Use of Time Won by Arms Vital—Reuther

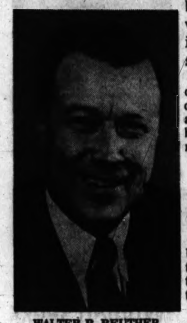
All that can be won with military power is time and opportunity, United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther told some 1,100 Michigan United Nation Association members this morning at Oakland University.

What the nations of the world do with the time bought with armaments will be the decisive factor in the 20th Century, he said.



WALTER P. REUTHER

Reuther cited as the two dominant needs of the world today, ending of the nuclear threat and the narrowing of the gap between the "haves and have nots."

More money will be spent on armaments in four hours than the United Nations Children's Fund will spend all year, he said.

Reuther urged use of the United Nations to bring peace to the world, to establish unity through diversity rather than through compulsion.

★ ★ ★

"A rational world community can be built only within the broad framework of the greatest human diversity," he said, adding it can fit into no nation's preconceived mold.

PRIMARY GOAL

He said the primary goal should not be to seek agreement, but understanding, which is "much more fundamental."

The United States, he said, should spend two per cent of its gross national product for the next 25 years to help the disadvantaged people of the world, using tools of peace rather than weapons of war.

Reuther suggested that the youth of the world meet not on the battlefield but in an international peace corps.

★ ★ ★

"Nothing less than a call to greatness can save the human family," said Reuther, keynote speaker at the state conference.

Scheduled for this afternoon was a speech by Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

Water Service Price Offered

Waterford Board OKs Bid on County Project

Waterford Township has offered to provide water service to the Oakland County Service Center for a $25,500 connection charge at the same water rate being paid by township customers.

Drawn up by Kenneth M. Squiers, township utilities manager, the proposal was approved last night by the Township Board.

In addition to the connection charge, the Waterford proposal calls for a $170 quarterly debt service charge.

The board authorized Squiers to negotiate with county officials to finalize engineering and construction plans for the project if the proposal is accepted

★ ★ ★

County officials have indicated they also will ask Pontiac to submit a proposal with price quotations.

FUTURE GROWTH

The inquiry on possible outside water sources was made by county officials in view of the proposed future growth of the service center.

The proposed hookup would be via an eight-inch line, according to Squiers.

"Based on the estimated requirements of the service center," said Squiers, "it would be necessary to provide an eight-inch line as the peak hour demand is 462 gallons per minute."

Artillery Barrage Is Sent Across Border to Silence Heavy Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States tore away a thin veil of official secrecy from U.S. military operations along the Cambodian frontier today by acknowledging for the first time that U.S. forces had fired across the international border.

The announcement by the U.S. command in Saigon indirectly warned Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, that he can expect more action against his territory if he continues to let the Viet Cong use it for attacks on American forces in South Viet Nam.

A U. S. spokesman said American artillerymen unleashed a heavy barrage Saturday in silence "very heavy" automatic weapons and mortar fire from across the border on a battalion of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division.

The "Big Red One" was sweeping the South Vietnamese side of the Cai Bac River in Tay Ninh Province, 57 miles northwest of Saigon, long suspected of headquartering the Viet Cong's political arm, the National Liberation Front.

★ ★ ★

The State Department declared last December that U. S. commanders in the field had been authorized to enter or fire on Cambodian territory if it was being used by troops attacking American forces. Sihanouk and his representatives have repeatedly denied that the Viet Cong were using Cambodia as a sanctuary.

The GIs have seized hundreds of tons of Viet Cong supplies in the past nine days of their sweep — Operation Birmingham — in the jungled area. It is the largest Communist cache taken in the war.

Reds to Hold Confab on Viet Nam Conflict

LONDON (UPI) — A Communist summit conference on Viet Nam strategy and the Soviet-Chinese conflict will likely be held early in July, informed sources said today.

Top leaders of Russia, the East European countries and several leading Communist parties outside the Red bloc appear to have agreed on the conference, the sources said.

Its chief aim will be to coordinate Communist policy and assistance to North Viet Nam and seek a joint line on the feud with Red China.

The party chiefs of the Warsaw Pact nations—Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria — were said to be among those slated to participate.

Other leaders were expected to be invited and there was speculation that Communist North Viet Nam might also attend.

The place of the projected meeting was not known. The reports said the meeting was discussed when Red leaders were in Moscow for the recent 23rd Party Congress.

Latest diplomatic reports suggested that hopes for a truce with Peking have now been abandoned by the Kremlin and there are signs that Red China is mounting a new offensive against Moscow.

Admits Unrest Cut War Effort

Military Operations Hurt---McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says South Vietnamese political unrest cut allied military operations by more than half and prompted administration fears of civil war and the overthrow of the government in Saigon.

★ ★ ★

McNamara made the disclosures as he fielded questions from the floor of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention yesterday.

"The tempo of military operations was adversely affected by the political disorders," McNamara said. He estimated operations against the Viet Cong were reduced 50 to 70 per cent.

But he said the administration had feared more severe effects.

★ ★ ★

"We were afraid of a civil war, we were afraid of the separation of the entire northern part of the country, and of the overthrow of the government," he said.

MORE INFILTRATIONS

McNamara also acknowledged that despite the bombing of North Viet Nam the number of Communist infiltrators is three times above the level of a year ago.

And, he added, "we probably will have to increase the number of our troops."

McNamara said, however, this does not mean the bombing did not achieve its objective.

★ ★ ★

The defense chief had a "categoric no" when asked whether there is a shortage of war materials in South Viet Nam.

MINING HARBOR

McNamara also spoke out against mining of the harbor at Haiphong, a major North Vietnamese port, saying this would be unwise because "we do not seek to widen the war. Our objective is a very limited one."

182,000 Cars Called Back by Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. said yesterday it has called in 182,000 Plymouth and Dodge automobiles for possible repairs because 20 of the 1966 cars were found to have loose nuts on a front suspension component.

Meanwhile, an auto industry trade paper reported that Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Corp. has called for repairs on a four - barrel carburetor which, in some cases, allowed gasoline to spew over the engine and ignite.

A Chrysler spokesman said the firm knows of two cases where two nuts came off a control arm strut to the front suspension.

Affected cars were Dodge Coronets and Chargers and Plymouth Belvederes and Satellites produced at a Detroit assembly plant and a Los Angeles plant, he said.

The trade paper Automotive News said defects were found in a carburetor made by Rochester Products Division of GM and installed on some early 1966 GM cars.

Pick Senator Next Week

Romney Will Name Fill-In for McNamara

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today he expects to fill Michigan's vacant Senate seat by early next week.

He said that yesterday he talked to U. S. Rep. Robert Griffin, the man expected to get the job, but declared, "I have not made a conclusive decision."

The seat was vacated Saturday by the death of Democrat Patrick V. McNamara.

Griffin already had been designated by the party as the preferred Republican candidate for the seat which McNamara planned to vacate at the end of this term.

Romney took himself out of any speculation on a successor by saying, "as far as I am concerned, I'm not giving any consideration to my being appointed."

MANY CALLED

He observed, "a lot of people would like to be senator. I even had a call from out of state."

The governor postponed until May 12 a local problems meeting in Marquette so he could attend tomorrow's funeral in Detroit for McNamara.

The anticipated appointment of Griffin had been expected to be delayed until after he left for a trip to South Viet Nam as a member of a House committee.

For Scout Camp

Public Campaign Opens

The public phase of a campaign to raise $550,000 for the purchase and development of Lost Lake Reservation as a camping site for the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America began today.

"To support the Lost Lake Reservation is to support the future of our community, an interest I'm sure we all share," said John Z. DeLorean, general chairman of the Lost Lake Reservation Development Fund, in kicking off the public campaign.

DeLorean is a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division. The drive is scheduled to run through mid-June.

Lost Lake Reservation is a 2,284-acre tract located 15 miles north and west of Clare. It will serve more than 11,000 Boy Scouts in the council which includes 33 townships in Oakland and Macomb counties.

"Scouting is the heart of a boy growing into manhood and camping is the heart of Scouting," DeLorean said.

"I can think of no better investment in character - development and citizenship - training than to actively support a program which will provide scout camp facilities."

★ ★ ★

The campaign has been approved by the Pontiac Area United Fund and the Detroit United Foundation. This is the first time in the 57-year history of the council that the public has been asked to support a major fund drive.

DeLorean noted that there are twice as many Scouts in the Oakland and Macomb county area as there were 10 years ago and in 10 more years there would be at least 20,000 boys enrolled in Scouting.

Claims Caterer Seen at Airport in Wichita

DETROIT (AP) — State Police say a suburban Southfield man who said he was kidnaped and held for 12 days has been identified by a Wichita, Kan. airline clerk as the man who bought a ticket to Denver one day after his disappearance.

Sgt. Patrick Lyons said yesterday, the clerk identified a photograph of Robert Rosenberg, 32, as the picture of a man who bought a ticket April 9 in the name of "Bob Boyd."

Another clerk said he thought Rosenberg was the same man who bought the ticket, Sgt. Lyons said.

Rosenberg, a caterer, disappeared April 8 and was not seen until April 20 when he staggered into a southeastern Michigan motel with a bullet wound in his back.

He told officers he was abducted in Detroit and held, bound and blindfolded, for 12 days.

★ ★ ★

He could not identify the men he said abducted him, police said.

State Police said the pistol used to shoot Rosenberg had been purchased in Wichita by a man giving the name Bob Boyd.

One of the ticket agents, Patrick Harlan, said the man buying the ticket was wearing a black sweater.

Rosenberg was wearing a similar sweater when he entered the motel, officers said.

Sgt. Lyons said Rosenberg denied being in either Wichita or Denver or using the name Boyd.

He said a copy of Rosenberg's signature was being sent to Wichita for comparison and that Rosenberg would be asked to take a lie detector test when he recovers from the bullet wound.

Rights Bill Faces Ordeal on Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has its first skirmish today over President Johnson's new civil rights bill, with its fair housing section apparently already doomed.

What sounded like a fatal blow to a provision banning racial or religious discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing was struck by Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

He called this part of the bill "absolutely unconstitutional" and said that if this is retained, he could not support any move to break a filibuster against the legislation.

"If you can tell me what interstate commerce is involved in selling or renting a house fixed to the soil, or where there is federal jurisdiction, I'll go out and eat the chimney off the house," Dirksen said.

Both Dirksen and Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said they would oppose any move to fix a deadline for action on the bill by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., reserved the right to make such a move when the bill was introduced in the Senate last Thursday.

★ ★ ★

In the past, the Judiciary Committee, with Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., as chairman, has been a dead end for civil rights bills in the absence of instructions by the Senate to act within a specific time.

Dirksen played a crucial role in the passage of the comprehensive Civil Rights Bills of 1964 and last year's voting rights measure.

THREW SUPPORT

Not only did he work closely with the administration in drafting compromise language, but he also threw his support behind winning the two-thirds majority necessary to prevent southern opponents from filibustering the legislation to death.

He said Monday, however, that he would not try to choke off a filibuster against a bill he regarded as "absolutely unconstitutional."

★ ★ ★

Dirksen also said he knew of no way in which the fair housing section could be rewritten to make it constitutional and "still get the effect they want."

This was bound to be welcome news to southern senators who earlier in the day had met in the office of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., to discuss their strategy for battling the legislation.

OTHER PARTS

However, Dirksen indicated he would go along with other parts of the bill—to prevent racial discrimination in selecting juries, to increase criminal penalties for intimidation or violence against civil rights workers, and to broaden the attorney general's power to file suits for the desegregation of schools and other public facilities.

Thant: Tensions Threaten to Spark World War III

STRASBOURG, France (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant warned today that political, economic and racial tensions are threatening to push mankind into the total disaster of a third world war.

Speaking to the European Consultative Assembly, Thant called on the peoples of Europe to devote their talents and genius to preventing another global conflict.

★ ★ ★

The secretary general proposed that the United Nations undertake a thorough study of the probable effects of a nuclear war on the world's population and civilizations.

★ ★ ★

He said such a report should be distributed as widely as possible in all languages to alert the average person to the dangers hanging over humanity.

Thant said the causes of tension are the East-West political struggle, the growing gap between the have and have-not nations, the breakup of the colonial system and racial discrimination in several forms.

"It is unthinkable," Thant told the assembly, "that we may need a third world war to teach us how to coexist on this richly endowed planet, but sometimes events in the world seem to be pointing in this direction.

"There is thus a desperate need to bring the forces of enlightened public opinion to bear firmly on problems which threaten, or are likely to threaten in the future the welfare of all.

"It is inconceivable to me that any country or group of countries would wish to push their ideological differences to such a point of fanaticism that they would be resolved only by a global war," Thant said.

"We know that the next global war, wherever it may start, will be a thermonuclear war and you are all well aware of the consequences of such a war to human existence."

SIX PRIMARIES

The six primaries were the first of many which will culminate Nov. 8 in the election of all 435 members of the House of Representatives, 35 U.S. senators and 35 governors.

Wallace's wife, Lurleen, was the candidate on the ballot in the Alabama Democratic primary.

But her campaign left no doubt that if elected, she would "let George do it."

She is running against nine men.

A record turnout of 800,000 voters was expected for the Alabama race.

Officials Are Interested in Idea for Nativity Play

BIRMINGHAM — A proposal for a Nativity play to be staged annually at Shain Park sparked the interest of the City Commission last night.

Plans for the program were outlined by Mrs. Florence Purvis, 1447 Henrietta, who told commissioners the play could draw thousands of tourists to Birmingham at Christmas.

The commission, while taking no official action on the idea, however, encouraged Mrs. Purvis to seek additional assistance from civic, cultural and neighborhoods groups to make it a community project.

Mrs. Purvis, who would write and produce the half-hour play, said it would replace the present "Caroling in the Square," presented one or two evenings the week before Christmas each year.

★ ★ ★

The drama, she said, would be presented "in the round" on a circular platform in the center of the park.

LOCAL TALENT

Local talent would be used in the cast, and hundreds of school-children would provide the singing, according to Mrs. Purvis.

In other business, the Commission referred a proposal for a historical village back to the Historical Board for further study.

The action was taken after the commission decided not to accept a gift of an old home which the Historical Board has proposed for a museum.

The museum would have been the first building in the village.

The commission turned down the offer at this time because there were too many unanswered questions as to the operation of the museum.

Final Respects Paid to Pat McNamara

DETROIT (AP) — Patrick V. McNamara's mourners numbered pipefitters, plumbers and politicians.

★ ★ ★

They and others filed by the hundreds past the funeral bier of the blunt-spoken senator Monday night and today, paying their final respects.

The 71-year-old senior senator from Michigan died Saturday after suffering a stroke at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md.

An array of dignitaries, and of laboring men from whose ranks McNamara came, are expected to attend the solemn Requiem Mass Wednesday in Detroit's Holy Name Church.

12 YEARS

McNamara, once a 9-cent-an-hour pipefitter, spent much of his nearly 12 years in the Senate working on legislation in fields of labor, education and social welfare.

A bill to extend the minimum wage law, among the last major legislation of which he was Senate sponsor, is pending.

"He was very pleased that most of his legislation had passed," said Robert S. Perrin, long-time aide to McNamara.

McNamara announced last February he would not seek a third term.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told the Senate Monday of spending last Thursday evening with McNamara and McNamara's wife, Mary.

Hart said McNamara was fully aware of what legislation was pending in the Senate and that he expressed hope for passage of measures he had sponsored. He also was "calmly aware of the uncertainty of life," Hart said.

Flags fluttered at half-staff in Detroit today as Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh declared a period of mourning until Thursday.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain in the northern Florida area and upper Plateau is the only precipitation predicted in the nation for tonight. It will be cooler from the Ohio Valley to the Atlantic coast and warmer in the central and northern Plains and northern Rockies.

April Showers Aided Lakes

Maybe the average citizen wasn't overjoyed with the rainfall last month, but lake property owners were deliriously happy, to say the least.

Lake levels throughout the county rose sharply as April lived up to its showery reputation and then, for good measure, tossed in a couple of heavy rainstorms.

Though it rained on only nine of the 30 days, the total amounted to about three inches, much more than was expected, according to a county official who keeps tab on water levels.

Nearly an inch of rain was recorded on the 23rd of the month. In comparison, only 1½ inches fell in all of April 1965.

★ ★ ★

The month made its debut with a mixture of rain and snow, previewing to some extent what could be expected throughout April.

WARM DAYS

But there were some surprises in the form of exceptionally warm days.

The warmest April day came on the 20th when the temperature climbed to a Miami-like 76 degrees.

The coldest day was recorded on April 8 when the mercury fell four degrees below freezing.

Average high temperature for the month was 53.3 degrees, the average low 35.

COMFORTABLE

The mean temperature was a comfortable 44.1 degrees, almost duplicating last year's reading of 43.7 for April.

A freakish, freezing rain hit the area on the 27th of the month.

It was just cold enough for ice to form on branches of trees and bushes, coating utility wires with a shiny glaze.

★ ★ ★

But streets and sidewalks were not receptive to the ice, and no slippery conditions were reported.

Unlike April a year ago when three inches of snow fell, last month's accumulation was almost nil even though there were heavy flurries on several days.

County's June Draft Call 87

Oakland County's selective service call for the month of June has been set at 87 men, nearly 200 less than last month and the lowest figure since the March call was canceled.

The county figure is among a state quota of 1,225 announced by Selective Service Director Col. Arthur Holmes.

Of the Oakland total, three men will be called by Board 65 from Pontiac, 13 by Board 67 from the southwestern sector of the county, and eight by Board 331 from northern Oakland County.

In addition, Farmington Board 328 is scheduled to take 34 and the three Royal Oak boards will call 29.

Oakland's total call was second among Michigan counties to Wayne, which will take 561.

OK Apartment Site Rezoning

A rezoning request for a proposed 88-unit apartment development was unanimously approved last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Located in Acres Heights Subdivision on Malcolm north of Cooley Lake Road, the property—consisting of four lots and parts of two others — was rezoned from single family residential (R-1A) to multiple dwelling residential (R-2).

Developer Edwin L. Adler agreed to participate in a proposed road paving project as suggested by the township planning commission.

Malcolm would be paved from Cooley Lake to the north edge of the proposed development. Estimated cost is $10,300.

Current plans call for construction of a sewage treatment plant to service the apartment units. The project would also include a swimming pool.

RECOMMENDED

The zoning change was previously recommended for approval by the planning commission and county coordinating planning and zoning committee.

In other business, an appropriation of $16,924 was approved for the township building department for the remainder of the 1966 budget year.

The funds will pay salaries for three yet-to-be hired inspectors, a wage increase for Director of Inspections E. R. Lawson, mileage costs and a new typewriter.

Lawson's annual salary was increased from $8,719 to $9,901 on the recommendation of Supervisor Dorothy W. Olson.

ANNUAL RATES

Annual pay rates for the new personnel will be $7,384 for an electrical inspector, $7,030 for a plumbing inspector and $6,386 for a building inspector.

Lawson, in asking for the additional personnel, stressed the large increase in new construction in the township the past two years.

See Related Stories on Page A-5

He said a critical situation exists in the building department because of a manpower shortage. Presently, four inspectors work under Lawson.

★ ★ ★

"It's just an impossibility to handle the work load," said Lawson.

SURPLUS FUNDS

The appropriation, to be drawn from surplus funds in the budget, will be partly reimbursed by an anticipated increase in permit fees.

Also last night, Planning Director Vern Wiggins and his assistant, Curtis Rossow, were granted annual pay boosts on the recommendation of the planning commission and Mrs. Olson.

Wiggins' salary was increased from $8,549 to $9,901, while Rossow was granted a pay raise from $6,696 to $7,384.

The additional expenditure for the final eight months of the current budget year will be drawn from planning department funds.

$3.1-Million Bond Issue OK'd for Avondale Vote

A record $3.1-million bond issue for building and a request to renew 3.9 operating mills will be submitted to Avondale School District voters at the June 13 election.

The bond issue, approved unanimously by board of education members last night, is about $1.3 million more than that recommended by a citizens study committee.

The tax levy to support the program will be the same, however, as that recommended by the committee.

Because of a new state law which permits school districts to borrow from the State School Bond Loan Fund if they levy 7 mills for debt retirement, Avondale will have to increase its debt levy by only 3.9 mills.

★ ★ ★

The present levy is 3.1 mills for debt retirement.

WERE EXPIRED

The 3.9 operating mills up for renewal are part of a 14.90 mill operating levy. They expired after the 1965 tax collection.

For $3.1 million, the school district would get:

- A new elementary school for $490,000.
- A new high school for $2 million.
- A high school site for $105,000.
- Three 12-acre elementary school sites for $108,000.
- Remodeling of the present elementary schools for $150,000.
- Instructional materials centers at each elementary school for $240,000.
- A new administration building and bus garage for $100,000.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. John Dickey said the program follows closely the citizens committee recommendation with the exception of the elementary sites and the administration building and bus garage.

NEED IS NOW

"These were in the long-range program," Dickey said, "but we feel we can't afford to wait, particularly on the site purchases.

"We know we'll need the cites and land is increasing in value so we think it's wiser to purchase them now."

Architects are already drawing plans for the elementary school, which is to be located on the Bloomfield Orchards site.

★ ★ ★

Board members felt they could save four to six months construction time by having the plans ready when and if the bond issue is approved.

HIGH SCHOOL

The board is planning a 48-room high school, although Dickey said he doesn't think $2-million will cover it.

"We'll get as many classrooms as we can and all the necessary high school facilities first," he said. "Then any additions would be classrooms."

A site has not yet been located for a high school, according to Dickey, but plans are to put it somewhere in the center of the district.

He said a committee is working on site location now.

NOT DETERMINED

The elementary sites have not been determined yet either. Dickey emphasized that construction of the three additional elementary schools is not included in this bond issue.

School officials hope to be partially reimbursed for the site purchases. Under the Open Space Land Program, the federal government will reimburse a school district up to 50 per cent if it can guarantee that part of the land will remain open space.

Most districts designate this open space for playgrounds.

★ ★ ★

Dickey said the board plans to apply for the reimbursement.

ABOUT 2 YEARS

Construction of the high school is expected to take about two years. Dickey said the elementary school will "hopefully" be finished sooner.

He said temporary classrooms will probably have to be used this fall to house the increasing enrollment.

In other action last night, the board appointed Mrs. Margaret Crelley as acting principal of the Auburn Heights Elementary School for the remainder of the school year.

★ ★ ★

She will replace William Saville, who will be able to take up his duties full time as assistant superintendent for business affairs.

FIRST GRADE

Mrs. Crelley has been in the system for 25 years and has been a first grade teacher at Auburn Heights.

The board also decided to eliminate its "special" meeting which is held the first Monday of each month.

★ ★ ★

From now on, unless business warrants a special meeting, the board will meet only the third Monday of each month.

★ ★ ★

Seeking New Bids on Holly Post Office

HOLLY — Bidding for construction of a new post office in the village has been reopened.

Four bids on the job submitted to the Post Office Department earlier this year were turned down because they were too high, according to Paul C. Bridgman of the Detroit regional office.

The site selected under the department's lease construction program is located at the northeast corner of First and Maple streets.

The successful bidder will purchase the property and construct the building according to departmental specifications. It will be leased to the Post Office Department for a basic period of 10 years, with options to renew.

★ ★ ★

The building remains under private ownership with the owner paying the taxes. Capital investment of the department will be limited to postal equipment.

Bidding documents may be obtained from Bridgman, Room 914, Box 656, 1401 W. Fort, Detroit, Mich. 48232.

The signers must be qualified electors who are also property owners within the village.

★ ★ ★

ACTION URGED

The committee recommended that the council take immediate action to initiate an election for a city charter commission which would be charged with the responsibility of proposing a charter for a home rule city.

Faces Trial in Theft of License Plates

ROCHESTER — An innocent plea was entered in Avon Township Justice Court yesterday by a 17-year-old youth arraigned on a charge of possessing stolen license plates.

Judge Luther C. Green released Christopher L. Thornber of 818 Alston on $100 bond and set trial date for May 17.

Thornber was arrested Sunday by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, who said he admitted that license plates on his motorcycle had been stolen.

Two other youths implicated in theft of the plates have not been positively identified.

Massachusetts passed a law in 1646 making it unlawful to smoke except when on a journey five miles from any townsite. The regulation was for fire protection.

Intern Teaching Plan Okayed by Rochester School Board

ROCHESTER — The board of education last night approved an elementary intern teaching program in conjunction with Michigan State University.

The program, which is scheduled to begin in 1968, differs considerably from the normal practice teaching program, according to Schools Supt. Dr. William J. Early.

Under the intern program, prospective teachers do their practice teaching over a longer period of time in their junior year. During their senior year they teach full-time.

Early said it is a longer and more practical approach to the training of teachers.

★ ★ ★

The board also approved participation in a Head Start program at Brooklands School this summer. The program gives socially and economically deprived children a "head start" on their schooling.

★ ★ ★

Early said about 15 children will probably be eligible for the program. He said details of the project are now being worked out.

In other action, the board approved a parking lot lighting program at six elementary schools and at Central Junior High School.

The lighting was recommended by Detroit Edison and the school business office.

"Our schools are getting so much community use at night," Early said, "that we feel we need better lighting in the parking lots."

Financing of Blacktopping Approved

The Waterford Township Board last night approved a resolution to finance the Indian Woods Subdivision street blacktopping project from the improvement revolving fund.

Expected to get under way this month, the project would consist of blacktopping three streets — Indianview Drive, Shawnee Lane and Shawnee Court.

Total cost of the project is $32,714. Property owners will pay $29,443, with the township paying the balance.

Each of the 53 taxpayers will be assessed a cost of about $550 under the special assessment district project. First installment is due July 1.

A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham is the contractor, having submitted the low bid of $25,517.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board—on the recommendation of the Waterford Township library advistory board—authorized Clerk Elmer Fangboner to get price quotations for an air conditioning system for the main library on Tubbs Road.

Cost is expected to be less than $3,000.

The board agreed to take steps to amend a zoning ordinance to allow a multiple dwelling residential (R-2) district for a portion of the property on the southeastern corner of Pontiac Lake Road at Cass Lake Road.

SCHOOL BONDS

The board went on record as approving the four school bonding proposals and millage proposition to be voted on in the June 13 election after hearing a presentation by Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe.

A joint meeting between the Township Board and Pontiac City Commission to discuss mutual problems was tentatively set for June 2 pending approval of the commissioners.

Seek Parley With City on Sewer Terms

The Waterford Township Board last night directed Township Attorney Paul Mandel to seek negotiations with Pontiac officials to alter a 1958 city-township agreement which provides city sewer services to a portion of the township.

A proposed amendment to the agreement would extend Pontiac sewer services to another part of the township for a new elementary school—Cherokee Hills — and about 50 residential lots.

Township officials voiced opposition to a stipulation which states that either municipality can terminate the agreement by giving three-years notice.

Also, the cost for township connections to the Pontiac system and service rates is double that paid in the city, according to township officials.

★ ★ ★

The Township Board previously passed a resolution that the 1958 agreement be amended. An amendment was drawn up by the city attorney, but has not been approved by the City Commission.

★ ★ ★

Teachers Given Fellowships

David Doidge of 319 S. Telegraph, a mathematics-science teacher at Mason Junior High School, has been awarded a fellowship by Syracuse University as part of the experienced teacher fellowship program of the U.S. Office of Education.

Receiving a similar fellowship was Earl Smith, a teacher at Southfield's Levey Junior High School.

Doidge and Smith, along with 13 others, will be trained as educational media (audiovisual) specialists in a nine-month program which begins next fall.

The program is designed to prepare teachers to be media directors for supplementary education centers to be established throughout the U.S. under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

More Nobel prize winners have come from the United States than any other country.

Patrick V. McNamara

The fates that in 1954 ordained Democrat PAT MCNAMARA a U. S. Senator through the death of a candidate already named for the post, Saturday decreed the passing of the solon seven months before his planned retirement from office.

McNAMARA

Known as a diamond in the rough, the raspy-voiced, 71-year-old native of Massachusetts had been a Detroit resident since 1921. There, his career had been a tempestuous one as he rose to the top in the labor movement, served his country in World War II in official capacities, won seats on the Common Council and Board of Education.

As a Senator, McNamara was a "loner," living a life of isolation while eschewing the prerogatives and glitter of congressional office.

The man whose formal education stopped short of high school graduation will hardly make the history books as an American statesman. And he is open to charges of his detractors that as a representative of all the people his philosophy of government was ill-balanced and unenlightened.

But there can be no gainsaying his ingrained integrity, the worth of his personal character, his forthrightness nor his devotion to the causes of the needy and disadvantaged.

★ ★ ★

A multitude of friends and supporters deeply mourn the loss of one who served his country faithfully according to his lights. No man can do more.

May God rest the soul of PATRICK MCNAMARA.

Schools' Head Sweeps 'Northern' Under Rug

No heroes emerge from Detroit's Northern High School insurrection that saw a body of dissident students, with an assist by an element of the faculty, bring down the the school's principal of long standing and make the superintendent of the city's school system appear an administrative Caspar Milquetoast.

It would be fatuous to say that there was no cause for complaint in the institutional status of Northern or that principal ARTHUR CARTY was a perfect school official.

★ ★ ★

But show us any institution or any executive head about which dissatisfaction cannot be found by those in search of it.

The causes of the scholastic mediocrity at the school are so intertwined in a social, racial, economic and educational fabric as to defy identification of an exclusive strand of responsibility.

As for the controversial principal, the charges of his detractors are pretty vague, while his supporters show both numerical superiority and objectivity.

★ ★ ★

We think that the abdication of established authority by Superintendent Samuel Brownell was an expedient for which the Detroit school system may pay dearly. And, coming at a time when social turmoil is on the ascendancy, an act of disciplinary supineness whose influence in other community areas can only be weighed with gravity.

'Blue' Words Good News for Crippled Children

One project that is bound to draw at least cursory attention is CONRAD CORMIER'S profanity pot.

Each year barber CORMIER installs the pot in his shop in Hartford, Conn., and turns cusswords into charity.

The format is simple. Anyone who cuts loose with a naughty word in the shop during Lent has to put a dime in the pot.

This year the Crippled Children's Hospital in Hartford received $101 in swearword revenue — a record high. Last year the hospital got $79.95.

Most of the 1966 increase, CORMIER explains, came from the CASSIUS CLAY fight. "It brought in $15 all by itself," he reports contentedly.

The way things are going at home and around the world, there is little reason to believe the barbershop discussion group will contribute a lesser amount to the hospital next year.

So congratulations to you, barber Cormier, for helping a worthy cause and at the same time perhaps slowing down profanity a bit.

A heck of a good idea, sir!

Reds Enjoy U.S. Seesaw on Viet

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — While President Johnson stays rather quiet in public, but reportedly burns up in private over criticism of his Viet Nam war policy, Communists in Viet Nam have found a happy seesaw.

MARLOW

Americans' criticism of their own government's policy makes it plain for all to see, including Communists, the deepening divisions in American thinking about the war.

★ ★ ★

It ranges all the way from stepping up the bombing of North Viet Nam to ending the bombing and pulling U.S. forces out altogether.

The North Vietnamese Reds can conclude from this the Johnson administration is not likely to pursue the war as fiercely as it might if American opinion was united on the need to crush the foe.

ENCOURAGE CRITICS

Therefore, it makes sense for the Communists to do all possible to encourage Johnson's critics by showing as well as they can through anti-American feeling in Viet Nam that the Vietnamese want the Americans out, too.

In the end they could hope to frustrate America's overwhelming power not by their own arms but by American public opinion at home.

But it would be crediting the Communists with too much resourcefulness, and distorting the attitude in Viet Nam itself, to suggest that all the anti-American feeling there is Communist-inspired. Apparently it is not.

★ ★ ★

One thing seems certain: The more intense the anti-Americanism becomes, the less reason the Johnson administration can give for staying in Viet Nam.

EXPLAIN POLICY

It is possible Johnson might have choked off much of the criticism here and in Viet Nam if months ago he himself had explained his policy, instead of letting aides do it, and conducted a far stronger war.

It seems too late now to speculate on that. But last week the President must have suffered a shock.

His long-time friend, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., one of the most influential men in Congress, suggested U.S. forces should be withdrawn if a survey of public opinion in the cities of Viet Nam showed a majority of the people opposed the American presence there.

★ ★ ★

And Sunday, the Associated Press reported from Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam: In a May Day show crowds clamored for peace. One crowd of 7,000 farmers, dock workers and students chanted in front of the U.S. Embassy: "Down with Americans."

★ ★ ★

The demonstrations, the AP said, took on an ominous meaning because, for the first time in years, organized anti-Americanism electrified the crowds and was tolerated by the authorities.

And We Thought Texas Portions Were Big!

David Lawrence Says:

CIA Exposure Could Hurt U.S.

WASHINGTON — Newspaper articles were published recently purporting to reveal details of the system of espionage employed by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

LAWRENCE

However well intended, if the purpose was to start a crusade in Congress to restrict intelligence operations, this cannot but in the long run damage the interests of the American people.

The Central Intelligence Agency is not authorized to carry on any espionage within this country or to handle internal-security problems, as all of these are responsibilities of the FBI.

The CIA confines its operations to foreign countries, where, of course, it is subject to local laws as well as the countermeasures of agents of other governments which are hostile to the United States.

★ ★ ★

The "cold war" is not unlike a "hot war" in its risks to the safety of the American people.

PROTECTION

Information about the existence of missile bases in Cuba may have been acquired too slowly, but what was learned did have the effect of enabling the United States to protect itself in time.

The recently published articles were the result of an honest and conscientious reporting effort, though errors did creep in, especially in the inference conveyed that certain committees of Congress are "controlled" by the CIA.

The purpose of the articles, it was asserted, was to fix responsibility and also to tighten control of the CIA by Congress.

★ ★ ★

But, for many years, two committees in the House of Representatives and two in the Senate have been taken into the confidence of the CIA and have known about its methods of operation.

ANY QUESTIONS

The members could ask any questions they wished.

If these committees, composed of loyal Americans, had felt that the CIA was doing something wrong, they could have long ago transmitted to the President their objections or could have demanded open inquiries and investigations.

One of the fundamental rules of intelligence work is to let as few people as possible know what is going on, so as to guard against leaks and the danger of infiltration or unwitting disclosure of secrets by persons who are not alert to the tricks used by agents of other countries.

★ ★ ★

There would be risks, for instance, in opening up intelligence operations to the staffs of our embassies abroad or to a lot of officials in the state department.

FDR Jr. Will Toss Hat in N.Y. Governor Race

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has submitted his resignation to President Johnson effective May 11, and will toss his hat in the New York gubernatorial race the following day.

Ruth Montgomery

Roosevelt, it was learned, had previously planned to resign June 1, but moved up his timetable in order to attend the first of four New York Democratic forums May 14 as an avowed candidate for governor.

The son of former President Roosevelt had sought White House permission to share the platform with other gubernatorial hopefuls at forums in Ithaca May 14 and Brooklyn May 24, while still serving as chairman of the Equal Opportunity Employment Commission.

President Johnson said a firm "No," and agreed to accept his resignation at the earlier date.

An informed source said that before making his decision to run for the governorship once held by his father, Roosevelt consulted Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, top Democratic power in the Empire State.

NO PERSONAL CANDIDATE

Kennedy reportedly told him that he had no personal candidate at present, but would not support anyone who did not appear for questioning at the four party forums.

Among the hopefuls who have already accepted the invitation of county chairmen to appear at the forums are Frank O'Connor, president of the New York City Council; Eugene Nickerson, Executive officer of Nassau County; and Howard Samuels, an upstate businessman.

Other possible candidates include former New York Mayor Robert Wagner, Congressmen Otis Pike and Samuel S. Stratton, and Suffolk County Executive Lee Dennison.

Some political prognosticators believe that President Johnson's own current preference as New York gubernatorial candidate is O'Connor, but he is unlikely to take an open stand before the September convention picks a candidate.

Kennedy also reportedly has no candidate yet.

Wagner has not yet accepted an invitation to the forums, but as he left a recent dinner in New York he reportedly said to several Democratic politicians, "Hi, I might be needing you later on."

Roosevelt will admittedly need them in two weeks.

Voice of the People:

Two Comment on Need for Enforced Dog Laws

It is no wonder Commissioner Dugan has his dander up about this dog mess. Dogs use the yards of people who do not have a dog, hunting for something to eat. It isn't just the stench, they run through gardens, tear down flowers, and kill shrubbery. There should be some legislation to make people clean up after their dogs and give you the right to shoot dogs if caught on your property destroying what you have.

MR. CLEAN

Since I can't get any action from the Board of Health Sanitation Department and the dog warden can't do anything if the dog has a license and is fenced in, I invite the Mayor and City Commissioners to view from my kitchen window a German Shepherd. Sometimes I'd feel safer on the front lines in Viet Nam than in my own back yard. At least I could fight back.

★ ★ ★

I'll sign a complaint if it will do any good. Let's have some dog laws to protect the neighbors of log lovers and enforce them.

FED UP WITH PRESENT LAWS

'We Shouldn't Have Sent Boys to Viet Nam'

Those who don't have to go to Viet Nam and have no one close to them there are the ones to cry "stay there." For what? To murder our boys for nothing? We should never have sent our boys to be slaughtered. We can't rule the whole world. Those in favor of this wholesale murder should go there and I am sure they would soon change their way of thinking.

★ ★ ★

They don't want Americans there but Washington tries to tell us we are there to protect them against themselves at the cost of thousands of boys' lives.

A SERVICEMAN'S MOTHER

I understand there's a definite problem at Pontiac Central because the school is forced to re-admit students who have been suspended, even when school personnel feel it's inadvisable and to the detriment of the student body as a whole. Why is this and who is responsible?

PARENT

REPLY

The Director of Pupil Personnel Services is responsible, but says schools aren't "forced" to re-admit pupils. If the problem isn't worked out within two days after the principal or assistant principal denies a student entrance and notifies the parents, that student is put on involuntary suspension and referred to Pupil Personnel Services. That office works with the student, parents and school to find a mutually satisfactory solution. Under "extenuating circumstances" the student may be transferred to another school. The solution must be reached within 30 days, because a student on involuntary suspension must be dropped from school rolls after that. However, the Director knows of only one such case.

Negroes Impatient With Progress

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT

North and South, restless Negroes are trying to break past the barrier of tokenism in the desegregation of schools, jobs and housing. New checks, made here and in the field, reveal no startling new gains.

BIOSSAT

A civil rights spokesman in the capital says impatience with the small measure of progress is still rising.

In some parts of the country, the Negroes' mood is almost "antipolitician," so disenchanted are they with hearty promises given but largely unfulfilled.

The time has gone when either leaders or rank and file are impressed by appointments of Negroes to high-level federal or other government positions. These symbolic gestures are today taken for granted as overdue and indicative of nothing broadly substantial.

What they dwell upon are such facts as that 90 per cent of all U. S. children still are in totally segregated schools, that housing is still a shack-and-shanty existence for millions of Negroes, that good jobs are scarce.

There is change, of course. In a state like Alabama, Negroes are turning up on civic boards, the Chamber of Commerce, the medical society. They have jobs in factories, stores, hospitals, even the police force.

One southern white moderate, a businessman, nevertheless argues that too much of this is mere token compliance with new law and the changing times. Says he:

"They put them out in the showcase reception room so people will say: 'Well, I see they've integrated.' But often it's a case of one in 500 employees."

★ ★ ★

The desegregation pace has been admittedly slow, even though a good many southern businessmen say: "We are agreeably surprised how well it has worked out." Newly hired Negroes have done their jobs capably, have fitted in, have been largely accepted by white fellow workers.

Some white southern moderates whose credentials with the Negro community are good do insist, all the same, that tokenism is really not a bad state of affairs at this point in the racial struggle. Says one:

"It's the best medicine we in the Deep South can have — the exposure to tokenism. It gives us a chance to overcome severly segregationist attitudes. If the gains were massive, hostility would be very great."

★ ★ ★

Plenty of additional desegregation is scheduled in the years just ahead, this man argues. As it takes place, he suggests, attitudes will slowly change for the better.

Not many northern Negro leaders would agree, but some in the South would. More than a few are said to resent the pressures for speed applied here and there by Dr. Martin Luther King. One source says of these southern leaders:

"They are quite capable of changing things as fast as King or any other human being can do it."

★ ★ ★

But militancy and growing impatience still govern the Negroes' mood in many places, North and South. Birmingham leaders are pushing against a big steel company for more jobs.

Many southern Negroes are responding eagerly to leader efforts to train them both for voting and for candidate participation, so they can exert greater weight on the job-school-housing front.

In some circles, even in the South, it is fashionable to say, in comment on the urge in many Negroes for quickness on this front: "Today's radical is tomorrow's Uncle Tom."

Tokenism in desegregation may or may not have merit as a contribution to changing white attitudes. Yet to many observers it seems a barrier too frail to hold out for very long against the rising pressures of the unsettled Negro minority.

On Draft Deferments

2nd Chance Given Collegians

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Selective Service is going to give another chance to those college students who missed signing up for the tests which might help keep them out of the draft.

April 23 was the deadline for signing up for the qualification tests scheduled for May 14, May 21 and June 3 at 1,200 locations in the 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone and the District of Columbia.

About 1 million students had applied by the deadline, which fell on a Saturday.

But additional thousands failed to sign up until the last moment —and then found their local draft boards closed that day.

* * *

Selective Service officials said yesterday that a fourth test would be given "in the latter part of June" for those who, "for some reason," were unable to take the exam previously.

Details will be announced about the test within the next two weeks.

The same eligibility standards will prevail, however. Students who want to take the late June test must be registered for the draft and seeking occupational deferment as students.

No student may take the test twice.

* * *

National draft headquarters and local boards have been flooded with inquiries from students who missed the deadline for the first three tests.

150 QUESTIONS

The test will include 150 questions, to be answered in three hours.

A score of 70 for undergraduate students and 80 for graduate students out of a perfect 100 will make continued deferment most likely.

Hamlin Returns From Confab

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, returned yesterday from a four-day conference in New York State aimed at improving the function and image of state legislatures.

Some 50 persons including industrialists, labor leaders, educators and political figures participated.

Held at the Harriman family mansion on the Hudson River near West Point, the conference was sponsored by the American Assembly, a Columbia University-endowed organization which conducts various studies aimed at improved government.

Conclusions drawn from the conference will be published in a hard cover volume later this year.

* * *

One conclusion, according to Hamlin, was that legislative bodies would be more functional if they were smaller.

LARGE GROUPS

He said that some states have as many as 400 legislators.

Conference participants were invited from all sections of the country.

Death-Dealing Booby Traps Favorite Work of Viet Cong

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP)—One of the most important weapons of the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam is the booby trap. American soldiers say the Communist guerrillas have considerable talent for inventing the death-dealing devices.

Capt. A. R. Foss of Sioux Falls, S.D., commander of Company C of the 1st Battalion, 27th Infantry Wolfhounds, says the Viet Cong "are masters at booby trapping."

★ ★ ★

"There are thousands of booby traps," Foss said, "but one of the most unusual I have seen was a water jar filled with explosives and pieces of metal. It looked innocent enough, but if someone had kicked it while searching this house, it would have really messed him up.

Foss was running an operation north of his base camp at Cu Chi when his men recovered some American grenades that Communists had captured.

SMALL RED DOT

Foss picked up one to carry on a patrol and discovered a small dot of red paint on the release handle.

Becoming curious, he checked the grenade and found the Viet Cong had removed the delay mechanism so the grenade would explode the instant the pin was pulled.

★ ★ ★

"That's one of their favorite tricks," Foss said. "A lot of booby traps will be marked if you look carefully. Red is the almost international mark for booby traps."

Sgt. Samuel K. Solomon of Kohala, Hawaii, is the C Company top kick and it's his job to keep his troops constantly on the alert for booby traps.

LIKELY PLACE

"When you're crossing a line of trees or bushes," the Hawaiian said, "the most likely place to go across is where they'll put a booby trap."

Foss said the guerrillas are particularly adept at recovering American bombs and heavy artillery shells which do not explode and using them against U.S. troops.

"These things run the gamut of ingenuity and imagination. These people are just particularly good at it. They can take any explosive and make a booby trap out of it."

Mothers Can Heed Requests Just Like Any One Else

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem. My mother never gets dressed up to take me to school. It's too far for me to walk, so my mother drives me. But Abby, you should see how she looks!

ABBY

She throws a coat over her bathrobe (which isn't too bad because nobody can see it). But her hair is a mess, and she doesn't have a drop of make-up on. She looks just awful.

The other kids see her in the car and it embarrasses me. I love my mother and we are very close; I hate to hurt her feelings. Can you help me?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: I'm sure if your mother knew she was embarrassing you before your friends, she would take the extra few minutes to make herself a little more presentable.

A touch of lipstick and a colorful scarf would do wonders. Tell her. You'd be surprised how understanding receptive mothers can be when suggestions are presented properly.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: For 18 miserable years my husband suffered with the gambling disease. He had hit bottom, was about to lose his business, was deeply in debt, and could get no help from anyone anymore.

Then on December 11, 1965, he read an item in your column in which you mentioned Gamblers Anonymous and gave their address. I know you will be happy to know that my husband contacted them and became a member. He hasn't missed a meeting. Last week we went to two. He hasn't gambled since, and I think he is going to be all right.

Abby, today he is a different man. Calm, good, understanding. No more hysterics over every little thing. He's trying to make it up to me and the children for all we missed those years when he was always broke and in a bad mood.

I want to thank Sam of Jamaica, a most wonderful man, a member of G. A., who called on my husband first and put him on the right path. And with all my heart, I want to thank you, Abby. Keep up the good work. You may use my name.

HELEN M. OF BROOKLYN

CONFIDENTIAL TO "RUDY'S" IN-LAWS IN ABILENE, TEX.: No one can use you for doormat unless you lie down first. Tell your daughter that if she wants to see you, she will have to visit YOU, because you've made you last cross-country trip to be insulted by her husband.

Von Reis Joins Committee

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

At the recent dinner-meeting of the Michigan Alumni of Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minn., it was announced by Dr. Edgar M. Carlson, president of the college, that Gustav von Reis of Bloomfield Hills had accepted membership in the newly formed Bjoerling Memorial Committee.

The general chairman of this committee is Ambassador Lennart Nylander of New York and H.R.H. Prince Bertil of Sweden is patron of the International Committee. This group is raising funds for the Bjoerling Memorial music rooms which will be established in the college's Fine Arts Center which will begin construction in 1967.

As both Dr. and Mrs. Harold Sponberg (he is president of EMU) are alumnus of Gustavus Adolphus College, members were invited to have their meeting in the McKenny Hall on the campus. The Rev. Charles Colberg of Pontiac is chairman of the alumni for Michigan. Mrs. Sponberg was toastmistress for the evening.

Among the guests were Consul and Mrs. Edward Johansson of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Seaberg of Birmingham.

* * *

In the Nobel Hall of Science at the college the lecture hall is named in honor of a former Detroiter, the late C. E. Johansson, inventor, which is of special interest to Consul Johansson's family. C. E. Johansson attended Gustavus Adolphus College in 1883.

State Elderly Women Pose Money Problem

There is a good chance that two out of three women in Michigan will be destitute or nearly so when they reach the age of 65.

Approximately 26 per cent of those Michigan women 65 and over receive no income from employment or public programs. However, there are probably a large number who are being supported in whole or in part by children or other relatives.

The statistics on older women were part of a nation-wide survey on women and money made by a California investment management firm.

* * *

The survey, using 1959 census figures as a base and updating them with information as recent as March, 1965 from the Department of Commerce and other sources, states there are probably 416,000 women over the age of 65 living in Michigan today. Of these, approximately three out of four are dependent on various public programs.

BREAK DOWN

Nationally, the total money income of women 65 and over breaks down this way: 53.7 per cent of these women have an income under $1,000 per year — about $79 per month.

Average payment under social security benefits is $67.85. Old age public assistance benefits average $78.90 per month.

It is interesting to note how closely Michigan figures follow the national average. Here, the survey estimates 65.8 per cent of women 65 or over have an income under $1,000 per year.

* * *

This survey on women and their money was made by the managers of First Participating Fund, Palo Alto, California, whose President, Melrose H. Tappan III, has made a specialty of the study of women and their economic position in the U.S. economy.

* * *

Tappan's interest in the "plight of the older woman" stems from October 1963 when the late President Kennedy's Report on the Status of American Women was released. Since then, the managers of the First Participating Fund have researched the complete financial position of American women.

The Kennedy Commission report noted in preface that "It is essential that the counseling of girls enable them to foresee the later as well as the earlier phases of their adulthood."

* * *

Tappan's report says "Everything indicates that things are the same today as when the survey was completed in December, 1965."

UPWARD CREEP

"Women are living longer, but their retirement income has not kept pace with inflation." Tappan says government planners estimate an upward creep of inflation of about 1.6 per cent per year, the average rise in all consumer prices since 1955.

The report continues, "While in 1900 the American woman could expect to live to 48 years, today the average woman lives 73 years. Only 4.1 per cent of all women over 65 have a yearly income of $5,000 or over."

* * *

The meaning behind these statistics, according to the Tappan report, is that "Modern women will have to begin planning for leaving it to their husbands or their own futures, rather than to the governmem."

Use of Phrase Tells About Personality

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

There are certain phrases which tell us something sad about the person who uses them — phrases like "Western imperialists," "the Communist conspiracy," the "organization man." They tell us that the user of them has begun to think of other people as symbols of ideas he disapproves of.

He has stopped remembering that they are struggling persons like himself who are trying to make sense out of the nonsense into which we all are born.

The newest one is "police brutality"—one that I'm sorry to hear used so often by civil rights leaders who have moved us to such appreciation of the Negro's struggle against the horrors of his environment.

A policeman struggles, too, against the horrors of his environment. And had I been born a man who chose to become one, I could have been fired for brutality in less than a week.

Instead of arresting the drunken father who beat up his child, I would have forgotten "due process" — and beaten him up myself. I would have throttled the dope pusher instead of waiting patiently about to catch him in the act of pushing it. I would have used my nightstick on the woman who'd got herself pregnant with a fourth illegitimate child because I would know that the child was headed for one of the squalid hells in which cities confine what they call their "dependent and neglected" children.

I would have been ferociously brutal toward the gang of hoodlums who had raped the 11-year-old girl on the tenement house roof not because I was brutal but because my day-in, day-out experience with fellow humans who refused to be human would be more than I could bear.

So we can take just so much of the terrible things people do to one another. Then, in despair, we feel obliged to personally lash out at the less-than-human person to avoid going crazy.

So I wish that the civil rights leaders who have gained our understanding of the Negro who riots against the frustrations of his environment could extend some to the white human being in police uniform who sometimes blows up at his frustrations.

* * *

Some months ago I sat in a slum police station with two runaway 14-year-old girls who had been raped by a gang of drug addicts. Though it was 9 p. m. the captain in charge had been presiding over his bleak, paint-peeling office since 6 a. m. He ordered us coffee and doughnuts to help us pretend that the drunken vagrant confined in his office cell wasn't screaming filth at us.

When the vagrant spat at one of the girls through his bars, he took us into his inner office to do our waiting. The child he railed at was a Negro child.

Unit Slates Installation

A Wooden Bowl

DEAR POLLY — Often damp clothes have to brought in from the line because of a sudden shower. I have three clothes hanger racks that attach to the tops of doors. Each will hold 12 clothes hangers.

I hang dresses, shirts, undies, and so on, on these individual hangers and put the holders on doors nearest the heat. You will be surprised at how fast the clothes will dry. Wet or damp towels can also be attached to the hangers with snap clothespins. — MRS. G. A. R.

DEAR POLLY — A discarded flannel-backed tablecloth will make long-wearing covers for the children's schoolbooks. In addition to being colorful, they are waterproof and all dirt is easily wiped off. — IRENE

DEAR POLLY — I find it helpful and time-saving to keep a tray of safety pins near the board while I am ironing. When I find a loose snap, button or even broken threads in a seam, I iron over the spot and then pin a safety pin where the mending needs to be done.

The machine mending is put in on stack and the hand sewing in another. When any young neighbors drop in for a cup of coffee I do this hand mending at the kitchen table while we have our coffee.

The safety pins save forgetting as well as looking for the places that need attention. It has been years since any of us have put on a garment with a button missing. — GRANNY

DEAR POLLY — I would like to know how to keep a wooden bowl nice and shiny even after it is used. We serve green salad in ours and the children often use it for popcorn. I do not put hot water in it but the finish in the bottom of the bowl is rough. Would salt in the corn cause that? Please give me Paointer for refinishing, waxing or whatever I should do to restore the bowl's natural beauty. — MRS. W. T. P.

With honor maid, Carolyn LaVigne of Oscoda, were the bridesmaids Peggy Harrell, Martha Forbes and Marilyn Klingler.

Karen Harrell and Judith Forbes were flower girls.

Best man was Thomas Evans, along with ushers James Forbes, James Fleming of Jackson and G. William Knight of Wyandotte.

Proper Pedicure

Always cut and trim toenails straight across. Never cut into corners as this encourages ingrown toenails. Instead of cutting, one may file with emery board.

Tape Does Trick

Press masking tape on the bias of a material and cut along the edge of the tape for perfect cutting of bias strips. Pull tape off gently and strips will be straight.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Fashion has become a completely respectable word in men's wear. Men now can, and do, experiment with the great variety of styles and colors available. It's not a revolution yet, but the old theory of slow evolution is getting some pretty hard shoves.

Men have definitely broken out of their bondage of very conservative colorless clothes, and it's about time! Today many women are becoming aware of the increasing interest of their husbands and sons in a smart well-groomed appearance.

* * *

WHY GROW OLD? is essentially a woman's feature, but many men read it since I write about many subjects which are of value to both women and men. Therefore, once in a while, I give a day to the men who read my column. Also, this column will interest any woman who is interested in her most important accessory, a well-dressed man!

As essential as the WHAT of fashion is the HOW. How do you coordinate the new styles? What goes with what? Where do you begin? For answers to these questions I turned to The American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear, consumer education bureau of the malewear industry. Here are some guidelines they gave me to give you.

SPECIAL FURNISHINGS

The popular double-breasted blazers and the new double-breasted suits require special furnishings. Longer point straight or spread collars reflect the dressier mood of this style, while the wider ties complement the fuller silhouette. The return of double-breasteds will bring back the tattersall check and tape stripe dress shirts, solid or striped shirts with white collars and cuffs, and the French cuff.

Rising fast on the heels of paisley dominance in neckwear are the floral prints, both in the narrow-end MOD ties and the widening styles for wear with more conventional clothes. Some of these have almost "granny" prints while others show bright colors and bold designs. These and paisleys can be worn to brighten up a dark suit and colored shirt for daytime, a white shirt for evening.

PLAID SLACKS

Plaid slacks herald a new emancipation for the male in his off-duty hours. These are most attractive when worn with solid-color sweaters, sport shirts, sport coats and blazers.

Young America is off to a fashion kick with the MOD look, part western, part nautical and part Carnaby Street, London. All the new men's styles add up to a look which is aggressively different from that of the older established generation and seems a logical sign of the times. Fortunately, unlike the beatnik style of dressing, the whole idea is to be very clean and well-groomed, hair combed, trousers pressed and shoes shined, the first sign of a new elegant younger generation.

WAVE OF SEAGOING VELOUR, CHIC CHECKS AND SURFSUITS SETS SWIMWEAR KICKS FOR '66

A breakthrough in plunging velour fabric, a crashing wave of surfsuits, and a pared-down silhouette set the swimwear scene for the coming season.

It isn't often that something really new happens to swimsuits, but this is the year of velour that swims. Jantzen Inc. has perfected a purry, velvet-like knit that takes to the water like a seal. Appropriately, "Soft Touch" is turned out in simple, striking designs.

Surfing styles are building to a peak this year. Influence of the young sport became apparent about 5 years ago in men's trunks, and is now firmly evident in women's lines. Jantzen forecasts its biggest plunge yet in surf authentics for women, and has engaged a consultant in the field. She is Také (Mrs. Takeko Miyasato), world's foremost surfwear expert, from Honolulu.

More sun will shine on Jantzen beauties this summer. Even straps are narrower, and lines are trimmed down and scooped out provocatively. As for color, yellow will shine, along with the always popular pink and blue.

The fresh young models on this page are a bevy of Jantzen girls, from schools and colleges throughout the nation, chosen for, among other assets, their exemplary smiles.

SURFSIDE FOUR — Jantzen girls hit the surf in authentic suits of oxford twill, laced at the waist and equipped with a back pocket for wax (not shown). Jantzen predicts the biggest wave of surfwear yet. Modeling are (left) Sandy Panko, University of Oregon; Karin Nesse, St. Olaf College; Tia Tyler, William Woods; and Sanna Saare, Brenau College.

CHECKMATES — The feminine favorite, gingham checks, are sure to stay crisp all summer, because the fabric is 50%Fortrel polyester — 50% cotton. Shown in sunup pink, each style is frosted with self-fabric lace, and is tied at the waist with a small bow. The Jantzen girls are, from the left, Pat Denne, Russell Sage; Roberta Smiley, University of Minnesota; and Sally McMeekin, College of San Mateo.

VELOURING — Jantzen does it — velour that swims. The smashing bikini has the new natural bra, devastatingly simple lines. The suave one-shoulder version is the latest in sleek sophistication. Wearing the blue bikini is Sandy Panko. It's Linda Kenny of Emmanuel College in the maillot.

Ineffective Power Plays Mark Playoffs

Finalists Waste 26 Advantages, Score 4 Goals

Red Wings, Montreal Return to Ice Today for Fifth Contest

MONTREAL (AP) — One of the more interesting sidelights of the Stanley Cup finals between the Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadians has been the dominant roles played by the respective penalty- killing combinations.

* * *

The teams have managed to score only four goals in 30 power play opportunities while playing to a standoff after four games of the best-of- seven series. The fifth game is set for tonight.

LESS SCORING

The Red Wings, who scored 10 times with the man advantage in 24 chances against Chicago in the six-game semifinals, have clicked but once in 12 tries against the Canadiens.

Andy Bathgate, who scored five power play goals against the Black Hawks, has picked up the only one against Montreal and continues to lead all scorers with six goals.

The Canadiens, too, have had little luck while playing with the extra man. They've scored three times in 18 chances against Detroit after eliminating Toronto in four games with the help of seven power play goals in 20 attempts.

Each team scored one goal while playing short-handed but neither — thanks to brilliant goaltending by Detroit's Roger Crozier and Montreal's Gump Worsley — has been able to cash in during the finals.

* * *

Val Fonteyne embarrassed Chicago with his short-handed goal in Detroit's 7-0 whitewashing, and Jim Roberts picked up Montreal's 4-1 victory over the Maple Leafs in the final game of their series.

Just how well Red Wings' sub goalie Hank Bassen reacts to the pressure of a lone skater coming in on a short-handed breakway remains to be seen.

PERFORMS WELL

He performed well in Sunday's 2-1 loss as Crozier's replacement but did not have to face the one-man challenge as Crozier did a number of times in the first two games in Montreal.

* * *

Crozier suffered a sprained knee and twisted ankle on his left leg in a goal mouth collision with Montreal's Bobby Rousseau and left the game before it was six minutes old.

Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel said Monday he still did not know which of his goalies would be in the net for the important fifth game tonight.

Ex-Dartmouth Star Put on Commission

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Eddie Dooley, a former congressman and one-time star quarterback at Dartmouth, was appointed chairman of the State Athletic Commission today.

Gov. Rockefeller named the 61-year-old lawyer to succeed Gen. Melvin Krulewitch when Krulewitch retires on June 1.

The three-member commission supervises all professional boxing and wrestling in New York State. Its chairman is paid $23,840 a year.

Marichal Won't Get Choice of 'Target'

By United Press International

When Juan Marichal goes up to bat tonight, it's doubtful that manager Herman Franks will give him that shopworn line, "Pick out something good to hit."

For the last time Marichal faced Los Angeles in a league game, he picked out something good all right—John Roseboro's head. And he was right on target.

* * *

The Marichal-Roseboro incident last Aug. 22 at Candlestick Park in the midst of a heated pennant race between the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers was the biggest explosion of the tense season-long dogfight between the two clubs.

FIRST MEETING

Marichal will face the Dodgers for the first time in a league game since he clubbed Roseboro when the Giants host the Dodgers in the most dramatic game of the 10-game major league schedule tonight.

* * *

All the teams swing into action after enjoying a relaxed evening Monday.

The only scheduled game between Baltimore and Washington was rained out. Six teams were involved in exhibition games and the others had the night off.

In the exhibition games Monday, Atlanta nipped Minnesota 3-2 in 10 innings in the only contest involving two major league teams. It was played at Atlanta.

* * *

Meanwhile, the Chicago Cubs beat Dallas-Fort Worth 8-2, Los Angeles stopped Spokane 4-2 and San Francisco nipped the University of Santa Clara, 7-6.

* * *

And the New York Mets were, well, the New York Mets. Met pitcher Bill Hepler and Dave Eilers pitched a five-inning no-hitter against Jacksonville in a game called in the top of the sixth by rain.

But the Mets still lost 2-0 as Jacksonville pushed across two third-inning runs without a hit.

Crab Orchard Site of Derby for 100 Years

CRAB ORCHARD, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Derby would be held at Crab Orchard instead of Louisville this week if the South had won the Civil War, says Col. George Chinn.

Chinn, director of the Kentucky Historical Society, said William Whitley held a race meet at the site in Central Kentucky nearly 100 years before the first Kentucky Derby was run in 1875.

From 1778 to the Civil War, the Crab Orchard meet was held by Whitley and his ancestors. Four mineral springs and a fresh water spring — for making whisky — brought the elite from all over the South.

Whitley hated the British so much that he reversed their racing style which was clockwise on the grass.

His horses ran counterclockwise on clay and Chinn believes this set the pattern for the way races are run in America now.

Prep 9s Eye Tourney Spot

The area high school baseball teams move into the May phase of their schedules hoping for improved weather over the earlier going, and also trying to earn a berth in the annual Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament.

The top teams from the various leagues in the county receive invitations to compete in the 16-team tournament co-hosted by Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central.

For the fifth year, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and The Press will sponsor the affair jointly. The playing dates will run from May 29 to June 2.

The tournament was expanded from 8 to 16 teams last spring and this drew a favorable reaction. At least 19 schools have expressed a desire to come this year. The final field will be selected by May 16 when the first meeting of team representatives is planned.

While in past tournaments the opening round has been generally played Memorial Day weekend, this year's competition has a variation of that format.

OPENING TILTS

The upper bracket's first four games will be Friday and Saturday, May 20-21. The lower bracket will commence the following Friday and Saturday. The tournament quarterfinals will be Memorial Day, the semifinals May 31 and June 1, and the finals Thursday, June 2.

All games will be played at Jaycee Park's lighted diamond unless bad weather forces a change in the schedule. In such case, there may be a necessity for using both Jaycee diamonds and have games running at the same time.

Pontiac Central tentatively is slated to open the upper bracket at 7:30 p.m. May 29. Pontiac Northern probably will conclude the lower bracket opening round at 7:30 p.m. May 28. The opponents haven't been chosen.

Southfield seems certain to return this spring. It won last year's tournament and has most valuable player Ted Simmons still handling the catching.

* * *

Several other entries probably be determined this week. A report on the team candidates will be in The Press next week.

4 PGA Leaders Remain Intact

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders, Arnold Palmer, Gay Brewer and Jack Nicklaus didn't make a dime last week, but they remain 1-2-3-4 among golf's top money winners.

The top four skipped the Texas Open, won by South African Harold Henning, and Sanders remained in first place with $71,669 in earnings.

The top 10 with official money in PGA tournaments listed first, unofficial money and totals:

Sanders, $51,951, $19,718—$71,669; Palmer $47,500, $18,810—$66,778; Brewer, $47,375, $5,497—$52,877; Nicklaus, $37,332, $2,095—$39,448; Phil Rodgers $33,761, $5,267—$39,028.

Lionel Hebert, $23,300, $1,975—$25,536; Joe Campbell, $25,992, $3,438—$29,431; Frank Beard, $25,902, $1,797—$27,700; Ray Floyd, $22,545, $1,468—$24,013; Tom Weiskopf, $22,284, $913—$23,209.

Wolverine Harness Raceway will open its season Wednesday night at the Detroit Race Course following settlement of controversies with track employes and horsemen.

Opening, Adrian's MIAA season, Steve Page of Farmington scattered seven Kalamazoo hits in the first game. The Hornets got runs in the third, fourth and sixth innings.

AHL Picks All-Star Team

Rochester, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Gamble, the American Hockey League scoring champion, and two Rochester teammates have been named to the league's 1965-66 All-Star team.

Gamble, at 37 the oldest player ever to win the scoring title, was named to the left wing spot on the all-league squad selected by sportswriters and broadcasters in the nine AHL cities and released Monday by the league office.

* * *

Gerry Ehman and Al Arbour of Rochester were selected at right wing and center, respectively. Center Joe Szura of Cleveland, defenseman Jim Morrison of Quebec and goalie Claude Dufour of Hershey complete the first team.

* * *

Pittsburgh's George Gardner and Cleveland's Les Binkley tied for the goaltender's spot on the second team.

Defensemen Ruane Rupp of Rochester and Noel Price of Quebec, center Cleland Mortson of Quebec, left wing Gene Ubriaco of Hershey and right wing Jim Pappin of Rochester were the other second team selections.

* * *

First team choices each receive $300 league bonuses while second team members get $200.

Bengals Wary of Weak Bosox

Derby Trial Entries Significantly Named

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Five Kentucky Derby eligibles prepared for the mile of the $15,000-added Derby Trial today, and the boys on the backstretch at Churchill Downs turned to the subject of naming horses.

Drawing particular attention were Abe's Hope, Kauai King, Stupendous and Amberoid, all of whom will be going in the Derby Saturday and each with a story behind his name.

* * *

There's a touch of sadness and memory in the name of Abe's Hope, 5-2 choice to win the 92nd running of the 1¼-mile classic for 3-year-olds. He was named for his 71-year-old Hungarian groom, Vele Bojinoff, with the nickname of Abe.

As a yearling, the groom told trainer Del Carroll, "This horse is going to win the Kentucky Derby." So the Illinois-bred son of Better Bee was named Abe's Hope. Vele never got a chance to see if his prophecy would come true. He died last year of cancer.

Kauai King, the 7-2 second choice, came by his name through his ancestry and a trip owner Michael Ford and his family made to the island of Kauai in the Hawaiian group. Kauai King was sired by Native Dancer, whose father was Polynesian.

* * *

Amberoid, the 5-1 third choice in the line issued by Churchill Downs, can thank his sire, Count Amber, for his name. Trainer Lucien Laurin, looking at the Reginald Webster Colt, remarked, "He sure looks like his sire." Hence, Amber, plus the latin "oid," which means like.

Incidentally, if you believe in signs, there is a good one that points to Amberoid as the winner. The Wood Memorial winner was the first horse nominated for the Derby of a total of 150.

Boston Visits for Two Tilts; Tigers Ailing

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers don't expect a breather as they face Boston tonight, even though the Red Sox are toppling on the edge of last place in the American League.

The Sox, in ninth place in the league and five games behind the fourth-place Tigers, have collected two of their victories this season from Detroit.

Mickey Lolich is scheduled to start against Boston, pitting his 2-1 pitching record against Jose Santiago's 0-0 mark.

* * *

Bill Monbouquette will go to the mound to wind up the two-game series with Boston Wednesday.

The Tigers go into the contest with injuries to key players haunting the team.

Willie Horton missed the entire series with Baltimore, which ended Sunday, after undergoing rectal surgery.

Norm Cash was lost for two games after he aggravated a groin injury.

* * *

And Al Kaline pulled a thigh muscle during the final game, resulting in a limp.

Inability to drive in runs also has plagued Detroit, a major factor in the three losses to the Orioles last weekend.

EDWIN E. COIL

Pistons Chose New Club GM

The Detroit Pistons this morning named Edwin E. Coil as general manager of the club, assuming a post which has been vacant since the death of Don Wattrick last September.

Coil, who has been with the Fred Zollner corporation and part of the Pistons' management since the franchise was moved to Detroit in 1957, immediately announced four appointments in the Pistons' office.

He named George Maskin, public relations director; Bill Rodgers, promotion director; Jim Conroy, advertising director and I. D. Sullivan, box office manager.

Coil has served as club coordinator since Wattrick's death and Zollner, who made the announcement on the appointment, said, "He has proven himself by efficient business management as the club finished the past season with a balanced budget."

76ers' Owner Tabs New Type as His Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It was a question of types."

This was one explanation Irv Kosloff, owner of the Philadelphia 76ers, gave in announcing he had replaced Coach Dolph Schayes with Alex Hannum.

Schayes' ouster, after three years as coach of the National Basketball Association team, was announced Monday.

* * *

Schayes said he was "disappointed" by Kosloff's decision.

"We did pretty well at Philly," said Schayes, the NBA Coach of the Year, from his home in Syracuse, N.Y. "I feel I didn't let anyone down."

* * *

Kosloff insisted that there is nothing he wants more than to have the 76ers win the NBA crown. He feels Hannum "is the type this team needs." Hannum was recently fired as coach of the San Francisco Warriors.

Mother of 4 Leads Field in Qualifying

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Mrs. John Rathmell, a Houston mother of four children, came back to her girlhood home Monday and fired a two-under-par 71 to lead the qualifiers for the 51st Women's Southern Amateur Golf Tournament.

The shapely Mrs. Rathmell, a pretty brunette, led a field of 32 into the match play of the championship flight which gets under way today over the short but demanding country club layout, which plays to a woman's par of 36-37—73.

The semifinalist survivors will clash in a 36-hole match Saturday for the championship.

Armada Wins by Errors

Three errors loaded the bases and a walk forced in the winning run to give Armada a 2-1 victory over Capac in the 10th inning of their Southern Thumb baseball game yesterday.

Lee Thompson went the distance for the winners and John Schleuntz scored both runs for Armada, getting on base on an error each time.

Reichardt's Bat Booms

Ex-Badger Now 'Rich' Angel

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The kid they used to call "Rich" Reichardt may turn out to be worth his weight in gold, after all.

His real handle is Frederic Carl Reichardt, but he prefers the first name of Rich.

So, the California Angels naturally dubbed him "Rich" when he became a $200,000 bonus baby of the Angels back on June 24, 1964 — practically $1,000 a pound for the 6-foot-3, 215-pound former University of Wisconsin whiz.

* * *

And the Angels gave "Rich" the standard razzing most big bonus babies get. When he combed his hair in the Angel dressing room, someone would usually innocently inquire,

"Hey, is that dandruff or gold?"

But now the Angels don't razz Reichardt, they root for him.

He has become the rarity in baseball — the bonus baby who looks like he's as good as everyone said he was going to be.

JUST 23

Now just 23, the kid who came into a small fortune by just signing his name is blossoming into the type of hitter the Angels always predicted he'd turn out to be. And it's just over two years since he first became a pro.

Reichardt spent most of his first two years in the minors and started this season with only 31 games under his belt in the majors and a .232 average with just a single homer to his credit.

But now the American League's leading home run hitter at the end of the first three weeks of the 1966 season happens to be the same Reichardt.

He's hit six. And as the Angels prepared to meet Kansas City here tonight, he was tied for fifth in the league in runs-batted-in with 11.

* * *

Rich is also threatening to make the record book just as fat as his bank book.

He hammered his way into the record books Saturday in Boston's Fenway Park when he became the 11th player in modern major league history to slam two homers in a single inning.

He turned the trick to feature a 12-run California eighth inning that led the Angels to a 16-9 victory.

'Draftsman' Leads WIBC

New Orleans Bowler Moves Ahead

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Kay Riddell, 22-year-old map draftsman from New Orleans, took the lead in division 2 singles of the Woman's International Bowling Congress Tournament division 2 with a 598 series Monday.

Miss Riddell, who said she slowed down and prayed a lot, fashioned games of 213-156-229 for her big series which, if it stands for the run of the 47-day tourney ending May 30, would mean $500 to her.

* * *

A 145 average bowler, Miss Riddell's previous high series was a 548. She said she ran into trouble with splits in the middle game, but four strikes in a row and another spurt of two straight strikes enabled her to finish with her big 229 game.

Pat Thurmon, a 135 average bowler from Pine Bluff, Ark., utilized a middle game of 212 to ease into fourth place in division 2 singles with a 566 series.

There was one other significant change, this in division 2 all-events. Jean Berrigan of New Orleans climbed to fifth place with a 1536 total.

CMU Track Winner by Narrow Margin

DE KALB, Ill. (UPI) — Pete Miskov won the shotput and discus and Charles Rochow the long jump and the hop, step and jump events Monday to lead Central Michigan to a narrow victory over Northern Illinois in a triangular track meet.

Central Michigan had 77 points to Northern's 73, Whitewater (Wis.) State was third with 30.

The meet was decided in the mile relay event, won by Central Michigan in 3:24.4. Northern was second.

Managers to Discuss Junior Baseball Plans

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will have its organizational meeting for all managers of junior baseball teams May 9th.

Two sessions are planned. The Widgets (through 11 years of age) and Class F (through 13) teams should send their representatives to the 7 p.m. meeting.

Class E (through 15) and Class D (through 18) managers or sponsors will gather at 8 p.m. Both sessions will be in the conference room of the Health Department at City Hall.

The department also has announced plans for its annual junior baseball training camps. They will begin Saturday morning May 21 at three sites.

* * *

All boys 7-18 may attend the weekly camps that'll run through Saturday, June 18th. The boys will be instructed by qualified personnel on running, throwing, fielding, batting, sliding, pitching and catching from 9 a.m. until noon each Saturday.

There also will be team organization and practice games.

The prospects should bring their own gloves and tennis shoes. They may report to the Jaycee Park, Aaron-Perry Park or Bagley and Brush baseball fields.

Additional information on either the junior baseball clinics or the managers' meeting can be obtained at the recreation office in City Hall.

BOWLING

The pressure of a tight championship race showed last week as the North Hill Classic League ended its second half race with a dramatic, though somewhat restrained, closing.

National Twist Drill emerged the second-half titlist and will bowl first-half winner West Side Lanes for the championship tomorrow night.

* * *

The drillmen entered the final night in third place, but swept four points led by Bob Gromzo's 231-218—652 to tie Potere Funeral Home which took three points and dropped Hazelton Lettering from first to third. That match failed to produce a 600.

There was only one such series in the title roll-off. Gromzo again came through for National Twist Drill with a 214-200—606 to pace the extra-session victory.

The league was highlighted by high scoring all season but a 672 by Bill Ash (230-221) was the best of the final night's scoring.

* * *

Other final reports turned in included a 611 series by Ed Betts (221) and a 601 by Tom McDermott (206-205) in the Howe's Lanes Friday Night Mixed League which was won by the Goof-Offs team.

Thursday's Cooleyettes reported a 202—549 for Renee Miller and a 556 for Helen Horner at Cooley Lanes.

Wayne Fisher had a 215—600, Dick Bowmaster a 216 and Donna Kunse a 200—514 in the Sunday Night Mix-Ups action at 300 Bowl.

* * *

The highs for the Pontiac Women's Teachers' Thursday loop at "300" were Judy Packard's 220—543 duo and Jo Nebeker's 527 series.

Chicago Bulls Plan to Announce Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny (Red) Kerr, former University of Illinois star center, is expected today to be named head coach of the Chicago Bulls, the 1966-67 entry in the National Basketball Association.

* * *

Dick Klein, Bulls' owner, was to make the announcement at a news conference, also naming Al Bianchi as assistant coach.

Kerr and Bianchi came to the Bulls in the recent NBA player draft. Kerr was chosen from Baltimore's list of available and Bianchi from Philadelphia's unprotected roster.

Groves Defeated, 2-0

Vic Pilar struck out 12 to lead Detroit Thurston to a 2-0 victory over Birmingham Groves yesterday.

* * *

Thurston scored in the third on an rbi single by Paul Fantagelo and in the 7th when Mike McCrum doubled home Stan Harrison.

Groves is 2-1 in league play and Thurston is 3-0.

Kettering got two runs in the third without a hit, and four runs in the 4th on a double by Dan Geroux, and singles by Jack McLoud and Jerry Harkey, plus a couple walks.

Miceli struck out eight batters, leaving him with a 3-1 record for the season.

ALSO UNBEATEN

Romeo, also unbeaten in Tri-County League play, met Avondale in a non-league encounter and defeated the Jackets, 7-3.

Romeo had a big second inning when after two outs, Pete Periano slammed a three-run homer over left field and George Boggs followed it with a two-run homer after an error.

Avondale's Dave Armstrong had two for three including a homer as Renshaw took the loss and Galan the triumph.

In another Tri-County game, Lapeer defeated L'Anse 5-0 with Craig Wadsworth striking out 10 batters and allowing just one hit.

Opening lead—♥ 10

By JACOBY & SON

A recent team match was decided by today's hand. At one table the North-South pair reached three no-trump. West was unkind enough to make his normal lead of a heart and the defense had the first five tricks.

JACOBY

The bidding in the box took place at the other table. North-South were using limit raises and North gave a limit raise in preference to showing his diamond suit. South took command and bid the slam after checking for aces.

East won the opening heart lead with his ace and led a trump. South drew trumps with two leads and was able to spread his hand because he had two trumps in dummy to take care of his second heart and fourth spade.

How would South have played the hand against a 3-1 trump break?

He would have played the third round of trumps and then gone after diamonds. Since diamonds broke 4-2 he would have been able to set up dummy's fifth diamond for a discard of one spade and dummy's last trump would have ruffed the second heart.

The club slam was certainly a good one to bid and limit raises made it easy to get there but we feel strongly that the other North-South pair should have avoided the three no-trump trap. Their actual bidding with no interference by East and West proceeded via one-club, one-diamond, two spades, three clubs, three no-trump, pass.

We feel that South should have bid four clubs rather than three no-trump. He had nothing that looked like a heart stopper. This four club bid would surely have produced a successful game contract and might well have led to the same club slam.

♥♣ CARD Sense ♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♥ | 1 ♠ | Pass | 2 ♣ |
| Pass | 3 ♠ | Pass | ? |

You, South, hold:

♠K 10 8 ♥A 8 7 6 ♦J 9 5 4 ♣3 2

What do you do?

A—Bid four spades with a conservative partner. Pass with an optimistic one. You have nine points in support of spades but only three trumps.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of passing over two spades West bids three clubs. Your partner bids three spades and East passes. What do you do now?

Kiss in Court Is Worth $50 to Avoid Fine

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Is a kiss worth 50 bucks?

Metropolitan Court Judge Andrew J. Doyle decided Monday that a kiss is a good enough price to pay to avoid a $50 fine. So he ordered Evelyn Fay Carver, 24, to kiss her husband, Herman, 30, in court—to prove to the judge the couple had made up.

★ ★ ★

"I'll kiss him," Mrs. Carver told the judge, "if it's the difference between a $50 fine. But I'd rather not."

Doyle gave the woman a week to decide and indicated he might drop the fighting charges the Carvers had brought against each other, if they can demonstrate they've resolved their differences.

Journalists Among Pulitzer Recipients

NEW YORK (AP) — A newspaper campaign to prevent the confirmation of Boston Municipal Judge Francis X. Morrissey to the federal bench has won a Pulitzer Prize for the Boston Globe.

The newspaper was honored with a gold medal for public service in journalism for the campaign last summer.

★ ★ ★

Morrissey, who was sponsored by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., eventually withdrew.

Peter Arnett of the Associated Press won the 1966 Pulitzer Prize for international reporting from South Viet Nam. It was the third successive year the prize has gone to the news service for its coverage of the Asian conflict.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Haynes Johnson of the Washington Evening Star won the award for national reporting with a civil rights story from Alabama.

The awards were among 14 announced Monday on the 50th anniversary of the prizes made by the trustees of Columbia University.

★ ★ ★

In the field of letters, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. received his second Pulitzer, a biography award for "A Thousand Days: "John F. Kennedy in the White House." He won the history prize 20 years ago.

This year's history prize went to the late Perry Miller for the book, "The Life of the Mind in America: "From the Revolution to the Civil War."

FICTION AWARD

A 75-year-old authoress, Katherine Anne Porter, received the award in fiction for "The Collected Stories of Katherine Anne Porter."

For the third time in four years, no award was made in American drama.

★ ★ ★

Other awards in journalism:

Local reporting general — The Los Angeles Times for its coverage of the explosive Watts riots last August.

LOCAL REPORTING

Local reporting special — John A. Frasca of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune for investigative series of two robberies that led to the freeing of an innocent man. The guilty man surrendered to police on the basis of Frasca's stories.

News photography — Kyoichi Sawada of United Press International, for his pictures of the war in Viet Nam. One photograph, "Flee to Safety," showed a Vietnamese family wading across a river to escape an attack.

IN THE ARTS

Other Pulitzers in the arts:

Poetry — Richard Eberhart, professor of English and poet in residence at Dartmouth College, for a book of 112 poems, "Selected Poems — 1930-1965."

★ ★ ★

General Nonfiction — Edwin Way Teale, the naturalist, for "Wandering Through Winter," the final volume of a 15-year project that chronicles the natural history of the four seasons.

Music — Leslie Bassett, professor of music at the University of Michigan, for "Variations for Orchestra," which had its premiere in this country in Philadelphia last Oct. 22.

'NOT PERSONAL'

Editor Thomas Winship of the Boston Globe said the paper's campaign against Morrissey's confirmation was "a campaign over an issue, not as a personal matter. At no time during the campaign," he added, "did either Sen. Kennedy or Morrissey try to put any pressure on us to stop the stories."

The Splendor of Cambaluc Dazzles the Polos

Kamikaze—The "Divine Wind"—Saves Japan from Invasion

It must be known then, that from the creation of Adam to the present day, no man . . . ever saw or inquired into so many and such great things as Marco Polo.
—The Book of Ser Marco Polo

In the year 1295, three ragged and bearded men, barely able to speak their native tongue, arrived in Venice.

They were the brothers Maffeo and Nicolo Polo, and the latter's son Marco, home after an absence of 24 years and rich both with jewels and marvelous tales about the distant land called Cathay.

Later, while a prisoner during the war between Venice and Genoa, Marco dictated the story of his adventures, which began when he was a boy of 17, to give the world the most famous travel book of all time.

Ironically, many of the facts he related — not only about China but the regions of the Middle East, Siberia and the East Indies — were disbelieved.

★ ★ ★

Urged on his deathbed to admit that he had made it all up, the man who had had the unprecedented honor of serving as governor of a Chinese city, replied, "I have not told half of what I saw." And not for centuries did other Europeans confirm Marco Polo's words.

13TH CENTURY

In the 13th century, all but the peripheries of the Euro-Asian continent succumbed to the Mongol explosion.

Nominal ruler of this vast empire, the greatest the world had yet known, was Kublai Khan, grandson of Genghis.

The Polos were only three of innumerable foreigners drawn to the khan's capital of Cambaluc, near modern Peking. Their admiration for he Mongols was not shared by the conquered Chinese, however.

Marco, who traveled extensively throughout the realm as an envoy of the khan, noted, along with such wonders as paper money and a rapid courier system of "pony express" riders, this hostility of the Chinese.

Confucian scholars, barred from the government, took to writing music dramas and novels.

UNSUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGNS

Kublai launched a series of unsuccessful campaigns against Burma, Java and Viet Nam. (The latter had driven out the Chinese in 938, after 1,000 years of rule, and were to fight them again in the 15th century.)

These wars, plus two disastrous attempts to invade Japan, caused inflation and soaring taxes, adding to the unrest in China.

In the middle of the 14th century, popular uprisings broke out.

By 1368, the greatest of the rebel leaders, one Chu Yuan-chang, an orphan and former beggar, drove out the last alien emperor and founded a dynasty which he called Ming, or "Glorious." China was Chinese again.

Films With Negroes Make Hit in South

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "It'll never play in the South."

Throughout most of Hollywood's history, that comment has been offered for films concerning Negro themes and featuring Negro actors. Indeed, the fear of losing the Southern market, which has traditionally been a good one for films, has deterred many producers from undertaking projects with interracial overtones.

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

The situation is different now. Film companies report that films with Negroes can earn as much and in some cases more in the South than elsewhere in the nation.

Example: "A Patch of Blue," in which Negro Sidney Poitier befriends a blind white girl, Elizabeth Hartman, who falls in love with him.

ATLANTA THEATER

"The picture was the second biggest grosser at the Loew's Theater in Atlanta — second only to a rerelease of 'Gone With the Wind,'" reports an MGM man recently returned from opening "A Patch of Blue" in the South.

"Our film exchange says there has been no resistance to booking the movie in Georgia, Alabama and other Southern states. Only one woman theater owner in New Orleans refused to play it."

★ ★ ★

Oddly, "A Patch of Blue" was given an art-house opening in New York and did disappointing business. But on the basis of excellent returns from the South, MGM is predicting a gross of $4 million-$5 million.

Only one concession was made to Southern audiences: the kiss between Poitier and Miss Hartman was cut.

TEST SCREENING

The MGM man explained: "We showed the kiss in a test screening with Southerners, and there was such a gasp that it was decided to eliminate the kiss. It wasn't important to the story, anyway."

Another film starring Poitier, "A Slender Thread," has also been booked extensively through the South.

"We encountered no difficulty at all with Southern theaters," says Paramount studio head Howard Koch. "And the returns from the South on 'A Slender Thread' have been proportionate to the rest of the country."

MAGIC NAME

Poitier seems to have the magic name to break down Southern prejudices against playing films with Negroes. United Artists reports that "Lilies of the Field," for which Poitier won the Academy Award two years ago, was widely circulated in the South.

★ ★ ★

The same is true of Universal's "To Kill a Mockingbird," which dealt with Southern justice for Negroes of a generation ago.

Stanley Kramer, a producer of controversial films, offers this observation: "We had no trouble getting Southern bookings of 'The Defiant Ones' — which starred Poitier and Tony Curtis in 1958. But that didn't surprise me. In 1949, we played 'Home of the Brave' — which dealt with anti-Negro prejudice — throughout the South.

★ ★ ★

"I've found that theater men in the South are the same as they are everywhere. If they can smell a buck, they'll play the picture. If they can't smell a buck, they won't. It's as simple as that."

Reaction to Disappointment

Stock Mart Takes Sharp Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a sharp loss early this afternoon amid disappointment over dividend action by General Motors and caution prompted by statements from official Washington.

★ ★ ★

General Motors declined nearly 2 points following declaration of dividends by GM late yesterday which brings the six-month payout of the giant auto maker to 5 cents a share less than the $2.25 a share paid in the first half of 1965.

A speech by Gardner Ackley, the President's chief economic adviser, in which Ackley suggested that profits may be running too high for the good of the economy, also gave Wall Street something to think about.

Stocks retreated on a broad front, losses running from fractions to 3 or 4 points for some of the biggest gainers of recent months.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 2.2 at 340.0 with industrials off 3.3, rails off 1.7 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 6.45 at 925.50.

★ ★ ★

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange in active trading.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Provision Hit on Home Rule

Service Take-Over Questioned by Kelley

LANSING (AP)—A home rule county could not take over services provided by a self-governing city unless the city agreed beforehand, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Monday.

★ ★ ★

In an opinion requested by Rep. Francis Beedon, D-Muskegon, chairman of the House Towns and Counties Committee, Kelley said such a provision in a Senate-approved county home rule bill "would be invalid" under other state laws.

A House substitute for the Senate measure—condemned by some for not granting counties enough power in self-determination—received Kelley's approval in this area.

★ ★ ★

He said it "would authorize a charter county to exercise one or more of the charter-conferred powers within the boundaries of a home rule city, subject to consent of the legislative body of the city—so there is no conflict within the area of permissive self-government..."

ON MAJORITY

The Senate-approved measure would have allowed the take-over—say, of a water or sewer system—if a majority of the governing bodies of other communities in the county approved it.

The House version, reported out by Beedon's committee, also allows what amounts to a negotiated sale of the city's facilities to the county.

★ ★ ★

A charter county, Kelley ruled, is not subject to the constitutional property tax limitations of 15 or 18 mills. But both the original Senate bill and the House substitute set a 10-mill limit for the county.

Under law, counties may levy up to 15 mills—or, by a special vote of the people, may go to 18 mills—to be split three ways between the county, townships and school districts.

TAXES, REVENUES

The home rule bills could have the effect of meaning more taxes and more revenue for all three — by setting a separate county limitation. The House bill, however, requires that one-half of the county property tax come from within the 15- or 18-mill limitation.

A&P to Open Store in Area

The newest Pontiac area supermarket of the A&P Food Stores chain will open tomorrow in Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

Allen Andrews, former manager of the A&P store at 25 W. Pike, Pontiac, will manage the new operation at 3232 Orchard Lake.

A number of A&P officials, including vice president Hobert Ledford, will be on hand when the doors open at 9 a.m., starting a four-week program of awards and giveaways to celebrate the grand opening.

The 12,000-square-foot store, of Early American design, is one of more than 50 of its type to be erected for the food chain in eastern Michigan in recent years.

★ ★ ★

See End to Boom

'Tax Hike Unneeded'

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Opposition to a tax increase now is based on a growing suspicion that the big business boom is at or nearing its peak. This view holds that the unusual upsurge of recent months is about over.

DAWSON

Ahead, without any further government intervention, would be either a definite slowdown in business expansion of a leveling off on a high plateau.

A tax increase thus wouldn't be needed to curb a runaway boom. It might even cause a downturn in the economy. Some private as well as government economists see government fiscal and monetary steps already taken as likely to moderate the business pace in the latter part of 1966.

★ ★ ★

A tax increase would be needed, they hold, only if the war in Viet Nam should expand or suddenly prove more costly.

The view that the economy will moderate its pace isn't universally held. Many corporate executives are telling stockholder meetings these days that still greater activity for their company lies ahead. Prices continue to rise, here and there. Wage demands tend to be scaled upward.

POINT UPWARD

Most of the economic indicators still point upward. And, with few exceptions, most of the current statistics stress new highs rather than any slowdown.

Based on these figures, a view that the fast growth of recent months is due to continue—and thus offer an inflationary threat—is easy to sustain.

★ ★ ★

Then on what is the suspicion of a moderating pace ahead based?

One point being increasingly made is that the economy grew so fast because it had room in which to grow. This room is fast disappearing. Many industries are now operating near maximum capacity. In some skilled trades there is a labor shortage. This puts a natural curb on growing so fast much longer.

HIGHER COSTS

It also, of course, increases pressure for higher prices and wages.

Credit also is becoming tighter and borrowing costs higher. Lenders are beginning to frown on marginal risks. And some expansion plans and spending schemes suffer.

★ ★ ★

Government economists stress the steps already taken in Washington to slow the boom. They contend that the effect of these is yet to be felt and judged.

One curb is starting this month with the shrinking of paychecks through withholdings to meet income taxes. Corporate tax collections also are to be speeded. This will leave less cash in the company till the rest of this year for the financing of more activity.

HOLD PRICES

And the administration puts great hope in the effectiveness of its campaign of persuasion. The president, and various department heads, are urging businessmen to hold down prices and to trim or postpone expansion plans. They are urging consumers to spend more carefully—and meat markets report that housewives are giving the lower-priced items a bigger play now.

But the real curb on the boom will probably come from the economic cycle itself. Many think it is far from dead, despite the five years of unprecedented growth. Business production and inventory accumulation have been growing faster than has consumer spending.

People are spending more, it's true. But unit purchases haven't been rising as fast as have business production plans.

Moderation before the year is out could come from natural causes, rather than the forced medicine of a tax increase.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "A long time ago I bought 55 shares of Boeing at a cost of $2,495. Today, because of a split and stock dividends, I have shares worth $32,000. Should I sell all or half and increase my savings, which are quite substantial? My stocks currently yield me four per cent and support me, together with pension and bank interest. The only stock I am disturbed about is U. S. Steel." W. D.

(A) This is one of the finest aircraft and space project companies. The shares have been split again, as you know, and the dividend raised. Over half of Boeing's business is with commercial airlines and the balance with the Government. I believe this company has a fine future but, in your position, I would be inclined to sell half my holdings and accept a substantial profit.

Since your savings appear adequate, I suggest you invest the proceeds in American Telephone 5⅛ per cent debentures of 2001 at 100⅝ to yield 5.10 per cent. I would sell Big Steel, which has got nowhere in two years in spite of sharply rising earnings.

The proceeds might be placed in American Natural Gas — a highly regarded company with a consistent record of growth — at a current yield of 3.90 per cent.

Detroit Students Push Reforms

DETROIT (AP) — Students who led a four - day boycott of Detroit's Northern High School issued a program of reforms Monday and demanded it be put into practice in two weeks.

The student leaders, Charles Colding, Michael Batchelor and Judy Walker, said the youngsters would walk out of classes again if the deadline is not met.

★ ★ ★

The three teen-agers returned to classes Monday for the first time since April 20 when they led most of Northern's 2,300 pupils out of the school. Most of the other rebels returned last Tuesday. The school's enrollment is predominantly Negro.

Their demand for ouster of Northern Principal Arthur T. Carty led to removal of the 64-year-old administrator.

LIST DEMANDS

Colding and Batchelor listed their demands as:

Naming of a permanent principle and assurance he will not be Carty or acting principal George Donaldson. The new principal need not take charge until September.

Establishment of an investigating committee empowered to probe the students' charges that Northern offers an inferior education.

Assurance that the committee's recommendations would be carried out.

WANT COUNCIL

Setting up of a student-faculty council.

Approval to hold functions such as a teacher talent show, which Colding said Carty had banned.

City Man Arrested on Assault Charge

A 43-year-old Pontiac man was arrested by city police at his home last night after allegedly threatening a patrolman with a rifle.

Clarence E. Marotz of 260 N. Saginaw faces arraignment in Municipal Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Patrolman Douglas T. Fortin said he was called to the scene of a minor automobile accident about 8 p.m. and directed to a car, owned by Marotz, sitting in a driveway.

Fortin said Marotz came to the door of his home, admitted knowing about the accident, but refused to give any details.

"No you aren't," Fortin quoted Marotz as saying when the patrolmen said the car would be impounded for investigation.

"I've got something that will stop you," Marotz reportedly said.

Fortin said he then radioed for a wrecker and assistance and looked up to see Marotz leveling a rifle at him from the porch.

The patrolman ordered Marotz to drop the gun, and said Marotz fled into the house when Fortin pulled his service revolver.

Fortin and two other patrolmen then entered the house, disarmed Marotz and placed him under arrest.

Buying Spree in Britain to Dodge Taxes

LONDON (AP) — Britons staged a last-minute spending spree today to escape higher sales taxes the Labor government was expected to order in the new budget.

Commentators predicted that Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, in the budget to be read in the House of Commons this afternoon, would announce $560 million in tax increases.

One government aim is to check domestic purchases of consumer goods so as to increase the exports which Britain needs to put her foreign trade in balance and pay off her overseas debts.

Another is to finance expanded social services promised during the election campaign.

Stores reported record demand for washing machines and similar durable goods.

Drivers lined up at filling stations to beat the increase anticipated in the already heavy gasoline tax. Liquor stores reported steady sales.

Tobacconists reported business as usual. Smokers apparently thought the current price of 77 cents a pack — 80 per cent of it tax — unlikely to go up.

Callaghan already had announced plans to impose a new tax on all forms of betting — a major industry in Britain — and to use the proceeds to finance cheaper mortgages.

Introduction of a payroll tax also was predicted. Government economists believe many smaller firms hoard skilled workers and keep them out of larger export industries.

'Cheetahs,' New 'In' Cult, Stresses Freedom of Knees

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's something new in America called "the Cheetahs" who in their zest for freedom of the knees may make England's Mods and Italy's Dolce Vita seem old-fogyish.

"Why aren't you dancing?" somebody asked a member of our party when 3,000 to 4,000 of the Cheetahs swarmed into the Cheetah club's opening (at 53rd and Broadway) . . . and she replied:

"Because my skirts aren't short enough."

★ ★ ★

The late teens and early twenties wore skirts 3 to 6 inches above their knees . . . an Austrian model named Lilo had actually no back to her back . . . 300 or 400 couples were mildly Watusling to three orchestras under a razzle-dazzle of colored lights resembling an electrical storm . . . . here and there you saw a guy asleep (they had to be REALLY tired) . . . you saw broken glasses on the floor . . . but never have I seen so many pretty girls on Broadway . . . nor so much pushing.

WILSON

Joan Crawford was there posing with guess what soft drink . . . Edie Adams came in her white Rolls . . . Monique Van Vooren had on a transparent dress ("I'm just wearing a body stocking under it," she said) . . . and Micheline Lerner got lost from her escort Alan Foshko, who said, "I left her right here when I went to make a phone call . . . three days ago."

"Jackie Kennedy's coming," went the rumor . . . "Frank Sinatra's coming . . ."

They didn't, but it was the biggest mass assemblage of my time.

New Look at Red China Policy Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called today for a sweeping reassessment of U.S. policy toward Red China and urged President Johnson to appoint a special commission to recommend new approaches.

He said the commission could be headed "by a national leader of the caliber and credentials" of retired Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who commanded allied forces in Korea; retired Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former American Red Cross president; or Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, Johns Hopkins University president and a brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, Kennedy said the commission could be asked to make recommendations on "vital issues," including:

—How to increase "informal governmental contacts" with Red China, as well as scientific, educational, cultural, athletic and tourists contacts.

U.N. SEAT

—The problem of Chinese Communist membership in the United Nations. Kennedy did not advocate seating of Red China but said "if a system of representation were devised which would allow a seat for mainland China and still preserve Formosa's rights, it should receive serious consideration."

—Whether the present U.S. embargo on all trade with Red China should be modified to allow "a limited trading relationship...on goods which could not be used to fuel Chinese war machines."

—How to increase Chinese participation in international arms control negotiations. He said the United States should "continue to hold the door open" for China at every disarmament conference "in the hope that eventually she will participate."

The senator said any overtures probably would be rejected quickly by Red China.

CHIPPING AWAY

But, he added, "if offered patiently and imaginatively and persistently enough, they might be accepted—not all at once, perhaps none immediately—but eventually, through the steady effect of chipping away at China's self-imposed isolation."

7 U.S. Students Are Attacked by Spanish Police

MADRID (UPI) — Seven American students — including the granddaughter of former U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter — were attacked and beaten by Spanish police yesterday during a student demonstration.

Police claimed it was a mistake.

The students, including Susan Herter, were attacked as they stepped out of the Letters and Philosophy Building at the University of Madrid where they had been attending a special course for foreign students.

Policemen saw the little group, apparently mistook them for demonstrators, and charged. The students were clubbed with nightsticks.

U.S. Fires Into Cambodia

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States tore away a thin veil of official secrecy from U.S. military operations along the Cambodian frontier today by acknowledging for the first time that U.S. forces had fired across the international border.

The announcement by the U.S. command in Saigon indirectly warned Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, that he can expect more action against his territory if he continues to let the Viet Cong use it for attacks on American forces in South Viet Nam.

A U. S. spokesman said American artillerymen unleashed a heavy barrage Saturday to silence "very heavy" automatic weapons and mortar fire from across the border on a battalion of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division.

The "Big Red One" was sweeping the South Vietnamese side of the Cai Bac River in Tay Ninh Province, 57 miles northwest of Saigon, long suspected of headquartering the Viet Cong's political arm, the National Liberation Front.

★ ★ ★

The State Department declared last December that U. S. commanders in the field had been authorized to enter or fire on Cambodian territory if it was being used by troops attacking American forces. Sihanouk and his representatives have repeatedly denied that the Viet Cong were using Cambodia as a sanctuary.

GRAB SUPPLIES

The GIs have seized hundreds of tons of Viet Cong supplies in the past nine days of their sweep — Operation Birmingham — in the jungled area. It is the largest Communist cache taken in the war.

B52s again flew in from Guam today for the fifth raid on the area during the infantry operation. Other U. S. planes carried out 305 combat sorties in the South, while a three-week lull in the ground war persisted.

The U.S. spokesman said 83

Reds to Hold Confab on Viet Nam Conflict

LONDON (UPI) — A Communist summit conference on Viet Nam strategy and the Soviet-Chinese conflict will likely be held early in July, informed sources said today.

Top leaders of Russia, the East European countries and several leading Communist parties outside the Red bloc appear to have agreed on the conference, the sources said.

BRUCE J. ANNETT

Its chief aim will be to coordinate Communist policy and assistance to North Viet Nam and seek a joint line on the feud with Red China.

The party chiefs of the Warsaw Pact nations—Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria — were said to be among those slated to participate.

Other leaders were expected to be invited and there was speculation that Communist North Viet Nam might also attend.

The place of the projected meeting was not known. The reports said the meeting was discussed when Red leaders were in Moscow for the recent 23rd Party Congress.

NEW OFFENSIVE

Latest diplomatic reports suggested that hopes for a truce with Peking have now been abandoned by the Kremlin and there are signs that Red China is mounting a new offensive against Moscow.

While there apparently is no intention to isolate Peking from the international Communist camp, the leading Communist countries feel that some stand must be taken in public to denounce the Red Chinese line.

McNamara: Unrest Cut War Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says South Vietnamese political unrest cut allied military operations by more than half and prompted administration fears of civil war and the overthrow of the government in Saigon.

McNamara made the disclosures as he fielded questions from the floor of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention yesterday.

"The tempo of military operations was adversely affected by the political disorders," McNamara said. He estimated operations against the Viet Cong were reduced 50 to 70 per cent.

But he said the administration had feared more severe effects.

★ ★ ★

"We were afraid of a civil war, we were afriad of the separation of the entire northern part of the country, and of the overthrow of the government," he said.

MORE INFILTRATIONS

McNamara also acknowledged that despite the bombing of North Viet Nam the number of Communist infiltrators is three times above the level of a year ago.

And, he added, "we probably will have to increase the number of our troops."

McNamara said, however, this does not mean the bombing did not achieve its objective.

★ ★ ★

The defense chief had a "categoric no" when asked whether there is a shortage of war materials in South Viet Nam.

MINING HARBOR

McNamara also spoke out against mining of the harbor at Haiphong, a major North Vietnamese port, saying this would be unwise because "we do not seek to widen the war. Our objective is a very limited one."

Walter Reuther Addresses State U.N. Conference

United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther was to deliver the keynote address at the Michigan United Nations Association conference at Oakland University this morning.

Scheduled for this afternoon was a speech by Arthur J. Goldberg, U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

Some 1,100 persons — more than twice the number expected —registered for the one-day conference, setting a record for the association's annual meetings.

WALTER P. REUTHER

The public was invited to hear Goldberg's 2:30 p.m. speech, to be delivered in the Sports and Recreation Building.

Reuther is one of the three honorary chairmen of the event, with Walker L. Cisler, Detroit Edison Co. board chairman, and Harold B. Allen, retired Upjohn executive who now is secretary of the Kalamazoo Foundation.

★ ★ ★

The three are Michigan's members of the National United Nations Association board of directors.

The conference is being held in cooperation with the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University.

Politicos Eye Alabama Vote

Takes the Spotlight in 6 State Primaries

By United Press International

The political test by primary began today in six states.

But it was Alabama Negroes, with historic voting power at their command, who held national attention.

Democrats and Republicans were watching the Negroes, more of whom were registered to vote than at any time in 100 years.

They were voting on Gov. George C. Wallace's bid to retain power.

★ ★ ★

The party leaders were also watching voting in Florida, Indiana, Ohio, New Mexico and Oklahoma for signs of voter feeling on Viet Nam and the steadily climbing cost of living, both key GOP issues for November.

SIX PRIMARIES

The six primaries were the first of many which will culminate Nov. 8 in the election of all 435 members of the House of Representatives, 35 U.S. senators and 35 governors.

Wallace's wife, Lurleen, was the candidate on the ballot in the Alabama Democratic primary.

But her campaign left no doubt that if elected, she would "let George do it."

She is running against nine men.

For Scout Camp
Public Campaign Opens

The public phase of a campaign to raise $550,000 for the purchase and development of Lost Lake Reservation as a camping site for the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America began today.

"To support the Lost Lake Reservation is to support the future of our community, an interest I'm sure we all share," said John Z. DeLorean, general chairman of the Lost Lake Reservation Development Fund, in kicking off the public campaign.

DeLorean is a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division. The drive is scheduled to run through mid-June.

Lost Lake Reservation is a 2,284-acre tract located 15 miles north and west of Clare. It will serve more than 11,000 Boy Scouts in the council which includes 33 townships in Oakland and Macomb counties.

182,000 Cars Called Back by Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. said yesterday it has called in 182,000 Plymouth and Dodge automobiles for possible repairs because 20 of the 1966 cars were found to have loose nuts on a front suspension component.

Meanwhile, an auto industry trade paper reported that Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Corp. has called for repairs on a four - barrel carburetor which, in some cases, allowed gasoline to spew over the engine and ignite.

A Chrysler spokesman said the firm knows of two cases where two nuts came off a control arm strut to the front suspension.

"Our dealers turned up 20 cases where the particular nuts were loose," the spokesman added.

Affected cars were Dodge Coronets and Chargers and Plymouth Belvederes and Satellites produced at a Detroit assembly plant and a Los Angeles plant, he said.

DEFECTS FOUND

The trade paper Automotive News said defects were found in a carburetor made by Rochester Products Division of GM and installed on some early 1966 GM cars.

It said "serious problems have occasionally occurred when the plug in a so-called fuel inlet on the front of a Quadrajet carburetor has slipped out, permitting gasoline to spew over the engine and to ignite."

Automotive News said Oldsmobile Division issued a technical bulletin last Feb. 18, reporting the defect on early 1966 Cutlass, Starfire, Ninety-Eight and Toronado cars.

Frosty Prediction for Pontiac Tonight

Claims Caterer Seen at Airport in Wichita

DETROIT (AP) — State Police say a suburban Southfield man who said he was kidnaped and held for 12 days has been identified by a Wichita, Kan. airline clerk as the man who bought a ticket to Denver one day after his disappearance.

Sgt. Patrick Lyons said yesterday, the clerk identified a photograph of Robert Rosenberg, 32, as the picture of a man who bought a ticket April 9 in the name of "Bob Boyd."

Another clerk said he thought Rosenberg was the same man who bought the ticket, Sgt. Lyons said.

Rosenberg, a caterer, disappeared April 8 and was not seen until April 20 when he staggered into a southeastern Michigan motel with a bullet wound in his back.

He told officers he was abducted in Detroit and held, bound and blindfolded, for 12 days.

★ ★ ★

He could not identify the men he said abducted him, police said.

TRACE PISTOL

State Police said the pistol used to shoot Rosenberg had been purchased in Wichita by a man giving the name Bob Boyd.

One of the ticket agents, Patrick Harlan, said the man buying the ticket was wearing a black sweater.

Rosenberg was wearing a similar sweater when he entered the motel, officers said.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. Lyons said Rosenberg denied being in either Wichita or Denver or using the name Boyd.

He said a copy of Rosenberg's signature was being sent to Wichita for comparison and that Rosenberg would be asked to take a lie detector test when he recovers from the bullet wound.

Waterford Township has offered to provide water service to the Oakland County Service Center for a $25,500 connection charge at the same water rate being paid by township customers.

Rights Bill Faces Ordeal on Housing

MAKE OVER PAGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has its first skirmish today over President Johnson's new civil rights bill, with its fair housing section apparently already doomed.

What sounded like a fatal blow to a provision banning racial or religious discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing was struck by Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

He called this part of the bill "absolutely unconstitutional" and said that if this is retained, he could not support any move to break a filibuster against the legislation.

"If you can tell me what interstate commerce is involved in selling or renting a house fixed to the soil, or where there is federal jurisdiction, I'll go out and eat the chimney off the house," Dirksen said.

Both Dirksen and Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said they would oppose any move to fix a deadline for action on the bill by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., reserved the right to make such a move when the bill was introduced in the Senate last Thursday.

★ ★ ★

In the past, the Judiciary Committee, with Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., as chairman, has been a dead end for civil rights bills in the absence of instructions by the Senate to act within a specific time.

Dirksen played a crucial role in the passage of the comprehensive Civil Rights Bills of 1964 and last year's voting rights measure.

THREW SUPPORT

Not only did he work closely with the administration in drafting compromise language, but he also threw his support behind winning the two-thirds majority necessary to prevent southern opponents from filibustering the legislation to death.

He said Monday, however, that he would not try to choke off a filibuster against a bill he regarded as "absolutely unconstitutional."

★ ★ ★

Dirksen also said he knew of no way in which the fair housing section could be rewritten to make it constitutional and "still get the effect they want."

This was bound to be welcome news to southern senators who earlier in the day had met in the office of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., to discuss their strategy for battling the legislation.

OTHER PARTS

However, Dirksen indicated he would go along with other parts of the bill—to prevent racial discrimination in selecting juries, to increase criminal penalties for intimidation or violence against civil rights workers, and to broaden the attorney general's power to file suits for the desegregation of schools and other public facilities.

PAPER CLIP REMEDY — Two veteran test pilots, Air Force Col. Joseph Cotton (left) and Al White of North American Aviation, are shown telling yesterday how a paper clip saved a $500-million XB70 experimental aircraft when its nose gear jammed during a recent 2,000-mile-an-hour test flight in California. Drawing a diagram from information supplied from ground engineers, White lowered the gear and locked it in place by using a paper clip to short-circuit two electrical points.

Officials Are Interested in Idea for Nativity Play

BIRMINGHAM — A proposal for a Nativity play to be staged annually at Shain Park sparked the interest of the City Commission last night.

Plans for the program were outlined by Mrs. Florence Purvis, 1447 Henrietta, who told commissioners the play could draw thousands of tourists to Birmingham at Christmas.

The commission, while taking no official action on the idea, however, encouraged Mrs. Purvis to seek additional assistance from civic, cultural and neighborhoods groups to make it a community project.

Mrs. Purvis, who would write and produce the half-hour play, said it would replace the present "Caroling in the Square," presented one or two evenings the week before Christmas each year.

★ ★ ★

The drama, she said, would be presented "in the round" on a circular platform in the center of the park.

LOCAL TALENT

Local talent would be used in the cast, and hundreds of school-children would provide the singing, according to Mrs. Purvis.

In other business, the Commission referred a proposal for a historical village back to the Historical Board for further study.

The action was taken after the commission decided not to accept a gift of an old home which the Historical Board has proposed for a museum.

The museum would have been the first building in the village.

The commission turned down the offer at this time because there were too many unanswered questions as to the operation of the museum.

Final Respects Paid to Pat McNamara

DETROIT (AP) — Patrick V. McNamara's mourners numbered pipefitters, plumbers and politicians.

They and others filed by the hundreds past the funeral bier of the blunt-spoken senator Monday night and today, paying their final respects.

The 71-year-old senior senator from Michigan died Saturday after suffering a stroke at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md.

An array of dignitaries, and of laboring men from whose ranks McNamara came, are expected to attend the solemn Requiem Mass Wednesday in Detroit's Holy Name Church.

12 YEARS

McNamara, once a 9-cent-an-hour pipefitter, spent much of his nearly 12 years in the Senate working on legislation in fields of labor, education and social welfare.

A bill to extend the minimum wage law, among the last major legislation of which he was Senate sponsor, is pending.

"He was very pleased that most of his legislation had passed," said Robert S. Perrin, long-time aide to McNamara.

McNamara announced last February he would not seek a third term.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told the Senate Monday of spending last Thursday evening with McNamara and McNamara's wife, Mary.

Hart said McNamara was fully aware of what legislation was pending in the Senate and that he expressed hope for passage of measures he had sponsored. He also was "calmly aware of the uncertainty of life," Hart said.

HALF-STAFF

Flags fluttered at half-staff in Detroit today as Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh declared a period of mourning until Thursday.

Cavanagh, on a trade and travel mission in Paris, named his wife, Mary, as his representative at the funeral Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh is a candidate for Democratic nomination to McNamara's Senate seat. He is in a primary election battle for the post with former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

McNamara's body was returned to Michigan Monday aboard an Air Force plane.

To Delay Griffin Appointment

LANSING (AP)—The expected appointment of U. S. Rep. Robert P. Griffin to the U. S. Senate will be delayed until he has left for — and probably returned from — a trip to South Viet Nam.

Party leaders acknowledged Monday no other candidate has arisen to challenge Griffin for the seat of the late Patrick McNamara, who died Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Griffin, a five-term congressman from Traverse City, is the Republican party's preferred candidate for election to the seat from which McNamara had planned to retire at the end of this term.

Gov. George Romney, who is empowered to name a successor, has refused comment until after McNamara's funeral Wednesday. Griffin is scheduled to leave Friday as a member of a House committee touring South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Republicans acknowledged the trip would provide Griffin with valuable campaign background and that it unlikely he'd give it up for a few extra days as senator.

Were Griffin elevated to the Senate before Friday, he'd lose House standing and thus his justification for the trip. He is scheduled to return May 16.

Water Service Bid Offered by Waterford

ect if the proposal is accepted

County officials have indicated they also will ask Pontiac to submit a proposal with price quotations.

FUTURE GROWTH

The inquiry on possible outside water sources was made by county officials in view of the proposed future growth of the service center.

The proposed hookup would be via an eight-inch line, according to Squiers.

"Based on the estimated requirements of the service center," said Squiers, "it would be necessary to provide an eight-inch line as the peak hour demand is 462 gallons per minute."

★ ★ ★

It is estimated that the service center would use an average of 2 million to 8 million gallons of water per month.

NO HARDSHIPS

"I seriously don't believe this is going to cause a hardship on our supply," said Squiers in reply to a trustee's question.

Squiers termed the proposed connection "the most equitable to all parties concerned."

Waterford Township has an internal water distribution system supplied by wells, while Pontiac uses Detroit water.

★ ★ ★

County officials have stated that the availability of an outside water source would assure an adequate water supply for the service center if the present water table dropped.

CAN'T ADD WELL

The county reportedly has not been able to add a well in the past four or five years despite recent attempts.

It costs about $1,200 every time the county drills a hole.

According to William G. Atchison, director of maintenance for the county, the service center presently has adequate water supplied by four wells.

Thant: Tensions Threaten to Spark World War III

STRASBOURG, France (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant warned today that political, economic and racial tensions are threatening to push mankind into the total disaster of a third world war.

Speaking to the European Consultative Assembly, Thant called on the peoples of Europe to devote their talents and genius to preventing another global conflict.

★ ★ ★

The secretary general proposed that the United Nations undertake a thorough study of the probable effects of a nuclear war on the world's population and civilizations.

He said such a report should be distributed as widely as possible in all languages to alert the average person to the dangers hanging over humanity.

CAUSES OF TENSION

Thant said the causes of tension are the East-West political struggle, the growing gap between the have and have-not nations, the breakup of the colonial system and racial discrimination in several forms.

"It is unthinkable," Thant told the assembly, "that we may need a third world war to teach us how to coexist on this richly endowed planet, but sometimes events in the world seem to be pointing in this direction.

Scout Drive Starts Today

vestment in character - development and citizenship - training than to actively support a program which will provide scout camp facilities."

The campaign has been approved by the Pontiac Area United Fund and the Detroit United Foundation. This is the first time in the 57-year history of the council that the public has been asked to support a major fund drive.

DeLorean noted that there are twice as many Scouts in the Oakland and Macomb county area as there were 10 years ago and in 10 more years there would be at least 20,000 boys enrolled in Scouting.

The council's present camping facility, Camp Agawam near Lake Orion, can accommodate less than 30 per cent of the present membership and there is no space to expand.

Development of the Lost Lake Reservation will include construction of a waterfront area, staff quarters, water system, maintenance and storage buildings, ranger's lodge and office, health lodge, chapel, rifle and archery range and an initial camp for 250-350 boys.

DeLorean named Robert W. Emerick as campaign vice chairman, Otis W. Walton as public phase chairman and George R. DeCourcy as chairman of project and living tributes.

Three Boys Earn Safety Patrol Trip

Three Safety Patrol boys from the Pontiac area will be among 1,200 patrollers attending a national rally from May 13-15 in Washington, D.C.

Making the trip to the nation's capitol will be Ronald Geiger, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Geiger of 104 W. Walton; Frank B. Moss, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Moss of 2872 Edna Jane, Pontiac Township; and Timothy Daly, 11, son of Mrs. Gertrude A. Daly of 4630 Irwindale, Waterford Township.

The three were among 132 youths selected from a field of 65,000 by the sponsor of the state delegation, the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Ronald attends Wever Elementary School, Frank is a student at Will Rogers Elementary School, and Timothy goes to Della Lutes School.

The patrol boys will leave Detroit for Washington on buses, joining 25,000 patrollers from 20 other states and the District of Columbia on arrival in Washington.

The all-expense-paid trip is the 30th annual rally sponsored by the American Automobile Association.

Deadline Near to Register

Last Day Is May 16 in Waterford District

Waterford Township School District officials remind unregistered voters that 8 p.m. May 16 is the deadline to register for the June 13 election.

Voters can register with their respective township clerks.

Besides Waterford Township, parts of Independence, West Bloomfield and White Lake Townships are included in the school district.

Deadline is 4 p.m. May 14 for filing nominating petitions for the two board of education posts to be filled in the election.

★ ★ ★

Prospective candidates for the four-year terms, however, are asked to make arrangements with school officials if they plan on filing May 14 which falls on a Saturday.

PETITION DEADLINE

Nominating petitions must be filed at the board of education offices at 3101 W. Walton.

★ ★ ★

The two positons presently are held by Eldon Rosegart and Norman Cheal. Neither has yet filed a nominating petition.

Four bonding proposals totaling $11.8 million and a millage proposal also will be on the June 13 ballot.

New OU Dorm Named in Honor of Vandenberg

Oakland University's newest dormitory has been named the Arthur H. Vandenberg Hall, in honor of the late senator from Michigan who actively participated in the formation of the United Nations.

Occasion for the announcement by Chancellor D. B. Varner was the appearance on campus today of Arthur Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, at the state conference of the Michigan UN Association.

★ ★ ★

The $4.3-million dormitory-food service building named for Vandenberg now is under construction and is scheduled to be occupied by 572 students next fall.

Vandenberg, a member of the U.S. Senate from 1928 to 1953, also was a U.S. delegate to the first and second U.N. general assemblies, which he christened "the town meetings of the world."

ELECTION DATE

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky indicated today that the crucial general elections may be postponed.

"We will try to hold the elections by October," he said in an interview at the fortified airbase at Quang Ngai.

His original pledge in the face of Buddhist unrest a month ago was to have the vote "within three to five months," indicating September at the latest.

The premier, dressed in his uniform of vice air marshall, said that pacification must "be carried effectively throughout the country" to permit the vote.

Find 100 Dead From East Java Volcano Eruption

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The bodies of 100 victims of Mt. Kelut volcano have been recovered and the fate of several hundred villagers is not known, press reports from East Java said today.

In the neighboring Lesser Sunda Islands, flash floods caused by heavy rains killed 32 persons, drove 250 from their homes and destroyed hundreds of acres of riceland.

Mt. Kelut erupted a week ago, spilling lava down its 5,679-foot slopes toward several major towns. Reports reaching Jakarta said one village near the rim of the crater and crops within a five-mile radius were destroyed.

April Showers Aided Lakes

Maybe the average citizen wasn't overjoyed with the rainfall last month, but lake property owners were deliriously happy, to say the least.

Lake levels throughout the county rose sharply as April lived up to its showery reputation and then, for good measure, tossed in a couple of rainstorms.

Though it rained on only nine of the 30 days, the total amounted to about three inches, much more than was expected, according to a county official who keeps tab on water levels.

Nearly an inch of rain was recorded on the 23rd of the month. In comparison, only 1½ inches fell in all of April 1965.

★ ★ ★

The month made its debut with a mixture of rain and snow, previewing to some extent what could be expected throughout April.

WARM DAYS

But here were some surprises in the form of exceptionally warm days.

The warmest April day came on the 20th when the temperature climbed to a Miami-like 76 degrees.

The coldest day was recorded on April 8 when the mercury fell four degrees below freezing.

Average high temperature for the month was 53.3 degrees, the average low 35.

COMFORTABLE

The mean temperature was a comfortable 44.1 degrees, almost duplicating last year's reading of 43.7 for April.

A freakish, freezing rain hit the area on the 27th of the month.

It was just cold enough for ice to form on branches of trees and buses, coating utility wires with a shiny glaze.

★ ★ ★

But streets and sidewalks were not receptive to the ice, and no slippery conditions were reported.

Unlike April a year ago when three inches of snow fell, last month's accumulation was almost nil even though there were heavy flurries on several days.

County's June Draft Call 87

Oakland County's selective service call for the month of June has been set at 87 men, nearly 200 less than last month and the lowest figure since the March call was canceled.

The county figure is among a state quota of 1,225 announced by Selective Service Director Col. Arthur Holmes.

Of the Oakland total, three men will be called by Board 65 from Pontiac, 13 by Board 67 from the southwestern sector of the county, and eight by Board 331 from northern Oakland County.

In addition, Farmington Board 328 is scheduled to take 34 and the three Royal Oak boards will call 29.

Oakland's total call was second among Michigan counties to Wayne, which will take 561.

Trade Is Active

Stock Market Shows Decline

NEW YORK (AP)— General Motors took a sharp loss in reaction to its dividend action and the stock market declined early today in active trading.

GM fell 1¼ to 89½ on 17,300 shares at the opening. Directors took dividend action after Monday's market close. The declaration meant GM would pay out $2.20 a share for the first half of 1966 compared with $2.25 in the first half of 1965.

GM stock also was adversely affected by a published article in a financial newspaper citing the recent troubles of the company.

Trans World Airlines advanced a full point as a huge secondary offering of 6.5 million shares of the stock held by Hughes Tool Co. was offered at $86 a share.

Losses of a point were taken by Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., Zenith, Raytheon, Eastman Kodak, du Pont, Santa Fe and Pan American World Airways.

Parker Hannefin rose ¼ to 45¼ on an opening block of 10,000 shares.

Monday the Associated Press Average of 60 Stocks fell 1.6 to 342.2.

Provision Hit on Home Rule

Service Take-Over Questioned by Kelley

LANSING (AP)—A home rule county could not take over services provided by a self-governing city unless the city agreed beforehand, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Monday.

In an opinion requested by Rep. Francis Beedon, D-Muskegon, chairman of the House Towns and Counties Committee, Kelley said such a provision in a Senate-approved county home rule bill "would be invalid" under other state laws.

★ ★ ★

A House substitute for the Senate measure—condemned by some for not granting counties enough power in self-determination—received Kelley's approval in this area.

He said it "would authorize a charter county to exercise one or more of the charter-conferred powers within the boundaries of a home rule city, subject to consent of the legislative body of the city—so there is no conflict within the area of permissive self-government..."

ON MAJORITY

The Senate-approved measure would have allowed the take-over—say, of a water or sewer system—if a majority of the governing bodies of other communities in the county approved it.

The House version, reported out by Beedon's committee, also allows what amounts to a negotiated sale of the city's facilities to the county.

★ ★ ★

A charter county, Kelley ruled, is not subject to the constitutional property tax limitations of 15 or 18 mills. But both the original Senate bill and the House substitute set a 10-mill limit for the county.

Under law, counties may levy up to 15 mills—or, by a special vote of the people, may go to 18 mills—to be split three ways between the county, townships and school districts.

TAXES, REVENUES

The home rule bills could have the effect of meaning more taxes and more revenue for all three — by setting a separate county limitation. The House bill, however, requires that one-half of the county property tax come from within the 15- or 18-mill limitation.

See End to Boom

'Tax Hike Unneeded'

By SAM DAWSON

DAWSON

NEW YORK — Opposition to a tax increase now is based on a growing suspicion that the big business boom is at or nearing its peak. This view holds that the unusual upsurge of recent months is about over.

Ahead, without any further government intervention, would be either a definite slowdown in business expansion of a leveling off on a high plateau.

A tax increase thus wouldn't be needed to curb a runaway boom. It might even cause a downturn in the economy. Some private as well as government economists see government fiscal and monetary steps already taken as likely to moderate the business pace in the latter part of 1966.

★ ★ ★

A tax increase would be needed, they hold, only if the war in Viet Nam should expand or suddenly prove more costly.

The view that the economy will moderate its pace isn't universally held. Many corporate executives are telling stockholder meetings these days that still greater activity for their company lies ahead. Prices continue to rise, here and there. Wage demands tend to be scaled upward.

POINT UPWARD

Most of the economic indicators still point upward. And, with few exceptions, most of the current statistics stress new highs rather than any slowdown.

Based on these figures, a view that the fast growth of recent months is due to continue—and thus offer an inflationary threat—is easy to sustain.

★ ★ ★

Then on what is the suspicion of a moderating pace ahead based?

One point being increasingly made is that the economy grew so fast because it had room in which to grow. This room is fast disappearing. Many industries are now operating near maximum capacity. In some skilled trades there is a labor shortage. This puts a natural curb on growing so fast much longer.

HIGHER COSTS

It also, of course, increases pressure for higher prices and wages.

Credit also is becoming tighter and borrowing costs higher. Lenders are beginning to frown on marginal risks. And some expansion plans and spending schemes suffer.

★ ★ ★

Government economists stress the steps already taken in Washington to slow the boom. They contend that the effect of these is yet to be felt and judged.

One curb is starting this month with the shrinking of paychecks through withholdings to meet income taxes. Corporate tax collections also are to be speeded. This will leave less cash in the company till the rest of this year for the financing of more activity.

HOLD PRICES

And the administration puts great hope in the effectiveness of its campaign of persuasion. The president, and various department heads, are urging businessmen to hold down prices and to trim or postpone expansion plans. They are urging consumers to spend more carefully—and meat markets report that housewives are giving the lower-priced items a bigger play now.

But the real curb on the boom will probably come from the economic cycle itself. Many think it is far from dead, despite the five years of unprecedented growth. Business production and inventory accumulation have been growing faster than has consumer spending.

People are spending more, it's true. But unit purchases haven't been rising as fast as have business production plans.

At GMC Truck

Name Plant Protection Chief

Harold R. Titus of 367 Nelson, has been promoted to chief of plant protection at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

He succeeds Harvey M. Johns of 330 Dick, who retired Sunday.

Titus joined GMC as a patrolman in 1940 and remained with the plant protection department until 1947 when he was named an interviewer in the employment office.

Three years later, he became a receiving department foreman.

In May 1959, Titus was appointed supervisor of plant safety and, in July 1963, was promoted to assistant chief.

A GMC employe for nearly 37 years, Johns joined the division in 1929 as a trimmer.

He advanced to a salaried position in 1934 and subsequently held several positions of responsibility in the personnel department.

Johns was appointed chief of plant protection in December 1951.

An active leader in various civic and professional organizations over the years, Johns is a director and past president of the Pontiac Boy's Club.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "A long time ago I bought 55 shares of Boeing at a cost of $2,495. Today, because of a split and stock dividends, I have shares worth $32,000. Should I sell all or half and increase my savings, which are quite substantial? My stocks currently yield me four per cent and support me, together with pension and bank interest. The only stock I am disturbed about is U. S. Steel." W. D.

(A) This is one of the finest aircraft and space project companies. The shares have been split again, as you know, and the dividend raised. Over half of Boeing's business is with commercial airlines and the balance with the Government. I believe this company has a fine future but, in your position, I would be inclined to sell half my holdings and accept a substantial profit.

Since your savings appear adequate, I suggest you invest the proceeds in American Telephone 5⅛ per cent debentures of 2001 at 100⅜ to yield 5.10 per cent. I would sell Big Steel, which has got nowhere in two years in spite of sharply rising earnings.

The proceeds might be placed in American Natural Gas — a highly regarded company with a consistent record of growth — at a current yield of 3.90 per cent.

(Q) "During inflationary periods, I have heard that it is advisable to invest in 'in the ground' types of stock such as petroleum. What issue would you advise?" T. O.

(A) Considering the "in the ground" types of stock as a hedge against inflation is a rather hoary shibboleth. I like many of the oils, not because they have assets in the ground but because in general they have consistently grown faster in earnings and price than the dollar has been devaluated.

At present I favor Texaco, which has a long record of enhanced earnings and price. The shares have increased in value more than 150 per cent over the past decade.
