County Salk Clinics Are Postponed

Lack of Vaccine to Force Delay in Shots Here

Salk Serum Shipments Expected in Time for Saturday's Program

Because of a Salk vaccine shortage, 7,000 first and second grade youngsters in 14 Oakland County areas will not get their second polio-preventing shots tomorrow and Wednesday, as originally scheduled.

Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, today said the vaccine shortage also would temporarily delay the giving of booster inoculations to 2,500 youngsters in the same areas who received the vaccine in last year's tests.

Dr. Monroe said he hoped the second and booster shots could be given next week. He assured parents a week's delay would not lessen the value of the series.

SHIPMENTS EXPECTED

Expected shipments of the vaccine should permit the carrying out of clinics set for this Saturday, he said.

A total of 12,784 shots are scheduled to be given to children in Farmington, Clawson, Berkley, Hazel Park, Royal Oak and Oak Park this weekend. These include second shots and boosters.

Shots were to be administered tomorrow and Wednesday at the following schools:

Rochester, Avondale - Hickory Grove, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Carver, Clarenceville, Holly, Huron Valley-Dublin, Walled Lake, Madison, Orion-Oxford, Ortonville, South Lyon-Novi and Troy.

"There probably will be a week's delay on these shots, depending on how soon more vaccine is released," Dr. Monroe said. "There will be no harm done."

FIRST SHOTS GIVEN

The health director reported that between 8,500 and 9,000 youngsters got their first Salk shots Saturday at clinics in Pontiac, Birmingham, Waterford Township, Southfield Township and Ferndale.

More than 25,000 shots have been given in the county in the last 26 days, he said.

In Washington, meantime, Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby prepared to deliver to President Eisenhower a full report on the inoculation program, with possible recommendations for federal action.

MANUFACTURERS OKAYED

Two polio vaccine manufacturers this weekend got the stamp of approval from Public Health Service inspectors, with a third to be safety double-checked this week.

Given governmental approval were Parke, Davis & Co., of Detroit, and Eli Lilly & Co., of Indianapolis.

25 Card Players Jailed on Tips From Irate Wife

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sgt. Vincent Serio of the Baltimore vice squad got a call from a woman who told him her husband was spending all his money in poker games and she was starving as a result.

Where was he? asked the sergeant.

She gave him an address, and he dispatched two patrolmen to the spot. They broke up a card game, hauled six men to jail.

But the phone rang again. "You didn't get him," said the same voice. She explained she had learned that her husband had floated from the game before the police got there. She gave Serio a new address.

Off went the vice squad again. They broke up two games, took in nine players.

But the phone rang again. Same woman, same complaint, new address.

The next call brought in 13 more sporting gentlemen. It made a grand total of 25 players arrested in five card games.

The woman never did give the police her name, but Serio figures they got her husband in the last haul. She didn't call back.

Groundkeeper Honored Sunday at Cranbrook

In a way, you might say Michael Vettraino is a "founder" of Cranbrook.

Each year a Sunday in May is set aside as Founders Day to honor the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth for establishing the cultural center in suburban Bloomfield Hills.

Booth and his wife turned their estate into the six institutions of the Cranbrook Foundation.

It was on May Day, 1905, that a young Italian immigrant arrived to be groundkeeper. He was Vettraino, now a graying 70, who yesterday was the center of attraction.

George Booth once wrote: "Plant! And do good to one of 50 years hence." Vettraino became the chief planter as head of Cranbrook's landscape staff.

When they honored Vettraino yesterday, Henry S. Booth, a son of the founder and chairman of the Cranbrook Foundation, said:

"We acknowledge a debt to his native Italy, his affection for the world of growing things, his quest for beauty, his tireless hands and feet, and the part he has played as one of many founders of the Cranbrook of today."

As far as anyone heard, Mike Vettraino said only, "Thank you." But his handiwork spoke for him.

Ike, Mamie Just 'Folks' in Town

Gettysburg Discovers President, Wife Take Part in Community

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower are taking part in community life at Gettysburg, Pa., in a way that delights the townsfolk.

The role they have played since recent completion of their new country home there is a restricted sort of thing, of course. In Gettysburg, though, they are getting around and becoming acquainted with many people whom they probably will learn to know much better when the President and his wife retire to their farm.

The President has given no indication whether he will seek a second term. But it's easy to see that he and Mrs. Eisenhower are taking more and more interest in their new home and in the community.

Yesterday the Eisenhowers, regular churchgoers in Washington, attended services for the first time in Gettysburg.

They worshiped at a vine-covered Presbyterian church where Abraham Lincoln attended a patriotic service a few hours after delivering his Gettysburg Address Nov. 19, 1863.

It was Mrs. Eisenhower's second appearance in downtown Gettysburg in four days. Last Thursday, there were surprised cries of "There's Mamie" when she shopped at a grocery store and 5 and 10.

When Girl Says 'Yes' All Traffic Pauses

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Jess Blowers' girl said "Yes" when he proposed yesterday while driving. He jammed on the brakes and they went into a prolonged clinch at a major intersection while unromantic motorists honked and shouted.

Policeman Bland Watkins, when he heard Blowers' explanation for the traffic holdup, offered his congratulations — and a ticket for failing to observe traffic signals.

BIE Day first originated in Michigan nine years ago. It is estimated that 300,000 teachers have participated in these tours of 36,076 businesses in 693 communities.

Innovations of the idea in Pontiac have had businessmen as guests of the schools and students visiting business and industry.

State Returns County Taxes

Oakland Slated to Get $1,235,485; City Share Is $259,396

Oakland County will receive $1,235,485 from the state in returned gas and weight taxes collected during the first quarter of 1955, Michigan Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announced today.

Pontiac's return will be $259,396, said Ziegler.

Total state collections for the past four months were $60,983,824 an increase of $3,371,913 over first-quarter 1954.

All the gas and weight money is lumped in the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund created in 1951. After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the remaining cash will be distributed as follows:

Some 44 per cent to the State Highway Department for expenditure on state trunklines in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent to the counties for improving county roads and 19 per cent to cities and incorporated villages.

Thus, from first-quarter money, the Highway Department will get $26,832,882; the counties, $22,564,015; and the cities and villages, $11,586,927.

A deduction of $250,000 will be made from the counties' total toward repayment of a previous loan to them from the state.

The return to Lapeer County will be $189,813. The amounts individual Oakland County communities will receive are listed on page 2.

Jubilant Austria Marks Signing of Big-4 Treaty

Night-Long Festivities Held in Celebration of New Sovereignty

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Jubilant Austria celebrated into the dawn today the Big Four signing of the historic treaty pledging her freedom after 17 years of hot and cold war.

Church bells pealed across the land as millions rejoiced. The pact makes Austria a sovereign state for the first time since Hitler annexed her to Nazi Germany in March 1938.

Within 90 days after the treaty is ratified by the Big Four and Austria, some 70,000 troops of the United States, Russia, Britain and France will pull out and Austria's freedom will become a final reality.

Amid all the revelry, there was an undercurrent of uneasiness over the little country's economic future. It was feared particularly that heavy payments to Russia might upset the economic stability attained with U. S. help during the 10 years of the Big Four occupation.

There was also the realization that a series of economic crises might drive this central European country, pledged to neutrality, into Russian hands.

WALTZ IN RAIN

Such disturbing thoughts and a drizzling rain did little to dampen the long-awaited celebration.

The bells and waltzes were set off yesterday when Russia's V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, Secretary of State Dulles, France's Antoine Pinay and Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl signed the thick, leather-bound treaty promised Austria as far back as 1943.

A few minutes after the signing, cheers of 18,000 Austrians welled up from the streets outside Vienna's historic Belvedere Palace, where the ceremony took place.

The great bell of 700-year-old St. Stephen's Cathedral pealed the joyous news. Churches throughout the Alpine country took up the call.

Later thousands went to the square in front of St. Stephen's for a mass conducted by Theodor Cardinal Innitzer. Others waltzed in Vienna's rain-drenched Ringstrasse to the music of street-corner bands.

Cooler and Cloudy Weather Outlook

Increasing cloudiness and cooler temperatures are predicted for tonight, with a low of 40-44 degrees seen by the weatherman.

Tomorrow, it's to be cloudy and cooler with occasional light showers. High is to be 60-64, low tomorrow night, 38-42.

Sunday, the mercury hit 78 degrees in Pontiac. At 8 a.m. today, the downtown temperature was 63 degrees. By 2 p.m., it had risen to 77 degrees.

GREETINGS FROM IKE — Ellery J. Potter of Homer (Mich.) holds his favorite birthday card, which he received from President Eisenhower. Potter, who'll have his 100th birthday Tuesday, will be honored at a party sponsored by the Homer Masonic Lodge of which he is a lifetime member.

Red Bloc Nations United in New Military Command

WARSAW, Poland — The Soviet Union and seven East European Communist states set up a unified military command today to counter the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Soviet Marshal Ivan Konev was made supreme commander, with headquarters in Moscow.

The eight allies signed a 20-year mutual security and friendship treaty and a protocol grouping their military forces under a single command. Konev, the deputy Soviet defense minister, has been a Communist party member for 37 years.

PREMIERS SIGN

The treaty ceremonies took place in a white and marble hall of Poland's Parliament building. Premiers of the eight nations — the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Albania and East Germany —signed the documents.

Later, nearly 100,000 cheering residents of Warsaw jammed into Tzierdzinsky Square and heard top Communist leaders hail the new treaty as "a move for world peace."

Premier Nikolai Bulganin of the Soviet Union declared the Paris accords rearming West Germany sponsored "a new and dangerous militarism."

"We want peace," he cried, "but we will defend our countries by all means."

The loudest cheers and applause came when Bulganin told the crowd of Konev's appointment as supreme commander. He reminded the crowd that it was Konev who led the armies which liberated much of Poland from the Nazis.

Western diplomats believe the Russians have been in over-all command of their satellites' armed forces for some time and that today's Warsaw action does not change the existing situation.

Arthur Godfrey Speaks His Mind in Press Series

Arthur Godfrey enters American living rooms via TV and radio, but few people know the real man behind the wide grin or the friendly, personal voice.

Now Godfrey has talked fully, freely and frankly to reporter Charles P. Arnot . . . about the "firing" of Julius La Rosa . . . about the bitter personal price he pays for being in the public eye . . .

City Welcomes Fife Lake Man as Mayor Today

Robert B. Kimball, president of Fife Lake, a small Northern Michigan resort community, today visited Pontiac as part of the statewide exchange of mayors, a feature of Michigan Week.

Meanwhile, Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson was scheduled to enjoy a day of visiting and fishing at Fife Lake, located between Cadillac and Traverse City.

Accompanying Kimball here were Councilman George Cox and the two officials' wives.

The visitors' agenda called for a tour of the new City Hall, lunch at a downtown hotel, a trip through the Pontiac Motor Division plant and a motor tour of the city, including visits to new home construction projects, parks and the sewage treatment plant.

Approximately 368 Michigan communities are switching mayors and village presidents this year. Included are 24 Oakland County cities.

Mayors traveling the furthest to exchange will be the heads of Oakland County's Wolverine Lake and Ironwood, 575 miles apart.

It's Michigan Week!

DETROIT (AP)—This is Michigan Week and the slogan is: "I'm glad I live in Michigan."

Today all the cities exchanged mayors to get better acquainted. Tomorrow will be hospitality day.

Administration Proposes Spending $28 Million for Free Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today proposed a 28 million dollar federal fund to help the states provide polio vaccine for children in low income families.

This was one of 11 recommendations submitted by Secretary of Welfare Hobby to President Eisenhower. The White House said Eisenhower approved the report and endorsed the recommendations.

The aid-to-states program would become effective after the completion of the free immunization program now being conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Foundation's program applies to children in the first and second grades.

The administration's proposed federal fund contemplates an immunization program for all Americans through the age of 19.

The administration also proposed an additional two million dollars for extra inspectors and technicians in the Public Health Service "to insure maximum precautions in continued testing of the vaccine for safety and potency."

Resisting demands in Congress for government allocation of the now scarce vaccine, Mrs. Hobby and her advisers said they are convinced "the most effective and equitable distribution of the vaccine will be accomplished through the voluntary cooperation of all concerned, within the framework of existing law."

No other kind of distribution, Mrs. Hobby said, "can be mobilized quickly enough to be effective during a brief period of shortage."

She stressed her view that the present voluntary system, which leaves distribution of vaccine to the states, "will get the vaccine to the children who need it most with the greatest speed, fairness and effectiveness."

The nationwide vaccination program itself, temporarily halted a week ago pending new safety checks, was slowly getting under way again with vaccine from two laboratories already freed for use.

The U. S. Public Health Service yesterday approved all supplies shipped by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis. This raised to about 1,400,000 shots of the vaccine recleared since the safety recheck was started. On Friday, it approved principal shipments by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

Mrs. Hobby presented her report in an hour-long meeting with the President. She made no reply to congressional criticism, mainly from Democrats, who have charged the administration with "bungling" the program—both in failing to provide government distribution and to set up adequate safety standards.

Committee OKs New Road Bill

$432 Million Is State's Share of Funds Under Substitute Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan would receive $432,300,000 for new highway construction over a 5-year period under the Gore bill which the Senate Public Works Committee has substituted for President Eisenhower's proposed 10-year program.

The bill, by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), would provide 12¼ billion dollars in federal money for five years. Some Republican senators have attacked it as an effort "to sabotage the President."

The Senate committee approved the Gore bill last week by an 8-5 vote, substituting it for the 38-billion dollar, 10-year Eisenhower program.

In addition to the more than 12 billion in federal aid, the Gore bill would call for state expenditures boosting the total spending for roads over the five year period to $17,941,000,000.

Under the administration proposal about 26 billions, including 25 billion in federal money would be alloted for interstate highway building over ten years. A bond issue—most controversial feature of the plan—would be used to raise 21 billions of the money.

The Gore plan proposes spending $8,616,000,000 in federal-state money on interstate highways in five years on a gradually increasing basis. The total would include $7,750,000,000 in federal funds.

Michigan's share of the federal money under the Gore bill would include $30,800,000 for primary, secondary and urban roads and $298,300,000 for the interstate highway network.

Parents at Kids' Party First in Line to Say Howdy to Davy (Parker) Crockett

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Davy Crockett, one of America's oldest yet newest heroes, came face to face with the small fry for the first time over the weekend.

It was quite an experience for both.

Fess Parker, 6-foot-5 Texan who plays the hero of the Alamo on television, was a surprise guest at a birthday party given by Mr. and Mrs. Red Skelton for their two children, Valentina, 8, and Richard, 7.

Mrs. Skelton had invited Parker. "It was the only way I could get Red to stay—tell him Davy Crockett was coming," she said.

Parker hadn't been in the house five minutes until Skelton had him autograph a mug upon which was inscribed: "Davy Crockett's mountain dew."

The lanky actor came dressed in his Crockett buckskins and brought along his musket and guitar and his sidekick George Russel (Buddy Ebsen). Davy allowed as how it was his first appearance before a group of younguns.

More than 50 kids, many of them children of celebrities, clamored to shake the hand of Parker.

"But," said Skelton, "it was like the electric train at Christmas—the kids couldn't get to Crockett because of the parents."

When the kids finally got to him, the most asked question was: "How come you're not dead?"

Parker had a hard time convincing some of the younger children that he wasn't the real Davy Crockett.

First question asked Ebsen came from Skelton's son.

"Hey, Russel, how come you kissed Davy Crockett's wife?"

Ebsen answered that with: "Didn't you guys get a good look at her?" The role was played by pretty Helene Stanley.

Parker and Ebsen, of course, sang "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" but only knew the first ten verses. The kids all knew the other ten.

2 MIGs Chased by Nationalists

Red Chinese Planes Make Second Foray Near Matsus

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist MIG jets today made their second appearance in two days near the Matsus and clashed with Nationalist propeller planes, the air force announced.

Two MIGs bearing down from the north swept to within 20 miles of the islands at the north end of Formosa Strait, headquarters said. This was the closest approach Red Chinese jets have made to the Matsus.

The air force said two propeller planes challenged the faster MIGs at 12,000 feet. The MIGs made three passes at the Nationalists in an 11-minute dog fight, a communique said.

There was no claim the MIGs were damaged and the communique said the Nationalist planes returned safely to base.

Only yesterday, four MIGs tangled with four Nationalist Thunderjets. It was the first time Nationalist jets had met MIGs in combat.

The communique said the fact the battle area was close to the Matsus "indicates that enemy air power has gradualy moved down south." For several weeks there have been reports here of a build-up of Red air power in south China nearer Formosa.

The communique said the Thunderjets met two MIGs flying eastward at 21,000 feet over the Taishan Islands near the Matsus. The Matsus are 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

They exchanged fire for five minutes. Then two other MIGs joined the fight. The fight lasted 10 minutes in all. The air force said all Thunderjets returned safely.

There was no official confirmation of reports that the Nationalist jets were flying cover for warships assigned to shell the Red-held Taishans.

Medical Plan Studied

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—The American Medical Assn. has been studying a Montana physician-patient grievance program as a possible pattern for wider use. The Montana Medical Assn. set up a grievance committee to hear patients' complaints. Dr. Harold W. Pontiac Diver Aids Search for Drowning Victim

A team of Navy diving experts in Albany, Ga., Sunday located the body of a Navy lieutenant "right next" to a guide rope he had used in exploring an underwater cave with an electronics technician of Pontiac.

The diving team searched all night before they located the body of Lt. Murray Anderson, 28, of Fort Valley, Ga., a veteran skin diver. A coroner's jury, according to authorities there, was expected to investigate Anderson's death.

"They found him right next to the rope," said Anderson's mate Donald R. Gerue, 24, of Pontiac, with the Macon, Ga., naval reserve unit.

Gerue said he dived repeatedly in search for Anderson but finally became exhausted. Both men had been exploring the famed Radium Springs and an uncharted cavern they discovered 70 feet below the surface.

"I was coming out of the cave when he was coming in," said Gerue. "I had gone down to release the guide line and was getting ready to go home."

Hospital officials gave the babies joined at the chest, "one chance in 100,000 to survive."

The mother, Mrs. Nona Herring, was said to be in "good" condition.

The hospital said the twins, weighing a total of 12 pounds 14 ounces, were normal in every respect except for the joining. Preliminary X-rays indicated they had separate chests.

Senate Group Studying Governor's Mansion Bill

A Senate committee is now considering a bill aimed at providing Michigan with a governor's mansion which was introduced by Pontiac's State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson (D).

The measure establishing a Michigan Executive Residence Planning Commission passed the house last week.

If given Senate approval, the commission would launch a public-subscription campaign to obtain money for planning and constructing the executive residence. The state has no such building at present.

Rifle Bullet Grazes Pair Riding in Car

Two men driving in Royal Oak early today were barely missed by a rifle bullet fired from another car.

Police said the bullet smashed the window alongside Troy Boyle and whizzed past the driver, Harold L. Duncan, before embedding itself in the car's center post.

Both men said they thought the shot was fired accidentally by two boys playing with the rifle in a second car. They made no effort to catch the other car.

15,850 Autos Inspected Here in Safety Drive

With aid from members of the Pontiac Auto Dealers Assn., the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee today reported that 15,850 cars were checked during vehicle maintenance week here.

The annual inspection program which ended Saturday showed a record total over the past three years, reported Clyle R. Haskill, committee chairman.

Although the inspections closed in the city's five reserved lanes, announced Haskill, some 70 association garages and filling stations will continue the inspections for the rest of the month.

The committee had hoped to process 20,000 cars this year in a week's time, as compared with 10,000 autos during the entire month of May last year.

Some 14,600 green "OK" safety stickers were issued so far in the campaign. Leading the list of safety defects were brakes and rear and front lights.

This year's program also was aided by various service and civic groups in Pontiac and the Police Dept.

Royal Oak Girl Raped Going Home After Show

A 15-year-old girl was criminally assaulted last night as she was returning to her Royal Oak Township home from a neighborhood theater.

The girl told police she had just said goodnight to a girl friend when a man grabbed her and forced her into his car at the point of a switchblade knife.

Postpone Health Meet for Polio Vaccination

The convention, listed May 18-20, has been rescheduled Oct. 6-8 in Grand Rapids.

Russia Agrees to Big-4 Talks

Molotov Accepts Allies' Invitation to Bulganin at Vienna Meeting

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) —Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov accepted the West's invitation to Bulganin late Saturday night.

In a 13-minute speech yesterday at the signing of the Austrian treaty, he indicated the Russians in the coming high-level meetings will demand as their price for German reunification the same neutrality they exacted of Austria —a pledge not to join any foreign alliances and not to allow foreign military bases.

He said the Soviets would continue to seek "ways for a peaceful and democratic settlement of the German question which would correspond to the legitimate efforts of the German people for re-establishing their unity without reviving their militarism."

Few Allied statesmen here believed the Soviets have changed their long-term aims. They consider the agreements reached with the Soviet result from Russia's desire to seek at least a limited reconciliation in international affairs.

The theory is that internal economic difficulties, especially in agriculture, are mounting, and the Soviet program of aid to Communist China also is straining the Red motherland.

Dulles to Report on NATO Meeting Over TV Tuesday

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles will make a television report to the nation Tuesday night on the recent NATO meeting in Paris, the signing of the Austrian treaty and the proposed Big Four meeting.

The White House made the announcement today. It said the telecast, with delayed radio broadcasts, will be made from President Eisenhower's office with several Cabinet and other administration leaders present.

Narcotics Men Nab Three Here

2 Waive Examination, Third Still Held for Investigation

Two of three men who had been held by Pontiac Police vice squad detectives today waived examination on narcotics charges and the third man was still held for investigation of illegal use of heroin.

Held under $500 bonds each in the Oakland County Jail, Fabian Gonzales, 22, of 38 W. Wilson Ave. and Gillermo J. Garcia, 20, of 506 Midway St., were ordered by Municipal Judge Maurice J. Finnegan to appear for circuit court arraignment Monday.

Detective Sgt. Raymond Meggitt, in charge of the investigation, and Detective Herbert C. Cooley arrested the pair and Modesto Bueno, 29, of San Antonio, after receiving a call from a druggist that the trio had bought a needle the second time within a week at his store.

Police said Garcia and Gonzales admitted taking heroin.

Meggitt said a permanent tattoo on one of Gonzales' hands was the mark of a West Coast gang, the Pachuco.

"This is the first we have had to deal wtih a member of the Pachuco gang," said Meggitt. "However, he disclaims any connection with the group."

Gonzales told both officers he obtained the mark while in service. Meggitt, who praised the pharmacist's cooperation with police, said the three men had lived in San Antonio recently.

Bloomfield Hills Will Act on School Expansion Plan

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — School Superintendent Eugene L. Johnson said today "definite" action would be taken by the Board of Education Tuesday on a school expansion program recommended by a Michigan State College survey committee.

Immediate action on the initial phase of the long-range program, including a $155,000 addition to the Wing Lake School and construction of a $275,000 elementary school, will be recommended, Johnson said.

"We will take definite action on the first step of these recommendations tomorrow with a strong possibility of going into a special bond election in July." Estimated cost of the first part of the program would run $758,000 to $800,000, he said.

The recommendations were made by the MSC survey committee, employed by the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education, after a six months study of all phases of the Hills education program.

FIRST STEPS OUTLINED

Basing its recommendations on a "conservative 15-year forecast" of a population of 23,500, the committee suggested action on the first step of the program. It would include:

1. Purchase of land for four elementary schools and a junior high school. Estimated cost: $125,000 - $150,000.

2. Construction of an elementary school at one of the sites. Estimated cost: $275,000.

3. Addition of eight classrooms to Wing Lake School plus addition of one kindergarten. Estimated cost: $155,000.

4. Renovation of Vaughan school to include redecoration, converting ground floor classrooms to three classrooms and a storage area. Estimated cost: $135,000-$150,000.

5. Development of secondary school site (now under construction) and purchase of equipment for the school. Estimated cost: $168,000.

The committee pointed out in its report the increased school budget is due to "the larger area, smaller density of population (19 square miles of land area and an average of 1,500 people per square mile), larger number of schools per number of children, the special services provided."

PER CHILD COST LOWER

The total yearly operating costs for education in the Bloomfield Hills School District have increased from $107.829 in 1949-50 to $251,792 in the 1953-54 school year. The report said, however, that increased "efficiency in management" has reduced the cost per child from $293.01 in 1949-50 to $238.44 in the 1953-54 school year.

A hike in teachers' salaries also was recommended in the report. Approximately 70 per cent of the Bloomfield Hills budget is being used for instructional purposes compared with a 72.9 per cent average of city school systems.

"As Bloomfield Hills is the wealthiest district in the county (taxable wealth estimated at around the $20,000-$22,000 figure per child), there is every indication that it should take leadership in the county in providing an outstanding teachers' salary schedule," the report said.

At present the district's pay scale for teachers ranks sixth in the county.

Bid to Drop Kidnap Charges Is Denied

A motion for a directed verdict of innocent of kidnaping was denied Friday by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland in the trial of four men accused of abducting and raping a Pontiac housewife last March 6.

The motion was made by defense attorney William Brusstar, of Detroit. It was incorrectly stated in Saturday's edition of the Pontiac Press that the motion was for a directed verdict of guilty of kidnaping.

The men are charged with both kidnaping and rape. If the judge had agreed, the abduction charge would have been dropped, and the quartet tried only for rape.

The trial will resume tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. Accused are Oscar Chavers, 26, of Gary, Ind., his brother, Richard, 23, of 38 Lake St., Joe Williams Jr., 22, of 38 Lake and Winston Johnston, 25, of 312 Hughes St.

Order Autopsy in Boy's Death

Detroit Youngster Dies After Paddling by His Foster Mother

DETROIT (AP)—An autopsy was ordered today in the death of a 6-year-old boy who died after being paddled by his foster mother.

Police said there was no immediate indication that the spanking and the boy's death were related.

The dead boy was Robert Szabo. He was taken from his parents three years ago by Probate Court and placed in the foster home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Jacques. Jacques, 30, is a Detroit policeman.

Police said the "evidence at hand was not sufficient to hold" Jacues' wife Rosemary, 31.

She was quoted by police as saying she spanked the boy twice Saturday with a three-quarter-inch-thick paddle. He later fell into what appeared to be a coma and was dead at 5:30 a.m. yesterday, she said.

The British Museum has a carving, dated B.C. 700, which shows an Assyian king leading troops into battle while carrying an umbrella.

Killed on Shrimp Boat

ARANSAS PASS, Tex. (AP)—Warner Hampton, 29, was killed when his leg became entangled in a net line on a shrimp boat yesterday. Other crewmen on the shrimper Nicke out of Galveston were unaware of his disappearance for about 15 minutes. When the "lazy line," a rope tied to the mouth of the shrimp net, was pulled in, Hampton's body was found attached to it.

Birmingham Choir Will Present Concert Next Wednesday at School

ROCHESTER—A 90-minute concert of classical, sacred and popular music will be presented by the Boy Choir of Holy Name Parish, Birmingham, Wednesday evening in the Rochester High School auditorium.

The program is sponsored by the St. Andrew's Booster Club, and proceeds will be used by the parochial school building fund.

The choir, consisting of boys from 10 to 14, has earned a reputation for being one of the outstanding musical groups of its kind in the country.

Besides several television appearances, they have presented numerous concerts in the area.

The choir is under the direction of Gilbert Gervais, who, like his choir boys, got an early start in music. He was assistant organist at the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak, at the age of 12.

Included in the program in addition to the sacred selections, are a ceremony of carols, excerpts from the Mozart opera "Bastien and Bastienna," and several popular selections.

School Lunch Price Reduced at Romeo

ROMEO—The Board of Education of the Romeo Schools recently approved lowering the cost of hot lunches from 30c to 25c, effective today.

Reason for the move were efficient operation of the lunch program, increased assistance from the federal government, and a bigger supply of surplus food distributed to schools.

Two 60 passenger buses, a new one and a replacement, were purchased from low bidder Ray Dembowski of Romeo. The board also adopted a resolution officially scheduling the annual school board election and annual meeting for June 13.

The chief custodian and three assistants were authorized to attend the custodians conference at MSC, June 29-30 and July 1.

science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

So you like sweets, candy, cake, butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why...

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but all the recognized proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories, yet expands when it absorbs water, thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

Presidential Box Score Better Than It Looks

In examining President Eisenhower's box score in Congress at this midsession point, it should be emphasized that it is far better than it looks.

"So far," says Congressional Quarterly, "Congress has approved 13.7 per cent of the President's program." Another 44.3 per cent, however, has progressed part way through the legislative mill.

As of May 8, Congress had approved 25 of 183 Eisenhower requests with only one rejected. Twenty-four were on their way toward passage — 12 passed by one House and 12 awaiting floor action after committee clearance. Another 52 had gone through the committee hearing stage.

Eight items on the President's program had suffered setbacks but are still alive. Seventy-three legislative requests haven't started the long climb up Capitol Hill although bills to implement most of them have been introduced.

In evaluating the President's batting average of 13.7 per cent at this stage, it should be remembered that Congress does most of its work in the last weeks before adjournment. Another factor to be kept in mind is that some of the requests will not be taken up by the lawmakers until the second session in 1956.

Actually the President has been much more successful in winning Congressional approval of his program than was his predecessor, Harry S. Truman. In his first two years Mr. Eisenhower won approval for 65.9 per cent of his program. In six years Mr. Truman batted only 42.9 per cent. His poorest showing was in 1952 with 34.9 per cent.

Credit Helps Swell Tide of U. S. Travel Abroad

With the vacation season barely started it already seems certain that American travel abroad this year will set new high records.

Prospects are even brighter than last year when for the first time the number of overseas air passengers exceeded those carried by steamships. Already Europe is jammed with Americans and all steamship reservations are booked through August.

Air lines are preparing to cash in on the travel boom and new planes are being added. Tourist class service which makes room for more passengers at lower rates, is being expanded. This also is true of the steamship companies which are carrying more tourist class passengers and providing less first class space than ever before.

A major factor in the travel boom, says U. S. News & World Report, is the sale of tickets on installment credit. People are doing their traveling first and paying the bill afterward. One airline reports it expects to sell $7,000,000 worth of transportation on installment plans this year.

Our friends overseas are learning greater appreciation of the business they get from American tourists. Last year these travelers numbered 969,221 and are expected to exceed a million this year. The money they spend, $1.36 billion last year, plays an important part in balancing international trade accounts.

A byproduct of this travel tide is a U. S. plan called "Vacations, not Donations." Our Government not only realizes the help tourists are to our Allies but now is actively trying to help them lure more American visitors.

West's Position Strong for Big Four Conference

This newspaper doesn't share misgivings felt in some quarters over the U.S.-Anglo-French invitation to Soviet Premier Bulganin to attend a Big Four conference of top leaders.

The invitation, since accepted by Russia, followed a change of attitude by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Eden. Both had felt that a conference of foreign ministers should precede discussions by the chiefs of state.

The President, obviously looking ahead with reservations, favors a short conference with no agenda. Cautioning against any expectations of miracles he wisely has reiterated his willingness to go anywhere and meet anyone if by so doing he could further the cause of peace.

One of the West's goals has been to achieve a position in which it could negotiate from strength. That this goal has been reached in large measure by the admission of Germany into NATO is indicated by Russian concessions in the Austrian treaty. Agreement on this treaty previously had been demanded by President Eisenhower as proof of Russian sincerity.

We believe the President's determination to keep open the door to negotiation accurately reflects the feeling of an overwhelming majority of the American people.

Failure to take advantage of a situation holding out the possibility of lessened East-West tensions would be to ignore the peoples' desire for peace.

Detroit Historical Museum Historical Figure of Month

Favorite old tune: What you can hear these days—if you can endure the way they play it.

In a very conspicuous manner at the Detroit Historical Museum

Oakland County is being honored. There each month the portrait of an outstanding historical citizen is prominently displayed, and a sketch of them appears in its monthly bulletin. Usually the person selected is one who had a major part in Wayne County history. But the one selected for the month of May is

Mrs. Eliza Seaman Leggett,

born in 1815, and who had much to do with the early development of the Pontiac area. She was the wife of the late and they settled just north of Pontiac over a century ago. Most of her married life was spent here. She died in 1900.

Augustus Leggett,

The item about turtles in this column has brought a flood of inquires about how to prepare and cook turtle meat and soup. The largest catch is reported by of Davisburg, who has a 20-pounder in her freezer, awaiting instructions. It was killed by her neighbor, in his back yard. Mrs. Pylman and all others interested are requested to watch the food pages in the Pontiac Press, where the desired information will soon appear.

"Having Fine Time, Wish You Were Here, Bao Dai"

David Lawrence Says:

Crucial 'Cold War' Battle Just Beginning in Europe

PARIS—The most crucial stage of the "cold war" is just beginning. It is a struggle for the control of the continent of Europe and the chances of Soviet Russia winning out in the end and forcing the United States troops to "go home look brighter to Moscow than they have been at any time since World War Two ended.

This is because the East holds the trump cards that can result in a neutralizing of Germany. Once that is accomplished, there is no place for six divisions or more of American troops to be stationed on the continent.

To understand the realistic situation here one must brush aside wishful thinking and realize that Soviet Russia has neutralized Austria as a clever step in a long-range offensive.

FALSE ASSUMPTION

Too many people, not only in Europe but in America, have been proceeding on a false assumption—namely, that the Kremlin really has been planning a military attack.

The truth is the Soviet regime, after scaring the daylights out of the West, has always had in mind that popular governments are vulnerable and that by infiltrating them the rearmament of Germany could be prevented. They tried first to persuade the French Parliament by means of their partisans inside France, that the European Defense Community agreement was a mistake.

Now that the accord has been reached which brings West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Communists are unfolding their new strategy with all the astuteness and diplomatic energy they can command.

A sensational move to woo Tito and cut off Yugoslavia from the West or at least to neutralize that important link in the defense chain has just been revealed and is causing consternation in Europe.

TITO DEAL HINTED

There is a report current in central Europe that Tito already has surrendered to the Communist-controlled satellites a number of Communist refugees who in recent years crossed into Yugoslavia when they broke with the Moscow regime. It is pointed out that this is exactly the way Stalin acted when he surrendered German refugees as a preliminary to a deal with Hitler.

Italy is in the midst of a new crisis from which the Communists hope to profit, especially if a coalition with the left-wingers is formed. Likewise, in Britain, although the Conservatives expect to win the election, the ascending role of the Bevanites in leading the Socialist opposition may make life uneasy for American diplomats in the years that lie ahead.

The latest tactics also call for a reduction of armament inside Europe. This appeals to the pacifist-minded peoples and legislators in all countries. So there will be plenty of debate about this, with no real restrictions on arms in the end.

But the people of Germany in both the eastern and western areas will become aware that they are the pawns in a great game of chess. The more they listen to the arguments, the more inclined they will become toward neutralization.

THREAT TO ADENAUER

While Chancellor Adenauer is in good health, he can prevent such a defeat for the western alliance but, even as he remains in power, he may find it difficult to prevent his Socialist opposition from arising with a new nationalism that may sweep the country.

After all, the Germans do not want to see their country another battleground, and they do want reunification at almost any cost. Also, the Soviets can hold out the bait of a restoration of some of the territory that now is held by Poland. For to achieve a neutralized Germany would be worth almost any price to the Kremlin.

The big tactics will emerge. The Moscow regime may be expected to announce that it will not attack France or Britain or use atomic weapons at any time against either nation if both those governments agree not to let the United States use bases on their respective territories from which atomic weapons can be launched against Soviet Russia.

In other words, after the neutralization of Germany, the Communist objective will be to obtain, if possible, a declaration of neutrality from Britain and France.

INFILTRATION EASIER

The Soviets may never have intended to wage a "hot war," especially as they have always had the notion since Lenin's day that infiltration was easier and less expensive.

How can this be countered? Certainly not by "preventive war." It is a curious thing, but the pro-Communist letter-writers to the newspapers here always make the accusation that anyone who doesn't agree with the appeasement doctrines of the hour is necessarily inclined toward "preventive war."

Actually there is a third way, and it has been brilliantly set forth in a memorandum submitted to President Eisenhower by David Sarnoff, formerly a brigadier general on Eisenhower's staff when the latter commanded the Normandy invasion. It involves the effective use of moral force and of an enlightened public opinion to win the people behind the Iron Curtain.

J.B.K. Says Public Should Welcome Chance to Get Car Brakes Tested Without Charge

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I believe every driver should welcome the free check on car brakes that Pontiac police are making. This is a splendid service that protects the public, the driver as well as others on the road.

Let's cooperate in this program and get a free checkup. If your brakes are not o.k. it is better to find it out in this way than through an accident. Remember, it might be your life, or mine.

Overloaded Gravel Truck Damages Woman's Car

I have been concerned in the past over the damage to autos and threat of injury caused by stones spilling off overloaded gravel trucks on our crowded Oakland County highways. An incident happened last Friday which has caused me to attempt some action.

My daughter and I were driving behind a gravel truck on M-24 heading north between Lake Orion and Oxford. Falling stones from the truck hit our windshield with such force a shower of tiny glass-slivers sprayed over us and even into the back seat. Fortunately, neither of us were injured. My daughter quite probably could have received eye damage, however, if she had not quickly thrown her arm over her face.

Before this incident the windshield and paint on our six-months-old car were scarred from gravel-truck-loosed stones in several places. I'm sure many other motorists would report the same thing.

I realize the gravel industry is a vital one and adds much to this area's prosperity. It would seem, however, that gravel-pit and truck owners could agree on a slight reduction in load or the mounting of some sort of shield which would cut down on this hazard to motorists.

Avery Dramatically Quits at His Moment of Triumph

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

A fitting time to retire is at a climax of personal triumph.

Great actors and singers frequently aspire to do this, but, under the existing onerous income tax structure, this takes quite a bit of financial planning and long-term self-discipline.

Sewell L. Avery always dramatic, voluntarily stepped down in the flush of victory over Louis E. Wolfson.

Evidently those casting a majority of the votes in Montgomery Ward & Company took the view that if Avery should yield to youth, it did not necessarily follow that his successor should be Wolfson. It is in accord with Avery's sturdy character that he insisted on a vote of confidence before taking a less active role.

In reading the routine press biographies of Avery, I find they miss some of the unique characteristics of this extraordinary personality.

Thus one report indicates that in 1931 Avery, trained in the law and experienced in manufacturing, was eager to try his hand at merchandising. The fact, as revealed to this writer in 1931 by Avery, is that he was reluctant to do so.

TAKES 'LOOK SEE'

But the Wall street investment house which had sponsored the company was disturbed at inner management difficulties. As a favor, the banking house asked Avery to take a "look see." He did so, and came back with a candid report to the effect that the management couldn't be improved but needed to be replaced.

When overtures were made to Avery, he declined, but compromised to the extent of going on the board. Later when urged to take active charge, he showed his confidence in the prospects of rehabilitation by indicating a desire to be remunerated more by a stock option than by salary alone.

Through his rescue program of weeding out weak stores, improving marginal ones, and styling up good locations, through tremendous improvement in the quality of the mail order catalogue, and through an insistence on styling up even low-priced utility items, Avery soon made the stock more valuable not only for himself but for all the shareowners.

A controversial figure always, Avery was rewarded with a protracted stockholder suit, which he eventually won.

Avery brought extraordinary talent to the merchandising field. In addition, he introduced techniques of guiding financial policy through statistical studies, forecasts, and controls.

Having started with Ward amidst acute depression and panic conditions, Avery left himself vulnerable through a fetish for liquidity and through great caution during the boom based on war and postwar inflation.

NEGATIVE SIDE OF CAREER

Perhaps, with the benefit of hindsight Avery would have been most productive if he had kept in the background as brain truster, instead of being on the front line as a corporate administrator.

The parade of resigning or discharged executives, some of whom have been outstandingly successful elsewhere, is a negative point in Avery's career.

But that the man has had strong convictions is beyond dispute. This quality was headlined on April 27, 1944, during World War II when Avery refused to cooperate in the seizure of the company by the government as a result of a War Labor Board directive.

When the Army took over Avery was carried from his office on a chair by two soldiers. This reflected the views of a man trained in the law who thought the bureaucrats were following a lawless procedure.

Wolfson claims credit for the realignment of Ward's executive setup, but it could be argued on the other side that at 81 Avery could not stay in the line of fire forever. Being a thoughtful person, Avery must have been weighing such a move even before the ambitious young Floridian first gave him a nudge.

NO DIPLOMACY PRIZE

Avery will long leave his imprint on the business scene. He never sought to conceal the vigor of his controversial ideas in an attempt to appease those whom he distrusted and with whom he disagreed. In the circumstances, few among even his admirers will nominate him for a prize in diplomacy.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Conquer Foolish Terror in Short Time by Fully Understanding What Causes It

Arleen has a secret terror that is ruining her social life. She turns down dates because of it. Yet it is a foolish fear so she must conquer it. To do so, follow the psychological formula below. Scrapbook this case record for millions of folks have unwise fears they should banish quickly in order to enjoy life more fully.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-331:

Arleen C., aged 16, has a crucial problem from her point of view.

"Dr. Crane, I have a terrible fear of toads," she began, frankly. "It sounds silly to you, perhaps, but this fear is ruining my life.

"Why, I even turn down dates to go on picnics because I get so terrified if I see even one little toad, and I don't want the other kids to know about my fear.

"They can't understand why I refuse to go with them for an outing. I am not afraid of the dark but that happens to be the time when toads are usually out, so I try to stay at home after sundown.

"I don't want to be a victim of this fear all my life, so how can I overcome this abnormal fear of toads?"

It often helps to "date" the onset of your fear, if you can, but you can get over these foolish terrors even if you have forgotten how they first started.

Arleen finally remembered that in the third grade a boy had dropped a small toad down her back while she sat in her seat directly in front of him.

The cold, wriggly creature had made her scream and the fact that she couldn't reach it, further terrified her.

So Arleen now knows that her fear of toads developed from this childhood prank in the third grade.

She is simply letting herself act as a belated slave to a childhood situation. By thus dating the onset of your fears you can often see the petty nature thereof and work up more anger at yourself for remaining fettered by them.

Jesus once said: "The truth shall set ye free."

That is a basic rule in modern psychiatry, so I also recommended that Arleen actually face her bugaboo and study toads.

As she read about them in the encyclopedia, she began to react to them as an intellectual instead of an emotional subject.

She learned that toads are the gardener's best friend. They eat as high as 1,000 flies and injurious insects per day.

And they don't make warts, which is one common cause for aversion to toads by many fastidious girls.

They are cousins to the frog, as Arleen soon learned, and very respectable creatures.

With her increasing familiarity with toads, her fear began to leave, due to another psychological axiom, namely, "Familiarity breeds contempt."

A third method for combating fears, when they are foolish ones, is to remember the Rule of Three in psychology.

If you face the bugaboo and force yourself to react to it, touch it or otherwise contact the necessary object which you previously dreaded, you begin to overcome your terror.

Oh, that first time you may need to grit your teeth so you can force yourself to follow through.

But the second time you will feel somewhat less terror stricken. At least, you can reassure yourself that you went through the experience once before without dying.

And by the third victory, you realize that you are now master instead of slave to that previous unreasoning fear.

For further hlep in combating unwise fears, send for the booklet, "How to Control the Emotions," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime.

Whether you fear snakes, bugs or public speaking, the same principles hold true in banishing all such dreads.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Reader Offers Blessing for Banishment of Colds

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A reader says she and her husband have been taking the iodin ration for two years and no colds, thanks to you. We need more doctors like you. God love you" et cetera.

Whadaya mean, more doctors like me? What people really want is a doctor who tells the truth in print but not in practice. If he tells the truth in practice they change doctors.

For nearly a year I have been saving God Bless You letters in a special file, which is beginning to bulge.

I had some vague idea that such testimonials — but now that I have the file ready I realize it is like money in the bank — you can't take it with you. Nevertheless I am grateful to this correspondent and to all the others who have blessed me.

No matter what the circumstances may be or how undeserving one may feel, such a blessing is always inspiring.

Whether iodine deficiency has anything to do with immunity or susceptibility to the common respiratory infections (C R I) I do not know.

But in any case it can do no harm to correct iodine deficiency, I am sure, and most American adults and children get insufficient iodine to maintain good nutrition.

Bear in mind, everything I say about iodine in this column, applies to nutritional iodine.

The use of iodine or iodides as medicine is not a question of hygiene, physiology or health. It is strictly a medical question and should be left to your physician's judgment.

Perhaps the most familiar sign of iodine deficiency in children from 8 to 12 is simple goiter. In children 12 to 16, moping. In children 16 to 20, tendency to doze in church, class or other situations where they shouldn't.

Common manifestations of iodine deficiency in persons past 35:

Subnormal body temperature, cold hands and feet; desire for more clothing and greater indoor warmth than normal individuals find comfortable; accumulation of excess flabby flesh; dry, sallow skin; dry, falling, prematurely graying hair; a melancholic outlook and manner noticeably unlike their former cheerful disposition.

I do not advise anyone to take, continue or discontinue taking any medicinal preparation of iodine or iodides recommended by Mrs. Sumsey or prescribed for your late Aunt Jane by a leading physician.

In the pamphlet The Iodin Ration (pronounce the a as in Ray-D) I tell how to get the daily iodine everybody needs to maintain optimal nutrition.

For a copy of the pamphlet send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In my opinion most Americans can have better metabolism and better health if they boost their intake of iodine.

And if they go about it as I say in the pamphlet, such iodine intake can do no harm.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Prevents Shooting With Hour-Long Call

DALLAS (AP) — A woman police dispatcher joked, teased, chatted and pleaded an hour on the phone last night with a man who threatened to shoot himself or anyone who tried to capture him.

The 35-year-old man ended the conversation by throwing down his .22 rifle when relatives walked unsuspectingly into the brick home at nearby Rylie. He fled but was captured and jailed for investigation of lunacy.

"I talked right through my supper hour, but it was worth it," said Miss Lavinia Mae Horak.

Carl Wood, night admission clerk at the veterans hospital in nearby Lisbon, got a phone call from a man who sounded drunk. The fellow talked of six years' war duty and threatened to kill himself. He refused to give his name, but Wood got him to give his phone number. Wood called police and Miss Horak dialed the number.

The soft - voiced dispatcher alternately jibed and pleaded while officers traced the call and sent deputies to the scene.

Suggests Year Delay in Armed Forces Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-GA) says he thinks there's a good chance the Senate will support a suggestion that the Eisenhower administration's planned cut back in military manpower be delayed a year.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told a newsman yesterday he advocates such a delay "because I believe the over-all reductions are being made too rapidly."

Sen. George, Russell's Democratic colleague from Georgia, has said he'll support the administration plan to cut Army strength from 1,404,600 men to 1,027,000 by mid-1956. The House approved the reduction last Thursday.

Einstein Seen in Favor of Big-Four Conference

NEW YORK (AP)—The late Dr. Albert Einstein would have been happy to hear of the plans for a Big Four conference by the United States, Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union, says Associate Justice Hugo L. Black of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Einstein would have regarded the conference as an effort "to prevent the war which he feared was on the way," Black told an Einstein memorial rally yesterday.

Orchestra on Tour

Monster 'Eats' Girls, Spouts Fire, Steam

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—I'd call it the "Mechanical Monster" of New York.

With hydraulic and electonic savior faire, it literally "eats up" pretty girls. It also spouts fire and boiling steam, and it also spins, at the merest flip of a lever, like a Frankensteinian dervish.

Unlike Frankenstein's simple little monster, though, this giant baby needs 600 people to make it do fancy tricks. They work above, below, behind and in front of it to make it perform wonders.

It almost always obeys except once in a great while—like the time they wanted it to blow balloon-sized soap bubbles.

That time it got all lathered up and wouldn't work at all.

Anybody can go see this monster when he comes to New York and in the 23 years since its making, a total of 150-million have.

They were all impressed, apparently, because they sent it more fan mail than the Empire State Building and the Museum of Natural History, combined, have received. Even the pretty girls it "eats" have a tender respect for its weightly abilities.

HERE'S THE ANSWER

What is it?—as they say in the coy conundrum set.

It's the stage of the Radio City Music Hall, representing a few million dollars worth of scientifically spattered fairy dust.

I remember the first time I visited the Music Hall, when it was a baby and I was an adolescent. There were horses on the stage. Dancers, singers, maybe even dogs too, but who notices? Those were real horses!

I now am blase and believe that horses are suited more to the out-of-doors than the wicked stage, but the first impression remains strong.

And I return to the Music Hall regularly to check up on what else is new in that fantastic otherworld with a marquee for a gateway.

Once it was a curtain of steam, spitting high to the proscenium arch from dozens of jets behind the footlights and lighted by nearly 5,000 multi-colored bulbs.

That startled me, and I reached for my coiffure to see if the steam was escaping my way and removing the curls. But of course, the big stage had its steam in hand—a specially built unit to suck away the moisture as it difused.

IT HAS RAIN, TOO

Another time, there was a curtain of rain, which was like the steam curtain in reverse. And in larger droplets. It pelted onto canvas, drained into pipes, dried off quickly with a blower and was no problem at all for the great stage.

This stage apparently can take care of almost anything, from a fireworks display to a cavalry charge to a realistic enactment of the journey to Bethlehem.

The one thing it couldn't handle well was the soap-bubble incident, mentioned before, when it was fed soap flakes and water and urged to spurt them out in simulation of Niagara Falls.

It spurted fine, but the bubbles overflowed into the orchestra and at that point nothing—including the maestro—worked efficiently. But this was really more the fault of suds, which know no laws of relativity, than Radio City Music Hall's.

The satge is built into three sections, with elevators that can be lowered to 27 feet below the footlights, and varying heights above them.

These elevators are constantly heaving up the orchestra, swallowing up the dancing girls, carrying out the comic drunks, and elevating the angelic choirs to their proper heavenly status above the religious scenes.

When the show is over, and the last gasp is gasped, the stage is closed away from view by a curtain made of 2,000 yards of fireproof fabric hung on 5,000 feet of metal cable.

It is a great, mysterious, mechanical monster. And an example (if I may paraphrase a famous line) of what wonders nature could perform, if nature had money.

Find Couple in Ditch Slain by Gunshots

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—The bodies of a young Alton Sunday school teacher and her fiance, both of whom had been shot three times, were found in a ditch yesterday.

The victims were Miss Dorothy Ray Browder, 20, and Joe Greene, a foundry worker.

Officers said the bodies of the couple, both Negroes, were covered by a 10-foot plank in a ditch. Each had been shot three times with a .32-calibre pistol. No weapon was found at the scene.

The screw propeller was invented by John Ericsson, who designed the Monitor of Civil War fame.

Industry Drive to Be Launched

Upper Peninsula Set for Effort to Attract New Plants

ESCANABA (AP)— A five-year, $250,000 campaign to bring industry to Michigan's Upper Peninsula is expected to get underway in the near future.

The program, undertaken by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, holds for the vast country north of the Straits of Mackinac a possible big industrial future.

This is the hope of supporters as voiced yesterday at a meeting of the development bureau, which adopted the program. Fourteen of the peninsula's 15 counties were represented at the meeting.

The Upper Peninsula, bounded by Lake Superior and Northern Lake Michigan, long has been known chiefly as a resort country, aside from its mining.

The aim of the development bureau is to attract all possible industry to the area. In the 44 years of its existence the bureau has concerned itself almost entirely with promoting the peninsula for its hunting and fishing and other outdoor lures.

SEEK CONTRIBUTIONS

The five-year program is to be financed by $50,000 annually in collections from contributors.

The money will be spent to set up a promotion office and pay an expert professional man to run it.

In recent years the Upper Peninsula has been thinking more and more in terms of new industry. The 100 million dollar Straits of Mackinac bridge now under construction has been a part of this.

The development bureau's program is the outgrowth of its creation of an "industrial board" a year ago. G. Harold Earle of Hermansville is board chairman.

IKE'S REPORT NOTED

The bureau reported it received an "enthusiastic" response to its plans.

Robert Sayles, bureau president, said President Eisenhower's recent economic report for the nation has a bearing on the peninsula hopes.

The President's report, Sayles said, showed the country to be "In a period of its greatest economic expansion." The Upper Peninsula "is going to get a part of it," Sayles said.

The bureau authorized an immediate start to collect 10 per cent of this year's $50,000 in contributions. The full program will begin next fall.

IT'S A PSYCHOLOGICAL FACT: PLEASURE HELPS YOUR DISPOSITION

How's your disposition today?

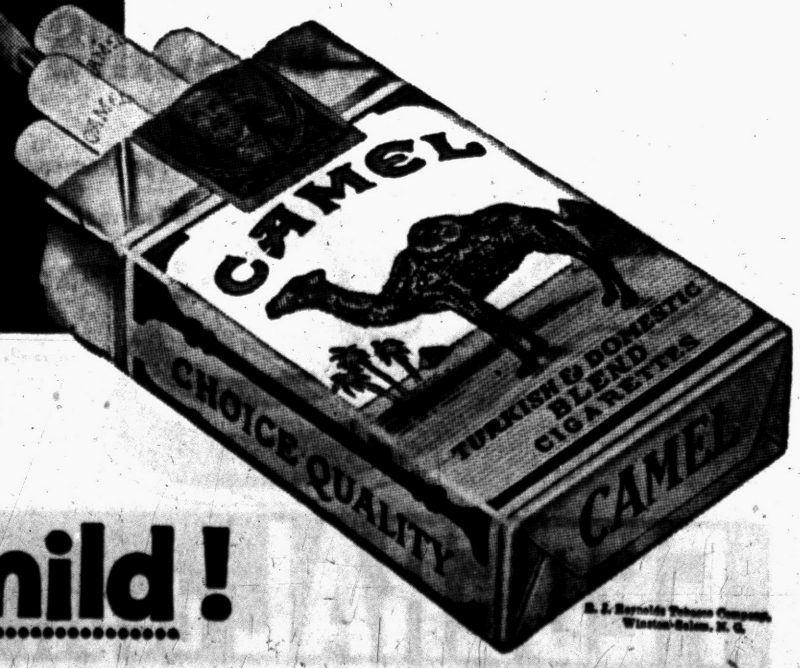

It's natural to feel "edgy" sometimes when little annoyances pile up. Did you know that psychology says one help to your disposition is your everyday pleasures? They're really important. That's why, if you're a smoker, the wise choice in cigarettes is the most pleasure-giving cigarette. That means Camels.

For more pure pleasure_have a Camel

YES, it's wise to choose your cigarette for the pleasure it gives you. Because pleasure helps your disposition. And most everybody knows that the most pleasure-giving cigarette is Camel. No other cigarette has Camel's richer blend of mild, costly tobaccos. No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild. No wonder Camels agree with more people than any other cigarette! Remember... A cigarette that short-cuts you on flavor does not give you Camels' pure pleasure. So, have a Camel!

No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild!

Discover Body of Missing Chef

Former Beauty Contest Winner Sought in Death of Spouse in Oklahoma

JAY, Okla. (AP)—Discovery of the decomposed body of a 310-pound chef touched off an extensive search today for his auburn-haired wife, a onetime beauty contest winner.

Delaware County Atty. Don Hampton said the body was that of 41-year-old Joseph Werner, a former employe of the Triple X Restaurant in Fort Worth. He had been missing almost a month.

State Crime Bureau agents have radioed a pickup order for his wife, Leota, 44. She sold the family home for $4,500 three days after her husband failed to show up for work. She stated the two had been divorced and she had been given the house.

Judge Unworried by Prisoners' Fast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The hunger-striking Finn twins will stay in the Springfield, Mo., federal prison, said Federal Judge Edward P. Murphy, who late Saturday denied a motion to vacate their one-year sentences.

Charles and George Finn, of Los Angeles, were sentenced for the "citizen's arrest" of U. S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters in a lengthy dispute over ownership of a government surplus plane. In a nine-page decision denying the motion to vacate the sentences of the Finns, reported to be in the 28th day of their hunger strike, Judge Murphy said he refused to "fall prey to the idiocy of the moment."

Industry Forgetting Women, Middle-Aged

By MARGARET McBRIDE

It is pleasant news that the federal government has appointed a special staff to see to enforcing anti-discrimination provisions in government contracts.

Only while they are about it, I hope something can be done to help the nation's two forgotten minorities: Women and the middle-aged.

Alice Paul, crusading head of the National Women's Party, stormily complained to me a year ago that while the government insists that firms holding government contracts choose their employes regardless of race, color and creed, nothing requires that they give women the same chance as men.

So the prejudiced ones don't.

And only the other day a man I know who thought of himself as young became old in five minutes because of age discrimination.

He had been executive vice president of a machinery company that was bought by a bigger concern which already had an executive vice president.

His kind of job is not easy to find, but Frank was lucky. He heard of an opening for a person with his experience which paid a salary approaching the handsome one he had been getting. He asked for an interview and got along fine.

The officials liked him, he liked them. It looked like a deal until the president of the company asked casually, "By the way, how old are you?"

"Forthy-seven," said Frank truthfully.

That was the end of the interview — the company has a rigid rule about hiring anybody who is more than 45. Frank went home that night with the tired walk and discouraged slouch of an old man.

"Two messy years," he said bitterly. "I could have lied about my age and they'd never have known. The worst of it is that now I'm thinking of myself as old."

If you're past 30 it's hard to avoid thinking of yourself as old when you run down the "help wanted" columns of almost any newspaper. For nearly all advertisements stipulate "under 35."

Meanwhile science works overtime to give us longer lives, industry issues alarmed little statements about the necessity of stimulating young people toward careers of specialization in this or that field and management complains daily about personnel shortages.

The remedy is simple: Let industry follow the just and sensible course of hiring without regard to sex or age, the person with experience, know-how and drive, in short, the one who can do the job as it should be done.

Easy Does It on Financial Ventures

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have a wonderful idea for a home product," a young mother writes, "but, in order to start on the scale I would like, it will be necessary to borrow money.

"This venture will take more than we have in our savings account.

"Can you tell me how one goes about borrowing money for a new and untried business?"

Start on Small Scale

It is not wise to start with an untried product.

If you have a good idea, and it is no more than an idea, I would hesitate to advise borrowing money on it.

With almost any home operation, it is better to start on a very small scale.

In this way you can test the acceptance of the product and build up the practice and skill of the person who is to handle it.

Also, it is almost always possible to start in a small way, with a minimum of capital.

If a product has been tested and found desirable, you are in a much better position to interest a bank in lending you money.

They will be more inclined to help when they have some basis on which to judge the validity of the project.

So, generally speaking, don't begin an untested home business venture on borrowed capital.

Talk to Local Banker

Once the initial testing has been successfully carried through, there are several ways to go about getting investment money.

First, of course, you should talk to your local banker.

If he refuses to lend it to you, at least you will learn a good deal and get some advance warning from his objections. If he does, all is well.

Don't overlook the possibilities of borrowing on your life insurance, or on property you own.

If your project is sound, this is one of the best ways to do it.

And if your husband is a G. I., investigate the possibilities of getting a G. I. loan.

Don't Borrow From Friends

The worst method, I think, is borrowing money from friends and family. Many times this causes you to operate under great personal strain, which may affect your business badly.

Sometimes, it will break up a good friendship.

Unless your friends are most unusual, they are apt to give all kinds of unsolicited advice, to move in on you generally, and in some cases, may even insist on being on the payroll — which may overburden your venture and cause its failure!

St. James Guilds, Clubs Prepare for Parade, Fair

BIRMINGHAM — The many guilds and clubs of St. James Episcopal Church of Birmingham will join in making the annual Pet Parade and Fair one of the best on May 21.

Mrs. J. M. Ross, Mrs. Cecil Buckner, Mrs. W. A. McCurdy, Mrs. Pell Hollingshead, Mrs. Kenneth Sproule, Mrs. Donald Becklam, Mrs. Phillip Streeter and Mrs. Charles B. Kass are other committeewomen.

Garbo Becomes Even More Withdrawn; Tells Bosses, 'I Love No One'

By the early 1930's, Garbo now had all the haberdashery of success. She was famous and wealthy. Her artistry had won her the respect of her colleagues, the adoration of untold millions and the profound appreciation of international intellectuals who ordinarily thought movie stars were trash.

She was acclaimed the most beautiful woman in the world. And she was still young, in her middle twenties. The natural, psychological question was: why, with all this, was she a weary and tormented soul, confused in mind and heart: she had in abundance everything the human condition requires—except, perhaps, love.

Since Stiller, Garbo had encountered no men who were giants. Reaching out for mastery, as her disposition dictated, she found the would-be masters cast up by Hollywood to be only life size and therefore unacceptable.

Of men generally Garbo became disenchanted. Among other reasons, she felt she had been betrayed by a couple of former male companions who had talked in public, albeit with exquisite discretion, of their friendship with her.

"That's men again," Garbo had said bitterly in Anna Christie. "Oh, how I hate 'em, every mother's son of 'em." Those words, it began to appear, expressed Garbo's own inner feelings.

WANTS TO ESCAPE

Her desire to escape from the eyes of the world became obsessional. She was no longer content with her house on Chevy Chase Road; word had reached the public that she lived there. Fans began writing her at home, and a few boldly came to the door and asked for her.

Furthermore, the houses on either side were two-story structures, from the upper floors of which it was possible to see into parts of Garbo's garden and pool. The feeling that she was being spied upon made Garbo uneasy.

To avoid being looked at she sometimes got up at five in the morning to have swim and waited until after dark to take an evening dip. Tiring of having to resort to such strategems, she packed up and moved into another house in Beverly Hills that Harry Edington had found for her.

The new residence, on Camden Drive, had the advantage of comparative isolation, but the noise of streetcars operating on a trolley line a block and a half away kept Garbo awake at night. Though she had taken a year's lease on the house, at six hundred dollars a month, she soon decided that it wouldn't do.

LEWIS STONE and GRETA GARBO

MOVES TO AVOID PEOPLE

Moving again, she settled her few belongings into another rented property, this one on San Vicente Boulevard in the Brentwood section of Santa Monica.

The Brentwood house, surrounded by enormous cypress trees that hid it completely from the street and from neighbors on all sides, satisfied Garbo's desire for seclusion. "This is where I will live as long as I stay in Hollywood," she told Edington the day she moved in.

Gustaf and Sigrid, the young Swedish couple who had handled Garbo's household affairs, had left her employ; they had never been able to please her and had wearied of her constant scolding. She now had a Negro chauffeur to drive her old Lincoln limousine.

To do her cooking and housekeeping Garbo hired an elderly, closemouthed Alsatian woman who wore pince-nez and hair nets. Though a good cook, Garbo's housekeeper was somewhat inept at serving; she had a habit of dropping dishes, but never a word about her mistress.

WON'T SPEAK TO FRIENDS

Having shut herself off from the world, Garbo became almost frantically jealous of what she called her "private life." She refused to speak to former close personal and professional associates whom she suspected of having talked about her to anyone.

She became violently upset at the mere possibility that a single word about her might be breathed by one of her friends. As one of them told a reporter at this time, "she is slightly mad in this particular — quite unreasonable — but I admire and love her sufficiently to respect her wishes fully."

Sometimes, when the mood was on her, Garbo would revert to her old habit of shutting herself off from everyone with no word of explanation.

One day shortly before Christmas in 1931, a close friend called at Garbo's house, keeping an appointment made the day before. "Miss Garbo has gone out," the housekeeper said. The caller asked when Miss Garbo was expected to return. "I really couldn't say," the housekeeper replied. "She has gone out to New York."

Without informing anybody outside of her household, Garbo had packed a bag and gone East to spend the holidays by herself. She had slipped into New York unobtrusively and registered at the Hotel St. Moritz as "Gussie Berger."

Her presence in Manhattan was not discovered for several days. During this time she went to the theater frequently, usually buying two seats on the aisle so that she would have nobody sitting immediately next to her on either side. To avoid being recognized she customarily entered the theater just after the curtain had gone up and bolted the second the final curtain came down.

On at least one occasion, Garbo's devious theater going tactics defeated her purpose. This occurred when she attended a performance of The Barretts of Wimpole Street starring Katharine Cornell.

"There was no indication of any kind that she was in New York," Miss Cornell has recalled in her autobiography, "and one Wednesday matinee a woman with her coat collar pulled up, hat pulled down, hands held across her face, walked up to the box office and bought a ticket.

"Her mysterious behavior attracted the attention of the doorman, and he sent an usher down to see if she was quite well. The usher went up to her, looked, gasped and came rushing back gibbering, 'It's Greta Garbo!'

"In a minute the word was all over the theater — backstage and frontstage. We couldn't get the curtain up because the actors were so busy peeking through in the curtain."

ACTUALLY GRETA GARBO?

Miss Cornell, however, was not certain that the mysterious spectator was actually Greta Garbo, nor were some other members of the cast.

In an effort to settle the lively argument going on backstage, Miss Cornell summoned her husband, the director Guthrie McClintic, who was at home and who had once been introduced to Garbo in Hollywood, to rush to the theater.

Peering from the wings, McClintic identified the customer in question as the genuine article. His identification was not, however, accepted as positive by several other backstage witnesses.

Matters were still up in the air when, some twenty minutes after the curtain had gone down, the cause of the argument presented herself at the stage door and asked the doorman, "Would Miss Co-o-rnell see a stranger?"

When word of this development circulated through the dressing rooms, something resembling pandemonium broke loose. Since the stranger had not given her name and since Miss Cornell was firmly convinced that she was the intended victim of a practical joke, she had her regrets conveyed to the caller.

"Miss Co-o-rnell, I see, does not like strangers," the woman who had been kept waiting at the stage door for five or six minutes said, and walked away.

ARGUMENT RESUMES

The minute she left the argument resumed, more intense and noisier than before, and continued the rest of the day and into the night. "Finally at about two o'clock I called the coast and asked if Garbo was in New York," Miss Cornell wrote.

"The answer came back, quickly and emphatically, 'No.' Then we, and they, began checking, and it finally turned out that she was in New York and had been to see the Barretts on that afternoon.

So I sent her a note, apologized for my rudeness, and asked her to come for supper at the house. This she did, about ten days later, and I can't remember ever having a pleasanter, more gemeutlich evening. Miss Garbo turned out to be as delightful, as charming, as simple and as humorous a person as you could imagine."

Eventually, of course, the newspaper reporters got on to Garbo's presence in town, and her trail was dogged from then on. One bright morning early in January she set out for a walk in Central Park, across the street from her hotel.

Wearing smoked glasses, low-heeled shoes and a tweed topcoat with a collar that reached to her ears, she descended from her suite to find the lobby congested with reporters and photographers.

Weaving her way through them with the agility of an athlete, she dashed outside and into a taxi that sped off into the park. A stream of taxis carrying the newspaper folk followed.

Approaching the Casino in the Park, Garbo ordered her taxi to a halt, flung a bill at the driver, leaped from the machine and started to race across the greensward.

The taxis bearing the newspapermen screamed to a stop, and the throng, alighting, took out after their quarry. Early morning strollers, seeing the group streaking across the park, spontaneously joined the chase.

For some time the nimble-footed actress was able to outdistance her pursuers as she cut across the lawn at full speed. Finally she tired and turned to face the pack.

"I can't say nothing," she panted. "I am not allowed to say nothing. I feel so sorry for you. You have such a tough job." Then she took off again. Hailing another taxi, she leaped in and lost the press bloodhounds in the maze of park byways.

After three weeks in New York, weeks that were hardly serene, Garbo entrained for the Coast. Word of her departure traveled ahead of her.

In Chicago, where she was obliged to change trains, crowds gathered to watch as, in her customary disguise (now practically a sure identification), she walked with lanky stride through the LaSalle Street Station. Gasping fans and dogged reporters followed in her wake.

She was asked the well-worn questions and tossed off answers on the run. "No, I am not in love," she said. "No, I am not ever to marry. No, I am not to stop playing in the movies.

"They are my life to me. I am happy to be far away from New York. They are so impolite in New York." She was asked if she was in love. "I love no one," Garbo said, desperately, and those were her final words.

Boy Says He Likes Girl but Doesn't Keep Date

Don't Show Him Your True Feelings, Let Him Stew Awhile, Author Advises

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: The boy I like acts as though he likes me too so my folks said it would be okay to ask him and his pal over to the house to practice on some music and eat afterwards.

So I invited them. They said they'd come—but they didn't show up.

"What should I do about it? Should I overlook it and ask them again? Or should I act as though I am angry about the whole deal?

"I don't know what to do because I see him very seldom and we're both very bashful, though every time we meet we get better at conversation."

You were disappointed that they didn't come. You were put out that they didn't phone to let you know not to expect them. You were hurt that the boy you like seemed to take your invitation lightly.

But why get mad about it? They didn't insult you or do you any real harm. They just let you down.

And a let-down feeling is something a girl doesn't have to admit. Acting mad is letting that cat out of the bag. Saying nothing about it at all shows that you consider it unimportant. But don't ask them again.

Wait until they broach the subject to you and suggest that another music night be set. Then don't be too much of an eager-beaver. Act as though you're not sure it will be convenient.

Let them stew awhile. If they're that enthusiastic they might see it through.

"Dear Miss Woodward: In the last couple of years I've gone with two boys that I've liked very much. I didn't get along with the second boy very well, and since then it's been hard for me to get along with all of the boys.

"I'm not shy nor afraid to speak when spoken to by a boy. But I'm afraid I get mad easily and pick fights with them for no reason at all.

"I like this boy now but I'm afraid I won't be able to keep him unless I correct my mistake. I know it's all my fault. So please help me help myself."

Have you figured out why you get mad so easily? Perhaps you insist always on having your own way and you get furious when you're crossed.

Perhaps you get nervous and make some sharp, sarcastic crack before you can clamp your teeth shut. Perhaps you're the bossy type and like to assert your independence and superiority in a constant battle of egos.

Quiet down, warm up and mellow a bit. Take the boys as they are without getting upset over what they say and do. Give them the right to have their own opinions and ways of doing things.

And teach yourself to count to seventeen before you say anything that will ruffle the waters and start a fight.

June Graduating Class of '30 to Hold First Reunion

Banquet Slated June 4 at High School

June 4 is the date set for the first reunion and banquet of the graduating class of June 1930. The affair will be held in the cafeteria of Pontiac High School with festivities beginning at 6 p.m.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner will be Theodore Pearson Jr., who was president of the graduating class.

Among special guests will be Frank J. DuFrain and John Thors Jr., who were principal and assistant principal, respectively, of the school when members of the class were awarded their diplomas 25 years ago.

Members of the class who have not received invitations to the banquet are urged to contact members of the committee before May 21.

Making final plans for the event are Mrs. Ralph Price and Mrs. Harmon E. Williams of Rochester, Mrs. Arnold Thingstad, Gordon Reynolds and Norman Todd.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Lambert are honeymooning in Florida following their marriage Saturday evening at First Methodist Church. Mrs. Lambert is the former Ruby Jane Oen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Oen of Foster street. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Lambert of West Fairmount avenue.

MR. and MRS. ARTHUR B. LAMBERT

Ruby J. Oen Speaks Vows to Arthur B. Lambert

Ruby Jane Oen became the bride of Arthur B. Lambert at 7 o'clock Saturday evening when the couple exchanged nuptial vows before the Rev. Paul R. Havens at First Methodist Church.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Oen of Foster street, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Lambert of West Fairmount avenue.

The bride selected a gown of white Chantilly lace blended with tulle, over satin. Pearls and iridescent paillettes were scattered over the bodice, which was designed with bateau decolletage outlined in a petal motif.

The long slimly fitted sleeves tapered traditionally over the wrists. In contrast to the molded pointed waistline, a handkerchief pointed tunic of the lace outlined its rose pattern against the bouffant skirt of layers of tulle and satin, which flared to a circular train.

CARRIES CARNATIONS, ORCHID

Her tiered veil of illusion was secured by a French cut Chantilly lace cloche and she carried a cascade of white carnations centered with an orchid.

The bridal attendants were gowned identically, their dresses varying in color only. Skirts of their floor length gowns were white nylon tulle netting, with the bodices done in pastel tones of blue, green, orchid and pink.

Their colonial bouquets of roses and white carnations were tied with ribbons the color of their dresses.

Betty L. Oen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Marilyn Hewes, Elaine McCracken and Geraldine Golley were bridesmaids. Ores R. Oen was best man for his new brother-in-law. Robert Frederickson, Donald Burns and William L. Viands served as ushers.

The bridal recital was sung by Mrs. Robert Lash.

The bride's mother greeted guests at a reception which followed at Fisher Hall, wearing a navy blue dress with white accessories. A dress of Copenhagen blue crepe with navy and white accessories was the selection of the mother of the bridegroom.

Their corsages were of pink roses and white carnations.

Before leaving for a honeymoon trip to Florida, the new Mrs. Lambert changed to a pink linen suit with white accessories and pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder. Upon returning the couple will reside on East Mansfield avenue.

Lunch Tab Is Inevitably Paid by Him

Stuck With Check, Hopes for Way Out of Embarrassment

By EMILY POST

The following letter comes from a young man who asks: "How can I get a friend of mine to pay his share of the bill when we have lunch or dinner together?

"When the waiter hands me the check this friend takes it for granted that I will pay it and makes no attempt to offer his share of the bill.

"We are both in the same circumstances and I don't see why I should be 'stuck' for the bill, but on the other hand I don't want to embarrass him by asking him outright to reimburse me for his share of the check.

"Is there a way to get around this?"

The simplest thing to do is to put the amount you owe, plus your tip on the bill, hand it over to the other man and say, "I think this is my half," and let him pay the remainder.

USE OF PLACE CARDS

Dear Mrs. Post: I plan a large reception in a private club after my wedding. There will be about two hundred guests.

I had intended using place cards to seat the guests, but the caterer told me that place cards are not used at a reception of this size.

I think it would be very awkward and cause much confusion among the guests not to be told where to sit. What is your opinion?

Answer: Seating two hundred guests with place cards is definitely not practical. As a rule only three tables are seated with place cards—the bridal table and the parents' two tables.

Annual Bazaar Planned by Guild 12

Mrs. William Gessas and Mrs. Robert Kay were named co-chairmen of the annual bazaar given by Guild 12 of All Saints Church when members met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Fixel of Odette Street.

Guests at the Thursday evening meeting were Mrs. Richard Johnston and Mrs. Mitchell Grusnick. Mrs. Edward Elder Jr., served refreshments.

Mrs. Milbank Named Speaer

Mrs. Robbins Milbank, assistant to the president of Smith College, will be commencement speaker at the June 11 exercises of Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Mrs. Milbank, better known as Helen Paull Kirkpatrick, achieved fame as an author, lecturer and foreign newspaper correspondent covering the European and African theaters during World Ward II.

Mrs. Charles Weber Honored at Dinner

Mrs. Charles Weber of Kimball street was honored at a mother and daughter banquet held at Central Methodist Church.

Mrs. Weber attended the affair with her five daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Webber, Mrs. Raymond Elmy, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Robert Harrington Jr. and Alice Weber.

Her granddaughters attending were Kerry Lynn Webber, Shirlynn Smith and Jacklynn Sue Smith. Kerry won a prize for being the youngest baby.

Pounds was shot in the chest with a .22 rifle. The son, a high school senior, put his father in a car and took him to a hospital, but Pounds was dead on arrival.

Voters in Favor of Segregation

Elect School Board Promising to Retain Race Barriers

MILFORD, Del. (AP)—Voters of the Milford school district, turning out in more than three times their usual numbers, have named a new four-man school board which has promised continued racial segregation.

A total of 3,260 votes were cast in the election Saturday, which had reflected undercurrents of the integration squabble here last fall. The School Board election usually draws only about 1,000 votes.

The vote counting was completed early yesterday.

Bryant Bowles, president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, supported the winning ticket. He said his support wasn't solicited and the prosegregation slate said it wasn't connected with the NAAWP.

Trouble began here last September, soon after the School Board admitted 11 Negro students to the Lakewood Avenue High School.

Bowles set up a branch of his organization and urged parents to keep their children out of school until the Negroes were ousted.

When the State Board of Education refused to back the local board's action in admitting the Negroes, the four members quit.

The interim board ordered the Negroes out of the school, and the Delaware Supreme Court upheld the ousting, ruling the local board had failed to comply with a requirement of the state board to submit a plan of integration before admitting the Negroes.

Honduras Bans News Reports on 'Emergency'

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—The Honduran government has clamped censorship on outgoing press dispatches to check reports which, it says, might worsen "the present international emergency" with Nicaragua.

The government said last night it had acted "because of certain false reports filed . . . by some press agents (correspondents) and the attempt of Mr. (Harvey) Rosenhouse, agent of Time magazine, to send a message containing alarming information which might make more serious the present state of relations between Honduras and Nicaragua."

Rumors that Nicaragua might invade Honduras spread through the Honduran capital Friday as the government posted troops along the frontier following reported activity by the Nicaraguan national guard. The government said last night the situation was not alarming and "soon everything will be settled in a friendly manner."

In New York, a spokesman at Time magazine said an editor talked with Rosenhouse by phone yesterday but the call was interrupted. He said efforts to reach the correspondent since then had been unsuccessful.

Pied Piper for Pups

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Dave Rittenhouse, dog license official, has a novel way to detect attempts to dodge the city's $2 dog license fee. He has a whistle, too high pitched for the dog owners to hear but just right for Fido. Fido comes running and is in the pound before his owners know he has answered Rittenhouse's call.

There are a number of reasons behind the current trend to "do-it-yourself." Among them—

- there's been a big movement to the suburbs in recent years
- more than half of America's families now own their homes
- more of us have more free time these days
- many jobs have been made easier for the amateur

Here are a few of the results: over half our families have taken up "do-it-yourself." 11 million homes now have workshops. Sales of portable power tools have soared twentyfold in eight years. 35 million women make their own clothes.

"Do-it-yourself" gives the opportunity to improve one's living—and to feel the solid satisfaction of creating something useful or beautiful with one's own hands.

Here is another significant example of the extent to which we are doing things for ourselves. 93 million Americans are using life insurance today to provide for their own on their own. They are doing this, of course, with the help and advice of their life insurance agents.

One of the main purposes for which they use life insurance is to guarantee money for the family in case of the father's death.

And they are also using life insurance for many other things—to cover the mortgage . . . to assure money for the children's education . . . to help build an adequate retirement program. In fact, more than half of all life insurance benefits are now paid to the policyholders themselves.

Today, life insurance is America's most popular form of thrift.

Modern Miracle Gets Under Way in Flint

FLINT (INS)—Another miracle is taking shape in Flint. It will take its place with an earlier event which transformed this gentle little carriage-building town into an industrial colossus that punches out Buicks, Chevvies, spark plugs and a host of other products in fantastic amouunts.

The new miracle is being wrought by a man of great vision named Michael A. Gorman, editor of the Flint Journal. His helpers range from production titans such as Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors, to Merliss Brown, a retired hourly rated worker who was born in Minsk under the Czar.

Gorman and the good people of Flint are building, here and now, a $13,000,000 "college and cultural development." It will elevate Flint Junior College into a four-year course that has ties with the University of Michigan.

It will drop a lovely campus into the heart of Flint and provide the community with a new library, little theater, historical museum, another museum designed to tell the incredible story of transportation, an auditorium and a planetarium.

DIGS INTO OWN POCKET

In a day when it is accepted practice to turn to Washington or to the state capital for alms, Flint is digging into its own pocket and coming up with the necesary cash.

It is showing the same daring in the field of education and public enlightenment that it showed in forging the great plants and providing jobs that make it perhaps the most remarkable "take-home-pay" town on earth.

The biggest and most dramatic contributions toward the "college and cultural development" have come from Charles Stewart Mott, hale, hearty leader whose influence on Flint has been greater than that of any other individual. He'll be 80 on June 2.

On his 75th birthday, Mott, largest individual holder of GM stock, gave the local junior college $1,000,000 toward the day when it would grow into a full-fledged school.

Since then Mott has given 32 prime acres to the project and another $557,000. The Charles Stewart Mott Building for the Sciences is about completed.

GM GIVES $3 MILLION

Curtice provided a GM gift of $3,000,000, which Mike Gorman accepted without blinking an eye. Gorman is a very strong man, and he's driving himself night and day in his all-out effort.

The late William S. Ballenger provided $200,000 for a field house. Pledge of a minimum of $25,000 constitutes qualifications as a sponsor. The Kudner Advertising Agency of New York came in for $25,000. And so did the aforementioned man from Minsk.

Gorman is driven by such statistics as: 'There are now 2,000,000 students in our universities. By 1970 there will be 5,000,000. Where are we going to put them? Well, Flint is getting ready. It's showing the way."

There is no question about Flint's interest in going to school. Years ago, Mott came to the conclusion that it was dumb waste of good facilities to close down the schools of the city when the children left in the afternoon. Through the Mott Foundation he has since provided teachers, instructors and a host of services for the adults of the city . . . the men and women who build cars by day and hanker to improve their minds at night.

School gyms swarm with activity. There are courses in motherhood, cooking; cram courses for adults who, years after leaving school for financial reasons, have returned to earn high school diplomas.

MOTT PAYS THE BILL

Mott picks up the tab. The children of these adult scholars are certain to get a better education than their parents could afford. They'll be going on to college. But by the time they're ready for it, the college will have come to them. The college and much more.

* * *

Gorman's fund-raising campaign is one of those rare gestures of selflessness the world sees too little of in Anno Domini 1955. Not a penny is being spent for administration of the fund raising.

"We'll wind up with a quarter of a million dollars more than we raised," Gorman grinned. "The money will have generated that much interest."

Sheriff's Killer Finally Captured

Ex-Mental Patient Shot After Holding Off 100 Officers for Hours

GROESBECK, Tex. (UP)—A sharp-shooting former mental patient killed the Limestone County sheriff with one shot through the head at 40 yards yesterday. Then, with a .22 rifle, he held off an army of 100 officers and an armored half-track several hours before being flushed by a mass charge of lawmen.

The sheriff, J. Harry Dunlap, 47, had gone to question N. J. Tynes about the shooting of a neighbor. Tynes, 44, was due to be recommitted to a mental hospital.

After he was shot, Dunlap lay in the crossfire two hours until officers created a disturbance at the front of the story-and-a half farm home to draw Tynes' attention. Other officers then pulled back the sheriff but found he apparently had died instantly.

The halftrack, obtained from the National Guard, lobbed 10 to 15 rounds of tear gas into the house. When this failed to flush Tynes, officers charged the rear of the residence.

Tynes rushed out of the house to meet them, screaming and firing wildly. Officers had to use force to subdue him.

He was shot in the right shoulder left leg, left hip and left forearm, and was also burned and cut.

Dr. Stanley Cox said he signed documents Saturday to return Tynes to the Terrell State Mental hospital and was waiting for the signature of another doctor before having officers commit him.

A neighbor of Tynes, Johnny Ray Bentley, 17, was shot and seriously wounded Saturday night while plowing. Sheriff Dunlap went to Tynes' to investigate but was driven off by three shots.

He returned yesterday morning with a dozen officers. The numbers mounted as the siege began. After an hour the sheriff stepped from cover into the back yard to talk to Tynes. A shot felled him immediately.

Talks Resume Today in Bell Phone Strike

ATLANTA (UP)—Hopeful negotiators planned to resume talks with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service today in a renewed effort to settle the 63-day-old Southern Bell Telephone Co. strike.

Negotiating teams spent the weekend studying proposals and counterproposals in an atmosphere described as the most optimistic since the nine-state walkout began March 14.

As far as damage went, the weekend was one of the quietest on record. Only sporadic cable cuttings were reported in Georgia, Louisiana and Kentucky.

Germany's Ambassador Arrives in England

LONDON (UP) — Germany's first ambassador to Britain since the outbreak of World War II arrived today in London with a promise from the Bonn republic to be loyal to its new friends.

"I believe a new era of relationship between Great Britain and Germany is about to begin," said Ambassador Hans von Herwarth as he stepped off a train at Liverpool Station.

Diem Controls Bao Dai Army

Viet Nam Chief Takes Over Private Militia of Absentee Ex-Emperor

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UP) — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem took over chief of state Bao Dai's private militia yesterday, removing the vestige of military power the absentee ex-Emperor may have hoped to retain here.

The Premier acted as the National Revolutionary Committee staged another mass meeting. A leader of the pro-Diem organization told 40,000 cheering Vietnamese Bao Dai was a traitor and made fresh demands that he be deposed.

Incorporation of the imperial guard into the national army appeared to be one more step in removing Bao Dai's weakening hold on his country. The guard, estimated at several thousand men, originally was set up to protect the person of the Emperor.

The guard blasted its own future when it obeyed orders of Bao Dai's protege Gen. Nguyen Van Vy to seize Saigon's public buildings May 1 in an attempted coup. The attempt failed when the regular army rallied to Diem and Vy fled back to Dalat.

Bandit Turns and Runs as Woman Whips Out .45

CHICAGO (UP)—Mrs. Marie Hoenecke wasn't a bit frightened when a gunman invaded her delicatassen store.

"You don't stick me up," she shouted, whipping out her trusty .45-caliber pistol.

Name Executive as Chairman for National Drive

J. P. Spang Jr., president of the Gillette Co., will serve as national chairman for United Community Campaigns of America, it was learned today from William B. Hartman, president of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Spang will voluntarily head a national educational campaign in behalf of the world's largest fund-raising effort for health and welfare agencies which serve 60,000,000 people throughout the U. S.

In Pontiac, Robert M. Critchfield, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division has volunteered his services as UF campaign chairman.

National campaigns this year will take place between Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The date of Pontiac's drive has not been set, said Critchfield.

As national chairman, Spang succeeds Harvey Firestone Jr. Other predecessors include H. J. Heinz II, Henry Ford II and Gerard Swope.

600 Hear Gov. Williams

CADILLAC (UP) — More than 600 persons heard Gov. Williams as principal speaker Saturday at dedication ceremonies for the new $250,000 National Guard armory. The building houses the Guard's 46th Military Police Company.

Mayan Agriculture Praised by Scientist

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Two anthropologists report that primitive farming techniques of ancient Mayan agriculture could have supported a population density greater than that of modern Mexico.

The disclosure was made by Dr. Joseph Hester Jr. and Dr. George W. Brainerd of the department of anthropology at the University of California at Los Angeles. They have studied Mayan subsistence.

The anthropologists said the Mayan civilization, centered in the hot, tropical lowlands of the Yucatan Peninsula, used a shifting, "bush-fallowing" type of agriculture.

The Mayans apparently produced enough maize, the chief staple food of the Maya, to support indefinitely a population of from 30 to 50 persons per square mile, which is greater than the population density of modern Mexico.

Thus freed from subsistence problems, the Maya were able to devote more thought to scientific and artistic accomplishments, the anthropologists said.

New Machine Aids in Blood Research

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — Human blood can be separated and its components packaged in separate containers by a machine developed by Harvard Medical School and a Cambridge industrial research firm.

The "Fractionator," as the device is called, is said to eliminate the present hazard of contamination from blood processing.

The "Fractionator" is the size of a home washing machine. Tubing and connections are of plastic rather than glass and rubber because the latter substances cause blood to adhere.

The machine will permit more research on blood's components and is expected to lead to discovery of new materials to combat disease.

Glass threads are made so fine they are barely visible.

Mrs. Eagle said they met on a bus six weeks ago and Bruce later proposed while they walked their leader dogs on the nearby Ocean Park pier.

"He's the best one-armed dog driver I ever saw," Mrs. Eagle said. "He had one arm around me and the other on the leash."

Kids Won't Want to Go Home

Your Eyes Will Bug When You See Ann Arbor's Ultra-Ultra High School

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Man—this is a high school to end all high schools.

From the minute you enter the partially completed buildings to the time you leave, you're sure that engineer Leland (Skip) Roberts is right when he says, "We didn't leave anything out."

It's the new Ann Arbor High School to be completed Jan. 2, 1956, at a cost of nearly six million dollars. It will house 1,600 students, and can take nearly 1,200 more. It is nearly a mile around the outside walls.

For instance—start in Unit "A", the first of four units.

Here, rising in a gigantic steel frame, is the gymnasium area. Careful where you step. That's the swimming pool. It starts at 3 feet and ends at 10 feet. It is 75 feet feet long and 46 feet wide.

That large room to be, paralleling the gym, is a girl's dressing room. There's another large one for boys. Then there's another for varsity teams, almost as big as the other two. Each has its own lockers and showers.

ACTIVITIES ROOM, TOO—WITH DIRT FLOOR

Under the gymnasium itself is an activities room. Here on a dirt floor, the students will build their own indoor track, boxing ring and rifle range.

Now, step this entire wing off. Big isn't it? By the way, the swimming pool is illuminated with underwater lights.

This is unit "B". This is a rather plush unit. Here is the larg 2,400-seat auditorium. That's the balcony, above is the projection booth. Of course it has its own lobby and ticket office and its only entrance. Now, what could that be on the side?

Well, that's the 266-seat Little Theater. Notice the two stages connect so that you have access to both. It depends upon how large an audience or how large a production as to which theater you use.

One thing you'll notice is that the entire project is built on rolling land, which allows many levels, all with ground floor access.

MUSICAL HEADQUARTERS WILL BE SOUNDPROOF

No. You're still in Unit "B". Down there are the choral and band rooms and the radio studio. All of them will be completely soundproofed from each other and the rest of the school.

The radio studio will be fully equipped and will govern most of the communications in the school. The band room has an interesting feature. Those are all separate soundproof cubicles on one side. They have glass doors so that the teacher can look down the entire line from his office.

Now into the school proper. Well, here in the three-story Unit "C" are classrooms to make your eyes bug out. Some of them are as large as a five-room house. Each provides the teacher with a wardrobe-sized closet.

Science, social studies, languages, mathematics and the rest are housed in this, the academic section of the building. But this also houses some features of the high school of the future.

At one end is a planetarium. The original building will not have a dome on the planetarium. That must wait for additional money in the future. There will also be a greenhouse.

All the administrative offices, including the vault and the mailing room, are in one wing of this unit.

PLAN INCLUDES 2 CAFETERIAS, KITCHENS

There is a large lobby for each separate section. Now most schools have a cafeteria and a kitchen. This one has two of each.

And this room should make most teenagers glow with envy. The girl's recreation room is separated from the east cafeteria by a folding wall. The recreation room is about 90 feet by 60 feet. One wall is completely mirrored up to the top of the door level. The walls are wood-paneled and the floors are of laid wood tile.

The adjoining east cafeteria has its own soda bar. This whole area can be used for school dances.

There is another student cafeteria which won't be used until enrollments grow. There is also a wood-paneled teacher's dining room of considerable size and a "conference" dining room for visiting dignitaries.

Off the five-story clock tower in Unit "B" is a roof-level promenade deck.

Finally, the piece de resistance; Unit "D".

Under this unit are storage rooms and receiving. There is also a large library, which can be used as a public library, and an equally large study hall. The library itself would make most communities proud.

BICYCLE PARKING AREA 100 FEET LONG

Underneath the library is also a covered area about 100 feet long for, guess what? To park bicycles.

Here is the home economics section. In one large room are individual kitchens, all completely outfitted. Aross the hall is an equally large room for the art of sewing. Adjoining the kitchen room is a completely outfitted laundry room.

Follow this way. Here is a complete apartment. This is the kitchen, completely outfitted, naturally. It opens into a spacious dining area. I-shaped off the dining area is a large living room. Then the bedroom and tiled bathroom with shower.

It is bigger than many homes. The living room has a good-sized, usable fireplace.

Pull yourself away. It's not for rent. Down the hall in a building fashioned after industrial construction with skylight roofs is the industrial arts department.

Here is a large dressing room with lockers so male students can change into overalls.

Here also are a woodworking shop, an arts shop and a painting and decorating shop.

Here's something few schools have: An automotive shop with overhead monorail cranes and tracks. An engine can be yanked here and carried into the live engine testing room by overhead lifts.

The heating plant is almost separate. It has two oil furnaces and a gas furnace. Two subterranean oil tanks hold 38,000 gallons apiece.

And supposing you don't like to get your feet wet on rainy days? Every unit is connected by tunnel. The campus covers 125 acres.

There is a school-wide telephone system and a two-way radio that can be used as a public address system.

When the tour is over "Skip" Roberts, field representative for the architects, Fulton, Krinsky & Delamotte of Cleveland, Ohio, says:

"Yes sir, I think this is the finest high school I've ever seen." And unless you have some suggestions, you just nod your head.

Why scrap free competition?

Competition Serves Consumers Best

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product

Millions of homes like yours have natural gas because more than 8,000 producers compete at great financial risk to find it and get it from the ground. The producers also compete to sell it to the pipelines who bring it to your local gas company.

Now, over the opposition of responsible groups and authorities, Federal price-fixing threatens your long-term gas supply and the very principle of free competitive production.

Read what these representative groups and individuals say:

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION
JEROME K. KUYKENDALL, CHAIRMAN

"We believe that no sound fuel policy can be erected upon such discrimination as presently exists against natural gas and in favor of other competitive fuels . . . Congress should not single out natural gas as the only one among those fuels over which an artificial ceiling should be placed." March 22, 1955.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON ENERGY SUPPLIES AND RESOURCES POLICY

"In the interest of a sound fuel policy and the protection of the national defense and consumer interests . . . we believe the Federal Government should not control the production, gathering, processing or sale of natural gas prior to its entry into an interstate transmission line." February 26, 1955.

DETROIT BOARD OF COMMERCE

"The price structure (of the gathering and production of natural gas) has always been and will continue to be controlled by the acute competition prevailing in this phase of supplying natural gas for consumer use." April 5, 1955.

AMERICAN NATIONAL CATTLEMEN'S ASSOCIATION

"Gas is an important product of ranch and farm land. This decision . . . may well be the beginning of laws to regulate all industries in this country, including the livestock industry." January 12, 1955.

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

"Since the field price of natural gas is adequately regulated by competition we favor legislation providing that field prices of natural gas shall not be regulated by the Federal Power Commission." December 16, 1954.

LEAGUE OF KANSAS MUNICIPALITIES

"The regulation by the Federal Government of the price of gas sold by independent producers and gatherers is contrary to the public interest including the interests of consumers in the municipalities who are members of this League." December 16, 1954.

MICHIGAN NATURAL GAS AND OIL RESOURCES COMMITTEE

D. W. Ferguson, Chairman

Reports Fish Catch of 83,788 Pounds

OSHKOSH, Wis. (UP) — Spear fishermen in 1954 took 83,788 pounds of sturgeon from Lake Winnebaog and three sister lakes, Poygan, Butte Des Morts and Winneconne.

The Oshkosh fisheries supervisor, Richard Harris, said the count was accurate because all anglers were obliged to register their catches this season.

The fish averaged 52 inches in length and 38 pounds in weight. The minimum legal limit was 40 inches.

An estimate for 1953, made by biologist Jim Probst, was 100,000 pounds of sturgeon, or 2,828 fish. The 1954 catch was 2,218 fish.

A LOT OF HAMBURGERS—Some 25,000 pounds of canned hamburgers, part of the U. S. Navy's controversial supply of 880,000 pounds, is checked at the U. S. Naval Supply base in Bayonne, N. J. There are 720 cases of the meat, 48 cans in a case and five hamburgers in each can. Base officials said this constitutes a two-weeks' supply at the present rate of issue. Attention was focused on the Navy's hamburger situation by a Hoover Commission report which said the Navy had enough to last 60 years.

Prepare Guide to Pennsylvania Dutch Speech

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Two professors have prepared a pronunciation guide for "Pennsylvania Dutch."

The book, entitled "A Linguistic Atlas of Pennsylvania German," was written by Lester W. Seifert of the University of Wisconsin and Carroll E. Reed of the University of Washington.

It was published by the Deutscher Sprachatlas at Marburg, Germany.

The book consists of 90 maps showing the geographic spread of certain features of pronunciation, grammar and vocabulary in Pennsylvania German, or Pennsylvania Dutch, as it is commonly known.

In addition, there are maps showing the regional distribution of eight similar traits in southwestern Germany, the area from which most of the colonial American settlers from Germany migrated.

Adenauer Wins in Local Voting

Bonn Chancellor Gets Overwhelming Support for Armament Program

MAINZ, Germany (AP) — His greatest election victory in two years last night bolstered Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's plans for speedy action on his program to arm 500,000 Germans for the Atlantic Alliance.

The state of Rhineland-Palatinate in elections yesterday gave the Chancellor's Christian Democratic party unchallenged control of the State Parliament and a stunning vote of confidence in Adenauer's policy of friendship with the free world.

It was Adenauer's biggest victory since his party won a one-vote majority in the lower house of the Federal Parliament in the 1953 national election.

The result yesterday clinched the Chancellor's vital two-thirds control of the federal upper house (Bundesrat), needed to ensure approval of the coming legislation to put rearmament into effect. Adenauer still controls 26 of the 38 Bundesrat members, who are named by the state government.

The Christian Democrats won 51 seats in the 100-member Rhineland-Palatinate legislature, the Socialists 36 and the right-wing Free Democrats 13. Neither the Communists nor the Nazi-style Free Voters' Assn. won a single seat.

Just over a million and a half of the state's two million eligible voters cast ballots. The Christian Democrats won 46.8 per cent — 741,568.

Spirited Fox Resents Losing Chicken Dinner

RUFFIN, S. C. (AP)—Take it from Essie Stephens, foxes are really aggressive in these parts.

Stephens spotted the fox stalking a fat hen. He picked up a stick to chase it away but the determined animal dashed for him, sank his teeth in his trouser leg and held on snarlingly while Stephens ran. fox attached, to the house for a heavier weapon.

It finally took an axe to kill it.

It'll Be New Anyhow

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police Dept. receptionist Barbara Suchowski says her name doesn't sound so good when she answers the telephone. But she's going to fix that. When she marries this spring, it will be Cegielski.

Hal Boyle Says:

Houseflies Getting Tougher All the Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Everyone knows American people are getting healthier. But did you know American houseflies are getting tougher and more durable, too?

They are so rugged now that Herbert F. Tomasek of Pittsburgh is employing a variant of a German wartime nerve gas as the killing agent in a new fly trap he developed.

Tomasek, who spent a year perfecting his trap, known as the "fly-charmer," learned a great deal about houseflies during experiments in which he reared, then trapped and killed more than 150,000 insects at the rate of 5,000 a week.

"We found, for example," he remarked, "that it is easier to trap male flies than female flies, and that flies are somewhat color conscious. They are attracted to a black landing surface but repelled by a yellow colored one."

Ten years ago the world was hopeful that DDT promised to spell the doom of the household fly. Unfortunately, DDT resistant strains of flies now have developed.

"It is doubtful if any one chemical agent will ever prove the final answer," Tomasek said. "Twenty years from now we'll still be looking for new ones. There'll never be a surer way to kill a fly than to hit him with a swatter, but that does take a lot of time and manpower."

Over the years inventors have probably come up with as many different kinds of fly traps as they have can openers.

Tomasek, general manager of the Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical Co. agriculture chemical division, set out in September 1944 to design still another fly trap using as the lethal ingredient a new insecticide called L13-59 or Dipterex. It is an organic phosphonate developed by Dr. Gerhard Schrader, a German scientist. Operating on the same principle as nerve gas, it destroys the fly by attacking its central nervous system.

"But it is only mildly toxic to human beings," Tomasek said. "A 200-pound man would have to drink 60 bottles of the insecticide to get a fatal dose."

Early in the 20th century glass fly traps baited with beer and sugar were common. Tomasek experimented with the same principle, but sought to employ psychology to create a trap that would be even mentally attractive to flies.

He feels his fly trap is the first that has landing fields especially geared to the fly's own preferences. In essence it is a bottle with a pylon in the center around which are four flat black landing surfaces in tiers. The tiers are baited with insecticide mixed with a perfumed sugar base to attract the insects.

"We discovered the flies preferred horizontal landing surfaces rather than vertical or sloping surfaces," he said.

"Flies land, ingest the bait and die within 40 seconds. Flies ordinarily live about 20 days. We found it harder to kill a 4-day-old fly than an 8-day-old one. But oddly, a 15-day-old fly was harder to trap than either."

His explanation for this anomaly is that the older flies aren't necessarily either wiser or senile. They simply are probably less adventurous or are less moved by hunger. The average fly seeks a new meal about every three hours.

Why is it easier to trap male than female flies?

"The male flies roam more," said Tomasek. "They are looking for girl friends as well as food. The female flies seem to move about only when in search of food. They don't search for boy friends. They let the gentlemen of the species do the courting."

Tomasek doesn't expect his "fly-charmer" or any other manmade flytrap will rid the earth of musca domestica, the common housefly.

"All you can do is keep them in check in a given area," he said. "It is unlikely that man will ever find a way to get rid of all insect pests. This is as much the age of insects, historically speaking, as it is the age of man.

"Someone has figured that if all the insects in the world were put on one end of a giant teeter-totter, and all other forms of animal life, including man, were put on the other end, the insects would outweigh them.

"No, we'll hardly wipe out the housefly in our lifetime. "For several years the number of flies has been actually increasing."

A CRUISE TO HAWAII—1

The Hawaiian islands, which may become our forty-ninth state some day, were formed by the tops of volcanoes which rose from the middle of the Pacific Ocean.

So lovely are the eight largest and most important isles, filled with trees and flowers of many kinds, that they have been called the Paradise of the Pacific. Almost every ship that sails the Pacific stops there.

A Spaniard first discovered the islands in 1555. An Englishman, Captain James Cook, visited them in 1778 and called them the Sandwich Islands, after a nobleman. The present name, Hawaii, comes from the native word for "Big Island" — Owyhee.

At one time, Hawaii had an independent government with its own constitution, but in 1898 the United States took formal possession and made it a territory. The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in Hawaii brought America into World War II.

Here is a view of Hawaii through the porthole of a ship. As you steam into Honolulu Harbor, you might see the famous Diamond Head. The young girl in the drawing shows some of the region's beautiful orchids. Color this picture as the first of a week-long cruise to Hawaii.

Tomorrow: Fishing off Oahu.

Arthur Godfrey Tells His Story in Exclusive Interview

(Editor's Note: Arthur Godfrey now speaks—fully, frankly and freely—about dramatic incidents in his life and what his mercurial career has cost him. Following is the first of five articles.)

By CHARLES P. ARNOT

NEW YORK (INS)—"I feel I must get on the record and tell the truth once and for all—and then shut up."

That's how Arthur Godfrey began.

Nearly six hours later he had finished the story that has made him the most controversial star in radio and TV today.

He told it in full for the first time in an exclusive interview—the complete Godfrey story of his familiar "family" headliners.

"You know," he looked up, "I have no talent. I'm not a singer, a musician or an acrobat. The only way I could do something in this business was to be someone you could depend upon. It's only natural that some think this is phony."

"But it's a great personal satisfaction to me to know that I've been on the level all these years with all those people," and he gestured toward the TV set against one wall of the little office.

SHOWS DO GOOD

"With that kind of acceptance, it's been possible for us to do a lot of good things. We can help sell more people on aviation. We can help such worthy causes as the fight against polio and cerebral palsy—and for the cause of interracial brotherhood."

He proudly reeled off the names of Eddie Fisher, Rosemary Clooney, Vic Damone, the McGuire Sisters and Frank Guarrera—just a few of the many successful graduates of his Monday "Talent Scouts" show.

"That's another satisfaction. I've been able to help a lot of youngsters on their way up. I'm not taking any credit for their talent. They had it. But if I hadn't had the show, they might not have had a chance to show it when they did."

"I told CBS that if I didn't get a night-time show, I was going to leave them. When you have a demonstrated audience, you are the power in this business. Having no talent, I had to demonstrate to CBS and the sponsors that I could sell their merchandise. Lots of guys still don't believe it's possible for people to continue listening when you give them the truth."

BERATES SELF

"I keep berating myself that I don't do the job I could do," he said. "The thing I probably hate the most is the amount of time I have to spend on necessary trivia."

It was mention of this "necessary trivia" that brought Godfrey around to his controversial "firings."

"I have no vindictiveness. I don't want to hurt any of those kids who worked with me. And the last thing I want is pity. But every time one of these things comes up, the whole untrue past is dug up again and printed all over.

"I've learned that many times you just shut up about things and you are better off. I know this will stir up a storm. But I now think it should go on the record—and if you have any doubt about the story I'm telling you, I'll dig up anyone you want."

NO ONE TOLD TRUTH

"The only regret I have is that the people who have done all this did not speak up with the truth. La Rosa knows. Archie Bleyer knows. Larry Puck knows. They all know it. But they never came out and said anything. That's the part that hurts me."

* * *

"But you can't kid the people," he said. "They can see that television screen every day, and I defy anybody who is doing an unrehearsed show to live a lie and hide it."

He's also reserved a few choice words about his portrayal as "family" patch-up artist, as in the case of singer Dottie McGuire and her sergeant husband, John H. Brown.

Godfrey says the "outright lies" in this case have wrecked both their lives—"a terrible thing."

When it comes to the personal affairs of any of his "family," Godfrey's purring baritone turns staccato.

LOVE IS WONDERFUL

"Every time something happens, they haul out the La Rosa case and say I'm against love. How do you like that? Why, I'm a guy who thinks love is a wonderful commodity."

It was the well-publicized "firing" of singer Julius La Rosa from the Godfrey show in October 1953, that touched off a whole series of front-page controversies over Godfrey and his radio-TV "gang."

Out of the La Rosa case, of course, came all those bad jokes about "humility." As for the young singer, he's gone on to become a top-moneyed headliner as a free-lance TV, nightclub and recording star.

Godfrey still calls La Rosa a "nice kid." But he still can't understand why Julius didn't speak up when—as Godfrey says—he "knew the headlines weren't telling the truth."

For the first time, Godfrey himself told the La Rosa story for publication:

MEETS LA ROSA

"I picked La Rosa up when he was in the Navy. I heard him sing once, and told him to come around and see me about a job when he got out of the service. He did. He could sing—not too good then. He was awkward. But he was a nice kid.

" 'Look kid,' I told him that first day. 'You can have this job as long as you don't change. The people like you as you are. All I want you to do is to improve yourself. Take some singing and dancing lesson.'

"I try to get everybody who works for me to improve himself. But one day this boy began rebelling against discipline. He and the Mariners (the singing quartet since dropped), didn't want to take dancing lessons. La Rosa wanted to practice being awkward. He even got to missing rehearsals.

"He was only making $1,200 a week, but that was not enough. He could go out and make $4,000."

Then one day, Godfrey recalls, he received a letter. It was signed by La Rosa, but Godfrey says he could see it had been written by the young singer's manager.

AGENT TAKES OVER

"That letter informed me that in the future I had to see La Rosa through his manager—and only through the manager. Well, I'm not just about to deal with my own staff through agents.

"I released him on the air, wished him the best and gave him God's blessing. I'd do the same thing under the same circumstances again. I didn't fire him.

"After the show, La Rosa came up to me and said: 'Gee, thanks. You gave me not one, but two breaks.' He thanked me for putting him on the show in the first place and for releasing him from his contract which had another five years to run. We shook hands and he walked out of my office smiling through the tears in his eyes.

"It wasn't until sometime later I learned that only a few minutes later La Rosa announced in my outer office that he was 'bewildered' and 'confused.' Isn't it a strange coincidence that these are the very same words Larry Puck was supposed to have said to the newspapermen last December?"

STORY BREAKS

"Well, someone then got hold of La Rosa and cooked up this whole thing of a love affair with Dottie McGuire. The story breaks in big headlines that Godfrey, the monster, has fired La Rosa to break up this affair."

At the time, Dottie's husband was off fighting the war in Korea and their marital future was uncertain.

"I first heard about the romance angle the next morning in the papers. I called Dottie McGuire immediately. She told me that she and La Rosa were friends, but there was no romance. After all this publicity broke, they did go together, but that was after La Rosa left the show.

Godfrey says the whole thing was revived in a new distortion when they went to Miami last January. He calls it "The Case of the McGuire Sisters." This is how he tells it:

PLANS FLORIDA TRIP

"One day after we had been working pretty hard, I suggested to the McGuire sisters that we go to Florida and make some movies for the show. We could combine work with some fishing, get some sunshine and have some fun for a change."

It was a couple of days later, Godfrey recalls, that Phyllis McGuire announced that her husband, Neil Van Ells, was coming to New York from Cincinnati.

"She suggested he come along—and what about the other husbands, too? So it was all arranged. Chris McGuire would bring her husband (John Teeter of the Runyon Cancer Fund), Dottie would bring along husband Johnny (Brown) and my secretary, Mary Ann Van, would make up the party with her husband"

Then at the last minute, Godfrey recalls, the husbands of Christine McGuire and Mary Ann Van couldn't go—so the two girls shared one room. That still left three Godfreys and a party of six, including the Browns (Dottie) and Van Elles (Phyllis). With Arthur were his pretty wife, Mary, and 13-year-old daughter, Pat.

DENIES CUPID ROLE

"We made the movies and had a lot of fun. And what did the headlines say? 'Godfrey Fails as Cupid.'

"I was supposed to have spirited the McGuires to Florida and tried to get Dottie and her husband together again—but I was supposed to have failed.

The redhead has his own vivid memories of the "humility" business. It all erupted when Godfrey told an audience of newspapermen in his office two days after La Rosa's departure that the young singer had lost his down-to-earth quality better known as "humility."

"What they did with that word! Why they don't dare use it in church anymore."

He has his own definition today "Humility is something that if you know you got it, you ain't."

Top Male Singers Need 'Breaks'

By DICK KLEINER
(First of Three Articles)

NEW YORK (NEA) — It takes more than a voice to be a chanter—a big-time male singer. In fact, a really great voice is something of a handicap. To reach the well-paying pinnacle of crooning success takes an adequate, distinctive voice, a good press agent—and mostly, the breaks.

Breaks like these:

Bob Hope happened to wander into a Greenwich Village night-club (and thus discovered Tony Bennett).

A phone call from New York to Canonsburg, Pa., came at just the right time (and not three hours later, by which time Perry Como would have signed a long-term lease on a barber shop).

Harry James, Benny Goodman's trumpet star, decided it was time to form a new band (and happened to see a young singer named Frank Sinatra at the same time).

Eddie Cantor needed a vacation (and picked a resort where a kid named Eddie Fisher was appearing).

There are dozens of great singers out of work, hundreds clamoring for auditions, thousands eking out a living singing in roadhouses and cheap nightclubs. How come Bennett, Como, Sinatra, Fisher and the handful of top stars made it and these others didn't? They got the breaks.

This is not to say the Chanters on top today aren't talented. They have to be or the public wouldn't accept them.

But many of the others are just as talented—maybe more so. They just haven't been at the right place at the right time.

BAD BREAKS, TOO

Eddie Fisher got his good breaks, like most of the stars, after a long string of bad ones. Once, for example, he was singing on a radio station in his home town, Philadelphia. He got an audition with a barnstorming band led by Ray Beduke. He was great. Beduke liked him. It was all set for Fisher to join the band in a few days.

Eddie sat by the phone, waiting for the call. The phone didn't ring. It wasn't until weeks later—sad depressed weeks—that he learned the reason.

The band had broken up just before it reached Philly again.

And then there was the time he got a record contract. He was only 18, and he'd just finished a 13-week stint at the Copacabana as a production singer. People heard him and there he was where he'd always dreamed of being—making a record. It was just a small spot on a Columbia record with the Marlin Sisters, but it was a record.

HARMONICA ONLY

There was just one trouble—one bad break. It was during the musicians' strike, and the record just had a harmonica background and it went nowhere.

But then, one day, out of a clear blue Catskill sky, came the good break. Eddie Cantor came to Grossinger's, a Catskill Mountain resort, and heard Eddie sing. He took him with him on a tour and helped him to his RCA contract. And that break paid off.

It was the same sort of good break for Tony Bennett, when Bob Hope heard him singing in a Greenwich Village night-club. He was just singing one number—the production number — but Hope liked him.

And, like Cantor with Fisher, he was going on tour and needed a young male singer.

Bennett's break led to another one. On that Hope tour, Mitch Miller of Columbia records heard him and signed him to a record contract. Miller just "happened" to hear him.

Perry Como has had his good and bad breaks, too. He was making a pretty good living—for Canonsburg, Pa., anyhow — at barbering.

He had his own shop and netted $125 a week. And he sang at local affairs. Then, more or less on a dare, he auditioned for a spot with a Cleveland band. And he landed it and decided to give singing a fling. He could always go back to cutting hair.

NINE YEARS TOURING

He sang with bands for nine years, the last seven with Ted Weems. When the Weems band broke up, in '42, he decided he'd had enough one-nighters and long bus rides. He was going to sign a lease on a new barber shop—when a call came from New York.

They were offering him a CBS radio show. He debated a while, then took it (he could always open up another barber shop).

That was his break. From then it's been onward and upward. And now he's one of the tops in the world. He can always open up the barber shop.

Frank Sinatra is generally recognized as the best chanter of them all. But it took a great big break for him to get widespread public exposure without which a singer is just another unemployment check.

SINGING WAITER

He'd been struggling for years. He'd won amateur hour contests, done countless radio shows, sung in night-clubs. In fact he was a $25-a-week singing headwaiter at a New Jersey club when the fates finally smiled.

This was in June, 1938, and Harry James had decided to leave Benny Goodman and start his own band.

While he was thinking about the big move he just "happened" to catch Sinatra's turn at that night-club. He signed him. They toured the country, until the James outfit ran into booking trouble in Los Angeles. And it "happened" that Tommy Dorsey's band was there, too, with an opening for a singer.

SWOONING CHAMP

James let Sinatra out of his contract. Frank went with Dorsey. And he made the records that turned him, within a few years, into the man who made swooning a national pastime.

Things have to "happen" before a chanter becomes a star.

Tomorrow: It's a tough pull.

FRANK SINATRA—Fate smiled on a singing headwaiter.

TONY BENNETT — First Hope, and then record man Miller.

EDDIE FISHER AND FANS — Before the autograph stretch, a long stretch of waiting.

Russians Believed Outproducing U. S. in Supersonic Jet Fighter Planes

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intelligence reports indicate that Russia has increased her lead over the United States in numbers of supersonic jet fighters, officials said today.

This, coupled with recent Russian strides in heavy bomber production, has alerted the U. S. Air Force to think about more planes than originally scheduled for the 137-wing force.

Secret information received in Washington indicates that the Red air force has several thousand MIG 17s that are considered to be in a class with the American Super Sabre. The latter has a known speed of 850 miles per hour.

Against the several thousand supersonic fighters American intelligence believes the Russians already have in operation, the Air Force and Navy fighters capable of exceeding the speed of sound in level flight total only a few hundred.

United States policy and strategy has for a long time discarded the concept of matching plane for plane, man for man or tank for tank with the Russians. The American accent has been on quality and the highest standards of performance for the men who must operate the weapons and machines of the atomic age.

In one category, however, the United States got off to a long lead and has held it over the Russians. That is in the field of medium jet bombers.

The U. S. Air Force already has more than 1,000 B47 jet bombers capable of carrying the most lethal weapons so far developed. The United States knows also that the heavy Russian emphasis upon building up a jet fighter-interceptor is directly traceable to the American emphasis upon bombers.

Soon after the outbreak of war in Korea, the United States was surprised by the numbers of MIG 15s the Russians were able to make available to their Communist Chinese allies. American technical men still say that the Korean War MIG was an excellent plane despite the historical fact that F86 pilots knocked them down at a ratio of better than 13-1.

One of the big facts that stands out in the recent intelligence reports and has Washington technicians thinking seriously is the known fact that the T37 heavy Russian bomber is powered by only four jet engines. Its American counterpart, the B52, has twice that number of engines, leading to the conclusion that the Russians have succeeded in building into their engines much more power than the United States has so far succeeded in doing.

* * *

The Russians are also known to have developed a counterpart for the B47 medium jet bomber. But there is no indication that the Reds have succeeded in outstripping American production of this type of plane, which is now the backbone of the Strategic Air Command. With such Navy planes as the Douglas Skywarrior, these medium bombers would carry the brunt of any stragegy of massive retaliation the United States might employ in event of all-out war.

Congress Okays Pay Increases

Salary Hikes Top List of Bills Passed Last Week in Capitol

Virginia's Only Civil War Vet 109 Years Old

FT. BLACKMORE, Va. (AP)—Virginia's only living Confederate veteran has passed another milestone, complete with a three-tier birthday cake, a new hat and greetings from the President of the United States and the governor of Virginnia.

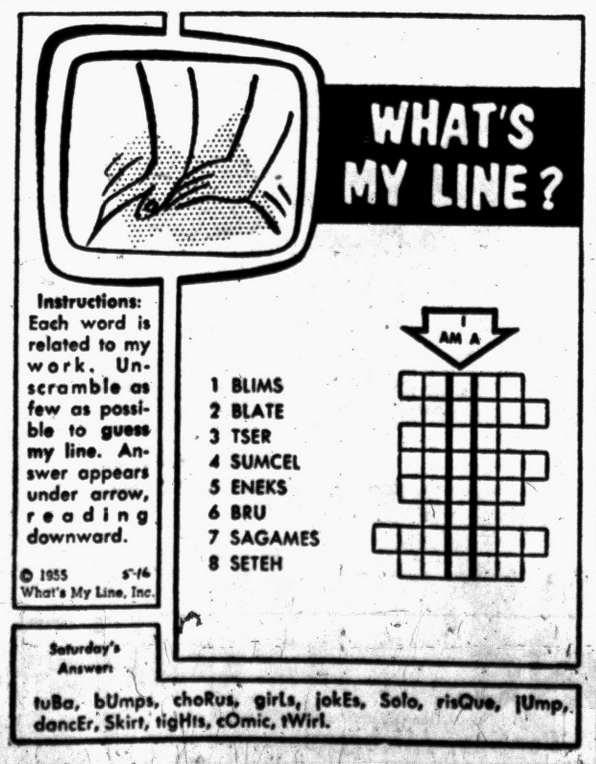

"Gen." John B. Salling was 109 yesterday. He sat on the porch of the home he shares with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hughie McKaney, and passed the time of day with the friends, visitors and well-wishers who were coming and going most of the day.

The peppery old gentleman, one of four survivors of the Civil War—three are Confederates — was decked out in a Confederate uniform given him several years ago. He wore plenty of medals, most of them souvenirs of reunions of Confederate veterans he has attended.

His cake was a surprise, the gift of a Bristol bakery. It contained 109 candles. The hat, with a wide brim like he wanted, was the gift of a Bristol department store.

He rarely is seen without a hat. He says this plus the fact he "never washed it" has kept his hair black.

The "general" is merely an honorary "title."

New Nerve Gas So Deadly Droplet in Eye Can Kill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nerve gas is so deadly that a single droplet in the eye of a person can kill him, a military publication disclosed today.

This new clue to the potency of the silent, unseen, mass destruction weapon is contained in a Chemical Warfare Service handbook. The booklet outlines first aid treatment for laboratory workers who might accidentally become exposed to the material, which can have the form of either a gas or a liquid.

Nerve or "G" gas now is in the chemical warfare arsenals of the United States and other military powers.

The Chemical Warfare Service, in an earlier, general discussion of the weapon, said nerve gas is "designed to destroy life with suddenness." The "G" gas is being produced at the Rocky Mountain arsenal of the Army in Colorado.

The first aid handbook was prepared at the laboratories of the Army Chemical Center, Edgewood Arsenal, Md.

The antidote emphasized is atropine, either injected or taken by tablet. Atropine is a common drug —related to belladona—used to relieve spasms and pain to diminish excessive secretions, such as saliva.

Cutter Acted Post-Haste in Polio Vaccine Crisis

By RENNIS TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—If you were a manufacturer of polio vaccine and some of the 500,000 children inoculated with your product started coming down with infantile paralysis, what would you do?

You probably would move fast, just as Cutter Laboratories did, to prevent any further use of the material.

First, Cutter called the news services, then the radio and television stations, then the newspapers. Also the firm notified its distribution centers and sales offices across the country, asking them to call in all supplies and pass the word to all users.

All this was done, Cutter officials reported, within 38 minutes after receiving word from the U.S. Public Health Service temporarily withdrawing approval of the Cutter product.

There was no evidence then, and nothing conclusive even yet, that the Cutter vaccine was at fault, although a Public Health Service official at Hamilton, Mont., Dr. Carl Ecklund, reported evidence "pointing strongly to the Cutter vaccine as the cause" of polio cases among vaccinated children in Idaho.

The final verdict on the Cutter vaccine awaits reports from the National Institutes of Health, an arm of the Public Health Service, which quickly put investigators into the Cutter plant here and started tests of its own elsewhere.

Reactions of Cutter research scientists and other workers reflected a firm disbelief that their vaccine could have caused the infections.

Dr. Robert K. Cutter, company president, who directed the high-speed withdrawal, said:

"I felt that if our vaccine were responsible for cases then reported it would be in spite of the greatest care of one of the most competent scintific staffs working on this complex problem."

A stream of telegrams and letters fell upon the company a few days after the withdrawal was announced. Only half of 2 per cent of them were critical, said Fred Cutter, vice president and secretary.

In all the feverish activity around the plant growing out of the polio incident there was no sign of panic. Company employes had Cutter vaccine injected into 465 of their children soon after the product was initially approved for use. None had trouble.

The laboratory went right on making polio vaccine and some 350 other products, some of which it has been producing for nearly half a century. There has been no letdown in demand for other Cutter products, Fred Cutter said.

Company officials rely on the care taken in production of the vaccine. Here is the way the laboratory describes the final tests for safety and effectiveness:

After the virus is grown in a solution containing monkey kidney tissue as the main nutrient, it is filtered off and dosed with formaldehyde. This is supposed to kill or inactivate the live viruses.

While the main batch of inactivated virus is frozen to prevent any further change, samples of it are put into test tubes along with more monkey kidney tissue and placed in an incubator. If there are any live viruses present, they should resume their growth. If there is no growth under this favorable condition, the batch then is tested on live monkeys for safety and ability to produce antibodies.

It takes 30 monkeys and 24 days to test each batch. Into the brain tissues of 18 of the monkeys a sample of the batch is injected. After a wait of several days these monkeys are killed and their spinal cords are examined for any signs of damage by polio virus.

The other 12 monkeys are given injections into their muscles. From the muscles the vaccine finds its way into the blood stream, which either produced antibodies or carries the vaccine to the place where antibodies are made. After many days the blood is checked for antibodies, the trade-mark of its effectiveness.

If any of these 12 monkeys shows a sign of reaction, polio or otherwise, it is sacrificed.

Only when the whole series of tests are okay, the material is finally stored under refrigeration. A sample of it, together with a photostatic record of the production and testing, is sent to the National Institutes of Health for approval. It is released when that agency approves it.

Records such as this, along with a 50-year history of producing vaccines and other biological materials, give the firm its basis for standing pat. In all that time it has had only one other incident. In 1949, some of its solutions for injection into the veins became contaminated with bacteria. The material was banned by the government as dangerous to health. The company paid a $600 fine and developed a new type of bottle stopper which it said prevented any recurrence of the trouble.

Three sons of the founder now operate the Cutter firm. Besides Dr. Robert Cutter and Fred Cutter, there is Edward A. Cutter, executive vice president. Their mother Mrs. Margaret K. Cutter is chairman of the board.

Last year the company's net sales were about 15 million dollars. It has about 1,100 employes.

Carolina Makes Plans for Celebration—in 1985

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Southerners may stand accused of moving at an unhurried pace, but nobody is going to accuse the North Carolina Senate of wasting time getting started.

Senate Plans Probe of Defense Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Senate investigation reminiscent of the "5 per center" probes conducted during the Truman administration is in the making.

Starting Wednesday, the Senate Investigations subcommittee will hold public hearings in an inquiry described by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) over the weekend as involving "corruption" in clothing contracts for the armed forces.

He said the gift of at least one home freezer had been disclosed in testimony already taken behind closed doors, but he added, "It goes beyond that to actual cash payments."

Gifts of home freezers figured in a 1949 investigation the subcommittee made of influence peddlers and persons dealing with the government for private interests for a fee, often 5 per cent.

Contracts totaling several million dollars for white sailor hats, raincoats, garrison caps and other clothing items are involved in the present investigation, McClellan said.

Break Floods Plant

CHICAGO (AP)—A 48-inch water main burst and spilled a small flood which forced the overnight shutdown of U. S. Steel's giant South Side plant. Polite Gunmen Provide Liquor

Serve Drinks to Their Victims After Tying Them Up in Robbery

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two polite gunmen served drinks as they bound five persons with neckties and robbed them of $300 in a fashionable Bel-Air section home.

Police said no one was home when intruders cut a screen yesterday and entered the home of Julius Fligelman, 58, wealthy furniture manufacturer.

The pair, attempting to leave with a quantity of liquor, were surprised by Fligelman's niece, Miss Toni Barron, 27, and her fiance, Charles Stein, 30, Beverly Hills builder.

Miss Barron said the gunmen served drinks for her and Stein as they ordered them into a closet and bound them with neckties.

A maid, Mrs. Vera Kaipel, 53, returned home and was also bound. The Fligelmans arrived next but before they were tied with the others Mrs. Fligelman managed to trip a button that alerted a special Bel - Air police patrol.

Patrolman John W. Hale arrived and arrested a man booked later as James Malcolm Griffith, 26, of suburban Artesia, on suspicion of armed robbery.

Police said one man escaped out the back door with $300 taken from the victims' purses.

"Bonanzagram"

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press May 27.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 11 is published Friday, May 27. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 11

The Jones twins, going on thirteen, were left all alone one Saturday when their parents drove off to market early. The boys decided that a meeting of the Davy Crockett Club was in order and invited all the gang over by telephone. Unfortunately, the meeting turned into a cowboys-and-Indians battle and the boys created considerable havoc. They opened cans of paint and stuff stored in the shed, and did a good deal of damage to the contents of the barn and garage. Even the house was messed up. One of the twins was so frightened by the sight of the wreckage that he ran off to his secret hideaway in the woods. The other stayed to face the music, and that afternoon, urged on by worried parents, he dashed off a quick note for his brother and deposited it in their favorite mailbox — a hollow tree. When the boy picked up the note, it had been nibbled at by a chipmunk or squirrel, and some of it was missing. But he was able to read it, and decided it was all right to return home. Can you, too, reproduce the message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Salesman Faces Murder Charge

Claims Fatal Shot Fired by Accident From Window

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — A young textbook salesman, whose parents are members of the Harvard University faculty, was scheduled to be given a hearing today on a murder charge.

Richard Kluckhohn, 21, of Evanston, Ill., was charged in the bizarre Friday-the-13th shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, an Arlington, Va., government worker.

Howard Manning, of Raleigh, attorney for Kluckhohn, said he planned to offer a motion in City Court that the murder charge be dismissed. He contended the shooting was accidental.

Police said the shot, fired from a German Luger, came from a hotel room overlooking a parking lot where Miss Seawell was standing. Miss Seawell, who had accompanied her sister from Sanford on a shopping trip, collapsed and died almost instantly.

Young Kluckhohn, described as a brilliant student who had graduated from the University of Chicago when he was 18, was arrested about 3½ hours later in Chapel Hill, 29 miles from Raleigh.

Kluckhohn's attorney said the youth had no indication the woman had been hit until he was arrested. Manning added, "It was a case of an 'unloaded gun.' "

Kluckhohn's father Dr. Clyde Kay Maben Kluckhohn, an anthropologist, arrived here yesterday by plane from California, where he has been engaged in research. Mrs. Kluckhohn, a lecturer in sociology at Harvard, came by plane from Cambridge, Mass.

Young Kluckhohn's fiancee Miss Ellen Waldron, 21, a graduate student of the University of Chicago, came here Saturday to be with him. She and his parents visited him yesterday in jail.

Quick-Draw Contest Ends in Boy's Death

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy was critically wounded yesterday in a fast-draw contest with another teen-ager using .22 caliber pistols.

The shooting victim was Wilbur Frederickson. The other contestant Thomas Matter, also 16, has been charged with disorderly conduct.

Matter said his weapon was discharged accidentally when he and young Frederickson went for their pistols on a signal by the "referee," Arthur Kidder, also 16.

Police said Kidder corroborated Matter's statement.

20 Year Old Heir Killed in Accident

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—A 20 year old heir to $3,400,000 was killed yesterday when his car crashed into a bridge 15 miles west of Junction City.

John W. Baughman II was willed half of his grandfathers estate, appraised at $6,808,080 last December. It was to be held in trust until he was 35. Four nieces and a nephew now may share in the $3,400,000.

Baughman, a Kansas State college student whose home was at Liberal, Kan., was alone in the car. Officers said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

PHS Wins Regional, Qualifies 19 for State Meet

By H. GUY MOATS

YPSILANTI — For the 8th straight time this spring Pontiac's high school track team has returned a victory, and with a surprisingly high total. Coach Wally Schloerke's thinclads overpowered a field of six other schoolboy teams Saturday at Michigan State Normal College field here, to compile 95 points against 34 for Ypsilanti, next in line in the Class A (MHSAA) regional test.

The PHS athletes also hung up three new meet records. They erased a former Chief star's low hurdles mark of 20.3, set in 1954; wiped out a high hurdle mark, set in 1946 by Thomas of Flint Central, and established a new medley relay record. Incidentally the medley team has broken more meet marks this year than any other division of the squad.

Ed Ringgold's hurdles time was replaced by Willie Wilson's 20.2 second effort. Hayes Jones cut the high sticks mark from 15.3 to 14.8, while the medley team whipped around the half mile in 2.30.2 to erase a Saginaw team's mark of 2:32.5. Archie Brooks, Wilson, Charles Spann and James Shorter made up the quartet.

Standings of other Class A teams included:

Ypsilanti 34; Lincoln Park 25½; Wyandotte 23; Wayne 10½; Waterford 9 and Allen Park 4.

Chiefs qualified 19 for the state MHSAA meet at Lansing on Saturday.

While Hayes Jones continued to set the team scoring pace with 17 points with 1sts in the high hurdles and broad jump, plus a 2nd in the low hurdles, and 3rd in high jump, the big, outstanding performance of the PHS team was that of Rodney Treals.

Rod was running the 2nd section of the half mile. He had led the pack to the far turn. Then along came little Ralph Harper of Ypsi. Harper passed Rod but as he did so ran too close and Treals stepped on the heel of his right shoe. The shoe caught on Treals's spikes and nearly threw the Pontiac boy, who stumbled, then went on.

Limping badly, but game to the core Treals finished the race and came within inches of catching Harper at the line. Examination showed Rod's left ankle badly sprained, and swollen to twice its normal size.

Bill Douglas won the other half mile section, close to record time, with Norris Jackson, converted 440 man, a very close 2nd.

Meet officials and others believed that Treals would have won the event but for the incident. Schloerke was hopeful he would be in shape for the state meet. Immediate treatment and bandaging was given at the field.

Among the outstanding performances of the day, for Pontiac were those by high jumpers Hudson Ray, who won the event at 6 feet ¾ inch, Alex Barge 2nd and Hayes Jones 3rd, for a 12 point total.

Chiefs also qualified three pole vaulters. George Thrasher, Frank Whitlock and Ted Munger tied for 3rd place behind Lincoln Park's Jim Robinson, 1st at 11 feet 6 inches and Wyandotte's Gary Collins.

Jackson, a converted 440 man, surprised his teammates with his 2nd place in the 1st half mile. He was right on Douglas's heels at the finish.

Perry Williams' mile victory in the fast time of 4:37.6 was only 2 tenths of a second off the meet record, but Gene Cretal's 3rd place finish was also a bright spot. Gene turned 4:41.4.

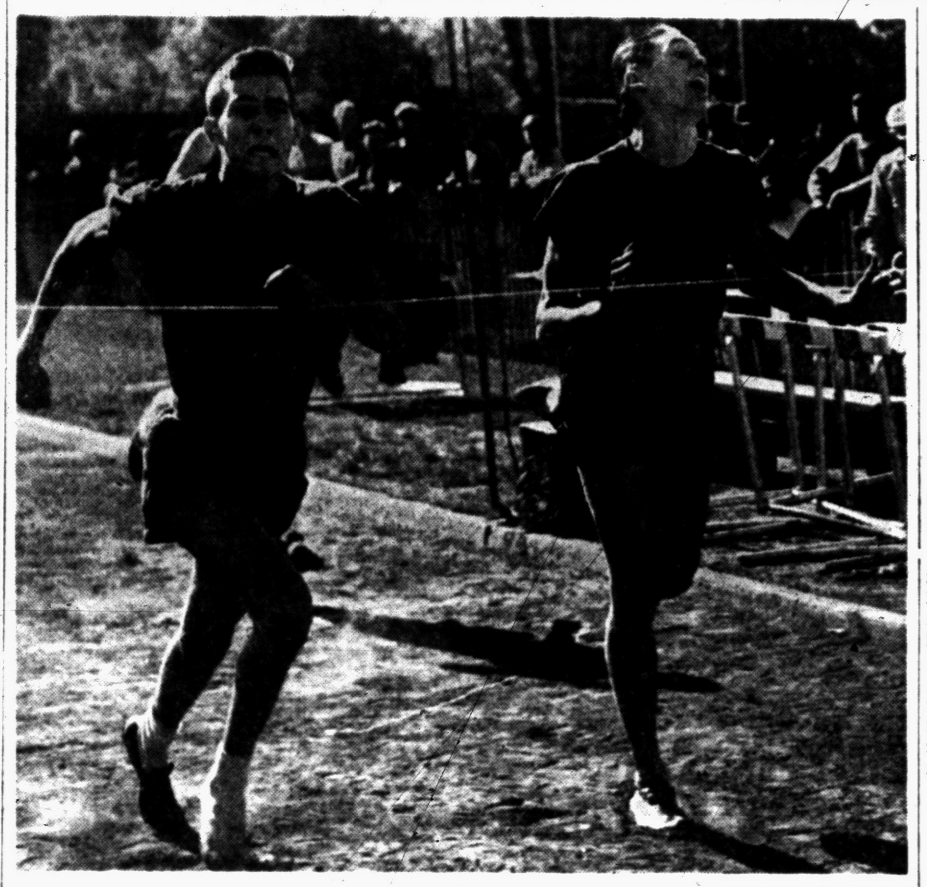

Chiefs failed to qualify only in the 100. E. J. Harris, brother of former PHS star, Alonzo Harris, was 4th in the event. Alonzo, (1953) and Walt Beach (1951) both Pontiac aces of the past, share the meet record of 10 seconds flat.

Pontiac's qualifiers include: Harris (220); Wilson and Jones (low hurdles) Jones and James Taylor (high hurdles); Charles Robinson (440); Douglas, Jackson, Treais (half mile); Williams, Cretal (mile); Brooks, Wilson, Spann, Shorter (medley relay); Herb Butler (shot); Thrasher, Munger, Whitlock (vault); Ray, Barge, Jones (high jump); Jones, Harris (broad jump), and the 880 relay team of Wilson, Shorter, Robinson and Spann.

In other divisions of the regional River Rouge won in Class B (48½ points); Hudson in Class C (24½ points) one-half point over A. E. Smith.

Waterford collected 9 points in Class A, with a 2nd place in the half mile relay, 3rd in the medley and a 4th in the high hurdles (Laine Hetherington).

Walled Lake had 14 points in "B" and Farmington 13.

NEW MARK—Another new mark for the MHSAA regional meet at Ypsilanti, was Hayes Jones' 14.8 seconds (former mark 15.3) for the high sticks. Hayes is shown at the finish, about 5 yards ahead of 2nd place Jimmy Taylor, also of Pontiac. Both outdistanced rest of the field. Jones was top Class A pointmaker, with 17. Pontiac won the meet with 95 points.

RECORD — One of three regional track records set by PHS thinclads, Saturday at Ypsilanti, was that of Willie Wilson in the low hurdles. Wilson hit 20.2 seconds to clip a tenth of a second off Ed Ringgold's (PHS boy) 1954 mark. Above, Wilson had just cleared the last hurdle and was on his way to the finish line.

Golliday Matches World's 100 Mark in Blistering 9.3

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Golliday ran a world record-matching :09.3 century in the Big Ten Relays Saturday but it won't even be a Big Ten record.

The Northwestern University junior's performance will be submitted for acceptance as a world record-equalling feat and Golliday's coach, Russell Walter, said, "I don't see how it cannot be approved."

But it can not go into the Big Ten record book because it was not made in a championship meet, as the conference rules require.

The 24-year-old Chicago Negro equalled the recognized world record set by Southern California's Mel Patton in 1948 and equalled by Australia's Hector Hogan last year. It was a tenth of a second better than Jesse Owens' 20-year-old Big Ten record.

Terming Golliday "the fastest human in the world today," Walter said, "The wind velocity was certified as 3.32 miles per hour at his back (the allowable maximum is 4.07 m.p.h.). Five watches were on him, two catching him at :09.2; two more at :09.3 and the other at :09.4.

Golliday remarked, "It was the finest start I've ever made and the only complaint I have is that I would have liked the temperature about 20 degrees higher, around 90."

Golliday, married and the father of a baby daughter, won the NCAA and Big Ten 100 titles in 1952 but a leg injury kept him out of the Olympics. The next year he entered the Army and competed on service teams. He was unbeaten in 18 starts at 200 meters during a Scandinavian tour.

PHS Nine Wins Twin Victory Over Wolves

Bay City Swamped in 1st Tilt 15-5, Puts Up Fight in 3-2 'Cap

Two very welcome victories were added to the season's string Saturday for Pontiac High School's nine. Chiefs turned back Bay City Wolves 15-5 in a wild slugging bee for the opening win. Then they ran into a much tougher crew in the nightcap, scraping by with a single run margin, 3-2.

Where Pontiac jumped all over two Wolfpack hurlers in the opener for 17 hits, they faced a Tartar in Ebright in the windup. The BC pitcher gave up only three hits with right fielder Bud Hayward getting two. Ted Wharry, who worked most of the 1st game on the mound, counted the only other blow off Ebright.

Bob Johnston went the distance in the 'cap for Pontiac. He allowed four hits, including a triple in the 6th by Hallstead, the 1st hit of the game for the Wolves. Ed Lewis then doubled Hallstead home. Dan Schemerhorn doubled in the 7th and scored Wolves' last tally on a single by Johnson.

Ed Heikkinen's club brought Bud Hayward home in the 3rd on a combination of errors and an outfield fly, and got its 2nd run in the 4th with the aid of a couple errors and Walt Poe's sacrifice.

Wins were the 7th and 8th for Pontiac, its 3rd and 4th in the Valley loop. Chiefs have six more contests left, two of which will be played this week. PHS meets Cranbrook for the 2nd time, at the Cranes' field Tuesday at 4, and takes on Waterford's Skippers here Wednesday at the same hour.

63 Keglers Challenge in ABC Masters Test

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Sixty-three of the nation's best bowlers today challenged for the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament title, now owned by Eugene (Red) Elkins of San Mateo, Calif.

The match play, in which two defeats sideline a contestant, opened the four-day grind this afternoon with no clear-cut favorite.

Three Schools in Battle for I-L Links Title

A 3-school battle was predicted for this afternoon's Inter-Lakes Conference golf meet, played over the Meadowbrook Country Club course at Northville, site of this summer's National PGA tournament.

Farmington is the host school, but defending champion Berkley, Southfield and Walled Lake are given the best chances for title honors.

Southfield holds a slight 3-stroke victory in dual comfpetition against Walled Lake and squeaked by Berkley in an extra hole after being tied for 18 holes. Walled Lake defeated Berkley in a dual meet.

Outstanding candidates for individual honors include Don Sherer and Jim Bradley of Southfield, Dick Dewling, Bob Stewart and Norm Dierkes of Walled Lake, Don Cochrane of Berkley and Waterford's Jack Reynolds.

Flyweights Go May 30

TOKYO (AP) — World flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina and Yoshio Shirai of Japan today signed a contract for their 15-round title fight here May 30.

The signing was only a formality. Perez arrived and the date was agreed upon last week, after weeks of dispute.

Perez lifted the flyweight crown from Shirai last November. The contract for that fight included a return bout clause.

The Delaware Oaks takes its name from the classic English stake for mares, first run in 1779.

Penn Crew, Eastern King, Eyes U. S. Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania took aim today at next month's national collegiate rowing championships after scoring a one-sided win of the Eastern title.

Penn won the varsity crown Saturday for the first time. And Coach Joe Burk, speaking of the nationals, said "I think we have a good chance. The boys have a lot of endurance."

Cornell turned in a steadier performance in Saturday's three events and won the $30,000 Rowe Cup for the most points.

Lands Big Bluegill

One of the largest bluegills of the early fishing season in Oakland county was taken yesterday by a 10-year old angler. Fishing at Silver Lake with his dad, Kester, Harold Lotan, 60 Washington street, landed a 9 and ¾ inch specimen estimated to weigh better than a pound. They got a few other fish, Harold reported.

Loss Streak Ends

Mayo Smith Not Sure Phils 'Out of Woods'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The victory which ended Philadelphia's 13-game losing streak "was a big one for us," Philly Manager Mayo Smith said last night, but he wasn't sure the Phils were out of the woods.

The 13-game skid which carried the Phillies from a second-place tie to the bottom of the National League ended when they spanked the Milwaukee Braves 9-1 in the finale of a doubleheader.

Smith was a happier manager, not just because of the triumph, but because of the way the Phils hit during their three-game stay here, even though they won only once.

"We'll have to wait and see what happens from now on—how we pull out of this," he declared. "Our pitching has been poor."

There were no complaints about Robin Roberts' pitching. His victory over the Braves gave the Phils nine wins for the season and Roberts has accounted for four of them, with three losses tagged on him.

Billy Bruton's first-inning homer was the only productive poke among seven Brave hits.

The first game saw the Braves get just one more hit than that off three Philadelphia hurlers, but two of them were homers by Eddie Mathews and good for four runs as the Braves won, 6-5.

The Phils smacked out 14 hits in winning the nightcap. Even with the nine runs scored, they left 14 men stranded. In losing the opener they got 13 hits but 15 Phillies died on base. And Philadelphia got 11 hits Saturday in bowing to Milwaukee, 5-4, again because of a homer by Mathews.

McGrath Timed in 143.793 Lap at Indianapolis

Vukovich, Agabashian Also Better Old Mark in Qualifying

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—John James (Smiling Jack) McGrath hasn't won the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race in seven attempts but he's the Indianapolis Speedway champion when he has the track to himself.

He shattered qualification records for the 2½-mile track yesterday and won his favorite outside spot in the front row for the fifth time in the last seven years.

He set a one-lap record of 143.793 miles an hour and a 10-mile record of 142.580. Nobody ever before hit 142 officially on the 44-year-old track.

The wiry Inglewood, Calif., master mechanic and driver watched Bill Vukovich take the year-old record, then removed it from Vukovich.

Vukovich, who has roared in from Fresno, Calif., to win the last two Memorial Day races, drove his Hopkins Special 10 miles at 141.071, beating McGrath's old mark of 141.033.

After McGrath won back the record, veteran Fred Agabashian of Albany, Calif., beat Vukovich's performance with 10 miles at 141.933.

With eight cars qualified over the weekend, leaving 25 spots open in the field for next weekend's trials, Vukovich found himself in the middle of the second three-car row, or fifth place.

Vuky came on to win from a 19th place start last year after McGrath led 53 laps.

Aggies Stung by SW Conference

But Bryant Hopeful of Retaining Athletes as Alumni Are Blamed

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Coach Paul Bryant went after the athletes made "free agents" by the Southwest Conference action in putting Texas A&M on probation today and reported he was getting them back.

In fact, declared the Aggie head coach, more than a dozen of the high school boys whose letters of intent were cancelled "say now, more than ever, they'll be with us."

Meanwhile, Texas A&M officials laid the onus for the athletic recruiting troubles on the alumni.

* * *

The conference Saturday handed A&M the first probation in conference history. It also wiped out all A&M letters of intent — the contracts that are used to insure a boy attending a certain college — and forbade A&M from participating in post-season athletic contests after Sept. 15. The probation is for two years.

SUNDAY'S HOME RUNS

Spartans Take Series

EAST LANSING (AP) — For the 1st time since 1912, Michigan State beat Michigan three times in a row in baseball over the weekend.

It couldn't have happened at a better time for the Spartans or a worst time for the Wolverines.

The three-game sweep dropped Michigan to the also-running class in the Big Ten title race. It gave MSC, defending conference champions, a good mathematical chance to repeat again this year.

Going into the three game series, Michigan was tied for 1st with Minnesota. After losing 3-0 Friday and 8-5 and 4-3 in Saturday's doubleheader, the university dropped to 5th.

Minnesota still is leading the pack, Michigan State is tied for 2nd with Ohio State and Northwestern is 4th.

Michigan burned up seven pitchers in the three games. Walt Godfrey pitched Friday's shutout for the Spartans and Ed Hobaugh and Dick Idzkowski went the distance to win Saturday.

Some good clutch hitting decided Saturday's game — watched by 2,374 fans at old College Field, the best Michigan State home attendance in three seasons.

In the opener, Michigan State outhit Michigan 13 to 8. Three runs each in the 2nd and 6th innings were the deciding factors.

Jim Sack doubled in two runs in the 2nd and George Smith tripled in three in the 6th to provide the power.

Bob Powell, senior MSC centerfielder from Flint, came out of a batting slump with a bang to decide the 2nd game. Powell, who had been batting .243 before the series, boosted his average to .327 after hitting safely seven times in 12 at bat.

Powell belted a three-run homer over the left field fence in the 5th inning of the nightcap. Michigan came back to tie the game in the 7th when pinchhitter Bill Thurston knocked a homer over the right field fence and into the Red Cedar river.

Powell doubled home the winning run in the MSC end of the 7th to prevent extra innings and decide the series.

Coach Nine Drops MSBL Twin Bill to Behnke Nine

A heart-breaking 13-inning, one-run defeat has dropped General Motors into the throes of the 3-game losing streak in the Michigan State Baseball League.

Paul Parks' Pontiac nine lost a double header at Battle Creek's Bailey Park as the Behnkes took the opener, 9-6, and slipped Herman Bishop a 4-3 setback in the 13-inning nightcap.

Lack of hitting led to both defeats as the Coachers could muster only 6 hits in each game. Don Ernst was spotted a 4-run lead in the 1st inning after 2 were out on Terry Thomas' double, Les Stone's single, a walk to Ernie Zubalick, Wes Roberts' double, and an error.

But the host club pecked away with 2 runs in the 1st, 3 in the 3rd and 3 in the 5th, hanging the loss on Dan Keating, 2nd of 3 GMC hurlers.

Jack Seltenreich's 2-run homer gave Battle Creek a 2-run lead in the 1st inning of the nightcap, but Pontiac tied it up with single tallies in the 6th and 7th. GMC loaded the bases in the 9th, but only could score once and Battle Creek tied it in the home half.

In the last of the 13th, a walk was followed by 2 outs. Clean-up man Ed Dalton was intentionally passed, but Duane Smith spoiled the strategy by singling in the winning run. Bishop struck out 17 men in going the route.

In a Sunday game at Jackson Prison, GMC was an 11-9 winner with the highlight of the game being a steal of home by Wes Roberts.

Ledesma, 9, of Bagley School, won the Midget class by defeating Fred Bill, of Crofoot. Taylor, 14, of Eastern Junior High, took honors in the Junior division when he beat Howard Griswold, of Bagley. Ledesma lives at 73 Florida, and Taylor resides at 271 Midway.

Entries in Saturday's finals and their respective schools were as follows:

White Sox Within Game of Indians After Sweep of Double Header; Shantz, Turley Are Victors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Every day in every way Detroit's Harvey Kuenn is proving he not only is the American League's outstanding shortstop but also one of the best young hitters in baseball.

With the possible exception of outfielder Al Kaline, who suddenly burst into prominence among the power hitters of the circuit, Kuenn has been the big force in the Tigers' surprise showing in the first five weeks of the campaign.

The $55,000 bonus beauty was the Tigers' big hitter yesterday as the fourth-placers divided a double-header with Boston and stayed within 4½ games of the league-leading Cleveland Indians. Kuenn got three hits in the first game, won by Boston 10-4, and four in the second, won by Detroit 9-4. He scored three times, drove in two and boosted his batting mark to a runner-up .379.

Chicago's White Sox moved to within one game of the Indians with a 3-0 and 5-4 double-header victory over Washington, Bobby Shantz pitched a six-hitter as Kansas City downed New York 4-3 in the first game and Bob Turley struck out 12 as the Yankees won the second 8-4. Mike Garcia hurled a seven-hit 5-0 shutout to give Cleveland a split after Jim Wilson surprised the Indians by pitching the Orioles to a 4-1 victory over Bob Lemon.

* * *

There was little change in the National League picture as six teams split three double-headers. In the lone single game, St.Louis defeated Pittsburgh 5-1. Cincinnati routed Karl Spooner and Brooklyn 11-4 after the Dodgers had won the opener 7-1 for their 25th victory in 29 games. Sal Maglie pitched, the second-place New York Giants to a 9-4 triumph after the Chicago Cubs had captured the opener 5-2. Philadelphia snapped a 13-game losing streak as Robin Roberts whipped Milwaukee 9-1, but not before the Braves had come from behind to nip the Phillies 6-5 in the opener.

The White Sox have discovered a new pitching star in Dick Donovan in their drive to overtake the Indians. The 27-year-old right-hander pitched his third shutout and his fourth victory with a three-hitter against Washington.

Shantz, making a strong comeback, pitched his third victory of the season. The 5-6¼ lefty, staked to a 4-0 first-inning lead featured by Bill Wilson's three-run homer, blanked the Yanks on two hits until the sixth. Irv Noren's inside-the-park homer with the bases full helped Turley win his sixth game against one defeat in the nightcap.

Don Mueller's pinch hit single in the Giants' six-run winning rally in the nightcap enabled him to equal the New York club record of 24 consecutive hitting games set by Freddy Lindstrom in 1930.

Steady Shooting Wins Tourney for Harrison

'Dutch' White Sulphur Victor as Oliver Blows 18th-Hole Chance

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Dutch Harrison, who seems to get steadier as he gets older, proved again yesterday that consistency is the way to win golf tournaments by winning the White Sulphur Springs Open.

Ed (Porky) Oliver made it even more pointed by giving one of his typically brilliant splurges that left him in the supporting role.

Harrison, the 45-year-old droll Dutchman, placidly finished the 72 holes with 269 strokes on a final par 70. He had rather routinely beaten par by four strokes each of the first two rounds and by three on the third.

All the other 45 pros had either killed their chance or never had one to overtake Harrison when the rotund Oliver came up to the last tee needing only a par 3 to tie and a birdie to win.

The last hole of the Old White course is only a one-shotter over a creek to a saddle green 140 yards away. Oliver, who plays out of Lemont, Ill., pulled his tee shot way to the left of the green. His chip barely made the smooth green and he couldn't make the long putt.

It was a galling for Oliver because it was his only bogey in a sensational round of 64.

The dramatic letdown left Oliver tied with Jack Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, Mike Souchak of Durham, and Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, a stroke behind Harrison. Souchak, 28, the leading money winner so far this year, had a frustrating finish similar to Oliver's.

Ben Hogan, the Fort Worth, Tex., master, slipped almost unnoticed into third place by shooting 66 on his last 18. Sam Snead, who was closest to Harrison starting the last round, slumped badly to a 71 and a tie for fourth place.

Maples Victors in 'A' Regional on 'Dale Track

Place Men in 9 Events for State Meet; Vikings Land 4 Athletes

Birmingham High School's track team joined Pontiac as a Class A regional champion Saturday by taking the Ferndale regional event with 60 points.

Royal Oak was a distant 2nd with 37¼ points, followed by Mt. Clemens (36), Hazel Park (34), Southfield (17), Port Huron (15), Ferndale (4), Berkley (4) and East Detroit (2½).

Since all Eastern Michigan League rivals were defeated, the Maples stand as a solid choice to retain their EML title.

Birmingham athletes placed in 9 events with 1st places being won by Bill Dove in the 100-yard dash, Al Fuhrman in the 440, Ron McCrumb in the pole vault, and Dave Long in the half-mile.

Southfield's fine shot putter Bob Quick won his specialty with a 48-foot, 5½-inch toss.

In Class B at Ferndale, West Bloomfield finished in 3rd place with 21 points.

At Ypsilanti, Oakland County schools (in Class B) finished well down the list, but Walled Lake qualified 4 men for the state meet, including Don Pounds, who won the 880 in 2 minutes, 6 seconds.

Others were Larry Hughes (3rd in the high hurdles), Jerry Reviteer (2nd place tie in the pole vault) and Virgil Barrett (2nd in the shot with a 47-9½ effort). Miler Jerry Avery failed to qualify, but broke a school record in his event, taking 4th in 4 minutes, 46.1 seconds.

Jim Green was Milford's lone qualifier. He was 3rd in the high jump.

Brockton Buster Makes His 5th Defense of Title

Few Give Britisher, Cockell, Any Chance in Tonight's Scrap

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Undefeated Rocky Marciano puts his treasured world heavyweight title on the line for the fifth time tonight and practically no one thinks that challenger Don Cockell of England will take it away from the blockbuster from Brockton, Mass.

The 30-year-old champion has never been beaten in his 47 fights, dating back to his ring debut in July 1948, and the betting people are laying 8-1 that Rocky will run the incredible string to 48.

Few, indeed, give the pudgy 26-year-old hog farmer from Horton much of a chance to last the full 15 rounds.

Marciano's blasting fists, they believe, will make the British Empire titleholder No. 42 on the Rock's kayo record.

The scrap wil take place in San Francisco's largest football arena, Kezar Stadium.

NBC will broadcast at 10 p.m. EST. There will be no home television. It will be televised on a closed circuit for screening in 83 theaters in 59 cities.

Promoters Jimmy Murry and Lou Thomas, in conjunction with the International Boxing Club, remained hopeful that 40,000 fans will pay $400,000 for seats scaled from $40 to $5.

Less optimistic observers looked for a turnout of 30,000 and gate receipts approaching $300,000.

Marciano weighed 189 pounds when he wound up training—with a total of 210 rounds—two days ago at his camp 75 miles north of here at Calistoga.

Cockell, at suburban San Rafael, after 268 rounds of boxing and many long hours of similar labors, was down to 207.

Marciano, who won the championship with a 13-round knockout over Jersey Joe Walcott Sept. 23, 1952, in Philadelphia, has looked great in his workouts.

The key question about the durable Rock, however, is his nose. Sliced badly on the tip itself in the second Ezzard Charles fight last Sept. 17 in New York, the nose was given a plastic surgery repair job.

The champion and his manager, Al Weill believe the nose will stand up under Cockell's punches. But no one really knows for certain because actually the nose has not been given a real belt. A special protective mask was devised to protect it against his sparring mates' blows.

4 Records Fall in Sunday Races at Pontiac Speedway

Close competition on the swift chlorided surface of the Pontiac Speedway Sunday resulted in four track records being broken, including the 25-lap feature race.

Jack Conely of Brighton sped to victory in the feature in 7 minutes, 59.24 seconds. He also set a new heat race mark of 2 minutes, 33.57 seconds for 8 laps.

Mickey Katlin of Howell broke the 4-lap dash record in 1 minute, 16.77 seconds and Bill Kourt of Brighton set a new single-lap qualifying record with an amazing lap of 18.71 seconds. The old mark was 19.02 set last season by Joy Fair of Pontiac.

Fair made a triumphant return to the Pontiac track Sunday by winning the special 6-lap champion's race. He nosed out Katlin, George Cooper and Gene Lock in 1 minute, 58.89 seconds. The women's 4-lap championship affair was won by Betty Wilcutt of Troy Township, representing the Pontiac Speedway.

Leon Blachura and Ron Duman finished 2-3 behind Conley in the 25-lap feature, while Bill Hasselle of Troy took the 12-lap semi-windup. Heat winners, in addition to Conely, were Hasselle, Don Boik, Bill Wiley and Blachura.

Kuenn 'Hot', But Bengals Split

DETROIT (AP)—It hardly takes an expert to point out that the big bat of Harvey Kuenn figures as a vital factor in keeping the Detroit Tigers within catching distance of the American League's "big three" in the race for the 1955 pennant.

The husky Tiger shortstop, a 300-plus batter during all three of his seasons with Detroit, in recent games has connected for hits with a regularity little short of astonishing.

In a doubleheader at Boston Sunday, Kuenn stepped to the plate 11 times and collected seven hits, two of them good for two bases. The performance shoved his batting average for the season to .388, best in the league for players with more than 100 times at bat.

He also surged ahead of teammate Al Kaline, now ensconced in the AL runnerup spot, with a .375 average. Kaline picked up three hits in eight tries.

Detroit blasted Bosox hurlers for 25 hits in the contests, but Boston rolled over the Tigers, 10-4 in the opener before succumbing, 9-3, in the nightcap before 28,752 Fenway Park fans.

Tiger rookie righthander Duke Maas was working on a shutout in the 2nd game before Eddie Joost, Boston shortstop, slammed a three-run homer in the 8th. Maas pulled out of two danger spots early in the game to rack up his 2nd triumph of the season, both against Boston.

Two five-run innings spelled defeat for the Tigers in the 1st game and gave Frank Sullivan his 4th victory. Bill Klaus got a double, two singles and a walk to drive across two runs. Harry Agganis, Sox first sacker, whacked a bases-loaded triple and a double.

Young Frank Lary was tabbed for the Detroit loss, allowing eight hits before he was removed in the 4th for Leo Cristante, who went in to choke off Boston's 1st five-run rally. Cristante held on until he left the game for a pinch hitter in the 7th as Detroit scored two runs and closed the gap to 5-4.

In the next inning Boston erupted again for five runs against Van Fletcher to put the game on ice.

The Tigers wasted little time in sending Bosox hurler Tom Brewer to his 6th straight loss. Consecutive singles by Kaline, Ferris Fain, Ray Boone and Jim Delsing plus a wild pitch and a walk put the Tigers ahead 3-0 in the first.

Delsing drilled his 5th home run into the right field seats in the 5th.

After Kuenn singled in the 7th, Fain knocked a two-run homer into the right field pavilion.

Running 9.7 Century

Hungarian Refugee Saw '36 Olympics, Now Hopes to Represent U.S. Next Year

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—It was 1936 in Berlin.

A 4-year-old youngster trotted along beside his father headed for the Olympic Games. The father, a sprinter in his youth, beamed as he entered the arena. He was going to see the greats of the world perform. He did, but he probably didn't realize the impression the runners made on his son.

Like all tikes, Gabriel Markisohn was impressionable. When he heard the cheers of the throngs reverberating around the stadium for the winners, he said to himself:

"Some day, I'm going to be a runner and that's going to happen to me."

Now the time is 1955—today on the sprawling campus of Princeton University, where 23-year-old Gabe Markisohn is carrying those same hopes he nurtured back in 1936.

But so many things have happened to him in the interim, he still can hardly believe he's a junior majoring in civil engineering and going through on a scholarship.

When he saw his first Olympics, Gabe hoped to run for Hungary. World War II shattered that dream, though, and the Germans occupied his country in 1941. His newspaper editor father and mother were imprisoned by the Nazis.

He hasn't seen them since.

The next year, Gabe and his brother, Paul, once the junior mile champion of Hungary, were thrown into prison and shuttled from concentration camp to concentration camp before they were liberated by the American Army in 1944.

In 1947, they were brought here by the Jewish Child Welfare organization and Gabe wound up boarding in University City, Mo. He couldn't speak a word of English, but enrolled at the local high school and promptly went out for the track team. As a freshman, he won every race he entered.

When he started running 9.7 100s, he began thinking in terms of next year's Olympics. He's an American citizen now, married to a high school classmate and speaks English without a trace of an accent.

Gabe already holds the Ivy League record for the indoor 60 (6.3), and has tied the loop record for the 100 (9.7).

He finished second to Penn's John Haines in the 100 in the Heptagonal Championships last Saturday. Haines was clocked in 9.5, and Markisohn, unofficially, in 9.6.

Wininger Wins at Hot Springs on 18-Under 270

Oklahoma Pro Winds Up '5 Strokes Up on Middlecoff, Ford

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Bo Wininger, the little man with the steady stick, finally found the fans on the last day of the $15,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament.

Wininger had to shoot three straight sub-par rounds before the fans in this resort city realized that he might be a winner.

The usually taciturn Oklahoma City, Okla., professional had fun joshing the crowd after he had pocketed the $2,400. His 67-67-68-68—270 was 18 strokes under par.

Wininger told the crowd that he had heard some complaints about the Hot Springs Country Club's No. 3 course, but he added:

* * *

"You won't hear any from me."

Wininger publicly apologized for a spat with a photographer. He had words with the photographer after he claimed that a shutter had snapped while he was addressing a putt.

In his apology, Wininger said: "Believe me, it was a tender moment."

Masters champion Cary Middlecoff, and Doug Ford, both of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., also shot 68s on the final day to finish in a tie for second place at 275. Ford shot 67-67-73-68, and Middlecoff 68-68-71-68.

Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C., who had been three strokes behind at the start of the final round, faded to a 74 and wound up seventh behind Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., 277, and Ted Kroll, of Utica, N. Y., 278.

Phils' Tie NL Record for Men Left on Base

29 Stranded in Twin Bill, But Loss String Ends at 13

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Philadelphia Phils tied a National League record for having the most players left on base in an 18-inning double-header when they stranded 29 runners in yesterday's twin bill with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Phils left 15 men in losing the opener 6-5 and 14 on base as they won the nightcap 9-1 to break a 13-game losing streak. The St. Louis Cards also stranded 29 base runners agaist Philadelphia in a doubleheader Sept. 15, 1928.

The Phifadelphia A's hold the major league mark of 30, set against the St. Louis Browns June 12, 1949.

The major league record for most players left on base by one club in a nine-inning game is 18, held by many teams.

Three Nearly Killed by Molotov Cocktail

HOUSTON (UP)—As three children slept in a parked car yesterday, a homemade fire bomb rolled under it and burst into flames. A passer-by saved the children from possible tragedy.

Two 15-year-old boys admitted throwing the bomb. Said one: "It was just for kicks."

Otto Hardt said he and his wife left the children in the car while they were in a friend's house for coffee.

Minutes later, investigators said, the boys tossed a beer bottle filled with kerosene or gasoline—with a long wick—out their car window. The bottle rolled under Hardt's car and flared up.

Frank Horrigan, passing by, tried to start the car but couldn't. He blew the horn. Haardt rushed from the house and drove the car away.

The youths were arrested after they drove up and pretended to be curious. They were lectured and turned over to their parents.

U. N. Press Pact Up for Debate; See More Delay

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., (AP)—A proposed international agreement on freedom of information, in the works since 1948, is about to come up in the U. N. again. It seems headed for more delay.

The pact is due for debate in the Economic and Social Council, opening the second part of its 19th semiannual session today.

The majority of the 18 countries on the council so far have been either opposed to the draft "convention" or lukewarm. The council will formulate recommendations for the General Assembly.

The United States is among those opposed to the agreement. It has argued that a revision of the agreement has inserted restrictions which endangered freedom of information instead of promoting it.

As the agreement stands now, signatory governments would guarantee freedom of information but would have the right to bar particular persons from their territories and reserve newspaper ownership to their own citizens.

About 30,000 gallons of water are required in the manufacture of a ton of paper.

Retired GM Worker Giving Flint $25,000

FLINT (AP) — Because "Flint has been good to me," Merliss Brown, a retired toolmaker for General Motors Corp., is going to give $25,000 to the proposed Flint college and cultural development.

Brown, a Russian immigrant, made the pledge yesterday at a sponsors' committee meeting.

"Flint has been good to me and so has the freedom I have enjoyed since coming to the United States," he said.

Wheat Sells Off; Others Steady

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP) — Wheat sold off in the Board of Trade today but the rest of the market held close to last week's final prices.

At the outset most of the new crop wheat futures showed a little loss while the May delivery was up a major fraction on short covering. May quickly lost its initial gain and the deferred months extended their losses.

Feed grains showed little change. Soybeans had a relatively firm undertone early, reflecting an advance in the recently very weak soybean meal deliveries, but then slipped back.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to ¾ lower, May $2.19⅞; corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, May $1.44¼; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May 73¾; rye unchanged to ½ lower, May $1.02; soybeans unchanged to ¾ lower, May $2.51¼; and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.22.

UAW Resuming Talks With GM

12-Day Recess Ends; Strike Votes Indicate Showdown Fight

DETROIT (AP) — CIO United Auto Workers resume new contract negotiations today with General Motors Corp.

The talks, covering union demands for a guaranteed annual wage, pay boosts, pension improvements and health benefits, have been in recess for 12 days.

Similar talks with Ford resume tomorrow when Ford Local 600 is scheduled to begin taking its strike vote.

The 48,000-member local, largest in the UAW, will take eight days to ballot.

STRIKE VOTES

Strike votes at Ford and GM locals across the country were ordered by the union recently to strengthen its position at the bargaining table.

First returns from across the country have shown overwhelming support for a walkout if union demands aren't met by the time current five-year contracts expire—June 1 at Ford and June 7 at GM.

Eliminates Stooping

OMAHA (AP) — Eliandon Rosebard liked strawberries but didn't enjoy bending over to pick them. He dug trenches in his patch. By walking in the trenches he could pick the berries without stooping.

This was one of the facts on the life of Rosebard which came to light when the 74-year-old hermit was found critically ill in the cave where he lived.

Firm Charged in Price Deals

Clark Equipment Co. at Buchanan Denies FTC Accusation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) says the Clark Equipment Co., of Buchanan, Mich., has been giving large buyers illegal price advantages over small competitors.

The company has denied the charge.

Clark Euipment was one of two companies charged by the FTC yesterday with price discrimination among customers. The other was Lewis-Shepard Co., and its sales organization, Lewis-Shepard Products, Inc., both of Watertown, Mass.

The Trade Commission said in its complaint that the Clark Equipment Co., used a system of discounts that allowed buyers to receive price advantages of up to 5 per cent, or even more, while other purchasers got smaller discounts or none.

The FTC said that Lewis-Shepard used another, different discount system, which also resulted in giving large buyers illegal price advantages over small competitors. The FTC gave Clark Equipment 20 days in which to file an answer and scheduled a hearing July 7 at Buchanan, Mich., before examiner Frank Hier.

Heinrich von Brentano Is Rising Star in West Germany's Administration

BONN, Germany (AP)—The man in line to become foreign minister of West Germany is a handsome, chain-smoking bachelor who may one day be chancellor.

Heinrich von Brentano is often called Germany's Anthony Eden. He dresses impeccably. More than that, he has been to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer what Eden was to Sir Winston Churchill—a loyal deputy, confidant and friend.

Adenauer has been serving as foreign minister as well as chancellor, but for five years he has been training Brentano to take over the ministry.

And some political observers predict the Churchill-Eden parallel will be carried further when one day Von Brentano succeeds Adenauer as chancellor. Adenauer is 79, Brentano 50.

Like Adenauer, Brentano advocates European federation. He says:

"The only solution of the European question is the coordination of the continent into a pan-European federation. The countries of Europe must realize that they can only guard their interests together. Singly, they will go down."

He hammered away at that theme in Strasbourg, where he was a prominent representative of West Germany in the European Assembly. Other European parliamentarians showed their respect for him by making him vice president of the assembly.

In West Germany Brentano is best known as parliamentary leader of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. Trained as a lawyer, he has won admiration in the young Parliament for his mastery of strategy and fine oratory.

He has virtually run the party machine, although Adenauer retained the title of national chairman.

Up to now he has not held cabinet office.

He comes of a family of Italian descent, linked for generations with German intellectual and political life. He entered politics in 1945 and helped found the Christian Democrats. Later he represented Hesse in the council that drew up the national constitution.

He was elected to the Bundestag (Parliament) in 1949 and immediately became leader of the Christian Democratic faction.

Brentano describes the West European Union as "the greatest guarantee for world peace."

Big Personality Shows Hibernate for Summer

Low Calory TV Diet Is Offered

But It Will Take Four Big Bands to Replace Gleason, Writer Says

By CYTHIA LOWRY
For Wayne Oliver

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The autumn of television comes in late spring.

So for the next two or three months we are to be left—as usual—with the customary, low-calory, inexpensive seasonal fare of variety shows, quiz shows, audience participation shows, panel shows and those eternal reruns of old shows which, we are told, are presented only because of overwhelming "popular demand."

If blame is to be fixed for the season of famine, hang it on the sponsors who, since the halcyon days of radio have clung stubbornly to the belief that adult audiences with money to spend disappear into the tall grass or sit full-time on beaches with the arrival of good weather.

The networks have been getting in some good licks trying to convince advertisers that a few of us still hang around the channels in air-conditioning time, and this activity accounts largely for the few feasts we can expect on a pretty dull-sounding menu coming up.

With the exception of the Sullivan and Godfrey, the big personality shows will hibernate or dissolve. Jackie Gleason, will be replaced by four big-name bands at a time.

However, it only takes a panel game and the Arthur Murray Party to take up Uncle Milty's slack. And for those of us who would rather see an old Durante or Linkletter kinoscope or film than go entirely without, we can expect to see on a regular basis Our Miss Brooks, Dragnet, Danny Thomas, Medic, Groucho Marx, This Is Your Life, Bob Cummings and, Donald O'Connor—to mention a few programs which neither fish nor cut bait.

Lucy and Desi have made a big decision: they'll fill their spot with Desilu's newest brainchild, "Those Whiting Girls." But Lucy addicts can find re-reruns on another day at another time on the same network.

Crank Spreads Lie Pope Pius Is Dead

DETROIT (INS) — High-ranking Roman Catholic church officials in Detroit said today no effort would be made to find the crank who spread a rumor over the weekend that Pope Pius XII was dead.

The prankster called several parishes in Detroit and its suburbs Saturday night and gave them the information, claiming he was a spokesman for the Detroit diocese.

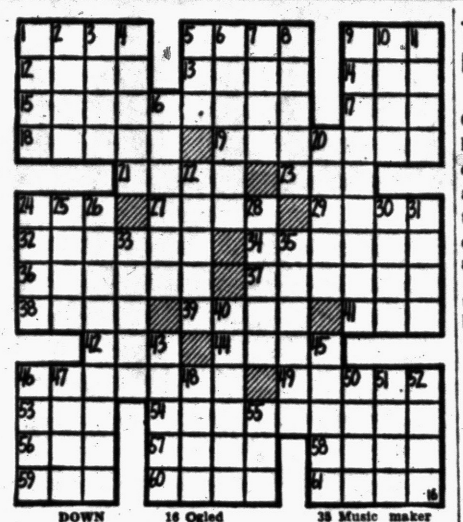

Yesterday morning, several of the priests told their congregations that the Pope was dead. Numerous calls followed to newspapers, radio stations and the diocese.

The report was termed completely false by Bishop John A. Donovan, chancellor of the Archdiocese of Detroit who said no one from the chancery had called the parishes.

The Pope made an appearance at a Vatican window yesterday, according to dispatches from Rome.

Air Reserve Wing Sets Recruiting Day

The nation's largest reserve fighter-bomber wing, the 439th based at Selfridge Field, will conduct a recruiting drive here Tuesday.

Currently having openings for men of all skills, the unit will interview both veterans and non-service men from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Air Force Recruiting Office, located at 53½ W. Huron St.

Members of the unit maintain and fly F-80 jet fighter-bombers. They train one weekend per month and draw full pay for time spent in training.

Non-service recruits are given basic Air Force training and are graduated as Airmen 3rd Class. World War II and Korean veterans may join at the rank they held when discharged.

Spokesmen for the drive warned that men holding 1-A draft classifications cannot be accepted as reserves.

Women interested in joining the WAFS also will be interviewed, drive officials said.

The Truth From Texas: It's All a Big Lie

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla) said he would address the student body of Texas A & M College today and "I am going to tell those tall-talking Texas students about the only honest statement I ever heard a Texan make:

"'Of course, Texas doesn't actually have all those great attributes and virtues we talk about, but at least we have enough guts to stand up and lie about it'."
