CBS Prompt to Act, Says Chief

Car Thieves Did This

AP Wirephoto

ORPHANED BY SPEEDERS—Five-year-old Michael Tedeschi lies unconscious on an Ozone Park, N. Y., street Thursday, lone survivor of a car crash that killed his parents and younger brother. A grim reminder of the tragedy is his father's shoe, torn off by the impact. Victor Tedeschi, 41, of nearby Jamaica, his wife Louise, 40, and their other son, Thomas, 3, were killed when their car was rammed by two teen-agers fleeing police in a stolen car. Michael was reported in critical condition with a broken arm, cuts and internal injuries. Police seized Albert Biggio, 16, and William Harris, 15, occupants of the stolen car.

Random Sample Shows Little Van Doren Hostility

By MAX E. SIMON

Most TV viewers in Pontiac apparently are ready to forgive and forget Charles Van Doren, their fallen idol.

A random sampling of public opinion in Pontiac shows little hostility toward the 33-year-old university professor who confessed to House investigators this week that he was a cheat.

Many local residents felt that Van Doren, who admitted receiving advance answers on the TV quiz show "Twnty-One" which enabled him to run his winnings to $129,000, should be given "another chance."

The feeling wasn't unanimous, however.

One disgruntled viewer called Van Doren "a bum."

And the chancellor of Michigan State University Oakland doubted whether the ex-quiz show contestant could make a go of it as an effective teacher.

Clyde G. Stephens, 29 Blaine St., a barber, said:

"Van Doren did right in confessing. I don't think he'll ever do anything like that again. He should continue teaching if he wants to, he'll be a better teacher than he was, with that experience behind him."

OK TO TEACH

Stephens, who has two children in Pontiac schools, said he wouldn't object if Van Doren taught them.

Mrs. Anna Pratt, 69, of 3201 Joslyn Rd., Pontiac Township, said Van Doren should be given a second chance. "He hasn't really been proven guilty of anything," she said. "He's sorry for what he's done."

She said that Van Doren, just as many criminals released from prison, wants to "go straight and should have the opportunity." Mrs. Pratt also felt quiz shows should be continued despite the recent scandals.

"I've always liked them and they're better for kids than the Westerns with all that shooting."

A 46-year-old auto mechanic, Carl Reynolds, 455 Jordon Rd., said Van Doren was "taken in."

'HIRED FOR JOB'

'Air Raid' Shakes the UP

MARQUETTE (AP) — An air raid alert — called the real thing — shook up the news staffs of several radio stations in Michigan's Upper Peninsula late yesterday.

But someone had "goofed."

The alert came to station WDMJ in Marquette at 6:07 p.m. by way of CONELRAD, the air raid warning system in which civilian radio cooperates.

WDMJ announcer Jim Anthony took the call on a phone used only for CONELRAD.

"I was told it looks like the real thing," said Anthony.

Anthony passed the word along to station WHDF in Houghton, WSOO in Sault Ste. Marie and WJPD in Ishpeming.

He didn't take his station off the air, but did some checking and was told to wait until he got a call back. Seventeen minutes later he got an all clear — it was a mistake.

At Madison, Wis., a spokesman for the 30th Division of the Air Defense Command said "someone goofed" at the SAGE installation in Madison and sent out an air raid alert without identifying it as a practice signal.

SEVERAL GO OFF

As a result, several radio stations went off the air in Upper Michigan and in northeastern Wisconsin after the signal was relayed to them by WJPG, Green Bay, Wis., the CONELRAD control radio station of that area.

Dems Cry Out Against Signing Tax Measures

But State Republicans Claim That a Refusal Would Violate Pledge

LANSING (AP) — Minority Democrats balked today at signing a batch of nuisance tax bills raising a Republican protest that refusal would break Gov. Williams' promise of "mutual responsibility."

The brisk clash came as bipartisan tax talks shifted from meandering discussion to a stage of coming to grips with the cash crisis problem.

Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit) said mutual responsibility in the present emergency meant Democrats were willing to vote for a "mess of garbage" to raise desperately needed revenues but not to father it.

The Democratic program is for an income tax, he said.

"You just want to go out after they (nuisance taxes) are passed and say they're a Republican program," said Sen. Charles R. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids).

The bills, to put taxes on soda pop, vending machines, amusements and the like, were being drafted, hopefully for legislative introduction later today.

The bipartisan tax committee recessed until this afternoon to give Republicans and Democrats a chance to talk things over separately.

No solution was in sight for worsening money woes that raised a question whether the state will meet its Nov. 19 payroll of $4,400,000.

It was the 150th working day of the 1959 Legislature which now has outlasted its longest predecessor — in 1933 — by 33 daily sessions.

Many lawmakers had scattered for long weekends at office and home, weary of standing by for something concrete from bipartisan tax talks by 16 colleagues. Some did not plan to return until Tuesday night.

A Senate fracas was touched off yesterday when Sen. Stanley Novak (D-Detroit) complained it cost him an extra $60 a week to stay needlessly in Lansing and asked an indefinite leave of absence.

NOVAK SHOUTS

"You have crucified an individual (the governor) and wrecked a state," Novak shouted at startled Republicans.

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) leaped to his feet.

Broomfield Included on Hoffa's Purge List

Not only is he undisurbed that he's been marked for defeat next year by James Hoffa's Teamsters Union, but Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) said he's flattered to be on the union's purge list.

Broomfield, who will be bidding for his third term next year, joined two other Michigan GOP congressmen on the union's list of 56 lawmakers. They were singled out for defeat in 1960 because they voted for the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill.

"My vote on the bill was the best I've cast in my political career," Broomfield said.

"There's been a lot said in the halls of Congress that a vote for it meant a vote for your retirement. If it means my defeat I would rather stand for principle than be a rubber stamp for any union."

LISTED IN ARTICLE

The union's marked men, including House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind), were listed in the November issue of the Teamster Magazine. The 56 congressmen from across the nation were said to have been elected by a margin of 5 per cent or less.

A top union official has vehemently denied the men were tagged as political targets.

"We are simply informing our membership of what happened," said Sidney Zagri, national political action director of the union.

"It will be the membership's decision as to what to do at the polling places — not a top-down decision of the leadership."

Named with Broomfield from the state were Charles E. Chamberlain of East Lansing and Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie.

The article also urged members to take an active hand in presidential primary contests — particularly the prospective Wisconsin clash between Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for that state's Democratic convention votes.

The union made no secret of its preference, describing Kennedy as "co-author of the union-busting Kennedy - Landrum - Griffin bill." Kennedy, currently front-runner for the Democratic nomination, frequently tangled with the Teamsters as a Senate Rackets Committee member.

Disclosure of the list of lawmakers came just after the Teamster president put Michigan Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara's head on the political chopping block.

McNamara voted for the bill, also.

Broomfield praised the bill as the "minimum that a responsible Congress could pass in the labor-management field" and said he had no fears that his vote for it would be political suicide.

"I received in Oakland County alone nearly 10,000 letters,

Kennedy 'Big' in California

But Is He Popular Enough to Risk All Against Brown?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy struck political gold in four days of prospecting in California.

Top Democratic leaders, including Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, generally agree about that today.

But his very success sharpens the dilemma that now confronts the Massachusetts senator. Should he enter the winner-take-all California primary next June and go for its glittering 81 votes in the Democratic presidential nominating convention?

The question pivots on another. Is he strong enough to beat Brown?

Some California Democrats say he is. Others are Dubious. Kennedy himself said he would be "reluctant" to enter the primary. This, in spite of the compliments echoing here as Kennedy headed into Oregon today.

"I ADMIRE HIM"

"He had a big success," said Brown. "I admire him very much."

But the governor said in an interview it has not caused him to reassess his own position. He says almost all the party leaders in the state want him to go to the convention as its "favorite son."

"A highly successful trip," said State Chairman William Munnell. "He made many, many friends in California."

"The most effective campaigning he's ever done in the state," said Paul Ziffren, national committeeman.

Kennedy drew big crowds at almost every stop. They grew visibly warmer as he spoke. The receptions at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California were little short of spectacular.

At UCLA, 1,900 people filled every seat of the auditorium. Hundreds milled around outside. When he emerged, a student called out, "come back again and speak to the 1,000 who couldn't get in."

Others almost mobbed him, asking questions, shaking his hand, offering to do organization work for him.

Angrily Denies Delay Charge; but 'Pill Bitter'

Dr. Frank Stanton Is Concluding Witness in House TV Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Frank Stanton, president of Columbia Broadcasting System, told House investigators today he was completely unaware of TV quiz show irregularities before August 1958.

He said he then acted promptly to throw the offending programs off the air.

One program, he said, was canceled within a week and action taken against three other quiz shows within six months of the time he first learned something was wrong.

As the concluding witness in a House investigation of television practices and quiz shows, Stanton acknowledged that "in the face of what we know now, we didn't exercise due diligence."

But "hindsight is always" perfect, he added.

Asserting the TV quiz show scandals "have been a bitter pill for us to swallow," Stanton declared it is now up to the broadcasting industry itself to assume chief responsibility for correcting the industry's ills.

Stanton hotly denied a congressional investigator's charge that network officials ignored 1957 "storm signals" that TV quiz shows were rigged.

His voice raised, the head of CBS fired the reply at Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel for the probe committee.

He did so after Lishman challenged Stanton's statement that he was "completely unaware" of any "irregularity" on the CBS network until Aug. 8, 1958.

Stanton did not go all the way with the position taken yesterday by Robert E. Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co., who advocated enactment of legislation making it a federal crime to rig TV quiz programs.

He told the subcommittee that while such a step might be desirable, legislation of itself is not a sure preventative "as is proven by the continuation of crime despite stringent criminal laws."

Stanton's testimony today also reinforced the CBS policy placed in effect last month banning all big money quiz and giveaway shows from the network.

DANGER REMAINS

"We were forced to the conclusion that we could never be sure about these programs as presently conceived," he testified. "... there is always the danger that these programs may be rigged in one way or another."

"WE'RE RESPONSIBLE"

"Whether it is a quiz program, or an advertising commercial or a news broadcast, or whatever, we are held responsible for what appears on CBS," Stanton declared. "We accept that responsibility, and the quiz show scandal has led us to re-examine the whole area of our responsibility."

Stanton said CBS, which already has moved against what it termed misleading practices such as canned laughter and applause, now is preparing to go even farther in this direction.

He said it is also "giving much thought" to advertising commercials.

The network head says he knows some viewers feel there are too many commercials, "or that some of them harshly intrude upon the mood of the program, or that they are too often blatant, or that they are sometimes in bad taste."

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman attorney who was defeated on the "Twenty-One" television quiz show filed a $1,200,000 suit today against the National Broadcasting Co. on the ground she had been "fradulently eliminated."

Ethel A. Davidson charged that her ability would have enabled her "to win at least $100,000."

She was defeated Oct. 29, 1956, by Herbert Stempel, the first big money winner on the program and the originator of public charges that the show was rigged.

U.S. Car Sales Records Topple

Ford Passes Chevrolet in Hot Race, but Steel Shortage Will Pinch

DETROIT (AP)—Business boomed for carmakers in October with most of them breaking some kind of a sales record.

But curtailed production caused by the steel strike is expected to result in a sharp tapering off in car sales in November.

Ford Motor Co. said yesterday its Ford car sales in October were a record 133,968, an increase of 58 per cent over the same month a year ago.

Walter C. Cooper, Ford Division general manager, said Ford sales last month led the industry, surpassing Ford's chief rival, Chevrolet.

Earlier, Chevrolet reported its best October sales in history with 133,510 cars.

Ford, which makes half of its steel needs, went into November in a better position than most of its competitors to maintain production at least on a partial basis.

General Motors Corp. reported yesterday that 193,100 workers have been laid off. Another 2,600 will be idled today and at least 3,000 more some time next week. Chrysler has laid off 5,850 with more to come soon. Ford reported only scattered indefinite layoffs but has reduced almost all plants to three or four-day weeks.

The GM shutdowns of all but three assembly lines helped cut week to 67,514 cars. Automotive News said this represented a drop of one-third from a week ago.

SALES PICTURE BRIGHT

Sales reports were the bright side of the picture. GM's five car-making divisions reported sales of 260,592 cars in October, more than 36,000 above October production. The difference was accounted for by left-over 1959 models.

Ward's Automotive reports estimated industry sales for the month at 526,737 including 86,244 compact cars — Corvairs, Fal-

Hunting Mishap Kills Everett M. Gilliam

A victim of a hunting accident, a Holly man was found dead yesterday afternoon in a heavily wooded section of the Holly Recreation Area.

State police from the Flint post said Everett M. Gilliam, 43, 217 College St., Holly, reported missing since Wednesday, accidentally shot himself in the neck as he was getting out of his car.

Mrs. Gilliam and her husband's hunting companion, John Edwards, 206 Clarence St., Holly, found Gilliam's body next to his car after they had searched the areas where Edwards had last seen the victim alive.

Gilliam's body was found 1,500 feet off Grange Hall road, near McGinnis road and was taken to Dryers Funeral Home in Holly.

Gilliam is the sixth person to die of gunshot wounds during Michigan's small game season so far this year.

Warm Thursday Becomes Iceberg for the Weekend

Pontiac residents awoke this morning to find Thursday's temperatures had taken a nose dive from a high of 68 yesterday afternoon to 33 at 8 a.m.

Football fans better be prepared with furs and blankets for tomorrow's games.

The weatherman predicts "quite cold" tomorrow with the high a frosty 35.

The forecast for tonight is a freezing 24.

Temperatures will drop about eight degrees below the normal high of 51 and low of 35 for the next five days.

Precipitation will arrive in snow flurries Sunday night and snow or rain Tuesday.

Northwesterly winds at 20 miles an hour at 1:15 p.m. will diminish slowly tonight and tomorrow.

At 2 p.m. the thermometer in downtown Pontiac read 34.

C. of C. Plan Would Avoid Another Police Upheaval

By PETE LOCHBILER

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce plan to revamp police department administration would prevent an upheaval such as occurred when former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was fired.

Straley was guaranteed an ouster hearing before the Civil Service Commission.

Although civil service has since been replaced by the Trial Board, the latter body also guarantees an ouster hearing to a police chief.

One of the chamber's proposals is to remove the police chief from Trial Board protection. The city manager should have sole authority to hire and fire the police chief, it was stated.

Chamber of Commerce officials said yesterday they would ask the City Commission to schedule a public vote this spring to amend city charter provisions affecting this and other changes in police administration.

EASTMAN APPROVES

Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, one of two officials who led the fight against Straley, expressed approval of the proposals.

City Manager Walter K. Willman, the other combatant in the Straley battle, refrained from comment.

"The proposals are a matter of policy for the City Commission to decide on," said Willman. "It would be out of place for me to make any comment."

John W. Hirlinger, Chamber of Commerce manager, said the proposed changes were decided on after a long study disclosed weaknesses in the managerial set up of the police department under present city charter provisions.

"We were not concerned with any personalities in the police department, past or present," he said.

The chamber also wants to abolish the office of public safety

"How far is it from here to France?"

He's stumped by this one:

"How many square inches are there in Denver?"

U.S. Brothers Liven 284 Italian Hearts

RENO, Nev. (AP)—This Nevada city, famous for divorces and gambling, often has been remembered with a twinge of regret.

But on Sunday, a tiny village in the Italian Apennines receives a gift from two Reno men that surpasses the villages' fondest dreams.

Joseph and Victor Saturne often heard their father talk of his birthplace —the village of San Marce d'Urri near the seaport of Genoa.

Eighty-one years ago, Leopoldo Pietro Saturne left San Marco and came to the United States.

A young man who was used to hard work and born with a love of the land, Leopoldo worked on a California farm near Truckee and saved his money.

When he moved to Reno, he invested heavily in real estate and bought stock in his friend's bank. The friend, A.P. Giannini, founded the Bank of Italy. Today it is the Bank of America, largest in the world.

Leopoldo's sons, Joseph and Victor, fought for the United States in World War I. Victor received a purple heart for wounds at Belleau Woods.

Since their father died in 1919, the brothers have administered his estates and continued to build the family fortune, now estimated at more than two million dollars.

Joseph, 71, and Victor, 64, are both retired. They have no children. Joseph was once married. Victor is a bachelor.

About a year ago, the brothers thought their parents would have been pleased to present a gift to their village.

They asked the Bank of America to investigate the possibilities and read intently every word they got of San Marco d'Urri.

Finally they decided: Every man, woman and child in the impoverished village would receive 25 shares in the world's largest bank—a total of a third of a million dollars.

The community has 284 residents. The stock sold Thursday for $48.25 a share.

Victor said, "This is in honor of our parents but it's also to create more good will in Italy toward America. We've never been there but we plan to go to San Marco some day."

"This is really going to liven their hearts," said Joseph. "There's one mother with eight kids. She'll get $12,000. Our hearts are warm thinking of these people. They are incredibly poor."

Sunday, Aurelio Gandini, a Milan bank official, will walk up the twisting mountain road that Leopoldo Pietro Saturne walked down 70 years ago. Gandini will deliver the Bank of America shares to the residents of San Marco d'Urri.

C. of C. Police Plan Could Stop Upheaval director as an intermediary post between the manager and police chief.

CLEAR-CUT COMMAND

Instead, there should be a clear-cut chain of command between the latter two officials, it was stated.

Certain administrative functions of Trial Board should fall, instead, on the Police chief's shoulders — particularly the drafting of rules and regulations for the department, the chamber said.

The Trial Board should act solely as a board of review, it was recommended, remaining strong enough to offer officers a fair hearing if they appeal to it instead of submitting to departmental discipline.

Eastman, who signed a two-year contract last fall after Straley's administration came in for sharp criticism, found no fault with the proposals — including the one to eliminate his job.

"I took the job under special circumstances, of course," said Eastman, who has also been acting chief since Straley's dismissal.

"The manager should always be in a position to call on the City Commission to hire special, temporary administrative help. But there's no necessity to have the safety director's post a charter requirement."

Relations between the Trial Board and police administration are amiable, said Eastman.

Experienced police officers aided in drawing up the general rules of conduct which the board adopted, he said. Specific rules of procedure have been prepared by Eastman and his staff and accepted by the board.

The Trial Board has yet to conduct a hearing, since no officer has requested one.

The board has upheld two decisions reached by boards of inquiry called when officers preferred to have their cases heard by fellow officers instead of by the Trial Board.

These are the only two decisions which the board has had to consider so far.

The post of public safety director did not figure prominently in Pontiac in recent years until Willman appointed Eastman to it.

Before that, the job was only nominally filled for six years.

Along with his other duties, Willman held the post with the title of "acting" safety director.

RECEIVES PLAQUE — Thursday was a big day for Floyd Baker (right). He was honored by area Kiwanis Clubs at a meeting of his own club, the West Pontiac Club. Here he receives a plaque and handshake from Loren Aris, president of the new Drayton-Waterford Club, sponsored early this year by Baker. He also received a gavel with his name and the names of clubs he sponsored inscribed on it from Richard Scribner, past president of the West Pontiac Club. Horace Hatfield, past president of the North Pontiac Club which Baker also sponsored, presented him with a desk clock.

Division at Truax Air Force field, Madison, said the signal went out at 6:02 p.m. (CST), and that the error was detected and corrected within 20 minutes.

The semi-automatic ground environment installation (SAGE) at Truax, through an electronic system, sends alerts to all of Wisconsin and parts of Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

Apparently, the signal did not go to all points. Capt. Scarborough called it a "human error" and as far as he knew no interceptor planes were sent up.

At Sault Ste. Marie, the signal was received by WSOO's staff announcer Bruce Prince, an Air Force first lieutenant.

"I was alarmed at first," said Lt. Prince. Then it flashed on him that as an Air Force lieutenant he should have received the alert before the radio station and by that time he should have been in the air looking for enemy planes. So he kept WSOO on the air.

"I was mighty shook up," said Don Fisher, staff announcer for radio WHDF in Houghton, describing his reaction when informed that the alert was supposed to be the real thing.

West Pontiac Kiwanis Salutes a Top Member

The West Pontiac Kiwanis Club surprised one of its most outstanding members yesterday with a special "This Is Your Life" program at the club's regular weekly luncheon meeting.

Honored was Floyd "Doc" Baker, past president of the club. Baker was cited for his effort in organizing and sponsoring two other area Kiwanis clubs.

He sponsored the North Pontiac Club in 1954 and the Drayton-Waterford Club earlier this year.

Baker, who lives at 67 Osceola Dr., is vice president of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., past president of the Oakland County Hunt Club, a member of the Pontiac Elks, and a charter member of the West Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

All area clubs were represented at the event and Baker's club showed 100 per cent attendance.

He received gifts and presentations from his club, the two clubs he sponsored and the Downtown Pontiac club.

The meeting took place at Scrib's Restaurant.

Van Doren Hostility Slight in Sample

there'd be anything wrong with his continuing to teach."

A housewife, Mrs. Alice Larson, 47, of 795 Kenilworth St., said of Van Doren:

"He's all right! He's suffered enough as far as I'm concerned. He should be given another chance. What he did was wrong and he was foolish for not admitting the truth earlier. But I'm willing to forgive and forget."

A 64-year-old Fisher Body worker, Ford A. Drumm, 67 W. Strathmore Ave., said what Van Doren did was wrong but that he should be allowed to continue teaching.

"A lot of other people have done worse than Van Doren did," Drumm commented.

'A BUM'

As far as John Birkett, a retired 67-year-old landscape gardener is concerned, Van Doren is "a bum."

"And I mean it!" declared Birkett, who lives at 1870 N. Opdyke Rd.

"With the intellect and education he has he should be ashamed of himself. If a poor guy with no education did something like that I might be able to understand and forgive. But in his case it's disgusting.

"He's a disgrace to the young folk of America. If he can't do the right thing himself, he has no business being a teacher.

"With his background and family training, he should have known better."

Attorney David Utley, 51 Henry Clay Ave., said Van Doren's detractors should ask themselves whether they would have the "moral strength" to turn down a chance "to have $129,000 dumped in their laps."

At the same time, Utley said Van Doren "does not belong in an institution of higher learning."

"More than book learning is involved in the classroom," he said. "With the lack of moral strength he displayed, I don't believe Van Doren should be placed in such a vulnerable spot.

"A teacher's stock in trade is the truth. Van Doren's effectiveness as a purveyor of truth may have been seriously impaired," commented D. B. Varner, MSUO chancellor.

Would he hire Van Doren if the opportunity presented itself?

"Under the present circumstances, I would not be enthusiastic about it," Varner replied.

mostly from rank and file members, who were actually demanding that we pass the Landrum-Griffin bill to get rid of the gangster element in labor," he said.

"It will go a long way to restoring law and order in unions," Broomfield said.

He said he wasn't surprised to learn he was on the union's marked men list. "I've had this opposition ever since I first ran. I've had the labor leaders against me merely because I am a Republican."

The article is one of the opening guns in the Teamsters new venture into the field of politics with the creation of a national department of legislation and political education.

Effective registration and voting campaigns in the close districts, the magazine said, could determine victory or defeat for congressional candidates.

Like Broomfield, Chamberlain, 42, also in his second term, said he wasn't surprised at the Teamsters' threat. "I've been on their list for a long while," he said. "And the last time I got on it I doubled my majority."

Hoffa, in the article, was quoted as saying the union next year would back "pro-labor candidates in certain districts where the incumbent won by a narrow margin" and voted for tough labor curbs.

Knox could not be reached for comment.

American Motors Corp. reported Rambler sales in October were a record 32,486, an increase of 21.5 per cent over October a year ago.

AMC Vice President Roy Abernathy said Rambler sales in the first 10 months of 1959 totaled 308,010, more than double the 150,191 sold in the same period last year.

Studebaker-Packard reported Lark sales following introduction of the new model Oct. 15 were nearly double sales during the Lark introductory period a year ago.

Studebaker-Packard President Harold E. Churchill said, "Our October 1959 sales of 12,250 compares to 6,880 last November (when the Lark was introduced). Our first 10 days' sales after introduction this year were 5,150 virtually double last year's comparable sales period."

Jet Crashes Near Armada; No One Hurt

An Air Force jet plane exploded in flight and crashed two miles west of Armada at 12:15 p.m. today.

Both occupants of the two-seat TF102 trainer jet parachuted to safety, according to Romeo state police.

The plane crashed in an open field on the farm of Fred Dias, 75970 Omo Rd., minutes after taking off from Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens.

The only property damage reported was minor. Alex Zebelin of 25292 Dayton Rd. reported a wheel flew off the jet and struck the side of his house. It caused little damage.

"About the only thing left at the scene besides a big hole was one of the plane's seats," said State Police Sgt. Wilmer J. Moilanen.

Winner's Big Bundle Follows Little One

A 20-year-old tool and die apprentice at GM Truck and Coach Division learned within 45 minutes that he had become father and the winner of a year's free supply of groceries.

Larry Walls, 2142 E. Walton Blvd., was picked from among 10,000 entrants in a Cy Owens Ford dealership contest to receive $25 worth of groceries weekly for a year. Less than an hour earlier, his wife, Judith, had given birth to a boy.

Storms in Mid-U.S. Lose Punch

Weather More Cheerful

By The Associated Press

The season's coldest weather and biggest snow storm gave a wintry touch to the nation's midsection today but it appeared the worst was just about over.

Below zero temperatures and snow up to 15 inches made it feel and look like mid-winter in some northern border areas.

The effects of the storm were felt as far south as the middle Gulf region and Southern Texas. Areas in extreme northern Arkansas reported snow flurries.

Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan bore the brunt of the snow barrage Thursday and during the night. Fifteen inches of snow covered the ground at Marquette, Mich., on Lake Superior, with nearly a foot at Wausau, Wis.

But the storm appeared losing its punch as it moved eastward, with snow diminishing.

The snowfall was general from a few spots in extreme northern Arkansas northward throughout Missouri, most of the upper Mississippi Valley and into the northern Great Lakes region.

The storm was blamed for at least seven deaths, most of them in traffic accidents.

Warm moist tropical air moved into the eastern third of the country Thursday and sent temperatures to record highs for the date in many areas. Readings ranged from the 50s and 60s in the North Atlantic states to the 70s and 80s in the South Atlantic states.

The Day in Birmingham

Save School's Money Buying Surplus Articles

BIRMINGHAM — Savings in excess of $150,000 have been realized by the Birmingham School District over the past two years because of a teacher's monthly trips to Jackson.

Leo Gardner, a shop teacher at Seaholm High School, said this figure has been saved by purchasing school equipment from the Federal Surplus Section Warehouse in Jackson.

"Machines of all types down to the smallest hand tools can be bought for ridiculously low prices," Gardner said.

"For example," Gardner said, pointing to a milling machine, "we paid $50 for it. It is worth about $2,600."

"On my first trip to Jackson, I checked the cash value of things I had purchased and found that we saved $3,000," Gardner added.

Gardner said the equipment is mostly surplus materials from government ordnance plants all over the country.

"Actually we pay only for the shipping and handling cost, not for the equipment itself," Gardner said.

The surplus equipment, Gardner said, is available to all public institutions, such as schools, cities and counties, civil defense and state conservation departments, after getting a clearance card from the Federal Surplus Office in Lansing.

Gardner said that since receiving notice it could apply for the program, the school district has bought drill presses, hydraulic presses, test machines, and welding and milling machines.

"But it has not been all heavy equipment we purchased. We have bought articles as small as pen points, buffers, grinding wheels and all types of hand tools.

Gardner said that a lot of the equipment being purchased now will equip the new Wiley Grove School to be opened Jan. 1.

Wertz Speaks to Pontiac Club

Veteran Slugger Tells Optimists He's Anxious to Rejoin Tigers

"I would love to return to Detroit. I hope to come back and have a lot of fun in Briggs Stadium," said veteran slugger Vic Wertz as guestspeaker at the regular noon luncheon of the Pontiac Optimist Club yesterday at the Elks Lodge.

Wertz feels he will be traded somewhere by Boston and hopes it is "back to the club I started with."

The former Tiger hinted, though, that it would be more likely he will go to a National League team when the inter-league trading begins late this month.

In answer to questions by Optimist members, he said he thought Detroit could be a title threat with a couple changes. The 1st sacker expressed a high opinion of Bengal skipper Jimmy Dykes—one of the many bosses he has had around the American League.

Wertz said he feels certain ageless great Ted Williams will be back for another year along with Jackie Jensen despite retirement rumors.

About 97 per cent of the area of Iowa is farm land and of this total area about 86 per cent is improved.

State Teacher's Pay Averages $5,150

LANSING (UPI) — The average Michigan teacher earned $5,150 in salary, the 11th highest in the U.S., during the 1958 - 59 school year, Michigan Education Assn. researcher Thomas J. Northey said today.

Northey said Alaska led all states with an average of $6,400, followed by New York at $6,200 and California at $6,050.

Her Dignity Was Hurt

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Jean Wood, 27, won a divorce yesterday on grounds her husband's treatment of her constituted a "gross indignity." What Wood did was to take Mrs. Wood over his knee and spank her.

He Does Act, Produce, Direct

Jack Webb's No Braggart

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — It is always refreshing to locate a Hollywood actor, director or producer who doesn't think of himself as the greatest threat to audience complacency since John Wilkes Booth.

Like a taste of tonic, then, is a meeting with Jack Webb, who is all three.

"I'm here to open a new picture we made," says Webb casually.

"Well, no, there's won't be any big premiere. Only epic pictures are worthy of the glittery treatment, and—well, I don't believe I'll ever be accused of making an epic.

"I've never dealt with any momentous social problems in a picture. There's no instinct within me to present thoughtful subjects to the great audience that wants to become lay brain surgeons. My philosophy is we should just entertain people in the theater." His smile was lopsided, quizzical.

"And I can't say this picture's gonna knock 'em dead. But it's a good family film. It's got a warm, happy ending. I kind of like it.

Now, this may be the old soft-sell, the terse understatement, for which Webb was so famous for so long in his TV "Dragnet" series. If it is, the technique is still soothing and believable.

"I have nothing against 'message pictures'," ex-Joe Friday goes on. "I think they're great, when they're done well by those who know how to do them well.

"But I think we have forgotten to put pure entertainment in the theater. I don't like to come out of a movie house torn apart. I get enough of that in my daily life, and certainly in the newspapers." Yet they say a picture these days has to be of epic proportions to get people away from their television sets and into the messanine.

"I can only stand on my record," Webb counters. "This is my fourth picture for pure entertainment. All modest budget. No message. We've invested two million dollars, and they made 20 million."

As producer, director and star of this new film, a newspaper drama called "—30—," Webb is open to the question: Is he a better actor or executive?

"I don't fancy myself as much of either. I've always thought of this business of making movies or TV as an everday job—like being a clothing salesman, or a columnist.

"You try to be as creative as possible, and after some experience you get to be a good craftsman. I think I'm a good craftsman.

"But look, I don't like to stand up here and say look how good I am. Take a look at my camera technique. Anything like that. I'm an extrovert, and there's such a thin line between extrovertism and conceit. So an interview is always dangerous. You either come out sounding terribly modest or like an egotistical boor.

"I'd rather try for modest."

Scientists are now certain that atomic weapons are here to stay — but they aren't so sure about people . . . The trouble with the average budget, says Dan Bennett, is that it's hard to fill up one hole without digging another. —Earl Wilson.

Local arrangements are by Allen's Funeral Home in Lake Orion.

Mississippi was the most solidly rural state in 1940 with 80.2 per cent of its total population living under what are considered rural conditions.

Dishwasher Dies; Once He Was Big Official in Poland

LONDON (AP) — A quiet little dishwasher at a Mayfair hotel died last week at the age of 71.

Friends disclosed today that he was Julian Ulrych, minister of railway and power in prewar Poland.

Known at the hotel only as Julian, Ulrych made 7 pounds 6 shillings—$19.74—a week.

At the age of 65, the man who was a close friend of the late Marshal Pilsudski, prime minister of prewar Poland, was entitled to a pension from the British government but he spurned any relief.

"One has to accept the bad things of life with the good," he told his friends.

Detroiters Donate Almost $18 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 23-day Torch Drive raised $17,879,239 for community services.

It was believed to be the largest sum ever pledged in a give-once-for-all charity campaign in the nation. It topped the campaign goal by 1.3 per cent.

Walter C. Laidlaw, executive vice president of the United Foundation, told a victory dinner of volunteer workers last night that the success of this year's drive "was the answer to the critics of United Fund-raising." The organization has raised more than 155 million dollars in the past 11 years.

Motorola Chairman Dies of Leukemia

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul V. Galvin, 64, chairman of the board of and co-founder of Motorola, Inc., died Thursday of leukemia.

He and his brother, Joseph, founded the Galvin Manufacturing Co., in 1928 with an initial investment of $565 to make the Motorola auto radio.

Bagwell Offers Tax Solution

Change Constitution by Taking Out Restrictions, Says GOP Candidate

KALAMAZOO (AP) — "A permanent solution to Michigan's tax problem depends upon constitutional revision," Paul D. Bagwell, 1958 Republican candidate for governor said here today.

"I don't mean writing tax law into the Constitution," Bagwell told Kalamazoo County Republicans. "I mean taking out of the Constitution many of the tax restrictions which tie the Legislature's hands."

Bagwell said the immediate need was a temporary tax program that would carry the state until the people express themselves on constitutional restrictions.

He suggested the Legislature give full consideration to extending the sales tax to fields not now covered.

"This will not be popular," Bagwell said, "but it is necessary in vie wof the fiscal situation. The people today are looking for responsible answers, not for a lot of political shenanigans."

1,000 Future Teachers Expected at Confabs

LANSING (UPI)—Approximately 1,000 students were expected tomorrow at Future Teachers of America meetings at Eastern Michigan University and the University of Detroit.

The sessions, with the theme "Opportunities and Challenges in Teaching," are for Southeastern Michigan and are cosponsored by the Michigan Future Teachers Assn. and the Michigan Education Assn.

There are about 500 different kinds of cheese in the world made from the milk of many animals, according to the Twentieth Century Fund, which notes that the Lapps and Eskimos use reindeer milk, the Arabs camel milk and some South Americans llama milk while Ceylon and India eat zebu cheese.

War College Due in India Next Year

NEW DELHI (AP) — India will open a national defense college early next year to educate her officers in the broader aspects of war.

The Indian military forces were established by the British in the days before independence. Since 1947 Indian officers have attended Britain's Imperial defense college. Only two or three places were available to them in each class.

The new college will be opened in the former British high commission buildings in New Delhi.

X15 Explosion May Delay Space Plan

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — America's effort to send a man to the edge of space may be delayed because of an explosion in the X15 rocket ship.

North American Aviation, manufacturer of the small craft, said further flights have been postponed until the cause of the blast is determined.

Test Pilot Scott Crossfield made an emergency landing Thursday after an explosion followed by fire in the dart-shaped craft's tail. The plane landed so hard that its fuselage cracked near the cockpit. Crossfield was unharmed.

Fine Plant Fossils Found Near Chicago

COAL CITY, Ill. (AP) — Some of the world's finest plant fossils are found in the abandoned coal strip mining fields just 55 miles southwest of Chicago's Loop.

Rock hunters collect potato-shaped rocks from the abandoned spil heaps, then crack them open with a few hammer blows.

The concretions which contain fossils split easily, revealing the imprint of plants believed to have lived millions of years ago.

Panamanian Officials Make Big Demands

It was hardly to be expected that political opportunists in Panama would stage such an insulting and destructive anti-American demonstration in the Canal Zone on their Independence Day.

Under a 1903 treaty the United States holds jurisdiction over the 10 mile wide zone giving this country in perpetuity "all the rights, power and authority within the zone . . . which the U.S. would possess and exercise if it were the sovereign of the territory." The treaty has been twice revised raising the annual payment from the original $250,000 to $430,000 and certain U.S. rights were relinquished.

Again in 1955 annual payments were increased to $1.93 million and property worth $20 to $30 million ceded to Panama. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, the Panama Company grossed $83.1 million. After paying all costs of the Canal Zone government and the schools, the net was only $2.6 million.

Panamanians are demanding anything from nationalization to a working partnership in the company, including half its gross revenues from ship building, railroad and steamship lines. Recently Panama's officials protested in the United Nations that their Zone workers were underpaid and demanded 50 per cent of the gross revenues. Of the $1.5 billion the U.S. spent on the Canal, only $1 billion has been gotten back.

More work is being done there now than at any time since its construction. The Gaillard cut has had to be widened to make room for new supertankers and other heavy traffic.

The Canal is the principal source of income for Panamanians. Over the years they have been so busy supplying the Zone and its clients with goods and services, says Editorial Research, that they have neglected their own mineral resources and their own agriculture.

For all their talk about nationalization, Panama's leaders know they couldn't finance the deal nor run the Canal efficiently if they were given control. They'll settle for more money.

Congressmen Honored by Hoffa's Opposition

So now JIMMY HOFFA is waving his fat checkbook at the congressmen who voted for the Landrum-Griffin labor reform, with the threat: "I'll get you."

What finer honor could there be than to be placed on the list of people opposed by this mobster-surrounded chieftain.

It's too bad he limited his scope to those favoring the reform bill. There are a number of nimble politicians who would like to leap on his "list" just to reap the votes of people who have had enough of Hoffa and his ilk.

Financing of this political action group will come from the members of the Teamsters by "voluntary contributions." Of course. Choice of candidates to be opposed will be made by the members of the union. Of course.

Summit Meeting Delay Could Be Advantageous

President EISENHOWER had proposed a solution to DE GAULLE'S opposition to an early summit meeting. He suggested a Western pre-summit meeting this month to make preparations for the conference with Russia.

Premier DE GAULLE obviously felt the "grandeur" of France had been slighted so he issued an invitation to Premier KHRUSHCHEV to visit him and then asked the other Allies for a postponement of the summit meeting. In the meantime France may have succeeded in exploding its atomic bomb and joined the other nuclear powers as an equal partner in that respect.

The Western meeting is now set for Dec. 19 in Paris as suggested by the Premier of France. The Coolidge Committee, sponsored by the State Department and the Pentagon will not issue its report on disarmament until January, and delay could be useful to us, too.

Time gained could be used for more careful preparation and consultation with our Allies. It would be worse than useless to hold a summit meeting unless the West can present a united front on policies and positions.

The Man About Town

An Opportunity

To Learn About MSUO and What Is Going on There

Winter: A season today exceeding the speed limit.

This open house Sunday at

Mich. State University Oakland

offers our readers a rare chance to learn more about this great educational and cultural center that has come into our midst.

Under the sponsorship of the

Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce,

with the complete cooperation of Chancellor

Durward B. Varner

and his entire staff, it is open to the public.

Drive your car to the MSUO administration building between two and five o'clock, where busses will be provided to take you on a competently guided tour of the new buildings and grounds, including those around Meadow Brook Hall. And there will be refreshments.

Los Angeles smog conditions are not as bad as years of adverse publicity has led the outside world to believe they are, according to a letter from formerly of Pontiac, who has been in LA several years. He says that after a few days in that city you become accustomed to its atmosphere. However, he wishes they didn't have it.

"What has become of the Ben Davis variety of apples?" asks a letter from

of Milford, who asserts that its great beauty was only skin deep, but it had a good sale to people not in the know. I find that it still is being grown under several aliases—and meeting a good sale.

These cold rains and snow are disagreeable, but I have it from many prominent farmers in the Pontiac area, including that they're just what's needed. An old adage says that the cat holes must be filled with water at the opening of winter, if we are to have a productive season next year.

Just as an experiment in what might be done in this area, of Lake Orion, raised two crops of potatoes on the same land. The first was planted in his garden in April and dug in July. Then the second crop was planted, and he's now digging them. Florida papers will please copy.

It gives me much enjoyment to watch the manner in which Managing Director and his staff at the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce go after the transient peddlers, phony phone solicitors and fake advertisers. They're a menace.

Biting the Hand

David Lawrence Says:

Reds Even Brag of Their Tactics

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, in discussing at his press conference this week the riots and demonstrations against the United States Embassy in Panama, spoke of "extremists," and, in referring to Cuba, said that Communists like to "fish in troubled waters, and there are certainly troubled waters there."

LAWRENCE

Eisenhower did not go into details but reaffirmed a recent statement by the American government with reference to the Communist menace in Latin American countries. He said it was "a little bit puzzling" to him why this should occur in the face of the record of friendship of the United States for Panama.

He might have added a reference also to the way the United States helped that country to gain independence.

Eisenhower probably didn't mean that he is in doubt about how such episodes arise, but that he is puzzled as to why governments let such things happen within their borders.

The Communist technique is to seize upon any controversial question, no matter how long it has been dormant, in order to play upon the nationalistic feelings of the people.

THEY TELL ALL

What is puzzling is that the Communists get away with their infiltration tactics. Even the Communist Party in the United States, protected as it is by various decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, now boldly reveals its part in helping to stir up trouble inside this country not only in the ranks of labor but wherever the school "integration" problem and other questions affecting Negroes are raised.

The latest revelation comes from Herbert Apteker, an American citizen, who has just written for the Communist Party organ in Moscow a long article boasting about what the American Communist Party has done to further the objectives of communism.

Apteker testified before the subversive activities control board in 1949 as an expert on "Marxism-Leninism" and acknowledged at that time membership in the American Communist Party.

In his article published in Moscow on Oct. 17, Apteker gives a glowing description of how the Communist Party has recently gained new strength in the United States. He says this occurred after the defeat of what he calls "McCarthyism"—the party's biggest opposition. He adds:

"After the 1957 Congress the party began nursing its wounds and restoring its strength. The national committee plenum which took place in February 1958 was symptomatic in this respect. It insured the further rallying of the party on the basis of the principles of Marxism-Leninism.

This permitted the overcoming of the paralysis which in the course of a number of months had been inhibiting the activities of the party.

"Organizational activities revived, the loss in the number of party members was made up, and a certain number of new members, particularly among the youth, was acquired. The party tackled educational work and the dissemination of Marxist literature.

"The most important thing was that the party resumed participation in mass work. This refers to the inter-trade union struggle, to demonstration of jobless people that took place recently, to certain aspects of the struggle of the Negroes, particularly to the movement for integrated children's education in schools.

PLAYS BIG ROLE

"The party plays a considerable role in the struggle against military preparations and the foreign policy of 'cold war.' It extends assistance to various mass anti-militaristic organizations and has begun developing a struggle for peace directly among the masses. In recent times, it has organized street meetings and demonstrations in some very large cities."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Ironing Your Dollar Bills Way to Disinfect Them

One day when news was scarce a reporter filled a sizable gap with a story about filthy lucre—he said the dollar bill, which, if you remember, was worth a dollar when wages were 10 cents an hour, carried all sorts of disease germs, notably germs of diphtheria, tuberculosis, measles, smallpox. The precursor of what are known as "science writers" ranged a little too far ahead, for no one has identified a measles or a smallpox germ as yet.

It is conceivable that septic infection, acute blood poisoning, septicemia may occur from contamination of a wound or cut or abrasion by staphylococci or streptococci on a soiled treasury note or for that matter by such germs on an apparently immaculate note.

But it is improbable that infection with tuberculosis, measles, diphtheria or smallpox ever occurs otherwise than by respiratory infection—the specific germ or virus being carried from one person to another in the visible and palpable or invisibly fine and impalpable droplets of cough, sneeze or conversation spray.

Prevention of septic infection does not require the burning of treasury notes. For that matter, you can save 50 cents, or is it only 48 cents now, by disinfecting or sterilizing the dollar bill with heat—ironing.

WASH YOUR HANDS

"Aside from ironing paper money to disinfect or sterilize it, the most dependable protection against any kind of infection from handling contaminated paper, cloth, metal, wooden or synthetic articles or materials is by (1) taking care not to lick the finger (using a sponge or similar moistener instead) and (2) conscientiously washing the hands with plain soap and water whenever you stop to eat, drink, smoke or rest.

Indeed, for all practical purposes, washing and ironing clothes, napery, bed linen, no matter what disease a previous user may have had, makes them perfectly safe for anybody to use.

Thorough soap and water washing disinfects articles, objects or implements made of metal, wood or plastic.

The best surgeons depend entirely upon soap and water scrubbing of hands and forearms and wearing sterile rubber gloves and suitable masks to prevent contamination or infection of the operative wound. No "powerful" chemical antiseptics or disinfectants are used in or about the operating room. Instruments and dressings are sterilized by steam under pressure.

No chemical, old or new, that is safe to use on the skin, will "destroy bacteria" more certainly than plain soap and water does, so it is silly to add such a chemical to soap.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Should Teachers Assign Homework on Weekend?'

Away with weekend homework. There are excellent reasons why homework shouldn't be assigned for weekends. Five days devoted to school are enough for teenagers who have many praiseworthy interests.

With homework for Saturday and Sunday, when can we find time to help our parents, go shopping, go to a football or basketball game, see worthwhile movies, watch good TV programs or just relax? Anyway, most weekend homework is left until Sunday night unless we're rare people who sit down to it on Friday evening in spite of games, dates and parties.

Weekend homework is usually done so poorly that on Monday teachers threaten whole classes that haven't the haziest notion what the lesson is about. If we had no homework to haunt our weekends, we could go to school Monday fresh and willing to work with vim. Teachers don't you agree?

'Why Must They Park All Day?'

Recently I've had to visit a doctor in the Riker Building and since my wife's treatment takes only a few minutes, I looked for parking space with a meter near the building.

I noticed several cars belonging to Courthouse or Prosecutor's Office employes that take up space all day. Why must these spaces be reserved all day? Street spaces are provided for people who go downtown to transact business and then go home, not for cars to park in all day.

I pay taxes and think I'm entitled to a place at the curb for a few minutes. If people are going to be parking all day and work at the Courthouse, why not park in the parking lot a block or so away?

Quiz Show Stories Prompt Letters

With the dishonest quiz shows so much in the news, I've been wondering about the other contests sponsored by the same companies. Are these "winners" picked, too? I've never heard of anyone in this area winning any of the big cash prizes, have you?

Do we, the public, have any chance of winning or are these contests just a dishonest way to get the public to buy their products?

Just Wondering

It's interesting that your November 4 issue contains 17 separate news stories dealing with "fixed" TV quiz shows. Heavens, enough is enough.

The whole incident is regrettable, but the Committee could spend taxpayers' money to better effect than to continue dragging out past history. If they must investigate something, why not dishonest commercials that cost everyone money?

The nation's newspapers must be hard up for news to devote so much space and so many big, black headlines to this particular fiasco.

'Fire Hall's Worst Fire Trap of All'

Some time ago I had the very dubious honor of being allowed to ascend into the tower of fire station number one to check the antenna installation.

From this point, our fine City Hall buildings and new construction work was quite evident just down the street. As I looked around myself in the fire hall, I found it to be the worst fire trap in the City that I've ever been in. It has the construction of an old log stockade.

I would like to have some of our city fathers take a tour of this building. It's as ancient as an of the old fire engines our children are romping on in local play grounds.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Steer Your Son, Don't Force Him

Notice Mr. Krieger's question and then study my answer, for it will show you how to steer a son into any career you may wish for him. But many brilliant parents actually drive their sons away from their own profession by failing to use the 2 laws below. Send for the "Vocational Guidance Kit."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-489: W. M. Krieger, aged about 55, is one of the best Applied Psychologists in America.

He is Managing Director of the National Selected Morticians, and recently at luncheon, he asked:

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, like all professions, we are interested in recruiting talented high school graduates for entrance into Mortuary College. What do you think would be the best tactics to employ?

"Many of our members would like to have their sons follow in their foosteps.

"But frequently sons seem to veer away from their dad's profession."

VOCATIONAL

GUIDANCE STRATEGY

Physicians and lawyers and dentists and other professional men have often privately asked for suggestions on this very point.

They may have spent 25 years building up a thriving practice. And they have longed for the time when their sons would follow in their footsteps.

"Dr. Crane, think of the advantages," they will say. "Junior could start out where I have left off. And we'd benefit, too, by having the same surname."

But Junior may want to carve out a future in his own right.

"Dr. Crane, I don't want to ride Dad's coattails," he may confess when I interview him privately.

"I'd rather enter a field where I am not known. Then, if I succeed, it will all be due to my own efforts and I'll get the full credit.

"But if I go in with Dad, people will always say he paved the way and I will thus never get any praise."

So please remember two laws of Vocational Guidance, namely:

(1) Git there fustest with the mostest.

(2) Inflate your son's ego with your profession or he will NEVER like it.

WHY WE LIKE ANYTHING

Everybody has this tattoo across his chest:

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT."

When I recently interviewed a series of successful morticians as to how they first got interested in becoming a mortician, I found that the ambulance tipped the scales.

"When I was a kid," was the usual reply, "I was befriended by our local mortician.

"He asked me to help him one day when he was shorthanded at a funeral.

"And he praised me, saying I'd make a good mortician. Then he let me drive the ambulance on an emergency call.

"And it was the greatest thrill of my life to whiz along with the siren screaming and the red light flickering.

"Everybody got out of my way and I was the big shot on the highway. I never got over that thrill, so I decided to enter Mortuary College."

Moreover, I have found that the men who go into medicine or dentistry have often been predisposed in favor of those professions even before the age of 12 years.

So our Vocational Guidance needs to move down into grade school, for it now is limited chiefly to high school and college age groups.

Intrigue the interest of grade schoolers with your chemistry or dental lab strategy or your am bulance sirens, and you thus "git there fustest." Then remember that universal tattoo on everybody's chest!

For further strategy, send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It contains an "Introvert-Extrovert Test" and other Rating Scales.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Probers Not Interested in Weak TV Police Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating congressmen offered little support today for a network president's proposal to make it a crime to rig a television quiz show. They said it doesn't go far enough.

Robert E. Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co., made the specific proposal for a new law Thursday and said it would backstop the industry's efforts to police itself.

More suggestions may come today from Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System. He was called as the final witness in the current phase of an investigation by the House Subcommittee on Legislative oversight.

Five of the subcommittee's nine members took issue with the scope of Kintner's proposed new law. Any legislation, they said, should go much farther and should strike at finagling and dishonesty in every phase of the business.

Typical of their comment in separate interviews was the reaction of Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex).

"There should be a penalty on anybody who perpetrates a fraud on the airwaves, and that includes advertising," Rogers said.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) said "it should apply across the board, to deception in any kind of program."

Committee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark), one of four members who did not announce a direct stand, said as Thursday's session ended that the industry must "face the facts of life." Unless it polices itself, he said, it faces the prospect of rigid government controls.

Kintner said Thursday "we were just as much a victim of the quiz show frauds as the public."

But his network has taken vigorous steps to see that it doesn't happen again, Kintner said; NBC has set up a special department —headed by an ex-FBI man—to ferret out any deception or fraud.

Already, he said, NBC has discovered that some personnel on the "Treasure Hunt" show had been exacting kickbacks from winning contestants. These employes were fired and the evidence was turned over to the New York District attorney, he said.

ASKS LEGISLATION

In asking for a new criminal law, Kintner said:

"Although we believe the broadcasters, alerted by the recent quiz show disclosures, are now in a position to guard against such frauds in the future, we feel that legislation along the lines I have mentioned would be an effective added force. It would serve as a powerful deterrent against the sort of wrongdoing these hearings have revealed."

Kintner rejected the idea of an all powerful czar of the broadcasting indulstry. It would be no more workable than a similar boss of the newspaper or magazine industry, he said, and government control would raise the spector of censorship.

Kintner said the network did not know until this week the full story of the fraud involving Van Doren, who had been hired by NBC at $50,000 a year on the strength of his quiz show fame.

When the charges against Van Doren became public, Kintner said, NBC's top brass called him in for questioning about "Twenty-One." Van Doren declined to answer on the advice of his lawyer.

"I pressed the matter," Kintner said, "and told Mr. Van Doren as formally and solemnly as I could: 'As president of NBC, I am calling upon you here and now to tell us everything you know about 'Twenty-One.'

"Again his counsel advised him not to answer. The full Van Doren story emerged at these hearings only last Monday, and that is when we learned it for the first time."

Some committee members suggested they found it hard to believe Kintner did not become aware sooner that some of the quiz shows were rigged. With a touch of asperity, Kintner shot back:

"I have testified under oath that I did not."

Navy ROTC Openings Available Till Nov. 14

Area high school seniors and graduates have until Nov. 14 for acceptance into the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, the Pontiac Navy Recruiting Station has announced.

Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination Dec. 12. Men who will be 17 but not yet 21 years old by July 1, 1960 are eligible for the training course toward appointment as a midshipman.

The program also is open to enlisted men on active duty. Application forms are available at high schools, colleges, or the local recruiting station in room 206 of the Riker Building, 35 W. Huron St.

Panama Flag Tension Eases

President de la Guardia Pins Part Blame on U.S. GIs in Canal Zone

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian nationalists finally planted their nation's flag in the Panama Canal Zone Thursday. Panamanian troops rushed in, cleared out the crowd of about 200 without violence and took down the flag.

Anti-American tension appeared easing in the Central American republic after a plea for moderation on both sides by President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr.

U.S. troops who had been manning the Canal Zone boundary after violent outbursts by nationalist demonstrators Tuesday handed control back to the zone's regular police.

De La Guardia pinned much of the blame for the violence on the American police and troops for using force against the demonstrators who tried to cross the zonal border Tuesday — on Panama's 56th independence anniversary — and plant their flag. Infuriated by the opposition, the nationalists stoned the American Embassy and the U.S. Information Service and tore down the U.S. flag at the embassy.

Despite the easing of tension, Panama was still off limits to the 9,000 Americans living in the Canal Zone. The embassy also warned American residents of Panama City to stay out of downtown areas and other congested localities.

Chrysler Imperial Sales Jump 133 Pct. in 30 Days

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Imperial sales, during the first 30 days following introduction of 1960 models, climbed 133 per cent above sales during the same period last year, a company official said Thursday.

C. E. Briggs, general manager of the Chrysler-Imperial division of Chrysler Corp., said Imperial dealers throughout the nation delivered 2,539 new cars during October, compared with 1,100 during the same period last year.

Briggs, here for a dealer meeting, said Chryslers have not been on sale long enough yet for a comparison but the current daily rate of sales is about 105 per cent above the comparable period last year.

Four Cities Squabbling

Texans Confused in Land Grab

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—It's a wise citizen who knows where he's at in this Southeast Texas area. That's more than the annexation-mad city fathers in four municipalities can say.

All four Jefferson County cities —Beaumont, Port Arthur, Nederland and Port Neches—accuse the others of being land hungry and out to latch onto all the industrial plants and oil and gas fields in the area.

It all started Oct. 22 when Port Neches annexed a row of petro-chemical plants which lay outside the city limits.

Beaumont, on Oct. 27, annexed a 10-foot wide strip of land 29½ miles long as a buffer zone to protect industries outside Beaumont's city limits from annexation by Port Neches and Nederland. The industries were protected from annexation to Beaumont by city ordinance.

Monday Port Arthur annexed 12,000 acres, almost doubling the size of the city and taking in Port Acres, a suburban municipality.

Port Arthur followed this up Wednesday by jumping over a buffer zone set up months earlier by Nederland and annexing another big block of land which included the airport, about halfway between Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Beaumont's City Council held a special session, rescinded its first buffer-zone action and adopted a new and larger buffer boundary that included a Du Pont chemical plant.

Four hours later, though, the Beaumont City Council gave up on the buffer - zone program and started working on a whopper of an ordinance to add some 39,000 acres to the city.

Already citizens could go to sleep in one community and wake up inside the city limits of another.

But to further confuse things, Nederland started a study of how to annex the Gulf and Texaco refineries at Port Arthur, which are not within that city's limits. Nederland also approved five other annexation ordinances, including one claiming the airport already claimed by Port Arthur.

One thing was sure—the "land war" will end in court.

Murphy Will Take Tour With President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy will delay his departure from government to accompany President Eisenhower next month to Europe, the Middle East and Africa, the White House announced today.

Murphy, who had announced that he was resigning to enter private business Dec. 3, will serve as the ranking State Department official on the trip at the personal request of President Eisenhower. Murphy will head the international division of Corning Glass.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will be busy preparing for and participating in the NATO meeting which opens in Paris Dec. 15.

Almost four-fifths of all Canada's population is native-born.

Use Tax Refund Demand Still Slow

LANSING (UPI) — Demands for refunds in payments of the unconstitutional one-cent additional use tax still are trickling into the Revenue Department.

Deputy Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock said today that the requests were coming in every day but still slowly.

Revenue officials had expected demands for the refunds to come in quickly soon after the use (sales) tax increase was ruled out by the Supreme Court Oct. 22.

Lock said refund forms had been distributed to revenue offices throughout the state and retail groups had been told they could obtain forms from the department.

Jackson Expressway Is Completed Today

LANSING (UPI) — The last section of Jackson Eastbelt Expressway opens to traffic today, marking completion of one of the most costly interchanges in outstate Michigan, the Highway Department announced today.

The interchange, a one-million-dollar structure, is at the junction of U.S.127 and M50 southeast of Jackson. Also, a 6.5-mile bypass east of the city will open. It is estimated northbound and southbound drivers can save a half hour using the new facilities.

The Jackson area will be served by three major expressways — the Eastbelt, U.S.12 on the north and M60 on the west.

'Some Counties Should Merge'

But State Researcher Sees Little Likelihood of Such Action

ANN ARBOR (AP) — County consolidation — merging of two or more counties — is needed in various parts of Michigan but the odds are against it ever happening.

That's the view of Robert H. Pealy, research associate and editor of publications at the University of Michigan's Institute of Public Administration.

Pealy said in an interview that county consolidation is a good idea in theory and Michigan has the legal tools at hand to do it. But there appear to be too many obstacles in the path of such a move, he said.

"For example, if you want to consolidate four counties, where do you put the county seat? People in existing county seats are often unwilling to see the county seat moved," he said.

2 BIG FACTORS

"Civic pride and loss of business are factors in this unwillingness."

Other hurdles listed by Pealy were the resistance of county officials who may lose their jobs through merging and the problem of finding an equitable distribution of the tax burden.

The university researcher said there have been only two cases of county consolidation in U.S. history — one in Tennessee in 1919 and another in Georgia in 1932.

"There are other, more popular ways of achieving some of the goals of consolidation," Pealy said, "but none of these — at least in theory — is as good as actual county consolidation."

Some of these approaches, he said, are multicounty water and sewage consolidations, and college, airport and health units. These make it possible to provide more services at a lower cost because they encompass a larger population, he added.

However, Pealy concluded, multicounty functional boards often are hampered by lack of coordination which leads to duplication and confusion.

Ike's Nephew in Army Near Iron Curtain

KASSEL, Germany (UPI) — A nephew of President Eisenhower is quietly putting in his Army service with the top-secret Army Security Agency a few miles from the iron curtain.

Earl D. Eisenhower Jr., 23, goes out of his way to stay inconspicuous but admits that his name arouses a "bit of curiosity," especially among Germans near his off-post home when they see it stitched on the pocket of his army fatigue uniform.

Eisenhower is the son of Earl Eisenhower, next to youngest of the President's seven brothers. His home is at LaGrance, Ill.

Earl Jr., enlisted in the Army in February 1957, and is now a specialist fourth class, equivalent to a corporal. He came to Germany in October 1958, and expects to remain here until shortly before his discharge next January.

Count 12 Million Jews

There are slightly more than 12 million Jews in the world. About 6,200,000 live in North, Central and South America; about 3,500,000 in Europe; approximately 1,900,000 in Asia; some 560,000 in Africa and about 65,000 in Australia and New Zealand.

"WE'RE ENGAGED" — Montreal showgirl Joan Stuart, 22, announced she will wed Negro star Sammy Davis Jr. after Christmas despite her family's objections. She has been playing for the past 14 months in a Montreal supper club review. Davis has been converted to Judaism and Miss Stuart refused to say if she would join Sammy's faith to marry him. Sammy says he hopes to overcome her parents' objections before they marry. He hasn't met them yet. Mrs. John Stuart, in Toronto, said: "She's only known him 10 days, naturally we disapprove." Joan says: "We talked and talked over coffee and found we had lots in common."

14 Jet Seaplanes Junked by Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is scrapping 14 Seamaster jet seaplanes built by the Martin Co. under a 441 million dollar contract ended last August.

A Navy spokesman said usable parts and instruments will be removed before the hulks are scrapped.

Martin built 16 of the 600-mile-an-hour Seamasters, envisioned as mine-layers and photo reconnaissance planes. Two were destroyed in crashes.

The program was scrapped in August in an effort to save 72 million dollars in proposed expenditures for the planes and support equipment.

Don't Stick to Farm

The nation's farm families received about eight billion dollars from off-the-farm activities in 1958, according to the National Industrial Conference Board.

'Charlie My Boy'

Students Sing Praises of Good Ol' Van Doren

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University students held a demonstration on the campus Thursday night demanding that Charles Van Doren be rehired as a teacher.

However, many attending were anti-Van Doren.

About 400 demonstrators milled about in front of the men's dormitories shouting, "We want Charlie back."

From a dormitory window came a tromobne solo of "Charlie My Boy."

Earlier, nearly 1,000 students signed a petition asking reinstatement of the 33-year-old former assistant English professor. Columbia dropped Van Doren last Monday after his testimony before a congressional subcommittee in Washington. He admitted taking part in the rigging of the quiz show "Twenty-One."

Columbia student Leslie Mogen, one of the organizers of the movement to get Van Doren back on the campus, said: "We don't condone his action, but we also feel that a man of his intellect and ability should not be denied an opportunity to give his talents to society."

Conservator Sought for Marilyn's Mother

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A petition was filed in Superior Court yesterday asking a conseravtor be appointed for Mrs. Gladys Baker, 57-year-old mother of film star Marilyn Monroe.

The petition was on behalf of Mrs. Inez C. Melson who was Miss Monroe's business manager for several years before the actress moved to New York in 1955.

An affidavit filed with the petition and signed by Miss Monroe stated the actress had defrayed all her mother's expenses since Feb. 17, 1953. It said Miss Monroe, wife of playwright Arthur Miller, has arranged for Mrs. Melson to visit the actress' mother once a month to care for her needs.

Mrs. Baker is confined to Rockhaven Sanitarium in nearby Verdugo City.

Iron Equal to Nickel

CLEVELAND — The weight of iron in a man's body is about the equivalent of the weight of an American nickel coin.

Two-fifths of America's tilled land produces 75 per cent of its food.

Lake Is Shallow

MIAMI — Lake Okeechobee in south Florida, although 40 miles long and 28 miles wide, is only 22 feet deep at its deepest point, and most of the big lake is much more shallow than that.

The state of Washington normally produces about one-fourth of the nation's total supply of apples.

President and Pope Much Alike

'Ike' and 'Papa Giovanni' to Meet

BY LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's visit to the Vatican next month will bring together two of the world's most magnetic personalities.

If there is any man in public life today who rivals the famous Eisenhower charm, it is the peasant's son from Bergamo, Italy, who now reigns as Pope John XXIII.

This reporter has met both men —the President on many occasions in Washington, the Pope at an audience at Castel Gandolfo three months ago.

He can testify that they are remarkably alike, despite their widely divergent backgrounds.

Their most striking similarity is their great natural talent for liking and being liked by all sorts of people. It is symptomatic of their popular appeal that they are known to the public by affectionate nicknames — "Ike" and "Papa Giovanni."

TWO MEN ALIKE

Both men have that most endearing of human traits — innate humility. They move through the pomp and ceremony of their high offices with the same slightly incredulous look, as if they still cannot quite believe that all this fuss is being made over them.

Both have what is usually called "the common touch" — the ability to talk to poor or unimportant people without any hint of condescension.

Finally, they have in common a consuming interest in building a bulwark beneath the shaky structure of world peace. It is this mutual concern that probably will form the main topic of their conversation.

If they touch on the subject of religion, the Catholic Pope and the Presbyterian President will find that they share another strong conviction.

Both feel it is high time for Christians of all persuasions to close ranks against the various materialistic philosophies which threaten to engulf the world.

Since the Pope is temporal soverign of the tiny state of Vatican City as well as a spiritual ruler, the meeting will be formally a conference between chiefs of state.

Eisenhower will be the second U.S. President to visit the Pope in that capacity. The first such visit was made by Woodrow Wilson, who called on Pope Benedict XV on Jan. 4, 1919. Wilson stopped in Rome en route back to America from the Versailles Peace Conference.

Turns Seasickness Into a Blessing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — When he was a midshipman at the Naval Academy in 1912, William H. Rabe was plagued with seasickness.

So he found a new career bridging the source of his difficulty.

He'll retire from the Ohio Highway Department this year after 45 years of service as an engineer, during which he helped built 5,000 bridges.

Juvenile Rebels Plague Nations of Europe in Wake of Better Times

LONDON (UPI) — Britain calls them "Teddy boys." They are "flathats" or "rattle boys" in Finland. Danes label them "bugbears." Russians refer to them as "hooligans." Each nation has a name for them. In the United States, it's "juvenile delinquents."

Teen-age terrorism is not typical of the children of World War II. But it is the headline stuff, the gaudy black eye, the symbol of the war generation. Today, most of Europe, especially the wealthier nations, are being plagued by juvenile delinquency.

Take Bandol on the French Riviera. For years, European travel guidebooks have suggested a visit to this "quaint, sleepy" little town.

Recently Bandol's delinquents began welcoming tourists with clubs and bicycle chains. French police estimate 100 of the town's 3,000 residents are juvenile delinquents.

Gay Paris sports an officially estimated 10,000 to 12,000 members of "Les Bandes" (the gangs). In July, Sweden's rebels without a cause invaded Kristianstad and nearly destroyed the town.

In Bonn, worried West German officials reported the adult crime rate is steadily falling while the juvenile crime rate is steadily climbing.

British policemen are as polite as butlers, but they often arrest Teddy boys on sight.

That's the rub. As in America, clothes do not make a juvenile delinquent. European youth delights in the usual "uniform"—blue jeans and leather jackets.

Young Austrian males fancy beatnik-like beards. West Germany's "habstarke" (half-baked ones) sport gaudy scarves. The pork-pie hats atop young Swedish heads is why they are called flathats.

Many European parents consider their offspring cultural deadbeats. Elvis Presley, better known in Europe than George Washington is king.

Britain's Tommy Steele, a tea-sipping Presley, curdles the cream i London's packed teen-age coffee houses. West Germany's Peter Kraus, of the gutteral rock 'n' roll school, is more popular in Vienna than Johann Strauss.

Europe's rising economic position has lined teen-age pockets with odd-job earnings. Chief target of teen-age shoppers are motorcycles and second-hand cars . . . preferably without the muffler.

But the best-known of creature comforts among European JDs are switch-blade knives, brass knuckles and the trusty bicycle chain.

Snapped one rumble-weary Paris official: "They don't give a damn."

Reports a French newsman: "The juvenile delinquents are going flashy. They like the publicity they are getting.

"They are very cooperative with reporters, have gone as far as staging phony rumbles for cameramen. They constantly play their self-assigned roles of tough guys a la Brando and James Dean."

Many Europeans blame America for setting the pace for juvenile delinquency. They cite the teen-age idolatry of Presley, Brando, U. S. jazz and rock 'n' roll musicians, and the influence of the GIs.

French teen-agers call brass knuckles "le coup de poing Americain" ("a blow of the American fist").

The Rolls-Royce of a Swedish youth is a carefully rebuilt and hot-rodded American car. French delinquents openly admire the United States and detest the Soviet Union.

The Soviet press blames its youthful non-comformity on America.

In southern European countries, where family life and religion enjoy stronger control, police report far less trouble with juveniles.

In Italy only a few but well-publicized teen-age riots have required firm police action.

Only one troubled northern European nation has launched a full-scale attack on juvenile delinquency. The result is that there's little wrong in Denmark as far as juveniles go.

In Copenhagen, teen-age crime did zoom immediately after the war. But police organized a network of police youth clubs. Policemen visited every slum home, counseled parents and organized international tours for onetime teen-age "bugbears" who pay only six dollars a year for trips to Sweden, Yugoslavia and Switzerland.

"We don't consider ourselves saving angels," said Copenhagen's Police Obersergeant John Schwarzlose.

But, he added, "I feel convinced that these arrangements have been responsible for the fact that we have not had any teen-age gang riots in Copenhagen or in Denmark for the past two years."

While all-out attacks on juvenile delinquency are rare, virtually all European nations have begun some form of organized action.

Church leaders have taken the lead in Britain. West German labor unions have even taken a hand.

Finnish police report they found a sure cure for their "rattle boys" and "buzz babies," boys and girls who drive motorcycles and hot-rods. They simply suspend driving licenses.

In the Soviet Union, Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev recently ordered all youth to engage in manual labor, even if they are studying to be nuclear scientists or violin teachers.

Observers said the action was primarily aimed at Moscow's non-conforming younger set who have begun importing black market rock 'n' roll records through Poland.

Farmers Facing Lower Prices

But Consumers to Get Break in 1960 on Drop in Food Costs

WASHINGTON (UP) — A government report on the national food outlook for 1960 carries good news for consumers but dreary forecasts for farmers.

The Agricultural Marketing Service said retail food prices — which have been going up in recent weeks — are expected to average a little lower next year than this.

But prices to farmers, on the other hand, are likely to go down still further. Current farm prices are 6 per cent below a year ago.

The report also forecast somewhat larger supplies of food in 1960, including meats. Because of the prospective larger supplies of both pork and beef, meat prices are expected to average lower than this year.

The report said per capita consumption of food is expected to be about the same next year as this — an average daily rate of 3,210 calories.

The department said retail food prices would go down more except for a prospective increase in marketing charges. These charges — reflecting higher labor and material costs — will offset a part of the reduction in prices paid to farmers.

Civilian demand for food is expected to continue at a high level in 1960, the report said.

U.S. Men's Feet Growing Bigger All the Time

WEBSTER, Mass (UPI) — The foot of the American male is getting bigger all the time — growing a third of an inch every 20 years and from an average shoe size seven 75 years ago to a 10 today.

These stastics were gathered by such interested parties as the American Podiatry Assn., the Leather Industries of America and Richard Sears, vice president of a shoe manufacturing firm.

Sears said that nutritionists attribute the growth to the fact that diets in the United States are richer in protein and vitamins than anywhere in the world.

Orthopedic authorities say it is because the American man is getting taller and heavier and his feet are spreading out and ahead to accommodate the additional burden.

Americans Entering Worst Health Time

NEW YORK (UPI)—Americans are facing the most dangerous months of the year as far as health is concerned, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

September is the most healthful month of the year, the Institute reported, with deaths and illnesses reaching their lowest point. Then, the death rate gets progressively worse until it reaches its peak in March.

Speakers to Be From Future Teachers Club; Open House Is Slated

By ED SANTALA

Next week, Nov. 8-14, is National Education Week. Northern will be busy humming with educational features including an open house and public address system talks on education and its meaning by the Future Teachers.

The theme for the week is "Praise and Appraise Your Schools." Members of the Ann Ess Morrow Future Teachers Club will speak each morning on a phase of education today. These subjects are:

The Child—What does education mean to him?

The Parents—How can they work for better schools?

The Teacher—What is a teacher?

The School Board Member—What are his responsibilities?

The Voter—How does he make his decisions on education?

Speakers for the week will be Richard Bailey, Marlene Beyer, Karen Rognaldson, Barbara Everett and Barbara Berryman. The club is sponsored by Lillian Jacobs.

Open house will be held at Northern on Tuesday. Parents will follow a shortened schedule of the students' six-hour day.

Members of the Northern and Central Dolphin Club have separated into two groups because of transportation difficulties. Membership in the new Northern Catalinas will be confined to girls, although boys will be used on special occasions.

Officers of the club are Sandy Hilderly, president; Charlotte De Rousse, vice president; Judy Kern, secretary; Linda Underhill, treasurer, and Ann Phillips, historian.

New members of the club are Carol Campbell, Ruth Cramp, Flora McCartney, Carol Henderson, Kay Crampton and Nancy Hibbard.

Also in the organization are Margaret Lenger, Linda Head, Karen McKinney, Brenda Keesling, Sharon Burklow, Karol Clark and Karen Christian. Madelin McConnell is sponsor of the Catalinas.

Curtain Goes Up Nov. 20

Waterford Players Rehearse 'Blondes'

By JOHN TEEUWISSEN

Rehearsals for "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" are now in progress. The members of the cast, publicity committee and those connected with the production of the play have been busy preparing for the production scheduled for Nov. 20-21.

Chosen as winner of the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award at Waterford was Julia Dovre. A senior girl, the DAR good citizen is selected by the faculty on the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Julie and her mother will be guests, with the other area award winners, at a DAR dinner meeting.

Seniors will hold their mock election next week. Balloting for Most Athletic, Most Dependable, Most All-around, Most Humorous, Most Likely to Succeed, Most Valuable to Class, Most All-Around Talented, Class Flirt, Prettiest Eyes and Best Smile will take place in homerooms.

Central High Announces Field Service Nominees

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

The American Field Service Committee at Pontiac Central has announced the four semi-finalists for AFS Americans Abroad summer and school programs.

Juniors Donna Helmkamp, David Todd, Karen Kessler and Donna Douglass were chosen by the committee after a series of interviews to send their applications to AFS in New York for the final screening.

They will be notified next spring of the final decision.

The summer program provides for an American student to stay with a foreign family for six weeks and learn their customs and way of life. A student on the school program also stays with a foreign family and attends school there for at least one semester.

Presently, Sherry Fink of Central is on the school program in Sweden and Sue Koprince spent an interesting and enjoyable summer with a German family.

The student body filed into the gym this afternoon for a pep assembly sponsored by the cheerleaders in preparation for tonight's game with Bay City Central. An unusual feature was added to this pep assembly as the cheerleaders presented cheers from foreign countries and then gave the American version.

'Press' Throws Dance Tonight at St. Frederick

By PAT VILLELLA

The members of St. Frederick High School Press Club and those on the staff of RAMROD are sponsoring a dance 8 to 11 p.m. today at the Parish Hall.

The event is a benefit to raise capital for the publishing of RAMROD.

Committee chairmen have been busy for the past few weeks in preparing for the success of this dance. The decorations will have newspapers as the main theme.

The Ferro's will be accompanied by the fine combo the Jaguars to entertain those attending the dance.

COMMITTEEMEN

Those on the committees include Dianne Landry, Kitty Carry, Sue McHugh, Pat Green, Joan Sharpe, Liz Mountain, Kirby Meagher, Carl Roselli, Phil Bieri, Reg Bassett and Mike Yarnold.

Besides the dance benefitting the pocketbook of the Press Club it will also benefit the RAMROD in supplying it with pictures of the Ferro's and Jaguars and those attending the dance.

These pictures will appear in the next edition of the RAMROD, which will be off the press the 25th of this month.

Walled Lake High Report Cards Bright

By PAULA PROULX

When report cards were issued at Walled Lake High this week it was noted that 22 per cent of the seniors, 17 per cent of the juniors and 14 per cent of the sophomores had maintained averages of "B" or better.

Last week members of the Future Nurses Club visited Mercy Hospital in Detroit. This was one of several planned trips to see nurses' quarters and hospital working conditions.

In spite of their recent loss to Farmington, Chess Club members are anticipating their next matches.

Sophomores Hold Dance Tonight at St. Michael's

By BARBARA ARDELAN

The sophomores at St. Michael High School are sponsoring a dance which will be held in the parish hall tonight from 8:30 to 11:30. Chairmen of the dance are Gibb Hoffman and Bob Flanigan.

Chairmen of the various committees are Gary Hintz, refreshments; Donald Bookie, entertainment; Shannon Donnelly, advertising; and Sharon Rodden, decorating.

Rochester Club Officers Chosen

By MARCIA SEED

The J.E.T.'s Club, Future Nurses and Girls Athletic Association of Rochester Senior High School have chosen their new slates of officers for the 1959-60 term.

Heading the clubs are respectively: Dwight Hughes, Patty McKinney, and Carol Sabourin.

Other officers of the J.E.T.'s include: Al Price, vice president, and Ellen Ketelson, secretary-treasurer.

G.A.A. OFFICERS

For the G.A.A. are: Sue Schlecte, vice president; Marcia Seed, secretary; and Janis Stevens, treasurer.

'Dad's Night' Is Featured Event at Clarkston High

By PAULETTE KIMBALL

Tonight is Dad's Night at Clarkston High School. As a part of the program honoring football players' fathers, the varsity players, following an introduction, will run over and shake hands with their dads who will be seated on the sideline.

At halftime, the band will perform and Senior band members will be honored.

After the game, while dads and coaches are having coffee and doughnuts in the cafeteria, the Junior class will be sponsoring a dance.

Fixing the decorations are Naomi Armstrong, Delores De Nise, Nancee Elenbaum, Mary Robbins and Betty Wright.

Rosalie Lippert, Donna Harris, Betty Sarvis, Lonnie Cranick and Rebecca De Long will be selling tickets while Carolyn Talmage and Ron Jyleen will be in charge of spinning the records.

Dave Greshem, Chuck Houston, Don De Nise and Jim Gunter will clean up when the dance is over.

West Bloomfield Showboat Big 'Hit' With Folks

By DODI DWYER

The showboat has come and gone in the form of the second annual Minstrel show by the West Bloomfield High School P.T.A.

Mothers and fathers of the West Bloomfield students blended their voices in a chorus on the good old songs and they showed the teenagers a few of the dances from the past.

The acts included quartets, baton twirling, a dance by Betty Pruse, a banjo number by Joe Sharpy and many other surprise acts.

The production included Dennis Alix, Don Cole, Scott Giroux, Micky Patten, Larry Pitser, Karl Rabel, John Smith and Pete Vassher.

Merlin Asplin was the musical director, while the production was handled by William Laitinen. Their accompanist was Ron Thornburn. Ticket chairman was Mrs. Blackmore.

Karen Lane Picked Queen at Avondale

By IRVIN GINGRICH

The game which will decide who will be the Oakland B champs in football will be played tonight, as Avondale invades Fitzgerald.

The spirit and enthusiasm has mounted a little more each day throughout this past week among the student body as it has realized the importance of this single game.

Karen Lane was elected Homecoming Queen and was crowned by Pat Parker, last year's queen during the Homecoming festivities last Friday night.

Nature Aids to Save Girl From Knife

An 11-year-old Berkley girl may not have to undergo the surgery objected to by her mother for religious reasons.

The girl, Carol Krumm, 3309 Kipling St., was released from Sinai Hospital in Detroit Wednesday after surgeons said a swelling behind her eyes had receded. Dr. H. Harvey Gass said earlier that exploratory surgery might be necessary to determine if Carol had a brain tumor.

Authorities made the girl a ward of juvenile court after her widowed mother, Doris Krumm, refused to allow surgery because Carol might require blood transfusions.

Mrs. Krumm, a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, said that while she was not opposed to surgery itself she would not allow possible transfusions because she believed this would violate a scriptural rule against the "eating of blood."

Dr. Gass, who asked the girl be made a ward of the court to make an operation possible, said that the surgery might not be necessary now.

The girl returned home to her mother after her discharge from the hospital. Juvenile court spokesmen said they would retain the authority to allow an operation should the hospital or Dr. Gass decide one is necessary.

Carol will be kept under observation while at home, Dr. Gass said.

Brigitte's Hubby in the Army, but She 'Stays Near'

LONDON (UPI) — Yesterday morning Jacques Charrier was the husband of Brigitte Bardot. By nightfall he was Private Second Class Charrier in the French army.

He tore himself away from the arms of moviedom's sex kitten to answer the draft for military service, and according to the London Daily Mirror it was a shattering experience.

"What a shock they had in store for him when he was taken to his barrack from the Orange," the Mirror said.

"He took one step inside and recoiled with a gasp!

"Said Jacques, 'It's bad enough having to LEAVE my wife to join the army. But to see her like that above every bed . . . it's just a nightmare.'"

Michigan Surety Handled by New Three-Man Group

LANSING (AP)—A group of Michigan directors has taken over the Michigan Surety Co. to try to keep it out of the hands of the receivers.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash yesterday agreed to a 45-day postponement of a hearing on a petition to put the Lansing insurance firm into receivership.

A three-man committee was named to run the firm pending an independent audit of its assets. All but one of a group of out-of-state directors have resigned, Coash was told.

State insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford, who started the receivership action, was named to the committee. The others are G. W. Draper of Lansing, executive vice president; and R. E. Reichert of Ann Arbor, president of the Ann Arbor Bank and a director of the City Bank of Detroit.

Blackford said he still felt the company was not solvent and needed about $1,800,000 "to put it on even keel again."

He had alleged that Mark H. Kroll of Cincinnati, company president, had manipulated the affairs of the company for personal profit and diverted its funds into other holdings.

Kroll issued a statement saying he had "always been willing to step aside if necessary to save the company from a long court battle which would destroy it."

Kroll added:

"The court's order shows that Commissioner Blackford was not correct in saying Michigan Surety is 'hopelessly insolvent.' The fact that the company is authorized to continue operating shows that it is solvent."

The company, with offices in Lansing, writes about seven million dollars in insurance premiums yearly, mainly on bail, surety and performance bonds.

"Our first interest is in trying to preserve the company," Blackford said in agreeing to the delay. "We feel that matters have been put into the hands of those who will best preserve the interests of the public, policy-holders and creditors."

"We want it understood that this in no way constitutes a receivership," said Roscoe O. Bonisteel of Ann Arbor, a company director and a member of the University of Michigan Board of Regents. "But, we believe there is room for an audit."

Announced as resigned from the company were Kroll, Jay Watkins, a former Indiana lieutenant governor; Julius T. Gradison, an Indiana contractor, and W. A. Helmke of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Nelson Lancione of Columbus, Ohio, president of the national Young Democrats, will be the only other out-of-state director remaining on the board. Michigan directors retained include Draper, Reichert, Bonisteel; and C. F. Jennings, C. M. Jones, R. P. Lyman and Fred Marin, all of Lansing.

Blackford said the postponement of the petition hearing did not mean charges of improper procedures against the firm would be dropped.

Pair Must Face False Advertising Charge Nov. 18

Two Detroit men will stand trial on charges of false advertising after pleading not guilty before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Co-Owners of three new Super Bargain Centers which opened last week, they are Joseph and Alfred Buchabaum.

The two are free on personal bond pending trial Nov. 18.

The Business Ethics Board sought a warrant against them earlier this week. It was issued by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Anthony Renne.

The warrant claims they were charging more for some items than advertised Oct. 29 in The Pontiac Press, not having other items in stock as advertised, and reneging on the granting of some door prizes.

PTA Fair Saturday at Monteith School

The Monteith School in Waterford Township will hold its annual PTA Fair 11 a.m. Saturday.

Included among the events will be miniature car and wagon rides, kangaroo court, movies, a country store and bake sale.

Chairmen for the fair are Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. Robert Thatcher. Proceeds will be used for school projects.

Two Accidents Injure Pair in Waterford

Two people were injured in separate auto accidents in Waterford Township yesterday, according to township police reports.

Mrs. Edith Scafe, 55, of 3189 Warren Dr., Waterford Township, was injured while riding as a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Gale Scafe, 31, of 4270 Stanley St.

The accident occurred on Dixie Highway at Frembes street. Their car was hit in the rear by one driven by Ervil Frembes, 32, of 5500 Tubbs Rd.

Latimer told police his vision was cut off by a large delivery truck parked at the roadside and he did not see the Scafe car until it was too late.

Mrs. Scafe was treated for minor injuries and released.

Another accident occured at 1 a.m. at 4490 Hatchery Rd. when Frank C. Owen, 21, of 17 S. Midland St., attempted to pass a car, skidded on the wet pavement and hit a tree. He was treated for facial cuts at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Waterford Shop Has Camera Stolen

A Waterford Township camera shop owner reported to township police yesterday the theft of a movie camera valued at $85.

Thomas Helfrich of 1109 Lakeview St. said three men entered his shop at 1032 W. Huron St. at 2 p.m. yesterday, split up and wandered about the store.

When they left, he said, he noticed that a movie camera was missing from the display counter.

Fishing License to Cost More?

$1 Hike Is Suggested; Wives Also to Pay to Cover 1961 Deficit

LANSING (AP) — A $1 boost in Michigan's resident fishing license fee and parking meters in state parks are the newest cures offered for financial ills in the state conservation program.

Conservation department officials made the proposals yesterday to the State Conservation Commission, both also need approval by the Legislature.

The department's fish division suggested higher license fees to head off a $500,000 deficit anticipated by July 1961, in the game and fish protection fund.

They estimated the boost would yield about $740,000 annually in new revenue.

Currently, Michigan fishermen pay $2 for a license which entitles their wives to fish free. The proposed fee schedule would raise the cost to $3 and require wives, for the first time, to pay $1.50 for their own license.

WIVES TO PAY?

The plan also proposed a $2 temporary license for nonresident fishermen, good for three days, with wives paying $1. The cheapest nonresident license now is $5 for 15 days of fishing privileges.

Left unanswered was whether wives also would be required to purchase a trout stamp.

The commission also was asked to back a license for fishing on the Great Lakes. Similar proposal got nowhere in the Legislature in past years.

State parks men said parking meters in the most heavily used of the state's more than 60 parks and recreation areas would bring in some badly needed revenue.

The Legislature has declared a virtual moratorium on parks improvements and expansion for three years. This year it passed a $2 parks admission sticker bill but Gov. Williams vetoed it.

Department officials also asked the commission to recommend a $26,800,000 budget for 1960-61, up about $9,300,000 from this year. Seven millions of the increase would go for parks improvement and land acquisition.

Other recommendations included: Licensing of water wells in view of increasing demands on water supplies, requiring hunters carry .22 caliber rifles in southern Michigan to buy a deer license if they hunt during the deer season; require hunters to keep guns not only broken down but encased while traveling in their cars.

MSUO Appoints Professor of Foreign Studies

The appointment of Sheldon L. Appleton as an assistant professor in the foreign studies program was announced today by Michigan State University Oakland. His appointment becomes effective next September.

All MSUO students will be required to take a series of courses in foreign studies.

These courses will emphasize cultures other than those of the Western world.

Appleton is presently a teaching assistant and Ford Foundation Area Training Fellow in the Dept. of Political Science at the University of Minnesota.

He has studied Far Eastern culture at the Foreign Service Institute in Washington, and has traveled in the Philippines, Formosa and other Far Eastern countries.

Israel has purchased more than 33 million bushels of surplus livestock feed grains from the United States since 1954, more than any other country. Second was South Korea with more than 29 million bushels.

Steel Talks at Standstill; No Settlement in Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steel strike today entered its 115th day with peace talks at a standstill, and not a sign from any direction that a settlement might be near.

The nation—and the deadlocked industry and union negotiators—still awaited the Supreme Court's decision whether to sustain or knock down a Taft-Hartley law injunction ordering the 500,000 striking steel workers back to their jobs for 80 days.

Whether the ruling would come today or later remained the court's own secret. The government obtained the injunction in federal court in Pittsburgh more than two weeks ago, but it has been held in abeyance pending the outcome of appeal.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) announced he will ask Congress next year to give the President potent new powers to halt strikes threatening to create national emergencies.

He said he will introduce a bill to provide alternative procedures.

Under one approach in the Morse plan, the President would be empowered to appoint an emergency board with authority to issue an order settling a dispute after holding hearings and announcing findings.

The alternative procedure would let the President seize and operate closed plants, subject to congressional veto of his action within 10 days.

Strike-halting injunctions under the Taft-Hartley law may be issued for not more than 80 days, and the courts have no authority to extend or renew them if the "cooling off" period fails to bring a settlement. Critics call this a serious weakness in the law.

Joseph F. Finnegan, federal mediation director, announced no date for bringing the rival management and union negotiating teams together for more face-to-face bargaining.

Try to Measure Electron Density

U. of M. Engineers to Probe Ionosphere With 2 5-Stage Rockets

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A team of University of Michigan engineers will attempt to mesure the electron density in the ionosphere by firing two five-stage rockets 1,000 miles high.

The rockets, 57 feet tall and weighing 7,000 pounds with payloads, will be fired at Wallops Island, Va., a National Aeronautical and Space Administration facility.

The first is to be launched Tuesday and the second a week later. The rockets are expected to reach a maximum speed of 1,200 m.p.h.

Heading the team are Leslie M. Jones and Nelson W. Spencer.

OWN PAYLOADS

University engineers developed the rockets from military missiles. They built their own electron-measuring payloads.

The multistage rocket has an Honest John for its base booster. Other stages are two Nike intermediate boosters and a Yardbird research rocket, topped off by a scale-Sergeant, the same rocket used for the final stages of the Explorer satellites. All five have solid propellant fuel.

The payload consists of two radio transmitters. They are designed to transmit signals on two frequencies. One frequency will be affected by the inosphere, the other won't.

Spencer explained, "By comparing the two signals, we can determine the electron density of the ionosphere. The greater the effect, the greater the density of the electron."

The ionosphere begins some 25 miles above the earth's surface. It contains particles which are electrically charged — or ionized — by the sun's rays.

Spencer said, "Determination of the electron density of this region will contribute data which will further man's knowledge of these electrons, which cause reflection of some radio waves."

More than one-half of the world's known oil fields and reserves are located within the continental United States.

Winter in Michigan Due to Stay Around for Awhile

By The Associated Press

Winter — which isn't due by the calendar until Dec. 22 — came swirling into Michigan Thursday night. And it's going to stick around a spell.

Nose-diving thermometers are going right on down, except for a wee rise Saturday, into Saturday night.

Already winter-like weather has forced the closing of schools in Marquette, with 23-mile-an-hour winds plugging Upper Peninsula roads with snowdrifts. Up to 18 inches of snow have fallen at Ishpeming and the whole Upper Peninsula is blanketed.

From three inches of snow along Lake Michigan to flurries elsewhere is the forecast for today and tonight in the Lower Peninsula.

Temperatures are expected to toboggan into the 10-26 range over the Lower Peninsula and into the 10 to 18 range in the Upper Peninsula tonight. Downstate, high temperatures are expected to range from 25 to 34.

Thursday an all-time record high of 71 was set for downstate Detroit, which got a 36-degree drop overnight to 35 at 7 a.m. today. A low of 24 tonight and a high of 34 Saturday are forecast for the Motor City.

5-DAY OUTLOOK

The U.S. Weather Bureau's five-day outlook is for temperatures averaging 4 to 8 degrees below normal over Michigan, where snow flurries are forecast Saturday night, Sunday and again Tuesday or Wednesday.

Winds ranging up to 50 miles an hour Thursday night sent late sailing ships scurrying for cover from great seas on Lake Superior; and heavy snow restricting visibility disrupted traffic through the Soo locks at Sault Ste. Marie for a time.

Marquette, where it started snowing about noon Thursday, expected additional snow into tonight. Nine inches were on the ground there this morning.

Ishpeming, some 12 miles inland from the Lake Superior port and some 500 feet higher, reported 18 inches aground today. State Police said snow was general throughout the Upper Peninsula, but heavier in the Marquette-Ishpeming area than elsewhere.

Marquette had a low of 22 overnight, but was warned to expect 12 tonight.

Other overnight snowfall and lows over Michigan included:

Escanaba 5 inches and 23; Houghton 6 and 18 the state's low; Kinrose, 5 and 23; Sault Ste. Marie, 2 and 20; Muskegon, trace and 32; Pellston, trace and 27.

Overnight lows, where no snow was reported, included:

Alpena, 31; Detroit, 35; Flint, 34; Gladwin, Grand Rapids and Jackson, 31; Lansing, 32; Mount Clemens, 36, tops overnight; Oscoda, 34, and Saginaw and Ypsilanti, 33.

Brazil is said to be the world's largest potential producer of vegetable oil and its by-products.

U.S. and Russia Plan Exchange

Hold Friendly Meeting Setting Up Cultural and Scientific Project

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union opened negotiations today for a new scientific, technical and cultural exchange agreement in a friendly atmosphere.

The negotiations are being carried out in private but the Soviet news agency Tass said both sides at the first session heralded the first two-year agreement expiring in January as "a sound practical step toward a rapporchement between the two countries which promoted mutual understanding."

George Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet Cultural Committee, said that Premier Nikita Khrushchev's trip to the United States had opened a new era of relationships between the two countries. He apparently made no mention of his charge in a Soviet magazine last week that the West, and particularly the United States, has tried to use cultural exchange programs to "foist an alien ideology on other countries."

The delegates posed together for pictures and agreed on procedure. Then they adjourned until Monday, after the celebration of the 42nd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Laos Probe Fails to Uncover Reds

But U. N. Told Help Given to Rebels by North Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N.'s fact-finding committee on Laos reported today it had found no proof that Communist forces from North Viet Nam had taken part in the current conflict in the little Indochinese kingdom.

In a 32-page report to the 11-nation Security Council, the committee declared, however, that the Laotian rebels had received equipment, arms, supplies and the help of political advisers from neighboring North Viet Nam.

The report was the result of a first hand inquiry by the four-member committee created by the Security Council last Sept. 7. Members of the group were Japan, Argentina, Italy and Tunisia.

Take First Step on Reactivating Police Reserves

The first step in reactivating the Pontiac police reserve program was taken last night.

Some 40 members of the old reserve met with Public Safety Director George D. Eastman in the Public Safety Building to hear his plans for training and other items.

Eastman said three regular police officers will attend the reservists' regular monthly meeting Tuesday to discuss further plans for the reserve force.

The volunteer force has been inactive since early this year when it threatened mass resignation after disagreement with policies in the police department.

Subsequent talks led to a settling of most issues and to the City Commission's ordering Eastman to outline a detailed program for use of the reservists.

Clinton Flood Study Gets Federal Funds

On top of a $4,900 federal grant announced last week comes an additional allocation of $9,800 especially for a preliminary survey of flood conditions of the Clinton River in Oakland and Macomb counties.

The first is for a general study of flooding conditions in the two counties and in Wayne County.

Both federal grants — which only now can be allotted although authorization came in July of 1957—were announced in letters to Oakland County Congressman William S. Broomfield.

Broomfield said the funds are available for the studies for the first time. They will come from the federal government's 1960 public works budget.

Broomfield, a member of the House of Representatives' Public Works Committee, said he had tried for several years to attract government attention to the serious flooding in the three-county area, with particular focus on the Clinton.

He said that is why the government allocated a separate sum for this river, which during heavy rain causes many Pontiac basements to flood.

"One purpose of the investigation is to determine the effect of increased urbanization with accompanying storm sewers on flood conditions along the Clinton River," Broomfield learned in a second letter from Col. W. W. Wilson of the Corps of Engineers Office in Detroit.

"If the results of this study indicate that flood problems can be expected to increase, investigations will be made to determine the justification of federal works to alleviate the problem," Col. Wilson said.

PUBLIC HEARINGS SET

He said public hearings will be held within 90 days "to determine the nature of the problem and the type of improvements desired by local interests." Affected communities will be notified.

Welcoming the federal assistance was Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman, whose city is undertaking a private study on flooding conditions of the Clinton and Pontiac Creek.

Thefts Noted After Prospects See House, Dogs

Mrs. Bronnie Moore of 3361 Walton Blvd., Waterford Township, reported to township police that after a real estate agent showed a prospective customer through her house which was for sale, a wrist watch was missing from a chest of drawers.

A similar report was made by Mrs. Albert Baxter of 4233 Lotus Dr., Waterford Township.

She told police a man and his wife came to look at some cocker spaniel puppies that were for sale. When they left, one of the puppies was missing.

U.S. Will Act in Lynch Case

Jackson Attorney Must Move to Bring Parker Probe to Federal Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department had waited for action by a Mississippi grand jury, but no action came. Now the department will seek federal court action against the lynchers of Negro Mack Charles Parker.

Acting Atty. Gen. Lawrence E. Walsh announced Thursday night that the U.S. attorney in Jackson, Miss., had been told to take steps toward presenting the case to a federal grand jury.

Parker, a 23-year-old Lumberton, Miss., Negro indicted for raping a white woman, was dragged screaming from his cell last April. His body was found later in a river.

Initial Mississippi reaction to the newest federal move was hostile. Judge Sebe Dale, in whose court the Pearl River County Grand Jury made its report, said he didn't think the Justice Department had a chance to get an indictment.

"They seem hell bent to punish us about everything that comes up," Judge Dale said. "They want to carry it to the last degree."

THESE ARE SOME OF THE NUTS, BOLTS AND SCREWS THAT WERE NOT PUT INTO THE BODY AND FRAME OF THE 1960 PLYMOUTH.

They can't loosen and rattle because they're not there. Chrysler engineers now bring you Dura-Quiet Unibody: a single unit welded around 5400 times for super strength. You'll feel and hear the difference in the first mile!

No matter how long you've driven . . . no matter what cars . . . expect a pleasant new experience when first you try the Solid Plymouth '60.

What happened to the "car sounds" you used to think were normal? The little bangs and thuds that once were part of even the luxury cars?

They're gone, in the new Plymouth—built out of it from the start. They won't return later to haunt you, because this car is built to stay quiet for a long, long time.

In addition to quiet durability, you will notice new comfort. We doubt if any car has ever ridden so easily, or held the road with such secure steadiness. There is more room inside and—good news!—the seats are much higher.

We feel that this Plymouth is the best built, best performing car in the low-price class. Try it and see what you think.

Detroit Welfare Fund Will Soon Be Gone

DETROIT (UPI)—Assistant welfare superintendent Robert Temple said today Detroit will have to ask the state next month to pay 100 per cent of the city's welfare grants.

He said the city's welfare money, with costs boosted by layoffs brought on by the steel strike, will be exhausted. The city will have used its budgeted eight million dollars for welfare by next month, he said.

The fiscal year does not end until July, 1960. Temple estimated it would cost about $8,500,000 for the state to bear the welfare costs from January to July, 1960.

He said Detroit would apply for 100 per cent payments from the state at a Nov. 23 meeting of the State Welfare Commission.

The state pays 30 per cent of local welfare costs up to the time local agencies run out of funds, then pays 100 per cent.

Newspaper circulation in the U.S. has about a 120 per cent coverage, as based on the estimate of the total number of American homes.

British Develop Electronic Lung

Could Replace Older Type; Patients Linked to It by Plastic Tubes

LONDON (AP) — A new electronic lung capable of replacing the more complicated iron lung was reported by British scientists Thursday. It has been under development for seven years.

It was built by two doctors — pathologist Ronald Welch and Anesthetist James Rochford — and a medical technician, Derek Winks. It has been christened the "Barnet Ventilator" after the Barnet group of hospitals north of London where it was made.

The new electronic lung weighs 56 pounds and can run for 20 hours on built-in batteries. Instead of being encased in a box-like structure, as with the oron lung, patients are linked to the new instrument by two plastic tubes.

Air is pumped into the patient's lungs by pressure from the ventilator. The pressure then is vented in the machine, which enables the patient to exhale. The new lung is portable and, its inventors say, can be used in moving patients from place to place without difficulty. The instrument also can be used in administering anesthetics to patients about to undergo surgery.

The lung has been used in 3,000 clinical cases, Dr. Rochford said, and will be manufactured on a large scale starting next year. It will sell for $1,078, compared to the average $2,520 cost of an iron lung.

Pancake Supper and Book Fair Set in Waterford

Two important events mark the church calendar at Our Lady of the Lakes.

A book fair will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the school in back of the church on Dixie highway, Waterford Township.

A large display will be shown. Books also may be bought and given to the school library, according to Mrs. Bessie L. Goulet, publicity chairman. She added that there is a great need of fifth and sixth grade reference books as well as for junior and high school pastime reading.

A Duncan Hines pancake supper will be served in the Parish hall from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, sponsored by the General Guild.

A bake sale and sales booth will be an added attraction.

Diaz Lanz Posts Bond of $5,000

Claims He Welcomes U.S. Extradition Check; Friends Support Him

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — With friends rallying to his support, Maj. Pedro Diaz Lanz posted $5,000 bond and was released from county jail pending his extradition hearing on Cuban charges of murder and attempted murder.

The one-time chief of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's air force was bailed out by a professional bondsman Thursday. He said his attorney had received many offers of financial assistance following his arrest Wednesday.

Diaz Lanz told newsmen he welcomes the approaching extradition hearing. He said the Cuban charges were only general allegations.

He expressed hope that his fight against communism would never again cause embarrassment to the United States.

Castro has charged that explosives dropped Oct. 21 from a leaflet-scattering plane over Havana killed one person and injured 24. The FBI said Diaz Lanz admitted piloting one of the two leaflet planes but Diaz Lanz said the planes dropped no explosives. He said injuries were caused by wild-firing Cubans on the ground.

Britain Opening Door to American Imports

B SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analayst

NEW YORK (AP)—The world trade worm—American style—is beginning to turn.

England and France have lifted most of the controls on how much American goods they'll take, and Japan is reported ready to do the same.

This comes just as the United States was starting to talk tough about the drain on its gold reserves because of the rapid rise in imports by this country while its industrialists and farmers were being barred from many markets.

And it comes after Washington started talking about shouldering less of the foreign aid burden and expecting more of such dollars to be spent here. Abroad this is leading to fear that Americans are turning to protectionism again.

As one U. S. Commerce Department official puts it: "U. S. producers, who see a growing level of manufactured goods entering the United States each year will no longer countenance policies in other countries which accord priorities in imports of food stuffs, raw materials and capital equipment."

Relaxation in bars against American goods can be important to you if you are a manufacturer wanting to sell some of your goods abroad, or if you work for such a company. It's important to you if you make goods that face increasing foreign competition, or if you work for a company that does.

The turnabout from Uncle Sam's bolstering other nations' industries and currencies to measures to bolster the U. S. dollar—now below par in several countries — is noted with polite amusement by some Europeans.

Some of them suggest the dollar is overvalued and a devaluation would do little harm. Most Americans, from the President on down, have rejected this notion.

WASHINGTON HOPING

The Financial Times of London says: "Washington is evidently hoping—and not unnaturally — that as European countries have received considerable American help in dealing with their postwar financial problems they will be found ready to rally around the United States itself now that she has run into financial difficulties."

But the influential London paper's writer adds that he finds "disturbing the argument that European countries ought to strive might and main to prop up the dollar on the underlying assumption that an American devaluation would necessarily always be a bad thing for the rest of the world."

But the prime thing for Americans just now is that England has scrapped some of it quotas and Americans can try to expand their markets there. Estimates of how much more could be sold run from 300 to 500 million dollars a year.

EYE CAR TARIFF

Some American manufacturers, however, look for little increase. The auto industry, for instance, isn't hampered any more by a limit on how many American cars the British can import—a limit that was never reached.

The real obstacles still remain: a 30 per cent tariff on U. S. cars, and once they are there they must pay—as all cars do—a 50 per cent sales tax.

The tariff and the ocean freight charge still leave American cars at a big disadvantage to the British made—and many are made by American subsidiaries there.

But at least it's a beginning in lowering the barriers.

Chevrolet Sales Hit All-Time Record

DETROIT (UPI)—Chevrolet Division of General Motors reported today that its sales during the past month were the highest ever achieved during any October in the history of the division.

Edwrd N. Cole, general manager, said passenger car sales during the month totaled 133,510, compared with the previous all-time October high of 126,224, established in 1953.

Combined car-truck sales of 158,125 also established a new record eclipsing a 1953 record of 155,375.

The October sales included 23,759 Corvairs, or about 18 per cent of the total.

Cole said the record was "even more remarkable" because they were made when dealer stocks were below par because of low production caused by steel shortages.

Cut Drug Prices Offered Oldsters

Retired Persons Units Establish Mail Order Centers, Plan More

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two organizations for retired people said today they are making a cut-rate drug service available to all Americans over 65 years of age—an estimated 15 million persons.

Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, president of the National Retired Teachers Assn. and the American Assn. of Retired Persons, said this means the aged can obtain medication and pharmaceuticals at a minimum of 25 per cent below regular retail prices if they order from the non-profit drug buying service.

Dr. Andrus also called upon pharmacists to extend similar price reductions to persons over 65. She said this would follow the lead taken by the American Medical Assn. in recommending that member physicans reduce fees for patients over 65 living on modest incomes.

Mail order centers of the NRTA-AARP drug buying service have been opened here and in Altadena, Calif., Dr Andrus said. Others will be opened shortly in major population areas.

Dr Andrus said the two organizations have a combined membership of about 200,000.

Doctors Study Gluing Bones

Would Weld Fracture by Injection Instead of Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are working on the possibility of repairing fractured human bones by gluing them together without surgery. So far it has been tried only on animals, but with promising results.

Dr. Milton S. Cobey said the method involves injecting a plastic material at the site of the fracture. A hypodermic needle is used, in much the same fashion as doctors inject certain medicines and vaccines.

This idea differs from other previous concepts for gluing fractured bone ends together. The older concepts involve surgical operations to lay open the site of the fracture — after which a plastic glue-like material is inserted to help promote healing.

Dr. Cobey, professor of orthopedic surgery at Georgetown's School of Medicine told about the research in a report prepared for an American Fracture Assn. meeting in New Orleans. The paper was distributed here by the university.

"In the history of medicine to date," he said, "no glue or plastic of any kind has been invented that can be injected into a human fracture site to hold bones together. However, it has been done by us entirely in the research field — in laboratory animals. But it is still not applicable to the human at this time."

City Supervisors Finish Courses in Public Works

Seven city supervisory employes who recently completed nine-month courses in public works administration have received certificates from the Institute for Training in Municipal Administration and the American Public Works Assn.

They are Morley Cameron, DPW street superintendent; James N. Carlisle, assistant city engineer; Clyde Christian, assistant DPW superintendent; Edward Gammey, DPW construction foreman; Gordon R. Matthews and Maynard B Newman, civil engineers, and William G. Ogg, DPW refuse supervisor.

The certificates were presented in a City Hall ceremony attended by Mayor Philip E. Rowston, City Manager Walter K. Willman and Joseph Jewell, DPW Superintendent. Jewell coordinated the course.

1959 Cadillac Sales at All-Time Record

DETROIT (AP) — Cadillac, which dominates the luxury car sales field, said Thursday it has sold more cars in the first 10 months of 1959 than in any other year in its 57 year history.

Retail deliveries totaled 120,736 cars, beating both 1955 and 1957, previously Cadillac's best years.

October was the company's third best month in its history with 14,407 cars sold. The all time Cadillac record month was December, 1958, with 15,236 deliveries.

Cadillac production was suspended Oct. 29 because of a steel shortage.

Four local women who have been working on the Holly Berry Fair to be held at Kirk in the Hills Nov. 17 are, from left, Mrs. Harvey W. Perry, Mrs. Kenneth Raymond, Mrs. Morton P. Bacon and Mrs. A. W. Bickley. They have been working at Mrs. Bacon's home on Christmas items to be sold at the fair. Mrs. Bacon is chairman of Christmas Corners and Mrs. Perry, of the candle division of the Greenhouse. Mrs. Raymond is chairman of the snack bar.

Nov. 17 Date for Fete at Kirk in Hills

Final plans are set for the Holly Berry Fair to be held Nov. 17 in the undercroft of Kirk in the Hills on West Long Lake road.

Mrs. Henry Van Vurst of Bloomfield Township is chairman of the fair and Mrs. George Goodwin of Pontiac is chairman of staging.

The fair will run from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. A snack bar will be opened in the social hall for shoppers from noon to 3 p.m.

A family turkey dinner will be served from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. William A. Brunstad of East Dartmoor street, West Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Morton P. Bacon of Chippewa road is chairman of Christmas Corners.

She has announced that items for sale will include Christmas tree skirts, children's Christmas stockings in a reindeer design and other holiday items prepared by congregation women.

Assisting Mrs. Bacon will be Mrs. Lowell F. Sarnes of Bloomfield Township and Mrs. A. W. Bickley of West Bloomfield Township.

A Bon Bon Alley with pastel decorated sugar bells for tea parties, pecans for Christmas baking, tins of cashew brittle, fudge and divinity candy will be a feature.

Mrs. Allan Kay of Square Lake road is chairman of this gift shop.

There will also be a Pantry Shelf filled with jams, jellies, fruit and pickles, including ginger pear preserves and East Indian chutney.

Other gift shops include Apron Lane, Doll Dresses, The Book Nook, Attic Treasures, Bakery and Stationery.

There will be approximately 1,000 books from which to choose. Patricia Fulton, headmistress of the school, has just returned from the east where she visited several publishers and authors.

The school is a preparatory school for girls from the seventh through the twelfth grades and is now entering its fourth year. It is temporarily located at the Birmingham Unitarian Church on Lone Pine road and Woodward avenue until the new school building on East Square Lake road is finished.

Miss Fulton attended the Educational Records Bureau convention during her trip east. She is a graduate of Goucher College in Baltimore, Md. and has an AB degree from Wesleyan University. She majored in bio-chemistry and taught in Baltimore, then was head of the science department at Mt. Vernon Seminary in Washington, D. C.

On sale will be books for every occasion, from illustrated foreign books to reference material volumes, sports books and unusual art books.

Some of the authors will be present to autograph their books opening day. Among them will be Aileen Saarinen who wrote "The Proud Possessors" and Sylvia Cooper, author of "Thunder Stones."

Hours Nov. 15 are from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. and from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Nov. 16. Closing day hours Nov. 17, will be from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

DAR Has 'Citizens' as Guests

Rep. Broomfield Talks on America to Crowd of 125

Rep. William S. Broomfield spoke on "America's Defense" at the meeting of the General Richardson Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday evening. Members of the New Citizens League were guests of honor. There were 125 present.

Mrs. W. F. Todd, chairman of the citizenship committee of the DAR group, presented the "Americanism Award of Merit" to Jose Vega of Walled Lake, a new citizen formerly of Spain. Mrs. Vega received a corsage.

Janice Antona was in charge of the program which was held at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mr. Broomfield stressed the progress the United States has made in missiles and in defense against missiles. He also stated that winning the defense race and losing the economic race makes no sense if America is to remain strong.

Mrs. Allan H. Monroe and Mrs. Harry Going presided at the tea table. Others on the committee were Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. H. B. Austin, Blanche Avery, Mrs. E. H. Whitfield, Mrs. G. H. Boles and Mrs. J. D. Buckner.

Friends May Keep Seats Reserved

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I went to a concert the other evening at which the seats were not reserved. We arrived early in order to get seats up front. When we arrived there were only two seats up front that were vacant and when my husbamd and I went to sit down in them, we were told that they were being saved for friends. I explained that as there were no reserved seats and their friends were not there, we had every right to take them, which we did.

"The persons who were saving the seats glared at us and remarked that we were very rude. I think they were the ones who were rude for depriving others of good seats and that we had every right to take them. Will you please give me your opinion on this?"

Answer: I'm sorry, but you should not have taken the seats after having been told that they were being saved for friends. You should have found seats elsewhere.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently my husband and I received an invitation to the golden wedding anniversary of one of our neighbors. Engraved at the bottom of the invitation were the words, "No gifts, please." I took it literally and sent nothing, although a neighbor of ours sent flowers. I would like to know if we should have at least sent some flowers to the anniversary couple."

Answer: No, you were quite right. When they say, "No gifts, please" they mean it!

Lincoln Fair Today

The Lincoln Junior High School Fair is being held today, instead of Saturday, as previously reported in the Pontiac Press.

Women's Section

A fine wool and nylon blend fashionable for any occasion is used in these wardrobe classics by Bobbie Brooks. The two-piece look dress at the left is actually a smartly detailed sheath dress. The peplum is accented with ric rac that is repeated on the scoop neck and sleeves. The tailored dress at right with flattering bat-wing sleeves has a jaunty small collar and bow-tie belt. It buttons to below the waistline for "step-in" ease.

Princess Margaret, You've Got a Rival

By GREGORY JENSEN

LONDON (UPI) — Open letter to Princess Margaret:

Don't panic, Your Royal Highness, but you've got competition, and awfully close to home.

Nobody is quite ready to cry, "The princess is passe; long live the princess." Not yet.

But that little ugly duckling who has glided in your shadow for so long has blossomed into a big, appealing swan. And her headlines lately have been almost as big as yours.

Take a look, ma'am, at what one of your local newspapers said the other day:

"Once there was a princess — a shy princess who was rather taken for granted. When she duly declared some exhibition open, people never got very excited . . .

"Then one day a magician called De Haviland provided the princess with a magic carpet called a Comet, which whisked her 11,000 miles away to a place called Australia . . .

"The princess met the people and their cheers were so loud that they echoed even in England during an election. For the first time her own people really realized what a dinkum princess, what a little bobby-dazzler what a wonderful ambassadress was their own Princess Alexandra of Kent."

That was your little cousin they were talking about, ma'am. Little Princess Alexandra Helen Elizabeth Olga Christabel, born 23 years ago come Christmas Day.

And how long has it been, Your Highness, since you were called "A little bobby-dazzler?"

All of a sudden, "Princess Alex" is somebody. Newspapers notice her. Newsreels photograph her. Gossips find a new romance for her in every boy she sees — and that is surely the ultimate test.

It wasn't too many months ago, as you know, ma'am, that Princess Alexandra of Kent was simply a leaf on your family tree and a rather awkward child with a long, aquiline nose.

5 SHILLINGS A WEEK

You know her story well: How her father, the brother of your father the king, was killed in a flying accident during the war when Alexandra was five, and how her mother suddenly found herself — by royal standards — broke.

Alexandra didn't see you much from then on. The duchess had to sell her London house and move into the country. Alexandra got five shillings a week (now 70 cents) spending money. Her official biography says she "is the first British princess to be given a normal school career," and unlike you, she was raised as is any upper-class British child.

Even when she entered society, nobody much cared. The headlines were still all yours — yours and Group Capt. Peter Townsend's.

In 1954, when she was 18, she came back from a finishing school in Paris. Nobody noticed her at all, did they, ma'am? She toured Canada with her mother that year, her first official overseas tour. Hardly anyone noticed her even then. She went with the queen to the Mediterranean in 1956 and — though you'd never put it quite that way— might as well have stayed home.

Latin Americans noticed her, though, earlier this year. On a tour with her mother, the Latins noted she was no longer an ugly duckling, a gangling five feet nine, but had filled out to something close to beauty. This way, you might say, ma'am, the real beginning of what we're talking about.

Because then came that stunning, backbreaking 35,000-mile Australian tour. This time — for the first time — Alexandra was all on her own. And ma'am, she knocked 'em dead.

The Australian people dubbed her "the dinkum princess" and greeted her everywhere with shouts of "good on yer, Alex." In the Australian lexicon (you know that, your highness!) there is no higher praise.

Now, this is not criticism, ma'am, implied or otherwise. But Alexandra won Australia with her humor, informality and common sense friendliness.

Suddenly, people back here at home started up and took notice. "She does the right thing instinctively," said one new admirer. "She's got good sense," said another.

Maybe you did some noticing, too, ma'am

Her, name, once linked halfheartedly with King Baudouin of Belgium and Prince Juan Carlos of Spain, began to be coupled with the Marquis of Hamilton, with Lord O'Neill and — typically — with a couple of just plain misters.

Did you notice, ma'am, what Bernard Murphy wrote in the Star?

"When Princess Alexandra marries — and I forecast it will be sooner than later," he said, "it will be a real love match."

So far, no royal romance yet, just rumors. But the rumors, Princes Margaret, ma'am, are getting her noticed. So are her tennis, horsewomanship, love of classical music and habit of dropping into the nearest shop to pick a dress off the rack.

May I give Your Highness one personal example?

Once, just a few months ago, my wife charged toward a group of people getting out of a big black car at a concert. A policeman stopped her with a burly arm.

"Do you know you just tried to run down Princess Alexandra?" I asked

"Is that who it was?" the wife said. "I never recognized her."

Happy Marriage Is Not Always 50-50

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to brides: In case you are starting out with the idea that marriage is a 50-50 proposition let me quote from a man who has been happily married for 15 years to a woman who has always been willing to go more than halfway to make a happy home.

He says: "After looking back over 15 years of marriage I have come to the conclusion that it is the woman who really keeps a home together.

"The realization of how wonderful my wife really is has kept me close to her through the years. When things go wrong I stop and think how hard my wife tries to please, how unselfish she is, always thinking first of the children and me and then herself.

"I can see in the children and in myself that we are all better for my wife's willingness to do more than her share, to go more than halfway. Because my wife doesn't measure what she does for us against what we do for her but does everything possible to make a happy home we all try to think of each other first. Maybe some of her graciousness is rubbing off on us!"

MANY KNOW

That is a rare letter I will admit. But I don't believe the situation is rare. I think a lot of men know and deeply appreciate the fact that they have happy marriages because they are married to women who don't expect or demand a 50-50 deal out of marriage—but just go on generously giving the best of themselves to their husbands and children.

Being generous and openhearted, they find life good and their husbands and children find home life good, too.

Just make up your mind that you will do all in your power to make your husband happy and to create a happy home for your children. Some of your graciousness is bound to rub off on them.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY

donnell says;

Permanents are improving constantly!

Isn't it wonderful . . . every permanent wave you get is better than the last! Manufacturers in the beauty field never stop improving permanent waves, and developing new ones. In beauty science laboratories, cosmetic chemists spend many days and months devising new formulas, testing new chemicals — devoting their skills to your beauty! That's why they're forever discovering new ways to give your hair more sheen, more "strength" beneath the softness . . . coaxing natural-looking waves into your locks . . . to last and last!

No more baked in curls!

Not so many years ago, beauty shops couldn't help leaving split ends, dryness, and unsightly "kinks" after a permanent wave! But how times have changed

Abby Advises:

This Fellow Is Too Tearful--- Cut the Coke and Confidences

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl. On my way home from school I usually stop at a gasoline station for a coke. A man who works there (he is 29) has been confiding in me. He calls me up evenings and we talk for hours. I feel very sorry for him because his wife left him for another man and he misses her and their baby. He's had a tough life, Abby, and says he thinks the world of me. I am afraid if my mother knew who I was talking to she'd have a fit. (She thinks it's a kid from school). How can I tell him not to call me without hurting his feelings?

SIXTEEN

ABBY

DEAR SIXTEEN: Simply tell him not to call you any more. Take another route home and avoid seeing him. A man of 29 who has to borrow the shoulder of a 16-year-old girl to cry on, probably has designs on the rest of her. I urge you to avoid him.

DEAR ABBY: If I ruled this country, I would lay down a federal law stating that no mother could work until her children reach 18 years of age.

In cases where the father is dead exceptions would be made, of course. But where there is a working father, the mother should be forced to stay at home and look after her children until the last one reaches adulthood. If a father can't support a family, he has no business having one in the first place. I think this law, if enforced, would cure our juvenile delinquency problem entirely. What do you think?

OLD-TIMER

DEAR OLD: I doubt it. But if it would, I'm afraid the "medicine" would be worse than the disease. We are a free people, living in a democracy. No dictator, (thank heavens) can order an individual to work or stay home. And borscht will flow in the Potomac before that happens here.

DEAR ABBY: Four months ago my husband passed away after a long illness. His best friend (a bachelor) had been consoling me in my grief. I don't know what I'd have done without him. We lost our heads and now I am pregnant. I am 34 and he is 50. I have three children and can't imagine how this happened because I was told I couldn't have any more children.

JERRY ANN SCHROEDER

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon P. Schroeder of Drayton Plains announce the engagement of their daughter, Jerry Ann, to Airman 3.C James R. Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fish of Lanette drive. A June wedding is planned.

He claims he loves me and will marry me later. But he says it wouldn't look right for me to get married so soon after my husband's death. If I wait a year, that will take me into February and the baby is due in March. Should I move out of town, try to talk him into marrying me now or what? Don't lecture me, Abby. I have already taken enough punishment from my own conscience.

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: If this man intends to marry you, he had better marry you now. He should be more concerned about how "it would look' if you didn't get married immediately than "how it will look" if you did.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D. D.: Why is he so frantically searching for a state where no blood test is required? Those who avoid it is deliberately usually need it most.

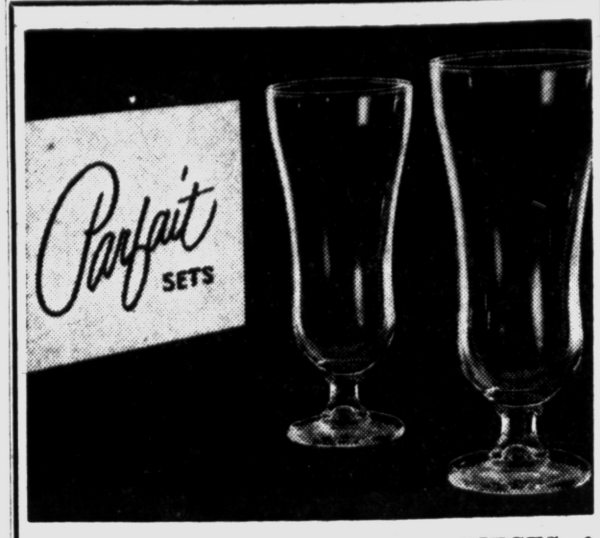
What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kind to "tight" budgets are beef and pork liver, heart, tongue and kidneys. These variety meats are usually cheaper than other meats on any market at any season, say home economists.



You can use these elegant 8-ounce glasses for parfaits, frozen desserts and custards—they add the finishing touch to a perfect meal.

We Should Despise Deception

Is Our Moral Fabric Tattered?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—In all this furor over the television quiz show fixes, I was struck by the comment of a woman who said:

"He (Charles Van Doren) had a chance to get something for nothing and I don't blame him for doing it."

Is there something wrong with me?

I wonder how many women agree with this "So what!" attitude?

Maybe I'm off in my thinking that the morals which were good enough for our fathers are good enough for me. Or, maybe I'm old-fashioned in a new-fashioned world where the material so often outweighs the spiritual.

If we're to be apathetic about a big deception, we're going to have to rewrite a lot of Sunday school lessons. They just don't jibe. We'll also have to re-do Poor Richard and his maxim about honesty being the best policy.

NO COMPROMISE

If I'm one of the few upset about what one newspaper editorial labeled our "moral flabbiness," not only will we have to re-jigger some of the Sunday school lessons; there'll be heck to pay with parental guidance. Home is supposed to be the first place a child learns the lessons of morals as well as manners.

Home is where the child first hears that truth is good and falsehood bad, that right is right, wrong is wrong, and there is no compromise.

Rep. Steven B. Derounian (R-NY) of the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight commented: Why commend a person for telling the truth?

Do women other than I agree with him?

I think the bulk of us do: that most of us still have enough moral backbone to hate cheating, no matter on what scale.

And most of us have heart enough to forgive when confession is made and atonement is promised.

It does not matter, it seems to me, that a few idols have feet of clay. More important is how each of us reacts to a shattered illusion. If it is with indifference, then it is time for us to do some personal stock-taking.

And if the deception does manage to stir in each of us a reassessment of the code by which we live, then some good will have emerged.

Moist Chocolate Cake Made with Cocoa, Water

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

At a recent luncheon where there were a number of men present we were interested to see how many of them chose chocolate cake in preference to any other kind. The man in your life will be happy to have you make this chocolate cake for dessert any time.

Mrs. Byron Rogers is active in PTA and Eastern Star. She has a high school son and a small daughter. As an active worker in her church, she is an officer in the women's society. Bridge is her favorite pastime.

CHOCOLATE CAKE
By Mrs. Byron Rogers

½ cup shortening
6 tablespoons cocoa
1 cup boiling water
2 cups sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sour milk
1½ teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put shortening and cocoa in boiling water and stir until shortening is melted. Add soda to sour milk. Add ingredients to first mixture in order given.

Bake in two 8-inch greased layer cake pans for 30-35 minutes at 350 degrees. Frost as desired.

Russians' New Palace Dolls Up Wedding Rite

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet government, conceding that weddings are sentimental affairs, has opened its first marriage palace and granted brides the right to wear frilly dresses and carry flowers.

Since the revolution, civil weddings have been as glamorous as getting a driver's license. The couple applies for the marriage license at a drab registry office, picks it up, and goes away married. Rings are considered superfluous.

As a result, more and more brides have been deciding on church weddings, where candlelight and frills still play a big part.

The first marriage palace, opened Sunday in Leningrad, is the government's answer to letters in newspapers complaining that there is no alternative to the church ceremony for good Communists who are also romantic.

The former home of a Czarist nobleman, the palace has blue tapestry walls, fine carpets, and a crystal chandelier. The wedding party marches up a marble staircase to recorded music of Beethoven and Chopin—but not the Mendelssohn and Wagner wedding marches.

The palace is also a money-maker for the state. It has a restaurant with champagne and caviar for sale, a flower shop, a gift shop, and a wedding ring counter — everything for the packaged wedding.

Lacy wedding gowns are now common in Russian store windows, although all such trappings were considered remnants of the decadent past for many years.

A young married Russian said he thought the new ceremonies would be better than his own form-filling experiences, which left "nothing nice to remember."

The complaints about the civil ceremonies began to come in after an automotive plant foreman wrote the government newspaper Izvestia that "many people arrange weddings in church not because they believe in God but because they like the rite."

Holiday Dinner Is Topic

Members of Zeta Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority met Thursday evening at the Home Service Department of Consumers Power Co.

Mary Jackson, assisted by Rhea Butler, presented a "holiday dinner" demonstration.

Guests included Mrs. C. T. Forsman, Mrs. Erwin Gottschalk, Mrs. Henry Rice, Mrs. Gertrude Martin, Mrs. J. E. Scott, Mrs. Blanche Donelson, Mrs. Eugene Carey Jr., Mrs. John Outen, Mrs. Dale Moats, Mrs. Ivan Knight and Mrs. Gertrude Foley.

Members adjurned to Mrs. Eugene Carey's West Iroquois road home for the business session.

Gift Basket Is Topic for Phi Alpha Kappa

The first meeting of the newly-formed Phi Alpha Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held Wednesday evening. Roselea Chavez, president, was the hostess.

Money-making projects and a Thanksgiving basket were discussed.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 at the home of Bonnie Banford.

Buy Dresses, Too

The girl whose wardrobe is composed entirely of sweaters, skirts and blouses might pause to reflect that a little planning might give her some really handsome one - piece dresses. In good wools and silks, these could create a wardrobe of distinction to replace the oddments.

She swings her leg backward and forward. This exercise is included in Josephine Lowman's leaflet No. 3—"Hip Exercises."

Speeds Reducing

Inches Melt With Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "I am going on a diet. Will I have to exercise to lose inches from the hips?"

A. When you diet you lose weight all over, from the hips as well as every other area. However you can speed the loss in inches from the hips by doing hip-slimming exercises. If you would like to have my leaflet containing these exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall and weight 124 pounds. I am constantly reminded that I am terribly fat. My parents say not to worry—that later on I will be taller and slim down. However, I am worried about the present, not the future.

"I do not like candy, cake or any other kind of sweets. I love vegetables, salads, lean meat, but my downfall is potatoes and gravy. I have tried eating alone before supper and not at the table with all of the rich foods but Daddy throws a fit and says that we should all eat together. Most of our food is fried or starchy. I just do not seem to have any willpower. Please help me. I DO NOT WANT TO BE EMBARRASSED at school this year like I was last year."

A. You are quite a lot overweight. I am not sure that you will slim down naturally later on and anyway, as you say, the present is what is worrying you. I feel sure that your parents do not realize how unhappy your overweight is making you or they would cooperate with you and help you lose it.

Talk to them again about it. Tell them how it is ruining your fun. The years at your age should be fun and school should be fun and it is a shame, I think, to have this spoiled by too many pounds.

I can understand why your father prefers to have you at the table with them but perhaps he will give in for a short time. I do think it would be easier for you to eat away from the table until you get your willpower under better control.

Q. "My girl friends have been telling me that I am out of proportion—and they are right. Still it embarrasses me to have them tell me.

"I am 15 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall and weigh 100 pounds. My measurements are bust 33½ inches, waist 24, hips 34. Please tell me where I should gain or lose and how much."

A. Your friends have certainly been selling you a "bill of goods." Perhaps they are envious of you. Your measurements are perfect and your weight just about right. You might gain three or four pounds.

Zelkovas May Replace Elms in U. S.

Japanese Trees to Be Planted Here

Rutgers street will be host in a few weeks to a little-known tree that many experts predict will replace the American Elm.

Actually, it's an oriental tree with the highly non-English name of Zelkova.

The Parks & Recreation Department plans to plant about 50 Zelkova along Rutgers street as part of a move to make the northside neighborhood a little greener next spring.

The Zelkova bears some similarity to the American elm and actually is a distant cousin in the tree family.

It grows only about half at tall, though, to about 45 feet in height and smooth gray bark instead of the rough, corrugated skin of the Elm. Its leaves turn an attractive rusty red in the fall.

It has the same upsweeping vase-shape in outline as the elm though.

But unlike its American cousin the Zelkova has lots of resistance to tree diseases, especially the Dutch elm disease which has been a plague in recent years.

It's because of this resistance that many think the Zelkova eventually will replace the Elm, said Donald E. Nagel, city forester.

WANTS NOMINATION—Philip H. Willkie, above, wants the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor of Indiana in 1960. The son of Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee, says he thinks he can help the ticket.

ON WAY OUT

"Let's face it," he said, "the Elm tree, although as American as apple pie, probably is on the way out."

And the Zelkova is on the way in, he added.

Nagel pointed out that the name Zelkova has a touch of irony in Pontiac.

The word is Japanese and comes from the fact that the wood of the Zelkova is traditionally used in construction of rickshaws.

Its tough and elastic qualities make it a good material for the little one-seat carts which rickshawmen drag along the bumpy Japanese roads.

"Kind of odd to be importing rickshaw wood into an automobile center like Pontiac," said Nagel.

Rutgers street will be planted between curb and sidewalk from Baldwin avenue to Carlisle avenue.

Forestry crews already have planted 150 other trees in the same neighborhood on Strathmore, W. Longfellow and W. Fairmont streets.

There are new ash trees on Strathmore and Fairmont and plane trees on Longfellow.

The planting was carried out this spring and fall in response to the City Commission's decision to reforest streets denuded of trees when improvements such as curbs and gutters were put in.

"We think this decision was a fine one, of course, and are preparing plans to plant along two other streets next spring — Arlene and Stirling," said Nagel.

New trees cost the city about $10 apiece and are planted 40 to 50 feet apart, according to the position of driveways, overhead wires and underground utilities.

All the new trees should be sprouting initial crops of leaves next spring, said Nagel, and should be of sufficient size in a half-dozen years to offer good shade.

About 65 per cent of all white births occur in hospitals.

Addison Group Reports 80 Members

Terry Will Head Township Assn.

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Hiram Terry was unanimously elected president of the new Addison Township Development Assn. at its organizational meeting last night.

To serve with him for one-year terms are Dr. Bert Campbell, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Thorman, secretary; and Davey Lee Ferguson, treasurer.

All four had been temporary officers until last night's election.

Carl Kuechenmeister and Walter Griffin were elected to three-year terms on the Board of Directors with Mrs. Frank Webber and Jesse Sutherby to serve for two years.

Elected for one year was Russell Davidson.

Kuechenmeister, who has been membership chair, reported a membership of 80.

The Board will appoint a committee to ask the Addison Township Board and Leonard Village Council if the Rowland Hall kitchen can be moved downstairs.

The association will use the hall for social as well as business purposes, and the kitchen would be more functional on the first floor.

Committees also will be named to investigate sites for a township dump and to consider offering library service to township residents.

The executive board also was authorized to appoint a historian.

Association members learned last night that the Oxford Public Library feels the financial strain of carrying the load of 209 Addison Township residents with library cards there.

Library officials have asked the Addison Township Board to pay part of the expense and have requested that three township residents be named to work with three from Oxford on the problem.

The township committee also will be instructed to investigate the possibility of providing mobile library service to the community.

The ATDA Board plans to write a letter to the U. S. Senate housing subcommittee citing the problems of the township in obtaining FHA loans.

The Senate committee is studying a proposed program to facilitate house purchases, which, Terry said, is of great interest to Addison Township.

The appointments will be made at the next meeting of the ATDA Executive Board in about a week.

Pontiac Press Photo

SERVE ON BOARD — Elected last night to serve on the Board of Directors of the newly-created Addison Township Development Assn. are, from left seated, Mrs. Frank Webber and Walter Griffin, and standing, Carl Kuechenmeister and Jesse Sutherby. Russell Davidson, named to fill the remaining position on the five-man board, was absent. The temporary officers were unanimously elected to serve in their same capacities for one year.

Disaster Drill Set in Romeo

'Casualties' at Junior High Will Be Rushed to Hospital

ROMEO—Some 100 persons, including Civil Defense workers and personnel from the Community Hospital, will take part in a disaster drill here on Tuesday, according to Edward G. Trim, director of the local CD unit.

A simulated explosion at the junior high school will set off the operation at 1 p.m. Some 50 students will be designated as "casualties" and be rushed to the hospital.

Station wagons, trucks and other suitable vehicles for transporting the "injured" will be pressed into service, Trim said.

All hospital personnel will report directly to the hospital, and all doctors living south of the medical facility will go immediately to the "disaster" scene.

Doctors living north of the hospital will report there to receive the "casualties."

The procedure would be reversed should the large - scale emergency occur north of the hospital, Trim said.

Dr. Thomas K. Buchanan of Imlay City, chief medical officer in the event of disatser, said that he plans to hold similar drills in other towns such as Almont and Imlay City to familiarize doctors an dother hospital personnel with their duties in case of a disaster.

Southfield Will Quiz McNutt About 'Aggressive Spending'

SOUTHFIELD — City Administrator Robert J. McNutt will be asked to explain to the City Council his "aggressive spending" for the first-quarter of the fiscal year at a special meeting tomorrow.

The meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. in the City Hall. It has been called by Council President C. Hugh Dohany at the request of the City Council and McNutt.

The city's first-quarter audit shows many budgeted accounts overdrawn, according to Dohany who charged McNutt with "aggressive spending." In one instance an $11,000 expenditure is shown for a lease equipment account for DPW work, the council head stated.

Dohany claimed this money was never budgeted by the Council.

McNutt agreed that the specific account was never budgeted but said councilmen authorized leasing or buying the equipment last April, Dohany reported.

They were told by McNutt that the leasing would be done, but council never gave final approval Dohany charged.

He said he was worried about whether there will be enough in the treasury with about three-quarters of the fiscal year to go.

He added that he has "great respect for McNutt's ability," but said "he (McNutt) has to follow the rules and must do the things the way the Council wishes. We don't want to have to borrow money at the end of the year."

According to Dohany the city charter prohibits an administrator from spending more than $250 without Council approval.

All councilmen agreed McNutt is an "aggressive go-getter" who should be questioned, "but not with the impression that we are going to fire him every time."

The Council is divided. Dohany is backed by Councilmen Otho D. Edwards.

A vote of confidence is being considered by councilmen who have supported McNutt. The vote will be taken only when it is felt that the attack by Dohany and Edwards is unwarranted, one councilman said.

Councilman Thomas M. Costello said Dohany had no reason to attack McNutt.

Edwards said he has a lot of questions to ask McNutt at Saturday's meeting.

He said McNutt hasn't had answers to some of "my questions about money in the past."

The dispute goes back to 1958 when members of the charter commission, many now councilmen, argued bitterly over finances and tax limits.

Goodison Parents 'Arty'

GOODISON — Baldwin School parents will roll up their sleeves and try their hands at finger painting, clay modeling, papier mache work, and chalk and crayon drawing at their November PTA meeting next Wednesday.

They also will experiment with silk screen painting and block printing.

Mrs. Dorothy Whipple, Mrs. Mary Sue Preston and Julius Kusey, art consultants for the Rochester Community schools, will conduct this Parents Art Workshop.

They will present the basic art techniques used by pupils, thus giving the parent a better understanding of his children's work, the program committee said.

Parents are urged to wear old clothes or bring aprons or smocks to the workshop scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Fifth grade room mothers will serve refreshments.

Reside in Grand Rapids After Rochester Nuptials

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Residing in Grand Rapids are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Tyson. They exchanged their vows before the Rev. Donald Olsen in the First Baptist Church in Rochester.

The bride is the former Sharon L. Wiles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Wiles, of 3151 Avalon St., Auburn Heights. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harwell Tyson of Boothwyn, Pa.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of mirrmist taffeta fashioned with princess-style bodice, round neckline appliqued with Venetian lace and long taffeta sleeves ending in points over her hand. The bow in back terminated in a chapel train.

A crown of orange blossoms held her waist-length veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harry Ambacher of Grand Rapids. Esther Clayton of Grand Rapids and Barbara Nordquist of Rochester were bridesmaids.

Terry Tyson, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Ring bearer was Randell Tyson, brother of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was Harry Ambacher of Grand Rapids. Ushers were Ronald and Raymond Tyson of Boothwyn, Pa., brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held in the church parlors after which the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tyson are students at the Grand Rapids Baptist Theological Seminary and Bible Institute.

Find Plastic Material Pliable at 50-Below

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department scientists have developed a new plastic material that will bend without breaking at temperatures as low as 50 degrees below zero.

The material is made from compounds containing inedible animal fats.

Potential uses for the plastic were said to include wire coatings, automobile seat covers, galoshes and other protective clothing—articles exposed to a wide range of temperatures.

Lutherans Schedule Fellowship Dinner

ROCHESTER — The Abiding Presence Evangelical Lutheran Church will hold a Fellowship Dinner at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Avon Park Pavilion.

Guest speaker will be Elwood Mann of the Michigan Synod Stewardship Committee.

Ike to See Pope Dec. 6, but Will It Be Privately?

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that Pope John XXIII will receive President Eisenhower on Dec. 6 but did not say whether the audience would be an informal private one or a state affair.

Southfield Dedicates Post Office Saturday

SOUTHFIELD — This city's new post office on Telegraph road just north of 10-Mile road will be dedicated tomorrow at 3 p.m.

Mayor Donald L. Swanson will open ceremonies.

Speakers will be Nyles Jackson, executive assistant to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, and Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

Southfield Postmaster Charles L. Curtis said ceremonies will be outdoors, weather permitting. Thirty Boy Scouts will participate in the flag-raising.

Music will be provided by the Southfield High School Band. The "Star Spangled Banner" will be sung by former PTA president, Mrs. Robert Jones.

The post office, completed in September, is a one-story brick building of 8,000 square feet.

ELLEN M. HEIDEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Heideman, of 114 W. Hollister St., Romeo, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen M., to William S. Couch, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Couch, of 62450 Campground Rd., Washington. Their wedding will take place Jan. 2.

Study Old, New at Poppleton

Contrast in Education Being Made as Part of National Observance

TROY — The contrast between old and new in schools will be the theme of the primary grades at Poppleton School during National Education Week starting Sunday.

The school of early settlers and that of today will be compared in terms of curriculum, equipment, buildings and transportation, according to Principal Myrtle I. Bro.

Some rooms have book displays. Pupils in others are learning poems and dramatizing the wealth of reading material now available, and other classes will depict the one-room schoolhouse, which was Poppleton almost 100 years ago, and Poppleton School of today.

The fourth grades are making posters and discussing the differences between educational opportunities and conditions today and those of colonial times.

Fifth graders are emphasizing the language arts by writing compositions on "What We Expect of Education" and "What We Are Doing at School."

The sixth grade is having a panel discussion on "The Importance of Education Today."

National Education Week also provides the theme for the Poppleton PTA meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

Mrs. Beatrice Bowen, a former teacher of children's literature at Wayne State University, will be the speaker. She will talk about the best types of literature for children and will bring books to illustrate her remarks.

Minstrel Show Tomorrow Night at Brandon High

ORTONVILLE — An old-time minstrel show will be presented at the Brandon High School at 8 p.m. tomorrow, under the direction of Earl Holling.

Sponsored by the Brandon School Band Parents, many members of the group as well as other local talent will provide entertainment during the performance.

Henry Wood, has charge of the music, with Donald Wills, Howard Grovesteen and Ivan Westerley joining him in several barber shop renditions.

Proceeds from the show will be used to furnish band students with much needed instruments, according to Mrs. Vern Mayhew, chairman.

Engagement Announced

AVON TOWNSHIP — Mr. and Mrs. Dudley B. Barrett of 3334 Willett St., announce the engagement of their daughter Barbara Ann to Ted McKissack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Madison McKissack of Muskegon. The wedding is planned for Dec. 12 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Auburn Heights.

Book Review

Reporter Tells of His Escapes

'Freedom Is My Beat'
by Jules Dubois

Keep the wires open'

That was always Jules Dubois problem: How to get his story out to the waiting world.

Jules Dubois, Latin American correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, has done it again with his latest book, 'Freedom Is My Beat.'

He goes back 30 years and up to the present in Cuba to tell the stories of the Central American revolutions, of the Communists sneaking in and taking over, of the times he was shadowed, arrested, beaten, nearly strangled and challenged to duels.

In fact, he tells you what it was like to be there . . . there when history was being made.

Dubois has an uncanny sense of ways and means to get to the troubled spots of Central America. On one chartered plane, his pilot said:

"Well, if we don't make it, one thing sure, you won't have to pay for this trip."

His chapters read almost like comic operas but they are deadly serious, and we mean deadly. He tripped from one hot spot to another, week after week, year after year; from one country to another; Panama, Colombia, Venezuela, Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Cuba.

He was in Caracas when Vice President and Mrs. Nixon were spat upon and stoned, and their cars mobbed. Dubois reported the part played by the Commies in inciting the mob.

To read this book is a revelation, an eye-opener to the necessity that we must all fight for freedom of the press . . . the first freedom.

Dubois has fought bravely and long . . . but he has carried Lady Luck right around with him.

One of three retail stores in the United States is a food outlet.

British Liner Floats Sideways to Clear Dock

LONDON (AP) — Britain's largest postwar liner will be able to pull out of dock without tugs. The captain just has to shout "full speed sideways."

A spokesman of the Orient Line said the transverse propulsion system on the new 40,000-ton Oriana is based on an old idea but has never been used in a really big ship before.

It was devised by Vickers Armstrong, builders of the Oriana. Circular steel casings are fitted across the ship at the bow and stern, below the waterline. They contain pumps which force out water on either side of the vessel, according to which way the captain wants to go.

The spokesman said harbor pilots and labor unions might still insist on tugs being present. In any case, tugs would be needed if the wind and tide were unfavorable.

The 14 million pound ($39,200,000) liner was launched by Princess Alexandra last Tuesday. It will be used on the California and Australia run.

Altar Society Picks Officers for Guild

General guild officers of Our Lady of the Lakes Rosary Altar Society have been elected.

HAS BACKERS — New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller waves to a small but enthusiastic crowd carrying "Rockefeller for President" banners. His staff finds the determined governor an able and magnetic person, but he has few strong backers. Sometimes the governor's direct approach to problems alienates Republican members of his own Legislature. This picture was taken during Gov. Rockefeller's recent "nonpolitical" visit to New Hampshire which holds the nation's first Presidential primary next spring.

Directness May Lift Him or Down Him

Rockefeller Spurns Political Expediency

(Editor's Note: This is the third and last in a series about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York which spotlights his activities as a possible GOP presidential nominee. The following describes his political techniques.)

By JACK V. FOX

NEW YORK (UPI)—A high New York Republican official was joking recently about what he calls Nelson Rockefeller's "secret weapon."

"He may have hit on the greatest political strategy in history," the man said. "Or it could prove to be the worst.

"It is simply to take an unequivocal position on an issue and back it up, no matter how unpopular it seems at first. He just doesn't give a damn. It is his idea of how problems should be approached and if that is fatal then so be it."

Rockefeller's record as New York governor illustrates what he means.

Immediately after his election last year, he decided to tackle the state's perennial financial deficit, headon. As is his custom, he had an expert group make a study. They said the most effective, perhaps the only answer, was a raise in the state income tax across the board.

Rockefeller gave the word to raise taxes.

There was an uproar among state legislators in his own party. They argued for some traditional alternative — soaking business or instituting some kind of hidden taxes or floating more bonds or just going through the motions and letting the deficit stand.

"Nelson listened but he refused to budge an inch," a Republican leader recalled. "He said so many businesses were already moving to New Jersey and elsewhere that New York couldn't afford to drive more out with greater taxes and thus lose jobs and further state income.

"He pushed, and to everyone's amazement, he got the income tax through. He succeeded in making a lot of people pretty mad. You'll remember he remarked he didn't expect dancing in the streets. But he thinks leaders have got to face issues squarely and make the people face them, too. That's how he is."

Rockefeller's program for nuclear bomb shelters for virtually every New Yorker laid an egg. The cost of backyard and basement shelters proved impractical and there were other objections. It is typical that Rockefeller didn't drop the plan but now has a new approach in the works.

Someone asked him recently what he would think if New York proved to be the only state attempting such a sweeping shelter plan.

"What I think is that there might be a great many more people moving to New York one day," he said wryly. "We even might stop California from passing us in population."

Rockefeller inspires tremendous devotion from those who work for him. Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson says the governor has developed a unique governmental technique in his "task force" operations. He brings together the very best men available to work at no expense on a crash program, Wilson explained, and he keeps after them until they come up with a recommendation.

NO BIG BACKING

There are now 45 separate groups working on New York State problems from those to be presented to the Legislature in January to others still on the horizon.

Rockefeller has said he intends to get his legislative program for 1960 "on the way" before he announces his decision on the candidacy. That is cutting it pretty short if he intends to make a fight in the spring primaries.

One of the things that immediately strikes you about Rockefeller's presidential chances is that he appears to have no organization doing the spadework for a campaign to overtake Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

In New York, a group of amateurs led by the presidents of the Schenectady Young Republicans has incorporated a "Rockefeller for President" organization. It has neither Rockefeller's approval nor disapproval and it is devoid of really influential New York party members.

Rockefeller has no really outstanding party champion in Washington. U. S. Sen. Jacob Javits and some other New York congressmen are backing his candidacy but there is no real momentum in the capital to match Nixon's strength in national councils.

Out across the country, the picture is pretty much the same.

In Wisconsin, where another important primary will be held in April, Rockefeller has the support only of a small and relatively unimportant group of Republican workers. Nixon has the state GOP organization well tied up.

Rockefeller is well aware that he is far behind Nixon within the Republican organization. He is unorthodox but he is not naive.

His trip to California this week may furnish him with his best guidance as to whether it is hopeless to take on Nixon.

And from the aura of confidence that surrounds the men around Rockefeller, you would think his chances are very good.

Clark Equipment Co. Opens Plant in Brazil

BUCHANAN (AP) — Clark Equipment Co. said it opened in Valinhos, Brazil, the first Latin American plant for production of automotive transmissions.

The plant, built at a cost of $4,500,000, will produce automotive components for South American-built products of Clark and other firms.

Lesser Allies Demand Voice

Smaller NATO Nations Want Part in Planning for Summit Meeting

LONDON (UPI) — America's smaller Allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are becoming increasingly vigorous in their demands for having some say-so in the Dec. 19 "Big Four" summit talks, diplomatic sources said today.

NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak, reported in a "furious mood," was expected to act as spokesman for the smaller NATO countries in a meeting today with British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Spaak also planned to fly to Bonn later this week to press the small nations' cause with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. His headquarters in Paris announced last night Spaak would visit President Eisenhower, presumably for the same reason, in Washington between Nov. 15 and Nov. 28.

The smaller NATO Allies have revolted against Western Big Four plans to line up their strategy for a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev after what was called only perfuntory consultation with the rest of the NATO alliance.

Wants to Give Away Her Baby

TIMPERLEY, England (UPI)—Mrs. Sheila Winkley, 27, who hates diaper changing and bottle washing, said Thursday she hoped a childless American couple would adopt her latest child when it is born in February.

"It isn't that I do not like babies," she said, "but I just do not want the trouble connected with them."

Mrs. Winkley and her unemployed husband gave away their fourth child, Janet, for adoption last March. The third, Christine, 3, has been in a public orphanage since she was seven months old, awaiting adoption. They kept the first two, David, 8, and Annette, 5.

"I know it is selfish but now I have got to the point where I cannot go on with it," Mrs. Winkley said.

"I do not want to get up in the middle of the night. I do not want to have the feeding and the washing of diapers — all the things you have to go through with a baby."

HOUSE STONED

Neighbors stoned the Winkley house when they gave Janet for adoption to a couple in Manchester when she was born in June 1958. Mrs. Winkley said she wanted to give her unborn child to Americans because they "have a broader outlook."

"I think this country is finished," she said. "I think children have a better chance in America.

"One is so cramped in this country that everyone is hemmed down by narrow ideas."

"Since I had Janet I have had an awful time with the neighbors," Mrs. Winkley said. "They are just beginning to get better. Now I suppose it will all start again, although I hope to avoid all the fuss there was last time."

She said after she gave away Janet she had some second thoughts until a doctor told her she could have another. "So we started this latest baby and everything was okay," she said.

"We both love the children we have," she said. "I like to play with them for an hour or read to them, and I would not be able to do that with another baby to look after.

"I think it is wrong to look after babies unless you can bring them up and look after them properly."

She said she hoped the child would go to a childless couple because "I think it is just selfish to have more than two children when other people cannot have any."

"I hope this will be the last time," she said, "but you can never tell."

Lack of It Would Be Costly

Advertising Is Doing a Service

By FAYE HENLE
NEA Columnist

Five minutes ago my husband invaded the 'inner sanctum,' that corner of the apartment where one little word after another gets pounded forth to you. Excitedly he pointed to a double-page spread advertisement in a national magazine and beamed. What he had discovered was the announcement of a new consumer product, one he had been eagerly awaiting for the past five years.

"Gonna buy it?" I asked.

He was silent for a moment, and then replied that he thought he'd wait and see what others in the industry put out in competition.

How will he learn about the competition? He'll watch for ads.

Yet how often have you heard a friend or neighbor shun a product, claiming its price to be "fancy" because "what you're really paying for is advertising." And what enlightenment have you offered in retort? Probably none.

Next time you hear such a remark, stop and analyze a bit.

Unless products are advertised, we have no way of knowing they exist.

You may agree and then counter with: Everyone knows you can buy bread and shoes and ice cream sodas.

I'll agree. But beyond knowing that you can buy these items, I'm interested in price. Many of us do a lot of comparative shopping by reading the price of an advertised product and its description. The description, especially in the case of food, drug, cosmetic and fiber items, is pretty foolproof or it would hardly pass muster with the numerous regulatory agencies. In many cases, advertising is actually performing a service to the consumer.

The big question is this: Are we overpaying this service?

The answer cannot be a categorical yes or no. We are probably overpaying when it comes to non-essential luxuries. I hardly believe we are overpaying when it comes to the staple everyday items without which we could not exist. Here is why:

The only way manufacturers have of lowering costs is by building volume so that they can mass produce. The answer to volume building lies in sales. Advertising generates sales. Here is an example:

Thirty years ago the baby food industry was an infant. Today, according to a study of price spread conducted by the Grocery Manufacturers of America Inc., one manufacturer has been able to cut advertising costs to one-tenth of his original outlay. The reason: with the help of advertising the company was selling 120 times as much and thus was also able to lower the cost of its product from 25 cents to 10 cents per unit.

Let's analyze this situation a bit further. The advent of the baby food industry widened markets for a host of other products—for farmers who sold the industry their fruits and vegetables, for meat packers, for the manufacturers of many packaging materials. Finally, baby food items often have been offered as "loss leaders" to build store traffic for the retailer.

I think it can be hotly debated whether advertising is "breaking" the consumer. By the same token, it can be proven many times over the lack of promotion can "break" a company. And business failures hardly help sustain a prosperous economy.

Chrysler Mulls Auto Financing

May Join Competitors, Vice President Tells Trust Conference

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. may join General Motors and Ford in the car finance business, Byron J. Nichols, a Chrysler vice president, said Thursday.

Nichols, who is in charge of automotive sales for Chrysler, told the Mid-Continent Trust Conference the matter is under continuing study.

"We are not committed to entering the finance business," he said, "but in view of such things as the strategy of our major competitors and prospective money conditions we must, despite tradiiton, maintain our flexibility."

General Motors has long run General Motors Acceptance Corp. as a subsidiary. Ford entered the finance business this fall.

Nichols said steel shortages "are cutting into our fourth quarter— I might add, into everybody's fourth quarter. But it is equally true that we are getting clear signs of an expanding automobile market.

"In fact, we seldom get clearer signs than we have right now. And even the steel shortage can't fully dampen the excitement we feel about the future."

This future, Nichols said, includes prospects of seven million car sales in 1960 and eight million car years as definite possibilities in the late 60s.

Eisenhower, at 70, Forges Ahead on Busiest Time of His Presidency

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, pushing 70 and with only 14 months to go in the White House, is heading into what may be the busiest period of his presidency. He is setting himself a fast and strenuous pace.

His announcement Wednesday—that he will visit nine nations in Europe, Asia and Africa in December — is just the beginning. He'll wind up that trip with a three-day Western summit conference in Paris.

It may or may not be of significance that Eisenhower — who has had a heart attack, an intestinal operation, and a minor stroke — made this announcement only after getting a resounding okay on a weekend medical check-up.

Early next year the President, who was 69 Oct. 14 and will be over 70 when he leaves office Jan. 20, 1961, may have to return overseas for a summit meeting with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Still on tap after that is the President's promised trip to the Soviet Union.

CAMPAIGN COMING UP

Also lying ahead of him is the presidential campaign of 1960. Although the Constitution makes this second term his last one, he will probably campaign to get a Republican elected his successor.

But these activities are all extras.

In between times he has a hatful of work in his regular job in the presidency: keeping the country running. This is the grinding part of his task.

Between now and the time he leaves Dec. 4 on his three-continent trip he must put in the final work on the budget, or encyclopedia of expenses, which his administration will offer Congress when it returns in January 1960.

This is no simple task, since it involves wrangles among his own various department and agency heads over how big a piece of budget pie each is entitled to. Work on this budget has been going on since last summer.

TO STRESS ECONOMY

It involves more than just expenses. His 1960 programs — the final act of his presidency—must be based on it: Their size, cost and reach. He has already revealed that his 1960 theme-song, as in 1959, will be economy.

Further, sandwiched in between any trips he takes next year will be other chores:

1. Working on and approving in detail the programs and messages he will send Congress during the early months of the year.

2. Fighting for them, even to the extent, perhaps, of making TV appeals for public support of his ideas.

On top of all this he most probably will have to be the director and moving force of whatever this country's foreign policy turns out to be.

This was a task he didn't have to worry much about so long as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, a dominant kind of man, called the shots. Eisenhower from the beginning of his presidency relied tremendously on Dulles.

Add Moral Sentence to Get OK for Film

NEW YORK (AP)—A movie review board has approved a film dealing with unmarried love. The producer agreed to add a line of dialogue saying in effect:

"We were wrong to have premarital sex relations."

The film, "Happy Anniversary," had been refused a seal of approval by Geoffrey Shurlock, production code director in Los Angeles.

The review board, meeting here, gave its sanction to the film Thursday after the producer agreed to have the male lead speak the additional line.

David Niven and Mitzi Gaynor are featured in the film, which deals in part with the premarital relations of a husband and wife.

But Does Not Censor Newscasts

CBS Chief Reviewing Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, had his heart and eye trained on the broadcasting business when radio was in its cat whisker-and-crystal days.

A native of Muskegon, Mich., he attended Ohio Wesleyan University and Ohio State University. He was no sooner out of college than he joined up with CBS as a research assistant. After serving in that capacity for three years, Stanton, now 51, became director of CBS research; then director of advertising; then vice president and general executive; then general manager; and, in 1946, president of the network.

During World War II Stanton was with the Navy Department in executive capacities. He produced, in collaboration with others, educational films.

In the wake of the TV quiz scandal, Stanton recently ruled big-money shows off his network. Stanton also insisted that, henceforth, each network show must be "exactly what it purports to be."

In view of that pronouncement, CBS is reviewing "canned" laughter by studio audiences, as well as "spontaneous" TV shows which actually are rehearsed.

ARE INDEPENDENT

In 1956, Stanton told a House Antitrust subcommittee probing the TV industry that CBS exercises no censorship over its news and public affairs department.

Reporters, said Stanton, "insist on their independence and if they are worth their salt they should have it."

Last July, Stanton blasted the controversial equal-time for political candidates ruling, which he termed "unrealistic and paralyzing" to "the most vital public service that broadcasting can offer."

Stanton was referring to a section of the Federal Communications Commission ruling last February requiring that a station or network that gives air time to a political candidate must grant equal time to his opponents.

In what he termed an editorial, Stanton said: "All we ask for is the right to distinguish between the major parties and the splinter parties, between the significant candidates and the fringe or obscure candidates. We do not ask for the right to discriminate—only to distinguish."

As amended last September, the law exempts "bona fide" news programs such as newscasts, spot news coverage, documentaries, and interviews such as "Meet the Press."

Red Czech Diplomat Asks Political Asylum

WASHINGTON (AP) — A diplomat from Communist Czechoslovakia has appealed for political asylum in the United States.

The State Department, disclosing this in answer to questions today identified him as Lt. Col Frantisek Tisler, military attache of the Czechoslovakian Embassy here.

A department spokesman said only that Tisler applied for political asylum in late July or early August. He declined to say anything except that the application "is being processed."

White said the Czech Embassy as far as he knows has not protested or complained about Tisler's action.

Advisory Group Discussion Set

State Sewage Order and Curfew for Youth Are on the Agenda

The 70-member Citizens Advisory Committee has been summoned to discuss two controversial proposals before the City Commission.

John A. Riley, committee chairman, has called the meeting for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 16 in the Commission's City Hall chambers.

On the agenda are the proposed curfew for youngsters under 18 and the plan for a stronger human relations commission. Riley said he expected there also would be discussion of the state order for more sewage treatment facilities in Pontiac.

The City Commission has asked the committee to discuss the curfew and human relations commission. Ordinances concerning both questions are in the discussion stage at the City Commission table.

The committee was formed by the City Commission early this year to act as a public sounding board on important or controversial issues.

It was once hoped that the committee would agree to help sell voters on the advisability of issuing bonds to construct more sewage treatment facilities.

But this aim evaporated after the state ordered the city to build more facilities whether voters approved bonds or not.

The total area burned over each year by forest fires in the U.S. is equal to the area of New York state.

Lucille Ball at Pinnacle of Her Fantastic Career

LUCILLE BALL and DESI ARNAZ

(This is the last in a series of articles about the "Queens of Television.")

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The story is making the rounds here about the catty actress who remarked at a dinner party: "Isn't it too bad that Lucille Ball isn't on television much any more?"

"Yeah," came the squelch, "I guess she's satisfied with just owning it."

And that just about sums up Lucy's status in TV these days. "I Love Lucy" probably the most successful show in TV history, could have gone on as long as Lucy and her husband, Desi Arnaz, wanted it to.

But they prefer to make only occasional appearances — on their Westinghouse - Desilu Playhouse, for instance — and devote themselves mainly to running Desilu Inc.

Desilu is larger than any movie studio ever was. It has 35 sound stages and is the world's largest producer of filmed TV.

"I'm not going to work forever," said Lucy. "I want to stay home and take care of my two children (Lucie, 7, and little Desi, 6).

"Our whole producing program is on a 20-year plan. It's all for our kids. The company is in their name."

For the pop-eyed commedienne, who was born in Butte, Mont., and brought up in Jamestown, N.Y., Desilu is the epitome of a fantastic career that looked at first as if it would go nowhere.

Her first four Broadway jobs, as a chorus girl, ended in four prompt dismissals. Then, just as she was gaining recognition as a Hattie Carnegie model in 1927, she nearly lost her life in an automobile accident and was told she would never walk again.

LANDED IN HOSPITAL

"My car skidded on a turn in Central Park one afternoon and I came to in Bellevue Hospital," she recalled. "They told me I had been thrown clear, landed in a snow bank and lay there until a policeman found me.

They kept me in bed for eight months. Then I had a wheelchair for three years. When they let me up I carried weights on my legs. Then I walked on crutches with weighted shoes. Finally, I was able to get around on a cane.

"I never believed the doctors for one moment, because I knew deep down in me that I would walk if I kept on trying."

Five years after the crackup, she went back to work for Miss Carnegie. Hollywood scouts spotted her in magazine and billboard cigarette advertisements and brought her here for a showgirl role in Eddie Cantor's "Roman Scandals."

After the usual bit parts she impressed filmland in "Roberta" and went on to make a series of smash movies, including "Stage Door," "Too Many Girls," "The Big Street," DuBarry Was a Lady," "Best Foot Forward" and "Meet the People."

It was while making "Too Many Girls" that she met Desi, her co-star. In 1940, they were married, and she became Mrs. Desiderio Alberto Arnaz de Acha III.

These days, Lucy divides her time between the children and directing Desilu's wardrobe, commissary and workshop for young acting hopefuls. She is vice president of Desilu, and she leaves most of the business details to Desi, the president.

"Most of my life has been an obstacle race," said Lucy, "but I'm still in there running."

Hollywood Headlines:

Ingemar Leads 2 Lives: Day Acting and Date Fun

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ingemar Johansson is leading a double life in Tinsel Town—acting during the day and living it up at night.

The world's heavyweight champion, acting in his first movie, has stood the movie colony on its ear with rumors of his prowess with the gentler sex.

Rumor has it the big Swede is cutting a wide swath with the glamor crowd — especially actress Stella Stevens and singer Peggy Lee.

The big guy denies the whole thing.

"I work out at night after the movie work, and then I go to sleep," he said. "I am staying in condition all the time."

He explained his regimen. Up early to appear on the set in time for shooting. A quick dinner after work. Exercising in the early evening and then a full night's sleep.

'I STUDY SCRIPT'

"I am not dating American girls," he said soberly. "I spend my time studying the script and learning how to act. Last night I go to bed early and read a book."

The big guy was lounging in Alan Ladd's dressing room outside the Columbia sound stage of "All the Young Men." A hi-fi outfit was blaring a mournful ballad. Ingemar is Ladd's house guest during his Hollywood stay.

The champ's devotion to conditioning and early hours was blasted from the reality by host Ladd, who burst into the room shouting:

"You son-of-a-gun, Ingemar, where were you 'til 2 a.m. this morning? I waited until 1:30 and then gave up the ghost. What were you up to?"

Ingemar blushed and attempted to change the subject.

"Acting is not so much different from boxing," he said quickly.

"I know my lines, but when the cameras are going I try to behave like a normal person. In a way fighting is show business too. You are in the ring with another man, and everybody is looking at you."

TALKS FIGHTING

Ingemar insisted on discussing the fight game when questioned about his after-dark matches.

"American girls are very pretty," he said, "But I do not go out with them. All I can think about is my return match with Patterson."

The champ completes his Hollywood chores this week and travels to New York to star in a TV version of "The Killers." Thereafter he will tour South America on an exhibition junket.

"When that is over I would like to continue acting," he concluded. "I have no idea how long it will be before I defend my title."

BIT PARTS: Jimmy Durante has confided in friends he will marry long-time girl friend Margie Little next June . . . Noel Coward has signed to play a songwriter who instructs Gregory Peck in songwriting in "The Billionaire" . . . Tuesday Weld, no longer with the "Dobie Gillis" TV show, says she will concentrate on movies in the future . . . Audrey Hepburn's next starring role will be "The Man Who Had No Private Life" for Hal Wallis.

Feeling Fit, Lamarr Is Again Full of Fight

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I'm feeling fit and ready to fight ANYBODY!" Hedy Lamarr announced, throwing out her chest, impressively. "Do I look sick?"

I stared at her bare feet—she was tired from shopping and had removed her shoes—and stated that even her feet looked healthy.

"They had better beware of me in Houston!" Hedy said. She was hurling a challenge at her millionaire husband, Howard Lee (brother-in-law of millionaire Glen McCarthy), with whom she's involved in separation litigation.

"I had to change outfits when I was in court last time . . . it was so hot . . . and somebody said maybe I was putting on a fashion show. I just might do that," Hedy snapped. "They said I might be asking several million dollars. I just might do that, too."

Hedy, who was under shock for months after her son was critically injured when hit by a car, has become a prolific painter of abstracts. The floor of her hotel suite was a one-woman exhibit of her paintings with herself as the model. "Do you bring these all from Hollywood?" I asked her innocently. The dynamic damosel answered, "Oh, no, I painted these today."

Students Will Learn Politics

Ex-Governor's Course to Open the Doors of Smoke-Filed Rooms

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

That famous smoke-filled room in politics is due for a thorough academic airing.

It will be done in what may be the first down-to-earth, precinct-level course in practical politics ever offered by an American college.

The course has been scheduled at Bethany (W.Va.) College by the president, Dr. Perry E. Gresham, who comments: "Unless learned and responsible men are adept at politics, ignorant and selfish men will rule the world."

To teach the course, Gresham cast about for a man experienced in both teaching and politics. He came up with C. William O'Neill, a former Republican governor of Ohio (1957-59), onetime political science instructor at Marietta College and a veteran of 20 years in public life.

Starting with the second semester in February, all Bethany students will be required to take the one-hour course. O'Neill will lecture and conduct a question-and-answer period. On the following day he will meet with students for questions, discussions and work on research projects.

Graves 6 Ft. Under? Often 5—or Less

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Contrary to popular belief, most graves are now only five feet deep, says James Worley, Columbus executive secretary of the American Cemetery Assn.

Ohio law, for example, says only that graves must be reasonably deep, Worley explains. In some cemeteries graves are only four feet deep because of the subsoil condition.

Ex-Detroit Teamster Acquitted in Jersey

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — A former president of a Detroit Teamster local and a Teamster housing development in Orlando, Fla., has been acquitted in U.S. District Court on charges of impersonating an Army officer in order to obtain narcotics.

Henry A. Lower, 57, of Detroit, was acquitted on a directed verdict handed down yesterday by Federal Judge Thomas M. Madden. The case was heard without a jury.

Lower was arrested Nov. 3, 1958, by FBI agents in Atlantic City. The government alleged that Lower contacted two physicians by telephone seeking a drug (leritine) that reportedly eases pain.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Frank Ferry told the court that Lower claimed he was an Army colonel and needed the drug for a heart condition.

The doctors notified authorities who seized Lower in his hotel room. Lower never obtained the drugs he sought.

Lower is former president of the Sun Valley Realty Corp. of Orlando, which is a development for retired members of the Teamsters Union.

Upset-Minded Chiefs Tackle Bay City Pack

Central Hopes to Foil Valley Title Ambitions of Top-Ranked Wolves

By BILL CORNWELL

Assured of their first winning campaign in seven years, Pontiac Central's revitalized football forces eye their choicest scalp of the 1959 season tonight at Wisner Stadium.

With their confidence boosted by a 5-2 record, the spirited Chiefs tackle undefeated and untied Bay City Central at 8 o'clock in a highly important Saginaw Valley Conference battle.

PCH has little or no chance of sharing in the Saginaw Valley spoils this fall. Flint Northern saw to that two weeks ago at Flint with a 19-0 victory. But the Chiefs can have a lot to say about who does win the Valley title.

Bay City, (7-0), currently rated Michigan's No. 1 Class A high school power, leads the SVC race with a 3-0 record. Flint Northern comes next with a 2-0 mark.

If the Chiefs could topple Bay City this evening, they would set the stage for a real championship humdinger between the Wolfpack and Northern next Friday evening on the Bay City gridiron.

Victory over PCH is all-important to the Wolves since it might mean the difference between winning or sharing the Valley crown or losing out altogether. PCH can be certain that the invading Wolfpack will give 100 per cent effort.

For the second straight week the Chiefs get a chance to tumble a rated team. Last week they upset 8th-rated Ferndale, 27-7, on the Wisner turf and put the Dales among the also-rans. Now the target is No. 1 ranked Bay City.

The Chiefs stand an excellent chance of tying for 2nd place in the final league standings and they can do no worse than 3rd by winning their two remaining SVC games.

If they succeed, it will be their best Valley finish in many years. They conclude their 1959 grid season a week from tonight against Flint Central at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Coach Jesse MacLeay's gridders will have two major problems tonight—how to stop the up-he-middle rushes of fullback George Archer and a passing attack which has blossomed into a full-scale weapon for Bay City in recent weeks.

Bay City also has a classy fullback to halt. His name is Charley Brown, who until last week was a ferocious guard for the Chiefs. Brown scored three touchdowns against the Dales and he's staying at the fullback slot tonight.

Who has the difficult task of filling Brown's shoes at the offensive guard post. That job will go to John Skelley, a 155-pound junior who performed well there a week ago.

Flint Northern entertains Arthur Hill and Flint Central visits Saginaw in other Valley games tonight.

BRING ON ROCHESTER — That's the cry at Pontiac Northern today as the Huskies get ready to invade Rochester for tonight's big local battle. These three linemen could be a big factor if PNH is to bounce back from last week's defeat at Walled Lake. They are John Kendall, left, Larry Chambers, center, and John Erkkila. Kendall may see only limited service due to an injury. Erkkila will be making his 1st start.

3 Huskies Ailing for Local Duel at Rochester

Graves and Lawrence Head Crippled List; Kendall Also Hurt

BY CHUCK ABAIR

Pontiac Northern will be a very shaky favorite as the Huskies visit Rochester tonight for their first visit with the Falcons of Gene Konley.

As a matter of fact, injuries which have hit the PNH camp would just about turn the game into a tossup or even change the slight edge towards the home club.

Star fullback George Graves and punting ace Jan Lawrence will miss the game because of injuries suffered in the 20-14 loss at Walled Lake a week ago.

Graves has shared the scoring and running load with Bob Hocking all year in Northern's impressive first season on the gridiron.

Kendall, the biggest Huskie at 200 pounds, has been a standout lineman all the way. He will be in uniform but will not likely see much service.

Larry Bland will replace Graves with either 140-pound Bill Cox or Dave Shields trying to fill Lawrence's big shoes. Bland and Shields are 150-pounders.

John Erkkila, 170, will make his starting debut at offensive tackle replacing Kendall.

The rest of the squad is in good shape, according to coach Ed Heikkinen.

Bruce Norton will be at his usual quarterback post directing the offense with Hocking completing the backfield.

Northern will take a 4-2 record into the contest boasting an impressive co-runnerup finish in the Inter-Lakes League.

Rochester, fresh from clinching the Tri-County championship, will be gunning for its 6th straight success.

The Falcons have bowed only to Farmington in seven games showing considerable improvement since the early games.

John Cadieux directs the RHS backfield which includes such talented leather-luggers as Reggie Dixon, Joe McDaniels and Dan Lickert.

College Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Great second-half comebacks cause people to ask what a coach does between halves.

His big job is to sift with his spotters the opponent's maneuvers, plot counter moves and get the whole picture to his players so clearly and concisely that they gain immediate confidence. Because of the limited time, no other coaching task requires as much concentration. If he has any time left, the coach will try to inspire a greater effort. But analysis is most important. No coach can fire up a team to overcome his faulty defense or incorrect choice of plays.

This recalls the story Biff Jones tells of his coaching days at Louisiana State. LSU was trailing at the half. The locker room was in turmoil. Biff had just persuaded Gov. Huey Long that there was no need for a political oration. One of Biff's assistants was stalking around like a wild man, exhorting the troops. He was so wrought up, he shook his fist at Biff and thundered: "We've got to win! "We've got to win!" Biff surveyed him dispassionately.

"Yes, my friend," he replied, "but how?"

Now, to this week's forecasting. I have got to pick them right! But how?

Miami over North Carolina tonight. Carolina and Miami are both famous for their moons. One perhaps moonstruck vote for Miami.

Boston College over Pittsburgh. The Panther is hurting, the Eagle is soaring.

Holy Cross over Boston U. But the Crusader will need a stout lance.

Harvard over Princeton. The Ivy League is merely unpredictable. Harvard is simply incomprehensible.

Ohio State over Indiana. We've been wrong five straight weeks on the Buckeyes, but no streak is safe this season.

Dartmouth over Columbia. The Lions made a good showing against Cornell and could do the same before their homecoming alums.

Syracuse over Penn State. Rip Engle can tell Ray Eliot: "We've got 'em better in the East, too."

Michigan State over Purdue. Duffy Daugherty's boys move the ball.

Pennsylvania over Yale. Yale's rough 1893 victory over Penn saw both teams biting round steaks out of each other. One vegeterian vote for Penn.

Clemson over Duke. Clemson lost to Georgia Tech, which lost to Duke. But reliance on comparative scores is almost as dangerous as dangerous as bicycling on the Pasadena Freeway.

Northwestern over Wisconsin. Hitchcock's "North by Northwest" was good, but not so exciting as Northwestern.

Tennessee over Louisiana State. The improved Vols come out swinging. This pick should help my old assistant, Paul Dietzel.

Illinois over Michigan. A salute to the great Illini line coach, Burt Ingwersen.

Iowa over Minnesota. Gopher fight can't beat Hawkeye speed.

Air Force over Missouri. The Falcons play with a sense of destiny.

Iowa State over Nebraska. The "Dirty Thirty" muss up the Huskers.

Oklahoma over Kansas State. The Sooners will stay in the Big Eight race—words with a strange ring.

Georgia Tech over Notre Dame. The Rambling Wrecks—but soberly.

Southern Methodist over Texas A & M. Disappointed Mustangs good enough to throw the Aggies.

Navy over Maryland. The Sailors start their drive for the Army game.

First Landing Makes Final Eastern Trial

By the Associated Press

First Landing, the 2-year-old champion of 1958 on the comeback trails will make his final Eastern start of the year tomorrow in the $75,000-added Trenton Handicap at Garden State Park.

The Trenton and the $50,000-added Frizette Stakes at Aqueduct are the chief attractions of the day. The Frizette could produce the champion 2-year-old filly, especially if the favorite—My Dear Girl—gets home first.

Slumping Wings Trounced by Boston

Redshirts Must Rebound After One-Sided Loss

Bruins Riddle Sawchuk to Record 8-3 Victory on Olympia Ice

DETROIT (AP)—It was bound to happen, and now the Detroit Red Wings can go about the normal time-of-the-year business of finding out whether they have a good hockey team, or another mediocre one.

The club has slipped after a whirlwind start, last night's 8-3 crusher from the Boston Bruins applying the most damaging blow of the infant season.

"Now we'll have to bounce back — we'll see if we can," said coach Sid Abel. "The boys can't let a little bad spell get them down. We'll just have to pick ourselves up."

There are doubters who don't think the Wings will keep up a winning pace — those who believe they will be fortunate indeed to make the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Judging by last night's play, the Red Wings will be lucky to survive.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk, who had yielded only 15 goals in 11 games, was bombarded eight times and most of the Boston goals came after Sawchuk threw a temper tantrum.

The clubs traded first period goals, Bronco Horvath scoring for Boston and Gordie Howe tying it at 15:17. Flem Mackell pushed the Bruins ahead early in the second period but Gary Aldcorn tied it 27 seconds later.

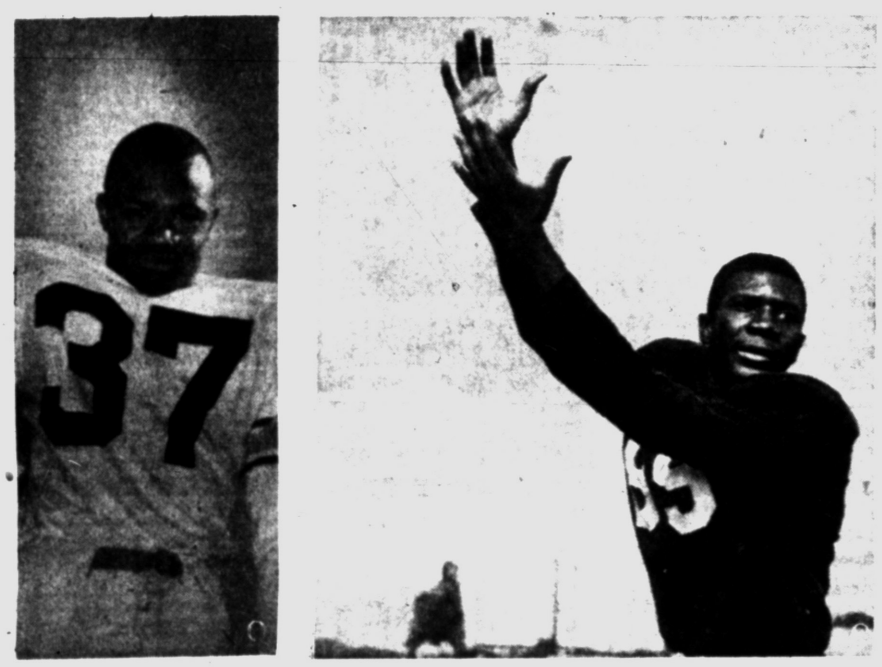
The Bruins took the lead for good on a hotly disputed goal. Leo LaBine capped a spirited drive with a close-range score and Sawchuk went at it hot and heavy with referee Lou Farelli, protesting that Labine had shoved the puck inside the net with his hand.

For his trouble Terry got a 10-minute misconduct penalty. The Bruins quickly added two more goals and ex-Wing John Bucyk added another near the end of the period for a 6-2 lead.

Norm Ullman scored with an unassisted 25-footer in the third period but the Bruins heaped it on with two late goals — another ex-Detroiter, Charlie Burns, getting his first goal of the campaign at 13:35 and still another former Wing Nick Mickoski, finishing things up with 51 seconds to play. It was Mickoski's first goal, also.

The Red Wings were grumbling about the defeat — and well they should. Since their tremendous beginning, they have suffered three losses, had two ties and recorded only one victory. They play in Toronto Saturday night.

SPORTS



RIVALS TONIGHT — Bay City Central fullback George Archer (left) and end Andrew Terry of Pontiac Central will be bitter rivals tonight when the unbeaten Wolves and Chiefs clash at Wisner Stadium at 8 o'clock in Saginaw Valley action. Archer provides Bay City's up-the-middle power and is averaging 5.4 yards per carry. Terry catches passes for the Chiefs and also sparkles on defense.

Lion-Steeler Tilt Rated a Tossup

DETROIT (AP)—The long-awaited Detroit Lions-Pittsburgh Steelers, George Wilson-Buddy Parker, Tobin Rote-Bobby Layne donnybrook really ought to end in a tie.

That's what the statistics through this season's first six games say anyway. The figures compiled by these two last-place teams bundle the Lions and the Steelers into a huge knot for Sunday's game.

The Lions and Steelers have been dead ringers for one another. They employ similar systems. This is natural, possibly because Lions coach Wilson worked for Parker before he walked out of Detroit and headed for Pittsburgh.

Detroit, with one victory and five losses, is last in the National Football League's western division. The Steelers are tied for last in the Eastern Division, with two triumphs and four defeats.

The Steelers have made 98 first downs, the Lions 92. With former Lion Layne at quarterback, the Steelers have gained 1,090 yards passing. The Lions have gained 1,033 yards in the airlanes with Rote and Earl Morrall doing the throwing.

The Lions have gained 800 yards rushing, the Steelers 642.

Defensively, the edge belongs to Pittsburgh. But it's not much of an edge and the Western Division is considered to have more strong teams.

The Lions have yielded 112 first downs to the Steelers' 94. Pittsburgh rivals have gained 873 yards rushing and 801 yards passing. Detroit's defense has surrendered 1,015 yards rushing and 1,142 passing.

Another difference is the protection rendered Layne and his Detroit counterparts, Rote and Morrall. The Steelers have lost only 95 yards attempting to pass. Detroit has lost 239 yards attempting to launch aerials.

As passers, Layne ranks 10th in the NFL and rote 13th. Layne with faster, surer receivers in Buddy Dial, Jimmy Orr, Ray Mathews and Pete Brewster, has completed 49 per cent of his 151 passes for 1,001 yards. Rote, not blessed with glue-fingered receivers, has connected on 42.3 per cent of his 123 tosses for 687 yards.

Wilson said yesterday Rote will start Sunday at quarterback. Morrall has started the last two games.

The Detroit coach disclosed the Lions turned down a chance earlier this season to obtain rookie quarterback Lee Grosscup. Grosscup, an outstanding college passer at Utah, failed to make the grade with the quarterback-rich New York Giants.

Rosensohn on Spot

Hope to End Quiz Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The state athletic commission hopes to wind up today its long, drawn-out inquiry into alleged irregularities in the promotion of the June 26 Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson fight and charges stemming from the title scrap.

If today's hearing is anything like yesterday's "objection" and "exception" marked session between the various barristers, the inquiry may be with us until the snow lies deep.

On the spot in the commissions' inquiry are Cus D'Amato, manager of former heavyweight champion Patterson; promoter Bill Rosensohn (who calls himself a "retired promoter"), and Rosensohn Enterprises Inc., now headed by lawyer Vincent Velella.

D'Amato, Rosensohn and REI all have been suspended as a result of the commission's general inquiry of last August and September.

This phase of the hearing concerns charges made against them and for them to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

D'Amato's case came up first yesterday. D'Amato was present but Rosensohn was the man who spent most of the day testifying.

Under cross-examination Rosensohn admitted he had failed to tell the California Athletic Commission that he had made Charley Black a 50 per cent partner in the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris heavyweight title fight promotion at Los Angeles, Aug. 18, 1958. He said he cut Black in to curry favor with D'Amato, a close friend of Black.

"He was to get 50 per cent of the profits," said Rosensohn. "But there were no profits so he didn't get any."

Black, a convicted gambler, was barred by the commission last Oct. 13 from participating in the promotion of any fights or even attending fights in New York state.

Five charges have been made against D'Amato and three against the others, the commission disclosed.

It will pick up the D'Amato case first and then go into the others today if time permits.

DeJohn Is Favored to Whip Ex-Gridder

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP — Unranked Mike De John is favored to whip former pro footballer Charlie Powell in a 10-round heavyweight bout tonight in the War Memorial Auditorium, but Powell had other ideas.

"I can punch with both hands as well as anybody," said Powell, who broke one of them last June in losing to Roy Harris.

Powell, ranked eighth by the National Boxing Assn., has not fought since then.

DeJohn was a 6-5 favorite over Powell, a former defensive end and linebacker for the San Francisco 49ers.

Turkey Shoot at Orion

Lake Orion's Gun Club has arranged a turkey shoot for Sunday at the club range, 2700 Stanton Rd. Shooting will run all day, starting at 10:30 a.m. Both shotguns and rifles will be used, and any one interested is invited. Turkeys go to the winners.

Dukes Ends Long Holdout, Won't Play Until Tuesday

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Walter Dukes has ended his long holdout siege. But the seven-footer won't be of any immediate help to the Detroit Pistons, who play Minneapolis tonight.

Dukes agreed to terms with Piston General Manager Nick Kerbawy over long-distance telephone yesterday. He had been a holdout since Oct. 14.

But Dukes won't appear in the lineup until Tuesday when the Pistons play the Boston Celtics at St. Louis. Dukes plans to complete some law courses in New York over the weekend.

He'll miss the Pistons' next three games — tonight's with the Lakers, tomorrow's at Detroit with the Lakers, and Sunday's with Syracuse.

Terms for ending the holdout weren't divulged. Kerbawy had said earlier he and Dukes were about $5,000 apart.

"The differences that were involved have been resolved by compromise," Kerbawy said last night.

The agreement came after Kerbawy failed to deal off Dukes in a trade with another National Basketball Assn. club.

Dukes will give the Pistons the rebounding strength they have lacked in losing three of five NBA games. Rookie Gary Alcorn had been filling in for Dukes and has been troubled finding his way in the fast pro loop.

The Pistons defeated Minneapolis in the lone meeting between the two clubs this season.

All-Star Pin Points

By STAN THADEN

Major bowling faults, especially of novices, are:

(1) Lofting the ball instead of lifting it. When the ball is lofted onto the lane it makes a deep hole in the surface, guaranteed not to endear you to the proprietor. It is usually caused when the bowler does not bend his left knee and the ball is released anywhere from 12 to 24 inches higher than it should be. Tight thumb and finger holes contribute to lofting.

(2) Throwing the ball too fast instead of rolling it smoothly and easily. Strikes are made by "working" balls that have a good spin or lift on them. An excess of speed only prevents the ball from "working" since it passes through the pin area too quickly. Bowling is a game of skill, not strength.

(3) Rolling the ball with anything but a firm, straight wrist. The arm, from shoulder to hand, should form a pendulum. When the wrist is loose or bent, you either lose control of the ball during the armswing or have a tendency to "top" or "overspin" the ball thereby depriving it of its proper lift.

(4) Lack of or improper follow through. This robs the delivery of the smooth and rhythmical finish so necessary to producing good scores.

If these faults should creep into your delivery, try to eliminate them at once.

WRONG — Stan Thaden is lofting the ball, but it took a lot of coaxing from the photographer before he'd do it. Look at his style here — if you do the same, discard it and learn right way.

Titan 11 Favored Over Dayton Squad

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — It's okay for coach Jim Miller to bring his University of Detroit football team out into the daylight now.

The tortuous part of the Titan's schedule is over and now they can ease into the remaining three games. Detroit is a heavy favorite to win all three, starting tomorrow afternoon with Dayton.

Playing six of their seven previous games at night, the Titans won three and lost four. The lone daylight game was a 21-6 loss to Tulsa two weeks ago.

Detroit should find Dayton a pushover after losing to teams like Kentucky, Tulane, Boston College and Tulsa. The Flyers have had a much softer schedule and still have lost six of seven games.

Miller has decided to use a two-quarterback system in the final games. Bob Lusky will share the signal calling duties with starter Tony Hanley. Lusky played well in last week's 21-9 loss to Boston College and passed 32 yards for the Titans' lone touchdown.

Three of Michigan Tech's co-champion Huskies have won berths on the Northern State College Conference all-league team. They are end Bill Wiljanen, named top lineman, tackle John Kwiatkowski and quarterback Clay Willman.

A bench warrant for the arrest of Detroit Lions' fullback John Henry Johnson was withdrawn yesterday on testimony that he had made an alimony payment. An Oakland, Calif., judge acted after learning the gridder had paid $305 of the $2,360 he was in arrears.

Cold Climate, owned by Mrs. J. Deane Rucker of Grosse Pointe Farms, won the green hunter championship by taking four of six events in the National Horse Show at New York Thursday. U.S. ace Bill Steinkraus won two challenge trophies giving the Yanks four international wins to Canada's two.

Denver Hockey Coach No User of Crying Towel

DENVER (AP) — Tired of hearing football coaches at the wailing wall? Then hear this from Murray Armstrong, coach of the University of Denver hockey team:

"We'll have an outstanding team capable of beating any collegiate club in the country. We're probably good enough to beat the Russians, Swedish and U. S. Olympic teams when they play us here next February.

"It's conceivable we'll beat the team that later becomes the 1960 Olympic hockey champion."

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

It was three weeks ago tonight that halfback Ken Dextrom of Pontiac Central placekicked a 17-yard field goal at Wisner Stadium to give the Chiefs a 9-6 victory over Saginaw High.

The following week, in this colum, yours truly asked the question: When was the last previous time a city prep gridder booted a field goal?

A couple of loyal readers came to the rescue quicker than you can say "Jack Robinson" and one of them also answered another question concerning the old-fashioned dropkick.

The very helpful readers were Dick Mineweaser, brother of ex-St. Michael grid coach Bob, and Mike Kazakos, Bob's former coaching assistant. Record books bear them out.

Prior to Dextrom's three-point boot against Saginaw, credit for the last field goal goes to a fellow named Gerry Theunick who once played football for St. Mike.

Theunick kicked a field goal at U. of D. Stadium in November of 1941 as the Shamrocks defeated Detroit St. Phillip, 23-6, to win the parochial league's 2nd division title.

The boot traveled 26 yards and Mineweaser recalls that the ball struck the flag pole which stood directly behind the uprights. Theunick was voted All-Catholic honors three times.

Before Theunick's three-pointer, one has to go back to October of 1934 to find another field goal and Kazakos was an eye witness as he watched the action from the south end of the Wisner gridiron.

The hero in this case was Al Pietz and he split the posts with a dropkick, which is virtually extinct in modern football. Oddly enough, Saginaw High was also the victim of that one.

Pietz, now 42 years old and operator of a snack bar at Westside Recreation, was quarterbacking the Pontiac Central team and he figured a field goal attempt would fool the Trojans.

There were no in-bounds markers then and the pigskin was spotted about five yards from the sidelines. Pietz called his own signal and, just as he had anticipated, Saginaw was caught flat-footed.

Standing in short punt formation at a sharp angle to the right of the posts, Pietz took a direct snap from center and dropkicked a perfect 35-yard field goal over the crossbar.

Charles Forsythe, who is now director of the Michigan High School Athletic Assn. was the referee that particular day and Pietz remembers the compliment Forsythe paid him for his unusual feat.

The only sad note to this whole story is the fact that Pietz and his teammates lost the ball game, 7-3.

Suffice it to say, field goals by city high school players have been few and far between. From Dextrom back to Theunick is an 18-year stretch and it takes seven more years to locate Pietz.

O'Malley Says Delay Is Costly

LA Boss Complains of Slowness in Getting Stadium Approval

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To Walter O'Malley, losing money is like finishing ninth in an eight-team league.

And the Los Angeles Dodgers president says the club will lose considerable money unless the city council speeds approval for construction of the team's new ballpark in Chavez Ravine.

He put the Dodgers' plight rather plaintively yesterday:

"When I came west, I believed a handshake was an agreement. I got the handshake and in the bargain also received a written contract. I want to tell you that I cannot afford to drag on much more."

O'Malley referred to the deal under which Los Angeles gave the Dodgers Chavez Ravine acreage in exchange for Wrigley Field and other considerations.

He said the club won't be able to get bank financing for the stadium unless the property is turned over to the Dodgers soon — and without too many restriction.

Middlecoff Denies Taking Coast Place

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Cary Middlecoff denies he will be the golf pro at the nearby La Quinta golf course.

Middlecoff said yesterday he will continue as pro at the Diplomat Country Club in Florida. A published report said Middlecoff will take the pro job at La Quinta, expected to open in a few weeks.

U. S. HOPEFULS — Sam Snead, captain of the United States Ryder Cup golf team, shows teammates a list of the pairings for today's first round matches with the British team in California. Left to right, standing: Dow Finterwald, Art Wall Jr., Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Mike Souchak. Seated: Jackie Burke Jr., and Snead. The two-day event ends tomorrow afternoon.

Snead Confident of U.S. Victory

PALM DESERT, Calif. (UPI) — Team captain Sam Snead came up with some brilliant pairings that made the United States the favorite to win the Scotch foursome matches in the opening round of the Ryder Cup competition today.

Both Snead and Capt. Dai Rees of the invading British squad were confident of victory — and both seemed pleased with the pairings.

When play got under way today, the pairings were:

Bob Rosburg and Mike Souchak, U. S., vs. B. J. Hunt and Eric Brown, Great Britain.

Julius Boros and Dow Finsterwald, U. S., vs. Ken Bousfield and Rees, Great Britain.

Snead and Dr. Cary Middlecoff, U. S., vs. Harry Weetman and Dave Thomas, Britain.

Doug Ford and Art Wall, U. S., vs. Peter Alliss and Christy O'Connor, Great Britain.

"I'm hoping to win all four matches," said Snead, "but the only way I would be disappointed would be to lose three or more of them."

Snead thinks that his strongest team is made up of Wall and Ford.

"Both men are hitting the ball well and both are putting like blazes," said Sammy. "I put myself and Middlecoff in the No. 4 position because I was certain they would put two strong men there. They did in Weetman and Thomas."

Some of the other PGA officials thought the Ford-Wall combo was the weakest of the bunch.

"I don't think they have had worse than 69 any day they have been practicing," Snead countered.

Snead put the smooth-putting Rosburg with Souchak, who is great off the tee but a bit erratic around the greens. He put the cautious Finsterwald with the gambling Boros.

Sitting on the sidelines for the U. S. team are Jackie Burke, who has an injured left hand, and Jay Hebert. Snead said he expected to use Hebert in the singles matches tomorrow. However, Burke was listed as a very doubtful starter.

Rees said that all his players were in good condition with the possible exception of Peter Mills, who has a bad back. He sat out today's matches, along with Norman Drew. Drew is expected to see action tomorrow.

"I'm happy with the draw," said Rees. "I don't think we could have done much better. All our boys are rarin' to go except Mills. I think we have a splendid chance."

In the Scotch foursome the players on each side hit alternate shots, using only one ball. The players also will alternate on the tee shots.

Play is over the 6,820-yard Eldorado Country Club course, which is bordered with orange, grapefruit and date palm trees.

The National Broadcasting Co. will put the matches on home screens starting at 5:30 p. m. EST, and ending at 7:30 p. m. EST.

British Golf Star Is 81

CLEMENTON, N.J. (AP) — Si jeunesse savait; si vieillesse pouvait.

That's a French proverb which, translated, says: If age only had the energy and youth only had the experience.

But leave it to Great Britain to come up with an 81-year-old who has a world of experience and boundless energy when it comes to golf.

He's Sir Cecil Carr, captain of Great Britain's golf team which gained a lead of 11 points after yesterday's opening action in the triangular international senior matches for those 55 years and older.

The United States ended up with 9 points and Canada with 4 in the match play competition for twosomes at alternate strokes. Great Britain is the defending champion.

Competition ends today with 16 singles matches.

Avondale Squad Has Work Cut Out Tonight

Penn State Club Keyed Up for Syracuse Battle

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) —This small central Pennsylvania community is all keyed up.

Reason: It's the home of Penn State University which meets Syracuse tomorrow in what promises to be one of the outstanding football games of the year.

Business establishments have posted placards in windows and walls with the dominant theme: "Beat Syracuse."

In one window is a promise: "Beat Syracuse and go to the Cotton Bowl."

Tickets to the game were sold out three weeks ago. Hotels and motels have been swamped with prepaid reservations.

4 Illinois Schools Ban All Post-Season Sports

MACOMB, Ill. (AP) — Post-season games in any sport were ruled out Friday for four Illinois universities—Western, Northern, Eastern and Illinois State Normal.

A ban on such games was adopted by the Teachers college Board of Illinois, which controls the four universities.

The action was taken after Carl Dunbar, a board member from Western Illinois University at Macomb, brought up the possibility of Western's playing in the NAIA Tournament if invited.

DISPUTED GOAL — Boston's Leo LaBine is in the midst of scoring his team's 3rd goal last night against the Red Wings as goalie Terry Sawchuk (center) and Alex Delvecchio fail to stop him. The Wings and fans at Olympia protested the play claiming LaBine knocked the puck in with his hand. But the goal was allowed breaking a 2nd period tie. Sawchuk got a 10-minute misconduct penalty in the ensuing arguments.

Jackets Seeking Title Repeat in Oakland B

Big Final at Fitzgerald Tonight; Four Other Crowns on Line

The Avondale Yellowjackets have their work cut out tonight as they attempt to repeat as Oakland B champions.

Coach Frank Crowell will be at least one-touchdown underdogs in the crucial loop final at Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald has headed the pack all season with its high-scoring attack too much for all foes. Avondale has struggled but stayed in the race despite a tie with Troy.

The home club takes a 4-0 loop slate into the contest with opportunity to clinch the crown with either a victory or tie. Avondale is 3-0-1.

There are several interesting non-league attractions on this last full night of play.

They will include Dearborn Fordson at Waterford with the Skippers in the underdog role while attempting to finish strong.

Also, Plymouth at Walled Lake featuring Bob Christian's last appearance, Farmington vs Belleville, Southfield at Bentley, Roseville at Berkley, Romeo at Troy, Lake Orion at Lapeer, Lutheran West at Clawson, Oak Park at Madison and Wyandotte Schaffer at South Lyon.

Northville, Imlay City and Anchor Bay are assured shares for loop honors and are expected to win outright honors tonight while Ferndale attempts to cinch a tie.

Northville visits Clarenceville on the final night of Wayne-Oakland action which has Milford at Brighton, Bloomfield Hills at Clarkston and West Bloomfield at Holly. The Lakers expect their last slim hope for a tie to dwindle away in a hurry.

Imlay, like Northville a perennial winner, also has an "easy" opponent for the closer. The Spartans entertain Ortonville. North Branch and Oxford collide in the other South Central Conference game — a return contest at Oxford.

Ferndale got dumped from the ratings and had its perfect record spoiled by Pontiac Central last week and is anxious to rebound. A victory for Royal Oak Kimball would throw the Eastern Michigan race into a deadlock. Port Huron goes to Hazel Park and Mt. Clemens vs East Detroit in other loop action.

Anchor Bay was facing a big test in trying to wrap up an outright claim in the Southern Thumb against Memphis. Armada is guest of Brown City, Capac goes to Almont and New Haven is at Dryden.

Utica hosts Lakeview and Lamphere is at home against Grosse Pointe University School completing the big slate.

Their Battle Saturday May Decide Pasadena Trip

Badgers, 'Cats Sniff Roses

By The Associated Press

Northwestern, which hasn't played in the Rose Bowl in 11 years, and Wisconsin, which has the Big Ten's only loss in the current Big Ten-Pacific Coast setup, fight it out tomorrow for the probable trip to Pasadena.

However this game must share the weekend's top-billing with the battle for the mythical Eastern championship, between unbeaten Syracuse and Penn State, at University Park, Pa.

Thus four members of the current Associated Press top ten have at it while top-ranked Louisiana State will have its hands full with Tennessee and third-ranked Texas tries to improve its position in the Southwest Conference title race and subsequent Cotton Bowl berth against Baylor.

The weekend play begins tonight in Miami's Orange Bowl when North Carolina (3-4) faces Miami (Fla), which has split six games and whose coach, Andy Gustafson was hanged in effigy earlier this week.

Northwestern, ranked second with a 6-0 record, faces its biggest obstacle in its run for the roses and for its first undefeated season ever and the first in the conference in the last 23 years. But it has halfbacks Ray Purdin and Ron Burton, plus quarterback John Talley and fullback Mike Stock to power its oft-injured forces.

Wisconsin, ranked ninth, has its backs to the Big Ten wall since it lost in conference play to Purdue. But a much-improved pass defense, the over-all play of quarterback Dale Hackbart and an iron-clad line are the Badgers credentials.

The Penn State-Syracuse affair is being built up as a 7 to 1 battle — Penn State's quarterback Richie Lucas with his 919 yards in over-all offense against the Orange's "Sizable Seven, a group of linemen who have helped Syracuse to the top nationally in offense and defense.

Syracuse (No. 4) has won all six games while seventh-ranked Penn State has a 7-0 record. Both are being closely eyed by the Orange, Cotton, Gator and newly-formed Liberty Bowl committees. Even the loser of this one should get a bid to one of the above.

LSU, heading for another national title and Sugar Bowl appearance, won't have an easy time with Tennessee (4-1-1). The Vols are a quick, aggressive team that could catch the Tigers (7-0) down a bit after their thrilling 7-3 victory last week over previously unbeaten Mississippi.

If Texas (7-0) gets by Baylor (3-3) then it has Texas Christian to look forward to next week. Coach Darrell Royal's Longhorns have backs Rene Ramirez, Jack Collins and Bobby Lackey in fine shape.

Southern California (No. 6) plays Southern Conference member West Virginia (3-4) in an intersectional game in Los Angeles. The Trojans (6-0) and particularly guard Mike McKeever, will be watched closely after last week's alleged slugging incident at California. Southern Cal also will have to watch itself closely after its two squeakers over Stanford (30-28) and Cal (14-7) the last two weeks.

The rest of the top ten action is in the South where Mississippi (No. 5) plays Chattanooga, Auburn (No. 8) tries to keep its SEC title hopes alive against Mississippi State and tenth-ranked Clemson hopes to stay atop the Atlantic Coast Conference against Duke.

The other important intra-conference games are in the Ivy and Big Eight. Georgia, the actual SEC leader with a 4-0 mark (LSU is 3-0) plays Florida (2-3-0). North Texas State, the other major unbeaten at 7-0 and heading the Missouri Valley plays independent Louisville.

The three-way tie in the Ivy should be broken after two, Yale and Penn, meet in Philadelphia. Princeton, the other, starts the league's Big Three rivalry against Harvard.

Oklahoma and Kansas, co-leaders in the Big Eight with 3-1 marks, meet Kansas State and Colorado, respectively. The Sooners are trying to start another 74 game unbeaten string.

Television viewers in the Eastern region can watch Pitt play Boston College beginning at 1:30 p.m. EST (NBC-TV). The other regional pits Air Force at Missouri, starting at 2:30 p.m. EST, also over NBC. The latter game is hooked in the East when BC-Pitt finish.

Canadiens Run String of Victories to Nine

By the Associated Press

At the rate the Montreal Canadiens are traveling, perhaps the National Hockey League should consider a split season, even though that would complicate the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Canadiens increased their unbeaten string to nine games last night when they slaughtered the impotent New York Rangers 8-2 at Montreal. Montreal has won seven and tied two games during the string.

This was Montreal's highest score and kept the Canadiens in first place by six points. Detroit tied for second place.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and Phil Goyette scored two goals apiece for Montreal. The Canadiens, who fired 52 shots at Ranger goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley, tallied twice in the opening period, then made it a runaway in the second by counting four goals to one for New York. This was the third straight defeat for the Rangers, who have won only two of 13 games.

'Fighter of Month' Title Goes to Perez

NEW YORK (AP)—Flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina today was named Ring Magazine's "fighter of the month" for his 13th round knockout of Japan's Sadao Yaoita in a title fight.

Yaoita was dropped from No. 1 contender to No. 2 behind Thailand's Pone Kingpetch in Ring's monthly ratings. Kingpetch is going to get a title shot with Perez.

There were many changes in the welterweight and lightweight classes.

By whipping former welterweight champion Virgil Akins of St. Louis, Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., was moved up from the lightweight ranks to sixth place among the 147-pounders.

British Medical Magazine Wants Boxing Abolished

LONDON (AP) — An influential British medical magazine Thursday called for the abolition of boxing and declared it "can unquestionably produce a punch drunk imbecile."

The new demand—the second by the magazine "Lancet" in five months—was sparked by the recent death of American bantamweight Walt Ingram.

The American died Oct. 26 after a fight against world champion Joe Becerra of Mexico.

Duffy Hopes It's Time for Spartans to Upset Purdue

'Spoilermakers' a Jinx at MSU in Recent Years

Purdue Defensive Might Versus Spartan Offense Saturday at State

EAST LANSING (AP) — The old argument of the irresistable force meeting the immovable object will be given a field test here Saturday.

Purdue, the Spartan Stadium football visitor, rates as the best defensive team in the Big Ten. Michigan State is ranked second best in the Big Ten offensively despite two league losses.

The Spartans looked pretty good defensively themselves in goal line stands against Notre Dame and Indiana. But the losses to Iowa and Ohio State showed MSU defenders are vulnerable to fancy pass patterns.

The Boilermakers have been known as "Spoilermakers" at East Lansing for their habit of knocking off Michigan State in important games. Best remembered are the 1953 win that snapped a 28-game win streak and a 1957 decision that marred an otherwise perfect season.

Purdue, with a loss and a tie, will also be out of the conference title running on one more loss.

"We hope our own boys get a little upset-minded," said coach Duffy Daugherty.

Only one lineup change was announced for Michigan State as the Spartans prepared to perform on home turf before a crowd estimated at 60,000.

Ike Grimsley, a junior from Canton, Ohio, will get a starting berth at guard. Grimsley came to MSU as a quarterback but was shifted to the line when his blocking and tackling looked good in defensive assignments.

He will sub for Mickey Walker, a junior from East Detroit bothered by a neck sprain picked up in the Ohio State game.

The Purdue team was due in by chartered plane shortly before noon today in time for a limbering up session in Spartan Staduim.

FINAL GAME — Senior center Fred Weisman hopes to help Milford end a losing season on a happy note tonight as the Redskins conclude play at Brighton.

Rams Entertain Ravens as SCL Closes Season

Suburban Catholic League grid squads Sunday reach the end of the 1959 "line", and it looks like the St. Benedict Ravens are going to wrap up the title. All loop elevens are in action for the weekend windup, with the St. Frederick - St. Benedict clash the only home game for Pontiac area clubs.

Off their unbroken string of seven straight SCL victories, the Ravens from Highland Park are favored heavily over the Rams in the Wisner Stadium test, starting at 2:30 p.m. Rams are 2-4 for the league, 3-4 over-all.

While the Rams-Ravens go at it here, St. Michael (3-4) will be at Center Line St. Clement. Shamrocks hope to square their record against an improved, unpredictable Crusader eleven.

OLSM's Eaglets play at St. Rita's in what could be a tossup, although the Orchard Lakers hold a better record.

Current runnerup St. James (6-1) is at RO St. Mary, and favored over the luckless south end club.

Rams' mentor, Tom Kennedy, says there'll be a number of new faces in the starting list against Art Massucci's eleven. "These kids have been working hard all week, and they want to win this one. I think they might do it," says Kennedy. Only three seniors are on the starting roster.

Ravens' Art Massucci, Mark Storen and Eddie Everhardt, bulk of the St. Benedict high-scoring backfield, will be playing their final SCL game. All are seniors. But Dan Donar, leading scorer with 84 points, will be back next year. Ravens lose seven regulars.

Donar and Everhardt will have to be stopped if Rams have any success, Sunday. This pair each collected four TDs last week. Everhardt has counted 78 points. Ravens also boast the best defense of the SCL, with only 49 points scored against them, compared to their 245 total.

Shamrocks will start an entire senior eleven at Center Line, all regulars: ends, Paul Harding, Larry Harbert; tackles, Tom Lauinger, Joe Heitjan; guards, Gary Sonnenberg, Ken Biron; center, George Drake; backs, Tom Dabbs, Dan Dunny, Pat Campbell, Bill Flanigan.

'M' and Illinois Renew Grid Feud

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan opens a desperate bid to stave off its worst football record in 23 years when it battles rugged Illinois at Champaign tomorrow.

Coach Bump Elliott's Wolverines, who have managed only two victories this season, must win one of three remaining games to escape posting the school's poorest grid mark since 1936.

Michigan faces a perilous road ahead as it turns into the 1959 home stretch. After Illinois, a team that has whipped the Wolverines in seven of the last nine meetings, Michigan takes on Indiana and Ohio State.

Elliott's charges, who can't seem to muster any sustained scoring punch, no doubt will be underdogs in the last two as they are against Illinois.

Last season the Wolverines managed to slip in a tie to finish with a dismal 2-6-1 record, and 2-5-1 in the conference. The 1936 Michigan team lost seven and won only one — non-conference clash with Columbia.

That was the last time the Wolverines failed to win a game in the Big Ten. That can't happen this year because the team already owns an upset victory over Minnesota.

The Illini have been a bigger thorn in the side of the Wolverines than any other conference foe. Michigan holds a 27-17 edge over Illinois in the overall series.

To make matters worse, Michigan hasn't licked the Illini in their own backyard in ten years, and Illinois, still nourishing Big Ten title hopes, needs a victory tomorrow to stay in the race.

Coach Ray Eliot, who will step down as Illinois' head coach after 18 years at the end of the season, will throw a good offense and a superb defensive machine at the visiting Wolverines.

The Illini, led by their brilliant linebacker Bill Burrel, have allowed their opponents only 188 yards a game, and boast a strong offensive punch in the dual threat of Mel Meyer's passing and the breakaway running of Johnny Counts.

English Horse Arrives Today

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The last of nine foreign entries in next Wednesday's $100,000 Washington, who will represent England in the mile and a half turf classic.

Gustavo Rotunda's Pensilvania, a 4-year-old filly representing Argentina, was scheduled on a flight from Caracas, Venezuela.

After Aggressor and Pensilvania arrive, only Tudor Era of the United States will be missing from the expected starting field of 12. He will be vanned from New York Sunday.

Laurel officials said yesterday veteran U. S. jockey Eddie Arcaro, making his sixth appearance in the International, will ride Mi Carina, from France. Arcaro won aboard Fisherman of the U.S. in 1954.

NBA's Battle of Giants Slated Saturday

BOSTON (AP)—Comes now the most widely heralded personal duel in professional basketball history — the clash of Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain.

Those two, who rank as giants both in size and professional stature, collide tomorrow night when the NBA champion Boston Celtics take on the rejuvinated Philadelphia Warriors in the first of their 13 scheduled meetings this season.

Each team is unbeaten this season, Boston in five games and Philadelphia in three, and the Eastern division lead rides on the match. That, however, is almost incidental to the Russell-Chamberlain affair.

Russell, the San Francisco product who provided the defense and rebounding needed to bring Boston two world championships in three seasons, is generally regarded as the greatest defensive player in the game, possibly in history. He is 6 feet 10.

Chamberlain, who played last season with the touring Harlem Globetrotters, is in his rookie year in professional basketball's big league. But he's made the biggest splash ever for a first year man. He has averaged 39.6 points a game in three starts, and coaches and players throughout the league have forecast that he'll rewrite the scoring records. One coach recently predicted Chamberlain someday will score 90 in single game.

He owns a height advantage of about three to five inches over Russell (there are no official figures on his height, but it's generally figured to be about 7 feet 1 to 7 feet 3) and outweighs big Bill by about 40 pounds.

"He's a good basketball player," Russel said, and declined further comment, a sharp departure for the usually talkative athlete.

Russell is off to his greatest start yet as a pro. He has averaged 22.2 points a game so far this season, far over his usual age, and has a 25.3 average on rebounds, higher than his previous league-leading marks.

Many critics, including Russell's own teammates, feel that the Chamberlain challenge will push Russell to performances better than any he has yet shown.

It comes to a battle of Russell's experience and defensive ability against the height and scoring punch of Chamberlain.

Celtics' Coach Red Auerbach says he isn't worried.

"He (Russell) will be up so high for this game that he'll never come down," Auerbach said.

"Look, Chamberlain gets all the write-ups and he's got that big 39 point average. But my guy played him to a standstill at Minneapolis in that exhibition game. My guy can play with the pressure on and he's got a shot from the corner now that he never had before. Oh, it will be a heck of a thing to see, but my guy is going to come out OK."

Sale of Great Jumper Hits U.S. Olympic Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)—The sale of Windsor Castle for $50,000 to Bob Ballard of Toronto probably struck a long-range blow at the U. S. hopes in next year's Olympics.

It was no secret that Bill Steinkraus and his fellow Olympians were hoping that Windsor Castle, one of the greatest jumpers ever, would be made available for the Olympics.

But now that he's in Canada, he's unavailable for good. He won't be used against the Americans either, because Canada probably won't enter a team of jumpers in the Olympics.

Jackson Takes Beating but Wins Over King

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson took a solid beating with hardly a flinch last night, then snared a 10th-round technical knockout victory over heavyweight Howard King of Reno, Nev.

Jackson, of Far Rockaway, N.Y., floored King with a left hook and a right cross for the only knockdown of the scheduled 10-rounder. After King took the nine count, got up, then fell down again, Referee Jim Nally stopped the fight at 1:45.

LOS ANGELES — Alvaro Gutierrez, 148, Los Angeles, outpointed Pat Lowry, 148, Toledo, Ohio, 10.
BANGKOK — Kenji Fukuchi, 145, Japan, and Munchai Tro, 144, Thailand, drew, 12.

40 Pct. in Pakistan Jute Output Rises

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Production of Pakistan's jute mills has increased 40 per cent this year, according to the nation's jute king, G. M. Adamjee of Dacca in East Pakistan added that production would go up further by the end of 1959. He said new markets have been found in Australia and New Zealand.

Official figures show 1958 production as 1,721,000 tons.

Police to Probe Jet Runaway of Little Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was 9-year-old Evelyn Rudie's cross-country jet flight a runaway or a publicity stunt?

Los Angeles police will try to learn the answer when she returns from Washington, Police Chief William H. Parker said Thursday. He said the young actress will be questioned by a juvenile officer.

Wins Nobel Prize for Peace

Noel-Baker Real Internationalist

By United Press International

They used to call Philip J. Noel-Baker "the man who wanted to be foreign secretary."

He looked the part, had outstanding qualifications, came as close as a man can come—and never made it. But today he received a higher distinction — the Nobel Prize for Peace.

Noel-Baker looks the part of a British statesman, but his career reveals him as a jack of all trades and master of most of them. He is studded with apparent contradictions.

He is an intellectual and an athlete, an internationalist and the representative of an English coal-mining district, a brilliant orator and outstanding politician who has kept his private life private.

He took first honors in economics in college, was an energetic and successful campus politician and debater—and ran on the varsity track squad and in three Olympic games. Some college professors still call him "the best all-arounder we ever had."

He attended so many international affairs and "the jurisdiction-say none would be complete without him—yet he found time to help run the Olympic Games Council for 35 years.

HE WRITES BOOKS

He wrote scholarly, high-brow books on disarmament, international affairs and "the jurisdical status of the British dominions on international law" — and played tennis, climbed mountains and skied.

Noel-Baker obviously has a tremendous capacity for work. He combines these with smoothness of speech and manner. Always immaculately tailored, his eyes twinkle behind round, black-rimmed glasses in a lean, intelligent face.

A pacifist and an internationalist, he comes by both traditions by inheritance and early training.

His forebears were Quakers, personally acquainted with the man who founded the Society of Friends. His great grandfather emigrated to Canada, but his father came back to England. "Baker and Quaker" never lost the pacifist beliefs of his ancestors. Much of his career has been motivated by his abhorrence of war.

SPEAKS 6 TONGUES

Born in November 1889, he was an internationalist from his youth. He was educated in the United States, France and England, married the daughter of a Greek landowner whom he met in Belgium, and learned to speak six languages fluently.

World War I posed a dilemma which he met characteristically. Baker was a Quaker, and Quakers do not kill; yet his country was fighting for his and its life. So Baker organized and joined the first Friends' ambulance unit, took it to France, Belgium and Italy.

There he met a woman who shared his beliefs. He added Irene Noel's name to his own when he married her in 1915.

Their son, Francis, was educated and reared in the same pacifist and internationalist traditions. Francis followed his father into the house of commons, and remains there still.

Noel-Baker rose to the highest levels of his political party. He was "understudy" to Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in the Attlee labor government, was chairman of the Labor Party, handled problems of coal supplies, commonwealth relations and war transportation and still maintained his strenuous participation in international affairs.

Boston Papers Down After Printers Strike

BOSTON (AP) — Publication of Boston's six daily newspapers was suspended today, shut down by a strike their 1,150 printers called Thursday night in a contract dispute.

The strike began immediately after the printers voted 561-511 to reject the publishers' offer to arbitrate two of the unresolved issues, a pay raise offer and a demand by the printers for three days leave with pay on the death of a member of their immediate families.

New England Uses School TV Often

BOSTON (UPI) — More than 584,000 New England children representing 125 school systems are now receiving instruction by television to supplement their regular studies.

Knowns as the "21-inch Classroom," the TV series emanates from Station WGBH-TV here.

Participating schools pay 25 cents for each pupil taking part. Beside the TV lessons, schools receive teachers' guides and advice on the best use of the programs.

FIRST FOR VALIANT — The Valiant Suburban, the first four-door compact car station wagon to be offered by the Big Three auto manufacturers, is now in production, with distribution planned for sometime after January 1, 1960. The wagon is built on the same 106.5 inch wheelbase as the Valiant sedans, and will be available in two or three seat models. Factory list price is $2,164, without taxes, dealer handling charges and optional equipment.

Vessel Is Threatened by Hot Cargo of Coal

MUSKEGON (UPI)—Officers of the Great Lakes coal carrier "William A. Paine" stood guard today over the ship's 7,000 ton cargo of "hot coal" that threatens to burst into flame at any moment.

They awaited word from the Inland Steel Co. dock near Chicago and the proper weather conditions to make an emergency run across Lake Michigan to unload the coal.

Officials of the Hutchinson Lines said the coal had been in the hold of the ship more than four months because of the steel strike and conditions were ripe for spontaneous combustion within the cargo.

A sister carrier, "Charles L. Hutchinson," with 15,000 tons of smoldering coal, was being unloaded at the Inland dock.

Market Edges Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — A slight edge to the upside developed early this afternoon in an irregular stock market. Trading was fairly active.

Aircrafts were briskly traded and higher. Drugs moved ahead and kept gains as turnover slackened after an active start.

A few small gainers appeared as the steels turned from lower to mixed. Rails also showed signs of life, posting a gain on average after making an uneven start.

Revlon recovered about a point, wiping out the small loss taken yesterday as the company was spotlighted in the television quiz investigation.

American Motors was ahead slightly and Studebaker-Packard was about unchanged.

Chemicals, oils and nonferrous metals worked generally higher while space age stocks rested, showing slight changes.

The market was uneven at the start in an active opening marked by a late ticker tape.

Some big blocks were traded in Walworth, Glen Alden and Electrical & Musical Industries, none of which showed much change as trading progressed.

The aircrafts, most of them down substantially from their 1959 highs, were entitled to some rotation of trading interest.

Martin Co. picked up a couple of points while Douglas and Boeing moved up a point or more.

George Romney Sings New Tune —Likes Reuther

DETROIT (AP)—An industrialist who said in World War II that labor leader Walter P. Reuther was "the most dangerous man in America," says now that today he is "a different Walter Reuther."

The industrialist is George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., and his remarks on the United Auto Workers chief came in an address Thursday to delegates attending the 28th Mid-Continent Trust Conference sponsored by the American Bankers Assn.

Romney said he premised his World War II remark "on the fact that I think he (Reuther) is one of the ablest men in America."

"I don't think that Walter Reuther today is the same Walter Reuther that I was talking about in World War II," Romney continued. "I don't mean by that, that he doesn't have some of the ideas he had then. He does. However, he's not advocating a comparable program of socialism."

The American Motors president said that in the current nationwide steel strike "profound battles and struggles involving alignments of economic and political power are involved that ought to make every American shudder."

Saying that "I don't think you can call the union boys wrong and the management boys right, or vice versa," Romney renewed his insistence that both industrial and union power have become too great and may force government controls of both.

Savings and Loan Firms Show Growth

LANSING (AP) — The secretary of state's office today reported "sharply accelerated growth and increased business volume" for Michigan-chartered savings and loan associations during the fiscal year ended last June 30.

Total assets of the 35 chartered associations jumped $71,394,466 to a record $518,614,078. Invested shares went up $54,565,561.

A total of 224,873 savings share account members hold shares worth $450,250,301.

Child Workers Tallied

WASHINGTON — About two million children between ages 14 - 17 are employed in the United States.

Wheat Firms, Others Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — A scattered demand firmed up wheat futures slightly in spots today but other grains and soybeans were steady to easier in early board of trade transactions.

A small setback in soybeans marked the first time this week that commodity did not start off the day with prices sharply ahead. Dealers said there appeared to be a moderate volue of profit-taking in beans and corn. Offerings, however, were described as relatively light.

The support for wheat appeared to be on export account in expectation of sales to the United Arab Republic, Pakistan and Yugoslavia.

Trade was virtually at a standstill near the end of the first hour with wheat ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher, December $2.00⅛; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, December $1.12½; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, December 76⅜; rye ⅜ to ⅝ lower, December $1.34¼; soybeans ⅛ to ⅞ lower, November $2.21⅞.

Waterford Twp. Building Tops Million Dollars

Construction work in Waterford Township has again soared to more than a million dollars for a one-month period, according to Township Building Department records.

The October total of $1,000,831 was just under the record number of permits issued in September. The figure, however, is almost double last year's October total.

Commercial building was well over the $200,000 mark due to a permit issued the city of Pontiac for construction of an airport terminal costing $187,000. A new warehouse and offices costing $10,000 is under construction on Scott Lake and Pontiac Lake roads. A $4,500 storage building also is being built at 1640 Telegraph Rd.

There were 181 heating permits issued in October due to a new township ordinance requiring a permit for any new installations or changes in present heating units.

Lincoln Diogenes Plans Big-Money Quiz Revival

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — As the quiz scandals deepen, the TV industry is anxious to prove it has the ability to purge itself.

Assuming the cleansing takes place, let's look ahead many years, for the fun of it, and wonder if the following scene will ever take place:

The scene: A senator's office in Washington. An honest TV producer, Lincoln Diogenes, is speaking:

L. .... And I need your help, sir, to get my new quiz show on the air. You know that many years ago, a quiz scandal rocked the nation. The shows were rigged and . . .

S. Yes, I know all that. Studied it in law school . . . the honest quiz show law was passed and now the TV business is as clean as — as a hound's tooth.

L. Clean. Really Clean. Well, I feel the time has come to bring back the big money quiz. I have a format ready to go, based on the old card game called "21" . . .

S. Then what's the problem!

L. It's that honest quiz law sir. When I decided to become a TV producer, I sweated out a one-year investigation by the networks, the FCC, the FBI, the PTA and the Society for the Prevention of TV Rigging. I even passed the fingernail test and received a license. Three years later, after my staff was investigated and licensed, I was able to put an ad in the paper for quiz show contestants.

S. Any replies?

L. Millions of 'em. I guess they remember those good old days. The trouble is, each applicant is trying to make a deal. They're demanding minimum guarantees. They promise kickbacks. They offer bribes. They want to write the questions. If I did one show with these characters, I'd be in the clink before the last commercial.

S. I see. But what can I do?

L. Amend that honest quiz law. The section that disqualifies certain people from participating on the show should be changed so that they can appear. Otherwise we'll never get a completely honest, above-board quiz on TV.

S. Who are the people who are now ineligible?

L. Persons employed by the producer, the network, the advertising agency and the sponsor. Give them exclusive rights and ban everyone else. It's our only chance.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Charles Van Doren's father, Mark Van Doren, appears on NBC-TV's Eternal Light program Sunday, Nov. 15 and 22. The poet-critic will take part in a discussion of folk literature.

Dick Clark's ABC-TV half hour on Saturday, Nov. 21, will feature a 130-piece orchestra called the 101 strings performing "Back Beat Symphony." Quite a switch from the rock 'n roll soloists, trios and quartets that usually appear.

Eye Disease Found in Community Tests

LANSING (UPI) — A cooperative community testing at Holland and Grand Haven last May for detection of Glaucoma, an eye disease, uncovered 20 cases out of the 10,679 persons tested, the State Health Department said today.

The testing was the first program ever held in Michigan on a community basis. The program was conducted through cooperation of the Ottawa County Medical Society, the County Health Department and the Holland Lions Club.

Glaucoma occurs in persons over 40 and causes about 12 per cent of all blindness. About 42,000 Michigan persons were estimated to have the disease, the Department said.

LITTLE MAN, BIG BOOTS — Four-year-old Frank Callahan of San Mateo, Calif., gets to step into some pretty big boots as he tries on those of Roy Rogers at the Cow Palace in San Francisco Wednesday. With Dale Evans and his horse Trigger, Rogers will originate his television show from there Sunday during the Grand National Exposition.

6-9 Months Needed to Replace Steel

DETROIT (UP)—From six to nine months of very high production will be required after the steel strike is settled before consumer inventories can be built up to normal levels, a steel executive said yesterday.

Theodore H. Gerken, vice president of Laird & Co. of New York, told the Mid-Continent Trust Conference, "I can see no reason why 1960 can't be the best year the steel industry ever has enjoyed, providing the strike can be resolved before the Taft-Hartley injunction is lifted."

The conference is sponsored by the American Bankers Assn.

Hal March to Sue Revlon to Clear Name of Rigging

NEW YORK (UP)—While some of those prominently associated with TV quiz shows now under fire are talking plenty, a few aren't saying anything.

Washington has been the scene of most utterances lately.

But now, in New Orleans, Hal March has spoken up in some heat to say he wants everyone to know he wasn't aware of any rigging on "The $64,000 Question" show while he was master of ceremonies.

To prove it, he said, he's going to sue one of the sponsors, Revlon, Inc., cosmetics firm.

Eye International Site of Trade in Hawaii

HONOLULU (UP) — Beautiful Chinese, Samoan, Japanese, Philippine and Australian style buildings on an island designed by the greatest architects of America, Australia and the Far East . . .

That's the picture painted by U.S. Rep. Daniel K. Inouye of the proposed International Trade Center here.

Inouye urged participation by Hawaii with the federal government in the center. He says it was imperative that the 50th state should at the same time "work with our friends and neighbors of the Far East."

Farms Predominate

WHEELING—About 60 per cent of West Virginia's total acreage is in farm lands.

Third Representative in Two Days Dies

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UP) — Rep. Alvin R. Bush (R-Pa) died in Williamsport Hospital Thursday at the age of 66. He suffered a heart attack Wednesday.

Bush served in Congress two terms and was elected to a third in 1958.

A native of Clearfield County, Pa., he had been living in Muncy, Lycoming County.

His congressional district consisted of eight north-central Pennsylvania counties.

Bush is the third member of the U.S. House of Representatives to die within two days. Rep. Charles A. Boyle (D-Ill), was fatally injured in an automobile accident in Chicago. Rep. Steven V. Carter (D-Iowa) died of cancer in Bethesda Naval Hospital near Washington.

Bush was the third-ranking Republican on the House Commerce Committee.

Installed by Blue Star

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Mrs. Frank Drayton of Flint was installed as first vice president of the Blue Star Mothers at the group's annual convention Thursday.
