Senators Taking Up Controversial Plan on Control of Unions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today opens a politically charged debate on the most comprehensive labor bill to reach it since the Taft-Hartley Act became law in 1947.

It is designed to curb some labor union abuses and also give organized labor some of the things it wants. But it was under fire from both sides.

Ford Workers Voting on Strike

UAW's Bannon Says Balloting No Indication of Walkout Plan

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union, which has insisted it does not want an auto strike, disclosed today that it is conducting a strike vote among 100,000 Ford Motor Co. production employees.

The announcement by Ken Bannon, national director of the UAW Ford Department, came less than 48 hours after two Chrysler plants in the Detroit area asked permission of the International UAW to hold a similar vote.

Bannon emphasized that "there is no immediate threat of a strike at Ford. We are just setting up the machinery in case we need it."

He said a similar strike vote was held just before the last contract was agreed upon in 1955.

Bannon said two local hearings reported results, both overwhelmingly approving strike action if necessary. These were Local 531 at Chicago which voted 1,445 to 6 and Local 325 at St. Louis which voted 1,186 to 56.

The vote is part of the union's bargaining strategy and comes at a time when both sides declare little or no progress is being made.

At Chrysler, UAW President Walter Reuther assumed personal command of the union bargaining team.

SUMMER DREAMS—This morning was not the one for concentration on studies for the more than 19,000 Pontiac students. It was the last day of the public school year and many minds wandered toward summer fun. These three Herrington Elementary School third graders are already far afield. Senate Debates Trade Program

Sen. Knowland Seeks to Reduce Length of Extension to 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's House-passed reciprocal trade agreements program hit a snag in the Senate Republican leadership today.

In the face of a lop-sided 317-98 House vote yesterday to continue presidential control over tariffs for five years, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) announced he will back a move to reduce the extension to three years. The House rejected a two-year limit.

However, Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said that while he reserves the right to support other amendments to the House bill he believes the Senate eventually will pass a measure "generally satisfactory" to Eisenhower.

The bill would give Eisenhower authority to reduce U.S. tariffs on imports as much as 25 per cent over the five-year period in return for similar concessions by other countries on U.S. exports.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, traditionally a supporter of the trade program, said the House bill will be given top priority in the Senate.

Gets Top Priority at MSU-O

Student Center Planned

A $400,000 student center is being eyed by Michigan State University as the next major installation at its Oakland County campus, under development east of Pontiac.

"Such a facility has been given the top priority, but how soon it becomes a reality depends upon when the legislature appropriates construction funds," said Dr. D. B. Varner, MSU vice president, addressing the Greater Pontiac Community Council annual meeting last night.

Plans have been drawn up, Varner said, for a center with lounge and cafeteria accommodating up to 1,500 students per meal. This dovetails with the university's expectation of 1,500 students on hand by 1960, he said.

The student center would be located immediately to the east of the classroom building, Varner said, with room for expansion to three times its initial size.

According to the plans, it would contain about 22,000 square feet divided more or less evenly between a kitchen and cafeteria on one side and a student lounge on the other.

"It is considered highly important that we provide the students with facilities to eat and relax during the long classroom day," Varner said.

The plans were prepared by Swanson Associates, Inc., the Bloomfield Hills architects who designed the classroom-administration building currently under construction.

Financed through a $5 million gift from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, the initial educational plant is designed for 1,500 students. (Continued on Page 9, Col. 2)

De Gaulle Calls Leader of Insurgents on Carpet

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle called Jacques Soustelle on the carpet today in another show of his determination not to let the colonists in Algeria dictate how he runs France.

Soustelle is the political front man for the insurgent movement of army officers and French settlers who banded together in committees of public safety to keep Algeria under French control. De Gaulle wants the Moslem majority to have a full voice in running France's North African territory.

The committees inspired and directed wild demonstrations in Algeria which hoisted De Gaulle to power.

But he is now trying to make them take the same vacation from politics he ordered for the National Assembly.

The premier called Soustelle back from Algiers after the military-civilian committee there demanded that De Gaulle kick party politicians out of his cabinet and delay the Algerian municipal elections he promised about a month.

De Gaulle's first response was a biting telegram to Gen. Raoul Salan, his civil and military chief in Algeria who had associated himself with the insurgent committee's demands.

The premier told Salan to keep out of politics and criticized him for getting mixed up in "the regrettable and intemperate incident caused by the preemptory motion of the committee."

He added that the committee's only right and role was to express the opinion of its members.

Condemnation Hearings Go On

6 Court Commissioners Handling Perry Street Property Cases

Hearings to condemn 36 pieces of property needed by the state for the widening of Perry street (M24) resumed today before three court commissioners.

Next Tuesday another set of hearings, for the same purpose, will open before three other commissioners.

The state has appraised estimated prices of all the property not yet acquired at $60,870. Separate parcel appraisals range from $30 to $11,000.

The Michigan State Highway Dept. earlier this year filed suit in the Oakland County Circuit and Probate Courts to acquire numerous parcels from abutting property owners along Perry in order that the state trunkline may be widened from two to four lanes.

It's the duty of the six court commissioners, appointed by Oakland judges, to appraise prices to be paid the owners.

The task is so large that instead of placing all hearings before three commissioners, another three were named to speed the condemnation. Construction work is already under way on the $1.350,000 project.

The road is being made into a divided four-lane highway from its intersection with East Huron street, northeasterly up to Walton boulevard.

There were well over 100 parcels needed for the entire four-mile widening. Negotiations out of court acquired more than 50 per cent of these for the state.

Flood Disasters Cause Evacuation of 5,000 in Central Indiana

From Our News Wires
Black funnels renewed their destructive march along Midwest's "Tornado Alley" late yesterday, and rivers crested in flood-stricken Indiana.

Forty homes in a two-and-a-half block area in Wichita, Kan., were damaged when a tornado swept through the northeast section, and at least four persons were injured.

Residents of the area are extremely tornado conscious since a big twister devastated part of El Dorado, Kan., northeast of Wichita Tuesday, killing 13 persons.

High tension wires were ripped down in the Wichita storm and officials said damage would have been more severe had the twister made a direct hit.

Another tornado ripped into Scottsbluff, in Nebraska's Panhandle, destroying outbuildings, corn and farm machinery on an outlying farm. Meanwhile, raging winds and heavy hail inflicted damages on the sugar beet, bean and corn crops.

Several other tornadoes were sighted throughout the Midwest, but early reports indicated damages were not severe.

New thunderstorms ranged across parts of Illinois and Indiana, heightening an already dangerous flood situation in the latter state.

5,000 FLEE HOMES
Floodwaters termed the worst in 45 years raged through North Central Indiana today, causing at least 5,000 persons to flee their homes.

A state of emergency was declared in Peru, Ind., by Mayor John Devine as the Wabash River overflowed its banks last night and caused about 1,000 persons to abandon their homes.

Congressman John Beamer (R-Ind.) sent a plea to President Eisenhower to declare Marion a disaster area, saying up to 100 blocks of the city are under water.

Mayor Devine's emergency order admitted of no back-talk from residents. National Guardsmen and (Continued on Page 9, Col. 1)

Copper Mining in Porcupine Mountains?

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press
Michigan's 58,000-acre Porcupine Mountains State Park, on the shore of Lake Superior, has become the center of a heated controversy involving conservationists, mining interests and Upper Peninsula citizens seeking to boost the area's economy.

The park, 20 miles west of Ontonagon in the Upper Peninsula, is a scenic, heavily forested area embracing the remains of what was once a mighty mountain range. It contains the highest point of land in the state (about 2,300 feet), is criss-crossed by great ridges and escarpments containing some of the oldest rocks on the surface of the earth, and possesses a rich vegetation. It is one of the state's last wilderness areas.

Two mining firms which control some 69 per cent of the mineral rights in the park propose to remove low grade copper ore which underlies 15 of the 95 sections of the park and is also present under off-shore lands in Lake Superior. They are asking the State Conservation Commission to approve mining operations on the 31 per cent of the park on which they have no leases.

Among those in this area who have questioned the wisdom of copper mining in the Porcupines is Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of Cranbrook Institute of Science.

In his opinion mining in the park proper or even in an area along the mouth of the Presque Isle River is incompatible with the preservation of the park as an example of scenic grandeur and wilderness.

"The finest of our state parks could be seriously damaged," he warns.

The fact that mining companies will pay a sizable tax, royalties of considerable value, in addition to an important payroll, will be used to promote the project, he said. But he warned that after the available ore is exhausted the usual ghost towns will appear to blight the whole area.

He maintains that the assurance that mining can be so controlled as to cause little damage to the park is a highly debatable assertion.

Upper Peninsula groups have declared that some $22,000,000 worth of copper a year could be taken out of the Porcupines for the next 50 years, and the operation would give a tremendous boost to Upper Peninsula economy.

Conservationists claim that such operation will surely spoil the state's last wilderness area, and that the economic uplift is more likely to run its course in 25 years rather than 50.

They add that the long-time value of the park far outweighs the short-time economic factor.

TO DELAY DECISION

The State Conservation Commission, meeting at Higgins Lake today and Friday, will hear proponents of both sides of the question. Gerald E. Eddy, state conservation director, says no immediate decision is likely as members of the commission need more time to study the many-sided problem.

Two firms seeking to push mining in the Porcupine area are the Beer Creek Mining Co., a subsidiary of Kennecott Copper Co., and American Metals and Refining Co., a subsidiary of American Metals-Climax.

Leading opposition to the mining operations is Conservation Commissioner Clarence J. Messner of Grosse Pointe, who is convinced the operations might despoil the park. He is supported by such groups as the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the Audubon Society and the Michigan Botanical Club.

When the state park was created in 1944 under a $1,000,000 appropriation by the Legislature, mineral rights under 69 per cent of the land were retained by the original owners. The mining companies have acquired these rights.

Under the law, the companies may be able to make reasonable use of their leases, including building of shaft houses and other surface facilities.

Whether the establishment of mining towns and the accumulation of huge piles of waste material after the copper is extracted from the ore can be prevented is one of the pertinent questions to the present discussion. Possibility of dumping the waste material (a fine dust) into the deepest part of Lake Superior has been discussed.

Ready Reports on Near Miss

Stewardess, Passenger Injured as Pilot Dives Airliner to Avoid B52

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—United Air Lines and the Air Force prepared today to file with the Civil Aeronautics Authority reports of a near miss between two planes that might have spelled death for 18 persons.

The near miss took place yesterday south of Modesto, Calif., a central California city about 80 miles southwest of San Francisco.

The UAL plane made a sudden 500-foot dive to avoid hitting a B52 jet bomber.

The airliner dived so suddenly that a passenger, Peter S. Rodgers, and stewardess J. B. Hooper, both of Los Angeles, were taken to a Modesto hospital for examination of possible neck injuries.

The Convair had five passengers aboard and a pilot, co-pilot and stewardess. It had made several stops on its way up the central valley from Los Angeles.

Castle Air Force Base near Merced, from which the B52 had just taken off, said 10 crewmen were aboard the B52. None was injured.

At the time of the near miss, the airliner was approaching Modesto from the south after a stop in Merced. It was flying at 3,000 feet altitude, according to pilot H. K. Ingels of Los Angeles.

Ingels told his superiors that the jet bomber came within 200 or 300 yards of the Convair.

He said he put his plane into a steep dive and the planes avoided colliding by not more than 400 to 600 feet.

Both planes were flying CAA-approved courses.

Pontiac Attorney Seeks Political Post

Brakie J. Orr, Pontiac attorney, has become the first to announce his candidacy for the state representative seat from Oakland County's Fifth District since Rep. Donald A. Brown made his bid for the post of lieutenant governor.

Thirty-nine-year-old Orr, of 427 Dewey St., Royal Oak, this week submitted a $100 filing fee in announcing his first bid for an elective office. Orr is a Republican.

He has been practicing law in Pontiac since 1931. He received his law degree from the University of Detroit.

Brown, of Royal Oak also, held the post in the state legislature for two years.

State Post Sought by Drayton Resident

Announcing today his first bid for a political office was Robert H. Chapin, Drayton Plains real estate broker who will seek nomination in August to run for Oakland County's First District seat in the House of Representatives.

Chapin, 36, of 46701 Dixie Hwy., yesterday filed nominating petitions with the county clerk for the post on the Democratic ticket.

District 1 encompasses the 14 townships in northern Oakland County.

The candidate is the father of six children, a graduate of Pontiac Central High School, attended the University of Michigan and served in the Marine Corps. He is also a past member of the Pontiac Real Estate Board.

Fails to Land at Plattsburg, N. Y.

AF Jet Bomber Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force reported today that a B47 medium jet bomber is missing after failing to land at Plattsburg Air Force Base, N.Y.

The bomber was one of a flight of three flying a training mission from Hunter Air Force Base near Savannah, Ga., to Loring Air Force Base, Maine, last night.

When bad weather closed in over Maine, the flight was diverted to Plattsburg where two of the B47s landed safely.

The Air Force said fog and heavy weather this morning hampered the search for the third bomber. The plane had not been heard from for several hours.

A B47 normally carries a crew of four.

Guards Troop Colors for Queen Despite Rains

LONDON (U)—Queen Elizabeth II, the War Office and 2,000 dripping Royal Guardsmen grimly squared their chins today and trooped the colors in a steady downpour.

It was the Queen's official 32nd birthday. On the Queen's birthday, they troop the colors. It is royal tradition, and the show must go on.

The Queen got wet, the troops got wet, and 2,000 of her cheering subjects got wet.

The ceremony takes place each year on the mall near Buckingham Palace. The Queen rides horseback from the palace to a central vantage point, and the regimental colors are carried past.

The Queen arrived aboard a 7-year-old police horse named Imp after 11 a.m.

Her scarlet tunic, blue riding skirt and black tricorn hat were sodden. She smiled bravely as the crowd let go with a loud huzzah.

The colors then were trooped, a process lasting just under an hour. England's moist Queen then rode back to the palace.

"It was not trooping the colors," commented the Evening News, "but dripping the colors."

The Queen's birthday really falls on April 21. They hold her official one in June because in June the weather is better. "Flaming June," the British call it.

U.S. Rep. Broomfield to Seek Re-Election

Oakland County's Congressman William S. Broomfield officially tossed his hat back in the political ring.

The 36-year-old Broomfield, of Royal Oak, announced he would seek re-election on the Republican ticket this fall from Michigan's 18th Congressional District (Oakland County).

During his first two years in Washington, Broomfield served as a member of the Public Works Committee and subcommittees on rivers and harbors and federal buildings.

Prior to his entrance into national political circles, he served six years in the Michigan House of Representatives and two years in the Michigan Senate.

The Day in Birmingham

Getting Tough on Traffic in Try to Ease Congestion

BIRMINGHAM—Many new restrictions are being enforced in an effort to cope with Birmingham's constantly increasing traffic congestion problem, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said today. Parking is the chief concern, he said, as means to keep traffic moving smoothly and with a minimum of danger to drivers and pedestrians are being worked out by T. M. Vanderstemple, traffic engineer.

This applies mainly to residential streets surrounding the business area, Moxley said.

On some streets a 15-minute limit has been imposed while on others motorists are being allowed up to two hours parking between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The action was taken to discourage downtown employees from using side streets for all-day parking and making it hazardous for residents entering and leaving their driveways, Moxley explained.

Some restrictions, such as the parking ban on Adams road, was imposed at the suggestion of county officials. Six stop intersections have been added, along with four "yield right-of-way" intersections.

Moxley said the new rules, operating on a trial basis for about a month, have proven satisfactory and now are permanent.

"The inconvenience to a few is overshadowed by the benefit to the majority," Moxley said.

Mama is back with the children and all is well. Mama is a miniature poodle named Candy, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Scott of 6085 Wing Lake Rd., Birmingham.

Candy was lost Tuesday when she jumped out of the car in downtown Birmingham, creating a problem as to what to do with the four puppies born to her Memorial Day.

While she was missing, the couple acquired a feeding formula, a nursing bottle and took over Candy's duties.

Spotted about 7:30 this morning, Candy was lassoed by dog warden Al Sundell. Badly frightened, she nipped Sundell's hand and also bit assisting patrolman Arthur Burkholz.

She was returned home and all has been forgiven.

Elections of officers and reports will be heard at the annual meeting of the Rotary Anns at 1 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Walter Anderson, 1389 Chesterfield Rd., Birmingham. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Robert Peck, Mrs. Victor Peck and Mrs. J. M. Hardin.

Officers will be installed when the stewardship class of the First Baptist Church holds its annual smorgasbord Sunday.

The slate includes Duncan Hudson, president; Lyle Blanchard, vice president; Mrs. Roland Erickson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Homer Pratt, recording secretary; and Mrs. Hudson, treasurer. Dr. John H. McLaughlin, Birmingham surgeon, will speak.

Mrs. Leith E. Stiles Service for Mrs. Leith E. (Isabelle) Stiles, 54, of 539 S. Bates St., Birmingham, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lake Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Stiles died unexpectedly yesterday en route to the hos-

The program will consist of a movie and lecture by various law enforcement officials lasting about an hour, it was announced. The entire project will be of an educational nature, giving merchants and businessmen the opportunity to learn how to spot bad checks as they are issued. According to an association spokesman, the first of these programs will be presented to the Royal Oak Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting next week.

Refrigerator Yields Bodies of 2 Children

VENICE, Ill. (U)—A seven-hour search for two children ended today with the discovery of their bodies in an abandoned refrigerator.

Police said Bobby Lee Loving, 7, and Sandra Wagner, 5, died of suffocation. The door apparently locked, sealing the playmates inside. The refrigerator was under the porch of Sandra's home.

The children were found by Bobby Lee's mother, Mrs. Leroy Loving. Sandra was the daughter of Mrs. Martha Wagner.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Veri Kline and Mrs. Frank Grant, both of Pontiac, and Miss Maude Curry of New York City; two brothers, David H. of Birmingham and Charles E. of Philadelphia, and six grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be sung at 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. Benedict's Catholic Church in Pontiac for Anthony Fritz, 60, who lived at the Bloomfield Hunt Club on East Long Lake road. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Pontiac.

The Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mr. Fritz died Tuesday after a long illness. He was a groom and caretaker at the Hunt Club.

Graham Says Satan Selective With Temptation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham says every human being is alone in the battle against Satan unless Christ is with him.

Graham spoke on the temptations of the devil last night in his sermon to 14,800 at the Cow Palace. He is in the final week of his seven-week crusade.

Graham emphasized that being tempted is not a sin, but that the sin comes in yielding to the temptation.

"Man is never tempted beyond his capacity to withstand temptation," Graham said. "The devil is most interested in tempting those closest to God. Some people he doesn't even bother about."

He warned that Satan attacks in three ways—through "the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eye and pride."

The secret of resisting temptation, he said, is to be obedient to God, to be filled with the Holy Spirit, to spend time in prayer and to know the Scriptures.

Senate Taking Up Stormy Labor Bill

 Senate appeared to rest on two points.

1. Whether Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) would continue the support of the Kennedy bill, he voted last week and persuaded many Democrats to go along with him.

McClellan is chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee whose hearings touched off much of the demand for labor reform legislation.

2. Whether Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), a co-author of the Kennedy bill, could carry with him the 10 or 12 GOP senators who frequently follow his lead on labor matters.

The bill as sent to the floor would write into law a union democracy code including secret elections and term limits for officers and would require full public financial reporting by unions with more than 200 members and $25,000 of annual income.

It also would repeal or modify several Taft-Hartley sections long assailed by labor. These changes would eliminate non-Communist affidavits by union officers, permit pre-hire agreements in the construction industry and allow strikers who have been replaced to vote in bargaining elections.

Tornado Alley Hit by New Disasters

 city officials were ordered to evacuate the endangered from their homes, whether they liked it or not.

MAN FLOOD ZONE
 Airmen from Bunker Hill Air Force Base manned a thin line of sandbags today in a battle to save the homes of a thousand Peru residents from the raging Wabash River.

The river lapped at the second tier of a narrow three-tier wall of sandbags on top of the flood-wall protecting the south side section of the city.

It leveled off soon after midnight, just over 23 feet.

The south side of Peru was a ghost town, its thousand residents evacuated to emergency quarters across the river. It was empty except for a few police and the air-men sandbagging weak spots in the flood wall.

Water trickled through the wall and the sandbag barrier and welled up in yards and in the streets behind the wall.

Emergency quarters for the evacuees were set up in the Baptist, Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches and the Peru High School gymnasium.

On the north side, water covered the tracks in the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad yards, including the main line from Chicago to Cincinnati. Train service was halted early today, with freight trains held up. No passenger trains were affected.

Serious flooding was threatened as far downstream as Terre Haute as the runoff from three days of cloudbursts in Central Indiana poured down from the tributaries. Hundreds of families were driven from their homes in river cities.

Clyle Haskill Installed as Jaycees President

Clyle R. Haskill was installed as 1958-1959 president of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce at a banquet last night at the Pontiac Country Club.

Thomas Devereaux was installed as first vice president; Norman O'Brien, second vice president; Ben R. Hawkins, third vice president; Robert Costello, treasurer, and D. Richard Veazey, secretary.

Bagwell Backs Federal Plan

Legislators Again Facing Issue of Jobless Pay

LANSING 12 — The Legislature tackled the jobless pay issue again today amid rising support for acceptance of the federal plan — notably from the probable Republican governor nominee.

However, majority GOP ranks were divided despite a pledge by some Republican leaders to approve an emergency extension of unemployment benefits in some form or other.

As the lawmakers returned from a 30-day recess, Democratic Gov. Williams renewed demands for speedy adoption of a 50 per cent lengthening of the benefit period with federal loan financing.

Williams said the economic health of Michigan and the nation were imperiled. By next March 31 about 257,000 Michigan jobless will have exhausted unemployment checks over the preceding 21 months, he said.

Paul D. Bagwell, Republican governor candidate, yesterday came out strong for the federal program, which would cost an estimated 30 million dollars.

Bagwell rejected cheaper plans espoused by some GOP legislators who favored excluding single workers without dependents from emergency benefits, and other restrictive provisions.

At the same time, a go-slow course was urged by Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., and by John McCurry, manager of the Michigan Manufacturers Assn.

Although both urged taking the federal program, Bagwell differed from Williams on some counts.

 dents, Varner said, but will probably handle only about 500 to 600 when it opens in the fall of next year, due to limited funds for faculty salaries.

The council re-elected all its 1957-1958 officers last night for another one-year term, witnessed the annual presentation of the William W. Donaldson citizenship trophy, and voted for some changes in its constitution.

Re-elected were Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, president; Mrs. S. V. Seides, vice president; Mrs. Neil Wasserberger, recording secretary; and Carroll Osmon, treasurer.

Re-elected to the board of directors were Leslie Dean, David Ewalt, Dr. Ivan LaCore, Rev. Carl Nelson and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer. Newly-elected to the board were Robert M. Glenn and Dr. George Petroff.

The citizenship award was presented by Judge Adams to Miss Janice Antona, who has instructed more than 2,500 new citizens in citizenship and English at Pontiac Central High School over the past 20 years.

Miss Antona, a Board of Education employee, was selected for the award by the council's executive board on the basis of service to the Pontiac community.

Among constitutional changes approved were a change in name and organizational setup.

Formerly the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council, the word "advisory" was dropped on recommendation of a committee headed by David Utley, a Pontiac attorney.

Utley noted that the word had had "a limiting and confusing effect in the minds of some people, repeatedly preventing the council from taking effective action."

From now on, the executive committee will conduct its business through two permanent divisions, one for social service planning and the other for civic planning.

Waterford Rejects 6 Zoning Petitions

Waterford Township Zoning Board members last night turned down petitions to rezone from residential to commercial six lots in the Ideal Country Club Subdivision due to protests from the area property owners.

A public hearing had been continued from the previous month, and because so many people were against the change, board members complied with the objectors.

A request from the Rev. James Lather to rezone from residential to commercial a lot at 3520 Pontiac Lake Rd. was also denied because board members have adopted a no-spot-zoning policy.

The board okayed the rezoning from residential to commercial of one lot on Cooley Lake road, in the Acme Heights Subdivision. There were no property owners present who objected to the rezoning.

Holdup Slayer Seeks Release After 6 Years

Arguments began today before the Michigan Supreme Court in the appeal of one of four Detroiters serving life sentences for the 1952 holdup slaying of a Ferndale gas station attendant.

George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor who conducted the case six years ago, said the appeal was made more than a year ago by Robert G. Hearn, 23.

Hearn, then 16, along with three men, were convicted of first-degree murder Dec. 17, 1952 by an all-woman jury for the knife slaying of Alfred Jones, 27.

Taylor said the appeal was made on the basis of instructions to the jury by Judge Frank L. Doty.

Sentenced along with Hearn were Frank O. Baker, then 23, Basil Dupius, 22, and Peter Imbimbo, 23.

The murder followed a holdup

Born After Accident, 2-Day-Old Baby Dies

A baby girl born early Monday, a few hours after her mother was injured in an auto accident, died yesterday afternoon at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Parents of the infant, Mr. and Mrs. James Becht of Detroit, both are in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Their car collided Sunday evening in Southfield with another driven by William Leddy, 17, also of Detroit. Leddy suffered a broken leg.

The baby was about a month premature and weighed seven pounds. The mother is 28.

48 Club Burglary Foiled; 3 Arrested

Police foiled a burglary of the 48 Club, 248 S. Saginaw St., and arrested one youth and two juveniles.

Patrolmen Billy Hargraves and Robert Rood on patrol heard a shout as they drove near the club Wednesday night and saw a figure running from the scene. They pursued the person but lost him.

Returning to the club they found the back door broken and on entering discovered Willis Hardiman, 17, of 423 Highland Ave. and a 16-year-old hiding in a washroom.

They later picked up the other juvenile at his home. He had been acting as a lookout, the officers said.

The youths admitted the burglary attempt and a warrant was obtained today for Hardiman.

Three Are Arrested on Liquor Charges

Three young men were arrested last night, two charged with illegal possession of beer and the other with furnishing beer to a minor.

Raymond Wagner, 19, of 21 Park Place, and Robert Vallance, 20, of 3660 Alida St., Rochester, pleaded guilty to possession of beer and received 15 days in the Oakland County Jail when they refused to tell Judge Cecil B. McCallum where they got the beer.

James Stevens, 22, of 2607 Williams Dr., pleaded not guilty to furnishing the beer and will be tried June 19.

Mother to Get Bible of Flier

Housewife in Germany Sends Holy Book to U.S. After 15 Years

DORTMUND (UPI) — The Bible of an American airman killed in action over Germany is on its way back to Texas, returned after nearly 15 years by a German housewife, Mrs. Theodor Hillebrand.

Mrs. Hillebrand found the Bible in the pocket of a torn leather flight jacket that fell in her garden in 1943 after nearby anti-aircraft guns had shot down an American Flying Fortress.

She faced a possible jail term under Nazi laws for keeping and concealing the Bible.

"But I wanted to keep it and one day give it back to its rightful owner," she said.

The name written in the Bible was that of T. Sgt. Bill J. Wheeler of Easterly, Tex., but Air Force records showed that Wheeler could not have been on the flight that ended in the Dortmund crash because he was killed six months earlier when his plane was shot down over the North Sea coast near Emden.

Air Force officials surmised that his Bible must have been passed on to a friend in his unit, the 33rd Bomb Squadron, 91st Bomb Group, Eighth Air Force.

But 23 B17s were lost over the Ruhr that autumn day in 1943 when Mrs. Hillebrand found the Bible, and there is no way of knowing who had carried it with him.

Mrs. Hillebrand kept the Bible for nearly 15 years because she could not think of any way to get it back to Wheeler's family. His address was not written in it. Dortmund was in the British occupation zone, with the nearest U. S. offices 200 miles distant.

Several months ago, Army Specialist Denos G. Pappas of Ogden, Utah, visited Mrs. Hillebrand's neighborhood with his German-born wife, Elizabeth. Mrs. Hillebrand invited the couple over for coffee and asked Pappas' help in getting the Bible back.

Pappas talked to his unit chaplain, Capt. Ben S. Price of Paris, Tex., on his return to his base in Bad Kreuznach. The Air Force was called in and records were checked to find Wheeler's address. His mother, Mrs. Susie L. Wheeler, told Air Force officials she remembered giving the Bible to her son who was then 17, in 1941.

The Bible will be handed back to her in ceremonies at the Waco, Tex., home of the 12th Air Force.

"It has been a long time, but I know Sergeant Wheeler's mother would want to have this little Bible," Mrs. Hillebrand said. "I know I would."

Brother Called Puny by Pugilistic Sister

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Helen Colvin, secretary of the Terre Haute Boys' Club, reports this conversation with an 8-year-old girl and her 5-year-old brother:

"He's a nice little boy," Miss Colvin told the girl.
"Yes, but he's sick," replied the little lass.
"I am not sick," the boy said.
"He is too sick," his sister shot back, "because every time I hit him his nose bleeds."

Keep Records Clean With Chemical Sprays

NEW YORK — Vinyl-plastic phonograph records can be kept clean with aerosol chemical sprays that remove not only dirt but static.

A chemically treated cloth will keep dust off records between sprayings. If records are grimy, dump them into cool water containing a mild detergent. Use a lint-free cellulose sponge and rub the records gently. Rinse and stand them in a dish rack to dry.

Land Owners
Get Tax Tips

Need Not Pay Income
Levy on Condemned
Property Sometimes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Owners of property condemned for highway slum clearance and urban renewal projects need not pay federal income taxes on any profits they receive so long as they use the money to pay for "similar" replacements, according to a national tax authority.

The Commerce Clearing House said the tests used to determine whether the replacement has been "similar" include:

Restore shade trees and water to farm grazing land bisected by a turnpike.

Build a new building with more capacity than the two buildings given up.

Buy nearly twice as much land for future plant expansion five blocks away from a condemned lot used for employee parking.

Buy a farm with one rental home to replace a farm containing two such homes.

Buy land in another part of the city for a plant site to replace a lease on an improved which had been condemned.

But the Clearing House also cited some instances where tax officials had ruled the replacement

NICE PLAYMATES — Two of the biggest, friendliest lions you ever saw have joined the Fleishacker Zoo in San Francisco and struck it off with lion keeper Jack Castor the first time they met. The pair, King and Alicia are pets of Fresno rancher Louis Alberty who bought them two and a half years ago as cubs. "I always did want to raise lions" Alberty said, "but they just kept growing and growing." The lions took their change of residence calmly. Alicia is expecting a litter of cubs later this month.

was "not similar." The "not similar" instances included:

Proceeds of unimproved real estate were reinvested in improved real estate.

Proceeds of real property were applied in reduction of indebtedness previously incurred in the purchase of a leasehold.

An award for condemned realty was used to buy mortgages on other realty.

DUNSMUIR, Calif. (AP)—Tony Welch, 19, who was awarded $206,804 damages from the Dunsmuir High School District for a 1955 football injury, has had his right leg amputated, his father Cecil Welch said today.

with Enterprise High School of Redding, Calif. The father, a railroad conductor, said Tony wanted the leg amputated so he could sit up in a wheel chair. He said the leg was paralyzed in such a position his son couldn't sit.

PORTLAND, Ore. — During the 1957 fire season Oregon had 774 man-caused forest fires compared with 753 in 1956 and 821 in 1955.

Long-Staying Visitors Reach Peak in Canada

OTTAWA — Long-stay automobile entries into Canada reached an all-time high in 1957, with 2,555,074 motorists given vehicle permits to stay in the country 48 hours or more.

This was a gain of 30,081 over the peak year of 1955 and an increase of 70,380 over 1956.

U.S. Health Insurance Benefits Set Record

NEW YORK — Insurance companies paid out a record 2 1/2 billion dollars in benefit payments in 1957 to Americans covered by health-insurance policies, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

This represents a 16.1 per cent increase over the 2.1 billion paid in 1956.

Project to Raise Ship Dropped

Long-Sunken Schooner to Stay on Lake Bottom

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. — The long-sunken schooner Cuka apparently will remain on the bottom of Lake Charlevoix.

Because of new problems, Calvin Nelson's unusual project to raise the Cuka from her watery tomb after 25 years was abandoned yesterday.

The 34-year-old Dearborn insurance man, who saw in his plan a means of salvaging big sunken ships, ran up against the obstacles of ownership and government authority.

Nelson said that until these were settled he would have to let the undertaking rest.

"But I've learned a great deal," he said philosophically, vowing he would try it again.

With the use of parachute-type balloons, to be inflated after being attached underwater to the Cuka, he meant to raise the boat to the surface. The Cuka lies in 45 feet of water in the northwest Michigan lake.

A onetime excursion vessel, she has lain there for the last quarter century since the U. S. coast guard scuttled her as a menace to navigation. She had been turned into a floating dance hall and the Coast Guard sank her after she had been abandoned in depression years.

Nelson said "publicity" over his attempt had brought up a question of the Cuka's ownership.

In addition, Nelson said his rights under marine law might be at issue. He indicated he would consult with the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers.

Nelson's skin divers had met with troubles this week in going down to the Cuka.

Strong winds and high seas made the job difficult. One balloon was carried off by the waters before it could be fixed securely to the hulk.

Parks-Recreation Unit Will Show Free Movies

Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department is going to show free motion pictures for children this summer for the first time.

Showings will begin Tuesday night at Murphy Park and continue there every Tuesday night for 10 weeks.

Admission to the theater under the stars will be free. The movies will begin as soon as it is dark.

The 10 films are full length feature presentations and six of them are in color, according to Leonard Buzz, recreation superintendent.

Their subjects range from old-fashioned adventures to science fiction. The title for Tuesday is "Adventures of Robinson Crusoe," a color film.

Buzz said that a movie screen will be mounted on the department's GM Futurliner trailer and park benches and chairs provided for the audience.

The department rented the 10-week package of films from a Chicago firm for $75, he said.

Other films scheduled: June 24, Enchanted Forest (color); July 1, March of the Wooden Soldiers; July 8, Last of the Comanches (color); July 15, The Swordsman (color); July 22, Flying Missile; July 29, Phantom Horse (color); Aug. 5, Heidi; Aug. 12, Curley (color); and Aug. 19, Fair Wind to Java.

If any film is rained out, Buzz said, the department will not be able to arrange a substitute showing.

The Saar region, long disputed by both France and Germany, produces about 12 million tons of coal a year for Europe's industrial needs.

May Accident Total Lower in Pontiac

There were 90 auto accidents in Pontiac in May, of which 40 involved injuries, the monthly report of the police traffic bureau discloses.

This compares with 98 in May of 1957 including one fatality. This May, 53 persons were injured, compared with 52 for the same month last year.

So far in 1958, the report shows, there have been 469 accidents in the city in which eight persons have been killed and 204 injured.

Last year to this date, there were 508 accidents, but only one person killed and 256 injured.

Artillery Troops Soon to Handle Army Redstone

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army was a step closer to activating the nation's first ballistic missile today after the latest apparently successful launching of a Redstone rocket.

The 63-foot Redstone, the most highly developed ballistic weapon in the U.S. arsenal, roared into space last night.

The Army says the Redstone has undergone more successful tests than any other large missile. This is the rocket that the Army hopes will be deployed in the field in the very near future—possibly late next month.

Designed as a highly mobile field artillery weapon, the Redstone has a range of about 250 miles. It can be moved quickly over great distances and fired in the field in a relatively short time.

Specially trained troops from the Army's 40th Field Artillery Missile group fired the missile for the first time May 17. The Army announced then that the accomplishment marked the beginning of the missile's operational phase. A modified version of the Redstone played a key role in launching two Explorer satellites into orbit as the first stage vehicle for the Jupiter-C rocket.

Jet Seaplane Base Construction Begins

HERTFORD, N.C. (AP) — Construction of the nation's first jet seaplane base begins at Harvey's Point near here today.

The 20-million-dollar U.S. Navy installation at the point where the Perquimans River meets Albemarle Sound in northeastern North Carolina is to be completed by early 1960 to accommodate huge jet flying boats.

That Mystic Time Here Again Tomorrow

Is Friday the 13th Worrying You Today?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Worried about tomorrow being Friday the 13th?

Thinking about black cats, ladders and your lucky rabbit's foot?

Forget about it. There's enough data at the Library of Congress to offer explanations for all.

There's nothing to connect Friday and the 13th. But both are considered unlucky and therefore a double whammy when they come together.

Actually it is not known how Friday came to be a day of superstition. But the chief reason given is that Christ was crucified on Friday and that "Black Friday" resulted.

EARLY TABOO

The number "13" actually has been taboo since man first learned to count. Apparently not knowing about "this little piggy went to market," he counted to 10 on his fingers and tossed in both feet to make 12. Beyond that lay the unknown—13.

Black cats, ladders and rabbits' feet have no connection with Friday, the 13th.

There still is a widespread belief that it's unlucky to walk under a ladder unless a counter-charm is performed.

The ladder is a symbol of both good and evil in mythology. Egyptians believed their sun god was rescued by ladder when imprisoned by the spirit of darkness. Today, some Egyptians carry miniature ladders as luck charms.

In other parts of the world, it is forbidden to walk under ladders for various reasons. One is that the ladder represented the sacred triangle, the symbol of life. Any one walking through would be punished by spirits.

Among some Asiatic countries, criminals were hanged from the 7th rung of a ladder propped against a tree.

DEATH 'CONTAGIOUS'

The belief was that death was contagious and if one walked under the ladder, he would catch it from the criminal.

As for the rabbit's foot, the rabbit had four of them—and what good did it do him?

So, there you are.

Friends' Manners Slipped!

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I invited some friends in to spend the evening. They asked me to play the piano which I did, but no sooner had I started when they began to talk, using my playing as a background for their conversation. "I thought this very rude and stopped playing very shortly. Am I wrong in feeling that since they asked me to play they should have sat and listened attentively?"

Answer: I agree with you, and think you were quite justified in not continuing to play.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In what manner shall the dining room waitress and the chambermaid be given their tips at the end of a two-weeks stay at a resort hotel?"

Answer: You give the waitress hers just before you leave the dining room. You call the chambermaid just before you leave and give her your tip.

"If she is not around at the time, it is best to put the amount in a sealed envelope addressed to her and leave it at the desk. If you leave it lying on the bureau it may be found by someone who has done little for you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is a hostess ever expected to provide transportation for her guests?"

Answer: Not unless she is taking them to the theater after lunch or dinner, in which case she must arrange for those who have no cars. Also, if she has asked people to come from the city to the country by train, she ought to arrange for their transportation from the station to her house—and back again.

year, and chairmen appointed were Mrs. Ashwin, laws; Mrs. Phares, education; Mrs. McCaffrey, ways and means; Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, sunshine; Mrs. James Turnbull, publicity; and Mrs. Severt Davis, entertainment.

But Take It for Granted When It's There—Abby

We Miss Water When Well Fails

by ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me why a man weeps and carries on when his wife passes away when all the time she was living he never gave her a kind word? She was a good wife and a wonderful mother to his children for 35 years, but everyone knows he treated her like dirt. And now that she is gone he is inconsolable. How come?"

HER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Because— you never miss the water till the well runs dry.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having a little family trouble and I would like some advice from you. We have four children and I am not saying they are angels, but they are no worse than the average kids these days. Well, my husband likes children, but not ours. He says they are just like my side of the family.

"I love our children and always take their part but this has caused my husband and me to separate many times already. He says if I get rid of the kids (let my mother raise them) we could make a go of our marriage, but not unless. Any suggestions."

HAVING PROBLEMS

DEAR HAVING: Tell your great big overgrown juvenile that being a "father" is more than a biological accident. If he can't face up to his responsibility, HE should clear out, and send the support money through the mails.

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I have run out of ideas for my daughter's letter endings. She is writing to a fellow who is stationed in Japan and she writes him almost every day.

"Do you know where I can buy a book with sweet endings in it for letters to men in service? For example: "Oceans of love with a kiss on each wave." We've used that already. Thank you.

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know of any book, but I think your daughter should end her letters with something original. If it's sincere and affectionate he won't mind seeing the same one repeated in every letter.

"DEAR ABBY: Our son is 12 years old and he is worrying us because he is too peaceful. The other kids gang up on him (even the girls), tease him, call him "sissy" and even hit him, and he cries and runs home.

"Must we raise a roughneck and street-fighter in order to have him acceptable to the other children? He's a good student and minds his own business, but he is very unhappy because he has no friends. Please tell us what to do.

WORRIED PARENTS

DEAR WORRIED: You do your son no favor by letting him run home and cry on your shoulder. The world is tough and he has to live in it. Give him special training in athletics (boxing or judo) and he will have more self-confidence.

"DEAR ABBY: I was the last person in the world who anyone thought would end up in a divorce court. I was a bride with a veil and a white dress and I promised to love, honor and cherish and so did he, but we weren't married six weeks when my best friend told me my husband was trying to date up some of the girls where he worked, and he wasn't fussy either.

"He denies it, but these stories have upset me so much that I get cold and freeze up when he comes near me. He says if we can't be like we used to be there is no sense in staying married, so now we are getting a divorce. I still love him but I can't forgive him."

BEA

DEAR BEA: With friends like this you don't need any enemies. A marriage counselor (or the clergyman who married you) should be consulted.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SE-NORITA LOLITA:" It's the same in English as it is in Spanish. "NO!"

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOUIE: One does not MAKE friends—he recognizes them. Don't knock yourself out.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MARLBOROUGH 'HOPPING'

"That fellow?" said Marlborough, of Bedford. "He's always on television or something. I think it's a common and vulgar remark. There's no need to make remarks about my family. I'd rather not comment on his."

He let it be known that Blenheim Palace is going to remain a stately home—with the accent on the stately.

The Duke of Marlborough's mother is the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, whose marriage to the 9th duke was one of the first alliances of American wealth and European title. She and the duke were divorced in 1920 and she is now Mrs. Jacques Balsan, living in New York and Florida.

Algerian Moslems Defy De Gaulle

Festering Hatred Fills Casbah

By RILMAN MORIN

ALGIERS (AP)—An Arab woman, shrinking into the deep shadows of her dank little room, gestures impatiently.

"Go away," she says. "No, I don't want a cigarette. No, I won't talk to you. Just go away."

In a hole-in-the-wall shop, Mohammed Mikiri, the merchant, starts to answer a question.

"De Gaulle Well, in my opinion—"

He breaks off abruptly. Two red-hatted French Zouaves, carrying tommyguns, come down the narrow alleyway, heavy boots clattering on the ancient cobblestones.

"As I was saying," says Mohammed Mikiri, smoothly changing the subject, "business is slow. So many people buying on credit."

Even after the Zouaves have passed, he says no more.

Doors slam shut as you approach. A Moslem woman pulls her veil up to the level of her dark eyes. You decide not to talk to a fruit vendor. His son was killed here last week.

This is the Casbah. The Algiers Casbah, locale for countless love stories, is a place of fear and festering hatred now. It smells of death.

House Debating Pentagon Plan

Vote on Defense Bill Expected to Divide Along Party Lines

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House divided along party lines decides today how much of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan to approve.

Republicans are seeking a compromise between (1) the reorganization bill approved by the House Armed Services Committee but sharply criticized in three particulars by Eisenhower and (2) a measure tailored closely to the President's specifications.

When the compromise was offered yesterday Democratic leaders made it plain they were insisting on the committee bill.

Both the GOP-backed measure and the committee bill would confer greater powers on the secretary of defense and would streamline the chain of command over combined combat forces.

But they differ on how the secretary could exercise his authority over the individual services and on the means by which Army, Navy and Air Force leaders can carry appeals to Congress.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader, said sentiments expressed at a closed door Republican caucus yesterday indicate that 95 per cent of the GOP members will support the compromise.

"Of course, we are a minority by 30," Martin said. "We will have to pick up some Democrat votes to prevail, but I am hopeful that we will."

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee set the no compromise standard, telling a newsman, "I hope these amendments will be defeated. They are unsound."

Martin acknowledged that some Republican members of the Armed Services Committee were not going along with the amendments. And he said, "We will lose a few more."

But on the Democratic side Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) repeatedly has said he favors Eisenhower's recommendations. Some associates said Cannon will probably take with him some Democratic members of the House Appropriations Committee which he heads.

Finds Mother Not Guilty

DETROIT (AP)—Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis found Mrs. Martha Green innocent Wednesday of manslaughter in the death of her 14-month-old daughter, Martha Rose, last Nov. 2. Judge Gillis held the state failed to prove the 20-year-old Detroit mother inflicted injuries from which the child died. Police said the mother admitted hitting the child after the baby awakened her in the night.

Dies in Tractor Mishap

CASS CITY (AP)—William F. Helwig, 15, Tuscola County, was killed Wednesday when a tractor he was driving overturned on a county road near Cass City.

3 Migrant Workers Die as Train Hits Car

STEVENSVILLE (AP)—Two young married women and a girl, all migrant farm workers from Alabama, were killed last night in the collision of their car with a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train.

The train hit the car at a dirt crossing south of the village limits of this Berrien County community. The impact hurled the car 150 feet along the track.

Killed were Mrs. Marcella Counts, 18; Mrs. Betty Keller, 17, and Elsie Hutchinson, 14. Mrs. Counts and Mrs. Keller were expectant mothers.

A fourth person in the car, James E. Woodfin, 20, brother of Mrs. Counts, was injured.

All four came to Michigan from Red Bay, Ala., and worked on the farm of William de Morrow near Stevensville.
