Outline Charges Against McCarthy

Solons to Probe Five Categories of Accusations

6 Senators to Launch Censure Hearings on August 31

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Senate committee today announced five categories of charges on which it will start public hearings next Tuesday on the question of whether the Senate should censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the bipartisan six member committee, said the charges seemed to be "the most important" of 46 filed by three senators who have urged that McCarthy's conduct be officially condemned.

He emphasized, however, that these did not preclude the committee from considering all the charges during the course of the public hearings, which will start Aug. 31, one day later than previously scheduled.

The five categories include:

1. Alleged "incident of contempt of the Senate or a senatorial committee" by McCarthy, centering largely around his failure to testify before a Senate elections sub-committee investigating his finances in 1950.

2. "Incidents of encouragement of United States employes to violate the law and their oaths of office or executive orders" in McCarthy's appeal to federal employes to give him classified information about alleged Communists or subversives.

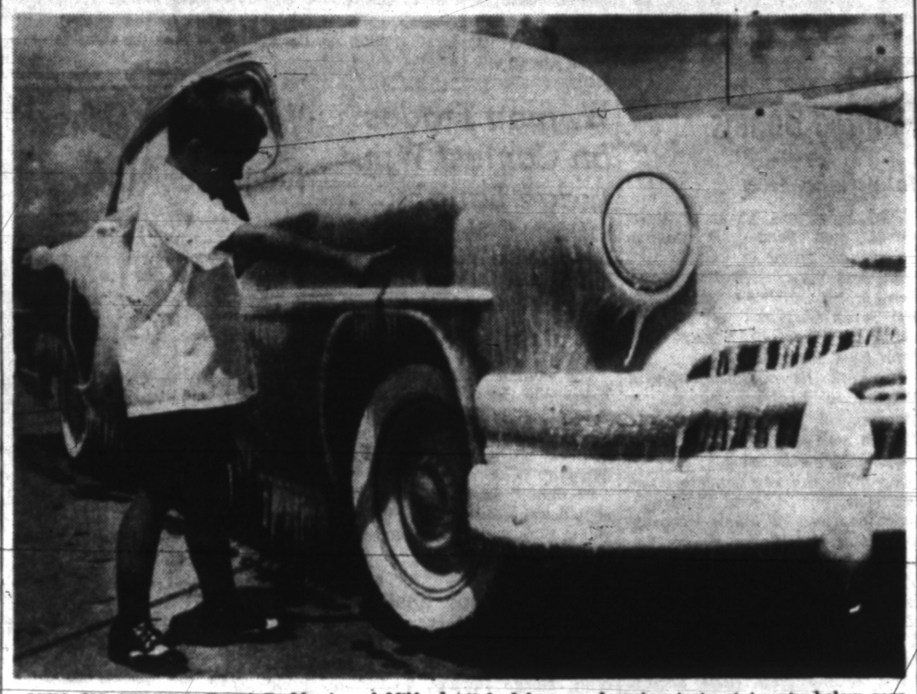
3. "Incidents involving receipt or use of confidential or classified documents or other confidential information, from executive files," in connection with his receipt of a purported summary of an FBI espionage report in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

4. Incidents involving alleged "abuses" of other senators. Under this heading, the committee referred to attacks McCarthy leveled at Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ) and other members of the Senate sub-committee that investigated his financial affairs.

5. The charge that McCarthy abused Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

McCarthy's questioning of Zwicker last February brought a vigorous protest from Army Secretary Stevens and was one of the incidents that touched off the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

Cooling Prevue of December Motoring



ICE? NO KIDDIN'—Daryl Roddewig, of Milford, checks to see if he can really believe his eyes, and finds the 1954 Pontiac is covered with ice although the temperature is 95 degrees. Daryl happened along just as the car had been rolled from Pontiac's famous sub-zero cold testing room Monday where it had been undergoing tests at twenty below zero. While most of the nation tries to keep cool, Pontiac engineers work in arctic boots, gloves and parkas in temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero testing Pontiacs under the most severe weather conditions.

President Signs Historic Bill Outlawing Commie Party

The history-making measure the President approved at his vacation headquarters here also is designed to crack down on Red-infiltrated labor unions.

The President's decision to approve the bill with its outlawing provisions, for which the administration did not ask, was announced by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here.

Administration doubts about the bill — revised before it passed to overcome a principal objection—were based on concern as to whether it would make "propaganda martyrs" of Reds in this country and drive them further underground.

The bill outlawing the Communist party overshot the administration's mark on anti-Red legislation when an election-bound Congress enthusiastically passed it on the last day before adjournment. The vote: Senate, 79-0; House, 265-2.

It was an unexpected offshoot of a bill, requested by the administration, to strip Communist-infiltrated unions of rights before the National Labor Relations Board.

Republican congressional leaders succeeded only in the closing hours in removing a Democratic-sponsored provision which would have made individual Communist party membership a crime punishable by imprisonment for five years and a $10,000 fine.

The provision was killed in a Senate-House conference after leaders cautioned that the bill, in unaltered form, would be vetoed by Eisenhower.

The measure provides that the Communist party shall be denied legal rights available to all other political parties.

Russia Protests Holding of Spy

Soviet Source Reports Note to U.S. Charges Coercion of Rastvorov

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Soviet source said today that Moscow has accused the U. S. of coercion to keep former Russian intelligence agent Yuri Rastvorov from returning to the Soviet Union.

The source said a messenger from the Soviet Embassy in Washington delivered a note to the State Department last night concerning Rastvorov, who disappeared from his post in Tokyo nearly seven months ago and did not show up until Aug. 13.

At that time, he appeared at a news conference in Washington to announce he had asked for and received political asylum in the U. S. because: "I wanted to live like a decent human being."

The Soviet source said the note recalled that Moscow had first asked for information about Rastvorov's whereabouts last Feb. 15 and did not get an answer for six months.

Report 56 Drown in Floods in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Home Minister K. N. Katju told the Indian Parliament today that floods in northeast India have drowned 56 people and put 22,000 square miles in Assam and Bihar under water.

In Bihar alone, he said, 17,000 families are homeless.

The central government has rushed emergency funds and supplies to the flood areas and the Red Cross and the U. S. Air Force have launched an aid program.

One American Flying Boxcar with supplies arrived yesterday, four more were due today and two more are scheduled later this week.

Bird 'Barrage' Nearly Downs British Airliner

RENFREW, Scotland (AP)—A British airliner plowed through a swarm of seagulls while coming in for a landing here last night, killed about 300 of them, and then nearly spun out of control with dead birds wedged into its engine cowlings and landing gear.

The twin-engine craft carrying passengers from London, was about to touch down at Renfrew Airport when the birds swarmed in a solid mass before it. Crew members said the gulls hit the plane like an ack-ack barrage, making it shudder from nose to tail.

Governor May Call Guardsmen

State Highways Need More Control During Holiday Weekend

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gov. Williams is contemplating an emergency call of at least 666 national guardsmen to help control Michigan highways over the Labor Day weekend.

State police and guard officials now are working out final plans for the emergency call, expected to come within the next few days.

State police have said they could use 475 guardsmen to aid in patrols. Sheriffs have asked for 142 and cities, villages and townships have indicated they could use 49.

The guardsmen will be mostly military policemen who are accustomed to handling traffic.

Lawrence Farrell, executive secretary to the governor, said state police and guardsmen are meeting again today to iron out final details of the project.

Farrell said it also is planned to have eight planes in the air to help direct Labor Day traffic.

Two national guard helicopters also will be pressed into service. One will patrol in the Brighton-Detroit area. Another will patrol along U.S.23 in the Standish-Saginaw area.

Four department of aeronautics planes also will be used over the weekend. One will patrol along U.S.31 and 131 on the West side of the state. A second will cover U.S.27 and 127 in the Muskegon to Lansing area. A third will patrol along U.S.10 from Cadillac to Pontiac. A fourth will cover the area from Pontiac to Toledo.

Claim 'Atomic Clock'

LONDON (UP) — Moscow Radio announced today that Soviet scientists have invented an atomic clock.

It said the atomic clock was necessary because "clocks which are synchronized by the constellations of stars and the sun are not exact enough for certain highly technical processes."

President Lauds Record of GOP 83rd Congress

Urges Voters to Back Administration So All Plans Can Be Realized

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower told the nation's voters last night the Republican 83rd Congress chalked up a fine record toward assuring a stronger, better America. He urged them to remember that when they go to the polls in the November congressional elections.

In a nationwide radio and television address, the President sounded an optimistic note about the security of Western Europe in the face of collapse of European defense army talks at Brussels.

"Don't be too discouraged," he said.

The great statesmen of Europe are his friends, he said, and "they want peace as much as you and I do."

"They are not licked yet," he said, "and we are certainly not licked. Let us not lose faith in them. There is still something to be done in that region, and we are going to do it."

The rest of the half-hour address was exclusively a plug for the administration and the record of the GOP-run Congress which wound up last Friday.

The President, vacationing here, spoke from a Denver TV studio. He talked from notes on cue cards in front of the cameras, stood in front of a desk on which he leaned part of the time, and occasionally he drove his left fist into his right hand to emphasize points. He was flanked by the American flag and the presidential banner.

His warm praise for the GOP-controlled Congress — in which Republicans held only a slim majority over Democrats—dealt with enacted legislation which he said would for example, cut taxes by nearly 7½ billion dollars, expand social security coverage and increase benefits, shift present rigid farm price supports to a system of flexible props, and provide new weapons to help defeat communism and subversion at home.

Eisenhower made no call in so many words for maintenance and tightening of GOP control of Congress in the fall elections, but he did say:

"If we are going ahead with this (administration) program, if you want it to go ahead, the decisions are largely up to you. Because it is the character of the 84th Congress that will determine: Can we go ahead and push through all

Can See Islands Being Defended

Sec. Dulles Says U.S. Would Be Justified in Formosa Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today American forces would be justified in defending some Nationalist-held islands between Formosa and the Chinese mainland from any Communist attack.

Dulles told a news conference it would be up to American military leaders to decide which islands in addition to Formosa they want to defend as part of their overall strategy for aiding the Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Dulles spoke in the face of talk by Peiping of "liberating" the island of Formosa, now held by Chiang Kai-shek and the Chinese Nationalists. U. S. leaders have been inclined to discount the Peiping talk.

In talking about Europe, Dulles told newsmen he deeply regrets France's unwillingness to agree with five other Western European countries on the European army plan. But he said he has not given up hope France will ratify the European army agreement when "it confronts the ultimate decision."

Generals Join to Make Vargas Quit at Dawn

Tense Political Situation Brought On by Death of Major Vaz Aug. 5

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's old iron man, Getulio Vargas, sent a bullet through his heart and died in his palace today after 58 generals forced him to quit as president.

"To the wrath of my enemies I leave the legacy of my death," said a note left by the 71-year-old chief of the world's fourth largest country.

"I take the sorrow of not being able to give to the humble all that I wished."

Vargas stepped down from the presidency at dawn and shot himself in his quarters at Catete Palace, the Brazilian White House. Gen. Caido da Castro, chief of his military staff, was with him. Police said Vargas suddenly whipped a pistol from his pocket and shot, dying almost immediately.

He thus fulfilled a promise he had made Sunday night—that he would leave office only under arrest or dead.

That was after 26 general officers of the air force asked him to resign to calm a tense political and military situation. Today 32 general officers of the army joined in the demand for Vargas' ouster.

The army officers' petition was presented to Vargas this morning at Catete Palace. It was announced the president, who came to power in 1930 and ruled all but five years since then, had agreed to ask congress for a leave of absence. Four hours later he was dead.

The crisis that brought Vargas' ouster and death began Aug. 5 with the slaying of an air force major, Ruben Vaz, during an attempt to assassinate Carlos LaCerda, an anti-Vargas editor. The slaying aroused widespread indignation in both the military and the press. This grew when it was discovered that members of Vargas' personal bodyguard were involved. Vargas dissolved the guard.

The crisis broke into rioting Aug. 11 following a mass for Maj. Vaz. Two persons were injured and campaign posters for Vargas' Brazilian Labor Party (PTB) were torn down.

"Vargas out!" shouted the mob.

August Johansen Gets GOP Blessing as Third District Candidate

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—August Johansen of Battle Creek today was chosen as the Republican congressional nominee in Michigan's Third District to succeed

The 48-year-old Johansen is a former Congregational minister and newspaperman and for 10 years was personnel director of the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek cereal manufacturer.

The district is overwhelmingly Republican, normally.

Johansen was chosen by a five-member Third Congressional District Republican committee appointed by Shafer only a week before his death.

Such a committee, under Michigan law, has the right to name a successor should a nominee die after his selection via primary election. Shafer was unopposed in the Aug. 3 GOP voting.

Johansen was new editor of radio station WBCK at Battle Creek when he was chosen by Shafer as his administrative assistant Feb. 1, 1951.

Previously he had been a member of the editorial staffs of the Battle Creek Enquirer News and the old Battle Creek Moon Journal. He also had edited a Battle Creek weekly.

Johansen was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1926 with a bachelor of arts degree.

Man Eats Two Steaks, Can't Pay for Either

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Joseph J. McDermott, 58, ate two steaks at a restaurant last night but couldn't pay.

The proprietor called the police. After they charged McDermott with defrauding a restaurant, they asked McDermott why he ordered two steaks when he didn't have the money.

"I haven't had a steak since the last time I got arrested for the same thing," he replied. Police said there was no record of a previous arrest for this offense.

Cloudburst Follows Heat; More of Each Due in City

A cloudburst about 7 a. m. today slowed traffic on at least two highways and dumped a quarter of an inch of water on the Pontiac area in approximately 15 minutes.

The rainstorm came on the heels of a heat wave that pushed the mercury to 95 degrees here yesterday, a new high for this year.

More 90-degree weather and widely scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers are forecast for Wednesday.

A high of between 93 to 97 degrees is predicted for the Pontiac area Wednesday. Tonight's low will range from 70 to 74.

The U. S. Weather Bureau promises no relief from the hot spell until Friday. Greater thundershower activity is expected Thursday and Friday, with a slight cooling trend Friday.

The isolated thundershower moved into the Pontiac area this morning when plant traffic was starting to crowd main arteries.

Motorists traveling on Telegraph road and on Highland road (M59) reported that they were forced to pull off the highways and stop their cars during the height of the deluge.

Pontiac Municipal Aiport officials said the rain came down in "bucketsfull" in that vicinity west of Pontiac. Thirty-mile-an-hour winds were clocked at the airport.

State Council of Churches May Test Ruling on Petitions for Bingo Vote

LANSING (AP) — Voters watched a Detroit meeting of leaders of the Michigan Council of Churches today to see if they were going to be called on to vote Nov. 2 on allowing charity lotteries.

The churchmen were considering starting a state supreme court suit to block certification of a proposed constitutional amendment to the ballot by the state board of canvassers yesterday.

Over the objections of James W. Williams, attorney for the council, the board certified that 310,774 of the 320,908 signatures filed on petitions calling for the vote were valid. The petitions needed only 286,598.

The amendment is sponsored by the Michigan Association of Charitable and Non-Profit Organizations.

The proposal would allow lotteries, now forbidden by the constitution, if they are sponsored by charitable or non-profit organizations. The sponsoring group is principally interested in allowing a return to charity bingo.

Williams sought to head off the certification by calling witnesses to support his charge that more of the signatures should have been disqualified.

Workers for the council who observed some of the petition checking said they had indications that more signatures should have been thrown out because of erasure, errors and other "obvious flaws."

Birmingham Commission Eyes Problem

Elimination of Intersection Moves One Step Closer

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners last night came another step closer to eliminating the hazardous Woodward-Hunter intersection north of Oak street, when they instructed City Manager Donald C. Egbert to negotiate further on extending Oak across the center island dividing Woodward and Hunter.

In terms of dollars and cents, Egbert will confer with the Oakland County Road Commission and the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., owner of the northern end of the property involved.

While not yet formally approved, the possibility of annexing the Bloomfield Township property will be looked into by Egbert.

Since the area is presently outside the city limits, Egbert felt that the County Road Commission might share in the cost. The State Highway Dept. has already told the city what costs it would assume in the project.

Plans for the extension have been tentatively approved by the City Commission and the oil company, which anticipates construction of a service station on the land.

Plans for the new $130,000 East Side fire station, to be constructed at Adams Rd. and Bowers St., were approved by the lawmakers in other action last night. A contract will be let within a month.

ter pumps failed for five minutes during the rainstorm. Officials said a slight voltage dip, apparently caused by lightning, stalled the pumps.

Yesterday's fiery blast was blamed on hot air flowing northward from the Gulf of Mexico.

The thermometer jumped to 95 degrees here at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. The high was one degree above this year's previous hottest day recorded on July 14. It was only one degree below the record high for this date established in 1936.

This morning's rainfall of .25 of an inch was nearly half again as much rain as has fallen so far this month. Up to today, the rainfall has totaled .35 of an inch.

Yesterday's 90-plus reading was the 13th day this year that temperatures have soared to 90 degrees or higher. June and July each had six 90-degree days.

The mercury moved toward the 90 degree mark again today after the thundershower cooled off the area briefly.

At 8 a.m. today the temperature was 71 degrees in downtown Pontiac. But by 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 91.

Ike Lauds Record of 83rd Congress

these programs for the benefit of America? Or will they be stopped by some kind of political arguments?

"We want to go ahead. We are sure that you want us to go ahead. All my mail shows exactly that; that you, with us, are looking forward to peace abroad, greater security, and greater and greater prosperity at home."

He said the White House went to bat 64 times in Congress in behalf of enactment of administration measures.

* * *

"Now, 54 of them were enacted into law," he added. "We did not always make home runs, but anyway we did have 54 hits. Some of them aren't quite all that we wanted, but that after all is a batting average of .830, and any baseball fan will tell you that is pretty good going in any league."

Eisenhower dealt at length on the tax revision bill which he said will save taxpayers $7,400,000,000 a year.

"This is money you spend for yourselves, instead of the government spending it for you," he declared. " . . . You are using your own decisions instead of a bureaucrat's decision."

* * *

He also claimed a two-thirds cut in federal deficits—he said their size was "appalling when he took office—and declared: "We are well on the way toward a goal, finally, of achieving a balanced budget in our income and our outgo."

But he added that his is "a human administration" which hasn't placed "the pocketbook above the heart."

On that point, he pointed to enactment of legislation in the fields of housing, social security, health and agriculture, and said it's all designed to make America a better, more secure place in which to live.

* * *

He defined his domestic program this way:

"It has been a liberal program in all those things that bring the federal government into contact with the individual; . . . it tries to be human, considerate and sympathetic.

"But when it comes to the economy of this country, your pocketbook and your taxes, it tries to be conservative."

He called it "a great program . . . a program to benefit all Americans."

Noting that the 83rd Congress did reject some of his proposals, he said he will continue to press for enactment of such measures as:

Revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law, his health reinsurance plan to "insure cheaply against the possibility of catastrophe in the medical line," and gradual reduction of tariffs.

He also said that during the 84th Congress the administration plans to place great emphasis on "our relations with the external world."

He said that in the 19 months since he took office much already has been accomplished in that field, toward strengthening America against the menace of Communist aggression.

* * *

In that field, the Summer White House announced that Secretary of State Dulles, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) will be this country's official representatives at the forthcoming Manila conference to discuss creation of a Southeast Asia Defense Organization. The conference will open Sept. 6.

3 Grass Blazes Keep Bloomfield Firemen Hopping

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three grass fires within four hours kept the fire department here on the move yesterday.

First, the men were called to a blaze at Maple and Telegraph Rds., which necessitated the aid of the volunteers and the Franklin Fire Dept. They fought the flames for 2½ hours.

While the township department was battling this blaze, another fire broke out on Somerset, near Mulberry. With township firemen busy the Bloomfield Hills department was summoned.

A third fire took place on Hickory at Ayrshire Rds. about 90 minutes later.

Elmer Rhodes, township fireman, said there was no evidence of arson in any of the blazes.

Jaycees Aiming at Flag Displays

Local Group Promotes More Patriotism, Also Raise Project Funds

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce will begin a campaign tomorrow aimed at fostering a large display of American flags here on patriotic occasions plus getting funds to support Jaycee youth projects.

Flags will be sold for $3.50 at nine local stores. They also may be ordered by calling FE 4-4507.

The banners are 3x5 feet, have 6-foot jointed staffs and a bracket for use in attaching them to houses.

Robert Irwin, Jaycee co-chairman for the program, said, "Very few flags have been flown in Pontiac on recent holidays, through this program we hope to see an increase in attention to our patriotic heritage."

3 Lake Orion Juveniles Are Released to Parents

Three Lake Orion juveniles were arrested yesterday and later released to their parents on charges of malicious destruction of property, by Michigan State Trooper William Dreger of the Pontiac Post.

The youths, 12, 14, and 15 years old, are accused of causing about $100 worth of damage, including tearing up flowers and trees, breaking glass on two autos, stealing a mail box, and taking radio equipment from an auto and hub caps and chrome stripping from two cars.

Hurt Motorist Charged Drunk and Disorderly

An Allen Park motorist, who was injured yesterday in an accident at U.S.10 and Scott Lake road, Waterford Township, is being held in Oakland County Jail on a drunk and disorderly charge, according to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post.

Dupre S. Mosley, 41, of 14590 Philomine, in jail, rammed the rear of an auto driven by Roy A. Dorris, 40, of 2669 Silverside, Waterford Township, pushing Dorris car across U.S.10 and into another vehicle driven by Richard K. Bennett of 2610 Silverside. Dorris was waiting to make a left turn, police said.

Man Gets Fine, Probation in Hit and Run Accident

BIRMINGHAM—For leaving the scene of a property damage accident, Burley Smith, 45, of 1670 Graefield Rd., yesterday paid a fine of $15 plus $10 costs, was placed on 90 days probation and had his license revoked for 90 days when he appeared before Associate Justice John C. Emery Jr.

Smith was convicted on a similar charge Aug. 11, when he was given 60 days probation.

Water System Job Progresses

Sylvan Lake City Head Reports Tentative Okay on Test Wells

Work is progressing on plans for Sylvan Lake's $225,000 municipal water system, with tentative approval of two test well sites by the State Health Department, according to City Manager Ernest Ethier.

Plans call for test wells at Sylvanite Haven Park and behind the city hall, said Ethier.

An elevated storage tank probably will be required to provide efficient water distribution and a reserve for fire protection, he added.

In other business Ethier reported that the city has kept within its income so far this year and should end 1954 "with a substantial surplus."

The deadline for filing nominating petitions to run for city offices in the Nov. 2 election is noon Sept. 25. One city councilman and a constable will be elected.

Driver licensing has been discontinued by the Sylvan Lake Police on order of the secretary of state's office. Local residents can get licenses at the Oakland County Jail. Reason for the move is an effort by the state to reduce the number of small licensing stations.

Some 89 per cent of this year's tax assessments were collected through July 31.

Schools attended by Sylvan Lake children will open Sept. 9. The schools are Daniel Whitfield, Washington Junior High, Pontiac Senior High and Roosevelt School in Keego Harbor. Kindergarten will start Sept. 13 at Daniel Whitfield.

Persons interested in forming a Sylvan Lake archery club will meet with Sgt. John E. Carman of the city police Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

The Pontiac Health Department has tested Dawson Mill Pond, Dawson spill-way, the Telegraph road channel and Crystal Lake for contamination and found them all acceptable.

Brazilian President Quits, Kills Himself

lice arrested Climerio Eurides de Almeida, member of the guard, and Jose Antonio Soares, a palace employe as involved in the La-Cerda plot. They also seized Joao Alcino de Nascimento, as the alleged trigger man.

The situation arose at a time Brazil was undergoing severe economic stress. Last week the price of coffee was forced down, in terms of American dollars, and there have been predictions of further blows against Brazilian currency.

The air force, with Vargas' permission, obtained the personal papers of Gregorio Fortunato, husky former head of the disbanded presidential guard, and these papers may have provided material for the final push against Vargas.

The papers, widely published, purported to show influence peddling by Fortunato. This increased the troubles for the government already under attack for alleged corruption.

New demands for Vargas' resignation were made at an Aeronautical Club meeting Saturday. Air force general officers conferred 10 hours Sunday and prepared a note saying Vargas' resignation was the only solution for the crisis.

The army officers' memorial calling for Vargas to quit was presented to him shortly after midnight by Gen. Mascarenhas de Moraes, chief of the armed forces general staff, and War Minister Zenobio da Costa. Then came frantic hours of conferences between Vargas and these army officers and members of his Cabinet, as well as members of his family.

Finance Minister Oswaldo Aranha, an old friend of Vargas well known in the United States, spoke briefly.

* * *

Gen. Armando Mendes de Morais meanwhile was talking with Vice President Cafe. War Minister Costa left Catete Palace shortly after 3 a.m., and conferred with military leaders at the War Ministry. He returned to the presidential palace for a second conference starting at 4:20 a.m.

Finally came the announcement that Vargas had agreed to take a leave of absence:

"The president of the republic met today with his Cabinet to examine the political and military situation created in the country. His ministers were heard one by one and various aspects of the crisis and their serious consequences were debated. Vargas decided, with the entire solidarity of his ministers, to take a leave of absence, passing the government to his legal substitute (Cafe) in view of promises solemnly undertaken before the nation by officials of the armed forces.

In a contrary case, he (Vargas) would persist immovably in his determination to defend his constitutional perogatives, with the sacrifice if necessary of his own life."

"In a contrary case, he (Vargas) had been forced out of the presidency of this country of 54 million persons. An army-led coup in 1945 deposed him after he had served 15 years. But he came back in 1951.

Warrant Is Issued in Parmenter Case

DETROIT (AP) — A federal judge today issued a warrant charging Eugene A. Parmenter, Pontiac stockbroker who disappeared a year ago, with violating the mail-fraud provisions of the securities and exchange act.

Police authorities believe Parmenter still is alive although he left a suicide letter when he vanished Aug. 1, 1953. He has been sought on a state embezzlement warrant. The federal warrant, issued by Judge Ralph M. Freeman, authorizes the FBI to conduct a nationwide search.

Asst. U.S. Atty. George E. Woods charged that Parmenter, 54, embezzled $175,000 from customers of a Pontiac firm. Parmenter was accused of swindling customers who left stocks they had purchased with him for "safe keeping."

Parmenter wrote his wife from Frankfort last August after his disappearance, saying he planned to drown himself in Lake Michigan. His body was never found.

Woman Trades on Contest Win, Judge Laughs

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Constance Wilmer's assertion that she was voted the best dressed girl when she was in high school didn't impress Municipal Court Judge Jennie L. Barron yesterday.

The woman judge sentenced the 22-year-old Mrs. Wilmer to five days in jail on a charge of larceny of $27.54 by using another woman's charge account in a Boston department store.

"I think," said the judge, "they should stop turning the heads of young girls with beauty queen and best dressed contests."

Keego Harbor Resident Charged With Larceny

Lyle D. Lynn, 20, of 1793 Beechcroft, Keego Harbor, waived examination on a larceny charge and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Aug. 30. He was unable to post $1,000 bond set by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Lynn is accused of taking a purse containing $67 Aug. 21 from Miss Ruby Kemple of 20 Norton Ave., according to West Bloomfield Township Police who arrested Lynn.

Clarkston Motorist, Passenger, Injured

A Clarkston motorist and his passenger were injured yesterday when their auto rammed the rear of another car at Auburn avenue and Opdyke road in Pontiac Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Charles M. Shepherd, 30, of 4365 Elmdale, Clarkston, told deputies that he saw no tail lights on a station wagon driven by William E. Doyle, 22, of 248 S. Anderson St. Doyle said he had just started from the intersection after the traffic light changed when his car was struck.

Shepherd was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for forehead cuts and Charles T. Stump, 25, of 8171 Mt. Olivet, Detroit, sustained forehead, nose and hand cuts and knee injuries.

Child Runs Before Car, Suffers Slight Injuries

Virginia L. Hough, 5, of 18235 Webster St., was treated at a local clinic for skinned elbows and knees. She was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Hazel L. Webb, 62, of 17600 Margate, Birmingham.

Waterford Youths Admit Beer Theft

Two Waterford Township juveniles who have admitted breaking into Eggleston's Market at 5753 Elizabeth Lake Rd. Aug. 16 are in custody of their parents pending further investigation, according to Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta.

The pair, 15 and 16, was arrested Sunday night near the scene of a house breakin and, under questioning, admitted taking about three cases of beer from the market and hiding them in weeds about two blocks away, Van Atta said.

The house which the pair is suspected of entering is owned by Warren Runyan of 36 Clayburn, who believes the thieves took a few bottles of beer.

Almost a full case of beer was recovered from the youths. It came from the market breakin, Van Atta said, and the other two cases were discovered the day after the breakin by two youngsters who emptied out the contents and attempted to collect the deposit on the bottles from the market.

Justice Warns 2 Youths of Disorderly Conduct

BIRMINGHAM — Associate Justice John C. Emery Jr. gave two 18-year-old Detroit youths another chance, but warned them against creating future disturbances, when they appeared before him on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday.

The two, Charles G. Schumann and William H. Weatherford, had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Ferndale Man Reports Theft of 3 Shotguns

Giving Beer to Minors Rates 5-Day Sentence for R. W. Nabarrette

In keeping with the Municipal Court's recent "get tough" policy, Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Monday sentenced a 21-year-old man to five days in the Oakland County Jail for furnishing beer to four juveniles.

Ronald W. Nabarrette of 194 W. Wilson Ave. pleaded guilty to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Nabarrette was arrested early Saturday morning. Pontiac Police said the youth was drinking beer with four juveniles in a parked car near the Municipal Golf Course.

"If we must be more severe in sentencing youngsters for drinking, we will without hesitation," said Judge Finnegan.

The judge said that juveniles and other youths must be protected from the harm which might result if they were to become drunk. "The juveniles or Nabarrette, himself, might have been killed in that car, had they drunk more of the beer before the officers apprehended them," he added.

Another youth last week was sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Cecil McCallum for obtaining liquor at a bar under false pretenses. Eight other youths are still on probation to Judge McCallum.

Seven additional minors also have been fined for drinking, and another two youths paid fines for furnishing beer to minors.

Bonn in Turmoil Over Spy Setup

The sensational desertion to the Communists of federal security chief Otto John touched off this struggle within Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government.

The outcome is considered so vital that many of the highest figures in the Adenauer administration are now reported lining up with pro-Gehlen or anti-Gehlen forces. Total victory for Gehlen would make him a combination J. Edgar Hoover and Allen W. Dulles.

He was considered a shoo-in for the nation's top intelligence job soon after John deserted July 20. But opposition has boiled up against Gehlen among some influential government officials because he has worked for the Americans. They want an intelligence chief not closely identified with any of the Allied Powers.

* * *

Gehlen's opponents also argue that he has a "bad reputation" in other European countries. He has been assailed in France recently for allegedly stationing agents in Paris. The British too are said to be cool toward him.

Some say Gehlen has dabbled in political affairs even though he has no governmental post and that he has a number of former SS officers on his staff.

Gehlen is a fine administrator, and only a firm hand can restore order to the nation's shattered intelligence setup. His private organization is called by the Allies one of the ablest intelligence setups in the West. He is the only West German who has been engaged in almost continuous espionage activity against Russia since 1942.

Chancellor Adenauer is reported toying with the idea of dissolving the discredited German FBI as a result of the John scandal and organizing a superintelligence office patterned after the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. This office would control all the nation's undercover organizations and handle both political and military intelligence. John, as FBI director,

Says India Wants Recognition of Reds

NEW YORK (UP) — George V. Allen, American ambassador to India, says India's role in the Indochina situation may influence its "future attitude toward Communist China."

Arriving home aboard the liner America for a two-month leave, Allen told reporters yesterday the Indian government takes the attitude that Communist China is here to stay and that that is a fact that should be recognized.

Allen found no differences between U.S. and Indian foreign policy "that we can't live with." handled only political snooping.

Illegal Activities Denied in Election

DETROIT (UP)—Deputy City Clerk Ernest Jones, who Democrats say they want fired because of political prejudice, last night said he refused to quit and added:

"I'm really sore about this complaint."

The Wayne County Democratic Committee yesterday asked that Jones be removed from "any connection with election machinery, however indirect." The committee said he has partisan interest in Donald S. Leonard, Republican nominee for governor.

Detroit's City Council asked for a full report on Jones' activities from City Clerk Thomas D. Leadbetter.

"I have never run away from a fight in my life and I won't this time," said Jones. "The complaint isn't even factually accurate. Of course, I voted for Leonard and told others I intended to do so, but I never asked a single other person to vote for him."

Leadbetter will make his report to the council today.

Attlee and Party Visit With Mao

Call Follows Moscow Meeting, Both Being of Historic Quality

Editor's Note: The following is from the correspondent of the London Daily Herald, organ of the British Labor movement, accompanying the Labor Party group on its visit to China.

By DERYCK WINTERTON

PEIPING (AP) — Clement Attlee and his British Labor party delegation have a two-hour talk today with Mao Tze-tung, head of the Chinese government.

It is the first time that Western statesmen have made close personal contact with China's No. 1 leader. The meeting has the same historic quality as the Laborites' Moscow meeting with Premier Georgi Malenkov.

* * *

Attlee has already told Malenkov and Chou En-lai, China's No. 2 man, that everyone in Britain would be very glad to welcome them there.

* * *

It was expected he would assure Mao of the same thing.

The invitation to Chou and Malenkov was in no sense a formal one. The Labor party is not the British government, and obviously such an invitation could come only from the government.

The delegation has decided that no report on the conclusions it has reached during its trip will be made before its return to London, expected to be Sept. 14.

An interim statement will be issued then, but a full report must wait for the party conference later in the fall.

* * *

Labor Party Secretary Morgan Phillips, a member of the delegation, commented to me yesterday on American press criticisms of the group's visit to China.

* * *

"The fact that the delegates have come to China does not mean they have been converted to communism any more than the fact that I have visited nearly every Communist country makes me a 'fellow traveler'," he said.

"But it is absurd to ignore the existence of a nation of 600 million people which must play a great part in the world, whether for good or bad.

"We have come to meet the Chinese leaders and find out at first hand what is going on.

"We shall make up our minds on the basis of what we see and learn."

Political mudslinging was literal in ancient Rome. The candidates wore white togas and people threw mud at them when they were unpopular.

Bob Considine Says:

Different People Come Up With Delinquency Ideas

NEW YORK (INS) — More, and still more, suggestions on what to do about a seemingly major breakdown in the respect our juveniles once held for law and order:

San Diego, Calif.—"Bring back the CCC and put these jobless boys to work. I lost my only brother in Korea. He left three boys who are going to be better citizens because their father got his start in life among good men in a CCC camp," Mrs. G. B. Phelps.

Memphis, Tenn.—"Our youth is running all over in tight jeans, sloppy shirts, dirty shoes. I believe when a girl is dressed as a lady she acts like a lady. Do the teenage blue jeaners look attractive or act ladylike? Will parents ever wake up? Will schools? This dreadful attire should not be allowed in any school," Mrs. Egan V. Lohberg.

Denver, Colo.—"Mister, you reform the parents first, and let them reform their kids. They are the only ones who can stop delinquency," R. M. Povondra.

Los Angeles, Calif.—"Shaving the heads of young hoodlums is no solution. What will happen is that instead of being ashamed of themselves they might even consider it a mark of toughness, like being knighted by the police. Or if not, there will be a booming business in wigs with crew cuts and duck tails . . . juvenile delinquency is one of the results of the uneasy times in which we live; another manisfestation of the 'what does it matter, we'll all probably be dead tomorrow' feeling," Albert R. Wechsler.

Trenton, N. J. — "Build more schools and fewer jails. . . ." Fred J. Schweder.

Louisville, Ky.—"Religion in the home will always be a deterrent against youngsters breaking the civil laws. If they know and love God they will respect their fellow men," A.C.H.

Longwoods, Md.—"I taught rural school for many years and saw all kinds of children. As for the bad ones, I always pitied them. I believe the parents of the offender should be dealt with by the law as well as the offender," C. S. Collier.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"How can we expect our children, who spend a great deal of their time in school, to live by the Golden Rule when our teachers are forbidden by a Supreme Court ruling to teach them about its author — God?" Bob Welsch.

Cincinnati, Ohio—"Teenagers are going to get worse and worse until we have a national curfew law, higher age limit on driving a car, and a law where parents are held responsible for the acts of their teenage kids. The Cincinnati Council tried to pass a curfew law here recently and a bunch of high school kids scared them out of it. When we let the kids take over, who is to blame?" R. J. Hilton.

Detroit—"The average citizen's son never gets into any serious trouble. He goes to high school and at the age of 18 or so gets drafted into the Army. But when a young hoodlum with a police record reaches 18, Uncle Sam says nix. My simple solution is this: When an 18-year-old comes before a judge for sentence, put him in the Army immediately. The Army is a vast organization which can easily absorb these delinquents and discipline them, too."

Next solution!

Girls Stop Car, Rob Detroit Man

DETROIT (INS) — Herbert Stroshein, 29, told Detroit Police that two high school aged girls early today stepped in front of his car in order to rob him of 15 dollars.

Stroshein said he braked the car to a stop and that each girl opened one of the car doors and demanded money.

An hour later police arrested two girls answering the descriptions given by Stroshein. They denied participation in the robbery. They are being held for investigation of robbery, not armed.

Earlier, Roy Nolan, 60, owner of a Michigan avenue drug store, told police a young thug struck him over the head in the store and escaped with $70.

Court Reconsiders Case

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Municipal court will again consider the case of Paul R. Spinner, 26, of Lansing, accused hitchhike slayer charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Niles Liscomb, 30, also of Lansing, last Aug. 4 during a holdup attempt seven miles from Charlotte.

Do We Have to Die?

Forty-three years ago in forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young journalist named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange power that knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Forty-three years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back home to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his lifetime of travel throughout the world. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years, he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the world's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 43 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000-word treatise. He says the time is here for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation to sincere readers of this notice. Mendes-France Reports to Coty

Tells French President of Churchill Discussion on EDC Alternatives

PARIS (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France wrestled anew with the European army crisis today as a cross fire of demands mounted in his own country for acceptance or rejection of the controversial six-nation defense treaty.

* * *

If Churchill and Mendes-France decided upon any alternative to EDC during their talk yesterday, it was a top diplomatic secret. After the four-hour meeting, they announced only that they had agreed to "early and practical steps" to maintain Western unity.

Official sources disclosed they reviewed all possible alternatives for rearming West Germany and restoring full sovereignty to the Bonn government if EDC fails.

Facing Mendes-France was the grave decision on whether to try for another new set of modifications in the EDC treaty or let the French National Assembly begin a ratification debate, scheduled for Saturday, on the pact as it stands.

* * *

The Premier himself had insisted that the modifications he demanded at Brussels were necessary to win French ratification. Some members of his Cabinet favor the pact as it stands, but others oppose it unless it is drastically altered. Whichever way the Premier swings he is bound to lose support.

There was some doubt among politicians today whether his Cabinet could survive the treaty debate.

Former Premier Antoine Pinay, a supporter of EDC, suggested last night that the six West European allies go ahead with the scheme for an 18-month "trial marriage" period. They should put it into effect as originally drafted, he said, but agree that any of the members could call a conference for revision of impractical features for the first 18 months. This period could be extended if necessary.

"At least, let's get started," Pinay told a news conference.

Indonesia to Sign Trade Pact With Red China

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) —The Indonesian government announced today that it is about to sign a $16,800,000 trade pact with the Chinese Communists.

The announcement said Indonesia would supply China with $8,400,000 worth of copra, sugar, coffee and spices in return for farm tools, textiles, chemicals, fruit and vegetable oil.

State Forest Fires Maintain Record Low

Court Date Set for McKeighan

Former Mayor of Flint Faces Hearing Monday on Conspiracy Charge

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — William H. McKeighan, one-time Michigan Republican strongman and former five-time mayor of Flint, will be arraigned next Monday in Macomb County Circuit Court on charges of conspiring to violate state gambling laws.

McKeighan agreed yesterday to appear in court on the eight-year-old charges.

Circuit Judge Alton E. Noe scheduled the hearing for Monday when McKeighan's attorney asked for a delay since he was handling another case. The hearing originally had been scheduled for tomorrow.

McKeighan had been notified to appear or face cancellation of his $25,000 bond.

The former mayor returned Friday from Florida for the first time since 1946 when he was indicted.

While in Florida, he had successfully fought extradition on the basis of illness, causing inability to travel.

McKeighan said yesterday he was willing to go to court "any time my lawyer is ready. I'm able now, and want to get this over with."

The indictment accuses the 68-year-old former state political leader with buying protection from three gamblers, who ultimately paid large fines. A prosecutor, two state police officers, and a deputy sheriff were among those indicted on the same charges. The state police officers later went to prison.

McKeighan said personal business brought him home. He said he wanted to visit an ailing brother, John.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

George Higgins Side-lined

True, an incumbent was renominated, but the Oakland County Senator had reasons to believe the post of Secretary of State was his just due. He had enough advance indications to expect the assignment and the Oakland County delegation was definitely behind him.

But outside strength failed to materialize and Pat Cleary became the fair haired boy by an overwhelming margin. Let it be recorded to George Higgins' everlasting credit that he accepted defeat manfully. He took the floor, released his loyal supporters and welcomed his opponent with open arms.

"I'm a Republican," said George. "We'll stick together."

The outcome probably brings a warm smile of cheer to the jovial face of Governor G. Mennen Williams. Certainly, Oakland County's long time Senator has been the Governor's Number One Nemesis.

Every time Williams developed another scheme for increasing the taxpayers' bill, it was George Higgins who arose first and cried out loudly in protest. If ever the taxpayers of this State had a friend in Court, it was George N. Higgins.

Two years ago George passed up the chance to run against Representative George A. Dondero for the House in Washington when his friends told him his current tax work in the Michigan Legislature was invaluable. They spoke truthfully. Also, Representative Dondero showed no inclination to step aside and so Higgins returned to Lansing. The answer to Michigan's tax dilemma was his own solution. It became law and since then has been discussed in Washington as a possible Federal move.

★ ★ ★

Early in the campaign, Senator Higgins was among the first to announce himself as a candidate for Governor. Two other State officers later entered with Keyes and Donald Leonard completing a large field. Friends of Senator Higgins believed his chances were dubious and they suggested he withdraw. Had either of the two men on the State ticket been nominated, the Oakland County man was a cinch to land the vacant post.

But Leonard won easily.

This sent Cleary and Brake scurrying back to entrenching themselves in the posts they already occupied, although Higgins' friends figured he deserved to be Secretary of State, anyway.

Mr. Cleary was successful.

How perverse can fate be?

Anyway, at the moment it leaves George N. Higgins high and dry. A fine public servitor is lost to Michigan for the present. The Watch Dog of the Treasury is on the side lines and the voters have seen their ace shuffled right out of the deck.

Owen J. Cleary is a capable and honorable man. The Press believes in his integrity and general ability. We hope he will additionally undertake to fill the empty shoes that George Higgins leaves in Lansing. The taxpayers need that kind of a friend.

"Overeating will cause a person to become dissatisfied with life," says a physician. And not having enough to eat will also cause him to entertain some rather dark thoughts about life.

A Heavy Loss for Italy

In the sudden death of former Premier Alcide de Gasperi, postwar Italy has suffered the loss of its foremost statesman.

The end came at his vacation villa in Italy's northern mountains only a month after De Gasperi had given up titular leadership of the Christian Democrat party, Italy's largest.

★ ★ ★

Heavy though the blow was to his homeland, the loss was also serious for the West. For seven and a half years during his leadership of the republic's first government. De Gasperi proved himself the country's strongest fighter against Communism.

★ ★ ★

His hatred of that ideology was intensified by the memory of his imprisonments on the order of Fascist Mussolini. An ardent advocate of the European Defense Community plan, he kept in touch with its status up to a few hours before his death.

Western Nations have good reason to mourn the passing of this doughty fighter for human freedom. In 1949 he made Italy a charter member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Crops in many large areas have been greatly damaged or ruined by dry weather, and in Minnesota army worms are devouring crops. One wonders if Ma Nature isn't getting tired of man and his doings.

Another current nuisance is the shutterbug just home from vacation, his pockets loaded with snapshots.

'Confident Mother' Observes a Teenager; Realizes More Good Than Hoodlum Type

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

There is much discussion these days about those terrible teenagers. Many people believe there are very few good ones. These thoughts came to my mind recently as I looked across to the next street where a 16-year-old boy was hanging out a snow white wash.

This boy's mother works and he does much of the housework and some cooking for the family. However, this was the first time I had ever seen him do the laundry.

As my own teen-aged daughter looked over at him, she said to me, "You know why he's doing it, don't you? So his folks can leave for their weekend vacation on Friday, instead of waiting until after his mother does the washing on Saturday."

I believe if we look closely, we will find more of this type youngster than the "hoodlum" type which more often makes the headlines.

Confident Mother

Savages Most Human, Says A. W. Nixon

I have read several letters about Agnosticism winning people over from the Christian religion. You may call me an Agnostic if you wish, but had it not been for Tom Payne, Watts, Ingersol and many others we would still be living in dark ages.

Looking back through the history of Christianity what do we find? Murder, burning at the stake, pulling to pieces on the rack and other forms of torture, just because certain people dared to think for themselves. What were they going to do to the man who first said "The earth revolves"?

I have traveled around the world a great deal and found the so-called savages are the most human of all people. They live one for all and all for one. All of them believe in a life hereafter, but not in a hell. Agnostics believe every man has the right to express his own opinions, while the Christian says, "you must believe."

Why should a $100,000 church be exempt from taxes while a person owning a $1,000 house must pay them or be sold out?

'Team Up With God' Best Prescription Any Doctor Can Write for His Patients

Daisy had a critical heart attack. But the pain subsided when she finally teamed up with God and let him handle her problem. God performs many medical miracles by helping patients cure themselves via the subconscious mind. Scrapbook this case under "Psychosomatic" medicine.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-392: Daisy McBroom, aged 80, has been the mainstay of the village church in Indiana near which we have our summer home.

In my early boyhood I had been a member of her Sunday school class. In fact, way back in the horse & buggy days, she would put on boots and wade the snow from her farm home to get to the village in time to ring the church bell at 9:30.

She has been a valiant "spark-plug" for morality in the entire community.

And she had been leading the singing on Sunday morning clear up to her 80th birthday.

But then she began to suffer severe pain over her heart and could scarcely catch her breath. She found it impossible to walk out of the house.

She had a heart attack that became knifelike in its pain. She couldn't move around.

In desperation one night she knelt down beside her bed and prayed:

"Lord, if you want me in heaven, that's all right with me. I've lived a long life and have always tried to do thy will.

"But I can't stand this pain much longer, so I am perfectly willing to die. But if you want me to live and carry on my work in the church and to teach my Sunday school class, then I need help.

"So I'll leave it all up to you, Lord."

Then she stood up, and the pain began to vanish. It just disappeared like fog before the summer sun. In a few minutes she felt entirely free from suffering.

An injection of morphine or some other pain killing drug couldn't have relieved her as much.

And the next Sunday she walked to church and led the singing and has continued doing so for the intervening 6 years.

This was a medical miracle. We physicians can explain how it occurred but that doesn't lessen its marvelous nature.

For God still works miracles every day, both in medical and social or psychological situations.

Now here is how God probably affected this miraculous cure of Daisy McBroom.

We have two nervous systems. The "central" includes brain and spinal cord and permits our thinking or conscious actions.

But there is also an "autonomic" which regulates heart beat, breathing rate, sweating, blood pressure, digestion and those other automatic functions of the body.

However, there is a connecting nerve fiber between the two at each vertebra, so our conscious attitudes can percolate through and upset the autonomic, as in blushing or blanching of the skin in fear, etc.

Daisy had been afraid that her heart atack would be fatal. She had worried about it and had tried to carry the load all by herself.

Finally, she faced the issue and shifted the responsibility to God. Immediately, her coronary arteries relaxed and thus carried more blood to the heart muscle, thus relieving the oxygen hunger (pain) of the heart.

For the arteries are surrounded by little circular muscle fibers that go into spasm under such subconscious worry and anxiety.

So team up with God, That's the best medicine doctors can prescribe.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped envelope, and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

David Lawrence Says:

'Achievement' in Korea Now Brings Up Questions

WASHINGTON — Everybody is apparently to be asked to rejoice during the coming policital campaign over the "achievement" claimed by the Republican administration — that it stopped the war in Korea.

Yet the same administration, through its Department of Defense, is conceding that the armistice agreement which terminated the fighting and pledged the return of all prisoners wasn't worth the paper it was written on.

An announcement by the Department of Defense reveals that at least 526 Americans still have not been accounted for by the Chinese Communists and that specifically 15 American fliers — who are admitted to be alive — are being held by the Peiping government as hostages in a form of blackmail unprecedented in world history.

A Defense Department official is given in a United Press dispatch as authority for the statement that the Chinese Reds have been holding the 15 U. S. Air Force fliers as "political prisoners." The dispatch says:

"The (Defense Department) official disclosed that negotiations have been conducted through 'third parties' during the past year for the release of the airmen and other Americans being held by the Reds. He said the Communist position, in effect, has been: 'Admit us to the United Nations and we will release your men'."

It is revealed also by the Defense Department that during the recent conference at Geneva, the fact that the 15 airmen were being held as "political prisoners" was admitted by the Reds. This was also verified by returned prisoners of war who report that the Communists said the servicemen will be held "for use as one of the bargaining points to secure Chinese admission to the United Nations."

Under the circumstances, how can the Republican orators go up and down the country boasting about the Korean armistice when the Republican administration itself has failed to assert American rights in the face of the flagrant violations of the armistice agreement by the Communists?

Another pertinent question that will be asked is how the United States government can continue to consent, as it is doing now, to the relaxation of trade restrictions between the Allies and Red China.

The Red Chinese director of trade with western countries, Lu Shu Chang, was recently quoted by British reporters accompanying Messrs. Attlee and Bevan of the British Parliament on their visit to Peiping as having said:

"We feel that West Germany, Belgium, France and others seem to be more interested in business with China than is Britain. We have imported steel, other metals, machinery and heavy equipment from them. But many British shipping companies have provided the shipping services to bring these goods to China."

This astounding revelation has brought forth from the British Ministry of Transport in London the statement, as reported by the United Press, that "no British ships had carried strategic cargoes to Red China at least since March 1953, when strict new controls were put into effect."

But the Korean War lasted from June 1950 to the summer of 1953, so now it appears that for nearly three years of the Korean War British ships were carrying strategic goods to Red China.

This is a tragic climax to the many denials and counterdenials which have been issued ever since Sen. McCarthy, Republican of Wisconsin, made his charges that British shipping had been carrying strategic goods to Red China.

It was on Nov. 24, 1953 that the Wisconsin senator, in a nation-wide television broadcast, answering former President Truman's speech on "McCarthyism," aroused the hostility of many Republicans because he criticized the Republican administration, too, for failing to deal sternly with the Communists.

He called attention to the fact that the Red Chinese were still holding American boys as prisoners despite their promise to release them when the armistice was signed. He urged that American billions be withheld from Allies who traded with the Reds.

Those two points — about the prisoners and trade with Red China — were the principal charges he made in his speech but from that day on he incurred the wrath of the Eisenhower regime, and some of the advisers at the White House began at that time to lay the lines for the many moves that have come since to punish Sen. McCarthy for his criticism of the administration.

But what is even more embarrassing to report now is that Messrs. Attlee and Bevan and a delegation from the British Labor party have been hobnobbing with the high officials of the Red China and the Soviet governments — toasting them and praising them.

Coincidentally, the mothers and fathers of American boys held as prisoners as well as the parents of the 33,000 American boys killed and the 110,000 wounded are left to wonder whether the British government has any feeling of sympathy for them.

For it does look as if the British legislators have forgotten all about the Americans who thought an agreement to return all prisoners meant what it said. It's going to be hard to persuade the American Congress to keep troops in Europe in the future if America's Allies continue their indifference to sacrifices already made in the idealistic cause of collective security.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A remedy for corns, calluses or warts which has been used by readers since Topsy was a colt, is prepared by dissolving 30 grains (about one-half, teaspoonful) of salicylic acid powder in one-half fluid ounce (about a tablespoonful) of flexible collodion.

Any drug clerk can make it up. It should be kept in a tightly stoppered vial, and the liquid should be kept from contact with the inside of the neck of the vial.

If it is not kept tightly stoppered the ether and alcohol in the liquid will evaporate, leaving an unwieldy lump.

Paint the corn, callus or wart with the corn remedy once a day for a week or 10 days, when it will have softened so it will easily rub off. Of course, corn or callus will return if the pressure and/or friction which causes it continues.

As for warts, who knows what causes them?

In the latest editior of Little Lesson No. 18, Blood and Health, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, there are no instructions for preparing your own blood tonic at home.

Instead of that I now recommend for simple anemia tablets of iron gluconate—the least unpleasant form of the most efficient, I believe—as described in the pamphlet The Gray Sickness, for which send stamped self-addressed envelope.

For more severe (pernicious) anemia I recommend tablets of vitamin B12 with Folic Acid, as described in the pamphlet the Red Blood Vitamin, for which send stamped self-addressed envelope.

If you ask for both pamphlets inclose 10 cents in addition.

For many years anyone could enter a drugstore and ask for an ounce of iron-and-ammonium-citrates, in the form of "thin, transparent, garnet-red scales or granules" and get precisely what he asked for, without any gratuitous comments or manifestations of misgivings on the part of the clerk.

Today the chances are that the druggist will lift his eyebrows and shake his head as though to say he hopes you are not up to any—or he has "never heard of it" and here's what he personally recommends for strengthening the blood, or yes, it was on the market years ago but is not now available.

There is considerable truth in the last remark, although a few readers tell me they still find the "thin, transparent, garnet-red scales or granules" in their drugstore.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Williams Urges Gas Line Action

Asks Federal Board to Reverse Decision for a Rehearing

LANSING (AP) — The Federal Power Commission today was asked by Gov. Williams to untangle red tape to speed completion of the proposed new American-Louisiana natural gas pipeline to Michigan.

In a telegram, the governor asked that the commission reverse a decision to rehear the case after testimony had been heard by a hearing examiner.

The telegram, addressed to Jerome K. Kuykendall, FPC chairman, was followed up by a formal petition by Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard.

"Legal technicalities should not prevent an immediate decision for a certificate based on ample evidence already presented in the record before you," Williams wired.

"Present and future markets in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Muskegon and other important areas in Michigan depend on an assured supply through this new pipeline," he added.

The state officials emphasized that contracts for the construction of the pipeline are contingent on FPC approval by Oct. 1. If the deadline is not met, they said, the new supply of gas for the state will be materially delayed.

Mother-to-Be, Husband Die in Burning Truck

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A husband and his young wife, on their way to a hospital where she was to give birth to a child, were trapped in the wreckage of their pickup truck yesterday and burned to death.

State Trooper R. L. Casey said the truck collided with another pickup, turned over and caught fire. The dead were Harold Legg, 25, and his 23-year-old wife, of Zela.

Casey said the driver of the other pickup, George Keeney of Witcher, had been charged with negligent homicide.

Lebanon Plans River Project

Will Pay $100 Million for Power, Irrigation in 25 Years

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Little Lebanon is going to work on a 100-million-dollar river development project — biggest in its history—with no economic aid grants from foreign governments.

U.S. Point Four technicians conducted a three-year survey of the Litani River hydroelectric project, which is expected to double per capita consumption of electricity in Lebanon and irrigate more than 50,000 acres by the time it is finished in 25 years.

But when American officials handed the survey report to the Lebanese government, they felt the logical "cutoff point" had been reached. For actually building the system, Lebanon must bear the burden itself. The United States plans no direct government grants.

Lebanon's Parliament has set up a semiautonomous company to begin financing. The company will seek funds from Lebanese government sources, Lebanese private investors, foreign private investors and such lending agencies as the World Bank.

Some foreign experts here believe the whole project could pay for itself if built in stages, one phase paying for the next.

'Bentley Day' Planned in Fall in Puerto Rico

OWOSSO (AP)—It will be "Bentley Day" in Puerto Rico in November and the Michigan congressman, Alvin M. Bentley, critically wounded by Puerto Rican terrorists on the House floor last March, plans to attend.

Bentley, at his Owosso home following the adjournment of Congress, told friends that Puerto Rican Gov. Luis Munoz Marin is making plans for a special day in his honor.

Bentley, a Republican, was the most seriously wounded of five congressmen who were shot by a group of Puerto Rican fanatics. All five have since returned to their house seats.

Their assailants have been given long prison terms.

Subway Engineer Trapped in Wreck

NEW YORK (AP)—Motorman David Moclair, 52, spent seven agonized hours trapped in the wrecked cab of a subway train yesterday. Both legs were crushed and he was finally freed last night after one foot was amputated.

Moclair's empty train ran into a cement wall after a tripping device apparently failed and let it smash through a bumping block at the end of the track.

Rescue workers first used acetylene torches to cut through to Moclair, but the heat became unbearable for him and they turned to saws, which slowed progress. The motorman was comforted during his ordeal by his 16-year-old son and his wife, Mary.

Moclair could move only one hand, but this enabled him to reach for drinks of water and smoke an occasional cigarette. Doctors on the scene gave him drugs to ease his pain.

Church Women Seek Authority

Want Freedom to Help Men Try to Get Unity of All Christians

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Men who outnumber women 15-1 at the World Church Assembly here today had a polite—but firm—female suggestion: If they want real Christian unity, let more women in on it.

The gentle plea came from a French woman, who said women's church work is usually restricted to sisterhoods and societies — a "shadow church" — with little to do with the actual conduct of church affairs."

To get all Christians pulling together, said Miss Madeleine Barot, requires not just theological harmony but a "more complete integration of both sexes into the life of the church."

* * *

Unfortunately, she said, "the full cooperation of men and women in the service of Christ has not yet been achieved." She proposed formation of a "department of cooperation of men and women in church and society."

Her appeal came as the World Council of Churches Assembly, including delegates from 163 denominations in 48 nations, worked to set down a joint Christian assessment of current problems of man and his society.

In six conference rooms, with some 100 delegates in each, separate discussions went on in an atmosphere of mixed accents and views as the groups look for conclusions on these subjects:

* * *

International relations, evangelism, the Christian role of laymen, economic and political ustice, racial issues, and christian unity.

The sectional conferences will continue until late this week, before the first tentative reports are put before the assembly for action.

On the topic of Christian unity—the ideal which provides the council's basic motive power—it was Miss Barot who produced the newest slant on the problem, which usually swirls around theological questions.

In fact, she suggested it might be that if women had more to do with the unity movement, it would get along faster.

"Women seem to have an even more intense desire for unity, world Christian fellowship and mutual help than do men," she said. "This desire cannot be satisfied by the limited participation allowed them . . ."

She noted only 38 of the 600 delegates were women, a slight improvement over the council's founding assembly six years ago when there were 19.

She said she did not favor the "aggressive feminism" which denies" any differences between men and women," but she said ideas which keep women from using their full abilities of the church "are outmoded."

Even Ike Needs Ticket to Get Into State Fair

DES MOINES (AP)—Even President Eisenhower will have to have a paid admission ticket to get into the Iowa State Fair when he speaks there—by invitation—Aug. 30.

"We are sticking to our policy of no free tickets," Fair Secretary Lloyd Cunningham says, "and that includes even the President of the United States.

"Somebody will have to pay for Ike, even if it turns out to be me."

EDC Foreseen as Election Issue

Dems Predict Foreign Affairs Will Rate Above Congress' Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democratic senators said today foreign affairs troubles may overshadow the Eisenhower-praised record of the Republican 83rd Congress as a top issue in the November election campaign.

While Republicans joined in praising the administration's legislative accomplishments, Democratic Senators Russell of Georgia, Mansfield of Montana and Jackson of Washington said that the apparent collapse of the European Defense Community and what they called an unfavorable settlement in Indochina may claim the chief attention of American voters. The senators spoke in separate interviews without directly referring to Eisenhower's speech.

* * *

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the status of international relations this fall "may well be the deciding factor in the election."

* * *

Jackson said he thinks the Indochina settlement and indications that the EDC may never materialize "are creating skepticism in the minds of many voters about the administration's ability to hold the line against communism."

"The administration hasn't seized the initiative as it has claimed," he said. "It is the Soviet Union which has seized the initiative."

Russell, senior Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the Republicans seemed to have changed their tune about Indochina.

He said Republicans were saying a few months ago that it might be necessary for the United States to send troops to Indochina. Now, he said, they are claiming that Eisenhower kept this country out of a shooting war there. Such a claim was made by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, in a statement inserted in the Congressional Record.

Start 4-Day Probe of Housing Profits

NEW YORK (AP)—A search for possible windfall profits from vast government-insured housing projects in the New York area begins today with opening of hearings by the Senate Banking Committee.

Sen. Prescott G. Bush (R-Conn), acting chairman and only member of the 15-man committee scheduled to be present for the four-day inquiry, said yesterday, "I hope we will get some criminal indictments as a result of this hearing."

The committee has already conducted six weeks of hearings in Washington, where builders revealed they made millions in profits with relatively small investments on federal housing authority projects. Most of the risk was carried by taxpayers.

Arrest Narcotics Addict Dunking in Palace Moat

Crash Kills Couple; 5 Children Injured

PAW PAW (AP)—A head-on auto collision last night claimed the lives of a Lawton couple and injured five of their children, one seriously.

State police said the victims were Vern Saxton, 56, of Lawton, and his wife, Doris, 37. Mrs. Saxton was dead on arrival at a nearby Paw Paw hospital.

The injured children were Virgil, 14; Patricia, 13; Maxine, 11; Geraldine, 9, and Carl, 5. Carl was reported seriously hurt.

Troopers said Mrs. Richard Pfau, 20, of Mattawan, the driver of the other car, also was injured.

State police said the family was on its way to pick up another son, working on a farm, when the accident occurred on a rural road, two miles east of Paw Paw.

Man Lost in Swamp Rescued by Helicopter

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Otto Metkiff, a Soo fisherman, was back home today none the worse for being lost from noon Sunday until nearly 7 p. m. Monday in a swamp in the area known as Stile Dam at Raco, 20 miles south of the Soo.

Metkiff spent the night in the swamp and the next afternoon was spotted and led to safety by an Air Force helicopter from Kinross Air Force Base. The 'copter was assisting in a search being conducted by State Police and sheriff's men.

State Judges Called to Meeting Sept. 2

LANSING (AP)—The first annual statewide meeting of judges as required in a 1954 law has been set for Sept. 2 at Charlevoix, Meredith H. Doyle, state court administrator, announced today.

Leland W. Carr, associate justice of the state supreme court, will preside in the absence of Chief Justice Henry M. Butzel. The state's 72 circuit judges, 12 judges of Detroit Recorder's Court and the judge of the Grand Rapids Superior Court have been notified of the meeting.

Five Solid Laws to Aid President and His Plans

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — With four solid chunks of legislation, Congress has put a foundation under the economic program that President Eisenhower stands for: one in which private industry, not big government, is intended to create the jobs and payrolls.

* * *

The four were the tax, farm, housing and atomic bills. All were geared to the philosophy of whittling down Washington's role as the central fountainhead of economic supports and controls.

* * *

A fifth measure, the broadening of social security, was evidence that the administration hopes to preserve and strengthen that program achieved under 20 years of Democratic rule.

There was a sixth item, which might be fully as significant as the others. It is something Congress didn't do.

* * *

It didn't rush to turn on the money pumps when the country's record-breaking prosperity began to ebb.

* * *

But, in the view of many economists, Congress left the government's operations still mildly inflationary. The spending program that Eisenhower proposed, and Congress largely approved, figures to outrun tax collections.

Some officials believe the federal deficit next June 30 will be closer to five billion dollars than the $2,900,000,000 officially forecast.

* * *

The Eisenhower program steered close enough to the middle of the road to win some Democratic support in many cases. But there were Democrats who criticized much of the program as being slanted in favor of big business.

* * *

Democrats critical of the Eisenhower program argued that the way to boost production and employment is to strengthen consumer buying power.

In more detail, the major economic measures produced by the session were these:

TAX REVISION

* * *

In actual savings to businessmen and wage earners—a $1,363,000,000 reduction in the first year and more later—the law does not compare in impact with the five-billion dollar slash in income and corporate taxes Jan. 1.

* * *

But Eisenhower calls it the "keystone" of his program because of its potential stimulus to production and employment — by encouragement of investment, new plant construction and incentive to large industrial payrolls.

Denying that the act unduly favors business, administration officials insist the small taxpayer will reap many benefits. The law gives relief to families hit by heavy medical costs, working mothers who must pay for child care, retired persons living on pensions, parents whose children are helping to earn their college educations, and many smaller groups.

* * *

Stockholders are excused from all tax on the first $50 of dividends paid them. Four per cent of any additional dividend income may be deducted from the tax payment.

Officials expect this provision to induce greater investment in common stocks and provide more capital for industry.

THE HOUSING LAW

In the Housing Act of 1954, Eisenhower got a big bill which, some housing experts believe, may jog home builders into building 1,400,000 new homes in 1955. That would be the biggest year in history.

* * *

The law puts home ownership on a 5 per cent down and 30-years-to-pay basis. It thus reaches out to lower, but much broader, levels of buying power.

* * *

The act also will make it easier to sell used houses. The terms are 10 per cent down and 30 years to pay on modest dwellings, instead of 20 per cent and 20 years of payment. This feature is expected to encourage many growing families to sell their small homes and move into new and larger ones.

THE FARM PROGRAM

In winning enactment of a program of "flexible" crop price supports, the administration scored a substantial victory.

* * *

Rigid 90 per cent price supports on major farm products—Cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts and rice—were scuttled in favor of adjustable supports ranging from 82½ to 90 per cent.

* * *

With the new law the administration hopes to discourage the production of huge surpluses and begin working off some of the 6¼ billion dollars worth of farm products held in government storage.

ATOMIC ENERGY

The atomic energy bill opened to private enterprise the glowing—if still somewhat remote—promise of a brand new industry, new payrolls and a promising new source of electric power for industry.

The act broke the government's monopoly on atomic energy by permitting private firms to own atomic reactors, which will be the "furnaces" for generating electric power; to own and use nuclear materials; to sell by-product atomic materials to the government; and to obtain patents on their own atomic inventions within certain limits. It also permits freer exchange of atomic information with allies.

Malaria-like Parasites Thrive in Doves' Blood

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — Staff members of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine say that more than half of all mourning doves studied during a five-year research program were found to be infected with malaria-like blood parasites.

Dr. N. D. Levine and Sidney Kantor of the college are working with H. C. Hanson and S. W. Kossack of the Illinois Natural History Survey in trying to find out how the birds get the parasites. The work is part of a general study of the mourning dove.

Elevator Marathon

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A freight elevator in an ironworks here has been operating since 1905 without a breakdown.

State Road Department Aids Uneasy Owner

BETHANY, Mo. (AP) — C. T. Marks, 85, was happy to see the State Highway Department reroute U. S. Highways 69 and 136 which go right by his house.

In the past five years his home has been hit 28 times by cars and trucks whose drivers failed to make a curve at the point.

Dead Cat Revives

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A pet kitten was attacked by a dog and left for dead. Earth was tossed over the kitten's grave. During the night she revived, clawed her way out and recovered.

Farm Receipts Drop 3 Per Cent

$14 Billion, 900 Million Is for Past 7 Months, Compared With '53

WASHINGTON (INS)—The nation's farmers received about 14 billion 900 million dollars from marketings of their products during the first seven months of 1954.

This is a three per cent reduction from the corresponding period of 1953, and reflects the general downward trend in farm prices during the past year.

Receipts from livestock and livestock products totaled about nine billion 600 million dollars, one per cent below the total for the first seven months of 1953.

Statistics on livestock and livestock products show that an increase in receipts from hogs did not quite offset declines for chickens, eggs, milk and butterfat.

Crop receipts for the seven-month period dropped five per cent below one year ago to five billion 300 million dollars. Largest declines were registered for cotton and vegetables.

For the month of July total farm income was placed at two billion 400 million dollars, about the same as July 1953, but 12 per cent above the June level.

Average prices for farm products were about the same in July as in June, but about five per cent below July 1953.

Receipts for livestock and livestock products in July fell to one billion 300 million dollars, a decline of seven per cent from the previous July.

Crop receipts in July showed their normal seasonal rise because of the harvest of wheat, oats, cotton, potatoes, apples, cherries and peaches. This seasonal increase put receipts for July at 40 per cent above those for June.

Medical Science Now Stops Bleeding Piles Without Surgery

New York, N. Y.—(Special)—Medical research has developed a harmless, pleasant, quick-acting wonder drug called RECTORAL, that is taken internally and goes right to the seat of the trouble. It does away with the old-fashioned messy, disagreeable-to-use ointments, suppositories, etc., that give little or no relief. Usually in just a few days, bleeding with any accompanying irritation and soreness begins to disappear and in a few days more is completely gone. It has been tested in thousands of cases without any return of bleeding, even years afterwards.

RECTORAL can now be obtained without prescription at Simms; J-V; Hallman Drug; Luttrell Pharmacy; Walgreen's; Thrifty; Blankster and Jones; Dunseith; Cole's; Portney's; Rule; Quality; Keego Drug; Keego Harbor; Drayton Plains; Auburn Heights.

Quality to Vary in Spring Wheat

But Tests Show Protein Will Be Some Higher Than Year Ago

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department says preliminary reports of new spring wheat indicate the quality is variable, with the bulk of the offerings testing around 55 pounds per bushel and very little in the 60 pound class.

The tests indicate, however, that the protein content appears to be somewhat higher than one year ago.

The department says also that winter wheat prices remained unchanged to three cents per bushel higher last week.

At the same time, it was reported that record supplies of one billion 100 million bushels of wheat are in prospect in Canada for 1954-55.

Ordinary protein spring wheat prices declined nearly two cents per bushel last week, while high protein types dropped five cents per bushel as new crop offerings increased in the U. S.

WALLED LAKE—Ass't. School Supt. James A. Forner announced today that the Walled Lake High School book store will be open for business Monday.

Books will be sold in several places in the building to eliminate long waiting lines, Forner said.

"It is more essential than ever this year that students purchase books and supplies in advance, for with half-day sessions it will be extremely difficult for them to get to the bookstore after school opens," he said.

Mrs. Pettengill, Mrs. Windiate Describe Journey

Travelers Recall Europe's Beauties

By MARILYN SHEARER

The Isle of Capri out of Naples and the Isle of Majorca off the coast of Barcelona are just two of the beautiful places in Europe which were visited by Mrs. Elmer R. Pettengill of Clarkston and Mrs. John Windiate of Union Lake road.

The travelers sailed from New York June 11 on board the New Amsterdam and returned by plane Saturday after an exciting 10 weeks.

Among the countries visited were France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and England.

Special excursions included a trip up the Jungfrau Mountain at Interlochen and three days spent at Lake Como in the northern part of Italy.

Friends who ask Mrs. Pettengill and Mrs. Windiate which place they liked the best do not get a definite answer. They loved Madrid which they feel is still quite primitive, even though the streets are lined with huge buildings.

They worked their way through the north of Italy by train to Zurich, largest city in Switzerland. Many castles were admired as they traveled on the Rhine in Germany by steamer.

The travelers also visited the home and garden of Carl Milles in Stockholm. Mr. Milles is a sculptor at Cranbrook.

The tourists were surprised to find that the hotel suite adjacent to theirs in Copenhagen was occupied by the famous Hop-a-long Cassidy.

These travelers agree that each country is wonderful in an entirely different way. While the scenery is of interest in one place, objects of art may catch the eye of tourists at the next point.

The customs of the people in each country visited made it as interesting as the ones with which they were acquainted at their previous stops.

Now that they are home, Mrs. Pettengill and Mrs. Windiate are telling the stories of their trip to their friends who have been eagerly awaiting their return.

Snells Return From Concerts

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Snell returned Monday from National Music Camp at Interlochen where they heard the final concerts of the season.

Highlighting the musical programs for the week was the Brahms Requiem Opus 45 sung and played by the festival choir and honors orchestra, with Maynard Klein conducting.

The final concert included Symphony No. 2 B-Major by Brahms and Les Preludes by Liszt, with Dr. Joseph Maddy conducting.

Heat Facts Help You Keep Cool

Hot Air Remains Close to the Earth in Daytime

Any dog that knows his or her way around will tell you that during the day the temperature close to the ground is higher than it is above ground, but during the night the ground temperature is lower than that of the air above it.

This is a pretty good point to remember when it comes to trying to keep your house cool during a boiling hot day.

During the day hours it's best to open the higher windows for this will give you the coolest air possible.

When it comes evening, open those as close to the ground level as you can to take advantage of that cool ground air.

Another point that will help you to keep your house more comfortable has to do with shading windows.

You can keep the direct sunlight out of a room by pulling down the blinds or shades on the inside of the window but as the sun is striking the glass, the glass is going to get pretty warm and some of this heat is going to be transmitted to the air in the room.

A much more effective method is to shade the window on the outside to keep the sun away from the glass. This can be done with awnings, roof overhang or shutters.

Of course, any device used for shading windows or areas of walls will be more effective it there is a good flow of air under it to remove the heat before it has a chance to be conducted indoors through the walls and through the window glass.

In other words, if an awning were equipped with side panels to prevent a free flow of air, the air under the awning would soon become extremely hot and this heat would eventually pass, to some degree, into the room.

Care for Wounds

Prompt first aid is a necessary safeguard against infection of child's hurt, no matter how minor it may be, but prompt does not mean flustered.

If you allow yourself to appear hurried or alarmed, your treatment is likely to frighten the child even if he is not frightened by the hurt itself. Fright caused by small hurts or their treatment, or a combination of the two, can get to be a habit that can have seriously harmful effects.

MR. and MRS. W. E. TOMLINSON

Phyllis Jean Berry and William Tomlinson were married Saturday in the Elizabeth Lake Christian Church. She is the daughter of the Glen Pohls of Payton drive and William's parents are the Clyde Tomlinsons of Hillcliff drive.

Phyllis J. Berry Speaks Vows in Evening Service

Elizabeth Lake Christian Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Phyllis Jeanne Berry and William Elmer Tomlinson.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pohl of Payton drive and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tomlinson of Hillcliff road.

A gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over slipper satin was chosen by the bride. A Juliet cap of lace and pleated tulle trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil. The bride carried a Testament with pink and blue shattered carnations, white glamellias and baby chrysanthemums. She wore the bridegroom's gift of pearls.

Mrs. William R. Studt, matron of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of blue crystallette. She carried a blue and white fan of feathered carnations and wore a matching headpiece.

Earl Tomlinson, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Seating the guests were Max Stump and Carl Schoendorf of Grand Rapids.

Bill attended Ferris Institute in Big Rapids.

Youngster Learns by Imitating

Eight Rules Are Compiled for Teaching Child to Talk

DENVER (INS) — A University of Denver speech pathologist has compiled a group of tips on teaching a child to talk.

Dr. Ruth Clark, head of the DU Children's Speech Clinic, pointed out that children don't just learn how to talk by themselves. They have to be instructed — either accidentally or purposefully.

Following are Dr. Clark's suggestions for teaching youngsters how to talk:

1. Let the child hear "talk." Children learn to talk by imitating the speech of others. Often when a child fails to begin to talk as early as he should, it's because he comes from a home that's virtually "talkless."

2. Talk to your child in front of a mirror. Let him watch your lips and his own as he talks. This way he can improve his speech through copying the visual image.

3. Let other children help teach the youngster to talk. Contact with other children often helps improve speech skill.

The child with only one playmate, however, will often develop a "private language" understandable only to the two.

4. If a child displays an interest in a ball, block or other object, that's the time to tell him its name.

5. Encourage the very young child to babble by babbling with him. That's the way to get the youngster in the habit of trying to communicate vocally.

6. Avoid encouraging a child to retain baby-talk habits after the time when they should have disappeared. To do so may cause him to carry them into adult life.

It may sound cute when a small boy says "wabbit" for "rabbit"; but such a habit scarcely becomes a grown man.

7. Avoid too frequent criticism of a child's speech. Avoid setting too high standards of pronunciation.

The child who is too severely criticized for speaking may withdraw from the situation and speak only when absolutely necessary.

8. Finally, never cease to let the child know he is loved and wanted. This will help give him the confidence necessary to continue with his speech efforts.

Scissors Care Insures Wear

NEW YORK (INS) — Scissors and shears will do a good job for you if you take good care of them.

But most people misuse their scissors, according to Kurt Schlesinger, maker of a scissor line.

Schlesinger says six rules for taking care of scissors will insure a lifetime of service. He lists the rules as follows:

1. Use your scissors and shears only for the purpose intended. Do not force the blades. By trying to cut an Army blanket with embroidery scissors, for example, not only will you have an uncomfortable cutting job but you will ruin the scissors.

2. Keep the cutting surfaces clean. Before and after use remove lint and dust by wiping carefully with a soft cloth. Don't let dirt work its way into the screw "ride."

3. A drop of sewing machine oil on the screw "ride" once a month will keep the scissors working smoothly.

4. Should the time come when your scissors blades seem dull, give them only to a recognized grinder who can do precision grinding.

In the case of pinking shears, always return them to the factory for regrinding. Your scissor dealer will give you the address.

5. Keep your scissors and shears in a special compartment where they can't slide around, and are out of reach of young children. Slamming them carelessly against a hard surface can snap the points.

6. Before storing your shears away for any length of time, spread a coat of light oil over them.

Ernest Huthwaite, Fred Ziem Talk at Slaybaugh Home

Fred Ziem and Ernest Huthwaite were guest speakers Monday afternoon when the Pontiac Republican Women's Club met in the Glenwood avenue home of Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh.

Mr. Ziem told of the duties of the prosecutor's office. He stressed that the public should get out and meet the candidates, hear their viewpoints and then vote.

He said further that we should always show that we are good Americans and work for unity among parties. If we believe in a candidate, work hard for him, but never degrade the other man. Mr. Ziem is seeking re-election as prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Huthwaite, candidate for election to the State Legislature, said that he would like to be able to work for the people in the city of Pontiac to help pass some of the bills that are of interest to them.

To be a good legislator, Mr. Huthwaite said, a man must have his community at heart at all times. The speaker promised his support to the people of Pontiac and to do everything within his power for their benefit.

Mrs. Grace Shulz presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Huthwaite was secretary pro-tem in the absence of Agnes Hilton.

Mrs. Shulz introduced Mrs. William Kennedy, federation president, who told of the picnic to be held at Avon Park, Rochester, Sept. 13. She said that this "meet your candidate" affair will be a cooperative picnic.

Mrs. Frank McGregor talked on legislation in the United States. It was announced that several members of the group will go to Detroit on Sept. 27 to atend the luncheon and reception for Sen. Homer Ferguson.

Mrs. Maude Place will open her North Saginaw street home on Sept. 20 for a silver tea at which Congressman George A. Dondero will be guest speaker.

Junior's School Kit Sports Smart Styling, Gay Color

The old-style school bag is fast disappearing along with heavy overshoes, experts tell us. Small fry want to carry their books to school in kits as smart as mother's handbag, as handsome as dad's briefcase.

For the younger set, favorite cartoon, television and storybook characters are still popular decorations, but modern space travel and science fiction motifs are frequently used.

In shape, some school bags are styled like miniature doctor bags, suitcases or brief bags. Many have separate pockets to keep pencils and supplies from coming in contact with lunch and snacks.

All types of materials are being used, including nylon, rayon, cotton, plastic and leather. For colors, there's just as big a selection from smart Air Force blue to eye-opening bright red plaids.

Older pupils who have graduated to the notebook stage are also taking big doses of color with their learning; although traditional browns are as prevalent as ever, novelty coverings and trims make printed, striped and embossed ring binders fun to own and use.

High school and college students tend to choose classically simple underarm cases and brief bags—or unusual duffle styles used as "totes" for everything including an extra pair of shoes.

Zipper briefcases with disappearing handles are often selected by the college student who wants a more spacious holder for papers which can also be carried under the arm.

Claire McCardell's three-piece costume suit has brief fitted jacket in red and a gray silk blouse teamed with skirt in muted red plaid.

A street-length dress of brown satin with olive and beige accessories was worn by the bride's mother. Mrs. Vore wore a mauve dress with orchid and black accessories.

One's Weak Self-Control Reflects Upon All Others

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One of the biggest obstacles the older housewife faces when she tries to get a job is the employer's preconceived notion that she's too "emotional."

"She's been at home, been her own boss, been able to gossip all she wants, and when she hits an office, she's apt to cause a lot of trouble.

"Also, when you correct her, she's apt to burst into tears. Just too emotional, that's all."

If I've heard that once from employers, I've heard it a hundred times. And the trouble is, it's sometimes all too true.

All it takes is a couple of women who permit their emotions to get out of hand in an office, and all women get a bad reputation.

It's called "How to Make Your Emotions Work for You," and is written by Dorothy C. Finkelor, who is dean of the Business Training College at Pittsburgh, Pa., and the mother of three daughters.

The chapters will give you some idea of how helpful this book can be.

There's "How to Avoid Confusion"—confusion, that is, in your thinking about yourself as a person.

"How Old Are You Emotionally?" offers concrete hints on what you can do to help gain emotional maturity.

Especially good is "Accept Yourself," which analyzes the two kinds of worry, the wasting kind and the productive kind, while the chapter on "Emotional Energy" can, if you let it, entirely change your whole approach to life.

Our emotions are, after all, our strongest tools, and many times the difference between success and failure — in life as well as in the office — depends on our ability to control them, instead of letting them control us.

Dampness Will Keep Paint Wet

Dirt, Grease, Wax Will Retard Drying Process Too

By HUBBARD COBB

There are certain things in this world that one sort of takes for granted.

Among these so-called "sure things" is that when paint is applied to a surface, it will, within a reasonable length of time, dry. When, after a few days, it still is not dry and hard, we begin to worry.

If you apply paint to a damp surface there is a pretty good chance that the paint won't dry because paint, oil paint that is, and water don't get along too well.

Time after time people have set to work and painted a damp concrete floor with an oil paint and have ended up with a gooey mass that had to be completely removed.

Paint often will not dry if applied to a dirty surface, and if the surface is greasy or coated with wax, it's almost a sure bet that the paint won't dry.

Greasy surfaces are likely to be found on metal and in kitchens and bathrooms. Remove the grease with turpentine before painting.

Many paint removers contain wax and this must be removed from the wood with a solvent after the job of removing the old paint is completed. If you don't, the new paint won't dry.

Paints and other finishes dry, to some extent, through evaporation of the liquids. If the weather is dry, evaporation will be rather rapid and the paint or finish will dry quickly.

If the weather is humid, evaporation will be slow and the paint may take twice as long to dry as during dry weather.

The drying time of a finish can be speeded up by circulating air over it or the process can be slowed down by keeping moving air away from the painted surface.

Paints which have not dried in a reasonable length of time will sometimes respond if you wipe over them carefully with a cloth dampened in turpentine.

This can't be done, of course, if the paint is very soft, but if it's just sort of tacky the turpentine may do the trick.

Since She Doesn't Know Where They Live

Girl May Let Ex-Fiance Return Gifts From His Kin

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "I was to have been married next month but something has happened which makes it impossible for me to go through with the wedding.

"Last week a shower was given for me at which I received many lovely presents. Half of these presents came from my ex-fiance's relatives.

"I know they should be returned but as I do not know where these relatives live, I do not know where to send them. Could I possibly pack them all up and send them to my ex-fiance and ask him to return them to his relatives?"

Answer: Certainly! In fact, there is nothing else you can do.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am left-handed and when I am home I, of course, use the table setting most convenient for me. But when I am invited out to dinner in someone else's house the table is always set for a right-handed person and I find it very difficult to manipulate the implements.

I am all thumbs and this can be very embarrassing. I would like to know if, done very inconspicuously would it be proper to place the implements where they will be easiest for me to manage?

Answer: Certainly you can reach across your plate and pick up your silver without resetting the table. Nobody in the world is going to notice this, but to reset the table would be awkward, conspicuous and dicourteous.

My advice would be to have your table set properly at home so that you would not be awkward when you go out.

Dear Mrs. Post: A boy has asked me to go to a dance. As none of my other friends was going to this dance, I said "No."

Since then some of my best friends have changed their minds and are now going to this dance. Would it be proper for me to call this boy and tell him that I would like to go after all?

Answer: If, when you said "no," you told him the reason why you refused, you could now call him and tell him you would like to go if he hasn't invited someone else.

Cotton Features Permanent Pleat

New permanently pleated cottons are thoroughly washable and require little or no ironing. Featured in various knife pleats and in free-flowing irregular crystal pleats, in prints and plains, the new permanently pleated cottons are used in dress and sportswear for women as well as in clothes for the younger fry. They're also available by the yard.

Washing these new permanently pleated cottons is just a matter of dipping in and out of soapsuds and rinses, then hanging them to drip dry. Avoid bleach, rough handling, wringing, or twisting.

Paper Won't Stick

If wrapping or waxpaper sticks to the icing of your cakes, put it in the refrigerator for a few minutes and the paper will be easily removable from the cool icing.

IF large matron—

Mrs. L. M.—Afternoon and dinner dresses are usually by far the most becoming for a large figure. Dark brown crepe, with fichu neckline tied in low knot at back worn with striking hat to focus attention to the personality in your face.

Prepare for Date Week in Advance

If you're a teenager who develops a slight case of stage-fright when preparing for a special date, you can banish all "dressing-room" fears by planning everything a week in advance.

Make a complete list of what you'll wear. If it's to be a formal, have your gown ready. Look it over carefully to see if it needs pressing. Check the ziper, too. Being unable to get into a dress at the last minute is a real disaster.

Are your dancing shoes in good condition? Do you match or harmonize with the gown you're going to wear? If your shoes are ready to wear, wrap them with your evening bag in white tissue paper and put them in an empty hat-box in your closet. This way, they'll be safe and easy to reach.

Next, arrange your cosmetics and grooming aids on your dressing table. See to it that you have enough cold cream, hand cream, deordorant, etc., on hand and you'll avoid those frantic shopping trips when the time of the date is at hand.

Decide on what shade of lipstick and nail polish will set your gown off nicely. These, plus your powder and a few clean, cotton balls for applying it will cover most of your make-up needs.

Hair and nails should be attended to well in advance. A nylon scarf, placed on the same hanger with your dress, will remind you to tie it over your face and hair before slipping on your dress. The scarf will protect your dress from lipstick and make-up and your hair from mussing at the same time.

Thin Pickle Slices Stay Ever-Crisp

Busy Mother of 2 Tells of Her Recipe for Cucumbers

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If your garden is producing as many cucumbers as ours is right now, you'll appreciate this recipe for Crisp Pickle Slices from Mrs. Ralph Hemmerly. She says the pickles really do stay crisp.

Mrs. Hemmerly is a homemaker with two small sons. She and her husband have been building their home and have done all the work, but the plastering, themselves. On the more feminine side, Mrs. Hemmerly likes to sew and knit. She is making all her draperies and is about ready to tackle slip covers.

CRISP PICKLE SLICES
By Mrs. Ralph Hemmerly

4 quarts medium cucumbers
6 medium white onions, sliced
2 green peppers or 1 green and 1 red pepper, chopped
3 cloves garlic
½ cup salt
5 cups sugar
1½ teaspoons turmeric
1½ teaspoons celery seed
2 tablespoons mustard seed
3 cups vinegar

Slice cucumbers thin, but do not peel. Add onions, peppers, and garlic and mix well. Add salt and cracked ice. Let stand 3 hours. Drain thoroughly.

Combine remaining ingredients and pour over drained vegetables. Heat to boiling. Seal in sterilized jars. Makes 6-8 pints.

Let Children Alone With Toys, Games

It's important for you to teach Baby to play alone and to enjoy being by himself at least a part of the time. If you pick him up the first time he looks around for you, you're in for trouble. If Baby is used to playing alone, he'll do it very happily and find endless ways to amuse himself.

Give him one or two toys or some tin pans and blocks of wood and he'll be learning his first lesson in independence. And don't interrupt his play even if he does things awkwardly. This is far better than having it done for him.

Exercise Bony Neck

A bony neck can be improved by simple exercises. Lie on your back with a pillow under your shoulders and your arms folded over your chest. Now, raise your head, but not the shoulders, and lower it slowly.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Opernose Googlys, Unite and Stop This Gallimaufry

This fascinating new trend in name-calling has one clear-cut virtue: It sends people to the dictionary who haven't gone there since school days.

I think Clare Boothe Luce may have started the whole thing with "glabaloney" some years ago. You couldn't find that word in any dictionary then for she made it up, but it's there now. So is gobbledegook, which is onomatopoetic and largely self-explanatory.

A former vice president prodded reporters toward their lexicons by calling somebody a "troglodyte" which sounds worse than it is since it means a cave dweller or a person living in seclusion.

There was a pause for ammunition-gathering until last December when an ex-President termed his political enemies "snollygosters," a fine-sounding word with a sneer in it.

MISS McBRIDE

Snollygoster caused considerable argument, though, for while a dictionary defines it as "a pretentious boaster," the son of the Civil War Georgia editor credited with coining the word maintains it means a "political also-ran, a little man always trying for an office too big for him and never getting anywhere."

However that may be, snollygoster sounds belittling, which was the ex-President's intent.

A speechmaking New England senator was the one who came up with "gallimaufry," used as a noun to describe a certain kind of a trip. Faithful Webster defines gallimaufry as a hash of liver-and-lights or any absurd medley, But gallimaufry is such a pretty word that I'd like to see it taken out of the invective category and used for a stage name: Jeanette Gallimaufry, soprano, for instance.

It seems likely that after Mr. Truman's and Sen. Flanders' successes, many of our more vocal statesmen have been curling up with good unabridgeds in the hope of dredging up something headline-worthy and interesting. I went on such an expediiton myself today, and in a short time found between a and t some very interesting expletives.

How, for instance, would you like to be called a "lanuginose gowk?" (Meaning hair-covered fool or simpleton.) Or an "opernose googly?" (Industrious bowled ball that swerves first one way and then breaks in the other, thus interpretable as a determined fence-sitter.)

Would you be angry if somebody said you had the brains of a planula (a ciliated free-swimming larva of a colenterate characterized by the solid interior)? Or the bite of a sinapism (mustard plaster)?

You could call your adversary a faineant (idler), a lansquenet (mercenary foot soldier armed with a lance or pike) or a saury (snout-nosed fish).

This trend may start a sauve qui peut in the Washington bookstores which no publisher would wish to minify. But when you're playing at being even a part-time orismologist you must be darned Fabian lest you indulge in either a lapsus linguae or a lapsus calami.

Senators Worry Over EDC Flop

2 Dems, 1 Republican See Failure at Brussels as Red Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democrats and a Republican senator voiced dismay today over the European Defense Community deadlock and said the United States may soon have to move directly toward rearming West Germany.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) labeled the failure at Brussels to reach agreement on the six-nation European army project "a victory for the Soviet Union." If no EDC solution is found, he said, the German Federal Republic should be given sovereignty "as soon as practicable."

• • •

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said possible loss of Germany to Communist domination would be "catastrophic," while Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said an EDC collapse would mean the United States should "by all means" move to rearm the former enemy.

State Department Press officer Henry Suydam said yesterday the department will want to study "the whole picture" before commenting on the Brussels collapse.

Washington officials were reported searching desperately for some formula to salvage the multination project, although most acknowledged privately they had little hope of success.

If compromise attempts fail, it was said the United States and Britain were ready to go ahead with plans to end their occupation of Germany and restore sovereignty in line with a plan agreed on between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Churchill here last July.

Fox Bounties $8,393

LANSING (AP)—A total of $8,395 in bounties was paid for 119 coyotes and 1,263 foxes in July, the Conservation Department said today. No wolves were bountied in the month.

Toledo Boy Cleared in Schoolgirl Slaying

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old boy, implicated by an older youth in the rape-slaying of a schoolgirl, has been cleared of any blame in her death, Prosecutor Harry Friberg said yesterday.

Friberg said stoop-shouldered Bernard A. Schreiber, 17, had admitted that he alone raped and stabbed Mary Jolene Friess, 17, in a woods near here Aug. 12. Schreiber previously had insisted that the 12-year-old struck the girl with a club.

Friberg said the older boy took all the blame after authorities determined that the 12-year-old was home eating breakfast at the time of the slaying.

Schreiber is being held on a delinquency charge accusing him of murder and rape. A preliminary hearing is scheduled for today before Juvenile Court Referee J. R. Kelly.

Her Love Life Surprises Even Yvonne

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hollywood has long been amazed by Yvonne DeCarlo's love life, and so is she. At least by the things she reads about herself.

Just back from Europe and getting ready to leave for an Arizona film location, the much-traveled actress paused to clear up some of the misconceptions about her romantic affairs. This was no small matter.

Yvonne makes it a point never to blab about her real love matches. That's why so many fanciful tales appear in print about her. Recently she saw a clipping from a German paper proclaiming in big headlines that she was in love with a German baron.

• • •

"I was supposed to have left Cologne with dewy eyes because I couldn't bear to part with him," she observed. "Ridiculous! Ive had a few dates with him, but that's all.

• • •

"Then there was the report that I had been attracting Peter Townsend away from Princess Margaret. That one was really out of this world. I have never even laid eyes on the man."

One of the other fables she wanted to put to rest was that she was trying to steal Aly Khan from Gene Tierney. Such is not the case. She said that she, the Duchess of Devonshire and two other women were linked to the Aly by a London paper. All were house-guesting at his villa and laughed over the report.

• • •

A New York paper chronicled her as a siren who caused men to battle over her. It described a Hollywood encounter at which Steve Cochran fought it out with another man.

• • •

"All I can say is that I have never witnessed two men fighting over anything, much less me," she remarked, "I say that with some disappointment. It would be fun to have someone fight for me."

The same article declared that she was once a model and had posed in the nude, a la Marilyn Monroe. The DeCarlo reply: "I was never a model, and I never posed in the nude."

She remarked that dating in Hollywood is a hazard. "Many of the men, and not only the actors, have press agents who plant items with the columnists about us," she said. "Sometimes it gets so bad that I have to tell them, 'Look, tell your press agent to stop working overtime'."

Gravel Tunnel Falls, Two Boys Suffocate

SALINE (UP)—Two young boys suffociated late Monday when a tunnel they were digging in a gravel pit here collapsed.

The boys, Cary D. Charobee, 5, and Wayne E. Kubat, 6, were found by a searching party organized by their parents after they failed to return home at nightfall.

State Police at the Ypsilanti post said one of the searchers spotted the legs of the boys protruding from a gravel slope. They were dead when pulled from the gravel.

The Charobee boy's father, Dominic, owns a trailer court near the gravel pit. Both of the boys lived in the trailer court with their parents.

Royal Oak Pet Parade Plans Get Under Way

A meeting to formulate plans for a Royal Oak pet parade will be held by the Oakland County -Animal Welfare Society, Inc., Thursday at 8 p.m. in the county health center, Fourt at Stphenson, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Marion LeFaive, group president, said "Leaders in the civic, municipal, fraternal, educational, religous and related fields are invited to attend to make this a big success."

Theater Cashier Locked in Booth; Car Is Stolen

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—To protect them from thieves, this city's theater cashiers are locked—from the outside—in their booths. But the precaution backfired for Robbie Whitfield, 17.

While she sat helplessly in her cage a man climbed into her car parked across the street and drove away, ignoring her shouts. Police still are looking for the thief.

Township Must Pay Tax to School Area

LANSING (AP)—State auditors today reported that Spalding Township, Menominee County, owes the Powers-Spalding School District, $1,701.

A report released by Aud. Gen. John G. Martin said that the money was owed to the school district as its share of a 10-cent an acre tax paid by the state to local unis on state-owned lands.

The money is supposed to be distributed to local units on the basis of the allocation of ordinary taxes.

Martin said his examiners had found that the school district had not received any of the 10-cent an acre tax money at all in the 1949-50 and in 1950-51. The district should have received $60 for the first year and $682 for the second year.

In addition, in 1951-52, the district received only $78 out of $345 it should have received, and in 1952-53 it received $514 out of $573 due.

Minor Alcohol Buyers Rapped

Table Toppers Support City 'Get Tough' Policy Against Violators

Some 200 members of the Oakland County Table Toppers are making a special effort to support Pontiac Judge Cecil McCallum's "get tough" policy against minors attempting to buy alcoholic beverages illegally.

Leo Paquette, executive secretary of the county-wide association, said his office is mailing instructions to members to avert purchases by minors.

"Our members are cooperating with police to further the legitimate business of selling alcoholic beverages in a lawful and upright manner; this is one of the primary purposes of the Table Toppers," Paquette said.

He also commented, "We congratulate Judge McCallum for announcing the get-tough policy, especially that illegal purchases will bring compulsory jail sentences with no fines."

Notices to that effect are being posted in all beer and liquor establishments, Paquette said. He added that alcoholic beverages will not be sold to persons of questionable age unless proper identification is furnished.

A state law states that minors can receive a fine up to $500 or 90 days in jail for buying alcoholic beverages illegally, according to Judge McCallum. Both fine and jail sentence also can be imposed.

Sex Offenders Shy, Inclined to Religion

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The typical sex-offender is not a violent maniac but shy and religiously inclined, according to Dr. James Marsh, psychologist at the University of Californi's medical school in Los Angeles.

A survey of sex-offenders contrasted to a comparison group of students, revealed that the former shy away from group activities, dislike parties, and are unusually afraid of lightning and earthquakes. Also the survey showed, the majority read the Bible, pray frequently and have a strong moral sense that leaves them conscience-stricken about their offenses.

Key to the offenders' difficulties seems to lie in unfortunate family relationships such as broken homes or consistent family discord. Many have never married and fear women, Dr. Marsh reported, while those married have had extreme marital difficulties. All of these factors lead to deep-seated neurosis.

Plane Roars Over Atlantic Carrying Tot to Boston for Delicate Brain Operation

BOSTON (INS) — A giant trans-Atlantic plane roared into Boston today from Germany bearing a three-months-old girl destined for a delicate brain operation to save her life.

The tiny victim was Christine Tuegel, daughter of Peter Tuegel, Munich stage director and his wife, an actress. Christine was stricken with hydrocephalus, an inflammation of the brain.

An ambulance and police escort were drawn up alongside the big overseas runway when the Pan American plane landed at Logan International Airport at 7:40 A. M. EDT.

At the Children's Medical Center everything was placed in readiness to receive the little patient. On hand for his first examination of Christine was Dr. Donald Matson, of the Medical Center, whose success in similar operations was related in a medical journal and came to the attention of a German doctor called by her parents when the child was stricken several days ago.

The big Pan American plane, which usually runs from Germany and London direct to New York, was diverted to Boston because of the emergency nature of the child's affliction. Pan American carried the child across the ocean free.

Dr. Lutz and his precious charge were given every bit of privacy possible as the plane roared over the North Atlantic. He carried necessary medical supplies and directed preparation of the baby's food.

Seek Public Vote on Bond Issue

Pontiac General Project for Expansion Slated on November Ballot

Pontiac City Commission tonight is expected to give final approval to obtaining a public vote Nov. 2 on a $3,000,000 bond issue for expansion of Pontiac General Hospital.

The ordinance placing the proposal on the November ballot was passed on first reading last week by commissioners.

The proposal is substantially the same as one voted down Aug. 3 by property owners when a majority favored it, but not the necessary 60 per cent.

The needed tax-limit increase to support the bonds was approved in the August election and will not be voted on again.

Other scheduled action includes discussion of a mutual aid agreement between the Pontiac Fire Department and fire fighting agencies in several surrounding communities.

An amendment is planned to the resolution passed July 27 this year which approved the Parkview and Crystal Beach federal wartime housing units here for continued use, providing they are brought to city building code standards. The amendment will make a slight change in the original resolution to conform with a request from the Public Housing Administration.

A resolution is expected authorizing a public vote on proposed changes in the city employes pension plan.

Discussion is planned of a proposed amendment to the city's ice cream vending law.

Wolfe from Edison to Glenwood.

St. Clair from Montcalm to Kennett.

Summit from Hudson to Montcalm.

Confirmation is expected of special assessment rolls for construction of curb, gutter and drainage on Rundell from Baldwin to Saginaw and Barkell from Rascob to Columbia.

Other planned action includes:

A report from the city attorney on an agreement for installation of improvements in the plat of Linda Vista Subdivision.

A report from the city assessor on correction of a special assessment roll for construction of curb, gutter and drainage on Second from Joslyn to Barkell.

A communication from the Sylvan Lake Elks Lodge asking permission for use of the Bagley and Brush playground Sept. 6.

Arrest 70 More Airmen in Probe of Pachucos

RANTOUL, Ill. (UP)— Seventy more airmen were rounded up for questioning at nearby Chanute Air Force Base in an investigation of the vicious "Pachuco" gang of tattooed hoodlums.

Air Force officers have already jailed 30 airmen on suspicion of being the hard core of the gang, which glorifies rape, narcotics addiction and crimes of violence.

Maj. Gen. Byron E. Gates, base commander, ordered court martial proceedings against all airmen proven to be members of the gang.

"The Air Force will not tolerate a few bad apples spoiling a barrel of good American boys," he said.

The 70 additional airmen were among 175 who were found with tattoos or carrying switch-blade knives in a shirts-off inspection of the bases 15,000 men Saturday.

Thirty airmen were jailed immediately after the inspection. The 70 rounded up Monday had been released earlier, but were called back for renewed questioning.

The band's insignia here is usually a tattooed cross on the upper part of the hand between the thumb and forefinger. The top of the cross points toward the shoulder and it is surrounded by a semi-halo of seven dots.

The mark is partially hidden unless the band is spread wide. Gang rules permit additional markings for unusual crimes, such as a beating or a rape.

The Pachucos sprang up on the West Coast during World War II and their name is apparently a part of Mexican slang. Although the gang's first members were youths of Mexican descent, the airmen arrested here came from many racial stocks.

A full scale investigation was launched here over the weekend after officers detected signs of drug addiction, knife-carrying and strange bodily marks. A series of incidents was culminated when a young airman was dragged to an isolated spot, carved in the chest and slashed on the arms.

The maimed airman said he could not name his attackers, but officers said he had apparently fallen into disfavor with the gang.

A squadron officer, meanwhile, found a copy of the Pachuco oath, said to require a signature in blood, the 33 "laws" scrawled in immature longhand, included:

Canada Also Tried to Outlaw Reds

By JAMES MONTAGNES

TORONTO — Canadians are watching with interest the United State Senate plan to outlaw the Communist Party. Canada tried the same thing — and found the party came up with another name and kept right on working while it was underground.

Today Canadian Communists operate as the Labor Progressive Party, and manage to have elected representatives in city councils and provincial legislatures.

The LPP plugs its name with public meetings and ads in daily newspapers on various national and local problems. In the past year, for example, they have fought the influx of United States capital into major Canadian industries and the repeal of the wartime rental controls in urban centers like Toronto.

During the depression Thirties, the Communist Party was first outlawed under the Conservative government of R. J. Bennett. The party went underground, but its publications and leaflets were found everywhere. Its leaders became political martyrs.

Early in World War II, the party was again outlawed, and its leaders hunted and interned when found. Most of the top men in the party, including Tim Buck, who later became secretary general of the LPP, went into hiding.

They all came out, some from outside Canada, after the war. Canada's famous Royal Canadian Mounted Police have a special section which has for many years kept a close eye on the leading party members.

When the Commies changed their name to the Labor Progressive Party they also started printing a daily newspaper, the Canadian Tribune, in Toronto. Its financing became worse by the week, and within a year the paper had to suspend as a daily. Now it is published as a weekly. Its circulation is small.

Similarly the influence of the LPP has been slipping in recent years. Its stronghold is the Toronto industrial area, and some of the mining towns in northern Ontario.

Party members have tried to control a number of international unions in transportation, communications and mining fields. Some of these unions have been cleaned up internally; others still operate as left-wing organizations; especially in the mining and electrical industries.

Some of the unions have ceased to exist, as the Canadian Seamen's Union, which only a few years ago controlled all Great Lakes and coastal shipping in Canada.

In political contests the LPP has also lost ground. In the Toronto civic council, it used to have four or five members and as many in the board of education. In the past year practically all have been defeated at the polls.

In the Ontario provincial legislature only one LPP member now sits for a Toronto post. In the Canadian federal government there has been no LPP member since Montreal's Fred Rose was convicted in the postwar Russian spy ring case and lost his seat.

Attempts have been made by the Conservative Party to have as its predecessor, the Communist Party. But so far the government has felt it is better to keep the party in the open than to drive it underground, where it is more difficult to keep track of its members.

Public meetings held by LPP in the past few years at Toronto have dwindled in attendance.

With large foreign immigration, the party has tried to influence newcomers to Canada and held public meetings of various language groups. But strong-arm party methods of controlling the meetings by throwing out hecklers has resulted in closer police protection and slimmer attendance even when world-famous figures have been guests of honor at the meetings.

In Toronto with over 1,250,000 population, the LPP now does well with a meeting of 2000.

Hurries to Get to Court Even Though He's Guilty

DETROIT (UP)—Lester W. Ownbey, 32, was in such a hurry to clear himself on a charge of fraudulently accepting unemployment compensation that he hitch-hiked his way from Flint to Detroit yesterday to appear in court.

He admitted to Recorder's (criminal) Judge Paul E. Krause that he got $81 in jobless pay last November while working at a Detroit auto plant. He also promised to pay the money back in two weeks.

Weather Believed Contributing Factor in Crash of Braniff Airlines Plane

MASON CITY, Iowa (UP)—Government and airline investigators of a Braniff Airways DC3 plane crash which claimed 11 lives here Sunday have decided a raging wind and rain storm was a "contributory cause," Coroner Ralph E. Smiley says.

Smiley, who received their preliminary report, said it indicated that the weather was a "contributing factor" in the crash.

The coroner said the report declared the twin-engine plane was in a "mild to extreme turbulence" just before it smashed to earth in a pasture on a farm near here.

The airliner, bound from Memphis, Tenn., to Minneapolis, was only 10 minutes away from Mason City, its next scheduled stop, when officials radioed it not to attempt to land here because of a wild wind, rain and hail storm.

But airport officials said static was heavy and they did not know whether the plane ever had received the message. No acknowledgement was heard.

One of the eight survivors, Lyle D. Lyons, of LaCrosse, Wis., an airman first class stationed at Bergstrom Air Base, Austin, Tex., gave this account of the moments just before the crash:

"We were going through what seemed like a solid black cloud and were coming down. Then, all of a sudden, the cloud turned yellow and we felt a terrific, awful bump."

After that, he said, he lost consciousness and when he came to he was in the plane wreckage.

3 More Dairies Cut Milk Price

Creameries in Detroit Pass Along Savings on Quantity Purchases

DETROIT (INS) — Three additional Detroit area creameries yesterday announced price cuts on quantity purchases of home-delivered milk.

United Dairies, Ebling Creamery Co., and Detroit Creamery Co. said reductions retroactive to Aug. 1 will reduce the price of standard milk from 21 to 18 cents for customers who buy more than 30 quarts a month.

Customers buying from 31 to 90 quarts per month receive a three-cent rebate on all quarts over 30. Customers buying over 90 quarts receive a three-cents rebate on their total purchase.

The rebate plan also includes cream, higher grade milk and other dairy products carried by milkmen. For rebate purposes each unit is figured as the equivalent of a quart of milk.

Two weeks ago six creameries employing AF of L drivers announced a similar plan. The latest three creameries to cut milk prices employ CIO drivers.

Courtrooms in Boston Get All Brightened Up

BOSTON (UP)—The City Council learned yesterday municipal judges have been "working overtime" to keep $30-a-day special justices off the bench so five courtrooms can be repainted.

The $6,000 they saved through the overtime now is in the Suffolk County payroll account, Chief Justice Elijah Adlow reported.

Billy Joe's Comeback Marks Amateur 1st Round

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

Wisecracks and wide-spraying tee shots by the bespectacled, Morganton, N. C. golfing wizard, Billy Joe Patton, highlighted the first day's action in the National Amateur Championships at Country Club of Detroit.

Billy Joe scrambled all over the far-flung layout in Detroit's east side, and had to go 19 holes to edge a determined national junior champion, to make his way into today's tougher second round.

Patton was in trouble all the way around. At the turn he was one down to tall Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and the lead see-sawed up to the 18th where Baxter wiped out a one hole edge to square the match and send it into "sudden death." Baxter blew a three-foot putt on the 19th to lose the match.

But it was the close-cropped Patton, darling of the golfing gallery gods, who kept things on an interesting plane. The sensation of the Masters this spring, and the recent U. S. Open, hit only two greens on his tour of the last 15. But he came back time after time with amazing shots that pulled him out of trouble.

One of these fine shots was on the ninth where he pitched out of a difficult lie in a trap at back of the green to a short-putt away from the cup.

Patton missed at least five of the last 15 fairways, winding up in the rough that apparently didn't bother him at all. He usually came out with green-making shots that kept the match on fire all the way.

Along with Billy Joe were other favorites — but Patton today stood out in the opinion of scores of observers and players alike, as the biggest threat for the title. Others were Harvie Ward Jr., San Francisco, new Canadian champion, Arnold Palmer of Cleveland who turned back veteran Frank Strafaci of New York in a great match.

However, all other matches were relegated into second place back of Patton's first showing. The day's biggest gallery trailed the Morganton, N. C. lumber dealer all the way. And its members were delighted with the side comments and witty banter the irrepressible one gave out without stint.

For instance: when he hit the rough on the first hole, fans heard Billy Joe remark, "Don't worry, I get my mail down there." Again, on the 13th where he was one down, he told a bystander "I'm just resting now."

Patton squared the match on the 14th, took the 17th, but lost the 18th to permit Baxter to even things.

Another extra-hole match sent Sammy Urzetta, former publinx champ to the showers. Urzetta bowed out to Tim Holland, a youngster with a grand game that drew lot of favorable comment, including some from Wally Burkemo, Franklin Hills pro.

First round was hard on former champions. Only one of five in the list survived the wild scramble of the field of 200, to stay in the running. Chick Evans Jr., the venerable Chicagoan who won the title twice and was runnerup three times, bowed out to Lincoln Roden of Abington, Pa., 5 and 4.

* * *

Many of these amateurs are long hitters. A large number are on the terrific side, and a few are actually stupendous. In the latter category is Dave Smith Jr. of Gastonia, N. C. On the first hole, a 365 yarder, Smith belted his tee shot a couple feet from the green, then pitched up for an easy birdie-3 putt on the par-4 green. No, he didn't hit any more 350-plus drives.

'Scramblers' Have Day

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

DETROIT (AP)—Amateur golf still is a game for scramblers—in spite of the efforts of the pros to teach "scientific" play and of the U. S. Golf Assn. to find a championship course that will penalize every mistake.

* * *

It was 1950 amateur champion Sammy Urzetta who voiced that opinion, just after being eliminated in the first round of the 1954 Amateur championship at the Country Club of Detroit. And the results of yesterday's other first-round encounters supported his opinion.

* * *

Sammy definitely had been outscrambled, losing on the 19th hole to Tim Holland, the tall young toy manufacturer from Rockville Centre, N. Y. and he was feeling pretty bad about it.

"I really wanted to make a good showing here because I want to make one more Walker Cup team," sighed Urzetta, almost at a loss—for once—for words.

"And I was playing real good golf; I think the best since Minneapolis. (That's where Sam won the Amateur four years ago). "It just shows you still can scramble and win."

On the sidelines were thinman Charlie Coe, the 1949 winner; Ted Bishop (1946) and Chick Evans (1916 and 1920), along with such other prominent players as Frank Strafaci, intercollegiate champion Hillman Robbins, Ray Palmer, a quarter-finalist last year and Fred Kammer, one of the Detroit favorites.

* * *

But the favorites got about an even break in the 72 first-round matches. Numbered among the winners were wisecracking Billy Joe Patton, the gallery favorite who won out on the 19th with the same kind of breath-taking play that made him the leading amateur in the Open and Masters championships this year; Dale Morey, last year's runner-up; Harvie Ward, winner of the Canadian Amateur last week; Arnold Palmer; Don Cherry, and Hobart Manley.

* * *

A dozen or so other top-flight players, including Turnesa, Frank Stranahan, Bill Campbell, Dynamite Goodloe, Jim Jackson, Bruce Cudd and Joe Conrad, drew byes and were scheduled for their first action today.

Indians No Kids

Tribe Players Possess 'Quiet Determination'

By BILL LOFTUS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Senor Al Lopez still isn't climbing out on any limb about the American League pennant chances of his Cleveland Indians.

Relaxing in the quiet of his hotel room, the ex-major league catcher says quietly of the Indians' 5½-game league lead:

* * *

"We're still playing each game as it comes along. We're letting tomorrow take care of itself while we concentrate on today."

* * *

That's been the philosophy of the soft-spoken Lopez ever since the Indians went into first place early in the summer and clung there tenaciously despite a dogged drive by the five-time world champion New York Yankees.

Lopez thought a while when asked about the physical condition of the club and then replied:

"We're in fine shape except for George Strickland, who still has his jaw wired up. He's been throwing a little and jogging and taking some batting practice and it won't be too long before he'll be ready to play a few innings." Strickland suffered a broken jaw when struck by a thrown ball in the last series the Indians played at Yankee Stadium.

How about mentally, Al?

* * *

"Well, the boys have been convinced all along they had a good chance. They still feel that way."

* * *

He was asked whether the outward lack of spirit might not be something called quiet determination to win this one.

Burkemo Ready for 'Big Test' Against Chick

By H. GUY MOATS

Taking a "busman's holiday" Monday, Wally Burkemo, 1953 PGA champion, one of the highlighted figures in today's Pontiac Press exhibition at Pontiac Country Club, said he was "ready" for his 18-hole match with Chick Harbert, current Professional Golfers Assn. titlist.

Burkemo was trailing the Rex Baxter-Billy Joe Patton match at Country Club of Detroit, where the National Amateur Championship was in full swing. Wally liked the Patton style, remarked that "the kid has a fine game, he'll do all right." He added a little more praise after Billy Joe blasted from the back of the ninth green to a foot from the pin.

Burkemo and Harbert were teaming today with Lloyd Syron of PCC and Sally Kay Sharp of Pine Lake in a best-ball test over 18 holes. A Clinic was to follow the match, which was scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m.

Thursday, Burkemo will begin play in the LaBatt Open at Toronto.

This is a $25,000 affair, with $5,000 going to the winner. A strong international field is set for the event.

Wally says he will play several more tourneys this fall, and then take off on the winter circuit. "That" said Wally "will be all for me." A new home now under construction at Gilbert Lake, west of Pontiac, will house the Burkemos after Nov. 1. "We hope to be in it by that time," the Franklin Hills pro added.

Trabert Needs Practice for Singles Meet

Appears Stale, Unsteady in Nassau Bowl Test Yesterday

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Tony Trabert, absent from singles competition for three weeks, is going to have to give his game considerable polishing before he defends his national tennis title starting Saturday at Forest Hills.

Trabert, who teamed with Vic Seixas to win the National Doubles crown Sunday, had trouble reaching the second round of the Nassau Bowl Invitation tournament yesterday.

* * *

He managed to beat Tim Coss of Washington, Eastern intercollegiate champion from Swarthmore, 6-1, 10-8 but he appeared stale and unsteady throughout the match. Trabert, however, showed no signs of the blisters, which kept him out of recent tournaments.

* * *

The only upset on the opening day was the defeat of Ashley Cooper, 17, one of Australia's new stars, by William Cranston of San Marino, Calif.

PATTON IN THE ROUGH — Billy Joe Patton, Morgantown, N. C., shoots from the rough on the 16th hole in the National Amateur Monday. The only good thing about it was that it was shady and cool as 1st round was played in humid 90-degree temperatures. Billy defeated 18-year-old Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., 1-up in 19 holes.

Bengals, Bosox Open Two-Game 4th Place Fight

Senators in It Too, but Sweep in Series Could Settle Scrap

BOSTON (AP) — The lengthy three-way fight for 4th place in the American League pennant chase could well be settled in a two-game series between the Detroit Tigers and the surging Red Sox, beginning tonight.

Except for the opening few weeks of the season when Detroit rode the crest of the league, Tigers have been occupying 4th place, the bottom rung of the 1st division.

But that occupancy hasn't gone without eviction attempts. As a matter of fact, the Tigers have been resisting attempts to change their habitat to the American League basement for most of the season.

First—and longest—it was the Washington Senators who contested Detroit's squatters' rights in the 1st division. And only last month, the Senators enjoyed a few days of success by supplanting the Tigers.

But the eviction proved to be only temporary and the Tigers bounced right back into possession—if none too firm.

Now, the Tigers must withstand the onslaught of a red-hot Red Sox aggregation which has caught fire in recent weeks. The Bostonians boast a six-game winning streak, including three straight victories over the 2nd place New York Yankees.

And with the season drawing to a close, a sweep of both games by either Detroit or Boston could well spell the end of 4th place hopes for the other.

Ned Garver (11-8) was set to pitch for Detroit tonight while the Tigers must face the lefthanded slants of Mel Parnell (2-3), an old Tiger tamer despite his unimpressive record this year.

4 Michigan Men Gain 2nd Round

Four Michigan entries in the National Amateur gained second round positions in the National Amateur Golf Championships at Country Club of Detroit today. Two others made the bracket by virtue of byes.

W. C. Holt, Birmingham, Mich., defeated Beverly Nabors, St. Petersburg, Fla., 5 and 3.

Jet Nine Wins City Baseball Playoff Title

Trips General Motors, 2-0, as Eugene Cox Scores Twice

Pontiac Jets added the City Class A Baseball League playoffs title to their regular-season championship yesterday by blanking General Motors 2-0 in the playoff finals at Wisner Field.

Eugene Cox scored once in the 1st inning and again in the 6th to account for the game's only runs. In both instances, he singled, stole 2nd and came home on Judge Booker's hits.

Jim Williams limited GMC to four hits, struck out one and walked one. Receiving excellent support, he retired 13 of the 1st 15 batters he faced. Herm Bishop, the losing pitcher, gave up five hits, struck out six and walked one.

Jets will meet the champion of the nearby Tri-County League for the area's berth in the American Baseball Congress state tournament at Battle Creek.

Landy Through With Mile Run

MACOLIN, Switzerland (UP) — Australia's John Landy, who has run the mile faster than any man in history, never will race at that distance again.

Landy, weighing 11 pounds more than he did on Aug. 17 when he was beaten by England's Roger Bannister in the "mile of the century" at Vancouver, Canada, made that announcement here where he is watching the British team train for the European championships which starts Wednesday.

"I've been running solidly since November and now I'm finished," said Landy. "I'm 24 years old and the little bit of fitness I have left I want to keep."

The Australian star ran the fastest mile in history on June 21 at Turku, Finland, when he was timed in 3:58.0. The performance was officially accepted as the world record last Saturday.

Pontiac Junior Nines Lose in State Test at Jackson

Pontiac's final two junior baseball champions, Class F Lunsford Market and Boys Club of the Midget League, bowed out of Michigan Recreation Association tournament action Monday at Jackson.

Each team was victimized by the 3-hit pitching of Wyandotte moundsmen. Tom Garwolznisk stopped Lundsford's 4-1, and Klimowicz throttled Boys Club, 4-3.

Lundsford's grabbed a brief, 1-0 lead in the 1st inning on 2 walks and a single by Jerry Orr, but a walk, an error and Ken Prysocki's triple made it 2-1 Wyandotte in the 2nd and that was the ball game.

The Midget game was a see-saw battle as Boys Club tallied 3 times to tie the score only to lose on errors in an extra inning.

Wyandotte scored in the 1st frame on an error and the Pontiac team tied it up in its half on Bob Rabaja's single and 3 walks. The 'Dottes scored again in the 2nd on a double and single, but Pontiac tied it in the 5th on 2 walks, a wild pitch and an infield out.

The teams swapped runs again in he 7th, Boys Club's marker coming on a walk, sacrifice and Stan Hertal's single. In the Wyandotte 8th with 2 out Grundy doubled. Attempting a pick-off, pitcher Tom Mays threw into centerfield and when the ball got past Hertal the winning run scored.

Cleveland's Garcia and Tigers' Garver Deadlocked for Earned-Run Lead in AL

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Garcia of Cleveland and Detroit's Ned Garver were locked in a tight race for the American League earned-run lead today with only seven percentage points separating the veteran righthanders.

* * *

Garcia, one of the Indians' big three, has given up only 53 earned runs in 195 innings for a pace-setting mark of 2.45, figures compiled by The Associated Press reveal. Mike has a 15-6 won-lost record.

* * *

Garver shows a 2.52 earned run average resulting from 54 untainted runs in 193 frames. He has won 11 games and dropped eight.

Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox, another seasoned righty is a close third at 2.57. He has yielded 61 earned tallies in 214 innings while compiling an 18-6 slate.

In the National League, Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants maintains his two-month old lead with a 2.41 mark. The lean southpaw, deadlocked with Philadelphia's Robin Roberts for the most victories, 18, has permitted 54 earned runs in the 202 innings he's worked.

Bob Porterfield of Washington is fourth in the American League with 2.72. He's followed by Steve Gromek of Detroit, 2.77 and Sandy Consuegra of Chicago, 2.83. Porterfield has the most complete games in his circuit, 18.

* * *

Gene Conley, the Braves' elongated rookie, is third at 2.91 on 170 innings and 55 earned runs. He has produced 13 victories against 6 setbacks.

* * *

Roberts has pitched the most innings in the majors, 261, the most complete games, 22 and fanned the most batters, 149.

Bob Lemon and Early Wynn, who round out Cleveland's big three, have earned run percentages of 2.88 and 3.00, respectively.

Musial, Minoso Close in on Leaders Snider, Noren

NEW YORK (AP)—Hitting spurts by Stan Musial of the Cardinals and Minnie Minoso of the White Sox have tightened the major league batting races today.

* * *

Musial, setting his sights on his seventh National League batting title, boosted his average to .349 and now trails Brooklyn's Duke Snider by one point. Snider, who had a 27-pont bulge July 5, is hitting .350.

Minoso, swinging at a .334 clip, also moved to within one point of the American League leader, Irv Noren of the Yankees. Noren, currently batting .335, enjoyed a 40-point advantage July 27.

* * *

While Snider lost four points, Musial was gaining nine last week. The Dodger outfielder went 7-for-24 and Musial 12-for-23. Figures include Monday's games.

Don Mueller of the Giants remains in contention at .335, third best in the senior circuit. Mueller's average failed to change as he had nine hits in 26 at bats.

* * *

Noren, with 6-for-27, saw his average dwindle 10 points. Meanwhile, Minoso collected 12 hits in 26 trips for an eight-point increase.

Cleveland's Bobby Avila, the early season pace-setter, is back in a challenging position with a .327 mark. The third-ranking Avila, in going 10-for-27, picked up three points.

Township Loop Games Forfeited

There was little action, but plenty of conversation at the Drayton Plains softball park Monday night as both Waterford Township Softball League playoff games resulted in forfeits.

In the opener, Drayton Drug won the easy way over Dick & Wes Sports as the D&W nine had only 8 players, including manager Jim Burt.

As the loser of the 1st game, Dick & Wes met Gidley Electric. A 9th player had arrived in the meantime and the game went on, under official protest by the league pending an investigation of Burt's status.

Dick & Wes won, 8-2, but league records disclosed that Burt had played in only 2 regular season games and since loop rules specify that a minimum of 3 games be played in to qualify for playoff action, recreation director Tom Belton forfeited the game to Gidley's.

Drug and Dixie Recreation tangle tonight at 7 p. m. with the loser playing Gidley's at 8:30. Loser of the 2nd game is eliminated from the playoffs.

Next Eight Days Crucial for Milwaukee

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves have eight days left to get back into the National League pennant fight. After that it will be too late.

The big tests start tonight when Philadelphia moves into County Stadium in Milwaukee for the first of three games. Then comes New York for two games and Brooklyn for four.

* * *

* * *

Last week should be edged in black on Milwaukee calendars. Only seven days ago the Braves were a mere 3½ games out of the lead and owned a nine-game winning streak. Then came four losses in six games and now they're 7½ behind.

Although faced with a real battle to stay in first division, the Phillies have had a lot to say already about the positions of the first two teams in the pennant race. In the last week, for example, they personally added three games to the Giants' edge over Brooklyn by beating the Dodgers three games and losing three to the Giants.

* * *

The Giants and Dodgers both open 10-game swings through the West today. The Giants stop off first in Chicago. Brooklyn begins in Cincinnati. As soon as the two clubs come home they collide in a three-game series at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 3-4-5.

The forthcoming week in the American League includes an extended tour of the Eastern seaboard by the fast moving Cleveland Indians, prior to their final three-game visit to New York.

The Yankees, meanwhile, will be nursing their wounds at home with two games against Baltimore, three against Detroit and a single date with Chicago.

Three games were scheduled yesterday in the majors but only two were played as rain washed out a Cincinnati engagement in Milwaukee.

* * *

The Washington Senators whipped Philadelphia twice, 8-5 and 10-3. Eddie Yost and Jim Busby combined to drive in six runs in the doubleheader. Chuck Stobbs stayed all the way in the first game for his eighth victory. Gus Keriazakos pitched his first complete game in the majors in the nightcap.

N.Y. Pilot Puts Self on 'Spot' as Yankees Lag

Assumes Responsibility for Snapping Champs Out of Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—His team 5½ lengths off the phenomenal .721 pace of the Cleveland Indians, Casey Stengel today put himself on the spot with an "it's up to me" declaration as his New York Yankees opened a vital nine-game home stand.

"This is where the manager comes in," said Casey. "It's up to me to get them out of this streak."

The "streak" Casey referred to was the loss of three games in Boston last week-end, a body blow, most observers believe, to the club's chances of winning their sixth straight American League flag.

The two top contenders are scheduled to get together in Yankee Stadium in a three-game set, Aug. 31-Sept. 2 and then wind up their season's series with a doubleheader in Cleveland on Sept. 12.

Although disappointed over his team's showing against the red-hot Red Sox, Stengel said it wasn't the lack of hustle that caused the Yankees' demise.

"I never saw a team try so hard as this one did in Boston. These guys have been putting out all season. When you lose two men like Slaughter and Woodling because they ran into walls chasing flies, you know the effort is there."

Stengel's morale received a much needed boost late yesterday when he learned that Woodling probably would return to action in two weeks. When he hurt his wrist at Fenway Park on Saturday, it was feared Gene would be lost for the rest of the campaign.

Weather permitting, Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will hold an open-air meeting on the clubhouse lawn, Waterford, Wednesday evening.

5 Trap Titles at Stake Today

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Five of trapshooting's most coveted titles, the clay target championships of North America, headlined today's program at the 55th Grand American.

Winners in the men's, women's, junior, sub-junior and professional divisions will be named in the 200 target, 16-yard event expected to attract about 850 entrants.

Yesterday's opening contest drew 662 shooters representing 44 states and three Canadian provinces. Sharpshooters from the other four states may move in today.

Fred D. Walcock of Sandusky, Ohio, winner of the men's crown in 1953, broke 199 of 200 yesterday in the introductory shoot to serve notice that he is ready.

Parker Gives Lions Drills on Running

Parker intends that his running attack will balance the passing of Bobby Layne by the time the regular season begins.

Big 10 on the Hoof Will Be Certified

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten football beef will be properly weighed this year.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson said yesterday that the conference had agreed that weights of all players be accurately certified. He said this is a move by coaches and athletic publicity directors against the listing of phony playing weights.

All Big Ten gridders will be weighed, under supervision, a week after opening of fall practice Sept. 1, Wilson added.

Wildcat Billy McNeece Decisions Panter; Chico Varona Defeats Frankie Fernandez

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Fighting is fun," says Wildcat Billy McNeece, 22, a former paratrooper who may make a lot of money doing what comes naturally.

The big, reddish-blond middleweight from Central Islip, N. Y., added to his prestige with a decisive 10-round triumph over seasoned Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a lively scrap at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena last night. McNeece, a 1-2 favorite, outweighed Panter, 165¼ to 161.

In the other television bout of the night, Chico Varona, sixth-ranking welterweight contender from Cuba, won a split 10-round decision over 35-year-old Frankie Fernandez of Honolulu.

Challenger Johnny Saxton believes he has the crowding style to whip welterweight Kid Gavilan on Sept. 1 in Philadelphia.

"Let him fight his way and he can beat anybody," said the 24-year-old contender from Brooklyn. "But I'm not going to let him fight his fight. He likes to set his own pace and come through with late flurries. He's going to have to fight all the way with me. I'm not going to let him set the pace. I'll keep after him."

Federico Plummer, the Panamanian lightweight who held Percy Bassett to a draw in Panama City, will campaign in the U. S. under the managership of Bobby North. The central American will make his New York debut at either the Eastern Parkway Arena or St. Nicks in about three weeks. . . .

Coast Auction Sets New High for Sales

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—All California auction records were broken at the California Thoroughbred Breeders' Assn., sale Monday in Bing Crosby Hall at the Del Mar Turf Club.

The new high for a single yearling was recorded when Mrs. George Lewis of Los Angeles bid $31,000 to acquire Be Sullivan a bay colt by the imported Sullivan out of Brave Gesture. The colt is a half brother to Gesticulator and was in the consignment of Mrs. Ann Peppers of Sunnymead, Calif.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — To say the Chicago Bears expect great things of quarterback Zeke Bratkowski is putting it mildly.

* * *

The deadeye passer from the University of Georgia, preparing for his rookie season in the National Football League, may be just what the Bears need to develop a championship team again.

Maybe that level won't be reached this year but Zeke is the key man in George Halas' plans for the Bears' future after the club withered to no better than a divisional fourth place for the last three seasons.

Bratkowski joins the Bears exactly 15 years after Halas came up with Sid Luckman out of Columbia. There has been no one like Sid since, although such college ball-throwing heroes as Johnny Lujack, Bobby Williams and Tommy O'Connell were shoved into the breach when Luckman retired.

* * *

Zeke didn't have a bevy of receivers at Georgia last season but still completed 113 tosses in 224 attempts in 11 games for 1,461 yards.

Suspended Trainers Ask Early Hearings

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Two trainers at Hagerstown Race Track, suspended on charges of artificial stimulation of horses, have asked the Maryland Racing Commission for early hearings.

The commission announced the suspensions yesterday. It said C. P. Chenoweth of Timonium was accused of giving Loksogood, a 2 year-old filly that won the third race last Friday, a stimulant.

D. E. Mowen of Hagerstown was charged with stimulating Shilly Shally, a 6-year-old mare which won the seventh the same day but was disqualified.

TORONTO (AP) — Babe Zaharias and Peter Thomson ushered in the preliminary show Monday to the $26,500 Open golf tournament by winning their best-ball exhibition match over Betsy Rawls and Sam Snead by a two-stroke margin.

The Babe, winner of the All-American Women's title, and Thomson, British Open champion, fired a 67 over the Scarboro course where the rich 72-hole tournament gets under way Wednesday.

Thomson shot a two-under-par 69, which Snead matched. Miss Rawls had a 76 and the Babe a 72.

For the best-ball match, with a gallery of 3,000, the Thomson-Zaharias team was out in 33 and back in 32 against 32-35 for Snead and Betsy.

Cobb lives in Glenbrook, Nev., on the shore of Lake Tahoe. He was arrested by Placerville police Aug. 5 as he was on his way home. A charge of not having an operator's license was ordered dropped.

The judge said bail was forfeited because Cobb failed to show up for a hearing on the case.

Show Business

Dale Now Does Texas Proud but She Once Was Black and Blue

By EDDIE CANTOR

From an unknown secretary to a show business celebrity is a one-line history of Dale Evans, now Mrs. Roy Rogers. Instead of whistling while she worked, the Evans eyeful sang. Her boss overheard, and suggested she sing on the company's radio show.

The Texas belle instantly "Rang the bell" and went on to radio contracts in Louisville, Dallas and Chicago.

In Chicago, Dale signed for her first big night-club performance at the famous Chez Paree. Here she was spotted by a movie scout and signed for pictures.

Dale told me how she got her first role as Roy Rogers' leading lady. The casting director said her, "You're from Texas — you must be able to ride a horse." Dale assured him she'd practically been born in the saddle, but didn't tell him it had been almost that long since she'd even seen a horse!

"Eddie," she related, "I kept a couple of jumps ahead of the script by taking riding lessons—trouble was, the horse was two jumps ahead of me! All through the picture, I was scared to death they'd see how green I was—not to mention black and blue!"

Dale had to learn the role of stepmother to Roy's three children — they suffered the tragic loss of their own child — adopted a little girl and boy who needed help — and this is one couple who don't turn their children over to servants. They spend all their free time on a ranch in Encino, Calif. with the kids.

When someone asked Roy why he didn't get away by himself and relax, he said: "A man wrapped up in himself makes a very small package."

During World War II, Dale Evans and I were on a bond tour. Whether it was early in the morning or late at night, she never complained.

In San Bernardino, we ran into something more dramatic than anything you'd ever find in a movie. Dale had just finished singing when a blind man tapped his cane up the aisle and gave the person handling the bonds $150. "It's all I've got," he apologized, "but I want to help. I'm blind, but every day I see the wonders of America."

Speaker Martin Used Bell to Hurry Congress Along

WASHINGTON (UP) — What's new in Washington:

Speaker of the House Joe Martin, the world's champion gavel pounder, came up with a new gimmick to hurry the Congress along toward adjournment. He used a gavel equipped with a built-in bell. It worked fine.

Thanks to the Army, the press will get the treatment at the National Aircraft Show in Dayton, Ohio, next month. The Army will cart the ink-stained minions of the press coop to and fro in helicoptors and plop them down in front of the press tent.

Texas has done a lot for the Army's tallest soldier, Sgt. 1/C George Dismore of Ione, Cal. When George signed up he was only 6 feet, 9 inches tall. Since then he has grown two inches. Most of his Army time has been at Ft. Hood, Tex.

U.S. Army classification experts pride themselves in putting the right man in the right place. It was, threfore, only natural that when an Army chaplain asked for a replacement on his staff and found himself in charge of a man named Angel. . . . Pvt. Kenneth H. Angel of Stockton, Cal.

The lads of the National Press Club are holding their annual golf tournament today. It's always quite an affair on a handicap basis, with each man winning a prize, from trophies, golf bags down to a pack of three tees and the booby prize of a "crying towel." One year, Paul McGee, who never held a club before, had such an advantage he won the tournament from fellows who shot in the low 70. Paul had it. He never played another game. All he does is admire his silver loving cup and reflect in glory.

Army Worms Reported

ST PAUL, Minn. (AP) — State entomologist T. L. Aamodt has reported an alarming army worm infestation in south central Minnesota. Aamodt said the worms are "ferocious feeders" and damage nine times as much grain as they eat.

Hal Boyle Says:

Pair Finds No 'Problem' in Bringing Up 6 Children

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — How do you raise a child in the 20th century, which many people are beginning to regard as the century of juvenile delinquency?

I asked that question of my friend, Wyman Riley, managing editor of the Gibson publications here. He and hiw wife, Marjorie, have the problem of raising six children. How do they go about it?

"We don't think of it as a problem," said Riley. "And we don't have many set theories about it. We like children, and try to make our home so attractive they would rather spend their time there than elsewhere."

* * *

The rollcall of the Riley offspring (and the Lord only knows whether it is complete yet) is as follows: Margaret 15, Ellen 14, Brendan 9, Timothy 6, Michael 3, Sheila "going on one."

The Rileys live in a big, old-fashioned house, the kind that used to be built for large families, with plenty of yard space to play in. The house has four bathrooms, only one of which, Riley said, "is hung with my wife's clothing."

"Our home is big enough so that each kid has his own room," he said. "Each takes pride in his room and keeps it clean, and each kid has his own duties around the house."

* * *

"The older children help take care of the younger ones, and seem to like to. We are lucky in that we have two home-made baby sitters in our two older girls, and we pay them the going rate—50 cents an hour."

They are a close-knit family. Wyman and Marge both believe their main duties as parents are teach their children good manners, give them a religious upbringing, and keep them busy in a wholesome way. They say family prayers together each night, go on picnics or clam digging parties together on Sundays.

The Riley home has a television room, and eight school desks, painted a fire engine red, face the TV set—one for each child and two extra for their chums.

* * *

"We don't ration them on television," said riley. "The only rule is that they must finish their home work before they can watch it.

"Comic books aren't a worry with us. We don't have them in the house. Our children are great readers, but we started them off with good books, and now they seem to prefer them.

"Our two oldest girls are becoming interested in social activities. If they want to go to a school dance, we take them there—and we bring them home.

* * *

"There is a wading pool in the yard, and space to build tree house and play games. The children like to help Marge in her hobby—gardening. She has planted tomato vines and other vegetables around the lawn. That may sound ycraz, but—well, it looks nice."

What about movies?

"Our kids aren't particularly interested in movies," said Riley. "They don't have to go out of the home to find entertainment. They have more fun at home. They like to bring their friends home, and we encourage them to do so."

Few crises arise in the Riley

* * *

"Restricting a child to his room, or cutting down his social activity in some way is enough," Riley said. "The important thing is to explain fully to a child why he is being punished, and never to punish him until he does understand why. Then he will take it in good grace. Children have a pretty fair sense of justice.

"But exposition—explaining why one thing is right and another thing is wrong—works better than punishment. The mother sets them the example in most families, and our kids have been lucky in having the righ kind of mother.

"I guess I sound like a pretty haphazard father, but actually our six kids are too happy to be much of a problem. We all like each other, and enjoy doing things together, and I guess that's pretty much the story."

Soybeans Skid Lower Again

The September contract, which dipped the 10 cent limit yesterday, fell 5½ cents at the start and then rallied a little.

The favorable weather was an unsettling influence in wheat and corn also, and feed grains were somewhat lower. Oats held steady.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ⅝ lower, September $2.10½, corn was ⅛ to ⅜ lower, September $1.63, oats were ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, September 72⅞, rye was ¼ down to ¼ up, September $1.19½, soybeans were unchanged to 4½ cents lower, September $3.04 and lard was unchanged to 22 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $17.55.

Jeeps Acquire Additional Fame as 'Salesmen'

The famed jeep, which World War II GIs claimed could do everything but cook, now is gaining new glory as a worldwide traveling salesman of itself and its companion utility vehicles, S. A. Girard, general manager of Kaiser-Willys, reported today.

"Jeep cavalcades now are on the road as traveling salesmen in such widely scattered places as Latin America, Europe, California and New York," Girard reported. "Two more cavalcades start operations in the Midwest soon. Eventually the jeep traveling salesmen will visit 25 foreign countries in addition to every state in the U.S."

The first two cavalcades to go into action this year, a cross-country U.S. caravan which has just completed a 90-day tour of 75 major cities in 30 states and an export division cavalcade now in Ecuador after earlier visits to six other Latin American countries, already have contributed to sharp rises in domestic and export sales of the jeeps, station wagons, trucks and other vehicles in the Kaiser-Willys utility line, Girard said.

Business Briefs

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. today announced that net profits for the year ended June 30 totaled $7,031,621, compared with $6,579,948 for the year ended June 30, 1953. Operating revenues increased from $82,890,855 in the previous year to $84,584,242 in the 12 months ended June 30.

Wards Automotive Reports said today Pontiac Motor Division produced 6,300 cars last week, compared with 6,097 in the previous week. GMC Truck and Coach Division's output last week stood at 1,075. It built 1,041 vehicles in the previous week.

Market Slumps but Pace Steady

Because of the moderate volume of business, no pressures developed in any area. The pace was around two million shares.

Losses in some instances went to between 1 and 2 points. However, most were small. Gainers were not spectacular by any means.

Aircrafts, which were buoyant yesterday, were neglected today and largely lower.

Steels slumped, and other major divisions losing ground included railroads, oils, coppers, chemicals, and utilities. Others were mixed to steady.

Montgomery Ward, up 5 points yesterday on proxy fight rumors, dropped away today around a point after opening of 3,000 shares off ⅝ at 78⅞.

Also lower were U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Boeing, Republic Aviation, American Telephone, Western Union, Kennecott Copper, Union Carbide, American Can, Celanese, General Mills, Atlantic Coast Line, Shell Oil, and Cities Service.

Bus Driver Quits, Gets Weary of Dumb Riders

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—The bus was plainly marked "North Meridian Express," but passengers kept buzzing to get off near North Side stops.

At 20th Street, he stopped, turned to the passengers and announced, "I guess this is as good a time as any to quit." He picked up his coin changer and walked off the bus, leaving the astounded passengers to change to later buses.

Indianapolis Transit System said the driver quit because he was "fed up." His name wasn't announced.

Dies After 2-Car Crash

NANKING TOWNSHIP (INS)—Charles E. Dahlstrom, 36, died early today in Wayne County General Hospital of injuries received Aug. 13 in a two-car collision in Nanking Township, which took the life of another person and injured five others.

Gelatin and glue are closely related substances.

Black and White Still Quite New

Factor May Hold Off Swing to Spectrum for Awhile

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (UP) — Experts are beginning to speculate on how long it will take before owning a color TV set is as popular as owning a black and white receiver.

They recall that it was eight years after the TV revival following the war before 30 million black and white sets had been sold. They are not certain yet whether public enthusiasm will make color sets move as fast, assuming they could be manufactured at that speed.

First black and white sets were high in price by present market standards, but nothing like the price of color. After the war you could get a good black and white set with a small screen for $375 plus $50 or so for installation and a service contract.

Availability of color shows being the real incentive, both NBC and CBS are spending millions in special programs. The two networks expect to have at least three or four color shows a week between them before fall is well under way. Both have manufacturing associates in the receiver field.

But not all sections of the country are as color conscious as the big cities. In many areas black and white TV is so brand new that little or no attention is being paid to color.

This will be a significant factor in any swing to color, and may for a time have a dampening effect.

$1,200 in Wishing Well at Detroit Art Institute

DETROIT (UP)—Workmen cleaned out a wishing well at the Detroit Institute of Arts yesterday and found $1,206.07 in small change.

The well was placed in the lobby several years ago when Institutes officials sought to discourage visitors from tossing pennies in a fountain exhibit. The pennies clogged the fountain and resulted in high repair bills.

The money will be used to purchase new exhibits for the museum.

Postal Supervisors Seek End to Oversize Cards

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) If postal supervisors have their way, there won't be any more of those oversize or undersize postcards going through the mails.

The National Assn. of Postal Supervisors, at the opening of their 34th convention yesterday, adopted a resolution urging the Post Office Department to request all greeting card manufacturers to produce only a standard size.

In State Fair Act

Four Pontiac youngsters, members of a tumbling act, are scheduled to take part in the show "Dancing Feet" which will be presented by the Bill Wilson School of Dance at the Michigan State Fair on Sept. 7 and Sept. 12. The children are Yvonne Sadler, 75 S. Edith St.; Marie Davis, 100 Alice Ave., Sue Clarke, 173 S. Shirley St.; and Barbara Ardelin, 124 Kemp St.

CLOWNING COUPLE—Helen Traubel, recently signed as a TV contract star, clowns with Red Skelton. Appearance on his show will be the first of her performances under the new contract.

Billy Graham Says Spiritual Change Due

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said here yesterday that "you can talk to man about God a lot easier now than ever before" and he predicted a "spiritual change is coming" in the United States.

"We're lacking in spiritual power, we're fumbling the ball at the finest hours. We have a drought of spiritual powers but the rains are coming, and I pray to God that they will not be too late," Graham said.

Last night he told Nashvillians that "pride is the sin that God hates most — pride is a stumbling block . . . that little sin keeps more people out of the Kingdom of God than any other sin."

Thundershowers caused the second meeting of his month-long crusade to be held in the new Memorial Gymnasium here instead of Vanderbilt Stadium. About 8,000 persons attended the service.

City Official Tells Officers to Keep Feet on Ground

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (UP)—City Manager Robert E. Layton wants policemen here to keep their feet on the ground. He ordered officers in police cruisers to stop using the dashboards of the cars as foot rests.

* * *

Among other things, he banned "mooching" of food and drinks from stores and restaurants. Along with a "dress up" order he furnished police headquarters with a large mirror.

* * *

To forestall any headaches from all the new regulations, Layton directed the chief of police to keep aspirin available at all times.

Shoots 2 Utility Wires

SARGENT, Minn. (UP) — Theodore Knutson, the village banker, got his rifle and shot down two sputtering utility wires to prevent a possible fire, after they had been shorted by a falling tree during a storm.

Studies of the abundance of rabbits indicate that they reach peak numbers at intervals of about 8½ years.

Sea Scouts Plan Reunion

A reunion of former members of the Sea Scout ship S. S. Oneida will be held at the cottage of Dr. Leon F. Cob at Voorheis Lake next Sunday afternoon. The group is sponsored by the Congregational Church.

Boy Born on Board Navy Ship in Pacific

It docked yesterday with 830 aboard.

The 830th was James Richard Davis, born two months prematurely to the Japanese wife of Pvt. Ikie J. Davis, 23, of Woodland, Calif., two days out of Yokohama.

Mother, son and father were good sailors.

Philippines Objects to British Proposals

MANILA (UP)—The Phillipines objects to British-sponsored amendments to the treaty for a collective security pact in Southeast Asia, a Foreign Office official said today.

The British suggestions were received over the weekend from Washington. Representatives of the eight nations to participate in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization conference here Sept. 6 are trying to iron out a draft charter in the U.S. capital.

The official said the latest draft, incorporating the British proposals, does not envisage as elaborate a defense organization as the Philippines and Thailand would like. It would provide only for "mutual consultation" in case of aggression, he said.

Do-It-Yourself Writer Carries Ideas Too Far

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Connie James, television actress and model, thinks her husband carried the do-it-yourself fad too far.

When she asked $12.50 for a hair-do, he said he'd do the job himself—after he learned how, the 20-year-old actress charged yesterday in a complaint for separate maintenance.

She asked her husband, Steve Ellingson, 43, who writes a do-it-yourself column for 400 newspapers, to pay her $900 monthly from earnings which she estimated at $5,000 a month. His property holdings, the complaint said, are worth $100,000.

Ellingson accused her of "intolerable extravagance" when she brought home a 97-cent house plant, and paid only half the check after inviting her parents to dinner, she charged.

Nevada Quake Buckles Road

Second One in 2 Months Causes Bricks to Fall in Lovelock

RENO (AP)—Nevada suffered its second strong earthquake in two months late last night. No casualties were reported.

The road to Stillwater, 16 miles east of Fallon, was reported so badly buckled that it was impassable. Stillwater residents reported they were badly shaken.

The University of California assistant seismologist, W. C. Marion, said the shock had a Richter magnitude of "about 6"—almost as strong as the July 6 Fallon quake—and was centered "about 250 miles northeast of Berkeley, Calif." That would put it about 30 miles north of Reno on the Nevada side of the lofty Sierra Nevada Range.

The time was 10:52:14 p.m., PDT.

The quake was felt eastward to Salt Lake City, westward to the San Francisco Bay area and north to Boise, Idaho.

Lovelock Police Officer Gordon Richardson said buildings in the downtown section were cracked and the Lovelock Mercantile Building suffered such severe damage it will probably have to be torn down.

Strip Carrier Roosevelt of Old Armor Plating

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—Workers were stripping seven million pounds of armor from the 45,000-ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt today, preparing to give the FDR a new suit of armor.

The Navy said, without giving details, that a new type antitorpedo blister to be installed around the FDR's hull possibly will make less armor necessary.

Airline Pilots Go Back to Job

Flying Time Dispute in Hands of Arbitrator After 25 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines planes take to the air at midnight tonight for the first time in 25 days under a "truce" agreement between the company and its pilots, who struck over flying longer than eight hours at a stretch.

The announcement was made jointly last night by A. Ditipasquale, labor relations director of American, and Clarence N. Sayen, president of the AFL Air Line Pilots Assn. Sayen termed the agreement a "truce," pending recommendations of arbitrator David L. Cole of Paterson, N.J.

Key to the walkout's end was agreement to submit the central flights lasting more than eight hours—to a neutral arbitrator.

Cole's decision will not be binding. Sayen said the pilots would be free to strike again.

The union has demanded that the westbound flights be broken with a stopover and crew change. Eastbound transcontinental flights usually take less than eight hours because prevailing winds are with them.

The announcement last night said the pilots had agreed to continue flying nonstop westbound cross-continent flights over eight hours without crew change while Cole studied the dispute.

Muskegon Starts Drive for Water Transportation

MUSKEGON (AP) — The greater Muskegon Chamber of Commerce has started a campaign to advertise the advantages of water transportation through the Port of Muskegon with the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

More than $10,000 in pledges have been obtained in a drive for a $13,000 community advertising fund. The Muskegon City Commission Monday appropriated $500 for the fund.

Deputies Credit Youth With Saving 3 Lives

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Sheriff's deputies Tuesday credited 17-year-old William Green of Traverse City with helping to save the lives of three other teen-agers injured in an automobile accident Monday.
