Examine Plans for Courthouse; Hire Architects

Supervisors Ask City to Vacate Portion of West Boulevard

Preliminary plans for Oakland County's proposed new courthouse were presented to County supervisors at their meeting yesterday, and supervisors voted two measures to continue the project.

The board voted to ask the City of Pontiac to vacate a section of West Boulevard so that it may be relocated at county expense around the proposed building site, and to hire O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Associates, to continue architectural work.

Both roll call votes passed over the objections of five Pontiac supervisors. A sixth, W. Ray Ransom, voted yes.

Special Building Committee chairman Harold K. Schone, of Oak Park, who presented the plans, told supervisors he hopes contracts for the first stage of the project—the six-story central court tower—can be let by April 17, 1957.

He said this part of the structure, at an estimated cost of $2,500,000, should be finished by October 15, 1958.

$5.5 MILLION PRICE TAG

The total structure, he said, will probably cost about $5,500,000, and may be completed between 1962 and 1965.

Top floor of the central tower will be devoted to a legal library. Schone said, adding that his committee felt first estimates of storage space needed could probably be cut by 40 per cent.

He said use of microfilm equipment and adoption of a record retention system would enable the cut.

The third and fourth floors of the building, he said, will be used for probate and juvenile courts and offices. Six circuit court rooms, judges' offices and jury rooms will occupy the first and second floors.

Schone said space is planned for six circuit courts and three juvenile and probate courts, although at present only one probate and four circuit court rooms are needed. He said the extra rooms could be used for county offices while the remainder of the structure is being built.

On the ground floor, he said, will be rooms for the prosecuting attorney, jury committee and assignment clerk, with a detention room for prisoners awaiting trial. Elevators, public lavatories and staircases are included.

Supervisors Reject County Census Bid

Oak Park City Manager Harold K. Schone's annual effort to redistribute state sales tax money in Oakland County failed again yesterday when the Board of Supervisors voted down a special county census.

Schone, who has introduced the special census resolution annually for three years, wants the new census to replace the 1950 federal census, on which the sales tax distribution now is based. He says Oak Park has grown by 23,000 residents since 1950.

Opponents said they would favor a special state census, which would allocate more tax money to growing Oakland County, but turned thumbs down on reshuffling distribution within the county.

Contacted yesterday, W. Ray Ransom, Pontiac member of the Board of Supervisors said the census would benefit 38 county municipalities with money taken from 41 others.

Ike Pledges 'No Surrender' to Pressures

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has pledged no "surrender to pressure, bribes for support, escapes from responsibility" in his campaign for re-election.

Eisenhower urged Republicans last night to make a special drive to enlist young people in a campaign he said must be "concerned with those things which count for most—people and principles."

Eisenhower was cheered lustily by 900 GOP leaders as he addressed a colorful banquet that wound up a two-day pre-campaign strategy meeting.

His speech, in effect, was the opening of his own re-election effort.

The President shared the limelight with Vice President Nixon. Party workers left little doubt by their applause most of them want Nixon on the ticket again.

U.S. Watches Soviet Action

Reds May Usurp Credit for Letdown of Tension in Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union appears to be moving swiftly and with great skill to consolidate a position as a power in Middle Eastern affairs.

This is the interpretation most generally placed here on the Russian Foreign Office announcement of readiness to cooperate in United Nations efforts to make peace between Israel and the Arab states.

WATCH IMPACT

The move, in the view of U. S. officials, was timed to set the stage for British-Russian talks on the Middle East.

American officials are watching the London scene closely to see what kind of impact the Soviet leaders make on the people of England and Western Europe.

They also are eager to learn whether the Kremlin pair comes up with any concrete proposals for Middle East action, for progress on disarmament negotiations or for developments on other world issues.

Jersey Machine Hands Kefauver Serious Defeat

Senator Gains One-Half Vote in Convention; Ike Is 3-1 'Favorite' Choice

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Sen.

Estes Kefauver of Tennessee went down to a resounding defeat in the New Jersey primary today, the most serious setback since he opened his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

At the same time, New Jersey Republicans gave President Eisenhower a firm endorsement, although he had no opposition.

Returns from 3,416 of the state's 4,155 voting districts showed these totals in the preference sections of the ballots:

Eisenhower 260,007.
Kefauver 98,227.

In the Democratic returns, there also were 1681 write-ins for Adlai Stevenson, who was not a candidate in this primary.

LOST DELEGATES

For Kefauver, however, the "popularity contest" was much less serious than the battle for delegates to the nominating convention. His 72 backers—who would have 36 convention votes—were swamped by an unpledged slate headed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

The organization elected 63 delegates with 31½ votes, while Kefauver elected only one delegate with ½ vote. The organization led in the remaining 8 contests with 4 votes.

On the Republican side, a 38-vote delegation pledged to the President was elected. It had taken opposition from three "conservative" and undesignated candidates.

Kefauver campaigned intensively for six days in New Jersey, making his final appearance last Sunday. But the tactics of handshaking and meeting people that served him so well in New Hampshire and Minnesota failed here.

BOTH LOSE VOTES

Neither Eisenhower nor Kefauver got as many preferential votes in this election as they had in 1952, but the President's percentage was better. Four years ago, after a hot fight with the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, he polled 330,591 votes—nearly half the total cast then by both parties.

Kefauver got 154,964, in 1952 when he was also unopposed. He did not contest then for convention delegates and at the convention got only three of New Jersey's votes on the first ballot.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 30 degrees. The thermometer registered 40 at 1 p.m.

Grace Kelly Becomes a Princess in Civil Ceremony This Morning

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Serious-faced and sitting rigid as a statue, film queen Grace Kelly became Princess of Monaco and bride of Prince Rainier III today. No tears were shed and no kisses were exchanged.

The brief civil ceremony, uniting the 26-year-old American film star to one of the oldest princely families of Europe and making her First Lady of this 270-acre Mediterranean principality, was televised by Europe's major networks. A religious ceremony will be performed tomorrow.

Today's ceremony consisted mainly of an exchange of "Ouis" and the signing of an official register in the presence of 81 guests.

Dems Plan Vote on Farm Veto

Request House Support but Have No Real Hope of Overriding Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders called for a House vote today to override President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill but conceded in advance they were merely going through the motions. They acknowledged they had no real hope of mustering the two-thirds margin required to upset Eisenhower's rejection of the bill. Failure to pass such a majority would kill the measure.

Only in the event the House voted to override would it go to the Senate for a similar test.

Hose rules limit debate on a veto message to one hour.

With partisan feeling running high, the Democrats prepared to demand a recorded rollcall on the farm issue for use in the fall political campaign.

There was no immediate indication of the course which farm legislation may now take. Eisenhower has urged that Congress act quickly to authorize soil bank payments to farmers to take part of their cropland out of production of crops now in surplus.

As the details were concluded, Grace relaxed and glanced at the Prince but he was staring straight ahead. Then she glanced at her sister, Mrs. George Davis of Philadelphia. In the exchange of smiles it appeared for a moment the bride was going to burst into laughter.

KIND OF NUMB

"I am kind of numb," she said after the ceremony.

The 32-year-old bridegroom was strained and nervous as he sat beside the blonde beauty from Philadelphia and Hollywood in the small gold and red Throne Room of the Palace of Monaco.

He ran his finger under his collar, bit his fingernail and pulled his mustache. Briefly he folded his hands firmly in his lap, but a moment later was tugging again at his mustache.

Grace was dressed in a rose beige silk suit on which silk lace designs had been stitched. It had a fitted jacket; and a bell-shaped skirt dropping below the knee to a point 14 inches from the floor. The bride signed the official register making her a princess at 11:15 a.m., using her full name, Grace Patricia Kelly. Grace's Marriage to Last? 6 Pontiac Women Say Yes

A question in the mind of the public today is whether the marriage, of movie actress Grace Kelly to Prince Rainier, Monaco monarch, will be an enduring one.

A random survey taken in downtown Pontiac yesterday showed that some women in the area believe it will. They also expressed hopes that the much-publicized marriage will last.

Here is what six Pontiac women said on the subject:

Miss Ila Hulsman, 29 W. Beverly Ave. — "Yes, I think it will last because this is not the type of marriage often associated with Hollywood. Grace is a very quiet girl and not the type to run around, like many other stars."

Mrs. Frank Lada, 439 Valencia Dr. — "I definitely think the marriage will last. They make a very nice couple and I think that since they both are of the same religion it will help in the marriage."

Mrs. Charles Chaney, 49 E. Strathmore Ave. — "I sincerely hope it will last for I do not believe in divorce. But I must admit I have some doubts as to whether the marriage will continue long."

Mrs. Johnson when I think of the other similar marriage of Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth."

Move One Step Nearer Solution of Area Problem

Seek Source of Supply for Oakland, Macomb Consumers

A major step toward a solution of Oakland County's water supply problems was taken yesterday with ratification by the Board of Supervisors of the South-eastern Michigan Water Authority.

The Authority, a joint municipal corporation with equal representation from Oakland and Macomb counties, will have power to issue bonds, condemn land for its use and make contracts.

Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley, chairman of the Inter-County Committee's water committee, submitted the articles of incorporation to supervisors at yesterday's meeting.

They were adopted unanimously. They had previously been ratified by Macomb County supervisors last Tuesday.

Kelley said yesterday the Authority would seek a fresh-water source, probably Lake Huron, to supply most water needs for both growing counties.

STUDIED 6 YEARS

He said the subject had been under study for six years, since a 1950 Royal Oak survey recommended Lake Huron as a source of fresh water for the county.

With formation of the Inter-County group in 1954, the water committee was appointed to seek necessary powers to take the step.

The new corporation will be financed initially by loans from the two counties' boards of supervisors, Kelley said, and will repay the loans when bonds have been issued.

The Authority originally was to have included Wayne, Monroe, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties, but expansion of the Detroit-Wayne County supply system eased the situation in the southwestern quarter of the metropolitan area, and Wayne, Monroe and Washtenaw dropped out. St. Clair County still is uncommitted.

A survey last October by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Planning Commission disclosed that 37 area communities were not equipped to handle current water needs. Another 100 said they had no municipal water systems of any kind.

Only 58 reported adequate facilities to handle current needs, and many of them expressed doubts of their capacity in the event of further expansion.

Supervisors Reject County Census Bid

Oak Park City Manager Harold K. Schone's annual effort to redistribute state sales tax money in Oakland County failed again yesterday when the Board of Supervisors voted down a special county census.

Schone, who has introduced the special census resolution annually for three years, wants the new census to replace the 1950 federal census, on which the sales tax distribution now is based. He says Oak Park has grown by 23,000 residents since 1950.

Opponents said they would favor a special state census, which would allocate more tax money to growing Oakland County, but turned thumbs down on reshuffling distribution within the county.

Contacted yesterday, W. Ray Ransom, Pontiac member of the Board of Supervisors said the census would benefit 38 county municipalities with money taken from 41 others.

Warden Describes Riots of 1952

Bannon Speaks to Kiwanis Units

Convict Called Product of Bad Home Conditions by Prison Leader

Eighty per cent of the 6,000 convicts at Southern Michigan Prison would not be there if they had the proper kinds of backgrounds, Warden William H. Bannon told 150 Kiwanians at the area's Inter-Club-Rama in the Elks Temple yesterday.

The head of the world's largest walled prison said the additions of new laws or police are of no use in stopping crime if training is not started in the home.

The lack of family and religious training has caused trouble for the majority of prisoners, according to Bannon.

The warden cited the unsuccessful use of child psychology, too strict school curriculums, and failure to discuss sex with children as some of the chief reasons for their going wrong.

He mentioned the lack of attention as another major factor with so many parents working today. "You have to have them under control to do anything with them," explained Bannon.

Bannon said many improvements have been made and there has been very little trouble at the prison since the infamous riots of 1952. Chief among these has been the construction of new buildings to make it possible to better segregate the criminals.

"I was never so scared before in my life," the veteran penitentiary told his audience in describing the terror of the riot days.

The warden told in detail how the convicts wrecked everything they could get hold of, raided the commissary and were having picnics in the yard. He said only the threat of being fired on the spot sent his guards into action after they had first refused to carry out his order to clear the yards.

With all the trouble he has gone through with convicts, Bannon can recall several "happy moments." He mentioned the Flint tornado of 1963 when the men gave more in donations per capita from their 15-cents-a-day allowance than the average citizen.

Another example he cited was when the inmates raised enough money to send a fellow prisoner home for his mother's funeral with an additional $250 contributed to help cover funeral expenses.

Jack Niggeman, President of the host Downtown Pontiac Club, presided at the luncheon meeting. The West Pontiac, North Pontiac and West Bloomfield clubs were the others taking part. A total of seven clubs in the division were represented.

Warden Bannon was introduced by Past President Harcourt Patterson.

Pontiac Soaring to Second Place in Traffic Safety

Pontiac has soared to second place in traffic safety figures released by the National Safety Council for the first three months of 1956.

The rank comes in a comparison of 93 cities with populations between 50,000 and 100,000, according to Clyde R. Haskill, who heads the Chamber of Commerce safety committee.

Only one person has died in traffic here this year, Haskill said, as compared with five deaths at this time last year when Pontiac was ranked about 37th.

Haskill commended drivers and pedestrians for increasing awareness of the terrible toll caused by carelessness on city streets.

"It's gratifying to see that the committee's work to save lives has had success," he said.

Group Set to Submit Amendment

Election Battle Shaping Up on Legalization of Bingo

LANSING (AP)—Another election battle over legalizing bingo was shaping up today as a group prepared to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to the State Board of Canvassers.

A proposal to legalize lotteries conducted by non-profit charitable organizations was defeated at the November 1954 election after a bitter fight between church groups and supporters.

Attorneys for the Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations Inc., which sponsored the 1954 proposal, got informal approval of the petitions from the state elections division yesterday.

Robert Montgomery, state elections director, said the group would submit the petitions to the State Board of Canvassers Friday.

"There is no requirement that they do so, but some of these groups feel it wise to get state approval of the petitions before they circulate them," Montgomery explained.

The proposal offered by the group this year differs in one important respect from the 1954

Doctors Begin New Survey on Effect of Fluoridation

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A team of doctors has begun a study to determine the effect among children who started drinking fluoridated water here after their permanent teeth appeared.

Grand Rapids was the first city in the United States in which the federal government, with local co-operation, set up a control area using fluorides in water as a means of protecting teeth. Nearby Muskegon, which was not fluoridated, was the other part of the control.

The team is composed of Dr. Richard L. Hayes and Dr. Norman W. Littleton, Bethesda, Md., of the National Institute of Health, U. S. Public Health Service; and Mrs. Virginia L. DeBois, local Public Health Service field representative.

They are examining students who were in the first grade and who developed six-year molars when fluoridation was started here in 1944-45.

BENEFITS OTHERS

Dr. Hayes said, "We believed at first that the benefits of fluoridation would be shown only by those who started taking the fluorides at birth, but we discovered that the benefits extended to those whose teeth had not erupted but were in process of formation.

"Now we think there may be benefit to those whose teeth already had erupted when fluoridation started," he added. "That's what we are trying to find out now."

Dr. Hayes said if the group finds that there is post-eruptive effects of fluoridation there will be a basis for further study to determine whether adults also receive protection from fluoridation.

A similar examination of students in Muskegon will take place.

New Trades Official

DETROIT (AP)—Thomas McNamara, brother of U. S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich.), is the new secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Construction Trades Council. He was named to the office in a special election by delegates representing about 60,000 construction craftsmen in the Detroit area. Currently business agent of pipefitters local 636 of the plumbers and steamfitters union, McNamara will succeed Finlay C. Allan. Allan resigned to become a representative of the Brotherhood of Carpenters Union with headquarters in Indianapolis.

Both the Prince and Grace waved and smiled repeatedly to the cheering throng.

Just as they stepped out on the balcony, the sun came out for the first time today. Before the sky had been gray and clouded, threatening rain.

MANY DUTIES For the Prince and Princess, the marriage ceremony was only a part of the work of the day. A lunch for the diplomatic delegations to the wedding followed followed the ceremony.

In the afternoon the people of Monaco were welcomed to a garden reception at the palace.

Tonight the couple were to go to a gala in the Opera House sheltered in the casino. The program includes a series of ballet numbers by the London Festival Ballet and the Paris Opera companies. Its high point is a boogie-woogie type of ballet expressing a youthful welcome to Princess Grace of Monaco.

It also limits legalized gambling to bingo and semi-annual raffles conducted by church, veterans and fraternal groups.

"Sponsors of the proposal feel that they can eliminate much of the opposition by spelling out in more detail what types of gambling would be permitted," Montgomery said.

The proposed amendment says no funds can go to "private profit or gain." All receipts must be applied to and intended for "charitable, civic, educational, fraternal, religious philanthropic, religious or other like purposes."

The 1954 proposal gave the legislature broad powers to allow lotteries for "non-profit charitable organizations." It was defeated by some 41,000 votes.

If the bingo proposal and other constitutional amendments appear on the ballot this fall, voters will be confronted with an unusual amount of fine print.

Bold Task Faces Dag in Mideast

Must Convince Israel's Premier Ben-Gurion of Border Plan Truce

JERUSALEM (INS)—Dag Hammarskjold faced a major hurdle today in his efforts to win the approval of Premier David Ben-Gurion for his plan to reduce tension on the Israeli-Egyptian border.

The U.N. secretary general was expected to ask Ben-Gurion to agree to pull Israeli forces from the border, a proposal approved last week by Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The pullback distance believed suggested by Hammarskjold is 500 meters (1,640 feet).

Similar suggestions in the past have been turned down cold by the Israelis.

The Israelis were equally unenthusiastic about the idea of reducing their armed forces stationed on the border unless they receive definite proof that such semi-military organizations as the Egyptian Fayadeen (suicide squads) are to be put out of business.

However, most observers believe that despite her misgivings Israel will go along with Hammarskjold's proposals to reduce border tension rather than risk the appearance of being an aggressor.

Soviet Explains Cominform End

Pravda Makes Clear That Action Does Not Change Aims

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda made it clear today the dissolution of the Cominform—the international organization of Communist parties—does not represent any change in Communist aims.

The Soviet party organ served notice that party organizations in the various countries will find new "beneficial forms for their mutual ties and coordination of their activities."

OFFICIAL STORY

Pravda made the comment in connection with the official announcement of the dissolution, carried this morning by all Communist papers in East and West Europe.

First word in Moscow of the move came yesterday from Deputy Soviet Premier A. I. Mikoyan. The official announcement said the purpose was to "overcome the division of the workers' party."

This was a frank reference to Moscow's desire for establishment of united fronts between Europe's Socialists and Communists, as well as to the Stalin-time split between Yugoslavia and the Soviet bloc.

The expansion of the Socialist system beyond the Soviet Union's borders, it added, had carried new conditions.

$9 Million County Budget Accepted by Supervisors

Oakland County's Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted the $9,035,485 county budget for 1957 tax allocation purposes. The vote was unanimous.

The budget represents a 15.2 per cent increase over 1956 spending, and calls for $7,415,253.80 to be raised by taxation. Most County departments will receive increases.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, said Monday he hopes increased assessment values in the County, mainly due to population increases, will cover the budget increases.

"But at most, the individual taxpayer's load won't be increased by more than 10 or 12 cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation," Moore said.

The Board voted to change its by-laws to allow its Buildings and Grounds Committee to use county appraisers when others are not immediately available.

Supervisors also decided to reject all bids for the proposed new animal shelter and launch a further study of the project with a view to cutting costs.

Sale of some parcels of county land was voted, and a request for county land on the Tuberculosis Sanatorium site to build a fire hall for Union Lake volunteers was denied.

A report of crowded conditions in the County Children's Home was referred to the Board of Auditors for study. A further report was promised.

Supervisors took no action on a report by Buildings and Grounds Chairman Harry W. Horton on the proposed Central Garage Building at the new courthouse site.

Horton said cost estimates of the garage, equipment and servicing unit and 120-car storage unit came to $381,000. He said

Robert Girardin Accepts Recreation Chief's Post

BIRMINGHAM—Robert E. Girardin, 28, of Mt. Clemens, has accepted the post of recreation director here.

His letter accepting the Recreation Board offer of last week was received yesterday. He will begin work May 14.

A year and a half as recreation director for Metropolitan Beach is the experience that most impressed the board members, according to the board's chairman. He has a BS in education and recreation from Michigan State University and is working towards a masters in public administration at Wayne University.

He taught in Lansing for some time, and his wife taught here one year. The family, including children, David and Catherine, will probably remain in Mt. Clemens with Girardin commuting.

The post created last fall with a salary shared by city commission and board of education, has been vacant since a director quit in February after working only two weeks.

Teachers salaries have been increased by from $300 to $400 overall. Beginning teachers with BA degrees have been raised from $3900 to $4200 for next year. This is added to the regular $150 yearly raise.

Top salaries now are $6600 for BA holders and $6800 for MA holders.

The proposed merger of Congregational churches with those of another denomination will be discussed from both viewpoints at the First Congregational Church tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Dr. Phillip Scales of Mayflower Church and the Rev. Irwin Britten of Wayne church will talk and Clint Newman will be moderator.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today proclaimed Friday, April 27, as Arbor Day in Michigan, and urged encouragement of tree planting and conservation.

Stevenson Rips 'Ballot' Story

Brands News Quote
on Convention Landslide
'Wholly Inaccurate'

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP) — Democratic presidential aspirant Adlai E. Stevenson, scheduled to fly to Pittsburgh from here today, says a news story quoting him as saying he intends to win the nomination on the first ballot was "wholly inaccurate."

But, said Stevenson, "it is a good idea." He added: "I don't know much about the history of national conventions, but I doubt if many candidates have been nominated on the first ballot in contested conventions."

"I've been wracking my brain trying to think of what I might have said to give the young man that impression. If it is a reporter making a prediction, let's hope it comes true."

The report appeared in Monday papers after an interview here. The Democratic party's 1952 standard bearer will undertake a round of preprimary stumping in Pennsylvania today and tomorrow.

Stevenson will go to Washington this weekend to address the American Society of Newspaper Editors at a Saturday luncheon session, his Chicago office said. Stevenson had taken a four-day rest at the farm home here of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives.

He isn't allowed to wield the razor, however. It isn't that the keeper thinks "Jumbo" is clumsy or unsteady — it's just an old Bavarian superstition: never let an elephant shave you.

Why Be Burned? Gulp Sun-Dried Fruit Tree Pill

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — A little pill made from sun-dried fruit trees is being studied in the desert here to determine whether it has the power to prevent sunburn.

Scientists from the University of Arizona and the University of Oregon hope the drug, psoralen, will speed the sometimes painful process of tanning.

Psoralen, derived from fig and citrus trees, has been used by the Egyptians for centuries to deepen skin pigmentation.

Last year the scientists realized they were a long way from success when eight volunteer contestants at the state prison here sen-to the hospital with severe sunburn. But Dr. Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, University of Oregon dermatologist said he is encouraged by the latest results.

Ferry Skipper Honored

PORT HURON (AP) — Capt. Thomas A. Brown of Detroit, senior captain of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad's car ferry fleet, was honored at a luncheon marking his retirement after 30 years' service. Brown, who formerly lived in Port Huron, estimates he made more than 30,000 trips between the United States and Canada.

Garment Maker Faces Questions

Solons to Probe Alleged Buying of Bonds Using Phony Names

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph (Joe) Abrams, a garment maker, goes before investigating senators today for questioning about his alleged buying of millions of dollars worth of bonds under phony names.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee summoned Abrams and others in its search for evidence of possible graft in Army uniform buying in the period 1951-53.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said two of Abrams' former business associates were called to testify in advance of Abrams, once a big producer of uniforms at plants in Brooklyn, N.Y. Robert F. Kennedy, subcommittee counsel, named the two as Murray Berman of Island Park, N.Y., and Harry Hyman of Rockville Centre, N.Y.

The subcommittee received testimony last week about purchases of government bonds and other securities under various names by Abrams and Herman Kravitz, a rival for government contracts.

Carmine S. Bellino, a subcommittee accountant, has testified he traced interest coupons from bonds purchased by both Abrams and Kravitz into a single bank account, opened by Kravitz in 1953 under the name of E. W. Randal.

McClellan said the subcommittee will demand from both Abrams and Kravitz an accounting of what happened to the bonds. He says he intends to show whether any of the bonds were handed out as bribes.

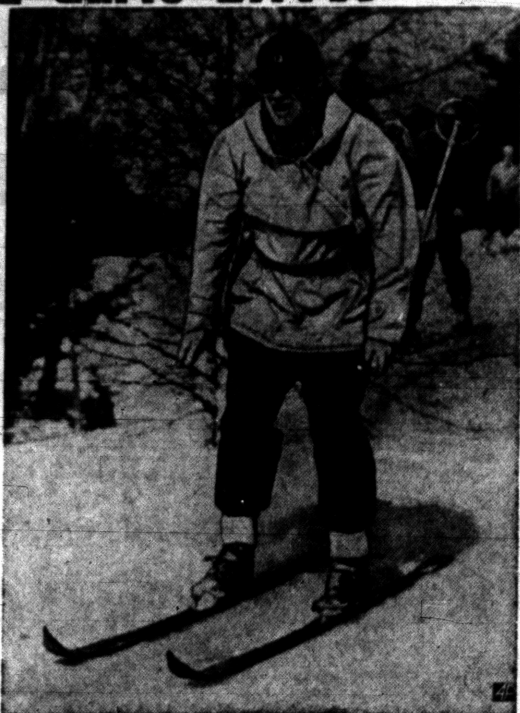

Kennedy has said both Abrams and Kravitz have been barred from government contracts since 1953.

Pontiac High School Band to Participate in Festival

The Pontiac High School under the direction of Dale C. Harris will participate in the annual Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival on Saturday at Michigan State University.

The 90 band members will be among 4,000 other young musicians who will take part in the all-day festival on the East Lansing campus.

The Pontiac group will perform in the University auditorium at 9:45 a.m. They will play a required number for Class AA schools a tone poem, "Mannin Veen" by Wood; a warm up march, Debonair by Royal, composed especially for the Pontiac band and played first at the National Convention of the American School Band Directors' Association in Detroit last December; and a free selection, Fantasy on Themes of Frescobaldi arranged by Mohaupt.

All three of these numbers were played by the band at its annual concert last Thursday. The band will also play two sight reading numbers, music they have never seen before, at the state final festival.

Three adjudicators will evaluate each performance before agreeing upon a final rating. Judges have been drawn from Ohio, Illinois and Oklahoma in addition to Michigan.

The public is invited to attend any of the concert centers. Information about any of the music groups participating will be available at a special desk to be set up in the lobby of the MSU Music Building.

School Erection Begins

GREENVILLE (AP) — Construction has started on the new five-room St. Charles Catholic School here. The school will cost $130,000 and completion is set for next fall.

Poseyville Church Is Damaged by Fire

MIDLAND (AP) — Fire destroyed the interior of the Poseyville Methodist Church Monday night. The church is in a rural area six miles south of Midland.

Firemen from Freeland, Hemlock and Midland Township fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

The fire was believed to have started from the furnace in the basement. The church was built in 1897.

Because available water supplies were short, firemen used the same water twice. They used a pump to draw water from the basement that already had been poured onto the fire.

A union of Taiwan citronella exporters—15 of them—has been formed in Taipei.

High School Bands Join MSU Annual Festival

EAST LANSING (AP) — More than 4,000 young musicians from 73 Michigan high school bands and orchestras will participate in the Annual Music Festival Saturday at Michigan State University.

Four auditoriums will sound to music as the high schoolers will perform in a day-long schedule from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The bandmen, winners of district music festivals, will be rated on their performances by panels of judges. Class C schools will not be represented as they performed last Saturday at Muskegon.

Leonard V. Falcone, MSU band director and festival chairman, said the gathering of class A and B bands will be the largest ever staged at Michigan State.

Fire Fatality Found

EAST JORDAN (AP) — The charred body of Keith Laird, 58, was pulled from a furnace of the East Jordan

325 Hear Livonia Minister Talk

Oakland County school secretaries were given something to think about Tuesday night when the Rev. Robert Richards, minister of the Newburg Methodist Church of Livonia spoke to them at the annual 'Bosses Night' banquet.

Rev. Richards who was born in Wales, Great Britain, came to this country as an immigrant following World War I and worked in coal mines for 18 years. In the years since that time he has come to regard this country as a paradise.

Speaking to the 325 members of the Oakland County Association of Educational Secretaries, their employers and guests at Isaac Crary School, Rev. Richards said he thanks God every day of his life for living in this country. "The wonders of this country," he said, "belle the imagination of an immigrant."

Tommy Gidley Buried; Brother Hospitalized

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—As the last relatives left the funeral yesterday of little Tommy Gidley, 6, plans were being made to take Kenneth, an older brother, to Children's Hospital with the same fatal disease, fibrocystic, which took Tommy's life.

This is the third time the grief stricken family has taken a son to Children's Hospital with the same malady.

David, 8, died last June and Tommy, last Friday.

There are two older boys, Merle, 13 and Stanford, 14, in the family who have apparently escaped the plague.

Doctors say there is no cure for the dread disease although heavy doses of anti-biotics are used to retard the spread of the respiratory ailment.

Letters and telephone calls from well wishers have been received and one man, who wishes to remain anonymous, called the Press to say that he has the same disease, and that it has been retarded by Dr. Walter Pool of the Morass Clinic in Detroit.

Dr. Pool, who was contacted, said, "We are giving my patient heavy doses of the very newest anti-biotics, plus a weekly shot of B-12."

"He is one of the very few known cases of fibrocystic to have reached maturity and he has not lost any ground during the last two years."

Merle Gidley, father of the boys.

Icardi Lawyers Try to Vacate Indictment

WASHINGTON—Defense attorneys sought today to knock out the indictment accusing former Army Lt. Aldo L. Icardi of falsely denying he masterminded the World War II slaying of OSS Maj. William V. Holahan.

U.S. District Judge Richmond B. Keoch called court into session a half hour early to hear legal arguments on the issue by defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Since the question involved is for the judge to decide, the jury was ordered excluded from the courtroom.

Icardi's chief counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, contends a House Armed Services subcommittee called Icardi to testify to "set" up a perjury case against Icardi, who was second in command of a mission which operated behind enemy lines in Italy. Holahan, who led the mission, was slain in December 1944.

Since the 1950 census the city's population has grown from 5,267 to in excess of 31,000.

Sales tax returns are split on a per capita rate based on the 1950 census figures and will not be changed until 1960 now that the special census has been denied.

City Manager Harold K. Schone said this morning the city is losing more than $100,000 in sales tax revenues.

Higher Figures in 2 Townships

Farmington Approves $224,130; Commerce Sets $81,640

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—A $224,130 Farmington Township budget was approved by township electors Monday night. The budget, originally proposed at $181,130, was revised upward by electors attending the annual meeting.

The township annual financial report showed a surplus of $168,394 in the reserve fund. Ward Eagle, new township supervisor, pointed out that because of this reserve, no township tax had been levied.

Roads, ditches and dogs appeared to be matters of concern. Considerable discussion revolved around a $25,000 balance from last year's appropriation for roads which was allowed to revert to the general fund. Floyd A. Cairns, township clerk, pointed out that money could be spent on township roads only through the Oakland County Road Commission, and only upon roads coming up to specifications.

The electors voted to increase the proposed $15,000 road appropriation to $50,000. They also allocated $10,000 to be used for rounding up the township's numerous packs of stray dogs.

Supervisor Eagle struck from the proposed budget $2,595 which had been intended to raise salaries of township officials. He explained that in an "old" year, such salaries could not legally be increased. Increases of $2,250 were allowed for office and clerical employees.

An amount in excess of $3,000 was allocated to the library with the explanation that the library cannot benefit this year from the recently voted .5 mill tax.

The planning committee recommended the integration of planning and zoning boards into a single nine-member township planning commission. This was approved by electors.

The voters overwhelmingly approved a proposal that the township board prohibit issuance of any building permit until proof is given that the building site has an adequate water supply and facilities for natural or artificial removal of sewage and drainage water. The township attorney was authorized to investigate the legality of such a restriction.

COMMERCER TOWNSHIP—Residents approved a proposed budget of $81,640 for the 1956-57 fiscal year last night at the annual Commerce Township meeting held in the township hall.

The adopted budget calls for a substantial increase in expenditures over those of the last fiscal year.

An audit of the township's receipts and disbursements from March 28, 1955 through March 20, 1956, disclosed that $65,915 was spent during that period. Total receipts amounted to $80,487 a figure that enriched the general fund by $14,571.

Several inquiries from the audience centered around the possibility of road improvement. In reply, Township Supervisor James L. Gardner pointed out that the proposed budget permitted road maintenance only.

He added that township roads would not be improved until money is raised for that purpose at the expense of township taxpayers. The itemized budget follows: Salaries and wages (township officers, township board and clerical) $21,980; fire department—$19,000; township hall maintenance—$2,160; street lighting—$1,200; sheriff's department—$8,000; elections—$3,000; car allowances—$2,000; bonding and insurance—$800; legal and auditing—$2,000; postage, printing and tax statements—$1,000; zoning—$1,500; miscellaneous—$1,000; deficiency payments to road commission for road maintenance (local roads)—$18,000.

FINAL PLANS FOR SCOUT-O-RAMA—State Senator William Broomfield of District 12, left, joined Earl L. Gruber, right, and Willard H. School doors will be open from 2 until 9:30 p.m. Broomfield will serve as the head of a judging committee which includes Gruber, general chairman of Scout-O-Rama; Wells, Ottawa district scout executive and Edward Leland, scout executive of the Clinton Valley Council. The senator will make the presentation of awards to the heads of scouting units for outstanding booth displays in the show. Exhibits will be judged on the basis of quality, originality, action at the booth, and effectiveness.

To Be Saturday at Walled Lake High Plans Complete for Giant Scout-O-Rama

WALLED LAKE—The doors of the new Walled Lake Senior High School on South Commerce road will swing open at 2 p.m. Saturday, to welcome the public to the third annual Scout-O-Rama, the giant production of the Ottawa District of the Boy Scouts of America.

The event will be continuous from 2 until 9:30 p.m., featuring displays of scouting activities and accomplishments. A special 10-act stage show will be presented at 8:30 and 9:15 p.m.

Every effort has been made to produce a maximum amount of convenience and safety for the visitor, according to Earl L. Gruber, general chairman.

Both the Walled Lake city and Wolverine Lake village police forces will direct traffic to ample parking facilities. The parking of cars will be directed by the older scouts, the Explorers.

The Commerce Township fire department will station a truck at the scene of activity.

Gruber anticipates a record crowd to file into the school gymnasium, considerably more than the 5,000 persons who witnessed the 1955 show.

Nearly 2,000 Scouts from all corners of southern Oakland County will participate in the show. More than 30 booths will be set up to exhibit the activities of 46 scouting units, including basketball, bow and arrow making, conservation, leatherwork, Cubcraft, cooking demonstrations and a model camp.

An international flavor has been added to this year's Scout-O-Rama. A group of Canadian Boy Scouts from Troop 20 of Tecumseh, Ont., will be on hand at the World Brotherhood Merit Badge display.

In addition to an Indian pageant, there will be 16 sets consisting of music, pantomime, comedy, skits and songs. Stage director is Robert Williams with Orla Walton acting as master of ceremonies.

Tickets for the Scout-O-Rama may be purchased from any Boy Scout, Cub or Explorer of the Ottawa district or at the school door on the day of the program. An elaborate portable food kitchen, owned by Troop 108 of Walled Lake, will be set up on the grounds.

Central College Band at Milford Tonight

MILFORD—A band of 75 musicians from Central Michigan College will present a concert at the High School at 8 o'clock tonight, as part of an extensive tour throughout Michigan.

A potluck dinner will be furnished for the group by Huron Valley students before the concert begins and will be served by the local band members.

At the conclusion of the concert, college band members will be overnight guests of Milford people and will continue their tour early tomorrow morning.

According to Phil Hadri, instrumental music director of the Huron Valley Schools, this is one of the first concerts of its kind to be held in the area and a "fine opportunity" for local student musicians to observe how a more advanced band is conducted.

Two Fires Destroy 3 Barns in Area

A five-hour fire leveled two huge barns near Utica Tuesday, at a loss of $56,000.

The barns, belonging to the Val Distributing Co., 43701 Romeo Plank Road, were used as soft-drink distributing warehouses. Owner of the firm is Edward Brown, 53.

"A large barn on the farm of Mrs. Opal E. Carr near South Lyon burned to the ground also yesterday."

Fire, discovered about noon by a neighbor, destroyed the barn containing power equipment and 11 purebred German Shepherd puppies; a 35-foot tile silo and a well house. Mrs. Carr estimated the loss at several thousands of dollars.

Zernial Spoils Lary's Performance

DETROIT (AP)—They had big Gus Zernial riding the bench because they said he couldn't hit right handed pitching. But the big Texan, who has been off and on the trading block for months, proved they were wrong.

He stroled out of the dugout in the 7th inning at Briggs Stadium yesterday with two on and two out and did the job they figured he couldn't do. Right-handed Frank Lary was pitching for Detroit, and until he faced "Ozark Ike" he had a classic all wrapped up by himself in the opening game of the season between the Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics.

Then the 35-year-old Zernial picked on Lary's slider on a 3-1 offering and doubled off the wall in left centerfield, driving across the two runs that sent the Tigers spinning down to a 2-1 defeat.

Lary's individual brilliance had the crowd of 40,037 forgetting the wintry weather until Zernial's effort. The 25-year-old Alabama hurler, starting his second full season with the Tigers, was the whole show until then.

Not only had he limited the Athletics to three scattered hits through the first six innings, but he had pasted an inside-the-park home run that gave Detroit a 1-0 lead in the 5th inning.

Lary and southpaw Alex Kellner duelled on even terms until Lary pounded one of Kellner's fast balls into center field past

Harry Simpson. The A's outfielder lunged for the ball, but it skipped past him and rolled all the way to the wall, some 440 feet away from the plate. Lary slid head first into home plate and the Tigers had the lead.

That's the way it stood until the A's 7th. After Elmer Valo flied out, ex-Tiger catcher Joe Ginsberg rapped his second hit—a double to center—and Bobby Shantz went in to run for him. Jim Finigan walked and pinch hitter Charley Thompson flied to Bill Tuttle in center to set the stage for Zernial's smash.

Lary scattered four other hits, struck out four and walked but one. The Tigers got eight hits off the combined offerings of winner

Kellner, and relievers Tom Gorman and Tom Lasorda, but they left 10 runners stranded and could not get the clutch hit that would have counted.

They had two walks in the first and two singles in the 2nd and failed to score. After Lary's home run with one out, Harvey Kuenn doubled but was stranded. Tuttle led off the 6th with a double but could get no farther than 3rd base. And in the 9th, 21-year-old Reno Bertoia started it off with a double to left center. But Buddy Hicks batted for Lary and popped to the catcher, Kuenn flied to short right and Torgeson tapped weakly to the second baseman.

Bertoia, making his debut as the Tiger second baseman, performed well. He handled seven chances without an error and got two hits in four appearances.

Veteran Steve Gromek is manager Bucky Harris' choice for the second of the three-game series today against the Athletics. Manager Lou Boudreau of the A's has nominated Art Ditmar, who had a 12-12 record last season for the sixth-place Athletics. The lanky right-hander won two games with one defeat against the Tigers. Gromek, who finished with a 13-10 record, was 2-1 against the Athletics.

Game time is 2 p.m., and the weather outlook is for more of the same cloudy, windy and cool weather that whipped through Briggs Stadium yesterday.

National Open Sets 25 Sites for Qualifiers

Annual Tournament to Be Held June 14-16 in Rochester, N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Qualifying trials for the National Open Golf championship will be held at 25 sectional centers June 4 and at Honolulu May 28.

The U.S. Golf Assn. announced the qualifying setup today for the 56th annual tournament to be held at the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N.Y., June 14-16.

The trials will be at 25 holes stroke play. The number of players to qualify and exempt players will total 162.

Exempt are the last five individuals to win—Cary Middlecoff, Ben Hogan, Julius Boros, Ed Furgo and Jack Fleck; the 1955 amateur champion, Harvie Ward, Jr.; 1955 PGA champion Doug Ford; 1955 British Open Champion Peter Thomson; 1955 British Amateur Champion Joe Conrad; Charles McKee, the host pro, and the ten low finishers in the 1955 tournament, excluding any other exempt players.

Some changes were made in the qualifying sites. Rochester, N.Y., and Nashville, Tenn., were added to the list. Rounds at Phoenix, Ariz., Portland, Ore., and Salt Lake City, Utah, were eliminated.

Jack Fleck of Davenport, Ia., won the 1955 championship in an 18-hole playoff with Ben Hogan.

Maryland's Racing Shifts to Laurel

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Maryland racing, which suffered a slight slump at the betting windows at Bowie, shifted to Laurel today for the second phase of the state's 1956 spring season.

Bowie closed out its 33-day meet yesterday with a total mutual play of $32,352,116, or an average of $980,367 per day. For a meeting of similar length last spring, the betting totaled $33,577,358 for a daily average of $1,017,495.

Tennis Match Held Up

Because of weather conditions that prevented play, Tuesday afternoon, Pontiac High School's tennis team expected today to meet Arthur Hill at Murphy Park.

Another match has been set for Thursday, at Cranbrook. The match with Cranbrook was not on the Chiefs' original schedule.

There was a question again early today, whether or the Arthur Hill match could be played. It will depend on the weather.

Seeded Players to 'Feel Axe'

Expect Four Will Drop at River Forest; Top Stars Still OK

HOUSTON (AP)—At least four seeded players were to be eliminated today in the fourth round of the 22nd annual River Oaks Invitational Tennis Tournament.

Four of the eight matches paired seeded stars, but the four favorites, Vic Seixas, Bernard Barten, Eddie Mayan and Gil Shea, were expected to move into the quarter-finals without difficulty.

Dick Sayitt, who quit the tournament trail to learn the oil business in Texas, drew possibly the day's toughest assignment. The former Wimbledon champion, seeded fifth, was paired against Armando Vieira of Brazil, seeded second among foreign entries.

Seixas, seeking his first River Oaks title in five trips here, was paired against Canada's No. 10 star, Don Platt, a third-round winner over Billy Talbert, the non-playing captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team, 6-2, 6-2.

Bertoia Shines at 2nd Even With Butterflies

DETROIT (AP)—For a kid who didn't get much sleep the night before, Reno Bertoia was wide awake yesterday.

The handsome, 21-year-old former bonus player confided in the Detroit Tiger dugout shortly before the game against Kansas City that he "had a little trouble sleeping last night."

It wasn't so hard to understand.

This is the year the club could have farmed out the husky second baseman. Signed as a bonus player, Bertoia had to spend three years with the parent club. He did just that, and came to the plate only 106 times in 93 games. His batting average for those 106 trips was .189.

An AP writer remembered a few nights back when the club was winding up its exhibition season in Pittsburgh. The train was rolling home to Detroit and the kid had a nearby compartment. He came in to chat for a while.

It developed that he "expected to be sent out this year," that he was "real surprised but happy" when the Tigers decided to keep him with the Major Leaguers in Florida after a few days with the Charleston Club; that he was "a little nervous" when manager Bucky Harris announced him as the starting second baseman.

It was just a casual question

TIGERS' FIRST RUN OF '56 — Pitcher Frank Lary scrambles head first to reach home plate in the 5th inning of yesterday's game for an inside-the-park homer to give the Tigers a 1-0 lead over Kansas City at Briggs Stadium. Lary drove the ball past rightfielder Harry Slipson who made a dive for the ball and missed. Kansas City however scored twice in the 7th to win 2-1 in the season's opener.

Treated Like Children

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—About 100 University of Alabama athletes struck last night for better rules and regulations, and threatened to leave the school if their demands are not met.

They said they moved out of the university's athletic dormitory because they "were being treated like children."

The exodus took place after a committee headed by Dan Coyle, former football end, told Athletic Director Hank Crisp "the rules are too strict."

Coyle declared that "unless our demands are met, the general feeling is that we will all leave. We feel that we can go somewhere else, because we are not happy here."

Crisp promised to meet with them Thursday. He could not be reached for further comment.

The dispute came after Roy Vickery, Alabama tackle, was banned from the athletic dormitory. He had checked in late following a traffic accident Sunday night in which five other athletes were involved.

ROCKFORD (AP)—With Gov. Williams at the wheel, a $4,000 automobile built by 24 high school pupils went through a successful shakedown run here Tuesday. The car was built by Dodge Achiever Co., a group of teenagers organized as a Junior Achievement firm.

Sixteen-year-old Carl Szejda, president of the company, said 2,500 shares of stock were sold at 50 cents a share and $500 was borrowed from a Junior Achievement bank to finance construction. Parts were purchased from Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. for $1,750.

Of the biggest pair of shoes for any man to fill those of Matt Mann one of the nation's greatest swimming coaches whose University of Michigan teams were perennially among the best.

The big task of filling these shoes belonged to the feet of Gus Stager, youthful coach who left Fordson High School in Dearborn to take the post at Ann Arbor.

Gus was the guest speaker at the Pontiac High School banquet Monday night honoring the Chief basketball and swimming teams, and his few words of wisdom are well worth repeating and also well worth remembering for prospective college athletes.

"You pick the college, don't let the college pick you," he said, "and most of all don't pick your college on a monetary basis."

With today's recruiting program for athletes resembling a tug of war among colleges, one factor and probably the biggest is the responsibility of the athlete in the classroom as well as on the playing field.

Stager wasn't looking for the All-America in the swimming pool and the All-Nothing in the classroom.

"We, like many other good colleges, are interested in the boy who hustles for his grades as well as his athletic awards," he said, "and we want the boy who can accept a challenge in the classroom and on the playing field."

Stager used as his model George Breen, the sparkling swimmer from Cortland State Teachers College who recently set a world mark at the NCAA meet at Yale.

Stager was impressed by Breen, not for his form but by the way the young swimmer works.

"He is ultimate example of what a swimmer should not look like," said Stager. "He kicks like a girl and his arms slop through the water to make everyone wonder what makes him go."

"But yet," Gus added, "I think he has the best chance for bringing America a gold medal in the Olympics."

How does he swim so fast with such poor form? "He works hard and gives it everything he's got, and that's the reason for his success," concluded Stager.

Stager's well spoken words of wisdom were well received by the Chief athletes and the banquet guests.

"It should be well for the 15 graduating lettermen of the swim team to remember," said PHS swimming coach Bob Boyce in awarding 17 varsity letters.

Jersey Revival!

Majors Return After 41 Years Absence

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Major league baseball returns to New Jersey tomorrow for the first time in 41 years.

The world champion Brooklyn Dodgers will take on Philadelphia in the first of seven National League games this season before an expected sellout of 24,100.

The weatherman predicts fair skies when Carl Erskine of Brooklyn and Murry Dickson of Philadelphia are slated to go against each other.

New York and Boston played two National League games here in 1889. In modern times, the last non-exhibition major league contest was in 1915 when the now-defunct Newark club was in the old Federal League.

Enthusiastic Jersey City fans, longing for top-drawer baseball since Jersey City's International League team folded in late 1950, were to attend an open house in the refurbished Roosevelt Stadium today.

School kids were given the afternoon off by city officials who looked for a capacity turnout to watch the Dodgers take batting and fielding practice.

Mayor Bernard Berry will throw out the first ball tomorrow. National League President Warren Giles also will be on hand.

Ground crews have been working at breakneck speed, often under lights, to get the stadium ready for the opener ever since Jersey City and Dodger officials signed on the dotted line of a 3-year pact Dec. 1 of last year.

The renovating job, costing over $50,000, involved tearing up an auto race track, covering a skating rink in left center, and resodding the entire 135,000 square-foot playing area.

Roosevelt Stadium, once a pitchers' paradise because a prodigious clout was required for a homer, now has a left and right field foul line distance of 330 feet. Dead center is 415 feet from home plate.

The game will be televised. Ironically, it was the television bugaboo which chopped down crowds at the once-profitable New York Giants franchise here and led to its transfer to Ottawa.

Dodger officials will be looking closely at how well the club is supported here. Although they have underway plans to construct a new stadium in Brooklyn, they haven't entirely abandoned the idea of locating in New Jersey permanently.

Peewee Pilot Named 'Coach-of-the-Year'

HOUGHTON — Ernest Harwick, who coached the Houghton Peewee hockey team to the national championship this year, is "Michigan Amateur Coach-of-the-Year."

Harwick, a Michigan Tech senior from Sudbury, Ont., was named for the award yesterday in a vote by officials of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Assn. He was chosen over some 100 other coaches of amateur hockey teams in the state.

Pontiac Man Lands 11-Pound Steelhead

Fishing the Platte river near Beulah last weekend, William Fitzpatrick, 442 Cameron, Pontiac, landed a 11-pound-plus lake run rainbow, or steelhead. The trout was Fitzpatrick's biggest. It was about 34½ inches long and a female, heavy with roe.

Fitzpatrick was fishing with Tony Tison, 43 Baldwin, a garage operator. Tony didn't have any luck. His partner also took a smaller fish. He used a large Colorado spinner.

"I go up there every spring," says Fitzpatrick, "and usually get some fish."

Coach Bibb Falk's Texas nine has won or shared the Southwest Conference Baseball title nine of the last ten years.

Visitors to Area's Parks Lose Many Valuable Items

LANSING—This year, hundreds of persons will lose valuable items in Michigan's 58 state parks. Most will be recovered and large portion turned in to park offices.

There, these items may as well rot.

For some reason, park patrons fail to check at park offices to see if anybody found their lost tent, or their misplaced eyeglasses or their valuable ring.

Sometimes false teeth are found. Shoes are a common item in summer, when man wants to wiggle his toes in sand and conveniently forget he is entitled bicycles and tricycles, and even automobiles, are left. Some never are claimed.

Where park officials have any indication of the owner's name and address, an attempt is made to restore the item to its proper pocket.

But more often than not, no name is attached. The billfolds and books and clothing and vehicles are held at the park for about a year and finally turned over to the state board of escheats in Lansing for disposal.

State park officials would rather have proper owners receive their items. Mostly, however, this is a problem only the loser can solve. He must learn to use park lock and found offices.

State's Beaver Take Increased

Last Year's Total of 16,700, However, Was Short of Record

LANSING—Beaver and otter seasons meant plenty of activity for some 4,000 Michigan trapper during late March and early April.

Last year, trappers took about 16,700 beavers and an all-time high of 600 otters. The season record for beaver catch was set in 1953 when about 17,500 were trapped—more than were taken in Alaska that year.

Annual catch by Michigan trappers has been increasing in recent years, under Conservation Department regulations of season length and bag limits. Proper management practices promote balanced populations and sustained yield.

Season bag limits permit U. P. trappers to take six beaver and three otters while Lower Peninsula limits allowed four beavers and three otters.

Some areas with lower beaver and otter populations, including all of Gratiot, Saginaw, Wexford and Manistee counties in the Lower Peninsula, are closed to trapping this year.

Archie Beats Parmentier in Third Round

SEATTLE (U)—Light-heavyweight champ Archie Moore, almost having to leap to land his blows, easily disposed of tall George Parmentier in the third round of a scheduled 10-round non-title fight here last night.

Moore, weighing in at 193, dropped the 233-pound, 6-5 giant from Eureka, Calif., three times in the third round. The referee called the fight after Parmentier twice had taken the compulsory eight count.

The champion, training for a June title defense against Yonah Pompey in England, started slowly but began to wear Parmentier down with a series of left hooks in the second.

A capacity crowd of 4,500 witnessed the fight in Seattle's Civic Auditorium.

Registered Shoot at Birmingham Club

An invitational, registered trap shoot has been arranged for Sunday at Birmingham Gun Club. Shooting begins at 11 a. m.

Events include 100 at 16 yards optional; 100 handicap with optional same as for the 16-yard event, and a 50 pair double shoot.

Union Baseball Practice

The UAW-CIO Local 594 baseball team, a member of Pontiac's Class A City League, will hold practice Thursday at Columbia-Joslyn's north diamond starting at 5 p. m. Players interested in trying out for the union club are invited. All positions are open.

2-Day Trial Arranged for Irish Setters

'Reds' Will Run at Pontiac Lake During Coming Weekend

Irish Setter Club of Michigan is sponsor for an important AKC licensed spring field trial this weekend. The two-day running will be held over the Pontiac Lake Recreation area, instead of at Highland, where it was originally scheduled. Conflict with the national Red Setter event dictated the change, ISC officials said.

Entries close at 8 p. m. Friday when the drawings take place in the home of Ed McIvor, club president, in Dearborn (24100 Union street).

Events include an open gun dog amateur stake for all AKC pointing breeds on Sunday. Novice stakes will be limited to dogs that have not placed in any recognized trial.

Other stakes open to the "reds" only include open puppy, derby, open all-age and open gun dogs. No birds will be shot in any stake. Birds will be liberated ring-necked obtained from the state.

Charles Hendricks of Toledo; Alton King of Livonia; Fred Cameron of Columbus, Ohio and Bill Law of Berkeley are judges.

Tom Moffat of Pontiac is field chairman and committeemen are Joe Fryhoff of Warren; Charles Benton of Farmington; Ted Stroniski of Detroit, Bill Law and Ed McIvor.

Pontiac Angler Nabs Big Trout in UP Stream

Don Clark, a meat cutter at Wrigley's Auburn Avenue store, returned from an Upper Peninsula fishing trip Monday night with a 27½ inch rainbow trout as his reward.

Clark, who lives at 2298 Jones Road, Pontiac, landed the handsome specimen in Halfday Creek, a small stream near Brimley. He used a casting rod and a 20-pound nylon test with chub for bait.

"It's the biggest fish I ever caught," Don said. "I was so happy about the catch I quite and came home." Clark was angling with his brother Leonard.

McMurtry KO's Jackson

PORTLAND, Ore. (U)—Irish Pat McMurtry, a 184-pounder from Tacoma, Wash., won a knockout victory over Matt Jackson, 178, of Salt Lake City, here Tuesday night.

PRIME MOVE — Dr. F. Milton Hathaway starts at the proper spot, in his plans for opening the Michigan trout season, April 28. The good Pontiac optician recently bought his 1956 fishing license from Mrs. Frank Larson (above).

Improved Weather Needed to Produce Good Early Season Rainbow Fishing

By JACK PATTERSON

When we were a deal young it was cause for regret that we hadn't been around to see 181, the notorious "year without a summer." Now that we are a parently face with a repea-performance I don't seem to matter much somehow, that we missed the original.

"Weather" is too mild a term for what we've got. Maybe we could combine it with "dreadful" and come up with a more accurate word like "dreadful." Whatever you choose to call it, it's stuff is no asset to the few activities currently open to the sportsman.

Take early rainbow fishing. This can be fun if the various conditions which make for a strong run happen to be present when the season opens.

Otherwise it's a pretty sorry affair. Of the various factors which influence the timing of the spawning run of rainbows, water temperature is probably the most decisive. It probably comes as a surprise to no one to note that controlling waters are a bit on the chilly side.

Thus, major runs just weren't in evidence opening weekend. Our best guess: another week to 10 days before the fisherman can expect great activity. Warm rains or a few warm days would speed things up but since when have we been able to count on anything like that?

One side effect of the lack of rainbow activity is our inability to draw any conclusions as to the worth of "strawberries" as bait.

Recently introduced, locally, these pre-packed salmon-egg and gauze clusters work pretty well on western steelhead streams—rather large fish have been reported from Walled Lake but they are not appearing in shallow waters in substantial numbers.

Over on Lake St. Clair, muskie fishing appears to be getting to a slower start than it did last year. Conditions are far from perfect for both fish and fishermen. Here again any change will be for the better.

Bow and arrow carp fishermen are having some on-and-off activity but major spawning operations aren't under way yet. Some rather large fish have been reported from Walled Lake but they are not appearing in shallow waters in substantial numbers.

men. Here again any change will be for the better.

Because the 'Nice People' Want It

Guy Believes 'Nice Music' Always Wins

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS)—Guy Lombardo, a carnation-bearing perennial who refuses to be transplanted in the field of music, was sitting at a table beside his band humming the tune they played it was—what else?—"Stardust."

"Now there's a song," said Lombardo, definitely.

"If the music business is going to seed, like they say, tell me why the kids today know all the words to it? How come they still want to hear it? You don't know why, I'll tell you."

"It's because the nice people will always win out. You can take nice people, and nice music—which are as American as ham and eggs—and throw them out the window. They win out in the end."

enough, because it has a beat, will soon be replaced by calmer music that not only has a beat but a melody. And of progressive jazz, the maestro says: "Those boys have progressed themselves right out of business."

REMAINS CALM
For more than 30 years, 53-year-old Lombardo has remained imperturbable as he watched Tin Pan Alley suffer the many indignities that have been tossed its way.

Like any other alley, it has been the resting place for a plentiful amount of garbage, yowling calls and stilled character strolling through, looking to peddle a fast buck.

"But sooner or later, the people always put their feet down and get it cleaned up and nice and orderly again."

It is easy, of course, for Guy to speak without cynicism on the subject, for regardless of what has happened to Tin Pan Alley throughout the decades, his "Sweetest Music This Side o' Heaven" has bounced merrily along, untouched.

Like a kid at a cocktail party many have wondered why it was hanging around—but nobody would suggest it be thrown out.

THE GENTLE BEAT
Lombardo's music was always the wholesome touch, no matter how boisterous and novel the musical trend had become. At the end of a hard day of jazz be-bop, hillbilly and swing, people liked to hear the gentle beat.

"You don't have to analyze it or let it rip your insides apart. You just dance or dream to it."

Lombardo credits Lawrence Welk—another bandleader of easy-going inclination—for doing the most to revive danceable music on television.

"Lawrence plays the same kind of thing we do. Hit Parade-type music, and his TV show has been successful enough that I think we've finally sold the television industry on dance music at last." (Lombardo has his own filmed show).

"But when they call him an 'overnight sensation,' I can't help but laugh. Lawrence has been along since the mid-1930s, you know. He was big in the Midwest while we were hitting it here in the East."

When he was congratulated for speaking so kindly of his nearest competitor in the music business, Guy Lombardo looked sincerely surprised.

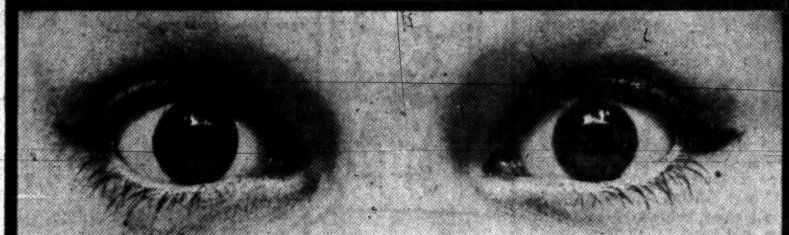

The "nice people," he explained quietly, must stand or fall together.

So saying, he strolled off to wave his baton over some "nice music" like "Make Believe."

Britain Starts Bond Plan to Save Money

LONDON (AP)—Britain has announced a saving bond sweepstakes with prizes up to 1,000 pounds ($2,800) in a bid to siphon off the nation's surplus spending power.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold MacMillan disclosed plans for the novel scheme in presenting his "save more" budget to the House of Commons. He said there would be no losers—only prizes—in drawing by purchasers of government bonds.

He said plans to get the sweepstakes going would be put into operation immediately, but that the "premium bonds" would probably not be on sale until early next year.

Peron Used Millions to Inculcate Youth

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Ousted dictator Juan D. Peron spent about 6½ million dollars during the last years of his 19-year regime to corrupt Argentina's youth, a government report says.

The National Investigating Commission reported on activities of the Union of Secondary Students, a youth organization formed by Peron.

Peron now is in exile in Panama. The report said Peron set up the student union to serve his "personal and political ends" and incited the youths to rebel against conventions, morals, customs and institutions.

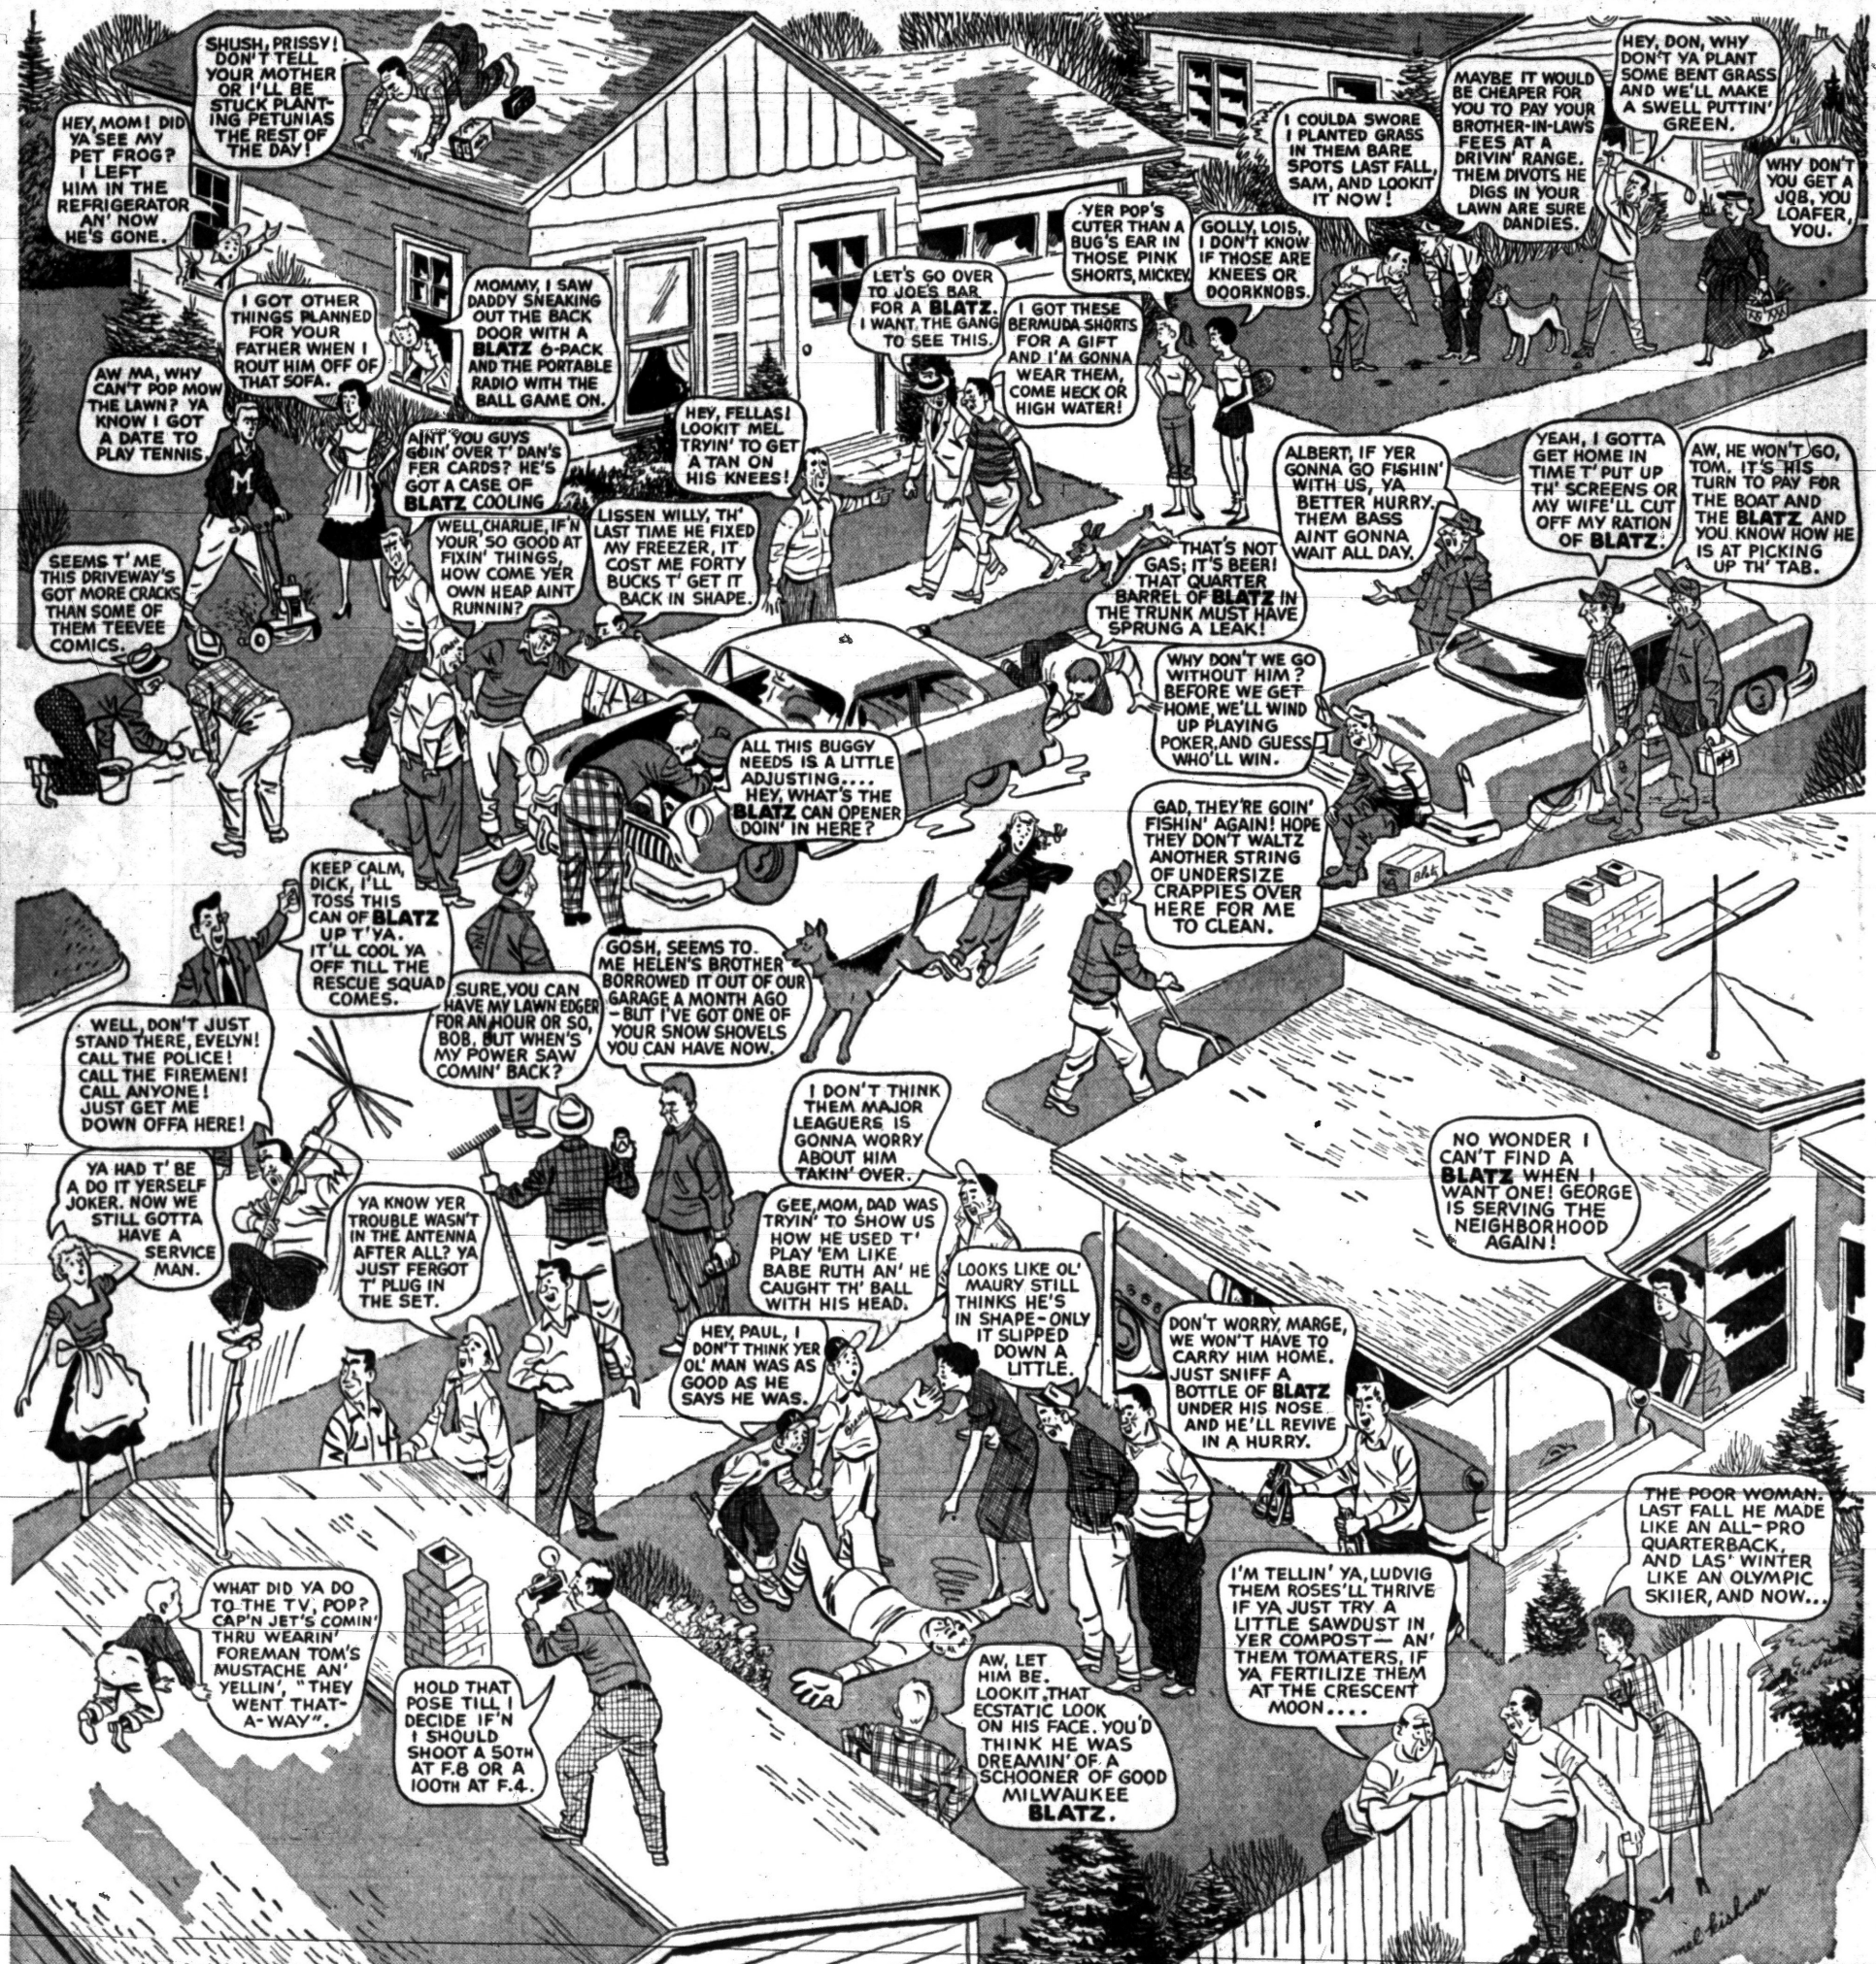

Temporary Prison Head

MARQUETTE (AP)—Deputy Warden Ben Luoma has been placed temporarily in charge of Marquette State Prison, pending selection of a successor to Warden Emery E. Jacques who died last Wednesday. The Michigan Department of Corrections will appoint a warden from among the top three men in the State Civil Service ratings for the position.

Vote Stock Dividend

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Directors of the Michigan National Bank have voted a 25 per cent stock dividend pending stockholder approval at an April 25 meeting. Michigan National has offices in seven Michigan cities and assets of more than 400 million dollars. The dividend would be the seventh since the bank was organized Jan. 1, 1941.

Grain Dealings
Drop to Normal

CHICAGO (AP)—Feed grains eased slightly on the Board of Trade today as dealings simmered down to normal levels after the big volume political markets of the past several days.

Both corn and oats dipped fractionally, largely because of a lack of inclination on the part of traders to follow the previous session's advance. New crop wheat firmed after temporary early eases. May wheat had a firm tone from the start.

Soybeans moved ahead, both the old and new crops scoring small gains after early hesitancy. Lard was steady but did not reach the seasonal high set yesterday.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1 cent higher, May $2.37 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, May $1.47 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.30 1/2; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $2.95 1/2; and lard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.62.
