Willing to Explore VC Plan, Says U.S.

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The United States has told North Vietnam and National Liberation Front representatives it would like to talk about the 10-point proposal made in Paris by the Vietcong for settlement of the Vietnam war.

High U.S. officials making this known said the preliminary American response did not go beyond Secretary of State William P. Rogers' statement late yesterday.

"It contains some clearly unacceptable proposals, but there are elements in it which may offer a possibility for exploration," Rogers said in the first Nixon administration response to the Vietcong proposal.

He emphasized that the position taken by the Communist side Thursday at Paris will require careful study and clarification.

NEW FEATURES

In the view of high authorities here, the proposal does contain new features which give a promise of some forward movement in the peace negotiations.

Rogers, who leaves for Saigon on Monday, declared he would consult closely with Vietnamese leaders, including President Nguyen Van Thieu, to determine if the Vietcong program represents a serious response to earlier U.S. and South Vietnam peace proposals.

★ ★ ★

South Vietnam already has rejected parts of tne NFL program which would set up a coalition "peace" government pending general elections throughout the country.

However, Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, South Vietnam's chief negotiator in the Paris peace talks, said today if the enemy actually agrees to discuss certain points of the NLF program, the negotiations could make some progress.

EXCHANGE OF POW'S

Lam referred to the proposals for exchange of prisoners and reestablishment of the demilitarized zone.

In Washington, State Department experts on Vietnam were examining the records of the Paris peace talks and previous Communist peace plans to determine as exactly as possible the changes contained in the 10-point plan.

Revelers Routed; Zap Is a Shambles

ZAP, N.D. (AP) — National guardsmen armed with rifles and five-foot wooden clubs emptied Zap today of 2,000 to 3,000 young revelers, many of them collegians, who transformed the main street of this tiny village into a shambles overnight.

The community of 300 residents went under martial law as more than 500 guardsmen in combat uniforms joined police in lowering the curtain on the weekend "Zap in."

Yanks Rip N. Viets South of Da Nang

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines, fighter-bombers and artillery battered as many as 600 North Vietnamese troops in an area south of Da Nang, military spokesmen reported today.

After a daylong stream of fire from Marines sweeping through the area yesterday and bombardment by planes the Marines reported counting the bodies of 129 North Vietnamese soldiers.

Marine casualties were put at six killed and 12 wounded.

"I don't understand their (the enemy's) tactics," said Col. William J. Zaro, of San Antonio, Tex., who directed the Marine assault that included about 1,500 riflemen and three tanks. "They have lost a lot of people in that area and they keep coming back. They must be in bad need of the rice there."

'COMMANDER KILLED'

U.S. officers said they thought the North Vietnamese commander, probably a high-ranking officer, had been killed during the air and artillery strikes because the enemy troops appeared to be running about in all directions, trying to escape the massive American firepower.

The area where the fighting occurred is about 18 miles southwest of Da Nang. Enemy troops have operated there for several years despite countless allied operations. American fighter-bombers returning from missions elsewhere use the area as a dumping ground for unspent bombs and rockets.

Less than two weeks ago, U.S. Marines killed 60 North Vietnamese soldiers in a day of fierce fighting in the territory, while suffering nine Marines killed and 80 wounded.

Hard fighting also flared on several other fronts, including familiar trouble spots northwest and northeast of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

U.S. infantrymen from the 25th Division blocking the northwest approach routes into Saigon killed 117 North Vietnamese troops in two fights yesterday. U.S. casualties were two killed and nine wounded. Several American armored cars were reported damaged in one of the battles with as many as 200 North Vietnamese troops.

Heavy fighting continued for the third day 45 miles northeast of Saigon. South Vietnamese government forces have lost at least 24 men killed, 122 wounded and 12 missing, authorities said.

Treasury Secretary to Be Impeached?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman says "impeachment can be the ultimate outcome" unless the White House takes action in a reasonable time on his conflict of interest charge against Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy.

Patman, chairman of the House Banking Committee, said he has no plans now to seek impeachment, "but I'm not making any promises not to do it."

The Texas Democrat contends the secretary maintained continuing ties to the Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago. Kennedy was the bank's $200,000-a-year president until his appointment to the Cabinet.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy has refused to reply to Patman's questions directly but Paul Eggers, general counsel for the Treasury, has reported Kennedy's affairs avoid any conflict.

Patman, who claims he forced Andrew Mellon to quit as Treasury secretary in 1932, spelled out his charges Thursday in a one-hour Senate speech.

Inflation Carry-Over Into 1970 Foreseen

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — A warning that prices will continue rising into 1970, despite a slowing of the boom in coming months, was issued at the weekend conference of the Business Council with high administration officials.

Nearly 100 members of the council, including heads of scores of the country's biggest corporations, attended the conference.

★ ★ ★

Presidential counselor Arthur F. Burns, Secretary of Housing George W. Romney and Postmaster Gen. Winton M. Blount were speakers on today's closing program.

A guarded forecast of another automobile price increase when the new model year begins next September came yesterday, along with a proposal from a construction industry leader for compulsory arbitration of wage disputes in the building industry to curb wage boosts.

Patrick E. Haggerty, vice chairman of the Business Council who arranged the program on economic outlook, told reporters: "There will still be inflation next year, though not as great as this year."

Haggerty, board chairman of Texas Instruments, Inc., Dallas, said Business Council members generally approve the government's anti-inflation program—the tax surcharge, tight money, and restraints on federal spending—although most members wish that Congress had imposed the surtax sooner.

★ ★ ★

Lynn A. Townsend, board chairman of Chrysler Corp., Detroit, told newsmen that the increase in materials cost and even more rapid rise in labor costs during this model year suggest that there will be automobile price increases when new models are introduced next September.

Townsend said he could not guess how much prices might be marked up, and could not say whether the other major producers also expected price boosts.

BIG WAGE BOOSTS

The problem of big wage boosts in the building industry was discussed by Edmund W. Littlefield, president of the Utah Construction and Mining Co., San Francisco.

Littlefield said recent wage boosts in construction have run 3½ to 5 per cent greater than in other major industries.

Urban Renewal Poll Is Begun

Residents of two large neighborhoods of the city are being polled on their ideas for urban renewal. The survey is being conducted by the City Department of Planning and Urban Renewal.

The effort is in connection with plans to apply for federal funds under the new renewal concept, Neighborhood Program (NDP).

★ ★ ★

Under consideration as "neighborhoods" to qualify as grants are the 20-block area directly east of City Hall and School Board buildings on East Wide Track and a larger tract including most of the southwest side. These two areas are yet to be defined for NDP application purposes.

Urban renewal under NDP is vastly more complicated than previous programs which called for clearance, such as the one which emptied the south part of downtown in 1962.

DILAPIDATED HOUSING

Only removal of dilapidated housing is allowed and that only with permission of nearby residents.

The NDP does call for provision of new housing as well as funds for renovation of existing residences. It provides funds for parks, green belts, removal of undesirable structures and businesses such as junk yards.

★ ★ ★

However, under recent federal legislation, citizen participation and approval must take place.

The current effort by the city is aimed at determining the course of participation. The pollsters are hoping to find out how residents wish to form Citizens District Councils (CDC).

WILL CONDUCT HEARINGS

These groups will conduct hearings and present to the city the opinions of their various neighborhoods on any program which would be offered.

What the city wishes to determine at this point is if residents wish to hold elections to the CDC, have the members appointed or use existing organizations such as Block Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Along with its survey, city officials will be meeting with block clubs. The first meeting is with the Rapid Street Block Club, 186 Rapid, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Other hearings will be scheduled at various points in the city.

3 Dead in Car Fire

GRASS LAKE (AP) — Two young men and a woman were found dead in a burning car four miles southeast of Grass Lake Village in Jackson County early today. Police did not identify the trio. All three bodies were found in the front seat.

Volpe Talks of $1-Billion Proposal

Mass Transit to Get a Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe says the Nixon administration will propose a $1-billion-a-year urban mass transit program in about a month.

He said yesterday that the money would be used for a "trust fund" similar to the Federal Highway Trust Fund that has channeled $36 billion into highway construction since 1956.

Local governments could draw from the fund if they raised about 20 to 40 per cent of the cost of proposed transit systems on their own, Volpe said while touring the city's transit system.

★ ★ ★

Proponents of mass transit have long argued that the federal highway program overemphasized the use of the automobile and contributed to urban traffic jams. The highway program spends $5.5 billion a year.

CURRENT ALLOCATION

The current federal budget allocates $175 million to mass transit. Volpe said the new proposed legislation would raise this to the $1 billion level "in two or three years." The program would run for about 12 years, he said.

★ ★ ★

Volpe said that certain taxes would probably be earmarked for the mass transit program. In the past he has suggested that part of the current excise tax on automobiles or a new cigarette tax might be used.

Currently, no state can get more than 12.5 per cent of the annual federal aid for mass transit, but Volpe said the new bill will be "more flexible."

Probabilities of precipitation are 6 per cent today, 40 per cent tonight, 20 per cent tomorrow.

Wilson Seen Lasting Till '71

LONDON (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is in deep trouble, probably the deepest since his Labor government came to power in October 1964.

Yet the betting still is that Wilson will manage to hang on in office for another 18 months to two years.

Wilson, who squeaked into office by a slim majority in 1964, has appeared on the skids for the past two years.

His unpopularity stems largely from continued high taxes, soaring living costs and the economic belt-tightening his government has imposed on Britain for the past 4½ years.

★ ★ ★

By law, Wilson is not obliged to hold parliamentary general elections before the spring of 1971.

Barring open revolt inside the Labor party or cabinet, the betting is that he will hang on until the last possible moment, regardless of the beating he presently is taking.

HOLY CHRISTOPHER! — Surrounded by St. Christopher medals and statues, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallery sits in her religious supplies store and muses. Effective Jan. 1, the Catholic church has decided that Christopher—if he ever existed—will be a saint no more.

Some May Not Have Existed at All

60 Saints Dropped by Church

NEW YORK (AP) — The discoverer of America might well have been a Genoese explorer named Pasquale Columbus Rocco Columbus if the Vatican had realigned its roster of saints in the 15th century instead of the 20th.

Every Roman Catholic child must be given a saint's name at baptism, according to Church rules, and the Columbus family would have had to choose some name other than Christopher.

For Christopher, Barbara, Alexis, Anastasia and a whole litany of almost 60 names were stricken yesterday from the Roman Catholic calendar of annual feastdays in honor of individual saints.

Pope Paul VI issued a decree setting up a new calendar effective Jan. 1. The Vatican explained why some saints were removed—not for any doubt about their sanctity but doubt that they ever existed at all.

DELICATE PROBLEM

The Vatican, obviously aware of the furore in many quarters a few years ago when the popular female saint Philomena was stricken from the lists, acknowledged that the newest action would pose "an extremely delicate problem" for many Catholics.

No one will have to change his name, and no church named for one of the devaluated saints will have to chisel new letters in stone above rededicated portals.

★ ★ ★

But the impact on the personal price and spiritual psychology of many a man or woman who bears the name of a long-revered saint now declared fictional could be something else again.

★ ★ ★

"Saint" is a title given to persons recognized by the Catholic Church as being in heaven and worthy of honor. Popular devotion often spread a cult of holiness around a name in the early centuries, when sainthood by acclamation was fairly common. Later the making of saints became a Church-regulated undertaking that came only after long investigation of personal virtues and was done in lavish ceremonies at the Vatican.

FROM EARLIEST DAYS

Those dropped from the calendar are all names from the earliest Christian centuries.

The Christophers of the globe should not lose heart altogether. Two Italians with that name have been venerated as "Blessed," or on their way to canonized sainthood, since the turn of the century.

Bomber Crashes; 6 Missing

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A B52 Stratofortress bomber crashed into the Pacific Ocean on takeoff from Anderson Air Force Base at Guam early today and the six-man crew was missing, the Strategic Air Command said.

A spokesman said the plane, loaded with 750 and 500-pound bombs, was starting on a strike against targets in South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The crew was from Fairchild AFB in Washington. The bomber was assigned to the Third Air Division at Anderson AFB.

SAC said Navy and Air Force units were searching the area for the plane and crew. No wreckage has been located.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the B52 went into the water off the northeast end of the island. Cause of the crash has not been determined. SAC said a board of officers will investigate the accident.

GM Strikes Affect 72,750

From Our News Wires

DETROIT (AP) — The number of workers laid off or put on short week weeks as a result of strikes at eight General Motors plants has for the first time exceeded the number of workers actually on strike.

As of the end of the second shift yesterday, 72,750 employes had been affected. This included 36,100 striking employes at seven GM Assembly Division plants and one Fisher Body plant and 36,650 laid off or working reduced hours at other facilities.

★ ★ ★

The strikes, which began April 28 at six assembly plants and April 10 at two plants in St. Louis, Mo., crippled production of Chevrolets.

The Assembly Division strike resulted from a failure to reach agreement on details of a consolidation of Chevrolet assembly and Fisher Body plants.

MAIN ISSUES

A United Auto Workers spokesman said the main issues are wage differentials between former Chevrolet and Fisher Body workers now employed on the same assembly lines and consolidation of seniority lists.

The St. Louis strikes concerns a dispute over assembly line speeds.

Negotiations resumed at the plants but yesterday there were no sign an immediate settlement was forthcoming. Local union bargaining committees were in Detroit earlier in the week to discuss strategy with UAW GM department chief Leonard Woodcock.

★ ★ ★

Ward's Automotive Reports, which keeps tabs on the auto industry, said GM's production cutback has already cost it 75,000 vehicles and that each day the strike continues, GM loses another 6,000 cars and 1,500 trucks.

A GM spokesman said the strike has had little adverse effect on sales although dealers are having difficulty making deliveries.

House Leaders Gird for Parochiaid Fight

LANSING (AP)—Girding for the coming floor fight over parochiaid and the public school budget, House leaders yesterday got in their last practice swings by replying to intraparty charges of an "understanding" with Republican Gov. William Milliken.

House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, called "illogical" the suggestion by one Democratic faction that he and others in leadership resign because of failure to support the official party opposition to parochiaid.

★ ★ ★

Ryan, chief backer of a parochiaid section added to a revised school aid bill, rebutted charges by Al Fishman, chairman of the New Democratic Coalition. Fishman said some Democrats made a deal with the Milliken Administration to ensure acceptance of parochiaid in exchange for a school budget within the governor's guidelines.

"No one party has the votes for new revenue" necessary to raise the school appropriation, Ryan said. "We will be back in the fall and cooperate in efforts to raise it."

REPLIES TO DEMAND

As to the charge he should resign his post, Ryan said Fishman's "logic is bad there, too. You can't logically ask a statutory officeholder to quit when people elect him to decide what is or is not good law."

Ryan and his floor leader, George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, notified legislators the school bill would be up for debate Monday without preliminary discussion.

Lions Owner Asked to Finance Stadium

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit legislator yesterday called on Detroit Lions owner William Clay Ford to help finance a stadium in downtown Detroit.

Rep. Raymond Hood issued copies of a letter to Ford asking him "as principal owner of the Lions football team" to take the lead in pushing for a downtown site.

★ ★ ★

"Better yet, why not help to finance this stadium yourself?" Hood wrote.

3 in Hospitals After Crashes

Three persons were hospitalized in three separate auto accidents in Commerce, Avon and Rose townships yesterday and early this morning, Oakland County deputies report.

Paul M. Carr, 18, of 3557 Moberly, Milford, is in fair condition in the intensive care unit at Pontiac General Hospital after the car he was driving went off a Commerce Township road 2:15 a.m. today.

Deputies were unable to get details from Carr on how the accident, on Oakley Park near South Commerce, occurred.

In another one car accident, Steven F. Loren, 16, of Flint, is in Flint's McClaren Hospital in satisfactory condition after he apparently lost control of his car in Rose Township at 2:20 a.m. today.

HIT UTILITY POLE

Deputies said his car struck a utility pole at North Milford and Fenton. Two passengers had minor injuries and three were not hurt.

A Rochester Community Schools bus carrying 20 children collided with a car at Herrod and Longview in Avon Township yesterday afternoon.

A few of the children had minor bruises but the auto's driver, Robert L. Lewis, 34, of 3618 Longview, Rochester, was admitted to Avon Township's Crittenton Hospital. He is in satisfactory condition. Four passengers in his car had minor injuries.

Driver of the bus was Thomas A. Milholland, 24, of 419 Second, Rochester.

3 Nude Women Apprehended

81 Arrested at Shelby Twp. Smoker

Police raided an American Legion hall in Shelby Township last night arresting 81 persons, including three nude women, and confiscated gambling equipment and six smoker-type films.

Ten policemen, led by Shelby Detective Glenn McAlpine and Sgt. Gerald DeGrace, entered the Utica chapter hall at 46146 Shelby, Shelby Township, about 9:30 after receiving a tip a half hour earlier.

Sgt. DeGrace said some 30 items were confiscated in the raid, including the films, three pairs of dice, numerous decks of cards and signs advertising the gambling. Also confiscated was $345 in cash.

The three women were charged with obscene conduct and frequenting a gambling house. Three other men were charged with being drunk and disorderly, while the remaining 75 persons were accused of frequently a gambling house, according to DeGrace.

He said nine persons were kept in custody overnight, five were released on $100 bond and the others were released on personal bond.

All 81 persons were to be arraigned this morning at the Macomb County Jail before District Judge Gordon Havey.

DeGrace described the smoker films as "raw."

★ ★ ★

He said when police arrived, the three nude women were sitting on the edge of a stage with group of men gathered around.

"They didn't even know we were there until I walked up," DeGrace commented.

He said the event was not at a Legion function, but was apparently at a gathering of an organization of the 40 & 8, which is affiliated with the Legion.

Assisting Shelby police were four state policemen from the Warren and Romeo posts.

Nixon Meeting With Aides, Mapping Welfare Message

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon confers today with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and other advisers as he prepares recommendations for revising the public welfare system.

Among those joining the chief executive and Agnew for the meeting at Nixon's waterfront home is Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said there was no agenda for the session. However, part of the discussion was expected to revolve around a forthcoming presidential message to Congress on welfare revisions.

Other conference participants are Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch and White House staff men H. R. Handleman, John D. Ehrlichman, Bryce N. Harlow and Harry Dent.

Nixon spent much of yesterday on the water, yachting aboard the presidential boat Julie with friend and neighbor C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

In the afternoon, the President met with Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs. Kissinger, who flew to Florida with Nixon Wednesday night, has been keeping the chief executive abreast of late developments in the Paris peace talks.

★ ★ ★

Ziegler declined to comment on the latest Vietcong proposal in Paris for establishment of a coalition government in Saigon.

Four University of Miami students went to the security blockade near Nixon's home yesterday and presented to Secret Service agents a petition opposing deployment of the Safeguard antiballistic missile.

★ ★ ★

She is a former substitute teacher in the Waterford system and was a PTA president at two elementary schools.

Mrs. Ross, who is married and has one daughter, is active in Red Cross work and the annual Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

★ ★ ★

Michael G. Patterson, 32, of 4768 Parview, Independence Township, was appointed to the school board in January of 1967. He resigned in November after being elected to the position in June of that year because of time conflicting educational activities.

An employe at the Patterson Bookkeeping Service, he is a former president of the Waterford Township Jaycees.

Week of College Strife Ends on Quieter Note

By the Associated Press

A week of tumult and shouting on the college scene has ended on a quieter note with scholars and politicians discussing the campus crisis and a New Hampshire judge dealing jail terms to 45 Dartmouth sit-ins.

The shock of Dr. Buell C. Gallagher's resignation as president of City College of New York and a steady day-long rain combined to end two days of violence and arson at the 20,000-student school.

★ ★ ★

At Howard University, where police wrested control from sit-ins by firing tear gas rockets into the buildings, the student activists told a news conference there was no change in their demands.

In Woodville, N.H., 45 young people, most of them Dartmouth students, were learning prison routine today at the Grafton County jail while lawyers prepared appeals to the state Supreme Court.

30-DAY TERMS

Judge Martin Loughlin sentenced the group including five girls to serve 30-day jail terms and pay $100 fines each for criminal contempt in the seizure of the college administration building last Tuesday.

The demonstration led by the Students for a Democratic Society was to demand the immediate expulsion of ROTC programs from the campus. They were removed from the building by state police early Wednesday.

Judge Laughlin's sentence was twice the 15-day term recommended by County Atty. George Papademas and was the stiffest mass sentence yet meted out for student uprisings across the nation.

One advocate of the get-tough approach to campus disorders testified before the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee Friday. Longshoreman-philosopher Eric Hoffer said the campus crisis called for strong-willed administrators.

TALKS OF KILLING

"You need chancellors of universities and mayors of cities who will get up in the morning and spit on their hands and say 'Who am I going to kill today?'" Hoffer said. "These are the people who will save you."

Hoffer, a member of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, said the demands of campus militants cannot be satisfied:

"They have tasted blood and acquired a taste for academic flesh. They want to kill it."

Jacques Barzun, a Columbia University historian, told a House education subcommittee that American universities will not recover from the damage they have suffered as teaching institutions for decades.

And he said the colleges will have to take "strong means" to overthrow what he called student despotism if they are to recover at all.

Seymour Martin Lipset of Harvard told the subcommittee that the campus crisis was a political phenomenon, not an educational one. He said such things as increasing awareness of social conditions in the world had brought a "crisis of authority."

★ ★ ★

Yale University President Kingman Brewster Jr. said in Chicago that the campus violence will get worse unless some intense effort is made by the government to end the war in Vietnam, remove inequities in the draft and improve race relations.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., told an Atlanta, Ga., audience that while students have some legitimate grievances "the new wave of disorder" must be controlled.

"If rage replaces reason ... what country will we have? This is a distinct time for a government of law," Kennedy said. He added that the students responsible for the current crisis are "looking beyond the law."

BEST THING?

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told an Oklahoma Republican gathering that "the best thing to do with student rioters is to run them through a car wash."

The Florida White House announced that President Nixon will deliver the commencement address at Ohio State June 7 but press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he did not know if Nixon would include a new statement on campus disorders.

At CCNY, Gallagher resigned after 17 years as president charging "politically motivated outside forces" had undermined his efforts to negotiate with student rebels.

After meeting with the Board of Higher Education, a faculty spokesman said he believed "an acting president will be announced on Monday, if not sooner."

At Howard in Washington, D.C., student leaders said demands for a voice in the hiring of faculty and the curriculum have not changed. "The use of force on our campus has not eradicated the problem," said Ewart Brown.

Dakota Town 'Zapped' by Invading Kids

ZAP, N.D. (AP) — It was 40 degrees late Friday night when the "invaders" began a Zapfire by dismantling an abandoned town building and using its wooden planks for warmth.

Town Mayor Norman Fuchs, munching on a Zapburger, screwed up his face and said, "I just don't know about this darn fire in the middle of Main Street."

Fuchs called out the volunteer fire department and out rolled the town's small fire truck.

About 20 of the kids loaded onto the back end and began to disassemble the truck. One grabbed the hose and made for Lucky's Tavern but Fuchs cautioned him to go back to drinking.

The student did.

The Zap-in had begun.

ARRIVED YESTERDAY

From across the country and Canada, college students arrived Friday at the "Fort Lauderdale of the North."

The Zap-in began as a tongue-in-cheek invitation in the North Dakota State University newspaper—urging students from around the nation not to miss the first annual gathering at Zap May 10.

★ ★ ★

The idea caught on and the student paper began to get hundreds of requests on how to find Zap.

Though the Zap-in is officially to happen today, more than 1,000 students had trickled into the 300 population community by midevening Friday.

STAKED OUT SPOT

The first arrivals were a trio from Florida who promptly staked out a spot among the beer ads on the walls of the town's two bars for their "Zap Happening First" signs.

The students' dress was as diverse as their college backgrounds.

Long hair, sideburns, mustaches, hillbilly hats, bell-bottoms, and related items from the current college scene were in abundance. One home-state product from Fargo came in loafers, white ducks, a straw panama hat and a gray West Point dress coat.

Most of the arrivals were male—with about one out of 10 females among Friday night's Zap-inners.

OFFICIAL BEVERAGE

Just as mint juleps are the drink of the Kentucky Derby, beer was the official beverage of the Zap-in.

Most of the arriving cars showed up with six packs in the trunk. Even so, the 10,000 or so cases of beer stored in each of the two bars were quickly disappearing as the night wore on.

Paul's and Lucky's were filled, with students literally lined up to the ceilings of the small taverns. Piled on one another shoulder to shoulder, they danced to music they couldn't hear.

Newsboy's Toss Blacks Out Jackson

JACKSON (AP) — Consumers Power Co., says that because a paper boy tossed the wire band from his newspaper bundle into a substation, about one-fifth of Jackson's population lost its electric power Friday.

★ ★ ★

Jack Dyer, a spokesman for Consumers, said the metal band fell across two wires in the substation, short-circuiting the power system. The newspaper boy was not identified.

★ ★ ★

Doctor's Operation at Home Saves Son

PESCARA, Italy (UPI) — Dr. Rocco Tella saved his 4-year-old son from suffocation yesterday when he performed an emergency tracheotomy using a kitchen knife and a pair of scissors.

Hospital officials said Giuseppe Telle, recovering from measles and brochial pneumonia, suddenly was unable to breathe.

★ ★ ★

Tella, a radiologist, cut open his son's windpipe to let air get to the lungs, then rushed the child by car to the Pescara hospital where a throat specialist completed the operation.

Giuseppe is recovering and will be able to go home in a few days, a hospital spokesman said.

Children's Village Plans Before County Committee

A new Children's Village detention facility and a girls' work education unit for court wards is under consideration by the County Supervisors' Human Resources Committee.

The committee recommended the hiring of an architect to draw plans for both facilities at its meeting yesterday.

The girls' work education unit programs for 25 girls at a time.

STEPS PLANNED

Steps will also be taken to permanently reserve County Service Center property for future village expansion.

The committee also heard an appeal from the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity to appropriate funds for the continuance of an adult dental clinic and senior citizens program. Federal funds for the pilot projects ran out this year, according to Edward P. Revis, executive director.

The OCCEO estimated the dental clinics could be operated for $21,700 a year. Federal funds for the senior citizen program, amounting to $66,000 this year, will be unavailable in 1970, Revis reported. He said the dental clinic program is now in its final stages.

No action was taken by the committee. It expectes to hear an OCCEO plea for better transportation for the elderly at a later meeting.

Disciplined Teacher Sues

HIGHLAND PARK (AP)—A Highland Park High School teacher who was disciplined for telling police about a student's alleged witnessing of the New Bethel shootings, filed suit Friday against the school district.

Marlynn Marcks, 33, complained in Wayne County Circuit Court that the district acted unconstitutionally and in violation of her union contract by removing her from classroom duties.

Also named in the complaint were the Highland Park Board of Education and Paul H. Emerich, superintendent of schools. Judge Thomas J. Foley set a hearing for May 23.

The suit said that her "suspension and subsequent unlawful lockout" were "arbitrary and capricious" and violated her rights of free speech and other civil rights guaranteed under the U.S. Constitution.

The New Bethel shootings involved the killing of a white police officer and wounding of another outside a church where the black separatist group, Republic of New Africa, was holding a meeting March 29. Police stormed the church and several citizens were wounded.

Week to Pay Honor to Salvation Army

When the Roosevelt Hotel was destroyed by fire at the end of last summer, Salvation Army members spent the night and part of the next day providing clothing and shelter to the fire victims and serving coffee to the firemen.

In the early morning after the fire began 20 of the hotel's residents were housed at the Salvation Army Citadel, 29 W. Lawrence, which later became the official agency for handling inquiries regarding the location of former residents of the 42-year-old hotel.

★ ★ ★

This is an example of the many services provided by the Pontiac Salvation Army which will be nationally honored during National Salvation Army Week beginning Monday.

An agency of the Pontiac Area United Fund, the Salvation Army provides services for needy persons in Pontiac and all of Northern County.

SOCIAL PROGRAMS

Primarily a religious organization under the premise that man's phisical needs must be satisfied along with his spiritual needs.

The Salvation Army has a multiple and diversified program of religious services, character building activities, educational classes, group work and recreational activities for men, women and children.

Sound Barrier Is Broken by 'Flying Pie'

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Rocketing 10 miles high, space agency test pilot John A. Manke broke the sound barrier in a wingless, pie-shaped experimental aircraft.

"Beautiful," he said Friday after stepping from the HL10, being tested as part of a program to develop craft that can ferry men and supplies between earth and future space stations.

★ ★ ★

The craft hit a top of 724 miles per hour—1.1 times the speed of sound—after being dropped from a bomber.

This was the 17th flight for the HL10, but others were either unpowered glides or rocket-powered at subsonic speed.

★ ★ ★

The pilot shot to a peak altitude of 54,000 feet after igniting the rocket engine, and flew faster than sound for 37 of the 152 seconds of engine burn time.

We Salute the Mothers

Back in 1907, Mrs. ANNA JARVIS decided that something should be done for mothers. That was not to say that mothers hadn't been doing all right for themselves since the beginning of life, but the lady thought a little special acknowledgment was definitely in order.

So she picked the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day and the following year, in memory of her mother, was instrumental in inaugurating church recognition of the Day in two Pennsylvania cities.

★ ★ ★

In 1914, Mother's Day was given national status by President Woodrow Wilson, and the following year, on Congressional recommendation, the chief executive established it as an annual observance.

So much for the history of Mother's Day and the formal observance of it. But the spirit of it has ever been present in the hearts and minds of appreciative sons and daughters. That it does not find daily outlet is no reflection on the love and affection felt by children for their mothers.

But, like so many other good intentions, manifestations of filial devotion are allowed to languish and need to be stimulated by a prescribed date of remembrance.

★ ★ ★

So, boys and girls, tomorrow's the day to show Mother just what a superior being you think she is. It can be done in many ways, and mothers will be profoundly grateful for any of the forms the expression of sentiment may take.

★ ★ ★

Mothers ask so little in return for the much they give. Let's overwhelm them with heartfelt tokens of endearment.

Ray of Hope Seen for M59

As a longtime drum-beater for the widening of M59 to keep pace with the mounting traffic across Michigan's second most populous county and a frequent critic of the Oakland County Road Commission for inaction toward that end, we are glad to commend the commission for an initial step taken to improve the highway.

A special committee of the County Board of Supervisors will move on the State Highway Commission in an effort to get the starting date of a 1.4-mile widening project, originally scheduled for next spring, moved ahead by six months.

★ ★ ★

The project would extend the five-lane width of the highway from Airport Road to Williams Lake Road.

In the concept stage is a second stretch of M59 widening that would take the improved highway 14 miles further to its intersection with U.S. 23. From that point, however, to the all-important junction with I-96, the superb freeway to the western side of the State, there would still be a 12-mile bottleneck of two-lane roadway.

★ ★ ★

One should be thankful for small favors, and we are thankful for the prospects of an earlier start on the immediate M59 widening, however short the stretch. But neither the County nor State highway people should rest content until the entire route, over which pass 17,000 vehicles a day, is upgraded commensurably with the times.

Laser Beam in 'Holey' Role

When the laser—a method of producing an intense beam of concentrated light—was discovered a few years ago, there were ominous predictions that mankind was on the verge of perfecting a "death ray," the staple of so many science fiction stories and futuristic comic strips.

Mankind may yet go over that verge, but it is a pleasure to report that the first industrial, production-line application of the laser is for quite a different purpose.

★ ★ ★

In a technique developed by Alcoa and Laser Systems Corp., pulses of infrared energy from a laser are being use to—of all things—drill holes in rubber baby bottle nipples.

Small Faction Leads Campus Disorders

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

DIRKSEN

WASHINGTON—It is probable that a great majority of the students in campus disorders did so much in the rag-tail manner of people who appear from the sidelines to tag onto the last ranks of a parade.

You have seen it happen, as I have. As the parade goes by, a mixed group of adults and youngsters follows and actually becomes a part of it, and it invariably draws both hoots and cheers from the bystanders.

Only a very small group in the form of a very disruptive and determined minority is in the forefront of campus disorders. Others, stirred by the emotions of the moment, let themselves be caught up in the excitement. They then become part of the wrecking crew.

★ ★ ★

Under color of a dubious cause, or by joining the chorus that shouts out some grievance — fancied or real — they bring a sense of disorder to the entire academic community.

The ferment that is stirred up does not quickly subside. It boils out of the pot and spreads its contagion. It is bound to affect the emotions and singleness of purpose in which students pursue their academic and professional studies. It is, indeed, locigal to ask: How great will be the impact of today's campus rebellion on the future of the rebels?

★ ★ ★

The time will come when, after those students have left school, they will be faced with the challenges and responsibilities of adults. Suppose, in deciding on whether to hire an applicant for a position as engineer or teacher or accountant, that the prospective employer learns an applicant for the job came from a school which suffered tragic notoriety because disorder and rebellion reigned there for days or weeks, and that the applicant participated.

Consider the doubts that might arise concerning the fitness and the capacity of such a young person.

The remedies that are posed as a cure for the social malady of campus disorder do not appear to be promising.

There has been clamor to revoke the student loans of those students who participated in the disorders, and to withdraw the subsidies, benefits and loans from those schools where the authorities did not promptly put down the disorders and appeared, in fact, to be permitting them to continue.

It has been suggested that it might be just as well to resort to polite bribery by giving in to outlandish demands that are made, or to make concessions that would normally be regarded as unthinkable.

★ ★ ★

The first reaction stated above may be too harsh. The second is rank appeasement.

Disorder, seizure ordestruction of property, the display of guns and all offenses against society, whether committed on a college campus or in a city park, should be and must be dealt with for what they are:

A person who commits a trespass is arrested. A person who resists the draft is arrested. A person who breaks up the furniture and destroys the confidential files in a college administration hall is charged with the destruction of property. A person who incites violence is charged and tried.

★ ★ ★

Why should there be one rule for schools and campuses and another for the rest of society? Or shall campuses become sanctuaries where bad deeds can be done with no fear of punishment?

That's what the people back home are asking us here in Washington.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

Dr. Edward Mondlane died from an assassin's bomb Feb. 13, 1969 because he dared to carry the torch of freedom and justice for his people of Mozambique, Africa.

Born 48 years ago in southern Mozambique, the son of a tribal chief, Dr. Mondlane received his early education at a mission school and in Portugal. In 1951 he came to the United States on a crusade scholarship from the Methodist church. (He was a Presbyterian layman.) He attended Oberlin College and Northwestern University, where he majored in anthropology and sociology. After receiving a Ph. D. degree he did postgraduate work at Harvard University. He was for a while assistant professor of anthropology at Syracuse University.

Dr. Mondlane could have had the safe and comfortable life as a professor in the academic environment of a great university, but instead he returned to Africa in 1963 to found the Mozambique Liberation Front seeking to throw off Portuguese colonial rule in his homeland.

Dr. Mondlane was dedicated to the human equality and freedom of his people and all peoples. Although his quest was cut short, he serves as inspiration to others who will carry on the fight for men to live with dignity and purpose as God intended.

Confident Living:

Every Day Is Fresh Beginning

By NORMAN V. PEALE

A friend suddenly started practicing a drastically different attitude every morning. Result: He became a happy man and more capable, too.

DR. PEALE

Before this dramatic change his thoughts each morning focused on all the difficulties and irritations he expected that day. And since he expected them, he usually got them. At breakfast he would read the newspaper negatively, taking a pessimistic impression of everything in the news of the world. Daily he left home for the office in a gloomy, apprehensive mood.

But one morning his long-suffering wife, herself of a positive disposition, told him to snap out of it and skip those morning doldrums. She made the curious suggestion of using upbeat affirmations to recondition thinking to a positive outlook.

Her little speech astounded him. But she said it so sweetly that, instead of getting riled, he grudgingly agreed to give it a try. Then and there he memorized a short statement which his wife suggested and went to work repeating it to himself, and that morning things began to look up for him. To his astonishment the words began working in his mind like a tonic.

"I started that day with anticipation," he says, "and everything went so well all day that I decided maybe I'd better do the same every morning." He kept it up day after day. What was that magic affirmation he used? Here it is. "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." (Psalm 118)

"You don't change mental habits overnight," he says, "but gradually my life changed for the better by shifting from apprehension to anticipation."

Sustained anticipation tends to attract good things and lots of them. How well a situation works out for you depends in part upon whether you are mentally receptive to a good outcome. Life seems to be responsive to the expectant mind, to anticipation.

★ ★ ★

The ideal time for cultivating an anticipative attitude is as the day begins. An old English proverb declares, "Of a good beginning cometh a good end." You can do wonders for yourself by starting a day with an expectant attitude and optimistic thinking. Personally I start every morning with a prayer of thanksgiving for the blessings of life and the opportunity of a new day. Then I picture the day ahead as I confidently expect it to be.

★ ★ ★

I like the plan of a Connecticut businessman. Each morning after getting to his office and taking a look at his schedule, he spends a few moments in quiet meditation. This practice did so much for him that he wrote an article telling about it.

"I pray that I may be calm and orderly in my thinking, putting first things first and acting with confidence and enthusiasm. I pray for each client whom I am going to write to or see. I pray that I may understand them and that they will understand me and that we can merge our hearts and minds to the best interest of their families or their business.

"I have now followed this custom for several months and I can truly say it has greatly increased my capacity. I seem to be able to do twice as much work each day with half the nervous tension.

Want to have some fun every morning? Here's how. I do it every day and get a real kick from it. Pray that you may encounter someone you can help during the day. What happens may be a simple experience like this one: One day my wife needed some groceries right away and asked if I would go with her and help carry them home. When the things she purchased had been assembled on the counter, I stood watching the young clerk make out the sales slip. He seemed bored and glum and weary of it all. Then I noticed his handwriting. It was unusually beautiful script. Here was my opportunity. I said, "I've been watching you write that list."

★ ★ ★

"What's wrong with it?" he asked. (Touchy.)

"Nothing at all," I said. "It's not that. I'm impressed by how beautifully you write."

"What's that?" He looked up at me in surprise. "Nobody ever told me that before! You think I write good?"

"Just great."

You should have seen his face. His whole manner brightened up. He seemed to come alive. He even wanted to know if there was anything else he could do for us. As we went out the door he waved and I waved back. This small incident gave me a lift that affected all the rest of the day. I suspect it may have helped to make the day a good one for him too.

There's a Persian saying, "Every day is a fresh beginning, every morning is a world made new." It's really important how you start the day.

Several Opinions Given on Schools Teaching Sex

Recent letters urge parents to look into the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States. SIECUS consists of voluntary officers and a board of directors including religious leaders and professionals in sociology, religious research, public health, law, elementary education, psychology, nursing and psychiatry. The stated aim of SIECUS is "to establish man's sexualty as a health entity." There is no specific SIECUS program and SIECUS offers suggestions and information only when asked.

★ ★ ★

The John Birch Society and other groups are attacking sex education and SIECUS. These groups try to plant seeds of fear and distrust in parents' minds by stating that the entire story of sex is taught to five-year-olds. This is untrue; nor are second graders taught about contraception, as is also alleged. Wise parents will learn all sides of this important aspect of education.

MRS. ROGER PEARSON

Parents, it's time we become aware of what our schools are teaching. Our children are being subjected to films, literature and other sex material that could bring a complete breakdown of morality in this country. Schools tell us they cannot teach morality in conjunction with sex education in the classroom. Write your senator and congressman to let them know your views on this issue.

MRS. S. S.
WALLED LAKE

I am in favor of sex education. It helps you understand about things your parents are too embarrassed to talk to you about. We were taught for three days with boys and girls in different rooms, then for two days were mixed and we talked about sex very calmly. Nothing was taught that was offensive. Most kids think sex is supposed to be a beautiful act between man and wife. The adults who voiced opposition didn't know what they were talking about. People like that caused the generation gap.

Discusses Individuals' Right to Exercise Will

I am happy that Miss Perry says we can discriminate in choosing friends, clothing and residence. God has given us a free will to see if we would condemn or extoll ourselves with it. If this will is taken over by an institution such as our government, this institution has gone against God. Of course if people don't believe in God or Christianity, like the Communists, they would want to take over everyone's will. As long as you don't use it to kill, maim or rob someone, what you paid for—outside of taxes due—should be yours to exercise your will on.

'We Enjoyed Feature on Work of Teens'

All of us at Pontiac State Hospital were thrilled with Mrs. Anglemier's feature story regarding the All Saints Episcopal Church youth who volunteer at Pontiac State Hospital. We also thought Ron Unternahrer's pictures captured the anticipation, spontaneity and dedication these wonderful teen-agers direct toward their patient friends on Hall 2 and MS-5. It's refreshing and reassuring to learn about the good projects that the majority of teen-agers are involved in. The Pontiac Press has the happy faculty of bringing these positive facts to the public attention.

Discusses Advice of Representative Smart

Representative Smart's advice to the Waterford school system and the alacrity with which Dr. Tatroe promised to respond to it, is discouraging to the taxpayers. Mr. Smart is advising the schools to create a debt and thereby tax the property owners over the constitutional limit in spite of the decision of the voters in the last three school elections. Waterford voters have clearly indicated that they prefer austerity to additional taxes.

Question and Answer

Why are Consumers Power trucks allowed to park at the parking lot behind Waterford Township Hall during the strike? Are Waterford taxpayers paying for police protection given these trucks?

JOANN M. SCHWARTZ
CLARKSTON

REPLY

Waterford police are obligated to protect life and property in the township. A number of Consumers supervisors live in the township and were on emergency call, so they had to have their trucks at home. There were incidents of sabotage and molotov bombing took place in a truck parked between two homes, endangering lives and property. As a matter of public safety, the trucks were allowed to park for a time in the lot because cars were not available to patrol all the homes involved.

Question and Answer

Where can one obtain a mobile X-ray unit schedule? I've been watching the paper for the next location but haven't seen anything about it for quite a while.

DELORES VOGLER
2128 KNOLLWOOD

REPLY

Mobile X-ray units have not been in the County for some time, and none is scheduled at this time. However, you may have a chest X ray taken at the Oakland County Health Department on North Telegraph Road Monday through Friday, 8:30-11 a.m., 1-4 p.m. If it is an exam for job application, etc., which requires a written report, there is a $2 fee. Otherwise, there is no charge for routine X rays.

Plan Urged to Block State Senate Protest

LANSING (AP) The chairman of the Senate committee investigating campus disorders called Friday for a "disaster plan" to handle any attempt by protesters to take over the Senate chamber.

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, cited a recent take-over of the Colorado Senate and said a check with legislative leaders showed Michigan had no plan of defense if it happened here.

If the "great unwashed" tried a similar demonstration in Michigan, he said, "We certainly ought to know exactly what we're going to do."

Huber revealed the disaster plan proposal during a news conference on action of his committee during its four months of work.

The interim report — billed as an attempt to allay fears of those who believed "the Legislature is fiddling while the state's higher education system is burning" — included a promise that the committee would not engage in "witch-hunting or McCarthyism" as critics had suggested.

A "key point" in the investigation, Huber said, would be a check into the possibility of subversiveness on campuses.

★ ★ ★

"There are some subversive elements operating on campuses," said committee member George Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield Township.

Asked if that information were outlined in a State Police briefing to a closed committee session, Huber said:

"I'm not in a position to discuss the State Police report. . . we must respect the confidence that has been expressed to us.

MOVING CAUTIOUSLY

"We haven't proved anything yet," Huber added.

The committee was moving "very cautiously, very slowly to see that what we do is within the boundaries of the United States and state constitutions," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I have nothing earthshaking to tell you. We're beginning to probe . . . hours and hours of work," he said pointing to a two-inch thick stack of reports and testimony from some 60 persons. "That's all we have."

Huber announced that Dr. Tom Emmet, president of the Higher Education Executive Associates of Detroit, representing a consortium of educators throughout the nation, would be working with the committee.

In addition, Huber said, a group of some 40 educators and students would act as an advisory body to the Senate committee.

House Passes Bill Requiring Cycle Helmets

LANSING (AP) — Believing it is right and the courts are wrong, the Michigan House has passed a bill that would require motorcyclists to wear crash helmets.

The bill further specifies the crash helmets must be worn on the rider's head, not on his bike's handlebars or back seat.

A similar law, enacted in 1967, was ruled unconstitutional in the state on grounds it violates personal freedom — even if to live dangerously.

Rep. Loren Anderson, R-Waterford Township, sponsor of the bill said courts "had to take this thing cold" in the face of pressure from the American Motorcycle Association at a time when only three states required helmets. Since then, 40 states have added the requirement, he said.

Lawyer legislators opposed the bill as sure to be held unconstitutional and thus not worth adopting. Rep. Thomas Brown, R-Lansing, offered an amendment to require cyclists to wear an "illuminous strip six inches above the shoulders. That might encourage helmets he said, and wouldn't hamper personal freedom.

But most of the lower chamber agreed with Rep. James Heinze, R-Battle Creek, that the bill, if enacted, would "give the courts an opportunity to reverse themselves" and promote safety.

UAW, Teamsters to Meet on Alliance

DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of the United Auto Workers union and the Teamsters union reportedly are planning to meet in Washington this week to discuss strengthening their alliance.

★ ★ ★

Detroit radio station WJR said Friday that the conference will be held May 27-28. The two giant independent unions have an informal working alliance.

★ ★ ★

Observers from other unions, including the large International Rubber Workers, are expected to attend the conference.

Kuhn Explains Tax Proposal

LANSING (UPI) — A state senator proposing a constitutional amendment to freeze the Michigan income tax at its present level claims this is an attempt to avoid "a serious problem with the taxpayer revolt."

Republican George Kuhn of West Bloomfield Township said the income tax is "dangerous" because it has no formal limitation and can be raised at any time by a vote of the Legislature.

"If it is constitutionally limited, any attempt to raise it then would have to be submitted to the voters," he explained.

KENNETH BOOTH

Athlete-Cellist Teen of Week

Kenneth Booth, a ninth grader at Jefferson Junior High School, has been selected as this week's Pontiac Teen of the Week.

Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Booth of 212 Fulton, is a three-year honor roll student, and a two-time city wrestling champion in his division.

He is also a member of the Varsity Club, the varsity football and track teams and a cellist in the All-City Junior High School Honors Orchestra.

Kenney plans to attend college in preparation for a career either as an architect or a teacher.

In response to questions concerning the black man's American dilemma, Kenny said as people." He said a good education, both social and academic on the part of all races would be a big step in that direction.

Students Stage Mock Depression, See 'How It Was'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Fremont Junior High School students endured a mock Great Depression this week in an experiment aimed at increasing understanding between the generations.

Each of the youngsters was to spend only 25 cents for the week. They walked to school, washed their socks and underwear each night with bar soap and ate beans, hot dogs, hamburgers, lettuce sandwiches and boiled potatoes.

★ ★ ★

Two hundred students started the experiment Monday on the suggestion of Mrs. Marcella Othus, eighth grade social studies teacher. About 150 continued

"The goal of the experiment is to increase understanding between the generations," said Mrs. Othus in a letter to parents.

"For once your child may be ready to hear how it was when you were a kid," she said.

She allowed only conveniences available in 1930. For the girls that meant no pastel lipsticks, hair spray, plastic curlers or hair dryers.

It also meant no television.

"But what gets to me is not being able to play my stereo records," said Jon Goodling, student body president.

Two girls asked Mrs. Othus if they could eat candy bars and The teacher said yes and the girls ran to a candy machine.

"But remember," Mrs. Othus shouted after them, "if you spend 10 cents for a candy bar, that will leave a big hole in your allowance of 25 cents a week."

That was one of the good cookies during the Depression. things about the Great Depression, the girls said. In those days candy bars cost a nickel or less.

The students were given a clothing list, but many chose to wear clothes that had been stored in their parents' attics since the 1930s.

Underwear and socks were the only clothing they had to wash by hand.

'STIFF AND ITCHY'

"Some of the students have been complaining that their clothes are stiff and itchy," Mrs. Othus said. "They're not wringing all the soap out."

One mother wrote to Mrs. Othus: "As a child of the Great Depression, I hope your week will stress the fact that we were materially short but not really mentally depressed. What you've never had, you don't miss."

★ ★ ★

The students won't receive a grade for the week. They will get a reward—a free Laurel and Hardy movie during class time.

Lions' Friend Faces 'Heartbreaking' Task

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — George Adamson, whose wife wrote "Born Free," is under orders to drive away three favorite lions and make them fear him and other humans.

A retired game warden, Adamson set out several years ago to save a group of lions from going to the zoo after they had appeared in the movie of his wife's book.

Three lions called Boy, Girl and Ugus have lived in peace and amity with Adamson for the past five years. He has a camp at Mugwongo, in Meru National Park about 180 miles from Nairobi. The camp is fenced to keep the lions out, but he built a platform outside for them to sun themselves.

Nine lions hang around there, and Adamson has recorded their daily activities in notebooks and on film.

Boy, Girl and Ugus came to Adamson for food and affection.

There had been pressure before for Adamson to part with the lions, the idea being that while he knew how to handle them, they might approach other humans who wouldn't. Then Boy injured the young son of Peter Jenkins, park warden at Meru, and the board of directors of Kenya's national parks directed that Adamson drive the three lions away after teaching them to distrust man.

"Instilling this fear in the lions will be very difficult and particularly so for me," Adamson said. "Anybody who has owned a dog might understand that to have to start kicking it around is not easy.

"It is exactly the same with my lions. It is quite heartbreaking to have to do this."

Adamson's savings and his limited game warden's pension have gone into his camp.

There he has been observing the lions' habits. Some of his scenes were shown in a documentary on his work, "The Lions Are Free," shown recently in the United States and England.

He likes to talk to, walk with and pat Boy, Girl and Ugus, a one-eyed lion.

His camp is within 20 miles of where Elsa, the lioness his wife made famous, was born and died. Her book "Born Free," tells of Adamson's life as a bartender, milk vendor, gold prospector, plantation hand and game warden.

He said in the book:

"It is something remarkable that creatures which are traditionally man's enemies and among the strongest and fiercest on earth can through kindness and understanding respond with unbounded trust and affection while leading their normal lives.

"It is my hope that I may be permitted to continue my association with them indefinitely."

Adamson says if his efforts to drive away the lions fail, he will ask permission from the government to take the lions out of Kenya, perhaps to Ethiopia.

Lack of Ammo Stalls Plan to Familiarize GIs With Red Rifle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's plan to train recruits in the use of the main infantry rifle carried by the Vietcong and North Vietnamese has been stalled because of a lack of adequate ammunition.

As one Army training officer said, "Procurement is a little slow—we have to capture our supplies from the enemy."

★ ★ ★

The Army announced last Oct. 8 that Gen. William C. Westmoreland, its chief of staff, had instructed training centers to include familiarization with the Russian-designed AK47 assault rifle for recruits.

"In addition to the added touch of realism, this will give the soldier experience in safe handling of enemy weapons which he may find or capture on the battlefield," the October announcement said.

NOT GOING YET

A recent tour of Army bases however, disclosed the program still isn't off the drawing board The Army gave this reason why: "The lack of safe certified ammunition has contributed materially to the delay in carrying out the program.

Captured ammunition must be tested and certified by U.S. Army experts as safe for firing by American soldiers, which officers said is a time — consuming process.

★ ★ ★

The Army now reports it has about 40,000 rounds of AK47 ammunition on hand, but needs about 94,000 rounds every three months for the initial phase of training. It is not considered economical to manufacture the comparatively small amount of ammunition needed, the Army said.

★ ★ ★

Seven months after the program's original launch date, the Army says now it anticipates delivery of an additional 100,000 rounds of AK47 ammo by the end of May. If schedules are met and the bullets pass safety inspection, the Army added, the program will be started by summer.

REVIEWS STUDY — David Somers (left) of 5835 Flemings Lake, Clarkston, looks over study material required in Christian Service Brigade with Dalep Karem of 5674 Everest, Clarkston. Karem, a leader in the brigade, worked with David who received the Herald of Christ Award Sunday at Maranatha Baptist Church. The two young men plan to enter the Baptist ministry.

Studying for Ministry

Achieves Brigade Rank

During morning service at Maranatha Baptist Church, David G. Somers became the 312th young man to achieve the Herald of Christ rank in the Christian Service Brigade.

This was the climax of 11 years of participating in the program of Brigade, an international organization operating throughout the United States and Canada.

Beginning in 1937, Brigade now numbers more than 3,200 battalions with more than 60,000 boys and young men enrolled.

The difficulty of the Herald for Christ achievement can be seen, in the relatively few young men who have earned it, Pastor Philip Somers said.

Along with Brigade activities David sings in both the Senior and Youth choirs of his church, plays cornet in the Instrumental Ensemble, and is currently completing his freshman year at Detroit Bible College where he is training for fulltime Christian work.

AWARD PIN

The Hearld of Christ pin was awarded David by the Rev. Elgin Green, area representative of Christian Service Brigade.

The committee of Maranatha Church presented David with a New Testament imprinted with his name and rank, and a scroll of honor.

A permanent trophy has been established by Battalion No. 2864 upon which will be engraved the names of all members who attain the Herald of Christ rank.

Brigade leader Dalep Karem supervised David's work. Both Karem and David are preparing for the ministry at Detroit Bible College. David is the son of the Rev. Philip W. Somers Sr., pastor of the Maranatha Church.

IN CLARKSTON—The new addition to Clarkston United Methodist church (at left) will be consecrated during morning worship tomorrow. The new building constructed at an approximate cost of $350,000 will provide 12 Sunday School class rooms, social hall, kitchen, storage rooms, and rest room facilities, office, nursery, library and bride's room. The church is located at 6600 Waldon.

Clarkston Church to Be Consecrated

The Rev. Hugh C. White, superintendent of the Flint District of the United Methodist Church, will officiate at the consecration of the new education unit to the Clarkston United Methodist Church, 6600 Waldon, Clarkston at the 10 a.m. worship service tomorrow.

Pastor Frank A. Conadd and the Rev. James C. Braid, associate pastor, will assist.

FOUNDED IN 1837

Methodism in the village of Clarkston started with class meetings in homes of residents by Jeremiah and Nelson Clark back in 1836 just five years after the village was founded.

In the year 1840 Silas Smith, a carpenter and local preacher, started a Methodist Church. A wooden frame structure was built on the site of the old church in 1841 but the building was not completed until 1847.

★ ★ ★

It was used during the years for worship even though there were no windows. The membership at that time was 35.

The cornerstone of the old brick church, still standing on the corner of Buffalo and Church, was laid June 1, 1873. It was built at a cost of $9,000.

The 100-foot spire was removed from the old church in 1906 for safety reasons.

In 1930 the church suffered extensive damage by fire. Much of the interior was replaced.

Fifty-three ministers have served the church from 1840 to 1967.

A new Georgian Colonial Church was constructed and consecrated on a seven-acre site two blocks from the old church Sept. 17, 1961 at a cost of $450,000.

★ ★ ★

The new church was dedicated in Feb. 18, 1968. Construction began on the new educational unit in July 1968.

★ ★ ★

Howard Huttenlocher, building chairman, was assisted by Harold Bauer, Curtis Bishop, Everett Butters, Allen E. Hawke, Richard Huttenlocher, Meta Irwin, Richard Johnston, Keith Leak, Robert Morse, Philip Smith and Ronald Spohn.

Conference Slated

The Michigan Sunday School Association and Greater Pontiac Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship will sponsor the Christian Workers' Conventionette on May 17 in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, 404 Oakland.

The conference will open with a general session at 2:30 p.m. Workshops are scheduled for the afternoon. At 5:45 p.m. some 200 men and women will gather for a banquet. Reservations must be in by Thursday to the church office.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. A. Eugene Hudgons, director of christian education of the First Church of the Nazarene, Detroit, will bring the message, "Great Churches and How They Got There" at the final session at 7 p.m.

Music throughout the day will be under the supervision of the Rev. Rober Messner of First Baptist Church.

Questions regarding the events during the day may be directed to Ivan Hamel, Sunday School superintendent of the host church.

Organ Recital at All Saints Tomorrow

John Ditto, organist and choirmaster of North Congregational Church, Southfield, and candidate for a degree of master of arts at the University of Michigan, will play his graduation recital at All Saints Episcopal Church, Williams and Pike at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Ditto began his musical studies at the age of six, studying piano at the Conservatory of Music, University of Missouri.

The congregation will get together for a parish dinner at 6:30 Thursday evening. The Liturgy of the Lord's Supper will precede the dinner at 5:30 p.m.

The Madrigal Group of Pontiac Central High School directed by Gilbert Jackson will perform as will a Brass ensemble from Washington Junior High School.

Thomas Irish will show the film, "The Year of the Tigers."

Mother's Day Marks 40th Anniversary

Mother's Day and the 40th anniversary of the first meeting of the Sunday School of Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church will be celebrated during the 11 a.m. worship service tomorrow.

Ronald Salow, Sunday School superintendent, will offer morning prayer and Pastor F. William Palmer will preach on "The Church: People Indebted to People."

★ ★ ★

Members of the Sunday School staff will attend the convention sponsored by the Michigan Sunday School Association at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church on May 17.

Rally Tonight

Oakland Youth for Christ is sponsoring a rally at 7:30 tonight in Pontiac Northern High School. The Kalamazoo Trumpet Trio will perform and Norman Clothier, director of YFC, will draw a chalk picture with several lighting effects.

Revival Begins

A revival with the theme "Come Back to Mother's Prayers" will begin tomorrow at the East Side Church of God, 343 Irwin. Services starting at 7:30 p.m. will continue through May 23.

Fear not that thy life shall come to an end, but rather fear that it shall never have a beginning. — John Henry Cardinal Newman.

Honor Mothers at Worship, Banquets

There will be sermons, music and skits in Pontiac area churches as sons and daughters honor mothers tomorrow — Mother's Day.

Husbands and sons will honor mothers and daughters as they serve at breakfasts and banquets during the week.

The first Mother's Day service was held in a little Methodist Church in West Virginia on May 10, 1908.

The movement soon spread until in 1914, President Woodrow Wilson put his signature to a joint resolution of Congress, designating Mother's Day as a national observance.

New Bethel

The Senior Choir of New Bethel Baptist Church will sponsor the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at 7 tonight in the church dining hall. Mrs. Robert Turpin will introduce Mrs. Harry L. Riggs, guest speaker.

Presenting solos will be Karen Anne Lane and Kathy Davenport.

Ascension

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women of Ascension, Waterford Township, is set for 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Carl Sandburg School, 1355 Merry, Waterford Township.

Following the dinner a narrated skit, "The Portrait of a Girl," will be presented by mothers and daughters.

The skit will review the life of a typical Christian girl through the important events of her life.

Reservations for the banquet are being taken by Mrs. Walter Latozas.

First Presbyterian

"How Do We Honor Mothers?" will be the theme of the Rev. Galen E. Hershey's sermon at First Presbyterian Church at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

An octette composed of Mary Lou Tolbert, Rose Marie McColl, Alice Brown, June Schlesser, Audley Bailey, Craig Everett, John Ward, and Royce Everett, will sing "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" by Walton.

Evangel Temple

There will be a gift for every mother during morning worship tomorrow at Evangel Temple, 1380 University. There will also be a special award for the Mother of the Year.

Gift wrapped packages will be presented the youngest mother, the oldest mother, the newest mother and the mother with the largest family present.

Mrs. Arthur Jackson, teacher of the Pontiac Public School System and member of New Bethel Baptist Church, will be guest speaker at the Mother-Daughter Banquet at 7:30 p.m. on May 17.

Friendship

The Missionary Society of Friendship Missionary Baptist Church will sponsor the 3:30 p.m. program tomorrow with Mrs. Curlie Kincade and Mrs. Dorothy Brown, guest speakers.

Hostess Part to Be Played by Non-Relative

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have offered our home for a wedding in June. The bride has been very dear to us. Both young people have limited finances. Their parents, however, are paying for the wedding.

I will not know personally any of the wedding guests aside from the immediate families. Could you advise me as to what part I should take on the day of the wedding? — Melissa

★ ★ ★

Dear Melissa: Your question is of special interest to me because two years ago my husband and I gave a similar wedding for a girl who had helped us with our children and was like a daughter to us.

★ ★ ★

Your part is solely that of hostess. Even though you do not know the guests, you and your husband should stand near the entrance, greeting and introducing yourselves to all arrivals. The actual receiving line, consisting of the couple and their parents, should be formed a few steps beyond you.

★ ★ ★

Unless they insist that you join them, do not sit at the parents' table (if there is one). Arrange a second table nearby for you and your husband, your family and close friends of yours who are also fond of the bride.

Otherwise, your duties are those of every hostess — to see that the guests and the bridal party are having a wonderful time.

Political Scene Favors Nixon-Goldwater Match

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some sentimentalists predicted tonight's masked ball at the White House may be the start of a new top level romance.

Tricia Nixon, 23, invited 30-year-old Rep. Barry M. Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., to be her escort at the party. The newest freshman in congress accepted, and tongues promptly began to wag.

President Nixon's younger daughter, Julie, was married last winter to David Eisenhower, grandson of the 1954-60 Republican president. What could be more appropriate than for Tricia to be wooed and won by the son of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, defeated GOP presidential candidate in the 1964 election?

★ ★ ★

An aide to the congressman suggested the engagement tonight was simply that, and nothing more.

"It's not a date," he emphasized. "Not a date, at all."

Goldwater merely accepted the invitation to serve as escort for a pretty young lady, the aide said, and that was all there was to it.

FIRST DATE

Friends said Tricia and young Goldwater have known one another for several years but never been out together. They were guests together with their parents at a Sunday outing this week at the home of Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., — perhaps that's when they made arrangements for tonight.

Tricia said she never had been to a masked ball, although she had wanted to for many years. That, she said, was why she decided to have one as her first big party in the White House.

Julie and David came down from Massachusetts, where both are attending college, for the affair and to observe Mother's Day with Mrs. Nixon Sunday.

NOSTALGIC MOMENTS

The ball will provide nostalgic moments for former president Lyndon B. Johnson's daughters, Lynda Bird Robb and Luci Nugent. It will be their first trip back to the White House since Nixon took the presidential oath last Jan. 20 and their husbands returned from service in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Marine Maj. and Mrs. Charles S. Robb are house-hunting near the Pentagon, where he has been assigned to a procurement division. Patrick J. Nugent returned to work in the Johnson business enterprise when he completed his tour of duty as an Airman First Class.

Dad's Behavior Could Make Daughter Leave Home Soon

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have never written to you before, but then I have never had a 16-year-old daughter before either.

Gloria has had a couple of movie dates, but the boy's parents took them and brought them home.

Last Sunday another boy, who has been to our home several times, asked Gloria's Daddy if he could take Gloria to the prom. To everyone's surprise, Dad said yes, and Gloria has been thrilled ever since.

★ ★ ★

Now the problem: Last night this boy came by and as he was leaving Dad saw him kiss Gloria goodnight. Now Dad says Gloria can't go to the prom with this boy unless he (Dad) takes them and brings them home. Gloria says she would rather stay home.

I say, Dad's taking them is better than not going at all. Don't you think Gloria should be allowed to go with this boy in his car? They planned to double with another couple. TORN MOM

DEAR TORN: I don't blame Gloria for not wanting her Dad to chauffeur her and her date to the prom. Better tell Dad that if Gloria has had the proper upbringing he won't have to worry about her behavior at age 16. And if he insists on chaperoning her much longer not to be surprised if Gloria decides to move out of the house at the earliest possible moment.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A month ago last Monday, my younger brother (he was 60) passed away after a lingering illness. He had been sick for two years and his last months were spent in a hospital. I went to visit him very often and brought him many things to cheer him up.

Last week I received a letter from my husband's widow, THANKING me for being so "kind" to her husband.

I am very hurt. Abby this man was MY beloved brother for 30 years before he was her husband, and I do not have to be "thanked" for being "kind" to him during his illness.

I want to tell this sister-in-law exactly how I feel, but my children say I should let it go. Well, I am not going to let it go. Am I wrong? GRIEVING SISTER

DEAR SISTER: I think you are. Apparently when your sister-in-law was writing her "thank you" messages, she remembered your many kindnesses and did not want to slight you. Let it go. Your sister-in-law has enough to worry about right now.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I think you missed the point in the letter from "Worried" whose husband was overly friendly to his sister-in-law, and said it was done by the Eskimos.

The key was in the last sentence: "I answer his needs every time he asks me."

Abby, if wives could only realize that a husband needs a little enthusiastic cooperation now and then. Why should he have to ASK? A husband wants to be chased around the bedroom and know that he is answering his wife's needs, too.

Any woman who waits for her husband to "ask" her has no kick coming if he answers the needs of some outside ladies who will certainly let him know they "need" him and will appreciate his answering those needs.

So, Dear Abby, please tell wives to use a little initiative occasionally, and don't wait to be "asked" — or they may be too late. R. B. HOUSTON

DEAR R. B.: Thank you for the "key," which unlocks one of the most important locks of wedlock.

Baroness Trapp III

SALZBURG, Austria (UPI) — Baroness Maria Agusta Trapp, 64, mother of the Trapp Family Singers, was hospitalized Friday hours after meeting Queen Elizabeth II of England. The woman's physician refused to discuss the nature of her illness. The story of the Trapp family was the basis for the film "The Sound of Music."

Queen 'David' Reigns for a Day

EDINBORO, Pa. (UPI) — A brawny, 6-foot-3 young man was elected May Queen by the students at Edinboro State College, but a school officials disqualified him on a technicality.

David Merridan, 22, a senior from Pittsburgh, who campaigned for queen to spite the fraternities and sororities which sponsor the annual event, was elected by a landslide Friday. He captured 60 per cent of the vote as a write-in candidate.

Emil Magdik, director of the college union, voided Merridan's ballots because he said the young man campaigned at nights after the women's curfew. Magdik said Merridan had an "unfair advantage" over the women candidates.

The runnerup, Elaine Buchovich, 19, a freshman, also of Pittsburgh, was crowned at the annual May dance Friday night after Merridan conceded.

True-to-Life Script for Widow

By BETTY CANARY
NEA Writer

This is the Year of the Widows on television and I have been watching the programs starring Doris Day, Diahann Carroll, Hope Lange and Lucille Ball just to see how they would handle the problems of widowhood.

Alas, I should have known they would not be confronted with any of the real problems.

Diahann Carroll has had to face up to some minor racism but there's nothing she can't handle with a snap of the fingers. Miss Ball and her teenagers have only minor conflicts with each other and apparently none with the outside world. Doris Day, equipped with two adorable sons, is as sweet as ever and Hope Lange types away at her job as a writer and copes beautifully with the help of children, maid-companion and fluffy dog.

I'd like to see one of them cope with a Father-Daughter banquet. Or have a child turn on them with resentment because there is no father in the house.

For comedy relief, we could have our star — let's call her Irene — invited to a dinner party. She had to be asked because she and dear old Harry were part of the crowd for years and friends have to be sympathetic, don't they? Of course, having her does make the seating arrangement difficult. And, it is rather embarrassing the way all Irene's old friends clutch at their husbands when she walks in alone.

Well, not all of them. Seemingly, the wives of the very dullest men are the most defensive here. But, the real problem is that Irene walks in ALONE. As though she doesn't understand that the world is set up on a couple-basis.

Not only has Irene suddenly, in the eyes of her best friends, become a femme fatale the minute the funeral flowers faded, but she also is a nuisance. It isn't really anything she DOES. It is just that one feels sort of responsibile for her.

★ ★ ★

And there are times when she actually resents it! She seems to think it rude and peculiar when a friend asks questions about how much money Harry had in insurance. Think how strangely she reacted when asked if she really needed to buy that new winter coat! Of course, one wouldn't have thought of asking such a personal question last winter, but that was BEFORE and things have CHANGED.

★ ★ ★

As the season goes on, Irene might find herself weighing her words carefully on our show. She will not dare tell that hilarious story about the cat pulling down the window shade in the dining room because she will know the reaction of some listeners will be, "Irene wants my husband to come over and fix that window and he won't do a thing for ME."

★ ★ ★

Our star can give her friends a change of pace—if she cares to bother with it. She can laugh and perhaps enjoy an hour at a party so her companions can express their How Could You! feelings.

MRS. TED GIRTMAN

Two Couples Note Recent Nuptial Vows

Following a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home in Cherrypointe, N.C., where he is stationed.

Brazel-Burns

No Tigers' Chance With Twins Dean

DETROIT (AP)—With six .300 hitters in the Minnesota lineup it would seem like the Detroit Tigers wouldn't have had a chance Friday night.

They didn't — and they also didn't have a Chance by the name of Dean.

★ ★ ★

Chance and two relievers combined to pitch a four-hitter as the Twins raked four Tiger pitchers for 12 hits to beat Detroit 6-2.

It was Minnesota's 10th victory in the last 11 games, while Detroit lost its seventh game in the last 11.

Why haven't the Tigers been hitting?

"Tonight it was Dean Chance," said Detroit catcher Bill Freehan bluntly, sidestepping the question of other recent meager team hitting perofrmances.

"If he pitches like that all the time he goes out there he'll win 99 per cent of his games," said Twins Manager Billy Martin. "Tonight was the freest I've seen him throw all year."

ARM TROUBLE

It was Chance's first start since he was sidelined two weeks ago with arm trouble. He blanked the Tigers on two hits until the seventh inning, when Jim Northrup tagged a two-run homer after Norm Cash walked. Bob Miller protected Chance's third victory without a loss with ninth inning help from Ron Perranoski.

Earl Wilson lasted only 3⅓ innings and took the loss.

Chance struck out seven in his 6⅔ innings and retired 18 of the first 21 men he faced. Last year he was the winningest pitcher against Detroit with a 4-1 record.

Excluding the pitcher, the eight players who started for the Twins Friday were hitting a cumulative average of .316 on 197 hits in 624 at bats. Only two players were under .300 — leftfielder Graig Nettles was at .286 and first baseman Rich Reese at .269.

POTENT BATS

Here were the other averages going into the game: shortstop Loe Cardenas, .305; second basemen Rod Carew, .395; third baseman Harmon Killebrew .313; rightfielder Tony Oliva, .314; catcher John Roseboro, .320; and centerfielder Ted Uhlaender, .304.

★ ★ ★

For Detroit only substitute infielder Tom Matchick, who started at second base, was hitting more than .300. He was at .346, while rightfielder Al Kaline was hitting .296 at game time.

Denny McLain 4-3 was scheduled to start for the Tigers tonight in a rare Saturday night game. Dave Boswell 3-3 was the probable starter for the Twins, who are now 18-8 atop the West Division of the American League. Detroit is six games behind Baltimore in the East Division with a 12-15 record.

Ex-Tiger Pitchers Shine With Seattle, Kansas City

Marshall Turns on Speed in 2-0 Win Over Nats

SEATTLE (AP) — Michael Grant Marshall, the Seattle Pilot who has two college degrees and is pursuing a third, passed the pitching test handily Frdiay night with a two-hit, 2-0 victory over Washington with a switch in tactics.

★ ★ ★

"I'm known as a breaking-ball pitcher," said Marshall, B.A., M.A. from Michigan State with a Ph.D in the works. "This time Sal Maglie suggested I throw more fast balls."

★ ★ ★

Maglie, pitching coach for the Pilots, reported later that Marshall — one-time Detroit Tiger relief pitcher — threw only 117 times to the frustrated Senators and 75 of the tosses were fast. He struck out only three and walked four — giving three passes to Mike Epstein — but kept the visitors hitting ground balls to the infield for cozy outs.

★ ★ ★

However, Frank Howard did hammer a blast to the 400-foot mark on the outfield wall in the third for half of Washington's hits.

LONG SINGLE

"I misjudged it," said Seattle center fielder Wayne Comer. "I took one step in and it was over my head. You know — I could have been killed by the rebound." Howard was held to a single.

★ ★ ★

Epstein got the other hit in the ninth, a hard smash off second baseman Tommy Harper's glove.

5 Errors in Inning

Yankees Help A's

OAKLAND (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer of the Oakland A's had to admit that the New York Yankees didn't play baseball when he was with them like they did at Oakland Coliseum Friday night.

The Yankees committed five errors—all in one inning—as the Oakland A's came from behind to win 3-2.

★ ★ ★

Bauer, who starred on nine Yankee pennant-winning teams was amazed the way his old team threw the ball wildly around the field.

★ ★ ★

"We wouldn't have been up there every year if we played like that," he said.

Rookie third-baseman Bobby Murcer made two of the errors and pitcher Mel Stottlemyre, first baseman Joe Pepitone, and second baseman Horace Clarke each made one.

ONE EARNED

Despite all the errors one of the two Oakland runs in the fifth inning was earned. Sandwiched in with all the goofs were a pair of singles and a walk. One of the singles came off the bat of Tommy Reynolds who has hit safely in 12 straight games.

The winning pitcher was Chuck Dobson who never before defeated the Yankees in his four seasons in the majors. He had lost three straight to New York.

★ ★ ★

"Sure, I knew I hadn't beaten them before," Dobson said. "Everytime I faced them I'm aware of it and usually try too hard. This time I was more relaxed."

Dobson gave up eight hits but did not walk a man in evening his season record at 3-3. Dobson couldn't recall any other game in his major league career in which he did not walk a batter.

Prep's 4:06.9 Mile Best of '69 Season

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — Steve Prefontaine, holder of the national prep two-mile record, ran the mile in 4:06.9 Friday, fastest high school time in the nation this year.

★ ★ ★

The 5-9½, 145-pound runner from Marshfield High School in Coos Bay established the national prep mark in the two-mile two weeks ago with a time of 8:41.5. His mile time was the 16th best in prep history. Jim Ryun, now a senior at Kansas, holds the prep record of 3:55.3.

Drago Pitches Royals to Win Over Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Drago always wondered why the Detroit Tigers never recalled him from the minor leagues for at least a late-season trial. Now, the Tigers may be wondering.

The 23-year-old rookie of the Kansas City Royals, plucked from the Tigers in the expansion draft, pitched his second straight complete game victory Friday night and beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-2.

★ ★ ★

After hurling a no-hitter through six innings, Drago suddenly fell behind 2-1 in the seventh inning on just four pitches —singles by Paul Blair and Frank Robinson and a two-run double by Boog Powell.

But the upstart Royals came from behind for the 13th time in their 15 victories, scoring three runs in the ninth on a two-run pinch double by Mike Fiore and a suicide squeeze bunt by Drago.

NEVER CALLED

"For some reason, Detroit never brought him up," Kansas City Manager Joe Gordon said of Drago, who won 15 games in each of the past three minor league seasons.

Boston Bounces Angels With Big Ninth Inning

ANAHEIM (AP)—The Boston Red Sox go after their seventh straight victory with their winningest pitcher tonight in the second of a three-game series with California.

Power and the big inning, which characterized the 1967 American League champion Red Sox, made their presence felt again Friday night, Boston scored five runs in the ninth inning to rip the Angels, 7-2.

★ ★ ★

Mike Andrews tripled with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth, then Carl Yastrzemski followed with his seventh home run of the year.

Tonight right hander Ray Culp, 5-1, risks a 2-0 lifetime record against the Angels. Culp has also worked more innings this year than any other Boston pitcher. Jim McGlothlin, 2-2, starts for the Angels.

Knuckle-baller Hoyt Wilhelm came on for the Angels in the eighth inning, after the Angels pinch-hit for starter Andy Messersmith. He served up the 3-2 pitch, a fast ball, which Andrews slammed to the wall in right center field for the triple.

George Brunet promptly replaced Wilhelm, and Yaz greeted him with a booming home run over the right field wall.

Wilhelm found himself with the bases loaded after George Scott stroked a long fly ball to right field that Lou Johnson, back-pedaling, dropped for a two-base error, hit pinch-hitter George Thomas with a pitch and walked Dalton Jones.

SIDESTEPPING—Detroit Tigers' pitcher John Hiller does some sidestepping to get out of the way of Minnesota's Tony Oliva who was already put out at first base. Hiller took a throw from Norm Cash on the play. The Tigers lost the game last night, 6-2.

Trying to Agree on Three-Team Shift to AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro football's tireless club owners struggled through the night with the problem of realignment, continuing past the 24 - hour mark early today in an attempt to find three National Football League teams to move into the American Football League.

The owners still were closeted in pro football's plush Park Avenue offices at mid-morning trying to meet both the requirements of realignment and the afternoon deadline set by Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle said pointedly before the beginning of the Friday session: "One way or another we'll have a decision by Saturday afternoon."

The owners went into session at 10 a.m., EDT, Friday and were locked in virtually continuous meetings throughout the day in an attempt to break the impasse that now has lasted through 13 days of talk.

NOTHING DEFINITE

Rozelle had also said he might be forced to pick the three teams himself, but there was no indication that he had either asked or been given the power necessary to resolve the problem in that manner.

The problem revolved around the selection of the three teams that have to be moved from the 16-team NFL into what is now the 10-team AFL to force the two 13-team conferences that will make up the structure of pro football beginning in 1970.

★ ★ ★

The franchises most prominently mentioned as the leading candidates to shift are Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans, Atlanta, Minnesota and St. Louis.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune in a copyrighted story by sports editor Bob Roesler, said that the owner of the Saints, John W. Mecom Jr., had been offered $3 million to move his club into the AFL, but that he had turned it down. The story did not say who had offered the money.

There was virtually no word whatsoever from the pro football offices during the entire day and night on what progress, if any, had been made or whether the stalemate could be broken.

Saginaw Valley Meet Postponed

There is one element of nature that the all-weather track at Flint Northwestern's Houston Stadium can't cope with — too much water.

The Saginaw Valley Conference track meet scheduled last night had to be postponed until Monday when heavy morning rains left the track under water.

Pontiac Central is one of the favorites in the meet. Preliminaries will start at 5 p.m. and finals about two hours later.

'Andretti, Granatelli' Top '500' Combination Between Owner, Driver

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The names go together perfectly — Andretti and Granatelli.

Now if Mario Andretti, one of auto racing's top drivers, and colorful car owner Andy Granatelli can just put together 500 miles May 30.

The right equipment and the right money deal brought the two together, Andretti said in the garage of his new car one of 11 STP Specials entered by Granatelli for this year's Indianapolis 500.

"We came close to getting together several times in the last three years, but things never quite worked out before," said the jockey-sized driver from Nazareth, Pa.

Joins Youth Movement

Kosco Powers LA '9'

By the Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers' youth movement is in full swing —and so is Andy Kosco

Not that Kosco can be considered old at 27, but he doesn't quite have the fuzzy cheeks of such youngsters as Bill Sudakis, 23; Ted Sizemore, 24; Billy Grabarkewitz, 23; Willie Crawford, 22, and Bill Russell, 20.

★ ★ ★

Still, Kosco managed to have the last laugh—and the first one, too—as the Dodgers bombed the Pittsburgh Pirates 13-3 Friday night.

After taking a good-natured needling when a cartoon in a local paper depicted him as one of the Dodgers' kids, the slugging outfielder went out and hammered his fifth and sixth homers, good for five runs batted in.

CUBS BOMBED

In the only National League daytime action, San Francisco walloped the Chicago Cubs 11-1. In other night contests, St. Louis outlasted San Diego 7-6 and Cincinnati whipped Montreal 8-5 with rain halting the game after 6½ innings. Atlanta at Philadelphia and Houston at the New York Mets were washed out.

Kosco, who came to the Dodgers from the Yankees in a wintertime trade, settled for a mere single his first time at bat, but it was the opening shot in a nine-run second inning. A wild pitch, a walk and Sudakis' double accounted for one run and Ron Fairly doubled for two more.

An error, and a walk filled the bases and Sizemore cleared them with a triple. The seventh run scored on a wild pitch, followed by a walk and Kosco's first homer. Kosco then cracked a three-run round-tripper as the Dodgers tallied four times in the sixth.

★ ★ ★

The crippled Giants, with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Juan Marichal, Jim Ray Hart and Bobby Bonds all sidelined, resorted to what Manager Clyde King calls his "shock troops" to shock the Cubs.

Bob Burda socked a three-run homer, his first in the majors, and Ken Henderson drilled a bases-loaded single.

★ ★ ★

"The shock troops did a good job again," said King. "They did a good job the last time out against St. Louis when they got 12 hits. That's 28 hits in two games, which isn't bad for a bunch of fill-ins."

Bobby Tolan drove in four tallies with a two-run triple and two-run homer, his sixth, as the Reds drubbed the Expos.

The Cardinals wiped out a 4-0 deficit with five runs in the sixth inning and Joe Hoerner put down a rally in the ninth to stave off the Padres.

Harper started Seattle on the victory trail with a first-inning single. He stole second and then scored on a single by Rich Rollins. Harper stole another base in the eighth to boost his league-leading total to 17. He also has hit safely now in nine games.

Seattle's insurance run came in the fourth after Don Mincher was hit on the arm by Washington pitcher Joe Coleman. An infield out moved him to second and he scored on Steve Whitaker's single to right.

'Uncle Sam' Snead Helps Golfing Kin

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Turn back the clock a couple of decades, put a brightly-banned straw hat on his head and he'd look for all the world like his Uncle Sam.

"He's helped me quite a lot," Jesse Carylvle Snead said of his famous uncle, Sam Snead.

"He'd get kinda impatient at times, through, said it was kinda like trying to train a bear."

Snead, a husky, 200-pounder, has abandoned pro baseball for the golf tour, shot a three-under-par 68 Friday and was just one shot off the pace of leading Steve Reid going into today's second round of the $100,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

The test, on the 7,138 yard, par 71 Pecan Valley Country Club course was passed up by most of the top names in the game, including Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Billy Casper and Julius Boros, Boros, with the younger pros leaping to the forefront.

MANY PUDDLES

The course was still soggy, with casual water from the violent thunderstorm that forced postponement of the first round Thursday still puddling the fairways when Reid and Snead came in.

It was considerably more dry in the afternoon with 20-year-old South African Bobby Cole matched Snead's 68 and tied for second place.

★ ★ ★

Seven others, including veteran Doug Sanders, were tied at 69 going into today's second round. Because of the postponement, a 36 hold windup is scheduled Sunday.

Others at 69 are Steve Opperman, Dean Refram, Terry Wilcox, Wayne Yates, Bert Yancey and Dale Douglass.

Slowpitch softball, in which the pitch must have an arc from three-to-ten feet and 10 players are allowed per team, has grown in popularity immensely since the city organized its first men's league in 1966.

STEADY GROWTH

Five teams played that year and M G M Cleaners-Shalea Lounge won the championship. In 1967 there were 11 teams with Chalet Lounge prevailing. The Oxford Merchants ruled last year's 15-team circuit which was divided into two leagues. The press won the "B" bracket.

This year's program has been divided into American and National Leagues each with an "A" and "B" division. Interdivision play is scheduled but no inter-league games.

The 14 American teams will play 26 games, and the 12 Nationals will have 22 each.

The city also is sponsoring an Industrial Slowpitch League Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Two six-team divisions comprise league which will start Tuesday with six games.

★ ★ ★

Thus from a five-team beginning in 1966 the slowpitch recreation softball program now has grown to include 38 teams.

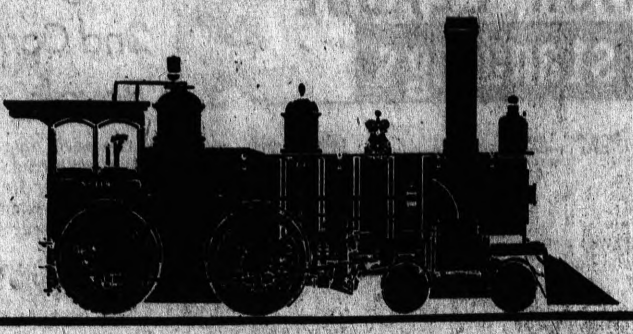
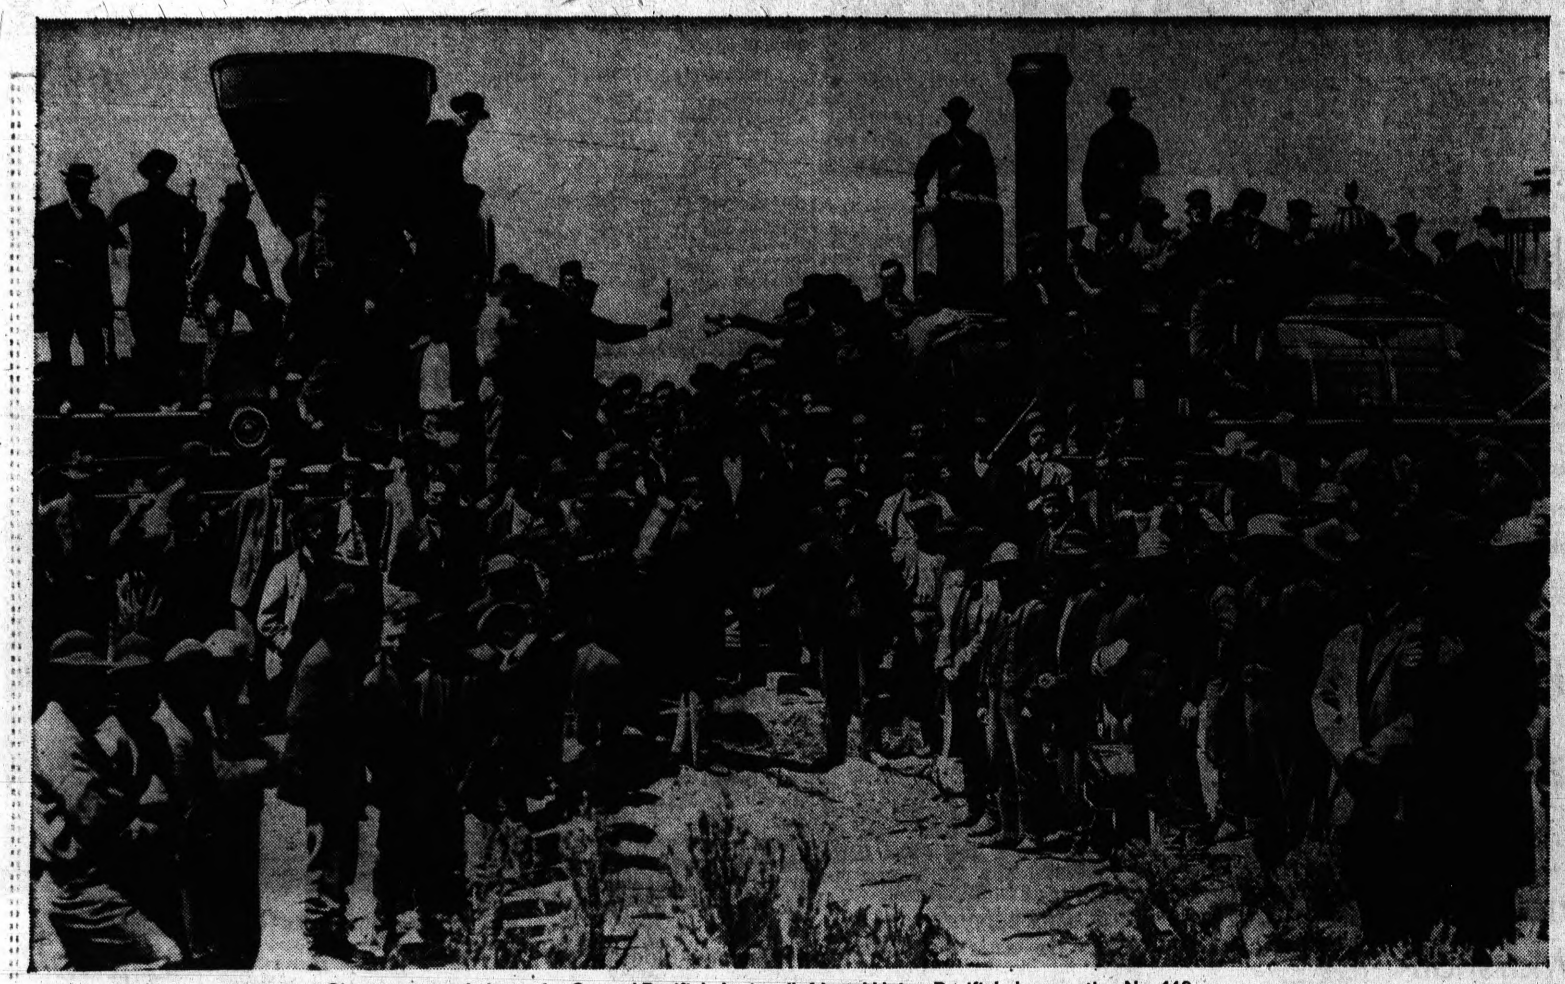
From the ATLANTIC to the PACIFIC





Champagne and cheers for Central Pacific's Jupiter (left) and Union Pacific's Locomotive No. 119.

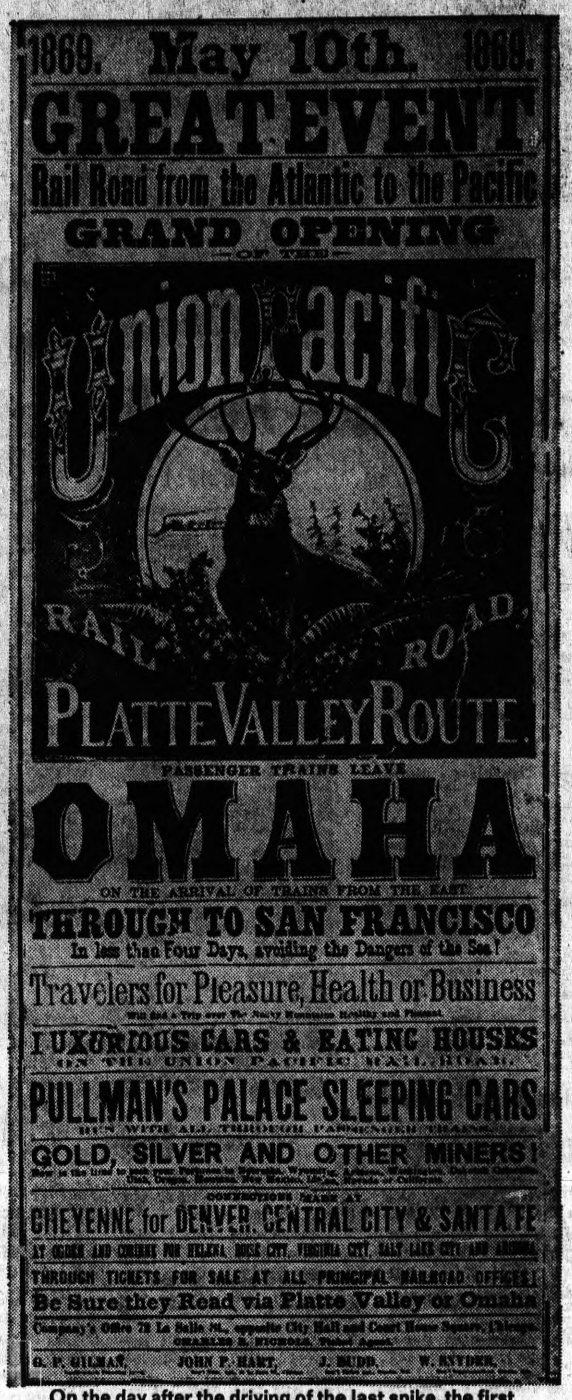
A century of American history ago, a planned epic of pioneering ended—and another of incalculable consequence began. The first transcontinental railroad was completed on May 10, 1869. The gates to the west were opened and the beckoning horizons more than fulfilled their promises.

The achievement which culminated in the renowned link-up at Promontory Point, Utah, was the greatest engineering feat of the nineteenth century. The builders of the 1,800-mile railroad had to contend with great tracts of unsettled land, roving bands of hostile Indians, rugged terrain, including deserts, and the highest mountains of the United States.

When construction began, the Civil War divided the country. The railroad was seen as a step toward a valuable coast-to-coast unity which could not otherwise have come into existence then. But the venture was not only of political value. Commercial interests were responsible for much of the initiative, and the economic benefits have been immeasurable.

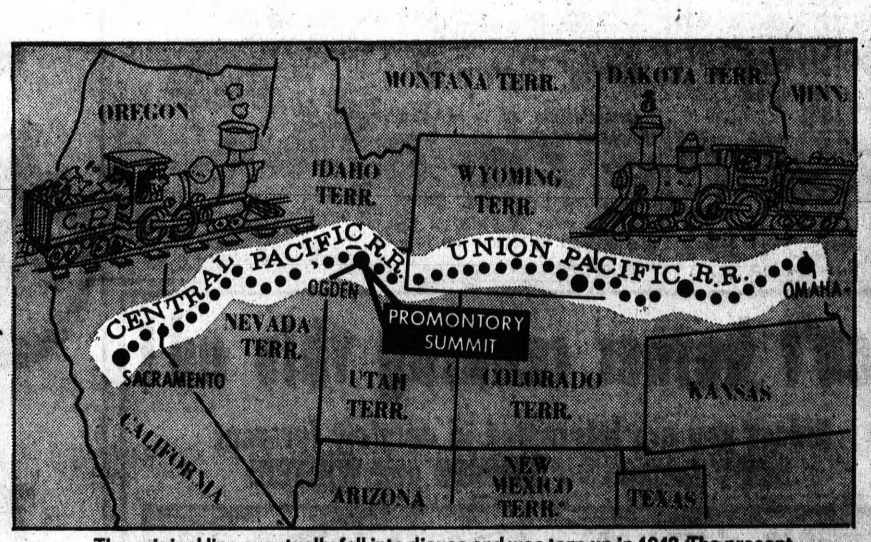
Central Pacific began construction early in 1863 at Sacramento, going east, and Union Pacific began later the same year at Omaha going west (the east was already crossed by lines reaching as far west as the Mississippi and the Missouri). The last spike was driven at Promontory with a cheering crowd, music, champagne, speeches and the first, nation-wide telegraph hook-up, to enable the whole country to share the excitement. The official announcement was flashed to The Associated Press and to President Grant "... The last rail is laid ..."

This year there will be re-enactments of those proceedings, with faithful reproduction of as many details of the original scene as possible. And the National Park Service will dedicate a visitors' center-museum at the Golden Spike National Historic Site. The rail route may no longer run through Promontory, but from now on the place will be a deservedly monumental landmark in fact, as well as a legendary one.



On the day after the driving of the last spike, the first train in transcontinental service passed Promontory.

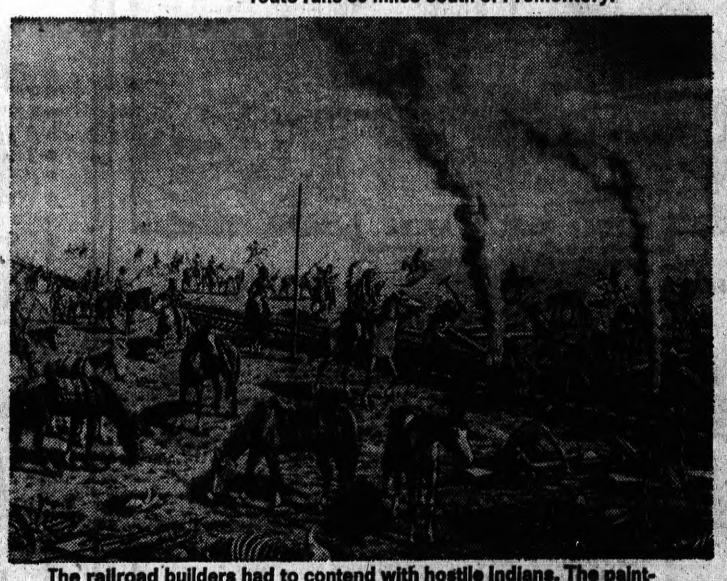
The pride of 1869: Locomotive No. 23, complete with antler decoration.



The original line eventually fell into disuse and was torn up in 1942. The present route runs 30 miles south of Promontory.

Men fought a basic, hand-to-hand battle with a mighty continent: with the straining of their sinews they joined west and east.

The Union Pacific DD35 of today has 5,000 hp., more than 10 times that of its ancestor.



The railroad builders had to contend with hostile Indians. The painting shows a group of Cheyennes tearing up newly-laid track.

Double-headed passenger train is seen crossing Dale Creek Bridge (1885-1901).

Bill on Phone Terror Near Okay in House

LANSING (AP) — More than a year ago the wife and family of Rep. Thomas Anderson, D-Southgate, were interrupted at dinner by an anonymous telephone caller who stated Anderson had been killed in an auto crash near Brighton.

A few minutes later Anderson walked into his home to find his wife distraught at the prospect of breaking the news to their children.

About a year later, Anderson recalls, the macabre prank occurred again.

Some 100 obscene or harrassing other calls have been made to his home, he says, once while a policeman was listening.

Determined to do something about it, Anderson Friday received preliminary House approval for a bill that seeks to curb those who prey by phone on the minds and emotions of countless victims.

He proposes a six-month jail term or $500 fine for any person convicted under the act even if the call crosses a state line.

Included under the bill would be calls with intent to "terrorize, frighten, intimidate, threaten, harass, molest or annoy any other persons."

False reports of illness, injury, death, crime or accident would be included, as would making two random calls to another telephone or making obscene suggestions.

"It's almost impossible" to trace such callers, Anderson said, but he called the practice "an insidious crime" that occurs some 800,000 times a year.

WOULD BE FELONY

A companion bill given preliminary approval in the House would make tampering with a coin-operated telephone a felony. The current category is a misdemeanor, which requires police to have a warrant to arrest anyone under the charge. The felony category would allow on-the-spot arrest.

In other action, the House again rejected a bill offered by Rep. Dominic J. Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, to liberalize liquor license application procedures by tavern owners with beer and wine licenses who want Class C, "hard" liquor permits.

Jacobetti, Detroit Democrats Frank Wierzbicki and Stephen Stopczynski, who is Liquor Control committee chairman, insisted the bill only would help establish tavern owners who face loss of their license because schools or churches have been built within 500 feet of their businesses.

Opponents, however, insisted the bill would permit an unmanageable increase in the number of liquor-by-the-glass permits.

Griffin Claims Caller Made Threat on Life

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., appeared at a news conference Friday night under police protection after what he said was a telephoned threat on his life because of his criticisms of Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas.

Griffin declined to give details of the threat, except that it concerned the Fortas criticisms and was received by his Detroit office in a telephone call Wednesday.

A number of policemen in plainclothes guarded the senator who was in Detroit to attend a Republican dinner.

Griffin last fall led a successful fight to block nomination of Fortas as chief justice of the Supreme Court.

This week he joined Sen. Robert A. Taft, Jr., R-Ohio, in introducing a bill to require federal judges to disclose their outside income.

The bill came after a stir in Congress over a Life magazine story that Fortas accepted a $20,000 fee from the Wolfson Family Foundation connected with Louis Wolfson, financier who currently is serving a prison term for dealing in unregistered securities. Fortas returned the $20,000 11 months after receiving it, saying he was unable to perform the civil rights advisory work for which the fee was to have been paid.

★ ★ ★

Griffin told newsmen, "I indicated several days ago, in response to a direct question, that there was more incriminating information which might come" in regard to the Fortas case.

"Since then, my office in Detroit tells me that my life has been threatened," Griffin said.

The senator, referring again to his remark about "more incriminating information which might come," said he wanted it known that "I'm not the only person in possession of that information."

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

One of our regular contributors to this column played today's hand in the Open Pairs at the Spring Nationals. He was proud of the way he played the hand and he played it well.

His analysis that he made his contract against perfect defense once the diamond was opened was not quite equal to his play since East and West could have beaten him one trick if either had been on his toes.

★ ★ ★

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and shifted to the nine of trumps. West's ace gobbled up South's king and the spade continuation was won by dummy's eight.

A heart was led and finessed successfully. Then South cashed the ace of hearts, entered dummy with the seven of trumps and led a club toward his hand.

East had his choise of death by shooting or by hanging. If he rose with the ace of clubs South would be able to discard his losing heart on the queen. Actually East ducked, whereupon South won with his king, discarded dummy's low club on the king of diamonds and threw East in with the ace of clubs.

★ ★ ★

East had to play a club or a diamond. It did not matter which because South discarded his deuce of hearts and ruffed in dummy.

Where did East and West go wrong on the defense?

East should have returned a diamond at trick two or West should have led a diamond instead of his small trump at trick three. This would force South to take his discard from dummy early and the end play would never develop.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of raising to two hearts your partner has bid one spade over your opening bid. What do you rebid?

CMU President to Be Installed

★ ★ ★

The ceremonies will be informal at Boyd's request. The approximately $5,000 saved by cutting down on pomp will go to a fund to aid disadvantaged students.

County Gets Computerized Profile of '68 Traffic Accidents

For the first time, Oakland County has a computerized profile of its total traffic accidents.

The 1968 summary was produced by the Traffic Data Center of the Traffic Improvement Association (TIA) of Oakland County.

It shows that last year the county has a total of 25,801 accidents, or one for about every 36 residents. Out of these, 143 accidents resulted in 165 fatalities, 10,554 involved injuries to 17,218 persons, and 15,104 included property damage.

Featuring a coded reference system that can locate an accident to within five feet of its occurrence, the center's data output is being used for enforcement planning, special studies on the causes of accidents and traffic engineering improvements.

ESTABLISHED IN APRIL '68

The center was established in April 1968 as a national demonstration model with a grant of $37,000 from the National Highway Safety Bureau.

The only records system of its type in the nation, the center last month received another grant of $46,350 to expand its operations to include enforcement and engineering data.

★ ★ ★

Microfilmed and original accident reports are supplied to the center by the Michigan State Police. The reports originate from Oakland County's 38 police departments, serving 63 governmental units—cities, townships and villages.

Future plans of the Traffic Data Center call for processing of road design and maintenance data to help surmount aggravating traffic congestion and costly delays on county roads and highways.

ACCIDENT SUMMARIES

Kenneth A. LaBenne, director of the Traffic Data Center, said the agency has begun producing monthly accident summaries for local communities.

"The dollar savings factor to Oakland County communities will be substantial," he pointed out, "since this data will be produced in a matter of seconds, as compared to the hundreds of man hours previously required in local police departments."

The center's 1968 analysis shows that 77 deaths and 13,320 personal injuries occurred in collisions between motor vehicles.

Forty died and 2,120 were injured in vehicles that overturned or ran off the road. Nine died and 461 were injured in collisions with a fixed object. There were 25 pedestrian deaths and 526 pedestrian injuries.

TRAIN TOLL

Eight were killed and 19 injured in collisions wit railroad trains.

Four were killed and 331 injured in accidents involving motorcycles or motor scooters. Two were killed and 245 were injured in accidents involving bicycles.

★ ★ ★

There were 33 deaths in the 15-to-19 age group, 30 deaths in the 20-to-24 group, 22 deaths in the 35-to-44 group, 19 deaths in the 25-to-34 group, and 15 deaths in the 45-to-54 group.

A total of 74 died in accidents occurring after dark, and 64 were killed in daylight traffic.

Townships had 88 fatalities and 6,282 personal injuries. Cities over 25,000 had 52 fatalities and 8,231 personal injuries.

The federal grant which provides financial support for the Traffic Data Center includes funds for training members of local police departments in accident investigation and accident records courses given at Oakland Community College. The grant is matched by equivalent value services provided by participating local communities and the county.

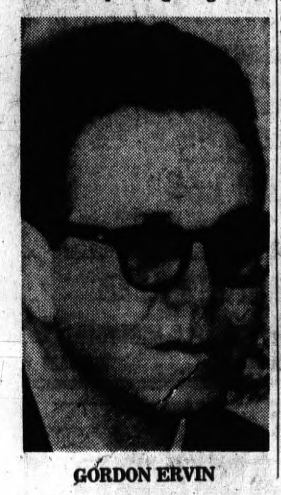
The center is the outcome of the work of TIA's traffic records committee headed by Adrian Koert, of Michigan State University's Highway Traffic Safety Cener.

Ervin Brother Hunt Focused on Canada

The search for one of Pontiac's ill-famed Ervin brothers remains centered in Canada, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) spokesman said yesterday.

Gordon Dale Ervin, 44, who escaped from prison four years ago while serving an armed robbery term, is believed to be living "not too far" from Montreal.

His brother Charles, who escaped with Gordon but was captured nearly two years ago, now has hopes of getting out of prison on parole, the investigator said.



GORDON ERVIN

His hope apparently is based on the recent death of Ann Arbor Circuit Court Judge James Breakey, who sentenced the pair in 1954 to 50 to 60 years and wouldn't permit parole.

An FBI agent in Detroit said Gordon has been "in and out of Montreal" and that there is "no indication he has returned to this country."

It is believed he is using an alias and has worked as a carpenter, laborer and part owner of a soft-drink delivery business. He has relatives in Canada.

"We'll eventually find him," the agent remarked. "It's just a matter of time. I thought he would have caught himself by now."

The brothers escaped from Southern Micigan State Prison in Jackson in 1965 after serving 11 years for the robbery of an Ann Arbor supermarket.

Their trial was marked by a daring escape attempt which ended when Charles fell 40 feet from a courthouse ledge and Gordon was shot by sheriff's deputies.

The brothers reportedly threatened the judge and prosecutor after they were sentenced.

Road Signs Big Factor in Accidents, Says Insurer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The general manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan has testified before a congressional subcommittee that "accidents would decrease dramatically and rapidly" if more money were spent on improving road signs.

★ ★ ★

Fred Rehm of Detroit told a House Public Works subcommittee that "thousands of miles of roads have never been studied to see what is a safe speed limit. And thousands of miles of road have substandard or no traffic signing."

"Present guidance controls — signs, signals, pavement markings and road shoulder hazards —are causing an untold number of accidents because drivers are not able to determine what they should do under high-speed conditions," he said.

Chairman John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., said after three days of hearings he is convinced traffic control devices including signs, signals and pavement markings, have failed to do their job.

"I can only say that the carnage along the way has been terrible, and has got to be reduced," Blatnik said.

★ ★ ★

Arthur Gibson of the Automobile Club of Michigan said motorists are given space-age cars to drive with horse-and-buggy road controls.

Gibson showed examples of stop signs hidden by trees, unclear and conflicting directions on signs, improperly marked streets and lanes.

Car-and-Deer Accidents Rise

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's car-deer accidents are on the increase, with motorist injuries much higher, State Police report.

Police said there were 6,873 car-deer accidents last year. These resulted in one person killed and 449 injured.

This compared with 5,145 accidents the previous year. There were three persons killed but only 223 injuries.

★ ★ ★

November was the worst month of the year for such accidents, accounting for about one fourth of the total in 1968.

About 70 per cent of all the accidents were at night.

Southern Michigan counties accounted for a high percentage of the accidents. Calhoun had 314 and Jackson 312. Other counties with accident rates in the 200-300 range included Kent, Montcalm, Ingham and Eaton.

'State Motorists Are Faster Than U.S. Average'

LANSING (AP) — Michigan motorists are speedier by one-half-mile per hour than the average driver in the United States, according to a survey by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

The survey showed a combined average of 59 miles per hour for all vehicles including passenger cars, trucks and buses.

The Michigan average for all vehicles was 59.5 miles per hour.

The study also showed:

- Some 13 per cent of all vechiles and 16 per cent of passenger cars exceed the legal 70-mile-an-hour freeway speed limit. The national average was 12 and 14 per cent respectively.
- The number of vehicles exceeding 60 miles an hour has nearly tripled in the last 10 years, mainly because of improved highways.

Jailer Is Put Behind Bars by His Wife

BURLINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—The Boone County jailer was locked up by his wife Thursday to serve a one-hour court-imposed sentence.

Jailer Frazee Story was ordered jailed by Trial Commissioner Asa Rouse after the two had a verbal clash in court.

★ ★ ★

Rouse reproached the jailer for being rough with a prisoner. "I don't want no speeches from you," Story retorted.

Story said he was angry with the prisoner, George Wagners, 20, because he had slugged him with a pop bottle during an escape attempt Wednesday night.

SUBDUED BY POLICE

Wagners was subdued by police after he was tripped by the jailer's wife as he made a break for the front door.

"He busted me pretty good with that bottle after I let him out to make a phone call," Story related. "I was still mad about it today so I gave him a kick and a little shove in court. That's when the commissioner got on me."

★ ★ ★

Actually, Mrs. Story kept her husband a prisoner longer than the one hour specified by the judge.

"They didn't send over a release right away so I just kept him in there," she said.

Rail Linkup Restaging to Attract Thousands

PROMONTORY, Utah (AP) — It has been 100 years since there has been this much activity around barren, windswept Promontory Summit, Utah.

On May 10, 1869, in the afternoon, hundreds of officials and spectators watched the golden spike ceremony when the last rail connected the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads, and America had its first transcontinental railroad.

★ ★ ★

Residents around Promontory, in northern Utah, reenact the driving of the golden spike each year. But attendance is light.

This year, authorities predict thousands of people will be on hand for the reenactment this afternoon at the same spot the ceremony was held 100 years ago.

But now the railroad on which the ceremony will be held goes nowhere. In fact a section of railroad had to be built specially for today's ceremony. Spectators and participants can't even get there by rail.

The track was abandoned, and later pulled up, when the railroad was rerouted in 1904.

Dozens of national figures will be on hand for the centennial party.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe is scheduled to dedicate a new visitors' center.

Thomas Goodfellow, president of the Association of American Railroads will talk about the history and the future of railroads.

Presidents of the companies which laid the original line—the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific—will be present. The Southern Pacific was called the Central Pacific when the lines were joined 100 years ago.

The original golden spike has been on display in Salt Lake City for several weeks. It was loaned to Utah by Stanford University for the celebration.

Experts Skeptical of German Move

'Refusal to Revalue Mark Ploy'

LONDON (AP) — West Germany's refusal to increase the official value of its currency was a political ploy that won't calm the growing European money crisis for long, some experts said today.

"It simply will not be believed," a foreign exchange dealer said of the announcement Friday in Bonn that the German mark would not move from its present level of 25½ cents. "It's obviously inevitable now."

★ ★ ★

Nor did that dealer see significant relief when money markets open Monday from the speculative money trading that put heavy pressure this week on other Western currencies including the U.S. dollar.

"There will certainly be some unwinding of totally speculative positions in the first day or two," he said, "but most people will simply hang on for the real decision when it comes."

PROFITS TO BE MADE

When and if the mark is revalued upward there will be a spate of profits for those who have been pouring foreign money into Germany to exchange for marks while the official rate lasts.

★ ★ ★

Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's Christian Democrats are under strong domestic pressure not to revalue the mark because farm, industrial and business leaders say revaluation would hurt their trade abroad by making German products more expensive. But Foreign Minister Willy Brandt's Social Democrats, Kiesinger's coalition partners, contend the mark is undervalued because exports exceed imports.

★ ★ ★

A government spokesman said the decision Friday followed strictly party lines with Kiesinger and his 10 Christian Democrat ministers opposing eight Social Democrat ministers who urged revaluation.

The monetary crisis could threaten Kiesinger's coalition just as the two parties launch their campaigns for the Sept. 28 federal elections.

Meanwhile, attention turned to Basel, Switzerland, and the weekend meeting of Europe's central bankers. It was hoped a reassuring statement from the bankers would give Europe's shakier currencies, like the French franc and the British pound, a breather in foreign exchange markets next week.

The influential Times of London noted in an editorial today that in past European monetary crises, a decision such as that by Bonn Friday normally has ushered in a "period of some months of relative tranquility." It added, "We will be lucky if we get that again now."

★ ★ ★

But there already were sighs of relief in Britain over signs that so far the pound has not been hit as badly as it was in a similar monetary crisis last November.

★ ★ ★

Part of the settlement package six months ago, after Germany refused to revalue the mark then, was a series of new British taxes on beer, whisky, cigarettes and gasoline.

DIPS INTO RESERVES

The British action was designed to hold down public spending, cut imports and improve the nation's trade balance. It became necessary after the Bank of England had dipped into the nation's reserves for $196 million to defend the pound against speculative attack.

This time, financial sources said, there was a less serious run on the pound, largely because the bulk of the pounds held here by foreign speculators already had left the country in the November crisis.

The Bank of England was understood to have intervened substantially in defense of the pound only in the last two days. Britain's share of the total inflow into marks was said to be relatively small.

Government sources said Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins told the cabinet Friday the pound was facing pressure, but this time it was in a better position to stand the strain. He said the crisis this time was of foreign origin—the strength of the mark and weakness of the franc—and was not attributable to British economic weakness.

Scientist Exhibits a 'Clean-Air' Muffler

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rocket scientist exhibited Friday a muffler he said chemically "scrubs" oxides of nitrogen and unburned hydrocarbons — major elements of smog — from automobile exhaust.

Louis J. Fuller, Los Angeles County air pollution control officer, commented: "If this muffler works well in upcoing road tests, it certainly would spell the end of air pollution from cars."

★ ★ ★

The scientist, Milton Farber, president of Space Sciences, Inc., told a news conference he is negotiating to place the mufflers on 10 California Highway Patrol cars for a one-year test.

★ ★ ★

Farber said the 31x106-inch device, designed to fit in the space of mufflers currently in use, could be mass-produced for about $100. "This would make the actual cost about $35," he said, "because it would eliminate the $15 muffler and the $50 worth of antismog devices on today's cars."

★ ★ ★

Farber, a thermodynamicist who does rocket research under government contract, said the muffler has two chemical-packed compartments—one for removing oxides of nitrogen and the other for burning up the hydrocarbon fuel not exploded in the engine. He declined to identify the chemicals.

Junior Editors Quiz on WRENS

QUESTION: How does a house wren find his same little house each spring?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The house wren is one of those birds which fly south in the winter to the warmer climate of the Gulf States, Texas or Mexico. How does a tiny thing like a wren make such a trip twice a year?

Think of the air as a fine, broad highway without any obstructions, and remember that birds have extremely sharp sight and so can recognize landmarks far away.

Furthermore, many migrating birds fly along such routes as th Atlantic coast or the Mississippi River, where natural features can guide them.

As to finding the bird house or cavity they nest in, the male wren, like many other birds, takes a special territory of several acres for his private hunting ground. His vigorous song is to warn other rival wrens to stay away.

He and Mrs. W. and the babies need a great deal of food, so the adult wrens work hard catching insects in every part of their territory. Naturally they get to know every nook and cranny of it, and this will, of course, include the bird house or other nesting site which is the Home Sweet Home of every wren family.

Norway TV Sex Course Draws Yawns, Acclaim

OSLO, Norway (AP) — "Amazing," a teen-age girl wrote to an Oslo newspaper. "I never knew sex could be so duli."

Her comment on Norway's experiment in televised sex education reflects the hard-core boredom the series aroused in members of her generation.

Parents, however, were enthusiastic about the five-part course in sex, carefully tailored to avoid offending anyone.

Faced with a public furor that sparked a Parliament debate after the series was announced, the state broadcasting company took pains to eliminate any hint of pornography.

PROTESTS REPLACED

Once a week, the network presented facts on sex and interviews with psychologists, authors, politicians and teen-agers. The message was mainly that sex is important and normal. The protests were replaced by acclaim.

Why sex education in a Scandinavian country?

Norwegian attitudes differ greatly from those of neighboring Sweden, where sexual permissiveness is advanced. In many Norwegian families, sex is not a subject for conversation, and schools stick to birds and bees explanations.

See-it-all movies like the Swedish "I Am Curious (Yellow)," now playing in New York, are banned in Norway.

OBJECTIVE INFORMATION

Mrs. Mette Jansson, producer of the television series, explained: "We wanted to give objective information about a subject with which a major part of society is preoccupied. We simply could not let sex be a taboo any longer."

But many youths apparently were not on her wavelength.

"My old man wanted me to stay home tonight watching sex education instead of demonstrating" a teen-age boy was heard saying during an anti-Vietnam war protest at the U.S. Embassy. "He must be nuts."

School Says Snip, so She Sues on Lip

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Mrs. Helen Demopolis of Sterling Heights is asking a court to force school officials to end the suspension of her son for not shaving above his lip.

Her son, 15 - year - old James Demopolis, was suspended from classes at Warren High School April 29 for violating the school's dress code, which bans moustaches.

★ ★ ★

She alleged in a suit brought in Macomb County Circuit Court that her son has never shaved and is not of an age when he should be forced to do so.

9,000 Pennies Aren't Fine With the Judge

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — William Hiester, 20, was jailed Friday when a court clerk refused to accept his 9,000 pennies for a traffic fine.

Heister, a soldier, brought the coins in a bowling bag to pay five tickets ranging from reckless driving to displaying his registration ahead of time. He claimed he was being harassed by a policeman who issued all five tickets.

★ ★ ★

Traffic Court Judge Salvatore De Meo found him guilty on one charge of reckless driving.

Heister, stationed at Frankford Arsenal, was held by court officials for arrival of military police.

Teachers Want Beer Party Funds

SEATTLE (AP) — Departmental funding of an orientation beer party for new graduate students was one of 16 demands presented by teaching assistants to the Philosophy Department of the University of Washington.

The teaching assistants, newly organized into their own union, also are asking higher salaries, more student say in faculty appointments and a union shop for teaching assistants in the department.

Singing Dates Set

MANILA (AP) — Beverly Sills, American coloratura soprano of New York City, will give five performances in the Philippines in the first week of September, it was announced today.

Weather Satellites to Track Animals

GAINESVILLE, Fla. AP) — Three Nimbus weather satellites are about to add animal-tracking to their chores.

Three elk at Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming are being fitted with transmitters in a research project. The animals will be released separately and the satellites will map their migration habits.

The Nimbus satellites, sent into earth orbit at a cost of $150 million, earlier demonstrated their tracking ability by picking up signals from a truck carrying telemetering equipment and feeding the data to ground computers, which figured the truck's location.

Arthritis Cripples Zoo Act

DETROIT (AP)— Arthritis, a disease that has plagued mankind since ancient times, has sidelined one of the heaviest acts in show business—the performing pachyderms at the Detroit zoo.

Mona, a 9,000 - pounder who anchors the elephant act, is so badly crippled by the disease that Dr. Robert F. Willson, zoo director, has been forced to cancel the show.

"It is just too painful for the old girl to get out and bend her knees and do headstands," he explained, "although she still has her heart in the act."

When the zoo attempted to carry on the act with Mary, Ruth and Kita, prima donna Mona trumpeted her oversight so loudly it unnerved the other actresses. They wanted to run back and see what was troubling Mona, rather than act, Willson said.

The Herbert Tucker Family's Winged Colonial Located In Rolling Hills Of Avon Township

A Scene Set for Comfort

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Family pieces, a love for Early Americana and a talented way with a paint brush set the scene for comfort in the cozy colonial of the Herbert Tuckers in Avon Township.

Establishing the gold monochromatic background in the formal living room are the loop carpeting, the walls and the damask draperies.

"Years ago we discovered the desk for $15," said Mrs. Tucker, her eyes twinkling at the thought of the good bargain. "When we stripped it, we found that the top and the sides were solid cherry and the front mahogany."

VICTORIAN GROUPING

Variegated velvet covers the walnut chairs in the Victorian grouping before the bowed window. The chairs are served by a cherry Duncan Phyfe candlestand adorned with milk glass.

Under the primitive pastoral by H. Wilson stands the floral sofa, its pattern introducing shades of blue, black and gray on white. Gleaming brass wall scones with blue candles hang on either side of the oil.

★ ★ ★

Balancing the arrangement of daisies on the room's cherry coffee table are three brass candlesticks with blue candles.

Lighting the grouping are a royal blue and milk glass lamp and a Gone-With-the-Wind lamp with blue detail on milk glass.

ORIENTAL INFLUENCE

In the adjoining dining room, the oriental influence introduced into the living room by the Chinese hand-carved plant stand, is repeated in the Chinese oriental floor covering.

Formerly Mrs. Tucker's mother's, the deep-piled rug features shades of purple, shocking pink, gold, brown, royal blue and green.

★ ★ ★

Leading the way into the paneled family room, Mrs. Tucker pointed out a portion of her collection of oil lamps on the mantel.

"We put them to good use this past Christmas season," said Mrs. Tucker. "A transformer went out and we were without electricity for 12 hours."

FAMILY ROOM

Grouped before the fireplace are an arrowback deacon's bench and a red-cushioned Boston rocker.

Paving Racket Bilks Innocent

"Forewarned about the gypsy paving racket is forearmed," said Walter Tervo, executive secretary of the Michigan Asphalt Paving Association, today in issuing an early warning about the seasonal racket that costs Michigan residents many thousands of dollars each year.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally, gypsy groups numbering two to three dozen members will tour major Michigan cities, starting about this time of year, offering to "surface your driveway with a tar-based substance for a few dollars."

★ ★ ★

"Police in recent years have reported that pay for the useless treatment usually amounts to whatever the market will bear, and that threats of physical violence have been used against those who complained about charges or threatened to call in authorities," Trevo said.

★ ★ ★

A worthless paint compound, similar in appearance to the sealing compound used by reputable firms but lacking proper chemical ingredients, is used by the band, Tervo stated.

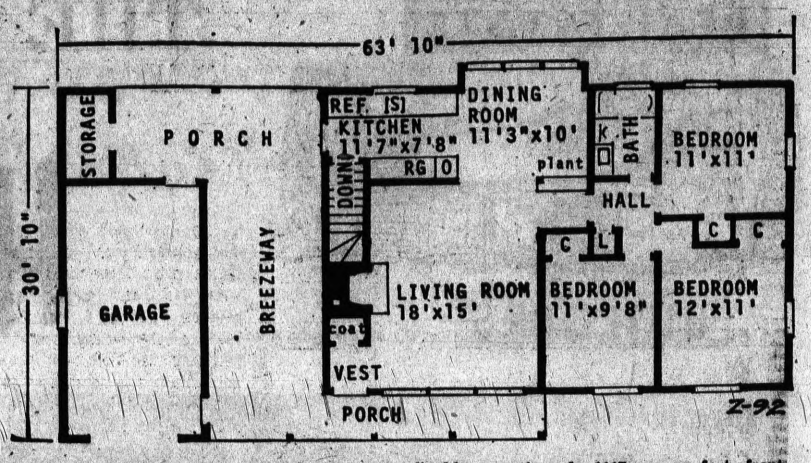
BETTER JOB

"Reputable asphalt paving firms would do a better job, just as quick and at far less cost than extorted by the gypsies working this racket," Tervo declared.

★ ★ ★

"Any homeowner approached for this type of work should first check with his local police, his own Better Business Bureau or the state office of the Michigan Asphalt Paving Association, in Lansing, before agreeing to anything," Tervo said.

BOX-LIKE EFFECT often evident in a small house has been avoided by extending front porch roofline across breezeway and garage at the left. Stone under bedroom and living room windows blends effectively with vertical siding at front and horizontal siding at ends.



FLOOR PLANS: Compact designing enabled architect to get six rooms and bath into a relatively small area. Although total livable area is only 1117 square feet, front and rear porches, connected by a long breezeway, afford extra space for comfort.

Breezeway Gives Home Lengthy Look

A family with a modest income finds it difficult to match its budget with a three-bedroom house.

A small house — under 1200 square feet of habitable area — usually has one or two bedrooms. And it often has a boxy look that seems to call attention to its lack of size.

★ ★ ★

In this particular house, a ranch with a living area of only 1117 square feet, architect Herbert Struppmann has managed to include three bedrooms within a compact floor plan yet produce an exterior with a lengthy appearance.

He has accomplished this by placing a breezeway between the basic house and the garage, then extending the roof line of a long, covered front porch across the front of the garage. The house not only looks bigger, it is more interesting.

EXTERIOR

There is more than eye-appeal to the exterior styling.

The front porch, with its overhanging roof-line, offers weather protection at the entranceway and shields the living room from the sun and wind without obstructing the view.

★ ★ ★

The breezeway offers an additional sheltered outdoor area and leads to a covered porch at the rear, giving a modest house extra assets at modest cost.

Note from the floor plans how easy it is to get from the garage to the front door, from the kitchen to the outdoor storage closet or to the garage, or from the garage or backyard to the basement stairs.

The entrance to the living room is through a vestibule, which has a coat closet.

WINDOWS

Big triple windows across the front are in the most popular styling.

They add to the attractiveness of the area, as does the stove fireplace.

★ ★ ★

The living room and the dining room can be completely separate or brought together, depending on the activities going on.

A planter is suggested to delineate the dining room from the approach to the bedroom hall.

Extra space is added to the dining room by a rear bay extension, all windows and a room wide.

FAMILY ROOM

Those who prefer a family room to a dining room can set off the dining room from the living room by dividers or screens, with the area decorated to blend with the adjacent kitchen.

The kitchen, although small, can serve family or formal meals in the dining-family room or supply the needs of outdoor cookout or picnic meals in good weather in the breezeway section.

★ ★ ★

The bedrooms are not large, but they are big enough to sleep a family of four.

The bathroom has a vanity and is well located.

There are five closets, outdoor and garage storage, and more in the cellar as well.

STONE

The exterior combines stone and vertical and horizontal siding.

It achieves a pleasant, traditional look with a modern-day effect.

Designers' Show House Aids Planned Parenthood

The drama of the Designers' Show House in the last few weeks has been likened to Pygmalion, Cinderella, and even the perils of Pauline. Whatever the name, the transformation of the Grosse Pointe mansion at 325 Lake Shore Drive is complete and the result is breathtaking.

Each one of 15 rooms in the empty Tudor mansion, built in 1917, was chosen by a member of the Michigan District Chapter of the American Institute of Interior Designers and has been completely redecorated.

★ ★ ★

The public is invited to tour the house and to inspect the highly individual approach of each designer in the restoration.

For an interesting comparison, photographs will be displayed, showing the condition of the rooms before the project began.

★ ★ ★

A separate area of the house has undergone another magical crafts as diverse as decoupage, stained glass and gourmet cooking. Members of the Society of Originalists from many parts of Lower Michigan are largely responsible for this part of the excitement.

SKILLED

The Originalists are a group of artists and craftsmen, both amateur and professional, who are skilled in the arts and crafts connected with homemaking.

An art gallery and local boutiques will also be displaying dried flower arrangements, needlepoint and folk art—all inspirations for the homemaker.

★ ★ ★

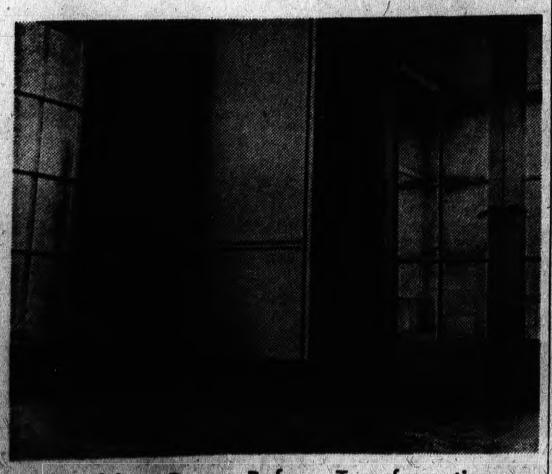
The Planned Parenthood League of Detroit is the sponsoring organization for the project and proceeds will be used to support family planning clinics in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

★ ★ ★

The house will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., today and May 12-17 . . . No Sundays and nc evenings. Off street parking is provided at the Groose Point Farms Pier Park on Lake Shore Drive at the foot of Moross Road.

AREA TICKET SOURCE

Tickets are available at the door for a donation of $2.50, but if bought in advance, a map on the back of each shows how easily the house may be reached from the Ford & Chrysler Expressways. They may also be purchased by contacting Mrs. Alec Capsalis, 221 Ottawa.



Breakfast Room Before Transformation

Wet Tank? There's a Cure

When your bathroom temperature is considerably higher than that of the water in your water closet tank, "sweating" of the tank often results. There are several ways to cure this condition.

One involves the use of a special valve which permits warm water to mix with the cold before it enters the tank.

Another is a special liner that forms insulation between the incoming cold water and the warmer china tank. You can also buy water closets with insulation already built into them. Your plumbing contractor will be glad to supply details.

Cleanup Is Made Easier

Most housewives agree that preparing meals isn't the unpleasant part of kitchen toil, it's the cleanup afterward that's hard to take.

Until a few years ago, however, most work-saving emphasis was placed on meal preparation. Modern, efficient ranges, ovens and refrigerators were the result.

★ ★ ★

Now, there are products to assist in the hard and time-consuming part of kitchen work — the after-meal cleanup.

Two of the best kitchen "chore eliminators" ever developed have been introduced during the past few years — the automatic dishwasher, food waste disposer.

DISHWASHERS

These items alone can easily cut cleanup to a minimum.

Modern dishwashers, for instance, require no pre-rinsing of dishes. In the time it takes to carry them from the table to the appliance, the job is done — better and more sanitary than possible by hand.

Today's efficient food waste disposer puts an end to both the unsanitary garbage pail and daily trips to the refuse can. Garbage is disposed quickly and conveniently at the sink.

★ ★ ★

The wide variety of kitchen sinks now available offer the homemaker countless style and installation possibilities. Produced in stainless steel and colored or white enamel finishes, modern sinks are available in single, double and triple bowl models to meet any decorative and use requirements.

One sink manufacturer features a cutting board that can be inserted across the top of the bowl, with an opening cut in one corner for clearing peelings and scraps down into the disposer.

As a further convenience, another producer offers a sink with levers on the side for opening and closing the drains.

Plan Room Decor to Suit Use, Users

Have you noticed that when you visit some homes or ofifces, that they are always comfortable and pleasant even when there is much activity? What's the answer . . . what's the secret? The room has been planned for its use and users.

The same should be true in your home. Think of the uses your rooms will have. Who will use them and when? The following is a checklist of hints to help you in your planning:

- Discuss with your family what each room will be used for and how you wish it to look.
- Prepare a model and a plan . . . either on paper or with cut out circles and squares (to represent the furnishings).
- Next establish what designers call the center of interest. For each room, it is important that furnishings relate to the center of interest.
- Place the location of the large pieces. Then establish locations for smaller pieces and lamps.
- Be sure that when you place the furnishings to keep a balance. This is done by distributing the weight of the various elements around the room. Don't have all the big, heavy furnishings on one wall or around the center of interest.
- Be sure you have provided space for movement and traffic. Don't have any room cluttered.
- Be sure that your lighting is good. Review the locations of lamps and their uses. Be sure that study and close work areas have good lighting. Keep the soft and subdued lighting for the visiting sections of your living room or den.
- Be sure that your furnishings will be arranged in such a way that the pieces complement one another. The scale of the various pieces should be relative. And the furniture should be in scale to the size of the room. Don't place large pieces in a small narrow room, for example.
- Remember comfort, especially in chairs.
- Look to the future. Will your children be entertaining in a few years? Or will you have many overnight and out-of-town guests? If so, think of furnishings for those needs as well as for the immediate situations. And, don't forget that you can't ever have enough storage space.

The life of an adequately-sized water heater is much greater than that of an undersized one.

An overworked unit will oxidize and corrode much more rapidly, often meaning replacement years before a larger heater would require it.

Add Space in the Attic

When adding closet space in a remodeled attic against a wall that parallels a steeply pitched roof, only a unit built on the spot will use the angular space efficiently. But it won't be hard to build.

All you need is a few panels of plywood, some lumber, hardware and finishing materials, and a few hours. One available design includes a wardrobe closet, bookcase, hinged desk and cabinets galore.

A plan with full details for this under-eave storage unit may be obtained from Dept. HI, American Plywood Assn., 1119 A St., Tacoma, Wash. 98401. Ask for Plan 56-120 and enclose ten cents.

Easy Repair for Plumbing

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. This old saying is never applied to better advantage than in the case of your plumbing.

★ ★ ★

A booklet that tells you how to practice good maintenance, how to make simple repairs and what jobs should be left to experienced plumbing contractors is available for 25 cents and a 6c stamp from the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Among other things, the booklet tells you how to repair leaky faucets, the causes and cures of noisy plumbing, how to unplug a drain or stopped-up water closet and how to shut off the water if your pipe develops a leak.

Do-It-Yourselfers Rent Tools

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS
UPI Correspondent

Your lawn really needs a thorough overhauling this spring; there are a half dozen do-it-yourself jobs you'd like to tackle around the house; your wife has been talking family reunion and you'd love to introduce the youngsters to a camping vacation but . . . you don't have the necessary gear, and wouldn't know where to stow it if you did.

Increasingly, homeowners are finding renting is the answer. Nationwide rental services such as A to A, Abbey Rents and United Rent-Alls have sprung up in recent years along with a host of smaller, specialized suppliers of equipment.

★ ★ ★

Virtually anything you might need can be rented.

Take that lawn work, for instance. You really should do a thorough job of dethatching — cleaning out the dead grasses — aerate and then reseed and fertilize.

CLEAN DEBRIS

You should clean out the debris that has collected along borders and under shrubs and there is some work to be done on trees. A staggering order for hand tools; an expensive job if you were to purchase power equipment.

The necessary equipment — costing up to several hundred dollars for the heavier, seldom used items such as a power lawn comber or powered aerifier — can be rented reasonably. The A to Z Rental Centers, for instance, list such equipment as a litter vacuum at $2.50 an hour, power lawn comber at $3 hourly, tillers at $3 to $4.50 hourly; all sorts of trimming, pruning and weeding tools at rates ranging from $1 or so daily to $2 or $3 hourly.

And when you're finished with it, it's back to the shop; no problem of maintenance and storage.

★ ★ ★

For the do-it-yourselfer, rental can be particularly advantageous; allowing you the use of equipment that would be prohibitively expensive because of the infrequent need and, often, actually difficult to buy — items such as concrete finishers or power trowels, nail guns or stud drivers, plastic laminated sheet trimmers, siding sanders and underlayment staplers to name a few.

For instance, you'd like to put in a concrete slab for a patio but don't relish the prospect of spending hours on hands and knees finishing it off. A concrete finisher, not an item found in the corner hardware store, costs around $300. But for around $10 a day you can rent one.

FOR PAINTING

House painting is another project many homeowners dread — not because of the painting itself, but because of the preparation involved, the sanding off of old paint and smoothing the surface; a tedious, difficult task with conventional hand equipment, or even with the ordinary power sander.

A special siding sander, a tool costing about $70, rents for about $4 a day, according to the A to Z catalogue, plus $2.25 for a sanding disc that should do an entire house. The tool has special guides that adjust to the siding, allowing you to sand right up to the board above without touching it and regulating sanding depth to avoid gouging.

★ ★ ★

An underlayment stapler, a decided labor-saver for installing the base for a tile for a tile floor, sells for $50 to $75; rents around $2 a day. A nail gun or stud driver to install paneling on a concrete wall sells for over $100; rents around $3 a day.

A router to neatly trim plastic laminated sheet for your new kitchen counters could cost $70 to $100. The equipment rents for about $5.

RENTAL CENTERS

As for those big party plans, rental centers can provide everything from extra tables and tableware to dance floors and party tents; some will even provide caterers.

If you want to try the family out on camping before making the plunge for equipment, the rental center is the answer again. It will provide everything from an axe to a fully equipped travel trailer.

★ ★ ★

Browsing through your rental center, or its catalogue, can be an education; the variety is enormous: athletic and camping gear of all sorts; equipment for visiting babies; tools for any conceivable job; health equipment and equipment for the sick room.

From animal clippers to a zither, someone will rent it to you.

The national government figures it will have to build 6.7 million family units in order to adequately house everyone in Japan. Local governments and private enterprise are cooperating in the plan but some experts say the target cannot be met on schedule.

Shingle Aids Renaissance

A renaissance in cedar — that's what the resurgence of the fancy-butt red cedar shingle can be called.

Popular at the turn of this century for gingerbread additions to gable ends and upper stories of Victorian-style homes, the fancy butt has come back as a forceful adornment to new buildings and homes, inside and out.

Now made in uniform five-inch widths, the designs are made by bandsaw, using template patterns in such forms as diamond, acorn, cove, sawtooth, hexagon and fish scale.

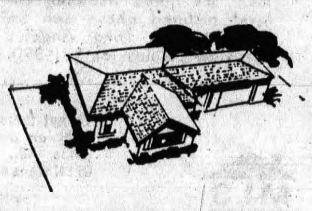
A HOME



IS STILL THE BEST INVESTMENT a Family Can Make

THE TIME TO BUY IS NOW —

HERE ARE 8 GOOD REASONS WHY

1 The price of land is going up . . . up . . . up. Just the other day a group of distinguished economists predicted real estate will go up 20% in the next three years.

2 The steady rise in population, in virtually every section of the nation, exerts a steady upward pressure on land prices.

3 Today, right now, you can find real bargains in new homes. See Kampsen Rlty. and you'll find the selection was never better.

4 Interest rates may go even higher. The actual difference between present and past interest rates is only a small factor in the cost of your home. For example: A one-half percent increase in interest rates is only $6 per month on a 25-year, $20,000 loan. Remember, your interest is deductible on your income tax.

5 Real estate is your best hedge against inflation. "No investment on earth is so safe, so sure, so certain to enrich its owner as real estate."

6 If you shop at Kampsen's, you'll find architects and builders are now figuring with sharper pencils, because of the momentary lull in demand. You can save important money by acting now.

7 The family who buys now will be ahead of the family that continues to collect rent receipts. Each monthly payment builds equity. At the same time, the home can be increasing in value.

8 The best security in the whole world, for you, your wife and children, is the security of owning land.

PATTERNED WALK — A number of interesting and colorful effects can be created with sidewalks which will blend in well with a home and its surroundings. Walks can be built straight, curved, patterned or colored. A well-planned and constructed walk can be an important part of your landscaping plan. Decorative colored sidewalks can be built by adding mineral pigments to concrete. They can be made smooth, or a rough texture can be obtained by leaving the aggregate exposed. Main walks should be three to five feet wide. Service walks should be two to three feet wide. All walks should be at least four inches thick. And for all-climate durability, be sure your contractor uses air-entrained concrete.

Direct Route Boon to Cook

The cook's tour of the kitchen should be as brief as possible — and islands can help to shorten it.

The well-arranged kitchen island, in fact, may almost eliminate steps in the refrigerator-sink-range work triangle. The actual cooking can be done at the island if the range is installed on it.

★ ★ ★

With a sink and adjacent work space, the island can serve as food prepration center. It may be the place to install the dishwasher, or it can divide working from eating areas.

★ ★ ★

Whatever the use, ceramic tile counters on the island, as on other work space in the kitchen, will eliminate heat and spillage damage, and make clean-up easy.

Easily accessible storage is one of the great boons the kitchen island can offer. If it is a cooking island, pots and pans can be stored underneath.

Where it borders on an eating area, drawers and sliding trays can store linens, tableware and baked goods.

The island can also be most useful in keeping combers and tourist traffic out of the way of the cook.

Mix Mosaics

If you're a designing homeowner who prefers broken-line wall patterns to those that consist of uniform parallels and right angles, trying mixing small ceramic mosaics with larger wall tiles for interesting effects.

Prosperity No Help to Housing in Japan

By LEON DANIEL
UPI Correspondent

In Japan a man's home is not necessarily his castle.

It is more likely to be a single small room where his entire family lives without privacy, to say nothing of a bath or even a toilet.

★ ★ ★

It is ironic that in Japan, an industrial superpower whose citizens have the highest per capita income in Asia, millions of people are inadequately housed.

About one-fourth of the 11 million residents of Tokyo, the world's largest city, live in what are called "apatos," an Anglicized form of the word for apartment.

PRIVATELY OWNED

These are privately-owned, multiunit dwellings made of wood or concrete. The invariably drab, barrack-like buildings usually have a communal toilet but no bath.

The rooms, almost always rented singly and unfurnished, usually contain a gas outlet and a sink but no hot water. No heat is provided. There is a small built-in closet where bedding is stored when not in use on the straw-mat floor.

★ ★ ★

For the families who live in a single room, the government's five-year housing plan must sometimes seem an impossible dream.

That plan, scheduled for completion in March, 1971, seeks to adequately house each of the 100 million Japanese.

SINGLE ROOM

Shuichi Hirayama, 25, a plasterer, and his bride, Katsuko, 23, live in a single room 12 feet long and nine feet wide. Hirayama's take-home pay is 45,000 yen ($125) per month.

Their rent is 11,000 yen ($30.56) per month but before they moved into their single room two months ago they had to pay the landlord 41,000 yen ($114.17) in key money.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hirayama is satisfied for the present but she said: "My ambition is to raise children in our own house in a suburb."

It is easy to believe her when she says her present home is no place to raise the children she and her husband expect.

LOOKS SMALLER

The room looks smaller than it is because three closets are jammed against one wall. The only heat is an electric kotatsu, an ingenious device with a blanket covering which Japanese use to warm their feet and legs.

"We are pessimistic about the government doing anything about housing for average families like us," Mrs. Hirayama said.

★ ★ ★

Many other Japanese are pessimistic too, despite that ambitious government housing plan.

★ ★ ★

Many other Japanese are pessimistic too, despite that ambitious government housing plan.

One handy explanation for Japan's housing crisis is that during the years after the war the people were preoccupied with obtaining food and clothing and until recently few could dream of better housing.

But now that income levels have risen, the Japanese are demanding the government do something about housing.

The Japanese are faced with extremely high interest rates, construction costs and land prices, according to research by the Mainichi, one of the largest newspapers in Japan.

The Japan Real Estate Institute reports that average land prices have risen 10 times in the period since 1955. Less land is available for housing because few land owners want to sell. They believe the price will continue to go up.

Aluminum Siding Wins Wide Approval

Homeowners say they buy aluminum siding for its low maintenance features and attractive appearance, according to a survey by Creative Research Associates for The Aluminum Association.

Currently over 300,000 new and remodeled homes yearly are being sided with aluminum. Industry experts predict this will rise sharply as the public turns increasingly to more easy-care building products.

★ ★ ★

The survey indicated that the long paint life for aluminum siding — 15 or more years under average conditions — had made a strong impression on the public.

Constant repainting was cited as a major irritation most homeowners wished to avoid.

EASY TO CARE FOR

Maintenance, they said, was limited to hosing the aluminum siding down occasionally to bring back the product's new look.

Under normal conditions, the Aluminum Association noted the hard, smooth surface of aluminum siding will not collect dirt.

Normal rainfall should be sufficient to keep the house looking fresh. In heavy industrial areas the product is cleaned with a mild household detergent.

★ ★ ★

Scoring high in the survey was the improved appearance of a home sided with aluminum. Homeowners pointed out that often the product went over peeling, old-fashioned sidings that dated the home.

Modern aluminum sidings offer the same appearance as the newest homes.

★ ★ ★

Covering the old chipped, alligatored and peeled paint for good, was said by homeowners to be one of the major benefits of siding with aluminum.

★ ★ ★

S. L. Goldsmith Jr., executive vice president, The Aluminum Association, noted that America's 65 million homes are getting older and that repainting often requires laborious scraping or even the use of a blowtorch to prepare the surface properly for repainting.

Refinishing Hint

Before refinishing woodwork, make sure that all traces of wax have been removed and that any still-glossy surfaces have been sanded so that the new coating can adhere firmly.

CLEVER CORNER—A little imagination put this corner to work. First a recess was built into the wall so that books and interesting accessories could be displayed in an attractive showcase. Then a small refreshment bar was added. The bar provides the base for other conveniences, such as a "communications center." The stools provide a comfortable spot for a phone chat or a quick letter. Children also will find this a good place for games on rainy days or homework when their own room becomes boring. Easy maintenance was included in the design. Hardboard paneling was used on all the walls—a textured oak on the back wall and a contrasting white on the adjacent walls. Easy to install, the 16"x8' plastic-finished planks can be put up with adhesive and concealed metal clips over old walls or new framing. Black feature strips between the textured oak planks provide an additonal visual interest.

Touch That Dial to Save Fuel

Fuel savings of nearly 8 per cent may be obtained by lowering home heating thermostats at night.

The agricultural research center of Ohio State University recommends a nightly thermostat setback of between 5 to 10 degrees to accomplish the savings.

★ ★ ★

The temperature should not be reduced more than 10 degrees, however.

Each morning the thermostat should be returned to the desired normal temperature, the center said, and not to the top of the scale as a higher setting would result in overheating — thus eliminating any fuel savings.

Don't Sit and Wait: Act Now

A leaky roof is really no problem until it rains. Likewise, a faulty heating system is of little concern until cold weather.

And as it makes sense to fix a leaky roof before it rains, it's just as smart to fix heating before winter.

★ ★ ★

A popular method of modernizing home heating today is to install a hydronic system equipped with room baseboard distributors.

★ ★ ★

Hydronic heating is the method in which hot water is circulated from a compact boiler through small pipes to each room. It provides the most even, efficient heat possible — commonly referred to as "radiant."

Because hydronic tubing is small, it can be threaded easily through the house, much like electrical conduit, with no need to rip up walls and floors.

DECORATIVE BASEBOARDS

In each room, the tubing leads to heat distributors that double as decorative wall baseboards.

★ ★ ★

Often installed along the window side of a room, baseboard distributors emit a blanket of warm air along the "cold wall," blocking heat loss.

★ ★ ★

This system also convects or circulates room air by the natural process of sending warm air upward and drawing in air at floor level to replace it.

★ ★ ★

Natural convection provides completely even heat in all parts of a room — no cold floors and hot ceilings — no chilly spots and hot blasts.

Homemakers are quick to recognize the many advantages of hydronic baseboard heating. Children can play on draft-free floors. Rooms are kept cleaner and healthier without dirt and germ-laden air currents.

NO OBSTACLES

Decorating is freed of obstacles — no interference with carpets, drapes or furniture arrangement.

It is important to remember that hydronic baseboards are the truly even, radiant type. Hot water in the tubing continues to provide warmth long after the circulator is shut off, providing more heat for the fuel dollar.

Ceramic tiles laid in a diagonal pattern create an illusion of space, because the eye tends to linger longer over diagonal lines.

THINK ABOUT IT!

"MOM"

'Mommy, fix it, please." "Mother, help me, please."

As children, we knew we could count on her, and we did. She understood us. She was our insulation against childish chills of fear and anxieties. As time goes on, many mothers hear different words; strange words of impatience, irritation, exasperation — yes, even rebellion. They hear, "Oh, mother, you just don't understand." In later years, if we will only admit it, we know many mothers did understand things that were beyond our understanding in former years. But, there are some things a mother should not be expected to understand at any time.

How can she understand why days and weeks go by with no word from those she likes to hear from? How can she understand why she is expected to be insensitive to indifference or neglect? How can she understand why expected phone calls don't come through? How can she understand why (unwritten) letters don't arrive? Incidentally, has anyone ever heard a mother tell a postman, "I don't want any mail today" .?

Yet, on Mother's Day, in spite of our thoughtlessness on other days, she understands. But, wouldn't it be more pleasant for her on other days, if demands for her understanding would be less on other days?

★ ★ ★

In 10 years with the U.S. space program, Haney worked on more than 80 space shots. He was relieved as public affairs director for the Houston Space Center last month and subsequently quit the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Broadcast, Printing Ad Tax Asked

LANSING (AP) — A bill that could raise an estimated $67 million through a tax on printed and broadcast advertising has been introduced in the House.

The measure, sponsored by Reps. Harold Clark, D-Warren, George Montgomery, D-Detroit, and Roy Spencer, R-Attica, joins a companion bill they introduced earlier to tax magazines and newspapers.

★ ★ ★

They estimated that bill would raise some $7.5 million.

The advertising section, under the State Use Tax Act, would affect newspapers, directories, shopping guides — including those of free distribution—magazines, radio and television ads and billboard signs.

Majority floor leader George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, son of one sponsor, said the bill "doesn't really hurt the poor. General Motors might have to buy fewer ads, but the poor aren't buying any."

Cost of the tax, Montgomery said, probably would be passed along to purchasers.

Rail piggyback traffic exceeded two million trailer loads in 1967.

Life's Variety Spices Week

Life, as presented through area viewers' picture tubes during the coming week, varies from the casual look offered by music and comedy to the serious vein of the documentary.

Poet-singer-composer Rod McKuen starts the week in his disarming and husky-voiced style by presenting song and verse. He solos in his first television special scheduled tonight at 8:30 on Channel 4.

★ ★ ★

A more familiar face headlines an hour of song and humor Sunday night at 9 on Channel 2 when Ernie Ford is joined by Andy Griffith, Danny Thomas and the Supremes.

The nation's capital is the stage for a probing documentary which delves into the affections United States citizens feel for their national shrines on "Mirror of America" Sunday at 10 p.m. on Channel 4.

MEREDITH NARRATES

Burgess Meredith narrates the telecast which utilizes paintings, etchings, stills and newsreel footage to tell a story as reflected in the Capitol Building, the White House, Arlington National Cemetery, the JeffersonMemorial, the Lincoln Memorial, and the Washington Monument.

Another nation's patriotism is explored in "Comrade Soldier," the story of life in the Soviets' Army, Friday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7. The portrait of a Russian soldier is presented as cameramen follow him from induction through several weeks of training.

Fred Gwynne, Ray Dimas and Sean Kelly (from Left) star in "Anderson & Co.," a pilot film Monday at 8 p.m. on Channel 4, offering a preview of a new series which starts next fall.

★ ★ ★

This special was made possible when the Soviet high command lifted the iron curtain long enough for the crew from the Untied States to do their work.

What's life like for a man with eight kids including two sets of twins? Fred Gwynne of ("The Munsters") plays the man, and a preview look at his family is offered in a pilot film, "Anderson & Co.," Monday at 8 p.m. on Channel 4. The series is scheduled to start next fall.

Urban problems of the present and the promise and potential of the future are examined in a documentary entitled "Cosmopolis," Monday at 10 p.m. on Channel 7. This repeat presentation visits Tokyo and Los Angeles.

Rod McKuen reveals his thoughts through poetry and music tonight at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 4.

Anatoly Sezonika, a recruit, is greeted at training headquarters in one scene from a documentary on life in the Soviets' Red Army Friday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7.

OPERATION SKY HOOK — U.S. Marines drop a net from a helicopter during training at An Hoa combat base in Quang Nam Province, South Vietnam. Dense jungles surround the base and the Marines are part of a recon unit that is trained to climb down to the jungle from such net ladders.

Willing to Explore VC Plan, Says U.S.

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The United States has told North Vietnam and National Liberation Front representatives it would like to talk about the 10-point proposal made in Paris by the Vietcong for settlement of the Vietnam war.

High U.S. officials making this known said the preliminary American response did not go beyond Secretary of State William P. Rogers' statement late yesterday.

"It contains some clearly unacceptable proposals, but there are elements in it which may offer a possibility for exploration," Rogers said in the first Nixon administration response to the Vietcong proposal.

He emphasized that the position taken by the Communist side Thursday at Paris will require careful study and clarification.

NEW FEATURES

In the view of high authorities here, the proposal does contain new features which give a promise of some forward movement in the peace negotiations.

Rogers, who leaves for Saigon on Monday, declared he would consult closely with Vietnamese leaders, including President Nguyen Van Thieu, to determine if the Vietcong program represents a serious response to earlier U.S. and South Vietnam peace proposals.

★ ★ ★

South Vietnam already has rejected parts of tne NFL program which would set up a coalition "peace" government pending general elections throughout the country.

However, Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, South Vietnam's chief negotiator in the Paris peace talks, said today if the enemy actually agrees to discuss certain points of the NLF program, the negotiations could make some progress.

EXCHANGE OF POW'S

Lam referred to the proposals for exchange of prisoners and reestablishment of the demilitarized zone.

In Washington, State Department experts on Vietnam were examining the records of the Paris peace talks and previous Communist peace plans to determine as exactly as possible the changes contained in the 10-point plan.

Yanks Rip N. Viets South of Da Nang

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines, fighter-bombers and artillery battered as many as 600 North Vietnamese troops in an area south of Da Nang, military spokesmen reported today.

After a daylong stream of fire from Marines sweeping through the area yesterday and bombardment by planes the Marines reported counting the bodies of 129 North Vietnamese soldiers.

Marine casualties were put at six killed and 12 wounded.

"I don't understand their (the enemy's) tactics," said Col. William J. Zaro, of San Antonio, Tex., who directed the Marine assault that included about 1,500 riflemen and three tanks. "They have lost a lot of people in that area and they keep coming back. They must be in bad need of the rice there."

'COMMANDER KILLED'

U.S. officers said they thought the North Vietnamese commander, probably a high-ranking officer, had been killed during the air and artillery strikes because the enemy troops appeared to be running about in all directions, trying to escape the massive American firepower.

The area where the fighting occurred is about 18 miles southwest of Da Nang. Enemy troops have operated there for several years despite countless allied operations. American fighter-bombers returning from missions elsewhere use the area as a dumping ground for unspent bombs and rockets.

Less than two weeks ago, U.S. Marines killed 60 North Vietnamese soldiers in a day of fierce fighting in the territory, while suffering nine Marines killed and 80 wounded.

Hard fighting also flared on several other fronts, including familiar trouble spots northwest and northeast of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

U.S. infantrymen from the 25th Division blocking the northwest approach routes into Saigon killed 117 North Vietnamese troops in two fights yesterday. U.S. casualties were two killed and nine wounded. Several American armored cars were reported damaged in one of the battles with as many as 200 North Vietnamese troops.

Heavy fighting continued for the third day 45 miles northeast of Saigon. South Vietnamese government forces have lost at least 24 men killed, 122 wounded and 12 missing, authorities said.

Treasury Chief to Be Impeached?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman says "impeachment can be the ultimate outcome" unless the White House takes action in a reasonable time on his conflict of interest charge against Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy.

Patman, chairman of the House Banking Committee, said he has no plans now to seek impeachment, "but I'm not making any promises not to do it."

The Texas Democrat contends the secretary maintained continuing ties to the Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago. Kennedy was the bank's $200,000-a-year president until his appointment to the Cabinet.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy has refused to reply to Patman's questions directly but Paul Eggers, general counsel for the Treasury, has reported Kennedy's affairs avoid any conflict.

Patman, who claims he forced Andrew Mellon to quit as Treasury secretary in 1932, spelled out his charges Thursday in a one-hour Senate speech.

Inflation Carry-Over Into 1970 Foreseen

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — A warning that prices will continue rising into 1970, despite a slowing of the boom in coming months, was issued at the weekend conference of the Business Council with high administration officials.

Nearly 100 members of the council, including heads of scores of the country's biggest corporations, attended the conference.

★ ★ ★

Presidential counselor Arthur F. Burns, Secretary of Housing George W. Romney and Postmaster Gen. Winton M. Blount were speakers on today's closing program.

A guarded forecast of another automobile price increase when the new model year begins next September came yesterday, along with a proposal from a construction industry leader for compulsory arbitration of wage disputes in the building industry to curb wage boosts.

Patrick E. Haggerty, vice chairman of the Business Council who arranged the program on economic outlook, told reporters: "There will still be inflation next year, though not as great as this year."

Haggerty, board chairman of Texas Instruments, Inc., Dallas, said Business Council members generally approve the government's anti-inflation program—the tax surcharge, tight money, and restraints on federal spending—although most members wish that Congress had imposed the surtax sooner.

★ ★ ★

Lynn A. Townsend, board chairman of Chrysler Corp., Detroit, told newsmen that the increase in materials cost and even more rapid rise in labor costs during this model year suggest that there will be automobile price increases when new models are introduced next September.

Townsend said he could not guess how much prices might be marked up, and cold not say whether the other major producers also expected price boosts.

BIG WAGE BOOSTS

The problem of big wage boosts in the building industry was discussed by Edmund W. Littlefield, president of the Utah Construction and Mining Co., San Francisco.

Littlefield said recent wage boosts in construction have run 3½ to 5 per cent greater than in other major industries.

Urban Renewal Poll Is Begun

Residents of two large neighborhoods of the city are being polled on their ideas for urban renewal. The survey is being conducted by the City Department of Planning and Urban Renewal.

The effort is in connection with plans to apply for federal funds under the new renewal concept, Neighborhood Program (NDP).

★ ★ ★

Under consideration as "neighborhoods" to qualify as grants are the 20-block area directly east of City Hall and School Board buildings on East Wide Track and a larger tract including most of the southwest side. These two areas are yet to be defined for NDP application purposes.

Urban renewal under NDP is vastly more complicated than previous programs which called for clearance, such as the one which emptied the south part of downtown in 1962.

DILAPIDATED HOUSING

Only removal of dilapidated housing is allowed and that only with permission of nearby residents.

The NDP does call for provision of new housing as well as funds for renovation of existing residences. It provides funds for parks, green belts, removal of undesirable structures and businesses such as junk yards.

★ ★ ★

However, under recent federal legislation, citizen participation and approval must take place.

The current effort by the city is aimed at determining the course of participation. The pollsters are hoping to find out how residents wish to form Citizens District Councils (CDC).

WILL CONDUCT HEARINGS

These groups will conduct hearings and present to the city the opinions of their various neighborhoods on any program which would be offered.

What the city wishes to determine at this point is if residents wish to hold elections to the CDC, have the members appointed or use existing organizations such as Block Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Along with its survey, city officials will be meeting with block clubs. The first meeting is with the Rapid Street Block Club, 186 Rapid, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Other hearings will be scheduled at various points in the city.

Volpe Talks of $1-Billion Proposal

Mass Transit to Get a Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe says the Nixon administration will propose a $1-billion-a-year urban mass transit program in about a month.

He said yesterday that the money would be used for a "trust fund" similar to the Federal Highway Trust Fund that has channeled $36 billion into highway construction since 1956.

Local governments could draw from the fund if they raised about 20 to 40 per cent of the cost of proposed transit systems on their own, Volpe said while touring the city's transit system.

★ ★ ★

Proponents of mass transit have long argued that the federal highway program overemphasized the use of the automobile and contributed to urban traffic jams. The highway program spends $5.5 billion a year.

CURRENT ALLOCATION

The current federal budget allocates $175 million to mass transit. Volpe said the new proposed legislation would raise this to the $1 billion level "in two or three years." The program would run for about 12 years, he said.

★ ★ ★

Volpe said that certain taxes would probably be earmarked for the mass transit program. In the past he has suggested that part of the current excise tax on automobiles or a new cigarette tax might be used.

Currently, no state can get more than 12.5 per cent of the annual federal aid for mass transit, but Volpe said the new bill will be "more flexible."

He May Not Serve as Queen

EDINBORO, Pa. (UPI) — A brawny, 6-foot-3 young man was elected May Queen by the students at Edinboro State College, but school officials disqualified him on a technicality.

David Merridan, 22, a senior from Pittsburgh, who campaigned for queen to spite the fraternities and sororities which sponsor the annual event, was elected by a landslide yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Emil Magdik, director of the College Union, voided Merridan's ballots because he said the young man campaigned at night after the women's curfew. Magdik said Merridan had an "unfair advantage" over the women candidates.

The runner-up, Elaine Buchvich, 19, a freshman, also of Pittsburgh, was crowned at the annual May Dance last night after Merridan conceded.

HOLY CHRISTOPHER! — Surrounded by St. Christopher medals and statues, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallery sits in her religious supplies store and muses. Effective Jan. 1, the Catholic church has decided that Christopher—if he ever existed—will be a saint no more.

Is There Nothing Sacred?

Church Strikes 60 Saints

NEW YORK (AP) — The discoverer of America might well have been a Genoese explorer named Pasquale Columbus Rocco Columbus if the Vatican had realigned its roster of saints in the 15th century instead of the 20th.

Every Roman Catholic child must be given a saint's name at baptism, according to Church rules, and the Columbus family would have had to choose some name other than Christopher.

For Christopher, Barbara, Alexis, Anastasia and a whole litany of almost 60 names were stricken Friday from the Roman Catholic calendar of annual feastdays in honor of individual saints.

Pope Paul VI issued a decree setting up a new calendar effective Jan. 1. The Vatican explained why some saints were removed—ont for any doubt about their sanctity but doubt that they ever existed at all.

DELICATE PROBLEM

The Vatican, obviously aware of the furore in many quarters a few years ago when the popular female saint Philomena was stricken from the lists, acknowledged that the newest action would pose "an extremely delicate problem" for many Catholics.

No one will have to change his name, and no church named for one of the devaluated saints will have to chisel new letters in stone above rededicated portals.

★ ★ ★

But the impact on the personal price and spiritual psychology of many a man or woman who bears the name of a long-revered saint now declared fictional could be something else again.

★ ★ ★

"Saint" is a title given to persons recognized by the Catholic Church as being in heaven and worthy of honor. Popular devotion often spread a cult of holiness around a name in the early centuries, when sainthood by acclamation was fairly common. Later the making of saints became a Church-regulated undertaking that came only after long investigation of personal virtues and was done in lavish ceremonies at the Vatican.

FROM EARLIEST DAYS

Those dropped from the calendar are all names from the earliest Christian centuries.

The Christophers of the globe should not lose heart altogether. Two Italians with that name have been venerated as "Blessed," or on their way to canonized sainthood, since the turn of the century.

Bomber Crashes; 6 Missing

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A B52 Stratofortress bomber crashed into the Pacific Ocean on takeoff from Anderson Air Force Base at Guam early today and the six-man crew was missing, the Strategic Air Command said.

A spokesman said the plane, loaded with 750 and 500-pound bombs, was starting on a strike against targets in South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The crew was from Fairchild AFB in Washington. The bomber was assigned to the Third Air Division at Anderson AFB.

SAC said Navy and Air Force units were searching the area for the plane and crew. No wreckage has been located.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the B52 went into the water off the northeast end of the island. Cause of the crash has not been determined. SAC said a board of officers will investigate the accident.

GM Strikes Affect 72,750

From Our News Wires

DETROIT (AP) — The number of workers laid off or put on short week weeks as a result of strikes at eight General Motors plants has for the first time exceeded the number of workers actually on strike.

As of the end of the second shift yesterday, 72,750 employes had been affected. This included 36,100 striking employes at seven GM Assembly Division plants and one Fisher Body plant and 36,650 laid off or working reduced hours at other facilities.

★ ★ ★

The strikes, which began April 28 at six assembly plants and April 10 at two plants in St. Louis, Mo., crippled production of Chevrolets.

The Assembly Division strike resulted from a failure to reach agreement on details of a consolidation of Chevrolet assembly and Fisher Body plants.

MAIN ISSUES

A United Auto Workers spokesman said the main issues are wage differentials between former Chevrolet and Fisher Body workers now employed on the same assembly lines and consolidation of seniority lists.

The St. Louis strikes concerns a dispute over assembly line speeds.

Negotiations resumed at the plants but yesterday there were no sign an immediate settlement was forthcoming. Local union bargaining committees were in Detroit earlier in the week to discuss strategy with UAW GM department chief Leonard Woodcock.

★ ★ ★

Ward's Automotive Reports, which keeps tabs on the auto industry, said GM's production cutback has already cost it 75,000 vehicles and that each day the strike continues, GM loses another 6,000 cars and 1,500 trucks.

A GM spokesman said the strike has had little adverse effect on sales although dealers are having difficulty making deliveries.

House Leaders Gird for Parochiaid Fight

LANSING (AP)—Girding for the coming floor fight over parochiaid and the public school budget, House leaders yesterday got in their last practice swings by replying to intraparty charges of an "understanding" with Republican Gov. William Milliken.

House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, called "illogical" the suggestion by one Democratic faction that he and others in leadership resign because of failure to support the official party opposition to parochiaid.

★ ★ ★

Ryan, chief backer of a parochiaid section added to a revised school aid bill, rebutted charges by Al Fishman, chairman of the New Democratic Coalition. Fishman said some Democrats made a deal with the Milliken Administration to ensure acceptance of parochiaid in exchange for a school budget within the governor's guidelines.

"No one party has the votes for new revenue" necessary to raise the school appropriation, Ryan said. "We will be back in the fall and cooperate in efforts to raise it."

REPLIES TO DEMAND

As to the charge he should resign his post, Ryan said Fishman's "logic is bad there, too. You can't logically ask a statutory officeholder to quit when people elect him to decide what is or is not good law."

Ryan and his floor leader, George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, notified legislators the school bill would be up for debate Monday without preliminary discussion.

Lions Owner Asked to Finance Stadium

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit legislator Friday called on Detroit Lions owner Wililam Clay Ford to help finance a stadium in downtown Detroit.

Rep. Raymond Hood issued copies of a letter to Clay asking him "as principal owner of the Lions football team" to take the lead in pushing for a downtown site.

★ ★ ★

"Better yet, why not help to finance this stadium yourself?" Hood wrote.

3 in Hospitals After Crashes

Three persons were hospitalized in three separate auto accidents in Commerce, Avon and Rose townships yesterday and early this morning, Oakland County deputies report.

Paul M. Carr, 18, of 3557 Moberly, Milford, is in fair condition in the intensive care unit at Pontiac General Hospital after the car he was driving went off a Commerce Township road 2:15 a.m. today.

Deputies were unable to get details from Carr on how the accident, on Oakley Park near South Commerce, occurred.

In another one car accident, Steven F. Loren, 16, of Flint, is in Flint's McClaren Hospital in satisfactory condition after he apparently lost control of his car in Rose Township at 2:20 a.m. today.

HIT UTILITY POLE

Deputies said his car struck a utility pole at North Milford and Fenton. Two passengers had minor injuries and three were not hurt.

A Rochester Community Schools bus carrying 20 children collided with a car at Herrod and Longview in Avon Township yesterday afternoon.

A few of the children had minor bruises but the auto's driver, Robert L. Lewis, 34, of 3618 Longview, Rochester, was admitted to Avon Township's Crittenton Hospital. He is in satisfactory condition. Four passengers in his car had minor injuries.

Driver of the bus was Thomas A. Milholland, 24, of 419 Second, Rochester.

3 Nude Women Apprehended

81 Arrested at Shelby Twp. Smoker

Police raided an American Legion hall in Shelby Township last night arresting 81 persons, including three nude women, and confiscated gambling equipment and six smoker-type films.

Ten policemen, led by Shelby Detective Glenn McAlpine and Sgt. Gerald DeGrace, entered the Utica chapter hall at 46146 Shelby, Shelby Township, about 9:30 after receiving a tip a half hour earlier.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. DeGrace said some 30 items were confiscated in the raid, including the films, three pairs of dice, numerous decks of cards and signs advertising the gambling. Also confiscated was $345 in cash.

The three women were charged with obscene conduct and frequenting a gambling house. Three other men were charged with being drunk and disorderly, while the remaining 75 persons were accused of frequently a gambling house, according to DeGrace.

He said nine persons were kept in custody overnight, five were released on $100 bond and the others were released on personal bond.

All 81 persons were to be arraigned this morning at the Macomb County Jail before District Judge Gordon Havey.

DeGrace described the smoker films as "raw."

★ ★ ★

He said when police arrived, the three nude women were sitting on the edge of a stage with group of men gathered around.

"They didn't even know we were there until I walked up," DeGrace commented.

He said the event was not at a Legion function, but was apparently at a gathering of an organization of the 40 & 8, which is affiliated with the Legion.

Assisting Shelby police were four state policemen from the Warren and Romeo posts.

Nixon Meeting With Aides, Mapping Welfare Message

dent Nixon confers today with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and other advisers as he prepares recommendations for revising the public welfare system.

Among those joining the chief executive and Agnew for the meeting at Nixon's waterfront home is Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

★ ★ ★

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said there was no agenda for the session. However, part of the discussion was expected to revolve around a forthcoming presidential message to Congress on welfare revisions.

Other conference participants are Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch and White House staff men H. R. Handleman, John D. Ehrlichman, Bryce N. Harlow and Harry Dent.

Nixon spent much of Friday on the water, yachting aboard the presidential boat Julie with friend and neighbor C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

In the afternoon, the President met with Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs. Kissinger, who flew to Florida with Nixon on Wednesday night, has been keeping the chief executive abreast of late developments in the Paris peace talks.

★ ★ ★

Ziegler declined to comment on the latest Viet Cong proposal in Paris for establishment of a coalition government in Saigon.

Four University of Miami students went to the security blockade near Nixon's home Friday and presented to Secret Service agents a petition opposing deployment of the safeguard antiballistic missile.

Week to Pay Honor to Salvation Army

When the Roosevelt Hotel was destroyed by fire at the end of last summer, Salvation Army members spent the night and part of the next day providing clothing and shelter to the fire victims and serving coffee to the firemen.

In the early morning after the fire began 20 of the hotel's residents were housed at the Salvation Army Citadel, 29 W. Lawrence, which later became the official agency for handling inquiries regarding the location of former residents of the 42-year-old hotel.

★ ★ ★

This is an example of the many services provided by the Pontiac Salvation Army which will be nationally honored during National Salvation Army Week beginning Monday.

An agency of the Pontiac Area United Fund, the Salvation Army provides services for needy persons in Pontiac and all of Northern County.

SOCIAL PROGRAMS

Primarily a religious organization under the premise that man's phisical needs must be satisfied along with his spiritual needs.

The Salvation Army has a multiple and diversified program of religious services, character building activities, educational classes, group work and recreational activities for men, women and children.

★ ★ ★

Brigadier John Grindle, commanding officer of the Pontiac Salvation Army division for the past three years, said hundreds of persons are annually helped through Army services, and as a result, acquire new hope, strengthened faith and restored confidence.

Sound Barrier Is Broken by 'Flying Pie'

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Rocketing 10 miles high; space agency test pilot John A. Manke broke the sound barrier in a wingless, pie-shaped experimental aircraft.

"Beautiful," he said Friday after stepping from the HL10, being tested as part of a program to develop craft that can ferry men and supplies between earth and future space stations.

★ ★ ★

The craft hit a top of 724 miles per hour—1.1 times the speed of sound—after being dropped from a bomber.

This was the 17th flight for the HL10, but others were either unpowered glides or rocket-powered at subsonic speed.

★ ★ ★

The pilot shot to a peak altitude of 54,000 feet after igniting the rocket engine, and flew faster than sound for 37 of the 152 seconds of engine burn time.

Newsboy's Toss Blacks Out Jackson

JACKSON (AP) — Consumers Power Co., says that because a paper boy tossed the wire band from his newspaper bundle into a substation, about one-fifth of Jackson's population lost its electric power Friday.

★ ★ ★

Jack Dyer, a spokesman for Consumers, said the metal band fell across two wires in the substation, short-circuiting the power system. The newspaper boy was not identified.

★ ★ ★

Doctor's Operation at Home Saves Son

PESCARA, Italy (UPI) — Dr. Rocco Tella saved his 4-year-old son from suffocation yesterday when he performed an emergency tracheotomy using a kitchen knife and a pair of scissors.

Hospital officials said Giuseppe Telle, recovering from measles and brochial pneumonia, suddenly was unable to breathe.

★ ★ ★

Tella, a radiologist, cut open his son's windpipe to let air get to the lungs, then rushed the child by car to the Pescara hospital where a throat specialist completed the operation.

Giuseppe is recovering and will be able to go home in a few days, a hospital spokesman said.

Children's Village Plans Before County Committee

A new Children's Village detention facility and a girls' work education unit for court wards is under consideration by the County Supervisors' Human Resources Committee.

The committee recommended the hiring of an architect to draw plans for both facilities at its meeting yesterday.

The girls' work education unit programs for 25 girls at a time.

STEPS PLANNED

Steps will also be taken to permanently reserve County Service Center property for future village expansion.

The committee also heard an appeal from the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity to appropriate funds for the continuance of an adult dental clinic and senior citizens program. Federal funds for the pilot projects ran out this year, according to Edward P. Revis, executive director.

The OCCEO estimated the dental clinics could be operated for $21,700 a year. Federal funds for the senior citizen program, amounting to $66,000 this year, will be unavailable in 1970, Revis reported. He said the dental clinic program is now in its final stages.

No action was taken by the committee. It expectes to hear an OCCEO plea for better transportation for the elderly at a later meeting.

Disciplined Teacher Sues

HIGHLAND PARK (AP)—A Highland Park High School teacher who was disciplined for telling police about a student's alleged witnessing of the New Bethel shootings, filed suit Friday against the school district.

Marlynn Marcks, 33, complained in Wayne County Circuit Court that the district acted unconstitutionally and in violation of her union contract by removing her from classroom duties.

Also named in the complaint were the Highland Park Board of Education and Paul H. Emerich, superintendent of schools. Judge Thomas J. Foley set a hearing for May 23.

The suit said that her "suspension and subsequent unlawful lockout" were "arbitrary and capricious" and violated her rights of free speech and other civil rights guaranteed under the U.S. Constitution.

The New Bethel shootings involved the killing of a white police officer and wounding of another outside a church where the black separatist group, Republic of New Africa, was holding a meeting March 29. Police stormed the church and several citizens were wounded.

True-to-Life Script for Widow

By BETTY CANARY
NEA Writer

This is the Year of the Widows on television and I have been watching the programs starring Doris Day, Diahann Carroll, Hope Lange and Lucille Ball just to see how they would handle the problems of widowhood.

Alas, I should have known they would not be confronted with any of the real problems.

Diahann Carroll has had to face up to some minor racism but there's nothing she can't handle with a snap of the fingers. Miss Ball and her teenagers have only minor conflicts with each other and apparently none with the outside world. Doris Day, equipped with two adorable sons, is as sweet as ever and Hope Lange types away at her job as a writer and copes beautifully with the help of children, maid-companion and fluffy dog.

I'd like to see one of them cope with a Father-Daughter banquet. Or have a child turn on them with resentment because there is no father in the house.

For comedy relief, we could have our star — let's call her Irene — invited to a dinner party. She had to be asked because she and dear old Harry were part of the crowd for years and friends have to be sympathetic, don't they? Of course, having her does make the seating arrangement difficult. And, it is rather embarrassing the way all Irene's old friends clutch at their husbands when she walks in alone.

Well, not all of them. Seemingly, the wives of the very dullest men are the most defensive here. But, the real problem is that Irene walks in ALONE. As though she doesn't understand that the world is set up on a couple-basis.

Not only has Irene suddenly, in the eyes of her best friends, become a femme fatale the minute the funeral flowers faded, but she also is a nuisance. It isn't really anything she DOES. It is just that one feels sort of responsibile for her.

★ ★ ★

And there are times when she actually resents it! She seems to think it rude and peculiar when a friend asks questions about how much money Harry had in insurance. Think how strangely she reacted when asked if she really needed to buy that new winter coat! Of course, one wouldn't have thought of asking such a personal question last winter, but that was BEFORE and things have CHANGED.

★ ★ ★

As the season goes on, Irene might find herself weighing her words carefully on our show. She will not dare tell that hilarious story about the cat pulling down the window shade in the dining room because she will know the reaction of some listeners will be, "Irene wants my husband to come over and fix that window and he won't do a thing for ME."

★ ★ ★

Our star can give her friends a change of pace—if she cares to bother with it. She can laugh and perhaps enjoy an hour at a party so her companions can express their How Could You! feelings.

Brazel-Burns

When children are using finger or poster paints it is helpful to set a bowl of old washcloths wrung from thick suds on the table. This way they can wipe their hands and so spare your walls and bathroom fixtures from fingerprints.

No Tigers' Chance With Twins Dean

DETROIT (AP)—With six .300 hitters in the Minnesota lineup it would seem like the Detroit Tigers wouldn't have had a chance Friday night.

They didn't — and they also didn't have a Chance by the name of Dean.

★ ★ ★

Chance and two relievers combined to pitch a four-hitter as the Twins raked four Tiger pitchers for 12 hits to beat Detroit 6-2.

It was Minnesota's 10th victory in the last 11 games, while Detroit lost its seventh game in the last 11.

Why haven't the Tigers been hitting?

"Tonight it was Dean Chance," said Detroit catcher Bill Freehan bluntly, sidestepping the question of other recent meager team hitting perofrmances.

"If he pitches like that all the time he goes out there he'll win 99 per cent of his games," said Twins Manager Billy Martin. "Tonight was the freest I've seen him throw all year."

ARM TROUBLE

It was Chance's first start since he was sidelined two weeks ago with arm trouble. He blanked the Tigers on two hits until the seventh inning, when Jim Northrup tagged a two-run homer after Norm Cash walked. Bob Miller protected Chance's third victory without a loss with ninth inning help from Ron Perranoski.

Earl Wilson lasted only 3⅓ innings and took the loss.

★ ★ ★

Chance struck out seven in his 6⅔ innings and retired 18 of the first 21 men he faced. Last year he was the winningest pitcher against Detroit with a 4-1 record.

Excluding the pitcher, the eight players who started for the Twins Friday were hitting a cumulative average of .316 on 197 hits in 624 at bats. Only two players were under .300 — leftfielder Graig Nettles was at .286 and first baseman Rich Reese at .269.

POTENT BATS

Here were the other averages going into the game: shortstop Loe Cardenas, .305; second basemen Rod Carew, .395; third baseman Harmon Killebrew .313; rightfielder Tony Oliva, .314; catcher John Roseboro, .320; and centerfielder Ted Uhlaender, .304.

★ ★ ★

For Detroit only substitute infielder Tom Matchick, who started at second base, was hitting more than .300. He was at .346, while rightfielder Al Kaline was hitting .296 at game time.

Denny McLain 4-3 was scheduled to start for the Tigers tonight in a rare Saturday night game. Dave Boswell 3-3 was the probable starter for the Twins, who are now 18-8 atop the West Division of the American League. Detroit is six games behind Baltimore in the East Division with a 12-15 record.

STIRRING UP A RUN—Bert Campaneris (left) of the Oakland Athletics encounters a formidable obstacle in New York Yankee catcher Jake Gibbs as he tries to score a run in the fifth inning Friday night on the West Coast. The collision stirs up the dust around home plate but didn't prevent Campaneris from scoring as the ball eluded Gibbs for an error. Oakland capitalized on several Yankee misplays in registering a 3-2 victory.

Trying to Agree on Three-Team Shift to AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro football's tireless club owners struggled through the night with the problem of realignment, continuing past the 24 - hour mark early today in an attempt to find three National Football League teams to move into the American Football League.

The owners still were closeted in pro football's plush Park Avenue offices at mid-morning trying to meet both the requirements of realignment and the afternoon deadline set by Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle said pointedly before the beginning of the Friday session: "One way or another we'll have a decision by Saturday afternoon."

The owners went into session at 10 a.m., EDT, Friday and were locked in virtually continuous meetings throughout the day in an attempt to break the impasse that now has lasted through 13 days of talk.

NOTHING DEFINITE

Rozelle had also said he might be forced to pick the three teams himself, but there was no indication that he had either asked or been given the power necessary to resolve the problem in that manner.

The problem revolved around the selection of the three teams that have to be moved from the 16-team NFL into what is now the 10-team AFL to force the two 13-team conferences that will make up the structure of pro football beginning in 1970.

★ ★ ★

The franchises most prominently mentioned as the leading candidates to shift are Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans, Atlanta, Minnesota and St. Louis.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune in a copyrighted story by sports editor Bob Roesler, said that the owner of the Saints, John W. Mecom Jr., had been offered $3 million to move his club into the AFL, but that he had turned it down. The story did not say who had offered the money.

There was virtually no word whatsoever from the pro football offices during the entire day and night on what progress, if any, had been made or whether the stalemate could be broken.

Ex-Tiger Pitchers Shine With Seattle, Kansas City

Marshall Turns on Speed in 2-0 Win Over Nats

SEATTLE (AP) — Michael Grant Marshall, the Seattle Pilot who has two college degrees and is pursuing a third, passed the pitching test handily Frdiay night with a two-hit, 2-0 victory over Washington with a switch in tactics.

★ ★ ★

"I'm known as a breaking-ball pitcher," said Marshall, B.A., M.A. from Michigan State with a Ph.D in the works. "This time Sal Maglie suggested I throw more fast balls."

★ ★ ★

Maglie, pitching coach for the Pilots, reported later that Marshall — one-time Detroit Tiger relief pitcher — threw only 117 times to the frustrated Senators and 75 of the tosses were fast. He struck out only three and walked four — giving three passes to Mike Epstein — but kept the visitors hitting ground balls to the infield for cozy outs.

★ ★ ★

However, Frank Howard did hammer a blast to the 400-foot mark on the outfield wall in the third for half of Washington's hits.

LONG SINGLE

"I misjudged it," said Seattle center fielder Wayne Comer. "I took one step in and it was over my head. You know — I could have been killed by the rebound." Howard was held to a single.

★ ★ ★

Epstein got the other hit in the ninth, a hard smash off second baseman Tommy Harper's glove.

5 Errors in Inning

Yankees Help A's

OAKLAND (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer of the Oakland A's had to admit that the New York Yankees didn't play baseball when he was with them like they did at Oakland Coliseum Friday night.

The Yankees committed five errors—all in one inning—as the Oakland A's came from behind to win 3-2.

★ ★ ★

Bauer, who starred on nine Yankee pennant-winning teams was amazed the way his old team threw the ball wildly around the field.

★ ★ ★

"We wouldn't have been up there every year if we played like that," he said.

Rookie third-baseman Bobby Murcer made two of the errors and pitcher Mel Stottlemyre, first baseman Joe Pepitone, and second baseman Horace Clarke each made one.

ONE EARNED

Despite all the errors one of the two Oakland runs in the fifth inning was earned. Sandwiched in with all the goofs were a pair of singles and a walk. One of the singles came off the bat of Tommy Reynolds who has hit safely in 12 straight games.

The winning pitcher was Chuck Dobson who never before defeated the Yankees in his four seasons in the majors. He had lost three straight to New York.

★ ★ ★

"Sure, I knew I hadn't beaten them before," Dobson said. "Everytime I faced them I'm aware of it and usually try too hard. This time I was more relaxed."

Dobson gave up eight hits but did not walk a man in evening his season record at 3-3. Dobson couldn't recall any other game in his major league career in which he did not walk a batter.

Drago Pitches Royals to Win Over Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Drago always wondered why the Detroit Tigers never recalled him from the minor leagues for at least a late-season trial. Now, the Tigers may be wondering.

The 23-year-old rookie of the Kansas City Royals, plucked from the Tigers in the expansion draft, pitched his second straight complete game victory Friday night and beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-2.

★ ★ ★

After hurling a no-hitter through six innings, Drago suddenly fell behind 2-1 in the seventh inning on just four pitches —singles by Paul Blair and Frank Robinson and a two-run double by Boog Powell.

But the upstart Royals came from behind for the 13th time in their 15 victories, scoring three runs in the ninth on a two-run pinch double by Mike Fiore and a suicide squeeze bunt by Drago.

NEVER CALLED

"For some reason, Detroit never brought him up," Kansas City Manager Joe Gordon said of Drago, who won 15 games in each of the past three minor league seasons.

Prep's 4:06.9 Mile Best of '69 Season

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — Steve Prefontaine, holder of the national prep two-mile record, ran the mile in 4:06.9 Friday, fastest high school time in the nation this year.

★ ★ ★

The 5-9½, 145-pound runner from Marshfield High School in Coos Bay established the national prep mark in the two-mile two weeks ago with a time of 8:41.5. His mile time was the 16th best in prep history. Jim Ryun, now a senior at Kansas, holds the prep record of 3:55.3.

Saginaw Valley Meet Postponed

There is one element of nature that the all-weather track at Flint Northwestern's Houston Stadium can't cope with — too much water.

The Saginaw Valley Conference track meet scheduled last night had to be postponed until Monday when heavy morning rains left the track under water.

Pontiac Central is one of the favorites in the meet. Preliminaries will start at 5 p.m. and finals about two hours later.

SIDESTEPPING—Detroit Tigers' pitcher John Hiller does some sidestepping to get out of the way of Minnesota's Tony Oliva who was already put out at first base. Hiller took a throw from Norm Cash on the play. The Tigers lost the game last night, 6-2.

Boston Bounces Angels With Big Ninth Inning

ANAHEIM (AP)—The Boston Red Sox go after their seventh straight victory with their winningest pitcher tonight in the second of a three-game series with California.

Power and the big inning, which characterized the 1967 American League champion Red Sox, made their presence felt again Friday night, Boston scored five runs in the ninth inning to rip the Angels, 7-2.

★ ★ ★

Mike Andrews tripled with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth, then Carl Yastrzemski followed with his seventh home run of the year.

Tonight right hander Ray Culp, 5-1, risks a 2-0 lifetime record against the Angels. Culp has also worked more innings this year than any other Boston pitcher. Jim McGlothlin, 2-2, starts for the Angels.

Knuckle-baller Hoyt Wilhelm came on for the Angels in the eighth inning, after the Angels pinch-hit for starter Andy Messersmith. He served up the 3-2 pitch, a fast ball, which Andrews slammed to the wall in right center field for the triple.

George Brunet promptly replaced Wilhelm, and Yaz greeted him with a booming home run over the right field wall.

Wilhelm found himself with the bases loaded after George Scott stroked a long fly ball to right field that Lou Johnson, back-pedaling, dropped for a two-base error, hit pinch-hitter George Thomas with a pitch and walked Dalton Jones.

'Andretti, Granatelli' Top '500' Combination Between Owner, Driver

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The names go together perfectly — Andretti and Granatelli.

Now if Mario Andretti, one of auto racing's top drivers, and colorful car owner Andy Granatelli can just put together 500 miles May 30.

The right equipment and the right money deal brought the two together, Andretti said in the garage of his new car one of 11 STP Specials entered by Granatelli for this year's Indianapolis 500.

"We came close to getting together several times in the last three years, but things never quite worked out before," said the jockey-sized driver from Nazareth, Pa.

EAGLES' COACH — Jerry Williams, one-time NFL player with Philadelphia, and more recently the head coach of Calgary in the Canadian League, was named yesterday as head coach of the Eagles. It has been rumored for several weeks that he would get the post.

Bill Hardwick Rules All-Star; Dotty Repeats

MIAMI (AP) — Billy Hardwick set a scoring record Friday night in winning the 28th annual $65,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament with a record 1,122 pins.

Hardwick, 27, averaged better than 226 in the 48-game match finals to erase the mark set last year by Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill. The victory was worth $8,000 to Hardwick and moved him into first place among the pro bowlers.

Women's Southern Tourney in Finals

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) It will be youth against experience today in the 36-hole finals of the Women's Southern Amateur Golf Tournament.

The youngster is Bobbie Jo Gabrielsen of Athens, a last-quarter education major at the University of Georgia who is playing in her first Southern Amateur. Her opposition was Mrs. Mary Ann Rathmell of Houston, Tex., a veteran of Southern Amateur play and the mother of four children.

Joins Youth Movement

Kosco Powers LA '9'

By the Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers' youth movement is in full swing —and so is Andy Kosco

Not that Kosco can be considered old at 27, but he doesn't quite have the fuzzy cheeks of such youngsters as Bill Sudakis, 23; Ted Sizemore, 24; Billy Grabarkewitz, 23; Willie Crawford, 22, and Bill Russell, 20.

★ ★ ★

Still, Kosco managed to have the last laugh—and the first one, too—as the Dodgers bombed the Pittsburgh Pirates 13-3 Friday night.

After taking a good-natured needling when a cartoon in a local paper depicted him as one of the Dodgers' kids, the slugging outfielder went out and hammered his fifth and sixth homers, good for five runs batted in.

CUBS BOMBED

In the only National League daytime action, San Francisco walloped the Chicago Cubs 11-1. In other night contests, St. Louis outlasted San Diego 7-6 and Cincinnati whipped Montreal 8-5 with rain halting the game after 6½ innings. Atlanta at Philadelphia and Houston at the New York Mets were washed out.

Kosco, who came to the Dodgers from the Yankees in a wintertime trade, settled for a mere single his first time at bat, but it was the opening shot in a nine-run second inning. A wild pitch, a walk and Sudakis' double accounted for one run and Ron Fairly doubled for two more.

An error and a walk filled the bases and Sizemore cleared them with a triple. The seventh run scored on a wild pitch, followed by a walk and Kosco's first homer. Kosco then cracked a three-run round-tripper as the Dodgers tallied four times in the sixth.

★ ★ ★

The crippled Giants, with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Juan Marichal, Jim Ray Hart and Bobby Bonds all sidelined, resorted to what Manager Clyde King calls his "shock troops" to shock the Cubs.

Bob Burda socked a three-run homer, his first in the majors, and Ken Henderson drilled a bases-loaded single.

★ ★ ★

"The shock troops did a good job again," said King. "They did a good job the last time out against St. Louis when they got 12 hits. That's 28 hits in two games, which isn't bad for a bunch of fill-ins."

Bobby Tolan drove in four tallies with a two-run triple and two-run homer, his sixth, as the Reds drubbed the Expos.

The Cardinals wiped out a 4-0 deficit with five runs in the sixth inning and Joe Hoerner put down a rally in the ninth to stave off the Padres.

Harper started Seattle on the victory trail with a first-inning single. He stole second and then scored on a single by Rich Rollins. Harper stole another base in the eighth to boost his league-leading total to 17. He also has hit safely now in nine games.

Seattle's insurance run came in the fourth after Don Mincher was hit on the arm by Washington pitcher Joe Coleman. An infield out moved him to second and he scored on Steve Whitaker's single to right.

'Uncle Sam' Snead Helps Golfing Kin

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Turn back the clock a couple of decades, put a brightly-banned straw hat on his head and he'd look for all the world like his Uncle Sam.

"He's helped me quite a lot," Jesse Carylyle Snead said of his famous uncle, Sam Snead.

★ ★ ★

"He'd get kinda impatient at times, through, said it was kinda like trying to train a bear."

Snead, a husky, 200-pounder, has abandoned pro baseball for the golf tour, shot a three-under-par 68 Friday and was just one shot off the pace of leading Steve Reid going into today's second round of the $100,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

The test, on the 7,138 yard, par 71 Pecan Valley Country Club course was passed up by most of the top names in the game, including Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Billy Casper and Julius Boros, Boros, with the younger pros leaping to the forefront.

MANY PUDDLES

The course was still soggy, with casual water from the violent thunderstorm that forced postponement of the first round Thursday still puddling the fairways when Reid and Snead came in.

It was considerably more dry in the afternoon with 20-year-old South African Bobby Cole matched Snead's 68 and tied for second place.

★ ★ ★

Seven others, including veteran Doug Sanders, were tied at 69 going into today's second round. Because of the postponement, a 36 hold windup is scheduled Sunday.

Others at 69 are Steve Opperman, Dean Refram, Terry Wilcox, Wayne Yates, Bert Yancey and Dale Douglass.

Slowpitch softball, in which the pitch must have an arc from three-to-ten feet and 10 players are allowed per team, has grown in popularity immensely since the city organized its first men's league in 1966.

STEADY GROWTH

Five teams played that year and MGM Cleaners-Shalea Lounge won the championship. In 1967 there were 11 teams with Chalet Lounge prevailing. The Oxford Merchants ruled last year's 15-team circuit which was divided into two leagues. The press won the "B" bracket.

This year's program has been divided into American and National Leagues each with an Interdivision play is scheduled but no inter-league games.

The 14 American teams will play 26 games, and the 12 Nationals will have 22 each.

The city also is sponsoring an Industrial Slowpitch League Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Two six-team divisions comprise league which will start Tuesday with six games.

Thus from a five-team beginning in 1966 the slowpitch recreation softball program now has grown to include 38 teams.

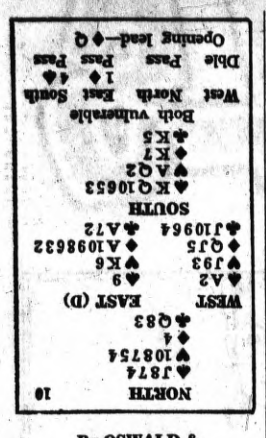
Bridge Tricks From Jacobys



By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

One of our regular contributors to this column played today's hand in the Open Pairs at the Spring Nationals. He was proud of the way he played the hand and he played it well.

His analysis that he made his contract against perfect defense once the diamond was opened was not quite equal to his play since East and West could have beaten him one trick if either had been on his toes.

★ ★ ★

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and shifted to the nine of trumps. West's ace gobbled up South's king and the spade continuation was won by dummy's eight.

A heart was led and finessed successfully. Then South cashed the ace of hearts, entered dummy with the seven of trumps and led a club toward his hand.

East had his choise of death by shooting or by hanging. If he rose with the ace of clubs South would be able to discard his losing heart on the queen. Actually East ducked, whereupon South won with his king, discarded dummy's low club on the king of diamonds and threw East in with the ace of clubs.

★ ★ ★

East had to play a club or a diamond. It did not matter which because South discarded his deuce of hearts and ruffed in dummy.

Where did East and West go wrong on the defense?

East should have returned a diamond at trick two or West should have led a diamond instead of his small trump at trick three. This would force South to take his discard from dummy early and the end play would never develop.

CMU President to Be Installed

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — William Boyd, acting president of Central Michigan University, will be installed officially as the school's seventh president in ceremonies Monday. Boyd succeeds Judson Foust, who resigned last July.

★ ★ ★

The ceremonies will be informal at Boyd's request. The approximately $5,000 saved by cutting down on pomp will go to a fund to aid disadvantaged students.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Forces are scattered. Solid approach seems to be lacking. Go after facts. Discard hearsay. Heed your own counsel. Live up to obligations. Gain shown if persistent.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You receive communication from one at a distance. You get news which gives you a feeling of greater freedom. Don't be in too much of a hurry. Get facts straight. Then arrive at decisions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Talk over contract, agreement proposals with family member. Not wise to commit yourself to long-range program. Watch budget. Remember recent resolutions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Demands made by young person may be impractical. Know this — respond accordingly. Family harmony is important, but not at expense of common sense.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Day to get basic chores completed. Also could be a good bargain day. You know what is needed around the house — and you can get it. Unique product solves dilemma.

Jailer Is Put Behind Bars by His Wife

BURLINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—The Boone County jailer was locked up by his wife Thursday to serve a one-hour court-imposed sentence.

Jailer Frazee Story was ordered jailed by Trial Commissioner Asa Rouse after the two had a verbal clash in court.

★ ★ ★

Rouse reproached the jailer for being rough with a prisoner. "I don't want no speeches from you," Story retorted.

Story said he was angry with the prisoner, George Wagners, 20, because he had slugged him with a pop bottle during an escape attempt Wednesday night.

SUBDUED BY POLICE

Wagners was subdued by police after he was tripped by the jailer's wife as he made a break for the front door.

"He busted me pretty good with that bottle after I let him out to make a phone call," Story related. "I was still mad about it today so I gave him a kick and a little shove in court. That's when the commissioner got on me."

★ ★ ★

Actually, Mrs. Story kept her husband a prisoner longer than the one hour specified by the judge.

"They didn't send over a release right away so I just kept him in there," she said.

Rail Linkup Restaging to Attract Thousands

PROMONTORY, Utah (AP) — It has been 100 years since there has been this much activity around barren, windswept Promontory Summit, Utah.

On May 10, 1869, in the afternoon, hundreds of officials and spectators watched the golden spike ceremony when the last rail connected the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads, and America had its first transcontinental railroad.

★ ★ ★

Residents around Promontory, in northern Utah, reenact the driving of the golden spike each year. But attendance is light.

This year, authorities predict thousands of people will be on hand for the reenactment this afternoon at the same spot the ceremony was held 100 years ago.

But now the railroad on which the ceremony will be held goes nowhere. In fact a section of railroad had to be built specially for today's ceremony. Spectators and participants can't even get there by rail.

The track was abandoned, and later pulled up, when the railroad was rerouted in 1904.

Dozens of national figures will be on hand for the centennial party.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe is scheduled to dedicate a new visitors' center.

Thomas Goodfellow, president of the Association of American Railroads will talk about the history and the future of railroads.

Presidents of the companies which laid the original line—the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific—will be present. The Southern Pacific was called the Central Pacific when the lines were joined 100 years ago.

The original golden spike has been on display in Salt Lake City for several weeks. It was loaned to Utah by Stanford University for the celebration.

Do-It-Yourselfers Rent Tools

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS
UPI Correspondent

Your lawn really needs a thorough overhauling this spring; there are a half dozen do-it-yourself jobs you'd like to tackle around the house; your wife has been talking family reunion and you'd love to introduce the youngsters to a camping vacation but . . . you don't have the necessary gear, and wouldn't know where to stow it if you did.

Increasingly, homeowners are finding renting is the answer. Nationwide rental services such as A to A, Abbey Rents and United Rent-Alls have sprung up in recent years along with a host of smaller, specialized suppliers of equipment.

★ ★ ★

Virtually anything you might need can be rented.

Take that lawn work, for instance. You really should do a thorough job of dethatching — cleaning out the dead grasses — aerate and then reseed and fertilize.

CLEAN DEBRIS

You should clean out the debris that has collected along borders and under shrubs and there is some work to be done on trees. A staggering order for hand tools; an expensive job if you were to purchase power equipment.

The necessary equipment — costing up to several hundred dollars for the heavier, seldom used items such as a power lawn comber or powered aerifier — can be rented reasonably. The A to Z Rental Centers, for instance, list such equipment as a litter vacuum at $2.50 an hour, power lawn comber at $3 hourly, tillers at $3 to $4.50 hourly; all sorts of trimming, pruning and weeding tools at rates ranging from $1 or so daily to $2 or $3 hourly.

And when you're finished with it, it's back to the shop; no problem of maintenance and storage.

★ ★ ★

For the do-it-yourselfer, rental can be particularly advantageous; allowing you the use of equipment that would be prohibitively expensive because of the infrequent need and, often, actually difficult to buy — items such as concrete finishers or power trowels, nail guns or stud drivers, plastic laminated sheet trimmers, siding sanders and underlayment staplers to name a few.

For instance, you'd like to put in a concrete slab for a patio but don't relish the prospect of spending hours on hands and knees finishing it off. A concrete finisher, not an item found in the corner hardware store, costs around $300. But for around $10 a day you can rent one.

FOR PAINTING

House painting is another project many homeowners dread — not because of the painting itself, but because of the preparation involved, the sanding off of old paint and smoothing the surface; a tedious, difficult task with conventional hand equipment, or even with the ordinary power sander.

A special siding sander, a tool costing about $70, rents for about $4 a day, according to the A to Z catalogue, plus $2.25 for a sanding disc that should do an entire house. The tool has special guides that adjust to the siding, allowing you to sand right up to the board above without touching it and regulating sanding depth to avoid gouging.

★ ★ ★

An underlayment stapler, a decided labor-saver for installing the base for a tile for a tile floor, sells for $50 to $75; rents around $2 a day. A nail gun or stud driver to install paneling on a concrete wall sells for over $100; rents around $3 a day.

A router to neatly trim plastic laminated sheet for your new kitchen counters could cost $70 to $100. The equipment rents for about $5.

RENTAL CENTERS

As for those big party plans, rental centers can provide everything from extra tables and tableware to dance floors and party tents; some will even provide caterers.

If you want to try the family out on camping before making the plunge for equipment, the rental center is the answer again. It will provide everything from an axe to a fully equipped travel trailer.

★ ★ ★

Browsing through your rental center, or its catalogue, can be an education; the variety is enormous: athletic and camping gear of all sorts; equipment for visiting babies; tools for any conceivable job; health equipment and equipment for the sick room.

From animal clippers to a zither, someone will rent it to you.

The national government figures it will have to build 6.7 million family units in order to adequately house everyone in Japan. Local governments and private enterprise are cooperating in the plan but some experts say the target cannot be met on schedule.

Shingle Aids Renaissance

A renaissance in cedar — that's what the resurgence of the fancy-butt red cedar shingle can be called.

Popular at the turn of this century for gingerbread additions to gable ends and upper stories of Victorian-style homes, the fancy butt has come back as a forceful adornment to new buildings and homes, inside and out.

Now made in uniform five-inch widths, the designs are made by bandsaw, using template patterns in such forms as diamond, acorn, cove, sawtooth, hexagon and fish scale.

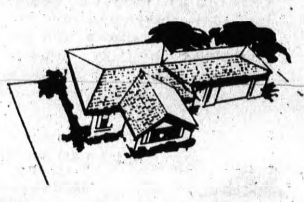
A HOME



IS STILL THE BEST INVESTMENT a Family Can Make

THE TIME TO BUY IS NOW —

HERE ARE 8 GOOD REASONS WHY

1. The price of land is going up . . . up . . . up. Just the other day a group of distinguished economists predicted real estate will go up 20% in the next three years.
2. The steady rise in population, in virtually every section of the nation, exerts a steady upward pressure on land prices.
3. Today, right now, you can find real bargains in new homes. See Kampsen Rlty. and you'll find the selection was never better.
4. Interest rates may go even higher. The actual difference between present and past interest rates is only a small factor in the cost of your home. For example: A one-half percent increase in interest rates is only $6 per month on a 25-year, $20,000 loan. Remember, your interest is deductible on your income tax.
5. Real estate is your best hedge against inflation. "No investment on earth is so safe, so sure, so certain to enrich its owner as real estate."
6. If you shop at Kampsen's, you'll find architects and builders are now figuring with sharper pencils, because of the momentary lull in demand. You can save important money by acting now.
7. The family who buys now will be ahead of the family that continues to collect rent receipts. Each monthly payment builds equity. At the same time, the home can be increasing in value.
8. The best security in the whole world, for you, your wife and children, is the security of owning land.
