group Therapy Proves Worth

Army Hospital Using Method in Treatment of Mental Illness

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Army is sending more and more men with emotional disorders back to duty with a method of treatment only now coming into widespread use: group therapy.

The treatment, as used at Letterman Army Hospital here, involves group discussions of the patients' problems "with most of the therapy done by the other patients."

The method has been developing for perhaps a dozen years.

"In group therapy the patient learns to recognize his debility and assists in determining the method of controlling or off-setting it," explains Lt. Col. W.R. Wilkin, chief of the Clinical Psychology Service at Letterman.

"It is very useful, for it helps a patient to work through his problems, to find himself. It helps to restore him to life as an efficient, stable person, one able to cope with his own problems and those of the world.

"Patients get to know there are others who have problems similar to their own. This gives them emotional support, makes them feel less isolated, less alone."

A group is operated on a "permissive" basis under the tactful guidance of a therapist, with individuals saying or doing anything they want, so long as they don't resort to violence.

This "permissive" approach almost invariably results in some members of the group talking about sex. They belabor the subject excessively, until it is exhausted. This takes time, sometimes several discussion meetings, before they drop it.

Leading questions from the therapist prompt the patients to talk about personal problems, personal outlook. The others enter into it, a surprisingly wise and understanding group despite their own mental conditions.

"I think most of the therapy is done by the other patients," Col. Wilkin said. "If a patient is abusive and belligerently claims there is nothing wrong with him, the others will tell him where he is wrong and why.

"At the same time, they will endorse the correct things he says, thus helping him to get his thinking into focus. In time, it may take as many as 30 or 40 talks like this, his trouble may clear up and he can return to duty.

Desert Is Base for U.S. Navy

Provides Safe Storage for Obsolete Planes; Modifies New Types

LITCHFIELD NAVAL AIR FACILITY, Ariz. (INS) — Arizona's only naval base is a sprawling, three - square - mile desert tract west of Phoenix where the "old" and "new" of Uncle Sam's navy air might stand side by side under a blistering sun.

The "old" are the Navy fighters, trainers, bombers and transport planes that have outlived their usefulness and are flown to the Litchfield Naval Air Facility for disposal.

The facility explains commanding officer, Capt. Robert L. Feddern, is far from a "graveyard," however, and the veteran Navy aviator points as proof to fifty brand new "Skywarrior" jets which have been ferried to the Arizona base for modification before joining the fleet.

Litchfield, Capt. Feddern said, was established in 1943 to accept new modified aircraft from the Goodyear Aircraft Corp. at nearby Litchfield Park.

But by late 1945, when the U. S. brought Japan to her knees with the dropping of the atomic bomb, the Navy was faced with the problem of what to do with the hundreds of airplanes no longer needed to fight the battle of the Pacific.

The Arizona location—20 miles west of Phoenix—was chosen as the resting place of the "old war horses" because its nearly perfect weather conditions ruled out further deterioration by the elements.

When the Korean fighting broke out, 2,000 planes of 18 types were in storage at Litchfield and the preservation program began to pay off.

Combat planes were hurriedly "de-mothballed" and ferried to carriers lying off Korea for the initial action in the Far East conflict.

"Our own salvage operations include removal of any critical parts which are then channeled into the Navy's supply system in support of 'in service' aircraft."

A tour along the facility's flight line reveals row on row of SNJ trainers, AD attack bombers, carrier - based Corsairs, PBY seaplanes, twin - engined Commando bombers and indestructible R4D's, the Navy's equivalent of the DC-3 transport.

Capt. Feddern pointed out that several PBY flying boats have been purchased at auction by fishermen who turn them into flying yachts for deep sea expeditions.

Deadly Snakes Nursed to Provide Antivenin

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea—Five taipans—one of the world's deadliest snakes — were captured recently in New Guinea by the territory's animal ecologist, Ken Slater.

The taipans, the most ever held in captivity in Australia or New Guinea, are being force-fed at Port Moresby to produce venom every two weeks for the manufacture of antivenim.

Marsupial May Provide Spider Bite Antidote

MELBOURNE—Australian scientists are hopeful that an Australian marsupial, the bandicoot, may provide an antidote to the spider which over the years has caused a number of deaths in Australia.

The bandicoots are to be exposed to the bite of the spider at the Government's serum laboratories in Melbourne. They have been seen to eat the funnel-web spiders. If the bandicoots prove immune to the bite, serum will be developed and tested.

The first shot of the Civil War was fired from Charleston, S.C., by the Confederates at Fort Sumter in Charleston Harbor.

Ranch Style Homes Hold Popularity Lead

CHICAGO — According to the United States Savings and Loan League, the public's preference of the "ranch-style" home, evidenced early after World War II, continued, with nearly nine out of every 10 homes being built of that type today.

The league reports that 90 per cent of today's new homes are of the one-story type! 6 per cent are of split-level design, and only 4 per cent are being built with two stories or more.

The highest continuous highway in the United States is Trail Ridge road in the Rocky Mountains national park. About four miles of it is above 12,000 feet in altitude.

Goes Back to Parents After TV Appeal

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Suzanne Laing, who disappeared Sunday from Brownell Hall School at Omaha, rejoined her parents last night after they had made a television appeal for help in finding her.

Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Laing returned with her to their home in Des Moines.

Mrs. Helen Cates, 17, said she met Suzanne in downtown Kansas City yesterday and took her to the home of her husband's parents, Mr and Mrs. Thomas E. Cates.

"She told us she had run away," Cates related. "I asked her why and she said she wasn't sure. Just as we were talking, her photograph appeared on a television newscast. She began to cry. I asked her if she wanted us to help her find her parents and she said yes."

Cates contacted police, who put him in touch with Mr. and Mrs. Laing at the television station. Reports by a bus driver and a passenger indicated Suzanne had come to Kansas City.

Says Both Parties Hurt by Little Rock

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) disputed today GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn's claim to a net Republican gain from handling of school integration at Little Rock.

"I disagree with Mr. Alcorn that either party will benefit from this issue," said Mansfield, a vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee and assistant party leader in the Senate.

Both parties may suffer, Mansfield said, because thoughtful citizens in both may recoil against any efforts to make political capital from the situation.

Alcorn talked with newsmen yesterday after discussing party problems with Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's chief assistant. He at first declined to talk about the Little Rock situation but agreed under questioning it is a political issue, as a reporter put it, "whether anyone exploits it or not."

Alcorn conceded Republicans would lose some strength in the South, but claimed a net GOP gain in the Northern big cities the balance of power.

2-Month-Old Boy Drowns as Mom Answers Phone

CHICAGO (AP) — A 2-month-old boy drowned last night in a wash basin after his mother said she left him for less than a minute to answer a telephone call—a wrong number—in another room.

The mother, Mrs. Judith Schlaeger, 27, told police she was bathing her son Victor in the kitchen sink in about five to six inches of water. When the telephone rang she placed the baby on the sink drainboard and answered the phone. The caller was her husband, Thomas, an attorney, to whom she spoke briefly and resumed washing the infant.

Again the telephone rang and Mrs. Schleager placed the baby on the drainboard and ran to answer it. She said the caller had the wrong number. Mrs. Schlaeger returned to the kitchen and found her baby's head and shoulders under the water. Firemen worked 30 minutes in an attempt to revive him.

Sophia Loren, Husband Take Off for Paris

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Sophia Loren and her director husband Carlo Ponti left by plane last night for Paris.

They declined to pose together for pictures before boarding the plane, but Miss Loren was photographed alone.

The Italian couple was married by proxy in Juarez, Mexico, Sept. 17.

Their marriage is not recognized by the Catholic Church or by Italian law because Ponti is divorced.

ROAD WORK — A far cry from the old-fashioned rock pile, these prisoners at the Federal Prison Camp in Mill Point, W. Va., are at work on a useful road-building project.

U. S. Prison System Spawning Suburbia

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The American prison system is spawning its own particular type of suburbia.

MORE CAMPS

The number of convict labor camps is increasing throughout the nation. Confinement of inmates in the great outdoors instead of within towering concrete walls is becoming a regular feature of prison management.

This revolution in convict control is revealed by Myrl E. Alexander, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

"The labor camp is here to stay," Alexander declares. "Prison officials are learning that more and more inmates can be handled in this manner at less expense to the taxpayer and with increased treatment and training values for the inmates."

CONSTRUCT MANY

He says that within the last year new camps were constructed or planned by the state prison systems of Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, California and Ohio.

At the camps no one swings a sledge hammer on the rock pile or digs holes just to fill them up again. Instead, inmates build roads and mountain trails, plant and grow trees, maintain the grounds of Air Force bases, carry out pest control projects and fight forest fires.

Alexander believes the outdoor work pays big dividends in helping to make law abiding citizens out of the inmates. "We're sure the camp life definitely increases the likelihood of prisoners not returning to crime," he says.

The prison official tells of one case, however, where a prisoner developed a slightly mixed-up sense of responsibility. The inmate spent three days fighting a raging forest fire. With so much confusion going on, he could have easily escaped. Instead he stuck to the job until the last flame was extinguished.

But as soon as he returned to camp, he took off. After the prisoner was recaptured, police asked him why he hadn't escaped during the fire. He answered that it wouldn't have been right for him to run out on his job.

One of the most remarkable features of the outdoor prison camps is that they are virtually unguarded. None of the prison officials carries a gun. Almost all a prisoner has to do to escape is wait until no one is looking and then simply walk away.

In spite of this, Alexander says each camp has only about two or three inmates a year who turn up missing.

The secret of this low escape rate is a modern classification system which enables prison authorities to pick the men best suited for camp work. Men are not assigned who prison officials believe will try to escape or will not benefit from the outdoor projects.

In addition to their value in rehabilitating prisoners, more camps are being constructed because of the low costs required to build and operate them. Since few guards are needed, more men can be assigned to the important jobs of training and educating the prisoners.

Also labor camps help relieve overcrowded conditions which are blamed for triggering dangerous riots in large prisons.

Alexander looks forward to the day when men who now have to remain behind bars for the duration of their sentences will be able to use the camps.

"Our goal," he explains, "is to have a many men as possible go out to these camps before they are released."

The U.S. Bureau of Prisons operates prison camps at Allenwood, Pa; Florence, Ariz.; McNeil Island, Wash.; Mill Point, W. Va.; Montgomery, Ala., and Tucson, Ariz.

Inspect Trucks Passing Through Mountain City

DUNSMUIR, Calif. (AP)—A safety inspection of all trucks passing through this small Siskiyou Mountain city continued yesterday.

Truck traffic was backed up for two miles Tuesday, with 200 safety experts and 60 highway patrolmen manning seven checking points between Weed and Dunnsmuir o U.S. 99 in northern California.

State Sen. Randolph Collier, chairman of an interim committee on transportation problems, said the check was "to assemble basic factual data dealing with the efficiency of truck braking systems."

Inspectors bypassed no trucks, checking everything from size, number and condition of brakes to muffler noise.

Some drivers had a fistful of citations when they reached Dunsmuir, for violations ranging from improper trailer registration to poor brake lining.

The safety inspections came as a direct result of several runaway trucks careening down Dunsmuir's narrow main street.

Pine Output to Rise

ATLANTA — A sixth pine-tree nursery to be opened in Georgia will soon bring the state's annual seedling production up from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000.

Finds Skeleton in Closet

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP) — C. C. Pike was checking a building he had just purchased and was startled when he opened a closet door and found a skeleton. Pike checked with authorities and found that a doctor formerly had his offices in the building. Apparently the skeleton was used for experimental work.

Pakistan President Selects Minister

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—President Iskander Mirza today named Ismail Chundrigar, president of the Moslem League, to become Pakistan's sixth prime minister. A government announcement said he would take the oath of office later today.

Chundrigar was chosen to succeed Prime Minister H. S. Suhrawardy of the Awami League after the Republican party, the Moslem League and the Workers and Tenants party agreed to join in a coalition cabinet.

American observers expect the new government to be dominated by the Republicans, Pakistan's strongest political party, and to continue Suhrawardy's pro-Western policy of close alliance with the United States and strong allegiance to the Baghdad and SEATO pacts. The Republicans also controlled the last government.

Suhrawardy resigned Oct. 11 after the Republicans withdrew their support, officially in opposition to the Prime Minister's plan to break West Pakistan up into four provinces.

In a city of 25,000 population, the American Cancer Society says that 110 persons will be under treatment for cancer this year. Of these, 66 will be new cases.

Marshal Zhukov Leaves Yugoslavia

He left in a Soviet military plane for Tirana, capital of Communist Albania.

Without going out of its way, President Tito's government gave Zhukov the treatment required by protocol for a visiting defense minister from a sister Communist state. The treatment matched that the Russians gave Yugoslav Defense Minister Ivan Gosnjak when he visited Russia last June.

While Zhukov's visit to Yugoslavia is believed to have been chiefly of political significance, foreign diplomats think his mission in Albania is largely military.

REHABILITATION: Hyman Jaffe, 63, of Silver Spring, Md., suffered a crippling stroke five years ago. Today this retired upholsterer, helped by rehabilitation therapy, happily shows therapist Margery Button the active life he leads.

Medical Science Begins Breaking Paralytic Stroke

WASHINGTON (NEA)— Medical science is beginning to break the iron grip of the paralytic stroke.

The sudden, unexpected rupture or clotting of a blood vessel in the brain no longer means all elderly victims must spend the rest of their lives as helpless cripples.

Now nine out of 10 of these patients can learn to walk again. And three of these will be able to continue work.

This is the encouraging outlook offered to the two million U. S. victims of strokes and other diseases of the brain's blood vessels. They are revealed in a pamphlet recently released by the National Heart Institute of the Public Health Service's National Institutes of Health.

Immediate, highly skilled medical treatment is the key to this dramatic rehabilitation success story. Often within 24 hours after a stroke, doctors begin the painstaking massaging of the damaged limbs. If the patient's speech has been impaired, therapy is started almost at once.

LARGE DIVIDENDS

These specialized treatments combined with expert nursing care and an encouraging, optimistic attitude by the doctor and patient's family have paid large dividends in rebuilding worth - while lives for those who were once doomed to years of crippled idleness.

Recent stroke victims are not the only ones who are benefiting from modern therapy techniques. Successful treatment has been perfected to the degree that some people who suffered strokes years ago can be helped.

An NIH specialist declares, "There are very few of these patients who can't be helped a little bit. And some can be helped a very great deal."

Although most of its victims survive attacks, cerebral vascular disease still causes enough deaths each year to rank as the number three disease killer. Last year it totaled 179,110 fatalities.

That's why medical research teams are intensifying their efforts to prevent the disease from striking in the first place. So far they have found no exact cure.

But progress has been made in preventing or treating heart conditions which often lead to cerebral vascular disease. Heart attacks, rheumatic conditions and infections of the heart help form blood clots, which can be carried to the brain.

DRUGS INVENTED

Successful efforts to eliminate or stop the formation of these clots have been made by new heart surgery techniques, anti-clotting drugs and antibiotics. Drugs also have been invented to reduce high blood pressure which contributes to strokes. And important studies are being made to prevent hardening of the arteries.

So far the research has paid off. A Heart Institute spokesman says these discoveries have prevented many strokes today that would have occurred several years ago.

Haifa Traffic Heavy

HAIFA, Israel—During the first six months of this year 584 ships, carrying 1,250,000 tons of cargo, including 500,000 tons of export goods ,passed through the port of Haifa. The ships also brought to Israel 42,000 immigrants as well as 10,500 other passengers and visitors.

Try to Hit Moon With Rockets?

Los Angeles Examiner Says Attempt by Reds to Be Made Nov. 7

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Examiner says it has been told that Russia will try to hit the moon with rockets Nov. 7.

The newspaper's science editor, Christian Clausen, wrote today that the information came from a European scientist "who has talked to rocket experts who have escaped from the huge, Russian rocket and missile base at Peenemunde in Germany." The scientist's name was not given.

Clausen said his source told him the Soviets will aim three of their huge rockets at the moon from a launching base on the Caspian Sea, "the same spot whence the Red satellite was sent aloft."

"The first Soviet moon rockets will be unmanned," Clausen wrote. "But if they are successful with their first vehicles, the Russians plan to send animals and then men to the moon."

He said the scientist told him schools have been set up to select men and women from the Russian air force to make a trip to the moon and to teach them how to live there.

Nov. 7 will be the 40th anniversary of Lenin's accession to power in Russia. There will be a full moon that day.

Faye Emerson, Husband Separate

NEW YORK (AP)—TV actress Faye Emerson and TV musician Skitch Henderson announced last night they had signed a marital separation agreement.

The announcement was made for the couple by lawyer Wolfe R. Charney.

Charney said the two had been trying to adjust their differences for some time but finally decided to separate. The lawyer said there was an "amicable property settlement."

Miss Emerson, formerly married to Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was married to Henderson Dec. 12, 1950.

Attendance at Zoos Shows an Increase

NEW YORK—Zoo directors over the nation report rising attendance figures this summer. Last year some 60,000,000 persons, more than a third of the nation's population, attended America's municipal zoos.

The country's 150-odd zoos, game farms, and aquariums spend more than $8,000,000 a year to get wildlife specimens.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LAYMAN

Rite at Our Lady of Refuge Church

Patricia Raupp Weds

ORCHARD LAKE — Our Lady of Refuge Church was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Patricia Raupp and Richard Layman.

Following the double-ring ceremony, open house and breakfast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Raupp of Orchard Lake, parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Layman of Keego Harbor.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace over satin, featuring long, tapered sleeves, with tiny covered buttons extending from the scalloped V-neckline to the fitted waist.

A sequin and pearl studded coronet held her double-tier veil of imported French illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, accented with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Leonard Raupp of Mt. Clemens and bridemaids were Marilyn and Christine Raupp, sisters of the bride and Bernice Umscheid of Walled Lake.

Marvin Perrigo of Holly served as best man, with James Bloomershine of Holly, Clifford Howard of Pontiac, Bucky Marriott, nephew of the bridegroom and Leonard Raupp, brother of the bride, as ushers.

An evening reception was held at Westacres Clubhouse. About 400 guests attended from Keego Harbor, Pontiac, Allen Park, Lincoln Park, Trenton, Wyandotte and Mt. Clemens.

The couple will tour Wisconsin and Minnesota on their honeymoon.

Youth on Probation for Hit-Run Accident

A Troy youth is serving a one-year probationary sentence for a hit-run accident in which a 15-year-old boy was seriously injured.

Michael J. Cullen 18, was assessed $250 court costs by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams after conviction of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident Aug. 8.

Cullen was found guilty of striking Terrence D. Murphy as the boy rode his bicycle along Livernois road. Hospitalized several weeks, Terrence is now back in school.

Judge Adams said that in passing sentence he took into consideration Cullen's voluntary surrender to police a week after the accident.

Fine, Ice Cream Seller for Having No Guards

Albert Maide, of Detroit, was found guilty of three counts of selling ice cream on the city streets without an attendant to guard children and without a helper.

He was fined a total of $85 or 17 days in jail by Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Albert Whitehurst, of Detroit, was found not guilty of the same charge.

14 — WOMAN FOUND

Woman Found Guilty of Operating Brothel

Betty Hall, 38, of 205 Hughes Ave., was found guilty of operating a house of prostitution and fined $100 or 10 days by Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan yesterday.

Leola Jones, 22, was found guilty of being an inmate of the house and was fined $25 or five days.

Broomfield to Visit 4 Area Communities

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) and his mobile trailer-office will visit four North Oakland County communities tomorrow.

His schedule calls for visits to Auburn Heights, 10-11 a.m.; Sylvan Lake, 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; White Lake Township, 2:30-3:30 p.m., and Highland Township, 4-5 p.m.

During the first half of his two-months tour through the 18th (Oakland County) Congressional District, more than 2,000 voters have visited the trailer to talk over federal problems with their Washington representative.

Next Friday, Broomfield will visit Davisburg and Springfield Township.

Arrest of 5 Youths Solves 7 Burglaries

Seven burglaries were cleared up today with the arrest of a 17-year-old and four juveniles yesterday by Pontiac Police juvenile officers.

Charged with breaking and entering is Erwin H. Mullen, 17, of 195 W. Howard St., and his four companions.

According to Sgt. Henry Hoyt and Officer James Lafnear, the five admitted breaking into the following places:

Shamrock Dairy Bar, 424 Oakland, twice; Mazza's Grocery, 676 Oakland, three times; Reliable Welding Co., 725 Oakland; and the Eagles Lodge, 289 W. Montcalm.

Their thefts consisted of petty cash and cigarettes mainly, the officers said.

DIANE KAY GREAL

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Greal of Rochester are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Diane Kay, to George Edwin Kleino. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Kleino, also of Rochester. No wedding date has been set.

Arrest 2 for Dropping Rocks on Passing Cars

Two juveniles from the Farmington-Livonia area were arrested yesterday by Redford Post state troopers for dropping rocks on cars from the Nine Mile overpass above Grand River.

The boys admitted two or three such incidents, but it is not known whether they were the ones involved in damage to a car yesterday which injured a two-week-old baby.

The infant, Jeffrey LeRue, of Detroit, was struck by flying glass when a rock hit the windshield of his father's car.

The two boys were taken to Oakland County Juvenile Court today.

Stockholders Get Proposal

Merged Firms to Total $160 Million Resources; With 15 Offices

HOLLY — A proposal to merge the Citizens Commercial & Savings Bank of Flint and the First State & Savings Bank of Holly is to be submitted to the stockholders of each bank.

The merged bank would have resources of $160 million, with capital and surplus of $10½ million.

It would bring together the Flint bank with its 12 branches and the Holly bank with its branch at Grand Blanc.

Walter E. Lentz, President of the Holly bank, states that the present board of directors here would act as an advisory board to the local office.

This includes, besides Lentz: Chairman E. A. Hartz, F. M. Haddon, M. F. Hadley, J. L. Montgomery and H. D. Seeley, with M. H. Bennett as secretary.

It is expected that the board of directors of the merged bank will include Mr. Lentz and H. H. Miller of Grand Blanc, also now a local director. There will be no change in the employes personnel here, except that Lentz will devote some time at Flint, in his capacity of vice president of the merged banks.

The Flint bank was established in 1871 and the Holly bank in 1890. Mr. Lentz came here in the reorganization of 1935, and has built the bank assets to nearly $9 million.

He says, "The merger will provide local residents with many added banking facilities. Our savings customers will receive a higher interest, and we will be in position to be of greater service to the people of this area."

HOW LONG? — That's the question Milford Mayor Joe Gerrard, Dr. E. H. Campbell and Dr. Robert Lawrence ask bewhiskered Frank Heatley, (seated). Village males are letting their beards grow, adhering to a "No Shave" Proclamation celebrating the town's 125th birthday anniversary.

Shaving Is a Sin at Milford

Male Martyrs Moan

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — Bewhiskered, bothered and bewildered is the dilemma of most Milford males, brought about by a brutal Village Proclamation.

In recognition of the Town's 125th Birthday Celebration this month, Mayor Joseph Gerrard has decreed that "shaving is a sin" and all bare-faced shavers will be penalized.

A reprieve has been granted however, in that "No Shaving" licenses may be purchased at the Town Hall for $2 each.

The Honorable Mayor has regretted the Proclamation more than once lately. He has discovered that he is expected to "set the example" for the male splendor.

Joe has one of the slow growing, salt-and-pepper-mixed-with red colored beards. For two weeks he suffered through the agony of pricking hair, itching skin and having to face himself in the mirror.

When he couldn't stand it any longer, he bought a license and scraped his countenance clean as a whistle.

PRESSURE GROUPS

The Mayor hadn't counted on pressure from organized groups, which made it necessary to "get with the mob," so once again he was forced — by his own decree — to adhere to public opinion.

Many "gents" have been left practically at the starting line by the more determined, since the proclamation was issued.

The uncomfortable feeling of wiry hair growing under their ears, eyes, nose and mouth, is more than some can take, and these men have resorted to the neat Van Dykes.

Some "bewildered" village fathers of the community realize that all of a sudden they have the appearance of criminals, pictured on "Wanted" signs in the village post office.

Harold McCormick was one of the most bewildered. As his beard became more prominent, he discovered that it was pure white on his chin, then as the hair appeared up each side of his face, it was jet black. He is now one of the Van Dykers.

BEWILDERING COLORS

More bewildered is dentist Dr. Robert Lawrence. He has a white goatee, black and gray jowl-coverings, and a flaming red mustache over his upper lip.

One of the most distinguished gentlemen in the whole town, is white-haired, white-goateed, Frank Coe. Many people think he resembles movie star Monty Wooley. He operates a cleaning establishment here.

Sam Farley has let himself go as far as his bewhiskered face is concerned. He has not trimmed, worried or allowed himself to become involved in face styles, consequently his beard has grown long, silky and 'uninhibited.'

Milford gals are balking at the immature stubble fields sprounting on the chins of their belabored spouses, who strive to emulate Paul Bunyan.

NO KISSES!

And kissing in the town is at a minimum, according to many of the wives.

How it will end, only time will tell, but for those strong hearts who survive the ordeal, until the Nov. 2 deadline, all honor and glory will surely be bestowed on the long-suffering Milford martyr. So spake His Honor, the Mayor.

Press Preview Sees '58 Models

Lincoln, Mercury Boast Integrated Construction; Announce Mark III

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln and Mercury division showed its 1958 model cars at a national press preview, disclosing numerous new styling and engineering details currently being shown to dealers.

James J. Nance, heading the recently consolidated Lincoln and Mercury division, already has disclosed the division will produce a new Continental Mark III, on a longer wheelbase and with a lower price tag.

With an over-all length of 229 inches the new luxury model will be one of the longest American-made cars. It will be powered by a 375-horse-power engine with 10.5 to 1 compression ratio.

Also previously announced is the fact the Continental and the new Lincoln models will be built with integrated body and frame type construction. In this design body and frame are welded together. Approximately 7,500 welds of varying types are used.

The Continental generally has been called the Ford prestige model with a $10,000 price tag. However, with extras, including taxes and other charges the delivered price runs substantially higher. The 1958 price has not been disclosed. The series will be introduced with the Lincoln and Mercury models next month in four models—two four-door sedans, a retractable-top convertible and two-door hardtop.

The entire line of cars for 1958 has been restyled. New engines featuring fuel economy have been developed. The Lincoln has been styled in what the trade knows as the continental tradition and a new model called the Park Lane has been added to the Mercury line.

Dealer showings of the new line of cars already have been held in New York, New Orleans, San Francisco and Detroit. A similar meeting is scheduled for St. Louis on Oct. 18.

When production of the Continental Mark II was halted last May Ford announced the model run had reached 3,000 units.

Retail deliveries of the Lincoln model for this year's first eight months totaled 24,534 compared with 30,406 in the like 1956 period. Mercury registrations numbered 191,069 for January through August this year against 197,363 in the same 1956 period.

Syrian-Turkish Grudge Fuel for Power Fight

Hatreds Feed Mideast Crisis

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—For 20 years Syrians have harbored a bitter grudge against Turkey.

The Syrian government still claims the Turkish Mediterranean port of Alexandretta, which Turkey renamed Iskenderum.

The claim goes back 400 years when Alexandretta, and the sprawling area behind it called the Sanjak of Alexandretta, belonged to Greater Syria.

For four centuries, the Turks ruled the Arab world under their Ottoman Empire. Defeated in World War I, their Middle East empire was split between Britain and France.

The French got Syria and ceded Alexandretta to Turkey in 1937. Since then, the border has been like a running sore, both sides scratching at it and keeping it from healing.

A good many people living in Alexandretta and Sanjak still regard themselves as Syrians. They speak Arabic.

Like many border people, they hold border police in disdain and make a living by smuggling. For years the border has been the scene of minor incidents almost every week. They usually involve police shooting across the frontiers at smugglers.

These incidents are often magnified in Syria far out of proportion to their importance. For Alexandretta is a touchy point to some Syrians. To this day you cannot buy a Syrian map in Syria showing Alexandretta and Sanjak as part of Turkey.

Turkey has no claims against Syria, except perhaps an extremely weak one for Aleppo, Syria's northern industrial center. The Turks have never pushed the claim, based on a Turkish-speaking minority living there.

It is also true that Arabs, and especially Syrians, do not like Turks. This dislike stems from 400 years of Turkish domination over the Arab world.

Yet none of these things have ever been and are not now sufficiently serious to account for the present tension on the Syrian-Turkish border.

In Damascus you get a distinct impression this whole business with Turkey has been artificially inspired.

The man on the street appears wholly unconcerned. To him it is inconceivable that Turkey alone would attack Syria. Like Syrian officials, he professes to believe the United States is pushing Turkey to invade Syria to overthrow the pro-Soviet government in Damascus.

Top Syrian officials, especially those in the Foreign Office, at first insisted publicly they were not alarmed over the alleged Turkish threat against Syria. Instead, they were only cautious.

Privately, these same officials are still insisting this is so.

Some of them appear thoroughly embarrassed at mention of the Soviet Union's part in this trouble. They readily acknowledge that a great deal more and harsher accusations against Turkey have come from the Kremlin rulers than from the Syrians themselves.

A Syrian attack on Turkey would be "sheer suicide," one foreign military observer commented, "unless, of course, Syria got extensive help from Russia."

Turkey has an army of half a million men, all thoroughly trained in use of late-model American weapons. Syrian forces are estimated at 50,000 men. Intelligence reports to London and Washington put the Egyptian troops who landed in Syria Sunday at between 1,000 and 1,600.

Survey Reveals Reader Interest

Consumer's Marketing Reports Get Attention of 52 Per Cent

A recent telephone survey conducted in Oakland County revealed that 52 per cent of those contacted read the consumer marketing information regularly in The Pontiac Press.

Mary Slater, Oakland County school lunch and nutrition consultant, conducted the survey regarding the weekly articles written by Mrs. Josephine H. Lawyer, consumer marketing information agent.

Miss Slater reported the survey results at the tri-annual meeting of the advisory council of the Marketing Information Program for Consumers in Oakland County last night at the county board of education building.

She indicated that the survey revealed the same articles published in the Royal Oak Tribune were read regularly by 31 per cent of those contacted.

The advisory council is composed of food shoppers, handlers, and producers; civic and service organizations and communications personnel who assist Mrs. Lawyer in planning, conducting and evaluating the educational program for Oakland County consumers.

Mrs. Frank Anderson, vice chairman of the council, who represents the City Federation, Pontiac Junior Women's Club, reported weekly news and radio releases, monthly newsletters for workers have been included in the group's information program since April.

Mrs. Miriam Kelley, director of Michigan State University Marketing Information Agents in 10 Michigan cities, and Mary Ann Meldrum and Harriet Lundberg, marketing information agents in Kalamazoo and Muskegon respectively, were guests at the meeting.

500,000 Japanese Strike for More Pay

TOKYO (AP)—Half a million Japanese workers walked off the job today and 400,000 others quit for an hour to back up a drive for general increases in pay and retirement allowances.

The General Council of Japanese Trade Unions called the strikes—of varying duration — in the shipbuilding, iron and steel and coal industries.

A union of government workers promoted the one-hour stoppage by express workers in the transport industry. The tieup was slight. Demands by railway workers are already under conciliation by the labor relations board.

Coal workers went out on an "indefinite" strike. The iron and steel men struck for 48 hours and the shipbuilders for 24.

Balloon to Be Launched to Photograph the Sun

HURON, S.D. (INS) — A balloon will be launched at Huron, S. D., today to photograph the sun from an altitude of 80,000 feet.

The balloon is the second to be sent aloft in project stratosphere.

Special equipment aboard the balloon will take pictures of the edges of the sun.

The first balloon launched from Minneapolis last Sept. 26 photographed the sun's center.

Project Stratosphere, directed by Dr. Martin Schwarzchild of Princeton University, is jointly sponsored by the Office of Naval Research and General Mills of Minneapolis.

Brinks Truck Crash Injures 5 Seriously

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Coins were scattered over a wide area yesterday when an armored truck spun out of control and crashed into a tree near here.

Four guards and the driver of the vehicle, owned by Brinks, Inc., were seriously injured.

The truck was making a run between Dexter and Ann Arbor with $500,000 in cash and checks when it hit a bump and skidded on the wet pavement.

Newspaper Confab to Cover Plenty

EAST LANSING (AP) — Taxes, sports, municipal affairs and the Mackinac Straits Bridge will occupy Michigan's editors and publishers at their fall conference.

Elmer E. White, manager of the Michigan Press Association, today announced program plans for the sixth annual Community Newspaper Conference Nov. 15-16 at Michigan State University.

Taxation talks will be given by James W. Miller, state controller; Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, and Dr. Daniel C. Cline, MSU economics professor.

John F. Huss, director of the Michigan Municipal League, will discuss newspaper reporting of municipal affairs. Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, will report on the big span. Delegates also will inspect the new press box and attend the Michigan State-Minnesota football game Nov. 16.

Pineapple Juice Dips

HONOLULU — Hawaii's pineapplejuice pack in the season ended May 31 totaled 14,900,000 cases, but sales fell from 15,000,000 cases in fiscal 1956 to 14,400,000 in fiscal 1957.

Williams Leaves Desk Until Next Tuesday

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams sets out today on a series of activities that will keep him away from his desk until next Tuesday.

The governor planned to spend most of today and tomorrow in Kansas City, Mo., at a regional Democratic Party conference. From there, he was to go to Washington, D.C. for meetings Saturday and Sunday of the advisory council of the Democratic National Committee.

Williams has dates to hunt pheasants Monday and Tuesday mornings on a farm near Sebewaing, on the east shore of Saginaw bay.

Predicts Queen to Be Dethroned

BONN (INS) — A noted West German astrologer has looked at Queen Elizabeth's stars and concluded that she will be dethroned within a few years.

Carl Heinrich Huter, in the forthcoming issue of the astrology weekly Neue Weltschau, claims an analysis of the "critical constellations" in Elizabeth's horoscope bears disquieting similarities to the horoscopes as such fallen leaders as ex-King Leopold of Belgium, Napoleon and Hitler.

Huter concluded:

"She will be the last queen who will see both the glory of the crown and her own downfall . . . Elizabeth, between 1958 and 1960, is facing her fateful years. The sword of Damocles is hanging disastrously over her head."

Pontiac Man Convicted of Getting Stolen Goods

Milto Furney Jr., 25, of 124 Monterey Blvd., was found guilty of receiving stolen property by Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan yesterday.

He was sentenced to 15 days in the Oakland County Jail.

Joke 'in the Bag'? Campus Brass Can't See It

LINCOLN Neb. (INS) — A Nebraska University campus prank in which a naked fraternity pledge was put in a laundry bag and then placed at a sorority doorstep was termed not funny today by officials who promised disiplinary action in the case.

The shocked co-eds reportedly beat the unwelcome visitor, gave him a pair of girls' slacks and a blouse and sent him home.

The incident had been the main topic of conversation on the campus for the past week, but officials brought it into the open yesterday when they turned the matter over to the Inter-Fraternity Council for action.

Richard G. Arneson, president of the council, said the persons reportedly involved in the hazing were members of Theta Chi Fraternity. The recipient of the laundry bag and its contents was rumored to be Delta Delta Delta Sorority.

were cuffs of phantom beaver on the three-quarter length sleeves.

Elizabeth wore closed-toe pumps in suede of beaver brown, with grosgrain stripping. The costume was topped with a close fitting hat in draped electric blue velvet.

The brilliant blue of Elizabeth's coat contrasted with the gray of her husband's suit.

FORMAL INTRODUCTION

Buchanan formally presented her Majesty to the President and then introduced Prince Philip.

"Welcome to Washington and the United States, your majesty," Eisenhower said with a little bow from the waist.

Then he took the Queen by the elbow and gently pivoted her around for photographers.

Eisenhower gestured in the direction of the cameramen and said to the Queen: "That's the nearest thing we have to a dictator in this country."

They all enjoyed the quip.

WOMEN CURTSY

The men for the most part bowed and the ladies curtsied.

At the end of the red-carpeted receiving line, Eisenhower and the Queen took two steps onto a railed platform to receive formal honors.

The honor guard came to present-arms, the band struck up "God Save the Queen."

Then, side-by-side, a foot apart —the President with his gray felt hat over his heart—the two chiefs of state stood while the band rolled out "The Star Spangled Banner."

In the distance a battery boomed out the 21-gun royal salute.

Standing immediately behind the President and Queen were Prince Philip, Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada, Secretary of State Dulles, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Robert E. McLaughlin, president of the District of Columbia commissioners. McLaughlin was there to present a key to the city.

INSPECTS GUARD

Philip chatted with Twinig, Diefenbaker, Dulles and Buchanan while Eisenhower and the Queen inspected the guard of honor.

On either side of the troop commander, they strode along the ranks, taking a slow pace.

Eisenhower made a brief welcoming address and the Queen responded with her prepared remarks:

"Thank you for this kind and generous welcome. We are delighted to be here in Washington again.

"I have come to the United States from Canada and it is as Queen of Canada that I bring you the warm greetings of a friendly neighbor and a staunch ally. I express to you the friendship and respect felt by my peoples of every race and creed in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"It has been a moving experience for us to visit Jamestown, the site of the first English-speaking settlement in North America, and the old Colonial capital of Williamsburg.

"We are both looking forward greatly to our visit to Washington and to New York. It is going to be a memorable experience for us. I am very sorry that we cannot visit other parts of this great continent on this occasion but I would like the whole American people, north, south, east and west to know how happy we are to be here and I send them all my warmest good wishes."

In his formal greeting Eisenhower told Elizabeth her visit is important because it will help strengthen the "ties of friendship between these two countries."

These British-American ties, Eisenhower said, "have been tested in the crucible of war when we fought side by side."

Bob Considine Says:

Dashing Philip to Make Americans Swoon

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (INS) — What kind of fellow is Philip?

Well, the chances are that he will be swooned over by millions of American women. He looks as if he was ordered from Central Casting — tall, thin-waisted, blond, chiseled, manly, cheerful. Nobody has worn a uniform as well as Philip since Gen. MacArthur retired. And nobody ever had more of them.

He is the prototype of the airman in his uniform as air marshal of the RAF, the picture of the British field marshal in that uniform, the epitome of the graceful admiral of Her Majesty's fleet in that one. He looked just great as a colonel in chief of the Royal Canadian regiment when he rode with his wife in a landau through the sun-streaked streets of Ottawa the day Elizabeth opened Parliament. He looked like a model for "Sports Afield" in his duck-shooting outfit the day he bagged his quota in Canada.

Philip can fly a jet, sail a ship, take a turn in a racing car at better than 100 m.p.h. He is a first class cricket player, was a good track and field man, plays acceptable golf, tennis, bridge.

In his speech to the Dominion from Ottawa, on the rights and duties of industry, he lapsed easily into French, but neatly prefaced the switch by saying, "Now I'm going to attempt a bit of French."

He has known Elizabeth for so long that they appear to have been married since birth.

Philip, a prince of a broken family, never had a last name until shortly before his marriage to the future Queen of England in 1947. He was poor, lived on his navy salary, had been a ward almost since birth of his ambitious and attractive uncle, Lord Louis Mountbatten.

OFFICIALLY GREEK PRINCE

He was officially a Greek prince, but wasn't Greek and couldn't speak the language of his father, who was a Dane. Mountbatten saw to it that he met Elizabeth and her sister Margaret as young children, pushed the romance with the elder girl later on. Philip renounced his title as a Greek prince, took the maiden name of his mother and uncle—Mountbatten.

When Elizabeth opened Parliament at Ottawa on Monday, Philip, seated on a smaller throne beneath her, kept looking at her encouragingly — while she read her ghost - written speech in her schoolgirl's voice.

His great forte, in Buckingham Palace circles, apparently, is that he has a mind of his own, is the boss of the family (despite the fact that he usually walks behind the Queen at state functions), and always has been. As a poor naval officer he was wont to order cars from the royal garage as if he owned them — though at the time he was considered by George VI as only one of three or four possible husbands for the heiress apparent.

Philip's mother is now a nun in the Greek Orthodox church. He has an income comparable to that of President Eisenhower, but pays no tax. He likes to get out among men, can talk with the saltiness of the navy, considered the stories of a rift between himself and the Queen too ridiculous to comment upon. He likes to speak abruptly, for shock purposes. ("Every time somebody calls me prince I think I ought to bark.")

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

Auckland Volcano Active 200 Years Ago

AUCKLAND—Evidence has been found by New Zealand scientists that the crater on Rangitoto Island in Auckland harbor erupted less than 100 years before the British settlement of New Zealand.

An examination of the vegetation, ash deposits, and Maori remains borne out a botanical theory that the volcano, which geologists believed extinct for 5,000 years, was active within the last 200 years.

In 1954 the University of Rhode Island offered free tuition in its evening classes to men and women 70 years old or older.

Soapsuds Fights Fires

LONDON—British coal miners are now using soapsuds to fight fires in the mines, a technique developed by the British Power Ministry.

To extinguish a mine blaze a wall of detergent foam is laid down and blown toward the flames. The foam smothers the fire.

Electric Cars Still Used

LONG BEACH, Cal.—An estimated 3,000 persons drive electrically powered automobiles in Long Beach. Most of them are older persons. California requires neither a registration license for electric cars nor a driver's permit for their operators.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

May Test Rockets Over U.S. Cities

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)—The commanding general of White Sands Proving Ground missile test center was predicted that future testing may call for firing of rockets over U. S. cities.

Maj. Gen. W. E. Ladlaw told about 200 base visitors and newsment Tuesday that, because of safety measures, there would be no more danger from the rockets then there now is from warplanes.

The visitors, including military and civilian officials, had gathered at this southern New Mexico base yesterday for a ceremony which turned over the Talos Defense Unit (TDU) to the Army for testing.

The huge unit, first developed as a naval ship-to-air defense weapon, was perfected at White Sands by the Radio Corp. of America and was presented to the Army jointly by RCA and the Navy.

Waterford Sets Trick-or-Treat Children's Hour

All Waterford Township children have been asked to get out and do their "trick or treating" between 6 and 7 p.m. Halloween, according to recreation director, Tom Belton.

He said, "By setting this time for the youngsters' adventure, residents in the township can prepare for visitors by turning their porch lights on."

A cooperative plan by service organizations in conjunction with the recreation department will provide parties for elementary school children from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in various areas throughout the township. Locations will be announced later, Belton said.

A dance party for high school pupils has been scheduled at the Community Activities Inc. Center from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m., and will be part of the regular high school Youth Night.

Income Tax Is Levied by Cities in 4 States

CHICAGO—A Commerce Clearing House survey of states authorizing local income taxation shows that such taxes are now being levied and withheld from wages, salaries, and commissions by scores of local governments in four states—Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Rates of taxation vary from one half of one per cent to 1½ per cent.

India Produces Glass

HAZARIBAGH, India—India's largest sheet-glass factory, a joint enterprise of Japan and India at the village of Bhurkunda, 15 miles from Hazaribagh, in Bihar, has gone into production.

It is expected to make India self-sufficient in sheet glass. The factory's capacity is 4,500,000 square feet of this type of glass a month.

The U.S. Navy distributes more than 1.6 million news releases each year to home town newspapers of the men and women who are serving in various branches of the Navy system.

Plan to Dispose of Many Tons of Old Records

LANSING (AP) — Nearly 100 tons of state records, some 85 years old, will be disposed of soon in a massive house cleaning ordered by Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski.

Not, however, before the State Historical Commission gets a chance to cart away any documents of historical significance, Szymanski said.

These include records reflecting Michigan's economy of the 1800s and early methods of administration as well as significant correspondence of various auditors general.

Most of the records will be sold to a paper salvage company, Szymanski said, clearing 7,200 feet of space for other uses. Currently, the state is paying more than $2,500 a year to rent the space.

Records to be disposed of include all World War I bonus records, Treasury bank statements, bond registers and bond awards and tax ledgers.

"What we can't sell, we might save up for a big bonfire after the Michigan State - Notre Dame game next month," Szymanski, a former Notre Dame football player, said jokingly.

Most of the early records were written in longhand and no carbons were used.

Record were bound in top grain leather or sheepskin and correspondence was bound in leather with gold indexing.

TV Microscope Seen as Big Aid to Science

NEW YORK — An instrument that combines the techniques of color television and ultraviolet microscopy has been developed at a New York research institute to stain cells electronically.

The instrument is said to make it possible to study living cells at work with an accuracy previously unobtainable.

The TV microscope can be used to trace the distribution, utilization, and metabolism of specific materials within cells without disturbing them in their motion and development as do radioactive and fluorescent particles, according to the researchers.

Missile Factory Begins Work

Huge Plant in Florida Starts Manufacture of Secret Rockets

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Inertial Guidance Center, a magnificent $4,500,000 missile equipment factory of tomorrow, swung into operation here this week.

After a series of receptions over the past 10 days and a formal opening ceremony Tuesday, the plant started engineering and pilot production on contracts totaling almost $3,000,000, most of them secret missile projects for the Air Force and Navy.

The aeronautical division of Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co. called the facility the world's most jiggle-proof plant.

"We have fought the vibration problem to a virtual standstill," the division said.

Yet by contrast, one closed off area contained equipment capable of killing or maiming anyone within reach. The vibration equipment rests in a pit designed to hold 25 tons of lead to help absorb the vibrations.

Employes operating it watch from outside through double panes of extra thick glass.

"In the room the vibration equipment operating at high frequencies could cause immediate deafness or death," engineering director John Anderson of Honeywell told visiting reporters.

Melvin P. Fedders, general manager of the plant, said a major program here will be development of a new type of inertial guidance system under a $1,800,000 contract to the Air Force Wright Air Development at Dayton, Ohio.

Inertial guidance is a recently developed navigational concept which makes it possible for an airplane or missile with the special equipment to fly a pre-set course automatically without guidance from the ground or from a human pilot. A combination of accelerometer—a device measuring speed and rates of speed changes with computers and gyroscopes—the inertial guidance system gives out no radio or radar signal, hence cannot be "fooled" or jammed.

Security for You

Service Injury Payments, SS Separate

By RAY HENRY

From S. T. of Fall River, Mass.: "My husband was injured from shrapnel during World War I. Ever since then, he has been getting a monthly payment from the government because of the injury. In six months, he'll be 65 and eligible for Social Security old age payments. Will he be able to collect both his veteran's payment and Social Security without one interfering with the other?"

Yes. Veteran's compensation for a service injury and Social Security are considered separate.

From A. W. W. of International Falls, Minn.: "I was born in Germany on Jan. 17, 1892, but I have nothing to prove my age except two insurance policies which I bought shortly after coming to the United States in 1920. Will these insurance policies be accepted by Social Security as proof of my age?"

Probably, if you have no proof more conclusive and if no other proof seriously contradicts the information in the insurance policies.

From V. W. of New York City: "My mother has been a widow for nearly 11 years. She's now 68 years old. Should she be drawing Social Security?"

If your father or mother ever worked on a job covered by Social Security, your mother should immediately get in touch with the nearest Social Security office. Perhaps, one of them worked long enough to make your mother eligible for payments. If she isn't eligible, she should visit the nearest welfare department office to find out if she's entitled to Old Age Assistance.

From W. A. P. of San Pedro, Calif.: "A friend of mine tells me that the benefits paid to sick and unemployed railroad workers are not financed by contributions from the wages of workers. Just how are they financed?"

They are financed entirely by payroll contributions levied on railroad employers.

From O. S. of State College, Pa.: "My father died two years ago at 54 after working under Social Security for years. My mother is now 55 and is seriously disabled. She has never worked in a Social Security job. She needs financial help very badly. Could she now collect Social Security?"

No. She will not be eligible until she is 62.

From E. P. B. of St. Petersburg, Fla.: "While out fishing, I dropped my billfold in 30 feet of water and it couldn't be recovered. My Social Security card was in the billfold. How can I replace the card?"

You can get a duplicate from any Social Security office.

From A. E. A. of Iowa City: "I am 56. I worked in a job covered by Social Security from 1937 to 1949. Then, I went to work for the railroad. When I retire will I get Social Security payments along with my railroad pension?"

Yes, if you worked for the railroad for a full 10 years.

No Need for Child to Fear Dentists

ANN ARBOR (INS) — It may be hard to explain to the children, but a University of Michigan dentist says there's no need for a child to be afraid of the dentist.

Dr. Dorothy Hard, director of curriculum in the U. of M. School of Dentistry, contends:

"Going to the dentist can be an experience a child will look forward to, if the first introduction is handled properly.

"It's a good idea to take your child to a dentist close to his third birthday. Chances are remote that any work will be necessary, so the visit presents a good opportunity for your child to become acquainted with the dentist."

Dr. Hard suggests that children should be permitted to examine dental instruments and have it explained "they can be used without harm."

Fast Foot Notes

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — After a year-long study of walking habits, Dr. Willard C. Myser and Dr. James G. Haub of Ohio State University's zoology and entomology department reported to a Ohio Academy of Science meeting here: Males walk faster than females by taking longer strides rather than faster steps; people walk faster when the temperature is lower.

SLIPPERY FELLOW — Taking to the ice about as easily as a duck to water, "Louis," a French poodle skims across the frozen surface in free and easy style. Actually, Louis, appearing in an ice show in Chicago, doesn't skate on the tiny blades at all. He lifts the skates in the air and slides along on his forelegs. Ringsiders are usually so entranced by the pooch's performance that they don't notice the maneuver.

Eagle's Fall Festival to Give Tots 'Make Up'

Little girls attending the Waterford Township Eagle's Ladies Auxiliary Fall Festival, Saturday will have the opportunity of being "made up" in a real beauty salon.

Beginning at 1:30 p.m., the entire afternoon will be devoted to entertainment for the children. Among the attractions are colored movies, a spook house, dart games and popular records for dancing.

A chili supper will be served from 4:30 on, and in the evening the Four Dukes will furnish music for dancing and a talet show.

Disc Captures Sounds of Speedway Race

INDIANAPOLIS — A new phonograph record gives listeners many of the sounds that accompany the annual 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway race.

Sounds of the cars screaming around the curves and roaring down the straightaways are reproduced along with the voices and noise of the pits and the repair crews. Included is an interview by short wave with a driver in the act of gunning his car up to 180 m.p.h.

Hawaii Building Gains

HONOLULU — Construction contracts let in Hawaii in the first six months of this year totaled $60,865,000. That was 13.5 per cent above the corresponding 1956 level, according to revised data from the General Contractors Association of Hawaii.

New Vending Machine

KANSAS CITY — A Kansas City concern is developing a vending machine it says will be able to handle paper money and make change.

Middle East Fighting Would Shake World

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — If war comes in the Middle East it will not be "just another Korea." As bad as Korea was, this one would be worse. There is the gravest danger it would be World War III.

Secretary of State Dulles says a Middle East war is unlikely—in spite of extremely tough talk and massing of troops.

But Dulles also told a news conference yesterday that if Russia attacks Turkey this country would not consider Soviet soil "a privileged sanctuary."

In other words, there will be no repetition of Korea, when American planes were forbidden to strike across the Yalu River at the marshaling points of Red China's strength.

This time bombs might be dropped, missiles aimed at targets in the Soviet Union itself. Nobody needs to ask himself what that might lead to. If it happened, nobody would have time to ask.

At the moment, to sound a hopeful note, there seems little prospect of a direct Soviet attack on Turkey. If Turkey should be attacked, presumably it would be by Syria—with Russian backing, of course, and with the aid of "volunteer" Egyptian troops.

That would be the Korean pattern all over again: Russia inciting others to do the fighting. And, just as in Korea, accusing the West of starting the fight. Only yesterday the Soviets asked the United Nations to stop "ruling circles" in the United States and Turkey from attacking Syria in the next two weeks.

Suppose—getting back to reality — Syrian-Egyptian troops attack Turkey. This country could and undoubtedly would help the Turks —either under the Eisenhower Doctrine or the North Atlantic Treaty. There is a technical difference but it wouldn't matter once the shooting started. We'd be involved.

How deeply involved? That would depend on the Russians. And they've been in a chest-thumping mood since they fired their satellite into the air and told the world they had an intercontinental missile. They have made it plain they mean to move into the Middle East and stay there. The chance that this country could avoid a direct clash with Russia in a Middle East war is slim.

For the Middle East is not Korea—a land of dubious military importance. President Eisenhower has called the Middle East the most important strategic area in the world. In Korea the United Nations fought mainly to uphold a principle—that territorial gain by armed force could not be tolerated. In the Middle East the same principle would be at stake—plus enormous advantages of geography and resources.

This country lost a round in the struggle for the Middle East yesterday. Shaky little Jordan — the country to which the United States flew arms with great fanfare only weeks ago — made known which side it would be on in the event of an "attack": the side of Communist-backed Syria. The problem now is to prevent anybody from attacking anybody. All our other problems may well be submerged in atomic warfare if the attempt fails.

Drowns in Gravel Pit

TECUMSEH (AP) — Harold Millyard, 49, of rural Deerfield, drowned Wednesday after a scaffold gave away while he and two other men were working in a gravel pit owned by the Tecumseh Gravel Co. He fell into 40 feet of water. The other men were rescued.

Pontiac Press Photo

TOUR HOSPITAL — The Women's Auxiliary of Pontiac General Hospital is conducting daily tours this week to acquaint the public with the present crowded conditions of the hospital. Here, a group stands in the hall leading to the emergency room. Note the food trays and refrigerators line the right wall. Tours will be conducted each half hour from 10 to 11:30 a. m.; 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 8:30 p. m.

Goods Still Meager, Shoddy

10-Year Struggle Brings Better Living to Bulgaria

SOFIA (AP)—After 10 years of bitter struggle against collective poverty, living conditions seem to be slowly improving for Bulgarians.

Food is plentiful and cheap, although specific items may be scarce from time to time. This year's harvest was good. People on the streets are not stylishly dressed by Western standards but the clothing is neat.

Diplomats say that the betterment in living conditions has been noticeable since 1953, with a pronounced stepup in the pace after the 20th Party Congress in Moscow. New concessions also were made to the people after the uprising in Hungary last year.

Merchandise in the shops seems to be meager and of shoddy quality, but more and more goods are appearing. Prices are high for manufactured goods. A bicycle sells for about a month's salary for an ordinary worker.

The broad tree-lined streets of Sofia are virtually empty of automobiles. An estimated 8,000 motor vehicles are registered in all Bulgaria and most of these are trucks.

Housing is extremely short and government regulations say each room must be inhabited by two persons. Big blocks of new apartments are being built but construction goes slowly.

Ten years ago Bulgaria was described as the tightest little police state in the Russian orbit. It may no longer be the champion in this league but it is certainly well up in the standings.

About 5,000 persons are reported held in a concentration camp, although the government claims that all political prisons have been closed. Officially, there is no unemployment. Actually, perhaps, 100,000 must eke out a precarious existence on the gifts of friends or relatives.

Houston Monorail Being Built in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A huge monorail car is being built in Miami, but it won't see service here.

The 60-seat, $45,000 vehicle is being built for the Monorail Co. of Houston, Tex., at the Willard Aircraft Corp.

Workers hope to have the car ready for shipment Friday. It may be the first monorail car in the United States to carry passengers on a scheduled basis.

Monorail is a system of high-speed passenger cars suspended from a single rail high above the ground.

Dallas has a monorail system but it does not yet carry passengers. Houston hopes to beat Dallas with the first scheduled car.

U.S. Population Rises 13.7 Pct.; at 171,790,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau today estimated the population of the United States Sept. 1 at about 171,790,000, including the armed forces overseas.

The figure represents a rise of 20,657,000 or 13.7 per cent, since the 1950 census and a gain of 3,053,000, or 1.8 per cent, over the estimated population Sept. 1 last year.

Philip Speaks His Mind as Britons Wince

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

WASHINGTON (INS) — If Prince Philip were permitted to write the speeches for his sovereign spouse, as he long has desired to do, she'd be the hit of lecture circuits from Hogshead to Hackensack.

Instead in her fabulous gowns and her innocuous government-written messages, she's only a beautiful woman saying very little in very big words.

The British prefer it that way.

Philip is a Greek god in most ways, but not in his speech. When he speaks, the words are Greek to nobody.

He is rotarian, thoughtful, amusing, forthright. His messages usually aren't headline material, because the royal censors are infinitely more forbidding than the Hays office. But as much as he can get by with, Philip will get by with.

WRITES HIS OWN

Informed sources tell us that when the British government hands him speeches to mouth, on occasions like those of the royal U.S.-Canada tour, the prince will look them over solemnly. And then, almost always, say amusedly:

"Thank you very much. I think I'll write my own."

The result, even thought it be "edited" by those on guard against frivolity, politics, etc., is always exhilarating at state occasions.

Sometimes, it is said, the prince's sense of humor becomes less sedate than authorities with the blue pencil would like, and small enlivening quips are cut from his copy.

But there is nothing to prevent his remembering them—and forgetting to mention them on an off-cuff basis when speech time arrives.

During a trip to England this spring, I was told by a number of people that, by a long tradition of the democratic British people, one "reveres the royal family" and wants to keep them "above the world of ordinary man."

BRITISH LEERY

Thus, Britishers are "leery" of Philip whenever he arises to speak; he is too interested in science, too concerned with the plight of the poor (which is closely tied in with politics, of course), too frank and open to keep his thoughts to himself when he has the floor.

"So far everything's been all right," one high-stationed gentleman reported, "but someday, everybody tears, the duke will put his foot in it."

What he means was that the prince will show himself to be too much OF the world—rather than above it.

In a speech at Ottawa before a group of men whom he had called to Oxford last summer for a "Duke of Edinburgh study conference on the human problems of industrial communities," Prince Philip used a phrase which—to me, at any rate—gave away what he feels. He said, in referring to British industrialists, that they "were given furiously to think."

It wouldn't be at all proper—but it certainly would be more stimulating—if a prince were allowed furiously to think for a queen.

Sentenced for Rape

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Thomas Clayton, 19, convicted of the rape of a 16-year-old girl, was sentenced Tuesday by Circuit Judge Fred N. Searle to 15 to 30 years in prison. Clayton was one of three youths charged with assaulting the girl last Aug. 10. Alex Jackson, 21, and Walter Lewis, 18, have pleaded innocent and wait trial. All involved are Negroes.

From Section of Stomach Forms Artificial Bladder

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Production of an "artificial bladder" from a section of the stomach has been reported by a Chicago surgeon.

Dr. Edwin S. Sinaiko of Loyola University said the substitute bladder was fashioned to aid a woman whose natural bladder was affected by an inoperable cancer.

He said the operation — in which a pouch of the stomach was cut away and resewn into place as a functioning bladder—might be useful in the case of paraplegic patients where there is a loss of the normal muscular control.

Also, "it may be useful whenever the true bladder must be sacrificed," he said.

The surgeon said the only patient who so far has undergone this operation—a 38-year-old housewife and the mother of six—experienced a good result.

Function of the main part of the stomach was not impaired as a result of these surgeries. The patient experienced no gastro-intestional symptoms. She gained eight pounds in six months. Her digestion was faultless, and restoration of kidney functions took place 24 days after surgery.

At present rates, 90 per cent of skin cancer patients are saved, according to the American Cancer Society. But 95 per cent are now saved when the disease is diagnosed and treated in time.

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign CLIFFORD FARRELL, a discharged employee, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at the stockholders meeting of the California and Texas Global Co. In a mysterious telephone call, a woman, calling herself Rosalind, offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrel has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow her cloak-and-dagger directions. EVA KANE, his secretary, thinks she has heard her voice before. Asking a hotel clerk for a message for GERALD BOSWELL, he obtains a key to an hotel suite for the meeting but instead of finding Rosalind, there's a young woman scantily attired.

(CHAPTERS 3 and 4)

The girl's hair was wrapped in a towel. Her face was a dark blob which Conway soon recognized as a mud pack, which extended down to her throat.

The figure was very well curved and the underthings were so thin as to be no more than filmy wisps of black lace which seemed only to emphasize the warm pink of the smooth skin.

Conway stood stock - still, startled, enraptured by the loveliness of the feminine vision.

Then abruptly she saw him. For a moment, Conway thought she was going to scream. Her mouth opened. The mask of the mud pack kept him from seeing her features. He saw only eyes and the red of a wide-open mouth.

"No listen! Let me explain," Conway said, talking rapidly and moving toward the young woman. "I take it you're not Rosalind?"

The figure answered in a thick voice due to the hard mud pack. "I'm Rosalind's roommate, Mildred. Who are you? How did you get in here?"

IN A STAGE PLAY

Standing there in the hotel suite confronting this young woman, Conway had a sense of complete unreality as though he were engaged in some amateur theatrical, playing a part which he didn't fully understand and confronted by an actress who was trying in an amateurish way to follow directions.

"How did you get in?" she demanded in that same thick voice. Because of the stiff mud pack, she was talking like a sleepwalker.

"Rosalind gave me her key," Conway said. "I was to meet her here. —Now look, Mildred, quit being frightened. I won't hurt you. Go get your clothes on. "I'll wait for Rosalind."

"But why should Rosalind have given you a key?" she asked. "I . . . That isn't at all like Rosalind . . . You can imagine how I feel coming in here half nude and finding a strange man in the apartment. How do I know Rosalind gave you the key? Who are you anyway?"

"I've been in touch with Rosalind," Conway said. "She has some papers for me. I was to pick them up here."

"Papers?" Mildred said. "Papers. Let me see." She walked over to the desk with quick, purposeful steps, and again Conway had the feeling that he was watching an actress playing a part.

SHE HAS A GUN

She pulled back the lid of the desk, put her hand inside, and suddenly Conway heard the unmistakable click of a double-action revolver being cocked. Then he saw the black round hole of a barrel held in a trembling hand, the young woman's nervous finger pressing on the trigger.

"Hey!" Conway said. "Don't point that thing at me, you little fool! That may go off!"

"Put your hands up," she said.

"For heaven's sake," Conway told her, "don't be a fool! You've cocked that revolver and the slightest pressure on the trigger will . . . Put that gun down! I'm not trying to hurt you!"

She advanced toward him, the revolver now pointing at his middle.

"Get your hands up," she said, her voice taking on an edge of hysteria. "You're going to jail!"

The hand which held the revolver was distinctly trembling, her finger rested against the trigger.

Conway waited while she advanced one more step, measured the distance, suddenly clamped his left hand over her wrist, grasped the gun with his right hand.

Her hand was nerveless and he had no difficulty forcing up the barrel of the revolver and, at the same time, pushing his thumb over the cocked hammer of the gun.

Conway wrested the gun from her limp grip, carefully lowered the hammer, shoved the weapon in his pocket.

"You little fool!" he said. "You could have killed me! Don't you understand?"

She moved back to the davenport, seated herself, and stared apparently in abject terror.

Conway stood over her. "Now listen," he said, "get a grip on yourself. I'm not going to hurt you. I'm not here to make any trouble. I'm only trying to get some papers from Rosalind. Can't you understand that?"

'DON'T HURT ME'

"Don't hurt me!" she said. "If you'll promise not to kill me, I'll do anything. . . Don't hurt me! My purse is in the desk. Everything I have is in it. Take it all. Only please don't . . . Don't . . !"

"Shut up!" Conway snapped. "I've tried to explain to you! Can't you listen?"

"Just don't kill me!" she pleaded. "I'll do anything you say if you just won't kill me."

Conway abruptly reached a decision.

"I'm leaving," he said. "Don't go near that telephone for five minutes after I leave. Don't tell anyone that I was here, no one except Rosalind. Do you understand that?"

She simply sat there, her face a wooden mask.

Conway strode to the door, jerked it open, slammed it shut, sprinted down the corridor to the red light which marked the stairwell. He pushed open the door, ran down two flights of stairs to the fifth floor, then hurried over to the elevator and pressed the button.

HIS HEART POUNDS

It seemed an age before the elevator came up, then the door slid open and Conway stepped inside, conscious of his rapid breathing, his pounding heart.

The girl who was operating the elevator shifted her gum to the other side of her face. She held her book in her right hand. Her left hand manipulated the control which dropped the elevator to the ground floor. She didn't even look at his face, but said, "You must have walked down two floors."

Conway, mentally cursing his clumsiness, said nothing. The elevator girl kept her eyes lowered, raising them only for one swift glance.

Conway didn't dare to leave the key to Room 729 on the clerk's desk. Walking when he wanted to run, the revolver in his hip pocket, Conway moved rapidly across the lobby, out of the door of the hotel and then hurried down the street to the place where he had parked his car.

He jumped inside, started the motor and adjusted himself behind the steering wheel. He became increasingly conscious of the bulge in his hip pocket.

He withdrew the thirty-eight caliber revolver, started to put it in the glove compartment, then just as a matter of precaution, swung open the cylinder.

ONE WAS EMPTY

There were five loaded cartridges in the cylinder, and one empty cartridge case bearing the imprint of the firing pin in the soft percussion cap.

Conway snapped the cylinder back into place, smelled the muzzle of the gun.

The odor of freshly burnt powder clung to the barrel.

In a sudden panic, Conway pushed the gun into the glove compartment, started the car, and drove away from the curb fast.

When he came to a service station where there was a telephone booth, he parked the car and looked up the number of Perry Mason, Attorney at Law.

The directory gave the number of Mason's office. There was no residence phone, but a night number was listed.

Conway called the night number.

A voice came on the line and said, "This is a recorded message. If you are calling the office of Mr. Perry Mason on a matter of major importance, you may call at the office of the Drake Detective Agency, state your name, address, and business, and Mr. Mason will be contacted at the earliest possible moment."

MASON GETS A CALL

The unlisted telephone in Perry Mason's apartment jangled into noise.

Only two persons in the world had that number. One was Della Street, Perry Mason's confidential secretary. The other was Paul Drake, head of the Drake Detective Agency.

Mason, who had been on the point of going out, picked up the receiver.

Paul Drake's voice came over the wire. "Perry! I have a problem that you may want to work on."

"What is it?"

"Have you followed the fight for proxies in the California & Texas Golbal Development & Exploration Company?"

"I know there is a fight on," Mason said. "I've seen ads in the paper for the last week."

"Jerry Conway, president of the company, is here in my office. He's pretty well worked up. He thinks he's been framed."

"What kind of frame?" Mason asked. "Some sort of badger game, attempted bribery, or . . .?"

"He doesn't know," Drake said, "but he has a revolver in his possession and the weapon has been freshly fired. He's got a story that's sufficiently out of the ordinary so you should be interested and he has money enough to pay any fee within reason. He wants action!"

"A revolver!" Mason said.

"That's right."

"How did he get it?"

"He says he took it away from a woman."

"Where?"

"In a hotel room."

"Did he take her there?"

"He says not. He says he had a key to the room and she came in and pulled this gun on him, that she had nervous trigger finger, and he took the gun away from her. It wasn't until after he had left the place that he noticed the gun had been freshly fired and now he's afraid he's being put on the spot."

"That's a hell of a story!" Mason said.

"That's the way it impresses me," Drake told him. "The point is that if the guy is going to be picked up and he's relying on a story as phony as that, somebody should instruct him to at least tell a lie that will sound plausible."

A THOUSAND DOLLARS

Mason said, "They have to think up their own lies, Paul."

"I know," Paul retorted, "but you could point out where this one is full of holes."

"Can he hear this conversation?"

"No."

"Ask him if it's worth a thousand dollars for a retainer," Mason said. "If it is, I'll come up."

"Hold the phone," Drake said.

A moment later Drake's voice came back on the wire. "Hello Perry?"

"Uh-huh," Mason said.

"Conway says it's worth two thousand. He's scared stiff. He thinks he's led with his chin."

"Okay," Mason said. "Tell him to make out his check for a thousand bucks. Get a couple of good men to stand by in case I need them. I'm on my way up."

Mason switched out the lights in his apartment, and drove to Paul Drake's office.

Jerry Conway jumped up as Mason entered the room.

"I have a feeling that I've walke into a trap, Mr. Mason," he said. "I don't know how bad it is. But, well, there's a lot of money involved in this proxy fight, and the people on the other side are willing to do anything.—They'll stop at nothing!"

Drake slid a check across the desk to Perry Mason "I had Conway make out his check for the retainer," he said.

"Got a couple of men lined up?" Mason asked.

Drake nodded.

ason picked a straight-backed chair, spun it around so that the back was facing the center of the room. He straddled the chair, propped his elbows on the back of the chair and said to Conway, "All right, start talking."

"There isn't much time," Conway said nervously. "Whatever has happened is . . . "

"There's no use running around blind," Mason said. "You're going to have to take time to tell me the story. Tell it to me fast. Begin at the beginning."

Conway said, "It started with a telephone call."

"Who from?" Mason asked.

"A young woman who gave the name of Rosalind."

"Have you seen her?"

"I don't think so. I don't know."

"Why don't you know?"

"I saw a young woman tonight who said she was Rosalind's roommate. I . . . I'm afraid . . "

"Go on," Mason interrupted "Get it over with! Don't try to make it easy on yourself. Give me the details."

TELLS HIS STORY

Conway told his story. Mason leaned forward, his arms folded across the back of the chair, his chin resting on his wrists, his eyes narrow-lidded with concentration. He asked no questions, took no notes, simply listened with expressionless concentration.

When Conway had finished, Mason said, "Where's the gun?"

Conway took it from his pocket. Mason didn't touch the gun.

"Open the cylinder," he said.

"Turn it so the light shines on it."

Conway turned the weapon.

"Take out that empty shell," Mason said.

Conway extracted the shell.

Mason leaned forward to smell the barrel and smell the shell. "All right," he said, still keeping his hands off the gun. "Put it back. Put the gun in your pocket. Where's the key to the room in the hotel?"

"I have it here."

"Pass it over."

Conway handed the key to Perry Mason who inspected it for a moment, then dropped it in his pocket.

Mason turned to Paul Drake. "I'll want you with me, Paul."

"What about me?" Conway asked.

"You stay here."

"What do I do with the gun?"

"Nothing!"

"Shouldn't I notify the police?"

"Not yet."

"Why?"

"Because we don't know what we're up against yet. What about that woman in the room?"

"What about her?"

Bally Good Show on London TV —Eh, What!

LONDON (AP)—Three dusky girls, nude from the waist up, danced before British television viewers last night.

One girl sat on the floor in front of the TV cameras and stayed there several minutes writhing and wriggling for a closeup shot.

The show was on commercial television, and the dancers were from the African Ballet currently appearing in London.

"We decided to let them dance exactly as they do normally," said a TV official.

"We have had only two calls from viewers. One was disgusted and the other thought it was all very nice."

The nation's lord chamberlain, who censors stage shows, said: "Ballet is not entertainment of the stage within Section 23 of the Theater Act."

Under Section 23 he can ban plays, or sequences from them.

Gov. Faubus Called 'Small Time Dem'

HOWELL (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas was described by Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) as a "small time Democratic politician who puts his hopes for another term in office above his respect for the law."

Sallade told a Lions Club audience here yesterday that "it will take a long time to remove the after-effects of the scar afflicted on our moral leadership" by Gov. Faubus.

Sallade has been mentioned as possible GOP candidate for governor in the next election.

The legislator told the service club that "The civil rights dispute in Arkansas and scientific advancements of the Soviet Union have exacted a heavy toll on our prestige throughout the world.

"Sputnik has dealt a lasting blow to the advocates of smaller defense and federal aid budgets. We cannot compete with the leaders of the Kremlin without the men and tools to do the job."

Businessmen Seek Solution

Leaders at Little Rock Pledged to Law, Order Take Hand in Impasse

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A Little Rock business man who took part in a closed meeting with Gov. Orval Faubus will deliver a report today that might cause a jar in the integration deadlock here.

Walter C. Guy, member of a committee of 24 business leaders pledged to uphold law and order in the crisis, said the report to the committee this afternoon "May have national impact."

"I think there is hope of resolving the problem without either political segment retreating," Guy said yesterday.

By political segments, he explained, he meant Faubus and President Eisenhower.

Guy would not say what was in the report. However, he said he probably either would make a statement or release the entire report after the committee meets behind closed doors.

Guy, a printing company executive, is chairman of a six-man businessman's subcommittee that met with Faubus Tuesday. The governor has refused any comment about the meeting other than to say that the discussion stayed in the exploratory stage. Neither Guy nor other subcommittee members revealed what took place.

The only report about what happened came from the Arkansas Democrat, which said yesterday it learned that Faubus told the businessmen the White House would have to change its attitude before there could be any basis for mediation.

Seven of the nine Negro children at the storm center of the integration dispute attended Central High yesterday without incident. The two others have been ill with influenza.

Plans Industrial Area

DETROIT (AP) — Acting Mayor Louis Miriani announced plans to develop a 300-aire area in the city's west side for future industrial use. The land is located in the Milwaukee - Junction region. The Common Council approved the initial clearing of 15 acres at a cost of one million dollars.

R. D. Heitsch Jr., Named Manager at Rock Island, Ill.

A past Pontiac resident, Robert D. Heitsch Jr., 44, has been named to the $11,500 a year position as city manager of Rock Island, Ill., it was announced late yesterday.

Heitsch graduated from Pontiac High School in 1929 and then went to the University of Michigan where he graduated with a degree in Engineering. He later enrolled in graduate classes in Political Science.

Heitsch, who is married to the former Josephine Davidson, of 18 Lorraine Ct., was city manager of Mt. Clemens until leaving to work with the Public Administration Service in Des Moines, Ia. just last month. He had been manager of Mt. Clemens since 1954.

Other cities where he was manager are Wayne and Davison, and Farmington, Conn., where he served as manager for seven years before coming to Mt. Clemens.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Heitsch, live at 337 W. Iroquois Rd.

Opposes Revealing CAB Personal Files

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Durfee, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, said today the personal files of board members should not be divulged to Congress.

He said that "once a congressional committee has, by compulsion, probed the personal thought processes of the members of an 'independent' agency, independence of judgment is destroyed forever."

"Once this independence is gone, the integrity of judgment is lost forever," Durfee added in testimony prepared for a special House Committee on Legislative Oversight.

The CAB chief was summoned before the House group which was appointed to determine whether regulatory agencies are carrying out the intent of Congress.

Rep. Moulder (D-Mo), committee chairman, has said the CAB has refused to allow access to pertinent files and records.

Gets CAA Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration has announced the award of an $876,934 contract to the Warner and Swasey Co. of Lansing, Mich., for 163 engine generators.

German-Yugoslav Relations on Edge

BONN (INS) — A West German government spokesman said today Chancellor Konrad Adenauer would decide Friday whether to break diplomatic relations with Communist Yugoslavia.

The Adenauer cabinet met today to discuss Bonn's reply to President Tito's decision to extend diplomatic recognition to the puppet East German Red government.

Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano, it was understood, urged the cabinet to take strong measures against Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslav embassy in Bonn issued a statement this morning which said Belgrade would regret a break in relations because "the future will show this would least serve the cause of German reunification."

Editorial Raps 'Velvet Curtain'

British Still Argue Over How Queen Should Work

LONDON (AP) — The controversy over how Queen Elizabeth II should do her job continued today with an editorial calling for removal of the "velvet curtain between the Queen and her people" and another asserting most Britons want her to stay the way she is.

The pro-Labor Daily Mirror, which claims a circulation of 4½ million, said the 31-year-old monarch is the victim of her own court circle—"professional courtiers, flunkeys, advisers, hangers-on, the relics who still see Queen Victoria's ghost walking in the palace corridors."

"The truth is that reform of the court is overdue," it said. "There is still far too great a gulf between the royal family and the people."

"Why," the paper continued, "should the Queen have to wait until her Canadian trip before she can emerge as a polished, assured TV star? (Elizabeth made her first live television appearance—an informal speech to the Canadian people—during her visit to Ottawa.)

"Why can the Queen be televised opening Parliament in Canada but not—yet—opening Parliament in London?

"Why, in Paris, could the Queen, smiling and unflustered, spend 15 utterly informal minutes literally mobbed by thousands of guests at a reception?

"Don't blame the Queen. She is young and human—human enough to kick off her shoes when her feet hurt.

"Don't blame the Duke of Edinburgh. He is human enough — and why not? — to tell press photographers to go to hell when he feels like it.

"Why can't this humanity get through to the people more than it does now?"

The Conservative tabloid Daily Sketch, on the other hand, insisted that most Britons want the royal family to conduct itself in accordance with tradition.

"The wish of the everyday ordinary people is that the Queen should stay exactly the way she is," insisted the Sketch.

"They like the queen they have got. They don't want a custom-made Queen, made to the measure of her critics."

The fuss over royalty started with a critical outburst by Lord Altrincham, 33-year-old peer, John and leader of Britain's "angry young men" intellectual clique, and Malcolm Muggeridge, former editor of the magazine Punch, followed up with jibes at British royalty or the way it was operating.

Hansen's Disease Appears in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — A case of Hansen's Disease, extremely rare in Michigan, has turned up in Lansing.

Dr. Arthur W. Newatt, Lansing-Ingham County health director, said diagnosis was confirmed Tuesday and that the patient, an adult, has been placed in proper isolation.

"There is no evidence that the case was contracted in the United States," Dr. Newatt said.

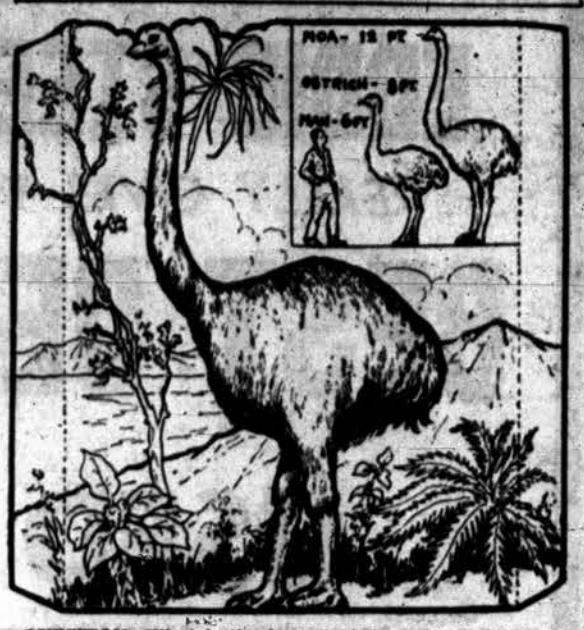

He said chances the patient might have infected anybody else were "extremely remote."

The state health department said cases of Hansen's Disease, or leprosy, in recent years almost always have been brought back from tropical areas by returning servicemen, the last one about two years ago by a GI who served in Korea.

Leprosy is NOT highly infectious: to communicate it from one person to another requires prolonged, intimate contact.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: What is the largest bird ever seen by man?

ANSWER: The largest bird ever seen by man is seen no more. It was the moa, which roamed New Zealand some four or five hundred years ago. There were about 20 species of moa, ranging in size from that of a turkey to some 12 feet high. The moa's wings were so stunted as to be almost completely useless. It built a grass nest on the ground and, because of its size and inability to fly, fell easy prey to man. The early New Zealand natives probably ate moas and used the feathers for costumes. By the time white men got there, they were all gone.

FOR YOU TO DO: This picture shows the moa compared in size with the ostrich, the largest present day bird. You can mount the picture on cardboard, color it with your crayons and save in your scrapbook with others on birds. To see how tall the moa stood, measure the 12-foot mark on a tree with a tape measure.

Drug Earnings Soar

DETROIT (AP) — Parke Davis reports record net earnings for the first nine months of 1957 of $17,211,991, equal to $3.50 a share. This compared with net earnings of $12,209,545, or $2.49 a share, for last year's like period.

Ionia Budget OKed

IONIA (AP) — County supervisors Tuesday approved a 1958 budget of $418,695 — nearly $72,000 more than the 1957 budget figure.

Moralist Wins Nobel Award

Albert Camus Receives 1957 Literature Prize Worth $42,000

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Albert Camus a French moralist and one of the sharpest contemporary critics of totalitarianism of all kinds, today won the 1957 Nobel Prize for Literature.

The 43-year-old author of "The Plague" and "The Fall" was cited for "his important literary production which with clear-sighted earnestness illuminates the problems of the human conscience in our times."

Camus was the second youngest author selected by the Royal Swedish Academy of Literature for the international prize. British author Rudyard Kipling was 41 when he was tapped in 1907.

On Monday a committee of the Norwegian Parliament chose Lester B. Pearson, former Canadian foreign secretary, for the 1957 Nobel Peace Prize. The prize in medicine will be announced next Thursday and the physics and chemistry awards a week later.

Camus will receive more than $42,000, the largest amount ever given a Nobel literature winner. Size of the awards depends on the income from the fund established by Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite, who died in 1896.

In a radio talk today on Camus and his works, Dr. Anders Oesterling of the Swedish Academy said the French writer illustrates an idealistic aim in describing life around him and above all accents the positive by showing an energetic demand for revolt against futility.

This is the kind of knocking on doors, Oesterling said, that represents the very basis of the Nobel award.

While Teachers Brush Up on New Methods

County School Children Out for 2 Days

Students in the Oakland County public schools will have a chance to either vacation or rest up from flu circulating in the county today and tomorrow while their teachers brush up on new and improved teaching methods.

The schools will be closed to permit educators to attend the annual inservice regional conference of the Michigan Education Association.

MEET IN SCHOOLS

Today, groups will meet throughout various county schools and be divided on an academic curriculum basis. Tomorrow, all teachers will convene in Detroit to attend general session at the Masonic Temple auditorium.

Pontiac educators who will be chairmen of group meetings today are: Clifford Wilcox, Pontiac High School, biology and science; Leo Kawiecki, Madison Junior High, business education; Angela J. Calvert, Pontiac public school secretary; Arthur Bell, elementary social studies, administrative assistant at Wever school.

Others include: Gertrude Overton, high school English; Wilma Muldowney, of Webster school, kindergarten; Donald Porritt, of Madison Junior High, professional problems; Thomas Shara, of Madison Junior High, speech and drama; and George Woodworth, of Whitfield elementary, vocal music.

Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education, is chairman of a curriculum trends meeting; Mona Madden, of Hawthorne elementary will read the elementary artithmetic session.

Speaker for the Friday morning meetings in Detroit are A. J. Brendel, president of the M.E.A. who will discuss "Our M.E.A.—Today and Tomorrow." J. L. Buford, superintendent of schools, Mt. Vernon, Ill., will also speak on "Let's Go Positive."

Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, will be featured in the afternoon session when he discusses "Teaching—A Challenge." William Clyde Donald II, psychologist, chaplain at Deaconess Hospital and pastor of Bethel Church in Milwaukee, Wisc., will also talk on "God Grant Us a Sense of Humor."

Brazil will tax foreign freight to raise funds for a bigger merchant marine.

Students Trade Gunfire During Band Practice

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UP) — A 15-year-old Negro high school student is in jail and two other students are hospitalized as the result of a gun battle during a band practice.

County Solicitor Emerson Allsworth said Willie Lee Johnson, 15, and Robert Slater, 16, began arguing yesterday during the practice at the Negro high school and that Johnson shot Slater in the shoulder with a .32-caliber revolver.

Slater returned the fire but missed Johnson. A girl student, Almetia Hayes, 13, was hit by ricocheting bullets and was reported in fair condition with stomach and thigh wounds. Slater also is in fair condition.

Charges have not been filed against Johnson.

Allsworth said the two boys had a dispute at a dance Tuesday night.

No Wedding Showers for Miss Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Miss Wisconsin has issued a forecast for herself: There'll be wedding showers, but not until her reign is over

Miss Joan Hentschel, 18-year-old Wauwatosa beauty, said she will wed William Luebke, 20-year-old University of Wisconsin junior, but not until her year's tour as Miss Wisconsin ends.

She said that changing her Miss to a Mrs. too soon after her election might embarrass the state.

Chick Outquacks Field

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (UP)—Chick Major of Stuttgart, Ark., outquacked the field yesterday to win the Gulf Coast Duck Calling Contest. Albert Sheppard of Groves, Tex., was second and former international and Louisiana titlist Paul D. Faalk of Lake Charles, La., was third.

Hammerstein Eyes Filming

'South Pacific' Remains Faithful to Original Play

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The tall, mature man in the crew cut was watching the filming of a "South Pacific" scene more intently than the usual visitor. And no wonder—it was Oscar Hammerstein II.

The scene was a dramatic one in which Emile Debeque (Rossano Brazzi) turns down a proposal to spy on the Japanese with Lt. Joe Cable (John Kerr). Between takes of the long scene, director Josh Logan came over to confer with Hammerstein.

Hammerstein wrote the play with Logan and penned the lyrics to accompany Richard Rodgers' songs. He naturally has a proprietary interest in the movie.

The scene I watched was remarkably faithful to the original, which I had recently seen on the stage with Mary Martin in her original role.

"Yes, we haven't changed the story much, except to fit it into the cenematic medium. There are some obvious things which you can do with movies but not on the stage," Hammerstein said.

"It's pretty much the same thing we have done with the other three films that have been made from our musicals. When the studios put out a lot of money for a property, they generally use it."

Of the three R&H musicals filmed so far, Hammerstein said he thought "Oklahoma!" and "The King and I" were well done. He had some reservations about "Carousel."

What about the other three R&H musicals?

"There have been no offers that I know of for them," he said. "I have an idea that some day I may re-work 'Allegro.' I don't expect to do anything more with 'Me and Juliet' and 'Pipe Dream' Why? I hate them."

There is happy news in the fact that the famed team is getting busy on a new musical. It will be based on a book about San Francisco's Chinatown by C. Y. Lee, "The Flower Drum Song." Hammerstein said he will write the script with Joseph Fields. He added that Rodgers is recovered enough from his recent illness to start work on the music.

Eating Pepper Kills 10-Month-Old Baby

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Ten-month-old Dave Fulford died yesterday after eating black pepper.

Police said the child was being dried on a kitchen table after a bath and, when left for a moment by a woman taking care of him, reached for the pepper shaker and swallowed a large quantity.

The mother, Mrs. Dorothy Fulford, was at work at the time.

No False Fire Alarms —in Fact, No Alarms

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — So many false alarms were sounded from the first floor of the Tolman High School when it was built 30 years ago that the fire alarm boxes were disconnected.

Principal James P. McGeough told the school committee this week the boxes haven't been connected since then. He added, however, that an alarm box is in working order just outside.

San Francisco Police Add Chinese Officer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco, which boasts the largest Chinatown in the world outside of China, has its first Chinese policeman in the 101 years of its police department. Herbert P. Lee, 24, was sworn in yesterday.

Police said few Chinese ever had applied for the jobs, largely perhaps because the minimum height requirement is 5 feet 9.

They Spend Most

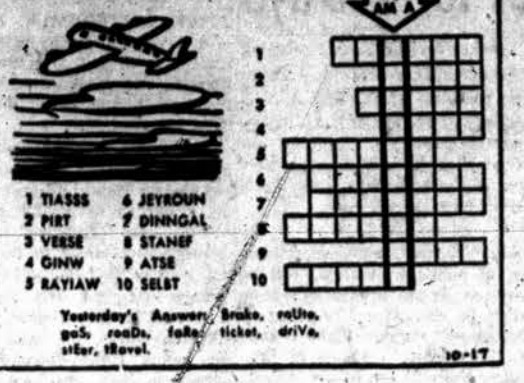

MIAMI — According to Sales Management Magazine, more money is spent in retail buying by the average Greater Miami resident than the average consumer in any other market in the nation. And the area's retail dollar volume now tops 43 other large United States markets.

Train Halts Grid Contest

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Booker T. Washington-Waco Moore High School football game was called on account of darkness last night. A train passing by Cobb Stadium somehow snagged a wire leading to the power transformer and plunged the stadium into darkness. Washington was leading 43-0.

Brando's Wife Insists She's Native of India

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marlon Brando's dark and beautiful new wife sticks to her story that she is a full-blooded native of India.

Brown-eyed Anna Kashfi returned from a four-day honeymoon with Brando yesterday and promptly denied reports that she is the non-Indian daughter of a Welsh factory worker.

In Cardiff, Wales, William Patrick O'Callaghan has claimed the 23-year-old actress is his daughter Joan, born in India while he was working there as a railroad man.

In a statement issued through a movie studio spokesman, Mrs. Brando said she was born to Indian parents, but that her mother later married O'Callaghan.

She said she used Joanna O'Callaghan as her legal name, which appears on U.S. immigration records.

The statement read:

"I was born in Calcutta to my Indian parents, Devi Kashfi, a civil engineer and architect, and Selma Ghose, on Sept. 30, 1934. We moved to Darjeeling shortly thereafter. I attended St. Helena's convent in Kursoung, India, until I was 17.

"When I was 16 my mother remarried William Patrick O'Callaghan. I acquired their name and used it as my legal name on my first trip to England in 1952. . . .

"Two years ago I came to this country as a nonimmigrant visitor on a petition by Loew's, Inc. On this petition as on my marriage license my parents are listed as Devi Kashfi and Selma Ghose, both Indian.

"I was advised of my father's death during the last Labor Day weekend. I reiterate, my mother, now married to O'Callaghan, and a British citizen, is an Indian."

Traffic Charges Bring Fine to Driver (Rider)

DUMONT, N.J. (AP)—A used car salesman, Robert Gill, 29, pleaded innocent last night to a singular group of traffic violations two weeks ago.

Hitching a horse to a public utility pole, having the horse on the sidewalk, and careless driving — that is, riding the horse against traffic.

Magistrate Felix M. Angelillis found Gill guilty and fined him $35.

Angelillis noted that Gill also could have been fined for not having a tail light.

School Bans 'Chicken' at Sponsored Dances

HASLETT, Mich. (AP) — There'll be no more dancing of the "chicken" at teacher-sponsored dances in Haslett schools.

There's been no outright ban on the controversial dance step, but teachers have unofficially agreed to avoid supervision of dances where it's allowed.

"It's simply too suggestive," said one school official.

Popular with the teen-age set in recent years, the "chicken" is characterized by lots of wiggling and squirming.

Hollywood's Counterspy Sued for Maintenance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of Boris Morros, Hollywood's FBI counterspy, has filed suit for separate maintenance.

Mrs. Catherine Morros charged cruelty in the suit filed yesterday in Superior Court. She said Morros, movie producer and composer, failed in recent years to provide support for his own father.

Before the House Un-American Activities Committee last August, Morros disclosed that he had acted as a counterspy for the FBI for 12 years.

In the Mood for Love?

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — These thieves could be in the mood for love. After smashing a jewelry store window, they fled with wedding and engagement rings valued at $8,000 but left other gems.

WHY DO YOU READ THE NEWSPAPER?

COPYRIGHT 1957, BUREAU OF ADVERTISING OF THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

*"I sit down with the paper every day to read it and look for ads on things I need..."

Morning, noon or night, any day of the week, in the house or out, the newspaper remains to be read—and shopped—at the reader's convenience. Some folks like to read their newspapers before bed. Others relish them with their breakfast.

This is one of the great pluses for an advertiser—as so many advertisers well know. An ad is read by newspaper readers when the readers feel like it. There is no intrusion upon the readers' time and thus no resentment by prospective customers.

The convenience appeal of daily newspapers is one reason why people pay over $3,000,000 a day for the privilege of reading and shopping from more than 57,000,000 newspapers daily. People like to ponder over a potential purchase . . . and the best place to ponder is in the newspaper.

Whatever you sell, wherever you sell it—nationally, regionally or locally—you'll get more help selling it through the newspaper . . . where people find time to listen to your story.

Small Oasis of Civilization Prospers in North America's Deepest Gorge

OASIS OF CIVILIZATION — In North America's deepest gorge, the Brownlee-Oxbow trailer town spreads out on a terraced hillside at the upper end of Hells Canyon, Idaho.

BROWNLEE, Idaho (NEA) — Construction of the Brownlee and Oxbow hyro-electric project on the Snake River has brought an oasis of civilization into the wild and remote upper end of the deepest gorge on the North American continent — Hells Canyon.

The projects have brought more than 1,400 construction workers into this primitive country and most of them live with their families at the scene of their jobs.

DORM ROOMS

Some of the workers live in dormitory rooms. Others live in the permanent villages which will house the operating forces for Brownlee and Oxbow dams. But most of them make their homes in trailers, established in communities set up along the river, sufficiently removed to avoid the dust and din of the day and night construction work being pushed to meet Idaho Power Company's 1958 power-on-the-line deadline.

Today there are two trailer communities near Brownlee. A third is being prepared at Oxbow, downstream from Brownlee. The biggest of these mobile home communities is the Brownlee-Oxbow trailer town.

Space is at a premium in the canyon and Morrison-Knudsen Co., which is building the dams for Idaho Power, had to cut into the slopes at the base of the mountains to provide a site for the Brownlee-Oxbow trailer community.

The trailer town is arranged on a terraced tract, where 248 of the mobile homes are installed in an area overlooking the river. This community alone boasts a population of better than a thousand men, women and children.

The trailers are arranged along terraced streets and each is installed on a plot of ground with a 50-foot front.

Brownlee-Oxbow trailer town has its own post office, presided over by Mrs. Elmo Farrar. Ernie Horn trucks the mail in and out of the canyon.

A Brownlee-Oxbow family can do most of its shopping right at home because the community has a supermarket.

A two-man barber shop adjacent to the supermarket caters to a steady stream of customers and down the block is a service station and garage.

The trailer home owners rent their space in trailer town for $6 a week. The rental includes water, sewage disposal facilities, unlimited use of electric power and television programs. The TV is provided through translator stations set up on the mountain tops to pick up broadcasts from Boise.

Most of the trailer homes are equipped with air conditioning units. Although they know their residence will be temporary, the trailer families have planted grass, flower and vegetable gardens and trees and fenced in their yards.

There is a school and playground in the community. Law and order are maintained through a five-member governing committee, whose chairman, John Wardle, is mayor. However, there have been few law- enforcement problems. Most of the enforcement emphasis is on a five-mile-per-hour speed limit on automobiles in the town's streets.

There are no police officers as such, but the town committee has designated various residents to report infractions of the speed law. Conviction on two speed violations, whether by the construction worker himself or by members of his family, makes him liable to discharge from the project.

Trailer-town school has a PTA, which, among other activities shows feature-length movies at Brownlee on Friday and at Oxbow on Saturday. It also has a Boy Scout organization, Brownlee-Oxbow troop 132 of the Eagle District, Blue Mountain Council. Three different church services are held in the school — Catholic, Protestant and Latter-Day Saints.

Occasionally dances are held and the music is furnished by a small orchestra formed among residents of the town. The canyon provides ample opportunity for sports, plus hunting and fishing.

With so much to keep the young ones occupied, trailer town has no juvenile delinquency problems.

Says Bert Lenker, principal of grade schools in the Halfway district which embraces Brownlee and Oxbow:

"Canyon kids are okay."

Ancient Carthaginians called the Iberian Peninsula "I-shephan," meaning "the land of the rabbits." The name was corrupted by the Romans into "Hispania."

Corrosion Tops Fire in Property Damage

WASHINGTON—According to the Building Research Institute, fire loss is not the main threat to the nation's property owners. Loss from corrosion of metals runs more than six times greater, it says.

Annual property losses due to fires amount to roughly $885 million, the Institute says, compared with an annual loss of 5½ billion due to corrosion of metals, as estimated by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Laboratory.

As for damage by termites, their annual damage is figured at from 150 to 200 million dollars by the Unted States Forest Products Laboratory.

Pineapple and Sausage Fill Acorn Squash

Here's acorn squash in a new guise; the small golden favorites are filled with a surprise mixture of crushed pineapple and crumbled, cooked sausage. Halve three squash crosswise; remove seeds, salt. Turn upside down in shallow pan. Add water to a depth of ¼ inch. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) for 45 minutes or until tender.

Combine 1½ cups of drained, crushed pineapple and ¾ cup of crumbled, cooked sausage. Fill squash halves. Return to moderate oven (375 degrees) and bake for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Drain canned whole-kernel corn and mix with chopped onion, green and red pepper, celery and cucumber. Add salt and pepper to taste along with vinegar and sugar. Chill and serve with hamburgers.

Cheer Leader Casserole

Cranberry Dot Pancakes Win Honors at Festival

This year the 10th anniversary of the Cranberry Festival was held traditionally in Carver, Massachusetts at Ocean Spray Cranberryland on September 21st and 22nd. A special cranberry recipe contest was held at the festival for restaurants in the cranberry growing areas.

Special honors were given to the Hobshole Restaurant in Plymouth, Massachusetts for a Cranberry Pancake recipe. These luscious red-dotted pancakes are wonderful for breakfast with maple syrup or sugar. The Hobshole also serves them as tiny pancakes folded over to make a pretty garnish for a platter of turkey or fried chicken.

Cranberry Pancakes are easy to make in the home and now that it's fresh cranberry time a bright and different breakfast will delight the family. Remember that fresh cranberries freeze well. Place the one pound cellophane bags or window boxes in the freezer just as they come from the market. Frozen cranberries keep well for 12 months and can be substituted for fresh cranberries.

Cranberry Pancakes

1¾ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 cup milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Fresh cranberries

Sift together flour, salt, sugar and baking powder. In pitcher or bowl beat milk and eggs together. Quickly combine dry ingredients with liquid. Stir in melted butter. Mix thoroughly. Pour or spoon batter on preheated griddle.

Sprinkle 10 to 12 fresh cranberries (either whole or halved) on each batter round. Cook until puffed and full of bubbles. Turn and cook till golden brown. Serve with butter and sugar or butter and maple syrup.

If pancakes are served for dessert, add 1 teaspoon grated orange rind to the batter for a new flavor.

Here is a recipe for a festive sauce to serve on plain pancakes . . . makes breakfast, lunch or supper wonderful eating.

Cranberry Festival Maple Sauce

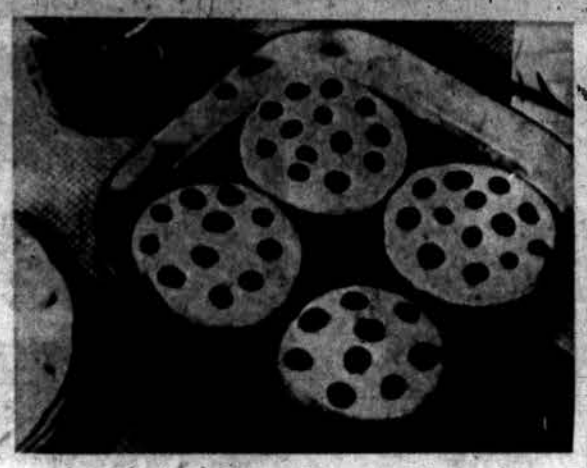

2 cups maple syrup
2 cups (½ lb.) fresh cranberries
¼ cup butter

Combine syrup and cranberries in saucepan. Bring to a boil and simmer slowly until berries pop open (about 5 minutes). Stir in butter and serve over pancakes while hot.

Dress Up That Cold Meat

That leftover sliced meat for Sunday-night supper will look attractive if you serve it on a platter surrounded with cauliflowerets, peas, carrots, and green beans. The meat may be heated in a little natural gravy; the vegetables should be cooked separately (or some of them can be canned). Or meat and cooked vegetables may be cold; in that case serve tartar sauce with them.

You probably know how delicious basil is in tomato dishes; try it sometimes with veal.

CRANBERRY PANCAKES — Serve these delightful pancakes for breakfast, lunch or supper. This is a new and different recipe from the Hobshole Restaurant in Plymouth, Massachusetts and was awarded a prize at the 1957 Cranberry Festival Restaurant Contest.

Two Fruit Juices Blend in Fizzy Drink

For a party drink, here is one easily made which combines fruit juices and pale dry ginger ale. The recipe serves four, but can be doubled or trebled without trouble.

Halloween Glow

1 can (6 oz.) concentrated quick-frozen tangerine juice
¾ cup canned cranberry juice cocktail
1 24-oz. bottle ginger ale

Combine tangerine and cranberry juices. Divide among four tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

It's a Draw, Folks!

A discussion of the relative merits of whole wheat flours has been settled once and for all by the American Dietetic Association. Its findings prove conclusively that commercially milled whole wheat flour is equal in food value to home-ground flour. By the way, yeast-raised bread labeled whole wheat may contain whole wheat flour, only.

String shelled raw shrimp on skewers, alternating them with squares of bacon and pineapple chunks. Brush shrimp and pineapple with melted butter or margarine and grill over charcoal outside or broil indoors.

Fish Is Surprise in Beet Salad

This salad is a little different, and delicious too.

Beet And Anchovy Salad

1 hard-cooked egg
1 can (6 ounces) sliced beets
1 cup thin celery crescents
4 to 8 drained anchovy fillets (cut fine)
French dressing
Salt, pepper
Romaine or other salad greens

Cut the white of the hard-cooked egg into fine strips and put in a medium-sized mixing bowl; reserve hard-cooked egg yolk. Drain beets and cut into fine strips; add to egg white with celery and anchovy. Mix with enough French dressing to give good flavor and salt and pepper to taste. Chill and surround with salad greens.

Press reserved hard-cooked egg yolk through a fine small strainer over beet mixture for a pretty garnish. Makes 4 small servings. Note: Juice from canned beets may be utilized in a meat broth.

How to Disguise Pudding

Make up a package of vanilla pudding, using 1½ cups milk. Cool it and add 1½ teaspoons fresh lemon juice, 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract and two cans pureed apricots 4¾ ounce each. (use other pureed fruits, too.) Fold in ½ cup heavy cream, whipped and serve as is, or freeze in an ice cube tray till firm. Makes enough for 6 servings.

You can grill pork chops over charcoal outdoors but you must make absolutely sure that they are thoroughly cooked. Allow at least 45 minutes for chops that are about on inch thick.

Ways to Vary Favorite Pie Are Suggested

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS) — Colorado State University home economists offer many tasty variations of that great American favorite — apple pie. For instance:

— Butterscotch apple pie: use your own favorite recipe, but substitute brown sugar for white and dot the apple slices with butter before putting on the crust.

— Cinnamon candy apple pie can be made by omitting the spices in your usual recipe and sprinkling red cinnamon candies over the apples before putting on the top crust. (You'll get a nice red color as well as a hot spicy flavor.)

—A favorite combination apple pie and cheese is used in cheese-topped apple pie. Brush the top crust of a baked apple pie with melted butter. Then arrange thin sliced or grated American cheese over the top, and sprinkle with nutmeg. Set in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until cheese browns and serve at once.

Dutch apple pie is made by pouring one-half cup heavy cream through the slits in the top crust five minutes before the pie is done. Return to oven until pie is done (five minutes).

Cheese Is a Universal Favorite

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

October is the month when we honor cheese. Unlike youngsters who clap their hands and sing, "the cheese stands alone," we eat it in various dishes.

More than a billion pounds of cheese are made in the United States every year, reports the USDA. About three quarters of this is the Cheddar type which is so universally popular that it is often called American cheese.

Cheese contains all the nutrients found in milk, for instance calcium, protein and vitamin B. It is a good substitute for meat. And it is a wonderful nibble food.

Weight watchers have to be careful of the amounts they eat because it is a concentrated food. But it can be worked into almost any diet.

Danish Blue Cheese Spread

1½ cups Danish blue cheese, crumbled, packed down
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
2 tablespoons capers, well drained
½ cup heavy cream

Let cheese and cream stand at room temperature approximately 1 hour. Combine cheese in mixer or blender, turn to low speed, add cream gradually until spreading consistency. Add capers, mix quickly. Pack in containers. Chill. Makes 2½ cups.

Using the aforementioned Cheddar cheese, you can make a spread that will keep well for weeks in the refrigerator. It may be used for stuffing celery or pear halves; it's good to spoon on tomato wedges and it can be used on top of hot dogs just before they are grilled. Even hamburgers taste better when they have a topping of this cheese spread.

Cheddar Cheese Spread

1 pound natural cheddar cheese
1 jar (4 ounces) pimientos (drained)
½ cup sliced pitted green olives
½ cup broken walnut meats
½ cup mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing to taste

Put cheese, pimientos, olives and walnuts through food chopper using fine blade. Mix in mayonnaise or salad dressing. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. (Makes 3½ to 4 cups.) Use as a sandwich filling alone or with sliced ham, turkey or tomatoes.

Note: This spread may be made with a soft-type cheddar cheese and the pimientos, olives and walnuts knife-chopped in fine or medium-fine pieces.

At this time of the year apples are a popular food. Try this apple-crisp recipe, made even more delicious with the addition of cheddar cheese.

Cheese-Apple Crisp

1 quart sliced pared apples
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons water
¾ cup brown sugar
¼ cup nonfat dry milk
½ cup all-purpose flour
¼ cup rolled oats
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Arrange apples in greased baking pan. Combine lemon juice and water; pour over the apples.

For the topping, combine sugar, dry milk, flour, rolled oats, cinnamon and salt. Work in the fat and cheese to form a crumbly mixture.

Cover apples with topping and press down firmly. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) for 30 to 40 minutes or until apples are tender. Six servings.

BLUE CHEESE SPREAD—Blue cheese spread will star at a cocktail or late evening party. This one is blended with cream cheese and capers. Usually spreads of this kind improve on standing.

Creole Pork Chops Make Special Treat

Pork chops are a menu favorite with many people. Served Creole style, they are better than ever.

For a special treat, try these pork chops baked in a piquant sauce. You'll find this recipe from the bayou country of Louisiana easy to prepare.

Pork Chops, Creole Style

4 loin or center cut pork chops
1 tablespoon salad oil
½ cup catsup
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery seed
2 tablespoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon flour

Sprinkle pork chops lightly with salt and pepper. Brown chops on both sides, in salad oil in a skillet. Remove chops to a casserole or baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over the chops. Bake, uncovered, in a slow (325 degree) oven 1½ hours. Turn chops after first hour of baking. Yield: 4 servings.

Fruit Sauce Enhances Lamb

So many homemakers forget the good lamb cuts such as shanks which can lend variety to menus. This recipe for lamb shanks is made extra special with the addition of pineapple and could be a savory meat for your next budget dinner.

Serve this hearty dish with a crisp combination salad, hard rolls and Apple Betty for dessert.

Lamb Shanks With Pineapple

4 lamb shanks
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 large onion, sliced thin and broken into rings
No. 2 can pineapple chunks
½ cup syrup from canned pineapple
1 cup tomato juice
½ cup water
1 teaspoon each paprika and salt
Pepper

Brown lamb shanks on all sides in butter or margarine. Remove shanks from pan and place in a covered baking pan. Saute onion rings in butter remaining in pan until onions are tender and golden. Drain pineapple and save one-third cup of the syrup. Add this to the onions along with tomato juice, water and seasonings.

Pour over lamb shanks, cover pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1½ hours. Remove from oven, turn shanks over in sauce, scatter drained pineapple chunks over the lamb. Return to oven, uncovered, and continue baking 30 minutes. Serves 4.

Make Like a Squirrel and Store Winter Food

Every week brings a change in the food market. Prices change in relation to supply and quality says the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

MARKET PREVIEW — Fryer prices are slightly higher than a week ago. Some pork cuts are down slightly. Beef, lamb and veal remain at about the same steady prices, but generally beef is lower than it was a month ago.

Eggs have increased a few cents a dozen compared to last week. Large sizes are not too plentiful. On a per pound basis, your egg dollar will go farther if you choose small or medium sizes.

Watch for canned and frozen items which your family prefers. Many are now offered in quantity at prices lower than usual. This is the in-between season for some fresh produce. It is a good time to buy potatoes for winter use, if you have proper storage.

MEATS—Times have changed! Not too many years ago, fryers were an expensive treat most of the time, but now producing efficiency keeps them in the market at fairly reasonable prices the entire 12 months of the year. This fall you have found low prices mostly due to a 10 to 15 per cent greater volume than last year at this time. Although you will not find fryers at the low prices of last week, you will find them at 35 to 45 cents a pound in many stores.

Turkey retail sales have been heavy during the past few months but with the largest crop on record and storage stocks totaling two and one-half times what they were a year ago, smart shoppers will keep looking for, and buying turkey. Sixteen to 24 pound birds are less than 20 cents a serving.

Pork supplies are a little below last year, which explains why prices are higher than a year ago. Loins, spare ribs and bacon are down slightly this week. Ham competes with other meats at current prices. A shank or butt will yield at least 2 servings per pound while whole hams will provide three.

Canned hams will yield 3 or 4 depending upon the family appetite. It will pay to figure cost per serving before deciding which cut best suits your particular needs.

PRODUCE—Squirrels are busy storing their winter food, and so are some lucky customers who have adequate cool storage space.

Even if you have not canned and frozen foods all summer, you can watch for canned and frozen items at your grocery. Canned and frozen peas along with canned beets, corn, beans, carrots and spinach bear checking this week. Canned foods keep best when stored at below 70 degrees F.

Potatoes for storage cost less when bought in large units. Check for light or sun damage before you buy. Any green color is your cue to beware. The green areas will be bitter and harmful if eaten.

To keep potato quality, store in a dark cool place about 55 degrees F. Potatoes should not be allowed to get as cold as 40 degrees F., because at that temperature some of the starch in potatoes will change to sugar. This changes the potato flavor and texture. Keep the potato sack or other container lifted off the floor by the use of wooden slats.

October is the month to store apples. Quality is best, prices lower than at any other time. Apples too, are usually more economical when bought in large units. Keep in a cool, dark, moist, well ventilated place that does not get below 32 degrees F. Sort through apples about once a week to remove any damaged or decayed fruit. Firm apples will keep from 2 to 3 months.

Last-of-the-Turkey Apple Salad

2 red apples
1 small Bermuda or Spanish onion
2 cups diced, left-over turkey or chicken
4 stalks celery, sliced
Bottled Italian salad dressing
Left-over stuffing
Mayonnaise
Iceberg lettuce

Core apples; do not pare; cut into cubes. Slice onion; separate into rings; combine apples, onion, celery and turkey. Add enough salad dressing to coat. Mix stuffing with enough mayonnaise to hold together; shape into small balls. Cut lettuce crosswise into 4 slices. Place lettuce slices on individual salad plates; top with salad mixture; garnish with stuffing balls. Makes 4 servings.

Dip Corn Chips Into Avocado Mix

A well-known spread gets new seasonings.

Coronado Canapes

1 cup sieved avocado
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 drained canned pimiento (finely chopped
2 teaspoons instant minced onion or finely grated onion (pulp and juice) to taste
Salt
Tabasco sauce
Corn chips

Mix avocado, lemon juice, horseradish, pimiento, onion, salt and tabasco sauce to taste together thoroughly. Turn into a small attractive bowl and serve with corn chips for dipping into this spread. Makes about 1 cup spread.

Quick Chili Welcomed in Autumn

Quick Hot Chili

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound lean ground chuck beef
2 tablespoons chili con carne seasoning powder
1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans
1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
Salt

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add beef and sprinkle with chili con carne seasoning powder. Mash with long-handled fork over moderate heat until beef loses its red color and is crumbled. Add kidney beans (including liquid) and stewed tomatoes (including liquid).

Bring to a boil, mixing well; add salt to taste and simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve in soup bowls with crisp crackers. Makes four 1-cup (generous) servings.

Note: If this seasoning is not available, be sure to add chili powder and garlic salt or crushed garlic cloves to taste; if on hand, also add cumin, coriander and oregano to taste.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN — Guests, young and old, will enjoy this Gingerbread Jack O'Lantern that's made with spicy root beer.

Root Beer Used in Party Cake

Ideal for Halloween is a gingerbread cake, moist and extra rich with a deep spicy flavor because it's made with root beer.

Special, too, because the recipe can be made in three round layers. Put them together with orange-tinted frosting, and turn the top into a happy Jack O'Lantern face by outlining eyes, nose and mouth with the frosting, letting them contrast effectively with the dark color of the cake itself.

Jack O'Lantern Gingerbread

½ cup shortening
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup molasses
2½ cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup root beer

Cream shortening and sugar together until fluffy. Add beaten egg and molasses; beat until thoroughly mixed. Sift dry ingredients and add to molasses mixture alternately with the root beer.

Divide batter evenly into three 8-inch layer pans which have been greased and floured. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees) 15-25 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Remove from oven and place on wire racks to cool.

When cool, spread seven minute frosting between layers; put remaining frosting in pastry tube and use to outline Jack O'Lantern eyes, nose and mouth on top of cake, and to outline edge of top layer.

Mashed Potatoes Are Nothing to Pooh Pooh

A good many of the nation's potatoes come to the table mashed. And here's a trick or two you can use with mashed potatoes. If you want them to be white as can be, add just a little lemon juice before you mash them.

Use mashed potatoes in a pastry tube, of the kind you use for decorating cakes, to make cups or nests; bake the nests until the potatoes turn a golden brown, and then fill them with creamed chicken, tuna, hamburger or some other meat or vegetable. And please, don't pooh pooh potatoes; they're popular.

Heat orange juice with a little sugar; add grated orange rind and lots of chopped water cress. Serve this sauce with roast duck.

Fish Recipe Comes to Us from Norwegian Expert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We're going to have a foreign food correspondent. We're going to have an international recipe swap with a food writer in Oslo, Norway.

At one of the meetings at the Food Editors' Conference we were all given the name of a foreign food editor. My correspondent is Mrs. Lillemor Erken who works as a home economist for a Norwegian frozen fish company. She has written several books on food, articles for newspapers and magazines and has demonstrated food in a number of European countries.

The names of these women were obtained through the United Nations, American embassies abroad and foreign news services. A box of typically American foods such as brownies, fudge, cake mixes and other goodies has been sent to all our overseas counterparts in our names.

Already I have two of Mrs. Erken's favorite recipes. One I'll give you today. If this correspondence works out as we all hope it does, I should have some interesting letters to quote and more recipes to print. Let's start with a quick and easy fish recipe.

Pan-Fried Haddock

2 pounds haddock fillets
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 egg
1 tablespoon cold water
Bread crumbs
1½ teaspoons salt.
Butter
Slices of lemon

Cut the still frozen fish slantwise, the thickness of a finger. Sprinkle the pieces with oil and lemon juice and leave them for a few minutes. Dip the fish in a mixture of the egg and water, then in salted bread crumbs.

Melt butter in skillet until nut brown and fry the fish at moderate heat, 4-5 minutes on each side. The fish should be turned only once and carefully.

Arrange fish on a hot platter and decorate each piece with a slice of lemon. Serve with potato chips and salad.

Rice Muffins Are Breakfast Bread

Hot muffins make a meal something special! These muffins are extra good because they are flavored with crispy bits of smoky bacon. You'll find you can mix up these muffins in a hurry and won't the family love having them often!

Bacon-Rice Muffins

1½ cups cooked rice at room temperature
¾ cup milk
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons double acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons beet or cane sugar
½ cup cooked bacon, finely chopped (about 4 to 5 strips)
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Mix together the rice and milk. Allow to stand while measuring the other ingredients. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir in the cooked bacon. Add the milk-rice mixture to the eggs. Stir in the melted shortening.

Make a well in the center of the flour. Pour in the milk mixture. Stir with about 15 circular strokes until the flour is moistened. Do not try to stir out the lumps. Grease muffin pans. Fill at least two-thirds full. Bake in a preheated 400 degree F. oven for about 30 minutes. This recipe makes about 14 muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

Crunchy Salad Fits Fall Menu

As the busy days of fall again come around, and many of us carry more than one job, there is nothing quite as efficient as molded salads. Refrigerated, this one will add flavor and variety to quickly prepared meals, at very low cost:

Apple Sparkle

1 package lemon or lime flavored gelatine
1 cup boiling water
½ cup fruit juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 large Delicious apple
1 orange
½ cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons lemon juice
A few walnut meats, broken

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Combine juice from orange, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, and enough cold water to make one cup. Add to gelatine, stir well and chill. Put rind of orange through finest knife of food chopper twice. Cut or chop unpeeled apple very fine. Add chopped raisins and broken walnut meats. When gelatine starts to thicken, fold in fruit mixture. Pour into individual molds.

There are 12 to 15 jumbo-sized shrimp in a pound.

Vitamin C Is Necessary Aid to 'Cement' Body

"Over and over again I read that it's important to get enough vitimin C in food," says Mrs. Jones. "But will someone please tell me in words of something less than 10 syllables why it's important and what it is."

In some way not clearly understood, vitamin C (which has been found to be hexuronic acid) is essential to the cement substance that lies between the cells of the body's various organs and tissues and keeps them properly set and supported.

You wouldn't want to come apart, would you, Mrs. Jones? Well, in a way, that's what would happen if you didn't get your share of vitamin C.

When this sbstance is lacking, widespread disintegration occurs. Walls of tiny blood vessels give way resulting in hemorrhaging. Teeth are loosened and gums become spongy Cartilage and connective tissue is weakened. Nerves are damaged. The lungs may collapse.

Bones lose calcium because their connective tissue is unable to hold it. There is general failure of cell formation. Wounds fail to heal and bones break readily. These facts are taken from medical literature.

Now are you convinced, Mrs. Jones, that vitamin C really is wonderful stuff and you shouldn't be without it? Better get some every day and it's easily obtained in natural form in fruits and vegetables of all kinds, especially citrus fruits, tomatoes, cabbage, potatoes and greens.

MOOO-VELOUS FOR BABY

Squash Is Favorite for Vitamin A — and Few Calories

Fall brings five favorite squash to market, reports the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Take your pick of Acorn, Butternut, Buttercup, Delicious or Hubbard.

The squash family is very colorful on the outside, but pure gold on the inside. The golden color indicates squash is a good source of Vitamin A. A half cup will provide more than the day's need of Vitamin A. Squash is a good vegetable to put on your low calorie list as a half-cup contains only 48 calories.

Fall menus will be brighter when fall squash is served.

This is a good time to buy fall squash for later use, reminds Mrs. Lawyer. Supplies are very ample and prices are low. Most varieties are selling for 5 to 10 cents a pound depending upon the variety and place it is sold.

If you plan to store squash, select those with hard mature skins that still have their stems. Keep them in a cool place between 50 and 55 degrees. You can expect to keep fall squash from 3 to 6 months, but the Hubbard variety will keep even longer. Store a part of the fall squash harvest for good eating this winter.

From now until heavy frost is the best time to enjoy fresh Michigan grapes. Take your pick for the fruit bowl, lunch box or jam and jelly jar.

One reason you cannot find more fresh Michigan grapes in the market is that about 87 per cent of the crop is processed while only 13 per cent is sold fresh. Almost 70 per cent of the grapes processed are used for juice, while about 30 per cent are used for wines, jelly and jam.

MEAT SUPPLIES

As autumn gets under way each year, the supply of pork begins to increase and the price of pork cuts begins a downward trek. Mrs. Lawyer points out that the primary reason for this is that pigs born in the spring reach the market in fall and winter. In November and December pork supplies are generally better than at any other time of the year.

Pork prices look much like they did a week ago. Some retailers report you can begin to see slightly lower bacon prices.

Lower wholesale prices on fryers are also passed along to the consumer with lower retail listings this week. Generally, most chuck cuts and round steak are 5 to 10 cents less per pound than the same grades were a week ago.

Those chuck cuts which make such wonderful pot roasts may attract you. Count on two servings from each pound of chuck. The blade chuck cut is 10 cents less per pound than the round arm or English cut, but it has more bone and is not so easy to carve. If you have time to cut blade chuck for tasty stews, you can save yourself some change.

Changes in the produce department are less noticeable, but if you are looking for tops in flavor you will choose from fall's offering of cauliflower and many other vegetables. Apples by the bushel, peck or pound are the economical fruit choice during this busy harvest time.

When you shop for cauliflower, look for creamy-white, clean, compact heads. To be properly dressed, this vegetable should wear a jacket of bright green to insure freshness and flavor.

If you buy apples by the pound, 2 or 3 will weigh one pound. A peck holds 24 to 36 apples; a bushel contains 96 to 144 apples. If you have a place to store them and if saving is important, apples bought in larger units are the best choice.

Parboil medium-sized pared potatoes about 15 minutes before adding them to the pan in which the roast is cooking. Allow about an hour in the oven for the potatoes.

Try using orange juice instead of water when you are baking apples; add a little of the grated orange rind, too.

TEN-MINUTE SOUP — An ideal vegetable soup that is both nourishing and tasty can be made in a jiffy with a package each of chicken noodle soup and beef vegetable soup. Youngsters find this a good start to a school-time lunch that also includes a cream cheese and jam on nut bread sandwich, a baked apple with peanuts, and a glass of milk.

Vary Children's Lunch With Nourishing Soup

Summer is officially over when the kids return to school and mother starts her own school lunch program once more.

If circumstances require your little scholars to carry their lunch to school, make sure the menu is both nourishing and appetizing. This requires some imaginative planning. The basic plan you work with consists of a thermos of hot soup, sandwiches, fresh bruit, cookies or cake, and a beverage. This plan is also the one you would basically use if they come home for lunch.

With the aid of handy soup mixes you can easily provide a nourishing hot treat every day. They supply body-building proteins, carbohydrates for energy as well as essential vitamins and minerals. The few minutes they take to prepare are well-spent in the midst of the busy rush to make an appetizing lunch.

The most popular varieties with kiddies include beef vegetable, tomato vegetable, chicken noodle and green pea soup. Try varying the soups, too. In a "Ten Minute Vegetable Soup" you can deliciously combine chicken noodle soup with beef vegetable soup.

When it comes to the sandwiches, vary the bread itself. Nut or fruit breads, cinnamon, cheese and brown bread as well as rolls, muffins and buns all provide extra taste appeal.

And take advantage of the numerous canned meat spreads for fillings. Instant puddings also strike a happy note because they are so easy to prepare.

Ten-Minute Vegetable Soup
1 package chicken noodle soup mix
1 package beef vegetable soup mix
6 cups boiling water
1 package (10 oz.) frozen mixed vegetables.

Stir soup mixes into rapidly boiling water. Add frozen mixed vegetables. Bring to boil and continue boiling 10 minutes until vegetables are tender. Makes 6 generous bowls of soup.

Use Green Tomatoes for Good Mincemeat

With the coming of frost every home gardener is left with a surplus of green tomatoes which the southbound sun will never ripen. This recipe, from grandmother's cookbook, will furnish good pie fillings for the winter months:

Green Tomato Mincemeat
1 gallon green tomatoes
1 pound seedless raisins
1 pound dried currants
½ pound suet
2½ pounds Jonathan Apples
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon each cloves, allspice and nutmeg

Chop or grind tomatoes, bring to a boil in a large heavy kettle and boil for 5 minutes. Drain off all possible liquid. Add balance of ingredients, and simmer for 45 minutes, stirring frequently. Pack into hot sterilized jars and seal.

To remove chewing gum, rub the gum with ice. This hardens it so you can pick it off. Sponge the spot with carbon tetrachloride.

Bake Casserole of Rice, Tuna

Because of its delicate flavor and good texture, rice is a good mixer with many other foods. In this recipe for Tuna Rice Casserole it blends deliciously in a quick-to-fix entree, comprised of handy pantry-shelf ingredients.

Tuna Rice Casserole
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon butter or margarine, melted
2 cups grated American cheese
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup (7-oz. can) tuna fish, flaked
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 cup oven-toasted rice cereal

To make cheese sauce, melt butter, stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add salt, paprika and cheese, stirring until cheese is melted.

In greased casserole, arrange layers of rice, tuna fish, parsley and cheese sauce. Crush rice krispies slightly; combine with melted butter. Sprinkle over tuna fish mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 15 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

From Farmer Through Mills to Cereal Bowls

Most of the oats grown today is harvested by combines in the fields and then delivered to country elevators. There the grain is subjected to the first of many inspections to insure the only the highest quality oats enters the mills.

Upon arrival at the mills, the oats is again inspected, graded, cleaned and separated to remove foreign particles and the lighter grains. Only the oats accepted for milling after these regid tests enter the drying house. There the oat kernels receive a gentle "toasting" to give a nut-sweet flavor and to insure a constant level of moisture in every kernel.

After still further cleaning and separating, the hulls are removed. The kernels or groats are then steamed until they become swollen and slightly softened. At this point, the oats is ready to be rolled between heavy hot rollers. For the old fashioned variety, each kernel is rolled to form one flake.

Groats for the quick cooking type of product are put through cutting machines where each kernel is cut into three pieces before steaming. For this quick variety, the steel rollers are set closer together to produce a thinner flake and one which will cook in less time than the old fashioned. Both the old fashioned and quick cooking oats are whole grain cereals and are equal in nutritional value.

The last step in this completely mechanical operation is packaging. Today's familiar boxes of oatmeal are certainly a far cry from the open barrels of the rolled oats as it was sold in the early frontier days of our country.

Skillet Dish Is Sweet Sour

One of those handy main dishes you can make "right off the pantry shelf" so to speak is ham and butter bean skillet. A can of chopped ham, two of butter beans and some evaporated milk are the main ingredients of this taste-tantalizing dish that you can whip up in a matter of minutes.

Ham and butter bean skillet is made in a fry pan as its name implies. It has a marvelous sweet-sour sauce that is made right in the pan along with the ham and beans, which keeps the number of pots and pans to be washed down to a minimum.

Ham and Butter Bean Skillet

1 can chopped ham (12 ounces)
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 No. 303 cans cooked dry butter beans (1 lb. 1 oz. each)
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar plus evaporated milk to make 1 cup

Cut ham in cubes. Place cubes together with meat juices in a large frying pan. Cook until meat is lightly browned, stirring to prevent sticking. Remove from heat and sprinkle with dry ingredients. Drain beans, saving liquid from one can to use in sauce. Add bean liquid to meat mixture, stirring to blend.

Stir in mustard, beans, and vinegar-milk mixture. Return to medium heat and cook uncovered until sauce thickens, about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Spicy Batter Covers Bread

Halloween is a youngster's night for fun. Although, there are still those who trail from house to house costumed as witches, goblins, black cats and ghosts, there seem to be others who prefer the Halloween Party at home. Whether you're elected to give a party or are just filling the larder for trick or treat, here's a novel budget-minded specialty.

It's made with enriched yeast-raised bread that is batter-dipped and browned to a turn. If you've a way with a scissors, shape the bread into black cats or pumpkins —otherwise cut them with a cookie cutter. In any case, serve them with time-tested Halloween specialties such as cider, apples and nuts.

Gingerbread Puffs

1 cup flour
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs slightly beaten
2 tablespoons molasses
¾ cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 tablespoon melted shortening
12 slices enriched yeast-raised bread

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine egg, molasses, milk and shortening. Stir into dry ingredients. Cut enriched yeast-raised bread with round cookie cutter or shape as desired. Dip in batter. Fry in hot fat in skillet until brown on both sides. (Shortening should be about 1-inch in depth.) Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with sugar. Serve hot. Makes about 2 dozen.

Heat Destroys Alcohol

When used in cooking, wine's alcoholic content is destroyed by the heat. However, its distinctive flavor and aroma remain — giving a dish cooked with wine a lip-smacking individuality attainable not other way.

Always a Potato Harvest

Here's something you may not have known about potatoes: Somewhere in the United States, farmers are harvesting potatoes every week of the year. By the time the main harvest is over in states like Maine, Idaho, Minnesota, North Dakota and Michigan, it's about ready to start in Florida, with California filling in any gaps that might take place in harvesting in other states.

Both tarragon and chervil are herbs that do a lot for fish.

Sherry Wine Named by English Sea Captain

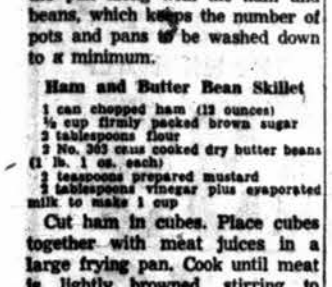

The story goes that an English sea captain stopping at the Spanish port of Jerez (Her-ez) picked up some of the local wine with a "nutty" flavor. He brought it back to England where it soon became very popular. The captain couldn't say Jerez like an "aficionado," but what he did say stuck and today we call the wine by the name he gave the seaport — Sherry.

Special Sweet Potatoes

Make something special of sweet potatoes by dressing them up with pineapple chunks and pecans. Put cooked sweet potatoes and pineapple chunks into the baking dish together, separating each layer with a sprinkling of brown sugar. Add ⅓ cup of the drained pineapple syrup and bake at 375 degrees F. about 30 minutes.

Melt Cheese on Pie Top

Vary your apple pie and cheese. Serve the pie hot from the oven with melted cheese over the top crust. After the pie is baked, lay thin slices of cheese or grated cheese on top, and put in a moderate oven until cheese is melted. Serve while cheese is warm.

It's the BALANCE of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven . . . That's the story of Clabber Girl's balanced double action . . . Better Baking everytime!

BALANCED double-action means Better Baking!

DATE BAR PIE — Luscious Date Bar Ice Cream pie makes a mouth-watering display — and wonderful eating, too! It's perfect to serve to guests, because it can be prepared ahead of time and kept in the freezer.

Date Bar Mix Makes Glamorous Frozen Pie

Here (for you men who enjoy an occasional cooking stint) is a dessert you can prepare and serve come next vacation or weekend!

It's Date Bar Ice Cream Pie, and though it looks like the masterpiece of a trained chef, it's fun and easy to make. Friends and neighbors expect father to come forth as a barbecue chef, but when he also creates dessert admiration doubles!

(Of course, if the lady of the house bakes the pie, the men will love eating it!)

This pie has a blending of flavors and textures which combine to produce complete deliciousness. The basis is a date bar mix — the crumbly mixture is used as a crust, and date mixture as a topping, and more crumbs form the swirled pattern on top. In the center — vanilla ice cream.

Date Bar Ice Cream Pie

¼ cup butter
1 package date bar mix
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Mix ¼ cup softened butter and crumbly mixture from date bar mix package with fork. Spread in oblong pan, 13x9½x2". Bake about 10 minutes.

Take from oven; stir with spoon. Press hot crumbly mixture against bottom and sides of 9" pie pan, reserving ½ cup for topping. Cool. Add ½ cup hot water to the date filling mix. Cool.

Spoon 1 pint vanilla ice cream into pie shell and spread date filling over ice cream. Sprinkle remaining crumbly mixture over pie. Serve immediately or freeze until firm.

Mold cooked hot cornmeal in a loaf pan and chill. Slice and reheat with melted butter and grated Italian-type cheese. Serve with broiled chicken.

A Coffee Break Isn't Breakfast

One fact about food that perhaps cannot be over-emphasized is the value of a good solid breakfast. And a coffee break isn't breakfast. Many people find that the demands of their job in the home or in the office take so much out of them, they feel all used up by the end of the day. This is apt to be literally true, and especially so if they haven't had a good breakfast.

Many times an "all-gone" feeling in the late morning comes about something like this: When you get up in the morning, you've been without food for a good many hours. You're empty of food, which your body requires as fuel to keep you going. And yet you are not likely to know it—at least not in the sense of feeling hungry.

You seem to get along for a few hours on a sub-standard breakfast, but sometime around 11 o'clock, you can't wait for lunch time. Errors and mistakes in working are most apt to happen at this time.

To forestall fatigue, to reduce errors, to assure yourself of a steady level, fortify yourself with the sure combination: A good night's sleep and a really basic breakfast, such as fruit, toast, eggs or breakfast meat, cereal and milk.

When you are having company for supper and you don't want to serve a salad, have a bowl of water cress, carrot curls or strips and black olives instead.

Basic 7 Foods Must Be Part of Oldsters' Diet

Our older population stands accused of poor health in their later years. Researchers have found that this is due to their lack of a proper diet.

By turning food down as a strong ally to health, older people often feel chronically tired and listless, lose sleep, become run-down and depressed without realizing why. From before six to way past sixty the body needs a well balanced diet: protein and minerals to repair body tissue and bones; vitamins to prevent body breakdowns; calories to provide energy and warmth.

Though the older person may be aware of this, he has problems to surmount. One difficulty may be faulty teeth which limits the diet to foods that are easy to chew. Most foods need not be discarded, however, but prepared differently. Here are some suggestions to show how to include all the groups of the basic 7 that make up a balanced diet.

Cube, chop and grind foods that are difficult to chew. Chopped foods for juniors when well seasoned can be made into flavorful cheese or pastry topped casseroles.

Meat or chicken cut into small pieces may be creamed, or combined with rice, potatoes or noodles. Fish is easy to chew when poached, broiled, baked, used in chowders or flaked in a cream or cheese sauce. Cheese is easy to eat if finely diced or melted. Melt cheese and serve it over enriched yeast-raised toast cubes, vegetables or eggs. Cottage or cream cheese are fine as is.

Eggs can be served as you like them.

Milk is an important food and combines easily with other foods. Serve it as a drink or in soups, sauces, puddings.

Cooked fruits and vegetables may be chopped or mashed if need be. Canned fruits are often softer than fresh. Juices provide food value and need no preparation.

Enriched yeast-raised breads and cooked cereals are all suitable. Dry cereal or toast may be soaked in milk, cakes may be served with cream or fruit juice.

Many desserts are suitable such as ice cream, custards, puddings, gelatins and Bavarians.

Beef Sandwiches — All Dressed Up

Different and hearty!

Broiled Beef Sandwiches

1 egg
1-3 cup mayonnaise
1-3 cup finely chopped sweet mixed pickles
1 teaspoon finely-grated onion (pulp and juice)
8 slices rye bread
8 thin slices cooked roast beef
Salt and pepper

Beat egg with rotary beater (hand or electric) until thick and pale colored. Mix well but gently with mayonnaise, chopped pickles and grated onion. Spread half of mixture on bread slices. Top with beef; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with remaining pickle mixture.

Broil 3 or 4 inches from source of heat for 5 to 6 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 8 servings.

Powdered saffron is prepared from a flower stigma and adds wonderful color and delicate flavor to Spanish dishes of chicken and rice with or without seafood and vegetables.

Marinate steak in olive oil, lemon juice, crushed garlic, salt and pepper before broiling.

Some cooks like to add minced parsley and anchovy fillets to a sauce for steak.

Remove the stems or not, as you prefer, when you are cooking fresh spinach.

CUSTARD INTERNATIONAL — On the international dessert circuit the same basic ingredients — pure vanilla extract, milk, eggs and sugar — become custards with different accents. The Spanish is baked caramel custard; the English version is vanilla soft custard; the French, molded with gelatine, is vanilla creme.

Custard Is International

When it comes to simple, nutritious and delicious desserts, it's still hard to beat the custard. This centuries old English invention has been changed, refined and embellished by many other cuisines, but whichever way you make it, you're sure of a good reception.

Chronologically speaking, the English started by boiling or baking a mixture of milk, eggs and sugar. The French adopted the idea but eventually added some gelatin to the eggs and also some cream, resulting in the Creme Francais.

Later the Spaniards introduced the use of a caramel sauce and became famous for their baked caramel custards. Eventually, other Spanish speaking countries around the world came up with a host of lesser variations, but basically, they're all custards.

Interestingly, the custards of all nations have had one other thing in common since their earliest beginnings. From the simplest English version to the most elaborate French or Spanish creation, the flavor of vanilla is almost always used.

BAKED CARAMEL CUSTARD
(Spanish)

½ cup sugar
¼ cup hot water
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cornstarch
¼ cup cold milk
2 eggs, beaten lightly
2¾ cups hot milk
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Place the ½ cup sugar in a small saucepan. Place over medium heat to melt sugar stirring constantly to prevent burning. Add hot water. (The sugar will lump but this is as it should be.) Cook until all lumps have dissolved. Remove from heat and pour 1 tablespoon of this syrup in each of 6 custard cups and set aside.

Combine the one third cup sugar, salt and cornstarch. Blend in the ¼ cup milk. Add eggs and mix only until blended. Stir in hot milk and pure vanilla extract. Strain into the 6 custard cups previously prepared. Place in a pan containing 1 inch hot water.

Cover and bake in a preheated slow oven (375 degrees) until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean, from 1¼ to 1½ hours. Remove cover 20 minutes before baking time is up for custards to brown. Top with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry or nuts if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

VANILLA SOFT CUSTARD
(English)

⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon flour
2 eggs, beaten lightly
1½ cups milk
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Combine the first 3 ingredients in a saucepan or the top part of a double boiler. Blend in eggs. Add milk and cook over low heat or hot water until the mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in pure vanilla extract. Chill until cold and slightly thickened. Serve in sherbet glasses or sauce dishes.

VANILLA CREME
(French)

1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cornstarch
3 eggs, beaten lightly
2 cups milk
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
½ cup heavy cream whipped

Combine the first 3 ingredients in a saucepan or the top part of a double boiler. Add eggs and mix only until blended. Stir in milk and cook over low heat or hot water until the mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Stir into the hot custard. Add pure vanilla extract. Chill until the mixture begins to thicken. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into a 5-cup mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm.

When ready to serve, unmold onto a serving dish. Decorate, if desired, with additional whipped cream or fresh or canned fruit. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Apple Filling Is Unusual

You know with what suspicion a man regards a dish unfamiliar to him. That will never happen with this one. It declares itself at a glance . . . and proudly. Here is young fried chicken, tender and crusty. Here are plump red tomatoes, dribbling juice and bulging with savory dressing. And as you set the platter on the table, warm familiar whiffs quicken appetites.

The flavors of the dish are on the light, bright and zesty side. For this, the Savory Stuffed Tomatoes can take large credit. For that stuffing, thick crumbed, has canned apple sauce for a new and joyous burst of flavor; has sage, onions and seasonings for edge and tingle. It's a stuffing that blends companionably in flavor with the tomatoes and offers nice contrast to the chicken.

Savory Stuffed Tomatoes

8 large tomatoes
¾ cup finely chopped onion
2½ tablespoons butter
¾ cup dry bread crumbs
1¼ cups canned apple sauce
½ teaspoon sage
¾ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Wash tomatoes thoroughly. Cut a slice from top of each tomato; carefully scoop out centers. Use centers for stewed tomatoes, do not use in filling. Saute onion in butter until lightly browned. Add bread crumbs, apple sauce, sage, salt and pepper.

Place filling into tomatoes. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and bake in moderate oven, 350 degree F., 25-30 minutes. Serve with chicken. Yields 8 servings.

Sesame Tops Tea Cake

All at once you have that "something different" to serve with coffee: Cut pound cake into thick slices and spread with softened butter flavored with pure vanilla extract (use ½ teaspoon vanilla extract to 3 tablespoons softened butter), sprinkle generously with sesame seeds and once over lightly with granulated sugar. Broil with oven set at 450 degrees till seeds are toasted, 3 to 5 minutes.

Stack Pancakes Pyramid Style for Serving

PLANET PANCAKES
Pancakes

1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon liquid shortening
½ cup mashed bananas
1 cup buttermilk pancake mix

For the pancakes, place milk, egg, liquid shortening and mashed bananas in shaker or glass jar. Add buttermilk pancake mix and shake vigorously 10 to 15 times or until batter is fairly smooth.

To make pancakes of graduated sizes, first pour ¼ cup batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle for each large pancake, then use a little less for each of the next pancakes until you are using 1 teaspoon batter for the top pancake. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.

Honey-Orange Sauce

2 tablespoons orange juice

For the sauce, combine honey and orange juice until well blended.

To serve, stack pancakes pyramid fashion on plates. Serve with honey-orange sauce.

Javanese Combine Meat With Fruit and Nuts

Foreign dishes continue to grow in popularity in the United States. Today, pizza, sukiyaki, Polynesian specialties, Chinese dishes and countless other foods from lands far away, appear more and more regularly in American familly meals.

One GI, Col. Don Callahan of Cazenovia, N. Y., stationed in the Southwest Pacific, returned home with the know-how for a Javanese dinner. Of course, his recipe had to be adjusted a little to American ingredients and to foreign ingredients available here. However, it is largely authentic and has the wonderful flavor reminiscent of the tea countries of Java and Ceylon.

Javanese Dinner

1 pound ground beef
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon curry powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup sliced onion
½ cup diced green pepper
1 cup light or dark seedless raisins
½ cup cashew nuts
2 bay leaves
1 can (1 pound) peas
1 can (4 ounces) pimento, cut in large pieces
1 orange, sliced
3 cups hot pre-cooked rice

Break up meat with fork in mixing mowl. Sprinkle monosodium glutamate, salt and curry powder over surface of meat. Toss gently to distribute seasonings.

Melt butter in 2-quart saucepan; add onion and green pepper and cook until tender, but not brown. Add seasoned meat and cook over low heat, stirring and breaking up with fork, until just browned. Add raisins, nuts and bay leaves.

Drain peas; add liquid to meat mixture. Simmer 20 minutes. Add peas and pimento; arrange orange slices over top; simmer 10 minutes longer. Serve with hot pre-cooked rice and chutney. Serves 4.

Nary a Sticky Top for Lunch Cupcakes

Now you can let the children have their lunchtime cake . . . and eat it, too, with ease. These crunchy cupcakes pack like a dream, have no sticky frosting to pull apart, yet are good and spicy enough to satisfy any tiny sweet tooth.

Cinnamon Crusty Cupcakes

1 package cup cake mix
1 egg
⅓ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup chopped nuts (optional)

Empty contents of package into bowl; add eggs, milk and vanilla, and blend. Beat 2 minutes. Half fill greased cup cake pans. Combine sugar, cinnamon and chopped nuts and sprinkle over top of batter. Bake at 375 degrees (mod. oven) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 12 to 18 cup cakes.

Count on half a pound (8 ounces) of medium-wide egg noodles to serve four.

The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Michigan and her fiance is completing work on his master's degree at U. of M. after being graduated from General Motors Institute. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Upsilon fraternity.

Misfortune May Be Good Break

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It used to infuriate me when older and wiser people would tell me that what happens to us in life isn't important. The important thing is how we react to what happens.

I used to think, rather bitterly, that despair and misery were the results of misfortune and that it was ridiculous to say we should be cheerful in the face of misery.

TURN BAD INTO GOOD

But after studying and listening to hundreds of people as they face their lives, I have found that the really successful, happy and effective ones are those who quite literally capitalize on the kind of bad breaks that would throw a lesser person.

Take, for example, a young woman whom I'll call Sue.

Sue is a mother of four. She has a wonderful husband who will one day be making a million, no doubt, but at the moment he just barely makes enough to pay for the basic necessities.

For a long time, things went well for them because Sue had a thriving home baking business which took care of the extras.

EVERYONE DIETING

"But then," Sue writes, "one of those awful things happened. Everybody began to diet.

"Most of my friends and customers were in the late 30's and early 40's and weight was beginning to be a problem. First thing I knew, my sales were really falling off.

"'I'd love to keep getting the weekly pie and cake', one of my steady customers said, 'but it's too much of a temptation.'

"My doctor told me they were all being silly and said everybody should have some sweets, but I couldn't convince my customers.

NO MORE EXTRAS

"The family wasn't too happy, either. It meant we could no longer have those nice extras.

"Suddenly, I had a good idea. I'm supposed to be a creative cook, I began thinking, so why not turn my wits to low-calorie baked goods? There must be substitutes, ways of using low-calorie ingredients.

"Well, after much investigation and work, I came upon a couple of really good recipes. One was for a low-calorie pie, one for a cake and another for cookies. They went over with a big bang.

"In fact, I have more customers now than I ever had before. It's a way for me to eat my cake and sell it, too!"

If you're interested in making money at home, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of good books on the subject.

A Halloween party will be held in the Andrews' home on Oct. 25.

Carol Channing's Hot Act Leaves La Dietrich Cold

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Side-splitting Carol Channing's impersonation of Marlene Dietrich is the hottest thing in town, but Marlene doesn't think so.

In fact, she's sizzling.

Miss Channing, who is performing the Dietrich take-off in a current nightclub engagement at the Mocambo, said she is "very sorry" the German-born actress doesn't like her act.

"I don't know what's wrong with her," she added. "She must have no sense of humor."

PLENTY BURNED UP

Miss Dietrich was in New York and unavailable for comment, but friends said:

"She's plenty burned up!"

The platinum blonde comedienne, who also does hilarious impersonations of Sophie Tucker and Tallulah Bankhead, said she got an "icy" reception from Miss Dietrich during her initial nightery opening in Las Vegas.

"I heard she was in the audience with Lucille Ball," Carol related. "I kept hearing howls from Lucille, but not a peep out of Marlene.

"Later someone told me she sat there in stony-faced silence as if she couldn't believe this was happening to her."

WON'T DROP IT

Carol said the performance inspired Miss Dietrich to accost her (Carol's) agent and demand that the impersonation be dropped.

"But I couldn't do that," Carol boomed in her baby baritone. "It's the best thing in my act!"

In direct opposition to Miss Dietrich's reception of Carol's act, Sophie Tucker thinks the comedienne's conception of her is "monumental."

"She liked it so much," Miss Channing said, "that she gave me her writer, her arranger and her dress designer! Greater love hath no artist."

Great Seal Treasured by Keeper

Mrs. Richardson Says It Signifies Sacred Heritage

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — To Mrs. Clydia Mae Richardson the Great Seal of the United States is second only to our Flag in symbolizing the "sacred heritage of this country and its great strength and vision."

This little woman, born and raised in Highmore, S. D., has been the dedicated keeper of the seal since 1943. The seal is affixed to proclamations of the President, ratifications of treaties, the commissions of members of the Cabinet, and of American ambassadors, Ministers and Foreign Service officers, and to certain other documents.

ON PAPER WAFER

All the above documents must first be signed by the President and the secretary of state before the design is impressed on a paper wafer which has been glued to a document.

Celebration of the earliest impression of the seal, 175 years ago, was observed recently in the mezzanine of the State Department building where the original Great Seal, with its press and cabinet, is housed in a glass cabinet.

As chief of the presidential commissions branch of the titles and commissions staff of the State Department, Mrs. Richardson's job is a complicated one.

When Congress is in session, the section prepares the nomination of a government official on a handsome handwritten form which is signed by the President.

PROCLAIMS MESSAGE

A presidential secretary then takes it up to the Senate. The secretary of the Senate takes it to the president of the Senate, who interrupts Senate business to announce that a message has been received from the President of the United States.

When the nomination is confirmed, another paper called a "Senate resolution" is drawn up and stamped by the White House and State Department where it is filed.

A commission is prepared, equally beautifully embossed, again sent from State Department to White House and back, for the secretary of state's countersignature. Finally the seal is affixed.

Mrs. Richardson has the sole privilege of using the keys to open the locks guarding the seal. Accompanied by two aides, she first unlocks the doors to the glass room.

SERIES OF LOCKS

She uses two keys to unlock the cherrywood cabinet in which the seal is kept. Then she unlocks the press and finally the special lock on the seal itself. The keys are locked in a safe when not in use.

"My work is far from humdrum," Mrs. Richardson said.

"Every time I swing the arms of the press into position, and impress the Great Seal of the United States on an official document, I feel that I am taking part in the making of history and the progress of this nation.

Shoe News: Pointed Toe, Shaped Heel

NEW YORK (NEA) — Textured leather, the pointed toe and shaped mid-heel, are the things to look for when you shop for a shoe wardrobe this fall.

There's more shoe color than ever before: rich blues, brilliant reds, bronze, gray, green and combinations of beige and brown.

Silver gleams in crushed leather. Black suede is with us, of course, but there are jewel-toned suedes too.

The importance of the pointed toe cannot be overemphasized. It's new, pretty and, contrary to one's first reaction, it does not make the foot look longer. And it is comfortable to wear, even for women who have a width problem and feel that the pointed toe is not for them.

Bows appear as trim for both tailored and dressy shoes. In the tailored version, they're flat and neat. For satin or silk crepe shoes, they're soft and give the look of having been hand-tied.

For late-day wear, sparkling jewels enhance black suede leather, satin or silk crepe shoes of great elegance. They look newest when they're placed at the side rather than the throat of the shoe. And they take on a regal look when they form a tiara around a stand-up tongue.

'I Can't Conceive of a Complete Day Without Reading the News'

Press Outrates TV, Radio in Teenage Poll

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

For America's youth, television's first bloom seems to be fading. One of our recent polls indicates:

1. That young people are watching TV less than formerly.
2. That TV's loss has been the gain of newspapers, radio and magazines.

After questioning over 5,000 teenagers, we learned that 41 per cent of them said they were spending less time watching television than in the previous year.

At the same time 29 per cent had cut down on radio listening, compared with 12 per cent on newspaper reading.

On the other hand, 52 per cent said they were spending more time on newspapers than formerly, 43 per cent on radio and 28 per cent on TV.

Questioning these youngsters about their reaction to all three media, we dug up a lot of other interesting information.

PRACTICAL VALUE

The teenagers said that newspapers had the most practical value to them, were most dependable, most important in keeping them up to date, most helpful with homework, and that they carried the most believable ads, among other things.

Television scored first on being neck and neck with both radio and newspapers on the basis of being hardest to be without.

Magazines were not out in front in any category listed under "most value."

A comment by Larry Gralla of Detroit seemed to strike the mood of a majority of youngsters on newspapers.

"I can't conceive of a complete day," he said, "without reading the news."

Speaking up for television, Lila Miller asserted, "I get so much more out of watching the dramas than I do from listening to them on the radio, I like to watch the old movies too."

MORE CONVENIENT

The gains of radio, as against television, were made apparently because the youngsters found it more convenient when studying, talking with friends or riding in a car.

"When I drive, I like to turn on rock 'n', roll and go," said Walter Bogart of Hartford, Conn.

While 48 per cent said they watched TV for two hours a day or more, 65 per cent judged themselves regular radio listeners.

Twenty per cent said they divided time between the two media, and 7 per cent tuned in on neither regularly.

Eight out of 10 of the youths questioned said they read a newspaper the previous day, and 92 per cent reported they read one every week.

RELY ON PAPERS

In every one of seven news categories about which we questioned these young people, they asserted overwhelmingly that they depended on newspapers for their information rather than on television or radio.

These categories were sports news, national and international news, local news, teenage news, school sports news and entertainment news. Magazines led a single category — etiquette information.

Inquiring about the youngsters' likes and dislikes on radio and television, we found them pretty much in agreement on one point.

They just don't care for commercials. Fifty-nine per cent said that's what they like least about TV, and 48 per cent had the same to say of radio.

In the case of magazines, 40 per cent said that advertisements were what they liked least, and 27 per cent said the same for newspapers.

NECESSARY, BUT

Speaking of TV commercials, William Morley of Dayton, Ohio, said, "I know they're necessary, but I don't have to like them."

How youngsters regard newspapers, radio, television and magazines:

	Newspapers	Radio	Television	Magazines
Most Practical	54%	16%	17%	13%
Hardest to Be Without	31	32	32	5
Most Dependable	58	18	10	14
Most Believable Ads	47	6	17	30
Most Entertaining	3	18	70	9

Gilbert's poll shows that young people say they are spending less time watching television, while going in for more newspaper reading.

What the young people liked most about newspapers were local, national and world news, comics and cartoons, and sports, in that order.

Dramas and Westerns topped the television list, followed by comedy shows and music.

Nearly 7 out of 10 girls and 6 of 10 boys voted music programs and disk jockeys their favorite radio fare. Some added there was too much jockey and not enough music on a few programs.

Trailing commercials on the list of television dislikes were repeated plays and movies, and finally the wide generalization of "stupid and poor quality programs."

NIX ON SOAP OPERAS

On the radio list of least wanted programs, soap operas were in the No. 2 spot, followed by forums and panels.

As might be expected, perhaps, the soap operas were a shade less distasteful to the girls than to the boys.

A non-holiday week end on United States highways average 378 traffic deaths. On a holiday week end, such as July 4, the average is 425 killed.

PHS Playcrafters Will Present 'Rumpelstiltskin'

"Rumpelstiltskin," portrayed by Robert Thompson of Mary Day avenue, plots with "Mother Hulda," Teresa Fortino of Liberty street, over a brewing charm pot in a scene from the Pontiac High School Playcrafters annual Children's Theater production. The fairy tale will be staged Monday through Thursday at PHS.

Lynn Walker of Argyle avenue, the boastful miller who claimed his daughter could spin straw into gold, is aided by his wife, portrayed by Judy Baker of Navajo drive, in carrying bundles of straw for his unfortunate daughter to alchemize.

Book production in West Germany in 1955 reached 16,000 titles, a new high.

Mrs. F.D.R. Recalls Royal Guests

By ROBIN MILLER

NEW YORK (INS) — "Leave them alone as much as possible . . they are grateful for any opportunities to put their feet up and relax."

It was Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt speaking—from experience — on how to treat royal visitors to the White House, a subject provoked by the arrival of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip in the U. S.

Mrs. Roosevelt's experience was gained in 1939 when she and her late husband played host to Elizabeth's parents. Asked what she thinks is the primary duty of a chief executive and a First Lady in entertaining Britain's ruling couple, Mrs. F.D.R. replied:

"To leave them alone as much as possible in the little free time at their disposal. Few Americans can realize the strain they are under, particularly on a state visit when they work even harder than at home.

"Although they never say so, they are grateful for any opportunities to put their feet up and relax."

Mrs. Roosevelt recalled some of the problems she faced in planning for that visit of the King and Queen of England 18 years ago. And she recalled that most of her worries as a hostess were unnecessary.

ROYAL TEA WATER

There was, for example, the matter of water for the royal tea.

A London tea company insisted the King and Queen would enjoy their tea only if it was made with London water.

"So several bottles of Thames River water were shipped over and submitted, as U. S. health laws demand, to the sanitation authorities in Washington for analysis," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

The result? The Thames water was pronounced highly unsatisfactory and Potomac water was used instead.

There was also the matter of hot water bottles—which the U. S. ambassador in London insisted the King and Queen would need.

Mrs. Roosevelt recalled that she dutifully saw to it that hot water bottles were placed in the royal beds and that neither the King nor Queen complained—even though it was in the midst of a broiling Washington summer.

OUTSIDE BEDROOMS

The former First Lady also told of the royal custom demanding the couriers sit outside the royal bedrooms, a practice necessary at Buckingham Palace where the couriers are needed to take messages from one end of the vast mansion to another.

In the White House, however, the separate bedrooms occupied by the royal couple face each other across a narrow passage.

"The couriers still had to sit outside, with their knees practically touching," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

Thus, if this custom still prevails, it means that when the Queen wants to send a message to Prince Philip, she will hand it to her lady-in-waiting, who will hand it to one courier, who will hand it to the other, who will then pass it to Philip's equerry for delivery to the prince—despite the fact that only 2 yards separate Elizabeth from her husband.

Although the royal couple lives informally when they are alone or with friends at Buckingham Palace, often serving themselves at meals, protocol is very strict for a state visit.

ORDER OF SERVICE

Mrs. F.D.R. recalled that "the monarch has to be served exactly 30 seconds ahead of the secondary royal person present. However, in the White House the President is always served first."

She said she was so anxious to conform with protocol that "I was prepared for the head butler to serve the party by stop-watch."

But President Roosevelt had a solution, "which was to have the monarch and the President served simultaneously, followed 30 seconds later by the First Lady and the secondary royal guest."

Are the President and the First Lady ever alone with their guests?

The official answer is "no," according to Mrs. Roosevelt, since "the ladies - in - waiting and the equerries take every meal with the President and royal party."

Evening Gowns End Casual Era

This is a season when women are going to dress to the teeth. Long evening gowns are back with a bang, and the era of the too-too-casual is ending.

Local sewing center experts suggest that you start now to make an important evening gown, even if there isn't a formal dance on your calendar at the moment.

An evening gown is easy to make. With today's versatile sewing machines, such as the new slant-needle automatics, the most fragile fabrics can be stitched as easily as cotton.

A boom to the home seamstress working on a strapless bodice is a new boning made entirely of nylon. This boning is so constructed that it is possible to stitch right over it.

In making a dress of satin it is important to base all seams before stitching, so that the fabric will not pull or pucker. Chiffon is not difficult to stitch, if you take advantage of new attachments, such as the flange hemmer, which makes a tiny rolled hem in sheer fabrics in a fraction of the time it would take to do the hem by hand.

At first glance, it might not seem possible that this fashion could take to soap and water. But it can. This is a hostess coat with draped top of orlon wool jersey and skirt of nylon chiffon. Top is gold and skirt is gold brightened further with orange.

Godparents' Duties Are Explained

Only Gift Obligation Is Nice Christening Present

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Friends of ours who live in another town have asked my husband and me to be godparents to their new baby. We were thrilled over this, but after hearing what we are expected to do, the thrill has gone! I always thought the godparents gave the baby a very nice christening present and that was all.

"I have been told that it is up to us to furnish the baby's christening clothes, give the clergyman a donation and also that we have to remember the baby's birthday every year with a present. Is this true? I'm afraid if we had known all this before we would have been forced to decline."

Answer: It is not the obligation of the godparents to provide the christening dress nor the fee to the clergyman (a donation given by the baby's father). Your actual requirements include your presence at the christening and as nice a christening gift as you can afford. This is your only gift obligation.

Later on should your godchild's parents die, you are expected to see that he (or she) is instructed in the tenets of his (or her) church.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our school has an informal dance once a week in the gymnasium. A group of boys and girls goes together. We are not paired off and sometimes there are more girls than boys.

"The last dance we went to, all the boys in the group asked the girls to dance as soon as the music started to play and I was left standing with two girls. I turned to one of them and asked her to dance. I was told later that I was wrong to leave the other girl standing alone. Will you please tell me what is proper in this situation?"

Answer: It would have been kinder had you waited until a boy asked one of them to dance or another girl joined your group, especially if the girl you left alone happened to be shy.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband died recently and six of the men from an organization to which my husband belonged were honorary pall-bearers at the funeral. I would like to know if it is necessary that a note of thanks be written to them."

Answer: No note is necessary and certainly, after your bereavement, none of the pallbearers will expect one from you.

Corduroy goes glamorous in a three-piece ensemble. The easy fitting jacket has three-quarter sleeves and two pockets. The slim skirt is combined with a softly tailored tie silk blouse matching in color for an all-in-one look. The leopard muff and satin turban are smart new fashion accessories.

Put Coats Away Clean

White and pastel orlon summer coats can be laundered and quickly dried in the automatic gas dryer before putting away. Toss in a few dry turkish towels or terry robes to act as buffers. Remove coat while slightly damp and hang on padded or molded plastic hanger. Finger-press seams and collar.

'Claws' Aren't Prize

Some women pride themselves in growing long "claws" without breaking a single one. However, claws detract more than they add to hand beauty. Keeping fingernails well-manicured and at a reasonable length will do more for a woman than the longest nails in captivity.

Automation Grows Fast in U.S. Grocery Industry

CORVALLIS, Ore. (INS) — Automation in America's food industry is growing rapidly as grocery stores get bigger, more ready-prepared foods are processed and the selection of food items increases.

An Oregon State College extension specialist, reviewing the growth of retail food stores, reports how shoppers are affected by the national pattern.

Zelma Reigle says today's store carries about 5,000 to 7,000 different items.

Just about everything from toiletries, packaged dinners and toys to housewares, music, magazines and potted plants can be found on the shelves or stacked along the walls of the modern supermarket.

To meet shoppers' wants, grocery stores have expanded and the number of big stores — those with sales of more than a million dollars a year — more than tripled in the U. S. in the six years from 1948 to 1954.

SERVICES IMPORTANT

In grandmother's day, marketing was a system of selling simple foods and fibers. Today, services are an important part of the trade.

Shoppers are buying more partially and fully prepared foods and ready-made textile products to save time and effort at home.

Prepared biscuit and cake mixes, ready-to-cook poultry, prepackaged vegetables that need no trimming and very little cleaning before cooking, frozen French-fried potatoes, frozen meat pies and others are typical of the work being done by marketing agencies instead of by homemakers.

Try Some Toning-Up Exercises

Flabby Upper Arm Indicates Aging

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The upper arm is one of those spots which is as indicative of a woman's age as her chinline. It takes real doing to bypass the flabbiness which is certain to appear unless you insure yourself against it with regular exercise. Even after years of neglect, improvement can be made.

Today I would like to give you a few toning exercises for the upper arms. 1. Stand with the left side toward a desk or chest or piece of furniture which is almost as high as your shoulder. Raise your left arm shoulder height and rest the fingertips of the left hand on top of the furniture.

Keep the fingertips on the furniture while you try to lower the arm; resist with the fingers. Press hard and hold the pressure for a few moments. After a while turn the right side toward the furniture and do the same thing.

2. Raise the left arm, elbow a little above shoulder height. Clench the left fist hard and turn the elbow in a bit. Lower arm. Do the same thing with the right arm.

Perhaps I can best help you understand this exercise by telling you to imagine that you are climbing a rope. Pull down and in hard, as though you were pulling yourself up the rope, with one hand after the other.

3. Pretend that you have a tennis racket in your right hand. Sweep down and up in a strong backhand stroke. Now back and around again in an overarm stroke. Continue, alternating under and over. After a time pretend that you are a left-handed player and do the same thing.

If you will do these exercises persistently, you soon will see great improvement in the appearance of your upper arms.

Be Stylish to Fingertips With New Long Gloves

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS) — To be stylish down to the fingertips you'll have to prove your fashion sense with your gloves.

For winter the new French gloves are long. All the top Paris designers show gloves of at least 8 or 10-button length even with daytime clothes.

Gloves of this smart new length are worn crushed on the forearm so they just meet the three-quarter-length sleeves of the modish suits and coats.

The color relation between gloves and outfit should be either sharply contrasting or exactly matching.

Balenciaga shows most of his smart black and white tweed outfits with long white kid-leather gloves for a youthful and fresh touch.

For after dark Dior and Madeleine de Rauch like the dramatic look of long black leather gloves. Those are particularly stunning with a black outfit. The "one-color look" is also popular in brown, red, blue and beige.

Any woman hates losing gloves, particularly those expensive long leather gloves. One trick against losing has been reported successful in Paris. Write your name and telephone number on the inside of each glove. You have a 50-50 chance of having your glove returned.

The tall and willowy favor the new-est-looking jackets long and bloused into a hip-band and double-breasted coats.

Suits adopt varied silhouettes, but the newest looking jackets are long and bloused into a hip-band, low-belted or low-bloused. Skirts are narrow and slightly tapered. This breaks the silhouette smack in half—perfect for tall girls.

Don't Overdo Sauce

Chef Dad may be spoiling a lot of good meat by overdoing on barbecue sauce. Sauce used on steak or other beef items should be rich in oil and plenty of seasoning, but for a pork sauce, go easy on fat and have plenty of chili sauce.

Cook in Quantity

No more heat radiating into the kitchen once you're through cooking. The minute you turn off the gas, the heat stops. On cool days cook once for many meals. For instance, a large batch of boiled potatoes can be used for salads, hashed browns or American fried. A dozen hard-cooked eggs in your gas refrigerator will come in handy too, for deviling, salads, garnishes and hors d'oeuvres.

Uninteresting Home Life Drives Man Elsewhere

Hubby Wants Comfort, Companionship and Stimulating Atmosphere

By RUTH MILLETT

Any wife who thinks her husband doesn't spend as much time at home as he could ought to ask herself a few questions.

One: Is our home as neat, attractive, comfortable and restful as I can make it?

Two. Would I be ashamed if company found me looking the way I usually look when my husband comes home from work?

If you don't make an effort to look as good for your husband as you do for others, you are making a mistake.

Three. When my husband is at home for an evening is there anything more stimulating for him to do than sit until bedtime watching TV?

Part of any homemaker's job is seeing that a home affords refreshing recreation — hobbies, games, music, entertaining friends, projects for fixing up the house and yard.

Four. When my husband comes home do I have anything to talk to him about besides household problems, the children, small annoyances and petty gossip?

If not, chances are you aren't leading any life of your own. A woman who reads, keeps up with local and national affairs and does some community work has plenty of interesting things to talk about.

Five. Am I a good hostess and does my husband know that his friends are always welcome in his own home? If not, a man who is sociable and gregarious is bound to try to find companionship in clubs and organizations.

No wife has ever been able to nag a husband into spending more time at home. But many a woman has managed to make a man prefer his own home

Raymond E. Danto Named Chairman of Fund Drive

Raymond E. Danto was today appointed chairman of the fund raising campaign for the Foundation for Aid to Emotionally Disturbed Children for southeastern Michigan.

The appointment was made by Mrs. Edward E. Wilson of Birmingham, president of the non-profit foundation.

Mr. Danto announced that the campaign would run from Oct. 16 through Oct. 25.

The purpose of the campaign is to bring a greater community awareness to the problem of the emotionally disturbed child and also to obtain additional financial support to continue the foundation's assistance in the educational rehabilitation of the children presently hospitalized at Pontiac State Hospital.

These 60 children are wards of the state and are under treatment at the hospital only because of the overcrowded conditions in other institutions.

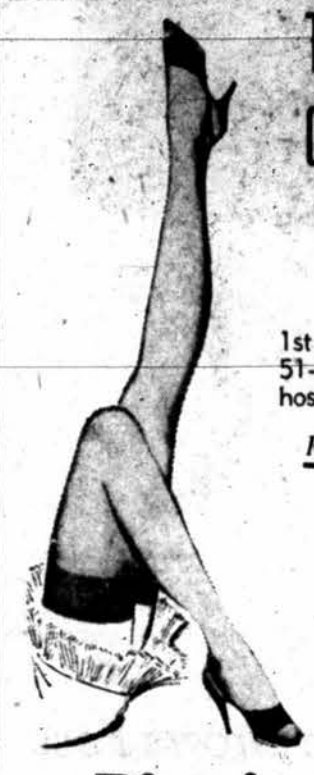

The foundation was formed a year ago by a group of people from Oakland and Wayne Counties.

Since its inception, the foundation has established a school for the children through the 10th grade, developed community visitation programs, obtained playground and recreational equipment, and established a 4-H training program.

What happened to all those Pontiac High critics? There can't be too many of them at Wisner Stadium on Friday nights when the Chiefs are playing at home.

Home attendance has been very disappointing to date. Besides the 2,500 to 3,000 high school and junior high students paid adult admissions have been only 1,500 at the most.

There's no doubt, the 1957 PHS squad is short of manpower, weak with its bench, but it's worth the buck to see the fire which the kids have had in winning their last two games.

It was sheer desire which enabled Pontiac to defeat a much stronger Arthur Hill aggregation, and coach Jesse MacLeay has installed this spirit in view of lacking numbers.

HOMECOMING FRIDAY

The student body at Pontiac High has put a lot of work in preparing for the homecoming festivities for Friday's game against Saginaw.

Whether PHS wins or loses tomorrow, one thing is evident which has been missing for a long time, the kids aren't giving up regardless of the odds.

There are enough PHS alumni in the city to fill the Stadium to its 8,000 capacity. This would be as good a game as any to do it.

CAGE STATISTICS INTERESTING

The Converse basketball yearbook, which annually puts out a complete list of statistics, has arrived and there are some very interesting figures which may interest the cage fans.

Basketball attendance at high school games was 100,547,077 and at college games, 13,360,643. Including AAU, Pro, Service teams, and touring quints like the Globetrotters, the total for the U. S. A. was 142,848, 698.

Foreign countries, led by Russia's 9,000,000 had a total attendance of 15,280,915.

One guess as to which state led in high school crowds. Naturally, it was Indiana with a total of 13,535,256. Texas was second with 7 million, Pennsylvania with 6,200,000, then Illinois with 5,775,000. Michigan was 12th with 2,683,500.

By colleges, New York was first with 994,486 followed by Pennsylvania with 848,358. Michigan was 13th with 393,203.

GIRLS EVEN DRAW

A unique situation prevailed in Iowa where the girls' state tournament outdrew the boys. A total of 15,311 watched the girls' finals in Des Moines last year.

Michigan State's Big Ten champions led Michigan colleges with 81,000 for 10 home games, U. of D. was second with 67,000 for 12 home games and Michigan was third with 58,000 for 11 home games.

Kansas led the nation, with Big "Wilt the Stilt" Chamberlain, with home and away total of 313,500 fans. Its football team hardly drew 200,000.

TO THE RESCUE — This looks like the modern version of the "Spirit of '76," but it's really football player Dick Buchlotz coming to the aid of the band for his Morton, Minn., High School. Undefeated Bruins Visit Olympia Ice

Wings Face Boston Tonight

DETROIT—Still seeking their 1st home victory of the season, the Detroit Red Wings face the Boston Bruins at Olympia Stadium tonight.

The game will be the 3rd for the Redshirts on Olympia ice this year and the 2nd of a five-game home stand.

In losing their 1st two games at Olympia, the Red Wings are off to their worst start at home since 1938. That year Detroit suffered successive defeats by Boston, the New York Americans and the New York Rangers before downing Chicago.

Boston, tonight's opponent, comes to Detroit as the co-holder of the National Hockey League lead with the Montreal Canadiens. The Bruins walloped the Rangers last night, 6-2, giving them six points for a tie with the Habs. Boston is unbeaten in three starts.

The Bruins have made few changes from the club which ousted Detroit in the playoffs last spring, then went on to the Stanley Cup finals.

They have assembled one new forward line by drafting center Bronco Horvath from Rochester and obtaining Johnny Bucyk from Detroit in trade for Terry Sawchuk. In addition, they picked up one time Red Wing defenseman Larry Hillman from Chicago on waivers just before the start of the season. Missing is only one of last year's regulars, veteran center Cal Gardner, who has taken over as coach at Hershey.

Personnel-wise, Boston has two lines intact. This includes the Don MacKenney, Leo LeBine, Real Chevrefils trio, which was the number one combination last year, and the Fleming Mackell, Jerry Toppazzini, Larry Regan threesome. This latter group has scored three of the club's six goals so far with Mackell the marksman on all three.

A new line is a combination of Horvath, Bucyk, and Vic Stasiuk. This group played together at Edmonton in 1954-55 and proved quite successful.

Veteran Johnny Peirson and Jack Caffrey are listed as spare forwards. Caffrey is out of action indefinitely with a bad knee, however, and Leo Boivin has moved up from the defense to replace him.

The club, even without Boivin, lists three rear guard combinations. Save for Hillman, all are holdovers. They include Ferny Flaman, Bob Armstrong, Allan Stanley, Doug Mohns, and Jack Blonda.

Don Simmons, who replaced Sawchuk in mid-season, continues as the Bruin goalie.

Boston enjoyed the most success against the Wings of any of Detroit's opponents last season. The Hub club won seven games and tied three. The Bruins were especially powerful on Olympia ice where they ended a long drought by winning four of the last five meetings and followed by capturing two of the three playoffs games played locally.

Simmons was a principal thorn in Detroit's side. He has faced them eight times and won five games. Three of his victories have been by the shutout route.

Paced by LeBine and Stasiuk each of whom netted five goals, the Bruins outscored Detroit 36 to 33 last season. Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay led the Wings with six goal efforts apiece.

Winter Loops Draw 13 From Tiger System

DETROIT (AP) — Thirteen players from the Detroit Tiger organization are playing winter league baseball.

Coach Willis Hudlin of the Tigers is managing the Mexico City Reds in the Vera Cruz League and he has six players from the Tiger organization on his roster. They are bonus babies George Thomas and Steve Boros, both infielders; catcher Charlie Lau, pitchers Jim Stump and Chuck Daniel, and shortstop Frank Kostro.

Bill Adair managed the Augusta farm club to a Sally League championship in 1957 and now he's coaching the Culican club in the Mexican West Coast League. On the Culican roster are catcher Tom Yewcic and outfielder-first baseman Larry Osborne, plus pitchers Ken Sheppard and Jim Proctor.

Bob Shaw is with the Marianap team in the Cuban League as one of the club's pitchers. Infielder Ron Samford is expected to play with Caguas-Rio in the Puerto Rican league along with pitcher John Tsitouris.

Blessing in Disguise

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Booker T. Washington-Waco Moore high school football game was called on account of darkness last night. A train passing by Cobb Stadium somehow snagged a wire leading to the power transformer and plunged the stadium into darkness. After a wait of nearly an hour, coaches called it a game. Washington was leading 43-0 at the time, anyway.

Baltimore Lone Unbeaten 11 in Western Sector

Detroit Has Memories of 34-14 Humiliation in Season Opener

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions will be after revenge and prestige when they entertain the Baltimore Colts Sunday afternoon in Briggs Stadium.

In the season opener at Baltimore, the Lions were handed a humiliating 34-14 setback, in a game which saw the Colts setup housekeeping in Detroit's backfield.

Passers Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote were smothered repeatedly as Colt linemen smashed through the offensive line.

Presently, Baltimore is only one of two teams which are unbeaten in the NFL. The other team is Cleveland and the Browns should continue their streak at four as they face the lowly Philadelphia Eagles for the second time.

Against Los Angeles last week, the Lions were in the best physical condition since the start of the exhibition season. Only Dave Middleton failed to see action among the regulars, and he is a doubtful starter for Sunday.

In the first game, Baltimore's big defensive line held Detroit to its smallest rushing total since 1939, permitting only 23 yards on the ground.

The big factor here however was the fact that fullback John Henry Johnson was missing, as was end and blocking back Jim Doran.

Quarterback John Unitas, who played his college ball with Louisville before moving into the NFL with Pittsburgh, was the big gun in the first game and he also sparked the Colts in the 45-17 drubbing handed Green Bay Sunday.

Big Alan (The Horse) Ameche scored three touchdowns as did Jim Mutscheller who took three touchdown passes from Unitas. The Colts currently are the best defensive team in the league, allowing only 99 yards rushing in three games. The Baltimore pass defense, like the Lions last Sunday, enjoyed a day of pass interceptions by grabbing off five Packer aerials.

In NFL scoring, Mutscheller is first with 30 points, Jug Girard, ex-Lion at Pittsburgh is second with 29 and Ameche is third with 24.

Coach George Wilson is still concerned over his ground game which has been inconsistent thus far. Last week Gene Gedman ran very well, while Johnson carried the bulk the week earlier.

A victory would give Detroit a 3-1 record and a share of the leadership with Baltimore.

A crowd of 56,000 is expected Sunday and 3,000 standing room only tickets will go on sale at 11:00 a.m. with the kickoff set for 1:30 p.m.

Xavier Eleven Next for Titans

U. of D. Aims for Third Victory in Homecoming Celebration

DETROIT — Pass minded Xavier University will visit University of Detroit Saturday afternoon in the Titans' homecoming game.

Quarterback Jerry Casper, who set all kinds of passing records while in high school in Niagara Falls, N.Y., is still throwing the ball for long yardage.

He has completed 15 of 40 passes for 332 yards. This is an average of 22 yards per completion.

The Titans fresh from a 28-0 victory over Wichita had several injuries as result of the game but all should be in sound health for Saturday.

Xavier has won three of five over Miami, Ohio. Last week the Musketeers lost a hard fought decision to intra-city rival Cincinnati, 23-14.

Dan Collins, junior righthalfback who saw only substitute duties behind Bruce Maher a sparkling freshman, may have won the starting position as result of his great one-man show against Wichita in which he gained 117 yards, scored and threw for touchdowns.

The Titans are slight favorites on the basis of depth. For the first time since 1946 U. of D. is able to field two complete units on the field.

Packer Mentor in Tight Spot

Game With 49ers Is Regarded as 'Make or Break' Test

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Sunday could be a pivotal day in the coaching life of Lisle "Liz" Blackbourn of the Packers.

Sources close to the National Football League club indicate strongly that the Packers' game with the San Francisco 49ers in Milwaukee could make or break Blackbourn.

By the same token, a victory or even a good showing in defeat — provided there is no repetition of Sunday's debacle against the Baltimore Colts — would take the heat off him.

The Packers hit rock bottom last Sunday when the Colts rode a 38-point second half to a 45-17 victory in an NFL game in Milwaukee. Green Bay held a 10-7 lead at the half, but fell apart like a house of pasteboards in the last two quarters.

It was the Packers' second NFL loss in a row following their upset victory over the Chicago Bears in the first game of the season here.

Memphis Edges Capac

Memphis of the Southern Thumb, which has occupied the league cellar, along with Dryden, yesterday emerged into the win column for the first time this season.

Entertaining Capac, in a game moved to mid-week because of teachers' institute, Memphians managed a single TD and extra point for a 7-0 victory. Dryden plays outside the league on Friday, still seeking it's season's 1st win.

SPARTANS PLAY NEW ROLE — Michigan State standouts on the football field, center Dan Currie and halfback Walt Kowalczyk (right), entertain Currie's four-month-old daughter, Jane, by trying to acquaint her with a football. Kowalczyk also acquired a few hints on baby care. His wife is expecting in December. The two gridders will be a little more than gentle when the Spartans face Purdue at East Lansing Saturday.

Alma Tests Unbeaten Dales Saturday, Wayne at Kazoo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undefeated but twice-tied Alma gets a crack at Hillsdale's 29-game winning streak Saturday in the top small college attraction around the state.

Tied by Indiana Central and Kalamazoo — both by 13-13 counts — the Scots travel to Hillsdale to meet a team that has not been defeated since Eastern Michigan turned the trick early in the 1954 campaign.

This clash is one of three MIAA struggles on tap. In the other games, Albion (2-2) goes to Olivet to meet a team that has not been able to chalk up a triumph since mid-1955 when Grand Rapids Junior College was a 19-6 victim.

Hope (3-1) goes to Adrian (2-2) in the other league encounter while Kalamazoo, off to a disappointing start (0-3-1) meets Wayne State (1-1) in a non-league night contest.

Both of Michigan's representatives in the IIAC have league struggles scheduled. Eastern Michigan takes on Eastern Illinois, winless in two league starts, at Charleston, Ill. The Hurons are 2-0 in conference activity.

Central Michigan is 0-5 overall and 0-2 in the IIAC. The Chippewas are at home against Northern Illinois, which has split two league decisions. It's Homecoming at Mount Pleassant and the Chips haven't disappointed the Alumni fans since 1949 when Hillsdale turned back the home town crew 8-0.

In non-league action, Western Michigan's Broncos, a surprise against Bowling Green when they held the Falcons to a 14-14 deadlock, meet Washington of St. Louis at Kalamazoo. Morehead State comes to Michigan Tech for a night game, Northern Michigan takes on Ferris at Big Rapids.

GETS NEW CONTRACT—Bill Rigney was signed to a two-year contract yesterday as manager of the new San Francisco Giants. Rigney has been the Giants' field manager for the last two seasons.

Ringey Plans Changes at 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bill Rigney, retained as manager of the San Francisco Giants for two years, says Californians may see an almost entirely different club than the one that played at the Polo Grounds in New York.

The only two players sure to be in the lineup — "untouchables" Rigney calls them—are outfielder Willie Mays and southpaw pitcher Johnny Antonelli.

President Horace Stoneham signed Rigney, practically a local product, to a new contract yesterday. He said both he and the manager were satisfied with the terms, but he didn't say what they are.

Rigney, 39, lives across San Francisco Bay in Walnut Creek and played ball for the now-defunct Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League before joining the Giants. He played for Stoneham nine years as an infielder and managed the team to sixth place finishes the past two seasons.

Next year will be different, he says. "The new surroundings will affect the club. This city has enthusiasm and it wears off on to the players. New York wasn't supplying the enthusiasm."

The bespectacled manager talked with reporters at Seals Stadium where the Giants will play next year. A new municipal stadium is to be completed for 1959.

Rigney said Mays should hit better because of the shorter centerfield—410 feet as compared to 483 at the Polo Grounds. And he said the cooler weather here, "should make the players stronger."

The Giants announced the purchase from World Champion Milwaukee of reliever Dave Jolly who posted a 1-1 record last year.

Rigney said several promising rookies would get a chance to make the big time.

He mentioned specifically first baseman Orlando Cepeda and catcher Bob Schmidt from Minneapolis of the American Assn., and Felipe Alou from Springfield, Mass. in the Eastern League. Rigney said scouts report Alou, who hit .330 last year, was the best outfielder on the Giants nine farm clubs.

"We needed one more player last year to lift us into the first division," Rigney said. He insisted that if he can find the right man—through a trade or developing a rookie—the Giants will be a contender in 1958.

The manager was deluged with questions about fabulous Willie Mays.

"All the things you read about him are true," Rigney said. "Why I just like to see him put a suit on every day."

INJURED WOLVERINES — Team doctor A. W. Coxon examines John Herrnstein's injured foot and it's unlikely that the Michigan back, hobbling around on crutches, will see action against Northwestern Saturday at Ann Arbor. Also pictured is Michigan center Gene Snider, who has an injured knee.

Bonus Foul Shot Produces 95-94 Win for Pistons

LANSING (AP) — The Detroit Pistons sank a bonus free throw in the last two seconds to score a 95-94 victory over the St. Louis Hawks in an exhibition game at the Civic Center last night.

The Pistons, who will make their debut in the National Basketball Assn's Western Division this year, were tied with their opponents 94-94 when Nat (Sweetwater) Clifton dropped one through the hoop from the foul line.

Piston forward George Yardley scored 24 points to emerge as the top point-maker in a thriller that saw the lead changing hands nine times. Bob Pettit racked up 21 points to lead the Hawks.

He Outquacks 'Em All

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Chick Major of Stuttgart, Ark., outquacked the field yesterday to win the Gulf Coast duck calling contest. Albert Sheppard of Groves, Tex., was second and former International and Louisiana titlist Paul D. Faalk of Lake Charles, La., was third. Miss Pat Peacock of Stuttgart, twice World Open champion and pre-tourney favorite, failed to place. Golden Moss of Port Arthur, Tex., 1956 International champion, also failed to place.

Snead and Demaret Defend Canada Cup

TOKYO (AP)—Top American golfers Sammy Snead and Jimmy Demaret arrived in Tokyo this morning for the Canada Cup Golf Tournament Oct. 24-27.

The two will represent the U.S. in the international match against players from 29 other countries. Snead and Ben Hogan won the Cup for the U.S. last year.

PHS Makes It Tough for Grapevine

There are a couple teams who make it tough for the grapevine pickers every week. Pontiac has been unpredictable, and Waterford just hasn't cooperated, but we are happy to see them win.

No one figured the Chiefs could beat Arthur Hill, well, now the win has convinced three of the pickers who see PHS doing it again against Saginaw. The coin-flip game will be Lake Orion-Clawson.

Waterford, so dismal against Farmington, came up to whip Berkley, to needle the grapes on the vine.

And what happened at Milford? We all goofed, thanks to Holly.

Cranes Call Off Saturday Games

Inroads of illness this morning was responsible for the cancellation of both football and soccer games set for Saturday at Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills.

School authorities said that flu attacks had struck a number of squadmen from both Cranbrook and Western Reserve School of Cleveland who were to have been the opposing athletes. Request for cancellation came from Cleveland, but Cranbrook authorities said it was a mutual arrangement. Games have been re-scheduled for Nov. 16 at Cranbrook.

The season of 1957 was a baseball milestone for Milwaukee reserve first baseman Frank Torre. It was the first time he played for the team he had been with the previous season.

Michigan Squad in Shaky Shape for 'Cat' Test

Oosterbaan Cuts Last Two Drills Short as Illness Spreads

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan is preparing a concoction of "home brew" to toss at Northwestern here Saturday.

Three Wolverines—quarterbacks Jim Van Pelt and Stan Noskin and right halfback Brad Myers—were plucked off Northwestern's doorstep in Evanston, Ill.

Strangely, there are only two homebreds on the entire Northwestern squad. They are left halfback Bob McKeiver and quarterback Chip Holcomb, son of Stu Holcomb, Northwestern athletic director.

Wolverines, meanwhile, will enter Saturday's 32nd annual clash with the Wildcats in their poorest condition of the season. A wave of flu and colds has reached epidemic proportions on the Michigan practice field.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, afraid to run the risk of over-exertion, has cut short the last two drills. Wolverines haven't been able to scrimmage this week and their offense and defensive work has been curtailed.

"We haven't been able to hold a decent workout since last week," Oosterbaan said yesterday.

Twenty-three of the ailing are considered varsity players. Most should recover by Saturday.

"But they'll need to work," Oosterbaan said. "Myers, for instance, has lost several days of practice and has missed learning the new stuff we put in as the season goes along."

The cold bug has been selective. It seems to hit in strategic positions. The top three left halfbacks—Jim Page, Bob Ptacek, and Darrell Harper—are victims. It's a similar story at right halfback, where Mike Shatusky, Myers, Fred Julian and Al Groce are all wheezing. Ptacek, tackle Jerry Bushong and end Dale Keller are the only Wolverines hospitalized so far.

WILDCAT ACE — Halfback Bob McKeiver of Northwestern will again be in action against Michigan when the two teams meet at Ann Arbor Saturday. McKeiver's performance against the Wolverines last year was outstanding.

Duffy Praises Attitude of His Senior Players

Squad Eager to Make No. 1 Rating Stand Up Against Purdue

EAST LANSING (AP) — The players decide the football games — not the record books or the oddsmakers.

And Michigan State football players have decided they want to wallop Purdue Saturday.

There's the pride in the No. 1 rating in the country. Also, the seniors on the squad want to make this a season to remember.

Dan Currie, the 225-pound 6-3 Spartan center and linebacker from Detroit, was talking about the upcoming contest. Currie already is being mentioned as All-America material on the basis of his slashing play in the 1st three MSU victories.

"The seniors figured that against Michigan it would be our last trip down to Ann Arbor," Currie said. "We wanted to make it good."

(It was good for Michigan State, the 35-6 beating representing the highest score the Spartans have run up on the Wolverines.)

"We took a lot of gas last year from Purdue," said Currie, referring to the Boilermaker struggle before bowing 12-9.

"Well," he declared, "this is our last trip around the circuit so we're going to put out for this one too."

Daugherty praised the senior spirit as the best on any team he's coached.

Daugherty has one worry—the flu bug that has knocked out so many football teams and currently is pestering Michigan.

All the squad received shots early in the season but Dr. James S. Feurig, team physician, said the vaccine is only about 70 per cent effective.

As the game came down near the wire time, Michigan State was a 20-point favorite in the official betting odds.

Albion's Nash Grid Workhorse

Briton Fullback Lugs Ball on One-Half of Team's Plays

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Apparently no one ever bothered to put down the requirements that a ball carrier must meet to become a "workhorse" of a backfield. But it's safe to assume that Dick Nash qualifies.

The Albion College football fullback has carried the ball on exactly one half of his team's rushing plays. In 85 carries, Nash has gained 337 yards for an average of 3.96 yards per carry.

Nash is the leading ball carrier in the MIAA, and in 2nd place is his teammate, Don Vangilder, who has carried 46 times for 216 yards.

Hillsdale has an outstanding array of fine backs and Earl O'Shaughnessy (Keego Harbor), the state's leading collegiate scorer, has carried only 21 times but has picked up 194 yards.

His teammate, Jerry Gillespie, has carried only four times — but has averaged 28 yards per carry with a 112-yard total.

Fred Hobart of Adrian leads the MIAA passers with 23 completions in 61 attempts for 368 yards. Albion's Bob Gamble is second with 18 out of 43 for 277 yards. Dick Ayling (former Pontiac player) of Alma has a remarkable 61 per cent completion average but has thrown only 36 passes—with 22 completions and 214 yards.

Spartans Tops in Rushing

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State's rise to the No. 1 national rating in football today was reflected in official Big Ten statistics.

In conference victories over Indiana and Michigan, the Spartans have averaged an amazing 525½ yards per game, 44.5 points in scoring and have choked off their two foes for an average of three points.

Michigan State's 376 average in rushing tops the Big Ten while Wisconsin with 305 and Ohio State with 299 follow. Illinois has picked up 208 in passing to head that department, while Iowa has 181 and MSU 148.

As for ball control, Ohio State leads with an average of 85 plays while MSU is only a shade behind with 84.5. Illinois, however, has the best yardage per play, 6.4, although having but 51 plays, fewest only to Indiana with 50. MSU has a 6.2 average per play and Iowa 6.1.

Queen Elizabeth Will See Game in South

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Football fans won't be able to see the Maryland-North Carolina game on their television sets Saturday.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has ruled that the game, to be played before Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, cannot be shown on TV.

William W. Cobey, Maryland's athletic director, said last night the NCAA decision was announced to him by James H. Weaver, commissioner of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Rookie Guy Sparrow, former University of Detroit basketball star, scored six points in the last quarter to break open a tight game and the New York Knickerbockers went on to defeat the Syracuse Nationals 96-89 in an NBA exhibition game Wednesday night.

The Knicks were holding a slim 83-82 lead with four minutes remaining when Sparrow went on a rampage, scoring three straight baskets.

PHS After Third Straight Victory Friday Evening

Homecoming Highlight of Grid Activities in Important SVC Clash

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Saginaw Valley action continues Friday night at Wisner Stadium with the determined Chiefs facing an angry and disgusted Saginaw eleven.

Pontiac is riding high on a two game winning streak since dropping the opener to Wyandotte, by defeating Lansing Sexton and Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Saginaw, on other hand, did everything but win against defending champion Flint Northern last week. A last minute touchdown on a punt return covering 71 yards prevented the tie and ended 14-7 for Northern.

This has put the Trojans in an angry mood. Saginaw would have probably come to Pontiac little over-confident, but as result of the Chiefs' decisive win over Arthur Hill, coach Herb Korf feels his team will take the game much more seriously. Saginaw is a 12-point favorite.

"We figure our defensive unit the strongest point of the team," said Korf, who uses only four players both ways.

This means Pontiac will have to show its stamina against greater numbers. The Chiefs have nine players who play offensively and defensively.

"I have no fears that guys like Brown, only a sophomore, Palaian, Duncan, Hardiman, Hill and the others will give up," said MacLeay.

Big praise was heaped on Dick Whitmer, who has taken to his new position at fullback in outstanding fashion. Arthur Hill coach Kurt Kampe even noted the fact that Whitmer's alertness, offensively and defensively hurt his ball club.

Pontiac will have utilized his greater running speed to the fullest advantage against the huge Saginaw line which averages 200 on offense and 212 on defense.

Quarterback Dick Jones, a 170-pound junior, will call the plays for Saginaw, with Bob Yauck, a 212-pounder doing the line busting.

Skippers' Friday Foe Overlooked in I-L

Southfield 11 Big Surprise

By BILL CORNWELL

Southfield High School was not too highly regarded when the 1957 football season began. Head coach Monte Charles saw graduation take a heavy toll of his 1956 squad and this year's outlook was a dim one.

But a glance at the Inter-Lakes Conference standings finds the Bluejays in a tie for 1st place with Farmington on a 2-0 record. Their overall mark is three wins and one tie.

Now the popular favorite to sweep Inter-Lakes honors, Southfield comes to Waterford Friday night for an all-important game with the rebounding Skippers.

Unanimous pre-season choices to make a strong bid for the crown, the Skippers have been slow rounding into form. They were whitewashed twice and tied on another occasion before winning their 1st game last week, a 12-6 verdict over Berkley.

Southfield has surprised nearly everyone, including Charles. "I'm just as amazed as everybody else," said Monte, "I didn't think we'd do so well, but the boys have improved rapidly and their spirit is good."

Defense has been a potent factor in Bluejay success. They have allowed only one touchdown thus far and their goal line has not been crossed in the last three outings.

Charles calls big Todd Grant the key defensive performer. The 190-pound, 6-foot-4 linebacker averages nine tackles per contest on defense and also stars at center in Southfield's Wing-T offense. Jim McCann is another defensive standout at tackle.

Southfield is primarily a running team with 1300 yards gained on the ground compared to 300 by air. But quarterback Bob Filar has kept enemy defenses honest with six pass completions in 13 attempts for two touchdowns.

Spearheading the ground assault are halfbacks Tom Ridley and Joe Moore and fullback Jim Zurcher, a barrel-chested 230-pounder with deceptive speed.

The Skippers have Charles and his staff worried. "We're a little leery about this game," Monte said. "We think they're on the way back up and due to cut loose at any time," he added.

Waterford coach Dave Freeman is plenty concerned about the Jays. "Southfield is the big game for us," Freeman commented, "we know we've got to win this one and our spirit is high."

With the exception of junior quarterback Wendy Meyer, the Skippers are at full strength. Meyer suffered a head injury during practice and is expected to see only limited duty. Senior Jim Green will get the starting assignment.

Oxford-Ortonville Tilt Is Postponed

Flu has postponed another high school football game in the Oakland County area. Friday night's South Central Conference duel at Oxford between Ortonville and Oxford is the latest grid attraction to be delayed by the roaming virus.

The postponement was announced Wednesday afternoon by Ortonville coach Ted Freymiller. Ortonville requested the postponement after 41 of 82 varsity players came down with the disease.

It is the 2nd postponed contest this week. The Rochester-Center Line game was called off Tuesday because of flu.

Marquette Retains UP Gridiron Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the 5th straight week, Marquette has been selected as the top high school football team in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The Redmen have a perfect 7-0 record going and play their final game Friday night at home against old rival Manistique.

Here's the way the Upper Peninsula writers rated the top ten:

1. Marquette
2. Kingsford
3. Menominee
4. Ishpeming
5. Calumet
6. Crystal Falls
7. Escanaba
8. Bessemer
9. Stephenson
10. Stambaugh

Family Comes First

DETROIT (AP) — Al Mackenzie, Wayne State University's leading ground gainer, will be lost to the Tartars for the rest of the season.

The junior fullback, who gained 81 yards rushing in two games, told coach Herb Smith he was forced to drop football because of financial problems involved in raising a family.

Yanks Rebuilding! Buy Four Farmhands

NEW YORK (AP)—In the first promised step aimed at bringing the World Championship back to New York, the Yankees today purchased four farmhands including Ryne Duren, the American Assn.'s leading pitcher.

The Yanks also bought the contracts of first baseman John Jaciuk, shortstop Fritz Brickell and lefthanded pitcher Ed Dick from Binghamton.

Asked to Help Choose Successor

Hank Fired by Tribe

CLEVELAND (INS) — Hank Greenberg, fired Wednesday as general manager of the Cleveland Indians, finds himself in the unique position today of being counted on to help pick his successor.

Moments after Tribe board chairman William R. Daley announced that Greenberg's services were regretfully being terminated, president Myron Wilson told newsmen that he would seek Hank's counsel in choosing a new operating head for the $4,000,000 franchise.

Greenberg, a member of the board of directors which voted him out during a two-hour meeting, will remain as general manager until December when his $60,000-a-year contract expires. He said he would maintain his large holdings in the club, and added that he abstained from voting on the question of renewing his contract.

"I have great respect for Hank's judgment," Wilson said. "Hank will help to find his successor. We want a sound baseball man."

Although Wilson said "we haven't a soul in mind," the rumor mills were grinding busily.

Most prominently mentioned as the man to be entrusted with reviving fan interest in Cleveland was Bill Dewitt, former co-owner of the St. Louis Browns and more recently an employe in the New York Yankees' front office.

Others linked to the job are Bill Veeck, who guided the Indians during their greatest period of prosperity, and Paul Richards, who is both general manager and field manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Greenberg's successor faces a staggering task of re-selling Cleveland fans on the Indians. Since 1949 — the season prior to Greenberg's elevation to the top post — attendance has slumped from 2,223,000 to 722,000 in 1957.

It was in the face of the drastic attendance losses and fan and press criticism of Greenberg that the directors voted to remove Greenberg as general manager, Daley explained.

He hastened to add, however, that "No one can say who is at fault" in the decline in attendance.

Although flashing an occasional smile, Greenberg, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame and one of the game's all-time great sluggers, was obviously deeply stung by the action.

It's Anti-Freeze Week!

DU PONT ZEREX® ANTI-FREEZE

PERMANENT TYPE

WITH MR-8

KEEPS YOU GUARANTEED* SAFE AGAINST FREEZE-UPS, RUST-UPS ... AND IT WON'T ROT HOSE

SEE YOUR DEALER NOW!

Now is the time to install your anti-freeze. If you wait, a freeze may catch you unprepared, or your serviceman may be too rushed to give your car the complete cooling system servicing it needs.

Anti-Freeze Week has been set aside by your dealer as the best time to service your cooling system and make your car guaranteed safe for the entire winter with Du Pont "Zerex." See your serviceman now, during Anti-Freeze Week, and get "Zerex" with MR-8!

How MR-8 protects your car

1. Works in all waters. Du Pont "Zerex" anti-freeze with MR-8 is compatible with all types of water. Even in hard water the inhibitor stays in perfect solution. Hard water makes the inhibitors used in many anti-freezes precipitate out in use, materially reducing their protective qualities.

2. Will not rot rubber hose. Du Pont "Zerex" anti-freeze with MR-8 will not rot or soften rubber hose because it contains no oil. Oil is extremely harmful to some radiator hose, softening or rotting it sometimes in one season. Then the hose may collapse or burst, causing overheating and engine damage.

3. Neutralizes all acids. The seven different metals used in modern cooling systems can become corroded when a permanent anti-freeze solution turns acid. However, "Zerex" with MR-8 has extra "reserve alkalinity" that gives winter-long protection from the corrosive action of cooling system acids.

4. Keeps rust in suspension. Du Pont "Zerex" anti-freeze with MR-8 keeps cooling systems clean and free-flowing. Because "Zerex" contains no oil, it does not cause rust to stick to cooling system surfaces and clog radiator passages, which can cause overheating and engine damage.

*DU PONT GUARANTEE

"Zerex"® anti-freeze will protect the cooling system of your car from freezing, rust or corrosion for one full winter—and will not leak out—if used in a properly operating, watertight cooling system and if used according to Du Pont directions printed on the "Zerex" container.

Du Pont guarantees, too, that "Zerex" will not boil away and can be used with either high- or low-opening thermostats, at high or low altitudes in extreme driving or weather conditions. "Zerex" will not harm rubber hoses, gaskets, pump packing, metal parts of the cooling system or car finish. "Zerex" mixes perfectly with water, flows freely and transfers heat efficiently.

By CHUCK ABAIR

Two of the four remaining Oakland County teams with perfect records clash head-on Friday night in a game which could determine the eventual Oakland B League champion early. It will be Clawson at Lake Orion.

Both will take identical 3-0 season records into the contest with Lake Orion having the league edge of two wins to one. But neither team has really been tested yet. All six games have been by lopsided margins.

Clawson, which will start nine seniors, is rated the slight favorite despite having to play on foreign soil. The chief reasons are that the Trojans will have a big overall weight advantage and a more experienced line.

Lake Orion is expected to be outweighed 9½ pounds per man with Clawson fielding a starting unit averaging 180.

The Dragons have outscored Clawson 94 to 93 but have allowed opponents 25 points while the Trojan line, led by 215-pound Larry Lomako and linebacker Pat Haley, has given up just one TD.

Both schools were idled by the flu last week and should be well-rested for their crucial meeting although some of the players on each team are not fully recovered as yet. One of these is Jim Drake, fleet Lake Orion halfback who leads the county in scoring.

Drake will not start but is expected to see considerable action. Big question mark for Clawson is fullback Lowell Acton, who suffered a leg injury two weeks ago.

Trojan boss Bob Acton summed up the importance of the tilt today with his statement: "Whoever wins the game will probably be sure of at least a share of the title."

There will be several other important games around this sector this weekend. They include unbeaten Hazel Park at Birmingham in the Eastern Michigan loop, power-packed Romeo at Lapeer in the Tri-County opener and Saturday's Armada - Almont duel for the Southern Thumb lead.

In Friday Games

Top W-O Teams Favored

A nip-and-tuck Wayne-Oakland League football race is expected to become even more confused after Friday's full slate of games regardless of how the final outcomes go.

The loop's top teams are favored to keep rolling and if they all are successful things will really tighten up among the leaders. An upset or two would throw open the gates for wide open scramble.

The biggest chance of a possible upset will be at Holly where the big Broncos play host to a twice-beaten an angry Clarkston eleven. Another interesting affair may turn up at Northville where Bloomfield Hills becomes the 1st local team to meet the powerful defending champions.

Other league play will find Milford going after its 4th win in five starts at Clarenceville and improved West Bloomfield is at home against Brighton.

Holly will be heavily favored in the feature W-O contest after its impressive battering of Milford last week to take over 1st place. Clarkston took a bad beating at the hands of West Bloomfield last week and the Wolves realize they must win this one to stay in the running.

Bloomfield Hills and Northville were both idled by the flu bug and should be in top shape for their tussle. Despite being flattened by Holly, Milford still has title aspirations and hopes to bounce right back into contention.

West Bloomfield has been improving rapidly and can move past Brighton in the standings by winning.

Modern Basketball Too Exciting, Pioneer Says

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Basketball has become too exciting and professionalized, in the opinion of the only survivor of the first game of basketball played 66 years ago.

Now 87, Raymond Kaighn recalls vividly the cold December day in 1891 when he and several other football players trotted into the gymnasium at the YMCA training school in Springfield, Mass., and played the first basketball game.

"We used a soccer ball," Kaighn said. "It turned out that all of the players wanted to shoot—just like today."

Kaighn, whose appearance belies his years, has a keen memory. He said, "basketball is tremendously faster today. It's too exciting. The fast pace keeps you keyed up constantly; the tension is terrific. I have to take things a little quieter."

Basketball has become too professionalized, Kaighn declared, because of "overemphasis on the desire to win. Basketball has become a big business." In contrast to the early years of basketball, Kaighn recalled, "today's coaches do all the thinking for the team as a whole. It's gotten to be a serious business because they want to win, win, win."

Kaighn enjoys talking about his early basketball days. He played on the Springfield football team in 1891 along with Dr. James Naismith, who invented basketball, and Amos Alonzo Stagg, the famous coach. Naismith died in 1939. Kaighn and Stagg still correspond occasionally.

Looking back to 1891, Kaighn said "we were all tired of Swedish calisthenics. We wanted a winter sport that would fill in between football and baseball. We wanted one with the excitement of football but without the danger."

So Naismith began working on the idea of the new game.

"He was going to use boxes for us to throw the ball in," Kaighn said, "but the janitor couldn't find boxes. Instead, a peach basket was installed at each end of the gymnasium. The baskets were fastened at the base of the balcony running track. There were 18 players in the first game, nine on each side and 13 rules to the game.

Kaighn explained that when the ball would go into the peach basket, the janitor would have to get a ladder and retrieve the ball. He said, "one of the players, I don't know who, thought about taking the bottom out of the baskets."

Kaighn explained how backboards came into being. He said, "the young fans began to have their favorite team. These youngsters would stand on the balcony near the basket and, to help their team, would kick out a shot before it settled in the basket. To do away with this, a big piece of wooden planking was placed behind each basket."

Williams Slugging Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — Thumpin' Ted Williams, an old hand at winning American League slugging championships, grabbed his ninth crown in 1957 with a lusty .731 average —highest in the majors in 16 seasons.

Statistics compiled by the Associated Press showed today that the Boston Red Sox' outfielder accumulated 307 total bases in 420 at bats. Not since Williams won his first slugging title in 1941 with a .735 average has any player in either league exceeded that mark.

The 1957 National League slugging championship went to Willie Mays of the New York Giants for the third time. The flashy outfielder accounted for 366 total bases in 585 trips for a .626 percentage.

The 39-year-old Williams, who also took the AL batting title with a .388 average, collected 163 hits. The stylish outfielder's total base output included 28 doubles, one triple and 38 home runs.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, the American League slugging champ in 1955 and 1956, ranked second to Williams with a .665 average. Washington's Roy Sievers, the league home run pace-setter with 42, finished third with .579.

The St. Louis Cards' Stan Musial, a six-time leader, was runnerup in the National League with a .612 mark. Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, who had the most total bases in either league, 369, wound up third with .600.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

A few weeks ago while I was instructing a class, one pupil told me he thought the follow-through in bowling was "a waste of time." Once he released the ball, he reasoned, there was nothing he could do to help it, so why continue on with the follow-through motion?

Actually, there isn't anything he can do once the ball is gone. But by not following through, he's running the risk of dumping the ball on the alley or approach without putting any finger-lift or wrist turn on it. And finger-lift or wrist-turn are necessary for applying the "stuff" which causes a ball to curve or hook into the pins.

I recommend continuing the arm swing forward and in front of you after the ball is released. The hand should come up about headhigh in front of you. Don't let it swing out to the right or the left, or you may be pitching your ball in that same direction.

As I explained to the class, it's like reaching out to shake hands with the target.

Pitt, Army Clash Saturday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—It should be small consolation to Army that cautious Johnny Michelosen thinks his Pitt football team has shown definite improvement every game and that he expects further improvement against the Cadets.

Cautious Johnny won't go so far as to predict Pitt will win but he displayed few jitters after watching his team work out yesterday.

The game at West Point will go a long way toward determining the ultimate winner of the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern collegiate football supremacy. Pitt is ahead in the point rating at the moment.

The Panthers, with the exception of guard Dick Carr—stricken by the flu—and halfback Jim Theodore, who has a bad knee, are expected to be in good physical condition.

Pitt's No. 1 quarterback, Bill Kaliden, is scheduled to start. He suffered a bruised thigh against Southern California two weeks ago and didn't see action last week as Pitt humbled Nebraska 34-0 for its third consecutive victory. After being shut out 26-0 by all-winning Oklahoma in the opener, Pitt rebounded to squeeze by Oregon State 6-3 and defeat Southern California 20-14.

Army, with a 2-1 record, has met only one of Pitt's opponents. Red Blaik's team beat Nebraska 42-0 in their opener, then went on to rally and defeat Penn State 27-13. Last week at Philadelphia Notre Dame surprised the Black Knights 23-21.

"I imagine Army has been working harder this week after that Notre Dame defeat," Michelosen grinned. "But I'm not particularly worried that Army may rebound or that the odd makers favor them by a point or so. The team that scores three touchdowns should win the game."

INDUSTRY TAKES A HAND — Aircraft engineer H. X. Brown of Temco Aircraft Corp. steps in to relieve physics teacher shortage at Cedar Hill, Tex. When they graduate, however, the students will find the boom for engineers has diminished.

Shortage Ends for Engineers?

Many Firms Reduce Demands; Less Waste Noted in Labor Use

NEW YORK (NEA) — All the signs point one way: The once-desperate shortage of engineers being graduated from college is over. But nobody on the hiring line wants to say so.

Instead, recruiting and personnel people who must satisfy their companies' needs for graduate engineers talk in terms of unfilled quotas, future expansion and too-early-to-tell.

And so the reporter on the spot is left to figure out why there is so wide a distance between what he hears and what he sees:

On the one hand, graduate engineers are starting at their highest salaries ever: an average of $450 per month.

On the other hand, the Engineers Joint Council reports, this will be the first time in 10 years that starting salaries have not gone up significantly.

On the one hand, many companies say that they did not fill their quota of placing young engineers. On the other hand, daily newspaper advertisements for engineers have fallen off significantly.

Union Carbide, which requires all kinds of engineers, hired about 1,300 science - trained graduates last year, but expects to hire about 1,000 this year.

"Last year was exceptional for us," a Union Carbide spokesman said. "We'll only be going back to our normal hiring this year."

Implcit in his statement: there were enough scientists to meet his demand.

And from Westinghouse: "Next year will be easier." And from other companies, agreement.

With dozens of variables at work in the job market — from federal spending to birth rate — it is impossible to foretell exactly how much easier the situation will be or how long any condition will last. Apparent, however, is picture of several factors working to prevent a dire shortage.

With some kinds of government defense spending about to bow before the economy axe, some kinds of industries will hire fewer engineers and need fewer of those who are already employed.

While the number of women joining the engineering ranks is making almost negligible headway with industry, women are filling jobs as technicians and computer operators — jobs often held by graduate engineers.

Two surveys show that part of the demand for engineers was artificial—stock-piling by companies trying to beat the shortage and the misuse of engineers on jobs that could be handled by technicians.

As important as any factor, the burgeoning boom in college enrollments will graduate more and more engineers into the economy. Last year there were 34,000 graduate engineers. In the class of 1960 there will probably be 40,000.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR SALE AND Removal From Site of Existing Residential Buildings for Board of Education, Pontiac, Michigan.

Sealed firm price proposals, in duplicate, for the purchase and removal from the present site of an existing one-story, six-room frame residential building, located at 66 Franklin Street, between Fern and Astorwood Streets, Pontiac, Michigan, will be received until 2:00 p.m., EST, Tuesday, October 22, 1957, at the Office of the Board of Education Purchasing Department, 40 Patterson Street, Pontiac, Michigan. At this time the bids will be publicly opened, read aloud and taken under advisement by the Board of Education.

This dwelling is inclusive of all plumbing, electrical and heating appurtenances.

The work shall include the dismantling and removal of all utility services within the building area and removal of all resultant debris, etc., from the site. The removal of basement masonry work and the backfilling of the basement excavation will be covered under a separate contract; however, general debris from the removal of the existing dwelling shall not be accumulated and left in the basement excavation.

Access to the building may be gained by application to the Office of the Director of Purchasing, attention of A. S. Levely, 40 Patterson Street, Pontiac, Michigan.

Bid proposals may be obtained from the Board of Education Purchasing Department, 40 Patterson Street, Pontiac, Michigan.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $50.00, as guarantee and security for the acceptance and performance of the Contract. Checks shall be made payable to Mr. M. Osmun, Secretary of the Board of Education, Pontiac, Michigan. The deposit will be returned to all unsuccessful bidders within five days of bid opening.

No proposal once submitted may be withdrawn for at least 10 days after the actual opening of bids. The Board of Education, Pontiac Public Schools, reserves the right to waive any irregularity in any bid, or to reject any or all bids, should it be deemed for its best interest.

465-Foot Section Drops in River

Alaskan Bridge Tumbles

TAYLOR, B.C. (AP)—Left without support when the shale crumbled beneath a 25,000-ton anchor block, the north span of the four-million-dollar, 2,200-foot Alaska Highway suspension bridge crashed into the Peace River yesterday.

No one was injured and 3,000 persons watched as the 465-foot section buckled and dropped with a tremendous roar, seven hours after engineers had noted the northern anchor was sinking.

The collapse cut the main highway into Alaska but traffic — amounting to some 200 to 300 vehicles a day—was quickly rerouted to a small ferry 10 miles down stream.

The bridge is 600 miles north of Vancouver, B.C., and 40 miles northwest of Dawson Creek, B.C., starting point of the highway.

It was feared the center span of the bridge also would give way as its only support were two 190-foot cable towers. Engineers said the structure was sagging and might come down "pretty soon."

The bridge, largest of 133 on the northern road, was built in 1942 by the United States Army. The piers were built by a Canadian firm but the superstructure consists of the remains of a bridge hauled here from Oakland, Calif.

Plane Goes 900 Miles Back to Home Base

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP) — A heavily loaded U.S. Air Force Globemaster struggled 900 miles back to Christchurch today after one engine quit and another acted up on a trip to the antarctic.

After a long six hours over water, the huge plane was just two miles from the U.S. operations base at Christchurch when the second engine gave up. The pilot, Capt. Vincent de Cesare, brought the plane in safely on the two remaining motors.

Japanese Police Clash With Workers

SAGAMIHARA, Japan (AP) — Japanese police clashed today with union workers demonstrating outside the U.S. engineer supply center here.

The workers were protesting their discharge by a Japanese firm working at the supply center under contract to the U.S. Army. The firings resulted from the cutback of American forces in Japan now under way.

Police said two union members and 11 policemen were injured, one seriously. The Army said there more than 1,000 workers in the crowd but all had left by late afternoon.

No U.S. troops went into action.

Asian Flu Kills at Least Fifty

Many of U.S. Deaths Complicated by Other Illness Factors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There have been at least 50 deaths from Asian flu—and possibly many more—since the respiratory disease started sweeping across the nation several months ago.

Many of these deaths, however, were complicated by other factors such as pneumonia or chronic illness. And many of the cases were not confirmed by laboratory tests to be Asian flu.

The flu seems to deal harshly with retarded children, who often have weak resistance to such diseases. There have been several serious outbreaks in institutions for such children in widely scattered places.

When it is considered that there have been possibly several hundred thousand cases throughout the nation, the mortality rate is very low. New York City alone has had 65,000 cases, of suspected Asian flu since Sept. 27.

Figures are hard to come by, however. Reporting techniques differ with different state health departments. Because the number of cases is so large, it is impossible to confirm by means of a lengthy laboratory test, whether each one actually is Asian flu.

In many areas schools and colleges have been closed as the flu cases mount. A number of football games have been called off.

Song Written to Queen

NEW YORK (AP) — Band leader Guy Lombardo will introduce a new song dedicated to Queen Elizabeth II during the Queen's visit here next Monday. The band leader said the song, "Her Majesty, the Queen of Great Britain," was written by his brother Carmen.

The costs of all accidents in the United States in 1956 were enough to provide three shots of Salk vaccine for every person in the world.

Why do so many people die in fires each year? The Institute for Safer Living says that a home fire is more than just a fire — it creates poisonous, choking fumes that quickly spread and kill. It also creates panic, often unreasoning terror, that traps and paralyzes its victims. These "by-products" of fire figure in the greater number of fire deaths.

X-Rays Taken of Blood Vessels

Coronary Arteries Can Be Shot With Complete Safety, Doctors Say

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS)—X-ray pictures of the coronary arteries to determine their degree of narrowing or obstruction have been taken in 20 humans with complete safety.

This was reported by a University of Minnesota team of investigators at the 43rd annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, in Atlantic City.

The doctors said that a prerequisite for any direct surgery on the coronary vessels is a detailed knowledge of the precise site of obstruction.

In patients ranging in age from 17 to 78, the investigators injected contrast dye under local anesthetic without complications. This action permitted the coronaries to be visualized under fluoroscope or X-ray film.

A feature of the dye injections has been the absence of any unfavorable aftermath in patients with coronary heart disease, the investigators noted.

The report was made by Drs. Alan P. Thal, Richard Lester and Stephen Richards.

In another paper, a University of Mississippi surgical team demonstrated that a dog's heart can be stopped up to 90 minutes, then restored to function. It has been believed heretofore that permanent damage would result if a heart were deprived of blood for 30 or perhaps 45 minutes.

Dr. Watts R. Webb and Hector S. Howard said the "extension viability" was achieved by flushing out all blood from the heart's vessels with a special solution.

Says Jobs Aplenty Await MSU Seniors

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan State University dean states that more than 600 companies are dangling job offers before MSU's senior class.

Dr. Alfred K. Seelye, dean of MSU's College of Business Administration and Public Service, so told the management conference of the Detroit Sales Executives Club.

Dean Seelye said engineering students are receiving on the average of eight job offers and business administration seniors are averaging five offers. The jobs being offered to the latter group average from $400 to $420 a month.

'58 Buick Transmission Is Three-in-One Job

DETROIT (INS) — Robert J. O'Grady, automative sales manager for Reynolds Metals Co., today announced the 26-lb. aluminum transmission used on the 1958 Buick was the largest production aluminum casting ever used.

O'Grady said it was the first transmission to combine three formerly separate parts into a single permanent casting.

He predicted at least two other auto divisions would adopt aluminum transmissions and other major components within the next 18 months.

Stock Market Prices Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy selling drove prices down in early Stock Market trading today.

Key stocks were off from fractions to 2 points in a general retreat. The biggest losses appeared among steels, aircrafts and oils.

The high-speed ticker tape was as much as two minutes behind the pace of transactions at the start as a succession of big blocks changed hands.

After the initial sell-off, turnover moderated and prices improved somewhat.

Brokers said that uncertainties about the Syrian situation and business prospects which developed yesterday had more effect today.

Aircrafts begar recouping their losses which ran at the start to around 2 points for Douglas and more than a point for United Aircraft and General Dynamics. Martin and North American Aviation converted fractional losses to gains.

Down a point or so were U.S. Steel, Chrysler, American Smelting, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Eastern Air Lines, International Paper and Union Carbide.

Opening blocks included Chrysler down 1½ at 69 on 5,000 shares; Gulf Oil off 2 at 109 on 2,500; U.S. Steel off ⅝ at 55½ on 4,000; and Douglas Aircraft off 1½ at 59 on 1,100.

Make Appointments at Ford's Troy Plant

Four new appointments were announced today by the Tractor and Implement Division of Ford Motor Co. in Troy.

Wendell E. Butler, formerly Detroit regional sales manager, has been named manager of the merchandising department at the Troy plant.

His Detroit post has been filled by Richard F. Lynch, former regional sales manager at Hartford, Conn.

Butler, who joined Ford in 1953 after 13 years with the Galloway Co. of Waterloo, Ia., resides at 4680 Burnley Dr., Birmingham.

Lynch will move his family to the Detroit area from Connecticut.

Two men are being shifted from the division's general offices at Troy to the Des Moines, Ia., implement plant. They are P. J. McGarry, named plant controller, and W. R. Phillips, new production manager.

McGarry had been manager of the design cost analysis department, and Phillips, manager of the quality control department.

Ford Releases Details on 1958 Thunderbirds

DEARBORN (INS) — Ford Motor Co. said today the 1958 Thunderbird will be a four-passenger auto, 23 inches longer and five inches wider than the 1957 model.

J. O. Wright, Ford Division general manager and a company vice production will be discontinued after November and the new models will be introduced this winter.

Wright said 53,000 Thunderbirds have been built and sold during the car's three years of existence.

The new car was revealed at the close of the 1958 Ford press preview and National Teen-Age Press Conference.

Trade Boosted by War Scare

CHICAGO (AP) — Apprehension over the possibility of war in the Middle East caused general buying on the Board of Trade today and the entire futures list advanced.

The trade was concerned that Russia might blunder into a Third World War over the Turkish-Syrian situation.

Shorts bought wheat in early dealings, pushing prices up nearly two cents a bushel at the outset but extreme gains were trimmed as trading progressed.

Corn, soybeans and rye also felt the affects of the war scare. Corn was up more than a cent and soybeans advanced better than two cents a bushel at times.

Professor Hits Unfair Criticism

Busy Educator Thinks Too Much Is Expected From Television

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Frank Baxter, television's busiest teacher, feels a lot of current criticism of TV is unfair.

"There is a tendency too often to criticize something on the air not for what it is, but because it is not what someone expected it to be," he asserts.

The solution, says the eminent educator, is "selective viewing."

The University of Southern California professor, who first rocketed to attention by parlaying Shakespeare into parlor excitement, is now embarked on his "saturation season" of exposure on the networks.

The Baxter agenda includes this season: Tuesday night ABC network appearances as mentor of a new dramatic series; four "Dr. Research" 90 - minute film programs on NBC; a weekly live half-hour colorcast in Los Angeles called "Harvest" that lets him range across human enterprise from Hadrian's Wall to Rodin's art.

CONVERSATION SERIES

In addition, three of his previous conversation series are being used on the 25-station cross-country educational network. All this plus 10 hours weekly of classroom work.

"Many more people hunger for a little more knowledge than is usually thought," he says.

"I'd like to be thought of as a man who fumbled toward persuading the networks and people that there can be fun in this field of activity."

Baxter, who is 62 and has but three more years of university activity before retirement, is bursting with other ideas for further TV pioneering.

Most of all, he would like to embark on a roving expedition that would take him to the banks of the Mississippi for reading of Mark Twain, to Walden Pond for study of Thoreau, to a Wessex village for examination of Hardy noves.

"It would be no travelogue," he explains, "but would instill a sense of how these things, these heritages of us all, grew out of the dust of a very particular place."

DEFENDS TELEVISION — Dr. Frank Baxter, University of Southern California English professor and television personality, believes that TV is unfairly criticized. Baxter suggests "selective viewing" as the solution to television's shortcomings. This season the professor has undertaken several video projects, including the job as host-narrator for "Telephone Time," which is telecast Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m. over ABC.

Lost Tombstone of Wyatt Earp Located by Boys

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — Two boys reported to police early today that they had found the stolen tombstone of the famed frontier marshal, Wyatt Earp, in a roadside clump of bushes.

The boys, Robert Johnson of San Bruno and Ron Dill of South San Francisco, said they saw the marker when they stopped to check a tire.

The tombstone disappeared in July from the Hills of Eternity Memorial Park, a Jewish cemetery on the San Francisco peninsula. There also was an excavation a couple of feet deep, made apparently in an effort to obtain the urn containing Earp's ashes, officers said.

Officers first said they believed the tombstone would turn up on some college campus. The cemetery director said, however, that several anonymous callers had inquired after the marker disappeared, whether Earp's ashes were to be removed to Tombstone, Arizona, where Earp was an officer.

A movement to remove his ashes to Arizona was abandoned in June by the Tombstone Restoration Commission of Arizona.

When Earp died in Los Angeles his wife, Josephine Sarah, had his ashes buried in California and stripulated that her ashes were to be buried beside him. He died in 1929. She died in 1944.

Robert Merrill Wants Maria Callas Barred

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Firing the first shot in an opera war, baritone Robert Merrill has accused Brooklyn-born prima donna Maria Callas of "furthering her career with phony tricks" and has called upon the American Guild of Musical Artists "to bar her from singing in America until she's been punished."

WILSON

"We have better singers in this country who can't get into opera because her phony stunts have made her 'box-office,'" Merrill told me.

"I got peeved when she pulled this 'sick' act and cancelled out of the San Francisco Opera season," explained Merrill who is now on the San Francisco program and heading for Los Angeles.

"But when Kurt Adler, the manager, phoned Milan to talk to her, her secretary said, 'Miss Callas can't be disturbed—she's busy recording.'

"And last year that young singer Enzo Sordello came to my dressing room with tears in his eyes. He held a note longer than she did because she cracked, so she slapped his face. Then she got him fired.

"I understand our union's trying legally to boycott her and it should.

"Yet," added Merrill, "if she wanted to return to San Francisco, they'd probably book her. The public is curious to see people who use phony tricks!"

Rescued Bird Waxing Fat on Scrambled Eggs

LON GBEACH, Calif. (AP) — A large bird resumbling an American eagle—picked up by a Coast Guard ship about 1,000 miles from shore—is back in port and waxing fat.

Boatswain Lambert Greenlee said the tired bird circled the USS Ponchartrain 10 days ago and landed on the weather ship's bridge.

Greenlee, of nearby Whittier, said the bird turned up its beak at a diet of fish but quickly gobbled up a plate of scrambled eggs.

"That did it," said Greenlee. "The bird has been feasting ever since."

Crew members are pondering whether to keep the bird as a pet or turn it over to a zoo.

Party to Rock New York Tonight

Mike Todd's Splurge Causing Ticket Scramble

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike and Liz Todd are set to rock the town tonight with their "intimate little party for a few friends."

Already the splurge in pink-and-blue-spangled Madison Square Garden is sure to be remembered—for causing the wildest Broadway ticket scramble of the season.

"You'd think with 18,000 invitations to pass out, everybody would be happy for once," reports host Todd. "Instead, about 60,000 people are peeved at me."

Besides those packed into the vast arena for the show-dance-picnic-giveaway, television spectators will view 90 minutes of the festivities over the CBS coast-to-coast network.

The party is a salute to the first anniversary of the premiere of Todd's prize-winning film, "Around the World in 80 Days."

Mrs. Todd, sometimes known as film star Elizabeth Taylor, will be on hand for one moment of high formality. She'll mount a specially built stairway in the center of the Garden to cut the birthday cake—a baked confection 30 feet in diameter, 14 feet high, coated with pale blue icing.

The 18,000 guests include a cluster of movie celebrities (Fernandel, the French star, is coming over from Paris just for the night); Texas Rangers and Australian beauty queens.

Also on hand are to be working teams from television stations in England, Italy and Canada.

Everybody has been asked to dress in evening attire.

"Liz insists on black tie for all the guys," Mike notes.

The programed entertainment embraces about every facet of the entertainment business. Specimens: the 74-piece Symphony of the Air, conducted by Arthur Fiedler; a couple of circus elephants; a spectacle called "Dancing Waters"; Duke Ellington's band; a troupe of performing palomino horses flown in from San Diego, Calif.

There's been no curfew set for when the show will end.

The tentative food menu (people keep calling up to offer all kinds of things) includes 15,000 hot dogs, 10,000 Chinese egg rolls, 50 gallons of cider, endless pizza pies, 15,000 doughnuts.

A motley of gifts have been contributed to the party, and Mike plans to make sure every guest gets at least one memento. He has rented two parking lots to store the presents temporarily.

Included are a light airplane with flying lessons; a speedboat; a 44-foot trailer; four or five American cars; three Italian cars; and half a dozen motor scooters. Also German cameras, Swedish sewing machines, mink stoles, French bonnets and ivory chopsticks.

The government of India has sent along 50 sets of elephant bells and the King of Siam, who once wrote a song for a Todd stage show, has flown over 40 Siamese cats.

Happiest note of all is the financial aspect.

The television rights, it is reliably reported, were let for $300,000. Renting the Garden for the evening cost Todd $5,000 and he has also to foot the bill for the entertainers and other working personnel. But the food and gifts are being donated by manufacturers, trade groups and stores interested in distributing good will.

"In fact," a Todd lieutenant explains, "Mike is apt to make a buck out of it all."

Steam Engines in Cars Advocated by Inventor

DETROIT (AP)—A 70-year-old inventor from Philadelphia says the auto industry made a mistake in abandoning steam-propelled cars.

Calvin C. Williams was here yesterday to demonstrate a 1950 Ford equipped with a steam engine. He said it outstrips gasoline propelled cars in economy, power and dependability.

Williams and his twin sons, Calvin E. and Charles J., 41, drove the steamer to Detroit. Williams said he has developed a steam engine that burns fuel oil and gets 35 to 40 miles a gallon.

The United States and some 50 other nations will show at Brussels' 1958 World Fair.

Moonshine Costly

HART (AP) — Two Muskegon Heights men have been find $500 each by Circuit Judge Earl C. Pugsley on their pleas of guilty of illegal manufacture of whisky. Nelson Anderson, 38, and Henry Lee, 29, were arrested Sept. 15 on a Colfax Township farm in the first Oceana County moonshine raid since prohibition repeal.

A muskrat can travel 50 yards under water before coming up for air.

Clerks Slate Workshop

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — A three-session workshop for about 170 township clerks from Isabella, Lake, Mecosta, Montcalm, Newaygo and Osceola Counties was scheduled to open today at Ferris Institute. Other sessions, also open to county clerks in the area, will be held Oct. 24 and 31.

The state capitol building of Georgia, located here, is designed after the national capitol in Washington, D.C.

To Celebrate Revolution

MOSCOW (INS) — The Supreme Soviet will meet in special session Nov. 6 to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.
