State Finds Bridge Backer

Expects to Sell Revenue Bonds for Straits Span

Mackinac Group Hopes for Satisfactory Bid on $99 Million Securities

DETROIT (AP) — The Mackinac Bridge Authority announced today a buyer had been found for revenue bonds to build a bridge connecting Michigan's two peninsulas.

Prentiss M. Brown, bridge authority chairman, said that bids for $99,800,000 of bonds were formally requested today and that "we are assured of a bid by a responsible group of investment dealers and have every reason to expect it will be satisfactory."

The bids will be received at the State Capitol in Lansing Dec. 17. If they are approved by the authority, they will be submitted to the State Administrative Board for final approval.

The bonds were offered twice previously last spring and summer, but a softness of the bond market discouraged bids.

Brown said this delayed the construction on the bridge a year, but that construction is now expected to start next spring.

The delay, however, has increased the estimated construction costs more than $3,500,000.

Contracts for more than 90 per cent of the bridge construction already have been awarded by the authority. These total $70,235,000.

The $25,735,000 contract for the construction of foundations has been awarded the Merritt-Chapman and Scott Co. The American Bridge Division of the U. S. Steel Co. won the contract for the superstructure at $44,500,000.

This leaves about $4,500,000 for the construction of roadways, administration buildings and other remaining work.

The bridge, long envisaged to break the bottleneck of ferry traffic across the Straits of Mackinac, will be nearly four miles long and will carry four lanes of traffic. Plans call for opening the bridge in November 1957.

The authority's request for bids on the bonds sets a maximum discount rate at 96 per cent.

The Legislature has limited the interest rate a 6 per cent, but Brown said that the rate is expected to be substantially less.

Colder Forecast Tonight

Ice Coats State Highways but Roads in County Clear

Above-freezing temperatures most of last night spared the Pontiac area from icy highways that caused at least one traffic death in western Michigan.

Oakland County Road Commission reported that practically all main highways in the county were free of ice.

Other sections of Michigan got their first taste of winter weather.

One fatality was attributed to the storm which deposited five inches of snow at Houghton Lake, and three inches at Gladwin, Houghton, Saginaw and Cadillac.

William Manbeck, 74, of Rockford was killed when his car skidded and overturned last night on US-131 north of Grand Rapids. State Police reported slippery roads in the western half of the state.

Rain yesterday and last night doused the Pontiac area with two-tenths of an inch of water.

Authorities feared the drizzle would freeze and glaze highways in this area last night. But the mercury stayed well above freezing until early this morning.

The thermometer rose from 30 degrees at 8 a. m. today to 39 at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac. Yesterday's temperature ranged from 37 to 43 degrees.

Colder weather is in store for this area tonight, with a low of from 22 to 26 degrees forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau. A high of 36 to 40 degrees is expected tomorrow.

Gouzenko OKs Secret Meeting

Canadian Press Says Ex-Spy Has Agreed to See Senators

OTTAWA (AP)—Igor Gouzenko has agreed to a secret meeting with representatives of the United States Internal Security subcommittee, the Canadian Press reported today.

A statement from Stuart Garson, Canadian minister of justice, was expected later.

Gouzenko lives with his wife and two children—who do not know his identity—in an Ontario town. A writer who saw him recently reported he feels strongly that some procedure should be set up whereby secret agents from Russia working in North America can be persuaded to desert Moscow, as he did.

"Among the many secret agents, we have secret friends," he was quoted as saying in this account, which continued:

"The problem, as he sees it, is to make these secret friends come forward as he did with fresh documentary proof that will expose whole espionage apparatuses—not merely turn up a spy here or a cold trail there.

"'Not fear of death, but fear of ingratitude and fear of uncertainty' keep the secret friends within the enemy camp, Gouzenko says. Gouzenko's mission is to induce Congress and the Canadian Parliament to pass legislation which will assure a future to potential escapees."

$100,000 Damage Done by Wind Storm in Ohio

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—A wind storm, described by witnesses as a "baby tornado," whistled through a West Side residential section of this southern Ohio city last night, ripping off roofs, uprooting trees, leveling garages and tearing down power lines.

Damage was estimated at $100,000. No one was hurt.

State Chalks Up Seven Fatalities in Auto Mishaps

Man Becomes Detroit's 194th Traffic Victim of This Year

From AP and UP Dispatches

Seven Michigan persons were killed in traffic accidents throughout the state yesterday and early this morning.

George Schnorr, 65, became Detroit's 194th traffic victim of the year Wednesday when the car in which he was riding collided with another at an intersection.

A 20-year-old youth, who only minutes earlier had received a speeding ticket, was killed today when he cracked his car up as he tried to outspeed other police cars.

James Lee Whited of Suburban Trenton received a ticket from Trenton Police at 1:21 a.m. for doing 55 miles in a 35-mile zone.

A few minutes later, he sped through Wyandotte and outran a Wyandotte Police cruiser in a 90-mile-an-hour chase. Ecorse Police were notified by radio and joined the pursuit, but before they could halt the speeding car it crashed, killing Whited and injuring four passengers.

In Montcalm County, a 13-year-old boy and his 7-year-old sister were killed Wednesday evening when struck by a truck which failed to stop for a school bus unloading passengers.

The victims were Donald and Margaret Ann McCracken, pupils at St. Mary Catholic School here. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCracken were waiting for them to get off the school bus two miles west of here and witnessed the accident.

The school bus waited while Donald and Margaret Ann crossed M-57 to their parents' car. A pickup truck driven by 16-year-old Harvey Middleton of Carson City darted around the bus and struck both children.

Edward La Valley, 49, of Sparta was killed today when his car was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at the Leonard street crossing.

Louis Gidner, 72, a retired Charlotte farmer, was killed instantly when struck by a car as he was crossing a street last night.

Police said Gidner was hit by a car driven by Donald Marsh, 16, also of Charlotte. His body was carried 103 feet on the hood of Marsh's car.

William Manbeck, 74, of Rockford was killed early Wednesday as his car skidded on U. S. 131 south of Cedar Springs, Kent County. His car hit another.

Red Premier Hails Meeting

Praises Big 3 Action but Assails European Army Project

BERLIN (AP)—Acting Communist Premier Walter Ulbricht of East Germany said today his government "welcomes" the Western Big Three decision to accept the Soviet proposal for a four-power conference in Berlin.

But Ulbricht again assailed the European army project and said German reunification was "not possible with the treaties of Bonn and Paris." They provide for German units in the proposed European army.

The Communist leader, acting for vacationing Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl, addressed a meeting of the cabinet.

He announced a series of measures his government is taking to improve working and living conditions of East Germans. They include wage increases in several branches of the nationalized industry, more money for housing construction and the planting of lawns and flowers on factory grounds.

Hubby Entitled to Talk Aloud When Dreaming

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A husband has a right to talk in his sleep but refusing to speak when he's awake constitutes grounds for divorce, Special Master Joseph A. Wanick told Circuit Court yesterday.

He said Mrs. Estella Finley Emerson was not entitled to a divorce from Lester S. Emerson, supervisor of schools in New Rochelle, N. Y., because of his inclination "to narrate things in his sleep."

"Even a husband has a right to dream and he should not be deprived of his sleep by the obsessive fear that if his rapturous reveries become articulate he may be forced to pay for them in a divorce court," Wanick said.

He added, however, that Emerson kept silent and refused to speak other than an occasional "Hello" during his wakeful hours.

"He launched a cold war of nerves against his wife, reducing her to a point of nervous prostration and bringing their marital congress to an end," Wanick said.

Trucks Crash; Town Shelled

Ammo Carrier Burns; Village Given Artillery Barrage for 2 Hours

MALVERN, Iowa (AP)—An ammunition truck which burned after sideswiping with another semi-trailer gave this town of 1,400 a taste last night of what it's like to sweat out an artillery barrage.

The gasoline tank of the ammunition carrier caught fire following the collision and its cargo of 105-mm. shells started exploding.

The blasts continued for more than two hours, sending shrapnel screaming as far as 3,000 feet. One chunk of metal struck an automobile some distance from the scene but the occupant was not hurt.

Malvern residents said the din of the exploding shells was "almost continuous" for nearly an hour, and then tapered off until there was only an occasional blast.

Neither of the drivers was seriously hurt. Officers said they had not determined what caused the accident.

The ammunition truck was driven by Donald Breeden, 37, of Council Bluffs, who suffered only bruises. Three other ammo truck drivers, who had been following Breeden, and a farmer were credited with saving Elmer Jessen, 23, of Kingsley, the other driver, who was trapped in his wrecked vehicle.

Reds Raise Anti-Marshall Clamor at Nobel Prize Rite

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Communist demonstrators shouting "this is no peace candidate" today interrupted the formal ceremonies awarding the 1953 Nobel peace prize to Gen. George C. Marshall.

A stunned audience at the Oslo University festival watched as the demonstrators showered anti-Marshall leaflets upon them.

The audience had come to witness the presentation to Marshall in recognition of the 17-billion-dollar post-war European aid plan which bore his name.

A group of about 20 young Communists, who sneaked into the gallery despite a check at the entrance, shouted in unison: "This is no peace candidate. Marshall go home." The leaflets were headed with the words "We protest!" Police quickly overpowered the demonstrators.

The interruption came as Gunnar Jahn, president of the Norwegian Nobel committee, started to read the official citation scroll. A gold medal and $33,840 in prize money were also awarded to Marshall.

French Ambassador Louis de Monicault was present to accept the 1952 peace prize on behalf of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, famed African jungle doctor, humanitarian, philosopher and musical authority.

The other four 1953 prizes from the fortune left by Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite, were to be presented later today in similar ceremonies in Stockholm, Sweden. They go to Britain's Prime Minister, Sir Winston Churchill, for literature; Dr. Franz Albert Lipmann of Harvard University and Dr. Hans Adolph Krebs of England's Sheffield University, both Germans-born, for medicine; Holland's Dr. Frits Zernike, for physics; and West Germany's Dr. Herman Staudinger, for chemistry.

Churchill's wife will accept the prize for her husband, who leaves Bermuda tonight after the Big Three conference.

Marshall, who will be 73 Dec. 31, was the 12th American to win the peace prize, first given in 1901.

Public Display Dec. 18; 148,000 to Be Built by End of March

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

Pontiac Motor Division, which will introduce its 1954 models to the public on Dec. 18, has scheduled 148,000 cars by the end of March, R. M. Critchfield, general manager of the division, told newspaper men at a press showing here Wednesday.

This scheduled production is about 15 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1953 schedule.

He said Pontiac's total production of 1953 models was 418,619. Around 7,000 of these were for export.

Present employment of the division is 17,000, about 2,000 more than at this time last year. About 15 per cent of these are engaged in defense work.

Pontiac will introduce a new series called the Star Chief with its 1954 cars, along with the newly styled present Chieftain line. The new cars will be larger and longer that any previously built by the division.

Officials warned that the industry is entering a highly competitive period and pointed out that business currently is leveling off somewhat, although still at a high level.

Critchfield took an optimistic view of the future. "We have confidence that the economic condition of our country will continue promising," he said.

He said Pontiac's dealers approach the end of the 1953 model year with low stock.

"They were never over-stocked during 1953," he added.

Pontiac has increased its floor space from 4.7 million to six and a half million square feet. Modernization and expansion of the foundry is now under way, a new car finishing building is being built, and an extensive machine tool procurement program has been launched.

Official Claims U. S. President Threatens War

Vishinsky Doubts That Peace Work Will Mix With Weapons

LONDON (AP) — Soviet spokesmen gave strong indications last night that the Kremlin wants no part of President Eisenhower's proposal for an atomic energy pool for peaceful uses.

There was no "official" reply from the Soviet government, but a top propaganda commentator on Moscow radio, Boris Leontyev, described the American proposal as a rehash of the Baruch atomic control plan the Russians have always rejected.

Leontyev added that the U. S. President had "threatened atomic war."

In the United Nations Assembly, Russian Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky declared: "You cannot insure the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes without unconditional prohibition and strict international control (of atomic weapons)."

U.N. deliberations on atomic energy control have been deadlocked for several years by Russia's insistence on an immediate ban and the West's counterdemand for a workable control and inspection system first.

The initial Soviet reaction came as the Western world generally applauded the plan, outlined by Eisenhower Tuesday in a speech before the U.N. Assembly. Newspapers in India also welcomed it as a "rent, however small, in the atomic curtain."

Although some Western sources still expressed a faint hope that the official Soviet answer might be more favorable, the first Russian comment obviously had been cleared with Kremlin propaganda and foreign affairs authorities before it was made public.

Outlining his plan for a U.N. commission to which atomic powers, including Russia, would contribute fissionable materials and skill for peaceful purposes that would benefit the whole world, Eisenhower warned that man must control atomic power or it will destroy him.

He declared the growing U.S. stockpile of atomic weapons "exceeds by many times the explosive equivalent of all bombs and shells dropped or fired all over the world during World War II."

Seizing on this part of the speech, Leontyev said: "There is a spate of phrases on an alleged desire for peace on the part of the United States . . . But if you analyze his speech, Eisenhower threatened atomic war and made a eulogy of this policy of force."

"It is clear that the United States does not want to bring about an international detente (relaxing of strained relations)," he continued. "The warmongering speech of President Eisenhower and the attitude adopted in the United Nations by the U. S. delegation prove this sufficiently."

In Washington, fear of possible Russian trickery threatened to impede future congressional approval for Eisenhower's proposal.

Miniature 'Make-It' Sets on Pontiac Store Counters

By JANET ODELL

The trend toward do-it-yourself activities is reflected in Christmas gifts in Pontiac stores.

Some years ago model planes were about the only construction kits to be bought.

Now, if it can be made, it's probably in a kit. Starting at 10 cents, make-it-yourself kits are found in every price range.

Boats and planes are sold in both wood and plastic. The boats have balsa or mahogany hulls. Some of the higher priced planes are gasoline models.

Queen's coach, or stage coach, both plastic miniature models, are ready for assembling and painting. The Wells-Fargo stage coach is complete with horses and drivers.

Small replicas of old-time wagons also are available in kits. You have a wide choice of wooden ranch wagons, surreys, covered wagons, buck wagons or mule team wagons.

If you prefer to give material used by hobbyists, you again have a wide choice of articles in every price range. For a dime you can get the pattern and the aluminum foil to make a foil picture.

For the person who likes to make jewelry there are tools; metal for bracelets; stones to set; even crystal stars to make into earrings, pendants or pins.

Watch father's eyes light up when he opens that package and finds a complete home workshop. One large local store has portable workshops priced from $16.95 up.

They include the essential drills, saws, sanders, buffers, paint mixers and polishers. Size and fineness of construction determine the price.

Found also in the same store are magnetic jigsaws. Made in Oakland County, they have the advantage of no parts to get out of kilter. Even to a woman they sound foolproof.

Starting with finger painting sets for the nursery set, there are hobby kits of all kinds for all ages. Your Christmas gift will last longer than the day itself if you give a make-it-yourself present.

Jaycees Taking Names for Civic Leader Award

If you know a man between 21 and 35 who was outstanding in community affairs this year, perhaps you would like to nominate him for the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award.

A young man who excelled in work for the betterment of Pontiac during 1953 will be given the DSA at the Jaycee's annual Bosses' Night dinner Jan. 11 at Old Mill Tavern in Waterford.

Any individual, club or civic organization can nominate a Pontiac man, not necessarily a Jaycee, for the award.

Names should reach the Jaycee office, 34 E. Pike St., by Dec. 28.

A brief summary of the candidate's community service record should be included, according to John Napley, chairman for the DSA program.

The "boss of the year" also will be named at the dinner and the year's outstanding Jaycee will be presented the Key Man Key award. Bosses' Night speaker will be Wally Weber, assistant football coach at the University of Michigan.

Allan V. Peters, chairman for Bosses' Night, said everyone in Jaycees submits an entry for his boss. Entries are judged by a committee. William L. Treanor, Jaycee president, will select the Key Man Key award winner.

Justice Gafill Announces 'Tough' Policy on Driving Drunk During Holidays

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Justice of the Peace John J. Gafill announced a "get tough" policy regarding drunk drivers over the approaching holidays today and pledged a jail term and minimum fine of $50 to those who mix drinking and driving.

"The people of our community are entitled to protection against drunk driving and this court intends to serve the people of this area by giving advance notice to all motorists who may be tempted to drive while drunk that in the event of apprehension they must expect serious consequences," Judge Gafill stated.

"The Birmingham Justice Court is therefore adopting the policy of applying a minimum penalty of a jail term plus a minimum fine fixed by law of $50, and taking up the driver's license of those found guilty of driving while drunk," he added.

The concerted attack against the drunk driver is being conducted in cooperation with the State Liquor Control Commission, the State Safety Commission, and the Association of Chiefs of Police and Sheriffs, and "Drunk Drivers Go To Jail" signs are being posted locally.

"It is my personal professional belief that the crime of driving while drunk is such an atrocious offense against society that there could be no extenuating circumstances sufficiently compelling to exempt any person from not serving time in jail, and in addition, paying a fine," Judge Gafill concluded.

Post Office Extends Hours for Holidays

BIRMINGHAM—Postmaster Bernard E. Fowler has announced additional hours and facilities to help ease the Christmas mail problem.

As of yesterday, the parcel post and stamp windows are open until 8:30 p.m. daily, up to Dec. 21, and until 6 p.m. Saturdays Dec. 12 and 19.

Sundays, Dec. 13 and 20, these services will be available from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and until 6 p.m. Dec. 24.

Fowler said additional room had been acquired in an annex at the corner of Merrill and Pierce, which is being used for the faster distribution of incoming parcel post packages.

Unsealed and unsigned Christmas cards are still 2c for the first two ounces or fraction, anywhere, Fowler added. However, this type of mail will not be forwarded unless the addressee has given specific instructions and then they will be forwarded as postage due mail.

According to the postmaster, the new "International Surface" rates for all foreign countries, except Canada and Mexico, is 8c for the first ounce or fraction, and 4c for each additional ounce.

Leonard Talks to High Twelve

Says Rights Should Be Guarded but Not Used to Thwart Justice

BIRMINGHAM — Speaking to High Twelve Club members this week, Detroit Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard warned, "Since all people are presumed innocent until proved guilty, we must guard our constitutional rights but modify them so they cannot be used as a weapon to thwart justice, as has happened so many times recently in the prosecution of Communists."

Leonard criticized present methods of taking testimony on sex cases in public, suggesting that more convictions could be secured if the principals were not forced to meet the attacker in open court.

He also suggested that greater restrictions should be placed on bail for people involved in felonious assault cases.

Leonard cited important cases of kidnaping and murder, pointing out their effect on public conversation and thinking. Each of these crimes, he said, has marked a milestone in the advancement of police methods.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. John Fafty

After a prolonged illness, Mrs. John (Mary) Fafty, 74, of 144 Norton Ave. died Tuesday night.

Born in Muskegon Sept. 1, 1879, she was the daughter of Alfred and Minnie Benson Olson. She was married in Alma in 1913.

She came to Oakland County 30 years ago and had resided in Pontiac 15 years.

Her only survivor is a brother, Alfred Olson of Clio.

Funeral will be Friday at 1:30 p.m. from the Huntoon Funeral Home. The Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. John Lutheran Church will officiate and burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

John D. Heatherly

After an illness of six months, Jim David Heatherly, 79, of B12 Union Ct. died at his residence at 11:10 p. m. Wednesday.

Born in Illinois July 29, 1874, he was the son of John and Martha Thomas Heatherly. He came to Pontiac 10 years ago from Harrisburg, Ill., and was last employed by GMC Truck and Coach Division.

He was a member of Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Besides his widow, the former Nevada Keith whom he married in Illinois in 1897, he is survived by four daughters and three sons, Mrs. Russell Bowser in Pennsylvania, Mrs. Charles McEvoy in California, Mrs. Arthur Fleischer and Mrs. C. B. Phillips of Pontiac, C. D. and J. C. Heatherly in Illinois and J. L. Heatherly in West Virginia.

Also surviving are three brothers and two sisters, Ezra, Jim, Mrs. Belle Shepherd and Mrs. Minnie Huberts in Illinois and Henry in Arkansas. Nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral will be Friday at 8 p. m. in the Huntoon Funeral Home. The Rev. Carl Downey of the Social Brethren Church will officiate. Following the service the body will be taken to the Gibbons Funeral Home in Harrisburg.

Reginald Roy McGuigan

Funeral for Reginald Roy McGuigan, 33, of 184 Mt. Clemens St. will be Saturday at 10:30 a.m. from the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home. The Rev. H. T. Starkey of the First Southern Baptist Church will officiate. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Born at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 24, 1920, he was the son of Arthur Roy and Loretta May Hall McGuigan. He came to Pontiac from there 32 years ago and was last employed at Wilson Foundry Division of Willys Motors. He was a veteran of World War II.

Besides his father who resides in Phoenix, Ariz., he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Arthur L. Swartz of Pontiac and Mrs. Merle Burger of Phoenix.

Mr. McGuigan died at the Veterans Hospital at Dearborn Tuesday evening.

Hurshel H. Ritch

Hurshel H. Ritch, 24, of 2923 Mott St., Waterford Township, died in Pontiac General Hospital Wednesday morning. He had been ill three months.

Born in Hamilton, Ala., he was the son of Ules and Ida Mitchell Ritch. He came to Pontiac six years ago and married Coralee Spurlock here Aug. 6, 1949.

Mr. Ritch was an attendant nurse at Pontiac State Hospital.

Besides his widow and parents, he is survived by a daughter and son, Cynthia and Kenneth, at home. Also surviving are two brothers and four sisters, Rufus of Alabama, Mrs. Ruth Biron, Gary, Betty Jean, Norma and Diana all of Pontiac.

Funeral will be Saturday at 2 p. m. from the United Missionary Church on Prospect street. The Rev. Kurt Kobernik of the Stringham United Missionary Church will officiate. The body is at the Pursley Fuperal Home.

Club to Hear Talk on Crime, Science

BIRMINGHAM — Originator of the first "Off-the-Record Court" for Oakland County teen-agers, Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor will be heard by the Soroptimist Club at a dinner at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Devon Gables. His subject will be "Crime and its Scientific Application."

Taylor has been with the prosecuting office for seven years. He is a graduate of Wayne University and Detroit College of Law.

Appropriately enough Soroptimists have started a new service for neglected children.

Auto-Pedestrian Crashes Hospitalize 2 Wednesday

BIRMINGHAM — Automobile-pedestrian accidents hospitalized two Birmingham women last night.

Mrs. Rose Green, 27, of 867 Bennaville, is in good condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, according to doctors.

She is suffering from multiple abrasions on her head and legs, received when she was struck while crossing Woodward near Lincoln by a car driven by Earl C. Kelley, 172 George St., according to police.

Mrs. Mildred Stanford, 60, of 691 Wallace, is also in good condition, St. Joseph officials say, with a fractured left hip.

She was struck and tossed in the air while crossing Henrietta at Maple by the auto of Carl Bartelson, 18 of 432 Baldwin. He was ticketed by police for making an improper turn and not having his lights on.

Reds Want No Part of Any Atom Pool

pectation of approval" by Congress of a plan to encourage worldwide, nonmilitary atomic developments, some lawmakers foresaw difficulties.

Many lawmakers, however, hailed the Eisenhower proposal as a bold stroke for peace, and as one which would test the Russians' intentions.

In Congress, Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said he thinks the "danger spot" in the proposed international program lies in inability of this country to exact any guarantee that Soviet Russia will live up to any agreement it might make.

Sen. Olin D. Johnson (D-SC) said:

"We are not going to dump our atomic secrets into the Russians' laps until we know what they are going to do with them. I can't understand why we should spend all of this money investigating Russian espionage and then would turn over our secrets to them."

Sen. Burke (D-Ohio) said he hopes the United States does not come up with "a bad bargain" as the result of Eisenhower's offer.

Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan) said he thinks that before Congress will agree to turn over any fissonable material to an international agency—as Eisenhower said might be done—it will want "some cast-iron guarantees that the Russians are going to cooperate."

Promises Real Party on His 100th Birthday

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (UP)—William Griffith, 99, has promised he'll have a birthday party on his 100th anniversary next year.

Paying Alimony? Check Tax Law on Deductions

LOS ANGELES (UP)—If you're planning a divorce, better make sure any settlement is noted in the divorce judgment in case you'd like to deduct that alimony.

A recent Tax Court case indicated that alimony payments are deductible, and taxed to who receives them, only if they conform to various laws.

The case in question actually illustrated only one aspect of the laws. A man was sued for separation by his wife, who later dropped her action when they agreed that he should pay her a certain amount each month until she died or remarried.

The man went to Florida, became a resident and later won a divorce from his wife, with no note of the previous alimony agreement.

He tried at a subsequent date to deduct his alimony payments for income tax purposes. However, the Tax Court denied his claim on grounds that the agreement at time of separation was not related to the actual decree in Florida and that therefore payments made under the agreement were not allowable deductions.

Rutgers Set to Help Block Termite Pest

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP) — Memo to American homeowners:

Send your termite suspects to Rutgers University's agriculture college here for free identification.

An entomology professor, Dr. John B. Schmitt, who made the offer, also suggested these ways of avoiding the blind, soft-bodied insects:

Avoid direct contact of soil with wood, since termites eat wood as their food.

Provide air circulation in crawl spaces under floors, keep exterior woodwork at least six inches from the earth and never build a house with an earth-filled porch alongside "appetizing" sills, joists and framing.

Bus Driver Doubles as Council President

MASSILLON, O. (UP) — Lawrence J. Kerrigan pilots legislation and a 52-passenger bus with equal facility.

Kerrigan is president of city council here. As top man on a nine-man group, he often has the job of settling a 4-4 tie, and in effect passing or defeating a proposed law.

His work there is satisfactory, as evidenced by one term as councilman-at-large and three return trips as president.

His bus guidance also satisfies the citizens. He worked 13 years as an interurban car motorman and has been driving buses for the past 22 years.

More than 1,739 blueprints are used in construction of a single modern submarine.

Fish Well Outfitted

LAKE DE SMET, Wyo. (UP) — Eugene Cowan hauled in his line and found a rod, reel and two-pound trout snagged on his leader. He promised to return all to the fisherman who lost his gear. "All, that is, but the fish," he added.

Allergic to Army

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Robert G. Paulson, 19, puzzled police by confessing burglaries they hadn't heard about. Later they learned he was an AWOL soldier who preferred jail to returning to the Army.

Morse a GOP Problem

One of the problems to be discussed at this week's three day Republican conference is what to do about the committee assignments of Oregon's Senator Morse.

Now a self styled Independent, Morse was re-elected in 1950 as a Republican but bolted the party to support Stevenson in 1952. His voting record in the first session of this Congress helps classify him further.

On 25 important rollcalls in the Senate, Morse voted with the Democrats 19 times and with the Republicans only six.

After the 1952 election GOP leaders decided to take Morse off the important Armed Services and Labor Committees on the ground that he had been assigned to them as a Republican. However, they did give him seats on the less important Public Works and District of Columbia Committees.

At that time the Republicans had a majority of one in the upper House. But next year the Democrats will have a one vote margin due to the appointment of Cleveland's Mayor Burke to succeed the late Senator Taft.

This has given rise to the question of whether the party should try to placate Morse by offering to restore him to the Armed Services and Labor Committees.

There is precedent for such action. In 1925 certain Republican members of Congress were deprived of their committee seniorities for having supported Sen. La Follette for President. Two years later their full rights and privileges were restored to them.

The reasons for considering such conciliatory action seem much sounder than the hope that Morse will be much help to the GOP. In our book he is a renegade who has promised nothing more than that he will vote with the party on organization matters through 1954.

Arkansas Idea Cuts Cost

Arkansas' state highway engineers have come up with a money saving idea — the prefabricated highway bridge.

Under the old system replacement of a worn out bridge was a tedious and time consuming operation. Wet cement was poured into forms at the scene and required 28 days to dry. During that time traffic had to be detoured and everybody suffered inconvenience.

Under the new system cement slabs 19 feet long by 3½ wide are precast and hauled to the site. These interlocking slabs make it possible to build a bridge at the rate of 113 feet a day. They can be used in bridges from 20 feet to a mile in length and 10 to 40 feet in width.

Most attractive feature of all is the economy of precast bridges. They can be built at a cost of $140 a linear foot. Poured bridges cost $200 to $250 a foot.

As might be expected the precast bridge has found great favor with motorists because it can be driven on immediately and detours are little used. It also is popular with taxpayers who know tax relief when they see it.

This looks like an idea worth investigating by other state highway departments.

No Change Wanted

If anyone is concerned about the White House statement that Puerto Rico could have complete independence any time it desires, he should stop worrying.

This matter came out into the open after U. N. by a narrow vote with several abstentions, formally admitted that Puerto Rico is a self-governing territory. That decision in turn meant that it no longer was necessary for our Government to make periodic reports on Puerto Rican affairs.

Actually the island not only has its own constitution but elects its own governor and legislature and administers its internal laws without any interference from the mainland. Its distinguished Governor, Luis Munoz Marin, said Puerto Rico does not want independence. This is understandable.

★ ★ ★

Under the present arrangements Puerto Ricans can send their products duty free into the United States. The U. S. also is a haven for hundreds of thousands of Puerto Ricans, because they are American citizens, who can seek a more abundant life here.

The simple truth is that our Caribbean friends not only don't want independence but have sound economic reasons for not desiring any change in their present status.

Statistics that indicate insanity is increasing may be in error, as it is becoming more difficult all the time these days to tell who's nuts and who isn't.

If one half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives these days, it's only because it ignores the press, radio and TV.

A lot of people not only think the world owes them a living, but they consider themselves preferred creditors.

Rev. Fred Tiffany Says Abbreviation of 'Christmas' Desecrates a Holy Name

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I am in full accord with the current popular movement so splendidly supported by the Press of the United States, including the Pontiac Press.

As one more voice added to the crusade, I protest the blasphemy of using the spelling, "Xmas" for Christmas. If persons want to enter the celebration of the birthday of the Son of God, Saviour of the world, then let them use His holy name correctly. His name is Christ, not "X," which means an unknown quantity. Surely we know from historical facts . . . Christ had a name! And that name was never an "X."

Where in the sacred scriptures does one find "X" the Lord is risen today? Let all Christians protest the open desecration of His holy name.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son: but he that is a companion of riotous men shameth his father.—Prov. 28:7.

Laws are not masters but servants, and he rules them who obeys them.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

She Asks Whereabouts of Law and Discipline

What and where is this thing called law and discipline?

A few months ago I was taken ill. I believed it to be the coffee I had been drinking. I called the sheriff's office in Pontiac and when they arrived I handed over a sample of the coffee to have it analyzed. They called an ambulance and I was taken to the hospital.

Admittedly, I was very ill. They gave me the name of a doctor to go to when I was well enough and sent me directly home.

Three days later I called the Sheriff's office to find out if anything was wrong with the coffee. I was turned over to the under sheriff and he said the coffee looked all right, he tried it and it didn't hurt him.

I then talked to a druggist who verified my belief that instant dry coffee is bitter and the bitterness would disguise any foreign substance and no harmful effects would be evident unless the stimulant was added in the form of hot water.

I still did not like evidence-eating under sheriffs, so I wrote to the FBI. But, I was not dead, so why lock the barn?

David Lawrence Says:

Republicans Facing Discouraging Splits as Ike Turns Idealistic, Not Party-Wise

WASHINGTON — Disaffection inside the Republican Party is growing rapidly. Some observers are saying that, if the congressional elections were held today, President Eisenhower would receive the shock of his career — the Democrats would get control of both houses.

While Eisenhower is himself popular, as all the polls show, he, no more than any other President in the past, can transfer his strength to the party candidates in a congressional election in midterm. The special elections in Wisconsin and New Jersey showed that still to be true.

Evidence of the turbulence inside the Republican Party comes to the surface in conversations with Republican members of Congress, who fear that Republican voters in large enough numbers will stay away from the polls, as they did in New Jersey and Wisconsin, to forfeit the election.

Typical of the expressions heard privately is the comment made by Rep. Will E. Neal, Republican of West Virginia, who has written a letter to all the Republican members of the House of Representatives complaining about the fact that, while the people voted for a change from the Truman regime, they are not getting it. Neal's letter follows:

"To my Republican colleagues:

"Do you remember my letter of Sept. 1, 1953, calling your attention to the manner in which the present Republican administration's conduct of affairs is being usurped by a third, or 'government,' party?

"If you did not believe it then, I am sure you no longer have doubts about it, especially those of you who have been in touch with your constituents as I have been with mine.

"Republican partisans have lost all interest. The Democrats who worked with us have lost hope and are disillusioned. Members of the 'third party' and their friends are giving us the horse laugh.

"Unless we are willing to remain quiet and take defeat by default, so to speak, we had better stiffen our spines and demand of the only man who has the traditional authority to do so that he break the stranglehold, which, if allowed to continue, will forever destroy the American two-party system.

"It will take a presidential decree. Nothing else will suffice. The American people are demanding it, and it will be warmly applauded by most of our citizens not employed in the third party. The President must be told how we feel.

"Now, how shall we do it"

Walter S. Hallinan, formerly chairman of the Republican National Committee and still its member from West Virginia, said in a letter to this correspondent:

"Certainly Congressman Neal does not exaggerate the situation in any respect. The feeling of discouragement among the rank and file of Republicans is most disheartening."

The disappointment inside the Republican Party is due primarily to the indifference of the President toward his own party. He is represented as feeling that he cannot root out the Truman appointees.

His man on the Civil Service Commission, Philip Young, votes with the Democrats to keep in policy-making positions certain officials who came into the last administration on a political basis and are devoted to the policies of the previous regime.

This criticism of the failure of the President to stand up for his party is spreading throughout the country among the workers, and the fear is that their zeal and enthusiasm in coming elections will be lost.

Political parties depend on organization even more in congressional years than in presidential years.

The administration has been very slow in bringing about the changes that members of Congress, for example, have been talking about. Most of the adverse comments have been given in private thus far, but they now are breaking out into the open.

Eisenhower's blunder in alienating a substantial number of Republican voters by approving the statement issued by Sec. Dulles condoning trade with Red China by our Allies — a statement, incidentally, that the other members of the Cabinet knew nothing about in advance — has only served to add fuel to the flames.

The feuding started inside the Republican Party when the President made his fight against Chairman Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee last spring, and there has been a gradual accumulation of grievances, so that it is an understatement to say the party is merely faced with the customary differences of opinion. Its morale is in a state of rapid disintegration.

I like to talk with men folks, but once in a while I get hungry for a nice comfortin' chat about clothes.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Conversation Important If Popularity Your Goal

Girls, your face and figure don't count more than 25% in winning friends and popularity. It's your use of the "Compliment Club" technique and conversational skill which really get you dates, plus wedding rings. So quit thinking a cosmetic kit is an "Open Sesame" to boy friends!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-364: Alice H., age 17, is a shy, unhappy high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, I don't have friends," she began miserably. "And I very rarely have a date.

"Besides, I never know what to talk about when I am with people so I get embarrassed at the pauses that develop.

"But if you can make me popular, I'll guarantee to do whatever you say, for it means life or death with me. I might as well take an overdose of sleeping pills if I can't have friends and be happy."

We psychologists will gladly accept any such dare. For we can absolutely guarantee happiness and popularity, if you will resolutely follow our prescription.

And here's that prescription, in a brief form: First, widen your horizons by becoming active in a neighborhood church.

And by becoming "active," we mean not only attend, but sing in the choir, teach a Sunday school class, or lead the Young People's Meeting, despite your trembling hands and stagefright.

If you don't know how to speak in public, then send for my bulletin "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime.

And remember the adage that "He who grumbles has too much." So if you are complaining in selfish fashion about your unhappiness, look at the blind veterans returning without eyes or feet or with hands blown off, and then you will not dare to be so sorry for yourself thereafter.

Second, to overcome shyness, join my "Compliment Club." In looking for virtues in your companions, you'll forget yourself and thus feel less timid or stagefrighty.

Besides, it is a dandy method for breaking embarrassing pauses in conversation. For you can quickly size up your comrade for a good point and then praise him thereon.

But I have also offered you a complete Formula for Being an Interesting Conversationalist, with 12 fields of discussion under the keyed phrase "Dear Home Pals."

If you can't carry on interesting conversation, you have nobody to blame but yourself, for that bulletin is surefire, as my college students at Northwestern University have long found the case.

You must work at the task of being popular and winning friends. Nobody else can do the job for you. So get going, sister. I've offered you this guaranteed formula for years. Why don't you take advantage of them?

Third, when you do participate in conversational dialogue, throw a cue to your companion in the form of a question mark.

Fade out of your speech each time by asking him a question. If he tries to get the conversational machinery rolling by saying: "Alice, that's a cute looking hat you're wearing," then don't stymie him by a "Thanks."

For that "Thanks" doesn't end with a question mark. Instead, reply as follows:

"Thanks, I'm glad you like it. But I believe our tastes run along similar lines, for I've been admiring that new tie of yours. Where did you get it?" (Note the question mark).

And this makes it easy for the boy friend to re-enter the dialogue, so you'll soon be conversing merrily and without apparent effort.

Boys like girls who inflate their ego with smiles, compliments and gay conversation. Your looks don't count as much as your conversation in being popular and getting dates, so learn to carry on gay repartee.

Send for my "Formula for Being an Interesting Conversationalist" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. Then use it every day.

Eat More Proteins, High Calcium Foods If You Have Rheumatiz (or Arthritis)

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

To the best of my knowledge the only difference between chronic rheumatiz and chronic arthritis is in what you pay the doctor for labeling it.

But then, if you have been indoctrinated by trick specialists you probably think you know more about arthritis than an ordinary doctor.

I urge you, for your peace of mind, not to ask your specialist to state in writing the nature and cause of your arthritis, or anyway what he believes it may be. It is not kind to puncture pomposity like that.

On the other hand, if you asked me, I'd tell you what I honestly believe to be the nature and cause of chronic rheumatiz, that is, gradual change in structure which impairs full use of the joint.

I'll tell you that I believe the rheumatiz is physical degeneration and the cause is nutritional deficiencies operating through many years.

I'm not going to use my limited space here to define physical degeneration. If you care to know, consult Webster No. 4 definition of degeneration.

The diet I recommend for persons with early or advanced rheumatiz is a high protein, high calcium, high fat, low carbohydrate diet patterned after the corrective, protective, basic health diet givn on p. 43 and 44 of The Seven Keys to Vite, for which send me a clean quarter and a stamped envelope bearing your address.

High protein diet means plenty of beef, mutton, ham, fowl, beans, peas, eggs, milk and cheese. Especially cheese, whatever kind of cheese one likes. And nuts and peanuts.

The less white bread, cake and other delicacies made of refined white flour, the better.

Instead of such cheat foods, a person with chronic rheumatiz should go for genuine whole wheat bread, made of freshly ground wheat, ground in your own hand power or electric power mill so that it will be fresh.

High calcium foods are milk, skim milk, most milk products, particularly cheese, any and all kinds of cheese (genuine cheese, that is, not make-believe), peas, beans, nuts, peanuts, greens, leafy vegetables, salad vegetables.

If you have the chronic rheumatiz or a suspicion that you are developing rheumatiz, or call it arthritis if you have money, you had better make these high calcium foods a fundamental part of your everyday diet, and for goodness sake don't exclude any of them because you think they are "difficult to digest."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

CENTENARIAN — Mrs. Mathilda Babbe looks back on a century of living as she celebrates her 100th birthday. She makes her home with her 66-year-old daughter, Mrs. Antoinette Rudolph in Washington, D. S. Her husband, a Civil War cavalryman, died in 1918. Mrs. Babbe has two of her four children living, three grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and many nieces and nephews.

No Easy Way to Write a Song

Top Pros Work Hard to Produce America's Hit Tunes

NEW YORK (UP) — Songwriters never know where their next ideas are coming from, but when a good one comes along, the "old pros" know what to do with it. They work on it.

Ask any top-notch songwriter about the "easy" way to write a hit song, and he'll tell you there is no easy way. To be sure, there are "freaks" that have been dashed off in 10 minutes and have been hits, but these usually are by rank amateurs who, as history has shown, seldom repeat.

Take the manner in which Carmen Lombardo and his partner, John Jacob Loeb, wrote the new ditty, "Please Bring My Daddy A Train, Santa."

Both are old hands at writing hit songs. They wrote "Boo Hoo" and "Seems Like Old Times," just to cite a couple.

In December, 1952, with the holiday spirit in the air, Carmen was driving into town from his Long Island home and had the radio turned into Allan Jackson's CBS newscast. Jackson did a feature story that night on the toy train industry—a tongue-in-the-cheek discussion of the problems besetting the industry because the poor kiddies get little chance to play with the trains since their fathers control the situation.

This rang a bell with Carmen. He and Loeb spent many evenings talking about the idea but did nothing about actually writing it. Then Carmen went to a Tulsa, Okla., oil show and was impressed with the fact that the most popular exhibit was one of a toy train.

When he got back to New York, he suggested to Loeb that the time had come to write the song.

This was last spring when most people were thinking of almost anything but Christmas gifts. But to professional songwriters such as Lombardo and Loeb, spring is the season to plan for winter hits.

They used an odd technique — they write the last two lines first. The last two lines read, "Please bring my daddy a train, Santa, so I can play with mine." They then spent another two months writing the rest of the lyrics to build up to the punch line. They then spent a few more weeks composing the simple melody to go along with the lyrics.

1954's Mrs. America Must Prove Home Skill

CLEVELAND (UP) — Glamour will take a back seat in the 1954 Mrs. America contest in favor of the more durable qualities involve in homemaking.

The new system was agreed upon by officials of the Super Market Institute meeting in Cleveland recently.

Next year's Mrs. America will be chosen via the institute's 9,000 supermarkets throughout the country on a statewide basis.

Officials explain that when the selections are made, state winners and their families will move to a tourist home in Ellinor Village, Fla., where, for three days, they will be critically judged on overall homemaking capabilities.

In 1952 more than four million dairy cows were bred artificially in the United States.

Large Colorado Oil Supply Found

Engineers Unlock Vast Reserve in Western Hills for Future Use

RIFLE, Colo. (INS)—Engineers toiling in a sandstone fold of western Colorado hills have unlocked vast, rockbound oil reserves to supplement America's fuel supply.

War tomorrow, or an economic change the day after tomorrow, could make America's weapons and your car depend in part on gasoline and fuel oil taken from 60 million-year-old rock.

Heads of the Rifle, Colo., Experimental Oil-Shale Plant are "show me" Missouri-type men. They have parlayed eight years of sweat and more than 10 million dollars into an economical way to get oil from the richest oil-shale deposit in the world.

After testing a pilot 72-foot dry, gas retort this summer, they say indications are an oil-shale plant might now profitably compete with petroleum from the ground.

Chief Boyd Guthrie of the plant says an estimated trillion barrels of oil are locked in the 16,000-square mile Colorado-Utah-Wyoming deposit. In the mere thousand-square-mile tested, Colorado deposits are about 500 billion barrels.

The most economical size 250,000 barrel-a-day plant to produce oil from shale would also produce a number of by-products—ammonia, sulphur, tar acids and bases, cokes and others.

The one plant would generate enough excess gas to create half the electric power produced by Boulder Dam.

Curiously, the fabulous oil-shale deposit is only a few miles from America's richest known store of uranium ore, the Colorado Plateau.

Vice President A. C. Rubel of the Union Oil Company predicts full scale commercial use of oil-shale will come "within five or 10 years."

Engineers agree with the forecasts. So do residents of the little mile-high town of Rifle, which already calls itself, "The Oil Shale Capital of The World."

The engineers say soon the Colorado River Valley will be spotted with oil-producing plants.

Oil companies are playing shale-oil poker with cards close to their chests. They aren't revealing plans for plants. But they are keeping abreast of research.

More indicative, perhaps, they have backed their hands with hard cash.

There is no question among oil men, professional seers and hard-boiled financiers that shale-oil will someday supplement petroleum.

Experts see plants set up in the area to use by-product electrical power, like the power-hungry aluminum industry. One expert has predicted the oil-shale industry will eventually provide electricity for the west coast.

Colorado State Mine Inspector Thomas Allen has estimated Colorado has five per cent of the world's coal reservoir. And petroleum experts are already looking forward to the day when oil will have to be taken from coal.

Union Oil's Rubel recently called on the federal government to finance a 10,000-barrel-a-day oil-shale plant using methods developed by the Rifle station. He said it would be the same kind of government aid given to develop the atomic submarine and new jet planes.

The initial investment for the most economical full size shale plant-group—the size profit-seeking capital would have to shoot for—is enormous. The National Petroleum Council estimates an investment of more than a billion dollars to cover the most economical size 250,000 barrel-a-day plant. Of course, engineers believe the development probably will come with smaller, perhaps 50,000 barrel-a-day plants. Water is another problem, although at least one water board experts says there is enough water to fulfill all needs.

Although there are shale deposits on all continents and in most countries, no two are alike. So far as is known, none of the existing foreign industries can compete on equal ground with petroleum. The Bureau of Mines' problem was to devise a process for American shale so shale-oil would be economical before America depended in war and peace too heavily on foreign petroleum.

All experts agree that someday soon your car may run, your house may be heated, a jet plane fly and trains run on oil and gasoline taken from rock. (One diesel train already made test runs on shale fuel oil from the Rifle Plant.)

Russian Enclave Dread of Cops

West Berlin Policemen Hate Kindergarten Duty Over Red Soldiers

BERLIN (INS) — "Kindergarten Duty" is the term used by West Berlin policemen when they are ordered to guard the large red brick building which until 18 months ago has been the center of Red radio agitation.

The "Rundfunk-Haus," as it is called by Berliners still is a Soviet enclave in free West-Berlin and as such occipied with 15 Red Army soldiers as "guard." It is in the British sector.

West-Berlin policemen however know better than referring to "guards' when talking about the close-cropped gang of Soviets, who are so bored inside of the huge compound with its almost 400 rooms that they cannot think of enough tricks of play on their Western "besiegers."

The most common one is to throw empty vodka-bottles out of the windows aiming at the unsuspecting West-policemen and then hide behind the iron-barred windows, grinning broadly.

However, if there are not enough vodka-bottles — because liquor is rationed in Red Army stores — the inventive recruits find other things to throw with, as in reported by one of the West-police guards.

When he looked closer at the solid square thing thrown at him from a second-floor window one day, he discovered to his amazement a book entitled "Stalin's works, complete, edition II.

Another guard had to go home and change uniforms, because a sly Red soldier threw a whole shovel full of dirt in his face. Reason: the West-policeman had looked through an open window on the ground floor.

Since British authorities have blocked off all access for German personnel to the radio-building in June 1952, an office had to be set up to issue special passes for employes of the public utilities and the comptroller of the water-works who despite the emptiness of the building have to control their timing-clocks.

So far 50 such special passes have been issued, but without much success for most of the applicants.

The Russian occupants inside the building upon the ringing of the door-bell merely shrug their shoulders and refuse to let anyone enter. Comment: Document nix good!"

Only the water-works comptroller always is treated politely, for he once threatened to turn off all the water in the house if he wouldn't be allowed to enter. That helped — he did not run in any further difficulties.

West-Berliners do not like to discuss about the Rundfunk-Haus. They simply don't understand why the Soviets are still allowed to inhabitate such a big building without any practical use to them when on the other hand housing is still such a problem in West Berlin.

It is estimated that it takes cotton grown on 558,000 acres of land to produce upholstery, brake linings, timing gears and other things for a million cars.

100 Year Old's Answer for Long Life Original

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP) — Streeter S. Smith celebrated his 100th birthday by putting on his 76-year-old wedding-day hat and "having some good cigars."

He is a retired carriage painter and now writes poetry and song lyrics as a hobby.

When asked the inevitable question as to what he attributes his long life, he answered:

Survey Shows Plants Are Safer Than Home

WILMINGTON (AP) — Industrial surveys indicate modern industrial plants and laboratories are far safer than the home.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. reports more workers were injured away from their jobs in January than were hurt on the job all of last year.

Of Du Pont's 76,000 employes, 144 were injured away from work in January. Du Pont, which set a safety record last year, had only 86 at-work injuries in all of 1952.

Plan Dehydrated Steaks for Troops, Explorers

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—Dehydrated steaks that can be dunked in water and cooked like fresh meat may become a reality for troops, hikers and mountain climbers.

By "freeze-drying" raw meat—removing moisture from frozen meat with heat under vacuum—researchers have experimentally dehydrated inch-thick beef at the University of California.

Although few centipedes have as many as 100 legs, some species have as many as 200.

Cop Takes Down Name That's Strangely Familiar

LITTLE ROCK, Ark (AP) — Patrolman H. E. Adcock was investigating a traffic accident when a woman approached and said she was a witness to the mishap.

"What is your name?" he asked.

"Mrs. H. E. Adcock," came the reply.

Adcock checked to find that a Mrs. H. E. Adcock did indeed live here. The patrolman is unmarried.

An Andean condor once collided with a plane at 20,000 feet.

Want to Check Up on Your Girl's Age?

ADELAIDE, Australia (UP)—In every club and pub around Adelaid these days they've got a new way to work out your age—on the basis of your shoe size.

Write down your shoe size to the nearest full number. Say your size is 9½: you set down 9, double it to get 18. The formula then is:

(1) Add 39—you get 57.

(2) Multiply by 5—you get 285.

(3) Add figure 3 to last answer—you get 2853.

(4) Subtract year you were born from 2853. Say it was 1927—you get 926.

That's the answer. Size nine shoe, 26 years old.

'54 License Plate Sales Doubled Over Last Year

Michigan's new automobile license plates are selling in Pontiac twice as fast as last year's, according to LeRoy F. Kellogg, assistant manager of the Secretary of State's branch office, 65 N. Perry St.

He said about 3,000 plates have been purchased since they went on sale Dec. 1. Motorists have until March 1 to buy them.

Kellogg attributed the increased sales to the publicity given the new blue and yellow plates which carry a state slogan, "Water Wonderland," for the first time in Michigan's history.

Life Story of Wheat Being Told in Movie

WASCO, Ore. (UP) — The life story of wheat from the time it is planted until it reaches the family table is being filmed in color on the Floyd Root ranch near here.

The project is being sponsored by the Oregon Wheat Growers League. The filming began in March when the wheat was planted and will continue through the first of the year when the wheat will be processed and used in making items for the dinner table. All operations on the farm also will be shown in the film.

The league planned the film to show the labor and cost involved in raising and processing a wheat crop. It will be made available to clubs, schools and other organizations.

FOR STORAGE — Hours of recordings can be stored in this library pack of three small rolls of magnetic tape, which can be "erased" but never wears out in tone quality.

Record Favorite Voices on Tape

Six Hours of Music Can Be Storea in Space on a Printed Book

Would you like to preserve the sounds of your children's voices when they find what Santa leaves for them under the Christmas tree this year?

You can do it with a tape recorder.

This versatile device will let you hear how you sound to others. It will store six hours of symphonic music in the space occupied by one book on your library shelf.

A big advantage of this type of recording is that the quality or fidelity of the tone never wears out, yet because the recording process is magnetic, the sound can be "erased" and thousands of recordings can be made on the same tape without loss in fidelity.

Manufacturers of tape recorders say that these devices already are in use in more than half a million homes.

They are recording everything from party fun to evidence for court action. They are used by camera fans to turn silent home movies into talkies. Students use them to practice recitations. Business men polish up speeches and sales talks by recordings.

Tape manufactured by the makers of the popular cellulose sealing tape, can be edited with a pair of scissors and spliced again in a continuous track with special splicing tape. In this way you can take out what you didn't intend to say.

People with tape recorders often use the "erasable" magetic tape for voice correspondence with friends and relatives in far off places.

These talking letters can be erased after being listened to, and a reply can be dictated on the same tape.

A 600-foot reel of tape, which will hold up to two hours of recording, costs about $3.50. Some two dozen manufacturers are marketing recorders that vary in price from around $80 to some $400.

Gifts Should Suit Child's Stage of Development

NEW YORK (UP)—You've got to be armed with advice as well as money to do a proper job of toy buying these days.

It isn't enough to know that junior takes to the bright and noisy. A toy also must be suited to his present stage of development.

The Toy Guidance Council an education group, offers these suggestions by age groups.

The infant — unbreakable rattles, floating bath toys, soft rubber squeeze toys, washable dolls and animals, and sound-making push toys.

One to two—simple educational wooden toys, nesting blocks, pull and push toys, soft dolls and animals, toys on wheels, outdoor sandbox and pails, children's records and picture books.

Two to four — kindergarten blocks, simple puzzles, trucks on wheels, crayon sets, airplanes, dolls, cowboy holster sets, doctor-nurse kits, housekeeping toys, inflatable water toys.

Four to six — games, furniture, kitchen equipment, telephones, crayon and paint sets, roller skates, scooters, dressed dolls.

Six to eight — simple sporting equipment, electric trains, construction sets, hobbycrafts, sewing kits, doll house furniture, doll wardrobes, parlor games, carpentry.

Eight to 10—advanced craft sets, simple chemistry and electronic outfits, advanced painting sets, electric train layouts, hobbies, magic sets, books, bicycles, and educational games and puzzles.

Dallas Firemen Give Thorough Service

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—Mrs. Herbert E. Webb Jr. forgot to turn the fire off under some weiners she had boiling on the stove when she took her children to the swimming pool.

The pan boiled dry, the winers started to burn, and alarmed neighbors, seeing smoke coming out of the windows, called the fire department.

When Mrs. Webb returned, she found the firemen had turned off the fire, opened the windows, turned on the attic fan and cleaned the pan.

FOR MEN ONLY — Cigars and coffee stimulate that after-dinner appreciation of the good life.

Exchange Rate Favors Tourist

U. S. Traveler in Britain Should Find $10 a Day Ample for Expenses

One reason that travel to the British Isles is increasing at the rate of about 24,000 American visitors every year is the favorable rate of exchange which makes it possible to plan a vacation at a cost well within the range of those of average means.

The British equivalent of a dollar—seven shillings—goes considerably further than a dollar does here. It buys a good theater ticket in London, transports you 5 miles by bus, provides you with a dinner of soup, roast duck, fresh raspberries, and wine, served family style, carved from the sideboard of a picturesque country inn.

The British Travel Association advises that a budget of ten dollars a day is ample provision for pleasure and miscellaneous expenses. This includes accommodations, meals, day trips and entertainments such as theater.

Train and bus fares are cheaper than they are in the States. Leaving London at 10:00 in the morning by train, you can be in Edinburgh, Scotland, by 5:37 P.M., having spent $12.04 on the fare, first class, or $8.02, third class. By bus it is even cheaper; the 393-mile journey costs $4.20.

A great deal of territory can be covered by renting a car. Britain has a highly efficient and economical car hire service, and for many this represents the most satisfying way of seeing Britain. The winding trees and hedge-lined roads are an idyllic part of the countryside.

Rental cost of a car which will accommodate four comfortably is $2.80 a day or $16.80 a week plus five cents a mile. This includes insurance.

The British love of ceremony provides the visitor with more free shows than does any other place in the world. The Mounting the Guard and the Changing of the Guard are daily events which give pomp and circumstance to the London streets.

The sun glinting through the trees of St. James's Park and reflecting off the steel breast-plates of the Household Cavalry astride coal-black chargers is a sight few travelers are likely to forget.

Food is now available in variety and abundance. At amazingly low prices, the tourist can enjoy specialties for which various parts of the country are famous for instance, lobsters from the South Coast, oysters from Whitstable, Dover sole, Aylesbury ducks, Scotch salmon, and strawberries and asparagus, of a special, luscious quality, found all over Britain when in season.

Snowplow Plows Oats

HOULTON, Me. (UP) — A snowplow was used here during one of the season's worst heat waves.

Part of the federal government's oats-storing program includes putting the grain in a hangar at Houlton airport. The snowplow was used to help stack 25,000 bushels of grain collected from local farmers.

Buoyant Swim Suits Could Help Cripples

NEW YORK (UP) — Swimming trunks with built-in buoyant pads will be extremely valuable in rehabilitating victims of paralysis, according to Mark Shaw, the Briton who introduced "non-sinkable" swim suits in this country.

"It means that a hospital could put a dozen or so patients in the water with just one person to watch them," Shaw said. He added that he had conducted wide tests on veterans, including a 205-pound veteran "completely paralyzed from the waist down," and found that the padded trunks were buoyant enough to keep him afloat.

So far only women's and children's suits are being made in this country with the buoyant pads, though men's trunks are made both in Britain and Canada.

KITCHEN TREATS—They are easy with a liquifier-blender. It chops, grates, grinds, pulverizes, purees, among other jobs. You can use a regulation size canning jar on this type.

City Gives Crisis Plumbing Service

CHICAGO (UP) — Householders at Newport, R. I., with flooded basements or clogged sewer lines can call on the city for help.

The Newport city government has set up an emergency service that even the plumbers like, the American Public Works Association reports.

The emergency unit is on call day and night. City officials say that the plumbers approve of the system because the city has the necessary equipment for such jobs which many plumbers lack.

It's not free. The city bills the householder for the costs. Should a householder refuse to pay, he's blacklisted. The service will not respond to his next emergency appeal.

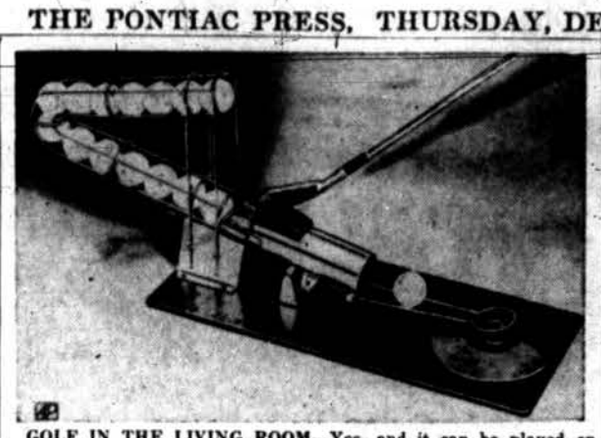

Farmers Like Green, Their Wives See Red

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP)—New York state farmers apparently have a green thumb, for they prefer that color. Their wives like red.

Victor R. Stephens of the Cornell Extension Teaching and Information Department passed out leaflets in six different colors among 2,000 farm visitors.

Of the agriculture crop leaflets for the farmers, those printed in green were most popular.

The womenfolk went for red-printed copies of a home economics leaflet. Green was their least preferred color.

GOLF IN THE LIVING ROOM—Yes, and it can be played on Christmas day with this Lazy Golfer setup which tees up 15 balls (plastic for indoors—real for outdoors). After each drive, a touch of the club head on the trigger releases the next ball without any stooping or fussing on the duffer's part.

Gadget for Athletic Dads Peps Up Christmas Day

What to get dad for Christmas is the big question at this time every year.

Rather than get in a tizzy it might be well to think back.

Ask yourself: "What did father enjoy most during the spring, summer or fall?"

You will find that this one question will lead to a dozen others like: "What was wrong with his golf game?" or "What was it he longed for the day he went fishing?" or "Was it the ball or the shoes that bothered him that night he almost rolled 250?"

* * *

If father is a golf bug he ought to enjoy the "Lazy olfer," a new gadget. It can be used almost anywhere, except maybe in the office when the boss is around.

The "Lazy Golfer" tees up 15 balls, eliminates stooping and fussing to get a golf ball in position. Plastic balls can be used even on the parlor rug.

After hitting the ball on the tee the next ball is released by touching the club head to a trigger. This operation sends another ball rolling to the tee. It is primarily designed to help a fellow groove his swing for the short chip or pitch shot, the most delicate stroke in golf.

"Lazy Golfer" retails for $12.95.

* * *

Remember when dad said it was too expensive to own a boat? But didn't he say something about an outboard motor being the best thing for weekends and that it was just as simple to operate as the power lawn mower?

A new Sea Horse 5½ horsepower motor that has licked the noise problem has been announced.

This has been done by involved cushioning in the connection between the motor and the boat in such a manner as to virtually eliminate all boat vibrations emanating from the motor. The vibrations, it seems, created most of the noise and today the putt-putt is a must, even to the extent that owners of large boats use one on the rear of their tender when going from shore to their mooring.

Another thing about the new 5½ Sea Horse is that the brass pin which turns the propellor no longer will be sheared when the prop hits a rocky bottom in shallow water.

Instead of the conventional drive arrangements this motor employs a spring actuated friction drive. When the prop encounters an obstruction the spring coils up, reducing the size and slips freely within a casing. When the obstruction is passed, the spring resumes its normal size, bearing on the casing, and once more driving the propellor.

* * *

A Wisconsin firm has a new 200 Silver Streak 20 horsepower motor. It weighs 70 pounds and has a built-in fuel tank with gauge. Optional equipment includes a six-gallon auxiliary fuel tank.

Experienced sailors who go in for weekend boating suggest runabouts 14 or 16 feet.

A California Catarmaran has been clocked as high as 24 miles an hour under sail. It also will go well with an outboard motor. It is $995, less sails. A suit of sails can be bought for $104.

* * *

Remember dad fussing and fuming when he couldn't find those new weak fish hooks? Or remember the day he was fit to be tied when a wash wet his new reel?

All this helter-skelter arrangement can be overcome with a tackle box such as a new fiber glass lightweight box. It is 16 inches long, 7½ inches wide and 7 inches high, weighs two and a half pounds and retails for $12.50. It holds floats, knives, reels, lines, sinkers and just about everything but the rod.

A firm features the type ball used by Marion Ladewig, who has won the national women's team title the last four years.

Part of City Sewage Plant Addition Begins Operation

NEW SEWAGE UNIT—The new primary settling tank in foreground began operating this week at Pontiac sewage plant, 254 N. East Blvd. A new sludge plant and grit chamber also began functioning and the rest of the $800,000 expansion program should be completed soon. The added units will increase sewage capacity from 9,000,000 gallons daily to 15,000,000.

Expansion Work Almost Finished

New Disposal Facilities Will Increase Capacity 6,000,000 Gallons

A major part of Pontiac's $800,000 sewage plant expansion began operating this week, Floyd L. Vermette, city sewage superintendent, said today.

The new primary settling tank and sludge plant are functioning, while a new grit chamber is in temporary operation.

Work is complete on four new filter distributors and an enlarged chlorine contact tank. New equipment has been installed in the old sludge plant, Vermette said, and only minor equipment installing operations remain.

Completion will give the plant at 254 N. East Blvd. a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons daily, well over the 9,000,000 capacity before the expansion project was initiated.

Work began in October, 1952, and has progressed well ahead of the 14 to 18 month time estimate.

The new units are expected to cut down pollution of the Clinton River which brought the expansion order in 1951 from Michigan Water Resources Commission and the Michigan Department of Health.

Sewage flows first in the primary settling tank, said Vermette, where part of the solids contained in it settle to the bottom.

Then the sewage is treated with chemicals changing solids which previously wouldn't settle to substances that will settle.

Next the waste runs through another tank, where the treated solids are settled out. Chlorination kills remaining bacteria and the remainder flows into the river.

The city is financing the project by a $700,000 revenue bond issue and $100,000 contingency fund. Sewage rates for local homes were upped 50 per cent to help pay operating costs.

The J. A. Fredman Contracting Co. was awarded the contract for $737,403.01, and the city has paid additional engineering and inspection costs.

Some 1953 Divorces Had Odd Grounds

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

The path of true love can be pretty bumpy at times, but it is positively smooth compared to the path of true hate. When two lovebirds turn into battling bantams, it's every man (and woman) for himself.

Consider the grounds for divorce that turned up in divorce courts in 1953. It's a perfect example of man's inhumanity to woman, and vice versa.

Let's start with Mrs. Doris Lindsay of Boston, who had a pretty good reason to want a divorce. It seemed, she told the judge, that her husband hit her in the face with a cat, rubbed her face with a fish and locked her in the pantry with a mouse.

Less direct, but equally emphatic, was Mrs. Benjamin D. Brown. Her husband, Pvt. Brown, told the judge in Detroit about a letter he got from her after he was wounded in Korea. It read, in part, "I'm sorry that your wound was only slight."

Animals play a big part in divorces. In Los Angeles, Walter Sprinkel got a divorce when he told the judge his wife insisted on taking her cats to bed with her. But the cat was on the other foot in Detroit, where Mrs. Retha Drenning said that her husband took the cat to bed with him. To compound the feliney, when the cat bit her on the foot, Drenning forced her to apologize to the cat.

"I thought that was unreasonable," Mrs. Drenning said.

It was a dog that shattered the marital bliss of the Boos. Mrs. Goldie Boo, of St. Petersburg, Fla., said that her husband insisted on having Tootsie, the little Boo pup, sit at the breakfast table and lap up his coffee.

And another type of living thing sent Cupid scurrying for his life from the Kenneth Norton household in Detroit. Mrs. Norton said that her husband spent all his paycheck on food for his 10,000 earthworms.

Sometimes these things reach the violent stage. In Los Angeles, after she had filed and later dropped divorce actions in 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1950 and 1952, Mrs. Harry Harshman filed another one. Her husband she said, struck her, knocked out her teeth, scratched her, kicked her—and also threatened to kill her.

London policeman James Goss got his divorce when he told how his little woman kicked him, bit him, threw a poker at him, broke a pot over his head and stuck a knife in his back.

In Houston, Merrick Gillory was a little apprehensive when he noticed that his wife went to bed with a butcher knife tucked handily beneath her pillow. Gillory said he couldn't sleep. He got his divorce.

Cruelty often assumed strange shapes. In Miami, Mrs. Doris Denio sued for divorce because her husband dyed his hair green. Denio is an entertainer, but his wife said that green hair, no matter what the excuse, doesn't contribute to the peace and happiness of a marriage.

A Chicago wife got a divorce because she swiped her husband's toupee. After Mrs. Helen Lucan took it—as a precaution so he wouldn't date another woman—her husband beat her when she wouldn't tell him where she hid it.

Also in the Windy City one marriage had a close shave—then lost. Mrs. Frank Brown told the judge that her husband forced her to shave him every day for 13 years.

Schools' Monthly Budgets Not Only Varied but Costly

By PATRICIA A. WOOD

"Maps and music, bolts and hooks, Teachers, dustmops, coal and books— That's what school systems are made of."

When Pontiac Public Schools set "off to market," the shopping list is as long as your arm—and it runs to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Pontiac Board of Education, which holds the purse-strings in the school household, goes over the bills its shoppers run up every month.

In these bills is a clear picture of the thousands of odds and ends it takes to run a school system.

Certain large expenses—such as the payroll for teachers, maintenance men and other employes, totaled at $352,087.45 last month—are standard items.

Other big items often found are insurance premiums, remodeling charges and fireproofing.

But many of the bills are for items an average family might buy.

Last month's bills totaled $783,340.87, including the school payroll.

In this total were such bills as $244.88 for unloading coal, $13.66 for some light switches, $134.50 for thermostats and $155.98 for bolts, screws and washers.

Teachers and other employes driving on school errands put in bills for car mileage every month, in amounts ranging from $27.54 and $24.34 down to $2.

School teams traveling to out-of-town football and basketball games and debate tournaments don't ride "for free," either. One Pontiac High School debate team bus trip in November cost $54.40.

And the number of things students need for class work!

Last month's bills included a $50.17 charge for crayons. Other charges were for food, skillets and pans for cooking classes, lumber for woodshop students, metal for metalshop classes, typewriters and ribbons, cardboard, maps, paper, and books, books, books.

"Keeping house" costs money. Quite a few dollars go for dustcloths, mops, brushes, floor cleaner, polish, bleach and such supplies.

Giving youngsters a well-rounded music program takes many dollars worth of sheet music. And the school system had a piano-tuning session last month. Buying two new sousaphones and tuning 108 pianos cost $1,216.

Add to this list such items as ink, movies, telephone bills, architects' fees, chairs and tables, paint, gasoline, laundry expenses, records, freight charges and mailing fees and you have the bills for an average month.

Social Security Expansion Seen

Solon Predicts Prompt Action to Up Minimum Benefit, Broaden Scope

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) predicted today the House Ways and Means Committee will act quickly next year to "broaden and strengthen" the social security program.

Reed, in a statement, suggested three specific reforms in the system now providing government death or retirement benefit coverage to some 65 million workers:

1. Extension of the system to cover millions "who have been arbitrarily denied this protection in the past." President Eisenhower has proposed extending coverage to about 10½ million doctors, lawyers, farmers and others. Reed avoided a commitment to any specific number or group.

2. An increase in the present $25 minimum monthly retirement benefit, "to provide a more realistic floor of protection for those now retired."

3. Liberalizing a present clause which denies retirement benefits to persons between 65 and 75 years of age who make $75 monthly or more in employment covered by the system. About 1,400,000 otherwise eligible aged persons now are denied payments under this clause.

At the same time, Reed repeated his opposition to Eisenhower's proposal to cancel a scheduled Jan. 1 increase in social security taxes. The rate jumps up automatically from 1½ to 2 per cent of wages up to $3,600 annually, paid by workers and employers alike.

"I believe the American people want social security and are willing to pay for it," Reed said. "While I strongly favor tax reduction and believe that the people are entitled to a larger reduction than that now scheduled, I do not believe that such a tax cut should be achieved at the expense of a sound social security system."

Reed's statement, generally fitting a pattern of recent pronouncements by GOP leaders, may have been designed to counter charges by several House Democrats that some Republicans are trying to "smash" the social security program.

Mother to Try Changing Son's Mind on U. S.

SEATTLE (AP)—The Minnesota mother of GI who says he doesn't want to return to democracy left here last night with hope and a prayer in her heart that she can change his mind.

The mother is Mrs. Portia Howe, 43, of Alden, Minn., and the son is Pfc. Richard Tenneson, 20, one of 22 Americans taken prisoner by Communist forces in Korea and now unwilling to return to his homeland.

Mrs. Howe flew from here cheered by assurances from Tokyo that the Far East Command has said it "would be happy to discuss problems and possibilities" with her about getting into the Korean demilitarized zone to talk with Tenneson.

The spokesman for the command wouldn't promise that Mrs. Howe could talk to the son but said it would go into the situation with her and "see what can be done."

In Panmunjom, an Indian spokesman offered further hope when he said he believed the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission would make no objection if the American command wants the mother to make explanations to her son.

The Indian spokesman said the rules only limited the number of persons used as explainers who could be of either sex or civilian or military personnel.

Mrs. Howe said here she is convinced she can get her son to come home.

Senors and Senoritas in Grade School

Paw Paw Small Fry Parrot Spanish

PAW PAW (AP)—Paw Paw parents, like most mothers and fathers, aren't too surprised at the bright sayings of their youngsters.

But when junior comes home from school and knowingly looks in the ice box for a "manzana," a few eyebrows are raised.

Eyebrows have been raised rather frequently in Paw Paw these days—ever since a group of high school students joined in educating Paw Paw grade school students.

Junior, in fact, is becoming an expert on Spanish, thanks to the efforts of the high school students.

It's no longer proper to tell a Paw Paw youngster to hurry up and go to bed. Chances are he will continue doing what he wants. But the command "A la cama, muchaco, pronto," is almost certain to get results.

A year ago students in the Paw Paw High School Spanish class were having trouble in mastering Spanish. They asked their teacher for an easy method to learn the Latin American language.

"Its easy," Miss Ruth Kirby replied, "any first or second grader can pick it up by mimicry."

The students wanted proof. So Judy Murch and Susan Burger, two 17-year-old senoritas, decided to test Miss Kirby's statement.

They talked Paw Paw grade school officials into allowing them to hold Spanish classes twice a week in the lower classes.

Since then, Paw Paw parents have kept their eyebrows in a fluctuating state.

Junior no longer wants an apple for the teacher—por favor, it's a "manzana."

Little Carl doesn't answer to his name unless you hail him as "Carlos;" Paul comes a running if he hears Pablo; and Mary Ann thinks her name is much more pleasing when transcribed "Maria Ana."

The success of the program has spread to other Michigan schools. Royal Oak school officials have announced Spannish soon will be added to the program of third grade students.

Reds Still Stall on Peace Talks

Dean Asks Commies if Ready to Break Off Preliminary Parley

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied and Communist diplomats made no progress today toward setting up a Korean peace conference and U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean asked the Reds if they were ready to break off the preliminary talks.

The Reds retorted with a long tirade, then acknowledged that the negotiations are at a standstill and said they would answer Dean tomorrow.

A few miles from the scene of the deadlocked talks, Allied explainers failed for the eighth straight day to win back a single South Korean war prisoner who chose to stay with the Communists.

* * *

Indian paratrooper guards broke up sitdown strikes staged by most of the 30 ROK captives in an apparent effort to tie up the interviews.

Explainers have talked with 250 South Koreans to date and have 78 more to see.

Then the U. N. Command is expected to call for 22 Americans and 1 Briton who stayed with the Reds.

* * *

Dean told Communist diplomats he would do everything possible to carry out the Bermuda conference call for a Korean peace parley. But he said there would be no retreat from his insistence that Russia attend the conference as a full participant.

Communist demands that the Soviet Union be invited as a neutral observer have stalemated the preliminary talks.

The spokesman for 17 Allied nations which fought in Korea said Tuesday he would wait only a reasonable time for the Communists to come to terms. He set no time limit, but a high Allied source said the American delegation would leave Panmunjom by Dec. 20 to be home for Christmas.

* * *

North Korean delegate Ki Sok Bok accused the United States of attempting to dominate the United Nations and the nations represented by Dean.

Dean called Ki's statement "a rude and insolent tirade."

After a Communist attack on the voting procedures he outlined for the political conference, Dean told the Communists they "forget that our side is composed of free nations. It is not similar to the situation on your side where all nations are compelled to speak with the same voice—to echo the voice of the Communist party line as dictated from the Kremlin."

Neighbors Resigned to Girls' Popularity

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Neighbors filed charges recently against a young swain and complained suitors of two teen-age sisters on West Eubanks street were turning the block into another Times Square.

Yesterday, resigned neighbors said the situation is "as normal as you can expect when two pretty girls are concerned," and asked the suit be dropped.

Harry T. Hudson, the harassed father of the girls, replied when asked if there was any slowdown in traffic since the suit: "I can't tell the difference."

Chiang's Anniversary

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Four years ago today Chiang Kai-shek flew here from China, leaving the mainland to its Communist conquerors.

U.S. Capital Unprepared to Cope With Atom Attack

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
INS Staff Correspondent

Our nation's capital today is probably the least prepared city in the United States against an enemy atomic attack. It has almost nothing in the way of adequate civil defense.

And Washington obviously would be a prize target for enemy raiders.

It is the seat of the federal government, the capital of the U.S., the official home of the President, the political nerve center of the nation and, for that matter, of the entire free world.

But the stark, shocking truth is that Washington's civil defense is so poor and so ill-equipped that it admittedly could not care for even 5 per cent of the casualties authorities figure would result from such an attack.

Samuel Spencer, president of the District of Columbia Board of Commissioners — the governing body of Washington—said that the civil appropriation for current fiscal year was only $90,000.

"The appropriations straight along have been insufficient to enable us to do an adequate job," said Spencer.

"Our main shortcomings now are the lack of air raid warning equipment by which we could give voice warnings heard throughout the city, and the fact that we do not have funds for a shelter survey," he said.

"We have nothing like the large number of volunteers we would need in the event of a disaster.

"I think the public has a fairly good idea of the civil defense situation. There is a great deal of apathy with regard to doing something about it.

Col. John E. Fondahl, director of civil defense for the District of Columbia, spelled out the capital's deficiencies in even more concrete terms.

"With its present resources, the local civil defense organization could not take care of 5 per cent of the casualties in any case," Fondahl said.

"We would be able to do something, but we could not cope with a disaster. We are not equipped to deal with the fire problem, the refugee load, or anything else that would occur in case of attack."

He said Washington would need a trained civil defense force of 150,000 to 200,000 for an emergency, but actually has "about 15,000 who are organized and trained to some extent."

(Next: Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore, key targets in the industrial East.)

Urges Donation of Greatest Gift

Mrs. Durocher Asks Yule-Minded People to Visit Bloodmobile

Mrs. N. E. Durocher today suggested that busy Christmas shoppers add one more item to their list: A gift of blood.

Mrs. Durocher is Pontiac blood donor recruitment chairman for Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross. The chapter will sponsor a bloodmobile visit to Pontiac Elks Temple next Tuesday and Wednesday. Hours are 2 until 8 p. m. Tuesday and 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. Wednesday.

"The greatest gift you can give at this holiday season — the gift which can save a life — won't cost you a thing," Mrs. Durocher said.

"What better Christmas present could you give any family than to help save the life of its son or daughter, father or mother?"

Blood is used daily in local hospitals to help accident victims, people who have undergone surgery, and those seriously ill with certain diseases to regain health.

Appointments for next week's bloodmobile visit may be made at the Red Cross office, FEderal 4-3575, from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

To Hold Fleet Strength

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson said today that if the Navy must reduce its manpower every effort will be made to absorb the cutback ashore to maintain fleet strength.

Fanatic Kills 3; Injures 2 Tots

Jobless Miner Quotes Bible, Thinks God Told Him to 'Save' Children

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A jobless, hymn-singing miner killed three of his five little children yesterday with a crowbar and his feet and critically injured the other two.

"God told me to kill the children to save them from the tortures and torment of the devil," Frank Holt, 31, was quoted as telling Jefferson County Prosecutor Bernard T. McCann last night.

Holt was walking around his front yard, humming a hymn when Deputy Sheriff Russell Wilsac arrived at the home, 17 miles northwest of here in the village of East Springfield. The deputy said Holt kept humming hymns and seemed calm during a half-hour auto ride to jail.

* * *

Three of Holt's small sons were dead when Wilsac got there — Tracy, 1; Sidney, 2; and Sanford 6.

The other two children—Susan, 4, and Doren, 5—were unconscious at Ohio Valley Hospital today, their skulls fractured. Hospital attendants said they doubted the youngsters "would make it."

Wilsac said Holt had beaten the children's heads with a 30-inch crowbar and then stomped on them.

In another room of the hospital where two of her children were clinging to life was Holt's wife Beatrice, 32. She was recovering from the shock of returning to her home after a few minutes at a neighbor's and finding three of the children lying on the dining room floor and the other two in the kitchen.

Holt, dark-haired and of small, wiry build, told McCann he tricked his wife into leaving their house by telling her he wanted to go to a church service last night. The prosecutor said Holt told him he sent her to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Sophie Baker, about 200 yards away, to ask the Bakers for an automobile ride to church. She said she was gone only four minutes.

McCann said Holt told him he did not belong to any church and during questioning trailed off into discussions of God and the devil. McCann described him as "fantastically religious."

11 Men and Woman Volunteer for Navy

Volunteering for Navy service during November were five Pontiac men and six others from Oakland County.

Frances A. Peters of 144 James St., Ortonville, enlisted in the WAVES, according to Chief John B. View, in charge of Pontiac's Navy recruiting station.

Pontiac men inducted were:
Charles Wilson Jr., 630 Brooks Ave.
Larry A. Mitchell, 57 Mechanic St.
Allan G. Ackerman, 2887 Mann Rd.
Harold S. Barnard, 209 Raeburn St.
Stanton O. Zang, 8969 Highland Rd.

Out-county men enlisting were:
Leonard J. Liedel, Clarkston
Robert D. Suddeth, Drayton Plains
Henry Williams Jr., Lake Orion
Richard R. Rosencrantz, Ferndale
Hobson F. Webster, Rochester
Clifford C. Wentworth, Royal Oak

Jap Pre-War Trade Company Coming Back

TOKYO (AP)—Mitsubishi Shoji, the mammoth company which played a major role in Japanese trade and industry before World War II, is going back into business after a lapse of seven years.

Kyodo news agency said today a merger of four major trading firms—Fuji, Tokyo, Tozai and Mitsubishi—will put Mitsubishi Shoji back in operation next June.

The old Mitsubishi was broken up into more than 10 smaller companies under orders from U.S. occupation forces in July 1947.

For the Record

Hits Writers for Misrepresenting Oriental Viewpoint

Editor's Note: John C. Caldwell, son of a missionary to China and recognized expert on the Far East, tells of the danger of risking generalizations when interpreting the Oriental point of view.

By JOHN C. CALDWELL

KOREA—Robert Sherrod, writing in the Saturday Evening Post, recently stated that all the Far East distrusts American morality because of our use of the atom bomb.

This statement ranks right along with another, commonly seen in our better publications. It is the statement that American prestige has suffered a great blow because of the activities of Sen. Joe McCarthy.

Sherrod may be speaking for Nehru but not for the rest of Asia. Recently I have talked to hundreds of people in Korea and Formosa in their native languages, and also in Japan. Only one man, of his own accord, brought up the subject of McCarthy. This man was bitterly critical. He was also scathing about Syngman Rhee. He proudly announced that he was a "neutralist."

The American correspondent who reports that the Far East is suspicious of us because of our use of the A-bomb or because of Sen. McCarthy is simply not reporting all the facts.

There is in every country a thin layer of intellectuals who make such statements. Generally these same people advocate trade with Red China, recognition for the Chinese Communists and their speedy seating in the United Nations. Many belong to that bewildered new group who call themselves "neutralists."

The writings of some American correspondents are bewildering to many Orientals. A biased reporter can usually find some facts to bolster his views. There are bitter and dissatisfied people everywhere.

But to many Orientals it seems that Americans should attempt to get all the facts, from people representing all groups, before risking generalizations.

I did not find a single Oriental who had lost faith in our morality because we have used or might use the A-bomb. Indeed, I found the opposite to be true.

Perhaps this was best expressed by an educated Korean who said, "My wife and I are without much hope. For our children there is hope for we expect to get them to America. For us — maybe five more years, or perhaps 10. Then all will be lost unless you are willing to use your atomic strength, unless you realize that it is strength alone that the other side understands."

The Orientals are realistic and in their eyes it is not immoral to use maximum strength against an enemy. For them, death by machine gun or conventional bombs is equally permanent.

And as one Korean, working in an orphanage where 152 children were burned to death by jellied gasoline bombs (dropped from American planes), pointed out, "There are deaths more painful than death from an A-bomb. At least that is instantaneous."

There is a tremendous need for honest reporting from the Far East, as difficult as that is to accomplish. The shallow judgments of many correspondents was expressed for me one morning at breakfast in the 8th Army correspondents' billet in Seoul.

A reporter for one of America's largest news agencies had his solution for all our problems in the Far East.

"What the Far East needs," said my breakfast companion, "is three good heart attacks: One for Chiang Kai-shek, one for Madame Chiang, one for Syngman Rhee."

It is time we began to answer the questions: Who speaks for America? Who writes for America?

Town's Picture Honestly Given

Kids Don't Wisecrack, Divorce Is Unknown, Bank Never Robbed

NEW YORK—In Hawkins Falls, people say, "This is a wonderful place to live each morning from 11 to 11:15 a.m.," and apparently a good many folks all over the country agree, because TV's mythical town has capped just about every daytime TV serial popularity contest conducted since it started its Monday-through-Friday schedule.

Perhaps the secret of the show's appeal lies in the honest picture it presents of life in any Smalltown, U.S.A.

When the original writer, Doug Johnson, created the show in June 1950, as a half-hour Saturday night feature, he patterned its physical layout on that of Woodstock, Ill., a small town near Chicago.

Hawkins Falls is located in the Middle West, 160 miles from a big city. It is the seat of Larkin County. The most outstanding building in town is the county courthouse across from the square. The structure is topped by a spire and four-faced clock.

Along four streets facing the square is the main shopping district. Most of the stores are of brick construction in structures two stories high. The bank building towers five stories with lawyers' and doctors' offices upstairs.

The citizens themselves were based on people Johnson had known during his boyhood in a number of small Midwestern towns.

Viewers constantly write in to marvel at how much Judge Sharp or Doc Gibbs or Laif Flagle resemble someone they've known personally.

Soon after April 2, 1951, when the show became a Monday-through-Friday presentation, Bill Barrett took over the writing. Like Johnson, he was painstakingly careful to include only episodes that might happen in a small town.

The citizens do not discuss existentialism or avant garde architecture in their daily conversations. They talk about gardens and new curtains and how to fix a pot roast.

These things are important to them, as they are to millions of smalltowners.

A local girl's wedding, for example, rates far more space in the Hawkins Falls Journal, than does a movie star's eighth elopement. A new baby gets more attention than a new Paris hemline.

But the townsfolk are by no means rustic.

They read the papers, listen to the radio and watch television. They know what goes on away from Main Street and the women buy clothes in Miss April's dress shop that serve them well on holidays in Chicago or New York or any other large city.

But the kids don't wisecrack, divorce is almost unknown and the town bank rarely gets robbed. The citizens all agree—Hawkins Falls is a nice place to live.

HAWKINS FALLS—In the small town of Hawkins Falls, which comes to life daily Monday through Friday on TV, ordinary down-to-earth people bring their troubles and joys into your home. Shown here are two characters of that hamlet, Laif Flagle played by Win Stracke and his wife Millie (Ros Twohey). The two operate a home laundry, and if the above is any indication, Laif and Millie will be busy for quite some time.

Construction of VHF TV Station Started

Construction of northeastern Michigan's first very high frequency television station was begun this week with the laying of the foundations for the tower and transmitter buildings of WNEM-TV soon to be telecasting on Channel 5. The tower and transmitter building will be located between Bay City and Saginaw, on Becker Road, just west of Portsmouth Road.

Channel 5, since it is a VHF station, will be received on all television sets without the necessity of a converter.

Bootlegger Can't Get Insurance; Whisky Is Risky

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Whisky is just too risky, the Tristate Insurance Co. contended yesterday before District Judge Albert C. Hunt.

The company wanted the court to set aside a ruling instructing the firm to sell insurance to David L. Veatch, admitted bootlegger.

On his application for insurance Veatch stated he was a tavern owner and operated a retail liquor sales outfit—in bone dry Oklahoma.

The governing committee of the Oklahoma Motor Vehicle Assigned Risk Plan had found Veatch eligible for insurance and instructed the commissioner to order the company to write a policy.

Appealing to the court, the company said the decision would force the writing of a policy "which is clearly unenforceable as completely repugnant to public policy."

Town Asks Others to Join Campaign

MONTROSE, Calif. (AP)—A service club here has suggested that 16 other towns named Montrose join in a campaign to rehabilitate victims of the tornado which struck Montrose, Ark., last weekend.

Peter Paola, chairman of the Verdugo Hills Sertoma Club, said telegrams were sent to the mayors of Montrose in Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New York, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and West Virginia.

The messages urged drives to collect food, clothing and money.

Channel Tube Sought

LONDON (INS) — To give real "punch" to western defense, western European enthusiasts are pressing for a mammoth tunnel under the English Channel linking Britain and France. Such a project would cost an estimated $300,000,000.

Pacific Fleet Chief Ends Conference in Formosa

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Rear Adm. A. P. Storrs, chief of staff of the U. S. Pacific Fleet, left today for Pearl Harbor after three days of high-level conferences here. Storr's talks presumably dealt with general defense and with reported plans to strengthen the Chinese Nationalist navy.

It is estimated there are 2,800 languages in the world.

Newspaper Strike Board Is Picked

NEW YORK (AP)—The name of the third member of a fact-finding panel set up to review terms which ended the 11-day newspaper strike here may be announced today.

Already selected for the board are George Meany, AFL president, and Richard Slocum, general manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin.

The two men agreed on a third fact-finder last night but his name was withheld pending his acceptance of the post.

A strike of 400 AFL photoengravers against six major papers, causing a seventh to suspend publication, produced the worst newspaper shutdown in New York City history.

Today's edition of the Times carried a front-page box saying that next Sunday the newspaper will distribute a special section with a condensed record of news not published during the strike.

Nab 3 Who Sold 'Magic' Counterfeiting Machine

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican police say they have arrested a Colombiana nd two Costa Ricans who have been trying to boom counterfeiting as a home industry.

The police said the three men were part of an international ring of racketeers operating for the past five years in South America, the United States and Mexico.

Among their rackets, officials said, was the sale of a "magic" machine supposed to turn out counterfeit Mexican money.

West Bloomfield School Bid $85,000 Above Funds

KEEGO HARBOR—West Bloomfield Township Board of Education opened bids on a proposed new high school at a meeting in the Roosevelt Building last night.

Lowest combination bid was $735,000 submitted by Ray Misch and Sons, Detroit construction firm.

According to school officials the bids all exceeded the amount of funds the board has left from the 1952 bond issue. Initial plans called for construction in January if bids did not exceed $650,000.

Dr. Leif Hougen, school superintendent and Robert Yokum, representative of George D. Mason Co., architects, will confer immediately with the construction firm to determine ways to cut costs.

Their report together with the total amount of money available for construction will be filed with the board Wednesday.

Original plans for the 18-room, 48,000 square foot school called for a homemaking room, gym with permanent stage, dressing and storage rooms, library, drafting room and administrative rooms.

Cost of furnishings was estimated at $50,000. Exterior construction will be of brick veneer.

Site for the building is in Orchard Lake Village at Orchard Lake Ave. and Commerce Lake Rd. The land was purchased recently from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Summers for $40,000.

Howell MSC Alumni Plan Dinner Saturday

HOWELL — Dr. William Butt of Michigan State College will be guest speaker at the annual dinner of local MSC alumni in the Masonic dining room at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Following the turkey dinner and the talk by Dr. Butt, a dancing party will be held, with Jo Finlan's orchestra furnishing the music.

Both square and modern dancing will be featured, with Riby Holmes of Fowlerville calling the square dances. Mrs. Herbert R. Benson is general chairman of this event.

Couple Married Saturday in Methodist Church Rite

OXFORD—At a candlelight ceremony in the Methodist Church Saturday evening Beverly Jeanne West became the bride of Harold L. Churchill.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Murray of Detroit and Garnet West of Laeville. The and Mrs. Earl Churchill, 11 Mechanic St.

Jane Murray, sister of the bride was maid of honor, while Neil Churchill served as his brother's best man.

Bridesmaid was Mrs. Grenville Ford of Lakeville. Gerald Laidlaw and Forrest West were ushers.

For the double-ring ceremony, the bride chose a waltz-length gown of white lace and tulle combination which featured a fitted bodice of lace. Long sleeves tapered into points over her wrists.

The skirt featured panels of lace on the full tulle skirt over white satin.

She wore a fingertip veil of illusion lace, studded with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book, topped by a white orchid and satin streamers.

A reception for 250 guests at the Rochester American Legion Hall followed the ceremony.

The couple left for a week's motor trip through the south, and after their return will make their home on Rochester road in Lakeville.

New School Garage Protested at Holly

HOLLY—A petition has been filed with the village council protesting the location of the new school garage in the rear of the new elementary school building, and close to Elm Street.

The garage will be a building of considerable size, as the fleet of school buses now is approaching the 20 mark.

Residents of that area claim its location at that point would be in violation of the housing regulations.

Will Convene at High School

Rochester Votes Dec. 16 on Bond Issue Based on Body's Findings

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

ROCHESTER—The Citizens' Advisory Committee will hold their final pre-election meeting tonight in Rochester High School.

A group representing every area of the Rochester Community School district, they were elected by citizens of the community in the late summer following the second school building bond issue defeat.

Wallace Hodges has served as chairman of the group making a thorough study of the school situation in the district, checking enrollments, visiting and surveying existing facilities and making a tour of other community schools in this part of Michigan.

Pointing out that the enrollment in 1930 was 1,483, Hodges said that the same facilities (with the exception of 10 elementary classrooms picked up by annexation) today accommodates 2,767.

Recommendations presented by this lay committee are the basis for the bond issue to be voted on Dec. 16 in the amount of $1,800,000. Their findings were endorsed by the Board of Education and they proposed the bond issue election.

If approved, the monies voted will give the district a five-room addition at Goodison and a multi-purpose room; four classrooms and a multi-purpose room at Hamlin and seven classrooms and a multi-purpose on the 10-acre McGregor site in northeast Rochester.

Also to be provided by the bond issue will be additional property for the Avon School on John R road and an elementary school site for the Snell, Brush, Kline, Mt. Vernon areas.

Property for a high school including 50 acres at Fifth St. and Livernois Rd. will be purchased and a new high school to cost $1,140,000 of the $1,800,000 will be provided.

According to the proposals to be voted on, it will cost the taxpayer $9.75 per thousand valuation.

Avon Defense Head Appointed

John Marmon Is Named Director for Township by County Official

ROCHESTER — The appointment of John Marmon of Livernois road as director of Civil Defense for Avon Township was announced at last night's meeting of the township Board.

The appointment was made by Lewis Jarrendt, head of Civil Defense for Oakland County.

In other business, attorney L. R. Rebout read the proposal ordinance governing abandonment of refrigerators and deep freezes in the township. It was ordered published for three weeks.

Dr. E. E. Ludwig, a trustee, recommended that a resolution be drawn up in memory of the late William Bigger for his service as superintendent of the Avon Cemetery.

It was announced that township offices will be closed Dec. 24 and 25. They will be open a half day on the 26th for tax collections.

Ex-School Head Facing Prison

Convict Sandusky Man of Padding Enrollments to Get State Funds

SANDUSKY, Mich. (AP)—Harry C. Smith, 52-year-old former Sandusky school superintendent, today faces a possible five years in prison.

A jury convicted Smith on two counts of conspiracy yesterday in the padding of school enrollment figures to defraud the state of $145,000 in aid payments.

Circuit Judge Alton Noe of Mt. Clemens set sentencing for Jan. 9, and released Smith, who is suffering from diabetes, on his own recognizance.

It took the Sanilac County jury only an hour and 20 minutes to reach a verdict in the trial that lasted five and a half days. Smith bowed his head as it was read and appeared shaken.

Smith denied all testimony of prosecution witnesses, and presented two prominent Sandusky men as character witnesses in resting his case.

Clarence Carlson, former high school principal, now of Rochester, N. Y., and Robert L. McConeghy, former grade school principal, now of Lansing, linked Smith to enrollment padding to gain larger aid payments from the state.

"I never dictated any names or figures to McConeghy or Carlson to be used in padding the rolls," Smith testified in his defense.

To Provide Food Baskets

Pontiac Twp. Goodfellows to Sell Papers Saturday

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—Some 50 Pontiac Township firemen, Metropolitan Club members and old newsboys will take posts at main intersections throughout the township Saturday for their annual Goodfellow paper sale.

According to Charles H. Thompson, Metropolitan Spirit 60 president of Auburn Heights, proceeds from the sale will be used to provide food baskets and Christmas parties for families and children throughout the township. Baskets will include a complete dinner plus other traditional Christmas food and toys, he said.

The parties for children are a new project, Thompson said. All township children are invited to the parties which will be held in each of the three fire stations here. Each party will feature entertainment and presentation of candy-filled stockings.

Last year the drive netted Goodfellows about $500. "We hope we can realize about $700 this year," Thompson said.

The sale is scheduled to begin at about 1 p.m. and will continue until all papers are sold.

Thompson urged any old newsboys who wish to take part in the sale to contact officials at the main fire station in Auburn Heights or call FE 4-6860. Names of needy families may also be turned in there, he said.

Setup Provides 24-Hour Patrol

4 Officers to Work From Sheriff's Headquarters; Township Pays Cost

AVON TOWNSHIP—Police protection will be provided Avon Township residents starting Jan. 1 under a new agreement between the township and the county sheriff's department.

Under the setup, four deputies will be assigned to the township "as much as possible," on a 24-hour basis.

The township will foot the bill and the men will work directly out of the office of Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell. His department will furnish equipment and an automobile.

Up to now, the township has been without regular police protection.

"We will keep the men in Avon Township as much as possible," Hubbell said, "but the Township Board has been told that in an emergency they might have to be pulled out."

The decision to make the protective arrangements was made after a Township Board-appointed committee reported that "an emergency exists . . . and there is an urgent need of services of four peace officers to police the township . . ."

The salaries of two of the deputies will be paid by several persons in the township who prefer to remain unidentified.

At a special meeting Saturday, Supervisor C. E. Miller lauded these citizens for "making this resolution possible."

Hubbell said similar arrangements are in operation with Commerce, Novi and Pontiac Townships.

However, the four-man team to be generally assigned to Avon is the largest yet. Commerce and Novi each have two township-paid deputies and Pontiac Township, one.

One Hurt in 4-Car Hit-Run Accident

A four-car accident caused by a hit-run driver resulted in one injury last night at Saginaw and Raeburn Sts. where a stalled auto was struck and then collided with three other cars, according to Pontiac Police.

Reported in good condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Mrs. Ollie Garwell, 60, of 839 Pensacola Ave., who was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, Alfred, 66. She suffered a possible fractured spine.

Driver of the stalled auto, Monroe Dunn, 28, of Flint, told police he left his car in the middle of Saginaw and went to get help from a nearby filling station.

Witnesses said that a late model car struck the stalled auto, hurtling it downhill into Garwell's car and two other parked cars.

Blue Star Moms at Keego Name New Officers

KEEGO HARBOR—Mrs. Edward Sadler will serve again as president of Chapter 39, Blue Star Mothers. Others elected here this week were Mrs. Harold Mullen and Mrs. George Hopper, vice presidents.

After the installation ceremony early in January the posts of recording and financial secretaries will be held by Mrs. Wright Madill and Mrs. Alton Young. Mrs. Victor Golding will continue as treasurer.

The report that 40 Christmas boxes are on their way overseas to local servicemen was made by Mrs. Golding, chairman, who stated that those serving in the United States will receive a gift of money.

Next event of the club will be a Christmas party and exchange of gifts Dec. 21.

Woman Faces Trial on Grand Larceny Count

Miss Carmer Sal-Sadio, 17, of 643 Temple, Detroit, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit court yesterday on a grand larceny charge.

Her bond, raised from $500 to $1,000 by Hazel Park Judge Robert C. Baldwin, was not furnished. Miss Sal-Sadio is accused of taking $250 worth of clothing Nov. 27 from Mrs. Henrietta Kent of 337 Pearl, Hazel Park.

Charity Work on Display at Administration Building

Eleanor Buck and Evelyn Garant Take First Place in Yule Competition

Eleanor Buck and Evelyn Garant are first place winners in the doll-dressing contest sponsored by the General Motors Girls Club. Taking second place honors were Betty King and Alice Boving.

These dolls, numbering approximately 200, are now on display in the lobby of the administration building of Pontiac Motor Division, on Oakland avenue.

The dolls were dressed by members of the General Motors Girls Club from all three divisions of the General Motors Corporation in Pontiac. The dolls were divided into two classes, with the judges picking a first and second place winner among the baby dolls and the standup dolls.

Most of the dolls will be given to the patients in the Veterans' Hospital in Dearborn who will in turn use them for presents for their children at Christmastime. These men appreciate gifts such as these inasmuch as many of them are unable to do any Christmas shopping.

The Foremen's Club of General Motors Truck and Coach Division will distribute the remainder of the dolls to the Children's Home and the muscular dystrophy room at Whittier School.

The contest was judged by Doris Nienstead of the Knitting Needle and Donna Anderson and Mrs. Alan P. Donahue of the Pontiac Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry of Avondale avenue, Sylvan Lake, were honored by their friends on Tuesday evening with a surprise dinner party held at Bloomfield Inn.

Perle Ready to Defend Title

'Hostess With Mostest' Back in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)— Mrs. Perle Mesta, onetime minister to Luxembourg and recently a tourist to the Soviet Union, is back home to defend her title as "hostess with the mostest."

At a news conference yesterday, Mrs. Mesta said her immediate plans include asking today for an appointment with Secretary of State Dulles to tell him some things she didn't put in the stories she wrote on her Russian experience—things she says "I can't talk about."

A reporter asked:

Had Mrs. Mesta seen anything on her Russian visit that might make her think the Russians would be willing to cooperate in pooling atomic power efforts, as suggested by President Eisenhower

"I saw nothing in Russia," Mrs. Mesta replied firmly, "that would make me think they wanted to cooperate with us. But that was a month ago."

* * *

As to her future, Mrs. Mesta said:

1. She is going to give a party "just as soon as I find a house."

2. She is beginning a new chapter in her life—writing and lecturing.

Writing a book "Several publishers are interested." And the lectures "Never gave a lecture in my life," but she is signed up for 10. The first will be in Houston Jan. 16.

"What will I lecture about? All kinds of things. I'll talk about Washington, Luxembourg, London, Russia."

* * *

Her recent articles on Russia were published in this country and in about 18 other countries.

"All the money I make on those, on my lectures and on the book are going into a scholarship fund," she said.

The fund, she said, will underwrite expenses — "all expenses, even toothpaste"—of some foreign students, brought to this country.

"Every country in which a newspaper buys my articles will get to send a student," she said.

* * *

Does she plan to run for political office

"Definitely not—but then I always do the things I say I won't."

A Christmas party highlighted the Tuesday evening rehearsal of Pontiac Women's Chorus at Pontiac High School. Members exchanged gifts and refreshments were served.

Wayne Dubats' Residing in City

Residing on Norton avenue are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dubats, who were married Saturday afternoon in Ortonville.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chatfield of Clarkston, wore ice blue lace over pink taffeta with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Donald Dubats was matron of honor in a navy dress with a corsage of white carnations and red roses. Donald Dubats was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. Myrna Dubats of Clarkston and Harry Dubats of Pontiac.

A wedding dinner at Villa Inn followed the ceremony.

Coming Events

Mrs. Laur Hostess to Hawthorne Unit

Hawthorne School PTA executive board held the December meeting at the home of Mrs. Byford Laur on West Brooklyn avenue Thursday.

Several games were played by the 22 members attending, and an exchange of Christmas gifts was held. Mrs. Laur was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Chester Grammer and Mrs. Lee W. Johnson.

Philathea Classes Hold Their Yuletide Meetings

Christmas set the scene for Philathea Class meetings of First Baptist Church Tuesday evening.

First Philathea Class met with Mrs. H. H. Savage on West Huron street. The Rev. Dr. Savage based his message on the Savior's birth, and Mrs. Harry Newhouse gave devotions on "The Annunciation of the Birth of Christ."

Entertainment was offered by Mrs. Philip Flemington, Mrs. Gordon Shelton and Mrs. Percy Brein, who sang as a trio. Nancy Eastham gave two readings and refreshments were served by a committee. Mrs. Florence Harcourt led the group singing.

* * *

Loyal Philathea Class met in the church parlors. Gifts were brought for patients at Oakland County Infirmary, to be distributed by Mrs. Alva Ashby and her committee.

Gifts were also brought for the children at Royal Faith Academy in West Virginia.

Mrs. Nellie Monroe told a Biblical Christmas story, and Christmas carols were sung by Mrs. Herbert Flemington, Nancy Russell, Mrs. William Carls, Mrs. Orlo Mason and the program chairman, Mrs. Mable Wiser.

Hostess for the day was Mrs. Lorne Warner, and serving refreshments were members of the January and February Group of the church.

MARILYN BOWES

'Y'oung Adults Plan Frolic This Evening

A social gathering is planned for this evening by 'Y'oung Adults Club of the YMCA.

"Record Frolic" is the name chosen for the dance, which will be from 9 to 11:30 o'clock at the YMCA.

Beta Theta Phi Chapter Plans Charity Project

Mrs. Ralph Behler reported on a recent toy demonstration Tuesday evening when Gamma Chapter of Beta Theta Phi met with Mrs. Harold A. St. John Jr. of Drayton Woods. Other reports were given by Mrs. Richard DeWitt and Jane McGuire.

Mrs. William Ford was appointed to select a family for the annual charity aid. In charge of purchasing food are Mrs. Roscoe Lund, Mrs. John Hatherill and Mrs. Thomas Moffat.

Mrs. Forrest Garchow of Birmingham and Miss McGuire will select toys and clothing. Mrs. Robert Boyer of Elizabeth Lake Estates was announced as hostess for the next meeting.

Methodists Discuss Christian Education

The Rev. Harold Bremer, chairman of the board of the Commission on Education of the Detroit Methodist Conference, was guest speaker Tuesday evening at a dinner at First Methodist Church for board members and Sunday school teachers.

Speaking on "Christian Education," he brought out the fact that 63 per cent of the children of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths do not go to church.

Mrs. Dudley Colby, chairman of the First Methodist Commission on Education, paid tribute to Sunday school workers. Mrs. Colby and Mrs. William Kovin led devotions.

Francis Mansfield entertained the group with a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Havens.

Birthday Marked by Carol Peterson

Carol Peterson was honored Tuesday evening on the occasion of her 16th birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson of Hester Court.

Among the guests were Hope Veal, Midge Hills, Carol Krielach, Judy Bellows, Louise Smith and Janet Richardson.

Christmas Pageant Given at Whitfield

Pupils and teachers of Daniel Whitfield School presented a Christmas pageant Wednesday evening at the school featuring a play, "The Cobbler and the Elves" by Bertha Elsmith. Children of grades one through four took part.

Grades five and six took part in the Nativity Scene. The program was directed by Rosamond Haeberle, and Edwyna Wolford was accompanist.

Metropolitan Group Celebrates Season

Mrs. Ralph M. Dean was general chairman of the annual Christmas party of Ladies Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Club Spirit Six, held Tuesday evening at Scrib's.

Forty-two members attended the dinner and party, and arrangements were made for the installation of officers Jan. 30 in Chieftain Hall.

Birmingham Garden Club Stages Affair

'Joy to the World' Rings Out at Show

BIRMINGHAM—The 17th annual Christmas Show, held Saturday by the Birmingham Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association, sent many spectators home with joy in their hearts.

The theme, "Joy to the World," rang out from the Community House stage, transformed into a large window with the traditional Christmas tree and the adoring boy and girl, as created by Mrs. Hugh Backus and Mrs. R. L. Shugg.

Mrs. John Foster did a musical mantle on the theme, aglow with candles and musical notes, to capture a blue ribbon. In the mantle class, Mrs. Robert Mason also received a blue ribbon for her Santa creation.

In the class To Please a Child, Mrs. Leslie Craig, Mrs. W. Reid, Mrs. Phillip DeBeaubien, Mrs. Backus and Mrs. W. L. Lowrie acquired blue ribbons. Blue ribbonds were won by Mrs. Hobart Andreae, Mrs. Royce Beers, Mrs. W. J. Griffin and Mrs. William McCallum for their out-of-door wreathes and swags.

An arrangement with bells inspired Mrs. Frank Webb and Mrs. A. H. Webster to blue ribbons.

There were eight first place awards in the arrangements for occasional tables, including Mrs. F. G. Garrison, Mrs. Kenneth MacQueen, Mrs. C. R. Obermeyer, Mrs. H. E. Stahl, Mrs. E. Wollering, Mrs. K. Hardy, Mrs. W. J. Griffin and Mrs. C. M. French.

Mrs. Backus and Mrs. Webster won blue ribbons for their arrangements using driftwood, while Mrs. G. W. Chesley, Mrs. John D. Maynard and Mrs. G. A. Weinhold won blue awards for scintillating arrangements.

In the large arrangement group, Mrs. Obermeyer and Mrs. Webb scored firsts again. Holiday tables, created by Mrs. F. G. Davis and Mrs. R. C. Manuel, were blue ribbon winners. In addition, there were numerous red and yellow arrangements and many, many others.

The unjudged class, Christmas Traditions of Other Lands, was most interesting. Mrs. Matthew Cammarert produced a fascinating grotto of spectacular size, alive with Italian figures, to receive a purple award. Mrs. Webster also received the purple award for her Mexican arrangement.

The clerks, all members of the Birmingham Branch, were Mrs. Dale O. Miller, Mrs. Alex Gray, Mrs. I. W. Robertson, Mrs. Harold R. Chapel, Mrs. William Warner, Mrs. B. F. Magruder, Mrs. David Van Dusen, Mrs. H. D. McGregor and Mrs. Robert Mason.

The judges were Mrs. F. J. Schuman from Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Don J. Smith from Grosse Ile, Mrs. Donald James and Mrs. Harold Klein from Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Glenn Leland from Farmington, Mrs. Clarence Johnson from Walled Lake, Mrs. R. M. Hill from Royal Oak, Mrs. F. S. Howell and Mrs. Cash W. Talbot from Detroit, Mrs. Thomas Carter from Hazel Park and Mrs. Walter Fenton and Mrs. Carl Schimmel from Mount Clemens.

Bank Group Celebrates Yule Season

Christmas Dinner Held Wednesday at Old Mill Tavern

The women's committee of the Oakland County Chapter of the American Institute of Banking chose the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford as the place to hold the annual Christmas party Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Fern Sadler of Pontiac State Bank was the chairman of the affair. Mrs. Kathleen Waters of Clarkston State Bank was in charge of the decorations, which were carried out in the Christmas motif.

Louise Merlo of the Rochester National Bank stressed the theme of an old-fashioned Christmas by having her favors done up in individual packages.

White tickets placed on a red background decorated with colorful seals were the attractive tickets made for the affair by Trudy Wenzel of the Birmingham National Bank.

After the dinner, Jerry Libby played the piano and led community singmg followed by an exchange of gifts.

Fath Creating 'Beastly Look' for All Day

PARIS (INS)—French fashion designer Jacques Fath is trying for the "beastly look."

Fath has a new "all-leopard wardrobe" to make a lady look wild top to toe, from early morning to the small hours of the night.

The wardrobe even includes a diary bound in leopard in which you can record your "hunting score."

There's a leopard sports coat with four patch pockets and a half-belt at the back, a slightly flaring leopard skirt to go with a leopard jacket, a leopard suit with tight skirt, a leopard cocktail and dinner dress with a wide-spread "V" decollete, a leopard blouse with black ribknit turtle neck cuffs and waistband and skin-tight leopard pants.

In addition there's a leopard cap, leopard belt, gloves, bag, street shoes, after-ski boots and even bathroom slippers all in leopard. Also a toilet case and stocking case in leopard, not to mention the diary.

He makes all these outfits in a new type of velvet with uncannily realistic leopard patterns in black, grey and white.

Men Guests of WSWS on Tuesday

The men of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church were guests at the WSWS meeting held Tuesday evening at the church.

Ray Ritter led the devotions and Carson Fall gave the missionary birthday calendar. After a brief business meeting, the Rev. V. L. Martin, a missionary to Curacao, West Indies, was introduced. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Martin and their two sons are home on furlough.

The Rev. Mr. Martin told of their experiences on the small island, the home of more than 110,000 people. He also sang in both English and Popymento.

Following his talk he showed pictures of their work.

Mrs. Mary Spragg and Mrs. Barbour Williams presided at the tea table which was decorated with Christmas greens. Mrs. H. E. Ryan and Mrs. Howard Groome were hostesses.

IF she wears mostly casuals—

Give her tailored gold bracelets and hoop earrings, crocheted cotton gloves, calf handbag, leather jacket, belts and scarfs.

Miss M. C.—Casual clothes with a bred-in country simplicity wants this same simplicity in accessories. The golden manner of jewelry, the special merit of leather in glowing calf, and superb fabric gloves—for that well bred look.

Relax Completely

In sleep, as in everything else, it's quality .. not just quantity — that really counts. To get the full benefit of rest, the sleeper must be able to relax completely both in mind and muscle. In order to do this, he must have level, resilient bedding.

So are the old-fashioned cranberry chains or popcorn strings threaded with big needles on stout thread.

Ornaments to dangle on the branches can be made by pasting pretty pictures or colored paper scraps on cardboard. Cut them out, punch a hole for thread to hang them up.

Heavy aluminum foil borrowed from the kitchen and cut into star shapes or taped into cones makes dazzling and unbreakable ornaments.

An idea from the new book takes two or three sticks of gum with paper wrappers removed.

The silver-foil sticks are taped together in triangles with a tape loop for hanging. Of course, the problem is how to keep the gum out of little mouths long enough to make the doodads.

A jolly, bouncy Santa Claus takes a red balloon and a piece of cardboard. If you don't have a picture of a Santa head to cut out, you can make a rough approximation with red crayons on white paper.

Cut out the cardboard in the shape of big feet. Punch a hole in it and cut a narrow slot. Blow up the balloon, pull the neck down through the hole, twist it tight and anchor it in the slot. Tape the head on top.

If you want to put yourself in solid with the kindergarten set, plan a rainy-day session baking gingerbread men.

Roll the dough thin and let the kids cut and decorate their own. Bowls of raisins, slivers of dried apricots and frosting (made largely from powdered skim milk, a little sugar and milk) spurs the decorative talents.

Crepepaper streamers add gaiety to party decorations. Have plenty on hand for New Year's Eve celebration.

Let Kiddies Help With Decorating

Holiday Fun Puts Youngsters, Adults in Yule Mood

Christmas comes early in homes where the kids are old enough to anticipate all the eye-popping splendor of the occasion.

We begin to hear about Santa before Thanksgiving, and the excitement builds up until we're all about ready to explode.

To take some of the tension off and to get into the spirt of the holiday yourself, let the children help with preliminaries geared to their ages and skills.

There are lots of things kids can make and do for Christmas. A book just published and ready for the market is full of simple ideas and materials for making paper chains, a jolly balloon Santa, Christmas cards, ornaments, the Nativity scene and so on.

All a child needs are scissors and a roll of tape or a paste pot to turn out any of several decorations. Your own childhood pleasures will suggest other simple activities.

Some families get a very small tree early just for the children and it's decorated to the hilt several times. Colorful paper chains made from 4-inch strips of bright paper looped into circles and pasted or taped to form the links are easy to make.

This little girl gets into the holiday spirit making Christmas decorations, directions for which are supplied in a new book now ready for the newsstands.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

We Economize One Way While Wasting in Another

It was 1 a. m., yet there was the telephone shrilling an ominous summons.

"Tissue paper," caroled the triumphant voice at the other end of the wire. "I always save it, for trips and packing."

The late call was the continuation of a long discussion on pet economies that had lasted all through a party dinner. Everyone except the telephoner had gotten into the act and she was determined, apparently, not to be left out.

MISS McBRIDE

One of the guests started the talk by turning out some lights as the party moved into the dining room.

"She's always flicking switches," said her husband. "She plays a game with herself trying to keep the electric bill down.

"I wish she'd play it with the heat bill for awhile. She doesn't think twice about opening the windows for hours and leaving the thermostat around 75."

That seems to be the point about pet economists. They save one place, waste another.

"I can't bear to throw away a crumb of bread," declared a young housewife proudly.

"Yes," chimed in her good friend who lives next door, "if she has some stale bread slices, she uses them in bread pudding with eggs and cream and tops it off with a butter and sugar hard-sauce.

"Not always," the bread-saver corrected earnestly. "Sometimes I get a chicken or turkey so I can use the bread for stuffing."

I confessed that I simply can't bear to buy for myself either bath oil or flowers, both of which I adore. Somehow I feel that bath oil is a wild extravagance to be indulged in only if it is a present, and I'll send flowers to others, but never to myself.

I know a millionaire who never discards shoes until they are ready to drop off his feet. He wears them out, as he calls it, evenings and weekends round the house. Last time I saw him, he had on a pair of cracked patent leather dancing pumps—and was watering his garden.

Bruce Barton, the advertising man, tops anything I've ever heard in the way of pet economies.

A generous man in every other field, Bruce once told me he just can't stand seeing medicine wasted and liberally doses himself with whatever he finds left over in the family medicine chest.

"So far," he said, "I've had excellent results."

Sorority Meets at Ogden Home

Helen Baldwin conducted the program Tuesday evening for Phi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, when it met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Ogden on Coleman road.

Each member gave the origin of a Christmas custom. Gifts were exchanged and secret pals revealed. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Robert Shorey, Mrs. Fred Rigotti and Mrs. Martin Barnhart.

Observe Christmastime

Secretaries Give Party

Members of the National Secretaries Association held their annual Christmas party Wednesday evening at the Ayreshire drive home of Mrs. Mary DeBoe.

Program chairman for the affair was Mrs. Mary Mazurek. She was assisted by Mrs. George Korn, Edythe Perry, Eleanor Lockman and Elaine Meidlein.

Following dinner, the group exchanged Christmas gifts and discussed the membership tea which the association will sponsor in January.

Also discussed was the scholarship which will be established in the future by the group, whose purpose is to promote the secretarial profession through education.

Members of the Pontiac Chapter include Mrs. Hope Scott, Mrs. Mazurek, Elaine Meidlein, Mrs. Korn, Miss Perry, Mrs. Dee Deiterle, Betty Alexander, Mrs. Charles Renwick, Mrs. Lois Ellis, Miss Lockman, Mrs. Donna Elliott and Mrs. Ula Trevethan.

Philathea Class Holds Election, Yule Program

Mrs. Ernal Lloyd was elected president of the Philathea Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church when the group met Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Edward Schultz, vice president; Mrs. Alex Kasten, treasurer; Mrs. John Gemmel, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Leonard VanderKooy, recording secretary, and Mrs. Charles Rowston, reporter.

Mrs. Nelson Rich opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Guy Caswell read the Christmas story, followed by group singing of Christmas songs.

Each member brought a gift to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Penny at Indian Mission in Oregon.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Gemmel, Mrs. Howard Hall, Mrs. Kasten, Mrs. Miner Desmond and Mrs. Edith Gale.

Holds Card Party

Mrs. George Brown of Voorheis road opened her home for cards Wednesday to members and friends of Pontiac Republican Women's Club. This was another of the group projects to raise funds.

Yule Party, Pledge Rite Set Tonight

Mrs. Frank A. Jalosky Jr., vice president of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, announces that the annual Christmas party and pledge pin ceremony will be held tonight.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. in Hotel Pontiac, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, president, will conduct the ceremony for pledges. The revealing of secret pals will be a highlight of the evening.

At a recent meeting, it was decided that the members will send a Christmas dinner to a needy family, along with some clothing and a decorated Christmas tree.

Plans have been completed for the annual Christmas Ball to be held Dec. 26 in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Mrs. Edward Hummell, chairman, will announce her committee heads at a later date.

The dance is open to the public and anyone wishing to attend may purchase tickets at the door or from any sorority member.

'Too Big' Styles Are Promoted by Schiaparelli

PARIS (INS)—One way to look slimmer in your clothes this winter will be to follow the new fashion ideas of Elsa Schiaparelli.

This Paris designer thinks clothes should look just a bit "too big" for the wearer.

Schiap this season goes in for woolens in a heavy rib-knit. Her cardigans are hand-knitted and look slightly too big for the wearer, with rib-knitted jacket in cognac brown reaching down to the middle of the thigh.

Schiaparelli also makes coats "too big." She offers a new one in cognac-colored tweed lined with cognac-colored fur.

This designer's new suits, on the other hand, are strict, slimming and have one dramatic detail cut or trimming for emphasis.

For instance, there's a wrap-around suit in shiny black broadcloth whose jacket has the right front part wrapped around under the arm and buttoning down to the hip.

Scrabble, Carte Blanche Popular

Word Games Replace TV

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Inventing a parlor game is getting to be the quickest way to get ahead in the business world.

Not so long ago the neighbors would beat a path to your door if you had a TV set. Then the neighbors got television sets. When the thrill was gone, families found they were in the habit of staying home for their entertainment, but they began looking around the living room for something besides a TV set.

What to do with the spare time? This, report the social researchers who study our habits, explains the new market for parlor games. Now the neighbors are dropping in again—but to play word games.

First to capture the parlor market was a game called Scrabble which had been vetoed originally by some of the biggest game companies as too intellectual. Now other obliging game inventors are getting into the act. The parlor public is about to be deluged with ways to spend an evening.

An ex-GI named Milton Wynne tore up his son's picture directionary last summer and came up with one of the newest parlor games. Wynne had an advantage, since he was an artist and headed a cooperative studio of six other artists who came in handy designing the colorful packages.

"I would say that if the average guy had a game idea he wanted to put on the market he'd need about $5,000 to launch it," the new game man said.

Wynne decided that if he could put out picture cards and a few accessories for a picture guessing game, he'd be in business. "I finally settled for 64 picture cards," he explained. "I tried to pick the things that could be used for the most different meanings. A leaf, for instance, could mean green or the verb leave—verbes are hard to get."

Two blank cards, the equivalent of wild cards in a poker game, gave the game its name—Carte Blanche. Players tried to spell out sayings or ideas of titles from the five cards dealt them, and partners get points for guessing each others combinations.

Homemakers Plan Monday Yule Party

Mrs. Edmund Alchin of Berwick boulevard will be hostess to the Merry Homemakers when they meet for a Christmas party Monday.

Plans have been made for a Christmas basket to be filled and children's Christmas gifts to be distributed.

Christmas Dance Planned for Teens

Teenagers of All Saints Episcopal Church are invited to attend the Christmas dance to be held Friday evening in the auditorium of Stevens Hall from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Mrs. Frank Bonner and Mrs. Larmon Smith are cochairmen of the affair and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reynolds are in charge of the refreshments.

Strapless Gowns Tops

NEW YORK (INS)—If fashion has any corny motto for the holiday party season it is—loosely—this: "She's strapless, she's in satin, she's engaged for the next dance."

The strapless, satin look is nothing new. But it's a revival of an old femme fatale trend that never fails to pop up in a festive winter season.

Before cool weather set in, there was a lot of talk breezing around the fancier salons to the effect that the strapless look was "going out" and women would have to muffle their shoulders if they wanted to look chic.

But the so-called fashion experts have tried to sell that covered-up look for several seasons now and it never works.

Women like bare shoulders — whether or not their shoulders are worthy of the exposure—and what women like, designers design. Even the most high-style boys are being forced to compromise with bared bodices again.

Satin, on the other hand, was the only prediction for the best-selling formal fabric of the year.

Satins, preferably heavy-bodied and usually black, cannot be outclassed by other materials in this winter holiday ball season.

Spray-on Snow Decorates Home

New fluffing materials used by some of the major manufacturers this year make a can of artificial snow go twice as far as last year, and that's a welcome point for the householder who wants to economically coat a large surface, such as a tree, with artificial snow.

Uses for the chemical snow are as varied as its colors — which include red, green, blue, pink and yellow in addition to the fluorescent colors.

Widest use for the spray-it-on snow is in simulating snowflakes on either the Christmas tree or on holly wreaths hung at the door of the home. It's equally effective, however, in adding an unusual touch to Christmas packages, or in creating eye-catching under-the-tree scenes.

Country settings for a model train layout, for example, come alive in color when white snow is used to cover rolling hills, green for the lowlands areas.

Treat Clothes With Respect

There is a way to add to your wardrobe without spending a penny and without doing a bit of work. It is to be found in attitudes.

You have heard it said that in order to gain respect, you must first have respect for yourself. Approach your belongings with the same attitude. Treat them with respect and so will others.

For example, your winter coat may be an inexpensive cloth coat that you bought a couple of years ago. But treat it as you would a luxurious fur.

Have it pressed occasionally so that the lining is never unused. When you remove it, fold it carefully, turning the lining out. Lay the coat gently on a chair if you are in public.

Your hats may be inexpensive, too. But no one need know it if you wear them with an air. Handbags that are polished now and then, and that are never bulging, can be carried proudly.

Martyr Wives Complain Ceaselessly About Marriage, but Fear Single Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The other day, a woman came in to see me who made me about as mad as I can ever remember being.

On the surface there was nothing so awful about her. She was tall and slim, probably in her late 30s, and her name was Mrs. B. H. She carried herself very straight, and her mouth had the tight, controlled look of the excessively virtuous martyr.

She had a job, she informed me, and wanted help in moving to another one where she could make more money.

"After all," she announced in a whining voice, "I practically carry the house myself. My husband has a job, of sorts, but he is just born to be a failure.

"The money he makes is only a drop in the bucket. And I have two children, school-age, to take care of. So you see, I must have more money."

She went on and on, telling me of her husband's drinking spells, his neglect, and how hard and selflessly she worked. She was so full of bitterness that I knew I could not help her get another job for more money.

Employers don't hire constant complainers, and as far as I was concerned, she'd better thank her lucky stars that her present firm had never fired her.

But I didn't tell her that. I just asked,

"Well, if your husband is so awful, why don't you get a legal separation. It would be easy, if he drinks and doesn't support you."

She hemmed and hawed and pretended that it was against her ethics to consider such a thing. But finally the truth came out.

She hated the idea of being single. She was afraid that, as a lone woman, none of their friends would include her in parties. Her self-esteem required that she be "a married woman."

Social pressure requires that they have a ring on their left hand and a Mrs. before their name—and for this they make some poor man's life miserable.

If marriage is that important to them—and I told her this—they had better work at it with a good grace.

They had better, as my grandmother used to say, "put up or shut up."

Asks How to Hasten Late Guest

Mrs. Post Advises Making a Remark About Time

By EMILY POST

An often-encountered situation is described in this letter: "Can you tell me a tactful way—if there is one—to get a lingering visitor to go home when it is late in the evening? I have been confronted with this problem many times but never know how to cope with it."

Answer: The only thing I can suggest is to look at the clock and say, "Oh, where has this evening gone? I had no idea it was so late."

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told that when a person's title was put on the same line with his name, the Mr. or Mrs. or Miss was omitted. For example: Mr. John Brown, President, Brown Chem. Co., or John Brown, President Brown Chemical Co.

Which is correct?

Answer: John Brown, President John Brown Chemical Co.

Dear Mrs. Post: Don't you think a girl of 16 is too young to wear black, even to the funeral of her father? I do wish you would settle this, Mrs. Post, as it has caused quite a heated argument among the members of my family.

Answer: Certainly she would wear black. It would be shocking to see a girl of 16 in a colored dress at her father's funeral—unless the family is in very poor circumstances where buying a black dress would be unreasonable expense.

Print Yuletide Wrappings for Genuine Individuality

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

To decorate the most individual packages under the tree, print them yourself. No printing press, not even printing inks are needed. Basic equipment is a supply of art gum erasers, a knife and razor blades, bright poster paint and brushes.

Draw Christmas designs, stars holly leaves, little trees, boots and even little geometric forms, and letters to spell out greetings.

Cut the art gum so the design is raised and the background is cut away. Apply paint with a brush and stamp the design onto the paper.

Sheets of paper can be stamped in all-over or random patterns before the packags are wrapped, or the designs can be applied in exactly the right places after the paper is on the boxes.

Set the children to work at this project and they'll turn plain paper into fancy paper in more than the needed quantities.

The art gum is easy to cut and slight irregularities add to the handmade look. If Christmas cards run short, print them with the same designs.

Replacement of Washer Not Enough

By HUBBARD COBB

Life, as many have observed from time to time, is full of new and interesting experiences. One interesting experience you may run across is installing a new washer in a leaky faucet only to find that the faucet still continues to leak.

If you want to take the time you can install another new washer but it won't do any good because the trouble here is obviously not caused by a worn washer but by a worn faucet washer seat.

To make a watertight seal, a faucet washer must rest on a smooth metal seat and when the seat becomes worn the only thing to do is either replace the faucet or grind down the metal seat so that it is once again nice and smooth.

The way this is accomplished is to cut off the source of water to the faucet, remove the spindle from the body of the faucet and then go to work with a valve seat dressing tool.

These gadgets can be purchased at a hardware or plumbing store along with the compound required for the grinding operation.

The tool is inserted in the body of the faucet and rotated until the seat is once again nice and smooth. If you can get one of these tools you can accomplish the same thing with a handmade contraption consisting of a piece of dowel and some waterproof emery cloth.

Select a dowel that fits the opening in the body of the faucet. Cut a piece of emery cloth the same diameter as the dowel and glue it to the end of the dowel with waterproof cement.

Now insert the dowell in the faucet and rotate it back and forth with the hands. When the valve seat feels smooth, flush out any bits of emery with water and replace the spindle.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

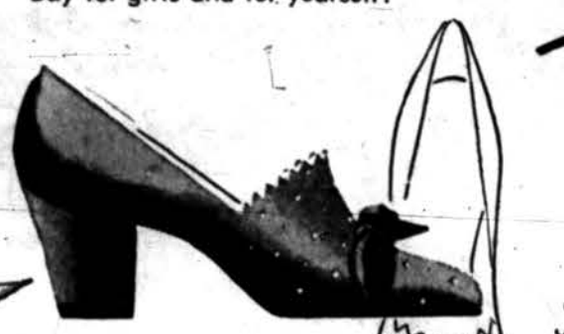

If you really want your friends to stop by for a holiday cup of cheer don't hand out vague invitations like "We'd like for you to come by sometime during the day." Say instead, "We're having some friends in between 2 and 5 on such-and-such a day and we hope you can come by—even if it is just for a few minutes."

Cole Slaw Is Made With Cranberries

Pilgrim women served this fresh cranberry relish with Sunday codfish dinners. We recommend it with corned beef hash and Yankee pot roast, too.

Cranberry Cole Slaw

1 cup cranberries
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup chopped apples
2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ cup sugar
½ cup mayonnaise

Chop fresh cranberries. Add cabbage, apple, lemon juice and sugar. Toss lightly with mayonnaise until well mixed. Chill. Serves four to six.

REAL HOME BAKED BEANS

DOUBLE-QUICK COFFEE RING — Here is a festive looking coffee cake to serve immediately or to use as a Christmas food. Scarlet candied cherries give the ring a bright touch. Once you try this recipe you'll use it often.

Rich Coffee Bread Loaf Is Real Heart-Felt Present

For Christmas hospitality and for that last-minute gift, consider delicious double-quick coffee breads. Serve these tender, rich breads hot and fragrant, fresh from the oven.

Or cool and wrap in a swoosh of cellophane as a gift-from-the-heart. The grateful recipient need only slip them uncovered into a warm oven for a few minutes and enjoy their melt-in-the-mouth goodness.

Particularly Christmasy is the wreath-shaped cherry butterscotch version. Here's how you make it:

Double-Quick Coffee Ring

⅔ cup warm water
1 package active dry yeast (not compressed)
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening or butter
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon corn syrup
½ cup butter (for topping)
Nut halves
Candied or maraschino cherries

Grease 9-inch ring mold. Melt 1-3 cup butter, the brown sugar and corn syrup in the mold. Decorate with walnut or pecan halves and cherries. Cool to warm.

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add sugar and salt and about half the flour. Beat thoroughly 2 minutes. Add egg and shortening. Then gradually beat in remaining flour until smooth. Drop by spoonfuls into ring mold. Cover.

Let rise in warm place (85 degrees) until double in bulk or about 50 to 60 minutes.

Bake at 375 for 30 to 35 minutes. Immediately turn out to avoid sticking. Serve warm.

Cookies Contain Surprise Inside

A wonderful cookie to add to your repertoire is this Cherry Almond Snowball. This is a fabulous version of the old favorite rich nut ball cookie.

Here, the rich dough is crunchy with almonds and pleasant with lemon. And instead of being baked to be a tender, tiny, rich cookie rolled in powdered sugar, these almond dough is molded arcund a candied cherry, then baked.

These tiny ball cookies are a delightful surprise with their fruity centers and are marvelously good. You will find this a hit cookie for your own holiday hospitality —and for those boxes of confections which you send to friends.

Cherry Almond Snowball Cookies

½ cup butter
¼ cup evaporated milk
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1½ cups sifted flour
6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup finely chopped almonds
½ pound candied cherries

Cream butter. Beat in the milk a little at a time until it is all taken up by butter. Add lemon rind. Sift the flour with the sugar and salt, and add a little at a time to the butter mixture. Add nuts and mix well.

Flatten a small bit of dough, about a teaspoon for each cookie, into the palm of the hand. Place a glazed cherry on the circle of dough. Cover the cherry by pinching cookie dough up around it, and roll between palms of hands to smooth.

Place on a lightly greased and floured cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (375) until golden brown, about 12 minutes. Roll cookies in confectioners sugar while they are still warm. Makes about 5 dozen small cookies.

Cranberry Fritters Good for Breakfast

Long before the hearty breakfasts of today, Colonial dames fed stacks of these breakfast fritters to their sea-faring men folk.

Cranberry Fritters

1 cup cranberries
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
Salt and pepper
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ cup flour
½ cup powdered sugar

Chop cranberries and mix with granulated sugar. Blend eggs, salt and pepper. Stir in baking powder and flour to make a heavy batter. Add cranberry mixture. Drop spoons of batter into ½ inch hot fat in shallow frying pan. Fry golden brown, but cook only a few at a time so fritters won't stick together. Sprinkle generously with powdered sugar before serving.

Fasten waxed paper with a rubber band around the top of a box of rice or cereal and you'll have no spills.

Kitchen Yields Gay Decorations

Students Make Festive Centerpiece, Popcorn Trees, Cookie Santa

Girls in the food classes at Pontiac High School are learning that Christmas decorations, though inexpensive and simple, can be effective.

When we visited Mrs. Emmett Crane's class on Tuesday to take this picture, the students were busily working on several projects. The one pictured is a centerpiece featuring fat little gingerbread boy carolers.

To make the centerpiece, a fluted mold was filled with sand and the top covered with flour. The cookie figures were placed before a background of cedar branches.

Popcorn trees, one blue, one green, were being put together by two girls. A red popcorn sled on peppermint stick runners held the attention of a third cook.

Gingerbread reindeer and plump Santas were in the oven. When baked, they would be used with the sled. Using colored popcorn ball syrup mixed with the popped corn, the students molded the hot confection into the desired shapes.

A third group was making poinsettia cookies. Rich sugar cookie dough was rolled out and cut into squares. A cut was made diagonally from each corner almost to the center. After a spoonful of prune filling was placed in the center of each square, the corners were folded to the middle like a pinwheel.

Crispy Brazil Nut Cookies Keep Well

These cookies made with Brazil nuts keep well, so you may make them any time now. Be sure to put them far apart on the baking sheet, as they do spread.

Brazil Nut Crisps

2 eggs
2½ cups brown sugar
1½ cups coarsely chopped Brazil nuts
2 cups cake flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs until very light, add sugar, keep on beating until all is dissolved. Add nuts, flour and the rest of the ingredients. Chill several hours. Cut off small chunks and roll between the hands into 2-inch sticks. Use cold water or confectioner's sugar to keep hands clear of dough. Bake 15 minutes at 350 degrees.

Try Bacon Toastwiches

Youngsters noisily bouncing home from school at high noon will relish bacon toastwiches. To make these, place three slices crisp bacon between two slices of bread. Dip the sandwiches into a French toast mixture and brown on both sides in hot fat. Serve with syrup, if desired.

CHRISTMAS STAR COFFEE CAKE—Make this rich, delicious coffee cake, shape it into a star and serve it for holiday breakfasts. Candied fruit is hidden inside the dough; bright cherries decorate the outside.

Star-Shaped Coffee Cake in Special Holiday Class

Sometimes just a simple thing like changing the shape of an old familiar food puts it in the special class. Making a Christmas star out of coffee cake dough is easy, yet effective.

If you have a freezer, you may make up this yeast bread early, freeze it and decorate it after it has thawed.

Christmas Star Coffee Cake

1 package yeast, compressed or dry
¼ cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted shortening
2½ cups sifted enriched flour (about)
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup chopped candied cherries
¼ cup chopped green and yellow candied pineapple
Confectioners' sugar icing

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast and egg. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny.

Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1½ hours).

When light punch down and let rest 10 minutes. Roll out to circle 12 inches in diameter. Place rolled out dough on greased baking sheet. Brush with butter or margarine. Mix sugar and chopped fruit. Spread evenly over dough.

With scissors cut six pie-shaped sections by cutting from center toward edge, cutting only to within an inch of outer edge. Roll up each section like butterhorn roll, starting at center.

Curve center of each roll toward middle of coffee cake. Pull ends outward to form a star shape. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in 350 oven 15 to 20 minutes. Brush with confectioners sugar icing. Makes one Christmas Star.

To give leftover vegetables the taste and look of being freshly cooked, place them in a wire strainer or colander and steam over water brought to a boil. Stir lightly a few times while heating and add seasonings before serving.

Paper Pompons Made at Home Trim Packages

Thinking about Christmas? Look to the pantry shelf for surprises, even for every-day staples that will help to glamorize gift packages and the Christmas tree.

Reluctant folks who normally aren't quick with their hands can put together a magic bowl of decorative "Christmas Blue" by whipping up 1 cup of laundry beadbluing with ¼ cup cold water.

Seems the experts who produce those dreamy gift packages in retail stores have discovered that this bluing mixture gives the perfect color accent for any shade of crepe paper. A package doesn't have to be all ribbons and bows. Top it off with crepe paper pompons made this way.

Cut a strip of crepe paper 4 in. by 30 in. Fold in half lengthwise and cut the open edge into fine fringe 1½ in. deep. Gather the folded edge over a piece of spool-wire and draw together; tie into a pompon.

Dip fringed edges into that "Christmas Blue," dry, apply colorless nail polish lightly. Use these perky pompons for tree ornaments, too.

When it comes to wrapping packages, try brilliant shades of crepe paper which has been stretched to full width. Fasten clear cellophane tape around package, with gummed side out.

Place varicolored sequins on the tape, then sprinkle with dry beadbluing. Press into tape with fingers and brush off excess bluing. Form loop of tape and fasten to top of box; trim in the same way.

Start your day right with BEECH-NUT Coffee. You can always depend on the same rich coffee satisfaction pound after pound!

FLORIDA ORANGES

They're back—those real juice oranges from Florida. Something about the soil and sunshine down there just naturally grows 'em sweeter and juicier.

Feel how heavy they are, weighted down with naturally sweet juice. Notice the thin skins. You get more juice, less squeezing per glass with Floridas.

And extra juice means extra vitamin C. Florida oranges are your best daily source of this precious vitamin that helps you build up resistance to winter ills. It's one vitamin you need every day because your body can't store it.

Just about the most delicious way to get your "C" is in Florida orange juice. Luckily, Floridas are plentiful and low-priced, so it's easy to serve the BIG glasses you need—and serve 'em often!

Trick for Macaroons

Many cookies have to be slipped from the baking sheet the minute they come from the oven, before the sugar in them starts to harden. Macaroons are hard to remove from the baking sheet without crumbling. One magazine writer suggests dropping the macaroons onto unglazed paper cut to fit your cookie sheet. If the macaroons are difficult to remove from the paper, let it stand on a lightly dampened cloth as you remove the sweets.

BURGER-TOMATO CASSEROLE—Quick casserole dishes are timesavers during the busy month of December. This one sounds so good we are sure you'll serve it often all year. Buttery noodles frame a tomato-hamburger combination topped with cheese.

Spices, Like Cosmetics, Should Be Used Sparingly

By JANET ODELL

Cinnamon, cloves and allspice; caraway, anise and cardamom; ginger and nutmeg. Even the names have a romantic sound.

Pass a bakery shop — the door opens long enough to let the spicy odors waft out — and memory carries one back to childhood and holiday baking.

Spices, like cosmetics, should be used with restraint. Both should be used in order to achieve a particular effect without becoming too obvious.

Don't be afraid to experiment. Just remember to keep a light touch and taste as you go.

Keep your spices tightly covered. Go through your spice cupboard ever so often and discard the ones you have had more than a year. The delicate, aromatic oils that give spices their appetizing qualities must be protected from the air.

Try the aromatic oils themselves for a taste treat. They are much stronger than the ground spices, so use them with care; usually a drop is enough.

Most spices are found in the grocery store. However, you may have to seek some of the less common ones at the drugstore. We always buy anise and spice oils from the druggist. Anise, cardamom, cinnamon, clove are among the spices used in medicine.

For an unusual spice cookie, try these lemon caraway cookies.

Lemon Caraway Cookies

½ cup margarine
1 cup sugar
1¼ teaspoons caraway seed
Grated rind ½ lemon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg
2½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Cream margarine, add sugar gradually and beat until fluffy. Add caraway seed which has been soaked in warm water and drained. Add lemon rind, juice, egg and sifted dry ingredients; mix well.

Shape into a roll about 2 inches in diameter and wrap in waxed paper. Chill until firm; cut in one-eighth-inch slices.

Bake on greased cookie sheet in 400-degree oven about 10 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen.

Cookies Spiced With Cardamom

One of the unusual spices is cardamom. It is the fruit ofa plant in the ginger family.

The seeds give an oil used in medicine. The fruit is widely used in some countries as a seasoning. Try these Scandanavian cookies.

Norwegian Cardamom Cookies

1½ cups flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cardamom seeds
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg

Sift flour; measure. Sift again with baking powder, salt. Remove shells from seeds; crush seeds.

Cream butter or margarine. Gradually add sugar, mix until fluffy. Beat in egg. Stir in flour mixture and cardamom seeds. Chill several hours.

Divide dough in thirds, roll out one third at a time on floured board to one-eighth-inch thickness. Cut in diamond shapes.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet for 10 minutes. Makes 36 2-inch cookies. Decorate with confectioners' frosting and edge with chopped nuts.

Fruit Aids Dieters

Weight-watchers who want an in-between-meal snack should concentrate on fruit. Practically all fresh fruits are low in calories. In addition, they are rich in vitamins and minerals and are satisfying because of their bulk. Of course, the fruits should be eaten without sugar, cream or salad dressing.

Casserole Ideal for Busy Month

Christmas shopping and preparations for the holiday season whittle away the hours and leave so little time for fussing with the family's dinner. For such days, a home economist has suggested a meal-in-one-dish that's a honey.

We think it will help solve your dinner problems during the pre-holiday season.

Burger-Tomato Casserole

1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons margarine
1 pound hamburger
¼ teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon pepper
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 (8 oz.) package wide noodles
½ teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons margarine
1 tablespoon flour
2 or 3 slices American cheese

Saute onion in 2 tablespoons margarine until transparent. Add hamburger, salt, and pepper and cook until meat is crumbly and browned. Drain tomatoes, reserving juice. Mix pulp with meat.

In the meantime, cook noodles in boiling salted water five minutes. Drain and rinse. Add 2 tablespoons margarine, one-half teaspoon salt and one sixteenth teaspoon pepper and toss until noodles are well coated. Blend tomato juice and ½ teaspoon sugar with flour and mix thoroughly with noodles.

Line bottom and sides of a 2-quart greased casserole with noodles. Fill center with meat. Place cheese slices on top of meat. Bake in a moderate over (350) 30 minutes. Yield: Six servings.

Danish Holiday Cake Is Handy, Easy to Make

Want an elegant holiday dessert for company dinner tonight or when guests drop in? This recipe for Danish Holiday Cake is one you'll want to keep handy.

It's simple to make. Just fill layers of white or angel food cake (made from your favorite mix) with Danish dessert (a currant-raspberry pudding mix). Spread whipped cream generously over the top of the cake and sprinkle with shaved toasted almonds or toasted coconut.

Make the Holiday Cake early in the day so that it's thoroughly chilled when you serve it. It will cut more easily. Enough for 10 generous servings.

Danish Holiday Cake

2 cups cold water
1 package Danish dessert
2 8" or 9" white cake layers OR 1 10" Angel Food Cake
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
Shaved, toasted almonds or toasted coconut

Stir contents of package of Danish dessert into cold water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly; boil for one minute. Pour dessert into bowl. Let cool, then chill 3 to 4 hours.

While Danish dessert is chilling, make up white cake or angel food cake as directed on package. When cool, cut cake into four layers.

When Danish dessert has chilled, spread between layers of cooled cake. Cover top of cake with whipped cream and garnish with toasted almonds or shredded coconut. Chill in refrigerator until ready to serve.

Homemade Decorator

Improvise a pastry tube for decorating Christmas cookies! Just make a cone out of a double thickness of waxed paper. Fasten the cone in place with a bit of cellulose tape or a pin. Then snip off the tip of the cone with a scissors to to make a small opening. Pile confectioners' sugar frosting — tinted the shade you want—into the cone, and go to work.

KENSINGTON PANCAKES—Serve these elegant pancakes with spiced apricots, wild rice and a crisp green salad for a special luncheon or dinner menu. A favorite fruit or ice cream dessert and lots of hot coffee make it meal to remember.

Pancakes Go Glamorous Fixed in Kensington Style

Pancakes go glamorous when they are fixed Kensington style. Make them early and refrigerate them until ready to heat and serve.

Pancakes

6 eggs
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons water
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine eggs, flour, water and salt in a bowl and beat thoroughly. Pour a small amount of batter onto a hot, lightly oiled griddle until it forms a pancake about 7 inches in diameter.

Cook until lightly browned. Turn. Continue cooking on other side. Roll pancake jelly roll fashion with a fork. Place on a baking sheet. Bake eight pancakes this way.

Filling and Sauce

2 cups diced cooked turkey or chicken
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chicken bouillon
1 cup thin cream
¼ to ½ cup teaspoon curry powder
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons shredded aged cheese

Pan-fry onion in butter until transparent. Add flour and salt. Stir to blend thoroughly. Add bouillon and cream. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Pour 1½ cups of sauce into bowl containing turkey and curry powder. Mix well.

For the sauce: Add egg and cheese to remaining sauce in pan and stir until well combined. Keep hot if the pancakes are to be served at once.

Unroll pancakes and spread filling over entire surface. Reroll and place on baking sheet. Spoon sauce over top. Place in a slow oven (325 degrees) for 20 minutes to heat through if the pancakes have been refrigerated.

For a golden brown top, place under broiler for about two to three minutes. Makes four servings, or eight filled pancakes.

Scotch Shortbread Is True Delicacy

A true delicacy and a wonderful cookie for Christmas-time making is Scotch Shortbread. We can't keep these in the house other times of the year, for no hiding place is secure from hungry nibblers. Do try them.

Scotch Shortbread

1 cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 egg yolk
2¼ cups sifted flour

In a bowl, cream butter or margarine and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolk and beat until mixture is smooth. Gradually add flour and mix until just blended. Turn into a shallow, lightly greased pan about 12x8x1 inch and spread evenly with the back of a spoon or a spatula.

Dip the tines of a fork in warm water. Make narrow ridges in the dough by marking lenghtwise with the tines of fork. Repeat the dipping and marking until the entire surface is covered.

Bake in a 325 oven about 1 hour, or until the shortbread is golden brown and done. Cut into narrow lengthwise pieces or squares while hot.

Note: If you wish, the shortbread may be baked in a large circle on a baking sheet. Spread the dough into the desired size circle; crimp the edges like pastry and prick the surface with a fork. The baking time varies with the size and thickness of the dough.

Keep extra custard cups to use for small mixing jobs, refrigerator storage, and molding gelatin desserts and salads.

FRESH SQUASH RING—Serve the traditional fresh vegetables with your holiday dinner, but try some new ways with them. This squash ring filled with fresh brussels sprouts is both colorful and mouth-watering.

Fill Colorful Squash Ring With Sprouts Almondine

Instead of serving squash in a dish with pats of butter melting on top, mold it in a ring mold and fill the center with Brussels Sprouts Almondine. Of course, you may use any other contrasting vegetable for the center of the ring. Or leave it empty.

Fresh Squash Ring

4 eggs, beaten
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated onion
2 cups cooked fresh squash
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons melted butter
Chopped chives

Preheat oven to 350 (moderate). Combine eggs, milk, seasonings, crumbs, lemon rind and onion. Fold in squash, lemon juice and melted butter. Turn into well-greased 6-cup ring mold. Set in pan of warm water and bake 50-60 minutes or until custard is set.

Remove from pan of water and let stand 10 minutes. Unmold onto platter and fill center with Brussels Sprouts Almondine. Sprinkle squash ring with chopped chives. Serves six to eight.

Brussels Sprouts Almondine

1 basket fresh Brussels sprouts (1½ pounds)
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
1-inch boiling water in pan
3 tablespoons butter, melted
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons slivered, toasted almonds

Wash brussels sprouts. Trim off imperfect outer leaves and bits of stem ends. Soak 20 minutes in cold salted water; using 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart water. Place in saucepan; add salt, sugar and boiling water. Cover.

Cook 10 to 15 minutes or just until tender. Lift cover occasionally while cooking to help the vegetable retain its green color. Drain off water. Combine butter, lemon juice and almonds. Add to brussels sprouts and stir very gently to blend.

Mince Tarts Offered Visitors Are 'for Luck'

Holidays are busy days. Besides the big Christmas meal—there are dozens of calls for festive famiy favorites. And when does the super busy homemaker have time for extra pies and cakes?

Fortunately she has a helper. The bakers are busy too . . . busy helping supply you with holiday baked goods for feasting.

For instance, spicy mincemeat pies, a holiday specialty, can be found in every bake shop.

Little mince pies, or tarts are a popular English holiday treat. In Shropshire, a mince pie and a glass of wine always were offered 'for luck' to any visitor who came to the house during yuletide—no matter at what hour of day or night.

Treat your yuletime guests with little mince tarts from the baker. Or serve a big juicy spicy mince pie topped with a fluff or whipped cream as a climax to a family dinner.

Corn Fritter Recipe

NEW YORK (UP)—Corn fritters are a hit at any meal which includes ham. Here is one easy way to make them: Combine 1 cup cooked whole kernel corn with 2 tablespoons chopped green sweet pepper, ¼ cup chopped ripe olives, salt and pepper to taste, and 1 lightly beaten egg. Drop mixture by spoonsful into hot greased frying pan and brown until the fritters are crusty on both sides.

Dip Knife in Water

When you are using dried fruits—figs, apricots or dates—for holiday cakes and cookies, you'll find it's easy to cut them if you frequently dip the blade of your knife in cold water.

A dash of dry mustard and a few drops of tabasco sauce will enliven cream sauce that's to be combined with diced cooked ham.

Ginger Cream Fits the Season

Christmas is a good time to make gingery dessert.

All too often our dessert repertoire using this spice stops with gingerbread and ginger snaps. Actually, that should just be the beginning.

Ever make a ginger cream? It makes a perfect light dessert for those holiday buffets and the dozen other guest occasions that will come up during the Christmas season.

It's molded with a spiced custard foundation to which gelatin, heavy cream and glazed fruit are added.

Holiday Ginger Cream

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
⅓ cup sugar
one-sixteenth teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground ginger
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
⅔ cup glazed mixed fruit

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine the one third cup sugar, salt, and ground ginger in top of double boiler. Blend in egg yolks; stir in milk. Cook over hot water (not boiling) until mixture is hot and has slightly thickened. Stir in softened gelatin.

Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks; beat in the 1 tablespoon sugar and fold into the custard mixture.

Fold in whipped cream along with lemon rind and glazed fruit. Pour into a 1-quart mold or into six individual molds. Chill until ready to serve. Yield: six servings.

Note. For a party, double the above recipe.

Cakes With Coffee

A Swedish hostess at Christmas time expects to offer, with coffee, at least six different kinds of attractive cakes, besides a round, braided loaf of especially good, sweet, white bread colored strongly yellow with saffron and made with raisins and citron in it and ornamented with sugar.

Ever Roast Walnuts?

A bowl of fresh fruit makes a fine dessert for a holiday meal when it's served with fresh dates, clusters of raisins, and roasted walnuts. To roast the walnuts put a pound of them in their shells in a shallow pan; heat in a moderate oven for about half an hour before they are to be served.

BRIDE'S CHRISTMAS COOKING—Mrs. Robert C. Anderson of Rosshire Court, is enjoying her first Christmas in her own home. Here she is checking the recipes as she melts chocolate for Easy Chocolate Drop Cookies.

Tasty Chocolate Cookies No Trick for New Bride

Some new homemakers hesitate when it comes to using new recipes. Our 1953 bride, Mrs. Robert C. Anderson (Francile Worthman), is ambitious enough to try Christmas cookies and to make them for a club meeting.

As you can see by the above picture, cooking is fun when you follow the rules. We think you'll like these chocolate cookies.

Easy Chocolate Drop Cookies

½ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
¾ cup chopped pecans
Pecan halves

Cream butter or margarine with vanilla. Gradually add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Blend in sifted dry ingredients and milk. Add melted chocolate and chopped nuts.

Drop by half teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Decorate with pecan halves. Bake in 400 degree oven 7 to 10 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Give Your Coffee Cake a Christmas Topping

Create a Christmas filling or topping for your favorite coffee cake—something that says seasons greetings for that first meal of the day.

Candied cherries, citron, orange and lemon peel, green and yellow pineapple, and red and green maraschino cherries are all tops for this purpose. These, along with all the Christmas nuts, combine to make delicious fillings and toppings. Drizzle confectioners' sugar icing over the warm cakes—gives a frosty appearance.

Different Flavored Spritz—Peppermint

Spritz cookies, as made with a cookie press, are familiar to most of us. Here is a recipe for a different flavor Spritz-Peppermint.

Peppermint Sprits

1 cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Peppermint flavoring to taste
Green food coloring
1 egg
2¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
Chocolate bits

Cream butter or margarine and gradually add sugar. Blend in flavoring, coloring and unbeaten egg and beat until light and fluffy. Add sifted dry ingredients. Force through cookie press onto cookie sheet. Center each with a chocolate bit. Bake at 350 degrees 7 to 10 minutes. Makes 6 dozen small cookies.

Bake Yeast Coffee Cakes in Advance of Christmas

Bake several yeast coffee cakes ahead of the yule season. Wrap them in moisture-vapor proof aluminum foil and freeze. Then for company breakfast or the Christmas morning breakfast, you have a fresh spicy coffee cake to serve.

Remove the coffee cake from the freezer and place in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Drizzle confectioners' sugar icing over the top of the cake if you want to make it something special.

Easy-to-Make Alaskas

Individual cinnamon and spice Alaskas can be made in a twinkling when bakers' sponge cake shells form the base. Arrange bright red slices of cinnamon apples—apples cooked in a red cinnamon candy syrup—in each shell. Cover closely with a cloud of meringue. Place these on a cookie sheet and bake in a 450 degree oven for five minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned.

Have Sugar Shaker Too

Keep a large shaker of sugar in your kitchen beside your large salt and pepper shakers. You'll find it useful for sweetening whipped cream and cereal, for sprinkling over a sponge cake batter, or over doughnuts.

Visiting Card of Cake

In Italy from the earliest times it was the custom to bake Magi cakes. These took the place of visiting cards and were exchanged between friends. The larger the cake, the greater the appreciation shown. The Prince of Borghese received a Magi cake adorned with his coat of arms which was 20-feet long.

Punch Peps Up Holiday Party

This holiday make the party punch bowl especially festive and inviting. A compote of overhanging grapes placed in the center of the bowl will give it an air of distinction. You can add a wreath of Christmas greens around the base of the bowl if you like.

A flavor-filled punch of easy-to-chill-and-mix canned juices wins favor, too. Make it the bright red of cranberry juice cocktail or the pretty purple of grape juice.

Your choice of one of these, along with the tang of citrus and pineapple juices and the sparkle of gingerale, gives "punch" to a happy holiday.

Happy Holiday Punch

1 46-ounce can orange-grapefruit juice
1 46-ounce can pineapple juice
1 can frozen lemonade concentrate
2 quarts cranberry, or grape juice
1 quart gingerale
Ice, lemon

Combine chilled juices and lemonade concentrate as it comes from the can. Add sugar if needed. Just before serving, add gingerale, ice and half slices of lemon. Makes about 5 quarts (about 40 servings).

Apricot Glaze Good on Cakes

Do you glaze your fruitcakes and then decorate the tops with candied fruit and nuts? If so, you may like to try this recipe for a fruit glaze.

Apricot Glaze

¼ pound dried apricots
1 6-ounce can frozen concentrated orange juice
½ cup water
1½ cups corn syrup
Nuts and candied fruit, as desired

Wash and sort apricots, cover with orange juice and water. Allow to stand 5 to 6 hours. Cook until the apricots are very tender and mash through a fine strainer. Measure one cup of the mixture into a sauce pan. Add corn syrup and boil together three minutes. Remove from heat and spread over baked fruit cake immediately. After the nuts and candied fruit have been put on, another coating of glaze may be applied. This makes enough glaze for three fruit cakes.

For Prune Glaze substitute one cup dried prunes for the dried apricots.

Are the small fry home for lunch? Make a quick nourishing soup for them by combining a half-cup of mashed leftover cooked vegetables with a cup of thin cream sauce.

Hospitality Via Coffee Pot Can Be Different, Exotic

The coffee pot, symbol of American hospitality, works overtime from the minute the first Christmas gift is opened until the last New Year's call is made.

But there's no need for you to work overtime during this wonderful season.

Keep your refreshments simple, serving little party sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres and other delicacies that can be made the night before, then rolled in waxed paper or covered with tinfoil and stored in the icebox.

To end each holiday gathering on a satisfying note that will mark you as a discriminating hostess, try serving coffee in one of the several exotic versions.

One of the simplest is Coffee Viennese, which requires a bowl of whipped cream and a dish of cinnamon. Top each cup of black coffee with generaous spoonfuls of the cream, then add a sprinkle of cinnamon.

The hot, black coffee is sipped through the thick layer of cold, cinnamon-flavored whipped cream.

Popular with the younger set on a cold winter night after tobogganing or Christmas caroling will be Hot Mocha Java, made from equal quantities of hot coffee and cocoa topped with fluffy marshmallows.

An exciting taste experience in which all your guests can take part is the making of Cafe Brulot.

And these recipes for Christmas cups should be greeted with cheers:

Coffee-Eggnog Punch

6 eggs, separated
2 cups light cream
¾ cup light corn syrup
1 quart milk
3 cups coffee
1 tablespoon brandy flavoring
Few grains salt
Nutmeg

Beat egg yolks. Add cream, syrup, milk, coffee, flavoring and salt. Beat egg whites, fold in. Pour into punch bowl. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Yields 24 punch cups.

Cafe Brulot

Place in a brulot bowl or chafing dish the outer rind of half an orange cut into 5 or 6 pieces, and the thin peel of a quarter of a lemon.

Add 2 sticks of broken cinnamon bark, 10 cloves (heads removed), 8 lumps of sugar and 2 demitasses of cognac.

Light the burner under bowl or chafing dish. Stir constantly with a punch or gravy ladle until the contents are warm, then ignite.

Burn about a minute, then pour over the blaze 5 demitasses of strong coffee. Ladle out at once into demitasse cups.

New ideas in coffee-making can mark you a wonderful hostess.

Pointers Given on Preparing Turkey Stuffing

Here are some stuffing pointers that you may want to keep around as a general reminder for holiday poultry.

To fill the abdominal cavity and neck pocket lightly, allow three-fourths cup of stuffing per pound of poultry, dressed weight, or 1 cup per pound ready-to-cook weight.

Allow the same amount of stuffing for a turkey weighing 20 pounds or more because the abdominal cavities of large birds are approximately the same size. The difference in weight is due to the added amount of meat on the carcass.

For fluffy light-textured stuffings which are high in flavor, fill the cavity lightly. As the juices are absorbed by the stuffing during the roasting period, it will expand.

Over-packing will result in a compact, less desirable product and may cause the turkey to burst.

If perishable ingredients are used, the stuffing should be mixed immediately prior to use. The stuffed bird should be placed in a preheated oven at once.

If it is necessary to hold the stuffed poultry before roasting, the stuffing should be chilled before use, and, the clean stuffed bird should be refrigerated. The holding period should not be more than four hours.

Freezing of prepared stuffings is not recommended. The holding of frozen stuffings at zero degrees for one week results in wet, uninviting stuffings, and the seasonings take on a bitter flavor.

Nuts and Jam in Yule Cookie

Christmas cookies! They bring different visions to many people but to all they're a definite part of the yuletide.

Here's a cookie, Pinksters, you'll want to add to your list. It's not the usual rolled Christmas cookie. This is one of the drop variety and on the fancy side — one you'll enjoy serving when folks drop by during the holidays.

The Pinksters are topped with a colorful dash of jam and cleverly frosted with chopped nut meats.

Pinksters

½ cup lard
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 egg yolk
2 cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg white
1½ cups chopped pecans
12-ounce jar seedless raspberry jam

Cream lard until soft. Blend in sugar. Add well-beaten egg and egg yolk. Mix in flour and salt. Roll dough into small balls about the size of a walnut. Dip into slightly beaten egg white, then roll in chopped pecans.

Place on greased cookie sheet and make a depression in the center of each ball. Bake 5 minutes in 300 oven.

Remove from oven, press down center again. Continue baking for about 15 minutes. Cool slightly, then fill center with jam. Yields 3 dozen cookies.

One Holiday Treat Is Sugared Nuts

An unusual treat for the gift candy box or the tray to pass will be some sugared nuts. Do try some.

Orange Sugared Nuts

1 cup granulated sugar
¼ cup undiluted frozen orange juice
1 teaspoon corn syrup
1 cup shelled halved nuts

Stir the sugar, orange juice, corn syrup and ¼ cup water until the sugar is dissolved and the syrup boils. Reduce the heat and continue boiling until a temperature of 236 degrees is reached.

Remove the syrup from the heat, cool to 110 degrees and beat until it begins to harden. Add the nuts and turn the mixture onto a greased baking sheet or waxed paper. Separate the nut halves quickly with two forks and allow to cool.

Serve Sausage Hawaiian Style

On nippy mornings there's nothing quite like the aroma of sausage cooking in the frying pan to inspire appetites.

And only a few extra minutes of your time can turn breakfast from the plain meal it often is into the hearty and tempting meal it should be.

Among the many ways to prepare sausage for breakfast you'll want to include Hawaiian sausage.

To prepare this dish, place sausage links (two per serving) in a heavy frying pan. Add 2 teaspoons of water, cover and let the sausage steam for about 10 minutes. Then uncover and allow them to lightly brown on all sides.

When cooked, remove the sausage links and all but 3 tablespoons of the fat. To the fat in the frying pan, add 2 tablespoons of flour.

When brown, add 1½ cups of crushed pine apple. Bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Then pour the pineapple sauce over slices of toast and serve with sausages atop.

Fresh pork sausage patties are grand served on apple rounds for another breakfast treat. Cook the sausage patties the same as the links, allowing 15 minutes cooking time.

In the meantime, core and slice large tart apples but do not pare. Place apples in fat left from cooking sausage and cook until a golden brown.

Arrange the apples on a warm platter and top each with a sausage patty. Garnish the platter with toast tips.

Soup Dumplings Prepared With Various Cereals

The goodness of old-fashioned cereal dumplings needn't be a thing of the past even if the big soup kettle has disappeared from use in your kitchen.

You can start with a simple canned consomme or beef broth, then add your own dumplings to make a main dish out of the soup for lunch.

The farina dumplings are mildly flavored with paprika and nutmeg.

Farina Soup Balls

2 cups milk
⅓ cup farina, uncooked
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs

Heat milk to boiling point. Sprinkle farina over milk, stirring constantly until smooth. Add butter or margarine, salt, paprika and nutmeg and cook over low heat four to five minutes or until thick, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and beat in eggs, one at a time. Drop batter by heaping teaspoonfuls into simmering soup broth.

Cook two minutes and serve with the soup.

Yield: 44 balls.

These dumplings made with ready-to-eat cereal flakes are more savory, their chili powder and onion flavor making a good combination with any beef broth.

Savory Cereal Dumplings

⅓ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups bran flakes or whole wheat flakes, finely crushed

Heat milk and butter over low heat until milk is scalded and butter is melted. Remove from heat and add salt, pepper, chili powder, minced onion and egg.

Mix well. Add cereal flakes and blend well. Shape into 1-inch balls.

Drop into simmering meat stew or broth and simmer 15 minutes without lifting cover. Yield: 16 dumplings.

When you serve raw cabbage often in everyday meals, you are helping your family to vitamin C— the vitamin found in citrus fruit and that we need to eat daily since our bodies do not store it.

Exclusive double-wrapped Aluminum Package keeps GOOD LUCK better tasting than any other margarine!

Read the proof! In flavor tests, new Reynolds Wrap kept GOOD LUCK sweet as the day it was made—even after 8 weeks! Only GOOD LUCK has it!

NOW YOU can serve perfect table spread every time—sweet and delicious as the day it was packed! Just look for GOOD LUCK margarine in this revolutionary new package made of shiny Reynolds aluminum foil.

To test this package, we put GOOD LUCK in a refrigerator along with other table spreads wrapped in ordinary waxed cartons. Next to them we placed sliced onions—and the strongest cheese we could find.

Sweet and Delicious After 8 Weeks

After eight weeks, GOOD LUCK in its new aluminum package was still as sweet and delicious as the day it was made! But the other quality margarines in the usual waxed cartons had lost flavor and picked up odors very quickly, some after only six days.

Here's the reason for the difference: We wrap each quarter-pound print in pure Reynolds Wrap, then we put the quarter pounds in a waxed carton for extra protection, and finally, we seal the whole carton in shiny aluminum foil.

As a result, GOOD LUCK not only tastes delicious when we wrap it, but keeps its glorious flavor better—and longer—than any other margarine.

Remember, GOOD LUCK in its new package is unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Company, 390 Park Avenue, New York 22, New York.

We stored GOOD LUCK in the refrigerator next to strong cheese and onions for 8 weeks. When the new aluminum package was opened, GOOD LUCK's flavor was sweet and delicious as ever!

Keep GOOD LUCK in Your Refrigerator—It Spreads Easily!

The delicate flavor of this fine quality margarine is perishable. That's why we carefully refrigerate GOOD LUCK during processing—also while awaiting shipment, and in transit.

If you want to enjoy GOOD LUCK at its delicious best, always keep it in your refrigerator. You'll find GOOD LUCK spreads smoothly even when cold.

Match Christmas Decor With Red and Green Jelly

By JANET ODELL

The first Christmas I was a homemaker I made some cinnamon candy jelly. It was beautiful to look at and good to eat. Then I lost the recipe. Ever since, each year I have bemoaned its loss and wished I could make that jelly. Being a food editor has spurred me to experiment. I have been trying out ways of making Christmas jelly. The red cinnamon apple jelly was such a success that I tried another idea and came up with green lemon jelly. I wanted something different from the usual green mint jelly.

The cinnamon apple jelly is made with powdered pectin, while the lemon jelly uses liquid fruit pectin.

I see no reason why you should not use the kind of pectin you prefer, so long as you follow exactly the directions given on the package.

Do try one or both of these jellies. They will add such a gay bit of color to your Christmastime meals. I hope you like them.

Cinnamon Apple Jelly

3 cups bottled apple juice
3½ cups sugar
1 box powdered pectin
4 ounces red cinnamon candies
Red food coloring
Powdered cinnamon or oil of cinnamon

Measure the apple juice into a 5 to 6-quart saucepan. Add candies and red coloring and mix in powdered pectin. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar.

Bring to a full rolling boil (it cannot be stirred down); boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove jelly from heat, add cinnamon flavoring if desired, skim off foam with metal spoon and pour at once into glasses. Paraffin immediately. Makes 6 medium glasses.

It is unbelievably simple to make jelly with frozen fruit juice:

Green Lemon Jelly

3¼ cups sugar
1 cup water
½ bottle liquid pectin
1 can (about 6 ounces), quick-frozen concentrated lemon juice (not lemonade)
Green food coloring

Measure the sugar and water into a large saucepan. Add food coloring. Mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Add frozen juice and mix well. Pour quickly into glasses. Cover at once with hot paraffin. Makes five to six glasses.

Pie Meringue Runny?

Here are some tips to prevent pie meringues from running. Always use accurate measurements when making the meringue. It should be beaten until it stands in peaks that will bend over slightly. And be sure to spread the meringue on a cool filling, well to the edges of the pie. Too long baking or too high a temperature for a long time will cause the egg whites to weep. Bake at 300 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or 400 degrees F. for 8 to 10 minutes.

Shears for Dried Fruit

NEW YORK (UP)—A pair of kitchen shears is helpful in cutting dried and candied fruits and peel for fruit cakes. Prunes are the only one of the fruits which need precooking. It's a good idea to prepare all the fruits and peels, add the honey and other liquid called for in the recipe and let the mixture stand overnight before combining with the remaining ingredients.

Sherry Flavors Coconut Cookie

Holidays call for cookies of all shapes, sizes and flavors. To go along with tradition, you'll be making lots of the old favorites. To be sure you aren't missing something, you'll be trying some new recipes.

With this in mind, we present a recipe for a new and utterly delicious bar-type cookie.

Richly-flavored, the taste of Sherry Holiday Bars belies the ease with which they are prepared. You simply pour wine over the coconut and set this aside while following the regular procedures of creaming, beating, sifting and mixing.

Just before oven time, add the wine-plumped coconut. Once the confection is baked, you have only to cut the "cake" into bars. There's no frosting, no decorating.

Sherry Holiday Bars

½ cup sherry wine
¾ cup shredded coconut
¼ cup softened butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup pitted, sliced dates

Pour wine over coconut. Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and add dates. Toss lightly to coat dates with flour mixture. Combine with sugar mixture. Add sherried coconut and mix thoroughly. Pour into greased pan (10x7x-1½ inches). Bake in 350 oven 30 to 35 minutes. Cut into bars while warm.

SHERRY HOLIDAY BARS—Holiday friends will enjoy these bar cookies. Served with white and dark fruitcakes, they provide an interesting contrast in taste and texture. Dates and coconut make them chewy. Serve them often.

Horseradish Mustard in Tangy Croutons

If you are interested in a snack which has tang and zip, prepare a bowlful of horseradish Mustard Croutons. These out-of-hand bites of delight can be made by tossing a pint of soft bread cubes in a mixture of 2 tablespoons corn oil, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish.

Spread the cubes on a cookie sheet and toast under low broiler heat for five minutes, or until golden brown. Turn once or twice during the broiling time.

A rice ring will take on a touch of color if you arrange chopped green pepper and canned pimiento in the bottom of the buttered mold before packing with rice.

How to Remove Musty Odor of Cookie Jar

With the holiday season well under way you'll probably be doing a lot of extra baking to feed the ravenous appetites of junior's pals and holiday droppers in.

For afternoon snacks, cocoa and cookies will cut the frost from tingling fingers and fill those insatiable appetites.

If your cookie jar and the old-fashioned chocolate pot have been on vacation until now, they probably have that stored-away, musty odor. Here's a hint to make them sparkle and shine like the finest of gems, and to make them smell sweet, too.

Wash in a solution of baking soda and warm water—3 tablespoons soda to one quart of warm water—plus your favorite soap or detergent. Then rinse and dry. Baking soda removes the greasy film that clings to food containers and holds odors, so it sweetens and cleans at the same time.

Then, after each use, wash your cocoa pot and cups in a baking soda solution. It will remove any pesky bits of milk and cocoa which may stick to the inside of these articles.

Again, this same solution of 3 tablespoons baking soda to one quart warm water will sweeten and clean to a sparkling luster. For stubborn stuck-on particles, pour a little soda on a damp cloth, rub on the spot and then wash as usual. The spots will vanish and the cocoa pot and cups will be ready for the next relaxing afternoon.

Quick-cooking tapioca makes a marvelous thickening for summer fruit pies. It never clouds the natural color of the fruit or affects the fresh flavor.

On Busy Shopping Days, Purchase Cake at Store

On busy shopping days, the evening meal may be a little short. Stop in at the bake shop and select a cake for dinner. Or if your family prefers, a fruit-filled pie. While you are there, remember to pick up some cookies for the Christmas carolers.

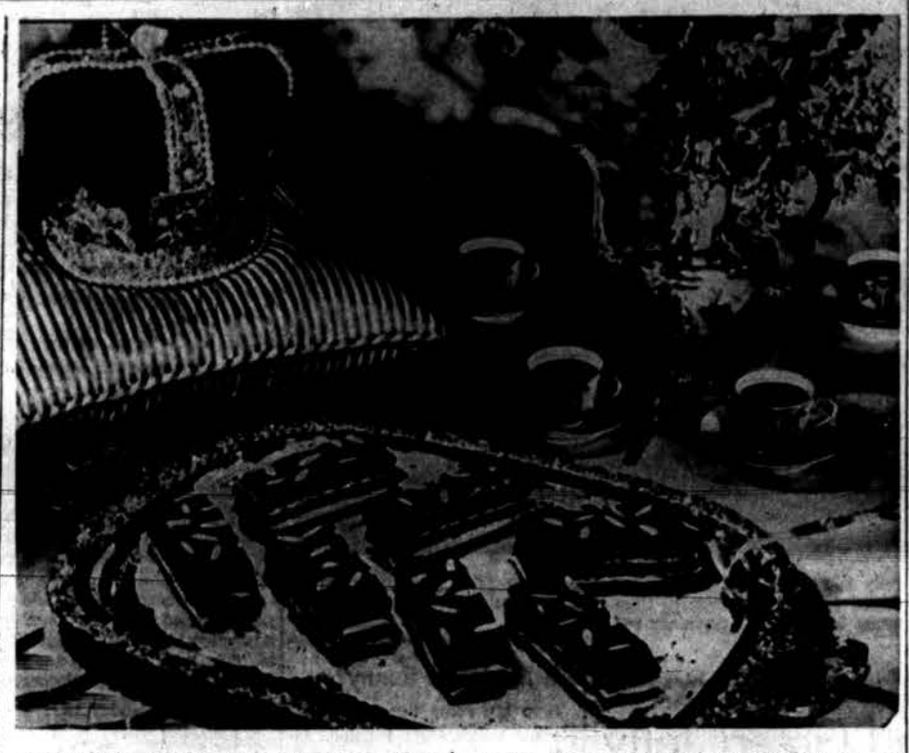

And if you're having a holiday tea, place your order for some dainty little party cakes. Your guests will be pleased with the cakes that seem to be made special for each guest.

S-S-S-SH!

Before you tell a single soul about the big "20¢ OFF" sale on the large double-size economy jar* of Instant Chase & Sanborn, be sure and stock up, yourself. Look for the Special Label jars at your grocer's now!

*You save up to 70¢ over two pounds of ground coffee.

Frosted 2-Layer Cookie Is Delicacy From Sweden

A famous flour company has inaugurated a European recipe exchange service. One of the first of these recipes is for a Swedish chocolate tart.

It should be a glamorous treat for holiday parties. You can make it ahead of time and let it chill until serving time.

Konungens Tarte

2¼ cups flour
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup cocoa
½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup shortening
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening until particles are the size of small peas. Add egg and milk. Blend with fork or pastry blender until well-combined.

Place dough on large ungreased baking sheet, at least 15x12 inches (or on two smaller sheets or pans).

Roll out with floured rolling pin to 15x11 rectangle. Trim edges with sharp knife or pastry wheel. Cut across dough in two places forming three 11x5-inch rectangles.

Bake at 375 degrees 12 to 15 minutes. Avoid overbaking. Do not remove from baking sheet until cold. Place on large sheet of waxed paper or aluminum foil and spread filling between layers but not quite to edge. Frost top.

If desired, decorate with toasted slivered almonds. Chill until frosting has set. Wrap in waxed paper and chill overnight. Cut into six or eight rectangular pieces to serve.

Filling (Vanilla or Chocolate)

Beat one egg until light and fluffy. Gradually add one-fourth cup sugar, beating constantly until thick and light. Blend in one-fourth cup sifted flour. Gradually add one cup milk which has been scalded in top of a double boiler.

Return mixture to double boiler; cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla; cool. Beat one-half cup whipping cream until thick and fold into filling.

For chocolate filling, substitute the following chocolate whipped cream for the plain whipped cream. Combine one-half cup whipping cream, 3 tablespoons cocoa and 3 tablespoons sugar. Chill for 30 minutes, then beat until thick.

Chocolate Icing

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan. Remove from heat; blend in 2 tablespoons cocoa. Add one-half cup sifted confectioners' sugar, one egg yolk and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla. Beat until smooth.

Jiggs Dinner With Rolls

A good old "down east" supper of corned beef and cabbage calls for hot rolls — especially Chili Rolls. To make eight of these, start with brown 'n' serve dinner rolls, making a lengthwise cut in the top of each. Spread butter generously in each cut and fill with 1½ teaspoons of chili mixture—a combination of a quarter-cup chili sauce with 2 teaspoons horseradish. Place the Chili Rolls in a greased shallow pan and bake in a (400) oven for twelve minutes. Serve immediately.

Fruit-Nut Loaf Good for Giving

Quick breads are always a joy for the homemaker. They are easy to make, keep well and delight everyone. Try this recipe for a basic loaf, using the fruit of your choice. Make some up now for Christmas presents.

Basic Fruit-Nut Loaf

1 6-ounce can concentrated frozen orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
6 cups mixed diced fruit (dates, dried apricots, prunes, cherries, currants, raisins are all excellent)
2 cups broken nutmeats
1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
4 eggs
4 cups sifted white flour
2 cups whole-wheat flour
3 teaspoons baking soda

Combine 2 cups water and the orange and lemon juice, bring to a boil, and pour the mixture over the fruit and nuts. Cream the shortening and add the sugar to it gradually.

When the sugar mixture is light and creamy, add the eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine the flour and baking soda. Add gradually to the sugar mixture, alternately with the fruit mixture.

Stir just enough to mix the ingredients thoroughly — do not beat. Pour into three large, well-greased bread pans and bake for 50 to 60 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

This bread keeps, if wrapped in cellophane or heavy waxed paper, for five days to one week; it will keep for 10 days in the refrigerator, or for months in a freezer.

Spicy Nut Bar Will Add to Reputation

Here's a spicy nut bar that will add to your reputation as a cookie baker.

Filbert Cinnamon Bars

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, separated
2 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup coarsely ground filberts

Cream shortening and sugar together; add egg yolk, flour, cinnamon and salt; mix well. Press firmly into greased 13x9 inch pan. Sprinkle with nuts, brush with beaten egg white. Bake in slow oven, at 300 degrees about 70 minutes. Cut in bars while hot.

NORWEGIAN JULEKAKE—This is a traditional fruit bread made by Americans of Norwegian descent at Christmas time. Filled with candied fruit, it will keep moist for a full week. Try some for special breakfasts soon.

Make Norse Fruit Bread for Yule Holiday Treat

"Gladelig Jul" (Merry Christmas) is what Americans of Norwegian descent say on Christmas Day. The holidays are not complete without a least one batch of rich fruit bread called Julekake.

Norwegian Julekake

1 cup scalded milk
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon powdered cardamom
2 packages or 2 cakes yeast
¾ cup uncooked rolled oats
2 tablespoons shortening, softened
1 egg
2¾ to 3 cups sifted flour
1 cup chopped citron
½ cup chopped candied cherries
½ cup raisins

Cool milk to lukewarm. Mix together milk, sugar, salt and cardamom in large bowl; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into liquid and let stand until softened. Add rolled oats and let stand about 5 minutes. Stir in shortening and egg. Add about half the flour and all the fruit and mix well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening; cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down; turn over and let rise again until double. Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board and let rest 10 minutes. Form into a ball and place in a greased 9-inch round pan. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Brush top with slightly beaten egg. Bake in a moderate oven at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. Remove from pan at once.

Ginger Flavored Shortbread Cookies

If you like a shortbread cookie, try this one that has ginger flavor. It's good.

Ginger Shortbread

1½ cups flour
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup softened butter or margarine
1 tablespoon cream

Sift dry ingredients together. Blend butter or margarine into flour mixture. Add cream, a few drops at a time. Press dough into a ball. Divide into two parts and form each into a flat round cake the size of a saucer. Prick with a fork and flute the edges. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut into wedges for serving.

Flat Dough for Gifts

From earliest times, even in Roman days, it was common to bake the Yule Dough. It was generally a flat cake in the shape of a baby, which bakers presented to their customers in the same manner that chandlers presented Christmas candles. This occurred in England.

Salad Is Tangy With Gingerale

There seems to be no end to the variety that can be achieved with cranberries. This salad, using gingerale as part of the gelatin base, is a tangy main dish accompaniment.

Jellied Cranberry Pear Salad

2 cups cranberries
1 large, firm pear
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
Grated rind one orange
½ cup chopped celery
1 cup gingerale

Wash and sort cranberries; pare and core pear. Put fruit through food chopper. Mix with sugar and let stand 30 minutes.

Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes. Dissolve over hot water. Add to first mixture with remaining ingredients.

Mix well and pour into greased 1-quart ring mold or eight individual molds. Chill until firm. Serve with cream cheese balls topped with walnut halves.

Hot Rolls Perk Up Meal

Hot rolls perk up the most simple meal. Mix up a recipe of refrigerator dough and bake hot rolls whenever you choose. It is a pleasant surprise to the family when hot rolls are brought forth on a busy shopping day.

The dough keeps well two or three days. Be prepared for the hot rolls to disappear quickly when served with lots of butter or margarine and jam.

Serve Season Guests Cookies, Hot Chocolate

When carolers come around, invite them in to warm and have "a bit of something sweet." Warm cookies and mugs of hot chocolate seem to be tops with all ages. Keep and bake on just such occasions. A versatile cookie dough can make severl kinds of cookies.

For instance, mix candied fruit and coconut in one portion of the dough. In another bit of dough, roll in chocolate shot, slice thin and bake. Balls of dough rolled in finel chopped nuts is another variation. Whatever the kind of cookie, they all seem to disappear quickkly at this time of year.

Orange Shells Heaped With Yam Mixture

Try this Lousiana yam recipe for a novel Sunday dinner for four. Cut two medium-sized oranges in half. Scoop out the pulp and chop.

Combine two large yams which have been cooked, peeled and mashed with orange pulp, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, one-half teaspoon salt and a dash of nutmeg.

Pile yam mixture into orange shells. Place oranges on broiler rack with one 1½-pound ham slice.

Combine 3 tablespoons brown sugar with 1 tablespoon orange juice and spread evenly over ham.

Easy Beef Pie Makes Hearty Buffet Lunch

Next time you're buffet entertaining, serve a hearty beef pie. After the stew has slowly simmered until the meat is tender, pour it into an attractive oven dish or casserole — one that may be served at the table.

Top the beef stew with biscuits, then bake in a hot oven until the biscuits are done—12 to 15 minutes.

Accompany the beef pie with more biscuits, with a tossed garden salad, apple pie with wedges of cheese and hot coffee.

Individual Fruit Cakes Make Fine Presents

Fruitcakes are a gift tradition among many families. Rather than bake large ones to be cut later; for packaging, try baking small cakes in individual coffee tins.

The tins can be wrapped in aluminum foil an dtied with bright ribbons.

Citrus Salads and Meat

Serve citrus salads often with meat, poultry or fish courses during the winter. An orange and onion ring salad is delicious with roast duck; grapefruit and red apple make a refreshing accompaniment to roast pork.

A little grated lemon rind is a delightful addition to hard sauce when it is to be passed with plum pudding.

Spiced Meat Balls

Combine ½ pound ground round steak, 2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, ½ teaspoon onion salt, ½ teaspoon powdered dry mustard, ⅛ teaspoon curry powder, and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Shape into 1-inch balls and broil until brown.

Insert toothpick into each and arrange on serving plate. These may be served with a spicy cocktail sauce for dipping, or as is. Yield, 20 to 24.

Under-Baking May Be Reason for Thin Cakes

Housewife complaint; My cakes look good before coming out of the oven. When they are cool and it is time to frost them, they look like two thin plates. What can be done to avoid thin layers?

Chances are the cakes are removed from the oven before they are thoroughly baked.

Perhaps the oven thermostat needs to be checked to see if the oven is baking at the temperature called for in the recipe.

Do not remove the cake from the oven until the center of each layer springs back when lightly touched with a finger. Cakes containing shortening also pull away from the edge of the baking pan when they are done.

Too much baking powder will also cause cakes to fall. Be sure the recipe used is a tested one.

Apple skins will not wrinkle in the oven if the apple is slit with a knife in three or four places.

Creamy Fondant Is Used to Create Other Treats

Silky-smooth fondant is an invaluable ally in creating attractive and delicious confections. In this recipe, undiluted evaporated milk is used in place of the usual water as the liquid for the fondant, giving it a rich flavor as well as creamy smoothness.

Cream Fondant

2 cups granulated sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 cup evaporated milk

Mix ingredients thoroughly in heavy saucepan. Bring slowly to a boil, stirring constantly. Then cook over medium heat to soft ball stage (238), stirring all the while. Cool.

Beat until creamy. Then knead until smooth and plastic. Set in refrigerator in covered dish overnight to ripen. Makes 1 pound.

Vanilla cream fondant: After fondant is kneaded smooth and plastic, add one-half teaspoon vanilla extract and knead just to distribute flavoring. Let ripen.

Maple cream fondant: After fondant is kneaded smooth and plastic, add one-half teaspoon imitation maple extract and knead just to distribute flavoring. Let ripen.

Fondant-stuffed fruit and nuts: To prepare prunes for tsuffing, pour boiling water over prunes to cover and let stand to plump and ssoften. Pat prunes dry with a paper towel. Cut prunes down one side and remove pits.

Let fondant soften at room temperature. Knead slightly and cut off pieces. Shape and fill into pitted prunes.

For dates, remove pits and fill with fondant. Put halves of pecans or English walnuts together sandwich-style with fondant filling. Roll small balls of fondant in chopped filberts. Other chopped nuts may be used.

If salad greens must stand before serving, sprinkle them with a littlelemon juice. Keeps them fresh. Add dressing just before serving.

NECTAR MINCE PIE—Here is a different mince pie, one with a lattice top crust. The crust itself is unusual, for it is flavored with orange juice. Try this new combination for your holiday guests. They're sure to cheer it.

Orange Pastry Latticed on Top

With ready-to-mix mincemeat available, making a mince pie is no great chore. One can even make an extra special crust, such as orange pastry.

Nectar Mince Pie

¼ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup New Orleans molasses
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg, unbeaten
1 cup prepared mincemeat
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup chopped nuts
Juice of 1 orange (½ cup)
1 recipe orange pastry

Cream together butter, sugar and flour. Blend in molasses and salt. Add egg, beating thoroughly with fork. Add mincemeat, chopped nuts and orange juice. Prepare pastry and roll out one round of dough. Fit into 9-inch pie pan, trim.

Roll out remaining dough and cut into strips three-quarters-inch wide. Pour filling in pastry shell. Arrange pastry strips in lattice on top. Finish off edge with fluting or fork markings. Bake at 400 (hot oven) 30 to 40 minutes. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Orange Pastry

2 cups sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
⅔ cup shortening
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 tablespoons orange juice

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening. Mix together vinegar and orange juice and add to dry ingredients. Mix lightly with blending fork. Chill at least one hour.

Roll out dough ⅛-inch thick and use as directed above. Makes enough pastry for one 9-inch lattice-top pie.

Filberts, Hazelnuts Add Good Flavor

Filberts or hazelnuts add such a good flavor to food that they should be used more often. This is an easy refrigerator cookie recipe calling for filberts.

Hazelnut Slices

1½ cups flour
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon ginger
½ cup butter or margarine
1 egg white
⅔ cup filberts

Cut butter or margarine into dry ingredients. Add egg white and work to a smooth dough. Add nuts. Shape into roll and wrap in waxed paper. Chill 2 hours. Slice ¼-inch thick. Bake at 350 degrees 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 40 cookies.

Use Chocolate, Apricots to Make Cupcakes Tasty

Making cupcakes? Then surprise your family with one of these taste treats. Tuck a couple of drained stewed apricot halves in the batter in each cup before baking.

Or sprinkle the cupcake batter with small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate before baking. Use either of these suggestions with white or chocolate cake batter.

Any-Time Cereal

Cereal which was once relegated to the breakfast bowl now appears in every meal of the day. And between-meals, too. For a bowl of your favorite cereal with milk and fruit is the perfect before-bed-time snack. Easy on the digestion, but satisfying and filling.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission Accepts Help of Bar in Replacing Judge

Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night agreed to consider any recommendation from the Oakland County Bar Assn. or other groups toward selecting a man to fill the vacant judgeship in Municipal Court.

The association offered to recommend persons or to advise commissioners as to abilities of men under consideration.

Commissioners noted that many suggestions had already been submitted. They unanimously approved a resolution to the widow of the late Municipal Judge Charles P. Webster, paying tribute to his memory.

Commissioner J. H. Patrick Glynn said, "Judge Webster carried the Municipal Court duties alone for about three years while Judge Finnegan was gone during the war.

"There are already several highly qualified applicants, and I don't think we should endorse any one of them by appointing him.

"Judge Finnegan could carry on until the April elections. Interested men can circulate nominating petitions in February and proceed to campaign for the position, thereby guaranteeing an equal opportunity to all applicants."

In other business, the city clerk and the city manager were ordered to execute a contract with the Royal Development Co., Detroit, for sale of lots 39, 40, and 42 through 63 inclusive of Robert Herndon Pontiac Apartment Subdivision. The firm will pay $15,600 for the lots.

City Attorney William A. Ewart reported that an Oakland County Circuit Court decision has ruled the city improperly assessed property owner Athanas Maxim for pavement construction on Highwood boulevard.

The commission confirmed several special assessment rolls including:

Sidewalk on the east side of Franklin south city limits to California avenue.
Sidewalk on the east side of Taylor from the end of existing sidewalk to the alley.
Sidewalk on the east side of Front from Orchard Lake to the alley.
Sidewalk on the north side of Clinton from Wayne to Williams.
Combined sewer on both sides of Walton from New York to Stanley. On Stanley from Walton to Brooklyn, and on Chicago from Stanley to Carlisle.

The commission referred to the city attorney notice of a $10,000 claim against the city from Ralph Dailey of 1581 Sterling St., for personal injuries.

In other action the commission:

Transferred a SDM license to sell beer and wine for consumption off the premises to Nema Law, from Arthur J. Law.
Adjourned for two weeks action on a report from the city manager and city engineer recommending approval of the replat of lots 11 and 12 of assessor's plat 17.
Deferred action on a report from the City Plan Commission recommending the west half of lot 21, all of lot 22 and part of lots 23 and 25 of assessor's plat 73 be rezoned to C-1 as requested by the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, Inc.
Deferred action on a report from the Plan Commission recommending vacating of an alley running east and west along the southerly line of lots 1, 2, and 3 of assessor's plat 36.
Received a special assessment roll for a water main in Sheffield from Baldwin to University and set a public hearing for Dec. 15.

Warns Against Giving Liquor to Policemen

Viet Nam Success Called 'Hopeful'

SEATTLE (AP)—William J. Donovan, United States ambassador to Thailand and wartime chief of the Office of Strategic Services stopped shortly in Seattle last night on a trip to Washington for "consultation at the State Department."

The 70-year-old diplomat expressed surprise when met by reporters, asking what "all the fuss" was about and generally responding to question with an "I don't know anything."

He said, however, that recent Viet Nam successes against Communist forces in Indochina were a hopeful sign but it is too early to "make any general appraisal."

Asked for comment on the fact the names of several old OSS employes have been named recently as linked with Soviet espionage in the United States, Donovan sighed and said:

"There are casualties in everything."

Airpower Stressed by NATO Planners

PARIS (AP)—Allied military experts, meeting here in preparation for the 12th conference of nato ministers next Monday, reportedly are stressing air power in their goals for the Atlantic Alliance's 1954 buildup in Europe.

Informed sources said the top officers will ask for 1,200 more planes during the year. Apparently they think NATO's most dangerous weakness is shortage of aircraft.

The increase would raise NATO air strength in Europe to 5,600 planes. Russia is estimated to have 20,000.

A 10 per cent boost—from 98 to 108 divisions—will be asked for NATO ground forces, the source said. Most of the increase would be reserve troops.

Peculiar Animal-Plant 'Thing' Being Observed

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—University of Texas scientists are studying a strange creature which is mostly animal but also part plant.

Dr. Jack Myers, zoology professor, described the animal-plant as a small, green, single-cell "thing" of the most primitive type.

It swims in water and can swallow solid food. However scientists say its system contains chlorophyll and between meals it sustains itself by photosynthesis, the process whereby most plants utilize sunlight for growth.

The study is being made in an effort to learn more about the basic processes which allow plants and animals to live.

Thief Hard of Hearing

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UP)—Police said they caught Alfred G. Mills, 26, as he was looting the office of a bottling company while the burglar alarm was blaring its warning. Asked why he remained in the building after he tripped the alarm, Mills answered, "I'm hard of hearing."

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: When Willie the pup and the Dreamlins, Mr. Not Much and Mr. Very Little, get to Santa Land, they almost get in trouble when Willie bites Patrick Tweedleknees by mistake. But Santa forgives them. The Dreamlins tell Santa they need his help to find their queen.

Chapter Seven

THE REINDEER

Mr. Not Much reminded Santa that if the Dreamlin Queen was not rescued the Dreamlins would perish. Who then, he asked, would protect the children of the world from the wicked Gremlins.

"True, true," said Santa. He was very upset. He walked back and forth in front of his fireplace thinking. Willie followed at his heels.

"Stay in Santa Land awhile," said Santa at last. "I will think of something. Give me time."

Patrick Tweedleknees exploded. "If that dog stays in Santa Land I am leaving!"

"Willie is a good pup," smiled Santa. "He will be our watch dog."

A watch dog in Santa Land! Willie nearly burst with pride. He licked Santa's fingers. He gladly would have licked Patrick Tweedleknees, too, but the dwarf was already stomping out of the house in a rage.

"He will get over it," said Santa. "He always does."

Willie thought, "I will stay here the rest of my life and be Santa's watch dog. But I wish someone would think of eating for I am truly starved!"

He was too polite to say anything about it. "I won't be a bother," he told himself. He crept under Santa's chair and contented himself with chewing a hole out of the bottom.

Mr. Not-Much and Mr. Very Little curled up in an empty ash tray and went to sleep. Santa sat in his chair and tried to think of a way to save the Dreamlin queen.

By and by, Willie thought, "Perhaps I should look around in the kitchen. After all, I am a watch dog and there may be something in the kitchen that needs watching."

When he got to the kitchen he smelled a lovely smell. He climbed a chair and put his front paws on the kitchen table. There, in front of him, was a plate of chocolate drop cookies and a glass of milk. Mrs. Claus had left them for Santa to have before he went to bed.

"If I tried just one, no one would miss it," said Willie to himself.

So he tried one. And then he tried two. Then three. Before he knew it the plate was empty! He sniffed underneath for crumbs and his eager nose pushed the plate right off the table.

The crash brought Santa running to the kitchen.

Willie looked at Santa and waited to be scolded, to be run out of Santa Land, even. But Santa said, "Don't forget the milk, Willie." And he poured his own glass of milk into a saucer and put it on the floor for Willie.

When Willie had finished the milk he thought, "I am the happiest dog in the whole world." Then he went into Santa's bedroom, climbed on Santa's bed and stretched himself out on Santa's clean white pillow. Instantly he was asleep.

Willie climbed in Santa's bed and stretched out.

The next day Willie explored Santa Land. He romped through the toy shops. He licked the boots of the Santa Land workers. He frisked joyfully after the fairy workers who flitted around the doll tables. He snatched up stockings waiting to be filled and chewed great holes in their toes. Meanwhile Patrick Tweedleknees grew black in the face and his chest swelled with rage. So Santa said, "Willie, go down to the stables. You haven't seen the reindeer yet."

Willie gladly obeyed. But when he reached the stables he found they were empty. He went around to the far side of the stables and there he saw a wondrous thing.

Santa's eight reindeer were practicing their flying. They swooped high into the sky and drifted gently down. Again and again they circled above the astonished pup.

Willie sat back and watched. Never had he dreamed such a thing was possible.

Suddenly he leaped up in excitement. "I, too, shall fly!" he thought. "I shall be a flying pup!"

Modern Home Gadgets Require More Water

HARTFORDD, Conn. (AP) — It isn't always drought that depletes a municipality's water supply, Vice President Arthur L. Corbin Jr. of the New Haven Water Company told the Connecticut public utilities commission as he presented a rate increase petition.

People use more water than they used to, he said, because they are buying things like automatic washing machines, garbage disposal units, dishwashers and air conditioning units.

Commutes by Plane

HOLY SPRINGS, Miss. (UP)—Howard R. Cole, an electrician employed at Memphis, Tenn., has solved the commuting problem. He takes off in a pasture back of his home here in a 1940 model Piper Cub and flies the 45 miles to work in 15 or 20 minutes, landing at the air force depot where he works.

BEST GIRL, MOM—She'll love this fresh as April violets package of soap, cologne and dusting powder.

Snake Gets Schoolin'

WINSTED, Conn. (UP) — A small boy thanked police for tending his pet snake so he could go to church and then explained he wouldn't need their services the following day because "I'm taking it to school."

Water Gun Stands Guard Above Town

LUBEC, Maine (UP) — "No," said the resident to the tourist, "that's not an antiaircraft gun atop the canning factory. That's Bob Peacock's water gun."

Robert L. Peacock, 27, an executive in the R. J. Peacock Canning Co., owned by his family, was worried at the lack of fire protection in this coastal town.

As head of the volunteer fire department he decided to mount a powerful water gun in the heart of the downtown section. The gun can turn a stream of water on half the buildings on the mair street.

Jewish Anniversary

NEW YORK (AP) — The 300th anniversary of settlement by Jews in the United States is 1954. The first Jewish settler landed in 1654; today five million Jews in the United States constitute the greatest Jewish community in history.

SWEETHEART'S DELIGHT — Jeweled lipstick and compact available in set or singly for winter glitter.

Stamp to Honor French

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP) — The Newport Publicity Commission has asked the Postmaster General to issue a stamp commemorating the arrival of French troops at Newport. The French dropped by July 19, 1780 to take part in the American Revolution.

Fisherman Catches the Wrong Culprits

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (UP)—A fisherman along the St. Francis River caught the culprits who were meddling with his trap.

He found three men chopping up his wooden fish trap.

"Hey — that's my trap you're breaking up," the man cried.

That's all the men wanted to know. The three were state conservation agents. It cast the fisherman $19.50 plus costs for fishing by improper methods.

Savings Double Debts

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota is in debt to the tune of about $112 million but has a savings account with a healthy balance of more than $232 million. Constitutional restrictions require that the principal of the account — known as state trust funds — be kept intact and not used for general operating expenses.

A TRAVEL KIT—This one is for men and contains shave lotion, stick deodorant and brushless shave cream at $2.50.

Poor Excuse for Bite

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — George Umberger, superintendent of the Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito Abatement District, says only the female mosquito bites, and she does it only to get the necessary protein to fertilize her eggs.

Two-Year-Old Hoppy Top Recording Star

DETROIT (INS) — One of the nation's most versatile recording stars is a tiny two-year-old who makes his home perch in Detroit.

Hoppy Wheaton knows more than a 10 phrases and short sentences of baby parakeets since cutting a disk called, "This is for the Birds," in his own version of how a parakeet should best mimic the human voice.

Hoppy was retained by a bird feed supply company in Detroit to make the speech-training record.

Hal Boyle Says:

Erratic Grownups Show Less Sense Than Babies

NEW YORK (AP)—Some people have been spreading ugly rumors about babies.

They say babies are little animals that make you get up at 2 a.m., to feed them. They say babies often get cross for no reason and cry merely for exercise. They say babies get spoiled quicker than any other known protein.

It is a good thing babies don't know the adult half-truths and plain perjuries that are told about them, or they might all get colic.

* * *

Some four months ago a young lady named Tracy Ann, who will be half a year old on Christmas Eve, came into our home and adopted my wife and me after a brief trial. The first thing I learned about her was that all I had ever heard before about babies was absolutely wrong.

* * *

A grownup will weep, rail at the world, indulge in excesses, or feel sorry for himself for almost any reason, and often for no real reason at all.

But a baby is born temperate and reasonable, I have a theory that no baby makes a fool of itself until some grownup sets it a bad example.

* * *

Tracy Ann, for example, has already worked out a simple four-rule formula of life that has kept her healthy and happy, and might profitably be followed by many an adult. These are her rules for successful living:

1. Eat three balanced meals a day with no snacks in between, and be sure to get rid of burps promptly.
2. Sleep when you're sleepy.
3. Keep your diaper dry, or arrange to have it changed promptly if it isn't.
4. Avoid loud noises. They are hard on the nervous system.

* * *

In the four months since Tracy Ann adopted us there has been no such thing as a 2 a.m. feeding. She has cried a total of exactly four times—once when a burp got lost in her and we had a hard time getting it out, once when we kept her up too late, once when we failed to recognize her diaper emergency alarm signal, and once when a playful visitor bellowed imitation baby talk in her startled face.

The important thing was she never shed a tear except when one of the rules that keep her happy was broken. And she never breaks the rules herself.

"Wait until she gets bored and you have to entertain her," friends say. But so far Tracy Ann doesn't need to be entertained, and I suspect few happy babies do. They entertain you.

Tracy Ann recently discovered her toes, a meeting that can be compared historically only with that between Stanley and Dr. Livingston.

That is the way with babies. They have an insatiable curiosity and self-confidence. They are sure they could digest the universe itself—if they could just get it in their mouth.

I suppose that is why some adults go around spreading those ugly rumors about babies. They are just downright envious of the infant wonder and eagerness to know everything about the world that they themselves have somehow lost somewhere back along the trail of time—a rainbow beauty they are now blind to, a vision of the heart they yearn to find again if they but knew how.

Broomfield to Meet With Water Board

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) will meet tomorrow afternoon in Detroit with a 13-man Water Resources Commission advisory board to discuss a proposed survey of southeastern Michigan's water supply problem.

Broomfield said he doesn't agree with the board's estimate that it would take $775,000 and five years to complete such a survey.

"If we confine ourselves strictly to the water problem and forget the board's recommendation to include drainage and sewer investigation, we can complete the survey in two years at a cost of about $155,000."

Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties would be included in the survey.

Rumors of Union Row Alert Police Agencies

Fifteen Oakland County sheriff's deputies and Waterford Township Police converged on a new manufacturing plant in Waterford Township this morning after they were alerted by rumors of possible union trouble today, according to Sheriff Clare Hubbell.

Picketing of a new Les Hutchinson Trailer Sales plant on Williams Lake Road, near US 10, was peacefully being carried on by a lone picket, Hubbell said. Les Hutchinson, plant owner, said pickets from Detroit electrical unions yesterday tried to keep trucks from entering the plant.

Australian Airfield Has Camel Trouble

ADELAIDE, Australia (UP) — Camels are too much of a nuisance around the airfield at Maree in far northern South Australia.

The Department of Civil Aviation decided to build a fence to keep out the roaming camels—descendants of those imported in Australia's pioneering days in the late 1880s to provide the first mode of transport in the "outback" regions.

The Maree camel fence, 6 feet high, will be 16,740 feet long—a lot of fence, considering only small commercial planes and the "flying doctor service" use the airfield.

Worker Pulls Surprise —He Wants Pay Cut

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (UP) — City employe Tommy Cord suprised officials by asking that his salary be reduced from $162.50 to $97.50 a month.

Cord, custodian of city hall and police headquarters here, also asked that his working hours be reduced. He explained he holds several other jobs and needs extra time to devote to them.

The City Commission speedily granted his request.

7 Multiple Births

COTTAGE HILLS, Ill. (AP) — A recent reunion of the Tiek family brought a large representation in duplicate and triplicate. The family has six sets of twins and one set of triplets.

German Teachers Plan Study in Southwest

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (UP)—Nineteen elementary school teachers from Germany will undergo a semester of training at Southwest Texas State Teachers College under sponsorship of the U. S. Department of State.

They are among more than 500 teachers who will study in the United States under the program. Southwest Texas State is one of 15 colleges to which the foreign teachers will be assigned, and is the only school in the Southwest designated for the program.

The group will be known as special graduate observers, and will be awarded certificates from the U. S. Department of Education upon completion of the course.

Scissors Painting Art Reportedly Still Going Strong

CHICAGO (UP)—If you tell your friends you're a decoupier, they probably will stare in amazement. It may help when you explain that you're a "scissors painter."

Two hundred years ago the French called the art "decoupage." With one of the fanciest of craft names, it became one of the most intricate of the arts. But today it is simplified. It is the cutting and pasting of pictures.

The only tools needed are a pair of sharp scissors. (such as embroidery or manicure size), a sharp razor blade, rubber cement and a stack of magazines filled with advertisements printed on slick paper.

Cut out your favorite designs, and arrange them on whatever you want to decorate. Mark the outlines with soft chalk. The marks will wipe off easily after you have finished pasting.

Most decoupiers prefer using rubber cement to attach the pictures because any excess is easily removed with a cloth.

To make the results last longer, spray on plastic or clear lacquer.

The list of things you can decorate is endless. Beginners often start with a metal tray. Another easy item is a jewelry box: One decoupier painted a metal box white and then pasted pictures of jewels cut from colored magazine ads.

Past Illegal Activities Catch Up With Buyer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — Lester Greathouse, a small-time bogus check passer, wanted to stay clear of the law in St. Louis so he paid cash for an automobile. But he ended up in jail anyway.

Greathouse told officers he cashed about 230 bad checks in various cities in the country recently but had not passed any here because he wanted this city to be one where he was not wanted.

He was nabbed, however, after he made a down-payment in cash for a car under the name of "James Carson." It seems that authorities were on the lookout for another bad-check passer named James Carson.

Vikings Provide Chiefs With First SVC Test

Preps Open Title Contests

By JACK SAYLOR

Oakland County's prep basketball teams move into league competition Friday night after most have had a game or two "warm-up" prior to tackling conference schedules.

A half-dozen games feature the 29-game schedule. Van Dyke, pre-season favorite in the Inter-Lakes, goes to Waterford, while Southfield and Farmington, both expected to be contenders, tangle at Farmington.

Top game in the Tri-County sends Romeo to Rochester. Romeo lost its opener to Southfield, but bounced back to beat Utica by six points. Gene Konley's Falcons have won two in a row, including a 16-point win over Utica.

Romeo's major problem will be to stop rangy Arlan Stone, who has tallied 40 points in Rochester's first two starts.

Keego Harbor, after warming up with a 62-50 victory over Madison, opens the Wayne-Oakland schedule by hosting Clarenceville. Milford journeys to Holly in another W-O contest.

New coach Jack Menzie has whipped the Redskins into a definite title threat, if their first games are any indication. Milford downed Waterford, 66-58, and Fenton, 51-35.

Avondale entertains Roseville in the first outing of the season for both teams. Roseville is expected to unveil another powerhouse, but Bob Eldridge's Yellow Jackets should provide a good test.

Most action in the Eastern Michigan League is reserved for after the holiday layoff, but Hazel Park is at Ferndale Friday in the opener.

Pontiac High School begins its tough Saginaw Valley League schedule, meeting Flint Northern in the Viking's new Wildanger Fieldhouse, and St. Fredericks plays at St. Benedict.

Top non-league game sends Birmingham to nearby Troy.

Other contests involving county schools send Berkley to Walled Lake, Oxford to Lake Orion, Madison to Fitzgerald, Millington to Ortonville, Cranbrook to Flint Tech, Grosse Pointe to Royal Oak and Redford St. Mary to Shrine.

The schedule:

Pontiac at Flint Northern; Van Dyke at Waterford; Berkley at Walled Lake; Southfield at Farmington; Romeo at Rochester; Flushing at Lapeer; Oxford at Lake Orion; Clarenceville at Keego Harbor; Milford at Holly; Brighton at Northville; Roseville at Avondale; Birmingham at Troy; Madison at Fitzgerald; Hazel Park at Ferndale; Midland at Port Huron; Mt. Clemens at Hamtramck; Millington at Ortonville; Imlay City at North Branch; St. Clement at Warren; Fraser at Eastland; South Lake at Harper-Woods; Memphis at Almont; Armada at Dryden; New Haven at Capac; Cranbrook at Flint Tech; St. Frederick at St. Benedict; Grosse Pointe at Royal Oak; Redford St. Mary at Shrine; OL St. Mary at St. Rita.

GAME STOPPER—Puck bounces off the chin of New York Ranger goalie Johnny Bower in the 3rd period of Wednesday night's game against the Detroit Red Wings in Madison Square Garden. Ranger forward Ed Kullman (19) and Red Wing forward Ted Lindsay (7) watch the disc's flight. Shot was made by Gordie Howe some distance from the net. Teams played a 3-3 tie.

Wilson's Last Minute Tally Ties Rangers

Detroit Short Handed as Johnny Saves Red Wings in NY

NEW YORK (UP)—The Detroit Red Wings inched to within two points of the front-running Montreal Canadiens Wednesday night by gaining a 3-3 tie with the New York Rangers.

Rangers appeared well on their way to notching their 1st victory of the season over Detroit until Johnny Wilson evened things up with only a half-minute to go.

The 29-year-old forward, who had scored only 10 goals this season, broke in one goalie Johnny Bower at 19:30 of the final period. The goal was especially frustrating for the New Yorkers since it came while the Red Wings were a man short with Gordie Howe in the penalty box.

It was the 6th tie of the season against 114 wins and six losses for the Red Wings, giving them 34 points in the National Hockey League standings. The Canadiens, who bowed to Toronto 3-0 Wednesday, have 17 triumphs against 10 losses and two ties, good for 36 points.

A Madison Square Garden crowd of 7,852 watched a dull and listless 1st period. However, action picked up in the middle frame when both teams erupted for two goals.

Howe broke a Detroit scoring famine of 167 minutes and one second when he scored his 12th goal of the season to put the Wings ahead at 3.01. Detroit led 2-0 when Tony Leswick took a pass from Bob Goldham and beat Bower at 8:44.

Max Bentley narrowed the gap when he skated the length of the rink and beat Terry Sawchuk at 12:51. New York tied it up at 18:40 on Hy Buller's 40-footer.

Bentley started a power play late in the 3rd period and Camille Henry roared in and slipped in the rebound.

On seconds after Howe went to the penalty box, Wilson beat Bower to nullify Henry's goal.

Tall, Speedy, Veteran Five Faces PHS in Friday Tilt

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's basketball team, fresh from a 50-35 opening triumph over Royal Oak, gets its 1st big test of the season Friday night at Flint.

Chiefs open the 1953-54 Saginaw Valley Conference campaign against defending co-champion Flint Northern in the Vikings' recently-completed Wildanger Fieldhouse.

Northern's squad, built around six lettermen from the 1952-53 squad that outscored Pontiac 127-60 in two meetings, again has the height and speed that brought it a share of the SVC crown last season.

Vikings showed they could move last week, when they got off 82 shots against Port Huron. They connected on only 28 per cent of their shots, but that was good enough to dump the Big Reds, 60-40.

Clarence Elliott, a 6-foot 5-inch sophomore center, will join veterans Art Johnson and Jim Johnston at forwards and Frank Manley and Charles Teaberry at guards to comprise the starting lineup.

Bob Failing, another letterman, has been nursing a leg injury from football and saw only limited action last week. If he is ready for full-time play, he'll start at guard with Teaberry replacing Johnston in the front line.

Only change in Coach Art Van Ryzin's PHS lineup will move senior Dick Ayling to a starting forward berth in the place of junior Marvin Caswell. Ayling has been slowed by an elbow injury, but came off the bench to score eight points in the opener.

Remainder of the starting five will have juniors Walt Poe and Bob Johnston at guards, senior Leroy Moore at center and sophomore John James at the other forward.

A pep rally, featuring the annual Varsity Club-faculty basketball game, will be held Friday morning at Pontiac High. Transportation will be provided for students wishing to attend Friday night's game.

BIG STRETCH—Big John James, shown above sinking a layup shot, will be at forward Friday night when Pontiac High opens its Saginaw Valley Conference season at Flint Northern. James, a 6-foot 3-inch 2nd-semester sophomore, has the rare distinction of having won three varsity letters while still a 10th-grader. He came to PHS from Washington Junior last February, won his basketball letter in the last half of the season and added major awards in track and cross country. James collected 15 points to lead the Chiefs to a 50-35 victory over Royal Oak in last week's opener.

Caroline Only 3rd Sophomore to Top Rushers

Illini Ace Accounts for 1,256 Yards; Paul Giel Sets Record

NEW YORK (AP)—J. C. Caroline of Illinois is the third sophomore in the history of modern football statistics and the first in 11 years to win the national major college rushing title.

Final official NCAA service bureau statistics released today show that Caroline rolled up 1,256 yards on 194 tries in nine games for the second largest winning margin on record.

Only other sophomores to win the rushing championship were Wake Forest's John Polanski in 1939 and Hardin-Simmons' Ruby Mobley in 1942. Nebraska's Bobby Reynolds compiled more yardage, 1,342, as a sophomore in 1950 but failed to win the title.

Caroline finished 312 yards ahead of All-America Dave (Kosse) Johnson, a senior who needed 10 games to amass 944 yards.

The Illinois sophomore averaged 139.6 yards a game, a figure that has been exceeded only six times.

Minnesota's All-America Paul Giel set a three-year record in the number of times he carried the ball. He ran 198 times this year to bring his total to 551, wiping out the record of 547 Ollie Matson set in 1949-51 at San Francisco.

* * *

About the only ball-carrying distinction that didn't go to the mid-west or southwest was in yards-per-carry, where the top man was Chet Hanulak of unbeaten Maryland. He averaged 9.78 yards (765 yards on 77 attempts).

Wilson to Report

MSC Probation, TV, Rose Bowl Plan on Agenda for Big 10 Winter Confab

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan State's probation status, a new Big Ten football television proposal, and a plan for automatic Rose Bowl selection in case of a co-championship—were the main items of business at today's Big Ten winter meeting.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson will make an oral report to the 10 faculty representatives on the Spartans' probation that has been in effect since last Feb. 22.

It originally was to run for at least one year. Even if Wilson should recommend that it be lifted—and this is only speculative—there may be no rush for the facultymen to do so.

Wilson has said that MSC has shown "very satisfactory progress" and presumably has done everything possible to try for an accounting of the Spartan Foundation, a booster-sponsored fund allegedly used for recruiting.

MSC had no control or supervision of the financial outlay.

The Big Ten TV committee hopes to secure regional control of live television and mapped a plan that is to be submitted to the faculty men after approval of all athletic directors. Eventual decision will guide the Big Ten in the NCAA convention at Cincinnati next month.

NCAA for two years has voted for restricted live television on a national basis and last January turned down the Big Ten's regional suggestion.

Athletic directors are expected to act on this recommendation adopted yesterday by football coaches: That in case of a tie for the football title, the last team to have made the Rose Bowl trip will be eliminated. If neither team has gone before, the bowl selection should be made on the flip of a coin.

There have been co-champions the last two years. Wisconsin received the conference vote over Purdue in 1952 and Michigan State was voted the entry this season over Illinois. Spartans-Illini vote was tied 5-5 for 24 hours before being broken.

Illini Quintet Wins 3rd Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois carried on the Big Ten victory routine over outside basketball opponents last night by trimming Butler 80-48 as John Kerr, 6-9 Illini center, rammed in 31 points for a school record.

Kerr's contribution gave him a 3-year total of 823 to top the all-time scoring tally of 822 set by Irv Bemoras last season before graduation.

In three successive victories so far, the Illini have averaged 83.7 points and held opponents to an average of 54.3

Illini, using a total of 14 players against Butler, hit on 31 baskets out of 75 shots, connecting on 18 out of 35 in the first half for a 45-24 lead.

Big Ten teams now have won 20 games against outside opponents and have only one loss, Northwestern's 75-66 defeat by Notre

Indiana Prep Star Receives Threat on Life

Plucky Cager to Play Anyway; School Plans Police Protection

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP)—A plucky prep basketball player, who wanted to ignore a threat on his life so he would not be removed from an important game, today polished up his long-shot artistry for the contest.

"I want to play ball," said 17-year-old David Huff.

The senior guard at Indianapolis Tech High School was threatened Tuesday by three men who warned they would "cut you up" if he made a "single point" in next Wednesday's contest.

School officials met today to map plans for police protection for the game at Butler Fieldhouse.

Tech athletic director Charles P. Dagwell said "of course, the boy was scared to death—but he sure wants to play."

"He tried to keep his father from calling the coach about the threat because he was afraid he wouldn't be allowed to play."

Army Is Named Winner of East's Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (UP)—Army, which climaxed its season by defeating Navy for the 1st time in four years, today was named winner of the August V. Lambert Memorial Trophy, which generally is considered the symbol of Eastern collegiate football supremacy.

Coach Earl (Red) Blaik's Cadet team, which won eight games while tying Tulane and losing to Northwestern, received 36 first place votes of the 40 cast by Eastern sports writers and broadcasters.

Snead Regarded as Man to Beat

Slammin' Sam Placed to Top of List for Miami's Open

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead was regarded as the man to beat as 165 golfers teed off in the $10,000 Miami Open at the Miami Country Club today.

* * *

Snead, the balding mountaineer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., has won this fixture five times and indicated he will make a strong bid in this medal play competition.

* * *

He fired a 31-34—65 over the 6,570-yard par-70 course in practice yesterday. He collected four birdies on the front side and two coming home.

Playing with Snead was Al Besselink, Grossinger, N. Y., pro, who carded 34-33—67.

Jack Burke Jr., Houston, Tex., who won last year with 273 for the 72 holes, will not be here to defend his title. He recently underwent an appendicitis operation.

* * *

Otey Crisman, Selma, Ala., led 74 players who qualified in two days of play. There were 91 exemptions, including most of the nation's leading tournament players.

Cravath Still in Poor Shape

CALEXICO, Calif. (AP)—Former football coach Jeff Cravath of University of Southern California early today underwent an emergency operation on his right lung, punctured in a traffic accident.

His physician said a tracheotomy was performed to open the bronchial tube into the lung, which had become clogged with fluid. A drainage tube was inserted.

The doctor said, "It was touch and go for awhile" and that Cravath remains in critical condition.

Cravath was rushed to Calexico Hospital after a truck collision a few miles west of here yesterday. His injuries included brain concussion and multiple rib fractures in addition to the lung puncture.

He had shown some improvement last night and, although in a semi-coma, was able to recognize his wife, Peggy, and a few friends.

Six members of the Cincinnati Redlegs, living in the city, have formed a bowling team headed by Trainer Wayne Anderson. The players are: Bobby Adams, Bud Podbielan, Frank Baldwin, Roy McMillan, Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski.

'Shoes' Drops Effort to Win 500 This Year

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Jockey Willie Shoemaker is abandoning his shot at an unbelievable 500 winners in a year — he's going to skip the last week of the Bay Meadows meeting Dec. 15 to 19.

* * *

The close-mouthed little rider hiked his world record wins for one year to 470 yesterday with Rice's Regards in the third. That victory also boosted trainer R. H. McDaniel's world record wins for one year to 208.

Shoemaker said he is "a bit fatigued" and needs rest.

Racquet Sport Almost Religion in Australia

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP)—You have to see it to understand why this country with less than 10 million rules the tennis world.

* * *

Down here at the bottom of the world the racquet sport has become almost a religion. The poor and the rich, the old and the young play it. Everybody talks it.

* * *

The doormen and waitresses here discuss the finer points of the game like a pro.

It isn't an odd sight at all to see a dignified grey-haired man in a homburg waiting for a street car with a tennis racquet tucked under one arm. Almost every schoolchild is equipped with a neat leather carrying case for racquet apparel.

The star tennis players, particularly visitors, are idolized like the Joe DiMaggios and Mickey Mantles in the United States. Schoolchildren and adults line up to get autographs.

* * *

"Gee, this makes you feel important," said Hamilton Richardson, one of the U. S. Davis Cuppers from Baton Rouge, La. "I could walk down main street at home and nobody would notice me."

* * *

Tennis players are scouted and developed just like a piece of promising baseball bric-a-brac in the United States.

But there is one sad note to it. Players like Rosewall and Hoad, each now 19, become tennis robots. Their every move is governed by the Australian tennis bodies and sporting goods firms.

UCLA Practices Opening Today

Interest Is Centered on the Injured Tackle and Fullback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA Bruins get down to work today as the Pacific Coast Conference representative to play Michigan State of the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Interest centered on two players, tackle Chuck Doud and fullback Bob Davenport. Both have knee troubles from the University of Southern California game.

The pair, key hopes in the Bruin program, probably will be back in shape by game time but they may have to take easy workouts for awhile, says trainer Ducky Drake.

Each rival team has 16 working days to train. Coach Red Sanders said a few days will be set aside for visiting writers to watch proceedings.

On other days, all visitors will be barred. Smiling, Sanders commented: "We'll be working on secret plays."

Jean Marois, substitute goalie for Providence in the American Hockey League, is one of the heirs to a thriving shoe business in Quebec.

Robert L. Chambers has been trainer of Duke University athletic teams since 1933. He is also the head track coach.

"Look at the coach! I'm always amused by how excited they get at basketball games!"

Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators has batted over .300 in the major leagues only twice. Both times, however, he won the American League batting title. In 1946 he hit .353 and in 1953 he batted .337.

Boudreau Happy Over Boston Red Sox Prospects for Coming Season; Piersall Draws Rave Notices

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YOK—Who should be sitting in Toots Shor's but Tom Yawkey, Lou Boudreau and Joe Cronin, the Red Sox triumvirate. Looking into next year, just a step or two ahead, they were all feeling quite cheerful.

* * *

Reason was that many of their youthful prospects had shown enough in the 1953 campaign to warrant high hopes for the year ahead.

* * *

"We are not quite ready yet to talk about winning any pennant," Lou Boudreau said. "We might, of course If we dig up one or two extra pitchers, we might surprise somebody. Only three teams beat us out last season.

"We've got the kind of a ball club many fans like to see play—for they can see the kids like to play. Take our man Jim Piersall. There's a fellow who will make plays that are more thrilling than home runs.

"He can cover a whole ball park and now and then go up in the stands to kill off home runs.

"I've seen some great defensive outfielders—Joe and Dom DiMaggio, Terry Moore, Stan Musial, a flock of them you could call great. But I honestly don't believe any of them could quite match this fellow in making impossible plays.

* * *

In the first place, he is extremely fast. In the second place, he seems to be on his way in the right direction about the split-second the ball is hit. He's certainly a marvel—worth going a long way to see."

* * *

"That's what Casey Stengel said about him," I remarked. "Casey told me you couldn't hit a ball inside the park that Piersall couldn't get.

He said when you play the Red Sox you've got to hit the ball on the ground to keep it way from Piersall—and some of those Red Sox outfielders.

* * *

"Sammy White is a fine young catcher," Boudreau said. "He will certainly be a star before the next season is over. And there's another fellow we'll have ready this season. His name is Ted Williams. Ted came back keener to play than he has ever been.

"He will make a big difference—especially in a lot of those close games, we lost by one run, where one long blow would have made a big difference."

New Cage Loop Starts Action

Oakland County UAW-CIO Offers 2 Contests Tonight at EJH

Pontiac's newest basketball league goes into action tonight at Eastern Junior High's gymnasium. Two games are scheduled for the new Oakland County UAW-CIO Basketball League, with CIO No. 1 vs 653 No. 1 at 7:30 o'clock and 594 No. 2 vs 653 No. 2 at 8:30 p.m.

Milford CIO's club drew a bye for the opening.

Schedule was completed Tuesday. Games will be played each Thursday night in Eastern's gymnasium, except when each Pontiac team pays a visit to Milford for a single encounter.

Teams are backed financially by the Oakland County UAW-CIO Council, which also cares for the payment of officials and supervision, provided by City Recreation Department.

Teams will be given official names soon. Until that time they will be designated by No. 1 or No. 2 teams.

Tiger Draftees Rated as 'Insurance' for Regulars

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Tiger hot stove:

Two new faces — Harry James Bright and Charles Steven Kress—will be seen next spring in "Tigertown," spring training base of the Detroit Tigers in Lakeland, Fla.

Who are they?

Kress is a veteran first baseman. Bright is a rookie second baseman. Tigers drafted them—probably for insurance sake—last week at the minor league convention in Atlanta.

Kress, just 32 today, has had minor league experience totaling 1,347 games and dating back to 1940. But he's played only 138 games in the major leagues.

He batted 29 times for the Cincinnati Reds in 1949, hitting .207. They traded him to the White Sox, where he finished the season, playing 97 games and hitting .278. After three games in 1950, the White Sox shipped him back to the minors.

Never known for his long-ball ability, Kress, a six-foot, 195-pound lefthander turned slugger with Rochester in the International League last season after a tour with Cincy Reds and White Sox. He hit 25 home runs, knocked in 121 runs and batted .317.

Tigers grabbed him as insurance in case Walt Dropo fails at first base again.

Bright is 23, stands six feet and weighs 177. A righthanded batter, he broke into organized ball in 1946 but in seven seasons was never able to rise above Class A ball. He achieved that point last season, playing with Memphis of the Southern Association.

There, he hit .295 in 140 games with 14 home runs and 77 runs batted in. He'll probably figure in the Tigers' wide-open battle for second base.

Terps' Tatum Named ACC's Coach of Year

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Jim Tatum, whose unbeaten Maryland football team is ranked No. 1 in the nation, barely nosed out South Carolina's Rex Enright for Atlantic Coast Conference football coach of the year honors.

In a vote of 40 members of the Southern Sports Writers Assn. Tatum polled 160 points out of a possible 200 against 156 for Enright.

Munn Plans Four Other Home Workouts Prior to Leaving for West

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—An undercover workout was scheduled today for the 1st Michigan State football practice prior to the Rose Bowl game.

The weather forecast was for swirling snow, gusts of winds and a sharp drop in temperature.

This meant that MSC Coach Biggie Munn will have to stage his 1st home drill inside Jenison Fieldhouse on the Michigan State campus.

Munn planned five home workouts before the Spartans fly out to Pasadena Wednesday. They will be staged today, tomorrow and Saturday and Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Munn had hoped to get outdoors but weather more suitable for skiing and snowballs than football was predicted for the rest of the week.

"We could get a lot more done if we could get outside," Munn said, "but we might have to save that for California."

The portable floor is still down in the fieldhouse since the basketball team also has to practice this week. This limits the space available as the entire squad has been invited out for practice although only 44 men will make the trip.

End of the term examinations also threatened to interfere with practice.

"It's likely that we'll have quite a few of our boys missing every day because of the exams," said backfield coach Steve Sebo.

"About all we can do here," Sebo said, "is try to get them back in shape again after the layoff, we'll go through signal drills and sharpen up on our blocking and on the plays we've been using all season."

Munn was due back from the Western Conference meetings in Chicago to take charge of the team today. He spent the weekend on a brief vacation in Florida at Miami Beach.

The first American lightweight boxing champion was Abe Hicken. He held the crown from 1868 to 1872.

Snow Elected Head of Racing Association

Bob Snow of Pontiac was re-elected president of the Land O'Lakes Racing Association at its annual post-season meeting this week.

Jim Hasselle of Troy was named vice-president and treasurer and Dick Dewey of Pontiac was elected secretary.

Board of directors for the coming year will include Carm Ragatz of Waterford, Jim Macomb of Pontiac, Gene Chidester of Drayton and Warren Guilds.

Gridder Blames Broken Fingers on New Shoes

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — A Wofford College football player blames a new pair of shoes for two broken fingers received in a recent game with Presbyterian College.

Hal Auman, a tackle, broke the fingers when he made a tackle on the opening kickoff.

"If it hadn't been for those new shoes it wouldn't have happened," he says. "That was the first time I ever got down the field fast enough to make a tackle on a kickoff."

Kerr Makes Illinois Threat to Hoosiers

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Although Indiana has been awarded the No. 1 spot in college basketball by the experts in the Associated Press preseason poll, the Hoosiers first have to win the Big Ten title.

* * *

Illinois may have something to say about this. The Illini are rated No. 9 in the country and they probably are Indiana's only worry in the conference.

* * *

Last night, the Illini made Butler their third straight victim without a loss, 80-48, with 6-foot-9 John Kerr hitting for 31 points to bring his total to 823, an all-time Illinois scoring record.

So long as the Illini can send Kerr on the floor, they'll be title threats.

The only other ranked school to get into action last night was Dayton, which was rated right behind Duquesne as a power in the East. But the school dropped its first decision of the young season to Miami of Ohio 72-70.

This result could throw an entire new complexion on the East. Fordham, one of the dark horses, won its third straight, defeating Yale 80-51. The Rams, a crew of real sharpshooters, made good 29 of their 56 tries from the floor and Ed Conlin made all nine of his free throws.

* * *

Except for Princeton, the Ivy League had a successful night. Cornell broke its own scoring record for a single game in its 92-37 romp against Clarkson. The old mark of 87 points was set only a week ago against Hobart.

Penn defeated Muhlenberg 78-63; Brown trounced Northeastern 73-62; and Harvard recorded a 71-55 victory over Wesleyan.

Princeton dropped a 69-61 decision to Lafayette for the only league loss.

Southern Methodist fought off a last-quarter rally to lick Tulsa 72-70 and Navy scored a 63-55 victory over American International.

'53 Notre Dame Eleven Is Praised at Squad Banquet

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Praise of Notre Dame's undefeated 1953 football team was unanimous at the annual civic banquet honoring the squad last night.

Coach Frank Leahy, reiterating that it was "the greatest I've ever been associated with," said its finest attribute was courage.

"This was particularly exemplified in the last touchdown in the final seconds to tie Iowa," he said. "That was one of the most inspiring things of my life."

Another speaker, Iowa athletic director Paul Brechler, touched on Notre Dame's race with the clock to score a touchdown at the end of the first half and at the close of the game for a 14-14 tie. In both instances, Notre Dame players feigned injury to stop the clock.

"The thing greatly overlooked in that game was that within the allotted time and according to the rules, Notre Dame scored touchdowns to tie," said Brechler. "There has been no Iowa complaint."

Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, said the final Irish touchdown drive to tie Iowa was "the hallmark of a champion."

Dan Shannon and Paul Matz, junior ends from Chicago, were named co-captains of the 1954 Irish.

Third Longest Heave

Bobby Layne's 97-yard touchdown pass to Cloyce Box that helped the Detroit Lions to a 34-15 victory over the Green Bay Packers during the '53 season was the third longest pass completion in the history of the National Football League.

Chiefs' Swimming Team Opens Slate Here Friday

Pontiac High's swimming team opens its 1953-54 season Friday afternoon, entertaining Mt. Clemens in a non-league meet at 4 p.m.

Coach Robert (Des) Boyce has four returning lettermen among a turnout of 40 candidates—the largest squad to report at Pontiac High in many years.

Letter-winners are Bill McLarty, senior diver and breast stroker, and free stylists Jim Shellenburger, Lee Hathaway and Bob Lamson, a standout in the 200 and individual medley last year as a sophomore.

Additional help is expected to be provided by sophomores Tom Cross and Bob Keavy, in the backstroke and breaststroke respectively, ex-junior varsity sprinter Dick Gavette and senior Ed Hoban, a sprinter who hasn't been out before.

Chiefs play host to Ferndale on Dec. 16 in their only other pre-Christmas meet. Complete schedule:

Dec. 11—Mt. Clemens; Dec. 16—Ferndale; Jan. 6—at Birmingham; Jan. 8—at Arthur Hill; Jan. 15—Flint Central; Jan. 20—at Highland Park; Jan. 22—Bay City; Feb. 5—Arthur Hill; Feb. 12—at Flint Central; Feb. 19—at Bay City; Feb. 24—at Plymouth; March 5—Valley Relays at Flint; March 13—State meet at Ann Arbor.

NHL Splits All-Star Voting in 2 Halves

MONTREAL (AP)—National Hockey League will divide the voting into two sections for the selection of the circuit's all-star team and various individual awards for the 1953-54 season.

In the previous years the all-star team and trophy winners were decided by a panel of writers and broadcasters at the end of the regular season.

Under the new plan the voting will be divided into two halves with each half worth 50 per cent towards the final selection. The first half includes games played up to Jan. 1. Each member of the all-star team and the individual winners receive $1,000 from the league.

Coast to Fight Blanket Ruling

NCAA Plan for Uniform Eligibility Code Gets Cool Reception

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Coast will fight a move to set up nationwide eligibility rules for college athletes under the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

PCC faculty representatives yesterday termed the plan a move toward a "super-national conference—a dictatorship."

Prof. H. P. "Dick" Everest of Washington, spokesman for the PCC winter meeting, said almost all the NCAA eligibility proposals are already in effect in the PCC. He said the PCC opposition is a matter of principle.

"Each conference has its own problems," he said. "We consider these jurisdictional disputes. Frankly, we're jealous of our own prerogatives."

John Schliemer of Kingsburg, Calif., on a brief holiday in British Columbia, caught 17 salmon weighing nearly 600 pounds.

36 Are Nominated for Racing Hall of Fame

DETROIT (AP) — Eddie Rickenbacker and Ralph De Palma head a list of 36 nominated for racing's Hall of Fame by the American Automobile Association for 1953.

* * *

Of the 36, all from the 1910-20 decade, 10 will be selected and placed in the hall of fame by a board of electors composed of racing historians and newspapermen.

Barney Oldfield, Henry Ford and Alfred G. Vanderbilt II were among 10 selected last year.

Castellani Out of Opponents After Win Over Gil Turner

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani, with a bruising unanimous decision over Gil Turner under his belt, appeared today to have temporarily fought himself out of opponents.

* * *

To go upward, the second-ranking middleweight contender must either battle Randy Turpin, the man one notch above him, or middleweight champion Bobo Olson of Honolulu.

Turpin is in England and has given no indication of returning soon. And there is no immediate prospect of a title bout with Olson.

* * *

Al Naiman, manager of the Cleveland fighter, said he would go to New York immediately, however, and try to line up a title fight. "I'm ready to post a check for whatever amount is required to challenge Olson," said Naiman.

He planned to give Castellani a rest of at least a month, and after the encounter with the Philadelphia perpetual-motion man, Rocky could well use it.

* * *

Following three slow rounds in which Castellani repeatedly speared Turner with slashing lefts to the jaw while the crowd booed for more action, Turner turned on his famed buzz-saw attack.

From then on it was hammer and tongs every round, with the crowd screaming and the two almost exhausted at the end. Castellani's margin appeared to be better pacing, harder punches and perhaps more stamina.

Castellani weighed 157 to 155 for Turner.

Despite his lower ranking, Turner was an 8-5 favgrite for the nationally televised bout on the Cleveland News annual Christmas Toyshop Fund show. The 11,813 customers paid a gross of $72,110.

Spartans' Bowl Tickets Gone

Students, Faculty and Alumni Grab Up Total MSC Allotment

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State College made this terse announcement today—no more Rose Bowl tickets for sale here.

This meant that the general public would not get a chance to buy tickets in Michigan for the Michigan State-UCLA football game.

* * *

Michigan State was allotted approximately 14,000 tickets.

Alumni—the old grads—students and faculty members were given the first chance at the tickets under a strict priority system. If any were left over, the general public would have been invited to buy. The MSC ticket office already had set up a lottery system.

But the tickets were swept away in a wave of enthusiasm for Michigan State's first Rose Bowl appearance.

Students have two trains going out to the West Coast. Old grads gobbled up the rest especially those applying for friends and relatives in California.

Warren Burtt, MSC ticket manager, is in hiding and his wife just answers the phone by saying "no tickets."

Six From County Awarded Olivet Football Letters

Included are end Leonard Compton of Pontiac, tackle Don Card of Waterford, guard Jim Hawisher of Pontiac, center Dick Powell of Pontiac, and Chuck Twitty of Pontiac and Ed Bryant of Farmington.

Cliff Officer of Pontiac received numerals.

Olivet completed the season with four wins and five defeats, placing 5th in the MIAA Conference.

North Adds Wells for Senior Bowl Contest

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — South and North teams for the Senior Bowl football game here Jan. 9 gained strength today when three more players were added to the rosters.

Joining the South were Jerry Marchand, Louisiana State halfback, and Tom Drake, Chattanooga guard. Back Billy Wells of Michigan State is the new North player.

The North picked up three new members yesterday. They are Jerry Minnick, Nebraska tackle; Roger Franz, Fordham quarterback, and Don Malinak, Penn State end.

Hammer Seeks 5th Win

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Ken Hammer goes after his 5th straight victory tonight when he meets Noel (Bull) Reid, the English giant, in a six-round heavyweight bout at Motor City Arena.

In another six-rounder involving heavies, Oscar Pharo of Birmingham, Ala., meets Frank Degazio of Niagara Falls, Ont.

PCC May Substitute Films for Live Scouts

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Pacific Coast Conference won't decide before June whether to substitute motion pictures for football scouting.

Faculty athletic representatives of the nine conference universities first will discuss with coaches possible elimination of human scouting. The coaches will attend the summer meeting, June 13-17 at Spokane.

Prof H. P. "Dick" Everest of the University of Washington, spokesman for the faculty representatives, said a satisfactory system of exchanging motion pictures could eliminate scouts at a saving of $1,000 to $10,000 a year.

Detroit 'Iron Man'

Iron man: Jim Davis, 5'10", 170-pound defensive halfback for the Detroit Lions from Colorado A&M, missed only six plays on defense during the entire 1952 season.

'Most Improved' Title Given Milford's Ganzel

KALAMAZOO (UP)—Lesly Koster, tackle from Grand Rapids, was voted Western Michigan College's most valuable football player of 1953.

Koster's selection was announced Tuesday night at the squad's annual football banquet. Coaching staff named sophomore quarterback Jerome Genzel of Milford as the "most improved player of the season."

University of Iowa has played 74 different opponents since it began playing football just 64 years ago.

Teammates on Lions

Teammates, then and now: Now playing for the Detroit Lions, after competing side-by-side in college, are Yale Lary and Robert Lee Smith of Texas A&M; Leon Hart and Jim Martin of Notre Dame; and Thurman McGraw, Jack Christiansen, and Jim David of Colorado A&M.

Gray Doesn't See How Owners Can End Pension

DETROIT (UP) — Pitcher Ted Gray, player representative of the Detroit Tigers, doesn't see how major league owners can go through with their threat to end baseball's pension pan in 1955.

"It is the feeling of the players," Gray said, "that the pension fund is our money. I don't see how they can say they'll drop it."

Gray said action of the owners was "definitely a surprise."

Pension Committee, Players to Meet

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — The major league's newly appointed two-man pension committee will meet next week with chief player representatives Ralph Kiner and Allie Reynolds in an effort to make peace between the club owners and players over the pension plan squabble.

• • •

"We plan to get together with Kiner and Reynolds real soon," said Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg, who along with President John Galbreath of Pittsburgh will represent the owners. "We will discuss this thing openly and honestly and I'm sure we'll come to an amicable understanding."

• • •

Greenberg and Galbreath were named by the American and National Leagues at a joint meeting yesterday to study and report the possibility of terminating the pension plan by November 1955. The owners charged their move was compelled by "the excessive demands by the player representatives and their attorney." No names were mentioned but undoubtedly they were referring to representatives Kiner and Reynolds and the players' attorney, J. Norman Lewis.

The meeting of Greenberg, Galbreath, Kiner and Reynolds which, incidentally, may include Lewis, may also provide the answer to what many baseball people believe is the crux of the entire dispute.

Just who is entitled to the vast receipts attained from the sale of the World Series and All-Star Game television and radio rights —and how much?

• • •

The players stoutly maintain the annual $1,260,000 plum belongs to them. They are supported in this belief by Lewis and former commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

• • •

A majority of the owners are equally certain the money is theirs. A small minority is willing to concede that the television and radio receipts should be divided among the club owners and players with 60 per cent going to the athletes after 15 per cent for expenses is taken out for the commissioner's office.

• • •

Both sides are looking ahead to 1956 when the current television-radio contract expires and a new contract, calling for an expected 200 per cent increase, probably will be negotiated. With that in mind, the players have been demanding benefit increases from $50 to $80 a month for five-year men and from $100 to $150 a month for 10-year men. They also want the age eligibility reduced from 50 to 45.

• • •

The owners, believing these demands to be excessive, have pointed out this would mean an added expenditure of $6,730,000 to past service cost (for retired ballplayers) and would double (to over a million dollars a year) the current cost of carrying the plan. Rather than do that, they said, they believed it best to abandon the pension plan.

• • •

Every club owner, including Commissioner Ford Frick and League Presidents Warren Giles of the National and Will Harridge of the American insisted they wanted the pension plan to continue.

CLIPS TRACK RECORD—Campaigning far from home, a Pontiac trotter recently clipped a California track record. Marcella Spencer (above with Tommy Winn on the sulky) set the mark of 2:06 1/5 at Hollywood Park, Inglewood, Calif. She took down a $1,400 purse. She is trained and handled by Winn and has appeared at all three Detroit area tracks during recent seasons. The mare, 5 years old, is owned by Edw. M. Stout of Pontiac. She will be back in Michigan for the 1954 summer season, but will lay up on the Coast until spring.

Shack, Boys' Club Fives Triumph in City League

Chuck's Shack and Boys' Club won easy victories Wednesday in the 2nd night of City Basketball League action in Pontiac High School's gymnasium.

Led by Tom Spencer's 20 points, Shack five roared to a 27-11 halftime advantage and coasted in to a 53-31 triumph over Poole Lumber in Class A.

Boys' Club pulled away from a 20-17 intermission lead to trample Pontiac Merchants, 46-32, in the Class B game. Jim Honchell and Kirk Hobolth collected 10 points apiece to pace the winners.

Two "B" contests are scheduled tonight, with Oliver Buick meeting Elks 723 at 7 p. m. and Stadium Inn taking on Boys' Club at 8:30.

Lions Favored by 11 Points Against Giants

But Detroit Anticipates Top Performance From New Yorkers

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Oddsmakers have established the Detroit Lions as 11-point favorites to defeat the New York Giants Sunday and coast into the National Football League's championship game.

But the Lions aren't fooled by the odds — or even by past performances. They know they've got to win this game on the field and have been working seriously in practice all week.

It's a long way from the Cotton Bowl in Dallas to the Polo Grounds in New York City. And it's a long time from Aug. 28 to Dec. 13. That's why the Lions aren't paying much attention to the odds, or past records.

You see, the Lions butchered the Giants 38-7 in a pre-season exhibition game Aug. 28 in the Dallas Cotton Bowl. This Sunday Dec. 13, the teams will meet again, this time in the Polo Grounds, and the Lions are preparing to meet a stronger Giant team.

The New Yorkers were virtually punchless against the Lions last August. They made only 55 yards rushing and 66 yards passing.

The Giant.. eventually settled down, beat the Chicago Cards twice and upset the Philadelphia Eagles. But last Sunday they ran into the Cleveland Browns, who were rather torrid, and were crushed under a 62-14 avalanche.

Word from New York is that the Giants will be ready and waiting for Detroit. Halfback Kyle Rote, who missed the Brownie game, is reported fit and ready. He'll team in the backfield with quarterback Charley Conerly, halfback Frank Gifford and fullback Eddie Price.

The No. 1 replacement is Sonny Grandelius, former Michigan State star who has been a sturdy player all season. He's one of the few Giants who haven't been injured.

Last time these two teams met in a "big" game was in 1935, when they played for the NFL title. Lions won 26-7 and will be more than satisfied with a repeat performance Sunday.

Pasadena Co-ed Is Queen for Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Barbara Louise Schmidt, a 17-year-old brunette with dimples and brown eyes, will reign as queen of this season's Tournament of Roses.

• • •

Harry W. Hurry, tournament president, announced her selection today from a group of seven rose princesses. These were chosen from some 2,500 coeds at John Muir and Pasadena City Colleges, where the competition started six weeks ago.

• • •

Barbara goes to Pasadena City College. She is 5 feet 6, weighs 118 pounds and her measurements are bust 35, waist 24 and hips 34.

Big 10 Coaches Pick Hoosiers to Retain Title

All but Indiana's Own Mentor Figure They Are Shoo-ins for Crown

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO (UP) — Indiana's defending national basketball champions were an odds-on selection of Big Ten coaches today to retain their conference title "if lightning doesn't strike them or they all fall dead."

Coach Branch McCracken of the flying Hoosiers, though, was reluctant to accept the pre-season honor and tabbed his own team to finish "somewhere in the middle."

But he was the only coach in the circuit who didn't see his club as the top contender.

Indiana will be good, one coach said, "because of returning veterans plus some good freshmen who will keep the veterans hopping so they won't become complacent."

Indiana, on paper, should run away with the league, for McCracken has back all of his starting five of last year and lost only one man from his traveling squad, Jim Schooley, rated by one coach as the "last man on the squad."

Hoosiers averaged over 75 points per game last year in running up to 16 consecutive Big Ten triumphs and 20 straight over two seasons in conference play, the second longest winning streak in league records.

Minnesota was given the best chance to upset the Hoosiers and six of the 10 coaches rated the Gophers, who finished tied for 3rd with Michigan State last year, 2nd best team in the league.

Sparking the Gophers again will be the standout guard, Chuck Mencel, a playmaker who averaged 18.2 points per game last year, and big Ed Kalafat, a center who was seventh in league scoring with a 15.6 point per game average.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Avoiding Pressure.

Relax With Stance—For people small of stature, and for those past the 50 mark, at which time we've found that the bowling ball gets increasingly heavier to handle, an added half-step to the stride is prescribed.

It's actually a left foot shuffle that's added to regulation four step footwork. Former world match champion Hank Marino at 62 is as smooth as ever getting to the foul line, thanks to tacking on the shuffle about 10 years ago.

I also adopted it. So have most of our league mates past 50. As sketch shows, left foot is extended just a little at start. Weight is entirely on right foot. Ball held in palm of left hand. You're relaxed. No pressure whatever.

To start the stride you can push-away the ball either with or without the left foot shuffle. You develop your own method in practice.

Winter Sports Queens Scarce Commodity

MANISTEE (AP)—Maybe it's because it isn't bathing suit weather, but Michigan's winter sports centers are complaining about difficulty of interesting pretty girls in competing for festival queens.

"It seems more difficult every year to find girls who aspire to be queens," secretary Jeff Bodette of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce told the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association.

Bodette urged others to help supply candidates for queen of Petoskey's Winter Sports Festival in February.

Grid Coach Satisfied

PERU, Neb. (AP)—Coach Al Wheeler's first football team at Peru State Teacher's College back in 1938 won only one game.

Wheeler expected repercussions but no one mentioned the poor record.

Maybe that's why he has been here since, though he has had offers for better jobs as a result of undefeated seasons in 1940, '42, '52 and '53.

Goblins Ruined Game

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Bowler Dale Phillips believes that goblins ruined a perfect game for him on Halloween eve. Phillips bowls in the Riviera Club here. He opened the game with a miss, then scored eight straight strikes but finished with another miss. His score was 240.

Iowa Athletic Director Speaks at Irish Banquet

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Athletic director Paul Brechler of the University of Iowa will be a featured speaker tonight at Notre Dame's annual testimonial banquet.

Iowa played the Irish to a 14-14 tie, causing Notre Dame to lose top ranking in the Associated Press national poll. Irish won all their other nine games this season.

Lions Draw 93,751

The crowd of 93,751 fans that watched the Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams play in the L.A. Coliseum was the second largest football crowd in the nation during the 1953 season, college or pro. The traditional Army-Navy clash in Philadelphia drew a reported 100,000.

The Gerlinger Carrier Co. bowling team, Oregon state champions, was the first from the Pacific Northwest to enter officially the 1954 ABC tournament which opens in Seattle March 13.

New Line for Maury

BOSTON (AP) — Maury McDermott's switch from the Boston Red Sox to the Washington Senators has provided that lanky southpaw pitcher with a new gag for his night club crooning act.

Now the MC at a downtown club asks McDermott, "How will you pitch to Ted Williams?"

"The best way is low and behind him," McDermott replies.

The Boston Bruins are the heaviest team in the National Hockey League. The average Bruin weighs 181.3 pounds.

Brothers Opponents

There is one brother combination in the National Hockey League this season. Each plays on a different squad. Johnny Wilson is a member of Detroit Red Wings. Larry Wilson plays for the Chicago Black Hawks.

Ex-Agent for Stars Is Now Evangelizing

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hal Herman, who until five years ago was a press agent for stars like Rita Hayworth, Deanna Durbin and Rosalind Russell, is back in Hollywood with a different profession. He's trying to save souls.

Those who toured the studios before and after the war remember Hal as a courteous, intent young fellow with sandy hair and a warm smile. He was the art man at Columbia and Universal, which meant that he had to arrange photos of the stars for magazines, ads, billboards, etc.

"I was the contact between the studio and the star," he explains. "I had to induce the stars to come into the studio for portrait sittings, and I encountered my share of temperament. The stars didn't like the work, since they did it on their own time. It was hard work, too. Most stars had two full days of posing. It always took a week with Rita Hayworth."

Hal comes from the small and significantly named town of Friend, Neb. He originally came West to study under a scholarship at Stanford University. Instead, he traveled to Hollywood. He had always been movie struck.

His career in publicity was coming along fine when the war broke out. That's when his life began to change.

• • •

He enlisted and rose to become a major under Gen. MacArthur. He took pictures for the invasion of the Philippines and shepherded correspondents and photographers.

"I first started thinking seriously when I was in the Philippines," he recalls. "I was wading through swamps up to my hips and the thought came to me: 'What is real'

"After the war was ended, I flew into Tokyo and took pictures of Hiroshima. Later I went to Shanghai with some correspondents. I was greatly affected by what I saw. I remember Edgar Snow telling me that the Chinese people had lost faith in everything —their gods, their leaders, their country. No wonder the Communists could take them over."

Hal returned to Hollywood, but his heart wasn't in the job of pampering the glamor dolls. He was restless, and he delved into philosophy and psychology for the answer to his query: What is real? One day a friend counseled him to seek the answer in the Bible. For the first time in his life, he began reading it thoroughly.

"It was on Palm Sunday night at 11:30 in 1947," he remembers. "I was reading through my Bible when suddenly the truth came to me. I heard the will of God. I realized that God was reality, as revealed by our Savior, Jesus Christ. At that moment I decided to become a researcher in spiritual reality.

"I tried to quit my job. I told the publicity chief that I was no longer any good to him, that my interest lay in another field. But he urged me to continue on. I prayed for guidance.

• • •

"Meanwhile, I spread the word wherever I could. I talked to everybody I could at the studio. Most of them said I had 'got religion bad,' but I found them amazingly receptive."

The decision was made for Hal eight months later. The Hollywood depression struck, bringing wholesale firings. "I knew it was the answer to my prayers; but I didn't expect five other men to get fired with me," he says.

Offers began pouring in from churches and religious groups that wanted him to speak. He took on another publicity job, this time for a "Youth for Christ" rally that filled Hollywood Bowl to overflowing.

In the past five years, he has spread the gospel through Latin America, Europe, Israel, Egypt and all over the United States. Like Billy Graham, he allies himself with no religion, preaching to all. He has just finished an engagement at the Angelus Temple in Los Angeles.

"I am proudest of the meetings I held in Berlin," he says. "By contributions from churches in this country, I was able to fly a huge tent into Berlin and preach the word of God just 500 feet from the Russian sector, within the view of the godless Communists."

Solons Oppose Debt Limit Hike

Senators Renew Stand Against Any New Plea for Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic and Republican senator who helped shelve President Eisenhower's request for a hike in the national debt limit last August said today they are standing firm.

Senators Malone (R-Nev) and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said in separate interviews they are still against any increase.

Both are on the Finance Committee, which voted 14 to table the debt limit boost despite strong pleas from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge.

There have been strong hints from the Treasury that a renewed request for an increase from 275 to 290 billion dollars will be made to the Senate soon after Congress comes back Jan. 6. The House okayed such a hike last summer and, if the amount were not changed, would not have to act again.

The issue could become one of the first to embroil the Senate in 1954. The Treasury has argued it will be difficult and perhaps impossible to finance operations of the government next year without raising the debt ceiling. Indications are the administration still faces an uphill fight in the Senate Finance Committee.

• • •

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), a leader in the fight against the boost last summer, said recently he was as determined as ever to block it.

Malone said today he felt the present debt limit was a safeguard against further tax boosts and he added: "I didn't come here to destroy the taxpayers of America."

Johnson said he remains "unalterably opposed" to the boost. He said he regards the ceiling as the last opportunity for Congress to keep some control of federal spending.

Chicago Teenagers Admit Killing 'Bully'

CHICAGO (AP)—Three teen-agers were held by juvenile authorities today after police said they admitted they participated Monday night in the killing and burying of a youth described as a neighborhood bully.

The body of Leonard Pariano, 20, was found in a shallow grave Tuesday near a South Side coal yard. Lt. John O'Leary said Robert Naminski, 15, admitted hitting Pariano on the head with a crowbar after his two companions had lured him into the coal yard.

O'Leary said Naminski and Ronald Paruszkiewicz, 15, and Lawrence Kennedy, 14, told him Pariano had bullied them and had threatened to kill Naminski's mother. They told O'Leary they decided to "beat up" Pariano to teach him a lesson. All were held without charge.

Even Married Men Want to Join Bachelor's Club

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—J. Sylvester Covell, midde-aged head of an engineering corporation, says he never expected such enthusiastic reaction when he formed his Bachelors' Club to provide a meeting place for lonely folks of both sexes.

Just the other day, he says, a man telephoned to say "he thought it sounded so interesting he was thinking of getting a divorce."

THE LITTLE TREE THAT TALKED

By WALT SCOTT

Bob Considine Says:

Ike's Historic U.N. Speech Had 3 Weeks Preparation

NEW YORK (INS) — President Eisenhower threw that atomic punch at U.N. as if he had been saving it up for a long time. Which he had.

From everything I could learn at Bermuda, which I plan to engrave on the head of a pin, it appears the historic speech has been weeks in preparation. It was originally scheduled to be the big gun in a "Operation Candor," the determination of key figures in the Eisenhower Administration to tell the facts of atomic age life to the American people.

"I had originally planned to say (this) primarily to the American people," he told the Assembly. But the futile November 18 effort to the Assembly to breathe new life in the defunct Disarmament Commission gave Eisenhower a broader hook on which to hang his proposal.

It was a comparatively simple matter to draw an invitation from U.N.'s Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold. The announced reason, later retracted, was that this would mark the last day of the current Assembly. But radio and TV customers of the historic speech will recall that at its end the gloriously sari'd Madame Pandit remarked, matter of fact-like, "The Assembly will meet tomorrow at 3 p.m. This Assembly is adjourned." If the good Madam was enthused about Ike's proposal she masterfully concealed it.

The President seemed reluctant to let go of the speech so far as the reporters were concerned. He nursed it through his spare hours at Bermuda, changing a word here and a word there. Then we were told we'd have a whack at it during the 3-hour ride the immortal Dick Merrill gave us from Bermuda to New York on an Eastern Air Lines charter Constellation.

But no text, Jim Hagerty told us before we got on the plane. En route, word came that the reporters were to go to a roped-off sector of the marine terminal at LaGuardia where "an important announcement will be made." We did. The announcement was that there would be no text delivered to us at the airport. Instead, it was going to be rushed to U.N., mimeographed, and distributed about 15 minutes before Ike spoke.

So the President's Air Force Constellation landed after making two long passes over the field. Out of the plane popped jovial Jim Hagerty burdened down with a load of finely mimeographed texts of the speech. Only by dint of a tremendous scramble to telephones were reporters able to deliver to their editors, and thus on to the public, what may be remembered as the President's greatest speech.

In the course of proposing an atom treasury whose fissionable material would be spent for good, not destruction, Eisenhower hit what seemed to me one of the all-time peaks of the office of the presidency.

If Russia plays ball, and she may in view of the fact that she will have as much access to such an atom bank and the know-how of its experts as any other contributing nation, we could be at the dawn of an enduring peace wherein the wonders of the atom will make pale by comparison its ability to destroy the species.

But if Russia doesn't respond, and is crazy enough to start an atomic war, there is comfort in Eisenhower's startling revelations about the progress of our weapons program. He revealed for the first time that we have developed A-bombs 25 times stronger than the Hiroshima bomb, which had a "yield" equivalent to 20,000 tons of TNT. That means a 500,000 ton bomb. And he spoke of hydrogen bombs in the ranges of millions of tons of TNT equivalent.

To handle record breaking auto traffic across the English channel, a terminal has been built at Dover which can handle 240 cars an hour.

Notice of Intention to Construct two-inch Blacktop pavement on Nebraska Avenue from Woodward Avenue to Earlmoor Boulevard.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan held on the 8th day of December, 1953 by resolution, it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct two-inch blacktop pavement on Nebraska avenue from Woodward avenue to Earlmoor boulevard at an estimated cost of $3,397.35 and that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file in the office of the City Clerk and may be found there for inspection.

U.S. Pushes Project to Remap World for Possible Guided Missile Warfare

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The U. S. Air Force, aided by more than two dozen federal and private agencies, is making an all-out effort to remap the world accurately to prepare for possible guided missile warfare.

Its a super-secret rush project costing millions of dollars. Thousands of military personnel and U. S. scientists, working in almost every part of the free world and using the very latest electronic and aerial mapping techniques, are engaged in this effort.

There are reports that secret techniques of mapping, keyed to data gained from eclipses of the sun, are being used to make accurate maps of Russia.

It's essential that the job be completed before long-range missiles, which are being developed faster than most experts thought possible, can be included in America's overall defense plans.

Ever since the start of World War II, when U. S. military ships and planes began roaming the world in hugh numbers, there has been growing evidence that available maps and charts were grossly inaccuarate.

But it wasn't until they began firings from the long-range guided missile proving ground at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., that they discovered just how inaccurate some of the maps really were, and how vital precise maps and charts are to the guided missile art.

The Grand Bahama Island, for instance, is in the Patrick range. Instruments installed there for checking the course of test missiles at first gave puzzling results until they discovered that the maps being used had the island's position all wrong.

When it was remapped by precise shoran aned triangulation surveys the results were astonishing. Its real shape and location were found to be vastly different.

The most inaccurate maps are those of the Pacific and Far East areas. Even maps corrected during World War II show islands that don't exist, don't show islands that do, show wrong coastal features, have cities and ports located miles from where they really are, and have distances wrong.

There are several different guidance systems planned for the various log-range missiles being developed. But all depend on absolutely accurate maps and other precise navigational data.

The exact positions of the launching points and targets, plus the exact distances between them, must be known so that courses can be pre-set in the missiles. Some missile guidance systems depend on having their courses corrected when they soar over various check points. So it's obvious that these check points have to be fixed with extreme accuracy on the maps in order that the missile isn't sent astray.

One type of missile depends on celestial navigation. This brings astronomy and the shape of the earth into the calculations. It's known that the earth's axis wobbles, several degrees, a factor which has to be figured into the charting of the course.

It's also known that the earth is not a perfect sphere, that it's fatter around the equator and flatter at the poles, which must be reckoned in the mapping.

All of these precise calculations are made doubly important because of the fabulous cost of each missile. If one has an atomic or hydrogen bomb warhead it's too valuable to let it miss its target.

Most difficult aspect of this effort is the accurate mapping of possible target areas. Little information is given out by the Air Force on this phase of the problem but it is admitted that valuable help came from the National Geographic Society in connection with the last eclipse study expedition in Africa.

Time-signals radioed from the U. S. Bureau of Standards, coordinated with the passage of the eclipse shadow over various check points, gave exact distances between those points. Apparently those exact distances are the basic data needed for locating points in Russia, using the triangulation method.

It's also considered significant that the three "incidents" in which the Air Force planes were shot down by the Russians for flying close to Communist borders all involved reconnaissance planes. Reconnaisance planes are engaged in the big mapping program.

It's believed very likely that Russia is also frantically trying to make its own new maps of the world for the same purpose.

The newest mapping technique is aerial photography combined with shoran. A plane, usually a B-50, takes a series of strip photos of an eight-mile swath of the ground. The photos are then put together, with exact shoran radio navigation beams.

Much of the Alaskan and Northern Canada sections have been completed. It is over this area that long-range missiles are expected to be launched in the case of war. However, all areas of the world are scheduled for remapping.

Ferry Strike Sets 200-Year Record

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (UP) — When a four-day strike hit ferry operations across the Hudson River from here to Beacon during the July travel season, it was believed the longest peacetime delay in the more than 200-year history of the service.

Although a ferry of sorts had been operating for some years previously, the first charter for the crossing was granted by King George II in 1743. It specified that daily service must be maintained.

During the Revolutionary War, historians conjecture, the service may have been taken over for a time by the Army, but records are not clear.

The extreme winter of 1880 was the last time service was disrupted for as much as a day because of ice on the river.

Fish fights are a major sport in Thailand.

Great Big Hail Stone Turns Out Golf Ball

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP) — One resident got up early to watch a hailstorm.

"There's a hail stone as large as a golf ball," he said, pointing to a white object on his lawn.

When the hail quit he went outside to claim the large specimen. He picked it up. It was as large as a golf ball. A closer look proved—it was a golf ball.

Soybeans Show More Strength

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans appeared to have recovered, at least temporarily, on the board of trade today from yesterday's acute spell of weakness.

Beans moved up a couple of cents at one time, supported in part by overnight sale of 550,000 bushels to Japan and a firming tone in fats and oils markets. They did not hold their best gains, however.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ lower, December $2.05¼, corn ¼ to ¾ lower, December $1.53⅝, oats ¼ lower to 25 higher, December 77¾, soybeans ¼ lower to ¾ higher, January $3.03¼ and lard 10 to 22 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $17.90.

Firm Approves Record Budget

Consumers Power Co. to Spend $63,000,000 for Construction

Consumers Power Co. announces that its directors have approved a 1954 construction budget of more than $63,000,000 for expanding electric and gas facilities in the company's out-state Michigan service area.

President Dan E. Karn said the program is the largest in the firm's history, exceeding by almost $4,000,000 the record expenditures of 1953.

"By the end of 1954, our property expansion projects since World War II will have exceeded $400,000,000," Karn said. "Our construction program reflects the continuing growth of outstate Michigan and the increasing use of electricity and gas by all classes of customers."

Consumers Power Co. operates in 63 of the 68 counties in the lower peninsula, supplying electric service to more than 735,000 customers and gas service to more than 365,000 customers.

Karn said the 1954 construction budget, approved by the board of directors yesterday, includes major additions to electric generating capacity, to power supply facilities in many parts of outstate Michigan, and to the company's natural gas system.

D. MacNeill Miller, 2105 Pontiac Dr., distributor of investment securities, is attending a three-day sales conference of Investors' Diversified Services, Inc., in Minneapolis this week. Company representatives will hear educational talks on investment securities and sales plans for 1954.

Richard W. Cook has been named manager of the Associates Loan Co. office at 125 N. Saginaw St. in Pontiac. His appointment was announced by William F. Gaunitz, president. A native of Lansing, Cook formerly served as assistant loan manager of the Associates branch in that city.

Formal reopening of the Fair Brothers gasoline station at 619 Auburn Ave. is scheduled for Saturday. Floyd and Joy Fair have operated the station for about 5 years, and it has been completely remodeled in recent weeks. Handling Gulf products, the station is a unit of the L. H. Cole Co. group.

Maxwell D. Millard of 26705 Irving Rd., Franklin, has been named assistant general manager of sales for American Steel & Wire Division of United States Steel Corp. He served as Detroit district manager of sales before being named to the newly created position at the division's Cleveland headquarters.

Tobacco Shares Try Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Tobacco shares attempted a comeback in early dealings in the stock market today while the rest of the list turned in a mixed appearance.

Shares of most of the cigarette companies were up fractionally during the morning session. Some were pounded down several points yesterday following new reports linking smoking with lung cancer.

No definite trend developed in the rest of the market. Volume was rather light. Yesterday, the list was mixed on volume of 1,410,000 shares.

One of the widest gains today was posted by Sunbeam Manufacturing, which announced a stock dividend as well as a special cash dividend. It rose a couple of points.

GM Research Head Says Luck Saved His Life

Charles L. McCuen, General Motors Corp. official injured when the experimental car he was driving crashed through a guard rail at GMC's Milford Proving Grounds Oct. 11, said today he is "lucky to be alive."

McCuen, vice president of GMC and general manager of the corporation's research laboratories, returned home recently after almost two months of treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

He was injured when the gas-turbine-powered car he was driving plunged through the guard rail on a test track and plowed into trees and underbrush.

Witnesses said McCuen was not driving at an excessive speed when the accident happened.

The car, now undergoing further tests in Arizona, will be on exhibit when GM's Motorama opens in New York City Jan. 21.

Keego Harbor Club Gets Report on Amendment

KEEGO HARBOR — A report on the equal rights amendment to the U. S. Constitution was given at a special meeting of the local Business and Professional Women's club here this week. The discussion will be continued at the January business meeting.

The club is co-operating with the 165,000 members in the country in an all-out drive for the passage of the amendment.

Miss Wilma Webb will represent the local club in planning the Jan. 17 district meeting with the Waterford organization.

Vishinsky Now 70 Years Old

Soviet Diplomat Shows No Signs of Slowing Down

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's acid-tongued Andrei Vishinsky reached 70 today without showing any signs of slowing down. He said he planned to work as usual.

The Soviet diplomat may have mellowed a bit in his social life, but he has lost none of his energy or his ability to lash out at opponents in debate. Apparently in much better health than he was a few years ago, he follows a schedule that would tax the strength of men 20 years younger.

Vishinsky was 62 when he first appeared on the U. N. scene in London in 1945. His hair already was silvery and his red face deeply lined. His appearance has not changed much.

• • •

Long famous for his role as prosecutor in the Soviet purge trials of the '30s, he has been one of the main attractions for U.N. visitors since the beginning.

From time to time, there have been reports Vishinsky was ill, that he had passed his peak and was slipping as a speaker, that he was blundering too frequently and that he would be replaced by a younger man.

If he has any plans for retirement, he has never hinted at them, even privately.

Moscow took official note of his birthday by awarding him the Soviet's top decoration, the Order of Lenin.

Pitt Developing Health Center

Eastern University Set to Spend 75 Million for Fabulous Project

PITTSBURGH (UP) — The University of Pittsburgh is going to put some $75,000,000 into the creation of what well may be one of the most impressive health centers in the world.

The university has appointed Dr. Robert Moore, now dean of the medical school at Washington University in St. Louis, as vice chancellor in charge of the Schools of the Health Professions to guide the proposed expansion of Pit's already notable medical center.

The program worked out by Moore after a survey of present facilities calls for the construction of 10 new buildings in the medical center and additions to two others. In a larger sense, it envisions the integration of five schools—medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, nursing and public health—with each other, with allied departments of the university and with associated hospitals and clinics to form a single coordinated medical unit.

About $30,000,000 has been earmarked for new construction. This will pay for building—among other things—a new Graduate School of Public Health, an administrative headquarters for the medical and school clinic, new facilities for the pharmacy school, additional laboratories and extra classrooms and dormitories for medical students.

The approximately $45,000,000 involved in the project will be used chiefly as investment capital to insure an income for support of the schools.

Moore had been promised about $45,000,000 to work with when he takes over his new post next summer. Assured of ample funds from the university and the backing of the foundations and industries of Pittsburgh, Moore will begin fashioning a new epoch in a medical organization already widely known for its work against polio, cancer, emotional disturbances and occupational diseases.

About 29 per cent of all motor trucks and 12 per cent of all passenger cars in the United States are used by farmers.

A Woman's Gentle Touch Changes Life of Ornery Chap Who Hated Christmas

By CHARLES MERCER

"Whenever anyone asks "What does Christmas mean to you?" I'm reminded of what Christmas meant to my great Uncle Noah.

Since he is dead and unable to defend himself, it is now safe to tell what Christmas meant to him.

He was, to begin with, an irascible man. By that I mean he refused to drift with the tide of humar events. He called it being independent.

But the way my grandmother put it: "If you tell Noah to go north, he'll go south. If you want him to go south, just remotely suggest that he go north."

On St. Patrick's Day he'd wear an orange tie and on Orangeman's Day he's wear a green.

In his youth he was forcibly restrained from raising a Union Jack on the Fourth of July. In middle age he often wore a straw hat in winter.

You can readily see that Christmas would be a thorn in the side of such a man. He suffered nobly under its good spirit for about 50 years. Although he came from a devoutly religious family, he refused to enter a church.

So the religious significance of Christmas was quite wasted on him.

Grimly working out his years as an office manager for a railroad, he was filled with anguish by the annual throngs of holiday travelers. A bachelor, he knew no joy in buying gifts for wife or children.

Each Christmas for many years, however, he summoned the moral strength to go to my Grandmother's house for the annual family celebration.

He would sit there, glumly chewing on a cigar, only aroused from his mournful meditation on the merriment when he could draw an unwary nephew or niece into argument.

The, one Christmas about 20 years ago, he failed to appear at Grandma's. Eventually the story came out. This is what happened:

* * *

On Christmas Eve, Noah suddenly decided he was tired of going to Grandma's. He was disgusted with the whole ceremony of Christmas, its joy which he called "forced," its gifts which he called "commercialism."

So he locked the door to his small apartment in the rooming house where he lived. He went to bed early and slept late into Christmas morning.

He cooked his own breakfast and sat down to read Voltaire, his favorite author, trying to shut out the sounds from downstairs where other roomers were exchanging gifts around the landlady's tree. Once someone knocked on his door, but he did not answer.

The day crept on and gradually Noah grew more and more restive and irritable. Again someone knocked, and this time Noah shouted, "Go away!"

But in a few minutes the knock was repeated and this time Noah angrily flung open the door. He faced a small, brown-haired, pleasant woman about 40 years old, who smiled at him and said:

"Good afternoon. I'm Agnes, the landlady's niece. I understand you're ill and I wondered if there was anything I could do."

"I'm not sick," said Noah.

She just smiled at him and said, "You don't look well to me."

"I'm fine!" roared Noah.

"Prove it," she said.

He gaped at her.

"If you're not sick, come downstairs and join the rest of us," Agnes said.

"I won't!"

Agnes looked at him steadily for a long time. Then she said gently. "Of course you will. Come along now or must I lead you by the hand."

* * *

Then occurred the thing that no one, least of all Noah, ever could explain.

He quietly followed her downstairs. He had dinner with her and her aunt. In the course of the afternoon he learned that Agnes was a widow.

Everyone could easily understand what he saw in Agnes. But no one could fathom what she saw in him. Still, she must have seen something, for a couple of months later they were married.

They took a small apartment and several months later they adopted a small baby boy.

Christmas rolled around again. Agnes and the baby were invited to Grandma's with Noah, of course. Everyone watched him expectantly after they arrived. Yes, he'd changed. He was pleasant and smiling—but still rather quiet.

The gifts were opened amid a great babble. Finally, when everyone had opened his gifts, Agnes said she had one more for Noah.

We watched breathlessly as he opened the package. The silence became oppressive as he slowly took out a summer straw hat.

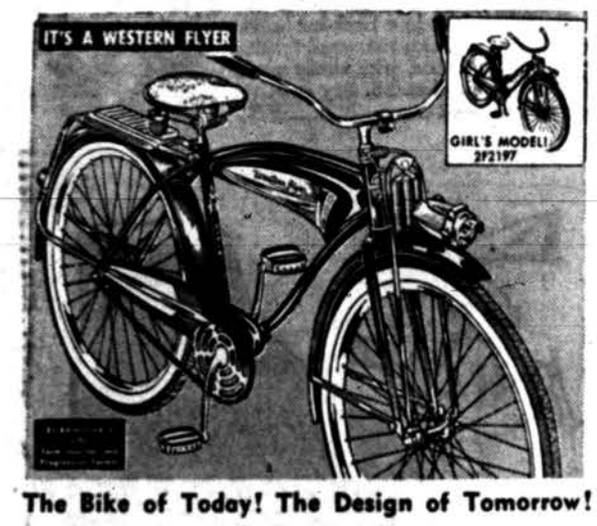

Suddenly he threw back his head and roared with laughter. It was the most tremendous laugh we'd ever heard. It seemed to fill and shake the house.

Then he put on the straw hat and started to talk. He was the most talkative man I ever heard.

Bandits Nab $1,400 at Southfield Market

Two armed bandits held up a cashier in a Southfield Township supermarket Tuesday night and escaped with $1,400 after attempting a second holdup across the street.

Mrs. Woodrow Odett, 30, of 35912 Twelve Mile Rd., told deputies the bandits entered the supermarket at 28911 Southfield and demanded two boxes containing the money and checks.

Owner of the supermarket, Clarence E. Wise, 32, of 1816 Sunnybrook, Lathrup, said he telephoned William Swan, 30, manager of another market located across the street, when he saw the pair running in that direction.

Swan said he closed the doors and waited with a .22 caliber rifle. When the bandits saw the rifle they jumped into cars and fled.

Trial Board Defers Case Against Chief

The Pontiac Police Trial Board has deferred consideration of the complaint against Police Chief Herbert W. Straley until Jan. 5, pending filling of a vacant position on the board.

A notice read to Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night said because of the gravity of the matter the board would postpone action until the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Eugene A. Gump is filled.

Milton R. Henry, a Pontiac attorney, has charged Straley failed to exercise proper restraint over actions of police officers in several instances.

Pontiac Boy Wounded

Frank Ringle, 16, of 119 Sidney St., was accidentally wounded in the left forearm Tuesday while coon hunting, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

HANDSOME HOLIDAY GIFTS—For your favorite hostess include wrought aluminum candlestick holders (lower left) and crystal glass salad bowl (lower right) with wooden fork and spoon and polished aluminum tray. For a young engaged girl or housewife, another fine present is a "starter set" of pots and pans. All basic utensils are included in the package.

Long-Lasting Kitchenware Makes Welcome Yule Gift

Whether she's a young bride or an experienced home-maker, the joy of Christmas morning will extend through the year for the woman who finds gleaming, long-lasting kitchen utensils under the tree this Yuletide. The same goes for handsome giftware pieces.

By compromising with quantity instead of quality, it's possible to give the very best in cooking ware to someone who rates a special place on your Christmas list. That "someone" might be the young girl still in the hope-chest stage, the prospective bride, the wife whose dream kitchen is to become a reality this year in a newly purchased home, or just any woman who's ever donned an apron.

The right pots and pans — indispensable aids in the efficiently-operated kitchen — can add to the fun and subtract from the effort involved in preparing daily meals. And that's a result that appeals to every woman.

Such a gift won't dent the budget as much as you might think it would. Several concerns — notably Farberware — have put together economical "starter sets." These sets contain all the pieces needed for everyday meal preparation, and can be expanded into larger, complete sets by the addition of other pieces as time goes on.

Included in one such set are 7, 8½, and 10½-inch frying pans; one, two, three and four-quart saucepans, all with covers, and a five-quart Dutch oven.

Even more appealing to the gift-seeker, because of the moderate-price range, are the newest giftware pieces. Such gifts are traditionally popular — especially for friends and relatives where one gift must suffice for the family.

A good bet is a pair of wrought aluminum candlestick holders. Available in tall or short lengths in several attractive designs, these will lend year-round grace to dining area or living room. And the aluminum is not hard to clean.

Another idea is a handsome compote dish, seven inches high, which is supported by an S-shaped, stem-like stand in a tulip motif. Matching pieces are an eight-inch bon-bon dish with center handle, a candy dish with side handle, and a double-tiered snack tray.

Most women on your list would also love to own a crystal glass salad bowl, resting on a highly-polished, wrought-aluminum tray, which adds greatly to the beauty of a holiday table or buffet setting.

The fall migrations of Eagles and Egrets may take them north instead of south until winter turns them back.

STAINLESS STEEL TABLEWARE — This new material has taken on high style for Christmas. Here is one of the new designs.

Flat Tire Starts Chain of Crashes on State Highway

GAFFNEY, S. C. (AP)—A flat tire on a moving automobile caused this chain reaction here:

Another auto stopped behind the one with the flat.

A third car stopped behind the first two vehicles.

A fourth car came along and crashed into No. 3, ramming it into No. 2. Two people were painfully, but not seriously, hurt.

A trailer truck stopped to avoid piling on, and a second trailer truck rammed into it.

It took Highway Patrol Cpl. Frank Martin two hours to get traffic moving again.

In the meantime, the flat was fixed.

Half of Finland's workers had industrial jobs in 1953 compared to less than one-fourth in 1904.

Color Choice Simplified by Paint Manufacturer

CHICAGO (UP)—A paint manufacturer has solved the problem of how to please the female—or male—who wants just the right shade of paint.

It has an automatic color-dispensing machine that can produce any one of a thousand shades in seconds.

The machine will be used in paint stores to make it possible for the customer to choose his color, have the paint mixed and carry it off within a few minutes.

Blue Goose Sighted

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (UP)—For the first time on record, a blue goose has been sighted here. Miss Ruth Schumacher, member of a bird club, spotted the unusual visitor to the Berkshires. The blue goose, with a bluish head and neck, breeds on Baffin Island in the Far North, spends its winters in Louisiana, and rarely is sighted in the East.

A DIFFERENT GIFT — This modern kitchen range is finished in antique copper, which is rated as tarnish-proof. It is designed to meet the preference for color in the kitchen.

Steer's Involuntary Fast Ended; Hook Removed

EMINENCE, Mo. (AP) — A local farmer was nonplussed when he noted one of his whiteface steers was losing weight. He investigated.

Seems the steer got mixed up with some fisherman's lost fishing plug in this prime small-mouth bass area. Hooks on the plug had firmly caught in the steer's jaw and tongue. Too painful for any eating or cud-chewing.

Freed from the plug, the steer was able to end his involuntary fast.

Shopkeepers Prevail

LONDON (INS) — Britain finds there's nothing wrong with being called a nation of shopkeepers. A government report shows there was one retail outlet for every 92 inhabitants in the country in 1950 and the gross take of these establishments was 5,800 million pounds ($16,240,000,000).

Unveiling Slated at State Hospital

Portrait of Late Medical Head to Be Revealed at Ceremony Tonight

An oil portrait of the late Dr. Perry V. Wagley, Pontiac State Hospital's medical superintendent for 28 years, will be unveiled in a brief ceremony tonight.

Program will start at 8 p.m. in the hospital auditorium.

Michigan Mental Health commissioners, superintendents of other state hospitals, Pontiac State Hospital employes, and Dr. Wagley's family and friends are invited.

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, Pontiac State Hospital's medical superintendent, will open the program and welcome guests. An invocation by Rev. C. George Widdifield, pastor of All Saints Episcopal Church, will follow.

Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools, will speak for Pontiac Kiwanis Club; Dr. Harold A. Furlong, for Oakland County Medical Society; and Dr. O. R. Yoder, superintendent of Ypsilanti State Hospital, for the Medical Superintendents Association of Michigan's state hospitals. Dr. Harry E. August, chairman of Michigan Mental Health Commission, will speak for the commission.

M. E. Hudnell, president of Pontiac State Hospital Employes' Club, will unveil the oil portrait, done by Gunnar George. Hospital employes donated funds for the painting, which will hang in the hospital lobby.

HERE'S THE SINK HOLE—But where's Sam? Fishermen insist they saw the monster (and shot at him) from the bridge (center) across this drought-dried fishing spot near Inman, Kans.

South America contains almost eight million square miles and occupies about one-seventh of the total known land area of the globe.

Sink Hole Sam Spotted Again

Some Scoff but Others Believe in Slimy Fish Deep in Kansas

INMAN, Kans. (NEA)—Things are buzzing down at the Sink Hole, especially now that the drought is here.

With the water falling, there's more chance to see Sink Hole Sam, Kansas' answer to the Loch Ness monster.

Sink Hole Sam, bless his slimy heart, was first spotted about a year ago.

Two fishermen were sitting on the bank of the 100-acre fishing spot four miles southeast of here. No fish.

Suddenly, Sam showed up. The fisherman saw him break water. He had a flat head and, 15 feet back, a tail of some sort. In between was a snake-like body.

The fishermen showed Sam their heels, but that started the greatest monster hunt in the history of the Sink Hole. Everybody came out to get a glimpse of Sam.

Those who claim to have seen him say his body is 21 inches around. In drawings by Kansas artists, Sam is shown with a fluted tail, a long fin on his back, and a big non-snakelike grin.

Albert Neufeld took a shot at Sam and said he thought he hit him (or her, or it). The beastie disappeared. But George Reiger Jr., was standing on a little bridge over the Sink Hole and swears he saw Sam and Sam was fit as a monster.

Local papers are giving Sam a big play, reporting that many "responsible citizens" say they've seen Sam. Others scoff.

The scoffers say how could a monster get into the Sink Hole in the first place—it's just a depression in the earth that's been constantly sagging and widening since an oil company did core drilling on the site 25 years ago.

The believers scoff at the scoffers. They say the area is inundated by floods every so often, and Sam could have come in with the fishes from Inman Lake or the Little Arkansas River during a flood.

Or maybe he was down in some underground pool all along, and just got swimming room as the Sink Hole sank.

So sightseers keep flocking around the Sink Hole, waiting for a sight of Sam.

But the fishermen stay away. They don't want to hook the best monster to hit Kansas since Tyrannosaurus Rex.

MERRY CHRISTMAS — It always is when ironing is easier. This combination steam and dry iron is used without sprinkling. It presses without a damp cloth. It weighs only 3¼ pounds, sells for less than $19.

Shotgun Bags Raccoon but Blows 180 Dollars

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (UP)—When Jonah Byers of Mahoning Township fired a shotgun blast at an albino raccoon, he bagged not only the animal but $180 in $20 bills as well.

Byer's son, Buddy, 24, forgot to tell his dad that he had hidden the money in the barrel of the shotgun, which the father took on a hunting trip.

Byers fired one shell at the raccoon and found the nine 20's scattered about when he went to retrieve the animal. The greenbacks were mangled, but a bank said there was enough left so they could be accepted for replacement.

Feels Double Loss

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—No recount has been ordered despite a cry of "I was robbed" by a defeated political candidate. Shortly after Harry Gaetano lost out at the polls, gunmen made off with $30 from his service station.

Vegetables From China Thriving in Mississippi

GREENVILLE, Miss. (UP)—Four years ago James Chow, a local grocer, got hungry for the vegetables of his native China.

He ordered some seeds from Hong Kong and planted them in a three-acre plot along the bank of the Mississippi River. He now raises 12 varieties—including two-foot-long string beans and white melons which can be made into soup or fried and kept for two years. Chow sells his produce to Chinese-Americans as far away as Houston, Tex.

The modern torpedo gets its name from the electric fish "torpedo electricus."

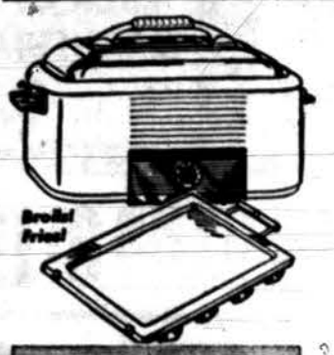

LINDY HONORED—Charles A. Lindbergh is the winner of the 1953 Daniel Guggenheim award for "Pioneering Achievements in Flight and Navigation." He was cited for his flight to Paris in 1927, work in mapping domestic and overseas air routes and his technical contributions to this country's aircraft industry.

For its size, El Paso, Tex., is the most isolated city in the United States: Fort Worth and San Antonio lie more than 600 miles east, Denver 700 miles north, Mexico City 700 miles south, and Los Angeles 800 miles west.

GET READY for winter NOW... with Goodyear's great

SUBURBANITE

1. Pulls thru snow
2. Holds better on ice
3. Takes hold in mud
4. Grips safely on wet roads

Don't let winter's rough weather catch you unprepared! Put a pair of Goodyear's great Suburbanites on your car's rear wheels and be ready to roll through snow, slush, or mud. The famous Suburbanite puts 464 grip-cleats and 1856 knife-like edges to work for you. You get as high as 91% more startability on packed snow, up to 39% more stopability on packed snow, and up to 30% more startability on ice. You get longer wear from Suburbanite's wider, flatter tread AND, when the roads dry off, you get a smoother, quieter ride — less rumble so common with other winter tires. So don't delay another day — see us now for your set of better-gripping Suburbanites by Goodyear.

As low as $1.25 a week for a PAIR!
