Commerce Girl, 12, Dies Today of Beating

City Police Arrest Six in Dope Probe

By MAX E. SIMON

Six men were arrested by Pontiac Police Saturday afternoon for investigation of violating state narcotics laws, climaxing a month-long probe into the illegal sale of dope.

All but one admitted selling dope to addicts, police said. Warrants against them were to be sought this morning from the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

Patrolmen Earl W. Skrobeck and August R. Martinez, vice officers who conducted the investigation, said the men arrested Saturday were selling $200,000 worth of narcotics (retail) in Pontiac yearly.

The suspects are being held in the Oakland County Jail.

They are:

Willie Halliburton, '38, of 253 Bondale St.

Lorenza Farrar, 45, of 196 S. Saginaw St.

James Dooley, 30, of 38 Chapman St.

William Barksdale, 44, of 10689 Foxton Ct., Royal Oak Township.

William Barksdale Jr., 21, his son, same address.

The two Barksdales were described as sources of supply for the other four men, who sold marijuana and heroin in the city.

The investigation began Jan. 16 with the hiring of a private detective from a Detroit firm. "Mr. X" posed as a big-time dope peddler and set himself up in a five-room apartment at 250 Harrison St., police said.

The local pushers would go to his flat and sell him narcotics, while Patrolmen Skrobeck and Martinez watched the sale from a closet through a one-way transparent mirror, according to police.

The two officers said that the flat was also equipped with tape recorders, and that some of the buys were recorded. Pictures of the alleged transactions were also taken by the officers from their vantage point in the closet.

"Mr. X" paid $300 for heroin and marijuana, bought both in bulk and cigarettes, which police said they are holding in evidence.

The arrests, said the vice officers, would curb illegal sale of narcotics in the city to a trickle. The four Pontiac men were called major area dope pushers.

"Mr. X" said the dope he turned over to officers Skrobeck and Martinez would sell for as high as $900.

The two Barksdales were arrested in Royal Oak Township by local officers and troopers from the Redford State Police Post.

Face-to-face with the undercover man, Barksdale Jr. said, "You're a smart man — I have to hand it to you," according to police.

His father snapped, "Shut up, you. I kept warning you about your associations," police said.

Conviction on a charge of selling dope carries a minimum sentence of 20 years in prison.

Ace Pitcher Knows Help of Master Hand

By HERB SCORE

Herb Score, Cleveland Indians' ace pitcher, was nearly blinded by a batted ball in May 1957. In this special Mother's Day letter, he recalls the high points of his struggle for recovery.

I usually phone you, so if this letter is a surprise the only explanation is that it's long due you. Besides, after nine months of marriage to Nancy, one of the things I've learned is that women like to be appreciated in many ways.

SCORE

During those long weeks in the hospital there was time to think, and I saw a few things I didn't before. My memories went back, and some were on the humorous side.

Remember when I was a toddler and would open the ice box when we lived on Long Island and I'd snatch out an egg because it was the nearest thing to a ball, and I'd throw it in the air and yell: "Ball! I play ball!"

And when I made an error, you'd patiently clean up the mess on the floor, and then find a real ball for me.

And when I was old enough to start throwing one, we settled at first for tennis balls against the side of the house. I'd do that for hour after hour, but you never complained, though I cracked the mortar outside and rattled the dishes all over your shelves inside.

Then the day came when you and Dad separated, and you had to support us kids, Helen and Anna Mae, and me, all by yourself. We all did what we could, but you bore the real big load, and as I look back now, Mom, I still don't know how you managed.

Baseball was my one big love. I made the high school team, and you insisted that I play in the afternoons when I should have been working. Would I be in the major leagues today if you hadn't done that?

BIG BUILD UP

And then the steaks. All kid athletes love meat, but you heard steak was one of the best body builders, so we had it a lot, though probably you did without new clothes.

You gave me the middle name, Jude, after the one who helps those who try to do the impossible. You should have had that name.

There were other things you gave us too: teaching us to find the humor in our trouble, to be honest about our mistakes, to respect the opinions of others though we didn't agree with them.

You and I have disagreed sometimes, but you always helped me to live my own life and think out my own prob-

Expect 40,000 Today at County Polls in Primary

17 Townships Will Also Choose Candidates for Supervisor

Major interest in today's countywide primary election centers around picking 10 nominees for five places on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench.

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register estimated that possible 40,000 Oakland voters would go to the polls which opened at 7 a.m. and will remain open until 8 p.m.

There are roughly 290,000 registered voters in the county.

Besides nominating the judicial candidates, voters in 17 townships will determine which Republican and Democratic nominees for supervisor and other township offices should go on the April 6 ballot.

Murphy said in Brandon, Groveland, Highland, Lyon, Oakland, Rose, and Southfield Townships there will be balloting only on the judicial candidates, as there is no contest for township positions, or caucuses have been held to nominate those to go on the April ballot.

Some five communities are voting on special issues, while residents in Quakertown Village in Farmington Township are deciding on a village charter.

On the judicial ballots in all the county's 295 voting precincts will be the names of 14 candidates, including three incumbent judges.

Voters are being asked to vote for not more than five, with the 10 receiving the highest number of votes being declared the nominees to battle for five judgeships in the April balloting.

Today's primary is the first nonpartisan judicial election in Oakland County since 1947. The large number of candidates to file for circuit judge resulted in the need of a run-off.

Election Service

The Pontiac Press will offer information on returns in the judicial primary election, beginning at 10 p. m. The Press telephone number is FEderal 2-8181.

Australia Likes Billy

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — A two-mile-long queue waited up to four hours to attend evangelist Billy Graham's opening meeting yesterday of a 16-week Australian campaign. But thousands had to be turned away when Melbourne's biggest stadium, which holds 8,000, was packed to capacity.

Urge Care Disposing of License Plates

LANSING (UPI)—Secretary of State James M. Hare today warned car owners to use "extreme caution" in disposing of their 1958 Michigan license plates.

"Police agencies warn that license plates thrown in rubbish containers can be picked up by holdup men and put on cars used in the commission of a crime or put on junkers which may become involved in a traffic accident," Hare said.

Hare suggested 1958 plates be retained after purchase of 1959 plates until March 1, when 1958 plates will no longer be valid.

"This will save many people a good deal of red tape or worse trouble if the plates should fall into the hands of unscrupulous persons," Hare said.

Dulles Leaves His Bed in Spirited Cancer Battle

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — Secretary of States Dulles' doctors said he got out of bed today and sat in a chair for a half hour.

A medical bulletin issued through the State Department said radiation therapy will begin next week in an effort to control Dulles' cancer.

A cancer specialist was called in to help with the treatment and presumably to try to determine the extent of the cancer.

The specialist was Dr. Gordon Zubrod, clinical director of the National Cancer Institute of the National Institutes of Health in nearby Bethesda, Md.

One of his physicians said he "expected" and "hoped" that the 70-year-old cabinet member would be able to resume at least partial duties provided there were no more complications and he responded to treatment.

Dulles demonstrated last night that he is not ready to be counted out. He summoned Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter to the hospital for a 15-minute conference on department matters.

Democrats promised today a full measure of cooperation with the Eisenhower administration on foreign policies during Dulles' illness.

Herter, returning Saturday night from a South Carolina vacation, told newsmen he would accept appointment as secretary of state if President Eisenhower asked him to. But he said Eisenhower had not sounded him out in any way about the possibility of replacing Dulles.

C. of C. Banquet Here to Salute MSUO

A salute to Michigan State University Oakland is the theme of the annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday.

Main speaker will be Durward R. Varner, chancellor of the new college, who will talk about the impact of MSUO on the Pontiac area.

Also featured will be the MSU Men's Glee Club, one of the county's outstanding college vocal groups.

Tickets for the banquet are still available at $5 each at the Chamber of Commerce office, 34 E. Pike St., said Edward A. Maier, chamber president.

The banquet is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. at Elks Temple.

Cloudy, Colder, Snow Flurries Predicted Here

Colder with snow flurries is the weatherman's outlook for the Pontiac area this evening. The low will be near 18 degrees.

Partly cloudy and colder is Tuesday's forecast. The mercury is expected to reach a high of about 30.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported that the drop in temperatures Sunday and forecast for continued cold weather were expected to ease flood threats along the state's ice and snow swollen streams and rivers.

Precipitation will total about one-third inch in rain or snow Wednesday and Friday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 27. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 35.

Area Woman Shot in Home

Commerce Housewife, Husband 'Critical' in Pontiac General

A Commerce Township housewife is listed in critical condition in Pontiac General Hospital this morning after being shot by her husband Sunday night.

Mrs. Mable Lucille Marshall, 44, of 1841 Point Dr., was found by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies on the living room floor at 10:45 last night with a bullet wound in her right side.

Her husband, Elmo, 47, was found unconscious nearby.

It is believed he had suffered a heart attack and allegedly taken an overdose of a sedative.

Marshall is also described in critical condition.

The couple lives with their daugher, Mrs. Hazel A. Fishell, 25, and her husband, Harold L. 29, at the Point road address.

Mrs. Fishell told deputies her father had been drinking and reported seeing him take a large quantity of the sedative about a half hour before the shooting occurred.

She said that Marshall was sitting on a bed with a .38-caliber revolver in his hand, and she asked him to put it away.

He then asked her to get her mother. Mrs. Marshall walked to the bedroom door from the kitchen with her daughter standing about five feet behind her.

Mrs. Fishell said she heard a shot from the bedroom, saw her mother stagger and fall to the floor. She and her husband ran from the house to a neighboring house and called sheriff's deputies.

Mother Is Held for Investigation of Murder

Admits Torturing Her Daughter Because She Wouldn't Mind

A Commerce Township mother of four was held today in the fatal beating of her 12-year-old daughter.

An autopsy indicated that the dead girl Judith Anne Gall, had been badly beaten "all over," said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Especially cruel blows to her upper chest had caused death through internal bleeding and lung congestion, Ziem said.

The mother, Mrs. Anne Gall, 35, admitted beating the girl "repeatedly" in the past few days, said Sheriff's Det. Alphonse Anderson, but denied causing her death.

She said her daughter had struck her head falling early this morning in the family home at 3080 Royal St., in North Shore Subdivision on the north side of Lower Straits Lake.

Mrs. Gall and her husband, John, 37, an unemployed construction worker, made statements at the Prosecutor's Office today as the autopsy was performed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, hospital pathologist.

Ziem announced Olsen's report and ordered the mother held for investigation of murder.

Details of the report indicated the girl died early this morning, her body bearing marks of torture inflicted in some instances "within the past few hours," Ziem said. Other wounds were over a year old, he said.

There were no indications of any blows to the top of the head, however, according to Dr. Olsen's report.

Deputies Henry I. Hansen and Medward Tessier arrived at the Gall home about 6 a.m. in response to a telephone call for help from Gall.

Gall also summoned Commerce Township firemen, saying his daughter was injured and needed resuscitation.

Hansen and Tessier said they found Gall working over his daughter's body, lying on the floor of her bedroom. He was applying artificial respiration, apparently in hopes he could revive her, they said.

But the girl was dead, deputies said. This was officially confirmed soon after by Dr. Leon B. Cobb, a deputy coroner.

Francis said the girl's panty-clad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The GI home loan program showed a slight upturn during January, the Veterans Administration reported today. Appraisal requests for new dwellings increased by 21 per cent to 17,391, compared with 14,784 in December.

Requests for existing dwellings numbered 6,396 in January and 6,315 in December. The appraisal requests are an indication of future activity, as they are a first step toward possible financing of housing.

Asia — Free World's Stake in the Future

Time for West to Awaken

This is the first of five articles giving an authoritative look at our side of the Bamboo Curtain, by famed author Lin Yutang, fresh from an extensive tour of free Asia.

By LIN YUTANG
Written for NEA Service

NEW YORK — If you want to know the future of the world 10 years from now, look at Asia today.

There may come a time when the Communist floodtide has broken loose and covered two-thirds of the world's population and resources and then, or some time before that, world war will become inevitable.

Or, this tide may be held back and the Communist advance across the Asiatic continent effectively checked, in which case the balance of forces may tip in the free world's favor.

Altogether Asia is receiving scant attention in proportion to its vital role in the world struggle for freedom.

Hundreds of millions of dollars of American foreign aid have been spent, it is true; but information with regard to current developments is inadequate, vague and confused, sometimes even misleading.

An over-all strategy for meeting Communist infiltration and subversion has not been developed; the policies of the United States and her European allies are divided.

Our own informants of public opinion are often misinformed themselves.

The vagueness and haphazard character of our goals in Asia have brought about a state of nervousness and uncertainty, arising from fear of the unknown.

During the Quemoy incident, British opinion reached near-hysteria when The New Statesman, in a leading article called "The Rim of Hell," referred to the American policy at Quemoy as "insane."

On the other hand, Russia's Khrushchev is not looking at Europe or a shooting war in the next

Mother Is Being Held in Daughter's Slaying

body was "covered with bruises" —on her chest, legs, ankles and arms. Her lips were puffed, apparently from a beating, he said, and even her fingers bore black and blue marks.

"I don't know why I beat her, I don't know why I beat her," the detective quoted the mother as saying over and over.

The mother conceded, Anderson said, that Judith Anne "got on my nerves" because she apparently failed to do household chores and school work properly.

Mrs. Gall said Judith Anne was a frail, weak girl who had been ill lately.

She said that last night, after the rest of the family was asleep, the girl kept waking up due to her illness, demanding nursing care from her mother.

Anderson quoted the mother as saying she had Judith Anne in the bathroom when the girl apparently fainted, she said, falling and hitting her head on the bathtub.

The mother said she carried the girl back to her room and put her to bed.

Gall said that about 5 a.m. he was awakened by his wife, who told him, "Judith isn't breathing."

Gall said he took the girl from her bed and stretched her out on the floor to apply artificial respiration.

Brutality was indicated by a number of potential clues discovered by investigators:

1. An 18-inch section of stiff, rubber hose.

2. A foot-long piece of wood, two-by-two inches in thickness, on which there were brownish stains, which deputies tentatively identified as blood.

3. An inch-thick tree stick, about 12 inches long.

4. What appeared to be blood stains on the bathtub and the floor of the utility room.

5. A section of clothesline, about two feet long, found with the girl's nightclothes in the bathroom, deputies said.

Investigators were considering having the suspicious-looking stains tested by State Police laboratory experts to determine if they are blood stains.

The mother admitted tearfully that she had used the three weapons to beat the girl in the past, Anderson said.

The hose — similar to the type of hose used in a shower attachment — and the two-by-two were found in the utility room, according to deputies.

Mrs. Gall admitted hiding them there, Det. Harry Mauer said, but she would not say when or why, he added.

The stick was found in the bathroom waste basket, Mauer said.

Mrs. Gall admitted giving the girl a "severe beating" Saturday with the stick, Mauer said. She said she had beat the girl previously, as punishment, on Friday and last Tuesday.

The last time she struck the girl was Sunday, before church, Mauer quoted the woman as saying. She admitted "slapping" the girl then, but denied beating her with a weapon, Mauer said.

Married 14 years, the Galls have three other children, Jo Ann, 12; John Jr., 8; and Jeannine, 6. Jo Anne is the victim's twin sister.

Judith Anne was a seventh grade pupil at St. Williams School in Walled Lake.

Ace Pitcher Makes Good With Help of Master Hand

lems. When things did seem impossible, I realized the need for God's help and was never afraid to ask Him for it.

And most of all, I remember your prayers. Without them I shouldn't be here.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

First, when I was three, when a bakery truck hit me head-on and nearly crushed both my legs above the knees. I was in traction for 10 weeks, and the question was: would I ever walk again? What was worse, the doctor discovered the bones in one leg refused to pull apart, and he ordered an operation to insert a plate.

I remember you kneeling by my bed the night before the operation. The next day when they took new X rays before taking me into surgery, they found the bones had settled back into place. No operation was necessary.

Your prayers and love helped me to a complete recovery, and your example taught me the importance of prayer.

That was the first big accident, and there were more in the years that followed: a bad case of pneumonia, a broken ankle, eight months in bed with rheumatic fever, but no after-effects.

In 1953, when I was already playing in the minor leagues and going good, I fell and dislocated the collarbone in my pitching shoulder. The first year with Cleveland a virus infection, the next year a spastic colon.

"WITH GOD'S HELP"

Remember when the front office worried about this and you told them: "He'll get over it, just as he has everything else, with God's help." You weren't the doctor but you reassured even them with your faith.

You also showed me that praying when things were going well is just as vital as seeking God in a pinch. So it became natural for me to pray when I was pitching. Just quiet prayers to myself, to calm my temper and use my head. There's only one person you hurt when you get mad—yourself.

When other players heard of the prayers I said while pitching, I was kidded a bit.

But when I was hit in the eye with the ball and it looked like I might lose that eye, those who kidded me told me they were praying for me. The letters and telegrams that poured into the hospital piled so high they had to move me into a larger room.

When I talked to you on the phone after the accident, sure enough, the first thing you said was: "Don't worry, Herb. I've just come from church. God is with you."

I've lost a year in baseball, Mom, but I've found out a lot more: how many real friends I have; the wonder of our wonderful relationship, and the ties of faith in it. Between us there has always been a sureness within.

I never tried to put it all into words before because I hadn't figured it out. So just call this a Mother's Day letter of appreciation, written like this because I want everyone to know how grateful I am to you—and to God.

Crippled Children's Building Damaged

The headquarters of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children at 1105 N. Telegraph Rd. was badly damaged by steam which escaped through a leak in the boiler.

The steam, which started to leak through the building Saturday afternoon, was spotted by a passing motorist Sunday. He reported it to the Pontiac State Police Post.

According to Paul Procissi, publicity chairman of the society's 1959 Easter Seal campaign, the building, which opened in the spring of 1958, was extensively damaged. No estimate of damages is available yet, he said.

The escaping steam warped doors, floors; ruined typewriters, recorders and other office equipment. More than 150,000 circulars, appeal letters and envelopes, which were to be mailed in connection with the Easter Seal campaign, were ruined, he reported.

The campaign is scheduled to begin Feb. 27.

Procissi said that all Easter Seal campaign literature will have to be assembled and addressed over because of the accident. Mailings will be delayed as much as two weeks, he said.

Her brother, Lynn, 13, killed himself in his room with a .22 caliber rifle last Nov. 24.

Ice, Rain No Damper to Mood of Crowd at Saturday Competition

LAKE ORION — Freezing rain which fell most of the day failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the more than 500 contestants in the fourth International Baton Twirling Championships held here Saturday.

The auditorium of Lake Orion Community High School was the scene of the day-long competition. Twirlers came from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Ontario.

Four bus loads of twirlers, their parents and sponsors arrived in town Friday night to be ready for the first event set for 9 a.m. the following day.

Billed as "Michigan's Largest Indoor Contest," the program was co-sponsored by the Land O'Lakes Baton Contest committee and the Lake Orion Community Club, Inc. Members of the local organization served meals throughout the day.

Proceeds from the event go into the Community Club's building fund.

The sparkle of sequin-trimmed costumes, the roll of drums and the flashing of twirling batons marked the annual event.

EARLY START

Early in the morning, classes were held for beginners, intermediate and advanced twirlers. The 10 youngest participants were four and five years old, many receiving their first medals, others having won as many as eight or more in their brief twirling careers.

Among the area winners were 9-year-old Carol Sulka of Pontiac, who took third place in her age class for twirling. Nancy Stern, 15, of Imlay City, placed first in the 15-year-old singles which had a total of about 12 entries.

First place winner in the competition for 16-year-olds was Sharon Shutty of Royal Oak. Sandra Sheldon of Lake Orion placed third in the same division.

Roy G. Hess of Pontiac, contest chairman, said today he was particularly pleased with the number of entries in the strutting classes and the number of corps that appeared to compete for trophies.

Hess said there were more than 52 contestants in the 10-to-13-year-old strutting class, 32 in the 9-and-under division and 28 in the class for senior girls 15 and over.

SPECTACULAR EVENT

Probably the most spectacular portion of the day's program was the junior and senior corps competition. Some groups had a complement of more than 20 members plus a full squad of drummers and flag bearers.

Winners in the junior division were the Hamilton (Ont.) Junior Flashettes, who were defending their title, and, by placing first, retained the traveling cup. Close behind them were the Hamilton Junior Sparklettes in second place and the Junior Marilynettes of Toledo in third.

Fourth place honors went to the Eaglettes of Royal Oak and fifth to the Lapeer Flashing Legionettes.

Highest honors in senior corps competition were awarded to the Kaiser Red Wings of Grand Rapids. The group won first place in the senior division as well as the traveling cup for best all-around corps of the show.

Stiff competition was offered by the Hamilton (Ont.) Tiger Cats, who placed second, and the Hamilton Flashettes, third place winners.

Trophies and medals were awarded to winners in the singles contest, in the individual boys' competition, as well as to the best duets and best twirlers using two batons.

The judges had an exacting task to perform in rating each contestant and corps. They based their decisions on such criteria as appearance, suitability of costume, showmanship, timing and skill in performance.

The judges were John Kirkendall of Burlinton, Ind., twirler with the University of Michigan Marching Band, and Ray Stewart of Lansing, twirler with the Michigan State University Band.

Others were Patricia Walk Taylor of Royal Oak, Jackie Rae Voorhees of Pontiac, Bobbie Dahl of Milford and Tudy Smith and Sandra Bokar, both of Sharpsville, Ind.

Tired Bloke Fell Asleep Once Too Often

NEWCASTLE, England (UPI)— Mechanic Jim Hardy, 22, hauled into court during the weekend on charges of being drunk in his car, claimed he was only asleep at the time.

SEN. HART RETURNS — U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart kicked off a two-day tour around Oakland County this past weekend with a breakfast with local Democrats Saturday morning at a Waterford Township restaurant.

Senator Philip A. Hart Back in Oakland County

Michigan's freshman U.S. senator, Philip A. Hart, was out trotting the Oakland County campaign trail Saturday, urging Democrats to "get out and vote" in today's election.

Hart, a former Birmingham resident, was returning to Oakland County for the first time since his elevation to the U.S. Senate in last fall's election.

"I'll have to admit that in Washington I'm running on a much faster track than I did in Michigan," the former lieutenant governor said.

"But I don't intend to be run over by anyone," he quipped.

How does it feel to sit in one of the most powerful bodies in the world?

"When you finally obtain something you've dreamed of for years, it usually falls short of your expectations," Hart said.

"My job in Washington, however, is more than I ever thought it could be. The capital of the United States in the middle of the 20th century is as exciting a place as you could hope to find."

Hart had words of praise for Senate Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

"I had heard that I'd be in real trouble for being the only newly elected senator to take a firm stand in our fight to curb filibustering," Hart said.

"But when committee assignments were handed out, I was placed on two major committees." Hart is a member of the Senate's Judiciary and Agriculture Committees.

Hart said Johnson persuaded Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) to relinquish part of his speaking time so Hart could take the floor to oppose Johnson's compromise on the filibuster issue.

"Johnson's speaking time had expired," Hart explained, "but he was anxious that I take the floor if I desired to explain my position."

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners to Discuss Plan for One-Way Traffic

BIRMINGHAM — With an unusually light agenda, city commissioners tonight will have another discussion on a possible one-way street plan for the downtown area.

One block on Martin street, between Bates and Chester streets, has been operating for westbound traffic only since before Christmas. For the convenience of post office patrons, curbside mailboxes have been shifted from the north to the south side of the street to make it easier to mail letters without leaving the car.

With the acceptance of the plan by the public and the post office, the Police Department is recommending that Martin street become a permanent one-way thoroughfare.

City Assessor Clark H. Hagstrom has set $100 per front foot as an acceptable bid for seven city-owned lots on 14-Mile road in the Indian Village subdivision. City Manager L. R. Gare is recommending to commissioners that sealed bids for the property be accepted. It is already zoned for multiple dwellings.

January street accidents soared to 85, according to the monthly report of Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley. This is nearly double the figure of the first month last year, he said.

Moxley pointed out that 25 persons were injured in 19 accidents last month—establishing one of the highest records kept by the department. Property damages were estimated at $20,723.

Moxley said violations of right-of-way and following other vehicles too closely were major causes of the mishaps. He warned all motorists to avoid crowding the car ahead, especially while streets are in such hazardous conditions.

Dale Nouse, Detroit newspaperman, will speak before the City and Country School PTA at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school.

Nouse, four times nominated for the Pulitzer Prize for his writing on education, will speak on "The Nonsense of Basic Education."

The Pierce School PTA will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school. Dr. Edward Cieslak, assistant director of admissions at Wayne State University, will speak on "Let's Look at Russian Education."

B. Munford Reid

Service was held at 2 p.m. today for B. Munford Reid, 61, of 1661 Haynes St., at St. Paul Cathedral, Detroit. Burial will be in Chatham, Va., tomorrow.

He died of a heart attack at his home Saturday following a short illness.

A former mortgage broker in Detroit, Mr. Reid was supervisor of the mail room at the Vickers Administrative Offices in Troy. He was a veteran of World War I, having served with the Medical Corps in France, and a member of the American Legion in Chatham, Va., where he was born.

Surviving are his wife, Rose, and one sister.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Bell Funeral home here.

Mrs. Paul A. Telep

Service for Mrs. Paul A. Telep, 46, of Gary, Ind., will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Telep died at a Gary, Ind., hospital Saturday after a brief illness.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Richard W. Huff of Birmingham; her father, Matthew Johnson of Crystal Falls; two sisters, two brothers and one grandchild.

Wilhemina L. Bittikoffer

Wilhemina L. Bittikoffer, 81, of 1678 Yosemite St., died this morning at Bloomfield Hospital after an illness of three weeks. Funeral arrangements are pending.

U. of M. Official, 83, Dies of Heart Attack

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Shirley W. Smith, vice president and secretary emeritus of the University of Michigan, died of a heart attack at his home here last night. He was 83.

Smith retired in 1945 after 40 years of service with the university. He was appointed secretary in 1908 by the Board of Regents and became a vice president in 1927. Earlier he had been an instructor in the English Department.

He leaves his wife, Sara; two sons, Dr. Clement A. Smith of Cambridge, Mass., and Donald Smith of Detroit, and a daughter, Mrs. V. Blackeman Que of Cleveland, Ohio.

2 County Republicans Get Party Nomination

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

Oakland County's delegation made itself known at last weekend's Republican state convention.

The delegation, 140 members and the largest single voice among the 1,504 delegates, went into Friday's convention in Detroit without a so-called "favorite son" to put up for nomination to 14 statewide offices.

But when a tired bunch of delegates streamed out of the Ford Auditorium late Saturday afternoon, the Oakland delegates claimed two of the more important nominees.

Nominated without opposition for two Supreme Court posts to be voted on April 6 were William H. Baldwin, 42, of 745 Hupp Cross Rd., Bloomfield Township, and Maurice F. Cole, 65, of 641 W. Woodland St., Ferndale.

Both Baldwin's and Cole's consideration as nominees to oppose incumbents George Edwards and John D. Voelker came as last-minute entries.

Baldwin, an Air Force veteran whose duties included Office of Strategic Services work and being on the staff of the Nurenberg Nazi war trials, was persuaded to toss his hat into the ring while on the way to work last Thursday with Richard D. Van Dusen, former state representative and GOP candidate for attorney general in 1956.

Cole, an Oakland County Circuit Court commissioner since 1939, was drafted from a select list of 19 county lawyers. He was at home Saturday morning when asked by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore whether he would accept the nomination. He hurried to Detroit.

Baldwin, a 1941 graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and the father of four childrn, promised Oakland delegates in caucus Friday night, that "none of my opinions would make the best-seller list."

Reference was to Voelker's "Anatomy of a Murder" novel.

Oakland's voice was heard also as the local delegates helped to smash down an attempt of conservative Republicans, led by Sen. John P. Smeekens, to upset the re-election of State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer.

Smeekens, supposedly backed by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, saw his bid slip away when Oakland County cast 138 voted for Lindemer, Stockbridge attorney, and but two for him.

Oakland Republicans remembered also a former resident when they gave Mrs. Ann Timmons Burgess, for 17 years a resident of Birmingham and Rochester, 137 votes to only three for her competitor for University of Michigan regent post, R. F. Thalner, of Flint.

Frederick C. Matthaei, Detroit industrialist and leader of a long move to get the Olympic Games to Detroit, was favored for a second regent post in a pre-convention vote taken at an Oakland caucus.

Matthaei, not at the convention because of illness, was nominated Saturday when Ted Kennedy, Ann Arbor attorney, withdrew as the votes piled up for Matthaei.

Most of the 140 Oakland delegates had already left their seats when former Congressman Robert J. McIntosh, of Port Huron, proposed the party's 1959 platform.

The one plank which overshadowed all others was the one of Michigan's "economic climate." In it the party urged that voters settle on whether there should be a four-cent sales tax.

Stricken from an earlier drafted climate resolution, was any mention of a state income and business tax which several hours before was urged by Paul D. Bagwell, titular head of the Michigan GOP.

Bagwell, who battled against some GOP factions who asked that no stand be taken on the state's money problems, overrode these suggestions when he said Republicans had to do more than "let the state administration stew in its own juice."

However, a hurried huddle by four legislators rejected Bagwell's urgings and handed McIntosh the watered-down climate resolution.

Other than this rebuff, Bagwell, the party's 1958 gubernatorial candidate, held firm to the reigns of the Michigan GOP in the light of the 1,341 to 163 defeat of the Smeekens - conservative - Summerfield element versus his so-called liberal-Lindemer element.

State GOP Nominates 14 to Run in April 6 Election

Oakland County and other state Republicans Saturday nominated this slate of 14 to oppose Democrats in the April 6 election:

Supreme Court nominees—William H. Baldwin, 42, of Bloomfield Township, and Maurice F. Cole, 65, of Ferndale.

University of Michigan regents—Frederick C. Matthaei, 66, Detroit industrialist and sportsman, and Mrs. Ann Timmons Burgess of Grand Rapids, the mother of four children and wife of Charles R. Burgess, a management consultant.

State Board of Agriculture—Arthur K. Rouse, incumbent, of Boyne City, and Frank Merriman, Deckerville farmer.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Hugh H. Holloway, 42, Sault Ste. Marie school superintendent.

State Board of Education — Charles G. Burns of Harrisville, Alcona County superintendent of schools and a former state board member.

Wayne State University governors—six-year terms: Benjamin D. Burdick, Detroit attorney and former GOP 15th District chairman, and Edward G. Durance, 25, Midland attorney; four-year terms: Albert B. Chennault Sr., Detroit real estate developer and first Negro ever to be nominated for statewide office by a convention of either political party, and Dr. Warren B. Cooksey, a Detroit Board of Education member; two year terms: Whitney W. Ballentine of Wayne, Detroit lawyer and former FBI man, and Dr. Warren C. Lambert, Marquette physician.

Mrs. Ella Koeze of Grand Rapids was re-elected party vice chairman.

A Bride Needs Help to Buy Into Paradise

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

ST. CROIX, V. I.—A woman on her honeymoon is not renowned for her business sagacity. In fact, without careful supervision from God and the bridegroom, she is quite likely to stumble over her own shadow, giggling as she goes.

Thus it was with a maximum of doubt and a minimum of self-confidence that my husband and I—one year removed from the dizzy smell of orange blossoms—returned to St. Croix. It was here, still somewhat dazed and glazed, that we discovered a rocky cliff above the Caribbean Sea.

It was that kind of a cliff that building-bound New Yorkers dream about; warmed placidly by sun, yet battered by furious white caps. We had sat for hours, counting the pelicans and never the cost. The lazest trade winds would splash the sky colored waters into a spray as high as the pink cottage we planned to build.

We'd roamed the acreage (slightly over two) until we were up to our Bermuda shorts in cactus spurs and sunburn, and then returned to the side of the sea for a soothing shower of surf.

Returning at dusk to the lovely quiet Estate Carlton (the hotel-country club on whose grounds the dream property lay), we had the sea in our hair, our mouths and our minds. Truly a couple of salted nuts.

So we bought it. We would have bought the moon too, had it been available. And hand in hand, waving a sad adieu to beautiful St. Croix with our last dollar bill, we flew into the sunset.

Back in New York, the salt comes out of shakers, and the cliffs are concrete.

You can get burned, but usually not by the sun, and the closest you come to a pink cottage is a girl baby's birthday cake.

It is easy to lose grasp of a dream world in New York, where money is so much the goal of every man.

It is much more likely that you remember the price you paid for the dream.

So along about August, you look at photographs of your cliff and don't believe it existed at all. Then you hear of hurricanes in the tropics and think, if the cliff was really there once, it probably isn't now.

And along about January, shaken by colds and the fevers of making a living, you decide that you'd better fly back down to the Virgin Islands and see the foolish, reckless, doubtless storm-shorn remnants of your honeymoon idiocy. . .

We have not found a rock nor a pelican missing. Our legs again are scratched and burned from roaming the cliff. The waves still smash ominously over the front yard of the potential pink cottage while the sun cuddles securely around its back.

Dulles' Policies to Stand—Nixon

Vice President Touring California; Would Mend Political Fences

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was scheduled to have breakfast today with former GOP Sen. William F. Knowland before taking off for Los Angeles.

The vice president is on a tour to revitalize the California Republican party organization, buffeted by the Democratic election victory last fall.

The California GOP needs building from the ground up, Nixon told a news conference Sunday on his arrival from Oregon centennial celebrations in Portland.

Discussing the illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Nixon told reporters that the Eisenhower-Dulles policy of "firmness on principle and flexibility on tactics" in dealing with the Soviet Union will continue.

Nixon said he will breakfast Tuesday with former Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight in Los Angeles.

Knight was defeated for senator last fall and Knowland was beaten for the governorship. The Democrats also swept both the State Assembly and Senate. The Republican losses were caused by two things, said Nixon: Division among the top GOP leaders in the state and "the error of having the right to work issue on the ballot."

This measure, pushed by Knowland and opposed by Knight, brought out a big Democratic registration and created an "emotional issue," he said, which gave some Republican candidates an "undeserved" anti-labor label.

Back on Job Tonight

Desks Stacked Up High for State Lawmakers

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Legislature is about to take on the appearance of a constitutional convention—for a while.

When lawmakers reassemble at 8 p.m. tonight, they'll find 23 constitutional amendment propositions stacked up for their consideration. Only two weeks will be left to act on them.

Due for prompt attention were at least three that most certainly bear on the crucial tax and debt problems. Others could be included in this category.

House Republican leaders are determined to press for an early decision on resolutions to provide for a four-cent sales tax and to remove any doubt about the Legislature's power to enact a graduated income tax.

And thrust into the foreground late last week was a third to peg the state debt ceiling at 50 million dollars, instead of the existing $250,000.

Gov. Williams last Thursday tagged such a constitutional change a suitable alternative to mortgaging the 50 million dollar veterans trust fund, his first prescription for meeting the cash emergency.

The debt limit proposal remains in committee, but now might quickly join the other two on the calendar for early floor action.

Three more resolutions at debate stage would give the Legislature the final say on civil service pay raises, change the name of the Michigan State University governing body to the MSU board of trustees and provid a new method of financing new construction at state colleges.

Rackets Group Meets With Hoffa in Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee scheduled a secret session with teamsters President James R. Hoffa today (2 p.m. EST), possibly in connection with alleged racketeering in the juke box industry.

The committee would not say what it wanted to question Hoffa about.

But last week, Hoffa-backed teamster local 266 in New York was described as the current contender for control of juke box business grossing 11 million dollars a year.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy described elements in the local as "successors of Murder Incorporated."

The committee will resume public hearings tomorrow on alleged gangland invasion of the juke box industry in New York. Witnesses last week testified that racketeers had founded one union after another to force tribute from juke box operators through use of professional pickets.

Chinese Reds Shell Offshore Quemoy Isle

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Communists shelled both ends of the offshore island front lightly Sunday then lapsed into their customary even-numbered day silence.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Red artillery fired 270 shells at the Quemoy Islands and 20 at Kao-Teng, in the Matsu group 150 miles to the north.

Italy Will Test New Cabinet

Parliament Sets Vote on Christian Democrat Try to End Crisis

ROME (AP) — The Italians get a new Christian Democrat government today, but they can't be sure their worst political crisis since the war is over until Parliament approves the Cabinet.

Antonio Segni succeeded in forming a one-party minority government. President Giovanni Gronchi approved it and told the lean, white-haired Segni to come back to the Presidential Palace today and be sworn in as premier.

It looked as though Segni's government would pass muster in Parliament since it has support of the Liberals and some Monarchists.

Segni needed no parliamentary vote of confidence to assume office. But late this week or early next both the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate must approve the Cabinet. Failure to get this would force him to resign.

Chef Gives Advice on Eating, Long Life

COVINA, Calif. (AP)—On his birthday, retired chef Wilberte di Biase offered this advice for healthy eating:

"In every 24 hours make sure you eat one vegetable that grows underground and one on top of the ground. Top this with good fruit. Don't mix different meats in one meal."

Di Biase, who has followed his own instructions, was celebrating his 103rd birthday.

He was head chef at the Palace Hotel for 36 years. He retired in 1914.

'Prophet' Jones Sheds Radiance on Newark Jail

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The bright green suit, green Bavarian hat, green speckled tie and green suede shoes moved through the front door of police headquarters.

Inside this symphony in green was Prophet Jones, revivalist, who had come to surrender.

Around him shone his many jewels—a topaz bracelet, a huge topaz pendant, and rings containing other glistening stones. They orbited like oversized fireflies every time he moved.

Police issued a warrant for Jones' arrest last Friday, after Mrs. Delores Robinson, 31, claimed she called off an operation because the prophet said it would lead to her death.

Consequently, he was charged with being a disorderly person under a state statute against fortune telling, palmistry, "or like crafty sciences." He was slated for arraignment today.

Jones, who had come here from Detroit Jan. 25, was scheduled to leave Friday. A follower explained "the demand was so heavy that the prophet decided to remain."

With the high-foreheaded Negro when he surrendered yesterday was "Princess" Gloria Harris, his secretary, who is charged with aiding and abetting the prophet. She wore a brown fur coat, gray suit and green blouse.

Fastidious detectives were careful not to smudge ink on the prophet's wardrobe during fingerprinting.

Alger Hiss, Wife Reportedly Split

New York Post Says Breakup Comes After 29 Years of Marriage

NEW YORK (AP) — Alger Hiss and his wife have separated after 29 years of marriage, the New York Post said today.

Both declined to comment on the report.

The Post said a member of the law firm representing Hiss admitted having been informed of the split about a week ago. He did not know whether any legal action was planned.

Mrs. Priscilla Hiss was one of her husband's staunchest supporters during the two sensational trials which ended in 1949 with his conviction for perjury.

Hiss, who had been in the State Department, was convicted of lying when he denied turning over documents to ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers, chief witness against Hiss.

WAITING AT GATE

When Hiss left Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary in 1954 after serving 44 months, Mrs. Hiss was waiting at the gate for him.

The Post said that the couple's recent parting was apparently totally unexpected by friends.

Hiss refused to discuss the report following its publication. He said he had long had an invariable rule against discussing personal affairs in public.

Mrs. Hiss told the Post that she could not possibly talk about her private life.

Hiss is 54. His wife is about the same age. They have one son, Anthony, 17, who expects to enter Harvard next year. She also has a son, Timothy, 30, by former marriage to Thayer Hobson. It ended in divorce.

Since release from prison Hiss had been administrative assistant to the president of a firm manufacturing combs. In 1957 he wrote a book, "In the Court of Public Opinion," in which he insisted upon his innocence.

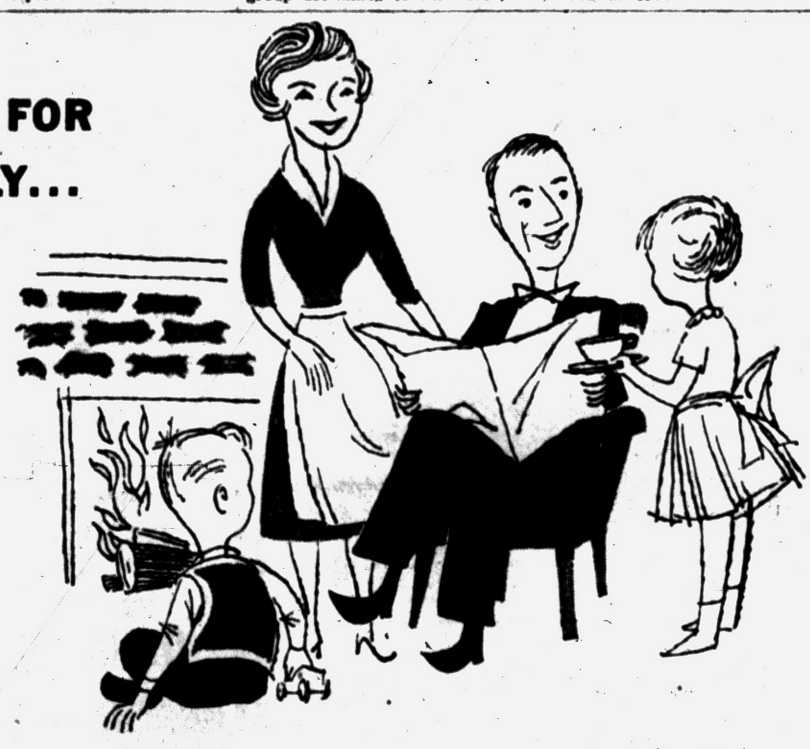

The country's wettest state in terms of average annual rainfall up to 1957 was Louisiana with 57.34 inches. The driest state was Nevada, with 8.60 inches. The U.S. average is 29 inches of rain per year.

Debunking the Stories of the Pilgrim Fathers

Probably it had to happen.

Diggers after accurate facts have no respect whatever for a romantic story. No mater how much legendary appeal has been wrapped around the story of the Pilgrim Fathers, they are being pushed off their lofty pedestal. And even the religious overtones which lent added color to the voyage of the Mayflower have not been able to silence the attacks.

The debunkers are having their say.

The prosaic facts are coming out.

Not that anyone has denied that the Pilgrims came to the New World, or that they established the Plymouth Colony in what later became the State of Massachusetts. No one could disprove that.

But the debunkers have gone so far as to claim:

1. That there were a lot of white folks, as well as Indians, in what is now New England when the Pilgrims arrived in 1620.

2. That they had been holding thanksgiving services in the Virginia Colonies years before the Pilgrims held their first service of that kind at Plymouth.

3. That, far from being alone and dependent solely on their own resources, the Pilgrims had to make only a comparatively short run by boat to obtain supplies of fish and other food from an older white settlement off the Maine coast.

4. That before the Pilgrims made their memorable trip across the Atlantic, scores of boats had made the same journey. After the Norwegian explorers had discovered the North American continent, after Columbus had exploded the myth of a flat world, Irish fishermen, then French and English, had followed in growing numbers.

In fact, the debunkers assert, a sizable fishing industry already had been established off the New England coast and on to the north. Even the Virginia colonies sent fishing boats up to Maine to bring back loads of salted cod. The Plymouth colonists did the same.

So another legend is rudely shattered. To be sure, Miles Standish, like Kilroy, was there. But, if you are going all the way with the debunkers of the Pilgrim legend, by the time Miles Standish got there, white folks were holding clambakes on the shore almost nightly all the way up the coast.

It is too bad they keep picking on those lovely old stories that we learned in grade school. But that seems to be one of the prices we have to pay for this bright new world of science.

Move over, Pilgrims. Make way for the space age. And oh yes, rewrite another chapter in the history books.

'Lambs' Again Prepare for Annual Shearing

Shearing time is here again. The mass bleating you are about to hear comes from the millions of income tax "lambs" to be shorn as usual.

The operation will be conducted by the Internal Revenue Service, which has just issued its figures on the clippings of last year.

If anyone has any doubt about the annual take, just take a look at these figures. The IRS points out that 59,817,000 individual income tax returns were filed in 1958 covering $279,231,275,000 in adjusted income for 1957, the previous year.

This is a pretty good yearly take, even for the government.

The more than 59 million income tax return makers will undergo the annual shearing in the next few weeks. It's just a thought, but if they united, they would make a powerful pressure group in favor of reduced Federal spending, a balanced budget and a halt to deficits that impose an additional penalty of inflation on all the American people.

"ROBERT HUTCHINS says every American should be educated to the limit of his capacity to learn."—Press report. Even including those who count on their fingers to add?

IT COST the U. S. almost as much to launch a satellite into outer space as it costs rich parents to launch a daughter upon the sea of matrimony.

The Man About Town

Was Established in Pontiac Before General School Days

Pedestrian: A person who too often stands up for his rights — in the middle of the street.

It was only four years after the first white settlement on the present site of Pontiac in 1818 that primary school facilities were under way. The children were taught in the homes of some of the pioneers. There it was that in 1822 became Pontiac's first teachers.

Funds for the purpose were raised by subscription among the few families then here, and there was danger that the bare rudiments of an education would be restricted to children of people with financial means, with the others going ignorant.

After the levying of a school tax, three years later the first public school was opened in a temporary building, just west of the site of the present court house. There only the primary grades were taught, the Stevens Sisters being the first teachers.

To supply the means for a higher education, some local men of means had the Pontiac Academy chartered by special act of the Michigan territorial legislature on April 23, 1833. It was to be a sort of exclusive school, and a building was erected for it near the court house, with as the teacher, with a part time assistant or two.

The idea did not go over so well, and it was put out of business in 1837 by the opening here of a branch of the University of Michigan, going into the same building as the academy had used. The U. of M. then was called Central University of Ann Arbor, and it sent here its Professor who had charge of the branch.

After three years the branch was abandoned, through lack of patronage, the reason being "inability of students to come here on account of the poor roads, also their desire to get a higher education where a greater variety of courses is offered." The property finally passed to the ownership of the local Presbyterian church.

It would seem then that Pontiac was the first location of a branch of the University of Michigan, and it now becomes the first to have in its immediate vicinity a branch of Michigan State University.

Experience in one of its county offices will prove to you that Oakland County is larger in several ways than most people think, according to who found that out as register of deeds, and now is doubly impressed when he's both Register and County Clerk.

No Room to Maneuver

David Lawrence Says:

4 Men Loom as Dulles' Successors

WASHINGTON — There'll be a successor in due time to John Foster Dulles as secretary of state, but—unless he really becomes incapacitated — he will remain a dominant figure in the making of world policy for the administration.

LAWRENCE

The new secretary of state, whoever he may be, will be consulting with and working with Dulles. For nobody else today has the background or the knowledge of world affairs that the present secretary of state carries in his head.

Speculation as to a successor to Dulles is not of the usual kind. Normally a cabinet officer resigns and leaves the government completely.

But in going over the possible appointments, it is necessary now to consider who will work harmoniously with the President and Dulles.

For, while the ultimate decisions will continue to be made in the future, as in the past, by the President, the advice on which those decisions are based would get quicker clearance if it had the approval of Dulles as well as of the new secretary of state.

There came to mind certain outstanding personalities—some of them national and international figures.

NATURALLY FIRST

First in order of consideration, naturally, is Christian Herter, the undersecretary of state today. He gets along well with Dulles. He has an excellent background in foreign affairs.

Unfortunately, he has an arthritic condition and occasionally has to use crutches or a wheel chair.

He could not, it is said, travel around as much as Dulles has found it necessary to do in the fast-moving world of events today.

Next there's former Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, now the top man for this country in the United Nations in New York. He speaks French fluently, has sparred and debated with diplomats from all over the world in the forums of the U.N.

He has been attending cabinet meetings in the last few years whenever they dealt primarily with international affairs. He, too, harmonizes with Dulles.

Then there is Douglas Dillon, deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs. He was formerly ambassador to France, also speaks French fluently and has an excellent diplomatic and economic background.

There's a fourth name which comes up again and again in the conversations here about a possible successor to Dulles. It's that of Thomas E. Dewey, former governor of New York State and twice the presidential candidate of the Republican Party.

(Editor's Note: The Press has information from a reliable source that Thomas E. Dewey would not accept the post if it were offered him, preferring to remain away from the political wars and continue his private law practice.)

He helped Eisenhower get his first nomination in 1952, and he helped Vice President Nixon win renomination in 1956 over Harold Stassen's rebellion.

He has been functioning lately as an international lawyer in private practice—a field in which Dulles himself engaged for several years.

OUTSTANDING FIGURE

In many respects Dewey is the outstanding figure of them all as far as being nationally known is concerned. He would naturally bring prestige to the post in the eyes of European diplomats.

There is one hitch. It is being said that Dewey has a positiveness of personality which comes from having been in official positions where he has been giving rather than taking orders and that hence he wouldn't work as well in a team as some of the others mentioned.

The question is how Ike and Tom Dewey would get along.

The Country Parson

WC 2-16

"I'm uncomfortable among Christians who strengthen their love for each other by joining together to hate outsiders."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Calcium, Sunshine Vitamin Are Natural Combination

Some years ago, there were numerous queries concerning "food combinations." Many of that era followed a diet fad which was marketed by a diet leader who regarded the combination of protein and starch, for example, as incompatible or in effect "poisonous."

DR. BRADY

It never occurred to the master salesman or his innocent customers that the Creator combined protein and starch in the staff of life—wheat.

Certain food combinations are more appetizing than others and probably more digestible Thus bread and milk or meat and potato go well together, but meat and milk do not. There is a physiological reason for this.

The gastric juice secreted in the stomach at the taste of meat is similar to that secreted at the taste of bread. And the juice secreted at the taste of milk is similar to that secreted at the taste of bread. But the meat juice and milk juice are dissimilar in character.

Calcium and vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin, go well together. One without the other is never quite effective in physiology (nutrition) or therapeutics (the prevention or treatment of disease).

This does not necessarily mean that every meal, morsel, or dose of calcium must include enough vitamin D to insure good assimilation and utilization of the calcium in the body. A good daily ration or even a larger ration once or twice a week will suffice, as a rule, but it is simpler to take calcium and D combined if the purpose is to correct calcium deficiency.

The ordinary diet of Americans is generally lacking in calcium, essential for these reasons:

1. It is essential for ossification of bone—or, as the pitch men say, to build strong bones and teeth.

2. It is necessary for clotting of blood.

3. It diminishes permeability of body tissues to serum, or water—oozing, edema, dropsical swelling and the like.

4. Necessary for adequate contraction of heart muscle. (Improves function of flabby, weak heart.

5. Maintains tone of skeletal muscles—promotes firmness.

6. Regulates excitability of nerve fibres and nerve centers—"steadies the nerves."

Three glasses (1½ pints) of milk a day supply enough calcium to keep an adult in fine fettle, though probably not enough for a growing child. Milk, by the way, contains more calcium (lime) than lime water does. Three glasses of milk would suuply about 12 grains of calcium.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wives Need More Than Money

Marjorie has been seduced by another man and her husband cannot understand why. The other man cannot compare on most counts. But he does understand feminine psychology! Women are not passionate creatures but they have certain ego hungers that must be satisfied or they may follow Marjorie's example. Husbands, note well!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-455: Marjorie L., aged 32, is the wife of a business executive.

"Dr. Crane, I am all broken up about Marjorie," her husband actually shed tears as he began his story.

CRANE

"She ran off with another man three weeks ago. Yesterday I saw her for the first time and talked to her.

"But she doesn't want to come back to me. She seems infatuated with this other fellow. He is no good and doesn't even have a regular job, yet he casts a spell over her.

"I have always given Marjorie a liberal allowance for operating our home. And she has all the modern conveniences.

"So what made her run away with this other fellow? Is she just cheap and fickle?"

NOT BREAD ALONE

"Man does not live by bread alone," Christ stated.

And modern conveniences, plus a liberal allowance for household expenses, are not enough to meet the emotional hungers of wives.

Money is a very important goal of most men. But they should never let it becloud their understanding of female psychology.

For women want attention:

"I want to feel important," is the motto figuratively branded across their chests at birth.

When women splurge to get a new hat or a mink coat, it isn't just the desire to squander money that motivates them.

No; they want to get attention! The new hat is suppose to cause people to look at them admiringly. Likewise, the fur coat. Or the new car.

But if your husbands will satisfy their basic hunger for attention as by paying them a deserved compliment per day, they will be inclined to give you their love, even without mink coats.

MARJORIE'S MADNESS

Marjorie's husband gave her a monthly check of $250. She also had the use of the car. And her home was equipped with modern conveniences.

And this ne'er-do-well who weaned her way from her husband, gave her no money. In fact, he sponged off of Marjorie and usually let her pay the bills whenever they dined out or attended a movie.

But he made her feel important!

Her husband made her feel inferior. For he was a talented man who thought of everything when they went on a picnic or a trip and who squelched her by his scientific thoroughness.

Oh, she had never admitted this to her husband. In fact, he didn't even dream that he was deflating her pride by making most of the household decisions without even inviting her opinion or advice.

For he was an efficient executive. He made the decisions and ran the office where he was employed.

So he carried over this "bossy" role in his own home.

Women don't mind being bossed. In fact, they like it up to a certain point.

But they don't care to have their ego stifled. They want to feel important.

How many of you husbands have asked your wifes for advice today?

Do you usurp her function and handle the money or do the shopping?

Do you intimate she "knows nothing" by refusing to seek her counsel, either on your office or home problems? Do you give her the impression she is a "kept" woman with no brains and only useful to you for erotic enjoyment?

If so, you better turn over a new leaf fast, for what happened to Marjorie's husband can strike you, too, without warning.

See tomorrow's follow-up—for Marjorie's confession.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Teachers Answer Letters About Salaries, Vacations

Recent letters give the impression teachers are riding the gravy train. Our salaries have risen 75 per cent since 1949, but our purchasing power has increased only 43 per cent. The national average for teachers, principals and supervisors (instructional personnel) is $4,775 or $79 a week over 12 months after deductions.

In Pontiac in the 1958-59 schedule the teacher has to take home (after retirement, social security, withholding, hospitalization) about $72 a week. Moreover, teachers haven't realized gains in American economy. Some of the problem lies in distribution of budgetary demands. Modern, efficient school rooms are essential, but the district has spent nearly $7.25 million for buildings, yet not a cent to increase wages the last two years.

Immediate and serious consideration to rectify a few inequalities lies ahead.

Teacher

I get pretty sick of hearing the old story about lucky teachers who get paid and also get three months vacation.

We don't get paid for our so-called vacation, and it's only ten weeks. Most teachers must get other jobs during this time because it's impossible to save enough during the year to pay expenses those 10 weeks. If we're not working, we're going to colleges or universities to do a better job the next ten months (and we're going on borrowed money).

Why don't you check reliable sources before making unjustified comments? And did you ever try to get a ten week job when the employer knows it's only for that short time?

Another Who Pays and Pays

'It Isn't Fair for 2 to Pay'

I agree with Freeman Clark and I would vote for a bum if he would outlaw alimony when the mother remarries. The man who pays alimony is treated like a stray dog —either pay or go to jail. The mother remarries and has two men on the string, both of them paying.

Sad Dog Lovers Tell Their Stories

I can't see why a person should hold a lost dog, a man's best friend. He's five years old and never got out before.

Merle Bearce

In December our mixed collie and shepherd dog died. His place in my heart can never be filled.

A few days later I read about a blind man whose dog was dying of cancer. I cried because I could feel his loss as my own. Last night I read the beloved animal had been put to sleep and his master had killed himself.

With love like this in the world, we must realize some of us could be kinder to our pets. Please don't leave them outside in this cold weather. If they act oddly, take them to a vet. It costs less than you think. Their devotion and love is worth every cent.

Dog Lover

Recently hunters parked in front of our house and our dog ran down the road and went hunting with them. Our children, trusting as they are, asked the men to send him home, but they didn't.

The dog knows the country and would have come home if he hadn't been shot or picked up. He wears a tag with his address and owner's name.

He was our only dog and stayed in the house when not woth the children or my husband. The men who took him should really be ashamed.

ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. Nearly everyone reads a newspaper every day—so it follows that practically any product sold will be sold to a newspaper reader. Hence the newspaper is basic and the effective use of its advertising columns constitutes the most powerful and profitable advertising force in existence. And that's why so many advertisers use it day after day. Newspapers are the answer to your advertising needs.

To Be 'Practical' Steps

West to Draft Formula for German Unification

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western leaders expect to draft within the next month a new formula for German reunification. They hope it may promote serious negotiations with the Soviet Union for uniting East and West Germany.

The shape of the formula is still to be determined, but it is expected to push the Western request for free all-German elections somewhat into the background.

Many experts now believe that the unifying process could go on for as much as two years before nationwide elections were held. In the meantime practical steps in the economic and political field could be taken to bring the two Germanies closer together.

Diplomatic informants said today that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany are guided by two main tactical considerations in the wholesale review of their German policies which is now under way.

Their primary aim is to test to the limit — without sacrificing vital Western interests — the possibility that the Soviet government may be ready for serious negotiations and compromises on the unity issue.

Their other concern is to demonstrate to the world a Western readiness to negotiate with initiative and flexibility.

Several Western concessions already have become known as a result of exchanges among the governments in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn. These concessions include:

1. A decision to propose in a forthcoming note to the Soviet government that German advisers participate in a prospective East-West foreign ministers conference.

2. A declared readiness—recently stated by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles—to have a foreign ministers conference with the Soviet Union without advance agreement on a detailed program of discussion. The only agrement required from the Soviet Union is to talk about all aspects of the German problem so that both sides could bring up any proposals they wish.

3. A decision that the reunification of Germany through free election — the formula to which the Western powers have clung for many years — is not the only possible way to obtain German unity.

Initiated by Dulles, this change broke down the West's rigid position on one of the crucial German issues.

Authorities said today that any merger plan acceptable to the West would require at some point all-German elections to choose a new unity government but that the elections would not have to be a first step by any means.

Popularity in Oriente Immense

Castro Remains Legend As He Becomes Premier

By ROBERT BERRELIEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Six weeks after his revolutionary triumph Fidel Castro remains a figure of near legendary stature to the average Cuban.

Some local detractors have appeared on the scene. Their ranks will grow, as they do against all public figures. But thus far, the faultfinding here seems of a minor nature.

Castro's position, at least for the present, appears secure.

His elevation to prime minister at the age of 32 gives him the civil administrative power to carry forward on an economic level the revolution he won by force of arms.

American newsmen who followed Castro on a five-day trip to Oriente came back impressed with his energy.

His popularity in the east is immense, with no signs of diminishing.

Of the 15 newsmen who started the tour, only one remained to the end of the trip. The others gave up through sheer frustration or mixed connections. The one remaining confessed he stuck it out chiefly because it was the only sure way of getting back to Havana.

Castro delivered five speeches of more than one hour each in five days; he spoke informally at several other smaller meetings, held two large press conferences and several smaller ones.

Although the junket covered a stretch only 125 miles long—from Manzanillo to Guantanamo in Oriente province—he covered the area three times by auto, plane and helicopter.

Crowds mushroomed from nowhere all along the tour, day and night, scheduled or unscheduled. His personality and the symbol of economic liberation he represents to the poorer folk made him a powerful attraction.

At Manzanillo, a crowd of 10,000 waited from 9 p.m., the scheduled hour, until 12:15 a.m., when he showed up. They were still there 2 hours and 10 minutes later when he finished speaking.

In talks he is a master of inflection and seems to evoke laughter or cheers or silence with ease. Perhaps he overemphasizes with hand gestures, and it is generally conceded he does not have a good speaking voice.

Away from the speaking platform and the crowds, Castro is friendly and open as any 32 year old out on the town. He chatted informally with newsmen on the trip when time permitted. He insisted on only one item: no posed pictures. One night AP photographer Harry Harris asked him to sit atop a table as he talked to the crowd around him. The crowd was pressing so close that Castro, unless on elevation, would not have appeared in a picture.

"I will not pose," Castro said seriously.

"Aw, Ike does it for us all the time," Harris complained, putting his camera down.

Castro retorted: "Look, I'm not Eisenhower. I work 20 hours a day. Eisenhower plays golf."

Then turning to a reporter making notes, he said, "And you get that right. This is not meant as a reflection on the President of the United States."

The crowd applauded. Castro smiled. Then he leaped on top of the table and told Harris: "Go ahead, Shoot."

Harris did.

College Enrollments Soar to Record High

LANSING (AP)—The State Department of Public Instruction reports that on-campus enrollments in all state institutions of higher education hit an all-time high of 143,664 last year. This was a 5.4 per cent jump over the previous high mark of 136,254 set in 1957.

The state's 15 community colleges chalked up the greatest percentage growth. Their enrollment of 22,784 was 15 per cent above the 1957 count of 19,837.

On-campus enrollment of 23,506 at the University of Michigan topped all other colleges and universities. Michigan State University was second with 19,516. Then came Wayne State University with 18,313.

The others: Western Michigan College, 7,804; Eastern Michigan College, 4,903; Central Michigan College, 4,454; Ferris Institute, 2,822; and Northern Michigan College, 1,646.

Italians Retain Title of Bridge Champions

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world champion Italian contract bridge team-of-four defeated both the United States and Argentine teams yesterday to retain the world title for the third successive year.

The Italians defeated the U.S. champions late last night by a score of 30 to 10 international match points, for a final total of 233-183. An international match point is the equivalent of 100 points in rubber bridge scoring.

Proposes CD Draftees on Part-Time Basis

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey proposed today that young men rejected for military service be drafted for a few hours of civil defense work each week.

He said civil defense draftees might serve three hours weekly and would "not necessarily" have to be paid.

Coming German Crisis Will Test Dulles' Policy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles' six years as secretary of state have been more than unique. They provided the heart and guidelines of an era which now, whether or not he returns to full-time duty, may have to change.

President Truman trusted Secretary of State Dean Acheson. But President Eisenhower's confidence in Dulles has been so extraordinary that it seems accurate to say the secretary almost completely dominated foreign policy.

The Dulles years have been an era of standoff by the West and communism in which they gathered strength for any future tests. The first great test of this period is approaching in Germany.

Three times at least before Dulles became secretary—during the Truman-Acheson administration — the world communism tried its muscles in a major way to see how much will the West had to resist.

Three times it failed because it was resisted—in the Berlin blockade, in the Korean War, in the pressure on Greece and Turkey in the late 1940s.

These pushes were stopped by the Truman-Acheson policy — called containment—of building military bases and alliances around the Communist world and by its willingness to fight, as it showed in Korea.

The Communist world—especially the Soviet part of it—realized it had some growing to do. It subsided, at least temporarily, behind its frontiers and avoided major crises.

There was never any doubt it would push hard again, when it thought it could.

The Truman-Acheson policy has been Dulles' basic policy. He adopted it, made it his own, and expanded it with new alliances.

Because Dulles has pursued this containment policy relentlessly, he has been accused of being too rigid, too unbending, or, to use a phrase recently become popular, too inflexible.

True, he made few if any concessions to the Communists. But they made few, if any, either.

Just because Dulles devoted himself so thoroughly to the standoff policy it is hard to recall anything which history could point to as original in his six years.

That does not mean history will find fault with his six years of stewardship as a whole, although it may quarrel with pieces of it. Perhaps in this era the Dulles policy was the only sensible one.

One thing is sure: in those six years, except for the conquest of half of Viet Nam and perhaps scattered islands near China, world communism has not obtained an extra inch of real estate.

But now the Soviets, after hibernating for years, are fully conscious of their power, as they demonstrated with their missile claims. As if to mark the end of a period, they are pushing again.

They have made demands — in calling for a Western withdrawal from West Berlin—which involve not only this country's containment policy but its relations with its allies, its position in Europe, and the future of Germany.

And if the Soviets feel powerful enough now to push in Germany, they may also feel ready to push elsewhere.

Because of the crisis over Germany, American foreign policy will undergo one of its severest tests. Containment may no longer work. New policies may be needed. It seems unlikely Dulles will be well enough to make them, if they are made.

It is ironic that at this moment —when Dulles is stricken with cancer—Soviet pressure may show that his policy has reached the end of its usefulness.

The original painting of "Washington Crossing the Delaware" by Emanuel Leutze, who sold it to the German government, was destroyed in 1942 during an Allied air raid in Bremen.

a modern grandmother speaks...
"I wish I'd had my new Gas Clothes Dryer years ago!"

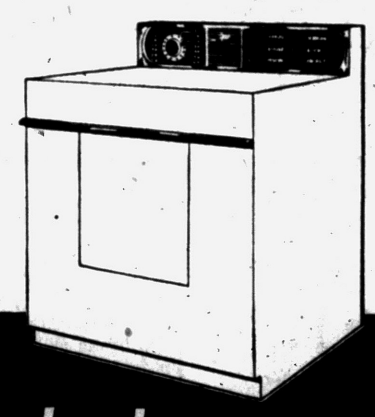

Mrs. Marguerite Johnson
918 Grand Court
Lansing, Michigan

"The family wash used to mean a full day of hard back-breaking work for me. My Gas Dryer would have been a big help to me then. I'm glad women today don't have to put up with the old-fashioned way. I know I wouldn't want to give up my Gas Dryer."

Modern grandmothers like Mrs. Johnson know that the "good old days" are not all they're cracked up to be! Before Gas Dryers came along, washday meant heavy lifting and hauling, hanging up and taking down. Clothes had to be dried with one eye on the weather, or hung in musty basements. Quite a difference from the easy turn of a dial on a modern Gas Dryer. Quite a difference in the results, too. Today's washes are dried soft and fluffy . . . so smooth that many pieces need little or no ironing.

If you're still struggling with the old-fashioned way, get a modern Gas Dryer.

New equipment for administering and withdrawing blood at Pontiac General Hospital uses specially treated plastic bags for blood storage, resulting in greater safety to the patient. Donald Carros, public relations director, shows Mrs. Clark J. Adams, a member of the Oakland County Hospital Association whose members provided the equipment, a sample of Type A blood in the laboratory's storage unit.

Dr. John J. Marra, medical director and director of laboratories at the hospital, explains the routine for typing and cross-matching blood to Emma Howard, left, president of the association, and Mrs. Ross Stockwell of the purchasing committee, during a recent visit to the hospital.

Pontiac General Has Only One in County

New Hemolator Saves Lives Here

By MARGARET BROWN

A critically injured accident victim was losing blood fast—so fast that within 72 hours a medical team at Pontiac General Hospital had administered some 40 pints of blood. The average adult contains five quarts of blood, which means that this patient received the equivalent of four complete changes of blood within three days.

A newly developed technique adopted by the hospital made this remarkable replacement of blood possible.

Donated by the Oakland County Hospital Association, the equipment for blood withdrawal as well as administration features specially treated plastic bags, rather than the standard pint bottle for blood storage.

FEW IN STATE

Pontiac General is the only hospital in Oakland County and one of the few medical centers in Michigan able to utilize the system devised within the past three years.

Completely automatic, the equipment employs a vibrating machine known as a hemolator which holds the blood bag, mixing the substance more thoroughly and leaving the laboratory technician free to go about other chores.

Reason for using the plastic bags is that there is much less damage to blood cells and they may be preserved much longer, comments Dr. John J. Marra, medical director and director of laboratories at Pontiac General. There is less damage to the cells upon flowing into the bag and none cling to its surface, he said.

The main advantage of the setup is safety to the patient, for there is no possible way to contaminate the blood, always a factor in standard blood work. From donor to bag to recipient, it's a closed circuit, prohibiting formation of dangerous air bubbles.

ANOTHER BOON

Another boon of the new system is that specific components of blood may be administered. If, for example, a patient's major blood deficiency is plasma, doctors may give him the exact amount his body needs.

Perhaps the most important element of the technique is that of time. This new method takes only three or four minutes to administer, whereas the old system took one to one-and-one-half hours. Blood may be given almost as fast as the patient is losing it.

Of the average 75-80 transfusions given a month at the hospital, patients have experienced none of the reactions such as fever and chills often caused by the old system which almost always necessitated halting the transfusion.

The Oakland County Hospital Association has given $1,700 for this project and will pay for another hemolator the hospital has ordered. Dr. Marra reports that the patented equipment practically must be "handmade," which accounts for its expense.

CHARTER MEMBER LIVING

One of the association's charter members who met May 14, 1901, to consider construction of a new hospital for the city still is living. Mrs. Harry Coleman, now of Laguna Beach, Calif., was one of six women who gathered to initiate the hospital work.

Her husband, by the way, then was editor of The Pontiac Press, relates Emma Howard, president of the association.

On May 18, 1910, the association's board members opened the hospital and managed it until 1915, when the group made a gift to the city of the hospital, all its contents and the land surrounding it, which since has been used for additions. The first year of its operation, the hospital admitted 165 patients from May to December.

Mrs. Clark J. Adams is chairman of the association's purchasing committee, and Mrs. Ross Stockwell, Mrs. L. A. Farnham and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley are committee members.

Board of Trustee members include Mrs. Adams, E. P. Barrett, Mrs. E. Milton Evans, who is first vice president of the association; Mrs. Farnham, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. F. Going, Emma Howard, Clarence K. Patterson, Mrs. S. J. Patterson, Mrs. Shadley, Mrs. Stockwell, second vice president, Mrs. J. C. Walker, Mrs. F. L. Ward, Mrs. C. R. Williams and Mrs. Horace Young, secretary.

Demonstrating the use of the hemolator — a machine which automatically controls blood transfusions, thoroughly mixing the blood with its vibrating action—is Naomi Cheney, blood bank technician. Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, left, and Mrs. Joseph C. Walker seem thoroughly absorbed in observing the new technique which has been instrumental in saving many lives.

Boy Comes in House to Meet Family

Never Put Sums on List When Giving Purse

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother thinks I should meet my date at our front door with my coat over my arm, all ready to leave. She says it's absolutely the height of inconsiderateness on a girl's part to make a boy sit with the family while she goes and gets ready to leave. I think that if I did this he'd think me ashamed of my family."

Answer: I think your mother is right in asking that you be ready to go out with him when he comes, but this does not mean that you should be waiting at the front door and that he should not come into the room where the family is gathered, to fetch you. He greets them and you say good-night and promptly go.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When sending a purse to someone from a group of neighbors and friends, should the amount contributed by each be listed? There is no set amount required and some are giving quite a lot and others very little.

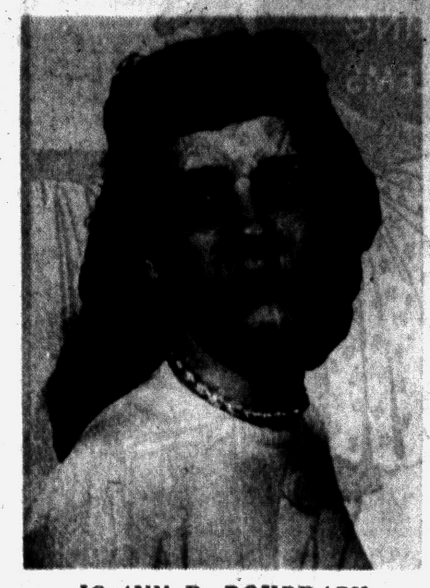

I have been told that it would be in very bad taste to list individual amounts, but I don't think it is fair to those who contributed a large sum not to be given credit for it. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Individual contributions to such a purse should never be listed.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has been invited to a debutante ball. She has a very pretty white evening dress which she intended to wear but was told that it would be wrong for her to do so on this occasion as only the debutantes should be dressed in white. Will you please tell me if this is true?"

Answer: It is conventional that debutantes wear white especially where a number are coming out at the same ball, but there is no reason why your daughter should not also wear white.

'I'm Prejudiced' — Abby

Confused Northerner in Thick of Longest War in History!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have been having quite a few arguments lately about who really won the Civil War. I have some friends from Florida who say the South won. We looked it up in the Encyclopedia and it favors the North. They say it favors the North because it was printed in the North.

ABBY

"In school I was always taught that the North won. They claim that in the South they are taught that the South won. I can't possibly understand how it can be taught differently as only one side could have won. I would appreciate it very much if you would settle this for me."

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Put all your Confederate money on the South. Perhaps my educators were prejudiced, but I was taught that the South won a few battles, but the North won the War. (However, let's not start the whole thing over again.)

"DEAR ABBY: I was sitting in a restaurant minding my own business when a very nice looking girl (about 22) came up to me and said, 'Can I have your phone number or do you want mine?' I was so stunned I said 'Sorry but you must have me confused with somebody else.' Then she went away and I saw her go sit with a man who I presume was her date.

"She looked like a lady. She was pretty and well-dressed and very clean looking. Am I just a green hick or is this the way people get acquainted nowadays? Maybe I'm missing something." STILL STUNNED

DEAR STUNNED: You got what is commonly known as the "direct approach." She may have looked like a lady, but I assure you she was not. You missed something all right—a lot of trouble!

"DEAR ABBY: We are a couple over 70 years old. We have lived as man and wife for over 50 years. Everyone takes it for granted that we are married. (We have 5 children and 21 grandchildren.) Now we would like to get our social security and since we have no record of our marriage we don't know how to go about it without shocking the whole community where we have lived for 45 years."

MY MAN AND ME

DEAR MY: Go to a lawyer (it need not be one in your own community) and give him the facts. He can tell you where you can be quietly married and the matter will be kept confidential.

"DEAR ABBY: I am expecting a baby in about two months and this being our first child, we are very excited about it. My husband's father takes pictures as a hobby. He always carries two or three different kinds of cameras with him. He says he is going to the hospital when I am there in labor and is going to take pictures of my husband when he is in the waiting room. Don't you think we would be justified in not letting his parents know until after the baby is born?"

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: Your peace of mind at this time is worth more than a picture of your husband pacing the floor. Let your husband call them when it's all over.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE WITH AN ICEBERG": There are all kinds of "icebergs"—some are known as "dry ice"—too hot to handle.

Peggy Lawson Becomes Bride of John Gemmell

Peggy Lou Lawson of Bloomfield Terrace and John Gemmell were married Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham. Dr. W. Glen Harris officiated at the ceremony before 150 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. James H. Lawson of McKeesport, Pa., and the late Dr. Lawson, and Mrs. John E. Atkinson of Walled Lake and the late Alexander Gemmell.

The bride's blush pink gown was overlaid with white French lace and fashioned with a hand-beaded bodice. She carried a heart-shaped colonial bouquet.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Hugh J. Rogers of Bellefonte, Pa., was matron of honor. Her dress was pink silk with gathered chiffon inserts and she carried a heart-shaped bouquet of pink roses.

Al K. Hillcoat of Orchard Lake was best man.

A reception was held at Rotunda Inn. Before leaving for a honeymoon in Nassau, the bride changed to a beige cashmere dress and coat. The couple will make their home at Bloomfield Terrace after April 1.

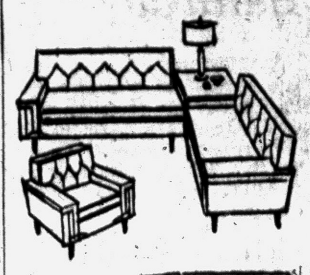

The bride attended Vogue School of Fashion Art and Wayne University and the bridegroom attended Oswego State Teacher's College, New York.

Mrs. Lawson wore a mauve sheer crepe dress trimmed with appliques of matching lace for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Atkinson was dressed in a beige sheer crepe dress. Both had orchid corsages.

Wixom Justice Gets New Flag

VFW Presentation to Give Added Dignity in Courtroom

WIXOM—A note of decorum was forecast for Justice of the Peace Court at Wixom Friday when members of the Walled Lake Veterans of Foreign Wars post presented a spanking new, 49-star flag to Justice William Welke.

Presentation was made in a ceremony attended by about 25 people at Wixom City Hall where Welke holds court. He said that in keeping with President Eisenhower's expressed wish, the new flag would not be flown before July 4.

Justice Welke also received a gavel from the justices of Oakland County Judicial Assn.

"We're trying to add dignity to the courtroom appearance," Welke said, "so that a man won't think we're going to sock him with a $15 fine necessarily, just as soon as he walks in the door."

Scientists have found that temperatures may vary by as much as 20 degrees between a city's business center and its suburbs.

Avondale School Board Sticks By Plans to Meet

AVON TOWNSHIP—The closed hearing scheduled for 8 p.m. today by the Avondale Board of Education will be held as scheduled, according to Board President Gordon S. Hamilton.

The board set the hearing for Superintendent of Schools Raymond N. Baker, who has requested its members to give him reasons why his contract has not been renewed for the 1959-60 school year.

The board voted by a 3 to 2 majority against rehiring the superintendent at its meeting Dec. 15.

Baker said after the hearing date was set that he would be in Atlantic City attending a school administratrs' convention there this week. He added that the board had authorized the trip and knew of his plans to attend.

Hamilton said, "Baker has not notified us that he won't be present. Unless we are notified, we have no other choice than to hold the hearing."

He added that a number of citizens in the district "demand that we live up to the North Central Assn. rules. They ask for a hearing, and this is the second one we've set."

The first was slated for Feb. 6, but was called off when Supt. Baker said the board failed to furnish a list of particulars or reasons for his dismissal as requested.

A letter signed by the board secretary was sent to Baker last Wednesday which Hamilton said contained a "resume of the board's action" the night the superintendent's contract was not renewed.

Baker said at the board meeting Wednesday night that he had received the letter and had sent it on to his attorney. He declined to reveal its contents until he had had legal advice to do so.

Hamilton added today that the special meeting of the board scheduled for Wednesday night will also be held and what transpires at tonight's hearing would be reported at that time.

Utica School Design Wins Award for Royal Oak Firm

Design of Utica's new Ewell Elementary School has earned a special citation for Smith and Smith, architects of Royal Oak.

The award for "compact design and effective use of wood for the interior finish" was made jointly Saturday by the American Assn. of School Administrators (AASA) and the American Institute of Architects at their annual convention in Atlantic City.

This marks the second straight year that the Smith and Smith firm has received the AASA citation in nationwide competition.

On hand to acknowledge the citation were Fred M. Atkinson, superintendent of Utica Community Schools, and Neal B. Smith of the Smith and Smith firm.

Called the "electric school," Ewell Elementary is the first school in the greater Detroit area to utilize electricity for heating. This permitted the use of boiler room space for an extra classroom, thereby enlarging the school's pupil capacity.

As a result of the greater pupil capacity, Atkinson said, the building cost was decreased by $56 per pupil — down to $864 per pupil versus $920 per pupil if the school had been designed for hot-water heat.

Compared to other fuels, the expense of heating the school electrically will cost about $1.53 more per year per pupil. However, it will take 37 years for the higher operating costs to off-set the lower initial construction costs of the electric system, Atkinson said.

To reduce heat loss, the school was designed as a rectangle to limit the amount of outside wall space. Compared to a typical "finger design," the rectangular shape reduced outside wall exposure by 13.5 per cent and provided 15.5 per cent more teaching aera.

The school's 13 classrooms, corridors, multi-use room, kitchen and other educational areas are heated by electric units that are individually controlled and designed to automatically bring in fresh air from the outside as needed.

Because of the school's compact plan, the pupils' presence during the day sustains the heat in average temperatures with little help from the electric units. The pupils themselves provide from one-fourth to all of the heat needed to maintain optimum temperature, Atkinson explained.

Eleven additional classrooms will be added to the school later, providing 24 rooms in total and reducing the cost per pupil and per foot still further, Atkinson said.

Avondale Band Boosters Hold Meeting Tomorrow

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Band Boosters Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the high school, 1435 Auburn Rd, here.

Music will be furnished by the high school band, and some 150 song flute students will be featured in their first concert of the current school year.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the session.

This Is the Life—Get Tan While Ice Fishing

A warm front is on the way to relieve the miseries of ice fishermen.

Thanks to a new transparent plastic material called sisal-glaze, ice-hole anglers will be able to dispense with the conventional wooden shacks and stoves. Even though the temperature is below freezing, fishermen can remain comfortably snug in portable shelters that resemble solariums.

Indeed, if the weather happens to be sunny, the anglers can catch a suntan with their fish. The new material lets warming and tanning infra-red and and ultra-violet rays pass through from the sun and acts effectively as an insulator to keep the heat inside.

On a cold but sunny day, temperatures inside a sisal-glaze shelter can rise to 70 or 80 degrees within an hour.

In a recent demonstration of sisal-glaze properties, seven coeds went ice fishing supplied with enough panels of the material to make themselves three shelters.

As shown in these pictures, taken on Lake Winnipesaukee at Glendale, N.H., the girls easily assembled their shelters and after a short while were able to strip down to bathing suits to pick up a suntan as they fished. The 7x7 foot houses shown here weigh 140 pounds each and can be easily moved from place to place on the ice.

For construction purposes, the plastic comes in preframed panels with easy instructions for bolting together.

According to fishermen who have used sisal-glaze shelter solariums, there's only one drawback: it gets so warm inside the ice begins to melt and turn slushy.

For this the manufacturer, American Sisalkraft Corp. of Attleboro, Mass., has an answer: open the door from time to time and let some cold air in.

Wives of ice fishermen now can keep tabs on their husbands via a good pair of field glasses, especially if there are any more coeds out testing the new devices in their bathing suits.

But think of the embarrassing feeling when your friends hail you with "Where did you get that wonderful tan, in Florida?" A silent smile might be better than admit to ice fishing in a solarium.

. . . But Don't Forget Burn Lotion

OLD AND THE NEW — Fisherman entering conventional ice-fishing shanty must be just a bit envious. Not only is it heavy and cumbersome to move, but it blocks off the view. We expect they will soon become obsolete, should the lakes become dotted with the likes of the neighbors he has here.

FULL HOUSE — Seven girls participating in construction share burden of carrying this 7x7 foot plastic house to suitable fishing spot. Fully assembled, it weighs 140 pounds.

IT'S NOT COLD—Olive Gardner holds thermometer showing temperature at a balmy 72 degrees. She's inside the plastic fishing house.

SOME CATCH — Fisherman Janet Kempton pulls up trout from hole in ice as Betty Ann Gardner (left) applies suntan lotion to Olive Gardner's shoulders. Warmth of plastic house turns ice floor to slush, so girls must keep their feet on dry cloth or cardboard.

PEEL DOWN, AND WHY NOT? — With the temperature at a comfortable 72 degrees inside the plastic solarium, Edyth Davis (left) and Peggy Fay remove outer ski clothes to take sunbaths in bathing suit and playsuit. There's only one drawback: it gets so warm in the shelter, the ice begins to melt and turn to slush.

Howe Leads Wings to 2nd Straight Victory

Scores Goal, 2 Assists in 4-2 Win Over Leafs

Detroit Back in Fifth Slot; McIntyre, Lunde and Goegan Tally

DETROIT, (AP)—Old pro Gordie Howe and a rookie tabbed for future greatness have put a little zip in the Detroit Red Wings and coach Sid Abel believes the club is on its way to a Stanley Cup berth.

Howe got his 25th goal and first-year man Len Lunde broke a tie with his 10th last night to lead the Wings to a 4-2 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Howe also assisted on two other goals as the Wings extended a mild winning streak to two games.

"This one was crucial," said Abel. "We had to win it. There was no other way. Losing it might have cost us everything. Winning—well, it might have started us on our way at last. I think we can keep it up now and get into fourth place."

Today the Wings are in fifth place, one point ahead of Toronto and four behind fourth-place New York, loser of six in a row.

The Red Wings worked hard for the triumph, achieved before a crowd of 12,408 at Olympia Stadium. Twice they went ahead, only to have the Leafs rally for a late tie. Lunde finally cracked it at 11:50 of the final period by converting his own rebound while Toronto was shorthanded.

Howe added an insurance goal two minutes later with a vicious 20-footer after taking a passout from Norm Ullman from behind the Toronto nets.

The two teams were scoreless through the first 33 minutes until defenseman Pete Goegan got his first National Hockey League goal on a 60-foot screen shot. Toronto tied it as the third period got under way on Dick Duff's 20-footer.

Jack McIntyre got the puck from Howe after a faceoff and put Detroit in front once again with a 25-footer at the 5:25 mark. But four minutes later Toronto worked into another tie.

Ex-Red Wing Gerry Ehman turned loose a long shot that deflected off the skate of Frank Mahovlich and into the Detroit nets past goalie Terry Sawchuk. Mahovlich was facing the cage and did not see the puck until it was in the nets.

The Wings got the manpower advantage less than a minute later when Allan Stanley went off for tripping. Lunde quickly broke the tie, and Howe added a goal for good measure.

"We have a tough week ahead of us," said Abel, whose team plays in Montreal Thursday and back home Saturday and Sunday against Chicago and Boston. "It would have been plenty tough taking on the three top teams in the league after losing this one. Now maybe this will give us a little lift."

Spartans Set Record Beating 'M' 103-91 Saturday

MSU vs. Wildcats Tonight

By United Press International

Michigan State, with a record-breaking 103-91 victory over arch-rival Michigan under its belt, today shifted its drive for a Big Ten basketball title to Evanston, Ill.

The conference-leading Spartans carried a 7-2 league record with them into their game with tough Northwestern tonight.

Michigan dumped into fifth place in the league with a 4-4 record, tonight will host Iowa, now tied with Purdue for third place with 5-4 records.

The Spartans victory Saturday night set an all-time MSU scoring record. Michigan State's best previous scoring was in 1902 against Alma College when the Spartans had 102 points.

The Spartans held Michigan ace M. C. Burton to 11 points. Burton had gone into the game as the conference's top scorer with a 24.1 average. Bob Anderegg led the balanced Spartan offense with 26 points and Johnny Green, who controlled both boards and gathered in 21 rebounds, had 24 points.

Hope College tightened its grip on first place in the MIAA conference by defeating Kalamazoo, 47-37, in a low scoring game in which Kalamazoo picked up only nine points in the entire first half. Alma, led by Ferris Saxton with 25 points, downed Adrian 67-60 to take over sole possession of third place in the conference.

In the only other MIAA game played, Albion edged out Hillsdale 82-80 on a field goal by Bill Losey in the last five seconds. Losey pumped in 31 points as the Britons took over sixth place in the standings.

The University of Detroit, smarting from an 85-64 shellacking from St. Bonaventure at Buffalo Saturday night, will be on its home court tonight to take on Loyola of Chicago. The Bonnies hit on 50 per cent of their shots in handing the Titans their ninth defeat against 10 wins.

In other games Saturday night North Central (Ill.) downed Detroit Tech 72-64, Wheaton (Ill.) strengthened its position among the small college leaders by beating Wayne State 102-76, Northern Michigan routed winless Ferris Institute 70-48.

Bay City JC grabbed the lead in the Michigan Junior College Conference race with a 102-97 victory over Dearborn. Traverse City JC downed Port Huron JC 81-77 in overtime.

Other games tonight in addition to the Michigan State-Northwestern, Iowa-Michigan and Loyola-Detroit games, include Hillsdale at Ferris, Rio Grande at Lawrence Tech and Albion at Olivet.

Touring Golfers in San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gene Littler of San Diego, hottest golfer on the winter trail, leads the star-spangled tour into San Antonio today for the $20,000 Texas Open.

Littler, former champion here and the only double winner on the tour this year—he took down first money at Phoenix and Tucson—heads a field of 160 that will move out Thursday in the opening round of the aged open.

Wally Burkemo fired a one-under par 69 in the final round yesterday and wound up in a seventh-place tie. The Franklin Hills, Mich. pro earned $675 with his 67-66-67-69—269.

Yardley Sparks Nats, Conlin in Losing Debut

BOSTON (UPI) — Big Ed Conlin made his debut with the Detroit Pistons yesterday but couldn't keep the powerful Boston Celtics from snapping Detroit's three-game winning streak, 120-94.

Conlin, who came to Detroit Friday in a trade that sent George Yardley to Syracuse, played about half the game and scored eight points.

Bill Sharman connected for 31 points to lead the Celtics. He helped Boston open a 20-point margin in the third quarter as he hit seven times without a miss.

Gene Shue led Detroit scoring with 15 points. A pair of replacements, Sad Sam Jones and Gene Conley, substituting for ailing Bob Cousy and Jim Loscutoff, combined for 21 points in the opening half as Boston led, 59-51 at the intermission.

The Celtics outscored the Pistons, 40 to 21, in the big third quarter. In addition to his seven consecutive baskets, Sharman converted a trio of free throws. Going into the final period, Boston led, 99-72.

The Pistons next game is with Minneapolis tomorrow in Detroit.

Newly acquired Yardley could prove the "little extra" the Syracuse Nationals needed to clinch a berth in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Making his first appearance in Syracuse since being obtained from Detroit, Yardley scored five key points during a crucial second period stretch that brought the Nats ahead and helped them to a 121-101 victory over Philadelphia yesterday.

The New York Knickerbockers snapped a five-game losing streak by licking the Cincinnati Royals, 124-97. The Knicks took charge in the first perid, spurted to a 68-50 lead at half-time and then coasted the first period, spurting to a 68-50 paced New York with 25 points while Jack Twyman of the Royals was individual high scorer with 27.

Area Skier Sets Tourney Record

Freeman Wins 'A' Title at Kandahar

Waterford High's Dave Freeman Sunday added another ski-jumping championship to his winter's efforts, when he soared 115 and 116 feet to capture Class A honors in the Kandahar Club championships.

Freeman turned in a fine performance to compile 146.5 points for the Class A title. He also added to his laurels in the closely contested, three-division meet at the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area site, with a hill record long-standing 116 feet on his second leap of the afternoon.

Dave's point total was well in front of the nearest competitor, Leaf Skalleberg of Norge Ski Club, Chicago, who had 137.1.

Winners of other divisions included Berkley's Walter Hyry, who won the veterans event on 138 points; Henry Juntenen of Clawson, in Class B, with 123 points. Both are Kandahar members.

Freeman jumped as an entry from the Iron Mt. Kiwanis Ski Club. He recently won the Class A title at the Briar Hill (Mesick) championships.

Competition was not held in the junior division, because of a lack of entries.

A field of 40 took part in the Sunday meet under what club officials said were perfect conditions. The hill and landing areas were very fast, but there was plenty of snow, despite the rain and soft weather of the preceding two days.

A large audience witnessed the meet, final Kandahar Club competition for the season.

Results:

Veterans division—Walter Hyry, Berkley, 138 points, jumps of 101 and 107 feet; Alden Hyry, Berkley (brother of Walter), 121.2 points, jumps of 101 and 100 feet; Bill Schmidt (Briar Hill), 130.5 points, jumps of 101 and 107 feet.

Class B — Henry Juntenen, Clawson, 123 points, jumps of 93 and 98 feet; Allen Eidemiller (Briar Hill, Detroit), 121.1 points, jumps of 94 and 98 feet; Joseph Prow (Norge club, Chicago), 117.6 points, jumps of 96 and 100 feet.

Class A — Freeman (Iron Mt., Waterford), 146.5, jumps of 115 and 116 feet (last jump Kandahar record); Leif Skalleberg (Norge club), 137.1 points, jumps of 106 and 107 feet; Frank Holkala (Briar Hill), 135.8 points, jumps of 113 and 113 feet.

Holkala set the former hill mark in 1957, at 114 feet.

World Bobsled Title Comes Back to U.S.

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) —Art Tyler, 43-year-old Weston, Mass., physicist, has given the United States its first world four-man bobsled title in six years. And with it came the renewed hope that the 1960 Winter Olympics may again include bobsled competition.

Tyler, who didn't take up the sport until he was 35, conquered the tricky and treacherous mile-long chute and the world's best bobbers yesterday as he posted a total time of 5 minutes, 10.82 seconds for four runs.

Pfieffers Wins Match Game Keg Championship

COLOMA, Mich. (AP)—Pfeiffer's of Detroit won the Michigan match game bowling championship by coming from behind and defeating defending champion Stroh's of Detroit here yesterday.

Kegling Record Set by Ohioans

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joe Bolek and Clyde Hobbs of Cleveland Sunday set a world's doubles bowling record with a total of 1,549 pins.

Bowling in the Central States Tournament, Hobbs had a 267-268-290 series for 825, and Bolek bowled 223-268-233 for 724.

The old record of 1,541 was set in October 1955 by Dick Weber and Ray Bluth of St. Louis.

Eaglets Lose in First Round

Lancers Run Up Early 14-Point Lead, Coast to 57-35 Win

Orchard Lake St. Mary cagers, SCL champs, ran into some new obstacles, Sunday, at University of Detroit fieldhouse, and bowed out of the championship round of the All-Catholic tourney. Eaglets lost to a sharp St. Florian club 57-35.

Hit at the start by tournament jitters, Eaglets just couldn't get started until after the Lancers had run up a 14-0 lead in the first six minutes. A 2nd period 10-point total left OLSM trailing at the intermission, 37-15, and they never caught up.

Chet Wlodkowski's 18 points were one less than Lancer ace Bob Subach compiled. Eleven of Chet's total came in the last period in which St. Mary outscored their foes, 14-6.

Eaglets play in Ann Arbor Tuesday against St. Thomas (AA) in the first consolation game.

Holy Redeemer defeated Austin 61-55; St. Gregory defeated A St. Thomas 53-50 and Detroit S Thomas defeated All Saints 68-6 in other tourney games.

AAU Tourney to Use New Possession Rule

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—The Southern Amateur Athletic Union in a move designed to speed up scoring, will use the 30-second possession rule in its basketball tournament here March 6-8.

Lee Meade, tournament director, said Sunday the new rule means the offensive team will have 30 seconds to shoot before losing possession of the ball. The innovation is patterned after the 24-second rule used by the National Basketball Assn.

Chiefs Invade Dondero Tuesday

Area Athletes Place High in Chicago Meet

Two Oakland County athletes fared very well in a trip Saturday to the National Junior AAU championships in University of Chicago fieldhouse.

Warren Cawley, Farmington senior hurdler, set a meet record of 7.5 for the 60-yard high hurdles and finished third in lows at 7.0, in a race won by Frank Loomis of U. of C. track club, at 6.9 seconds.

Birmingham's senior pole vaulter, Bill Alcorn, placed second in the open event at 13 feet one inch, his best all-time jump. Frank McKnight of the OSU track club won at 13 feet, 4½ inches.

Farmington's Gene Freed and Maples' coach, Kermit Ambrose accompanied the boys to Chicago.

Cranbrook Beaten on Court and Mat

Cranbrook continued winless in basketball and wrestling in the Inter-State League suffering a pair of bad beatings at Cleveland Saturday.

The Crane cagers, facing a team which had lost 13 straight, trailed all the way to drop at 79-62 decision to University School. Jim Williams hooped 18 and John Hayden 14 to star in defeat.

Victories by Steve Reynolds, Ted Seyforth and Jay Harness, the latter on default when his 123-pound foe suffered a broken arm, were wasted in a 27-11 mat setback.

The cage team is now 0-2 in the league and 5-5 over-all and has dropped three in a row. The wrestlers are 0-4, two of the losses in the league.

Detroit Five Open Divison Threat

280 Game Marks ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Games of 280 and 279 provided the excitement in the second day of the 56th annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

The 280 games was turned in by John Parsons of Louisville, Ky. The score put Parsons and his partner, Jacques Curwen, in first place in the doubles division. Parsons' 662 series and Curwen's 590 gave them 1,252 total.

A 279 game was rolled by Harve Barnhill of East St. Louis, Ill. The Bowl-A-Way Lanes team gained only sixth place despite Barnhill's 662 series.

Metropolitan Clothing of Dayton Ohio, kept its grip on first place in the open division with 2,955, although it received a minor threat of 2,910 by Ode's Television and Radio of Detroit.

The booster division got a new leader when Jones Trucking Lines of Muskoge, Okla., carved out a 2,712 yesterday and replaced Livergood Grain C., Findlay, Ill. which rolled 2,688 Saturday.

Bill Gaines, a member of the Metropolitan team, compiled 1,867 for the nine game route yesterday and took the lead from the tournament's most coveted prize.

Claude Hayes of Mission, Kan., became the singles leader with 655.

Bill Updegraff of Grand Rapids, Mich., rolled a 647 yesterday for third place in the singles division.

In open team standings, Ode's Television & Radio of Detroit was in second place with 2910; and Vautherot Insurance of Detroit was third, with 2904.

Roy-Perry Top Area Tourney

Elks Unable to Place Among State Leaders at Ann Arbor

The combination of Leo Roy and Joe Perry became the early leaders in the area Captain-Sponsor tournament while local Elks participants failed to move into the top 10 in any division of the Michigan Elks event at Ann Arbor during another busy weekend of bowling.

Roy and Perry teamed for a 1004 to head five units starting the Captain-Sponsor yesterday at East Highland Recreation. All other contestants will compete Saturday at the same location.

Les Howe and Ivan Norgrove turned in a 968 for 2nd, Lloyd and Joe Gidley rolled 917, Mrs. Ade Lehnen and Mrs. Toni Kerzulius 809 and Jim Wall-Al Beebe 782.

Among three city teams at the Elks meet, Carling's and Miracle Mile Pure Service each topped 2800. Ward Richards was the individual standout with 580 in singles.

The only change at Ann Arbor was in team play where Brandl Brothers of Battle Creek went ahead with a 2782 actual and 3082 handicap.

There were three new leaders in the Men's State. Bob Gustafson of Detroit went ahead in all-events actual with 1855. Robinson Restaurant of Detroit took over the actual team lead with 2941 and Saginaw's Tool Room moved into 1st in handicap at 3201.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Paul Kalb of Monroe, Mich., won the utility runabout competition yesterday in the Flamingo power boat regatta on Biscayne Bay.

PNH, Skippers Hold Rematch at Northern

Oxford Goes to Orion, Falcons Visit Milford in Other Prep Games

Overconfidence will be the greatest single factor working against the Pontiac Central basketball team Tuesday night when the Chiefs move into Royal Oak for a non-conference engagement with Dondero.

Revenge for an earlier thumping will be the objective of Pontiac Northern in a return duel with Waterford at the new Northern gymnasium on the same evening.

The Central-Dondero and Northern-Waterford games highlight tomorrow night's high school basketball program in the Oakland County area.

Among the other feature contests on the attractive schedule are Oxford at Lake Orion, Rochester at Milford, Berkley at Birmingham, St. Michael at Mt. Clemens St. Mary and Walled Lake at Cranbrook in an afternoon encounter at 4:15.

Full slates are also on the docket in the Eastern Michigan and Southern Thumb leagues:

The wide-open Eastern Michigan race finds Hazel Park at Ferndale, East Detroit at Royal Oak Kimball and Mt. Clemens at Port Huron. Southern Thumb play sends Dryden to front-running Almont, Armada to Memphis, New Haven to Brown City and Capac to Anchor Bay.

Pontiac Central will gun for its 12th victory of the season against the Acorns, who received a monstrous 72-38 drubbing from Highland Park last Friday on their own floor.

Their bad beating at the hands of Highland Park plus Central's triumph over the same Parker quintet three days earlier combine to make the Chiefs top-heavy favorites.

Dondero will serve as a tuneup for Central's Saginaw Valley Conference title showdown with Flint Northern this Friday at Flint. Taking Dondero too lightly will be the biggest temptation for the Chiefs, who have lost only once in 12 outings.

Pontiac Northern hopes to avenge an 80-57 licking dealt by the Skippers in their 1st match one the Waterford court.

Both schools are hungry for wins, but by this time the Waterford cagers are probably a little bit hungrier. The Skippers have won just twice during the current campaign—Northern and Farmington—while the Huskies own four wins, including their last two starts.

Other area games listed tomorrow include undefeated Imlay City at Kingston, South Lyon at Fowlerville, Romeo at Roseville, Utica at Fraser, Country Day at Detroit Lutheran East, Madison Lamphere at Bloomfield Hills, Clawson at Oak Park and Maple Grove at Millington.

Rangers Given Extra Duty for 43 Minutes

By United Press International

Coach Phil Watson of the New York Rangers, who wields the biggest "whip" in the National Hockey League, has introduced a new wrinkle in an attempt to snap his club out of its longest losing streak in two years.

When the Rangers dropped their fifth straight game to the Montreal Canadiens, 5-1, last night at Madison Square Garden, Watson was so infuriated he ordered his players back on the ice for an exhausting 43-minute workout.

It was believed to be the first time an N.H.L. coach resorted to such severe tactics. Garden fans who remained in their seats after the game blinked their eyes in amazement when Watson donned skates and a windbreaker and kept his men on the ice for what amounted to two extra periods.

Finally, general manager Muzz Patrick spoke to Watson and the impromptu drill was halted. As the Rangers staggered to their dressing rooms, Patrick explained he asked Watson to stop the workout because "it was costing us too much money." It was estimated the drill cost $200 in overtime pay for Garden employes, who normally disassemble the rink immediately after a game.

The usually loquacious Watson refused to talk to newsmen after the workout. The players either were ordered not to discuss it or were too tired to do so, although star right wing Andy Bathgate indicated he felt Watson was justified in his action.

"You've got to try something when you're losing like we are," said Bathgate, who wasn't excused from the session although he has a painful knee injury.

The Rangers were leading 1-0 on a second period goal by Camille Henry when the roof fell in on them. Ab McDonald and Phil Goyette scored back-to-back goals for Montreal within 83 seconds midway through the final period. That sunk New York but Dickie Moore, Bernie Geoffrion and Marcel Bonin tallied in the final four minutes to add to Watson's miseries.

In Sunday night's other N.H.L. action, Bronco Horvath and Johnny Bucyk scored in the third period to earn the Boston Bruins a 3-3 deadlock with the Chicago Black Hawks.

IF YOU WERE THE UMPIRE

By BEN OLAN

Among the things a pitcher has to worry about is the "Comeback ball." This is the ball hit directly at him, sometimes at a 90 miles-an-hour speed.

Here's a simulated puzzler involving a comeback ball. You're a baseball expert if you can produce the correct decision.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees is batting in the last of the second inning against Cleveland. Herb Score is the Indian's pitcher. On the first pitch, Mantle drives a low line drive past Score which hits the pitchers' rubber and bounds into foul territory between home plate and third base. The fleet Mantle reaches second base without drawing a throw.

Do you think that:
a. Mantle should remain on second?
b. Mantle should be ordered back to first?
c. The ball should be called "foul."

Answer: C — The ball should be called "foul." It, without touching a fielder, a batted ball hits the pitcher, rubber and bounds into foul territory between home and first or home and third, it is a foul ball.

Bob Considine Says:

'Spell Khrushchev' Replaces 'Match Game'

NEW YORK—The "match game," and the precise year Babe Ruth hit his 60 home runs, has been replaced at the leading gambling gambits around New York saloons, a drinking friend tells me. What has replaced these hardy perennials betokens the change in our times.

The new gag is to bet a guy he can't spell the name of the most powerful individual in the world today—Khrushchev.

You'll win at least 10 bucks for every dollar you drop. But you'd better write it down yourself, for your own protection.

The 6-day bike race is coming back to New York next month. Seems like an announcement to the effect that Tony Pastor's is reopening with a singing waiter named Izzy Baline (Irving Berlin). Or that the Albany Night Boat has been reconditioned.

As an apple-cheeked lad, we covered the last big one at Madison Square Garden. We don't remember who won, but one memory about the diet of these odd creatures lingers.

A panting cyclist climbed off his bike and fell semi-conscious upon his cot in the infield. He called weakly for his manager and blurted something in Flemish. The manager called a waiter.

"Two eggs," he said in behalf of his wounded tiger.

"How you want 'em, Mac?" the bum asked.

The manager seemed surprised. "To suck, of course," he said impatiently. We never went back to another 6-day bike race.

Joe E. Lewis writes from the Eden Roc, in Miami Beach:

"I had to tell an El Rancho Vegas audience recently, 'You people have enjoyed yourself enough. Now I'm going to sing.'

Speaking of the Garden, who would you say promoted there over the longest span? Tex Rickard? Mike Jacobs? Ned Irish? Jim Norris?

Wrong. Nat Mager. This will be his 15th straight year as impresario of the National Antiques Show—which opens the first of next month.

Old Nat has gathered $20,000,000 of classy junk for this, his major effort. There will be 350 especially rare pieces, in honor of Henrik Hudson's discovery of Madison Square Garden in 1609.

This is a big and sometimes dizzy sport. The show draws 125,000 fans in a week, at $1.55 per head. Sales reach as much as $7,000,000 before the last dowager is thrown out.

They've got to throw her out, by the way, or she'd be trampled by the elephants marching in. The circus moves in minutes after Nat's last bit of precious Lowestoft is carried out.

Unless you're very careful, this year you'll be able to pick up some real dandies at the show: The piano that was on the stage of Ford's Theater the night Lincoln was shot, as well as pianos used by Francis Scott Key and Marie Antoinette.

Jim Bishop won't let that first one go, you can bet. Then there will be Commodore Perry's watch key and fob once owned by Franklin D. Roosevelt's great-great-grandfather. We understand Westbrook Pegler will go the distance when that bidding starts.

And a few other things like that, including perhaps an absent-minded old elephant who might show up one day early.

Know what next week is? National Pencil Week. The man in charge of making this an event you'll not forget in a long time, my friend Jack Banner, forwards the only pencil story I ever heard.

Seems an editor received the following letter during the heat of a political campaign:

"Dear Sir: You are a dumb coward and a thug. Lynching is too good for the likes of you and your miserable newspaper. Cancel my subscription. Why don't you print more comics? I would not wrap a dead fish in your paper."

After the signature came this postscript:

"Please excuse pencil."

That must be the most-written line in modern correspondence, aside from, of course, "Please send money." The largest post office in the land, New York's, estimates that 10 per cent of the estimated quarter of a billion personal letters which flow through the place each year are written in pencil.

Please excuse typewriter.

Let's Have Quiet, Please

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—It's bad enough to be thrown in jail for public intoxication, but one local imbiber got into even more trouble when he used the jail telephone to call his wife and tell her where he was. She accused him of still being in a bar, refusing to believe the piano she heard in the background was being played by a fellow inmate.

Warner Bros. Purchase 'Undercover Teacher'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—While Jack L. Warner was in New York he purchased "Undercover Teacher" by George M. Allen. This is an exposure of juvenile delinquency in the John Marshall School in Brooklyn, and where Allen who is a reporter, taught school.

He was actually an undercover agent, and prepared a series of articles for one of the New York newspapers.

This may have the same impact as "Rebel Without a Cause," one of Jimmy Dean's last pictures. Jack has Jimmy Stewart in mind for the reporter-teacher, and since Jimmy has made so many important pictures for Warner Bros., he probably will accept.

By the time you read this, Natalie Wood should be back on the Warner Bros. lot—on full salary and with all her troubles solved. I am reliably informed that attorneys for the William Morris Agency, Natalie's agents, and Jack Warner's attorneys met Friday and Saturday to iron out the final points involved.

Poor Ernie Kovacs. Just a plain "Mr." with all the "Sirs"—Sir Ralph Richardson, Sir Alec Guinness, with Sir Carol Reed directing "Our Man in Havana!" Come to think of it, Ernie has company in Noel Coward whom many people think should have a sir in front of his name—but hasn't.

In the midst of the excitement of the announcement of her engagement to Buddy Bregman, Anna Maria Alberghetti signed a contract with Desilu Playhouse to star in a musical called "A Diamond for Carla."

Anna starts on the 17th of February and she tells me the music has been written by Paul Francis Webster and Sammy Fain. Agnes Moorhead plays her stepmother.

Rock Hudson escorted Debbie (Mrs. Tyrone) Power to Riverside for the sneak preview of his picture, "This Earth Is Mine." They were well chaperoned by Director Henry King, and Universal-International head Ed Muhl (or should I say "Universal-Revue"—that's what the telephone girls answer when you call).

The news has just leaked out that Judge Mervyn Aggler granted Mrs. Belva Thorpe a divorce from Director Richard Thorpe on Feb. 6 on grounds of cruelty.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Rosalind Russell puts her footprints in the forecourt of the Chinese Theater on Thursday, and I'm happy that Roz' imprint will be next to mine.

Margaret Truman and Clifton Daniel have decided not to bring up one child alone, so she has a date with the stork in the summer.

Today Audrey Hepburn took her first steps since her fall. She's going to be allowed to walk a little more each day, but she will be in a brace for several months.

A great big bear-hug from a handsome young man as I came out of Rex Millinery proved to be young David Ladd, who has grown a foot since I saw him last. What a darling!

Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron announced Sunday he has signed a contract with Television Production Services, Inc., of Hollywood for production of a 13-week trial series.

Hepbron said the department will receive at least $250 for each initial showing and an additional $100 for each repeat performance. Profits will be given to "some charitable phase of police work."

Negroes End Boycott for Improved Schools

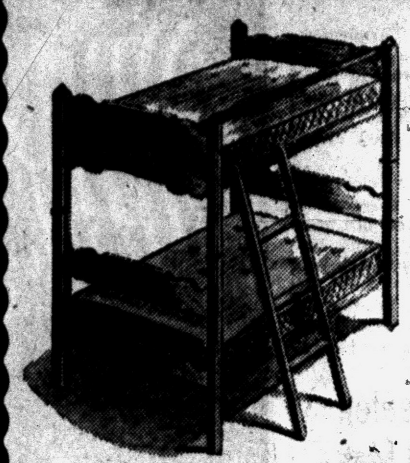

SNOW HILL, N.C. (AP)—Twenty-eight hundred pupils go back to Greene County's Negro schools today, ending a four-day boycott. They won assurance that money would be asked for improved building facilities in the eastern North Carolina rural county of some 20,000 persons where Negroes make up 54 per cent of the school population.

Leaders of the boycott said they were seeking better facilities, not integrated schools.

Less than 2 per cent of normal children have crossed eyes.

Ike's New Jet Not Too Plush

$5 Million VC137 Will Replace Columbine III; Can Fly 600 M.P.H.

RENTON, Wash. (AP)—The interior of President Eisenhower's new five-million-dollar jet transport won't be as plush as that of his present plane, Columbine III.

The jet, designated the VC137, is well along on the assembly line at the Boeing Airplane Co. plant and is scheduled to be delivered to the Military Air Transport service in April.

The plane is a cousin of the commercial jets now coming into passenger service and will have a speed of 600 miles an hour.

Two other planes of the same type are due to come off the line in May and June. They will be at the disposal of the President, vice president and other top government officials.

The planes probably will be ready for transcontinental and transoceanic flights in the summer and autumn after months of training flights. The Columbine III will remain in service for shorter missions.

The three identical VC137s will have advanced radio telephone equipment enabling the President and other officials to remain in touch with Washington from any part of the world.

The "President's room" will have comortable seats for four and two day-bed type lounges. There will be no berths. Furnishings will be on the plain side.

The planes will cut flying time from Washington to California from the 8½ hours to about 5 hours. London and Paris will be about six hours away.

2 Atlanta Boys Steal 'Arsenal' for Fun

ATLANTA (AP) — Two pistol-packing youngsters were arrested by police who said the pair stole dynamite and guns so they could build a rocket ship and "play western like on TV."

The boys, aged 13 and 14, were arrested as they walked home from target practice in a field. Police said each had three pistols tucked in his belt. Officers said they found 154 sticks of dynamite, 305 caps, 17 pistols and 20 boxes of ammunition hidden in lofts of the homes where the boys lived.

The arsenal was taken from a lumber company and a hardware concern. Police quoted the boys as saying it was fun to steal when not attending eighth grade classes.

Names of youths under 17 charged with crimes are withheld in accordance with Georgia juvenile court law.

Winter Carnival Queen Catches Chicken Pox

OLD FORGE, N.Y. (AP)—The Old Forge Winter Carnival was a big flop for the girl named to reign as a queen.

Miss Adele Robeson, 20, of Penn Yan woke up Saturday morning and discovered she had chicken pox.

She stayed in bed at a hotel in this resort village while Mrs. Art Tokle, whose husband was crowned king, substituted for her.

Map Procedure for Coming State Tornado Season

EAST LANSING (AP)—Weathermen, state police and civil defense officials have mapped out the procedure to be followed in the 1959 tornado season which hits its peak in Michigan in May and June.

The group met here yesterday and announced that tornado forecasts by the Weather Bureau will be sent to public and governmental agencies by state police. (Tornado forecasts are issued for a general area where one or more tornadoes may occur).

Tornado warnings, on the other hand, will be sent directly by the Weather Bureau to public service units in the area threatened. (Tornado warnings are issued for a localized area where a tornado is actually sighted.)

Tax Revamping Advised for U.S.

Congressman Against Present Setup; Raps It as Outdated, Hindrance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark) has all but nipped chances for any tax cuts or increases this year—including President Eisenhower's proposed gasoline tax hike.

Mills, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, asked instead for a big revamping of the tax system. He said the present tax setup is outdated and stunts the nation's economic growth.

Mills spoke Sunday night to a conference of the Tax Executives Institute.

His remarks followed an earlier statement by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) that Eisenhower's proposal to boost gasoline taxes 1½ cent a gallon was unlikely to get much House support.

The President said the federal tax on auto gasoline should be increased to 4½ cents a gallon to keep the nation's big highway building program on a pay-as-you go basis. He also asked a raise in aviation gasoline tax to 4½ cents a gallon and a new 4½ cent levy on jet fuel. Aviation gas taxes now are 2 cents a gallon. There are no taxes on jet fuel.

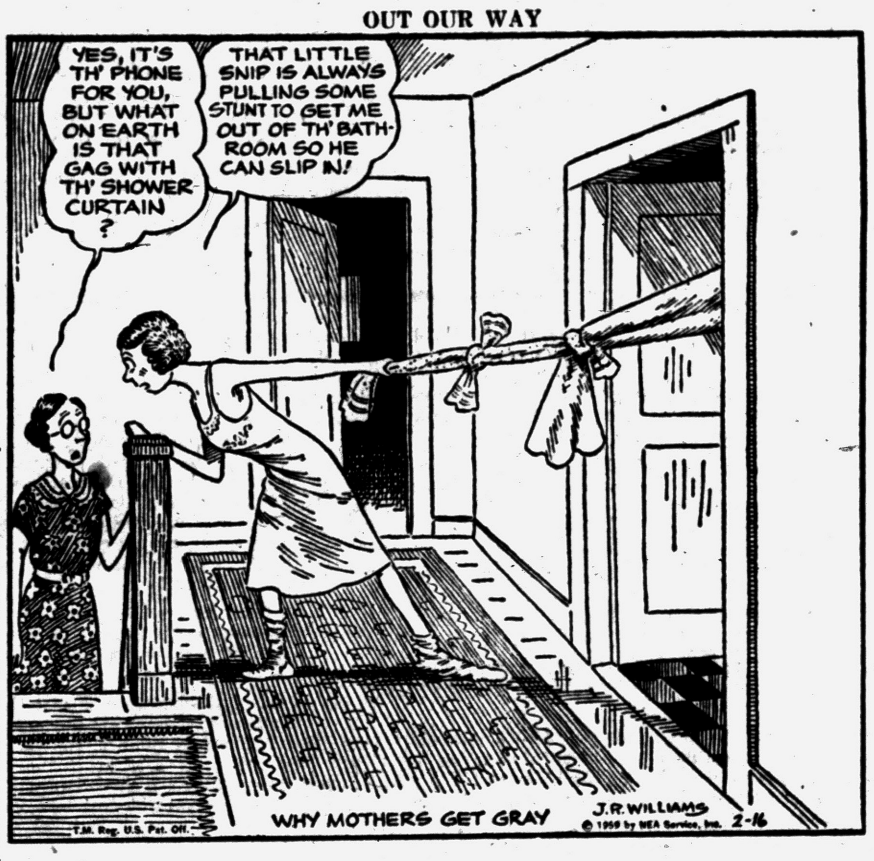

"As to tax rate reduction at the moment," Mills said, "I cannot see it in the picture during 1959. On the other hand, I do not see any tax increases in the picture for 1959, either."

The human heart contracts about 100,000 times a day.

Starting Action on Du Pont, GM

Current Court Battle on Division of Stock May Run 5 Weeks

CHICAGO (AP) — The government today begins another chapter of its 10-year legal battle to divest E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. of its vast holdings in General Motors Corp.

The current phase of the anti-trust action is to decide the disposition of 63 million shares of GM stock held by Du Pont and two holding companies. The hearings before U.S. Dist. Judge Walter J. Labuy are expected to continue at least five weeks.

Government attorneys have asked Judge Labuy to order the stock sold on the open market or distributed to individual Du Pont shareholders. They seek also to bar Du Pont directors from serving as officers of GM and vice versa.

Counsel for Du Pont and GM are seeking a ruling that would permit the big chemical firm to keep its GM stock but pass voting rights to individual Du Pont shareholders.

They contend Du Pont would suffer huge tax losses if the stock were sold and that dumping of the huge number of shares on the open market would bring about a sharp price drop.

They also argue that outright sale of Du Pont's holdings in GM —valued at $2,898,000,000 at the close of the stock market Friday —would have a terrific impact on the nation's economy.

These recommendations for deciding the fate of the GM shares were made by both sides in lengthy documents filed with Judge Labuy some time ago. Starting today each side will offer oral arguments and present a number of witnesses in support of the recommendations.

Efforts of the government to break up the huge Du Pont empire dates from 1949 when the antitrust division filed a suit accusing Du Pont of a virtual monopoly in supply GM requirements. The suit said Du Point was GM's largest supplier of automotive finishes and fabrics.

Business Notes

Election of Jim Robbins, Royal Oak manufacturing executive, to the Fruehauf Board of Directors was announced today by Roy Fruehauf, board chairman of Fruehauf Trailer Company.

ROBBINS

Robbins an engineer and chemist by profession, is chief executive of the Robbins plastic and chemical producing plants with nine in operation across the country. He is the president and owner of several firms under his name which produce aircraft components, machine tools and electronic equipment.

He also has two additional companies associated with research and development and commercial real estate projects.

A member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Robbins is president of Sylvan Glen Golf and Country Club, Rochester.

Grain Futures Look Upward

CHICAGO (AP)—Rather heavy flour mill buying and an expected bullish government report later this week sent the grain futures market into higher price levels during the first several minutes of dealings on the Board of Trade.

Brokers said most of the flour mill industry appeared to be buying in volume of about a 30-day supply. This and the possibility that a report by the Department of Agriculture this week will show large amounts of grains in government loan attracted active short-covering.

One grain firm said it believed wheat impoundings will be upward of 550 million bushels, perhaps as much as 600 million.

Wheat was unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, March $2.20½; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, March old type contract $1.15½; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, March 66¼; rye unchanged to ⅝ higher, March $1.38¼; soybeans ⅛ to ¾ higher, March $2.21.

Big Three Ask Talk With Reds

Call for Early Parley on Berlin, Warn Russia of War Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France bluntly warned the Soviet Union today against the danger of touching off a world war over Berlin.

They called for a wide open Big Four foreign ministers meeting this spring to discuss the whole German problem with German advisers present.

The Western powers would like the conference to open in late April or early May at Geneva or Vienna.

The Soviet Union has threatened to pull out of East Berlin on or after May 27 and the West fears this may jeopardize the allied position in West Berlin.

"The danger to world peace inherent in this Soviet initiative is evident," the note released by the State Department said.

The U.S. message paralleled others sent by Britain and France. It said the foreign ministers' meeting should deal "with the problem of Germany in all its aspects and implications" — meaning such things as German unity and the future of Berlin.

As the note was delivered Secretary of State Dulles lay ill of cancer in Walter Reed Army Hospital. Who would represent the United States at the proposed conference—which could prove to be the most critical yet held with the Soviet Union—was not known.

There was no doubt that Dulles himself intends to be there if he can.

This is the first time the Western powers have called for inclusion within the conference room of representatives from Communist East Germany and Allied West Germany.

While they would have the role of advisers, the step could prove to be a historic move toward some compromise on the problem of reunifying Germany.

The Western proposals were set forth in similar notes delivered in Moscow today.

Stocks Resume Brisk Recovery

NEW YROK (AP)—The stock market resumed its rally early today in brisk trading.

Motors, steels, coppers, chemicals and selected advanced. Aircrafts and tobaccos were mostly lower.

Key stocks rose from fractions to about a point. Turnover was heavy enough to delay the ticker tape for nine minutes at the opening.

Thiokol leaped more than 4 points in continued strength based on hopes that directors would propose a stock split at this week's mting.

DuPont, also subject to stock split or stock dividend rumors, added more than a point to its 8¼-point run-up of Friday.

Booming demand for steel and fear of shortages in the face of strike-hedge buying accompanied the rise of steels. Lukens advanced 2¼ to 90 on 2,400 shares. U.S. Steel was up around a point.

Polaroid scampered ahead more than 3. International Telephone added another 2 points. American Telephone rose more than a point.

Fruehauf trailer remained a trading favorite, taking opening block honors with a block of 15,000 shares, up ⅛ at 24⅛.

Anaconda and Kennecott rose about a point each. Reports were that custom copper will be marked up again shortly.

Smog Mufflers Called Useless

Scientist Claims Growth of Industry Will Bring More Smoke

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Putting anti-smog mufflers on cars won't cure Los Angeles' smog problem, says a California Institute of Technology scientist.

Dr. A. J. Haagen-Smit, a biochemist, said that the same problem facing Los Angeles also faces other world metropolitan areas.

"Los Angeles is not unique," he said. "Smog is an inevitable result of the increasing use of petroleum products, in refineries, in industrial plants, in automobiles.

"You find it in London, Paris, Philadelphia, San Diego, San Francisco and many other cities."

Dr. Haagen-Smit warned in a television appearance yesterday that the world's smog cities will become intolerable within a few years unless new controls can be found and enforced.

The only possible way to keep smog within tolerable levels — under present controls — would be to enforce restrictions "making further industrial expansion practically impossible," he said.

New Car Inventories Up 100,000 Units

DETROIT (AP) — Stocks of unsold new cars in dealer hands Feb. 1 numbered 648,240 units, automotive news said today. The total compares with 543,383 units in stock on Jan. 1.

On Feb. 1 last year dealer stocks totaled 779,103 units, the trade paper said. That represented an increase from 652,208 cars from the total of the previous month.

The current inventory is considered about normal for the present sales rate.

Factory output in January totaled 545,757 cars. Retai deliveries for January, still to be officially tabulated, have been estimated at approximately 428,000 cars.

Detroit Steel Reports Net Earnings Down

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Steel Corp. has announced a drop of nearly two million dollars in net income in 1958.

The firm said yesterday its 1958 income fell to $1,153,692 last year from $3,004,382 in 1957. The 1958 income equalled 31 cents a share compared to 90 cents a share the year before.

The corporation's sales dropped 25.2 per cent to $61,671,996 last year from $82,458,616 in 1957.

Detroit Steel said year end adjustments in the fourth quarter offset a loss of six cents a share during the first three quarters and put the firm in the black for 1958.

Time for West to Awaken Before It Loses All of Asia

All bluffs notwithstanding, Khrushchev no more desires the physical destruction of the U.S.S.R. in an atomic war than Americans. Russia is counting on winning the war in Europe through Asia in the next years.

A cold war is going on out there, a war of infiltration, propaganda and economic competition, and it is there we must pay more attention.

To find how the different Asiatic peoples are thinking and feeling, with regard to their own development and to Communist China and Russia I went to visit the Far East.

Recently much has been made of industrial progress in Red China. Little is published about the remarkable progress in Free China.

This is not healthy. Even Communist boasts of blueprints scare us; while the accomplishments of Formosa are ignored.

FORMOSA IS SHOWPIECE

This is all the more remarkable considering that Washington and all experts agree that Formosa has become the showpiece of the effectiveness of the American aid program.

Formosa, which broke into front pages during the Quemoy crisis, may be the least known Southeast Asia area.

While the Quemoy war was on, public judgment in this country was based in large measure on what it knew of the Nationalist Chinese government in the period of its collapse at Nanking.

Nine years have elapsed since then and the consensus of foreigners who have visited Formosa is that the progress in industry and general standard of living, in education and social welfare and rural reconstruction and democratic standards is spectacular.

It is difficult to talk about Formosa because of what Joseph Alsop calls the "enduring superstitions about Chiang Kae-shek," formed during the years when Alger Hiss was in the State Department.

Some of the mud-slinging during the last years of an exhausted regime certainly was justified. A lot of it has stuck.

But the nine years of silent change have turned Formosa into a showpiece of what has been done through American aid.

The only worse thing than ignorance is satisfaction with one's own ignorance. Formosa is now ready for anyone to look in and stay there as long as one likes and submit it to the closest scrutiny.

The only way to tell the story is to say, "Do not take my word for it. Go there and see for yourself." The most incredulous will be impressed.

'BEST BESIDE JAPAN'

Michael Lindsay, who was all for Yenan (the Communists) during "Excluding Japan, Formosa may quite well be the best administered country in Asia."

Alsop says, "It has the highest standard of living in all Asia, outside Japan."

Prof. Richard Walker of South Carolina, who lived and taught in Formosa, says, "To date, we have been singularly unsuccessful in making the rest of the world aware of what has been accomplished in Taiwan (Formosa) with our aid.

"It has the highest standard of living in Southeast Asia. Land reform, industrialization, education and local government have all been remarkable."

I was not prepared for this. The reader, I am afraid, cannot quite understand what the sight of a prosperous Asiatic countryside with rural electrification means to an Asiatic boy who is used to the sight of tumbledown huts and patched clothing and general hardship and poverty.

If this can be done for Formosa, it can be done for all Asia, provided you get the right kind of administration.

It means nothing to me if a new Asiatic nation has bought a few aeroplanes and tanks and established a nuclear reactor and perhaps a few, isolated, prosperous cities as has Red China.

It means everything to me that the general standard of living has been raised for the common people at large, for the village folks and the farmers.

This, after all, is what a government exists for, and this, I believe, is the sole aim and goal of American aid.

My last impression is that the Nationalist Government has a job to do and is doing it extremely well.

My estimate is that it will take India 15 years with luck before it can catch up with the general standard of living of Formosa.

Two More Sue Bradley Owners

Seek Damages Totaling $1,840,000 in Tragic Freighter Sinking

DETROIT (AP)—Two new damage suits totaling $1,840,000 were filed in U.S. District Court here today against the owners of the freighter Carl D. Bradley which sank in Lake Michigan last November.

The suits were filed by the widows of two of the 33 crewmen who died when the freighter broke up and sank during a heavy storm on Nov. 18.

Victor G. Hanson, general counsel for the Seafarers International Union, filed the suits in behalf of Mrs. Mary Fogelsonger of St. Ignance and Mrs. Eleanor Tulgetske of Rogers City.

Mrs. Fogelsonger's husband, John, 31, was a second mate on the ill-fated freighter; Mrs. Tulgetske's husband was a watchman on the freighter.

Each suit seeks $920,000 damages under provisions of the Jones Act and admiralty laws covering sea disasters, Hanson said.

Named as defendant in the suits was the Bradley Transportation Co., Michigan Limestone Division, of U.S. Steel Corp.

The company has 20 days in which to prepare an answer to the suits.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicater. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Boy Stabs Girl Friend, Himself

Death Halts Rock and Roll

MONROE (AP) — A 15-year-old girl was knifed fatally and her 19-year-old boy friend then took his own life last night as rock and roll music blared in the background.

It was a murder and suicide, said Monroe County Sheriff Charles G. Harrington.

Dead from 11 stab wounds was Dianne Smith, 15, of nearby Dundee. She died in Mercy Hospital here several hours after being stabbed. The boy, LeRoy Hoffman died in University Medical Center in Ann Arbor today of self inflicted stab wounds.

Dianne died on a visit to the Kettinger home. The young couple was dancing to the music in Hoffman's bedroom. Kettinger, 59, after finishing dinner told the couple it was time for the ride back to Dundee.

Then the grandfather went downstairs to the furnace.

The bedroom door was locked when he returned.

Harrington said Kettinger told him he heard the girl scream "Don't" and then "Ouch." Kettinger broke down the door.

The girl was lying on the floor. Hoffman was sprawled across the bed. A fishknife sticking into his temple.

Dianne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Dundee, said she had been dating Hoffman steadily since November. Hoffman lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kettinger, because his parents had separated.

Smith said he seemed like "a nice boy."

"We felt sorry for him because his family was split up," Smith said.

Hoffman has been on probation for breaking and entering since November 1956.

Doomed Swiss Village Awaits the Avalanche

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland (AP)—"All we can do is pray."

Thus spoke an aged pensioner who refuses to leave this Swiss hamlet doomed to extinction as soon as a spring thaw sends a million tons of rock, earth and ice hurtling down from a mountain peak 3,000 feet above.

"We have faith, we trust in God," murmured Josef Burgner as he gazed up at Nadelhorn Mountain where the frozen mass will become a thundering avalanche when it reaches the edge of the precipice.

The great mass began creeping down the Nadelhorn slope toward the precipice eight days ago. Friday a new cold spell set in, solidified the thrawing snow and ice, and the movement stopped.

Winter frosts immobilized the great slide over the weekend. But Herbriggen's end is certain when a prolonged thaw comes.

Resigned to losing their homes, most of the villagers abandoned Herbriggen eight days ago. But a small rear guard like the Burgners doggedly stayed on regardless of the creeping danger.

A death watch is being kept over the village by a network of watchers high on neighboring mountain slopes. They will sound an alarm if they see the avalanche begin—in hours, days or weeks. Some of the posts are equipped wih walkie-talkies, one has a portable siren.

Burgner was matter of fact about the slide.

"If the rocks break up during their fall, they may fly about in every direction," he said. "The slide would not go down the corridor in the precipice as everybody seems to believe. It would spread instead and cover a huge part of the valley."

There are young and old among those who have stayed behind. They go about their business as though nothing happened. They feed the few cats and chickens left behind. From time to time they leave their houses, walking through empty streets, looking up at the mountain.

They read about their danger once a day. The narrow-gauge rail line up to Zermatt brings them the German-language newspaper read in the Mattertal Valley.

Occasionally a hush descends over the bare and deserted hamlet. The wind and distant noises from the mountains cease. There is sudden stillness on the village streets.

"We live in fear and we don't sleep any more," murmured Burgner's wife. She dandled a neighbor's child on her knee while his mother sought food in the remaining grocery store.

"If we should hear the slide coming," said Burgner, "we would go down to the cellar—if we have time. It would be useless to run outside anyway."

When the slides does come, it will be the second time the Burgners have lost their home. Residents of southern France for many years, they returned to his native Herbriggen when France fell during World War II. Penniless in 1942, he and his wife worked hard, bought their own home and raised their three children. All are grown and away from home now.

Judge Holland Studies Ferndale Hassle

Opinion Is Due Tomorrow

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland promised an opinion tomorrow morning on whether the Ferndale Board of Education can carry out its dismissal of Dr. Scott W. Street as principal of the Paul L. Best School.

Attorneys for the board and for nine couples and a Ferndale firm, who filed suit last week to stop Street's demotion, presented more than two hours of arguments before Judge Holland this morning.

The demotion was to become effective today, but attorneys agreed that no action will be taken until Judge Holland hands down his decision on whether an injunction against the board will be issued.

Harry Okrent, Detroit attorney for the taxpayers, argued that Dr. Street was fired as principal without benefit of charges being brought against him or a hearing, contrary to a teachers and principals' Tenure Law which guarantees them certain protection in their jobs.

CHARGE NO WRONG

Besides, the claimants charge, Dr. Street "committed no act nor failed to perform any duties which would justify termination of his contract." It expires June 30.

In arguments this morning, it was stated by Carl W. Forsythe and William R. Beasley, attorneys for the school board, that under this contract Dr. Street was hired with tenure only as teacher and not principal.

They argued that Street not being rehired as principal was therefore within the "administrative discretion" of the board.

"The court has no right to supplant its judgement over a duly-elected board," said Forsythe.

Street was demoted to teacher status Feb. 2 by a 5-1 vote of the board "for failing to execute board policy."

Sign Two Lines for Scandinavia, Seaway Trade

CHICAGO (UPI) — H. M. Holden, president of Great Lakes Overseas, Inc., said yesterday that arrangements have been completed for Great Lakes-Scandinavia trade by the Fjell Line and the Norwegian American Lines.

Holden said the new services will join the ports of Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Toronto and Montreal for trade with such Scandinavian cities as Oslo and Copenhagen.

The Fjell Line pioneered Great Lakes service to Europe 25 years ago. The Norwegian American Line next year will mark the 50th year of its entry into Scandinavian-American trade, Holden said.

Following the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in April, the Norwegian line will provide fortnightly service between U. S. and Canadian ports and Europe.

Would Grant Vacation to Good U.S. Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new deal for federal prisoners? Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) would let a prisoner leave jail and go home for two weeks each year provided:

1. The prisoner had a good record.
2. He probably would not break the law on his visit.
3. The vacation would help his rehabilitation.

Gypsy Prince Shot in Holdup

Hundreds Camp at Fair Grounds Waiting Word on Robbery Victim

ATHENS, Ala. (AP)—The Athens Fair Grounds has been turned into a camp to accommodate several hundred gypsies who have appeared here since one of their leaders was wounded.

Mike Johnson, 41, described by Sheriff Clyde Ennis as a gypsy crown prince, was reported in fair condition from a bullet wound received during a holdup attempt Wednesday.

Deputy C. C. Owens said that about 300 gypsies are living at the fair grounds. He reported auto license plates from the Far West and Midwest as well as many from Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

He said no arrests have been made in the Johnson shooting. Johnson was shot in the chest when someone sought to rob him at his home.

Williams Raps GOP on Issue of Tax Leadership

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today criticized state Republicans for their failure to take a forthright stand on taxes at Saturday's convention in Detroit.

"Apparently the elephant has trumpeted and marched off in all directions," Williams said.

"It seems very clear that the Republican Party is unwilling or unable to offer any constructive and unequivocal leadership in the state's financial crisis," Williams said. "Their titular leader Mr. (Paul D.) Bagwell made a speech in which he agreed in effect that a personal and corporate income tax is going to be the ultimate answer to our revenue problem.

"The convention cheered him, and passed a resolution favoring a vote of the people on a 4-cent sales tax, with no mention of a corporate or personal income tax."

The Democratic governor predicted the Democratic convention in Grand Rapids Saturday will take a "responsible position" on the tax question.

Hold 2 Suspects in Store Holdup

Pontiac Police to Seek Warrants in Robbery of City Market

Two men arrested by state troopers from the Redford Post are being held in the Oakland County Jail for investigation of armed robbery.

The pair are suspects in the holdup of Spiro's Market, 194 Oakland Ave., Friday evening.

Pontiac Police said they planned to seek warrants against the two men today from the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office. They are Angelo M. Agatone, 22, and Carl R. Theis, 19, of Kankakee, Ill.

Their car was stopped by troopers near Detroit Sunday for speeding. In the car troopers said they found 16 cartons of cigarettes, masks and a blue automatic pistol.

According to Pontiac Police, the two men admitted the robbery, in which the bandits thrust grocer Louis Fedonis, 65, to the floor, and fled with $175 and 19 cartons of cigarettes.

Hit Head-On as Rain Slicks Road

Texas Auto Crash Kills 10

ALAMO, Tex. (AP)—Then persons were killed on a rain-sdick highway Sunday in a shattering automobile crash that jammed the speedometer on one vehicle at 8 m.p.h.

Four of the dead were children. The head-on collision occurred seven miles south of here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, practically on the Texas-Mexico border.

Muddy rescue workers pried and tugged for more than an hour to remove nine bodies from one crumpled automobile.

The dead:

John T. Closner, 42⅛ Mercedes, Tex., who was thrown from his car in which he was traveling alone.

Antere Ibanez Tovar, 37, La Feria, Tex., driver of the second car.

Benito Comache, 32, and Adelia Comache, 23, and their three children, Zolando, 5; Ninfa, 4; and Minerva, 3, all of La Feria.

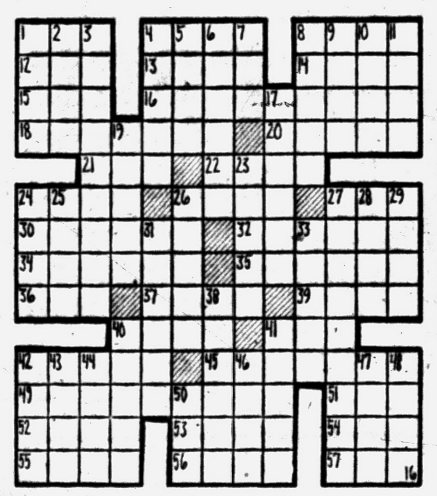

Defino Moralez Tovar, 35, Harlingen, Tex.

Juan Hernandez, 19, and Linda Hernandez, 5, belived to be from La Feria.

The bodies were taken to nearby Pharr, Tex., where relatives identified them at a funeral home. All adults but Closner were migrant farm workers.

Highway patrolman M. L. Dailey said the speedometer on the car of Slosner, a farmer an dfather of eight, was stuck at 80 miles per hour. Closner was traveling east and the other car west, Dailey said.

Silence Is Golden

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Motorcycle patrolman Edward Johnson switched strategy to stop a stolen car. The officer's siren was doing such a good job of clearing a path that the culprit was getting away. So Johnson shut off the siren. The traffic quickly boxed in his quarry.

It Really Was Icy

DURHAM, Conn. (UPI)—Investigating a complaint that an icy patch on a highway was hazardous, State Policeman George Heline found an overturned car and then got further verification. Two approaching cars skidded, one striking his cruiser.

Henry Morgan to Air Sophisticated Disdain

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Is it true that on your new TV show you want to become the East Coast Oscar Levant?" I asked Henry Morgan in one of my Impudent Interviews.

Henry: "Oh, no! I'm not sick. But I do want to offend people. If some boob isn't offended each Friday night, the show's a failure."

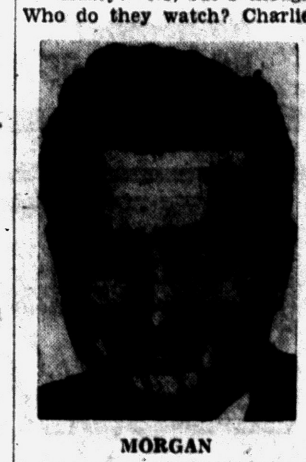

WILSON

E.W.: "It'll be controversial?"

Henry: "The only controversy will be between me and the audience. I do an FM radio show. The other night I tried to get canned. I told the audience, 'You're a bunch of supereilious crums. You don't deserve me. So I'm going to let you sit there and stare at yourselves and see WILSON how dull you are. You don't even write in and say "Get off the air!"'"

E.W.: "I heard you were going to start a 'Down with Jack Paar' drive."

Henry: "No, but I thought of it. Paar is dull personally. Who do they watch? Charlie Weaver. Genevieve. Not Paar! My guests will be half Names and half nuts. Somebody wanted to call it 'Name That Nut.'"

MORGAN

E.W.: "Will you interview actors?"

Henry: "Men. Alfred Drake, Orson Bean, Robert Preston, Tom Poston. There isn't one actress who makes sense to me. 'You look pretty tonight' Why do they work, anyway? Because they need applause. Their husband saying 'You look pretty tonight' should be enough. I'm also going after the loonies who live on the East Side and pay big rent for their skinny apartments and look out on no river. We've got the only river in town over on the West Side.

Henry's show for the present will be local. "It may turn out to be a series of one program," grunted the one-time bad boy of radio, who, though a New Yorker and Philadelphian primarily, once lived in the Middle West—Duluth!

E.W.: "Do you think there is any danger of this jeopardizing your other TV chores?"

Henry: "They did a survey on that on 'I've Got a Secret' and they found that next to Garry Moore, I'm the most popular person on the show."

E. W. "Do you remember once when you apologized to a sponsor who sold elevator shoes?"

Henry: "I do. I said that I wouldn't be caught dead in such shoes. They asked me to apologize. I said I would be caught dead but that was the only place I'd be caught. On this new program (Friday night, Channel 13) I'm going to talk about myself. To say, for example, that I'm a bachelor. Although I was married."

E.W.: "I'd forgotten you were married."

Henry: "I'm forced to remember it every week."

E.W.: "Henry, what would happen if people said you had mellowed and grown lovable?"

Henry: "I would say the show had fallen apart."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Walter Slezak tells of the wealthy old guy who invests in B'way musicals. He puts the money in so he can take the showgirls out . . . That's earl, brother.

Dutch Students to Follow Don Quixote's Trail

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) —Fifteen Dutch students will tour Spain by ox cart and horseback next month, following the route of Don Quixote and Sancho Panza.

Their unusual holiday, from March 21 to April 20, will cover about 200 miles of Spanish roads from Montesa, in eastern Spain, via Ciudad Real in the south-central part of the country to the historic La Mancha region, where Cervantes' hero tilted with the windmills.

Emulating the don and his squire, the students of Spanish literature will live on the products of the land along their way. They won't try to duplicate his feats of chivalry.

Committee to Study Nation's Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Economic Committee plans to start an extensive study of the nation's economic problems.

The study will focus not only on inflation, but on full employment and growth.

Chairman Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) said Sunday his group will start the study as soon as it completes its comments on President Eisenhower's economic report at the end of the month. It hopes to finish the inquiry and make a report by the end of 1959.

Douglas said Americans want their economy to realize three sets of objectives: to provide substantially full employment, to achieve an adequate rate of economic growth and to maintain stability in the price level and thus prevent inflation.

"Nothing is more needed than a careful and impartial study of whether it is possible to reconcile these objectives and if so, how," he said.

Some parents don't care if the kids get out of hand, as long as they aren't underfoot . . . Higher living costs are predicted for 1959, which should distress those people who couldn't even afford 1958. — Earl Wilson.

Jealous Mother in Murder Trial

Charged With Hiring 2 to Kill Daughter-in-Law Last November

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, accused of plotting the death of her daughter-in-law to keep her son for herself, is to go on trial today on a charge of first degree murder.

The prosecution is expected to ask the death penalty for the 54-year-old woman, claiming that she was so jealous of her son, Frank, that she shopped for months trying to hire a killer.

Mrs. Duncan's chief accusers are two Santa Barbara laborers. They say Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000 to kill her son's pregnant bride, Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, a nurse.

Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, have admitted luring the nurse from her apartment late one November night, choking and beating her during a 20-mile auto trip, and burying her alongside a mountain road.

Her body was discovered last Dec. 21 and an autopsy surgeon said it was possible she was buried alive.

Mrs. Duncan has denied any connection with her daughter-in-law's death.

Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado all pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity, but the two men later dropped their pleas of innocent. They will be given sanity hearings in April.

Flood Danger Eases in Indiana

But Oaktown, Below Terre Haute, Braces for Wabash Surge

By the Associated Press

The farming area near Oaktown, Ind., became the main center of activity along the flooded Wabash River today as the danger in upstream communities appeared easing.

National Guardsmen were sent by Gov. Harold W. Handley into the Oaktown area, about 40 miles south of Terre Haute, to strengthen an old levee. A break in the levee would flood thousands of acres of farm land.

Dry weather prevailed in the flood zones and also in wide areas throughout the country east of the Rockies. The country's wettest region was in the Pacific Coast.

Officials in the flood sections of Indiana, which forced some 1,700 families from their homes last week, said barring heavy rains, the worst of the overflows appeared ended.

However, Weather Bureau officials said it would be two weeks before the Wabash falls below flood stage at West Terre Haute. A temporary dike of sandbags held Sunday against another small rise in the swollen river. A huge ice jam remained near Delphi although thawing temperatures over the weekend dislodged some big chunks.

Cooler weather moved into two separate sections east of the Continental Divide. Temperatures dropped in most areas from eastern Texas and the Gulf Coast to the Ohio River and to all of the Atlantic Seaboard except Florida.

Biggest drops were in New England, where readings were below zero in northern sections.

A second cold front extended from areas in Montana east of the Divide and into the Dakotas. The cold air headed into the central plains and eastward to the upper and middle Mississippi Valleys and the upper Great Lakes region. Lowest readings, near zero, were in Montana. Strong winds hit parts of North Dakota.

Warmer weather prevailed in sections between the two cold fronts.

No More Trouble, Moms Vow as Boys Are Freed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)— The two North Carolina boys involved in a kissing case are home from reform school. Their mothers say the lads won't get into trouble again.

The Negroes, James Hanover Thompson, 10, and David (Fuzzy) Simpson, 9, were released over the weekend for good behavior. They were committed three months ago after they forced a kiss from a 6-year-old white girl.

The mothers, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, 35, who has four other children at home, and Mrs. Jennie Simpson, 48, who is caring for five other children, defended the boys. Mrs. Thompson says her husband deserted her, and Mrs. Simpson is a widow.

Mrs. Thompson said James "is really a good boy, and maybe he got into scrapes because I couldn't give him the attention he needed. From now on I'm not going to let him out of my sight."

Mrs. Simpson said "Fuzzy got into scrapes before, but I think they had it in for him in that kissing case."

Agents Seize 27 in Dope Raids

Uncover 32 Pounds of Heroin in New York Vice Roundup

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal and city narcotics agents held 27 persons in custody today after a series of raids that uncovered what the officers said was the second largest amount of heroin ever seized in the United States—more than 32 pounds of it.

The value of the pure heroin, after being cut and sold to addicts and pushers, was estimated at $3,660,800 by Inspector Edward Carey of the Police Narcotics Bureau.

Authorities started the lightning raids at 8:30 Saturday night, and continued until 5 a.m. Sunday. Raids were made in Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens, and agents reached out into Long Island and New Jersey to round up suspects.

Those arrested were described by George Gaffney, regional head of the federal Bureau of Narcotics as higher-ups in the ring importing heroin from Europe. "These are not small fry," he said, "but importers, wholesalers and distributors." None of them used dope, he said.

But Oh! You Lousy Doll

Neighbors Aren't Guilty

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Honey pot, lay down that lousy doll! (And never mind about daddy's slang.)

The New Mexico Department of Public Health, an agency which loves to use six-syllable words, told today of a child who twice became infected with head lice.

The department referred to this as an infestation of pediculosis.

It said:

"Pediculosis is identified among communicable diseases as an infestation with lice. The synonym is lousiness. The handbook on communicable disease control points out that any person may become lousy under suitable conditions of exposure. But it doesn't say anything about dolls."

Dr. John C. Mitchell, district health officer, telling of the child who twice became infected, told of the family's unsuccessful efforts to find the source.

The family tried the neighbors without avail.

Finally, the mother discovered something suspicious in the hair of a couple of dolls which had been purchased around Christmas time, dolls advertised to have "real human hair."

When the dolls' heads were cut clean open, they were found to be full of lice.

The case was referred to the State Health Department for consultation as to appropriate preventive measures in the future.

TV News and Reviews

Omnibus Pulls Maximum From Menotti's 'Medium'

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV's Omnibus honed Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Medium" to a sharp and toothsome edge yesterday.

Menotti's opera is thin musically, but it has a fairly fat dramatic potential.

Omnibus—with the directorial assistance of Menotti—squeezed the maximum ration of black and brooding business out of the piece's melodramatic hulk and got some solid performances from its cast as well.

Richard Diamond, a half-hour cops and robbers series, returned to CBS-TV last night in a new suit of clothes.

The show was encased in a package that looked very much like NBC-TV's Peter Gunn—jazz theme, teaser sex, plots that really don't make much sense, but seem to as long as you don't listen too closely.

David Janssen was on hand as the private eye and he is standard three-button, small brim on the hat, stone face TV-type private eye. He now has a love interest played by Barbara Bain and she is standard junior size, magazine cover looks, stone face TV-type girl friend.

SHORT SHOTS: ABC-TV's Maverick offered a rather amiable bit of nonsense last night. It seems to be getting more tongue-in-cheek each week and I would say that's all to the good.

The movie fan magazine awards given out on the NBC-TV Steve Allen Show last night performed one useful service—they served to demonstrate what sort of idiots vote in fan magazine polls. There is obviously something seriously amiss in the taste of citizens who vote top honors to Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The working title for the new Ray Milland Show which will bow in on CBS-TV April 25 is "Markham"—it's a series about a criminal lawyer.

NBC-TV's Steve Allen Show will expand to 90 minutes for its March 15 and March 22 outings.

Criminal Hunted Across Vermont

One of 10 Most Wanted Flees in Stolen Auto After Wrecking Plane

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—The hunt for one of the nation's 10 most wanted criminals fanned out from northern Vermont today after the fugitive landed a stolen plane here and fled in a stolen car.

The FBI last night said Frank Lawrence Sprenz, 29, of Akron, Ohio, stole the plane in Scranton, Pa., Friday night or early Saturday, and made a crazy landing at Champlain Airport, just outside Burlington.

The single engine Cessna tipped over in the snow and was badly damaged. The FBI said Sprenz walked away from the plane, and made his way to Winooski about a mile away.

In Winooski Sprenz went to a used car lot and told the owner he was interested in buying a car. The dealer gave him a car to try out and Sprenz has not been seen since.

Sprenz has been sought since he broke away last April from an Akron jail where he was serving time for armed robbery.

In a 15-state alarm for Sprenz, Arthur Cornelius, agent in charge of the FBI office in Albany, N.Y., described him as dangerous and said he is probably armed.

Mrs. F.D.R. to Plug Oleo, Aid to Hungry

NEW YORK (AP) — Filmed television commercials in which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt endorses a brand of oleomargarine begin on some network programs today.

In the opening portion of the commercials Mrs. Roosevelt discusses the plight of underfed persons in foreign countries.

The opportunity to call attention to the food situation in other lands was reported to have been a major factor in Mrs. Roosevelt's acceptance of an offer by the Lever Brothers Co. to advertise its margarine.

What Mrs. Roosevelt will receive for the commercials has not een disclosed.

'Big Three' Swings Away From Extremes

Conservative Key in Coming Cars

By RAY CROMLEY

DETROIT (NEA)—New cars by the "big three" — Ford, GM and Chrysler—are going to grow more conservative in the next few years.

There'll be a swing from recent extremes, less of a jukebox look, less chrome, less rick rack on the outside, fewer weird color combinations.

Super-size fins gradually will disappear.

That's the thinking among top auto designers in Detroit.

"We're aiming at cleaner lines . . . fewer bulges and bumps," says one front-rank designer. The trend is back to one-color cars. We're not going to have another like the model a few years ago when the body was black with a cream insert, and a red roof.

What chrome there is will be more "delicately" used, not in "large blobs." There will be a lot of experimenting to get more "character" in well-liked colors such as green, black, beige and yellow.

The aim is now for more subdued colors, a new "richness." There's a move back toward black cars again. "But they'll be a richer black," one stylist stresses.

INTERIORS RESTRAINED

Interiors, too, are going to be more restrained, and blended with the outside.

Some auto designers are intrigued with high-fashion colors. They're experimenting with car interiors that complement Paris gowns.

Cars are not going to get longer. "We've reached the end of practicality there," says one auto man. "But cars aren't likely to get shorter either," he adds hastily.

"Every time we think about shortening a car, people set up a howl. They say they need the room. They want big trunks."

And cars won't get wider.

There's going to be more of the European look in American automobiles. Tops will grow thinner. There will be more glass, as engineers solve the problems of making thinner roof supports strong enough to meet safety tests.

There are some big behind-the-scene arguments going on. Chrysler men say fins help car stability. Ford men say fins are for looks only.

The driver moves his hand forward to speed up, backward to slow down or stop, to the left or right to turn.

Ford men say their tests indicate steering with a stick is more difficult for the average driver.

NO EXTREMES

Regardless of the arguments, don't expect any extremes. The sticks are not in the cards to replace steering wheels in the next few years.

Designers are experimenting with contour seats — with higher backs—aimed at more comfort and safety.

They're working with a divided front seat that permits the driver to move back and forth independently of the other front-seat passengers. Chrysler already has a swivel seat.

But the Big Three are not planning major seating changes. Designers have toyed with rear-facing seats and club-car lounge effects to replace the rear seat.

But most have abandoned these ideas for use in family sedans. These unconventional seating arrangements would be practical only if cars were to be made much longer.

All-aluminum or all-plastic bodies are out for the time being. Both have strong advantages. Color can be fixed in. The car would never have to be repainted.

But aluminum and plastic bodies are more expensive to make, and plastic, at least, doesn't stand up well in accidents.

The gas turbine engine — much touted recently — isn't likely for family passenger cars in the next five to ten years. An all-aluminum conventional engine is more likely —though uncertain as yet.

For Macmillan's Moscow Trip

British Aides Rent Furs

LONDON (AP) — The Kremlin will get a whiff of British mothballs next week.

This is the inescapable conclusion as a London clothes renting company outfits Prime Minister Macmillan's party for its trip to Moscow.

"We haven't had such a rush on fur clothes since the war," said a spokesman for the firm.

"All shapes and sizes of customers are coming to us. All the Premier's staff will be dressed in furs, or fur-lined coats."

Macmillan plans to leave London Saturday. Probably 50 aides will go with him.

Additionally, about 100 newspapermen, cameramen and television commentators and lensmen want to go.

Nearly all are renting heavy clothes.

The clothes hire company is charging 15 guineas ($44.10) for a fur-lined coat and a fur hat based on a 10-day trip.

Castro Takes Post as Premier Today

HAVANA (UPI)—Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro formally takes up the reins of government today as Premier of Cuba, at 32 the youngest in the turbulent 52-year history of the Caribbean Island Republic.

Intimates said the bearded young lawyer would make labor and agrarian problems his primary objectives.

Castro was named Premier Saturday by President Manuel Urrutia following the resignation of Jose Miro Cardona, in what was generally viewed as the first step toward the presidency.
