

Community Leaders Hail Pontiac Div. Plans for Plant

Pontiac Motor Division's announcement that it will build a huge new manufacturing plant in the north end of the city has won the applause of community leaders.

Division Manager John Z. DeLorean said ground will be broken next month for the plant, which will house machining and assembly operations for chassis parts.

It will be located on East Columbia just north of the frame plant and will contain more than 250,000 square feet.

Following are comments on the announcement from some of Pontiac's most outstanding citizens:

Joseph A. Warren, Pontiac city manager: "The announcement by Pontiac Motor of the construction of an additional factory building north of Columbia Street is certainly welcome news.

"The tremendous addition to plant capacity that has been constructed in Pontiac during the past two years certainly reflects the great confidence that the public is placing in Pontiac Motor Division products, and all of this is most promising for the future of our community."

UNIONIST RESPONDS

John Maye, president of UAW Local 653, Pontiac Motor Division: "We are enthused about it. Pontiac Motor Division notified the union several months ago that it was losing the building of frames.

additional plant, all of the employees who otherwise would have been lost will now be utilized."

Said Max Adams, executive secretary and manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce: "I think it's one of the finest things that's happened to Pontiac.

"We (the chamber) are behind it 100 per cent," he added. "We'll do everything we can."

PRAISE FROM BANKER

Milo J. Cross, chairman of Pontiac State Bank's board of directors, also praised the move.

"I think it's wonderful that GM and Pontiac Motor Division have that confidence in Pontiac to make this further expenditure and enlarge plant facilities."

Said Robert C. Greening, manager of the J. L. Hudson Store at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center:

"As members of this community since 1962, Hudson's is vitally interested in Pontiac and its environs, and last week's announcement (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

GM Follows Suit, Hikes Car Prices

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors did as expected today and raised its 1967 car prices as Ford and Chrysler had done earlier.

On a dollar basis, GM's price boost averaged out to $56 and was less than Chrysler's $92 or Ford's $113 average.

American Motors, fourth largest of the nation's auto companies, indicated yesterday it would join the price raise.

The industry's price increases, attributed in large part to safety items added to autos as standard equipment for 1967, was expected to cost the American consumer over a billion dollars.

GM's price announcement came less than 24 hours after President Johnson and Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers Union president, criticized Ford's decision to raise prices.

General Motors said its price adjustments did not "include any provision to recover increased wage and fringe benefit costs which average 6 per cent above those in effect a year ago or for increased prices paid for steel, copper and other materials."

It echoed the Ford and Chrysler stand that the price adjustment, with safety items as a big factor, did not constitute a break in the industry's price line.

"As a result, 1967 marks the ninth consecutive model year that General Motors cars have been priced at the 1959 model levels, adjusted only for equipment changes," GM said.

Offer Depends on Response by Communists

U. N. Session Hears Goldberg Statement; Red Envoys Cautious

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States offered today to halt the bombing of North Viet Nam and begin a phased withdrawal of U.S. troops if the Hanoi government will take corresponding steps to de-escalate the Vietnamese war.

In a major policy declaration, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg told the General Assembly that the United States is willing to take the first step if the North Vietnamese government will indicate by private or public response that it is ready to match the U.S. action.

He gave new assurances that the United States is not seeking to impose a policy of alignment on South Viet Nam and that the United States does not intend to maintain permanent military bases in that country.

And, in an indirect reply to criticism from U. N. Secretary General U Thant, Goldberg declared: "We are not engaged in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

County Judge, Prosecutor Feud Over Mistrial Ruling

A mistrial declared yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court has set off a feud between Judge James S. Thorburn and Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

An exchange of verbal slaps began when Thorburn dismissed the case against two men being tried on charges of burglarizing a Huntington Woods home more than a year ago.

Thorburn said he had no alternative in granting the motion for a mistrial made by defense attorney Carlton Roesser.

"The prosecutor's office carelessly drafted the information (contained in the order for the warrant) and did not fulfill its obligation to the public," said Thorburn.

He explained that the warrant failed to define the nature of the felony and thereby was invalid.

"This trial has been a great waste of effort," said Thorburn in releasing the defendants, Harvey Allen, 39, of Oak Park, and Charles Fields of Detroit.

The jury trial started last Friday, receiving top priority when Bronson was criticized publicly that he had delayed taking action on the case for 10 months.

PUBLIC'S RIGHT

"This is a case which places the legal profession in disrepute with the public," Thorburn said. "The public is entitled to know who, if anybody, has abused its interests."

Strenuously disagreeing with the ruling, Bronson said this morning that new charges would be brought against the two men, and added:

"This is a politically motivated criticism, unjustified by the facts.

"It is common knowledge that the judge is a confidant and supporter of my opponents in the forthcoming election." Bronson is a candidate for a circuit court post.

"He dismissed the case in error," said Bronson. "Until we have a transcript of the decision the public interest has been left in doubt."

Name Forgery Being Probed

A courtroom investigation was being conducted today by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn to determine who is responsible for forging names of the Oakland County Prosecutor and County Clerk on criminal legal documents.

While waiting for Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson to appear to answer questions, Thorburn channeled a number of cases back to the county clerk's office to be prepared properly.

It was discovered this morning that County Clerk John D. Murphy's name appeared on the criminal information, but Murphy says that he has never signed one since being in office.

Press Winner of Top Award

The Pontiac Press has won the first place award for circulation promotion among Midwestern newspapers with over 50,000 circulation.

Awards were presented Tuesday in Chicago at the convention of the Central States Circulation Managers Association.

Accepting the award for The Pontiac Press was Arlo A. McCully, the newspaper's circulation manager.

A total of 185 newspapers hold membership in the Central States Association which embraces nine Midwestern states.

The Detroit News won the second place award in the over-50,000 competition.

Taubman: The Man to Get Things Done

By L. GARY THORNE

Who is Taubman? More than anything A. Alfred Taubman is a doer. He is a man who builds, moving with all the speed of the private DC3 that shuttles him across the country to his shopping center projects.

He is a button-pusher, a decision-maker. Dynamic, self-made, he calls the shots.

And he may start calling the shots on Pontiac's downtown redevelopment, beginning with a $40 million, 80-store shopping center.

A contract that would permit Taubman to go ahead with his

MAY BE ANSWER

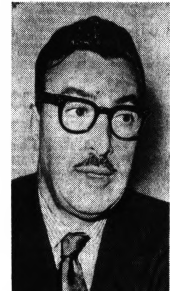

A majority of the commission have indicated they think Taubman is the answer to rebuilding, not only the now barren urban renewal land, but also revitalizing the entire downtown area.

A 1941 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Taubman attended the University of Michigan. His main office is in Oak Park with other offices in San Francisco and New York.

He is married, has three children and resides in Southfield. Active in community affairs, his main recreation is thrice-monthly trips around Franklin Hills Country Club. (He shoots in the mid-80s.)

The Taubman organization, known as the Taubman Co., has developed and/or constructed nearly 20 million square feet of retail properties.

House Unit Strips Powell of His Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., was stripped of many of his powers as chairman today by a 27-1 vote of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell agreed to go along with a rebellious majority of his committee, and thus averted a bitter fight that had headed toward a showdown over new rules.

Only Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, the senior GOP committee member, voted against the new rules. "I voted no because I don't believe in hypocrisy," he said.

Powell, Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Calif., and Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., obtained from voting.

Star at Holly High Is Ace in Viet, Too

A young man termed a "natural leader" by his former Holly High School teacher is still racking up points in Viet Nam.

Word was received today of how Air Force Lt. Karl Richter, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Richter, 11610 Dixie, near Holly, shot down a Communist MIG jet yesterday 30 miles north-west of Haiphong.

"I saw my 20 mm rounds start to sparkle on his right wing the second time I fired. His right wing fell off. As I flew past I saw the MIG's canopy pop off."

"He ejected okay. He got a good parachute."

MIG ALLEY
That's the way Richter described one of the nine encounters yesterday between U.S. planes and Communist jets in the area known as MIG Alley. One other kill was recorded.

Don Diegel, assistant principal at Holly High where Richter graduated in 1960, recalls that as a student he was

KARL RICHTER

Taubman has participated in shopping center projects for over 15 years.

Major projects to his credit include Southland in Hayward, Calif.; Sunvalley in Concord, Calif.; Arborland in Ann Arbor; Macomb Mall in Roseville; Taylortown in Taylor, and Woodland in Grand Rapids.

In a series hard to beat, Richter was class president for all his four years at Holly High School, going on to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

MOTHER THRILLED
His mother was thrilled with the report of Richter's success this morning. "I just hope and pray he gets back all right," she said.

In regard to yesterday's mission, Richter's 88th, he said that the engagement lasted 40 seconds. It was unlikely the MIG saw him before it was already in trouble, he said.

"We were at about 16,000 feet," Richter reported. "Our first two planes turned right. The MIGs came in to make a firing pass on the first two, the MIGs' bellies were toward us and they couldn't have been able to see."

"When we finished the turn, my MIG was right in front of me. It was right out of the tactical manual."

"I was more excited setting up my gear than firing."

Richter, stationed in Thailand, has been in combat for six months.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists unable to halt the spinning of the Surveyor 2 moon-bound spacecraft said early today that the mission is completed—a failure.

Local Club to Sponsor Antique Show in Troy

BIRMINGHAM — The Metropolitan Activities Club will sponsor an antique show for the Birmingham area Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

The show, the first of its kind to be sponsored by the Macs, will be held at Har-Vet-Haus on Rochester Road near Big Beaver in Troy.

The club is devoted to promoting recreational and social events for handicapped adults.

Proceeds from the show will go toward improvements at Camp Wildwood near Romeo which is to be a resort designed with the specific needs of the handicapped in mind.

When the camp is completed, it will be the only one of its kind in the country, according to representatives of the club. Working on the show will be club members Mrs. Ralph Fox and Mrs. Carl Fischer, both of

Exam Asked in Death of City Barmaid

Julian H. Moore, 21, of 219 E. Wilson also asked Judge Cecil B. McCallum to appoint an attorney to represent him at the preliminary hearing set for Sept. 28.

McCallum remanded Moore without bond to the Oakland County Jail, where he had been held in bond of $10,000 on a charge of armed robbery.

Moore was formally placed under arrest Tuesday night at the jail by Pontiac Detective Sgt. John I. Williams, who had been led to the suspect by comparison of bullets found at the murder scene and those in Moore's gun.

Victim of the Sept. 8 slaying, 39-year-old Mrs. Roenehl L. Nash, died after being shot with two "concave-tipped" .32 caliber slugs, according to police.

Bullets with the same unusual tips were found, Williams said, in a gun taken from Moore following the holdup early Monday of a Waterford Township gas station.

City officials share his view, stating that Taubman can be the catalyst for the city to rebirth, an obvious gigantic and time-consuming task.

Community Leaders Hail Plant Plans

'LOCATION IMPORTANT'
Barnes also said he "would have liked to see the plant located with careful consideration of some of the blight and dilapidated housing on the city's South Side."

"A challenge to every citizen of Pontiac" was the reaction of Charles M. Tucker Jr., president of the Oakland County chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People.

"To accept this challenge, we must learn and begin to work together," Tucker said. "People of all races, large and small, business, labor, industry and all religions."

Charles Brown, Pontiac district manager for Consumers Power Co., said the expansion "indicates a great deal of faith in Pontiac's future."

'GOOD CITIZEN'
"They are to be commended for being a corporate good citizen," Brown commented. "We're fortunate to have an organization of their stature here in Pontiac."

Harlan F. Ritze, Oakland County district manager for Detroit Edison Co., said the new plant "couldn't help but be a good thing."

"It will mean more homes, more jobs, and that's what makes an economy go," Ritze said.

Robert Sickman, merchandise manager of a retail store at Montgomery Ward in the Mall said, "GM's decision renews our faith in Pontiac as a growing community. We're glad to see that GM is taking advantage of it."

'IT'S TERRIFIC'
Owner of the Bloomfield Fashion shop in the Mall, Sidney Barnett, commented, "Terrific. GM is expanding the industrial life of the city. They'll employ more men and put more money into circulation. This shows GM's faith in Pontiac."

Marvin Talan, secretary-treasurer of the Lions Store at Miracle Mile, said: "Sensational. It will enhance the image of the Pontiac area."

"It proves that GM has faith in the Pontiac area as a growing community and that there's more room for growth."

Seaway Toll Bill Disputed

Abolishment of Fees Urged and Resisted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill which would change financing of the St. Lawrence Seaway and prevent toll increases drew strong support and stout opposition Wednesday.

Some suggestions were made that all tolls on the waterway be eliminated.

Sharp opposition to the bill, sponsored by 15 senators, came from the railroads, which had fought against construction of the seaway which Congress authorized in 1954, at a U.S. cost of up to $140 million.

Philip Hollar, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, told a Senate Public Works Subcommittee that when the seaway was authorized it was on the promise that it would be self-liquidating.

EFFORT NEEDED

"It makes no sense to abandon this commitment," Hollar said, "particularly since the seaway can be self-supporting if a real effort is made to that end."

But Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., testified that no other federal waterway operates under the financial burden placed by law on the seaway.

"The seaway must repay the money invested to build it within 50 years or less; it must bear the full costs of operation and maintenance; and it must make annual payments into a depreciation fund," Nelson said.

Guests Change Modus Operandi

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Towels and silverware used to be the major items pilfered from hotels, but the Town House Hotel reports a new one — the theft of 145 television sets.

The loss, estimated at $9,384, was discovered Wednesday after a guest complained about the absence of a set in his room. A room-by-room search disclosed the loss. The sets are leased to the hotel.

Rigid Enforcement Vowed

Car Check Law Aired

LANSING (UPI) — State Police Director Frederick E. Davids yesterday promised rigid enforcement of Michigan's new spot-check motor vehicle inspection law.

The Legislature passed a law requiring State Police to make spot safety checks of autos beginning next year.

Davids told a Regional Traffic Safety Conference a separate State Police department will be established to conduct the program.

Democratic Legislators pushed through the spot-check system rather than a compulsory motor vehicle inspection plan on the premise a mandatory program would cost the public too much money.

However, Davids said the spot-check plan probably will be a forerunner to an all-out motor vehicle inspection law.

SLAP AT LAWMAKERS

Lt. Gov. William Milliken yesterday also criticized the Democratic-controlled Legislature for not adopting a compulsory motor vehicle inspection law.

He slapped at lawmakers for also refusing to pass an implied consent bill to force motorists accused of drunken driving to take a blood test to determine the amount of alcohol in their blood or risk loss of their driving privilege.

Mowed 'em Up, Credit Cards, Too

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Don Pabst was cutting his lawn with a power mower when his bill-fold slipped from his pocket.

Next thing he knew $65 in cash, credit cards, driver's license and other papers had been chopped up by the mower and scattered over the lawn.

He exchanged the money chips at a bank for whole bills but said it would take some time to replace the other pa-

Sheriffs Cite Court Officials in Crime Rise

HOLLAND (UPI) — Michigan sheriffs yesterday adopted a resolution charging prosecuting attorneys and courts with being one of the causes contributing to the increase in crime.

Specifically the sheriffs, gathered for the fall training session of the Michigan Sheriffs Association at Lake Macatawa, said there is a growing practice on the part of prosecuting attorneys and the courts to reduce the charges against offenders in order to persuade him to plead guilty instead of standing trial.

This practice of charge reduction creates the impression within the criminal element of our society that if they are caught after committing a crime, they can deal themselves into a minor penalty," the resolution said.

The association called upon courts and prosecutors to halt the charge-reduction practice unless it is apparent that evidence will not support the original charge.

The sheriffs, headed by president Elwin Smith of Eaton County, also voted their approval of Secretary of State James Hare's recent proposal that Michigan adopt the "Illinois plan" of moving traffic violation arrests.

ATTENTION RAILROAD WORKERS BULOVA ACCUTRON IN STOCK

Come in now and see the world's most precise wrist timepiece.

Now is a good time to see the first major improvement in timekeeping since 1665. That was the year they put the balance wheel into a watch. For almost 300 years, it was the only way to keep a watch ticking. In 1959 Bulova experts stopped the tick. They replaced the vibrations of the old-fashioned balance wheel with the vibrations of a tiny tuning fork. Result: a faint hum and the most precise timepiece ever. Accutron. In fact, we guarantee the Accutron timepiece right to within a minute a month.

Schools Have Duty to Protect

Must Prepare Plan for All Emergencies

By DAVID NYDIK
UPI Education Specialist
Schools have a definite responsibility in the area of civil defense. Any failure to take every possible precaution would have to be considered a dereliction of duty.

A number of individuals and groups voice objections to practice drills and preparation for disasters. They often indicate that they do not want their children exposed to what they call the frightening effects of a drill.

There is also a feeling that there is no protection against a nuclear attack except prevention through peace.

Individuals have a right to such attitudes, but a public agency does not. A number of factors must be considered.

Civil defense is designed for protection against many types of disaster, only one of which is a nuclear attack. These include fires, floods, hurricanes, tornadoes and earthquakes.

The schools of our nation are responsible for the physical safety of nearly 50 million children and more than 3 million in employees.

There must be a well-planned program in the event of any form of emergency situation. This is a right to which each of these students and employees are entitled.

A civil defense program will afford protection even against the effects of a nuclear attack. It is therefore the obligation of school officials to take steps to implement such a program.

What kinds of plans and protection are needed? Communication is needed. Schools should have plans for emergency communication such as portable radios and direct lines to civil defense headquarters.

Consideration should be given to emergency food rations and first aid equipment. Emergency lighting is valuable especially where young children are involved. Darkness often creates panic.

Many modern schools have extensive glass areas. Shattering glass is particularly harmful, but individuals can be protected from this danger.

Obviously, there are many steps which can be taken to protect students and employees from the effects of disaster conditions.

Alarm Fluid Is Found in Ants' System

By Science Service
STILLWATER, Okla., — A truly alarming chemical has been found in ants. In the mandibles of harvester ants, a chemical known as a ketone was discovered to act as a means of communication and warning.

This ketone, called 4-methyl-3-heptanone, was found in ants trapped in glass jars sunk into the ground near an ant nest.

A drop of ketone like that found in the mandibles was placed in an ants' nest. "As it evaporated," a team of Oklahoma scientists reported, the ants "became alarmed and appeared to release the alarm substance themselves."

A little of the ketone placed in a petri dish nest produced alarm behavior in test ants for 15 to 20 seconds. "They quickened their movements, periodically raised their heads high above their bodies and opened their mandibles," the scientists said. "Occasionally, they bit and stung debris in the nest."

The scientists tried putting a small drop of the chemical on an ant. "Ants which passed within three or four centimeters of the treated ant immediately chased and attacked it, with sometimes as many as three or four trying to bite and sting it at the same time."

Ballots Cast for Party, Not Issues

From now until November, political pundits will proffer prognostications and ponder the possibilities of the upcoming congressional elections.

Will concern over Viet Nam, inflation and racial unrest be translated into significant Republican inroads into the Democratic majorities in the House and Senate?

Few observers expect this will happen unless one or more of all these issues somehow begin to generate more voter dissatisfaction than they have so far. People tend to forget the past and only remember the present. At election the Democrats will present a good picture to the voters. The right image at the right time means votes.

Nothing short of a major national crisis could result in a complete overturn of party control in the House, where all the members (presently two to one Democratic) are up for reelection.

A new book, "Elections and the Political Order" by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, offers fresh evidence to support something many have long believed: Most Americans vote consistently for their favorite party, with little thought about issues or candidates. If this is true it is too bad. We would like to think that with increased education people are paying more attention to both candidates and issues.

In the 1958 Congressional race, for instance, the researchers found that 84 per cent of all the votes for the House were cast by party members supporting their party's candidates.

Only about 7 per cent—less than one person in 10—claimed that valid political issues had anything to do with the way they voted.

Party loyalties are typically learned early in life, usually in the family, and are extremely long lasting. Since a particular candidate's party label is the only piece of information many voters ever get — or care to get — it gives the majority party a head start so the survey states.

The book points out that what the voters do not get, however, is assurance that they will receive legislative action that is promised by the party label.

"The candidates who have presented themselves to the Country under the two party system immediately break ranks following the election," say the authors. The parties speak in Congress not as two voices but as blocs and individuals fulfilling their own definitions of the public good.

Thus a congressman who is an artful campaigner "is able to develop electoral strength that is almost totally disassociated from what his party line in Congress and what he himself has done about it."

The survey says that when the congressman does not follow the party line he feels he can get away with it because he knows the constituency isn't looking.

How many people indeed are looking? How many know who their representatives are? Or even which party holds the majority in Congress? Interviews of a cross section of voters revealed that only 47 per cent—less than half—could answer the second question.

If the results and findings of this survey are true it is a sad, sad day for all of us. We can't help but wonder why.

Is Salt the Only Solution for Snow and Ice?

Many Pontiac area residents who leave the heart of the auto industry on vacations return with wondrous tales of what they have seen in their wanderings. One of the miracles often reported is the large number of older cars which appear in prime condition, with nary a trace of rust.

True, the tourists are visiting areas which have little or no snow. Drivers there are not forced to combat the "iron cancer" which reduces our auto industry's finest creations to flaking eyesores in a few years.

But with all the progress that has been made in the last few years, wouldn't you think something better than salt could be unearthed to combat snow and slippery conditions? The auto industry itself has taken great efforts to halt the ravages of salt, with rustproofing dip processes and improved paints.

Auto washes have blossomed across the countryside, and get exceedingly heavy duty in the winter months as auto owners try to preserve their investments, but the problem persists. In many cases, the exterior of the car is more likely to be the reason for its sale than the engine or other equipment.

With another winter just around the corner, we hope someone, somewhere, is working on a better answer than salt.

Johnson Is Contrast to JFK

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — On Friday, Lyndon B. Johnson will have been president as long as John F. Kennedy held the office: 1,037 days. They had a few things in common and some great differences.

At the time of his assassination Nov. 22, 1963, Kennedy's popularity in the public opinion polls was a dropping, although that may seem strange in view of the adulation given him now. Johnson's popularity is dropping, too, sharply.

Two recent polls showed that among Democrats, Kennedy's brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, was the choice for president over Johnson in 1968; voters now, by only 51 to 49 per cent, prefer Johnson over Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney for president in 1968.

President Kennedy's popularity dwindled in 1963, the pollsters said, because he was pushing civil rights too hard. Johnson pushed them harder and more successfully, getting two bills through Congress. He was blocked on a third this week.

His performance in this field hurt him in the polls but there were other complaints: his handling of various problems, like the war in Viet Nam, the anti-poverty program, the economy, and so on.

But Johnson's personality is probably a major factor. Kennedy's personality was perhaps his greatest asset. His speeches, with life and light, could be understood by everyone, but they had grace and style, too. Not Johnson's.

They are heavy-lodged and carpeted with banalities. Kennedy, realizing his success in public appearances, used television to his maximum. Johnson seems to realize he can't match Kennedy in this field.

He makes scant use of television. Instead, he likes to meet crowds in the flesh, and gets a good response. But even here he is awkward. On his recent political trips, he resorted to a bullhorn.

In his public appearances, Kennedy always acted like a man who assumed he was heartily accepted. Johnson — by his intentions, facial expressions, and the almost sad look in his eyes — acts like a man who aches to be accepted.

RELATIVELY QUIET

That the world has been relatively quiet to Johnson's time—during which communism suffered setbacks around the world—may have been just his luck or may have been due in part to Johnson manipulations not revealed yet.

But, as for being a president who gets things done, Kennedy was no match for Johnson who pushed more far-reaching programs through Congress than Kennedy ever did or perhaps ever could. Not till this year did Congress start to balk.

Moment of Truth

David Lawrence Says:

Katzenbach Move Stirs Gossip

WASHINGTON — When a member of the Cabinet resigns to accept a subordinate post under another Cabinet officer and at the same time has to take a cut a $5,000 a year in salary, there is bound to be an arching of eyebrows all over the capital.

Certainly if this happened anywhere else in government or business, it would be assumed that someone was being demoted. But President Johnson, at his news conference, said:

"As far as I am concerned, he (Katzenbach) is not concerned with title or promotions or demotions. He is concerned with serving the interests of the nation."

While this is a tactful observation, it doesn't have a ring of persuasiveness because, in the first place, Katzenbach has to all intents and purposes been doing a good job as attorney general and actually has little familiarity with the operations of the Department of State, where he is to become the No. 2 executive.

So the gossip takes a very wide range. Some people hereabouts think that President Johnson was determined to make a change at the head of the Department of Justice and that, while he is not particularly dissatisfied with Katzenbach's services, he wanted to get an entirely different personality to help manage the department.

ADVERSE REACTION

Naturally there is speculation as to whether the involvement of Katzenbach in the civil rights problem may have had some adverse reactions.

There are those who think he has been too aggressive in his enforcement of the civil rights laws and not sufficiently flexible to take account of the various political reactions in this kind of controversy.

Indeed, as the presidential campaign of 1968 approaches, President Johnson may feel that he needs as attorney general someone with a good deal of maneuverability.

It is true that Katzenbach was professor of international law at the University of Chicago from 1956 to 1961, but he has had no experience in the making of foreign policy.

OTHER MEN

If the President was really looking for someone with expert knowledge in the international field, he had available in the government itself many other men, particularly in the Foreign Service, from whom he could have made a selection.

Nothing has been said as to whether Secretary Rusk was consulted in advance and made a recommendation of his own.

It is natural to assume that, if the second man in any department makes a good record, he will be eligible for appointment to the top post when there is a vacancy. But if Secretary Rusk should resign, the general feeling here is that Ambassador Goldberg is likely to take his place.

So far as the public is concerned, the most important question is whether the Department of State has been strengthened or weakened by the change, and whether President Johnson has in mind a capable man to run the Department of Justice.

Is he counting perhaps on an attorney general of the politically minded type?

There have been too many in this category in the past under both Republican and Democratic administrations.

Today is Thursday, Sept. 22, the 265th day of 1966 with 100 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

The morning stars are Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, and Venus.

The evening star is Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1937, a united front was established in China when the Chinese Communist party announced its support of the Nationalist government.

In 1959, the Chicago White Sox won the American League baseball pennant for the first time in 40 years.

Bob Considine Says:

War Is a Way of Life in Troubled Viet Nam

SAIGON — War has permeated Viet Nam to such a degree that it has become a way of life, a people have learned to live with — like the heat, dust and ceaseless traffic jams.

Housing shortages are so great on CONSIDINE U.S. bases in the Saigon area that many American officers detailed to such places as Bien Hoa Airbase live in Saigon proper and commute. They literally take a cab or a bus to work each day.

You can watch the war from your table in the restaurant of the Caravelle Hotel. The dining room is on the ninth floor of the capital's chief inn.

At night the flare-dropping planes circle the outskirts of the city, laying their bright-headed eggs on areas believed to contain Viet Cong.

It resembles a fireworks display under the distant thunder of artillery shakes the windows of the restaurant — causing souffles to subside — and you realize with a start that human beings are killing and being killed out there.

The Vietnamese, who chased them up into the hill country centuries ago, call them Montagnards. They also call them savages. There are about 2 million of them, sprung from only God knows

Voice of the People:

A Variety of Suggestions for a 'Disgusted Teen'

"If 'Disgusted Teen' wants a place to go and have fun, why does he not try to work for it? Instead of saying 'Why don't our parents give us . . . ?' why not say 'C'mon, Teens, let's get together with our parents and see what can be done about our recreation problems.'"

I'm sure the teen-agers in Viet Nam would love a "fun" place, but are glad, instead, if they have a comparatively safe one!

MRS. DONALD WALSH
345 SCOTT LAKE ROAD

The answer to the teen-ager's complaint is clear: Go home! Hang storm windows, paint woodwork, rake leaves, mow the lawn, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job. Help your minister, priest or rabbi. Help the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons, and read a book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world your time and energy and talents so that no one will be at war, in poverty or sick or lonely.

In simple words: Grow up! Quit being a cry baby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, instead of a wishbone. Start acting like a man or a woman.

Comments on Service at Pontiac General

Recently I had to take my husband to emergency at Pontiac General. We filed out the admittance papers at 2:35 p.m. At 3:30 p.m. we had not been taken care of. I inquired at the desk and was told our papers had been lost. This is a poor excuse.

My husband only needed his arm stitched up, but suppose he had been seriously injured?

Great Interest in City Development Plans

Are the citizens of Pontiac so impatient that they are ready to accept without substantial modification, any plan that can be immediately financed?

A map of the city will show that closing Pike Street and the Auburn-Orchard Lake Road crossover between East and West Wide Track will further congest the already heavy traffic on W. Huron Street. All traffic going west to Seminole Hills, Ottawa Hills, and Indian Village will be diverted to W. Huron Street, particularly congested west to State Street. Wide Track Drive, both east and west, will become a huge "traffic circle."

I suggest the multi-storied buildings in the proposed shopping center be carried over W. Pike Street and the Orchard Lake-Auburn crossover. This would facilitate movement of westbound traffic from G.M.T.C. and would benefit all the citizens of Pontiac. I also suggest S. Johnson be extended to meet Golf Drive and that Golf Drive be widened to four lanes.

BENJAMIN F. SMITH
6 ROSSHIRE COURT
(Editor's Note: A traffic study is under way.)

The least the residents of Pontiac can do to express their gratitude for the sincere effort by the students and faculty of the University of Detroit School of Architecture, is to attend the presentation at 74 N. Saginaw some evening and then decide if they will accept the challenge of saving Pontiac.

At one time the residents of outlying towns considered downtown Pontiac the center for government, shopping and recreation. Now it is easy to bypass downtown on Wide Track Drive on the way to the Mall or the county offices.

Why not accept the concept of the U. of D. study and convince Mr. Taubman that his project would be an excellent first phase for this plan, if slightly altered? Mr. Davidson has publicly stated his willingness to work with Mr. Taubman for a better Pontiac.

ALFRED S. KOCHANOWSKI, JR.
LAKE ORION

It would seem reasonable for the city to adopt the U. of D. proposal as a major plan, which would take many years to accomplish but which would give us a worthwhile objective for long-range development.

The Taubman Plan would answer an immediate need and provide a tax base from which other municipal programs could be projected. In the presentation, no consideration was given to the estimate of personal property taxes such a development would provide. It seems to me the Taubman Plan could be fitted quite readily into the U. of D. plan.

Some groups are urging the city to provide more public housing. The U. of D. presentation pointed out that the public housing provided after World War II deteriorated to almost slum conditions. This was caused by neglect on the part of the tenants. I wonder if this would be repeated under the U. of D. program?

Swedish Voters Jolted Prime Minister

By ARNE ROLAND
United Press International
STOCKHOLM — Prime Minister Tage Erlander has no plans to dissolve the government as result of the recent municipal elections, but the results have given him a jolt.

In the Sept. 18 voting the non-Socialist groups emerged with more votes than the two Socialist parties for the first time in many years in his country often considered a model Socialist state.

There was immediate speculation Erlander would dissolve parliament and call for general elections after what he described as a "severe defeat" at the polls.

But observers were quick to point out a municipal election does not affect the setup of the second chamber of parliament (Riksdag) where Erlander has a considerable majority.

The results showed that the Social Democrats received only 42 per cent of the voting, the poorest showing in 34 years. Most observers expressed astonishment over the outcome, even if the indications had shown the government party would not do so well in the election.

The three non-Socialist parties — the Conservatives, the Center party (former Agrarians) and the Liberals show a preliminary gain with a total of 48.8 per cent, an increase of 3.8 per cent compared to the municipal elections four years ago.

Splinter groups gained 1.8 per cent.

The small Communist party also noted successes, taking 6.6 per cent as compared to 3.8 per cent in 1962.

This means that the Social Democrats received 8.2 per cent less votes than in 1962 and almost 6 per cent less than in the second chamber elections in 1964.

Observers gave various reasons for the smaller vote.

They pointed at the government's tight economic policy to fight inflationary tendencies, increasing taxes, the alarming housing shortage in big city areas and agricultural policy.

Some UFOs May Be Bugs With Glow On

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Are some of those Unidentified Flying Objects recently sighted over parts of the United States merely flying ants or other insects with a glow on?

Norton T. Novitt, an amateur Denver scientist whose hobby is the study of the electric properties of insects, thinks it's highly possible. Not necessarily insects with a built-in glow, such as fireflies, but insects which have somehow attracted an electric charge so great that they give off lights.

The glowing insect theory is original with Novitt, a scientific illustrator with the U.S. Geological Survey in Denver.

It all started with Novitt three summers ago when he was a member of a Denver moon-watch team, one of the groups of volunteers around the country who help the National Aeronautics and Space Administration keep track of some of the large artificial satellites.

He surmised the bright light he had observed was sunlight glinting from their iridescent bodies.

Research produced the fact that at certain times of the year, male and female ants sprout wings to take part in an airborne mating ritual. The winged specks of light as the electricity drained off them into space.

U.S. Remiss in Explaining Viet Aims

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — Even among friendly Europeans, American prestige has declined sharply since the escalation of the war in Viet-Nam.

It is an irony that the United States, where public relations has become a fine art, has made a feeble effort to explain dantly clear that they want nothing to do with Viet-Nam.

Yet a clear definition of war aims, as Bismarck warned a century ago, is "a major political task during a war."

The most important element in military strategy is clarity about one's intentions. To be sure, President Johnson has said repeatedly that the only U.S. objective is to check Communist aggression.

He and members of his administration have made it abundantly clear that they want nothing to do with Viet-Nam on the basis of a just peace settlement.

But their declarations, usually made during a special political oratory or in reply to foreign and domestic critics, have been fragmentary, sporadic and incomplete. In the face of mounting criticism of U.S. foreign policy, they have been defensive and apologetic. Nor has the United States Information Service (USIA) and its Voice of America done much to improve the American image with their misplaced objectivity.

These countries are directly affected by the war in Viet-Nam. They are on the side of the United States not because they fear President Johnson's imperialist aims but because they are convinced that America is also fighting their battle for freedom and independence.

Yet the USIA, instead of emphasizing the positive aspect of American policy, continues to stress merely that the United States has limited objectives in Viet Nam and no ambitions of territorial gain.

Report on Lock

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The McNamara Construction Co. of Toronto reports work on the $40 million Poe Lock at Sault Ste. Marie is two-thirds completed. Construction got under way in the summer of 1964 but was slowed by three strikes. Completion of the lock now is scheduled for the fall of 1967.

For instance, how many Europeans are aware that most non-Communist nations in Asia back the American effort to check Red aggression in Viet-Nam? Such nations include Japan, Thailand, Turkey, the Philippines, Laos, South Korea, Nationalist China and even "neutral" India and Burma. These countries are directly affected by the war in Viet-Nam. They are on the side of the United States not because they fear President Johnson's imperialist aims but because they are convinced that America is also fighting their battle for freedom and independence.

Trouble in Yemen Comes Home to Roost in U.A.R.

CAIRO (UPI) — More trouble is brewing for President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Yemen, where 50,000 Egyptian troops bolster the republican regime.

This time it is over the man Nasser backs to run the country, President Abdullah Salal.

Now he finds Salal is under fire and isolated from the rest of Yemen's top republican leaders.

They accuse Salal, a blacksmith's son, of "wanting to rule Yemen like the imam," the feudalistic ruler whose death in 1962 touched off the power struggle leading to the Yemen war.

The fighting now appears over, with the country divided between the republicans holding the south with Egyptian troops and the royalists, backed by Saudi Arabia, in the north.

ALL IS NOT WELL

But the appearance of a powerful Yemeni Delegation in Cairo signaled all was not well inside the republican regime itself.

Five of the six members of the republican council, including Prime Minister Hassan Al-Amri, and most of the government, plus the Yemeni army commander-in-chief and other officials, flew to with a list of complaints about Salal to lay before Nasser.

Salal is the sixth member of the republican council and he was left behind in Sanaa, the Yemen capital.

Specifically, according to one top-ranking member of the group, Salal was "behaving like a dictator."

"He is spending money with out approval from the cabinet, appointing local officials illegally and disregarding the constitution," he said.

They came to ask Nasser to withdraw his support of Salal.

The anti-Salal republicans also complained they are not being consulted on Egypt's continuing negotiations with Saudi Arabia on the future of their country.

"Our exclusion from all mediation efforts is one of the main reasons why they have all failed so far," he said.

AGREED ON TERMS

Nasser and King Feisal of Saudi Arabia agreed at Jiddah last year on terms to end their Yemen confrontation.

Dynamite Caps, Fuses Are Found

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Gordon Ter Haar of Grand Rapids told police yesterday the 200 dynamite caps and 1,000 feet of fuses he reported stolen from his parked van have been located.

He said the caps and fuses were removed from his van before he left Canada.

However, Walker police are still looking for 850 pounds of dynamite sticks stolen, minus caps and fuses, last month from the Best Wall Gypsum Co.

Rights Fight Is Vowed at NY School

NEW YORK (AP) — Civil rights leaders today threatened to turn a controversial Harlem showcase school into a "national battleground" after pickets protesting its white principal clashed Wednesday with police.

New demonstrations were expected today and a Police Department spokesman said extra men were on call.

"This has ceased to be a local issue," said Roy Innis, chairman of Harlem's Congress of Racial Equality. "It is now the stage for a national battleground."

A similar threat came from Stokely Carmichael, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, who warned the Board of Education that his group "was prepared to mount a major direct action campaign against the New York City school system and authorities."

One Negro threw himself in the path of school principal Stanley Lissner, Wednesday and others broke through wooden barriers and tussled with police as they tried to block Lissner from entering the new $5-million building. Five demonstrators, including one woman, was arrested.

Lissner had resigned from the post Monday in line with community demands for a "black principal" but was reinstated 24 hours later when the school's integrated teaching staff transfer.

The clash between pickets and police in a rainstorm outside the school was described by Innis as "only a brief skirmish — a prelude to war."

U.S. 'Probably Bomed Huts

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. military spokesmen announced yesterday that American planes were "probably involved" in the accidental bombing of a Vietnamese village in the southern half of the demilitarized zone August 13.

One person was killed and five wounded in the incident. Fragments from U. S. 500-pound bombs were found at the scene between North and South Vietnam.

The spokesmen said the only known U. S. aircraft in the region were Marine jets hitting Communist targets seven miles to the north.

Dirksen Loses on Prayer Amendment, Vows Try Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois says he'll try again next year to win approval for his proposed constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers in public schools.

The Senate Republican leader's plan lost Wednesday on a 49-37 vote — nine short of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Dirksen maintained that the people overwhelmingly favor the amendment, prompted by Supreme Court decisions prohibiting official prayers in public schools. The Senate vote was regarded by some colleagues as injecting another issue into the fall election.

Voting for the proposal were 22 Democrats — all but six of them Southerners — and 27 Republicans. Against were 34 Democrats and three Republicans: Sens. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, Jacob K. Javits of New York and Thomas H. Kuchel of California.

TO CARRY ON

Immediately after the vote, Dirksen told the Senate he would carry on his "crusade" for the amendment under which public school authorities could provide for and permit "the voluntary participation by students or others in prayer."

Dirksen emphasized the amendment would not authorize school officials to prescribe the form or content of any prayer.

He told newsmen earlier that move, he said, will be evangel-

Social Security Charge Denied

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "There is no basis for the statement that processing of new Social Security claims is meeting with substantial delay," Social Security Commissioner Robert Ball said Wednesday.

In Washington, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., had contended there was a tremendous backlog of new claims awaiting final action, and claimants were left dangling for as long as nine months after filing for benefits.

"Payments now being made at an average time of about six weeks from the filing of an application," Ball said in a statement from Social Security headquarters in suburban Woodlawn.

This is about two weeks longer than the normal time.

LOAD DOUBLES

"The increase of two weeks in the average results from the fact that pending loads are still somewhat higher than normal — about eight million new claims were filed last year, double the usual load of about four million."

"It is true that in a few isolated instances a case, for some special reason, may take considerably more than the average time."

"We are always glad to look into any such situation in order to expedite payment. Usually a backlog of 12,000 cases in the Chicago payment center."

necessary to the payment of the claim has not yet been furnished by the claimant."

Sen. Griffin said one retired person told him his wife had applied for Social Security benefits last December and still has not received her first check. Griffin also said the Social Security Administration told him there was a backlog of 12,000 cases in the Chicago payment center.

Murder Charge

FLINT (AP)—Emory F. Rice, 58, of Flint was to be arraigned today at his hospital bed on a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying Monday of his 51-year-old wife, Carolyn. Police charged that Rice killed his wife and then shot himself in the chest with a 9-millimeter pistol.

200 Teens Protest Over Lunch Period

DETROIT (AP) — Some 200 teenagers claiming they need more than 30 minutes to eat lunch demonstrated Wednesday at Thurston High School in suburban Redford Township.

After 90 minutes the demonstration ended and classes started when a student leader emerged and reported school officials had agreed to a meeting to discuss the demand for a longer lunch period.

The lunch period was shortened from an hour to 30 minutes this school year because increased enrollment resulted in disciplinary problems with pupils roaming the school halls after finishing lunch, said Supt. Frank Block.

Detroit Award

Women Defy Rainy Weather, Attend Parties on Wednesday

Medical Auxiliary Holds Annual Membership Tea

Some 125 women attended the annual membership tea Wednesday held by the Women's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society.

Mrs. Alphonse Zukko of Hammond Lake was hostess for the yearly event.

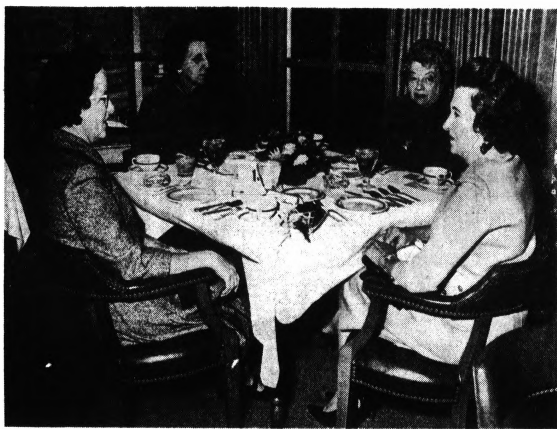

Her assistants were Mrs. John Silbani, Mrs. Charles R. Semper, Mrs. Robert J. Hamow, Mrs. Edward M. Gates, Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, Mrs. Elmer J. Mueller, Mrs. William D. Dooley and Mrs. Oliver Page.

Past presidents pouring were Mesdames: Edward E. Elder, Maxwell L. Shadley, John P. Williams, Kenneth Vandenberg, Ralph M. Fox, L. Jerome Fink, Edwin J. Westfall and Robert T. Lyons.

A benefit performance of the Sammy Cahn-Jimmy Van Heusen "Walking Happy" on Oct. 26, at the Fisher Theatre, will provide scholarships for Oakland County young women interested in pursuing a nursing career.

Mrs. James T. Mimura is chairman.

For ticket information contact Mrs. Vernon Abbott or Mrs. Ralph Wigent.

No Matter, It's Fiasco All Around

By ELIZABETH POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I hope you can help live enraged hostesses out. Last Saturday a shower was planned for a bride-to-be by four women and myself.

Against our wishes and arguments, the groom-to-be came to the shower. There were no other men present and he was asked to leave but wouldn't.

Therefore, the five of us locked the door while he went out for his camera. He banged on the door, ranted and raved like a little boy rather than a young man. Eventually he found a way in and stayed until the end.

Were we wrong to ask him to leave or is it common practice now for men to be at showers? We are at a loss for the answer and since he is to be my future brother-in-law, I would like to make amends if I was wrong, or will expect an apology if he is at fault. — Mrs. D.

Dear Mrs. D.: It's hard to believe that so many people could be so wrong all at once. To begin with, as sister of the bride, you should not even be a hostess at a shower for her.

Then, the groom certainly had no business arriving uninvited, or staying when he was not wanted. This, however, didn't excuse all five hostesses for their rudeness in locking him out of the house.

Finally, his actions that followed were childish and ridiculous. Why he wanted to stay at your "bachelorette" I don't understand, but in any case, there were so many breaches of good manners committed that I suggest you all forget the whole thing, and in the interest of family harmony, kiss and make up!

ONE NOTE?

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother passed away and the small office in which I work (seven people) sent flowers. Should I send one thank you note to everyone, or to each one individually? — Carolyn J.

Dear Carolyn: Since there were only seven employees who sent flowers, it would be far nicer to send a short individual note to each one.

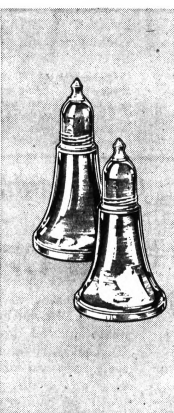

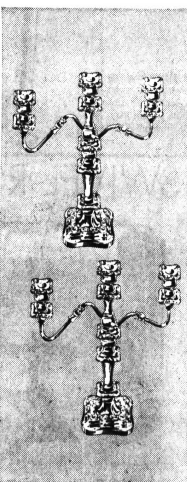

BOYFRIEND LEAVING

Dear Mrs. Post: My boyfriend is going in the Air Force shortly and I would like to know if it's proper for me to give him a gift? If so, what kind of gift? — Regina B.

Dear Regina: Give him a gift by all means! Anything that he can use while he's in the service, other than clothing, is appropriate. You might enjoy the rewards yourself if you gave him some handsome stationery with his name on it.

Pontiac Zontians to Host Coffee Hour at Conference

A highlight of the 19th annual fall conference of Zonta International's Fifth District, Sept. 30 through Oct. 2 at Detroit's Stadler-Hilton Hotel, will be a special coffee hour hosted by the Zonta Club of Pontiac for the closing day.

Pontiac Zontians are combining efforts with the Zonta

Club of Detroit, official hostess group to entertain some 350 Zontians from 50 midwestern cities.

Clubs in Kentucky, Ohio, Western Ontario and Michigan will be represented.

Coffee hour plans are headed by Mrs. Katherine M. Baker chairman, with committee assists from Mrs. Earl L. Clark, Mrs. Beecher Fawcett, Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick, Mrs. T. W. Jackson, Mrs. H. H. Smith, Charlotte McManus and Helen Travis.

An awards program on opening day will recognize outstanding local sponsorship of leading community service projects. Dr. J. Philip Wernett, University of Michigan economist, will speak at the semi-formal "Harvest Holiday" banquet Oct. 1.

The regional conference affords Zontians an opportunity to review past achievements and to map increased activities in human service.

The Pontiac and Detroit units of Zonta International, made up of executive women in business and the professions are among 500 Zonta clubs now operating in 33 countries.

Polly's Pointers

Steel Wool Tops

DEAR POLLY — Do any of you know the best way to clean aluminum storm windows and doors? Is it possible to restore a new look to them?—STASIA

STASIA — Recently I saw a window washer use fine steel wool to clean the dingy aluminum frames on jalousied windows. They really did look like new but try a small, inconspicuous spot first to see how it works on yours.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—To make a sweater smaller I baste up the sides of the sweater so the ribbing match and go all the way through the armhole and sleeve as much as needed.

I then stitch this on the sewing machine twice, using a medium stitch. I double stitch again about 1/4-inch from the first stitching and cut close to the last line of stitching. Sew BEFORE you cut. But-nobles stitch the raw edges with darning cotton in a matching color. Press the seam with a pressing cloth with several thicknesses of cloth under the seam.—MRS. L. O. H.

DEAR POLLY — Do pass on the word that I, too, have an action acrylic sweater and it used to always stretch far beyond my size when I washed it. In desperation I decided matters could not be much worse so I put it in the dryer with two Turkish towels to serve as buffers.

When the sweater was dry it had returned to its original size. I have done this several times with the same good results.—LINNEA

DEAR GIRLS — I did not have a too-large Orion sweater to try this method, but as so many sent in this same suggestion I feel it must have some merit. And if the sweater is not wearable as it is, most anything is worth a try.

I do have a friend who reduces the sizes of sweaters, hand knit or machine, by stitching them up on her sewing machine as Mrs. L.O.H. suggested.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I find it very easy to rinse out such small things as hose and gloves in a plastic juice shaker or refrigerator jar.

Add a few smooth clean marbles to the suds and as you shake your miniature "washing machine" the pounding action of the marbles will help to loosen the dirt.—MRS. O.R.J.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Antiquated Ideas About Baby Care

If you were the mother of a new baby about a hundred years ago, the doctor would deliver your child at home, and might suggest that you keep your baby's skin healthy by smearing the child with hog's lard. The baby's diapers would be homemade from sheets of thick, coarse canvas and naturally, would be washed at home in a steaming boiler on top of the stove. The baby's powder would be mixed by mother from cornstarch and rice because there were no baby powders, or other ready-made baby-care products, at local stores.

These and other fascinating historical methods of baby care are detailed in a colorful booklet from the makers of Destin baby products. Illustrations show old-fashioned ways of weighing babies, bathing babies, and diapering. Also included is modern advice with instructions on how to hold an infant, how to bathe it, and how to take precautions against diaper rash.

Titled, "Health Tips on Baby Care — Then and Now," the 16-page booklet may be obtained at no charge by writing Destin, Chas. Pfizer & Co. Inc., Learning Division, 285 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York.

Got Hot Feet?

When feet are perspiring, hot and uncomfortable, hotfoot it to the corner drug store for some camphor and good quality witch hazel. Put a half-handful of the camphor into a pint bottle of witch hazel and shake well. Massage the solution well into the feet and ankles and let it dry by evaporation. Dust lightly with foot powder before putting on shoes and stockings.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today in the research laboratories scientists are looking for the Fountain of Youth as earnestly as Ponce de Leon once did. New discoveries and new lines of investigation are constantly popping up.

The part fat plays in hardening of the arteries is one of the latest and most discussed ideas. While many researchers feel that the evidence is far from conclusive, most agree that there is enough evidence to make it wise to cut down some on our fat intake and to substitute vegetable fats for some of the animal fats.

DIET FACTOR

Everyone seems to agree that diet, while important, is only one of the factors which contribute to hardening of the arteries, heart attacks and strokes. Many of us forget that tension elevates blood cholesterol.

Studies have shown this to be true. For instance, it has been demonstrated that the cholesterol level of accountants' blood rises sharply during the period just preceding the income tax date. So, while cutting down on fats remember to also cut down on tension. Try to learn to drift with the tide and roll with the punch.

Exercise has finally come into its own as a prolonger of the youthful portion of life and as a weapon with which to fight many diseases of middle and later years.

With all of the new information available we are likely to forget some of the older tenets of good health and prolonged youthfulness. Years ago experiments indicated that vitamin G (B2) is an aid in the fight to lengthen the number of vital years.

Some good sources are milk, beef liver, cabbage, lettuce, whole wheat, spinach, eggs, meat and yeast. Brewers yeast gives you the whole vitamin B family.

MILK VALUE
The value of milk in promoting health and prolonging youthfulness was emphasized years ago by well-known scientists. Then for some time folks seemed to forget that and they classified milk as for children only.

Studies have shown that many people are deficient in their vitamin C intake. This is probably due to the fact that while this vitamin is widely spread in the food world, it is usually in small and juices are the richest sources.

Skin Blooms Again with 2nd Debut

With this non-surgical face lift, lined, prematurely aged faces appear to have suddenly been reborn. Hard to find are even the most fearsome signs of on-coming crows feet and wrinkles that inconsiderately shroud your age just a short time ago. Smoother now is your skin to a finger-tip touch with a fresh young feeling of moisture beneath, and rosy tinting your cheeks. For 2nd Debut gives a simulated lift without the surgeon's scalpel—a lift that lasts a long time, an ageless look that's much more intriguing than common youthfulness. The lift comes from underneath as you apply 2nd Debut on the surface. 2nd Debut (with CEF 600) for the woman of no more than 40. 2nd Debut (with CEF 1200) for the impatient lady a few years older at good department and drug stores.

Mother's Training

Wife Shuns Relations

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE A-506: Ethel Z., aged 29, presents a rather common problem.

"Dr. Crane," she began hesitantly, "I was reared by a very prudish mother who divorced my father early. "My mother never told my sister and me a thing about sex."

DR. CRANE

"But she created the idea that men were evil creatures and we should shun them."

"Sex was a carnal appetite and to be shunned."

"So now that I am married, I feel guilty whenever my husband makes love to me. "Even though I want his love, I push him away and we get into violent arguments. So what can I do to be a normal wife?"

SINS OF MOTHERS
The Bible tells us about the sins of the fathers which can be passed along for generations to the children and grandchildren.

Here is a classical example of how a prudish mother not only ruined her own marriage but is setting the stage for her daughter's divorce.

And maybe the grandmother in this family is responsible for the mother's biased viewpoint toward men.

Just because there is one rotten apple in a barrel, we should not dump the entire barrel into the garbage truck! Which means, in brief, that we should use logic and realize that even if one man proves to be a rotter, it is not logical to damn the entire male sex.

Yet that is what Ethel's mother has done.

Premarital sexual affairs and illicit romances are wrong.

And not just because the clergymen say so, but because they violate the basic rule underlying all morality, which states:

"That which does the most good for the most people over the longest period of time, is right, moral and just."

Illicit sexual affairs definitely violate that yardstick.

For they produce children born out of wedlock and thus hamstring the happiness of those youngsters.

They also spread venereal disease and lay the roots for later divorces.

They depreciate human values and change a spunky, independent girl into a shifty-eyed woman who can't look you frankly in the eyes.

They promote abortions and thousands of dead girls who develop inflammation from such illicit surgery.

These are just a few of the reasons that prove premarital sexual affairs do not pay.

They are wrong, despite the lax attitude nowadays about such matters by many supposedly cultured adults.

Prudishness like Ethel's is actually better than the modern trend to sexual promiscuity.

For prudishness can be remedied easily and it leaves no illegitimate children or syphilitic millions among our population.

But both types of sexual deviation are wrong.

Once a man and wife are legally married, there is no etiquette dictator in their bedroom. They set their own rules.

But these rules are largely unknown, even among the most promiscuous.

For a multitude of sex partners still doesn't offer the scientific rules.

So send for my booklet "See Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn how to build a happy, PERMANENT marriage.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of my booklets.)

Erase Spots

Freckles can be charming. They can also be unsightly. If you don't care for yours try this simple bleaching trick. Soak a cloth in pure lemon juice and leave it on the face for 15 minutes.

Resoak, if necessary, to be sure the juice is getting to the skin. Rinse with clear water. Tone the skin with a splash of chilled good quality witch hazel. Let the extract dry by itself.

Do-It-Yourself

You can make a canister set by saving all shortening cans from the large size down to the smallest size. Give them a coat of bright enamel to carry out the color scheme in your kitchen. Decorated with decals, they make a pretty and attractive canister set.

The Human Terms Should Define Sanity

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The sovereign state of Maryland not long ago judged "sane" a mother who killed her four children. She was sentenced to 40 years in jail.

The dictionary defines "sane" as "mentally sound; as reasonable, rational, possessing good sense."

By this judgment, Maryland has announced that it regards it as mentally sound to kill one's children. How else can you interpret it?

If I see reasonableness in an act of murder so senseless, self-abandoned and disordered, it follows that I share the same moral measurements that made the killing of children seem reasonable to their mother. It means that she and I think the same way.

Actually, you know, the definition of sanity is now the center of a wildly raging legal controversy.

Apparently the law is hooked on the notion that a killer who "knows" he's doing "wrong" when he's killing is sane. But to be sane you need more than the knowledge of wrongdoing.

Our views of right and wrong vary according to geography and other influences. To be sane you need imagination and that feeling of human community that makes the crime you commit against another person a crime you commit against yourself.

Eichmann burned thousands of Jews alive out of his knowledge of the rightness of what he was doing. But he cannot be called sane by any earthly standard.

His knowledge of rightness was madness — a ghastly cerebral activity that clicked along in the Martian landscape of his dead imagination and feeling.

If we lack these qualities, our "knowledge" of right and wrong can be reversed by anybody from Hitler to gang leaders to the high muck-a-mucks of the Ku Klux Klan.

I do wish that the legal profession would come into the 20th century — and stop calling crazy people "sane."

Ah, what a wonderland is this world where a mother who has reversed the whole course of her nature is called "sane."

Hand-blown lead crystal designed by Lenox, Inc. will be the first American crystal ever used in the United States Embassy in Paris. The company has received a 21,000-piece order from the State Department to supply stemware for all embassies overseas. The official government seal is etched on the front of each glass which has a slightly flared bowl and stately ball stem. From the left are the wine glass, water goblet and fruit cocktail glass.

Pontiac BPW Club Plans OU Workshop

The Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club completed plans for the forthcoming workshop at Oakland University at Tuesday's dinner meeting in Devon Gables.

Youth Power committee chairman, Helen Zdeba, introduced Mrs. Clifton Gabler, associate professor of education at OU who spoke on the "Poverty Program and People."

She explained the three main programs under this heading as the Youth Program, Adult Program and Federal Aid to Education.

WORKSHOP

Rosamond Haebler, district chairman, announced the BPW Brush-up Workshop Oct. 2 at OU. Hosts will be the Pontiac and Keego Harbor clubs. Registration will begin at 10:00 a.m.

Mrs. Leo McDonald and Mrs. E. C. Carlson will conduct morning workshops on world affairs and public relations, respectively.

Theresa Staal, first state vice president from Grand Rapids will be the afternoon speaker.

Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff, president, announced the National Business Women's Week, Oct. 16-22. It will open with a devotional service and breakfast at Greenfield's Birmingham restaurant.

A midweek dinner at Devon Gables and the closing banquet at the Hotel Statler-Hilton on the 22nd are scheduled.

Hostesses at the September meeting were Mrs. George Brinkham, Mrs. Eleanor Pearson, Mrs. Charles H. Harmon Jr., Mrs. Paul Hammond and Ruth F. Rogers.

Guests were Mrs. Merrell D. Petrie and Ethel Bassett.

Old Days Weren't Easy

Bet you can't remember when hair curlers on the first permanent waving machines weighed two pounds apiece. That was 1905, and a major problem then was installing the machine on a good solid floor so it could not fall through the ceiling of the floor below.

Today a complete permanent kit weighs less than 9 ounces, takes one-eighth of the time, and costs only $3.00 instead of the original price of $1,000. Saves floors and ceilings, too.

Gentle Pat

For a pretty facial picture darken the brows and apply under-eye shading and a fine eyeliner. Use tinted powder over the entire face, followed by brushed-on color on the cheeks. To complete the pretty picture, set the makeup by patting with a cotton square dampened in good quality witch hazel.

The slacks suit comes into its own for fall, meticulously tailored in resilient all-American double-knit wool. This distinctive plaid suit, by Ann Klein for Mallory, has a trim deep V-jacket with twin patch pockets, and is coordinated with a solid color sleeveless turtleneck pullover in fine gauge wool.

Washing Tip Worth a Try

If the clothes hamper is full of heavily soiled or stained washables, try running them through a preliminary cold water rinse cycle of the washer.

Add five tablespoons of salt soda concentrated to the water. Then, wash as usual, adding three more tablespoons of the salt and less than the usual amount of detergent.

Darns Neatly

Cut a piece of marquisette to the required size of a hole that you are darning. Baste it under the hole. Darn in and out of the meshes of the netting for a neat and easy job.

Send One of Them on Trip If You Really Want Peace

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and my mother don't get along. Mother lives with us but she is no trouble to my wife as we have a lovely modern home and hired help to do the work.

ABBY

Mother is in her early sixties, well, is immaculately clean and in good health. I admit mother likes to argue, and has to have the last word, but my wife could "handle" her better if she wanted to. Mother sometimes speaks her mind about the way we are raising our children. My wife calls this "meddling."

Another thing, mother doesn't drive, and my wife makes a federal case out of having to drive her somewhere. My wife is high strung and yells a lot. My mother says my wife is sick and needs help.

I'd like your opinion on how to get some peace around here.

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: It is possible that your wife is not "sick" — she's just stand of your mother. Give them a vacation from each other by sending one of them on a little trip. When two women can't live peacefully under one roof, they generally raise it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and my fiancé is 19. We have been engaged for five months. Apparently my parents think I am old enough to be engaged because they gave their consent to my marriage, but they still don't trust me.

We are not allowed to see each other more than three nights in a row, or to stay out past midnight.

Abby, our wedding date is three months away!

In view of the fact that we are engaged and our wedding day is so close, do these restrictions make sense?

NEW ENGLANDER

DEAR ENGLANDER: They make sense to your parents — but not to me.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 30-year-old bachelor who needs some advice. I recently met an attractive young woman in whom I could be very much interested.

There is only one thing wrong with her. She talks all the time. I can't seem to get a word in edgewise.

I like so many things about this girl, but I don't think I could stand to live with such a talkative person.

She is 29 years old. Do you think there is a chance of slowing her down, or breaking her of this annoying habit? I don't want to take any chances.

INTERESTED: An otherwise attractive and eligible young woman would (or should) appreciate being told how she could improve her chances for marriage.

Tell her, and give her a chance to overcome her handicap. If she's hopeless, seize the first opportunity to get a word in edgewise. And make it "good-by."

DEAR ABBY: On my boss' birthday, a few months ago, the two other girls from our office and I were invited to his home for lunch.

It was a lovely party and his wife was a charming hostess. As we left, the two other girls kissed the boss "happy birthday" on his cheek.

When he stepped forward for my kiss, I did not kiss him. I shook his hand. He got very red in the face.

Later my friends told me that I had insulted him. Since that day his attitude has changed toward me. He no longer compliments me on my work, nor does he offer me a lift home on rainy days. Do you think I behaved foolishly?

What can I do to make it up to him? My job is no longer the pleasure it used to be. I am 23 and my boss is about 50.

SHY IN ROME

DEAR SHY: Yes, you behaved foolishly. But if your boss continues to sulk, he is even more foolish than you. Perhaps time will dim the memory of the "insult."

Give him until his next birthday. And if he's still sulking, kiss the job goodbye, and let some other girl kiss him "happy birthday."

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended the funeral of a well-to-do gentleman who had lived a full life altho he never married. There was some talk about him and the housekeeper he had for the last 15 years.

People said her husband had been in a mental institution for years, but nobody really knew for sure. On the altar beside the casket, I saw a large basket of flowers with "Goodbye, Sweetheart" on the ribbon. I asked someone who sent those flowers, and was told it was from his housekeeper.

I wanted to make sure, so while everyone was leaving the church, I went up there and looked at the card, and, sure enough, it was from her! The deceased man has relatives all over town. How could they let those flowers remain up there with "Goodbye, Sweetheart" on the ribbon, knowing it was from a married woman?

Whose place was it to have saved the deceased man's reputation? I think that florist had his nerve letting that woman advertise her adulterous relationship with the poor deceased man.

I WONDER

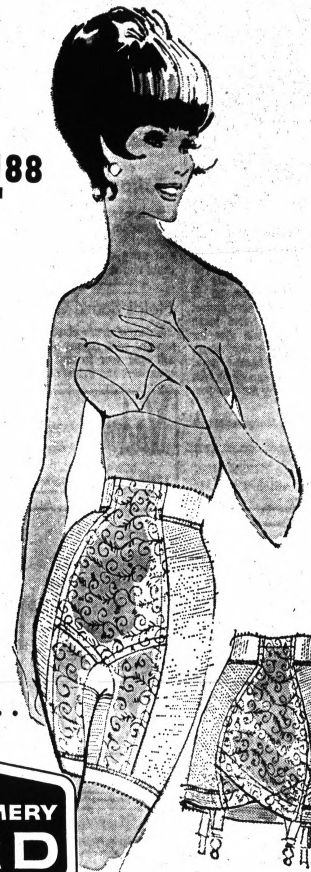

DEAR "I": Now I am wondering how many people have so little to do or think about that they enjoy hobnobbing with the ghosts of a dead man's past.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HAVE PROOF": You may have "proof" but it may not be the deciding factor: There are numerous cases in which a parent was found guilty of adultery, and was still given custody of the children. Ask your lawyer to tell you why.

Patrick de Barentzen

Patrick de Barentzen has a come up with a sophisticated, slimly cut coat dress that is ideal for the country or city wear.

Its trim stand-up collar sits away from the neck, and set-in sleeves end at the wrist with cuffs that button closed.

There are well hid pockets for stashing away small items. How handsome this would be done in a grey flannel with a parade of silver buttons marching up the front — and equally good looking made of classic tattersall check. It is truly suitable for a multitude of fashions.

Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear sizes produce a better fit.

Summer Skin Care

It is easy to have a smooth lovely complexion, despite the skin-coarsening effect of summer. The pores open much wider in the heat so it's essential that they have free movement to open and close without being clogged. Protect from cosmetic pigments, dust and powder by smoothing on your oil of Olay. This will also protect the complexion from harsh sun rays and will give the skin a cool, milky bloom even on the hottest days. Your druggist can supply you with oil of Olay for your personal needs.

Built-in Bedtime Stories

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Children can get an education in bed. Don't misunderstand. Janet Wagner is using bed linens to teach preschool children how to read, count, and tell time. Call it sheet pedagogy.

Janet, a young blonde actress, jazz-pianist, poet, and baby sitter to a lively nephew, conceived the idea of printing instructive pictures and text on pillow and sheet borders.

LINEN LIT

When toddlers are ready to graduate from these to more difficult lessons, Janet plans to be ready, too with didactic bed coverings dealing with history, English, good manners, and the mechanics of air planes and automobiles.

Maybe she will send diplomas to those who complete her entire linen course.

Before taking up linen literature, Janet, 28, a native of Morristown, Tenn., was a television actress, played jazz piano in a Carnegie Hall concert, was secretary to poet Robert Graves in Majorca, illustrated children's books, and was an interior decorator.

GREAT POTENTIAL

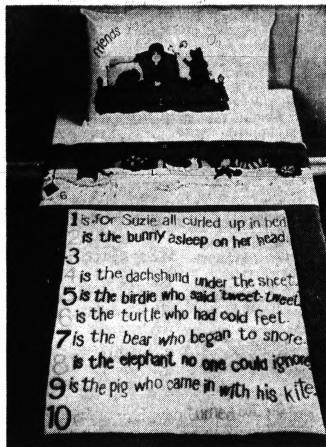

"This opens a whole new field," says Janet who already has patented and profited from a heat sealing process for polyethylene packaging and a lady's boudoir rack.

She sees the day when bed-sheets may be the only sifter a mother needs. Janet envisions magnetized sheets that keep baby in bed, or lullaby sheets wired for sheet music. She even sees the possibility of sheets with piped-in solutions to the inevitable nocturnal plea for a glass of water.

"Perhaps we'll have fluorescent sheets for kids afraid of the dark," suggests Janet, "or for kids who read under the covers when the lights are out."

Attention All You Singers and Dancers!

An audition call from Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre has gone out for singers and dancers for the chorus, and a singer-actress to play a leading role in an original musical "Sneaky."

The musical was adapted from a play "The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch" written by James L. Rosenberg, professor of Carnegie Institute of Drama-Technology, Pittsburgh.

Music for the show was composed by Celia Merrill Turner, director of Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, who is a graduate of the Julliard School of Music, New York, and associate conductor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

Lyrics were written by Earl Savoi.

The musical will be produced and performed in October.

Auditions will be held on Sunday, 2 to 4 p.m., at the theatre on West Long Lake Road.

On Saturday, the public may attend an open house, which is being held to interview and register new students for the fifteen-week winter term which begins Oct. 13.

Registrations are now being accepted. A few part-time scholarships are still available.

All phases of dramatic training, dancing and ballet will be offered for adults, teenagers and children. Students have a choice of late afternoon, evening and Saturday classes.

May 1967 vows are planned by Western Michigan University juniors, Diane Patricia LaBurn and Jack H. Carlsen. Their parents are the William LaBurns of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Carlsen of Barkman Street.

How to Iron Circular Cloth

When ironing circular napkins, doilies and round tablecloths, begin at the center and swing the iron back and forth in an arc. Ironing from the center out restores round pieces to their original size and shape.

When ironing a large tablecloth of any shape, put an old sheet on the floor underneath the ironing board to protect edges of cloth should they touch the floor.

Cold, Then Warm

Soft random shear texture and delicate shading are characteristics of a new tufted acrylic carpet from Alexander Smith. The deep sculptured effect complements any decor and is moderately priced.

Shag rugs and carpets contribute much to the textural character of a room. Bigelow makes a rug called 'Finnish Meadow' that shades from off-white to beige, to gold to dark brown. It contrasts nicely with the rest of the room.

Dancing feet land softly on the cloud ripple design of the new 'Saxon' carpet by Mohawk. A bulky loop textured treatment of long-wearing nylon in 20 colors, it's made to order for all high traffic areas in the home.

Mohawk's new olefin carpet boasts exceptional stain and soil resistance. A unique interplay of inverted, stylized T-squares creates this delightful design for contemporary living. Called 'Festive', it comes in 10 twin-tone colors.

Women to Find Real Identity

Area women may now enroll in the new "Investigation into Identity" course offered by the Continuum Center at Oakland University. This seven-session program will begin Sept. 27 and will be held on successive Tuesdays from 1 to 4 p.m. at OU.

The program is a coordinated one which includes personal assessment and educational, volunteer and employment valuations by staff members at the Center who are experts in these respective fields.

The course was designed to assist women in finding a more creative place in the contemporary home and community.

At the first session, Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, director, will explain the role of the Continuum Center and what it offers to the individual, mature woman.

Informal discussion at tables of six each will follow, each led by a woman who has already been through the "Investigation Into Identity" course.

TESTING.

During the next four sessions, special tests on values, interests, abilities and aptitudes will be administered by the staff psychologist, Dr. Gerald Self.

The sixth session will be devoted to an individual one-hour interview with Dr. Self who will interpret and review the tests in relation to the individual's particular concerns and goals.

The final meeting will be a group discussion on the changing role of women in today's complex society.

Purpose of the psychological assessment is to help each woman understand herself. It is not designed to offer intensive counseling or to arrive at specific decisions and conclusions.

It will help her to recognize her interests, appraise her abilities, evaluate her attitudes and standards—in other words, to find her own "identity."

From this assessment, she can then decide realistically what use she wants to make of her time and talents. She may choose to acquire more education, to seek meaningful volunteer work or to find a job.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Oakland University.

Convention in Midland Under Way

MIDLAND (AP) — The 92nd annual state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union opened today at Midland with state President Mrs. Parker Taggard of Blissfield giving the welcoming address.

"If alcoholism is a disease," she said, "it is the only disease with a known cause that is nationally advertised."

"We must strike against the archenemy of the Christian home which brings rampant poverty, shame, degradation and sorrow," Mrs. Taggard added, saying, "We are surrounded by the victims of deceit and servitude. Doesn't anyone really care?"

The three-day meeting ends Friday. Walter Urlick, Oceana County prosecutor, speaks before the group tonight.

Hides Scratches

Art Gone Underwater

TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Robert B. Cozens has combined two of her hobbies — scuba diving and oil painting. The walls of her home are adorned with pictures she created while anchored on the ocean floor.

Each summer for the past six years, the artist has pursued her unusual pastime of underwater painting while on vacation in the Caribbean with her husband and son.

With the aid of diving weights, she anchors herself and equipment to the sandy bottom and usually stays submerged for 10 to 15 minutes.

She has found that paint has to be applied in heavier quantities underwater, but that otherwise, painting 25 feet down is similar to painting on dry ground.

His Advice: Put Teacher Back in Class

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—Put the teacher into the classroom as a decision maker, for better learning among students, advises one educator.

Dr. David W. Darling, director of professional growth of the Inter-American Center, San Antonio, Tex., told an educator's conference here that school's have had little effect on students' personal involvement in learning.

"We as teachers ought to let our emotions judge more of what is going on in the classroom," Darling said. "The teacher must be put back into the classroom as a decision maker."

"Have more security in what you select and use your own personal criteria," he said. "If you depend on external criteria, there are too many conflicts."

Chrysanthemum Growers Meet

"Mum's the Word" for a program on chrysanthemums sponsored by the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association of Graduate Judges and Teachers, on Oct. 4.

Chairman for the meeting in the Consumers Power Company, Royal Oak auditorium will be Mrs. Wilson F. McClellan of Beverly Hills, who is second vice president of the Judges' Association.

Paul E. Machuga, president and organizer of the National Chrysanthemum Society, Detroit chapter, will narrate slides showing the various phases of growing 'mums' such as pinching, disbudding, fertilizing, disease control, winter care and propagation.

DAISY ANCESTOR

"It is hard to believe that the large mums we see today are actually the college-bred offspring of the common field daisy," he says.

"While relatively easy to grow, like all other plants, mums respond much better when given special treatment. If neglected, they become tall and straggly or the blooms are small the second year of growth. Sometimes the lower leaves turn brown."

Mr. Machuga became interested in growing chrysanthemums in 1943 and after 23 years of trial, error and study, grows more than 150 specimens.

He gives forums and lecture programs to garden clubs and presented the Chrysanthemum Program in the Horticulture series at the Michigan State Fair Flower and Garden Show.

Plantings are maintained by him at the Detroit City Hall, the median strip at Gratiot and Nine Mile Road, and also at Marygrove College.

Temple Memorabilia Kept

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—It's been a long time since Shirley Temple reigned as a child screen star, but her picture is very much in evidence in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Randalls.

The couple ran across a mug a few years ago showing the curly-haired girl's face on the blue glass. Since then, they have collected nearly 600 Shirley Temple bowls, mugs and pitchers.

The glassware was distributed by a cereal company in the 1930's, when the small actress was at the height of her popularity.

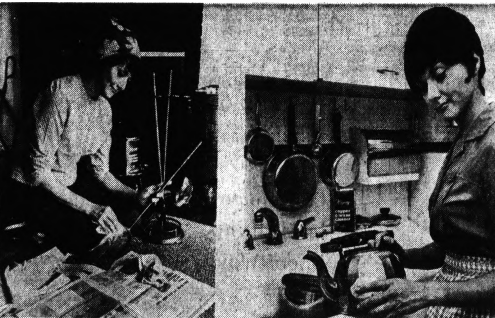

will be his discussion of the various types and classifications of chrysanthemums and the qualities that constitute a good specimen, as well as common faults.

SPECIALIZED WORK

There are now six chrysanthemum judges in the Detroit area and it is the first time there have been any specialized judges in this field in Michigan.

Among area hostesses for the lecture will be Mrs. Boris Osojnak and Mrs. John R. Wait of the Westchester branch, WNFGA.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. Consumers Power Company will present a demonstration on the "Wonderful World of Spice."

Handbags Can Be Salvaged

If you want your summer bags—straw, plastic, or fabric—to do extra duty next year, be sure to wash them with soap or detergent suds before storing them for the winter.

Unlined bags should be swished through the suds and scrubbed with a soft brush. Lined bags can be washed on the surface with a sponge dipped into thick soap or detergent suds. Do one small area at a time and rinse away suds with a clean, moist sponge.

After the bags are dry, stuff them with tissue, wrap each separately in a clean cloth, and store safely until needed.

New Morgue Request Made

County Move Urged by Health Director

Oakland County Health Director Dr. Bernard D. Berman yesterday renewed his request that the county construct and operate a morgue.

Dr. Berman told members of the health committee of the County Board of Supervisors that the need for a morgue is acute because hospitals cooperate reluctantly in offering pathology service.

Presently offering these services to the health department are Providence, Beaumont, Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy hospitals.

"These hospitals have their own heavy workloads and cooperate reluctantly in handling our cases," Dr. Berman said.

Just a year ago, Dr. Berman made the same request for a morgue facility in the county service center and referred a preliminary drawing of the proposed $60,000 building to the supervisors' building and grounds committee.

This committee, however, after conferring with the County Board of Auditors, rejected morgue construction due to the extensive county building program in the planning stage a year ago.

Area Man to Head GOP Ball

John S. Bugas of Bloomfield Hills has been named chairman of the Romney-Griffin Bandwagon Ball to be held Oct. 6 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

In announcing the appointment, Wendell Anderson, chairman of the Southeastern Michigan United Republican Fund, said some 3,000 persons are expected to turn out for the $100 a plate ($125 per couple) dinner.

Bugas, of 820 Vaughan, and a 32-member committee are responsible for ticket sales for the dinner dance.

Drug Stops Postoperative Hemorrhages

By Science Service
NEW YORK — The severe post operative hemorrhages of ten occurring during open-heart surgery can be stopped by the injection of an experimental drug called Trasylol.

Trasylol also is valuable when used in cases of blood-clotting defects occurring in pregnancy. It does not cross the placental barrier and does not affect the fibrinolytic enzyme system of the newborn.

The subject of several reports at a New York Academy of Science meeting on postoperative hemorrhages, Trasylol also was reported to reduce the duration of coma in patients suffering from hemorrhage.

Preliminary experiments in animals, reported by Dr. Frederico Sicuteri of the University of Florence, Italy, showed that Trasylol reduces the number of deaths significantly.

These experiments were designed to duplicate cerebral hemorrhage as closely as possible.

3 Changes in Taubman Pact

Three changes have been made in the revised Taubman plan contract now on view in the office of Pontiac City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

The proposed agreement between the city and Oak Park developer A. Alfred Taubman can be read at City Hall before the public hearing on the matter, scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Pontiac Central High School.

Alterations were agreed to this week by attorneys for the city and for Taubman, developer who proposes a $40-million shopping center in downtown Pontiac.

Added to the proposed agreement is a provision for the re-appraisal of the 63 acres of property involved within six months.

If the purchase price exceeds $1.05 a square foot, Taubman can reconsider his offer.

SECOND CHANGE

The second change provides that Taubman execute the necessary federal forms required for the proposal.

The third provision termed essential by City Attorney Philip E. Rowston is an "escape clause" for the city.

Under it, the city can revoke the agreement without liability if it cannot perform its portions of the terms. This applies specifically to the acquisition of necessary property and the sale of revenue bonds to finance improvements.

Nation's Ham Operators Facing Stiff FCC Reexamination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission, concerned about the caliber of the nation's quarter-million amateur radio operators, may reexamine most of them.

The proposal could cost the ham operators about $1 million. The rule change was suggested by the American Radio Relay League, an organization representing about 85,000 hams.

In its request for the rule changes—now in the final stages of preparation—the league said there is "increasing concern... as to whether the basic purposes and objectives of the amateur radio service, particularly those relating to technical qualifications and proficiency," are being achieved.

In short, the league is concerned because more and more hams have no great interest in radio technology. Many of them, as an FCC official said recently, "just go out and buy their equipment, plug it into the light socket, connect the antenna and operate."

BIG CHANGE

This is a big change from only a decade ago when most hams built at least part of their equipment.

"One can truthfully say that the percentage of licensees who are the true tinkerer or technical types has been dropping," an FCC source said.

Now, with more money, most hams are able to buy fine, commercially built equipment.

Although hams still are required to pass tests in international Morse code and basic electronics, some FCC officials feel they have not progressed as far as might be expected, considering the developments in electronics and communications.

The result: The FCC picked up the league idea and began formulating proposed new rules. The changes, if approved by the seven-man commission, would be the biggest overhaul of amateur rules in 15 years.

NEW TESTS

A new license grade would be established. To retain all their present operating privileges, most hams would have to take new, stiffer tests in code and radio theory, at a cost of $4 per exam, pass or fail.

Those who fail would still be allowed to operate on all frequency bands—or groups of frequencies—which they now use.

But they would be permitted only on certain segments of these bands.

There already is one special amateur license—known as the extra class—but it conveys no extra privileges. Of 270,000 hams in the United States, fewer than 5,000 go extra class. They would be exempt from the new exams. One FCC official said the extra class exam is about as difficult as tests for top grades of commercial radio licenses.

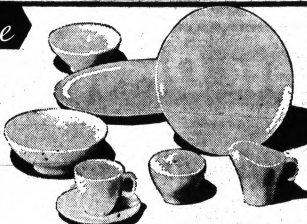

Part of the FCC concern over the status of hams is related to the allocation of precious radio frequencies. Other services—maritime radio stations, aeronautical radio services, and international broadcasting—all would like to take over the valuable amateur frequencies.

A 65-mile bikeway that is 90 per cent on county roads was recently opened in Waukesha County, Wis., adjacent to Milwaukee.

Canada Shops for Uranium

By Science Service
TORONTO — Canada's Atomic Energy Control Board is shopping for uranium fuel to run future nuclear electric power stations in Ontario.

Bids have been requested to supply 5,500 tons of uranium fuel either in raw form from the mine, or refined as uranium oxide. Some 1,100 tons are needed for delivery up to 1973, and 5,500 tons up to 1980.

Plans call for the addition of about 500,000 kilowatts of nuclear capacity per year between 1970 and 1980.

The first two units of the 1,080,000-kilowatt nuclear plant at Pickering, 20 miles east of Toronto, are scheduled for operation in 1970. Initial fuel loading of the first reactor is 115 tons of uranium oxide.

Capacity of the plant will probably be expanded to 2.15 million kilowatt, and if approval from the Atomic Energy Control Board can be obtained the plant could reach a capacity of more than 3 million kilowatt.

A reactor at Douglas Point, Canada's first full-scale nuclear plant, is scheduled to go into operation at the end of this year. It was built by Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., in co-operation with Ontario Hydro and has a capacity of 200,000 kilowatt.

Romney Signs $9.2 Million School Bill, $4 Million for Detroit

LANSING (AP) — Michigan schools were assured today of after being assured by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley that the state aid this year, after Gov. George Romney signed a supplemental assistance bill. Legally, the Legislature adjourns in time. Financially distressed Detroit will get $4 million of the additional that the Legislature would adjourn, and they were assured winds up its session by Dec. 15, disbursements.

Romney signed the measure by Romney that he would not call them back into special session as soon as they left. The bill did not get immediate effect—meaning it does not become law until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns. Kelley on each district's share of the nearly $500 million school aid that if the Legislature adjourns, and they were assured winds up its session by Dec. 15, disbursements.

The bill increases basic aid levies more than 125 per cent of the "resulting tax rate" of all other districts in the state. The resulting tax rate is computed by figuring all property taxes in the district, no matter what governmental unit levied any school district (thus raising them, and subtracting school portions of school aid) which eating taxes.

Record Rain Hits NY

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Nor'easter, packing 30-mile-an-hour winds, yesterday dropped a record 5.54 inches of rain on New York City, the most in any 24-hour period in 63 years.

The weather bureau reported today the intense low-pressure system was winding up the Hudson River Valley, leaving behind light drizzle or fog.

Paterson, N.J., received 6.1 inches and, when backed-up sewers flooded the streets, Mayor Frank X. Graves declared a state of emergency.

Indiana Woman Charged With Caging Children

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (UPI) — A woman police quoted as saying she saw nothing wrong with putting children in cages today faced charges of child cruelty.

Mrs. Juanita Yingling, 50, was arrested yesterday after authorities said they found 15 preschool children crowded into cages at an unlicensed day nursery.

A Floyd County welfare worker said the cages had been made by partitioning baby cribs.

Mrs. Yingling, charged specifically with cruelty to children, pleaded innocent to the charges. Trial was set for Nov. 19 and the nursery was ordered closed.

Residents in Garfield and East Paterson rowed up and down the streets to visit neighbors.

In the north New Jersey community of West Orange, four small streams overflowed their banks, flooding every street in town. Parts of the Garden State Parkway and the New Jersey Turnpike were closed.

Air traffic at the three major metropolitan airports was delayed up to two and one-half hours by poor visibility and several flights were rerouted to other cities.

THREE KILLED
At least three persons died during the storm. A man reportedly leaped from a Staten Island ferry which was tossed about by the ocean-like waves.

A young woman was killed in a flaming one-car accident on the Long Island Expressway and a woman slipped under the wheels of a Fifth Avenue bus.

Pedestrians in New York bent nearly double against the winds that whipped through the Manhattan stone canyons at 25 to 32 miles an hour and gusted even higher.

Umbrellas that suddenly reversed left their owners without protection against the swirling rain during the heaviest 24 hours of precipitation since 11.17 inches were measured Oct. 8-9, 1963.

Senators Will Delve Into State Dept. Shake-Up

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Curious senators are about to seize the opportunity of taking a new reading on President Johnson's foreign policies as a result of the shake-up in his State Department team.

There was little doubt that the nominations of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to be under secretary of state, of Prof. Eugene Roslow as under secretary for economic affairs and of Ambassador Fay D. Kohler as deputy under secretary of state will get Senate confirmation.

But before that happens, mystified Democrats and Republicans on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made it clear they want to know what it's all about and whether the appointments Johnson announced Wednesday portend any change in his international course.

Almost without exception, senators expressed amazement that Katzenbach would step down from a Cabinet to a sub-cabinet level.

SPECULATION

Speculation on his successor centered on Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, son of Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, a Texan like Johnson. But the possibility of the selection of Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall, a Negro, for the top post was not ruled out.

Attorney Leon Jaworski of Houston, Tex., a long-time friend who visited with Johnson at the White House Tuesday night, was described by one source as one of two or three under consideration for the job. He told a newsmen Wednesday night "there is no way I could comment on this. Any announcement would have to come from another source."

A Minneapolis-St. Paul television station, KSTP-TV, reported Wednesday night that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will be named Katzenbach's successor.

Freeman, former governor of Minnesota, was the Democratic-Farmer-Labor candidate for Minnesota attorney general in 1950. He was defeated.

Freeman was not available for comment Wednesday night. His committee into Katzenbach's views and any impact the appointment might have in altering the administration's course in Viet Nam and elsewhere.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the administration's South-East Asia decisions, indicated in a separate interview he expects University of Chicago and is an

R-Iowa, called for a "thorough" inquiry by the foreign relations committee into Katzenbach's new assignment as "another new and exciting experience; I think that nothing in the world is more important than trying to work for peace."

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., a foreign relations committeeman who has been critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said in this connection he hopes Katzenbach "will be more interested in finding ways toward peace than some other State Department officials have been."

TAUGHT LAW

Katzenbach taught international law at both Yale and the University of Chicago and is an authority on the legal aspects of the Vietnam war.

Katzenbach said he looks on the CHANGING JOBS—This is a new study of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, who will quit the Cabinet to take the post of under secretary of state. The photograph was taken yesterday at the Justice Department after President Johnson announced that Katzenbach would make the switch in jobs.

'Want Raise Now'

USW Gets Word on Pay

DETROIT (AP)—A telegram asking an immediate pay raise, and signed by 300 workers at McLouth Steel Corp., was sent to the Steel Workers Union international convention in Atlantic City Wednesday.

He said wages in the steel industry run from $2.38 to $4.57 an hour but added most workers earn about $2.97 or less. McLouth declined to comment on the telegram.

George Angel, a steward in Local 2659 at McLouth, said the telegram cited the rising cost-of-living. He said the local's action, in part, was prompted by efforts of United Auto Workers union skilled tradesmen to reopen current contracts for wage hikes. He said the telegram was addressed to Steelworkers union President I. W. Abel.

The Big Three auto companies turned down the UAW request and the union failed to pursue the matter, indicating it would seek higher wages when current auto-UAW contracts expire in September 1967.

The steel contracts expire in 1968 and do not include a cost-of-living escalator clause as do the UAW pacts, Angel said.

Proclamations Made

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Wednesday announced appointment of Dr. Richard W. Hufman of Lansing to the State Board of Dentistry for the remainder of a term expiring in 1968. The vacancy was created by the death of Dr. Arnold Cardey of Saginaw.

Rusk to Sound Out Gromyko at Dinner

By LEWIS GULICK
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans to sound out Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight for any signs of change in Kremlin foreign policy on Viet Nam and other outstanding issues.

Some U.S. experts believe Moscow may feel freer to deal with the West now that Red China's purge is damaging Peking's standing in the Chinese-Soviet rivalry for leadership of the Communist world.

According to this theory, the Soviets have been locked into a rigid position toward the United States in recent times because of Chinese charges that Moscow is conspiring with communism's enemy — the United States. Now that the Kremlin's star is rising in the Red camp, these experts feel, Soviet leaders should feel less restricted by Peking's challenge.

Gromyko himself has shown no public softening since his arrival Sept. 18 for the U.N. General Assembly. He and other Communists have accused America of aggression in Viet Nam.

FIRST CHANCE

Rusk's meeting with Gromyko tonight, at dinner in Rusk's Waldorf Tower suite, was the first opportunity for such a high-level canvassing of views by representatives of the two governments since the two met here a year ago. At that time massive U.S. military action in South Viet Nam was relatively new and China's Red Guard rampage was still in the future.

One indicator of the importance Rusk attached to the meeting was a strict secrecy edict. The secretary of state, who sometimes equates successful diplomacy with quiet diplomacy, told aides and newsmen nothing would be given out on the substance of the talks, publicly or otherwise.

The advance opinion by the U.S. delegation here is that Gromyko will not press the Viet Nam issue to the point of linking it to all other items. The Soviets are expected to give their usual avowal on behalf of Hanoi and go on to discuss other matters.

State Official Denies Hospital Bias Claim

LANSING (AP) — Burton Gordon, executive director of the State Civil Rights Commission, lashed back Wednesday at charges that the CRC "hasn't been interested" in complaints of racial discrimination in practices and composition of medical staffs.

The Rev. Louis Johnson, pastor of Detroit's Friendship Baptist Church, made the charge earlier in the day at a news conference during which Gov. George Romney ordered an end to any bias that may exist in Michigan's Blue Cross-participating hospitals.

As a result of the meeting, Gordon said, several hospitals are reviewing these areas.

Gordon said the commission helped formulate the government policy announced Wednesday as one which "gets at the whole problem."

Valachi Testimony Costs U. S. Dearly
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Remember back in October 1963 when Cosa Nostra strong-arm Joe Valachi was telling Senate investigators all about his life of crime?

Well, since then it's cost the government $170,938 to keep him safe and comfortable at various jails.

The costs ranged from a heavy outlay for special guards to protect him from underworld revenge-seekers to $6.13 for an electric heating pad. Valachi is being held at a Milan, Mich., federal prison.

To top it off, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in congressional testimony made public yesterday, said the bureau learned declined, preferring to go to the governor, which was his privilege. Gordin said the CRC "initiated action on alleged hospital discrimination some months ago."

Camera Angles

Coin Photos Offer Treat

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Through photography, I've had some off-beat experiences and met many interesting people.

But until it happened last week, I wouldn't have guessed that through photography I would be consulted by a bank president, meet a personal assistant of Francis Cardinal Spellman and get a private preview of the Cardinal's half-million dollar coin collection!

It started many months ago with Willard Denton, president of the Manhattan Savings Banks in the New York area.

Called the Florenz Ziegfeld of the banking business, Denton brings theatrical showmanship to branch bank openings, anniversaries and during the holiday seasons.

His bank lobby shows spread good will and humanize the usually dignified but dull image of a banking institution.

TOOK PHOTOS

When a magician friend of mine performed in a "Magical Spirit of Christmas" playlet conceived by Denton, I took some photos of the good will project. Later, I sent them to Denton.

It was a gesture he remembered for, too often, photographers promise to send pictures to people... but never follow through. We became acquainted.

Then Denton called me for advice about photographing coins. What type of camera? What kind of lights? What film? He wondered if I'd discuss it with a vice president and a coin expert. I didn't mind at all.

I met Boyden and we went to meet the coin expert in a residence in the shadow of St. Patrick's Cathedral. It was Sister Mary Andrew, curator of Cardinal Spellman's fabulous coin collection!

I learned that Denton had arranged something special for the gala opening soon of a new branch of the bank. Cardinal Spellman had consented to put on exhibition, for the first time, his complete coin and medal collection.

It would be displayed in the bank's lobby for a month.

Security measures being planned included armored car transportation, tamper-proof display cases, police, FBI and private guards.

I had brought a couple of cameras for focusing tests but the conditions and number of items soon dictated the choice.

It would be an advantage to use a 35mm camera with 36-exposure fine-grain film. And it would have to be one that could focus accurately at close distances free of parallax errors.

REFLEX CAMERA

A Zeiss Contarex single-lens reflex camera fitted the specifications. It focused down to four inches without extensions and with great clarity.

Film chosen was Plus X Pan in 36 exposure rolls. Lighting had to be portable.

We used one photoflood on a boom light stand as the main source of illumination because it could be shifted easily. A tiny high-intensity lamp was used as a fill light for individual coins.

Care had to be taken to prevent reflection from the plastic cases.

After taking test shots which established the exposure at 1/60th at f/16, it took a great deal of help from bank and photographer assistants to catalog all the items.

But I can add to my photographic scrapbook: it was a great thrill to focus on a half-million dollar collection—even through a viewfinder!

BLASTING VIET CONG—A little Vietnamese girl joins U.S. artillerymen in covering their ears as a powerful self-propelled 8-inch howitzer blasts out a shell toward Viet Cong positions from the 25th Division base camp at Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon. The division artillery battery has most of its emplacements at the base. Big guns surround the camp with harassment and interdiction fire.

Artillery Fire Exacting in Viet

CU CHI South Viet Nam (AP) — When the shells whoosh over and crash into enemy positions, U.S. infantrymen are grateful to the artillery.

But to the men who control and fire the big guns, artillery fire is an exacting business in the Vietnamese war.

Col. Daniel B. Williams of Booneville, N.C., veteran artillery commander of the 25th Infantry Division, demands that each gun fire with pinpoint accuracy to avoid civilian and friendly troop casualties.

U.S. artillery is shooting twice as much as in World War II and the Korean War, but Viet Nam is different. There are no front lines. This is guerrilla warfare.

SURROUNDED
The Viet Cong guerrillas surround a small U.S. infantry unit. The unit calls in artillery fire. But because the two opposing forces are so close, there are often American casualties despite all the accuracy of the artillerymen.

"We're fighting three different types of artillery war in Viet Nam," says Williams.

"Here we attack a Viet Cong base area like the Ho Bo woods or the Bolo woods, where we are in contact with regular forces. This requires accurate and timely artillery fire. This leans toward the conventional type of war. We find, fix, and destroy."

"In an area in which you are in a pacification role, breaking up the local force Communist guerrilla structure requires a selective application of artiller-

ery. Some of the areas may be partially pacified.

DELICATE USE
"Thirdly, I use a delicate application of artillery fire for the guerrilla fighting. This calls for me to move my artillery battery around fast, reorganize fast, but give a far less volume of fire."

The artillery is often moved by giant helicopters, bypassing roads that are mined or washed out by monsoon rains.

Harassment and interdiction fire — H and I — has passed the total amount fired in both World War II and the Korean War. One reason is that infantry in the field are surrounded by the Viet Cong. There are no front lines. The Viet Cong may pop up anywhere — and just as quickly disappear.

The Chu Chi area, where the 25th Infantry is based, is cov-

HEAVY FIRE
The 25th Division uses eight-inch, self-propelled howitzers, and 155mm howitzers. They have a range of 37,000 to 50,000 feet. Since the division arrived in January it has fired more than 275,000 rounds of artillery in all categories.

Army men say many Communists have surrendered because of their fear of the artillery.

Williams makes two demands of his young artillery officers just out of school at Ft. Sill, Okla.

"Keep your mind on artillery business," he lectures each new group. "Keep clean. I will furnish you soap and water to do so."

told them:

"You all know what your first job is going to be here. You are going to be forward observers with an infantry company. The lives of every American soldier on the line will be depending on you."

"You're going to call on every ounce of your reserve and talents. There is just no margin for error in your shooting when called upon to do so."

Smokestack Is Tumbled at MSU Campus

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A 211-foot brick smokestack marking Michigan State University's day as an agricultural college was crumbled to the ground yesterday to make way for a new administration building.

The 41-year-old stack, once the tallest structure on campus, will be replaced by a five-story administration building costing $9.9 million.

Two other landmark smokestacks remain on the campus, one noting MSU's designation as Michigan State College in 1925 and the other publicizing the school as a university since 1955.

Michigan State was founded in 1855 as Michigan Agricultural College, a land-grant school.

Prize Math Is Proved

By Science Service
PHILADELPHIA—The mathematics by which one of last year's Nobel Prize winners, Dr. Richard P. Feynman of California Institute of Technology, described how certain things happen in the jumbled world of atomic nuclei has now been proved.

Since the time when Dr. Feynman first used the then empirical mathematics in 1951, physicists have found it extremely valuable for calculating several quantities required to explain nuclear interactions using the theory of quantum electrodynamics. However, his "operator calculus" was not mathematically justified at that time.

Now two mathematicians at International Business Machines Corporation's Thomas J. Watson Research Center, Yorktown Heights, N.Y., have rigorously formalized Dr. Feynman's calculus.

Drs. W. L. Miranker and R. Weiss report details of their mathematical proof in SIAM Review, journal of the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics.

Court Sidetracks Railroad Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-judge federal court has temporarily shelved the scheduled Sept. 30 merger of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's largest, with the New York Central.

The judges said, however, their restraining order Wednesday does not mean they will issue a temporary injunction against the merger. They said that decision will be made either next week — when the merger was to formally take place — or the week after.

The Pennsy said it would have no comment on the court's action.

The court acted at a hearing on the request of nine other railroads to delay the merger until their protests were resolved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

REJECT REQUEST
Earlier Wednesday, the judges rejected a request by the Justice Department to postpone the hearing so that government lawyers could study an ICC report made Monday. The report promised new ICC hearings on ways to protect three of the nine smaller railroads from traffic losses as a result of the merger.

The three are the Erie-Lackawanna, the Delaware & Hudson and the Boston & Maine. The other petitioners were the Chesapeake & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Reading, Jersey Central and Western Maryland railroads.

At the four-hour hearing, lawyers for all nine roads assured the court they were not opposed to the merger in principle, but wanted to make certain their interests were looked after.

ASK RESTRAINER
New York City also asked a six-day temporary restrainer on the merger. The city expressed concern that the merger might harm service to and from New York by the smaller railroads.

Robert Gennane, an ICC lawyer, told the court that if the merger is delayed indefinitely, "We can have no assurance that it will ever occur."

Gennane said a delay was not necessary because it would be a year before any other railroads would be materially affected by the merger. And by then, he said, there is a "large likelihood" the ICC can assure protection of the smaller lines.

The ICC lawyer said the commission might need "three months, six months and possibly a full year" to complete the hearings it promised Monday on new protective provisions.

To that, Henry J. Friendly, chief judge of the court, remarked that he did not believe a six-month postponement of the merger's effective date would upset the consolidation permanently since it has already been under way for more than four years. Edward W. Bourne, an attorney representing the Erie-Lackawanna, said he saw no reason why a month's delay of the merger should not be granted "in order that the rights of the parties be protected."

Foster Parents Honored

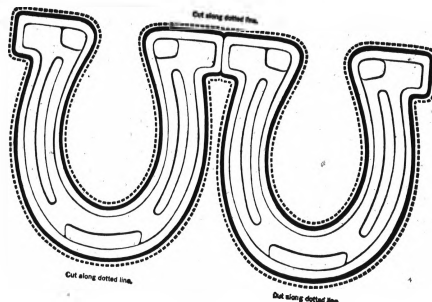

LANSING (UPI) — A Jackson couple was honored yesterday by Gov. George Romney as Foster Parents of the Year in recognition for their caring of 141 children since 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Chapel were chosen as foster parents of the year by the Michigan Children's Aid Society. The couple has five children of their own, all of whom are married.

According to the society the Chapels have provided a foster home for children of all ages, including infants and many who have had special physical problems and handicaps.

Chapel, a retired shop worker, now operates a service station with his two sons.

Mother Asks Exam in Death

MUSKEGON (AP) — Accused of four felony counts in connection with the death of her one-day-old son, Mrs. Marcie Ann Kleiner, 38, Wednesday demanded examination on all counts.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Harold Steendam, Mrs. Kleiner, mother of eight, was released on $5,000 bond pending an Oct. 12 examination.

She was charged with manslaughter, exposing a child with intent to injure, cruelty to a child and abandonment of a child after the body of her son was disinterred from a field in Cedar Creek Township Saturday.

An autopsy revealed the boy died of suffocation.

Her husband, Edward, 44, told police he had buried the body but then led Prosecutor Paul Ladas to the scene, police said. The baby was born Sept. 7 in the Kleiner home.

Hospital Pharmacist Claims He's No Fake

DETROIT (UPI) — A veteran chief hospital pharmacist who allegedly flunked chemistry and practiced 25 years with a bogus license turned himself in to police yesterday and said he was innocent.

Dr. Roger DeBusk, director of Grace Hospital where Henry Knaszak, 51, worked until his alleged fraud was exposed last March said Knaszak was "an excellent pharmacist."

Authorities said Knaszak attended pharmacy school here for one semester in 1933, flunked chemistry and dropped out.

He got a job at Grace in 1941 with a phony license, officials said, and worked his way up to the position of chief pharmacist.

Knaszak walked into a Detroit police station with his lawyer yesterday to face charges of fraud and violating the Michigan pharmacy laws. He pleaded innocent at his court arraignment and was released on bond.

ROUTINE CHECK

A routine annual check by the State Pharmacy Board last March showed Knaszak's license number was phony, Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said.

DeBusk said the pharmacy board ordered him to fire Knaszak. He said he called Knaszak in and dismissed him.

"He said it was all a mistake and he'd have it cleared up in a few days," DeBusk said. He said he has not seen Knaszak since.

Practicality Is the Theme for Modern Electric Auto

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ford now has joined Chrysler and General Motors in the quest for a practical new electric automobile for use in cities where air pollution is a nuisance.

Ford President Arjay Miller let the cat out of the bag in a guarded remark during a lecture at the University of Michigan.

But like the other auto makers, Ford is very cagey on the project and only says the company has no idea yet when it will be able to turn out a practical modern electric car.

The fact that the electric car was not revived during the gasoline shortage of World War II is indicative of the problems in designing one to meet modern conditions.

The last electric passenger cars were made in the United States on a very small scale in 1936.

ANOTHER DECADE

The electric truck hung on another decade and a very few still are in use for city delivery. In Europe, where distances are not so great, they still are used somewhat more widely.

The advantages of the electric car are that it has no gears, is silent, odorless, easy to drive, lasts a long time with a minimum of maintenance and is very cheap to operate.

The disadvantage of the old electric car were its short range, slow speed, heavy weight and high initial cost.

ELECTRIC COUPES

In fact, many of the electric coupes of years ago were good only for 50 miles between recharges. That meant the car had to be recharged in a garage every night.

Top speed was only 40 to 50 miles per hour. Most did about 30 miles an hour.

Pact Ratified

LANSING (AP) — The first formally negotiated master contract for Lansing public school teachers was ratified Wednesday by a 1,082-26 vote. The pact, covering 1,500 teachers, provides for a starting salary of $5,600 for teachers with bachelor's degrees.

Three-County Drive Gets Jobs for 5,500

DETROIT (AP)—A Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) recruiting drive found jobs for 5,500 of 14,500 applicants in three counties, Director Malcolm R. Lovell said Wednesday.

He said the intensive 12-day campaign covered Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties. It ended Friday. Data on those who were not employed would be processed to get new information on Detroit's hard-core unemployed, Lovell said.

Despite the MESC effort, luring double the usual number of applicants for similar periods, Lovell said it was doubtful metropolitan area industry would be able to avoid recruitment from out-of-state labor sources.

"We are in a very tight labor market," Lovell said. "No one recruitment effort is going to solve our problems."

Negro leaders and the United Auto Workers union have been critical of employing outside workers when Detroit area residents remain unemployed.

Subpoena, Immunity

Kelley Asks Powers

By AL SANDNER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley says he has asked for more grand juries than any attorney general in Michigan history.

They're an effective tool against crime, he says, but they're doing what he considers part of his job.

Kelley — like virtually every attorney general of either party before him—wants the power to subpoena witnesses and grant them immunity from criminal prosecution that might result from their testimony.

The Legislature this year — like virtually every Legislature before it—refused to grant the subpoena and immunity powers.

The four grand juries he has asked for in the past year have the powers—subpoena and immunity—that Kelley wants to "equalize the arsenal of organized crime."

TO KEEP ASKING

Until and unless he gets these powers, he said, he intends to ask for grand juries any time he feels they are needed.

These, two in Wayne County, one in Oakland and one in Kent, were impeded to investigate allegations of organized crime and corruption in government.

As chief law enforcement officer of the state, Kelley feels such investigations are his primary responsibility.

"Attorneys general in 22 other states have these powers," he said. "These include all of the large states. Fortunately we do not have the problems of organized crime and government corruption that some other states have—but what we do have we don't want."

OTHERS HAVE POWER

Other state agencies have subpoena power, Kelley says, while the law enforcement chief doesn't.

Why haven't lawmakers granted the law enforcer this power?

"Generally, I'd say it's because they fear abuses by an individual who would use it for witch hunts," Kelley said.

Legislative leaders admit off the record that, while they generally favor the idea, they're afraid of potential abuses — no matter what the party of the attorney general.

'POLITICAL TOOL'

"This is potentially a tremendous political tool to put in the hands of a man who is a highly political animal," one said.

"Even being subpoenaed by the attorney general could do a tremendous amount of political damage to an innocent party — whether anything was proven later or not," he added.

ZESTY BOLOGNA SALAD — Zesty Bologna Salad with pickled beets and a robust seasoning for an envelope of Parmesan salad dressing mix is bound to please the most discriminating baseball fan — and his family.

Bran Gingerbread Sure to Tempt at Breakfast

Have you ever eaten hot gingerbread for breakfast? The pungent aroma and decided flavor of spices and molasses may be just the novelty bread needed to entice non-breakfast eaters to the table. It has character.

During Better Breakfast Month, efforts are being made to increase interest in breakfast for the coming months. Serving gingerbread instead of toast occasionally is one idea. When it accompanies a basic breakfast of orange juice, cereal such

Zesty Bologna Salad
1 can (1 lb.) sliced pickled beets, drained
½ pound bologna, ham, or leftover cooked meat
¼ cup mayonnaise

This Zesty Bologna Salad is just perfect. It combines bologna, shredded cabbage, pickled beets, and cottage cheese — the robust seasoning comes from an envelope of Parmesan salad dressing mix which is blended with mayonnaise, milk, and horse-radish.

2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish
1 envelope Parmesan salad dressing mix
1½ cups cottage cheese
6 cups coarsely shredded cabbage

Cut beets and meat in ¼-inch strips. Combine mayonnaise

A slice or two of crusty French or Italian bread and mugs of beer are companionable assets to this luncheon meal.

Other entree salads can be equally flavorful when dressed with one of the other flavors of salad dressing mix. For instance, creamy Russian is perfect on a chef's salad and low-fat canned salmon and add to mashed potatoes; shape into patties; dip in slightly beaten egg and bread crumbs and fry until heated through and browned.

ing mix, and cottage cheese. Chill. Just before serving, combine beets, cabbage, and meat. Add seasoned cottage cheese; toss lightly. Makes 6 entree servings.

BRAN GINGERBREAD — Nourishing gingerbread with whole bran cereal makes a tempting breakfast bread for those who want distinctive flavor.

Baked Onions Full of Cheese

Who's for cottage cheese? Lots of people. Almost everyone is a few (or many) pounds over desirable weight.

But despite its low-calorie, high-protein value, cottage cheese can become monotonous unless brightened with imagination.

Cottage Cheese Stuffed Onions
6 Bermuda onions
1½ cups (¾-lb.) cottage cheese
⅓ cup chopped green pepper
1 egg, well-beaten
⅓ cup grated Parmesan cheese

1/4 cup cornflake crumbs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Peel onions. Cook in water to cover until onions are firm but tender. Drain and cool.

With a sharp knife cut out the centers of the onion leaving a shell about 1/2-inch thick. Chop enough of the onion centers to make 1 1/2 cups. Stir in cottage cheese, green pepper, egg and Parmesan cheese. Add salt and Spoon mixture into onion shells. Put onions into a shallow pan. Sprinkle tops with cornflake crumbs. Dot tops with pieces of butter. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 to 30 minutes or until onions are hot and lightly browned.

FRANKS WITH CABBAGE WEDGES

Yogurt Is Base of Sauce for Calorie Counters

It takes no special tricks to fix fish sticks. Just follow the simple directions on the package. There's no trick to getting your family to eat them either: fish sticks have been an American favorite for years.

The trick comes when you top piping hot fish sticks with a cold caper sauce to present a dieter's dream. Four fish sticks with a generous serving of this different, easy-to-do topping amount to about 240 calories.

Approximately 240 calories in each serving.

Caper Sauce

- 1 cup yogurt
 - 2 tablespoons chopped capers
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 - 2 teaspoons instant minced onion
 - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Chill. Makes approximately 1 1/4 cups of sauce.

Jelly Making Has Pitfalls

Know what makes your homemade jelly cloudy? Mrs. Carol C. Kurth, Extension Home Economist from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties says there are several reasons.

You may be pouring the jelly mixture into the glasses too slowly or allowing the jelly to stand before it is poured. Also juice which isn't properly strained may contain pulp which will produce a cloudiness.

Cloudiness may also result from using fruit that is too green which causes jelly to set too fast.

Weeping jelly is another problem homemakers often encounter. This is usually seen in very acid jellies, Mrs. Kurth says. It may also occur if the layer of paraffin over the jelly is too thick or if the jelly is stored in a place which is too warm.

FISH CAPER — Even dieters can have sauce on their fish sticks. A caper sauce made with yogurt is the answer. This sauce will be good on any kind of fish.

Try Grape Pie That's Cheesy

When a really distinctive dessert is in order, nothing can beat an elegant pie... but preparation of most pies is so time consuming. Not so with this smooth, tangy Grape Cheese Pie.

A package of lemon-flavored dessert mix, cream cheese, grape preserves or jam, and a graham cracker crust is all you need for this delightful flavor combination!

Make Grape Cheese Pie the day before or on the morning of the planned festivities. An hour before the guests arrive, smooth grape preserves or jam filling; refrigerate until serving over the center of the cheese.

GRAPE CHEESE PIE
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
1 3/4-ounce package lemon whipped dessert mix
1 1/2-inch graham cracker pie crust
3/4 cup grape preserves or jam
Beat cream cheese until smooth. Prepare whipped dessert mix as directed; blend into cream cheese. Pour mixture into pie crust. Chill about 2 hours. Spoon grape preserves or jam over pie. Chill until serving time.

Keep eggs cold at all time. Ups and downs in temperature cause egg whites to become thin.

Food prices may be going up, but families still want to eat—and eat as well as possible. Who does the worrying about how to make the budget cover 21 meals and innumerable snacks each week? Mom, of course.

We've scoured our files for appetizing one-dish main course recipes. They help cut down on the cost of meat.

Add salad and dessert. If the main course is a macaroni dish, you'll want either a fruit salad or a crisp green one. When the main course has a number of vegetables in it, your salad can be a gelatin one.

Menu planning is easy if you remember that you shouldn't repeat flavors and should have contrast in both texture and color.

FRANKS WITH CABBAGE WEDGES

- 1 cabbage (5 to 6 inches in diameter) about 1 1/2 pounds
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 cup sweet pickle relish

Frosted Mocha Brownies Are Cookie Treat With Beverage

A tall pitcherful of a fruit beverage and a plate piled high with Frosted Mocha Brownies will make you "Mommy of the Year" in the eyes of your family—and the envy of every family on the block.

Frosted Mocha Brownies

- 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 2 tablespoons instant coffee
- 4 eggs
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- Golden Butter Icing

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Melt shortening and chocolate together over hot water. Remove from heat and blend in coffee.

Beat eggs well, gradually add sugar, and beat thoroughly. Then blend in chocolate mixture. Add flour and mix well; stir in nuts.

Bake in greased 13x9-inch pan at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Cool in pan; then frost with Golden Butter Icing. If desired, mark bars and place a walnut half on center of each bar.

When icing is set, cut into bars. Makes about 3 dozen.

Fresh Zucchini Highlights Soup

Summer's fresh zucchini highlights this refreshing soup: In saucepan, cook 1/4 cup chopped zucchini and cook 1 tablespoon chopped green onion with 1/2 teaspoon thyme (crushed) in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine until tender. Add 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth, 1/2 cup tomato juice, and 1/2 cup water. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

wedges as desired. Cook wedges gently in water to cover until almost tender, about 5 minutes. Drain. Arrange wedges in shallow 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon salt over wedges.

Melt butter or margarine. Add onion and cook until onion is soft. Blend in flour and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Add milk and cook stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Stir in pickle relish and mustard.

Pour over cabbage wedges. Arrange frank halves between cabbage wedges. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until cabbage is tender, about 20 minutes. Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

Macaroni and cheese also gets sauced. This time you'll use a convenient mix and canned tomato sauce.

MACARONI AND CHEESE LOAF

- 1 (8-oz.) package elbow macaroni
- 2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 1 package dehydrated spaghetti sauce mix
- 1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with cheese
- 1 1/4 cups water

Blend spaghetti sauce mix, tomato sauce and water in saucepan. Bring to a boil. Simmer 25 minutes. Makes 5 servings.

Even the price of hamburger is up. But when one pound serves four to six people, it's not too expensive. We'd like hot French bread with this dish.

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen green peas
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen succotash

Cover bread with water. Soak until bread is soft; then squeeze dry. Separate into crumbs. Combine crumbs with beef, egg, onion, salt and pepper. Shape into 1-inch balls.

Heat butter in skillet. Add meat balls and sauce until evenly browned, stirring frequently. Add tomato sauce. Cover and simmer 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, separately cook peas and succotash in salted water as directed on packages. Do not drain. Stir into meat ball mixture. Makes about 5 cups or 4 to 6 servings.

Producer's Home Like a Movie Set—Unsurprisingly

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—It looks like well, like a set from a Ross Hunter movie.

Hunter is the boyish producer of "Pillow Talk," "I'd Rather Be Rich," "Madame X," and other documentaries of life in the upper classes. His films have the glossy, sumptuous look that has seldom been seen on the screen since Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford turned in their Adrian gowns at MGM.

Thus you might expect that Hunter would erect an elegant showplace when he set about to build his own home. He has. With taxes and business manager now overloading the local economic scene, the producer's house could well be the last of the Hollywood palaces.

The cost? He would rather not think about it, much less talk about it. Estimates for house, lot and furnishings run in the neighborhood of $600,000, which is a pretty rare neighborhood for a two-bedroom place.

Before taking off on a business trip to Europe, Hunter conducted a tour of the newly finished house. It is in the upper reaches of the Trousdale Estates, a hotbed of opulence nestled between the Sunset Strip and Beverly Hills.

Although he has lived in the house only a few weeks, the grounds give the place an established look. "That's my instant landscaping," he explained. "It has all planted in one day, including the large trees. Even the lawns were rolled out like carpeting."

The view from inside the massive front door resembles a Roman villa. You look through the marble hall to the marble pool on the terrace below; it bubbles with the flow of three massive fountains. Beyond is the urban sprawl of Los Angeles, smog-shrouded as usual.

Hunter headed for the dining room. "The crystal chandelier is from Ireland, the China pieces are from Carol Channing," said the producer, referring to a star of his most recent film, "Thoroughly Modern Millie."

He continued to the silver closet, lined entirely in tarnish-proof cloth to eliminate polishing, and the gadget-filled kitchen.

The producer pointed out other aspects of the house's 9,000 square feet: a railing from a Spanish church; a mural, "The Mummies," executed by Douglas Riseborough; the veranda with overhead heating for use in any weather; the bridge room ly those with aviation of navigation experience, to send a report of their sighting to him.

"When I came out here as an actor in 1944, I rented a room at the Plaza Hotel for $80 a month," Hunter said.

"This house is not a status symbol, but a place I can enjoy. I'm at the studio at 5 or 6 in the morning and I don't leave until 8 or 9 in the evening. Why shouldn't I have a comfortable place to come home to?"

Per capita consumption of beer and ale in the nation last year was 16.7 gallons. The whisky per capita consumption was 1.48 gallons.

Mysterious Meteorite May Be in Lake Huron

EAST LANSING (UPI)—The flaming meteorite which turned night into day across much of the eastern United States last weekend might have fallen into Lake Huron, an astronomer said yesterday.

Von Del Chamberlain, staff astronomer at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium, said information is still far from complete, but it is possible the huge fireball plunged into the lake.

Flashes of light and a roaring noise were reported by thousands of persons in several states Saturday night.

Chamberlain said he has investigated chunks of rock turned up in various parts of the state but "most of these are erroneous."

He also discounted reports that a three-foot-long rock found in a plowed field on a St. Clair County farm was part of the meteorite.

He said a sample from the rock was not meteoric but another sample would be taken.

"The location is too far south," he said.

Chamberlain asked anyone who saw the fireball, particularly those with aviation of navigation experience, to send a report of their sighting to him.

King Blames 'Black Power' Cry on Whites

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said last night the "misguided" cry of black power is caused by the failure of white power to "deliver the promise of America."

"Maybe the need in America is not white power or black power but 'striped power' where black and white work together," King said.

"We are bound together whether we like it or not," King said. "An amalgam of black and white. Every white man is a little Negro and every Negro is a little white."

"The misguided cry of black power today is caused by the failure of white power to deliver the promise of America. Our summers of riots are caused by a nation's winters of delay."

Climax Due in Powell Issue Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The swiftly rising revolt against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell comes to a climax in the House Education and Labor Committee today with its leaders confident they can whittle down his powers as chairman.

They expect support of a committee majority for proposed rules changes that would put the New York Democrat on a check-rein held by committee Democrats.

If they succeed, Powell, a Negro, will lose his unchallenged authority to draw committee funds, hire and fire committee employees and pocket committee-approved bills that displease him. There have been complaints against him on all counts.

Such changes, however, would expire at the end of the current session. With new rules due to be adopted for the next Congress in January, the battle would have to be fought all over again.

CALLED FARCE

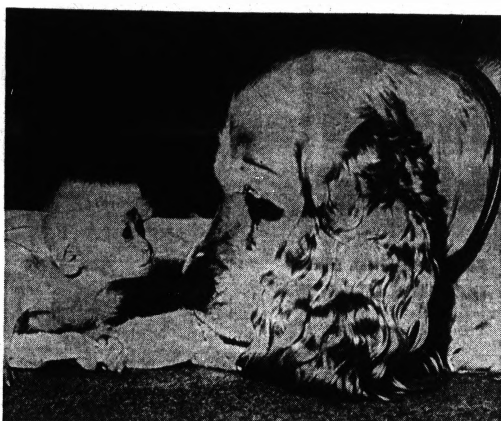

Committee Republicans called the revolt a farce Wednesday and said they would have stiffer rules changes to propose today.

Ironically, Powell's only hope of escaping the rebuke of his colleagues would appear to be the possibility of a fight between Democrats and Republicans over who wants to be harder on him.

Engine Company Has New Head

MUSKEGON (AP) — Directors of Continental Motors Corp., a major producer of engines, Wednesday announced election of G. W. Rutherford as the firm's new president.

At the same time, directors of Continental's majority owned subsidiary, Continental Aviation and Engineering Corp., had elected Arthur W. Wild as president.

Chicago Pair Adopt 'Their Own Son'

CHICAGO (UPI) — The 2-year-old boy represented heartbreak and joy.

Chester Fronczak and his wife yesterday went through the motions the law said were necessary before the boy could be theirs, even though they knew in their hearts he already was.

Two years ago Mrs. Fronczak gave birth to a son. Hours later on April 27, 1964, a woman posing as a nurse took Paul Joseph Fronczak from his mother's arms and disappeared into the night.

Heartbreak set in as police checked thousands of leads. About 10,000 children were given various tests to determine if they were the kidnapped boy.

Only one was not eliminated by the tests—a boy found abandoned in Newark, N. J., last June. The Fronczaks went to the East Coast and were convinced the boy, named Scott McKinley by Newark authorities, was their son. He went home with them.

Yesterday, the Fronczaks filed a petition to adopt the boy and received legal custody of the child. Cook County Circuit Court Judge James Murphy said the adoption could not become final until Dec. 11, when the Fronczaks have completed a six-month period of probation and have been investigated by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

The Fronczaks and their attorney refused to comment, saying it might affect their $1-million damage suit against Michael Reese Hospital. The suit charges the hospital with negligence in allowing the kidnaper in the hospital.

Authorities say it is impossible to know if the boy the Fronczaks have taken as their own really is the boy stolen more than two years ago. Only when the woman who kidnapped the lad is found will they know, they say.

The Fronczaks already know.

U.S. Will Test Despite Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials indicated today that the United States will go ahead with plans for 24 nonnuclear underwater test explosions off the Russian-held Kurile Islands, despite a Soviet protest.

Authorities described the program as a major seismological field experiment to determine how fast sound waves travel through the earth in a vast earthquake-prone area of the north Pacific Ocean 500 miles long and 90 miles wide.

This information is essential to the accurate locating of earthquakes and other phenomena, it was explained. Sources said the series of one-to-five-ton TNT blasts will begin in October under the direction of the Defense Department's Advance Research Projects Agency.

The program is designed to study the feasibility of distinguishing between underground nuclear explosions and earthquakes through the detecting, locating and identifying of seismic disturbances.

Officials emphasized that the purpose of the tests in the Kurile Islands area was not to increase U.S. capability for detection of Russian nuclear blasts.

But some sources indicated that the study could serve as a deterrent to any Russian nuclear tests.

"If you were trying to hide something," one Defense official said, "you would try to hide in an active area," meaning an area where earthquakes frequently occur.

The Russians have protested that the blasts may damage their seismic equipment in the area as well as disrupt fishing and the migration of fur-bearing seals. More than 300 Russian fishing trawlers operate among the 36 islands of the Kurile chain located between Russia's Kamchatka Peninsula and Japan.

America's historic Whiskey Rebellion of the 1790s resulted from a federal excise tax of seven cents a gallon on distilled spirits.

Fashion Stickout: De Gals' Decals

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — You probably have seen decal stickers on auto bumpers bearing such messages as "Stamp Out hangnails," "Reelect Judge Crater" or "See The Underwater Indian Village at Butler milk Springs, Fla."

Well, it was revealed this week that Rudi Gernreich, the fashion designer who invented the topless bathing suit, has created a new use for decals.

At a style show in New York, one of his models came out wearing the bottom half of a bikini and some decal strips where the top half ordinarily would be.

The decals were applied directly to her epidermis. Which eliminated the need for knots, buttons, strings, straps and other types of fasteners.

Gernreich was quoted as saying that decals to be worn on a lady's rib cage would soon be available to the public. There is no need, however, for anyone to wait.

ELECTION COMING UP

With a national election coming up, political headquarters can be found on almost every corner. All a girl has to do before going to the beach or pool is stop by and pick up a couple of campaign stickers.

If she prefers a bipartisan approach, she can paste Democratic decals on the right and GOP decals on the left. Or vice versa.

In New York, which has a three-man race for governor, this might present some problems. Neither is there a problem in one-party states.

According to the fashion reporter whose account of the style show I read, Gernreich's stick-ons are the natural outgrowth of the trend toward shorter skirts, swooping necklines, ventilated midriffs and such.

SUBJECT TO DECORATION

As more and more of the female superstructure heaves into view, it becomes subject to decoration. Cosmetic companies are now bringing out makeup for the entire body as well as the face.

Presumably there will soon be a line of rib rouge, shoulder polish, spinal mascara, pelvis powder, thigh shadow and so on down the anatomy.

All of this will impose a tremendous burden on husbands when their wives come up to them at a cocktail party and whisper, "Is my makeup on straight?"

The poor guys won't know where to look first. Gernreich's decals will complicate matters still further. When a lady notices people staring at her, she won't know whether she's coming unzipped or unpeeled.

Woman, 30, Gets TB of the Tonsils

By Science Service
CHICAGO — A 30-year-old Kentucky housewife who went to the Canal Zone developed a sore throat that proved to be tuberculosis of the tonsils.

Further examination showed that she had TB of the lungs, believed to have infected the tonsils and throat.

Mrs. Douglas M. Sanford and Dr. Gary D. Becker of Gorgas Hospital, Acorn, Canal Zone, reported the case in Archives of Otolaryngology (Sept.).

They said such cases are uncommon but that complete examination should be made when a sore throat does not respond to treatment with antibiotics.

Kentucky produces about 66 per cent of all American-made whiskey.

Brady Blasts Myth

Extra Calcium Pays Off

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

A medical friend whose knowledge of nutrition is as limited as that of most old-timers, tells me I make a serious mistake taking my daily ration of calcium.

At my age, even at his age, the metabolism cannot handle calcium as well as it did when we were young, or so it tends to accumulate as "deposits" in DR. BRADY bones, joints, arteries...

Physiologically I am probably years younger than my medical friend. I can do things which he dare not attempt.

You see, my friend has suffered, like most Americans, from calcium shortage for many years, whereas I have been supplementing my diet—otherwise I am the ordinary out or dead cells can no longer be replaced with new cells which carry on the function of artery or joint tissue, but only patched up with a kind of plaster-of-

Paris, calcified, that is. This is pathology. It is the truth about hardening of the arteries and chronic joint disability.

QUAINT NOTION
I feel sorry for doctors who harbor the quaint notion that "too much" calcium is likely to

Science for You

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM:
How Sound Waves Travel.

NEEDED:
A "Slinky" spring and a flat slick table top.

DO THIS:
Hold the spring as shown, flick it with the finger, and a wave will travel through its length. The wave may be seen very distinctly.

LET'S EXPLAIN:
As one coil

of the spring is moved, it transfers its energy of movement to the next coil and then returns to its former position. The second coil does the same, then the third, etc., until the wave has traveled the length of the spring.

The same thing happens in air when a sound is produced, except that the wave travels from the source in all directions, radially. A small amount of air is moved, it transfers its energy to the air next to it, and so on. Air with sound waves moving outward is in a state of alternating invisible condensations and rarefactions of its molecules. The movement of the coil suggests—but does not duplicate—the movement of the air particles.

Collections of these experiments are available in book form. Science Circus and Science Circus No. 2 may be found at your local library or nearby bookstore.

Plight of the Indian—2

Navajos Suffer Poverty of the Soul

By JACK V. FOX

United Press International
The high desert was blazing hot in the Arizona sun and the Navajo sheep and goats had been herded from 30 miles around to rough rock for the once-a-year dip in disinfectant to rid them of ticks and lice.

Tugging and hauling away at the sheep were two girls who might have been debutantes — Sheila Martin of Pleasantville, N.Y., and Linda Elser of Crystal Lake, Ill.

Twenty yards away, Indian squaws holding their young stared at the white girls in astonishment. The girls were VISTAs —

Volunteers in Service to America, a sort of domestic Peace Corps.

They were wrestling the squirming sheep toward a smelly trough in an idealistic, naive but heart-tugging attempt to show that the white people want to help the nation's largest Indian tribe out of a poverty that is as much of soul as of body.

EXTENSIVE LAND

The Navajo reservation spreads over a part of Utah and New Mexico but most of its 24,000 square miles lies in northeastern Arizona.

Crossing the trip as long as from Boston to Washington.

On the substandard Navajo, most of them living in hogan, round, one-story shacks of mud and overhanging roofs of sticks and mud or hides.

The hogans have dirt floors, no plumbing and no heating except for an open fire which also serves for cooking. The one community well for water may be as far as 20 miles away.

LITTLE PATCHES

The Navajos exist by raising sheep, goats and some cattle and by planting pathetic little patches of corn, beans and squash.

A few of the women make blankets and rugs and some of the older artisans make the heavy Navajo silver jewelry. But the brunt of the tourist pays $24 for in a curio shop off the Indian reservation has been marked up from the $5 paid the Navajo diversant.

Their average per-capita income is only a few hundred dollars a year. The 1965 per-capita personal income of the average American was $2,724.

The remoteness of the tribe is almost unbelievable.

FIRST WHITE MAN

Pat Arizos of Duluth, Minn., another VISTA volunteer, recently drove a high-chassis Ford Bronco over the trails to Navajo Mountain not far from the Grand Canyon.

He was the first while the Indians had ever seen. The oldest member of the community, a man in his 80s, told Arizos that his father once had told him about the white man.

In a flat stone building at Fort Defiance that was once a military jail is the office of Peter MacDonald.

He is an ex-Marine, holder of a degree in electrical engineering, a former project engineer for the Hughes Aircraft Co. in the development of guidance systems for the Polaris missile.

BORN IN HOGAN

The 37-year-old MacDonald is a Navajo, born in a hogan on the reservation 100 miles north of Fort Defiance.

His name probably was given to one of his ancestors by a soldier who couldn't spell the Navajo name and donated his own.

MacDonald is the director of the Office of Navajo Economic Opportunity. He reports to Sargent Shriver's War on Poverty operation in Washington.

He describes the plight of the Navajo this way:

"Conditions on the reservation have reached the stage where no amount of giveaway programs, no amount of money, can correct the basic inner poverty of the Navajo."

POVERTY OF SOUL

"This is poverty of the soul. You see it everywhere and it is becoming especially evident in the young people. It's when someone says 'I'll hell with everything, I've given up.'"

MacDonald's hope—and he is hopeful—is the education of young Navajos in colleges plus job experience off the reservation with the fundamental condition that they come back after a few years to help their tribe.

There are college scholarships for ambitious youngsters but few ever return.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA URCHIN

THIS SAND DOLLAR HAS 5 RAYS — LIKE MY FINGERS.
—OR THE 5 ARMS OF THIS STARFISH, MAYBE THEY'RE RELATED.

QUESTION: What sort of animal is a sea urchin?

ANSWER: Sea urchins belong to a lovely class of marine animals called echinoderms, which means "spiny-skinned." When we see a live sea urchin in some sea water pool close to the ocean, we can understand the name spiny-skinned, for it looks like a bur, with sharp spines sticking out around its body.

Even a hungry fish would probably decide it looks too difficult to eat. The dried test, or shell, (2 left) is often found on the beach, looking something like a door-nob.

The spines have fallen out. Underneath, the sea urchin has small holes in its shell from which come tentacles that can feel around, detecting small creatures for food, and pushing them toward the circular mouth.

This is possible because the tentacles or tube feet have sucking discs on the end.

Using his tube feet and some of the movable spines, the animal can crawl along. Relatives of the sea urchin are the sand dollar and starfish.

All these animals have a central mouth with body parts radiating in symmetrical fashion from it. They are all said to possess "radial symmetry."

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to draw a picture of a person with radial symmetry. It's impossible—but it's fun to try!

Sewer Costs Next Problem

Walled Lake, Novi Meet With Engineers

The method of financing a proposed joint sewage treatment system is the next problem facing the City of Walled Lake and the Village of Novi.

Representatives of the two communities met with their engineers, Johnson and Anderson, last night to go over plans for a proposed sewage treatment plant, a trunk line sewer and an internal sanitary sewer system.

The joint venture would serve the residents of Walled Lake and those residents in the northern portion of Novi around the lake.

Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey said a meeting will be set up soon with representatives of the Oakland County Department of Public Works to discuss financing and to get final information.

Of the $4.4 million total cost of the project, Walled Lake would pay $3,134,448 and Novi $1,245,552.

Novi assessor Harold N. Ackley said an attempt will probably be made to obtain federal funds to finance at least a portion of the project.

"I personally feel that the cost is excessive," he said, "but there isn't much we can do about it."

"There's no fat in the plan. It's designed to take care of the area."

"It's just the high cost of construction these days," he said. Ackley said the cost to Novi has increased by $300,000 since the plan was first discussed in 1963 and to Walled Lake by about $500,000.

REV. LYLE NORTHRUP

Evangelist Due at Church

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Rev. Lyle Northrup, secretary of evangelism of the Free Methodist Church of North America, will be the evangelist Sunday through Oct. 7 when the Drayton Plains Free Methodist Church conducts revival services.

Situated at Maybee and Walled roads, the church will hold the special services at 7:30 p.m. weekdays and 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. each Sunday.

Plans to furnish music at the final revival meeting is the Harbor Lights Quartet.

Rev. Thomas E. Dunn, pastor of the church, said the public is invited to attend the services.

Adult Sign-Up Set

Registration for the adult education program offered by the Walled Lake schools is set for 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at Walled Lake Senior High School.

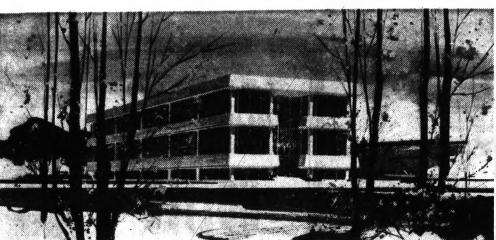

Approximately 30 courses will be open to both residents and nonresidents of the Walled Lake School District.

Noncredit courses will meet

Oxford Center Bonds Okayed

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission this week approved an issue of special assessment bonds totaling $72,000 by Oxford Township.

The money will be used to finance the township's share in the new Civic Center now under construction.

TELEVISION BANKING—The first television drive-in banking facility in the Troy area will be opened when Troy National Bank takes over its office space in the new Somerset Plaza Office building at 15 Mile and Couligue roads. Troy National Bank President Edward A. Rusin announced that the bank will lease 3,000 square feet of the new building. The area is now being served by temporary bank quarters.

3 Ask Independence Help in Reinstating Bar License

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Three Pontiac area men interested in purchasing a former bar business here which was closed when its Class C liquor license was revoked, have gone to the Township Board for support.

Attorneys Paul G. Valentino and Jerome E. Mulligan and Joseph E. Tersigni have asked the board to take steps with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for reinstatement of the liquor license at Manzella's 7504 Dixie.

The men said they want the license reinstated for the sole purpose of buying the bar operation.

The request was referred to Township Attorney Paul M. Mendel for an opinion. The license was revoked by the Liquor Control Commission last April, following a similar recommendation by the board.

News of the Area

New Part of 23 Mile to Open

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A users of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department System part a $20 deposit before receiving service.

Only those in the southerly portion of the township are as yet able to avail themselves of the Detroit water and they had complained about the deposit required in addition to a tap fee.

Township officials plan to attend the dedication.

Sidewalk construction around four schools, half the cost to be met by the Utica School District, is now under consideration by the township board. It has asked for engineering specifications and cost estimates before taking further action.

The board rescinded its action of last April 19 requiring that

The action resulted from a March 19 fight in the bar, involving owner Nicholas Manzella, 7504 Dixie; his brother, Angelo Manzella of 2356 Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township; and customer John Adams, 6501 Maybee.

CLERK HOWARD ALTMAN said it was not the intent of the board to wipe out Manzella financially, but to prohibit him from operating a Class C licensed business in the township.

In other recent business, the board filled two vacancies on the Township Planning Commission by appointing Clarkson Village Councilman Donald Cooper and Floyd Vincent, administrative assistant of Clarkson Community Schools, as members.

Cooper replaces Harold Geyette who resigned Tuesday night, while Vincent succeeds Frank Reynolds who also recently resigned.

The board has approved a request of James and Donald Osborne for transfer of a Class C resort liquor license from 2683 Jackson, White Lake Township, to 6222 Dixie.

Also granted was a request for transfer of an SDM licensed business at 1018 M-15 from Albert and Thelma Bills to the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. 20415.

A special license has been granted to the Oakland County Sportsmen Club, 4770 Waterford, for a racing car exhibition Saturday and Sunday.

The examination will be given on Pontiac.

Meeting to Decide Future of Dump

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The future of the township dump which also serves residents in Groveland and Independence townships will be determined at a meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Brandon Township Hall.

The involved township boards will hear reports from the Clarkson Kieft Engineering firm and from Oakland County Health Department inspectors or what must be done to reopen the dump.

It has been closed for a month since health inspectors found it created a sanitation hazard.

Tentative plans are to reopen it to meet landfill usage requirements, according to Brandon Supervisor Richard Wilcox.

Zoning Board Urges Denial of 3 Requests

AVON TOWNSHIP — Most of the 150 persons attending last night's township zoning board meeting left happy, having decided, at least temporarily, three major industrial and commercial intrusions to the township.

The board recommended denial of the application of Borman Food, Inc., to construct a supermarket and neighborhood shopping center on 15 acres at the corner of Adams and Walton Blvd.

Objections came mainly from residents of Springhill and Bellarmine subdivisions.

The industrial park on 34.2 acres at the corner of Livernois and Auburn, planned as the location of a drive-in theater, was also recommended for denial.

Board members said the area was isolated from all other industrial areas and had been proposed on the regional master plan for apartments.

INDUSTRIAL PARK The fight led by Ralph Mangold, president of a new north area home owners' association, against Prolocron Investment Co.'s plan for an industrial park was successful. The land involved consists of 32 acres along Sheldon north of Trienken.

Approval was recommended for the Meadowbrook Development Co. to build condominiums and town houses, a community shopping center, and office buildings on the old Francis Dodge property in the Butler-Hamlin area.

Light industry, a small free-way service district and residential area was recommended for approval along the new M-59 between Crooks and Livernois.

Permission to proceed with apartments on the McGregor property just west of town was given.

Rally Day Set at Troy Church

TROY — First Presbyterian Church will observe Rally Day Sunday when Rev. John MacInnes, associate for Camps and Conferences, Synod of Michigan, will speak at 10:30 a.m.

Bibles will be presented to those students graduating from primary Sunday School classes. New classes for the year will begin.

In 4 Lapeer County Districts

School Merger Votes Near

Voters in four separate Lapeer County school districts for the second time this year will consider reorganization and increased operational millage in referendums Monday.

The Lapeer and Metamora public school systems would be united should the vote be favorable. Lapeer, which now levies 22.6 mills, enrolls 4,726 students while Metamora, levying 8.1 mills, enrolls 175 students in grades kindergarten through eight in one school.

Dale Abbe of the Lapeer County Intermediate School Board reports that a recent study shows that a favorable vote would give the Lapeer district more than half the county's student enrollment.

An election in Almont, Rethford and Gould school districts will determine the outcome of a merger attempt in that area.

Rethford (Almont No. 8), numbers 42 students, about 19 of whom are in Almont schools now. Gould (Berlin Township No. 4 in St. Clair County) has a total of 55 students, with about 24 attending Almont High School and another five at Capac School.

3-MAN BOARDS Each district boasts a three-man school board and a one-room school.

There are two millage proposals in Almont. One would add five mills for three years starting in December, 1967; the second would add two mills for two years starting in December, 1967.

The proposals represent a net increase of four mills since the

Exam Slated for Rural Mail Carrier Post

MILFORD — Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District, has announced that written examinations have been posted for the position of rural mail carrier here.

Interested persons may obtain applications and Forms AN 1977 which state the requirements for the position from the local post office in Milford or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. 20415.

Congressman Farnum says that applications must be filed with the U.S. Civil Service Commission in Washington postmarked no later than Oct. 11. Sportsmen Club, 4770 Waterford, 1966.

The examination will be given on Pontiac.

three-mill levy now in effect will expire in December.

School Supt. Walter Walborn said the funds will be used to operate the Almont Community School and staff its new $1 million addition due to open about April.

OCTOBER OPENING Walborn said three new elementary classrooms would open in mid-October.

Almont's total enrollment is 960.

Imlay City with an enrollment of 1,626 students seeks to add three primary districts. There are 15 students in the Folsom District, 28 in the Flansburg District and 26 in the Shepherd District.

The Imlay City School Board is seeking two additional mills for operating purposes for three years.

EXTRA MILLS The proposed increase would be in addition to five extra mills already levied for the coming school year. The five mill levy is due to expire next June.

An identical request was turned down by voters on the June 13 ballot by a 344-317 margin.

Dryden School District seeks to add on the closed district of Dryden Center which has transported its 55 children since a year ago to other schools.

By state law if the district does not reopen in three years, the Lapeer County Intermediate Board of Education must assign it to another district.

648 STUDENTS

Dryden has a total of 648 students in kindergarten through grade 12. It has levied a tax of 15.6 mills, while Dryden Center has been held to 8.1 mills.

Abbe says that if the reorganizations are approved, none will become effective until July 1, 1967.

He says the basic thought behind the reorganization is to equalize tax paying.

You're Never Too Old—4

Pleasure Is in Helping Others

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series of articles on the elderly.)

By PERCY HANSEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
As a young reporter in a mid-western city, I often talked with one of the city's most respected citizens.

He was typical of what writers like to describe as a rugged individualist.

He had begun life as an apprentice carpenter and had advanced through an outstanding success as a building contractor to become the wealthiest man of the community.

Despite his many interests, he seemed always ready to help in case of need.

Anyone down on his luck could find a job on one of his construction crews or in his office.

One day the city editor sent me to interview him about a proposed new building.

We were interrupted as we sat in his office by an elderly-appearing farmer who asked Ross for the loan of several hundred dollars to take his crippled son to an out-of-town clinic for an operation which he hoped would enable the son to walk.

I was shocked when this apparently worthy request was curtly refused on the grounds of inadequate security.

The episode made me most uncomfortable.

I was still pondering what I should do about it the next morning when I met the morning train for news of arriving or departing passengers.

I was amazed to see the man who had refused to make the loan helping the farmer lift his son onto a Pullman car and then handing him a large envelope.

As the train pulled out, turned to the spot on which the wealthy man was standing. "Mr. Ross," I said, "I suspect you are a fraud."

He put a hand on my shoulder. "Listen, son," he said, "Not a word about this to anyone!"

The man of wealth gave me a long, hard look. Then he said, "Let's go get a cup of coffee."

When we were seated, he continued, "I would appreciate it if you would just forget this whole deal. That way it will be easier for all of us.

"I knew yesterday that farmer could never repay a loan so how could I loan him anything? On the other hand I couldn't let the boy go without an attempt to cure him. The only thing to do, it seemed to me, was to buy them both round-trip tickets and give the old man a letter to the clinic saying I would take care of all expenses.

"Did you know my mother?" the man I have called 'Ross' inquired, and then went on without waiting for an answer. "She was a wonderful woman. But one day she gave me the jolt of my life. 'Jim,' she said, 'do you know you are one of the most selfish persons I have ever known?'"

"You are always doing things for other people, but you never let anyone do anything for you. Don't you know people don't get any pleasure out of being helped? Only people who help others get any pleasure."

"Then she went on to tell me about something that had happened more than a year before — something I had completely forgotten. 'You remember old lady Willis, who worked as a cook in that all-night cafe? You helped her son, Roy, get a job at the radio station, and when he made good, to show her appreciation, she invited you and me to the cafe for lunch. Then you spoiled all of her pleasure by insisting on paying for the lunch. You ought to think more of other people's pleasure and let them do something for you once in awhile."

"It was a tough lesson. It even made me mad for awhile. But I knew now — and I guess I know then — that she was right. I honestly believe I have already gotten as much pleasure out of helping that poor farmer, whom I hardly know, as he will get when he sees his boy begin to walk again."

Jim Ross has long ago gone to his reward, but I have thought many times about his mother's unexpected reprimand. It is too bad that the nation's politicians and the great host of professional dogooders could not have known Jim Ross and heard him tell of his awakening.

Leading for '72

ATLANTA (UPI) — Former presidential news secretary Pierre Salinger said yesterday that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is the leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for president in 1972.

Speaking to the Atlanta Press Club, Salinger, who served under President John F. Kennedy, said the younger Kennedy would not seek the nomination in 1968 because he already has announced support of President Johnson.

Happiness for Bachelor Is Going a Day Without Hearing These Remarks

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that bachelors get tired of hearing:

"What's the matter with you,
Horace, are you afraid of women?"

"There must be something wrong with him, or some good, but when father passes on, up

I'll inherit his liquor store."

"You'd like that, wouldn't you?"

"There's no mystery about it.
The tightwad is just too cheap to support a wife."

"Why don't you want to marry me, Horace? I know I don't make much money on my job

now, but when father passes on, up the dinner table, we can ask Horace: 'He's always available.'"

"But how can a man your age get along without a wife in a civilized world? Who wakes you up in the morning? Who sews on your buttons? Who tells you to remember to carry an umbrella

"If we find it necessary to invite someone else just to fill when it's raining?"

"You know he's single — his pockets jingle."

"Hey, Horace, mind if I borrow your apartment for a few hours tonight? An ex-girlfriend of mine is in town, and I'm looking for a quiet place where we can set and chat about old times together."

"Yes, you've got the ability but for an executive job such as the firm prefers a family."

"Horace, I promised to take my wife out tonight but now I find I have to stay late at the office. Do me a favor and take her out, will you? I know she'll be perfectly safe with someone like you."

"Look at it this way, Horace — the big difference between dating a girl once and marrying her is the difference between buying her one steak and several thousand steaks."

"Horace, I promised to take my wife out tonight but now I find I have to stay late at the office. Do me a favor and take her out, will you? I know she'll be perfectly safe with someone
like you."

Inter-Lakes Gridders Prepare for Loop Play

	W	L
Pontiac Northern	1	0
Warren Lake	1	0
Farmington	1	0
Waterford	1	0
Livonia Stevenson	1	0

Four Inter-Lakes League teams Friday will have their final tests before beginning conference competition next week and key questions may be answered in a couple of the tilts.

Pontiac Northern will invade Alwood Stadium for an 8 p.m. meeting with Flint Northwestern. Walled Lake will entertain Berkley and Livonia Stevenson will visit Wayne Glenn in other night games.

Two afternoon encounters will have Waterford testing Southfield's hospitality at 3 o'clock, and Farmington playing host to Plymouth at 3:30 p.m.

Only Waterford's Skippers won't begin their I-L campaign next week. They drew the first bye in the five-team league.

PNH's trip to Flint could prove decisive as the Huskies attempt to become a dominant grid factor in the loop. A big win would lift them into a serious contender's role, but a loss might lead to a season-long struggle for success.

The Northern eleven had good and bad moments in beating a weak Troy squad, 34-0, last week. A good defensive effort throughout was augmented by an effective first-half offense that was snarled later by penalties and fumbles.

Flint Northwesterns had a similar story in blanking Port Huron, 26-0. The Wildcats showed a balanced offense that also encountered a spell of ball handling and rules violation problems.

Seven letterwinners off last year's 20-0 winner over PNH expect to see action against this year's Huskies. There is considerable bulk on the FNW line, and the team now has a five-game victory skein.

Waterford's season may hinge, also, on a good showing at Southfield. The Blue Jays weren't overly impressive in beating Thurston as versatile Ted Simmons scored the only touchdown last Saturday, and if they can repeat last year's conquest of WTHS it could be a rough fall for the Skippers.

RAN WELL
Last week's opening victory over West Bloomfield was impressive from a running standpoint, but the offensive blocking and the interior defensive line play must improve by the Skippers' I-L opener.

Walled Lake gained a hard-earned decision over Kimball in its debut, but needs to strengthen the offensive thrust if it wants to remain the power of the I-L race.

Berkley, off its opening loss, doesn't have the offensive game success streak.

Farmington dumped Livonia Bentley last week and could gain important momentum with a follow-up conquest of Plymouth this week.

Stevenson's first varsity game was victory over New Boston. A better indication of the Livonia eleven's talent may develop in the Glenn contest.

Kettering	1	0
Roman	1	0
Ontario	1	0
Lapeer	1	0
L'Anse Creuse	1	0

Kettering plans to ready itself for next week's Tri-County League opener with a further test of its grid arsenal in a 3:30 p.m. visit to North Farmington Friday.

The Raiders have provided a severe test for the Captains in past seasons and, despite last week's opening rout by Grand Rapids Central, coach Ron Holland likely will have the host team primed for another strong effort.

Kettering slipped by Lake Orion last week, but expects to get more potent each week

Coach Jim Larkin is busy developing Jerry Besau's quarterbacking talents while awaiting the return of two-year regular Dick Miceli.

Miceli fell and dislocated an elbow earlier this month.

The Captains didn't have to pass much against Orion, as an efficient ground attack wore down the Dragons. This phase of the WKHS offense may be exploited more tomorrow since Bob VonBargen and Vince Griffin comprise one of the best receiving teams in the area.

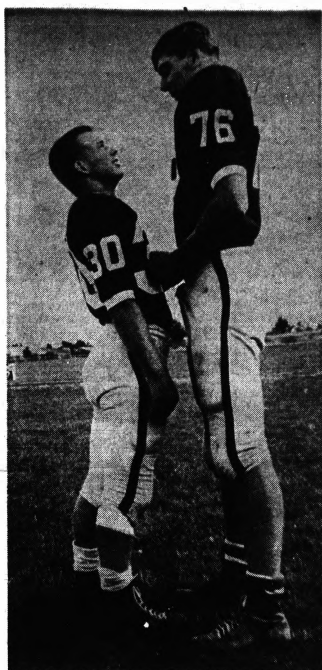

STREAK ENDS

North Farmington, who had a streak of 11 games without a loss ended last week, is an unusually light squad. Holland may come up with a few gimmicks to bolster an ineffective offense.

Other Tri-County teams in action tomorrow are Oxford at Flint St. Mike, Remo entering Chippewa Valley, Lapeer at Port Huron Northern, L'Anse Creuse will be host to Clintondale Saturday afternoon.

The Northwest Suburban Activities Association schedule has Birmingham Groves welcoming Cranbrook, Wayne Glenn playing host to Livonia Stevenson and Oak Park entertaining Lamphere.

Cranbrook will be opening its season in the 8 p.m. tilt at Flint St. Mike. The Falcons were shut-out losers to arch-rival Birmingham Seaholm last Friday.

Pontiac Press Photo

NEW CAPTAINS — Two of the new faces in the Waterford Kettering lineup who are getting a lot of playing time are halfback Chuck Lee (left), a 155-pound senior and junior tackle Dennis Wilson, a 205-pounder. The two will be on hand when the Captains journey to North Farmington to meet the Raiders at 3:30 p.m.

Japanese Gymnasts Champs Again

DORTMUND, Germany (AP) — Japanese men rolled to an easy victory in compulsory exercises Wednesday and appeared headed for their second straight team title in the World Gymnastics Championships.

Japan outscored their closest rivals, the Russians, by nearly two points, winning four of six events in head-to-head competition with the Soviets.

U. S. 4th
The U. S. team, led by diminutive Mokola Sakamoto of Los Angeles, placed sixth in compulsory exercises. The Americans finished second in their group — the last of the day — behind Czechoslovakia.

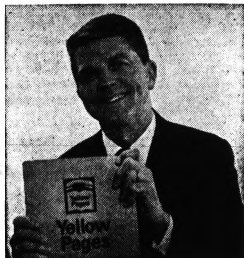

Japan finished with 287.85 points, followed by Russia, 285.90; East Germany, 278.89; Czechoslovakia, 275.80; Poland, 274.20; and the United States, 273.83.

Russia's Mikhail Voronin was the individual leader with 57.90 points in the six compulsory exercises — floor exercises, rings, horizontal bar, long horse vault, side horse and parallel bars.

The Japanese won four team events, with the Russians taking first in the parallel bars and pommel horse.

The Russians were favored in Thursday's women's compulsory exercises, but the Japanese men are expected to score heavily Friday in the free exercise events, which will determine both team and individual all-around titles.

Horton's Home Run Decides Contest

Manager Frank Skaff, who was expected to send Mickey Lalich and Johnny Podres against the Angels today, agreed with the decision to postpone the second game.

MSU to Test Penn State Defense

Grid Award for Piano Player

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Penn State middle guard Mike Reid has played only one game of varsity football, but it was good enough to win him Lineman of the Week honors. And if he keeps up the good work, the Nittany Lions just may pull off the upset of the season Saturday when they play No. 1 ranked Michigan State.

Reid, a 19-year-old, 238-pound sophomore, who plays the piano when he's not tackling hall carriers, was named top line-man by The Associated Press Wednesday for helping his team to a 15-7 win over Maryland last week.

3 SAFETIES

He accounted for two of three safeties scored for Penn State and smashed Maryland's offense during most of the game.

He got his first safety on a fourth down play in the second quarter when he busted into Maryland's end zone to block a punt by Rich Carlson. The ball bounced out of the end zone for an automatic safety.

He got the other in the fourth quarter by tackling Alan Pastura, the Maryland quarterback in the end zone.

But although Coach Joe Paterno is pleased with the play of Reid, and the rest of this defensive unit, he isn't too optimistic about his team's chances against Michigan State.

"I don't know if we can even stay on the same field with Michigan State," he said. "They're just as big and just as tough as they were last year. If they also are just as hungry, it may be a long afternoon."

Reid had several contenders for his award, as an unusual number of linemen had big days.

Other standouts included defensive end Bruce Wesley of Duke, tackle J. B. Christian of Oklahoma State, linebacker Lynn Senkib of Nebraska and defensive end Tom Greenlee of Washington.

Nittany Lions Bid for Upset

Two Meet Saturday on Spartans' Field

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State's highly touted defense, which took the measure of Maryland Saturday, faces what may be its toughest test of the season this week when it attempts to put the undefeated No. 1-ranked Michigan State.

"After beating a good North Carolina State team so thoroughly and by coming on strong in the second half to do it, Michigan State apparently is every bit as strong as last season," said Coach Joe Paterno as he led Penn State through a practice session.

Last year Michigan State gave Penn State its worst trouncing, 23-0, and in eight previous meetings, the Spartans were victorious in six. There was one tie.

WORKS ON OFFENSE

Paterno concentrated this week on sharpening up Penn State's offensive attack, which left much to be desired in its opening game performance.

Quarterback Jack White, who set team records in passing last year, was outstanding against Maryland as he completed nine of 17 passes for 110 yards. He also led in rushing with 86 yards and scored the Lions' only touchdown.

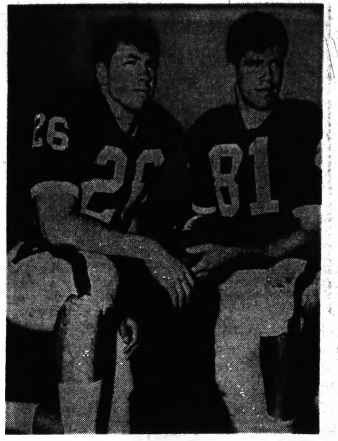

But the rest of the 11-member backfield was relatively ineffective due to the most part to an inexperienced offensive line. White had two pass completions, including a 53-yard touchdown pass, called back because of illegal receivers downfield.

Split end Jack Curry, who set records last year for passes caught, pulled down six of White's aeriels for 79 yards. The remainder were hauled down by tight end Ted Kwalick.

Defensively, it was an altogether different story. Penn State scored three safeties against Maryland as the result of an aggressive defense, anchored by sophomore middle guard Mike Reid.

Reid, a 234-pound bespectacled giant who plays the piano and organ when he's not playing football, blocked a punt, resulting in one safety, and made a tackle that earned another two points. On still another play, he hit Maryland quarterback Alan Pastura 15 yards behind the line of scrimmage, making him fumble the ball away.

Penn State's entire defensive line played superior football against Maryland, limiting the Terps to 44 yards rushing. Paterno singled out for special praise: end Bill Morgan, who made several stops.

Money Proposal for Grid Stadium Nixed by Voters

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Gov. Dan Evans said Wednesday he will "do everything feasible" to help Seattle attract a National Football League team in the face of Tuesday's rejection by King County voters of a $38 million bond issue to build a domed stadium.

He added, however, "I don't propose and would not dream of trying to tell the regents to change their long-standing policy on the use of the University of Washington stadium."

The Seattle Times suggested in an editorial Wednesday that the regents make the $5,000-seat UW stadium available to an NFL team on an open-tenure basis.

The regents have opposed letting a professional team use the stadium without assurance that the use would be temporary.

Improving Bears Entertaining 'M'

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — season ratings placed them near the bottom of the Athletic Association of Western Universities list, despite their 5-5 mark in 1965.

The Bears entertain University of Michigan Saturday.

In the opener, it was the defense and not the offense which spelled victory.

Sophomore defensive halfback Wayne Stewart ran back an intercepted pass 71 yards for a touchdown.

LONGEST RUN

Senior Don Guest provided the second California TD with the longest scoring run in conference annals. He fielded a low field goal attempt eight yards deep in his end zone and raced back 108.

Senior Jerry Bradley added the final score with a 73-yard punt return.

TIES MARK WITH 66 in Seattle Prelim

Bondeson Sets Pro-Am Pace

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — Paul Bondeson fired three birdies and an eagle Wednesday to take individual honors in the pro-amateur competition, preceding the $50,000 Greater Seattle Open Golf Tournament with a five-under-par 66.

His score tied the competitive course record at the Everett Golf and Country Club set several years ago by amateur Tom Storey.

Defending champion Gay Brewer and Jacky Culp finished second, one stroke back. Jerry Steelsmith, Dale Douglass, George Archer, Charles Coody, and Bruce Crampton were two strokes off the pace.

A team anchored by Coody shot a 17-under-par 54 to take team honors. The amateur members of the team, were William Pigott, Richard Egge, and Robert Hutchinson, who played with full handicap. Bondeson's team finished second with a 57.

Await Prince Philip

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Prince Philip of Britain is expected here next Monday as president of the International Equestrian Federation to attend the World Horse Jumping Championship.

Sophomore Ed White looms considerably larger on offense. At 265, he won a starting job at tackle and has held it. Tight end John Beasley, at 220, could be one of the better at his position among collegians.

The big guns of the Midwest Football League will be on display Saturday night when Lansing's All Stars invade Winder Stadium to meet Pontiac's Arrows.

There's a lot riding on the game.

Aside from personal gains in the statistical departments, there's the matter of the league race.

The winner Saturday will be on top in the MFL race. Going into the game, the Arrows, with a 2-0-1 mark, hold a half-game edge over Lansing, Dayton and Ypsilanti, all at 2-1.

LONG DROP
Flint is at Ypsilanti and River Rouge visits Dayton, so it's conceivable that the Arrows could go from first to fourth if they lose Saturday while Dayton and Ypsilanti are winning.

Coach Lyle Wells and his Arrows now know that losing is a possibility. Last week, the Arrows were held to a 6-6 tie at Flint and Wells is hoping the squad will bounce back from that lackluster performance.

The Arrows'll have to come up with a top-notch performance to stop the All Stars, who come here with some of the leading performers in the league.

Among the All Stars' big guns are quarterback Sam Eyde and ends Jim Stewart and Dave Johnson. The three make up the best aerial game in the league.

In three games, Eyde, a 6-0, 185-pounder, has connected on 21 of 49 passes for 329 yards and four touchdowns. And backing him is Randy Powers, a 5-9, 170-pounder, who came off the bench last week and fired touchdown pass to Johnson with 33 seconds left for a 20-18 win over River Rouge.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Tickets will go on sale at 6 p.m. at the gate.

Offensive Woes for Lions, Foe

Two teams, looking for a little offense, the Detroit Lions and the Atlanta Falcons, will tangle in Tiger Stadium Sunday afternoon.

The Lions' defense has given up only 20 points in two games but the offensive unit has tallied only 17.

Atlanta's offense is slightly better with 24 points in two games while its defense has given up 42 points.

Rookie quarterback Randy Johnson from little Texas A&M has gone all the way in the two Atlanta games and he averaged 186 yards passing per game.

Veteran Milt Plum has averaged only 101.5 yards passing per game. Johnson has had five of his passes intercepted and four of Plum's have been picked off.

The Falcons even have the advantage over the Lions in the rushing statistics, having gained 217 yards on the ground while Detroit shows just 192 total rushing yards.

Sunday's game, the first between the two teams will bring back three former Lions—Sam Williams, Jim Simon and Bob Whitlow—picked by Falcons in the special draft to stock the new franchise.

The Falcons have lost to Los Angeles, 19-14 and to Philadelphia, 25-10 but coach Norb Hecker feels his new team "will come along in future games. Randy has a lot to learn but he'll be around for a long time."

Game time is 1:30 p.m. Sunday at Tiger Stadium and ticket windows will open at 9:00 a.m.

Irish, Purdue Air Threats

CHICAGO UP — The Notre Dame Stadium air will be filled with more than Boilermaker O'Brien.

Notre Dame gets the starting call today when the highly-regarded football teams of Purdue and Notre Dame collide in the Fighting Irish opener.

"This time, we have to defend against passes because Notre Dame has two quarterbacks who Ohio University 42-3, Hanratty can throw the ball," Purdue coach Jack Mollenkopf said to image romp over Irish reserves.

of Royal Oak Shrine), who looms as the key Irish receiver this fall. O'Brien hit on a 55-yard bomb to another end, Junior Kike Heaton.

Hanratty and O'Brien also will throw to Eddy and vastly improved Rocky Bleier, who replaced graduated Bill Wolski at the other halfback spot.

"We feel we have consistency and speed in our receivers and that Hanratty and O'Brien have the ability to develop into passers as good as John Huarte was in 1964," Irish coach Ara Parseghian conceded.

Now the Irish not only have a sharp running game, hitched to elusive Nick Eddy and explosive fullback, but also a pair of sophomore quarterbacks ac-

Playoff at Arrowhead Decides Event

Mrs. Max Evans of Southfield posted her eighth victory of the season by winning the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association outing yesterday in a sudden-death playoff.

Mrs. Evans fired a 38-41-79 at Arrowhead Golf Club to tie Mrs. Nick Panasuk of Elmstead, Ont. (41-38-79) for the top spot and then defeated the Canadian on the second hole of a playoff.

Mrs. Phillip deGuere of Birmingham and Mrs. John Menefee of St. Clair Shores shared third place with 84s in the field of 59.

The record for most wins in a season in the WMGA is held by Mrs. Bobbi Miller, Pontiac city champion, who won 10 times in 1964. Mrs. Miller now plays in the Women's District Golf Association.

Madsen in Crash

Big Game Hunter Killed

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) Ugashik on the Alaska Peninsula of Alaska's most famed sula.

One of Alaska's most famed sula, big game hunting guides, Alf Madsen, about 45, of Kodiak, was killed Wednesday when his float plane crashed into Lake

The Coast Guard said a witness, Warren Siebert, reported seeing the plane crash while Madsen was making a scouting pass over a herd of Caribou.

Madsen assisted in the filming of Walt Disney nature films of the Northland, authored many articles in "natural magazines" and guided many prominent persons in pursuit of big game.

He is survived by a widow and a teen-age son and daughter.

Montreal Meet Slated in '67

U. S. Track Squad Will Participate

NEW YORK (AP) — American athletes will engage in an international track and field meet in Montreal next summer following the Pan American Games at Winnipeg.

Plans for the meet were announced by the Amateur Athletic Union Wednesday. At the same time, the AAU indicated that Russia may resume its dual meets with the United States in 1967.

Athletes from Europe will oppose competitors from the Americas in the international series which will be held for the first time Aug. 9-10 in Montreal. The Pan-American Games at Winnipeg are scheduled for July 22-Aug. 6.

Truce Reached on CMU Pay

4 Faculty Members,
College Compromise

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Central Michigan University and four faculty members, who contended their criticism of CMU's administration led to loss of normal pay raises, agreed Wednesday on a compromise pay raise.

Under the agreement, the CMU chapter of the American Association of University Professors withdrew its unfair labor practice charges against the school.

CMU's board of trustees and Theodore Sachs, attorney for the AAUP, said the agreement will provide half the pay raises claimed for the 1965-66 school year by Profs. Victor Coutant and Oscar Oppenheimer, Associate Prof. Charles Westie and Assistant Prof. Paul Evelt.

This reportedly will total nearly $4,500 for the four.

Westie and Evelt will be placed on the regular 1966-67 salary schedule, the board said. Oppenheimer has retired and Coutant now is on the faculty of Western Michigan University.

CHARGES FILED

The four testified last November at a State Senate committee hearing that they were denied normal pay raises for 1965-66 because of their criticism of the administration.

The AAUP later filed unfair labor practice charges before the State Labor Mediation Board.

In its statement, the CMU board said it felt "the charges are without foundation and of nuisance value only."

It added: "Lengthy litigation would not be in the best interests of the university and would result in unnecessary expenses."

BEHIND PROBE

Criticism by CMU faculty members was behind the lengthy Senate committee investigation.

In its report, the committee declared early this year that "trust and respect" were lacking at the school, and recommended an increased role for the faculty in policy making.

It also called the pay raise denials unjust.

At the committee hearings, CMU officials gave both academic and nonacademic reasons for denying the pay raises.

Main Piggins Helper Quits Detroit Police

DETROIT (UPI)—The chief investigator of the recent Piggins Grand Jury resigned after 25 years on the Detroit Police Department yesterday, citing dissatisfaction with the agency.

Earl C. Miller, who once testified before a Senate subcommittee hearing on the Detroit Mafia, said, "The reason I'm leaving is because of the police image as it is today, because of Supreme Court decisions, and the preaching of some of our so-called city leaders."

He said several factors induced his retirement, including, "the economic situation, the frustration a policeman faces today and certain internal problems within the Detroit Police Department which didn't exist a couple of years ago."

"I would have stayed had things been different," he said.

Miller held 18 citations as a policeman and headed the Criminal Intelligence Bureau of the department from 1963 to 1965 when he was transferred in the aftermath of a controversy over the releasing of information concerning Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, slain civil rights worker.

Circuit Court Judge Edward S. Piggins chose Miller to head his investigative team when the one-man grand jury was named to investigate crime in Wayne County.

Accident Fatal

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Herbert G. Holran, former executive director of the New Jersey Republican State committee and a long-time adviser in New Jersey GOP affairs, was killed in an automobile accident Wednesday. Holran, who was 50, formerly was a newsman with the Associated Press and the Record of Hackensack, N.J.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Recent teacher unrest over wages and working conditions is part of a much larger movement — "the emergence of the teacher as a professional," East Lansing's school superintendent said Wednesday.

"History is going to be kind to this movement despite the discomfort it has caused superintendents," Charles Young told a conference of Michigan State University's College of Education.

Young said he is optimistic about the long run because the profession now is being characterized by strength and pride.

The short-term effect, he said, has been mainly to cause problems, such as diversion of attention from developing innovations to make efficient use of the increasing federal funds for education.

Speakers at the conference generally agreed that passage of the 1965 law allowing public employees to bargain collectively was one of the major developments of all time in education.

One of the great problems at first was that too many superintendents viewed the school system as "their system" and over-reacted to teachers' organizing, said Ted Swift, a consultant to the Michigan Education Association.

There are five known 1913 Liberty Head nickels. One of these sold recently for more than $30,000.

Bar Fight Case to Circuit Court

Charged with attempted murder in a beating outside a Pontiac tavern July 2, a Pontiac man has been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Sept. 29.

Daniel Moreno, 24, of 426 Midway was ordered to stand trial following preliminary examination before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Moreno is accused of beating 39-year-old Harry L. Ricks Jr. in a brawl outside Bud & Lou's Tavern at 417 Auburn. Ricks was hospitalized with injuries received in the fracas.

Pontiac police investigating the incident cited bar owner Leroy Goldsworthy to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for allegedly permitting a "disturbance on the premises."

That citation, as well as a report sent to the City Commission, still awaits action.

Death Claims U. S. Prelate

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Edward Francis Hoban, a shoe maker's son who rose to be archbishop of the Cleveland Catholic Diocese, died early today at his home. He was 88.

The archbishop had maintained full control of the diocese from 1945 when he succeeded the late Archbishop Joseph Schrembs until Oct. 14, 1964, when Bishop Clarence G. Isenmann, former head of the Columbus diocese, was appointed coadjutor bishop to assist him.

The eight-county diocese, which included more than 600,000 Catholics, is one of the largest in the United States.

During his spiritual leadership of the diocese the Catholic population increased by more than 600,000. Sixty-six parishes and 79 schools were added.

Born in Chicago on June 27, 1878, the future prelate attended St. Ignatius High School and College, now Loyola University. He also studied at St. Mary Seminary in Baltimore and at the Gregorian University in Rome.

Waterford Meeting Slated

Boys' Club Future to Be Aired

A meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. next Tuesday at Douglas Houghton School, 8080 Elizabeth Lake, for Waterford Township residents interested in the continuation of the Boys' Club of Waterford Township.

Mrs. Howard D. Fincannon, spokesman for the parents, said the club's board of directors also will be invited to the meeting, designed to save the operation from folding.

Directors, earlier this month, were forced to curtail the club's program drastically because of lack of funds.

To cut expenses, the directors released Executive Director Charles Sifton from his job.

They also voted to move the club from its rented building at 1580 N. Williams Lake to another, less expensive site.

The boys' club received a jolt last month when the Pontiac Area United Fund turned down its request for membership in PAUF. The club had depended on PAUF to contribute about 80 per cent of its $36,000 proposed budget for 1968-69.

The remainder of the budget, far insufficient to operate the club on a full-scale basis, is collected through fund-raising projects.

About 245 boys are members of the club.

FIFE LAKE (AP) — A boat carrying four Ferris State College students capsized Wednesday on Fife Lake. Three made it to shore but David Schmitt, 21, of Whitehall, drowned.

Some Models Listed

Sampling of GM Prices

By The Associated Press
The following is a sampling of General Motors' new price line, compared with last year:

	1966	1967
Corvair 2-door hardtop	$2,063	$2,128
Chevrolet Caprice, 2-door hardtop	3,000	3,074
Corvette 2-door hardtop	4,295	4,353
Olds 98 4-door sedan	3,966	4,009
Olds Toronado, 2-door	4,617	4,674
Buick Special, 6, 4-door sedan	2,401	2,462
Buick Riviera	4,424	4,469
Pontiac Le Mans, 2-door coupe	2,505	2,568
Pontiac GTO convertible	3,662	3,765
Cadillac DeVille 4-door sedan	5,581	5,625

The prices of two new GM entries attracted considerable attention.

The Chevrolet Camaro, which will challenge Ford's Mustang in the sporty car field, was priced a $2,466 in the six-cylinder, two-door hardtop—about $44 under the Mustang's new price of $2,510.

Cadillac's new front wheel drive El Dorado was priced at $6,277 compared with $4,674 for GM's other front wheel entry, the Oldsmobile Toronado.

Woman Freed in Knifing Case

Self-Defense Ruled in Death of Husband

A Pontiac woman, originally ordered to stand trial in the fatal stabbing of her husband, was freed yesterday by Pontiac police on grounds of "insufficient evidence."

Mrs. Sam Jones, 46, of 183 Osmond had been bound over to Circuit Court Aug. 31 after waiving examination on a manslaughter charge.

The case was remanded back to Municipal Court for preliminary hearing, however, and then dismissed yesterday on a ruling of self-defense.

Mrs. Jones told police when arrested Aug. 22 that her 66-year-old husband had threatened her with a linoleum knife before she retaliated.

Jones was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital about 4 p.m. after police found his body in the living room of the couple's home.

Arizona Coed Stabbed to Death Outside a Hotel

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — An Arizona State University coed was stabbed to death outside a downtown hotel Wednesday night.

The girl, Laura E. Bernstein, 20, of Fair Lawn, N.J., was a junior living off campus.

The girl was stabbed twice in the head and four times in the back and side. A bicycle chain was clutched in one of her hands when children found the body under an arch in a darkened corner of the hotel's outside walkway.

The Tawas Radio Club, in cooperation with the Michigan Six Meter Club and the Pontiac VHF (Very High Frequency) Society, will hold its annual VHF amateur radio hamfest in East Tawas Oct. 7-9.

A spokesman said the convention is expected to attract hundreds of radio operators from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

Representatives of local utility companies as well as distributors of electronic equipment also will attend the convention.

Man Charged With Attack

A Pontiac man accused of attacking a fellow plant worker with a club has been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Sept. 27 on a charge of attempted murder.

Twenty-nine-year-old Josephus Moses of 569 N. East Blvd. was charged by Pontiac police July 12 following the near-fatal beating of a Fisher Body Plant employee.

The victim, Thomas Fair, 30, of 1506 Oakley Park, Commerce Township, was reportedly struck in the head with a two-by-two in an argument between Fair and Moses.

Call Mediator to City Talks

A state mediator has been summoned to negotiations between city officials and Local 376 of the fire fighters union.

Mediator Leonard Berneth has scheduled his first meeting with city and fire fighters' representatives for 10 a.m. Sept. 29.

The fire fighters' contract signed July 19 included no salary increases or longevity provisions.

Fire fighters are seeking a $1,276 raise per man and a longevity program.

Prisoner's Escape From Court Will Bring Procedure Changes

The escape Tuesday of a prisoner from Municipal Court will result in some "new procedures," Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger said yesterday.

The escapee, 23-year-old Bill Perry, disappeared from the courtroom after pleading guilty to a previous jailbreak charge.

"There's no question about it," Hanger said, "the prisoner was the responsibility of our department."

"We picked him up at the Oakland County Jail, brought him over here, and he was in our custody when he escaped."

Free Medical Help Course Being Offered

A 12-week course in handling emergency medical situations is being offered free to the public, beginning Tuesday, by the Pontiac Office of Civil Defense.

The classes are being presented in cooperation with the Oakland County Civil Defense Division.

The first session will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. at Madison Junior High School, 1275 N. Perry.

John Reineck, Civil Defense director in Pontiac, said the course prepares individuals to act intelligently in any medical emergency caused by a tornado, flood, explosion, accident or family illness.

Four Are Arraigned on Break-In Charge

Four Detroit men, charged with breaking and entering the Prudential Insurance Co.'s district agency office at 1350 W. Huron, Waterford Township, yesterday morning, face preliminary examinations before Justice Patrick K. Daly at 9 a.m. Sept. 30.

Standing mute before Daly at their arraignment yesterday were Alfonso Horne, 29, and Richard Sling, Rufus Lewis and William Ford, all 25.

They are being held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

The suspects were arrested about 5:30 a.m. yesterday by Waterford Township Patrolmen Robert Reynolds and Joseph Henson, who were assisted by several area police departments.

JUMPED OUT

The suspects then jumped from their car and tried to escape on foot, but were all captured within a half hour on M59 near the burglary scene.

Police found two typewriters and two adding machines taken from the Prudential building in the suspects' car.

Community Leaders Hail Pontiac Div. MAKE OVER PAGES

Pontiac Motor Division's announcement that it will build a huge new manufacturing plant in the north end of the city has won the applause of community leaders.

Division Manager John Z. DeLorean said ground will be broken next month for the plant, which will house machining and assembly operations for chassis parts.

It will be located on East Columbia just north of the frame plant and will contain more than 200,000 square feet.

Following are comments on the announcement from some of Pontiac's most outstanding citizens:

Joseph A. Warren, Pontiac city manager: "The announcement by Pontiac Motor of the construction of an additional factory building north of Columbia Street is certainly welcome news."

"The tremendous addition to plant capacity that has been constructed in Pontiac during the past two years certainly reflects the great confidence that the public is placing in Pontiac Motor Division products, and all of this is most promising for the future of our community."

UNIONIST RESPONDS

John Maye, president of UAW Local 653, Pontiac Motor Division: "We are enthused about it. Pontiac Motor Division notified the union several months ago that it was losing the building of frames."

"We feel that, due to this additional plant, all of the employees who otherwise would have been lost will now be utilized."

Said Max Adams, executive secretary and manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce: "I think it's one of the finest things that's happened to Pontiac."

"We (the chamber) are behind it 100 per cent," he added. "We'll do everything we can."

PRAISE FROM BANKER

Milo J. Cross, chairman of Pontiac State Bank's board of directors, also praised the move.

"I think it's wonderful that GM and Pontiac Motor Division have that confidence in Pontiac to make this further expenditure and enlarge plant facilities."

Said Robert C. Greening, manager of the J. L. Hudson Store at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center:

"As members of this community since 1902, Hudson's is vitally interested in Pontiac and its environs, and last week's announcement (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Judge, Prosecutor Feud Over Mistrial in County Court Case

A mistrial declared yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court has set off a feud between Judge James S. Thorburn and Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

An exchange of verbal slaps began when Thorburn dismissed the case against two men being tried on charges of burglarizing a Huntington Woods home more than a year ago.

Thorburn said he had no alternative in granting the motion for a mistrial made by defense attorney Carlton Roesser.

JUDGE THORBURN

"The prosecutor's office carelessly drafted the information (contained in the order for the warrant) and did not fulfill its obligation to the public," said Thorburn.

He explained that the warrant failed to define the nature of the felony, and thereby was invalid.

"This trial has been a great waste of effort," said Thorburn in releasing the defendants, Harvey Allen, 39, of Oak Park, and Charles Fields of Detroit.

The jury trial started last Friday, receiving top priority when Bronson was criticized publicly that he had delayed taking action on the case for 10 months.

PUBLIC'S RIGHT

"This is a case which places the legal profession in disrepute with the public," Thorburn said. "The public is entitled to know who, if anybody, has abused its interests."

Strenuously disagreeing with the ruling, Bronson said this morning that new charges would be brought against the two men, and added:

"This is a politically motivated criticism, unjustified by the facts."

"It is common knowledge that the judge is a confident and supporter of my opponents in the forthcoming election," Bronson is a candidate for a circuit court post.

"He dismissed the case in error," said Bronson. "Until we have a transcript of the decision the public interest has been left in doubt."

GM Follows Line on Auto Price Increase

Average Is Less Than Ford, Chrysler Hikes; AMC Will Join Move

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors did as expected today and raised its 1967 car prices as Ford and Chrysler had done earlier.

On a dollar basis, GM's price boost averaged out to $56 and was less than Chrysler's $92 on Ford's $113 average.

American Motors, fourth largest of the nation's auto companies, indicated yesterday it would join the price raise.

The industry's price increases, attributed in large part to safety items added to autos as standard equipment for 1967, was expected to cost the American consumer over a billion dollars.

This was based on an anticipated market of nine million cars and an average price hike of $100 a car.

COSTS CITED

General Motors said its price adjustments did not "include any provision to recover increased wage and fringe benefit costs which average 6 per cent above those in effect a year ago or for increased prices paid for steel, copper and other materials."

It echoed the Ford and Chrysler stand that the price adjustment, with safety items as a big factor, did not constitute a break in the industry's price line.

"As a result, 1967 marks the ninth consecutive model year that General Motors cars have been priced at the 1959 model levels, adjusted only for equipment changes," GM said.

WIN TOP AWARD — Arlo A. McCully (left), circulation manager of The Pontiac Press, and James T. Press Winner of Top Award

The Pontiac Press has won the first place award for circulation promotion among Midwestern newspapers with over 50,000 circulation.

Awards were presented Tuesday in Chicago at the convention of the Central States Circulation Managers Association.

Accepting the award for The Pontiac Press was Arlo A. McCully, the newspaper's circulation manager.

A total of 185 newspapers hold membership in the Central States Association which embraces nine Midwestern states.

The Detroit News won the second place award in the over-50,000 competition.

Taubman: The Man to Get Things Done

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a two-part series on the redevelopment of downtown Pontiac based on the Taubman plan.)

By L. GARY THORNE

Who is Taubman? More than anything A. Alfred Taubman is a doer. He is a man who builds, moving with all the speed of the private DC3 that shuttles him across the country to his shopping center projects.

He is a button-pusher, a decision-maker. Dynamic, self-made, he calls the shots.

And he may start calling the shots on Pontiac's downtown redevelopment, beginning with a $40 million, 80-store shopping center.

A contract that would permit Taubman to go ahead with his

MAY BE ANSWER

A majority of the commission have indicated they think Taubman is the answer to rebuilding, not only the now barren urban renewal land, but also revitalizing the entire downtown area.

A 1941 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Taubman attended the University of Michigan. His main office is in Oak Park with other offices in San Francisco and New York.

He is married, has three children and resides in Southfield. Active in community affairs, his main recreation is thrice-monthly trips around Franklin Hills Country Club. (He shoots in the mid-80s.)

The Taubman organization, known as the Taubman Co., has developed and/or constructed nearly 20 million square feet of retail properties.

N. Viet Raids to Halt if Reds Stop Invasion

Goldberg Plea Made in Major Policy Talk at Meeting of U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States offered today to halt all bombing of North Viet Nam if the Hanoi government will agree to reduce its own military activities against South Viet Nam.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg made the offer in a major policy declaration before the 118-nation U.N. General Assembly. He asked the Hanoi government for a reply, either private or public.

Goldberg also declared the U.S. was ready to begin a phased withdrawal of its troops from Viet Nam, under effective supervision, if the communists would agree to withdraw theirs.

He posed these two questions to North Viet Nam:

• Would it, in the interest of peace, and in response to a prior cessation by the U.S. of the bombing of North Viet Nam, take corresponding steps to reduce or bring to an end its own military activities against South Viet Nam?

• Would North Viet Nam be willing to agree to a time schedule for supervised phased withdrawal from South Viet Nam of all external forces — those of North Viet Nam as well as those from the U.S. and other countries aiding South Viet Nam?

Goldberg repeated since the U.S. position that the role of the Viet Cong in peace negotiations was a question which could be solved by discussions.

"Our view on this matter," he said, "was stated by President Johnson, who made it clear that, as far as we are concerned, this question would not be an insurmountable problem."

"We invite the authorities in Hanoi to consider whether this obstacle to negotiations may not be more imaginary than real."

Star at Holly High Is Ace in Viet, Too

A young man termed a "natural leader" by his former Holly High School teacher is still racking up points in Viet Nam.

Word was received today of how Air Force Lt. Karl Richter, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Richter, 11610 Dixie, near Holly, shot down a Communist MIG jet yesterday 30 miles north-west of Haiphong.

"I saw my 20 mm rounds start to sparkle on the right wing the second time I fired. His right wing fell off. As I flew past I saw the MIG's canopy pop off."

"He ejected okay. He got a good parachute."

MIG ALLEY
That's the way Richter described one of the nine encounters yesterday between U. S. planes and Communist jets in the area known as MIG Alley. One other kill was recorded.

Don Diegel, assistant principal at Holly High where Richter graduated in 1960, recalls that as a student he was

Taubman: He Can Do a Job

Taubman has participated in shopping center projects for over 15 years.

Mayor projects to his credit include Southland in Hayward, Calif.; Sunvalley in Concord, Calif.; Arborland in Ann Arbor; Macomb Mall in Roseville; Taylortown in Taylor, and Woodland in Grand Rapids.

City officials, who will pass on his proposal next week, are confident Taubman can do the job — develop some 63 acres from Lawrence south to the point where East and West Wide Track meet.

MOTHER THRILLED
His mother was thrilled with the report of Richter's success this morning. "I just hope and pray he gets back all right," she said.

In regard to yesterday's mission, Richter's 88th, he said that the engagement lasted 40 seconds. It was unlikely the MIG saw him before it was already in trouble, he said.

"We're were at about 16,000 feet," Richter reported. "Our first two planes turned right. The MIGs came in to make a firing pass on the first two. I guess, the MIG's bellies were toward us and they couldn't have been able to see."

"When we finished the turn, my MIG was right in front of me. It was right out of the tactical manual."

"I was more excited setting up my gear than firing," Richter, stationed in Thailand, has been in combat for six months.

Surveyor Failure

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists unable to halt the spinning of the Surveyor 2 moon-bound spacecraft said early today that the mission is completed — a failure.

City officials share his view, stating that Taubman can be the catalyst for the city total rebirth, an obvious gigantic and time-consuming task.

Local Club to Sponsor Antique Show in Troy

BIRMINGHAM — The Metropolitan Activities Club will sponsor an antique show for the Birmingham area Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

The show, the first of its kind to be sponsored by the Macs, will be held at Har-Ver Hall on Rochester Road near Big Beaver in Troy.

The club is devoted to promoting recreational and social events for handicapped adults.

Proceeds from the show will go toward improvements at Camp Wildwood near Romeo which is to be a resort designed for the specific needs of the handicapped in mind.

When the camp is completed, it will be the only one of its kind in the country, according to representatives of the club.

Working on the show will be club members Mrs. Ralph Fox and Mrs. Carl Fischer, both of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Floyd Doherty, Mrs. James Bragaw, Mrs. Donald Hutton, Mrs. Harold Stubbs, Mrs. Howard Linder, Mrs. William Reilly and Mrs. Robert Andree, all of Birmingham.

In addition to dealers booths, the Macs will have a stand.

Antique owners who wish to donate to the Macs booth, may call Mrs. Floyd Doherty, 1084 Kennesaw, or Mrs. Carl Little, which is to be a resort designed son, president of the club, at 2850 Todd, Troy.

Exam Asked in Death of City Barmaid

Charged with the pistol murder of a Pontiac barmaid, a Pontiac man demanded examination at his arraignment yesterday afternoon in Pontiac Municipal Court.

MOORE

Julian H. Moore, 21, of 319 E. Wilson also asked Judge Cecil B. McCallum appoint an attorney to represent him at the preliminary hearing set for Sept. 28.

McCallum remanded Moore without bond to the Oakland County Jail, where he had been held in bond of $10,000 on a charge of armed robbery.

Moore was formally placed under arrest Tuesday night at the jail by Pontiac Detective Sgt. John L. Williams, who had been led to the suspect by comparison of bullets found at the murder scene and those in Moore's gun.

Victim of the Sept. 8 slaying, 30-year-old Mrs. Roenehl L. Nash, died after being shot with two "concealed" .32-caliber slugs, according to police.

SAME TYPE
Bullets with the same unusual tips were found, Williams said, in a gun taken from Moore following the holdup early Monday of a Waterford Township gas station.

UAW Handling Quiz on Living Conditions

The opinions of United Auto Workers members on living conditions in Pontiac are being sought through a union survey.

"We are seeking to get a point of view, so that when we talk we will know what we're talking about," said Ken Morris, director of UAW Region 1B.

"We want to know how our members feel about these very basic questions," he said, describing the survey as an "effort in citizenship."

Morris said union officials have received reports of persons who are dissatisfied with housing in Pontiac or have been unable to find suitable housing.

"I'm told there are even some living in tents," he said.

THROUGH LOCALS
The three-page UAW questionnaire now is being distributed through locals 540, 594, 596, 653, 733 and 853.

Morris said it would be sent to all Pontiac residents who are UAW members and whose correct addresses are in union files.

Covered by the questionnaire are housing, schools, neighborhood, recreational facilities, city services and social programs for the less fortunate.

Another section contains questions about commercial and industrial development in the city.

announcement of new industrial expansion in the Pontiac area is good news for all of us who live and work in this growing community.

Tom Bateman, immediate past president of the Pontiac Real Estate Board and president of Bateman Realty Co., was enthusiastic.

IT'S FABULOUS
"This new plant announcement is fabulous," he said. "I'm thankful we have Pontiac Motor Division participating in the great Pontiac area economy."

Edwin Gage, president of Tel-Huron Shopping Center Inc., said:

"I am very pleased to see any expansion of industry in the Pontiac area."

NLRB to Hear Dispute at OCC
Oakland Community College officials and striking maintenance and custodial employees will meet with a National Labor Relations Board mediator tomorrow morning.

Members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees have been on strike since Friday, after contract negotiations broke off.

Thursday over a five-cent difference in the wage package sought by the employees and the offer made by college officials.

"It is evidence of Pontiac Motor Division's confidence in this tremendous growth area, the same as we showed in expanding Tel-Huron last year," Gage added.

IT'S WONDERFUL
James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan of Oakland, said:

"I think it is wonderful that Pontiac Motor Division is expanding. It will help the overall economy of the area."

No Matter, It's Fiasco All Around

By ELIZABETH POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I hope you can help five enraged hostesses out. Last Saturday a shower was given for a bride-to-be by four others and myself.

Against our wishes and arguments, the groom-to-be came to the shower. There were no other men present and he was asked to leave but wouldn't.

Therefore, the five of us locked the door while he went out for his camera. He banged on the door, ranted and raved like a little boy rather than a young man. Eventually he found a way in and stayed until the end.

We were wrong to ask him to leave or is it common practice now for men to be at showers? We are at a loss for the answer and since he is to be my future brother-in-law, I would like to make amends if I was wrong, or will expect an apology if he is at fault. — Mrs. D.

Dear Mrs. D.: It's hard to believe that so many people could be so wrong all at once. To begin with, as sister of the bride, you should not even be a hostess at a shower for her.

Then, the groom certainly had no business arriving uninvited, or staying when he was not wanted. This, however, didn't excuse all five hostesses for their rudeness in locking him out of the house.

Finally, his actions that followed were childish and ridiculous. Why he wanted to stay at your "hen party" I don't understand, but in any case, there were so many breaches of good manners committed that I suggest you all forget the whole thing, and in the interest of family harmony, kiss and make up!

ONE NOTE?

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother passed away and the small office in which I work (seven people) sent flowers. Should I send one thank you note to everyone, or to each one individually? — Carolyn J.

Dear Carolyn: Since there were only seven employees who sent flowers, it would be far nicer to send a short individual note to each one.

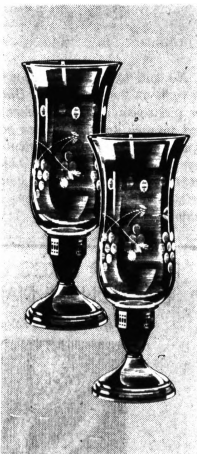

BOYFRIEND LEAVING

Dear Mrs. Post: My boyfriend is going in the Air Force shortly and I would like to know if it's proper for me to give him a gift? If so, what kind of gift? — Regina B.

Dear Regina: Give him a gift by all means! Anything that he can use while he's in the service, other than clothing, is appropriate. You might enjoy the rewards yourself if you gave him some handsome stationery with his name on it.

His Advice: Put Teacher Back in Class

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—Put the teacher into the classroom as a decision maker, for better learning among students, advises one educator.

Dr. David W. Darling, director of professional growth of the Inter-American Center, San Antonio, Tex., told an educator's conference here that school's have had little effect on students' personal involvement in learning.

"We as teachers ought to let our emotions judge more of what is going on in the classroom," Darling said. "The teacher must be put back into the classroom as a decision maker."

"Have more security in what you select and use your own personal criteria," he said. "If you depend on external criteria, there are too many conflicts."

Tomatoes Valuable

One medium-sized raw tomato will provide nearly one-half of the day's requirements of vitamin C and generous amounts of vitamin A.

Handbags Can Be Salvaged

If you want your summer bags — straw, plastic, or fabric — to do extra duty next year, be sure to wash them with soap or detergent suds before storing them for the winter.

Unlined bags should be swished through the suds and scrubbed with a soft brush. Lined bags can be washed on the surface with a sponge dipped into thick soap or detergent suds. Do one small area at a time and rinse away suds with a clean, moist sponge.

After the bags are dry, stuff them with tissue, wrap each separately in a clean cloth, and store safely until needed.

Chrysanthemum Growers Meet

"Mum's the Word" for a program on chrysanthemums sponsored by the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association of Graduate Judges and Teachers, on Oct. 4.

Chairman for the meeting in the Consumers Power Company, Royal Oak auditorium will be Mrs. Wilson F. McClellan of Beverly Hills, who is second vice president of the Judges' Association.

Paul E. Machuga, president and organizer of the National Chrysanthemum Society, Detroit chapter, will narrate slides showing the various phases of growing mums' such as pinching, disbudding, fertilizing, disease control, winter care and propagation.

DAISY ANCESTOR

"It is hard to believe that the large mums we see today are actually the college-bred offspring of the common field daisy," he says.

"While relatively easy to grow, like all other plants, mums respond much better when given special treatment. If neglected, they become tall and straggly or the blooms are small the second year of growth. Sometimes the lower leaves turn brown."

Mr. Machuga became interested in growing chrysanthemums in 1943 and after 23 years of trial, error and study, grows more than 150 specimens.

He gives forums and lecture programs to garden clubs and presented the Chrysanthemum Program in the Horticulture series at the Michigan State Fair Flower and Garden Show.

Plantings are maintained by him at the Detroit City Hall, the median strip at Gratiot and Nine Mile Road, and also at Marygrove College.

Of special interest to the Michigan Division WNFGA.

Temple Memorabilia Kept

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—It's been a long time since Shirley Temple reigned as a child screen star, but her picture is very much in evidence in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Randals.

The couple ran across a mug a few years ago showing the curly-haired girl's face on the blue glass. Since then, they have collected nearly 600 Shirley Temple bowls, mugs and pitchers.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. Consumers Power Company will present a demonstration on the "Wonderful World of Spice."

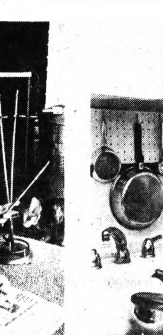

There are now six chrysanthemum judges in the Detroit area and it is the first time there have been any specialized judges in this field in Michigan.

Among area hostesses for the lecture will be Mrs. Boris Osojnak and Mrs. John R. Wait of the Westchester branch, WNFGA.

The glassware was distributed by a cereal company in the 1930's, when the small actress was at the height of her popularity.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. Consumers Power Company will present a demonstration on the "Wonderful World of Spice."

SEVEN HEADLINES Practically is the theme for Modern Electric Auto

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ford now has joined Chrysler and General Motors in the quest for a practical new electric automobile for use in cities where air pollution is a nuisance.

Ford President Arjay Miller let the cat out of the bag in a guarded remark during a lecture at the University of Michigan.

But like the other auto makers, Ford is very cagey on the project and only says the company has no idea yet when it will be able to turn out a practical modern electric car.

The fact that the electric car was not revived during the gasoline shortage of World War I is indicative of the problems in designing one to meet modern conditions.

The last electric passenger cars were made in the United States on a very small scale in 1938.

ANOTHER DECADE

The electric truck hung on another decade and a very few still are in use for city delivery. In Europe, where distances are not so great, they still are used somewhat more widely.

The advantages of the electric car are that it has no gears, is silent, odorless, easy to drive, lasts a long time with a minimum of maintenance and is very cheap to operate.

The disadvantage of the old electric car were its short range, slow speed, heavy weight and high initial cost.

Those batteries, weighing 600 to 800 pounds, would only provide juice for about 100 miles.

ELECTRIC COUPES

In fact, many of the electric coupes of years ago were good only for 50 miles between recharges. That meant the car had to be recharged in a garage every night.

Top speed was only 40 to 50 miles per hour. Most did about 20 miles an hour.

Pact Ratified

LANSING (AP) — The first formally negotiated master contract for Lansing public school teachers was ratified Wednesday by a 1,082-26 vote. The pact, covering 1,500 teachers, provides for a starting salary of $5,600 for teachers with bachelor's degrees.

Three-County Drive Gets Jobs for 5,500

DETROIT (AP)—A Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) recruiting drive found jobs for 5,500 of 14,500 applicants in three counties. Director Malcolm R. Lovell said Wednesday.

He said the intensive 12-day campaign covered Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties. It ended Friday. Data on those who were not employed would be processed to get new information on Detroit's hard-core unemployed, Lovell said.

Despite the MESC effort, during double the usual number of applicants for similar periods, Lovell said it was doubtful metropolitan area industry would be able to avoid recruitment from out-of-state labor sources.

"We are in a very tight labor market," Lovell said. "No one recruitment effort is going to solve our problems."

Negro leaders and the United Auto Workers union have been critical of employing outside workers when Detroit area residents remain unemployed.

Subpoena, Immunity

Kelley Asks Powers

By AL SANDNER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley says he has asked for more grand juries than any attorney general in Michigan history.

They're an effective tool against crime, he says, but they're cumbersome and expensive—and they're doing what he considers part of his job.

Kelley — like virtually every attorney general of either party before him—wants the power to subpoena witnesses and grant them immunity from criminal prosecution that might result from their testimony.

The Legislature this year — like virtually every Legislature before it—refused to grant the subpoena and immunity powers.

The four grand juries he has asked for in the past year have the powers—subpoena and immunity—that Kelley wants to "equalize the arsenal of organized crime."

TO KEEP ASKING

Until and unless he gets these powers, he said, he intends to ask for grand juries any time he feels they are needed.

These, two in Wayne County, one in Oakland and one in Kent, were impounded to investigate allegations of organized crime and corruption in government.

As chief law enforcement officer of the state, Kelley feels such investigations are his primary responsibility.

"Attorneys general in 22 other states have these powers," he said. "These include all of the large states. Fortunately we do not have the problems of organized crime and government corruption that some other states have—but what we do have we don't want."

OTHERS HAVE POWER

Other state agencies have subpoena power, Kelley says, while the law enforcement chief doesn't.

Why haven't lawmakers granted the law enforcer this power?

"Generally, I'd say it's because they fear abuses by an individual who would use it for witch hunts," Kelley said.

Legislative leaders admit off the record that, while they generally favor the idea, they're afraid of potential abuses — no matter what the party of the attorney general.

'POLITICAL TOOL'

"This is potentially a tremendous political tool to put in the hands of a man who is a highly political animal," one said.

"Even being subpoenaed by the attorney general could do a tremendous amount of political damage to an innocent party — whether anything was proven later or not," he added.

The DRC Story

THE HIDDEN WIZARDS WHO RUN DAILY CHECKS AGAINST THE IMPOSSIBLE

The Crash Test

It is a check against the impossible. It is one of the extraordinary steps taken to guarantee each Fan at the Detroit Race Course unusual protection.

On the second level of our Grandstand area, in a section the racing public sees only at a distance, is housed a maze of intricate machinery that makes up the equipment used in our Pari-Mutuel Department.

Each day . . . two hours before the start of the racing program . . . slender, scholarly Fred Clark, who is the American Totalisator Company representative with us, directs an amazing crash test.

There are 210 machines which issue mutual tickets at the DRC. The clerk, who man these machines, sell tickets in $2, $5, $10, $50 and $100 denominations to Win, Place and Show.

In Clark's crash test, theoretically a Fan at each of the 210 windows buys a ticket on the same horse and the Mutuel Clerks simultaneously punch the keys to issue the tickets.

"The ticket the Fan gets actually is a receipt," Clark says, "but it isn't issued until our master system has made an acknowledgement of the wager and recorded it. In the 'impossible' situation we set up for the crash test, it takes only three to four seconds for every possible Straight, Place, Show or Combination wager to be acknowledged and recorded."

The Crash Test is the final step in continuing checks made every day of the 'Tote' equipment at the DRC. Tests, which require two and one-half hours, are run daily before the first wager is taken. Every cable and lamp in the entire, intricate system is checked each time.

Can the 'Tote' equipment make a mistake?

The 'Tote's' record for accuracy in handling $47,000,000,000 in wagers at tracks throughout the United States is 99.999%.

"Any time you have a combination of electrical, mechanical and human factors," Clark says, "there always will be a margin for error. But the 'Tote' constantly approaches perfection."

The 'Tote' was introduced to racing in the United States in 1933 and has been a vital part of the growth and progress the Sport has made in the past three decades.

On the giant 'Tote' Board in our infield, Fans can watch unfold the intriguing wagering story of each race.

The size of the Win, Place and Show pools are shown from the moment the wagering opens until the "Off Bell" when the horses leave the gate. The pool totals are flashed on a 30 second cycle. Incidentally, the machines which issue the tickets lock automatically with the "Off Bell." The Big Board also records the amount wagered on each horse.

Knowing what the 'Tote' equipment does and understanding its superlative accuracy and the protection it affords you on each wager, are extras which I think will add to your Racing Pleasure at the Detroit Race Course.

All our efforts and facilities are keyed to make Racing fun for you. We have a magnificent new $3,000,000 Clubhouse. It has two Dining Terraces, offering the finest in food and beverages.

We have close-in parking for 12,000 cars. There are Easy-In, Easy-Out entrances and exits on Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

I hope you will plan to visit us soon.

Navajos Suffer 'Poverty of the Soul'

By JACK V. FOX

United Press International
The high desert was blazing hot in the Arizona sun and the Navajo sheep and goats had been herded from 30 miles around to rough rock for the once-a-year dip in disinfectant to rid them of ticks and lice.

Tugging and hauling away at the sheep were two girls who might have been debutantes — Sheila Marvin of Pleasantville, N.Y., and Linda Elmsner of Crystal Lake, Ill.

Twenty yards away, Indian squaws holding their young stared at the white girls in astonishment. The girls were VISTAS —

Volunteers in Service to America, a sort of domestic Peace Corps.

They were wrestling the squirming sheep toward a smelly trough in an idealistic, naive but heart-lugging attempt to show that the white people want to help the nation's largest Indian tribe up out of a poverty that is as much of soul as of body.

EXTENSIVE LAND
The Navajo reservation spreads over most of Utah and New Mexico but only its 24,000-square miles lies in northeastern Arizona.

Crossing its great plateaus and mesas is a trip as long as from Boston to Washington.

On it subsist 110,000 Navajos, most of them living in hogans, round or hexagonal shaped buildings of timbers clinched with mud and overlaid with a roof of sticks and mud or hides.

The hogans have dirt floors, no plumbing and no heating except for an open fire which also serves for cooking. The one community well for water may be as far as 20 miles away.

LITTLE PATCHES
The Navajos exist by raising sheep, goats and some cattle and by planting pathetic little patches of corn, beans and squash.

A few of the women make blankets and rugs and some of the older artisans make the heavy Navajo silver jewelry. But the hogan that the tourist pays $24 for in a curio shop off the Indian reservation has been marked up from the $8 paid the Navajo silversmith.

Their average per-capita income is only a few hundred dollars a year. The 1965 per-capita personal income of the average American was $2,724.

The remoteness of the tribe is almost unbelievable.

FIRST WHITE MAN

Pat Ariza of Duluth, Minn., another VISTA volunteer, recently drove a high-chassis Ford Bronco over the trails to Navajo Mountain not far from the Grand Canyon.

He was the first white the Indians had ever seen. The oldest member of the community, a man in his 80s, told Ariza that his father once had told him about the white man.

In a flat stone building at Fort Defiance that was once a military jail is the office of Peter MacDonald.

He is an ex-Marine, holder of a degree in electrical engineering, a former project engineer for the Hughes Aircraft Co. in the development of guidance systems for the Polaris missile.

BORN IN HOGAN
The 37-year-old MacDonald is a Navajo, born in a hogan on the reservation 100 miles north of Fort Defiance.

His name probably was given to one of his ancestors by a soldier who couldn't spell the Navajo name and dubbed his own.

MacDonald is the director of the Office of Navajo Economic Opportunity. He reports to Sargent Shriver's War on Poverty operation in Washington.

He describes the plight of the Navajo this way: "Conditions on the reservation have reached the stage where no amount of giveaway programs, no amount of money, can correct the basic inner poverty of the Navajo."

POVERTY OF SOUL
"This is poverty of the soul. You see it everywhere and it is becoming especially evident in the young people. It's when someone says 'I'll hell with everything, I've given up.'"

MacDonald's hope—and he is hopeful—is the education of young Navajos in colleges plus job experience off the reservation with the fundamental condition that they come back after a few years to help their tribe.

There are college scholarships for ambitious youngsters but few ever return.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA URCHIN

QUESTION: What sort of animal is a sea urchin?

ANSWER: Sea urchins belong to a lowly class of marine animals called echinoderms, which means "spiny-skinned." When we see a live sea urchin in some sea water pool close to the ocean, we can understand the name spiny-skinned, for it looks like a bur, with sharp spines sticking out around its body.

Even a hungry fish would probably decide it looks too difficult to eat. The dried test, or shell, (3 left) is often found on the beach, looking something like a door-nob.

The spines have fallen out. Underneath, the sea urchin has small holes in its shell from which come tentacles that can feel around, detecting small creatures for food, and pushing them toward the circular mouth.

This is possible because the tentacles or tube feet have sucking discs on the end.

Using its tube feet and some of the movable spines, the animal can crawl along. Relatives of the sea urchin are the sand dollar and starfish.

All these animals have a central mouth with body parts radiating in symmetrical fashion from it. They are all said to possess "radial symmetry."

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to draw a picture of a person with radial symmetry. It's impossible—but it's fun to try!
