Little Rock Has New Plan for Private Schools

Ask Public Donations to Operate Classes in Rented Buildings

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Little Rock Private School Corporation announced today that it will open private, segregated schools in private buildings next week if it can't use four closed high schools.

At the same time, the corporation appealed for public contributions to operate the schools and asked citizens to report any suitable private buildings around Little Rock that might be used for schools.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, announced the corporation's plans at a news conference in the State Capitol.

He said, however, that nothing will be done pending the outcome of next Monday's hearing on a petition for a permanent

The Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals on Monday issued a temporary restraining order to the Little Rock School Board not to transfer the four high school buildings to the private school corporation.

Takes Oath of Office

NEW MAYOR — Mayor Philip E. Rowston wears a proud smile as he repeats his oath of office this morning before City Clerk Ada R. Evans in the city commission's city hall chambers.

New Pontiac Mayor Upholds Tradition

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac's new mayor is carrying on a family tradition.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston's maternal grandfather, William Brewster, served as mayor here around the turn of the century.

Before he became mayor, Brewster was a Pontiac alderman, an office which has long since disappeared.

When he quit as mayor in 1900, Brewster took over the job of Oakland County Sheriff for two years.

The grandson has shown a similar talent for public life.

After three years representing District 2 as the city commission's youngest member, attorney Rowston, 39, was sworn in as mayor this morning to replace William W. Donaldson, who resigned to devote more time to family and business.

Before his term expires in 1960, Rowston will be called on to lead about 80 weekly commission meetings, which is his main job as mayor, and asked to lend his support and presence to innumerable enterprises and events as Pontiac's official spokesman.

Traditionally the commission member who has made the final motion for adjournment every week, Rowston aims to conduct his meetings with efficiency and dispatch.

IMPOSING FIGURE

As Pontiac's top elective official, he makes an imposing figure, his 6-foot, four-inch stature standing out in any crowd.

You can recognize Phil Rowston easily—he's the tall fellow in the conservative dark suit, bushy moustache and brown Homburg hat, an item that has become a sort of trademark with him.

Born and raised in Pontiac, Rowston was graduated from Pontiac Central High School in 1939 as president of his class. Working as a short order cook, he put himself through Olivet College, graduating with a degree in economics and accounting in 1942.

★ ★ ★

Two days after graduation, he married a Pontiac girl, LaNetta Ludlow. They live at 532 W. Iroquois Rd. and have two daughters, LaNetta, 14, and Elizabeth, 11.

After three years in the Army as an enlisted man during World War II, Rowston returned to Pontiac and worked in the account-

Robin Wittan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Wittan, of 1910 Warwick Blvd., died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 1:20 p.m.

Keego Harbor Police said she ran into the side of a passing car and then slipped under the vehicle. The car was being driven by Joseph A. Grimshaw, 62, of 3025 Moss St., Keego Harbor.

According to officer Arthur Holmes, the girl was running from Roosevelt School to her mother who was waiting across the street to pick her up. The accident occurred at the noon hour.

Police said Grimshaw was only traveling at approximately 12 to 15 miles an hour. He was not held.

Commerce Man Tells of Seeing Gangster Killed

Donald E. Chandler Details Fight Which Ended in Death

A Commerce Township salesman, who said he has lived "in mortal terror" for more than nine months, today admitted he witnessed the killing of Texas gangster George Kean in his home, 1872 Point Dr. last December.

Donald E. Chandler, 38, said the slaying took place during a drunken struggle in which three members of Kean's gang attempted to disarm the self-styled "gangster prince of Fort Worth."

Details of the incident were released today by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem as the climax to a four-day investigation during which Kean's violent death first came to light, his body was discovered, and an Ecorse ex-convict Dimitrios Tsermengas was arrested for investigation of murder.

Chandler told Ziem in a formal statement today that he had been warned by the gang after the killing to keep quiet, "or it will be your life or your wife's."

"I've been scared to death," said Chandler after showing up voluntarily at the Pontiac State Police Post last night because his name had been linked to Tsermengas' through a notebook taken from the latter's car.

With the scene of the crime uncovered, Ziem today began preparing an order for a warrant charging Tsermengas with first-degree murder.

Orders for the same charge were prepared for the two other members of the gang, identified as Thomas D. Smith and Lowell E. Macomb, both of Fort Worth.

34 Degrees, Frost to Chill Area Tonight

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau, some scattered frost is likely in the area tonight, when the temperature drops to near 34 in the suburban sections. Thirty-eight is the forecast for Pontiac.

In an extended forecast, temperatures will average about eight degrees below the normal high of 67 and normal low of 48. Precipitation will average under one-tenth inch as showers about Saturday or Sunday.

The lowest recording preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 38 degrees. The reading at 2 p.m. was 54.

Braves Confident Facing Odds

Brisk Day Greets Series

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It was a brisk, clear day with the temperature close to the 50-degree mark today as the Milwaukee Braves made ready to open defense of their World Series crown against the New York Yankees.

The playing surface at County Stadium, protected from Tuesday morning's rain by a cover, appeared to be in good condition.

Long before the gates were opened, ticket holders thronged around the barriers. A sellout crowd of 47,300 had been assured for weeks.

Although the downtown area was not as gaily decorated as it was a year ago when the Braves won their first pennant, it was jammed with fans from all parts of the Midwest.

★ ★ ★

It was said scalpers were getting as much as $150 for a strip of tickets for the four games scheduled to be played here.

There was a brisk 13-mile wind blowing across the field from right toward the left field barrier that is 320 feet from the plate at the foul line.

Mostly fair weather was predicted, with another frost tonight and partly cloudy, cool weather again Thursday for the second game. Three hours before game time it was 48.

★ ★ ★

The hot dog and coffee vendors should do well at the stadium today but there probably won't be much market for this city's most famous product—cold beer.

The Milwaukee Braves are picking themselves today to win in five games.

First baseman Frank Torre put it this way:

"Most of us think we'll win it in five because we're a much stronger ball club than we were last year."

"You can say that again," piped up shortstop Johnny Logan, dressing in the next locker, "And you can put me down for five games, too." Torre let Logan have his say and then continued:

"I've never played with a club that has so much confidence as this one," he said. "They're real loose and relaxed. We're not cocky or anything like that, but we feel we're the boss this time, not the Yankees.

"Look around this clubhouse. Do you see one guy with a worried look?"

Steps Back In as Contract Talk Hits Stalemate

Hopes to Wind Up Deal Fast, Get Back to GM; Deadline Tomorrow

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther today again turned his personal attention to labor negotiations at Chrysler Corp. where he has been rebuffed twice in the last eight days in attempts to get a clear cut contract settlement.

Reuther left Chrysler talks early yesterday saying he felt he was no longer needed and that a meeting of minds had been achieved.

But he came back today after his subordinates failed to wrap things up in a long session which ended in the wee hours this morning.

"I hope to tie up the loose ends here quickly and get back to General Motors," Reuther said as he entered the talks.

The union has a 10 a.m. tomorrow strike deadline at General Motors. Reuther has been trying to enter last ditch bargaining sessions at GM, but has been bogged by troubles at Chrysler over special contract provisions for salaried employes.

The Union said it expected to wrap up three of five separate contracts with Chrysler today.

These would cover some 45,000 to 75,000 skilled, production and maintenance workers in one contract; about 600 parts and warehouse workers in a second contract and about 100 cafeteria workers in a third contract.

Left unsettled then would be two contracts—one for 3,000 to 3,500 engineers and the other for 5,500 office workers.

The Union said these two could be worked out more easily after the other agreements were settled.

City Appoints Two to Hospital Board

Two remaining vacancies on the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees were filled by City Commissioners last night.

Appointed were Robert A. Armstrong, 67, of 179 Cherokee Rd., and Lynn D. Allen Jr., 33, of 934 Argyle St.

Armstrong, who retired last year as executive vice president of the Michigan Seamless Tube Co. in South Lyon, once was general parts and service manager at Pontiac Motor Division.

Allen, a Pontiac optometrist, is the son of the late county clerk and was voted "Man of the Year" this spring by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Armstrong fills the term left vacant by the resignation of Harold B. Euler, new hospital director. It expires June 30, 1959. Allen's term expires June 30, 1960. The post was left vacant when Edward P. Barrett moved out of the city and became ineligible to hold it.

Pursued by Police Car, Woman Kills Pedestrian

A Pontiac woman driver being pursued by police struck and killed an elderly pedestrian in downtown Detroit early this morning.

Detroit police are holding Wanda De Potty, 33, of 1077 Durant Ave., for investigation of felonious driving.

A Detroit scout car was chasing Miss De Potty north on Woodward for running a red light at Grand River when her auto hit William Young, 72, of 185 Geneva, Highland Park. The accident occurred at 2:10 a.m.

Witnesses told police that Young started to cross to the east side of Woodward on the green signal, but that the light changed before he reached the other side.

Miss De Potty told police that the Woodward-Adams signal was green when she started to enter the intersection and that she did not see the pedestrian.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Four-year-old Edward Sokolowski had a few bad moments yesterday when police and firemen, unable to remove a pair of handcuffs he had snapped to his ankles, took him to a fire station for a bigger hacksaw. Dinner for Democrats to Be Thursday Night

A $10-a-plate dinner to raise campaign funds for all Oakland County Democratic candidates will be held tomorrow night at the Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Featured speaker for the 7 p.m. gathering in the Elks ballroom will be Pennsylvania Sen. Joseph S. Clark, who, before his election to the United States Senate in 1956, was the first Democratic mayor of Philadelphia in 67 years.

Carlos G. Richardson, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, said he expected some 600 to attend the dinner. He said tickets are still available at Democratic headquarters in the Roosevelt Hotel, and will also be available at the door.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will head a long list of Democratic state and county officials who are expected to attend. This includes Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Detroit Sen. John B. Swainson, candidate for Hart's lieutenant governorship.

To be honored among the many county candidates at the Pontiac dinner will be Leslie H. Hudson, Pontiac's representative in the State House of Representatives and a candidate for the county's seat in the U. S. House of Representatives.

The cars are not scheduled to be unveiled officially in dealers' showrooms until next Thursday.

The City Commission last night stamped its approval on the plan.

Reds Resume Atomic Tests

U.S. Calls for 1-Year Suspension if Soviet Will Follow Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, chiding the Soviet Union for resuming nuclear weapons tests, says it will go through with plans for a one-year U.S. test suspension if the Soviets will follow suit.

The State Department issued that announcement Tuesday night a short time after the Atomic Energy Commission reported the Soviet Union had terminated its much-heralded but short-lived test suspension with at least two new blasts.

The department described the Soviet tests as confirmation of U.S. suspicions that the Soviet test suspension announcement last March 31 was just propaganda.

"It was suspected at the time that the Soviet announcement was primarily a propaganda exercise and that there was no real intention to suspend testing," the department said. "This now seems to be confirmed by the event."

The AEC announcement of the new Soviet tests backed up reports earlier in the day from Tokyo that blast waves from the direction of the Soviet Union had been detected.

"Two detonations were detected," the AEC said. "Both took place north of the Arctic Circle and were of moderate to high yield."

In announcing the United States hopes to adhere to its own suspension plans, the State Department noted that talks initiated by this country are scheduled to begin in Geneva Oct. 31 on means of reaching agreement on policing a worldwide test suspension.

The United States still is conducting a series of atomic tests at its Nevada Proving Grounds, but these are expected to end before Oct. 31.

The Soviet Union already has agreed to attend the Geneva meeting but whether the resumption of Soviet tests signaled a change in policy remained unclear.

Audience of Seven Hears Potter's Talk

By United Press International

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) campaigned to an almost empty hall in Benton Harbor last night.

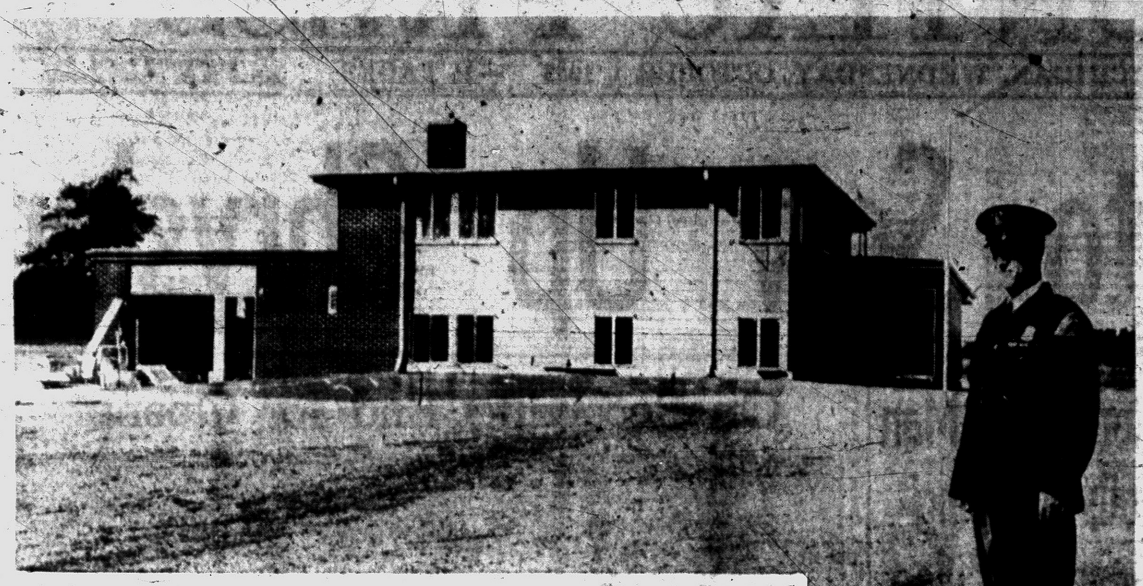

Potter spoke to an audience of only seven persons gathered at the Calvin Britain School.

The poor turnout was labeled "a disgusting exhibition of voter apathy" by Philip Molley, Berrien County GOP chairman.

Potter had hoped to speak in a hall belonging to Local 793 of the United Auto Workers but a union official was quoted as saying that unless UAW headquarters sent its man for a joint appearance, a Republican was barred.

The Cheboygan Republican, who planned to return to Detroit today, took the occasion to attack "union bosses who try to spoonfeed their members with canned politics."

Potter called himself "the best friend labor ever had."

Says He Saw Gangster Killed

Smith is in custody in Fort Worth awaiting trial on an armed robbery charge, while Macomb is still at large.

Until Chandler's story came out, officials had been mystified as to where the killing took place. Although admitting that he accidentally shot Kean during a quarrel, Tsermengas had given no details about the place since his Monday night arrest.

★ ★ ★

He said only that it was in "a friend's cottage, somewhere off Commerce road in Oakland County."

It was expected that Chandler would be held as a material witness.

As a sidelight, two policemen from Collinsville, Ill. visited Tsermengas in his Oakland County jail cell last night to thank him for saving their lives.

Officers John Cagnola and Dominic Giofre said that they had been kidnaped by the Kean gang as it worked its way north from Fort Worth last December.

★ ★ ★

Kean, gun-happy and drunk, wanted to kill them, the officers said, but Tsermengas persuaded him to let them go.

Describing himself simply as "an acquaintance" of Tsermengas, Chandler said that the four men visited his home while his wife was away early last December, although, like Tsermengas, he couldn't remember the exact date.

With obvious emotion, Chandler described how Kean brandished two pistols, how the four men had seven guns among them, and how they drank two and a half quarts of whisky while they were there.

★ ★ ★

According to Ziem, Chandler's story went like this:

On the day in question, Tsermengas called the Chandler home, saying, "I want to see you." Tsermengas and Kean arrived in one car about a half hour later, with Kean holding the two pistols as he walked through the front door.

The two other men who Chandler could only describe as dark-haired and light-haired, arrived in another car soon afterward.

After boasting that he had killed 10 men in his life, including one Texas ranger, Kean became angry at Tsermengas for interceding on behalf of the two Collinsville officers.

(Ziem figured that the Collinsville incident happened one or two days before Kean's death.)

Kan ordered the two unidentified men to go buy whisky and Chandler and Tsermengas to round up a policeman's uniform, which Kean wanted to use in connection with a robbery he was planning.

★ ★ ★

Chandler and Tsermengas went to a Pontiac pawn shop for about an hour, but deliberately did not make any attempt to find a uniform.

When they returned, Chandler noted how much whisky had been drunk. Soon Kean was in a semi-stupor on the living room couch.

Chandler and Tsermengas watched as the two other men leaped on Kean to disarm him of the two guns he was still holding.

In the struggle that ensued, Tsermengas stepped over and brought his .45 caliber pistol down onto Kean's face. It went off.

★ ★ ★

Chandler quoted Tsermengas as immediately saying, "I didn't mean to kill him. I was only trying to knock him out."

Chandler thought Kean was still alive and advised that he be taken to Pontiac General Hospital annex. The three men bundled the body into a blanket, stuffed it into an auto trunk, and after issuing their stern warning, drove off.

Ziem said that Mrs. Chandler apparently never knew of the incident until last night when Det. Charles A. Leaf of the Pontiac State Police called at her home while her husband was away.

Leaf asked her to tell Chandler to come to the Pontiac post, because his name and address had been found in Tsermengas' notebook. State police had been questioning all Tsermengas' known friends in hopes of finding one who owned the death-cottage.

★ ★ ★

Tsermengas admitted joining the gang in Fort Worth in the fall of 1957. He said that after the shooting, he and the three other men drove around Michigan for about two days before burying Kean in a makeshift grave near Alpena.

★ ★ ★

An underworld tip to police in Fort Worth gave the first clue. Acting on the tip, police scoured the state and eventually found the grave Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The same tipster furnished police with Tsermengas' name. He was arrested at his Ecorse home Monday night.

KENNETH SCOTT

Only Faint Chance Lost Boy, 4, Alive

IRON MOUNTAIN (UPI) — Snow flurries and freezing temperatures through the night today virtually eliminated all hope that 4-year-old Kenneth Scott would be found alive in the bear-infested wilderness of Upper Michigan.

Kenneth disappeared last Sunday while visiting a hunting camp with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scott, of Kingsford.

He was clad only in a thin jacket, blue jeans and tennis shoes.

More than one thousand police and other volunteers combed the swampland, underbrush and woodlands of the area without finding a trace of the missing boy. They were aided by National Guard and Civil Air Patrol planes.

The area where the boy disappeared is bounded by two rivers, the Sturgeon and the Escanaba. But State Police said no plans had been made yet to search the rivers.

Iron Mountain industries closed to allow workers to join in the hunt and high school youths were dismissed from classes to help.

The Salvation Army and wives of searchers set up food stations. Airplanes, helicopters and bloodhounds also took part in the search.

Two older brothers said Kenneth followed them out of the camp and they told him to go back. He vanished in the dense woods.

Smaller T-Bird Report Denied

Ford Officials Claim Story 'Not Factual'; Mum on Plans

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Company today denied a report by the Detroit Free Press that it planned to offer a stripped-down six-cylinder Thunderbird late next year in answer to a growing demand for American-built economy small cars.

"None of the statements appearing in the Detroit Free Press this morning speculating on the Ford small car is factual," said J. O. Wright, vice-president and Ford Division-general manager.

Although denying the low-price T-bird report, Wright declined "for competitive reasons" to discuss whether Ford plans to bring out a small car.

★ ★ ★

"We have done extensive research on this subject and are satisfied we know where the market is going," Wright said.

"If and when the market can support an American-made small car, we will be ready on a fully-competitive basis."

company bargainer, attended the owl-hour discussions.

Reuther moved into the GM talks Tuesday hours after failing to settle at Chrysler.

At the time he expressed confidence of a quick Chrysler settlement, but Leary later did not join him in this.

"We've run into some difficulty," Leary said. "We lost ground if anything."

The contract drive for Chrysler's 70,000 workers followed the union's agreement with Ford. This included a three-year contract with improved layoff pay, a new provision for severance pay, and continued cost of living and productivity wage increases.

★ ★ ★

Ford and the UAW reached agreement Sept. 17, shortly after 98,000 Ford workers went on strike across the country. The settlement was estimated at 24 to 30 cents an hour per worker over three years.

★ ★ ★

The average hourly wage for auto workers as a whole under old contracts was about $2.43.

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton met Reuther Tuesday, saying, "Wildcat walkouts are such that the strike deadline again becomes academic."

Walkouts idled up to 45,000 GM workers last week and led Seaton to say that a national strike against GM was already under way.

MOVES ORIGINAL DEADLINE

The UAW then moved its original strike deadline of 11 a.m. Tuesday to 10 a.m. Thursday and moved to get striking GM workers back on the job.

★ ★ ★

Union efforts cut GM idled to 8,804.

Walkouts also hit Chrysler with 12,400 idle.

GM and Chrysler termed the rash of wildcat strikes a master plan by the international union designed to bring pressure on negotiations.

The union said the strikes resulted from local grievances unsettled in the four months since the old contracts expired.

The Day in Birmingham

New Clubhouse Seen for Springdale Club

BIRMINGHAM — Increased play at the city-owned Springdale Golf Course brings up the possibility that a new club house may be built in the not-too-distant future.

Play has jumped from 18,000 to 28,000 rounds in one season, with profits correspondingly high.

The present building used as a course supply and refreshment stand is inadequate and at one time was condemned by the fire marshal. A complete rewiring has put it back on the approved list.

A recent survey by Dale Rolph, manager, and Charles Gale, forestry and parks superintendent, shows Springdale rates favorably with other area courses according to City Manager L. R. Gare.

All profits are used exclusively to maintain and improve the course, Gare pointed out. This includes proper fertilization and mowing of greens and fairways and general maintenance of the adjoining park area.

A new building would include a food concession, pro shop, and improved sanitary facilities. It will be located near the present building site to provide starter service when play warrants it.

25 World Series, So, What Happens?

Goose Goslin's drive to right. Hubbell, the Man Alone, in the Yanks-Giants series of '36 and '37, and Dean's great slow-ball defeat by the Yanks in '38 . . . and Derringer and Walters and the irrepressible Buck Newsom in '39 and '40.

Mickey Owens' passed ball in '41, the inspiration play of Billy Southworth's Cards in '42 . . . and drab nights at an Eighth Air Force Airbase in England, listening to the '43 series with a wonderful boy who was soon to die, Maj. Billy Southworth Jr.

The ludicrously bad series of '44 and '45. Nine straight pinch-hitters struck out in the former, and on the eve of the clash of '45 Warren Brown uttered his immortal,

"I don't think either side can win." Then the blur of those Yankee-Dodger series that seemed never to end, just begin where the other contest ended, another inning instead of another year. That skein almost killed baseball.

The Milwaukees are the freshest blood that has come into the staggering old game since the surge of the Gas House gang. Bill Corum had a piece the other day hinting that they may be sold in time to the Schlitz people, which could prompt the beer company to change its slogan to "The team that made Milwaukee famous."

★ ★ ★

Who's going to win? Twenty-five years doesn't give a fellow any such knowledge. It only tends to fog up what was a crystal clear ball in 1933. Then I was sure. The Washington Senators would beat the New York Giants four games to one. Well, I had the right figures. Only thing wrong was that the Giants won four games to one.

October Arrives Wearing Top Coat

Many Feel a Bit of Winter

By The Associated Press

The first day of October felt like a wintry day across broad areas of the country from east of the Rockies today.

A huge mass of cold air from Canada dominated the mid-continent. Brisk winds spread the chilly air south and eastward and the touch of wintry weather was felt in most areas to the Atlantic Coast.

★ ★ ★

Top coats and blankets were recommended for fans going to the first World Series game in Milwaukee. Temperatures in the low 50s were forecast. The mercury tumbled to near freezing this morning.

The leading edge of cool air reached into western sections of the Atlantic Coast states and northern parts of the Gulf Coast states during the night.

Preceding and after the arrival of the cold, rain fell from Texas northeastward through northern sections of the Gulf Coast states, Tennessee, into the mid-Atlantic states and southern sections of New England.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures dropped below freezing in northern Midwest areas, the lowest marks of the season in most areas.

Readings in the 30s were general west of Lake Michigan and south as far as Kansas and 40-degree marks were reported from the eastern Great Lakes to Oklahoma. Skies were clear.

Generally fair weather prevailed in most areas west of the Rockies with temperatures in the 50s except for higher marks in the far southwest region.

Studebaker to Add New Smaller Car

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Studebaker Packard Co. today rolled out the first of its new smaller series of autos, the "Lark by Studebaker" off the assembly line.

Company President Harold E. Churchill said the new line would join the firm's "Silver Hawk" as the Studebaker-Packard offering for 1959.

The car will be available in two sedan models, a two-door and a four-door; a hardtop and a station wagon. The sedan will feature a 108½-inch wheelbase, and the station wagon a 113-inch wheelbase.

The price will be in the general neighborhood of $2,000.

Downtown Area Will Become Farmers' Market

Oct. 18 was set by the City Commission as Farm-City Day, on which Oakland County farmers are invited to display produce from their trucks in the downtown area.

★ ★ ★

The Downtown Merchants Assn. believed the venture would prove attractive to Pontiac shoppers and at the same time help establish downtown as a shopping area for more non-city residents.

The association called the Downtown Festival Days last month "highly successful."

★ ★ ★

"The merchants were highly pleased and we believe that the enthusiastic response of the shoppers marks a turning point in downtown history," said N. L. Pattison, association president.

Nest in Copper Fixture Wins Bird-Brain a Mate

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—"Who's a bird-brain?"

There's this sparrow, you see, and that's the question he seems to ask as he gazes down on the world of people from his home in a copper light fixture.

★ ★ ★

The glass of the fixture, hanging on the side of a Bluefield office building, was smashed some time ago.

Not long afterward the little fellow moved in and set up bachelor quarters.

His doubts about whether to stay single or not were ended when he lost his heart to a cute female sparrow who fluttered by one day.

The feeling was nuptial, especially after he showed her around his apartment.

She moved in and together they feathered their nest between the top of the fixture and the light bulb.

During the day, their apartment is heated by solar radiation inducted by the copper roof. When the sun goes down, the light goes on and provides warmth all night.

TIME OFF

The light also furnishes electric incubation for Mama Sparrow's eggs, allowing her plenty of time for worm breaks while her old-fashioned girl friends must eggy-sit.

★ ★ ★

A light rainfall fills the bottom of the fixture with plenty of drinking water while the penthouse apartment remains cozy and dry. When there's a heavy rain, the bottom serves as a sunken bathtub for the love birds to splash about in.

A sliver of broken glass across the base of the fixture makes a fine sun porch.

Solar radiation, electric lighting, running water, electric incubation, sunken bathtub and sun porch.

Jordan's King Hussein Announces Withdrawal in Parliament

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein announced today that British troops will begin withdrawing from Jordan Oct. 20.

In a speech from the throne at the opening of a session of Parliament, the youthful monarch said agreement to this effect had been reached between Jordan "and our friend the British government."

He said the agreement provides that evacuation of the 3,000-man garrison will be completed "within a period which will not exceed the time necessary to arrange transport facilities for this purpose."

British troops began flying into Jordan July 17 at the invitation of the Jordan government. This was at a time of great unrest in the Mideast three days after a coup in Iraq had overthrown the royal government there.

★ ★ ★

In his speech prepared by Premier Samir Rifai, the 23-year-old Hussein promised Jordan would "do its utmost to promote unity of the Arabs."

Without mentioning President Nasser's United Arab Republic by name, the King complained that Jordan was still subjected to pressure from abroad.

★ ★ ★

Hussein said Jordan intended to strengthen her army and promised his government would take "early steps" to remove restrictions arising out of martial law, in force in Jordan for the past 17 months.

The King blamed the "atheist and destructive" forces of international communism for much of the chaos in the Arab world.

Rhee Tells Korea Troops to 'Keep Powder Dry'

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — "Keep your powder dry and hope the opportunity will come before long," President Syngman Rhee told South Korean troops as they observed the third Armed Forces Day today.

Rhee apparently referred to an opportunity to fight against the Communists to bring about reunification of the divided nation.

Addressing 2,000 select troops and 5,000 students at a ceremony at Seoul Stadium, Rhee said Napoleon's army "kept its powder dry and consequently won many triumphs."

TAKING NO CHANCES — Someone wanted to make sure his favorite chair would still be in place at the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft plant in East Hartford, Conn., when he came back from vacation. He welded a short length of chain to the chair leg, wrapped the other end around a column and welded that end, too.

Chinese Reds Blast Use of 'Sidewinder'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today seized on the use of U.S. Sidewinder missiles by Nationalist Chinese jets to whip up a new hate-America frenzy. The Reds hinted they may use guided missiles in "blow for blow" retaliation.

The Peiping regime's official propaganda organs loosed a stream of articles describing the "fresh storm of anger" among Red China's 600 millions over the "outrageous crime"—the destruction of a Chinese plane by a Sidewinder.

The newspaper Ta Kung Pao was quoted as saying, "Only by dealing unrelenting and heavy counterblows at the aggressors and severely punishing those guilty of the provocation of firing the guided missiles can peace be safeguarded."

Other Red Chinese newspapers charged the use of Sidewinders had pushed the world to the brink of nuclear war.

The Sidewinder, an air-to-air missile, has a warhead of conventional explosives. U.S. Secretary of State Dulles said in Washington that the weapon had been delivered to Nationalist China.

There are about 16 million left-handed persons in the U. S.

Flu Gone Away, but Smooch Line Taboo Stays

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Smooch lines still are taboo at Kansas State College.

★ ★ ★

Formerly, students lined up for a kiss at the announcement of engagements, marriages or pinnings at sorority houses. A flu epidemic last fall brought restrictions on social activities, including smooch lines.

★ ★ ★

Other restrictions have been lifted, but the smooch line still is out, college officials said.

"Trench mouth and respiratory diseases can be spread to a great many people during one smooch line," explained Margaret Lahey, associated dean of students.

2 of His Checks Bounce, So He's $1,000 Richer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Robert L. Cowan is $1,000 richer because two of his checks bounced.

Cowan sued his bank, contending $116 he deposited was improperly credited to another account. Later, he said, the bank refused to honor two of his checks in the erroneous belief he had no funds.

A Circuit Court jury Tuesday awarded Cowan $1,000.

Woman Needs Senator's Help to Resign Job

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Most politicians are deluged with job requests, but Sen. Anderson (D-NM) has a different problem.

Mrs. Ruth Nelson wrote Anderson from Mount Edgecumbe, Alaska, asking him to help her quit the postmaster's job she has held since 1947.

Her husband now is living in Las Cruces and employed at White Sands missile range. She wants to join him, so last July she sent in her resignation.

She was told she would continue to be held responsible for the office, even though she left it on leave without pay and with a clerk in charge.

Mrs. Nelson wants the Post Office Department to name a successor.

$28,000 Jap Microscope Will Be Sold to Russia

TOKYO (AP) — A Tokyo firm announced today it has signed a contract for the sale of an electronic microscope to the Soviet Union.

The microscope, with 100,000 times magnifying power, is worth about $28,000 and, is the fourth to be exported by the Tokyo Trading Co. to the Soviet Union since the West agreed to remove the item from the embargo list for Communist countries.

There is a town named Arabia in Indiana.

Strike 5 Hotels in Pittsburgh

Guests Turned Away After Union Rejects Operators' Offer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's first major hotel strike since 1946 crippled five of the city's biggest hotels today.

Representatives of two unions ordered 2,300 service employes off the job at 1:40 a.m. after angrily rejecting a last-minute offer by the hotel operators.

Within an hour pickets appeared in front of the Penn-Sheraton, Roosevelt, Pittsburgher, Sherwyn and Webster Hall hotels.

★ ★ ★

New guests were turned away. Those already registered were welcome to stay although the hotels are operating with meager nonunion crews. Many guests, anticipating the strike, began checking out hours earlier.

Charles Carey, general manager of the Penn-Sheraton, said the walkout would probably cancel several big conventions scheduled this week and next.

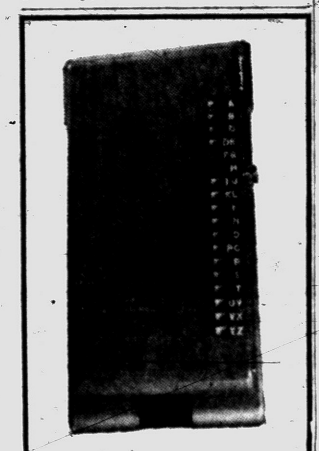

★ ★ ★

Bargaining sessions had lasted through the night in the offices of Mayor David L. Lawrence.

One of the chief roadblocks was a union demand for a 40-hour week for non-tipped employes. Union negotiators stalked out of the session after management had offered to reduce the present 48-hour week gradually until the 40-hour figure was reached in 1960.

Danger! Hazardous Driving Months Ahead!

Moving into the "dangerous driving" months of increased darkness and bad road and weather conditions, Oakland County's traffic fatality count is below that of last year.

But quelling the optimism that such figures raise is the fact that last year the highway fatal count was below the previous year, until October, November and December.

Most important, can last year's three-month death total of 38 from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1 be improved?

We already have lost 70 lives this year. Approximately one death has occurred every four days.

Grim as these figures are, authorities agree that if the ratio remains the same over the next three months, the death total for this year will fall well under 100.

The worst month by far last year was October (when 16 died) and December was next in line (when 14 traffic deaths were recorded).

Today Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons said flatly, "If we don't improve on this record, we will not only lose over 100 lives in 1958, but exceed last year's total of 103."

"The job, naturally, falls in the hands of law enforcers in this area, but without the cooperation of area drivers, we are relatively helpless."

Law enforcers agree that "an officer handing out a ticket cannot necessarily prevent a driver from killing himself or others minutes later by ignoring safety precautions."

WANT COOPERATION

"Our major aim is to create a feeling of cooperation, not hostility, in drivers through constant warnings, reminders and driver education," Irons pointed out.

State police, sheriff's deputies and other law enforcement agencies in Oakland County have become increasingly alarmed by the consistency of fatal accidents over the last three months.

A total of 10 died in July, another 10 in August, and September contributed 9 deaths.

Officials feel that a little concern for safety shown by area motorists will succeed in cutting last year's total considerably.

★ ★ ★

The question in the minds of authorities now is whether or not Oakland County residents will heed the warning.

Authorities agree that a few more weekends like the one just passed would bolster chances of an improved traffic record.

The sheriff's department reported no accidents involving personal injury from midnight Friday to 8 a.m. Monday.

Only one injury accident was reported by State Police, that one coming from the Redford Post, during the same period.

Russian Children Called Healthier, Better Behaved

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Russian children seem healthier than those in America—and they are better behaved, too.

★ ★ ★

So says Dr. Joseph Stokes, chief physician at Children's Hospital, University of Pennsylvania pediatrics professor, and head of the American Pediatric Society. He recently returned from a month in the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

"The Russians are doing a better job of preventive care for their children than we are," Dr. Stokes said in an interview.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Stokes suggested reasons for the better behavior: "The parents give their children a lot of affection. And there is a strong desire for approval by the group. As a result, the kids just seem to mind. So far as we could determine, there is very little juvenile delinquency."

He noted also, he said, that there were practically no war toys or playthings suggestive of violence.

Will Divorce Brando

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mrs. Marlon Brando has made the rumor official: she will sue for divorce.

"This is final and conclusive," Anna Kashfi Brando told a reporter. "I can no longer take his indifference and neglect and his strange way of living."

She says she doesn't know where her husband is. She observed her 24th birthday Tuesday.

They were married in 1957. They have a 4-months-old son, Christian Devi Brando.

New Post Office Compliments City

Pontiac can be justly proud of its new main Post Office, which Postmaster General ARTHUR E. SUMMERFIELD helped dedicate Saturday afternoon.

The spacious new structure on West Huron Street is not only an indication of the growth of the greater Pontiac area, as evidenced by the volume of mail handled; the building is typical of a modernization program under way throughout the Post Office Department.

In his address Saturday Postmaster SUMMERFIELD mentioned some important policies which have been pushed under his administration. No new post offices have been built since 1938 with funds appropriated by Congress, he said.

Instead private business has been invited to build post offices to departmental specifications, the buildings then being leased by the government. The Department has provided some 2,500 modern postal buildings in that manner.

Even though this is but a start on the over-all need (some 12,000 more are needed, he said) it is a substantial start on a sound program.

★ ★ ★

Modern mechanical equipment to speed handling of mail with top efficiency is another major project in the department. Pontiac is fortunate in having the latest in equipment inside its new office, in vehicular equipment, and in acquiring land behind the new office for future expansion.

★ ★ ★

Increase in postal rates, which the present Department administration has fought for almost since the day SUMMERFIELD assumed office, is a step which could not be avoided if good business methods were to prevail.

Rates under this policy are based on the just formula that the cost of handling mail should be paid by those who use the mails. In Mr. SUMMERFIELD's words: "We are now paying more of the cost of handling the mail through the stamp window rather than the tax window."

In his campaign for a realistic policy in postal rates, the Postmaster General has had from the start the support of this newspaper, a support which he generously acknowledged in his address Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Acting Postmaster MILLER and his force of about 275 men and women are fortunate in having a modern, well equipped building as the center of their operations; and in having a businessman of Mr. SUMMERFIELD's stature as the head of their Department.

The combination of adequate facilities, a loyal force of postal employes, and sound policies from the top, adds up to adequate service for a growing industrial area.

For this Pontiac should be grateful.

Are Officials Ignoring Williams' Latest Fling?

TED WILLIAMS, Boston's unaccountable outfielder did it again. This time he sounded off after striking out by hurling a bat into the stands.

It struck a woman.

★ ★ ★

This is the second time the moody Mr. Williams has slammed a bat among the spectators. Perhaps the paying public in Boston overlooks his spitting episodes. Perhaps they forgive him for thumbing his nose at the fans when it pleases the great man. But heaving bats transgresses sheer bad manners. It's a custom the American league officials should recognize pronto "and do something about."

★ ★ ★

Time was, when the top echelon in baseball kept a very tight rein on manners and decorum.

But the BAN JOHNSONS and the Judge LANDISES have faded from the scene and their roles are occupied by a weaker group. Since the lady who was hit has taken no action up to now (except to "forgive" the irrepressible Mr. WILLIAMS), the matter will probably be "smoothed over" and the public assured that "boys will be boys."

Unfortunately, league officials seem to be, too.

An Enormous Pumpkin to Be Door Prize at Fair

Winner of our pumpkin contest is

One Fell Swoop

David Lawrence Says:

Congress May Have to Limit Court

WASHINGTON — The present Supreme Court, by its action this week, may have made inevitable the passage by Congress eventually of some type of legislation limiting the powers of the high court.

LAWRENCE

The Constitution itself gives Congress the right to make limitations on the Supreme Court's authority over certain kinds of cases. The fight will be a long one, and virtually the entire American bar will in the end become participants in the debate.

For, irrespective of the merits of the segregation-integration controversy itself, lawyers everywhere will be concerned, because overnight the Supreme Court has demolished some important pillars in the existing system of judicial procedure.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court not only has asserted the right at any time to reverse "settled law," but claims the right to say years afterwards that it rendered a decision containing language which is not to be found in the text of the first opinion.

Thus, nowhere in the May 17, 1954, decision of the Supreme Court of the United States can any language be found that says that the court on that day and in that opinion ruled that segregation is unconstitutional "where there is state participation through any arrangement, management, funds or property."

Yet the court claims this was what it said in 1954.

★ ★ ★

Senator McClellan of Arkansas makes this comment:

"That was not their holding in their May 17, 1954, decision in the case of Brown v. the Board of Education, 347 U.S. 483, nor was it implied, and no one could so infer."

This departure from established practice means that the Supreme Court has taken unto itself the right not merely to interpret its previous decisions, but to amend them at any time by adding language that was not in the original.

Congress will doubtless institute an inquiry of its own into this strange development.

The court, of course, has a perfect right to say now what it thinks the 1954 decision meant or could mean. But can the court put new words into the text of four years ago and claim that the language was actually there in the first place?

What legal reasoning, moreover, prompted the Supreme Court to denounce "evasive schemes for segregation" and decide a case in that category—now pending in a lower court—even before this case is argued before the justices of the high court itself?

The Supreme Court now has issued through that device a blanket warning that "state support of segregated schools through any arrangement, management, funds or property cannot be squared with the (Fourteenth) amendment's command that no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction equal protection of the laws."

This is in the nature of an advisory opinion about future cases —something that the Supreme Court of the United States has never rendered since the Dred Scott case 100 years ago.

★ ★ ★

At that time the court first decided the only question at issue—that the lower court had no jurisdiction over the case itself—and then proceeded to rule on broad constitutional matters related to slavery as a whole.

It was a deviation from established practice that aroused nationwide resentment among lawyers.

To condone this week's repetition of the precedent is to invite judicial chaos. For at any moment the Department of Justice now can get an injunction from a lower court closing any private school—religious or non-denominational—where there is segregation and claim Supreme Court backing for the action.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Sedatives, Tranquilizers Are Dangerous Narcotics

The lady who runs out of medicine at the bridge party nowadays is in no great distress. Other ladies generally carry in their bags aspirin, bromide, tranquilizer, barbiturate or brandy for just such emergencies.

DR. BRADY

In Yankeeland there is still a certain amount of formality or legal regulation with which one must comply in order to purchase and possess morphine, heroin and a few other narcotics. But no such impediment is put in the way of the millions of customers who habitually use sedatives, analgesics (sense-deadeners, pain-killers), sleeping pills or happiness pills.

At first the poor fools do not know the hazards involved in repeated indulgence in such drugs, and after a while they just do not care.

Here's a sad letter concerning an isolated instance of the evil inherent in the popular propensity for dope:

"Dear Dr. Brady: My daughter-in-law died from an overdose of sleeping pills. There was no reason for suicide. The coroner's jury found it was not suicide.

"Some time ago you said a person under the effect of a barbiturate may come half-awake and without realizing what he is doing take more of the drug, if it is at hand, so that he never regains consciousness. I believe my daughter-in-law did just that . . .

"She left two small girls. I want to show them that such cases happen, so they will be in no doubt about the cause of their mother's death. Sincerely yours, ———"

Yes, sir, I have mentioned that tragic fact from time to time. There's nothing more I can tell you about it. People are generally incredulous or, if they believe such mistakes happen, indifferent—they assume it can't happen to them.

But it can happen to anybody, and the mere possibility should make people handle such dangerous medicine with due caution! Never leave any of the medicine within easy reach of the individual under its effects. Incapacity to use good judgment is a characteristic effect of any narcotic, be the dose small or large.

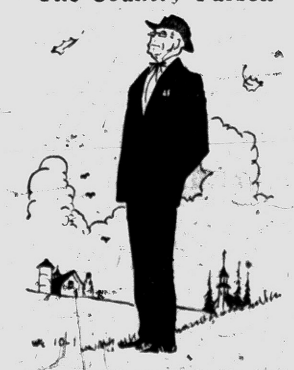

Of course alcohol also is a narcotic. It is therefore a travesty on justice that, as likely as not, persons serving as jurors may be under the effect of a narcotic at the very time they reach a verdict as to whether a person was under the effects of alcohol . . . for in Yankeeland we cherish the fatuous fancy that one can take a drink or two without getting any effect at all! That is, we do if we use narcotics ourselves.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Thanks Press for Editorial but Gives Credit to Others

A million thanks for your kind thoughts in the editorial about my Olympic activities. These things don't just happen by themselves.

★ ★ ★

In 1955 and 1956, the Junior Chamber of Commerce here put on a drive to help finance the U. S. teams on their trip to Melbourne. They came up with a cool $100,000. Then in 1956, the people here repeated the performance of 1948 and we had a smashing success to the tune of another $50,000 for the swimming and diving finals. Legal counsel contributed their work with the internal revenue people by making contributions to the Olympic fund drives tax deductible.

All of this takes many groups of people, and they deserve the credit.

I also note that you have a good remembrance of Kip and his golf game. You're not kidding about those 77s.

'Wedding Party Got What It Deserved'

Wedding Attendant stated 300 guests left Pontiac without a good word for the town because police stopped their childish nonsense of blowing horns. I'd say 300 pests left town and good riddance as long as they have the idea they can use public streets as a place to celebrate, instead of the bride's home or a hall.

I'm not prejudiced against weddings, fun or gaiety, but there's a place for everything. An automobile horn is intended as a warning device, not a plaything for wedding celebrations. Did Wedding Attendant ever think of the right to peace and quiet of other people?

'When Labor Rises, Hoffas Will Flee'

When a Teamster business agent like the late Frank Kierdorf, who died of burns apparently received while on an arson job for the union, walks into the office of a small businessman and lays a "recognition" form on the desk, he signs up "or else."

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, the picture of "employer coercion" is a false one. Big business isn't persuaded by stink bombs or blackjacks and the only persuading they need to know is that doing business with the union pays.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, a couple of years ago hundreds of corporation executives gathered to give a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner for Hoffa. The point is that big business doesn't give a hang about Hoffa's methods. All they care about is the results and Hoffa keeps the duespayers in line.

★ ★ ★

The Hoffas aren't so almighty. They only seem that way because labor is on its knees, but the day labor arises, you will see the labor fakers run for their holes like poisoned rats.

'Praise, but Don't Whitewash Dirt'

In your recent editorial, "Push the Positive, It Beats the Negative," there are several aspects that are incongruous and inconsistent with the spirit of the press.

★ ★ ★

First of all, we ought not spend too much time bragging about conditions of which we ought to be ashamed. Boast of those things of which we can be justly proud is all to the good, but it's unrealistic to try to whitewash our iniquities.

★ ★ ★

It should be the goal of any newspaper worth its salt to keep the city clean, not try to suppress the dirt.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

We All Benefit From Advertising

Our great nation would soon enter into stagnation if it were not for aggressive advertising and salesmanship. So study my answer to Howard and discuss our debt to advertisers and salesmen. For they actually won all of our wars and our greatest hope for future safety. They deserve a long overdue salute.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-333: Howard T., aged 39, is an introvertive scientist.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, it seems to me that advertising is just a waste of money," he began irritably.

"Just think of the millions of dollars spent by large firms to sell their insurance or oranges, their automobiles or radio sets.

DR. CRANE

"Why don't they give that money to us consumers in lower prices for the merchandise?"

Many inexperienced folks hold this same erroneous view. Actually, advertising is simply a form of adult education.

★ ★ ★

And advertisers, said the late Dr. Glenn Frank "are not the high priests of a sordid commercialism. No, they are the spark plugs of civilization."

That is eminently true.

You will find that America leads the world because we are the greatest go-getter advertising nation on this Earth.

Without advertising, there is stagnation. Advertising is the spark plug for creation.

★ ★ ★

Advertising also taught us many medical truths. Our children would not be drinking orange juice and their quart of milk per day if it had not been for our tutoring via advertising.

Nor would we have such pearly white teeth if the toothpaste and tooth brush firms had not enlightened us.

We'd be at the oxcart stage and still have kerosene lamps, with no baths except on Saturday night and then in a galvanized tub — if it were not for advertising.

★ ★ ★

Aviation would not have progressed nor would we be enjoying the wonderful privileges of this more abundant life, except for advertising.

ADS LOWER PRICES

Actually, in most cases advertising really lowers the price of goods to us consumers.

Take the orange trade, as an example. Some 50 years ago, oranges were such an expensive luxury that people bought only one or two just for Christmas.

And the price was sky high. Then advertising came along and brought them into such widespread demand that mass production of citrus fruits whittled the price down to a nominal figure.

★ ★ ★

That has proved true for almost all other lines of merchandise.

Only in a saturated market, as the cigaret trade, does advertising produce an artificial feuding among producers with a net increase in costs to the consumers.

Advertising also adds to our spiritual and cultural development. It is the advertisers who sponsor radio and TV shows that entertain us with good music and let us hear great clergymen like Bishop Sheen, Billy Graham and scores of others.

We enjoy football classics and baseball broadcasts, thanks to the advertiser.

And this newspaper, which contains almost the equivalent word-age of a modern novel, is able to sell for 7c to 10c, thanks to advertising.

Moreover, Mother obtains bargains for the entire family in clothing as well as food, by perusing the ads in this newspaper.

Actually, the modern housewife gets the daily paper for nothing, since she saves far more than the annual cost of a daily paper on the bargains which she obtains via the printed ads herein:

★ ★ ★

Advertisers and salesmen indirectly won our wars by developing the vast demand for goods in peacetime years. They thus forced our factories to mushroom. And then, in time of war, we had the machinery to produce the ordnance that has won all of our wars.

So send for my booklet "New Psychology of Advertising & Selling," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20c (non-profit). It will open your eyes further.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Gets Request to Open Schools

Norfolk Asks Governor to Open 6 Closed by Integration Laws

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. receives today the first formal request from a Virginia locality that he open integration-closed public schools.

It comes from Norfolk, where six secondary schools are locked under the state's massive resistance laws. The City Council asks that the governor reopen the schools immediately and operate them on a segregated basis.

★ ★ ★

Almond told a news conference he hoped he would be able to act within the next few days to reopen the six closed schools at Norfolk and the other closed schools—two at Charlottesville and one in Warren County.

While he declined to disclose any details—saying to do so would invite the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to attack it on the "friendly grounds" of the federal courts—many observers believed it would call for the elimination from the schools of grades which would be integrated.

★ ★ ★

Ten thousand schoolchildren are out of classes at Norfolk, 1,000 in Warren County, and 1,700 in Charlottesville.

At Norfolk, elimination of integrated grades would mean taking out one grade each from three schools, two grades each in two others, and the 9th, 10th and 11th grades at Norview High School.

Presumably, if these grades were eliminated the white children who would normally be enrolled in these classes would either be transferred to other white schools or would receive their education in private schools set up by local organizations.

★ ★ ★

The three junior high and three senior high schools at Norfolk were ordered closed and brought under control of the governor Saturday after the City School Board assigned 17 Negroes to the schools.

Marines Keep Situation in Hand—Boy Enlists

CENTRAL CITY, Ky. (AP)—The U.S. Marines made a special effort to get Stephen Elsinger into the corps.

★ ★ ★

He passed the written examination but a physical checkup showed the 18-year-old had a serious lung disorder. He was sent home with advice that an operation was necessary.

★ ★ ★

The operation was arranged but Elsinger needed five pints of blood. Marine recruiters at Louisville, 200 miles away, soon had the situation well in hand. Five donated a pint each.

Elsinger will be sworn in soon.

North Carolina Schools Quiet

Token Integration Enters 2nd Year in Three Cities, Disturbances Minor

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Ten Negro children are attending five predominantly white schools during the second year of limited token integration in three North Carolina cities—Greensboro, Winston-Salem and Charlotte.

Except for two incidents involving disputes between white and Negro children, the first four weeks of the term apparently have passed quietly at the five schools.

At Greensboro, Russell Herring, 13, was sent home two weeks ago by officials at Gillespie Park School for fighting with another student. Elijah Herring told reporters his son was defending himself from a boy who tried to choke him. Four other Negroes attend his school. Officials would not say whether young Herring was expelled or suspended.

The other incident came at Charlotte's Central High School. Gus Roberts, the only Negro student, tussled with a white youth. The white boy was suspended for a day.

★ ★ ★

It is Roberts' second year at Central. His 13-year-old sister Girvaud is attending Piedmont Junior High School, also for the second year.

Originally, seven Negroes were assigned to the Greensboro school for this term. However, the mother of two children who had attended the school last year requested that they be reassigned to Negro schools.

At Winston-Salem, a Negro senior girl, returned to Reynolds High School for her second year there. The Winston-Salem School Board also assigned three Negro children to the Easton Elementary School for the first time, and parents of more than 200 children had their children reassigned to other schools.

The Greensboro, Winston-Salem and Charlotte school boards, which admitted the Negro children to those white schools, also rejected the reassignment applications of a number of others. Some of these have promised to carry their cases to the federal courts.

North Carolina has relied for the most part on a law which gives local school boards full power to assign children to schools. This assignment law is similar to one proposed in Virginia by the Gray Commission, but which was abandoned in favor of the policy of massive resistance.

★ ★ ★

In court tests, the 4th Federal Circuit Court of Appeals has held that the North Carolina assignment law is not unconstitutional on its face. The ruling was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. Dr. says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins B and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.00.

* Other causes for muscle cramps are entirely unrelated to calcium deficiency.

Fans Say Stereo Sound Will Sweep the Country

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The music box which has made such a remarkable comeback since the war today has a fast-growing baby brother.

Stereophonic sound, its fans declare, will sweep the country the way high fidelity and the long-playing records did before it. What this may do to the already established older forms of the phonographic industry no one is quite sure yet.

Some think stereo will follow the same course that hi fi took.

Hi fi retail sales jumped from 12 million dollars in 1950 to perhaps 260 million dollars this year.

Stereo is a new starter but its enthusiasts think sales soon will reach the 500,000 sets a year mark, or about a tenth of the total phonograph business.

The latest entry into the home music field is the device that makes you think the sound is coming from all sides of the living room, instead of just from the box in front of you. With some effort and a bit of cash your present hi fi equipment can be enlarged to take on stereo. Or you can start from scratch and buy a new stereo set outright.

For records you now have about 500 titles from which to choose—or just about a month's production of long-playing records. But more stereo records are being rushed to market by RCA, Columbia, Decca, Capitol and others.

★ ★ ★

The older monaural records — millions of them—can't give you stereophonic sound and the phonograph industry wouldn't be too happy to see this investment of theirs outdated. The oldies can be played on a stereo set but they go on sounding monaural.

Hi fi is still booming. The High Fidelity Manufacturers Institute thinks this year's retail sales of sets and equipment will total 500 million dollars, a good 15 per cent over last year. Of this about 200 million will be for components for the do-it-yourself enthusiast at home. There are now some 2,500 retailers specializing in hi fi component sales and services.

Stereo calls for new records, new needles and a different cartridge, for two amplifiers and two speakers.

★ ★ ★

On the standard long-playing record, sound waves are recorded on one side of the groove. On a stereo record, one part of the sound is recorded on one side of the groove and the other part of the sound on the opposite side. The needle picks up both parts of the sound and the needle and cartridge separates them and send them to different amplifiers and different speakers.

★ ★ ★

The stereo needle has to be even smaller than the one used for long-playing records and must be rounded to keep it from cutting into the record.

★ ★ ★

Douglas F. Hudson, president of Fidelitone of Chicago, which makes diamond, osmium and sapphire needles, says that needle sales now come to 60 million dollars a year, with diamond points accounting for about half the dollar volume. He predicts that diamond point sales will reach 60 million dollars within 10 years. By that time he thinks record sales will touch a billion dollars a year.

★ ★ ★

Phonograph and record makers are launching a campaign this month to educate people to stereo—what it is and what it isn't. If they can find enough Americans with keen ears and musical interest they expect the latest baby to bring in lots of money—and fast.

Straits Bridge News Hits Peak

Official Says Publicity Was Major Factor in '58 Tourist Season

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The honeymoon is over between the Mackinac Bridge and west Michigan tourist resort operators.

Aurey D. Strohpaul, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn., states the bridge was a major factor in attracting tourists to Michigan this year but added "it has ceased to be big news in itself."

Strohpaul spoke at the 41st annual meeting of the WMTRA.

"Never again will there be the steady flow of publicity that the bridge attracted for the four years of its building and for its first year of operation," he declared.

"I am convinced, however, that with the proper promotion the bridge will continue to be one of our prime vacation attractions," Strohpaul added. He emphasized a need for additional financial support to carry on promotional activities.

Strohpaul noted that Cadillac had generated a total of $840,000 in business volume for its area alone through promotion of its Caberfae ski area.

Earl M. Johnson, Houghton Lake resort operator and past president of the American Hotel Assn., was scheduled principal speaker at a banquet ending the one-day convention.

Ancient Urns Given to Stanford Museum

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Two ancient ceramic urns discovered in a sunken Roman galleon off Viareggio, Italy, have been given to the Stanford University museum.

The urns were donated by Stanley Slotkin, San Francisco businessman who financed the 1956 diving expedition that recovered the artifacts.

The gray earthenware with reddish-brown colors were used for carrying both liquids and grains. They were strung along the sides of galleys as an additional bulwark against arrows and spears.

Mamas Won't Be Slighted

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Do you consider a four-and five-year-old child old enough to attend a birthday party without his (or her) mother? I am giving my five-year-old daughter her first large birthday party in the near future. The mothers usually attend these parties, too, but my house is quite small and I cannot possibly accommodate the mothers as well as the children. Will you please tell me how I can handle this situation without slighting the mothers?"

Answer: If you are able to control all of these five-year-olds without the help of their mothers, it will be simple to explain to them your lack of space and ask them to bring their children and to come back for them at a certain hour. I am sure the mothers will not feel slighted.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have received a formal invitation to a reception given at a hotel for my aunt, her niece and her husband who are returning for a visit from abroad where the young people were married two years ago. No gift was sent at the time of their marriage. I'd like to know if it is necessary now to take, or send, a gift on this occasion."

Answer: There is no obligation to send a present, but if you regretted not being able to send a gift at the time of the marriage you may quite properly send one now.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to be best man at a friend's wedding and I would appreciate your telling me just what expenses I have in connection with this position. I have had so many conflicting opinions that I decided to write to you for the correct answer."

Answer: Further than the clothes you are expected to wear (which you probably have) and the wedding present that you would probably give anyway, you incur no expense.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is necessary to leave a tip at a lunch counter if one merely has a cup of coffee or an ice cream soda? It seems kind of silly to me, but I have noticed quite a few people doing it."

Answer: No, a tip for a cup of coffee or a soda at a counter is not necessary.

After Powder, Moisten Skin

Women with especially smooth skin will get an even smoother look with face powder if they follow the application with a dash of cold water.

However, dry the face by blotting, not by rubbing, after the cold water bath.

This cold splash does not work with rough skin, or skin with rough spots, since the powder will cling to them.

UAW Woman Bargainer Is Shrewd

DETROIT (AP) — Teresa Merlo, the only woman on the United Auto Workers' national bargaining committee, is a tough, shrewd and stubborn negotiator.

She can quote a contract at the drop of a fringe benefit.

SMALL BUT HARDY

Five feet tall and weighing only 102 pounds, the 34-year-old Teresa has the physical and mental stamina to put many a male to shame.

★ ★ ★

After a recent marathon negotiating session, she crushed a wearied male cobargainer by reminding him: "Don't forget, we have a local meeting tonight."

★ ★ ★

Teresa is employed as a machine operator in Chrysler's Automotive Body Division. A nine-year employe, she is a committeewoman for UAW Local 212 and represents 600 office workers she helped organize.

FIRST WOMAN

She is dedicated to her union work and is the first woman to hold the position she has with the UAW.

★ ★ ★

In one hassle over severance pay for office workers, UAW President Walter Reuther called in Teresa. "What is the severance pay setup for your unit?" he asked her. She gave a detailed report that prompted Reuther to comment: "She even gets in the fine print."

Hat Shopping? Here Are Tips

When you go to buy your new fall hat, wear a simple black dress, and carry in your handbag two or three different lipstick shades, in a range of colors, for a try-on of effects.

This dress will be the one you'll be wearing with your bright new hat until the printed mohairs, plaid woolens or tweeds, as color-rich as Persian rugs, come along to replace.

Wear pearls for the dress rehearsal. They pick up all colors and stay neutral, whereas chalk white or colored beads will be inclined to battle with the choices you want to make.

They May Ask but You Don't Have to Tell

A woman's age is her own affair. That won't keep people who should know better from asking her how old she is.

But the fact that they ask her doesn't mean that she's under any obligation to tell them the truth. She may answer anything she pleases, from "2 to 72."

In this day of really wonderful cosmetics, massage machines, hair tints and pretty clothes, a woman is able to keep her age her own secret far longer.

She has every right to make use of these new aids as they're placed at her disposal.

PATRICIA A. STRZELECKI

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Strzelecki of Mott avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to David H. Ohngren. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Garchow of Corwin court. An April wedding is planned.

Dianne G. Beach Speaks Vows

Dianne Gail Beach became the bride of John M. Fear in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Francis O'Donnell Saturday morning in St. Michael Church. Baskets of white gladioli, carnations and roses banked the altar for the 10 o'clock service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beach of Victory drive and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fear of Sylvan Lake.

MR. and MRS. JOHN M. FEAR

IN GOWN OF TULLE

For her wedding, Dianne chose a full-length gown of embroidered tulle with a Queen Anne collar, and a chapel-length train of tulle.

Her headpiece was of iridescent sequins and pearls, and she carried white roses, carnations, stephanotis and a rosary on a white prayer book.

Mrs. Frank Puddy was matron of honor and Mrs. Edward Schnake was bridesmaid. Turquoise sheath gowns with butterfly back panels were worn by the attendants, and matching headpieces held tiny veils. They carried colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Mike Snover was best man and Frank Puddy seated the guests.

★ ★ ★

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Beach chose a biege sheath dress with fur trim and gold and beige accessories. She wore a corsage of chrysanthemums. Mrs. Fear's choice was a blue knit dress with navy blue accessories and a chrysanthemum corsage.

Singing the bridal recital was Maria Cosma accompanied at the organ by Sue Heisler.

HOME RECEPTION

Following a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the new Mrs. Fear changed to a chocolate brown sheath with a white Peter Pan collar. Her corsage was of white roses and carnations from the bridal bouquet.

The couple is residing on East Pike street and is planning a trip to Florida during the Christmas holidays.

★ ★ ★

Village Players to Stage 'Point of No Return'

The Village Players of Birmingham open their 36th season Oct. 17 presenting Dr. John B. Hassberger of Birmingham in "Point of No Return." It is a drama in three acts based on the novel by John P. Marquand and adapted by Paul Osborn.

"Point of No Return," directed by Albert and Alyce Riebling and assisted by Mrs. Douglas A. Brown, all of Birmingham, will also be shown Oct. 18, 24 and 25. All performances are open to the public. Curtain time is 9 p.m.

SELDOM DONE BEFORE

Because of technical difficulties and possibly because of the large cast required, this play has seldom been attempted by local theater groups.

Village Players are undertaking this and similar ambitious productions having completed extensive improvements in the Playhouse during the past summer.

★ ★ ★

A wider and deeper stage has been built. A completely new lights board has been installed which permits sequence pre-setting for an entire act. A new fireproof curtain, flats and teasers and all new, more comfortably cushioned seats have also been added.

Tickets for the production are on sale in Birmingham.

Dear Abby...

Told to Put Parakeet in Teapot and Whisper Down the Spout!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has a parakeet that really talks, but this is the only parakeet I have ever been able to understand. I asked her how she trained the bird to talk and she said in the first place make sure you have a male bird because female birds do not make a sound. Then she said to put the bird in a teapot and whisper down the spout whatever it is you want the bird to learn. She told me this with a straight face. What I want to know, is—was she kidding me?"

ABBY

BOBBI

DEAR BOBBI: I have never heard of teaching a parakeet to talk in this manner and unless somebody has been kidding ME, the female of any species can outtalk the male.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I have been corresponding with a young lady from across the ocean for two years. I am 30 and she is 27. We have never met in person but I think I have fallen in love with her. We have exchanged so many letters and pictures that I feel that I know her very well.

"She wants me to send her the money for a ticket to come here. My friends say I am foolish because a gift of this kind is almost a promise of marriage. Is it possible to fall in love with words and pictures and what should I do about her insistence that I send her the money?"

HJALMER

DEAR HJALMER: It is possible to fall in love with words and pictures, but not very practical. For the same amount of money and no obligations you can go over there and meet this girl. I recommend it.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and am asked to go to the movies (at night) with a boy. My mother gives me money and tells me to pay my own way because then I won't owe him anything and I won't have to kiss him goodnight. I always bring the money home because the boy doesn't let me pay. I have kissed a few boys goodnight, but it wasn't to pay them back for the movie, it was because I liked them. I am a good girl and never hold a kiss more than a few seconds and I want to know if you think I should put up a bigger fight when the boy wants to pay my way?"

GOOD GIRL

DEAR GOOD: When a boy asks to take you to a movie, he expects to pay your way and would probably feel insulted if you "put up a fight." You seem to have good sense. Just keep on doing what you're doing and let your conscience be your guide.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: How do you break a child of playing with and biting extension cords? I would appreciate anything anyone knows about it. My 14-month-old child is continually playing with extension cords and today he bit into one and got a mild shock. I have spanked him and fussed at him until I want to tear my hair out but to no avail. Can anyone help me?"

MYRT

DEAR MYRT: A child of 14 months shouldn't be allowed to crawl around where he can get his hands on extension cords. He is teething . . . give him a teething ring and keep him off the floor unless he is in a playpen. You are lucky he didn't electrocute himself.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO TOMMY: There is no such thing as "FREE LOVE" . . . Somebody always has to pay for it. It's usually the woman.

Can't Parents Police Child's Appearance

By RUTH MILLETT

The board of education of a large city has found it necessary to adopt a policy as to what school children can and can't wear to classes.

The new ruling will make it possible for school officials to send Sis or Junior home for a change of clothing if either one shows up in some weird or outlandish outfit.

School children are going to look like school children in this particular city—and not like young hoodlums from a street gang.

The school board is doing the kids a favor. A boy or girl who is neat and appropriately dressed behaves better than one who has gotten himself up to look as much like a freak as possible.

The pity is that more and more school boards are finding such rulings necessary. What's wrong with parents who let their sons sport ducktail haircuts, bleach their hair and go with their shirttails hanging out? What's wrong with parents who don't insist that their daughters dress like young ladies?

Are they scared of their children? Are they afraid to say flatly, "You aren't going out of this house looking like that"?

They must be. If they weren't, school boards wouldn't have to be taking over the parents' job of seeing that their children dress in a decent, appropriate and becoming fashion.

But if parents lack the gumption to say, "You aren't leaving this house looking like that," it's a good thing school boards are beginning to stand up say, "You aren't coming in this school looking like a hoodlum."

Exercising Helps

Dowager's Hump Reveals Age!

Push back with the head as you resist with the hands. Hold while you count to 10 slowly. Relax. Continue.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Unless a woman has almost perfect posture, she is certain to develop a hump at the back of her neck by the time she is middle-aged. This may be small or it may become large enough to be really unattractive. At any rate, this is one spot a woman should watch.

Many women who hold their shoulders straight fail to pull their necks back, or they slump. They allow their heads to protrude forward and this causes the vertebra at the base of the neck to become prominent.

There is a tendency to lead with the chin. If you will pull your chin in and your neck back, you will notice that the little bump at the back of the neck disappears.

The habit of sleeping on a pillow also contributes to the dowager's hump, since the pillow pushes your head forward and holds it there during the night. Sleeping without a pillow is a splendid corrective measure.

If you feel that you cannot develop this habit, make your pillow smaller and at least lie on your bed without any at all for a while before going to sleep and before getting up in the morning.

Try these exercises: 1. Stand tall, bend the elbows and place the hands behind the head. Push back with the head as you resist with the hands. Hold while you count to 10 slowly. Relax. Continue.

2. Lie on the floor on your back, your legs straight and arms resting at the sides. Try to touch the back of your neck to the floor. In order to bring the neck as close to the floor as possible, push back with the top of your head. Hold. Relax. Continue.

3. Sit or stand, make large circles with the head, pulling as far as possible in every direction, circle first to the left and then to the right.

Massage and heat applications seem to help some in decreasing the deposit of fat which often accumulates in this area.

★ ★ ★

If you wish to have my leaflet No. 17 "Dowager's Hump" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Families Can Have a Jolly Time Exercising Together."

Ingrid Bergman's Own Story

Those Who Met Rossellini Said, 'Now We Understand'

(The third of five dispatches in which Ingrid Bergman discusses her life in an interview with a British newsman who was her guest for two weeks in Wales.)

By RALPH COOPER
(For United Press International)

"Here I am," said Ingrid with one of her happiest laughs.

"I am so glad my father took me to the theater before he died. Because I was able to tell him I wanted to be an actress . . . and he knew and understood.

"He used to go round telling his friends proudly, 'My Ingrid is going to be an actress.' And that meant so much to me . . . not only then, but many, many times since.

"Once I had been to the theater I knew that was the world where I belonged . . . the world of make-believe.

"I hated school because I was taller than the others and awkward and shy. And I was lonely always."

A different kind of loneliness began for Ingrid Bergman when Hollywood slammed the door in her face.

GAVE UP ACTING

It was a nightmare that eventually drove her to decide: "I will definitely retire and give up the greatest love of my life—acting."

One man brought her out of that nightmare and back to world fame . . . and a motion picture academy Oscar.

"The man was Anatole Litvak," Ingrid told me. Many other people were said to have been responsible, but it was Anatole.

"He came to see me one day and said, 'I want to make a picture with you.' It was 'Anastasia.' I knew the story already, had read a lot about it, so he did not even have to show me a script.

"Anatole was convinced, and convinced me, that I could make an international comeback. He had complete faith that time healed any wounds, and was willing to stake a fortune on it.

"I told Anatole—'You get the film together, and I'm with you.' He went to Darryl Zanuck and the film that brought me the Oscar was made."

★ ★ ★

I asked Ingrid Bergman why her own people should have joined so viciously in condemning her when she first went to Italy with Rossellini.

"You must remember, I was married to a Swede . . . so they did not like it that I should leave him for an Italian, whom they would find difficult to understand anyway.

"You must remember the old fairy tale . . . about the king who lined all his people up . . . and cut off the heads of all the tall ones so that nobody should be bigger than anyone else? That was how it was in Sweden. It was not right to be different.

"I found that bitter 'anti' feeling very difficult to understand at the time, because there is so much that is really great about my second husband, Roberto. A very much more complex and difficult person to understand . . . but in so many ways a great man . . . an exciting person to live with.

"Those who met us together said, 'Ah, now we understand' . . . and I used to say 'thank you very much . . . I hope you will tell everybody else!'

"I'm so glad I left America when I did. If it hadn't happened the way it did, it would have happened some other way. It was like an SOS. I HAD to get away."

Begin Day With Good Looks, Mom

Look pretty at the breakfast table, Mom! If you do, the chances are you will feel and look pretty all through the day. Better yet, you will get your family off to a happy start too.

Beware the temptation to squeeze that last ounce of service out of yesteryear's clothes by wearing them for morning chores around the house. Hems sag, seams split and trimmings look rag-taggy. You're just one step away from feeling dowdy, and looking dowdy too!

Back in grandma's days when fabrics weren't so abundant and clothing more expensive, this was a real economy, but today retail store racks bulge with attractive morning housecoats at prices low enough for most budgets.

Another plus in buying these housecoats this season is that you can try out the controversial new silhouettes to learn which is most becoming and adaptable to your way of life. If one style proves especially satisfactory then when you shop for your better winter fashions in expensive ready-to-wear, you eliminate the gamble of risking your clothes allowance on a style you won't enjoy.

AMC, UAW Don't Agree

Layoff Bonus-Pay Plan Ruled Illegal in State

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers union disagree with the attorney general's opinion that their layoff bonus-pay plan is illegal.

Whether or not a court issue might be joined was not clear today though AMC spoke of a possible test case.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams held the plan illegal in a ruling yesterday. He said it was contrary to the aims of the State Employment Security Act and had the effect of providing a state subsidy to AMC.

Adams held that the 1,200 AMC workers at the company's Grand Rapids Kelvinator plant covered by the plan are ineligible for state unemployment benefits.

The AMC-UAW negotiated arrangement, a subject of legislative inquiry, provided a company bonus for a layoff period. This, together with state jobless pay, was the equivalent of a paid vacation.

★ ★ ★

In the wake of the Adams ruling, the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) said that 200 AMC workers who have been paid jobless benefits would have to make restitution to the state. About $7,000 is involved.

★ ★ ★

Both AMC and the auto union issued statements disagreeing with the decision.

The UAW's AMC department said it was "shocked and disappointed" and still felt the plan was "completely proper according to law and morality."

AMC, through Vice President Edward L. Cushman, said it felt the plan would be sustained "when a final determination is made by the proper authorities.

At the same time the company pledged that no employe would "suffer adversley."

Cushman, in a formal statement, did not specifically say there would be a court case.

However, he called Adams' ruling an "advisory opinion" and said that if the MESC tries to recover any compensation paid to Grand Rapids workers the way would be open to a test case legality of the payment."

Cushman said that "for the moment the legality of unemployment compensation payments to Kelvinator Grand Rapids plant employes has been questioned by an advisory opinion submitted to the Michigan Employment Security Commission by the state attorney general.

★ ★ ★

"It is the belief of this company that our Grand Rapids employes affected are legally entitled to the unemployment compensation payments in question and we feel our opinion will be sustained when a final determination is made by the proper authorities."

★ ★ ★

The company said that if "after due legal process" the plan is found illegal it will enter into new talks with the UAW.

The AMC-UAW agreement provided for a company-paid bonus last July to workers to be laid off for three weeks in August for a model changeover.

On Sept. 15, they were to be paid another bonus. Coupled with unemployment compensation, this would equal the normal vacation pay under previous contracts.

Adams said the plan made it possible for AMS to minimize the cost of its bonus with what amounted to a state subsidy. He said the company created a condition of unemployment to its own advantage.

"If unemployment benefits were paid under such provisions," he said, "they would primarily benefit the employer by reducing the employer's liability to the employe."

Keego Parade Planning Set

Fire Prevention Week Procession to Be Held Sunday Afternoon

KEEGO HARBOR — Officials of the city of Keego Harbor and the local Chamber of Commerce have completed arrangements for a special parade to begin at 2 p.m. Sunday in recognition of fire prevention week, Oct. 5-12.

★ ★ ★

The parade will be led by the West Bloomfield High School band.

Two fire trucks manned by fire department personnel will take part in the proceedings. City officials, members of the West Bloomfield Township Boys' Club, members of the Chamber of Commerce and representatives from other organizations will also participate in the parade.

The parade will form at West Bloomfield High School and proceed through the City of Keego Harbor to the Community National Bank parking lot at the east end of the city.

★ ★ ★

Refreshments will be served at the bank parking lot by the Chamber of Commerce.

General chairman of the fire prevention week parade and program is John Selman, Keego Harbor fire marshal and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce board.

Also, in conjunction with fire prevention week, special forms have been distributed to elementary school children to serve as a fire safety check list for the home.

Roller-Coaster River Falls Once Again

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP)—The Rio Grande, rising and falling here like a roller-coaster since Sunday, went down again today.

★ ★ ★

The border river rose slowly last night and early today to within less than three inches of the record flood level set Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Reports from Mexico indicated, however, flooding rivers there will pour even more water into the Rio Grande.

Ralph England, a newsman at this southwestern Texas city of 1,000, said the river apparently crested at about 3 a.m. today and started falling slowly.

★ ★ ★

Homes and rich farmland were flooded. About 25 homes on the Texas side were damaged and more than 100 families were displaced in the Ojinaga area across the river.

The new crest came surging down last night from the Rio Conhos in Mexico.

Consumption of meat in North Carolina shows an average adult consumes 55 pounds of beef a year and about 75 pounds of pork.

Liberty Ends for Tar, —Cutter Loses Its Helm

HONOLULU (AP) — For the second time in the Coast Guard's history, one of its cutters has lost its helm.

A sailor reportedly came back on board the cutter Winnebago after liberty, removed the helm, and threw it over the side.

With a new helm on the cutter, Coast Guard officials ruefully commented it had happened only once before in the history of the service.

Supreme Court Ruling May Speed Desegregation

Experts Say Stand Knocks Out Legal Delaying Tactics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top administration legal experts say the Supreme Court's strong new integration stand should hasten school desegregation in the south by knocking out many legal delaying moves.

There was no attempt to minimize the long uphill road desegregation still facing many southern states, nor the bitter resistance that will be put up by many southern officials and private citizens.

Schools that were not integrated yesterday will not necessarily be integrated tomorrow, next week or even next year.

But a high-ranking justice department official said the Court's stern pronouncement serves notice on segregation backers that all efforts — direct or indirect — to nullify the tribunal's desegregation edict will wind up in the legal waste-basket.

He said the Court now has made it crystal clear to southerners that their ultimate choice is between integrated public schools or no schools with any kind of public support — financial or otherwise.

★ ★ ★

The only remaining alternative, he said, would be truly private schools and these, he said, would mean education only for the rich.

"We've passed that stage in this country," said the official, who asked that he not be quoted by name.

Strongly prosegregation southerners, in the very sharpness of their comments, gave pointed emphasis to the Court's warning to governors, state legislatures, judges and school boards that "evasive schemes" won't work.

Georgia Governor-Nominee Ernest Vandiver said the "politically-constituted court" had sought "to rule on a whole host of questions and to resolve them with finality even before they could be heard and decided by the lower courts . . ."

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC), 1948 States' Rights presidential nominee, declared the Court "has attempted to render a decision on private schools which are not in being, and on facts which have not yet arisen."

This was the very point made by the high-ranking justice official. He voiced belief that henceforth virtually all federal district courts, and certainly all federal appeal courts, would rely on Monday's Supreme Court opinion to rule out private segregated schools with any type of governmental support whatsoever.

★ ★ ★

The main effect of the Court opinion, in the eyes of government lawyers, was to knock out all or almost all laws passed by southern states in efforts to dodge school integration.

The tribunal, in its unusually strong opinion signed personally by all nine justices, left no doubt of its meaning when it said:

"The constitutional right of (Negro) children . . . can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislators or state executives or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation whether attempted 'ingeniously or ingenuously.' "

The high court said the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution prohibits "state support of segregated schools through any arrangement, management, funds or property."

Legal experts said just about the only recourse left open to southern states seeking to avert integration now is to abolish their public school systems altogether.

'Mighty Poor Beggar' Draws 45 Days in Jail

DETROIT (AP) — "I beg for mercy, Judge," said Arles W. Wilson at his arraignment before Recorder's Judge Paul E. Krause on a charge of begging.

"You're a mighty poor beggar," replied Judge Krause, and sentenced Wilson to 45 days in jail.

Overwhelming Wins Predicted for Dems

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) predicted Tuesday night there will be Democratic sweeps in several states including Wisconsin and California.

"People throughout the country realize that the nation is in the hands of tired, timid old men," Humphrey told about 100 guests at a $10-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey discounted Vice President Richard Nixon's cross-country campaign tour in behalf of Republican candidates.

"Mr. Nixon will be about as useful as a blotter in the ocean," said Humphrey.

He said there would be a Democratic triumph in California "regardless of what Mr. Nixon tries to do out there."

★ ★ ★

Humphrey also said there are signs of Democratic victories in Indiana and Iowa.

"Actually," he said, "we could also win in Vermont — which would be something."

He said the Democratic tide "will carry into Wisconsin and re-elect Sen. William Proxmire and give the state a Democratic governor."

14-Year-Old's Buying Spree Ends Abruptly

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The 14-year-old boy was wearing a new suit and waiting for tailors to alter one when officers arrived.

Store officials had telephoned police about the boy's free spending.

★ ★ ★

He had $557 in his pockets. His old clothes—blue jeans and a plaid shirt—were in a suitcase along with two toy pistols, holsters and a belt.

Sgt. Mark Ruckel said the boy admitted stealing $830 from an apartment. His name wasn't released.

★ ★ ★

"What were you going to do with the rest of the money?" Ruckel asked.

"I was going to the University of Texas to go to school," said the boy, spinning a pistol on his finger.

"What for?"

"To learn science."

Deck Officers Quit U.S. Ships

Work Stoppage Called Against 20 Firms in Atlantic, Gulf Ports

NEW YORK (AP) — Deck officers were ordered by their union today to quit work on a major part of the ships in the United States passenger and dry cargo fleets based in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

The work stoppage was called against 20 large steamship companies by the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots.

★ ★ ★

About 2,000 ship officers are involved.

Estimates of the number of ships affected range from 300 to 400. Ships at sea were not included in the stop-work order.

The contract between the union and the American Merchant Marine Institute, which represents the 20 companies, expired last midnight.

The union ordered the men not to work without a contract, and called the situation a "tieup." Ralph E. Casey, president of the employer group, called it a "strike."

★ ★ ★

Negotiations on a new contract were recessed at 1:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. today.

Both union and employer spokesmen said the contract dispute had been narrowed from 29 to 7 items. They declined to disclose the items.

The disagreements were reliably reported to concern vacation, pension and welfare benefits. The union has not sought a wage increase.

★ ★ ★

The United States Lines, anticipating a tieup, postponed indefinitely the sailing of its flagship, the United States. The liner had been scheduled to leave New York for Europe Thursday.

Private School Board

6 Citizens of Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — On Sept. 18, 1958, six Little Rock citizens got together to form the Little Rock Private Schools corporation. They elected as officers of the corporation the wife of a physician, an osteopath, a wholesale florist and a doctor. Personality sketches follow:

Dr. Thomas J. Raney, president of the corporation, thinks himself "not exactly a stranger" to the field of education. He points to a brother, Alton Raney, a long-time chairman of the board of trustees at Hendrix College at Conway, Ark., a Methodist school from which Raney himself was graduated.

A sister, Mrs. Clarence E. Bell, is wife of the school superintendent at Parkin, Ark. Another brother, D. P. Raney, is on the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees.

Raney, currently Pulaski County (Little Rock) Health Officer, has two sons, one a junior high student and the other a grade schooler.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gordon P. (Willie) Oates, 40, is known around Little Rock as "a club woman and then some." But Mrs. Oates likes that title and claims she currently belongs to "something more than 50 organizations" and "until just recently, I was a member of 20 boards of different clubs."

She is vice president of the school corporation.

"But I've had to cut down since I was nominated to the legislature," she explained.

Mrs. Oates beat out two men for the nomination to the post of state representative from Pulaski County in last summer's Democratic primary election. She used the campaign slogan "Win with Willie," using the nickname she has held since her girlhood in Arkansas City, Kan.

Mrs. Oates, who has two children, one 15 and the other five, is noted for her hats—some bizarre but always chic.

"How about your 15-year-old," asked a newsman, "what school will he go to?"

"He's ready for Hall High," she said. "We're watching and waiting."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Malcolm G. Taylor, 43, is a baldish Little Rock osteopath who is seriously concerned with "federal encroachment on our states' rights and southern way of life."

Taylor is a former officer in the Segregationist Capital Citizens Council in Little Rock. He currently is on the organization's board of directors and usually serves as sergeant-at-arms when the group holds meetings. He is treasurer of the school group.

Taylor, a native of Osceola, Ark., in the Mississippi River delta cotton producing area of Arkansas, has a girl 9 and a boy 13 whom he calls "my concern over possible integration of our schools."

Democrats Using Directory

Saginaw News Doubts Total of Firms Listed

SAGINAW (AP) — The Saginaw News has challenged the accuracy of a manufacturers' directory being used by Democrats to counter Republican charges that Michigan shows a net loss in industrial jobs during recent years.

The newspaper's challenge deals only with the Saginaw listings in the directory.

John M. Pickell, president of the Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record which published the directory, called the challenge "political." He said the book was compiled on the basis of information from "many sources, including chambers of commerce, bankers and the Michigan Department of Economic Development."

The 1959 directory lists 1,230 more Michigan manufacturing firms than the 1957 directory. It has been used by Democratic politicians to support their contention of a gain, against Republican claims that the state lost manufacturing jobs to neighbors over the last two years.

The News said there are 119 Saginaw firms listed in the 1959 directory which do not appear in the 1957 directory.

Of these 119, the News said it found 74 had been in Saginaw County three or more years, 14 had been there 20 or more and 17 for 10 or more years.

Eighteen of the 119, the News said are not listed in the Saginaw telephone directory, 20 told the News they were not manufacturing but distributing firms, and 12 said they were installers or servicers, not manufacturers.

In addition, the News said 37 manufacturers listed in the 1957 directory do not appear in the one for 1959.

★ ★ ★

Pickell, contacted in Philadelphia on a business trip, said "We'll challenge" the newspaper's figures, adding: "They must think you've got to make nuts and bolts to be a manufacturer. However, it is difficult to get on the dot every instance in 18,000 listings. We do not list dairies and bakeries, although they contend they're manufacturers, and so far as I know we don't show a single manufacturer's agent, although most of them want to be listed. You'd never have heard anything if this hadn't been an election year."

New Soviet Vaccine Is Declared Ineffective

MONTREAL (AP) — A Soviet vaccine against multiple sclerosis has been found not only to be ineffective but also potentially dangerous as a treatment for the disease, the annual meeting of the multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada was told today.

D. L. Inwood, president of the society, said the vaccine was analyzed and tested in various research centers throughout the world.

Passengers Escape as New Ship Burns

VALPARAISO, Chile (AP)—The newest and largest steamship in the Chilean merchant navy was believed lost today after a violent fire forced passengers and crew to abandon ship.

The 8,679-ton Lebu was sailing off Caldera, Chile, 450 miles north of Valparaiso, when crewmen on the Santa Cecilia saw it burning. Other reports said the Lebu was ripped by an explosion.

The Lebu was abandoned before an SOS could be sent. Authorities at Coquimbo, 200 miles to the south, later reported all passengers and crew safe. The Chilean navy said its ships were going to the scene.

New Community Hospital to Be Dedicated Oct. 24

ROMEO — Formal dedication of the new Community Hospital, located on Van Dyke between Romeo and Almont, is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 24 with special ceremonies planned to mark the event.

Charles Ferguson, of Almont, chairman of the dedication committee, said that, aside from opening the hospital for public inspection, "special invitations will be sent to all persons who gave money to make a long-standing dream for an area-wide medical facility a reality."

Master of ceremonies will be Thomas K. Richards of Almont, board president of the Community Hospital Foundation, Inc. Others expected to attend are state and federal officials who helped in furthering the cause of the hospital, Ferguson said.

Industrialists from the hospital area which covers adjacent parts of Lapeer, Macomb, St. Clair and Oakland counties, plus prominent physicians and surgeons and hospital executives, also will be present.

The tours of the hospital will be conducted only by persons familiar with all its facilities, Ferguson explained.

★ ★ ★

"Although the complete outfitting of the hospital has been ordered, not all the furnishings will be in place. But beds, draperies and other equipment will be there so that all may see how the hospital will look when in actual operation," he added.

Besides Ferguson, members of the dedication committee are: Mrs. Franklin O'Connor, Armada; Norman Brennan, Capac; Carlton VanWagoner, Imlay City; Miss Lauretta Paul, the hospital's executive director; and Mrs. Edmund B. Anderson, Robert W. Gaines, James H. Hough, J. Gerald McLean, and Paul W. Brudke, all of Romeo.

A lace cap, trimmed with pearls and sequins, held her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and pink sweetheart roses.

To Open Bids for Post Office

Drayton Plains Slated for New Mail Building on Dixie Highway

A new post office has been slated for the Drayton Plains area, and bids for a new building will be opened Dec. 1, according to Postmaster Kenneth Oakes.

An option for a plat of land directly across Dixie Highway from the present post office has been secured and plans are set for leasing a building for a ten-year period. Two additional 5-year options have also been requested.

A 10-year lease on the present building located at 4271 Dixie Hwy. between Sashabaw road, and Monroe street, will expire Oct. 1, 1959.

Eight regular postal carriers service more than 15,000 people in the Drayton Plains area and make more than 3,000 stops daily, Oakes said.

Specifications for the new building call for a brick structure 60 x 300 feet, with 4,000 square feet of floor space. This is more than double the size of the present building.

The post office will be set 50 feet from Dixie Highway, with a large paved parking area in front and to the south side.

Bidders for the building must submit a plan showing location, land and building dimensions, driveway area, abutting streets and alleys, along with interior office specifications.

Orion Band Day Slated

LAKE ORION — The "Band Boosters" annual tag day will be held Friday and Saturday throughout the business section of Lake Orion. Funds raised will be used to help repair band uniforms and instruments, and for Interlochen scholarships.

Subway Is for Birds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Subway service was for the birds yesterday. Thousands of tree swallows, heading south, stopped off at subway tracks in Queens, causing trains to be late.

Roberts-Robinson Vows Spoken in Clarkston Rite

CLARKSTON — In a double-ring rite at the Christian Temple Church in Pontiac, Hazel Marie Robinson became the wife of Norman J. Roberts. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. George Hawk.

★ ★ ★

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta and a finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor was Dorothy Hamburger of Detroit, and bridesmaids were Donna Saurez of Rockwood, Dora Perry and Vivian O'Shea, both of Pontiac. The bridegroom's niece, Sue Roberts, was the flower girl.

Serving as best man for his brother, was Arthur Roberts of Pontiac. Two other brothers, William of Pontiac and Harry of Southfield, and Albert Bongidrno seated the guests.

Following a reception at the VFW Hall in Auburn Heights, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Chicago and Nebraska.

Juvenile Delinquent Becomes Millionaire

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Before he became a youthful millionaire a few years back, Sidney Barton was an earnest juvenile delinquent.

He stole nickels and dimes from his mother's purse, pennies from newsstands, apples from fruit vendors and the like. He worked at it diligently, not because he needed the money or the apples —"I didn't even care for apples"— but because he wanted to be accepted by his young and scurrilous friends.

It was a "kill or be killed" neighborhood in Brooklyn. And the money so easily come by was easily gone. One day when he was 14, for example, a kid approached him and inquired, "How much scratch you got?"

Sidney had 20 cents.

"Bet you 20 cents I can bite off the head of that pigeon."

Sidney lost his money that day, to a boy who six years later was electrocuted for murdering a larger variety of sitting pigeon.

"And that was the end for me," he remembers today. "When I saw what kind of people I was breaking the law to impress, I decided to give up stealing nickels and make a million dollars honestly."

Sidney Barton makes it sound easy and look easy, as he relaxes nostalgically in his plush Madison Avenue office, a calm and virile man still in his mid-40s. "Look," he says, throwing out casually his formula for success, "all you have to do is want it, use your brain, go out and do it. That's all."

Disillusioned with his petty life in a petty larceny neighborhood, Barton left school after the ninth grade. He worked as a hardware salesman first and then went into business for himself, making miniature portrait photographs from old negatives, which he sold, framed, for $12.50 each.

When he had collected $35,000, he bought a four-story apartment house near Greenwich Village. It brought him $400 a month. After a year's "retirement" to think things over, he decided real estate was as good a way as any to make lots of money with little capital. He took a six months' night school course in the business and then opened a business.

His specialty is a little known branch of business called "lease-backs." It is a method by which a corporation can divert its capital, otherwise tied up in real estate, into expansion. For instance, a supermarket chain wants to expand, but its resources would be mightily strained by purchasing 25 new buildings and simultaneously supplying merchandise to be sold in them.

This is where Barton comes in. After the chain has built its new stores, he buys them and leases them back to the supermarket operators on a long-term lease. They now have working capital to supply their stores—and Barton has a steady annual income of six or seven per cent of the original building price.

His first deal nine years ago involved about $13 million with a supermarket chain. It took a lot of work—making contacts, building a reputation for brains and integrity.

Since then, the street has been easier . . . to the point where Barton conducts all his business by phone. In one 20-minute conversation recently, he made $500,000 net.

"Maybe I'm getting lazy," he says, "but now any deal I can't arrange over the phone in a half-hour isn't worth making."

★ ★ ★

Much of his income goes to juvenile delinquency - fighting organizations, and so does much of the time away from his three pastel colored telephones. What he's trying to convey to kids is this:

★ ★ ★

It's easier to be an honest success than you think. Just use your head instead of your hatchet, and impress yourself instead of your friends.

Wardens Rescue Car

BARABOO, Wis. (UP) — A flustered motorist at Devils Lake State Park got out of a tough spot recently when two game wardens came along in a telephone-equipped car. The motorist was stuck crossways on a park railroad track. A quick call to the nearest railroad station was just in time to flag down a freight train.

New York Golf Club Honors Late Champ

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — The late Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias has become the first woman to be honored on the Oak Hill Country Club's "Hill of Fame" for golfers.

A 26-year-old oak on the knoll overlooking the 13th green of the club's East Course was dedicated to the golfing great during the 1958 New York Senior golf tournament. The late Mrs. Zaharias was the ninth person selected for the honor.

One of England's oddest street names is Whipmawhopmagate in the city of York. There in former times malefactors were whipped and whopped for their misdeeds.

Cease-Fire 'Wishful Thinking'

Chiang Against Cutting Offshore Island Forces

(Spencer Moosa, Associated Press correspondent with many years experience in Formosa and the Far East, here reports on his exclusive interview with Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek. The interview was obtained in a simply furnished house overlooking the harbor of Kaohsiung in southern Formosa.)

By SPENCER MOOSA

KAOHSIUNG, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today in effect that he is opposed to a reduction of his armed forces on the offshore islands or any change in their status.

The Nationalist Chinese leader expressed incredulity over the reports from Washington that Secretary of State Dulles had said it would not be "wise or prudent" to keep Chiang's large forces on the islands if a dependable cease-fire could be arranged.

"Mr. Dulles must know," Chiang declared in an interview, "that it is only wishful thinking to ask the Chinese Communists for a cease-fire."

★ ★ ★

"Granted that Mr. Dulles made the statement attributed to him," he added, "it would be only a unilateral declaration and my government would be under no obligation to keep it."

"We have confidence that Mr. Dulles is sincere toward us and that he has faith in our cause," the President added.

Asked what he thought about the future of the Chinese Communists, who today were celebrating the ninth anniversary of the inauguration of their Chinese People's Republic in Peiping, Chiang said: "My belief is that it will not be very long before the Chinese Communist regime will come to the end of the road. How soon that will be only the future can tell. But it may come about sooner than expected."

★ ★ ★

"I cannot tell right away," Chiang said, "whether Mr. Dulles has made the remarks attributed to him for diplomatic reasons or with other purposes in mind.

"What he is quoted as having said seems completely incompatible with our stand and does not sound like him.

"There seems to be implications at variance with his own earlier utterances on the subject.

"Mr. Dulles must know that wishes for a cease-fire will never materialize and he must have serious misgivings in his own mind about the subject."

★ ★ ★

Chiang added: "Mr. Dulles has always stood on the side of justice and righteousness and it is inconceivable that he might now have new thoughts on the matter."

Chiang said the determination of his government to hold on to Quemoy and the other offshore islands has been made so amply evident that it was not necessary to cover the same ground again.

He said he was less worried about the situation itself than about the lack of understanding in many places on the issues involved.

★ ★ ★

"I hope," the President said, "that efforts will be made to enable the American people to understand what the Communist attacks on Kinmen Quemoy mean.

"While outwardly they are directed against the territory of the Republic of China, they are actually intended as assaults against America's first line of defense in Asia.

★ ★ ★

"The objectives of the Chinese Communists are Taiwan (Formosa), to expel American influence from the Formosa Strait area and the western Pacific and to strike a severe blow to free world prestige in Asia."

Scoffing at the idea of a cease-fire in Formosa Strait, Chiang asked, "Has there ever been any treaty since the Soviet Communists overran Russia in 1917 that they have not violated?"

★ ★ ★

Chiang's unofficial cabinet met three hours in Taipei today to discuss the Dulles suggestion that Nationalist forces on the offshore islands be thinned out in exchange for a dependable cease-fire.

But the 15-member Standing Committee of the ruling Kuomintang party made no statement after the meeting.

CHECKING VIOLATIONS — A new "pay as you go" form for parking violators, complete with "courtesy check" attached, is examined by St. Louis, Mo., Police Sgt. John Bauer. The violator fills in the name of his bank, mails the check for $2, and saves himself a trip to the police station.

Arab Diplomats Threatening:

Want Troops Out Now

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Arab diplomats balked today over conditional U.S.-British promises for pulling their troops out of Lebanon and Jordan.

A spokesman for the United Arab Republic made clear that, if the troops don't leave quickly President Nasser's government will toss the matter before the General Assembly.

★ ★ ★

This echoed a warning delivered to the Assembly earlier by the Sudan that, unless a clear-cut troop withdrawal announcement is made, it will ask for a full-scale debate.

The U.A.R. spokesman said it was not clear from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's Middle East report when and under what conditions the Americans and British will get out.

"This is a major question which keeps the Middle East in unrest," he declared.

★ ★ ★

King Hussein of Jordan announced today that British troops will begin leaving his country Oct. 20. He did not announce any conditions. He complained, however, that hostile propaganda from other Arab countries against Jordan had not yet ceased.

The eight-nation Arab League, meeting in Cairo today, was expected to go over the Hammarskjold report and map out a course of action.

★ ★ ★

In his report, Hammarskjold said Lebanon and the United States hoped to see complete withdrawal of U.S. forces by the end of October, if the security situation continues to improve.

He said Britain and Jordan hoped to announce a decision to begin withdrawal in October and that the pullout will be completed as quickly as the situation permits.

Britain has made clear she oil supplies and plane transport into Jordan lifted before she begins withdrawal.

Face Courts-Martial on Cruelty Charges

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP) — An Army lieutenant and two sergeants face a general court-martial on charges involving alleged mistreatment of recruits at the Army infantry base.

Charged are 1st Lt. Gerald L. Wheatley, 24, Bridgeton, N.J.; M. Sgt. George R. Sovie, 30, Ogdensburg, N.Y.; and Sgt. Charles L. Moman, 28, Empire, Ala.

Their court-martial hearing has been tentatively set for Oct. 6.

Capt. Paul Cook, public information officer, said Sovie and Moman were accused of forcing five trainees to hold foot-lockers over their heads for 15 to 20 minutes.

Cook said Sovie additionally was charged with kicking one recruit in the leg and stamping on the foot of another. Moman, the PIO said, was also accused of striking two recruits in the face, one with a closed fist and the other with his palm.

Cook said that Wheatley was charged iwth dereliction of duty and conduct unbecoming an officer for failure to report the alleged mistreatment.

The alleged offenses, said Cook, occurred in August and September. None of the trainees reportedly hurt required hospitalization, he added.

Your Office Real Mess, Judge—Up to Yesterday

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The joke was on Justice Talbot Smith of the Michigan Supreme Court when he described the musty state of his chambers at Lansing.

In a talk at the state bar meeting last night, Smith talked of a paint-soiled rug, an ancient table he was provided instead of a desk, a dilapidated couch with a broken leg and a swivel chair whose stuffing had to be reinforced by a pillow.

Unknown to Smith, court attaches a few days ago installed wall-to-wall carpeting in his chambers together with a new desk and three new chairs made by prison industries at the Ionia Reformatory.

Hollywood Headlines

Louis Prima May Join Cast of 'The Rat Trap'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — I suspected something was in the wind when I heard that William Perlberg was in Las Vegas talking to Keely Smith and Louis Prima. I was right. Bill wants this popular successful pair for "The Rat Trap," the New York play which he and his partner George Seaton bought for Paramount. Tony Curtis has already been signed for the lead.

"The Secret Bride of Candy Rock" (I love that title) is the first picture Lou Costello will make without his former partner Bud Abbott. It will be made on the Columbia lot starting in November, and it's an independent venture in which Lou and Eddie Sherman are partners.

That famous house that George Sanders occupied for six long years at Pacific Palisades will be minus its tenant. George notified his landlady, Myrna Loy, that he's terminating his lease the end of this month. George doesn't want to take his bride, Benita Colman, there after their marriage.

I am wondering now if they will live in Hollywood. Benita spent the past few years, while Ronald Colman was so ill, in Santa Barbara. Perhaps they will be here only when George is making a picture.

★ ★ ★

On the M-G-M lot greeting old friends former heavyweight champion Max Baer says that for the first time in eight years he is returning to motion pictures. Max, who has been living in Sacramento, says that he will play one of the leads in "The Syndicate" for the King brothers.

"I play one of the brains in this story of the underworld," says Maxie who would rather talk about his 21-year-old Max, who will study law after graduating from Santa Clara this year.

★ ★ ★

Andre Phillippe, who is marrying Josianne Berenger, once engaged to Marlon Brando, has written a song, "The Fisherman's Daughter" which he's added to his repertoire. Of course it's dedicated to Josianne.

You'll have to admit Tyrone Power is a sea lovin' man. It cost him $4,000 to ship his 40-foot sailboat by freighter to the coast of Barcelona where he is making "Solomon and Bathsheba," and it will cost him another $4,000 to bring it back.

The Alfred Hitchcocks' daughter Pat will make them happy grandparents for the third time in the spring.

So many laughs at a dinner for six at L'Escoffier with Patti Page, Charlie O'Curran, the Nelson Riddles and Jimmy McHugh. Patti has lost so much weight that her waistline looks about 18 inches. She goes back to New York tomorrow night after the Bing Crosby show.

★ ★ ★

Irene Dunne, who gave the awards at a recent baking contest, and Margaret Ettinger are back from New York. Irene was a guest at the Henry Cabot Lodge dinner. She said the four days in New York were just about right for her to see the people she wanted to see and get home to Dr. Francis Griffin.

★ ★ ★

After the Perry Como show Saturday night, Ann Sheridan stopped at the Stork to have supper with Sherman Billingsley who has been her friend of many years.

Blanche Sweet, top star of the '30s, was given a big welcome when she joined the "Thin Man" TV show at M-G-M.

Expensive Sport Cars Save Money at MSU

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State University students are beating the machine age with those foreign sports cars.

The tiny imports are low enough to scoot under the gates of mechanized parking lots and their drivers have been enjoying free parking.

Americans spend about $150 million a year for the care of the blind and the total is rising.

Join In Prevention Week Demonstrations

Pontiac Motor Fire Trucks to Parade

For the first time, Pontiac Motor Division will take part in the annual Fire Prevention Week parade and field day, which the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Fire Prevention Committee has scheduled for Saturday.

Three in-plant fire trucks will be displayed in the 1:30 p.m. parade and demonstration that will follow at Northside Field, on Montcalm street at Edison street.

★ ★ ★

In the parade will be a dry chemical truck, an all-purpose truck and a utility truck, all built on a small scale so that they are capable of negotiating factory aisles to any location.

Ross Luxon, plant fire chief, will head a demonstration that plans on showing how four types of automatic equipment are utilized in the Pontiac plants.

★ ★ ★

Featured in the demonstration will be a miniature replica of the division's automatic fire-fighting system.

Spectators will be able to see how the system automatically stops plant machinery, registers fire alarms to both city and plant fire departments, warns personnel in the emergency area and disperses chemicals to extinguish the fire.

Pontiac Motor's fire prevention department also utilizes the services of 600 volunteers who are located in key areas throughout all plants.

Scientist Predicts Explosive Power of Molecules

WASHINGTON—Although minute amounts of helium are found in the air and in many rocks, the gas was first discovered, not on earth, but on the sun. Studies of the sun's edges during an eclipse in 1868 produced the first evidence of its existence—a bright yellow line in the spectrum.

★ ★ ★

Named the Greek "helios" meaning sun, it was not identified on earth until 28 years later. Sir William Ramsay produced it by heating the mineral cleveite. He described his experiment in April, 1906.

Showing that helium can be formed as an end product of radioactive decay, Sir William pointed out a path to developments far in the future:

"The radioactive elements are in a sense explosive . . . but such explosions surpass in degree, to an almost inconceivable extent, the molecular explosions with which we are familiar," he wrote.

★ ★ ★

"Could we induce a fragment of radium to evolve all its energy at once, the result would be terrific, for in the energy with which it parts during its change, it surpasses in explosive power our most potent guncotton by millions of times."

Premier of Iraq Reported Seeking Peasant Support

CAIRO (AP) — Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq is reported to have moved to consolidate peasant backing for his revolutionary regime with a land reshuffle while removing a potential rival.

The Middle East News Agency, which is controlled by the United Arab Republic, said in a dispatch from Baghdad that Kassem had announced the land program in a broadcast.

★ ★ ★

Kassem said the plan would free Iraqi peasants from feudal domination, the agency reported. The government will break up big land holdings during the next five years.

Big landlords were a bulwark of the royal government of the late Premier Nuri Said which Kassem overthrew July 14.

★ ★ ★

The No. 2 man in the revolt and the new republican regime, Brig. Abdul Salam Arif, has been relieved of his post as deputy premier, the news agency said. Arif has been namd ambassador to Germany.

★ ★ ★

No reason for the demotion and, in effect, banishment of Arif was given. There have, however, been rumors of difference between him and Kassem. News from Baghdad is censored.

Arif has been believed advocating close Iraqi ties with President Nasser's U.A.R. while Kassem's public actions indicate an intention to maintain a separate course within the over-all pattern of Arab unity.

★ ★ ★

The news agency said the Iraqi government plans to expropriate during the next five years private holding in excess of 620 river-irrigated acres and 1,240 rain-irrigated acres, paying owners over a 20-year period at 3 per cent interest. Anyone not properly cultivating redistributed land will be imprisoned up to a year or fined or both.

Five days ago Nasser introduced a land redistribution program in the Syrian province of his U.A.R. which adjoins Iraq.

U. of M., MSU to Fete State Officials in Style

EAST LANSING (AP)— Michigan and Michigan State Universities will roll out the red carpet for state legislators, state officials and their wives Saturday.

Legislators, the men who map out the budgets for state-supported universities, along with other guests will attend a luncheon on the MSU campus before viewing the football game between the two schools.

Michigan and MSU officials said they plan to make it an annual joint affair, with the site alternating between schools the same as the football game.

Swainson to Be Guest of Oakland Democrats

John B. Swainson, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, will be the guest of the Oakland County Democratic Committee tomorrow noon for lunch at the Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Joining Swainson will be Leslie H. Hudson, candidate for Congress, and James P. Lawson, seeking election as Oakland County prosecutor on the Democratic ticket.

Among 10,000 Semifinalists in Nation

77 Area Students Nearer Scholarships

Semifinalist standings in the National Merit Scholarship competition have been announced for 77 Pontiac and Oakland County area high school students.

They are among the top 10,000 out of some 479,000 who took the exam April 29. The students are competing for 735 scholarships and other awards, with an estimated value of $5 million.

The semifinalists now face another three-hour examination, slated for testing centers all over the United States on Dec. 6.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp., predicts that more than 95 per cent of the semifinalists will clear the second hurdle Dec. 6 and become finalists.

★ ★ ★

The Merit Scholarship program is now in its fourth year. It was founded in 1955 with grants of $20 million from the Ford Foundation, and $500,000 from the Carnegie Corp. of New York.

Included in the sponsors are Sears-Roebuck Foundation, International Business Machines Corp., Shell Companies Foundation, Lilly Endowment, Inc., National Distillers and Chemical Corp., F. W. Woolworth Co., The Upjohn Co., C.I.T. Foundation, Inc., Time Incorporated, and many others.

In the final phase of the competition, high school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship and leadership of the students will be evaluated, along with the test scores. About May 1, the 735 winners will be announced.

★ ★ ★

Each Merit Scholarships is a four-year award covering the four undergraduate college years, and each award carries a stipend tailored to the need of the individual winner. The stipends have averaged about $650, and range from $100 a year to $1,500.

Merit scholars make their own choice of college and course of study. The colleges selected also receive cost-of-education grants ranging to $500 per year to help defray the actual cost of educating the students.

The competition is open to the students in any public, private or parochial high school in the United States and possessions.

★ ★ ★

Four of Pontiac's finalists were Pontiac Central High students when they took the exam. James Lyons and William Kath are now at Pontiac Northern, and Sally Warren and James Freet are at PCH.

Michael Metty of St. Frederick High School and Larry Ettinger of Waterford Township High School were also listed.

17 More Polio Cases Reported in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Seventeen new polio cases were reported in Detroit Tuesday bringing the city's 1958 case load to 499. There have been 16 deaths attributed to polio this year.

More than 21,000 persons received low-cost Salk vaccine shots at nine city-operated clinics in two days as health authorities continued to fight the epidemic.

City-County Health Commissioner Joseph Molner said none of this year's fatalities had received the Salk vaccine.

Adlai Criticizes Policy on China

Says U.S. Has No Right to Interfere, Outlines Own Formosa Program

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Adlai Stevenson says the fight over Quemoy and Matsu is a continuation of China's civil war and the United States has no business butting in.

Stevenson, who recently returned from extensive travels abroad, said the U.S. policy in China commands little respect or support in the world.

★ ★ ★

"It should be reconsidered and restated without delay," he told a $100-a-plate Democratic rally Tuesday night.

The Democratic party's twice defeated presidential candidate outlined a four-point program of his own for easing tension in the Formosa Strait.

★ ★ ★

The program calls for a cease-fire, withdrawal of Nationalist forces from the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu, agreement between the Nationalist and Communist Chinese to avoid using force against each other, and transition of Formosa from a Chinese state to a Formosan state protected by the United Nations.

He criticized President Eisenhower for classifying as "appeasers" all those who oppose war with China over Quemoy.

Korea Says 'No' to Kissing, Killing in Ads for Movies

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—The government today banned all movie advertisements showing scenes of kissing, passionate embracing or killing.

★ ★ ★

The Education Ministry, which is responsible for motion picture censorship in the Republic of Korea, said the rule was part of a drive against juvenile delinquency.

★ ★ ★

The decree also made taboo ads showing exposure of the female body below the shoulder and above the knee and cowboys aiming guns in western scenes.

Two Cars Collide in Kansas; 6 Killed

SENECA, Kan. (AP) — Two cars collided 3½ miles east of here today, killing six persons and injuring two others.

★ ★ ★

Wayne Acker was hospitalized here with a leg fracture and other injuries. Donald Acker, 3, son of Margaret and Wayne Acker, escaped with bruises.

Also killed were Urie Smirl, about 51, driver of the second car, and Lewis M. Thompson, about 75, both of Seneca.

★ ★ ★

The state highway patrol said the Hansen and Acker families were en route to Abilene, Kan., to visit relatives.

Cause of the accident has not been determined.

Anti-Reuther Writing Ties to GM Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) is asking a Senate investigation of whether General Motors Corp. is helping to finance pamphleteering attacks on Walter Reuther.

★ ★ ★

Douglas made the request of the Senate Rackets Committee yesterday, referring to activities of pamphleteer Joseph P. Kamp and newspaper advertisements placed by the Committee for Constitutional Government. Douglas called Kamp's writings "hate propoganda attacks."

In Detroit, a General Motors spokesman said "Any charge that General Motors has supported a hate campaign in any way is utterly ridiculous."

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, has been attacked in Kamp pamphlets circulated on the West Coast.

★ ★ ★

Douglas, in asking the committee investigation, referred to newspaper stories naming Donaldson Brown, GM board member, and C. S. Mott, GM's largest stockholder, as among contributors to Kamp anti-union pamphlets financing.

KING LEW — Pitcher Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves relaxes in the dressing room with a newspaper before the World Series opener today. Over Burdette's locker is a crown signifying the World's Champions and also reference to "King Lew" who took three games from the Yanks in the 1957 series.

Talk of Personnel Changes Fills the Air

Rumors at Milwaukee

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The first World Series rumors began drifting through the headquarter lobbies today. Have a few.

Birdie Tebbetts, ex-Cincinnati manager, will join the Milwaukee Braves immediately after the World Series as assistant to president Joseph Cairnes.

★ ★ ★

Cairnes will direct a huge multi-million dollar real estate project in West Palm Beach and intends to head South directly after the Series. The job fill occupy four months.

John Quinn, general manager of the Braves, said he had not been notified of any appointment but understood Cairnes was considering an assistant to handle certain front office business matters while he was away.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know whether it will be Tebbetts, or Ben Geraghty (manager of the Wichita farm club), or anybody at all," he said. "They haven't contacted me. I don't care who comes here, in what capacity, as long as he helps the organization. All I want is for us to win."

★ ★ ★

The Braves also are rumored to be ready to shift their Wichita American Assn. franchise to Jacksonville, Fla. That would just about wreck the Sally League. There has been some talk that the Sally would combine with the Southern Assn.

Johnny Riddle, coach of the Cincinnati Reds, will serve in the same capacity with the Philadelphia Phillies next year... at an increase in pay. The Reds' pitching coach, Tom Ferrick, generally regarded as one of the best pitching mentors in the big leagues, already has been notified to look for another job.

Herman Franks will resign as coach of the San Francisco Giants any day now. Manager Bill Rigney is contemplating another coaching change.

★ ★ ★

Eddie Lopat, former New York Yankee pitching star who managed the Richmond club of the International League, will be the next coach to be hired by the St. Louis Cardinals. He will join Johnny Keane and Harry Walker.

Bill Posedel who, along with coaches Wally Moses and Andy Seminick, have been notified of their release by the Phillies, will serve as a scout for the Cleveland Indians. Posedel, an astute judge of talent, will scout in the San Francisco Bay area.

First Game 'Even-Money'

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—It was "betcha money and take your pick" for today's opening game of the world series.

The oddsmakers actually were quoting an 11-10 price on the opener, which means you have to wager $11 to win $10 regardless of the team you pick. However, in man-to-man betting it was considered an even-money game.

The Yankees are 6-7 favorites to win the series. Yankee backers must lay $7 to win $5; Braves bettors collect $6 for each $5 wager if their team wins. In man-to-man betting, that's 6½-5 or 13-10.

County Stadium Jammed as 1958 Classic Begins

Southpaws Ford, Spahn Pitching Rivals Today With Yanks Favored

MILWAUKEE (AP) — In spite of the wintry football weather, a thoroughly enthusiastic standing-room-only crowd of 47,300 packed County Stadium today in anticipation of a sizzling pitching duel between two of baseball's greatest left-handers—Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and New York's Whitey Ford—in the opener of the 1958 World Series.

★ ★ ★

Despite the fact that the Series was opening in Milwaukee and that Ford had not won a single of his five series triumphs away from Yankee Stadium, the Yankees ruled 5½ to 5 to win the first game and 7 to 5 to capture the Series.

Precedent was against the Braves because no National League champion has been able to win two October classics in succession since the New York Giants whipped Miller Huggins' Yankees way back in 1921 and 1922.

★ ★ ★

Since then the Yankees have won 17 world championships in 21 tries. They bowed to the Braves, however, in the last one, in seven games.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, still smarting from that loss, blamed it last night on some bum advice he had received from National League friends. He vowed this time to follow his own judgment.

"Them fellers sure gave me a bum steer," he said. "They told me (Eddie) Mathews couldn't field and that he was just a fair runner. They said (Lew) Burdette couldn't beat us. Well, you know what Lew did against us last year and he won 20 games this year."

★ ★ ★

He said, "This time I'm going to use my own judgement. I got some ideas of my own. If I'm going to lose I might as well blame myself, not anybody else. But I don't expect to lose. I did enough losing to those guys last year."

Stengel didn't disclose his ideas but he must have done a great deal of thinking between the time and along about 8 o'clock in the evening. In the afternoon he told the press, "Sorry, no lineup. Not until tomorrow." Later, he notified the reporters he had changed his mind. It read:

★ ★ ★

Bauer, rf; McDougald, 2b; Mantle, cf; Howard, lf; Berra, C; Sowron, 1b; Carey, 3b; Kubek, ss; Ford, p.

Earlier he had hinted strongly that Elston Howard would be in right field in place of Hank Bauer who had a sore left wrist. Stengel then watched Bauer slam several line drives in batting practice and remarked "It's up to him."

Another factor in Stengel's change of mind could have been Hank's World Series record. He has hit safely in his last 14 series games.

★ ★ ★

Inserting Howard in left field and benching rookie Norm Siebern was a surprise. Siebern has been one of the most consistent of Yankee hitters, finishing with a .300 average. He drew nothing but praise from Old Case in the afternoon. Howard, who did most of his work during the regular season, behind the plate, not only was in left field but batted in the cleanup spot.

"I had to find a place for him to play," said Casey. "He can play first base, left field, right field, catch and hit. He's been my best hitter this year."

★ ★ ★

Howard, of course, bats right handed and Siebern left handed. The fact that a southpaw was to pitch for Milwaukee undoubtedly dictated Casey's thinking.

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan State guard Jack Quiggle was cut from the Detroit Piston roster yesterday as the Pistons moved down to an even dozen.

Ace Titan Back Ready to Play

Injury in Air Force Game Not Serious to Bruce Maher

DETROIT (UPI) — University of Detroit halfback Bruce Maher, who was carried off the field on a stretcher Friday night in the Air Force Academy game, is expected to be back in action this week.

His injury was diagnosed as a severe charley horse.

The Titans play the Quantico Marines here Friday night. Detroit whipped Quantico last year 33-0 but is expecting a tougher time this week. Quantico has won three straight this season, including a 31-20 victory over Xavier Sunday night.

Circuit Judge Rules in Favor of Telecasting

Commercial TV Outlets in Michigan and Ohio to Carry Game

DETROIT (AP) — The closed circuit telecast of the Michigan-Michigan State football game Saturday will go on as scheduled. Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn ruled in favor of it yesterday.

Bohn, ruling under what he called "principle of equity, dissolved his temporary restraining order against the telecast and also refused an injunction.

★ ★ ★

The closed telecast will go into commercial outlets in Detroit and four other Michigan cities and Toledo, Ohio.

The court rejected the suit of Democratic State Rep. John J. Fitzpatrick, longtime foe of pay television. Fitzpatrick said he would continue his fight against pay-TV in the future.

Judge Bohn, who expressed personal "sympathy" for the open TV principle, said he ruled against Fitzpatrick because the legislator had failed to show he would suffer damage from the closed showing of the sellout game.

★ ★ ★

"It is a principle of equity," Bohn said, "that any injunction should be dissolved if it is shown greater injury will result from its continuance than from its dissolution."

Promoters of the telecast have estimated their investment at $30,000. The game will be seen in theaters and auditoriums at an admission fee of $3.

Judge Bohn also said he did not feel the game should be denied to persons who wanted to see it in view of the ruling of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) against open TV of the contest.

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that it was only after the NCAA decision was made that arrangements were set up for the closed showing.

Fitzpatrick said he would try to get tighter regulations on pay TV at the next legislature.

Larsen, '56 Series Hero, Awaits Chance

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Big Don Larsen, who went from hero to ham in one swift year, was happy to be sitting on the bench as the World Series opened today.

Two years ago he stood the baseball world on its collective ear by pitching the first perfect game in World Series history against the Brooklyn Dodgers. Last year he was the loser as Lew Burdette won the final game for Milwaukee.

★ ★ ★

This time around—as the Braves and Yankees go back at it again—Larsen almost didn't make it.

"It looked for a time as if I wouldn't even get on the Yankees' World Series eligibility list," he remembered. "I worried about it a lot. But now I'm in, thank goodness."

And, he predicted, he just might have a "pretty good series."

Larsen almost missed the boat knows that he won only nine games this season.

"Coming up toward the end of the season," he recalls, "there were two pitching spots open on the Yankee World Series eligibility list. There were three of us in contention—Tom Sturdivant, Murry Dickson and myself. Well, Virgil Trucks was dropped from the list and we all three made it. But there were moments when I wondered, I'll tell you."

There is a bit of irony to Larsen's ups and downs. When he pitched his famous perfect game against the Dodgers, he used a band new "no windup" technique.

★ ★ ★

It was so effective that it was adopted by "Bullet Bob" Turley. Larsen's swift-throwing teammate has used it with sensational success, finally reaching the heights which had eluded him for so long and becoming the Yankees' leading winner this season.

★ ★ ★

Turley is expected to start tomorrow's second game against the Braves with the probability that Larsen will pitch the Saturday third game at Yankee Stadium. But it wouldn't surprise the six-foot, four-inch Larsen if the "old man"—meaning manager Casey Stengel—surprised the Braves and gave him the second game assignment.

MSU Football Receipts Budgeted at $572,500

LANSING (AP) — It's a matter of pride with Michigan State that the Spartans now have struck a home-and-home football bargain with Michigan. But the victory had a price—$50,000 this year.

The big game will be alternated between East Lansing and Ann Arbor annually through 1964.

Last year, MSU budget makers figured on $150,000 from Michigan game receipts. With this year's tilt Saturday carded in a smaller stadium at East Lansing, MSU's share of the gate was budgeted at only $100,000.

Football is the money-making giant at Michigan State, furnishing more than two-thirds of athletic department budgeted income.

★ ★ ★

Spartan athletic officials report football in 1957-58 brought in $679,746 of total athletic department income of $957,593. These compare with budget figures estimated in June 1957 of $692,500 and $984,600.

Budget planners look to football for $572,500 this year.

Financially, scheduling makes a big difference. This season's homecoming game with Wisconsin is expected to net $85,000. The finale against Kansas State, a non-conference foe to be dropped, is down for only $30,000.

Illinois, to be played away in its big stadium, is expected to bring in $90,000. Indiana, where fans stay away in droves to watch high school basketball, is figured for only $22,500.

In this connection, next year's schedule should be a good one money-wise. Michigan will be met at Ann Arbor in its 101,001-seat stadium. Ohio State will be played there in its stadium with a capacity of 78,951.

The MSU athletic department's 1958-59 budget is $928,300 compared with the $984,600 budgeted a year ago.

There are some other sources of income. Michigan State's Rose Bowl share is figured at $25,000 every year—it actually was $24,678 last year. Each Big Ten school receives one share yearly under the agreement and two shares—about $50,000—when they make the trip.

Student sports activity admissions are figured to bring in $194,000 this year and employe ticket books $30,000.

Other sources of income are television, bringing in about $80,000 a year; radio right, about $35,000, and program sales, about $15,000.

E. Lansing Tops B Poll

By The Associated Press

It looks like new champions will be determined in class A and class B Michigan high school football circles this season.

Last year's Class B winners Marshall high, is out of the running in the first week of the Associated Press ratings. Held to a 0-0 tie by Kalamazoo University high in its opener, Marshall defeated Three Rivers last week 18-0 but could not break into the select list.

A panel of 11 sports writers covering every sector of the lower peninsula makes weekly ratings of the class B teams.

A frequent class B power, East Lansing high, climbed to the top in the first week's ratings, piling up 75 points out of a possible 110. The Trojans drew only three first-place votes worth 10 points apiece, but drew support from almost every member of the panel.

It's a wide open scramble all the way down the ratings, though. Dowagiac, winner over Three Rivers and always tough St. Joseph, polled 60 points and held down second place.

In third place by a narrow margin is South Haven, a perfect-record team with 52-0 and 20-0 shutout triumphs over Coloma and Plainwell. One point behind at 50 is Coldwater, winner over Hillsdale and Albion.

Here's the way the panel rated them for the first week:

1.	East Lansing	75
2.	Dowagiac	60
3.	South Haven	51
4.	Coldwater	50
5.	Cadillac	33
6.	Kalamazoo University High	28
7	Grand Blanc	27
8.	Northville	20
9.	River Rouge	16

Ed Haglund holds the high game of the new season with a 279. Lou Koprince's 682 tops all series, because of a "tender" right elbow. It kept him out of action throughout most of August and early September and, while he still isn't certain just what was wrong, he Secoy was runnerup last season in his 1st year as a Pine Lake caddie. He received his championship trophy at the recent Pine Lake caddie banquet given by the Caddie Masters Association.

MSU 3rd in Total Offense

Oklahoma, Army Set Pace

By The Associated Press

To the surprise of no one, particularly West Virginia and South Carolina, Oklahoma and Army ranked 1-2 today in total offense according to National Collegiate athletic bureau statistics.

The Sooners, No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, swamped West Virginia 47-14 last Saturday, running up 559 yards overall. The Cadets, with the "bazooka offense" humbled South Carolina 46-8 with 529 yards.

Third in overall offense is Michigan State, with 502 yards in their only game, a 32-12 victory over California.

MSU 'Ponies' Ready to Run

Spartan Backs May Be Smaller but Are Fast

Opposing Lines Have Some Beef but Speed Is Factor

EAST LANSING (AP) — The ponies will try to outrun the horses in the Michigan-Michigan State football game here Saturday.

Michigan State's starting backfield averages out at 177 pounds per man. The 1958 Spartans already are being compared to the "pony backs" like Billy Wells and Leroy Bolden of a few years ago.

Michigan, with fullback John Herrnstein the biggest bruiser, averages an even 200 pounds in the starting backfield.

MSU quarterback Mike Panitch packs 169 pounds on his stocky, 5-7 frame. Halfbacks weigh in at 175 and 178. Fullback Bob Bercich weighs 187.

As in the game against Southern California, Herrnstien is the big man in the Michigan backfield with his 215 pounds. Quarterback Bob Ptacek weighs 206 and halfbacks Brad Myers and Fred Julian scale in at 196 and 184. .

★ ★ ★

The MSU average will up a little if Don Arend, at 203, starts at fullback. But the second string halfbacks are built along the same line of speed rather than weight.

Al Luplow, the new sophomore star from Saginaw, weighs 180 and his running mate in the reserve backfield, Roger Dannahoo, scales 182.

Both teams have hefty lines. Don Deskins (239) and Jerry Marciniak (236) are the heavyweights of the Michigan forward wall. Facing them for State will be Palmer Pyle (240) and Ellisson Kelly (231).

Shifts indicated earlier this week were carried out in practice at Michigan State Saturday.

Herb Adderly, 197-pound sophomore left half from Philadelphia, was shifted to fullback and was running third.

The squad worked out behind the protective walls of the secret practice field adjacent to Macklin Stadium despite an on-again off-again rain.

The field, which can be entered only through the fieldhouse, provided a little more privacy than the open practice field protected only by canvas that had been used so far this season.

Wolverine Backs Bigger, Linemen Slower

'M' Seeking Speed

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan says he would prefer a light, fast unit in the backfield rather than the brawn he expects to send against Michigan State Saturday.

Oosterbaan, preparing his underdog Wolverines for the annual backyard clash with the Spartans, says his rival Duffy Daugherty has speed and deception in the MSU backfield unit.

Daugherty's contingent of Mike Panitch (169), Dean Look (175), Art Johnson (178) and Bob Bercich (183) averages out at 176 pounds.

In contrast, Michigan's starting backfield averages 200.

Right halfback Fred Julian, the lightest Wolverine runner, weighs 184, a pound more than Bercich, the Spartans' heaviest starting back.

Michigan must clutch out its yardage in short bursts with Julian, Bob Ptacek (206), Brad Myers (196) and John Herrnstein (215) lugging the ball. Any of the Spartan backs is capable of breaking away.

The Spartan and Wolverine lines are a near even match in weight. Michigan State's forward wall averages 218 pounds, four more than Michigan's.

It's up front where Oosterbaan would like the weight advantage.

"A good, big man is better than a good, little man if each have equal talents," he said. "The big lineman who's aggressive and gets a fast charge will push the little one around.

"But a good little man should be able to take care of a poor big one despite the difference in weight."

It's likely Daugherty will pack his defenses to stop Herrnstein, Michigan's most productive and probably fastest runner. Herrnstein bore the brunt of the Wolverines' attack against Southern California. Myers is the Wolverine's only other running threat.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's Gerry Marciniak (236) and Don Deskins (239) on the interior and Gary Prahst (222) and Walt Johnson (214) on the ends may not be quick enough to stop the Spartan race horses.

Ptacek, Michigan's starting quarterback, returned to action yesterday, his gashed left hand sufficiently healed to handle the ball. Ptacek's alternate, Stan Noskin, was out of action with a sore throat.

Viking Has 32 Points in 2 Games

Fink Leads County Scoring

By CHUCK ABAIR

Walled Lake's Frank Fink is off to a fast start in the 1958 Oakland County scoring race with 32 points to his credit in two games.

The fleet senior halfback has tallied five touchdowns and two extra points in pacing the Vikings to a pair of victories. He is given a good chance of replacing St. Fred ace Jack Lyon as the local offensive ace this fall.

Lyon, who won out over Jim Drake of Lake Orion a year ago by ringing up 108 points, is running as well as ever this season for the Rams but has been held to two TDs, both last Sunday.

Dave Stokes of Troy is the closest competitor to Fink with 25 points while Ed Bush of Birmingham, Tom Bell of West Bloomfield and BOB Holbrook of Royal Oak Kimball follow with 24.

Fink, Lyon's teammate Tom Derocher, John Schoff of Lake Orion and Doug Meadows of Royal Oak Dondero each has had a three-touchdown game.

Derocher and Ray Kovachevich of Oak Park are the only members of the top 25 who finished among the leading point-getters in '57.

Don Donar of St. Benedict has taken over for departed Raven Larry Gacki as the county area leader with 30 points for two outings. Doug Graham and Ron Irish, Brown City's veteran 1-2 punch, follow with 24 and 20, respectively.

Now we have reached the top of the backswing as the bowler takes the third step with the right foot. The ball, at this point, should not be more than shoulder height.

One of the most common mistakes any bowler makes is letting his backswing get away from him at this point. In trying for extra speed many bowlers will bring the ball back higher than we show in today's drawing. The extra speed they gain is more than offset, however, by the damage done to their timing. The speed itself may be bad, too, as it may prevent a normal hooking action. I am not against a fast ball, but it should be obtained by allowing the backswing to come back above shoulder height.

Ed Lubanski has a style very similar to the one illustrated today. Most good bowlers have generally the same form. The eyes, as shown, are still on the target. The head and hips face forward. The shoulders will stay square to the target as he delivers the ball.

Everything is set for the bowler to bring his right arm and his left leg forward for the final step and delivery of the ball.

Local Trotter Loses

JACKSON — Steady rain and a muddy layout did not stop 2,110 harness fans turned out to wager $53,098 at the Jackson Raceway last night.

Emily Ann Spencer triumphed in the featured Adrian trot by just beating Chiz Hanover owned by F and M Stables of Pontiac.

Hanover took the lead and had a wide margin but went off stride in the stretch. He finished second but was disqualified and placed third.

This Insurance Exchange at the Auto Club exists now, and has for three decades, only to please, protect and serve.

It has done these things so well for so long, there is no question that it is the first choice among Michigan car owners. Indeed, it is so popular that more people of Michigan insure their car here as Auto Club members than all the rest of the people of Michigan insure with any other insurance organization.

It is the car insurance more people like best. It just has to be outstanding to be so dominant.

Milford at West Bloomfield, Northville at Bloomfield Hills

W-O Has Key Games on Tap

By CHUCK ABAIR

West Bloomfield, Northville and Clarkston are favored to continue unbeaten while Brighton will have to turn in its best performance yet to avoid its first setback as the Wayne-Oakland football league swings into its 2nd week of action beginning Friday afternoon.

Northville is actually the only strong choice on the four-game slate. The Mustangs will invade Bloomfield Hills in the only afternoon contest.

The success of John Lucadam, Tom Bell and company in romps over St. Michael and Clarenceville gives West Bloomfield an edge but the Lakers are anticipating no easy time with Milford.

Clarkston rates the nod over Clarenceville after two impressive showings while the real tossup is the Brighton at Holly contest.

Milford coach Dick Yeager has been having defensive problems and the Lakers, who have scored 66 points, will likely not ease the situation very much. But any team with fellows like John Zeeman and Terry Anderson in the lineup can't be counted out this early.

Missing from the West Bloomfield lineup for the 2nd straight week will be veteran guard Fred Lemond. The ailing 158-pounder will be in uniform for limited duty if needed.

Northville's squad has been nursing bumps and bruises since its meeting with Holly, but all hands are expected to be ready to go at Bloomfield Hills. Explosive backs Bob Starnes and Bill Walker head the defending champs' attack.

The Barons lost two starters for the game as the result of a rugged Monday workout. Offensive halfback and linebacker John Page and end Gordon Walker are sidelined with knee injuries.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston skipper Ed Hintz has been pleased with the progress of his gridders despite injuries. One new starter against Clarenceville may be 130-pound Jack Weaver at halfback. The Wolves will be trying to win their first Homecoming game in four tries.

Clarenceville outgained Keego 284-210 despite taking a bad beating, led by halfback Jon Nelson. So this could turn into a scoring duel.

Holly was picked the top contender to Northville's throne before play started and is still not being counted out despite an 0-2 slate. Inexperience has hurt the Broncos in two good showings. Coach Al Gratsch plans to send a new halfback duo against the 207-pound Brighton line. Bill Hayes and Dale Coggins have earned starting jobs.

Those big Brighton defenders have yet to allow a point in two outings led by 215-pound John Cord and Dave Fuller, 210. The Bulldogs have tallied 26, 14 by shifty halfback Sean Lavan.

Major Hoople Sez: Michigan Over MSU

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Adviser to Fielding Yost

HAK-KAFF! Following a startling display of prognosticating, in which South Carolina defeated Duke and College of Pacific turned back California—as my zillions of readers were assured beforehand—I found myself working doubly hard on this week's set of college football forecasts.

Egad! Complacency, the very enemy of genius, reared its head within my organization.

With people clustered along the length and breadth of the land awaiting news of this week's astounding array of upsets, my associates, Mr. Gaspar Swayhoover and Mr. Red Board Daly, left their slide rules unattended during a round of luncheon parties, from which they invariably failed to return.

When I received word that Dr. Quentin Zlobotny, the noted fourth dimension scientist, had obtained a writ of habeas corpus and my astronomer, Dr. Vladimir McGrath, had recovered from his satellite fixation, I summarily dismissed my co-workers.

Zounds! There was much work late into the night to make up for lost time, but we were able to triumph. Dr. Zlobotny's fresh approach immediately manifested itself.

★ ★ ★

He has had a good rest of late, thus was able to state that the ears of the midwest will be filled, Saturday night, by the tempo John Phillip Sousa termed the finest college marching music in the world.

That would be the University of Michigan's "Champions of the West." It shall be played endlessly, following the Wolverines smashing 27-14 victory over mighty Michigan State. Zounds! What an upset!

Ah, but there are more! Villanova, Dr. McGrath vows, will have the Philadelphia Main Line in ecstasy after it topples Boston College by 21-20!

Can you believe it? Heh-heh. These are only the cream off the milk. Read on for the rest of my unbelievable predictions:

Maple Harriers Roll to 25th Victory in Row

One of the best prep harrier team records in Michigan yesterday afternoon reached its "silver" stage when Birmingham's runners defeated Ferndale 20-41. The victory, taken over the Maples' layout, was the 25th straight in dual competition. It gave Kermit Ambrose's squad its 3rd Eastern Michigan League victory.

Maples are topheavy favorites to repeat as EML champions. They meet another loop opponent, Mt. Clemens, at Birmingham on Friday.

Seven Birmingham runners were in the top 10, paced by Fraser Cocks (11:11). Dales' John Ronney was second. Dan Reid, Steve Thorson and Bill Green finished in the next three places; John Shelly was 7th and Dave Hunter and Paul Simmons were No. 8 and 9 for Maples. Len Horvath took a 6th for Dales.

Jock McPhee and Ted Egner led the reserves' win with a tight race.

Perfect Score Set by Viking Harriers

One of those scoring rarities in cross-country engagements, the "perfect score," was hung up yesterday afternoon by Don Smith's Walled Lake High squad. The Vikings defeated Milford at Walled Lake, 15-48, for their 3rd straight season's win. Event was run in rain and cold.

Jack Hobb's 10:57 led the pack, followed in order by five teammates, Ray Taulbee (5 seconds back), George Beeman, Mel Stokes, Mike Cosgrave and Bob Smith. Ridgeway and Ron Berby of Milford were next and Jerry Eskilinen of Walled Lake was 9th.

Walled Lake runs Farmington there on Thursday.

Howe Shows Off for Home Folks

SASKATOON, Sask. (UPI) — Gordie Howe gave the home town folks a show last night.

Howe, a native of Saskatoon, fired five goals to lead the Detroit Red Wings to a 10-3 exhibition victory over the Saskatoon Quakers of the Western League.

Lovell Coleman, speed merchant from Hamtramck in the Western Michigan College backfield, leads the Mid-America conference in rushing with 407 yards in two games and five touchdowns.

Outboard Clubs Honor Canadians at Final Outing

Three groups of outboard motorboaters that have enjoyed a number of regattas together during the summer recently held their final get-together at Algonac state park.

The Dresden, Ont., club, which entertained the Flint Skippers and Oakland County's Family Cruising Club (mostly Drayton Plains outboard addicts) several times, was given two fine picnic tables by the Michigan clubs. There were 160 at the gathering.

Family Cruisers' commodore, Bob Littlefield, has resigned because of a transfer in employment to Orlando, Fla. Fred Blodgett will fill out the term, until the annual meeting in January. There are 25 members in the Cruisers' club.

Widely Spread Family

There are about 600 different species of mantis. The Greeks believed this insect to be studying the future and so named it "mantis" meaning "diviner," while Moslems asserted that it prayed with its face toward Mecca.

NEWCOMER — Recently introduced to Michigan by private shooting preserve operators, the coturnix quail provides a new target for hunters. Smaller than our bobwhite quail, coturnix usually do not covey up like bobwhites. Also unlike the protected bobwhite, coturnix quail may be hunted at anytime in Michigan.

Special Season Drawings Set

LANSING — Drawings to determine distribution of special season deer hunting permits have been scheduled for October in Marquette and Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The drawings will be necessary for permit distribution in areas where applications exceed "any deer" permit quotas.

Drawings for areas 26-37 inclusive—all in the Upper Peninsula—will be held about Oct. 17 at Marquette if these areas are over-subscribed. A total of 17,033 permits will be issued in the U.P. to harvest about two deer per square mile over some 3582 square miles of food shortage and crop damage areas north of the Straits.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, drawings for permits for areas 1-25 in the Lower Peninsula will be held about Oct. 20 at Lansing. Some 37,568 permits will be issued for these areas.

★ ★ ★

Deadline for applications this year is Oct. 10. Interested hunters must purchase a deer license, fill out a special season application and mail the application card to the Department's Lansing offices by that date.

Hunters, Wildlife Join Battle Today

Summer's Truce Is Ended

By JACK PATTERSON

The 10-month truce had ended. With the first flush of daylight in the east this morning the gunfire started. As the shadows of September retreated before the rising sun a new day and a new month began and from the Monroe marshes in the southeast, to the extreme western end of the Upper Peninsula, wildfowlers engaged the advance forces of 200 million ducks fleeing the early winter of Canadian prairies.

PATTERSON

On Wildfowl Bay the gunners were pushing a little to beat the four o'clock cease fire, a grim reminder of the thirties when all the ducks on the North American continent scarcely totalled 30 million and it looked as though duck hunting was gone forever.

In the forests of the upper half of the Lower Peninsula and throughout the Upper, upland hunters searched the popple clumps and jackpines for an increasing population of grouse, or pushed through the heavy growth in the river bottoms for plentiful and elusive woodcock. Thick cover hindered their shooting but failed to dampen their spirits. There was always tomorrow.

In these same forests, in the pines and in the hardwoods, not all hunters afield carried guns. The stealthy progress of these gunless hunters was revealed by the occasional twang of a bowstring, which sometimes signalled the death of a deer.

On the plains of the Upper many hunters crouched in pits, hoping for a chance at Canada geese, while others tramped unbelievable distances in pursuit of sharptailed grouse and vanishing prairie chickens.

★ ★ ★

In brier and cedar swamp small beagles did their best to run cottontail and snowshoe rabbits within gun range of their owners, while in the hardwoods the crack of light rifles indicated that agile gray squirrels, were coming in for their share of attention.

On the broad marshes bordering the Great Lakes a comparative handful of dedicated shotgunners were polishing their shooting eyes on darting, twisting jacksnipe, taking as an earned bonus the odd teal or blackduck, and having a fine time despite the boggy going underfoot.

That was the pattern as the 1958 small game and bow and arrow deer seasons opened this morning. A pattern that will see the gunfire grow in intensity, then gradually diminish as the seasons close, one by one, until December comes again and the woods will be left alone to the stillness of winter.

Science Invades Privacy of Wildlife

HICKORY CORNERS—A village gossip could take lessons in spying on neighbors from Roswell D. Van Deusen.

But Van Deusen's neighbors are not people. They are birds.

The director of Michigan State University's Kellogg Bird Sanctuary, near Battle Creek, employs the latest in stealthy seeing and listening devices to keep track of thousands of ducks, geese, swans and many other birds and animals.

As a result, he knew that Canada geese 45 and 11 were nesting on a homemade nesting island in back of the banding station, that they began nesting together in 1956, that they have had 15 goslings, that three have died, that eight are now living on the lake and that before number 45 took up with his present spouse, he nested with the late number 10.

It is all in the cause of science.

"Wildlife studies are different from other sciences," Van Deusen explained, "because the subjects are so highly mobile."

★ ★ ★

The "snooperscope," so named by Van Deusen, is one of several gadgets that he and his associates use to keep tab on elusive animals.

This adaptation of the World War II "sniperscope" is based on the principle that infrared, or so-called "black light" is invisible to the unaided eye.

★ ★ ★

The gadget consists of what amounts to an infrared flashlight slung under a special, low magnification telescope through which the operator can see anything in the light's beam.

★ ★ ★

For listening to animals, the sanctuary has a parabola—a sort of extra-large, shallow, metal salad bowl with a michrophone suspended in front.

★ ★ ★

Sound waves are scooped up by the bowl, focused back to the microphone and transmitted to a recorder. The rig is three to five times as sensitive as human ears.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Most American youngsters possess an inherent desire to go hunting—to possess a gun of their own, and this time of year points up those desires in a rather acute manner. Today marks the start of the state's waterfowl season, and many of these active boys (girls, too) are eager to test their skill in the fall's first game shooting.

Intelligently pursued, hunting and shooting are regarded as most rewarding activities for youngsters. But the question of giving youngsters firearms poses important decisions for the parent. The wise father will look for competent advice. Sources of proper information and capable instruction may be found at sportsmen's clubs, such as Oakland County Sportsmen's club, Multi-Lakes, and others.

★ ★ ★

For the lover of the outdoors, fall is a particularly interesting time; for one good reason among others, when first frosts clothe the trees in gorgeous raiment. A drive over most any route in Oaklnd county where woodlands abound is already a colorful, fascinating experience. It will be enhanced later on.

★ ★ ★

On this first day of the fall waterfowl and small game season Muskegon reports what are believed to be the youngest and oldest archers in the fields after deer. Nine-year-old Dickie Smith, son of a newspaper photographer, accompanied his dad on a hunt in northern Michigan. This is his first hunt as a licensed hunter.

★ ★ ★

Oldest hunter is believed to be 92-year-old George Cross, a regular bow-hunter since 1935. He's trying for a deer in the Luther area.

Moose hunting is big business, says Outdoor Vacations (a firm that handles packaged hunting vacations most anywhere). The outfit claims nearly $3 million was poured into Canadian coffers last year by Americans, whose trophies are estimated to have cost $760 each.

Cup Races Delayed

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Officials of the Texas Corinthian Yacht Club, hosts for three major sailing series to be held here within the next two weeks, have postponed the Scandinavian Gold Cup races.

Competition for the coveted gold cup was to have gotten under way Tuesday but a delay was asked by foreign entries so they could have more time to acquaint themselves with the Galveston Bay course.

European Model Racers Work Under Handicaps

European model racing car builders and enthusiasts are dedicated sportsmen. They make their little speed demons from "scratch", but turn out jobs that are marvels of efficiency. That's the sincere compliment two Pontiac devotees of the sport this week paid competitors in the recent European, world and German championships at Basel, Zurich (Switzerland) and Stuttgart, Germany.

H. S. Briggs, 206 Mt. Clemens, and Phil Sauer, with Brownie, Phil's wife, recently returned from a month's stay abroad during which the men raced their tiny cars against Europe's best. They were successful in winning three championships, placed high in others.

"Here we can go out and buy a motor," said Sauer. "But over there they have to make their own. They don't have any kits such as are common here." Briggs approved that statement, added "and those boys are the finest — they treated us royally."

★ ★ ★

Briggs won the .19 event at Basel (Sauer 2nd), had 3rd in .15, .09 and .29 classes; Briggs won the world .19, had 3rds with .09, and .15. Sauer had a .19 3rd and Johnny Heitsch's car, raced by Sauer, was 2nd in .19. In the German event Sauer was first and 2nd for the .29 and .09 respectively.

'EXTRAS' — One wouldn't think any frog would be dissatisfied with the leaping equipment with which Mother Nature equipped it. But here's one that grew itself an extra pair of hind legs. This freakish creature was discovered near a pond at Avondale by 15-year-old Charles Meyers, 2700 Vendome, Pontiac. The fully developed extra legs sprout from the end of the spine, extend straight up, and are practically useless. Frog is just half the size of the above photograph. It is still alive, eating flies for nourishment, provided by Charles. Arrow points to "regular" leg.

Pioneer officials promise the show will be held, without regard for the weather.

Hold USET Jump Tryouts

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — Nine riders bid for places on the Pan American Games jumping team as the U. S. equestrian team preliminary tryouts opened Monday at the Fairfield County Hunt Club.

★ ★ ★

The trials end next Sunday with the selection by the U. S. Olympic Equestrian Committee of riders to continue training for the 1959 games at Chicago.

★ ★ ★

The four members of the team which recently completed a highly successful invasion of European horse show arenas were among the nine who participated in the preliminary warmup exercises.

★ ★ ★

In addition to team captain Bill Steinkraus, Westport, Conn., Frank Chapot, Wallpack, N. J., Hugh Wiley, Towson, Md., and George Morris, New Canaan, Conn., the field of hopefuls includes Kathy Kusner, Alexandria, Va., Mary Litchfield, Pittsburgh, Pa., Judy Hofmann, North Branch, N. J., Carter Buller, West Chester, Pa., and Wilson Dennehey, Lake Forest, Ill.

Solunar Tables

Among established aids to good fishing are John Alden Knight's solunar tables, from which the following periods have been taken. They were set up especially for this area and indicate the best time for both fishing (and hunting, since the state's general waterfowl season opened today).

Fish of Many Names

The accepted common name of the trout known to scientists as Salvelinus fontinalis is the eastern brook trout. Itis sometimes called thebrookie, square tail, or native trout. Canadians known it as the speckled trout.

75 Area Dogs in Progressive Show

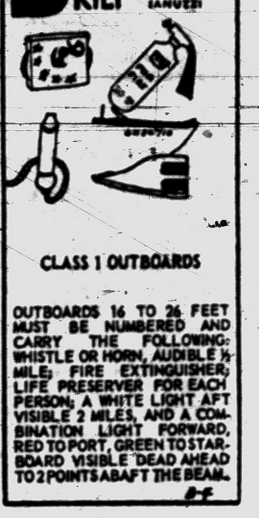

The Pontiac area is well represented in Sunday's annual fall benched, all-breed show and obedience trial for the Progressive Dog Club at the State Fair grounds dairy cattle building. Six metropolitan breed clubs support the show, that is rated one of the biggest in the state. Some 75 entries, among the more than 700, are from the Pontiac area.

Show opens at 9 a.m., runs to 9 p.m.

Added features include appearance of officer Edison Storing of St. Clair Shores, with his "safety girl," a clever doberman, and Mrs. Leo M. Poirer's samoyeds in an unusual exhibition.

Entries run the gamut of dogdom, from tiny Chihuahuas to the huge Irish wolfhounds and great Danes. There's a goodly sprinkling of unusual breeds, like the "butterfly" papillions and Salukis.

A Smart Move

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — G. C. Blackburn had a good excuse when he told how his string of 10 fish got away.

He was holding the stringer in his teeth while rebaiting his lines when a water moccasin swam in his direction. He was so surprised his mouth popped open and the fish fell into the water.

2,000 Children in Quemoy Live in Heatless Caves, Underground

QUEMOY (AP) — More than 2,000 children on Quemoy and Little Quemoy are living in caves and underground shelters as winter approaches with threats of influenza, smallpox and exposure.

★ ★ ★

"Our greatest fear is an influenza epidemic," said Dr. Lin Chin Chiang, head of the Quemoy medical center for civilians. "Children and aged people are living in caves and underground shelters that will be damp and cold this winter.

★ ★ ★

"They need blankets, clothing and some safe way to heat their shelters. Even if the Communists stop their artillery attacks, many hundreds will have no surface homes."

Earlier, the civilian administrator of Little Quemoy said all of that island's 5,700 civilians, including 1,500 children, are living underground. Food is running low and virtually no medical supplies are available.

★ ★ ★

(The State Department announced in Washington last Friday that $180,000 in civilian relief supplies are being shipped to the Quemoys. The supplies will include shelters, temporary housing, medical supplies and emergency stockpiling of food.)

Four villages on Quemoy are 85 per cent rubble from Communist shells. The four alone have between 500 and 700 childrn.

★ ★ ★

At Na Shan village, one of the hardest hit, out of some 120 homes there were 93 demolished. Only five homes had escaped direct shell hits.

★ ★ ★

Others had one livable room or a roof supported by fragments of walls. Some families had been living in underground shelters since Aug. 23, the day Communist guns began pounding the Quemoys.

Winter temperatures drop to the mid-40s, Dr. Lin said.

"Although not freezing, that cold combined with dampness will sap the resistance of the children and the aged. There will be suffering and the threat of epidemics."

★ ★ ★

There are only three doctors and nine nurses to care for the 44,000 civilians on Quemoy. There are only a handful of volunteer nurses on Little Quemoy. More volunteers are being trained on both islands.

"But right now, we are having a hard time caring for the wounded alone," Lin said.

Lin's medical center has 15 hospital beds in an underground ward. It was crowded with 67 wounded civilians, most of them sleeping on the floor between and under the beds. It was lit with candles.

★ ★ ★

When Lin operates, light is furnished by flashlights held by orderlies and less seriously wounded patients.

"We have a generator," the 35-year-old Shanghai-trained doctor said, "but it makes so much noise that it can be heard by the Communists (on an island 1¼ miles from Quemoy) and using it invites Red artillery."

Lin's hospital is desperately short of blood plasma, penicillin and other antibiotics. He has asked for air drop supplies of those as well as vitamin B complex preparations, and more surgical equipment.

Now It's Hula Skirts for Hoop Twirlers

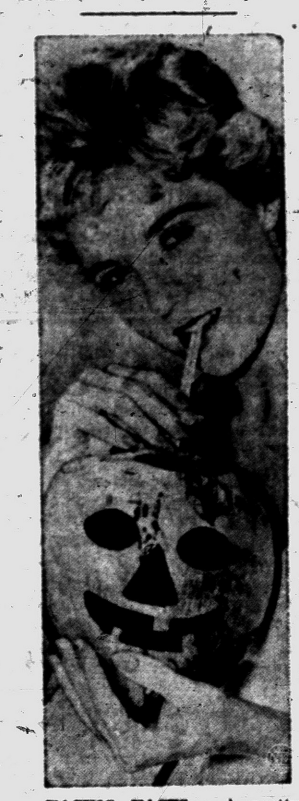

ST. JOSEPH (UPI) — It didn't take long for someone to think of an accessory for hula hoops.

Two St. Joseph markets are selling hula hoop skirts.

★ ★ ★

Manufactured locally, the $1.98 skirt is tied back into the hoop.

A draw string allows it to be worn as a swinging skirt, an over-size bonnet or just about any way the child's imagination can devise.

Fireman Saves Pooch by Artificial Respiration

MILWAUKEE (UP)— Spotty, a mongrel dog, can thank fireman Gordon Rotta's knowledge of artificial respiration for his life.

Rotta, fighting a fire in a home, found Spotty unconscious under a bed. He carried the pooch outside and applied artificial respiration. Pretty soon Spotty moved his head, rolled his eyes and began breathing naturally.

"By the time we had our hoses rolled up, Spotty was up and around and in pretty good shape," Rotta said.

General Statement of Condition

The Pontiac Public Schools provide a good educational program with adequate instructional materials, quality teaching, and sufficient physical facilities so that each student has the opportunity to attend classes full time, except for occasional unavoidable and temporary situations.

Continuous effor is made to provide superior teachers and more and better instructional materials, to evaluate and upgrade the various areas of learning, and to eliminate substandard classroom facilities.

Plans for the coming year include such things as greater emphasis upon instruction in mathematics and science, more challenge for academically able pupils, a comprehensive six period day for all senior high school students, and consolidation of pupil personnel services.

The Pontiac Public Schools plan to extend various services for which federal funds are available in keeping with new national educational developments.

The building program this year contemplates a new 6 room elementary school near Square Lake, a 4 classroom and stage addition to the Bagley school, a 400 pupil addition to the Madison Junior High school and a 200 pupil addition to the Washington Junior High school.

Grains Weaken in Light Dealing

CHICAGO (UP) — Grain futures dealings on the board of trade today.

Demand was very small in all pits and price changes held within narrow ranges early in the session.

Wheat started fractionally lower on scattered selling. Commercial demand was small and there were no signs of expected export business.

★ ★ ★

The corn market too was rather dull with the major amount of selling by a large elevator house. Scattered demand kept losses to fractions early in the session.

In the soybean pit, local traders were on the selling side and there were light hedging sales also. Buying was mainly on resting orders.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.93⅝; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, new style December $1.13¾; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 64¾; rye, ⅜ to 1 cent lower, December $1.30; and soybeans ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, November $2.17⅛.

Tells 'Youth Day' Plans in Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Carl Misfeldt, director of the West Bloomfield Boy's Club, announced today plans for the club's annual "Youth Day" which will be held this Friday and Saturday.

"Youth Day" activities, such as selling a newspaper published by the members of the club, will help raise money for the support of the club, Misfeldt said.

Other activities will include the Friday night football game between West Bloomfield and Milford High School teams, and the assigning of club members to take over administrative duties in the township and Keego Harbor municipal offices.

He's Hard-Bitten Thief

WATERLOO, Iowa (UPI) — A police stakeout team investigating reports doughnuts were being stolen regularly from an outdoor grocery display said they identified the culprit but couldn't catch him. A squirrel climbed down from a tree, gobbled a doughnut, and scurried away.

Unappreciated Genius!

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Jail matron Margaret De Leo reported that she left her handbag in a locked, unoccupied cell and returned to find $29 missing from it.

Retired General to Boss Civilian Aviation Board

WASHINGTON (UP) — Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada, a retired three star Air Force general who likes big game hunting, was picked yesterday as the nation's first civilian aviation boss.

President Eisenhower named Quesada, now his special assistant on aviation problems, to head the new Federal Aviation Agency which Congress set up to help improve air safety and deal with the needs of the jet age.

★ ★ ★

The all-powerful agency will make and enforce safety rules for military, commercial and private flying. It will absorb the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Airways Modernization Board, as well as some of the functions of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Quesada now heads the Airways Modernization Board.

★ ★ ★

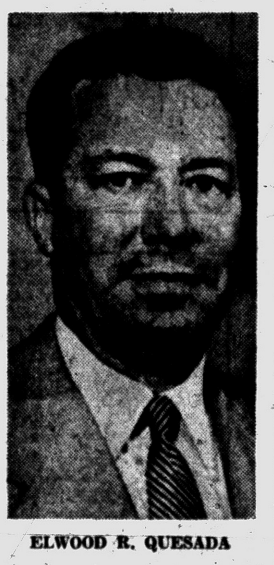

Eisenhower gave him a recess appointment effective Nov. 1. Since the job is subject to Senate confirmation, a formal nomination will go to Congress when it reconvenes in January.

Quesada will get a $1,500 a year increase in salary, to $22,500.

In a statement announcing the appointment Eisenhower deplored a provision in the law which is forcing Quesada to resign his commission as a lieutenant general on the retired list of the regular Air Force before he takes over Nov. 1.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower said Quesada's impending resignation "represents a sacrifice which I feel reflects his high sense of public duty." The President said he hopes the new Congress will pass legislation restoring Quesada's military status while permitting him to serve as head of the new agency.

ELWOOD R. QUESADA

★ ★ ★

Under the act setting up the agency, it cannot begin operations until 60 days after the appointment of the administration. Quesada will get a $20,500-a-year deputy who must be a civilian without regular military background. A man with regular military background may hold the post only when the administrator has no such history.

Congress passed the bill setting up the agency in a burst of speed. Eisenhower asked for its creation last June 13 after a series of airplane collisions brought an outcry from the government to halt them.

Profit-Taking Mixes Market

NEW YORK (UP)— The stock market was mixed in heavy early trading today.

Leading stocks showed gains and losses of fractions to about a point.

★ ★ ★

Profit-taking again was evident after the market's two-day surge to record peaks. The ticker tape was late for a period of seven minutes at the opening.

The pattern was irregular in most major sections. Rails and rubbers showed little change.

Royal Dutch was active and up about a point in an otherwise ragged oil group.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds Tobacco continued to decline, dropping about a point while Warner-Lambert steadied in further reaction to merger discussions.

The opening in Lukens Steel was delayed more than a half hour as exchange officials matched sell orders with buyers following yesterday's late news that the company had declared a 25 cent dividend, compared with 50 cents previously.

Lukens finally opened at 74½ off 4¼ on 5,400 shares.

Army Puts Chill on German Hello for Elvis Presley

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP) — Five hundred screaming youngsters turned out today to greet Elvis Presley — but the Army kept them well separated.

★ ★ ★

Presley, an Army private, was one of 1,300 soldiers arriving on the troopship General Randall.

★ ★ ★

Military cops were all over the place and the German police were around to help out.

The kids were out before dawn, waiting in heavy mist for the ship to arrive. Most were girls about 12 or 13 years old.

Supply Convoys Break Through

Hard-Pressed Island Gets Precious Relief Under Red Shells

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Two more Nationalist supply convoys have reached Quemoy despite the heaviest Communist bombardment in more than a week, the Defense Ministry said today.

In addition to the sea convoys both Monday and Tuesday, supplies were parachuted to the besieged offshore island both days, the ministry announced.

★ ★ ★

The Communists fired 13,169 shells at the Quemoy group Tuesday, more than the daily number in the past week, and in the first six hours of today stepped up to a massive 31,212 shells, the Defense Ministry said.

In Washington, the United States is expected to put heavy pressure on National China to pull back forces from the offshore islands near Communist territory — if it can get the Reds to accept a cease-fire in the Formosa area.

But on Formosa Chiang Kai-shek voiced disbelief that Dulles had said it would not be "wise or prudent" for the Nationalists to maintain a large force on the islands if a cease-fire can be arranged.

'WISHFUL THINKING'

"Mr. Dulles must know," Chaing said in an interview, "that it is only wishful thinking to ask the Chinese Communists for a cease-fire."

The Chinese leader said his government would be under no obligation to heed an American declaration of policy on Quemoy and the other islands.

★ ★ ★

The line taken by Secretary of State Dulles at a news conference Tuesday strongly indicated that the Eisenhower administration intends to exert much greater and more restrictive influence on the Nationalists than before.

OFFERS DEAL

Essentially Dulles held out to Red China, and the Soviet Union which supports it, the prospects of a deal to pacify the Formosa area. The first U.S. requirement would be an end to the present heavy Communist artillery attacks on the island of Quemoy.

Officials were hopeful that his emphasis on possible major policy changes to bring peace to the region would win greater support for the government's Formosa policy at home and abroad.

Detroiters Tell of Kidnaping

Say Gunman Entered Car, Drove Them to Illinois; Suspect Held

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Police say two Michigan men have told them they were kidnaped in Detroit Monday night by an armed man who forced them to drive with him to Kankakee, 325 miles away.

The pair, who identified themselves as Frank Mazanec, 50, Highland Park, and Henry Ford, 19, Detroit, related the following:

Mazanec drove to the intersection of Woodward avenue and Seven Mile road about 9 p.m. to meet Ford. As Ford got into the car, the armed man appeared, forced himself into the car and ordered Mazanec and Ford to follow his directions.

★ ★ ★

At a deserted section of Detroit, the gunman took over as driver and with the pistol in his lap started the night-long drive which ended in Kankakee. At Kankakee he stopped at a restaurant and went in to buy cigarettes. Ford and Mazanec noticed the man had left the keys in the car, so they drove off and notified police.

Police drove Ford and Mazanec around Kankakee, but they were unable to identify the restaurant where their abductor entered.

Mazanec said he was an office manager for a brass company in Detroit. Ford is unemployed.

Police later picked up a man identified as William Delman Abney, 38, of the same address as Ford. Mazanec identified him, police said, as the gunman.

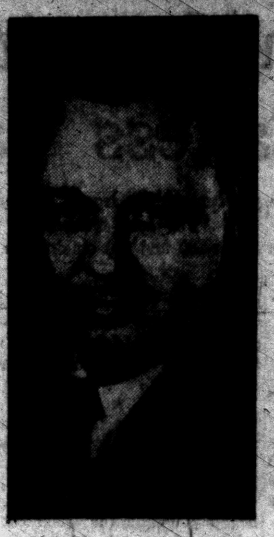

Abney was held without charge for questioning.

New Airport Opens

DETROIT (UPI) — The new Detroit Metropolitan Airport opened today. American Airlines and Allegheny Airlines were the first to move from Willow Run Airport to Metropolitan, 14 miles closer to downtown Detroit. Other airlines are expected to follow suit. American's first flight was a 7 a.m. plane to Chicago. Allegheny scheduled a 7:30 a.m. flight to Erie and Scranton, Pa.

Business Future Grows Brighter

Consumer Spending Up, Unemployment Down in Final Quarter

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business enters today what is widely expected to be the best quarter of the year. Confidence has been growing with the vigor of the recovery from last April's low point.

Consumer spending is up a bit. And spending by federal, state and local governments is increasing. Inroads are at last being made into the total of the jobless.

★ ★ ★

If consumer spending continues to creep higher, factories can step up production and rehire laid-off men.

But most consumers have been spending just about all they had left after taxes. True, the rate of savings has been up as the cautious watched the course of the recession, but that rate is still a very small part of total income.

★ ★ ★

What has held many consumers back from buying the things they want but can wait for is that they had taken on all the debt they could handle. Now they are thought to have paid off enough of it to be in position to buy more. Appliance dealers, for one group, say that is the case. And the auto makers fervently hope it is so.

★ ★ ★

But Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, warns today against expecting too much from the consumer or too big a jump in his spending. It says: "Consumer markets, while basically strong, are far from exuberant. People are still buying carefully and are reported to be extremely price conscious. Likewise, looking to the future, most estimates today are that sales of the 1959 autos may run to 5½ million—a good year, but far from a banner one."

★ ★ ★

And the revival of business spending for new plant and equipment could still be some way off.

Fined for 'Fix' in Plywoods

10 Firms, 6 Officials Shell Out $50,500 for Stacking Prices

DETROIT (UPI)—Ten plywood companies and six officials have been fined a total of $50,500 for conspiring to fix plywood prices in Michigan.

The fines were imposed yesterday by Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman after the defendants failed to contest the charges involving the alleged conspiracy between 1949 and 1955.

★ ★ ★

Seven companies were fined $5,000 each. They were United States Plywood Corp., Georgia-Pacific Corp., Roddis Plywood of Michigan, Kochton Plywood and Veneer Co., and Midwest Plywood Co.

★ ★ ★

Three other companies drew $2,000 fines. They were Ken Lester Plywoods Co., Henry Dahlquist Sales Co., and Patterson-Buick Hardwood Co.

★ ★ ★

Individuals fined $2,000 each were Robert J. Lynneburg, of U.S. Plywood; Edward M. Magarian, of Roddis Plywood, and William B. Gilbert, of Midwest Plywood. Fines of $1,000 each were imposed on Henry M. Dahlquist of the Dahlquist Company, and Ken Lester, of Lester Plywoods. John Bugg, of Kochton Company, was fined $1,500. A seventh individual, Robert T. Giffin, of Georgia-Pacific, died since the indictment was returned.

NEW FACE FOR GLEASON—Buddy Hackett applies some "finer" make-up touches to likenesses of his new boss. The mischievous Bud will debut with the new "Jackie Gleason Show" this Friday on CBS-TV channel 2 as a regular member of the weekly cast. Incidentally, the portly star of the show will appear behind a moustache for his role in a "Playhouse 90" presentation Oct. 9, titled "The Time of Your Life."

Buddy Hackett Joins TV Cast

Two Jokers to Romp Through 30 Minutes of Comedy Each Week

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — There are many rumors about plans for the Jackie Gleason Show when it begins on CBS-TV this Friday, but the only solid information is that Gleason will be on it and so will Buddy Hackett.

★ ★ ★

Hackett was talking the other day to a fellow who's been telephoning Gleason at a Peekskill, N. Y., number and never getting an answer.

"He's not there," said Hackett, "but if he was he still couldn't answer. That phone is just a bell up on top of a telephone pole. Gleason likes to hear it ring and know he can't answer it."

At any rate, Hackett joined Gleason for three days recently to discuss the new show.

"We played golf for three days," said Hackett, "and we talked golf for three days. As I was coming away, Jackie said, 'The more laughs you get on the show the better I'll like it. I admire you most because you're a good actor.'

★ ★ ★

"And I'd like to say I admire Gleason most because he's the only comedian in the country who's funnier than I am and who'd have the nerve to hire me as second man.

"When you're playing second man, you've got to discipline yourself and not appear to the audience that you're stealing lines."

One thing Hackett would like to get straight now is that it's "preordained" he'll be with Gleason only one season — 24 half-hour variety shows with the option of eight more.

The year after this, if Gleason returns to television, "I don't want people asking what happened to Hackett," Hackett said. "Because I can tell you right now that Hackett will be in Europe doing a filmed series for television about an American photographer."

Air Force Tests Moon Rocket; to Try Soon?

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A modified Thor missile, reportedly the first stage for the next Air Force moon rocket, puffed out billows of smoke during a ground test Tuesday.

It probably was a static or ground test of the rocket engine, but the usual burst of flame from the base of the missile was not seen.

★ ★ ★

Officials at nearby Patrick Air Force Base had no comment.

A static test usually is conducted a week to 10 days before the missile launching.

Just before or after the 12th of this month, the moon is in closest proximity to the earth — about 220,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

The first U.S. moon rocket exploded in the sky 77 seconds after launching on Aug. 17.

It was the first of three tries allotted the Air Force to launch its three stage Thor-Able toward the moon. The Army will make two attempts.

Blue Shield Will Ask for Increased Rates

DETROIT (AP) — A rate increase in Blue Shield Medical Insurance will be asked about Nov. 1, a Michigan medical service official said today.

★ ★ ★

If approved by the State Insurance Commission, the increase would be effective about January or Feb. 1. The amount to be sought was not given.

Jay C. Ketcham, vice president and general manager of the service, said the increase would apply to the old contract classification for those with income limits of $2,500 and $5,000.

Ketcham said Blue Shield lost $2,202,462 in the last fiscal year despite a 12 per cent rate increase effective Oct. 1, 1957. The loss the previous year was $3,372,841, he said.

★ ★ ★

New Blue Shield contracts now being negotiated for 1,750,000 members of the United Auto Workers have been reviewed by insurance actuaries, Ketcham said, and will require no revision in the foreseeable future.

Exclusive TV Rights Don't Suit Hermione

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Get out the muskets, mates!

★ ★ ★

British actress Hermione Gingold is a-sizzlin' because Garry Moore's CBS TV show won't let her appear on the Jack Paar NBC show which gave her her big break.

WILSON

"Garry probably doesn't even know about it," snorted Hermione. "But something in the silly contract to do Garry's second show says I can't be on Jack's show for three weeks before that. When I asked if I couldn't be on Jack's show tonight, they said, 'No, we're paying you a lot of money.' Well, it's the last time I'll do it on any show. They've got to take me with Paar or not at all. I've got a little loyalty and if they won't take me that way, to hell with them.'"

Debbie Reynolds is "doing the June Allyson bit" now around Hollywood: no makeup, etc. And it's predicted her settlement'll be enormous because Eddie Fisher told the press "It was all my fault."

Glamour girl Atty, Florence Shientag, U.S. representative for France's 9-year-old literary prodigy, Minou Drouet, is about to set up an American tour for the musically-minded child who, when spanked by her adopted mother, said, "You'll never make a musician, Mama; you don't spank in rhythm."

Ed Murrow was interviewing Eydie Gorme about Steve Lawrence in uniform (for the upcoming Person to Person) and Eydie said, "Steve swears more than he used to, but he also apologizes more, too."

Brother's Helper Gets 3 Days in Jail—Twice

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Because he didn't want his brother to lose a day's work, Leonard McPheeters appeared in court for him to answer a speeding charge.

★ ★ ★

A judge sentenced him to three days in jail. This was something Leonard hadn't anticipated. He told a deputy he had appeared for his brother Bernard. The deputy took him back into court and he pleaded guilty to false representation and contempt of court.

★ ★ ★

The judge gave him the same sentence, three days in jail.

Later, brother Bernard showed up. He asked for a jury trial.

State Farmer Flees Much Housework

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A farmer's work may never be done, but in Michigan, he apparently escapes a lot of domestic chores performed by his urban brother.

★ ★ ★

Prof. Robert O. Blood Jr., of the University of Michigan, says the average farm wife in Michigan spends far more time doing domestic chores than do city wives.

He bases his statement on a comparison between 731 housewives in the metropolitan Detroit area and 178 farm wives in Washtenaw, Lenawee and Hillsdale Counties.

"Even if the farmer props his feet up like his city cousin to relax for a moment, he can always beg off from housework because of the urgency of his farm chores," Prof. Blood says.

★ ★ ★

"Indeed the pressure may be reversed, with the wife called on to help out in emergencies by driving the tractor, running errands and so forth."

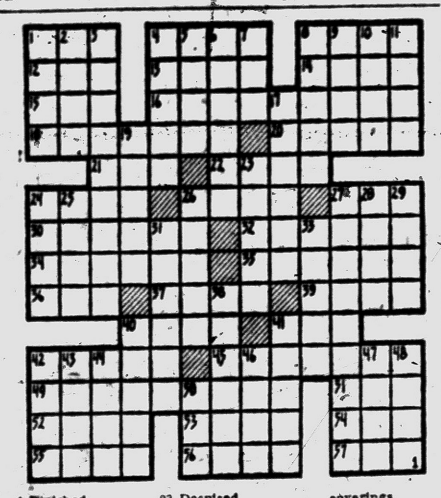

In city families Prof. Blood found that wives got the weekday breakfast 66 per cent of the time while on the farm the wife prepared breakfast 86 per cent of the time.

City wives did the supper dishes 70 per cent of the time compared to 88 per cent of the time for their rural sisters.

About 75 per cent of Okinawa's building have been rebuilt.

Just a Gag, Says Bing

Martin, Lewis Together on 'Eddie Fisher Show'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The last thing jittery Eddie Fisher had in mind for his opening program last night was an impromptu reunion of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis—but that's exactly what happened.

While Eddie and the NBC brass worried about possible catcalls from the studio audience Martin and Bing Crosby conspired behind a curtain for an unscheduled appearance.

In the middle of a comedy sketch with Fisher, Lewis broke into song.

Half-way through the chorus Dean burst through the curtain pleading, "Don't sing! Don't sing!"

Fisher and Lewis, startled to silence, gaped in further surprise when der Bingle—dressed in golf cap and sports shirt—hustled on stage, grabbed Martin and hauled the singer back through the curtain.

★ ★ ★

Flabbergasted, Lewis sprang to the curtain and sang, "Return to Me," but Martin and Crosby fled to a dressing room.

It was the first time in three years Martin and Lewis had appeared together before a television camera.

Fisher and Jerry spent three minutes geetting the show back on its track, after which Jerry ran from the huge NBC studios to catch a plane back to Las Vegas where he is appearing at the Sands hotel.

★ ★ ★

Back in the dressing room Crosby and Martin were chuckling like a pair of mischievous kids.

"It was just a gag," Martin grinned. "Bing and I were rehearsing for his show tomorrow night and decided to have a little fun. If it had been planned ahead of time I'd have worn a suit."

"You could call it an unrehearsed walk-on," said Crosby, who draws the highest salary in TV as a guest star. "If we're lucky we may get a coupla cartons of cigarettes out of this."

★ ★ ★

Fisher, signing autographs for a mob of teenagers following the show, shook his head in amazement. "I was never more surprised in my life," he said.

Hunt Escapee From Alcatraz

Authorities Suspect He's First to Swim Bay, or Drowned Trying

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The hunt for a missing Alcatraz convict went on today as the odds mounted that he either had drowned in tide-swept San Francisco Bay or had become the first fleeing prisoner to swim to the mainland.

Through the night the night guards combed the rocky caves of the island prison shoreline and flushed them out with tear gas bombs, but there was no sign of Aaron Walter Burgett, 28-year-old Missouri gunman.

★ ★ ★

Monday, he and another prisoner, Clyde M. Johnson, 38, a convicted bank robber from Memphis, Tenn., bound a guard while serving on a garbage detail and vanished in a fog. Two hours later Johnson was found shivering waist deep in water just off shore.

Associate Warden Joseph D. Latimer said Johnson told prison authorities he had had a plastic bag which he tried to use as a water wing but that it got away from him almost as soon as he started swimming.

★ ★ ★

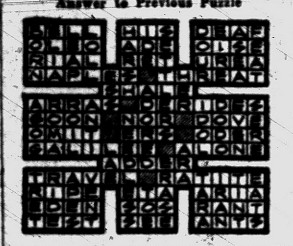

Latimer said another prisoner, whom he did not name, told him Burgett also may have had such a bag, which he could blow up with air and use to keep afloat on the long, chilly grind of more than a mile to the San Francisco shore across an ebb tide which was running out the Golden Gate at nearly 10 miles an hour.

Oscar Eckman to Retire After 23 Years' Service

Oscar Eckman, city finance director since 1935, attended his last city commission meeting last night.

The retiring official and his wife are planning to move soon to Clearwater, Fla., where they have built a new home.

Commissioners passed a special resolution honoring the 69-year-old official's many years of service.

Although Eckman's retirement does not become official until Nov. 1, his place will be taken unofficially until then by Marvin Alward, City Auditor since 1935.

Alward was appointed to fill Eckman's $10,800-a-year job, when the latter's retirement plans were announced last month.

Commissioners, in other business, promised to take up two controversial questions at their informal meeting Oct. 9. To be considered then are a Planning Commission recommendation to adopt a state law provision controlling the number and location of new gas stations, and requests from northside residents for a new fire station in their area.

Commissioners accepted two bids for purchase of homes that the city recently acquired. One bid was of $500, for the frame home at 125 E. Pike St. that the city bought to get land for a new main fire station. The other was $600 for a brick home at 38 S. Johnson, where the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot is planned.

The first bid was from Wilbur T. Lavallia, 193 Bondale St., the second from Roy H. Elkins, 2839 Avalon St.

Two planned neighborhood improvements met no objections at hearings held last night. To be constructed are combined sewers on both sides of Walton boulevard from Baldwin avenue to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad and a water main on Featherstone road from Kenilworth avenue to the Jordan road line.

Six assessment rolls were confirmed, including those covering the Perry street widening and the Opdyke road improvement. The former was confirmed in four annual payments, the latter in one.

An ordinance rezoning 23 lots along the south side of Montcalm street, Baldwin to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad, to Commercial 2 was adopted and another measure was introduced to rezone to personal service three lots on the northeast corner of South boulevard and Motor street. A hearing on the latter was scheduled for Oct. 21.

Commissioners set next week aside in honor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, which is scheduled to present its first concert of the season Oct. 14. Oct. 6-12 was proclaimed Pontiac Symphony Week by Mayor Donaldson.

State Unit Picks Detroit Doctor

Dr. Milton A. Darling Elected President of Medical Society

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Milton A. Darling of Detroit, is president-elect of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Dr. Darling, a former Branch County farm boy, will assume office at next year's convention in Grand Rapids.

He was elected last night to succeed Dr. Gilbert B. Saltonstall of Charlevoix, who took office as president for the coming year. Dr. George W. Slagle of Battle Creek was president last year.

Dr. Darling, chief of staff at Grace Hospital for eight years, has practiced in Detroit since 1916. He was born on a farm in Branch County near Coldwater.

Dr. Kenneth H. Johnson of Lansing and Dr. James L. Lightbody of Detroit were re-elected as speaker and vice-speaker of the Society's House of Delegates.

New council members will be Dr. Charles N. Hoyt of Port Huron and Dr. Warren W. Babcock of Detroit. Dr. Ralph Shook of Kalamazoo was named an alternate delegate to the American Medical Assn.

Unions Treating Me Just Fine—Bagwell

HASTINGS (AP) — Paul D. Bagwell says labor union members are treating him just fine wherever he goes.

★ ★ ★

"The efforts of self-styled political bosses in the labor unions to build a wall between union members and the Republican Party certainly have failed," the GOP governor candidate told a Hastings audience last night.

"The rank-and-file workers of Michigan are beholden to no one when it comes to voting, and hundreds of them have assured me that no one controls their votes and I will get their support," he said.

As an example, Bagwell pointed to announced backing from Herb Jones, president of UAW Local No. 1 at Berrien Springs.

Bagwell said he was ready and eager to speak before union meetings if his schedule permitted.

Plum trees can now be freed of the "black knot" disease that hampers growth and reduces productivity. Plant disease specialists advise the prompt cutting out and burning of all infected twigs and branches. The trees should also be sprayed with a mixture made up of three pounds of copper sulfate in snow form and six pounds of hydrated lime in 50 gallons of water.
