With State FHA Loans

Plans to Boost Industry

From Our News Wires

LANSING—Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today he will seek an industrial FHA program to insure loans for construction of manufacturing plants and industrial research projects in Michigan.

He said he would ask the Legislature to approve a resolution to put such a suggestion on the April 6 ballot to amend the constitution.

He said the program would cost the state little or no money. The state would guarantee repayment of the loan to the lender.

Williams said his tax program and the FHA program would give industrial development a boost.

The plan would permit the state to guarantee loans up to a total of 100 million dollars.

Williams said, "Loans would be made by lending institutions. If any state cash is involved at all, it will be an insignificant amount."

Loans guaranteed by the program could not exceed one million dollars on any single project and could not represent more than 90 per cent of the project's cost.

The governor noted that the tax program he presented last week provides a 30-million-dollar tax saving for industry starting in 1960. He said this plus the loan program "should encourage present industry to expand within the state and should attract outside industry to locate here."

Under the program, the state would make good any loans in case of default and then could foreclose. The property would then be operated under a receiver or could be sold to someone else.

City's Hospitals Kept Busy Due to Ice-Covered Walks

Pontiac hospitals had a busy time yesterday, treating at least 28 persons who suffered broken limbs or serious bruises in falls on the ice-slick sidewalks and streets.

Thirteen of the victims showed up at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, mostly in the morning during the early hours of the freeze.

Twelve others sought splints and bandages at Pontiac General Hospital emergency ward.

One of the these was City Attorney William A. Ewart, who took a topple in front of his home. Ewart was patched up with a splint protecting a simple fracture in his left arm in time for last night's meeting of the Pontiac City Commission.

Another four victims were treated at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The number of persons treated was about one-third that of New Year's day, which was the worst in recent years.

In the past two weeks, six mailmen have received disabling injuries in falls on slippery sidewalks.

"We wish all Pontiac householders would clean their sidewalks with salt or sand, if only for the sake of their mailmen," said Robert Featherstone, superintendent of mail delivery and collections.

Group Probes Jukebox Fixes

Rackets Committee to Check Charges Singers Forced on Public

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee, continuing its probe of the jukebox industry today, is looking into evidence that gangsters sometimes try to force certain singers on the public.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he expects, before he is through, to produce evidence hoodlums have moved in on jukebox record distributing firms with the idea of pushing these singers.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has predicted the inquiry will show a sinister combine of top underworld figures and corrupt labor union officials has tried to put the jukebox, pinball, and vending machine business in cities from New York to Denver under its iron rule.

Kennedy named among today's witnesses John Vitale of St. Louis; Raymond Patriarca of Providence, R. I.; Frank Zito of Springfield, Ill.; Mike Genovese of Gibsonia and Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Joe Salardino of Denver.

The hearing got under way Tuesday with a former official of the Wurlitzer Corp., big jukebox manufacturing firm, testifying that as its general sales manager in the 1940s, he had to make deals with gangsters in order to make sales.

County Dems to Meet Tomorrow in Pontiac

Oakland County Democrats will meet in Pontiac tomorrow night at the County Offices Building to hear Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state, as keynote speaker for their pre-biennial spring election convention.

★ ★ ★

Carlos G. Richardson, county chairman, said the State Central Committee had picked Lincoln's 150th anniversary for county delegations throughout the state to pick a record 1,605 delegates to attend the party's state convention in Grand Rapids, Feb. 20-21.

Democrats here Thursday night will choose 125 delegates, making the Oakland delegation second in voting strength at the Count yin voting strength at the state convention.

Statewide delegates in Grand Rapids will select party nominees for 14 state positions to be voted on April 6.

★ ★ ★

Richardson said he would oppose any move to show support for so-called Democratic candidates for the Oakland Circuit Court bench. Some criticism had been leveled at Republicans for having eight GOP-favored judicial candidates speak at their county convention Jan. 21.

May Hear Charges on Straley in 1 Week

The Herbert W. Straley hearing may begin in one week.

Promising speedy action, Civil Service commissioners indicated that at their next regular meeting on police affairs, they may begin airing of charges under which the Pontiac police chief was suspended yesterday.

Straley has until Sunday to answer the charges in writing and to demand a hearing, or else his suspension becomes permanent.

"Under one interpretation of the law, we could put off the hearing until 10 days after the chief has answered, but it's better to hold it as soon as possible," said Michael Guinan, a member of the three-man board.

Stuart Austin, chairman of the Commission, agreed. "It is also our intention to hold the hearing on consecutive nights, not adjourn it from week to week," he said. Commissioner Theodore Carlson has indicated he, too, favors quick action.

Commissioners decided to hold a hearing within 10 days of the date the charges were filed, which was Monday. This decision put the deadline at Feb. 19, but the Board was going to meet Feb. 18 anyway.

"Although the hearing promises to be lengthy, I'm sure we will be through by the April 6 election," said Austin. That's when voters will decide whether to repeal Civil Service for police and replace it with the old trial board.

Straley appeared confident but kept closed-mouthed yesterday as he left City Hall after turning his badge and police pistol over to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"If I want to make any statement, I'll let you know," he told newsmen before driving off with City Commissioner Robert A. Landry, a supporter of his.

There were no indications that Straley has changed his mind about fighting the charges.

"I have every confidence that Straley will return to office," Landry told fellow commissioners last night.

Landry fired another round at Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, who made the charges against Straley.

He called for abolishment of the safety director post as "un-

Report 21 Dead in Twister Wake

7 Missing, 70 Others Hospitalized and 1,400 Homeless in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The number of dead caused by the tornado which gouged across St. Louis Tuesday has reached 21. Another seven persons are missing, and at least 70 more are in hospitals.

Only one of those hospitalized was on the critical list.

Relief workers still are measuring dimensions of the misery inflicted by the twister. The Red Cross estimated 1,400 homeless in St. Louis and the county.

The Insurance Board of St. Louis said 4,000 buildings were damaged at a loss of 12 million dollars.

President Eisenhower declared the stricken city a disaster area, making it eligible for federal relief funds.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau failed to forecast this tornado. And a controversy arose over a delay in notifying Civil Defense officials after it hit.

The death-dealing twister struck at 2:12 a.m. (CST).

Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway, (Ret) director of Civil Defense here, said he was not notified until about 5 a.m. Hardaway, whose job is to co-ordinate work of researchers and other in a disaster, blamed the Weather Bureau.

The Weather Bureau denied it had such a responsibility.

"It actually developed in the St. Louis metropolitan area and was here and gone before anybody knew about it — except where the people were hurt," said George Brancato, in charge of the Weather Bureau.

Brancato noted the bureau did issue a severe weather warning at 8:40 p.m. But it never was able to forecast a possible tornado.

★ ★ ★

Hardaway maintained it was the duty of the Weather Bureau to notify the St. Louis fire alarm office in the vent of a tornado actually striking. The fire alarm office is supposed to notify him in turn, Hardaway said.

Brancato said he knew of no such arrangement. "I think our job is warning, not reporting," the weather man said.

★ ★ ★

Weather Bureau records show, Brancato said, that a notice was carried at 3:30 a.m. over its teletype circuit which goes to the fire alarm office and elsewhere that there was no further threat of tornadoes in the area.

The weather man conceded no mention of the actual tornado was carried on the teletype circuit.

Wow! Good Weather for at Least One Day

Pontiac area residents are promised good weather for tonight. The forecast calls for fair and cold with a low of 10 degrees. Tomorrow's prediction is increasing cloudiness and warmer with a high of 32.

The Friday outlook is cloudy with light snow.

According to the five-day forecast, temperatures will average about two degrees below the normal high of 33 and normal low of 19.

Thursday and Friday will be warmer, but it will be colder over the weekend. Precipitation will total about one-fourth of an inch of snow Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Sandusky River Forces 1,000 to Flee in Fremont

Hundreds Evacuated at Other Towns as Second Overflow in Month Hits

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — The ice-choked Sandusky River threatened this city and its 16,000 citizens to the north and south today.

It was the hardest hit of Ohio's northern cities in new floods that struck for the second time in less than a month.

Racing through the Fremont business section and a part of the residential area, the water reached a depth of a little more than 18 feet early today, then remained fairly steady.

That was a foot deeper than the crest of the flood which coursed through the city three weeks ago.

Fremont still is in a state of emergency from that disaster. There are business places advertising "flood sales" from the January destruction.

An estimated 1,000 Fremont residents were forced to evacuate their homes yesterday and early today. Another 200 to 500 evacuees still are homeless from the first flood. The river was out of its banks for three miles through the city.

★ ★ ★

A huge ice jam, piled up for weeks, clogs the Sandusky River to the north, where the water normally runs through marshy areas into Sandusky Bay on Lake Erie.

Upstream, to the south, there is another mass of ice, five feet thick in some places, behind the Ballville Dam.

An Ohio National Guard team made an unsuccessful effort last night to crack the ice to the north of Fremont. Their job is to cut a path to release the mounting waters, if possible.

But everyone in Fremont hoped the Ballville Dam would hold back the ice upstream.

If it should cut loose suddenly, it would sweep down on the Fremont business district and wreak havoc in an area already under nearly two feet of water.

CRESTS AT TIFFIN

The Sandusky River crested last night at Tiffin, upstream more than 20 miles. Then it rose again this morning. Usually the river reacts in the same fashion at Fremont, about 10 hours later.

★ ★ ★

Statewide, the situation seemed less critical than in the earlier flood.

At least three deaths—directly and indirectly—have resulted from the second disaster, but there were 15 deaths last month.

At Findlay, with a population of 24,000, the Blanchard River crested late Tuesday night at more than nine feet above flood stage, about a foot higher than the January mark.

Approximately one-fourth of the city was covered with water. Civil Defense officials said about 200 persons are known to have evacuated.

EMERGENCY AREAS

Findlay, Van Wert and the village of Ottawa, and Putnam County, in which Ottawa is situated, have been declared emergency areas.

Standards Weren't Enough for Robert Youngs—They Needed a Church!

By ROBERT YOUNG
Screen and TV Star

When our first daughter was born, 22 years ago, my wife, Betty, and I prided ourselves on being enlightened parents. We hoped for a large family, and had decided to be very modern, very intellectual with our children.

They were to have something we called "Christian Standards," by which I suppose we meant ethics. And to project the children in the right direction, we decided each would be christened in a non-sectarian church. But no church ties would be forced upon them. They were to be allowed to choose for themselves.

YOUNG

As a young married couple Betty and I attended church only at the fashionable times of the year, Christmas and Easter. When I thought about it at all, I felt no need for constant church affiliation.

★ ★ ★

But we did want our children to have those Christian Standards!

Thus, each of our four daughters in order of their appearance—Carol Ann, Barbara, Betty Lou, Kathy—was christened in a lovely ceremony right in our living room by the minister of the Beverly Hills Community Church.

IGNORANCE SHOWED

And right there my ignorance was showing. Had I entered the church proper, as I have since done, I would have observed on the bulletin board that the denomination was Presbyterian. But I didn't. Betty and I simply assumed that a Community Church was non-sectarian.

Once the girls were christened, we followed point two of our plan. Their mother and I tried to surround them with a closely knit, loving family atmosphere. We heard their prayers regularly, for we were praying people ourselves.

"You are," I told my daughters proudly, "free to choose your own religion." But I was as foolish as I was wrong. No real choice was being offered them, no habit of church going was being developed.

Fourteen years—14 long years—elapsed before any one of the children decided upon anything or even mentioned a specific church.

WANTED TO JOIN CHURCH

Then from boarding school, Carol Ann wrote us a letter. Would we mind, she inquired, if she joined the Episcopal Church?

"It isn't sudden," wrote Carol Ann. "I've always had a tremendous respect for our chaplain, and I must admit it was his faith that made him what he is. So I began studying the service, trying to understand the words and the symbolism, and now they have great meaning for me. I truly love the service, and it gives me something I need."

A few weeks later we attended her confirmation.

During that summer vacation, each Sunday while mother and father and all her younger sisters slept, our 15-year-old daughter rose quietly and went to All Saints Church in Beverly Hills.

Then, out of deference to Carol Ann, Betty and I began attending with her. The younger girls, still free to make their choice, now chose to get up and go to church school.

In one short summer we became a churchgoing family!

SEEMED IMPORTANT

At first I, personally, felt strange; I had not been to church in a long time. Carol Ann's return to school left us on our own, yet still we went. Why? Because it began to seem important, that's why.

Then one Sunday morning an adult confirmation class was announced.

As Betty and I attended the class we began to learn things, to feel a part of the group, and when the instruction period ended, we went right on into full church membership.

We had made our decision.

Our three remaining daughters were still offered their freedom of choice, but with this difference—our own choice had given them a real choice. Churchgoing had become a reality. It was a thing you did, not something you just talked or wondered about.

NOT FORCING SOMETHING

How can you teach a child the necessity to make a choice if you haven't found it necessary to make one yourself? Talk does not place values anywhere. If we wanted our children to place God in the center of their lives, to have lasting Christian standards, then worship was not a question of forcing something on them but of offering them an opportunity, and of availing ourselves of the same privilege.

Has being a churchgoing family made a difference in our lives?

We feel it has.

There has been no dramatic sinner-to-saint conversion. Fortunately we did not insist on miracles. But we have grown into a greater unity with one another and our fellow man, and there is a new steadiness and stability in our family life. It has been easier to discuss our problems in terms of our relationship to God.

BLESSINGS

It taking stock Betty and I have become more fully aware that our lives have been full of blessings and answered prayer. I think my reaction has been much like that of our youngest daughter, Kathy, who knelt to say her evening prayers with us shortly after her ninth birthday.

She asked blessings for everyone—her mother, myself, her sisters, the neighbors, her school teacher, the dogs.

Then she started on her request list. That was pretty long, too. It sounded like an enthusiastic letter to Santa Claus.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly there was a pause and then I heard Kathy say, in a small, meek voice: "And now, dear God, is there anything I can do for you?"

Trust Fund Bill Snarled

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' plan to mortgage the 50-million-dollar veterans trust fund lay snarled today in a web of political maneuvering.

★ ★ ★

The four-bill package escaped from the Ways and Means Committee yesterday. But it will take a coalition of Republican and Democratic votes to keep it alive and bring it to a passage roll call on the House floor.

The Ways and Means Committee, by a 9-to-4 vote, released the bills without recommendation. This means they will lie inactive until a majority of the House, evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats, calls them up for debate.

Gov. Williams expressed concern over the delay.

"I see it as a move to build voting records," said one GOP committee member who asked not to be identified. "Whoever votes to bring these bills off the table for debate will be crucified by veterans groups opposed to the trust fund plan."

Another veteran lawmaker considered it a move to "attach an indelible Democratic label" to the mortgage plan by forcing Democrats to call it up for a vote or let it die.

Democrats themselves are split on the proposition, but probably would be whipped into line when the chips are down. Chiefly, it calls for transferring securities in the fund to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University for use as collateral in borrowings.

Securities would be returned to the fund over a period of years, with the Legislature making annual appropriations for needy veterans the fund was set up for.

Meanwhile, Republicans and Democrats groped for a compromise on GOP efforts to put a four-cent sales tax question on the April 6 ballot as a constitutional amendment. With it would go one to remove doubts as to the Legislature's authority to enact a graduated income tax.

He'll Try Again for 'Shangri-La'

Legislator Roberts Is Seeking Home for Tiny Land Parcel in County

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts is making another try at giving Oakland County's "little Shangri-la on earth" a home.

Roberts said he was introducing a bill which would give the owner of an unattached, uninhabited 9.60-acre tract of land near Troy the right to petition for annexation.

Ever since Troy was incorporated in 1955 this parcel has been a part of any governmental area, thus making it free of local taxes and municipal services.

However, the owner of this left out property, Rodney M. Lockwood, of Detroit, has volunteered to pay Oakland County $3,093 in back taxes for 1957-58-59.

Robert's bill, which he said might be debated on the House floor either today or tomorrow, would allow Lockwood to petition either Troy, Birmingham or Royal Oak for annexation. All three areas surround the Lockwood property.

★ ★ ★

A majority vote of the commissioners or councilmen of the area chosen would approve the annexation, under provisions of Roberts' bill.

The West Bloomfield state representative said only one other such instance of a parcel being overlooked exists in the state. He said this is near Saginaw.

A similiar bill, also sponsored by Roberts, passed the House last year but was killed in the Senate.

He said he expects his 1959 version to once again get by the House, and "I think the Senate will report it out of committee favorably and pass it."

Purpose of the bill is to make sure every piece of property in the state is under some form of government, Roberts explained.

Potbellied Stove Poses Problem in Old Schools

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's campaign to eliminate fire hazards in public schools ran up against a problem today — the old potbellied stove in the one-room school.

The State Labor and Industry Department recently ordered school officials to be sure to comply with fire safety regulations by enclosing heating plants with fire resistant material.

Tuesday, the supervising principal of seven one-room schools in Lancaster County, each with a potbellied stove in the middle of the room, asked a question.

"How can you surround a potbellied stove with heat resistant material and still get the room heated?" C. H. Hartzeler wrote the department.

"I don't have the answer," replied William L. Batt Jr., secretary of the department.

Woman Posing as Williams' Wife Caught

CHICAGO (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation said a Chicago woman posing as the wife of Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan here yesterday got away with it temporarily.

The FBI said Elizabeth Nancy Stevens, 31, telephoned the Michigan National Bank at Lansing — identifying herself as Williams' wife, Nancy — and asked that $400 be wired to her in Chicago.

The bank complied, but sent the order in the governor's name.

Elizabeth picked it up and went to a department store to cash it, the FBI said. A cashier asked for identification, which she could not produce. The FBI was called.

They said the woman was charged with fraud by wire and would face a hearing today before a U.S. Commissioner here.

A number of Michigan banks have fallen for the woman's fraud by wire scheme, the FBI said. Many banks complied with her request without checking to determine if her story was true. She was arrested Jan. 30 on an identical charge and was out on bond, the government agency said.

Board Considers Trombly Appeal

Asks Judges Panel to Withdraw His Bid for Resignation

LANSING (UPI) — The State Judges Retirement Board was scheduled to meet today to consider the request of Macomb Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly that his bid for retirement be withdrawn.

★ ★ ★

The board was expected to approve the request but board secretary Lawrence Farrell said he wanted the members to have a "complete review" of the case.

Trombly, faced with demands for investigations of his court, asked last week for retirement and then yesterday withdrew the request.

"I will not embarrass the retiremnet commission to make my decisions for me," Trombly said in a telegram to Gov. G. Mennen Williams. "I am a judge, and I will make my own decisions."

Trombly asked for the retirement after the Macomb County Bar Assn. asked the State Bar of Michigan or the Michigan Probate Judges Assn. to investigate his capability to conduct his court.

Trombly, in his telegram to Williams, said everyone in Macomb County and the state knows his case "forward and backward."

"I have done nothing wrong," he said. "I am perfectly well in every way, but for my hearing.

"In my memory, I have never seen a worse thing done to an innocent man in the State of Michigan . . .

"The people of the State of Michigan will see to it that I will get justice. Of that I am sure."

Large Crowd Attends Realtors Banquet Here

The Pontiac Board of Realtors 43rd annual banquet was attended by a large crowd at the Elks Temple last night, despite the snow and ice which made driving extremely difficult.

Attended by some 350 realtors and guests from throughout the Pontiac area and other points in Michigan, the event was highlighted by an address by Dr. Charles E. Irvin, a sales expert associated with General Motors Corporation.

Dr. Irvin, who has taught at several midwestern colleges including Michigan State University, spoke to the assembled businessmen on what he termed "Hi-Fi Sellity."

"Two out of three salesmen across the country do not know how to meet and cope with difficult sales situations," he told his audience. His speech centered around the major points which he said a successful salesman must have the ability to learn and practice.

Irvin emphasized the concept of selling by asserting, "A salesman is the final step in production; a new Pontiac automobile at the factory is potential but the salesman makes it a product."

Toastmaster for the evening was Joseph Brady, vice president of Citizens Mutual Insurance Co. in Howell.

Alcuin G. Kampsen, 1958 president of the Board, officially turned over his office to newly elected president Cramer Partridge, and presented him with the key to the Board, symbolic of leadership.

Member of the Board of Directors, James Clarkson, executive vice president of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Company, in turn presented Kampsen with a plaque commemorating his successful term as president, plus a gift from the organization.

Invocation was offered by Rev. C. Warren Wilson, pastor of the Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church. Dinner music was provided by Jean Boroska at the organ.

necessary," but won support only from Commissioner Milton R. Henry in a 5 to 2 vote.

Last week, Landry called for Eastman's ouster, but won only Henry's vote then, too.

Another of Landry's moves against Eastman received a setback.

City Attorney William A. Ewart announced that in his opinion the public safety director was acting within the law when he stripped Straley of powers last Nov. 12, leaving him only his rank and pay.

Landry had implied he would seek charges against Eastman if there were a violation of the Civil Service Act in his handling of Straley.

Civil Service commissioners said they may ask the city to provide them with special legal counsel.

It appeared that Ewart, their regular legal advisor, would have the job of prosecuting charges against Straley.

"It's hard to see how Ewart could act in two conflicting capacities at the hearing," said Austin.

Sets Precedent in Declaring Divorce Void

A Detroit businessman living in Bloomfield Hills heard his Nevada divorce declared null and void in a prescendent-setting ruling in Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday.

Judge Horace W. Gilmore handed down the ruling on a decree obtained March 22, 1955, by Thomas P. Henry of 6545 Red Maple Rd. on grounds that the wealthy business executive had no intention of making Nevada his permanent home.

The ruling in a suit filed by Henry's first wife, Mrs. Serana A. Henry, is believed to be the first of its kind in Michigan.

The divorce was granted in Las Vegas, Nev., on grounds of mental cruelty. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled in the past that one state may deny jurisdiction to another as was done in the present case.

In filing the suit, Mrs. Henry indicated no dissatisfaction with the $500-a-month settlement decreed by the Nevada court. But she charged that Henry had sought to oust her from the plush Grosse Pointe Country Club, where she enjoys privileges as a member's wife. She and Henry were living in Grosse Pointe Farms before their divorce was granted.

Henry has remarried since and moved to Bloomfield Hills. Henry's attorney, James Hagerty, said Judge Gilmore's declaratory judgment would be appealed.

On His 150th Birth Date

America Lauds Lincoln

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Observances honoring Abraham Lincoln today were the order of the day on virtually every level of American civic life.

President Eisenhower planned to attend a memorial banquet tonight in Washington. The President has proclaimed this year as Lincoln Sesqui-centennial Year.

Other celebrations marking the 150th anniversary Thursday of the birth of the Civil War President were planned throughout the week from coast to coast.

The sesquicentennial events began early this year and are scheduled to continue into the summer.

9 Seek to Halt Dr. Street Ouster

Taxpayers Group Asks Injunction Against Dismissal Charges

A group of nine taxpayers yesterday filed a lawsuit seeking a permanent injunction against the Ferndale Board of Education's dismissal of Dr. Scott W. Street as principal of the Paul L. Best School.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland granted a temporary injunction until representatives of the Board appear before him next Monday to show cause why a permanent restraining order should not be granted.

"Dr. Street has committed no act or failed to perform any duties which would justify termination of his contract," which, the suit says, doesn't expire until June 30.

Filing the suit in Circuit Court were eight couples and a tool company, who claim they are property owners in the Ferndale School district.

They contend they will "be aggrieved and damaged" if Street's Feb. 2 demotion to teacher is carried out.

The plaintiffs claim they will be burdened with more taxes should the Board hire a new principal and reduce the salary of Street in his new capacity, thus making the Board liable for court action at the taxpayers expense by Street.

Further, they argue "whatever salary is paid Street in his new capacity will be a burden by reason of the fact that his services in another capacity are not needed nor required.

Another burden on them, the couples and company claim, would result if the Board did not reduce Street's salary and hired a successor, whereby the taxpayers would be paying for two principals.

Filing of the suit followed refusal last night of the board to reinstate Street.

A crowd of 900 persons attended a public meeting in which they cheered and jeered as they gave Street loud support.

The speaker is widely known for his humor, creativity and mental agility in the lecture field.

Tomorrow's meeting will be held at the Waldron Hotel at the regular time, 12:15 p.m.

New York Welcomes West Berlin Mayor

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin was treated to a ticker tape parade up lower Broadway yesterday. The weather was cool and rainy but the reception was warm.

Applause and shouts of "Bravo" resounded in the mayor's ears as he stood, clad in a raincoat but bareheaded, in an open car leading the parade. Brandt waved his hat in response to the greeting.

Ticker tape cascaded down from the skyscrapers of the Wall Street financial district and crowds thronged the sidewalks despite the weather.

The motorcade carried Brandt to a City Hall reception by Mayor Robert F. Wagner. Earlier he had a brief private talk with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Today in Washington, Mayor Brandt said President Eisenhower assured him "no Communist threat whatsoever" will force the United States out of that city.

The Social Democratic mayor issued a brief statement after spending nearly half an hour with Eisenhower.

County Health Department Plans Diabetic Class

A series of evening classes for persons who have diabetes and their families will begin Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Pontiac office of the Oakland County Department of Health, located in the City Hall, John D. Monroe, M.D., director, Oakland County Department of Health, announced today.

"The purpose of the classes is to help diabetics and their families to gain better understanding of diabetes," Dr. Monroe said. "It is important that the person who has diabetes cooperate with his physician and accept the responsibility for the prescribed treatment.

"In no other disease is the education of the patient a more important part of treatment than in diabetes," he added. "With proper care diabetics can expect to live as long as anyone else and as usefully and happily."

The five classes will be taught jointly by Miss Grace Purdy, public health nurse, and Miss Annabel Rickard, public health nutritionist of the Oakland County Department of Health.

Persons interested in getting more information about the course or taking it should call the Oakland County Health Department.

People attending the classes must have the written approval of their physicians.

At Warren, in northeast Ohio, some 200 persons were evacuated from the same area hit by the January flood of the Mahoning River.

A drowning was reported near Tiffin. Kenneth Wolcott, 21, a Heidelberg College senior, was missing and presumed drowned after his canoe capsized in the Sandusky River.

In Findlay, another death was attributed indirectly to the flood. G. Clyde Wolfe, 70, suffered a fatal heart attack while trying to bail out his basement.

Two More States Face Bad Floods

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sub-freezing temperatures appeared today to have stemmed the threat of new floods in northwestern Pennsylvania communities hit hard last month.

Most streams in the area held steady or crested below flood stage after rising swiftly Tuesday in the wake of heavy rains and spring-like temperatures.

Hart to Investigate Defense Job Delays

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) says he wants to find out if the defense department is holding back $1,000,000,000 in procurement funds which could "mean more jobs in many parts of the nation, including Michigan."

He made public a letter yesterday to Perkins McGuire, assistant secretary of defense for supply logistics, asking for an appointment to discuss this and other matters affecting Michigan employment.

Hart said the particular decisions he had in mind concerned the choosing between production of one of two intermediate range ballistic missiles and the recent report of the Army's plans to develop and order new tanks.

He also cited published reports last month that the defense department was withholding about $1,000,000,000 appropriated for defense procurement during the current fiscal year with intentions of spending it during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

400 Students Almost Had Night on Town

EDMORE (AP)—It looked like residents of this tiny Montcalm County community might have unexpected overnight guests until farmers and villagers rescued 400 snowbound students yesterday.

The students got to their classes at Edmore School before the snow got too deep. Classes were dismissed, however, when the snow started drifting and blocking roads.

School busses couldn't move. And 400 of the 700 elementary and high school students depend on the buses. The others live in the village.

Parents and villagers who heard of the students' plight cleared streets and roads, and hauled the children home on tractors, wagons and other modes of transportation.

"We were really worried for awhile," commented Mrs. Marie Hansen, the school secretary. But she said she felt the village (pop. 971) could have cared for the pupils.

1918 Sweater Helps Fulfill Dreams

By JOHN WALLACE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ibrahim Badra, lately of Amman in troubled Jordan, strode confidently down the gangplank of the liner Giulio Cesare Tuesday night with his wife and their three young children.

They brought with them bright hopes for a future of happiness in America — and they also brought a strange but heart-warming tale of an old, tattered sweater that made their dreams come true.

The sweater, knit 41 years ago by a 16-year-old American girl, was intended for an American doughboy in the World War I trenches of France.

It may have kept a doughboy warm. No one knows because there are missing chapters in the history of the sweater.

But it is known that the sweater was responsible for bringing Ibrahim Badra and his family to America.

And, said Mrs. Rose Badra, speaking in her native tongue:

"It is known all over the world that America is best for people and children."

The Badra family sponsors are Mrs. Marguerite Todd Beveridge, and her husband, the Rev. James Beveridge, pastor of the First Baptist church of Belmont, Mass.

It was Mrs. Beveridge, then a schoolgirl, who knitted the sweater in 1918.

Before giving it to the Red Cross for shipment, Mrs. Beveridge had sewn a tag to the sweater with her name and address in New Rochelle, N.Y.

During the war she waited hopefully, but in vain, to hear from an American soldier that the sweater had arrived.

★ ★ ★

Finally in 1954, Mrs. Beveridge received a letter which had been forwarded to her Belmont home from New Rochelle.

The letter, from an Arabian family, thanked her for the sweater. They had received it from an unnamed Protestant missionary. How the sweater came into the possession of the missionary and where it had been for so many years remains a mystery.

But in 1954 it was being worn by Tanas Badra, an Amman tailor. He, too, had dreams of coming to the United States with his wife and six children.

Mrs. Beveridge and her husband tried to help, but there were complications. And, finally, Tanas Badra was too old to make the voyage to America.

Tanas Badra, however, had a son and the son—who is Ibrahim Badra—also wrote to Mrs. Beveridge about his dream of coming to the United States.

This time, with the help of the World Council of Churches and the Church World Service, the Rev. Mr. Beveridge and his wife obtained permission for the family of Ibrahim.

Ibrahim and his family will go to Belmont with the Rev. and Mrs. Beveridge.

The sweater?

It finally became too tattered and torn to wear, Ibrahim said, and his father discarded it.

2 Women Guilty on Vice Charges

Former Teacher and Friend Await Feb. 25 Sentencing

NEW YORK (AP) — Former schoolteacher Virginia McManus and a madam friend have been convicted on vice charges after a trial in Women's Court.

Miss McManus, 25 and blonde, and Mrs. Beatrice Garfield, 29, are being held in the Women's House of Detention pending sentencing Feb. 25.

The two women were found guilty by Magistrate Hyman Bushel on charges stemming from their arrest in a police raid early last Friday on Mrs. Garfield's $350-a-month apartment. Police said the apartment was the center of operation of 15 to 20 call girls who grossed about $400 each a night.

Miss McManus and Mrs. Garfield were found guilty of loitering for the purposes of prostitution. Mrs. Garfield also was convicted of permitting her apartment to be used for prostitution. The maximum sentence on either conviction is three years.

★ ★ ★

Miss McManus was acquitted on prostitution charges last October, but Mrs. Garfield went to jail for 60 days as a madam. Bushel sat as magistrate in that case also.

Attorneys for the women said the new convictions would be appealed.

Charges against two other women arrested in the raid, Gayle Siney, 23, and Barbara Jackson, 26, were dismissed.

★ ★ ★

Miss McManus represented herself as an accredited schoolteacher and a graduate literature student after she came here from Chicago. She got a part-time teaching job at a Brooklyn high school at $4,400 a year. She lost the job after her first arrest last Oct. 2.

Urges Census Jobs Go to Those Over 40

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 160,000 workers will take the census for 1960. Rep. John J. McFall (D-Calif) thinks that's a good opportunity for people over 40 years of age. He has urged the Census Bureau to give special priority to them when hiring census takers.

Raul Castro Blasts at Foreign Investors

HAVANA (AP) — Foreign investors in Cuba got another going-over Tuesday night from leaders of Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces.

Fidel Castro's brother Raul told a labor mass meeting in Havana's Central Park that Cuba has come of age and is capable of solving her own problems.

★ ★ ★

"We must get rid of guardianship by foreign countries," he declared.

★ ★ ★

Castro told the crowd Cuban industry "has become exhausted due to foreign competition" for the "incredible concessions" he said had been given foreign interests by ex-President Fulgencio Batista.

The meeting drew an estimated 10,000 persons.

BOSTON (UPI) — Miss M. Blanche Wallace, who retired recently after 32 years as a nurse, assisted the late Dr. Frank H. Lahey, famed Boston surgeon, at 17,000 operations.

Sculptress Favors Female Faces

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I recently had the exhilarating experience of meeting the youthful but famous sculptress, Flore de Henriquez. I never have known anybody who is so COMPLETELY alive. Her warmth and enthusiasm are flamboyant and her deep contagious laughter practically shakes the walls. Her features are classically beautiful but one does not notice this for a long time because of the impact of her personality.

Flore says, "Early in life I fell in love with clay." It also is apparent that she is desperately in love with life and with people. She had her first exhibition at the Galleria Rizzi in Florence, Italy. There were 70 pieces and she sold them all. Since then exhibitions of her work have been held in many places, among them, Rome, Milan, Venice, Naples and London. Recently she had a showing in New York City at Rockefeller Plaza.

It seems amazing that this young woman has modeled some 3,000 people in the past eight years. Many famous people have sat for Flore de Henriquez, a few of them being Noel Coward, Igor Stravinsky, Peter Ustinov, Vivien Leigh, Sir Laurence Olivier, and Princess Marie Louise.

She recently has returned from her first lecture trip and now is greatly in demand. She talks informally but entertainingly while she works on stage. She does a head in 20 minutes and has rare talent in catching the personality of the model.

Many artists dislike women as subjects because they are apt to want to look much younger and prettier than they are. However, Flore said, "I would much rather do women than men because a woman has creation in her. She has the heart of creation in her. A man just has a face — unless he is a great man." Sheal so said that every face has good points and that she sees no reason to emphasize the bad ones.

LIKES IRREGULAR FACE

Flore finds a face which has some irregularity most interesting and likes best to work with children or mature women because the faces of children are pure and unwritten on, while the mature woman has something in her face worth reproducing.

Flore told me of an experience she had when on a lecture trip. She did a head of one of the local women. The woman did not want to be the subject because she had a receding chin. She always had hated this and was self-conscious about it. Flore said to me, "This woman had a lot of beautiful things in her face. For instance, she had a lovely expression and eyes full of soul."

After the woman saw her completed portrait in clay she thanked Miss Henriquez from the bottom of her heart. Before that she only had seen her receding chin. Now she no longer feels homely because she sees herself more objectively through the artist's eyes.

We might all remember this. It is a shame to allow some physical defect to make us self-conscious! Anyway we exaggerate our defects and are much more conscious of them than others are. Perhaps your little turned up nose or your crooked smile are charming to others!

Also, changes which come with the years can add to fascination and charm if we live with warmth and perception.

Chopped Raw Vegetabl Delicious in Lemon Jelly

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Salads are apt to get rather monotonous at this time of year. We have a suggestion for one that will perk up any meal. Mrs. C. E. Haynes shares her recipe for Jellied Coleslaw with us.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Haynes works in her church and in the PTA. She spends a great deal of time sewing, both for herself and for her children.

JELLIED COLESLAW
By Mrs. C. E. Haynes

1 package lemon gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon celery seed
2 cups chopped cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
Dash of seasoning salt

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and celery seed to cold water, mix well and add to gelatin. Let cool to syrupy stage.

Beat until thick and fluffy. Fold in rest of ingredients. Mix well. Pour into greased mold (ever use mayonnaise for greasing salad molds?) Chill until set. Serves 8.

Salads are apt to get rather monotonous at this time of year. We have a suggestion for one that will perk up any meal. Mrs. C. E. Haynes shares her recipe for Jellied Coleslaw with us.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Haynes works in her church and in the PTA. She spends a great deal of time sewing, both for herself and for her children.

JELLIED COLESLAW
By Mrs. C. E. Haynes

1 package lemon gelatin
1 cup hot water
⅛ cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
½ teaspoon celery seed
2 cups chopped cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
Dash of seasoning salt

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and celery seed to cold water, mix well and add to gelatin. Let cool to syrupy stage.

Beat until thick and fluffy. Fold in rest of ingredients. Mix well. Pour into greased mold (ever use mayonnaise for greasing salad molds?) Chill until set. Serves 8.

Manager of Hillcrest Golf and Country Club near Mt. Clemens, he is a well known golfer with many trophies to his credit.

He lives at Walton boulevard with his wife and two children.

Mr. Richardson will receive all proceeds from the dance.

Tickets may be obtained from local merchants. For further information contact Burnell McAllister, member of the steering committee. Mrs. Ralph Bump is chairman.

Retired Workers Get Big Payoff

Profit Fund at Sears Giving Investors Huge Returns

CHICAGO (AP)—A profit-sharing fund started by the nation's biggest merchandizing firm 43 years ago is paying big dividends to retiring workers.

The firm is Sears, Roebuck and Co.

James M. Barker, chairman of the board of trustees of Sears profit sharing fund, said today a study of the fund's operations showed these returns to workers who participated in the program and retired during 1958:

Employes who retired after more than 40 years' service who had contributed $6,321 to the fund, withdrew an average of $154,767.

The average withdrawal of workers with 35 to 40 years of service was $123,054 for a $6,092 investment; $93,019 for 30-35 year workers who invested $5,791; $67,089 for 25-30 year workers with a total investment of $4,899; $36,695 for workers who contributed $3,593 during 20 to 25 years employment.

Employe members of the fund contribute a straight five per cent of their wages and salaries up to a maximum of $500 a year. The company contributes up to 10 per cent of its net income before taxes.

★ ★ ★

Damages to the building and contents were estimated at $1,200 while firemen listed damage to the car at $2,500. The fire was reported at about 5 p.m.

U.S. Widens Lead in World Bridge Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Two impressive victories in fourth-day matches gave the United States commanding leads over Italy and Argentina for the 1959 world contract bridge championship.

The American team gained 21 international match points on the Italians last night in a 33-12 win and then crushed Argentina's South American champions, 50-19.

The Americans now lead Italy, defending world titleholder, 103-81, and Argentina, 125-70.

Italy stretched its runner-up margin over Argentina to 112-74 with a 29-26 victory.

The United States is represented by Sam Fry Jr., Harry Fishbein, LeonardHarmon and Lee Hazen, of New York; Sidney Lazard of New Orleans and Ivar Stakgold of Washington. Charles Solomon of Philadelphia is the nonplaying captain.

Add Nonstop Flights

DETROIT (AP)—Non-stop flights between Detroit and two East Coast cities, Boston and Newark, have been announced by American Airlines. The flights are in addition to non-stop jet-powered Electra flights which will go into effect between Detroit and New York later this month.

Trenton, New Jersey was first named The Falls. In 1719 it was renamed Trenton in honor of William Trent, speaker of the House of Assembly.

Turnover Active in Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead vigorously then lost some of its steam in early trading today. Turnover was active.

Gains of fractions to a point prevailed among most key stocks. An increasing number of losers appeared following the initial advance.

Some blue chips made substantial gains. Eastman Kodak added about 3 and American Telephone around 2.

Two active gainers at the opening, Lukens Steel and General Tire, softened and showed losses. Lukens was off about 2 and General Tire around a point.

Northrop was up about a point on published news of a $22,000,000 contract for the Hawk missile. A rocket contract found North American Aviation fractionally higher. Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line was off about 2 on an unfavorable Federal Power Commission ruling on natural gas refunds.

Motors were fractionally higher except for General Motors which was easy. Rails were irregularly on the upside. Chemicals were mostly ahead of the game.

Gains of about a point were posted for Allied Chemical, Republic Steel, Raytheon, DuPont and Haveg.

California Takes Pictures of Drivers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The state of California is photographing auto drivers.

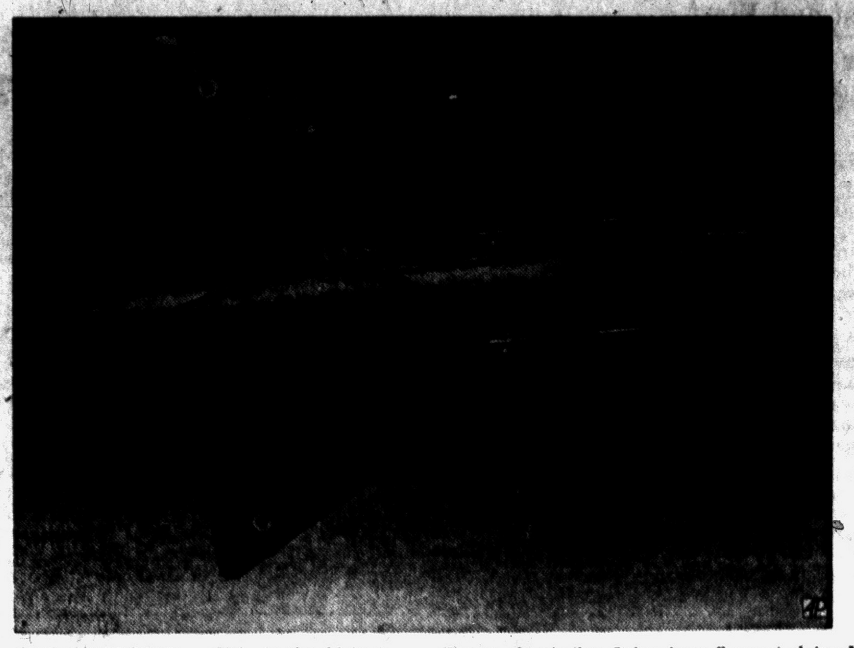

The Department of Motor Vehicles has acquired 200 special cameras to make tiny "mug" shots of applicants for driver's licenses and renewals. All drivers are expected to have photo-licenses in five years.

Officials said the new system will serve to discourage counterfeiting or faking of driver's licenses, which have become a widely accepted means of identification.

Pontiac City Affairs

Slate Meeting on Hospital Financing

City and Pontiac General Hospital officials will meet Feb. 19 on the subject of financing completion of the hospital expansion program.

Major item up for discussion is a proposal that the hospital reimburse the city for the cost of extra repairs in the hospital's east wing, estimated at $300,000 to $350,000.

City commissioners, who scheduled the joint meeting last night, want the hospital to pay the costs as depreciation on the original hospital building.

The hospital Board of Trustees has not discussed the proposal yet, but in the past has shied away from contributing to construction funds.

Harold B. Euler has said that a long-term agreement "is worthy of consideration." But he has stipulated the hospital should build up cash reserves to cover operating costs before attempting to fund depreciation.

★ ★ ★

Still a question mark is whether the Detroit Area Hospital Council will approve a $350,000 grant for hospital construction.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Walter K. Willman said that agreements, under which local contractors will undertake the repairs and remaining construction, are still in the preparatory stage.

The Commission last night accepted high bids for two homes and a garage it purchased south of the hospital on land designated for a parking lot.

A one-story frame home at 39 Seminole Ave., was sold for $1,505 to Mrs. Mildred Eggert of 2521 Premont St., Waterford Township, and a two-story frame home at 67 Seminole was sold for $1,562 to James D. Dodd, 115 Seminole.

The garage at 52 S. Johnson Ave. was sold for $76 to James Chaffee, 4133 Somset Rd.

The buildings will be moved away from the area in order to clear the land for the parking lot, scheduled for completion July 1.

The city has still to purchase one remaining home and sell one other which was advertised for bids Feb. 23.

Commissioners officially placed on the April 6 ballot a proposition to repeal the 1934 beer and wine ordinance, which sets 2 p.m. as the Sunday opening time for Pontiac taverns. The Oakland County Table Toppers Assn. had petitioned for the vote.

Pontiac Lake PTA to Meet on Bond Issue

The Waterford Township school bond issue and a Founders' Day program will share the spotlight at Pontiac Lake PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the multi-purpose room of the school.

James Don Herder, assistant to the superintendent of Waterford Township schools, will speak to the group about the upcoming special school election March 3. He will explain the two propositions to appear on the ballot.

A Waterford Township music teachers' quartet will sing several selections, followed by the Founders' Day program.

Under the direction of Mrs. Murlin Vaughn, the program is aimed at acquainting new PTA members with the history and past accomplishments of the Pontiac Lake PTA, Mrs. Richard F. Mongan, PTA program chairman said today.

Past presidents of the PTA will be honored and reports from the historian as well as the fund-raising and health chairmen will be included in the program. A candlelight ceremony will conclude the program.

Refreshments will be served by third grade room mothers.

Still Alaska-Bound Despite Resignation

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Fifty-Niners say they intend to leave for Alaska next month despite the resignation of their advance scout.

The scout, Don Locke, quit yesterday after a dispute about his work as an advance scout. Locke also was secretary of the group.

Ronald Jacobowitz, group president, said Locke tried to take over the whole idea and "kill it with commercialism." But Locke said he merely tried to organize the Fifty-Niners as a business group.

Jacobowitz said they will leave for the new state the first week of March.

Extend Registration for U. of M. Courses

Due to the bad driving conditions, registration for courses offered this semester by the University of Michigan Extension Service at Pontiac Northern High School was called off yesterday.

Peter Evarts, PNH English instructor and class secretary for the university, reports registration will now be extended through Tuesday.

'Twas a Bad Day for California Bank Bandits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two would-be bandits did everything wrong in an attempt to rob a loan office here.

Armed with toy pistols, the pair ordered loan appraiser Ben Elliott to lie on the floor — next to a holdup alarm. Elliott sounded the alarm.

As they left, one of the bandits dropped the $581 loot and had to pick it up. He also tripped his companion, breaking the latter's glasses, and overlooked $2,900 lying on a counter.

As they fled in a stolen auto, they crashed into three cars, and came to a halt when they struck a fourth while headed the wrong way on a one-way stret.

The men, William O'Malley, 48, and Albert Prowse, 31, tried to run in opposite directions but were collared by four policemen.

'Unwarranted' Wage Requests Hit

Tells Business to Resist

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss today urged businessmen to resist "unwarranted wage demands" and join in a united conservative bloc to hold down government spending.

In his first major address since joining the Cabinet last November, Strauss appealed for personal action by business leaders to "help defend our economy."

He discounted contentions that the Soviet Union's rate of progress exceeds this country's. Their actual output in some fields is so low, he said in effect, that any substantial increase shows a high percentage rate.

★ ★ ★

He asked businessmen to shun all federal spending proposals not included in the administration's budget, "even if your industry or locality is an intended beneficiary."

In his speech, prepared for the Chicago Assn. of Commerce and Industry, he said: "Resist the temptation to split the ranks of conservatives because your own idea of priorities for spending may differ."

Man Found in Ditch Died of Bruises

EDISON, N. J. (AP)—An autopsy shows shock resulting from multiple bruises caused the death of a 22-year-old Navy medical student whose body was found in a ditch near the Pennsylvania Railroad station Monday.

The body of the victim, Malcolm D. Foster of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., a student at the Naval Medical School, Bethesda, Md., was noticed in a ditch 25 feet from the tracks by a passenger on a passing train. Dr. Wilentz said the man had been dead "at least a couple of days."

The man's clothing contained a round-trip ticket dated Feb. 6 between Washington, D. C., and New York. Police say they believe the man fell or jumped from a Pennsylvania train.

Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Foster of Grosse Pointe Farms, said their son had planned to spend a few days in New York.

Begin Work on Revising Taft-Hartley Labor Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of 12 labor law experts today sets out at the Capitol to work on recommendations for revision of the Taft-Hartley law.

The panel has three members representing management, three labor, and six the general public.

The panel was the idea of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chairman of the Senate Labor subcommittee.

Both Release Recent Figures as Proof

Ford, Chevrolet Claim '59 Sales Lead

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's largest volume producers are staging an interesting competitive battle in an expanding car market.

Chevrolet and Ford division, sometimes called the bread and butter units of their respective parent companies, normally account for about 50 per cent of all cars made and sold in the United States. Their fight for industry leadership has been a traditional affair with Chevrolet having much the better of it during the last quarter century.

Last week both claimed leadership in the sales battle. Ford said that so far in the 1959 model year it led the industry in new car sales. Chevrolet said it had a substantial lead over all its opposition at the end of January.

Ford said its dealers had sold 400,000 new cars since the 1959 models were introduced last October. Chevrolet reported January retail deliveries of more than 117,000 cars.

Generally companies with the hottest competitive battles under way are reluctant to disclose actual retail deliveries. Usually they limit their sales reports to percentage of increase over the comparable period a year earlier.

★ ★ ★

Each car maker, of course, knows exactly how many new cars his company delivered at retail last year. But few have announced these figures. New car registrations throughout the country for 1958 still lack reports from about half the states for December.

The most recent tabulation, with only partial figures for December, credited Chevrolet with 1,145,000 retail deliveries and Ford division 947,900.

Ford has been reporting increasing demand for its vehicles. Unlike Chevrolet it got off to an uninterrupted start on 1959 model production on Oct. 17. Chevrolet was in the midst of a three-week strike shutdown when it introduced its new models on Oct. 16.

It apparently has regained much of the volume it lost in the strike. Certainly its output is running ahead of its nearest competitor.

The strike last October closed all General Motors assembly plants for approximately three weeks. It cost Chevrolet something more than 100,000 units in assembly volume.

Figures supplied by the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. show Chevrolet built 1,255,943 cars last year and Ford division 1,038,560. So far this year Chevrolet has made approximately 200,000 and Ford division 170,000.

★ ★ ★

Between the two giants of the industry that difference is relatively small—about a week's output for either company. Exactly what the difference is in total retail deliveries for the calendar year to date has not been disclosed by Chevrolet or Ford.

Even the registration figures do not exactly reflect retail deliveries. But they are the most authoritative figures available. While some of a current month's sales are not registered until early the following month, the carryover from the preceding month often balances out the total.

The Duke and Duchess Cheer French Singer

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'm always glad to knife "raw-alty" but the Duchess of Windsor's lusty rooting for French singer Vicky Autier cheers me about womankind. The Duchess discovered Vicky when she was a Paris pianist, insisted she sing, too—helped her get gowns for her chic opening . . . then brought a small party of 12.

WILSON

Happy about Vicky's success, she danced wildly with the Duke, later explaining to the B.W. and me, "He thinks I can't follow him." Quoth the Duke: "Every step I was trying to trick her." (They skip the cha-cha-cha; too "double-timey".) They're passing up Palm Beach this winter for Arizona. Western fans, don'cha know?

Saluting Gwen Verdon after her triumph in "Redhead" were redbeads Lucille Ball, Tina Louise and Cara Williams — also Joe Cotten, who announced, "The longest consecutive line of hideous architecture in the world is in Miami Beach, but Park avenue, in creating Monotony Row, is running a close second." He said he used to be a Florida ad salesman (for the Miami Herald) and that they love him in Miami.

GWEN

Zsa Zsa Gabor will break her engagement with Hal Hayes—she's just waiting till she can get the most publicity. "I'm definitely not marrying him, dolling," she's telling friends at Lake Tahoe, where she's appearing. She'll return the football stadium-shaped diamond ring which not only covers her knuckle but part of her hand.

However, she wore it on skis at Squaw Valley and also for walking her dog, a poodle which she calls "Harvey Hilton." Zsa Zsa's two reasons for breaking up with Hayes are: He's too busy and she's still in love with George Sanders, dolling!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Darryl Zanuck's doll, Juliette Greco, is dating a London journalist . . . Flash! Marilyn Monroe was early for her "Some Like It Hot" preview. ("I hate to be late for a picture—particularly my own.") Myrna Loy, arriving with Montgomery Clift, ducked camermen . . . George Raft flew to Havana about opening up his shuttered casino. . . . Russians and Greeks are discussing a huge film epic based on Homer's "Iliad," to be shot in Greece.

Hagerty Denies Dulles Through

Scoffs at Reports Ike Giving Serious Thought to Cabinet Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — "That's cockeyed."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave that reply Tuesday night when asked about reports President Eisenhower is concerned over the possibility that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may not be able to resume his duties.

The reports came from Republican congressional sources after Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital for a hernia operation and treatment of a recurring intestinal inflammation.

Hagerty also scoffed at other reports that Eisenhower is giving serious consideration to a possible successor to Dulles.

Along the same line, an influential GOP official came away from the White House with a report he was convinced that every member of the President's official family expects Dulles to recover rather swiftly.

At Walter Reed, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the surgeon who will operate on Dulles, said the hernia operation will be a simple one. He predicted the 70-year-old Cabinet member will be on his feet a short time later.

Despite official denials, however, speculation was reported running through administration circles as to a possible successor if Dulles is unable to return.

The most frequently mentioned name was said to be that of John J. McCloy, New York banker and former U.S. high commissioner to Germany.

Also among those being considered are Under Secretary of State Christian Herter, who will fill in for Dulles, and Under Secretary C. Douglas Dillion.

State to Hold Hearing on U.S. 23 Relocation

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department has announced it will hold a public hearing at Milan Feb. 17 (American Legion Hall, 1:30 p.m.) on the proposed relocation of U.S. 23 from Dundee to Milan in Muskegon County.

The 8.7 mile stretch of highway, of controlled access design, will cost $4,200,000. It will be a link in the 330-mile expressway from the Ohio border north to Mackinaw City and Sault Ste. Marie.

Aim $8 Million at State Bases

It's Part of $1.3 Billion Asked in Congress for Military Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military bases in Michigan would get more than $8,000,000 of the $1,356,290,000 which the Defense Department yesterday asked Congress to authorize for military construction.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass) said the department proposal also asks authorization for construction of 21,701 units of family housing for military personnel and dependents at bases in the United States and overseas. The proposal was sent to Lane and other members of Congress.

The new construction projects which would be authorized include 328 installations in 49 states and the District of Columbia. The proposal also includes projects in several foreign countries.

Here is where Michigan's share of the money would go:

K. I. Sawyer Municipal Airport at Marquette—$2,814,000 for training, maintenance, supply, administration and community facilities, and troop housing and utilities.

★ ★ ★

Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda—$2,800,000 for operational, maintenance and supply facilities, and utilities.

Kinross Air Force Base at Sault Ste. Marie—$1,755,000 for training, maintenance and supply facilities, and troop housing.

Selfridge Air Force Base at Mount Clemens—$925,000 for maintenance facilities and utilities.

Debbie's Divorce Suit Postponed 2 Days

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Trial of actress Debbie Reynolds' divorce suit against singer Eddie Fisher has been postponed two days to Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

Attorney Frank B. Belcher, representing Miss Reynolds, asked the delay because of a conflict in his work schedule.

Miss Reynolds charges Fisher with cruelty. In interviews she has blamed actress Elizabeth Taylor for the breakup of her marriage.

★ ★ ★

A financial settlement agreed on two weeks ago has not been signed. Belcher said further postponement of the case may become necessary if the pact is not executed soon.

Miss Alberghetti to Wed Musician Buddy Bregman

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti and composer-conductor Louis (Buddy) Bregman will be married April 5 in St. Ambrose Catholic church.

It will be the first marriage for the Rome-born Miss Alberghetti, the second for Bregman. He is divorced from Gloria Haley, daughter of comedian Jack Haley.

Miss Alberghetti said she received permission to wed Bregman because the Catholic church does not recognize his civil marriage.

Bregman, who is Jewish, said he does not intend to embrace Catholicism, but that any children of their marriage will be reared as Catholics.

Bregman is 28, Miss Alberghetti 22.

George Sanders, Benita Colman Wed

MADRID (AP) — Movie Actor George Sanders and Benita Hume Colman, widow of actor Ronald Colman, were married at the British consulate yesterday.

Colman died last May. Sanders announced his engagement to the widow last September. Sanders is playing a supporting role in the movie Solomon and Sheba being made here.

Miss Hume, a former actress, has a daughter, Juliet, from her previous marriage. The girl is in school in Switzerland.

Sanders had become a naturalized citizen a number of years ago but gave up his U.S. citizenship in December in order to have the same nationality as Miss Hume, a Briton.

The couple kept their wedding plans a tight secret and showed up at the consulate suddenly at 3 p.m. for the short civil ceremony. Only witnesses from the embassy staff were present.

GOP Theme: Like Lincoln—Victory in '60

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans, hoping to borrow a page from their party's first president, announced this theme today for this year's Abraham Lincoln anniversary dinners:

"Emulate Lincoln's example of turning a '58 defeat into a '60 victory."

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn announced the theme in reporting that GOP speakers have been booked for more than 150 Lincoln sesquicentennial dinners this month in 29 states.

Gives Reason Missile Absent

Defense Budget Skips Nike-Zeus Because of Its Early Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Department of Defense spokesman says the budget asks no money for production of the Nike-Zeus missile because it is not far enough advanced.

The Nike-Zeus has been designed as a major defense against enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

W. J. McNeil, assistant secretary of defense, estimated the status of the Nike-Zeus Tuesday while replying to criticism by two Army generals.

Maj. Gen. William W. Dick Jr., special weapons chief, and Maj. Gen. Dwight E. Beach, air defense director, had told the House Space Committee Monday that the missile was far enough advanced to permit a start on production of some of its parts.

★ ★ ★

They said their recommendations included 30 million dollars for production this fiscal year and 700 million dollars next fiscal year. The budget does not include any money for production.

McNeil, however, told the Senate-House Economic Committee that the budget does contain money to develop the missile.

★ ★ ★

"Every possible cent is being spent to perfect it," said McNeil, considered the Pentagon's top financial expert.

"But we have not put in money for bases or production lines because the missile is not ready."

Turkey, Greece Agree

OK Cyprus Constitution

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Turkey today announced agreement with Greece on a proposed constitution for an independent Cyprus.

A Turkish spokesman said Prime Ministers Constantine Karamanlis of Greece and Adnan Menderes of Turkey speedily reached final agreement this morning on the draft prepared by their foreign ministers during five days of hard bargaining here in Zurich.

★ ★ ★

An end at last appeared in sight to the long and bitter dispute over the British island colony in the east Mediterranean off the south coast of Turkey.

The draft constitution will go now to London. There a Foreign Office spokesman said the British government wholeheartedly welcomed the news of the agreement.

British officials would not comment further until they had studied the constitution in detail. But London's approval was considered certain since the Greeks and the Turks had agreed, and since the constitution guarantees Britain a base on the island.

★ ★ ★

News of the agreement also heartened all other members of the North Atlantic Alliance. Greece and Turkey form NATO's eastern anchor, and the Cyprus fight had halted cooperation between them for several years.

Britain has ruled Cyprus since 1879, and the island now is the major British base in the east Mediterranean. Of its 500,000 people, 400,000 are of Greek descent and 100,000 of Turkish origin.

★ ★ ★

For four years British troops have been fighting a guerrilla rebellion by EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground which originally demanded that Cyprus unite with Greece. The Turkish minority demanded continuance of British rule or partition of the island between its two communities. Independence guaranteed by the troops of all three nations, with special rights for the Turkish minority, is the solution that has been worked out.

★ ★ ★

The leader of the Greek Cypriots, Orthodox Archbishop Makarios, also expressed satisfaction in Athens over the reported agreement. But he said he would make no specific comment on the settlement until he had further information on the provisions for the stationing of Turkish troops on Cyprus.

To Fight Absorption of Alcoholism Board

LANSING (AP) — A fight against what he termed "reorganization without investigation" has been promised by Harlan J. Helland, chairman of the State Board of Alcoholism.

The board would be consolidated with the State Health Department under a reorganization proposal to be submitted to the Legislature by Gov. Williams.

"The governor's advisors have decided it is better to have top decisions on alcoholism made by one man who has many responsibilities, instead of having top decisions made by five people who have made it their business to become informed and whose total interest is alcoholism," Helland said.

He added that the board had stimulated statewide interest in the problem and that the "Michigan plan" has been nationally recognized.

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV's Bell Telephone Hour offered a half-hour special over a full hour last night.

There was nothing very special about the first half of the show at all.

But magically, at the half-way mark the show began to flick off sparks. Ella Fitzgerald, working in tandem with Duke Ellington, appeared and after a slightly sputterish start really began gunning on "Do Nothing Till You Hear From Me."

It was a stunner—packed with feeling and flow—and when Miss Fitz counterpunched with a luminous "I'm Beginning to See the Light," the Bell hour had a small, compact spectacular on its hands right there.

★ ★ ★

One further note about the show's production: It was clean and stylish and happily unencumbered with narration. John Hoppe's fanciful mobiles tied the segments together—as they did in the first Bell show—and tasty additions they were.

SHORT SHOTS: Bob Hope's NBC-TV special last night was not a very robust entry, but his spoof of beatniks—now, incidentally, referred to contemptuously by the hip set as "Diddly Boppers"—did contain several squirts of fun. The skit benefited considerably by the presence of Carol Haney, a comic swiveler of much luxe.

25 Are Injured as Speedy Train Derails in East

Washington-New York Flier Leaves Tracks Near Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Washington - to - New York Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train, traveling an estimated 70 to 80 miles an hour, derailed about 10 miles east of Baltimore today. A score or more persons were taken to hospitals, but none was reported killed.

Six of the 25 or so taken to Johns Hopkins and city hospitals were reported seriously injured. Two heart attack cases also were hospitalized.

A Baltimore County policeman said the rails apparently spread, dropping the speeding train, the Potomac, onto the ties.

The engine and the first seven cars rumbled and rolled up the track between the rails for several hundred yards. The last three cars broke off and stopped. None of the cars overturned.

Ties and rock ballast were tossed high in the air and scattered down the right-of-way, blocking three of the four tracks.

The Potomac's passengers, except those taken to Baltimore hospitals, were transferred to the Atlantic Coast Line's Florida Special at the scene and started on to New York. The train left the wreck area at 10:06 a.m.

The engineer, T. L. Winsey of Essex, Md. ,who lives quite close to the scene of the accident, estimated the train's speed at about 80 miles an hour.

He wouldn't comment on what caused the wreck.

"But it was a pretty rough ride," he added.

★ ★ ★

One passenger, Henry G. Gardiner of Philadelphia, said he was in the car next to the dining car.

He said an atendant, the only other person in the car, yelled: "Hold your seat, something's going to happen."

"The car started rocking and swaying and bumping," Gardiner said. "Then stuff began flying out of the pantry of the dining car ahead, going all over the place."

He was tossed to the floor of the car but said he suffered only a very minor leg bruise.

County police estimated that 300 passengers were on the train, which left Washington at 7 a.m. and Baltimore at 7:43 a.m. Its next scheduled stop was at Wilmington, Del.

Wreckage from the derailment was scattered up the track for about a mile.

Little Salt Left for Next Storm

Because of a serious shortage of salt, Pontiac and Oakland County traffic could be crippled if another ice storm suddenly strikes, authorities agreed today.

Pontiac, which likes to keep 400-600 tons of salt on hand, had less than 50 tons left this morning.

The city needs about 10 times that amount to clear roads after a heavy storm like Monday's, said Joseph B. Jewell, Department of Public Works superintendent.

The county situation appeared even more serious. Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, described it as "critical."

★ ★ ★

Normally, the county has 1,500-2,000 tons of salt stockpiled. There are only 50 tons left, Van Roekel reported this morning.

Continuous bad weather since Jan. 1 accounts for the depletion of stocks, the road officials said.

A shortage of new supplies is slowing stock replenishment to a snail's pace, they warned.

★ ★ ★

The shortage developed because of a run on the salt produced by the Southeastern Michigan area's two salt mines, in Detroit and Windsor.

So much salt has been expended in the metropolitan area this year that nearly every community is feeling the pinch.

The mines together produce only about 8,000 tons of salt daily, Jewell estimated.

Community trucks have to stand in line at the mines for hours, each waiting for a couple loads of salt, he reported.

Pontiac expects to get five truck loads by Saturday, or about 175 tons, bringing its total supply on hand up to around 250 tons for the weekend.

With only that much salt on hand, trunklines and main arteries could only be partially cleared if a serious weekend storm strikes.

★ ★ ★

The county expects three or four truckloads today, Van Roekel said.

For the past three weeks, he said, the county has been working with limited supplies of salt, which have run completely out at times.

"Our stockpiles are gone and we are entirely dependent on our daily supplies," he said.

The county has turned to using large quantities of sand, he said, which is inferior to salt because it does not melt ice but only

Weather Boosts Area Chuckholes

County Engineer Says Cold, Water Produce Roadbed Damage

Pontiac area motorists have added chuckhole dodging to their winter driving abilities, and the penalty for failure to develop the skill is often a spine-tingling or spring-busting jar.

"Please," pleads Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, "don't call us and complain about the hole.

"We usually know about it and others like it," said Van Roekel, "and are doing everything possible to get rid of them. But the weather's not cooperating."

Van Roekel said miles of county roads have been broken up more this winter than in the past due to the extremes of the weather.

★ ★ ★

"It's a combination of the greatly varying temperature and amount of water which does the damage," he said.

Repairing chuckholes that dot the county's hard-surface (concrete and blacktop) roads costs the Road Commission between $75,000 to $100,000 added maintenance expense a year, Van Roekel estimated.

Trouble is, he added, that this temporary "cold patching," as it is called, doesn't last long. The mixture of asphalt and sand or sometimes a rock substance breaks up itself with the variance in temperatures.

★ ★ ★

When spring and warmer temperatures arrive — and precipitation lessens — commission crews repair stretches of streets which have been "cold patched" to a limit where it isn't possible to do anymore.

The seige this season of a record-number of pits aren't necessarily new break-ups, Van Roekel explained, but repaired ones that have been patched up.

"One day it's a deep freeze, which seems to hold the patch fairly well, and then a warmer and wetter day comes along, and back we go to patching," he said.

Although the county thus far has escaped law suits from angry motorists with damaged cars, Van Roekel said, "We've had many threats of damage suits."

Kennedy Says Coin Machine Takeover Tried

New York Detective to Give Testimony on Findings of Raid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor-Management Committee hoped to pierce today the secrecy that has surrounded an alleged crime convention held at Apalachin, N.Y., in 1957.

Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters there would be testimony linking that meeting to the committee's charges that gangsters and corrupt labor leaders have conspired to seize control of the nation's lucrative coin machine industry.

Kennedy said the testimony would come from Lt. James Mooney, a New York City police detective.

He added that it would make the first public disclosure of anything the police have learned about matters discussed at the Apalachin gathering of 58 gangsters, racketeers and others broken up by a police raid.

Milton Green, a Brooklyn and Coney Island coin machine operator, testified Wednesday he was ambushed and beaten with steel bars seven months ago for opposing a deal between an association of operators and Teamsters Union Local 266 of New York. He said the local is run by gangsters.

★ ★ ★

The probers ran into a regular barrage of fifth amendment pleas in questioning alleged underworld figures about their tieups with the coin machine business.

The nontalking witnesses were John Vitale of St. Louis, Frank Zito of Springfield, Ill., Mike Genovese of Gibsonia, Pa. and Joseph Salardino of Denver, Colo.

The committee is attempting to show that hoodlums have muscled into the lucrative jukebox-coin machine industry, often in connivance with corrupt union officials.

'LONG CRIME RECORDS'

The four witnesses, who said they might incriminate themselves if they answered questions, were described by Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy as racketeers with long criminal records.

A fifth witness, Raymond Patriarca, Providence, R. I., rattled off answers to all questions. He acknowledged being a partner in a cigaret vending machine business in Providence.

Zito and Genovese both refused to tell whether they had attended the meeting at Apalachin.

★ ★ ★

Zito also refused to tell whether he knew anything about "the penalty levied on Mr. Lombardozzi, who attended the meeting at Apalachin." Kennedy did not elaborate on that question.

Area Delegates Favor Lindemer

Leadership Fight Looms at GOP Convention in Detroit Tomorrow

Sentiment rides with Republican State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer as the 140-member Oakland County delegation prepares to move into Detroit tomorrow for the start of the GOP state convention.

Lindemer, Stockbridge attorney, again found himself opposed for re-election by State Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), in the on-again, off-again tussle for state chairmanship.

Oakland delegates—the largest single delegation—will surely receive a visit from Smeekens at their Friday night caucus as the two-term senator seeks to revive his bid to take over the state party leadership.

"The sentiment so far is strongly in favor of Lindemer," declared Robert D. Harvey of Huntington Woods, elected last month as leader of the Oakland delegation.

The Lindemer-Smeekens contest appears to be stealing the thunder from the primary objective of statewide delegations.

This will be to nominate 14 GOP candidates for state offices to oppose a like number the Democrats pick at their Feb. 20-21 state convention in Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Two Supreme Court justice nominees, one for superintendent of public instruction, two for University of Michigan regent, two Michigan Board of Agriculture members, one member of the State the new Wayne State University Board of Education, and six for Board of Governors will be chosen.

Still there are no "local son" favorites for these nominations, according to Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county chairman.

Another order of business for the Oakland delegation, prior to the opening of the convention at the Ford Auditorium Saturday morning, will be the election of four members to the 72-member State Central Committee.

Present members are Gordon T. Getsinger and Mrs. John C. Finegan, both of Bloomfield Township, Harry Horton, Royal Oak, and Mrs. Robert B. Lamb of Oak Park. To date only Getsinger and Mrs. Finegan have indicated a willingness to seek re-election, Elliott said.

Local delegates will push for a new means of selecting Supreme Court justice nominees as they spearhead a drive to have each county submit its choices from top lawyers, with the two nominees being picked from these lists. Oakland has already drafted a list of 19.

That Was Year Abe Was Born

Boundaries Vague in 1809

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Feature Writer

The young United States was faced with the painful prospect of a divided nation.

Business and political leaders of a whole section of the country were threatening loudly to take their states out of the union. Their cry was: "Repeal or secession!"

But the threat did not come from the slave-holding South; it came from New England.

And it was not 1861; it was 1809, birthyear of Abraham Lincoln, who was to deal later with a more serious secession threat.

At Lincoln's birth, 150 years ago, the United States was a young, growing land of some six million people, 90 per cent of them living on farms and most of them thinking themselves Virginians or New Yorkers rather than Americans.

For most, the Far West was the Mississippi River; the land beyond, the Louisiana Territory, purchased from France only six years before, was almost a myth, a little frightening and remote as the moon.

BOUNDARIES VAGUE

National boundaries were vague. The final dividing line between the United States and Canada was yet to be settled. Shadowy Oregon was disputed with Britain. Spain held Florida and the Great Southwest.

There were 17 states in the union, Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio being added to the original 13. West Virginia was part of Virginia. The whole state of Maine was York County, Mass.

Indians roamed the forests of the Appalachian Mountains. The downfall of the tribal confederacy organized by that amazing Indian leader, Tecumseh, was two years off at the battle of Tippecanoe in Indiana.

ONLY 15 STARS

The American flag had 15 stars and 15 stripes. It would be nine years before Tennessee and Ohio would get their stars and the number of stripes would be cut back to 13, honoring the original states.

The chief political parties were the Republican-Democratic, gaining in strength as the population began shifting to the West, and the Federalist, dying for the want of progressive leadership.

Already the Republican-Democratic party, ancestor to the Democratic Party of today, was showing signs of splitting, with rival factions forming around personalities and economic issues.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Screen star Jimmy Stewart was nominated by President Eisenhower for a second time today for promotion to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

A similar nomination failed to win Senate approval two years ago. It was blocked mainly by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine). Also nominated to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve was Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz). Both Goldwater and Stewart now have the rank of colonel.

Bosses Man Planes in Pan Am Strike

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pursers and stewardesses refused to man Pan American World Airways planes here today after a walkout of porters and stock clerks.

The first two flights left on schedule.

The flights, to Nassau and Havana, had supervisory personnel in place of the service crew. Pilots are not involved in the work stoppage.

Pilot Bails Out at 800 M.P.H. and Learns Source of Courage

By GEORGE SMITH
Jet test-pilot

"Okay for takeoff, George," came the dispatcher's voice over my earphones. I stretched out my left hand toward the plane's throttle, and saw that it was trembling. "You're afraid, George Smith," I whispered.

SMITH

And then I seemed to hear another whisper, a woman's voice, saying softly, "Courage is knowing the worst."

I knew the worst, all right. I'd learned it the last time I'd flown an airplane. Nearly a year before . . .

It was a drizzly Saturday morning in February 1955. As test-pilot for North American Aviation I sat at the controls of a needle-nosed F100A Super Sabre.

They cleared me for takeoff and the powerful new engine thrust me into the sky.

SPEED OF SOUND

Out over the ocean it was raining. I climbed up and up through the gray cloudbank till at 7,000 feet I burst out into the sunlight. I kept climbing: 20,000 feet, 30,000. Even in the climb the sleek new plane was approaching Mach 1, the speed of sound—35,000 feet.

Then it happened.

The plane suddenly began to nose over. This happens occasionally as a plane passes the sound barrier; when the pilot pulls the control-stick toward him, the nose lifts again. I took hold of the stick and pulled. The stick would not budge.

The nose of the plane was now heading down in a gradual dive. I grabbed the stick with both hands and strained at it. It was frozen solid. The drive steeped, gaining speed each second: 30,000 feet, 25,000 feet, 18,000 feet, 9,000 feet: I was eight seconds from the water!

★ ★ ★

"I'm going straight in!" I yelled into my radio.

I knew, all jet pilots knew, that no one had ever bailed out of a plane going faster than sound—and lived. But you bail out anyway.

First get rid of the canopy! I jerked up the armrest of the seat and the roof of the cockpit blew away.

WORLD EXPLODED

The world exploded in the loudest noise I'd ever heard. It was like a cannon going

A 'Spring' Thaw on Way, Weather Bureau Predicts

Has spring come early to the Pontiac area? Is the weatherman feeling sorry for all the misery he has heaped upon us?

Whatever the answer — the forecast for today and tomorrow, believe it or not, calls for warmer and mild weather.

Tonight will be cloudy and warmer with a low of 30 degrees, and tomorrow the high is expected to be a "sizzling" 42.

However, along with the mild temperatures, will come cloudy skies and occasional rain or drizzle.

Saturday's outlook is for rain or snow turning colder.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 16. By 1 p.m. the mercury had soared to 32.

Want to Complete Your Confusion? Well, Just Take a Look at This

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — You think you're confused? Wait till you read this.

President Eisenhower has protested repeatedly against what he calls the spenders and demands that Congress stay within the 77-billion-dollar budget he sent up in January.

Just as a starter on how things can get mixed up: Congress can ignore his requests for economy and vote far more money than he asked. On the other hand, in some cases he doesn't have to spend it even if Congress votes it.

And some of what's voted this year may be meant for spending a couple of years from now. There's a big difference between appropriations and expenditures.

The Eisenhower barbs about spenders apparently nettled Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats. This week he said that over the past six years Congress appropriated 22 billion dollars less than Eisenhower's budgets asked.

★ ★ ★

Whereupon Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, leader of the Senate Republicans, announced the Eisenhower administration was getting together the full story, including "everything relating to the budget," and that he'd produce it.

It's a good guess that when the two leaders and all the other Democrats and Republicans get through arguing about the figures, not only the general public but perhaps most members of Congress will be more bemused than before.

★ ★ ★

One expert on government finances told this writer: "When it comes to voting on money problems, Congress is a place where the left hand knoweth not what the right is doing."

He didn't mean anyone was slipping a fast one over on anyone. He just meant things get mixed up.

The House and Senate Appropriations committees were created to examine money requests from the executive branch of the government and decide what's needed. But those committees are not the only ones passing on money problems.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower's budget, for instance, contains all kinds of requests for money in one form or another. The whole budget is not solely the Appropriati ons Committee's baby. Some parts of it go to other committees.

Who gets what depends on the nature of what is asked.

Say the Senate Banking Committee comes up with a housing program that requires government backing. There are various kinds of housing in the program: one may deal with college housing, another with slum clearance.

★ ★ ★

Because one program requires a certain kind of action and money, the Senate Banking Committee handles it. But another, requiring different handling and financing, will go from the Banking Committee to the Appropriations Committee.

Then there's this case: the Appropriations Committee will approve a certain budget expenditure which is really an authorization to the Eisenhower Administration to draw a check on the Treasury and spend the money this year.

Then the same committee may approve authorization for the government to obligate itself to spend money in a future year, but not this one or the next. For example: authority to make a contract to build a missile which won't be ready till 1962.

And the money Eisenhower requested in the budget he sent Congress in January is not the only money Congress will vote this year. Last June, for instance, Congress may have voted money to carry a government agency through till next June.

★ ★ ★

But now the same agency comes back, saying what it got was not enough, and it needs more to pay its expenses till June.

This is called a request for a supplemental appropriation. That means supplemental to what Congress voted last year for this year and not supplemental to what Congress votes this year for next. See?

Asks $1.3 Billion for Military Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has asked Congress to authorize military construction costing $1,356,290,000.

Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass) said the department proposal also asks authorization for construction of 21,701 units of family housing for military personnel and dependents.

★ ★ ★

The new construction projects which would be authorized include 328 installations in 49 states and the District of Columbia; Hawaii, the Caribbean area, Europe, the Pacific Islands, Bermuda, Canada and Japan.

★ ★ ★

The new projects are divided between services as follows:

Army: $231,252,000; Navy: $195,284,000; Air Force: $872,761,000; Army Reserve: $20,748,000; Army National Guard: $8,316,000; Naval and Marine Corps Reserves; $8,300,000; Air Force Reserve: $4,093,000 and Air National Guard: $15,536,000.

Probers Dig Into 'Crime Convention'

25 Are Injured as Speedy Train Derails in East

Washington-New York Flier Leaves Tracks Near Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Washington - to - New York Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train, traveling an estimated 70 to 80 miles an hour, derailed about 10 miles east of Baltimore today. A score or more persons were taken to hospitals, but none was reported killed.

Six of the 25 or so taken to Johns Hopkins and city hospitals were reported seriously injured. Two heart attack cases also were hospitalized.

A Baltimore County policeman said the rails apparently spread, dropping the speeding train, the Potomac, onto the ties.

The engine and the first seven cars rumbled and rolled up the track between the rails for several hundred yards. The last three cars broke off and stopped. None of the cars overturned.

Ties and rock ballast were tossed high in the air and scattered down the right-of-way, blocking three of the four tracks.

The Potomac's passengers, except those taken to Baltimore hospitals, were transferred to the Atlantic Coast Line's Florida Special at the scene and started on to New York. The train left the wreck area at 10:06 a.m.

The engineer, T. L. Winsey of Essex, Md. ,who lives quite close to the scene of the accident, estimated the train's speed at about 80 miles an hour.

He wouldn't comment on what caused the wreck.

"But it was a pretty rough ride," he added.

★ ★ ★

One passenger, Henry G. Gardiner of Philadelphia, said he was in the car next to the dining car.

He said an atendant, the only other person in the car, yelled: "Hold your seat, something's going to happen."

"The car started rocking and swaying and bumping," Gardiner said. "Then stuff began flying out of the pantry of the dining car ahead, going all over the place."

He was tossed to the floor of the car but said he suffered only a very minor leg bruise.

County police estimated that 300 passengers were on the train, which left Washington at 7 a.m. and Baltimore at 7:43 a.m. Its next scheduled stop was at Wilmington, Del.

Wreckage from the derailment was scattered up the track for about a mile.

News Flash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Screen star Jimmy Stewart was nominated by President Eisenhower for a second time today for promotion to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

A similar nomination failed to win Senate approval two years ago. It was blocked mainly by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine). Also nominated to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve was Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz). Both Goldwater and Stewart now have the rank of colonel.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan made it official today — "Everybody," he announced, "has got flu." Factories, offices and schools are running at sharply curtailed levels. Even the doctors announced they can't keep up. They appealed to patients to give it a few days in bed on their own before calling in hard-pressed medical help.

Governor Has to Wait

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams may have to wait two more months before he gets his new limousine, state controller James W. Miller said today. Miller said he had been informed delivery on the new Chrysler Imperial may be delayed. Williams' 1957 Chrysler has 94,000 miles on it.

Little Salt Left for Next Storm

Because of a serious shortage of salt, Pontiac and Oakland County traffic could be crippled if another ice storm suddenly strikes, authorities agreed today.

Pontiac, which likes to keep 400-600 tons of salt on hand, had less than 50 tons left this morning.

The city needs about 10 times that amount to clear roads after a heavy storm like Monday's, said Joseph B. Jewell, Department of Public Works superintendent.

The county situation appeared even more serious. Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, described it as "critical."

Normally, the county has 1,500-2,000 tons of salt stockpiled. There are only 50 tons left, Van Roekel reported this morning.

Continuous bad weather since Jan. 1 accounts for the depletion of stocks, the road officials said.

A shortage of new supplies is slowing stock replenishment to a snail's pace, they warned.

★ ★ ★

The shortage developed because of a run on the salt produced by the Southeastern Michigan area's two salt mines, in Detroit and Windsor.

So much salt has been expended in the metropolitan area this year that nearly every community is feeling the pinch.

The mines together produce only about 8,000 tons of salt daily, Jewell estimated.

Community trucks have to stand in line at the mines for hours, each waiting for a couple loads of salt, he reported.

Pontiac expects to get five truck loads by Saturday, or about 175 tons, bringing its total supply on hand up to around 250 tons for the weekend.

With only that much salt on hand, trunklines and main arteries could only be partially cleared if a serious weekend storm strikes.

★ ★ ★

The county expects three or four truckloads today, Van Roekel said.

For the past three weeks, he said, the county has been working with limited supplies of salt, which have run completely out at times.

"Our stockpiles are gone and we are entirely dependent on our daily supplies," he said.

The county has turned to using large quantities of sand, he said, which is inferior to salt because it does not melt ice but only

County Engineer Says Cold, Water Produce Roadbed Damage

Pontiac area motorists have added chuckhole dodging to their winter driving abilities, and the penalty for failure to develop the skill is often a spine-tingling or spring-busting jar.

"Please," pleads Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, "don't call us and complain about the hole.

"We usually know about it and others like it," said Van Roekel, "and are doing everything possible to get rid of them. But the weather's not cooperating."

Van Roekel said miles of county roads have been broken up more this winter than in the past due to the extremes of the weather.

"It's a combination of the greatly varying temperature and amount of water which does the damage," he said.

Repairing chuckholes that dot the county's hard-surface (concrete and blacktop) roads costs the Road Commission between $75,000 to $100,000 added maintenance expense a year, Van Roekel estimated.

Trouble is, he added, that this temporary "cold patching," as it is called, doesn't last long. The mixture of asphalt and sand or sometimes a rock substance breaks up itself with the variance in temperatures.

When spring and warmer temperatures arrive — and precipitation lessens — commission crews repair stretches of streets which have been "cold patched" to a limit where it isn't possible to do anymore.

The seige this season of a record-number of pits aren't necessarily new break-ups, Van Roekel explained, but repaired ones that have been patched up.

"One day it's a deep freeze, which seems to hold the patch fairly well, and then a warmer and wetter day comes along, and back we go to patching," he said.

Although the county thus far has escaped law suits from angry motorists with damaged cars, Van Roekel said, "We've had many threats of damage suits."

Kennedy Says Coin Machine Takeover Tried

New York Detective to Give Testimony on Findings of Raid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor-Management Committee hoped to pierce today the secrecy that has surrounded an alleged crime convention held at Apalachin, N.Y., in 1957.

Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters there would be testimony linking that meeting to the committee's charges that gangsters and corrupt labor leaders have conspired to seize control of the nation's lucrative coin machine industry.

Kennedy said the testimony would come from Lt. James Mooney, a New York City police detective.

He added that it would make the first public disclosure of anything the police have learned about matters discussed at the Apalachin gathering of 58 gangsters, racketeers and others broken up by a police raid.

Milton Green, a Brooklyn and Coney Island coin machine operator, testified Wednesday he was ambushed and beaten with steel bars seven months ago for opposing a deal between an association of operators and Teamsters Union Local 266 of New York. He said the local is run by gangsters.

★ ★ ★

The noutalking witnesses were John Vitale of St. Louis, Frank Zito of Springfield, Ill., Mike Genovese of Gibsonia, Pa. and Joseph Salardino of Denver, Colo.

The committee is attempting to show that hoodlums have muscled into the lucrative jukebox-coin machine industry, often in conniyance with corrupt union officials.

'LONG CRIME RECORDS'

The four witnesses, who said they might incriminate themselves if they answered questions, were described by Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy as racketeers with long criminal records.

A fifth witness, Raymond Patriarca, Providence, R. I., rattled off answers to all questions. He acknowledged being a partner in a cigaret vending machine business in Providence.

Zito and Genovese both refused to tell whether they had attended the meeting at Apalachin.

★ ★ ★

Zito also refused to tell whether he knew anything about "the penalty levied on Mr. Lombardozzi, who attended the meeting at Apalachin." Kennedy did not elaborate on that question.

Area Delegates Favor Lindemer

Leadership Fight Looms at GOP Convention in Detroit Tomorrow

Sentiment rides with Republican State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer as the 140-member Oakland County delegation prepares to move into Detroit tomorrow for the start of the GOP state convention.

Lindemer, Stockbridge attorney, again found himself opposed for re-election by State Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), in the on-again, off-again tussle for state chairmanship.

Oakland delegates—the largest single delegation—will surely receive a visit from Smeekens at their Friday night caucus as the two-term senator seeks to revive his bid to take over the state party leadership.

"The sentiment so far is strongly in favor of Lindemer," declared Robert D. Harvey of Huntington Woods, elected last month as leader of the Oakland delegation.

The Lindemer-Smeekens contest appears to be stealing the thunder from the primary objective of statewide delegations.

This will be to nominate 14 GOP candidates for state offices to oppose a like number the Democrats pick at their Feb. 20-21 state convention in Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Two Supreme Court justice nominees, one for superintendent of public instruction, two for University of Michigan regent, two Michigan Board of Agriculture members, one member of the State the new Wayne State University Board of Education, and six for Board of Governors will be chosen.

Still there are no "local son" favorites for these nominations, according to Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county chairman.

Another order of business for the Oakland delegation, prior to the opening of the convention at the Ford Auditorium Saturday morning, will be the election of four members to the 72-member State Central Committee.

Present members are Gordon T. Getsinger and Mrs. John C. Finegan, both of Bloomfield Township, Harry Horton, Royal Oak, and Mrs. Robert B. Lamb of Oak Park. To date only Getsinger and Mrs. Finegan have indicated a willingness to seek re-election, Elliott said.

Local delegates will push for a new means of selecting Supreme Court justice nominees as they spearhead a drive to have each county submit its choices from top lawyers, with the two nominees being picked from these lists. Oakland has already drafted a list of 19.

That Was Year Abe Was Born

Boundaries Vague in 1809

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Feature Writer

The young United States was faced with the painful prospect of a divided nation.

Business and political leaders of a whole section of the country were threatening loudly to take their states out of the union. Their cry was: "Repeal or secession!"

But the threat did not come from the slave-holding South; it came from New England.

And it was not 1861; it was 1809, birthyear of Abraham Lincoln, who was to deal later with a more serious secession threat.

At Lincoln's birth, 150 years ago, the United States was a young, growing land of some six million people, 90 per cent of them living on farms and most of them thinking themselves Virginians or New Yorkers rather than Americans.

For most, the Far West was the Mississippi River; the land beyond, the Louisiana Territory, purchased from France only six years before, was almost a myth, a little frightening and remote as the moon.

BOUNDARIES VAGUE

National boundaries were vague. The final dividing line between the United States and Canada was yet to be settled. Shadowy Oregon was disputed with Britain. Spain held Florida and the Great Southwest.

There were 17 states in the union, Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio being added to the original 13. West Virginia was part of Virginia. The whole state of Maine was York County, Mass.

Indians roamed the forests of the Appalachian Mountains. The downfall of the tribal confederacy organized by that amazing Indian leader, Tecumseh, was two years off at the battle of Tippecanoe in Indiana.

ONLY 15 STARS

The American flag had 15 stars and 15 stripes. It would be nine years before Tennessee and Ohio would get their stars and the number of stripes would be cut back to 13, honoring the original states.

The chief political parties were the Republican-Democratic, gaining in strength as the population began shifting to the West, and the Federalist, dying for the want of progressive leadership.

Already the Republican-Democratic party, ancestor to the Democratic Party of today, was showing signs of splitting, with rival factions forming around personalities and economic issues.

A 'Spring' Thaw on Way, Weather Bureau Predicts

Has spring come early to the Pontiac area? Is the weatherman feeling sorry for all the misery he has heaped upon us?

Whatever the answer — the forecast for today and tomorrow, believe it or not, calls for warmer and mild weather.

Tonight will be cloudy and warmer with a low of 30 degrees, and tomorrow the high is expected to be a "sizzling" 42.

However, along with the mild temperatures, will come cloudy skies and occasional rain or drizzle.

Saturday's outlook is for rain or snow turning colder.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 16. By 1 p.m. the mercury had soared to 32.

Bosses Man Planes in Pan Am Strike

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pursers and stewardesses refused to man Pan American World Airways planes here today after a walkout of porters and stock clerks.

The first two flights left on schedule.

The flights, to Nassau and Havana, had supervisory personnel in place of the service crew. Pilots are not involved in the work stoppage.

Pilot Bails Out at 800 M.P.H. and Learns Source of Courage

By GEORGE SMITH
Jet test-pilot

"Okay for takeoff, George," came the dispatcher's voice over my earphones. I stretched out my left hand toward the plane's throttle, and saw that it was trembling. "You're afraid, George Smith," I whispered.

SMITH

And then I seemed to hear another whisper, a woman's voice, saying softly, "Courage is knowing the worst."

I knew the worst, all right. I'd learned it the last time I'd flown an airplane. Nearly a year before . . .

It was a drizzly Saturday morning in February 1955. As test-pilot for North American Aviation I sat at the controls of a needle-nosed F100A Super Sabre.

They cleared me for takeoff and the powerful new engine thrust me into the sky.

SPEED OF SOUND

Out over the ocean it was raining. I climbed up and up through the gray cloud-bank till at 7,000 feet I burst out into the sunlight. I kept climbing: 20,000 feet, 30,000. Even in the climb the sleek new plane was approaching Mach 1, the speed of sound—35,000 feet.

Then it happened.

The plane suddenly began to nose over. This happens occasionally as a plane passes the sound barrier; when the pilot pulls the control-stick toward him, the nose lifts again. I took hold of the stick and pulled. The stick would not budge.

The nose of the plane was now heading down in a gradual dive. I grabbed the stick with both hands and strained at it. It was frozen solid. The drive steeped, gaining speed each second: 30,000 feet, 25,000 feet, 18,000 feet, 9,000 feet: I was eight seconds from the water!

★ ★ ★

"I'm going straight in!" I yelled into my radio.

I knew, all jet pilots knew, that no one had ever bailed out of a plane going faster than sound—and lived. But you bail out anyway.

First get rid of the canopy! I jerked up the armrest of the seat and the roof of the cockpit blew away.

WORLD EXPLODED

The world exploded in the loudest noise I'd ever heard. It was like a cannon going

Police Seek Cause of 2 River Deaths

DETROIT (AP)—Police were trying to determine today what caused the deaths of a man and a woman whose bodies were found in a car pulled from the Detroit River.

The two, Andrew Kunn, 37, and Mrs. Mabel Shelton, 42, had been missing for a week.

The car was hoisted from the river after the roof and headlights were spotted under the surface of the water just off Zug Island.

A son of the dead woman said his mother had been dating Kunn for about two moths. He said both his mother and Kunn were divorced.

Rain May Spur Indiana Floods

Wabash River Pours Over Western Farm Areas, Terre Haute

PERU, Ind. (AP)—An historic Wabash River flood crisis swirled onto farmlands in Western Indiana today, with predicted rain threatening to heighten the seas of water.

The storied banks of the Wabash, marked only by towering Sycamores, disappeared under the ice-choked floodwater spreading over vast lowlands as far downstream as Terre Haute.

Rains were expected to start in the flood zones tonight, possibly continuing into Saturday and threatening to add new victims to the 1,500 families already chased from their homes across North-Central Indiana—1,000 of them in Peru alone.

★ ★ ★

Mild temperatures in the 40s today and into the upper 50s Friday indicated possibilities of breakups in the ice jams which contributed to the worst floods at Peru and Wabash since 1913.

Terre Haute looked like the next major trouble spot with a Wabash crest predicted for Saturday.

In Ohio, the flooding Sandusky River dropped back toward its banks after an ice jam caused the stream to back up, pouring nearly two feet of water into downtown streets.

About 1,500 persons in Fremont city of 16,000 were driven from their homes.

Newark, a city of 35,000 in Central Ohio, lost much of its water supply when a dam on the Licking River broke, and forced the closing of schools and industry. It will take a week to repair the dam.

Floods were reported receding in other northern Ohio cities — Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa.

Dry weather prevailed in nearly all areas east of the Rockies and a warming trend moved into the central part of the country. At the same time, cooler air spread into the Atlantic Coast states.

Chrysler Corp. Has Rough Year

Loss of $33.8 Million Listed for '58; Strike Settled Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP)—America's third largest automobile producer — Chrysler Corp.—suffered its second worst loss in history in 1958 but turned in a profit for the final quarter of the year.

The company reported in its annual financial statement yesterday a loss of $33,824,565 for the year. In contrast, Chrysler's net income for 1957 was $119,952,406, equal to $13.75 a share.

★ ★ ★

The company president noted that production this year has been curtailed by a 4-month-old strike of some 13,000 employes of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Chrysler's main glass supplier.

He said all Chrysler assembly plants would resume production to fill a backlog of dealer and retail orders as soon as the strike was over.

The strike, which at one time had idled 20,000 auto employes, was settled yesterday in its 129th day.

Chrysler was the second of the big three auto producers to report 1958 earnings.

L. L. Colbert, Chrysler president, blamed the poor showing on a sharp drop in sales resulting from the recession.

"The final weeks of 1958 and the early part of this year offer encouragement for better financial results in 1959," he said.

But even the upsurge as 1958 waned was not equal to the same quarter the previous year. The earnings for the final period of 1957 were $16,000,000 or $1.88 a share. But for the same period in 1958 Chrysler earned approximately $11,000,000 or $1.30 a share.

Directors declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable March 13 to stockholders of record Feb. 24. A dividend of 75 cents was paid in the first quarter last year. This was cut to 25 cents in each of the succeeding three periods.

Sales in 1958 totaled $2,165,381,754 in contrast with $3,564,982,510 in 1957. In the fourth quarter, sales were approximately $679,000,000, compared with $819,000,000 in the like 1957 period.

Current assets fell from $90,042,397 at the end of 1957 to $756,262,908 at 1958 year end. There also was a drop in current liabilities, from $514,297,492 to $392,228,464. The result was a drop in net working capital from $425,744,905 to $364,034,444.

The 1958 loss was the second since Chrysler was organized in 1925. In 1932, when the great depression hit rock bottom, the company slid into the red by $11,254,000.

His Figures Show Draft Is Wasteful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif) came up with some figures today to show, as he put it, that the draft is wasteful.

★ ★ ★

He said the military spends as much as $14,000 to train a single draftee but that only 3 out of every 100 men re-enlist at the end of their draft hitch.

He said inexperienced men have ruined nearly five billion dollars worth of military equipment since the end of World War II.

★ ★ ★

Moss cited the statistics in praising the appointment of a special House committee to study and review the draft law.

Detroit Fire Forces Many Into Icy Streets

DETROIT (AP)—A fire in a west side apartment building forced hundreds of persons — many of them children — to flee into icy streets today.

At least five persons were rescued from upper floors of the four-story, 56-unit apartment building by firemen. No one was reported injured but one fireman was treated for smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the basement of the Grand Boulevard area building (7550 Hanover). It was discovered at 6:30 a.m. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Many of the children, clad only in thin night clothes, were bundled into police cars to escape frigid early morning temperatures.

2 5-Year-Olds Escape 3 Feet of Water in Ditch

DETROIT (AP) — Little Ronald and Roland Wargowsky were on their way to kindergarten yesterday when both plunged into three feet of water in an old ditch.

Ronald jumped out and ran home to tell his mother about his twin brother's predicament. But as the mother rushed to rescue her five-year-old son, someone did it for her.

Both boys were soaked, but neither was hurt.

12 Harness Race Horses Die in Blaze at Jackson

JACKSON (UPI) — Twelve harness horses, three belonging to a Pontiac area owner, were killed today when fire swept through a frame building at the Jackson County fairgrounds were the animals were quartered for the winter.

The blaze broke out in the groom's quarters from an overheaded coal stove and quickly swept through a 150 by 50 foot building where the horses were kept.

About a dozen other harness horses were led from the burning building.

One groom, James C. Parsons, 20, St. Johns, was burned slightly in the blaze.

Trombly Taking Absence Leave

New Action Follows About-Face on Plan to Retire

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly of Macomb county says he is tired and needs a rest, therefore, he is taking an indefinite leave of absence.

The announcement came yesterday after the State Employes Retirement Board accepted withdrawal of his retirement application.

The president of the Macomb County Board of Supervisors, Bernard J. Kalahar, said Trombly asked him if he could have a paid leave of absence.

"I have no authority to tell him to take a leave or not to take one," said Kalahar. "However, I advised him to take one and told him it was a good idea."

Various groups, including the Macomb County Bar Assn., have urged Trombly to retire.

★ ★ ★

Trombly filed his retirement application Feb. 4. He wired the governor Tuesday that he wanted to cancel the request.

The state retirement board then held that there was no proceeding before it.

"It appears somebody wants to fire him and that's not the business of this board, nor is it the proper way to go about it," said Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski, chairman of the board. "I don't think we should act as a firing board."

Bank Robbery Try of 9-Year-Old Foiled

ALGONAC (AP) — A nine-year-old girl handed an Algonac State Bank teller a penciled note yesterday which demanded all the bank's money in a cardboard box.

★ ★ ★

The child didn't write the note, authorities said. Nor did she deliver it of her own accord. State and federal authorities quoted her as saying two older boys met her in the street and told her to take it inside.

★ ★ ★

The message not only requested the bank's money but warned that a radio-controlled bomb had been placed in the building.

★ ★ ★

State Police Detective Larry Hosmann said the bank was searched but no bomb was found.

Saturday Is Deadline for Absentee Ballots

Deadline for obtaining absentee ballots at City Hall for the Monday primary is 2 p.m. Saturday.

Absentee voters have until 8 p.m. Monday to turn their ballots in to the polls, said City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Absentee ballots are for voters who will be out of town Monday or who are physically unable to get to the polls.

Monday's primary is a non-partisan runoff to select 10 candidates to run for Oakland County circuit judge in the spring election April 6.

Voters will have a field of 14 candidates to choose from. Each voter may pick from one to five candidates, but no more than five at most.

Byron Kelly, 84, Dies After Long Illness

Byron J. Kelly, 84, of 261 Cherokee Rd., owner of the former Mathews Abstract Company in Pontiac, died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of 11 months.

Mr. Kelly had also been the advertising manager of the Pontiac Press-Gazette. After selling the abstract company to the Union Trust Company of Detroit, he later became vice president of Union Trust. In 1945, he retired as cost accountant from Slater Pontiac Co. of 451 E. Wilson St.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Kelly also was a member of the BPOE No. 810.

Surviving are a son, Winton J. of Birmingham, and one granddaughter.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

State Revenue Agent Due Here to Aid Taxpayers

A Michigan Department of Revenue representative will visit the Pontiac District Office, 10 S. Mill St., today and every Thursday through March 26 to aid taxpayers of individual intangible tax returns.

Subject of the state tax are mortgages, land contracts, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property.

Open Highway Office in Pontiac

Expect City to Be Hub of Huge State Road Building Program

A district office of the Michigan State Highway Dept has opened in Pontiac and will be officially dedicated March 10 by Commissioner John C. Mackie.

The office is located at 926 Featherstone Ave.

It will be headquarters from which 40 highway personnel will coordinate the construction, maintenance, testing, and right-of-way transactions for the Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair county area.

Such work formerly was carried on in the department's Redford office along with similar activities involving Wayne and Monroe counties. Overcrowded facilities necessitated the shift to Pontiac.

J. A. Wills, district engineer who will manage the new Pontiac District 9 office, said one reason Pontiac was selected was that it soon will be the hub of mammoth highway construction programs in this section of the state during the next five years.

The 6,400-square foot building on Featherstone, built expressly for lease to the highway department, is the first of the department's 10 office buildings designed solely for the department's use.

Theologian Rips Sunday School Bible Stories

OMAHA (AP) — Sunday School spoils children, theologian Dr. Marcus Barth said today.

★ ★ ★

This is because all they hear for some time is "Mama loves me, papa loves me, teacher loves me, God loves me, Comes age 12 or 14; they discover other people in the world and all hell breaks loose," Dr. Barth remarked.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Barth, a member of the federated theological faculty of the University of Chicago, gave his views in a talk prepared for a meeting of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

He said Sunday Schools chop up Bible stories so that "Egyptians never drowned, John the Baptist was never beheaded."

★ ★ ★

"The real life, that shows people as they are, is cut away," so that the story presented is "canned food, carefully prepared, but the vitamins are gone," Dr. Barth said.

Lady Bowes-Lyon Succumbs in London

LONDON (AP) — Lady Nancy Bowes-Lyon, a niece of Queen Mother Elizabeth, died Wednesday after a life beset by tragedy. She was 40 and had been in poor health for several years.

A hospital spokesman said she came to the emergency department feeling unwell and died shortly after. The cause of death was not announced.

Lady Nancy was the daughter of one of the queen mother's brothers, the late 15th Earl of Strathmore, and was the sister of the present earl.

Her first marriage, to automobile executive Lance Robinson, ended in divorce in 1954. Her second husband, John Blair, shot himself in a friend's house in Ireland in 1955.

★ ★ ★

Lady Nancy had been hospitalized twice in previous years after overdoses of sleeping pills.

News of the death was cabled to the queen mother, who is touring East Africa.

New Method Found for Removing Gland

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — A Czechoslovak doctor claims to have developed a method of removing the pituitary gland by using radioactive gold.

★ ★ ★

The official CTK news agency explained the gland attached to the brain has been found to have an important effect on some types of cancer, and that its removal in such cases relieves pain and prolongs life.

The agency said that Prof. Josef Pavrovsky, of Prague's First Surgical Institute, injects a grain of radioactive gold into the gland with a special surgical pistol, stopping its functioning.

According to CTK, Pavrovsky's operation takes an average of 45 minutes and all have been successful while the usual method takes several hours and may cause a dangerous brain hemorrhage.

Local Child Study Clubs Meet

Mrs. Dana (Elinor K.) Rose, columnist, was guest speaker at the annual luncheon of the combined Child Study Club groups in the Pontiac area, held Wednesday afternoon at the Rotunda Inn.

"Relax, Chum" was Mrs. Rose's topic. This topic was taken from the title of a book she has written on human thoughts and actions from birth to maturity.

"I'd like to know why other mamas have children who hang up pajamas," was one of her witty comments on children. She also told stories about a child entering kindergarten for the first time and a father whose daughter had a pajama party.

Mrs. Neil Nelson of the Child Culture Club was chairman of the affair. Mrs. Jorma Sarto of Child Culture Club gave the invocation.

In charge of the program and introducing the speaker was Mrs. William Shunck of Waterford Child Study Club Group I. Mrs. William Baer and Mrs. Norman Dunn of Waterford Club Group II were in charge of decorations with Mrs. Arthur Tyrell of Junior Child Study Club in charge of hospitality.

★ ★ ★

Child Study Club Group III was in charge of reservations, with Mrs. Ralph Humphries chairman. Publicity was under the direction of Mrs. Paul Gorman of the same club.

New clubs from Clarkston were among guests at the luncheon.

Mrs. Norman Dunn, left to right, vice president of Waterford Club Group II helped with the decorations which carried out a Valentine motif. At the luncheon, she chats with guests, Mrs. Walter Godsell and Mrs. William Belaney.

Pontiac Press Photos

The annual luncheon of the combined Child Study Clubs in the Pontiac area was held Wednesday afternoon at Rotunda Inn. Mrs. Neil Nelson, left to right, was chairman of the affair and Mrs. Ralph Humphries was reservations chairman. Mrs. James Cowen is president of the Clarkston Child Study Club.

Also attending the luncheon were Mrs. Neal Gray, left, of Junior Child Study Club, and Mrs. Donald Redmond of Waterford Group II.

Dr. Dreyfus Addresses Secretaries

Dr. Lee S. Dreyfus, assistant director of radio and television and assistant professor of speech at Wayne University, spoke at the dinner meeting of the Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Association in the Hotel Waldron Wednesday evening. His topic was "TV, Kids and Comics."

He stated that parents do not supervise the reading of their children closely enough and that 98 per cent of children read comic books "which usually aren't comical."

★ ★ ★

Some comic books are ideal because they serve as an introduction to the classics, he observes, "but it is up to the parents to keep a child's reading level on a high caliber."

PLAN WORKSHOP

Final plans were completed for the one-day secretarial workshop to be held March 14 at Madison Junior High School.

Committees for the workshop are: Mrs. Kay Rector, chairman; Mrs. Mary Johnson, assistant; Mrs. Garland Woody, finances; Mrs. Roberta Trayer, registration; Mrs. Michael Kerensky, decorations; Mrs. John Duncan, Edythe Perry and Mrs. Lois Gaigalas, exhibits; Mrs. Russell Brackett, publicity.

★ ★ ★

The deadline for reservations is March 7. The theme is "Invest One Day in a Better Future."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Hope Scott and Mrs. Mary Johnson.

Mrs. Jorma Sarto, left, of Child Culture Club gave the invocation. Mrs. Richard DeWitt was in charge of tickets for the Junior Child Study Club. Both seem to be enjoying the witty comments of guest speaker Mrs. Dana Rose.

Women's Section

Movie, Talk Spark Meeting of Owen PTA

A film, "Children's Fantasy," was shown at the meeting of Owen PTA held Wednesday evening in the school's multi-purpose room. The film described children's dreams, imaginations and fears.

Francis McDowell, visiting teacher in Pontiac city schools, answered questions about the film and parents' problems. He also spoke briefly about the visiting teacher program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Horace Sudbury and Mrs. Earl Oltesvig will be delegates to the 20th annual Citizens' Conference on Education, to be held Feb. 28 in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Room prize for having the largest percentage of parents present was won by Mrs. John Kervertis' room. Mrs. Norris Smith's room won honorable mention.

★ ★ ★

Refreshments were served by second grade mothers, with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Russell Holmes pouring.

Program Scheduled by Carpenter PTA

Mrs. Vena Kirkpatrick of Lake Orion schools will speak on "How We Shall Teach Our Children," at the Carpenter School PTA meeting to be held at 7:30 Monday evening. A board meeting will precede this at 7 p.m.

Musical selections will be given by the fifth and sixth grade chorus.

On Tuesday, a polio immunization clinic will be held at Proper School from 1 to 8 p.m. Anyone in the Webber-Proper-Carpenter areas may receive from one to four Salk vaccine shots.

Consider Your Weight When Shoe Shopping

The shoe style which is most becoming to you is directly connected with your weight. This may sound strange but it's true.

★ ★ ★

If you are plump, avoid the backless and toeless pump or sandal. Jamming your feet into these shoes will not make either you or your feet look smaller. It will only serve to emphasize your weight and make you look top-heavy.

What Young People Think

Life Can Be Miserable for Peeved Teeners

By EUGENE GILBERT

Man has an infinite capacity for bothering his fellow man.

It's the steady progression of small annoyances that frequently makes humanity seem so inhumane.

Leaving the cap off the toothpaste, piaying the hi-fi set too loud, putting too much starch in the collars and cuffs, finding lipstick marks on a drinking glass, failing to put the garbage out at the appointed hour—these are the petty peeves that bring torture into everday life and provide grist for the divorce mills.

Young people, who often seem to take life as they find it, are not immune to these little molehills of irritation which in time become mountains of smouldering suffering.

★ ★ ★

In a nationwide survey we learned that teenagers have an endless list of private gripes and petty peeves that they would like to see blotted out.

MOST HAVE PET PEEVES

Like the Lord High Executioner's list in Gilbert & Sullivan's "Mikado," here are a few of the inconsiderate citizens who never would be missed by America's teenagers.

The indefatigable gum chewers.
Teachers who give surprise tests.
Comrades who dress or talk too loudly.
People who don't turn off faucets.
Name droppers.
Place droppers.
Attention beggers.
Cigar smokers.
Nail chewers.
Those who are constantly going on new, sensational diets.

"And don't forget the guys who are always slugging you on the shoulder," pleads Carl Pullen, 15, of Sac City, Iowa.

"Or the weekend guests who always leave the lights burning when they leave a room," adds Nancy Mitchell, 18, of Washington, D. C.

★ ★ ★

Housewives who never get around to cleaning their houses seem to bug 15-year-old Steven Leffert of Los Angeles.

'OLD RELIABLE'

Most teenagers — 70 per cent — have been nursing the same pet peeve for a goodly portion of their young lives without learning to live with it or to conquer it.

Only 20 per cent are constantly acquiring new peeves, either to add to their collection or to replace old ones.

The remaining 10 per cent either didn't know or were too peeved to answer.

Judy Mendell, a long suffering 17-year-old high school senior from Augusta, Maine, said very few things in life really irritate her, but the few seem to remain constant and even grow more annoying with the passage of time.

★ ★ ★

Similarly, Helen Fiona of Raleigh, N. C., reports that her pet peeves are few in number, seldom vary, have been there for years and are "incredibly hard to get rid of."

On the other hand, Gregg Wilson, 17, of Jackson, Mich., finds that variety can be both the bane as well as the spice of life, at least where minor irritations are concerned.

"I often get new ones," said Gregg of his pet peeves. "As I mature, certain thing no longer bother me, but new ones arise."

Slightly more than half (56 per cent) of the youngsters interviewed said they tried to keep their peeves under control by avoiding the sore spot or the person who causes the annoyance, but a complacent 33 per cent said they just sat back and accepted their peeves as part of the nuisance factor in life.

"Why fight the inevitable?" asked 17-year-old Kevin Coughlin of Jamaica Plain, Mass.

"I accept them," explained 16-year-old Scott Bradford of Exeter, N. H., "because I know I can never change them."

WHAT'S REACTION?

But how do they act when face to face with the old object of torture, the lingering sore of so many years?

Nearly half, 40 per cent, frankly admitted that they blew their stacks. Slightly more, 43 per cent, managed to keep control.

About 10 per cent kept calm most of the time but admitted an occasional blow-up in the face of an old pet peeve.

Some, under duress, gritted their teeth, muttered under their breath, became sullen or speechless. Others, of a more volatile nature, confessed to more dynamic behavior.

"I occasionally start screaming," confided 17-year-old Sharyn Borgeson of Duluth, Minn.

"I may start throwing things," admitted Nancy Jordan of New Rochelle.

Most, however, said they were forced to do what the rest of the human race does when confronted with a pet peeve: suffer in silence, doing the slow burn with tight-lipped determination to cover up the turmoil raging within.

Some Subtle Ways to Please the Men

By RUTH MILLETT

You'll make a hit with a man if—

You are more interested in getting him to talk than in getting him to listen.

You not only ask his advice occasionally but take it when he gives it and report back if all turns out well. "I'm so glad I listened to you—" is music to any man's ears.

You toss a bouquet instead of a brickbat when another woman is being praised.

You keep your voice low and pleasant and easy to listen to.

You never offer him any unasked-for advice or insist on supervising him when he does a job for you.

You don't ask stupid questions. If you know something of what he is talking about and really want to know more you can ask intelligent questions. If you know nothing about it and don't really care one way or the other your questions are sure to sound stupid and to be irritating.

You pay him subtle compliments. Too obvious compliments, coming from a woman, may embarrass a man—but any man will glow if he receives a subtle compliment. He'll remember it, too.

You look attractive enough to be a credit to him. Never believe your looks don't matter to a man.

You register when he talks. Women who listen with half their minds do nothing for a man's ego.

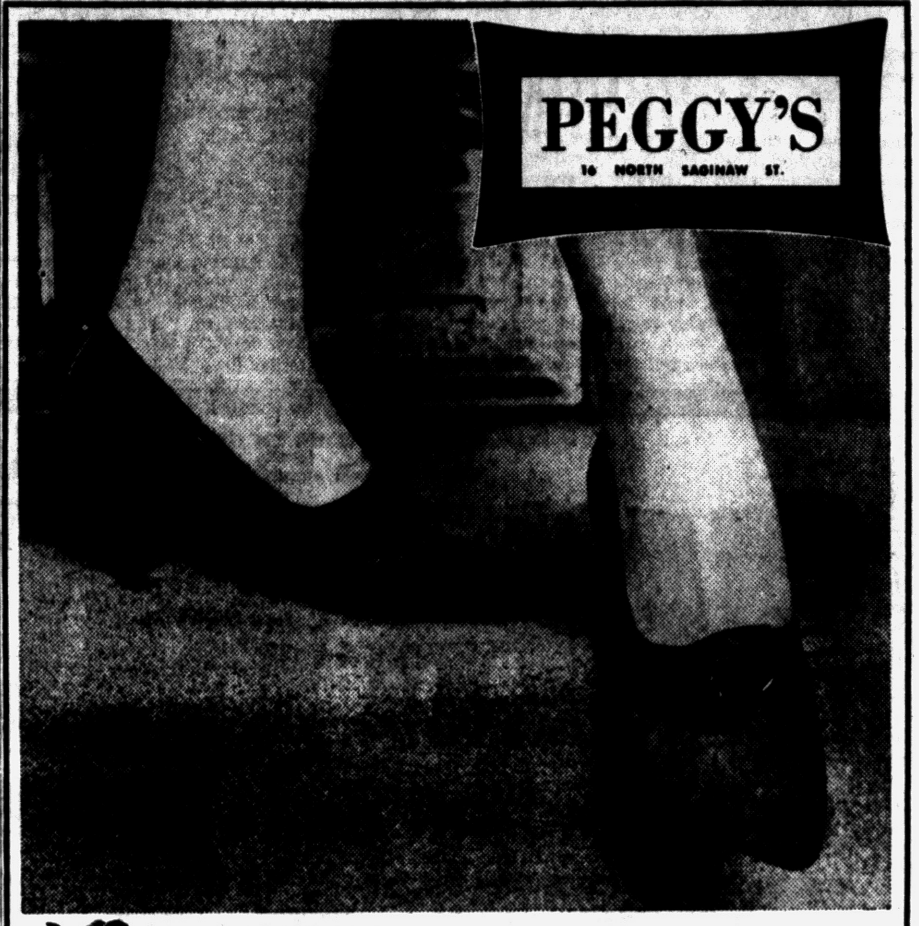

You are perfectly at ease and sure of yourself. A woman who is ill-at-ease makes a man uncomfortable.

★ ★ ★

You dress to please him instead of dressing to impress your friends. You'll look better, too.

You are gracious to other people. A woman's rudeness or lack of sympathy for others makes a man uncomfortable.

You consistently build him up and don't try to prove that you are superior to him in any way.

And What to Do When You Get One

How to Keep From 'Catching' Cold

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At least 100,000,000 wretched citizens will lift their faces from handkerchiefs this winter and announce glumly:

"I seeb do be gatchig a code."

Most of them will wonder, amidst their sniffling and sneezing misery, why medical science doesn't isolate the cold virus and develop a vaccine against it.

The answer to this question is both complicated and discouraging, according to scientists at the National Institute of Health who have spent years in research on mankind's most prevalent illness.

They have learned that the "simple" ailment which most people call a common cold is actually a whole spectrum of respiratory infections. The symptoms of these infections are remarkably similar, but they are caused by at least 50 different viruses.

Vaccines already have been developed, and are being used by the armed forces, against several of these viruses which are known to cause frequent epidemics among military recruits.

A researcher at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md., thinks he has identified a virus which causes about 30 per cent of the civilian colds.

But other scientists are skeptical.

A "cure" for colds is even more elusive than a vaccine.

Americans spend hundreds of millions of dollars each winter on cold remedies. They dose themselves with pills, sprays, cough syrups, lozenges, nose drops, inhalors, steam kettles, ointments, mustard plasters and whisky.

Sometimes they badger their doctors into giving them injections of antibiotic drugs.

None of these things will speed recovery from a cold, said a spokesman for the National Institute of Allergies and Infectious Diseases (the branch of the National Institutes of Health that deals with respiratory illnesses.)

"The best thing to do when you feel a 'cold' coming on is to go to bed for a day or two," he said. "This rests your body and gives it an optimum chance to mobilize its own defenses against the infection. It also lessens your opportunities to infect others, or to pick up secondary bacterial infections from others.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

"Take a couple of aspirins, if you wish, to relieve the discomfort. If you want to treat the specific symptoms of your ailment with nose drops or gargles or cough syrups, ask your doctor to recommend something. But don't expect any of these things to make you well. The most they can do is provide temporary relief of local discomforts."

What can you do to avoid catching cold in the first place?

The most important thing is to stay away from people who have colds. This is often not feasible. But you should do your best to keep a few feet of clean air between yourself and any person who is in the sneezy-drippy stage. That's when colds are most contagious.

Taking care of your general health — through proper diet, adequate sleep, good personal hygiene, etc. — will help to build up your resistance to colds. Some people, however, seem to have a natural susceptibility to respiratory infections, no matter how healthy they may be otherwise. The doctor's don't know why.

Researchers are also more or less in the dark about the precise role of "thermal factors" in respiratory infections.

Some people seem to catch cold when they are chilled, others when they get overheated. Some are rendered easy marks by wet feet, others by sitting in drafts.

About all that can be said with certainty is that none of these things "cause" a cold.

They simply lower the body's resistance to invasion by viruses. And individuals vary greatly in how they are affected by heat, cold and dampness.

"You just have to know yourself, and use a little common sense," said the NIH spokesman.

Folks in Trouble Turn to Army

Many Mercy Missions Carried Out by U.S. GIs in Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —It has become automatic for people in trouble to turn to the American armed forces for help—and get it.

Emergencies are strictly routine for American soldiers and airmen stationed around Europe. What follows is a brief selection of mercy missions carried out in recent years, based on information supplied by the services themselves:

★ ★ ★

Ingrid Kief, a 12-year-old girl in Ludwigshafen, Germany, is suffering for a heart disease which will take her life—unless she can get to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for a delicate operation.

Ingrid's mother could never earn the $5,000 for the operation, certainly not in the limited time left for the girl.

United Press International told Ingrid's story one day and UPI's Frankfurt bureau was flooded with calls from Army and Air Force units all over Germany. They asked just one question: "How can we help?" Ingrid will get her operation.

★ ★ ★

Last August, a German soldier was hospitalized in Coblenz, suffering from a disease which left him bleeding continously. Specially prepared frozen blood plasma was flown to Coblenz by Army helicopter and the Air Force hospital at Wiesbaden sent plasma by special courier flight. The soldier will survive.

One example concerns the Wagner Festival at Bayreuth last summer. Getting from Nurenberg to Bayreuth can be troublesome, train and bus schedules being what they are. Army authorities agreed to let a German civilian airline use its Bayreuth field, and music lovers were airlifted to the festival from Nuernberg.

And then there was a four-year old girl with whooping cough. A doctor told the child's mother that she needed an airplane ride. The mother contacted American officials at Bad Kissingen and the girl was flown back and forth over the town of Schweinfurt. When the coughing stopped, the plane landed —another mission of mercy completed.

East German Girls to Help Settle Russians

BERLIN (AP) — About 25,000 girls are going to be shipped to new farming areas in the Soviet Asian republic of Kazakhistan, to make the boys there mind their manners among other things.

The East German news agency ADN reports the impending feminine migration.

★ ★ ★

Soviet papers recently printed complaints that young male settlers in the frontier territory were getting sloppy in their dress and manners because there were no young women around.

The girls, said ADN, have volunteered "to help the quick development of this rich territory."

Develops New Ignition System

Use Transistors to Improve Performance of New Unit

TOLEDO (AP)—Electric Auto-Lite Co. today announced development of a high-voltage, transistorized ignition system for automobiles. The company said it is a major development in automotive engineering.

The unit is contained in a single package slightly larger than the conventional ignition coil, which it replaces.

It can be installed in minutes in any battery ignition system and is compatible with other conventional auto electrical components, the company said.

Auto-Lite said the new system provides maintenance-free ignition, lifetime distributor contact service and eliminates condensers. Also eliminated, it continued, are starting failures and poor starting due to "blued" contact points.

Conventional ignition output is often 50 per cent less at high speeds than at low speeds. Auto-Lite says its transistorized unit provides top ignition performance at all speeds.

The system will be available to the public first as special equipment for private car owners. Auto-Lite said it probably would be optional equipment for autos purchased from dealers by 1961 at the latest.

Weather Balloon Soars to Record 146,000 Feet

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—An Army Signal Corps weather balloon set an altitude record for balloons of 146,000 feet. That's almost 28 miles.

The Signal Corps said it tops by several thousand feet the previous high for a balloon, either manned or unmanned.

★ ★ ★

The ascent was made here Jan. 30 to test an improved synthetic fiber. The Signal Corps announced it Wednesday.

A special radio equipped "hypsometer" attached to the balloon measured the altitude. It is accurate to a fraction of 1 per cent, the Signal Corps said.

★ ★ ★

The balloon instruments recorded a low of 85 degrees below zero at 10 miles. It was a mild 40 above at 146,000 feet. The trip took just over two hours.

Sears, Roebuck President Becomes Ford Director

Selling Weakens Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Liquidation weakened the grain futures market again today in early activity on the Board of Trade.

★ ★ ★

Offerings were fairly well absorbed, however, and the setback was limited to minor fractions. Dealers said the selling appeared to be partly a continuation of the profit-taking which turned the market downward rather sharply in yesterday's late trading.

★ ★ ★

After an absence of one day, Yugoslavia was back in the market for another cargo of wheat, taking about 350,000 bushels of hard for shipment next month.

The Department of Agriculture also accepted subsidy bids of four to five cents a bushel on 1,083,000 bushels of corn for export this month and next.

★ ★ ★

Wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel lower near the end of the first hour, March $1.99⅜; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March old type contract $1.14⅝; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 66⅝; rye unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $1.36⅛; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, March $2.19¾.

SEC Stops Trading in Jacobs, Bon Ami

WASHINGTON (AP)—All trading in the common stocks of F. L. Jacobs Co., and the Bon Ami Co. has been prohibited by the Securities and Exchange Commission for 10 days.

The action was taken, the commission said, "to prevent fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative acts or practices."

★ ★ ★

The New York Stock Exchange suspended trading in the stocks of both firms last year. The SEC action goes farther and bars trading in Jacobs on the Detroit exchange and trading in either company's stocks in over-the-counter markets.

A hearing will be held here March 16 to determine whether Jacobs common should be suspended or withdrawn from listing on the New York and Detroit exchanges. A similar hearing in the Bon Ami case will be held March 23.

Lincoln Birthday Quiets Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices milled unevenly in quiet Lincoln's birthday trading early today.

★ ★ ★

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule among key issues.

Among the wider movers, Lukens Steel rebounded more than a point from its 3-point loss of yesterday. American Telephone added another point or so as it resumed its rise.

Chrysler gained a fraction in the wake of news that it made a nice pickup in fourth quarter earnings despite its 1958 deficit. Other automotive shares showed little change.

★ ★ ★

The steels, aside from Bethlehem which dipped a fraction, were mainly on the upside by small fractions. January Steel production was reported the highest monthly output since mid-1957. Plus signs were shown by U.S. Steel, Republic and Jones & Laughlin.

Oils were irregular in the wake of reports of lower prices for crude. Standard Oil (New Jersey) was down a fraction. Other price changes were quite narrow.

Nonferrous metals drifted off slightly. Fractional losers included Anaconda and Aluminum Ltd.

★ ★ ★

Rails, airlines, aircrafts and chemicals were mixed.

Semiholiday conditions prevailed in the financial district as banks were closed.

Diesel Tax Revenue Rises in Crackdown

LANSING (AP) — Collections of diesel fuel taxes in January jumped more than 25 per cent over the same month a year ago, mostly because of a crackdown on cheaters, the Secretary of State's office reported.

January collections were $170,356, up $35,994 from the $134,362 collected during the same month last year.

"Our enforcement people have uncovered proof of irregularities among a few dealers and users during the past year and have obtained convictions," explained Secretary of State James M. Hare. "Each conviction helps to straighten out others who might be tempted to disobey the diesel fuel tax laws."

Simple New Device Can Find A-Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A simple, accurate remote control device for recording earthquakes and monitoring atomic explosions has been developed by a government scientist.

The robot quake recorder seismograph which is now set up on an Arizona mountainside can detect atomic explosions in the United States and throughout the Pacific Ocean area.

Although the government did not say so, it was believed the instrument might be valuable in policing any agreement to ban nuclear bomb tests.

Richard R. Ross, an electronic scientist with the Coast and Geodetic Survey, developed the system. It is now in use 15 miles from the Tucson Magnetic Observatory.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey, part of the Commerce Department, plans to use the system at Honolulu and Fairbanks, Alaska.

Pilot Finds Source of Courage

off beside me, except that the boom never stopped. It was the air outside rushing past at nearly 800 m.p.h.—a sound no one had ever lived to describe.

I don't remember squeezing the seat-ejection trigger, but when the plane hit the water five seconds later I was not in it.

I don't remember anything, in fact, of the six days after that cannon exploded beside me. Flight engineers and doctors have told me what happened. As I shot out of the diving plane, I slowed down so fast that for an instant I weighed 40 times normal.

BLOOD VESSELS BURST

My blood vessels burst, my eyeballs strained at their roots, my internal organs tore loose. The wind snatched off my helmet and mask, my shoes and socks, my watch, even the ring on my finger. It tore my lips and nose and rushed down my throat.

Then my parachute opened and I floated down to the sea.

I did not sink because the wind that had blasted down my throat had inflated my stomach like a rubber ball. I was hauled from the water by a fishing boat and sped to a waiting ambulance.

Doctors labored around the clock to keep me alive.

As I gradually became conscious, I was aware at first only of pain. Then, as memory returned, I was gripped by something far worse, fear.

★ ★ ★

I lay there in that high hospital bed and felt fear settle down like the white sheet over me. I wasn't afraid I would die; I was afraid I might live.

NURSE HAD FAITH

And then Nurse Cole walked into my room. Her face had the good-humored confidence of a woman whose tranquil life has never known the slightest upset.

When she took this job as special nurse, doctors doubted that I would live. Mrs. Cole did not. The idea of my dying even amused her slightly.

"Live through such a leap as that, and then die in bed!" She could hardly keep from smiling. Her faith filled the room like something you could touch.

One night, when the pain was bad, she filled the tub in the bathroom with boiling water. For five hours she dragged heavy, wet towels from there to my bed and placed them against my back, going from bathroom to bedroom like the pendulum on a tireless clock.

★ ★ ★

It was that night that I suddenly said to her, "Tell me about yourself." And slowly, softly, she told me.

Her husband had installed metal skylights on buildings until he had fallen and broken his back. The break was complicated by TB of the spine and for a long while he was unable to walk.

To support her family, she had worked as a nurse until she caught typhoid fever from a patient. She, too, would never really be strong again, but they had gone ahead and bought the turkey ranch they'd always wanted, only to watch it burn to the ground one terrible night.

She came to the bed with another steaming towel, and I opened my eyes to stare at her. She had the happiest face I'd ever seen.

★ ★ ★

"Where do you get the courage to keep going?" I whispered at last.

She looked at me in surprise.

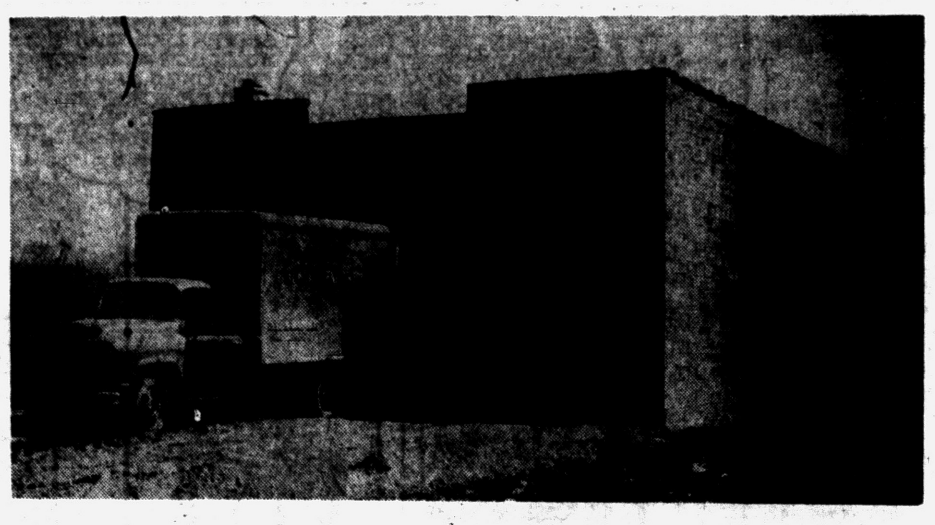

"What? That's what courage is!" she said. "It's knowing the worst—and discovering that, in God's world, the very worst can't really hurt you . . ."

So now, sitting there on the runway, I heard that gentle voice again. "Knowing the worst, and knowing that, in God's world . . ." I shoved the throttle full forward and felt the great thrust of the engine as the plane sped down the runway and up into the sky.

Bill Would Restrict Explosives to Minors

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit lawmaker moved today to put curbs on sale to minors of explosive materials used in propulsion of homemade missiles and rockets.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) said an estimated 15 or 20 Michigan boys and girls were seriously hurt in the past year due to careless handling of such materials, premature ignition and other misadventure.

His bill would make it a misdemeanor for a druggist or other merchant, without first getting parental consent, to sell these substances to minors:

Nitric acid, sulphuric acid, potassium chlorate, potassium permanganate, potassium nitrate, sulphur, metallic peroxides, ammonium nitrate, ammonium dichromate, chromic acid, sodium or potassium metal and powdered iron, aluminum, magnesium and zinc metals.

Ryan said sheriffs and druggists favored the bill.

Cara Williams Offers Secret of Unpopularity

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Beautiful redhead Cara Williams — who's an Oscar possibility for her performance in "The Defiant Ones" —was telling us why she won't get it. "I'm unpopular," she confessed while at dinner. "And why am I unpopular? Because I'm frank." For example, when a man asked her at dinner, "Do you mind if I smoke a cigar?" she quickly answered, "Not if you don't mind me being sick!" After she broke up with her husband, John Barrymore Jr., following a quarrel over his needing a haircut, a Hollywood friend said, "Thank God, they didn't bust up over anything trivial."

WILSON

Pvt. Steve Lawrence, bedecked in gold braid, epaulets, etc., because he's soloist in the U.S. Army Band, told us at the Steve Allen show that his uniform's so flamboyant that all sorts of Army officers salute him in Washington. (Ike saluted him three times.)

CARA

The Terry Moore-Gene McGrath divorce — obtained in Panama — becomes final Feb. 28.

"Remember when Ozzie Nelson was the orchestra leader at the Hotel Lexington; and Jack Benny was selling Jello on the radio with Kenny Baker tenoring; how Jackie Cooper used to tear hearts out as a child actor; Dinah Shore was cooing into a microphone at WNEW; when Big Crosby's ork leader was Lennie Hayton and Arthur Godfrey was doing an all night radio show?"—Ted Green.

Legislators Like Williams' Plan

Many Favor Proposal of Loan Program for Incoming Industry

LANSIN G (UPI)— A plan by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to have the state back a loan program for industries proposing plants or research in Michigan, today prompted somewhat favorable reaction from many legislators.

★ ★ ★

Williams' plan, revealed yesterday, would insure loans for construction of plants and for industrial research with loans up to a million dollars backed by the state.

The Legislature already was considering a bill, introduced by House Democrats, to permit the state to pledge credit and issue notes and bonds up to $100,000,000 to implement the plan.

Williams said the program would strengthen local industrial develop- small business investment corporations.

★ ★ ★

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) suggested that Williams "re-examine present laws on the books which provide for the creation of a development credit corporation to provide loans to businesses outside regular commercial channels."

He said he had not had time to study the proposal that the plan be put to the people in the April 6 election as an amendment to the constitution.

Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland), chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, declined to favor or oppose the plan but said, "No businessmen have indicated to me there is any need . . . what we do need is a better climate."

★ ★ ★

House Republican Floor Leader Allison Green (R-Kingston), said such a move might be good because Michigan "is in rather stiff competition with other states for industry."

'Meet Mr. Lincoln' Scores Catching Civil War Mood

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — I am inclined to believe that despite what the Chinese say few pictures are really worth 1,000 words.

★ ★ ★

Much of the display ground out by TV, for example, is hardly worth any. But I suppose that's the way the fortune cookie crumbles.

However, "Meet Mr. Lincoln," a Project 20 undertaking beamed out by NBC-TV last night, was an elegant exception. Using still photos gathered in the Lincoln emporia of this country, "Meet Mr. Lincoln" stitched together a half hour of considerable richness.

Backstopped by a Robert Russell Bennett score that laced tunes of the period around its husk, the show stacked its photos in an artful pile which gave its 30 minutes immediacy and pulse.

★ ★ ★

It had movement and even more important, a feeling of contact with thet Civil War period.

SHORT SHOTS: CBS-TV's U. S. Steel Hour presented an adaptation of Leo Tolstoy's "Family Happiness" last night that teetered precariously on the edge of fudginess.

Gloria Vanderbilt in the lead role gave an uncomfortably uneven performance — she is as yet unable to tap her insides and she lacks sufficient technique to fake her way through.

But Miss Vanderbilt does have an earnestness, a touching willingness to please and an intelligence that makes her an interesting possibility for the future.

★ ★ ★

It was a mistake to throw her in last night against Jean Pierre Aumont, who insulates himself inside his playing.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Jack Webb's new series, The Black Cat, is shaping up as the replacement for NBC-TV's Behind Closed Doors which has the wobbles . . . ABC-TV's Pat Boone will go into the film production business starting this summer . . . Bob Hope racked up a 27.4 Trendex for his NBC-TV hour special Tuesday, out-clipping all of his CBS-TV and ABC-TV opposition.

Call French Cabinet to Discuss Algeria

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle summoned the French cabinet into session today to discuss the Algerian problem and the new crisis in Franco-Tunisian relations.

★ ★ ★

The cabinet was called to the presidential palace ostensibly to hear Premier Michel Debre report on his tour of rebellion-wracked Algeria. Rightwing French settlers made plain their discontent with De Gaulle's Algerian policies during Debre's visit.

But the crisis between France and its former protectorate of Tunisia was expected to be given priority by the nation's highest council.

★ ★ ★

Relations between France and Tunisia have dropped to their lowest point since the French bombing of a Tunisian border village a year ago. The French charged the village of Sakiet-Sidi-Youssef was a staging point for Algerian rebel forces.

Movie Makers Favoring Remote Mexican Spots

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The scene is the 16th century. Several hundred soldiers are frantically preparing for battle. Then a 1959 model car comes over a hill.

"This is one of the reasons many moving picture companies come to Mexico," says Ernest Anderson, public relations man for a producer.

"Really remote U. S. locations without telephone or light poles are getting hard to find for costume films or westerns. Then, when you find one, anything can happen.

"We spend a fortune getting ready for a big outdoor scene set, say, in 1492. Hundreds of extras are involved. We're a long way from civilization and think we're set. About the time we start shooting, a Jet plane zooms across the sky."

There goes several thousand dollars.

★ ★ ★

In Mexico it's different. There are a lot of undeveloped areas. One of the more popular now is around Durango, a northwestern state.

Two films have been shot here recently with such stars as Robert Mitchum, Julie London, Burt Lancaster, Audrey Hepburn, Lillian Gish and Audie Murphy. Miss Hepburn was tossed from a horse and broke several vertebrae during one filming.

"Durango is popular, and you're going to see a lot more movies filmed around there soon," says Anderson.

Elsewhere in Mexico, too, there are tax inducements. Extras come cheap — sometimes free. Mexican studios are among the best in the world, and Mexican technicians are excellent.

For outdoor scenes, Durango is becoming a sort of hayseed Hollywood. It is 6,207 feet high but on a level plain in the slopes of the Sierra Madre. Nearby are wide valleys, forests, glens, mountain peaks 10,000 feet high.

★ ★ ★

Mineral springs have made the area a favorite health spot for centuries. Gold, silver, iron, rubies are found in the mountains.

There are bears, wolves, coyotes, deer, wild turkeys, geese and ducks, and a wide variety of foliage.

It's cold in the mountains, warm on the plateaus, hot in the valleys. The area provides settings for just about any kind of movie.

In 1789-90, Capt. Robert Gray of Tiverton, R. I., became the first man to sail the American flag around the world. He did it repeated the journey in 1791-93.

Asks Committee on State Welfare

LANSING (AP) — A Republican legislator has asked for a special joint legislative committee to study the state welfare program and to probe reports of cheating by aid recipients.

Rep. Harry Demaso (R-Battle Creek) noted that 52 million dollars was appropriated from state revenues alone during the current fiscal year for welfare purposes.

"One of the continually spiraling costs of state government," a Demaso resolution said, "is the state's appropriations for public welfare, foster care, aid to dependent children, old age assistance, old age assistance burials, aid to the blind and aid to the disabled."

Thus, Demaso added, it would be wise to review the entire program of social welfare and determine if new standards of eligibility should be formulated.

Clear in Slaying, She Wants to Be India Missionary

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleared of complicity in her husband's slaying, Mrs. Gemma Caruana wants to go to India as a missionary.

"I hope God gives me strength to carry out my plans," the attractive brunette told reporters after the district attorney dismissed a murder charge against her.

★ ★ ★

John C. Neely, polio-crippled fellow worker of Mrs. Caruana at Capitol Records, faces trial on a charge of murdering Ronald Caruana, photographer whose body was found in the trunk of his car on the desert, Jan. 29.

★ ★ ★

Neely told police Mrs. Caruana needled him into shooting her husband. She denied this and also denied his story that they were intimate.

Cuba Says Police, Troops Killed 20,000 Under Batista

By PAUL SANDERS

HAVANA (AP)—The most hated men in Cuba during and after the fall of Gen. Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship were the esbirros, the sicarios and the chivatos.

Esbirro means a tyrant's thug, sicario a hired killer. Those were the names by which thousands of Cubans refer to Batista's political police and soldiers. Cuba's revolutionary government claims that 20,000 persons were killed by police and troops during the seven-year dictatorship.

Many of Batista's victims were turned in by informers, the chivatos on the dictator's payroll. Chivato is named for a squealing goat.

The sombre background helps explain the wide support Cubans have given their revolutionary army courts in recent trials and executions. Not all Cubans favored the methods used in some of the summary trials but most of them felt deeply that quick punishment had to be meted out. Even dissenters felt that punishment was needed to prevent serious mob action.

Because of Cuba's chronic unemployment the Batista government was able to get thousands to serve as informers against opponents of the regime—and at cheap rates.

Many of the informers—men and women—got $30 or $40 a month.

Not all of the chivatos squealed on Batista's foes. Some took the dictator's money and supplied information to the revolutionary groups conspiring in every corner of the land.

The revolutionary movement headed by Fidel Castro was able to document many cases as the rebellion proceeded because Batista's government was heavily infiltrated with revolutionary sympathizers. Some of them worked right in Batista's presidential palace. One of them took "sick leave" and went off to rebel headquarters in the Sierra Maestra to report.

What the revolutionaries consider is a typical Havana killing by Batista forces was summarized by the prosecutor as follows in a trial at Havana's La Cabana fortress:

"At 1:30 p.m. on April 30, 1958, policemen Emilio Cruz Perez, Natividad Baldomero Travieso, Alberto Varona Morales and others broke down the door at 171 Continental St. . . .

"Inside they found two students, Juan Oscar Alvarado and Jose Adolfo Macao, who were sleeping. The students were yanked from their beds and taken to the living room. There they were made to stand with their hands up, their faces to the wall. They were shot down, in the back, and killed . . .

"The students' money was taken by the patrol which also took personal effects and Alvarado's automobile. The bodies were removed by policeman Julian Carmenarte and others.

"The next day the aforementioned policemen took all the furniture from the house and sold it to a second hand dealer."

Judge Nominees to Be Cut to 10 in Election Monday

Fourteen candidates bidding for five Oakland County Circuit Court judge seats will be trimmed down to 10 when county voters go to the polls in Monday's primary.

Voters then will vote for not more than five of the 14, the 10 receiving the highest number of votes being declared the nominees. Their names will apepar on the April 6 ballot, which means there will be two vying for each of the five judge seats.

The 14 are incumbent Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, and Ftederick C. Ziem, Verne C. Hampton, Ralph F. Finley, James C. Allen, James Renfrew, Wendell Brown, Stanton G. Dondero, Maurice E. Finnegan, Maurice A. Merritt, Milton F. Cooney and Theodore F. Hughes.

All are bidding for judgeship terms beginning Jan. 1, 1960 and ending Dec. 31, 1965.

The four current Circuit Court Judges Holland, Adams, Beer, and Frank L. Doty—expire the last day of this year.

Judge Doty, on the bench since 1927, is not eligible for re-election since state law prohibits judges from trying for another term after they reach 70 years of age.

The unexpired term of the late Judge George B. Hartrick, which is one of the four expiring Dec. 31, 1959, has but its present occupant, Judge Beer, seeking to fill out the term.

So, since Judge Beer has no competition, he will automatically continue in his present job until the term ceases Dec. 31. He will continue after that should he be one of the five elected in the April 6 balloting.

"The only possibility that Judge Beer will not finish out Judge Hartrick's term—and it's a very remote one—would come about if he is defeated by write-in votes," explained Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk.

Mrs. Child added that it is conceivable that Oakland County could have a new Circuit Court judge

Dems Propose $50 Million Loan

If Voters Approve Hike in State Debt Limit, Plan Will Avert Crisis

LANSING (AP)—With "collapse day" at the State Treasury shoved back at least until mid-April, a 50-million-dollar borrowing plan was thrust to the fore today as a means of averting financial disaster.

Whether legislative Republicans would buy the Democratic suggestion was far from clear.

An outpouring of advance tax payments by big business cleared the way for the state to raise its debt ceiling and borrow up to 50 million dollars, if voters approve, Gov. Williams said yesterday.

The Veterans Trust Fund, he said, might not have to be mortgaged to rescue the state from its cash emergency if the legislature follows the borrowing course.

The Governor said he did not necessarily endorse the idea, and warned that his mortgage proposal must be held in readiness for quick passage if the borrowing plan does not go through.

Here's the situation as the Governor outlined it to top legislators:

In response to his appeal, business and industry have come through with 31½ million dollars in advance tax payments in the last 10 days. With this extra money in the treasury, he said, it appeared the state could meet its essential obligations until about April 15, nine days after the spring election.

If two-thirds of the House and Senate approve, a proposal to raise the state debt limit from the present $250,000 to 50 million dollars could go on the April 6 election ballot as a proposed amendment to the state constitution.

Republicans greeted the plan with skepticism but indicated they would give it close study.

Doctor Operates on Sec. Dulles This Forenoon

Calls Hernia Surgery Fairly Simple; Wants Rest for U.S. Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department Press Chief Lincoln White announced surgery for Secretary of State Dulles was successful and his immediate post-operative condition was quite satisfactory.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles underwent surgery today for a hernia.

The information office at Walter Reed Army Medical Center said the operation for a left inguinal (groin) hernia started about 8:10 a.m.

Dulles, who will be 71 on Feb. 25, entered the hospital Tuesday.

Since then each bulletin on his condition has reported good sleep, good appetitite, good spirits.

Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the hospital commandant, arranged to perform the operation. He said it was relatively simple, a bit more complicated than, say, an adenoid operation.

Heaton told newsmen Tuesday he found Dulles "worn out" and in need of a rest.

The secretary still is suffering from the colon inflammation which hit him Nov. 30.

Dr. Heaton said he wants to try to clear that up, too, with medication and rest.

★ ★ ★

The secretary underwent surgery at Walter Reed in 1956 to remove a cancerous portion of his lower intestine.

Dr. Heaton and the White House have said there is no connection between that and Dulles' more recent troubles.

Dr. Heaton and other attending physicians are most concerned about the continuing ailment, known as diverticulitis. It has restricted Dulles to a diet of extremely bland foods in recent weeks.

Informants said Heaton would take advantage of the hernia operation to check on Dulles' intestinal trouble which is in the same abdominal area where the cancer developed. Doctors reported they have found no recurrence of the malignancy.

★ ★ ★

If his recovery from the hernia operation is satisfactory, Dulles is expected to represent the United States at a Big Four Foreign Ministers' meeting this spring.

The White House has vehemently denied reports Eisenhower is considering possible replacements for Dulles should he resign.

Here's GMC's Latest for City Bus Riders

PICTURE WINDOW VISIBILITY—This is the new GMC Truck and Coach Division transit coach designed for city bus riders. With new sleek styling, the coach features picture window visibility, fluorescent white light in the interior and air suspension for a softer ride. Its new V-6 diesel engine will get you there faster.

Ice Jams, Rain Menace Indiana

Floods Recede in North and in Ohio; Are Threat to West Terre Haute

By The Associated Press

Huge ice jams and more rains were potential danger marks today in flood menaced sections of Indiana as overflows in northern Ohio subsided.

Wet weather dampened the two states as well as most other sections in the eastern half of the nation.

The major flood peril appeared ended on the upper Wabash River above Delphi, Ind., after driving thousands of persons from their homes. West Terre Haute was in line as the next major target of the flood waters.

Sandbagging crews, including National Guardsmen, worked through the night in a steady drizzle at West Terre Haute building a temporary dike along Sugar Creek, a Wabash River tributary, instead of trying to patch a 300-foot break in the permanent levee.

Meanwhile, evacuated families in Logansport and Wabash prepared to return to their homes. The Wabash also dropped rapidly at Peru, one of the communities hardest hit by the midwinter floods.

In Ohio, the Maumee River, after overflowing in several places along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo, dropped back to normal after a huge ice jam moved into Lake Erie.

Residents were returning to their homes in other northern Ohio communities. Hardest hit cities were Fremont, Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa, but the overflows did not cause as extensive damage as the floods in January.

Temperatures were in the 60s near the Gulf coast; in the 70s in Florida and in the 40s from Kansas and Oklahoma through the Ohio Valley and Virginia.

Urban Patrons Will Get Luxury in Coach Travel

Glamour in sleek styling will come to city bus riders this year in a complete new line of transit coaches developed by the GMC Truck & Coach Division, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

City bus passengers will look out of picture windows while relaxing in an inviting interior atmosphere of fluorescent white light, patterned Melamine panels and anodized aluminum that has the appearance of expensive leathers, Monaghan said.

A new, enlarged heating and ventilating system will provide warmth and comfort in the winter, while air conditioning is available as an extra-cost option that can be integrated in the same air system for hot summer months.

An added new safety factor is the windshield which has nearly three times the area of previous models and will give maxmium visibility to the driver.

93 PER CENT MORE

In all, the total glass area of the bus is 93 per cent greater than in former models and gives city passengers the same unobstructed views that intercity patrons have in parlor coaches.

A new V-6 Diesel engine produces 190 horsepower and a greater torque output that improves acceleration. The V-6 engine concept, new to the industry this year, gives the same cubic capacity as the 6-cylinder in-line, but is more compact and considerably lighter.

Four models ranging in capacity from 45 to 53 passengers comprise the new GMC transit fleet. There will be two 45-passenger models, one 96 inches wide and the other 102. There also are two 53-passenger models of the same widths.

"These new coaches are the first completely new models for city use that we have had in 19 years," Monaghan said.

"They are an important result of the forward engineering development program now under way at GMC Truck and Coach to give both coach and truck operators the latest designs that GMC scientific know-how can produce.

"Passengers in our new busses will find commuting a comfort and pleasure, with streamlined styling, bright metal, fluted and anodized aluminum giving the modern look on the exterior.

"Inside, new materials, new lighting and new colors offer an inviting atmosphere for the busy commuter."

Air suspension was introduced in GM coaches in 1953 but in the new models an improved and simplified system gives an even softer ride and decreased maintenance costs.

All vertical loads are taken by single convolution air springs with lower ride frequency.

In the new transmission shifting is done hydraulically, under full power from hydraulic into direct drive.

Joking Gossip Can Maim, Author Learns Hard Way

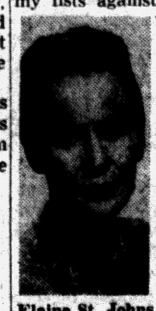

By ELAINE ST. JOHNS
Author and Housewife

I grew up on the Ninth Commandment—literally. (The Eighth Commandment in the Roman Catholic and Lutheran churches.)

When I was 7, without anyone's permission, I "borrowed" my mother's jade earrings to play dress up, and lost them. When they turned up missing, I insisted I had seen my younger brother take them from mom's jewel box.

Billy said he didn't; I said he did. Billy got a licking.

When I heard him yell, I beat my fists against the locked bathroom door and sobbed that I had done it. My dad, knowing my very real love for my little brother, didn't believe me; he thought I was trying to take the blame.

My mother, with that eighth sense mothers have, Elaine St. Johns knew I was telling the truth. With the wisdom of Solomon, she denied me the purgative pain of a worse licking.

Instead she let me smart under Billy's hurt, accusing eyes, and try to win back his trust and respect the best way I could. Never since that day have I told a deliberate falsehood against my neighbor.

When I was a very young married woman, I lived on a block with a lot of other young married women, and one elderly spinster named Miss Coote.

Miss Coote was the only different thing in the neighborhood. She wore high-button shoes to church. When she went shopping she carried an outsized, old-fashioned reticule and was always accompanied by the ginger cat on a leash.

STORIES GREW

We didn't resent her. She was a sweet old thing, quiet and timid. We just thought her odd and had fun building up her eccentricities.

The stories grew as time went on. There were reports that she 'Heck of a Way to Do' —Mayor Said Mouthful!

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — City bus service in this city of 128,000 stopped abruptly in Evansville this morning because "the company cannot continue to absorb the losses."

Mayor William Davidson said he learned of the decision to stop service at midnight and commented: "That's a heck of a way to do."

The city coach line has had a $125,000 loss in the last 18 months.

Rain Predicted, Thaw to Unlock Blanket of Ice

Water in Basements May Turn to Deluge in Next Week

Rain and thaw threatened today to inundate Pontiac and Oakland County with widespread flooding.

The entire state had flood jitters as officials gravely predicted one of the worst February thaws in 10 years.

Drizzles today plus three-quarters of an inch of rain by early next week loomed for the area, as the Weather Bureau forecast temperatures that could unlock the blanket of snow and ice building up throughout the state since Jan. 1.

Complaints of flooded basements and streets began trickling in after last night's heavy rain. Authorities feared the trickle would turn into a deluge within the next seven days.

Major county highways were temporarily blocked or nearly impassable in several low spots last night.

Flood waters still lingered today in many locations, slowing traffic to a crawl.

About a foot of water swirled over the intersection of Franklin and Square Lake Rds., Cass Lake road between West Bloomfield and by several inches, and Haggerty road between West Bloomfield and Commerce Townships was giving drivers trouble in numerous low places.

MANY SCHOOLS CLOSE

Schools were closed in six districts because icy roads made driving dangerous for school buses.

Shut down were schools in Rochester, Armada, Brandon Township, Milford, Romeo and Dryden.

The Scotch Elementary School in West Bloomfield Township was closed after freezing caused a broken water main, cutting off the children's water supply.

Complaints of flooded basements were few, but Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry feared the worst in the next few days.

Barry set out on an inspection of the southeastern part of the county, where ground waters on flat land traditionally flow into basements causing the worst flood damage in the county.

★ ★ ★

Barry reported that flood waters were ponding in many locations and feared that thaw and rain would cause widespread flooding.

Much of last night's rain remains

Clyde Beatty Slashed by Angry Lion

DETROIT (UPI) — Lion tamer Clyde Beatty was slashed by a lion last night during his act at the Shrine Circus, had 12 stitches put in his right arm and announced the show will go on again tonight.

"Caesar," an African lion stripped Beatty's leather glove from his left hand with one swipe of his paw. Beatty's chair and pistol were sent flying across the cage.

With a second swipe, Caesar slashed downward, ripping Beatty's right arm between his elbow and wrist.

Beatty called it "only a scratch." prodding the lion with a pole after the attack.

★ ★ ★

"The bites are the worst," the veteran animal trainer said. "It's not the clawing that bothers me. It's having to take the series of tetanus shots. That's the real bother."

During is 31 years of performing with the big cats, Beatty said hes only been seriously injured six times. About 15 years ago he almost lost a leg that was badly chewed by a lion.

County Group Also Endorses Judges

Dems OK Williams' Plan

Gov. Williams' tax plan, two Supreme Court incumbent justices and four candidates for Oakland circuit judges received the stamp of approval from Oakland County Democrats last night.

★ ★ ★

Local Democrats, prompted by what Oakland Republicans had done, lifted the political barrier on judicial candidates and endorsed Justices George Edwards and John D. Voelker for re-election April 6.

"They have made the present Supreme Court a court for all the people of the State of Michigan," their resolution stated.

It was one of 13 offered and approved without discussion as Democrats massed in Pontiac to draw up their list of 125 delegates to the Feb. 20-21 state convention in Grand Rapids.

NONPARTISAN BASIS

Also getting the nod from local Democrats were incumbent Circuit Judges Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer and candidates James C. Allen and Maurice E. Finnegan.

All Supreme Court and Circuit Court judges are currently elected on a nonpartisan basis, although both parties lately have been inclined to place a "favored" tag on them.

★ ★ ★

Appearance of Maurice E. Finnegan, Pontiac municipal judge, apparently caught Democrats by surprise as he was overlooked in introductions and omitted in an endorsement resolution of the local judges and candidates. However, he later was spotted in the audience and introduced, and his name added to the pre-prepared resolution.

A crowd of more than 200 gathered in the Supervisors Room to hear a battle plan for coming county elections offered by keynote speaker Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state, formerly from Waterford Township.

"Don't go into these elections with the old attitude you are the underdogs," Farnum urged. "This time you are not the underdog, you are the top dog."

★ ★ ★

He produced votes for Secretary of State in Oakland County which showed that after five losing years to the Republicans for this office, last year Democrats won by a margin of 99,823 to 91,219.

Farnum criticized the "political steamroller" method used by state Republicans in organizing the House and making committee assignments in the GOP-controlled Senate.

"They didn't even have the common courtesy to notify Lt. Gov. Swainson when the Senate was meeting for committee assignments," Farnum said.

After repeating proposals of the governor's proposed state income tax plan, Farnum called for Oak-

2 Just Escape Death at Tracks

Leap From Car Only Seconds Before Train Demolishes It

WALLED LAKE — Death took a sudden swipe at two men here and narrowly missed yesterday.

They were approaching the Grand Trunk Railroad crossing at Ladd road in their car as a lumbering freight train roared to meet them. Otis Duncan, 19, of 1646 Lakeview Dr., stomped down on the brakes and the car went into a skid.

Both he and his passenger, Harvey Doak, 30, of 1752 McCoy St., leaped from the careening vehicle seconds before it was rammed broadside by the fast-moving freight train.

The car was pushed down the ice-slicked track forty feet before being shoved aside in a crumbled heap as the train continued on its way to Ann Arbor.

The train conductor, who was riding in the engine cab at the time, said "We saw what was going to happen and knew we couldn't stop in time."

Both Duncan and Doak, owner of the car, escaped without a scratch but the vehicle was a total loss.

Walled Lake Honors Harry Carlson

WALLED LAKE — Harry R. Carlson of 1111 Minda Ct. last night was named "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" here as winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Distinguished Service Award at a banquet held at Rotunda Inn.

★ ★ ★

Carlson was selected from a group of nominees submitted to judges Mayor William Nixon, Mayor Pro Tem Waldo Proctor and Chief of Police Al Decker. Proctor made the presentation.

Among the reasons given for Carlson's selection were his zeal in promoting education, his devotion to church activities and the "fine" work he has done for the Jaycees.

★ ★ ★

Presently, he is assistant principal of the Walled Lake School, and has been named by the Board of Education to become principal beginning next fall.

A majority of Carlson's out-of-school time is devoted to work with the Shepherd of the Lakes Evangelical Lutheran Church of which he is a charter member.

He is also a member of the church council, superintendent of the Sunday School, chairman of religious education and a member of the building committee.

Largely due to Carlson's efforts as membership chairman of the Jaycees there has been a 200 per cent increase in members since July. He also is a member of the board of directors.

★ ★ ★

A native of Pontiac, Carlson received his B.A. degree from Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. and his master's degree from Wayne State University, Detroit.

He is married and the father of two small children.

Robert Green of 1364 N. Pontiac Trl., past president of the Jaycees, member of the board of directors and presently fund raising chairman, earned the "Key Man" vote of his fellow members.

Under Green the club raised $800 in the past three months. His citation was read by Russell Mack, last year's winner of the Distinguished Service Award, who was banquet chairman and toastmaster.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the two awards, the Jaycees honored their bosses by having them as dinner guests. Guest speaker of the evening was Herbert Auer of the Department of Continuing Educational Services at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

The group also heard Bruce Enfield, Jaycee president, briefly map out plans for the year.

In a letter to the township board, highway officials said there would be no parking at any time between Avon road and a point 225 feet south of Second street. This section was improved and the new Southhill Bridge erected last fall.

Troopers Seek Hit-Run Driver

2 Washington Twp. Men Injured as Car Strikes Tractor on Road

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — State Police of the Romeo Post today are seeking the driver of a car involved in a hit-and-run accident in which two men were injured early this morning.

The two men were riding home on a tractor after an unsuccessful attempt to pull a car out of a ditch. Their vehicle was struck in the rear by the hit-run car, throwing both of them off onto the icy pavement.

The accident occurred at 1:15 a.m. on Van Dyke between 25 and 26-Mile roads.

The injured men were Edwin Constantine, 54, of 11370 26-Mile Rd., and Kusma Stepanenko, 52, of 8541 Beliman St., both of Washington. Constantine suffered abrasions and bruises of the right hip and leg and Stepanenko had a bruised left leg. Each was treated by his own physician.

Police said the car involved in the accident would have considerable front-end damage.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Monday. They will be located at the township hall, Twin Beach Elementary School, Sylvan Realty Office in the Cylvan Shopping Center, the fire hall on Green Lake road, Youth Center on Greer road, Orchard Lake Police Station and at the fire station at Greer and Putnam roads.

Orion Township Board OKs Long Subdivision

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Township Board has approved the plat for Long Subdivision which contains four 75-foot lots located at the corner of Fairledge and Longview roads near W. Clarkston road.

Hospital Guild Meets

ROCHESTER — The Avon Center Hospital Guild will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Avon Township Library here. The cancer film scheduled for last month's meeting but postponed will be shown at this time.

2 Slightly Injured as School Bus and Car Collide

ROMEO — Icy road conditions were blamed for the head-on collision yesterday of a car and a Romeo Community school bus, State Police here reported today.

The driver of the car was slightly injured, and one pupil was shaken up in the mishap, according to police.

The accident occurred on 33-Mile road, west of Fisher road and about three miles northeast of here.

Driver of the car was Paul E. James, 38, of 5775 W. 33 Mile Rd. He suffered a lacerated left knee. The pupil shaken up was Robert Haskell, 11, of 296 Townsend Rd. Both were treated by their own physicians.

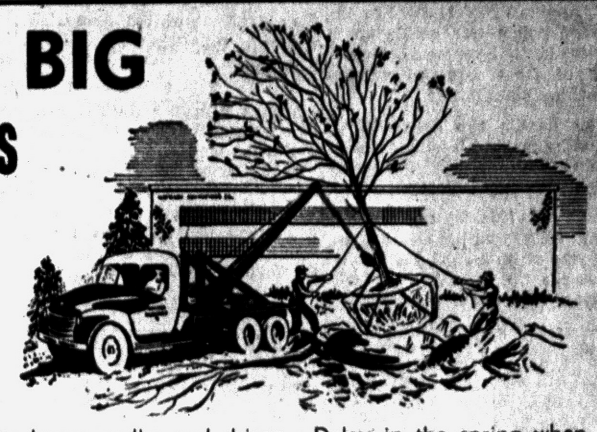

The school bus driver was Mary Jane Cline of 277 Morton St.

Both Mrs. Cline and James said they saw each other approaching on the narrow road and applied their brakes, but were unable to stop, Police said.

Hal Boyle Says:

Boss Finds Room for St. Valentine's Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Abner Joggle, president of the Acme Tiddlyworks Co., liked to open his own mail.

Riffling through a stack he came to an unusual letter. Unstamped, it merely bore a typed greeting: "To the nicest guy in the world."

★ ★ ★

Joggle opened the missive and found therein a small card adorned with crimson hearts and the following jingle:

"Roses are red, and violets are blue,
"You are our Valentine, Boss, we love you!"

The card was unsigned. Beaming with pleasure, Joggle handed it to Eloise Phleeb, his secretary. A look of utter unbelief came into her face.

"Did you send it?" asked Joggle.

"Me?" Miss Phleeb appeared horrified at the mere idea.

"You know, it's the first real Valentine I've received since I was in kindergarten," said Joggle.

★ ★ ★

"Who sent you one then?" inquired Miss Phleeb — and could have bitten off her tongue. She hadn't meant to say that. But the idea of anyone ever sending Joggle a valentine did seem rather unbelievable. So did the thought of him having ever gone to kindergarten.

★ ★ ★

Pretending not to notice her discomfiture, Joggle said amiably: "Well, I sure do appreciate this card. I wonder if you could circulate it around the office and find out who is responsible for it."

★ ★ ★

Dutifully, Eloise took the card and canvassed the office. The reactions ranged from startled wonder to outright indignation. Everyone denied sending the card. All stoutly pleaded innocent.

"Anybody who would try to butter up that old tightwad by sending him a Valentine is an office traitor," said the assistant bookkeeper. "If we find the guilty party, lynch him."

To a man the office agreed that was the only fair thing to do.

When Miss Phleeb reported to her boss her inability to find his office admirer, somehow Joggle didn't seem too surprised.

★ ★ ★

"The best kindness is always anonymous," he murmured.

Shortly before quitting time the entire office staff was summoned. As each one entered, he was handed a one-pound heart-shaped box of candy.

In dazed silence they listened as Joggle arose and said: "Someone really touched my heart this morning with an unexpected gesture of remembrance. But I want you to know the feeling expressed was mutual.

"The box of candy you have been handed is for your wife or sweetheart. But the $10 bonus each of you will receive on your next paycheck is my Valentine to you. Thank you one and all."

★ ★ ★

This wasn't like Joggle at all. Even his oldest, most suspicious employes were caught off their guard. Even Miss Phleeb, the most suspicious of all because she knew him best, felt a strange twinge of gratitude, as she stood in line to wring his hand.

That night at dinner Joggle recounted the incidents of the day to his wife. That durable woman was most surprised of all.

"I wonder who really sent you the Valentine?" she said.

★ ★ ★

"I sent it myself," replied Joggle, "just so I'd have an excuse to give them the candy and the bonus."

Mrs. Joggle's mind reeled. Was this her husband speaking, or a stranger?

"Now I've got the whole office staff off balance," said Joggle cheerfully. "They're so puzzled it'll be six months before one of them will get up the courage to ask for a raise.

"I always did say there was room for sentiment in business—if you know how to use it!"

State Sheriffs Standardizing

Most Have Uniform Cars and Outfits Now; Aim for All

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's sheriffs are gradually working toward uniform uniforms and markings for cars, Ferris E. Lucas, the Michigan Sheriffs' Association secretary-treasurer reports.

Lucas said about 60 of the 83 departments have the standard brown and tan uniforms and between 65 and 70 have black and white markings on their cars.

Lucas, former St. Clair County sheriff, denied there was an "open friction" between sheriffs and state police.

"There's plenty for both of us to do," Lucas said. "There's plenty of crooks and criminals."

Lucas disclosed the results of the first statewide summer of state sheriffs' activity. The survey, based on 1957 activity, showed collection of more than a million dollars in fines, fees and licenses for county treasurers, which appropriated more than eight million dollars for the 83 departments.

Attention Bloomfield Township Voters

Continue Good Government by Re-Electing These Men!

Arno L. Hulet
Supervisor

Mr. Hulet has been associated with the government of Bloomfield Township for the past 26 years. He has served as Justice of the Peace for 17 years, Township Treasurer for 6 years, Township Supervisor for 3 years, to fill vacancy created by the death of David E. Anderson; and a member of the Township Board continuously for the past 26 years.

He is a graduate of Holly High School and received his B.A. degree at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. In addition Mr. Hulet has done graduate work at the University of Detroit. He is a Veteran of World War I having served from 1917 to 1919, with one year in France.

Mr. Hulet was a teacher in the Pontiac School system for 19 years.

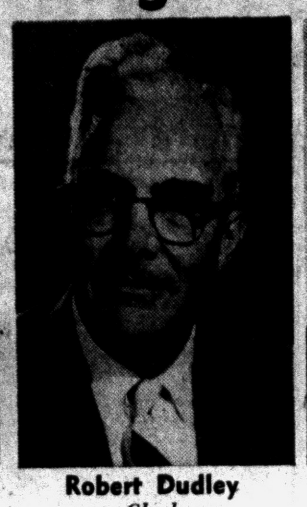

He served as Superintendent of the Oakland County Juvenile Home from 1944 to 1949.

At present he is a member of three important committees on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors as follows:

1. Chairman of Boundaries of Cities and Villages.
2. Member of the Legislatice Committee.
3. Member of the Welfare Committee.

In addition Mr. Hulet has served as President of the Pontiac Lions Club; Commander of American Legion Post No. 20 of Pontiac; President of the Pontiac Hi-12 Club and President of the State Associations of Hi-12 Clubs.

He is a member of the First Congregational Church of Pontiac and lives with his wife at 2355 Franklin Road. Mr. Hulet has two sons, Claude who is an assistant Professor at UCLA and Ross who is with the Ford Motor Company in the experimental department.

Robert Dudley
Clerk

Mr. Dudley has been a resident of Bloomfield Township since 1940, having moved here from Detroit. Prior to being elected Township Clerk in 1947, he was active in the formation and early affairs of the present Bloomfield Estates Improvement Association.

Following graduation from Pratt Institute in Industrial Chemical Engineering, he became associated with Metal and Thermit Corporation (formerly United Chromium Inc.) and has been continuously employed by them from that time. At present he is Regional Manager of the Chemicals, Plating and Metals Division.

He resides at 4510 Charing Cross Road with his wife and son, Robert, and daughter, Virginia.

One of the responsibilities of the Township Clerk is the maintenance of voting lists and records. This was a fairly simple task eleven years ago when the township had one precinct, approximately 3,000 residents, and less than 1,800 registered voters. Today, the Township's population is approximately 20,000, about a seven-fold increase in eleven years.

There are 9,500 registered voters in nine precincts and predictions of thirteen precincts by 1960. Up until recently these records and rolls were kept in simple ring binders which were very inadequate. However, with the multitude of voters we now have a speedy method of checking lists was necessary.

This was accomplished by Ann Birrell, our very efficient deputy, with the installation of Revo files which enable one to check a voter's registration almost instantaneously. This is just one example of how the Township's office operations have been modernized to give economical service. We feel these accomplishments justify your continued support.

Homer Case
Treasurer

Mr. Case has served as Township Treasurer for the past 3 years taking over at the time Mr. Hulet was appointed as Supervisor to fill vacancy due to the death of David Anderson. The Township has witnessed tremendous growth in the past 3 years. By installing modern, up-to-date equipment he has continued to operate the Treasurer's office with not one new employe being added to the payroll.

In addition to his duties as Treasurer, Mr. Case is the Superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department. This department has grown to the point where the Township now serves over 2,000 home owners. In the past 3 years he has helped promote the construction of 5 miles of sanitary sewer. He is completely cognizant of the need for still more expansion of these services and the past 3 years experience in handling these problems makes him a ready and qualified man.

Mr. Case is a high school graduate, also a member of the American Landscape School, a life member of the Michigan State Horticultural Society and a State Licensed operator for Class M water treatment. He is active in the promotion of an outside source of public water supply to serve the Township.

His efforts are largely responsible for the expansion of Police and Fire protection. One new fire hall was completed and equipped last year and another is scheduled for 1959.

Mr. Case is active in church affairs, being an Elder of the Birmingham Church of Christ. He is also Vice-President of the Bloomfield Lions Club and prior to his duties as Treasurer he successfully owned and operated his own business in the Township for a number of years.

He is 43 years of age, married, father of 3 children and is aware of the present school issues. His home is at 7125 Wing Lake road.

Columbus Wasn't First to America, Says Russian

By DENNIS NEELD

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet historian says Christopher Columbus didn't discover America — but he doesn't claim a Russian did.

Moscow radio said the historian's study of ancient documents showed that Columbus already had maps giving the position of some lands of the New World when he set out aboard the Santa Maria on his famous voyage in 1492.

Somebody, the Soviet concluded, must have visited those places to put them on the map.

"It also has been made clear that the best course toward these lands was known to Columbus," Moscow told listeners on its home service.

★ ★ ★

The research was carried out by a lecturer at the Alma Alta Pedagogical Institute identified only as Superny.

Superny made a detailed study of publications and documents in Portuguese, Spanish and Italian archives, the broadcast said.

The theory he advanced before the U.S.S.R. Geographical Society was that "European navigators had visited the New World (before Columbus) but the names of these navigators remained unknown."

Here's how Superny pieced together the voyage:

Columbus crossed the Atlantic following the latitude of the Canary Islands because his charts told him trade winds and currents existed there favorable for navigation toward the New World.

Before the three-ship expedition departed, Columbus handed to his captains secret instructions which they were to open only should the group be scattered by storms.

If this happened, the ships were to proceed "at fixed speeds by day and by night until they had covered 700 leagues (about 2,600 miles)."

★ ★ ★

After covering this distance, they were to continue the journey only in good visibility in order not to run aground.

The Soviet historian said Columbus' son Ferdinand had written about these instructions and showed that his father knew before leaving Spain about the presence of lands to be found 750 leagues to the west of the Canaries.

"In those latitudes the New World is exactly that distance from the old world," Superny said.

Road Building to Be Curtailed

Rugged Winter Takes Construction Fund for Ice and Snow Control

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's unusually rugged winter will force the State Highway Department to cut its 1959 road construction program. The department says it's too early to determine how deep the cut will be or where it will be inflicted.

In an ordinary winter, the department spends about six million dollars for snow and ice control on the 9,300 miles of state highways it maintains in 15 counties.

However, Commissioner John C. Mackie estimates the cost of such maintenance this winter will be upward of eight million dollars.

This means some two million dollars must be diverted from funds budgeted for new road projects.

But, the department's resources could be further depleted by a quick spring thaw.

A total of $1,500,000 has been budgeted for pavement patching on trunk lines this spring.

★ ★ ★

Because of deep frost conditions, the stress of a sudden thaw could damage a lot of pavements that ordinarily would hold up well. If this happens, the extra maintenance cost will further cut new road projects.

County road commissions maintain roads in 68 counties on a yearly contract basis with the state. They, also, are near the end of the line in their winter maintenance budgets and will have to dip into funds set aside for 1959 construction projects.

Adding to the highway department's winter woes is a shortage of rock salt. Some 85 tons of salt have already been spread on state trunk lines. Usually this is enough for an entire winter.

Michigan's main sources of highway salt are the International Salt Co. plant in Detroit and the Morton Salt plant at Windsor. The heavy salt demand has exhausted huge stock piles these firms set up last fall.

Conditions in Lansing, the department says, are representative of much of the state. That city has already applied salt to its streets 36 times more than in a normal winter. And, the frost depth in the Lansing area is five feet—50 per cent above normal.

Even Unto These!

VISALIA, Calif. (UPI)—Prisoners assigned to road work at Tulare County Jail have asked the board of supervisors for a 35-cent-a-day increase in their present 15-cent pay. The inmates said they needed the extra pay because prices of personal items like cigarettes and toothpaste have gone up.

Sorority Holds 40th Banquet

Travel Talk Given for 3 Chapters of Beta Theta Phi

Mrs. Harry Whittaker of Metamora spoke on the subject "An American Courier in Spain" when members of Alpha, Beta, and Gamma Chapters of Beta Theta Phi Sorority held their 40th annual banquet Thursday at Old Mill Tavern.

Mrs. Whittaker has been acting as special hostess and courier for European tours for a travel service in Washington, D.C., the past four years. She arranges for groups of 10 or 12 people to meet tourists when landing on the continent and to stay with them during the entire de luxe tour.

This year she will assist the agency as courier for the International Conference of Business and Professional Women from throughout the United States, taking place in Paris this summer. Mrs. Whittaker told of her experiences on the French Riviera and in Spain the last summer, and showed pictures of Spain and the castle of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco.

First officers and original charter members of the group—Mrs. Emil Mailahn, Mrs. Walter Kinzler and Mrs. Charles Andrews, president, treasurer and secretary respectively—were introduced.

HISTORIES GIVEN

Histories of each chapter for the past year were given by Mrs. Cecil Denison, Alpha Chapter; Mrs. A. A. Kaiser, Beta Chapter; and Mrs. Roscoe W. Lund, Gamma Chapter.

Mrs. Orben D. Wilkins was general chairman and toastmistress for the banquet. Others planning the event were Mrs. Frank Coad, program; Mrs. Harold Davidson, Mrs. Floyd Oswald, and Helen Turek, decorations; and Mrs. Leon Reene, place.

The Anchorettes, a quartette from Waterford Township High School, provided entertainment for the group. Vocalists included Laura Upchurch, Connie Barron, Judy Harnack and Beverly Wells.

Students Stage Skit for PTA

Fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students participated in a skit, "The Alphabet's Quarrel," when Bagley PTA observed its Founder's Day Thursday evening. Harriette Childress directed the program.

Mrs. Theodore Pippen, chairman; Mrs. Booker Woods, Mrs. David Ramsey, and Mrs. Ethel Harris were appointed to the nominating committee.

Room trophy for having the largest percentage of parents present was won by students of Russell Hawley. Mrs. Jessie Evans and Alberta Ross were in charge of refreshments.

Dads! It's Your Job to Raise Fine Sons

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to young fathers:

If you want that baby boy of yours to grow into a real man you had better realize right now that the responsibility for what he becomes is mainly yours—not your wife's.

For a long while now mothers have been blamed for everything wrong with the family picture—including weak, irresponsible sons.

But a new study has revealed that whether or not a soldier is a good fighter or a failure when the going gets rough depends largely on the kind of father he had, not on the kind of mother.

The good fighters, scientists making the study for the U.S. Army discovered, had fathers around until they were at least eighteen years of age. And the fathers of the good fighters, in addition to being around, had a number of things in common.

They ran the family instead of turning over the pants for Mama to wear.

They disciplined the boy instead of turning that chore over to Mama. And their discipline was consistent. Junior knew what would happen if he disobeyed or got out of line.

The fathers of the good fighters weren't side line sitters. They were churchgoing leaders in their communities.

So if you young fathers want your sons to grow up to be men instead of sissies—you had better be sure you are acting the role of he-men yourselves, not only in your own home but in your community.

And you certainly had better face the fact that Junior is more your responsibility than his mother's. It might be easier to let Mama take over and blame her for spoiling your son if he doesn't grow into the kind of man you hoped he would.

No Harm in Asking About Gift

Close Friends May Be Bridesmaids but Not Matrons

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was married about two months ago and received many lovely wedding presents. One present, which was rather expensive, was a duplicate, and the person who gave it to me suggested that I give it back to her and that she would exchange it while we were on our wedding trip. She asked me what I would like to have in its place and I told her we needed an electric iron.

"We have been home for quite some time now and have seen this friend twice but nothing has been said about the present. We need this iron very badly and I don't know whether to go out and buy one or not.

"My husband thinks I should ask her about it. I think this would be improper and might embarrass her. Will you please tell me what to do?"

Answer: It should not embarrass her to have you ask if she has been able to exchange her lovely gift for the electric iron that you really need.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have two very close friends both of whom are married. I was maid of honor at both their weddings and would like to have both of them as attendants at my wedding. I don't want to show partiality to either one. Would it be permissible to have two matrons of honor?"

Answer: No, two matrons of honor are impossible. They can both be bridesmaids even though they are married and, if you have a sister or other close relative, she can be your maid, or matron, of honor.

Younger Child Can't Always Be Protected

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

We were waiting for the department store to open—I, the woman beside me and her two little boys who might have been 5 and 7.

The 5-year-old wore a gun holster. He was a redoubtable child. During our 15-minute wait he must have poked his pistol into his older brother 20 times.

He poked him in the back, the shoulders, thigh, neck and stomach. Each time he was poked, the brother, his eyes fixed dreamily on a side window display of toys, would move out of range. He moved automatically, circling his mother again and again.

Not once did he appeal to her for aid. Not once did he try to aid himself. It was hard to watch.

I wanted to say, "Oh, for goodnes sake, bang your brother, little boy!"

I'm glad I didn't. It would have confused him badly. For just as the doors opened, he did make a painfully constricted, tentative little grab at the pistol, and his mother said sharply, "That will do, Joe. Leave your little brother alone."

It is very easy to scare older children out of their right to defend themselves against the aggressions of younger brothers and sisters.

When the younger ones are very young, they need our protection. We can't allow the unwitting toddler who grabs the older child's doll blanket or ball glove to get struck, We have to say, "I know it, but you can't hurt the baby, Joe."

But toddlers do not stay toddlers. They grow; and like other people then have to start learning that their aggressive actions produce unpleasant consequences. If we continue to demand special privileges for the younger ones, our older children gradually give up all hope of their right to defend themselves.

The thing is, the younger, freer ones don't give up hope. Like Joe's little brother, they go on teasing and persecuting in the hope of exploding something human and interesting from their over-disciplined big brothers and sisters.

So let's go easy on these demands for special privileges for younger children. In our anxiety to protect them against bumps and scratches, we can lose them their brothers and sisters. We can segregate our squabbling children so efficiently they may never get back together.

Pettit's Jump Wins for Hawks

Grabs Victory, 106-105, in Last Minute; Royals Edge Lakers

By The Associated Press

Don't scoff at any of these National Basketball Assn. teams which happen to fall behind by a few points during a game — say 26 or 27.

★ ★ ★

At least don't scoff at the St. Louis Hawks if they are the victims. They have a ready answer. It is Bob Pettit. His jump shot in the last 26 seconds last night gave the Hawks a 106-105 victory over the New York Knicks after St. Louis trailed by 27 points with 16 minutes gone.

It was a similar situation, but on a smaller scale, at Portland, Ore., where Cincinnati trailed the Minneapolis Lakers by eight points in the first quarter. But a second period splurge put them in the van for good, as they beat the Lakers 119-114.

These were the only NBA games. The Hawks victory coupled with Minneapolis' loss reduced St. Louis magic number to one—a St. Louis win or Laker loss—to give the defending champs their third consecutive Western division title.

PNH, Skippers and St. Michael Will Play Away

St. Fred Home, Maples and Avon vs. Leaders; Key Games in W-O

There will be plenty of prep hoop action on tap for area schools tonight with several of them playing away from home.

★ ★ ★

The travelers will include Pontiac Northern, Waterford, Rochester, St. Michael, Avondale and Holly. Birmingham, St. Frederick, Walled Lake, Clarkston, West Bloomfield and Lake Orion will be among the local quintets competing at home.

Northern will be seeking its 4th triumph of the season and 2nd over Thurston in a game at Detroit. The Huskies turned in their best showing of the year in winning the earlier meeting 63-45 here.

★ ★ ★

Waterford will have a good chance to enter the role of "spoiler" going south to Berkley to meet Oakland County's only unbeaten team. The Skippers gave the Bears one of their toughest games last month. Walled Lake is host to Southfield and Farmington vs. Van Dyke elsewhere in the Inter-Lakes League.

★ ★ ★

Rochester will be hoping for a return to peak form needing a victory at Lapeer to get even again with Romeo in the Tri-County standings. Romeo will be visiting Utica.

St. Michael goes to Farmington to meet Our Lady of Sorrows while St. Frederick entertains St. Francis de Sales in pre-tourney warmups.

Avondale, whose followers don't know what to expect next after opposite showings against Fitzgerald and Rochester, gets a chance to dump front-running Troy in the big Oakland B tussle. Orion hosts Madison and Fitzgerald meets Clawson in the others.

★ ★ ★

Holly's nine-game victory streak gets a severe test tonight at Northville. Another Bronco win and a Clarkston upset of Brighton at Clarkston would bring a tie for 1st in the Wayne-Oakland. West Bloomfield takes on Milford and Bloomfield Hills vs. Clarenceville.

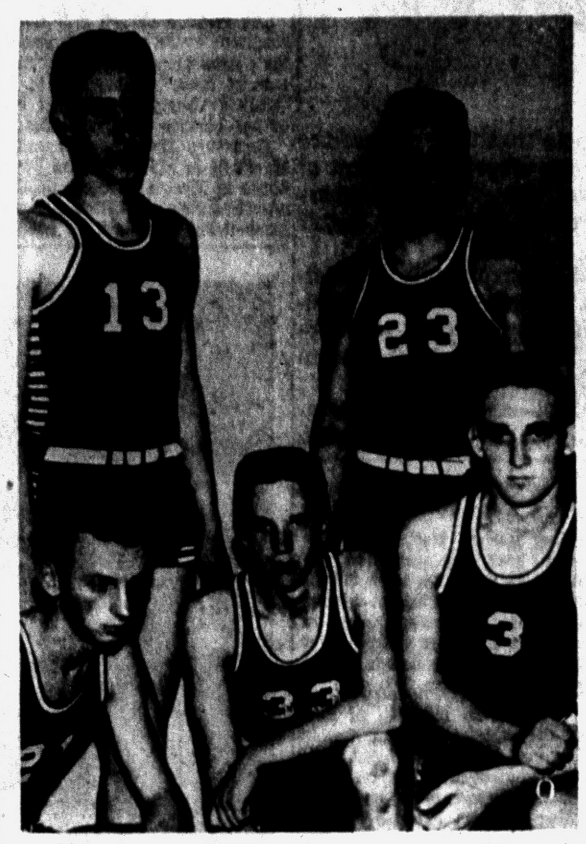

★ ★ ★

Birmingham gets a chance to dump Port Huron out of a three-way tie for the Eastern Michigan lead while Mt. Clemens has the same opportunity against East Detroit. Ferndale, the other pacesetter, is idle while Royal Oak Kimball invades Hazel Park.

Millington is at Oxford and Class C state leader Imlay City visits North Branch in the South Central. A full Southern Thumb slate lists Almont at Capac, Anchor Bay at Dryden, New Haven at Memphis and Armada vs. Brown City.

★ ★ ★

Royal Oak Dondero hosts Highland Park, Country Day is at Lamphere and South Lyon is guest of Pinckney.

Hold Off Reds at Inauguration

Police Stand Guard as Venezuela's President Takes Oath of Office

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Troops and police stood guard today against the threats of Communists and rightists to disrupt the austerity inauguration of President Romulo Betancourt.

★ ★ ★

Betancourt, 50, a moderate leftist and political veteran, is Venezuela's first freely elected president in 10 years. The leader of the Democratic Action party, he is opposed by supporters of ousted dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez, Caracans who voted heavily for the leader of the junta which replaced Perez Jimenez, and the Reds.

Intelligence agents said the opposition planned street disorders during the inauguration, with women dressed in black to block traffic around the Capitol while demonstrators denounced the president.

The newspaper Pregon said free liquor was distributed in a big working class neighborhood to get gangs of youths drunk so they would roam the streets and cause trouble.

A demonstration reportedly arranged for midnight in the central El Silencio district of Caracas did not come off, however. Streets in the area were practically deserted. The district was the site of battles between police and rioters Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Betancourt ordered the inaugural ceremonies kept simple because of the legacy of unemployment and poverty from the ousted dictatorship. He dispensed with the usual parade, grand ball and banquet.

AMC Workers to Get Improved SUB Pay

DETROIT (AP)—Some 20,000 United Auto Worker members at American Motors Corp. plants in Michigan and Wisconsin are in line for improved supplemental unemployment benefits.

AMC and the UAW announced jointly yesterday that an improved SUB plan negotiated by the company and union last October has been approved formally by the U.S. Treasury Department.

The UAW said the plan was retroactive to last Sept. 15 and would increase the sub maximum payment to $30 weekly.

It said "all benefits are payable on the basis of 65 per cent of straight-time, take-home pay rather than being reduced to 60 per cent after the first four weeks of any payoff as in the previous plan."

Summer Language Institute at U. of M.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Language institutes will be established this summer at the University of Michigan, the University of Maine and Louisiana State University.

Lawrence G. Derthick, U.S. Commissioner of Education, said yesterday that operation of the three institutes and the one previously announced for the University of Colorado will about use up the $400,000 now available for such institutes under the 1958 National Defense Education Act.

However, Derthick pointed out that Congress is being asked to vote another $1,100,000 for use before June 30, which he said would provide for six additional summer institutes and three regular session institutes.

At one time or another, according to the National Geographic Society, the temperature has climbed above 100 degrees in every state of the Union.

Parke, Davis Net for 1958 Best Yet

DETROIT (AP) — Parke, Davis & Co. says its 1958 earnings of $28,040,851 and sales of $172,582,792 were the best in its 92-year history.

The drug firm said yesterday the record 1958 figures compared with earnings of $27,929,887 and sales of $162,287,823 in 1957. It said net sales in the final quarter of its fiscal 1958 was $47,369,994 and earnings were $9,459,855, compared with sales of $44,698,911 and sales of $10,717,896 for the comparable 1957 period.

Harry J. Loynd, Parke, Davis president, said the firm planned to list its stock on the Midwest and Pacific Coast stock exchanges, effective Feb. 16, "to make trading in Parke, Davis stock more convenient to those individual investors served by the Midwest and Pacific stock exchanges."

The firm currently is listed on the New York and Detroit stock exchanges.

Loynd said Parke, Davis' annual stockholders meeting would be held here April 7. He said the firm had 14,799,819 shares of common stock outstanding as of Dec. 31.

Stocks Easing in Quiet Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to back away in quiet trading early today.

Losses of most leading issues were fractional. There were scattered gainers and quite a few unchanged prices.

★ ★ ★

The ticker tape was late briefly at the opening, then the trading pace slowed.

Oils showed an early resumption of their weakness of yesterday on word of lower prices for crude, then steadied.

★ ★ ★

The aircraft section continued lower as fear spread that the government may seek alleged excess profits from other firms beside Boeing which faces justice department plans to recoup some 20 million dollars on 1952 defense contracts.

Boeing and United Aircraft dropped fractions, North American aviation was off about a point.

★ ★ ★

Gulf Oil and Standard of New Jersey were off fractionally while Royal Dutch was unchanged. Texas Co. and Standard of Indiana were about unchanged.

Steels overcame small initial losses and moved to the upside. Small gains were shown by Republic Steel, Jones & Laughlin and U.S. Steel.

Convict Serving Time for Breaking Into Jail

KLAGENFURT, Austria (AP)—Surprised guards found Josef Dralota, 21, recently released after serving time, squirming in pain on the ground inside the jail walls yesterday.

He explained that he had climbed back in to deliver a belated farewell gift of cigarettes to friends inside, who get no tobacco ration.

He fell from the 20-foot wall and broke bones in both his feet.

In his pockets were hundreds of cigarettes.

Now he's serving a brief new term for breaking into jail.

Ziem to Hear Roberts' Charge

Ex-Officer Says Oak Park Police Let Others Resign After Crimes

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem this morning awaited a visit from suspended Oak Park Police Lt. Joseph W. Roberts, who yesterday charged that members of the force have been discharged or permitted to resign rather than face criminal charges.

Ziem said, "We will stick strictly to the possible criminal charges.

"I will eliminate from my investigation all those things which are of a disciplinary action," he added.

Roberts asserted that some officers were allowed to resign after such offenses as accosting a woman driver, assault on a 14-year-old girl and firing guns in a police station.

He was suspended last December on a charge of firing his service pistol into a tavern jukebox while allegedly being intoxicated.

★ ★ ★

One officer, Roberts charged Thursday, was demoted after the theft of 100 pounds of lead from an impounded car.

Roberts said he was making these charges public at this time because neither he nor his attorney, James G. Hartrick, were given the chance to present them Monday at a hearing before the Trial Board headed by Mayor Protem R. J. Alexander.

Another hearing has been set for next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, other officers were prepared to refute Roberts' charges and to present files on cases involved to Ziem.

"I'm trying to prove the inconsistency in Leonard's actions," said Roberts in reference to Public Safety Director Glenford S. Leonard.

The "inconsistency," Roberts said, is why other officers "who had committed worse acts than mine" were allowed to resign while he wasn't.

Zsa Zsa Sets Wedding Date, Honeymoon

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Zsa Zsa Gabor said she and millionaire contractor Hal Hayes have set their wedding date—April 17.

Zsa Zsa said she and Hayes plan a month's honeymoon in Honolulu, Hong Kong, Siam and—

"We want to go to Russia, too, if I can get a passport."

The wedding probably will be small and will be held at her Bel-Air home, she said, "but I might give a big reception."

She claimed her mother, Jolie Gabor, and sisters Magda and Eva are contending with her over who will give the reception.

"You know my family," she laughed.

How does she feel about former husband George Sanders' marriage to Benita Hume, widow of Ronald Colman?

"I wish him all kinds of happiness," said Zsa Zsa.

Other Nations Rap U. S. Farm Aid

May Snag Surplus Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may find the going difficult in trying to win cooperation of other western, surplus-producing countries on a new program for using their extra farm products to help backward areas.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson disclosed yesterday that he soon will approach top officials of other countries, such as Canada, Australia, Argentina and France for discussions in ways of making better use of surplus wheat in the cause of peace.

Conferences on other commodities would be held later.

Benson starts off under somewhat of a handicap. There has been much criticism in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and in some Western European countries of this country's programs for disposing of surpluses abroad.

Many of these programs offer commodities at special inducements. Other countries have charged that these programs take away their normal commercial markets and in doing so have the effect of transferring our surpluses to themselves.

Fears $75,000 Loss in Collapse of Roof

LAPEER — An accumulation of snow and ice was blamed for causing the destruction of the D. F. Priestap & Sons Lumber Yard building last night when the roof collapsed.

★ ★ ★

Owner Donald F. Priestap of 436 Washington St. estimated the loss at close to $75,000. He said this covered the building and two trucks and materials buried under the debris. "I'm afraid I am not insured for such damage," he added.

Village police discovered the wreck when making their rounds at 10 p.m. yesterday. No one was in the building at the time.

Farm Legislation Said at Impasse

OWOSSO (AP)—Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) predicts there will be no meeting of the minds on farm legislation between President Eisenhower and the Democratic controlled Congress.

★ ★ ★

Bentley told a district soil-conservation meeting here last night that "the Democrats obviously will be reluctant to adopt any of the President's farm program.

"And the President will veto all Democratic farm legislation he considers out of line."

★ ★ ★

Bentley said the impasse would be resolved "only when city and farm taxpayers alike decide they are sick and tired of paying out five billion to six billion dollars a year to support a farm program that isn't working."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HARVEY J. Segnitz who passed away Feb. 13, 1958.
In my home He is fondly remembered.
Sweet memories cling to his name,
Those who love him sincerely.
Still love him in death just the same
Sadly missed by his wife, sons, & fellow workers.

IN MEMORY OF ALBERT L. Ashbaugh, "Gramps", who passed away 5 years ago today, Feb. 13.
Your life's such a wonderful memory,
To grieve that it's gone seems unfair;
Like grudging you more time in Heaven,
When our only hope is in meeting you there.
—Sadly missed by those who love you, Gramps. Your children, Sister & Grandchildren.
