City May Soon Go Out of Airport Business

Two-China Idea Pushed by Canada

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite a new blast by Red China against the United Nations, Canada pushed today for the seating of both the Peking government and Nationalist China as part of a temporary solution to the China representation controversy.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin took note of the latest Peking statement in advancing his suggestion before the U. N. General Assembly.

He departed from his prepared text briefly to say he was aware of the statements from Peking in the past 24 hours. But he did not comment further.

He endorsed an Italian plan for a high-level study of the China question — rejected by Peking as "absurd"—but declared that the proposal should spell out more specifically a set of guidelines to be followed in seeking a solution to the 16-year stalemate.

★ ★ ★

Martin said Canada had laid down a three-point plan during private consultations it had been carrying on in recent days with leading U. N. members.

The guidelines he suggested calling for an interim settlement on the following basis:

- Participation of Nationalist China in the General Assembly as a member "representing a territory over which it exercises effective jurisdiction."
- Participation of Red China in the assembly on the same basis.
- Participation of Red China in the Security Council as a permanent member.

Martin stressed that his plan was intended only as a stopgap solution pending agreement on the territorial dispute between Red China and the Nationalist government on Formosa.

"I want to make it clear at this point," he said, "that the solution we envisage is in no way intended to imply the existence of two Chinas."

Authored primarily by Italy, it would set up a committee to study the question of China's representation for the next year and is being reluctantly supported by the United States.

The Peking broadcast described the resolution as a trap to permit Nationalist China to remain in the organization and as a U.S. device to make it appear Peking has chosen to isolate itself from the United Nations.

A Steaming Hot Pumpkin Pie For The Holiday Feast

Virginia Demands a Portion of Thanksgiving Day Credit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever historians say, Virginia has crept into presidential proclamations on Thanksgiving to share billing with Massachusetts and the Pilgrims.

★ ★ ★

Time was when almost anybody knew that Thanksgiving, the Pilgrim Fathers and Plymouth, Mass., were intertwined as firmly as turkey and cranberry sauce.

Now there are Virginia colonists too.

They showed up in the 1963 and 1964 proclamations, faded in 1965 and came back this year when President Johnson said: "If we consider the fervor with which those colonists in Virginia and Massachusetts gave, when they had so little, we are taught how much deeper should our thanks be — when we have so much."

Virginians started contending years ago that the first Thanksgiving was not held in Plymouth in 1621 as most Americans believe but occurred two years earlier at Berkeley Plantation on the James River near Jamestown, Va.

After the 1962 proclamation, a Virginian wrote President John F. Kennedy protesting that it made no mention of that early Thanksgiving in Virginia.

Kennedy, a Massachusetts man, in 1963 not only mentioned Virginia but mentioned that state first: "Over three centuries ago our forefathers in Virginia and in Massachusetts far from home in a lonely wilderness set aside a time for Thanksgiving."

Kennedy issued that proclamation Nov. 5, 1963, setting Thanksgiving for Nov. 28 of that year. He was assassinated six days before Thanksgiving came.

In 1964, President Johnson also acknowledged Virginia first, saying, "So as our forefathers in Virginia, in New England and throughout this land for more than three and one half centuries, let us appoint a special day."

LOST VIRGINIA

But in 1965 Virginia was not mentioned, and Johnson's proclamation said then, "When the Pilgrims first observed Thanksgiving nearly 350 years ago, life was harsh and unrelenting."

Champion Space Walker Discusses 'Peculiar Glow'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gemini 12's champion space walker said today he saw a phenomenon while working outside his spaceship: rubbing his fingers together sparked a faint glow.

"I noticed the peculiar thing during the night pass," Air Force Maj. Edwin E. 'Buzz' Aldrin Jr. told a new conference. "I think it's something we should look at."

Aldrin, who teamed with Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. for the four-day Gemini 12 flight that rang down the curtain on Project Gemini, had no explanation for what it might be.

Over-all, Aldrin said, space walking "went quite a bit smoother than I actually thought it would."

Aldrin, a rookie who mastered the hostilities of space with three historic ventures totaling 5½ hours, returned from space with the world's title for space walking.

"We didn't run into a single problem that gave us any trouble," he noted.

Give Thanks: Turkey Day to Be Wet, but Warm

Thanksgiving Day will be mild with occasional showers.

But don't let the weatherman's prediction for tomorrow dampen your spirits, it could be worse with winter right around the corner.

Temperatures with a low of 46 to 52 tonight will continue tomorrow. The outlook for Friday is also mild with a chance of showers.

South to southwest winds at 12 to 25 miles per hour are forecast through tonight.

Taylor: Bomb Letup High Price for Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, holding that the bombing of North Viet Nam gives the United States blue chips for any peace talks, warns "don't pay a blue chip by giving up the bombing to get negotiations started."

He called for a "clear eye and a hard-nosed policy" in any approach to negotiations.

"We should come out not only with our shirt, but with a free and independent South Viet Nam," the retired general said.

Taylor, a special adviser to President Johnson and former ambassador to South Viet Nam, spoke last night at a dinner of the Manufacturing Chemists Association.

The air attacks on the north has given a "great morale boost" to the Saigon government and has "immobilized" 200,000 to 300,000 North Vietnamese, the general said.

★ ★ ★

Abandonment of the bombing of the north "would have a tremendous negative effect on South Viet Nam and they might possibly quit fighting," he declared.

GROUND ACTION

Taylor said ground action is going increasingly well as a result of more troops and "for the first time we are putting a brake on the expansion of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong."

Although he found progress in the air war, Taylor said results in the campaign to rebuild the nation had been "highly unsatisfactory."

He noted, however, "some growth in stability" and the development "of a sense of maturity" among politicians in Saigon.

News Briefs at a Glance

ADEN (AP) — An Aden Airways Dakota crashed in the mountains about 150 miles east of Aden last night killing all 28 persons aboard.

The wreckage of the plane, on a routine flight to Aden from Meifash in Wahadi, was found by a Royal Air Force Shackleton equipped with a searchlight. There was no sign of life.

SAIGON (AP) — Desertions from South Viet Nam's regular military forces have dropped sharply under the threat of stiff new penalties, U.S. sources said today.

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP) — Police battled demonstrating students in this holy city today while the northern town of Nablus remained sealed off and unrest spread to the main towns of Jordan's West Bank. The demonstrators demanded arms to fight Israel and the strengthening of Jordanian military units along the tense frontier.

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist North Viet Nam has formally protested alleged American atrocities to the International Control Commission, the North Vietnamese news agency said today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent last month as virtually all consumer goods and services except food increased in price, the Labor Department reported today.

DETROIT (UPI) — The president and chairman of American Motors Corp. said today the firm would lay off "personnel all across the board" as part of a cost-cutting drive designed to pull the firm out of the red.

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — The sheriff's department said today it has been notified by police of Lubbock, Tex., that 14-year-old Connie Weeaks, who disappeared here Nov. 14, was found hitchhiking there.

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, marking the end of the Gemini space program, predicted today still greater U.S. successes in space including the Apollo man-on-the-moon program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military spending for the current fiscal year could exceed $63 billion—almost $6 billion more than the administration forecast last January—Treasury figures show.

ATLANTA (UPI) — A new move was made today in Georgia's muddled gubernatorial election by two Atlanta attorneys who formally asked Georgia's Secretary of State to call a new special election.

North Viet Infiltration Up

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that at least 48,000 Communist troops infiltrated from North Viet Nam in the first nine months this year. That would more than triple the apparent influx before the American bombing campaign was launched against the north Feb. 7, 1965.

Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, at the time South Viet Nam's ambassador to Washington, estimated in an interview in December 1964 that North Viet Nam had sent 30,000 to 40,000 infiltrators across the border over the previous three years.

Commission Makes New Offer to County

Would Swap Facility for Two Parcels of Downtown Property

By L. GARY THORNE

After more than 40 years, the City of Pontiac may soon go out of the airport business, transferring ownership of its 438-acre airfield in Waterford Township to Oakland County.

The City Commission last night voted 6-1 to offer to transfer the airport for two pieces of county-owned downtown real estate, valued by one commissioner at around $250,000.

Robert C. Irwin, District 2 commissioner, cast the lone dissenting vote.

Irwin agreed the airport should be a county operation, but charged that the county was not offering enough for the estimated $1.4 million put into the facility by city taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

The city's offer, which still must be accepted by several county committees and the County Board of Supervisors, results from private negotiations carried out in recent days by county and city officials.

SUGGESTED TERMS

In a letter to the city, Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, offered suggested terms for transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

He said the terms "could be expected to receive a favorable recommendation "from the county's special airport acquisition committee.

The terms, as outlined by Murphy, would include the transfer of the county-owned parking lot at Huron and Saginaw (the old courthouse site) and the County Annex building and parking lot at 1 Lafayette, providing the county can occupy the latter facility rent-free until Dec. 31, 1968, when the new courthouse wing is to be ready.

★ ★ ★

The commission majority agreed to these suggested terms and added one stipulation, namely, the city is to retain ownership of 50 T-hangars at the airport and rent them during the time the county continues to occupy the annex building.

Another Alvin York Dons Army Uniform

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—A young man named Alvin C. York joined the Army nearly 50 years ago.

The Army now has another Alvin C. York, a third cousin to the most decorated enlisted man in World War I.

The original York grew up in Tennessee where he hunted fox and sold the pelts for $35 each.

The present-day York grew up in Illinois where he works with his father and two brothers in the family landscaping business.

"I always wanted to write my cousin, but I never did," says Pvt. York, stationed at Ft. Campbell, for basic training.

"But I collected newspaper clippings and pictures."

He has seen the movie "Sergeant York," filmed in 1941, "I think four times. I really liked it."

Pvt. York, 21, was born and brought up in Spring Bay, Ill., has had the nickname "Sarge" since he was a child. He jokes that he didn't learn his real name until "about six years ago."

ALVIN C. YORK

is about $20,000 a year, while income from the Huron and Saginaw parking lot is $15,000 annually.

Irwin, in opposing the transfer on his "it's not enough" claim, added the airport revenue and parking lot revenues together for the two-year period and said the money would probably be sufficient to pay for eventually tearing down the annex.

While Irwm was not alone in his judgment that the county's terms were not enough, the balance of the commission thought the city was probably getting as much as it was ever going to get from the county.

* * *

All seven city commissioners agreed that furnishing airport service was properly a county function.

'A LIABILITY'

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out that the airport was a liability, the facility is used mostly by noncity residents and the county has greater taxing resources to finance the airport's future development.

He added that it would cost $4 million to bring the airport up to date with its master plan.

Taylor doubted if any true dollar value could be placed on the property the city would receive in exchange for the airfield.

* * *

"It's important to have the property in the hands of the city," the mayor said. "It will prove itself with (downtown) redevelopment."

MERELY A TRANSFER

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. said that actually what is proposed amounts to merely a transfer of who runs the airport.

"We still live in Oakland County and can still use the airport, only now it will be a better airport."

Leslie H. Hudson, District 4 commissioner, pointed out that to wait much longer to turn over the airport to the county would only increase the city's proportionate share of expanding the facility.

He said the vacant property, which is needed for expansion, surrounding the Waterford Township field is fast disappearing, adding to the eventual expansion cost.

PROPORTIONATE SHARE

"Our proportionate share now (15 to 16 per cent) will be less than it will be in five or 10 years," added Hudson.

The property exchange, suggested by the county, is a major breakthrough in the lengthy negotiations between the city and the county. Previously, the county had offered a token $1 for the airport.

N. Korea Accused of Firing at 3 Ships and Errant Plane

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today accused North Korea of firing at three South Korean navy patrol boats and of shooting at an unarmed training plane that strayed over the demilitarized zone.

The command said Communist shore batteries opened fire on the ships Tuesday as they cruised off the east coast just south of the armistice line separating North and South Korea.

Around 40 rounds were fired by the Communists, and the South Korean ships replied with 14 rounds, they said. No injuries were reported but one ship was damaged slightly.

* * *

The North Korean Central News Agency earlier had claimed the boats were American. It said the vessels intruded into North Korean coastal waters and "fired scores of shells at our coast."

At a meeting today of the joint Military Armistice Commission secretaries at Panmunjom, the U.N. Command admitted a light unarmed plane on a routine training mission Nov. 18 had inadvertently flown over the 4,000-yard wide truce zone.

* * *

U.S. Army Col. George F. Charlton, the U.N. Command secretary, said the pilot lost his bearings. He asked North Korean Col. Han Joo-kyung why North Koreans fired on the plane with automatic weapons from the demilitarized zone.

* * *

Han said the intrusion was a serious violation of the armistice and "proof of U.S. schemes for aggravating tension in Korea to start another war."

* * *

Charlton's remarks indicated the plane was not hit.

Delightful Family Film Has Its World Premiere

BIRMINGHAM—The story of a friendly, freedom-loving little burro, and scenic shots of the Grand Canyon combine to make a delightful family movie of "Brighty of the Grand Canyon," which had its world premiere at the Birmingham Theater last night.

The theater was nearly full for the first world premiere held in the area. Proceeds from the benefit showing went to the Kingswood School Alumni Association scholarship fund.

Much of the glamour and excitement of a Hollywood opening surrounded the first showing of the movie which was produced by Birmingham resident Stephen F. Booth.

Adding to the excitement was the appearance of Brighty, who patiently endured the happy admiration of adults and children alike.

The little burro belongs to Marguerite Henry, author of the award-winning book on which the movie is based. Miss Henry also attended last night's premiere.

* * *

MAKES FRIENDS

Associating with humans only when it suits him, the free-spirited little animal makes friends with an old prospector, a government mountain lion hunter and his nephew and with President Theodore Roosevelt, who often visited the canyon to hunt.

Although untrained, the movie Brighty showed professional aplomb, according to Booth, as he fought off mountain lions and swam the Colorado river.

* * *

Officials Stay Behind Sewer Trunk Plan

Pontiac officials remain firm in their belief that the city should move full speed ahead toward construction of the Galloway Creek trunk sewer, which one time was proposed as a leg of the county's Clinton - Oakland Interceptor system.

* * *

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. announced at last night's City Commission meeting that the city was going ahead with its plans for the trunk sewer in the city's northeast corner.

Taylor also said, the sewer could again become part of the county's project up to the time bids were received on the bonds.

In essence, the mayor said the city would have to proceed in order to provide service to the area, but might reconsider at such time as the county can prove it can meet the same timetable.

* * *

REQUEST MADE

Taylor's statement appears to be a rejection at least at this time that the city reconsider its "go it alone" policy, which was requested last week by R. J. Alexander, director of the county's department of public works.

Contracts for the $33.3 million Clinton - Oakland system, which is to service eight area communities, still include Pontiac.

If Pontiac does not rejoin, the contracts would have to be revised and reapproved by the participants, which could mean further delay for the project.

* * *

INJUNCTION

Issuance of an injunction was denied last week in a bid by a group of Avon Township and Rochester residents to stop the county DPW from signing contracts for the interceptor.

* * *

However, the hearing was continued until after the contract with the township is signed. All of which might forecast further court action to delay the project.

Police School Slated at OCC

To Begin in March; 12 Instructors Sought

The Oakland County Law Enforcement Officers training committee gave final approval yesterday to a proposed course of required study for prospective policemen.

* * *

Backing for the program came at a meeting of the group in Royal Oak.

Next target for the committee is selection by Dec. 21 of some 12 instructors — both police and college personnel — who will teach the courses at Oakland Community College.

OCC officials have agreed to work with law enforcement agencies in running the police school, to begin in March at the college's Highland Lakes campus.

* * *

Both recruits and police veterans will be given college credits for courses taken.

TUITION COSTS

Tuition costs for each student are estimated at $71, with as much as half to be reimbursed by the state.

Included in the curriculum are study in police administration, law, criminal investigation, traffic, general police work and special subjects.

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger, a member of the general committee, was chairman of the group which drew up the course of study.

* * *

Under the plan, police recruits from throughout Oakland County will undergo a six-week full-time training course prior to starting work for the police agency which hired them.

HEAVY EMPHASIS

The 240-hour program places heavy emphasis on law, which accounts for more than one-fifth of the course subjects.

* * *

"The legal section represents our biggest challenge," commented Hanger. "Supreme Court decisions in recent years have complicated almost every police procedure.

* * *

"The law vitally affects arrests and proofs — and that's the heart of our business."

FRANCO ASKS NEW LAW —Spanish dictator Francisco Franco asks the Spanish parliament yesterday for a new "organic law" which will allow a measure more of freedom. His plan calls for democratic monarchy to be set up when he steps down. He also offers a plan for selection of a monarch from the royal line.

U.S. Battling U.N. Motion on Warfare

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States sought in the United Nations today to kill or water down a Communist resolution which snipes at U.S. actions in Viet Nam by denouncing chemical and germ warfare.

William C. Foster, the U.S. disarmament negotiator, has introduced amendments to remove the propaganda sting from the Hungarian resolution which the General Assembly's main political committee was expected to vote on today.

* * *

The Red proposal, which originally called on the assembly to condemn gas and germ warfare as an international crime, did not name the United States. But it was plainly aimed at the U.S. use of nonlethal gas in Viet Nam.

The resolution aroused such opposition that Hungarian delegate Karoly Csatorday accepted African amendments toning down the language.

CHANGE TERMS

The changes proposed by Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania deplore rather than condemn gas and germ warfare and eliminate reference to an international crime.

The Western powers still balked and continued pushing amendments put in by the United States, Canada, Britain and Italy. They limit the resolution to a request for observance of the principles and objectives of the 1925 Geneva protocol. They also note that gas and germ weapons are already listed for consideration by the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Committee.

Drain Chief Gets OK to Seek Federal Aid

Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry today was authorized by the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors to apply for federal funds for a countywide refuse disposal study estimated to cost $100,000.

The committee also agreed to advance $10,000 to the drain commissioner's office to be used in the study project if needed.

A probability that the county would eventually be committed to one-third of the total study cost was considered in authorizing the grant application.

Barry, who has estimated that the study will take eight months, said today that it probably would be three years before a refuse disposal program could be in operation throughout the county.

* * *

The engineering firm of Jones, Henry and Williams, Inc., already has been retained by Barry for the study. Some drain office personnel also are scheduled to work on the project.

FUNDS AUTHORIZED

In other business yesterday, the ways and means committee authorized a $10,000 appropriation from the county's personnel turnover fund to finance staff additions at the Oakland County Sanatorium.

Approximately 80 per cent of the $49,700 needed next year for 11 new employes will be charged to noncounty sources such as Medicare and Medic Aid.

Committee members voiced a reluctance to approve a personnel appropriation for 1967 after the budget has already been approved by the full board of supervisors.

* * *

The high percentage in recent months of terminal cases at the hospital that require constant care, however, was the basis for the committee's approval of six additional nursing people, three clerks and two custodial workers.

Police Raises Not in Budget

Proposal Could Be Amended, City Claims

No police pay raise will be included in the city's preliminary budget to be submitted Dec. 1, City Manager Joseph A. Warren told a state fact-finding hearing in Pontiac today.

* * *

But, Warren said, "I've already admitted that they (the police) are entitled to a wage increase."

Warren's testimony before State Labor Mediation Board-appointed attorney Harry N. Casselman came as police representatives probed into the city's budget picture.

Winston Livingston, attorney for the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA), then asked if both the city and PPOA leaders were not "engaging in a futile thing."

* * *

"If this budget goes in," Livingston said, "we (police) are frozen for another year."

AMENDMENT POSSIBLE

City officials, however, assured Casselman, that an amendment would be possible — at least legally — if the hearing determines that a police pay raise is justified.

PPOA leaders, who said they would be "interested" in the city's total projected budget, were told by Casselman that the hearing "would not be limited."

City officials and PPOA leaders had been requested Nov. 9 by Casselman to conduct a comprehensive survey of police wage and benefit schedules in other cities.

* * *

Casselman was assigned to conduct the hearing by the State Labor Mediation Board only a few days after Pontiac police carried out a sick-call boycott of their jobs Nov. 1-3.

Unity Needed for '68---Dem

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore C. Sorensen, former special counsel to President John F. Kennedy, said today that nothing would be "more stupid and self-defeating" for Democrats than any effort to run Robert F. Kennedy against either President Johnson or Hubert H. Humphrey in 1968.

Surveying the results of the November elections, he said the Democratic party's losses were "far worse than the usual mid-term slide, far worse than the issues required; and it spread disaster and disarray into our party in every section of the country."

* * *

"No progress will result from further feuds between reformers and old-timers, or between Johnson men and Kennedy men, or between upstate and downstate," he said in remarks prepared for delivery before the Democratic Forum, a party discussion group.

* * *

"Sen. Kennedy's first responsibility in the rebuilding of our party is here in New York," said Sorensen, adding that both "logic and hope" cast the junior senator from New York in the role of party head in the state.

Hospital Exec Again Raps Board Delay

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, today reiterated his concern over the possible loss of a $250,000 federal staffing grant to the hospital.

In the hospital's newsletter, Dr. Martin reviewed the long delay by the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board on an agreement to release some of its responsibility to the hospital.

The federal grant approved last June could be lost if the mental health board does not sign the agreement by Jan. 1, according to Dr. Martin.

By signing the agreement, the mental health board would give up jurisdiction over 14 sparsely populated northern townships to the hospital. This would represent about one-fifth of the county population.

* * *

BOTH SUBJECT

As for authority, he points out that both the board and the hospital are subject to the jurisdiction of the Michigan Department of Mental Health which must review and approve programs of both units.

He also said that Act 54 does not specify that a mental health board must have authority over all community mental health programs within its locality or that a state hospital cannot operate a portion of such a program.

The newsletter lists the names and addresses of members of the mental health board.

A decision by the board is expected at its last 1966 meeting, Dec. 6.

CWA, Bell Reach Tentative Agreement

DETROIT (AP) — Company and union bargainers today reached tentative agreement on a contract between the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and some 17,000 members of the Communications Workers of America.

The agreement was reached after both sides continued to negotiate past a midnight Tuesday deadline imposed by the union.

* * *

A Michigan Bell spokesman said the wage increases agreed on will be retroactive to Oct. 2 if the contract is ratified prior to Dec. 13.

The spokesman said today's pact retained all the features of a contract reached Oct. 4 but rejected by union members Oct. 31 and also includes some new ones.

DAY-TO-DAY BASIS

The union has been working on a day-to-day basis since the old contract expired Sept. 23, although some wildcat strikes have broken out since that date.

The package contains wage increases ranging from $3.50 to $8 a week for workers now receiving $74.50 to $150.50 at Detroit and less outstate.

The wage increases are the same as those agreed on Oct. 4.

Among the features in today's agreement that were not included in the original pact were non-economic items like revised grievance procedures, provisions for work under extreme weather conditions and the length of management replacement assignments.

As in the Oct. 4 contract, 45 communities will be upgraded into higher wage areas.

No date has been set by the union for a ratification vote.

* * *

Walter Schaar, regional vice president for the CWA, had said earlier the union would not bargain past midnight Tuesday.

This deadline had led some rank and file members to believe there would be a strike if no agreement were reached.

* * *

The union's state director, Herman Shelton, said in Lansing Tuesday, "There has been no authorization for a strike."

Earlier Tuesday about two dozen phone company workers staged a wildcat strike and picketed a company garage in Detroit.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow is forecast tonight in the central Rockies. Rain and showers will fall over much of the middle section of the country and the Pacific Northwest. Colder temperatures are in store for the northern and central Plains and central and southern plateaus.

243,075 Cast Ballots

County Vote Canvass Is Done

The Oakland County Board of Canvassers reported today that 243,075 voters went to the polls in the Nov. 8 general election.

The vote was 14,609 less than turned out in the last nonpresidential year in 1962, and almost 60,000 fewer than the record presidential vote of 302,735 set two years ago.

The canvass of the county vote was completed yesterday afternoon, the deadline set by state law.

No major changes in the vote were recorded, according to Carlos Richardson, canvassing board chairman.

The votes received by four incumbent circuit judges and one probate judge were made public for the first time.

NOT RECORDED

They were unopposed and a running tabulation of their votes was not recorded election night by election officials.

* * *

Among the circuit judges, Arthur E. Moore lead the field with 119,243 votes, followed by Clark J. Adams, 101,389; Frederick C. Ziem, 100,484; and William J. Beer, 98,543.

Probate Judge Donald E. Adams received 105,302 votes.

Study Unification of 4 Communities

FARMINGTON — An interest indicated by area residents has prompted a study on the effects consolidation would have on four communities in the Farmington area.

The study of the possible consolidation of the city of Farmington, Farmington Township, and the villages of Wood Creek Farms and Quakertown is being undertaken by the Board of Commerce, the Jaycees and the League of Women Voters.

"We have no preconceived ideas," said William Bowman of the board of commerce.

"We are just trying to gather facts and study what effect unification would have on each community and on the group as a whole."

* * *

He said that following the latest annexation attempt, a number of citizens and members of the board of commerce felt that another look should be taken at the situation.

ONE WINS, ONE LOSES

The city's attempt to annex 1,800 acres of the township in the last general election failed, but a second proposal to annex 457 acres was approved by voters.

Bowman said the steering committee has contacted a specialist in municipal affairs at Michigan State University about undertaking the study.

First, however, the steering committee must obtain the opinions of the communities affected.

* * *

The city of Farmington went on record Monday night as offering full cooperation in the study and appointed City Manager John Dinan to provide the committee with any information it needs on matters such as finance and population.

Bowman said the committee will meet with the Farmington Township Board next week and the other two communities at their next regular meetings.

ALMONT — Mrs. Bruno Brueckner of Capac, Mrs. Esther Marsoupian of Romeo and Mrs. Merle Haney of Almont are the new members elected to the Almont Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary Board of Directors.

Mrs. Anthony Burian of Allenton was reelected to a three-year term.

Miss Ann Conway of Romeo was awarded a practical nurse's scholarship by the group. She will begin training in February at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens.

Members voted to purchase a refrigerator for the hospital emergency room and more side rails for patients beds with proceeds from a recent fashion show.

Light Rainfall in October Aided Farmers in Harvest

LANSING (AP)—Light rainfall during October helped Michigan farmers harvest their crops at a pace faster than last year's, according to the State Crop Reporting Service.

Total production of the state's 17 major field and fruit crops was expected to total over 10½ million tons this year, up 4 per cent from 1965 and 1 per cent above average.

The grain corn harvest, one quarter completed, continued at a record pace during October, and soybeans, three-quarters picked, also appeared headed for a record.

The fall potato harvest neared completion, although the crop was apparently hindered by the lack of rain. The Service chipped 10 hundredweight from last month's per-acre estimate.

* * *

Apple production expectancy continued about the same as last year's, but the grape harvest was down.

Cabbage production was estimated at 758,000 hundredweight, down 10 per cent from 1965.

Vote Recounts Two Weeks Off

At Stake Are 2 Races, Oxford Twp. Issue

Election recounts requested in three area townships — Groveland, Pontiac and Oxford — will begin in about two weeks, according to the chairman of the Oakland County Board of Canvassers.

* * *

Carlos Richardson said today that the review of the Nov. 8 votes cannot start until after the state gives its certification and releases its hold on ballots.

In Groveland, the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for supervisor, Donald J. Carter, 1831 Bird, is contesting the 236 to 223 vote that gave the incumbent, Earl B. Rhinevault, a 13-vote winning margin.

Groveland Township is one of three communities in Oakland County that uses paper ballots for voting.

Mont D. Bodman, 310 Auburn, has petitioned for the recount in Pontiac Township where he failed to win a seat on the board of trustees.

5 FEWER VOTES

A Democrat, Bodman received 1,412 votes, compared to the 1,417 that reelected Walter G. Smith.

Being challenged in Oxford Township is the 869 to 855 vote that defeated a proposal permitting the sale of liquor by the glass.

Wesley Collier, 879 S. Lapeer, Oxford Township, is questioning the recount.

It was the third time that the liquor proposal has been turned down by voters in the township.

Way of Life for Brandon Pair

'Truck Gardening Is Work'

By JEAN SAILE

BRANDON TOWNSHIP—Few families will sit down to a home-grown Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow, and one of those that can thinks it's been a lot of hard work.

* * *

For Mr. and Mrs. John Ish, 4101 Big Fish Lake, Brandon Township, the trip from the vine to the table has been a way of life the past 40 years.

They're truck gardeners whose stall No. 16 at the Oakland County Farmers' Market has been sought out by generations of shoppers.

"There aren't too many young people coming into the truck gardening line anymore," said 68-year-old Mrs. Ish, "and if I had it to do over again, I wouldn't."

* * *

Her husband was plowing the black soil of their 21 acres of bottom land yesterday in preparation for next year's crop as Mrs. Ish displayed the contents of her well-stocked freezer.

DOING LESS NOW

"I'm not able to do what I used to," she said. "There's not as much in here as there used to be."

The Ishs grow peas, string beans, cucumbers, sweet corn, potatoes, tomatoes, onions and beets.

They start in April, soon after their return from an annual Florida vacation, with the planting of onion seed. Beets and cucumbers come next.

* * *

"Sometimes the frost gets the early plantings. It's a gamble," said Mrs. Ish.

CONSTANTLY MATURING

Plantings then proceed about every 10 days through the growing season so a constantly maturing crop can be trucked into Pontiac for sale.

One of the family's big items is sweet corn.

"A lot of people buy big quantities of corn to freeze, but for the most part our sales are in small lots to individual customers," she reported.

"There was a time when the big markets would buy from the County Market, but now most of them shop in Detroit," she said.

* * *

"We used to sell hundreds of 50-pound bags of onions."

Mrs. Ish is not above purchasing strawberries and raspberries for freezing, and she cans such items as corn relish, green tomato and cucumber pickles.

She's especially fond of pickles made from a ripe Slippery Jack cucumber that taste much like pickled watermelon rind.

* * *

Mrs. Ish says she's never bought a TV dinner, though she's tasted them.

LIKES SMELL

She likes the smell and the flavor of fresh-cooked vegetables.

* * *

Tomorrow she and her husband — they have no children — will eat Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Ish's mother, 86-year-old Mrs. Charles Ish of 1555 Thayer, Groveland Township.

"She's stronger than I am," confided Mrs. Ish who will bring some of the vegetable dishes for the potluck family gathering.

A FREEZER FULL — The fruits of the garden are proudly displayed by Mrs. John Ish, 4101 Big Fish Lake, Brandon Township, who freezes and cans produce yearly. It's hard work, she says, but she likes the flavor of home-grown vegetables.

Parents Plan Bid for Light

At School Crossing in W. Bloomfield Twp.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A group of parents in the West Bloomfield School District is taking its complaints about safety hazards on Maple to the Oakland County Road Commission.

The parents from Westwood Village informed the board of education Monday night that they plan to ask the road commission to consider installing a stoplight at the Ealy Elementary School between Middle Belt and Orchard Lake.

The board has previously indicated that it would pay for installation and maintenance of a stoplight if it meets with approval of the road commission.

In other action, the board authorized Schools Supt. Dr. Leif Hougen to hire a third full-time vocal teacher and a second full-time instrumental teacher.

The district now employs two full-time and one half-time vocal teachers and one full-time instrumental teacher.

'HARD TO FIND'

"We need additional qualified teachers in these areas," said Dr. Hougen, "but they are hard to find."

Bids will be taken Jan. 23 on an addition to the high school cafeteria. It is part of a $7 million bond issue approved in June.

Brandon Twp. Dump Will Open Saturday

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Richard Wilcox announced today that the Brandon Township dump will open Saturday at its present location on M15.

Wilcox said the dump will be open seven days a week during the hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Russell Farner has been engaged as operator.

The dump, which also services residents of Independence and Groveland townships, will be operated as a landfill project for one year.

Meantime officials will investigate other possible locations in more remote areas.

* * *

Residents along M15 had complained of smoke and possible pollution. The dump was closed last August because of its failure to meet health restrictions.

Report Mirrors County's Assets

Oakland County peopled by a contented citizenry is a good place to live.

Such is the essence of a report prepared by the Center for Urban Studies of the University of Michigan at the instance of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

The report on the 900 square-mile county with its 24 cities, 24 townships and 16 villages indicates a striking trend of area residents to move out of Detroit into the suburban county.

Since 1940, Oakland's population has zoomed from 254,000 to 691,000 in 1960. Currently, it is estimated at 850,000, making it the state's second most populous county.

Contrary to common belief, fewer County residents travel to Detroit's stores while an increasingly large number patronize the community shopping centers, with central business districts still a magnet for shoppers.

★ ★ ★

"Over-all," says the report, "about two-thirds of the residents of Oakland County visit a downtown area (other than Detroit's) at least once a month. Pontiac leads the list, followed by Birmingham and Royal Oak."

Residents interviewed in preparation of the report listed well-groomed neighborhoods, good schools, close proximity to work and stores and open spaces nearby among the County's main attractions.

With an unemployment rate of only 1 per cent, Oakland County holds an enviable position in the labor area. Its occupational mix shows an unusually high ratio of residents in the upper categories.

★ ★ ★

- 16 per cent are professional people;
- 19 per cent are businessmen;
- 19 per cent are skilled workers;
- 25 per cent are semiskilled laborers and service workers.

Significantly, 49 per cent of the population have incomes over $10,000 a year, with only 19 per cent earning less than $6,000 a year. Seventy-nine per cent of the homes in the County are privately owned, one of the highest levels in the State.

Oakland County residents need not cast eyes to greener grass elsewhere—it's a bright, inviting shade of green where they are.

UN Indicts South Africa for Mandate Abuse

The decision by the United Nations to revoke South Africa's old League of Nations mandate over the territory of South-West Africa has been ridiculed in some quarters as a "paper proposal."

Such it is. Even so, it is difficult to understand the reasoning that would have the United Nations refrain from passing resolutions it cannot put into force. In a world that is far from being peaceful and ruled by international law, the UN itself remains a "paper proposal."

South Africa stands indicted by the parliament of the world for having betrayed the purposes of the mandate by perpetuating in an enlightened age the tyrannical institution of apartheid (racial segregation) in the governmental structure of the mandated territory.

Even if generations hence this indictment is nothing but words on paper, it will be a fact of history.

TV Advertisers Resort to Fiction to Tell Story

The man has the statistics to back it up, but we still can't bring ourselves to believe what he says.

Doves flying in kitchen windows, washing machines growing out of the floor, a white knight on horseback attacking defenseless dirty people—this is the kind of thing that sells products, says WARREN F. AMBROSE, an authority on television with a New York advertising agency.

★ ★ ★

People are exposed to about 560 ads a day, he says, but 84 per cent of them go unnoticed.

Thus to get the viewer's attention, advertisers have found they must present fictitious and ludicrous situations and give exaggerated demonstrations of their product's fantastic and — inevitably — new New, NEW power.

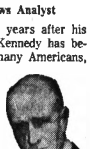
★ ★ ★

It's stupid, but it works. Apparently, like government, people get the kind of advertising they deserve.

History Will Judge Presidents

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Three years after his death President John F. Kennedy has become a magic figure to many Americans, perhaps to most. He ranks far higher in popular favor than his successor, President Johnson.



MARLOW

But much of this appraisal has its roots not in intellect but in emotion and personality, plus some other factors in the American society of this time. It is no barometer for what historians will say 50 years from now.

Kennedy had style, one of the most frequently used words in describing him, grace, wit, and a streak of the poetic in his response to people and events.

And he always had enough self-assurance to keep his ego out of sight. He didn't let it creep out on him in public.

Perhaps just as important in trying to understand the intensity of the devotion to this man who died so recently was the sense of youth he conveyed — new hope, new starts, new horizons — in a country where far more than half the population is under 50. He was 46 when he died.

Thus dying when and how he did—still young but assassinated — he moved instantly into history on the rich carpet of martyrdom with all that meant in the accompanying embroidery of mythology: adulation, sentimentality, and magnified appreciation.

★ ★ ★

Johnson has little of Kennedy's glamor and sense of youth. He is older, anyway. He is 58. He has not much wit, not much grace in the Kennedy sense, his utterances are not poetic but prosaic.

BIG DIFFERENCE

And he wears his egotism like a green beret, with "I this" and "we this" and "my that." Yet, right here one of the great differences between Johnson and Kennedy appears.

Where the self-assured Kennedy, out of a wealthy and cultured background, gave the impression of taking public approval for granted, the poor-background Johnson seems uncertain of it, but terribly anxious for it.

This makes for awkwardness, and in comparison to Kennedy, Johnson is awkward. This may explain why many people, who cringe at awkwardness and consider the intrusion of the ego bad taste, say they dislike Johnson and remember Kennedy almost with a sigh.

That is an appraisal based not on performance but on personality.

PICK AND CHOOSE

It gives people the luxury of picking and choosing more on how a man appeals to them than on what he does. But to judge Johnson on his personality is not only unfair, it's unrealistic, if he is to be judged as a president.

Making A Mockery Of It!

David Lawrence Says:

China U.N. Entry 'Study' Wise

WASHINGTON—On the surface it might appear that the United States government has made a significant change in its policy on the highly controversial subject of admitting Red China into the United Nations. But there is good reason to believe that it is more of a tactical move at this time than a clear-cut solution to the problem.

LAWRENCE

An impasse on the question had developed at the U.N. for which the United States was being blamed. Yet the truth is that Red China has not been eager to join the United Nations.

To clear the atmosphere and pinpoint the responsibility for the anomalous situation, the American government now has taken a favorable attitude toward a resolution backed by Italy, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and other countries proposing a comprehensive "study" of the whole problem and particularly what are called the "political realities."

The United States has nothing to lose and everything to gain by a "study," because it will bring out into the open whether Red China intends to be a peaceful member of the United Nations and to respect the provisions of its charter or whether it plans to continue its irresponsible course.

There will be some collateral benefits to the United States, moreover, from the debate and the new "study."

Red China will have to discuss the problem openly, and unquestionably this will permeate the political groups and factions inside Red China, where there are already signs of serious dissension.

The United States has gained a point in that the new resolution itself, which is sure to be adopted shortly, merely asks that a committee explore the question and recommend "an equitable and practical solution."

There will be time enough later to take a stand on whether the United States should agree to a bigger role for Red China than has hitherto been envisaged.

There are reasons for believing that the United States would not object to Red China's membership in the United Nations insofar as the mainland area is concerned, but would oppose any rearrangement of the Security Council so as to give the Peking regime the seat now held by Nationalist China.

To bestow on Red China the privileges of a veto, which could block any action the Security Council might take on any subject hereafter, would obviously be detrimental to the future of the U.N. and might even cause a break-up of the whole organization.

The United States, to be sure, would not agree even to a membership for mainland China in the General Assembly unless there was evidence that the Communist Chinese had renounced their policies of aggression.

The United States, on the other hand, welcomes a full and frank discussion in the public forums of the world so that this government will no longer be accused of blocking any country from membership in the United Nations.

Bob Considine Says:

Never a Minute to Relax on Korean Neutral Zone

PANMUNJOM, Korea—This place is mined with hate. There is never a minute to relax during the day or night along the 151-mile demilitarized strip dividing the two Koreas. Any kind of breach of the armed truce would trip those mines and reopen the bloody Korean war.

CONSIDINE

It's a spooky place that calls for good nerves on the part of both sides. The Americans you will find here particularly were handpicked for their jobs.

They are tall ones chosen to tower over their opposite numbers across the line. They are manly - looking ones. This is no place for the averted eye or the helpless gulp.

The confrontations are like something out of George Orwell.

★ ★ ★

Meetings are held only when one side has a complaint to file. The side against which the complaint will be lodged must show up at the grim little meeting shack at one minute before 11 o'clock in the morning. Precisely at the stroke of 11 the other side enters.

COLD GLARES

There is no handshake, of course. There is not even a nod or blink of recognition, just cold glares across a green-topped table. Often there is not even a response to the charge and the men go out opposite doors in silence.

The bitter demarcation line dates back to the conference at Potsdam, where the U.S., United Kingdom, Soviet Union and Republic of China promised a free and independent Korea — which had been under Japanese domination since 1910.

It was cordially agreed that the Reds would accept the surrender of all Japanese forces above the 38th Parallel and the Americans would do the same at that parallel.

★ ★ ★

The Russians and their puppets stayed on after the surrender formalities. In 1947 the U.N. General Assembly affirmed the principle of a free and independent Korea, but a commission which it dispatched to look into the matter was denied admission to North Korea.

RUSSIAN WING

Here swiftly followed the formation under Russia's protective wing of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

Its forces moved across the border with a brutal surprise attack on June 25, 1950, and nearly pushed the South Korean army and a smattering of American troops into the sea before the advance down the peninsula was stopped.

Armistice negotiations and handshakes took place, but it has been an uneasy truce. Indeed, the Republic of Korea has never signed the agreement.

'Swamp Drainage Runs Down Residential Street'

Here is another instance of bad roads in Waterford Township. On Midrow, we barely have any road left because a whole subdivision's water is piped into a two-lot swamp and is then released to run down our one-block street. The erosion has narrowed our road to one lane. We have a four-foot ditch across from our driveway and on each side.

This is a health hazard—there were two cases of hepatitis this summer.

The Road Commission tells us to call the DPW. The DPW insists they alone are not responsible and until some agreement is reached between these two public service agencies, nothing will be done.

Would Establish New Halloween Tradition

Halloween has gotten out of hand as have other things in this present age. Why must cities put law officers out in force for a fun night for the little ones? The cost of Halloween could be the welfare of our families.

Question and Answer

I've heard silly definitions of the word "mugwump," but what does it really mean and where did the word come from? My dictionary doesn't make it clear.

CONFUSED

REPLY

Generally, it's used as a somewhat sarcastic term for a person of importance, or who thinks he's important. Politically, it's applied to members of a political party who are likely to bolt, because in the 1884 election some Republicans who bolted were accused of feeling superior to the party and labeled mugwumps. The word is Algonquin in origin and probably came from the Massachuset word, "mugquomp," meaning chief.

Historical Hodgepodge

Le Monde, Paris

The subject of Gibraltar is not just a question of negotiations between Spain and Great Britain. The English can argue that they hold the Rock by legitimate acquisition; the Spanish reply that they were there before them. But it is also true that the Arab nations can enter the debate and base their claims on the very name of Gibraltar — Djebel-al-Tarik — which perpetuates the memory of its conquering Moor.

★ ★ ★

The rub is that Tarik took the place from the Visigoth King Roderick, and Chancellor Erhard, with a show of reason, can establish himself as the rightful heir of this distant relative, than whom nobody could be more German. In that he would risk troubles with Mr. Fanfani, uncontested heir of the Romans, who were put to flight by the Visigoths.

There remains, moreover, the fact that the Romans had themselves colonized Celtiberia. And there everything gets mixed up, for if there are for the Celtic branch numerous respondents, the Iberian branch has, from the Basque Provinces to the Caucasus, hypothetical but innumerable descendants.

All in all, the simplest solution without doubt would be to leave the Rock to the apes that have populated it since time immemorial, which would, some day, with an assist from Darwin permit the whole business to start over again.

College Sit-In

New York Daily News

This student sit-in at the City College administration building was small as regards numbers of students involved. At most, only 150 kooks and kookettes showed up.

But the thing was ominous, and, as CCNY President Buell C. Gallagher said, City College is the No. 1 target for the Communist Party.

★ ★ ★

What the sitter-inners demanded was a joint committee of students and faculty members to make college policy. Dr. Gallagher said he was buying none of that.

Taking part in the sit-in were five organizations: Progressive Labor Club (headed by an admitted Red, Richard Rhoades), W. E. B. DuBois Club (calling itself Marxist-orientated), Communist Forum (if you are anti-Marxist, try to discuss anything with this bunch), Anarchist Discussion Society, and Students for a Democratic Society,

★ ★ ★

The last-named outfit is labeled by Federal Bureau of Investigation Chief J. Edgar Hoover "one of the most militant organizations now engaged in activities protesting U.S. foreign policy . . . Communists are actively promoting and participating in the activities of this organization."

SDS, having got a foothold in various colleges, is now trying to seduce high school students into joining up.

We hope Dr. Gallagher will yield not an inch to these Reds, Pinks, punks and dupes, and that public opinion will then support him to the hilt. Among things not wanted or needed in New York City is a carbon copy of the University of California at Berkeley.

In other business last night, the commission approved a resolution to provide for a higher interest (6 per cent) for temporary notes issued annually to finance Lakeside Homes, the city's lone public housing project. This year's issue is $1.37 million.

REFINANCED ANNUALLY

The notes are refinanced annually. Normally an automatic administrative procedure, the last refinancing resolution set an interest limitation of 2.5 per cent. Current interest rates run as high as 4.21 per cent.

Also last night, the commission designated Joseph E. Neipling, recently appointed director of public works and services, and city attorney Philip E. Rowston as the city's representatives at a hearing scheduled for Dec. 1 in Mount Clemens.

Called by the Michigan State Department of Agriculture, the hearing is to consider a petition requesting the deepening, widening and straightening of the Clinton River, which runs through Oakland and Macomb counties.

* * *

Neipling said the petition appeared to be an effort by Macomb County officials to establish a management board for the river.

SIDEWALK PETITION

A petition for a sidewalk on Bay from Herrington School north to Mount Clemens Street was referred to Neipling for preparation of a cost estimate.

A public hearing was ordered for Dec. 13 on construction of a sanitary sewer on Durant from Pershing to a point 250 feet northwest.

Total cost of the sewer was estimated at $2,780, while the assessed cost is to be $900 and the city's share is $1,592.

A revised heating code ordinance, which would update both the fee schedule for heating permits and several provisions setting standards for heating contractors, was presented last night in other business.

FURTHER STUDY

Referred for further study by the commission, the revised ordinance is to be introduced in three weeks.

* * *

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. last night named George Putnam, director of music, Pontiac School District, and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, 94 Ottawa, to be the city's representatives at a statewide conference Jan. 12 in Lansing.

* * *

The conference is to be the first meeting of the newly formed Council for the Arts.

Two Divorce Suits No Laughing Matter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Henry De Laughter simultaneously filed divorce suits against Mary Hall DeLaughter of Madison, Fla., and Ethel Cooper DeLaughter of Hollywood.

* * *

The suit against Mary Hall DeLaughter charged her with desertion. It alleged she refused to accompany him to Miami in 1944 after marrying him in 1939.

The second suit said he and Ethel separated in 1962 after he learned his attorney had failed to follow through and no final decree was recorded for his first marriage.

Landing Delayed

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Rep. Charles Chamberlain, R-Mich., was among a group of congressmen aboard a special Air Force plane that circled fogged-in Lisbon for three hours Tuesday before landing. The flight, from Madrid, was returning the group from the Paris North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Conference.

WOMEN'S SECTION

You're Still a Married Woman

Don't Accept Single Dates

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please advise me as to how a 19-year-old girl from a small town who is separated, with a divorce in the near future, should conduct herself.

ABBY

I have a 6-months-old son and I want to keep my reputation flawless for his sake as well as my own. I have no idea what is acceptable conduct for a girl in my situation. Should I date? Should I go to the local dances and dance with anybody who asks me?

Should I accept dates out of town that mean staying overnight? (Even if we had separate motel rooms?) How about attending mixed parties with a group of girls? I would appreciate any advice you can give me.

NO NAME, NO TOWN

DEAR NO NAME: A woman who is not yet divorced should not date. She may enjoy the company of the opposite sex at parties, or in groups, but she certainly should not accept overnight invitations. Neither should she go to the local dances and dance with anybody who asks her.

It's all right to attend parties with a "group" of girls, if she goes home with the "group" she came with.

DEAR ABBY: I know it's customary to send roses to an actress on her opening night. But what does one send an actor? Flowers somehow don't seem appropriate for a man. LMG

DEAR LMG: Send a telegram, a rabbit's foot, a four-leaf clover or a horseshoe — accompanied by a little "eating money" in case he bombs.

DEAR ABBY: The letter about people who take their ill-mannered, untrained children to public places and turn them loose, and your answer ("blame the parents") broke my heart.

I am the mother of such a child, and I assure you I am not to blame. If people only knew how much they hurt me when they ask my darling little boy, "What in the world is wrong with you?"

You see, he is retarded, epileptic, and almost blind. I do correct him but he forgets so soon. No one wants to sit with a child like mine, so I have to take him with me.

I am not ashamed of him, but I don't intend to go through life apologizing to strangers for something which neither he nor I can help. Sign this

"LOVES HIM ANYWAY"

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HURRICANE INEZ": Life is not that complicated. The most important thing a mother can do for her children is to love their father.

Add Performance

The Birmingham Village Players will present an extra performance of "Mary, Mary" at 9 p.m. Saturday in the Village Playhouse. An unprecedented demand for tickets for the originally scheduled performances led to the extra one.

Singing for and with patients at Pontiac State Hospital is a task cheerfully assumed by members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale. After their Thanksgiving concert on Tuesday, everyone joined in group singing. At the piano is Mrs. C. F. Larkey Jr. of Strathdon Way. Standing from left are Mrs. M. M. Alward, Osceola Drive, and Mrs. Richard Stuckmeyer, Menominee Road.

Unusual Coed Plan Is Dedicated to Cupid

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Colleges and universities take note.

There's one unusual coed institution that is dedicated to cupid on an international basis, places no restrictions on its residents concerning hours, and in 21 years of its open-door policy not once has had the slightest hint of scandal occur.

* * *

This experiment is coed living goes on at an Upper East Side branch of the Young Men's & Young Women's Hebrew Association.

And Mrs. Abraham N. Rosen, a vice president and volunteer chairman of the Y's residence committee, believes it is the only one in the United States with its policy of residence for both sexes.

* * *

Mrs. Rosen isn't offering advice to campus officials on their often controversial policies of visiting hours in residence halls.

GUIDE THEMSELVES

"But at the Y," she said, "we try to be permissive . . . we're dealing with young adults. We don't breathe down their necks. I think it is a tribute to them that we do not have to supervise . . . that they are guiding themselves."

* * *

The Y's experiment began in 1945 when the original YWHA farther up town lost its building to the Army and the girls had no place to live.

The YMHA gallantly opened its doors, turning over two of its five floors to the women.

It was predicted that terrible things would happen, with some opponents pointing out there was no way to lock the girls' floors off from the elevators.

Some were even more horrified when the girls were permitted to share with the men the gymnasium and swimming pool.

* * *

Mrs. Rosen, who was on the YW board at the time, laughed as she recalled, "One of the older members of the board observed, 'Well, we will have to have a maternity ward'."

NO FIGURES KEPT

What has happened instead has been a very active cupid.

No one has kept figures on the total number of marriages since the Y went coed, but in 1962, the year of the Zenith, there were 17 marriages between resident couples and nine more residents married to non-residents they had met at the Y.

* * *

Mrs. Rosen recalled that the Happy Day Fund, made up of voluntary contributions to finance observances of birthdays, weddings and such, went broke, happily, in 1962.

Currently, there are eight engagements. Residents move out upon marriage.

The Y intends to continue its encouragement of cupid when late next year it will open its new 11-story annex linked by corridors to its present building.

* * *

Although the new 200-bed residence will be for women, with the present building going back to the men, the Y will encourage match-making with lounges where young persons can prepare snacks, with "courting corners," or what the Y's executive director Carl Urbont, called "more areas for privacy," and residents will continue to share pool and gym.

They Add Music to PSH Patients' Lives

Music therapy is an important part of the program at Pontiac State Hospital. Twice a week members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale visit wards assigned to them by the music therapy department.

Not only do they provide music themselves, but they circulate among the patients and encourage their participation in group singing.

"The members of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale who have been a part of the volunteer program in music therapy have been valuable members of the treatment teams who work directly with the patients on the wards," says Mrs. Dallas Vancil, music therapist at the hospital.

* * *

Members who work in groups of four are Mesdames H. W. Perry; E. E. Harris; F. V. Rowe; J. O. Nouse; H. L. Welch and G. V. Cripps.

* * *

Others are Mesdames W. W. Lagerquist, A. P. O'Neill; D. L. Harriston; Wellington Relyea Jr.; C. E. Patton; M. G. Patterson and F. I. McDowell.

CHORUS

Many of these women are also members of the Tuesday Musicale chorus, the group presenting the annual Christmas concert for the club on Dec. 13 at Central Methodist Church.

* * *

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale is affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs.

More Babies—Fewer Parents

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The adoption picture in the United States has changed drastically. A member of the women's staff has interviewed a number of social workers in adoption agencies in order to learn about the local situation.

By BEA SWORDS

Some 10 years ago there were 10 people for every infant put up for adoption. Now there are only two prospective parents per child. At this rate, by 1976, there will be eight children for every two prospective adoptive parents.

* * *

New medical discoveries have enabled couples to have children rather than adopt. Also, there is no longer the social pressure upon childless couples to adopt.

NATIONAL TREND

The problem of so many infants being assigned to agencies is a much discussed problem. Our own state and county are no different from other areas. It is a national trend.

* * *

We have all read articles these last few years dealing with the "moral revolution" and its complications. Nationally, 83 per cent of all children now up for adoption are children of unwed mothers.

Social workers express the belief that until a solution to the moral problems is worked out there will continue to be more and more unwanted children.

* * *

Whatever the reason, the fact remains. There will actually be a time, perhaps the next decade or so, when a child will spend his life from infancy to adulthood as a ward of the courts. The adopted baby will become an exception.

Our society is beginning to look upon children as liabilities.

The "child surplus" has not reached its total impact yet, but it looks as though we can count on a crisis.

* * *

The state of Michigan contends that every child has the right to a home, and to love. When no one else can supply these things, the courts must find a way.

Infants may well be cared for en masse by several qualified people. However, scientists and social workers agree that infants in this situation find it difficult to thrive.

LOVE IS KEY

Children require love. Without it they often cease to eat properly, become listless and fall victim to illness.

The total institutional child will have to be outstanding. The substitute for a home is not simply a blanket, a cuddly bear and a crib in a warm, bright room. Children require love.

When the state must care for children for perhaps a total of 19 or 20 years a highly developed care system will have to be activated. One social worker I talked with suggested a cottage-type arrangement with perhaps a maximum of 10 children to one adult couple.

No matter when the final decision on total care will be, it will cost a staggering amount of money for taxpayers.

Every child is entitled to love and to a home, but if society begins to think of its children as liabilities, their welcome is limited. Eight children for every two adoptive parents within the coming decade is something to think about now.

Rehearsal Dinner for Saturday Rite

Laurena Pringle will do the commentary.

* * *

Working on arrangements are Mesdames Philip J. Monaghan, Robert E. Schultz, Ernest A. Jones, Peter J. Russ and Marvin Gielow.

Club officers are Mesdames Robert VanderKloot, honorary chairman; William T. McNaughton, chairman; Peter J. Russ, vice chairman; John H. Forshew and Paul Connolly, secretaries; Raymond Monto, treasurer.

Group Sets Yule Event Next Month

Mrs. Harry Rhodes and Mrs. Edgar Plympton named committees for the dinner dance being sponsored by Beta Chi chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. Kingley Inn is the place on Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m.

* * *

Proceeds from the dance which is open to the public, will go to Pontiac State Hospital.

* * *

The group met Monday in the YWCA. Members brought canned goods for a needy family basket to be given at Thanksgiving.

* * *

A report on the recent Pontiac City Council meeting was given by Mrs. L. L. Schiefler and one on the board meeting by Mrs. Louis Scarlotti.

* * *

Mrs. Donald Murphy will host the annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Louella Ervin was a guest at this meeting.

Season Mart Sells Variety of Novelties

"Cones and weeds and decorating needs" will be available at a Christmas store, an innovation this year at the annual holiday tea for Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

The unusual table setting may be viewed in the parlors of the Pontiac YWCA Tuesday, from 1-4 p.m.

Among novelties contributed by the members for the upstairs shop are pine cones, dried artichokes, flowers and plant materials for spraying, osage oranges, sachets, driftwood, pomander balls, also a few choice jams and jellies.

* * *

Mrs. D. B. Eames and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson are cochairmen for the annual event, with Mrs. Bruce Annett as tea chairman.

The Christmas store was planned by Mrs. Robert Oliver Jr. and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman.

Her Engagement Is Announced

The engagement of Carolynn Jeanne Shuart to Robert Eaton Dustman, son of the G. W. Dustmans of Kalamazoo, formerly of Waterford, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Shuart of Detroit.

Miss Shuart attends Eastern Michigan University and her fiance is presently at Central Michigan University.

Can Accept This Festive Invitation

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: As parents of a 19-year-old daughter, we are confronted with a problem we would appreciate your opinion on. Our daughter has returned to a college fifty miles from home.

She has been invited to a country-club dance by a young man whom she has been dating for the past six months. The young man's parents and sister (and escort) will also be attending; in fact, the parents will be driving the two couples to the dance, and home, afterward.

Since the party won't be over until too late for our daughter to return to school, her escort's parents (whom she knows) have invited her to stay at their home overnight and return to school the next day.

She has asked our permission to attend this function and be an overnight guest in her friend's home. And we are asking you, would her staying overnight be in questionable taste, or acceptable to today's social standards? —Violet Callery

Dear Mrs. Callery: The date, as you describe it, could hardly be considered in questionable taste; in fact I can't imagine a more proper solution to your daughter's problem.

She will be chaperoned by responsible adults the entire time, even going to and from the party. Let her go, by all means, and I hope she has a wonderful time.

CONDOLENCE NOTES

Dear Mrs. Post: When a person has a death in the family and friends send sympathy cards, is it proper for the family to acknowledge the cards by sending each person a thank you note?

Some say it is only necessary to acknowledge flowers, mass cards or memorial cards, and others say all sympathy cards should be acknowledged. Please advise which is proper.—Jean K.

Dear Jean: All senders of hand-written notes, mass cards and memorial cards should be thanked by a note from a member of the family. Printed sympathy cards do not, however, require acknowledgment.

Daughter Arrives for B. R. Chases

The birth of a daughter, Aimee Lynn, Nov. 13 in Pontiac General Hospital, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Bradley R. Chase (Lynde Hartman) of Brambles Drive.

Grandparents are the William B. Hartmans, Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Herbert Collins, Andersonville Road.

Be Practical About Gifts for Charity

At this time of year — when church groups, social clubs, and individuals make up baskets of goodies and gifts for less privileged neighbors — it is a special kindness to include a generous supply of toilet soaps and large containers of soap or detergent for household and laundry purposes.

While these might not seem like holiday items, they will be most welcome by recipients whose minimum incomes or welfare allowances can seldom be stretched to include adequate supplies of products required to maintain decent cleanliness.

Shut-ins, too — especially those confined to nursing homes — appreciate gifts of fragrant toilet soap.

Couple Place in Contract Bridge

A Waterford township couple took third place in a championship Contract Bridge event this week in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Roekel of Adlake Drive scored in a field of 292 players at the American Contract Bridge League's Fall National Tournament.

Fads come and fashions go, but the full-length evening gown with matching coat is always the ultimate in fashion for the most elegant occasions, says Adele Simpson, who presents this full-length dress of sheer wool crepe printed in holiday green and red with matching coat of melton cloth.

Skirt Linings Stop Bunching

Here is a hint to keep your narrow, straight skirt in shape in the back if it has a tendency to bulge out or sag from sitting. Sew a piece of taffeta or sateen about 14 inches long across the inside of the skirt.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Last spring I took the final plunge and decided to go on a diet. It really worked, and I lost about 25 pounds. This is great for the morale, but heavens, what it does for your wardrobe! I am finding it more fun to begin with new things rather than taking in all of the old ones (this is sort of a reward I have given myself). However, I did have lots of beautiful wool and silk slacks that are quite expensive to replace, and didn't honestly think they could be fixed to fit, but they can.

My son's boyfriend (who used to work in a tailor shop) taught me the secret. Remember gals, this only works if your slacks are too large all over, not just too long in the crotch seam.

First, pin the waistline to fit. The easiest way to correct this is to make a seam right through the back waistband like they do with men's trousers. Next, make a fold with your fingers, the correct size to draw up the crotch seam at the center back to eliminate that baggy look. Be sure to stoop over and check before you take them in; you must have room to sit and move around.

As an example: If your crotch seam is 2 inches too long at the center back, you will take each leg in 1 inch at the inseam, tapering to nothing at the knee or wherever. This will automatically raise the crotch seam the 2 inches you need, and they'll fit great.

Important: Stitch the in-seams first, then stitch the crotch seam continuously from the center front to the center back, and they'll look like new again.

This alteration will naturally bring the side seams slightly to the back. Girls, if this bothers you, you will have to change the side seams instead of taking in the waistline at the center back. It didn't bother me since I was saving something that couldn't have been worn, and I was looking for the quickest and simplest way of alteration.

★ ★ ★

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I have noticed a decided Russian influence in some of the high fashion clothes. Since I love this look, I am in a real tizzy because I can't find a coat pattern with those great looking "frogs" instead of buttons for the closing.

Why don't the fashion designers for patterns keep up with the ready-to-wear market? Can I add this detail myself? If so, how do I go about it? Mrs. F .S.

Dear Mrs. S. F.:

You'll never know how hard the fashion designers for pattern companies do try to keep up with the new styles in ready-to-wear market. (I know several of them and am convinced that many times, they are way ahead of the current fashion.)

11-20

The Russian influence is definitely here, partly due to the movie Dr. Zhivago. You will find more double-breasted coats and suits, high waistlines and a more fitted appearance. These styles usually look the best when made from firm fabric that shapes well.

Instead of making your buttonholes and using buttons, you may use the frog detail. Be sure the frog is long enough for your garment. There must be a button at the center front, or else the frog might have a button on each end with the exact center placed on the center front.

If you can't find an appropriate color or type ready-made, you might even make your own, either in heavy satin, some fabric, or finished cording. The buttons are usually the "Chinese ball buttons."

I have written a leaflet which describes the method of making cording and the buttons in detail. You may receive your copy by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with 10 cents to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press and request my leaflet number 4, "Spaghetti Straps and Chinese Ball Buttons."

If you want some ideas for simple Christmas gifts you can make in a jiffy — and some clever decorating ideas you can make, send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed envelope with your request for the booklet, "Christmas Quickies." Address your request to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mohawk carpet for your den! Play on it, dance on it- Nothing hurts it!
Den, playroom, rumpus room—whatever you call it—it's the room your family has the most fun in. And we'll bet dollars to doughnuts it has the worst floor in your home!
Now, carpeting a room that gets so much traffic is probably the last thing you'd think of. And if it weren't for the fact that carpeting is so quiet, so easy to clean—and doesn't cost much more than the scuffed-up floor you spend half your life waxing—we wouldn't recommend it. That's why we want you to look at this one: probably the most beautiful stain-and-spot-resistant carpet you've ever seen!
Creslan®
It's Mohawk's BRIAR LANE...carpet pile made with Creslan® acrylic and modacrylic fiber! Its dramatically raised texture is random sheared to create rich highlights of luxury—yet firm and dense enough to hide footprints and traffic lanes. Cleaning's so easy, too...a damp sponge whisks away spills and spots from just about anything your kids might drop on it!
And try to find colors like these in other floorings! Bahama Beige, Sauterne, Avocado, Honey Beige, Damask Red...just a few of the dozen exciting shades available in BRIAR LANE to brighten up the most popular room in your home! Oswald tells his son: "You are so lucky! When I was a boy I was taught never to lead away from a king and to lead through strength. There are so many things about bridge you have not had to unlearn."

Jim: "Leading through strength is better than leading up to it. As for leading from a king it is a pretty good policy to see if there isn't something better to do before you lead from one."

Oswald: "Here is a hand from 30 years ago. I was unfortunate East and my partner an old-timer who had never unlearned the old theories. He opened the king of spades, looked over dummy and promptly shifted to the nine of diamonds, whereupon South proceeded to take the remaining tricks."

Jim: "At least West adhered to his incorrect principles. He didn't lead away from his king and he did lead through strength. Too bad he didn't follow the first principle of card play and think."

Oswald: "Had West stopped to think he would have seen that if East held either the queen or ace a club shift might defeat the contract. The diamond lead would be a give-up play."

Jim: "The club lead away from the king might conceivably cost a trick. It couldn't cost the setting trick. Actually it would have led to the defeat of the contract."

Turkey Tom Is Lionized by Alaskans

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Only in Alaska could a turkey become a walrus.

That happens today when Turkey Tom, all 28 gobbling pounds of him, is inducted into the Order of the Alaska Walrus.

* * *

It started when some soldiers at Ft. Wainwright discovered there wasn't a live turkey north of the Alaska mountain range. They had one flown in by jet Tuesday night and it was greeted by the mayor and all sorts of dignitaries.

Visits by Tom to schools and the children's ward at a hospital are planned.

RESIDENT OF ZOO

Tom eventually will become a resident of a zoo at next summer's centennial site here.

The turkey's escort on his round of festivities is Pfc. Noel Bird.

Court Clerk Hurt

HOWELL (AP) — Ronald L. Dzierbicki, clerk of the State Court of Appeals, was reported in fair condition in a Howell hospital Tuesday after his car went off I-96 and rolled over in Howell Township. Dzierbicki, 32, was en route to Lansing from his Detroit home when his car went out of control.

Robbery Plans Went to Pot for 2 Holdup Men

DETROIT (AP)—Two armed men held up a florist shop here Tuesday and escaped—but only with a potted plant on the advice of the intended victim.

Mrs. Marilyn Lashlee, co-owner of the shop, was bound by the gunmen, who were told that there was no money to steal because the shop had just opened and all previous receipts had been banked.

* * *

Mrs. Lashley suggested they steal something else and leave looking like customers, instead of holdup men.

"My partner, Mrs. Betty Matoff, will be getting here soon, and she's a wildcat," Mrs Lashlee said. "She's death on holdup men."

Under Mrs. Lashlee's supervision, the gunmen wrapped up a potted plant and left.

New State Law Eyed for Street Light Cost

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A new state law to permit special property assessments to cover costs of operating and maintaining street lights will be sought by the Grand Rapids City Commission.

The commission, in making the announcement Tuesday, said installation costs can be paid from present assessments but that maintenance costs of some $150,000 annually must come from the city's general fund.

* * *

The commission said it would first seek the approval of the State Public Service Commission and Gov. George Romney before taking the proposal to the Legislature.

TEXAN IN THE WHITE HOUSE (5)

by Don Oakley and John Lane

In 1956, southern Democrats launched a drive to get Johnson, "Can-Do" man of the Senate, the presidential nomination. It got nowhere. In 1957, Johnson guided the first civil rights bill in 80 years into law. In 1960, he made a determined bid for the nomination, but the well-planned campaign waged by Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy was irresistible. Then, to the surprise of everyone, Johnson accepted Kennedy's offer of the vice presidential spot.

After the election, Johnson toured the world extensively as roving personal representative of President Kennedy. Then suddenly on Nov. 23, 1963, with the brutal finality of an assassin's bullet, Lyndon B. Johnson found himself President of the United States. His first words to the American people as President were: "I will do my best. That is all I can do. I ask for your help and God's."

President Johnson's best was impressive by any measure. Numerous New Frontier proposals hanging fire in Congress were written into law, the most important being the Civil Rights Act of 1964. America rode the crest of rising prosperity, helped along by a tax cut, and seldom has a president been so popular.

Disney Is Slowed by Lung Operation

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Movie maker Walt Disney is expected by his doctors to return to a full work schedule in four to six weeks after surgery that removed part of his left lung.

His studio said Tuesday no recurrence of the condition is foreseen.

Disney, 64, entered St. Joseph Hospital recently for treatment of an old polo injury, the studio said, and an examination disclosed a lesion on the left lung.

2 Republicans, Dem Rake LBJ Policies

DETROIT (AP)—Two Republican congressmen-elect and a second-term Democrat representative took President Johnson to task Tuesday over federal spending and the war in Viet Nam.

Speaking at a luncheon of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, GOP representative-elect Jack H. McDonald and Marvin L. Esch said Republican gains in the Nov. 8 election will once again make Congress an independent body.

McDonald, from the 19th District, said the GOP has a mandate from the American people to divert the nation from what he termed Johnson's federal paternalism.

"No longer can we spend our problems away," he said. "This course must be changed. "The philosophy of take from the haves and give to the have-nots is unsound."

* * *

Esch said one of the GOP's major tasks is paring waste from the Great Society and he predicted the budget the President will present in January will be more balanced because of the nationwide GOP election gains.

Rep. John L. Conyers of Detroit, a Democrat who usually is a strong LBJ supporter, criticized America's participation in the war in Viet Nam.

* * *

He said that if it weren't for the Viet Nam situation America would have no fear of a tax increase, and greater assistance could be given the "nation's 32 million poor people."

Conyers, a Negro, called upon America's whites to deal more with the nation's non-whites.

Hospital Group Backs Licenses

State Association Is in Favor of Reform

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Hospital Association told a special interim House committee Tuesday that it favors general licensing of Michigan's hospitals.

The five-member committee, headed by Rep. James Karoub, D-Highland Park, opened an investigation into hospital billing, accounting and operational practices and policies concerning insurance.

Allan Barth, executive director of the hospital association, told the committee his organization feels "Michigan's fragmented (patchwork) hospital licensing mechanism should be replaced."

"Anyone wishing to operate a hospital without being governed by state health laws may do so, if the hospital does not take maternity patients, T. B. patients or welfare patients," Barth said.

"Under Michigan law the only type of hospital that needs a license is one where babies are born," he said.

A bill requiring the licensing of hospitals, sponsored by Rep. William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, a committee member, passed the House April 20 and now is in the Senate Committee on Health and Welfare.

A date for the committee's next meeting was not set.

Big New Safety Recall Adds Car Industry Worry

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry, already beset with a sales lag and production cutbacks, had another worry today —the possible effects of a safety recall campaign involving more than half a million cars and trucks.

The industry confirmed without enthusiasm Tuesday reports from Washington that a wide variety of potential auto safety hazards had been discovered in recent months.

* * *

It was small consolation to U. S. manufacturers that some of their foreign competitors, ranging from the swanky Rolls Royce of England to Japan's Honda motorcycle, were in the same boat.

The majority of the 527,962 U. S. built cars and trucks involved in the recall campaign already have been checked out, but additional thousands of owners were sent notification by registered mail that a potential trouble item had been uncovered in their cars.

BEHIND PACE

Disclosure of the recall campaigns, most of which took place in the past several weeks, came as the industry was reporting its mid-November car sales ran behind the 1965 pace.

Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors, with eight selling days in the Nov. 11-20 period, sold 232,494 cars or an average of 29,062 a day. That compared with the nine-day period of mid-November last year when sales were 312,884 cars, an average of 34,765 a day.

Industry sales in October and early November ran about five per cent below a year ago.

Yanks to Be Out of France by Deadline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite the gigantic problems involved, the Defense Department fully intends to have all U.S. troops, civilian employes and supplies out of France by the April 1 deadline President Charles de Gaulle set.

U. S. European Command headquarters near Paris announced yesterday that more than one-third of the 70,000 defense personnel and dependents and more than half the 770,000 tons of military supplies had been moved out of France by the end of October.

The Pentagon specifically denied a report that the United States might not be able to meet de Gaulle's deadline.

"It is reiterated that the United States is proceeding to honor the French request to withdraw forces by April 1, 1967, and is withdrawing in an orderly manner as rapidly as possible," the Pentagon said.

State Dems Plan Sessions to Assess Loss

LANSING (AP) — The Democratic State Central Committee said Tuesday a series of statewide meetings will be held soon to obtain views, comments and criticisms of the party's lopsided loss to Republicans in the Nov. 8 election.

Zolton Ferency, state Democratic chairman and defeated gubernatorial candidate, said the decision to hold meetings was reached Monday night at the committee's first meeting since the election.

* *

"There was complete agreement that a careful and deliberate assessment of the results of the election ought to be made as soon as possible, and that active Democrats, elected officials, candidates and political leaders at all levels must be fully involved in any such assessment," Ferency said.

Ferency said the committee agreed that an unusually large number of traditionally Democratic voters had apparently failed to vote, and that Democratic candidates at all levels were hurt by a national tide in favor of the GOP.

Drivers Urged to Be Cautious

DETROIT (AP)—The Automobile Club of Michigan Tuesday urged motorists to be extremely cautious drivers over the Thanksgiving weekend, even though most driving probably will be done close to home.

"We expect this weekend to fall into the traditional pattern," said Auto Club touring manager Jerry E. Fisher. Trips will be to "grandma's house, or visits to aunts, uncles and children," he said.

* * *

But Auto Club studies show some 80 per cent of holiday weekend traffic fatalities occur within 25 miles of home.

* *

Three persons were killed and 19 were injured in the 30-hour Thanksgiving period from Wednesday evening to Thursday midnight last year, an Auto Club report shows. Each was within 25 miles of the driver's home.

Strange Sights on Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter 2 has photographed some features on the moon's face that scientists refuse to speculate about.

Pictures made public Tuesday by the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here show protuberances rising like stalagmites 40 to 75 feet, scientists say. The scientists said the pictures indicate a diameter of about 50 feet at the base of the protuberances, but they declined further comment.

* * *

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the space camera — orbiting every 3 hours, 28 minutes and swooping within 25 miles of the moon — has scanned eight of 13 potential astronaut landing sites.

City Building Less; Value Up

Building activity in Pontiac, reflected by the construction permits issued, was up in value last month, but down in actual numbers over the previous month.

According to Robert M. Gerds, city building inspector, there were 112 permits issued for construction worth $2,559,463 in October.

This compared to 126 permits and construction worth $1.45 million in September. The large difference primarily was the permit issued for the $1.9 million addition to the Oakland County Courthouse.

There were four permits issued last month for new family dwellings, construction worth $63,600, which compared to seven permits and construction worth $62,935 in September.

* * *

Twenty-three permits were issued in October for residential garages, construction valued at $25,840, while 43 permits were issued for $40,089 in residential alterations and repairs, and four for $43,272 in similar commercial work.

Five building permits were issued for new commercial buildings, construction worth $184,400, while a church addition was valued at $209,000.

Army Runs Short of New Rifles, Hauls Out M1s

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army ran short of standard M14 rifles in the United States during September and October.

The Pentagon, acknowledging today what it called a temporary shortage, said nearly 15,000 retired M1 rifles were pulled from depot stocks to fill the gap.

* * *

The 30-caliber M1 was phased out beginning in 1961 and succeeded by the lighter M14, a 7.62mm weapon weighing about 8 pounds.

In response to questions, the Defense Department attributed the weapons deficit to "increased unit activations and concurrent increases in the training base requirements."

The Army has been training men at a rate of about 50,000 a month, with a net monthly gain of 20,000 to 25,000.

The Pentagon emphasized that:

— Reissues of the old M1 ended on Oct. 21 and each man now armed with it will get the modern M14 within four to six weeks.

— Every new soldier has been and is being trained with the M14 and no one who was given the older weapon was scheduled for overseas deployment.

* * *

— No soldiers serving outside the continental United States are armed with the M1.

Sources said the Pentagon has stepped up production of the new M16 rifle which has been going to troops in Viet Nam. The M14 production lines were closed down two or three years ago, with the M16 envisioned as an interim replacement until the Army comes up with a new standard weapon for future years.

Some military commanders favor the 6-pound, rapid firing M16 for jungle warfare, but officers in other areas of the world such as Europe, prefer the M14.

The M16 fires a 5.56mm round, only slightly larger than the 22-caliber bullet used by small-game hunters.

About 630,000 M16s have been ordered, officials said. The Army is getting nearly half, the Air Force and the Marines the remainder.

The Army bought more than 4 million M1s in World War II plus 1.5 million during the Korean War. Nearly 1.5 million M14s have been bought for the Army, Marines and Navy.

* * *

One high military officer said the weapons shortage is not serious and, in fact, "as rifles go, this is pretty minute." He described it as indicative of problems of distribution in an Army now totaling 1.3 million men and still growing.

* * *

But the Army Times, an unofficial publication designed for servicemen, in today's edition quoted a source as saying the number of reissued M1s approached 30,000, twice that officially acknowledged.

Percy Says He Has No '68 Favorite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy says he has no favorite now for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

The Illinois Republican declined to say at a jammed news conference Tuesday whether he thinks Michigan Gov. George Romney or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is in the lead now.

* * *

Pressed on this point, Percy said frankly that "If it looks to you like I'm sidestepping and ducking that question, you're absolutely right."

He said it made no sense to line up behind any man "before you have a single announced candidate and before you know where some of those candidates stand."

He answered "yes" when asked whether a man who didn't support the 1964 GOP presidential nominee could be the 1968 standard-bearer.

Barry Goldwater has predicted that no one who didn't back him two years ago will get the nod. Romney didn't back Goldwater, although he contends he campaigned for the Republican party.

Jordan Asks U.S. for Quick Jet Delivery

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Jordan has asked the United States to speed up delivery of three squadrons of F104 jet fighters to give its tiny air force the muscle denied by fellow Arab states when Israelis attacked on Nov. 13, informed sources said yesterday.

Jordan also expects 10 jet fighters from Pakistan within a week, these sources said.

* * *

Jordanian authorities betrayed growing bitterness over the Arab Republic's alleged failure to answer Jordan's call for air cover when the Israelis swept across the southern border with tanks and jets nine days ago.

* * *

The Jordanians say the U.A.R. and Iraq, under the unified Arab defense plan, promised to provide air cover, but the Egyptians failed to do so.

Annual Tournament to Start Sunday

Search Under Way to Find Pontiac Open Bowling Champion

There are an estimated 18,000 male bowlers in the immediate Pontiac area, 35,000 in upper Oakland County and more than 60,000 in all of Oakland County.

One of them will be crowned Pontiac Open Bowling Champion Sunday, December 18, replacing defending champion Joe Sawyer. Or maybe Sawyer himself might retain the crown co-sponsored by the City Recreation department.

The Pontiac Motor employe champion of 1965 however has not submitted his entry as yet and is not among the first list of "early bird" entries as of the past Monday.

Early bird bowlers who submit entries this week, regardless of the day they qualify, will be eligible for a special $25.00 prize for the best qualifying score.

The purpose of this prize is to encourage early entries so as not to congest the final weekend as has been the case in past tournaments.

* * *

Squads at the four qualifying sites Sunday — Huron Bowl, 300 Bowl, Airway Lanes and Cooley Lanes — are expected to start at 10:00 a.m.

The target score for any qualifying round for bowlers of any average is "600."

EASY QUALIFYING

What does it mean? A 145 average bowler needs only to put three games together with only 485 pins and he's in. A 160 average bowler can have one red hot game and finish with a 516 series and make the field to the semi-finals.

* * *

Last year the tourney drew nearly 1,000 bowlers and among the top 10 winners the scores from low to high were 108, 134, 141, 156, 157, 160, 167 (the champion's) 173, 181 and 204.

* * *

Some 120 bowlers shared in the money and trophy prizes ranging from a guaranteed $800 down to $10. Every one getting into the finals is assured of a prize, and all top qualifiers at each house will be trophy winners.

In order to qualify this Sunday at one of the four local sites, bowlers should submit their entries by Thursday evening, so that all squads and times can be posted.

Another advantage of trying to qualify the first week, aside from the "early bird" prize, is the fact that bowlers will have an opportunity to re-enter should they fail to hit the target score of 600.

This is a partial list of early bird entries. The remainder of the list will be completed Thursday:

Lions Have Score to Settle With 49ers Tomorrow

Karl Sweetan Recalls Debut 5 Games Ago

Walker Awaiting Chance to 'Get Even' With Stickles

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Tomorrow might be 'Get Monty Stickles Day' at Tiger Stadium.

The Detroit Lions have a score to settle with the San Francisco 49ers, and quarterback Karl Sweetan and linebacker Wayne Walker have some personal scores to settle.

For Sweetan, San Francisco means a heartbreaking memory.

It was in the City of the Golden Gate on October 23rd last where Sweetan got his first NFL start, and with a superb debut he had a sure victory with a 24-20 lead when Stickles took a 21 yard touchdown pass from John Brodie with three seconds left to play.

Since then, the Lions have won two, lost one and tied one, and Sweetan has given the Detroit ball club a new lease on their future in the Western Division honors.

"This is one game I want to win so badly," said Sweetan, "it will certainly ease that bad memory which still lingers from San Francisco."

For Walker a victory will also mean personal satisfaction.

It was the San Francisco game in which Walker was ejected for slugging Stickles, after the Detroit linebacker claimed that Stickles had repeatedly been slugging him.

TELLS OFFICIAL

In that game Walker told the official about the constant slugging by Stickles and the official replied, "Can't you handle him in your own way?"

Walker did and was thrown out, and his loss to the Lions was a big factor in the defeat.

"I'll be waiting for Stickles. Let him try once to slug me, I won't play dirty, but if I get a chance to tackle him, it will be good, clean and it might shake a few teeth," Walker said.

In that game with the Lions it was Stickles who drew a 15 yard penalty in the closing minutes for kicking Bruce Maher when he was down.

In the following game Stickles and members of the Chicago Bears, primarily Joe Fortunato, were also involved in a playing field incident.

Fortunato was also egged into a slugging affair with Stickles and a 15 yard penalty on the Bears set up the field goal, which gave the 49ers a 30-30 tie in the final seconds.

"He slugged me from behind," said Fortunato, "he could have broken my neck. He's the dirtiest player in pro football and he's going to get his eventually."

The Thanksgiving Day game will begin at 12:15 p.m. with a nationwide television audience. Bleacher seats are still available and gates will open at 9:30 a.m. with 52,000 expected for the clash.

Spartans Take Eight Posts

MSU Dominates Big 10 Squad

CHICAGO (AP) — Champion Michigan State landed eight places to dominate the 1966 offensive and defensive All-Big Ten football squad named Wednesday by The Associated Press.

The two units of 11 men each were selected by vote of a board of sportswriters in the Big Ten area.

Runner-up and Rose Bowl-bound Purdue collected four spots, as did Michigan. Illinois won two and one each was awarded to Ohio State, Indiana, Northwestern and Wisconsin.

* * *

There were five holdovers, four of them Michigan State men. They include the Spartans' Gene Washington, end, and Clint Jones, halfback, on offense; and end Bubba Smith and roving back George Webster on defense. The other repeater was Michigan's defensive back Rich Volk.

UNANIMOUS

Voting was close in many respects. Three players won unanimously:

Quarterback Bob Griese of Purdue, halfback Jones and rover Webster.

Those who missed by one vote were Michigan's record passsnaring split end, John Clancy; Purdue's offensive tackle, Jack Calcaterra; Ohio State's center, Ray Pryor; defensive end Smith; Spartan linebacker Chuck Thornhill and Illinois' defensive back, Bruce Sullivan.

Washington and Clancy were standouts in a season of great split ends. Jerry West of MSU was a strong vote - getter to team with Calcaterra at tackle. Chuck Erlenbaugh of Purdue and Tom Schuette of Indiana, who suffered a broken leg late in the campaign, make up the guards.

With Griese and Jones in the backfield are Michigan's Jim Detwiler and MSU's Bob Apisa, also injury-plagued.

The offensive line averages nearly 220 pounds a man and the backfield 205. All are seniors except Apisa, a junior.

* * *

On defense, Illinois' Ken Kmiec was paired with Smith at end. Lance Olssen of Purdue, a heavy vote winner, and MSU's Nick Jordan make up the tackles. With Thornhill as linebackers are Michigan's Frank Nunley and Wisconsin's Bob Richter. Along with Webster, Sullivan and Volk at backs is Northwestern's Phil Clark.

The defensive unit averages better than 217 pounds and consists of all seniors except these juniors — Kmiec, Olssen and Jordan.

Sluggish Red Wings Rapped by Montreal

DETROIT (AP) — Sid Abel stood in the gloom of the Detroit Red Wings' locker room and shook his head.

"I just don't know," the Detroit general manager-coach said. "If I had the answers, we'd be winning."

* * *

He had just watched his Red Wings skate sluggishly and shoot futilely in absorbing a 3-0 whipping from the Montreal Canadiens in the only National Hockey League game played Tuesday night.

* * *

The loss left the Wings mired in last place and facing another road trip. They meet Boston Thursday and Montreal Saturday. So far, the Wings haven't scored a point on the road.

"After playing a bad one at home like this, we'd just as well be on the road and see if we can come out of it," Abel said. "I'd hoped coming home tonight we'd do some good work."

FIRST SCORE

Yvan Cournoyer scored the first goal in the second period on a power play. The Wings couldn't clear the puck and goalie Roger Crozier stopped shot after shot until Cournoyer's blast from the point got past him.

With the Wings down just one goal, they had two power play opportunities in the second period. In the first try, with Montreal one man short, the Wings managed just one shot on goal, a long one from outside the blue line by Andy Bathgate.

* * *

In the second power play the Canadien defense didn't let the puck through once and goalie Charlie Hodge didn't have to make a save.

Montreal wrapped it up in the third period with goals by Henri Richard and Bobby Rousseau. Rousseau assisted on the goals by Cournoyer and Richard and scored his own unassisted.

Montreal outshot Detroit 11-4 in the final period.

Ex-Hills' Star on Ivy Loop 11

Bill Calhoun of Bloomfield Hills, end and captain on Dartmouth's 1966 Ivy League co-champions, has completed a standout grid career with the Indians by making the All-League offensive unit.

* * *

The 6-2, 203-pound former star lineman for Bloomfield Hills Barons was picked along with Cornell end Ron Gervase. Calhoun performed at tight end for Dartmouth while Gervase is a 5-10, 185-pound split end.

Calhoun played both end and tackle under Don Hoff at Bloomfield Hills. He also captained the Dartmouth freshman in 1963. He is the son of W. B. Calhoun, Jr., 4316 Pine Tree.

Calhoun was rated by Dartmouth coach Bob Blackburn as the Indians' fastest end. He set a school record last season by collaborating with quarterback Mickey Beard (another all-league election) on a 79-yard scoring aerial as Dartmouth beat Princeton for the title.

N. Y. Swim Team Takes Meet, Cheese

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — They swam and they swam and came up with a cheese.

That's what the Plattsburgh State swimming team did Tuesday when they defeated Oshkosh, Wis., State's swimmers, 52-43, in the third annual telegraph meet between the two schools.

The swimmers use their own pools and send the results via telegraph to the other school.

The losers must send the winners a 10-pound block of cheese — a key competitive product in Wisconsin and New York, two of the nation's leading dairy states.

Oshkosh had won the two previous telegraphic meets.

Hillsdale Wins

HILLSDALE (AP) — Ken Moorehead fired in 33 points and grabbed 16 rebounds as Hillsdale defeated Spring Arbor 86-72 in a college basketball game Tuesday night. It was the first victory against no losses for the Dales and second loss for the Blue Jays this season.

Discuss TV Plan

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Representatives of television networks from the United States, Japan and Europe met with the Mexican Olympic Organizing Committee Tuesday to discuss plans for televising the 1968 Olympic Games.

OLSM Works Overtime in Taking Cage Opener

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary turned on the speed in overtime last night to hand Waterford Our Lady of Lakes a 62-56 setback in the 1966-67 county prep basketball opener.

Deadlocked at 54 after regulation play, the Eaglets outscored their hosts, 8-2, in the extra session to put the game away.

The triumph was the 10th straight for the Eaglets over the Lakers in a series that started in 1961.

Both squads had chances to win the game in regulation after WOLL's Tom Sirbaugh tossed in a bucket to tie it at 54 with 1:05 remaining. Both failed to connect on shots in the final minute.

The defeat spoiled a comeback by the Lakers in the second half.

TAKE LEAD

Down 45-34 midway in the third, the Lakers stormed back to wipe out the deficit and took a 52-49 lead with 5:30 left in the game.

* * *

Two-pointers by Greg Flor and Terry Shaw plus a foul shot by Shaw put OLSM back in the lead, 54-52, setting the stage for Sirbaugh's basket that tied it in regulation.

Tim Megge sparked the Eaglets with 20 points and Rick Mrozinski contributed 19 to the attack.

Sirbaugh finished with 20 markers and Dennis McCulloch added 13 for the losers.

FR. JOHN RAKOCZY

Brothers in Race

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP) — George and Herb Germann, twin brothers from Seton Hall, will compete in the half mile against Bill Crothers of Toronto in the K. of C. indoor track meet here Dec. 28-29. Robert Johnson of Southern University, Terry Thompson of Oregon and Al Ackman of Southern Illinois also are entered.

Early Birthday Present for Coach

An early birthday present is in store for the Rev. John Rakoczy, athletic director at Orchard Lake St. Mary High School.

Fr. Rakoczy, who will celebrate his 41st birthday Dec. 6, is recipient of the fourth Outstanding Achievement Award given by the Pontiac Knights of Columbus.

He will be honored at a testimonial dinner Saturday night in the K. of C. clubrooms on South Saginaw.

The K. of C. award is presented periodically to individuals judged outstanding in their particular field of endeavor. Past recipients of the award were labor leader Walter Reuther; the Rev. Alexander Zaleski, bishop of the Lansing diocese; and Detroit attorney Frank Picard.

Candidates for the award are selected by the 15 past Grand Knights of the Pontiac K. of C. Fr. Rakoczy was a unanimous choice of the group.

Fr. Rakoczy was an outstanding athlete while attending OL St. Mary High School. After completing high school and college at St. Mary, he returned in 1954 as basketball coach.

* * *

One of the marks Fr. Rakoczy left on the books as a player in high school was the individual scoring record of 54 points he tossed through the hoop as the Eaglets downed St. Francis de Sales, 74-17, in 1944.

Bowl, Poll Hopes Ride on Grid Tilt

By the Associated Press

Nebraska's poll chances and Texas' bowl chances will be at stake Thursday when both clubs close out their regular college football seasons with traditional Thanksgiving Day contests.

The Cornhuskers, No. 4 in this week's Associated Press college football poll, could conceivably improve on their position with a convincing victory over Oklahoma and a little luck.

* * *

And the Longhorns will reportedly be offered the host berth to play Mississippi in the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 17 in Houston if they beat Texas A&M Thursday.

Nebraska is 9-0 this season and will play Alabama, 8-0 and the No. 3 team, in the Sugar Bowl. The Crimson Tide appears to be a sure thing against Southern Mississippi on Saturday, but could have a little rougher time against Auburn the following week.

Notre Dame, No. 1, takes on a rugged Southern California club Saturday and an upset or close contest in that game, coupled with a strong Nebraska showing Thursday, could pave the way for a Cornhusker advance in the poll. Michigan State, No. 2, is through for the season.

NO PUSHOVER

Oklahoma, however, may be no pushover for Nebraska. The Sooners won their first four games of the season before succumbing to Notre Dame. They are 5-3 over-all now after a close 10-7 loss to Missouri last week.

As for Texas, their bowl chances were revealed by the Austin American Tuesday and Coach Darrell Royal confirmed that "we have been talking with some people."

Texas A&M is 4-4-1 over-all and is tied with Texas for third place in the Southwest Conference.

Texas University has fielded 73 football teams.

Pacing NFL Runners

Browns' Kelly Romps

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly of Cleveland has regained the rushing lead in the National Football League with a total of 630 yards and an average of 5.3 yards per carry.

Kelly, considered a cinch to join the 1,000-yard club before the Browns complete their season schedule, will be the man to watch Thursday when Cleveland challenges Dallas for the Eastern Conference lead.

* * *

In the first 11 weeks of play in the NFL, a player has gained 100 yards rushing just 16 times. Kelly has done it four times, including an even 100 last week against Washington. His total of 10 touchdowns rushing also is tops in the league.

Dick Bass of Los Angeles is close behind with 808 yards but the Rams have played 11 games to Cleveland's 10. Each will play 14 before the season ends. Gale Sayers of Chicago with 785 in 10 games also is a hot contender for Jim Brown's title.

Pat Studstill of Detroit remains the leading pass receiver with 57 for 1,143 yards although Bobby Hayes of Dallas has caught the most TD passes, 10. Bart Starr of Green Bay tops the passers in the ratings based on percentage of completions and interceptions, TDs and average gain.

HE'S PAGE ONE, NOW — Florida football star Steve Spurrier has made the sports page headlines many times with his passing exploits, but coach Ray Graves shows him he's Page One copy in the Gainsville, Fla., paper yesterday after the 21-year-old senior was named the 1966 recipient of the Heisman Trophy. The award labels Spurrier, the son of a Presbyterian minister, as the No. 1 player in college football.

Award Winner Without Time to Celebrate

QB Steve Spurrier, Heisman Recipient, Readies for Miami

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Steve Spurrier was on the practice field Tuesday doing calisthenics with his Florida teammates less than two hours after he learned he won the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1966.

"There's not much chance to celebrate," Spurrier told newsmen at a hastily arranged press conference.

* * *

"We've got Miami to think about, and you can't let up before a game like that," he said.

Spurrier was as poised before the cameras and floodlights and endless questions as he has been on the Saturdays he has led the Gators from behind to nearly unbelieveable victories.

RUNNER-UP

He got 433 of the 869 first-place votes from the nation's sports writers and a total of 1,679 points. Second-place Bob Griese of Purdue had 184 firsts and 816 points.

Next in points were Nick Eddy of Notre Dame 456, Gary Beban of UCLA 318, Floyd Little of Syracuse 296 and Clint Jones of Michigan State 204.

* * *

Florida and Spurrier will be seen on television in the Orange Bowl game against Georgia Tech the night of Jan. 2. He is looking forward to it.

* * *

"I know the other players are almost as happy as I am," he said. "They are a great bunch. With this team it's all for one."

He was asked to look ahead, beyond this Saturday's regular season wind-up against Miami, beyond his trip to New York to receive the Heisman Trophy Dec. 1, beyond the Orange Bowl at Miami, beyond the Hula Bowl in Hawaii, Jan. 6 — to the time he will play as a professional.

* * *

"I don't know which team will draft me," he said. "Some people say it will be the New York Giants. It I do go to the Giants, it will be a real opportunity, but I won't talk to the pros until after the Orange Bowl — officially or unofficially."

Pick Spartans on All-America

Michigan's Clancy Also Is Honored

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michigan State's Big Ten champion Spartans placed three men on the All-America team named Tuesday by the American Football Coaches Association and the Michigan Wolverines landed one berth.

End Gene Washington, defensive end Bubba Smith and defensive halfback George Webster of the Spartans were named to first term positions.

* * *

End Jack Clancy of Michigan was placed on the first team along with Washington.

Three of the Michigan State backs were placed on the honorable mention list. Quarterback Jimmy Raye, halfback Clinton Jones and fullback Bob Apisa all made the list.

The other two Spartans named honorable mention were linebacker Charlie Ere linebacker Charlie Thornbill and tackle Jerry West.

Rick Volk, the Michigan roving back, was an honorable mention defensive back.

Also named to the 1966 All-America team were quarterbacks Steve Spurrier of Florida and Bob Griese of Purdue.

Battered Caltech Preserves Record

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — In the shadow of the Michigan State-Notre Dame football game last weekend, two Southern California teams stepped onto the field with perfect seasons.

But Claremont-Mudd faltered, scoring a 42-7 triumph that allowed the California Institute of Technology to emerge with an unblemished record.

* * *

Caltech racked up its second straight perfect year with an 0-8 mark, making it 23 losses in a row for the team known both as the Beavers and Engineers.

Since Claremont-Mudd entered the fray with an 0-8 record, the game could be considered for the mythical title as the worst college team in the nation.

Caltech eliminated any doubt about its supremacy when it unleashed its legendary Point-A-Minute squad on defense.

That battered aggregation limited the opposition this season to 387 points, while the offense rolled up 54. Last season, the Beavers or Engineers ground out 32 points and allowed 296.

HIGHLIGHTS

Although Caltech hasn't won a game since early in 1964 when it downed Los Angeles Pacific, this season had its highlights.

Caltech held LaVerne to 34-8, the closest losing margin of the season, and the Beavers rolled for two touchdowns against Azusa-Pacific while giving up only 55 points.

Bert LaBrucherie, the Caltech mentor, recalls better days.

In 1957, Caltech's eleven posted a 4-3 record, and just 35 years ago it captured the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Championship.

* * *

"My players probably have the highest IQ average of any team in the country," LaBrucherie says. "Judging by our record, this proves plainly that football is more than a game of brains."

Ski Prospects Not Very Good

DETROIT (UPI) — There are a lot of "ifs" in the prospects for holiday skiers over the Thanksgiving weekend this year.

Several ski resort areas in the Upper Peninsula said they might open for the weekend if temperatures drop below freezing — or if snow arrives on time.

The weather bureau isn't cooperating though.

Temperatures are expected to average three degrees above the normal highs of 34 to 37 and what snow there might be will most likely fall as rain.

Big Powderhorn near Ironwood and Pine Mountain near Iron Mountain, both in the UP, said they would open only if the weather cooperates.

In Western Lower Michigan, Boyne Mountain and Caberfae said they also might be open for the weekend.

Walker, Lucci Give Statements on Fight

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County officials took statements Tuesday from two Detroit Lions and two other men involved in a brawl Friday outside a Detroit bar.

* * *

William J. Hathaway, assistant prosecutor, said that after all the statements are completed he will decide whether to recommend warrants.

* * *

David Smith, 25, of Brighton and Al Richards, 49, of Dearborn, alleged that Lion linebackers Wayne Walker and Mike Lucci assaulted them. The Lions say they were not the aggressors.

Champ Eying Atlanta Bout

ATLANTA (AP) — Cassius Clay may defend his heavyweight boxing title in Atlanta.

That was the word from the champ himself as he visited the city today for conferences with government, business and city officials.

Walter Turner, a Clay aide, said Clay "is definitely interested in defending his title in Atlanta. He is coming here for the sole purpose of talking with some people about fighting here early next summer."

Oriole Slugger OK After Knee Surgery

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore Orioles slugger Frank Robinson today began a three-to-four-week convalescence after knee surgery described as "successful" by the attending doctor.

The surgeon, the same orthopedic specialist who operated on the knee of Baltimore Colts quarterback Johnny Unitas last December, said following Tuesday's operation that he preferred anonymity because of professional ethics.

* * *

Frank Cashen, Orioles executive vice president, said the club was hopeful the American League's Most Valuable Player was "perfect and that Frank will be fit for spring training next March."

Dizzy, Al Dark Among Players in Golf Pro-Am

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — The pro-am event opens the Cajun Classic Golf Tournament today, with such names as Dizzy Dean and Alvin Dark highlighting the event.

The pro-am and the four days of tournament action will be staged at Oakbourne Country Club.

At the Acadian Hills Country Club, the qualifying rounds are in progress.

Ray Botts, Los Angeles, and John Hopkins, Houston, Tex., fired four-under-par 67s Tuesday to lead the qualifying round. They topped a field of 139 players, shooting for 55 qualifying positions.

Still to be filled today are six spots, and 16 pros are in competition.

Golfer Sets Record

AUCKLAND N. Z. (AP)—Bob Charles of New Zealand shot a final round 63 and won the Hastings Tournament and set a national 72-hole record of 265.

Shrine '5' Rolls in Cage Opener

The Knights of Royal Oak Shrine, who lost out in the semi-finals of the state tournament last season, opened their '66-67 basketball slate on a successful note last night by whipping Ferndale St. James, 85-45.

Mickey Brezezinski paced the Shrine attack with 23 points and teammate Paul Seymour tossed in 22. Both are juniors.

Shrine went in front 38-14 after one quarter and widened the gap to 37-20 at halftime.

2 Royals 'R' Just Enough to Down NY

NEW YORK (AP) — In school you learn the three Rs. Tuesday night, the Cincinnati Royals gave New York a basketball lesson in the two Rs — Robertson and Robinson.

Super star Oscar Robertson played the kind of game expected of him and Flynn Robinson spurred a Cincinnati surge as the Royals beat the Knickerbockers 121-118 in the second game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

Baltimore defeated San Francisco 125-117 in the first game. There was no other action.

Flynn, who didn't get into the game until just three minutes were left in the third period, sparked the Royals' fourth quarter drive in which they outscored New York 36-25.

* * *

In the final 12 minutes, Flynn a 6-footer with quick moves, hit on five baskets, pulled down two rebounds and made several steals. He finished with 12 points.

Oscar also was loose, which is his natural state on a basketball court. He hit on 11 of 18 field goal attempts, and 12 of 15 foul shots for 34 points, grabbed five rebounds and handed out 16 assists.

Allegan Area Down

Modest Turkey Kill

The second wild turkey season in modern times ended with a modest kill of 164 birds in three special shooting areas.

With 900 permit holders eligible for action but less than that actually afield, the scorecard on this season's nine-day harvest reads like this:

Allegan County, 66 birds; Lake County and parts of Newaygo, Oceana and Mason counties, 86 birds; and Beaver Island, 12.

Each of the first two areas was open to 400 permit-carrying sportsmen. Beaver Island's hunter quota was 100, but Conservation Department field men estimate less than half of its permit holders hunted.

For the Allegan County area, where the first turkey season was held in 1965, hunter take fell 16 birds short of the year-ago figure.

The area's flocks, which numbered an estimated 500 birds before the shooting started, experienced a poor nesting season last spring. Reflecting this was the fact that the bulk of the birds shot this season were adult turkeys.

Field surveys indicated the area's supply of wild turkeys during last winter and early spring was equal to the previous year, but cold, wet weather during the nesting season held the crop of young birds down.

In the Lake County area, the situation was reversed with young birds accounting for the majority of turkeys harvested.

* * *

Successful hunters there reported seeing 536 birds (not counting repeats) within the open hunting area where the wild turkey population is estimated at about 900.

Beaver Island's turkey take pointed to a good crop of young birds this year. The ratio between young and adults was three to one.

Pre-season estimates placed the island's turkey total at 250.

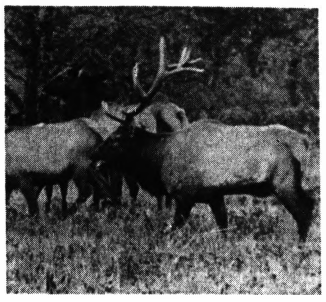
Department game men, weighing previous survey findings against season results, report the relatively light turkey kill in all three areas was well within safe shooting limits.

Game bird specialist Victor S. Janson sums it this way:

"This season's harvest was not as high as our conservative quotas allowed for. That means, barring a severely hard winter on the birds, they will go into next year's nesting season with breeding populations generally as good as those in 1966, except in the Allegan area."

* * *

"In short," Janson continued, "the season has offered more sport for several hundred hunters without putting a crimp in the birds' production potential for 1967."



NOT LEGAL — A few Michigan hunters have trouble telling the difference between a deer and an elk. Others just can't resist the temptation and a number of bull elk like the one shown are illegally killed each deer season. There will be no special elk season in the state this year.

Citizens Prove Helpful in Deer Violation Cases

Michigan sportsmen and local residents have rallied in overwhelming numbers to back the Conservation Department's escalated attack on deer violators.

Triggered by its appeal for the help of citizens in nabbing lawbreakers, the department since early November has received at least 765 "actionable" leads which have put its officers on the trail of deer violators.

* * *

At some field offices, telephones have been ringing almost steadily in the past few days with calls that have uncovered deer cheaters.

One of its offices had to put a secretary on full-time duty just to answer the flood of telephone tips.

Throughout the state, meanwhile, members of the department's beefed-up law force have been working nearly around the clock to check out all the leads they have received.

"The response of sportsmen and others to our appeal for help has been nothing short of overwhelming and we're mighty proud of them for helping us to come to grips with this violation problem," says Conservation Director Ralph A. MacMullan.

He adds: "Their action shows that our people in Michigan are ready to speak out for what is right. Things are changing as far as the public's sentiment is concerned.

"Now it's the violator be damned instead of the public. With citizens at the switch, we have got a steamroller going against the 'smart' guy who tries to cheat them out of what rightfully belongs to the public."

Department Promotes 2

Dennis E. Muellerleile, assistant manager of the Highland recreation area, has been promoted to supervisor of the Conservation Department's Cambridge state historical park.

Gary W. Hoover, a ranger at Algonac state park, has been elevated to the assistant supervisor's post at Highland.

Ontario Hunting License Change Set Next Year

Sportsmen who plan to hunt in Ontario next year should hold onto their 1966 Michigan hunting licenses or buy new ones in this state before they head for the Canadian province.

Under a change taking effect next March 1, Ontario residents and nonresidents will have to show proof of prior hunting experience or they will be required to take and pass an examination before hunting there.

Hunters from this state who present Ontario or Michigan hunting licenses of any type for any year will be exempted from taking the test. Michigan hunting licenses for 1967 will also be honored.

Next year's new licensing program in Ontario is designed to reduce hunting accidents through a uniform system of examinations.

Slight Reduction in Taking of Deer

The number of hunters and the number of deer being taken are down slightly over a year ago.

And the lower kill of deer — both bucks and antlerless — is expected to continue on the down side during the season which ends Sunday in the Upper Peninsula and Dec. 4 below the Straits.

* * *

Top entry in the annual Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest is a 210-pounder. The contest deadline is noon Dec. 5 with the Oakland County hunter entering the heaviest buck receiving $150 in savings bonds.

Only bucks taken in Michigan during the current firearm season are eligible. Field dressed weight is the determining factor and there will be only one winner.

The deer must be weighed on state approved scales and a weight slip obtained signed by the person doing the weighing, the hunter and a witness.

Deer and weight slip must be brought to The Press. Entries will be taken Monday through Saturday from 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

While hunter success is down in the north, the Oakland County area is running close to normal with slightly fewer hunters out the first weekend.

The Holly area again appears to be the most productive with several nice bucks being reported taken from state lands and adjacent farms. The Highland area, normally a good producer, didn't come up to par the first two days.

HEAVY LOSSES

Conservation Department game men report that 25 per cent of the bucks taken across the Mackinac Bridge are in the 18 months old class reflecting a high fawn mortality rate during the heavy snows in the late winter and early spring of 1965.

"This means that the big majority of the deer being taken in the U.P. have good racks," said one game man. "Hunters are happy because of this, but it isn't a good sign. Normally, the kill runs about two-thirds 18-month-old bucks and this is the way it should be."

The upshot is that those big racks taken this year aren't going to be around next season.

A good fawn crop in the U.P. last spring will bring the year-and-a-half old buck numbers back up to normal in 1967, but the prize bucks will have been taken by hunters who would normally shoot the first buck that comes along.

The trend is normal in the lower Peninsula with the majority of bucks downed being 18 months old.

* * *

In the Mio district, where overall kill was lower than in 1965, hunters reported seeing a good number of deer and tracks. Word from the Gladwin area also indicates an abundance of deer sign.

Trading Heats Up

Market Rally Gathers Steam

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock market rally gathered steam early this afternoon as trading grew livelier despite the usual tendency to be cautious before a Thanksgiving Day weekend.

Stock prices also advanced in the face of a parade of discouraging economic news.

* * *

Stock exchanges and banks will be closed tomorrow for the holiday and many Wall Streeters will make it a four-day weekend. Analysts said that most of the evening-up operations in the market because of the holiday had been carried out yesterday.

This left room for a smart technical rally after four straight sessions of decline.

AUTOS GROW

Autos all showed fractional gains despite the deepening slump in auto sales and the recall of thousands of 1967 model cars.

The list as a whole also had to buck a government prediction that construction next year would have its first decline since 1960.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 292.1 with industrials up 1.0, rails up .8 and utilities up .9.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.18 at 799.16.

VIGOROUS TRADING

Prices advanced in vigorous trading on the American Stock Exchange. Solitron Devices rose more than 4, Williams Brothers, Conductron and Molybdenum more than 2 apiece. Memcor, which rose 2⅝ yesterday, gained more than 2 before trimming the rise fractionally. Xtra Inc., gained about 2 points, Valley Metallurgical, National Video and Saxon Paper about 1½ each. Gains of a point or more were made by Ameco, Dennison Manufacturing "A," Digital Equipment and Flying Tiger.

Red Guards Fight Workers

Violent Peking Battle Hurts More Than 50

TOKYO (UPI) — Fanatic Red Guard students fought a pitched battle with armed factory workers in Peking for 15 hours yesterday. More than 50 persons were injured in the clash, reports here said today.

* * *

Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital said violence erupted when the youngsters tried to invade a workers compound in a machine tool plant to "promote production" and proselytize for Mao Tse-tung.

According to Red Guard bulletins detailing the clash, armed factory workers blocked the entrance and threatened to shoot the Red Guardsmen if they tried to enter.

Reports said a fist-swinging, head-cracking battle broke out between the teen-aged Marxists and the stubborn factory workers.

* * *

The fight continued far into the night and resulted in more than 50 persons being injured before Peking officials intervened to call a truce, they said.

SERIOUS VIOLENCE

This was the first recent report of serious violence between the youths, spearheading China's sweeping "cultural revolution" purge, and workers in Peking. There have been numerous reports of clashes between Red Guards and opposing groups in the countryside.

In a related development, other news reports here indicated Yeh Chi-chuang, Communist China's minister of foreign trade has fallen victim to the "cultural revolution" and been purged from his office.

Court Order Comes Due; Powell Sailing

NEW YORK (AP) — A court order requiring Rep. Adam Clayton Powell to surrender for a 30-day jail sentence comes due today, but the Harlem congressman was expected to ignore it — as he has directives in three other contempt of court convictions."

Powell, who won election two weeks ago to his 12th term, was reported sailing in the Bahamas aboard his yacht, Adam's Folly. There was no indication he would appear at the State Supreme Court hearing.

The jail term is based on Powell's criminal contempt of court conviction developing from a $164,000 libel judgment against him. The congressman was found guilty of wilfully refusing to submit to a financial examination in the case.

MEDI-CAR — Automobile problems are electronically diagnosed at the recently opened Medi-Car by Method Master, 410 S. Telegraph, Sylvan Lake, by an electronic scope analyzer and drive-over testers. Manager Jack Hawley of Detroit says testing equipment takes the guesswork out of tune-ups, general servicing, wheel balancing and alignment and brake work.

A Burning Question

Light Bulb Life Argued

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Light bulb manufacturers insist their product is the most efficient they can make. A congressional report, however, says simply, "Light bulbs burn out too fast."

CUNNIFF

The conflict has existed for a long time, but the only thing accomplished so far has been to define the battle lines. Since there is so little appreciation of the other's argument, that battle might occur some day.

* * *

The stakes are high. Annual sales of light bulbs total one billion. At an average cost of 25 cents a bulb, that total turns into a dollar figure of 250 million.

And, since the cost of electricity used by a bulb is about six or seven times its own cost, you reach an astronomical figure of $1.5 billion as the annual consumer expenditure associated with electric light bulbs.

'SHORT LIFE'

A House subcommittee has just published a report for congressional use in "a continuing evaluation of this problem." Its title gives a tip-off: "The short life of the electric light bulb.

The report draws these conclusions:

1. Bulb life is shorter now than it was a half century ago.

2. The life of a standard bulb can be increased.

3. Most popularly used bulbs do not operate at maximum efficiency.

4. The life of bulbs could be doubled at only a small increase in cost to the consumer.

Generally speaking, the manufacturers dispute these findings.

Both government and business agree on this: It is impossible to have both maximum light and maximum life from the same bulb. A little less light means a little longer life. And more light means less life.

BALANCED EFFICIENCY

The problem is how to reach a balance of efficiency between light and life and then mix into the formula the cost of electricity used. It is disagreement over this formula that causes one of the big differences of opinion.

The manufacturers want to include in their formula, among other things, the fixed costs of the lighting systems and fixtures. The House report argues that the cost of the bulb and the electric power it uses are the only expenditures that should be considered.

* * *

Two other factors complicate the formula of the efficient bulb:

Bulbs are made for sale throughout the country. They do not vary in design from one region to another. But electricity rates do. In Massachusetts the cost is 2.76 cents a kilowatt hour. In Tennessee it is .45 of a cent.

DECREASING RATE

Secondly, when you first turn on your lights the electricity you use costs more than it does five minutes later. Your bills are based on a formula that lowers your rate as you use more power — until a minimum rate is reached.

The manufacturers want to use the average price of this electricity. The House report contends a lower rate should be used.

* * *

Whether maximum efficiency has been reached, this is the rated life of most bulbs: 25 watts 1,100 hours, 40 to 60 watts 1,000 hours, and 75 to 100 watts 750 hours.

Why then do some lights blow out after only a few hours? Vibration in shipment is one answer. Defects in production another. Manufacturers concede that they can achieve only an average quality. Some bulbs will be bad ones.

DISBELIEF EXPRESSED

Manufacturers generally disbelieve the frequently heard complaint that bulbs burn out sooner than their rated life. They admit that bulbs might be changed more often. But they're used more often also, they say.

A General Electric spokesman reports that many people mail their defective bulbs to the company's lamp division in Cleveland, Ohio.

* * *

"If it is sent back to us and we find sloppy workmanship we send the customer a four-pack. Normally we refund the postage too," he said.

Chevrolet Executive to Retire

The Nov. 20 retirement of James C. Carney, director of production and material control for Chevrolet Motor Division, was announced today.

Carney, who lives at 5340 Franklin, Bloomfield Township, was honored recently by Chevrolet Central Office executives at a dinner at the Detroit Athletic Club.

CARNEY

This month Carney completes 48 years, 7 months of service with Chevrolet. He is the most senior salaried employe of the division from the standpoint of length of service.

Carney joined Chevrolet in 1918 as a bank messenger at the division's assembly plant in North Tarrytown, N.Y.

He became assistant material supervisor in 1934, material supervisor in 1940, manager of material and production control in 1945, and director of production and material control in 1962.

He has headed his department for the last 21 years, scheduling parts and components for Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks.

Dems Offer to Share Leadership of House

LANSING (AP) — Democratic House members indicated Tuesday they were willing to share with Republicans the leadership of the evenly divided house.

Coleadership, which could include two speakers and two-cochairmen for each House committee, will be suggested by Democrats when they meet with Republican leaders to discuss organization of the House, which apparently will be deadlocked 55-55 next term.

Democrats had a comfortable edge in the session just ending and elected Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, as speaker (presiding officer).

Kowalski presided over the first postelection caucus of House Democrats Tuesday as the group arrived at its coleadership proposal.

The Republican House members, who caucused last week, contend they should organize the House alone because, they claim, the voters clearly indicated Nov. 8 they want the GOP in power.

Kowalski would be the most likely Democratic speaker candidate, and the Republicans are expected to nominate their current leader, Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe. But both men face some opposition from within their ranks.

* * *

Kowalski's most outspoken foe is fellow Detroit Democrat E. D. O'Brien. Kowalski stripped O'Brien of a committee chairmanship during the 1966 session and the two almost came to blows on the floor of the House.

* * *

O'Brien vowed following Tuesday's caucus that he would not vote for Kowalski for any leadership post next January. If no coleadership agreement can be reached, O'Brien's refusal to support Kowalski could let the GOP organize the House with a 55-54 majority.

* * *

The most serious previous opposition to Waldron from within Republican Ranks came from Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica.

THAT'S US! — Madison Junior High School pupils express a variety of emotions as they watch a video tape playback of a girls' physical education class. Dr. Robert D. Trautman, Michigan State University student teacher coordinator for the Pontiac area, adjusts the set. Avace Gregory, the MSU student whose teaching technique Trautman was recording, is in the back row at right, peeking over the heads of her enthusiastic pupils.

Video Recorder Tested

Dr. Robert D. Trautman temporarily was an educator-turned-cameraman this week, with Pontiac classrooms providing the content of his television productions.

Trautman, coordinator of Michigan State University student teachers in the Pontiac area, has been exploring potential uses for a video recorder.

The university recently purchased three of the instruments, which simultaneously make both a visual and sound recording.

Student teacher coordinators were asked to do some experimenting and make recommendations about the instrument's value as an aid in teacher education.

* * *

Trautman and his assistant, Charles Jackson, used the apparatus this week at Pontiac's Central High School and Madison Junior High School.

IMMEDIATE RECOGNITION

Recording class sessions at the two buildings, Trautman said the instrument can provide student teachers with immediate recognition of their errors.

Self-analyzation of a faculty technique can result in on-the-spot correction, Trautman noted.

He also sees value in making several tapes which demonstrate good classroom methods to show to teacher candidates on the university campus.

* * *

Along with other Pontiac schools, Trautman plans to dolly his camera into Waterford Township and Troy classrooms.

Some 125 MSU students a year participate in practice teaching programs in the area.

Rezonings Recommended by Waterford Planners

Two rezoning requests were recommended for approval by the Waterford Township Planning Commission following public hearings last night.

Final decision will be made at a future meeting of the Township Board on both proposals.

Recommended for approval by the planners were:

- A request to rezone from single family residential (R-1A) to general business (C-2) property on the northwest corner of Island Park Drive and Sashabaw Road to complete a partly constructed building for a restaurant operation.
- A request to rezone from local business (C-1) to single family residential (R-1B) part of one lot on Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road near Robinwood.

The second proposal had been instituted by the planning commission.

Public hearings also were conducted last night on two special approval requests.

Granted was a special approval request, allowing fowl and animal raising on property at 1055 Lochaven, north of Cooley Lake Road, presently zoned R-1A.

Approval, however, is subject to three stipulations: The period must not exceed five years; the animals must not be kept closer than 250 feet from any residential dwelling and the maximum number of animals must not exceed 150 at any one time.

SPECIAL REQUEST

Granted providing a contingency is met was a special approval request to allow a gasoline service station on vacant property on the northeast corner of Williams Lake Road and Elizabeth Lake Road.

Approval is subject to securing of a mutual agreement between the township attorney and the Shell Oil Co., designed to prohibit the storage of junk cars on the property.

* * *

In other business, the commission introduced a proposal to change the zoning classification of four lots on the southwest corner on Saline Drive near Windiate Road from R-1A to R-2.

The public hearing on the request was set for Dec. 27.

Pupils' Candy Selling Like Hot Cakes

With more and more people going on diets nowadays, there should be more than enough candy for everyone.

Big laugh, moan Pierce Junior High School ninth graders.

Engaged in a candy sale since Nov. 11 to raise funds for an educational field trip, the Waterford Township students have found they can't get their hands on enough of the sweet stuff to fill orders.

The sale has been that successful.

* * *

School officials promise more candy is on the way and expect all orders to be filled by the first week in December.

350 CASES

So far, 350 cases of candy have been sold. The original goal was 300 cases in perspective. It now looks more like 600, according to Pierce teacher George Goldsworthy, who is in charge of the project.

Because of the flood of orders, the project's deadline has been extended from today to Dec. 2.

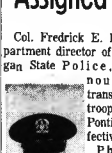
What the students sell will help meet expenses for the trip to Washington, D.C., next April 18-23.

* * *

About 375 of the school's 453 ninth graders are expected to make the trip.

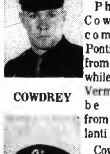
Two Troopers Assigned Here

Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director of the Michigan State Police, today announced the transfer of two troopers to the Pontiac post effective Dec. 11.



COWDREY

Phillip E. Cowdrey will come to the Pontiac facility from St. Clair, while Daniel H. Vermeulen will be transfered from the Ypsilanti post.



VERMEULEN

Cowdrey, 24, enlisted in the State Police last December. A graduate of Ithaca High School, he is married and has one child.

Vermeulen, also joined the organization last December. A native of Kalamazoo, he attended Western Michigan University. Single, Vermeulen is 22 years old.

Car Crushes Man

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (AP) —Hugh Elkin, 31, was crushed to death Tuesday when a car he was repairing in the garage at his home here fell off supporting blocks and landed on him, police said.

The first time the Stars and Stripes was flown over an American man-of-war was at Portsmouth, N.H., on July 4, 1777. The ship was the Ranger, commanded by John Paul Jones.

Officials Get Look at Data Processing

Oakland County's growing data processing function was demonstrated yesterday for nearly 50 county department heads, their assistants and the equalization committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Don L. Lumsden, data processing manager, explained the IBM operation.

Started just two years ago with a two-man staff, the data processing operation now has a staff of 15 and utilitzes a computer, accounting machine and five pieces of tabulating equipment.

The department presently does extensive record work for the social welfare and health departments as well as billing and inventory for central stores.

* * *

It also lists sample appraisals for the equalization department and some of the record work for the planning department and audit department.

Tasks such as tax billing and payroll are probable future functions of data processing.

Stamping Out Absenteeism

DOUGLAS (AP)—Getting to work on time at the Chase Manufacturing Co. can be worth a few extra books of trading stamps.

The firm, a manufacturer of automobile parts and television tube frames, began a program last week which awards 50 stamps to an employe every day he arrives at work on time.

Company spokesmen said absenteeism among the 650 employes has been cut nearly 30 per cent since the program began.

Army Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has awarded a $6.2 million contract to Continental Motors Corp. of Muskegon, Mich., for 586 engine assemblies and power packages, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Tuesday.

LOST DOG — Mrs. Betty Baldwin of Livonia displays the book, which has a picture of a dog on its cover, that attracted the bushy-haired visitor at her feet to her booth one night this week. The booth which was at the Pontiac Mall, was set up to promote the book written by Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital administrator Harry H. Whitlow.

Story of Dog Who Invaded the Mall, One for the Book

A dog's best friend is man!

In a twist to the time-honored truism, a dog of mixed lineage discovered a friend this week at the Pontiac Mall. The friend was 37-year-old Joseph McMillen of Detroit.

McMillen, sales coordinator for a book on antique glassware, was manning a display booth when the honey-colored dog sneaked inside the shopping center.

The unnamed pooch, who appears to be mostly collie, sensed almost immediately he was on strange ground. The ensuing efforts to effect his removal served only to further upset him.

He got sick, which also served to agitate the situation. Those present consequently tried all the harder to evict him and even succeeded once.

DETERMINATION

He "doggedly" persisted, entering a second time through one of the department stores.

Object of the wayward dog's affection was the book, "Art, Colored & Cameo Glass," McMillen is promoting. The book, written by Harry H. Whitlow Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital administrator, carries a picture on its cover of Whitlow's dog, a tiny chinchilla.

"He snuggled right up to the book," commented McMillen. "The dog was scared by the commotion."

* * *

McMillen, who has a poodle named Gigi, could not see the dog being carried off to the pound, so he took him home to await word from his owner.

* * *

"He's just a young pup. And he sure wants to go home to somebody. He stood at the door and whined."

McMillen said the dog's owner can contact Whitlow at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Judge Slaps Bar Plan to Curb Press

NEW YORK (UPI) — A distinguished federal judge last night took issue with a recommendation of the American Bar Association to curb news coverage of criminal cases prior to trial by threatening reporters with contempt of court citations.

"You can't do it," said Harold R. Medina, senior judge of the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and chairman of the local bar group studying the matter of fair trial and freedom of the press.

"It would be undesirable as a matter of principle to muzzle the press, to muzzle the broadcasters," said Medina in an address to law students at New York University.

Medina, who is chairman of the bar association of the city of New York's Committee on Press, Radio and Television and the Administration of Justice, disclosed that this group's report, to be issued in January, would part company with the A.B.A. recommendation.

* * *

He said the New York recommendations would include voluntary restraint by the news media, increasing the threat of disbarment to lawyers and prosecutors who violate more stringent rules governing disclosure, a code for police in dealing with news media and stricter court rules governing news coverage.

"I know we'll get cussed out for it," Medina told the students. "The minute you do anything that's worth something you get cussed out."

School Budget Up

PETOSKEY (AP) — The Petoskey Board of Education has approved a 1966-67 operating budget of $979,000, some $170,000 higher than the previous budget.

Group Named on Negro Aims

To Report on Plan for Leadership in Pontiac

A 10-member steering committee was selected last night to report Dec. 5 on aims and objectives of a proposed central Negro leadership in Pontiac.

Some 50 persons attended the kickoff meeting last night at St. John's Methodist Church, 443 Highland.

Included in the group were business and professional representatives as well as civic and church leaders.

A spokesman for the group said the committee "would not emphasize" civil rights in formulation of its programs.

* * *

"This is not to say we won't be aware of civil rights," he added, "but we will be mainly concerned with self-help in the Negro community."

BASIC AIM

"Our basic aim will be improvement in conditions and development of community pride."

Joint sponsors of the meeting were the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship, the Pontiac Area Urban League, Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, the Progressive Action Committee for Equality, and the Oakland County chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People.

State War Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department identified Tuesday three Michigan men killed in action with the Army in Viet Nam. They were Spec. 4 Edmund V. Dlugokinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Dlugokinski of Detroit; Spec. 4 Lewis R. Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirby of Ecorse; and Pfc. Miles D. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cooper of Saginaw.

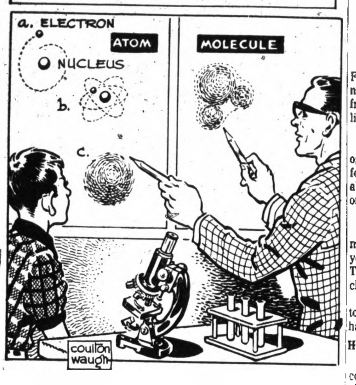
Junior Editors Quiz on ATOMS



QUESTION: What is the difference between an atom and a molecule?

* * *

ANSWER: An atom is the smallest complete particle of matter. Everything is made up of these tiny unseen specks. They are the building blocks of the universe.

Joe's science teacher is showing him something of what is known about the structure of the atom. At its center, says the teacher, is a little ball, the nucleus. Specks called electrons are constantly whirling at terrific speed around the nucleus.

There may be one or more electrons, for atoms are of different kinds. The particular atom the teacher points at is a hydrogen atom with only one electron (a).

The sketch at upper left shows the electron as if suddenly stopped in its movement. But it is whirling around so fast (b) that it is making many paths almost at the same time.

Actually (c) it whirls at such enormous speed that the paths make a kind of shell around the nucleus. Atoms of different kinds may attract each other and stick together; then they form molecules.

The teacher's right hand points to a molecule composed of two hydrogen atoms combined with another larger atom of oxygen.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: The chemical name or formula for water is H2O. From what we have said above, can you figure out why the formula is written like this?

Blaze Claims Gl's Children

MAYFIELD, Ky. (AP) — Fire struck the home Tuesday night of a soldier just returned from Viet Nam and claimed the lives of his three children.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Tmnyson Carter of Mayfield awoke shortly before midnight to find their house ablaze, and leaped from a second-story window.

* * *

Killed were Darrel Carter, 3 months old; Caeser Carter, 2 years old, and Teresa Powell, 9. Teresa reportedly was a stepchild.

Carter came home after a tour in Viet Nam and was to have left today for Germany.

HOUSE ABLAZE

Firemen said the house was completely ablaze when the couple awoke, including a couch in the parents' bedroom on which the infant was sleeping.

* * *

Carter suffered a broken spleen in the leap from the building. His wife apparently was uninjured.

The cause of the blaze was being investigated.

PROFESSIONAL DRIVER

One of the first hand tools devised, the hammer, in any of its countless varieties, is an instrument which is indispensable for applying force in a small area where it is needed. In shaping metal, driving wedges or nails, or breaking stone, nothing works better than the good old hammer.

Like the hammer, the newspaper Want Ad is another of man's inventions which has stood the test of time and which is irreplaceable when it comes to getting things done. A low cost means of communicating a message to a mass of people, the Want Ad stands unique as a feature of the daily newspaper which no other medium can match.

New Car Sales Show Decline

16 Pct. Drop From '65 Period in November

DETROIT (AP) — New car sales in mid - November fell 16 per cent off the record pace a year ago, the nation's automotive industry reported Tuesday.

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors all reported fewer sales in the Nov. 11-20 period this year than in the comparable time span of 1965.

The decline followed a 5.6 per cent lag in sales, as reported by the industry in the first ten selling days this month, compared with the Nov. 1-10 period last year.

★ ★ ★

The daily sales rate of 29,062 cars this mid - November was compared with 34,766 per day in the same period last year. The industry reported selling a total of 232,494 autos, compared with 312,884 in the Nov. 11-20 span of 1965.

The industry's sales from Jan. 1 to Nov. 20 totaled 7,432,507 cars, trailing the total of 7,787,282 in the same period of 1965.

Last year, a record 9.3 million cars were sold in the United States, including about 500,000 imports.

The sales slackoff has caused all four companies to order production cutbacks. General Motors plans to reduce its output 8.1 per cent by early January. All four firms, according to the statistical agency Ward's Reports, have sliced 58,000 units off November production schedules.

Anti-Israel Terrorist Vows More Raids

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The chief of the Palestine Liberation Organization declared Tuesday night that commando raids into Israel would be increased.

In a speech broadcast by Cairo radio, Ahmed Shukiary said the organization supports the Al Assifa underground terrorist group that has been making guerrilla raids from Syria into Israel.

★ ★ ★

"Palestinian commandos have waited too long and they have run out of patience," he said. "They have no alternative but to begin the battle of liberation and sacrifice their blood for regaining the usurped homeland."

Recent raids by Al Assifa and El Fatah terrorists brought retaliatory attacks by Israeli forces Nov. 14 against three Jordanian villages which Israel claimed were used as bases by the Arab guerrillas. The U.N. Security Council is now debating Jordan's charges of aggression against Israel.

AIR STRIKE

The terrorist activities also prompted an Israeli air strike against Syria last July 14. The Security Council voted down a resolution condemning Israel for that raid.

In the past, Shukairy's organization has disassociated itself from the guerrilla groups, but his statement Tuesday night could indicate an intention of joining forces. The organization has its own army which Shukairy said is now armed with tanks and antiaircraft guns.

★ ★ ★

Shukairy challenged Jordan's King Hussein for the second time to post the organization's army units on his frontier with Israel and warned Hussein, who with some other Arab leaders refused to back Al Assifa, that "Palestinian commandos will continue to strike. They will increase in number and equipment."

★ ★ ★

Syria's official news agency claimed 21 women and 30 Jordanian soldiers were wounded in riots in the Jordanian city of Irbed resulting from unrest caused by Israel's attack.

Tragic Blaze in Keokuk Was a Year Ago Today

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — It was square dancing night in the Keokuk National Guard Armory, and more than 60 couples were twirling to the strains of "King of the Road."

★ ★ ★

At 9:34 that Thanksgiving Eve, just a year ago, the armory burst into a terrible ball of flame.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-one persons died from the explosion and fire. The survivors in this southeastern Iowa town still live with memories they cannot erase.

MINOR BURNS

Kenny Anderson, who was calling the dance that night for the Swing Ezy Square Dance Club and escaped with minor burns, said:

★ ★ ★

"All of a sudden I heard a big explosion and felt a big heat blast. It blew me right out a door and window. I looked back and saw a lot of rafters and everything laying all over people. They were crying, and one man came running out of the building all ablaze.

★ ★ ★

"Everything happened so quickly. I can close my eyes and see things a lot better than I can tell them."

★ ★ ★

The Iowa fire marshal's office later said a broken natural gas line outside the building caused the explosion.

★ ★ ★

Although not accepting blame for the holocaust, the Keokuk Gas Service Co. says it has settled all of the more than 100 claims filed against it.

Aid for Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, said Tuesday that Detroit's anti-poverty program probably will get $9.9 million this fiscal year, some $3.9 million below the OEO's estimate of what would be needed to continue the program as it was established in the last fiscal year.

That's the Ticket

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Highway patrolman R. A. Speedy, who a few months ago stopped a Mr. Fast for driving too slow, this week tagged Virgil S. Quick of Newark, Ohio, for speeding.

Slaying Victim Is State Girl, 19

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — The body of a "golden girl" found shot to death in a dense woods near Lakeville, Ind., last Friday was identified yesterday as that of Eileen Marie Alex, 19, Allen Park, Mich.

The girl's brother, John Alex, 24, Allen Park, identified the body, police said.

Sheriff William Locks said a check was made with Miss Alex's dentist in the Detroit suburb and with the exception of a few discrepancies, the dental record seemed to fit a description of that of the body.

Authorities had placed much emphasis on the likelihood of identifying the body through dental work.

Locks and state police officers went to Allen Park immediately after the identification to check out new leads in an effort to solve the slaying.

Jackie Finds Grit Needed to Reduce With a Sand Belt

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Jackie Vernon, the 260-pound comedian on the Garry Moore TV show, came into my office looking like he weighed 280—and he did, for around his protuberance he wore a belt containing 20 pounds of sand.

He gave me one and I put it around my protuberance. I doubt if sand belts will ever catch on.

"Heard about them in Hollywood," groaned Jackie from the walk upstairs.

"Guy told me it helped you exercise while you walked. I found out they were made in Buffalo and I bought one."

"I wore one for a day and was so exhausted afterward that I had to eat an especially big meal. I gained five pounds."

WILSON

"Made me a little lopsided when I walked. Sometimes I'd wear it around my shoulder like a John Wayne gun belt. People'd stop me and say 'What's that? I'd say 'A sand belt.' They'd say 'Watcha doing wit' it?' I'd say 'Carrying it.' They'd say 'You ain't doing nothin' else with it?' I'd say 'Nope, just carrying it.' They'd look at me strange."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The kleig-light cafe opening is the chic new thing, like Jerry Vale's at the Copa. The celebrity audience included Tony Bennett, Jimmy Dean, Red Buttons and Marty Allen. Jerry sang a tune without the orchestra, and Corbett Monica yelled, "Now let's hear the orchestra without you!" Vale vocalizes handsomely, and has developed a light, personable touch.

Alan King gave a 60th birthday party at El Morocco for Harry Adler, his mgr.-agent for 25 years. "Harry doesn't know yet," Alan quipped, "but he's paying for 10% of the party . . . Trude Heller will open a huge discotheque on Broadway . . . Billy Reed's Barberry Rm. has brought back maestro Sonny Kendis, whose music was a long-time cafe society favorite . . . Doris Duke's escort at the Colony was Gen. John Coulter.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Comic Lou Alexander describes foreign aid: "That's when a country overseas needs food and clothing—and we send them a jazz band."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Another reason women's work is never done is daytime television.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Marriage resembles a pair of shears, so joined that they cannot be separated, often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing anyone who comes between them."—Sydney Smith.

EARL'S PEARLS: Arnold Glasow's Thanksgiving thought: "If they crossed a turkey with a kangaroo we'd have a bird you could stuff from the outside."

Lou Jacobi, starring in the very funny "Don't Drink The Water," plays a Newark caterer accused of spying behind the Iron Curtain. He snaps at his "wife," Kay Medford, "One look at your varicose veins and they'll think we're smuggling road maps!" That's earl, brother.

FAMILY REMEMBERS — The quiet time of remembering a youth and wondering about the implications of a distant war now has fallen on the survivors of Pfc. Jerry L. Schemel, a 19-year-old Waterford Township youth killed in Viet Nam. His mother, Mrs. Cecil Schemel, holds a box his buddies made to hold Jerry's service medals as his father and wife, Tina, ponder the chain of events that took him from them.

Distant War Now Personal to Waterford Twp. Family

By PAT McCARTY

For Jerry L. Schemel, the war was a personal matter.

It kept him from his bride, Tina.

It halted his promising career as a musician.

This war carried him 9,000 miles from his home and family to protect those persons, objects and concepts closest to his heart.

* * *

And — ultimately — the war took his life.

19 YEARS OLD

"Jerry was proud. He was only 19 years old. He fought for the principles he grew up with — patriotism and Americanism. He didn't know about politics," his father recalls.

For Cecil Schemel, 3679 Embarcadero, Waterford Township, the war in Viet Nam has become a personal matter.

He looks at it through the eyes of a World War II veteran who served with the Navy in the Pacific.

* * *

"I know what war is, but I also knew my country was behind me—that's the difference," he said.

FATHER'S EYES

He looks at it through the eyes of a father who has lost his son in a war that does not end.

"Jerry loved life. He gave his life to stop communism," he said.

Schemel, a manufacturer's representative, wants the sacrifice of American families to end.

* * *

"I'm all for this as long as we do the job," he said. "I'm against stalling. The lives of these boys is worth much more than whether a politician keeps his job or not.

"I think this country is going to sell these boys short. I'm afraid Johnson is going to settle for less than this country deserves."

From the viewpoint of a veteran of another war and of a father, Schemel reads and listens and worries.

His daughter-in-law, Tina, 17, fingers the wedding ring recovered from Jerry's body after he was killed July 27.

* * *

"I feel the same way Dad does," she says, but she doesn't want to think about it.

AWAY FROM NEWS

"I stay away from the news as much as I can, right now," she said.

There is the ring from the wedding ceremony Dec. 28, 1965.

There are the memories of their courtship and brief months together.

* * *

Tina got to know Jerry at area dances. The handsome youth was the leader of the Coronadoes, a rock 'n' roll group moving up when its members decided to get their military obligations out of the way.

KETTERING

A Waterford Kettering High School graduate, Jerry played the saxophone and drums. Tina now is stuying to become a beauty operator.

The wedding ring was returned only a couple of weeks ago, the latest in a flood of momentoes and correspondence which began with a telegram—"We regret to inform you . . . "

Pfc. Jerry L. Schemel, a paratrooper in the U.S. Army, was among 10 men killed when the helicopter in which they were riding crashed in a Viet Nam jungle.

* * *

REPORT OF DEATH

Pfc. Schemel died of "extreme multipe burns and injuries," the death certificate reported.

Also among the miscellany are letters of sympathy from the President, Gov. and Mrs. Romney and Jerry's buddies and officers, including Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, commanding general of the U.S. Army in Viet Nam.

There is a crude wooden box crafted by the members of Jerry's platoon while they were still in the field. It contains his service medals.

The Schemels have contacted and received calls from several other parents who lost sons in the same helicopter crash.

CORRESPONDENCE

Jerry's mother maintains a regular correspondence with one mother who writes from California.

"We were mystified as to what happed, but we're satisfied now," Mrs. Schemel said.

She, her husband and daughter-in-law now go through Jerry's letter and the brief diary he kept of his few days in Viet Nam.

* * *

"Dad, I want you to know I'm scared to death," he had said before leaving.

LIFE INSURANCE

"It's something I've got to do," he said simply in a letter, and then asked if they would take out a larger life insurance policy.

In the diary he kept in a little memo book, Jerry wrote notes about heat and leaches and ants and filth as he had never seen before.

He complained about the slowness of the malls and the distance between himself and Tina.

* * *

"I love her," he wrote nearly every day.

SOME ENTRIES

Here are some entries:

"26 June — received word will move out on patrol soon. I'm ready — scared.

* * *

"27 June — Vietnamese people must be starving. They dig out of our trash . . . God, how I miss my wife — love her . . . Nothing happening except for the sound of war in the background. Just sitting waiting for the day to end.

"30 June — tomorrow we go out on 1st operation. Scared to death . . . New month tomorrow. 11 months to go.

"7 July — Went to Bien Hoa. Got very drunk — got Tina a Vietnamese doll. People there live like pigs.

"8 July — received 6 genades. What am I in store for?"

* * *

Jerry wanted a bottle of whisky. He asked his father to send it and then chided him when it didn't arrive.

* * *

"I got him a fifth of whisky," Schemel said. "Dorothy, his mother, made some fudge. We got the package back afterwards . . .

* * *

"Im thinking of sending it back to the men. They won't be able to eat the candy but they sure could use the bottle."

Talk Is Tuesday in Waterford

Muskegon Educator Will Address Faculty

Waterford Township school officials remind PTA leaders and school administrators that Supt. William L. Austin of Muskegon Public Schools will speak at a dinner-meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Crary Junior High School.

Regarded in educational circles as an outstanding public speaker, Austin has been head of Muskegon Schools since last year.

Prior to assuming his present position, he was superintendent of Adrian Public Schools for 12 years. He held a similar position in suburban Grand Rapids from 1948 to 1953.

Previously, he held teaching and administrative positions in New Jersey and New York.

A native of Detroit, Austin is the recipient of bachelor's and master's degrees from Michigan State University, where he presently is working toward a doctorate.

Particularly interested in youth and the handicapped and mentally retarded, Austin is active in several related organizations.

He is president of the board of directors of the Lenawee Youth Center. He also belongs to the boards of directors of the Croswell School for the Mentally Retarded, the Huron Valley Child Guidance Center and the Lincoln School for the Multiple Handicapped, Grand Rapids.

4 Seek to Be King of Spain

MADRID (AP) — There are at least four contenders for the vacant Spanish throne. Most frequently mentioned is the grandson of the last king, Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, who is married to the Greek Princess Sophie.

The 28-year-old prince is frequently seen beside Generalissimo Francisco Franco at official ceremonies, and Franco is generally believed to favor him. However, under present Spanish law, the young prince cannot assume the throne until he is 30, on Jan. 5, 1968.

Prince Juan Carlos' father, Don Juan, the second son of King Alfonso XIII, is favored by the most powerful monarchist factions in Spain, including the largest and most important daily, Madrid's ABC.

Red China Raps U.N. Entry Plan

TOKYO (AP) — Red China today restated its terms for joining the United Nations: expel Nationalist China and end U.S.-Soviet domination of the world organization. They underlined the prospect that the Peking regime won't get in for a long time.

An official New China News Agency broadcast rejected as "absurd" a resolution now being debated by the U.N. General Assembly.

Authored primarily by Italy, it would set up a committee to study the question of China's representation for the next year and is being reluctantly supported by the United States.

The Peking broadcast described the resolution as a trap to permit Nationalist China to remain in the organization and as a U.S. device to make it appear Peking has chosen to isolate itself from the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

"Everybody knows China's stand towards the United Nations under U.S.-Soviet control," the agency said. In September, Peking said U.S. control should be smashed and the organization completely reorganized.

CONDITIONS

Several conditions for Chinese membership listed by Peking last year were not repeated today.

They included a condemnation of "U.S. imperialism," cancellation of the 1950 U.N. resolution condemning China and North Korea as aggressors in Korea and revision of the U.N. Charter to exclude "all imperialist puppets."

In the American endorsement this week of the Italian resolution, chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg stressed the importance of keeping Peking out.

★ ★ ★

This was interpreted by some diplomats as a shift away from the hard U.S. line against membership for Communist China and a step toward a "two-Chinas" policy.

STRANGE CRIMES

NCNA attacked Goldberg for having "once again resorted to imperialist gangster logic by flagrantly slinging mud at China" and accusing it of "all kinds of strange 'crimes'."

★ ★ ★

It said the United States "instigated Canada, Italy and some other countries to conduct a new 'two-Chinas' maneuver as its 'second defense line' to prevent China from resuming its lawful right of representation."

A Smoking Hot Pumpkin Pie For The Holiday Feast

New Status of Virginia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever historians say, Virginia has crept into presidential proclamations on Thanksgiving to share billing with Massachusetts and the Pilgrims.

Time was when almost anybody knew that Thanksgiving, the Pilgrim Fathers and Plymouth, Mass., were intertwined as firmly as turkey and cranberry sauce.

Now there are Virginia colonists too.

They showed up in the 1963 and 1964 proclamations, faded in 1965 and came back this year when President Johnson said: "If we consider the fervor with which those colonists in Virginia and Massachusetts gave, when they had so little, we are taught how much deeper should our thanks be — when we have so much."

Virginians started contending years ago that the first Thanksgiving was not held in Plymouth in 1621 as most Americans believe but occurred two years earlier at Berkeley Plantation on the James River near Jamestown, Va.

MADE PROTEST

After the 1962 proclamation, a Virginian wrote President John F. Kennedy protesting that it made no mention of that early Thanksgiving in Virginia.

Kennedy, a Massachusetts man, in 1963 not only mentioned Virginia but mentioned that state first: "Over three centuries ago our forefathers in Virginia and in Massachusetts far from home in a lonely wilderness set aside a time for Thanksgiving."

Kennedy issued that proclamation Nov. 5, 1963, setting Thanksgiving for Nov. 28 of that year. He was assassinated six days before Thanksgiving came.

In 1964, President Johnson also acknowledged Virginia first, saying, "So as our forefathers in Virginia, in New England and throughout this land for more than three and one half centuries, let us appoint a special day."

LOST VIRGINIA

But in 1965 Virginia was not mentioned, and Johnson's proclamation said then, "When the Pilgrims first observed Thanksgiving nearly 350 years ago, life was harsh and unrelenting."

George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation in 1789. But the custom did not become established until 1863, when Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of November of that year as a day "to review our gratitude for America's fruitful fields."

Gemini 12 Duo to Describe Flight at News Parley Today

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The champion Gemini 12 pilots describe publicly today their record-smashing space flight that rang down the curtain on America's project Gemini with a dramatic four-day voyage.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. 'Buzz' Aldrin Jr. were to hold a morning news conference at the Manned Spacecraft Center, training base for spacemen.

Aldrin, a rookie who mastered the hostilities of space, was set to tell of three historic ventures —a total of 5½ hours—outside tiny Gemini 12 that gave him the world's title for space walking.

His sojourns, highlighted by a stroll lasting 2 hours and 9 minutes, proved that by resting frequently and using proper restraint equipment, man can do meaningful work outside his capsule.

The public conference marks the end of an extensive series of discussions with space officials, technical experts and fellow astronauts.

★ ★ ★

Afterwards, the two pilots planned to go to LBJ Ranch for a ceremony marking the end of the Gemini project.

Taylor: Bomb Letup High Price for Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, holding that the bombing of North Viet Nam gives the United States blue chips for any peace talks, warns "don't pay a blue chip by giving up the bombing to get negotiations started."

He called for a "clear eye and a hard-nosed policy" in any approach to negotiations.

"We should come out not only with our shirt, but with a free and independent South Viet Nam," the retired general said.

Taylor, a special adviser to President Johnson and former ambassador to South Viet Nam, spoke last night at a dinner of the Manufacturing Chemists Association.

The air attacks on the north has given a "great morale boost" to the Saigon government and has "immobilized" 200,000 to 300,000 North Vietnamese, the general said.

★ ★ ★

Abandonment of the bombing of the north "would have a tremendous negative effect on South Viet Nam and they might possibly quit fighting," he declared.

GROUND ACTION

Taylor said ground action is going increasingly well as a result of more troops and "for the first time we are putting a brake on the expansion of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong."

★ ★ ★

Although he found progress in the air war, Taylor said results in the campaign to rebuild the nation had been "highly unsatisfactory."

He noted, however, "some growth in stability" and the development "of a sense of maturity" among politicians in Saigon.

U.S. Steps Up Viet Air Strikes

Only Small Clashes in Ground Fighting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fliers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam while on the ground the fighting lapsed today into small scattered clashes.

B52 bombers pounded Communist positions in support of the American forces pressing Operation Attleboro in Tay Ninh Province and those in Operation Paul Revere in the central highlands.

In the scattered ground action, U.S. Marines supported by air strikes, artillery, naval gunfire and tanks reported killing 36 Viet Cong in clashes yesterday near Da Nang and Chu Lai.

The Marines said they trapped one band of 25 Viet Cong on a small peninsula 13 miles southwest of Chu Lai and drove them to the sea.

★ ★ ★

The Leathernecks called in artillery barrages and air strikes which killed 15 of the Viet Cong.

GROUND FIGHTING

The Marines killed the other 10 in ground fighting.

The Marines reported only light casualties.

The weather improved over North Viet Nam yesterday for the first time in nearly two weeks, and U.S. pilots flew 59 bombing missions, an increase over recent days but still far below the average 150 missions of ideal flying days.

★ ★

One American plane was reported shot down, a two-man Air Force F4C Phantom jet. Both fliers were listed as missing. It was the 427th plane reported lost over North Viet Nam and the first since Nov. 11.

MAJOR EFFORT

On another front, the U.S. mission announced a new, major effort to spur the pacification program, the civilian-directed campaign to win the allegiance of South Viet Nam's masses to the Saigon government.

Deputy U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter, 52, was named to head the new attempt to make the flagging program succeed.

As the ground fighting subsided, the 360,000 American troops in Viet Nam and the 60,000 men offshore on 7th Fleet ships looked forward to the traditional turkey-and-trimmings Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky issued a Thanksgiving message of tribute to U.S. forces here, saying they had added "more glorious pages" in Viet Nam to their untarnished history.

N. Viets Rap Booze Abuse

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam appears worried that too many drunks may spoil the Communist revolution.

★ ★ ★

Radio Hanoi announced that President Ho Chi Minh signed a law Oct. 27 cracking down on moonshiners and alcoholics. The broadcast said the decree was necessary to "'the building of socialism and the anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation."

★ ★ ★

No penalties were announced, however.

Commission Makes New Offer to County

Would Swap Facility for Two Parcels of Downtown Property

By L. GARY THORNE

After more than 40 years, the City of Pontiac may soon go out of the airport business, transferring ownership of its 438-acre airfield in Waterford Township to Oakland County.

The City Commission last night voted 6-1 to offer to transfer the airport for two pieces of county-owned downtown real estate, valued by one commissioner at around $250,000.

Robert C. Irwin, District 2 commissioner, cast the lone dissenting vote.

Irwin agreed the airport should be a county operation, but charged that the county was not offering enough for the estimated $1.4 million put into the facility by city taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

The city's offer, which still must be accepted by several county committees and the County Board of Supervisors, results from private negotiations carried out in recent days by county and city officials.

SUGGESTED TERMS

In a letter to the city, Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, offered suggested terms for transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

He said the terms "could be expected to receive a favorable recommendation "from the county's special airport acquisition committee.

The terms, as outlined by Murphy, would include the transfer of the county-owned parking lot at Huron and Saginaw (the old court house site) and the County Annex building and parking lot at 1 Lafayette, providing the county can occupy the latter facility rent-free until Dec. 31, 1968, when the new courthouse wing is to be ready.

The commission majority agreed to these suggested terms and added one stipulation, namely, the city is to retain ownership of 49 T-hangars at the airport and rent them during the time the county continues to occupy the annex building.

Another Alvin York Dons Army Uniform

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—A young man named Alvin C. York joined the Army nearly 50 years ago.

The Army now has another Alvin C. York, a third cousin to the most decorated enlisted man in World War I.

ALVIN C. YORK

The original York grew up in Tennessee where he hunted fox and sold the pelts for $35 each.

The present-day York grew up in Illinois where he works with his father and two brothers in the family landscaping business.

"I always wanted to write my cousin, but I never did," says Pvt. York, stationed at Ft. Campbell, for basic training.

"But I collected newspaper clippings and pictures."

He has seen the movie "Sergeant York," filmed in 1941, "I think four times. I really liked it."

Pvt. York, 21, was born and brought up in Spring Bay, Ill., has had the nickname "Sarge" since he was a child. He jokes that he didn't learn his real name until "about six years ago."

Give Thanks: Turkey Day to Be Wet, but Warm

Thanksgiving Day will be mild with occasional showers.

But don't let the weatherman's prediction for tomorrow dampen your spirits, it could be worse with winter right around the corner.

Temperatures with a low of 46 to 52 tonight will continue tomorrow. The outlook for Friday is also mild with a chance of showers.

South to southwest winds at 12 to 25 miles per hour are forecast through tonight.

★ ★ ★

A "balmy" 47 was the low temperature preceding 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac. The mercury stood at 53 at 1 p.m.

Almost Everybody to Be Busy Eatin'

Stock up on turkey and fill the gas tanks because almost every store, gas station, bank, postal and government office will be closed Thanksgiving Day.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Motor Division, Fisher Body Divison and GMC Truck and Coach Division will have no assembly tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Normal production schedules will resume Friday.

Single Edition

The Pontiac Press will publish a single, early edition tomorrow to allow employes to spend the holiday with their families. Regular editions will be resumed Friday.

City Makes New Airport Trade Offer

is about $20,000 a year, while income from the Huron and Saginaw parking lot is $15,000 annually.

Irwin, in opposing the transfer on his "it's not enough" claim, added the airport revenue and parking lot revenues together for the two-year period and said the money would probably be sufficient to pay for eventually tearing down the annex.

While Irwin was not alone in his judgment that the county's terms were not enough, the balance of the commission thought the city was probably getting as much as it was ever going to get from the county.

* * *

All seven city commissioners agreed that furnishing airport service was properly a county function.

'A LIABILITY'

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out that the airport was a liability, the facility is used mostly by noncity residents and the county has greater taxing resources to finance the airport's future development.

He added that it would cost $4 million to bring the airport up to date with its master plan.

Taylor doubted if any true dollar value could be placed on the property the city would receive in exchange for the airfield.

* * *

"It's important to have the property in the hands of the city," the mayor said. "It will prove itself with (downtown) redevelopment."

MERELY A TRANSFER

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. said that actually what is proposed amounts to merely a transfer of who runs the airport.

"We still live in Oakland County and can still use the airport, only now it will be a better airport."

Leslie H. Hudson, District 4 commissioner, pointed out that to wait much longer to turn over the airport to the county would only increase the city's proportionate share of expanding the facility.

He said the vacant property, which is needed for expansion, surrounding the Waterford Township field is fast disappearing, adding to the eventual expansion cost.

PROPORTIONATE SHARE

"Our proportionate share now (15 to 16 per cent) will be less than it will be in five or 10 years," added Hudson.

The property exchange, suggested by the county, is a major breakthrough in the lengthy negotiations between the city and the county. Previously, the county had offered a token $1 for the airport.

N. Korea Accused of Firing at 3 Ships and Errant Plane

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today accused North Korea of firing at three South Korean navy patrol boats and of shooting at an unarmed training plane that strayed over the demilitarized zone.

The command said Communist shore batteries opened fire on the ships Tuesday as they cruised off the east coast just south of the armistice line separating North and South Korea.

Around 40 rounds were fired by the Communists, and the South Korean ships replied with 14 rounds, they said. No injuries were reported but one ship was damaged slightly.

* * *

The North Korean Central News Agency earlier had claimed the boats were American. It said the vessels intruded into North Korean coastal waters and "fired scores of shells at our coast."

At a meeting today of the Joint Military Armistice Commission secretaries at Panmunjom, the U.N. Command admitted a light unarmed plane on a routine training mission Nov. 18 had inadvertently flown over the 4,000-yard wide truce zone.

* * *

U.S. Army Col. George F. Charlton, the U.N. Command secretary, said the pilot lost his bearings. He asked North Korean Col. Han Joo-kyung why North Koreans fired on the plane with automatic weapons from the demilitarized zone.

* * *

Han said the intrusion was a serious violation of the armistice and "proof of U.S. schemes for aggravating tension in Korea to start another war."

* * *

Charlton's remarks indicated the plane was not hit.

World Movie Premiere Draws Near-Full Crowd

BIRMINGHAM—The story of a friendly, freedom-loving little burro, and scenic shots of the Grand Canyon combine to make a delightful family movie of "Brighty of the Grand Canyon," which had its world premiere at the Birmingham Theater last night.

The theater was nearly full for the first world premiere held in the area. Proceeds from the benefit showing went to the Kingswood School Alumni Association scholarship fund.

Much of the glamour and excitement of a Hollywood opening surrounded the first showing of the movie which was produced by Birmingham resident Stephen F. Booth.

Adding to the excitment was the appearance of Brighty, who patiently endured the happy admiration of adults and children alike.

The little burro belongs to Marguerite Henry, author of the award-winning book on which the movie is based. Miss Henry also attended last night's premiere.

* * *

MAKES FRIENDS

Associating with humans only when it suits him, the free-spirited little animal makes friends with an old prospector, a government mountain lion hunter and his nephew and with President Theodore Roosevelt, who often visited the canyon to hunt.

Although untrained, the movie Brighty showed professional aplomb, according to Booth, as he fought off mountain lions and swam the Colorado river.

The entire movie was filmed at the Grand canyon from April through July last year. Many of the scenes take place in parts of the North Rim of the canyon which are generally inaccessible to the outside world.

Officials Stay Behind Sewer Trunk Plan

Pontiac officials remain firm in their belief that the city should move full speed ahead toward construction of the Galloway Creek trunk sewer, which one time was proposed as a leg of the county's Clinton - Oakland Interceptor system.

* * *

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. announced at last night's City Commission meeting that the city was going ahead with its plans for the trunk sewer in the city's northeast corner.

Taylor also said, the sewer could again become part of the county's project up to the time bids were received on the bonds.

In essence, the mayor said the city would have to proceed in order to provide service to the area, but might reconsider at such time as the county can prove it can meet the same timetable.

* * *

The city's sewer plans currently are awaiting approval of the Michigan Health Department.

REQUEST MADE

Taylor's statement appears to be a rejection at least at this time that the city reconsider its "go it alone" policy, which was requested last week by R. J. Alexander, director of the county's department of public works.

Contracts for the $33.3 million Clinton - Oakland system, which is to service eight area communities, still include Pontiac.

If Pontiac does not rejoin, the contracts would have to be revised and reapproved by the participants, which could mean further delay for the project.

* * *

INJUNCTION

Issuance of an injunction was denied last week in a bid by a group of Avon Township and Rochester residents to stop the county DPW from signing contracts for the interceptor.

* * *

However, the hearing was continued until after the contract with the township is signed. All of which might forecast further court action to delay the project.

Police School Slated at OCC

To Begin in March; 12 Instructors Sought

The Oakland County Law Enforcement Officers training committee gave final approval yesterday to a proposed course of required study for prospective policemen.

* * *

Backing for the program came at a meeting of the group in Royal Oak.

Next target for the committee is selection by Dec. 21 of some 12 instructors — both police and college personnel — who will teach the courses at Oakland Community College.

OCC officials have agreed to work with law enforcement agencies in running the police school, to begin in March at the college's Highland Lakes campus.

* * *

Both recruits and police veterans will be given college credits for courses taken.

TUITION COSTS

Tuition costs for each student are estimated at $71, with as much as half to be reimbursed by the state.

Included in the curriculum are study in police administration, law, criminal investigation, traffic, general police work and special subjects.

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger, a member of the general committee, was chairman of the group which drew up the course of study.

* * *

Under the plan, police recruits from throughout Oakland County will undergo a six-week full-time training course prior to starting work for the police agency which hired them.

HEAVY EMPHASIS

The 240-hour program places heavy emphasis on law, which accounts for more than one-fifth of the course subjects.

* * *

"The legal section represents our biggest challenge," commented Hanger. "Supreme Court decisions in recent years have complicated almost every police procedure.

* * *

"The law vitally affects arrests and proofs — and that's the heart of our business."

FRANCO ASKS NEW LAW —Spanish dictator Francisco Franco asks the Spanish parliament yesterday for a new "organic law" which will allow a measure more of freedom. His plan calls for democratic monarchy to be set up when he steps down. He also offers a plan for selection of a monarch from the royal line.

U.S. Battling U.N. Motion on Warfare

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States sought in the United Nations today to kill or water down a Communist resolution which snipes at U.S. actions in Viet Nam by denouncing chemical and germ warfare.

William C. Foster, the U.S. disarmament negotiator, has introduced amendments to remove the propaganda sting from the Hungarian resolution which the General Assembly's main political committee was expected to vote on today.

* * *

The Red proposal, which originally called on the assembly to condemn gas and germ warfare as an international crime, did not name the United States. But it was plainly aimed at the U.S. use of nonlethal gas in Viet Nam.

The resolution aroused such opposition that Hungarian delegate Karoly Csatorday accepted African amendments toning down the language.

CHANGE TERMS

The changes proposed by Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania deplore rather than condemn gas and germ warfare and eliminate reference to an international crime.

The Western powers still balked and continued pushing amendments put in by the United States, Canada, Britain and Italy. They limit the resolution to a request for observance of the principles and objectives of the 1925 Geneva protocol. They also note that gas and germ weapons are already listed for consideration by the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Committee.

Dems Offer to Share Leadership of House

LANSING (AP) — Democratic House members indicated Tuesday they were willing to share with Republicans the leadership of the evenly divided house.

Coleadership, which could include two speakers and two co-chairmen for each House committee, will be suggested by Democrats when they meet with Republican leaders to discuss organization of the House, which apparently will be deadlocked 55-55 next term.

* * *

Democrats had a comfortable edge in the session just ending and elected Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, as speaker (presiding officer).

Kowalski presided over the first postelection caucus of House Democrats Tuesday as the group arrived at its coleadership proposal.

GOP POWER

The Republican House members, who caucused last week, contend they should organize the House alone because, they claim, the voters clearly indicated Nov. 8 they want the GOP in power.

Kowalski would be the mostly likely Democratic speaker candidate, and the Republicans are expected to nominate their current leader, Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe. But both men face some opposition from within their ranks.

* * *

Kowalski's most outspoken foe is fellow Detroit Democrat E. D. O'Brien. Kowalski stripped O'Brien of a committee chairmanship during the 1966 session and the two almost came to blows on the floor of the House.

O'Brien vowed following Tuesday's caucus that he would not vote for Kowalski for any leadership post next January. If no coleadership agreement can be reached, O'Brien's refusal to support Kowalski could let the GOP organize the House with a 55-54 majority.

* * *

The most serious previous opposition to Waldron from within Republican Ranks came from Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica.

Laird: Romney Leading Field

GOP Leader Cites Nixon's Role, Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R - Wis., said Wednesday Gov. George Romney of Michigan now is the leading candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Prior to the Nov. 8 election Laird, who is chairman of the House Republican Conference, said he considered former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to be leading the field.

But Laird said the election in Michigan, which returned Romney to office by a huge majority and made Sen. Robert P. Griffin a winner —plus the defeat of five Democratic House members, put Romney in front.

At the same time, Laird said Nixon did a "tremendous job" in helping to rebuild the Republican Party. Nixon campaigned in many states for GOP congressional and other candidates.

CITES RESPONSIBILITY

Laird said he hopes the House Republican leadership does not become too involved in presidential politics during the first session of the 90th Congress which begins Jan. 10.

"We have a responsibility to build a responsible record upon which our party can enter the 1968 elections," he said.

* * *

Laird added that all Americans would receive better treatment at the hands of a strong two-party Congress. The Republicans made a net gain of 47 House seats and 3 Senate seats in the Nov. 8 election.

PPOA Talks Will Resume

A fact-finding hearing into the pay dispute between the City of Pontiac and the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) resumed at City Hall today.

City officials and PPOA leaders had been requested Nov. 9 by state-appointed attorney Harry N. Casselman to conduct a comprehensive survey of police wage and benefit schedules in other cities.

Casselman was assigned to conduct the hearing by the State Labor Mediation Board only a few days after Pontiac police carried out a sick-call boycott of their jobs Nov. 1-3.

Thief Takes $280 From Home in Area

A Pontiac Township man had $280 stolen from his home last night while he and his wife were gone from the house for about 90 minutes.

Daniel Dunham of 160 Collier told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he discovered the money missing when he returned home about 9:15 p.m.

Deputies said entry to the house was gained through an unlocked door.

Unity Needed for '68---Dem

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore C. Sorensen, former special counsel to President John F. Kennedy, said today that nothing would be "more stupid and self-defeating" for Democrats than any effort to run Robert F. Kennedy against either President Johnson or Hubert H. Humphrey in 1968.

Surveying the results of the November elections, he said the Democratic party's losses were "far worse than the usual mid-term slide, far worse than the issues required; and it spread disaster and disarray into our party in every section of the country."

* * *

"No progress will result from further feuds between reformers and old-timers, or between Johnson men and Kennedy men, or between upstate and downstate," he said in remarks prepared for delivery before the Democratic Forum, a party discussion group.

* * *

Sen. Kennedy's first responsibility in the rebuilding of our party is here in New York," said Sorensen, adding that both "logic and hope" cast the junior senator from New York in the role of party head in the state.

DISCUSS ELECTION — Socialist Jens Otto Krag (left) and former Danish Communist Chairman Aksel Larsen converse following yesterday's national elections. Krag, who will continue as premier, said he will try to set up a "popular" government of four parties in the wake of the voting which gave the Danish Parliament its first Socialist majority and made Larsen the country's most powerful political figure.

Hospital Exec Again Raps Board Delay

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, today reiterated his concern over the possible loss of a $250,000 federal staffing grant to the hospital.

In the hospital's newsletter, Dr. Martin reviewed the long delay by the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board on an agreement to release some of its responsibility to the hospital.

The federal grant approved last June could be lost if the mental health board does not sign the agreement by Jan. 1, according to Dr. Martin.

By signing the agreement, the mental health board would give up jurisdiction over 14 sparsely populated northern townships to the hospital. This would represent about one-fifth of the county population.

* * *

BOTH SUBJECT

As for authority, he points out that both the board and the hospital are subject to the jurisdiction of the Michigan Department of Mental Health which must review and approve programs of both units.

He also said that Act 54 does not specify that a mental health board must have authority over all community mental health programs within its locality or that a state must review and approve portion of such a program.

The newsletter lists the names and addresses of members of the mental health board.

A decision by the board is expected at its last 1966 meeting, Dec. 6.

243,075 Cast Ballots

County Vote Canvass Is Done

The Oakland County Board of Canvassers reported today that 243,075 voters went to the polls in the Nov. 8 general election.

The vote was 14,609 less than turned out in the last nonpresidential year in 1962, and almost 80,000 fewer than the record presidential vote of 302,735 set two years ago.

The canvass of the county vote was completed yesterday afternoon, the deadline set by state law.

No major changes in the vote were recorded, according to Carlos Richardson, canvassing board chairman.

The votes received by four incumbent circuit judges and one probate judge were made public for the first time.

NOT RECORDED

They were unopposed and a running tabulation of their votes was not recorded election night by election officials.

* * *

Among the circuit judges, Arthur E. Moore lead the field with 119,243 votes, followed by Clark J. Adams, 101,389; Frederick C. Ziem, 100,484; and William J. Beer, 98,543.

Probate Judge Donald E. Adams received 105,302 votes.

CWA, Bell Reach Tentative Agreement

DETROIT (AP) — Company and union bargainers today reached tentative agreement on a contract between the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and some 17,000 members of the Communications Workers of America.

The agreement was reached after both sides continued to negotiate past a midnight Tuesday deadline imposed by the union.

* * *

A Michigan Bell spokesman said the wage increases agreed on will be retroactive to Oct. 2 if the contract is ratified prior to Dec. 13.

The spokesman said today's pact retained all the features of a contract reached Oct. 4 but rejected by union members Oct. 31 and also includes some new ones.

DAY-TO-DAY BASIS

The union has been working on a day-to-day basis since the old contract expired Sept. 23, although some wildcat strikes have broken out since that date.

The package contains wage increases ranging from $3.50 to $8 a week for workers now receiving $74.50 to $150.50 at Detroit and less outstate.

The wage increases are the same as those agreed on Oct. 4.

Among the features in today's agreement that were not included in the original pact were noneconomic items like revised grievance procedures, provisions for work under extreme weather conditions and the length of management replacement assignments.

As in the Oct. 4 contract, 45 communities will be upgraded into higher wage areas.

No date has been set by the union for a ratification vote.

* * *

Walter Schaar, regional vice president for the CWA, had said earlier the union would not bargain past midnight Tuesday.

This deadline had led some rank and file members to believe there would be a strike if no agreement were reached.

* * *

The union's state director, Herman Shelton, said in Lansing Tuesday, "There has been no authorization for a strike."

Earlier Tuesday about two dozen phone company workers staged a wildcat strike and picketed a company garage in Detroit.

Red Guards Fight Workers

Violent Peking Battle Hurts More Than 50

TOKYO (UPI) — Fanatic Red Guard students fought a pitched battle with armed factory workers in Peking for 15 hours yesterday. More than 50 persons were injured in the clash, reports here said today.

* * *

Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital said violence erupted when the youngsters tried to invade a workers compound in a machine tool plant to "promote production" and proselytize for Mao Tse-tung.

According to Red Guard bulletins detailing the clash, armed factory workers blocked the entrance and threatened to shoot the Red Guardsmen if they tried to enter.

Reports said a fist-swinging, head-cracking battle broke out between the teen-aged Marxists and the stubborn factory workers.

* * *

The fight continued far into the night and resulted in more than 50 persons being injured before Peking officials intervened to call a truce, they said.

SERIOUS VIOLENCE

This was the first recent report of serious violence between the youths, spearheading China's sweeping "cultural revolution" purge, and workers in Peking. There have been numerous reports of clashes between Red Guards and opposing groups in the countryside.

In a related development, other news reports here indicated Yeh Chi-chuang, Communist China's minister of foreign trade has fallen victim to the "cultural revolution" and been purged from his office.

* * *

Yeh had reportedly been under heavy attack for quite some time as a "counter-revolutionary treading the capitalist line."

Court Order Comes Due; Powell Sailing

NEW YORK (AP) — A court order requiring Rep. Adam Clayton Powell to surrender for a 30-day jail sentence comes due today, but the Harlem congressman was expected to ignore it — as he has directives in three other contempt of court convictions."

* * *

Powell, who won election two weeks ago to his 12th term, was reported sailing in the Bahamas aboard his yacht, Adam's Folly. There was no indication he would appear at the State Supreme Court hearing.

* * *

The jail term is based on Powell's criminal contempt of court conviction developing from a $164,000 libel judgment against him. The congressman was found guilty of wilfully refusing to submit to a financial examination in the case.

Attorneys for Powell appealed the conviction Tuesday on the grounds the State Supreme Court went beyond its jurisdiction in trying him for criminal contempt. The appellate division reserved decision.

3 OTHER CONVICTIONS

If Powell were to surrender he could be jailed for an additional year and 30 days on three other convictions, all for civil contempt of court.

Powell has avoided arrest by staying out of the state.

* * *

The Democratic congressman had one less problem, though, after a federal court judge dismissed a rival Republican candidate's attempt to deny him certification of reelection.

* * *

Judge Dudley Bonsal said Tuesday his court had no jurisdiction to rule on a charge by Lassen L. Walsh that Powell is not a New York resident and therefore ineligible to represent his congressional district.

* * *

The defamation of character judgment stems from a 1960 television appearance during which Powell called Esther James, 68, an intermediary for mob payoffs to corrupt police.

A Burning Question

Light Bulb Life Argued

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Light bulb manufacturers insist their product is the most efficient they can make. A congressional report, however, says simply, "Light bulbs burn out too fast."

CUNNIFF

The conflict has existed for a long time, but the only thing accomplished so far has been to define the battle lines. Since there is so little appreciation of the other's argument, that battle might occur some day.

* * *

The stakes are high. Annual sales of light bulbs total one billion. At an average cost of 25 cents a bulb, that total turns into a dollar figure of 250 million.

And, since the cost of electricity used by a bulb is about six or seven times its own cost, you reach an astronomical figure of $1.5 billion as the annual consumer expenditure associated with electric light bulbs.

'SHORT LIFE'

A House subcommittee has just published a report for congressional use in "a continuing evaluation of this problem." Its title gives a tip-off: "The short life of the electric light bulb.

The report draws these conclusions:

1. Bulb life is shorter now than it was a half century ago.

2. The life of a standard bulb can be increased.

3. Most popularly used bulbs do not operate at maximum efficiency.

4. The life of bulbs could be doubled at only a small increase in cost to the consumer.

Generally speaking, the manufacturers dispute these findings.

Both government and business agree on this: It is impossible to have both maximum light and maximum life from the same bulb. A little less light means a little longer life. And more light means less life.

BALANCED EFFICIENCY

The problem is how to reach a balance of efficiency between light and life and then mix into the formula the cost of electricity used. It is disagreement over this formula that causes one of the big differences of opinion.

The manufacturers want to include in their formula, among other things, the fixed costs of the lighting systems and fixtures. The House report argues that the cost of the bulb and the electric power it uses are the only expenditures that should be considered.

* * *

Two other factors complicate the formula of the efficient bulb:

Bulbs are made for sale throughout the country. They do not vary in design from one region to another. But electricity rates do. In Massachusetts the cost is 2.76 cents a kilowatt hour. In Tennessee it is .45 of a cent.

DECREASING RATE

Secondly, when you first turn on your lights the electricity you use costs more than it does five minutes later. Your bills are based on a formula that lowers your rate as you use more power — until a minimum rate is reached.

The manufacturers want to use the average price of this electricity. The House report contends a lower rate should be used.

* * *

Whether maximum efficiency has been reached, this is the rated life of most bulbs: 25 watts 1,100 hours, 40 to 60 watts 1,000 hours, and 75 to 100 watts 750 hours.

Why then do some lights blow out after only a few hours? Vibration in shipment is one answer. Defects in production another. Manufacturers concede that they can achieve only an average quality. Some bulbs will be bad ones.

DISBELIEF EXPRESSED

Manufacturers generally disbelieve the frequently heard complaint that bulbs burn out sooner than their rated life. They admit that bulbs might be changed more often. But they're used more often also, they say.

A General Electric spokesman reports that many people mail their defective bulbs to the company's lamp division in Cleveland, Ohio.

* * *

"If it is sent back to us and we find sloppy workmanship we send the customer a four-pack. Normally we refund the postage too," he said.

Chevrolet Executive to Retire

The Nov. 20 retirement of James C. Carney, director of production and material control for Chevrolet Motor Division, was announced today.

Carney, who lives at 5340 Franklin, Bloomfield Township, was honored recently by Chevrolet Central Office executives at a dinner at the Detroit Athletic Club.

CARNEY

This month Carney completes 48 years, 7 months of service with Chevrolet. He is the most senior salaried employe of the division from the standpoint of length of service.

Carney joined Chevrolet in 1918 as a bank messenger at the division's assembly plant in North Tarrytown, N.Y.

He became assistant material supervisor in 1934, material supervisor in 1940, manager of material and production control in 1945, and director of production and material control in 1962.

He has headed his department for the last 21 years, scheduling parts and components for Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a widow of 70. I have $100 a month Social Security, $1,600 annually from a trust fund; $100 per month from rentals; 200 shares of Crum & Foster and 200 American Motors purchased at 12½. I'm worried about American Motors. What changes should I make?" R.R.

A) Your overall situation is very sound, I am glad to say. Crum & Foster is an insurance management and holding company and a good stock in its field.

Your position here represents a current investment of nearly $10,000 and brings you an annual return of $400. I believe you can get better income than this without too much sacrifice of security. I advise you to switch half your Crum & Foster into equal dollar amounts of C.I.T. Financial, yielding six per cent; Norfolk & Western, selling on a 6.3 per cent basis; and Duquesne Light, yielding 5.2 per cent. American Motors has been operating at a deficit and pays no dividend. This stock is too speculative for you and I would switch it into fewer shares of Cluett, Peabody which offers a five per cent return.

Q) "We have $25,000 in savings accounts. We have accumulated 200 shares of American Electric Power. Would you advise holding that or maybe adding to it? How about Texaco or Corn Products for new investment?" M.C.

A) I like American Electric Power. It is a strong and growing public utility with a record of steadily increasing earnings and dividends in recent years. The shares yield 3¼ per cent and are a relatively stable and secure investment. I suggest yo[u] keep your present holdings b[ut] I would branch out a little fr[om] now on. Both of the other st[ocks] you mentioned — Texaco [and] Corn Products — are highly [sat]isfactory. I advise you to [buy] 100 shares of each — le[aving] most of your savings intac[t un]til the outlook is clearer.
