Jobless Bill Cleared by House Committee

LANSING (AP)—A Senate-approved bill to extend jobless pay benefits for Michigan's unemployed to July 1 cleared the House Labor Committee.

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-Pontiac), committee chairman, said he hoped the measure would come up for a vote on the House floor Tuesday.

Many unemployed workers whose jobless pay benefits ran out yesterday faced delay in collecting further compensation until the legislature acts on the bill. It would bring Michigan under a 13-week extension of the federal temporary unemployment compensation program.

Thompson Case Going to Jury

Teamster's Arson Trial Clouded by Use of 6 Fingerprint Experts

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

FLINT—Twelve jurors were to begin deliberating today whether Jack D. Thompson helped his Teamsters Union pal Frank Kierdorf set fire to the Latreille Dry Cleaners pickup station near here last summer.

The big question in deciding Thompson's innocence or guilt will be which of the six fingerprint experts to believe.

Thompson's attorney James E. Haggerty Sr., yesterday opened and closed his case by putting his own fingerprint experts — two former policemen and a Detroit police inspector — on the stand in an attempt to tear down the prosecution's No. 1 link of Thompson to the arson.

Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke's major link in a hoped-for chain of circumstantial evidence against the 42-year-old Thompson is three of his fingerprints discovered on Kierdorf's station wagon a day after the fire.

The three defense experts testified the age of the prints could not be established with any degree of certainty.

O'Rourke's three print experts — all of whom are still policemen engaged in fingerprint work, the prosecutor pointed out, while the defense experts are all retired — said Thompson's prints were anywhere from 36 to 24 hours old.

Thompson, a stocky 200-pounder who once served a prison sentence for armed robbery, is charged with aiding Kierdorf, a close friend and business agent like Thompson, with burning the pickup station Aug. 3.

Straley Verdict by Saturday

Hearing Ends at Marathon 18th Session

Decision on Whether Police Chief Stays Will Be Put in Writing

By MAX E. SIMON

Whether Herbert W. Straley is ousted as Pontiac police chief will be decided by Saturday.

Straley's removal hearing before the Civil Service Commission — which must rule on the suspended chief's future — ended with a marathon session yesterday.

Exhausted commissioners will meet today to begin mulling over testimony taken during 18 sessions. The hearings began Feb. 18.

"We definitely will arrive at our decision by Saturday," Stuart A. Austin, Commission chairman, flatly said.

Austin said a written opinion explaining the reasons for the Commission's verdict will be drawn by the Commission attorney for the hearing, James G. Hartrick.

The Commission is racing against time to decide the case. It may be out of business by Tuesday morning. City voters go to the polls Monday to cast ballots on repealing Civil Service for the Police Department.

Straley is accused of inefficiency and incompetency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior. He was suspended Feb. 9 by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

If the Commission upholds the charges, Straley may appeal the decision to the Oakland County Circuit Court up to 90 days from the date the decision is reached.

Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, has said he will appeal the decision if the Commission rules against the chief.

Supreme Court possible. The Circuit Court would review the hearing record but no additional arguments.

If Straley's appeal were turned down by the Circuit Court, Straley's attorneys could petition the State Supreme Court for a review of the Circuit Court decision.

Straley would immediately be reinstated as chief with full pay for the period of his suspension if the Commission ruled in his favor.

The hearing ended at midnight after attorneys presented their final arguments before the Commission.

Roberts said the section affecting the Ford decision, more than any other, stood as a roadblock in House passage of the bill.

'Public Entitled to Know'

Hart Reveals Payroll Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Freshman Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) today joined the small group of senators willing to make public the pay scales of their office employees.

Hart accompanied the list with a lengthy summation of his own salary and expense allowances, a description of his own duties and those of each of his staff members, and examples of the numerous problems a senator is expected to solve.

"I believe," Hart said, "that the public is entitled to know how I view my work and responsibilities, the manner in which my office is staffed, and the general methods that are used to conduct the business of a senator's office."

Publication of the pay scales marked a change of viewpoint on Hart's part. He declined to give pay levels during an earlier furor this year about congressional employment of relatives, but said at that time he employed no relatives.

NO ACCESS. Newsmen have no access to payroll data concerning senatorial office employees. House office payrolls are available for inspection, however.

Senate office staff allowances are based on state populations. Hart said his own allowance, based on Michigan's population, is about $130,000.

The two top assistants in each office are permitted a maximum annual salary of $16,300, although none of Hart's 13 employees receives the maximum.

The top three salaries on his list were $14,062, $13,573 and $12,200. He listed eight others in the $4,500-$6,000 range, without giving the exact salary.

He said his Detroit office is maintained in the Federal Building on a rent-free basis.

Hart's salary is $22,500. In addition he is reimbursed for two round trips a year between Washington and his home in Lansing.

OTHER EXPENSES. Other annual expense allowances he itemized included an $1,800 allowance for stationery and general office supplies, $450 a year for air mail and special delivery stamps, $1,200 for long distance phone calls, and $7,768 for official telegrams.

He said his office has received and answered an average of 600 to 700 letters a week since he took office in January. He noted that federal law "wisely" provides staff and equipment allowances "to properly handle these requests and adequately represent the 7 1/2 million citizens of Michigan on many hundreds of legislative items."

He gave a three-page summary of the duties of each individual on his staff, whom newsmen generally regard as a competent, hard-working crew, and listed these annual salaries:

From the Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A heavy downpour drenched the Augusta National Golf Course shortly before two veterans teed off today to open the 23rd Masters Tournament.

Shortly after the first teeoff, the rain stopped and the sun came out. But there were still scattered clouds, threatening more showers. A wind with gusts up to 20 m.p.h. whipped over the course.

Among early starters, none bettered par for the front nine. But there were some even par 36s.

Killed as Truck Runs Into Tree

Believe White Lake Man Fell Asleep at Wheel on Gale Road

A White Lake Township man was killed instantly at 10 p.m. yesterday when his car ran off the road and crashed into a tree on Gale road near Williams Lake road.

Owner of a Pontiac structural steel plant, Carl J. Dipzinski, 46, apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his pickup truck as he was driving to his home, 2509 Blair Dr., according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The tree is only two feet from the edge of the pavement at that point of Gale road and at the water's edge. The truck was partly submerged in Pontiac Lake, deputies said.

Dipzinski was taken to Pontiac General Hospital. Death was caused by chest injuries, doctors said.

State OKs $27,500 for Pontiac's Airport

The State Aeronautics Commission today gave formal approval of the extra $27,500 promised this year for construction of the terminal building and tower at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The city already has promised to match the state's $27,500 in order to attract an extra $45,000 which the federal government has allocated for federal-aid construction.

Increases in the original allocations bring the total amount of funds for the building up to $300,000.

Suspect Freed as Widespread Search Goes On

Driver Halted for Road Violation Fires Three Times at Patrolman

Police released one suspect today but continued a widespread search for the armed driver who viciously wounded an Oxford patrolman twice when stopped for a traffic violation early this morning.

The suspect, picked up because his car matched that of the fleeing gunman, was released after offering to take lie detector and paraffin tests to clear himself, Sheriff's Detective Harry Mauer said.

Patrolman Roscoe M. Zolman, 28, was in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, awaiting surgery this afternoon on his left hand, which was pierced in a barrage of three rapid pistol shots fired at close range.

Zolman also suffered a flesh wound on his left thigh, but doctors described neither wound as serious. He had been alone in the patrol car.

A five-county alert failed to pick up the fleeing gunman, although roadblocks were set up within minutes of the 3:30 a.m. shooting.

Zolman said the gunfire began almost as soon as he approached the gunman's car. Spun around and flung to his knees by the impact of the bullet which hit his hand, the officer barely had time to rise to his feet before the car was in motion again, disappearing around a curve.

It apparently was the second shot that wounded Zolman's leg and the third, fired as the car began moving forward, evidently went wild.

Trip Plans Booming

Our 1959 New York trip is shaping up. It looks like a bear-cat.

We really sharpened the old pencil and came up with the 1959 price. A year ago it was $187 and this year we're doing it for $189.

"Impossible," you mutter. And you're absolutely right. IT IS impossible. But we're doing it!

This price covers airplane transportation down and back, your hotel bill, the five top theatrical offerings in all Gotham, a conducted tour of Radio City and other jim-dandy features we're too modest to mention this early.

When the year opened, New York's newest and most sensational musical was the "Flower Drum Song." You can't get seats and if you doubt this, write, wire or visit the box office in person.

But The Press has them! Count on this.

Don't mail us your reservations, yet, but make your plans. Get your party together and we'll announce the acceptance date later. The dates are September 14 through 19.

What a deal—and what a price!

Ike Warns NATO of Crises Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower lauded the 10-year-old Atlantic Alliance today as a powerful barrier against Communism but cautioned the Allies to prepare for more years of tension and bickering with Russia.

He called on the free world for unity, strength and perseverance to win the struggle for a true and lasting peace despite the Communist "menace and threats."

The occasion was a ceremony commemorating the 10th anniversary of the NATO alliance. And, on hand for it as a guest in a second row seat was former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who signed the NATO treaty for the United States while a member of the Truman administration.

The President promised in his speech: "Those who respect the dignity of man will not fail before the magnitude of the task."

OFFER TO NEGOTIATE. He offered every possible negotiation with Russia which holds "promise of constructive results."

But he cautioned against the danger of "substituting illusion for reality."

The President, himself a former supreme commander of NATO military forces, was the central figure at the opening session of this anniversary meeting.

Immediately before him was an audience of 1,400 cabinet members, allied diplomats, Western military leaders and representatives of the world press.

Ranged in a semicircle on the stage behind him were the foreign ministers or other delegation chiefs of the 15 allied governments, their flags colorful in the focus of floodlights with a blue and white NATO flag high over all at the rear of the stage.

BACK TO BIRTHPLACE. The Nato chiefs came back to the birthplace of their alliance with military pomp—an honor guard on Constitution Avenue and military bands inside and outside the great hall in which the first assemblage of allied foreign ministers was held 10 years ago to sign the treaty, April 4, 1949.

They marched in through a drizzling rain, with hopeful words to offset the forbidding weather.

Eisenhower and the other speakers — Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak and Council President Joseph M. A. H. Luns of The Netherlands — projected NATO's policy along double lines into the indefinite future.

They said the Communist threat is at least as great as it was 10 years ago so that NATO must strengthen itself. They stressed a need to negotiate solid agreements with Russia when possible.

Eisenhower said that since the alliance was formed "there has been no further Communist advance in Europe either by political or military means."

Only Suspect Released in Shooting of Officer

description of the gunman, but said his car was a black 1947 or 1948 Chrysler, with license plates beginning with the letters CH.

GUNMAN BLOND

The gunman appeared to be about 30 years of age, with blond hair and wearing a light-colored, fuzzy wool jacket, the officer said.

Zolman, a twice-decorated Korean War veteran, has been an Oxford patrolman 2½ years. Married with three children, he was driving alone on routine patrol in a village police car when events leading up to the shooting began.

Spotting a weaving car on Oxford's east side, Zolman followed it three blocks until it turned east on Lakeville road towards Lakeville.

Suspecting the driver had been drinking, Zolman flashed his red police light and the car ahead of him came to a slow halt in the middle of the road.

"I didn't think there was anything unusual about the car or its driver," the wounded officer said.

"However, I wanted him to pull over to the curb instead of remaining in the middle of the road, so I got out of the police car and walked up the road."

"It was snowing and I had my raincoat on, buttoned up to the top."

"I had my flashlight in my left hand and as I reached the car, the door started to open on the driver's side, so I stepped back a few paces, thinking the driver was going to get out."

"But he didn't. Instead he poked the gun out the door and started shooting. I fell down to my knees in the road, half twisted around, but started to unbuckle my raincoat so I could get at my pistol."

"But by the time I got it half unbuckled, it was too late, the car was gone."

Bleeding badly, the officer thought to look around for gun shells, but found none. Then he hobbled back to the police car to radio for an ambulance and help.

Zolman's flashlight was found in the middle of the road, and embedded in it was the slug that tore through his left hand between his first and second fingers.

The Sheriff's Department planned to send the slug to State Police Headquarters in Lansing for tests.

Zolman, who has been working night patrol for several months, had a partner with him — an auxiliary officer — until 2½ hours before the shooting.

Albert Roberts, Oxford Village police chief, said it was the first time an officer had been wounded in the line of duty during his 18 years on the force.

All available Sheriff's Department patrol cars were immediately dispatched on the search, plus cars from the Pontiac State Police Post and Lake Orion.

Within minutes deputies had joined in the alert in St. Clair, Lapeer and Macomb counties, as well as state police from the St.

Clair, Romeo, Center Line, Detroit, Flint and Brighton posts.

Detroit police used 20 scout cars to seal off the north city limits along Eight Mile road.

Teams of police checked roads and driveways throughout the Oxford-Lakeville-Lake Orion area, searching for a car that matched the description of the gunman's.

It was not the first time that Zolman, a native of Oxford, had been wounded.

Recipient of the Purple Cross and two Bronze Stars for his Army service, Zolman was wounded by shrapnel in the foot while serving with the Second Infantry Division in the battle to save Pusan in South Korea in the fall of 1950.

The wound put an end to the brief two months he spent in Korea, but not before he was involved in other actions that won him the Bronze Stars.

On one of those occasions he and a few remaining members of his platoon held off a large North Korean force that was attempting to break through U.S. lines by overwhelming their lonely position on a South Korean hill.

officers who were once his closest friends."

The chief, said the city attorney, failed to gain the confidence and loyalty of his men.

"He was a detail man," Ewart declared. "He was always attacking the men about petty things, and those who had been fond of him came to resent it."

"It was enough to drive a man to drink."

Straley was mentally inflexible, Ewart said, and stubbornly refused to accept new ideas and techniques.

Ewart said Straley had criticized the courts, prosecutor, subordinates, and city officials whenever he couldn't have his way.

"It looks like everyone was out of step except the chief," he asserted.

The city manager was the best friend Straley ever had in Pontiac, the city attorney told the Commission. "And now the chief says he's out of step."

Facing the audience in the City Commission chambers, Smith, in a solemn, clear voice said: "There are not 10 people in here who possess the high character of Chief Straley."

School Budget Cut 13 Pct. in Royal Oak

ROYAL OAK — A 13 per cent budget cut for city schools during the 1959-60 fiscal year was announced last night by the Royal Oak Board of Education.

Marlin R. Hemphill, board president, said the cut, which followed a voter rejection of a school tax hike, would reduce school services to "the bare minimum."

The most drastic cut was cancellation of the planned hiring of 80 new teachers next semester. All elementary schools in the system will go on reduced sessions with students on half-days for half the school year.

Also cut from the budget were most of the present outdoor nature and science programs; foreign language and instrumental music programs for grade school students.

The wound put an end to the brief two months he spent in Korea, but not before he was involved in other actions that won him the Bronze Stars.

Hula Hoops Create New Type of Traffic Hazard

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — City police say hula hoops have created a new traffic hazard.

"The kids used to have to stand still to make the hoops work," says Sgt. Sam Hill. "But now they're so good they can walk and hula at the same time. And a lot of them walk across busy streets, whirling their hoops and not looking for automobiles."

Smith charged Willman had been pressured into forwarding Eastman's charges by "individuals in high places." He did not elaborate.

CHARGE SAID FALSE

"I have tried to show," Smith told the Commission, "that the city's contention about the chief gunning for certain officers was false."

"I believe I have proven the reverse true. A small clique of officers in the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. was gunning for the chief."

Smith urged the Commission to keep in mind the 90-day statute of limitations on charges when considering testimony.

"Many of the things brought up," Smith said, occurred years before these charges were filed before the Commission.

Smith accused Eastman of deliberately attempting to provoke Straley into acts of insubordination.

He had harsh words for the Civil Service Act. "Under it," Smith

HOWARD H. FITZGERALD

Pontiac Rotary Club Picks New Officers

Howard H. Fitzgerald today was elected 1959-1960 president of the Pontiac Rotary Club.

Fitzgerald, of 19081 Bedford Rd., Southfield Township, is business manager of The Pontiac Press.

Also taking office July 1 are Walter K. Willman, new vice president; Dr. Ivan A. Lacore, secretary; Francis F. Miller, treasurer; and Howard L. Canfield and Palmer G. Bundy, directors.

He said he had never seen a memorandum from Eastman which called for the answering of the safety director's directives within 24 hours.

One of the charges against Straley is that he failed to comply with Eastman's directives within a specified deadline.

Straley said he subscribed to the formation of planning, research and training unit but hadn't set up one because the department didn't have adequately trained men.

"Do you mean to tell me that your officers weren't getting training?" Blakeslee asked.

"No they weren't getting training," the chief said.

Straley declared "pretty near everything Eastman has done since coming to Pontiac is ridiculous."

Straley's attorneys inserted into the record several letters praising the chief and the department, including one from President Dwight D. Eisenhower, written in October of 1953.

Appearing briefly as a character witness for Straley was Frank S. Lyndall, general manager of Sears Roebuck & Co. store in Pontiac.

A graduate of West Point and former Army colonel, Lyndall called Straley "a very high-type citizen of honesty and integrity."

The two extra jurors were impaneled three weeks ago in case others might have to be withdrawn for some reason. Two will be dropped today from further participation in the case by pulling juror numbers from a box.

Judge Roth yesterday denied for a second time a defense motion for a directed verdict of innocent.

This followed the defense closing of its case after calling only the four witnesses, thus winding up its part of the trial in a day.

O'Rourke had called 49 witnesses after excluding some 43 subpoenaed witnesses from testifying. This included Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 president Leahm Harrison.

O'Rourke, during cross-examination of the three experts, attempted to rip apart their expert status by bringing out that none knew the chemical composition of a fingerprint, none had read the basic textbooks for fingerprint identification and that none had been in the business for six years or longer.

OTHERS WIPED OFF

O'Rourke claims Thompson accidentally placed prints on the window of Kierdorf's car while assisting him in the commission of the alleged arson.

Investigators said the prints, on the driver's side window, were missed as someone apparently wiped the rest of the car free of prints.

Thompson said his prints probably were put on the car Aug. 1 when he said he last saw Kierdorf. Thompson's story is that he was in bed at the time the fire was started.

As the eight-month-old case neared an end, authorities had still not come up with the real motive behind the fire.

Mentioned most frequently is that the two men were hired to do away with Latrelle's business, reportedly because the firm had been charging cut-rate prices while in competition with one of Flint's largest dry cleaning firms, located across the street.

Deliberation was scheduled to begin sometime today after closing statements by O'Rourke and Haggerty, and instructions to the jury from Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth.

PICK FINAL PANEL

First, the 12 jurors who will decide the fate of Thompson, must be selected from 11 women and three men who have sat through 10 days of testimony.

The two extra jurors were impaneled three weeks ago in case others might have to be withdrawn for some reason. Two will be dropped today from further participation in the case by pulling juror numbers from a box.

Florida Damage Over $1 Million

Two Tornadoes Strike; New York Blanketed by 2nd Crippling Fog

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A heavy crippling fog blanketed the New York area for the second day today, while tornadoes struck two communities in Florida. The high winds killed one person, injured at least nine others, and caused damage estimated at more than a million dollars.

At least two lives were lost as a result of the fog blanket in New York. Many flights were canceled. The near-zero visibility anchored the liner Queen Elizabeth — the world's largest — near the exit to New York harbor.

The Florida tornadoes hit Dade City, about 35 miles northeast of Tampa; and Anas Park, a suburb of Orlando. The sheriff's office reported property damage of one million dollars at Dade City. Many houses and business buildings there were damaged or destroyed and power lines were torn down.

One death was reported at Azalea Park, and at least seven were injured. The Weather Bureau warned of further possible damaging winds in south and east-central Florida, but added that further twisters were not likely.

April showers continued to splash areas in the eastern third of the nation and the far Northwest, but fair weather prevailed in the major part of the country.

Heavy March rains already had washed out spring vegetables in Dade County, usually the nation's 10th ranking producer, and killed farmers' hopes for a profit.

Crop disease and lack of storage space—added to the rains—will leave 300 farmers in worse financial shape this year than after the withering cold of 1958. Asst. County Farm Agent Nolan Durrie predicted Wednesday.

About 25 per cent of the potato crop is still in the rain-soaked ground. Most of it is rotting there.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Teens Held in Theft Found Town Wasn't Easy

BIRMINGHAM — Two teenagers in the custody of local police today for allegedly stealing have revised their opinion that "Birmingham is an easy town to make."

A third youth is being sought by the authorities here on the same theft charge.

Two of the youths were apprehended yesterday when they were spotted by Police Sgt. Richard Brown as they rolled a stolen tire and wheel out of the Birmingham Rambler Inc. new car lot at 699 S. Woodward Ave.

Sgt. Brown ordered the boys to halt. When they chose to run instead, he fired a shot over their heads. William J. Furie, 17, of 19161 Omira St., Detroit, raised his hands in surrender. The other two fled.

Guy J. Naron, 18, of 590 E. Maplehurst St., Ferndale, was apprehended later as he walked north on Hunter boulevard. He told officers his car had broken down and he was going to a garage for help. The description of the car fitted the one that police had already towed from the scene of the theft.

Police said that the boys implicated Jerry Martinko, 19, of 20471 Anglin St., Detroit.

They told officers they had come to Birmingham because they had been told it was "an easy town to make," evidently meaning Birmingham is an easy place to commit thefts, said Sgt. Brown.

They also told officers that they had made an unsuccessful attempt to break open trunks of new cars at the Sumner Buick Sales lot at 808 S. Woodward Ave. and at two other car dealer lots in Royal Oak and Ferndale, according to Brown.

Security for You

Tell Nothing but the Truth

By RAY HENRY

A Social Security office may seem like a strange place for people to confess they've been stretching the truth. But, it happens hundreds of times a day.

Take the little old woman who recently visited the Long Beach, Calif., office with her husband. They were asking for payments.

Because it's required information, the Social Security man asked the woman if she'd ever been married before.

To answer, she leaned close to the man so her husband couldn't hear and explained in a low voice:

Yes, she'd been married before. In fact, the man sitting beside her was her ninth husband. But, she had no written record of the others. She didn't want her husband to discover them. He might be disillusioned.

FOUR YEARS YOUNGER

Or, take the woman who asked for payments at the Roswell, N.M., office.

She'd brought along her birth certificate showing she was born in 1882, but asked:

"Please don't let my husband see it. I don't want him to know I'm four years younger than he, instead of one year younger."

Then, there was the woman who—in response to a request from the Providence, R.I. office—reluctantly produced her marriage license.

Her age on the license didn't agree with her birth certificate. In fact, the license listed her as 20 years younger than she actually was.

So, instead of being five years younger than her husband, she was really 15 years older.

Whether any of the husbands of these women ever found out the truth, the record doesn't show.

DROPS MASKS

But, one thing is clear: The women were much more willing to drop their masks for Social Security officials than for their husbands.

What's in your Social Security record is, except in rare cases, a confidential matter between you and the Social Security Administration. That's the law.

City Proposal No. 3 Needs Your 'Yes' Vote

Sewage treatment for the City of Pontiac is woefully lacking. This is not just hearsay, but a statement of fact.

If our City is to grow, a new sewage plant is a "must" to provide capacity for industrial and residential growth. The present facilities are old fashioned. They were constructed back in 1919 and have been added to and revised many times.

It's a matter of record that our present plant is receiving twice the flow for which it was designed. If the same condition existed in our homes we would make a change immediately.

Overtaxing any city facility to the point where health is impaired is dangerous. It is an established fact Pontiac's treatment plant can only handle one-eighth of the sludge disposal from our present inadequate system.

The treated sewage, called effluent, is discharged into the Clinton River. City officials have already been warned, and the State Water Resources Commission is insisting that Pontiac improve its treatment facilities to reduce stream pollution and meet the State's standards.

It does not seem realistic to believe that any of our citizens wish to continue operating an inadequate, out of date sewage plant. We are fortunate in Pontiac in that 78 per cent of the general obligation bond issue would be financed by business and industry.

A simple majority will not carry the proposal. In this case, where a general obligation bond issue is voted on, 60 per cent is necessary to pass the ordinance.

A "yes" vote on City proposal No. 3 will mean protection for the health of our citizens.

Financing the plant would be by a $3,300,000 general obligation bond issue. Assuming a maximum interest cost of four per cent, it can be financed at a cost of about $70 per year per $1,000 of assessed value. This is equal to $2.80 per year on a house assessed at $4,000 or less than one cent a day.

A "yes" vote on this proposition on April 6 is a vote for a better city.

Dixie Democrats Trying to Split Party and Rule

A new movement which could spell trouble for the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee is being cooked up by Dixiecrats.

South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Arkansas have enacted legislation freeing their presidential electors from a loyalty pledge to the national party nominee. Under present party regulations Louisiana and Mississippi also can withhold support. These six states control 57 electoral votes. If the five other southern states, Texas, Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia follow suit, the South would have a bloc of 128 electoral votes.

This movement is an aftermath of Southern dissatisfaction with the Supreme Court's desegregation decision and efforts of the party's liberal wing to adopt stronger stand on civil rights. Such oath repeal, says the Birmingham, Ala. Post-Herald, "would give delegates to the Democratic National Convention a stronger hand in getting a nominee more to our way of thinking. The northern leaders of the party will know that Alabama is not 'in the bag' to vote blindly for whomever they handpick as President."

These Southerners hope for a close election next year which could render their states' votes decisive and thus give Dixiecrats a club to force concessions from the national party.

Southern conservatives have little taste for a third party or for a party bolt. Such action could cost their Congressmen powerful seniority committee posts in Washington. But what they could do is throw the choice for President into the House of Representatives then the South would be in a position to bargain on civil rights, etc.

It's a dangerous game and not in keeping with the American tradition of government by majority rule.

Favorites Change Baseball Contest Entries Put Another Tiger in Lead

Blister: Like some men — it doesn't show up until the work is done.

After his batting spree in that one game,

Al Kaline, jumped to the lead in our baseball contest, replacing

Harvey Kuenn, although he flunked the next day. However, the entries are continually showing a wider spread. All eight teams now are represented among players who have received votes.

The $250 prize goes for the nearest correct entry to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, April 23, and what will be his batting average?

Every member of your family can compete. It costs nothing to enter. A minute's time may be worth $250 to you. Better do it NOW, or you may forget it, and your neighbor may cop the prize. Or do you think he needs it more than you?

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 10.

The closing date is approaching. You probably have a favorite player. He's ready to do his best to win $250 for you. Will you give him the chance by doing your part?

I like that unique close of a letter, "Energetically yours," sent me by a young lady in search of a job. She'll make good.

Around the turn of the century many students from the Pontiac area went to a normal school in the Village of Fenton to pursue a higher education. It was one of the best known institutions of that nature in Michigan. In its Class of 1900 was a present Pontiac woman.

Mrs. Adele Thorpe Allen of 111 Thorpe St. Another member of that class was Will B. Narrin, who later became treasurer of Oakland County. It was discontinued several years ago.

A well known Pontiac physician has built up a big business with the children — he uses candy-coated tongue depressors.

I like the wording of that sign at the approach to highway construction work, to keep motorists good natured: "Patience Pays for Progress."

It is not generally known that State Representative at Lansing from Oakland County's first district,

Lloyd Anderson of Waterford, was a Lapeer football star in his youth, known as "Tuffy."

David Lawrence Says:

Conflict of Interest Always Lurking

WASHINGTON—When Sen. Stephen Young (D-Ohio) decided to sell or publicize approximately $234,000 worth of stockholdings, he may have thought this would remove any possibility of a so-called "conflict of interest."

But today a senator votes on all kinds of financial questions and, even though all his holdings were in government bonds, someone could conjure up a "conflict of interest."

Thus, if any senator votes to unbalance the budget, it could produce apathy on the part of the investor toward the purchase of government bonds.

This might necessitate a steadily increasing interest rate which could benefit the senator just as much as, if not more than, dividends on some private stocks.

There is scarcely a problem that comes before the Senate for a vote that isn't directly or indirectly related to a man's own finances.

But the case of Sen. Young relates to stockholdings in particular industries, like oil and sugar, where concrete questions have arisen that may have to be voted on—whether to retain the present tax allowance in connection with the depletion of oil and gas properties and whether to limit imports of sugar.

Sen. Young says he has been receiving letters and circulars urging him to vote to retain the 27 1/2 per cent depletion rate but that he favors cutting the allowance to 15 per cent, and voted that way when he was a member of the House of Representatives.

Does this, however, dispose of the matter? Will it be accepted by everybody that the senator is voting his convictions now, or will he be said that he is merely trying to overcome the alleged ill effects of his continued ownership of oil stocks?

So far as the Democratic Party is concerned, many of its spokesmen have continuously attacked bigness in business and the wealth of individuals as being the "image" of a Republican and not of a Democrat.

The campaign literature of the Democrats constantly stresses that the Democrats are a "poor man's party" and that the Republicans are a "rich man's party."

More accumulation of money, even though the result of thrift and honest work, seems to be a sin today in the eyes of many Democratic stump speakers and of many writers and publications called "liberal."

The Country Parson

As for Webster, ordinarily so solid and dependable, this is by no means the first time the top authority has ducked the issue. Webster is no help in clearing other obstructions from the ways and particularly by the Democrats. They began to make a campaign issue out of it, thus forcing the resignation of Adams, who, of course, recognized finally, though reluctantly, that in politics the rule of suspicion supersedes all else.

It's too bad that any man in public life feels he must cater to suspicion in order to stay in politics.

It's too bad that a rich man in politics thinks he can prove his virtue only by attacking wealth or by selling all his holdings and converting them into cash so as to avoid every possible "conflict of interest."

Even so, the purchasing power of his cash can depreciate if the Democratic Party supports a spending spree.

There's really no way to avoid some "conflict of interest" today if any man successful in his previous occupation enters public life.

Yet he was condemned widely.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Poor Gink All Mixed Up on True Meaning of Geek

"I am sorry," writes R.M., "that a man who has done so much for his fellow man uses words the meaning of which he does not know. You have occasionally implied that some one is a poor geek."

A geek, sir, is the wife of a gink, and a gink is a man with no nitrogen in his cabbage — a farmer who farms poorly.

He raises a crop only to find that all the other farmers have a surplus of the same thing and hence little market for it.

"The gink's soil is poor in lime, phosphate and nitrogen. Hence his cabbage has no leaves or only poor growth. This the gink attributes to fate or the bad growing weather."

"For practical farming he thinks book learning is absurd. He has no more respect for a college education for farmers than a doctor we need not name has for a pre-medical college course for physicians." (R.M.)

Now, see here — As nearly as I can learn, the college course for the prospective farmer is the no-nonsense study of agriculture — and extremely interesting study, it seems to me. Moreover, upon completion of the course the student is or should be well equipped for successful farming.

Webster says a gink is an absurd, eccentric person (slang), and doesn't even mention geek. Some one told me that a geek is a sideshow or carnival character who entertains the yokels by swallowing live fish or some such revolting performance.

It may be that defective hearing made gink sound like geek when I heard a man describing the absurd behavior of a person to whom he referred as "the poor geek" — or at least it sounded that way to me.

Anyway, "gink" does not convey the same meaning as "geek," to my way of thinking, and I doubt that R.M.'s version is widely accepted.

As for Webster, ordinarily so solid and dependable, this is by no means the first time the top authority has ducked the issue. Webster is no help in clearing other obstructions from the ways

'Your Garden Will Be Safe From Children This Way'

I lived in a highly restricted Detroit neighborhood before coming to Oxford. Only caged birds were allowed as pets; fences were verboten as they spoiled the landscape design. It was beautiful for adults, but there were many small children in the neighborhood.

Toddlers grew up with "don't's" so in spring when I planted grass and flowers, I planted a border of pansies and petunias around my bulb plants. Other bright "touchables" circled the base of shade trees. These were the "children's flowers."

I lived 13 years in that neighborhood, unfenced and friendly. The little ones picked bouquets for kindergarten from the easily reached borders (two pansies grow where one is plucked) and believe it or not, my grass came up full of four leaf clovers. The children were careful with my garden because they had a partnership in it. It blossomed with happiness. Try it.

'There's No Such Law in That State'

In reply to B's letter about Massachusetts, it is a Commonwealth and has many blue laws. It is predominately Catholic, but someone misinformed you. Having lived there several years, I can assure you that there are no state laws regarding birth controls.

I know you'll love Massachusetts. The Berkshire Hills are the most beautiful mountains in the world, and scenic-wise the place can't be beat. Wishing you happiness in the East.

'Sad, but True, Is Ohioans' Comment'

Sad to relate, but very true, we feel is the statement of Mr. Schafer of Cleveland that Soapy Williams is "The Best Governor of Michigan" Ohio ever had. Since Soapy and Reuther, I don't have a job either.

'Use Sewage Plant Only for Pontiac'

Once again we're asked to vote for a sewage bond issue. It has been sufficiently proven that we need a more adequate plant, so we should vote the necessary money for it, but only for the City of Pontiac.

This should be only for the city. Many starry-eyed visionaries are proclaiming cities to be dying and see cities such as Pontiac being so-called care centers to provide city services to suburbs. Pontiac shouldn't mortgage homes with a bond issue unless we have specific guarantees we'll not now or at any time become a service center for areas outside the city limits.

It's too late to put it on the ballot, but public statement to this effect should be made by city commissioners and put into the minutes of a meeting. On the other hand, if we're to adhere to a strict annexation or no service policy, we should honor request for annexation, in spite of pressure areas. Our present policy is fair to both taxpayers and neighbors.

'Is Anyone Against Idea of Lotteries?'

I have read a letter or two on the subject of national lottery and I haven't heard anyone oppose it. It sounds like a good idea, for you don't have to take part if you don't believe in it. Does anyone object to the plan?

"Finally, however, I had a light heart attack. It just made me sick to my stomach. And I broke out in a cold sweat, but wasn't unconscious."

"But it served as the handwriting on the wall. So I used your newspaper column on dieting, to help me solve the problem."

"Dr. Crane, you doubtless don't remember it, but I sent for your booklet on 'How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days' and also the one on 'How to Break the Tobacco and Liquor Habits.'"

"Well, I really profited from them and I'll give you my progress report so you can use it in your column to help other high-pressure businessmen."

"The first two days were doubly tough, for I quit tobacco and went on a diet at the same time."

"But I used chewing gum and carried two key rings so I could vent my nervous energy fingering the key rings instead of reaching for a smoke."

"It was cool weather, so I did better with your diet than I expected when limited to that single glass of water for the first day."

"Oh, I got a headache, probably from reducing my coffee intake, but an aspirin knocked it out."

"By the third day, I was feeling pretty good regarding food. My 1,200 calories kept me fairly full, for I used cottage cheese, hamburgers and raw vegetables that filled but had little caloric value."

"In a couple of weeks, I was getting along fine. And the taste of food began to improve. I hadn't realized how much my sense of

Are Disappointed With Boat Show

We attended the city boat show and were very disappointed. Only nine boats were on display, and those not even attractively displayed.

Why always pick the most expensive when most people bringing up children must make a modest start? No one was in attendance and all clerks aren't eating dinner from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

There were some good exhibits but it was wrong to label it a boat show, for that was the most neglected area. It was the same with the Wines open house last year. The society wasn't ready for it. Dust was all over everything, a disgrace.

If Pontiac wishes these things, they should present them before other things of like nature get going and have our merchants and folks in those particular lines present them properly and with lively interest.

'Price of Medicine Getting Out of Hand'

I've always been against socialized medicine, but if the doctors, hospitals and druggists don't slow down on their prices, I don't see any way out for the common class of people.

If you don't have insurance it will break you up, and there are so many who can't afford insurance. I happen to be in the position to know something about the price of medicine. Doubling it would be enough profit, but in most cases the retail price is seven or eight times the wholesale price and on the other hand, a doctor can become rich in a year or so.

I sit alone in reverie . . . Beside the windowpane . . . And, darling, I am lonely as . . . I watch the steady rain . . . My heart is always lonely when . . . You are away from me . . . And though the distance may be short . . . It seems a boundless sea . . . I miss you when the sky is bright . . . And sunshine lights my door . . . But when the rain is coming down . . . I miss you even more . . . I guess the reason is that when . . . I see a tearful sky . . . I am more conscious, darling, of . . . My constant urge to cry . . . I promised to hold back my tears . . . I gave my word to you . . . But in the rain it always is . . . So difficult to do.

Alcorn Blew Fresh Breeze

Departing GOP Leader
Was Refreshingly Open in 'Hot Air' Post

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Every

once in a while a politician leaves this citadel of stuffy party platitudes after a career which makes you feel like saying: "Thanks for some cool air, for a change."

Meade Alcorn is such a one.

With a few moments of frankness he denied, although the dent disappeared fast, the long tradition which seems to require political big-wigs to slam-bang the opposition only and never admit defeat beforehand.

Alcorn, 51, did his share of slambanging before he resigned Wednesday as chairman of the Republican National Committee after more than 22 months of trying to steer his party down a victory road.

But it was his plain talk — months before the 1958 elections — that his party figured to lose which anguished some of his fellow-Republicans and astonished politicians of both parties.

Alcorn, a lawyer who is going back to his practice in Connecticut, looked over the prospects last April and announced to newsmen "it isn't in the cards for the Republicans to win the Senate."

He thought his party might barely make it in the House.

Among politicians this umbrella of gloom which Alcorn raised over his party's chances may have seemed unheard of, unnecessary, unprofessional and even unsporting. But it was realistic.

But Alcorn gave his party another dose of jolting frankness last January when the Republican National Committee met in Des Moines to hold a wake over the 1958 disaster and plan for victory in 1960.

Alcorn told committee members they had better dream up a new look for the party or get set for another shellacking.

"Today, he said, 'we are being out-voted, out-talked, out-spent and out-worked by an alert, disciplined, politically astute opposition.'

"It's time we erased the dollar sign they painted on our vest."

He Liked His Coat,
How About the Jail?

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Louis Sotomayor, wearing a new sport coat, was stopped on the street by a stranger Wednesday.

The stranger praised Sotomayor's coat, appraised it at $100 and asked him for a quarter.

Sotomayor, police chief of this U.S.-Mexico border city, promptly escorted the stranger to jail on a panhandling charge.

Air Collision Before Crash Is Mystery

ORTING, Wash. (AP) — Trailing a ribbon of flame, an Air Force transport plane carrying four crewmen crashed and exploded five miles from this western Washington town Wednesday night.

Air Force crews could find no survivors.

Witnesses said the four-engined, military version of the civilian DC-6 was afire when it crashed.

There was no explanation of the crash, although Air Force officers said the pilot indicated a collision was at fault. He radioed McChord Air Force Base: "We have hit something, or something has hit us."

Col. Robert E. Booth, commander of the 1785th Air Transport Group to which the C-115 was attached, said the pilot said he would attempt to make it back to McChord.

But after a brief period of silence, the pilot told the McChord tower: "This is it."

There were no other reports of collision or near miss.

The Air Force said two of these aboard were Lt. Thomas E. Lavater and Sgt. Guy J. Cunningham, both of Tacoma.

Princess' Surgery to Be but Minutes

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco will be under the knife only six or seven minutes during her appendectomy, her Philadelphia surgeon says.

Dr. James B. Lehman said he would perform the operation with the assistance of a Lausanne surgeon, Dr. Jean-David Buffat, in a local clinic "one of these days, this week, possibly the next."

He said the former Hollywood movie star suffered from appendicitis "and nothing else." He said she has recently had several minor appendicitis attacks and "removal of the organ is the only possible treatment." She suffers no pain and is in excellent health, Dr. Lehman added.

With Princess Grace are her husband, Prince Rainier, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

Industry Makes Sweet Music

Square Dance Caller Williams Hears Upeat

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams, famed as a square dance caller, has put his musical ear to the ground and heard a new sound in Michigan.

"It's an upeat that is drowning out the vilifications which, during the last few months, gave Michigan an undeserved bad name throughout the nation," Williams said last night. He spoke at the annual Road Builders banquet.

"This upeat," the Governor continued, "is being sounded to the tune of more than 600 million dollars in new plants and expansion of present facilities."

Williams called this "quite a sizable sum for a state which our detractors would have the people believe is gasping its last breath." "The alleged corpse is very much alive, indeed," he added.

Williams cited these industrial expansion plans:

Detroit—Consumers Power Co. will spend 117 million dollars in its largest one-year program in history; Detroit Edison, Michigan Bell, Michigan Consolidated Gas and General Telephone all have multi-million dollar programs for 1959; Great Lakes Steel plans a 100-million dollar expansion; Ford Motor Co. intends to invest 35 million in steel facilities;

Upper Peninsula—The armed services to spend more than 6 million; possibility of natural gas may mean industrial renaissance for the area;

Muskegon—Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. ready to start two million dollar plant;

Lansing—Oldsmobile will spend 7½ millions on new warehousing facilities;

Jackson—Winter Seal Corp. preparing to spend 1½ millions; Grand Rapids—Steel Case to invest one million dollars in expansion;

Kalamazoo—Upjohn Co. will spend 23 millions;

Holland—Board of Public Works plans upward of five million dollars in construction.

"On top of this," Williams said, "the economists are predicting that 1959 will be a year which will see all automobile production records smashed."

"These things," he added, "can mean only that we have a great present and an even greater future."

Mexico Finds Plot by Reds

Easter Railroad Strike Called Part of Plan for Chain Walkouts

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Investigation of the Easter rail strike has uncovered a Communist plot to upset Mexico's social order by a chain of strikes in key industries, informed sources said today.

More than 300 confessions from strikers in the holiday rail tieup reportedly revealed the sweeping goal of Red agitators.

The Mexican government has linked two Soviet Embassy officials with the plot and ordered them to get out of the country Friday.

A reliable Mexican source said the Soviet Embassy gave one million pesos—about $80,000—to strike agitators. Secret police trailing a leftist union leader sized the cash.

Train service meanwhile is gradually getting back to normal. There are still pockets of resistance.

Officials said the confessions they have obtained so far show that the rail strike was to have been only the beginning of the Communist plot to paralyze the nation's economy.

Sees No School Threat

ANN ARBOR (AP)—John S. Brubaker, University of Michigan professor of higher education, said in an interview public schools in general are not threatened by attempts to establish private schools in Arkansas and Virginia. He said, "after 100 years of public schools, it would be very difficult to establish a state-private system."

Coeds Can Now Smoke

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Guilford College, 122-year-old Quaker school in this tobacco-producing state, has finally given the go-ahead. Women students, who weren't allowed to smoke within a mile of the school, may now do so at the college soda shop.

Sen. Green, 91, Suffers Light Injuries in Fall

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), 91, oldest man in the U.S. Senate was in Jane Brown Hospital today with a bruised hip and back suffered in a fall.

Doctors said there were no fractures, but he was held for observation.

Green fell Wednesday at the Rhode Island School of Design where he had gone to hear a lecture. He stumbled down two steps.

Wheel, Rail Assist Handling of Boats

EVERETT, Mass. (UPI)—A "Boat-Veyor" has been developed for the boating enthusiast whose vessel is too heavy for him to put on top of his car by himself but too small to warrant the expense of a trailer.

The device, manufactured by the Market Forge Co. here, includes a small wheel attached to the bow of the boat, which can then be wheeled up a monorail that is opened up to lead from the ground to the roof of the auto.

The "Boat-Veyor" is said to be capable of handling boats up to 14 feet in length and 200 pounds in weight.

Explaining how hail can form in the summer, the Weather Bureau points out that on an average July day over Washington, D.C., water freezes at 2.75 miles and that the temperature dips to 30.5 degrees below zero F. at six miles.

Train Derailment Puts 11 in Hospital

ATKINS, Iowa (AP)—The swift Milwaukee Road Arrow, with 96 sleeping passengers aboard, was derailed in the Atkins railroad yards early today.

Authorities said 11 persons—9 passengers and 2 crewmen—were brought to St. Luke's Hospital in nearby Cedar Rapids. At least 20 other passengers were bruised and shaken up, but did not require hospitalization.

The Chicago-bound Arrow, one of the Milwaukee Road's finest trains, was made up of two coaches, a pullman, three baggage and mail cars, and a twin diesel unit.

All cars except the first diesel unit were derailed but remained upright. The skidding cars tore up about 1,600 feet of track on the main line.

Justice Prevails for Bumped GIs

Call to AF Commander Restores Airliner Seats Taken by Officer

TOKYO (AP)—Seven American enlisted men going on emergency home leave—one to the bedside of his critically ill mother—were assigned seats on the U.S. military airliner from Tokyo.

The deluxe "Pacific Express" was flying to California with a stop at Hawaii.

At the last minute on March 26 a lieutenant colonel with his wife and family—six in all—showed up at the airport, bound for a Hawaii vacation.

The GIs were bumped and the colonel and family given their seats.

Airman Coye Y. Bell of Fayetteville, Tenn., telephoned Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of U.S. forces in Japan, to protest that he was trying to get home to his ill mother.

The plane was half an hour out of Tokyo over the Pacific before the general could verify the complaint. Burns ordered the aircraft back and went himself to Tachikawa Air Base to see that the GIs got their seats back.

Among those with Bell were Sgt. Paul S. Cain, Sedalia, Mo.; Airman Robert J. Kindl, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.; Airman Gordon N. Read, Ithaca, N.Y. and Sgt. John P. Snyder, Vandergrift, Pa.

The colonel's name is being withheld pending completion of an investigation. A U.S. Air Force spokesman explained that he "might be completely innocent in the affair."

Innocent or not, the incident ruined the colonel's vacation. He was asked to be available for the investigation, canceled his leave and returned to duty.

"We don't know exactly how it happened," the spokesman said. "Emergency leaves normally provide a priority that is sufficiently high to safeguard any passenger against being bumped by someone on regular leave, regardless of rank."

Year's Biggest Theft: a Seven-Ton Tractor

DENVER, Colo. (U.S.)—It was the biggest theft reported around here this year.

Raps Judges' Setup

Asks $6,000 Pension Lid

LANSING (AP)—An Upper Peninsula lawmaker wants a $6,000-a-year lid on pensions supported wholly or in part from public monies.

Sen. Philip Rahol (D-Iron Mountain), in calling for the ceiling yesterday, said a Wayne County probate judge now can draw up to $17,000 a year in retirement funds and a circuit judge up to $12,247.

Rahol said some high-salaried state employees can draw $10,000 or more in annual pensions, not counting social security.

His bill would limit contributions for pensions to five per cent on the first $12,000 of salary.

NOT FAIR

"It isn't fair to pay these whopping pensions out of taxpayers' money and at the same time allow only $40 or $50 a month in welfare for unfortunates who paid taxes for 40 years before adversity caught up with them," he said.

A proposed ceiling on pensions for judges is pending in the House.

Area Policemen Receive Awards for Safe Driving

Madison Heights and Pleasant Ridge policemen are good drivers. They've got the awards to prove it.

Driving records of both departments show nearly an accident over the past year. For this the Madison Heights Department received the first place plaque in competition with other South Oakland County departments, and the Pleasant Ridge officers received an award of merit for placing second.

Madison Heights edged Pleasant Ridge for first place by having one more police car. The winners have three.

There are about three widows to every widower in the United States.

Report Describes Inflation Damage

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—When the Federal government spends one billion dollars and finances it the hard, unpopular way—by taxation—it costs the average U.S. family about $30.

A report by the Family Economics Bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., Minneapolis, goes on to say that when the government raises the billion dollars the "easy," popular way—by borrowing it—the resultant dose of inflation can cost the same family up to $40 a year in higher living costs for years to come.

The figures are included in a recent bureau report telling how present-day inflation does its damage through our modern "check-book" money system.

Find New Ways to Measure Fat on Hog's Back

MADISON, Wis. (U-P)—Jack Sprat and his wife might welcome two new methods of measuring fat and lean.

Of particular value to the swine breeder are the "back fat probe" and the "lean meter," according to University of Wisconsin meat specialist Robert W. Bray.

The "lean meter," developed by Purdue University, has a small needle wired to a meter. Impulses from the needle, thrust into the hog's back, make the meter register depth of fat.

Cheaper to use is the "backfat probe." A small, painless slit is made in the hog's back, and a small ruler is inserted to measure depth of fat over the seventh rib, an area indicative of the average fat covering the hog.

Dulles also talked by telephone with the State Department in Washington.

Consumer Spending Hits Record in 1st Quarter '59

NEW YORK (UPI)—American consumers buoyed the economy in the first quarter of 1959 by spending more money for goods and services than in any previous three months in history.

And economists look for an even faster spending pace in the months ahead as Americans step up their spending for everything from appliances to vacations.

But there's no boom or wild spending spree in the offing. Economists note that the public has more money than ever before and "is spending normally."

Economists told United Press International that in the first three months of this year, which included Easter, consumers spent money at an annual rate of more than $300 billion.

That compares with the previous record annual rate of $295,900,000,000 set in the final quarter of 1958. Consumers have carried the brunt of increased spending in the recovery. They have stepped up outlays for autos, appliances, clothing, food and a raft of other goods and services.

Compared with the first quarter of 1958, when the recession was about at its low, consumer spending now is running $11,300,000,000 higher at an annual rate.

Economists pointed out that the spending increase has been well rounded with durable goods, soft goods and services all holding up well.

As W. Zelomek, a leading retail economist, said this year's Easter volume ran about 5 per cent above Easter 1958, which came later in the year. He said soft goods were one of the real bright spots of this year's Easter trade.

Zelomek, a visiting professor at Virginia University's graduate school of business, said sales of women's suits, men's sweaters, millinery and shoes all scored good gains.

"Appliance sales are up sharply from last year's depressed levels," he added, "but over-all appliance volume has not come up to expectations. Auto sales are well above a year ago but, again, nobody is breaking down any doors."

Zelomek expressed the view that the economy cars scheduled to be introduced in the fourth quarter—the start of the 1960 model year—will have some dampening effect on enthusiasm for 1959 models.

He said although no boom is in prospect, consumer spending will increase in each of the remaining three quarters, including the third quarter when industrial production will decline seasonally.

The economists estimated that consumer spending in the June quarter will run at a record annual rate of $303,400,000,000.

Some economists have warned that consumer spending alone at its present rate of growth will not be sufficient to keep the economy moving higher.

They say sustained recovery in 1959 and 1960 "will have to be sparked by a sharper revival both in consumer spending for autos and other hard goods and in business spending for plant and equipment."

"The feeling in business circles is that the 1960 cars will make a big contribution to the upswing, as will business capital expenditures, which appear to have resumed a cyclical upturn."

Prentice Hall believes this upturn may continue well into 1961. It said "capital spending plans are being revised upward as business profits improve, and as the shadow of rising labor costs looms larger on the horizon."

Lack of Punctuation Causes Tongue Twister

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The word condescension on a Chesterfield County building permit caused some furrowed brows. It referred to the type roof for an industrial building.

Miss Patricia Barbour, secretary to the building inspector, solved the problem. She had overlooked putting in the periods. The next permit read: "Conc. asph. insulated." Meaning concrete, asphalt, insulated.

Circuit Court Race Holds Election Spotlight

Expect City Controversy to Spur Monday's Voting

Three controversial local issues are expected to attract a large turnout at the polls in Pontiac. Topping the list is a proposal to repeal Civil Service for police, a question tied to Police Department difficulties the past two years and the Herbert W. Straley hearing before the Civil Service Commission which ended Wednesday night.

Up before voters for the third time is a general obligation bond issue to finance new sewage treatment facilities — this time in the amount of $3,300,000.

Just as controversial among many elements in the city is the third proposal, which would repeal the city's ordinance setting 2 p.m. instead of noon, as the Sunday opening time for taverns.

'YES' WOULD REPEAL

The tavern ordinance is proposition No. 2 on the city ballot, and a majority "yes" vote would result in its repeal.

No. 1 is the Civil Service question, and a majority "yes" vote would see its repeal, also.

No. 3 is the bond issue, and a three-fifths majority of "yes" votes is necessary for passage.

All registered voters can pass on propositions one and two, but only property owners are eligible to vote on number three.

The City Commission, which has always had a distaste for Civil Service for police, put the issue on the ballot.

It was two years ago — April 1, 1957 — that Pontiac voters moved by referendum to place the Police Department under a special state act, commonly known as "Act 78," because it was the 78th act passed by the Legislature in 1935.

SUPERCEDES CHARTER

The state act superceded the Trial Board regulations which the City Charter set up for the Police Department.

Adoption of Civil Service resulted in a number of changes, that brought Police Department squabbles into the public eye.

Civil Service hearings had to be public, whereas Trial Board sessions were private. A Civil Service decision could automatically be appealed to Circuit Court, whereas Trial Board verdicts were final.

Rank-and-file policemen were allowed to name one member to the three-member Civil Service Commission, whereas appointments to the seven-member Trial Board were in the hands of the City Commission.

The city administration often found it hard to work with Civil Service and ended up branding the act "unworkable."

For instance, whereas promotions were formerly controlled by the police chief and the city manager, under Civil Service they had to come off the top of an eligibility list of officers who had passed examinations for higher posts.

CLAIMS UNDERMINING

Management claimed its authority and discretion were undermined.

With at least one sympathetic listener on the Commission, Pontiac Police Officers Assn. leaders began criticizing Straley in the summer of 1957, using the Civil Service sessions as a sounding board.

After long, heated feuding, association leaders ended up demanding Straley's ouster and Straley, in turn, called for the officers' dismissal.

A result of the battle was the Public Administration Service probe of Police Department morale and efficiency, which touched off a chain of events leading to Straley's ouster Feb. 9.

Most of the sessions of the Civil Service Commission have reflected in one way or another the continuous battle between Straley and subordinate officers.

Only one decision was appealed to Circuit Court, and this was upheld. In that case, a patrolman was fired and, although the PPOA financed his appeal, there was no direct conflict with Straley involved.

BRING SUIT

This was hardly the situation when four officers brought suit last year on grounds that Straley and City Manager Walter K. Willman denied them promotions in violation of the Civil Service Act.

The officers won, leading Willman to comment discouragingly, "Civil Service has tied the administration's hands."

It was the PPOA that campaigned for Civil Service two years ago, successfully putting the issue on the ballot by petition when the City Commission declined to do so.

the endorsement of labor but this year labor has maintained a silence on the issue. Sufficient votes to endorse Civil Service again couldn't be mustered at the last meeting of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

The PPOA said it would fight to retain Civil Service, but its campaign has only been a shadow of what it was two years ago.

The association—especially some of its present and past leaders—has come in for sharp criticism at the Straley hearing.

Meantime, a special mayor's committee has interviewed rank-and-file police officers and come up with some recommendations it believes would make the Trial Board more suitable in case it goes back into effect through Civil Service repeal.

Monday's vote is not concerned with Civil Service for firemen who have been under the same act as the police for more than 15 years.

The city believes that the key to Pontiac expansion lies in expansion of its sewage treatment facilities.

City commissioners put the bond issue on the ballot in hopes of reversing the narrow, nine per cent margin by which it was defeated last fall. A similar bond issue, but in a lesser amount, was more soundly defeated in 1957.

The money would go for expanded facilities at the existing plant, new facilities at a new plant site and pipeline connections between the two operations.

City Manager Walter K. Willman has estimated that with sewers, this underdeveloped land could be built up to the tune of at least $100,000,000 in assessed valuations.

If the bond issue is passed, sewers could be extended to some areas that still rely on septic tanks, and an incinerator would be erected to turn all sludge waste into sterile ash. This process would put an end to disposal of sludge into the ever-growing lagoon of sludge east of the existing treatment plant.

It is believed that expanded facilities would end pollution of the Clinton River, and would restore plant and fish life in the stream from Pontiac to Utica by increasing oxygen in the water.

The city has been criticized for pollution for some time, and the existing plant is operating at only 83 per cent efficiency, or 12 points below the minimum of the State Health Department.

An ever-present possibility is a court order, forcing the city to expand its treatment system to end pollution.

If the Health Department got the State Supreme Court to issue such an order, the city would be forced to issue revenue bonds to finance the expansion, at a much larger cost to the average taxpayer than the general obligation bonds the city wants passed Monday.

Revenue bonds would be paid off by a hike in water rates, explained Willman, which would effect homeowners primarily.

But business and industry would pay 78 per cent of the cost to retire general obligation bonds, he said, leaving the average homeowner faced with a bill of only $2.80 a year.

Present plans are to pay the bonds off within the present property tax rate, Willman has said.

TAVERN PROPOSAL

Proposition No. 2 got on the ballot as a result of a battle between the Pontiac Pastors Assn. and the Oakland County Table Toppers Assn.

The pastors wanted to cut down on Sunday sale of beer and wine and Table Toppers wanted to increase it.

Early this year, the church group began circulating petitions to put a proposition on Monday's ballot that would end Sunday sales altogether.

Petitioning under a special provision in state law, the pastors needed 7,400 signatures, but failed to get them.

As a counter-move Table Toppers circulated petitions to place on the ballot a proposition repealing the city's 1934 tavern ordinance, which has the 2 p.m. Sunday opening as its principal feature.

Acting under the City Charter, the tavern owners needed only 1,400 signatures and they got them, putting their issue on the ballot.

The City Commission previously had refused to help either group, saying that a change in the city's liquor controls should be voted on by the public.

If the ordinance is repealed, taverns will automatically fall back under the control of state law, which puts opening time at noon Sunday.

The Table Toppers have argued for the change on grounds that private clubs within Pontiac and public taverns in neighboring communities can open at noon on Sunday, since they are not controlled by any local ordinance.

Button Shuts Tank at '$2 Worth'

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Most motorists driving into a gas station either ask the attendant to "fill 'er up" or say "give me two dollars worth." Only a small fraction request a specific amount of gas.

That's the conclusion of a survey conducted in Hartford by Veder-Root Inc., manufacturer of gasoline pump computers. The company has produced a push button device to shut the gas flow when the requested dollar amount is reached.

Originally, the device also shut off at a specific gallon figure. But so few people asked for gas by the gallon that the gallon buttons weren't needed. So the company eliminated them.

Money Problems Inject Some Fever Into Campaign

LANSING (AP)—Turn the rascals out.

This in effect is the campaign refrain both Republican and Democratic leaders are banking on in Monday's spring election.

The odd part of it is that the ballot won't list the "rascals"—Democratic Gov. Williams, if you listen to Republican chieftains, or GOP lawmakers, if Williams has your ear.

The political war cries, all but ignoring the 28 names on the statewide partisan and judicial ballots, are beamed over their heads at more responsive springs of voter emotion.

Foremost in the minds of strategists on both sides in urging "a protest vote" are Michigan's financial woes.

The GOP took the lead when its executive and campaign committee sought in mid-March to pin the blame for threatened payless paydays and the state's ballooning deficit squarely on Williams.

His "absentism," his "playing politics," his "irresponsible leadership," his failure to economize—all these things, the Republican policymakers contend, have perched Michigan on the brink of financial chaos.

Firing back later, the governor pitched the Democratic statewide effort to the argument that stubborn Republican legislators have brought the state to its perilous pass.

They are playing at brinkmanship, "willing to pull down the entire state if that will help them pull down Democrats," Williams says.

This week, he added the allegation that through a "ripper" unemployment compensation bill the GOP was trying to exact a "pound of flesh" from the state's 350,000 jobless to benefit a comparative handful of employers.

Republicans have hit hard on the theme that Williams is trying to force a graduated personal income tax on an unwilling citizenry, and that voters should rise up in protest on this account.

After a full start, the campaign tempo quickened in the final week, bringing predictions that Monday's turnout may hit 1,250,000 or even more—about 40 per cent of it in Detroit and Wayne County.

In the 1957 spring election, 1,124,000 persons went to the polls. This was an estimated 30 per cent of registered voters.

Traditionally, Michigan spring

3/4 of State's Balloting Done by Machine

About 75 per cent of the balloting in the April 6 election will be done by machine.

Some 3,290, or 64.8 per cent, of the state's 5,172 precincts had automatic voting machines as of March 18.

Only five of Oakland's 285 precincts are still using paper ballots.

State election officials said the statewide precincts with voting machines normally handle 75 per cent of the total state vote.

Only 143 of Wayne County's 1,217 precincts still have paper ballots. The 5,182 precincts as of March 18 compared with 5,161 precincts in the state when votes were cast in the Nov. 4 election.

County Voters Will Select 5 Judges From Field of 10

Filling five Circuit Court judge positions for the next six years will be the major countywide attraction for Oakland County voters in the statewide biennial spring election Monday.

Voters then will select from a field of 10 nominees the five men who will don the robes of Circuit Court judge beginning Jan. 1, 1960.

Among the 10 are incumbent Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, and William J. Beer, Oakland's senior and fourth judge, Frank L. Doty, is not eligible for re-election because of his age.

The 10 vying for the five terms that end Dec. 31, 1959, besides the three incumbents, are Frederick C. Ziem, Stanton G. Dondero, James C. Allen, Maurice E. Finnegan, Verne C. Hampton, Milton F. Cooney and Wendell Brown.

County voters placed the incumbents and seven other nominees in this same order by the number of votes they gave them at the Feb. 16 primary.

This will be the largest number of circuit judges ever voted on in Oakland County. The fifth judgeship was approved a year ago to ease a record number of cases handled by the four judges.

With this approval came a provision that the fifth jurist take the bench six months earlier than the other four. This necessitates that voters Monday chose between Cooney and former Berkeley State Rep. Theodore F. Hughes for a short, six-month term which will commence July 1.

COULD SERVE TILL DEC. 31

Growing out of this balloting between Cooney and Hughes is the possibility that should Hughes beat out Cooney, he would have to give up his bench and robes at the end of December.

This is conceivable as Hughes was not one of the 10 nominees for the full, six-year terms, and thus has no hope of continuing in office after six months, should he defeat Cooney. Hughes was defeated in the primary.

Cooney, however, could continue in office should he win out over Hughes for the short term and also be one of the five judges elected Monday. If the latter does not happen, Cooney, like Hughes, would have to relinquish his seat to the fifth judge victor Jan. 1.

Election of the five judges and the short-term is all on a non-partisan basis, as required by law.

NO CONTEST

There's a third section of the local non-partisan judicial ballot Monday. This is a no-contest affair in which Judge Beer is certain of being the winner for the unexpired term of the late Judge George B. Hartwick, which ends Dec. 31. Beer was appointed to fill the seat when Judge Hartwick died in August.

Law requires that at the next general election the balance of the unexpired term be filled. No candidates filed for this position other than incumbent Beer.

Besides the five full-term judgeships, the short term, and the unexpired term, a fourth segment of the non-partisan ballot Monday is for two State Supreme Court justice posts. The non-partisan judicial ballot will be in blue in the center of your ballot.

(The race for the two Michigan Supreme Court positions is covered in a separate story on this same page.)

County voters will vote for not more than five of the 10 candidates for the five full-term local judgeships. They should note that the 10 names appear on two rows, one above another.

Following is a brief synopsis of the backgrounds of the 19 candidates, in the order they finished in the primary.

JUDGE H. RUSSEL HOLLAND—A veteran of the local court, Judge Holland began in this position back in 1936. The Detroit College of Law graduate previously was Pontiac justice of the peace after a stint as high school principal in Virginia and history teacher in Detroit. Holland, who is 61, lives at 117 E. Iroquois Rd.

JUDGE CLARK J. ADAMS—Appointed to the bench in 1953 by Gov. Williams, Adams previously had been the governor's legal advisor, State Supreme Court justice, state representative and a member of the State Corrections Commission. Adams, 54, lives at 2755 W. Walton Blvd., Waterford Township. The second-ranking member of the local bench, he is a University of Michigan Law School graduate.

JUDGE WILLIAM J. BEER—Third-ranking Oakland jurist in time of service is the 40-year-old Judge Beer of Berkeley. Gov. Williams appointed him to fill the vacancy left by Judge Hartwick's death last August. He lives at 2358 Earlmont St. Beer practiced law in Detroit and Royal Oak and was a Circuit Court commissioner in Presque Isle County for 11 years.

FREDERICK C. ZIEM—Ziem, 42, of 74 Mohawk Rd., has been Oakland's prosecuting attorney since 1952, having been re-elected to his fourth consecutive term last November. He's been with this county office since 1947 as an assistant prosecutor, then chief assistant, then prosecutor. Ziem was graduated from Pontiac Central High and the University of Michigan.

STANTON G. DONDERO—Dondero was born, educated, and has lived all his life in Royal Oak. He has maintained a law office there for 18 years. Dondero, son of former Oakland County Congressman George A. Dondero, served once as clerk for Judge Hartwick. He earned degrees from the University of Kentucky and the University of Michigan. He is 43 and lives at 1504 Vinetta Blvd.

JAMES C. ALLEN—Former commissioner of the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission, mayor and commissioner of Birmingham, Allen is 40 and lives at 1108 Maple Ave., Birmingham. He is associated with a Detroit law firm. Allen, a graduate of the old Baldwin High School in Birmingham and the University of Michigan, serves also as attorney for the city of Southfield.

MAURICE E. FINNEGAN—A native of Pontiac, Finnegan presently is a Pontiac municipal judge, a position he has had since 1941. The 54-year-old candidate served as clerk for three former circuit judges and Judge Holland. He lives at 38 Delaware Dr. Finnegan also served as deputy probate register for Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

VERNE C. HAMPTON—Hampton, 55, has been a local Circuit Court commissioner for 21 years, with offices in Pontiac. He lives in Bloomfield Township at 3631 Brookside Dr. He is first vice president of the Michigan State Conference of Bar Officers. Hampton, first elected commissioner in 1936, has maintained a law office here since 1929.

MILTON F. COONEY—Cooney, 52, of 56 E. Washington St., Clarkston, is attorney for Independence Township and Clarkston. He is a former Pontiac municipal judge and the city's first director of public safety. Cooney, who now has his law office in Pontiac, is a graduate of Pontiac High School.

WENDELL BROWN—The 56-year-old Brown is a Farmington Township trustee. He resides in the township at 2921 Ardmore St. Besides being trustee he is village attorney for Woodcreek Farms. A practicing attorney for 33 years, he has been on the staff of former Atty. Gen. Paul W. Voorhees, been a legal advisor for a grand jury and an assistant prosecutor in Wayne County.

State Voters Will Fill Dozen Education Posts

LANSING (AP)—From a host of political unknowns, Michigan voters will fill a dozen statewide education posts next Monday, more than ever before in a single election.

Winners will find their work cut out for them. Faced with rising costs and burgeoning enrollments, schools at every level are struggling with some of their toughest financial problems in history.

The state treasury, which supports nine colleges and universities, faces a staggering debt with little prospect of relief until new tax laws can be enacted.

All but one opening—state superintendent of public instruction—is part-time, unsalaried jobs on governing bodies of higher education institutions.

All six members will be elected on the first Board of Governors for Wayne State University, which will come under full state control July 1.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, 55, state superintendent of public instruction, is the only Democratic incumbent among the 12 nominees. First elected two years ago, he was the first Democrat in 25 years to win the $17,500 a year job.

His opponent, waging one of the strongest campaigns of any candidate, is Hugh H. Holloway, 42, superintendent of schools at Sault Ste. Marie.

Democrats, gunning for another election sweep of statewide offices, have everything to gain and little but prestige to lose in races for the five other openings on three college boards. All five posts are Republican-held and four of the five incumbents are retiring.

For the University of Michigan Board of Regents, now divided 4-4 between Republicans and Democrats, the GOP nominated Frederick C. Mattheis, Detroit and Ann Arbor industrialist and chairman of the committee working to bring the 1964 Olympics to Detroit; and Mrs. Ann Timmons Burgess, 42, Grand Rapids housewife and mother of four. Both are U. of M. graduates.

Opposing them will be William K. McKinley, 53, attorney and board chairman for the National Bank of Jackson, and Ellis A. Wunsch, 40, academic director of Northwestern Michigan Community College at Traverse City.

Already occupying four of the six seats on the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University, Democrats could take full control by grabbing the two vacancies. Their nominees are Warren M. Huff, 49, of Plymouth, former Kaiser-Frazer Corp. executive and now owner of two farms and a ranch; and Earl J. Bjornseth, 55, of Perry, former high school teacher and retired technician with a chemical company. He also owns a farm in Shiawassee County.

Two years ago, Civil Service had

Seeking re-election is Republican Arthur K. Rouse, 48, of Boyne City, MSU alumnus and distributor for an oil refinery in northern Michigan. He was first elected to the Board in 1953.

Rouse's running mate is Frank Merriman, 35, Deckerville farmer who made an unsuccessful try for the Board in 1957.

The State Board of Education, which sets policy for three state colleges and Western Michigan University, is made up of two Republicans and one Democrat. The Republican choice for the single vacancy is Charles G. Burns, 70, Alcona County school superintendent who served on the Board from 1945 to 1957. Opposing him is Mrs. Williams McKinley Robinson, 62, Kalamazoo housewife and civic leader.

All the 12 candidates for the Wayne State Board are making their first try at political office. Among them are the first two Negroes ever nominated for statewide political office.

Two of the winners will serve two-year terms, two will serve four years and the other two, six years.

For two-year terms, Democrats nominated Dr. Dewitt T. Bugton, 66, of Detroit, Negro physician and surgeon, and Clair White, 43, of Bay City, economics instructor at Bay City Central High School. They will square off against Whitney W. Ballantine, Wayne attorney, and Warren C. Lambert, 51, Marquette physician and surgeon who holds three degrees from WSU.

GOP choices for four-year terms are Dr. Warren B. Cooksey, chief of the Cardiology Department at Detroit's Harper Hospital and teacher of medicine at WSU, and Albert B. Chennault, Detroit Negro who operates a real estate and insurance agency. Running against them are Dr. Michael Ference Jr., 47, of Dearborn, director of the Ford Motor Co.'s scientific laboratory, and Leonard Woodcock, 48, of Detroit, an international vice president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Democrats vying for six-year stints on the Wayne Board are Melvin E. Bleich, 38, Detroit advertising director for a department store chain and a member of the temporary Wayne Board, and Mrs. Jean McKee, 33, Grand Rapids attorney and former Wayne County public administrator, and Edward G. Durance, Midland County assistant county prosecutor and at 25 the youngest candidate on the ticket.

Cole, Baldwin Seek High Court Posts

Two Oakland Men on State Ballot

Maurice F. Cole and William H. Baldwin—Oakland County's lone contribution to the April 6 election ballot—are not openly disturbed about the odds on them knocking down two incumbents off the State Supreme Court.

Both these political fledglings have been tramping around Michigan with the air of seasoned campaigners.

Over in the other non-political camp, the incumbents, Justices George Edwards and John D. Voelker, seem to be content to rest with a few handshakes here and there and wait for the votes to be counted. They've done little county-by-county barnstorming.

Matter of fact, Voelker is too busy supervising the filming of his book "Anatomy of a Murder" in Marquette to pay much attention to the election.

2 COLES ON BALLOT

Appearance of a second Cole—

Kenneth W. Cole, a Saginaw attorney—added a little fight to the race when he stood off Republican attempts, centered in Oakland County, to have his name scratched from April 6 ballots.

Republicans felt chances of their Cole—Maurice—would be seriously threatened through confusion of having two Coles running for the same office. Kenneth Cole is on the Prohibitionist Party ticket, although the judicial balloting by law is done on a non-partisan basis.

Maurice Cole, a Ferndale attorney and one of the county's two Circuit Court commissioners, admits the presence of Kenneth Cole isn't helping his chances of pulling in votes Monday.

However, voters throughout the state shouldn't be confused as Maurice Cole will have "Circuit Court Commissioner" under his name on most ballots, while his opponent by the same name will be identified further with "Attorney at Law." They were granted these designations in some counties because of likeness of names.

But Baldwin, of Bloomfield Township, will be just plain William H. Baldwin to Michigan voters.

FEELS LONELY

"I feel sort of lonely on that ballot," bemoaned the 43-year-old Detroit attorney with the firm of Baldwin, Boss and Baldwin.

"I hope voters don't think I'm not even an attorney without some designation under my name," Baldwin, of 745 Hupp Cross Rd., said.

Maurice Cole, 65, a court commissioner since 1938 and former assistant Oakland County prosecutor (1931-33), and Baldwin were the unopposed choices of Oakland and other Michigan Republicans at their February convention in Detroit.

Justice Edwards, 44, on the high court bench since 1936, and Voelker, 55, a justice since 1956 also, were a cinch for renomination by Democrats.

But now Cole, Baldwin, Edwards, and Voelker must keep their political affiliations to themselves. State law requires no party tags be used in judicial races, even though its no secret which candidates are supported by which party.

"That was the shortest marriage ever heard of. Shortly after leaving the convention I had to immediately divorce myself from any Republican ties," said Oakland's Cole.

Since it is against the legal cannons to engage in political mudslinging, Cole and Baldwin in their swings around the state have been trying to sell a change in this "non-political" type of nomination.

"ANTIQUATED" SYSTEM

"It's antiquated and unworkable," says Baldwin, a director with the Detroit Bar Assn. and the father of four children. He's been practicing in Detroit since 1946.

"This method of nomination of Supreme Court justices is all wrong," echoes Cole.

Voters in the state haven't heard—at least in public meetings—Cole or Baldwin rip into their two opponents for judicial decisions, although the temptation is there.

Nor have Edwards, frequently mentioned as Democratic choice as Gov. Williams' successor, or Voelker taken any political cuts in public at the two GOP choices.

"All we can do because of the judicial cannons and non-partisan nature of the election is try and sell ourselves as qualified for the positions," explained Cole.

Edwards, former Detroit Common Council president, was a probate and circuit judge in Wayne County before his appointment and subsequent

Tibet Fighting Said Continuing

Taipei Reports Battle 165 Miles From Lhasa With 100 Reds Killed

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China's official Central News Agency reported today that Tibetan rebels and Chinese Communist troops are still fighting 165 miles northeast of Lhasa as well as near the Tibetan capital.

Central News said the report came from intelligence sources in Lhasa. There was no way of checking its accuracy, but Peiping radio said speakers at a meeting in Lhasa urged the Red army "to continue mopping up the rebels in remote areas of Tibet."

The Central News Agency report said more than 100 Communist troops were killed Monday and Tuesday in the Heiho area and fighting was still in progress. Communist reinforcements from Sinkiang, bound for Lhasa, were reported to have arrived at Heiho, a small highway town 165 miles northeast of the capital and 60 miles from Tibet's frontier with the Chinese province of Tsinghai.

The report also said the rebels controlled the highway between Lhasa and Shigatse, the second largest town in Tibet 140 miles southwest of Lhasa and the site of the lamastery headed by the Panchen Lama.

This report, if correct could mean that the Panchen Lama, named by the Communists to replace the Dalai Lama as head of the Tibetan local government, so far could not reach the capital. The Communist radio had reported him still in Shigatse on Monday. There was a possibility, however, that the Reds plan for him to "govern" from Shigatse since his following in Lhasa presumably is small.

Believes Adlai Best for Dem Nomination

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore), home for the Easter recess, says he favors Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic party's nomination for president in 1960.

"Adlai Stevenson is the outstanding statesman of either party," Neuberger told the Portland Ministerial Alliance Wednesday.

"I have met all the men who have been mentioned as possible presidential nominees, and Stevenson is so much higher in quality and intellect that there is no comparison," he added.

Nearsighted? You Should See a Psychiatrist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — People who are near-sighted may need psychotherapy instead of glasses. That's the way a UCLA psychologist sees it.

Dr. Jack Fox said in a report released today that a study he conducted suggests that near-sightedness is a psychosomatic disorder—one induced by mental and emotional disturbances.

Eighty persons were used in the study. Forty were near-sighted and 40 had normal vision. Fox said he found the 40 near-sighted subjects were more inhibited than the others and tended to repress anxiety and take recourse in bodily complaints and symptoms.

'The Babe and I'

By MRS. BABE RUTH with Bill Slocum

(Condensed from "The Babe and I," Copyright, 1959, by Mrs. Babe Ruth and published by Prentice Hall, Inc.)

As the Babe sat and wept he began to die.

In November of 1946 Dr. Philip MacDonald sent Babe to the French Hospital to see if the mystery of agonizing headaches could be diagnosed. It took surgery to diagnose cancer.

The Babe didn't know then and he was never to be told, and so far as I am aware he never did know. Yet, perhaps he did and was making it as easy for me as he could.

Shortly before he died he met Frank Slocum, the youngest son of his old ghost writer, Bill Slocum.

Frank asked Babe how he felt and Babe growled, "Lousy. And they think they're kidding me. But they aren't. I know what I got."

While Babe was recovering, that's the word, from his operation at French Hospital he got 30,000 letters.

Think of that — 30,000 letters to a man long gone from baseball and a man who, insofar as the public knew, was only mildly ill.

Babe looked at a few and he glanced up from one to say to me, "Here's a lady who wants to know the name of my doctor. She thinks I have cancer."

"Well, you haven't," I told him. He seemed to forget the matter. And his health improved.

ONCE MORE FOR THE KIDS

A Sunday or two after we got him home, Walter Winchell reported on the radio that Babe's friends wept when they saw him and that he had shrunk from 225 to 100 pounds.

The broadcast depressed him unbelievably and he growled, "Hell, when I'm dead my bones will weigh more than 100 pounds."

One of our friends called station WOR. She gave the news room a full and accurate report of Babe's weight and what he had for dinner.

The depressed Babe sat up to listen to the 11 o'clock news on WOR and heard the announcer say, "And Babe had a big spaghetti and ham dinner at his home tonight. He weighs 180 pounds at the moment."

The Babe went to bed laughing. His health improved enough for a trip to Florida for some fishing and a little golf.

In the spring of 1947 Babe got a baseball job, from an automobile concern which was sponsoring the American Legion Baseball League for youngsters. Babe was to be the titular head of the league.

It meant travel. He would visit Little League parks and meet kids. Babe's doctors advised that he accept. All things considered, I think the advance was sound.

A doctor and a male nurse flew with us as we visited such cities as Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Billings, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and others.

There was always a motorcade from the airport to the hotel. Then a luncheon and a trip to the ball park where Babe posed with the kids.

He'd hold a bat and, until his doctor became adamant, he would always accept an offer to hit a few.

The streets were invariably lined wherever he went. And that made him happy in his pain and weariness.

In most cities, school was let out so the youngsters could get a look at the man they had all heard so much about and, in Drastic experimental treatment helps, and Claire helps too.

Thousands of cases, hoped to emulate.

"Even if they don't like baseball," Babe would say, "they gotta like the Babe. I got 'em a day off."

DRASTIC TREATMENT HELPS

After Los Angeles he couldn't get 'em any more days off. He had to go home. By train. He was a very sick man. He just sat in the stateroom, head in hands.

In New York, Babe underwent some drastic, experimental treatment, and it helped. He put on weight and felt well enough to accept the Yankee's invitation to a brilliant promotional stunt — "Babe Ruth Day."

More than 60,000 people showed up. Babe wasn't up to putting on a uniform, but he appeared in sports clothes and his familiar camel's hair coat.

The reception he received worked wonders that no medicine, experimental injections or scalpel could approach.

Mel Allen, an old friend, introduced the Babe. Babe's voice was almost gone. To complicate his problem, he had been seized with a vicious coughing spell just before the ceremonies began.

But this was an occasion to be risen to and he, as always, was able.

He said, "The only real game, I think, in the world is baseball." He spoke, huskily and briefly, of what baseball meant to boys and the rewards baseball offered boys who worked to learn the game.

Then, "There have been so many lovely things said about me today, that I'm glad to have had the opportunity to thank everybody. Thank you."

ALWAYS RELIGIOUS

He trudged slowly back to the dugout, his eyes filled with tears as he listened to the roaring salute the fans fired back at him.

And this time Babe did not cry alone. Not by many, many thousands did he cry alone.

In the dugout Cardinal Spellman took the Babe's arm and said, "Babe, you've been an inspiration to all creeds. You've always been an inspiration to me. Good luck and God bless you."

The Cardinal's words stirred him deeply. The Babe had often attended mass. He had used the prayers of his childhood every day of his adult life. He often knelt by a window to pray.

And, prior to his operation, the Cardinal had said, "Babe, I'll be happy to come to your house and give you communion."

Only a Catholic can understand that honor. The Babe understood it well, but said, "No thanks. I'll come down to your place."

Hawaii State Vote Expected June 27

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. William F. Quinn says Hawaii's plebiscite on statehood "probably will be held the same date as its first primary election under statehood — June 27."

But he said he would not formally proclaim either this date or a general election for July 28 until the territorial Legislature approves important changes in Hawaii election laws. He must issue the proclamation before April 17 under the rules which govern

Quinn said he thought 80 to 90 per cent of the voters would approve statehood. They will choose two U.S. senators, one representative, and their own governor and lieutenant-governor.

He said a new seven-cent air-mail stamp commemorating statehood would be issued on Admission Day, when President Eisenhower certifies Hawaii's admission to the union as the 50th state.

Shot, Drowning Puzzle Police

Ann Arbor Man's Body Found in River After Shot, Was Heard

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A drowning and the crackle of a pistol shot added up to a mystery today for Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies.

The body of Claude Nicholson, 47, of Ann Arbor was pulled from the icy, flood-swollen Huron River yesterday after skindivers worked for six hours. Earlier yesterday a gun shot was heard in Nicholson's garage.

Sheriff George Peterson said a search turned up a recently discharged pistol and a bit of torn shirt.

Medical examiner Dr. Edwin Ganzhorn ruled that Nicholson died by drowning. Peterson said he probably would request an autopsy.

The sheriff said Mrs. Dorothy Nicholson told them she thought she heard a shot in the garage area just before her husband left for work.

Peterson said he was trying to determine if Nicholson fired the shot himself or if he had been accosted by someone in the garage before he drowned.

This Youthful Driver Needs Stiff Course

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Juvenile officer Francis Holley said a teen-ager who had been sentenced to attend traffic school after being convicted of speeding arrived late for class.

Red Chinese With Odd Ideas 'Volunteer' for Physical Work

This is the second of three dispatches by a prominent Yugoslav Communist law professor describing his reactions to what he saw and heard in Red China. His dispatches are distributed from what is said to be a provincial Yugoslav newspaper.

By PROF. MAX STUDEL
United Press International
Anyone who dares have a different opinion in China must voluntarily register for physical work. University professors and intellectuals in general must only prove that they are Red in order to be proclaimed experts. The ruling slogan is: "First Red, Then Expert."

The intellectuals are the biggest obstacle to this complete subordination of people to a faster tempo of production.

This is why all intellectuals who are in the least suspect are sent to voluntary physical work, either in villages or in the construction of a dam near Peiping or elsewhere.

During physical work they are re-educated.

BASIC DUTY
This action against intellectuals is possible largely because it is held to be a basic duty of every Communist and citizen to denounce anybody suspected of having rightist opinions.

"Action against rightist elements," the movement "for criticism of bourgeois views," the movement "aimed at rendering bourgeois views completely impossible and at increasing party vigilance" — these are slogans which compel everyone to spy on everyone else who appears to be against such slogans.

Then an investigation is held. If the investigation is held to show that the suspected persons are not firm Marxists and need to be re-educated, they are sent to voluntary labor.

Such suspect people are dismissed, and very often members of their families are also thrown out. None of their neighbors will dare have any contact with them, nor sell them anything, nor pay them wages nor give them help.

There are instances of mothers accusing their sons of rightist deviation, and also of hard-core rightists being publicly executed. Suicides of professors in Hankow and of students in Peiping are well known.

You may be called a rightist if you have a different opinion from those in the Chinese Marxist catechism and express it.

In such circumstances, one has no alternative — if one wishes to remain alive, healthy and free — but to subordinate oneself to everything and work with all one's strength at what one is asked to do!

SINGLE MAN VALUELESS
This is what the regime wants because it is economically imperative!

A single man among 600 million has no value at all, but everything must be accompanied by nice outward forms and by typical Chinese smiles.

Everything is voluntary, everything is done according to law, there is no violence.

The Chinese regime is feverishly constructing gigantic industrial and communication facilities. Labor is inexhaustible, and the financial means are not lacking.

We were told that a new factory goes into operation every 40 hours. We saw a new bridge over the Yangtze Kiang near Wuhan. All traffic used to cross in boats. A train took three hours. Now it takes only three minutes.

The bridge was built between September 1955 and September 1957, instead of in the three years and three months originally planned.

Near Wuhan, we were shown another big economic development. This is the Wu Je steel combine.

It was begun in 1955 and will not be finished until 1960. In its first phase it will produce 1.5 million tons of steel a year and, after 1961, 315 million tons.

Here also we saw people working like the slaves of the Pharaohs. There were 53,000 of them.

Everywhere homes and wooden barracks had been put up for them, including 30 schools, 25 clubs, a cinema and theater, 21 sport facilities, a hospital and 40 dispensaries.

SLOGANS TELL STORY

We were told "The work is being done under the sign of the big leap in keeping with the slogan

"Improve the style of work" and "Surpass Britain in 15 years!"

We couldn't help but wonder at the source of these incredible sacrifices by the Chinese workers.

Is this really proletarian consciousness, awakened patriotism, demonstrating the opportunities given them by their Tungu state (Tungu is the name for China), or is it the result of fear and pressure? (Next: Posters for Everything.)

CONTROVERSIAL YACHT SAILS — Dockworkers wave a farewell as tugs pull the Philippine presidential yacht Lapu-Lapu into Tokyo bay for the ship's maiden voyage to its home port of Manila. Construction of the $2.5 million vessel began eight months ago under Japan's World War II reparations program. Kentucky Senator Says He'd Take Position Vacated by Alcorn

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky was described in informed Republican quarters today as the probable successor to retiring GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn.
 A new chairman will be elected at the Republican National Committee's meeting April 10-11 after a seven-member subcommittee consults President Eisenhower.
 In Kentucky, Morton said he was available for the job if the National Committee and all segments of the party wanted him. He also said that, if elected, he would retain his Senate seat.
 Alcorn's surprise decision to resign was announced yesterday after he advised Eisenhower he had to quit the chairmanship for compelling personal reasons.

RETURNS TO HARTFORD
 He said he had to return to his Hartford, Conn., law practice but would retain his seat on the National Committee.

Alcorn succeeded Leonard W. Hall of New York in the chairmanship Feb. 1, 1957.
 With Eisenhower's backing, Alcorn this year has launched an ambitious rebuilding program to bring the GOP back from its 1958 defeats.

His letter to the President yesterday expressed the belief this program "holds strong promise for our party's resurgence."

Eisenhower replied that he felt "great regret" about the resignation and that Alcorn had been "an outstanding spokesman for our party."

He predicted the Alcorn program would become "a major milestone in Republican history."

Four Killed as Car Loses Train Race

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—A speeding auto failed to make a railroad crossing near here Wednesday and was hit by the Santa Fe Texas Chief passenger train. Four persons were killed, two critically injured.

"The only thing I saw when we hit was flying bodies," said engineer Floyd Webb. He said the train's speed was 60 miles an hour, about the same as the auto.
 The victims were identified as Dale Knew, 20; Pearl Williams, 40, her daughter, Roberta, 18, all of Bristow, Okla., and Mrs. Roger Joyce, 21, Gowen, Okla.
 In critical condition are Airman Roger Joyce, 22, and his 9-month old son, Jimmy. Joyce was the car's driver.

Pawn Shop Owner Tells of Taking Mrs. Nicholas Practice Shooting

INDIANAPOLIS (U-P)—A pawn shop owner testified today he took Mrs. Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas on a practice shooting trip with the pearl handled pistol she used later in the killing of wealthy drug executive Forrest Teel.

The testimony of William Gano came after Judge Thomas J. Paulson ruled against admission of a doctor's statements that would have blown a hole in defense arguments that the divorcee's married lover of 15 years was shot accidentally in a struggle.

Gano said Mrs. Nicholas bought the .35 caliber French revolver July 14, 17 days before Teel was slain in his parked Cadillac after visiting an attractive secretary 14 years younger than the defendant.

She originally planned to buy an American-made .22 caliber revolver, the pawn shop operator said, but changed her mind and purchased the small French gun instead.

The pawn shop owner's testimony was part of the state's attempt to prove Mrs. Nicholas planned Teel's death well in advance.

Don't Be Bashful

TOKYO (UPI)—A crowd of 2,200 police and volunteers waved flags and shouted "ban zai" most of yesterday on the grounds of the imperial palace to condition the imperial horses for the wedding procession of Prince Akihito, April 10.

Queen Liz Sits in Fog-Bound New York Harbor

NEW YORK (UPI)—A thick cover of fog clamped a lid on shipping, air travel and highway traffic in the New York metropolitan area today.

The liner Queen Elizabeth sat like a huge duck outside New York harbor waiting for the fog to lift to proceed to Europe. The world's largest liner had made a record fast turn-around since her arrival late Tuesday night only to be thwarted by the elements.

Shipping heading into port, including the liner America, was warned of the Elizabeth's presence.

Both La Guardia and Idlewild airports were virtually closed with all passenger flights canceled.

Du Pont-GM Hearing to Resume on Monday

CHICAGO (U-P)—Hearings resume Monday in U.S. District Court on a government plan to dispose of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co.'s 23 per cent stock holdings in General Motors Corp.

The government is expected to conclude its case then with testimony from several witnesses called to rebut testimony of fiscal and securities experts who appeared for Du Pont and General Motors.

Freight Train Jumps Track in Alma Area

ALMA (UPI)—Nineteen cars of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train were derailed today near the Leonard Refining Co.

The 75-car freight was going about 30 miles an hour when the cars started jumping the tracks. Two loads of pulpwood were spilled along the right-of-way.
 Engineer Gerald W. Richason of Grand Rapids said he didn't know what caused the derailment.

Auto Employment Shrinks Steadily

By A. F. MAHAN JR.
DETROIT (U)—Michigan, where the auto industry grew from baby to giant, has been losing auto-making jobs steadily in recent years.

Not all of Michigan's job loss was through movement elsewhere. Auto employment in the country as a whole has been shrinking steadily since 1955.

The shrinkage had started in Michigan even before record-breaking 1955, when the industry built more than nine million cars and trucks. Hudson and Packard found the going too rough and consolidated with others. Kaiser-Fraser quit passenger cars altogether.

Michigan autoplants employed an estimated 220,000 on defense jobs in 1955, but as the emphasis shifted from tanks and power-driven artillery to missiles this ebbed to 40,000 in 1958.

Some plants left Michigan and some industrialists blamed this to what they called the state's "business climate."

TAXES A FACTOR

But none of the big three—General Motors, Ford or Chrysler—ever has blamed a plant shift directly to "business climate." Some spokesmen, however, have emphasized taxes are a factor in location decisions.

Michigan's auto employment, including salaried as well as hourly rated workers, has skidded thus, according to employment Security Commission figures:

1955 — 467,000; 1956 — 404,000; 1957 — 385,000; 1958 — 293,000.

The nation's skid, as reflected in figures of the Bureau of Labor statistics:

1955 — 903,800; 1956 — 809,900; 1957 — 786,300; 1958 — 627,300 (preliminary estimate).

There have been several major causes for the constant decline in employment while production fluctuated. No. 1 among them, both industry and labor agree, is automation.

Automation roughly is switching of man-done jobs to automatic machines. One union source contends it reduced by 19.6 the number of hours required to produce a vehicle between 1956 and 1958.

Few multi-storied factories of the past lend themselves to it. New rambling, ranch-type factories do, and to general all-around efficiency as well. Many ham-packed industrial centers have no place for new plants. Often old sites are too small or costs too great to wreck old factories.

There has been a trend in recent years for auto-makers to pull into their own factories parts-making formerly farmed to supplier.

CAPITAL LACKING

United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says smaller firms often can't find capital for technological improvements, while larger corporations are able to install equipment making it possible for them to produce a given part cheaper than a supplier's price.

"The result, of course," Reuther says, "is increased efficiency—meaning fewer workers involved in the production process."

The auto industry has been shifting about in recent years, too. Major reasons for this, other than fleeing obsolete factories, says Reuther, are: 1. To follow the market, 2. Get next to raw materials.

United Auto Worker figures show that since 1947 the Big Three have constructed or purchased 97 plants and that of them 42 were in Michigan. Detroit still is the auto-making hub, although it has had losses and they have hurt, too. But other cities have been hurt, too.

HOW MANY IS SECRET

Just how many jobs automation saves or takes away, depending upon how one looks at it, is a closely guarded industry secret.

The UAW has compiled no independent statistics, but does have some instances it exhibits. One of them comes from Art Hughes, deputy chief of the UAW Chrysler Department, who says Chrysler employed 1,100 at its Jefferson avenue engine plant in Detroit, but that when all its operations were transferred to a new, highly automated plant in suburban Trenton 532 men could out-produce the old Jefferson, avenue force.

At one time, Chinese imported to work in the cotton fields of Arkansas received an allowance of a half-pound of opium as part of their pay.

8-Year-Old Blows Hole in Wall With 'Cap Pistol'

MONROE, Mich. (U)—Finding what he thought was a cap pistol on his way home from school, 8-year-old Terry Marlow twirled it cowboy fashion and snapped off a couple of shots as he walked.

He took a third shot in his bedroom at home and blew a hole in the floor. Police found no evidence that the first two shots harmed anyone.

Bad Stamp Collector

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Saving trading stamps turned out to be an unprofitable venture for William F. Mueller, 25. Police gathered up 10,000 of them in his hotel room as evidence in a series of burglaries.

Hal Boyle Says:

Greatest Indoor Circus—the Business Office

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest remaining indoor circus in America is the average business office.

It has more acts than Barnum and Bailey ever dreamed of. But one of the best sideshows is watching how the animals in the office zoo go about starting their daily circus routine.

Ever watch it? Nobody puts his shoulder to the wheel and his nose to the grindstone in quite the same way.

Here are some typical star performers you can see in action in your own office practically every morning:

Alibi Ike — "He Doc told me I oughtta stay in bed at least a couple more days," he says on arrival. This means he really is too sick to work, and no matter what goes wrong during the day you can't blame him as he is a real hero to be there at all.

The Quick Change Artist—This ambitious secretary gets to the office five minutes early so she can erase her ride-the-bus face and replace it with her greet-the-boss face. As soon as the boss is in his sanctum, she goes downstairs to the drugstore and spends a half hour at breakfast.

The Supreme Organizer—The initial problem of the boss is to decide which button to press among the row of buzzers on his desk. "Let me see," he muses. "who'll I scare first today?"

The Hoax Pretender — The boss's nephew starts every day in the same way. He sits and broods for an hour over why his uncle won't die and leave him the firm.

The Proud Grouch—He speaks to no one, but takes out pen and pad and starts figuring how many more months, days and hours he will have to spend in this wilderness of ineptitude before he can retire and start mingling with a better class of people.

The Defensive Attacker—Before settling down he trots about murmuring slood, "Everybody in the office looks like he spent the night on the town." He hopes this will distract attention from the bags under his own eyes.

The Guilty Innocent—Feverishly he sets about doing work he should have finished yesterday, and he hopes nobody will find him out. What he doesn't realize is that 9 out of 10 people in the office still are putting off the work they should have done the day before yesterday.

The Ten-Thumb Fire Chief — "Don't talk to me now—can't you see I'm busy," mutters the office manager, as he hangs up his coat and hat. With him the day is one long fire alarm. He can make an emergency out of sharpening his pencil.

The Dreamless Wheelhorse — He plops silently into his chair, reaches for a pile of papers and doesn't lift his head out of them until lunch time. Whether problems are big or little makes no difference to him. He is a human IBM machine. If you put your work on his desk, he will do it for you—and never know the difference. At home he does jigsaw puzzles.

The Moldy Lothario—He doesn't really get started until afternoon, because all morning he hides in the file room, waiting to bushwack a pretty stenographer. He does this because he feels stronger in the morning.

The Boy Wonder — This pink-cheeked junior executive fidgets until 9:05 a.m., then bursts in on the boss to brag about all the work he did at home the night before. The boss is impressed. He makes a mental note to fire the guy at the first opportunity—to safeguard his own job.

The Efficiency Expert — He

strides briskly into his office, closes the door, then lies down and takes a three-hour nap. He feels perfectly safe. Nobody ever watches an efficiency expert. They figure he's always watching them.

There they are—the colden dozen, starting another hard day at the office. And which is you?

Germes Are Not Welcome

Northern hardwood floorings are particularly clean and sanitary, since their closeness of grain and smoothness of surface offer no lodging place for germladen dirt. Northern hard maple flooring is favored for family rooms, kitchens, summer cottages, playrooms and civic recreation rooms.

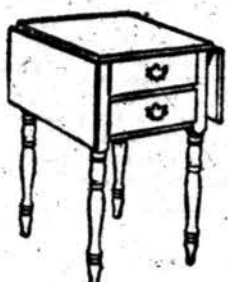

Success—at Last!

Got Values Mixed—Abby

Your 'Slip' Is Showing, Mother!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My teenage son was picked up by the police for 'loitering, disturbing the peace and suspicion,' whatever that means. When questioned he said, 'There is nothing to do in this town.' Don't you think it is the crime of society against our children instead of the other way around? Doesn't society owe our children something?"

MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: Society owes us nothing... on the contrary we owe society our cooperation, energy, talents and time. Too many parents expect "society" to raise their children and provide entertainment for them. The basic moral lessons are learned at home. Provide your children with a good healthy home life (and don't forget to introduce them to church at an early age) and you won't have to worry about what they do when they have nothing to do.

"DEAR ABBY: I am only 13 years old but I know the answer to a question I see in your column very often. It is about mixing religions. I was raised Jewish and so was my brother. He fell in love with a Catholic girl and nobody could stop him from marrying her. She is a nice girl, Abby, but her folks were just as broke up about the marriage as ours.

"My brother changed his religion for her. He had a darling baby, but she died when she was only 11 months old. Mom fainted when she saw the beads around her little fingers. There has been no happiness in our house since we started mixing religions. Please put this in your column, Abby. Maybe it will help somebody."

A JEWISH GIRL

"DEAR ABBY: I am a widow and I live next door to a very nice young couple. We are good friends and they are my only neighbors as I live on a corner. Only occasionally do we visit each other, as we both work. My problem is this: They keep their shades closed all the time. It gives me such a lonely feeling to be completely shut out. If they knew how I felt I am sure they wouldn't do it. If you'd print this in your column they might see it. Thank you."

SHUT OUT
DEAR SHUT: Don't expect

even the friendliest of folks to live in full view of their neighbors. They don't mean to "shut you out"—they keep their shades closed to attain privacy, which is every person's right.

"DEAR ABBY: My in-laws think it is terrible for a lady to smoke so I never smoke in front of them and they don't know I smoke. My problem is how to keep my year-old son from telling them I smoke when he gets old enough to talk plainly. I know that telling him not to tell them would be the worst thing I could do because I know when I was a child if my mother told me not to tell something, that was the first thing I would tell. If I don't tell him not to mention it, I'm afraid he might accidentally let the cat out of the bag. What is your advice?"

SMOKER: DEAR SMOKER: A woman who is old enough to be a wife and mother is certainly old enough to smoke if she wishes. Either quit smoking or tell your in-laws yourself.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORKING ON THE RAILROAD: The most beautiful flowers fade the fastest. What other assets has she?

Let Scent Enhance Personality

A new perfume, like a new haircut or new dress, can give you a whole new outlook on life. And don't forget, too, that a perfume used regularly can become a distinctive personality trait.

The best way to choose a new perfume for yourself is to buy a small vial and study its effect on both you and your audience; and next best is a sample spray at a perfume counter.

TRICKS TO TRY

Once you've chosen your new perfume, try these pointers to make the most of it:

1. For special occasions, saturate cotton with perfume and tuck it in your bra.
2. Put a dab of perfume on a piece of flannel and pin it to a padded hanger to give a party dress a party "air."
3. Add a drop of perfume to final rinse water when you shampoo your hair before a date.
4. If you apply fragrance after a hot bath, the scent lasts longer.
5. The warmth of pulse points helps to "ripen" perfume, so apply at temple, throat, wrists, etc. Don't put it behind ears; oils there may alter scent.
6. Use empty bottles to perfume your glove box or lingerie drawer.

Soraya Is Gay at Rome Party; Orsini Absent

ROME (UPI)—A gay and beautiful former Empress Soraya of Iran danced until dawn today with some of Rome's most eligible socialites, but the rumored man in her life, Italian Prince Ramondo Orsini, failed to show up.

The princess, showing no sign of strain over the reported problems facing her relationship with Orsini, chatted animatedly in French and English with most of the guests at the party given by former Princess Giovanna Pignatelli, Orsini's cousin.

The princess had been invited to the party, but sent his regrets. Italian newspapers said when Soraya arrived in Rome last week that the couple planned to marry, but last reports indicated their romance had run into Iranian opposition.

Soraya, who was reported about to return to Germany, was overheard telling friends she intended to stay in Rome for some time and expressed interest in finding a suitable villa to rent.

Return Gift Is Expected This Year

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a birthday present from a new friend. I was quite surprised when she came over and handed me a package. I happen to know that she has a birthday coming up very soon and I would like to know if I have to give her a birthday present in return."

"I really don't want to add any more names to my gift list which is already too long, but would it seem cheap on my part not to give her a present in return on her birthday?"

Answer: I am sorry but you are in a situation from which there is no escape—and you will have to give her a present. Before your birthday next year you can say to her, "Please let's not give each other birthday presents this year."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our minister's daughter is going to be married soon and the Woman's Guild, of which I am the president, is going to give her a wedding present. I have contributed to this present.

"I know the minister and his wife very well and have been invited to the wedding and reception. I would like to know if it is necessary for me to send her another present in addition to the one to which I have contributed?"

Answer: There is no obligation to give a second present especially if you contributed a sizable sum to the Guild present. If you gave only a trifling amount toward it and the bride is someone you like very much, you will probably want to give her an additional and more personal present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am about to buy some new stationery. I have always used plain white paper with a monogram. I'm a little tired of this and would like a color for a change. Will you please tell me what colors are considered in best taste?"

Answer: All blues and grays are in best taste.

On WHO Survey Tour

Nancy Williams in Orient Cites TB Health Menace

MANILA (AP)—Mrs. G. Menon Williams, wife of Michigan's governor, says tuberculosis is still the main health problem in Japan, Korea, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

Mrs. Williams, a veteran public health official, left this morning on a Pan American plane for Singapore to continue an Asian survey tour sponsored by the U.N.-affiliated World Health Organization (WHO). She also will visit Malaya, Cambodia, Thailand, Burma, Afghanistan and Europe before returning home.

At a news conference, Mrs. Williams cited tuberculosis as the chief health menace in Asian nations she visited so far.

NOTES PROGRESS

"However, I am most impressed by the tremendous progress made in this part of the world towards controlling not only this dread disease but malaria and yaws as well," she said.

Mrs. Williams arrived Sunday after visiting Japan, Korea and the British crown colony on a mission for WHO to promote more interest in higher health standards and to get better acquainted with the work of the organization in the western Pacific and Southeast Asia.

Mrs. Williams, chairman of the Red Cross nursing service in Michigan, said she was asked by WHO to undertake the mission "largely on my 25 years' experience in public health in my home state."

She added she was paying her own expenses and would report her findings to WHO officials during the World Health Assembly opening in Geneva May 10.

She is accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Abernathy, whose husband, John, is executive assistant to Gov. Williams.

What Young People Think

Brando, Debbie Reynolds Tops With Teeners

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Marlon Brando, the leading exponent of acting's torn T-shirt school, has snarled and grimaced his way into the heart of America's teenagers for the second straight year.

Brando repeated his success last year by a hefty margin over Tony Curtis in our annual poll of favorite movie stars. There was, however, a major new trend in Brando's popularity.

Last year it was the boys' vote that put him over the top. This year he not only polled his decisive vote among the girls but the girls voted him a likely successor to Rudolph Valentino as moviedom's "Great Lover."

Brawny Burt Lancaster, bald Yul Brynner and the drawing veteran James Stewart followed Brando and Curtis in that order. William Holden, a close second last year, slipped completely off the list.

DEBBIE RATES HIGH

Debbie Reynolds, who figured more in divorce court headlines than movies in 1958, was the youngsters' favorite movie actress. She won by a narrow margin over last year's winner, Kim Novak, in a contest between the boys and the girls. The boys went strong for sexy Kim while the girls lined up behind Debby.

Elizabeth Taylor, who was nominated for an Academy Award for her picture "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof"—and who was named as the other woman in Debbie Reynolds' marital troubles, was a strong third in the voting. The rest of the field trailed badly.

The teenagers did not see eye to eye with the folks who make the Academy Award nominations for, of the teens' picks, only Miss Taylor and Curtis got nominations. Curtis for his work in "The Defiant Ones."

But, when it came to picking the best picture of 1958, the young people lined right up with the academy's experts. Well, almost anyway. Four of the five nominees were their top choices, too.

'GIGI' BEST MOVIE

"Gigi," a musical-comedy of May-December romance, was the runaway selection of the teenagers for the best movie of the year. The girls, more romantic than the boys, liked it better.

Well behind "Gigi" in the youngsters' favor were "The Defiant Ones," "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof" and "Auntie Mame." Another academy award nomination, "Separate Tables," drew nary a vote from the teenagers.

If the awards for single performances were being handed out April 6 by the teenagers instead of the August Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, it would go like this:

Best actor—Tony Curtis, for his role as the escaping white convict chained to a Negro in "The Defiant Ones." Second: Spencer Tracy as the fading politician in "The Last Hurrah"—for which he failed to win an academy nomination.

Best actress—Elizabeth Taylor, who played the role of a love-starved wife in "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof." Second, but not even close: Rosalind Russell in "Auntie Mame."

Best supporting actor—Sidney Poitier, whom the academy nominated for a best actor award, for his characterization of the Negro convict in "The Defiant Ones." Second, distantly: Burl Ives in "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof."

BEST PROSPECTS NAMED

Best supporting actress—Peggy Cass, the plain Jane secretary of "Auntie Mame." Second, and far behind: Shirley McLaine in "Some Came Running."

We also asked the young folk their opinions on the screen's most promising newcomers. They named Edward Byrnes the best young actor and Sandra Dee the most up-and-coming actress.

Longtime favorite won the nod in other categories: Jerry Lewis, top comedian on the screen; Roy Rogers, most popular western star; and Donald Duck, best animated cartoon character.

Some interesting results and comment were turned up in our search among the teenagers for "The Great Lover" of the movie world, the successor to the near-legendary Rudolph Valentino.

Cary Grant, who has been turning on the charm on the silver screen for nearly 30 years, was the winner, due mostly to a strong following among the boys. The girls' favorites, Rock Hudson and Marlon Brando, were second and third.

The Grant appeal for the young ladies was summed up by Cathy Chapman, 15, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y. Said Cathy: "He is handsome; he has sex appeal; and he is sometimes quite helpless. He makes girls want to take care of him."

Helen Landreth, 17, of Jamaica Plains, Mass., explained her vote for Rock Hudson in one word: "WOW!"

Say Psychiatrists

Parents Misunderstood Meaning of 'Good Home'

NEW YORK — Well meaning parents often turn their children into neurotics.

Today, more than ever before, parents from "nice" homes seek psychiatric help for their troubled children, reveals a popular magazine. Why do such children with every opportunity for happiness, develop problems which may blight their lives?

ONE ANSWER

According to psychiatrists, one answer to the "good-home, disturbed child" riddle is the parent's mistaken impression of what makes a "good" home. One striking thing about nice homes, reports a psychiatrist is that good parents may themselves have emotional difficulties which are not apparent. In their anxiousness to do right by their offspring, they may be contributing to their children's troubles.

Another factor endangering the child raised in a nice home is the inability of parents to communicate with their youngsters. One of the things most lacking in our homes today, states the article, is the exchange of really deep, warm feeling between parents and children.

DISCIPLINE LAX

Authority in the good home is oft-times lacking. Some parents in their eagerness to please children are overpermissive; others in their attempt to "stick to the book" are overstrict.

Either extreme can warp a child's emotional growth, the magazine points out. For instance, otherwise excellent parents who allow their children to have their own way, very often find to their dismay, the child doubts the parents ability to protect. He may feel that the parent does not care about him enough to aid him in making decisions. Thus, a basic insecurity develops which can produce an indecisive child.

In sharp contrast, the article illustrates the case of the mother who, out of a mistaken sense of love and protection, constantly says "no" to her child's requests. To the child, who can see neither danger nor purpose in her response, comes a feeling of rebelliousness, perhaps to become the basic pattern for his life.

DEFINE LOVE

Essentially, the biggest problems in all "nice" homes, the article states, is "good" parents confusing "mothering" with "smothering." A child can't have too much love, however, the quality of that love is most important. He must be respected as a person in his own right.

Actually, the only solution to this problem is for parents to learn as much as they can about their children, and to bear in mind that there is no such thing as parenthood without problems.

Princess Meg to Visit Pope

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret let it be known today she would visit Pope John XXIII this month despite criticism by the Free Church of Scotland and other Protestants.

A letter from Clarence House, the official residence of the princess, to the church's monthly publication pointed out it would be merely a "courtesy visit."

Vatican sources said last week Princess Margaret and the Queen Mother would be received by the Pope April 22.

Margaret had a 20-minute audience with Pope Pius XII 10 years ago and that caused considerable controversy in Britain at the time.

Philathea Class Bids Farewell to Mrs. Vancil

Twenty-one members and friends of the Third Philathea Class of First Baptist Church honored Mrs. R. A. Vancil, teacher, at a farewell dinner Wednesday evening. The group met at Hotel Waldron.

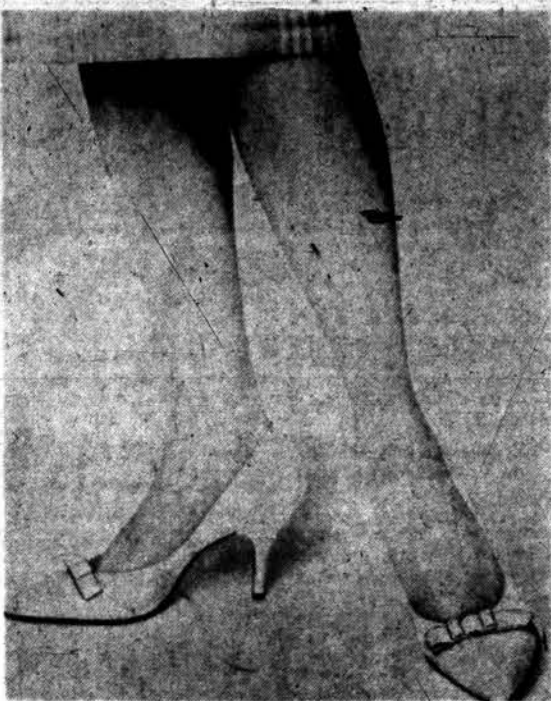

Mrs. Vancil is moving to Alto Pass, Ill. She was presented with a reference Bible as a parting gift from the class by president Russell Crawford.

The program featured remarks entitled "Meditations" given by Mrs. Ira Davis, assistant teacher. Vocal solos were presented by Mrs. George Underwood, and Mrs. Elmer Bogardus showed slides of Nova Scotia. Mrs. Suard Schultz offered the invocation.

For Good Posture Learn to Relax

Good posture can be relaxed. Many pull themselves up tightly with a resulting pompous or sway-backed look.

Stand straight, but relax and lift your head so your gaze is level. Pull out the small of the back and tuck hips under. Relax knees slightly and hold hands gracefully at the side.

Color is one of the most exciting things about new spring shoes. This pair, made of a new soft, unlined leather, comes in platinum and turquoise. May be purchased locally.

Make Summer Clothes Now but With Care

Right now is a fine time to make your new summer clothing or remodel any that you had left over from last summer. There are a few things to keep in mind before starting your sewing.

Be sure to take your body measurements before buying patterns for your summer clothes. There may be a change in your measurements since you last bought patterns. Just make a record of your measurements and then compare with chart of measurements found in either the front or back of pattern book before you purchase the pattern. Use a tape measure, that won't stretch when taking your measurements. Always measure over a well fitting foundation garment and a simple dress with set-in sleeves.

No Easy Task to Raise Children in Hollywood

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Bing Crosby has admitted what other famous fathers have discovered: it's not easy to raise children in Hollywood.

Speaking of his four elder sons, the crooner commented in an interview: "I think I've failed them by giving them too much work and discipline, too much money and too little time and attention."

Bing is not the only star to be troubled by his children. His brother Bob's son, Chris, 15, was once arrested when police said he tried to steal a car.

Edward G. Robinson Jr., has been in the news repeatedly with drunk arrests.

John Barrymore Jr. made the papers recently with a felony hit and run, drunk driving charge. His half-sister, Diana, wrote a teary book about her long battle with alcoholism.

Charles Chaplin Jr. has a police record for drunkenness.

Barbara Ann Burns, daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns, was sentenced to 90 days for drug addiction.

Chris Crawford, adopted son of Joan Crawford, was arrested on a delinquency charge in Greenwich, N.Y., after a shooting spree with an air rifle. Cheryl Crane, daughter of Lana Turner, killed her mother's lover, but was later absolved of blame.

Symptoms of Crosby's "failure" as a father: two sons have been arrested for drunk driving; all four have haunted the gay world of Las Vegas; Philip and Dennis married showgirls; the parties of Gary and Lindsay have brought complaints from neighbors.

Of course, these headlined scions of the famous don't tell the whole story.

There are far more sons and daughter of stars, who, over the years, have never made scandalous news.

Examples: actress Maria Montton (Marlene Dietrich); budding performers Pat Wayne (John); Jody McCrea (Joel); Ronnie Burns (George and Gracie); Ricky and David Nelson (Ozzie and Harriet); James MacArthur (Helen Hayes); director Andy McGargen (Victory) and baseball executive Joe Brown (Joe E).

But there are enough troubled stars to point a trend. Why? There appear to be two big reasons:

1. The position of a movie star can be an overpowering one, but leaves little time for family matters.

2. It can be hard for anyone to bear a noted name.

Bob Crosby has observed, "It's a natural urge for all kids to compete with their fathers. When the father is famous, the urge to compete comes in the form of publicity."

Dante's Beatrice 1st to Bathe Daily

Beatrice, beloved of Dante and immortalized in his writings, is credited with being the first female of that period to take a daily bath and wash her hair regularly.

She bathed, despite the fact that bathing was considered to be bad for the body, leaving a person weak and open to disease.

To make a dustless duster, wring a soft cloth out in a mixture of one quart warm water and one tablespoon lemon oil.

Child May Injure Himself to Release Anger at Parent

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A psychiatrist says he has found a married couple who until recently never got angry—outwardly, at least.

But the couple had a little girl who sometimes pulled hairs out of her long, blonde tresses.

The couple took the child to Dr. Gene Gordon of the Children's Hospital of Washington, D.C. Dr. Gordon told the American Orthopsychiatric Association Monday how he linked these two specimens of behavior.

A SUBSTITUTE

The little girl, he said, didn't know how to show anger in the usual way because she never saw her parents in a fit of temper. So she pulled out her hair as a way of expressing her feelings.

Dr. Gordon said he convinced the parents it was all right to show anger, and gave the child some tips on how to throw a tantrum. This, he reported, stopped the hair pulling.

Dr. Reginald S. Lourie of the Pennsylvania State Welfare Department at Harrisburg, reported in the same panel discussion that self-mutilation by youngsters often is their way of symbolizing their desire to kill.

Children up to the age of adolescence will bang their heads against walls, pull their hair, pierce their ears and noses, cut designs in their skin and even cut off the end of a toe because they resent a parent or someone else whose influence they cannot escape, Dr. Lourie said.

He called these "localized self-destruction drivers." They appear to be juvenile substitutes for suicide, the physician said in talking to reporters. Anyway, the gestures are expressions of desire to get rid of the influence of the other personality.

Not all self-mutilation has this sinister meaning, Dr. Lourie said. Sometimes it is done for the sake of gaining acceptance by a group.

For Saving Jars

Folks Do Have Reasons

Are you a jar, bottle or can collector? Many of us are, and for a number of different reasons.

You save jars . . . of all shapes and sizes, but always the ones with the screw-on lids to store away left-overs in the refrigerator. Or perhaps you're an arts and crafts enthusiast and you paint your emptied jars. You decorate them, using the small ones for spices, the larger ones for fruit juices and ice water.

Perhaps you're a can collector. Your preference probably runs to the vacuum pack coffee type with the replaceable lid. These make fine molds in which to bake the odd-shaped cake or in which to bake and package the fruit cakes you give as Christmas gifts. Or you may paint them up, decal them and convert them into canister or cookie jars.

Empty bottles have their uses, too, as every bottle-saver knows. Left-over starch can be stored in them. They can be filled with water, capped with a sprinkler cork and put into service dampening clothes for ironing or watering household plants.

No matter which type of saver you are, before any container has any future use it must be cleaned inside and out, and the label must be removed. A soda solution is excellent here.

Beta Mu Unit Plans Roller Skating Party

Beta Mu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met at the Pontiac YWCA Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Bruce Narria reported on roller skating party to be held Saturday.

Members have been requested to bring a guest to the group's next meeting when a clothing demonstration will be featured.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Laurene Patton and Mrs. Terry Odell.

Do you get some regular exercise every day?

Why Will Wives Sell Husbands Short?

By RUTH MILLETT
You're selling your husband short if—
You find the energy to do all the things important to your children, but are too tired to do what Papa considers important.

No matter what your children want, your answer is, "Don't worry we'll find the money for it somehow." What's wrong with occasionally saying, "We simply can't afford it," or, "I think it's more important for your father to have a vacation than for you to go to summer camp?"

You are so concerned with seeing that your children have as nice a home as their friends that you talk your husband into buying a more expensive house than you can afford.

When the answer to your children is "No," you say, "You'll have to ask your father. Whatever he says is all right with me."

You encourage your children to hold secrets from their father just to keep peace in the family.

You do more to make your own relatives welcome in your home than you do for your husband's people.

You spend so much more on your teen-age daughter's clothes than on your own that your husband has a dowdy wife.

You will sit through any kind of boring meeting or performance to please your children, but let your husband go alone to entertainment you don't particularly enjoy.

You complain about your husband's job to your friends.

Your best friends are well aware of all your husband's faults, because you've briefed them on his shortcomings.

You never let your husband forget that the man you might have married or your father was able to give you more than he has been able to provide.

Carry a Sweater When Traveling

A girl's best friend when she's traveling is a warm wool cardigan. It may surprise you unpleasantly to find that outside of this country central heating is not general. Cold, damp weather can make you uncomfortable even in summer travels.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Sometimes it is a great help to have a list with which to check on ourselves in order to see what we are NOT doing that we meant to do, and what we SHOULD do that we aren't. You may wish to check yourself with the following list. If you can say "yes" to most of the questions, you are doing your bit to promote your health and good looks. Many of the procedures mentioned are as beneficial to one as to the other.

1. Do you give real thought to getting all of the essential foods each day?

2. Do you get some regular exercise every day besides that obtained from regular activity? This should be either a walk or special exercises taken at home. Both would be better.

3. Do you get enough sleep? Constantly shortchanging yourself can cause chronic fatigue.

4. Do you take any rest periods during the day? Several 10-minute periods are better than one a half-hour long. If you can manage this, you will accomplish more with less fatigue.

5. Do you make a conscious effort to develop emotional control and a positive optimistic outlook? Do you really try to learn the art of sloughing off unimportant strains, hecticness and worry which you can do nothing about? Do you try to see the funny side of things? Do you adapt to unchangeable circumstance rather than fret about it?

6. Do you cleanse your face regularly at least once a day? Twice is much better.

7. Do you lubricate your skin daily in order to combat the dryness which increases with the years?

8. Do you massage your scalp or brush your hair once in every 24 hours?

ESSENTIALS
These are the absolute essentials. Facial exercises help and special exercises for spot figure control are magic. Good grooming I take for granted as an essential for an attractive appearance.

All this takes much less time than you think. It takes no longer to eat vital food than it does to eat devitalized food, and less time to think happy thoughts than to mull over unhappy ones. You can find time for short rest periods if you are determined to do so, and skin and hair care and exercise detract little from your time schedule.

I want to add another check-point. Perhaps this is most important of all.

9. Do you count your blessings every day? I must admit that in the rush of life I do not always do this. Every time I do I feel that it is absolutely sinful for me ever to be anything but vibrantly happy, although I have had my problems just like the rest of you.

Shave and Haircut Will Cost $3.25

CHICAGO (AP)—A shave and a haircut in Chicago, in a few weeks, will cost $3.25, an increase of 25 cents for each.

The new prices, $2 for a haircut and $1.25 for a shave are believed among the highest in the country.

Frank Allotta, secretary-treasurer of the Master Barbers Assn., said the barbers also voted to hike the price of haircuts for children under 12 from $1.25 to $1.50.

Allotta said shop owners have not increased prices in more than three years and they have agreed to give a pay raise to their barbers.

Recipes From Alaska Simple but Different

From the kitchens of Alaska our newest state, comes some mighty fine cooking. The climate is exhilarating and appetites are hearty. A. B. Hayes, former mayor of Juneau, now with Northwest Orient Airlines is a booster for the fine fish, game and fruits of our newest state. He gives us two of his favorite Alaskan recipes for a "Welcome Alaska" dinner.

Small Trout in Envelopes
Select a 1-pound fish for each guest. Clean, wipe dry, season inside and out with salt and pepper, and baste with oil. Cut aluminum foil into pieces 3 inches longer and 4 times as wide as the fish. Grease well with melted butter. Place trout in center, lay slice of bacon on top, fold foil over, crimp edges and tie ends with string. Put in greased pan and cook in moderate oven 25 minutes. Serve in envelopes after removing string. Have side dish of sauce of brown butter and lemon juice.

Alaska Apple Butter
Soak 1 pound dried apples in 2 quarts warm water for 1 hour. Add 2 quarts cranberries and cook until soft. Sieve. Measure. Reheat; then add ¼ as much sugar as you have sieved fruit, also 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cloves. Cook until clear. Add juice of 1 lemon. Pack in jars and seal.

Scallops Are Muscles
The only part of the scallop we eat is the large muscle or "eye" which the scallop uses to open and close its shell. The rest of the shellfish is thrown away. However, we often make use of the pretty scallop shells as baking dishes, ash or pin trays.

Take Food Tip From Alaska

Alaska's not only the last state to join the Union but has the last word in cooking! These delectable deviled ham canapés were first dreamed up in Alaska and make the most sumptuous, melt-in-your-mouth canapés. The recipe's easy, however, with tiny cream puffs filled with a tantalizing mixture of deviled ham, eggs and seasoning and edged with luscious cream cheese for party-pretty piping sprinkled with colorful parsley.

FRIQUANT DEVILED HAM PUFFS
1 stick cream puff mix (or your favorite recipe)
2 ¼ cups cream deviled ham
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped fine
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon horseradish
Dash pepper
¼ teaspoon liquid smoke (optional)
2 cups cream cheese
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Finely chopped parsley
Bake tiny cream puffs according to directions. Cool. Combine deviled ham, eggs and seasonings. Soften cream cheese, blend with mayonnaise. Cut tops from puffs and fill with about two teaspoons ham mixture. Make a border of cream cheese around puffs with small knife. Replace tops and sprinkle parsley on the cream cheese. Makes about 50.

Bake Meal in a Loaf for Sunday Night

In every recipe file, there should be at least one card for an all-in-one meal that's quick, easy and delicious. And this one for Poppy Seed Cheese Loaf is just the recipe.

It's perfect for the Sunday night supper, when you want something hot and filling to go with cups of steaming coffee. All you need is a loaf of bread, some sliced cheese and a few savory trimmings. The loaf itself is sliced diagonally, then each cut is spread with a luscious mustard mixture and filled with the cheese. The next step is simple—just bake the loaf in a moderate oven and serve it with a tangy horseradish sauce. And don't forget the coffee. It should be your Sunday-best—strong, piping-hot and delicious.

Poppy Seed Cheese Loaf
1 small loaf unsalted white bread
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 medium onion, minced
2 tablespoons poppy seed
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
Dash Tabasco
Trim crusts from loaf, keeping the rounded shape of the top. Cream butter or margarine and add onion, poppy seed and mustard. Cut through bread diagonally at ¼-inch intervals, to within ¼-inch of bottom. Spread cut surface with mustard mixture, reserving enough for top and sides.

Insert a slice of cheese in each cut. Spread top and sides with mustard mixture. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 15 to 20 minutes. Serve with Horseradish Cream Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Horseradish Cream Sauce
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
2 tablespoons drained pickle relish
Dash Tabasco
Combine all ingredients and chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fine, If You Like Caviar
When company's coming you can serve a delicious first course of red caviar if you accompany it with minced onion, lemon wedges, cucumber slices and sour cream—the last to be added to this hors d'oeuvre tray if it is available. Pumpernickel bread and sweet butter should also go along.

High temperatures and prolonged heating will usually thin a sauce made with potato or arrowroot starch.

Dessert and Cookies Made With Candy

Cinnamon Creme is a beautiful, delicious dessert — as well as a decoration for frosted cakes and cookies.

Both the Creme and the cookies depend for their goodness on candy, an old favorite that's appearing often now, as an ingredient in CINNAMON CREME—Candy is the "heart" of both this new dessert, Cinnamon Creme, and the cookies served with it. Candy can be an ingredient as well as a delicious snack.

Colorful Party Book Eases Entertaining

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's one of the prettiest cook books you ever saw! It's the Foodarama Party Book, published by Kelvinator and now available in Pontiac.

The full-color hard cover which is washable shows a four layer birthday cake decorated with candy mints and topped with candies. Ice cream in matching colors is in the background.

The book starts with a chapter on how to plan parties, then goes on to specific kinds of parties. There are suggestions for things to do as well as food to serve. All holidays, all ages and many interests are considered. There are over 70 color plates in the book. Some of the pages are colored.

Is a Bridal Shower on your calendar for the near future? Serve your guests this interesting shrimp dish.

Shrimp Portegese
2 pounds frozen raw shrimp
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup minced parsley
Peel and devein shrimp; wash and dry with paper towels.

Melt butter or margarine in a skillet over medium heat. Add garlic and salt and cook until golden brown, stirring occasionally. Add shrimp; cook just until underside turns pink. Turn and cook until pink on other side, about 10 minutes in all.

Add pepper, additional salt if desired, and parsley. Cook one minute longer. Makes 6 servings.

You will find some delightful recipes for outdoor cooking. One which interested us is this one for stores later for $3.25.

potato salad. You can make it ahead of time to take to the picnic site or out doors without worrying about its becoming spoiled. Remember this one for hot weather.

Golden Potato Salad
4 cups dried cold boiled potatoes
1 small chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
Combine with Mustard Salad Dressing and stir gently until well mixed. Chill until serving time. Serve on lettuce. Makes 6-8 servings.

Mustard Salad Dressing
4 tablespoons yellow prepared mustard
2 tablespoons evaporated milk
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Combine all ingredients in a bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until light and fluffy. Makes about 2/3 cup dressing.

For a dessert that is different try Banana Melba.
1 package (10 oz.) frozen raspberries
5 firm bananas
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Sugar
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup toasted shredded coconut
Thaw raspberries. Peel bananas; brush with lemon juice and roll in sugar to coat well. Melt butter in a large skillet. Add bananas and fry slowly over medium heat until fork-tender and golden, turning to brown evenly.

Roll bananas in coconut and immediately arrange on a serving dish. Spoon part of the raspberries over the bananas and serve with remaining berries on the side. Makes 6 servings.

This is a book you'll refer to again and again for entertaining ideas. You can buy it right now at Wayne Gabert for $1.25. It will be available nationally in book stores later for $3.25.

tic bag and crush very fine with hammer. Combine candy and boiling water in top of double boiler. Cover and let candies melt. Soften gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Add to candy mixture and stir until completely dissolved. Chill until thick and syrupy.

Whip cream, fold in sugar and marshmallows. Carefully fold gelatin into cream. Pour into greased 1-quart mold (or individual molds.) Chill until firm. Garnish with additional whipped cream and red candy hearts, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Filled Cookies

2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine dry ingredients in mixing bowl. Cut butter or margarine and shortening into dry ingredients with knives or dough blender until mixture resembles fine meal. Combine egg and vanilla and blend into mixture. Work dough with hands into a smooth ball. Wrap in waxed paper and chill for 2 hours (or overnight).

Roll dough 1/8 inch thick on lightly floured surface. Cut with cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees) until done, 7 to 8 minutes. Remove from pan and cool on flat surface.

Put 2 cookies together sandwich-fashion with raspberry filling. When filling has "set" dip half of each cookie sandwich into chocolate glaze. Makes 3 to 4 dozen cookies; 1 1/2 to 2 dozen sandwich cookies.

Raspberry Filling

1/2 cup stuffed red candy raspberries
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk or cream
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar (about)—add more if needed to thicken.

Place candies in plastic bag. Using a hammer, break candies into small pieces. Combine candy pieces, butter or margarine and milk or cream in small heavy saucepan. Cover with tight-fitting cover. Place over low heat and let candy melt, about 5 minutes. Uncover and stir until smooth.

Remove from heat and allow to cool 1 to 2 minutes. Add sugar gradually, heating well after each addition. Continue beating until spreading consistency.

Chocolate Glaze

1 4-oz. bar semi-sweet or milk chocolate
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons cream
1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
Combine chocolate and butter or margarine in top of a double boiler. Cover and melt chocolate. Add cream and hot water and stir until smooth. Add confectioners' sugar and stir until smooth. Keep over hot (not boiling) water, until ready to use.

Eggs Keep Better When They're Cold

Clean, covered and cold are rules to follow if you want eggs to keep their freshness and flavor. Store eggs away from food with strong odors for the porous shells will allow eggs to absorb flavors from other foods, states the Marketing Information Agent.

Michigan retailers are required to keep eggs cold, but do you always check to see that the egg carton is cold?

Rush eggs into the home refrigerator. For best quality, keep eggs in the refrigerator no longer than two weeks. When ready to use eggs, remove from the refrigerator only the number to be used at that time.

Sweet Sandwiches

If your family likes sweet sandwiches for a snack along with tea or coffee, try combining cream cheese with drained crushed pineapple, chopped soft dried apricots, slivers of pitted dates or chopped plumped raisins and grated lemon rind.

French Fruit Dressing

Here's a French dressing that is good with avocado and grapefruit or with any combinations of fruits: Combine 1/4 cup of pineapple well blended, Makes 1/2-cup of apple juice, 1/4 cup of orange juice, dressing. 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup of salad oil, 1 teaspoon sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Beat or shake until

Chicago Gets New Book Firm

Publishing House Breaks With Tradition, Plans Unusual Promotions

The nation's newest book publishing house deliberately breaks with the industry's tradition of "Go East."

Pennington Press of Chicago is the creation of dynamic, 36-year-old Robert B. Pennington Jr., who believes that the Midwest has all the necessary talent, and offers economic advantages in shipping.

Pennington intends to break with tradition in other ways. He plans to promote by display cards in buses and trains, by radio and TV spot announcements, by films, and even on billboards.

He hopes to merchandise through supermarkets, and to build his juvenile series by identifiable characters and authors around whom promotion display materials will center.

Twelve titles are on the spring list, and 30 are expected by year's end.

Pennington is returning to his native Chicago from Cleveland, where he has been vice president and general manager of Merrick Lithograph, a subsidiary of A.S. Gilman, Inc., as is the new publishing house.

The young publisher helped establish the Merrick firm by selling several large concerns on creation of complete point-of-purchase sales and display programs, such as he now intends to use for books. This put the Gilman concern, Cleveland commercial printers, into a new line.

Before going with Gilman, he and his wife, who now have six children, published a weekly newspaper in Hudson, Ohio, which was originally put out by poet John Greenleaf Whittier.

Woman Shorn of Her Glory by Pine Oil

BARTOW, Fla. (P)—Mrs. C. L. Anderson, whose hair hadn't been touched by scissors in 12 years, got an unscheduled bob.

She reached for a bottle of vinegar to rinse her 42-inch-long locks after she finished giving herself a shampoo. By accident, she grasped a bottle of pine oil floor cleaner. Her hair was a sticky mess before she realized what had happened.

She consulted several beauty parlors but none of the preparations they recommended would remove the pine oil. At last she gave up and submitted to the shears. Now her hair is two inches long.

picture. But it's a comparatively small part.

It is a mark of the enormous respect which executive Congresses and Executive Offices hold for the FBI that the Bureau is saddled with additional responsibilities each year.

Here are some of the bewilderingly varied activities now assigned to J. Edgar Hoover's compact 6,000 man force:

It is asked to prevent accumulation in this country of arms for rebels seeking to overthrow the reigning governments of nations with which we have diplomatic relations.

FOR THE BIRDS

It must check on the interstate transportation of strikebreakers. It is expected to nab offenders of the Migratory Bird Act.

It protects the symbol of the American Red Cross from use by commercial houses (except Johnson & Johnson, which had it before the Red Cross did).

It steps in if a blackmailer or extortionist drops a threatening note into your mailbox, threatening physical harm if you do not abide by the demands (but turns the matter over to the Post Office Department if the note is sent through the mails).

The FBI is the teeth of the Selective Service Act, investigates the claims of Conscientious Objectors.

It hovers over patent and copyright abuses, is expected to be the scourge of white slavery and mail frauds, fights impersonation of federal officers or military personnel, stalks crimes committed beyond the three-mile limit, false claims by veterans.

If you go into bankruptcy the FBI sends around one of its crack accountants, for the Founding Fathers—trying to avoid slipshod debtors' jails—put bankruptcy on the federal level.

If you are forced into slavery, it is the FBI who rides up to the rescue.

Mess around with any government property, commit a crime of passion on an Indian reservation, fail to report an act of treason, violate the eight-hour day law, neglect to report accurately if you're engaged in the interstate shipment of cigarettes, and the FBI is involved.

Tamper with a member of a federal jury or panel, jump bail in a federal case, rob any bank, phony up a government travel voucher, violate probation or parole, wreck a train, steal an airplane and fly it across a state line, touch off a bomb near the mail car of a train, fail to register under the Vothals Act if you represent a foreign government as a lobbyist, take a punch at or kill a federal officer, desert from the armed forces, tell the judge you couldn't show up for the hearing because your wife was having a baby (and she didn't), and, well, there's an FBI man in your life.

If you want to get in trouble with the FBI, misuse a railroad pass, transport gambling devices, lottery tickets, obscene matter or prison-made goods across the state line, travel across a state border with a switchblade in your pocket, ship and unsafe refrigerator from one state to another, hijack a load of anything that has moved interstate, money-around any Atomic Energy Commission property.

STILL MORE

In dizzying addition, the FBI is expected to check on the loyalty of all Americans who work at the United Nations, scrutinize suspicious-looking claims for welfare and pension checks, keep an eye on those who would like to overthrow the U. S. government by force, chase prostitutes away from military installations, clamp down on violators of civil rights, spot any man or woman falsely wearing a Civil Defense insignia.

There are a few dozen other duties. They all add up to an appallingly complicated and difficult task, performed with dedication, skill, a minimum of fanfare and, astonishingly, a profit. Last year, fines, savings and recoveries in cases investigated by the FBI reached $12,706,088, which was $27,144,088 more than Congress appropriated to operate the bureau.

New Welding Technique

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (P)—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway is trying a new method of rail welding developed in France which it expects will lower maintenance and provide a smoother ride on "ribbons of steel." It is called aluminio-thermique rail welding and engineers say it can be applied to old track in place.

Beef and Pork Cuts Tempting This Week

Beef, pork and fryers are meats you may wish to check this week, advises the MSU Marketing Agent. Fresh vegetable supplies are increasing gradually; there is still plenty of fresh fruit. Canned and frozen items which were in large supply last year are among the featured choices.

and Boston butt are pork cuts in this week's limelight. Lower wholesale prices for fryers are guidelines to lower retail prices for consumers.

SPENDING YOUR MEAT MONEY — The price per pound is just one point to check when buying meat says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. How many servings will you get from the pound? Does grade make a difference in your choice?

If you plan to buy beef steak, you'll find the most tender ones will grade U.S. Prime or U.S. Choice. Some stores use their own brands, but will tell you the grade they sell if you ask. Tender steak will broil, but if you choose a weak that grades U.S. Good, U.S. Standard or U.S. Commercial you can't expect to broil it.

Lower grades of beef need moisture and slow cooking at low temperature.

If you plan to buy beef for pot roast or Swiss steak, the lower grades are the thriftiest. All meats cook tender if you choose the best cooking method.

Lean Boston butt is 13 to 18 cents per serving this week. Rib-end pork roast varies from 16 to 19 cents per serving; loin end roasts from 20 to 24. Picnics serve two persons per pound and average 20 to 23 cents a serving in many stores. Bacon and roll sausage continue at low seasonal prices.

Many families will choose fryers this week. Instead of turkey which was so popular at Easter. Fryers vary in weight according to their breed and age. You may want a small one for broiling. If flavor is important, you'll want one with an even distribution of yellow fat underneath the skin. Why not spend a little longer to look, then choose.

Many fryers now have the metal clips (usually on the wing) stating that the poultry has been inspected and passed by U.S. Government inspectors. Since January of this year, all poultry being shipped across state lines is required to meet standard sanitation and wholesomeness requirements. At present, approximately 367 full-time and 87 seasonal or part-time poultry processing plants are approved and operating under the Poultry Products Inspection Act.

THE EGG SITUATION — All the extra eggs used at Easter will make no dent in the good supply of eggs available this spring. U.S. Department of Agriculture officials says that the March 1 laying flock was 3% larger than last year and that the rate of egg laying so far this year has averaged 3% above 1958. Large size eggs average 43 to 49 cents a dozen compared with 49 to 69 cents during this week last year.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES — The rains came down in Florida and hampered crops in most areas. You can see the effect in quality and price on such items as peppers, cucumbers, corn and tomatoes.

Foods in large supply are usually lower in price in order to sell the amount being harvested so you might wish to check some of these foods, which are in more liberal supply: sweet and white potatoes, avocados, lettuce, broccoli, carrots, cabbage and beets are vegetable choices that fit the economy list.

Apples, grapefruit, oranges and bananas remain at about the same prices found a week ago.

An extra-special cream sauce or custard is made with half milk, half cream.

Royal Oak Parking Plan Gets House OK

LANSING (U) — A bill to enable Royal Oak to proceed with a big downtown parking area development moved into the Senate today after a 90-4 approval in the House. The measure authorizes municipal bonds to retire revenue bonds still outstanding. The House voted it immediately.

Rep. William Hayward (R-Royal Oak), former Royal Oak mayor and sponsor of the bill, said the measure would enable his city to retire some $200,000 in revenue bonds, the remainder of a $400,000 issue which financed development of 1,300 parking spaces in the downtown area. Proposed special assessment bonds, he said, would provide funds for development of a free parking area for another 2,200 cars. The project would cost between 2 1/2 and 3 million dollars, he said.

Tigers Picked for Third Place in American League

'59 World Series?—We Say Yanks vs Redlegs

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Now is the time for all crazy sports writers to go out on the limb and pick the Major League baseball pennant races.

Thanks to the Yankees however, the writers can boast of a phenomenal percentage in picking the American League champion each year.

It has become such a habit that a writer who doesn't pick the Yanks is the foolish one.

How about 1939? Well, let's start with second place in the American League.

Last year this writer thought the runnerup position was earmarked for the Tigers, as did many writers across the country. But, they finished fifth, and the pencil-pushers were wondering just how Boston and Cleveland were able to finish higher than the Tigers.

The final standings speak for themselves. The Tigers were nothing more than a 5th place club.

During the current spring training season in Lakeland, Fla., Tiger officials decided it be best they keep their mouths shut as to making any predictions and hope for the best.

Manager Bill Norman however, did admit he thought the trades which have put Eddie Yost on third base, Rocky Bridges at short, Lou Berberet behind the plate, Larry Doby in the outfield and Ray Narleski and Don Mossi in the bull pen have strengthened the club.

We agree, as do many clubs in the league who say the Tigers strengthened themselves more than any other team by trades.

Watching Yost convinced this writer that he was the Tigers' best gain. Yost works as hard and harder than anyone on the team. If he fails it won't be because he doesn't try.

Yost should get on base more than his predecessor Reno Bertoia. His defensive abilities are much more indicative and his experience is a stronger asset than his age.

Bridges could be considered a notch better than Ron Samford whom the Tigers gave up in the trade to the Senators.

Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians was quoted as saying Narleski is near the end of the line. We don't think the Tigers will miss Billy Martin and Narleski surely can't be any worse than the Detroit bull pen material of last year.

Ray can hold on to a few of those one run games and Mossi can do likewise. Now if Billy Hoelt shows the form in June, July and August as he has done in March we would be inclined to say that Hoelt, Narleski and Mossi will make the Tigers 10 games better than last year.

The word "potential" is too often abused, and so to abuse it further we do feel that by utilizing the maximum potential Detroit COULD finish second.

However, there is something about the Tiger ball club which fails to bring out that potential, and since we see a record with 10 more wins, the best we can pick Detroit to finish is third.

The Chicago White Sox again claim to be New York's closest contender, but the Sox still haven't got the batting and by adding another year they have one of the oldest pitching staffs in the league.

Manager Al Lopez is one of the best managers in the circuit, but even Lopez might be going overboard in putting rookie John Callison into the hero's role.

Callison is without doubt a "gem" find and is being compared to another Oklahoman, Mickey Mantle, but it's unlikely he will be the one to lead the Sox to a pennant in 1939.

We just can't see the White Sox better than 4th place, pitching or no pitching.

The Red Sox could be the surprise team. That "poor" infield of 1938 has grown up, and if Ted Williams plays baseball until he's 50, the Sox will hurt enough second division teams to stay in the first division.

We see the "splendid splinter" and company moving into second place.

Lane's bark is bigger than his bite and even with Billy Martin, Cleveland is hardly improved. The Tribe is picked for 5th place, followed by Kansas City, Baltimore and "poor" Washington.

The National League again should provide a more interesting pennant race.

If Cincinnati had been able to win a few more games from the Milwaukee Braves last year the complexion of the National League would have been entirely different.

The story should be different this season. The Redlegs have to be considered top contenders with a word of gratitude toward the Pittsburgh Pirates, if they do finish first or second.

The Pirates were generous with Bob Purkey in 1938 and extremely kind in giving up Frank Thomas for 1939. Some may call it a long shot, and that remains to be argued, but we see Cincinnati as the new king in the National League.

Milwaukee might be in trouble with too many Chiefs and not enough Braves. There seems to be a battle between field manager Fred Haney and vice president Birdie Tebbets as to who can be quoted the most with new general manager John McHale getting a word in once in awhile.

Milwaukee may have the Major's best farm system but the Braves still aren't the run-away Yankees of the National League.

Pittsburgh, a foolish trading ball club, probably will lose not only its pennant hope but also its second place standing as result of the Thomas trade.

That fence in Forbes Field was made for Thomas and Cincinnati will probably reap its fruits.

Following the Pirates, picked for third place, we see the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies.

And in conclusion, to the first sports fan who returns this article to this writer next October at World Series time with the note "eat your forecasts," we offer one used spring training camp press pass entitling him to forecast the Major League pennant races. Amen.

Middlecoff Says 282 Will Win Masters

Cary Cites Need for Intelligent Play at Augusta

Palmer Tries to Become 1st Golfer to Take Two Straight Titles

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

AUGUSTA NATIONAL GOLF CLUB — It will take a score of about 282 to win this Masters Tournament, provided the weather stays reasonably nice.

Of these winning 282 strokes, about 22 will be tap-in putts of less than a foot and will require no particular skill or thought.

But the other 260 shots will require not only a high degree of skill but also a lot of intelligent shot planning based on careful and honest self appraisal — because that is the kind of a golf course the Augusta National is. It is, to paraphrase a certain elegant slogan, a thinking man's golf course.

To get closer to the point, it is one of the world's best examples of the strategic design of golf course layout. This means that it continually challenges you to gamble, and it pays off or collects in strict accordance with the size of the chance you take.

Take, for example the 13th hole. It is about 475 yards measured along the middle of the fairway. It doglegs to the left, so that if you care to cut it close along the towering pines that border the left side of the fairway you can save distance. That makes it easier to carry the ditch in front of the green, on your second shot, which is the big gamble on the hole.

Whether to try to carry the ditch at the 13th, or the pond in front of the other back-nine par-five, the 15th, is, of course a clear-cut gamble. The others all over the course are more subtle — but always there.

What this means in terms of winning the tournament is that the winner must make more than 200 generally wise decisions during the four days of championship play. One really bad one can knock a man out in a second. And a series of slightly wrong ones can kill him off just as surely.

The winner will be a good shot-maker and a smart one. The record shows who these people are. Arnold Palmer, a muscular young man from Latrobe, Pa., set out today with hopes of accomplishing something no other golfer has ever done—successfully defend his Masters' title.

Since grand-slam king Bob Jones and Cliff Roberts latched this classic event 25 years ago, some of the biggest names in the game have won it. A few have won it more than once.

But none has been able to tame this demanding 6,900-yard Augusta National Course and the talent-rich field two years running.

Jones Falters on Hill for Giants, White OK With Cards

Who Got Bad End of Deal?

Associated Press Sports Writer

The first returns are in on last week's controversial Sam Jones-Bill White trade between the St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco Giants. And at present, it looks like Card General Manager Bing Devine might not have gotten the bad end after all.

Devine was criticized for giving Jones, his pitching mainstay last season with a 14-13 record, to the Giants for White, who has only one full season and part of last year in major league experience. The critics called the deal exactly what the Giants needed to become serious pennant contenders.

Though the only basis for comparison is spring training, the results still do not bear out the critics.

Jones, in his first start since the trade for Giants, Manager Bill Rigney, was blasted for nine hits and nine runs in four innings yesterday by the Chicago Cubs who beat the Giants, 10-5. Included among the hits were three-run homer by rookie George Altman and Moose Morry.

Jones, last year's National League strikeout king, walked three and fanned four.

On the other hand, White has made a favorable impression on Cards manager Solly Hemus — at least until his error paved the way for a five-run New York Yankee ninth inning that gave the world champions a 5-1 victory yesterday.

Hemus decided before the game to give White the first base job and move Joe Cunningham to right field. White has hit three home runs and batted over 300 since joining the Cards, while Cunningham has been hitting under 300 all spring.

But it was the fielding that swayed Hemus' decision. He said he had no doubt that White would be better than Cunningham at first.

White's error ruined a five hit eighth and one-third inning performance by Vinegar Bend Mizell as the Yankees then capitalized on an intentional pass and three hits in four innings, his first action since March 15.

The Cubs got their third straight victory as Bob Anderson pitched the first eight innings, allowing 11 hits.

In other exhibition games, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4, Los Angeles shutout the Philadelphia Phils 8-0, Cincinnati defeated Washington 6-4, the Chicago White Sox humbled the Milwaukee Braves 8-5 the Kansas City A's won over Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in a 12-inning night game.

Badgers Select Erickson Coach

MADISON, Wis. — John E. Erickson, who came to Wisconsin last year as the school's first full-time assistant basketball coach, was elevated Wednesday to the top job.

His selection to succeed Harold (Bud) Foster, who held the job of basketball coach 25 years, was formally announced by university President Conrad A. Elvehjem.

The 31-year-old Erickson was picked from a field of a dozen candidates.

They were leading the Kansas City Athletics 3-2 going into the ninth inning of yesterday's game at Henley Field.

Frank Lary, trying to go nine innings and nail down the opening day starting job, retired the first two batters he faced.

He walked pinch-hitter Harry (Sultcase) Simpson.

Preston Ward batted for the pitcher and hit Lary's first pitch over the right field fence and the Athletics led 4-3—the final score.

The Tigers did not go down without a mild, ninth-inning threat, however. Inman (Coot) Veal led off with his third straight hit, a single. But pinch batter Gus Zernial hit into a double play, and Eddie Yost flied out.

It was the third double play the A's pulled off during the afternoon. In addition, the Tigers stranded seven runners although they batted three Kansas City pitchers for 10 base hits, including home runs by Frank Bolling and Larry Doby.

Both, of course, came with the bases empty.

The brightest spot on the Tiger side of things was the long-ball hitting of Doby. The veteran slugger apparently has ousted Charlie Maxwell from the left field spot and eliminated all others from consideration.

The same clubs were to meet again today at Lakeland.

Lefty Pete Burnside, the Tigers' Grapefruit League ace, was to get his sixth spring start in the series finale with the A's. The National

Athletics Down Tigers in Ninth, 4-3

Wiping out so many one-run defeats is a must if the Tigers are to be any sort of a contending team in 1939. Last season the club played in 50 one-run games, losing 30 of them.

Manager Bill Norman has set his sights on winning 50 per cent more of those close ones. More pinch hitting power plus an improved bullpen are the two things that are supposed to accomplish all this.

Celts in Finals Against Lakers

BOSTON (AP) — The mighty Boston Celtics feared only over-confidence against the upstart Minneapolis Lakers today while marking time before their series opener for pro basketball's world championship.

"We figure to beat the Lakers, but we have to guard against over-confidence," warned Bob Cousy, Boston's veteran backcourt magician.

The Celtics streaked into a National Basketball Assn. title showdown with Minneapolis by coming from behind for a 130-125 victory over the stubborn Syracuse Nationals last night in the seventh and deciding game of a torrid Eastern division final series.

The opener of the best-of-seven NBA championship series Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden will find the Celtics seeking their 19th straight triumph over Minneapolis.

Favorites Host NHL Cup Playoffs Tonight

By the Associated Press

The Toronto Maple Leafs could go all the way in the Stanley Cup Hockey playoffs now that they have regained the punch that gained them a playoff berth against staggering odds.

The semifinals in the battle for hockey's most prized possession resume tonight with the Leafs at Boston and the Chicago Black Hawks at Montreal. Each of the best-of-7 series is tied at 2-2.

Toronto, won its last five games to squeeze into the playoffs on the last night of the regular NHL season.

The Leafs' drive seemed finished when they lost the first two games of the playoff to Boston. But they bounced back to square the series with two thrilling overtime victories on their home ice.

"We're coming and they're going," exclaimed Toronto Coach Punch Imlach. "We're out to get this one."

Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, thinks the Leafs will do it.

"They're young, fast and aggressive," Adams explained. "They're not afraid to check someone. Most of all they believe in themselves. I think they can go all the way."

Milt Schmidt, Boston coach, believes otherwise. "It's now a 2-of-3 situation and we have the advantage because two of those games are in Boston," he said.

"The breaks are due us after those two overtime losses in Toronto."

In Montreal with Black Hawks are equally confident of upsetting the Canadiens, the NHL champions trying for their fourth straight Stanley Cup.

"We've won only one game in Montreal all season and we're about due to win one," declared Tommy Ivan, general manager of the Hawks.

Hockey Brawl Too Much for Mat Promoter

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U-P)—A play-er and a former wrestler wound up in the hospital Wednesday night during a fiery International Hockey League playoff game that saw Louisville down Troy 2-1.

Troy goalie John Craig was thrown out of the game after Louisville's Moe Bartoli and a 200-pound spectator were hit over the head with a stick.

Billy Martin Hitting .409 for Cleveland

TUCSON, Ariz. (U-P)—Billy Martin has improved his hitting since he began experimenting with a wide-open stance.

The Cleveland Indians' second baseman remembered that he hit well with an open stance while he was with the New York Yankees a few years ago.

Martin's average has risen from .360 to .409 high for the Tribe during the past week.

He hit two home runs in yesterday's 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox, the first Indian to hit two homers in one game this spring.

Lions Will Play at Toledo Again

After a lapse of one year, the Detroit Lions will return to Toledo for a pre-season game in 1959, meeting the Philadelphia Eagles on Thursday night, Sept. 3 in the Glass Bowl on the University of Toledo campus.

President Edwin J. Anderson made the announcement today after completing arrangements with the Toledo Lodge No. 53 B.P.O. Elks sponsors of the game. It marks the third time the Elks have sponsored a Lions pre-season game in Toledo. Detroit defeated Pittsburgh in the first game 20-15, in 1956 and edged Philadelphia, 34-27, in 1957.

The schedule of Lions pre-season games announced to date includes the following: August 8 Los Angeles at Boulder, Colo.; August 15, Chicago Cardinals at Norman, Okla.; August 22, Cleveland at Akron, Ohio; August 28, New York at Detroit; September 3, Philadelphia at Toledo; September 13, Cleveland at Detroit.

Northern Michigan Has 9 Grid Games

MARQUETTE (UPI) — Northern Michigan College today announced a nine-game football schedule for 1959 which includes four new opponents.

The first four games will be played here, starting with Hillsdale on Sept. 19, Michigan Tech Sept. 26, Youngstown, Oct. 2 and Eastern Michigan on Oct. 10.

Northern's final five games will be on the road at Western Reserve Oct. 17, at Wayne State Oct. 24, at Central Michigan Oct. 31, at the Milwaukee Branch of University of Wisconsin Nov. 7 and at St. Norbert College Nov. 14.

Coach Frosty Ferzacca said spring practice will be held from May 15 to June 1.

Top Showing Gives Shantz New Hope

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's new hope in the heart of Bobby Shantz today despite the admission that seven innings don't make a season. Little Bobby has been through six years in which he ranged from utter desolation to mediocre misery. And this had been just another lackluster spring for the mite who was the American League's most valuable player in 1952.

Until this week, Shantz hadn't been looking good, or even fair. At one stage the New York Yankees sent him back from an exhibition trip so that he could be given more work at their St. Petersburg, Fla., base.

There he had one good stint against minor league opposition but Bobby brushed it off with the discouraged remark that "anybody should beat those kind of hitters."

Everything looks brighter since Monday, however, when he went seven fine shutout innings against the power-packed Cincinnati Reds. "And what's even more encouraging," glows the five-foot, six-inch southpaw, "I could easily have gone nine."

It was a satisfying performance all around, for the tiny hard luck guy in particular and the Yankees in general. Because Shantz is the only left hander in addition to Whitey Ford on the Yankee staff and, with a home stadium where the visitors pack their lineups with left-handed hitters for a shot at those nearby right field seats, baseball strategy dictates the use of left-handed pitchers.

"I had begun to wonder whether it was gone," Shantz confessed after his heart-warming showing against the Reds. "Now I know it was simply a bad streak. My screwball was working fine but, even better, I threw hard and my fast ball really moved like it used to."

Casey Stengel, the sail-sore Yankee skipper, was happy, too.

"He still has that Major League arm," Casey exulted. "You can't blame Shantz if some of the doubts remain even beneath his new optimism. Because the fates have delighted in tormenting him."

Shantz seemed ticketed for greatness right from the start. The 160-pounder from Pottstown, Pa., led the Western League with 13 victories his first season in organized ball and moved right up to the Athletics.

Pontiac K. of C. Cagers in State Tourney Here

The Pontiac Knights of Columbus, city Class A basketball champions, will waste into a strong eight-team field here Friday night in the 1st round of the annual Michigan Recreation Association tournament.

Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern gymnasiums will be the scenes of action for tomorrow night's quarter-finals with Central the host to the semis and championship game on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The K. of C. quintet, a 2nd division club during the regular season race in the City Basketball League, caught fire during the playoffs to win the city crown and qualify for the state MRA tourney.

All teams entered in the week-end single elimination event with the exception of the Knights earned their berths in the state tournament by virtue of success in district activity. Pontiac, as the host city, automatically placed its champion in the tourney.

The K. of C. cagers, managed by Coach Pat Glynn, will play the tough St. Clair Shores All-Stars tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the opening game of a doubleheader at Pontiac Central.

Completing the field are Drewry's of Lansing, Thorne Tire Co. of Ypsilanti, Basin St. Lounge of River Rouge, George Hart Stars from Dearborn, Grand Rapids VanderWeide & Sons and the Flint Yankee Stars.

Lansing and Ypsilanti clash in the 8:30 nightcap at PCH while the twin bill at Northern matches Dearborn and River Rouge at 7 o'clock and Grand Rapids and Flint at 8:30.

Saturday's semifinals and final are scheduled at Central. In the afternoon semis the Pontiac-St. Clair and Lansing-Ypsilanti winners collide at 1 o'clock, followed by a 2:30 meeting between the River Rouge-Dearborn and Grand Rapids-Flint victors.

The two afternoon survivors face each other that evening at 7:30 for the Class A MRA title.

The rosters of every squad are dotted with former high school and college basketball standouts. Among the more prominent names on the entry list are Larry Hedden of Lansing, ex-Michigan State star, and Flint's Clarence Elliott who used to be a rebounding and scoring ace for Flint Northern.

Ellis Duckett, who once raced to touchdowns at MSU, also plays for the Flint team. Other outstanding players on hand will be Dick Scott of St. Clair, ex-Harper Woods High guard; Lansing's Joel Ferguson, former Sexton prep star, and Ed Perlich of Dearborn, a one-time ace at Fordson.

Several past prep standouts in the city of Pontiac dot the K. of C. roster. Included are Chuck Brown, Bill Hall and John Keller, all from St. Michael, and Bob McManus and Bill Mountain, both of St. Frederick.

Pitching Chief Concern for Higgins

Red Sox Strong on Power

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — If it's power you want in the batting order, the Red Sox have plenty to spare. And if their pitching holds up this year, manager Mike Higgins thinks the club will do pretty well.

"We'll win more games than last season but I don't know if we'll finish higher or not," big Mike says of his third-place crew. "We have lots of power and I'm looking for improved work by our pitchers."

The batting order has more voltage than a keg of Jersey lightning. What pitcher could feel secure when he has to face this array? Mighty Ted Williams, who won his sixth American League batting title last year; Pete Runnels, who placed second to him; Jackie Jensen, the American League's most valuable player who led the loop with 122 runs batted in; Vic Wertz, who arrived from Cleveland in a trade and still has lots of sock; third baseman Frank Malzone, who was hitting over .300 until a late season slump made him finish at .236.

Higgins' biggest worry is getting his pitching in shape, deciding whether rookie Jerry (Pumpsie) Green should out the veteran Don Buddin from shortstop, and replacing Jim Piersall, the star center fielder who was traded to Cleveland.

"Tom Brewer should win 18 or 20 for us," Higgins says of his veteran right-hander who was 12-12 last year. "He was weakened from having the mumps last year before coming to spring training, and won seven straight after having a 1-5 mark."

Mike also thinks that Frank Sullivan (13-9) also is capable of a better season. Ivan Delock (14-8), and left-hander Ted Bowsfield (4-2) also figure prominently, while Dave Sisler (8-9) may be used both as a starter and reliever.

Malzone, who led the American League third basemen in chances accepted last season, is set at third base while Dick Gernert, a veteran Bosoxer, is ready to back up Wertz at first. Peter Runnels, who roared back from a bad 1957 slump at Washington, is Higgins' second baseman but it's a shortstop where a good battle is going on.

Buddin always has been the artistic fielder but never too strong with the bat, having a lifetime mark of .238. He has been strongly challenged by Green, a switch-hitter who is the first negro to wear Boston flannels. Green batted .253 at Minneapolis last year and fielded a sharp .993.

Williams is the left fielder again and Jensen is in right. In center field there is a scramble among three players. They include Marty Keough, one of the club's numerous bonus players; Gene Stephens, who cost the Sox nothing, and Jim Busby, a veteran who was obtained from Cleveland. Gary Geiger, another ex-Indian, also figures in the land rush for center and also could be used to back up Jensen.

Green is about the only rookie to make much of a splash in the camp where Higgins will depend upon tested men to give Boston a contender.

Rose Seeks Repeat of AAU Swim Triple

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Can-fabulous Murray Rose, the Australian Olympic champion, duplicate last year's spectacular feat of winning three National A.A.U. indoor swimming titles?

Pete Daland, coach of the University of Southern California sophomore, offered this answer today:

"Rose is swimming better right now than he was at this time last year."

A year ago, the 20-year-old, 185-pound, 6-1 Rose murdered records as he captured the 1500-meter, 220 and 440-yard freestyle tests for the meet's only triple, and led the Southern California freshmen to the team title.

So, if the handsome blond import loses out in any of these races, Daland admitted, it'll be a major upset.

Because the Australian ace is down for nine races, including qualifying tests and relays, Daland said his boy isn't going to try for any records in the 1500-meter grind, the opening event of the three-day championships.

"He won't loaf — you can be sure of that," said Daland.

A look at some of the 42 names entered in this metric mile is enough to assure anybody — and that comes from a flock of experts here — that Rose's path could be thorny.

"He couldn't loaf if he wanted to," said Yale's Bob Kipphut, who is winding up a 41-year coaching career, "not with swimmers like Bill Stewart, Michigan State's powerhouse, and George Green, who competed for America in the Olympics, among others." Stewart, a member of South Africa's Olympic team in 1956, won the National Collegiate title last week in 18:26.2, his best yet. Rose has done 17:31.3 on the Pacific Coast. Green has done 18:17.6. The world's record is 17:28.7 and is owned by Jon Konrads of Australia.

The 65-lap race in Yale's 50-meter practice pool will be run off in heats with the winner and other placings determined by best times.

Southern Cal, which has been bolstered since last year, and Kipphut's New Haven Swim Club, composed mainly of Yales, are favored to battle it out for the team title, which the Trojans won 55-54 in 1958.

Counting tonight's test, 16 events are on the program with 7 on Friday and 8 on Saturday.

He Makes the Police Butt of His Humor

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — An unidentified fisherman called the sheriff's office Wednesday night, help on the other side of the Boise River west of here.

Sheriff's officers sent to the scene heard the voice too. They called for more help. Soon about 200 deputies and volunteers were clambering along the steep banks. The voice complicated the search. It would stop for long periods.

Near midnight, officers pinpointed the area. Then they found the object of their search. It was a goat.

Boy Spies Hole, Puts Foot in It; Just Wondering

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When a boy sees a hole in the ground, it's only natural he'd want to explore it.

That's just what Niles Kinnick, 7, did — with his foot. It stuck. He couldn't get it out. His mother couldn't get it out. Policeman W. E. Franklin couldn't get it out — for half an hour.

The hole was the kind nobody over 7 would care anything about. It held a signpost once.

"I'll be darned," Niles marvelled as he walked away. "I wondered what it was."

Judge Says Hurt Finger Not Worth $103,500

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Entertainer David Street wanted $130,500 in damages because he banged up a finger operating an elevator.

But a judge said Wednesday it wasn't worth anything.

Street said he cannot play the piano because of the injured finger, but Superior Court Judge Arnold Praeger upheld arguments of operators of the building. They said Street operated the lift at his own risk. Praeger dismissed the suit.

Law Now Extended Until 1963

Here Are Answers About the Draft

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has signed legislation extending the Selective Service law until July 1, 1963. Below, in question and answer form, are vital facts about the draft and how it affects young men.

Q. Who must register for the draft?

A. Every young man within five days after his 18th birthday. The only exceptions are servicemen already on active duty, foreign diplomats and a few other special types of aliens. There are severe penalties for failure to register.

Q. Where do you register?

A. At your local Selective Service board. You must also notify this board each time you change your address or whenever there is any change in your status that might affect your draft liability.

Q. When does a registrant become liable for call to military service?

A. Theoretically at 18-1/2 years of age. Actually, no one is ever drafted before 19, and the average age of induction is about 22-1/2.

Q. At what age do you become draft-proof?

A. For all practical purposes at age 26. In theory, anyone who gets a deferment before reaching 26 becomes liable for call-up until age 35. But this is a technicality which is meaningless short of total mobilization, since men over 26 are at the bottom of the list of priorities for induction.

Q. What are the chances of getting through to age 26 without military service?

A. Government studies show that approximately 55 youths out of 100 — slightly more than half — will see military duty before reaching 26.

Q. Are all of those who go into uniform drafted?

A. No, draft inductions account for only one-fifth of the new manpower which comes into the services each year. Most young men prefer to sign up for one of the 34 voluntary enlistment programs offered by the armed forces rather than wait to be drafted.

Q. What are these enlistment programs?

A. They offer youths a wide variety of alternatives—from six-months active duty training followed by several years in the drilling reserve to a full four-year hitch as a service regular. An official pamphlet giving all details can be obtained by writing to: "It's Your Choice," Washington, 25, D. C. That's all the address you need.

Q. What happens to the 45 young men out of every 100 who do not see military service?

A. Many of them (about 33 out of 100) are found physically or mentally disqualified for service. The remaining 12 out of 100 are deferred or exempted for various reasons.

Q. What sort of reasons?

A. Because they are going to school or working at an essential job; because they have families to support; because they are ministers, divinity students, Congressmen or state legislators, conscientious objectors, or members of a few other groups specifically covered by the law.

Q. Are high school students ever drafted?

A. They are automatically deferred until they graduate, quit school or reach age 20.

Q. What about college students?

A. Very liberal deferments are available to college students. Any student who has a respectable class standing or who makes a passing score on the Selective Service college qualification test which is given annually can be confident of being deferred until he graduates. Deferments also are granted for law, medical and other graduate students who have good academic records.

Q. To whom are occupational deferments granted?

A. To those who are performing "essential" jobs. The rules are complicated and the best way to get details is from your local draft board. Generally speaking, any youth who embarks on a career in teaching, science, or engineering can count on getting an occupational deferment.

Q. Is a deferment merely a temporary reprieve from the draft?

A. Theoretically, yes. Deferments are usually granted for one year at the time, or even less. But if you continue the work or the studies that made you eligible for deferment, it is quite possible to keep getting one deferment after another until you reach 26.

Q. Can a young man avoid the draft by getting married?

A. Husbands as such have no special draft status. But fathers are automatically placed at the bottom of the 1-A manpower barrel which means that they become, for all practical purposes, draft-exempt.

Some U. S. modern roads cost $1 million or more per mile.

Providence Building to Pioneer Push-Button Post Office Under Way

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Giant earth-moving machines were massed on a 14-acre site today to start construction of the post office.

Just 18 months from now, according to present plans, postal workers will step into a two-block-long building filled with a complex of conveyors, chutes, vibrating trays, photoelectric scanning cells, vacuum feeds and automatic stamp detectors.

The 20-million-dollar push-button plant not only will serve Rhode Island and southern New England, but also will be a laboratory for developing future automation post offices.

A subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. will build and equip the revolutionary postal-laboratory post office. After its completion in September 1960, the subsidiary, Intellex Systems Inc., New York, will lease the plant to the Post Office Department.

The building will cover more than three acres of its site adjoining rail facilities. It will have a landing port for helicopters. It will be 20 minutes from an airport. It will be served by an express highway.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, in a message prepared for the ground-breaking ceremony, said:

"As a result of the work done here, our post offices of the future will be cleaner, less congested, and better able to process the increase in mail volume. Drudgery will be eliminated and the abilities of career postal employees used to better advantage."

Sparrow Feathers Nest With Expensive Paper

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Wanted: a larcenous sparrow feathering a nest with a dollar bill.

The bill belonged to Dep. Sheriff Vern la More. He dropped it outside the sheriff's office Wednesday.

The sparrow swooped down, picked it up and flew away.

Driving Record Will Set Insurance Rate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Starting May 1 California motorists who have driven three years without accident or traffic conviction will be rewarded with a 20 percent reduction in their car insurance costs.

But drivers with two or more accidents or traffic convictions in the preceding three years will pay more. Five or more accidents or traffic convictions will boost the insurance premium to a maximum of twice the standard rate.

California will be a testing ground for the new safe driver plan announced Wednesday by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Assn.

If the plan works as expected in California, it will be extended into other states with records of licensed drivers comparable to the California Motor Vehicle Department's complete file system.

Fathers Can Be as Good Mothers as Mothers Are

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A University of Wisconsin psychologist has confirmed what most men suspected all along: That fathers make better mothers than the mothers do.

Dr. Harry F. Harlow told a Florida State University audience that it's entirely possible the woman may be replaced at home by the man.

Said Harlow: "The American male is physically endowed with all the really essential equipment to compete with the American female on equal terms in the rearing of infants."

The only horses left on active duty in the Army are a few quartered at Fort Myer, Va., for ceremonial purposes and a few others assigned to pulling clean-up wagons at a disciplinary barracks in California.

Drug Can Kill One Variety of Cancer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Philadelphia medical researcher says a drug has been developed that will kill or check one kind of cancer cell.

Dr. Charles S. Cameron, dean of the Hahnemann Medical College, reported Wednesday that the drug has completely cured melanoma, a cancer usually occurring in the skin. He said the tests were made in hamsters, and that because of the success of the demonstration "it seems to me the principle of a 'magic bullet' for cancer is reasonable."

"Since science has been able to kill or check one kind of cancer in one kind of animal with one kind of drug, I have every confidence that in time, science will develop other drugs effective against many types of cancer—and possibly all cancer—in the human species," he told an American Cancer Society fund raising dinner.

Believe 'Ivy Leaguer' in Area Warn of Check Swindler

A phony-check artist with a reassuring, Ivy league appearance may be embarked on a swindle campaign in the Pontiac area, the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office warned today.

Businessmen were urged to keep a lookout for the check-passer, who already is credited with swindling several thousands of dollars from merchants in Detroit and New York City.

The latest check attributed to the man was passed at Youngland Children's Shop at Miracle Mile Shopping Center March 21, covering payment of $44.95 worth of children's clothes, said Anthony Stiel, chief investigator of the prosecutor's office.

At least two phony checks were issued in this area before that, Stiel said, and others may have been passed off on unsuspecting merchants since.

MUST CLEAR BANK

"We won't know until the checks are cleared at the bank," he explained.

The forger is well mannered, as well as being stylishly dressed, said Stiel. Victims have agreed he is of medium height and weight, 25-35 years of age.

But descriptions of other details vary, Stiel added.

The forger is signing his checks on a National Bank of Detroit passbook which a Detroit customer of the bank lost recently, along with his driver's license.

The passbook is made out to a Vincent A. Basta, 2980 Sprague St., Detroit, Stiel said.

The forger is able to produce Basta's operator's license when asked to furnish identification as he signs Basta's name to one of Basta's checks, Stiel said.

STILLS SUSPICIONS

"This prevents suspicions from being aroused," warned Stiel, who said that any information on the forger should be passed along immediately to the prosecutor's office.

Urges Grand Rapids Annex 5 Suburbs

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Consolidation of Grand Rapids and five of its suburbs would mean a savings in tax dollars, the president of the Greater Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce believes.

Edward J. Frey told the annual chamber meeting last night that the Grand Rapids area is at a "crossroads."

"We can have a new Metropolitan city or an old-fashioned hodgepodge of wasteful overlapping of governmental units and services," Frey said.

Voters in Grand Rapids and its suburbs are expected to ballot before the end of the year on a proposal calling for consolidation of the six communities.

2 Area Winners Seek Higher Elks Awards

A Lake Orion boy has entered a national leadership contest and a Clarkston girl is seeking a state scholarship award, both sponsored by the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks after they won similar local contests.

Carl E. Baber, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baber of 984 Heights Rd., Lake Orion, first received a $100 U.S. Savings Bond for the Pontiac Area Youth Leadership Contest sponsored by Pontiac Lodge 810 of the BPOE.

He went on to win the state contest and received another $100 bond.

His application has been sent to the national contest. Winners will be announced at the national Elks convention in Chicago in July.

Susan E. Johnson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Johnson of 44 E. Church St., Clarkston, received $100 for each of the four years she plans to attend college studying elementary education.

This award was also made by the Pontiac Elks Lodge.

The top five scholars including Susan who entered the area contest will now compete in the state contest and the winners will be announced May 23 at the Elks' state convention held in Port Huron.

Judges of both local contests were Cyril B. McCallum, Pontiac municipal judge; Dr. William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools; and the Rev. Karl Ostberg, associate pastor of First Congregational Church of Pontiac.

Ralph Dawe was chairman of the scholarship contest and Ralph Norvell headed the youth activities contest. Students from 10 Pontiac area high schools entered each of the contests.

Carl, a senior at Lake Orion Community High School, plans to attend Michigan State University Oakland this fall and study business administration.

Susan will enter Central Michigan College in Mt. Pleasant at the same time.

Glass Firm Says Strike Lost Chrysler Business

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. says Chrysler Motor Corp.'s decision to fabricate part of its own auto glass doubtlessly was hastened by a 134-day strike at Pittsburgh Plate.

Chrysler announced Tuesday that it plans to fabricate glass and said it expects to be supplying 50 per cent of its over-all needs by 1960. Pittsburgh Plate now supplies nearly all of Chrysler's glass.

A Pittsburgh Plate spokesman declined yesterday to estimate what effect the loss of business would have on employment in Pittsburgh Plate plants.

In 1929, the typical American grocery stocked 900 items. Today's average supermarket offers well over 5,000 products.

Oil Stove Explosion on Good Friday Claims
Life of Ralph LaBarge

A second person died today as a result of a Good Friday explosion which ripped through a two-room Troy garage apartment.

Ralph LaBarge, 31, of 6735 Montclair St., died at 9:55 this morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital as a result of the burns which covered most of his body.

Harry Fogus, 25, of 6910 Montclair St. was killed in the explosion Friday night after a small oil burner in his apartment broke and sprayed flaming oil over him, LaBarge and their wives.

The two women, Mrs. Fluvanna Fogus, 20, and Mrs. Yvonne LaBarge, 27, who were first reported in critical condition at the hospital with second and third-degree burns, today were in fair condition.

U.S. Retaliates, Puts Curb on Red Envoys

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States late yesterday slapped a retaliatory travel ban on all Russian officials stationed in this country, barring their movement to all cities but Washington and New York.

It acted in the wake of a "temporary" Russian clamp down on travel by American and other foreign diplomats in Russia except to Leningrad or Moscow.

Last year, when the Russians imposed a similar ban for about two weeks, it was speculated that military maneuvers were the reason. There was no hint as to the reason for the Moscow ban this time.

Detroit Trains Dropped

DETROIT (UPI) — The New York Central will discontinue two passenger trains between Detroit and Cincinnati effective April 25. The trains, No. 88 which arrives in Detroit at 7:30 a.m. and No. 89 which leaves Detroit at 11:35 p.m., made stops at Wyandotte and Monroe.

Youth Is Felled After Trying to Ram Squad
Car With Stolen Auto

DETROIT (UPI) — A 16-year-old boy who twice tried to ram a Detroit police car during a high-speed chase was shot and killed last night when he tried to escape on foot.

The boy, Albert Morris of 739 Blaine, was shot through the head when he failed to heed a command to halt after the stolen car he was driving struck a utility pole near Herman Kiefer Hospital.

Another 16-year-old boy, Robert Jerrill of 1955 Gladstone, who was riding with Morris, obeyed a warning shot fired into the ground.

The shooting climaxed a five-block chase which began when Morris ran a stop sign and almost smashed into a police car. At speeds of up to 70 miles an hour, the youths ran through two more stop signs.

Twice during the chase, police said, Morris swerved and tried to ram the police car.

After Morris rammed the utility pole, the two youths jumped from the auto to flee. Officers said Jerrill was tripped by the guy wire of the pole and surrendered after the warning shot. Morris kept on running, however, and was hit by another shot.

U.S. Atomic Edict Shakes Allies

'Crisis of Doubt' Rises Over NATO

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
LONDON (UPI)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization reaches its 10th anniversary Saturday amid a grave crisis of doubt among America's European allies.

On March 11 President Eisenhower warned that Western ground forces in Europe could not hope to match Russia's 175 divisions in a ground war slugging match in Europe.

The West's only possible strategy, the President declared, would be to use its mighty nuclear deterrent at once.

This clear statement of fact—that to many Americans may have been simply a restatement of the obvious—hit Western Europe like an atomic bombshell. The first questions many Europeans asked were:

What happens to NATO, with its continuing goal of a "shield" force of 30 ground divisions? Is there any point to NATO and longer?

Ten years ago, when Eisenhower took over as first NATO supreme commander, the infant alliance could muster only 12 divisions—six of them American—to match Russia's gigantic forces.

Military men then estimated it would take 65 to 90 divisions even to hold the line of the Rhine.

Two years ago, NATO's fourth supreme commander, Gen. Lauris

M. Norstad, had sliced the minimum necessary holding force to 30 divisions. The development of tactical nuclear weapons accounted for the difference.

The NATO countries today still can scrape together only about 22 of the necessary 30.

But many countries are asking themselves whether even those are necessary—whether, in fact, a shield force is necessary at all. A major showdown on this could take place at the NATO Council's 10th anniversary session in Washington.

Since the day the NATO alliance was first conceived and cutties and disagreements born, there have been differences between the United States and its European allies over their NATO contributions.

Successive NATO commanders have accused European members of dragging their feet to keep costs at rock bottom.

Britain, faced with a desperate economic crisis in 1957, slashed her NATO forces in Germany and still keeps them to a bare three divisions.

France, fighting a never-ending war in Algeria, has siphoned off the flower of her army to fight the Moslem rebels, cutting her NATO contribution to a mere token force.

West German rearmament has been far slower than originally planned. Even today she still has only seven partially trained divisions compared with the originally hoped for 12.

Norstad and other top NATO commanders no longer aim at a force that could halt and fling back Russia's 175 divisions on the ground.

That earlier concept has been scrapped in favor of the "trip wire" plan, for a force just large enough to hold a limited aggression by Russia or her East European satellites until the U.S. nuclear retaliation bombing force could swing into action.

The alliance is plagued with other troubles, too, as it reaches its 10th anniversary.

France announced recently she intends to keep her Mediterranean fleet under her own command in the event of war and not place it under NATO.

France also refuses to have her air defenses integrated with those of other NATO countries and still is deeply reluctant to allow any NATO rocket bases on her territory.

Britain's bitter quarrel with Greece over Cyprus was another danger spot in the alliance. It apparently was removed by the agreement in February granting the island independence.

But the so-called "cold war" between Britain and Iceland over fishery rights still drags on.

On the plus side, political and economic cooperation among NATO states, particularly those in Europe, is improving.

And standardization of arms and equipment is making rapid strides, with Germany, France and Italy among the leaders in this development.

Sers 126 Million for State Ports

FAA Sees 1962 End for Use of Willow Run as Airlines Field

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has recommended spending more than 26 million dollars on Michigan airports in the next four years.

The Agency's national airport plan for 1959 recommended that $22,849,000 be spent on 21 airfield airports and $3,263,000 on 61 general aviation airports.

The airport plan is an annual listing of facilities which the FAA deems desirable in light of expected air traffic. But the Agency does not commit federal funds.

The 1959 plan sounded the death knell for Willow Run Airport as a commercial airlines facility.

The FAA predicted that by 1962 Willow Run would be abandoned except for private planes and as a research lab for the University of Michigan which owns the airport.

The FAA recommended leveling of runways at Detroit Metropolitan, along with other improvements to accommodate jet planes and a wholesale transfer of operations from Willow Run.

Willow Run still is used by seven airlines while five others have already moved to Detroit Metropolitan, several miles closer to downtown Detroit.

The FAA program also suggests that a new airport for private planes be provided in the Detroit area.

Also suggested were three new outstate commercial airports at Grand Rapids, near Kalamazoo and in the South St. Marie area and somewhere in Menominee County.

The report also said there should be new general aviation fields near Ontonagon in the Upper Peninsula and in the Hillsdale area.

TV News and Reviews

Circle Theater Brings Back Fading Killer With Polish

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK (UPI) — It's comforting every once in a while to run into a TV drama about a killer that doesn't involve six-shooters, automatics, shotguns, blackjacks, spears, lances, machetes, bolos, darts, Bowie knives, tomahawks, pikes, arrows, sandbags, harpoons, grenades, mustard gas, catapults, sabers, darts, galling guns, muzzle loaders, torpedoes, cold steel or hot lead.

Last night CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theater sidestepped this entire catalog and trotted out an "actual" about an efficient assassin somewhat sunk into disuse—smallpox.

"The Innocent Killer" was its name and it was tiddly constructed, nicely acted and quite satisfying.

Mel Goldberg's script squeezed the maximum of juice out of a situation which was based on the files of New York's Department of Public Health and offtand I can't think of a less promising source of dramatic delirium unless it's the Department of Markets' Bureau of Weights and Measures.

SHORT SHOTS: NBC-TV's Waggon Train about a complete syllabus of woes last night—cholera, mutiny, shortage of water, rough trail—but even so, the hour was kind of motionless.

Its climactic scene, in which a one-armed hero fought against a two-armed villain — smacked a good deal of the old Spencer Tracy movie, "Bad Day at Black Rock."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV's Desilu Playhouse will shift from Monday to Friday night next fall, bumping the Phil Silvers Show and Lux Playhouse—Silvers will return to CBS-TV next season, but probably not in his Sgt. Bilko role.

NBC-TV's Jack Paar will vacation from April 27 to May 15—Eddie Albert and Margo will spell Paar the first week. CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan will film shows in Italy in August and in Russia in September. CBS-TV's Track-down has the wobbles.

War Jitters in Middle East

Coded Israeli Call Up of Reserves Puts Scare Into Arab Neighbors

JERUSALEM (AP) — A coded Israeli broadcast calling up three units of army reserves brought new war jitters to the Middle East during the night but the Israeli government said the callup was a routine exercise.

Neighboring Syria immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and all reserves mobilized.

Jordan's higher defense council held a late night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security."

Israeli Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in Parliament to express the government's regret over the manner in which the orders were broadcast to the reserves.

The suddenness of the military maneuvering came as a shock, for the Arab-Israeli frontiers have been unusually quiet in recent weeks.

There was an air of mystery about the Israeli callup. The orders to the reservists were broadcast Wednesday night in code during a regular station break on the Israeli radio.

Four Proposals on Troy Ballot

Charter Amendments, 2 Bond Issues to Be Decided Monday

TROY — Four local propositions will be up for voters' consideration when they go to the polls on Monday. They include bond issues in the amount of $150,000 and two charter amendments.

One bond issue, $125,000, is sought for the construction of a Department of Public Works building, its equipment and the purchase of a suitable site.

The second issue, amounting to $25,000, is for expansion of the present City Building on Wattles road.

One charter amendment is on the deletion of "the reference to section 12.5 which provides for the compensation of the associate justice."

The other is to establish that "neither the presiding justice nor the associate justice if he be an attorney, nor business partners or employees of their law firm, may try cases or perform any other act as an attorney in or before the Justice Court for the City of Troy."

Polio Clinic Slated at Elmwood School

AVON TOWNSHIP — Avondale school PTAs will conduct a polio clinic from 1 to 5 p. m. and from 6 to 8 p. m. April 9 at Elmwood Elementary School, 2751 Auburn Rd., Mrs. Clifford Fralley, clinic chairman, announced today.

The clinic will be open to all children and adults in the Avondale School District. Two local physicians will be in attendance. First, second, third and booster shots will be given. One dollar will be charged for each inoculation.

Those who need transportation are asked to call Elmwood School where arrangements will be made, Mrs. Fralley said.

New Hudson PTA Fair on Agenda for Tonight

The meeting is scheduled for 8 in the school gymnasium. Frank Bartlett, superintendent of schools, will be on hand to discuss the local school situation.

Besides Being Marilyn, She's Also Millionaire

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — A gag is coming true: a fellow could love Marilyn Monroe for her money.

She'll wiggle off with $1 million to $2 million from "Some Like It Hot" (she gets 10 per cent of the world gross)—her first big loot. Her next'll be "Time and Tide," based on the TVA story "Mud on the Stars," Elsa Kazen directing. She's been told to report at 20th in Hollywood Apr. 14.

"Some Like It Hot" is not only an artistic and commercial smash — it's banned in Kansas because of an MM-Tony Curtis love scene on a yacht. I found out who poured Marilyn into her skin-tight gown for the NY premiere: John Moore, designer for the Matty Talmack dress house on 7th Av. He's done the pouring so often, when some shivering unclad beauty steps into a gown, that's he's quite blasé. Never looks at the girl—only at the dress.

No, he doesn't need any assistants. I already applied. TV Viewers Object to Sexpots: Do sit-at-home housewives object to Zsa Zsa Gabor, Jayne Mansfield, Diana Dors and other so-called glamorous sexpots being guest stars on the big TV shows? One of my readers, Mrs. E. J. Binniger, of Milwaukee, hints strongly at it.

"I like Steve Allen and his three stooges. However, lately, his guest stars have been of the type I wouldn't invite to my home. My home isn't, and I refuse to make it, a burlesque runway," declares Mrs. Binniger.

"I'd rather have my children poor as church mice than wearing the clothes these burlesque queens do—or don't, I should say."

As for the Peter Lind Hayes show which is going off the air, she says the trouble with the show was it was oversponsored; more advertisements than entertainment.

And another customer's opinion on another subject: "Alistair Cooke uses the most beautiful English on TV and next to him is John Daly of 'What's My Line?'—Mrs. B. Sigmond, Chicago.

From women readers also there is lately a rush of mail about another TV personality. I wouldn't say it's the result of a planned "campaign"—but the mail is on post-cards and it is all rooting for the continuation of a program by an old favorite of the ladies: Liberace!

Andrew Meadows' new guy is handsome Jerry Herzfeld, who has that racetrack bundle and always gets the best table. . . . Faye Emerson's around with a Spanish beau: Enrique Anolas. . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor's most recent former fiancé, Hal Hayes, is back dating Pat Wymore (Mrs. Errol Flynn). . . . General Motors wants Gwen ("Redhead") Verdon to do four TV spectacles in two years. . . .

Joanna Barnes, who's making her first "Tarzan" movie, says it'll also be her last. . . . Luise Rainer recited a Biblical piece on the Ed Sullivan show; later said anxiously, "I did one word wrong—and I'm sure every minister in the country noticed it!"

EARL'S PEARLS: A crystal gazer is sometimes a girl who thinks she just got a diamond engagement ring.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A customer at a local cafe complained about the small food portions, and the management took immediate steps—they made the lights dimmer. . . . That's earl, brother.

Plan Nuptials Within 6 Weeks

Eddie, Liz Ready to Wed

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher said today that he and Elizabeth Taylor will marry in Mexico within the next six weeks.

Wednesday night he had said they would wed in Las Vegas if he could get the consent of his former wife, Debbie Reynolds.

But he added later that he had slight hope of getting Miss Reynolds to agree to a Nevada decree. She has obtained a California divorce which will not be final for a year.

Fisher pointed out that he could get a divorce in Mexico without his former wife's consent. Asked if that means he and raven-haired Miss Taylor would get married in Mexico, Fisher nodded in agreement.

He and Miss Taylor said they have not selected the site for the wedding.

"We do not want it to be public," she said. Fisher pointed out that Miss Taylor is leaving in May for Europe to make a movie. He said he is going with her.

"We want to travel as man and wife," he said. Miss Taylor said she hoped Miss Reynolds might consent to a Nevada decree on her return from movie work in Spain in a few days.

"Debbie was very much hurt at first to find out that Eddie and I were in love," said Miss Taylor. "That is very understandable, but I think the hurt has now left and that she may consent to Eddie getting a divorce in Nevada. What has she got to gain by opposing it?"

This discussion followed the opening of Fisher's show at the Tropicana Hotel, Miss Taylor attended the opening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor of La Jolla, Calif.

Fisher said he had tried to get

Tax Exempt Bonds Popular

Government Offerings Expected to Get Big Play This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The well-heeled investor's darlings — tax exempt bonds — are expected to hit a new high in volume this year. Bond dealers are confident today that rising yields and high taxes will help them sell the lot.

State and municipal offerings were just under seven billion dollars in 1957. They climbed to nearly 7½ billion last year, and bond men say they may top eight billion dollars in 1959.

Already there's a whopping total outstanding for any one to buy if he wants to cut his federal income tax payments. At the start of the year there were 54 billion dollars of such issues; 3½ times as many as just 12 years before.

Offerings are expected to increase because state and local governments face a growing demand for civic service facilities. It is unlikely taxes can be hiked enough higher to take care of all immediate needs. Borrowing—even if at rising costs—must be increased instead.

Tax-conscious investors are giving state and municipal securities a bigger play because yields on them are approaching those on some common stocks. And for taxpayers in the upper brackets, this puts the return much higher. For example, if a man without dependents who has a net taxable income of $10,000-$12,000 (38 per cent tax bracket) can find a tax-exempt bond paying 4 per cent, he is getting a yield equal to 6.45 per cent on a blue chip common stock on which he must pay taxes—and 6.45 per cent yields on blue chips are few and far between.

Space Capsule Showing Slated on TV April 19

DETROIT—A space capsule that will take the first American into outer space will be seen for the first time on television when General Motors presents a special public service program direct from the "World Congress of Flight" at Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday, April 19 from 5 to 6 p. m. (EST) over the NBC network (Channel 4).

Selection of the man for this historic flight is currently under way. He will rocket into space in his capsule inside the nose of an Atlas missile.

One of the Atlas missiles also will be shown, along with its mighty space-probing companions—the Titan and Thor-Able missiles. Experts will describe their functioning and capabilities, and discuss the meaning of the "space age" as it will affect every American.

The General Motors program will climax a week-long meeting of air and missilemen from throughout the free world at the "World Congress of Flight" ever held in the United States.

As the U. S. prepares for flight into true space, exploration of its fringes by man already is under way. View

No TV for Lower Classes—They Face Life!

By PHYLIS BAYTELLE
NEW YORK—The first thing to analyze is this: Do you consider yourself "middle-class American"? Chances are you do, according to a Harvard Medical School professor of psychology who estimates that 75 per cent of the people in this country actually are "lower" class, but prefer to identify with the better-sounding adjective "middle".

Now, if you think your family is middle-class, writes Dr. John Spiegel, then you and the kiddies are likely contented with today's commercial television programs.

Why? You have problems and your children have problems, and shoot-em-dead westerns and domestic family farces help to alleviate them.

According to a booklet on TV programming, recently released by the good doctor, today's husband (middle-class, remember) has "dependency needs," though tradition demands that he must be strong within himself.

Today's M-C wife envies or resents her husband's activities outside the home, diminishes her status by saying she's "just a housewife," and is unable, possibly through her resentments, to respond to hubby's dependency emotions.

The children sense these parental tensions. And they have problems of their own. Middle-class parents tend to require their kiddies to be independent and competitive; while the child, being quite adolescent, feels as dependent as children of past generations.

URNS TO GANG

For support, he turns to a gang. When he is not cavorting with the dependable soda shoppe set, today's child finds relief in watching TV westerns. No that he expects to be a cowboy—nobody wants that.

No, the middle-class child sees the TV West as a place that doesn't exist, and therefore relieves the pressures of the existing world. Dr. Spiegel also suggests that today's crime programs give children an outlet for aggressive tendencies, and offer a cultural "pattern for misconduct."

They say to a youngster: "You shouldn't do it, but if you do it, this is the way to do it."

While the young ones are practicing escapism, and deciding whether they want to be good guys or bad guys, the parents are rationalizing their own shaky relationship by watching TV situation comedies about husbands and wives.

As they see the TV husband make a fool of himself, and the TV wife become annoyed by the TV kids, they laugh and think—that's a relief. It happens to other people too.

After reading of the good doctor's analysis of the middle-class family and second-rate TV, we decided something.

Better off, in the long haul, is the "lower-class" American family.

They may not be able to afford even an eight-inch screen to dissipate their disillusion.

Thus, they cannot face TV. They can only face life.

Among life-facers, the man with ulcers is the most uncomfortable. Latest news in this fashionable abdominal abomination is: A quart of cabbage juice a day may not keep the doctor away—but it should help.

Cabbage juice apparently contains a substance known as vitamin U, which is a fractional part of the vitamin C complex. To test its value, 41 peptic ulcer patients were treated with a quart of the juice, freshly prepared each day from garden-grown cabbage.

Clinical signs of ulcer disappeared in 34 of the 41. Healing time averaged 19.5 days.

Always knew there was something good about cabbage besides corned beef.

Secretary of NATO Man of Experience

PARIS (UPI) — Paul-Henri Spaak, Secretary General of NATO, has had unparalleled experience in running international organizations.

He was the first president of the United Nations General Assembly in 1946, president of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation in 1948-49, president of the Council of Europe Assembly in 1949, and president of the European Coal-Steel Pool Assembly in 1952.

Spaak became prime minister of Belgium in 1938, at the age of 39. He resigned as Belgium's foreign minister to take over his NATO post on May 15, 1957.

Americans ate about twice as much chicken in 1957 as they did 20 years ago.
